

Welcome to the Loeb Digital Library

Imagine the convenience of being able to immerse yourself in the Loeb Digital Library anywhere, anytime!

The pleasure of our classical heritage can now be yours with no subscription, no WiFi, no Internet. (You do still need a computer!) Works well on tablet and smartphone, too, so you can carry the classics with you.

The entire Loeb Digital Library, all 523 books, green for Greek, red for Latin, is now in your hands.

Instructions

You must only use web browsers, Chrome, Firefox or Opera. Safari will not work on LDL.

1) Double-click on the file "Index.html". PC users may also click on "Loeb Classical Library./lnk". This will open Loeb's main screen.

2) No login and password details are required. Do not use the search box as results will not link to local files.

All the reader need be concerned with is the "Browse" column at top left of the main screen. A pulldown menu lists “Authors,” “Greek Works,” “Latin Works,” and “Loeb Volumes,” to search.

Now you can...

FREE THE LOEB!

Caveat. Don't change anything in this folder. You'll break it if you mess with it and have to download it again!

This collection is humbly dedicated to Alcides Guajardo.

PLEASE SEED SO OTHERS MAY ENJOY!
