Voices: Jack Angel, Cam Clarke, Pat Fraley, Bob Paulson, Frank Welker.

2001 Department S. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1971–1972). Department S is a special branch of Interpol, the International Police Force, that attempts to solve complex crimes that are considered unsolvable by any police organization in the world. Sir Curtis Sereste is the Director of Department S, which is housed in the Interpol Building at 1703 DeMarne Street in Paris, France. Jason King, Annabelle Hurst and Stewart Sullivan are its top operatives.

Jason, the successful writer of Mark Cain mystery novels, attempts to solve each case as if it were a plot for one of his books. Two Plus One Equals Murder and High Fashion Murder were two of his book titles that were given.

Jason is an incurable romantic (“I thrive on excitement”) and enjoys relaxing in the sun of Jamaica “to unravel my thoughts.” He enjoys skiing, romancing the ladies and an occasional drink, if not at a bar or fancy supper club, from the flask that he carries with him. He has an excellent memory for details and can sketch the likeness of a suspect he has seen. Despite his crime-solving abilities, Annabelle and Stewart believe Jason is accident prone as it is usually he who gets shot or takes a beating.

Annabelle, a pretty, scientific minded young woman, provides the team's research (“Digging up the facts we need,” says Jason). She is an art expert and can decipher the most complex codes. She can spot counterfeit money simply by touching it. “Who needs micro chemical analysis when we have Annabelle,” says Stewart. She is capable of picking locks and opening safes.

Annabelle and Stewart often go undercover as husband and wife. When a beautiful girl is needed to infiltrate a crime ring, Annabelle dons a long blond wig to cover her short brunette hair and sexy clothes as opposed to her conservative business outfits.

Stewart, the American member of the British team, reports directly to Sir Curtis for their assignments and oversees each case. He believes that, although they have computers, Jason's mind is faster at deciphering information. He expects progress reports from Jason and Annabelle as cases unfold and he is usually the one who coordinates travel plans when a case requires the team be in different places at the same time. He is an expert in explosives and provides the muscle when needed. Edwin Astley composed the theme. See also Jason King.

Cast: Peter Wyngarde (Jason King), Rosemary Nicols (Annabelle Hurst), Joel Fabiani (Stewart Sullivan), Dennis Alaba Peters (Sir Curtis Sereste).

2002 The Deputy. (Series; Western; NBC; 1959–1961). The story of U.S. Marshal Simon Fry and his attempts to maintain law and order in turbulent Silver City, Arizona, during the 1880s. Clay McCord is his deputy; Fran McCord is Clay's sister; Sergeant Tasker is the U.S. Cavalry agent assigned to Silver City; Herk Lamson is the general store owner.

Cast: Henry Fonda (Simon Fry), Allen Case (Clay McCord), Betty Lou Keim (Fran McCord), Read Morgan (Sergeant Tasker), Wallace Ford (Herk Lamson).

2003 The Deputy Dawg Show. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1959). Deputy Dawg is a simple-minded canine lawman in Mississippi. The Sheriff (a human figure) is his superior and stories relate his antics as he attempts to uphold the law.

Additional characters are the near-sighted Vincent Van Gopher; Muskie the Muskrat; Ty Coon, the raccoon; and Pig Newton, the hombra seeking to rob the corn fields.

Voices: Dayton Allen (Deputy Dawg), Lionel G. Wilson.

2004 The Des O'Connor Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1970–1971). A program of music, songs, dances and comedy sketches that ran on NBC from June 24, 1970 to September 21, 1970 and from June 2, 1971 to September 1, 1971. The series is videotaped in England and sponsored by the Kraft Foods Corporation.

Host: Des O'Connor. Regulars: Connie Stevens, Charlie Callas, Joe Baker, Jack Douglas, The Bonnie Birds Plus Two, The New Faces, The Paddy Stone Dancers, The Mike Sammes Singers. Announcer: Paul Griffith (from London), Ed Herlihy (for Kraft Foods). Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

2005 Desert Rats. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 8/7/88). Joshua "Josh" Bodeen was born in Liberty County, Arizona. He was a rowdy youngster who had little respect for the law. At age 26 everything changed: he helped foil a bank robbery and was elected sheriff. The unsold series was to relate Bodeen's unorthodox efforts to uphold the law. He is assisted by Deputy Bones; Owen (a mechanical wizard who provided a souped-up helicopter for him); and the timid deputy, Mort Ledonica.

Cast: Scott Plank (Joshua Bodeen), Dietrich Bader (Mort Ledonica), Scott Paulin (Deputy Bones), Mark Thomas Miller (Owen). Guest Cast: Shanna Reed (Jennifer), Eva La Rue (Tawny), John Dennis Johnston (Mel), Geoffrey Lewis (Del Rains).

2006 Design Invasion. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2004). Following in the footsteps of Ambush Makeover (see entry), Design Invasion has interior home designers invading the home of "unsuspecting" people to renovate rooms that need to be brought into the 21st century. Subjects are pre-selected but act surprised for cameras as the crew suddenly appears at their home.

Designers: Kevin Burns, Bryce Cooper, Jennifer Hyde, Libby Langdon.

2007 Designing Women. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1986–1993). Suzanne and Julia Sugarbaker are sisters who own the Sugarbakers Design Firm (later called Sugarbaker and Associates — Interior Design) at 1521 Sycamore Street in Atlanta, Georgia. Mary Jo Shively, Charlene Frazier-Stillfield, Anthony Bouvier, Allison Sugarbaker, Carlene Frazier-Dobber and B.J. Potteet assist them.

In describing Julia and Suzanne, Mary Jo states simply "Julia got the brains and Suzanne got the boobs" as the sisters are as different as night and day.

Julia is fashion conscious, well educated, outspoken and totally dedicated to women's equality. She attended Chapel High School and Southern State University. She also studied art in Paris and started the firm after her husband, Hayden, died. Julia was also the guardian of Rana Oliver, a very pretty, lively and precocious girl, for a short time.

Suzanne, the firm's saleswomen, is not a bright as Julia. She attended the same schools and is extremely feminine and flaunts her sexuality (she will show ample cleavage to get what she wants from men). She was crowned "Miss Georgia World of 1976." Her ex-husband, Dash Goff wrote the book Being Belled. She has a pet pig named Noel and a somewhat psychotic, never-seen maid named Consuella.

Charlene, the most sensitive of the girls, was born in Little Rock, Arkansas, but grew up in Polar Bluffs. She attended Three Rivers Secretarial School and Claraton University. Charlene is always caught in the middle of disputes between Suzanne and Julia and most often sides with Julia. Charlene is the office manager and held a part time job as a salesgirl for Kemper Cosmetics. She and Mary Jo wrote a children's book called Billy Bunny. Charlene married Bill Stillfield, a U.S. Air Force Colonel.

Mary Jo is divorced and the mother of Claudia Marie and Quentin. Mary Jo is small busted and envious of women with "big bosoms." She has a fixation about breasts and feels "a big bust means power and respect." Mary Jo is the firm's decorator-buyer and her ex-husband Ted is a gynecologist. He recently remarried a woman named Tammy.

Allison (Julia's cousin) and Carlene (Charlene's divorced sister) joined the cast with the sixth season

(September 16, 1991). When Suzanne moves to Japan to take advantage of its economy, Allison purchases her share of the company. Allison worked previously as a secretary at the Binsford and Walker Investment Agency and suffers from what she calls O.P.D. (obnoxious personality disorder). She is the office manager and a member of a self-help group called Common Sense.

Carlene joined the firm as the new receptionist when Charlene moved to England to join Bill (now stationed overseas). She worked previously for Ray Flat's Flatbed Furniture and is now attending evening classes at college.

Bonnie Jean becomes the new partner in 1992 when Allison pulls her money out of the firm to open a Victoria's Secret lingerie catalogue franchise. Bonnie Jean prefers to be called B.J. and is a recovering alcoholic and a former court reporter. She was married to James Poteet, a litigant she met and fell in love with during a case she was covering. They married shortly after but the elderly James died of a heart attack shortly after and left her a fortune. She loves to shop and enjoys buying things for other people.

Anthony first worked for Julia as a deliveryman and became a partner in 1990. He is an ex-con (arrested during a liquor store holdup) and is now attending law school. Anthony is always caught in the middle of arguments between the women and knows best not to take any sides. During a trip to Las Vegas Anthony met, fell in love with and married Etienne Toussant, a Follies Bergere dancer. Etienne likes to be called E.T. and calls Anthony Tony "Because he's my tiger." E.T. believes she is the most beautiful woman in the world and calls herself "The Ebony Princess." She has to be perfect at everything she does; if not, she will not do it.

Bernice Clifton is an elderly friend of Julia's family who often visits and is now a resident of the Hillcrest Leisure Condominium. She hosts "Senior Citizens Roundup" on public access cable.

Relatives: Louise Latham (Julia's mother, Perky Sugarbaker), George Newburn (Julia's son, Payne), Jocelyn Seagrave (Payne's wife, Sylvia), Lewis Grizzard (Julia and Suzanne's brother, Clayton Sugarbaker), Ginna Carter (Julia's niece, Camilla), Mary Dixie Carter (Julia's niece, Jennifer), James Ray (Charlene's father, Bud Frazier), Ronnie Claire Edwards (Charlene's mother, Ione Frazier), Kim Zimmer (Charlene's cousin, Mavis Malding), George Wurster (Charlene's brother, Odell Frazier), Phyllis Cowan (Charlene's sister, Darleen Frazier), Beany Venuta (Charlene's mother-in-law, Eileen Stillfield), Geoffrey Lewis (Mary Jo's father, Dr. Davis Jackson), Blake Clark (Mary Jo's brother, Skip Jackson), Bill Cobbs (Anthony's father, Charles Bouvier), Frances E. Williams (Anthony's Grandma Bouvier), Marilyn Coleman (Anthony's aunt, Louise), Gilbert Lewis (Anthony's uncle, Cleavon), Ray McKinnon (Carlene's ex-husband, Dwayne Dobber). Theme: "Georgia on My Mind," performed by Louis Armstrong (first season), Doc Severinsen (second and third seasons), Bruce Miller (fourth, fifth and seventh seasons), Ray Charles (sixth season).

Cast: Dixie Carter (Julia Sugarbaker), Delta Burke (Suzanne Sugarbaker), Annie Potts (Mary Jo Shively), Jean Smart (Charlene Frazier), Meshach Taylor (Anthony Bouvier), Julia Duffy (Allison Sugarbaker), Jan Hooks (Carlene Dobber), Judith Ivey (B.J. Poteet), Sheryl Lee Ralph (Etienne Toussant), Douglas Barr (Bill Stillfield), Priscilla Weems (Claudia Marie), Brian Lando (Quentin), Scott Bakula (Ted), Eileen Seeley (Tammy), Lexi Randall (Rana Oliver), Gerald McRaney (Dash Goff).

2008 The Desilu Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1958–1960). A series of quality dramatic productions from Desilu Studios. The program also featured seven extended episodes of I Love Lucy (see The Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz Show for information). The program is sponsored by Westinghouse and is also known as The Westinghouse Desilu Playhouse.

An announcer opens the show: "Westinghouse, first with the future, presents, The Westinghouse-Desilu Playhouse. Tonight starring Cameron Mitchell, Jack Warden, Cara Williams and Luther Adler in "Meeting at Appalachia." And now, your host for The Westinghouse-Desilu Playhouse, Mr. Desi Arnaz."

Host: Desi Arnaz. Commercial Spokeswoman: Betty Furness. Performers Include: Dina Merrill, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Joseph Cotten, Lloyd Nolan, Jean Hagen, Gilbert Roland, Lloyd Bridges, James Whitmore, Buddy Ebsen, Cara Williams, Cameron Mitchell, Jane Russell, Karen Sharpe, Dan Blocker, Dan Duryea, Piper Laurie, Barbara Nichols, Patricia Crowley, Keenan Wynn, E.G. Marshall, Rod Taylor, Phyllis Coates, Lucille Ball, Margaret Hayes, Claire Trevor.

2009 Desire. (Series; Drama; My Network TV; 2006). A serialized drama about the lust for power and money that turns brother against brother. Louis and Alex are the brothers who desire the same woman, Andrea Zavatt, a woman who is smart, willing and yearning for a life of wealth.

Louis and Alex Thomas work in an upscale restaurant in Beverly Hills. Louis has a passion for beautiful women and is too exciting for Andrea (she is described as being "a boring girl"). Alex, on the other hand, is more laid back than Louis, and as much of a ladies' man as Alex but not exciting enough for Andrea.

Louis met Andrea when he accidentally entered the ladies room; Alex met Andrea when she backed into his car. The brothers met her at different times and didn't know they were dating the same woman until they ran into Andrea at the same time.

A second story line is the attempts of mafia leader

Joey Gamarra to do away with the Thomas family (not only Louis and Alex, but their mother, Rita) for what Louis did — seduced his daughter, Cara Gamarra.

Cast: Zach Silva (Alex Thomas), Nate Haden (Louis Thomas), Kelly Albanese (Cara Gamarra), Eliana Alexander (Rita Thomas), Michelle Belegri (Andrea Zavatti), Xavier Tournaud (Christopher), George Strouse (Cully), Fiona Hunter (Erica), Reggie DeMorton (Frank), Tommy Dunster (George Marston), Ron Gilbert (Ron Gilbert), Derika Abraham (Kate), Alan Ursillo (Lucio), Joe Tabb (Marco), Jessica Ward (Penelope), Al Bandiero (Peter Evans), Ashley Greene (Renata), Vivian Gray (Suzy Edwards), Sofia Milos (Victoria Marston), Alexandria Schiereth (Jessica), Chris DeRose (Joey Gamarra), Daniel Bernhardt (Vincent).

2010 Desperado. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 4/27/87). Duell McCall is a man of principle who roams the West of yesteryear helping people in trouble while struggling to get himself out of trouble (clearing himself of a false murder charge). His plight began when he rode into a town, became involved in a bitter feud (between miners and ranchers) and was falsely accused of killing the sheriff. He was forced to flee and now seeks the man who can clear his name.

Cast: Alex McArthur (Duell McCall). Guest Cast: Pernell Roberts (Marshal Dancey), Yaphet Kotto (Bede), Gladys Knight (Mona Lisa), Robert Vaughn (Sheriff Whaley), Sydney Walsh (Sally), David Warner (Johnny Ballard), Dirk Blocker (Grady), Donald Moffat (Malloy).

2011 Desperate Housewives. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2004–). Bree Van De Kamp, Edie Britt, Gabrielle Solis, Lynette Scavo and Susan Mayer are five vastly different women who live on Wisteria Lane, a seemingly meticulous neighborhood in a city called Fairview. All is normal on Wisteria Lane until one neighbor, Mary Alice Young, commits suicide. Secrets and truths then unfold as the series reveals the dirty laundry of the women and their families.

Bree lives at 4354 Wisteria Lane. She is married to Rex (a doctor) and the mother of Danielle and Andrew. She is always impeccably dressed and tries to be perfect in everything she does. After the death of Rex, Bree marries Oscar Hodge.

Edie is single (divorced) and very flirtatious (“a slut” according to some residents as she is always boasting of her romantic conquests; her rather sexy and revealing outfits also contribute to her call-girl like image). Edie works for the Fairview Realty Company.

Gabrielle is a beautiful, world-famous high fashion model who gave up her life of glamour for a rich husband (Carlos) and a big house. Gabrielle lives at 4349 Wisteria Lane and is very unfaithful to Carlos (being unfaithful makes her life bearable). She fears getting caught but if she does she is prepared to pack up and leave (what she says she will do). She later divorces Carlos and hooks up with Victor Lang, a politician running for governor.

Lynette was a high-powered business woman who ran an advertising company before she gave it all up to marry (Tom) and raise a family (Porter, Parker and Preston) whom she calls “little monsters” (as they are very mischievous). Lynette lives at 4356 Wisteria Lane and finds little relaxation in her new life style. She returned to work in 2005 as an executive at Parcher and Murphy (an ad agency). In the episode of February 18, 2007, Lynette and Tom open their own business, Scavo’s Pizzeria.

Susan is a single mother (of Julie) and lives at 4353 Wisteria Lane. She is divorced from Carl (who left her for his young secretary) and works as a children’s book illustrator. Susan is known for her streak of bad luck and just when romance appears to be blossoming, a dark cloud casts its shadow and Susan is again alone. Mike, the plumber with a mysterious past, becomes Susan’s romantic interest in later episodes.

Cast: Marcia Cross (Bree Van De Kamp), Nicollette Sheridan (Edie Britt), Eva Longoria (Gabrielle Solis), Felicity Huffman (Lynette Scavo), Teri Hatcher (Susan Mayer), Andrea Bowen (Julie Mayer), Steven Culp (Rex Van De Kamp), Brenda Strong (Mary Alice Young; the narrator), Cody Kasch (Zach Young), Doug Savant (Tom Scavo), Mark Moses (Paul Young), Ricardo Chavira (Carlos Solis), Harriet Sansom Harris (Felicia Tilman), Shane Kinsman (Porter Scavo), Zane Huett (Parker Scavo), Brent Kinsman (Preston Scavo), Jesse Metcalfe (John Rowland), Joy Lauren (Danielle Van De Kamp), Shawn Pyfrom (Andrew Van De Kamp), James Denton (Mike Delfino), Dana Delany (Katherine Mayfair), Meachard Brooks (Matthew Applewhite), Dixie Carter (Gloria Hodge), John Slattery (Victor Lang), Alfre Woodard (Betty Applewhite), Dougray Scott (Ian), Kyle MacLachlan (Oscar Hodge), Kiersten Warren (Nora), K Callan (Edie’s mother), Polly Bergen (Stella; Lynette’s mother).

2012 Destination Truth. (Series; Reality; Sci Fi; 2007). The program attempts to explain supernatural sightings or happenings through location reports and interviews with eye witnesses.

Host: Josh Gates.

2013 Destiny. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1957–1958). The overall title for a series of repeat episodes of dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. The series ran from July 5, 1957 to September 27, 1957 and from July 18, 1958 to September 26, 1958.

Host: Francis L. Sullivan.

2014 Destry. (Series; Western; ABC; 1964). He is six feet four inches tall, rugged and handsome and possesses a great sense of humor. He's not fast on the draw, but he's tough with his fists when he has to be. His philosophy is peace ("I'm the most peaceful man there is"). Money interests him ("I'll do most anything for it"), women find him irresistible and "nothing can stop me from coming to the aid of a beautiful damsel in distress."

This unlikely TV Western hero is Harrison Destry, the son of rugged gunfighter Tom Destry who now roams the West seeking the man who framed him for a robbery. (Destry was arrested, tried, found guilty and served time in the Texas State Penitentiary. He was released early for good behavior.)

Destry's 13 episode search to find the man who framed him is depicted. The series, which is based on the 1939 feature film Destry Rides Again, was filmed in color but broadcast in black and white. Randy Sparks composed the "Destry" theme, which was sung by a group called The Ledbetters.

Cast: John Gavin (Harrison Destry).

2015 Detect and Collect. (Test Film; Game; DuMont; 9/26/46). A player is asked three questions, ranging from difficult to easy, with each correct answer awarding him a cash prize. The player is then blindfolded and asked to choose one of two articles that are behind a curtain on stage. The articles are revealed and the player is asked to select one by asking for curtain one or curtain two. The article is revealed for the home and studio audience. The player, who is still blindfolded, is allowed to ask indirect questions of the host regarding the article. If the player can guess what the article is, he wins it; if not, he leaves with what money he won in the previous competition.

Host: Lew Lehr.

2016 The Detective. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/12/75). A proposed series about Dennis O'Finn, a not-too-bright private detective. In the pilot episode, O'Finn attempts to solve the mysterious murders of four elderly women.

Cast: Larry Hagman (Dennis O'Finn). Guest Cast: Helen Kleeb (Miss Hiddy-Lou), Hope Summers (Miss Bessie), Helen Craig (Miss Amantha), Shirley O'Hara (Miss Birdie).

2017 Detective Finger, I Presume. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/2/81). A proposed spin-off from B.J. and the Bear about Fred Finger, a bumbling but tenacious detective lieutenant with the San Francisco Police Department. In the pilot episode, Finger, a member of the L.A.P.D., solves the theft of a valuable painting and receives a transfer to San Francisco.

Cast: Greg Mullavey (Fred Finger), Paul Tulley (Sergeant Williams, his assistant). Guest Cast: Donna

Theodore (Stella), Jack Kelly (Captain Dryer), Peter Lupus (Moose).

2018 Detective in the House. (Series; Comedy-Mystery; CBS; 1985). Longing for a career as a private detective, Press Wyman, a mechanical engineer with a promising future, relinquishes his well-paying job to pursue his life-long dream. The six-episode series, set in California, relates Press's misadventures as he attempts to divide his time between his new career as a fledgling detective and a house husband who must now care for his three children (Deborah, Todd and Dunc) while his wife (Diane) resumes her role as a school teacher.

Other Regulars: Nick Turner, Press's mentor, a once legendary private eye who is now retired and living in confused splendor in a mansion decorated with lawn furniture. Jon Joyce performs the theme, "What Are You Waitin' For?"

Cast: Judd Hirsch (Press Wyman), Cassie Yates (Diane Wyman), Mandy Ingber (Deborah Wyman), Meeno Peluce (Todd Wyman), R.J. Williams (Dunc Wyman), Jack Elam (Nick Turner).

2019 Detective School. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1979). Nick Hannigan is a former private detective who now runs The Hannigan Detective School and Agency in Los Angeles. He has a class of would-be gumshoes and their escapades as they attempt to learn the business is the focal point of the series.

The Hannigan Detective Agency is located at 1407 East Figueroa Street and the series was originally titled Detective School—One Flight Up.

Other Regulars: Maggie Ferguson, a student who also works as a model for the La Fleke Lingerie Company; Teresa Cleary, a student (works as a secretary); Eddie Dawkins; a student (works as a shoe salesman); Charlene Jenkins, a student (a housewife); Leo Frack, a student (a salesman); Silvio DaSalvo, a student (a clerk); Robert Redford (not the actor; a retired businessman; a student) and Walter Jenkins, Charlene's husband.

Cast: James Gregory (Nick Hannigan), Melinda Naud (Maggie Ferguson), Jo Ann Harris (Teresa Cleary), Randolph Mantooth (Eddie Dawkins), Douglas V. Fowley (Robert Redford), LaWanda Page (Charlene Jenkins), Pat Proft (Leo Frack), Taylor Negron (Silvio DaSalvo), Arnold Jackson (Walter Jenkins).

2020 The Detectives. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1959–1962). Matt Holbrook is a seasoned detective and the head of an elite team of N.Y.P.D. plainclothes detectives. Matt personally selected his team and stories relate their efforts to battle the new breed of criminal — those who are becoming more sophisticated and not afraid to take a chance. Matt feels, that to battle such criminals, he must fight back with methods and weapons as effective as theirs.

The series, also known as Robert Taylor's The Detectives, ran for 30 minutes from October 16, 1959 to September 22, 1961 (67 episodes); and for 60 minutes from September 29, 1961 to September 21, 1962 (30 episodes).

Cast: Robert Taylor (Capt. Matt Holbrook), Tige Andrews (Lt. John Russo), Adam West (Sgt. Steve Nelson), Mark Goddard (Sgt. Chris Ballard), Ursula Thiess (Lisa Bonay, the police reporter), Russell Thorson (Lt. Otto Lindstrom), Lee Farr (Lt. Jim Conway). Theme Song: "The Detectives Theme" by Herschel Burke Gilbert.

2021 Detective's Diary. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1957–1960). The alternate title for Saber of London. See this title for information.

2022 The Detective's Wife. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1950). Adam Conway is a private detective based in New York City. He is married to Connie, a woman with a knack for finding trouble. Connie is fascinated by crime and feels she has all the abilities to be a detective (based on observing Adam's business activities). While Adam really doesn't require help, he suddenly finds he has an unofficial partner, Connie, when she takes it upon herself to be his legman and help him gather the facts he needs to clear his clients. Stories follow Adam as he investigates crimes and Connie's well-meaning efforts to help without involving Adam in her unpredictable antics. The series aired from July 7, 1950 to October 6, 1950.

Cast: Donald Curtis (Adam Conway), Lynn Bari (Connie Conway).

2023 The Devil on Stilts. (Experimental; Drama; ABC; 2/20/46). ABC-TV's first dramatic production. The story of a flighty girl who fakes an alienation of affections suit against a famous romance writer to capitalize on the publicity; and of the writer's wife's efforts to clear her husband's name.

Cast: Pat McClarney (Flighty girl), Beverly Roberts (Novelist's wife), Maria Dwyer (Society girl).

2024 Devlin. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1974–1976). The story of three orphans (Ernie, Todd and Sandy Devlin) and their struggles to support themselves by performing as a motorcycle stunt team.

Voice Cast: Michael Bell (Ernie Devlin), Micky Dolenz (Todd Devlin), Michele Robinson (Sandy Devlin), Norman Alden (Hank; their friend).

2025 The Devlin Connection. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1982). Brian Devlin is a Korean War officer turned private detective, turned director of the Performing Arts Center in Los Angeles. He resides at 11632 Ocean River Drive. His son, Nick Corsella, is a private detective (Nick Corsella Investigations) and a racquet ball pro at the Health Club. (Nick was born during the Korean War after Brian's brief affair with a French woman named Nicole Corsella. Brian was transferred to Berlin before he knew of Nicole's pregnancy. In 1981 Nick learned of his father's existence and looked him up.) Stories relate Nick's case investigations and Brian's efforts to become the father he never was by taking an active part in his life and helping him solve crimes.

Lauren Dane is Brian's secretary; and Otis Barnes is Brian's friend, the owner of a nightclub called The Home Bass. Patrick Williams composed "The Devlin Connection" theme.

Cast: Rock Hudson (Brian Devlin), Jack Scalia (Nick Corsella), Leigh Taylor-Young (Lauren Dean), Louis Giambalvo (Lt. Earl Borden), Herb Jefferson, Jr. (Otis Barnes).

2026 Dexter. (Series; Crime Drama; Showtime; 2006–). Dexter Morgan is a man who lives by what he calls "The Code of Harry." He works as a blood splatter specialist for the Miami Police Department.

Dexter was an orphan who was adopted by Harry Morgan, a street-smart police detective. At an early age, Harry noticed his son had an unnatural urge to kill. Rather than stifle this urge, Harry encouraged Dexter to kill and taught him to focus on criminals (especially serial killers and how not to leave any evidence behind). Dexter, has since, honed that urge and has become a vigilante; if the cops can't catch them or a killer beats the system, Dexter makes sure they receive their just deserts, with no trace left as to who the killer was — "I'm a very neat monster," says Dexter (after cornering the killer he is seeking, Dexter injects them with a tranquilizer and binds them with cellophane tape on an operating table. He then revives them and takes a sample of blood for his glass slide collection. While what follows is rather upsetting for some viewers, Dexter becomes sadistic and uses a variety of specialty knives and power tools to dismember his catch — presumably while they are still alive).

In addition to following Dexter's killing spree as a vigilante, the series also focuses on his work at crime scenes where he excels in uncovering evidence. Rita Bennett is Dexter's girlfriend, a troubled woman who was abused by her violent ex-husband and is now emotionally scarred (she is the mother of Astor and Cody); Debra Morgan is Dexter's sister, a cop with the Vice Squad of the Miami P.D. who yearns to become a homicide detective (she also becomes too emotionally involved with her cases); Lt. Maria Laquerta is Dexter's superior; James Doakes is the sergeant who dislikes Dexter and believes he is a nut case.

Cast: Michael C. Hall (Dexter Morgan), Julie Benz (Rita Bennett), Jennifer Carpenter (Debra Morgan), Lauren Velez (Lt. Maria Laquerta), Erik King (Sgt. James Doakes), Preston Bailey (Cody Bennett), Daniel Goldman (Cody Bennett; later), Christina

Robinson (Astor Bennett), David Zayas (Angel Batista), Geoff Pearson (Captain Tom Astor), James Remar (Harry Morgan), Devon Graye (Dexter as a teenager), Dominic Janes (Dexter as a child).

2027 Dexter's Laboratory. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 1996). Dexter is a young boy who also happens to be a genius. He has a lab set up in his bedroom and conducts experiments (his parents are totally unaware that their son has a high I.Q. or that he even has a lab). Dexter can solve anything through science. He feels comfortable in his lab. The outside world is a different story — he is like a fish out of water and has a difficult time handling the problems of real life. Dee Dee is Dexter's sister (who knows about the lab, but keeps his secret). Stories follow Dexter — both in his dream world and in the outside world as he struggles to solve the problems he encounters through science.

Voice Cast: Candi Milo (Dexter), Angela Tong (Dee Dee), Vivian Lai (Dexter's mother), Bernard Tan (Dexter's father).

2028 Dharma and Greg. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1997–2002). Dharma Finkelstein and Greg Montgomery are complete opposites who fall in love at first sight, immediately marry and set up house-keeping in San Francisco. Stories relate the efforts of a mismatched couple to adjust to each other.

Dharma worked as a blackjack dealer, NASCAR pit crew girl, mermaid in a Florida theme park and waitress at Jerry's Rice Bowl. Dharma now trains dogs during the day and teaches yoga classes at night. As a kid, Dharma had a dog named Doobie; she now has one named Stinky and Stinky has his own dog, Nunzio (whom Dharma gave to Stinky for his Bar Mitzvah). Dharma hates women who wear fur and says whatever she thinks whenever she wants.

Dharma's parents, Larry and Abby Finkelstein are liberals who live like flower children of the 1960s. They are not married ("We're engaged," says Abby, as Larry is opposed to marriage). Larry fears the government is looking for him (for protesting the Vietnam War) and has to finish what he starts no matter how long it takes because "if I don't, I forget." He worked as a rodeo clown but quit when he could no longer taunt bulls.

Abby, whose hobby is painting in the nude, depends on the zodiac to guide her life. They have a pet goat (Goat), drive an old ice cream truck, and attend a couples' retreat each year. Abby, a licensed Aroma Healer, serves eucalyptus snout buster tea to cure the common cold. Larry hears a constant metal hum ("Like a factory making metal shoes") but can't figure out why. He also started his own church "But nobody ever came — except the IRS," says Abby.

Greg is a conservative U.S. Attorney for the Justice Department in San Francisco. He is Episcopalian (Dharma is Jewish) and attended Harvard University. At age 18 Greg was the youngest delegate ever to attend the Republican National Convention. He has an obsession to be right about everything.

Greg's wealthy parents, Edward and Kitty Montgomery, have been married for 32 years. Kitty attended Vassar and her parents own the Standard Oil Company; Edward owns Montgomery Industries. Kitty and Dharma are members of the Women's Charity Committee. Kitty feels that Dharma is a "nutty diamond in the rough" and is determined to make a Montgomery out of her. To please Kitty, Dharma has changed her wardrobe slightly: she wears a bra so as not to embarrass Kitty at social functions. Kitty is amazed how Greg is able to survive on Dharma's health food menus; after eating at Dharma's, she and Edward go out for dinner.

Pete and Jane are Dharma and Greg's friends (who later marry); Marlene is Greg's secretary.

2029 D.H.O. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 6/17/73). Dr. Sam Delaney is the head of a district health office (D.H.O.). He is responsible 24 hours a day, seven days a week for the health of the people of his community. The unsold series was to relate his experiences. In the pilot episode, Delaney investigates the tragic death of a diabetic girl he believes was related to an outbreak of drinking among neighborhood teenagers.

Other Regulars: Dr. Bianca Pearson, Sam's assistant; Dr. Levine, the medical examiner; and Axel, a community worker.

Cast: Frank Converse (Dr. Sam Delaney), Ruby Dee (Dr. Bianca Pearson), Luther Adler (Dr. Levine), Ed Grover (Axel Thorson). Guest Cast: Jack Weston (Mr. Randall), Richard Gere (Milo).

2030 Dhondo. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced for CBS in 1967). The adventures of Rham, an Indian elephant boy, and his American friend, David Stuart, an architectural engineer, as they help good defeat evil.

Cast: Jim Beck (David Stuart), Gerald Michenaud (Rham), Anna Capri (Susan Eden), Jamie Farr (P.K. Dunne).

2031 Diagnosis: Danger. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 3/1/63). The story of Dr. Daniel Dana, an officer with the county health service of a large metropolitan hospital. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Alfred Hitchcock Hour, Dana attempts to discover the source of an outbreak of anthrax, an extremely infectious disease.

Cast: Michael Parks (Dr. Daniel Dana), Charles McGraw (Dr. Simon Oliver), Rupert Crosse (Dr. Paul Mackey), Allen Joseph (Dr. Norman Abrams), Berkeley Harris (Deputy Sheriff Judd). Guest Cast: Dee J. Thompson (Miss Nelson), Douglas Henderson (Mr. Huntziger), Helen Westcott (Mrs. Fletcher), Marc Cavell (Alf Coldin), Gus Trikonis (Gordie Sikes), Irene A. Martin (Mrs. Benson), Celia Lovsky (Mrs. Jatouba), Al Ruscio (Dr. Taylor).

2032 Diagnosis Murder. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1993–2001). Community General Hospital is a state-of-the-art hospital in Los Angeles. While it is supposedly haunted by the ghost of Blair Lawson, a nurse who mysteriously disappeared in the basement in 1975, its staff and doctors are dedicated to saving lives.

The cost-efficient Norman Briggs runs the hospital. Dr. Mark Sloan is the administrator (later head of internal medicine) and doctors Jack Stewart, Amanda Bentley and Jesse Travis assist Mark.

The Jack Stewart character was originally introduced as Dr. Jack Vincent; Jesse replaced him in 1995 when Jack left to start a private practice. In the pilot episode, Dr. Amanda Bentley was white and played by Cynthia Gibb (she is African American in the series and played by Victoria Rowell). The Jack Stewart character was originally Dr. Jack Parker and played by Stephen Caffrey. The pilot also saw Mariette Hartley as the hospital administrator, Kate Hamilton.

Mark treats his patients as individuals, referring them to specialists if necessary. He performs 17 percent more cat scans and MRI's than any other doctor at Community General. He is a widower in his 60s and tries to keep in shape by walking at least five miles a day (although at times he just paces back and forth in his office to make up for the walking when something bothers him). Mark is an amateur magician and performs tricks for the children at the hospital. Mark's late wife was named Catherine.

Mark assists his son, Detective Steve Sloan and often finds evidence overlooked by investigators to warrant further investigation into a case. While Mark does involve himself in Steve's life, he distances himself from Steve's personal life.

Steve is with the 15th Precinct of the Metropolitan Division of the L.A.P.D. He is later promoted to lieutenant. He and Jack Stewart pooled their resources and opened Bar-B-Q Bob's (also seen as BBQ Bob's) a restaurant in the Fontaine Mall.

Amanda was adopted when she was ten years old. She studied dance at the Ballet School of New York and her adoptive parents saw Amanda becoming a doctor and steered her in that direction. Amanda later quits her job at the hospital for a position with the L.A. Medical Examiner's Office (she also married Colin Livingston, a Navy man).

Jack and Jesse are residents in internal medicine under Mark's supervision. Jesse claims Mark is the Will Rogers of the medical profession — "He hasn't met a man he didn't like."

Three TV movies aired prior to the series: Diagnosis Murder (January 3, 1992), The House on Sycamore Street (May 1, 1992) and Twist of the Knife (February 13, 1993). On February 6, 2002, CBS aired a follow-up TV movie called Diagnosis Murder: Town Without Pity that reunited Dick Van Dyke, Barry Van Dyke and Charlie Schlatter in a story that finds Mark attempting to solve the murder of his daughter, Carol (Stacey Van Dyke), a care-free woman who was kidnapped then killed.

Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Dr. Mark Sloan), Scott Baio (Dr. Jack Stewart), Victoria Rowell (Dr. Amanda Bentley-Livingston), Charlie Schlatter (Jesse Travis), Barry Van Dyke (Det. Steve Sloan), Michael Tucci (Norman Briggs), Delores Hall (Nurse Delores Mitchell), Shane Van Dyke (Alex Smith), Charmin Lee (Det. Cheryl Banks), Joanna Cassidy (Dr. Madison Wesley), Susan Gibney (Det. Janis Archer), Carey Van Dyke (Brendan Kelly).

Cast: Patrick O'Neal (Dr. Daniel Coffee), Phyllis Newman (Doris Hudson), Cal Bellini (Dr. Motilal Mookerji), Chester Morris (Capt. Max Ritter), Martin Houston (Link).

2034 The Diahann Carroll Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1976). A four episode series of music, songs, dances and comedy sketches hosted by singer Diahann Carroll. Robert DeLeon and Max Youngstein are the producers.

Host: Diahann Carroll. Orchestra: H.B. Barnum. Special Musical Material: Earl Brown.

2035 Dial Hot Line. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 3/8/70). The pilot film for the ABC series Matt Lincoln (1970–71) about David Leopold, a psychiatrist who practices preventive psychiatry as he attempts to treat people in the very early stages of emotional distress. The pilot episode relates his attempts, and the efforts of his young staff (Tag, Ann, Kevin and Jimmy) to help a variety of people facing various crises.

Cast: Vince Edwards (David Leopold), Chelsea Brown (Tag), June Harding (Ann), Michael Larrain (Kevin), Felton Perry (Jimmy). Guest Cast: Lane Bradbury (Pam Carruthers), James Griffith (Sam), Michael McGreevy (Peter), Robert Pratt (Earl), G.D. Spradlin (Dr. Stone), Elliott Street (Joe). Note: In the series, Vince Edwards plays the psychiatrist as Matt Lincoln.

2036 Dial 999. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1958). Inspector Michael Maguire is a Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman assigned to study British crime detection methods at New Scotland Yard in London. Stories follow Michael as he investigates cases to learn new detection methods, but incorporates his knowledge of a mounted policeman to help him solve crimes. The title refers to the British emergency telephone number.

Cast: Robert Beatty (Insp. Michael Maguire).

2037 The Diamond Head Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1975). Eight players compete in a series of question-and-answer rounds designed to eliminate seven contestants through wrong answers. The remaining player is the champion. This player is placed in a glass room that contains thousands of U.S. currency bills and slips of paper containing prizes. An air machine is activated that blows the bills around the room. The player has 15 seconds to gather bills. Whatever bills and/or gift certificates the player has managed to grab (up to a limit of ten) are his prizes. The series is taped on location in Hawaii.

Host: Bob Eubanks. Assistant: Jane Nelson. Announcer: Jim Thompson.

2038 Diamond Jim. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced for ABC in 1965). Diamond Jim Brady is a highly paid troubleshooter of the late 1880s (1889 in the pilot). He is based in New York City and the unsold series was to relate his exploits as he helps people in trouble. In the pilot episode, titled "Skullduggery," Jim travels to the town of Samantha, Colorado, to help a railroad, plagued by outlaws, lay its tracks.

Cast: Nicholas Campbell (Mike Devitt), Peggy Smithhart (Christina Towne), Tony Rosato (Sgt. Lou Gianetti).

2040 Diana. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1973–1974). Diana Smythe is a fashion illustrator for Buckley's Department Store at 37 West 34th Street in Manhattan. She is British and previously lived in London. She is 30 years old and came to New York after her divorce to begin a new life. Diana lives at 4 Sutton Place in Manhattan in the apartment (11B) of her brother, Roger. Roger is an anthropologist who is currently on assignment in Ecuador. Diana cares for Roger's Great Dane (Gulliver). She also has a rather large problem: retrieving all the house keys Roger gave to his friends and drinking companions.

Norman Brodnik is president of the department store; Norma is his wife and holds the position of head of merchandising; Howard Tolbrook is the copywriter; and Marshall Tyler is the window dresser; Smitty is the apartment house doorman.

The episode of November 12, 1973 ("You Can't Go Back") reunited Diana Rigg and her former Avengers co-star Patrick Macnee. See the following title for information on the series pilot film. Jerry Fielding composed the "Diana" theme.

Cast: Diana Rigg (Diana Smythe), David Sheiner (Norman Brodnik), Barbara Barrie (Norma Brodnik), Richard B. Shull (Howard Tolbrook), Carol Androsky (Holly Green), Richard Mulligan (Jeff Harmon), Liam Dunn (Smitty).

2041 The Diana Rigg Show. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for NBC in 1973). The original concept for the NBC series Diana (see prior title) that follows 30-year-old Diana Smythe as she relocates from London to New York to become the assistant dress designer for Mr. Vincent, the head designer at Sue Ellen Frocks. The episode, "The Lady Comes Across," establishes the unsold series format (in the actual series, Diana finds work as a fashion illustrator at Buckley's Department Store).

Other Regulars: Rodney Brodnik, Diana's boss; Norma Brodnik, Rodney's wife; Holly Green, Diana's friend; Smitty, the doorman at 4 Sutton Place (Diana's address); and Gerald Hoing, the window dresser.

Cast: Diana Rigg (Diana Smythe), David Sheiner (Rodney Brodnik), Nanette Fabray (Norma Brodnik), Philip Proctor (Mr. Vincent), Carol Androsky (Holly Green), Bernie Kopell (Gerald Hoing), Liam Dunn (Smitty).

2042 The Diane Doxee–Jimmy Blaine Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950). A program of music and songs with singer Diane Doxee and pianist Jimmy Blaine. The series aired from August 6, 1950 to September 24, 1950.

Hosts: Diane Doxee, Jimmy Blaine.

2043 Diary of a Perfect Murder. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/3/86). The pilot film for Matlock (see entry) about Ben and Charlene Matlock, a father and daughter team of highly paid criminal attorneys based in Atlanta, Georgia. In the pilot episode, Ben takes the case of a TV reporter (Steve Emerson) who is accused of murdering a beautiful Atlanta anchorwoman (Linda Coolidge).

Other Regulars: Tyler Hudson, Ben's legman; and Hazel, Ben's receptionist.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Ben Matlock), Lori Lethin (Charlene Matlock), Kene Holliday (Tyler Hudson), Alice Hirson (Hazel). Guest Cast: Katherine Cannon (Linda Coolidge), Steve Inwood (Steve Emerson), Lawrence Pressman (Nelson White), Robin Thomas (Burton Hawkins), Jack Bannon (Paul Lockwood), Darrell Zwerling (Bill Farnsworth), Caroline Schlitt (Betty Pierce). Note: In the series, Linda Purl played Charlene Matlock. The role of Linda Coolidge in the pilot was played by Katherine Cannon (screen credit); Linda Carlson is mistakenly listed on press releases.

2044 Diary of Death. (Experimental; Crime Drama; CBS; 9/20/45). A video version of radio's Crime Photographer, about Casey, a crusading reporter for a New York newspaper called The Morning Express. He is assisted by Ann Williams and hangs out in a bar called The Blue Note Cafe (where Ethelbert is the bartender). In the story, Casey struggles to clear Ann when she is charged with murdering the daughter of a mind reader.

Cast: Oliver Thorndike (Casey), Ruth Ford (Ann Williams), John Gibson (Ethelbert). Also: Marilyn Erskine, Bernard Hoffman, Charles McClelland.

2045 Dick and the Duchess. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1957–1958). Richard "Dick" Starrett is an insurance claims detective based in London, England. He is married to Jane, a British Duchess with a keen interest in solving crimes. Jane is not your typical Duchess and while descended from royalty, likes to mix with "the common folk." She feels Dick's job gives her that opportunity and she appoints herself his unofficial assistant. Stories follow Jane as she uses her feminine intuition to help Dick investigate and solve insurance fraud claims. Peter Jamesson is Dick's boss; Mathilda is Jane's maid.

Cast: Patrick O'Neal (Dick Starrett), Hazel Court (Jane Starrett), Richard Wattis (Peter Jamison), Beatrice Valley (Mathilda), Michael Shepley (Inspector Stark).

2047 The Dick Cavett Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1975). A four episode series of music, songs and comedy sketches hosted by Dick Cavett. Carole Hart and Bruce Hart are the producers.

2048 Dick Clark Presents the Rock and Roll Years. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1973–1974). A nostalgic backward glance into the music and personalities of the 1950s, 60s and 70s via live appearances, tape, film and archival footage.

Host: Dick Clark. Orchestra: Billy Strange.

2049 The Dick Clark Saturday Night Beechnut Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1958–1960). Performances by the top names in rock and roll music. The series, sponsored by Beechnut chewing gum, ran from February 15, 1958 to September 10, 1960.

Host: Dick Clark.

2050 Dick Clark's Live Wednesday. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1978). NBC's failed attempt to reestablish the live variety series format on television. The hour-long, live Wednesday night series features celebrity performances, reunions and tributes to screen idols. Dick Clark, Bill Lee and Perry Rosemond are the producers.

Host: Dick Clark. Announcer: Jerry Bishop. Orchestra: Lenny Stack.

2052 Dick Clark's World of Talent. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1959–1960). The program features the performances of young talent hopefuls and a discussion of their merits with a professional guest panel.

Host: Dick Clark.

2053 The Dick Powell Show. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1961–1963). A series of above average dramas from the studios of Four Star Television. For information on the 14 pilot films that aired, see the following titles: Borderline, The Boston Terrier, Burke's Law: Who Killed Julie Greer?, Colossus, The Judge, The Last of the Private Eyes, The Losers, Luxury Liner, The Old Man and the City, Safari, Savage Sunday, Special Assignment, Squadron and 330 Independence S.W.

The series, which produced 60 episodes, ran from September 26, 1961 to September 17, 1963. In 1966, when the series was syndicated as Hollywood Showcase, June Allyson served as the host.

Host: Dick Powell. Performers Include: Dick Powell, Henry Fonda, Polly Bergen, Jackie Coogan, Peter Falk, Mickey Rooney, Lee Marvin, Barbara Stanwyck, Lloyd Nolan, June Allyson, Carroll O'Connor, Carolyn Jones, Lloyd Bridges, Rhonda Fleming, Telly Savalas, Ed Begley, Beverly Garland, Edgar Bergen, Milton Berle, Jane Powell, Julie Adams, Angie Dickinson, Barbara Nichols, Glynis Johns, Suzanne Pleshette, Tuesday Weld, William Bendix, Keenan Wynn. Opening Theme Song: "Nervous" by Richard Shores. Closing Theme Song: "Theme from the Dick Powell Show" by Herschel Burke Gilbert.

2054 Dick Tracy. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1950–1951). When people hear the name Dick Tracy they say, "He's not just from police headquarters, he's from Homicide." Dick Tracy is a master police detective in a large, unidentified metropolis. He is with the 12th Precinct (also called Headquarters) and has the car code 15. He is fair and honest and never wastes a bullet ("I always hit what I aim at"). Tracy is a thorough investigator and often relies on tips from his many snitches to solve a crime. He believes you have to think like a criminal in order to outwit them and bring them to justice.

Dick is married to the beautiful Tess Trueheart and they live in what appears to be the suburbs. While Dick enjoys the homemade meals Tess prepares, he often snacks on hot dogs and hamburgers while on the job. Dick's job often leaves him little time to spend with Tess (who sometimes says, "I wish I were born a super criminal because that way I might get to see something of Mr. Dick Tracy").

Dick works with Sam Catchem; Pat Patton is the police chief; J. Blackstone Springem is the unethical criminal attorney; Office Murphy is the jovial stationhouse cop. Dick and Sam communicate with each other via two-way wrist radios when on assignment. The series is based on the comic strip by Chester Gould.

Cast: Ralph Byrd (Dick Tracy), Angela Greene (Tess Trueheart), Joe Devlin (Sam Catchem), Pierre Watkin (Pat Patton), John Harmon (J. Blackstone Springem), Dick Elliott (Officer Murphy).

2055 Dick Tracy. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1967). Richard "Dick" Tracy is a dauntless plainclothes detective with the N.Y.P.D. He lives at 3904 Orchid Drive with his wife, Tess Trueheart and his children Junior and adopted daughter Bonny Braids. He is assisted by Sam Catchem and Chief Patton is his superior. The unsold series was to relate Tracy's efforts to apprehend diabolical evildoers.

In the pilot episode, titled "The Plot to Kill NATO," Tracy attempts to stop Mr. Memory from destroying a NATO peace conference. The Ventures perform the theme vocal, "Dick Tracy."

Cast: Ray MacDonnell (Dick Tracy), Davey Davison (Tess Trueheart Tracy), Eve Plumb (Bonny Braids), Jay Blood (Junior Tracy), Ken Mayer (Chief Patton), Monroe Arnole (Sam Catchem), Liz Shutan (Detective Liz), Victor Buono (Mr. Memory; guest role).

2056 The Dick Tracy Show. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1961). The adventures of Dick Tracy, a daring plainclothes police detective. The five-minute programs are designed to include a local market host serving as "The Chief" who hands out assignments to Tracy ("Okay Chief, I'll get on it right away" as Tracy would say after his intercom message from the Chief).

Additional characters (law enforcers): Hemlock Holmes, The Retouchables Squad, Joe Jitsu, Speedy Gonzalez and Heap O'Calorie. Criminals include Sketch Patee and the Mole, Prune Face and Itchy, Flattop and Bee Bee Eyes, Stooze Villa and Mumbles, and The Brow and Oodles.

Voices: Everett Sloane (Dick Tracy), Mel Blanc, Benny Rubin, Paul Frees.

2057 The Dick Van Dyke Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1961–1966). Robert ("Rob") Petrie is the head writer of the mythical TV variety series The Alan Brady Show. He lives at 148 Bonnie Meadow Road in New Rochelle, New York, with his wife, Laura, and their son, Ritchie (their address is also given as 485 Bonnie Meadow Road).

Rob and Laura met at the Camp Crowder army base in Joplin, Missouri. Rob was a sergeant in Company A and first saw Laura (then Laura Meeker) when she came to entertain the troops as part of a U.S.O. show. (Rob is with Company E in some flashbacks; Laura's maiden name was also given as Meehan.)

Rob and Laura first live in the Camp Crowder housing development. After his discharge, they move to Ohio where Rob becomes a radio disc jockey at station WOFF. It is at this time that Rob has an interview with television star Alan Brady and secures the job as his head writer in New York City.

Rob's first meeting with his staff, seasoned writers Buddy Sorrell and Sally Rogers, begins on a friendly note — until they learn that Rob is inexperienced and is their boss. Rob ignored the entire day while Buddy and Sally work on an important sketch for the show. Late that day, Rob is approached by the show's producer, Melvin ("Mel") Cooley and given the sketch — crumpled by Alan. Rob covers for Buddy and Sally (who have since gone home) and rewrites the sketch. The following day, Mel congratulates Rob, Buddy and Sally for handing in such a wonderful sketch. Buddy picks up the sketch and realizes it is not the one he and Sally wrote — but sees his and Sally's name on it. Rob explains what happened and shows Buddy the original sketch. "Yup, that's Alan's crumple," exclaims Buddy, and he and Sally welcome Rob as their head writer. Rob was born in Danville, Ohio, and attended Danville High School.

Laura, who won the title “Bivouac Baby” at Camp Crowder, used the pen name Samantha Q. Wiggins when she attempted to write a children’s book. “Oh Rob” is Laura’s sobbing catchphrase when something goes wrong. Rob once embarrassed Laura by telling the host of The Ray Murdoch X-Ray Show how the scatterbrained things Laura does sometimes end up as sketch material for The Alan Brady Show.

Ritchie has the middle name of Rosebud — Robert-Oscar-Sam-Edward-Benjamin-Ulysses-David — one letter for each name various family members wanted for Rob and Laura’s newborn baby. Ritchie was born after Rob and Laura were trapped in an elevator with Lyle Delp (Don Rickles), the crook with a heart of gold.

Buddy and Sally, who perform as the comedy team Gilbert and Solomon at Herbie’s Hiawatha Lodge, have past TV experiences. Buddy, whose real name is Maurice, worked for The Billy Barrows Show and had his own series called Buddy’s Bag. Sally, who attended Herbert Hoover High School, was a staff writer on The Milton Berle Show before joining Alan’s staff.

Buddy, famous for his “baldy” jokes about Mel, is married to a former showgirl named Pickles (her real name is Fiona). Buddy has a German shepherd named Larry.

Sally is single and looking desperately for a husband. She has a cat (Mr. Henderson) and a mother-dominated boyfriend named Herman Glimshire (Bill Idelson; in some episodes he is called Woodrow Glimshire).

The Alan Brady Show airs at 8:00 P.M. Alan, who lives in the Temple Towers on East 61st Street in Manhattan, is married to the never-seen Margaret. Alan is a perfectionist and must have things done his way (he is most sensitive to the fact that he is bald). His brother-in-law, Mel Cooley, is his assistant, a man who appears to fear Alan and does his bidding.

Jerry and Millie Helper are Rob and Laura’s neighbors. Jerry is a dentist (operates out of his home), and they have an iron jockey on their front lawn. Freddie is their son; Sol Pomeroy is Rob’s army buddy; Stacy Petrie is Rob’s insecure brother.

Relatives: Carol Veazie and Isabel Randolph (Rob’s mother, Clara Petrie), Will Wright, Tom Tully and J. Pat O’Malley (Rob’s father, Sam Petrie), Denver Pyle (Rob’s uncle, George), Cyril Delevanti (Rob’s grandfather, Edward Petrie), Dick Van Dyke (Rob’s great-uncle, Hezekiah Petrie), Carl Benton Reid (Laura’s father, Ben Meehan), Geraldine Wall (Laura’s mother; first name not mentioned), Eddie Firestone (Laura’s cousin, Thomas Edson), Joan Shawlee (Buddy’s wife, Pickles Sorrell), Phil Leeds (Buddy’s brother, Blackie Sorrell), Peter Oliphant and David Fresco (Millie and Jerry’s son, Freddie Helper), Willard Waterman (Laura’s uncle, Harold, Herb Vigran (Hezekiah’s half brother, Alfred Reinbeck). See also Head of the Family for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Rob Petrie), Mary Tyler Moore (Laura Petrie), Larry Matthews (Ritchie Petrie), Morey Amsterdam (Buddy Sorrell), Rose Marie (Sally Rogers), Jerry Paris (Jerry Helper), Ann Morgan Guilbert (Millie Helper), Richard Deacon (Mel Cooley), Carl Reiner (Alan Brady), Barbara Perry (Feona “Pickles” Sorrell), Joan Shawlee (Feona Sorrell; later), Jerry Van Dyke (Stacy Petrie), Peter Oliphant (Freddie Helper), David Fresco (Freddie Helper; later), Bill Idelson (Herman Glimcher), Elvia Allman (Mrs. Glimcher), Marty Ingels (Sol Pomeroy), Allan Melvin (Sol Pomeroy; later). Theme Song: “Theme from the Dick Van Dyke Show” by Earle Hagen.

2058 The Dictator. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for CBS in 1988). President for Life Paul Joseph Domino is a deposed South Seas island ruler who now runs a coin laundry in Rego Park, Queens (New York), with his wife, Isabel, and their children Reggis and Andrew. The series was to focus on Domino’s efforts to return to power with his loyal assistant, General Vesuvio.

A series was scheduled to premiere on March 15, 1988 but CBS canceled it because of a strike by the Writers Guild of America against production companies and the networks. The pilot episode received very good reviews but CBS never showed it (although they did promote it) or picked up the series. In the pilot episode, Domino learns of unrest in the islands and plots to return to power.

Cast: Christopher Lloyd (Paul Joseph Domino), Deborah Rush (Isabel Domino), Robyn Lively (Reggis Domino), John David Cullum (Andrew Domino), Joe Grifasi (General Vesuvio). Guest Cast: David Alan Grier (Eddie), Peter Crombie (Driscoll), Mia Dillon (Gravel Agent), Joe Geschwind, Sal Anzalone, Albert Vasquez (Mercenaries).

2059 Did You Hear About Josh and Kelly?! (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 10/13/80). Josh Fowler is a writer for Modern Female magazine. Kelly Porter is a department store buyer. They were married, recently divorced — and now discover they still love each other. To resolve their problem, they decide to live together. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they each struggle to pursue a career without the hassles of a marriage. Other Regulars: Rick, their friend; Jennifer, Rick’s wife.

Cast: Dennis Dugan (Josh Fowler), Jane Daly (Kelly Porter), Jimmy Samuels (Rick Mannings), Denise Galik (Jennifer Mannings). Guest Cast: Cliff Norton (Mr. Clay), Dawson Mays (Deke Bradshaw).

2060 A Different World. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1987–1993). A spin-off from The Cosby Show.

Hillman College in Georgia, built by Joshua Hillman in 1880, “is not just a tough school, it’s a butt breaker.” Denise Huxtable lives at 10 Stigwood Avenue in Brooklyn, New York. She is a recent graduate of Central High School and decides to continue her education at Hillman (as did her parents, Cliff and Clair). Denise is an average student and enters Hillman with an undecided major. She shares Room 20Y in the Gilbert Hall dorm with Jaleesa Vinson and Margaret (“Maggie”) Lauten.

Denise is a third generation Hillman student (her grandfather also attended Hillman). She is a member of the track team and is called “The Little Engine” (when her father was on the track team, he was called “Combustible Huxtable”). Denise (top) and Maggie (bottom) have bunk beds; Jaleesa has her own bed on the opposite side of the room. In first season episodes, Denise and Jaleesa work in the school cafeteria; Jaleesa later works in the school library. Denise’s grades, however, are not suitable for college. She has a 1.7 average and can’t seem to achieve the As and Bs she got in high school. She decides to quit after three semesters (see The Cosby Show for additional information about Denise).

Maggie is an army brat and is majoring in journalism. Her father is stationed in Minnesota, and she left at the same time as Denise when her father was transferred overseas.

Jaleesa is from Camden, New Jersey, and grew up with eight brothers and sisters. She is 26 years old and now divorced (she was married for two years; her husband, Lamar, had an affair and the marriage broke up). Jaleesa and Maggie are organized; Denise is very untidy. In 1991 Jaleesa began her own employment agency, Jaleesa Vinson May Temps. During the summer of 1991, Jaleesa married Colonel Bradford Taylor (Glynn Turman), the calculus teacher who is called “Dr. War.”

Whitley Gilbert is rich, beautiful and spoiled; her passion is art and shopping. Her grandparents donated the money for Gilbert Hall (built in 1925), and she lives in Room 20S. Whitley is from Richmond, Virginia (her father is a judge), and considers herself “The Ebony Fashion Queen” (she despises anyone touching or wearing her clothes). Whitley is proud of the fact that her beauty allows her to steal men from other girls. She has taken dance lessons (jazz, ballet and tap) since she was a little girl; she was also crowned “Miss Magnolia” as a child.

Whitley is a sophomore when the series begins and an art major. Four years later, she is an art buyer “with my own office” at E.H. Wright Investments, an insurance company (she now lives in the Dorothy Height Hall, which was donated by her parents).

Dwayne Creofus Wayne is a math major “and wears those funny-looking flip down sunglasses that drive you crazy.” Dwayne is from Michigan and hits on almost every woman he sees — “over 12 billion bothered,” Jaleesa says. Dwayne has a music and talk show on the school’s radio station (WHZU) where he calls himself Darryl Walker. Dwayne graduated in 1990 and remained at Hillman to pursue his Ph.D. in math. Dwayne and Whitley became engaged in the fall of 1991 and married on May 14, 1992 (they honeymooned in Hawaii). Dwayne, whom Whitley calls “Pookie Bear,” became a professor in 1992 (he teaches math at Hillman).

Other students are Lena James, a streetwise girl from Nebraska who is at Hillman on an engineering scholarship (she attended Lincoln High School); Kim Reese is a pre-med student from Columbus, Ohio; Winifred (“Freddie”) Brooks is from New Mexico and studying to become an archaeologist; Charmaine Brown is a freshman (1992) and works as a waitress at The Pit, the campus eatery; she previously worked at the Burger Barn in Brooklyn, New York.

Stevie Rallen was the original Gilbert Hall dorm director. When she married (and left the series), she was replaced by Lettie Bostic, a Hillman alumna. (Vernee Watson was first cast to play the replacement dorm director, Carla Myers. The episode “My Dinner with Theo,” was taped and introduced Vernee in the role. For unknown reasons, Vernee was dropped — but the episode did air. It was quietly presented on July 7, 1988, during the height of reruns). Jaleesa next became the dorm director (until May 1992). When Dawnn Lewis left the series, Kim and Freddie became the co-dorm directors.

The school’s mascot is the Hillman Falcon, and the hangout is a diner called The Pit, which is owned by Vernon Gaines.

Relatives: Diahann Carroll (Whitley’s mother, Marion Gilbert), Harold Sylvester (Dwayne’s father, Woodson Wayne), Patti LaBelle (Dwayne’s mother), Cory Tyler (Bradford’s son, Terence Taylor). Flashbacks: Brandi Royale Petway (Whitley as a girl).

Theme: “It’s a Different World,” vocal by Aretha Franklin; later Boyz II Men.

Cast: Lisa Bonet (Denise Huxtable), Jasmine Guy (Whitley Gilbert), Dawnn Lewis (Jaleesa Vinson), Kadeem Hardison (Dwayne Wayne), Marisa Tomei (Maggie Lauten), Darryl M. Bell (Ronald Johnson), Charnele Brown (Kimberly Reese), Cree Summer (Winifred “Freddie” Brooks), Lou Myers (Vernon Gaines), Glynn Turman (Col. Bradford Taylor), Sinbad (Coach Walter Oakes), Jada Pinkett Smith (Lena James), Cory Tyler (Terrence Johann Taylor), Ajai Sanders (Gina Devereaux), Patrick Malone (Terrell Walker), Bumper Robinson (Dorian Heywood), Michael Ralph (Spencer Boyer), Mary Alice (Leticia Bostic), Karen Malina White (Charmaine Brown), Bee-Bee Smith (Gloria), Rueben Grundy (Ernest Bennett), Gary Dourdan (Shazza Zulu), Marie-Alise Recasner (Millie), Kim Wayans (Allison), Alisa Gysse Dickens (Kinu Owens), Loretta Devine (Stevie Rallen), Jenifer Lewis (Dean Dorothy Davenport).

2061 Diff'rent Strokes. (Series; Comedy; NBC; ABC; 1978–1986). Phillip Drummond is a millionaire and the father of a daughter named Kimberly. They are cared for by Lucy Jackson (not seen), a black woman Phillip hired after the death of his wife. Lucy is a widow and lives in Harlem with her sons, Willis and Arnold. When Lucy dies, Phillip keeps a promise he made to her: to care for her sons if anything happened to her. Willis and Arnold move into Phillip's thirtieth floor penthouse apartment at 679 Park Avenue in Manhattan. Stories relate events in the lives of the two families as they attempt to live together. Edna Garrett, Pearl Gallagher and Adelaide Brubaker were Phillip's housekeepers during the series run.

Phillip, who owns Drummond Industries (also given as Trans-Allied, Inc.), attended the Digby Prep School as a boy. His original last name is Van Drummond (which was changed when his Dutch ancestors first came to America). In 1984, Phillip married Maggie McKinney, a divorcée with a young son named Sam.

Kimberly, Phillip's pretty and perky daughter, first attended the Eastlake Academy in Peekskill, New York, then Garfield High School in Manhattan (where she is a member of the swim team). She receives an allowance of ten dollars a week and held a job as a waitress at the Hula Hut, a fast food diner in Manhattan. Kimberly is a prima ballerina and played the lead in the Eastlake school's production of Swan Lake. Kimberly's good looks enabled her to get a job as a teenage fashion model at Baun's department store, but also caused her to develop bulimia several years later when she felt she was losing her slender figure. When Kimberly turned 18, she took a job as a nanny to Anna and Rudy Valente, a couple who required help in caring for their son in Italy; she later attended school in Paris.

Arnold, the younger brother, attended the following schools: P.S. 89, P.S. 406, Roosevelt Junior High, Edison Junior High and Garfield High. Arnold, whose favorite expression is "What you talkin' about...." loves model railroading; he had a ratty old doll (first season) named Homer, a goldfish (Abraham) and a cricket (Lucky). Arnold's favorite after school hangout is Hamburger Heaven (later called The Hamburger Hanger). Arnold was a reporter for his P.S. 89 newspaper, The Weekly Woodpecker and editor of the Edison Junior High paper, The Beacon.

Willis, the older brother, attended Roosevelt Junior High, Garfield High and an unnamed college. Willis, whose favorite expression is "Say what:," formed a rock band called The Afro Desiacs; Kimberly and Willis's girlfriend, Charlene DuPres were its singers. Willis was a member of the Tarantulas Gang and held a job at Kruger's Garage.

Maggie has a daily TV show called Exercise with Maggie, owns her own mid-Manhattan health club and teaches aerobics at the Manhattan Health Club. Before acquiring the role of Maggie, Mary Ann Mobley played Arnold's teacher, Miss Osborne, in 1979. See also The Facts of Life.

Cast: Conrad Bain (Philip Drummond), Dana Plato (Kimberly Drummond), Gary Coleman (Arnold Jackson), Todd Bridges (Willis Jackson), Dixie Carter (Maggie McKinney, NBC), Mary Ann Mobley (Maggie McKinney, ABC), Charlotte Rae (Edna Garrett), Nedra Volz (Adelaide Brubaker), Mary Jo Catlett (Pearl Goldberg), Dixie Carter (Maggie McKinney), Danny Cooksey (Sam McKinney), Dody Goodman (Sophia; Phillip's sister), Shavar Ross (Dudley Ramsey; Arnold's friend), Janet Jackson (Charlene DuPres; Willis's girlfriend), Rosalind Chao (Miss Chung; Arnold's teacher), Stephen Mond (Robbie; Arnold's friend), Arthur Burghardt (Alex DuPres; Charlene's father), Irene Tedrow (Phillip's mother), Cathy Gordon (Melanie Watson; Arnold's handicapped friend), Joan Wells (Dorothy Gordon; Cathy's mother), Dana Kimmell (Michelle; Kimberly's friend), Nikki Swasey (Lisa; Arnold's friend), Bob Dubac (David; Kimberly's boyfriend), Hoyt Axton (Wes McKinney; Maggie's ex-husband), LaWanda Page (Muriel Waters, Arnold's cousin).

2063 Dilbert. (Series; Cartoon; UPN; 1999). An adult animated series about a hapless man named Dilbert, an engineer trapped in a small office cubicle who hopes to one day get his own office (with a window). Stories follow Dilbert as he struggles to cope with the daily challenges of his job, often wondering if he was meant for something better. The series is based on the comic strip by Scott Adams.

Other Regulars: Alice, the only female employee in Dilbert's department (her cubicle is to the left of Dilbert's); Wally is Dilbert's co-worker, a lazy individual who shows up to get his pay check and scheme his way through life; Dogbert is Dilbert's dog, a canine who wants to rule man, not be his best friend; Pointy Haired Boss runs the company, a wise-cracking know-it-all.

Voice Cast: Daniel Stern (Dilbert), Kathy Griffin (Alice), Gordon Hunt (Wally), Larry Miller (Pointy Haired Boss), Chris Elliott (Dogbert), Jackie Hoffman (Dilmom; Dilbert's mother).

2064 Dinah! (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1974). A daily series of celebrity interviews with singer Dinah Shore as the host. The series is produced by Henry Jaffe, Carolyn Raskin and Fred Tatashore.

Hostess: Dinah Shore. Music: John Rodby.

2065 Dinah and Friends. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1979). Singer Dinah Shore hosts a daily series of celebrity interviews. Henry Jaffe and Fred Tatashore are the producers.

Hostess: Dinah Shore. Co-Host: Fernando Lamas, Paul Williams, Charles Nelson Reilly, Don Meredith. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs. Music: John Rodby.

2066 Dinah and Her New Best Friends. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1976). A weekly series of music, songs and comedy sketches with singer Dinah Shore as the host. Henry Jaffe, Carolyn Raskin and Rita Scott are the producers.

Hostess: Dinah Shore. Regulars: Diana Canova, Dee Dee Rescher, Leland Palmer, Mike Neun, Gary Mule Deer, Bruce Kimmel, Michael Preminger, Avie Falana. Orchestra: Ian Bernard.

2067 The Dinah Shore Chevy Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951–1956). A casual program of music and songs with singer Dinah Shore as the host. The series, sponsored by Chevrolet, ran from November 7, 1951 to July 12, 1956. The series is perhaps best remembered for Dinah's singing of the sponsor's theme song—"See the U.S.A. in your Chevrolet...." Bob Henry is the producer.

Hostess: Dinah Shore. Regulars: The Skylarks, The Notables. Announcer: Art Baker. Orchestra: Vic Schoen, Harry Zimmerman.

2068 The Dinah Shore Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956–1957). A half-hour program of music and songs with singer Dinah Shore as the host. The series ran from September 20, 1956 to July 18, 1957. Alan Handley and Bob Banner are the producers.

Hostess: Dinah Shore. Regulars: The Tony Charmoli Dancers. Orchestra: Harry Zimmerman, David Rose, Frank DeVol.

2070 Diner. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 8/8/83). The story, set at the Fells Point Diner in Baltimore, Ohio, in 1960, focuses on the activities of five young men (Modell, Fenwick, Eddie, Shrevie and Boogie) who gather nightly at the diner to discuss life, love, and the ways of the world. In the rather talkative pilot episode, Eddie's wife, Elyse, and Shrevie's wife, Beth, want their husbands to change their ways and give up going to the diner. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Paul Reiser (Modell), James Spader (Fenwick), Michael Binder (Eddie), Max Cantor (Shrevie), Michael Badsen (Boogie), Alison LaPlaca (Elyse), Mandy Kaplan (Beth). Guest Cast: Jessica James (Eddie's mother), Robert Pastorelli (Turko), Arnie Mazer (The Gipper), Ted Bafaloukos (George).

2071 Ding Dong School. (Series; Children; NBC; Syn.; 1952–1956; 1959). A relaxed educational series for preschool children (featuring art, finger painting and games). The series ran on NBC for 60 minutes from November 24, 1952 to December 28, 1956; in syndication for 30 minutes in 1959.

Hostess: (Miss Francis) Dr. Frances Horwich.

2072 Ding Howe and the Flying Tigers. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1950). During the Second World War, Ding Howe, an ace U.S. Air Force fighter pilot, organized the Flying Tigers, a small group of American volunteers who flew daring missions against the enemy. The Flying Tigers were based in the south of China near the town of Kunsang and carried out an almost single-handed air war against the forces that threatened liberty. When the war ended, the small base used as the Flying Tigers' headquarters was abandoned. Shortly after, Hu Fang, the evil leader of the Hill Bandits, joins with a group of renegade pilots called the Flame Dragons and sets out to conquer Kunsang. When Ding Howe learns about this, he returns to China and reorganizes the Flying Tigers in an effort to stop Hu Fang. Stories relate that battle.

Ding Howe was born in China, and his name means "Good Friend." His squad includes Speed

Darrow, Sergeant Burdy and Wing Lee, his Chinese mechanic. Bombay Fay is the beautiful American newspaper reporter for the Bombay News who helps Ding Howe in an effort to get stories. General Ching is the leader of the Chinese forces that are battling Hu Fang.

Ding Howe reestablishes the previously abandoned airfield, and three P-40 fighter planes, hidden by the local Chinese after the war, become his air force. Ding Howe's air code is "Grey Hawk"; the Tigers' code for headquarters is "Home Town." Duchess runs Kunsang's watering hole, the Gentle Dragon; she is assisted by Lum Chow.

2073 Dinner Date. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1950). A relaxed program of music and song with orchestra leader Vincent Lopez that ran from January 28, 1950 to July 29, 1950.

Host: Vincent Lopez. Announcer: Warren Russell, George Putnam. Orchestra: Vincent Lopez.

2074 Dinner Date with Vincent Lopez. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1949–1950). An interlude series of music and songs with orchestra leader Vincent Lopez as the host. The series, broadcast from the Hotel Taft in New York City, ran from March 7, 1949 to July 22, 1950.

Host: Vincent Lopez. Regulars: Ann Warren, Lee Russell. Orchestra: Vincent Lopez.

2075 Dinosapien. (Series; Adventure; Discovery Kids; 2007). Lauren Slayton is a pretty 15-year-old girl who works with her mother, Dr. Hillary Slayton (a paleontologist) at the Dinosaur Explorer Camp in the Canadian Badlands (where, millions of years ago dinosaurs actually existed). A year earlier, Lauren's father, Alan (a paleontologist also), disappeared in the Badlands and is presumed to be dead. All but Lauren can accept that fact.

One day while working at the camp, Lauren discovers a live, seemingly intelligent young dinosaur she befriends and names Eno. As they become close Lauren believes Eno may hold the key to the truth about her father. Until this can happen, though, she struggles to keep Eno a secret and protect him from the Diggers, a pair of bounty hunting dinosaurs that are seeking to kill Eno.

Dr. Clive Aikens, a mysterious paleontologist who needs a dinosaur for his own sinister purposes, is also seeking Eno.

Kit Whitefeather, Courtney and Chris work with Lauren as counselors at the camp. Kit is a Native American and is aware of and helps Lauren protect Eno. Courtney is Lauren's best friend, a fashion statement teenager with a big heart (she loves working with kids). Chris Langhorn is the head counselor and an accomplished athlete who is working at the camp to earn credits for a college scholarship. Danielle and Nelson Ort are a sister and brother who are the featured children of the camp.

Dr. Clive Aikens is helping Hilary run the camp while doing research on dinosaurs for a book he is writing (a pretense as he has become suspicious of Lauren and believes she can lead him to a place where dinosaurs still exist). Ten Bears is Kit's uncle, a tribe shaman who is charged with keeping watch for the return of the dinosaurs (he believes an earthquake will set the dinosaurs free from their underground world).

Eno evolved from a species of raptors called dro-maesaurs. He came into being when a slight earthquake opened a portal to the above world but closed quickly after. The Diggers are seeking Eno so that he will not lead humans to their underground world (possibly where Lauren's father is being held captive). Because of the way they use their claws for digging, Lauren calls them the Diggers. She has named the more intelligent one Sarrepta and his clumsy assistant Green Eye.

Cast: Brittney Wilson (Lauren Slayton), Suzanna Hamilton (Dr. Hillary Slayton), Bronson Pelletier (Kit Whitefeather), MacKenzie Porter (Courtney), Jeffrey Watson (Chris Langhorn), James Coombes (Dr. Clive Aikens), Alexandra Gingras (Danielle Ort), Brendan Meyer (Nelson Ort), Dean Manywounds (Ten Bears).

2076 Dinosaucers. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1987). Reptilian is a distant planet inhabited by two races of warring dinosaurs: the good herbivores (the Dinosaucers) and the evil carnivores (the Tyrannos). During a battle in outer space, the space ships carrying both factions crash land on Earth. When the Tyrannos find the Earth to be a new feeding ground, they make plans to conquer it. To stop them, the Dinosaucers enlist the help of Sera, Ryan, David and Paul, four children known as the Secret Scouts. Stories relate their efforts to defeat the Tyrannos.

2077 Dinosaurs. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1991–1993). The series is set in the year 60,000,003 B.C. One million years prior to this, dinosaurs lived in the forests and in a world where they ate their children. They came out of the forests to marry and raise a family. They live in houses, work, pay taxes and complain just like modern-day people. Human beings of this era, however, are portrayed as cave-men and as a less-intelligent life form.

A view of this reversed society is seen through the activities of the Sinclairs, a family of six who live in a city called Pangaea. They had a pet cave girl named Sparky whom they later set free.

Earl Sneed Sinclair, the father, is a Megalosaur and works as a tree pusher (knocks down trees by pushing them) for the Wesayso Development Corporation. (The company has little respect for the environment. Earl is working on a project to destroy a redwood forest for condos.) Earl is 43 years old, earns four dollars an hour and has been working for Wesayso for 20 years. He is a chronic complainer and dreams of reverting to the wilderness life of his barbaric grandfather. The Meteor Tiki Lounge is Earl's watering hole, and 000-00-0018 is his Social Security number.

Frances ("Fran") Sinclair is Earl's wife. She is an Allosaurus, 38 years old and the typical dinosaur housewife. She cooks, cleans, cares for the kids and watches the Dinosaur Shopping Network on TV. She and Earl have been married for 19 years. She is a Pisces, and roses are her favorite flower. Fran makes refrigerator mold pie as a special treat and shops at the Kave Mart Department Store. She also held a job as a TV advice show host on "Just Advice with Fran."

Robert ("Robbie") Mark Sinclair is Earl and Fran's 14-year-old son. He is a precocious visionary (he believes, for example, that the caveman might have a bright future) and attends Bob LaBrea High School. Robbie, an herbivore, studies "prehistory" in school, and "Rampaging Trilobites" is printed on the back of his school jacket. He was also a member of the Scavengers Gang for a short time.

Charlene Sinclair is Fran and Earl's 12-year-old daughter. She is a material girl, attends Bob LaBrea High and purchases her cosmetics at Fifth Avenue Scales in the mall. She is an average student (C grades) and strives to remain so—so she can be average. Charlene is not the brightest kid in school, and her grandmother says, "The only way Charlene will get into college is in a cake at a frat house."

Baby Sinclair (Junior) was hatched in the first episode. The baby seems to know who everyone is except Earl. When Earl cares for him, Baby says, "Not the Mama," and hits him on the head with a pot. Baby Sinclair is a TV addict and watches such shows as "Mr. Ugh" (a "Mister Ed" takeoff about a talking caveman), "Raptile" (a Phil Donahue type of show) and "Ask Mr. Lizard" (a science show). Whenever he does something wrong Baby remarks, "I'm the baby, gotta love me."

Ethyl Phillips is Fran's 72-year-old mother. She is wheelchair bound and now lives with the family (she calls Earl "Fat Boy"). Ethyl's late husband was named Louie (voiced by Buddy Hackett in a vision sequence).

Roy Hess is a T-Rex and has been Earl's friend for 27 years. He is Earl's co-worker "and eats like a pig and dresses like a slob." B.P. Richfield is Earl's boss, a vicious three-horned Triceratops.

All characters are named after oil companies. The elders rule from the Cave of Destiny, and the Job Wizard decrees what job dinosaurs will hold. Their Christmas is Refrigerator Day—"A celebration of the invention of cold storage" (it ended migrating to find food so dinosaurs could remain in one place). The elder-in-charge is the head of the country; Pistachio nuts are the dinosaurs' favorite snack. Theme: "Dinosaurs," by Bruce Broughton.

Voice Cast: Stuart Pankin (Earl Sinclair), Jessica Walter (Fran Sinclair), Sally Struthers (Charlene Sinclair), Jason Willinger (Robbie Sinclair), Kevin Clash (Baby Sinclair), Sherman Hemsley (B.P. Richfield), Sam McMurray (Roy Hess), Florence Stanley (Ethyl Phillips), Hanna Cutrona (Sparky).

2078 Dinotopia. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 2002–2003). Dinotopia is a mysterious, uncharted land mass in the Caribbean where dinosaurs still exist but over the ages have become intelligent and have established a society. It is also here that shipwrecked humans have found a home. The two species learned to co-exist as a single, harmonious society. The humans, however, are called "Dolphin Backs" (as they were rescued at sea by dolphins and brought to the island). Like Wonder Woman's Paradise Island, which is concealed by the refraction of light, Dinotopia is surrounded by a storm system and dangerous reefs that conceal it from the rest of the world. The society is ruled by "The Code of Dinotopia."

It is the dawn of the 21st century when the series begins. Trouble is brewing as renegades called Outsiders are threatening to destroy the peace that exists between the humans and dinosaurs. Troubled brothers David and Karl Scott and their father, Frank, become marooned in Dinotopia when the plane on which they are traveling crashes on the island. They arrive at a crucial time and stories relate the adventures of the Scotts as they struggle to adjust to a new world, seek a way off Dinotopia and help the humans and dinosaurs defeat the enemies that seek to destroy the serenity of the mysterious island.

Cast: Michael Brandon (Frank Scott), Shiloh Strong (David Scott), Erik von Detten (Karl Scott), Jonathan Hyde (Mayor Waldo), Georgina Rylance (Marion), Lisa Zane (Le Sage), Sophie Ward (Rosemary Waldo).

2079 Dione Lucas' Cooking School. (Series; Women; CBS; 1948–1949). A program of cooking instruction that was originally titled To the Queen's Taste. The series ran from February 25, 1948 to December 29, 1949.

Hostess: Dione Lucas.

2080 Dirt. (Series; Drama; FX; 2007–). Dirt (also called Dirt Now) is a magazine edited by Lucy Spiller, a powerful ice princess who is totally driven and committed to getting stories for her magazine (which covers the world of celebrities, especially all the dirt that can be found and published). In the real world, there are magazines and newspapers devoted to celebrities (like The Star and The National Enquirer) and on television there are series devoted to the same subject (like Entertainment Tonight and Access Hollywood). Dirt takes the subject a few steps further as it takes great liberties in presenting Lucy's extreme obsession to print the scandalous side of a celebrity's life.

Lucy is assisted by Don Knokey, a friend from journalism school, who is her chief photographer and who will go to extremes to get the photos for the stories. Gibson Home is Lucy's boss, the magazine publisher; Willa McPherson is a reporter; Kira Klay is a young actress Don is desperately trying to impress.

The season finale (March 27, 2007) reunited Courteney Cox with her former Friends co-star Jennifer Aniston. Jennifer plays Tina Harrod, a magazine editor who is also a friend of Lucy Spiller (Courteney). They attended college together and worked as stringers for the New York Post. Tina has since become a lesbian and when the two meet after years of separation, they share a simple lip kiss (disappointing for fans who were expecting an erotic lesbian kiss). The program is also a bit of a shocker to fans of Friends. Courteney's sweet, lovable Monica persona is no more: her Lucy character is mean and foul-mouthed.

Cast: Courteney Cox (Lucy Spiller), Ian Hart (Don Konkey), Timothy Bottoms (Gibson Home), Alexandra Breckenridge (Willa McPherson), Shanynne Sossamon (Kira Klay), Laura Allen (Julia Malory), Jeffrey Nordling (Brent Barrow), Josh Stewart (Holt McLaren), Will McCormack (Leo Spiller), Rick Fox (Prince Tyreese), Carly Pope (Garbo).

2081 Dirty Dancing. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988). Kellerman's Mountain Resort is an upper New York State (in 1963) is the setting. Max Kellerman owns the resort; his daughter, Frances, called "Baby," is a talented dancer and the resort's talent coordinator. Romance enters the picture when Max hires Johnny Castle, a street-wise dance instructor. Stories follow the relationship that develops between Baby and Johnny. The series is loosely based on the 1987 feature film.

Other Regulars: Penny, Johnny's dance partner; Sweets, the piano player; Robin, called Duchess, Baby's cousin; Tom Callahan, Johnny's father; Margaret Callahan, Johnny's mother; Elizabeth, Max's wife. Johnny uses the professional last name of Castle. Kenny Ortega is the choreographer; music is by Michel Rubini and Michael Lloyd.

Cast: Melora Hardin (Frances "Baby" Kellerman), Patrick Cassidy (Johnny Castle), McLean Stevenson (Max Kellerman), Allyn Ann McLerie (Elizabeth Kellerman), Constance Marie (Penny), John Wesley (Sweets), Mandy Ingber (Robin), Gerald S. O'Loughlin (Tom Callahan), Patricia Allison (Margaret Callahan).

Host: Chris Judd. Dance Instructor: Jonathan Curtis. Choreographer: Chris Judd, Eddie Garcia. Music Director: Mark Phillips.

2083 The Dirty Dozen: The Series. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 1988). Lieutenant Danko is a military prisoner serving a life sentence for attempting to kill a superior. The time is that of World War II. When the U.S. Army hits on an idea to form a group of soldiers to infiltrate enemy lines in Europe, they approach Danko and offer him a deal — his freedom for leading the specialized unit.

Danko accepts. He visits the Marston-Tyne Prison and chooses his squad: Dylan Leeds, an expert forger; Jonathan Farrell, an ex-model and hopeful Hollywood actor; Jean Lebec, a demolitions expert; Janosz Feke, an Hungarian-born Nazi hater; Vern Beaubuff, an expert marksman; Roy, Vern's brother; Dana Jankowski, a woman who killed the man who raped her; and Irwin Moskowitz, Paco Fuentes and Kale Brody.

Now with his unit, called the Dirty Dozen, Danko performs suicide missions for the army. The unit's only reward: complete pardons when the war ends.

In the two-hour pilot episode, "Danko's Dozen," Dank and his unit attempt to destroy a major Nazi radar installation. Several of the unit members listed above are killed off: Dana, Irwin, Paco and Kale, leaving Danko with a unit of seven members: himself, Janosz, Dylan, Jean, Jonathan, Vern, Roy and Sergeant Butts.

Cast: Ben Murphy (Lt. Danko), Jon Tenney

(Janosz Feke), John Slattery (Dylan Leeds), John DiAguino (Jean Lebec), John Bradley (Jonathan Farrell), Mike Jolly (Vern Beaubuff), Lanny Flaherty (Sgt. Butts), Frank Marth (Major General Worth), Jamie Koss (Dana Jankowski), Daniel Roebuck (Irwin Moskowitz), Michael DeLorenzo (Paco Fuentes), Pat Skipper (Kale Brody).

Cast: Jeanette Nolan (Sally Fergus), Dack Rambo (Cyrus Pike).

2085 Dirty Sexy Money. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2007–). The Darling family of New York are considered the wealthiest family in America (possibly the world). Tripp Darling is the head of the family, the owner of vineyards and homes around the world. He is married to Letitia and they are the parents of five troubled children: Patrick, Karen, Brian and twins Juliet and Jeremy.

Tripp and his gorgeous socialite wife relish in the prospect of wealth — including all the scandal and dirty little secrets that accompany it.

Patrick is the oldest child, the Attorney General of New York City. He has aspirations for bigger and better things in the political arena. Karen, a thrice married socialite, runs the family foundation. She calls herself “a loser in love” and will go through as many men as possible until she finds Mr. Right.

Brian is an Episcopalian minister with a big problem: an illegitimate son (and a potential scandal that can ruin him). Juliet and Jeremy are total opposites. Juliet is an actress no seems to take seriously. She is rude to her fans and will not sign autographs (why? “Because you’re poor”). Jeremy feels his lack of ambition makes him a disappointment to the family. He drinks, smokes, wears rumpled clothes and is constantly hung over.

Also a part of the family, but not a blood relative, is Nick George, the lawyer who protects the Darlings money — and dirty little secrets. Nick’s father worked for the Darlings and he grew up watching his father cater to them as Tripp’s trusted consigliere.

Nick vowed never to follow in his father’s footsteps and became a lawyer to help the disadvantaged. After the death of his father, Tripp hired Nick — and Nick accepted to allow him to use his exorbitant salary to help do good deeds. However, he must also become the Darlings therapist, public relations expert and problem fixer. Stories follow Nick as he attempts to hide the family’s dirty laundry and keep the Darlings the darling American family.

Cast: Peter Krause (Nick George), Donald Sutherland (Tripp Darling), Jill Clayburgh (Letitia Darling), William Baldwin (Patrick Darling), Natalie Zea (Karen Darling), Glenn Fitzgerald (Brian Darling), Samaire Armstrong (Juliet Darling), Seth Gabel (Jeremy Darling), Zoe McLellan (Lisa George).

2086 Dirty Work. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/6/85). After a succession of jobs that fail to excite her, Nadine Leevanhoek applies for the position of file clerk to George Wylie, the owner of the Wylie Detective Agency, and suddenly finds the fascination she had been searching for. After two days on the job, she takes over the agency when Wylie, a man who will take any job as long as it means money, goes undercover, being wanted by the mob and police. The unsold series was to relate Nadine’s adventures as she attempts to run the agency for George. In the pilot episode, Nadine attempts to locate a scientist whose disappearance coincides with that of her boss and the murder of a DEA agent.

Other Regulars: Cheryl, Nadine’s secretary; Lieutenant Jack Hill of the L.A.P.D.; Commander Leevanhoek, Nadine’s father; and Jeannie Leevanhoek, Nadine’s mother.

Cast: Kerrie Keane (Nadine Leevanhoek), Louis Giambalvo (George Wylie), Teresa Ganzel (Cheryl Burke), Dorian Harewood (Jack Hill), William Windom (Commander Leevanhoek), Diana Douglas (Jeannie Leevanhoek). Guest Cast: Kenneth Tigar (Martin Holmes), Wyatt Knight (Aaron Benedict), William Wintersole (Mr. Benedict), Barbara Tarbuck (Elaine Benedict), Eunice Christopher (Mrs. Benedict), Richard Morse (Frank Benedict).

2087 The Discophonic Scene. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1966). A weekly program that features performances by name musicians, rock bands and segments devoted to spotlighting performances by up-and-coming bands and singers.

Host: Jerry Blavat.

Cast: Jack Kilty (Jack), Eve Young (Eve), Frederic de Wilder (Fred). Guests: Ben Dova, Mylo and Tamis.

2089 Disneyland. (Series; Anthology; ABC; NBC; CBS; 1954–1982). A series of programs designed for family viewing (nature films, cartoons, adventures, comedies, edited Disney theatrical films, and documentaries). For information on specific programs in the long-running series, see the following titles: Daniel Boone (1960 version), Davy Crockett (1954 version), Elfego Baca, Gallagher, The Saga of Andy Burnett, The Scarecrow of Romney Marsh, Swamp Fox and Texas John Slaughter.

The series was originally titled Disneyland, then Walt Disney Presents, Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color and Disney's Wonderful World. The series ran on ABC as Disneyland from October 27, 1954 to December 28, 1955; and as Walt Disney Presents from January 4, 1956 to May 28, 1961. On NBC as Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color from September 24, 1961 to April 15, 1979 and as Disney's Wonderful World from September 9, 1979 to September 7, 1980. On CBS as Disney's Wonderful World from September 14, 1980 to May 1, 1982.

2090 Disney's Bonkers. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1993). Bonkers D. Bobcat is a famous cartoon star (of Wacky Toons). However, as his popularity begins to fade, he is fired but soon finds work with the Hollywood Police Department, Toon Division. He is teamed with Detective Lucky Piquel (later Officer Miranda Wright when Lucky gets a job with the FBI) and stories, which spoof cartoons (especially those made by Disney) are a wacky look at crime solving — toon style.

Voice Cast: Jim Cummings (Bonkers D. Bobcat), Jim Cummings (Lucky Piquel), Karla DeVito (Miranda Wright), Earl Boen (Police Chief Leonard Kanifky), Ron Perlman (Sgt. Francis Q. Grating).

2091 The District. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2000–2003). The New York Times calls Jack Mannion the most innovative crime fighter. He served in the Vietnam War, was a New York City Transit Cop, Police Commissioner of Newark, New Jersey, then Police Chief of Boston. He is now the Police Chief of Washington, D.C., hired by Deputy Mayor Mary Ann Mitchell to clean up the District, which has the worst crime rate in the nation.

Jack is, as he calls himself, a numbers guy. He believes in gathering crime statistics on a daily basis and crunching them relentlessly to see what is happening in his city and to know who is responsible for what. He begins by establishing Comp Stat, a state-of-the-art computer room where he appoints Ella Mae Farmer as Director of Analysis. Ella introduced computers to the department 15 years ago and is most knowledgeable in the field of crime analysis. All cases that are in progress or labeled as unsolved are programmed into the computer and acted upon. The abandoned firing range room serves as the headquarters for Comp Stat.

Jack is caring and compassionate. He wants to make D.C. livable again and make its police force the best in the country. Jack is also arrogant, pushy, tasteless and smug. The word “no” is not in his vocabulary. When he declares war on crime, he uses military lingo and says he loves movies — “I’m a cross between Forrest Gump and the Rain Man. Call me Rain Forrest.” Jack doesn’t always have the answers to questions asked of him. When this happens, he tells stories and talks about a particular movie to help find an answer.

Jack holds a general meeting with the individual police department chiefs each morning. The prior day’s crime reports from each district are fed into the computer and analyzed by Ella. Based on the results, Jack instructs his chiefs as to what they must do to improve their district. Jack believes “To win the war on crime first you believe you can.” Jack enjoys drinks at a bar called Teddy R’s and has two children — Jack, Jr., who is attending Michigan State College, and Beth, who ran off to become a groupie with a rock band.

Jack has been married three times, loves to play the accordion — Ella calls it noise, not music — and keeps a jar of jellybeans in his desk drawer. He is also crazy about a milk chocolate covered candy called Jiffy Bar. Jack relaxes when he can on his boat, the Betty-O, docked at Slip 38 at the Washington Channel and Marina. He has a dog named Cujo and also likes opera, chess and white asparagus.

Joe Noland is the black Deputy Police Chief. He says, about Jack, “You love him or you hate him. He is called The Great White Hope, the Champion of the Underdog.” Joe resented Jack during first-season episodes as he wanted the job of police chief, but learned to like him when he got to know and understand him (“He changed the way the police police the city”).

Temple Paige is a tough black cop with a drug problem. He lives in the projects on Basin Street and served in the Gulf War but has seen more gunfire on the streets than he did in the war.

Nick Pierc is the director of public affairs. Jack calls him director of smokes and beers. Nick was replaced in third season episodes by Kendall Truman as the new press secretary. Officer Nancy Parras is an officer in Jack’s division. She is handy with tools and knows how to fix things. She had to as she had brothers who couldn’t screw in a light bulb. Nancy has been diagnosed with Hodgkins disease. Michael Hoenig composed the theme “The District.”

2092 The District Nurse. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1989). The series, set in England is the 1930s, relates the experiences of Megan Roberts, a young woman who becomes a private nurse in a small town. The series is produced in England.

2093 Diver Dan. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1960). Diver Dan is a fearless ocean explorer who risks his life to protect the good fish of the Sargasso Sea from the evil Baron Barracuda and his dim witted assistant, Trigger Fish, as they plot to control the ocean floor.

Dan assists the beautiful Miss Minerva, a mermaid to whom the good fish look for guidance. Miss Minerva lives in an area called Minerva's Palace (which is opposite the Bottomless Pit, the home of the Glowfish). She contacts the creatures of the sea with her magic Shell-O-Phone. The Baron and Trigger have a hideout in a cave near the treacherous Teetering Rock.

Dan and Miss Minerva are the only live characters. The fish are marionettes and voiced by Allen Swift. The fish are Gabby the Clam, Sawfish Sam, Sea Biscuit the Seahorse, the Glowfish, Finley Haddock, Skipper Kipper, Scout Fish (complete with tomahawk and feathers), Goldie the Goldfish, the Hammer-Head Shark and Gill-Espie, the beatnik fish (who plays the bongo drums).

Cast: Frank Freda (Diver Dan), Suzanne Turner (Miss Minerva), Allen Swift (Fish Voices).

2094 Divided We Stand. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/21/88). Katie Dobbs is a photographer. Bryan Dobbs, her husband, is an anthropology professor. After 14 years of marriage they decide to divorce. They have an 11-year-old son named Cody and it is through his eyes (spending time with each parent) that episodes in the proposed series were to focus on his efforts to get his parents back together again.

Other Regulars: Hattie, head of the college anthropology department; and Rachel, Bryan's sister.

Cast: Kerrie Keane (Katie Dobbs), Michael Brandon (Bryan Dobbs), Seth Green (Cody Dobbs), Madge Sinclair (Dr. Hattie Wickwire), Diane Stilwell (Rachel). Guest Cast: Dee Dee Rescher (Sharon Rosenberg), Sherilyn Fenn (Lorraine), Jeffrey Josephson (Jonathan), Grainger Hines (Harry), Irena Ferris (Topaze), Bradley White (Mojo).

Kate is 44 years old, divorced and the mother of a rebellious teenage daughter (Amanda). She has only one goal on the force: prove a woman can do anything a man can — “just do it better.”

Candace, called C.D., is the chronic overachiever. She is totally devoted to her job, very professional and full of ambition.

Jinny is 32 years old and grew up in a family of law enforcers. Her constant exposure to police work led her to choose the same career — but not only to protect but to prove that a woman can be as good or even better than a male cop.

Magda is 32 years old and the youngest of seven children. She loves her job but she is a single mother and feels uncomfortable when she has to be away from her young son (Ben). She is sensitive and honest but has mistrust issues when it comes to men (she is afraid to make a commitment because Ben's father abandoned her).

Raina is 35 years old and has set her goal to quickly move up the department ladder. She has good instincts, is disciplined and shows a great deal of compassion.

Stacey is 24 years old and an overachiever. She is not exactly sure what she wants to do with her life but for the time being, becoming a cop pleases her. She has two older sisters and is considered the black sheep of the family because he tries to do things differently and not be like her all too perfect sisters.

Cast: Bonnie Bedelia (Capt. Kate McCafferty), Nancy McKeon (Insp. Jinny Exstead), Tracey Needham (Insp. C.D. DeLorenzo), Lisa Vidal (Insp. Magda Ramirez), Taraji Henson (Insp. Raina Washington), Amy Jo Johnson (Insp. Stacey Newland), Lela Rochon Fuqua (Insp. Angela Reide), Jon Hamm (Insp. Nate Basso).

2096 Divorce Court. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1957). A long running daily series that dramatized divorce cases based on actual records. The program begins with attorneys presenting their opening statements and the testimony from witnesses. The judge's cross examination follows with a verdict given at the end of the episode. Actors portray the litigants; student lawyers portray the attorneys.

Cast: Voltaire Perkins (Judge), Bill Walsh (Announcer/Commentator), Colin Mayer (Announcer/Commentator).

2097 Divorce Court. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1984). A revised version of the 1957 series of the series that does away with the staged divorce case proceedings and focuses on real people facing a real divorce. Each litigant presents his case to the judge who, after cross examining each of them, renders a decision regarding the issues of the divorce.

Cast: William Keene (Judge), Jim Peck (Court Reporter).

Cast: Mablean Ephriam (Judge, 1999–2006), Lynn Toler (Judge, 2006–). Announcer: Jimmy Hodson.

2099 Divorce Hearing. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1958). A weekly series of dramatized court hearings based on actual divorce court cases (names and places have been altered for broadcast).

Host: Dr. Paul Popenoe.

2100 The D.J. Cat Show. (Series; Children; Fox; 1987). Classic cartoons (including “Popeye,” “Bugs Bunny” and “Daffy Duck”) are interspersed with the antics of D.J. Cat, a wisecracking, know-it-all cat (puppet) who tries the patience of the series pretty hostess (Elizabeth). Broadcast live on Saturday mornings; based on the European series of the same title.

Hostess: Elizabeth Rose. Voice of D.J. Cat: Jim Martin.

2101 Do It Yourself. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1955). The program combines humor with straight advice on do-it-yourself projects, home repairs and maintenance. Dave is the instructor; Charley Weaver is his elderly, hillbilly-like handyman; the younger Mary and Steve assist them. The summer series ran on NBC from June 26, 1955 to September 18, 1955.

Cast: Dave Willock (Dave, the Instructor), Cliff Arquette (Charley Weaver), Mary McAdoo (Mary), Stephen Wollton (Steve).

2102 Do It Yourself TV. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/13/90). The program features home videos of ordinary people performing for the show’s cameras (as opposed to spontaneous home videos common to other such shows that showcase such material).

Hosts: Dick Clark, Crystal Bernard.

2103 Do Not Disturb. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/20/60). A proposed series based on comedian Groucho Marx’s book, Not As a Crocodile, about Arthur Marks, a writer for a monthly magazine who works at home but seldom finds the peace and quiet he needs to work. In the pilot episode, Arthur writes a school play, then tries to convince his son, Andy, to pay the lead, not the “dead Indian” he wants to play. Other Regulars: Irene, Arthur’s wife; and Andrea, Arthur’s editor.

Cast: David Wayne (Arthur Marks), Peggy Knudsen (Irene Marks), Scott Davey (Andy Marks), Andrea King (Andrea). Guest Cast: Gil Rogers (Steve), Irene Vernon (Miss Burdick). Also: William Bakewell, Carol Faylen, Todd Farrell, Scott Morrow, Dennis Rush.

2104 Do Over. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2002). Joel Larsen is a 34-year-old paper products salesman who schemes his way through life. His life is heading in the wrong direction when a freak accident sends Joel back in time — to 1981 when he was 14 years old to relive his life and set things straight.

His parents, Bill and Karen are unaware that Joel was once an adult and has returned to the past; his sister, Cheryl, who is thought of as an angel, but is really a devil in disguise, feels something is not right with Joel. Stories focus on Joel as he uses his experiences as an adult to his best advantage as a teenager. Other Regulars: Isabelle and Pat, Joel’s friends (as a teenager).

Cast: Penn Badgley (Joel Larsen), Gigi Rice (Karen Larsen), Michael Milhoan (Bill Larsen), Angela Goethals (Cheryl Larsen), Natasha Melnick (Isabelle Meyers), Josh Wise (Pat Brody).

2105 Do You Trust Your Wife? (Series; Game; CBS; 1956–1957). The CBS title for a series that would later air on ABC as Who Do You Trust? See this title for information.

2106 Dobie Gillis. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1959–1963). Dobie Gillis and his friend, Maynard G. Krebs, are teenagers who live in a mythical community called Central City. Dobie lives with his father, Herbert T. Gillis, and his mother, Winifrid (“Winnie”) Gillis, at 285 Norwood Street; Maynard lives with his parents at 1343 South Elm Street.

At 285 Norwood one will also find the Gillis Grocery Store, which is run by Herbert, a hard working, always complaining businessman (he and the family live above the store). Herbert is a member of the Benevolent Order of the Bison Lodge and always claims he is 46 years old. He is known as a cheap-skate and was voted the “citizen most likely to hang onto his last dollar.”

Dobie and Maynard first attend Central City High School, then S. Peter Pryor Junior College. Their favorite after school hangout is Charlie Wong’s Ice Cream Parlor, and in 1961 they both served a hitch in the army (in some episodes they are in Company A; in others Company C and Company Q). In college Dobie was the second assistant editor of the school’s newspaper, the Pryor Crier.

Dobie is the girl chasing, all-American teenage boy; unfortunately, he “picks girls with caviar tastes for his peanut butter wallet.” While schoolmate Zelda Gilroy has a never ending crush on him and has set her sights on marrying him, Dobie has eyes for beautiful girls who seem to cause him only misery.

Dobie is most famous for his infatuation with the stunning Thalia Menninger, the girl who knows Dobie is dirt poor and the son of a cheap father, but who has high hopes of his making “oodles and oodles of money”—not for her but for her family, “a 60-year-old father with a kidney condition, a mother who isn’t getting any younger, a sister who married a loafer and a brother who is becoming a public charge.”

Dobie’s rival for Thalia is Milton Armitage, the rich, spoiled schoolmate who nicknamed her “Mouse” for her inability to choose between him and Dobie.

Although the Thalia character was dropped when Tuesday Weld left the series, a new beauty—Linda Sue Faversham was brought on to tempt Dobie in 1961.

Like Thalia, Linda Sue seeks only to marry money and has high hopes of turning Dobie into a success so they can marry and support her unemployable family.

Following in Linda Sue’s footsteps is her gorgeous sister, Amanda Jean who is being groomed by Linda Sue to marry money. Following in Dobie’s footsteps is his younger, dirt poor cousin, Duncan Gillis, who fell for Amanda Jean and found, like Dobie, that girls like Linda Sue (and Amanda Jean) “are not for poor slobbs like us.”

Maynard, a beatnik who loves to play the bongo drums, is also a fan of jazz and hangs out at Riff Ryan’s Music Store. He has a stuffed armadillo named Herman and claims that the G in his name stands for Walter. He also has the world’s largest collection of tin foil.

While the longest word that he can pronounce is delicatessen, Maynard’s idea of great Americans include General MacArthur, Admiral Dewey and Captain Kangaroo. Maynard always responds with “You rang?” when his name is mentioned and panics when he hears the word “work.”

Zelda Gilroy, the girl who taught Dobie how to play the guitar, is very intelligent (one of the reasons why she thinks that Dobie is not attracted to her). She is pretty but not as attractive as the girls Dobie falls for; she is always there for Dobie when he is dumped by his latest heartthrob. Zelda is from a large family and has six sisters (played by Sherry Alberoni, Jeri Lou James, Lorraine Gillespie, Judy Hackett, Marlene Willis and Anna Marie Nanassi).

Chatsworth Osborne, Jr., is the rich and spoiled son of Clarissa Osborne and is a friend of Dobie and Maynard’s. He has type “R” (for royal) blood and is heir to the fabulous Osborne National Bank fortune. He lives in a 47-room Louis XIV home (with broken glass embedded in the wall that surrounds it), belongs to the Downshifters Club, is president of the Silver Spoon Club (for snobs) at S. Peter Pryor Junior College and dreams of getting into Yale University. His favorite expression is “mice and rats.” He calls Dobie “Dobie Do” and his mother “Mumsey” (she calls him “you nasty boy”).

Professor Leander Pomfritt teaches English at the high school and later at the college. He refers to his students as “young barbarians.” He wrote nine novels (destroying eight of them) and wishes, at times, that he had gone into the aluminum siding business (also the air conditioning business, in some episodes).

Dr. Imogene Burkhart teaches psychology and biology at the high school. In early episodes, Jean Byron appeared as Ruth Adams, the math teacher at Central High. The character of Imogene Burkhart was originally played by Jody Warner—not as a teacher, but as a classmate on whom Dobie had a crush. The series is also known as The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis. See also Bring Me the Head of Dobie Gillis and Whatever Happened to Dobie Gillis.

Cast: Dwayne Hickman (Dobie Gillis), Bob Denver (Maynard G. Krebs), Frank Faylen (Herbert T. Gillis), Florida Friebus (Winnie Gillis), Sheila James (Zelda Gilroy), Tuesday Weld (Thalia Menninger), Steve Franken (Chatsworth Osborne, Jr.), Doris Packer (Clarissa Osborne), Darryl Hickman (Davey Gillis, Dobie’s brother), Bobby Diamond (Duncan Gillis), Roy Hemphill (Virgil T. Gillis, Dobie’s cousin), Herbert Anderson (Leander Pomfritt), William Schallert (Leander Pomfritt; later), Jean Byron (Ruth Adams), Jean Byron (Imogene Burkhart; teacher), Jody Warner (Imogene Burkhart; student), Michael J. Pollard (Jerome Krebs, Maynard’s cousin), James Yagi (Charlie Wong, ice parlor owner), Johnny Lee (Charlie Wong; later), Warren Beatty (Milton Armitage), Tommy Farrell (Riff Ryan, record store owner), Joyce Van Patten (Maude Pomfritt, Leander’s wife), David Bond (Trembly, the Osborne butler), Angelo DeMeo (Osborne Chauffeur), Doris Packer (Clarice Armitage, Milton’s mother), Addison Richards (Dean Hollister), Paul Tripp (Dean Hollister; later), Raymond Bailey (Dean Magruder), Richard Claire (Lieutenant Meriwether), Blossom Kenny (Marjorie Bennett), Lynn Loring (Edwina Kagel, Chatsworth’s cousin), Iris Mann (Sabrina Osborne, Chatsworth’s cousin), Kay Stewart (Alice Krebs, Maynard’s mother), Yvonne Craig (Linda Sue Faversham), Annette Gorman (Amanda Jean Faversham), Dabbs Greer (Walter Gilroy, Zelda’s father), Joan Banks (Zelda’s Mother), Esther Dale (Winnie’s Mother), Jeane Wood (Winnie’s sister Gladys), Gordon Jones (Winnie’s brother Wilfrid), John Bryant (Edmond Adams, Ruth’s husband), Ron Howard (Dan Adams, Ruth’s son), Barbara Babcock (Pamela Osborne, Chatsworth’s cousin), Trudi Ziskind (Jenny), Lee Goodman (Mr. Milfloss, a teacher), Marvin Kaplan (Mr. Milfloss; later), Diana Millay (Various Roles), Jack Albertson (Various Roles), Jo Anne Worley (Various Roles). Theme Song: “Dobie” by Lionel Newman, Max Shulman.

2107 Doc. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/28/69). The setting is the sleepy little town of Stubbville where the misadventures of Jason Fillmore, its elderly doctor, and his young assistant, Orville Truebody, a bumbling klutz, are depicted. Other Regulars: Amy Fillmore, Jason's daughter; and Tillie, Jason's nurse.

Cast: Forrest Tucker (Dr. Jason Fillmore), Rick Lenz (Dr. Orville Truebody), Margaret Ann Peterson (Amy Fillmore), Mary Treen (Tillie). Guest Cast: J. Pat O'Malley (Will), Guy Raymond (Sheriff Bart), John Qualen (Luke), Parley Baer (Conductor), Roland Winters (Watkins), Norma Varden (Mrs. Dobson), Bob Steele (Toby).

2108 Doc. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975). The trials and tribulations of Dr. Joe Bogert, a general practitioner who lives in a rundown neighborhood in New York City and strives to treat his patients with dignity and respect. Joe is married to Annie and is the father of Laurie and Gwen.

Laurie is married to Fred and they are the parents of Fred, Jr. and Michael. Beatrice Tully is Joe's nurse; Happy Miller is Joe's friend; and Ben Goldman is a patient of Joe's. The series ran for 25 episodes; see the following title for information on the revised version of the series.

Cast: Barnard Hughes (Dr. Joe Bogert), Elizabeth Wilson (Annie Bogert), Judith Kahan (Laurie Fenner), John Harkins (Fred Fenner), Mary Wickes (Beatrice Tully), Linda Kelsey (Gwen Bogert), Tom Blaylock (Fred Fenner, Jr.), Moosie Drier (Michael Fenner), Irwin Corey (Happy Miller), Herbie Faye (Ben Goldman).

2109 Doc. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1976). A revised version of the 1975 CBS series of the same title. Events in the life of Dr. Joe Bogert, the medical director of the hectic (and free) New York Westside Community Clinic. Janet Scott is Joe's nurse; Teresa Ortega is the receptionist; Stanley Moss is the director of the clinic; and Woody Henderson is a doctor at the clinic. The series ran for six episodes.

Cast: Barnard Hughes (Dr. Joe Bogert), Audra Lindley (Janet Scott), Lisa Mordente (Teresa Ortega), David Ogden Stiers (Stanley Moss), Ray Vitte (Dr. Woody Henderson).

2110 Doc. (Series; Drama; PAX; 2001–2004). Clint Cassidy is a doctor with the Woodbury Clinic of Manhattan Memorial Hospital in New York City. He was born in a rural section of Montana. When he was 10 years old his father, Ralph, died of cancer. Clint felt helpless during the ordeal and vowed to become a doctor. He graduated from medical school in North Dakota and returned to his hometown to work at the Johnson Medical Center, where he doubled as a physician and a much needed veterinarian. Clint, however, had dreams of beginning a practice in New York City. Through a connection with a friend, Clint applies for a position with the Westbury Clinic (which works in conjunction with Manhattan General Hospital; changed to the Manhattan Memorial after the pilot).

Stories follow Clint, called Doc by patients, as he uses his warm, homespun country philosophy in dealing with and caring for patients.

Other Regulars: Dr. Derrell Hebert, Dr. Oliver Crane, Nurse Nancy Nichol, police Officer Nate Jackson (Doc's friend), Beverly Jackson, Nate's wife; Raul Garcia, Nate and Beverly's adopted son; Tippy, the clinic receptionist; Dr. DeWitt, the head of the clinic.

2111 Doc Corkle. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1952). A short-lived, three episode series (October 5 to October 19, 1952) about a kind hearted dentist (Doc Corkle) and his efforts to deal with family problems, nervous patients and, most importantly, relieve his numerous monetary burdens. Doc is a widower and the father of Laurie. His sister, Nellie, and father (Pop) live with him and help him care for Laurie. Melinda is Doc's nurse; Winfield Dill is Laurie's boyfriend.

Cast: Eddie Mayehoff (Doc Corkle), Connie Marshall (Laurie Corkle), Hope Emerson (Nellie Corkle), Chester Conklin (Pop Corkle), Arnold Stang (Winfield Dill), Billie Burke (Melinda).

2112 Doc Elliot. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1973–1974). Benjamin R. Elliot is a New York staff doctor at Bellevue Hospital in New York City. After years of feeling unfulfilled, Benjamin quits his job and retreats to the Alora Valley in the backwoods of Southern Colorado. There, as the only available physician, he seeks to help people and find full fulfillment in being a doctor.

Barney Weeks is the owner of the general store; Margaret "Mags" Brimble is Benjamin's landlady; Eldred McCoy is the bush pilot who helps Benjamin.

Cast: James Franciscus (Dr. Benjamin Elliot), Noah Beery, Jr. (Barney Weeks), Neva Patterson (Margaret "Mags" Brimble), Bo Hopkins (Eldred McCoy).

2113 Doc Holliday. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 3/14/58). A proposed series about the legend of "Doc" John H. Holliday, the famed gunman and psychiatrist, as he travels throughout the Old West. In the pilot episode, Doc attempts to help the citizens of a town being terrorized by its sheriff. Broadcast as "Man of Fear" on Zane Grey Theater. (Doc Holliday was the proposed series title).

Cast: Dewey Martin (“Doc” John H. Holliday).
Guest Cast: Arthur Franz (Lee Brand), Julie Adams (Julie Brand), Brett King (Sheriff).

2114 The Doctor. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1952–1953). Dramatizations of people confronted with mentally disturbing situations as seen through the eyes of a general practitioner who makes house calls.

Host-Narrator-Doctor: Warner Anderson. Performers Include: Dorothy Malone, Lee Marvin, Charles Bronson, Adele Newton, Mildred Natwick, June Dayton, Tod Andrews, Ann Summers, Donald Cook, Anne Jackson, Ernest Truex, Jay Jostyn, Wesley Addy, Lydia Reed, Patricia Benoit, Thomas Mitchell, Joan Loring, Henry Morgan, Fay Bainter, Phyllis Avery, Sandy Kenyon, Conrad Janis, Carmen Mathews, Beulah Bondi, Katherine Bard, Ann Burr, Whit Bissell, Jessie Royce Landis, Henry Jones, Margaret Hayes, Roland Young, Val DuFour.

2115 Doctor Christian. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1956). An adaptation of the radio series of the same title. After Paul Christian (the featured doctor on the radio series) retires, his nephew, Dr. Mark Christian, assumes control of his medical practice in the town of Rivers End, Minnesota. Stories relate the infinite problems faced by a doctor in a small town.

The program opens with a visual of Dr. Mark Christian reading a letter from his Uncle Paul; Paul narrates: “Dear Mark, this might come somewhat as a surprise. I finally decided to take your advice and retire, which means you’ll be falling heir to my patients. You may find that I’ve babied some too much and been too strict with others. I know you’ve long considered me a chronic meddler but it’s been my philosophy that a doctor’s responsibilities excel those outlined in the Hippocratic Oath. No two doctors work exactly in the same manner. However, you know how I think and I know how you think, so I’m not worried. Mark, the reason why I worked for so long is to make sure you matured sufficiently to handle my patients with wisdom and kindness, I am now sure. With best regards, Uncle Paul.”

Cast: Macdonald Carey (Dr. Mark Christian), Jean Hersholt (Dr. Paul Christian), Jan Shepard (Nurse), Cynthia Baer (Nurse), Kay Faylen (Nurse).

2116 Doctor Dan. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/22/74). Dan Morgan is a child psychiatrist at UCLA and a part-time counselor at Beverly Hills High School. He is married to Elaine and the father of three children (Joyce, Adam and Chris). The unsold series was to relate Dan’s efforts to solve not only his kids’ problems, but the problems of other parents’ children.

In the pilot episode, Dan attempts to help Jimmy Wallace, a ten-year-old boy who steals jewelry; and contend with his own 16-year-old daughter, Joyce, who wants to date a college man. Produced in 1970.

Other Regulars: Dr. Viola Nickerson; and Scott, Dan’s assistant.

Cast: Jackie Cooper (Dan Morgan), Barbara Stuart (Elaine Morgan), Heather Menzies (Joyce Morgan), Willie Aames (Adam Morgan), Robert Reiser (Chris Morgan), Madeleine Sherwood (Dr. Viola Nickerson), Ron Pinkard (Scott). Guest Cast: Lee H. Montgomery (Jimmy Wallace), Mitzi Hoag (Mrs. Wallace), Patti Cohoon (Lisa), M. Emmet Walsh (Mr. Wallace), Noble Nelson (Alvin).

2117 Doctor, Doctor. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1989–1991). Dr. Mike Stratford is an eccentric general practitioner who uses unusual but effective techniques to deal with patients. He and his fellow doctors, Deirdre Bennett, Abraham Butterfield and Grant Linowitz, are partners in the Rhode Island-based Northeast Medical Partners (on 10/3/90, Grant’s sister, Dr. Leona Linowitz, a psychiatrist, joins the practice). Stories follow the doctor’s efforts to treat patients with Mike’s unpredictable antics often complicating matters.

Mike, who has written the medical books Panacea: A Medical Love Story and The Practice, is also the advice doctor on “Wake Up Providence,” a local morning news show on WNTV-TV that is hosted by Pia Bismark. Mike attended Harvard Medical School (as did Deirdre, Abraham and Grant) and eats at Johnny’s Bar and Grill; the New York Mets are his favorite baseball team. Leona is somewhat bossy and feels the clinic needs to be run in a more professional manner (referring to Mike’s unnecessary antics). She is divorced from the unseen Philip, who called her “The Domineering Bitch.”

Connie and Harold Stratford are Mike’s parents; Richard is Mike’s gay brother; Gail Butterfield is Abraham’s wife; Justin is Abraham’s son; Bill Murtagh is Deirdre’s father; Emily Linowitz is Leona’s daughter. Theme: “Good Lovin’,” adapted by Artie Butler.

2118 Doctor Dolittle. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1970–1972). The world travels of Dr. John Dolittle, a veterinarian who possesses the ability to talk to and understand animals. Stories relate his attempts to overcome the evils of Sam Scurvy, a fiend bent on learning his secret to control animals for purposes of world dominance. Based on the stories by Hugh Lofting. Tommy Stubbins is John's aide.

Voice Cast: Robert Holt (Dr. John Dolittle), Hal Smith (Tommy Stubbins), Lennie Weinrib (Sam Scurvy), Don Messick (Animal Voices), The Grasshoppers (Vocalists).

2119 Doctor Domingo. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/14/74). The story of Juan Domingo, a small town physician with a knack for finding trouble. In the pilot episode, broadcast as "Riddle at 24,000" on Ironside, Juan joins forces with his friend, Chief of Detectives Robert Ironside, to solve the mysterious death of a man who died while flying a plane.

Cast: Desi Arnaz (Dr. Juan Domingo), Linda Foster (Big Sue, his aide), L.Q. Jones (Lt. Mark Carter).

Guest Cast: Patricia Smith (Laura Blaine), Ralph Meeker (Mr. Westcott), Dolores Dorn (Mrs. Westcott), Raymond Burr (Chief Ironside).

2120 Dr. Fad. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988–1989). The program showcases fads and their inventors. Ken Hakuta, a toy inventor who is known as Dr. Fad, hosts it. The program also spotlights children and their inventions (items they hope will become fads). There is also a game segment wherein three children compete for prizes by creating toys. Points are awarded according to the "genius" behind the toy. Each child demonstrates his or her invention for the studio audience (whose applause determine the winner).

Host: Ken Hakuta. Announcer-Assistant: Jim Fyfe.

2121 The Dr. Fad Show. (Pilot; Game; Syn.; 2/20/88). The pilot episode for the syndicated fall 1988 series of the same title about fads and their inventors (the show is hosted by toy inventor Ken Hakuta, who is known as Dr. Fad). In addition to showcasing children and their inventions, the program also features a game segment wherein three children compete for prizes by creating toys. Points are awarded according to their success. The players then demonstrate their creations with the studio audience determining the winner. Points are again awarded and the child with the highest score is the grand prize winner.

Host: Ken Hakuta. Announcer-Assistant: Jim Parker.

2122 Doctor Fix-Um. (Series; Advice; ABC; 1949–1950). Arthur Youngquist hosts a weekly program of household tips and advice that aired from May 3, 1949 to August 6, 1950.

2123 Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/24/51). A proposed series based on the book by Lloyd C. Douglas about Wayne Hudson, a doctor at Center City Hospital. The story deals with Wayne's efforts to regain faith in himself following his performing an emergency experimental operation on his wife that resulted in her death. Hudson's faith is restored when a sculptor approaches him and asks him to perform the same operation to save his dying daughter. Aired on The Philco Television Playhouse.

2124 Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1955). Center City Hospital is the setting for a dramatic series about Dr. Wayne Hudson, a neurosurgeon, and the numerous problems he faces at home (where he is the father of a teenage daughter) and at work (where he pioneers new methods of treatment). Kathryn is his daughter; Ann Talbot is his nurse; Mrs. Grady is his housekeeper.

Cast: John Howard (Dr. Wayne Hudson), Cheryl Galloway (Kathryn Hudson), Olive Blakeney (Mrs. Grady), Frances Mercer (Ann Talbot).

2125 Doctor in the House. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1971). The struggles (and misadventures) of seven young medical students interning at the Saint Swithin's Teaching Hospital in London, England. Later episodes focus on the young doctors seeking to establish a practice. Based on the Doctor books by Richard Gordon. Also known as Doctor on the Go.

Cast: Barry Evans (Michael Upton), Robin Nedwell (Duncan Waring), George Layton (Paul Collier), Martin Shaw (Huw Evans), Geoffrey Davies (Dick Stewart-Clark), Jonathan Lynn (Danny Wholey), Simon Cuff (Dave Briddock), Ernest Clark (Sir Geoffrey Lewis), Ralph Michael (The Dean), Yvette Stengaard (Helga), Joan Benham (Mrs. Loftus), Lynn Dalby (Valerie Loftus), Peter Barthurst (Mr. Upton).

2126 Doctor I.Q. (Series; Game; ABC; 1953–1954; 1958–1959). A contestant is chosen from the studio audience. Dr. I.Q., the mental banker, asks him a question. If he answers it correctly, he receives 20 silver dollars, plus a chance to earn additional silver dollars by continuing to answer questions. The contestant plays until he is defeated by an incorrect response. The series, which ran from November 4, 1953 to October 10, 1954 (and December 15, 1958 to March 23, 1959) is based on the long-running radio program of the same title.

Dr. I.Q.: James McLain (1953–1954), Jay Owen (1954), Tom Kennedy (1958–1959). Assistant: Mimi Walters, Kay Christopher, Tom Reddy, Ed Michaels, Arthur Fleming, George Ansboro.

2127 Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 6/4/40). The first television adaptation of the story by Robert Louis Stevenson about a doctor (Henry Jekyll) who creates a serum that changes human personality and transforms him into an evil being he calls Edward Hyde.

Cast: Winfield Hoeny (Henry Jekyll and Edward Hyde), Paula Stone (Alice), Anne Crosby (Prima Dona), Judson Laire (Utterson), Jack Cherry (Vicar and Detective).

2128 The Dr. Joyce Brothers Program. (Series; Talk; Disney; 1985). An unusual talk show wherein psychologist Dr. Joyce Brothers not only interviews celebrity guests but answers viewer questions with a guest comedian providing a comic look at the problems people face.

Host: Dr. Joyce Brothers.

2129 Dr. Katz, Professional Therapist. (Series; Cartoon; Comedy Central; 1995). Jonathan Katz is a professional therapist who feels, at times, that he needs psychological help himself when it comes to dealing with his family and his neurotic patients.

Jonathan is divorced and the father of Ben, a 23-year-old slacker who dreams of wealth but has no ambition to find a job; Laura is Jonathan's receptionist. The only means of relief Jonathan seems to get from the situations he encounters is at a bar called Jacky's 33 (where Julie is the bartender and Stan seems to be his only friend). The patients Dr. Katz sees are stand-up comedians who get a chance to do something a bit different — perform their material as animated characters.

Voice Cast: Jonathan Katz (Dr. Jonathan Katz), H. Jon Benjamin (Ben Katz), Laura Silverman (Laura), Julianne Shapin (Julie).

2130 Dr. Kildare. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1961–1966). The experiences, struggles, defeats and victories of James Kildare, a young intern (later resident physician) at Blair General Hospital. The elder, wiser, Dr. Leonard Gillespie is his mentor and stories, which are most often set away from the operating room, focus on James as he struggles to help his patients in capacities other than just their doctor or surgeon.

The series, which produced 132 60-minute episodes, ran from September 27, 1961 to September 9, 1965. It also ran for 30 minutes (in serial-like stories) from September 13, 1965 to August 29, 1966 and produced 58 episodes. The episode of October 4, 1962, "The Burning Sky," is the only episode filmed in color.

dare; later), Katherine Squire (Jim's mother). Theme Song: "Three Stars will Shine Tonight" by Jerry Goldsmith, Pete Rugolo.

Cast: Keith Andes (Dr. Michael Grant), Lewis Martin (Dr. Samuel Talbert), Mary Adams (Mary Barker). Guest Cast: Joe DeSantis (Alex Bartos), Greta Granstedt (Anna Bartos). Also: Roy Barcroft, Ann Barton, Hal Hoover.

2132 Dr. 90210. (Series; Reality; E!; 2004). Like the graphic Miami Slice and I Want a Famous Face (see entries), Dr. 90210 joins MTV and Bravo in shocking (or turning off) viewers as it delves into the world of cosmetic surgery (here focusing on doctors and their patients in Beverly Hills — hence the takeoff on the series Beverly Hills, 90210). The program not only focuses on the consultations between patient and doctor, but the actual (not for the faint of heart) surgery that takes place.

Doctors: Jason Diamond, Richard Ellenbogen, Raj Kanodia, Robert Kotler, Linda Li, Paul Nassit.

2133 Dr. Paradise. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/12/88). The setting is Olympus Isle, a tropical island that houses the Dr. Paradise Resort and Health Center. The medical center was founded by Peter Roman, a morally detestable millionaire M.D. known as Dr. Paradise. After establishing the clinic he became the reigning czar of the island. His efforts to run the clinic and deal with his staff and patients was the focal point of the unsold series.

Other Regulars: Dr. Amy Hunter, a life-long friend of Peter's who helped him start the clinic; Dr. Casey Hunter, Amy's son (he dropped out of medical school to become a chiropractor); Dr. Fredericks, the off-beat psychiatrist; Dr. Phil Moore, a pediatrician who hates kids and believes patients are an annoying interruption to his golf game; Hilary DuPres, the clinic's beautiful receptionist (her political awareness makes her an enemy of Peter); and Newton Hobbs, a regular patient whose hypochondria is exceeded only by his wealth.

Cast: Frank Langella (Dr. Peter Roman), Sally Kellerman (Dr. Amy Hunter), Tommy Hinkley (Dr. Casey Hunter), Barry Gordon (Newton Hobbs), Xander Berkley (Dr. Fredericks), Beverly Brown (Hillary DuPres), Hiram Kasten (Dr. Phil Moore). Guest Cast: Phil Rubinstein (Chris Reo), Eugene Lee (Renoir), Bill Scheft (Patient). Theme Vocal ("Dr. Paradise"): Kid Creole and the Coconuts.

2134 Dr. Phil. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2002–). Real people with real problems (sometimes emotional and overwhelming) appear (to tell their stories. Dr. Phil McGraw, the program's host, listens and offers not only advice but also genuine help to make sure these people get the help they need before they leave the stage. Follow up stories are also presented to inform the viewer of a particular guest's progress.

Host: Dr. Phil McGraw.

2135 Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman. (Series; Western; CBS; 1993–1998). Michaela (“Mike”) Quinn is a doctor. She was born on February 15, 1833, in Boston. “I was the last of five children; all those before me were girls. My father, being a man of science, firmly believed that the odds would finally dictate the birth of a long-awaited son. He would be named Michael. I was named Michaela. I was determined to attend medical school, but none would admit a woman. I finally received my medical degree from the Women’s Medical College of Pennsylvania. To my mother’s dismay, my father made me his partner.” Michaela and her father worked side by side for seven years. “When he died, I lost my mentor, my advocate, my best friend. He spoiled me but gave me the freedom to discover myself. With my father gone, our practice virtually disappeared. I was afraid my life as a doctor was over, but I promised him to carry on.”

While reading the local newspaper, the Globe, Michaela finds an ad for a doctor in the Colorado Territory. She sent the Reverend Timothy Johnson a telegram detailing her experiences. A week later, she received a reply offering her the position. Despite the objections of her mother (who wants her to settle down and raise a family), Michaela leaves Boston and heads for Colorado Springs. “It was the frontier, a place where people make new beginnings; a place where my services would be needed, my skills appreciated; where I would finally be appreciated as a doctor.”

It is circa 1865 when Michaela arrives in Colorado Springs. Michaela is a woman (and single) in a town where there are 20 men for every woman. She finds lodging at Mrs. Cooper’s Rooms and Meals and befriends the owner, Charlotte Cooper, who has three children (Colleen, Matthew and Brian).

Charlotte is called “Widow Cooper” although she is not a widow. Charlotte and her husband had a farm in Topeka, Kansas. One day her husband sold the farm and told her they were going to mine gold at Pikes Peak. When the mine went bust, he left her. The townspeople call her “Widow Cooper” out of respect.

Shortly after, Michaela advertises for permanent lodgings. Byron Sully answers the ad and offers her his former log cabin for one dollar a month rent.

Charlotte and the kids help Michaela, whom they fondly call “Dr. Mike,” settle in. (Sully was a miner who built the cabin when he married. When his wife died, he abandoned it and became a mountain man. He is compassionate toward the Cheyenne Indians and has one true friend, a wolf, whom he calls “Boy”). Sully is afraid of horses, uses a tomahawk as a weapon and risks his life to protect Michaela.

A short time later, Charlotte is bitten by a rattlesnake; but by the time Dr. Mike is summoned, the poison has already spread and there is nothing she can do for her. On her deathbed, Charlotte begs Dr. Mike to care for her kids. Suddenly, Michaela is the guardian of three children. Charlotte also left behind bills; when the Bank of Denver forecloses on the boardinghouse, the children move in with Michaela (Colleen and Matthew call her “Dr. Mike”; Brian, the youngest, calls her “Maw”).

The Indians think Michaela is “a crazy white woman” because “only white men make medicine.” When Michaela helps the chief of the Cheyenne (who has a bullet wound), he gives her the Indian name “Medicine Woman.” Sully later makes a shingle for Michaela to hang on her cabin; it reads “Dr. Michaela Quinn, M.D.—Medicine Woman.”

Dr. Mike has a horse named Belle; Loren Bray owns Bray’s General Mercantile; Jake is the owner of the town saloon; Myra is the saloon girl (and Dr. Mike’s friend); Olive is Loren’s sister. Stories follow Michaela as she often fights prejudice to help the people of Colorado Springs. Theme: “Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman,” by William Olvis.

Cast: Jane Seymour (Dr. Michaela Quinn), Joe Lando (Byron Sully), Erika Flores (Colleen Cooper), Caitlin Wachs (Colleen Cooper; later), Chad Allen (Matthew Cooper), Shawn Toovey (Brian Cooper), Diane Ladd (Charlotte Cooper), Guy Boyd (Loren Bray), Orson Bean (Loren Bray; later), Jim Knobeloch (Jake), Helene Udy (Myra), Gail Strickland (Olive).

2136 Dr. Ruth’s House. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/22/90). Dr. Ruth Engelhof is a psychology professor at Blake University who shares her home with five undergraduates (Tracy, Elmer, Mac, Angela and Barbara). The unsold series was to focus on Ruth’s misadventures as their self-proclaimed den mother. In the pilot episode, the gang tries to find a date for Elmer, the football team’s star player.

2137 Dr. Science. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1987). A humorous approach to the sciences as seen through the antics of Dr. Science, “a man who knows more than you do” as he investigates various aspects of the past and present. Rodney, Judy and Zeke assist him.

Cast: Dan Coffey (Dr. Science), Merle Kessler (Rodney), Denny Dillon (Judy), Bill Allard (Mr. Pickett), Leon Martell (Zeke).

2138 Doctor Scorpion. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 2/24/78). Jonathan Shackelford is a former secret agent turned marine biologist. The unsold series was to depict his exploits as he tackles (in most cases) assignments for The Company, his former organization. In the pilot episode, Shackelford seeks to end the reign of Dr. Cresus, a power broker who is selling death-dealing devices to enemy nations. (The title is derived from Dr. Cresus’s hobby: scorpions.) Proposed series title is Shack. Other Regulars: Sharon, Jonathan’s wife; and Tania, his assistant.

Cast: Nick Mancuso (Jonathan Shackelford), Sandra Kerns (Sharon Shackelford), Christine Lahti (Tania). Guest Cast: Roscoe Lee Browne (Dr. Cresus), Granville Van Dusen (Terry Batliner), Michael Cavanaugh (Whitey), Denny Miller (The Dane), Richard Herd (Worthington), Joseph Ruskin (Lieutenant Reed), Philip Sterling (Admiral Gunwilder).

Cast: Jay Robinson (Dr. Shrinker), Susan Lawrence (B.J.), Teddy Eccles (Brad), Jeff McKay (Gordie), Billy Barty (Hugo).

2140 Doctor Simon Locke. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1971). Andrew Sellers is an aging doctor with a practice in the community of Dixon Mills, Canada. Simon Locke is a young doctor with progressive ideas who joins Dr. Sellers practice when Andrew advertises for an assistant. Stories follow the doctors as they struggle to help the people of a poor community. Louise Wynn is the nurse who assists them; Dan Palmer is the local police chief. See also Police Surgeon, the spin-off series.

2141 Doctor Snuggles. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1981). The story of Doctor Snuggles, an ingenious veterinarian who uses his fantastic inventions to help people and animals in distress.

Voices: Peter Ustinov (Doctor Snuggles), Owen Griffiths, Jeffrey O’Kelly.

2142 Doctor Strange. (Pilot; Fantasy; CBS; 9/6/78). Dr. Stephen Strange is a psychiatrist at New York’s Eastside Hospital who is in reality a sorcerer, a magical champion of good over evil. The pilot episode depicts how Strange is endowed with the Hermetic Arts — the ability to control the elements of the universe — by Thomas Lindmer, an aging sorcerer who is no longer able to continue his battle against evil; and how Morgan Le Fay, the beautiful Dark Queen of Evil, seeks to destroy Lindmer before he can transfer his powers to Strange. Based on the “Marvel” comic book stories.

Other Regulars: Wong, Stephen’s aide; Dr. Frank Taylor, Stephen’s superior at the hospital; The Nameless One, Morgan’s evil master; Voice of the Ancient One, the ruler of the Hermetic Arts.

2143 Dr. Vegas. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2004). The Metro Hotel Casino in Las Vegas appears to be just as it sounds — a hotel and gambling hall. However, there is a difference — it’s hotel houses the offices of Billy Grant, a physician who calls himself the casino’s “house doctor.” Billy survives on very little sleep, likes to gamble and takes only “cash and plastic” for his services.

Billy was an emergency room doctor who simply got fed up with the demands of the job and left for a simpler life as a physician who could have a one-on-one relationship with his patients. Stories follow Billy as he treats the people of the casino and seeks his one big desire — become part of a high stakes poker game.

Other Regulars: Tommy Danko, the casino’s general manager; Veronica, the gorgeous blackjack dealer; Alice, Billy’s nurse; and Vic, Tommy’s lieutenant.

Cast: Rob Lowe (Dr. Billy Grant), Joe Pantoliano (Tommy Danko), Sarah Lancaster (Veronica Harold), Amy Adams (Alice Doherty), Tom Sizemore (Vic Moore).

2144 The Doctor Was a Lady. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/27/58). Fran Mitchell is a doctor; Paul, her husband, is a real estate broker. The unsold series was to relate the problems that befall a couple with conflicting careers. The pilot episode relates Fran's efforts to surprise Paul with an intimate dinner for their wedding anniversary. Broadcast as a segment of The Jane Wyman Theater.

Cast: Frances Bergen (Dr. Fran Mitchell), Keith Andes (Paul Mitchell), Wendy Winkelman (Paula Mitchell, their daughter). Also: Eleanor Audley, Milton Frome, Shirley Mitchell, Maudie Prickett, Ruthie Robinson, Frank Wilcox.

2145 Doctor Who. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1973). Susan Foreman is a pretty 15-year-old girl who attends the Coal Hill School in London, England. She is exceptionally brilliant in science and history but terribly incompetent in other subjects. Susan resides with her grandfather, who is known as the Doctor but is very evasive about where she lives.

Barbara Wright and Ian Chesterton are two of Susan's teachers. When they become concerned about her (why her grades are slipping in all subjects but science and history), they decide to visit her at home. At 76 Trotters Lane, the address Susan has given as her home, Barbara and Ian find a junkyard. As they investigate, they discover a British police call box (which resembles an old-fashioned American public telephone booth)—the home of Susan and her grandfather. They are invited in and are amazed to find themselves standing in the middle of a vast control room—an impossibility, Ian believes, because the police box is just not that big. Susan explains that the police box is actually a time machine called the TARDIS and can go anywhere in time and space. "I made up the name from the initials—Time and Relative Dimension in Space. I thought you would understand when you saw different dimensions inside from those outside."

The Doctor tells them that he and Susan are wanderers in the fourth dimension and have been exiled from their home planet (Gallifrey). He then becomes concerned about Ian and Barbara; they have seen the TARDIS and may tell others about it. As Ian tries to find the control to open the door, a scuffle ensues and the TARDIS is accidentally sent into time.

It resurfaces in the year zero (according to the Year-o-Meter), and the very first story ("An Unearthly Child") dealt with the group's witnessing the birth of humanity. (Susan's grandfather has no name; but when Barbara called him Dr. Foreman, Ian said, "That's not his name—but Dr. Who" and thus the name was born.)

The basic premise deals with the adventures of a Time Lord and a companion who travel through time and space to battle evil—and have a good time while doing it.

A Time Lord is a being from Gallifrey, a planet in the constellation Casterborus. The planet appears to be covered with vast wastelands as the citizens live in domed cities (Capitol City is the most important) that are governed by the Cardinals; the High Council is concerned with the aspect of time. Each Time Lord has the ability to regenerate himself 12 times. Our Doctor has built-in resistance to any form of violence—except for self-defense.

The Time Lords of Gallifrey have a goal of possessing all knowledge and achieving eternal life. Their source of power is the Eye of Harmony, a large black stone through which awesome forces make time travel a reality. The Time Lords originally designed the TARDIS as a research and study lab. It was mentioned that our Doctor stole a TARDIS to pursue his desire for knowledge; due to a defect in the instruments, he cannot be sure of where his landings may take place. His unit is also malfunctioning and has become stuck in the guise of a 1960s police call box (the TARDIS can take on any appearance and is supposed to disguise itself wherever it goes. Its original shape resembles a metal cabinet with a sliding door). The Doctor's enemies were many (anything that threatened to destroy life), but he was most famous for his battles against the Master, the Daleks and the Cybermen.

The Master (Roger Delgado, Peter Pratt, Anthony Ainley) was a renegade Time Lord who was dedicated to corrupting good and destroying all that is beautiful (he fled Gallifrey to pursue power and conquest).

"Ex-ter-min-ate, ex-ter-min-ate" are the words (spoken in metallic tone) used by the deadly cone-like robots, the Daleks, before they disposed of an enemy (via a ray). Any life form was their enemy. The Cybermen were deadly robots who lived in the city of Cybermen on the planet Telos. They too were seeking control but could easily be destroyed by gold dust. The Doctor's Companions are as follows.

Susan Foreman (Carole Ann Ford) was the Doctor's teenage niece; how she came to be with him was never explained. She left her grandfather to help rebuild a world devastated by the evil Dalek robots.

Barbara Wright (Jacqueline Hill) and Ian Chesterton (William Russell) were Susan's teachers. Barbara, who taught history, and Ian (science) became the unwitting companions until they were returned to their own time in 1965.

Vicki (Maureen O'Brien), a pretty but naive and clumsy girl, was a castaway on the planet Dido and became a companion when the Doctor rescued her. Shortly after, she changed her name to Cressida and left the Doctor to be with Prince Troilus, the Trojan youth with whom she fell in love.

Steven Taylor (Peter Purves) was an astronaut the Doctor rescued from a killer robot on the planet Mechanus. He left the Doctor to become the leader of a primitive tribe called the Savagen.

Katarina (Adrienne Hill) was a slave girl to the prophetess Cassandra in ancient Troy. She saved Steven's life during the Battle of Troy and joined the Doctor in the hope she would be transported to the Palace of Perfection.

Sara Kingdom (Jean Marsh) appeared in only one story, the 12-part "Dalek Master Plan." Sara was a forty-first century secret agent who sided with the Doctor to defeat the Dalek robots.

Dodo Chaplet (Jackie Lane) was a mischievous teenage girl who became a companion when she stepped into the TARDIS thinking it was a real police call box. Her cockney slang drove the Doctor batty.

Polly (Anneke Willis) was the assistant to Professor Brent, creator of the supercomputer Woton. She met the Doctor and Dodo when they came to assist Brent. When Woton became all-powerful and threatened to destroy humans, Polly and Ben Jackson (Michael Craze), a merchant seaman Polly met at the Inferno Bar, helped the Doctor defeat Woton. Dodo, whose mind was taken over by Woton, remained in 1966 England to recoup. Polly and Ben, seeing the Doctor enter the TARDIS, followed him in and became his companions. Polly was a bit scatterbrained; Ben possessed technical knowledge that helped the Doctor defeat his enemies.

Jamie McCrimmon (Frazer Hines) was a Scotsman who joined the Doctor in 1745 when the Time Lord arrived in Culloden Moor following the slaughter of the Jacobite Sympathizers.

Victoria Waterfield (Deborah Watling) was the daughter of a scientist whom the Doctor took under his wing when the scientist gave his life to save the Time Lord. She was a screamer (everything frightened her) and left the Doctor to settle down.

Wendy Padbury (Zoe Herriett) was a computer scientist on a drifting space station called the Wheel. When she helped the Doctor defeat the Cybermen robots, she became a companion.

Liz Shaw (Caroline John) was a research scientist (specializing in meteorites) at Cambridge University and possessed degrees in medicine and physics. She was recruited by UNIT (United Nations Intelligence Task Force) to assist the Doctor during his exile on Earth.

Jo Grant (Katy Manning) was a UNIT member and skilled in espionage techniques; she was a bit accident prone when it came to everything else.

Sarah Jane Smith (Elisabeth Sladen) was a freelance journalist (for Metropolitan magazine) who met the Doctor while covering a story about a missing scientist. Sarah was totally liberated and was inclined to take action rather than scream for help. She was returned to her own time when the Doctor was summoned to Gallifrey.

Harry Sullivan (Ian Marter) was a former Royal Navy lieutenant and member of UNIT who was assigned to assist Doctor number 4. Harry disbelieved the Doctor's tales about the TARDIS — until he was invited to join him and Sarah Jane.

Leela (Louise Jameson) was the most savage of the companions. She was a beautiful warrior in the fierce Sevateen tribe. When the Doctor ended the war her people had been fighting all their lives, Leela forced herself on the Doctor; she craved action and knew she could get it with the Time Lord. She left to marry and live on Gallifrey.

Romana (Mary Tramm). Lady Romanavoratre-lunder, Romana for short, was a female Time Lord assigned to help the Doctor find the Key to Time, a powerful device the White Guardian of Light and Time requires to prevent the evil Black Guardian from taking over the universe. She was intelligent and considered herself far superior to the Doctor.

Romana (Lalla Ward.) When Romana realized that her academic learning was no substitute for the Doctor's practical knowledge, she regenerated herself into a more effervescent girl who took on the features of Princess Astra of the planet Atrois (where they found the sixth part of the key). She was still highly intelligent but not as bossy.

Adric (Matthew Waterhouse) was a young boy from a group known as the Outlers on the planet Alzarius who stowed away on the TARDIS to join the Doctor in adventure.

Tegan Jovanka (Janet Fielding) was an airline stewardess who accidentally walked into the TARDIS when it was grounded in England (Doctor number 5 was trying to repair the chameleon unit at the time). She was aggressive and had a score to settle: the evil Master killed her aunt.

Nyssa (Sarah Sutton) was the daughter of the peace-loving Consul Tremas. When the Master needed to regenerate himself, he killed Nyssa's stepmother and took over Tremas's body and will. Nyssa joined the Doctor hoping that their travels would bring her in contact with the Master so she could return her father to his normal self.

Perpugilliam ("Peri") Brown (Nicola Bryant) was a companion to the cricket-loving Doctor number 6. She was totally liberated, and her name, which has its origins in Persian mythology, means "a good and beautiful fairy."

Melanie Bush (Bonnie Langford) was born in Sussex, England, and assisted Doctor Number 7. She was a computer programmer and partially understood the TARDIS. "Mel" was also independent, enthusiastic and prone to jumping to conclusions (which often led her into dangerous situations).

Ace (Sophie Aldred), whose real name is Dorothy, was a 16-year-old Earth girl who was an expert with explosives, especially nitro ("I don't feel quite dressed without a couple of cans of nitro"). Ace was caught in a time storm and transported to a planet called Ice World. It was here, while working as a waitress in a fast food store, that she met the Doctor and Mel.

Together they joined forces to find the treasure beneath the planet. Mel leaves the Doctor, whom she called “The Professor,” for adventure elsewhere with a man named Glitz (Tony Selby). Mel suggests that the Professor take Ace on as a companion because she has no one on Earth (born in Parivalle).

Other Characters: Brigadier Alastair Lethbridge-Stewart (Nicholas Courtney) was the head of UNIT (where the Doctor is its scientific adviser; UNIT investigates the odd and unexplained). Sergeant John Beaton (John Levine) and Captain Mike Yates (Richard Franklin) were also members of UNIT. An additional companion to Doctors 4 and 5 was the mechanical dog K-9 (voice of John Leeson; later David Brierly). K-9 was introduced in the episode “Invisible Enemy.” It was created by Professor Marcius as a companion (real pets were not permitted in the lab). K-9 possessed advanced weaponry, speaking ability and sensors. Doctor number 4 and Leela inherited it when the professor returned to Earth (due to weight restrictions on the spacecraft, he was not able to take K-9 with him). The series began in England in 1962 and was first seen on American television in 1973.

Cast: William Hartnell (Doctor Number 1), Patrick Troughton (Doctor Number 2), Jon Pertwee (Doctor Number 3), Tom Baker (Doctor Number 4), Peter Davison (Doctor Number 5), Colin Baker (Doctor Number 6), Sylvester McCoy (Doctor Number 7).

2146 Doctor Who. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 2006). A continuation of the Doctor Who series that began on the BBC in England in 1962 (first seen in the U.S. in 1973). A man from the planet Gallifrey and known only as the Doctor, uses his time machine, the TARDIS (Time and Relative Dimension in Space) to save not only the Earth, but also other planets that are threatened by destruction from evil beings.

The Doctor has a great thirst for knowledge and uses his time machine, which has slight defect (it is stuck in the guise of a 1960s British telephone booth; the TARDIS is supposed to disguise itself wherever it goes) to learn all he can by visiting various periods in history.

The new version of the series, produced in 2005, begins in England when an unsuspecting world is about to face destruction. An evil alien living plastic organism has come to the planet and established itself in the heart of the city. Rose Tyler, a very pretty department store salesgirl, is in the basement of the building when plastic mannequins suddenly come to life. As they approach her, the Doctor seems to come from out of nowhere to rescue her. It appears that the Doctor had tried to save the plastic creature’s planet from invaders but was unable. The creature sought revenge and tracked the Doctor to Earth.

It set up a base of operations — not only to lure the Doctor to it (to kill him) but also take over the Earth and make it its home.

The Doctor earns Rose’s trust and together they manage to destroy the alien creature (whose plan was to turn all plastic into evil creatures). Although the Doctor is an alien, he wants for human relationships and invites Rose to become his partner. Rose has a hapless boyfriend, an over-bearing mother and a not-too-bright outlook for the future. She chooses to travel with the Doctor and live a life of harrowing adventures protecting the universe from evil.

The third season premiere (July 6, 2007), “The Runaway Bride,” finds Rose leaving the Doctor to return to her life as it was before she met him. “Smith and Jones,” the following episode, finds the Doctor (who has checked into a London hospital under the name John Smith) seeking a creature called a Plasmasvore (feeds on blood) that has taken human form. A doctor, Martha Jones, becomes suspicious of John Smith and immediately becomes involved in his quest. The Doctor’s plan to find the creature fails and he becomes its victim. Martha saves the Doctor’s life and allows him to compete his mission. The Doctor reveals his true nature to Martha and in return offers her a trip on the TARDIS. Martha is intrigued and eventually becomes the Doctor’s new traveling companion.

Cast: Christopher Eccleston (The Doctor), Billie Piper (Rose Tyler), Freema Agyeman (Martha Jones).

2147 Doctor Who — The Five Doctors. (Series Extension; Science Fiction; PBS; 11/23/83). A special 20th anniversary celebration of the Doctor Who series that reunites the five actors who played the Doctor over the course of twenty years (1963–1983). When the Death Zone becomes reactivated and threatens Gallifrey, the home planet of the Time Lords, the five Doctors and their original companions are transported by a time scoop to Gallifrey to battle an evil Time Lord who seeks the secret of immortality and the power to rule Gallifrey. For background information see Doctor Who (1973 version).

Cast: William Hartnell (Doctor #1), Patrick Troughton (Doctor #2), Jon Pertwee (Doctor #3), Tom Baker (Doctor #4), Peter Davison (Doctor #5), Elisabeth Sladen (Sarah Jane Smith), Janet Fielding (Tegan Jovanka), Mark Strickson (Turlough), Carol Ann Ford (Susan), Lalla Ward (Romana), Nicholas Courtney (Brigadier Alastair Lethbridge-Stewart), Anthony Ainley (The Master), Philip Latham (Lord President Borisa), Dinah Sheridan (Chancellor Flavia), Paul Jericho (The Castellan), David Banks (Cyber Leader), Mark Hardy (Cyber Lieutenant), Richard Matthews (Rossion), Frazer Hines (Jamie), Wendy Padbury (Zoe), David Svile (Crichton), John Leeson (Voice of K-9), Roy Kelton (Dalek Voice), John Scott Martin (Dalek Operator), Stuart Blake

2148 The Doctors. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1969–1973). The series, set at the Benjamin Craig Institute, a medical research center in Los Angeles, follows the career of Dr. Benjamin Craig, its founder, a renowned neurosurgeon, and the work of his protégés, Dr. Ted Stuart. Dr. Paul Hunter and Dr. Martin Cohen. The series, which aired as a segment of The Bold Ones, ran from September 14, 1969 to June 22, 1973.

2149 The Doctors and the Nurses. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1964–1965). The revised series title for The Nurses. See this title (CBS, 1962–1964) for information.

2150 Doctors Hospital. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1975–1976). Life in the neurological wing of Lowell Memorial Hospital as seen through the eyes of Jake Goodwin, the chief neurosurgeon. Other regulars, the doctors and nurses who work with Jake, are listed in the cast.

Cast: George Peppard (Dr. Jake Goodwin), Zohra Lambert (Dr. Norah Purcell), Victor Campos (Dr. Felipe Ortega), Elisabeth Brooks (Nurse Connie Kimbrough), Albert Paulsen (Dr. Janos Varga), Adrian Ricard (Nurse Heather Stanton), James Almanzar (Dr. Anson Brooks), John Larroquette (Dr. Paul Herman), Susan Franklin (Nurse Richards), Barbara Darrow (Nurse Forester), Elaine Church (Nurse Wilson).

2152 Doctors Wilde. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 7/17/87). Martin and Melanie are a husband and wife team of veterinarians who treat wild animals in their home (or wherever needed). The unsold series was to relate their experiences as they attempt to help wildlife. They are assisted by their daughter, Jamie; their receptionist, Norma; and Than Loc, a Cambodian refugee. In the pilot episode, the Wildes become involved with a circus owner (Rick) who has been reported as mistreating his elephant, Katie.

Cast: Joseph Bottoms (Dr. Martin Wilde), Jennifer Hetrick (Dr. Melanie Wilde), Bridgette Andersen (Jamie Wilde), Kit McDonough (Norma Pollard), Than Loc (Dr. Haing S. Ngor). Guest Cast: G.W. Bailey (Rick Macklin), Dann Florek (Herb Winthrop), Rhonda Aldrich (Penny), Glynn Turman (Roger Donnelly), Alex Powers (Mr. Norris), David Sabin (Judge), Branscombe Richmond (Lance Kendall).

2153 Dodo — The Kid from Outer Space. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1965). Dodo, an inhabitant from the atomic planet, Hena Hydro, and his pet computer generated bird, Compy, are dispatched to Earth to assist Professor Fingers, a scientist with his valuable research. Stories relate Dodo's attempts to help the professor solve scientific mysteries. Characters are non-speaking. Joy Batchelor and John Halas are the producers; music is by Johnny Gregory and Jack King.

Jack is a hothead as Art calls him and has been on the force for 14 years. Prior to his current assignment, Jack was partners with Earl Seagram, a cop who was killed during a stakeout at the Welcome House Cafe in Venice, California. Jack drives a somewhat run down sedan with a number of problems — from stuck doors to a bad starter to a smoking muffler. Jack's apartment at 36 Rosewood Avenue is a reflection of his disorganized life.

He was born in Los Angeles and has a difficult time working with J.Z., a country-born girl. He believes a Dog and Cat team will not work but sticks with it "because it's my job. Who knows, maybe after a while we can work together."

J.Z. is a beautiful blonde from Georgia. She now lives at 2317 Englewood Road, loves country and western music and TV dinners ("I hate cooking"). J.Z. (no other first name given) drives a Volkswagen with a Porsche 912 engine that she installed herself. The car is now capable of high speeds. J.Z. claims she does things by her feminine intuition and held a job as a cashier at the Greenwich Theater, a porno movie house, while "working my way through worked as an undercover cop amid the hookers, sleazy producers and pornographic filmmakers of Venice. J.Z., an excellent shot, attributes her various skills to “my uncle back in Georgia,” who apparently taught her everything she knows, including how to be street smart.

Jack and J.Z. have little in common and constantly argue about everything; for example, J.Z. likes animals, Jack doesn’t — “I go to the zoo once a year, that’s as close to Nature as I want to get.” Jack also calls J.Z. “Farm Girl” — “You’re from the sticks. I’m from the pavement.” Barry DeVorzon composed the theme “Dog and Cat.

Cast: Kim Basinger (J.Z. Kane), Lou Antonio (Jack Ransey), Matt Clark (Art Kipling).

2155 Dog Bites Man. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2006). A part comedy, part reality series that combines the elements of both to present a behind-the-scenes look at the lunacy that occurs in a TV newsroom (depicted here by KHBX, Channel 12 in Spokane, Washington). Particular focus is on Tillie Sullivan, the morning show producer, and her star (and former lover) Kevin Beekin, as they go from the studio to the streets to interview real people for their show. Marty Shonson is their field soundman; Alan Finger is their field cameraman.

2156 Dog City. (Series; Children; Fox; 1992–1994). Dog City is a metropolis populated by canines. It is a world created by an artist named Elliott Shag (a Muppet) whose alter ego, his cartoon strip character, Ace Hart — Private Eye Dog, is seen in animation. Stories relate Ace’s case investigations and Elliott’s struggles to complete the stories Ace is pursuing amid the numerous distractions that ultimately place Ace in over exaggerated (if not impossible) cases — cases that he must solve with the help of Bugsy, the Dogfather. The program is a spin-off from The Jim Henson Hour where Dog City ran as a short segment.

Voice Cast: Ron Hart (Ace Hart), John Stocker (Bugsy), Elizabeth Hanna (Rosie), James Rankin (Frisky), Stuart Stone (Eddie), Paulina Gillis (Kitty), Fran Brill (Colleen), Kevin Clash (Eliot Shag), Stephen Ouimette (Baron Royweiler), David Rudman (Bowser).

2157 Dog Eat Dog. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2002). Six players, chosen from open auditions, are placed in an enclosed environment to determine their weaknesses and strengths. The players choose, among themselves, who is good at what. Following this evaluation, challenges are presented to the players. The players choose which one of them is the best contender for the challenge at hand. If the chosen player fails to complete the challenge, he is banished to the dog pound. Players are eliminated in this manner until only two remain. These players compete in a one-on-one competition to determine the top dog. This player is then presented with five subjects (for example, sports, politics) and has to select one of the players from the dog pound that he feels will not be able to answer the questions correctly. If the top dog manages to choose three players who give the wrong answers, he wins $250,000; if, however, the dog pound member answers all three questions correctly, he and the other dog pound members receive $5000 each.

Host: Brooke Burns.

Cast: Duane “Dog” Chapman, Beth Smith, Leland Chapman, Tim Chapman, Duane Lee Chapman, Jr., Garry Chapman, Bonnie Jo Chapman, Cecily Chapman, Wesley Yoon, Lyssa Chapman, Travis Chapman, Abby Mae Chapman, Davina Chapman, Dakota Chapman, Cobie Chapman.

2159 The Dog Troop. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 3/9/64). Incidents in the lives of the Dog Troop, a group of misfit Old West soldiers as seen through the eyes of their commander, Duncan McIvor. In the pilot episode, broadcast as “The Duncan McIvor Story” on Wagon Train, Duncan investigates the theft of military property from a fort.

Cast: Ron Hayes (Lieutenant Duncan McIvor), Chris Robinson (Lieutenant Carter), John Larkin (Colonel Lipton), Gene Evans (Sergeant Jake Orly), Joanna Moore (Lucinda Carter), James Griffith (Garrett).

2160 Doggy Fizzle Televizzle. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 2003). A series of comedy skits and short sketches with Snoop Dogg as the host and star. The program also features practical jokes, on the street commentary and interviews with well-known personalities.

Host: Snoop Dogg. Regulars: Vanessa Villalovos, Cris Borgnine, Christian Redd.

2161 A Dog’s Life. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/15/79). The owners of a dog named McGurk are not seen. What is presented is man as seen through the eyes of his best friend — namely McGurk and his fellow canines: Iris, Camille, Spike, Turk and McGurk’s “brother” (the other dog owned by McGurk’s masters), Tucker. The project was originally titled "McGurk" and features actors dressed in dog costumes.

Cast: Barney Martin (McGurk), Beej Johnson (Iris), Sherry Lynn (Camille), Charles Martin Smith (Tucker), Hamilton Camp (Spike), Michael Huddleston (Turk).

2162 Dollar a Second. (Series; Game; DuMont; NBC; ABC; 1953–1957). A humiliating stunt is announced at the beginning of the program. A contestant, chosen from the studio audience, competes in a series of rapid-fire general knowledge question-and-answer rounds. The player receives one dollar a second for each second of correct responses. He continues upon his own discretion and stops when he feels safe. However, if the announcer should interrupt the proceedings and the player has not stopped, he loses his money. The player then receives a chance to earn money by performing the stunt announced at the beginning of the program. A ticking clock is set to establish a specific money amount. The contestant then performs the stunt. For each second that the clock ticks before the player completes the stunt, one dollar is deducted from the established amount. His final cash prize depends on the outcome of the stunt. The series ran on DuMont from September 20, 1953 to June 14, 1954; on NBC from July 4, 1954 to August 22, 1954; on ABC from October 1, 1954 to June 24, 1955; on NBC from July 5, 1955 to August 23, 1955; on ABC from September 2, 1955 to August 31, 1956; on NBC from June 22, 1957 to September 28, 1957.

Host: Jan Murray. Assistant: Patricia White, Bernard Martin, Stuart Mann. Announcer: Ken Roberts, Terry O'Sullivan.

Announcer Johnny Jacobs opens the show: "From Hollywood, the glamour capital of the world, join us in a make believe search for the most beautiful girl on earth. Yes, it's The $1.98 Beauty Show, an entertainment spectacular if there ever was one, where beauty is not only in the eyes of the beholder but also on this very stage. Tonight, The $1.98 Beauty Show will continue its relentless spoof of all those other so-called beauty contests. And, although this is not a real contest, we will bring you our version of the all-American beauty. That one-of-a-kind girl who not only has personality and poise, but beauty and talent as well. Yes, sir, The $1.98 Beauty Show will be bringing you tons of talented and beautiful women every single week. Happy women, terrified women, women singing and dancing and parading about in the latest bathing suits. And now, here's the host and star of the show, Mr. Beautiful himself, Rip Taylor."

Host: Rip Taylor. Assistant Larry Spencer. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

Host: Dolly Parton. Orchestra: Jerry Whitehurst.

2165 Dolly. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1987–1988). An enjoyable, well produced hour of music, songs and light comedy that failed in ABC's attempt to bring back the variety show to prime time television. Even Dolly's unique combination of Hollywood glamour and homespun wisdom coupled with an entertainment showcase that features her friends inside and outside of show business just didn't attract viewers. Sandy Gallin and Don Mischer are the producers.

Hostess: Dolly Parton. Orchestra: Velton Ray Bunch.

2166 Dolphin Cove. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1989). Michael Larson is a research scientist based in Los Angeles. When an opportunity arises for him to study dolphins in Australia, he moves his family to Queensland and begins the project on behalf of Baron Trent, the owner of Trent Enterprises, who has a research lab on the shore of the ocean he calls Dolphin Cove.

Michael is a widower and the father of two teenage children: Katie and David.

Katie, who suffered a traumatic shock in a car accident that killed her mother, is unable to speak and attends the all-girl Southberry School; she receives special instruction at home from one of its teachers, Allison Mitchell. Katie's birthday is given as April 24, 1976, and her disability gives her a special affinity with the dolphins Michael is studying — a situation that he cannot explain.

David attends the all-boy Saint Crispin's School. Michael's research dolphins are named Slim and Delbert. Michael is assisted by James ("Didge") Desmonde, a local aborigine.

Relatives: Teresa Wright (Michael's mother-in-law, Nina Rothman), Stephen Elliott (Michael's father-in-law, Jeff Rothman), Anthony Richards (Allison's son, Kevin Mitchell), Richard Moir (Allison's ex-husband, Scott Mitchell), Bill Sandy (Didge's grandfather, Vince). Theme: "Dolphin Cove," by Bill Conti.

Cast: Frank Converse (Michael Larson), Karron

Graves (Katie Larson), Trey Ames (David Larson), Nick Tate (Baron Trent), Virginia Hey (Allison Mitchell), Ernie Dingo (James "Didge" Desmonde).

2167 The Dom DeLuise Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1968). Music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Dom DeLuise as the host. The series ran from May 1, 1968 to September 18, 1968. Rod Parker is the producer.

Host: Dom DeLuise. Regulars: Carol Arthur, Peggy March, Dick Lynn, Paul Dooley, Marian Mercer, Bill McCutcheon, The Gentry Brothers, The June Taylor Dancers. Announcer: Johnny Olsen. Orchestra: Sammy Spear.

2168 The Dom DeLuise Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987–1988). Dom's Barber Shop is a Hollywood barbershop for men run by Dom DeLuca, a widower who is also the father of a teenage daughter named Rosa. The shop is frequented by famous stars (who appear as guests) as well as an assortment of odd neighborhood characters. Stories follow Dom as he and his junior partner, George, attempt to run the shop and deal with the problems that arise from their customers.

Other Regulars: Maureen, the manicurist; Penny, the aerobics instructor; Blanche, Dom's romantic interest; Charlie, the private eye; and Michael, a customer.

Cast: Dom DeLuise (Dom DeLuca), Lauren Woodland (Rosa DeLuca), George Wallace (George), Angela Aames (Penny), Maureen Murphy (Maureen), Lois Foraker (Blanche), Charlie Callas (Charlie Tyde), Michael Chambers (Michael), Peter Pitofsky (Delivery Man), Billy Scudder (Theater owner).

2169 Domestic Life. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1984). "The Domestic Life Report" is a commentary delivered each day by Martin Crane for The Active 8 News program on KMRT-TV, Channel 8, in Seattle, Washington. Martin's commentary reflects the world of bliss he would like to live, not the actual problems he faces at work and at home.

Martin lives at 106 Liberty Lane with his wife, Candy Crane, and his children, Didi and Harold. Didi is a very pretty, fashion conscious 14-year-old girl who attends Lincoln High School. She is smart, but not as bright as her ten-year-old brother, Harold, an apparent genius who reads the Wall Street Journal and dabbles in the stock market. (He has already made a killing and opened up an IRA account; all of Martin's money, on the other hand, is "tied up in bills." When Martin is in need of money, he borrows it from Harold.)

Harold attends the Conklin Street Grammar School and is a member of the Sox Little League team. The after school hangout is the Burger Corral, and Didi and Harold see movies at the Rialto Theater. Harold's possessive girlfriend is Sally Dwyer, a fellow ten-year-old who is "wildly attracted" to him. She calls him "Dough Boy"; he calls her "Sookie." On his way home from school, Harold stops by E.F. Hutton to read the ticker; Sally makes gourmet meals in her Patty Play Pal Oven.

Cliff Hamilton is the "Active 8" news anchor; Jane Funakubo is the co-anchor. Enid is Cliff's wife; Amy is his daughter. Martin Mull performs the theme, "God Bless the Domestic Life."

Cast: Martin Mull (Martin Crane), Judith-Marie Bergan (Candy Crane), Megan Follows (Didi Crane), Christian Brackett-Zika (Harold Crane), Robert Ridgley (Cliff Hamilton), Mie Hunt (Jane Funakubo), Allyn Ann McLerie (Enid Hamilton), Sandra Alexander (Amy Hamilton), Jeffrey A. Thomas (KMRT Floor Manager), Hoyt Axton (Rip Steele), Tina Yothers (Sally Dwyer). Theme Vocal: "Domestic Life" by Martin Mull.

2170 Dominic's Dream. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/28/74). Dominic Bente, his wife, Anita, and their daughter, Marie, have a dream to leave New York City for an easier life in suburban Los Angeles. One day Dominic decides to make that dream come true and uproots his family. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures of a hard-working New York family who become a hard-working California family. Other Regulars: Crystal Hendrickson, their neighbor; Jess, Crystal's husband; and Mark, Crystal's son.

Cast: Joseph Mascolo (Dominic Bente), Rita Moreno (Anita Bente), Toni Kalem (Marie Bente), Marjorie Battles (Crystal Hendrickson), Burt Heyman (Jess Hendrickson), Dennis Kort (Mark Hendrickson). Guest Cast: Tom Pedi (Uncle Willie), Dee Gardner (Ginger), Peggy Doyle (Sister), Georgia Schmidt (Old Lady).

2171 The Don Adams Screen Test. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1975). Two contestants compete. Each player is teamed with a celebrity guest and must act out a scene from a movie. The player whose screen test is judged to be the best by a guest producer or director receives a part in a film or TV series.

An announcer opens the show: "How would you like to be one of Hollywood's stars of tomorrow? From Hollywood, the entertainment capital of the world, someone will have a chance to be discovered with The Don Adams Screen Test. Now here's your host of The Don Adams Screen Test, Don Adams."

Host: Don Adams. Announcer: Dick Tufeld.

2172 The Don Ameche Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951). The alternate title for Don's Musical Playhouse. See this title for information.

2173 The Don Ameche Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1958). The program consists of rebroadcasts of dramas that were aired on other filmed anthology programs. The series is hosted by actor Don Ameche.

2174 Don Coyote and Sancho Panda. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1990). An animated variation on the classic 17th century novel Don Quixote by Cervantes. Here a coyote (Don Coyote) and his sidekick, a panda (Sancho Panda) are crusaders for good who travel throughout the country righting wrongs. Don Coyote rides a horse named Rosinante while Sancho has a donkey named Dapple.

Voice Cast: Frank Welker (Don Coyote), Don Messick (Sancho Panda), Frank Welker (Dapple), Brad Gilbert (Rosinante), Ed Gilbert, Jennifer Darling, Tim Curry.

Host: Don Ho. Regulars: Sam Kapu, Jr., Pat Swalli, Angel Pablo, Tokyo Joe. Orchestra: Johnny Todd.

2176 Don Kirshner's Rock Concert. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1973). A weekly program that features performances by established rock personalities as well as new, up-and-coming singers and musicians.

Host: Don Kirshner. New Talent Segment Host: Budd Friedman.

2177 The Don Knotts Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1970–1971). Comedian Don Knotts hosts a weekly series of music, songs and comedy sketches. Nick Vanoff and William O. Harbach are the producers.

Host: Don Knotts. Regulars: Elaine Joyce, John Dehner, Gary Burghoff, Eddy Carroll, Kenneth Mars, Mickey Deems, Frank Welker, Bob Williams. Announcer: Dick Tufeld. Orchestra: Nick Perito.

2178 The Don Lane Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1980). An Australian produced series of music, songs and celebrity interviews. Peter Faiman is the producer.

Host: Don Lane. Announcer: Burt Newton. Orchestra: Graeme Lyall.

2179 Don McNeill's Dinner Club. (Test Film; Variety; ABC; 9/25/46). A program of music, song and chatter based on the radio series of the same title. While unsuccessful in this first attempt, Don McNeill's radio series did make it to television four years later as Don McNeill's TV Club. The program is produced by Helen Carson.

Host: Don McNeill. Regulars: Sam Cowling, George Sotos. Guests: The Marshall Field Department Store Models. Announcer: Bob Murphy.

2180 Don McNeill's TV Club. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950–1951; 1954–1955). A television version of the radio series Breakfast Club. A daily program of music, songs and conversation from Chicago. See also Don McNeill's Dinner Club. The series ran from September 13, 1950 to December 19, 1951; and from February 22, 1954 to February 25, 1955. Clarence Thornman and Ivor McLaren are the producers.

Host: Don McNeill. Regulars: Fran Allison, Johnny Desmond, Sam Cowling, Eileen Parker, Patsy Lee, Cliff Peterson, Jack Owen, Lois Weaver. Announcer: Bob Murphy, Rex Marshall, Ken Nordine. Orchestra: Eddie Ballantine.

Host: Don Messer. Regulars: Don Tremaine, Mary Osburne, Charles Chamberlain.

Host: Don Rickles. Announcer: Pat McCormick. Orchestra: Vic Mizzy.

2184 The Don Rickles Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1972). Don Robinson is an easily aggravated man. He lives in Great Neck, Long Island, New York with his wife, Barbara and daughter Janie. He works in Manhattan as an account executive with the advertising firm of Kingston, Cohen and Vanderpool. Stories follow the incidents that creep in and disrupt Don's life as he struggles to survive the red tape and mechanizations of a computerized society. Tyler and Jean Benedict are Don's neighbors; Audrey is Don's secretary; Conrad Musk is Don's associate; Arthur Kingston is Don's boss (as is Mr. Vanderpool).

Cast: Don Rickles (Don Robinson), Louise Sorel (Barbara Robinson), Erin Moran (Janie Robinson), Robert Hogan (Tyler Benedict), Joyce Van Patten (Jean Benedict), Barry Gordon (Conrad Musk), Edward Andrews (Arthur Kingston), M. Emmet Walsh

(Arthur Kingston; later), Parley Baer (Mr. Vanderpool).

2185 The Donald O'Connor Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1955). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches with singer, dancer, actor Donald O'Connor as the host Ernest D. Glucksman is the producer.

Host: Donald O'Connor. Regulars: Sid Miller, Regina Gleason, Jan Arvan, Joyce Smight, Laurette Luez, Nestor Paiva, Olan Soule, Chief Santini, Phil Garris, Joyce Holden, Marcia Moe, Eileen Janssen, Walter Catlett, The Unger Twins. Orchestra: Al Goodman.

2186 The Donald O'Connor Show. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1968). A daily program of celebrity interviews with actor Donald O'Connor as the host.

Host: Donald O'Connor. Announcer: Joyce Jameson.

2187 Donato and Daughter. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 9/21/93). Mike Donato is a seasoned police sergeant; Dina Donato, a by-the-books lieutenant, is Mike's daughter and her superior at the Central Division of the L.A.P.D. They are like "two prize fighters afraid to throw a punch" and the unsold series was to follow their efforts to work together and solve complex crimes. In the pilot episode, Mike and Dina team to find a serial killer who is murdering Catholic nuns.

Host: Donna Fargo. Regular: Tom Biener. Announcer: Harrison Henderson. Orchestra: Bob Rosario. Choreography: Marilyn Magness.

2189 The Donna Reed Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1958–1966). The setting is the small town of Hilldale. Incidents in the daily lives of the Stone family: parents Alex and Donna and their children Mary and Jeff.

Donna and Alex, a pediatrician, have been married for 15 years when the series begins. Alex was an intern when his friend Dr. Matthews (not seen) introduced him to a nurse named Donna Mullinger. They fell in love and later married. Donna, who was born in Denison, Iowa (as was Donna Reed; her real last name is Mullinger), is the dedicated wife, loving mother and all-around problem solver. Alex works out of an office in his home (next to the kitchen) and is also chief pediatrician at Hilldale Hospital. Alex was stationed at Fort Dix, New Jersey, during World War II.

Mary is three years older than Jeff. She first attended Hilldale High School (also given as Central High School), then an unnamed college. Mary frequents the Blue Lantern, a burger and soft drink place. After dances, she and her friends hang out at Kelzey's Malt Shop; her favorite place for dancing is the Round Robin. In one episode, Mary sings the song "Johnny Angel," which became a hit for Shelley Fabares.

Jeff has perfect pitch but no other discernible musical talent. As a kid, he put on puppet shows for his friends with a marionette named Bongo and attended Hilldale High School. Bebe Barnes is his girlfriend and Smitty is his best friend. Jimmy Hawkins played a series of Jeff's friends: George Haskell, Jerry Hager, Jerry Scott and Scotty Simpson

Trisha, a young girl whose parents died two years before her appearance on the show, was being raised by her uncle, Fred Hawley, who had hired a woman to care for her. One day, while the Stones were playing touch football in a nearby park, Trisha, longing for a family, attaches herself to them. When Donna and Alex meet Fred and Fred learns that Trisha is not happy with him, he allows the Stones to adopt her.

The Stones' neighbors are Dave and Midge Kelsey. When Bob Crane first appeared, he was called Dave Blevins (his last name was changed when he and Midge bought the house next door to the Corbetts). Before buying this house, they lived with Midge's parents; they were said to have been married for nine years. During the last season, when Bob Crane left to do Hogan's Heroes, Midge still appeared but Dave is only mentioned. Midge is an only child, and her mother's name is Helen.

Relatives: Gladys Hurlbut (Alex's aunt, Belle), Rhys Williams (Donna's uncle, Frederick Jonathan Sutton), Charles Carlson (Trisha's uncle, Fred Hawley), Marlo Thomas (Dave's goddaughter, Louise Bissell), John Stephenson (Bebe's father, Ben Barnes), Hollis Irving (Bebe's mother, Harriet Barnes), Ray Montgomery (Smitty's father).

Cast: Donna Reed (Donna Stone), Carl Betz (Alex Stone), Shelley Fabares (Mary Stone), Paul Petersen (Jeff Stone), Patty Petersen (Trisha Stone), Bob Crane (Dave Kelsey), Ann McCrea (Midge Kelsey), Candy Moore (Bebe Barnes), Daryl Richard (Smitty Smith), Janet Languard (Karen), Kathleen Freeman (Celia Wilgus), Candy Moore (Bibi Barnes), Sandy Descher (Susanna), Tommy Ivo (Herbie Bailey), Jerry Hawkins (Scott Simpson), Rhys Williams (Donna's Uncle Fred), Gladys Hurlbut (Donna's Aunt Belle).

Theme Music: "Happy Days" by William Loose, John Seely.

2190 Donny and Marie. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1976–1979). A weekly hour of music, songs and comedy sketches with brother and sister singers Donny and Marie Osmond. Donny represents the rock sound ("I'm a little bit rock 'n roll") and Marie the country western sound ("I'm a little bit of country"). The series also features Donny and Marie's brothers in skits and the Ice Vanities, lovely ice skaters who open each episode. Fifty-seven episodes aired over a three year period and the edited episodes are syndicated as The Best of Donny and Marie. Raymond Katz and the Osmond Brothers are the producers.

2191 The Donny and Marie Osmond Show. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 11/16/75). The pilot episode for Donny and Marie (ABC, 1976–79). Brother and sister singers, Donny and Marie Osmond host a program of music, songs and comedy skits that relies heavily on the performances of their guests. The format was revised somewhat for the actual series with Donny and Marie taking a more active role and becoming the stars of the show. Raymond Katz, Sid Krofft and Marty Krofft are the producers.

Stage Manager: Don Ameche. Regulars: Betty Brewer, Dorothy Greener, The June Graham Dancers, The Don Craig Chorus, The Charles Faler Dancers, The Myer Rappoport Chorus. Orchestra: Bernard Green.

2193 Don't Call Me Charlie. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1962–1963). A United States Army Veterinary post in Paris, France, is the setting. The outfit is under the command of Colonel Charles Baker, a man who fraternizes with the troops, but hates to be called "Charlie." Judson McKay is one of the privates under Baker's command. Judson is a simple, backwoods Iowa veterinarian who is set in his ways and apparently determined not to let the sophistication of Europe change his way of thinking or living. Judson has, in essence, become an outcast. Stories follow his misadventures as he tries to remain the simple person he is, despite the efforts of his fellow recruits to change his square but innocent ways.

Other Regulars: Sergeant Baker Woznik, General Steele, Corporal Lefkowitz, Selma Yossarian, a secretary; Patricia Perry, the General's secretary; Madame Fatime, the landlady.

Cast: Josh Peine (Pvt. Judson McKay), John Hubbard (Col. Charles Baker), Cully Richard (Sgt. Baker Woznik), Linda Lawson (Patricia Perry), Alan Napier (General Steele), Arte Johnson (Corporal Lefkowitz), Louise Glenn (Selma Yossarian), Penny Santon (Madame Fatime).

Cast: Cass Elliot (Herself), Hamilton Camp (Edmund), Mary McCarty (Aunt Mary), Bess Cohen (Bess). Guests: Joel Grey, Dick Patterson, Michelle Phillips, Ronnie Schell, Dick Van Dyke. Orchestra: Marvin Laird.

2195 Don't Call Us. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/13/76). Marty and Larry King are brothers who own Talent Unlimited, a small theatrical agency in Philadelphia. The focal point of the unsold series is the relationship between the two brothers: Larry, who is inefficient and intrigued by oddball acts; and Marty, who is all business and efficient to a fault. Other Regulars: Rene, their receptionist; and clients Jackie, Sylvia and Lloyd.

2196 Don't Forget the Lyrics. (Series; Game; Fox; 2007–). Ordinary people, whether they can sing or not, are given the opportunity to win $1 million just by knowing the lyrics to songs. It is much more difficult than it sounds as the player must be very familiar with the lyrics to many songs in a number of different categories.

A contestant appears on stage. Nine song categories are displayed on a board (for example, rock and roll, pop, country and western, classic rock, Olivia Newton-John Hits, Tom Jones Hits). The player chooses a topic and two songs associated with it appear on a large screen. The player chooses one of the songs to sing. As the band plays the selected song the lyrics are seen on a large screen. The player sings along (like in karaoke) but when a line of blanks appears, he must supply the missing lyrics (from four to ten words). If the player supplies the correct lyrics he wins money (from $1,000 on the first song to $1 million on the tenth song). The player can quit at any time and leave with what money he has won if he feels unsure about the lyrics he supplied to the song in play. The safety net, however, is the $25,000 song. If the player can reach this level he is guaranteed that amount of money if he should lose on an additional song. Nothing is awarded if he should lose before reaching that level.

Host: Wayne Brady. Orchestra: Ricky Minor.

Cast: Hoyt Axton (Walter Pearce), Gennie James (Betsy Dobbs), Ann Wedgeworth (Ruth Pearce), Chris Cote (Fletcher Dobbs), Melanie Jones (Laura Dobbs), Ryan Beadle (Bubba, Betsy's friend). Guest Cast: William Lanteau (Arliss Mott), Arnold Johnson (Moscow), James Harnell (Cecil), Zeke Mills (Mr. Phitzer), Dee Dee Norton (Reheda), Ed Geldart (Salvage man), Beverly Man (Miz Jamhill), Louise Watkins (Shawnie).

2198 Doodles Weaver. (Live Test Program; Comedy; CBS; 12/21/45). A solo performance by night club comedian Doodles Weaver. Weaver was a last minute substitute for the canceled Bedelia program (see entry) and perhaps due to such scheduling, he did not have enough time to prepare a show that could have sold.

Host: Doodles Weaver.

2199 The Doodles Weaver Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). A weekly series of music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Doodles Weaver as the host. The series ran from June 9, 1951 to September 1, 1951. Mort Werner is the producer.

Host: Doodles Weaver. Regulars: Lois Weaver, Rex Marshall, Dick Dana, Marion Colby, Peanuts Mann. Announcer: Rex Marshall. Music: Milton DeLugg.

2200 Doogie Howser, M.D. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1989–1993). Douglas (“Doogie”) Howser is a 16-year-old whiz kid who completed high school in nine weeks, graduated from Princeton at age 14 and is now a second year resident physician at the Eastman Medical Center (in second season episodes, Doogie is a third year resident and is made the supervisor of interns). He was born on September 21, 1973, and he lives at home (Brentwood, California) with his father, Dr. David Howser, and his mother, Katherine. (David is 15 years older than Katherine; they married when she was 20. In college, Katherine was a member of the rock group Mother Earth and the Penguins). Wanda Plenn is Doogie's girlfriend and stories relate the problems faced by a “kid” doctor who is trying to become the best doctor he can despite the resentment he sometimes faces from the older, wiser medics who feel uncomfortable in his presence.

Doogie's best friend is Vincent (“Vinnie”) Del Pino, a Catholic who has “committed all the major sins in thought, word and deed and is looking forward to committing the big one.” He has delicate sinuses, and his good luck charm is an enchanted rabbit's foot he got from a Madame Sonia. Vinnie, who has a dog named Mitzi, “the psychotic cocker spaniel,” is hoping to become a filmmaker (he plans to major in film at California's Institute of the Arts). Vinnie's girlfriend is Janine Stewart; she plans to attend L.A. State College (Wanda, an artist, plans to attend the Art Institute of Chicago).

Other Regulars: Nurse Curly Spaulding, Dr. Jake McGuire and the hospital administrator, Dr. Benjamin Canfield.

Relatives: Tim O'Connor (Katherine's father, Don O'Brien), Gloria Henry (Katherine's mother, Irene O'Brien), Don Calfa (Vinnie's father, Carmine Del Pino), Sherry Rooney (Wanda's mother, Mrs. Plenn), Lesley Boone (Wanda's cousin, Yvette), Noel Conlon (Janine's father). Theme: “Doogie Howser, M.D.” by Mike Post

Cast: Neil Patrick Harris (Dr. Douglas “Doogie” Howser), James B. Sikking (Dr. David Howser), Belinda J. Montgomery (Katherine Howser), Max Casella (Vinnie Del Pino), Lawrence Pressman (Dr. Benjamin Canfield), Kathryn Layng (Nurse Curly Spaulding), Markus Redmond (Raymond Alexander), Lucy Boryer (Janine Stewart), Lisa Dean Ryan (Wanda Plenn), Mitchell Anderson (Dr. Jack McGuire).

2201 The Dooley Brothers. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/31/79). A satire of the Old West as seen through the antics of George and Bill Dooley, bumbling brothers who, though unable to ride, shoot or rope, seek to dispense justice to all deserving individuals. In the pilot episode, the Dooleys try to help Cool Sam Bennett, an aging sheriff who is the target of revenge of the notorious Simond Gang. Other Regulars: Jack Black, the journalist who writes of the Dooleys' exploits.

Cast: Garrett M. Brown (George Dooley), Robert Peirce (Bill Dooley), John Myhers (Jack Black). Guest Cast: Dub Taylor (Cool Sam Bennett), Shelley Long (Lucy Bennett), Peter Schrum (Bear Breath), Rusty Lee (Zeke), Grizzly Green (Zack), Charles Julian (Gilbert), Alan Wood (Doctor).

2202 The Door with No Name. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1951). Dramatizations based on the secret activities of The Door with No Name, an unidentified portal in Washington, D.C., through which presumably pass the most intrepid of spies and spy fighters. See also the spin-off series, Doorway to Danger.

Cast: Melville Ruick (Chief John Randolph), Grant Richards (Agent Doug Carter). Narrator: Westbrook Van Voorhis.

2203 Doorway to Danger. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1952–1953). A spin-off from The Door with No Name that depicts the U.S. government's battle against international intrigue as seen through the secret missions of undercover agents. The series ran from July 4, 1952 to August 22, 1952 and from July 3, 1953 to August 28, 1953.

Cast: Roland Winters (Chief John Randolph; 1952), Raymond Bramley (Chief John Randolph; 1953), Stacy Harris (Agent Doug Carter). Narrator: Westbrook Van Voorhis. Announcer: Ernest Chapell.

2204 Doorway to Fame. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1949). The original format features undiscovered talent performing with an established guest star. In a later format change, it became a low budget anthology series wherein actors performed in front of a black backdrop with appropriate scenes being superimposed by the use of a second camera trained on sets or paintings. The series ran from March 7, 1949 to July 11, 1949.

Host: Johnny Olsen.

2205 Dora the Explorer. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2000–). Dora is a young Hispanic girl who, with her monkey (Boots) and talking backpack share educational adventures as they explore a world set in an animated computer. Explorations are designed to help children make decisions as they learn about new and interesting things.

Voice Cast: Kathleen Herles (Dora), Harrison Chad (Boots), Sasha Toro (Backpack), Ashley Fleming (Isa), Jake Burbage (Benny), Muhammed Cunningham (Tico), Esai Morales (Papi), Jason Thornton (Ricardo), Eileen Galindo (Mami).

2206 The Doris Day Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1968–1973). Doris Martin is a widow who relinquishes her career as a singer in San Francisco to return to the Mill Valley ranch of her father, Buck Webb, to raise her two sons, Billy and Toby. Aggie (later Juanita) is Buck's housekeeper; Leroy B. Simpson is his ranch hand.

The following year (1969) Doris secures a job as the executive secretary to Michael Nicholson, the editor of Today's World, "The Now Magazine."

In 1970 Doris leaves 32 Mill Valley Road (the address of her father's ranch) and moves to San Francisco where she, her children and a large sheepdog named Lord Nelson take up residence at 965 North Parkway (Apartment 207 over Palucci's Italian Restaurant). Her rent is $140 a month, and her landlords are restaurant owners Angie and her husband, Louie Palucci; her neighbor is Willard Jarvis, a set-in-his-ways bachelor who feels that his life is plagued by the Martin gang. Cyril Bennett becomes Doris's new boss. Myrna Gibbons, Jackie Parker and Ron Harvey become her friends at the magazine; Dr. Peter Lawrence is her romantic interest; Colonel Fairburn is the magazine's owner. In 1971 Doris becomes a reporter for Today's World. Doris Day sings the theme, "Que Sera, Sera."

Cast: Doris Day (Doris Martin), Denver Pyle (Buck Webb), Philip Brown (Billy Martin), Todd Starke (Toby Martin), James Hampton (Leroy B. Simpson), Fran Ryan (Aggie Thompson), Naomi Stevens (Juanita; replaced Aggie), McLean Stevenson (Michael Nicholson), John Dehner (Cyril Bennett), Rose Marie (Myrna Gibbons), Jackie Joseph (Jackie Parker), Paul Smith (Ron Harvey), Billy DeWolfe (Willard Jarvis), Kaye Ballard (Angie Pallucci), Bernie Kopell (Louie Pallucci), Edward Andrews (Colonel Fairburn), Carol Worthington (Ethel), Larry Storch (Duke Farentino), Peter Lawford (Dr. Peter Lawrence), Patrick O'Neal (Jonathan Rusk), Ken Lynch (Detective Broder), Bruce Kirby (Vito Carlotti).

2207 Doris Day's Best Friends. (Series; Variety; CBN; 1985). The program features actress-singer Doris Day chatting with show business celebrities (her friends) and discussing her work with and dedication to helping animals (also her best friends). David Freyss and Terry Melcher are the producers.

Hostess: Doris Day. Regular: Steve Reed. Music Director: Terry Melcher, Bill House. Theme Vocal: "Best Friends" by Doris Day.

2208 Dorothy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979). Dorothy Banks is a former Broadway star turned music and drama teacher at the Hannah Huntley School for Girls in Connecticut. The four episode series follows Dorothy's efforts to instill the love of the musical theater in her students.

Other Regulars: Burton Foley, the headmaster; Lorna, the French teacher; Jack, the biology teacher; Hannah Huntley Foley, Burton's mother (the school's founder); and the students: Meredith, Cissy, Frankie and Margo. The series aired from August 8, 1979 to August 29, 1979.

Cast: Dorothy Loudon (Dorothy Banks), Russell Nype (Burton Foley), Priscilla Morrill (Lorna Cathcart), Kenneth Gilman (T. Jack Landis), Irene Tedrow (Hannah Huntley Foley), Susan Brecht (Meredith), Elissa Leeds (Cissy), Linda Manz (Frankie), Michele Greene (Margo).

2209 Dotto. (Series; Game; CBS; 1958). A large board that contains fifty dots is displayed. When connected, the dots represent a famous person. Two players compete. A general knowledge type of question is read. The first player who identifies himself through a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. If he gives a correct response a connection is made between two of the dots and he receives a chance to identify the drawing. If he is unable, the game continues. Correct identifications earn players large sums of cash. Contestants compete until defeated by another player. The series ran on daytime television from January 6, 1958 to August 29, 1958; and in primetime from July 1, 1958 to August 26, 1958.

Host: Jack Narz. Announcer: Wayne Howell.

2210 The Dotty Mack Show. (Series; Variety; DuMont; ABC; 1953–1956). Singer Dotty Mack hosts a weekly program wherein a cast pantomimes the hit songs of famous singers. The series ran on DuMont from February 16, 1953 to August 25, 1953; and on ABC from September 3, 1953 to September 3, 1956.

Host: Dotty Mack. Regulars: Bob Braun, Colin Male.

2211 Double Agent. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 3/29/87). While on assignment, secret agent Jason Star is blown up, thrown into the water and presumed dead. Shortly after, special agent Vaughn of the National Security Bureau, approaches Jason's twin brother, Dr. Warren Starbinder (owner of the Starbinder Pet Clinic) and informs him of the situation. When Vaughn asks Warren to pose as Jason to complete an assignment, he agrees but later finds himself becoming Jason whenever the need arises. The unsold series was to relate Warren's not-so-heroic exploits as a secret agent. The pilot episode relates Warren's first assignment: to retrieve an important overlay.

Other Regulars: Sharon, Warren's wife; Meredith and Russell, their children; and Agent Abercrombie, Vaughn's aide.

Cast: Michael McKean (Warren Starbinder), Susan Walden (Sharon Starbinder), Judith Jones (Meredith Starbinder), Christopher Burton (Russell Starbinder), Lloyd Bochner (Agent Vaughn), John Putch (Agent Abercrombie). Guest Cast: Alexa Hamilton (Geraldine Krueger), Big John Studd (Igor), Patrick O'Brien (Eddy), Allan Coleman (Blado), Jean Paul Bignon (Maitre d'), Louis Janvary (Dowager).

2212 Double Dare. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1985). When Billy Diamond, a suave thief is caught red handed robbing a safe, he is given a chance by his adversary, Lieutenant Samantha Warner, to spend twenty years in jail or work undercover for the San Francisco Police Department. The series, which is spiced with light humor, relates Billy's adventures as he teams with Ken Sisko, his street-wise ex-con partner, to solve baffling crimes for the police department (most of which involve the use of his unique thievery skills).

Cast: Billy Dee Williams (Billy Diamond), Ken Wahl (Ken Sisko), Jennifer Warren (Samantha Warner; pilot), Janet Carol (Samantha Warner; series).

2213 Double Dare. (Series; Game; Nickelodeon; 1986–1989). Two teams of children, boys vs. girls, compete. One team is asked a question. If they correctly answer it they score ten points. If they are unable they dare the opposing team to answer it. If this team answers it, they score 20 points. If, however, they feel they cannot answer it, they double dare their opponents to answer it. This team can either attempt to answer the question or take a physical challenge (perform a stunt) to earn the points. The team that scores the most points (most correctly answered questions or most completed stunts) wins the game and competes in a final, multi-faceted stunt round that can earn them a number of prizes based on the number of plateaus they successfully complete.

Host: Marc Summers.

2214 Double Exposure. (Series; Game; CBS; 1961). Two players compete in a game wherein they must identify a famous celebrity or event that is hidden under a jigsaw puzzle. Contestants, in turn, choose a puzzle piece that, when removed, reveals a picture part and a varying amount of cash or a merchandise prize (which is placed on his side of the board). If neither player is able to identify it, the game continues. The first player to correctly identify the photograph is the winner and receives the prizes that are on his side of the board. The series ran from March 13, 1961 to September 29, 1961.

Host: Steve Dunne.

2215 The Double Life of Henry Phylfe. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1966). Henry Wadsworth Phylfe, a mild-mannered accountant and the exact double of foreign spy U-31, is recruited by Central Intelligence (in Washington, D.C.) to replace U-31, who was killed in a hit and run car accident before he was able to reveal vital secrets. Stories relate Henry's reluctant and fumbling investigations as he struggles to lead a double life and carry out U-31's vital missions.

Gerald B. Hannahan is the Sub Chief of Central Intelligence; Judy is Henry's girlfriend; Florence Kimball is Henry's landlady; Mr. Hamble is Henry's employer.

Cast: Red Buttons (Henry Phylfe), Fred Clark (Gerald B. Hannahan), Zeme North (Judy), Marge Redmond (Florence Kimball), Parley Baer (Mr. Hamble), Rob Kilgallen (Agent Sandy), Ed Faulkner (Agent Larry). Theme Vocal: "Henry Phylfe" by Red Buttons and Fred Clark.

2216 Double or Nothing. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952–1953). Five contestants, working as a team, start with a specific amount of money. Each player is questioned on various category topics. Each correct response scores the team additional money; an incorrect response deducts the "at stakes" amount from their total. With each correct response, players can either stop or risk what they have already won. The final cash earnings are divided equally among the players.

Host: Bert Parks. Assistant: Joan Meinch. Announcer: Bob Williams.

2217 Double Rush. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1995). Johnny Verona is a young man with a dream to become a rock star. One day, while passing a music store, Johnny sees a guitar owned by his idol, Jimi Hendrix. Eager to have the guitar, but unable to afford it, Johnny goes to work as a bicycle messenger for Ed Foley Couriers. He earned the money to buy the guitar but his dream to become a rock star never came true. He joined a band in 1968 and found moderate success playing clubs. In 1971 a record company offered him a contract—but only him, not the rest of the band. He rejected the contract and with the knowledge he earned as a courier, opened his own company, Double Rush. Stories follow Johnny's ups and downs as he struggles to run a company that promises a rush delivery (within 45 minutes) or a double rush (with 20 minutes).

Other Regulars: Zoe Fuller, a girl with a degree from Harvard Business School who couldn't find a job and now works as Johnny's bookkeeper; Hunter, Johnny's fastest courier; Barkley, the dispatcher; the Kid, Johnny's elderly messenger; and bike messengers Leo and Marlon. Ed Foley is Johnny's competitor; his daughter, Kate also works for him.

Cast: Robert Pastorelli (Johnny Verona), Corinne Bohrer (Zoe Fuller), David Arquette (Hunter), Adam Goldberg (Leo), Phil Leeds (The Kid), D.L. Hughley (Marlon), Sam Lloyd (Barkley), Richard Fortnow (Ed Foley), Sarah Nelson (Kate Foley).

2218 Double Talk. (Series; Game; ABC; 1986). Two teams, each composed of two members (one celebrity and one contestant) compete. A board with four boxes is revealed. One player on one team selects a box and a double talk word is revealed (for example "Crack the Cubes" means "Break the Ice"). The player who chose the box must solve the top half; his partner, the bottom half. Each correct answer score points. An incorrect answer allows the opposing team a chance to solve it. The team with the highest score is the winner and the non-celebrity player receives a chance to win $10,000 by filing in 10 blank spaces with clues provided by his celebrity partner.

Host: Henry Polic II.

Allison and Kate, recent graduates of Des Moines High School, work as aerobic instructors in Art's Gym, which is owned by Art and his partner Beth McConnell. Stories relate Allison and Kate's adventures at work and at home.

The above format ran from April 4, 1984 to May 30, 1984. When the series returned on December 1, 1984, Allison and Kate were in New York City to pursue their career goals: Allison as a fashion designer; Kate as an actress. They live in Manhattan (at 49 West 74th Street) with their aunt, Margo Foster, the famous author of "Bongo the Bear" children's stories. Allison attends the Manhattan Fashion Institute; Kate, who most often works as a dancer for the Wacko Wiener Works Company (promoting their product), attends audition after audition, hoping for that big break. Stories, which ran until April 20, 1985, follow the girls as they pursue their dreams.

2220 Double Up. (Series; Game; NBC; 1992). A dating show for teenagers. A brother and sister appear on stage to find a date for each other. Six other players also appear — three boys and three girls. The sister appears first. She has three questions that she can ask of the girls (to find the best date for her brother). The brother then asks the boys three questions (to find the best date for his sister). Two such rounds are played. The audience casts its vote as to which boy should be teamed with the sister and which girl should be teamed with the brother. The brother picks the girl he feels is right for his sister; the sister picks the boy she feels is right for her brother. If they both match the audience vote they win a double up date.

Host: J.D. Roth. Music Supervisor: Darius Farrell.

2221 Doug. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1991–1994). Incidents in the life of Douglas “Doug” Funnie, an 11-year-old boy who has just moved to a new town (Bluffington; he previously lived in Bloatsburg). Doug attends the Bluffington School (sixth grade) and is best friends with Skeeter Valentine and Patti Mayonnaise. Stories unfold as Doug writes about his daily activities in his diary. See also Brand Spanking New Doug.

Voice Cast: Billy West (Douglas “Doug” Funnie), Fred Newman (Mosquito “Skeeter” Valentine), Constance Shulman (Patricia “Patti” Mayonnaise), Alice Playten (Beebe Bluff), Fran Brill (Elaine Perigrew), Doug Preis (Phil Funnie), Steve Higgins (Larry the Nerd).

2222 Dough Re Mi. (Series; Game; NBC; 1958–1960). Three players compete and each receives $200 betting money. The object calls for the players to identify song titles after hearing only the first three notes. If the players are unable to do so, they bid for the next note. The highest bidder receives it and a chance to identify the song title. If he correctly guesses it, he receives the “at stakes” money. If he is incorrect, bidding begins on the next note. Winners are the highest cash scorers.

Host: Gene Rayburn.

2223 Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Presents the Rheingold Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1953–1957). Dramatizations of people caught in unusual circumstances. The series is sponsored by Rheingold Beer and hosted by actor Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Host: Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Performers Include: Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Christopher Lee, Lou Jacobi, Barbara Mullen, Marjorie Fielding, Greta Gynt, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Clifford Evans, Elizabeth Sellers, Joan Tetzl, Lee Patterson, Diana Dors, Ron Rondell, Michael Gough, Marius Goring, Buster Keaton, Yvonne Mitchell, Patricia Medina, Rossano Brazzi, Paula Wright, June Rodney, Betty McDowell, Jean Cadell, Luciana Paluzzi, Clifford Evans, Cyril Cusack, J. Carrol Naish, Hellane Be-land, Robert Beatty, Christopher Rhodes, Bernard Lee, Nora Swimburne, Dennis O’Dea, Maurice Kaufman.

2224 Down and Out in Beverly Hills. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987). Feeling down on his luck, Jerry Baskin, a former businessman turned homeless bum, decides to commit suicide by drowning himself in the Beverly Hills swimming pool of millionaire hanger manufacturer Dave Whiteman. By chance, Dave spots Jerry and saves his life. When Dave learns of Jerry’s predicament, he offers to let him reside with his family (his wife, Barbara and their children Jenny and Max). Jerry quickly makes himself at home and seeing how the rich and spoiled Whiteman’s live, attempts to teach them the true meaning of life.

Other Regulars: Carmen, the Whiteman’s maid; Duchess, Jerry’s friend; Vickie, Barbara’s mother; Julie, Dave’s sister; and Morry Rodman, the Whiteman’s neighbor. The series is based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Tim Thomerson (Jerry Baskin), Hector Elizondo (Dave Whiteman), Anita Morris (Barbara Whiteman), Eileen Seely (Jenny Whiteman), Evan Richards (Max Whiteman), April Ortiz (Carmen), Susan Kellermann (Duchess), Gina Hecht (Julie), Jo deWinter (Vickie), Bruce Kirby (Morry Rodman).

2225 Down Delaware Road. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 7/20/88). Robbie Heller, Mark Dirkson and Curtis Rhonda are 14-year-old best friends who live in a middle-class neighborhood on Delaware Road. Mark is the creative one (he enjoys writing stories on his computer). His father, Paul Dirkson, is a Lutheran minister; his mother, Liz, is a homemaker who has a drinking problem; his sister, Marianne is a school cheerleader.

Curtis is a bit rough around the edges, but not like his older brother, Burt, who is on the verge of becoming a delinquent. They live with their mother, Janet.

Robbie is the athletic one and has a crush on Marianne, Mark’s sister. He lives with his sister, Julie, and parents Ed and Ann, who are contemplating a divorce (Ann is pursuing a career in real estate).

The unsold series was to focus on the experiences of the three friends. The pilot episode finds Mark experiencing his first crush (on Judi) while Robbie and Curtis fear they have killed an old man (Granie) in a fire they accidentally started.

Cast: David Lascher (Robbie Heller), Adam Carl (Mark Dirkson), Mark Bellou (Curtis Rhonda), Leon Russom (Rev. Paul Dirkson), Donna Mitchell (Liz Dirkson), Valerie Wildman (Ann Heller), Norman Parker (Ed Heller), Nicki Vannice (Julie Heller), Michael Palance (Burt Rhonda), Cami Cooper (Marianne Dirkson). Guest Cast: Nicole Huntington (Judi Caine), John McLiam (“Granie” Granville), Devon Odessa (Ellen Payter), Joan Wells (Arlene), Cheryl McWilliams (Older Judi).

Cast: Pat Buttram (Hardy Madison), Sarah Haden (Emma Madison), Jack Orrinson (Warren Bullard), El Brendel (Late).

2227 Down Home. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 8/16/78). Nate and Priscilla Simmons and their children Darlene, Nate, Jr. and High Pockets, are a black Detroit family who, after a two-week vacation in the South, decide to relocate to find a more meaningful life. The unsold series was to relate their experiences. In the pilot episode, a family reunion results in the unexpected when a clan of white Simmons claim to be their relatives.

Other Regulars: Aunt Velvet, the woman who helps the Simmons; and the townspeople: Joe, Helen and Julie Mayfield; Abner and Sarah Claypool; Trunk; Dr. Johnson; and the sheriff.

Cast: Robert Hooks (Nate Simmons), Madge Sinclair (Priscilla Simmons), Tia Rance (Darlene Simmons), Kevin Hooks (Nate Simmons, Jr.), Eric Hooks (High Pockets Simmons), Beah Richards (Aunt Velvet), Lincoln Kilpatrick (Joe Mayfield), Beverly Hope Atkinson (Helen Mayfield), Deena Crowder (Julie Mayfield), Edward Binns (Abner Claypool), Anne Seymour (Sarah Claypool), Sonny Jim Gaines (Trunk), George McDaniel (Dr. Johnson), Andrew Duggan (Sheriff). Guest Cast: Norma Connolly (Mrs. Winston), William Watson (Burt Pritchard), Paul Koslo (Benjamin Pritchard), Timothy Scott (Bobby Pritchard), Woodrow Parfrey (Mr. Winston), Boyd Bodwell (Frank Simmons), John Gilgreen (Jeeter Simmons), Mickey Jones (Billy Joe Pritchard).

Note: A prior TV movie called Just An Old Sweet Song (CBS, 9/14/76), established the premise. Here, Cicely Tyson played Priscilla; Beah Richards was Grandma; and Phillip Wende was the sheriff.

2228 Down Home. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990–1991). Fifteen years after leaving her small coastal fishing town (Hadley Cove), Kate McCrorey, a successful New York designing firm executive, returns for a vacation. When she discovers that the town is going to be torn down and made into a mini-mall, she decides to stay and fight Wade Prescott, her old boyfriend, who now represents the company (Python Development) that is planning to build the mall.

Stories also focus on Kate as she helps her father, Walt, and brother, Drew, run McCrorey’s Landing, a combination café, mooring dock, bait, fish, tackle and gas store. Walt has run the business for 40 years (McCrorey’s Landing is Sector G-12 on Wade’s development plan and will become the amusement area — “The Roaring McCrorey Water Slide”).

Hadley Cove has a phone book called “The Yellow Page.” In one episode, it was mentioned that the town was founded by 100-year-old Jeremiah Hadley (Roy Dotrice), “the meanest man in town” (he loves to torment the citizens). In another episode, the town is much older — the big tourist attraction is a recreation of a Civil War battle called the Battle of Hadley Cove (it was said that Phineas T. Hadley founded the town). In honor of the town’s reliance on its catch of shrimp to sustain itself, a big celebration called “Shrimp Day” is held each year at the start of the shrimp season.

At McCrorey’s Landing, clam chowder sells for a dollar a bowl and the special of the day is fresh catfish.

In New York, Kate was famous for engineering the takeover of a Fortune 500 Company; in Hadley Cove, she won an award for playing Golda in her high school production of Fiddler on the Roof. On the back porch of the café, where Walt enjoys fishing, is a life preserver with the name Diamond River, Panama. Every year, when the carnival comes to town, Drew gets into shape to tackle “Battling Bob, the Wrestling Bear.” Drew’s shrimp boat is named The Sea Tramp.

Tran Van Din, a Vietnam refugee, is Walt’s cook; Grover, the town’s mayor, has a pig named Buddy; and Trini Van Din is Tran’s beautiful sister, who is attending an unnamed convent school in Connecticut. For many years Tran thought Trini worked as a prostitute (when she first came to America she told Tran that she worked in a warehouse; with her accent, Tran thought she said “whorehouse”).

In the opening theme, the following fishing boats are seen: Miss Pauline, Miss Gladys and C. Lorraine. Theme: “Down Home,” by Stewart Levin.

Cast: Judith Ivey (Kate McCrorey), Dakin Matthews (Walt McCrorey), Eric Allan Kramer (Drew McCrorey), Ray Baker (Wade Prescott), Gedde Watanabe (Tran Van Din), Tim Scott (Grover), Kimiko Gelman (Trini Van Dan).

2229 Down the Shore. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992–1993). The Victorian-style summer house at 738 Surf Avenue in Belmar, New Jersey (off Exit 11 on the Garden State Parkway), is shared by six young people searching for fun and sun on the Jersey shore. The house costs $8,000 for the summer. Three guys are seeking to rent it but find they can’t afford it.

Three girls are also seeking to rent it, but they too can't afford it. They decide to split the rent and share the house.

Miranda Halpern, Arden and Donna Chipkow are the girls; Zack Singer, Eddie Cheever and Aldo Carbone are the guys.

The girls all work at the Dow and Hummel ad agency in New York City. Arden is their superior; she attended Cornell University and got her M.B.A. at Columbia University. Miranda works in the merchandising department as a receptionist and longs to become an artist; Donna also works in the merchandising department. She attended Teaneck High School (class of '85) and previously held a job as a salesclerk at K-Mart. Although Donna is extremely attractive, she feels she is just a dumb blonde and is apprehensive about meeting men she thinks are smart; she has no self-confidence: "I know I'll never be smart; I just have to accept it."

The guys have been friends since childhood. Zack is an inner-city junior high school teacher (seventh grade social studies); Eddie is a computer game designer; and Aldo, a ladies' man, works as a clothing salesman for Clingware Fabrics.

When the series returned for its second season, it was mentioned that Miranda is no longer a part of the group; she became an artist, got a gallery opening and decided to remain in New York to devote her time to painting (there were too many distractions at the beach house). The group now needs a new roommate to help with the rent. While on the beach, Arden meets a childhood friend (they have known each other since the fourth grade) named Sammy. Arden invites Sammy over to see the house; she falls in love with it and decides to move in. Sammy spent one semester at Brown University (she was expelled for having an affair with a professor). She now designs jewelry exclusively for Bloomingdale's and the Guggenheim Museum.

When the girls go to the beach, Sammy sleeps, Arden reads and Donna stares for hours at the water. The Tidal Wave is the singles' club frequented by the group.

Kim Walker appeared as Arden's younger sister, Hillary. In the original, unaired pilot film, Heidi Swedberg played Miranda, Marjorie Monaghan was Arden, and Jeff Yagher played Aldo. Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes sing the theme, "I Don't Wanna Go Home."

Cast: Pamela Segall (Miranda Halpern), Anna Gunn (Arden), Donna Chipkow (Cathryn de Prume), Lew Schneider (Zack Singer), Tom McGowan (Eddie Cheever), Louis Mandylor (Aldo Carbone), Nancy Sorel (Sammy).

2230 Down You Go. (Series; Game; DuMont; CBS; ABC; NBC; 1951–1956). Four players compete. The moderator presents a cryptic clue representing a popular slogan, quotation or phrase, which is indicated by a line of dashes, one per letter, on a large board. Players, who are informed of the mystery expression, receive one free guess. If the phrase is not identified, each panelist suggests a letter of the alphabet. If an incorrect letter is posed, that player is disqualified from that round and forfeits five dollars to the sender (home viewer) of the phrase. The game continues for the remaining players and ends when one of them identifies the unknown subject. The series ran on DuMont from May 30, 1951 to May 27, 1955; on CBS from June 18, 1955 to September 3, 1955; on ABC from September 15, 1955 to June 14, 1956; and on NBC from June 16, 1956 to September 8, 1956.

Moderator: Dr. Bergen Evans (1951–1956), Bill Cullen (1956). Panelists: Toni Gilman, Frances Coughlin, Carmelita Pope, Robert Breen, Jayne Mansfield, Jimmy Nelson, Patricia Cutts, Basil Davenport, Fran Allison, Boris Karloff, Jean Kerr, Hildy Parks, Arthur Treacher, Phil Rizzuto.

2231 Downtown. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1986). John Forney is a veteran undercover detective with the Metro Division of the L.A.P.D., Unit 6; Alpha is his car code. After 14 years on the job, Forney is promoted to Special Parole Officer and assigned to the Los Angeles Special Projects Field Office at 3391/2 East Front Street. There he is assigned to watch over four felons: Jesse Smith, Harriet Conover, Terry Corsaro and Dennis Shothofer.

Jesse is a beautiful and rebellious girl who grew up in Oakland, California, with six brothers. "They were Hell's Angels," she says, "and three joined the Marines." John believes her background affected her personality. Jesse is a karate expert, but has been arrested on numerous occasions for assault and battery.

Harriet is a genteel British socialite and expert con artist. She was initially arrested for selling beach-front property that was actually under water.

Terry is a street-wise black youth with an arrest record for car theft. Dennis believes he is a nobody. To overcome his feelings of inadequacy, he pretends to be someone else to feel important. He was arrested for impersonating a doctor and performing three operations.

John calls his charges "Losers — all eight balls who are like children. Once the nursery door is opened, they run loose and get busted for the same thing they were put away for in the first place." He now has to keep four criminals out of trouble as an arrest will mean their immediate incarceration.

Harriet's large home at 145 Mara Linda Lane provides John with a base of operations. The four live together with Harriet acting as a den mother to the other three. John finds that by incorporating his charges unique skills in his undercover work, he can put their bad habits to good use.

Delia Bonner is the head of the Special Parole Program and believes John is the right man for the job. The jails are overcrowded and releasing less dangerous criminals is one way of easing the burden. John believes that if the jails are overcrowded, just build more jails. Johnny Harris and Barry Goldberg composed the theme “That’s What I Want.”

Cast: Michael Nouri (John Forney), Mariska Hargitay (Jesse Smith), Millicent Martin (Harriet Conover), Blair Underwood (Terry Corsaro), Robert Englund (Dennis Shothoffer), Virginia Capers (Delia Bonner).

2232 Dracula: The Series. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1990–1991). When Eileen Townsend, a Philadelphia banking executive, receives an assignment in Europe, she brings her sons, Maximillian (Max) and Chris, with her. While Eileen attends to business, Max and Chris are to stay with their uncle, Gustav Von Helsing, a vampire hunter, and Sophie Martineck, a teenage girl who lives with Gustav while she is attending school.

Soon after, Sophie, Max and Chris learn that the ruthless tycoon Alexander Lucard is actually the infamous Count Dracula and is now in a position to take over the world via his corporate connections (he owns Lucard Industries). They also discover that Gustav is a descendant of the famous Helsing family of vampire hunters and is seeking to destroy Lucard before he can spread his evil. Stories relate the group’s various encounters with Lucard as they seek to end his reign of terror.

The Cross of Magarus, which hangs over the staircase in Gustav’s home, protects the premises from Lucard (who can’t enter the house). In the 1950s, Gustav was in a band called the Five Flying Dutchmen and a Dutch Girl; he is now a member of the Far Travelers Explorers Club.

Lucard is the most sophisticated vampire of his breed. He can live in the daylight (but has no vampire powers); hence, a stake through the heart is the only way to destroy him. In the episode of 1/19/91, when Sophie is bitten by a vampire with strange blood antibodies, Gustav learns that purified water from the Podgotts Springs contains an antigen that can cure her — and kill Lucard who has pure vampire blood. Lucard’s deepest secret is located behind a secret wall in the fireplace of his castle. It is another dimension, “a hole in the fabric of time” — which gives Lucard his strength.

Sophie is young, beautiful and sensuous and has type AB-negative blood — Dracula’s favorite. She hopes to become a musician and is studying the viola. Max considers himself a vampire expert and carries his “bag of weapons” with him at all times (holy water, stakes, crosses and garlic).

Eileen works for the Pennsylvania Industrial Bank. Klaus is Gustav’s son; he was bitten by Lucard and is now a vampire who is seeking to destroy Lucard and become “the greatest vampire of all.” Theme: “Dracula,” by Christopher Dedrick.

Cast: Geordie Johnson (Alexander Lucard), Bernard Behrens (Gustav Von Helsing), Mia Kirshner (Sophie Martineck), Jacob Tierney (Max Townsend), Joe Roncetti (Chris Townsend), Lynne Cormack (Eileen Townsend), Geraint Wyn Davies (Klaus Von Helsing).

2233 Dragnet. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1951–1959). As the theme music plays, an announcer tells us “The story you are about to see is real; the names have been changed to protect the innocent. Fatima cigarettes, best of all king size cigarettes, brings you Dragnet.” Following an introduction to the evening’s story, the voice of Sergeant Joe Friday is heard: “This is the city, Los Angeles, California. I work here. I carry a badge.” Sergeant Friday, Badge 714, is with the Homicide Division of the L.A.P.D., although he is also seen solving cases associated with robbery, car theft and missing persons.

Joe lives at 4646 Cooper Street, Apartment 12, and has been working on the force for 11 years. He was a rookie in 1940. Friday is a no nonsense detective with virtually no sense of humor. He is all work and totally dedicated to solving crimes. He likes to take his time at crime scenes and study the evidence; “I sometimes get a notebook full of notes and a crime lab full of evidence but nothing to tie them together. I’ve got the pieces; I’ve just got to put them together.”

The series was first broadcast on radio (1949) then concurrently on radio (1951–1957) and TV (1951–1959). Jack Webb played the same role with Barton Yarborough also doing double duty as his first partner, Officer Ben Romero. Dragnet’s actual TV pilot aired on December 16, 1951, as a segment of Chesterfield Sound Off Time. On December 19, 1951, Barton Yarborough died of a heart attack. In subsequent weeks, the three episodes filmed with Yarborough aired. In the fourth episode, titled “The Big Sorrow,” it was mentioned that Officer Romero had died of a heart attack. It is also in this episode that Joe shows compassion.

Joe was next teamed with Sergeant Ed Jacobs (Barney Phillips) then with Officer Frank Smith (Herb Ellis, Ben Alexander); these actors also played the same roles on the radio version. Joe mentioned that he was a rookie when he first met Ben. Early episodes feature Dorothy Abbott as Joe’s fiancée, Ann Baker.

Joe’s case investigations are realistically portrayed and are followed from the crime to the conviction (the sentence the felon received). The program introduced two terms into the general language: M.O. (Method of Operation) and R.I. (Records and Identification).

“My name is Friday—I’m a cop” and “Just the facts, ma’am” became Joe’s catchphrases. While Joe did not have a steady superior, different captains appear in various episodes. Headquarters was said to be at 1335 Georgia Street. Hal Gibney and George Fenneman were the announcers; Walter Schumann composed the theme “Dragnet” (also known as “The Dragnet March” and “Danger Ahead”). The series is also known as Badge 714, the title used when first syndicated. See also Dragnet (1967), Dragnet (2003) and The New Dragnet.

Cast: Jack Webb (Sgt. Joe Friday), Harry Morgan (Officer Bill Gannon), Randy Stuart (Ellen Gannon; Bill’s wife), Art Ballinger (Captain Brown), Clark Howat (Captain Nelson), Byron Morrow (Captain Nelson; later), Clark Howat (Cap. Al Trembly), Clark Howat (Captain Brooks), Ed Deemer (Sgt. Andy Blekeley), William Boyett (Sgt. Bill Pailing), William Boyett (Sgt. Dick Reed), Marc Hannibal (Officer Earl McNevin), John McCook (Officer Keefer), Charles Brewer (Officer Lathrop), Chanin Hale (Various Roles). Announcer: George Fenneman. Narrator: Jack Webb.

2235 Dragnet. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2003–2004). “This is the city, Los Angeles, California. I work here, I carry a badge” is the opening tag line for Joe Friday, a no-nonsense homicide detective with the L.A.P.D. This update of the 1951–1959 NBC series Dragnet is as dramatic and penetrating as the original series, but unfortunately, could never find an audience and was cancelled by ABC.

Stories follow the grueling day-to-day assignments of Joe Friday (a lieutenant here; not a sergeant like on the NBC series) and his partner, Detective Frank Smith (originally an officer on NBC) as they investigate murder cases. In 2004, the series became L.A. Dragnet and added Eva Longoria to the cast as Detective Gloria Duran, a new partner for Joe. Danny Huston played Joe Friday in the original, un-aired pilot version.

Cast: Ed O’Neill (Lt. Joe Friday), Ethan Embry (Det. Frank Smith), Eva Longoria (Det. Gloria Duran), Desmond Harrington (Det. Jimmy McCarron), Christina Chang (ADA Sandy Chang), Roselyn Sanchez (Det. Elana Macias), Evan Parke (Det. Raymond Cooper), Katherine Kamhi (Det. Hubbel), Lindsay Crouse (Capt. Ruth Hangermann).

2236 Dragon. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 2006). A simplistic animated (clay characters) series about Dragon, a friendly blue dragon that is not the most ambitious of animals, as he learns various aspects of life with the help of his friends Mouse and Beaver.

Narrator and Character Voices: Frank Meschkvleit.

2237 Dragon Ball. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 1995–2003). Goku is a mysterious boy who was found alone in a forbidding mountain region by a martial arts expert named Gohan. Gohan taught the boy (whom he named Goku) how to use martial arts not only as a weapon but also as a source for good.

Years later, following Gohan’s death, a teenage girl named Bulma arrives at Gohan’s home seeking advice about acquiring power from a magical source called Dragon Balls. Goku informs Bulma of Gohan’s passing and becomes intrigued by her quest. He agrees to help her. Stories relate their adventures as they search for the Dragon Balls and help people in trouble along the way (with Goku using his skills as a martial arts expert).

Voice Cast: Saffron Henderson (Goku), Stephanie Nadolny (Goku; later), Lalainia Lindbjerg (Bulma), Tiffany Vollmer (Bulma; later). Additional Voices: Doug Parker, Laura Bailey, Ian James Corlett, Don Brown, Jessie Cody, Linda Young. Narrator: Brice Armstrong, Doc Harris, Jim Conrad.

2238 Dragon Ball Z. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 1996–2002). A revised version of Dragon Ball. Dragon Ball Z are seven mystical objects that bestow incredible power upon its possessor. Goku, a Saiyan warrior, his son, Gohan, and their friends Piccolo and Bulma, are members of the Z Warriors (who use the power of Dragon Z to help them protect the Earth from alien invaders). Stories follow the Z Warriors as they battle evil while at the same time risking their lives to keep the Dragon Balls from falling into the wrong hands.

2239 Dragon Hunters. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2006). Lian Chu and Gwizdo are dragon hunters. They live in a strange, futuristic world composed of islands that magically float in midair. Travel to each of these islands is made possible by mystical bridges that connect one to the other. Each island is populated but each is also plagued by mutant creatures the villagers call dragons.

Lian Chin is fearless and an expert swordsman. Gwizdo is a coward but a brilliant manipulator. Hector is their pet blue dragon that travels with them. When the villagers of an island need help in battling an evil dragon, they call on Lian Chu and Gwizdo. Before venturing off, Gwizdo arranges for their fee, which is paid after Lian Chu slays the dragon. Stories follow Lian Chu as he and Gwizdo set off on dangerous missions to earn their living.

Voice Cast: Harry Standjofski (Lian Chu), Rick Jones (Gwizdo), Rick Jones (Hector).

2240 Dragon Tales. (Series; Cartoon; PBS; 1999–2005). Emmy and Max are a brother and sister who have recently moved into a new home. While exploring their new surroundings, Emmy finds a strange box that contains a dragon scale. She also reads the words that are inscribed on the box: “I wish, I wish, with all my heart, to fly with dragons in a land apart.” Instantly she and Max are transported to Dragon Land. Here they befriend several dragons (Ord, Zak, Cassie, Wheezie and Quetzal) and stories follow their adventures in the enchanted land.

Voices: Arthur Berghardt, Michael Mish, Fred Travalena, Bob Sarlatte, Ellen Gerstell, Marilyn Schreffler, Clive Revill, Peter Cullen, Michael Sheehan.

2242 The Drak Pack. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1980–1982). Drak, Jr., Frankie and Howler are the teenage descendants of movie monsters Dracula, Frankenstein and the Wolfman. They feel responsible for the reign of terror their fathers have inflicted on the world and have vowed to atone for these sins by battling the sinister forces of evil.

Possessed of unique powers, Drak, Frankie and Howler form a do-gooders group called “The Drak Pack.” Episodes relate their battle against the diabolical Dr. Dred and his sinister organization of evil, O.G.R.E. (the Organization of Generally Rotten Enterprises), as he seeks to control the world.

Other Regulars: Big D (Dracula), the Drak Pack’s superior; Vampira, Mummy Man, Toad and Fly, Dred’s accomplices.

Voice Cast: Jerry Dexter (Drak, Jr.), Bill Callaway (Frankie), Bill Callaway (Howler), Alan Oppenheimer (Big D), Julie McWhirter (Vampira), Chuck McCann (Mummy Man), Don Messick (Toad), Don Messick (Fly).

2243 Drake and Josh. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2004–2007). Drake Parker and Josh Nichols are 15-year-old boys who attend the same school but are not really friends. Drake is a straight-laced kid (he also writes songs and is somewhat of a teenage ladies’ man); Josh is a bit off-the-wall (a little bit nerdy and looking for the right girl). Life changes for the two when Drake’s divorced mother, Audrey, marries Josh’s divorced father, Walter (a TV weatherman), and the two become stepbrothers and have to share the same bedroom together. Also complicating matters is Megan, Drake’s mischievous, pretty, prying teenage sister who like her brother, must adjust to a new father and brother. Stories relate the comic adventures shared by Drake and Josh as they eventually become best friends but find mishap in everything they do. The series is a spin-off from The Amanda Show, where “Drake and Josh” skits were presented.

Cast: Drake Bell (Drake Parker), Josh Peck (Josh Nichols), Miranda Cosgrove (Megan Parker), Nancy Sullivan (Audrey Parker-Nichols), Jonathan Goldstein (Walter Nichols), Scott Halberstadt (Eric), Yvette Nicole Brown (Helen), Alec Medlock (Craig), Allison Scagliotti (Mindy Crenshaw).

Host: Walter Hurley. Cartoonist: Mel Casson. Regulars: Oscar Brand, Jay Irving.

2245 Draw Me Another. (Live Test Program; Human Interest; CBS; 12/21/45). The format features well-known cartoonists demonstrating their techniques. Each guest is introduced and then proceeds to draw his creation (here, Otto Soglow drew his famous “Little King” and Colin Allen demonstrated the various cartoons he draws for Colliers magazine).

Host: Guerny Williams (cartoon editor of Colliers magazine). Guests: Colin Allen, Otto Soglow.

2246 Draw to Win. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). Four regular panelists compete in a game wherein they must identify persons, places or objects from an artist's sketching. If, within a specified time limit, the sketching remains unidentified, the home viewer who submitted the idea receives $25. The series aired from April 22, 1952 to June 10, 1952.

Host: Henry Morgan. Panelists: Abner Dean, Bill Holman, Eve Hunter, Syd Hoff.

The totally (on purpose) mismatched drawn housemates are Clara, a naïve and racist fairy tale princess; Captain Hero, a super hero with a moral standards problem; Ling-Ling, an Anime (Japanese Animation) trading card character; Foxy Love, a sexy African-American girl; Toot, a 1920s sex symbol (being from an era of black and white movies, she appears in black and white); Xander, a young adventurer; Spanky Ham, a crude pig; and Wooldoor Sockbat, a psychotic creature based on numerous Saturday morning alien cartoon characters.

Voice Cast: Tara Strong (Princess Clara), Tara Strong (Toot), Jess Harnell (Captain Hero), Cree Summer (Foxy Love), Adam Carolla (Spanky Ham), Abbey McBride (Ling-Ling), James Arnold Taylor (Wooldoor Sockbat), Jack Plotnick (Xander P. Whiffleboom).

2248 Dream Girl of '67. (Series; Contest; ABC; 1966–1967). A daily beauty program in which twenty girls (five per day) compete in contests of beauty, charm and talent. Each day, Monday through Friday, one contestant is chosen as “Dream Girl of the Day.” On the Friday program, the four daily winners compete for the title of “Dream Girl of the Week.” The weekly winners return at a later date and compete for the title of “Dream Girl of '67” and a variety of prizes including a film contract, a trip around the world and $5,000 in cash. The series ran from December 19, 1966 to December 29, 1967.

2249 Dream Girl U.S.A. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1986–1987). A weekly beauty contest in which 16 young women compete for the title of “Dream Girl of 1987” and cash and merchandise prizes totaling $125,000. Each week four girls compete in contests of beauty and style, talent, figure and form, and personality. A panel of four celebrity judges rates each girl's performance from one to ten. Each weekly winner returns on the fifth week program in the first semi finals competition. Each of the winners of these competitions then returns at a later date to compete in a final contest for the grand prize.

Host: Ken Howard. First Wave Finalists: Deborah Laslo, Charlotte Ross, Le Anna Grant, Therese Kablan, Elaine Pack, Diane Martin, Felicia Ferguson, Alecia Rae, Anita Whitaker, Nanette Horner, Jayne Poteet, Lisa Steffenmeier, Laurelle Brooks, Tami Jean Brisebois, Mai Fitzgerald, Julie Michaels, Deborah Wolfe. Weekly Winners: Therese Kablan, Alecia Rae, Anita Whitaker, Mai Fitzgerald. Second Wave Finalists: Krista Keith, Elizabeth Williams, Nancy Meyers, Kim King, Christine McKuhan, Deborah Wolfe, Laura Bellet, Debbie Epperson, Lencola Sullivan, Cynthia Ratajczak, Amy DeHeer, Madonna Therini, Maya Walker, Maria Kim, Julie Nelson, Jane Reese, Melissa Bradley, Deborah Danca, Tammy Azar, Valerie Faber, Frances Frazier, Tammy Little, Elizabeth Jaeger, Ginger Kilgore, Tasha Thomas, Barbara Webster, Debra Sandlund. Weekly Winners: Elizabeth Williams, Deborah Wolfe, Lencola Sullivan, Maya Walker, Melinda Bradley, Elizabeth Jaeger, Debra Sandlund, Kathy Johnson. Dancers: Alexander Cole, Scott Grossman, Michael Thompson, Jerard Vincent. Regulars: The Kevin Carlisle Dancers, Dolores Cleary. Announcer: Danny Dark. Music Director: Kevin Kiner.

2250 Dream House. (Series; Game; ABC; 1968–1970). Three husband and wife couples compete for the opportunity to win a house, built for them anywhere in the U.S. and worth up to $40,000. A series of question and answer rounds are played. The couple with the highest score is the winner and receives one room full of furniture. The team competes until defeated by another couple or until they furnish their dream house by winning seven straight games.

Host: Mike Darrow. Announcer: Chet Gould.

2251 Dream House. (Series; Game; NBC; 1983–1984). Two married couples compete for the opportunity to win the house of their dreams (built for them anywhere in the U.S.). A true or false question is read. The couple that answers correctly receive $50 and the opportunity to choose one of four topics that appears on a board. A question is asked and $100 is awarded if the couple correctly answers it. If not, the opponents receive the opportunity to answer the question and win the money. The game continues in this manner until all four questions are asked.

The winner of Round One is the highest scoring couple. Round Two is played in the same manner with money amounts doubled. The highest scoring couple wins the game, one room of furniture, and the opportunity to win their dream house — either by winning seven straight games or by luck at the end of each win. An electronic board with three rows of four numbers is displayed. The couple must pick one number on each line (the numbers are then locked into a computer). A secret combination of three of these numbers has been previously programmed into the computer. The computer numbers are revealed; if the couple chose the exact same numbers, they automatically win their dream house; if not, they return to compete against another couple.

Host: Bob Eubanks. Hostess: Deborah Bartlett. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

2252 Dream On. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1990–1996). Martin Tupper is an editor for Whitestone Publications, a small New York publisher. He is divorced from Judith and the father of Jeremy.

Martin works with Toby, his executive assistant; and has several bosses (most notably Gibby Fiske, head of the Australian company that later buys Whitestone; his earlier, prior bosses were Valerie and Sid). Martin also works with editors Carl, Drew and Alison. Martin has a best friend, Eddie, a TV talk show host.

Judith, a psychologist, has recently remarried the unseen (but always talked about) Dr. Richard Stone, whom she contends is the perfect man (which annoys the heck out of Martin). Mickey and Doris are Martin's parents.

Stories follow Martin as he attempts to cope with life. One of the ways Martin reacts to the world about him is by flashing back to clips from old movies and TV shows (those produced by MCA-Universal). In addition to the numerous film clips, there is also considerable female nudity and occasional profanity (the editing of which ruined the overall impact of the series when it was syndicated).

2253 Dream Street. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1989). Events in the lives of a group of middle-class working men and women living in Hoboken, New Jersey. Stories focus in particular on members of the Debeau and Coltrera families. Tom Debeau is a widower and the father of three sons, Dennis, Harry and Eric. Dennis is the oldest and married to Marianne, a school teacher. He was forced to take over his father's refrigeration company when Tom suffered a stroke. Harry, divorced from Marsha, is a dreamer and has never taken on responsibility; Eric, the youngest, is dating Joann Dunning. Joey Coltrera is the only child of Carmella and Anthony Coltrera. He is dating Joni Goldstein, a divorcee with a young son (Cody) and has recently entered his father's rather seedy business in the hopes it will afford him power and wealth.

Cast: Dale Midkiff (Dennis Debeau), Peter Frechette (Harry Debeau), Tom Signorelli (Thomas Debeau), David Barry Gray (Eric Debeau), Thomas Calabro (Joey Coltrera), Kelly Bishop (Carmella Coltrera), Victor Argo (Anthony Coltrera), Cecil Hoffman (Joni Goldstein), Jo Anderson (Marianne Debeau), Wendy Makkena (Marsha Debeau), Cara Buono (Joann Dunning), Brian McElroy (Cody Goldstein).

2254 The Dream Team. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1999). Zack Hamilton, Kim Taylor, Victoria Carrera and Eva Kiroff are the operatives for DREAM (Dangerous Reconnaissance Emergency Action Missions), a secret organization that operates out of the basement of a mansion in Puerto Rico.

The team is run by J.W. Garrison, a mysterious figure who assigns them their missions. Their cover is that of the Dream Team, a company that offers gorgeous models for photographic shoots; Zack poses as Kim, Eva and Victoria's manager.

Zack is a former FBI agent who considers himself "the new sheriff in town" and the girls "my three beautiful deputies." Zack, born in Oregon but raised in Los Angeles, was an L.A.P.D. officer then an agent for the FBI.

Kim, the toughest member of the group, only models "because it's my cover." Kim had dreams of becoming a Navy SEAL but women were not permitted to join the SEALs at the time. She set her ambitions elsewhere and became a member of the FBI Hostage Rescue Team before becoming part of the Dream Team.

Victoria is an expert on explosives and weapons and can defuse any bomb.

She was born in Los Angeles and was a former Freedom Fighter before becoming a fashion photographer (her stunning looks also made her money and fame as a high fashion model). While Victoria does model with the team, she sometimes poses as a photographer to allow her to take surveillance photos rather than "just pictures of pretty girls."

Eva, born in Poland, is a world-class gymnast who later worked as a spy for the Russian KGB. It is not said how Eva made the transition from spy to model, but she was recruited by Garrison for her knowledge of foreign operations and ability to get into places without being detected. Her training for the KGB made her ruthless and deadly, but she has learned to control that temperament when on assignments with the team.

The Dream Team mansion is located on Lucinda Road in Puerto Rico for a specific purpose: It is a tourist spot and provides the perfect cover (“We hide in plain sight,” says Zack). The building is owned by the D.E.A. (Drug Enforcement Administration) and the mansion appears normal, even on the inside. Its secret lies behind the wall to the billiards room. One flight down is the team’s operations center. While nothing is said about the equipment, the room is filled with computers and monitors. One specific, large screen monitor became a central part of their work when J.W. Garrison “is booted upstairs” and replaced by Sir Desmond Heath, a distinguished Englishman who contacts them via closed circuit television (he is seen sipping tea or brandy and in the company of a beautiful girl). The Dream Team provides fashion layouts, commercials, music videos and swimsuit layouts as a cover for its extremely dangerous covert assignments (from stopping terrorists to apprehending diabolical criminals).

Cast: Jeff Kaake (Zack Hamilton), Angie Everhart (Kim Taylor), Traci Bingham (Victoria Carrera), Eva Halina (Eva Kiroff), Roger Moore (Sir Desmond Heath), Martin Sheen (J.W. Garrison).

2255 Dreams. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1984). Gino, Martha, Phil, Albert and Valerie are five friends who live in Philadelphia. They are also the members of a band called Dreams and the series follow their ups and downs as they struggle to make it as a rock band. Although short-lived (five episodes) Dreams was the first network series to be broadcast in stereo. Gino is the lead singer; Martha and Lisa are also singers with Lisa doubling as their songwriter; Phil plays guitar and Morris plays the keyboard. Frank Franconi is Gino’s uncle; Louise is Frank’s wife; and Torpedo is Gino’s boss (Gino works at a construction site as a hitch assembler).

Cast: John Stamos (Gino Minnelli), Jami Gertz (Martha Spino), Valerie Stevenson (Lisa Copley), Cain Devore (Phil Taylor), Albert Macklin (Morris Weiner), Ron Karabatsos (Frank Franconi), Sandy Freeman (Louise Franconi), Bill Henderson (Torpedo).

Other World”) who uses his supernatural powers to help people who are threatened by unnatural forces.

Harry is the son of a magician (his father) and a wizard (his mother) and learned early on about the supernatural. Harry can see the dead as well as good and evil spirits. He is assisted by a ghost named Bob, a banished medieval wizard who lives in Harry’s apartment (although Harry considers Bob haunting it). Bob offers advice on dealing with whatever entities he encounters. Lt. Connie Murphy is the police detective Harry constantly locks horns with (she is unaware of Harry’s powers); Morgan is Harry’s probation officer (from the Other World’s High Council, who need to monitor his use of his powers). The series is based on the books by Jim Butcher.

2257 The Drew Carey Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1995–2003). Drew Carey, Oswald Harvey, Lewis Kiniski and Kate O’Brien are close friends who live in Cleveland, Ohio. Their hangout is the Warsaw Tavern. Stories depict comic incidents in their lives.

Drew is the Personnel Director of the Winford-Louder Department Store. He makes $26,000 a year and lives at 720 Sedgewick Road. Drew previously worked (for ten years) as a waiter at Antonio’s, then as the Assistant Director of Personnel at Winford-Louder. Drew has cubicle 17 at the store (“The Drewbicle”) and a dog named Speedy. He believes Cher is the most beautiful woman in the world and as a kid he had a crush on Oswald’s beautiful mother, Kim (Adrienne Barbeau). The accounting department at the store always misspells his name on his paycheck (for example, “Drew Fairy,” “Screw Carey”). Drew first dated Kate but a romance was never finalized. He later dates Kellie Newmark, a waitress at the Warsaw Tavern.

Oswald works as a delivery man for Global Deliveries; he previously worked as a rodeo clown. In last season episodes he operates Oswald Harvey Enterprises, a Laundromat change machine company that makes little or no money.

Lewis was originally a maintenance man at the DrugCo Chemical Company (later promoted to janitorial manager). He has a sock puppet called Professor Von Sock that he carries to help him out of tight situations. He and Oswald share an apartment and they are sometimes mistaken for lovers (“but we’re not”).

Kate first worked at the Sizzler, then in a car body shop, as a cosmetics salesgirl at Winford-Louder (fired for complaining about working on Christmas Eve), housesitter, Soup on a Stick waitress, Massage on the Job therapist and personal assistant to Mrs. Louder at Winford-Louder. Kate calls her breasts

“the kids” and lives in a house near “a naked guy with binoculars who lives in a house across the alley.” Susan Saint James appeared as Kate’s mother.

The friends hang out at the Warsaw Tavern, where they invented a beer-coffee mix called Buzz Beer (“The working man’s beer”). In high school, Drew, Lewis and Oswald were in a band called the Horn-dogs. On Wednesday nights, Lewis teaches “Beer Robics” at the tavern (do an exercise, take a drink of Buzz Beer).

Winford-Louder is “a ruthless, vindictive company that is virtually above the law,” says its director, Nigel Wick. Wick, whose secret email password is “Mr. Wick,” replaced the unseen Jerry Bell, the prior director who was only heard over Drew’s speaker phone.

Mimi Bobeck is Nigel’s secretary and Drew’s worst nightmare. Her desk is cluttered with troll dolls; she wears outlandish makeup and clothes and calls Drew “Pig.” She is angry at Drew for getting the job she wanted and has made it her personal goal to make his life miserable. Her catchphrase is “Bite Me, Dough Boy” (referring to Drew) and she sells Sally Mae Cosmetics on the side. Mimi later marries Steve Carey, Drew’s cross dressing brother (who works as a prison guard). Mimi turned his life around and they later became the parents of Gus.

2258 Drew Carey’s Green Screen Show.

(Series; Comedy; WB; 2004). A rather interesting (if not unique) sketch show that features comedian Drew Carey and a group of regulars performing skits against the background of a green screen (which allows the insertion of animated backgrounds and costumes for the cast to become a convincing part of the sketch). Even as actors speak their lines (in mostly improvised skits) animated accessories automatically appear to add depth (and laughs) to the plot. Skits often encompass members of the studio audience.

(Series; Comedy; Fox; 1991–1992). Otis Drexell is a maverick corporation executive who told the bosses to shove it. He was branded “the crookedest man in town” (Cleveland) and owes the IRS $153,000 in back taxes. He is also divorced (from Mona), behind in alimony payments and the father of two very pretty teenage girls: 16-year-old Melissa and 14-year-old Brenda. In college, Drexell had the nickname “Skippy.”

The Grantwood Avenue Elementary School at 2402 Grantwood Avenue in Iowa was founded by Isaac Grantwood, who invented the manure spreader for farmers. Its fifth grade teacher is Otis — “A drifter who failed in business and somehow crawled out of a sewer grate into my school to preach his amoral poison to 20 impressionable children,” says principal Francine Itkin. The school is part of the Cedar Rapids School District.

Otis is a cantankerous teacher who treats his kids like adults and Francine like an ogre. He believes smoking is the answer to a long life, and that if a $10 bill is attached to a test or homework assignment, it guarantees an A grade. Otis fails to comply with the school rules, is tardy and discourteous to fellow staff members and enjoys pinching the student teachers (“but only the female ones”).

A rather untidy apartment at 603 Essex Drive is home to Otis. Melissa believes she is a very sexy and desirable girl and wears clothes that prove her point. Miniskirts, tight, low cut blouses and Madonna-like bra outerwear is the wardrobe that Otis thinks needs more clothes to cover up. Melissa’s boyfriend is Harold (“Slash”) Hudson, a sleazy musician Otis despises (Slash and Melissa are members of the band The Resentments).

Brenda shows potential for becoming another Melissa, but for the moment Otis has few problems with her (she is a homebody and while she and Melissa share the housework and cooking, Brenda does the lion’s share of the work). Melissa is a sophomore and Brenda a freshman at Cedar Bluffs High School.

Otis’s principal students are Nicole Finnegan, Willie Trancus and Kenny Sanders. Roscoe P. Davis is the only featured teacher (he was a clinical psychologist before becoming a teacher; he uses a puppet called Grandma Grammar to teach English). Elsie Engelhoff became the acting principal when Francine left; she was replaced by Marilyn Ridge, who became the principal on 11/14/91.

Mona is Otis’s ex-wife (she receives $900 a month in alimony); “Grandma” Kodiak is Otis’s mother-in-law. In the original, unaired pilot version (titled Shut Up, Kids), Suzie Plakson played principal Francine Itkin. Scott Gale and Rick Eames composed the theme.

(Marilyn Ridge), Joanna Cassidy (Mona Drexell), Lu Leonard (Grandma Kodiak).

Cast: Dee Wallace (Anne Harrelson), Dan Frazier (Red Arnold), Larry Anderson (Pete Terry), Joseph Hacker (John Raider), Edward Edwards (Will Herb), Julius J. Carry III (Lou Jamison), Lewis Arquette (Sal), Vernee Watson (Ginny Jamison), Amy Stryker (Sarabeth Herb). Guest Cast: Yula Gavalá (Countess), Basil Hoffman (Fred), Danny Goldman (Bert).

2261 Drive. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2007). A mysterious phone call from an unknown source brings a group of diverse people together for only one purpose: enter a secret, illegal, cross-country car race where the winner will be awarded 32 million tax-free dollars. Others will receive nothing. The participants, selected by persons unknown, are instructed to meet at the Wayfarer Hotel in Florida, where the race is to begin. There, the mysterious Mr. Bright, the race organizer's representative, conducts an orientation that when completed, starts the race. The race is not a matter of speed; it is a matter of strategy getting to the finish line. Clues are given by cell phone and stories follow the incidents in the driver's lives as they each seek a specific goal for entering the race. The featured drivers are:

Alex Tully, a landscape artist (owner of Tully Landscaping) who possesses a degree in Agricultural Sciences from the University of Nebraska. One day Alex returned home from work to find his wife, Kathryn, missing. She has been kidnapped by persons unknown (members of the race organization) and Alex's prize for winning the race is the return of his wife (should he go to authorities Kathryn will be killed).

Corinna Wiles is a 32-year-old woman who joined the race (hooking up with Alex) for revenge — to get even with the race organizers for what they did to her. When Corinna was six years old, her parents were a part of the race. They were killed as they approached the finish line (to receive their kidnapped child as a reward) when they were cut off by another car and crashed. Twenty-seven years have passed since and Corinna has finally received her chance to bring the race down.

Dylan Baker is an astrophysicist who earns $93,000 a year. He has a B.A. from Berkeley, an

M.S. from M.I.T. and a Ph.D. from Cal Tech. He also has only one year to live (the result of work with the Applied Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, California). Traveling with him is his vivacious 17-year-old daughter, Violet, a junior at Los Ramblas High School. She is brilliant but hides that fact from her friends (fearing to be called a geek). Violet was reluctant to join her father until she learned of the grand prize.

Winston Salazar is the bastard son of the wealthy Fernando Salazar (a man who refuses to recognize Winston as his son). Winston was raised by his mother in the Hialeah neighborhood of Miami. His mother, who worked several jobs to support her household, died of breast cancer when Winston was 12 years old. Winston showed promise as a student and excelled in English and science. After his mother's death, Winston spent several years in the foster care system but ran away before graduating from high school. He soon turned to a life of crime and has a record for auto theft and armed robbery (but was mysteriously released from prison. How? It is presumed by members of the race). Now, desperately in need of money to enter the race, Winston has approached his father, but has been denied everything. With only one hope of acquiring money, Winston breaks into his father's home and, while helping himself to expensive items to hock, encounters Sean, Fernando's legitimate son. Sean disbelieves Winston's story that he is his half-brother — until he calls Fernando (pretending to be Sean) and tricks him into revealing to Sean that Winston is also his son. Winston has been chosen, for unknown reasons to be a part of the race. To get to know and bond with Winston, Sean drops everything to become his partner. Sean is a student at Paladin-Wells Academy (in Boca Raton, Florida) and has been accepted for admission into Harvard University. Although Sean graduated in the top five percent of his class, he has several disciplinary problems.

Ellie Laird is 27 years old and works as a hotel desk clerk (in Little Rock, Arkansas). Ellie Howe (maiden name) was born in Little Rock and married Army Specialist Rob Laird. She hopes the race will give her a chance to find a better life. Rob (also her race partner) has served two tours of duty in Iraq and only joined the race because he hopes it will bring him and Ellie closer together (his deployments have strained their marriage).

Wendy Patrokas is 29 years old and has a degree in education from Kenyon College. She is also married to an abusive husband and has just become the mother of a son (Sam). Before she married Richard (an attorney) Wendy taught kindergarten at the Walhalla County Day School. Wendy joined the race to get away from Richard but is devastated that she had to leave Sam behind (whom she has entrusted to a friend, a person Richard is not aware of). To remind her of Sam, she rides with a life-like doll.

Leigh Barnthouse is a 32-year-old actress who possesses a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from New York University. She is the granddaughter of Lionel Barnthouse, a ruthless New Orleans politician. It was during the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina that Leigh became a hero. She helped a nurse (Susan Chamblee) and a cocktail waitress (Ivy Chitty) in evacuating patients from the flooded wing of Samalitian Hospital. The three became friends and are now partners in the race.

Susan Chamblee is a 34-year-old nurse with a B.S.N. degree from Dillard University. She hopes to use her share of the prize money to help rebuild not only her life, but of those devastated by Katrina.

Ivy Chitty is 28 years old and enjoys the attention she received as a hero of Hurricane Katrina. She is a gutsy girl and always manages to land on her feet. Race organizers forced Ivy to leave Susan and Leigh and join Wendy as her racing partner. Ivy is determined to win the race — at any cost. The series ran from April 1, 2007 to April 23, 2007 without airing a concluding episode.

Cast: Nathan Fillion (Alex Tully), Kristin Lehman (Corinna Wiles), Dylan Baker (John Trimble), Emma Stone (Violet Trimble), Kevin Alejandro (Winston Salazar), J.D. Pardo (Sean Salazar), Mircea Monroe (Ellie Laird), Riley Smith (Rob Laird), Melanie Lynskey (Wendy Patrokas), Rochelle Aytes (Leigh Barnthouse), Michael Hyatt (Susan Chamblee), Taryn Manning (Ivy Chitty), Cindy Williams (House Mother), Charles Martin Smith (Mr. Bright).

2262 Driving Force. (Series; Reality; A&E; 2006). John Force is a legendary drag car racer who sacrifices family time to pursue the championship. He has become estranged from his wife (Laurie) and has spent little time with his three daughters (Ashley, Brittany and Courtney — all of whom happen to be race care drivers) Cameras follow John as he tries to make up for lost time with his family and becoming the husband and father he never really was.

Cast: John Force, Laurie Force, Ashley Force, Brittany Force, Courtney Force.

2263 Driving Miss Daisy. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/21/92). The setting is Atlanta, Georgia, in the 1950s when segregation defined interracial relationships. Following a series of auto accidents caused by his crotchety old mother, Miss Daisy, wealthy businessman Boolie Werthan hires Hoke Coleburn, a plain-speaking black man, to drive his mother around. The unsold series, based on the feature film, was to follow Hoke's experiences as a chauffeur for an elderly white woman. In the pilot episode, Hoke arranges for Miss Daisy to meet her idol, Eleanor Roosevelt. Other Regulars: Florine, Boolie's wife; and Idella, the Werthans' maid.

Cast: Robert Guillaume (Hoke Coleburn), Joan Plowright (Miss Daisy Werthan), Saul Rubinek (Boolie Werthan), Hillary Bailey Smith (Florine Werthan), Theresa Merritt (Idella). Guest Cast: Mary Nell Santacrocce (Nonie), Zoanne LeRoy (Beulah), Anne Haney (Clemmie), Toni Gilman (Eleanor Roosevelt).

2264 Doodles. (Series; Game; NBC; 1954). The object calls for a celebrity panel to identify doodles, nonsense drawings either submitted by home viewers or drawn by the host. Home viewers receive a cash prize if their doodle stumps the panel. The series ran from June 21, 1954 to September 17, 1954.

Host: Roger Price. Panelists: Denise Lor, Carl Reiner, Marc Connelly.

Also appearing as a segment of the program is The Adventures of Screwball Squirrel, a 1940s Tex Avery created cartoon about a nutty squirrel who makes life miserable for a park attendant (Dweeble) and his dog (Gruppy).

Voices: Don Messick (Droopy), Frank Welker (Dripple), Jennifer Darling, Teresa Ganzel, Danny Cooksey, Marsha Clark, Patricia Albrecht, Charles Adler, Angella Kaye.

2266 DTV. (Series; Children; Disney; 1984). The series features clips from various Walt Disney produced movies that are set to popular music creating animated music videos.

2267 Duck Dodgers. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2003–2005). A take off on Buck Rogers in the 25th Century that features Looney Toon characters. Here Daffy Duck is Duck Dodgers, an easily exasperated duck, who while traveling in his 21st century spaceship, is caught in a space warp and frozen. After drifting in space for 351 years, Duck awakens to a new world — a world safe guarded by the Defense Protectorate. Duck convinces its leaders that he is a great hero from the 21st century and is inducted into the organization. He is given a spaceship, a crew and a mission: protect the Earth from Commander X-2, the evil leader of Mars, who is seeking to conquer the Earth. Porky Pig as the Eager Young Space Cadet, Yosemite Sam as K'chutha Sa'am, and Elmer Fudd as The Fudd are also on board.

Voice Cast: Joe Alaskey (Duck Dodgers), Bob Bergen (Eager Young Space Cadet), Maurice LaMarche (Kchutha Sa'am), Billy West (The Fudd), Joe Alaskey (Commander X-2), Richard McGonagle (Dr. I.Q. Hi), Tia Carrere (Martian Queen), John O'Hurley (Capt. Star Johnson), Grey DeLisle (Shye Falling), Frank Welker (K-9), Tom Kane (Walter Carbonite), Kevin Michael Richardson (Nasty Canasta).

Although Buddy Winkler Productions is a losing business and is located in "The Duck Factory," a rundown building at 1579 Bruckner, Sherry decides to keep the company going to save the jobs of her employees: Skip Tarkenton, the producer and animator; Brooks Carmichael, the animation director; Agatha ("Aggie") Aylesworth, the business manager; Andrea Levin, the film editor; Wally Wooster, the voice of Dippy Duck; Marty Fenneman, the writer; and Roland Culp, an animator.

Pancho's is the local coffeehouse hangout; Brooks has been an animator for 40 years; Aggie calls Sherry "the Widow Winkler"; the unnamed network only airs The Dippy Duck Show because it can get it real cheap; Irving the Terrible and Rotten Renaldo are two of Dippy's enemies.

Relatives: Maureen Arthur (Sherry's mother, Debbie Jurwalski), Jo Ann Harris (Wally's daughter, Wendy Wooster), Walter Olkewicz (Brooks's son, Bumps Carmichael), William Schallert (Skip's father), Allyn Ann McLerie (Skip's mother), John Hancock (Roland's father). Theme: "Sure Beats Working for a Living," by Mark Vieha.

Cast: Jim Carrey (Skip Tarkenton), Teresa Ganzel (Sherry Winkler), Jack Gilford (Brooks Carmichael), Julie Payne (Aggie Aylesworth), Nancy Lane (Andrea Lewin), Jay Tarses (Marty Fenneman), Don Messick (Wally Wooster), Clarence Gilyard, Jr. (Roland Culp), Diane Stilwell (Ginger Holliday; Roland's friend).

Huey, Dewey and Louie, to live with their uncle, Scrooge McDuck. Stories follow the mischievous nephews as they plague their stingy uncle's life with their antics.

Voice Cast: Alan Young (Uncle Scrooge McDuck), Russi Taylor (Huey, Dewey and Louie), Avery Schreiber (Older Huey, Dewey and Louie), Tony Anselmo (Donald Duck).

2270 Duckman. (Series; Cartoon; USA; 1997). An adult cartoon series that relates the exploits of Duckman, a duck who also happens to be a lowlife, sleazy private detective. Corn, his paranoid pig partner, assists him.

Duckman's job is miserable and gives him nothing but heartaches, especially since he is never able to apprehend his archenemy, an evil, mad genius named King Chicken. At home his life is not much better as he gets nothing but aggravation from an annoying family: Bernice, the shrill sister of dead wife; Ajax, his son (who has an I.Q. "in the high teens"); Charles and Mambo, his two-headed son; and Grandmamma, his never speaking grandmother.

Voice Cast: Jason Alexander (Duckman), Gregg Berger (Corn), Tim Curry (King Chicken), Dweezil Zappa (Ajax), Dana Hill (Charles), E.G. Daily (Mambo), Lani Minella (Bernice).

2271 Dudley. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for CBS in 1992). After he loses his job and is no longer able to pay alimony, Dudley Bristol is forced to move his two ex-wives (Bonnie and Lisa) and two daughters (Julie and Sarah) into the same house. The unsold series was to relate Dudley's efforts to live with four females, find a job and return things to normal.

Cast: Dudley Moore (Dudley), Havilland Morris (Bonnie), Claire Danes (Lisa), Rachel Hillman (Julie), Stephanie Lineburg (Sarah).

2272 Dudley. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993). Dudley Bristol is a divorced New York night club entertainer living a fairly comfortable life (he lives in Penthouse A and works at the Liaison Room of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel). One day his ex-wife, Lorraine, shows up with their malcontent son, Fred. Dudley hasn't been a good father to Fred and Lorraine feels it is time he helped raise him and keep him from going bad (He was recently arrested for stealing a car). Lorraine takes an apartment nearby. Fred now lives with his father and the series relates Dudley's efforts to guide Fred's life. Other Regulars: Paul, Dudley's agent; and Marta, Dudley's cook/maid.

Cast: Dudley Moore (Dudley Bristol), Joanna Cassidy (Lorraine Bristol), Harley Cross (Fred Bristol), Max Wright (Paul Bagley), Lupe Ontiveros (Marta).

2273 Dudley Do-Right of the Mounties. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1967–1969). One day, in the early twentieth century, Dudley Do-Right, a simple-minded and naive young man, leaves his home to see a movie. Three miserable hours later, while waiting for the movie to begin, Dudley realizes that he has fallen through an open manhole and is sitting in a sewer. Believing that he is guilty of trespassing, and with a proud family tradition (a Do-Right must always do right), Dudley decides to turn himself in to the police — at the North Alberta Mountie Camp in Canada, which is 500 miles from his home.

When Dudley tells Inspector Ray K. Fenwick about his foul deed, the shocked inspector reprimands him (“How could you...”), then asks Dudley if he would like to become a Mountie. Dudley is undecided at first — until he sees the string that attaches Ray’s gun to his holster. Now hooked, Dudley signs up and 90 minutes later completes his training. His assignment: to maintain the peace and apprehend Snidley Whiplash, “that scandalous, nefarious, odious, obnoxious, villainous villain of the Northwest.”

Constable Dudley Do-Right has a horse named Horse and is in love with the inspector’s daughter, Nell Fenwick, “the apple of Dudley’s eye.” Unfortunately for Dudley, “the fair and lovely Nell” is in love with his horse and will never marry Dudley (“Why, Nell?” “Because you are too good, Dudley”). In one episode, however, Dudley, “the man who can do no wrong,” became a disgrace to the Mounties when he ate his peas with a knife at dinner — “something a Mountie would never do.”

At times the narrator would run out of words to describe “that meaner than mean, downright villainous, no-good Snidley Whiplash.” Snidley, who usually thanks the narrator for his kind words, owns a sawmill and “has this thing about tying ladies to railroad tracks” (especially Nell, whom he kidnaps on a regular basis). As the narrator puts it, “Each day Dudley brings Snidley in to the post and places him under lock and key. And each morning he escapes.” Theme: “Dudley Do-Right of the Mounties,” by Sheldon Allman and Stan Worth. The series originally appeared as a segment of Rocky and His Friends.

Voice Cast: Bill Scott (Dudley Do-Right), Paul Frees (Ray K. Fenwick), June Foray (Nell Fenwick), Hans Conried (Snidley Whiplash), William Conrad (Narrator).

2274 Due South. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1994–1996; 1997–1999). Benton Fraser is a constable with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. When his father, Bob Fraser, a Canadian policeman, is killed while investigating a case involving the deaths of a number of caribou, Benton receives permission to investigate. He discovers that six Americans from Chicago were hunting in the area at the same time his father was killed. Benton travels to Chicago to check out the names on the list. The Chicago Police Department assigns a detective (Ray Vecchio) to assist him. Together they find the killer, but the trail leads back to Canada and to a man named Garrad (Ken Pogue), the head of a dam project that rids itself of excess water by flooding the land below and thus drowning the animals. The situation, however, worsens: Benton turned in one of his own and he is advised to return to the Chicago P.D. until things cool down. Benton is assigned to work with Ray (1994–1996) and stories follow the investigations of a polite, square and by-the-books Mountie and his street-wise American partner, as they go about dispensing justice.

After a short hiatus, the series returned with Benton being teamed with Detective Stanley Kowalski (Ray was said to be an undercover cop unable to assist Benton due to his infiltration of the mob). Assisting Benton in both versions is his wolf, Diefenbaker.

Cast: Paul Gross (Benton Fraser), David Marciano (Ray Vecchio), Callum Keith Rennie (Stanley Kowalski), Ramona Milan (Francesca Vecchio; Ray’s sister), Beau Starr (Captain Harding Welsh), Catherine Bruchier (Elaine Besbriss), Daniel Kash (Louis Gardino), Gordon Ansent (Robert Fraser; flashbacks).

2275 Duet. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987–1989). Laura Kelly and Ben Coleman are recent newlyweds; they live in an apartment at 981 Fairfax Street. Marrieds Richard and Linda Phillips live at 10 West Florist Street and have a four-year-old daughter named Amanda. Stories relate events in their lives.

Laura is a caterer and runs Laura’s Cornucopia with her younger, unmarried sister, Jane Kelly. Ben is a mystery writer and penned the novel Death in the Fast Lane; he also writes the column “True Stories” for the Los Angeles Daily Banner. Ben has a dog named Reuben, and his fictional detective is Zack Murdock.

Linda, originally a high-powered executive for an unnamed movie studio, joins Laura’s company (now called Cornucopia Caterers) when she is fired. In the last episode, she and Laura secure jobs with the Juan Verde Real Estate Company (see Open House for further information).

Richard was originally a patio furniture salesman at the House of Patio before becoming a piano player (his true calling) at Jasper’s Bar and Restaurant. Geneva (Arleen Sorkin) is the Phillips’ sexy maid and baby-sitter for their young daughter, Amanda.

Relatives: K Callan (Laura’s mother, Rose Kelly), Reid Shelton (Laura’s father, Frank Kelly), Jane Persky (Laura’s older sister, Mary Margaret Kelly), Nick Segal (Laura’s brother, Michael Kelly), Summer Phoenix and Mary Tanner (Laura’s younger sister, Molly Kelly), Allan Arbus (Ben’s father, Nate Coleman), Bette Ford (Ben’s mother, Barbara Coleman), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Linda's father, George Hartley), Christopher Templeton (Linda's sister, Diana Hartley), Robert Reed (Richard's father, Jim Phillips).

Flashbacks: Maia Brewton (Linda as a girl).
Theme: "Duet," vocal by Ursula Walker and Tony Franklin.

Cast: Mary Page Keller (Laura Kelly), Matthew Lurance (Ben Coleman), Chris Lemmon (Richard Phillips), Alison LaPlaca (Linda Phillips), Ginger Orsi (Amanda Phillips), Jodi Thelen (Jane Kelly), Arleen Sorkin (Geneva).

2276 Duffy. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/6/77). A proposed series about Duffy, a nondescript dog with almost human qualities, who is the adopted mascot of a junior high school. Regulars: Cliff Sellers, Duffy's owner, a teacher; Thomas N. Tibbles, the principal; Marty, Tibbles' secretary; Happy Jack, owner of the hamburger stand; and the students: Nick, Craig, Josh and Danny.

2277 Duffy's Tavern. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954). Located in a shabby section of New York City on Third Avenue is Duffy's Tavern, a friendly neighborhood bar where "the elite meet to eat" and where, with a beer, the free lunch costs 15 cents. Archie (no last name) is the manager of the tavern for the never-seen Mr. Duffy (although Archie does talk to him on the phone). When the phone rings, Archie answers with, "Hello, Duffy's Tavern ... Archie the manager speaking, Duffy ain't here." Archie attended P.S. 4 grammar school and has known Duffy for 15 years (they despise each other). Archie is a con artist and out to make a buck any way he can. His girlfriend (whom he takes to the Stork Club when he has the money — "which ain't often") is Peaches La Tour, a gorgeous stripper at the Burlesque Palace (later called the Bijou Burlesque).

Clifton Finnegan is Archie's childhood friend, "a subnormal chowder head; a dope; a low grade moron." But, as Archie says, "You have to forgive him. When he was born, the baby doctor was a little nearsighted and Finnegan got slapped on the head." Although he is simpleminded, beware when Finnegan gets riled: "He'd throw a termite on a lame man's cane." Finnegan mentioned that he would never marry because of what happened to his parents — "They became a mother and father." Archie never married "because I wanted my wife to have everything — money, a mansion, a big car, a yacht. But I ain't found the right dame yet."

Miss Duffy is Duffy's daughter, whom Archie calls "Mother Nature's revenge on peeping toms." She works as the cashier at the tavern and is seeking a husband. She freely gives out her home phone number to anyone she has the opportunity to meet. "Unfortunately," Archie says, "her phone ain't never rung." Miss Duffy, like Archie, has only one name. When she calls her father she says, "Poppa, this is your daughter, Miss Duffy"; she introduces herself to people as Miss Duffy.

Charley is Archie's elderly friend, a waiter at the tavern; Second Story Jackson is Archie's old schoolmate (they both flunked out of kindergarten together) who now leads a somewhat shady life.

Theme: Duffy's Tavern, by Peter Van Steeden.

Cast: Ed Gardner (Archie), Alan Reed (Clifton Finnegan), Pattee Chapman (Miss Duffy), Veda Ann Borg (Peaches La Tour), Jimmy Conlin (Charley), Herb Vigran (Second Story Jackson).

2278 The Duke. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954). When Duke Zenlee (a.k.a. Duke London), a prizefighter, believes he is meant for the finer things in life, he impulsively decides to quit the ring and opens a nightclub. The series relates his efforts to enjoy his new lifestyle (having also discovered a love of oil painting); and the efforts of his former trainer, Johnny, to get him to return to the ring. Gloria is Duke's girlfriend; Rudy is Duke's business partner; Sam is the fight promoter. The series aired from July 2, 1954 to September 24, 1954.

Cast: Paul Gilbert (Duke London), Phyllis Coates (Gloria), Allen Jenkins (Johnny), Claude Stroud (Rudy Cromwell), Sheldon Leonard (Sam Marco).

2279 The Duke. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1979). A five-episode test about Oscar "Duke" Ramsey, a retired boxer turned two-fisted private detective working out of Chicago. Regulars: Joe Cadillac, Duke's friend, a bookie; Dedra, Duke's girlfriend; Eddie, the bartender at Ramsey's bar, Duke and Benny's Corner; and Mick O'Brien, a sergeant with the 11th Precinct of the Chicago P.D.

Cast: Robert Conrad (Oscar "Duke" Ramsey), Larry Manetti (Joe Cadillac), Patricia Conwell (Dedra) Red West (Mick O'Brien), Ed O'Bradovich (Eddie).

2280 The Dukes. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1983). An extension series based on The Dukes of Hazzard. The story follows the around-the-world auto race in which the Duke Cousins (Daisy, Coy and Vance) are competing against Boss Hogg, the corrupt owner of Hazzard County, Georgia, for a large cash prize — money needed by the Dukes to pay off Boss Hogg and keep their farm; and sought by Boss Hogg 'cause it's money. Episodes relate Boss's devious attempts to win the race.

Other Regulars: Jesse Duke, the Duke's uncle

(the host and narrator); Roscoe Coltrane, Boss's aide; Bo and Luke Duke, the Duke cousins who replaced Coy and Vance.

Voice Cast: Catherine Bach (Daisy Duke), Byron Cherry (Coy Duke), Christopher Mayer (Vance Duke), Sorrell Booke (Boss Hogg), James Best (Roscoe Coltrane), Denver Pyle (Uncle Jesse Duke), John Schneider (Bo Duke), Tom Wopat (Luke Duke).

2281 The Dukes of Hazzard. (Series; Comedy-Adventure; CBS; 1979–1985). Hazzard County, Georgia, is home to the Duke family, the owners of a farm 18 miles outside of town on Mill Pond Road. Jesse Duke owns the farm and lives there with his nephews Bo and Luke Duke and his niece, Daisy Duke.

Jesse, the Duke family patriarch, once ran moonshine in the Ridge Runner Association and believes that “the law is the law and us Dukes gotta obey it no matter what.” The law, unfortunately, is Jefferson Davis Hogg, a former moonshine runner (with Jesse) who is still corrupt (he owns most of the town and is called Boss Hogg and J.D. Hogg).

The Dukes have made it their goal to clean up Hazzard County by stopping Boss Hogg's endless array of corrupt moneymaking schemes. Boss is also seeking to rid his life of the law and order Duke's by foreclosing on their property and selling the land to the Crystal Mountain Brewery. The Dukes, however, are never late with the mortgage payment (owned by the Hazzard County Bank — which is owned by Boss). Boss hopes to change that.

Daisy works as a waitress at the Boar's Nest, the bar owned by Boss. She also worked part time as a reporter for the Hazzard County Gazette. Daisy, a very sexy woman, wears short shorts to catch the eyes of men and was considered the wildest girl at Hazzard High School. Bo and Luke do not use guns (they use dynamite-tipped arrows as weapons). Luke is the older of the cousins and saw much of the world during his hitch with the Marines. Bo was a linebacker on the school football team and claims he can talk any girl into a date for Saturday night. The General Lee, a souped-up 1969 orange Dodge Charger is the car Bo and Luke use not only to race, but also in their battle against Boss's corrupt schemes.

Sheriff Roscoe P. Coltrane was an honest cop for over 20 years. When he was denied a pension, he joined Boss Hogg in abusing authority for fun and profit. His sister, Lulu, married Boss; Roscoe rides in a patrol car with his lazy dog, Flash. Enos Strate is the somewhat naïve, honest deputy Boss can't control.

Cooter Davenport is the garage mechanic; Nancylou is Cooter's daughter; Hughie is Boss's nephew; Jeb and Holly are Jesse's cousins; Laurie is Holly's daughter; Clara is Roscoe's aunt.

When a contract dispute over merchandise ties forced John Schneider and Tom Wopat (Bo and Luke) to leave the show, their cousins, Coy and Vance Duke (Byron Cherry, Christopher Mayer) were brought on in 1982 to help Uncle Jesse while they went on tour with the NASCAR circuit. Six months later (after the dispute was settled), Bo and Luke returned to Hazzard after they found the race circuit dull. Coy and Vance left to care for their Aunt Bessie and Uncle Albert. Waylon Jennings provides the narration and sings the theme, “Good Ol' Boys.” See also The Dukes, Enos, (the spin-off series), and The Dukes of Hazzard: The Beginning.

In 1997 (April 25th), CBS presented a TV movie update called The Dukes of Hazzard Reunion that reunited the original cast (with the exception of Sorrel Books, who had passed away) in a story that finds the Dukes attempting to stop the corrupt Roscoe P. Coltrane from selling their farm to theme park developers.

Cast: John Schneider (Bo Duke), Tom Wopat (Luke Duke), Catherine Bach (Daisy Duke), Denver Pyle (Jesse Duke), Sorrell Booke (Boss Hogg), James Best (Sheriff Roscoe P. Coltrane), Byron Cherry (Coy Duke), Christopher Mayer (Vance Duke), Sonny Shroyer (Deputy Enos Strate), Rick Hurst (Deputy Cletus Hogg), Peggy Rea (Lulu Hogg), Nedra Volz (Miz Tisdale), Don Pedro Colley (Sheriff Little), Parley Baer (Doc Appleby), Jeff Altman (Hughie Hogg), Waylon Jennings (Balladeer), Ben Jones (Cooter Davenport), Kim Richards (Nancylou Davenport), Lori Lethin (Laurie), Miriam Byrd Nethery (Cousin Holly), Christopher Hensel (Cousin Jeb), Parley Baer (Doc Appleby), James Hampton (Sheriff Buster Moon), Sorrell Booke (Abraham Lincoln Hogg, Boss's honest twin brother), Mary Treen (Aunt Clara), Mickey Jones (B.B. Davenport).

2282 The Dukes of Hazzard: The Beginning. (Series Extension; Comedy-Adventure; ABC Family; 2007). A prequel to the TV series The Dukes of Hazzard that introduces viewers to the Duke family of Hazzard County, Georgia. It is here that Uncle Jesse Duke, the head of the family, owns a farm — but also runs moonshine. He is also battling Jefferson Davis Hogg, called Boss Hogg, a former moon shiner who is now the corrupt city commissioner (and who is seeking to acquire the Duke farm for his own political needs). Assisting Uncle Jesse (in battling Boss Hogg) are his niece, Daisy Duke, and his nephews, Bo and Luke Duke, who have come to live with their uncle and who, because of their philosophy of righting wrongs, have vowed to end Boss Hogg's rule of corruption. Roscoe P. Coltrane is Boss Hogg's not-so-honest sheriff; Enos Strate is the honest deputy; Lulu Hogg is Boss's wife; Cooter is the garage mechanic.

Cast: Willie Nelson (Uncle Jesse Duke), Randy

Wayne (Luke Duke), Jonathan Bennett (Bo Duke), April Scott (Daisy Duke), Christopher McDonald (Boss Hogg), Harland Williams (Roscoe P. Coltrane), Joel Moore (Cooter), Todd Grinnell (Hughie).

2283 Dumb and Dumber. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1995). An animated adaptation of the theatrical film of the same title about Harry Dunne and Lloyd Christmas, two dumber than dirt losers. Here Harry and Lloyd, and their pet beaver Dymbster, travel around the country (in their Dogmobile) trying to help people in trouble but always make situations worse because between the two of them neither has the sense to come in out of the rain.

Live Action Cast: Sharon Baird, Van Snowden, Patty Maloney, Caleb Chung, Joe Giamalva, Frank Groby, Norman Merrill, Jr., Mark Sawyer. Voice Cast: Katie Leigh (Dumbo), Jim Cummings, Ron Gans, Will Ryan, Mark Sawyer, Hal Smith, Walker Edmiston. Theme Song: "Dumbo's Circus" by Philip Baron.

2285 DuMont Beepstakes. (Live Test Program; Game; DuMont; 5/29/46). A simulated car race from New York to Los Angeles was the basis for a proposed series that featured four DuMont TV executives acting as contestants. It involved a series of question and answer rounds that advanced a player one state for each question that he correctly answered. The first driver to reach Los Angeles was the winner.

Host: Dennis James.

2286 DuMont Varieties. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 9/5/43). A live program that is divided into four 15-minute segments:

1. Gypsy Moods. Music and songs from Eugene Jelesnik (violinist), Jean Claire (accordion/vocals) and Harold Corlin (guitar).

2. At the Stage Door Canteen. Songs by Jean Lewis and Billy Redfield.

3. Let's See. A quiz with Charlie Taylor as the host and Lee Morrison as his opponent in a format that had them attempting to answer questions based on tunes that were heard offstage from records.

4. Face of War. Samuel Cuff commented on the state of the war using visual aids (a map) to illustrate the locale he was mentioning.

2287 The Dumplings. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976). Joe and Angela Dumpling are a married, overweight couple who operate the Dumplings Luncheonette on the ground floor of the Bristol Oil Company, a New York office building. Stories follow their trials and tribulations as they deal with the various customers who frequent their diner.

Other Regulars: Stephanie, Angela's sister; Frederick Steele, Joe's landlord; Charles Sweetzer, the vice president of Bristol Oil; Norah McKenna, Charles's secretary; Cully, Joe's cashier.

Cast: James Coco (Joe Dumpling), Geraldine Brooks (Angela Dumpling), Marcia Rodd (Stephanie), George Furth (Frederick Steele), George S. Irving (Charles Sweetzer), Jane Connell (Norah McKenna), Mort Marshall (Cully), Wil Albert (The Prude).

2288 Dundee and the Culhane. (Series; Western; CBS; 1967). The story of Dundee, a sophisticated, adverse-to-violence, trail-riding British barrister; and the Culhane, an apprentice lawyer who is rugged and fast with his guns. Episodes relate their self-proclaimed mission to establish law and order throughout the West of the 1870s.

Cast: John Mills (Dundee), Sean Garrison (The Culhane). Theme Song: "Dundee and the Culhane" by David Rose.

2289 Dungeons and Dragons. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1982–1984). While in an amusement park, six youngsters (Sheila, Hank, Eric, Diana, Presto and Bobby) decide to try a ride called Dungeons and Dragons. Shortly after the ride begins, the car in which they are sitting is mysteriously transported to a fantasy world of wizards, dragons and warriors. There they are granted special powers and learn from the Dungeon Master that they have been transported to the past to help battle the evil Venger; but, to be able to return to their time, they must play out a complicated and dangerous game. The series, based on the board game "Dungeons and Dragons," follows their efforts to find their way home.

Voice Cast: Willie Aames (Hank), Donny Most (Eric), Katie Leigh (Sheila), Toni Gayle Smith (Diana), Adam Rich (Presto), Ted Field III (Bobby), Sidney Miller (Dungeon Master), Peter Cullen (Venger).

2290 Dunninger and Winchell. (Series; Variety; NBC; CBS; 1948–1949). A two-part series that features comedy with ventriloquist Paul Winchell and his dummy friends Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff, and feats of mind reading with master mentalist Joseph Dunninger. The series was also titled The Bigelow Show when under the sponsorship of Bigelow products. The series aired on NBC from October 14, 1948 to July 7, 1949; and on CBS from October 5, 1949 to December 28, 1949.

Host: Paul Winchell, Joseph Dunninger. Announcer: Dan Seymour.

2291 The Dunninger Show. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; NBC; ABC; 1953–1956). The program spotlights the mind-reading abilities of mentalist Joseph Dunninger. The series ran in syndication from 1953–1955; on NBC from September 25, 1955 to December 10, 1955; and on ABC from May 9, 1956 to October 10, 1956.

Host: John K.M. McCaffrey. Star: Joseph Dunninger. Regular: Orson Bean.

2292 The DuPont Show of the Month. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1957–1961). A varying series of programs, including comedy, drama, musicals, and mysteries; original stories and adaptations from books and Broadway. Sponsored by the DuPont Corporation. The series, which produced 42 episodes, aired from September 29, 1957 to March 21, 1961.

2293 The DuPont Show of the Week. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1961–1964). The successor to The DuPont Show of the Month. A series of varying presentations, including variety programs, musicals, comedies and dramatic adaptations from novels. The series, which produced 90 episodes, ran from September 17, 1961 to September 6, 1964. The program is sponsored by the DuPont Corporation.

Performers Include: Carol Burnett, Harpo Marx, Jerry Lewis, Monique Van Vooren, Ruby Dee, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Lillian Gish, Gavin MacLeod, Peter Falk, Nancy Marchand, Lee Marvin, John Mills, Teresa Wright, Margaret O'Brien, Walter Matthau, Zachary Scott, Lauren Bacall, Tuesday Weld, Colleen Dewhurst, Diana Hyland, Peter Lorre, Glynnis Johns, Barry Nelson, Ray Milland, Carroll O'Connor, Larry Hagman, Gene Hackman, Sarah Marshall, Estelle Parsons, Carolyn Jones, Art Carney, Martin Milner, Patricia Barry.

2294 The DuPont Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1956–1957). The 1956–1957 title for Cavalcade of America when under the sponsorship of the DuPont Corporation. See this title for information.

2295 Dusty. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 7/24/83). A proposed series about Dusty (no other name given), a Los Angeles cab driver who longs to be a private detective. The pilot establishes how Dusty becomes the apprentice of world renown private investigator Tim Halloran (when Halloran uses Dusty's cab to follow a suspect and Dusty latches onto him, aides him, and soon becomes his assistant). In their first case together, Dusty and Halloran become involved with a kidnapped girl and missing drugs sought by mobsters. Other Regulars: Slugger, Dusty's information girl; and Lieutenant Harry Beathoven.

Cast: Saul Rubinek (Dusty), Gerald S. O'Loughlin (Tim Halloran), Nancy McKeon (Slugger), Hank Garrett (Harry Beathoven).

2296 Dusty's Trail. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1973). "Let's follow the path of Dusty's Trail ... a stage and a wagon headin' West, part of a wagon train lost from the rest." Hoping to begin a new life in California, a group of pioneers organizes a wagon train in St. Louis. The group hires a wagon master named Mr. Callahan and a trail scout named Dusty. Among the pioneers are Lulu McQueen, Betsy McGuire, marrieds Carter and Daphne Brookhaven and Andy Boone.

Shortly after, a Gilligan's Island out West is born. Through the efforts of the dim-witted Dusty, one wagon and the Brookhavens' fancy coach are separated from the main body and lost. Hostile Indians, deserts, mountains and outlaws are part of the trek as "the wagon master's hand keeps 'em a rollin' to the promised land."

Mr. Callahan (no first name given) and Dusty (no other name given) have been friends for a number of years despite the fact that they are as different as night and day. Callahan, an ex-army officer, is competent and dedicated to his job; he has a horse named Barney. Dusty, on the other hand, is a bumbling klutz whose foul ups always seem to work out for the best; he has a horse named Freckles.

Lulu is a gorgeous dance-hall girl who is traveling to California to open her own saloon ("Lulu's"). She wears a sexy, bosom revealing dress and carries a gun in her garter on her right leg ("Men say I'm a woman; this little baby [the gun] helps keep the odds even"). Lulu, like Ginger on Gilligan's Island, is the group's secret weapon for getting out of a scrape when a beautiful girl is needed.

Betsy is a pretty, shy and demure schoolteacher who is seeking to begin her own school in California. Although she is just as gorgeous as Lulu, she hides her sexuality under ankle-length dresses and buttoned-up-to-the-neck blouses.

Carter and Daphne Brookhaven are a wealthy

Boston couple who are journeying West to cash in on the recent gold rush and open a bank. The firm of Jones, Bean, Bean and Stringfellow is Carter's stockbroker in New York; he cries when he hears that someone else is making money. Daphne is totally devoted to Carter and is amazed "that everything out West is so Western." Like the Howells of Gilligan's Island, they seem to have an endless supply of everything.

Andy is the resourceful pioneer whose genius for taking nothing and making something helps the group endure the long trek. He studied the Indians, the rivers and the mountains, and his knowledge of the area helps Mr. Callahan as he seeks the road to California.

Theme: "Dusty's Trail," vocal by Bill Street.

Cast: Forrest Tucker (Mr. Callahan), Bob Denver (Dusty), Jeannine Riley (Lulu), Lori Saunders (Betsy), Ivor Francis (Carter Brookhaven), Lynn Wood (Daphne Brookhaven), Bill Cort (Andy).

2297 Dusty's Treehouse. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1973). Various aspects of the adult world are related to children via films, puppets (Maxine the Crow, Stanley Spider and Scooter Squirrel), songs and stories.

Host (as Dusty): Stu Rosen. Puppets-Voices: Tony Urbano and Company.

2298 Dweebs. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1995). Cyberbyte Software is a high tech computer company established by Warren Mosbey, a software developer who believes he can create what the public needs for less. He hires three computer geeks (Dweebs)—Karl, Vic and Morley, a secretary (Carrie) and stories follow the mishaps that plague the upstart software company as they struggle to succeed where many have failed.

Warren's inspiration for developing programs is to jump and down on a trampoline; Carrie is computer illiterate who is so pretty that the Dweebs decide to keep her on; Todd was hired by Carrie to help her around the office.

Cast: Peter Scolari (Warren Mosbey), Farrah Fokke (Carrie), Adam Biesk (Todd), Corey Feldman (Vic), Stephen Tobolowsky (Karl), David Kaufman (Morley).

The proposed series title was James A. Michener's the Americans. Jennifer Blackwood is the power behind the dynasty; John Blackwood is her husband; Matt, Amanda, Mark, Harry and Carter are their children; Creed Vauclose is the plantation owner; Sam Adams is the ex-slave who works for Jennifer; Lucinda is Sam's wife; Young Sam Adams is Sam's son; Peely is Creed's servant.

2300 Dynasty. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1981–1989). The conflicts, passions, drives and tensions of the Carringtons, a powerful, rich and greedy Colorado oil family.

Blake Carrington is the head of the family, the owner of the Denver Carrington Oil Company. Blake is the son of Tom and Ellen Carrington. He was first married to Alexis and had four children with her (Adam, Fallon, Amanda and Steven). With his second wife, Krystal, he had a daughter named Krystina. Blake is ruthless and it was this trait that enabled him to destroy his enemies and achieve success.

Cast: John Forsythe (Blake Carrington), Linda Evans (Krystal Carrington), Joan Collins (Alexis Colby), Pamela Sue Martin (Fallon Carrington, 1981–84), Emma Samms (Fallon Carrington, 1984–89), Lloyd Bochner (Cecil Colby), John James (Steven Carrington, 1981–82), Jack Coleman (Steven Carrington, 1982–88), Lee Bergere (Joseph Anders), Kathleen Beller (Kirby Anders), Bo Hopkins (Matthew Blaisdel), Katy Kurtzman (Lindsay Blaisdel), Peter Mark Richman (Andrew Laird), Geoffrey Scott (Mark Jennings), Heather Locklear (Sammy Jo Dean), Gordon Tommson (Adam Carrington), Diahann Carroll (Dominique Devereaux), Billy Dee Williams (Brady Lloyd), Catherine Oxenberg (Amanda), Deborah Adair (Tracy Kendall), Helmut Berger (Peter DeVilbis), Michael Nader (Farnsworth Dexter), Grant Goodeve (Chris Deegen), Mark Withers (Ted Dinard), Ali MacGraw (Lady Ashley Mitchell), John Saxon (Rashid Ashmed), Rock Hudson (Daniel Rece), Paul Burke (Neal McVane), Joel Fabiani (King Galen), Christopher Cazenove (Ben Carrington), Terri Garber (Leslie Carrington), Ted McGinley (Clay Fallmont), Michael Traed (Prince Michael), George Hamilton (Joel Abrigore), James Healey (Shawn Rowan), Michael Cullen (Wayne Northrup), Cassie Yates (Sarah Curtis), Susan Scannell (Nicole Simpson), Kerry Armstrong (Elena), William Campbell (Luke Fuller), Jessica Player (Krystina Carrington), Kate O'Mara (Caress Morell), Troy Beyer (Jackie Devereaux). Theme Song: "Dynasty": by Bill Conti.

2301 E! True Hollywood Story. (Series; Documentary; E!; 1996–). A documentary style series that presents the real stories on celebrities including profiles (the dirt) behind movies and television programs.

Narrator: Phil Crowley, Chip Bloch.

2302 Eagle Riders. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1996). The series follows a group of futuristic teenage freedom fighters, based beneath the sea, who take to the stratosphere in winged space ships to battle an array of evil aliens that are threatening to destroy the Earth.

Voice Cast: Bryan Cranston (Joe Thax), Dena Burton (Auto), Lara Cody (Dr. Aikens), Peter Spellos (Cyberon), R. Martin Klein (Mallanox), Heidi Noelle Lenhart (Kelly Jenar), Mona Marshall (Mickey Dugan), Richard Cansino (Hunter Harris).

2303 The Earl Wrightson Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1948–1952). A program of music and songs that ran from November 27, 1948 to February 21, 1952. Gil Fates is the producer.

Host: Earl Wrightson. Vocalist: Betty Jane Watson. Music: The Buddy Weed Trio, The Norman Paris Trio.

2304 Early Edition. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1996–2000). Gary Hobson is a man who reads tomorrow's newspaper today. He is not sure why it happens or why he was chosen to see a future headline and prevent it from happening.

Gary owns a bar (McGinty's) in Chicago and he receives tomorrow's edition of the Sun Times at 6:30 each morning (the paper is always accompanied by a cat. It took Gary half a day to figure out what he had to do when the paper first arrived). Stories follow Gary as he attempts to save people's lives and prevent tomorrow's headline from appearing in print (when Gary does save a life or prevent an accident, the paper's headline automatically changes to reflect tomorrow's new headline).

Other Regulars: Marissa Clark, Gary's friend, a blind woman who helps him run McGinty's; Chuck Fishman, Gary's friend (he and Marissa are aware of Gary's secret); Erica Paget and Patrick Quinn, Gary's bartenders; and Henry, Erica's son.

A narrator opens the show: "His name is Gary Hobson. He gets tomorrow's newspaper today. He doesn't know how; he doesn't know why. He only knows that when the early edition hits his front door, he has twenty-four hours to set things right."

2305 Earn Your Vacation. (Series; Game; CBS; 1954). A question: "Where on earth would you like to go and why?" is posed to the studio audience. The members best at responding to the question receive the opportunity to win an all-expenses paid vacation to their place of desire. The player selects a subject category and answers questions of ascending difficulty within four plateaus. Each plateau represents a segment of the vacation. A player is defeated if he incorrectly answers any part of the plateau. Four correct answers awards the player his vacation. The series ran from May 23, 1954 to September 5, 1954.

Host: Johnny Carson. Assistant: Jackie Loughery, Millie Sinclair.

2306 Earth: Final Conflict. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1997–2002). The series is set in the 21st century and is based on a lost manuscript by Star Trek creator Gene Roddenberry that was found by his wife, Majel Barrett.

The Taelons are an alien race that have come to Earth claiming to be Companions of Humanity and want to share their ability to end famine, illness and crime. Although the majority of mankind accepts the Taelons as friendly and sincere, there are those who disbelieve them. These are the people who begin a resistance movement. Among their members are William Boone, a former Special Forces operative turned police captain, and his partner, Lili Marquette, an ex-Marine.

Fate intervenes when Boone, assigned to protect Da'an, the Taelon's Overseer, thwarts an assassination attempt on her life. Boone is made the Taelon Interspecies Liaison with Lili as his assistant. Unknown to Da'an, Boone and Lili are still working for the resistance. Boone and Lili's mission is to discover the Taelon's true mission on Earth (later learned to be that of survival). The Taelons are a dying race and need humans as test subjects for their species).

The series becomes rather complex after the first season ends. Boone is killed off and replaced by Liam Kincaid, an alien who was sent to Earth by the Jaridians, the mortal enemies of the Taelons. Da'an, unaware of Liam's true identity, appoints him as her new protector (and Lili's assistant). It is also learned that Taelons do not have the ability to battle the Jaridians and are hoping to receive help from the Earth.

The third season introduces Renee Palmer, the new partner for Liam when Lili is discovered to be working for the resistance. The fourth season reveals that the Taelons are near extinct and need a new life source to sustain themselves. It is also revealed that the Taelons and Jaridians were once the same species and over time split apart. They need to fuse together to again become one race.

During the final season, the Taelon and Jaridians fusion forms a new race called the Atavus, who claim the Earth is theirs and will reclaim it at any cost. The battle to save the Earth from the Atavus is depicted. As the series concluded, humanity was saved when the Atavus returned to their home world as one race (thus righting an ancient wrong of splitting into two races).

Cast: Leni Parker (Da'an), Robert Leeshock (Liam Kincaid), Jayne Heitmeyer (Renee Palmer), Kevin Kilner (William Boone), Lisa Howard (Lili Marquette), Von Flores (Ronald Sandoval), Anita LaSelva (Zo'or), Richard Chevolleau (Marcus "Augur" Deberaux), Alan Van Sprang (Howlyn), Frank Moore (Hubble Ulrich), David Hemblen (Jonathan Doors), Richard Zeppieri (Frank Tate), Majel Barrett (Julianne Belman), Miranda Kwok (Kwai Ling Hong), William deVry (Joshua Doors), John Evans (Lt. Bob Morowski), Barry Flatman (President Daniel Thompson).

2307 E.A.R.T.H. Force. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1990). At 8:47 A.M. on an unspecified day, an accident occurs at the Rideway Nuclear Plant. Fearful of calling in the government and having it botch the situation, billionaire industrialist Frederick Winter (Robert Coleby) organizes a special team of highly professional people to prevent a meltdown. When the team accomplishes its goal, they form E.A.R.T.H. (Earth Alert Research Tactical Headquarters) Alert Foundation. Their job: battle the enemies of the planet — polluters.

Dr. John Harding, previously the head of the City Hospital Medical Center, heads the team. He is the only American (the others are Australian) and is an expert in trauma emergencies. His Korean War experience and heroism make him a natural team leader.

Catherine Romano is a gorgeous marine biologist. She grew up in a scientific atmosphere and spent most of her childhood on her father's research ship, Life Saver. She is nicknamed "The Dolphin Lady" (for her amazing breakthroughs in dolphin research) and is an expert on containing oil spills. Catherine is extremely fond of animals, and it is through her eyes that stories of animal mistreatment or poaching are seen. Because of her marine studies, she will not eat fish.

Carl Dana is a top-notch nuclear physicist who quit his job to become an environmental activist (he worked for Greenpeace but was dismissed for being too radical). A year before joining the team, Dana threw sheep's blood on Frederick Winter's car in New York during a demonstration.

Peter Roland is a brilliant zoologist and anthropologist who is famous for his wildlife speeches. His is a recluse but finds himself at home with the native tribes and animals he studies. Peter is opposed to eating meat.

Charles Dillon is a mercenary who is an expert in surveillance and tracking and is only part of the team for the money Winter offers (the others receive unlimited research grants).

Diana Randall is Winter's beautiful aide, his "right-hand man," so to speak. While she does not actively participate in team missions, she is their "boss" and gets the team what they need for the job that has to be done.

The team incorporates a cargo plane, a helicopter called the Big Zebra (it has zebra stripes) and a Jeep; Diana has a Mercedes. The team's lab hamster is called "Harvey, the Hamster from Hell," and the foundation deer (which they rescued) is named Mr. Keegan. Green Machine was the series' original title. Theme: "The E.A.R.T.H. Force Theme," by Bill Conti.

Cast: Gil Gerard (John Harding), Tiffany Lamb (Catherine Romano), Clayton Rohner (Carl Dana), Robert Knepper (Peter Roland), Joanna Pacula (Diana Randall), Stewart Finlay-McLennan (Charles Dillon).

2308 Earth*Star Voyager. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 1988). The time: 100 years into the future. The premise: The exploits of Jake, Jonathan, Sally, Jessie, Luz, and Huxley, six outstanding Space Academy cadets, aged 14 to 24, who command the interstellar ship *Earth*Star Voyager*, as they set out to explore distant planets. The series ran for two episodes, from January 17, 1988 to January 24, 1988.

Cast: Duncan Regehr (Jake Brown), Brian McNamara (Captain Jonathan Hays), Julia Montgomery (Dr. Sally Arthur), Jason Michas (Jessie "Beanie" Beinstock), Margaret Langrick (Luz Sansone), Tom Brenahan (Huxley Welles), Peter Donat (Admiral Beasley).

2309 Earth 2. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 1994–1995). The series is set 200 years in the future. A girl named Devon Adair was born on one of the space stations that surround the Earth. She, like her parents and her grandparents, were born "on the stations." Things change, however, when a son (Ulysses, called Uly) is born to Devon. He suffers from a disease science refuses to admit exists called Syndrome (a lack of fresh air, fresh water "and a lack of Earth").

Devon and 250 other syndrome families fear the same thing will affect future generations (as well as themselves) and devise a plan (The Eden Project) to save the syndrome children by colonizing the New Pacifica charted area of a planet called G-8-89, which has an 83 percent habitability possibility—something that Devon is willing to take a chance on. The one drawback is that the planet is 22 light years away and each pioneer must spend that amount of time in hibernation (the time that is required to reach New Pacifica).

Time passes. After 22 years in space, Devon and her advance crew are awakened as their ship approaches the planet. However, a magnetic disruption of the programmed landing, forces this advance party ship to ditch their main ship and escape in pod crafts. The pods crash land on an uncharted portion of the planet where danger and strange creatures lurk at every turn. The subterranean species the Terrians and the less intellectual Grendlers inhabit the planet.

The mother ship, which contains 250 families is due to land in the target area, New Pacifica, in 26 months. Devon figures that if she and her crew can reach New Pacifica in nine months, it will give them 17 months to establish a homeland. The series follows their dangerous trek to find New Pacifica (their goal is to first build a hospital for the children who can't survive on the space stations).

Other Regulars: Dr. Julia Heller; Morgan Martin, the Deputy Secretary of Inter Stellar Development; Bess, Morgan's wife; and advance party pioneers John Danziger, True Danziger (John's daughter), Alonzo Solace, Yale, Commander Broderick O'Neill, Zero the Robot, Walman, Magus and Baines.

Cast: Debrah Farentino (Devon Adair), Joey Zimmerman (Ulysses Adair), Clancy Brown (John Danziger), J. Madison Wright (True Danziger), Richard Bradford (Broderick O'Neill), Rebecca Gayheart (Bess Martin), Jessica Steen (Julia Heller), John Gegenhuber (Morgan Martin), Sullivan Walker (Yale), Antonio Sabato, Jr. (Alonzo Solace), Tierre Turner (Zero), Walter Norman (Walman), Marcia Magus (Magus), Rockmond Dunbar (Baines).

2310 Earthbound. (Pilot; Science Fiction; NBC; 1/3 and 2/7/82). Zef, his wife, Lara, and their children Teva and Dale, are friendly aliens from another planet whose malfunctioning space craft strands them on Earth when they land near a small California town called Gold Rush. The family meet and befriend hotel owner Ned Anderson and his grandson, Tommy, who shelter them. However, a sinister U.S. government agent named Conrad, who has spent his entire career trying to prove that UFO's exist, is hot on their trail. The aliens possess the powers of telekinesis and invisibility and need a rare ore to repair their ship. The unsold series was to relate the alien family's adventures as they struggle to avoid Conrad, adapt the American way of life, and find the mineral they need to repair their craft and return home.

The pilot episode, which is set in Gold Rush, finds the aliens being exposed by Conrad and on a run for their lives when the town sheriff organizes a vigilante committee to find the craft.

Cast: Christopher Connelly (Zef), Meredith MacRae (Lara), Elissa Leeds (Teva), Marc Gilpin (Dale), Joseph Campanella (Conrad). Guest Cast: Burl Ives (Ned Anderson), John Schuck (Sheriff De- Rita), Todd Porter (Tommy), Peter Isaksen (Willy), Mindy Dow (Rosie), Stuart Pankin (Deputy Sweeney), Joey Forman (Madden), H.M. Wynant (Dave).

2311 The Earthlings. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/5/84). During the first flight of the Destiny, a space shuttle designed to carry passengers through space, the engines malfunction, and the crew and passengers are marooned in space. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they attempt to repair their craft and find their way back to Earth. The pilot episode depicts how the Earthlings acquire two additional passengers — (Jaza, an alien from beneath the moon's surface, and Zet, a marooned creature) — when they are accidentally transported to Jaza's planet and he offers to help them.

Other Regulars: The crew: Captain Jim Adams; co-pilot Cal; stewardess Sally; science officer Noah Green; and the passengers: Jane, D.J., Simon and Vince.

2312 Earthworm Jim. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1995–1996). A TV adaptation of the video game Earthworm Jim. One day an earthworm named Jim stumbles upon a strange-looking suit that, when he crawls into it, endows him with super powers — powers he uses to battle evil, namely Pscrow the Crow; Professor Monkey for a Head and Queen Slug for a Butt. Assisting Jim are Peter Puppy and his girlfriend, Princess What's Her Name.

2313 East Side/West Side. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1963–1964). New York City is the setting for a realistic look at the role the social worker in coping with the aged, the poor and the desperate of a large metropolis. Stories depict the problems and their handling as seen through the eyes of Neil Brock, a Manhattan social worker. Neil is a man who stands by his convictions and wants to see a better life for the people he represents. He says, "I hate filth, I hate people who don't know how to love. I hate laws, grafting cops; I hate landlords who jam 12 people into a room to make a profit from other people's misery."

Fredia “Hecky” Hechlinger is the agency director; Jane Foster is a secretary; Charles Hanson is the local Congressman. The series, which produced 26 episodes, ran from September 30, 1963 to September 14, 1964.

Cast: George C. Scott (Neil Brock), Elizabeth Wilson (Fredia “Hecky” Hechlinger), Cicely Tyson (Jane Foster), Linden Chiles (Charles Hanson).

2314 Eastwick. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 2002). An unsold pilot that was set to update the theatrical film The Witches of Eastwick (also a 1992 TV pilot; see The Witches of Eastwick). The story is set 15 years later. Each of the original witches (Jane, Alexandra and Sukie) have since married and are now the parents of teenage warlocks (Simon, Adam and Dakota). The proposed series was to focus on the antics of the warlocks of Eastwick.

Cast: Marcia Cross (Jane Spofford), Kelly Rutherford (Alexandra Medford), Lori Loughlin (Sukie Ridgemont), Jonathan Bennett (Simon), Chris Evans (Adam), Riley Smith (Dakota), Jason O’Mara (Daryl Van Horne).

2315 Easy Aces. (Series; Comedy; DuMont; 1949–1950). Events in the lives of the Aces: Jane, a scatterbrained wife, and Goodman, her husband, the recipient of her unpredictable antics. Jane doesn’t mean to complicate Goodman’s life. She just has an uncanny knack for complicating every situation she encounters. The series, based on the long-running radio program of the same title, aired from December 14, 1949 to June 7, 1950.

Cast: Goodman Ace (Goodman Ace), Jane Ace (Jane Ace), Betty Garde (Dorothy; Jane’s friend). Announcer: Ken Roberts.

2316 Easy Does It ... Starring Frankie Avalon. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1976). A summer program of music and songs with singer-actor Frankie Avalon as the host. The series also teams Frankie with Annette Funicello, his co-star from a series of 1960s theatrical Beach Party movies. The series ran from August 25, 1976 to September 15, 1976. Dick Clark, Bill Lee and Robert Arthur are the producers.

Host: Frankie Avalon. Regulars: Annette Funicello, Tim Reid, Susan Nesbitt. Orchestra: Vic Glaser.

2317 Easy Street. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1986). Easy Street refers to life at a luxurious Beverly Hills mansion located at 4163 Hillcrest Drive. L.K. McGuire, a glamorous ex-Las Vegas blackjack dealer, inherited the mansion following the accidental death of her husband, Ned, in a plane crash. To maintain controlling interest in the estate, L.K. (name never revealed) must share it with her snobbish sister-in-law, Eleanor, and her wimpy husband, Quentin Standard.

Shortly after, when L.K. learns that her impoverished uncle, Alvin (“Bully”) Stevenson, is living in Los Angeles at the Shady Grove Retirement Home, she invites him and his equally impoverished roommate, Ricardo Williams, to spend the weekend at the mansion. Suddenly, the dreary mansion becomes what L.K. considers a home, and she extends an invitation for Bully and Ricardo to live with her (over Eleanor’s objections). Stories relate the problems that occur as an unlikely “family” struggles to live together in a 17 room, four bathroom mansion.

L.K., who loves parties and wearing stunning gowns, is a gorgeous blonde who enjoys her new lifestyle but worries that Eleanor’s dreary outlook on life may one day rub off on her. Her biggest challenge is to change the conservative, always businesslike Eleanor’s outlook on life. Quentin, who has been married to Eleanor for four years, is an investment broker who is hopelessly henpecked.

Bobby is the mansion butler; Angelica is the maid; and Ravenskeep is the rather strange gardener (there is a horror film-like air about him). Loni Anderson sings the “Easy Street” theme.

Cast: Loni Anderson (L.K. McGuire), Jack Elam (Alvin “Bully” Stevenson), Lee Weaver (Ricardo Williams), Dana Ivey (Eleanor Standard), James Cromwell (Quentin Standard), Arthur Malet (Bobby the Butler), Amy Aquino (Angelica), Richard Sanders (Ravenskeep).

2318 Ebony, Ivory and Jade. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 8/3/79). Nick Jade is a former tennis bum turned Las Vegas song and dance man who manages Claire Bryant and Maggie David, two beautiful singers known as Ebony and Ivory. They work the night club circuit (as the act Ebony, Ivory and Jade) as a cover for their assignments as operatives for the Central Intelligence Agency. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they tackle highly dangerous cases. In the pilot episode, Nick and the girls struggle to protect a lady scientist (Adela) from international hit men as she travels from the Far East to Washington, D.C., with a secret formula.

Cast: Bert Convy (Nick Jade), Debbie Allen (Claire Bryant), Martha Smith (Maggie David). Guest Cast: Nina Foch (Dr. Adela Teba), Claude Akins (Joe Blair), Donald Moffat (Ian Cabot), David Brenner (Himself), Frankie Valli (Himself), Ji-Tu Cumbuka (Thurston), Lucille Benson (Mrs. Stone).

2319 Ed. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2000–2004). Stuckyville is a small town that is representative of an Anytown, U.S.A. It is here that Ed Stevens finds refuge after he is fired from his high profile New York City law firm (Farmer and Sheehan; he separated from his wife after she slept with the mailman. He then made an error with a comma on a contract that cost his firm $1.6 million).

Shortly after arriving in his hometown, Ed purchases the local bowling alley (Stucky Bowl) and opens his own law practice in the building.

It is also here that Ed rekindles his love with Carol Vessey, his high school sweetheart (they marry in the last episode, "Best Wishes"). Stories follow the events in Ed's life as he readjusts to small town life and interacts with the people of Stuckyville. Carol teaches at Stuckyville High School; Shirley and Kenny work for Ed in the bowling alley portion of the law firm.

Cast: Thomas Cavanaugh (Ed Stevens), Julie Bowen (Carol Vessey), Rachel Cronin (Shirley Pifko), Mike Starr (Kenny Sandusky), Josh Randall (Dr. Mike Burton), Gregory Harrison (Nick Stanton), Jana Marie Hupp (Nancy Burton), Lesley Boone (Molly Hudson), Michael Ian Black (Phil Stubbs), Warren Cheswick (Justin Long), Daryl "Chill" Mitchell (Eli Goggins), Ginnifer Goodwin (Diane Snyder), Michael Genadry (Mark Vanacort).

2320 The Ed and Pegeen Fitzgerald Show. (Live Test Program; Variety; DuMont; 7/16, 7/23, 7/30/46). A three-episode tryout for a variety series built around "An Evening at Home with Marrieds Ed and Pegeen Fitzgerald" (radio personalities). The shows were set in a living room and featured the friends of the couple who just happened to stop by to chat, play party games and either sing or dance.

Hosts: Ed and Pegeen Fitzgerald.

2321 The Ed Begley, Jr. Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/7/89). Shortly after his Seattle TV show, Hobo Ed, is canceled, Ed Hobart finds a new career as a city councilman when he fills in for his wife, Carol, who leaves to have their baby. The pilot episode relates the unsold series storyline as Ed begins his duties as a councilman and father. Other Regulars: Anna, Ed's aide; Steven, Ed's brother; Marlene, Steve's wife.

Cast: Ed Begley, Jr. (Ed Hobart), Wendie Malick (Carol Hobart), Gina Belafonte (Anna), Sherman Howard (Steven Hobart), Randy Graff (Marlene Hobart). Guest Cast: Howard Duff (Councilman Slaney), James McDonnell (Dean Foster), Debra Rogers (Karen), Nealla Spano (Reporter), Kevin Rodney (Doctor), Phyllis Flax (Clerk), Robert Cornthwaite (Judge), Victor Millan (Councilman Figueroa), Lang Yun (Councilwoman Ling).

2322 The Ed Sullivan Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1948–1971). A weekly series that features performances by the top names in entertainment. The program is probably best known for introducing audiences to Elvis Presley and The Beatles as well as international stars, performers from the Broadway stage and circus-like variety acts.

The series ran as Toast of the Town from June 10, 1948 to September 18, 1955; and as The Ed Sullivan Show from September 25, 1955 to September 6, 1971.

A Typical program opening (Announcer): "Good evening ladies and gentlemen, tonight, from New York, The Ed Sullivan Show, brought to you by Nabisco, makers of Shredded Wheat.... Premium Saltine Crackers.... Oreo Crème Sandwich Cookies and so many other good things to eat. And by Pall Mall Gold One Hundreds — extra long at both ends, so it filters farther for a milder smoke, puff after puff, milder than ever. And now, live from New York, Ed Sullivan...."

Host: Ed Sullivan. Commercial Spokeswoman: Julia Meade. Regularly Appearing: Jim Henson's Muppets, The Toastettes Chorus Line, The Hugh Lambert Dancers. Announcer: Ralph Paul.

2323 The Ed Wynn Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949–1950). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy skits based on Ed Wynn's radio program of the same title. The series ran from October 6, 1949 to July 4, 1950. Harlan Thompson is the producer.

Host: Ed Wynn. Regulars: Ben Wrigley, Edith Piaf, The Hannaford Family, The Merriell Dancers. Announcer: Bob LeMond. Orchestra: Lud Gluskin.

2324 The Ed Wynn Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1958–1959). John Beamer is a widower and retired businessman living in a small Midwestern college town. Eighteen year old Midge and her younger sister, Laurie (nine years old) live with him. Midge and Laurie have recently become orphaned following the death of their parents in a car accident. Stories relate the jovial, kind-hearted John's efforts to raise his slightly mischievous granddaughters. Ernie Hinshaw and Mayor Brandon are John's friends. The series ran from September 25, 1958 to January 1, 1959.

Cast: Ed Wynn (John Beamer), Jacklyn O'Donnell (Laurie Beamer), Sherry Alberoni (Midge Beamer), Herb Vigran (Ernie Hinshaw), Clarence Straight (Mayor Brandon).

2325 Ed, Edd, Eddy. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 1999–2005). Ed, Edd and Eddy are three moronic boys who not only share the same first name (although spelled differently) but they are also neighbors in an area called Peach Creek Estates. They also have a knack for finding trouble in everything they do. Stories basically focus on the antics of the three friends as they experience the pains of adolescence and do what they do best — devise scams to acquire money to buy their favorite candy — jaw-breakers.

2326 Eddie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/5/71). Eddie Skinner is a private patrolman for the El Dorado Estates, a posh residential community in Bel Air, California. The unsold series was to relate Eddie's antics as he manipulates his co-workers for his own benefit (as star Phil Silvers did as Sergeant Ernie Bilko on The Phil Silvers Show).

Cast: Phil Silvers (Eddie Skinner), Fred Clark (Chief Pike), Frank Faylen (Patrolman Callahan). Guest Cast: Joanna Barnes (Sylvia), Edward Andrews (Mr. Milburn), Nora Marlowe (Cook), Patricia Barry (Mrs. Milburn).

2327 The Eddie Albert Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1953). A weekly program of music and comedy with actor Eddie Albert as the host. The series, which produced 9 episodes, ran from March 2, 1953 to May 8, 1953. Franklin Heller is the producer.

Host: Eddie Albert. Vocalist: Ellen Hanley. Music: The Norman Paris Trio.

2328 Eddie and Herbert. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/30/77). Eddie Scanlon and Herbert Draper are friends and co-workers. They are both married (Eddie to Madge; Herbert to Dorine), and are both meter readers for the Department of Power and Water. Eddie is pompous and opinionated; Herbert is naive and worships Eddie. The unsold series was to focus on incidents in their lives. The pilot episode focuses on Eddie's attempts to grab the brass ring of life, and the turmoil he causes for all concerned because of his philosophies.

Cast: Jeffrey Tambor (Eddie Scanlon), James Cromwell (Herbert Draper), Marilyn Mayer (Madge Scanlon), Candice Azzara (Dorine Draper).

2329 The Eddie Cantor Comedy Theater. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1955). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Eddie Cantor as the host.

Host: Eddie Cantor. Regulars: Helen O'Connell, Billie Burke, Ralph Peters, Frank Jenks, Pierre Watkin. Orchestra: Ray Anthony.

2330 The Eddie Capra Mysteries. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1978–1979). Eddie Capra, an attorney with the mind of a detective, was born in Brooklyn, New York, and attended Brooklyn Polytech High School. After graduating from the New York University School of Law, he acquired a job in Los Angeles with the prestigious law firm of Devlin, Linkman and O'Brien. Unlike the three-piece-suit attorney, Eddie is unconventional; he dresses casually, takes a real interest in his clients' problems, and will go to any lengths to prove them innocent—even if it means breaking all the rules (which causes friction between Eddie and his employer, J.J. Devlin, the only one of the three partners who is seen).

Lacey Brown is Eddie's romantic interest, the receptionist at the law firm. She is divorced and has custody of her 11-year old daughter, Jennie. Jennie attends Franklin Elementary School and longs to be a professional singer-guitarist like her adult friend, Julie Heller (Tricia O'Neil).

Harvey Mitchell, Eddie's legman, is studying to become a lawyer. He strives to be like Eddie but falls short when push comes to shove.

Theme: "Theme from the Eddie Capra Mysteries," by John Addison.

Cast: Vincent Baggetta (Eddie Capra), Wendy Phillips (Lacey Brown), Ken Swofford (J.J. Devlin), Seven Ann McDonald (Jennie Brown), Michael Horton (Harvey Mitchell), Renata Vanni (Eddie's Aunt Teresa).

2331 The Eddie Condon Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949–1950). The program, which ran from January 1, 1949 to June 24, 1950, capitalizes on the audience thirst for music and spotlights performances by jazz musicians.

Host: Eddie Condon, Carl Reiner. Regulars: Billy Butterfield, Joe Bushkin, Sidney Beckett, Pee-wee Russell. Orchestra: Eddie Condon.

2332 Eddie Dodd. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1991). A TV adaptation of the feature film True Believer, which chronicles the exploits of Edward ("Eddie"), a tough defense attorney who tackles the cases nobody else wants.

Eddie, who attended the Columbia School of Law, is a private practice attorney who claims that breaking the Stuyvesant case (government corruption in a nuclear power plant) "put him on the map." The street taught Eddie how to fight, but law school taught him how to win. Eddie lives on Sheridan Square in Manhattan and has an office above the Grove Pharmacy in New York City.

In the pilot episode it was mentioned that Eddie has been practicing law for 20 years; the second episode placed Eddie at 39 years of age and about to celebrate his fortieth birthday (TV's Eddie Dodd was made ten years younger than his film counterpart; a script error was apparently overlooked, as no mention was made that Eddie was evidently a child genius who graduated from law school at age 19).

Roger Baron is Eddie's associate; Eddie is short-tempered and "Roger keeps me from blowing my cool; he makes me see the light." Kitty Greer is Eddie's legman; Billie is Eddie's 24-year-old secretary-receptionist (she answers the phone with "Law offices, may I help you?"). Jessica Tilden is Eddie's love interest, a tough prosecuting attorney for the Manhattan D.A.'s office.

Robert King appeared as Roger's father, Mr. Baron, in one episode. In the original unaired pilot version, titled True Believer, Mary Mara played Kitty Greer. Dennis McCarthy composed the theme.

2333 The Eddie Fisher Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957–1959). An hour of music and songs with singer Eddie Fisher as the host. The program alternates weekly with The George Gobel Show and ran from September 24, 1957 to March 17, 1959.

Host: Eddie Fisher. Regulars: George Gobel, Debbie Reynolds, Erin O'Brien, The Johnny Mann Singers. Orchestra: Buddy Bregman.

2334 The Eddy Arnold Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; NBC; 1952–1953). A weekly program of country and western music with singer Eddy Arnold as the host. The series ran on CBS from July 14, 1952 to August 22, 1952; and on NBC from July 7, 1953 to October 1, 1953.

Host: Eddy Arnold. Regulars: Chet Atkins, The Dickens Sisters. Music: Paul Mitchell's Instrumental Quintet.

2335 Eddy Arnold Time. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956). The program features performances by country and western artists with singer Eddy Arnold as the host. The series ran from April 20, 1956 to July 19, 1956.

Host: Eddy Arnold. Regulars: Betty Johnson, The Jordanaires Quartet. Orchestra: Russ Case.

2336 Eden. (Series; Drama; USA; 1992–1993). Eden is an exclusive resort owned by the Sinclair family. Grant and his brother Josh run the resort; Eve is Grant's wife; Randi Banks is the athletic director; B.D. Thomas is the scuba instructor.

While stories revolve around the people who come to vacation at the resort, it also focuses on Eve after Grant is killed in a boating accident. It is almost two years since Grant's death (when the series begins) and Eve is still single. A condition of Grant's will stipulated that, for Eve to remain in control of Eden, she must remarry within two years of his death. Eve, however, still loves Grant and is struggling to overcome recurring erotic dreams and fantasies caused by the accident. As the deadline approaches, Eve must learn to suppress her feelings for Grant and move on. Particular attention is paid to this aspect as Eve attempts to meet the conditions of the will and assume her place as the head of Eden.

Cast: Barbara Alyn Woods (Eve Sinclair), Steve Chase (Josh Sinclair), Darcy DeMoss (Randi Banks), Jack Armstrong (B.D. Thomas).

2337 The Edgar Wallace Mystery Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1963). A series of 39 mystery stories based on the works of author Edgar Wallace. Casts and stories vary with each episode of the British-produced series.

2338 The Edge of Night. (Series; Serial; CBS; ABC; 1956–1975 (CBS); 1975–1984 (ABC). The series, set in the turbulent Midwestern city of Monticello, follows the lives of ordinary people who are driven by intense feeling and difficult circumstances. Emphasis is placed on crime detection methods and courtroom proceedings. The series produced 7,420 episodes.

Cast: John Larkin (Mike Kerr), Lawrence Hugo (John Karr), Forrest Compton (Mike Karr), Ann Flood (Nancy Karr), Teal Ames (Sarah Lane), Maxine Stuart (Grace O'Leary), Don Hastings (Jackie Lane), Donald May (Adam Drake), Fran Sharon (Cookie Christopher), Stanley Grover (Dr. Kevin Reed), Walter Greaza (Winston Grimsley), Larry Hagman (Ed Gibson), Burt Douglas (Ron Christopher), Jan Farrand (Kate Sloane), Dorothy Lyman (Elly Jo Jamison), Jamison Scott (Raven Alexander), Juanin Clay (Raven Alexander), Sharon Gabet (Raven Alexander), Ray MacDonnell (Philip Caprice), Robert Webber (Philip Caprice), Alan Manson (Ken Emerson), Allen Nourse (Joe Pollock), John Gibson (Joe Pollock), Lynn Redgrave (Tango), Conrad Fowkes (Steve Prentiss), Mary Fickett (Dr. Katherine Lovell), Barbara Hayes (Ruth Tuttle), George Hall (Ernie), James Ray (Bart Fletcher), Dolph Sweet (Harry Constable), Alan Feinstein (Dr. Jim Fields), Alberta Grant (Liz Hillyer), Sam Grey (Frank Sloane), Teri Keane (Martha Marceau), Alan Feinstein (Bill Marceau), Carl Frank (Bill Marceau), Mandel Kramer (Bill Marceau), Lester Rawlins (Orin Hillyer), Hugh Riley (Simon Jessup), Ted Tinling (Vic Lamont), Frances Beers (Nurse Hubbell), Mary Hayden (Trudy), Fred J. 2339 The Edison Twins. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 1983). Annie and Tom Edison are 16-year-old twins who fancy themselves as amateur detectives and use scientific principals to solve mysteries (with the often unwanted help of their younger brother Paul). Each episode concludes with an animated segment that explains the scientific principals used by Annie and Tom to solve the mystery.

2340 The Edward Arnold Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1954). A series of dramas, hosted by actor Edward Arnold that are produced especially for syndication. Casts vary with each presentation.

Host: Eddy Arnold.

2341 Eek! The Cat. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1992–1997). The program consists of two animated segments: Eek the Cat and The Thunder Lizards.

The first segment follows the mishaps of Eek, a chubby purple cat who feels it is his duty to help people and happily goes about doing so with his motto “It never hurts to help.” Unfortunately for Eek, he is the only one who gets hurt in his efforts to be a do-gooder. Annabelle is Eek’s overweight girlfriend; Mittens and Elmo Elk are their friends.

The Thunder Lizards is set in a prehistoric era where the adventures of two cavemen, Bill and Scooter, are depicted. Scooter is an inventor who is constantly trying to show Bill his latest invention. Bill isn’t too interested as his number one thought is avoiding the Thunder Lizards, a group of misfit dinosaurs with one common goal: destroy Bill and Scooter.

2342 Eerie, Indiana. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1991–1992). The population of Eerie, Indiana, is 16,601. Daylight Savings Time does not exist here because the lost hour that occurs exists only in Eerie (if you set your clock back you upset the time-space continuum and live in a non-time zone). The town newspaper is the Eerie Examiner; the Eerie Dairy provides the town with Eerie Milk (“An utter delight”) and the only department store is the World O’ Stuff; WERD is its only TV station; and the Eerie Bank offers a free toaster with every new account. The area’s only motorcycle gang is the Lost Ones. Beneath the town lives Mr. Large Poole, the proprietor of the Bureau of the Lost (he is a certified reappropriation engineer, a man who takes items from people so they will replace them and keep the economy going). The citizens celebrate Tornado Day (once a year a tornado named Bob strikes the town), and Eerie's sister city is Normal, Illinois.

Statistically speaking, Eerie appears to be the most normal place in the entire country. But one boy, Marshall Teller, believes Eerie is the center of weirdness for the entire planet: "Ever since moving here I've been convinced that there is something wrong with Eerie, Indiana."

Marshall, his sister, Syndi, and their parents, Edgar and Marilyn, moved to Eerie (from New Jersey) to find a wholesome life. Bigfoot eats out of their garbage can, and Elvis Presley is on Marshall's paper route. People preserve themselves in giant plastic kitchen containers called "Forever Wear," and women care more about vacuum-fresh food than they do about their husbands.

Edgar Teller is a scientist for Things, Inc. He did his internship at the Smithsonian and undergraduate work at Syracuse University; he received a NASA scholarship to MIT. Marilyn runs the Teller Party Planning Service in the Eerie Mall and Syndi attends Eerie High School.

Marshall is in seventh grade at Eerie Grammar School. He has two lizards named Godzilla and Mothra. He also has a friend named Simon Holmes: "I let him hang around because his parents don't seem to want him around. He's also the only one who believes me about Eerie." Marshall and Simon have a secret evidence locker where they store all the evidence they have found (for example, a petrified bologna sandwich, a watch set on Daylight Savings Time). Stories follow Marshall's adventures as he gathers the evidence he needs to prove that Eerie "is the weirdest place on Earth."

Bartholomew J. Radford is the owner of the World O' Stuff; Harley Holmes is Simon's brother. Gary Chang composed the theme. See the following title also.

Cast: Omri Katz (Marshall Teller), Justin Shenkarow (Simon Holmes), Francis Guinan (Edgar Teller), Mary Margaret Humes (Marilyn Teller), Julie Condra (Syndi Teller), Henry Gibson (Mr. Large Poole), Steven Peri (Elvis), John Astin (Bartholomew J. Radford), Christian Cousins (Harley Holmes).

2343 Eerie, Indiana: The Other Dimension. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1998). An updated version of Eerie, Indiana, where the town was depicted as "the weirdest place on Earth" (see Eerie, Indiana for further information). Here, in the update, two teenagers, Mitchell Taylor and Stanley Hope have discovered that Eerie is, indeed, a strange place. Weird things happen but only they seem to notice. To hopefully prove to others what they already know, Mitchell and Stanley begin collecting evidence of the strange phenomena they encounter and can only attribute to as weird. Their one believer is Mr. Crawford, a bartender who helps them when they get in over their heads. Stories follow Mitchell and Stanley as they try to prove to others what they already know — Eerie is eerie.

Cast: Bill Switzer (Mitchell Taylor), Daniel Clark (Stanley Hope), Lindy Booth (Carrie Taylor), Bruce Hunter (Edward Taylor), Deborah Odell (Mrs. Taylor), Neil Crone (Mr. Crawford).

2344 Egan. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 9/18/73). A proposed series based on the real-life exploits of Eddie "Popeye" Egan, the famous policeman from the feature film The French Connection. Here, Eddie is a former New York City detective now working for the L.A.P.D. In the pilot episode, Egan seeks Ida Deveaux, a bag woman for the syndicate who is also the link to her brother, Jack, who killed a detective friend of Egan's. Egan is given 24 hours by his captain, Walter Jones, to solve the case (Egan captures Ida and finds it is Jack — who killed his sister and is now impersonating her).

Cast: Eugene Roche (Eddie Egan), Dabney Coleman (Captain Walter Jones), Glenn Corbett (Detective Burke). Guest Cast: John Anderson (J.R. King), John Karlen (Ida/Jack Deveaux), Michael Bell (Bobby), Marian Collier (Woman in shower), Fred Holliday (Desk clerk), Shannon Farnon (Officer), Del Monroe (Phil Califano).

2345 The Egg and I. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1951–1952). Allagain County is a small farming community in upstate New York. Betty Blake and her husband, Jim Blake, are "city slickers" who sell their Manhattan home for the pleasures of country living as the owners of a chicken farm. Betty takes care of the planting; Jim and their handyman Jed Simmons tackle the other chores.

Ma and Pa Kettle are the Blakes' neighbors. Ma and Pa (no other names given) married in 1912; Pa is lazy and, according to Ma, "He could be the best worker in all of Allagain County." "I could," Pa says, "But I don't want to." They have a pig named Penny. Goods are purchased at Ed Peabody's General Store. The series is based on the book by Betty MacDonald.

Announcer Allyn Edwards opens the show: "Ivory Flakes, the sheer, safe flakes that keep your lovely clothes looking new and beautify hands that wash dishes, now bring you The Egg and I by Betty MacDonald and starring Betty Lynn as Betty and John Craven as John. Today's episode, "Pa Turns Over a Leaf."

2346 Eight Is Enough. (Series; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1978–1981). Thomas (“Tom”) Bradford is a columnist for the Sacramento Register. He lives at 1436 Oak Street in Sacramento, California, with his current wife, Abby, and his eight children (from a previous marriage to Joan Wells. Joanie, as Tom called her, was married to Tom for 25 years and loved photography. Joanie “died” when Diana Hyland lost her life to cancer in 1977). The children are David, Mary, Joanie, Nancy, Susan, Tommy Elizabeth and Nicholas.

Sandra Sue Mitchell, called Abby, became Tom’s second wife. She is a guidance counselor at Memorial High School and lived at 1412 Compton Place prior to her marriage (Frank, her first husband, died as a P.O.W. in Vietnam).

David, the oldest Bradford child, is a contractor. He originally worked for the Mann Construction Company before forming Bradford Construction with his father. David dated and later married Janet McCarther, a lawyer with the firm of Goodman, Saxon and Tweedy. Janet lived at 2475 DeVanna Place and later worked for the firm of Ted O’Hara and Associates. Mark Hamill played David in the pilot episode.

Mary is the most studious of the Bradford children. She is in medical school and struggling to become a doctor. She interns at Saint Mary’s Hospital where her inspiration, Dr. Craig Maxwell, also practices. Craig, who is a family friend and called Dr. Max, was also associated with Sacramento General and Sacramento Memorial Hospital.

Joanie, named after her mother, has her mother’s eyes, smile and sensitivity. She works as a researcher, then reporter for KTNS-TV, Channel 8, in Sacramento. While all the Bradford children found it difficult to adjust to Abby at first, it was Joanie who felt the most out of place (Joanie believed that because she bore her mother’s name and looked like her, Abby resented her).

Nancy, the prettiest of the Bradford girls, attended Sacramento High School, but dropped out of State College when she felt incapable of doing the required work. Before acquiring a job at the Bates, Callahan and Chester brokerage house (later called the Fenwick, Hargrove and Elliott brokerage house), Nancy worked as a model and appeared on the cover of Epitome magazine; she was also the “Sunshine Soda Girl” in TV commercials. Kimberly Beck played Nancy in the pilot episode.

Susan, the most sensitive of the Bradford children, attended Sacramento Central High School and, while undecided about her future, attempted to become a police officer (but failed the physical endurance test). Her fondness for children, and a disastrous attempt by Nancy to start a day care center, led Susan to find her true calling in an unnamed day care center. Susan later married Merle (“The Pearl”)

Stockwell, a minor league pitcher for the Cyclones baseball team who later became a pitcher for the New York Mets. In 1981, after an arm injury ended his career, he became a coach at Central High School.

Tommy, the most troublesome of the Bradford children, attends Sacramento High and formed his own band, Tommy and the Actions. Tommy constantly rebels against parental authority and longs to quit school and become a rock musician. Chris English played Tommy in the pilot episode.

Elizabeth is the youngest of the Bradford girls. She attended Sacramento Central High School then Sacramento Junior College. She is studying dance and hopes to become a professional dancer. Although she is very pretty, she feels awkward around boys (“I’m like a cross between Marie Osmond and a kewpie doll”).

Nicholas is the youngest of the children. He attends the Goodwin-Knight Elementary School. He was the ring bearer at Tom and Abby’s wedding, best man at Susan and Merle’s wedding.

On October 18, 1987, NBC aired the television movie Eight Is Enough: A Family Reunion. Tom is now editor of the Sacramento Register, and Abby (played by Mary Frann) owns her own restaurant (the Delta Supper Club). Mary, now a doctor, is married to Chuck (Jonathan Perpitch); Susan and Merle have a daughter named Sandy (Amy Gibson).

Elizabeth and her husband, Mark (Peter Nelson), own a car restoration business; Tommy is a struggling lounge singer. Joanie, an actress, married film director Jean Pierre (Paul Rosilli); David, an architect, is divorced from Janet. Nancy is married to Jeb (Christopher McDonald) and is now a sheep rancher; Nicholas is in college.

In a second television movie, An Eight Is Enough Wedding (NBC, October 5, 1989), David marries his second wife, Marilyn (“Mike”) Fulbright (Nancy Everhard). The role of Abby is now played by Sandy Faison.

Relatives: Janis Paige (Tom’s sister, Vivian [“Auntie V”] Bradford), David Wayne (Tom’s father, Matt Bradford), Dennis Patrick and Robert Rockwell (Abby’s father, Harry Mitchell), Louise Latham (Abby’s mother, Katherine Mitchell), Ralph Macchio (Abby’s nephew, Jeremy Andretti), Sylvia Sidney (Abby’s aunt, Felicity), Joan Tompkins (Joan’s mother, Gertie Wells), Robert F. Simon (Joan’s father, Paul Wells), Richard Herd (Janet’s father, George McCarther), Fay de Wit and Emmaline Henry (Janet’s mother, Sylvia McCarther), Sondra West (Merle’s sister, Linda Mae Stockwell).

Cast: Dick Van Patten (Tom Bradford), Diana Hyland (Joan Bradford), Betty Buckley (Abby Bradford), Lani O’Grady (Mary Bradford), Laurie Walters (Joanie Bradford), Dianne Kay (Nancy Brad- ford), Connie Needham (Elizabeth Bradford), Susan Richardson (Susan Bradford), Grant Goodeve (David Bradford), Willie Aames (Tommy Bradford), Adam Rich (Nicholas Bradford), Joan Prather (Janet McCarther), Lucy Saroyan (Donna; Tom's secretary; pilot), Jennifer Darling (Donna; series), Michael Thoma (Dr. Craig Maxwell), Virginia Vincent (Daisy Maxwell; Craig's wife), Brian Patrick Clarke (Merle "The Pearl" Stockwell), Michael Goodrow (Ernie Fields; Tommy's friend), Cyndi Bain (Tammi; Ernie's girlfriend), James Karen (Elliott Randolph; Tom's publisher), Nicholas Pryor (Jeffrey Trout; Joanie's employer), Jack Elam (Joe Simons; Nicholas's friend), Kate Woodville (Ms. Chovick; Nancy's employer), K.C. Martel (Marvin Harris; Nicholas's friend), Michele Greene (Jill Cassidy; Tommy's girlfriend), Keith Mitchell (Vincent; Nicholas's friend), Jeff Cotter (Irving Moore; Nicholas's friend), Vernee Watson (Jackie Calhoun; Abby's school assistant), Elizabeth Dorman (Law firm receptionist), John Louie (Melvin; Nicholas's friend). Theme Vocal: "Eight Is Enough" by Grant Goodeve.

2347 8 Simple Rules for Dating My Teenage Daughter. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2002–2005). Paul Hennessy is a sports columnist for the Detroit Post and has "8 Simple Rules" if a boy wants to date either one of his teenage daughters (Bridget or Kerry):

1. Use your hands on my daughter and you'll lose them later.
2. You make her cry, I'll make you cry.
3. Safe sex is a myth. Anything you try will be hazardous to your health.
4. Bring her home late, there's no next date.
5. Only deliverymen honk. Dates ring doorbells.
6. No complaining while waiting for her. If you're bored, change my oil.
7. If your pants hang off your hip, I'll gladly secure them with my staple gun.
8. Dates must be in crowded public places. You want romance — read a book.

Paul is married to Cate and also the father of a son (Rory). Cate is first a nurse at an unnamed hospital then the school nurse at Liberty High School (the school attended by Bridget and Kerry).

Paul graduated from Ohio State University and covered the Detroit Tigers before becoming a columnist. Cate is addicted to coffee and has a fantasy about singing in a smoke-filled bar and wearing a sexy dress. She is much more strict when it comes to disciplining the kids than Paul.

Bridget is 16 years old. She is blonde, beautiful, self-centered and a bit dense. She is also a material girl and believes she can do nothing wrong ("I'm a winner at everything I do"). She cannot resist clothes ("I look good in anything") and is obsessed with her looks ("I'm a goddess"). Bridget believes that she can get through life on her looks alone and wears, for special occasions, what she calls her "Boob dresses, leg dresses and butt dresses."

Kerry, the middle child (15 years old), is a redhead, quite intelligent, very pretty and jealous of Bridget for all the attention she gets from boys. Kerry is a member of the cheerleading team (the Owls), the debate team and the drama club at school. She is a wise acre and very negative about everything. She also cares too much about what people think about her and is thus very hard on herself.

Rory is 13 years old and perhaps best described as a troublemaker. He delights in spying on Bridget and Kerry and tattling on them. He knows how to get out of doing things because he tells his parents what they want to hear. He also hosts his own web site, "Web Master X"

In the fall of 2003 after the passing of John Ritter (his character was said to have had a heart attack), James Garner was brought on as Cate's father, Jim Egan, to help Cate raise the children. David Spade as C.J. Barnes, Cate's nephew joined the cast a year later to complicate life rather than help with the kids. Ed Gibb is the high school principal.

Cast: John Ritter (Paul Hennessy), Katey Sagal (Cate Hennessy), Kaley Cuoco (Bridget Hennessy), Amy Davidson (Kerry Hennessy), Martin Spanjers (Rory Hennessy), James Garner (Jim Egan), David Spade (C.J. Barnes), Adam Arkin (Principal Ed Gibb).

2348 18 Wheels of Justice. (Series; Adventure; TNN; 2000–2001). Chance Bowman, alias Michael Cates, and Celia "Cie" Baxter, alias Katherine Spencer, are crime fighters who have one thing in common: They are both in the Federal Witness Protection Program and both ride the highways of America in a high-tech Kenworth T-2000 18-wheel truck that is the prototype for the Kenworth Project, a trucking program that not only transports goods, but key witnesses in criminal prosecution cases.

For Michael, a former Army Ranger turned Federal agent, it began when he testified against Jacob Calder, a notorious crime lord. Shortly after, Michael's wife and child are killed in a retaliation explosion Michael believes was ordered by Calder. To protect Michael, Burton Hardesty, Chief of the Justice Department, arranges for Michael to have a new identity (Chance Bowman) and a new occupation (longhaul trucker). Hardesty believes that the best address for Chance is no address at all (as a Ranger, Michael had experience operating heavy machinery when he was assigned to clear land for airfields).

Katherine, age 27, was born in Louisville, Kentucky, in 1972. Her father is a law professor; her mother an eighth grade teacher, and she is one of five children. Katherine, educated in a private girls' school in Charlotte, attended Virginia Tech and specialized in micro technology. She was later recruited by the Justice Department for her work in surveillance technology. Katherine was also an instrumental witness in the final stages of a high profile criminal case.

When an internal leak revealed her to be a key witness, a contract was put on her life. To protect her, the department gave her a new identity (Cie Baxter), relocated her to California and put her to work on the Kenworth Project.

Because the truck is needed by the Justice Department for immediate operations, it is placed in the field before it is actually ready. Not willing to see “my baby” destroyed, Cie becomes Chance’s partner to help him with his assignments and care for the truck she created.

Chance is determined to avenge the death of his wife and daughter. He was originally depicted as somewhat passive, hauling goods (and witnesses) and stopping crime wherever he found it. However, when Calder is released from jail on a technicality, Chance becomes more aggressive and is now determined to bring Calder to justice and end his ring of organized crime. Complicating matters is the fact that Calder is aware of Michael’s new identity and has taken a personal interest in seeing that he (and his hit men) get Chance before Chance can get the goods on him.

Features of the aerodynamic blue Kenworth T-2000 Advanced Technology Truck include a fingerprint identification system that can identify individual truckers; a navigation system that can talk a driver to a destination; and a safety monitoring system that even detects drowsiness in a driver.

Cast: Lucky Vanous (Chance Bowman), Lisa Thornhill (Katherine Spencer), G. Gordon Liddy (Jacob Calder), Billy Dee Williams (Burton Hardesty).

2349 8th and Ocean. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2006). The title refers to an address in the South Beach section of Florida that is the temporary home of ten gorgeous professional models. The program presents a behind-the-scenes look at the harsh world of fashion modeling. It follows the girls as they go about acquiring shoots and face the exhausting work that is part of the fashion world.

Hostess: Irene Marie.

2350 The Eighth Man. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1965). After Metro City Police Force Agent Peter Brady is killed attempting to apprehend Saucer Lip, the most wanted of criminals, Professor Genius embodies Brady’s life force into that of Tobor the Eighth Man, an indestructible robot that appears in the image of the mild-mannered Brady. Stories relate Brady’s battle, as Tobor, against evil, and his attempts to apprehend his killer, Saucer Lip. Produced in Japan and dubbed in English.

Voice Cast: Jerry Berke (Peter Brady/Tobor), Bob Gaynor (Chief Fumblethumbs), Sandy Warshaw (Jenny/Skip), Jact Metger (Dr. Spectra).

2351 87th Precinct. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1961–1962). The grim day-to-day activities of the plainclothes detectives attached to the Manhattan 87th police precinct in New York City. Steve Carella is the featured detective; he is married to Teddy (who is deaf); Bert Kling, Meyer Meyer and Roger Havilland are fellow detectives. See the following title also.

Cast: Robert Lansing (Steve Carella), Gena Rowlands (Teddy Carella), Ron Harper (Ron Kling), Norman Fell (Meyer Meyer), Gregory Walcott (Roger Havilland), Ruth Storey (Sarah Meyer, Meyer’s wife), Andrea Margolis (Norma Meyer, Meyer’s daughter), Larry Adare (Buckey Meyer, Meyer’s son). Theme Song: “Theme from 87th Precinct” by Morton Stevens.

2352 87th Precinct. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/19/95). The grueling day-to-day assignments of Steve Carella and Bert Kling, homicide detectives with the Manhattan 87th Precinct in New York City. In the pilot episode, Steve and Bert search for a clever and elusive killer who is ritually murdering young female track stars. Based on the novel Lightning by Ed McBain.

Other Regulars: Teddy, Steve’s romantic interest, a deaf computer programmer in an accounting firm; Detectives Artie Brown and Meyer Meyer; Augusta, Bert’s wife; and Sarah, Meyer’s wife.

Cast: Randy Quaid (Steve Carella), Alex McArthur (Bert Kling), Deanne Bray (Teddy Franklin), Ving Rhames (Artie Brown), Ron Perkins (Meyer Meyer), Allison Muir (Augusta Kling), Joanne Carlo (Sarah Meyer). Guest Cast: Alan Blumenfeld (Ollie Weeks), Steve Paul (Todd Wilkins), Steve Flynn (Henry Lytell), Tracy Middendorf (Darcey), Mary Jo Negro (Mrs. Annunziato), Eddie Jones (Pete Byrnes).

2353 Eischied. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1979–1980). Earl Eischied (pronounced Eye-shyed) is a Chief of Detectives with the New York City Police Department (he is attached to the 23rd Precinct in Manhattan). He is a stickler for the rules but is also an abrasive cop who puts crime solving above everything else, including his own life and departmental policy. Stories follow Earl as he does more than just sit behind a desk and overlook cases; he takes an active part in the investigations his department receives.

Other Regulars: Edward Parks, the Internal Affairs Chief; Irene Stefan, Earl’s girlfriend; Detectives Rick Alessi and Carol Wright; Irene Stefan, Earl’s girlfriend; Captain John Finnerty; Howard Knight, the police commissioner; Louie, Earl’s chauffeur.

Cast: Joe Don Baker (Chief Earl Eischied), Eddie Egan (Edward Parks), Vincent Bufano (Det. Rick Alessi), Suzanne Lederer (Det. Carol Wright), John Oppenheimer (Capt. John Finnerty), Laraine Stephens (Irene Stefan), Raymond Burr (Howard Knight), Alan

Fudge (Sgt. Jim Kimbrough), Mallory Jones (Louie Shiffen).

2354 Eisenhower and Lutz. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988). Following his graduation from the Las Vegas School of Law and Acupuncture, Barnett “Bud” Lutz, Jr., wins $5,000 in a casino and heads for Palm Springs, California, where he buys a vacant store near a high accident intersection and turns it into a law firm (Eisenhower and Lutz). Stories relate his struggles to succeed as a lawyer (the “Eisenhower” of the firm is fictitious and there only to give the company class).

Other Regulars: Kay Dunn, Bud’s ex-girlfriend, a lawyer with the firm of Griffith, McKendrick and Dunn; Big Bud Lutz, Bud’s father; Megan O’Malley, Bud’s girlfriend; Millie, Bud’s secretary; Dottie, Kay’s secretary; and Dwayne Spittle, the sushi delivery boy.

Cast: Scott Bakula (Bud Lutz, Jr.), Patricia Richardson (Kay Dunn), DeLane Matthews (Megan O’Malley), Henderson Forsythe (Big Bud Lutz), Rose Portillo (Millie), Rebecca Schull (Dottie), Leo Geter (Dwayne Spittle).

2355 El Coyote. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1958). Jane Edwards is the teenage daughter of Colonel Bart Edwards, a former military man who now owns a ranch in a small border town between California and Mexico. The unsold series was to relate Jane’s exploits as El Coyote, the mysterious, costumed figure she becomes to battle crime. The pilot’s star, Muriel Davis, is the U.S. Woman’s National AAU All-Around Gymnastic Champion and the youngest member of the 1956 American Olympic team.

2356 El Tigre: The Adventures of Manny Rivera. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2007–). Manny Rivera is a 13-year-old Mexican-American boy who was born into a family of super heroes (his father, Rodolfo, for example, is the White Panther; his grandfather, Grandpapi, is a retired villain who ruled as Pumo Loco). Manny has adopted the alias El Tigre (The Tiger) but is facing a dilemma: although he is following in his father’s footsteps and fighting evil, his grandfather believes Manny should use his powers (like those of a tiger) for the darker side. While Manny does struggle over the conflict, he does, for the time being, use his magical belt buckle (which endows him with power) to battle injustice. Frida Suarez is Manny’s best friend. She is in a band called the Atomic Sombreros and is aware of Manny’s powers. She tries to help him when the need arises but often causes more trouble than anything else.

Voice Cast: Alanna Ubach (Manny Rivera), Eric Bauza (Rodolfo Rivera), Carlos Alazraqui (Grandpapi Rivera), Grey DeLisle (Frida Suarez).

2357 Electra Woman and Dyna Girl. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1976–1977). Crime Scope is an ultramodern, highly complex computer system that is programmed to pinpoint criminal activity. It is run by Frank Heflin, an electronics expert who devised the system as a means of battling the villains who terrorize his unnamed city. Helping Frank in his battle are Laurie and Judy, reporters for News Maker magazine, who are secretly Electra Woman and Dyna Girl, costumed superheroes who battle the city’s diabolical villains: the Sorcerer, Cleopatra, the Pharaoh, the Empress of Evil and the Spider Lady. Background information on how Laurie and Judy teamed with Frank is not given.

As Electra Woman, Laurie wears a reddish-orange costume with a yellow cape, boots and tights (to match her blonde hair). The letters EW appear on the front of her costume.

Judy, as Dyna Girl, dons a red costume, cape and boots with pink tights (DG appears on the front of her costume).

Electra Base is the headquarters for Crime Scope. By activating the Electra Change, Laurie and Judy go from street clothes to their crime fighting outfits. They travel in either the Electra Car or the Electra Plane and use the power of electricity to its fullest potential. Devices used by Laurie and Judy are the Electra Comp (their wrist-worn, portable link to Electra Base), Electra Strobe (allows them to perform anything at 10,000 times normal speed), Electra G (adds gravity to their bodies when activated), and Electra Power (a sudden burst of power to help in difficult situations).

Electra Woman is resourceful and fearless in the face of danger. Dyna Girl is a bit impetuous and lunges into situations without thinking. She uses terms such as “What an Electra Mess” or “Electra Wow” when in a jam. Broadcast as a segment of The Krofft Super Show. Jimmie Haskell composed the theme.

Cast: Deidre Hall (Laurie/Electra Woman), Judy Strangis (Judy/Dyna Girl), Norman Alden (Frank Heflin), Peter Mark Richman (The Pharaoh), Tiffany Bolling (The Spider Lady), Michael Constantine (The Sorcerer), Claudette Nevins (The Empress of Evil), Malachi Throne (Ali Baba), Jane Elliot (Cleopatra). Narrator: Marvin Miller.

2358 Electra Woman and Dyna Girl. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 2001). An unsold (an unaired attempt by the WB) to revive the 1976 ABC series Electra Woman and Dyna Girl.

Laurie and Judy were a team of crime fighters who battled evil with the help of electricity as Electra Woman and Dyna Girl. When the series ended, Laurie and Judy's battle against villains ended and they went their separate ways. Years later Judy, a teenager in 1976, sees that evil is again threatening the lives of innocent people. She seeks her old friend Laurie to once again help her battle evil. Laurie, however, has fallen on hard times (living in a trailer court and hooked on liquor). Despite Laurie's apparent indifference, Judy persists and convinces Laurie to once gain become Electra Woman and help her battle a new breed of criminal. The proposed series was to relate their battle against crime.

Cast: Markie Post (Laurie/Electra Woman), Anne Stedman (Judy/Dyna Girl), Ashley Hale (Young Judy).

2359 The Electric Company. (Series; Children; PBS; 1971–1977). An educational series, aimed at children between seven and ten years of age, that relates basic reading concepts through skits, cartoons, songs and literally anything else that can capture the mind of a child. Featured segments are performances by members of the Short Circus; a "Spider-Man" spoof; a cartoon segment called "The Adventures of Letterman"; a serial spoof called "Love of Chair"; a jungle spoof ("Jennifer of the Jungle") and parodies of movie monsters with Count Dracula.

Cast: Jim Boyd (Andy), Morgan Freeman (Count Dracula), Judy Graubart (Jennifer of the Jungle), Skip Hinnant (Clam), Rita Moreno (Carmela), Gene Wilder (Letterman), Joan Rivers ("Adventures of Letterman" Narrator), Mel Brooks (Blond-Haired Cartoon Man), Luis Avalos (Dr. Doolats), Zero Mostel (Spell Binder), Hattie Winston (Sylvia), Danny Seagren (Spider-Man), Lee Chamberlain (Brenda), Bill Cosby (Hank). The Short Circus: June Angela (Julie), Melanie Henderson (Kathy), Steve Gustafson (Buddy), Gregg Burge (Dwayne), Todd Graff (Jesse), Douglas Grant (Zack), Bayn Johnson (Kelly), Rodney Lewis (Charlie), Rejane Magloire (Samantha), Janina Mathews (Gail), Irene Cara (Iris), Denise Nickerson (Allison). Announcer: Ken Roberts.

2361 Elfego Baca. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 4/18/57). A proposed series about Elfego Baca, a young Spanish-American sheriff (of Frisco, New Mexico) who struggles to uphold the peace without gunplay. In the pilot episode, Baca finds that using his guns is the only answer when he attempts to stop a murderous band of cowboys. Aired as a segment of Telephone Time.

Cast: Manuel Rojas (Elfego Baca). Guest Cast: James Westerfield (Wilson), House Peters, Jr. (McCarthy), George Trevino (Naranjo).

2362 Elfego Baca. (Series; Western; ABC; 1958–1960). Socorro County, New Mexico, during the late 1800s is the setting for a series about Elfego Baca, a sheriff then lawyer, who battles for justice. The ten-part series, broadcast on Walt Disney Presents, aired from October 3, 1958 to March 25, 1960; it is also known as The Nine Lives of Elfego Baca.

Cast: Robert Loggia (Elfego Baca), Robert F. Simon (Sheriff Morgan), Leonard Strong (Zangano), James Dunn (J. Henry Newman), Valerie Allen (Lucita), Ramon Navarro (Don Estevan Miranda), Skip Homeier (Ross Mantee), Rico Alan (El Sinvergüenza), Brian Keith (Shadrock), Beverly Garland (Susanna), Nestor Paiva (Justice of the Peace), Arthur Hunnicutt (Elias).

2363 The Elgin Hour. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1954–1955). A series of live dramatic presentations from New York. The series, sponsored by Elgin Watches, produced 19 episodes and ran from October 6, 1954 to June 14, 1955.

Performers Include: Janet Blair, Dorothy Gish, James Daly, Louis Jourdan, Margaret Hamilton, John Cassavetes, Jack Lord, Brian Keith, E.G. Marshall, Gertrude Berg, Polly Bergen, Theodore Bikel, Orson Bean, John Forsythe, Teresa Wright, Lorne Greene, June Lockhart, Richard Kiley, Glenda Farrell, Boris Karloff, Hermione Gingold, Franchot Tone, Janice Carter, Roddy McDowall, Dame Judith Anderson, Kim Stanley, John Ireland, Polly Rowles, J. Pat O'Malley, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Kathleen Nolan.

2364 Eli Stone. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2008–). Eli Stone is a cold-hearted attorney. He is obsessed with winning cases for "evil" mega corporations no matter how it hurts their employees. He is ruthless and the more ruthless he becomes the better he likes himself. He is with the San Francisco firm of Wethersby, Posner and Klein ("Unless you own a huge corporation that screws the little guy, you haven't heard of us").

Eli, although ruthless, thought he had it all. Then one day he begins to hear the George Michael song "Faith" everywhere he goes (he also sees George performing it). The problem is, no one else does. Shortly after Eli becomes involved in the case of a mother suing a drug company whose medication has caused her son to develop autism. The case is pro bono and winning the case changes the course of Eli's life. He now has a heart and becomes the head of the pro bono division of the firm.

The song and vision (his spiritual awakening) have made him a profit (as they tell him what cases to take to change his life). An MRI reveals that Eli has an inoperable brain tumor that could explain his visions. He also has a holistic doctor, Fred Lobukowski (who practices under the name Dr. Chen for business reasons) who is trying to help Eli cope with his medical condition and visions.

Stories follow Eli as he now fights for the little guy while at the same time trying to cope with the changes that are occurring in his life.

Jordan Wethersby is the senior partner; Taylor is his daughter (and Eli's romantic interest); Patti is Eli's secretary; Matt Dowd is a lawyer with the firm; Nathan Stone, a doctor, is Eli's brother.

Cast: Bette Davis (Elisabeth McQueeney), Maggie Pierce (Roxanne), Danielle Auberg (Maxine), Meg Wyllie (Julie). Guest Cast: Robert Strauss (The Count), Ward Bond (Seth Adams). Also: Marjorie Bennett, Joseph Mell, John Wilder.

2366 Elke. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/22/71). The story of Elke, a beautiful German girl who marries Peter Stefan, an American doctor, and the complications that ensue as Elke struggles to adjust to the American way of life (and Peter's family struggles to adjust to her).

The pilot episode relates the unsold series storyline as Peter, on a medical convention in Europe, meets, falls in love with, and marries Elke. Other Regulars: Peter's mother, sister (Dodie) and brother (Charlie).

Cast: Elke Sommer (Elke Stefan), Peter Bonerz (Peter Stefan), Debi Storm (Dodie Stefan), Paul Petersen (Charlie Stefan), Kay Medford (Peter's mother).

2367 Elke Sommer's World of Beauty and Speed. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1984). Actress Elke Sommer is the beauty; filmed features and events from the world of motor sports are the speed. Together they are combined to give the viewer a gorgeous host and thrilling action via the sport.

Hostess: Elke Sommer. Narrator: Jason Majors.

2368 Ellen. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1994–1998). Ellen Morgan is a young woman who has, for many years, concealed the fact that she is a lesbian. She has just "come out of the closet" and sees the world in a whole new light. Ellen lives in Apartment 7 on North Sweeter Street in Los Angeles and is the owner of a bookstore called Buy the Book. She was born in Louisiana and attended Edgemont High School. Her first job was as a waitress at Burger World. Stories follow Ellen as she struggles to cope with her new life style at a time when being gay was just coming into fashion.

When Ellen needed money to purchase a house, she sold the bookstore to the Tom and Larry Corporation but remained on as the assistant manager. Ellen is best friends with Paige Clark, a secretary at Tri Global Pictures (Paige is later a producer's assistant and finally a development executive. Her first film project was The Long Engagement). Paige and Ellen met at camp at the age of ten. When Ellen admitted she was a lesbian ("Ellen: The Episode") Paige was the first girl she kissed.

Audrey Penney works as a salesgirl at Buy the Book. She always dresses in pink and she is a bit off the wall. She is very sweet and very kind but she has a knack for saying or doing something that makes her look like a scatterbrain. She became addicted to the color pink in 1989 when she worked at Santoni's Fish Market. She was carrying a 20-pound Alaskan salmon, saw her reflection in the lobster tank and was hooked on pink.

Joe Farrell runs the coffee shop corner of Buy the Book. He is a likeable chap who always becomes involved in Ellen or Audrey's antics. When Ellen sold the store, he opened his own business — Hot Cup of Joe. He originally worked at Café London. The series was originally titled These Friends of Mine.

Cast: Ellen DeGeneres (Ellen Morgan), Joely Fisher (Paige Clark), Clea Lewis (Audrey Penney), David Anthony Higgins (Joe Farrell), Kaley Cuoco (Ellen as a girl).

2369 The Ellen Burstyn Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986–1987). Ellen Brewer is a Baltimore college professor and author. Her first published story was titled "Based on the Waters." The Woman on Top was her first book.

Ellen is a widow and lives in a fashionable brownstone with her recently separated daughter, Molly; Molly's son, Nick, and her mother, Sydney. Stories follow the events in Ellen's life as she struggles to cope with life at work and at home living with three generations of her family.

Other Regulars: Dean Morton, the head of the college; and Ellen's students: Tom, Carrie, Mickey and Maria. Rita Coolidge sings the theme, “Nothing in the World Like Love.”

Cast: Ellen Burstyn (Ellen Brewer), Megan Mullally (Molly), Elaine Stritch (Sydney Brewer), Jesse Tandler (Nick), Roscoe Lee Browne (Dean Morton), Barry Sobel (Tom Hines), Winifred Freeman (Carrie), Matt Mulhern (Mickey), Maria Strova (Maria).

2370 The Ellen DeGeneres Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 2003–). A daily celebrity interview series that is also a mix of variety acts, musical numbers and stories of real people with something to say or possessed of an extraordinary talent.

Host: Ellen DeGeneres.

2371 The Ellen Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2001–2002). Ellen Richmond is a woman who started four Internet companies and made over $16 million. The companies, however, gradually folded and she was soon broke. With no other choice, Ellen leaves her home in New York City and returns to her hometown of Clark, New Jersey, to live with her widowed mother, Dot and her single sister, Cathy.

Ellen attended Clark Grammar School and at an early age was fascinated by girls and is now an admitted lesbian (a situation her mother and sister still have a hard time accepting).

Ellen attended Union State College and was a teacher before venturing into the business world. Now, with only $800 to her name, Ellen becomes the guidance counselor at Grant High School. Stories follow Ellen as she struggles to get her life together again.

Cathy is younger than Ellen and afraid to take a chance on anything. Her specialty is making taffy. Ellen convinced Cathy to go into business and she did with Cathy’s Taffy, but it folded when Cathy felt she couldn’t do it and gave up. Cathy works the lunch counter at the local pharmacy and feels she will never find a boyfriend (she feels she can’t hold onto one). Dot, Ellen’s mother, loves to cook, tries to accept Ellen’s lifestyle and occupies her spare time with pottery classes. She also freezes the garbage “so it won’t smell” and places soda cans in the dishwasher to sanitize the tops.

Other Regulars: Rusty, a teacher at the school (Ellen’s old high school prom date); Ed Munn is Ellen’s former economics teacher; Bunny is the school gym teacher; Toni is also a teacher at the school.

2372 Ellery Queen. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1975–1976). Ellery Queen is a gentleman detective and writer who intervenes in baffling police matters to solve cases and get story material. He lives at 212-A West 87th Street in Manhattan with his widowed father, Richard Queen, an inspector with the Third Division of the N.Y.P.D. Stories, set in 1947, follow Ellery as he attempts to solve crimes for his books. The format allows the viewer to “play along” as every clue is presented; nothing is held back from the viewer.

Simon Brimmer is a criminologist who hosts the radio program The Casebook of Simon Brimmer (wherein he tries to solve a crime over the air before Ellery does); Frank Flannigan is an investigative reporter for the New York Gazette; Sergeant Velie is Richard’s assistant; Vera is Frank’s secretary. See also The Adventures of Ellery Queen.

2373 Ellery Queen: Don’t Look Behind You. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 11/14/71). A proposed series about Ellery Queen, a fictional gentleman detective and writer living in New York City. In the pilot episode, based on the 1949 novel, “Cat of Many Tails” by Frederick Dannay and Manfred B. Lee, Ellery helps his father, Inspector Richard Queen of the N.Y.P.D., search for a fiend who kills males with blue cords and females with pink ones.

2374 Ellery Queen: Too Many Suspects. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3–23–75). The pilot film for the NBC series Ellery Queen (1975–76). The story is set in New York City in 1947. Ellery Queen is a gentleman detective and novelist who lives at 212-A West 87th Street. His hobby is meddling into police affairs (especially those of his father, Inspector Richard Queen) and his efforts to solve baffling crimes is the premise of the series. In the pilot episode, Ellery attempts to solve the murder of a famed fashion designer.

Other Regulars: Simon Brimmer, the radio criminologist (host of The Casebook of Simon Brimmer); Sergeant Velie, Richard’s aide.

2375 Elly and Jools. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1990). The spirit of a young girl named Elly Lockett haunts an old hotel in the small town of Waterloo Creek in Australia. Elly died mysteriously in the 19th century and she appears to be seeking the reason why she was murdered.

Julian Treveller, called Jools, and his parents, David and Anna, are newcomers to Waterloo Creek, as they have just purchased that particular hotel (The Help). Soon after, while exploring an upstairs room, Elly reveals herself to Jools. Jools, at first, disbelieves Elly's claim to be a ghost until she proves it to him. Elly feels, that because Jools is her age, she can help her solve the mystery of her death. Stories follow their efforts — which are complicated by Liam, Bridget and Feral, Jools neighbors, who are seeking a supposed buried treasure.

Cast: Rebecca Smart (Eleanor "Elly" Lockett), Clayton Williamson (Julian "Jools" Treveller), Peter Fisher (David Treveller), Anne Tenney (Anna Treveller), Damon Herriman (Liam O'Farrell), Vabessa Collier (Bridget O'Farrell), Dennis Miller (Feral O'Farrell), Dulcie Dickson (Abigail).

2376 The Elvira Show. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1993). Elvira, Mistress of the Dark, is a buxom television show host (of horror movies) who left Hollywood to live with her aunt, Minerva, and her talking cat, Reinfeld, in Manhattan, Kansas. The proposed series was to focus on Elvira as she sets up shop selling love potions and telling fortunes. Paige is Elvira's long-lost niece, who also comes to live with her Aunt Minerva.

Cast: Cassandra Peterson (Elvira), Katherine Helmond (Minerva), Phoebe Augustine (Paige), John Paragon (Voice of Reinfeld), Ted Henning (Chip), Cristine Rose (Lindsay), Basil Hoffman (Dr. Zislis).

2377 Elvira's Movie Macabre. (Series; Movies; Syn.; 1983). Non-classic horror movies are showcased with the comical hosting of and clowning of Elvira, the beautiful and sexy (known for plunging necklines) Mistress of Horror (also known as Mistress of the Dark). Produced by KHJ-TV in Los Angeles.

Cast: Cassandra Peterson (Elvira), John Paragon (The Breather).

2378 Elvis. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1990). A biographical drama that recalls the early years of rock singer Elvis Presley before he became a legend. The series, based on true incidents in Elvis's life, has the cooperation of the Elvis Presley Estate and is co-produced by Priscilla Presley, Elvis's wife.

Cast: Michael St. Gerard (Elvis Presley), Billy Green Bush (Vernon Presley), Millie Perkins (Gladys Presley), David Dunavent (Elvis as a boy), Blake Gibbons (Bill).

2379 Elysian Fields. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 7/11/89). A proposed series about Nate Goodman, the head of a New Orleans crisis center that helps people in trouble. The title refers to the boarding house at which Nate lives and which is run by a divorced woman (Violet) and her lustful sister (Gwen).

Cast: Jeffrey De Munn (Nate Goodman), Frances Fisher (Violet Coffin), Judith Hoag (Gwen Coffin). Guest Cast: S. Epatha Merkerson (Jimmy), Jo Harvey Allen (Abolene), Leland Crooke (Gabe Yellen), Tamayo Otsuki (Japan), James Borders (Deputy), Geri Betzer (Amanda), Kris Kamm (George Bergen), John M. Jackson (Mr. Bergen), Johnny Reno (Johnny), John Barber (Seth), Cindy Huber and Staci Manning (Girls).

2380 Emerald Cove. (Series; Drama; Disney; 1993). A teen accented series that follows the lives of a group of young people, members of a band called High Density, as they struggle to get bookings and make a name for themselves. Stories also focus on the beach bunnies, the surfers and others who inhabit the beach at Emerald Cove. Originally broadcast as a serial on the 1989 version of The Mickey Mouse Club.

2386 Emeril. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2001). Emeril Lagasse is a real life chef with a cooking series on the Food Network. On Emeril Lagasse plays the host of a cooking show on the Food Network but viewers are taken behind the scenes for a look at the preparations that go into putting on a cooking show.

Emeril is married to Nora and is represented by Jerry McKenney, his agent. He is assisted by wacky staff (Cassandra, Melva and B.D.) and stories follow Emeril as he and his staff encounter mishap after mishap yet still manage of put on a show.

Cast: Emeril Lagasse (Himself), Mary Page Keller (Nora Lagasse), Robert Ulrich (Jerry McKinney), Lisa Ann Walter (Cassandra Gilman), Sherri Shepherd (Melva), Carrie Preston (B.D. Benson).

2387 Emily's Reasons Why Not. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2006). Emily Sanders is young, pretty, vibrant and single. She lives in New York City and is an editor of self-help books for a Manhattan publisher. Emily also lives by a philosophy of why not to do something. This began in the sixth grade when a classmate offered Emily a cigarette and the thought of her smoking addicted coughing grandmother entered her mind (and her first reason why not to smoke). Since then Emily has lived by "Emily's Reasons Why Not." She believes her reasons why not will lead her to what she is looking for (not really explained as the series was cancelled after the first episode). Stories follow Emily as she uses her reasons why not to guide her life.

Other Regulars: Glitter, Emily's co-worker, and her friends Reilly and Josh (Josh is also the owner of her favorite eatery, Chi for Two) Cast: Heather Graham (Emily Sanders), Smith Cho (Glitter), Nadia Dajani (Reilly), Khary Payton (Josh).

2388 The Emperor's New School. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2006–). Kuzco is a young man who is next in line to rule the Ku Empire, but he first must graduate from Kuzco Academy High School. This is not an easy task. Kuzco is not only conceited but is too over confident in everything he does (thinking he will always come out on top no matter what goes wrong). He has little ambition for school work and he is also unaware that Yzma, his former advisor (who is now his teacher) is hoping to prevent him from acquiring the thrown so she herself can become ruler. Stories follow Kuzco as he goes about his merry way, almost always oblivious to the situations that surround him. Malina is his girlfriend; Kronk is the dim-witted student (and Yzma's patsy).

Voices: J.P. Manoux (Kuzco), Jessica Di Cicco (Malina), Eartha Kitt (Yzma), Patrick Warburton (Kronk), Shane Baumel, Courtney Peldon, Bob Bergen, Fred Tatasciore.

2389 Empire. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1962–1963). James (“Jim”) Howard Redigo is the foreman of the half-million-acre Garrett Ranch in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Jim was named after two uncles (both engineers), and he supervises operations for Lucia Garrett, the ranch owner (her husband, Dave Garrett, was born in 1924 and lost his life in 1954 during a bad storm; he drowned in a flash flood).

Constance, called Connie and Tal are Lucia's adult children. Tal takes on the responsibilities of assisting Jim (and their ranch hand, Paul Moreno). Connie is more business minded and runs the Lazy G Guest Ranch. Stories relate Jim's efforts to maintain the Garrett ranch. See also Redigo, the spin-off series. Jack Keller and Gerry Goffin composed the theme, “Redigo.”

Cast: Richard Egan (Jim Redigo), Anne Seymour (Lucia Garrett), Terry Moore (Connie Garrett), Ryan O'Neal (Tal Garrett), Charles Bronson (Paul Moreno), Warren Vanders (Chuck).

2390 Empire. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1984). A six-episode spoof of big business that relates the misadventures of Ben Christian, the naive head of research and development for Empire Industries, a New York City conglomerate run by double-dealing, paranoid executives.

Other Regulars: Calvin Cromwell, the head of Empire Industries; Jack Willow, vice president of sales; Jackie Willow, Jack's wife; Edward Roland, senior vice president.; Arthur Broderick, the marketing boss; Roger Martinson, vice president of legal affairs; T. Howard Daniels, the security chief; Meredith Blake, head of public relations; and the secretaries: Marge, Charlotte, Peggy, Sue and Alice.

Howard Daniels*), Caren Kaye (Meredith Blake), Maureen Arthur (Peggy), Susan Ruttan (Marge), Nancy Lenehan (Charlotte), Jenny Neumann (Sue), Dee Dee Rescher (Alice).

2391 Empire. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2005). A six-part series that is set in Rome (44 B.C.) at a time when the country is struggling to cope with the assassination of its ruler, Julius Caesar. It is also at this time that 17-year-old Octavius, who was named as heir by Caesar, is challenged by Marc Antony to succeed Caesar. The clash between the two is depicted — which ignites a civil war as each fights to rule Rome. See also Rome.

Cast: Vincent Regan (Marc Antony), Santiago Cabrera (Octavius), James Frain (Brutus), Jonathan Cake (Tyrannus), Michael Maloney (Cassius), Fiona Shaw (Fulvia), Colm Feore (Julius Caesar), Emily Blunt (Camane), Christopher Egan (Agrippa), Michael Byrne (Cicero), Orla Brady (Atia), Trudie Styler (Servilla), Graham McTavish (General Rapax), Dennis Haysbert (Magonius), Amanda Root (Noella), Ian Bartholomew (Cimber), Michael Culkin (Lucius), Alan David (Quintilius), Caroline Ashley (Titiana).

2392 Empire City. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced for CBS in 1991). A proposed series about Joe Andre and Nancy Kraus, homicide detectives who investigate sensational murder cases involving the rich and famous in New York City.

Cast: Michael Pare (Joe Andre), Mary Mara (Nancy Kraus).

2393 Empty Nest. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/16/87). A proposed spin-off from The Golden Girls about Renee and George Corliss, a middle-aged couple whose children have flown the coop and who now seek to find a new meaning to life. In the pilot episode, Renee and George find their plans changed when their daughter, Jenny, decides to move back home. With cast changes (Richard Mulligan, Kristy McNichol and Dinah Manoff) it became the successful NBC series about a widowed doctor and his two daughters who live with him (see the following title). Other Regulars: Chuck, Renee's brother; and Oliver, their friend.

2394 Empty Nest. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1988–1995). A spin-off from The Golden Girls. Harry Weston is a widowed pediatrician who lives with his daughters, Carol, Barbara and, later (1993), Emily, at 1755 Fairview Road in Miami Beach, Florida.

Harry graduated from the Bedford Medical School in 1959 and now has an office on the tenth floor of the Community Medical Center in Miami Beach (he later has a second-floor office when the Greykirk Corporation purchases the building). Harry's late wife was named Libby “Ask Dr. Weston” was the name of the call-in radio program

Harry hosted on station WWEN (990 AM), and “The Sword of Weston” is the family crest.

Carol Olivia Weston is Harry’s oldest daughter (mid-thirties). She had a bad marriage (divorced after five years), a nervous breakdown and was in therapy. She laughs too loud, can’t sew and has a dream of opening a self-help bookshop. Carol is good with money but had ten jobs before the series began. Her first regular series job was that of assistant director of the University of Miami Rare Books Library (which she quit on 10/12/91 to open her own catering business, Elegant Epicure). Carol has fat attacks each spring and is a member of a support group called Adult Children of Perfectly Fine Parents. By 1993, Carol had 37 bad relationships but is hopeful that the one with Patrick Arcola (Paul Provenza) will be a lasting one. Paul is an avant-garde sculptor who is broke and living in Harry’s garage.

Barbara, the middle child, is perky, upbeat and carefree. She is terrible with money and plunges into the unknown. Barbara is first a police officer, then a sergeant, with the Miami Police Department (with the force since 1983). She and Harry co-wrote a book for children called Jumpy Goes to the Hospital. Carol calls Barbara “Barbie Barb.”

Due to manic depression, Kristy McNichol was forced to leave the series (she last appeared in the episode of 10/17/92, although she still receives credit in the opening theme). Barbara’s absence was explained as her being on vacation or on various undercover assignments for the police department.

Emily is Harry’s youngest daughter (23 in 1992). She was previously unseen and first said to be living in New York, then “attending college up North.” Emily appears for the first time in the episode of 1/2/93 when she returns home to work out her boyfriend problems (she was pursued by an unwanted Italian admirer). Harry thought Emily was in college (the Hollyoak Girls’ School), but she was in reality a globetrotter. At school Emily heard about a program offering work in a clinic in Vietnam, and she put school on hold to pursue it.

Although Emily had planned to stay only for a week, Harry convinced her that family is what she needs and asked her to stay. Emily calls her father “Harry”; Carol calls him “Daddy” (as does Barbara).

Laverne Todd, Harry’s nurse-receptionist, is from Hickory, Arkansas, and is married to the rarely seen Nick Todd. To protect her job, Laverne has a secret decoder to unscramble her filing system. Laverne lost Nick, a baseball player, when he joined the Osaka Hens, moved to Japan and fell for a Japanese girl. Winifred McConnell (Barbara Billingsley) was Harry’s nurse for 20 years before Laverne took over in 1981.

Charlie Deitz is Harry’s obnoxious, food pilfering neighbor. He is the fifth assistant purser on a luxury liner called the Ocean Queen. He is a ladies’ man (although Carol and Barbara despise him) and a member of the Stallion Club.

Relatives: Harold Gould (Harry’s father, Dr. Stanfield Weston, a surgeon at Boston Community Hospital), Lee Grant (Harry’s sister-in-law, Susan), Cynthia Stevenson (Harry’s niece, Amy), Christopher McDonald (Laverne’s husband, Nick Todd), Ami Foster (Laverne’s cousin, Wanda Sue), Doris Roberts (Laverne’s aunt, Rheta), Erika Flores (Laverne’s niece, Louella), Marian Mercer (Charlie’s mother, Ursula Deitz), Richard Stahl (Charlie’s father, Fred Deitz), Richard Mulligan (Harry’s British cousins, Basil and Baroness Daphne Weston).

Flashbacks: Christopher Pettiet (Harry as a boy).
Theme: “Life Goes On,” vocal by Billy Vera and the Beaters.

Cast: Richard Mulligan (Harry Weston), Kristy McNichol (Barbara Weston), Dinah Manoff (Carol Weston), Lisa Rieffel (Emily Weston), Park Overall (Laverne Todd), David Leisure (Charlie Deitz).

2395 Enchanted Lands. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1957). A filmed program that explores the people and customs of exotic cities around the world.

Narrator: Lorna Caspers.

2396 Encore! Encore! (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1998–1999). Joseph Pinoni is an internationally famous opera singer. While on a tour of Italy, Joseph becomes a victim of food poisoning that requires his stomach to be pumped. The procedure damages his vocal chords and ends his career. Joseph, a womanizer who squandered his money, is broke and with no other choice, retreats to the Napa Valley winery that is owned by his widowed mother (Marie) and his divorced sister, Francesca, who fears that her temperamental brother’s extravagant lifestyle will have a negative influence on her teenage son, Michael. Stories follow Joseph as he tries to adjust to a life he has never known before — one that actually involves working (while at the same time romancing the ladies).

Cast: Nathan Lane (Joseph Pinoni), Joan Plowright (Marie Pinoni), Molly Price (Francesca Pinoni; pilot), Glenna Headly (Francesca Pinoni; series); Evan Matthews (Michael Pinoni; pilot), Trevor Fehrman (Michael Pinoni; series).

2397 Encounter. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1958). A short-lived attempt to simulcast a live Canadian series on American television (over the CBC and ABC). The series, which aired five episodes, aired from October 5, 1958 to November 2, 1958.

The episodes were “Breakthrough” (October 5, 1958); “End of Summer” (October 12, 1958; with Hildegard Rossi and Donald Pope); “The Flower in the Rock” (October 19, 1958; with Frances Hyland); “Depth Three-Hundred” (October 26, 1958; with Patrick Macnee and Barry Morse); and "Men Don't Make Passes" (November 2, 1958; with Ruth Springfield).

2398 Encounters with the Unexplained. (Series; Reality; PAX; 2000). A reality series that attempts to explain the various documented mysteries that surround us (for example, was there really an Adam and Eve? Did the Roswell incident really happen? Did Noah's Ark really exist?). The program opens as follows: "We all go through life accepting what the text books told us about the universe. But what happens when questions are raised about many of our fundamental beliefs? A mystery that cannot be explained; an enigma that defies reason? To encounter such a mystery first hand may change your life forever in ways you never imagined possible—Encounters with the Unexplained."

Host: Jerry Orbach.

2399 Encyclopedia Brown — The Boy Detective. (Pilot; Mystery; HBO; 3/3/89). The Brown Detective Agency is run by Leroy Brown, a brainy kid, nicknamed "Encyclopedia" who is also an amateur sleuth. The unsold series was to relate Leroy's exploits as he and his assistant, a fellow amateur sleuth (Sally) set out to solve crimes in their hometown of Idaville. In the pilot episode, titled "The Case of the Missing Time Capsule," Leroy and Sally seek the thief who stole the town's time capsule.

Cast: Scott Bremner (Leroy Brown), Laura Bridge (Sally Kimball), Alan Merrill (Police Chief Brown), Tiana Pierce (Nurse Brown, Leroy's mother).

2400 End of the Rainbow. (Series; Human Interest; NBC; 1958). The basis of the program, which travels to a different city each week, is to offer a pre-selected subject an opportunity to realize a lifelong ambition, regain a sound footing in business, or be provided with an unexpected opportunity for success. The series ran from January 11, 1958 to February 15, 1958.

Host: Art Baker. Creator: Ralph Edwards.

2401 Endurance. (Series; Reality; Discovery Kids; 2002–2007). A reality series for teenagers that can best be described as a junior version of CBS's Survivor (but not as grueling). Sixteen teenagers (eight boys, eight girls) are divided into eight two-member teams (Red, Green, Yellow, Blue, Purple, Gray, Brown and Orange). Teams compete in a series of physical challenges with the team least able to complete it being disqualified. The one team that remains (over seven weekly contests) is declared the winner. The series is set at various locales and is also known by the beach setting (for example, Endurance: High Sierras, Endurance: Hawaii, Endurance: Tebachapi).

Host: J.D. Roth.

2402 The Engelbert Humperdinck Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1970). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy with singer Engelbert Humperdinck as the host. The series, which produced 13 episodes, ran from January 21, 1970 to September 19, 1970. Colin Clews is the producer.

Host: Engelbert Humperdinck. Regulars: The Irving Davies Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

2403 Enigma. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 5/27/77). Triangle is a sophisticated crime-fighting organization based in the Caribbean. Andrew Icarus is its top operative, a daring agent who will tackle perplexing cases (hence the title). In the pilot episode, Icarus seeks to end the reign of a dangerous band of fanatics who are building a secret army financed by stolen diamonds.

Other Regulars: Baron Mockcastle, Andrew's superior; Princess Larawa, Baron's assistant; and Mei San Gow, Andrew's partner.

Cast: Scott Hylands (Andrew Icarus), Guy Doleman (Baron Maurice Mockcastle), Barbara O. Jones (Princess Miranda Larawa), Soon-Tech Oh (Mei San Gow). Guest Cast: Melinda Dillon (Dora Herren), Peter Coffield (Peter McCauley), Percy Rodrigues (Idi Ben Youref), Sherry Jackson (Kate Valentine), Melodie Johnson (Beverly Golden), Marsha Brown (Judith), Jim Davis (Colonel Valentine).

2404 Enos. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1980–1981). A spin off from The Dukes of Hazzard that focuses on Enos Strate, a former deputy sheriff in Hazzard County, Georgia. When Enos captures two of America's most wanted felons by himself, he is recruited by the Los Angeles Police Department (Metro Squad, Division 8) to become a part of their team. Enos is a backwoods boy, quite naïve and not quite use to life in a big city. None-the-less, he is teamed with Turk Adams, a tough, ghetto-bred black police officer, a man who is his complete opposite. Stories relate the conflicts that befall the team as each tries to learn from the other (and get along with each other) as they investigate cases.

2405 Ensign O'Toole. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1962–1963). Comical incidents in the lives of the enlisted men and officers the USS Appleby, a peacetime U.S. Navy destroyer patrolling the South Pacific.

2406 The Entertainers. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1964–1965). Music, song, dance and comedy presented in the style of a revue. The series, which produced 26 episodes, aired from September 25, 1964 to March 27, 1965. Joe Hamilton is the producer.

Hosts: Bob Newhart, Carol Burnett, Caterina Valente. Regulars: John Davidson, Art Buchwald, Tessie O'Shea, Jack Burns, Jack DeLuise, Tony Hendra, Nick Ullett, The Lee Hale Singers, The Ernest Flatt Dancers, The Peter Gennero Dancers. Orchestra: Harry Zimmerman.

2407 Entertainment Studios.Com. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 2006). A daily program of entertainment news and interviews with movie, television and music personalities. The program also features a daily music download (a music video) plus a behind-the-scenes look at the role an actor receives and the reasons why he took it and how he approaches it.

Host: Byron Allen.

2408 Entertainment Tonight. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1981–). A daily entertainment series that presents the latest gossip on celebrities, movies, television shows, music and other entertainment related fields.

Hosts: Mary Hart, John Tesh, Mark Steines, Larry Mendte, Giselle Fernandez, Pat O'Brien. Reporters: Dayanara Torres, Elizabeth Carlton, Steve Cojocar, Adrianna Costa, Skyler Samuels, David Ury.

2409 Entourage. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 2004–). Vince Chase is an actor with a promising future. His career is just taking off and he and his best friends, Johnny Chase (called Drama), Eric and Turtle, leave their home in Queens, New York, and head for Hollywood. Here, Vince, a novice, attempts to learn the ropes and hopefully make the right choices.

Johnny is Vince's half-brother (who also aspires to be an actor); Eric is sort of Vince's advisor and second agent (he often clashes with Ari, Vince's real agent; he is replaced by Amanda in 2007); Turtle is the fun-loving member of the group who makes sure everyone has a good time; Kristen is Eric's girlfriend.

Cast: Adrian Grenier (Vince Chase), Kevin Dillon (Johnny Chase), Jerry Ferrara (Turtle), Kevin Connolly (Eric), Jeremy Piven (Ari Gold), Monica Keena (Kristen), Carla Gugino (Amanda).

2410 Equal Justice. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1990–1991). The activities of a group of lawyers attached to the District Attorney's office in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Particular focus is on the personal and work life of Arnold Bach, the D.A., Eugene Rogan, the Assistant D.A., and lawyers Jesse Rogan, Linda Bauer, Jo Ann Harris, Christopher Searls, Julie Janovich and Michael James.

Cast: George DiCenzo (Arnold Bach), Cotter

Smith (Eugene Rogan), Sarah Jessica Parker (Jo Ann Harris), Jane Kaczmarek (Linda Bauer), Joe Morton (Michael James), Kathleen Lloyd (Jesse Rogan), Debrah Farentino (Julie Janovich), Jon Tenney (Peter Bauer), James Wilder (Christopher Searls), Vanessa Bell Calloway (Delia), Lynn Whitfield (Maggie Mayfield), Barry Miller (Peter Brigman).

2411 The Equalizer. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1985–1989). Robert McCall is a former operative for a government organization called the Agency (also known as the Company). He now helps people facing insurmountable odds. To find Robert, one simply looks in the personals column of the daily newspaper: "Got a Problem? Odds Against You? Call The Equalizer. 212-555-4200."

Robert lives on West 74th Street in Manhattan. He is divorced from Kay and is the father of a son named Scott. Control is his former superior, and Mickey Kostmeyer is his legman. Robert's police department contacts are Inspector Isadore Smalls of the 74th Precinct of the N.Y.P.D. and Lieutenant Jefferson Burnett of the 83rd Precinct.

Melissa Sue Anderson played Control's goddaughter, Yvette; Tim Woodward appeared as Robert's father in a flashback sequence. Stewart Copeland composed "The Equalizer Theme."

Cast: Edward Woodward (Robert McCall), Robert Lansing (Control), Sandy Duncan (Kay McCall), William Zabka (Scott McCall), Keith Szarabjka (Mickey Kostmeyer), Ron O'Neal (Insp. Isadore Smalls), Steven Williams (Lt. Jefferson Burnett), Jerry Stiller (Brahms), Irving Metzman (Sterno).

2412 ER. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1994–). Television's longest running prime time medical drama. County General Hospital in Chicago, a level one-trauma center, is the setting and stories focus on the personal and professional lives of the doctors and nurses who face life and death situations every hour of every day.

Principal medical staff members in the very large cast are Dr. Luka Kovac, the Chief of Emergency Medicine (he relocated from Croatia following the tragic death of his wife and children); Dr. Kerry Weaver, the chief of staff (her no-nonsense attitude has isolated her from her staff); Dr. Gregory Pratt (he puts his patients before procedure); Abby Lockhart, a former ER nurse turned doctor; Ray Bennett, a doctor who is also in a rock band (and not really decided which career he wants to follow); Samantha Taggart, a nurse; Dr. Scott Grimes, a chief resident; Dr. Douglas Ross; Dr. Victor Clemente; Eve Peyton, the head nurse; Dr. Lucien Dubenko, the surgical attendant.

Anthony (Nurse Malik McGrath), Anthony Edwards (Dr. Mark Greene), Yvette Freeman (Nurse Haleh Adams), Lyn Alicia Henderson (EMS Pamela Olbes), Alex Kingston (Dr. Elizabeth Corday), Eriq La Salle (Dr. Peter Benton), Julianna Margulies (Nurse Carol Hathaway), Lily Mariye (Nurse Lily Jarvik), Kellie Martin (Dr. Lucy Knight), Paul McCrane (Dr. Robert Romano), Kristen Johnston (Nurse Eve Peyton), Leland Orser (Dr. Lucien Dubenko), Scott Grimes (Dr. Archie Morris), Erik Palladino (Dr. Dave Malucci), Busy Philipps (Hope Bobeck), John Stamos (Dr. Tony Gates).

2413 E/R. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1984–1985). Howard Sheinfeld is a ear-nose-and throat specialist who moonlights as a doctor in the Emergency Room of the Clark Street Hospital in Chicago to keep up with his alimony payments (he is recently divorced from Sheila and was previously married to Phyllis). Stories follow his antics (and those of the other doctors and nurses) as they attempt to treat patients.

Other regulars (in addition to the doctors and nurses listed in the cast) are David and Jenny, Howard's children; Fred Burdock, the cop; Karen, the sister of nurse Eve Sheridan; Maria Amarda, the receptionist; Irene the hypochondriac; Richard, the orderly; Morris, Howard's father; Harold Stickley, the hospital administrator.

2414 E-Ring. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2005–2006). A drama set inside America's ultimate fortress: the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. Here the explosive conflicts between American military heroes and the civilians to whom they report are explored. The series also explores the crises that can escalate into life and death situations for an individual or an entire nation; the decisions being made by officers in the War Room; and the execution of these decisions by special operations forces. In the long run, however, the Pentagon's number one mission is to protect the homeland and the lives of its soldiers wherever they maybe stationed.

The regulars are Major Jim "J.T." Tisnewski, Colonel Eli McNulty, Master Sergeant Jocelyn Pierce, Samantha "Sonny" Liston, Aaron Gerrity, Steve Algazi and Angela Aronson.

Jim is "the cream of the crop of American warriors." He was a Green Beret, Army Ranger and Delta Force Agent. He is now an S.O.D. (Special Operations Division) agent and must make the most crucial decisions the military has to face.

Eli is the chief of the S.O.D. and is the link between the Chairman of the Joint Chief of Staff, the Secretary of Defense and the members of Congress when special operations assignments must be discussed. Eli, now 60 years of age, was an attack helicopter pilot and a prisoner of war.

Jocelyn is Eli's N.C.O. (Non Commissioned Officer), a 28-year-old woman who keeps her cool (and the cool of Eli's staff) when emergencies arise. Jocelyn is a widow (her husband was killed in action by Iraqi insurgents) and finds the strength to go on through her love of God and country.

Samantha is the Associate General Counsel to the Secretary of Defense. Nicknamed "Sonny" Liston (after famed boxer Sonny Liston) Samantha holds court over the legalities of all the missions that Jim and Eli try to move through the Pentagon. Samantha is a fighter and seeks to do what is right; she worked as a public defender before joining the Department of Defense.

Aaron is the Pentagon watchdog, the Deputy to the Secretary of Defense. He is a civilian and power hungry and considered a "one per center" by Jim and Eli (he provides the tiny fraction of the Pentagon work force that puts their operations above those of the Pentagon). Steve is the Assistant Secretary of Defense in charge of Special Projects and Law Intensity Conflict. He is a former marine and a Vietnam vet.

Angela is a young, daring C.I.A. operative who proves that women are not the weaker sex. She is fearless and has a passion for work and covert military operations.

Cast: Benjamin Bratt (Jim Tisnewski), Dennis Hopper (Eli McNulty), Aunjanue Ellis (Jocelyn Pierce), Kelly Rutherford (Samantha Liston), Kelsey Oldershaw (Angela Aronson), Joe Morton (Steve Algazi).

4. A has-been demolitions expert attempts to regain his reputation by finding and defusing a bomb hidden in Los Angeles Harbor. Cast: Bernie Hamilton (Devlon), Scott Walker (Valero), Leo Gordon (Nieman), Norman Fell (Diel).

Narrator: Jack Webb.

2427 Escape. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 3/81). An unsold series that dramatizes true stories of famous escapees. The pilot episode, titled "Midnight Express," relates the jailbreak of Billy Hayes (played by Randy Shepard), an American convicted of drug possession, from a Turkish prison.

Host-Narrator: James Coburn.

2428 E.S.P. (Series; Game; Anthology; ABC; 1958). The sixth sense of extrasensory perception is tested. Two people, screened by psychiatrists, are placed in separate isolation booths. Various experiments are conducted to determine which person possesses the higher degree of E.S.P. The four episode series ran from July 11, 1958 to August 1, 1958 and was revised as an anthology series that ran for three episodes from August 8, 1958 to August 22, 1958. Stories dealt with people endowed with E.S.P. Actor Vincent Price served as the host for both versions.

Host: Vincent Price. Parapsychology Consultant: Carroll B. Nash.

2429 Espionage. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1963–1964). Dramatizations based on the activities of international undercover agents. Through documented accounts and actual newsreel footage, events are covered from the American Revolution to the Cold War. Filmed in Europe.

Stevens, Gene Lockhart, Bonita Granville, Anita Louise, Charles Coburn, Marshall Thompson, Patric Knowles, Virginia Grey, Edward Arnold.

2433 Ethel Is an Elephant. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/18/80). While walking home, New York photographer Eugene Henderson crosses the path of an abandoned and injured baby elephant named Ethel. Noticing that the elephant is limping, Eugene removes a nail that is lodged in her foot. The grateful elephant follows Eugene home and creates a problem when Eugene tries to conceal her from his landlord (Harold Brainer). The story relates the courtroom battle that ensues when Brainer tries unsuccessfully to evict Eugene and the elephant from the apartment house. The unsold series was to depict Eugene's misadventures as the owner of a half-ton baby elephant in Manhattan.

Other Regulars: Dr. Diane Taylor, the vet; Howard Dimitri, Eugene's friend.

Cast: Todd Susman (Eugene Henderson), Liberty Godshall (Dr. Diane Taylor), Steven Peterman (Howard Dimitri), Ed Barth (Harold Brainer). Guest Cast: Stephen Pearlman (Prosecutor), John C. Becher (Judge), Ed Call (Keeper), Nora Denney (Woman in court), Bernie McInerney (Cop), Ralph Monaco (Cab driver). Theme: ("Ethel's Song") Marilyn and Larry Tucker.

2434 The Ethel Waters Show. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 6/14/39). Music, songs and light comedy with veteran actress Ethel Waters in one of the very first TV programs to star a black performer.

Hostess: Ethel Waters. Guests: Ollie Barber, Georgie Buck, Joey Faye, Edith Gresham, Georgette Harvey, Leslie Littomy, Philip Loeb, Fred Washington. Announcer: George Hicks.

2435 Eureka. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 2006). Eureka is a small American town that appears to be just that—a typical small American town. However, it conceals a dark secret: ever since the 1940s (right after the outbreak of World War II), the U.S. government has relocated geniuses there to live and work on scientific breakthroughs (originally to strengthen its military abilities). The basic premise of the series is a look at the quirky characters that inhabit the Pacific Northwest town:

U.S. Marshal Jack Carter and his rebellious teenage daughter Zoe; Allison Blake, the government liaison; easy-going sheriff Cobb; his nonsensical deputy, Josephine “Jo” Lupo; Henry, the mechanic; Dr. Barlow, the sex-crazed sex therapist; Nathan, Allison’s ex-husband, a Nobel Prize winner; and Warren, a government think tank leader.

2436 The Eva Gabor Show. (Series; Women; ABC; 1950–1951). A weekly program of music, guests, interviews, beauty tips and advice with actress Eva Gabor as the host. The series ran from November 10, 1950 to October 22, 1951.

Hostess: Eva Gabor.

2437 Eve. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2003–2006). Diva Style is a business located at 6950 South Beach Boulevard in Miami Beach, Florida. It is owned by three friends, Shelly Williams, Rita LeFleur and Janie Egan and events that spark their lives is the focal point of the series.

Shelly believes that her beauty is a burden—“No man is safe and I shouldn’t be allowed to walk the streets.” She also claims to be an expert at getting rid of men without hurting their feelings.

Rita is a penniless ex-model who made millions and squandered it. She will not go out in public “Until I’m camera ready.” Although she was said to be penniless, she was also said to have put up the most money ($40,000) to help start Diva Style.

Janie is the peacemaker of the group and always resolves the differences between Shelly and Rita (she considers herself “the good wise woman’s friend”). Janie is the only one of the friends who is married (to Marty, who is in the Navy) and loves to gossip. The girls enjoy a drink at the Z-Lounge.

Other Regulars: J.T. Hunter, Nick Delaney and Donovan Brink, friends of the girls. Nick is also the owner of the Z-Lounge.

Cast: Eve Jihan Jeffers (Shelly Williams), Ali Landry (Rita LeFleur), Natalie Desselle (Janie Egan), Jason Winston (J.T. Hunter), Brian Hooks (Nick Donovan), Sean Maguire (Donovan Brink).

2438 The Eve Arden Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1957–1958). Liza Hammond is a widow and the mother of twin daughters (Jenny and Mary). She works as a traveling lecturer and stories relate her efforts to divide her time between her home and children in Los Angeles and her job commitments. Nora is Liza’s housekeeper; George Howell is Liza’s agent.

Cast: Eve Arden (Liza Hammond), Gail Stone (Jenny Hammond), Karen Greene (Mary Hammond), Allyn Joslyn (George Howell), Frances Bavier (Nora).

2439 The Eve Arden Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/20/64). A proposed series about Claudia Cooper, the London branch manager of the T.J. Gitting Travel Agency. In the pilot episode, which depicts Claudia’s reassignment from New York to London, Claudia attempts to cope with the antics of her employer, Bertie Barrington, the wacky nephew of the agency owner, and his harebrained plan to promote a tour of the South Seas. Also known as “He’s All Yours” and “Take Him—He’s All Yours.” Other Regulars: Marsha, Claudia’s daughter; and Tillie, Bertie’s secretary.

Cast: Eve Arden (Claudia Cooper), Cindy Carol (Marsha Cooper), Jeremy Lloyd (Bertie Barrington), Howard Smith (T.J. Gitting), Ambrosine Philpots (Tillie). Guest Cast: Katy Greenwood (Katie), Nicholas Parsons (Squiffi), Derek Bond (George Andrews), Roger Avon (Constable).

2440 The Eve Hunter Show. (Series; Interview; NBC; 1951–1952). A daily series of celebrity interviews that ran from October 10, 1951 to March 28, 1952.

Hostess: Eve Hunter.

2441 Evel Knievel. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 3/29/74). A proposed action series based on the life of thrill-seeker Evel Knievel. In the pilot episode, the motorcycle daredevil pits his skills against Tracy Butler, a female cyclist.

2442 Even Stevens. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 1999–2003). Louis and Ren Stevens are the children of Steve and Eileen Stevens. They live in Sacramento, California and attend Lawrence Jr. High School.

Ren is the classic over achiever. She is her own best friend and has to be perfect at everything she does. She is a grade "A" student at school and a role model for other students, editor of the school newspaper and anchor of "The Wombat Report" on the school's closed circuit TV system.

Louis is the classic under achiever. He is younger than Ren and a schemer. He is always in trouble and is far more interested in having fun than doing schoolwork. But no matter what happens to him, everything seems to even out for him.

Stories follow the events that befall Ren and Louis as the face life head on. Other Regulars: Alan Twitty, Louis's friend; Margo Harshman, Ren's friend.

2443 Evening at the Improv. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1981). Performances by established and up-and-coming comedians. Taped at the Improvisational Club (The Improv) in Los Angeles. Acts are introduced by a guest host.

Host: Budd Friedman. Regulars: Donnie Archibald, Carrie Carrington, Gina Hecht, Jack Knight, Mark Goldstein, Frank Lewis, Julie Brown, Terrence McGovern, Barbara Gannon, Greg Lewis, Marilyn Jones. Guest Hosts Include: Madeline Kahn, Robert Shields, Lorene Yarnell, Mort Sahl, Harvey Korman, Jackie Mason, Tom Bosley, Avery Schreiber, Steve Allen, Martin Mull, Phyllis Diller.

2444 Evening Shade. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990–1994). In the small town of Evening Shade, Arkansas, in a house with the number 2102, live Woodrow ("Wood") Newton, his wife, Ava, their children, Molly, Will and Taylor, and a dog named Brownie. Stories relate the everyday events that spark their lives.

Wood, nicknamed "Thumper," played football for Evening Shade High School. He attended the University of Arkansas and became a quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers (he was called "Clutch"). He was Honorable Mention, All-American one year, All-American the next. Wood next became the Southwest Conference most valuable player, runner-up for the Heisman Trophy and rookie quarterback of the year in the NFL. He still holds the record as fourth ever in completed passes in NFL record books.

He single-handedly won the Eastern Division playoff game, completing six passes with a minute and 53 seconds left on the clock, and with ten seconds left and no time-outs, he scored the winning touchdown with a broken collarbone. (On a sad note, years later, when Wood had films of that state championship game transferred to videotape, he sees that the greatest moment of his life never happened — his winning catch was out of bounds.) Wood is now the P.E. teacher and football coach of the Mules, a team that can't play football, at Evening Shade High School (the team hasn't won a game in over two years); the school's mascot is Carl the mule.

Ava, now 33 years old, has been married to Wood for 15 years. She is the town's first female prosecuting attorney (she graduated second in her law class). When Ava was 12, she was overweight and was called "Chubby Evans" (Evans is her maiden name); it took her two years to lose the weight. Wood and Ava later become the parents of a girl they named Emily Frieda (on May 6, 1991); she was played by Caroline Rhymer. Ava's most cherished possession in her house is her antique bathroom window.

Taylor, Wood's oldest child (15) is a sophomore at Evening Shade High School and is a member of the Mules — but would prefer not to play the game (he wants to be a movie star "and doesn't want to get his face hurt").

Molly attends the Evening Shade Grammar School. She is 11 years old, but Wood and Ava think of her as nine (so she can always be their little girl; Molly wishes they would stop treating her like a baby).

Evan Evans, Ava's father, is the publisher of the town's newspaper, the Evening Shade Argus. He feels Wood ruined his life — "He married my daughter when she was only 18 and ruined my life." Evan married a younger woman, Fontana Beausoleil, in the episode of 3/2/92.

Harlan Eldridge, the town doctor, works at City Hospital (a.k.a. Evening Shade Hospital). He and his gorgeous wife, Merleen, live on an estate they call Tara. Merleen believes that she exudes sexuality and is thus a magnet to perverts. Tara of the Sea is Harlan's boat.

Herman Styles, the math teacher at Evening Shade High, earns an extra $400 a year as the assistant football coach. Nub Oliver, the newspaper delivery boy, calls his paper wagon the Chariot of Fire. He claims to have seen every movie that was ever made. Ponder Blue is the owner of the local diner Blue's Barbecue Villa.

Relatives: Florence Schaffer (Wood's mother, Pauline Newton), Brian Keith (Herman's father, Brick Styles), Melissa Renee Martin (Ponder's sister, Frances Blue), Billy Bob Thornton (Wood's ex-con cousin, Alvin). Theme: "Evening Shade," vocal by Hans Olson (first season); second season theme is an instrumental version by Snuff Garrett.

Cast: Burt Reynolds (Wood Newton), Marilu Henner (Ava Newton), Melissa Martin (Molly Newton), Candace Huston (Molly Newton; later), Jacob Parker (Will Newton), Jay R. Ferguson (Taylor Newton), Elizabeth Ashley (Frieda Evans), Hal Holbrook (Evan Evans), Ossie Davis (Ponder Blue), Michael Jeter (Herman Stiles), Charles Durning (Harlan Eldridge), Ann Wedgeworth (Merleen Eldridge), Charlie Dell (Nub Oliver), Linda Gehringer (Fontana Beausoleil).

2445 An Evening with... (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1965–1967). The program, set against the background of a nightclub, features programs that are tailored to the talents of its guest hosts (including Julie London, Gretchen Wyler, The Lennon Sisters, Marty Allen and Steve Rossi, Louis Prima, Gene Pitney).

2446 The Everglades. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1961). “In the Everglades there’s a way of life, it’s a way of peace without stress or strife; there’s a fellow there who protects these rights; Lincoln Vail of the Everglades, the man on patrol in the Everglades.” Lincoln Vail is a law enforcement officer with the Everglades County Police Patrol in Florida. Stories follow his case assignments as he tries to uphold the peace.

Cast: Ron Hayes (Lincoln Vail), Gordon Cosell (Chief Anderson).

2447 The Everly Brothers Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1970). An hour of music and comedy with singers Phil and Don Everly. The series, also known as Johnny Cash Presents the Everly Brothers Show, produced 13 episodes and aired from July 8, 1970 to September 16, 1970. Bernie Kukoff and Jeff Harris are the producers.

Hosts: Phil Everly, Don Everly. Regulars: Ruth McDevitt, Joe Higgins, Dick Clair, Jenna McMahon. Announcer: Mike Lawrence. Orchestra: Jack Elliott, Allyn Ferguson.

2448 Everwood. (Series; Drama; WB; 2002–2006). Life in the small town of Everwood, Colorado, is seen through the experiences of Andrew Brown, a widowed brain surgeon, and his children, Ephram and Delia. The prime time soap opera begins shortly after the death of Andrew’s wife, a traumatic situation that prompts him to move from Manhattan to Everwood to find a new meaning to life, give his children a more gentle environment in which to grow and find satisfaction from people in need of medical care.

Stephanie Niznik (Nina Feeney), John Beasley (Irv Harper), Justin Maldoni (Reid Bardem).

2449 Every Stray Dog and Kid. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 9/21/81). Shortly after the death of her younger sister (killed in an accident involving the car she stole), Bobbi Marshall, herself serving a sentence for grand theft auto, vows to do two things when she is released: make an honest living as a writer, and try to do for other kids what she could never do for her own sister — care. One week after she is released, Bobbi is placed in charge of four juvenile offenders: Jenny Baxter (a teenage hooker), Tommy Ryan (a car thief), Normie Taylor (a cat burglar) and Cathy Aronson (a petty thief). The unsold series, set in Washington, D.C., was to focus on Bobbi’s struggles as she attempts to make a living as a writer and care for four mischievous kids. In the pilot episode, Bobbi’s hopes of impressing an important publisher are shattered when the police arrive at her home in search of illegal drugs.

Cast: Maureen Anderman (Bobbi Marshall), Bruce Weitz (Sergeant Mike Pirelli, her friend), Denise Miller (Jenny Baxter), Jackie Earle Haley (Tommy Ryan), Kris McKeon (Cathy Aronson), Patrick J. Peterson (Normie Taylor). Guest Cast: Alan Fudge (Les Hatfield), Rita Taggart (Geri Ballin), Toni Gilman (Mrs. Braverman), Lawrence Haddon (Mr. Braverman), Todd Lookinland (Jeff Hatfield), Steven Spencer (Eric Hatfield), Veronica Redd (Mrs. Carson), Linda Hayes (Hooker), Stanley Brock (Trick).

2450 Everybody Hates Chris. (Series; Comedy; UPN; CW; 2005–). The childhood memories of comedian Chris Rock come to life as he narrates stories of his past (at age 13) and growing up in Brooklyn, New York (Bedford Stuyvesant section), in 1982.

Chris is the son of Julius and Rochelle and has two younger siblings, Drew and Tanya. He sometimes wishes he were an only child. Chris tries to do everything that is right (but everything usually goes wrong). He is the only African-American at Corleone High School and because he is black, he is expected to do things that blacks do (like be good at sports, which he is not).

Rochelle works as a waitress and is a good (but strict) mother. Julius holds down several jobs and is very frugal (more of a tightwad) and has to have an accounting for every cent that is spent (his most steady job is janitor at the Overbrook Hotel). Even though Drew is younger than Chris (but taller and looks older), Chris gets his hand-me-downs (which Chris calls “hand-me ups”).

Tanya is the youngest child and seemingly sweet and innocent (she has a great gift for making Chris take the blame for something she did. As Chris says, “Little sisters — you can’t live with them and they can't accidentally turn up missing"). Tanya is also very stubborn (takes somewhat after her mother) and when she has her mind set on something, it is nearly impossible to change it. She and Drew attend Dolemite Elementary School.

In second season episodes (set in 1983) Chris acquires an after school job at Doc's Corner, the local grocery store (he also worked for a short time at Hoo Fong's Chinese Restaurant).

Other Regulars: Greg Wolger, Chris's friend; Mrs. Morello, one of Chris's teachers; school Principal Raymond; Louise Clarkson, the Rock's neighbor; Tasha, Louise's daughter; Joey Caruso, the school bully; and Mr. Omar, the Rock's upstairs neighbor.

2451 Everybody Loves Raymond. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996–2005). Raymond Barone is a sportswriter for Newsday, a Long Island (New York) based newspaper. He is married to Debra and they are the parents of Ally and twins Jeffrey and Michael. The Barones live at 320 Fowler Street (although 135 is seen on the front door) — right next door to Raymond's parents — the meddling Marie and Frank Barone. Also a part of Ray's life are his older brother, Robert (and in later episodes, Robert's wife, Amy). Robert is a police sergeant (later lieutenant) with the N.Y.P.D. Marie is a retired piano teacher; Frank worked for Polk Accounting. Ally (and later the twins) attend Our Lady of Faith Elementary School. Debra worked for a Manhattan public relations firm before marrying Raymond.

Raymond and Debra are argumentative (fighting over every little thing — with Raymond always giving in and letting Debra win; it keeps peace in the family). Robert feels his parents liked (and still like) Raymond over him and he is jealous because "Everybody Loves Raymond."

Marie is very bossy and her concerns over Debra's abilities to cook, clean and even care for the kids causes friction. Frank finds it easier to agree with Marie and keep his mouth shut — all for only one reason — so she will do what he loves best, cook for him. Stories follow the events that spark incidents in their lives.

Hank and Pat McDougall are Amy's parents (who live in Pennsylvania); Peter is Amy's oddball brother (he has a pet cat named Miss Puss and runs a comic book store). Hank is the principal of Cooper Jr. High School in Philadelphia.

2452 Everyday. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1978). A daily program of music, songs and comedy sketches.

Hosts: Stephanie Edwards, John Bennett Perry. Regulars: Tom Chapin, Murray Langston, Anne Bloom, Judy Gibson, Robert Corff, Emily Levine.

2453 Everyday. (Series; Women; Syn.; 1989). A daily series of celebrity interviews, cooking, fashion tips, household hints and other items of interest to women.

Hostess: Joan Lunden.

2454 Everything Goes. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1973). A Canadian produced, daily program of music, songs and celebrity interviews Frank Peppiatt and John Aylesworth are the producers.

Host: Norm Crosby, Tom O'Malley. Regulars: Mike Darrow, Katherine McKenna. Announcer: Mike Darrow. Orchestra: Moe Kaufman.

2455 Everything Happens to Me. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/27/61). The pilot film for The Joey Bishop Show (1961 NBC version) about Joey Mason, a Hollywood press agent. In the episode, broadcast as a segment of The Danny Thomas Show, Danny's plans for a Hollywood TV special run afoul when Joey takes charge — and almost ruins the deal.

Cast: Joey Bishop (Joey Mason), Billy Gilbert (Pop Mason), Madge Blake (Mom Mason). Guest Cast: Danny Thomas (Danny Williams), Marjorie Lord (Kathy Williams), Angela Cartwright (Linda Williams), Rusty Hamer (Rusty Williams).

2456 Everything's Archie. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1973–1974). The antics of the Archie Gang (Archie Andrews, Jughead Jones, Veronica Lodge, Betty Cooper, Reggie Mantle and Hot Dog, the gang pet), high school students in the fictional town of Riverdale. See also The Archie Show.

Voice Cast: Dallas McKennon (Archie Andrews), Jane Webb (Betty Cooper), Jane Webb (Veronica Lodge), Howard Morris (Jughead Jones), Dallas McKennon (Reggie Mantle).

2457 Everything's Relative. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1965). Two four-member families compete, each composed of the parents and two children. One member of each family is placed in a specific situation. The other members of that family must predict the outcome. The subject's ability (or inability) to perform determines whether or not the family scores points.

Each member of each family is placed in the same performance situation and the family with the most correct predictions (highest scorers) wins the game.

Host: Jim Hutton.

2458 Everything's Relative. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1987). Julian Beeby is a product tester. His brother, Scott, is a construction worker. Julian is divorced (from Betsy); Scott is single and they live together in a Manhattan apartment. The brothers have their own problems and appear to be handling them until their mother, Rae, feels they are misguided and decides to take an active part in their lives. Stories follow Julian and Scott's mishaps as they struggle to overcome their mother's endless meddling. Other Regulars: Emily, Julian's business partner; and Rhoda, Rae's sister.

Cast: Jason Alexander (Julian Beeby), John Bolger (Scott Beeby), Anne Jackson (Rae Beeby), Gina Hecht (Emily), Kim Morgan Greene (Betsy), Peggy Cass (Rhoda).

2459 The Evidence. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2006). An announcer informs viewers of the evidence in a homicide case (here, for example, from the first episode): "San Francisco Police Department Homicide Case Number 2510605. Laura Green. Item: Cellular phone, displaying the last number dialed. Item: Gold locket with broken chain; photograph scratched out. Item: Large flowery hydrangea with balloon. Item: Human finger severed with attached compass ring. Item: Body of Caucasian female; lacerations to throat. This is the evidence."

With the evidence given to the viewer, the program challenges the audience to guess the identity of the killer before the police do. Once the evidence is given, a flashback is used to reveal the life of the subject before the crime.

Inspector Sean Cole and Detective Cayman Bishop of the San Francisco Police Department then investigate and through the evidence gathered, apprehend a subject (or subjects) and bring a case to a successful conclusion.

Cayman is the laid back, mostly by the books black cop; Sean is an embittered cop, struggling to cope with the unsolved murder of his wife, Julia, whom he found dead (shot in the head) one night when returning home.

Other Regulars: Sol Goldman, the department's forensics expert; and Emily Stevens, Sol's lab technician.

Cast: Rob Estes (Insp. Sean Cole), Orlando Jones (Det. Cayman Bishop), Martin Landau (Dr. Sol Goldman), Anita Briem (Emily Stevens), Christie Will (Julia Cole; flashbacks).

2460 Evil Roy Slade. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/18/72). A wagon train traveling to California is attacked and burned to the ground by Apache Indians. The lone survivor, an infant boy, somehow manages to survive and grows up to be one mean man, loving no one and expecting neither love nor respect. Adopting the name Evil Roy Slade (Slade for Sneaking, Lying, Arrogance, Dirtiness and Evil) he becomes the leader of an outlaw gang and one of the most wanted men of the West — with lawmen from every state seeking to end his life of evil doing.

The pilot episode, which is actually two storylines in one, is set in the town of Willow Bend and opens with Nelson L. Stool, the owner of the Western Express and Stage Lines, hiring ex-San Francisco Marshal Bing Bell, "The Singing Lawman," to stop Slade from robbing his stages and trains ("Why he's so mean he steals the locomotive whistles because he likes the toot toot sound"). The second storyline, which is interwoven into the first, depicts Slade's first taste of decency when he meets Betsy Potter, a school teacher who becomes attracted to him and sets out to reform him so they can marry and settle down in peace. A reworking of a failed pilot called Sheriff Who (see entry).

Other Regulars: Aggie, Betsy's mother; Clifford, Nelson's nephew; Turhan, Bing's servant; and Slade's gang: Flossie, Preacher, Smith and Snake.

Cast: John Astin (Evil Roy Slade), Mickey Rooney (Nelson L. Stool), Pamela Austin (Betsy Potter), Dick Shawn (Marshal Bing Bell), Connie Sawyer (Aggie Potter), Henry Gibson (Clifford Stool), Edie Adams (Flossie), Robert Liberman (Preacher), Larry Hankin (Smith), Edmund Cambridge (Snake), Pat Morita (Turhan). Guest Cast: Milton Berle (Harry Fern), Milton Frome (Telegrapher), Luana Anders (Alice Fern), Dom DeLuise (Logan Delp), Penny Marshall (Bank teller), John Ritter (Minister), Jerry Paris (Souvenir salesman), Pat Buttram (Narrator).

2461 The Evil Touch. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1973). Stories of people who are driven to evil through frustration. The series, which is filmed in Australia, features American personalities and Australian supporting actors.

Host: Anthony Quayle. Performers Include: Carol Lynley, Robert Lansing, Julie Harris, Susan Strasberg, Charles McCullum, Dennis Clinton, Peter Gwynne, June Slater, Elizabeth Crosby.

2462 Ewoks. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1995). The futuristic adventures of the Ewoks, creatures from the Star Wars series of films, as they battle evil. Based on the characters created by George Lucas.

Voice Cast: Cree Summer Franks (Keneesaa), Jim Ken Shor (Wicket), Alan Fawcett, Myra Friend, Mellany Brown, Leane Coffee, Rob Cowan, Richard Donat, Desmond Ellis, Pauline Rene, Anthony Parr, Don McManus, Erik Peterson, Don Franks.

2463 Exe's and Ob's. (Series; Drama; Logo; 2007–). Jennifer is a young woman with a vivid fantasy life and a floundering career (documentary film maker). She is also a lesbian and looking for a girl with whom to share her life. As Jennifer searches for that special girl, viewers are given a glimpse into her private life as well as the lives of her close lesbian friends: Samantha, called Sam, Crutch, and Kris (with a K) and Chris (with a C).

Sam is Jennifer's ex-lover and also searching for a new mate. She works as a bartender and is a flirt (she also uses her beauty to get what she wants). Crutch has a bumper sticker that reads "Dyke Power." She is 22 years old, has purple streaked hair and works as a coffee house waitress. Her dream is to become a famous singer/songwriter.

Kris and Chris are lovers. Chris is a bit rough around the edges and is the first lesbian to come out and get out of her small Ohio town. She is responsible and practical and will not back down from a confrontation. Kris is a bit more feminine than Chris but somewhat ditzy (or, as she says, "just operating on much simpler logic than most of us"). She and Chris operate an online pet accessories business. Also known as The Rules: A Lesbian Survival Guide.

2464 Executive Suite. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1976–1977). A behind-the-scenes look at the problems that befall members of the fictitious Cardway Corporation, a large conglomerate in California.

Don Walling is the president of Cardway. He is married to Helen and they are the parents of Brian and Stacey. Howell Rutledge is the vice president; Mark Desmond is the head of consumer relations. Yvonne Holland is Mark's mistress; Astrid is Howell's wife. Tom Dalessio is the plant manager; Gloria is Tom's daughter. Summer Johnson is Brian's girlfriend. Hilary Madison is the head of advertising. Harry Ragin is the labor manager. Anderson Galt, Malcolm Gibson and Pearce Newberry are board members.

Maggie is Don's secretary; Katie is Hillary's secretary; Elly Gibson is Malcolm's wife. Sharon Cody is the head of the rival corporation, Capricorn International. Nick Kaslow is an industrial spy; B.J. is Nick's son. Julie Solkin is Helen's friend; Bernie is Julie's husband. Sy Bookman is the corporate lawyer; David Valerio is Helen's drama coach. Walter Johnson is Summer's brother; and Bessy is Summer's grandmother.

(Astrid Rutledge), Paul Lambert (Tom Dalessio), Joan Prather (Glory Dalessio), Brenda Sykes (Summer Johnson), Madlyn Rhue (Hilary Madison), William Smithers (Anderson Galt), Carl Weintraub (Harry Ragin), Percy Rodrigues (Malcolm Gibson), Byron Morrow (Pearce Newberry), Marged Wakeley (Maggie), Abbe Kanter (Katie), Pauline Myers (Elly Gibson), Kim Hamilton (Elly Gibson; later), Joanna Barnes (Sharon Cody), Scott Marlowe (Nick Kaslow), Moosie Drier (B.J. Kaslow), Geraldine Brooks (Julie Solkin), Norman Fell (Bernie Solkin), John Randolph (Sy Bookerman), Ricardo Montalban (David Valerio), Nat Jones (Walter Johnson), Hilda Haynes (Bessy Johnson).

2465 The Exile. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1991). John Stone is a man who was framed for murder and is now trying to clear his name. John's own words tell what happened: "I was an undercover agent for the United States until I defected to East Germany. People thought I was a trader. But actually I was still reporting to Washington as a double agent. When the [Berlin] Wall came tumbling down I thought I was going home — maybe even get a medal. Instead they tried to kill me. Someone with a secret to keep framed me for murder and made it seem I was a trader. The only two people I could trust staged my death — Charlie Cabot, an American Intelligence officer, and Danny Montrose, a French cop. They gave me a new life and a new name. I became John Stone. So everything is fine — until I can clear myself and go home." Stories follow John as he seeks the man responsible for framing him (and helping people he finds in trouble along the way).

John's real name is John Phillips. Danny is with the Special Action Directorate of the French Police Department. Episodes also feature Jacquie, John's friend.

Cast: Jeffrey Meek (John Stone), Patrick Hoerheim (Charles Cabot), Christian Burgess (Danny Montrose), Nadica Fares (Jacquie).

2466 Exit 57. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 1995). A sketch comedy program (that spoofs everyday life) with comedians from Chicago Annoyance Theater and Canada's Second City Troupe.

Cast: Amy Sedaris, Stephen Colbert, Jodi Lennon, Mitch Rouse, Stephen Colbert.

2467 Exo-Man. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 6/8/77). When Nicholas Conrad, a Wisconsin college physics professor, apprehends an armed bank robber, relatives of the culprit hire hit men to eliminate him. Their attempts fail when Conrad survives with a broken back. Determined to get the men responsible for disabling him but hindered by his handicap, Conrad develops an exo suit from energy cells he has been experimenting with. The device revitalizes his limbs, making him mobile again, and endows him with superhuman abilities, which he uses to battle crime.

The pilot episode relates the unsold series storyline and Conrad's attempts to get those responsible for his plight. Other Regulars: Emily Frost, Conrad's romantic interest, an artist; and Arthur Travis, the government agent Conrad assists.

2468 Exosquad. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1993). The series is set in the 22nd century. At this time, when Mars and Venus have been colonized, a new race called Neo Sapiens has been created to work as slave laborers. It is also at this time that the Neo Sapiens attempt to revolt against the Earth to win rights equal to their human counterparts. To battle the Neo Sapiens, a weapon called the exo-frame is created. Here, a human enters the machine and controls an eight-foot tall fighting machine that is also capable of thinking on its own. The revolt is put down but another threat also exists: Pirates (descendants of Earth criminals who serve time by working the mines on the moons of distant planets). The Pirates are kept in line (and hunted down if they escape) by the Exo-Fleet of Earth. The Neo Sapiens still want their equal rights; the Pirates want revenge for what has been done to them. Over time and as the result of countless battles, the Pirates and the Neo Sapiens join forces to extract their revenge on Earth. Battling them is Lieutenant J.T. Marsh, the head of the Able Squad Unit of exo-frames. Stories relate the battle that ensues.

2470 Expedition Danger. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1985). True wildlife stories based on the real life of Stan Brock, an adventurer who pits his strength against the perils of the jungle. Each story is presented like an episode of an adventure series rather than a documentary. Peter Tors (the son of action producer Ivan Tors) assists Stan; Nadjama and Tracy are the wildlife photographers who accompany them. The series is filmed on location in Brazil.

Cast: Stan Brock (Himself), Peter Tors (Himself), Nadjama (Nadjama latalaze), Tracy (Tracy St. John), Stan Brock (Narrator).

2471 The Expendables. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 9/27/62). An unsold attempt to revive the 1959 CBS series Tightrope about a police undercover agent (Mike Connors as Nick Stone) who tackles dangerous assignments that involve infiltrating the underworld. Here, however, the agent is named only Mike and the series was an hour proposal for ABC. In the pilot episode, Mike's assignment is to rescue a kidnapped policeman from mobsters who are holding him hostage until their demands are met: to have the death sentence of their imprisoned leader, gangster Marty Dundee, commuted.

Cast: Mike Connors (Mike). Guest Cast: Dina Merrill (Barbara), Zachary Scott (Moline), Jeffrey Stone (Marty Dundee), Quinn Redeker (Quinn).

2472 Experiment in the Desert. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 8/22/45). The story is set 120 miles southeast of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and details the eager wait of scientists as they countdown the seconds to America's first atomic bomb test from their observation outpost.

2479 The Expert. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1970). Dr. John Hardy is a forensic scientist who works with the police in Warwickshire, England. Stories follow Dr. Hardy's case investigations. The series is inspired by the work of John Glaister, a former professor of forensic medicine at Glasgow University. Dr. Jo Harding is John's wife; Susan Bartlett is John's assistant. Produced in England from 1970 through 1976.

Cast: Marius Goring (Dr. John Hardy), Ann Morrish (Dr. Jo Harding), Virginia Stride (Susan Bartlett), Victor Winding (Chief Inspector Fleming), Noel Johnson (Dr. Worsley).

2480 Expert Witness. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/22/58). Dan Wilder is a scientific detective who possesses a mobile crime lab. He travels around the country and his efforts to help where he can was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Dan travels to a small town to investigate the unusual death of a young girl. Aired as "Hide and Seek" on The Jane Wyman Theater ("Expert Witness" was the proposed series title).

Cast: Everett Sloane (Dan Wilder). Guest Cast: Richard Erdman (Joe Sackett), Louis Jean Heydt (Joe McHale), James Westerfield (Sheriff). Also: Sue Carlton, Frank Ferguson, Tim Graham, G. Stanley Jones, Peggy O'Connor.

2481 The Explorers. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1972). Leslie Nielsen hosts and narrates films that explore the world of modern day adventurers.

2482 Expose. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 12/27/63). A proposed series about Anita King, a beautiful undercover agent for the U.S. government. In the pilot episode, Anita attempts to prove that Ralph Traven, a nightclub owner, is the key figure in a narcotics smuggling ring. Broadcast as "Corridor 400" on The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater ("Expose" was the proposed series title).

Cast: Suzanne Pleshette (Anita King), Theodore Bikel (Ralph Traven), Andrew Duggan (Donald Guthrie), Joseph Campanella (Frank Mancini), Frank Overton (Gene Farrell).

2483 Extra. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1994–). A daily program of show business information with reports on all aspects of the industry — from movies and TV to music, Broadway and the celebrities themselves.

Hosts: Arthel Neville, Dave Nemeth, Maureen O’Boyle, Leeza Gibbons, Danya Devon, Libby Weaver, Brad Goode, Mark McGrath, Jon Kelley, Idalis DeLeon, Samantha Harris, Lisa Guerrero. Regulars: Terri Seymour, Caleigh Peters, Ben Patrick Johnson, Rick Schwartz, Phil Shuman, Scott Rapoport, Gina Silva, Les Trent, Doug Bruckner, Jamie Colby, Kurt Knudson, Barry Nolan, Bo Griffin, Charlie Maher, Terry Murphy, Tava Smiley, Tanika Ray, Dana Adams, Jimmy Bridges, Carol Grow.

2484 The Extra Sensory World of Char. (Pilot; Human Interest; ABC; 5/23/87). A proposed but unsold series that was to explore the world of ESP, telepathy, the paranormal and other psychic phenomena.

Hosts: Char (a psychic), Peter Tomarken. Guests: Leslie Charleson, Alan Vaughn.

2485 Extreme. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1995). A seven episode series centering on Reese Wheeler, the head of the Steep Mountain Rangers Group, a band of men and women who risk their lives to rescue people trapped in perilous situations.

Reese is a former Olympic champion. He is assisted by Sarah Bowen, a rich girl on the run from her origins, who finds the life she is seeking with Reese; Andie McDermott, a young woman who is hoping to one day work as a paramedic in a big city; Lance Monroe, a world-class skier; and Kyle Hansen, the athletic son of a former Olympic champion. Together these “adrenalin junkies” assist wherever they are needed in search and rescue operations.

Cast: James Brolin (Reese Wheeler), Brooke Langton (Sarah Bowen), Julie Bowen (Andie McDermott), Justin Lazard (Lance Monroe), Cameron Bancroft (Kyle Hanson).

2486 Extreme Dinosaurs. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1997). In a time long ago, a group of dinosaurs were frozen and preserved. As time passed the dinosaurs awoke and are now possessed with the ability to talk and think as intelligent creatures. They also have a mission — protect the planet from the evil Raptors, who want to take over the Earth.

The dinosaurs, who form a team called Extreme Dinosaurs, are T-Bone (a Tyrannosaurus Rex) who leads the group; Spike (a Triceratops); Stegz (a Stegosaurus) and Bullseye (a Pteradon who is the trouble-prone member of the group). The evil Raptors are led by Bad Rap; he is assisted by Haxx and Spittor.

Voice Cast: Scott McNeil (T-Bone), Sam Khouth (Stegz), Jason Gray-Stanford (Bullseye), Gary Chalk (Bad Rap), Andrew Francis (Dylan), Terry Klassen (Spittor), Blu ManKuma (Hardrock), Cusse Mankuma (Spike), Louise Vallance (Chedra), Lee Tockar (Haxx).

2487 Extreme Ghostbusters. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1997). A revised version of The Real Ghostbusters (see entry) that finds Egon Spengler, the head of the original Ghost Busters, reorganizing his team by adding four teenagers: Eduardo, Roland, Kylie and Garrett. The team is assisted by Slimer, the reformed evil spirit, and stories follow the Ghost Busters as they attempt to rid Manhattan of spirits, ghouls and other protoplasmic creatures.

2488 Extreme Makeover. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2002–2005). A rather graphic reality series that offers three people (per show cycle) the opportunity of a lifetime: a free head to toe makeover (which includes drastic plastic surgery, dentistry, makeup, hair — whatever needs to be done to change and elevate the status of people who feel their appearance is a burden).

Dental and plastic surgery segments are (or could be) upsetting to some viewers for the graphic detail that is shown. The viewer can suffer along with the subjects (or you can feel their pain and anxiety) but in the final episode, when the procedures are completed and the subject emerges a totally changed person, the pain and suffering was not in vain.

Host: Sissy Biggers, Sam Saboura. Doctors: Carl Noback, Jon A. Perlman, Garth Fisher, Stacy Hoffman.

2489 Extreme Makeover: Home Edition. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2003–). A spin off from Extreme Makeover that helps desperate or deserving families begin anew life. A family that is facing an extreme hardship is given the dream of a lifetime: a brand new house (for example, a young girl with a serious heart condition whose already undergone four operations at age eleven, needs to live in a relatively germ-free environment — something her parents can’t afford. This family was chosen and their old house demolished and a brand new home with a special environmental system was built just for them). Once the subjects are chosen, they are sent on a week long vacation. During that time, a large construction crew goes to work — demolishing the existing house (or renovating if possible) and within a week construct a new home to meet the needs of the family, especially children (who receive rooms reflecting their interests). The last few minutes of the program brings the family back to see their new home—and cameras capture the emotional moments as they are given the grand tour.

Host: Ty Pennington. Design Crew: Tracy Hutson, Preston Sharp, Constance Ramos, Paul DiMeo, Didiayer Snyder, Michael Moloney, John A. Carr, Eduardo Xol, John Littlefield, Tracy McQueen, Ed Sanders, Rib Hillis. Announcer: Eric Ancker.

2490 The Ex-Wives Club. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2007). Real life women (and men) who thought they found the perfect mate but soon after realized they made the biggest mistake of their lives when divorce enters the picture are the subjects of the program. Two such people appear each week (in separate segments) to tell their stories (often in tears) to three love coaches (who have gone through the same situation and survived). Each coach gives them advice on “how to mend a broken heart,” get even, let steam off—anything to let them know there is a life after the pain.

Love Coaches: Angie Everhart, Marla Maples, Shar Jackson.

2491 Eye Guess. (Series; Game; NBC; 1966–1969). Two players compete. The “Eye Guess” game board, which contains eight numbered answers, is revealed for eight seconds. At the end of the time, the answers are hidden by overlaying corresponding numbers. The host reads a series of questions relating to the hidden answers. Each answer that a player remembers (by calling the correct number) awards him a point and a merchandise prize. The first player to score seven points is the winner and receives whatever merchandise prizes he has accumulated; the loser receives his choice of any one prize that may be on his side of the board.

Host: Bill Cullen. Announcer: Don Pardo, Jack Clark.

2492 Eye on Hollywood. (Series; Magazine; ABC; 1983). A short-lived (5 episode) series that spotlights the people and places of Southern California with a focus on the culture of Hollywood.

Hosts: Chuck Henry, Tawny Schneider, Johnny Mountain. Music: Paul Antonelli.

2493 Eye to Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985). Doyle and Poole—Private Investigators is a detective agency owned by Oscar Poole and Tracy Doyle, the slightly offbeat daughter of Oscar’s original, late partner, Howard Doyle.

When she was five years old Howard walked out on Tracy and her mother. Tracy and her mother survived as best as they could and Tracy became a Jill of all trades. Twenty years later, Howard attempts to re-establish ties with Tracy, but is killed during a case investigation before he can do so. Feeling that her father deserved better, Tracy teams with Oscar to find the killer.

Oscar finds the case routine and boring; Tracy feels needed and wanted and convinces Oscar to let her remain his partner.

Doyle and Poole is located on Ventura Boulevard in Los Angeles. Tracy lives in a loft over a factory at 120 Waverly Boulevard. In addition to solving crimes, Tracy does interior decorating, sells real estate and star maps, caters parties, is a Smoke Enders counselor and the personal manager of a famous singer.

Oscar is the aging private detective who calls Tracy “Doll” and “Pussycat.” When rough characters are encountered, it is Oscar who takes the beating—“I didn’t think he’d beat us up,” says Tracy. Oscar clarifies it—“He didn’t beat us up. He beat me up.” Oscar and Tracy eat lunch at a fast food place called Tail of the Pup and dine at Sardi’s. Oscar’s lady love is Diane, a waitress at Sardi’s. Oscar’s favorite pastime appears to be buying Diane lingerie at Frederick’s of Hollywood. Jimmie Haskell composed the theme “Eye to Eye.”

Cast: Charles Durning (Oscar Poole), Stephanie Faracy (Tracy Doyle), Rita Taggart (Diane).

2494 Eye to Eye with Connie Chung. (Series; Reality; CBS; 1993). A weekly program of topical stories with news correspondent Connie Chung as the host. The program also features investigative reports, newsmaker profiles and coverage of breaking news stories.

Host: Connie Chung. Correspondents: Roberta Basken, Bernard Goldberg, Eddie Magnus, Russ Mitchell.

Host-Narrator: Richard Carlson. Performers Include: Eva Marie Saint, Richard Coogan, Vaughn Taylor, Beverly Whitney, Mercer MacLeod, Nita Talbot, Robert Webber, Lee Bowman, Gene Lyons, Dorothy Donohue, Melville Cooper, Romney Brent, James Gregory, Larry Haines, Barbara Joyce, Henry Jones, Rusty Lane, Jean Carson, Fay Bainter, Millard Mitchell, Michael Evans, Peter Cappell, John Newland, Emlyn Williams, Mary Stewart, Evelyn Varden, Sallie Brophy.

2496 Eyes. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2005). Judd Risk Management is a Los Angeles-based private investigation firm run by Harlan Ernest Judd. Harlan started the company four years ago. He makes $17 million a year, but his bills are $20 million a year. Harlan’s company handles high stakes cases for which his firm receives a 14 percent recovery fee.

Stories follow the firm's efforts, working just within the limits of the law, to bring cases to a successful conclusion.

Other Regulars: Chris Didion and Nora Gage, primary investigators; Leslie Town, Harlan's attorney; Meg Brando, a cryptic linguist; Trish Agermeyer, a surveillance technician; and Jeff McCann, an investigator.

Cast: Timothy Daly (Harlan Judd), Gracelle Beauvais (Nora Gage), Laura Leighton (Leslie Town), Eric Maibus (Jeff McCann), Rick Worthy (Chris Didion), Natalie Zea (Trish Agermeyer).

2497 The Eyes Have It. (Series; Game; NBC; 1948–1949). The object calls for a panel of experts to identify a famous person or place from a portion of a picture (which may be seen in an extreme close-up, at an unusual angle, or just focused on the eyes). A later format has a panel of experts attempting to answer questions based on film clips. The series aired from November 20, 1948 to June 16, 1949.

Host: Douglas Edwards, Ralph McNair.

2498 The Eyes of Charles Sand. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 2/29/72). Charles Sand is a man who possesses a special power called "The Sight," which enables him to see what others cannot. His efforts to use his gift to help others was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Sand investigates a girl's story about her brother's alleged murder.

Cast: Peter Haskell (Charles Sand). Guest Cast: Barbara Rush (Katherine), Sharon Farrell (Emily Parkhurst), Bradford Dillman (Jeffrey Winslow), Joan Bennett (Aunt Alexandra), Adam West (Dr. Paul Scott), Gary Clarke (Raymond).

2499 The Eyes of Texas. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 11/10/79). The first of two unsold pilot films about Heather Fern and Caroline Capoty, two beautiful detectives for Texas International, a two-bit private investigation organization run by Mort Jarvis. In the pilot which was broadcast on B.J. and the Bear, Heather and Caroline, who call themselves "The Eyes of Texas," travel to New Orleans to apprehend Jay Lawrence, a con man who preys on wealthy, elderly women. See the following title also.

Cast: Rebecca Reynolds (Heather Fern), Lorrie Mahaffey (Caroline Capoty), Roger C. Carmel (Mort Jarvis). Guest Cast: Peter Haskell (Jay Lawrence), Anna Lee (Laura Forrester), Raymond St. Jacques (Bradley), Mitzi Hoag (Freida), Marcia Morgan (Benji), Lenore Woodward (Verna). Theme Vocal: "The Eyes of Texas" by Greg Evigan.

2500 The Eyes of Texas II. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 2/23/80). The second of two pilot films (see The Eyes of Texas) about Heather Fern and Caroline Capoty, private detectives who work for Texas International, a two-bit private investigative organization now run by Helen Jarvis, the late Mort's penny-pinching wife. In the pilot, titled "The Girls on the Hollywood High" (and broadcast on B.J. and the Bear), the girls are hired by trucker B.J. McKay to find his missing sister, Shauna, who witnessed a murder at a Hollywood party and was taken prisoner to keep her from talking. Other Regulars: Detective Rizzo, Helen's field boss.

Cast: Rebecca Reynolds (Heather Fern), Heather Thomas (Caroline Capoty), Eve Arden (Helen Jarvis), Michael Pataki (Detective Rizzo). Guest Cast: Greg Evigan (B.J. McKay), Deborah Ryan (Shauna McKay), Craig Stevens (Hank Rogers), Burr DeBenning (Garrett Logan), Sandra Peterson (Boom Boom), Stuart Pankin (Harvey Kreppler), Helena Carroll (Doris), John S. Ragin (Dr. Robert Astin), Robert Ito (Dr. Sam Fugiyama).

2501 EZ Streets. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1996). A gritty drama that explores the lives of three men who live by the creed of the streets. Cameron Quinn is a disgraced police detective who works undercover to destroy the gangs which are threatening the stability of the city. Jimmy Murtha is the ruthless head of the city's most notorious gang, the EZ's. Danny Rodney is a man who has just been released from prison for a crime he did not commit and is struggling to go straight although the temptation of being part of a gang is slowly drawing him back to a life of crime and corruption.

Wilton is called “The Scourge of the West” but became a hero by accident. During the closing months of the Civil War, Wilton was a private with the Union Quartermaster Corps and was put in charge of officers' laundry. One day, while doing the laundry, he encountered an excess of pollen and sneezed, blurting out what sounds like “Charge!” Troopers on stand-by were prompted into an action that foiled a Confederate plan and brought victory to the Union. Wilton was promoted to captain and assigned to Fort Courage to replace the former commander, “Cannonball” Bill McCormick (Willard Waterman), who had retired.

Wilton believes that his reputation is responsible for keeping the “ferocious” Hekawi in line. Unknown to him, the Hekawi are a friendly tribe and partners with two of his soldiers, O'Rourke and Agarn, in the illegal O'Rourke Enterprises.

Sergeant Morgan O'Rourke, a 25-year career army officer, and nine-year veteran Corporal Randolph Agarn, run O'Rourke Enterprises from the barracks of Fort Courage. The company, which owns the Fort Courage Saloon and the International Trading Company, deals in souvenirs, whisky and anything else that will make money. Their goods supplier is Wild Eagle, chief of the Hekawi. Wild Eagle is a money-hungry Indian who has brought his tribe to a point where they are completely dependent on money and rapidly forgetting the hard life they once lived. Crazy Cat is the assistant chief.

Wilton is totally unaware of O'Rourke's illegal business operations. He does, however, have problems of another kind — trying to avoid the matrimonial plans of his girlfriend, the beautiful Jane Angelica Thrift. Jane, who has the nickname of “Wrangler Jane,” owns Wrangler Jane's (the general store, post office and hay/feed store). Jane fell in love with Wilton at first sight and has made it her goal to marry him (although Wilton has no intentions of marrying her or any other girl). Stories follow Wilton's efforts to uphold the peace and O'Rourke and Agarn's efforts to profit from their hitch in the military.

Other Troopers: Private Hannibal Shirley Dobbs is the troop's inept bugler; Private Vanderbilt is the nearly blind lookout; Private Duffy is a survivor of the Alamo and rambles endlessly about his and Davy Crockett's exploits; and Private Hoffenmuller is the German recruit who is unable to speak English.

Relatives: Patty Regan (Wilton's sister, Daphne Parmenter), Jeanette Nolan (Wilton's mother), Allyn Joslyn (Wilton's uncle, Colonel Jupiter Parmenter), Forrest Tucker (Morgan's father, Morgan O'Rourke, Sr.), George Gobel (Jane's cousin, Henry Turkel), Nydia Westman (Hannibal's mother, Mama Dobbs), Mike Mazurki (Wild Eagle's cousin, Geronimo), Don Rickles (Wild Eagle's son, Bald Eagle), Laurie Sibbald (Wild Eagle's daughter, Silver Dove), Cathy Lewis (Wild Eagle's sister, Whispering Dove), Paul Petersen (Wild Eagle's nephew, Johnny Eagle Eye). In one episode, Ken Berry played his outlaw double, Kid Vicious.

Cast: Forrest Tucker (Morgan O'Rourke), Larry Storch (Randolph Agarn), Ken Berry (Wilton Parmenter), Melody Patterson (Wrangler Jane), Frank DeKova (Chief Wild Eagle), Don Diamond (Crazy Cat), James Hampton (Pvt. Hannibal Shirley Dobbs), Bob Steele (Private Duffy), Joe Brooks (Private Vanderbilt), John Mitchum (Private Hoffenmueller), Ivan Bell (Private Duddleson), Ben Frommer (Papa Bear), Edward Everett Horton (Roaring Chicken), James Gregory (Major Duncan), Benny Baker (Pete the Bartender), Henry Gibson (Private Wrongo Starr), William Woodson (Secretary of War). Theme Song: “F Troop” by William Lava and Irving Taylor.

2503 The Fabulous Dr. Fable. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 6/17/73). A proposed series about Dr. Justin Darius Fable, a brilliant, but eccentric diagnostician and teacher with an uncanny knack for perceiving ailments that are the results of criminal actions. In the pilot episode, Dr. Fable seeks the culprit who is responsible for the poisonings of several people at the university where he teaches. Other Regulars: June Fable, Justin's wife; and Police Lieutenant DeLusso.

Cast: W.B. Brydon (Dr. Justin Fable), Jane Elliot (June Fable), Jack Ging (Lieutenant DeLusso). Guest Cast: William Daniels (Elliot Borden), Cynthia Hall (Marilla).

2504 The Fabulous Funnies. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1978–1979). Through the use of cartoon characters adapted from the Sunday Comics section of newspapers, the series attempts to explain various aspects of the adult world to children.

Voices: June Foray, Robert Holt, Jayne Hamill, Alan Oppenheimer.

2505 The Fabulous Sycamores. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 12/1/55). Events in the lives of the Sycamores, a not-so-typical American family. In the pilot episode, Essie, the one normal member of the otherwise wacky family, tries to convince her boyfriend's pompous parents that she will make a suitable daughter-in-law. Based on the Broadway play You Can't Take It with You and broadcast as a segment of Ford Theater. Other Regulars: Grandpa Sycamore, the head of the family; Nicholas, his son; Penny, Nicholas's wife (Essie's parents); Alice, Essie's sister; and Tony, Essie's boyfriend.

Cast: Cecil Kellaway (Grandpa Sycamore), George Givot (Nicholas Sycamore), Nydia Westman (Penny Sycamore), Joyce Holden (Essie Sycamore), Barbara Britton (Alice Sycamore), Robert Clarke (Tony). Guest Cast: Paul Keast (Tony's father), Eleanor Audley (Tony's mother). Also: Malcolm Atterbury, Harry Hickox, Lucien Littlefield.

2506 The Face Is Familiar. (Series; Game; CBS; 1966). The object calls for players to identify famous personalities who are shown in scrambled photographs. A question is read to the two teams who compete. When a correct answer is given, a picture piece in placed in its appropriate position and the team receives a chance to identify the photograph. The game continues in this manner until the photograph is identified. Host: Jack Whitaker.

2507 Face of Danger. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1959). The program features rebroadcasts of dramas that were originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. The series ran from April 18, 1959 to May 30, 1959.

2508 Face the Facts. (Series; Game; CBS; 1961–1962). A criminal case is re-dramatized and stopped prior to the denouncement. Contestants, acting as judges, bet a specific amount of points and state a verdict. The film is played to determine the actual verdict. A correct answer awards the player his bet amount of points; an incorrect prediction deducts the bet amount of points from the player's score. The player with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. Host: Red Rowe.

2509 Face the Music. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1948). A relaxed program of music and songs featuring four singers who alternate performing top tunes from the past as well as current 1948 hits. The series, broadcast three times a week, aired from May 3, 1948 to December 10, 1948. Hosts: Johnny Desmond, Shaye Cogan, Sandra Deel, Carole Coleman.

2510 Face the Music. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1980). The first two rounds involve three players in a game wherein they have to identify persons, places or things from song titles. The orchestra plays a musical selection. The first player to identify it receives the opportunity to guess the subject to which it refers. Each correct guess scores one point. The two highest scoring players are the winners and proceed to Round Three where the determining game is played (same format as the previous rounds). The highest scoring player is the winner and competes in the Championship Round where, with the previous champion, he attempts to identify a mystery celebrity through a series of musical clues. Six clues are played, ranging from $1,000 to $10,000, and the player's winnings are determined by the musical clue on which the identification was made. Players compete until defeated.

Host: Ron Ely. Vocalist: Lisa Donovan. Announcer: Dave Williams, Art James, John Harlan. Models: Jane Nelson, Lisa Donovan.

2511 Face to Face. (Series; Game; NBC; 1946 to 1947). The object calls for players to identify celebrities from a series of verbal clues. The program also features a segment wherein an artist attempts to draw an unknown person from a series of verbal clues. The artist's conception and the actual person are placed side by side for comparison. The series ran from June 9, 1946 to January 26, 1947.

Host: Eddie Dunn. Artist: Bill Dunn.

2512 The Faceless Man. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 5/4/66). A proposed spin-off from The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater about Don Owens, an agent for a U.S. undercover organization called BOSS (Bureau of Secret Services). In the pilot episode, Don infiltrates the waterfront to find those responsible for the murders of four defectors and two missing BOSS agents.

Cast: Jack Lord (Don Owens). Guest Cast: Shirley Knight (Angie Peterson), Jack Weston (Riker), Joseph Wiseman (Rajeski), Charles Drake (Dolan), L.Q. Jones (Hotel clerk), Hans Heyde (Keyser).

2513 The Facts. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 12/10/82). A proposed late night series of sketches, based on true but unusual facts, that parody various aspects of modern-day society.

Host: Richard Lewis. Regulars: Richard Belzer, Lois Bromfield, Rod Burton, Betty Ciarrocchi, Mark Goldstein, Jack Graitman, Phil Harmon, Marcello Krakoff, John Paragon, Rebecca Reynolds, Bill Riback, Bob Saget, Jeremy Schoenberg, Bill Steinkiller, Nick Ullett.

2514 The Facts of Life. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1979–1988). A Diff'rent Strokes spin-off that follows the lives of Blair, Jo, Tootie and Natalie, four girls who attend the Eastland School (originally called the Eastlake School for Girls) in Peekskill, New York.

Blair Warner is the most beautiful girl at Eastland. She is rich (heir to Warner Textile Industries), conceited and something of a snob. She was voted "Eastland Harvest Queen" three years in a row and won a blue ribbon for being "Most Naturally Blonde." Blair also won the Small Businesswomen's Association Award for inventing contour top sheets. After graduating from Eastland, Blair enrolled in nearby Langley College and joined the Gamma Gamma Sorority. Blair is studying to become a lawyer.

Jo Ann Polniaszek is Blair's complete opposite. She was born in the Bronx and attends Eastland on a scholarship. Jo (as she is called) comes from poor parents (her father is in jail and her mother is a waitress) and appears tough. She rides a motorcycle, cares little about fashion or makeup and prefers dressing in jeans and sweatshirts. Though very pretty, Jo hides her beauty, has an attitude problem, and is constantly a source of irritation for Blair (she and Blair share the same room and have little in common). Jo mellowed over the years, and she and Blair became close friends. Like Blair, Jo also attends Langley College (where she is a disc jockey for the college radio station, WLG, 90.8 FM). Jo later worked as a counselor at the Hudson Valley Community Center.

Dorothy Ramsey, called Tootie, lived on roller skates during her first year at Eastland. She is the youngest of the girls. With ambitions of becoming an actress, she became the first black girl in the history of Eastland to play Juliet in Romeo and Juliet. She is the most darling of the girls, has two rabbits (Romeo and Juliet) and a cat named Jeffrey.

Natalie Greene, who yearns to become a journalist, worked as a reporter for the Peekskill Press. She is the peacemaker of the group and constantly tries to resolve the differences between Jo and Blair.

Other Students: Molly Parker is a pretty, free spirited freshman (she had a ham radio with the call letters WGAIO); Nancy Olson is a beautiful, boy-crazy girl who yearns to become a model. Sue Anne Weaver is the school's star track runner. Cindy Webster is a very pretty teenage tomboy and the toughest of the girls before Jo's arrival (she shed her tomboyish ways and became a lovely young woman as the series progressed).

In the episode "The Reunion," Nancy, Cindy and Sue Anne returned for a visit. Cindy (last name now Brady) is a world-famous model; Nancy, three months pregnant and about to marry, is a successful businesswoman; Sue Anne, a gofer, lies about her job and pretends to be the vice president of a major company.

Edna Garrett, the school dietician, cared for the girls as if they were her own children. She is divorced (from Robert) and is the mother of a boy (Raymond), and she left her housekeeping duties with the Drummonds (on Diff'rent Strokes) to work at Eastland.

When Edna learns that her pension fund has been lost and she can't get a raise, she leaves Eastland to begin her own business: Edna's Edibles, a gourmet food shop at 320 Main Street in Peekskill. Blair, Jo, Tootie and Natalie work here and at the novelty store, Over Our Heads (which replaces Edna's Edibles when it burns down). Edna was born in Appleton, Wisconsin.

Following Edna's marriage in 1987, her sister, Beverly Ann Stickle, is brought on to care for the girls (who now live above the store). Beverly Ann is divorced and adopts an orphan named Andy (he attends South Junior High School). Beverly Ann later takes in Pippa McKenna, a foreign exchange student from Eastland's sister school, Colunga, in Sydney, Australia.

The headmasters at Eastland were Harold J. Crocker, Mr. Harris, Stephen Bradley and Charles Parker.

In the series' last episode, "The Beginning of the End," Blair learns that Eastland has gone bankrupt and will soon close. She uses the money she had been saving to open her own law offices to buy the school. Blair becomes the headmistress and changes the enrollment policy to allow boys. This pilot for the unsold Lisa Whelchel Show was also set to star Juliette Lewis and Mayim Bialik as students Terry Rankin and Jennifer Cole.

Tootie leaves to pursue her acting classes at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London; Natalie moves to New York's SoHo district to pursue her writing career; and Jo marries her boyfriend, Rick Bonner (Scott Bryce). Theme: "The Facts of Life," vocal by Charlotte Rae (first season) and Gloria Loring.

Note: Two TV movies also appeared: The Facts of Life Goes to Paris (NBC, 9/25/82), in which the regulars vacation in France; and The Facts of Life Down Under (NBC, 2/15/87), in which the regulars visit their sister school, Colunga, in Australia.

Alda (Robert Garrett; Edna's ex-husband), Mitzi Hoag (Evie Greene; Natalie's mother), William Bogert (Jeff Parker; Molly's father), Duane La Page (Jason Ramsey; Tootie's father), Robert Hooks (Jason Ramsey; later), Claire Malis (Rose Polniaszek; Jo's mother), Alex Rocco (Charlie Polniaszek; Jo's father), Joel Brooks (Raymond Garrett; Edna's son), Kim Darby (Doris Garrett; Raymond's wife), Ryan Cassidy (Kevin Metcalf; a student at Langley), Dick O'Neill (Ted Metcalf; Kevin's father), Dick Van Patten (Frank Stickle; Beverly's ex-husband), Mile Preston (Kevin McKenna; Pippa's father), Megan Follows (Terry Largo, Jo's cousin), Peter Parros (Michael, Tootie's cousin), Kevin Sullivan (Marshall, Tootie's brother), Sheldon Leonard (Joseph, Jo's grandfather).

2515 The Faculty. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/20/86). Life at Harrigan High School as seen through the eyes of seven educators (Valerie, Julius, Edna, Leon, Finney, Jonathan and George). In the rather lifeless pilot episode, each of the teachers speaks directly to the camera and relates his feelings about the school and its students. Originally titled Faculty Lounge.

Cast: Blair Brown (Valerie Arnold), Richard Lawson (Dr. Julius Pepper), Allyn Ann McLerie (Edna McCauley), Max Wright (Principal Leon Pakulski), Jason Bernard (Finney Morgan), Albert Macklin (Jonathan Covington), Richard McKenzie (George Dent), Megan Follows (Tina Jackson; guest role).

2516 The Faculty. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1996). Hamilton Jr. High School ("Guiding Young People Through Puberty Since 1936") is the setting for a program that relates incidents in the lives of a group of teachers as they use idealism to cope with the problems of modern education.

The Administrative office is Room 101, but it is the faculty lounge, Room 127, where the teachers gather to discuss their lives and the problems they encounter. Flynn Sullivan is the vice principal to principal Herb Adams. Flynn has been divorced for two years and is the mother of Julie, a college girl. The featured teachers are Amanda DuValle, Shelly Ray, Clark Edwards and Luis Jackson. Daisy Skolnick is the office secretary; Kathryn is Flynn's mother.

Cast: Meredith Baxter (Flynn Sullivan), Peter Michael Goetz (Herb Adams), Nancy Lenahan (Diasy Skelnick), Jenica Bergere (Amanda DeValle), Constance Shulman (Shelly Ray), Peter MacKenzie (Clark Edwards), Miguel A. Nuenz, Jr. (Luis Jackson), Sharon Arnett (Julie Sullivan), Bonnie Bartlett (Kathryn Sullivan).

2517 Faerie Tale Theater. (Series; Anthology; Showtime; 1982). Modern (and lavish) adaptations of famous children's fairy tales. Name guest stars are featured in each of the stories.

Host: Shelley Duvall. Performers Include: Jean Stapleton, Pam Dawber, Anjelica Huston, Paul Dooley, Rene Auberjonois, Michael Richards, Eric Idle, Vincent Price, Brandis Kemp, Roy Dotrice, Ned Beatty, Mick Jagger, Art Carney, Joan Collins, Lee Remick, Robert Carradine, Lesley Ann Warren, Harry Dean Stanton, Eric Idle, Alan Arkin, James Earl Jones, Barbara Hershey, Dick Shawn, Leonard Nimoy, Edward James Olmos, Timothy Dalton, Valerie Bertinelli, Robin Williams, Candy Clark, Teri Garr, Roddy McDowall, Mary Steenburgen, Carol Kane, Sally Kellerman, Gena Rowlands, Christopher Reeve, Diane Ladd, Bernadette Peters, Bridgette Andersen, Tatum O'Neal. Music Director: Van Dyke Parks. Music Composer: Stephen Barber. Music Arranger: Stephen Barber.

2518 Fair Exchange. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1962–1963). In New York City, Eddie Walker, a World War II veteran and family man has a problem: his teenage daughter, Patty, who longs to attend London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts.

In London, England, Tommy Finch, Eddie's buddy from the war, has a similar problem: his teenage daughter, Heather, yearns to acquaint herself with the American way of life.

In an attempt to satisfy their children, both Eddie and Tommy agree to exchange daughters for one year to allow the girls the opportunity to fulfill a dream. The series, set both in New York and London, relates the adventures of Patty Walker and Heather Finch as they attempt to adjust to life in a foreign land.

Eddie is married to Dorothy and they also have a son named Larry; Tommy is married to Sybil and they have a son named Neville. Also in the cast is Willie Shorthouse, Tommy's friend. The series ran for 60 minutes from September 21, 1962 to December 28, 1962 (14 episodes); and for 30 minutes from March 28, 1963 to September 19, 1963 (13 episodes).

2519 Fair Winds to Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1966). Films that explore little-known areas of the world. Host-Narrator: Dr. Frank Baxter.

2520 Fairly Odd Parents. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2001–). Wanda, a perfectionist woman; and Cosmo, a moronic man, are the fairy Godparents of Timmy Turner, a ten-year-old boy who feels his working parents deprive him of the life he would like to lead. Timmy's babysitter is Vicky who delights in tormenting him. When he feels depressed, Timmy looks to Wanda and Cosmo for all the things his real parents cannot give him and wishes for something to cheer him up. The wishes are granted, but always manage to get him into trouble. Stories relate Timmy's efforts to cope with the situations that result from wishing.

The Godparents disguise themselves as Timmy's goldfish; the series is set in the town of Dimsdale. In Fairy World, where Cosmo and Wanda live, Wanda's father, Big Daddy, owns Big Daddy's Trash Removal Service.

Voice Cast: Tara Strong (Timmy Turner), Susan Blakeslee (Wanda), Daran Norris (Cosmo), Jim Ward (Chet Ubetcha), Grey DeLisle (Vicky Turner), Carlos Alazraqui (Denzel Crocker), Frankie Muniz (Chester McBadbat), Dee Bradley Baker (Elmer).

2521 Fairmeadows, U.S.A. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1951–1952). Life in a small American town (Fairmeadows) as seen through the eyes of John Olcott, the owner of a general store. The series, also known as House in the Garden, aired from November 4, 1951 to April 27, 1952.

Cast: Howard St. John (John Olcott), Lauren Gilbert (John Olcott; later), Ruth Matheson (John's wife), Hazel Dawn, Jr. (John's daughter), Monica Lovett (John's daughter; later), Tom Taylor (John's son), Mimi Strongin (Evie Olcott), James Vickery (Also).

2522 Faith Baldwin's Theater of Romance. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1951). Dramatizations based on the problems faced by people in their everyday lives. The series, which produced 22 episodes, is also known as The Faith Baldwin Playhouse and ran from January 20, 1951 to October 20, 1951.

Hostess-Narrator: Faith Baldwin. Performers Include: Ilona Massey, Nancy Kelly, Paul Hartman, Sylvia Field, Walter Abel, Charles Starrett, Robert Warrick, Nina Foch, Betsy Von Furstenburg, Jeffrey Lynn, Glenda Farrell, Neva Patterson, Nancy Carroll, Joseph Schildkraut, Luise Rainer, Susan Douglas, John Carradine, Constance Bennett, Robert Sterling, Robert Alda, Sarah Churchill, Coleen Gray, Roddy McDowall, Isabel Elsom.

2523 The Falcon. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1955). Michael Waring is a former private detective turned troubleshooter for the U.S. Army who poses as an underground agent known as the Falcon. His superior is Brigadier General E.E. Rawlings, head of the Security Division of the Pentagon (in some episodes, Michael is said to be a former police officer who was called the Falcon). Stories relate his experiences as he battles the global forces of injustice.

Cast: Charles McGraw (Michael Waring), Robert Carson (E.E. Rawlings).

2524 Falcon Beach. (Series; Drama; Global; 2006). A clash of cultures drama that focuses on two distinct groups of young people who frequent Falcon Beach for the summer: the Townies (middle-class people who reside in the town) and the Cottagers (visitors who appear once a year to enjoy the fun and sun).

The Townies are Jason, Tanya and Danny; Paige, Lane and Erin are the Cottagers.

Jason works on the beach's boardwalk; Tanya, his childhood sweetheart, is a model; Danny, their friend, is an arcade manager. Paige is the spoiled daughter of a wealthy Toronto family who longs for an internship at her father's company; Lane is Paige's self-destructive brother; and Erin is a lifeguard for the summer.

Cast: Steve Byers (Jason Tanner), Devon Weigel (Tanya Shedden), Ephraim Ellis (Danny Ellis), Morgan Kelly (Lane Bradshaw), Jennifer Kydd (Paige Bradshaw), Melissa Elias (Erin Haddad).

2525 Falcon Crest. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1981–1990). Serial-like stories, set in California's Napa Valley, that explore the lives of the Channings, a powerful family and owners of the Falcon Crest Vineyards. Originally titled The Vintage Years.

Angela Channing is the head of the family (she is divorced from Douglas Channing). Chase Gioberti is Angela's nephew. He is married to Maggie and they are the parents of Victoria and Cole. Julia Cumson, a widow, is Angela's eldest daughter (and the mother of Lance). Emma is Angela's single daughter.

Caho-Li Angela's servant; Philip Erikson is Angela's lawyer; Gus Noyes is Angela's neighbor. Alicia is Gus's wife; Mario is their son. Melissa Agretti is Lance's girlfriend (then wife). Jacqueline Perrault is Chase's estranged mother.

Carlo Agretti is Melissa's father; Richard Channing is the illegitimate son of Douglas (Richard is the publisher of The New San Francisco Globe). Pamela Lynch is Richard's aide; Diana Hunter is Richard's associate. Nick Hogan is the irrigationist; Katherine Demery owns the rival Demery Vineyards.

Henri Denault is Angela's father; Michael Ranson is Chase's cousin; Terry Hartford is Maggie's sister; Linda Caproni is Cole's girlfriend (later wife). Vince Caproni is Linda's father; Francesca Gioberti is Angela's half-sister. Greg Reardon is the lawyer; Gustav Riebmman is the cartel member. Joel McCarthy is Terry's ex-husband; Spheeris is the hit man; and J. Benson Landale is Chase's friend.

Cast: Jane Wyman (Angela Channing), Robert Foxworth (Chase Gioberti), Susan Sullivan (Maggie Gioberti), Jamie Rose (Victoria Gioberti), William R. Moses (Cole Gioberti), Abby Dalton (Julia Cumson), Margaret Ladd (Emma Channing), Lorenzo Lamas (Lance Cumson), Chao-Li Chin (Chao-Li), Mel Ferrer (Philip Erikson), Nick Ramus (Gus Moyes), Silvana Gallardo (Alicia Noyes), Mario Marcelino (Mario Noyes), Ana Alicia (Melissa Agretti), Lana Turner (Jacqueline Perrault), Stephen Elliott (Douglas Channing), Carlos Romero (Carlo Agretti), David

Note: In the original, unaired pilot version, The Vintage Years, Samantha Eggar played the role of Maggie Gioberti and Clu Gulager was Chase Gioberti.

2526 Falcon's Gold. (Pilot; Adventure; Showtime; 12/18/82). Professor Christopher Falcon is an archeologist and the world's leading authority on ancient treasures. Once he begins a dig he does not give up until he finds what he is looking for. He never gives interviews, yet the world wants to know about his latest adventure. He is assisted by his granddaughter, Tracey (who calls him "Grampie") and Archibald "Hank" Richards, a journalist who accompanies them (Hank saved the professor from thugs; in return, Chris granted him the opportunity to write about his adventures). The unsold series was to relate Falcon's exploits as he roams the world seeking lost treasures.

In the pilot episode, Falcon travels to Mexico seeking the lost treasure of Civitae, which is supposedly located in a remote and sacred mountain. Complicating Falcon's quest is Ivor Murdoch, a ruthless tycoon who is seeking the same treasure for himself. Released on home video as Robbers of the Sacred Mountain.

2527 The Fall and Rise of Reginald Perrin. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1978). Events in the dreary life of Reginald Perrin, an executive with Sunshine Desserts in England. His fall: dismissal from Sunshine. His rise: starting his own business, Perrin Products, Ltd., a company that sells "gifts for people you hate" (for example, round dice, square footballs, sour wine). Produced in England.

Other Regulars: Elizabeth, Reginald's wife; Linda, Reginald's married daughter; Tom, Linda's husband; Mark Perrin, Reginald's son; Joan, Reginald's secretary; Doc Morrissey, Reginald's friend; Peter Cartwright, the man Reginald meets on the train to work; C.J., the head of Sunshine Desserts; Jimmy Anderson, Elizabeth's brother; Tony and David, employees at Sunshine.

Cast: Leonard Rossiter (Reginald Perrin), Pauline Yates (Elizabeth Perrin), Sue Nicholls (Joan Greengross), John Barron (C.J.), Sally-Jane Spencer (Linda), Tim Preece (Tom), David Warwick (Mark Perrin), John Horsley (Doc Morrissey), Terence Conoley (Peter Cartwright), Dorothy Frere (C.J.'s Wife), Geoffrey Palmer (Jimmy Anderson), Trevor Adams (Tony Webster), Bruce Bould (David Harris-Jones).

2528 The Fall Guy. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1981–1986). Colt Seavers is a Hollywood stuntman for the Fall Guy Stunt Association and a bounty hunter for the Los Angeles Criminal Courts System. He considers himself the best tracker in the world and charges $500 a day plus expenses to track down bail jumpers. His license plate reads FALL GUY, and his favorite watering hole is the Palomino Club.

Colt uses a movie stunt gun with three-quarter load blanks — "to impress people." He lives in what people call "a shed in the woods." Despite the fact that it is off the beaten path and always in need of repair, Colt calls it home (his favorite pastime is soaking in his outdoor tub). "Wild" Dan Wilde (Jock Mahoney) taught Colt how to become a stuntman.

Jody Banks, a voluptuous stuntwoman who measures 36-24-36, is Colt's associate. She lives at 146 Del Mar Vista (in the Marina) and like Colt, she is not afraid to take chances (although Colt sometimes wishes she were a bit less reckless). Howard ("Howie") Munson is Colt's cousin (a budding stuntman and his business manager). He spent seven years in college. Howie attended Iowa State and specialized in Latin American culture. He was the boxing champion at Yale University for a year, took accounting for a year at Oklahoma State, and spent a year at Harvard majoring in business. He also attended Cornell University, Cal State (majoring in archaeology) and Fresno State College. Colt calls him "Kid."

Throughout the series run, Colt worked for three bail bondswomen with Bond Street Bail: Samantha Jack, nicknamed "Big Jack" and "Soapie" (because her life is like a soap opera); Teri Michaels, also known as Teri Shannon; and Pearl Sperling. Colt also worked for a bail bondsman named Edmond Trent.

Complicating Colt's life are Kim Donnelly, the beautiful but greedy insurance investigator; Kay Faulkner, the rival bounty hunter; Charlene ("Charlie") Heferton, "the world's most beautiful stuntwoman"; and Cassie Farraday, "the rowdy little stuntwoman." Theme: "The Unknown Stuntman," vocal by Lee Majors.

Cast: Lee Majors (Colt Seavers), Heather Thomas (Jody Banks), Douglas Barr (Howie Munson), Jo Ann Pflug (Samantha Jack), Markie Post (Teri Michaels), Judith Chapman (Kay Faulkner), Tricia O'Neil

(Charlene "Charlie" Heferton), Nedra Volz (Pearl Sperling), Dana Hill (Cassie Farraday), Robert Donner (Edmond Trent), Ben Cooper (Director in Opening), Jennifer Holmes (Tracy Seavers, Colt's sister), Kay Lenz (Kim Donnelly), Lee Majors II (Dustin Seavers, Colt's son), Cameron Mitchell (Bronco Munson, Howie's father), Michael Hartung (Young Colt; flashbacks). Announcer: William Conrad.

2529 Fallen. (Series; Drama; ABC Family; 2007). Aaron Corbett appears to be an ordinary teenager. He lives in Massachusetts and is attending high school. He is the adopted son of Tom and Lori Corbett and has a younger brother named Stevie. He even has a dog (Gabriel). Aaron, however, is unaware of who or what he actually is. The only thing he knows about his past is that he was put up for adoption on the day he was born. It is not until Aaron turns eighteen that he becomes aware of his destiny.

It begins when he meets an apparently homeless man named Zeke (who is actually a fallen angel, but this is unknown to Aaron at first). Aaron believes Zeke is a nut case and manages to elude him. A persistent Zeke tracks Aaron to his home and convinces him to listen to him. He tells Aaron that he is a Nephilim, an angel who is the child of a human mother and a fallen angel. Nephilim's are frowned upon by supposedly good angels called the Powers (fierce warrior angels) who hunt down and destroy the impure Nephilim angels. Naturally, Aaron dismisses this — until his dog begins talking to him and a former executor for the Powers (Camael) appears to him.

Camael abandoned his position of authority with the Powers when he realized what he was doing was wrong. He has been on a search to find the Redeemer, the one Nephilim who can send fallen angels back to heaven and end the battle between the good and bad angels. He believes Aaron is the Redeemer. Aaron also learns that the Powers have begun a quest to find and destroy him. This comes to pass shortly after when the Powers, led by Verchiel, find Aaron. A fierce battle takes place and Aaron, with the help of Camael and Zeke, manage to defeat (destroy) the Powers. Aaron, however, is not safe; nor is his family. If he remains, the Powers will kill his family to destroy him. Aaron realizes that he is the Redeemer and with Camael's help begins a quest to find the fallen angels and return them to the graces of the Creator. The conflict: The Powers want to destroy Aaron and Camael (whom they consider a traitor) before he can fulfill his preordained mission (the Powers believe once an angel has fallen from the graces, there is no redemption and they must be destroyed to cleanse the earth).

Vilma Rodriguez was Aaron's friend at school. He felt a special attraction to her (she too was an orphan, but raised by her aunt after her parents death). She has an uncanny knowledge of angels and she becomes a pawn in the Powers efforts to find and destroy Aaron. On her eighteenth birthday Vilma begins experiencing visions and headaches (just as Aaron first did). Shortly after, the Powers attack Vilma, but she manages to escape. She learns from Camal that she too is a Nephilim and joins with Aaron, Camael and Gabriel in their quest (Aaron feels that her joining them is the only way he can protect her from the Powers).

Cast: Paul Wesley (Aaron Corbett), Rick Worthy (Camael), Fernanda Andrade (Vilma Rodriguez), Russell Porter (Tom Corbett), Chelah Horsdal (Lori Corbett), Alex Ferris (Stevie Corbett), Tom Skerritt (Zeke), Elizabeth Lackey (Verchiel), Darren Scott (Gabriel's voice).

2530 Fallen Angels. (Series; Anthology; Showtime; 1993–1995). Fay Friendly is a woman whose narration tells tales of people confronted with an inner demon and their attempts to overcome it. Stories, which feature a different cast each week, are set in the Los Angeles area in a 15 year period covering the end of World War II (1945) to just before the election of John F. Kennedy (1960).

Cast: Lynette Walden (Fay Friendly).

2531 Fame. (Series; Drama; NBC; Syn.; 1982–1987). The series, set at the High School for the Performing Arts in New York City, depicts the dreams, ambitions and frustrations of the students who hope to become performers and achieve fame. The series, based on the 1980 feature film of the same title, combines original music, songs and dance with well-written stories. The school radio station is WSOA (93.2 FM).

Lydia Grant is the dance instructor; Professor Benjamin Shorofsky is a music teacher; Elizabeth Sherwood, Greg Crandall and David Reardon are teachers; Quinton Morloch is the vice principal; Gertrude Berg is the school secretary.

Students: Julie Miller, Coco Hernandez, Doris Schwartz, Bruno Martelli, Danny Amatello, Leroy Johnson, Holly Laird, Christopher Donlan, Montgomery, Garcy, Rhonda, Kelly, Cleo Hewitt, Nicole Chapman, Jesse Velasquez.

Other Characters: Mrs. Miller, Julie's mother; Charlotte Schwartz, Doris's mother; Angie Martelli, Bruno's father; Schwartz, Doris's father; Leroy's father; Danny's mother and father; Leroy's mother; Diane Pettit, Nicole's natural mother; Joyce Chapman, Nicole's adoptive mother; Ted Chapman, Nicole's adoptive father; Melinda MacNeill, Montgomery's mother; Suzy Laird, Holly's mother; Jim Laird, Holly's father; Tina, Leroy's niece. The series ran on NBC from January 7, 1982 to August 4, 1983; and in syndication from October 1983 to May 1987.

Cast: Debbie Allen (Lydia Grant), Albert Hague

O'Loughlin (Jack Schwartz), Alan Weeks (Leroy's Father), Betty Karlen (Danny's Mother), Louis Giambalvo (Danny's Father), Royce Wallace (Mrs. Johnson), Julie Carmen (Diane Petit), Jennifer Rhodes (Joyce Chapman), Ted Sorel (Ted Chapman), Gwen Verdon (Melinda MacNeill), Donna McKechnie (Suzi Laird), Barry Jenner (Jim Laird), Caryn Ward (Tina), Michael Perotta (Mr. Amatullo), Lola Mason (Mrs. Amatullo), Carolyn J. Silas (Laurie Mackie). Fame Dancers: Derrick Bruce, Michael DeLorenzo, Cameron English, Leanne Gerrish, Joni Palmer, Marguerite Pomerhn, Eartha Robinson, Serge Roidnansky, Michael Rooney, Adrian Kosario, Allysia Sneed, Bronwyn Thomas (Fame Dancer), Darryl Thomas. Theme Vocal: "Fame" by Erica Gimpel. Choreography: Debbie Allen, Otis Sallid.

2532 Fame. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2003). A variety reality series based on the concept of the feature film of the same title. Twenty-four hopeful singers and dancers selected from the best at auditions from across the U.S. compete for a recording contract and "Fame." Weekly talent competitions are held that eliminate the weakest performers. The couple (best singer and best dancer) that prove themselves superior receive a chance to further their dreams in the music industry.

Hosts: Debbie Allen, Joey Fatone. Judges: Carnie Wilson, Johnny Wright, Jo Jo Wright.

2533 Fame, Fortune and Romance. (Pilot Series; Human Interest; ABC; 1986). A ten-episode pilot for a daily series that focuses on the lives of successful people and how they overcame impossible odds to achieve their goals. The program aired from June 16, 1986 to June 27, 1986.

Host: Robin Leach. Reporters: Patrice Chanel, Matt Lauer. Narrator: Bill St. James.

2534 Fame Is the Name of the Game. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 11/26/66). The pilot film for The Name of the Game (NBC, 1968–72) about Jeff Dillon, an investigative reporter for the Los Angeles-based Crime Magazine; and Glenn Howard, the publisher of Crime, a man who built the then-fictional and defunct People magazine into a multi-million dollar empire (Howard Publications). Assisting them is Peggy Maxwell, their Girl Friday. In the pilot episode, Jeff searches for the killer of a call girl.

Cast: Anthony Franciosa (Jeff Dillon), George Macready (Glenn Howard), Susan Saint James (Peggy Maxwell). Guest Cast: Jill St. John (Leona), Jack Klugman (Ben), Jack Weston (Griffin), Nanette Fabray (Patricia), Melodie Johnson (Belle), Robert Duvall (Eddie), Jay C. Flippen (Dizzy), Lee Bowman (Cruikshank), John Hoyt (Larkin), Ena Hartman (Marcia). Note: Gene Barry played Glenn Howard in the series.

2535 Fame L.A. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1997–1998). A short-lived update of the 1980s NBC series Fame that is set in Los Angeles rather than New York. Here, at the Jungle, a small area near the beach in Venice, a group of aspiring singers, dancers and musicians (and even stand-up comics) attend classes hoping to graduate and achieve fame.

2536 Family. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1976–1980). Events in the day-to-day lives of the Lawrences, a middle-income family of six: Doug, a private practice attorney; his wife, Kate; their divorced daughter, Nancy Maitland; their younger daughter, Buddy; their son, Willie; and their adopted daughter, Annie Cooper.

Annie became a part of the family in the episode of 9/21/76 ("Starting Over"). When Annie's parents, Grace and Ralph, are killed, Annie's only living relative, Mrs. Sullivan (K Callan), asks Kate and Doug to honor a promise they made years ago: to raise Annie should anything ever happen to Annie's parents. Annie is a highly advanced and coldly courteous 11-year-old girl who mistook the family's warmth as pity and patronization when she first moved in with them.

The Lawrences live at 1230 Holland Street in Pasadena, California. Nancy attends the Matthew Hamblin School of Law; Buddy and Annie attend Quinton Junior High School (later Quinton High); Willie works for the mythical TV show The Dame Game (a takeoff on The Dating Game). Buddy's real name is Leticia; Kate's maiden name is Skinner.

Cast: James Broderick (Doug Lawrence), Sada Thompson (Kate Lawrence), Elayne Heilveil (Nancy Maitland), Meredith Baxter Birney (Nancy Mait- land; later), Kristy McNichol (Leticia "Buddy" Lawrence), Gary Frank (Willie Lawrence), Quinn Cummings (Annie Cooper-Lawrence), John Rubinstein (Jeff Maitland), Mary Grace Canfield (Mrs. Canfield), Season Hubley (Salina Magee), Priscilla Morrill (Elaine Hogan), Louise Latham (Elaine Hogan; later), William Putch (Fred Hogan), Claudette Nevins (Claire Hopkins), Michael and David Shackelford (Timmy Maitland), Helen Hunt (Robin Trask; Buddy's friend), Louise Foley (Audrey Pfeiffer; Buddy's friend), Cynthia Grover (Linda; Buddy's friend), Nancy Locke (Deborah Greenfield; Timmy's teacher), Deborah White (Clara; Nancy's secretary), Dana Plato (Mary Beth Sanders; Buddy's friend), Dana Plato (Debbie; Annie's friend; later episodes), Heather Totten (Pamela Sherman; Buddy's friend), Jenny O'Hara (Mrs. Montebello; Buddy's teacher), Jenny O'Hara (Miss Chase; Annie's teacher), Willie Aames (T.J. Latimer; Buddy's friend), David Wayne (James Lawrence; Doug's father), Henry Fonda (James Lawrence; later), Devon Ericson (Rachel Peters; Willie's girlfriend). Theme Music: "Family" by John Rubinstein.

2537 Family Affair. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1966–1971). When his brother and sister-in-law are killed in a car accident, William ("Bill") Davis takes on the responsibility of raising their three orphaned children: Catherine, and twins Buffy and Jody. The children were first sent to relatives who didn't want them. When Bill realizes that he is the last hope of the children have of remaining together, he decides to raise them.

Bill, a swinging bachelor and president of the Davis and Gaynor Construction Company in New York City, resides at 600 East 62nd Street, Apartment 27A, in Manhattan. Bill is a world-famous engineer, and his picture appeared on the cover of World magazine for completing an almost impossible construction job in India. Bill is often on the road and is assisted in rearing the children by his very proper Gentleman's gentleman, Mr. French, an English valet who has the seldom used first name of Giles.

Catherine, whose nickname is "Cissy," is 15 years old and attends Lexy High School on Lexington Avenue in Manhattan. Bill had originally planned to send her to the Briarfield School in Connecticut, but changed his mind when he saw how much Buffy and Jody missed her. She is courteous and always the proper young lady.

Buffy and Jody spend much of their time together. Buffy is not as outgoing as Jody and finds comfort with her beloved doll, Mrs. Beasley (the one thing she has that reminds her of her mother as it was her doll when she was a child). Jody is the slightly more mischievous twin. He understands Buffy's attachment to Mrs. Beasley and respects her for that. He loves sports and is a member of the Spartans football team. If either twin gets into trouble (be it alone or together) they are there for each other.

Mr. French respects Mr. Davis and is proud to serve him in the capacity that he does. The thought of the children coming did not fare well with him at first; in fact, the thought of him becoming a nanny was more than he could bare and chose to leave his employ. It was when he left and later saw that Buffy had put Mrs. Beasley in his suitcase that he realized he had made a mistake. Mr. French later put his culinary skills to good use by opening a restaurant called Our Mr. French's.

Gregg Bartlett is Cissy's boyfriend; Miss Faversham is Mr. French's friend (a nanny); Nigel French is Giles's brother; Emily Turner is Bill's maid; Ted Gaynor is Bill's business partner; Sharon James is Cissy's friend; Miss Cummings is Bill's secretary. Frank DeVol composed the "Family Affair" theme.

Cast: Brian Keith (Bill Davis), Sebastian Cabot (Giles French), Kathy Garver (Cissy Davis), Johnny Whitaker (Jody Davis), Anissa Jones (Buffy Davis), Heather Angel (Miss Faversham), John Williams (Nigel French), Gregg Fedderson (Gregg Bartlett), Sherry Alberoni (Sharon James), Nancy Walker (Emily Turner), Philip Ober (Ted Gaynor), Betty Lynn (Miss Lee), Joan Vohs (Miss Cummings), Karl Lucas (Scotty the Doorman).

2538 Family Affair. (Series; Drama; The Entertainment Channel; 1982). A ten-episode series, set in Marlow, England, that focuses on the life of Richard Barnes, a merchandise controller for Frenshams, a large department store chain. Episodes relate his difficulties when he loses his job and struggles to maintain control of the people and events that surround him. Richard is married to Marjorie and they are the parents of John, Jane and Robert. Henry Barnes is Richard's father; Susan West is Richard's secretary (and mistress); Liz Bailey is John's fiancée.

2539 Family Affair. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2002–2003). A revised version of the 1966 CBS series of the same title. William Lloyd Davis, better known as Bill Davis, is a playboy bachelor with a luxurious apartment (18A) at 85 Park Avenue in New York City. He is an engineer and owns his own company (Hartwell-Davis Engineering). Bill also has a Gentleman's gentleman (Giles French) and is enjoying a good life. Life changes suddenly when his brother, Ken and Ken's wife, Laura are killed in a car accident and he becomes the guardian of their three children—14-year-old Sissy and twins Buffy and Jody. Sigourney Elizabeth Davis, called Sissy, is a talented young girl who can write poetry, sing, dance and act and dreams of becoming an actress. The twins attend the Dove Tail School; Buffy finds comfort in her doll, Mrs. Beasley, which was once owned by her mother. Stories follow Bill and Giles's as they readjust their lives to care for Sissy, Buffy and Jody.

Cast: Gary Cole (Bill Davis), Tim Curry (Giles French), Caitlin Wachs (Sigourney "Sissy" Davis), Sasha Pieterse (Elizabeth "Buff" Davis), Jimmy "Jax" Pinchak (Jonathan "Jody" Davis; series), Luke Benward (Jody Davis; pilot).

2540 Family Album. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993). Denise and Jonathan Lerner are a happily married couple that live at 8461 Bedford Street in Philadelphia. They are the parents of Nicki and Jeffrey and stories follow the everyday events in their lives.

Denise, a stay-at-home-mother, works from the house and earns $65 an hour as an architect. Jonathan works with his father in an unidentified business. While Denise and Jonathan have survived numerous ups and downs Denise feels that Jonathan's mother, Lillian, is responsible for many of the squabbles they have as she has to constantly butt in. Denise calls her "Hitler, the other woman in our marriage."

Nicki and Jeffrey are typical sitcom kids. Nicki is very pretty and calls her self "a 14-year-old budding bombshell." She is a good student at school, fashion conscious and becoming what her parents fear most — boy crazy. Jeffrey is two years younger than Nicki and the schemer of the family. If he can find a way to make money he will. And he does so at Nicki's expense. Nicki sleeps in her bra and panties. Jeffrey charges his friends a dollar "for a peek at Nicki asleep — but only for a few seconds." It is never really explained how Jeffrey gets away with this (what are his friends doing over so early in the morning? and how are Denise and Jonathan not aware of what he is doing?). Jeffrey feels that his most prized possession is his videotape of the last episode of The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson.

Also a part of the family's life is Sheila, Denise's sister, a stressed out woman with a very mischievous son named Elvis (whom she says, "is auditioning for America's Most Wanted"). Her one regret in life (beside Elvis) is a tattoo on her behind that reads "Gus." Ruby is Denise's normal mother, who owns Ruby's Beauty Salon and helps out with the family chores whenever she can.

Cast: Pamela Reed (Denise Lerner), Peter Scolaria (Jonathan Lerner), Alicia Levitch (Nicki Lerner), Philip Van Dyke (Jeffrey Lerner), Doris Belack (Lillian Lerner), Nancy Cassaro (Sheila), Giovanni Ribisi (Elvis), Rhoda Gemignani (Ruby).

2541 Family Bonds. (Series; Reality; HBO; 2004). A documentary style reality series that follows the life of a bail bonds man and his family. Tom Evangelista is the owner of a bail bonds company. He is married to Flo and his son (Sal) and nephew (Chris) assist him. He also has a daughter (Dana) and he also finds help from his in-laws, Jimmy, Dawn and Kim.

Cast: Tom Evangelista, Flo Evangelista, Chris Evangelista, Dana Giassakis, Sal Evangelista, Frankie Evangelista, Dawn Carfora, Jimmy Carfora.

2542 Family Business. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/5/83). A proposed but unsold spin-off from Too Close for Comfort about Lucille Garabaldi, the owner of the San Francisco-based Garabaldi Construction Company, and her two inept sons, Sal and Freddy, as they struggle to maintain their business. In the pilot episode, Sal and Freddy attempt to build an addition to the Rush home in Buena Vista. Other Regulars: Donna Sullivan, Lucille's fore "man."

2543 Family Business. (Series; Reality; Showtime; 2003). A behind-the-scenes look at the adult film business (pornography) in Los Angeles. It is the actual story (with some embellishment) of Adam Glasser who became the porn producer Seymour Butts.

Adam was born in the Bronx, New York, but grew up in Los Angeles when his family relocated. He attended Santa Monica High School and began running a gym after graduation. When finances were tight he rented out the gym for Hollywood film shoots; one such rental was for the production of an adult film. In 1991 Adam borrowed a camera and produced such a film. He found a distributor, took the name Seymour Butts and in 1992 created his own line of adult films. Over the years, as his career took off, his mother, Lila, joined the business as the bookkeeper, as did his cousin, Stevie, as an actor. He most often stars with adult superstar Myrna. Stories focus on the family business while giving viewers a look at the porn industry today.

Cast: Seymour Butts (Himself), Lila Glasser (Herself), Stevie Glasser (Himself), Brady Glasser (Himself; Adam's son), Mari Rossa (Myrna).

2544 Family Dog. (Pilot; Cartoon; NBC; 2/16/87). A comical look at life in suburbia as seen through the eyes of a family's unnamed pet dog. In the pilot episode, Skip Binford (the father) decides to send his passive pet to an attack school to make him more aggressive.

Other Regulars: Beverly, Skip's wife, and Billy and Buffy, Skip's children. Aired as a segment of Amazing Stories.

Voice Cast: Stan Freberg (Skip Binford), Annie Potts (Beverly Binford), Scott Menville (Billy Binford), Brooke Ashley (Buffy Binford), Mercedes McCambridge (Gertie LeStrange).

2545 The Family Dog. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1993). A seven-episode limited run attempt to present a series based on the prior title. The unsold animated series looks at the day-to-day activities of the Binford family (parents Skip and Beverly and their children Billy and Buffy) as seen through the eyes of their unnamed pet dog.

Voice Cast: Danny Mann (The Dog), Martin Mull (Skip Binford), Molly Cheek (Beverly Binford), Zak Huxtable Epstein (Billy Binford), Cassie Cole (Buffy Binford).

2546 Family Double Dare. (Series; Game; Fox; 1988). A prime time family version of Double Dare wherein two families, each composed of four members (parents and two children) compete. A question is read to one team. If they can answer it, they score money; if not, they can dare the opposing team to answer it. If they answer it, they score the money; if not, they can double dare the opposing team. When a double is made, the team can either answer the question or perform a stunt within a specified time limit. A successfully completed stunt scores the money at stake. The team with the highest score wins. Host: Marc Summers.

2547 Family Feud. (Series; Game; ABC; 1976–1985). Two five-member families compete. The heads of each family are involved first. A board, with various blank spaces, is revealed. A question, previously answered in a survey of one hundred people is read. The first player to sound a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. If the answer was among the survey responses, it appears on the board in its appropriate ranking. Its cash amount, based on the number of people who responded that way, is revealed. If the player's answer is incorrect, or not the number one response, the opponent receives a chance to answer. Whichever team's player picked the highest answer receives the option to either pass or play the category. If they play (or pass to their opponents) the object is for that team to build up the bank account by filling in the remaining blank spaces. If they are successful they keep the money; however, if after three strikes (wrong answers) the family fails to fill in a blank, the opposing family can steal the money by correctly filling in a blank. Four such rounds are played, each involving different family members. The family that is first to score $200 or more is the winner.

As the series progressed, several changes were made. The money that was awarded in the above format was dropped. Instead of money, the numbers became points. A third round doubled points and the final round tripled points. The first team to score 300 points or more was the winner and received a chance to win money (first $5,000, then $10,000 and finally $20,000) in the Bonus Round. Here two team members are involved. One is isolated offstage. The other player has to answer five questions, read by the host (and based on a survey of 100 people) within twenty seconds. His score is calculated. The remaining player is brought out and asked the same five questions, but is given 25 seconds to respond (in case of duplicate answers). The object is to score 200 points or more to win the money.

Host: Richard Dawson. Announcer: Gene Wood.

2548 Family Feud. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988–1995). A revised version of the ABC series of the same title. The game is played in the exact same manner and for information regarding the format, see the prior title.

Host: Ray Combs. Substitute Host: Richard Dawson. Announcer: Gene Wood. Substitute Announcer: Art James, Rod Roddy.

2549 Family Feud. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1999–2008). Two five-member families compete in a revised version of a game show that began on ABC in 1976 with Richard Dawson as the host. The game was also revised in 1999 (see prior title) and is played in the same manner as the ABC series. See this title for information on the format.

Host: Louie Anderson, Richard Karn, John O'Hurley. Announcer: Burton Richardson.

2550 A Family for Joe. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990). When Holly, Mary, Nick and Chris Bankston are orphaned (their parents are killed in a plane crash) and face separation through adoption, they begin a search to find a long-lost relative and hopefully persuade him to become their guardian.

When their efforts fail, they become desperate and ask a maverick homeless man named Joe Whittaker to become their grandfather, Joe Bankston, so they can remain as a family.

Joe reluctantly agrees and stories follow Joe's efforts to care for his newfound family.

Other Regulars: Quinn Collins, the social worker. The family's pet dog is Leon (who only eats cat food); Mary has two plush monkeys (Judy and Jingles) and Nick has a snake named Hugo. In the two-hour TV movie pilot (NBC, 2/25/90), Maia Brewton was Holly; Chris Furrh, Nick and Jarrad Paul, Ben.

Cast: Robert Mitchum (Joe Whittaker), Juliette Lewis (Holly Bankston), Jessica Player (Mary Bankston), Dick Lascher (Nick Bankston), Ben Savage (Chris Bankston), Barbara Babcock (Quinn Collins).

2551 The Family Game. (Series; Game; ABC; 1967–1968). Three families compete, each composed of the father, mother and two children. Questions, which were asked of the children prior to the broadcast, are restated with their answers in mixed order. The parents of each team have to match the correct answers with the children who said them. Each correct match awards that family one point. The family with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prize. Host: Bob Barker.

2552 Family Genius. (Series; Comedy; DuMont; 1949). A short-lived series, of which very little is known, about Tommy Howard, a child prodigy. The series, which produced 4 episodes, ran from September 9, 1949 to September 30, 1949.

Cast: Jack Diamond (Tommy Howard), Phyllis Love (Tommy's mother), Arthur Edwards (Tommy's father).

2553 Family Guy. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1999–). Rhode Island is the setting for an irreverent look at a not so typical (and not so normal) American family called the Griffins.

Peter, the father, is extremely obese (and a total moron). He tries to do what is best for his family but he is so mishap prone that all his efforts backfire and cause more trouble than solutions. He works at the Pawtucket Brewery (later Happy Go Lucky Toys) and enjoys a drink (or two) at a bar called the Drunken Clam.

Peter is married to Lois, a sexy woman who accepts Peter for all his faults (but not necessarily the one who resolves all the problems he causes). They are the parents of Chris, Megan and Stewie.

Chris is rather large (overweight and tall) for a 13-year-old and quite dense. Megan, called Meg, is younger than Chris and very awkward (she is approaching puberty and having a difficult time of it). Stewie is the extremely intelligent baby of the family. He has a football shaped head and is somewhat homicidal (he appears to be planning ways to eradicate his parents). Rounding out the Griffin household is Brian, an Einstein-intelligent, talking dog who loves martinis and often provides the only common sense in the uncommon household (he is also the one who rescues Peter from the idiotic problems he causes).

Voice Cast: Seth McFarlane (Peter Griffin/Brian/Stewie), Alex Borstein (Lois Griffin), Seth Green (Chris Griffin), Lacey Chabert (Meg Griffin), Mila Kunis (Meg Griffin; later), Mike Henry (Cleveland Brown), Patrick Warburton (Joe Swanson), Lori Alan (Diane Simmons), Adam West (Mayor Adam West), John G. Brennan (Mort Goldman).

2554 The Family Holvak. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1975). The story of Tom Holvak, a minister in the small town of Bensfield, Tennessee, in 1933, as he struggles to feed his family and maintain the faith of his congregation during the Great Depression. Based in the novel Ramey by Jack Farris. See also The Greatest Gift for information on the series pilot film.

Other Regulars: Elizabeth, Tom's wife; Ramey and Julie Mae, their children; Jim Shanks, the deputy; Chester Purdle, the general store owner; Ida, Chester's assistant; Ellen Baldwin, Ramey's school teacher; Mr. Skinner, owner of the Skinner Lumber Company. Six of 13 produced episodes aired.

Cast: Glenn Ford (Rev. Tom Holvak), Julie Harris (Elizabeth Holvak), Lance Kerwin (Ramey Holvak), Elizabeth Cheshire (Julie Mae Holvak), William McKinney (Jim Shanks), Ted Gehring (Chester Purdle), Cynthia Hayward (Ida), Cristina Raines (Ellen Baldwin), Henry Beckman (Mr. Skinner). Theme Vocal: "Look How Far We've Come" by Denny Brooks.

2555 Family Honor. (Experimental; Comedy; NBC; 6/16/39). The setting is the apartment of two brothers (George and Paul) who are also writers. The apartment's walls are lined with portraits of various family members. The family lives by a strict code of honor of always telling the truth. If one member should tell a lie, the family is disgraced and a portrait will fall off the wall. The "action" of the talkative story is a discussion between the brothers and their mother and the resulting chaos as each tries not to tell a lie.

Cast: Helen Sculley (Mother), Paul Ballantine (George), William Shea (Paul).

2556 Family in Blue. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/10/82). The story, set in Los Angeles, relates incidents in the lives of the Malones, a family of law enforcers: Marty, a former police captain turned private detective; Matt, his son, a police sergeant; Julie, his daughter, a lab technician; Dabney, his cousin, a lab technician also; and Chester, his brother, a police chief. In the pilot episode, Marty is hired to clear Tina Royce of a charge that she is responsible for the murder of a police officer.

Other Regulars: Bernice, Marty's sister-in-law and secretary (at the Malone Detective Agency); and Fred, Marty's dog.

2557 The Family Kovack. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 4/5/75). Incidents in the lives of the Kovacks, a close-knit family of five living in Chicago: "Ma," a widow and head of the family (she runs The Kovacks Diner); Vinnie, her eldest son (who operates the Kovacks Trucking Company with his brother, Butch); Karen, her daughter, a nursing student; and Lennie, her youngest, a hopeful lawyer. In the pilot episode, the family comes to the defense of Vinnie when he is accused of bribing a city health inspector.

Cast: Sarah Cunningham (Ma Kovack), James Sloyan (Vinnie Kovack), Tammi Bula (Karen Kovack), Andrew Robinson (Butch Kovack), Richard Gilliland (Lennie Kovack). Guest Cast: Renne Jarrett (Jill), Mary LaRoche (Mrs. Linsen), James Jeter (Albert), Phil Bruns (Jo-Jo Linsen), Peter Brocco (Mr. Manzak).

2558 Family Law. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1999–2002). Lynn Holt is an attorney who, after the death of her husband and the loss of the law firm they shared, decides to rebuild her life and begin a new practice with her junior partner, Rex Weller. Although Lynn's Southern California law firm is small, she and her team tackle mostly cases involving family issues (from divorce to child abuse). The series had elements of light humor and dealt with two-to-three cases per episode. When the focus became a single case, the program lost its spark and was cancelled due to low ratings. Randi King, Danni Lipton, Patricia Dumar and Joe Celano assist Lynn.

2559 Family Man. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1988). The life of a television comedy writer (Shelly Tobin), his wife (Andrea) and their efforts to raise three children (Rosie and Josh, Andrea's by a previous marriage; and Sarah, Shelly and Andrea's daughter). Kipp Lennon performs the theme, "Family Man."

Cast: Richard Libertini (Shelly Tobin), Mimi Kennedy (Andrea Tobin), Alison Sweeney (Rosie Tobin), Keeley Mari Gallagher (Sarah Tobin), Whitby Hertford (Josh Tobin).

2560 The Family Man. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990–1991). John ("Jack") Taylor is the family man of the title. He is a widower (his late wife was named Terry) and is the father of four children: Allison, age six; Brian, age 11; Steve, age 14; and 16-year-old Jeff. Also living with them is Joe Alberghetti, Jack's father-in-law, who serves as the family's housekeeper.

Jack and his family live in Eagle Ridge, California, at 6521 Oak Valley Lane. Jack is the captain of the E.R.F.D. (Eagle Ridge Fire Department), Truck Company number 27 and Ladder Company number 3.

Allison was born in Rose Memorial Hospital (fifth floor private room) and is a member of the Buttercups, a Girl Scout troop. She has two teddy bears named Mama and Papa Bear, and three dolls: Ken, Barbie and Surfside Susie.

Jeff and Steve attend Ulysses S. Grant High School (Jeff is a sophomore; Steve a freshman); a school for Brian is not given. Brian is a member of his school's soccer team and is also a member of the Youth League Wild Cats basketball team. He also has a bad habit of giving Jack phone messages when it is too late—"Oh yeah, I forgot." Jeff is the neat child; Steve, the sloppiest one.

Joe has been living with the Taylors since Terry's death four years ago. Joe's love interest is Lillian, the crossing guard at Allison's school.

In the episode of 11/17/90, guest star Kim Ulrich played Pat Jenkins, who became the first female firefighter at the station. The other firemen, Gus, Eddie and Ted, call her "Firebabe" and "Hose Honey."

Jill Nichols, a reporter for the Satellite News Network, is Jack's romantic interest; Patrick Kozak is Allison's friend. Peg Taylor is Jack's mother; and Hillary Kozak is Patrick's mother. Four Alarm Family was the series' original title. Theme: "The Family Man," by Jesse Frederick and Bennett Salvay.

Cast: Gregory Harrison (Jack Taylor), Ashleigh Blair Sterling (Allison Taylor), Matthew Brooks (Brian Taylor), Scott Weinger (Steve Taylor), John Buchanan (Jeff Taylor), Al Molinaro (Joe Alberghetti), Ed Winter (Gus Harbrook), Peter Parros (Eddie), Adam Biesk (Ted), Nancy Everhard (Jill Nichols), Josh Byrne (Patrick Kozak), Doris Roberts (Peg Taylor), Gail Edwards (Hillary Kozak), Magda Harout (Lillian).

2561 The Family Martinez. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/2/86). Hector Martinez is a former gang member who, after becoming a lawyer, returns to his old Los Angeles neighborhood to help the people of his community. He lives with his mother, Anita, an eccentric artist, and his pretty 16-year-old sister, Rainbow. In the pilot episode, Hector attempts to sneak his fugitive client (Romeo Ortega) back into jail.

Cast: Robert Beltran (Hector Martinez), Anne Bancroft (Anita Martinez), Karla Montana (Rainbow Martinez). Guest Cast: Daniel Faraldo (Romeo Ortega), Denise Crosby (Rachael McCann), Diana Bellamy (Sister Mary Luke), James Shigeta (Judge Yamamoto), Bob Frank (Denton), Will Nye (Officer Kelly), Joshua Gallegos (Gonzalez). Theme: "The Family Martinez" by Geraldo Velez, Thomas Schuman, Martha Velez.

2562 Family Matters. (Series; Comedy; ABC; CBS; 1989–1998). Carl Otis Winslow is a sergeant (later lieutenant) with the Chicago Police Department. He is married to Harriette and is the father of Eddie, Laura and Judy. Also living with them at 263 Pinehurst Street is Rachel, Harriette's widowed sister, and Carl's mother, Estelle. Living next door is Steven Quincy Urkel, a nerd with an unrelenting crush on Laura, who plagues Carl's life.

Carl is with the Metro Division of the 8th Precinct and held a temporary job as the WNTW-TV, Channel 13 traffic reporter. In high school (mentioned as both Kennedy High and Vanderbilt High) Carl was in a singing group called the Darnells. He is called “Rack and Roll Winslow” at the Corner Pocket Pool Hall. When Carl was a street cop, he was partnered with a dog named Rex. Harriette met Carl at Vanderbilt High. She originally worked as the elevator operator at the Chicago Chronicle; she is now the paper’s security director and has keys to 300 offices.

Eddie, Laura and Steve attend Vanderbilt High. Edward James Arthur Winslow is the oldest (born 1/28/74) and believes that when it comes to good looks, God smiled on the men in his family. He isn’t too bright, is known as “Fast Eddie Winslow” at the pool hall, and is a member of the Muskrats basketball team. Eddie was a waiter at the Mighty Weenie and later became a police officer.

Laura, the middle child, was voted the 1992 Vanderbilt High Homecoming Queen. She is pretty, fashion conscious, bright and frightened by the fact that Steve Urkel loves her. Rainbow Cloud is her favorite perfume and she is a cheerleader for the Muskrats basketball team at school.

Judy, the youngest child, was dropped from the show without explanation; she was there — and then she was gone. She was bright and pretty and held the record for selling 232 boxes of Girl Scout cookies. Valerie Jones played Judy in the pilot.

Steve first met Laura in kindergarten. She made him eat Play-Doh and took an instant dislike to him; he felt it was love at first sight. Steve eats his lunch on a Laura placemat. He has a photo of her on his desk and pictures of her on his locker door. He calls her “Laura, My Love” and must walk 20 feet behind her at school.

Steve is equipment manager of the golf club at school and says “I’m 98 percent brain, two percent brawn.” “Did I do that?” is his catchphrase. Steve is a stringer for the school newspaper, the Muskrat Times and created a robot in his own image he called the Urkelbot (for the National Robotics Contest; he later made one in Laura’s image he called the Laurabot). He is a straight “A” student. Steve won the Amateur Weekly magazine contest with the Transformation Machine (which changes him into the suave Stefan Urquette).

When Steve realized he could never have Laura, the gorgeous Myra Monkhouse found him. However, in the last episode, Laura returns to Steve and they become engaged. Steve is then chosen by the ISP (International Space Program) to test his invention, the AGF 5000 (Artificial Gravity Field). During the flight, dubbed “Nerd Watch ’98,” Steve’s lifeline becomes detached from the ship (Explorer) and Steve is last seen drifting into endless space.

Rachel is a stunning 34-year-old freelance writer and the mother of Richie. In first-season episodes, her last name is Cochran and Richie is an infant. When the second season began, Richie was advanced to three years of age and Rachel’s last name was Crawford. When LeRoy’s, the after school hangout, burns down, Rachel buys the property and rebuilds it as Rachel’s Place, a diner that employs Laura and Steve as waiters. Rachel and Harriette were born at Regis Memorial Hospital.

Cast: Reginald VelJohnson (Carl Winslow), Jo Marie Payton France (Harriette Winslow), Judyann Elder (Harriette Winslow; last episode only), Telma Hopkins (Rachel Crawford), Rosetta LeNoire (Estelle Winslow), Kellie Shanygne Williams (Laura Winslow), Darius McCrary (Eddie Winslow), Jaleel White (Steve Urkel), Jaimee Foxworth (Judy Winslow), Valerie Jones (Judy Winslow; pilot episode), Michelle Thomas (Myra Monkhouse), Joseph Julius Wright (Richie Crawford), Bryton McClure (Richie Crawford; later), Shawn Harrison (Waldo Geraldo Faldo, Eddie’s friend), Cherie Johnson (Maxine Johnson, Eddie’s friend), Barry Jenner (Lt. Lew Murtaugh), Shavar Ross (Weasel, Eddie’s friend), Tammy Townsend (Greta).

2563 Family Rules. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1999). Nate Harrison is a widower with four very pretty and very lively daughters: Hope, Anne, C.J. and Lucy. They live at 34 Beck Street and stories follow Nate as he attempts to be both mother and father to his girls.

Nate was married to Jan and works as the basketball coach at Morgan College. His best friend and neighbor, Phil, often lends a hand when needed as Nate struggles to cope with the antics of his daughters.

Hope is the eldest girl (17) and the most fashion conscious. She considers herself to be cool, yet sophisticated — even though she has a pet guinea pig (Steve). She often wishes for a bit more privacy but seldom gets it living with three sisters.

Sixteen-year-old Anne shares a bedroom with Hope and is virtually her total opposite. Hope is an average student and interested in boys. Anne is quite intelligent (“The brainy member of the family”) and excels in school. She is neat (Hope is somewhat untidy) and very responsible (Hope is a bit irresponsible, but she attributes that to being a teenager). Anne hopes to one day find a boyfriend, but for the moment, she finds comfort in being who she is. Anne has also taken on the chores of cooking, cleaning and looking after her sisters. She has a pet bird (Tweedles) and has a secret stash of money in her piggybank (or at least she thinks she does. The bank is full of IOU’s from family members who constantly borrow from it).

C.J. is 14 years old and has a happy outlook on life. She is a bit irresponsible, oblivious to almost everything that happens around her and somewhat dim-witted. She enjoys being who she is and finds pleasure in everything she does (even chores around the house). She has a pet rabbit named Mr. Hoppy and attends P.S. 31 (as does Lucy; Hope and Annie attend Morgan High School).

Ten-year-old Lucy is the “boy” Nate wanted but never had. She is an adorable tomboy who, being brought up around sports, naturally developed an affinity for them (Nate, however, fears that once she hits puberty sports will be just a thing of the past). She most enjoys camping, doing “guy things” and is a member of the Girl Scouts. She is close to Phil, whom she calls Uncle Phil. Being that the kids have pets, Phil was not left out — he has a French poodle named Cha Cha.

Cast: Greg Evigan (Nate Harrison), Maggie Lawson (Hope Harrison), Shawna Waldron (Anne Lawson), Andi Eystad (C.J. Lawson), Brooke Garrett (Lucy Harrison), Markus Redmond (Phil).

2564 Family Ties. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1982–1989). Steven Richard Keaton and Elyse Catherine O’Donnell met at Berkeley in the late 1960s. They were flower children, attended Woodstock, and married shortly after. They lived in a commune when their first child, Alex, was born. The family then lived in an apartment on Rosewood Avenue in Columbus, Ohio, before moving into their series home in Leland Heights. Steven is now the manager of public TV station WKS, Channel 3. Elyse is a freelance architect who has a lifelong dream of becoming a folk singer. She worked briefly for the firm of Norvacks, Jenkins and St. Clair; the Cavanaugh Building in Columbus was the first structure Elyse designed. They have three additional children: Mallory, Jennifer and Andrew.

Alex P. Keaton worships money. He is a staunch Republican and prides himself on being different. Alex, who always wears a shirt and tie, first attended Harding High School, then the prestigious Leland College (where he majored in economics). He was president of the college’s Young Businessmen’s Association and the Young Entrepreneurs Club (he is also a member of the Young Republicans). Alex carries his résumé with him at all times and held jobs at the Harding Trust Company and the American Mercantile Bank (Rebecca Ryan is his boss). In the last episode, Alex accepts a job offer from the Wall Street firm of O’Brien, Mathers and Clark.

Mallory, the second born child, is very pretty, bright in her own way and always fashionably dressed. She first attended Harding High, then Grant College. (She majored in fashion design, and was a member of the Gamma Delta Gamma sorority). Mallory finds schoolwork difficult (her teachers report that she doesn’t apply herself). She is not as smart as Alex or her younger sister, Jennifer, but finds solace in her dream of becoming a fashion designer. Mallory also dreams of marrying her hood-like artist boyfriend, Nick Moore. (Nick’s greeting is “Heyyy.” He has a dog named Scrapper, and his father, Joe, owns a used car lot called Joe Moore’s Motors. Nick later opened an art school for children.)

Jennifer, the baby of the family before the birth of Andrew, was a member of the Sunshine Girls Club and first attended Thomas Dewey Junior High School. She later attends Harding High, then Leland College. Jennifer admires Mallory’s beauty and taste in clothes and had an after school job as an order taker at the Chicken Heaven fast food restaurant.

Andrew, the youngest Keaton, is an Alex clone and attends Harper Preschool. Irwin (“Skippy”) Handelman is Alex’s best friend; he is adopted and has a crush on Mallory. Ellen Reed was Alex’s first college girlfriend. Lauren Miller was Alex’s girlfriend after Ellen. She is a psychology major at Leland and met Alex when he volunteered to participate in her experiment on overachievers. Theme: “Without Us,” vocal by Mindy Sterling and Dennis Tufano (first ten episodes only), then by Johnny Mathis and Deniece Williams.

Note: On 9/23/85, NBC presented the TV movie Family Ties Vacation, in which the Keatons spend the summer vacationing in England.

Cast: Meredith Baxter Birney (Elyse Keaton), Michael Gross (Steven Keaton), Michael J. Fox (Alex Keaton), Justine Bateman (Mallory Keaton), Tina Yothers (Jennifer Keaton), Brian Bonsell (Andrew Keaton), Scott Valentine (Nick Moore), Marc Price (Irwin “Skippy” Handelman), John Dukakis (Jeff Wakefield; Mallory’s friend), Judith Light (Stacey; Steve’s secretary), Priscilla Morrill (Kate O’Donnell; Elyse’s mother), Tom Hanks (Ned O’Donnell; Elyse’s brother), Tanya Fenmore (Arlene Handelman; Skippy’s sister), Lois DeBanzie (Rose Handelman; Skippy’s mother), Raleigh Bond (Harry Handelman; Skippy’s father), John Randolph (Jake Keaton; Steven’s father), Rebecca Balding (Karen Banks; Elyse’s employer), Walter Olkewicz (Bill Channing; Elyse’s co-worker), Geena Davis (Karen Nicholson; Keaton’s housekeeper), Melinda Culea (Rebecca Ryan), Chris Hebert (Young Alex; flashbacks), Kaleena Kiff (Young Mallory; flashbacks), Edith Atwater (Trudy Harris; Stephen’s aunt), Adam Carl (Steven as a boy; flashbacks), Norman Parker (Robert Keaton; Steven’s brother), Mark Harris (Robert as a boy; flashbacks), Anne Seymour (May Keaton; Steven’s mother-old), Maryedith Burrell (May Keaton; young), Michael Aldridge (Jake Keaton; Steven’s father; flashbacks).

2565 The Family Tree. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1983). The story of Annie Benjamin and Kevin Nichols, divorced parents who marry and struggle to begin a new life together.

Other Regulars: Tess, Annie’s daughter; Sam and Toby, Annie's sons; Jake, Kevin's son; Molly, Kevin's married daughter; Elizabeth, Kevin's ex-wife; and Mike Tyler, Molly's husband.

Kevin owns a business called Nichols Nursery; and Annie has a dog named Montgomery. The original pilot film for the series, The Six of Us (see entry), aired on NBC on 6/13/82. It was recast and remade as the first episode of the six episode series.

Cast: Anne Archer (Annie Benjamin-Nichols), Frank Converse (Kevin Nichols), Melora Hardin (Tess Benjamin), James Spader (Jake Nichols), Martin Hewitt (Sam Benjamin), Jonathan Hall Kovacs (Toby Benjamin), Joanna Cassidy (Elizabeth Nicols), Ann Dusenberry (Molly Nichols-Tyler), Jonathan Perpich (Mike Tyler).

2566 Family Values. (Pilot; Comedy; UPN; 12/26/91). The Hucks are a family with only one family value—free loading. Mora, a widow, is the mother. She has a beautiful daughter (Bee Bee) and four sons (Lyle, Emery, Johnson and Jimmy) and the proposed series was to relate their efforts to beat the system by hustling. The Hucks live in a trailer park in Arizona and they cheat and con to make a buck without working for it.

In the pilot episode, Mora's treasured life style is threatened when Johnson breaks the family tradition by acquiring a job as a manager-trainee; and Bee Bee also shows signs of deserting when she begins talking about becoming a model and acquires a job as the left foot in an Odor Eaters commercial.

Cast: Susan Ruttan (Mora Huck), Jenna von Oy (Bee Bee Huck), David Lipper (Lyle Huck), Rick Peters (Emery Huck), Christian Hoff (Johnson Huck), Matt Dotson (Jimmy Huck), Kathryn Morris (Miss Grumm; guest role), Catherine Alexandra Nagan (Victoria; guest role), Marianne Muellerleile (Clerk; guest role).

2567 The Famous Adventures of Mr. Magoo. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1964–1965). Animated video adaptations of legendary tales and figures of past history and literature with the near-sighted Quincy Magoo as the host, narrator and star.

Voices: Jim Backus (Quincy Magoo), Marvin Miller, Howard Morris, Julie Bennett, Shepard Menkin, Joe Gardner, Paul Frees.

2568 Famous Jury Trials. (Live Test Program; Drama; ABC; 5/9/46). A proposed but unsold series that was to reenact famous jury trials. Narration established a criminal case then flashbacks were used to dramatize the elements of the case. The concept would become an actual series on DuMont three years later (10/12/49 to 3/12/52).

Cast: Alan Baxter, Beverly Roberts.

2569 Famous Jury Trials. (Series; Drama; DuMont; 1949–1952). A case, usually murder, is in progress when an episode begins. The on-the-spot battle between the prosecutor and the defense attorney is depicted. Both present their briefs and the incidents of actual cases are reenacted through flashbacks.

Cast: Jim Bender (Prosecuting Attorney), Truman Smith (Defense Attorney).

2570 Famous Lives. (Pilot; Interview; NBC; 4/4/83). A proposed series of revealing interviews with famous personalities.

2571 The Famous Teddy Z. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1989–1990). Shortly after completing his hitch in the army, Teddy Zakalokis acquires a temporary job in the mailroom of Hollywood's UTA (Unlimited Talent Agency). On his last day on the job, he is given the assignment to meet a world-famous star (Harland Keyvo). Enroute to the agency, Ted and the obnoxious Harland become involved in a fight—and Harland, who believes Teddy “has guts,” asks him to become his agent. Much to the objections of Harland's former agent (Al Floss), Teddy takes the job and becomes “The Famous Teddy Z,” the agent to the stars. Stories relate Teddy's mishaps as he struggles to deal with the constant demands of the job.

Other Regulars: Laurie Paar, Teddy's secretary; Al Floss, the president of UTA; Abe Geltfinder, chairman of the board of UTA; Richard Herby, the mailroom manager; Deena, Teddy's grandmother; Ari, Teddy's brother; Angie, Teddy's aunt; and Nikos, Teddy's uncle.

Cast: Jon Cryer (Teddy Zakalokis), Jane Sibbett (Laurie Paar), Alex Rocco (Al Floss), Milton Selzer (Abe Geltfinder), Tom LaGura (Richard Herby), Lainie Kazan (Deena Zakalokis; unaired pilot), Erica Yohn (Deena Zakalokis; series), Josh Blake (Ari Zakalokis), Dennis Lipscomb (Harlnd Keyvo), Liz Torres (Aunt Angie), Tony DiBenedetto (Uncle Nikos).

2572 Fan Club. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1997). The program, aimed at teenagers, features interviews with celebrities and segments wherein fans can talk to and meet their favorite stars via a contest and video letters.

Host: Mitch Gaylord.

2573 Fandango. (Series; Game; TNN; 1983–1989). Three contestants compete in a game based mostly on the music and lives of country and western personalities (being that it aired on the now defunct Nashville Network). The game is played similar to Jeopardy with players having to supply the correct questions to the answers that are shown. Two such rounds are played and the contestant with the most correct answers is the winner. This person than plays a difficult bonus round where he must have a knowledge of the program's subject matter. Each program is dedicated to a particular country-western star and the player wins money according to how many questions he can answer correctly based on the featured star's life.

Host: Bill Anderson. Hostess: Blake Pickett. Juke Box Voice: Charlie Chase.

2574 The Fanelli Boys. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990–1991). Following the death of her husband, Carmine, 62-year-old Theresa Fanelli decides to sell her home and move to Florida. Just as she is about to leave, the unexpected happens: her son Anthony, an undertaker, declares that the family business is $25,000 in debt; her son Dominic, the wheeler-dealer, has a run of bad luck; her son Frankie gets dumped by his latest heartthrob (Joanna); and Ronnie, the youngest son, drops out of college and announces his engagement to a middle-aged woman named Beverly Goldblume (Melanie Chartoff). Seeing that her family is falling apart, Theresa changes her mind about moving, orders her sons to move back home, and now struggles to guide their lives.

The Fanelli boys are all members of a neighborhood club called the Knights of Sicily. Anthony, who is compassionate and generous, took over the Fanelli Funeral Home when his father passed away; Dominic, a bit of a hustler and con man, is in hot water with loan sharks (especially Jimmy the Needle)—“when the chips are down, however, Dom always comes through.” He has been married three times.

Frankie, the handsome playboy, works as a bartender at Caggiano's Bar (all the brothers are members of Caggiano's softball team). Ronnie, whom Frankie calls “Kid,” has a habit of falling in love with women more than twice his age. Father Angelo Lombardi, Theresa's brother, is a priest at Saint Helen's. He hosts a local television show called “Voice of the People,” and is also the founder of the Saint Helen's Halfway House for Teens. Angelo was in law school and drove a cab before deciding to become a priest. He says that every couple he counsels gets a divorce and every idea he has the archbishop knocks down.

In the last episode, Theresa married a 65-year-old man named Ernie (William Windom). He is a restaurant owner, and they honeymooned in Mexico. The series was originally called The Boys Are Back.

Relatives: Bruce Kirby (Theresa's brother-in-law, “Uncle” Dominic Fanelli), Jessica Lundy (Ernie's daughter, Lauren, a lawyer), Randee Heller (Dom's ex-wife, Viva Fontaine). Randee Heller is the actress who played the role. All print sources list Leslie Eastbrook as Viva.

Flashbacks: Jacob Kenner (young Frankie), Raffi Di Blasio (young Dominic), Benny Grant (young Anthony). Theme: “Why Should I Worry,” by Dan Hartman and Charlie Midnight.

Cast: Ann Guilbert (Theresa Fanelli), Joe Pantoliano (Dominic Fanelli), Ned Eisenberg (Anthony Fanelli), Christopher Meloni (Frankie Fanelli), Andy Hirsch (Ronnie Fanelli), Richard Libertini (Father Angelo Lombardi).

2575 Fanfare. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1959). The program features rebroadcasts of dramas that were originally aired on other filmed anthology programs.

Host: Richard Derr.

2576 Fanfare. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1965). A weekly program of music and songs with musician Al Hirt as the host. The series ran from June 19, 1965 to September 11, 1965. Robert Alan Arthur is the producer.

Host: Al Hirt. Regulars: The Donald McKayle Dancers. Orchestra: Mort Lindsey.

2577 Fang Face. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1978–1979). Sherman Fangsworth, called “Fang,” is a teenager who changes into a werewolf under a full moon and reverts back to normal at sunup. Together with his friends, Kim, Biff and Puggsy, Fang fights the forces of evil — more often than not as a werewolf.

Voice Cast: Jerry Dexter (Fang), Susan Blu (Kim), Frank Welker (Kim), Bart Braverman (Puggsy).

2578 Fanny by Gaslight. (Series; Drama; The Entertainment Channel; 1982). A four-part dramatization based on the Victorian romance novel by Michael Sadlier. The story depicts the seamier side of Victorian England — the blackmail, romance and scandal, as seen through the eyes of Frances “Fanny” Hopwood, a teenage girl confined to her home helping her parents run the Warrior, a public house, but longing to be on her own and become rich and famous. Her adventures, when she finally does leave home, are the focal point of the program. Produced in England.

Cast: Chloe Salaman (Fanny Hopwood), Stephen Yardley (Duke Hopwood), Julia Chambers (Lucy Beckett), Michael Culver (Lord Manderstoke), David Robb (Capt. Charles Tennant), Anthony Bate (Clive Seymour), Peter Woodward (Harry Somerford), Julia Goodwin (Lady Alicia Seymour).

2579 The Fantastic Four. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1967–1970). When their rocket ship penetrates a strange radioactive belt that is encircling the Earth, four people acquire fantastic powers. Scientist Reed Richards acquires the ability to stretch like taffy; Sue Richards, his wife, possesses the ability to become invisible at will; Ben Grimm, a scientist, becomes “The Thing,” a beast with the strength of a thousand men; and Johnny Storm, who acquires the ability to turn to fire, becomes “The Human Torch.” Stories relate their battle against the sinister forces of evil.

Voice Cast: Gerald Mohr (Reed Richards), Jo Ann

2580 The Fantastic Four. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1978–1979). While testing a new rocket, three people are bombarded by strange cosmic rays emanating from outer space — rays that mysteriously affect their DNA structures, Scientist Reed Richards becomes the plastic-skinned “Mr. Fantastic”; Sue Richards, his wife, becomes “The Invisible Girl”; and Ben Grimm, their assistant, becomes the powerful “Thing.” Stories depict their adventures, assisted by Herbie the Robot, as they battle the sinister forces of evil.

Voice Cast: Mike Road (Reed Richards), Ginny Tyler (Sue Richards), Ted Cassidy (Ben Grimm), Frank Welker (Herbie the Robot).

2581 The Fantastic Journey. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1977). While on a research expedition to further man’s knowledge of the sea, a scientific party traveling aboard the ship Yonda is engulfed by a billowing green cloud as it passes through the Bermuda Triangle. The ship and its passengers are mysteriously marooned on a forbidding uncharted island. There they meet Varian, a man from the 23rd century, who tells them they have passed through a time warp and are in a seemingly endless land where the past, present and future co-exist. They also learn that other people from other times also exist on the island — people who pose a constant threat to their safety. Stories depict their adventures as they seek to find a way back to their time and world.

Members of the scientific party are Dr. Jill Sands, Dr. Eve Costigan, Dr. Fred Walters, Dr. Paul Jordan and Scott, Paul’s son. Liana, is an alien from the Aros Galaxy who becomes their ally; Jonathan Willaway is the rebel scientist from the 1960s.

The program opens with this narration: “Lost in the Devil’s Triangle, trapped in a dimension with beings from the future and from other worlds, a party of adventurers journeys through zones of time back to their own time. Varian, a man from the 23rd century, possessing awesome powers; from 1977, Fred, a young doctor just out of medical school; Scott Jordan, the 13-year-old son of a famous scientist; Liana, daughter of an Atlantan father and an extraterrestrial mother; and Jonathan Willaway, a rebel scientist from the 1960s. Together they face the frightening unknown on The Fantastic Journey.”

2582 Fantastic Voyage. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1968–1970). The story of Jonathan Kidd,

Erica Stone, Cosby Birdwell and The Guru, four people who, through the Combined Miniature Defense Force, a secret U.S. government organization, are reduced to microscopic size. Episodes depict their exploits as the battle the unseen, unsuspecting enemies of the free world (criminal and germinal matter). Based on the feature film of the same title.

An announcer opens the program: “Headquarters, C.M.D.F.—Combined Miniature Defense Force. Project: Fantastic Voyage. Process: Miniaturization. Authority: Top Secret. Team: Jonathan Kidd, commander; Guru, master of mysterious powers; Erica Lane, doctor, biologist; Cosby Birdwell, scientist, inventor, founder of C.M.D.F. Mission: In their miniaturized form to combat the unseen, unsuspecting enemies of freedom. Time limit: 12 hours.”

Voice Cast: Ted Knight (Jonathan Kidd), Jane Webb (Erica Stone), Ted Knight (Cosby Birdwell), Marvin Miller (The Guru).

2583 The Fantastic World of Hanna-Barbera. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). The overall title for three half-hour syndicated cartoon series: Galtar and the Golden Lance, The Paw Paws and Yogi’s Treasure Quest. See these individual titles for information.

2584 Fantasy. (Series; Human Interest; NBC; 1982–1983). A daily program that makes dreams come true. The wants of pre-selected people are granted on the air with cameras capturing the sometimes heartwarming, emotional impact of the unselfish fantasies that people have.

Cast: Peter Marshall (Host), Leslie Uggams (Hostess), Jill Whelan (Co-Hostess), Glenn Scarpelli (Co-Host), Meredith MacRae (Remote Segment Hostess), Randy Hamilton (Remote Segment Host). Announcer: Bill Armstrong.

2585 Fantasy Island. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1978–1984; 1998–1999). Fantasy Island is a mysterious tropical resort where, for an unspecified price, dreams are granted. Stories begin with guests arriving on the island (via a seaplane), followed by their meeting with Mr. Roarke, the man who arranges for people to act out their wildest fantasies. The individual’s fantasy is then dramatized, with the program showing how that person’s life changes as a result of the experience. (The mysterious white room behind Mr. Roarke’s office has the power to send people into the past or future — to fulfill their fantasies.)

Tattoo, Mr. Roarke’s assistant (1978–1983), is famous for ringing the tower bell and proclaiming, “Da plane, da plane,” as the seaplane approaches the island. Christopher Hewett played Lawrence, Mr. Roarke’s assistant, for the remainder of the series.

Tattoo calls Mr. Roarke “Boss.” “Smiles, everyone, smiles" (which Mr. Roarke says to his greeters before his guests arrive) and "My dear guests, I'm Mr. Roarke, your host. Welcome to Fantasy Island" are the series' catchphrases.

Very little is known about Mr. Roarke. On January 12, 1980, Marge Corday (Tina Louise) comes to the island to end a recurring nightmare about a castle and an evil spirit named Elizabeth. When Mr. Roarke allows Marge to face her nightmare, we learn that the spirit has possessed Marge and brought her to the island so she can live again to kill Mr. Roarke — whom she loved more than 300 years ago (Mr. Roarke's refusal to marry her at the time set her on a path to destroy him). And, through Roddy McDowall's recurring role as the Devil, who is seeking Mr. Roarke's immortal soul, it is possible to assume that Mr. Roarke is a messenger of God who has been given a mission to help people who are in trouble. (Mr. Roarke always defeats Satan. "Oh, well," Satan says, "we'll play again. We have all eternity before us. Sooner or later I vow to win.")

Wendy Schaal appeared in several episodes as Julie, Mr. Roarke's goddaughter and assistant. Kimberly Beck as Cindy also played Mr. Roarke's assistant in 1983. Princess Nyah (Michelle Phillips) is the beautiful mermaid who lives in the waters surrounding the island; and Harilla (Ingrid Wong), Lola (Phileca Sempler) and Lana (Barbra Horan) are the native girls (who are credited) who frequent the island.

ABC revised the series in 1998 (to 1999) with Malcolm McDowell as Mr. Roarke. Here, the character dresses in black (as opposed to Ricardo Montalban's ice cream white attire) and appears to be more manipulative (it is also suggested that he has some connection with the supernatural). He has three assistants: Ariel, a beautiful shape shifter; Cal, the dimwitted bellhop; and Harry, the British concierge. Assisting Mr. Roarke on the mainland (running the Fantasy Island Travel Agency) are Fischer, the agent, and Clio, his secretary.

Note: Prior to the series, two ABC TV movie pilots aired: Fantasy Island (1/14/77) and Return to Fantasy Island (1/20/78). In the first pilot, $50,000 was mentioned as the cost of a fantasy, and guests included Carol Lynley, Eleanor Parker, Victoria Principal and Sandra Dee. Second pilot guests included Adrienne Barbeau, Nancy McKeon, Karen Valentine and Patricia Crowley.

Cast (1998–1999): Malcolm McDowell (Mr.

2586 Far Out Space Nuts. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975–1977). While loading food aboard a moon rocket at a NASA space center, ground crewmen Junior and Barney accidentally launch the ship and are propelled into the vast regions of outer space. Stories relate their misadventures on unknown planets and their attempts to return to Earth.

Other Regulars: Latana, their alien friend; Honk, their pet space creature; and Crakor, Latana's robot.

Cast: Bob Denver (Junior), Chuck McCann (Barney), Eve Bruce (Lantana), Patty Maloney (Honk), Stan Jensen (Crakor).

2587 Faraday and Company. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1973–1974). After 28 years of internment on false charges, Frank Faraday escapes from a Caribbean prison. He returns to the United States and exposes the man responsible for his imprisonment in 1945. Frank assumes his former position as a private detective with his now grown son, Steve, a security consultant for industry in Los Angeles. Stories relate the investigations of a 1940s-style private detective and the dated techniques he uses to apprehend criminals of the 1970s.

Other Regulars: Louise "Lou" Carson, Frank's former secretary and Steve's mother; Holly Barrett, Steve's secretary; and Police Captain Brinkley. Aired as a segment of The NBC Wednesday Mystery Movie.

Cast: Dan Dailey (Frank Faraday), James Naughton (Steve Faraday), Geraldine Brooks (Louise Carson), Sharon Gless (Holly Barrett), Andrew Duggan (Captain Brinkley).

2588 Faraway Hill. (Series; Serial; DuMont; 1946). The story of Karen St. John, a woman who, after the death of her husband, seeks an escape from the memories of their life together. The action is bridged by an offstage voice talking to the lead and revealing her thoughts. The series, which produced 12 episodes, is considered to be television's first network serial. The series ran from October 2, 1946 to December 18, 1946.

Cast: Flora Campbell (Karen St. John), Mel Brandt (Karen's Love Interest), Frederick Scott (Karen's Uncle), Ann Stell (Karen's Aunt). Also: Lorene Scott, Frederick Meyer, Melville Gilliard, Jacqueline Waite, Ben Low, Jack Holloran, Vivian King, Bill Gale, Eve McVeagh, Julie Christy, Hal Studer, Munia Gabler.

2589 Fare Enough. (Live Test Program; Game; ABC; 7/11/46). A contestant, chosen from the studio audience, is asked where he would like to go by train. A series of question and answer rounds follow with each correct response moving the player one station closer to his destination (seen via a map of rail lines). When a player successfully answers all his questions, he is escorted to the desk of the New York Central Railroad ticket agent and given his prize.

Host: Warren Hull. Comedy Bits: Emory Richardson.

2590 The Farewell Broadcast. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 7/31/40). On Wednesday, July 31, 1940, NBC ended its television broadcasting. The FCC had designated that television sound must be broadcast in FM (frequency modulation) not in AM (amplitude modulation). To do so meant mechanical readjustments in NBC's Empire State Building transmitter.

NBC resumed broadcasting in October 1940. To bid a temporary farewell, NBC presented a variety show featuring name performers (at the time). At the conclusion of the program, then NBC vice president of television, Alfred Morton, appeared to thank TV set owners as "partners in a great experiment." He then said goodnight and the TV went to static. The program itself was divided into six segments:

1. Continental music with Eugene Jalesnik (Gypsy violinist), Eduard Futran (accordionist) and Charlotte Clair (dancer).

2. Vaudeville-like comedy with Rube comedian Charles Althoff.

3. Songs from vocalist Amelia Hull.

4. Songs from the Southernaires, a black quartet of male singers.

5. Songs from vocalist Eleanor Steber.

6. A dramatic sketch called "The Drums of Oude" with Pat Calvert, Jack Cherry, Carl Harbord, W.O. McWatters, James Swift and Maurice Welles. The setting is a Scottish military outpost in India. Here, beneath the compound, lies the powder magazine — and trouble if the natives get it. The troops are off on a mission and overdue and the compound is under light guard. A guessing game evolves for the viewer — will the troops arrive in time or will there be a massacre? The tension-building drama ends with the troops arriving and war being diverted.

erless children, Steve and Danny. Impressed with her beauty, and her ability to handle his sons, Glen offers her the position of governess, which she accepts.

Stories, set in Washington, D.C., depict the home and working life of a widowed congressman, and the attempts of a country girl to adjust to both political and city life. "We owe a debt to Sweden, she's just what we've been needin'; so glad the Farmer's Daughter came to town."

Other Regulars: Agatha Morley, Glen's mother; Chester Cooper, Glen's associate; Senator Charles Ames, Glen's friend; Clemmy, Margaret, Charlotte and Molly, Katy's friends; Lars and Mama Holstrom are Katy's parents. The series is based on the Loretta Young feature film of the same title. The Morley's live at 307 Marshall Road.

Cast: Inger Stevens (Katy Holstrom), William Windom (Glen Morley), Mickey Sholdar (Steve Morley), Rory O'Brien (Danny Morley), Cathleen Nesbitt (Agatha Morley), Philip Coolidge (Chester Cooper), David Lewis (Charles Ames), Emmaline Henry (Clemmy Hoyle), Nancy Rennick (Margaret), Barbara Bostock (Margaret; later), Marilyn Lovell (Charlotte), Shelley Morrison (Molly), Walter Sande (Lars Holstrom), Alice Frost (Mama Holstrom), Jeanette Nolan (Glen's Cousin Stella). Theme Song: "The Farmer's Daughter" by Barry Mann, Cynthia Weil.

2592 Farrell: For the People. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 10/18/82). Elizabeth Farrell is an attractive New York City prosecutor for the D.A.'s office with one ambition: to become the district attorney. She cares about her clients and will not back down when the going gets tough. The "development project" (as NBC called it) was to relate Elizabeth's exploits as she goes beyond the call of duty to investigate crimes. The pilot episode relates Elizabeth's prosecution of two cases: that of Jed Carter, an ex-con celebrated for his literary talent who is accused of a stabbing; and Bernard Gates, a young man who is accused of the brutal rape of a 13-year-old girl (Denise Gray).

Other Regulars: Patrick J. Malloy, the D.A.; Alan Hellinger, the defense attorney; Maxene, Elizabeth's secretary; Police officers Mike Rodriguez and Jay Brennan; and D.A. office investigators Victoria, Beansie and Otis.

Cast: Valerie Harper (Elizabeth Farrell), Eugene Roche (Patrick J. Malloy), Steve Inwood (Alan Hellinger), Millie Slavin (Maxene), Judith Chapman (Victoria Walton-Mason), Gregory Sierra (Mike Rodriguez), Ed O'Neill (Jay Brennan), Calvin Jung (Otis), Bob Goldstein (Beansie). Guest Cast: Dennis Lipscomb (Jed Carter), Frank McCarthy (Vince Raleigh), Stacey Dash (Denise Gray), Richard T. Herd (Randolph Gardner), Cathy Worthington

(Shirley Sanders), Rhoda Gemignani (Louise Theodakis), East Carlo (Judge Sanchez), Alba Oms (Rosa Delgado), Martin Spear (Dr. Cramer).

2593 Farscape. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 1999–2004). NASA astronaut John Crichton has a theory: to use the Earth's gravity to propel a ship past the Earth's orbit and into deep outer space to explore distant planets. He attempted to do so with a ship called Farscape but encountered a wormhole and was propelled to a distant galaxy and into the midst of a war between the Peace Keepers and the Leviathans. He was rescued by the crew of the Moya, a ship of freedom fighters battling the evil Peace Keepers. John helped them avoid capture by the enemy and is now a member of the Moya. He is seeking a way to return home while attempting to survive the hostile aliens he encounters.

Other members of the Moya are Aeryn Sun, a former member of the Peace Keepers. She is very cold and calculating and was raised to be a soldier. Chiana is a gorgeous alien from the planet Nebari. She is a skilled thief and flirts to get what she wants. Zotoh Zhann is a female priestess (called a Pa'u) from the planet Delvia. She evolved from a plant and is skilled in the medical profession. Ka D'Argo is from a planet called Luxor and is an aggressive warrior; Rygel is a conniving, cowardly alien who causes endless problems for John.

2594 Fashion Coming and Becoming. (Experimental; Women; DuMont; 3/19/45). A fashion show for women coupled with wardrobe tips and advice from a mythical beauty expert named Nancy Dickson.

Cast: Betty Furness (Nancy Dickson, the host and commentator).

2595 Fashion Discoveries. (Experimental; Women; NBC; 9/18/41). The very first TV fashion show, pioneered by NBC and Bloomingdale's of Manhattan and Abraham & Strauss of Brooklyn, New York. The program itself was staged as a five o'clock party in a private home where models displayed the latest in women's wartime fashions.

Cast: Ruth Hopkins, Wynn Price, Peggy Read.

2596 Fashion House. (Series; Drama; My Network TV; 2006). A behind-the-scenes look at the world of the fashion industry as seen through the eyes of Maria Gianni, the high powered owner of Gianni's Fashion House — "The Best in High Fashion."

"Beauty is power and temptation is everywhere." Maria will do what it takes to get what she wants. She stepped on a lot of people on her struggles to reach the top and now must struggle to stay on top — no matter who she hurts.

Sophia Blakely is Maria's enemy, a girl who is committed to destroying her — both personally and financially. Lexi Walker is Maria's former assistant; Tania Ford is a model; Luke is Maria's son; Harold and Hans are Maria's designers; Michelle Miller is a designer (after a fall out with Maria, Michelle started her own company, Michelle Miller Designs). Michael Ashton is the photographer; Gloria Thompson is Lexi's assistant; Nikki Clark is a model.

Cast: Bo Derek (Maria Gianni), Morgan Fairchild (Sophia Blakely), Tippi Hedren (Doris), Mini Ardu (Tania Ford), Mike Begovich (Lance Miller), James Black (Rodney), Robert Buckley (Michael Bauer), Ethan Erickson (John Cotter), Donna Feldman (Gloria Thompson), Taylor Kinney (Luke Gianni), Natalie Martinez (Michelle Miller), Nicole Pulliam (Nikki Clark), Erika Schaefer (Lexi Walker), Garrett Swann (Harold), Tony Tripoli (Hans), Mark Totty (Dr. Russell Woods), Jordi Vilasuso (Eddie Zarowian), Joe Berti (William Chandler).

2597 Fashion Magic. (Series; Women; CBS; 1950–1951). A program of beauty tips, wardrobe advice and skin care (aimed primarily at teenage girls). The series ran from November 10, 1950 to June 15, 1951.

Hostess: Ilka Chase, Arlene Francis.

2598 Fashion Showcase. (Live Experimental Series; Variety; CBS; 1946–1947). A weekly program of experiments to create the right atmosphere for a fashion program. Beautiful girls were used to model the latest fashions of a specific designer (for example, Nettie Rosenstein) coupled with exceptional camera work and variety aspects (for example, dance numbers by the regulars). Despite excellent reviews (a rarity at this time), CBS canceled the experiment in favor of filmed programs. The series ran from October 5, 1946 to May 3, 1947.

Host-Commentator: Mary Hoganson. Regulars: John Butler, Nadine Gae, Allyn Ann McLerie, Tommy Wonder.

Cast: Marilyn Day (Lucky Marshall), Dennis Bohan (Lucky's Boss). Regulars: Elaine Joyce, Carl Reiner, Pamela O'Neill, Doris Lane, Patsy Davis, Don Saxon, Aina Shields.

2600 Fashion Telecast. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 8/2/44). A fashion show (turning the pages of the Alden's of Chicago Mail Order Catalogue into a TV program) that mixed women's fashion with songs, sketches and puppets. Girls from the Conover Agency modeled the latest in wartime fashions; Michael Edwards sang popular songs; Virginia Smith and Norma Gene Marshall appeared in a dramatic skit about two women sitting in a hotel lobby and discussing the clothes worn by the women they see; and a comical sketch with the Hope and Morey Bunin puppets concluded the broadcast.

Host: Jerry Lawrence. Guests: Hope and Morey Bunin, Henry Bluestone, Lee Clarkson, Norma Gene Marshall, Bert Pagano, Virginia Smith.

2601 The Fashionista Diaries. (Series; Reality; Soap Opera Network; 2007). A fashion-oriented reality series that uses soap opera like techniques (cliff-hanging episodes) to find which of six hopefuls will achieve a dream job in the fashion industry.

Like most reality series, the players are only identified by a first name (here, Nicole, Rachel, Tina, Bridget, Janjay and Andrew). Each of the players are in their twenties and each must work as assistants to people in the industry. They must also each successfully complete assigned tasks. Each task is judged and the player's performance evaluated. The one player who proves to be the best wins a job in the New York Fashion district.

2602 Fashions of the Times. (Experimental; Women; CBS; 11/2/44). Beautiful girls modeled evening gowns and swim suits in a show created by the fashion staff of the New York Times. Despite all the hard work, Variety said "all involved seemed to have only a hazy idea of what to do ... not a good presentation by any standards."

Host: Ben Feiner. Commentators: Omar Klam, Grover Whalen. Models: Marjorie Holligan, Hope S. Killman, Claire McCardell, Vera Maxwell, Virginia Pope.

2603 Fashions on Parade. (Series; Women; DuMont; ABC; 1948–1949). A program of fashion previews, guests and interviews with designers. The series ran on DuMont from February 5, 1948 to April 24, 1949; and on ABC from April 27, 1949 to June 29, 1949.

Hostess: Adelaide Hawley.

2604 Fast Company. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 8/14/95). Frances Hampton Smith is a reporter for Newswatch, a program on Channel 6 in Los Angeles; Jack Matthews is a lieutenant with the Metro Division of the L.A.P.D. They are also married and share an interest in each other — when it involves murder. In the pilot episode, Frances and Jack become involved in the investigation of the death of a beautiful call girl (Sharon). Jack believes the woman charged in the crime (Liz) is not guilty while Frances believes she is guilty as all the evidence points to her. Jack's efforts to prove Liz was framed is the focal point of the story.

Other Regulars: Darryl Fleming, Frances's producer; Sergeant Harrison, Jack's partner; and Eloise, Frances's mother.

Cast: Ann Jillian (Frances Hampton-Smith), Tim Matheson (Jack Matthews), Dex Elliott Sanders (Darryl Fleming), Geoffrey Blake (Sgt. Harrison), Nina Foch (Eloise Hampton-Smith), Constance Marie (Liz Shelby; guest role), Wendy Phillips (Paula Stone; guest role), Tim Ryan (Frank Shelby; guest role), William Allen Young (Det. Williams; guest role), Cali Timmins (Sharon Fleming; guest role).

2605 Fast Draw. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1968). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One member of each team is given a secret phrase (book, movie or song title). Within a fifteen second time limit, the player must draw charades on a special screen to its identity. His teammate has to identify the mystery phrase based on the drawn clues. Each correct identification awards the team one point. The highest scoring team is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Johnny Gilbert. Announcer: Fred Scott.

2606 Fast Food. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/9/85). A proposed series about Phil Jenkins, the long-suffering manager of The Space Burger, a gimmicky hamburger joint that adjoins a college campus. The story finds Phil attempting to discover why Crackers, his employee and the college's star football player, has suddenly decided to quit and leave school. (Crackers is dyslexic and feels it is too humiliating for him to take remedial reading courses.)

Cast: Avery Schreiber (Phil Jenkins), Keanu Reeves (Crackers), Roberta Weiff (Alixie), Michael Riley (Gary), Derek McGrath (Repair man), Geoffrey Bowes (Father).

2607 Fast Lane Blues. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/12/78). Major Leonard is a mastermind who presides over Phelps Petroleum, a giant international oil conglomerate. Leonard is an eccentric but cunning recluse whose lust for corporate publicity is matched only by his desire for anonymity. In an attempt to boost his public image, Leonard agrees to sponsor a cross-country auto race that features a carefully selected group of amateur drivers, including an urban tough guy (Tony), a pampered rich boy (Bruce), a country music queen (Dolly) and a suburban couple (Bill and Judy). The race is not just from point A to point B; along the way contestants must decipher a complex clue in order to determine their next destination. The unsold series was to follow the various drivers as they seek the first prize — a one million dollar pot of gold.

Cast: Bert Parks (Major Leonard), Talia Balsam (Dolly), Tony Danza (Tony), Bart Braverman (Bruce), Charles Murphy (Bill), Janice Heiden (Judy). Also: Donald Hotton, Judy Landers, Gary Prendergast, Sharon Ullrick.

2608 Fast Times. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1986). Linda Barrett and Stacy Hamilton are students at Ridgemont High, the “in” school in Ridgemont, California. Linda and Stacy are friends and work together as waitresses at the Cattle Burger, a fast food store in the Ridgemont Mall.

Stacy, who has been called “Spacey Stacy,” likes classical music and mocha almond crunch ice cream; she lives at 100 Ellen Drive. Her brother, Brad Hamilton, is the “big shot” high school senior. Linda, who likes contemporary music, lives at 97 Wrightson Place.

Jeff Spicoli is the “skateboard dude,” a student who has a hard time accepting rules and regulations. Mike Damone is the hustler (he sells event tickets for three times what they are worth and has been banned from Disneyland). Barbara DeVillvus, Brad Hamilton and Mark Ratner are other featured students.

Arnold Hand is the stern history teacher. He locks the door when the third bells rings and gives a 20 question quiz every Friday (his grades are based on all the quizzes and a midterm and final exam). He never laughs in class; when he feels like a laugh, he goes home and reads his students’ test papers. Hector Vargas is the rather weird and somewhat unorthodox biology teacher.

The series, which presents a look at life at Ridgemont High, is based on the feature film Fast Times at Ridgemont High. (In the film, Linda and Stacy work for Perry’s Pizza. The series’ Cattle Burger was the Bronco Burger in the film; Brad worked for the competition, All-American Burger.) The group Oingo Boingo performs the theme, “Fast Times” (written by Danny Elfman).

2609 Fastlane. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2002). The Candy Store is a secret L.A.P.D. warehouse that stores seized cars and weapons. It is also the headquarters for a team of undercover cops who use the contents of the warehouse to help bring criminals to justice. Wilhelmina Chambers, called Billie, is a lieutenant who heads the unit. Detectives Van Ray and Deaquon Hayes are the young, ambitious and reckless agents she commands.

At first glance, Billie appears to be a beautiful and sensual woman. While she doesn’t hesitate to use these assets in her undercover work, she is also tough and strictly business. She adheres to the rules she makes and expects Ray and Deaquon to follow them.

Billie has been assigned by the department to apprehend criminals who appear too dangerous for ordinary law enforcers to handle. She has one commandment, that if broken, means immediate expulsion from the unit: “You never drop cover, you never flash a badge.” Van and Deaquon’s assignments require them to get the facts and report to Billie before busting a criminal. It is usually at this point that Billie actually enters a case — and often finds herself breaking her own rules big time if it means bringing a case to a satisfactory conclusion.

Van dislikes his real first name of Donovan and uses an abbreviated version of it. He is the son of Raymond Ray, an expert counterfeiter known as “Ray Ray,” who is serving time in prison. Van possesses a great deal of knowledge about counterfeiting and it sometimes helps him in his undercover work (where he usually uses the alias Van Strummer). Van has a weakness for beautiful women and “becomes dumb around them,” says Deaquon. Billie says, “Van gets too emotionally involved with his assignments and ruins his perspective.” Van trusts people, takes unnecessary chances and takes things personally. He is always out to even up the score.

Deaquon uses his streets smarts to deal with crime. He grew up in Torrence, California, but eventually drifted to New York where he ran with a gang before he turned his life around. He became a cop for the N.Y.P.D. and soon worked for its undercover narcotics unit.

Deaquon’s brother, Andre Hayes, was a cop, for the L.A.P.D., and Van’s partner. When Andre is killed during a case investigation, Deaquon travels to California to avenge Andre’s death. He eventually meets Van and together they manage to get arrested for fighting. They are bailed out by Billie, who has just been given permission to initiate her undercover team. With Billie’s help, Deaquon and Ray find Andre’s killers (drug dealers). Billie proposes her idea to Van and Deaquon and they accept.

Snoop Dogg and Charlie Clouser perform “The Theme from Fastlane.”

Cast: Tiffani-Amber Thiessen (Billie Chambers), Peter Facinelli (Van Ray), Bill Bellamy (Deaquon Hayes).

2610 Fat Actress. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; 2005). Actress Kirstie Alley is perhaps best known for her roles on Cheers and Veronica’s Closet. In real life, when Veronica’s Closet ended, Kirstie began to gain weight and became the subject of ridicule in the tabloids. In Fat Actress, Kirstie plays a fictional version of herself: a TV actress whose weight gain has hindered her chances of finding work. The reality-like series focuses on Kirstie’s efforts to lose weight, put up with the ridicule and gain the right to work on TV again. The show is partially scripted and storylines are drawn, in part, from Kirstie's real life experiences.

Cast: Kirstie Alley (Herself), Rachael Harris (Keelyn Shecket), Bryan Callen (Eddie Falcon).

2611 Fat Albert and the Cosby Kids. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1972–1984). Comedian Bill Cosby's recollections of his northern Philadelphia friends: Fat Albert, Rudy, Weird Harold, Edward, Mush Mouth, Donald, Bucky and Russell (Bill's brother). Characters are designed, through their activities, to educate and entertain children as to the meanings of topics in everyday life. The series is also known as The New Fat Albert Show (1979–1984).

Voice Cast: Bill Cosby (Bill Cosby), Bill Cosby (Fat Albert), Bill Cosby (Mush Mouth), Bill Cosby (Dumb Donald), Jan Crawford (Russell), Jan Crawford (Bucky), Eric Suter (Rudy), Bill Cosby (Weird Harold), Gerald Edwards (Weird Harold). Additional Voices: Keith Allen, Pepe Brown, Erika Carroll, Lane Vaux. Series Host: Bill Cosby.

2612 Fat March. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2007). An extreme weight-loss program, the most drastic thus far attempted since NBC's The Biggest Loser made losing weight a spectator sport. Here twelve obese adults must walk (over a ten week period) 575 miles from Boston to Washington, D.C. Each weighs in at the start of the walk. At various times during the walk, each is weighed to see what progress, if any, is being made. The participants are under the guidance of two fitness experts (Lorrie Henry, Steve Pfister) and each participant can quit at any time if the walk (and rest stop activities) become too much. The participants that are able to complete the walk split $1.2 million.

Host: Lorrie Henry. Co-Host: Steve Pfister.

2613 Father Dear Father. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1977). Events in the life of Patrick Glover, a divorced British thriller writer, as he attempts to understand and cope with his ex-wife, Barbara, his beautiful teenage daughters Anna and Karen, and his well-meaning housekeeper, Matilda Harris. Produced in England.

Other Regulars: Bill Mossman, Barbara's new husband; Georgie Thompson, Patrick's agent; Mrs. Glover, Patrick's mother; Philip Glover, Patrick's brother; Ian Smythe, Patrick's publisher; Norah, Ian's wife; Timothy Tanner, Anna's boyfriend then husband.

Cast: Patrick Cargill (Patrick Glover), Natasha Pyne (Anna Glover), Ann Holloway (Karen Glover), Noel Dyson (Matilda "Nanny" Harris), Ursula Howells (Barbara Mossman), Tony Britton (Bill Mossman), Patrick Holt (Bill Mossman; later), Sally Bazley (Georgie Thompson), Dawn Addams (Georgie Thompson; later), Joyce Carey (Mrs. Glover), Donald Sinden (Philip Glover), Michael Segal (Ian Smythe), Diana King (Norah Smythe), Jeremy Child (Timothy Tanner).

2614 Father Dowling Mysteries. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; ABC; 1989–1991). Father Frank Dowling is pastor of Saint Michael's Roman Catholic Church in Chicago. He is, as he says, "in the business of helping people." While he does so by comforting parishioners, he is also an avid mystery reader and fancies himself as an amateur sleuth.

Sister Steve, a nun at Saint Michael's Convent, works closely with Father Dowling, whom she calls Frank, helping him with his religious duties and assisting him as they turn detective to help people in trouble and solve crimes.

Frank has been a priest since 1958 and pastor of Saint Michael's for nine years. Prior to entering the seminary, Frank worked as a counselor for a parish youth group. It was here that Frank fell in love with a girl named Mary Ellen Connell. Thoughts about marriage forced Frank to change his plans about becoming a priest when he asked Mary Ellen to marry him. She accepted, but after a brief romance Mary Ellen felt that Frank was destined to become a priest and convinced him to return to the seminary. "I knew she was right," Frank says of the incident when he related the story to Sister Steve. Tom Bosley also played Frank's brother Blaine, a con artist who sometimes complicates Frank's life.

Frank most often assists Sergeant Clancy of the Homicide Bureau of the Chicago Police Department.

Sister Stephanie, affectionately called Sister Steve by her students at Saint Michael's Elementary School, is really Stephanie Oskowski, a streetwise juvenile delinquent Frank first met at F.W. Woolworth when he caught her stealing. Frank took the troubled girl under his wing and they became friends. His guidance helped her to make the right decision about becoming a nun. She was assigned to the Holy Mother Convent before coming to Saint Michael's. Steve can hot wire a car and has quick reflexes ("It's what you get from playing stickball in a rough neighborhood"). She also has street knowledge and the ability to pick locks. Her favorite part about helping Frank is going undercover in various disguises. Steve can also cook and sometimes prepares the meals for Frank when Marie, the rectory cook and housekeeper, is out of town.

Marie first began working at Saint Michael's in 1967 when a Father Hunnicker was pastor. She feels that no matter what priest is in charge, all the hard work falls on her — cooking, cleaning and shopping. Marie was given two last names — first Brody then Gillespie. She did mention having two sisters — Mildred, who lives in Cleveland, and Rose, who lives in Florida.

While a normal rectory has several priests living there to accommodate those serving the parish, it appears that only Father Dowling is a resident at Saint Michael's Rectory. An occasional visitor is Father Philip Prestwick, the harassed Archdiocese liaison who finds Marie's cooking the best part of his stay.

In the pilot episode Frank helps his nephew, Phil Keegan (Robert Prescott), a police detective with the Metro Police Squad. Dick DeBenedictis composed the theme.

Cast: Tom Bosley (Father Frank Dowling), Tracy Nelson (Sister Steve), Regina Krueger (Sergeant Clancy), Mary Wickes (Marie), James Stephens (Father Philip Prestwick).

2615 Father Knows Best. (Series; Comedy; CBS; NBC; 1955–1962). Jim and Margaret Anderson are a married couple that live at 607 South Maple Street in the town of Springfield. They are the parents of Betty, Bud and Kathy and stories relate the simple pleasure and trying times the family faces.

Jim is the manager of the General Insurance Company (also given as the Cavalier Casualty Insurance Company). He is known for his ability to solve virtually any problem his family may encounter (he says, however, "I'm just an ordinary guy who sells insurance"). At times, when Betty has a problem, he does ask for Margaret's help because "You've had more experience being a high school girl than I have."

Betty is the eldest child and the most sensitive. She is very caring and involves herself in other people's problems (always with a good intention to help). She is the smartest of the children and attends Springfield High School. Jim calls her "Princess" and the Malt Shop is the after school hangout.

James Anderson, Jr., nicknamed Bud, was born in 1941. He attended Springfield High School (later Springfield College with Betty). He is actively involved in various sports, seeks the easiest ways to make money and is somewhat mechanically inclined (he likes to see what makes things work).

Kathy, the youngest child, is called "Kitten" by Jim and "Angel" by Margaret. While she is an angel most of the time, Kathy, who rarely involves herself with Betty or Bud's lives, manages quite well to find mischief on her own or with her friends.

Father Knows Best is based on the radio series of the same title (NBC, 1949–1954) that starred Robert Young (Jim Anderson), June Whitley and Jean VanderPyl (Margaret Anderson), Rhoda Williams (Betty), Ted Donaldson (Bud) and Norma Jean Nilsson and Helen Strong (Kathy). See also Keep It in the Family (for pilot film information) and The Father Knows Best Reunion and Father Knows Best: Home for Christmas.

Cast: Robert Young (Jim Anderson), Jane Wyatt

2616 Father Knows Best: Home for Christmas. (Series Extension; Comedy; NBC; 12/18/77). The second extension episode based on the Father Knows Best series (see also The Father Knows Best Reunion). In the second story, Betty, Bud and Kathy join their parents, Jim and Margaret Anderson, for a Christmas celebration — a celebration that is saddened by the prospect of Jim and Margaret selling their home, which is so rich in memories.

2617 The Father Knows Best Reunion. (Series Extension; Comedy; NBC; 1976). The first extension episode based on the Father Knows Best series (see also Father Knows Best: Home for Christmas). In the first story, the Anderson children — Betty, Bud and Kathy — return home to celebrate the 35th wedding anniversary of their parents, Jim and Margaret Anderson.

Betty, the eldest daughter, is a widow with two children, Jenny and Ellen. Bud, their son, is a motorcycle racer; he is married to Jean and the father of Robby. Kathy, the youngest, is single and engaged to a man who is ten years her senior. Frank Carlson is Betty's romantic interest.

2618 Father Murphy. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1981–1982). The series is set in the 1870s. In an attempt to acquire the gold of a mining camp run by frontiersman John Michael Murphy, Paul Garrett, a greedy town baron, orders his men to destroy the camp. While the children of the camp are attending a Halloween party, Garrett’s men raid the camp and kill everyone in sight. Murphy and his partner, Moses Gage, both knocked unconscious in the battle, survive. Later, when Murphy learns that the now orphaned children are to be sent to a workhouse, he disguises himself as a priest; with the help of Mae Woodward, the schoolteacher, he sets up the Gold Hill School (an orphanage in the town of Jackson). Stories relate the adventures of “Father” Murphy and the children he now watches over.

Other Regulars: Howard Rodman, the orphanage director; Evelyn Tuttle, Howard’s assistant; Caleb, the town sheriff; Wendell, the town storekeeper; Paul Garrett, the town boss; Father Joseph Parker, the visiting priest; Dr. R.G. Thompson, the town physician; Frank, Garrett’s right hand man. The orphan children are Will, Lizette, Matt, David, Chris, Jared, Jenny, Leon, Arnie, Beatrice, Harold, Lucas and Eli. Mae married John in the episode of April 11, 1982.

Cast: Merlin Olsen (John Michael Murphy), Moses Gunn (Moses Gage), Katherine Cannon (Mae Woodward), Timothy Gibbs (Will Adams), Lisa Trusel (Lizette Winkler), Scott Mellini (Ephram Winkler), Charles Tyner (Howard Rodman), Ivy Bethune (Evelyn Tuttle), Charles Cooper (Caleb), Bob Anthony (Wendell), Burr DeBenning (Paul Garrett), Richard Bergman (Father Joseph Parker), Warren Munson (Dr. R. G. Thompson), Ted Markland (Frank), James Jeter (Town Bartender), Byron Thames (Matt Gilbert), Kirk Brennan (David Gilbert), Neil Billingsley (Chris Gaines), Darien Dash (Jared), Tracey Gold (Jenny), Mickey Jones (Leon), Matt Freeman (Arnie), Tina Yothers (Beatrice), Josh Schulman (Harold), Dylan C. Tucker (Lucas), Chez Lester (Eli).

2619 Father O Father! (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/22/77). Saint Peter and Paul Church in Boston is the setting for an unsold series about a conservative pastor (Father Flicker) and his liberal assistant (Father Morgan) as they attempt to help the people of their poor community. Other Regulars: Helen, their secretary; Mrs. Taylor, the housekeeper; and Hocker, the handyman.

2620 Father of the Bride. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1961–1962). The modest house at 24 Maple

Drive in Fairview Manor, Connecticut, is owned by Stanley and Ellie Banks. Stanley, a lawyer with the Manhattan firm of Bartham, Henderson and Peck, and Ellie, a member of the Garden Club, are the parents of Katherine “Kay” and Tommy. Kay, who calls her father “Pops” (and her mother “Moms”), is Stanley’s favorite (“Even though I’m not supposed to have a favorite”). Kay, whom Stanley calls “Kitten,” is “Daddy’s Little Girl.” Stanley had 15 years of peace and solitude; Kay wasn’t too interested in boys and boys, for some reason, just didn’t notice her. But on her 15th birthday everything changed: she began dating. Soon boys were an important part of her life. Five years later, in a rather unexpected moment at dinner, Kay announces she is marrying Buckley Dunston, a man six years her senior. Buckley, a businessman, lives in Westbridge with his rich parents, Herbert and Doris, and is not Stanley’s idea of the perfect man for Kay (he believes Buckley is a smooth talker and sweet-talked Kay into marrying him).

Stanley, a Dartmouth Graduate, wants a man who will make Kay happy, support her and make a home for her (as time passed, “I got used to him” says Stanley).

Stanley, at age 25, married Ellie when she was 18. “Now it was time for me to give up my little girl. She’ll always love us, but not in the old ways.”

Stanley and Ellie have always lived simply and within their means. The next shock to Stanley is the wedding and its associated cost when a simple affair turns into an extravagant expense (his only consolation is Tommy — whom he’ll present to the father of the bride as his one and only contribution). It was at the wedding that Stanley “realized what I was doing. I was giving up Kay.”

The newlyweds establish a home in a small apartment at 324 Adams Street and, shortly before the series ended, become the parents of a boy they name Stanley Banks Dunston. Based on the films Father of the Bride (1950) and Father’s Little Dividend (1951). Jerry Fielding composed the theme.

Cast: Leon Ames (Stanley Banks), Ruth Warrick (Ellie Banks), Myrna Fahey (Kay Banks), Rickie Sorensen (Tommy Banks), Burt Metcalfe (Buckley Dunston), Ransom Sherman (Herbert Metcalfe), Lurene Tuttle (Doris Metcalfe).

2621 Father of the Pride. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2004). A prime time computer animated series about a family of white lions who work with illusionists Siegfried and Roy in their Las Vegas act. Larry and his wife, Kate are the main talking lions. Sarmoti is Kate’s father (who clashes with Larry over almost every issue). Rounding out the cast is Snack, the mischievous gopher friend of Larry’s. The series, which produced 13 episodes (11 of which aired) ran from August 31, 2004 to December 28, 2004.

Voice Cast: John Goodman (Larry), Cheryl

Hines (Kate), Carl Reiner (Sarmoti), Orlando Jones (Snack), Julian Holloway (Siegfried), David Herman (Roy), Danielle Harris (Sierra), Wendie Malick (Victoria).

2622 Father on Trial. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/3/72). Michael "Mike" Bryan is a widowed judge with five children (Stevie, Mike, Jr., Michelle, Cheri, and Dennis); Billie Roman is a young nightclub singer who is attempting to romance him despite the problems of an age difference and five precocious children who are not keen on having a new mother. The unsold series was to relate Mike and Billie's courtship and eventual marriage and their efforts to raise five children.

2623 Fathers and Sons. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1986). A four-episode program about the humorous yet heartwarming relationships between a group of young boys who are also friends and their fathers. The actual focal point, however, is on one of the fathers, Buddy Landau, a dedicated coach at the Charles Lindberg Elementary School.

Other Regulars: Ellen, Buddy's wife; Lanny, Buddy's son; Tony, Buddy's assistant coach; Sean, Matt and Brandon, Lanny's friends; Richard, Matt's father; Audrey, Sean's mother; and Mr. Belnap, the science teacher. The series ran from April 6, 1986 to May 4, 1986.

2624 Father's Day. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/25/86). Incidents in the life of Robert Morgan, an harassed IRS auditor as he attempts to cope with life at home and at work. In the pilot episode, Robert struggles over the prospect of whether or not to allow his pretty 14-year-old daughter, Daisy, go on her first date with a boy (Garrett) who believes that he is a Nazi hunter. Other Regulars: Mary Ellen, Robert's wife; and Jonathan, Robert's son.

2625 The Favor. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 6/30/44). A home front drama set in Brooklyn, New York. A working girl is about to buy a fur coat for $275 and is waiting for her girlfriend, who knows the manager of a fur store. Suddenly, a soldier named Casey appears to the girl and tells her of his battle experiences in France. Before he leaves, he persuades the girl to use her $275 to buy war bonds. When her friend arrives, the girl tells her about the soldier — and is shocked to learn that Casey was killed in action in France. Ghostly manifestation to achieve a goal was used for the first time on TV with this broadcast.

Cast: Lesley Woods (Girl), Joseph Julian (Soldier).

2626 Fawlty Towers. (Series; Comedy; PBS; 1977). Fawlty Towers is a respectable inn located at 16 Elwood Avenue in Devonish, England. It is owned by Basil and Sybil Fawlty, a seemingly happily married but quarrelsome couple.

Sybil is overpowering and appears to have complete control over Basil, the rude and totally incompetent innkeeper. Basil tries to do his best, but something always interferes with his good intentions and makes him appear as a fool. He yells, screams and rants and this seems to be his only means of keeping his sanity. Stories follow the hectic life of Basil Fawlty as he endeavors to run the inn.

Polly Sherman is the sexy waitress; Terry, the cook; and Manuel is the muddle-mouthed foreign bellboy (he understands little English and is forever getting on Basil's frayed nerves). Major Gowen, Miss Tibbs and Miss Gatsby are regular hotel guests.

Cast: John Cleese (Basil Fawlty), Prunella Scales (Sybil Fawlty), Connie Booth (Polly Sherman), Andrew Sachs (Manuel), Brian Hall (Terry), Ballard Berkeley (Major Gowen), Gilly Flower (Miss Tibbs), Renee Roberts (Miss Gatsby).

2627 Fay. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976). Fay Stewart, described as "classy, sophisticated and very attractive," is a middle-aged divorcée who works as a legal secretary to Daniel ("Danny") Messina, the senior partner in the San Francisco law firm of Messina and Cassidy. Fay, who lives at 73416 Langley Avenue, is divorced from the womanizing Jack Stewart and is the mother of a married daughter named Linda Baines. Valentino's is Fay's favorite restaurant.

Linda is married to Dr. Elliott Baines; Danny's partner is Al Cassidy; Letty Gilmore is Al's secretary; and Lillian is Fay's neighbor. Jaye P. Morgan sings the theme, "Coming into My Own."

2628 Faye and Sketch. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1953-1954). A program of music, songs and celebrity interviews that ran from October 26, 1953 to October 22, 1954. Johnny Stearns is the producer.

Hostess: Faye Emerson. Host: Skitch Henderson. Music: Skitch Henderson.

2629 Faye Emerson's Wonderful Town. (Series; Interview; CBS; 1951–1952). The program, broadcast live from a different city each week, features interviews with outstanding citizens. The series aired from June 16, 1951 to April 19, 1952.

Hostess: Faye Emerson. Vocalists: The Don Large Chorus.

Cast: Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (Lewis Erskine), Philip Abbott (Arthur Ward), Stephen Brooks (Jim Rhodes), Lynn Loring (Barbara Erskine), Tom Reynolds (Tom Colby), Shelly Novack (Chris Daniels), Anthony Eisley (Chet Randolph). Narrator: Marvin Miller. Theme Song: “The FBI” by Bronislau Kaper.

2631 FBI Code 98. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1962). “The FBI’s total war against crime ... waged to the last bullet ... with every hideout a battlefield” was the concept of this unsold series about LeRoy Gifford and Ed Fox, special agents for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In the pilot episode, Gifford and Fox attempt to discover who is responsible for a murder attempt on members of the Amertronic Corporation, a government-contracted builder of planes. Other Regulars: Gibson White, their superior; and agents Bernard Lyons and Philip Vaccaro.

2632 FBI: The Untold Stories. (Series; Reality; ABC; 1991). Recreations of actual FBI cases (from 1970 to 1991). Each chosen case is reenacted and features interviews with the actual investigators, witnesses and the criminals themselves.

Host: Pernell Roberts.

Host-Narrator: Arthur Kennedy. Writings of FDR Read By: Charlton Heston.

2634 Fear Factor. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2001–2006). A somewhat unsettling series that confronts people with their greatest fears. Players (who compete alone, with friends or with family members) are placed in a game situation where they must overcome a specific fear. Each stunt is under the supervision of a professional Hollywood stunt coordinator to insure safety. When a player faces a challenge, he must complete the stunt in order to remain in the game; if he fails to complete it (or fear gets the better of him) he is immediately eliminated. Each successfully completed task moves the player forward. The player who successfully completes the final challenge is the winner.

Host: Joe Rogan.

2635 Fear No Evil. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 3/3/69). The first of two pilot films that eventually led to the ABC series The Sixth Sense (see also Ritual of Evil). The experiences of David Sorell, a world-renowned psychiatrist who investigates cases involving supernatural occurrences. In the pilot episode, David and his assistant, Harry Snowden, tackle a case wherein a woman (Barbara) claims an antique mirror can return her boyfriend, who was killed in a car crash, back from the dead.

Cast: Louis Jourdan (David Sorell), Wilfrid Hyde-White (Harry Snowden). Guest Cast: Lynda Day (Barbara), Carroll O'Connor (Myles Donovan), Kate Woodville (Ingrid), Harry David (Wyant), Marsha Hunt (Mrs. Varney).

2636 Fearless Fosdick. (Series; Children; NBC; 1952). The comic escapades of Fearless Fosdick, a dauntless police detective created by cartoonist Al Capp (characters are marionettes).

Voices-Puppeteer: Hope Bunin, Morey Bunin.

2637 Fearless Music. (Series; Music; Syn.; 2006). The program features live studio performances from “five great bands”—all of which were recorded live at Fearless Music studios in New York City. The program is basically a showcase for the company’s music artists and each performance is presented just like a stage performance without all the adoring fans.

Host: Jamie Lamm. Theme Music: Jamie Lamm.

2638 The Feather and Father Gang. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1977). Toni “Feather” Danton is a beautiful attorney with the Los Angeles firm of Huffaker, Danton and Binkwell. She is the daughter of Harry Danton, a widowed ex-confidence man who seems to have settled down. Toni is not one for sitting back and letting others do her legwork. She believes that to win a case, one must become actively involved in all aspects of that case, including investigating to uncover the facts.

Toni, however, does not work alone. She teams with Harry who, with his team of con-artist friends, use the knowledge of the con to outwit and bring criminals to justice.

Other Regulars: Lou, Margo, Enzo, Michael and Murphy, Harry's aides; J.C. Hadley, the Deputy District Attorney; Huff, Toni's partner; Binkwell, Toni's partner.

Cast: Stefanie Powers (Toni Danton), Harold Gould (Harry Danton), Lewis Charles (Lou), Joan Shawlee (Margo), Frank Delfino (Enzo), Monte Landis (Michael), Dick O'Neill (Murphy), Edward Winter (J.C. Hadley), William H. Bassett (Huff Huffaker), Allen Williams (Binkwell). Theme Music: "The Feather and Father Gang" by George Romanus.

2639 Feather Your Nest. (Series; Game; NBC; 1954–1956). Two couples appear and each select specific household furnishings from a showcase that is displayed on stage. Within a one-minute time limit, one member from each team must find a hidden feather that is contained in each article that he chose. Each feather contains a question, which if the player answers correctly, awards him that piece of merchandise

Host: Clayton "Bud" Collyer. Assistant: Lou Prentiss, Janis Carter, Jean Williams.

2640 Featherstone's Nest. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/1/79). When the opportunity arises for his wife to attend an out-of-state law school, pediatrician Charlie Featherstone agrees to take on the responsibility of raising their two lively daughters, Kelly and Courtney. The situation soon proves impossible and Charlie hires a housekeeper (Bella) to assist him. The unsold series was to relate Charlie's misadventures as he struggles to run a business and a household. In the pilot episode, Charlie faces his first domestic crisis: what to do when his 13-year-old daughter (Kelly) announces she is going to sleep with a boy as part of her initiation to join a high school sorority. Other Regulars: Dr. John DeMott, Charlie's assistant; and Everett Buhl, Charlie's friend.

2641 Federal Agent. (Test Film; Crime Drama; DuMont; 6/20/49). A proposed series of mystery dramatizations based on the files of Edward E. Conroy, the former Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in New York City. The pilot episode relates the FBI's efforts to track down a quartet of murderers.

Cast: Edward E. Conroy (Narrator), Joe DeSantis (Gang leader), Arnold Robertson (Sheriff).

2642 Federal Men. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; NBC; 1950–1955). The alternate title for Treasury Men in Action. See this title for information.

2643 Feds. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1997). A look at the working and personal lives of a group of dedicated assistant U.S. Attorneys attached to the Manhattan Federal Prosecutor's Office as seen through the eyes of Erica Stanton, the team head. C. Oliver Resor, Sandra Broome, Jessica Graham and Rick Senot are her team. Stories, presented as "ripped from the headlines," follow the cases the team handles (from terrorism to civil rights) and how each case affects the person assigned to investigate it.

Cast: Blair Brown (Erica Stanton), Adrian Pasdar (C. Oliver Resor), Regina Taylor (Sandra Broome), Grace Phillips (Jessica Graham), Kevin Hopkins (Rick Senot).

2644 Feel the Heat. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/5/83). Anthony "Andy" Thorn is an ex-cop turned private detective who is based in Key Blanco, Florida; Honor Campbell is a state attorney in Boudon County; the unsold series was to relate their investigations as they team to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Thorn and Holly try to find the killer of an infamous drug dealer whose death has made a number of influential people very nervous.

Cast: Nick Mancuso (Andy Thorn), Lisa Eichhorn (Honor Campbell). Guest Cast: Robert Hooks (Captain Barney Hill), Philip Clark (Detective Frank Dawson), Paula Kelly (Sally Long), Hector Elizondo (Monkey Moreno), Pepe Serna (Emille Sanchez), Alberto Martin (Jose Gomez), Charles Harris (Bobby Dan), Julian Byrd (Skeeter).

2645 Feeling Good. (Series; Educational; PBS; 1974–1975). Tips on staying healthy are presented through the health problems and behavior of a group of people who inhabit Mac's Place, a luncheonette. Mac is the luncheonette owner; Rita is his waitress; Mrs. Stebbins is the neighborhood gossip monger; Jason is a doctor; Melba is Jason's wife; Hank is the sporting goods store owner.

Cast: Dick Cavett (Host), Rex Everhart (Mac), Priscilla Lopez (Rita), Ethel Shutta (Mrs. Stebbins), Joe Morton (Jason), Marjorie Barnes (Melba), Ben Slack (Hank), Bill Cosby (Regular).

2646 Felicity. (Series; Drama; WB; 1998–2002). A prime time soap opera that relates events in the life of Felicity Elizabeth Porter, a student at UNY (University of New York) as she grows from a somewhat naïve and impressive teenager to responsible young adult.

Felicity's parents (Edward and Barbara) had planned her future — to attend Stanford University and become a doctor (like her father). But Felicity just couldn't follow in his footsteps (the closest she ever came was as a volunteer for her tenth grade blood drive). Felicity graduated from high school with honors and had admired a fellow classmate (Ben, although he does not have the same feelings for her). When Felicity discovers that Ben has enrolled at UNY, she decides to do the same thing. Felicity never made a substantial decision. She uses Ben as an excuse to move to Manhattan.

At school Felicity registers for art courses and finds a room at the H. Kevin Hall housing facility on campus. She also finds a shock — Ben has a girlfriend — Susan. Felicity accepts reality and she and Ben become friends not lovers. Stories follow Felicity as she learns little by little what life has to be.

Cast: Keri Russell (Felicity Porter), Scott Speedman (Ben Covington), Amy Jo Johnson (Julie Emrick), Scott Foley (Noel Crane), Greg Grunberg (Sean Blumberg), Amanda Foreman (Meghan Rotundi), Tangi Miller (Elena Tyler), Ian Gomez (Javier Clemente Quintata), Rob Benedict (Richard Coad), Donald Faison (Tracy), Amy Smart (Ruby), Sarah-Jane Potts (Molly), Janeane Garofalo (Sally Reardon), Amy Aquino (Dr. Toni Pavone), Erich Anderson (Dr. Edward Porter), Eve Gordon (Barbara Porter), Chris Martin (Greg Stenson), Christopher Gorham (Trevor O'Donnell), Sarah Jane Morris (Zoe Webb), Dash Mihok (Lynn McKennan), Jim Ortlieb (Prof. Bill Hodges).

2647 Felix the Cat. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1960). Felix is a cat who possesses a magic black bag that can grant its owner any wish. The Professor is an evil being who seeks to acquire the bag for the power it will give him. Cliff-hanger type episodes relate Felix's efforts to foil the Professor's plans.

Voice Cast: Jack Mercer (Felix the Cat), Jack Mercer (The Professor), Jack Mercer (Rockbottom), Jack Mercer (Poindexter).

2648 The Felony Squad. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1966–1969). Sam Stone and Jim Briggs are plainclothes detectives with the Los Angeles Police Department. Sam is the older, set in his ways cop; Jim is young and more apt to bend the rules to get the job done. Dan Briggs, a sergeant, is Jim's father; Ed Franks is their captain. Stories relate their case assignments.

Cast: Howard Duff (Sam Stone), Dennis Cole (Jim Briggs), Ben Alexander (Dan Briggs), Barney Phillips (Ed Franks), Frank Maxwell (Ed Franks; later), Frank Maxwell (Captain Nye). Theme Song: "The Felony Squad" by Pete Rugolo.

2649 Female Instinct. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 12/18/72). The pilot film for the NBC series The Snoop Sisters (1974) about Ernesta and Gwendolyn Snoop, sisters who also happen to be eccentric mystery writers, as they seek to solve crimes for story material. In the pilot episode, the sisters attempt to solve the murder of a once-famous movie star (Norma Treat).

Other Regulars: Lieutenant Steven Ostrowski, their nephew; and Barney, their chauffeur/bodyguard. In the series, Bert Convy played Steve and Lou Antonio was Barney.

Cast: Helen Hayes (Ernesta Snoop), Mildred Natwick (Gwendolyn Snoop), Lawrence Pressman (Steven Ostrowski), Art Carney (Barney). Guest Cast: Paulette Goddard (Norma Treat), Jill Clayburgh (Mary Nero), Bill Dana (Melvin Kaplan), Craig Stevens (Charles Corman), Charlie Callas (Charlie), Ed Platt (Julius Nero), Gloria Stroock (Pinky Allen).

2650 Female of the Species. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1957). A proposed, but unsold series of anthology-like stories about women. A socialite named Margo is the only regular. She appears in a supper club setting to tell tales of women she has known. In the pilot episode, titled "Sunday Night," the story of Laurie Hillman is told. Laurie is a model whose relationships with men all fall apart at the seams. Laurie is desperately in love with Avery Morgan, but the feeling is not mutual. Feeling depressed, Laurie contemplates suicide and takes sleeping pills. She is saved when she is found by a bellboy. The situation makes Avery aware of Laurie's feelings and it is assumed that Laurie and Avery married (an ending was not filmed; the stars appeared with producer Joan Harrison to discuss possible endings).

2651 The Feminine Touch. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951). A program of music and songs aimed at the female members of the viewing audience. The series ran from June 18, 1951 to August 17, 1951. Robert Smith is the producer.

Host: John Conte. Vocalist: Marguerite Hamilton. Music: The Tony Mottola Trio.

2652 La Femme Nikita. (Series; Adventure; USA; 1997–2001). The Spider Web, a massive computer control room, is the center of operations for Section One, a secret U.S. government anti-terrorism organization that is controlled by a mysterious group of people known as Overview. Section One, also called Section, is a ruthless agency that will get any job done no matter what the cost in terms of human life or equipment.

Paul W. Wolfe, better known as Operations is the leader of Section One. Few people in the government know about Section One and it is Operations' job to keep it that way. Operations designs Section's missions and acts as a liaison between Section and other government agencies.

Operations shows no mercy (or feeling). He makes personal decisions that include who should live and who is expendable. His main operatives are Nikita and Michael.

There is a gravesite (plot 30, row 8) in an unnamed locale that bears the name of Nikita Wirth. Nikita's mother, Roberta, believes her daughter is alive and refuses to accept what she has been told: her daughter committed suicide. Roberta is right but she can't prove it.

For Nikita it began when she was a young woman and living on the streets. She also happened to be in the wrong place at the wrong time. A police officer was killed and Nikita was mistaken for the culprit. She was tried, found guilty of murder and sentenced to death. One night she was taken from her cell and brought to Section. Here she was offered a choice: work for them as a spy or face execution (Section actually framed Nikita; they required a girl with the dual assets of beauty and an ability to kill).

Nikita accepts Section's offer. To convince everyone that Nikita is dead, Section One fakes her suicide (in the feature film on which the series is based, Nikita was high on drugs and killed the police officer in cold blood. This was toned down for TV to reflect a girl who was not a cold blooded killer and is just an unfortunate victim of circumstance).

Nikita, trained by Michael (her mentor), operates under the code name Josephine. She is unhappy being a spy and feels an injustice has been done to her. She is hoping to break away from Section One and create a life for herself on the outside.

Nikita is beautiful and skilled. She is a Level 2 Field Operative and does whatever is necessary to survive. She is distrustful of most people in Section and has only bonded herself with Michael and agents Walter and Seymour Birkoff.

Nikita's greatest weakness is her compassion and sympathy for innocent people. She relies on her fierce instincts (and killer looks) to achieve the covert and extremely dangerous objectives of Section (Nikita knows that if she lets her conscience get in the way she will be eliminated). While Nikita is highly trained and dedicated to fighting global terrorism by any means necessary — legal or otherwise — she often violates Section protocol by acting on her own intuition (when she feels a mission is not going as planned).

Nikita doesn't want to be treated differently ("It's not fair to the others") and will risk her life to safeguard the United States.

Michael Samuelle, the Section Supervisor, operates under the code name Jacques. He is a Level 5 Field Operative and in line to succeed Operations. He leads teams in field assignments and says simply "This is Section. Missions are carried out. People die." He performs at full capacity and is capable of getting things done. He is cold and calculating and is seeking the position of Head Strategist. Operations, however, blocks all attempts by Michael to achieve that goal. Operations feels that Michael is the best agent he has and he intends to keep it that way.

Madeline is a former master strategist for Section who now assists Operations. She can talk to Operations and he will listen, but she cannot interfere. Madeline also oversees the White Room, Section's "Torture Chamber" (for getting information out of prisoners). She is assisted by the speechless and emotionless "Torture Twins," Frick and Frack.

Walter, called "The Weapons Guy," is the only other operative (besides Nikita) who appears human (not stiff or indifferent to everything but their job at Section). He is cantankerous, rather weathered looking and totally honest. While Section agents are skilled and formidable in the field, it is Walter's high tech "gadgets" that save lives and foster successful missions. He is totally dedicated to arming field agents with the maximum protection and is closest to Nikita, whom he considers a friend.

Seymour Birkoff is a cold and cunning computer genius who was responsible for cracking some of the world's most secret and complex codes. He appears to have no life outside of Section and is totally dedicated to his computer terminal. He can break into any computer system and his job is instrumental to Section's operations.

"The one thing you can't do is defect from Section," says Operations. "If you do you will be found, detained and interrogated." Mark Snow composed the theme. The series is based on the French film La Femme Nikita with Anne Parillaud as Nikita (Bridget Fonda starred as Nikita in the American film version, Point of No Return).

Nikita opens the show: "I was falsely accused of a hideous crime and sentenced to life in prison, One night I was taken from my cell to a place called Section One, the most covert anti-terrorist group on the planet. Their ends are just, but their means are ruthless. If I don't play by their rules I die."

2653 Fenster Hall. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/31/85). A proposed spin-off from Punky Brewster that places Mike Fulton, a teacher at Punky's grammar school, as a counselor at Fenster Hall, a children's shelter. In the pilot episode, a homeless boy is brought to the shelter — but plans to stay only long enough to steal the proceeds from the hall's annual auction.

Cast: T.K. Carter (Mike Fulton). Guest Cast: Billy Lombardo (Billy), Soleil Moon Frye (Punky Brewster), George Gaynes (Henry).

2654 Fernwood 2-Night. (Series; Satire; Syn.; 1977). An intentionally appalling series that satirizes the TV talk show. Produced by the fictional Channel 6 in Fernwood, Ohio, the program literally presents the most grotesque people imaginable for an interview by an obnoxious, conceited host (Barth Gimble) and his dim-witted announcer (Jerry Hubbard). See also America 2-Night, the spin-off series. Happy Kyne is the orchestra leader of the Mirth Makers.

Cast: Martin Mull (Barth Gimble), Fred Willard (Jerry Hubbard), Frank DeVol (Happy Kyne).

2655 Ferris Bueller. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990). A television adaptation of the film Ferris Bueller's Day Off. Ferris Bueller is a carefree, outgoing high school student “who gets away with murder and everywhere he goes fun happens.” He has the soul of a con man and is a genius at manipulating his parents and teachers.

Ferris is 17 years old and lives at 164 North Dutton Place with his parents (Bill and Barbara) and his sister, Jeannie. He is a junior at Ocean Park High School in Santa Monica, California. He hangs out with his friends at Danny's Pizza Palace.

Jeannie Bueller is 18 years old and a senior at Ocean Park High. She is beautiful, vicious and nasty — and proud of it. She has a body “other women would kill for” and loves to wear bikinis to the beach — but her mother refuses to let her; she tries but always gets caught (“What is the point of having a great body if I can't show it off,” she sobs). While her mother is concerned about what Jeannie wears to the beach, she doesn't seem to mind the tight, short skirts and low cut blouses Jeannie wears to school.

Jeannie's greatest fear is that her friends will discover she had her nose fixed and that she is not perfect. Jeannie, who is called “Princess” by her father, despises Ferris, refuses to associate with him and doesn't want anyone to know she is related to him. She lives for the day Ferris will get caught and be punished by her parents.

Sloane Peterson, the junior class beauty, is Ferris's girlfriend. She attended Saint Catherine's school for girls as a kid and hopes to become a ballet dancer. Edward Rooney is the stern principal of Ocean Park High. Rooney has been principal for nine years and no matter what he does, the newspapers never get his name right (for instance, Ted Rooney, Ned Nooney, Red Fooney).

Grace is Rooney's ever-faithful secretary. She loves

Ed despite the fact that he has nothing positive to say about her (“I hate your hair, your clothes and your teeth. Your dresses ride up in the back, and you floss too much”).

Ocean Park High, which is part of the unified school district, was called Palisades High in the pilot episode. Theme: “Ferris Bueller,” by Glen Jordan.

Cast: Charlie Schlatter (Ferris Bueller), Jennifer Aniston (Jeannie Bueller), Cristine Rose (Barbara Bueller), Sam Freed (Bill Bueller), Ami Dolenz (Sloane Peterson), Richard Riehle (Edward Rooney), Judith Kahan (Grace), Cloris Leachman (Margaret Whitman, Barbara's mother).

2656 The Fess Parker Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/28/74). A domestic comedy about a widowed construction engineer (Fess Hamilton), his housekeeper (Esther) and their efforts to raise his three pretty but very mischievous daughters (Susie, age 16; Beth, 12; and Holly, 6). In the pilot episode, Holly brings an unexpected guest for dinner — Judy Weston, a beautiful divorcee looking for a husband.

Cast: Fess Parker (Fess Hamilton), Cynthia Eilbacher (Susie Hamilton), Dawn Lyn (Beth Hamilton), Michelle Stacy (Holly Hamilton), Florence Lake (Esther Crowe). Guest Cast: Linda Dano (Julie Weston), Norman Alden (Boomer Landis), Woodrow Parfrey (Mr. Johnson).

2657 Festival of Stars. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1956–1957). The program features rebroadcasts of episodes that originally aired on The Loretta Young Theater that do not star actress Loretta Young. See this title for information. The series ran from June 30, 1956 to September 8, 1956 and July 2, 1957 to September 17, 1957.

Host: Jim Ameche.

2658 Fibber McGee and Molly. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1959–1960). “Can I watch the fight, Mister, can I?” This catchphrase is spoken by an adorable nine-year-old girl named Teeny to her adult neighbor, Fibber McGee, when she realizes that Fibber and his wife, Molly, are about to engage in one of their famous verbal battles.

Fibber is an amateur inventor and “the world's greatest liar”; Molly is totally honest and devoted to him. Fibber believes that he is a man of stone (until he meets a man with a chisel), can tackle any job (until he tries) and can resolve any problem (if he puts his mind to it). Fibber finds that stretching the truth seems to work best for him — until he gets in so deep that additional lies cause additional problems, and the famous verbal battles when Molly has come to his rescue.

Fibber McGee and Molly live at 79 Wistful Vista in the town of Wistful Vista. Fibber is a member of the Wistful Vista Men's Club and the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and at one time he performed in vaudeville with Fred Nitney (Jack Kirkwood) as the act “Nitney and McGee, the Two Likable Lads.” Everyone, including Molly, calls Fibber “McGee” (“Fibber” is rarely mentioned).

John Gamble is the town physician. Doc Gamble, as he is called, says (about Fibber), “I took an oath to tend the sick and I have never known anyone sicker.” Charles La Trivia, whom Fibber calls “La Triv,” is the town’s mayor. Teeny, the McGees’ neighbor, lives at 81 Wistful Vista. The series is based on the radio program of the same title.

Roy Norris is Fibber’s neighbor; Oliver and Florence are Fibber’s cousins. Theme: “Fibber McGee and Molly,” by Raoul Kraushaar.

2659 Fifteen. (Series; Drama; Nickelodeon; 1991). A dramatic serial aimed at teenagers that relate incidents in the lives of a group of close-knit friends as they deal with pressures at school, at home and from friends.

2660 15 with Faye. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949–1952). A daily 15 minute series of music, songs and celebrity interviews. The series ran from October 4, 1949 to April 12, 1952. Hardie Frieberg is the producer.

Hostess: Faye Emerson. Regulars: Mary Bennett, Kenneth Banghart. Music: Skitch Henderson.

2661 The Fifth Corner. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1992). Richard Braun is a spy with many talents. He is called “The Fifth Corner” — if there is no way out, he will find one.

One day, while on assignment in Latin America, Richard is hit on the head and wakes up next to a dead woman. Richard manages to escape, but the fractured skull he suffered in the attack leaves him a virtual amnesiac. He has little memory and doctors cannot guarantee a full recovery. With one driving ambition, to find his past, Richard takes a job as a trouble-shooter for the Grandwell Corporation in the hopes that he will find someone or something that can help him regain his past. Stories relate his assignments on behalf of the billion-dollar corporation.

Other Regulars: Dr. Grandwell, head of the corporation; Erica Fontaine, the crusading New York Times reporter out to get Grandwell (she opposes his money and the evil it does); Boone, Grandwell’s aide; and the Hat, the man who does all the dirty work for Grandwell.

Cast: Alex McArthur (Richard Braun), James Coburn (Dr. Grandwell), Kim Delaney (Erica Fontaine), J.E. Freeman (Boone), Anthony Valentine (The Hat).

2662 Fifth Wheel. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2001). A reality version of ABC’s The Dating Game that introduces viewers to four singles who talk about themselves to enlighten the others as to their wants, likes and dislikes (basically a conversation to see who is compatible with who). The two men and two women are brought to a specific location (like a restaurant) and introduced to a fifth wheel — another single man or woman. The five mingle and vote as to who should date whom. Were the original four singles right for each other or was the fifth wheel more appropriate for someone? These are the questions that are answered after the voting to determine which single (the fifth wheel) must leave. The program follows the other two couples to report on whether or not good matches were made.

Cast: Aisha Tyler (Host), Richard Cline Cunningham (Himself), Hawk Younkings (Himself), Tom Gottlieb (Voice Overs).

2663 50 Grand Slam. (Series; Game; NBC; 1976). Two players, knowledgeable in the same field, compete. Each is tested separately and the player who scores the highest total reaches the first plateau of $200. Seven additional plateaus remain ($500, $1,000, $2,000, $5,000, $10,000, $20,000 and $50,000 each). The player’s decision to stop or continue playing after achieving various plateaus determines his winnings. Failure to stop at the appropriate time could cost a player his earnings if he gives an incorrect answer and is not able to complete a plateau.

Host: Tom Kennedy. Announcer: John Harlan.

2664 The 54th Street Revue. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949–1950). A music and comedy revue, featuring new talent discoveries, from a studio on 54th Street in Manhattan (New York). The series ran from May 5, 1949 to March 25, 1950.

Host: Al Bernie, Billy Vine, Jack Sterling, Joey Faye. Regulars: Carl Reiner, Patricia Bright, Cliff Edwards, Marilyn Day, Russell Arms, Bambi Linn, Annabel Lyons, Joe Silver. Orchestra: Albert Selden, Harry Sosnik, Bill Scudder.

2665 Fight Back with David Horowitz. (Series; Advice; Syn.; 1980). The program, hosted by consumer advocate David Horowitz, tests advertised products and investigates questionable methods of pricing procedures that add needless amounts to consumer bills.

Host: David Horowitz.

2666 Fight Girls. (Series; Reality; Oxygen; 2006). Thai Boxing, the national sport of Thailand, is a dangerous form of martial arts (as serious injury can result in tournaments). But becoming a champion is worth the risk to a number of people. Here nine very attractive women that seek the championship title are assembled in Los Angeles. Cameras follow their experience as they train (for six weeks) under the guidance of a karate master for the chance of a lifetime: world champion Thai Boxer.

Karate Master: Master Toddy. The Women: Dawn Boyd, Jennifer Tate, Adra Hernandez, Lisa Mills, Felice Herrig, Michelle Waterson, Miriam Nakamoto, Gina Reyes, Kerry Vera.

2667 The Fighting Fitzgeralds. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2001). The Fitzgeralds appear to be a normal American family. They live on Long Island (New York) and the family consists of Pop, a widower, his grown sons Patrick, Jimmy and Terry; Jimmy's wife, Sophie and their young daughter, Marie. Pop (as he is called) lives with Jimmy and Sophie; Terry and Patrick constantly visit — and the endless arguments that ensue as Pop expresses his opinionated observations is the focal point of the series.

Pop was married for 40 years to Maggie and worked as a fireman for 37 years (with Fire Station 17). Terry works as a bartender at Gibson's Tavern; Patrick is a stockbroker (for Goldman and Sachi); Jimmy, the youngest, teaches at Valley West High School. Sophie is taking sociology courses at college; Marie is a public school kindergarten student (she also has nightmares about a monster under her bed; Sophie calls Pop "Mr. Fitz").

Cast: Brian Dennehy (Pop "Fitz" Fitzgerald), Connie Britton (Sophie Fitzgerald), Justin Louis (Jimmy Fitzgerald), Chris Moynihan (Terry Fitzgerald), Jon Patrick Walker (Patrick Fitzgerald), Abigail Mavity (Marie Fitzgerald).

2668 The Fighting Nightingales. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 1/16/78). A female version of *M*A*S*H* that focuses on a group of battle-weary nurses stationed at a field hospital in Korea during the war. Colonel H. Jonas Boyette is the commander; Kate is the head nurse; Angie, the street-smart nurse from Brooklyn; Hope, the ditsy model turned nurse; and Margaret, the by-the-books no nonsense nurse who objects to Kate's easy-going attitude.

Cast: Adrienne Barbeau (Major Kate Steele), Kenneth Mars (Colonel H. Jonas Boyette), Livia Genise (Lieutenant Angie Finelli), Erica Yohn (Captain Margaret "Irish" McCall), Stephanie Faracy (Lieutenant Hope Phillips), Randy Stumpf (Private Tyrone Valone), George Whiteman (Sergeant Barker). Guest Cast: Jerry Houser (Captain Jules Meyer), Rod McCary (Chaplain Billy Joe Lee), Jonathan Banks (Patient), Kim Kahana (Soldier).

2669 The Files of Jeffrey Jones. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1955). Jeffrey Jones is a confidential private detective based in New York City. Michelle "Mike" Malone is his girlfriend, a gutsy newspaper reporter. Jeffrey guarantees his clients results and keeps profiles as low as possible (his clients rarely want attention drawn to their cause). Michelle accompanies Jeffrey on his case investigations with the intent of acquiring stories for her paper. Michelle understands the need for privacy and reports the results focusing on the criminal rather than the victim (thus ensuring Jeffrey's guarantee).

Jeffrey is not one for violent confrontations. He likes to take things slow and easy, evaluating each situation before approaching it. Michelle is just the opposite. She wants the stories and she wants them now. Her impulsiveness often causes Jeffrey to become a man of action to not only save Michelle, but himself as well. Stories relate Jeffrey's case investigations, which often become complicated by Michelle's over eagerness.

Cast: Don Haggerty (Jeffrey Jones), Gloria Henry (Michelle "Mike" Malone).

2670 Filthy Rich. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1982–1983). The videotaped last will and testament of land baron Big Guy Beck and its effects on the wealthy, snobbish Beck family, and their poor relations, the Westchesters, is the focal point of the series. As stipulated in the will, both the bickering Becks and Westchesters must accept each other and live as one big happy family in Toad Hall (their mansion in Memphis, Tennessee) to inherit Big Guy's vast estate.

Other Regulars: Kathleen Beck, Big Guy's widow; Carlotta Beck, Big Guy's daughter-in-law; Marshall and Stanley Beck, Big Guy's sons; Wild Bill Westchester, Big Guy's illegitimate son; Bootsie Westchester; Bill's ditsy wife; Winona "Mother B" Beck, Big Guy's senile first wife; Rollin Feker, the grounds keeper; George Vilhoit; Big Guy's lawyer.

Cast: Slim Pickens (Big Guy Beck), Forrest Tucker (Big Guy Beck; later), Delta Burke (Kathleen Beck), Dixie Carter (Carlotta Beck), Michael Lombard (Marshall Beck), Charles Frank (Stanley Beck), Jerry Hardin (Wild Bill Westchester), Ann Wedgeworth (Bootsie Westchester), Nedra Volz (Winona Beck), Davis Roberts (Rollin Feker), Vernon Wodell (George Vilhoit). Theme Vocal: "Filthy Rich" by Bucky Jones, Ronnie McDowell.

2671 Finder of Lost Loves. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1984–1985). Cary and Kate Maxwell are a happily married couple. Though childless, they enjoy a good life: skiing in the Alps, swimming on the Riviera, sailing in the South Pacific. Kate's sudden death ends all that happiness and leaves a giant void in Cary's life. Finding that he cannot replace his love, Cary becomes a finder of lost loves and begins Maxwell, Ltd., a private detective organization that helps people who deeply love each other but who have drifted apart, find their loves again. Stories, which are sentimental in nature, follow Cary and his team as they reunite lost lovers.

Other Regulars: Daisy Lloyd, Kate's sister and Cary's partner; Rita Hargrove, their secretary; and investigators Brian Fletcher and Lyman Whitaker. Dionne Warwick and Luther Vandross sing the theme (composed by Burt Bacharach and Carole Bayer-Sager).

Cast: Tony Franciosa (Cary Maxwell), Deborah Adair (Daisy Lloyd), Anne Jeffreys (Rita Hargrove), Richard Kanter (Brian Fletcher), Larry Flash Jenkins (Lyman Whitaker).

2672 Finders Keepers. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Two teams, each composed of two children, compete. A picture with several camouflaged objects is revealed. A question is read that refers to an object. The first team to find the object wins $25 and the right to search one of four rooms that are displayed on stage. The team is allowed to tear the room apart in order to find a hidden object based on a clue read by the host. If the object is found within thirty seconds, they score $100; if not, the opposing team wins the money. Several such rounds are played and the team with the most wins gets to play the Room Romp. Here they search six rooms seeking six clues. If they find all six clues they win a selection of prizes.

Host: Larry Toffler. Announcer: Harry Stevens.

2673 A Fine Romance. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/20/83). The story of two opposites—Laura Prescott, a linguist, and Mike Selway, a landscape artist—who meet, fall in love, and begin an unlikely relationship. The pilot episode depicts how Laura and Mike first meet at a dinner party. Other Regulars: Helen, Laura's married sister; and Phil, Helen's husband.

Cast: Julie Kavner (Laura Prescott), Leo Burmester (Mike Selway), Kristen Meadows (Helen), Kevin Conroy (Phil). Guest Cast: Amy Wright (Jean), Jeffrey Jones (Harry), Bobbi Jo Lathan (Party guest). Theme Vocal: "A Fine Romance" by Julie Kavner, Leo Burmester.

2674 A Fine Romance. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1989). Louisa Phillips and Michael Trent were the co-hosts of a TV travel show called Ticket to Ride, which showcased enchanting and exciting places in and around Europe. They are now divorced. Michael has left the program and returned to teaching; Louisa is still with the show but is having a difficult time replacing Michael. She realizes that without Michael the show is doomed. In an attempt to get Michael back, Louisa unwittingly gets him involved in a wild misadventure that makes Michael realize that he misses the unpredictable life he had with Louisa and agrees to return as her co-host. Stories take a comedic look at the lives of two people who love and need each other but can't live with one another.

Other Regulars: George, Louisa's producer; and Friday, George's assistant.

Cast: Margaret Whitton (Louisa Phillips), Christopher Cazenove (Michael Trent), Ernie Sabella (George Shipman), Dinah Lenney (Friday).

2675 Fireball Fun for All. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). A weekly program of burlesque-style music, songs and comedy sketches hosted by the comedy team of Olsen and Johnson. The series ran from June 28, 1949 to October 27, 1949. Ezra Stone and Edward F. Cline are the producers.

Hosts: John "Ole" Olsen, Harold "Chick" Johnson. Regulars: Patricia Donahue, Marty May, June Johnson, Bill Hayes, J.C. Olsen, The Lynn Duddy Singers, The Buick Bells. Orchestra: Al Goodman, Charles Sanford.

2676 Fireball XL-5. (Series; Marionette Adventure; Syn.; 1962–1963). The series is set in the year 2067. In this futuristic time the World Space Patrol has been established and a fleet of XL spacecrafts patrol and protect Sector 25 of the solar system. Principal focus is on one ship, Fireball XL-5 and its crew: Steve Zodiak, Venus, Matthew Matic, Robert the Robot and Zoonie.

Steve Zodiak is a colonel and the pilot of Fireball XL-5. Venus is the ship's medical officer; Professor Matic is the scientific officer; Robert the Robot is the co-pilot, a transparent robot whose inner workings can be seen; and Zoonie is Venus's pet Lazoon (a creature that can mimic things). Commander Zero is based on Space City, the headquarters for the World Space Patrol, and is in charge of the Fireball missions. Lieutenant 90 assists him.

Voice Cast: Paul Maxwell (Steve Zodiak), Sylvia Anderson (Venus), David Graham (Prof. Matic/Lt. 90/Zoonie), John Bluthal (Commander Zero), Gerry Anderson (Robert the Robot).

2677 Fired Up. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997–1998). Gwen Leonard, an executive with a Manhattan public relations firm, and her long time personal assistant, Terry Reynolds, join forces and begin Fired Up, their own business venture (where each works on an equal footing), when they are laid off. Gwen and Terry conduct their business firm from their apartment on Dwayne Street over a restaurant-bar called Clockworks. Stories relate their efforts to run their new public relations firm.

Other Regulars: Danny, Terry's brother, an aspiring writer; and Guy Mann, the owner of Clockworks.

Cast: Sharon Lawrence (Gwen Leonard), Leah Remini (Terry Reynolds), Jonathan Banks (Guy Mann), Mark Feuerstein (Danny Reynolds), Francesca P. Roberts (Mrs. Francis), Mark Davis (Ashley Mann).

2678 Firefly. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 2002). The Serenity is a Firefly class transport vessel that roams a futuristic universe seeking to escape the grasp of the Union of Planets (governed by the Alliance) that was established after a bloody civil war. Malcolm Reynolds, called Mal, captains the ship and is in command of a group of renegades who fought against the Alliance (refusing to live under a controlled regime). They now live aboard the ship and seek jobs on the border planets that are just out of the reach of the Alliance.

Other members of the Serenity are Inara Serra, a high-priced prostitute from a society called Companion Gould, who has chosen to call herself the ship's Ambassador. River Tam is a beautiful psychic who can read minds; Simon Tam, River's brother, is the ship's doctor. Zoe is a soldier; Wash, Zoe's husband, is the ship's pilot; Kaylee is the ship's mechanic; Jayne is a mercenary; and Book is the Shepherd, a religious man.

Cast: Nathan Fillion (Malcolm Reynolds), Morena Baccarin (Inara Serra), Summer Glau (River Tam), Sean Maher (Dr. Simon Tam), Jewel Staite (Kaylee Lee "Kaylee" Frye), Gina Torres (Zoe Washburne), Alan Tudyk (Hoban "Wash" Washburne), Adam Baldwin (Jayne Cobb), Ron Glass (Shepherd Book).

2679 Firehouse. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 1/2/73). The pilot film for the series of the same title (ABC, 1974). while both the pilot and series depict the work of the fire fighters with Engine Company Number 23 of the Los Angeles County Fire Department, the pilot presents the original concept, which was dropped: the experiences of Shelly Forsythe, a rookie African American fireman, as he struggles to cross the color line in an all-white fire company.

Cast: Vince Edwards (Captain Spike Ryerson), Richard Roundtree (Fireman Shelly Forsythe), Andrew Duggan (Captain Parr), Richard Jaeckel (Fireman Hank Myers), Val Avery (Fireman Sonny Caputo), Paul LeMat (Fireman Billy Dalzell), Michael Lerner (Fireman Ernie Bush), Sheila Frazier (Michelle Forsythe, Shelly's wife). Note: In the series James Drury played Captain Ryerson; Brad David was Billy Dalzell; Michael Delano was Sonny Caputo; and the character of Shelly Forsythe was dropped.

2680 Firehouse. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1974). The work of the men of Engine Company Number 23 of the Los Angeles County Fire Department. Spike Ryerson is the Fire Captain; other firemen are listed in the cast. See also the prior title for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: James Drury (Capt. Spike Ryerson), Richard Jaeckel (Fireman Hank Myers), Michael Delano (Fireman Sonny Caputo), Bill Overton (Fireman Cal Dakin), Scott Smith (Fireman Scotty Smith), Brad David (Fireman Billy Dalzell).

2681 Fireside Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1949–1955). A series of filmed dramas featuring, in most cases, lesser-known personalities. The series is also known as Jane Wyman Presents the Fireside Theater (from 1955–1958; see this title for additional information). The series, which produced 268 episodes, ran from April 5, 1949 to August 23, 1955.

zak), John Kassir (Zagrebb), Leah Ayres (Jill Schrader), Alexa Hamilton (Irlene Kincaid), Valerie Landsburg (Anna Voytok), Shelley Morrison (Mama Voytok), Robert Costanzo (Jake the Bartender).

2685 First and Ten: The Championships. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1987). The final installment in a four series look at Diane Barrow, the owner of a rowdy football team called the California Bulls. Diane's adventures began in the series First and Ten when she acquired the team in a divorce settlement. Her mishaps continued in Training Camp: The Bulls Are Back and in First and Ten: Going for Broke wherein she acquired a partner (Ted Schrader) and with her team coach Ernie Dinardo, prepared for the 1987 football season. The Championships follows the Bulls as they head toward football's biggest goal: the Super Bowl.

Cast: Delta Burke (Diane Barrow), Reid Shelton (Ernie Dinardo), O.J. Simpson (T.D. Parker), Jason Beghe (Tom Yinessa), Tony Longo (Mad Dog), Jeff Kaake (Jamie Waldron), Prince Hughes (Bubba Kincaid), Marcus Allen (Jethro), Fred Grier (Stan Kamber), Gloria Gifford (Rhonda).

2686 The First Gentleman. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 8/27/94). Francis "Frank" Xavier Hennessey is a heroic Chicago policeman with the 11th Precinct. Marjorie Litchfield is the state treasurer and married to Frank. As the theme plays it is learned through photos that Marjorie was elected President of the United States. Male-female roles are reversed as Marjorie assumes the role of President and Frank, the role of Mr. First Gentleman. But he's no "First Lady"; he's unorthodox and would rather pursue police matters than social duties — and not embarrass the White House while doing it. In the pilot episode, Frank investigates the murder of Jenny Goodman, a girl who came to him with a cover up at the Greenpoint Waste Plant but was killed before she could turn over evidence to him.

Other Regulars: Arnold, Marjorie's office aide; Rosie, the P.R. lady; and Agent Sparkman, Frank's bodyguard.

Cast: Helen Shaver (Marjorie Litchfield), Kevin Dunn (Frank Hennessey), Ken Jenkins (Arnold Gengras), Meagan Fay (Rosie Duff), Duane Davis (Agent Sparkman). Guest Cast: Lisa Waltz (Jenny Goodman), Sam Gross (William Bracken), Stephen Flynn (Alan Hedges), Ben Stein (Coroner), Douglas Roberts (Paul Morraine), Stephen Lee (Inspector Padgett), Marilyn Rockafellow (Bess), Barbara Tarbuck (Annie), Warren Burton (Painter), Wesley Thompson (Larry), Elayn Taylor (Mrs. Carlisle).

2687 The First Hundred Years. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/27/62). Incidents in the life of Ben Duncan, a young engineering student who must work nights (in a supermarket) to support his family. In the pilot episode, a friend (Richard) tries to convince Ben to give up school and join him in the surplus goods business. Other Regulars: Connie, Ben's wife; and Dina, Richard's wife.

Cast: Roger Perry (Ben Duncan), Joyce Bulifant (Connie Duncan), Nick Adams (Richard Martin), Barbara Bostock (Dina Martin). Guest Cast: Barry McGuire (Buster Krause). Also: Elvia Allman, Aaron Kincaid, Orville Peterson, Charlotte Stewart.

Cast: Jimmy Lydon (Chris Thayer), Anne Sargent (Connie Thayer), Olive Stacey (Connie Thayer; later), Don Tobin (Mr. Thayer), Valerie Cassort (Mrs. Thayer), Robert Armstrong (Mr. Martin), Nana Bryant (Mrs. Martin). Also: Nancy Malone, Larry Haines, Cy Harris, Clark Morgan. Announcer: Cy Harris. Organist: Clark Morgan.

2689 First Impressions. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988). Frank Dutton, the divorced father of a nine-year-old daughter (Lindsay), is a talented voice impressionist. He lives in Omaha, Nebraska, and owns an ad agency called Media of Omaha. Frank uses his ability to impersonate famous people as a means by which to acquire clients (he promises them a famous voice for their radio spots). Stories follow Frank as he struggles to raise Lindsay and run his ad agency.

Other Regulars: Dave, Frank's partner; Raymond, the agency's sound engineer; and Donna, the agency receptionist. The series was originally titled Just You and Me. Harry Nilsson performs the theme vocal.

Cast: Brad Garrett (Frank Dutton), Brandy Gold (Lindsay Dutton), James Noble (Raymond Voss), Sarah Abrell (Donna Patterson), Thom Sharp (Dave).

2690 First Love. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1954–1955). Laurie and Zachary are childhood sweethearts who remained faithful to each other all their lives. When they felt the time is right they married. Stories relate their efforts to overcome the difficult first years of marriage.

Cast: Patricia Barry (Laurie James), Val DuFour (Zachary James), Frederic Downs (Quentin Andrews), Hal Currier (Sam Morrison), Henrietta Moore (Peggy Gordon), Joseph Warren (Phil Gordon), Scotty McGregor (Ruth Taylor), Henry Stanton (Wallace Grant), John Dutra (Mike Kennedy), Howard Smith (Judge Kennedy), Rita Fredericks (Priscilla Cummings), Alan Stevenson (Jim Taylor), Frankie Thomas, Jr. (Chris), Rosemary Prinz (Amy), Ray Brown, Jr. (Packy), Humphrey Davis (Chuck Gibson), Richard Keith (Wallace Grant), Melville Ruick (Paul Kennedy), Peggy Allenby (Doris Kennedy), Shirley O'Hara (Harriet), Harry Holcombe (Blair), Barbara Myers (Jennie), Paul McGrath (Matthew James), Court Benson (Jack Doyle), Nancy Pollock (Leona), Eric Dressler (Garth Brown), Bernard Lenrow (Garth Brown), Bob Courtleigh (David), Len Wyland (Phil), Carol Veazie (Mrs. Sherry), Peter Cookson (Tony), John Boruff (Captain Hunter), Jay Barney (Bruce McKee), Tod Andrews (Zach), Dean Harens (Davis), Augusta Roeland (Nina), Arthur Storch (John Sims), Harrison Dowd (Dr. Hughes), Patricia Wheel (Diane).

2692 First Person Singular. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1953). Dramatizations that incorporate the subjective camera, a technique developed by Fred Coe for the 1946 feature film Lady in the Lake. The television camera becomes the eyes of the characters; and an unseen actor or actress provides the voice and sets the emotional tone.

Among the stories presented: One Night Stand (a young man attempts to prove to his depressed father that he is a success as a jazz musician; stars James Dunn and Conrad Janis); Tears of My Sister (the story of a woman who is forced to marry a man she does not love; stars Kim Stanley and Lenka Peterson); I'd Rather Be a Squirrel (the story of a man who retreats to a tree when situations become difficult; stars Wally Cox); August Heat (a tale of a man who envisions his own doom; stars Francis L. Sullivan and Nelson Olmstead); and Comeback (an agent attempts to trick a fading but once glamorous actress into accepting a role she does not want; stars Jessie Royce Landis, Murray Hamilton and John Fletcher). The series aired from July 7, 1953 to September 11, 1953.

2693 First Time Out. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1995). Jackie Guerra, Dominique Costalano and Susan Gardner are best friends who live together in an apartment at 48 Beverly Boulevard in Beverly Hills. Jackie is the manager of a trendy hair salon called Tudor. Dominique is an assistant at Ventura Records; and Susan is a psychotherapist. Although the girls have strikingly different backgrounds, they get along with each other and that is what makes their relationship work. Stories follow each of the women as they face the pressures of their individual jobs.

Jackie is a woman who rarely took a chance on anything. She is a graduate of Yale and always played it safe. She felt comfortable being part of the crowd. While she did major in business at Yale, she settled for a non-demanding job in a comfortable situation (she feels “comfortable being comfortable”).

Dominique is very attractive and Jackie’s virtual opposite. She has a tough exterior and is quite demanding (she wants what she wants when she wants it). Her upbringing could account for her attitude: she is the fifth of five girls. Her father was hoping for a boy and she received the feminine name version of Dominick. Dominique always felt that in some way, she let her father down and being boyish tough was a way of giving him part of what he wanted.

Susan is also very attractive but worries about everything, especially that she is getting older and will not always be as appealing to men as she is right now. She is constantly pampering herself and is hoping that before she gets any older someone will invent something that will let her retain her beauty.

Jackie, Susan and Dominique frequent Tio’s Café. Nathan Fisk, Jackie’s friend, publishes a monthly magazine called Nathan, “The Prestigious Magazine for People Who Think Like Me” (he is proud of the fact that he came up with the idea of naming his magazine based on the backward spelling of his name). He also thinks he is a ladies’ man (but the ladies don’t).

Cast: Jackie Guerra (Herself), Leah Remini (Dominique Costalano), Mia Cottet (Susan Gardner), Craig Anton (Nathan Fisk).

2694 First Time, Second Time. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 10/25/80). The story of Doug Fitzpatrick, a think-tank management executive whose professional and personal worlds merge to cause unusual and insoluble problems. In the pilot episode, Doug seeks a way to cope with his son, David’s inability to accept Karen (Doug’s new wife) as his stepmother.

Other Regulars: Joan, Doug’s associate; Jhampur, the deposed Central Asia minister who resides with Doug; and Edison, Doug’s dog.

2695 First Wave. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 1998–2001). In the year 1564 Nostradamus predicted the destruction of the earth in three terrifying waves by aliens called the Gua. In 1998 Lawrence Kincaide Foster, called Cade, a former thief turned security specialist, stumbles upon a secret cult of aliens that are conducting experiments among humans as the first wave of an invasion of the planet Earth.

The Gua are an alien race from a planet far older than Earth. Being older, their planet is dying and the Gua need a new home to survive. They have chosen Earth.

It is not known what the true physical appearance of the Gua is. They have taken on human appearances and have assimilated themselves into society. The Gua have been transported to Earth in specially engineered “human husks” that contain their DNA and endow them with special abilities.

“Crazy” Eddie Nambulous is a computer whiz who writes the Internet tabloid Paranoid Times. He is a friend of Cade’s and a believer who is attempting to unravel the mysteries of the Nostradamus Prophecies. When put through a computer analysis, the Prophecies yield clues that enable Cade and Eddie to battle the Gua. It is, however, when they meet and befriend an actual Gua (Joshua) that they learn a second wave is imminent — the Invasion. Although a Gua, Joshua does not believe enslaving the Earth is necessary. He wants the best for his people and believes there are more feasible ways to accomplish that goal. He now joins them and stories follow their efforts to derail the alien’s plans by using Nostradamus’s Prophecies as a guide.

2696 The First Year. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 1/13/46). A television adaptation of the 1920 Broadway show about the struggles of a young couple during the first year of marriage.

Cast: Grace Livingston (Wife), Michael Road (Husband), W.O. McWatters (Wife’s uncle). Also: Fay Ball, Lester Chambers, Ruby Dee, John Harvey, Suzanne Jackson, Ralph Riggs, Virginia Smith.

2697 Fish. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1977–1978). Phil Fish, a retired police sergeant, and his wife, Bernice, are part of a social services department project designed to help troubled kids (abandoned or orphaned) find a decent home life. Despite the fact that Phil hates kids (“They make me nervous”), Bernice convinces him to take the job (“Living with these children will make us young again”).

They are given a group home at 316 Chambers Street in Brooklyn, New York, and assigned to care for five wise-cracking kids from the Children’s Center: Jilly, Diane, Mike, Victor and Loomis. They are also assigned an associate host parent named Charlie Harrison to help care for the kids.

"Phil's digestion is not so good," so he eats cottage cheese; he finds caring for the kids a royal pain — but he made a commitment "and will stick by it." Phil and Bernice have been married for 40 years. They have kids (who are not seen but are mentioned in the pilot), and they previously lived in an apartment at 46 Fulton Street in Brooklyn. Phil, with the N.Y.P.D. for 38 years, was with the 12th Precinct in Manhattan before he retired (at age 62). Charlie, who is 27 years old, is studying for his doctorate in child psychology at N.Y.U. In later episodes, a sixth delinquent kid named Manuel is brought on to try Phil's patience.

Bernice calls Phil "Fish" and looks upon the kids as her own children. The series is a spin-off from "Barney Miller." Jack Elliott and Allyn Ferguson composed the theme. See also Fish and Bernice.

2698 Fish and Bernice. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 12/4/75). A proposed spin-off from Barney Miller that was to focus on the activities of Detective Phil Fish, his wife, Bernice, and their daughter, Beverly. This version did not sell, but a series called Fish (see prior title) did occur when the story was revised to focus only on Phil and his wife, Bernice, as the host parents to a group of five street-smart kids for the Social Services Center in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Cast: Abe Vigoda (Phil Fish), Doris Belack (Bernice Fish), Emily Levine (Beverly Fish). Note: Florence Stanley played the role of Bernice in the series.

2699 Fish Police. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1992). An animated prime time series that is set in the underwater metropolis of Fish City. Inspector Gil, a good cop in a bad town ("I'm a cop who's a carp") patrols Fish City, "a crime-ridden, polluted underwater city and a lousy place to live." The city's newspaper is the Ancient Mariner; Fort Lox is the treasury; Haddica is its prison; and Weenie King Hot Dogs is the fast food establishment.

Gil's favorite color is red, but he wears nothing but beige. His favorite eatery is Pearl's Diner, and The Shell Shack is his watering hole. Gil takes his coffee black, with a side order of cream and sugar.

Angel Jones is the voluptuous singer at The Shell Shack. Angel, called "Chick of the Sea," once worked for Gil "as a sort of a fish Friday." She speaks 18 languages and won the thirty-third annual "Miss Fish City Pageant."

Pearl is the owner of Pearl's Diner. She has a crush on Gil and calls Angel's breasts "those babies." Pearl named a special after Gil: The Inspector Gil (corn flakes and coffee).

Chief Abalone, badge number 5, is Gil's boss; Detective Crabby is Gil's partner; Detective Catfish is the undercover cop; and Calamara is the evil owner of The Shell Shack. James Horner composed the "Fish Police" theme.

Voice Cast: John Ritter (Inspector Gil), JoBeth Williams (Angel Jones), Megan Mullally (Pearl), Edward Asner (Chief Abalone), Buddy Hackett (Detective Crabby), Robert Guillaume (Detective Catfish), Georgia Browne (Goldie), Hector Elizondo (Calamara), Charlie Schlatter (Tadpole), Frank Welker (Muscles Mariara), Jonathan Winters (Mayor Cod).

2700 Fisherman's Wharf. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/1/81). In Sicily in 1910, a feud began between two fishing families — the Barberas and the Funuccis. Grandpa Funucci accused Grandpa Barbera of running his boat over his $35 toe line and breaking it. Grandpa Barbera claimed that Grandpa Funucci was so intoxicated that he ran over his own toe line and broke it. Neither side was willing to admit fault and for the past 71 years both families have held a grudge that now extends to America (San Francisco) where the two families live side by side.

The Barbera family (Vince; his divorced sister, Nina; his brother, Johnny; and Nina's son, Michael) operate a fishing boat called the Taj Mahal; and the Funucci family (Tony, a widower; his son, Tom; and Tony's father Pa Funucci) operate the fishing boat Quite a Lady. The unsold series was to relate incidents in the lives of both families. In the pilot episode, Nina tries to find a way to tell Vince that she is going to marry a Funucci (Tom).

Other Regulars: Muldoon, owner of the local saloon; Laverne, his waitress; and Elaine, his wife.

2701 Fit for a King. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/11/82). Braeland is a modern but mythical European kingdom. It is ruled by King Alfred and Queen Mary Ella. They are the parents of Princess Nicole, Prince Maximilian and the Crown Prince Conrad. The unsold series was to relate the problems that befall a royal family. In the pilot episode, Alfred and Mary Ella attempt to break up the naive Conrad's romance with Sandra Bacon, a beautiful American socialite who plans to use Conrad as a ploy to gain a royal title.

Other Regulars: The Grand Duchess Edwina, Alfred's sister; Lord Dupree, the prime minister; and Victor, their servant.

Cast: Dick Van Patten (King Alfred), Katherine

Helmond (Queen Mary Ella), Talia Balsam (Princess Nicole), Adam Redfied (Prince Conrad), Todd Waring (Prince Maximilian), Maxine Stuart (Duchess Edwina), Leonard Frey (Lord Dupree), Gregory Brown (Victor). Guest Cast: Audrey Landers (Sandra Bacon), Virginia Cook (Servant), James Elhardt (Reporter), Bruce Winet (Servant).

Terri Seymour is the news director of Ryan's show, Newsline 3. Rosie Cochran is a lieutenant with the San Francisco Police Department; Robert "Whitey" Whitmore is the KSFB station manager; Lawrence Brody is the rival newsman (at KTJ-TV, Channel 9); Miss Tucker is Terri's secretary; Sergeant Charlie Wright is Rosie's aide; Murphy is the bartender at Murphy's Bar, the hangout; Judy Fong is the KSFB announcer; Susan is Brody's information man; Monty is the videotape editor; Mel Bishop is the co-anchor of Newsline 3.

2703 The Fitzpatricks. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1977–1978). Events in the lives of the Fitzpatricks, an Irish-Catholic family of six living in Flint, Michigan. Mike is the father, a steel mill worker. He is married to Maggie and they are the parents of Maureen, Jack, Max and Sean. Kerry Gerardi is Jack's friend; R.J. is Max's friend.

Cast: Bert Kramer (Mike Fitzpatrick), Mariclare Costello (Maggie Fitzpatrick), Michele Tobin (Maureen Fitzpatrick), James Vincent McNichol (Jack Fitzpatrick), Sean Marshall (Max Fitzpatrick), Clark Brandon (Sean Fitzpatrick), Helen Hunt (Kerry Gerardi), Derek Wells (R.J.).

2704 Five Fingers. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1959–1960). Wembley and Sebastian Ltd., office number 2318 (of an unidentified building) is a European-based theatrical agency that handles clients in Paris, New York and London. It is also the front for a U.S. government counterintelligence agency. Victor Sebastian is a U.S. government secret agent who operates under the code name "Five Fingers" and poses as a theatrical agent. Simone Genet is his assistant; she poses as his client, a nightclub singer (she was born in France and loves roses). "Robbie" Robertson is their American contact; and Wembley is their superior (he tends to the agency while Victor and Simone are out on assignments). David Raksin composed the "Five Fingers" theme.

Cast: David Hedison (Victor Sebastian), Luciana Paluzzi (Simone Genet), Paul Burke ("Robbie" Robinson), Charles Napier (Wembley).

2705 The Five Mrs. Buchanans. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1994–1995). The small town of Mercy, Indiana, is home to "Mother" Emma Buchanan, her three daughters-in-law, Alexandra, Delilah and Vivian, and Bree Larson, a soon-to-become Mrs. Buchanan.

Emma is a 70-year-old meddling mother-in-law. When her sons (Ed, Jessie, Roy and Charles) were young, their father ran off with another woman, leaving Emma to raise them alone. She did what it took to keep the family going. She put her sons through college and never complained. "The woman would qualify for sainthood if it were not for one little thing" says Alexandra, "she's a bitch." Emma's pride and joy is her hand painted nativity-scene figurines.

Alexandra (called Alex) is Jewish and originally from New York City (where, in 1974, she was arrested and spent a weekend in jail for streaking in Central Park). She has been married to Roy for 19 years. Alex claims "a Buchanan marriage is not easy — especially when you're married to a Buchanan boy and his mother." Alex's maiden name is Isackson and she attended the all-male Parkins College (in 1974 she protested the admission policy and was allowed to attend). She and Delilah own Buchanan's Antiques and Collectibles.

Delilah is a blonde, busty bombshell who developed in the fourth grade and has always been popular with boys. She posed nude for Playpen magazine and worked as a stripper in Corpus Christi, Texas. When she met her Buchanan — Charles, a minister on a crusade to close strip joints — he said "Repent sinner" and fell in love with Delilah; they have been married for six years.

Vivian is straight-laced and has been married to Ed for eight years (he runs the Buchanan Used Car Lot). She is rich, doesn't work and is the assistant beverage lady of the Ladies' Auxiliary. She has two extremely mischievous but never-seen children, twins Leonard and P.J.

Bree attended Louisiana High School and is engaged to Jessie (who works for Ed at the car lot). As a kid Bree had a teddy bear named Waddles; her pride and joy was a Malibu Missy doll and her friend Skip. Bree met Jessie at Disneyland (where she worked as Cinderella in the Flights of Fantasy Parade, the Minnie Mouse Parade and the Go Go Goofy Parade). Bree's mother, Frances "Tink" Larson, played Tinkerbelle in Disney parades for 19 years until she got "fairly burnout" and now works in a shed behind Space Mountain sewing name tags on Mickey Mouse ears.

Stories relate the adventures of the Buchanan women as they struggle to cope with Emma and live happy lives with her sons.

Cast: Eileen Heckart (Emma Buchanan), Judith Ivey (Alexandra Buchanan), Beth Broderick (Delilah Buchanan), Harriet Sansom Harris (Vivian Buchanan), Charlotte Ross (Bree Larson), John Getz (Roy Buchanan), Paul Johansson (Jessie Buchanan), Jean Kasem (Frances "Tink" Larson).

2706 Five Star Comedy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1957). A five-week series, geared to children, that features a different host (and format) each week. The series ran from May 18, 1957 to June 15, 1957.

Hosts: Ben Blue, Jerry Colonna, Olsen and Johnson, Senor Wences, Paul Winchell.

2707 Five Star Jubilee. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1961). The program spotlights performances by country and western entertainers. The series ran from May 17, 1961 to September 22, 1961.

Host: Rex Allen, Tex Ritter, Carl Smith, Jimmy Wakeley, Snooky Lanson. Regulars: The Promenades, The Jubilaires. Announcer: Joe Slattery. Music: Slim Wilson and His Jubilee Band.

2708 5 Up, 2 Down. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/5/91). Nick and Angie Tyler are a young married couple who are expecting their first child. When the big day arrives and Angie gives birth — it is to triplets and the unsold series was to relate their efforts to raise three children (Sophie, Lisa and Joey) with a little help from Nick's father, Sam, and Angie's mother, Daffy. (Nick is a medical school student; Angie owns a flower shop.)

Cast: Jeffrey D. Sams (Nick Tyler), Jackie Mari Roberts (Angie Tyler), Cleavon Little (Sam Tyler), Emily Yancy (Daffy).

2709 The Flagstones. (Test footage; Cartoon; Produced in 1960). The Flagstones was the original title producers William Hanna and Joseph Barbera chose to call their story about a cave family after experimenting with several different concepts (making the characters pilgrims and hillbillies). After the test footage was shot, the title became The Flintstones. The Flagstones was a proposed series about two cave families: Fred and Wilma Flagstone and their neighbors, Barney and Betty Rubble. The test footage concerns Fred's attempts to enjoy his new backyard swimming pool despite Barney's shenanigans with his scuba outfit and spear (the sequence was reshot and used in episode three of the series). The test footage aired 5/7/94 on the Cartoon Network; 5/8/94 on Fox.

Voices: Daws Butler (Fred and Barney), Jean VanderPyl (Wilma and Betty).

2710 Flambards. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1980). The series, set in England during World War I, follows the life of Christina Russell, a teenage orphan who comes to live with her tyrannical uncle at Flambards, his dreary and decaying estate. Adapted from the books by K.M. Pyton.

Cast: Christine McKenna (Christina Russell), Edward Judd (Mr. Russell), Steven Grives (Mark Russell), Alan Parnaby (William Russell), Gillian Davey (Violet), Rosalie Williams (Mary), Sebastian Abineri (Dick), Carol Leader (Dorothy), Gwynne Gray (Jessica), Olive Pendleton (Grace). Narrator: Joan Friedman.

2711 Flame in the Wind. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1964–1965). The 1964–1965 (December 28, 1964 to July 2, 1965) title for what later became A Time for Us (July 5, 1965 to December 16, 1966). See this title for information.

2712 The Flame Trees of Thika. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1982). A seven-part British series set in Kenya, East Africa, in pre-World War I that follows the experiences of the Grants, an English family intent on starting a coffee plantation. Tilly and Robin Grant are the ambitious parents; Elspeth is their daughter. Lattice and her husband Ian are their neighbors; Sammy is Robin's right-hand man; Mrs. Nimmo is Tilly's friend; Roos is the hunter.

Cast: Hayley Mills (Tilly Grant), David Robb (Robin Grant), Holly Aird (Elspeth Grant), Sharon Mughan (Letice Hereward), Nicholas Jones (Ian Hereward), Steve Mwenesi (Sammy), Carol Macready (Mrs. Nimmo), Morgan Shepherd (Roos).

2713 The Flamingo Kid. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/11/89). Jeffrey Willis is a 16-year-old Brooklyn youth who to please his hardworking father (Arthur) gets a job as a Cabana Boy at the El Flamingo, a beach club on Long Island in New York. There he meets Phil Brody, an automobile salesman whose flamboyant philosophy — to squeeze as much fun out of every moment as possible — impresses Jeffrey, so much so, that he begins to widen his outlook on life. Soon Jeffrey is torn between two fathers: one who is rooted in the world of the blue collar worker; and one who lives life to the fullest. The unsold series, adapted from the 1984 feature film of the same title, was to focus on Jeffrey as he moves toward adulthood.

Other Regulars: Ruth, Jeffrey's mother; Nikki, his sister; Hawk, his friend; and Gus, the club's social director.

Cast: Sasha Mitchell (Jeffrey Willis), Dan Hedaya (Arthur Willis), Carol Locatell (Ruth Willis), Lauri Hendler (Nikki Willis), Todd Graff (Hawk), Jerry Orbach (Phil Brody), George De La Pena (Gus DeLeon). Guest Cast: Patricia McCormack (Mrs. Brody), Carmine Caridi (Harvey), Kellie Martin (Lauren Brody), Taryn Smith (Ellen Brody), Madelyn Gates (Mrs. Gaskin), Myra Turley (Chicken Fat Lady), Robert Costanzo (Angry man), Jill Klein (Angry man's wife).

2714 Flamingo Road. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1981–1982). Events in the lives of the Weldons, a wealthy Florida family whose lives are corrupted by power and greed. The Weldons live in Truro County and stories are presented in a serial like format.

Titus Semple is the corrupt sheriff; Claude Weldon is the paper mill owner. He is married to Eudora and they are the parents of Constance. Lute Mae Saunders is the owner of the brothel, Lute Mae's; Lane Ballou is a singer at Lute Mae's. Fielding Carlyle is the deputy sheriff (later a senator who marries Constance).

Sam Curtis is the owner of the Samuel Curtis Construction Company; Skip Temple is Titus's son. Elmo Tyson is the publisher of The Clarion, the town newspaper. Jasper is the Weldon's butler; Michael Tyrone is the ruthless tycoon.

Sande Swanson is the magazine reporter for Tallahassee Today. Alicia Sanchez is Skip's girlfriend; Charlie Banks is Lane's father. Julio Sanchez is Alicia's brother; Louise Stone is Claude's efficiency expert. Vanessa Curtis is Sam's ex-wife. Christie Kovacs is the scheming girl seeking to marry into money; Alice Kovacs is Christie's sister.

Beth MacDonald is a waitress at Lute Mae's; Paul is Lute's bartender; Deputy Tyler assists Titus; Slade is the hit man Titus hires to kill Lane. Harrison Brand is the mysterious man from Lane's past. Tony is Christie's boyfriend; Tina is a waitress at Lute Mae's; Frank Coyne is Brand's information man.

Cast: Howard Duff (Titus Semple), Kevin McCarthy (Claude Weldon), Barbara Rush (Eudora Weldon), Morgan Fairchild (Constance Weldon), Stella Stevens (Lute Mae Saunders), Cristina Raines (Lane Ballou), Mark Harmon (Fielding Carlyle), John Beck (Sam Curtis), Woody Brown (Skip Temple), Peter Donat (Elmo Tyson), Glenn Richards (Jasper), David Selby (Michael Tyrone), Cynthia Sikes (Sande Swanson), Gina Gallego (Alicia Sanchez), William Windom (Charlie Banks), Fernando Allende (Julio Sanchez), Beverly Garland (Louise Stone), Stacy Keach, Sr. (Senator Porter), Trisha Noble (Vanessa Curtis), Andra Akers (Vanessa Curtis; later), Denise Galik (Christie Kovacs), Marcia Rodd (Alice Kovacs), Sandra Kearns (Beth MacDonald), Ed Hooks (Paul), John Shearin (Deputy Tyler), Michael Baseleon (Slade), Charles Cioffi (Harrison Brand), Joel Bailey (Tony), Marte Boyle Slout (Tina), Myra Chason (Lute Mae's Prostitute), Pat Colbert (Lute Mae's Prostitute), Michael Delano (Frank Coyne).

2715 Flannery and Quilt. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/1/76). At 365 West 73rd Street in Manhattan live Lucas "Luke" Flattery and Samuel Quilt, two senior citizens who can't seem to agree on anything. Luke is a talkative, easy-going ex-cabbie and Samuel is a quiet and stubborn calligrapher; the unsold series was to relate their "Odd Couple"-like bickering as they attempt to share an apartment.

Other Regulars: Rose, Samuel's married daughter; Kevin, Rose's husband; and Adam, Luke's son.

Cast: Red Buttons (Luke Flannery), Harold Gould (Samuel Quilt), Pat Finley (Rose Caselli), Howard Storm (Kevin Caselli), Michael Lembeck (Adam Flannery).

2716 The Flash. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1990–1991). Barry Allen, a chemist for the Central City Police Department, is working in the lab when a bolt of lightning from a fierce electrical storm strikes a shelf of chemicals. Barry is doused with various highly volatile chemicals and taken to Central City Hospital. Tests are done and the data sent to Star Labs, a government research unit. There, scientist Tina McGee becomes intrigued by the results.

Barry learns from Tina that all his systems have been accelerated and that his muscle and bone tissue is changing to keep the pace. Further tests reveal that Barry is capable of fantastic speeds. Tina estimates that he is capable of speeds up to 620 mph and of causing sonic booms. However, because of the fantastic amount of energy he uses, Barry needs to consume enormous amounts of food to sustain himself.

With a growing crime problem in Central City, Barry decides to use his power of speed to battle evil. Tina, who fears the government will want to study Barry, decides to keep his secret and help him. To control and regulate Barry's body temperature, Tina adapts a prototype red friction Soviet-made deep sea suit as a costume for him. She builds sensors into the suit (to monitor him), makes a red hood (to conceal his identity), gloves (so he can't leave fingerprints) and a symbol: a bolt of lightning (so villains will have something to fear). Stories relate Barry's efforts to battle crime as the Flash.

Tina lives at 1530 South Street. She is a widow (her late husband was named David), and she follows Barry (as the Flash) in a Star Labs 05 Field Truck.

The only other people who know the Flash's true identity are: Megan Lockhart, a private detective who uncovered his identity and promised to keep it a secret; Reggie, the blind newsstand operator who recognized Barry's voice as that of the Flash; and Desmond Powell, a doctor at Central City Hospital (a.k.a. County Hospital).

In 1955, Desmond was Central City's first masked crime fighter — the Night Shade. He rode in a black car, wore a black costume and used "tranq bullets" (tranquilizer darts) as his weapon. Because of his age, he had to put Night Shade to rest; he is now chief of staff at the hospital.

Relatives: M. Emmet Walsh (Barry's father, Henry Allen; he was a cop for 41 years), Patrie Allen (Barry's mother, Eve Allen), Tim Thomerson (Barry's brother, Jay Allen), Justin Burnette (Barry's nephew, Shawn Allen), Carolyn Seymour (Tina's mother, Jocelyn Weller).

Cast: John Wesley Shipp (Barry Allen), Amanda Pays (Tina McGee), Joyce Hyser (Megan Lockhart), Robert Shayne (Reggie), Jason Bernard (Desmond Powell).

2717 Flash Forward. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1996). Tucker James and Rebecca Fisher are two 13-year-olds who have been best friends since they were toddlers. They live next-door to each other, have the same birthday and have faced all the traumas of childhood together. Now they face their biggest challenge: the eighth grade.

Tucker is a bit absent-minded; Rebecca, called Becca, is very opinionated and in a hurry to grow up. The main characters also speak directly to the audience to relate incidents from their earlier years — when growing up was so much easier. Stories follow the events that spark misadventure in their daily lives.

Horace and Callie are Tucker's parents; Ken is his brother; Bryan is Rebecca's father; Ellen is her older sister.

Cast: Ben Foster (Tucker James), Jewel Staitte (Rebecca Fisher), Ricky Mabe (Horace James), Larry Mannell (Ken James), Ellen-Ray Hennessy (Callie James), Mark Melymick (Bryan Fisher), Rachel Blanchard (Ellen Fisher), Robin Brule (Ellen Fisher; later), Jennifer Pisane (Rebecca; age 5), Marc Donato (Tucker; age 5), Asia Vieira (Christine Harrison), Stuart Stone (Jack Debbens), Maia Filar (Abbie Lee Cooper), Melodie Johnson (Maxine Morrow), Matthew Lemche (Roland Nembhard), Don Dickinson (Coach Petrowski), Corinne Conley (Miss Pratt), Caley Wilson (Gooch the Pizza Maker).

2718 Flash Gordon. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1953). The G.B.I. (Galactic Bureau of Investigation) is a 22nd century organization that protects the members of the United Planets from alien invaders. Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Venus and Neptune are mentioned members of the alliance, while planets such as Thor, Eben, Diana, Oden and Zerkes are its enemies. Eben is said to pose the biggest threat as it is closest to Earth and only negative gravity protects the Earth from Eben. Commander Paul Richards heads the G.B.I. Flash Gordon, the son of a famous scientist, is its chief operative. Dr. Alexis Zarkov is the agency's chief scientist (inventor of negative gravity) and Dale Arden is his assistant, a scientist almost as brilliant as he. While Dr. Zarkov and Dale always assist Flash on assignments, Dr. Zarkov is always the last one to know what is happening "because my work at my mountain lab keeps me out of touch with what is going on."

Flash, who wears a T-shirt with a lightning bolt on the front, originally had a rocket ship called the Sky Flash. When it was destroyed in a battle, he had the Sky Flash II (Casey the parrot is its mascot).

Although the series is based on the comic strip by Alex Raymond, it differs greatly from the 1936 theatrical serial Flash Gordon. As originally depicted in the film, Flash Gordon (Buster Crabbe) was the athletic son of Professor Gordon, a world renowned scientist. He had no special powers and belonged to no organization. Steve Holland (TV's Flash Gordon) was like Buster Crabbe, physically right for the role.

Dale Arden (Jean Rogers) was beautiful and sexy; she was not a scientist and always in harm's way. Jean, as Dale, was incapable of defending herself and relied on Flash to save her. Irene Champlin (TV's Dale Arden) was not as pretty as Jean Rogers and immediately strikes one as being too old for the part. Irene had dark hair (not blonde like Jean) and differed in the fact that she could defend herself and would jump into harm's way to help someone (Flash and Dr. Zarkov often had to restrain her from getting herself killed). Unlike Jean Rogers, whose character meant dangerous rescue missions for Flash, Irene's Dale was a quick thinker and often saved the trio from perishing.

Television's Dr. Zarkov (Joseph Nash) was thinner and younger than one would imagine for one who accomplished so much. In 1936, Dr. Zarkov (Frank Shannon) was somewhat older, a bit heavier and was said to have invented Earth's first rocket ship (which he, Flash and Dale used to travel to the planet Mongo to stop Ming the Merciless from destroying the Earth). The television series was filmed in West Berlin (on a rather cheap budget); Kurt Heuser composed the theme.

Cast: Steve Holland (Flash Gordon), Irene Champlin (Dale Arden), Joseph Nash (Dr. Zarkov), Henry Beckman (Paul Richards).

2719 Flash Gordon. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1979–1983). An animated adaptation of the comic strip by Alex Raymond that finds Flash Gordon, the son of a famous scientist, struggling to protect the universe from the evils of Ming the Merciless, the diabolical ruler of the planet Mongo. Based on the comic strip by Alex Raymond. See also Flash Gordon—The Greatest Adventure of All for information on the series pilot film.

Other Regulars: Dale Arden, Flash's girlfriend; Dr. Hans Zarkov, the brilliant Earth scientist; Princess Aura, Ming's daughter; Thun, leader of the Lion People; Prince Barin, ruler of the planet

Aborea; Queen Fria, ruler of the planet Fridgia; Vultan, king of the Hawk Men.

2721 Flash Gordon. (Series; Adventure; Sci Fi; 2007–). An updated version of the “Flash Gordon” characters created by Alex Raymond. Stephen Gordon, nicknamed Flash by his father for his ability to run fast, is a triple marathon winner and works with his friend, Nick, as a custom car restorer. Dale Arden is Flash’s former high school sweetheart, who now works as an investigate reporter for WIAD-TV, Channel 4.

As Flash enjoys life on Earth, sinister happenings are occurring on the planet Mongo. Its evil leader, Ming, has dispensed an alien bounty hunter to Earth to find Flash and retrieve a device created by Flash’s father, Lawrence, called an I-Mex (which contains all the knowledge of the universe). Flash is unaware of the I-Mex and believes his father, a physics professor at the local university, perished in a lab fire when he was 13 years old.

Ten years earlier, Lawrence and his assistant, Dr. Hans Zarkov, began work on a secret project called the Fortage Initiative. During an experiment with gravity, Professor Gordon created a mysterious space rift. Gordon was pulled through the rift and disappeared. To cover up Gordon’s mysterious disappearance, a lab fire was reported.

While not shown, Professor Gordon was transported to Mongo and captured by Ming. Ming used a mind-altering device to learn about the I-Mex, something he now needs to conquer the universe. It is not explained why Ming waited so many years to retrieve it. Professor Gordon hid the I-Mex in his Timex wristwatch and placed it in a box in his closet — where it has remained untouched.

When the alien Ming dispatched to Earth becomes known, Dale, accompanied by Flash, begins an investigation. They come in contact with Dr. Zarkov, who has also been tracking the alien. To condense a long series of events, Flash learns from Zarkov what really happened to his father. When the three find the alien, they learn about the I-Mex but are forced to destroy the alien when it turns hostile. Amid the remains Flash finds his father’s driver’s license and a device for opening a space rift. Flash now believes his father is alive.

Flash and Dale activate the space rift and are drawn in and transported to Mongo. They are imprisoned but helped by Ming’s daughter, Princess Aura. Aura needs to show her father she is more than just a pretty face and helps Flash and Dale return to Earth. Ming is furious and dispatches Baylin, a female bounty hunter to retrieve his daughter and the I-Mex (in later episodes Baylin becomes an assistant to Flash, Dale and Dr. Zarkov).

At his home, Flashes searches through his father’s belongings and finds the I-Mex — just as Baylin finds him and Aura. A struggle ensues and Flash manages to grab Aura’s ray gun. He takes his own watch from his pocket and destroys it, claiming he has just destroyed the I-Mex. Aura and Baylin believe him. Aura manages to open a space rift and escape — but the rift closes before Baylin can enter it. Baylin is now trapped on Earth; and only Flash, Dale and Dr. Zarkov know the I-Mex still exists (it is said that the I-Mex contains an alien chip; it is not explained how Professor Gordon acquired the chip or how Ming knew about it).

Flash is now on a double mission: find his father, whom he believes is somewhere on Mongo, and stop Ming from conquering the universe. Stories follow his, Dale and Zarkov’s efforts.

2722 Flash Gordon — The Greatest Adventure of All. (Pilot; Cartoon; NBC; 8/21/83). The pilot film for Flash Gordon (NBC, 1979–83). In Warsaw, Poland (in 1939), Olympic gold medalist Flash Gordon receives a cryptic one-word message — Mongo — from a dying scientist with instructions to find Dr. Hans Zarkov, a brilliant scientist.

While searching, Flash meets and befriends Dale Arden, a reporter seeking Zarkov for an interview. Suddenly, the plane on which they are traveling is bombarded by meteors from an unknown source. With only one parachute between them, Flash and Dale jump — and are rescued by the man they both seek — Dr. Zarkov.

When Flash tells Zarkov about Mongo, he learns its meaning: Mongo is a warring planet moving closer to Earth and threatening to destroy it. When Zarkov tells Flash and Dale that he is planning to travel to Mongo to stop its leader, Ming the Merciless, from destroying Earth, both Flash and Dale agree to accompany him. The pilot depicts the trio's encounter with Ming and their attempts to overthrow him and stop his conquest of the Earth.

Billed as "The first full-length adult animated space fantasy ever produced for television." Filmed in 1979. Other Regulars: Princess Aura, Ming's daughter; Thun, leader of the Lion People; Prince Barin, ruler of Aborea; and Vultan, King of the Hawkmen.

Voice Cast: Robert Ridgely (Flash Gordon), Diane Pershing (Dale Arden), David Opatoshu (Dr. Hans Zarkov), Bob Holt (Ming), Melendy Britt (Princess Aura), Ted Cassidy (Thun), Robert Douglas (Prince Barin), Vic Perrin (Vultan).

2723 Flatbed Annie and Sweetiepie: Lady Truckers. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 2/10/79). Flatbed Annie is a rough and tumble lady trucker; Ginny LaRosa, nicknamed "Sweetiepie," is a rather naive newcomer to the trucking game. The girls are partners and drive a 1978 blue and white Sturdy Built Superliner. The unsold series was to relate their trucking adventures. The pilot episode relates their efforts to save Ginny's husband's near-bankrupt trucking firm from C.W. Douglas, a persistent bill collector who seeks to repossess their rig. Other Regulars: Jack, Ginny's husband; and Ginny's Uncle Wally.

Cast: Annie Potts (Flatbed Annie), Kim Darby (Ginny LaRosa), Fred Willard (Jack LaRosa), Arthur Godfrey (Uncle Wally), Harry Dean Stanton (C.W. Douglas). Guest Cast: Avery Schreiber (Mr. Munroe), Billy Carter (Deputy Miller), Rory Calhoun (Farmer), Rance Howard (Mr. Murray), Julie Mannix (Georgina), Don Pike (Al). Theme Vocal: "Flatbed Annie and Sweetiepie" by Marshall Chapman.

2724 Flatbush. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979). The Fungos are a wild, unpredictable and close-knit street gang living in Flatbush, Brooklyn, New York. Presto, Socks, Turtle, Joey Dee and Figgy comprise the gang and stories relate their "exploits" as they find more misadventure than excitement being "the toughs" of the neighborhood. Mrs. Fortunato is the cantankerous old woman who feels her life is plagued by the gang (she is their most feared enemy); Mr. Esposito is the owner of the local grocery store the Fungos call home (their headquarters).

Cast: Joseph Cali (Presto Prestopolos), Adrian Zmed (Socks Palermo), Vincent Bufano (Turtle Romero), Randy Stumpf (Joey Dee), Sandy Helberg (Figgy Figueroa), Helen Verbit (Mrs. Fortunato), Anthony Ponzini (Mr. Esposito).

2725 Flatbush/Avenue J. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/24/76). Stanley Rosello and Wimpy Morzallo are life-long friends who are now adults and live on the block where they grew up — Avenue J in Flatbush, Brooklyn, New York. Stanley, a police officer, is married to his high school sweetheart, Franny; Wimpy, a mechanic, is in love with Franny's best friend, Annie. The unsold series was to relate incidents in their lives.

Cast: Paul Sylvan (Stanley Rosello), Brooke Adams (Frannie Rosello), Paul Jabara (Wimpy Morzallo), Jamie Donnelly (Annie Yukaminelli).

2726 Flatfoots. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/3/82). A proposed spin-off from Here's Boomer about Frank "Shack" Shackelford and Gabe Fortunato, two bumbling L.A.P.D. patrol officers. In the pilot episode, Shack and Gabe team with Boomer, the stray dog, to nail an affluent bookie.

Cast: John Reilly (Officer Frank Shackelford), Todd Susman (Officer Gabe Fortunato), Jason Bernard (Sergeant Lindsey Andrews), April Clough (Officer April Mikulanitz), Gary Epp (Officer Dave Henrich), Raymond Singer (Officer George Pesky). Guest Cast: Tracie Savage (Sunny), William Bumiller (Paris), Panchito Gomez (Panchito), Eddie Quillan (Arthur), Jim Knaub (Magic). Theme Vocal: "Crime Isn't Pretty" by Bob Lind.

2727 Flatt and Scruggs. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966). Performances by country and western entertainers with singer-musicians Earl Flatt and Lester Scruggs as the hosts.

2728 Flavor of Love. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2006). A romantic experiment in which rap superstar Flavor Flav selects the girl of his dreams from a field of 20 contenders. Each of the girls must perform a challenge (like competing in a hip-hop contest; running a soul food restaurant) that Flavor judges to determine whether the girl is worthy of continuing or not. He eventually weeds the group down to one special girl.

Nicole Alexander, called Hoopz, was the first cycle winner. The series aired from January 1, 2006 to October 29, 2006. All of the female contestants were given a nickname to match their personalities. See also I Love New York and Flavor of Love Girls: Charm School.

2729 Flavor of Love Girls: Charm School. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2007). Thirteen girls, cast offs from the reality series Flavor of Love (see entry) are sent to Charm School for training in proper etiquette and the social graces. The girls are put through various social skill tests with the show's host, Mo'Nique, rating their performances after each task. The girl who best transforms herself wins a cash prize.

Hostess: Mo'Nique. The Girls: Leilene Ondrade, Courtney Jackson, Schatar Taylor, Saaphyri, Brooke Thompson, Thela Brown, Heather Crawford, Jennifer Toof, Cristal Athena Steverson, Darra Boyd, Larissa Aurora, Shay Johnson, Rebecca Johnston.

2730 Flesh 'n' Blood. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1991). Rachel Brennan is a young grade two prosecutor with the Baltimore D.A.'s office. She is the yuppie type and lives in a fashionable home at 3611 Tenner Street.

Arlo Weed is a brash con artist with two children: Beauty and King Hollis. Arlo is Rachel's long-lost older brother; he moves in with Rachel when he discovers she is looking for him. (The Weeds were a poor Florida family. Their mother put Rachel up for adoption to give her a better life. The mother abandoned Arlo "when she went gator hunting with Billy Moses and never came back." Arlo survived through cons and later married, but his wife deserted him after the birth of Beauty: "She is now living with a gravedigger in Florida.")

Rachel and Arlo are as different as night and day. While Rachel struggles to make ends meet as an assistant D.A., Arlo devises various cons to make money (such as selling Bibles personally autographed by Moses). Arlo's dream is to open his own business, Weed Tours International. (Prior to moving in with Rachel, the Weeds resided in Sarasota, where they were evading a public nuisance charge in Daytona Beach. When they first came to Baltimore, they stayed in the King Crab Motor Lodge. Before Rachel's mother put her up for adoption, she grew the biggest squash in Florida. She hollowed it out and made it into a cradle for Rachel; Rachel lived in it for two years.)

Beauty is 12 years old and very pretty. She got her name, Arlo says "when she popped out of the missus and I said what a beauty. The nurse took me seriously and wrote it down." Beauty says that sometimes she believes her father wishes she were a boy: "Last Christmas he bought me a bat. I had to kill it when it bit me." Arlo calls her "Baby"; she has a snake named Stinky.

King Hollis is a 16-year-old "hulking dimwit" who says, "Sometimes I'm as dumb as a post." ("Son," Arlo says, "if you were half as useful as a post, I'd be proud of you.") King has a dent in his head (he was hit by the windmill when playing miniature golf) and seems to have only one talent: playing the violin (he can play any song once he hears it). "King got his name," Arlo says, "when me and the wife were playing strip checkers and she said, 'King me.' I did, and nine months later our son was born." David Keith and Leon Russell composed the theme.

Cast: Lisa Darr (Rachel Brennan), David Keith (Arlo Weed), Meghan Andrews (Beauty Weed), Chris Stacy (King Hollis Weed).

2731 The Fliers. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 2/5/65). An unsold World War I drama about Lee Harmon, a U.S. Air Corps pilot who fights by his own rules. Aired as a segment of The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater.

Cast: John Cassavetes (Sergeant Lee Harmon), Chester Morris (Major Whitman), Carol Lynley (Irene Ayers), Tom Simcox (Lieutenant Walter Matthew), Alfred Ryder (Boz).

2732 Flight. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1958). Dramatizations based on true stories from the files of the United States Air Force. Casts and stories vary with each episode.

Host: General George C. Kenney.

2733 Flight of the Conchords. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 2007). Jemaine and Bret are musicians from New Zealand who now live on the Lower East Side of Manhattan in New York City. They have a comedy and music act (Flight of the Conchords) and are waiting (but without any luck) for their big break. Stories follow their antics as they chase women, break into song whenever convenient, and seek to make a name for themselves. Murray is their manager; Mel is the group's only fan.

Cast: Jemaine Clement (Jemaine), Bret McKenzie (Bret), Kristen Schaal (Mel), Rhys Darby (Murray).

2734 Flight to Rhythm. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1949). A program of music and songs hosted by singer Delora Bueno. The series, also known as The Delora Bueno Show, aired from March 10, 1949 to September 22, 1949.

Hostess: Delora Bueno. Music: Miguelito Valdez.

2735 Flight 29 Down. (Series; Drama; Discovery Kids; 2005). A plane carrying Los Angeles high school teenagers encounters a fierce storm that damages the craft and forces it to crash land on an unknown island in the South Pacific.

The teens (see cast) are now stranded and at first were uncooperative with each other, believing that rescue was just a matter of hours away. As time passed and reality set in, they made the island their temporary home. Stories follow the teens as they struggle for survival and seek a way off the island.

This same concept has been used in movies (most notably Back from Eternity and Lord of the Flies) and on TV in three pilots (Stranded in 1966 and 1976 and Crash Island, 1981) and on three TV series —

Gilligan's Island (1964), The New People (1969) and Lost (2004).

Cast: Hallee Hirsh (Daley), Lauren Storm (Taylor), Kristy Wu (Melissa), Allen Alvarado (Lex), Corbin Bleu (Nathan), Jeremy James Kissner (Eric), Tani Lynn Fujimoto (Abby), Blade Rogers (Ian), John Kapelos (Captain Russell; first 2 episodes).

2736 The Flim-Flam Man. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/1/69). A TV adaptation of the 1967 feature film of the same title about Mordecai Jones, a Robin Hood-like confidence man who cheats only the greedy, dishonest and gullible who deserve to be flim-flammed. In the pilot episode, Mordecai misrepresents himself as one J.P. Morgan, a TV show employee investigating the wellsprings of Southern hospitality.

Cast: Forrest Tucker (Mordecai Jones), Don Scardino (Curley Treadway; his partner). Guest Cast: James Gregory (Packard), Elena Verdugo (Mrs. Packard), Lada Edmonds, Jr. (Bonnie Lee), Gene Evans (Sheriff Slade), Guy Raymond (Buck), Dub Taylor (Weehunt), Bob Hastings (Meeshaw), Hope Summers (Debbie Packard). Theme Vocal: "The Flim-Flam Man" by Don Scardino.

2737 The Flintstone Comedy Hour. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1973–1974). A revised version of The Flintstones, the 1960s cartoon series that focused on the lives of two modern prehistoric families, the Flintstones and the Rubbles. The new series continues to relate events in the lives of Fred Flintstone, a dino operator for the Slaterock Gravel Company, his wife, Wilma, and their neighbors, Barney Rubble (Fred's co-worker) and his wife, Betty. Pebbles is Fred and Wilma's daughter; Bamm Bamm is Barney and Betty's adopted son. They are teenagers here and were spun off into their own series, Pebbles and Bamm Bamm (which see).

Other Regulars: George Slate, Fred's boss; and Penny, Fabian, Schleprock, Wiggy, Bronto, Zonk, Noodles and Stub, friends of Pebbles and Bamm Bamm.

2738 Flintstone Family Adventures. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1980–1981). The overall title for six animated sequences.

1. The Flintstones. Newly animated segments that depict events in the lives of Fred and Wilma Flintstone and their neighbors, Barney and Betty Rubble, modern prehistoric people who live in the town of Bedrock.

2. Pebbles, Dino and Bamm Bamm. The segment focuses on the antics of Pebbles Flintstone (Fred and Wilma's daughter) and her friend Bamm Bamm (Barney and Betty's son) as they attend Bedrock High School. Dino is the Flintstone family pet.

3. The Bedrock Cops. The adventures of Fred Flintstone and Barney Rubble as police officers attempting to uphold law and order in Bedrock.

4. Dino and the Cave Mouse. A short segment that focuses on Dino, the Flintstone family pet, as he attempts to catch the elusive cave mouse that lives in the Flintstone home.

5. The Frankenstones. Events in the day-to-day lives of the Frankenstones, a family of movie monster look-alikes who move to Bedrock and next door to the Flintstones. Frank Frankstone is the father; Oblivia is his wife; Hidea and Stubby are their children.

6. Captain Caveman. The segment finds Wilma Flintstone and Betty Rubble as reporters for The Daily Granite, the Bedrock newspaper. Wilma and Betty's attempts to solve crimes with the assistance of Chester, the copyboy who becomes Captain Caveman (a daring crime fighter) are the focal point of the program.

Voice Cast Henry Corden (Fred Flintstone), Jean VanderPyl (Wilma Flintstone), Russi Taylor (Pebbles Flintstone), Gay Autterson (Betty Rubble), Mel Blanc (Barney Rubble), Michael Sheehan (Bamm Bamm Rubble), John Stephenson (George Slate), Mel Blanc (Dino), Mitzi McCall (Penny), Gay Autterson (Wiggy), Lennie Weinrib (Moonrock), Lennie Weinrib (Schleprock), Lennie Weinrib (Sergeant Boulder), Frank Welker (The Shmoo), Russi Taylor (Cave Mouse), Charles Nelson Reilly (Frank Frankstone), Pat Parris (Oblivia Frankstone), Ruta Lee (Hidea Frankstone), Jim MacGeorge (Stubby Frankstone), Paul Reubens (Freaky), Frank Welker (Rockjaw), Ken Mars (Lou Granite).

2739 The Flintstone Funnies. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1981–1984). The series relates incidents in the lives of the Flintstone and Rubble families and their new neighbors, the Frankenstones, a family who resemble movie monsters of the 1940s. The families live in the prehistoric town of Bedrock. Fred his wife Wilma and their daughter Pebbles comprise the Flintstone family. Barney, his wife Betty and their adopted son Bamm Bamm comprise the Rubble family. Frank, his wife Oblivia, and their children Hidea and Stubby comprise the Frankstone family.

Bamm Rubble), Mel Blanc (Dino), John Stephenson (George Slate), Charles Nelson Reilly (Frank Frankenstein), Pat Parris (Oblivia Frankenstein), Ruta Lee (Hidea Frankenstein), Jim MacGeorge (Stubby Frankenstein), Zelda Rubinstein (Atrocía), Paul Reubens (Freaky), Frank Welker (Rockjaw).

2740 Flintstone Kids. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1986). A prequel to the 1960s ABC series The Flintstones that focuses on the lives of Fred, Wilma, Barney and Betty as ten-year-old kids living in the prehistoric town of Bedrock (the series changes the original program's storyline as Fred and Barney did not meet their future wives, Wilma and Betty, until they were adults). Here, Fred who is ten years old, has just begun to perfect his "Yabba Dabba Doo" catchphrase, and is Wilma's neighbor (as Barney is Betty's neighbor).

Voices: Charlie Adler, Bever-Leigh Banfield, Jon Bauman, Michael Bell, Mel Blanc, Susan Blu, Hamilton Camp, Henry Corden, Julie Dees, Pat Farley, June Foray, Arte Johnson, Ken Mars, Howard Morris, George O'Hanlon, Avery Schreiber, Ronnie Schell, Marilyn Schreffler, John Stevenson, Lennie Weinrib, Frank Welker.

2741 The Flintstones. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1960–1966). The series is set in the year 1,000,040 B.C. Sixteen years prior to this (1,000,056), Fred Flintstone and his friend Barney Rubble worked as bellboys at the Honeyrock Hotel. There they met Wilma Slaghoople and Betty Jean McBricker, two hotel waitresses. It was love at first sight, and soon after, Fred and Wilma and Barney and Betty married.

Fred and Wilma set up housekeeping at 345 Stone Cave Road (also given as Cobblestone Lane) in the town of Bedrock; Barney and Betty purchased the cavelike home next to them. Fred and Barney are members of the Royal Order of the Water Buffalo Lodge (originally the Loyal Order of Dinosaurs).

Fred works as a dino operator for Howard Slate (a.k.a. George Slate), the owner of the Slaterock Gravel Company (but also seen as the Rockhead Quarry Construction Company, the Bedrock Quarry Gravel Company, the Bedrock Gravel Company and the Rockhead and Quarry Cove Construction Company). His catchphrase is "Yabba dabba do."

Wilma is a Capricorn (born in November) and "fixes the best roast dodo bird in Bedrock." To make extra money, Wilma took a job as a singer on "The Rockinspiel Happy Housewives Show" for the Bedrock Radio and TV Company. Wilma became animated television's first pregnant woman; she gave birth to a girl she and Fred named Pebbles. Fred and Wilma also have a six-foot tall pet Snarkasaurus named Dino, who is purple with black spots on his back.

Barney originally worked for the Pebble Rock and Gravel Company (when he was laid off, Fred got him a job with his company). One night Barney and Betty see a falling star and wish they could have a baby like Fred and Wilma. The following morning they find an orphaned baby on their doorstep (there is a note attached asking them to care for little Bamm Bamm; they later adopt the baby, who has incredible strength, as their own).

Barney's hometown was mentioned as Granite Town, where he lived at 142 Boulder Avenue. He and Betty have a pet Hoparoo called Hoppy.

The population of Bedrock is 2,500. Arnold is the newspaper boy (he delivers the Bugle). "The Flintstones" is television's first adult cartoon and is actually a stone age version of The Honeymooners. Theme: "The Flintstones Theme: Rise and Shine," by William Hanna and Joseph Barbera.

Voice Cast: Alan Reed (Fred Flintstone), Jean VanderPyl (Wilma Flintstone), Mel Blanc (Barney Rubble), Bea Benaderet (Betty Rubble), Gerry Johnson (Betty Rubble; later), Jean VanderPyl (Pebbles Flintstone), Don Messick (Dino and Bamm Bamm), John Stephenson (George Slate), Don Messick (Arnold), Harvey Korman (The Great Gazoo; the alien).

2742 The Flintstones. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1981–1982). A limited run prime time series based the 1960s series of the same title. Set in the prehistoric, but modern town of Bedrock, the series focuses on incidents in the lives of the Flintstone and Rubble families and their new neighbors, the Frankenstones (who resemble movie monsters of the 1940s). Fred and Wilma and their daughter Pebbles are the Flintstones; Barney, Betty and their son Bamm Bamm are the Rubbles; Frank, Oblivia and their children Hidea and Stubby are the Frankenstones.

The series was originally broadcast first run on NBC from October 4, 1981 to October 18, 1981. It was seen only on the West Coast. Extended coverage of football games blocked the East Coast showing. On July 25, 1982 through August 8, 1982, NBC repeated the series — and although reruns for the West Coast, they were first run on the East Coast.

Voice Cast: Henry Corden (Fred Flintstone), Jean VanderPyl (Wilma Flintstone), Mel Blanc (Barney Rubble), Gay Autterson (Betty Rubble), Jean VanderPyl (Pebbles Flintstone), Don Messick (Bamm Bamm Rubble), Mel Blanc (Dino), John Stephenson (Frank Frankenstein), Pat Parris (Oblivia Frankenstein), Julie McWhirter (Hidea Frankenstein), Jim MacGeorge (Stubby Frankenstein), Frank Welker (Creeply), John Stephenson (Rockelle), Don Messick (Vulture), Henry Corden (Scorpion), Frank Welker (Mother Pterodactyl), Mel Blanc/Frank Welker (Pterodactyl Chicks).

2743 Flip! (Pilot; Magazine; CBS; 9/17/88). An unsold series of comedy blackouts, music videos, advice, celebrity profiles and other related interests geared to children.

Cast: Brian Byers, Danny Catri, Brett Chifaldi, Melanie Gaffin, Jennifer George, Sean Hamilton, Stephen Higgins, Cherry Krenn, George Reyes, Terry Shorter, Louise DuArt. Narration Hosts: Hollywood Hamilton, Dr. George Brothers.

2744 The Flip Wilson Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1970–1974). Music, songs and outlandish comedy sketches (a number of which feature host Flip Wilson as the feisty Geraldine). Bob Henry is the producer.

Host: Flip Wilson. Regulars: The Flipettes. Dancers: Marguerite DeLain, Ka Ron Brown, Jaki Marrison, Edward Little, Bhety Waldron, Mary Vivian. Orchestra: George Wyle. Choreography: Jack Regas.

2745 Flipper. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1964–1967). “No one you see is smarter than he and we know Flipper lives in a world full of wonder, lying there under, under the sea.” Porter Ricks is a park ranger at the Coral Key Park Marine Preserve in Florida. He is a widower and the father of two sons, Sandy and Bud. Stories follow Porter as he, with the help of his sons, and their intelligent pet dolphin, Flipper, protect the park from evil-doers.

Flipper becomes part of the Ricks family when young Sandy finds an injured dolphin (speared), names him Flipper and nurses him back to health. Although set free, Flipper chooses to remain in the marina to help Porter Ricks protect his domain.

Ulla Norstrand is the research chemist; Hap Gorman is a friend of the Porter's. The series is based on the 1963 motion picture of the same title starring Chuck Connors and Luke Halpin. The series, which produced 88 episodes, ran from September 19, 1964 to May 14, 1967. See also Flipper: The New Adventures.

Cast: Brian Kelly (Porter Ricks), Luke Halpin (Sandy Ricks), Tommy Nordon (Bud Ricks), Ulla Stromstedt (Ulla Norstrand), Andy Devine (Hap Gorman), Susie (Flipper). Theme Vocal: “Flipper” by Frankie Randall.

2746 Flipper: The New Adventures. (Series; Adventure; Syn; PAX; 1995–2000). An update of the NBC series Flipper (1964–1967) that has several formats. Each is set at the Bal Harbor Marine Preserve and Research Center in Florida.

1995–1996: Stories focus on the work of Dr. Keith Ricks, a dolphin researcher who first became interested in dolphins when, as a kid, one he named Flipper introduced him to the sea. He now wants to discover how they live, how they communicate and how they react with each other and with humans.

Beside Flipper, who is free to come and go as he pleases, the marina has a dolphin named Aphrodite, who was born and raised in the marina's seaquarium.

Other regulars in this version are Dr. Pamela Blondell, a Navy veterinarian assigned to Keith's center; Mike Blondell, Pamela's son; Maya Graham, the 14-year-old girl who lives on a houseboat on Broadwater Harbor; Sandy Ricks, Keith's brother, an officer with the Marine Patrol; Mr. Goodwin, the head of the center; Alexis, a worker.

1996–1998: The characters listed above are replaced with the exception of Jessica Alba, who continues in her role as Maya, a beautiful teenager who believes she is a mermaid. Stories now focus on a new research scientist (Dr. Jennifer Dalton) and a deputy sheriff (Tom Hampton who patrols the waters of Bal Harbor). Other Regulars: Deputy Quinton Garnett; Holly Meyers and Dean Gregson, interns at the institute; Walter Francis Dalton, called Cap (the captain of a charter boat service; his boat, the Maria D); Jennifer's father.

1998–2000: Dr. Alexandra Parker, a widow with two children (Chris and Jackie) becomes the new head of research at Bal Harbor. Sheriff Hampton is now a lieutenant and is assisted by Deputy Mark Delaney. Holly Meyers has become a marine biologist and works closely with Alexandra.

Cast: Brian Wimmer (Keith Ricks), Colleen Flynn (Pamela Blondell), Jessica Marie Alba (Maya Graham), Payton Haas (Mike Blondell), Paul Satterfield (Sandy Ricks), Lisa Lockey (Alexis), Dave Corey (Mr. Goodwin), Elizabeth Moreland (Jennifer Dalton), Whip Hubley (Tom Hampton), Wren T. Brown (Quentin Garnett), Anja Coleby (Holly Meyers), Scott Michaelson (Scott Gregson), Gus Mercurio (Cap), Tiffany Lamb (Alexandra Parker), Darrin Kilmer (Mark Delaney), Laura Donaldson (Jackie Parker), Craig Marriott (Chris Parker).

2747 Flo. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1980–1981). A spin-off from Alice. Promised a hostess job in Houston, Texas, Florence Jean Castleberry, called Flo, leaves Arizona and her job as a waitress at Mel's Diner and heads for greener pastures. Enroute, however, she stops off at her hometown of Cowntown, Texas, and on a dare (that she can run a bar, as a woman, better than any man), buys a rundown roadhouse, which she turns into a bar and renames Flo's Golden Rose. Stories relate her attempts to run the bar.

Other Regulars: Earl Tucker, the bartender; Miriam Willoughby, the waitress; Fran Castleberry, Flo's sister; Velma Castleberry, Flo's mother; Len Kincaid, the piano player; Randy Stumphill, the mechanic; Farley Waters, the banker; Wendell Tubbs, Fran's fiancé (the owner of Tubbs Feed and Grain); Hollis Willoughby, Miriam's husband; Betty, Velma's friend; Inez, Velma's friend; Chester, a bar regular.

Cast: Polly Holliday (Flo Castleberry), Geoffrey Lewis (Earl Tucker), Joyce Bulifant (Miriam Willoughby), Lucy Lee Flippen (Fran Castleberry), Sudie Bond (Velma Castleberry), Stephen Keep (Lee Kincaid), Leo Burmester (Randy Stumphill), Jim B. Baker (Farley Waters), Terry Wills (Wendell Tubbs), Donegan Smith (Hollis Willoughby), Amzie Strickland (Betty), Georgia Schmidt (Inez), Mickey Jones (Chester). Theme Vocal: "Flo's Golden Rose" by Hoyt Axton.

2748 Flo's Place. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/9/76). A reworking of the 1974 pilot Twice in a Lifetime (see entry) about a widow (Flo) with a young son (Lewis) and her efforts to run Flo's Place, a small San Pedro waterfront cafe and boarding house (the focal point of the unsold series was to focus on the antics of her staff and customers).

Cast: Della Reese (Flo), Eric Laneuville (Lewis), Johnny Silver (Eddie, the bartender), Art Metrano (Beito), Danny Wells (Abner), Michael Bell (Al Held), Bernie Kopell (Mr. Hoffman).

2749 The Flockens. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/15/90). The Flockens are a suburban family of six: parents Philip and Patricia and their four very mischievous young boys: Garth, Danny, Mickey and Jordie. The unsold series was to relate the antics of the kids and their parents' endless efforts to cope with them. In the pilot episode, Patricia becomes the target of her children's efforts to find her a job.

Cast: Bruce McGill (Philip Flocken), Miriam Flynn (Patricia Flocken), P.J. Ochlan (Garth Flocken), Robert Oliveri (Danny Flocken), Robert Gorman (Mickey Flocken), Joe Schermoly (Jordie Flocken). Guest Cast: Jacque Lynn Colton (Sheree), Dean Hill (Seymour Borg).

2750 Floor Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; CBS; 1949–1950). The program spotlights performances by jazz musicians. The series ran on NBC from January 1, 1949 to October 1, 1949; and on CBS from May 13, 1950 to June 24, 1950. Dick Levine is the producer.

Host: Eddie Condon, Carl Reiner. Regulars: Wild Bill Davidson, Cutty Cuttshall, Sidney Bechet, Joe Bushkin, Billy Butterfield, Peewee Russell. Music: Eddie Condon's All Stars.

2751 The Florian ZaBach Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1951). Violinist Florian ZaBach hosts a program of music and songs. Leila Hyer is the featured vocalist.

2752 The Florian ZaBach Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1954). A weekly program of music and songs with violinist Florian ZaBach as the host.

Host: Florian ZaBach. Regulars: Mary Ellen Terry, Ronnie Deauville. Orchestra: Harry Zimmerman.

2753 Floyd Gibbons, Reporter. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 12/11/62). A proposed but unsold spin-off from The Untouchables about Floyd Gibbons, a World War I combat correspondent turned investigative reporter battling corruption in 1930s Chicago. In the pilot episode, Gibbons investigates the suspicious death of an old friend. Aired as "The Floyd Gibbons Story" (Floyd Gibbons, Reporter was the proposed series title).

Cast: Scott Brady (Floyd Gibbons). Guest Cast: Dorothy Malone (Kitty Edmonds), Stu Erwin (Barney Rich), Paul Langton (Carleton Edmonds), Robert Stack (Eliot Ness).

2754 Fly Away Home. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 9/18/81). South Vietnam in 1968 is the setting for a proposed series about Carl Danton, a TBC-TV network cameraman who is transferred from San Francisco to Saigon to cover the war. The ambitious, serialized pilot depicts Danton's first experiences as a war correspondent.

Other Regulars: Tim Arnold, the TBC bureau chief in Saigon; Hap Andrews, the head of TBC; Mai, the South Vietnamese doctor; Sabrina and Mercy, nightclub signers; and Lt. Colonel Hannibal Pace.

Cast: Bruce Boxleitner (Carl Danton), Brian Dennehy (Tim Arnold), Michael Fairman (Hap Andrews), Tiana Alexandra (Mai), Teri Copley (Sabrina), Lynne Moody (Mercy), Edward Winter (Colonel Hannibal Pace). Guest Cast: Michael Beck (Lieutenant Mark Wakefield), Laura Johnson (Chickie Wakefield), Randy Brooks (Shenandoah Brookford), Olivia Cole (Sarah Brookford), Louis Giambalvo (Vogel), Kieu Chinh (Anh), Keye Luke (Duc), Duc Huey (Wong Lin), Chris Noel (Herself), Michael Alridge (Jed Holston), Barry Jenner (Sergeant Downs). Theme Vocal: "Fly Away Home" by John Stewart.

2755 Fly by Night. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1991). As a kid, Sally ("Slick") Monroe dreamed about flying. One day, while working at the Fancy Lady Beauty Salon, a Lear jet makes an emergency landing just outside the front window and changes Sally's life. With only $64 to her name, Sally quits her job and acquires a position as a stewardess with Air Canada. Three years later, when an opportunity allows her to buy a used plane (which transported zoo animals), Sally cons investors into helping her start Slick Air, a one plane airline that is based at the Ellis Airport in Canada. Her struggles to maintain Slick Air are the focal point of the series.

Sally was born in Alberta, Canada, and now lives in a warehouse loft (number 283) at 1755 Vasser Road in Vancouver, British Columbia. Sally's plane is a B-27 that can handle 30 passengers. She earned her nickname by pulling off wild schemes that turned her failures into successes. The Federal Trade Development Bank holds the mortgage on the plane, and Sally's hangout is the Bomber's Bar.

Mack Sheppard is Sally's pilot, a Vietnam vet with a checkered past. (He lost ten jobs in four weeks. Mack was a major with the air force who was set up — accused of gun smuggling while he was actually delivering food “down south.”) Mack had a dog named Clipper and worked for a crop dusting/sky writing firm called Silver Lining before Sally found him.

Jean Philippe Pasteur (“no relation to Louis”) is Mack's co-pilot. He worked previously in Brazil, “flying gold miners in and out.”

Sally's advertising flyers read: “Slick Air. Non-stop daily service from Vancouver, Canada, and connecting you to the world. Private luxury charters. Highly trained security specialists. Discover world vacations. First in personal service. Call toll free from anywhere. 1-604-555-4567. Telex: 346-SLIC.”

Cast: Shannon Tweed (Sally Monroe), David James Elliott (Mack Sheppard), Francois Guetary (Jean Philippe Pasteur). Theme: “Fly by Night” by Bob Buckley and David Sinclair.

2756 Flying Blind. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992–1993). Alicia Smith, a freelance artist and fashion model, lives at 386 Bleecker Street in New York's Greenwich Village. She is beautiful, wild, and unpredictable; her friends say “she should be committed.”

When she first began modeling, Alicia called herself “Kero”; when she tired of that she became “Chloe” for several months. Alicia loves to wear clothes that reveal her breasts in sexy bras and claims that her most embarrassing moment occurred when she was dating a UN dignitary “who stole a pair of my panties and sold them to a Third World country as their flag.” Alicia attended the Zurich Academy for Girls in Switzerland. Alicia claims that “men make fools of themselves around me — like the time I was at the beach and the lifeguard left a woman in an undertow to ask me to brunch; or the venetian blind salesman who fell for me and was later found to have a collection of mannequins dressed like me seated around a dinner table.”

When jobs were scarce, Alicia went to Mexico to star in the movie Bride of the Marsh Monster. It became such a hit in the Philippines that the government issued an air mail stamp with Alicia's picture on it.

Alicia has an uneasy relationship with her somewhat psychotic father, a man of mystery who claims that “if I tell you what I do for a living I'll have to kill you.” He has no name, and works for some ultra secret government agency. When Alicia wants to visit him, she has to be blindfolded and stuffed in the trunk of a car (a Fiat).

Neil Barash is the man who dates Alicia. He met her at a restaurant (the Madison Bistro) and is her complete opposite. He was born in Hartsdale and works with his father in the advertising department of Hockman Foods (a snack food company). He later works for Dennis Lake, the sleazy owner of a B-horror movie company called Scepter Films, producers of such “classics” as Revenge of the Ozone Mutant Mermaids, Panic at Three Mile Island, Massacre at Cleavage Farm, Frosty the Maniac and Beverly Hills 9021-Dead.

Megan, heiress to a laxative-company fortune, is Alicia's best friend, an artist's model who falls for men she thinks hate women. She is not as glamorous as Alicia and was the inspiration for a famous painting called “Depression Ascending a Staircase.” Megan also posed topless for two lithographs of her nipples: “One is on tour in Paris; the other is on display at Milt DeLeon's Steak House in Oceanside.” Megan later found a steady job as a subject in psychology experiments at a local junior college.

Cast: Tea Leoni (Alicia Smith), Corey Parker (Neil Barash), Charles Rocket (Dennis Lake), Clea Lewis (Megan), Peter Boyle (Alicia's father).

2757 The Flying Doctor. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1959). Greg Graham is an American doctor who uses an airplane to serve those far removed from society in the Australian Outback. Stories relate his experiences as he struggles to care for people who are far removed from the services of a qualified doctor. Mary is Greg's nurse; Dr. Harrison is Greg's assistant; Charley is Greg's pilot. Filmed on location.

2758 Flying High. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1978–1979). Only one applicant in twenty is accepted by Sun West Airlines to train as a stewardess. Of those selected, only fifteen will actually survive the training course.

Pamela (“Pam”) Bellagio, Lisa Benton and Marcy Ann Bower are three hopeful flight attendants who meet and become best friends at stew school. “The Three Bs” (Bellagio, Benton and Bower), as Lisa calls them, pass the course and request Los Angeles as their home base. Stories relate their experiences as stewardesses for Sun West Airlines.

Pam is 21 years old, five feet seven inches tall and weighs 104 pounds. She was born in Trenton, New Jersey, and comes from a large family (she has seven brothers and sisters). Pam is a little nervous about flying and pretends to be riding on a bus when she flies.

Lisa is 21 years old, five feet nine inches tall and weighs 115 pounds. She lives in Greenwich, Connecticut, and is the daughter of rich parents. Lisa was tired of being pampered and belonging to the idle rich. She wanted to do something with her life. She likes flying (she has her own pilot's license), travel and people, and so applied for the job at Sun West.

Marcy is 19 years old, five feet nine inches tall and weighs 118 pounds. She was born in Sweetwater, Texas, and helped in the daily operations of her family farm. Marcy wanted to travel and experience life away from a farm and chose to become a stewardess.

Captain Douglas March is a featured pilot; Raymond Strickman is the reservation agent.

Carmen Zapata appeared as Pam's mother; Louis Zito was her father, Tony; and Brion James played Marcy's brother, Clyde. David Shire was the composer of the theme, "Flying High."

Cast: Kathryn Witt (Pam Bellagio), Connie Sellecka (Lisa Benton), Patricia Klous (Marcy Ann Bower), Howard Platt (Capt. Douglas March), Ken Olson (Raymond Strickman).

2759 The Flying Nun. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1967–1970). Sister Bertrille is a nun with the Order of the Sisters of San Tanco and assigned to the Convent San Tanco in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

San Tanco is a small town with a population of 3,956. The convent was built in 1572 on land given to the sisters by King Philip of Spain. Their rent is one dollar a year. To the children of working mothers, the convent is a day-care center.

Sister Bertrille is actually Elsie Ethrington, a once typical teenage American girl who was so impressed by her aunt's work as a missionary that she too decided to devote her life to helping the less fortunate.

Shortly after being assigned to the convent, Sister Bertrille discovers she has the ability to fly. Her white coronets (headgear) have sides that resemble wings. Sister Bertrille weighs only 90 pounds and San Juan is an area affected by trade winds. A strong gale wind enables her to soar above the ground and, by manipulating her coronets, she acquires some control over flight but landings are difficult (she often crashes into things).

Every time Carlos Ramirez sees a nun, especially Sister Bertrille, he believes they want him to make a donation to their convent. Carlos is a playboy who owns the Casino Carlos, a disco in San Juan. He is wealthy and considers himself an excellent pool player ("The Minnesota Fats of San Tanco"). His niece, Linda Shapiro, is a young girl who idolizes Sister Bertrille and wants to become a nun "when I grow up" (she is nicknamed the "Little Nun").

Sister Bertrille's superior is the Reverend Mother Plaseato; Sisters Jacqueline, Ana and Sixto also live at the convent. Warren Barker composed The Flying Nun theme.

Cast: Sally Field (Sister Bertrille), Alejandro Rey (Carlos Ramirez), Madeleine Sherwood (Mother Plaseato), Linda Dancil (Sister Ana), Marge Redmond (Sister Jacqueline), Shelley Morrison (Sister Sixto), Pamelyn Ferdin (Linda Shapiro), Vito Scotti (Gaspar Fomento), Michael Pataki (Salazar), Don Diamond (Chief Galindo), Elinor Donahue (Jen- nifer Ethrington), Manuel Padilla, Jr. (Marcello), Arlene Golonka (Dottie), Michael Pataki (Pedro), David Hurst (Mendoza), Paul Lynde (Father Lundigan), Rich Little (Brother Paul Bernardi), Norma Crane (Lily Romano). Narrator: Marge Redmond.

2760 Flying Tigers. (Series; Adventure; DuMont; 1951–1952). The shortened TV Guide title for Major Del Conway of the Flying Tigers. See this title for information.

2761 FM. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989–1990). WGEO, 91.6 FM, is a public radio station in Washington, D.C. "Radio Free D.C." is its slogan. Ted Costas, the program director, has a daily radio program called Long Day's Journey into Lunch. Stories relate the antics of Ted and his staff as they attempt to run the station.

Leann Plunkett is Ted's ex-wife. She attended Georgetown University and co-hosts a talk show called Toe to Toe with Harrison Green (Harrison is also the theater critic for the D.C. Press). Maude Costas is Ted and Leann's daughter, a freshman at Georgetown University.

Daryl, the beautiful station volunteer, attends Georgetown University, models nude for art classes, worked as a decorative icer in an erotic bakery, and is now a barmaid at the Ta Ta Room. Daryl drinks only hot Dr. Pepper soda, and the only meats she will eat are yak and warthog. She was conceived at Woodstock and plays strip Pictionary.

Quenton Lamereaux hosts The Classical Show, and Don Baumgartner (John Kassir) is the host of a satire show called Capitol Punishment.

Gretchen Schreck is Ted's secretary (in the original unaired pilot, she had the name Gretchen Schmidt). Naomi Sayers, the station manager, was called Naomi Miller in the pilot. Jonathan Plunkett is Leann's new husband. The gang's favorite watering hole is a bar called P.J.'s. Theme: "FM," by Patrick Williams.

Cast: Robert Hays (Ted Costas), Patricia Richardson (Leann Plunkett), Nicole Huntington (Maude Costas), Rainbow Harvest (Daryl), Fred Applegate (Harrison Green), James Avery (Quenton Lamereaux), DeLane Matthews (Gretchen Schreck), Lynne Thigpen (Naomi Sayers), Jack Bannon (Jonathan Plunkett).

2762 FM TV. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1982). Primarily a look at the recording industry with interviews and performances by rock stars. Also featured are behind-the-scenes reports on Hollywood films and personalities.

Narrator: Frankie Crocker.

2763 Fog. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/23/81). When the radar fails and the luxury liner Queen of the Seas rams into and destroys two submarines, its skipper, Jack Drummond, is demoted and assigned to captain the SS Sangina, a 40-year-old freighter. Drummond's attempts to redeem himself with the maritime board and once again command the fabled luxury liner was to be the focal point of the series. In the pilot episode, Drummond attempts to impress his employers, Retango Lines, by making a record-breaking voyage from Hong Kong to San Pedro to seek medical help for an Oriental stowaway who gave birth on board his ship.

Other Regulars: Ned, the first officer; Mr. Peabody, a crew member; Doc, the insecure physician; Kenneth, Jack's assistant; Mr. Carrion, the chief engineer; Fortunato, Carrion's assistant.

Cast: Dick O'Neill (Jack Drummond), Robert Ayres (Ned Dancer), Scoey Mitchell (Mr. Peabody), George Pentecost (Doc Curtis), Steven Peterman (Kenneth Toomey), G.W. Bailey (Mr. Carrion), Demetre Phillips (Fortunato). Guest Cast: Mae Hi (Lin Soo Fu), Christopher McDonald (Simon Carter), Eda Reiss Merin (Woman), Jack Murdock (Lawson), Annie O'Neill (Young woman), Carmen Young (Young man), Cynthia Sziegeti (Passenger).

2764 Foley Square. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1985–1986). Alexandra Harrigan, called Alex, is a beautiful Assistant District Attorney working out of the Criminal Courts Building at Foley Square in New York City. She works under Bureau Chief Jesse Steinberg, and with A.D.A. Molly Dobbs.

Alex is hoping to become a D.A. but she lacks the prosecutions necessary to achieve the position. Alex is ambitious, eager and totally devoted to her job. Stories relate Alex's efforts to go beyond the call of duty to achieve her dream.

Alex lives at 36 West 34th Street in Manhattan (her neighbor is Peter Newman, a high school teacher). Alex and Molly enjoy a cup of coffee at Spiro's Coffee Shop.

Other Regulars: Denise Williams, Alex's secretary; Angel Gomez, the office manager; Carter DeVries, Alex's boyfriend, a lawyer; Zito, the cop on the beat; and Spiro Papadopolis, the coffee shop owner.

Cast: Margaret Colin (Alex Harrigan), Hector Elizondo (Jesse Steinberg), Cathy Silvers (Molly Dobbs), Vernee Watson (Denise Williams), Michael Lembeck (Peter Newman), Sanford Jensen (Carter DeVries), Israel Jurabe (Angel Gomez), Richard C. Sarafian (Spiro Papadopolis), Robert Costanzo (Zito).

2765 Folksay. (Experimental; Ballet; CBS; 1/12/45). A television adaptation of the modern ballet by Sophie Maslon that traces the simple folk music and humor of the remote regions of America. William Bales, Jane Dudley and Pearl Primus are the New Dance Group who performed the material while balladeers Woody Guthrie and Tony Kruber, seated near the wings, provided song commentaries.

2766 Follow That Man. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1949–1956). The alternate title for The Man Against Crime. See this title for information.

2767 Follow the Leader. (Series; Game; CBS; 1953). Two three-minute sketches are enacted by the hostess. Selected members of the studio audience have to reenact the same situations. The players who achieve a performance as close as possible to the original receive a merchandise prize. The series ran from July 7, 1953 to August 4, 1953.

Hostess: Vera Vague.

2768 Follow the Sun. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1961–1962). Ben Gregory and Paul Templin are freelance magazine writers based on Honolulu Island in Hawaii. Stories relate their adventures as they seek stories.

Ben and Paul are also the owners of a boat, The Scuber, which they sometimes use to investigate stories that take them away from the mainland. Eric Jason is their legman; Katherine Ann Richards is their secretary; Frank Roper is a lieutenant with the Hawaiian Police Department.

2769 Follow Your Heart. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1953–1954). The dramatic story of June Fielding and her efforts to break set traditions within her wealthy Philadelphia family (the short-lived series storyline found June, unhappily engaged to a man her mother has chosen for her, struggling for the right to choose her own spouse outside her social scale). The series ran from August 3, 1953 to January 8, 1954.

Cast: Sallie Brophy (June Fielding), Nancy Sheridan (Mrs. Fielding), Grant Richards (Peter David), Maxine Stuart, Anne Seymour, Louis Hollister.

2770 Fonz and the Happy Days Gang. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1980–1982). An extension series based on Happy Days. When Cup Cake, a girl from the 25th century lands in Milwaukee in 1957, she befriends the main characters from Happy Days (Fonzie, Richie and Ralph) and takes them aboard her slightly defective time machine. During a demonstration, the time machine malfunctions and they become lost in time. Stories depict their adventures as they struggle to find their way back to 1957 Milwaukee. Also accompanying them is Mr. Cool, Fonzie's dog.

Voice Cast: Henry Winkler (Fonzie), Ron Howard (Richie), Donny Most (Ralph), Didi Conn (Cup Cake), Frank Welker (Mr. Cool), Wolfman Jack (Announcer).

2771 Foodini the Great. (Series; Children; ABC; 1951). A puppet series that revolves around Foodini, a villainous, inept magician and his fumbling assistant, Pinhead. The series, which ran from August 25, 1951 to December 29, 1951, is a spin-off from Lucky Pup.

Hostess: Ellen Parker, Doris Brown, Lou Prentis.
Voices-Puppeteers: Hope Bunin, Morey Bunin.

2772 Foofur. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1986–1987). Following the death of his master, a lovable hound dog (Foofur) inherits an old mansion. The estate executrix, Mrs. Escrow, is an evil person who believes there is money to be made if the house is sold and seeks to do just that. Foofur, however, knows that his master wanted him to have the house, and now must scheme to keep it. He begins by inviting his friends from the dog pound to become his housemates and stories relate the mishaps that occur as Mrs. Escrow deviously schemes to rid her life of Foofur and his flea-bitten friends.

Voice Cast: Frank Welker (Foofur), Susan Silo (Mrs. Escrow), Allan Melvin (Chucky), Christina Lange (Rocki), Susan Blu (Dolly), Michael Bell (Harvey), Pat Carroll (Hazel), David Doyle (Mel), William Callaway (Burt), Don Messick (Pepe), Susan Tolsky (Annabell). Additional Voices: Hamilton Camp, Jared Barclay, Victoria Carroll, Peter Cullen, June Foray, Melanie Gaffin, Dick Gautier, Ken Mars.

2773 Fools, Females and Fun. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/4/74). An unsold anthology series that was to focus on the trials and tribulations of men who fall head over heels in love with women fate did not intend them to have. Three half-hour stories were presented:

1. I've Gotta Be Me. A conceited nightclub singer (Danny Holliday) attempts to seduce a beautiful chorus girl (Alice) who is his exact opposite. Cast: Jack Cassidy (Danny Holliday), Julie Sommars (Alice Shoemaker), Dennis Rucker (Young man), Bob Golden (Stage manager).

3. What About That One? An investment counselor (Roger Morris) embezzles company funds to impress Carla Dean, a beautiful client. Cast: Dick Sargent (Roger Morris), Brooke Bundy (Joanie Morris), Julie Newmar (Carla Dean), Robert Hogan (J.C. Tyler), Leonard Beatty (Jack Manning), Romney Taylor (Patti Cubbison).

Theme: "Carrousel" by Glen A. Larson (also the executive producer).

2774 Fools for Love. (Series; Comedy; VH-1; 1993). How does one start a relationship, keep it going or end one and yet maintain a sense of humor throughout the entire process? Those are the questions that are posed as guest standup comics explore these issues through their routines. The program also features the hosts posing as a couple and asking people on the street for their advice.

Hosts: Caroline Rhea, Jonathan Brandis.

2775 Foot in the Door. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1983). After 40 years of marriage to a boring, straight-laced woman, a recent widower (Jonah Foot), decides to sell his home in Pitts Valley, NH, and move to New York City to live with his son, Jim, and his wife, Harriet. The five-episode program relates the misadventures that befall the Foots as they attempt to live together in a small apartment.

Cast: Harold Gould (Jonah Foot), Kenneth Gilman (Jim Foot), Diana Canova (Harriet Foot), Marian Mercer (Mrs. Griffin; their landlady).

2776 Footlights Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1952–1953). The summer replacement for Our Miss Brooks. A series of original dramas as well as adaptations from novels. The series aired from July 4, 1952 to September 26, 1952 and July 3, 1953 to September 25, 1953.

2777 For Better or Worse. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1959–1960). Dramatizations based on actual case histories of marital difficulties. Guests appear in stories that last from one to two weeks.

Host-Narrator: Dr. James A. Peterson. Announcer: Jim Bannon.

2778 For Love and Honor. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1983–1984). Serial-like stories, set at the Fort Geller army base in Texas, about the lives, loves ambitions and adventures of the men and women of the peacetime Army's 88th Airborne, a crack military unit whose motto is "Fit to fight — anywhere, anytime."

Cast: Cliff Potts (Sgt. Eugene Allard), Shelley Smith (Capt. Carolyn Engel), Rachel Ticotin (Cpl. Grace Pavlik), Gary Grubbs (Capt. Stephen Wiecek), Yaphet Kotto (Sgt. James "China" Bell), David Caruso (Recruit Rusty Berger), Pete Kowanko (Recruit Chris Dolan), Eddie Velez (Recruit Georgio Lucas), Keenan Ivory Wayans (Recruit Duke Johnson), Tony Becker (Recruit Utah Wilson), John Mengatti (Recruit Dominick), Amy Steele (Sharon; Chris's girlfriend), Kelly Preston (Mary Lee; Lucas's girlfriend), Shanna Reed (Phyllis Wiecek; Stephen's wife).

2779 For Love or Money. (Series; Game; CBS; 1958–1959). Each of the three players who compete state their preference for a visible prize or an unknown series of cash awards. Players compete in a series of question-and-answer rounds with the highest scoring player receiving the previously chosen prize.

Host: Bill Nimmo.

2780 For Love or Money. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2003–2004). Fifteen women compete for the affections of a man and a cash prize of $1 million. Rob Campos is the man (a bachelor) who believes only that each of the women are competing to win his affection; he knows nothing about the money and the women are not permitted to tell Rob about it. The girl that Rob picks (the one who most impresses him) receives the check for $1 million. Erin Brodie and Paige Jones were the two finalists. Erin was the girl Rob selected.

Host: Jordan Murphy.

2781 For Lovers Only. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 10/15/82). A proposed anthology-type series, set at Bliss Cove Haven in Pennsylvania's Pocono Mountains, that depicts incidents in the lives of the newlywed couples who elect to spend a five-day honeymoon at the exclusive resort.

In the pilot episode, Emmy Pugh, a regular at the resort with three previous husbands, hopes to hear wedding bells with her newest groom, the obedient, never-before-married Harvey; and a young newlywed (Frankie) struggles to keep his wife (Marge) from learning the truth about their marriage: It was arranged by a matchmaker in their Brooklyn neighborhood. Filmed at Caesar's Cove Haven in Lakeville, Pa. Originally titled Honeymoon Hotel.

Regulars: Vernon Bliss, the owner; Bea, his second wife; Candy, the photographer; and Flip, the social director.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Vernon Bliss), Katherine Helmond (Bea Winchell Bliss), Anna Garduno (Candy), Christopher Wells (Flip Leonard). Guest Cast: Deborah Raffin (Lilah Ward), Gary Sandy (Peter Ward), Sally Kellerman (Emmy Pugh), Gordon Jump (Harvey), Robert Hegyes (Frankie Spoleto), Jane Kaczmarek (Margie Spoleto), Charles White (Justice of the Peace), Alan North (Max Ingelfinger). Theme Vocal: "On Our Honeymoon" by Thea and Company.

2782 For Members Only. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/11/83). Crestview is an exclusive and posh country club managed by the straight-laced Austin Ruggles and owned by the fussy Sherman Ralston. All is progressing well until two new caddies are hired—Richie Newman and Eddie Holmes, two screwups who always manage to right their wrongs before Austin can fire them. The unsold series was to relate Richie and Eddie's antics as they become involved in the problems of their guests. In the pilot episode, Richie tries to impress a beautiful new club member (Monica) by pretending to be a rich club member, not an employee.

Other Regulars: Gilbert Kovacs, a caddie; Ginger, the lifeguard; Alicia, Austin's assistant.

Cast: Robert Mandan (Austin Ruggles), Joe Davis (Richie Newman), Kevin Hooks (Eddie Holmes), Stephen Furst (Gilbert Kovacs), Kristine DeBell (Ginger Blakeley), Gretchen Wyler (Alicia McKnight), Earl Boen (Sherman Ralston). Guest Cast: Jami Gertz (Monica Mitchell), Peggy Pope (Mrs. Ralston). Theme Vocal: "For Members Only" by Janis Tunnell, Bob McGilpin.

2783 For Richer, For Poorer. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1977–1978). Dramatic incidents in the lives of the Saxtons and the Cushings, families who reside in the town of Point Claire near Boston. A revamped version of Lovers and Friends that produced 200 episodes.

Cast: David Abbott (Bentley Saxton), Tom Harper (Bill Saxton), Rod Arrants (Austin Cushing), Darlene Parks (Megan Cushing), Breon Gorman (Tessa Saxton), Laurinda Barrett (Edith Cushing), Patricia Barry (Viola Brewster), Flora Plumb (Eleanor Kimball), Cynthia Bostick (Connie Ferguson), Stephen Joyce (George Kimball), Victoria Wyndham (Rachel Corey), Christine Jones (Amy Gifford), Julia MacKenzie (Laurie Hamilton), Albert Stratton (Lester Saxton), Richard Backus (Jason), Charles Bateman (Roger Hamilton), Robert Burton (Dean Ferguson), Chu Chu Malone (Paco), Nancy Snyder (Corinne Griffin), Lynne MacLaren (Barbara Manners), Dennis Romer (Dr. Roy White). Announcer: Bill Wolf.

2784 For Some We Love. (Experimental; Drama; DuMont; 9/23/44). A proposed anthology series that was to adapt stories from Collier's magazine to television. The test program, "For Some We Love," was a two-character play about a man and a woman, married, but to different people, who meet and find an attraction to each other. Right before the story concludes, the man's wife dies. While going through her effects, he finds love letters written to her by the husband of the woman he met. The man explains this on camera and destroys the letters, sparing the woman, who has an infant son and is expecting her husband back from the war front, the fact that her man was unfaithful.

Cast: Judith Allen, Michael Warren.

2785 For the Defense. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1954). A proposed but unsold series about Matthew Considine, a former police captain turned criminal defense attorney. In the pilot episode, "The Case Against Kenny Jason," Matthew defends a young man accused of murder.

Cast: Edward G. Robinson (Matthew Considine). Guest Cast: Glenn Vernon (Kenny Jason), Ann Doran (Mrs. Jason), John Hoyt (Captain Thomas Hardy), Robert Osteloh (Duke), Vic Perrin (Barney), Herbert Hayes (Judge), Morris Ankrum (D.A.).

2786 For the Love of Mike. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/10/62). Betty Stevens is a professional singer who is married to Michael "Mike" Stevens, a struggling young intern. When the opportunity arises for Mike to complete his internship at New York's Hudson General Hospital, he and Betty leave Ohio and move to Manhattan (where they reside in a small apartment at 36 Gramercy Place). The unsold series was to relate Betty's efforts to supplement Mike's salary of $98 a month by performing as a singer with the Emil Sinclair Society Orchestra. Other Regulars: Fran and Ed Broxton, the Stevens' neighbors.

Cast: Shirley Jones (Betty Stevens), Burt Metcalf (Mike Stevens), Jack Weston (Ed Broxton), Faye DeWitt (Fran Broxton), Gale Gordon (Emil Sinclair).

2787 For the People. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1965). David Koster is an assistant district attorney with a strong sense of justice. He works out of the Manhattan's D.A.'s office and is totally dedicated to battling crime and corruption. Stories relate David's case investigations (always trying to stay within the limits of the law) and his courtroom battles as he struggles to prosecute crimes within New York State.

David is married to Phyllis and Anthony Celese is his superior (the District Attorney). Frank Malloy is the N.Y.P.D. detective assigned to the D.A.'s office.

Cast: William Shatner (David Koster), Jessica Walter (Phyllis Koster), Howard DaSilva (Anthony Celese), Lonny Chapman (Frank Malloy).

2788 For Your Love. (Series; Comedy; NBC; WB; 1998–2002). A comical look at love as seen through the activities of three couples who live in Oak Park, Illinois.

Malena and Mel Ellis are a happily married couple who have just become parents and are struggling to adjust their lives to accommodate their son (Evan). Malena has taken on the role of full time housewife and mother; Mel is struggling to establish a law firm.

Their neighbors (and close friends), Sheri and Dean Winston, are high school sweethearts who believed they were always meant to be with each other. Unfortunately, dating and living together as man and wife are two different stories. Sheri and Dean are experiencing conflicts of interest and have separated after seven years of marriage.

Reggie, Mel's younger brother was a swinger who thought he found the perfect mate in Bobbi Seawright. Here too, wedded bliss is put to the test when Reggie feels Bobbi is too controlling and after a few months of marriage, Reggie has doubts about his relationship with Bobbi.

2798 Foreign Intrigue: Cross Current. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954–1955). Christopher Storm is an American who appears to own and operate a hotel in Vienna. In reality he is a U.S. government agent and stories relate his efforts to help people in trouble with the international underworld. Cross Current is the re-syndicated title for 39 episodes that originally aired as Foreign Intrigue.

Cast: Gerald Mohr (Christopher Storm).

2799 Foreign Intrigue: Dateline Europe. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1951–1953). Robert Cannon and Helen Davis are foreign correspondents for Consolidated News; Steve Powers is a correspondent for the Amalgamated News Service. Episodes relate their attempts (on a rotational basis) to gather story material by infiltrating and exposing espionage rings. Dateline Europe is the re-syndicated title for 78 episodes that originally aired as Foreign Intrigue.

Cast: Jerome Thor (Robert Cannon), Sydna Scott (Helen Davis), Robert Arden (Steve Powers), Doreen Denning (Betty Cartier; Robert's friend).

2800 Foreign Intrigue: Overseas Adventures. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1953–1954). The story gathering assignments of Michael Powers and Patricia Bennett, foreign correspondents for Associated News. Overseas Adventures is the re-syndicated title for 39 episodes that originally aired as Foreign Intrigue.

2802 Foreign Legionnaire. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1955–1957). The shortened title for Captain Gallant of the Foreign Legion. See this title for information.

2803 Forensic Files. (Series; Reality; Court TV; 2005–2007). A reality series that reenacts a criminal case to show how the science of forensics played a pivotal role in allowing police to solve the crime. As explained on the program, cases that are seen would not have been solved without forensics, which uncovers evidence that would have otherwise been overlooked by the police during their investigation.

Narrator: Peter Thomas.

2804 Forest Ranger. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1956). An unsold series that was to relate the adventures of a group of forest rangers. Based on an actual case from the files of the U.S. Forest Service.

Cast: Dick Foran (Will Roberts), Adam Kennedy (Dave Erickson), John Dehner (Frank Jennings), Dabbs Greer (Ted Borton), Willis Bouchee (Hody Scott), Susan Cummings (Ann Loring), Bobby Clark (Jimmy Loring), Allen Jenkins (Harry Clark), Charles Smith (Chet Wiley), Chuck Robertson (Dan Talbot), Fred Krone (Hank Nixon).

2805 Forest Rangers. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1965). The experiences of the members of the Junior Ranger Club, four boys and two girls, as they assist the forest rangers of the Canadian North Woods. The series, which aired 104 episodes, is produced in Canada.

2806 Forever Eden. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004). The program has a group of men and women forsaking their current lifestyle to live a life of luxury on a tropical island called Eden. Each of the participants earns money by staying on the island — the longer they stay, the more money they can earn. However, frustration (missing friends and family) and boredom cause some island mates to quit and go home (losing all money) while others face weekly elimination contests (the islanders vote off those they feel are unworthy of the island; these people also receive nothing). Cameras follow the island mates as they play in the sun, make new friendships and form relationships. But how long will they remain in Eden? The program never really answers that question as it was cancelled after seven weeks (March 1, 2004 to April 9, 2004).

Host: Ruth England.

2807 Forever Fernwood. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1977–1978). The revised series title for Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman without series star Louise Lasser (Mary). Stories relate events in the sometimes hectic lives of the people of the fictitious town of Fernwood, Ohio.

The closing episode of Mary Hartman found Mary leaving Tom for her lover, police sergeant Dennis Foley. George Schumway, Mary's father, was an auto plant assembly line worker who fell asleep on a conveyor belt and was dumped into a vat of Rustoleum. Extensive plastic surgery changed the original George (Phil Bruns) into the new George (Tab Hunter). Several months later, after being burned in a car accident, surgery was again performed and the old George (Bruns) re-emerged.

Tom Hartman is Mary's husband; Heather is Tom's daughter. Loretta and Charlie Haggars are their neighbors. Martha and George Schumway are Mary's parents; Cathy is Mary's sister. Merle and Wanda Jeeter are Tom's friends; Raymond Larkin is Martha's senile father.

Eleanor Major is Tom's romantic interest. Penny Major is Eleanor's sister; Mac Slattery is the truck driver; Harmon Farinella is Loretta's admirer (Loretta is a singer); Jerry Hubbard is Loretta's manager; Bob Truss is the loan shark; Elke Sommer is the actress; Sal DiVito is Bob's aide; Mickey Jo Jeeter is Merle's brother; Dr. Popesco is the balloonist; Jeffrey DiVito is Sal's brother; Mel Beach is Martha's former lover; Annabelle Kearns is the girl who believes she is Mary Hartman; Nat Dearden is the lawyer. Eva is the marriage counselor; Piersall is the government agent.

Cast: Greg Mullavey (Tom Hartman), Claudia Lamb (Heather Hartman), Mary Kay Place (Loretta Haggars), Graham Jarvis (Charlie Haggars), Dody Goodman (Martha Schumway), Tab Hunter (George Schumway), Phil Bruns (George Schumway), Debralee Scott (Cathy Schumway), Dabney Coleman (Merle Jeeter), Marian Mercer (Wanda Jeeter), Victor Kilian (Raymond Larkin), Shelley Fabares (Eleanor Major), Judith Kahan (Penny Major), Dennis Burkley (Mac Slattery), Richard Hatch (Harmon Farinella), Orson Bean (Reverend Brim), Fred Willard (Jerry Hubbard), Ben Piazza (Bon Truss), Elke Sommer (Herself), Joe Penny (Sal DiVito), Tony Palmer (Mickey Jo Jeeter), Severn Darden (Dr. Popesco), Randall Carver (Jeffrey DiVito), Shelly Berman (Mel Beach), Renee Taylor (Annabelle Kearns), Lou Frizzell (Nat Dearden), Nancy Malone (Eva), Ronnie Schell (Piersall).

2808 Forever Knight. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1992). Detective Nicholas Knight of the 37th Precinct of the Toronto Metro Police Department, is the city's most unusual crime fighter — an 800 year old vampire who uses his strength, ability to fly, night vision and sensitive hearing to help him defeat evil (making him television's first good vampire).

Nicholas, called Nick, is single and lives at 7 Curtis Avenue. He drives a 1962 Cadillac and doesn't kill for blood; he has a supply of cow's blood in his refrigerator to sustain himself. Nick works the night shift (he told his captain he was allergic to sunlight) with the obnoxious Don Scanke.

While Nick's year of birth is not revealed, it was in 1228 that he wished for immortality. A master vampire named Lucien LaCroix arranged for Nicholas to have his wish. Nicholas, unable to kill anyone, turned his back on vampirism and used his powers to help good defeat evil. Nick can become mortal by facing his fears (for example, looking at a cross, which weakens him, or facing the light of day, which can destroy him).

LaCroix, who seeks to keep Nick a vampire, possesses the one item he needs to become mortal — the jade glass of the Mayan Indians (European legend states that if blood from a sacrificed victim is consumed from the glass it will cure vampirism).

Natalie Lambert, the police department's medical examiner, is aware of Nick's affliction and is seeking a way to help him become mortal without the jade glass (he begged her to help him see the sunrise and regain his mortality).

The Raven, Nick's favorite nightclub, is run by Janette, a beautiful vampire Nick met in 1228 and who now warns him when LaCroix is near. Fred Mollin composed the theme.

Note: The original pilot, Nick Knight, aired on CBS on August 20, 1989. Rick Springfield was Nicholas Knight; Michael Nader was LaCroix; John Kapelos was Don Schnake; and Cec Verrell was Janette. Dr. Jack Barrington (Robert Harper) was the police chemist attempting to help Nick (changed to Natalie for the series).

Cast: Geraint Wyn Davies (Nicholas Knight), Gary Farmer (Don Scanke), Nigel Bennett (Lucien La Croix), Catherine Disher (Natalie Lambert), Deborah Duchne (Janette).

2809 Formby's Antique Workshop. (Series; Advice; Syn.; 1975). The program features advice concerning the repair and care of furniture.

Host: Homer Formby. Hostess: Marge Thrasher. Announcer: Marge Thrasher.

2810 The Forsythe Saga. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1969–1970). The intrigues, loves and financial dealings of the Forsythe family are chronicled over a half-century beginning in Victorian England. The series, based on the novels by John Galsworth, produced 26 episodes and aired on PBS from October 5, 1969 to April 4, 1970.

Cast: Kenneth More (Jo Forsythe), Eric Porter (Soames Forsythe), Joseph O'Connor (Jolyon Forsythe), Nyree Dawn Porter (Irene), Terence Alexander (Monty), Jenny Laird (Mrs. Heron), Ursula Howells (Frances), June Barry (June), John Bennett (Bosinney), George Woodbridge (Swithin), Lana Morris (Helen), Margaret Tyzack (Winifred), Dallia Penn (Annette), Jonathan Burn (Val), Susan Hampshire (Holly), Martin Jarvis (Jon Forsythe), Michael Mont (Nicholas Pennell), Suzanne Neve (Holly), Basil Dingham (Charles Ferrar), Cyril Lukham (Lawrence Mont), Caroline Blakiston (Marjorie), Terry Scully (Bickeck), John Phillips (Mac Gowan), Hal Hamilton (Francis Wilmot).

2811 Fort Figueroa. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 8/2/88). Fort Figueroa is a decrepit building in East Los Angeles that houses tenants of every creed and color. Dwight Perry, his wife, Lee Anne, and their children, Michelle and Kyle, are a family who leave their farm in Iowa to take over the apartment building when it is left to them by a distant relative. The unsold series was to relate the displaced Perry family's efforts to adjust to a new lifestyle.

Other Regulars: Freida, Dwight's mother; the Cordero family (Mateo, his wife, Lupe, and their daughter, Xochi), who work as landscapers and hope to one day open up a nursery; Minh and Trung Vo Trang, Vietnamese exiles who operate a food van; and J.J. Bell, a mysterious but renowned disc jockey whom no one ever fully sees.

Cast: Charles Haid (Dwight Perry), Anne E. Curry (Lee Anne Perry), Holly Fields (Michelle Perry), Kurt Kinder (Kyle Perry), Anne Haney (Freida Perry), Pepe Serna (Mateo Cordero), Evelyn Cuerrero (Lupe Cordero), Marisol Rodriguez (Xochi Cordero), Dennis Phun (Minh Trang), Le Tuan (Trung Vo Trang), Frasier Smith (J.J. Bell). Guest Cast: Leon Singer (Inocente), Julian Reyes (Polo), Haun Ani Min (Thao), Michelle Naguyen (Tuey), Brian George (Razi).

2812 Fortune Dane. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1986). When Fortune Dane, an ex-pro football player and celebrated Twin Rivers police detective, solves a major case, he comes to the attention of Amanda Harding, the mayor of Bay City, California. Amanda, who requires a special detective to report directly to her about city corruption, hires Dane as her personal investigator. Stories relate Dane's case investigations for Amanda.

Other Regulars: Kathy "Speed" Davenport, Dane's aide; Perfect Tommy, Amanda's aide; Charles Dane, Fortune's father; April Saunders, Fortune's girlfriend; and Police Chief Bukowski.

Cast: Carl Weathers (Fortune Dane), Penny Fuller (Amanda Harding), Daphne Ashbrook (Kathy Davenport), Joe Dallesandra (Perfect Tommy), Adolph Caesar (Charles Dane), Eva Gholson (April Saunders), Morgan Upton (Chief Bukowski).

2813 The Fortune Hunter. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 10/27/39). A romantic comedy about a city boy (Nat) who takes a job as a soda jerk in a country drug store to be near the girl he loves (Betty). Based on the play by Winchell Smith.

Cast: Lowell Gilmore (Nat Duncan), Gloria Blondell (Betty Graves), Patricia Fitzgerald (Angela), Percy Kilbride (Sam Graham), Maurice Burke (Henry), Walter Jones (Lockwood).

2814 Fortune Hunter. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 1994). Carlton Dial is an agent for Intercept, a San Francisco-based company that will recover anything that is lost for a price. A woman, known only as Mrs. Brady, runs the company; Harry Flack is the lab technician who monitors Carlton in the field.

Carlton is a former Cold War spy who does what he does for the money — "I'm a fortune hunter." He carries a 328 Phantom gun (fires tranquilizer darts); his contact lens double as a TV camera; his watch is the transmitter (which allows Harry to track his actions). Carlton has a perfect record at Intercept and it is the most important thing to him — he'll do anything to keep it. His hobby is collecting antique airplanes.

Cast: Mark Frankel (Carlton Dial), Anne Francis (Mrs. Brady), John Robert Hoffman (Harry Flack).

2815 Foster's Home for Imaginary Friends. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2004–2006). Mac is a ten-year-old boy with a talking imaginary friend named Blooregard Q. Kazoo (Bloo for short), a security blanket. When his mother feels that Mac has outgrown Bloo, she asks that he get rid of him. Mac, however, feels he is not ready to give up Bloo and takes him to Foster's Home for Imaginary Friends, a house run by Madame Foster that adopts the unwanted characters given up by the children who created them. These characters are welcomed to stay until they are adopted by other children. Fearing to lose Bloo forever, Mac makes a deal with Madame Foster: Bloo will not be put up for adoption as long as Mac comes to play with him each day. Bloo is a bit off the wall and playful and his antics with Mac and his new friends, Coco, Wilt and Eduardo, are the focal point of the series.

Voice Cast: Sean Marquette (Mac), Keith Ferguson (Bloo), Phil LaMarr (Wilt), Tom Kenny (Eduardo), Candi Milo (Coco), Grey DeLisle (Frankie Foster), Tom Kane (Mr. Herriman).

2816 Foul Play. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1981). Gloria's World is a local kid's show on KSF-TV, Channel 8 in San Francisco. It is hosted by Gloria Munday, a former librarian (as seen in the first two episodes) and amateur sleuth who loves a good murder mystery. Tucker Pendleton, her boyfriend, is a detective with the S.F.P.D. Tucker is somewhat of a klutz and depends on Gloria for help in times of duress. Stories relate Gloria's efforts to help Tucker solve crimes.

Other Regulars: Ben and Beau, twins who are Gloria's landlords; Captain Lombardi, Tucker's superior; Stella, Gloria's assistant; Tom, Tucker's partner.

2817 Foul Ups, Bleeps and Blunders. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1984). A weekly program of outtakes from TV shows, motion pictures and commercials. Barry Parnell and Bob Booker are the producers.

Host: Don Rickles. London Correspondent: Noel Edmonds. Announcer: Dick Tufeld. Theme Music: David Lawrence.

2818 Fountain of Youth. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 9/16/58). The pilot episode for an untitled anthology series from Desilu Productions. Dr. Humphrey Baxter, a famous scientist, invents an elixir that perpetuates youth for 200 years. When his beautiful fiancée (Caroline) leaves him for another man (Alan), he gives them a special gift as a wedding present: a vial of elixir. The story relates the couple's efforts to cheat each other for the potion — until Dr. Baxter reveals it was only a fake — and his revenge. Aired as an episode of Colgate Theater.

Cast: Orson Welles (Narrator/Dr. Humphrey Baxter), Joi Lansing (Caroline Coates), Rick Jason (Alan Broadie), Nancy Kulp (Stella Morgan), Billy House (Albert Morgan).

2819 Four Eyes. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/6/84). A proposed spin-off from Riptide about Tracy and Jean (no last names given), two beautiful private detectives working in Southern California. In the pilot episode, the girls team with "Riptide" regulars Cody, Nick and Murray to solve the murder of Roger Ramsdale, a powerful man many people would like to see dead.

2820 Four in Love. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/19/85). Linda, Jerry, Pam and Dick are best friends and neighbors who are devoted to their careers and never seem to have time for each other. Linda is a former model turned art director for Style magazine; she is married to Jerry, a pathologist. Pam and Dick are screenwriters who live across the hall from them. The unsold series was to focus on their efforts to find quality time together.

In the pilot episode, Linda arranges for Pam and Dick to join her and Jerry for a special anniversary dinner, then struggles to cope with a fashion shoot that has been moved up to her special night.

Cast: Judy Landers (Linda Armstrong), Brian George (Jerry Armstrong), Mary Long (Pam), Geoffrey Bowes (Dick). Guest Cast: Derek McGrath (Jason), Mary Ann McDonald (Lenore), Eric Keenleyside (Quinn).

2821 Four-in-One. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1970–1971). The overall title for four rotating series:

McCloud, Night Gallery, The Psychiatrist and San Francisco International Airport. See these titles for information.

2822 The Four Just Men. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). Four men, friends during World War II, but having gone their separate ways since, are summoned together in England at the last request of their former commander, who asks that they continue his quest and battle injustice. Tim Collier, an American newspaper journalist; Ben Manfred, a British private detective; Ricco Poccari, an Italian hotel owner; and Jeff Ryder, a French attorney, form a union of "Four Just Men" who travel about the world to combat injustice. Stories relate their experiences on a rotational basis.

Cast: Dan Dailey (Tim Collier), Jack Hawkins (Ben Manfred), Vittorio De Sica (Ricco Poccari), Richard Conte (Jeff Ryder).

2823 Four Kings. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2006). A look at the lives of four close friends: Barry, Ben, Bobby and Jason, who call themselves "The Four Kings of New York."

The men have been friends since childhood and live together in a Manhattan apartment (402) Ben inherited from his grandmother. Ben is a free-lance writer (although he also says he works for The Village Voice). Barry works for a neurotic, washed up music producer who puts on airs and pretends he is still a big shot. Jason works for the Thorpe Development Agency and Bob appears not to have a regular job. He is the child of the group and never grew up.

The Four Kings live by a speech Ben's grandmother gave them when they were four years old: "Take care of each other because together you have the power of kings and that's what you are — Four Kings." Jason had been overweight most of his life (in grammar school he was called "Fat Jason"; at summer camp it was "Jas-Ton"). Barry likes to spoil things for other people (Bobby calls him "a mean little dude"). Ben is easily upset and has issues about food. Bobby is rather naïve and does what he can to please others.

Cast: Seth Green (Barry), Josh Cooke (Ben), Shane McRae (Bobby), Todd Grinnell (Jason).

2824 The Four of Us. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 7/18/77). Following the sudden death of her husband, Julie Matthews, a young mother of three children (Chrissy, Caroline and Andy), moves from the suburbs to New York City to begin a new life. The unsold series was to relate her struggles as she attempts to provide a decent life for her children. The pilot episode finds Julie securing a job at a five and dime store owned by Mr. Hardy.

Other Regulars: Marie, Julie's sister; Walter, Marie's husband; Estelle, Julie's neighbor; Harry, Estelle's husband; Mrs. Reilly, Julie's landlady; and Annie Ray, Julie's friend.

Cast: Barbara Feldon (Julie Matthews), Vicky Dawson (Chrissie Matthews), Kathy Jo Kelly (Caroline Matthews), William McMillan (Andy Matthews), K Callan (Marie), Lawrence Keith (Walter), Marcia Jean Kurtz (Estelle Robinson), Sam Schacht (Harry Robinson), Studie Bond (Mrs. Reilly), Peter Maloney (Mr. Hardy), Heather MacRae (Annie Ray).

2825 The Four Seasons. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1984). Danny Zimmer, a frustrated New York dentist, decides to move to California and seek a better life. His misadventures as he attempts to adjust to and make it in Los Angeles are the focal point of the eight-episode series. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Other Regulars: Claudia, his wife; Boris, his friend (owner of a bike shop); Lorraine, Boris's wife (a professor of Orthopedics at UCLA's School of Medicine); Tom, Danny's friend (a real estate salesman); Pat, Ted's girlfriend (a stuntwoman); Jack, Danny's friend (a lawyer); and Beth, Jack's daughter (a writer).

Cast: Jack Weston (Danny Zimmer), Marcia Rodd (Claudia Zimmer), Allan Arbus (Boris Elliott), Barbara Babcock (Lorraine Elliott), Tony Roberts (Ted Bolen), Joanna Kerns (Pat Devon), Alan Alda (Jack Burroughs), Elizabeth Alda (Beth Burroughs).

2826 The 416th. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/25/79). Vietnam in 1968 during the height of the war is the setting for an unsold series about Rick Michaels, a talent agent; Myron Kowalski, an accountant; Carmine Pompinece, a mechanic; and Billy Henderson, a college dropout. The four are Army reservists who are called upon and assigned to combat training as part of the 416th Medical Detachment Supply Distribution Team—the U.S. Army's smallest and most confused unit (composed of only six members with no knowledge of what the unit is supposed to do or how it is supposed to do it). Other Regulars: Colonel Davis and Lieutenant Jackson MacCalvey.

2827 Four Star Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1952–1956). A series of dramatic presentations produced by the Four Star Television Studios. The series, which produced 129 episodes, aired from September 25, 1952 to September 27, 1956. Eight episodes featured Dick Powell as nightclub owner Willie Dante (the episodes were rebroadcast as a series called The Best in Mystery. See this title for information).

Regulars: Charles Boyer, David Niven, Dick Powell, Ida Lupino. Performers Include: Beverly Garland, Peggie Castle, Dorothy Green, Joanne Woodward, Philip Ahn, Frances Bergen, Joi Lansing, Ginger Hall, Scott Forbes, Joyce Gates, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Tanya Borgh, Phyllis Coates, Arthur Franz, Teresa Wright, Stuart Whitman, Beverly Washburn, Alan Mowbray, Jennifer Raines, Angela Lansbury, Barton MacLane, John Lupton, Joanne Dru, Nigel Bruce, Gerald Mohr, Audrey Totter, Ellen Corby, Marjorie Lord, King Donovan, Paula Raymond, Mae Clarke, Maria Palmer, Amanda Blake, Martha Hyer, Carolyn Jones, Nestor Paiva, Broderick Crawford, Lucille Barkley, Elisabeth Fraser, Ronald Colman, Joan Fontaine, Barbara Lawrence, Hillary Brooke, Marcia Henderson.

2828 413 Hope Street. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1997). A teen crisis center at 413 Hope Street is the setting. Here, counselors and social workers, in particular Phil Thomas, struggle to cope with the inner city youth and their families who are in need of help (whether it be medical or psychological). Stories focus on realistic issues (from sexually transmitted diseases to wife beaters) and the work of the social workers as they deal with the harsh realities of inner city life.

2829 The 4400. (Series; Science Fiction; USA; 2004–2007). Hundreds of years in the future, mankind is facing an end stage of human evolution. With a plan to save the human race, scientists abduct 4400 people of all ages, races and walks of life from various times (the first person abducted was an eight-year-old girl named Maia in 1938).

On August 14, 2004, a ball of light, thought to be a comet, begins to approach the Earth. All military attempts to stop it fail. Just as it appears it will crash into the Earth, it changes course, reduces its speed and touches down on the shore of Lake Rainier in the Pacific Northwest. Forty-four hundred people emerge from a blinding light. They are the people who have been previously abducted but have never aged. Each has a special power and it is the future scientist's hope that these 4400 will play a pivotal role in changing the future of mankind.

The 4400 are eager to resume their lives—but while they are the same, time on earth has moved forward. None of the 4400 has any memories of where they were or who abducted them.

The government steps in and creates the NTAC (National Threat Assessment Command), a division of Homeland Security that is assigned to watch over the 4400. Tom Baldwin, a crime investigator, heads the unit. Diana Skouris, a bio medic, assists him (she also cares for Maia, the eight-year-old girl who now has no one).

The NTAC, however, is unable to contain the 4400 and rumors begin to spread about their mysterious abilities. Fear begins to take grasp. There are those who fear the 4400 and those who embrace them. Stories follow the various members of the 4400 as they set out to rebuild their interrupted lives and somehow fulfill the hopes of those future scientists.

Other characters are Jordan Collier, the most notable of the 4400. He is a wealthy real estate developer who disappeared in 2002. He appears to be the self-proclaimed leader and has established the 4400 Center, a place of refuge where the 4400 can gather to share their gifts.

Dennis Ryland was the original head of the NTAC. When he is promoted to the Deputy Director of the organization in Washington, Nina Jarvis replaces him as the head of the Pacific Northwest Division.

Marco Pacella is an NTAC scientist who works in the theory room and helps Diana understand the 4400.

Richard Tyler was a Korean War pilot who disappeared in 1951. Shawn Farrell disappeared in 2001. He can manipulate life force and becomes Jordan's protégé using his talents to generate money for the Center.

Kyle Baldwin is Tom's son, a victim of the abduction. Danny is Kyle's brother (not abducted); Nikki Hudson is a friend to Shawn and Danny. Lily Moore was abducted in 1993. When she returned she found her husband, Brian, had remarried; she fell in love with a fellow abductee, Richard Tyler.

Cast: Joel Gretsch (Tom Baldwin), Jacqueline McKenzie (Diana Skouris), Conchita Campbell (Maia Rutledge), Peter Coyote (Dennis Ryland), Samantha Ferris (Nina Jarvis), Billy Campbell (Jordan Collier), Mahershhalhashbaz Ali (Richard Tyler), Laura Allen (Lily Moore), Richard Kahan (Marco Pacella), Brooke Nevin (Nikki Hudson), Kaj-Erik Erikson (Danny Baldwin), Chad Faust (Kyle Baldwin), Patrick Flueger (Shawn Farrell).

2830 The Fox All-Star Challenge. (Pilot; Game; Fox; 4/30/95). ABC had a yearly series of specials called Battle of the Network Stars. CBS had Challenge of the Sexes and NBC had US Against the World. This is the Fox Network's turn with a program that pits celebrities against one another in a series of athletic events (in the pilot: "Water World," "Crunch Time," "The Lake," "Quiz Challenge," "Ultimate Football," "Backyard Battle," "Arm Wrestling" and "Classic Relay").

Hosts: Daisy Fuentes, Steve Young. Referee: Dan Cortese. Guests: Dean Cain, Harry Connick, Jr. Team One: Jerry Rice (Captain), Tia Carrere, Wendy Gotlieb. Team Two: Junior Seau (Captain), Jill Goodacre-Connick, Wesley Barry. Note: Team one won and received Yamaha bikes as prizes.

2831 Fractured Flickers. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1963). The program features edited versions of silent theatrical films with added synchronized, zany dialogue. Jay Ward created the series.

Host: Hans Conried.

2832 Fractured Phrases. (Series; Game; NBC; 1965). Selected members of the studio audience compete. Slogans, songs or book titles are phonetically written and flashed on a screen. The first player to identify himself through a buzzer signal receives a chance to guess the mystery puzzle. If he is correct he receives one point and the opportunity to guess the next mystery phrase; if not his opponent receives a chance to answer. The highest scoring player is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Art James.

2833 Fraggle Rock. (Series; Children; HBO; 1983). Stories relate the activities of the residents of Fraggles Rock, a world within our world: the small, fun-loving Fraggles; the diminutive Doozers, who construct buildings all day long; and the gargantuan Gorgs, who enjoy munching on Fraggles. Characters are the Muppet creations of Jim Henson. The main character is Doc, the owner of the home through which the Fraggles enter our world.

Voices: Gerald Parkes, Jerry Nelson, Dave Goelz, Steve Whitmire, Kathryn Mullen, Richard Hunt, Patricia Leeper, Robert Mills, Gordon Robertson, Myra Fried, Lee Armstrong, Tim Gosley, Bob Stutt, Cheryl Wagner, Tom Vandenberg, Terry Angus.

2834 The Frances Langford-Don Ameche Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951-1952). A potpourri of songs, comedy sketches and audience participation with actor Don Ameche and singer Frances Langford. The recurring comedy bit is "The Couple Next Door," which depicts the trials and tribulations of marriage with Jack Lemmon and Cynthia Stone. The skit became the basis for the series Heaven for Betsy. Ward Byron is the producer.

Cast: Frances Langford (Hostess), Don Ameche (Host), Jack Lemmon (Husband; skit segment), Cynthia Stone (Wife; skit segment), Neil Hamilton (Regular). Orchestra: Tony Romano.

2835 Frances Langford Presents. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 3/15/59). Performances by top name celebrities was the idea behind this unsold half-hour series. Two 30-minute pilot films were produced in 1958 but they never aired. The programs were reedited into an hour program and broadcast as a special on the above date. Charles Wick is the producer.

Host: Frances Langford. Performers: Edgar Bergen, Jerry Colonna, The Four Freshmen, Bob Hope, Julie London, Hugh O'Brian, Tony Romano, George Sanders. Orchestra: David Rose.

2836 Frank Merriwell. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/25/66). Life at Yale University at the beginning of the 20th century as seen through the eyes of Frank Merriwell, a great American and all-around nice guy who is the school's pride and joy. Frank drives a Thornycroft Double Phaeton Touring Car, has friends (Elsie, his romantic interest, Binkie and Bart) and an enemy, Brandon Drood, an all-around bad guy who can't stand Frank's goodness. The unsold series was to relate Frank's efforts to overcome Drood's endless attempts to make him look bad. In the pilot episode, Frank attempts to beat Drood in an auto race (fixed, of course, by Drood).

Cast: Jeff Cooper (Frank Merriwell), Tisha Sterling (Elsie Stanhope), Bruce Hyde (Binkie Stubbs), Beau Bridges (Brandon Drood), Murvyn Vye (Bart Farge). Guest Cast: Harry Dean Stanton (Dayton Skagg), James Flavin (Fire chief), Joe Corey and Lee Miller (Firemen), Jay Della (Aeronaut).

2837 The Frank Sinatra Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950–1952). A casual program of music and songs and light comedy with singer-actor Frank Sinatra as the host. The series ran from October 7, 1950 to April 1, 1952.

An announcer opens the show: "It's B-U-L-O-V-A, Bulova watch time; America runs on Bulova time. And now Bulova, on behalf of its 15,000 distributors, presents The Frank Sinatra Show and our stars tonight — Dagmar, Tim Herbert, Don Saxon and Eileen Barton. You'll see Joe Bushkin and Jimmy Hutton; music by Axel Stordahl; and starring Frank Sinatra (who would then begin the show with a song)."

Host: Frank Sinatra. Regulars: Erin O'Brien, Ben Blue, Sidney Fields, Joey Walsh, Pat Gaye, Roberta Lee, The Whippoorwills, The Blue Family. Orchestra: Axel Stordahl.

2838 The Frank Sinatra Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1957–1958). The program, a mixture of music and songs with anthology-like dramas, is designed to capitalize on Frank Sinatra's wide range of talents. The series ran from October 18, 1957 to June 27, 1958. Paul Dudley is the producer.

Host-Performer: Frank Sinatra. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

2839 Frankenstein Jr., and the Impossibles. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1966–1968). In an attempt to battle evil forces, U.S. government scientists create Frankenstein Jr., a thirty-foot mechanical robot. They team him with the Impossibles (Coil Man, Fluid Man and Multi Man), and disguise them as the rock group Frankenstein Jr. and the Impossibles. Stories relate their efforts to foil the plans of diabolical villains.

Voice Cast: Ted Cassidy (Frankenstein, Jr.), Dick Beals (Buzz), Hal Smith (Coil Man), John Stephenson (Father), Paul Frees (Fluid Man), Don Messick (Multi Man).

2840 Frankie and Annette: The Second Time Around. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 11/18/78). In the 1960s, Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello frolicked on the beach in a series of Beach Party movies. The series ended with Frankie and Dee Dee (Annette) going their separate ways. In 1978, Frankie is a singer and Annette is a sorority house mother at Malibu University. The pilot episode unites the duo for the first time in 12 years and sets up the unsold series storyline, which was to focus on their romantic misadventures. Other Regulars: Tiki, a student; and Dean Burroughs, the head of the school.

Cast: Frankie Avalon (Frankie), Annette Funicello (Dee Dee), Don Porter (Dean Burroughs), Helaine Lembeck (Tiki). Guest Cast: Herb Edelman (Sharkey), Taurean Blacque (Nick), Doug Rowe (Bradley).

2841 Frankie Carle Time. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1956). A program of music and songs with pianist Frankie Carle that ran from August 7, 1956 to October 29, 1956. Jim Jordan, Jr. is the producer.

Host: Frankie Carle. Regulars: The Lynn Duddy Singers, The James Starbuck Dancers, The Edith Barstow Dancers, The Mellolarks. Orchestra: Perry Botkin, Russ Case, Jimmy Carroll.

2842 The Frankie Laine Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1956). A program of music and songs with singer Frankie Laine as the host.

Host: Frankie Laine. Featured Singer: Connie Haines. Orchestra: Harry Zimmerman.

2843 Frankie Laine Time. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1955–1956). A quarter-hour program of music and songs with singer Frankie Laine. The series ran from July 10, 1955 to September 7, 1955 (8 episodes) and from August 1, 1956 to September 19, 1956 (8 episodes). Lester Gottlieb is the producer.

Host: Frankie Laine. Regulars: Connie Haines, Jud Conlon, The James Starbuck Dancers, The Rhythmairs, The Lynn Duddy Singers. Announcer: Tony Marvin. Orchestra: Hank Sylvern, Jimmy Carroll.

2844 Franklin. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1997). A television adaptation of the children's book by Paulette Bourgeois that follows the life of Franklin Turtle, a young turtle and his friends Bear, Beaver, Goose, Rabbit, Mr. Owl and Badger as they learn about life.

Voice Cast: Noah Reid (Franklin Turtle), Alexandre Isaye (Franklin; later), Cody Jones (Bear), Donald Burda (Bear; later), Luca Perlman (Bear; later), Olivia Garratt (Goose), Vivien Endicott Douglas (Goose; later), Kyle Fairlie (Rabbit), Gil Filar (Fox), Leah Cudmore (Beaver), Annick Obonsawin (Skunk), Elizabeth Brown (Franklin's mother), Richard Newman (Franklin's father), Alice Ley (Lili), Nicole Shirer (Franklin's grandmother).

2845 Frank's Place. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1987–1988). Following the death of his father, Frank Parrish, a Boston college professor, inherits the Chez Louisiane, a Creole restaurant in New Orleans. Temporarily putting his professional career on hold, Frank travels to New Orleans to keep the family business alive and run the bar. Stories follow Frank's misadventures as he attempts to run the establishment and becomes involved with staff and clientele problems.

Cast: Tim Reid (Frank Parrish), Daphne Maxwell-Reid (Hanna Griffin), Frances E. Williams (Anna May Thomas), Robert Harper (Sol "Bubba" Weisberger), Tony Burton (Big Arthur Kendall), Charles Lamkin (Tiger), Francesca P. Roberts (Miss Marie), Lincoln Kilpatrick (Reverend Tyrone Deal), William Thomas, Jr. (Cool Charles), Virginia Capers (Bertha Griffin-Lamour), Don Yesso (Shorty), Raymond Oliver (Porkie La Carre), Billy Kane (Sly).

2846 Frannie's Turn. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1992). Frannie Escobar is a seamstress who works for the designer Armondo (he hates to be called by his real name, Arthur). She is married to Joseph and is the mother of Olivia and Eddie. Frances feels she is overworked and under appreciated and begins to want more for herself out of life. Stories follow the events that occur in Frannie's life as she seeks to become her own person.

Joseph is an exterminator; Olivia is 21 years old, and Eddie, who acts weird at times, is, according to Joseph, "My punishment from God." Other Regulars: Rosa, Joseph's mother (who claims to have visions that let her see Saint Monica); and Vivian, Frannie's co-worker. The series was originally titled The Little Woman. Joseph's favorite watering hole is Sullivan's Bar and Restaurant.

Cast: Miriam Margolis (Frannie Escobar), Thomas Milian (Joseph Escobar), Phoebe Augustine (Olivia Escobar), Stivi Paskoski (Eddie Escobar), Taylor Negron (Armando), Latanya Richardson (Vivian).

2847 Frasier. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1993–2003). Frasier Crane is a 41-year-old psychiatrist who hosts The Frasier Crane Show, "a daily 2 P.M.–5 P.M. advice program on radio station KACL (780 AM) in Seattle. He lives at the Eliot Bay Towers (Apartment 1901) with his father, Martin and Martin's live-in home care specialist, Daphne Moon. Stories relate incidents in their lives.

Frasier attended Brice Academy High School and Harvard University (where his minor was music). He is divorced from the stern Lilith and is the father of Frederick. Frasier has a low high fiber breakfast "so I can start my day off right" and enjoys coffee with his brother, Niles at the Cafe Nervosa.

Niles, a psychiatrist in private practice, has an I.Q. of 156 (Frasier's is 129). Niles was married to the neurotic, well dressed, very thin and never seen Maris. Niles first lived at the luxurious Montana Hotel, then at the not-so posh Shangri La Apartments (at 52 Elm Street) while he was divorcing Maris. Niles is allergic to parchment (his ear itches, he sneezes "and I have a tough time at the library") and when he attends a theater performance, he brings his own seat cushion.

Martin, a retired police officer, has a dog named Eddie (whom Frasier dislikes for his constant habit of staring at him) and an eyesore of a recliner that clashes with Frasier's decor. Martin is obsessed with solving a 20-year-old murder case, "The Weeping Lotus Murder" (someone killed a hooker and tried to stuff her body into a bowling ball bag). He feels he is overlooking a crucial clue but can't figure out what it is. In his youth, Martin was a mounted policeman and rode a horse named Agadies.

Daphne was born in Manchester, England, and as a child was the star of the British TV series Mind Your Knickers (about a 12-year-old girl in a private boarding school; she played Emma). Daphne is psychic and gets "psychic headaches" when there is negative energy around her. She is also a pool shark (she learned her skills from her brothers when she was six years old).

Roz Doyle assists Frasier at the radio station (producer-call screener-engineer). She is from Wisconsin (where her mother is the attorney general) and is a law school dropout. The character of Frasier first appeared on the series Cheers (where he was a bar regular).

Cast: Kelsey Grammer (Frasier Crane), David Hyde Pierce (Niles Crane), John Mahoney (Martin Crane), Jane Leeves (Daphne Moon), Peri Gilpin (Roz Doyle), Luke Tarsitano (Frederick Crane).

2848 Fraud Squad. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/17/85). Kelly, Bonnie, Joyce, Carmen, Dorrie and Buster are the Fraud Squad, an all-female division of the L.A.P.D. that goes undercover to apprehend con artists. In the pilot episode, "The Fraud Broads" (as they are sometimes called), attempt to trap Ramone Minoti, a casanova con artist. Other Regulars: Lieutenant Charles Reiner, their superior; and Myron Perdie, the Assistant D.A.

Cast: Ann Dusenberry (Kelly Myerson), Nana Visitor (Bonnie Dalton), Audrie J. Neenan (Joyce Betterman), Beverly Todd (Carmen Finestra), Lu Leonard (Buster Belkam), Christine Claridge (Dorrie Dersh- wick), Ted Ross (Charles Reiner), Arthur Rosenberg (Myron Perdie). Guest Cast: Rod McCary (Ramone Minoti), Allyn Ann McLerie (Mrs. Winston), Ian Abercrombie and Shelly Lipman (Prisoners).

2849 Freakazoid. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1995–1997). Dexter Douglas is a computer geek who lives in Washington, D.C. One Christmas Dexter receives a pinnacle computer chip as a gift. Unknown to Dexter, the chip has a flaw. Dexter loads the chip, goes onto the Internet and is immediately drawn into the computer. Here, his brain becomes like a hard drive with all the information that is contained on the web transferred to his brain. Unfortunately (again) for Dexter, he is returned to his world as a blue-skinned, weird-haired “Freakazoid” who, due to an over capacity of information, talks in computer dribble as well. Now, dressed in red and with all the knowledge known to man, Douglas becomes Freakazoid, a fearless super hero who uses laughter (jokes and silly movements) to deal with the villains (almost as nutty as he is) that plague the city.

Debbie and Douglas Douglas are Dexter’s parents (his father has the same first and last name); Steff is Dexter’s friend; Mike Cosgrove is the police sergeant Dexter helps.

Voice Cast: David Kaufman (Dexter Douglas), Paul Rugg (Freakazoid), Tracy Rowe (Steff), Tress MacNeille (Debbie Douglas), John P. McCann (Douglas Douglas), Edward Asner (Sgt. Mike Cosgrove), Joe Leahy (Narrator).

2850 Freaks and Geeks. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1999–2000). The series is set in Michigan in 1980 and focuses on two groups of high school students: the lowly geeks and the square freaks as they attempt to gain acceptance from their peers.

Principal focus is on Lindsay Weir and her brother Sam (the children of Harold and Jean Weir). Lindsay is beautiful and smart (especially in math) and close to her grandmother. When her grandmother dies, Lindsay feels her life is falling apart and drops her smarts to become a freak (she is a sophomore). Sam is just beginning high school and his square ways place him in the geek category with his friends Bill and Neil. These characters are not the beautiful people usually depicted on high school oriented series and the trials and tribulations of these groups to fit in just didn’t appeal to network executives and the series was cancelled after ten months on the air.

Cast: Linda Cardellini (Lindsay Weir), John Francis Daley (Sam Weir), Joe Flaherty (Harold Weir), Becky Ann Baker (Jean Weir), Martin Starr (Bill Haverchuck), Samm Levine (Neil Schweiber), Seth Rogen (Ken Miller), Jason Segel (Nick Andopolis), James Franco (Daniel Desario), Busy Philipps (Kim Kelly), Michael Beardsley (Humphries), Shawn Song (Stroker), Sarah Hagan (Millie Kentner), Steve Bannos (Frank Kowchevski), Jerry Messing (Gordon Crisp), Dave Allen (Jeff Russo), Natasha Melnick (Cindy Sanders), Thomas F. Wilson (Coach Ben Fredricks), JoAnna Garcia (Vicki Appleby), Lizzie Caplan (Sara).

2851 Freakylinks. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 2000–2001). Freakylinks.com (originally called occultresearch.com) is a Florida-based Internet website devoted to answering the questions that have no answers: investigating strange phenomena.

The website was originally started by Adam Barnes. After Adam’s mysterious suicide (possibly linked to the unnatural) his twin brother, Derek, a surfer/slacker took over the website to uncover the hidden truths behind urban legends.

Lan Williams is the site’s web mistress; Jason Tatum is Derek’s partner; Chloe Tanner and Vince Elsing are the other members of the group who go beyond the Internet and risk their lives to uncover the dark mysteries of the unknown.

Chloe is a psychiatrist and was Adam’s fiancé; She and Derek have a very personal interest in freaky links.com: to find the reason behind Adam’s apparent suicide.

Cast: Ethan Embry (Derek and Adam Barnes), Lizette Carrion (Lan Williams), Lisa Sheridan (Chloe Tanner), Karim Prince (Jason Tatum), Dennis Christopher (Vince Elsing).

2852 Fred and Barney Meet the Shmoo. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1979–1980). A revamped version of Fred and Barney Meet the Thing (which see for information). The Thing segment is dropped and a new segment titled The Shmoo is added. Stories relate, in particular, the prehistoric adventures of Fred and Wilma Flintstone and their neighbors, Barney and Betty Rubble. “The Shmoo” segment is based on the Al Capp comic strip character who can change its form and its three human friends, Nita, Mickey and Billie Joe, as they investigate psychic phenomena.

Voice Cast: Henry Corden (Fred Flintstone), Jean VanderPyl (Wilma Flintstone), Mel Blanc (Barney Rubble), Gay Autterson (Betty Rubble), Frank Welker (The Shmoo), Dolores Cantu-Primo (Nita), Chuck McCann (Billie Joe), Bill Idelson (Mickey).

2853 Fred and Barney Meet the Thing. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1979). The overall title for two series: Fred and Barney and The Thing. Newly animated adventures in the prehistoric lives of Fred and Wilma Flintstone and their neighbors, Betty and Barney Rubble comprise the Fred and Barney segment. The Thing tells the story of Benjy Grimm, a high school student who, when the need arises, changes himself into the Thing, an orange hulk he uses to help good defeat evil.

Voice Cast: Henry Corden (Fred Flintstone), Jean VanderPyl (Wilma Flintstone), Mel Blanc (Barney Rubble), Gay Autterson (Betty Rubble), Jean Vander-Pyl (Pebbles Flintstone), Don Messick (Bamm Bamm Rubble), John Stephenson (George Slate), Mel Blanc (Dino), Wayne Morton (Benjy), Joe Baker (The Thing), Noelle North (Kelly), Marilyn Schreffler (Betty), Art Metrano (Spike), John Erwin (Ronald, the rich kid).

2854 Fred Flintstone and Friends. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1977–1978). The series features excerpts from several Hanna-Barbera produced series that were originally broadcast by the various broadcast networks on Saturday mornings: The Flintstones Comedy Hour, Goober and the Ghost Chasers, Jeannie, Partridge Family: 2200 A.D., Pebbles and Bamm Bamm and Yogi's Gang. See these titles for information.

Cast: Henry Corden (Voice of host Fred Flintstone).

2855 Fred Waring Pleasure Time. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 1/19/44). A live program of music and songs with band leader Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians Orchestra. Sponsored by Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Host: Fred Waring. Performers: Donna Dae, Polly McClintock, The Bees and a Honey, The Squires. Orchestra: Fred Waring.

2856 The Fred Waring Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949–1957). A twice-weekly program of music and songs with bandleader Fred Waring as the host. The series ran for 60 minutes from April 17, 1949 to May 30, 1954 and for 30 minutes from July 22, 1957 to August 30, 1957.

Host: Fred Waring. Regulars: Jane Wilson, Stuart Churchill, Joanne Wheatley, Joe Marine, Daisey Bernier, Gordon Goodman, Sylvia Textor, Virginia Gearhart, Bob Sands, Nadine Gae, Frances Wyatt, Suzanne Lovell, Hugh Brannum, Leonard Kranendonk, Joan Woodward, The Fred Waring Glee Cub, The Marc Breau Dancers, The Pennsylvanians. Announcer: Red Barber. Orchestra: Fred Waring.

2857 Freddie. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2005–2006). Freddie Moreno is a successful, single, womanizing chef living in Chicago. His life suddenly changes when he inherits three generations of his family: his sister, Allison (after her marriage collapses), his sister-in-law, Sofia (after the death of her husband, Freddie's brother), Sofia's beautiful 13-year-old daughter, Zoey, and Freddie's mother, called "Grandma." Stories follow events in Freddie's life as he desperately attempts to live with four vastly different women and continue his girl-chasing, partying ways with his best friend and neighbor, Chris.

Cast: Freddie Prinze, Jr. (Freddie Moreno), Brian Austin Green (Chris), Jacqueline Obradors (Sofia), Chloe Suazo (Zoey), Madchen Amick (Allison), Jenny Gago (Grandma).

2858 Freddy's Nightmares — A Nightmare on Elm Street: The Series. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1988–1990). During the trial of mass murderer Freddy Krueger, a loophole is found that dismisses the case and allows the killer to go free. A group of irate citizens, determined to see that justice is done, form a vigilante group and hunt Freddy down. They trap Freddy in a boiler room and burn him to death. Freddy's evil spirit, however, refuses to die, and lives to terrorize the people of the small town of Springwood. Stories, adopted from the theatrical films series A Nightmare on Elm Street, relate incidents in the lives of the people whose dreams are haunted by Freddy.

Cast: Robert Englund (Freddy Krueger).

2859 Free Country. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1978). New York City at the turn of the century is the setting for a five-episode program that focuses on the lives of Lithuanian immigrants Joseph and Anna Bresner from 1909 to 1978. The program opens with Joseph, at age 89, as he talks about his life. Flashback sequences are used to highlight both his and Anna's arrival and struggles in a new land.

Other Regulars: Ida and Sidney, their neighbors; Leo and Louis, their friends; and Joseph's cousin, Willie.

Cast: Rob Reiner (Joseph Bresner), Judith Kahan (Anna Bresner), Renne Lippin (Ida Gewertzman), Fred McCarren (Sidney Gewertzman), Larry Gelman (Leo Gold), Joe Pantoliano (Louis Peschi), Larry Hankin (Willie Bresner).

2860 Free Ride. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2006). Nate Stahlings is a recent graduate of Santa Barbara State College. He majored in business administration, interned at a Boston company, but found the experience unrewarding. With no game plan, Nate decides to return to his hometown of Johnson City, Missouri. There he plans to live with his parents (Bob and Margo) and take things easy until something comes along.

Nate, however, finds his parents have changed the locks, turned his room into a gym and have regulated him to an airbed in the garage. He also finds his parents are in therapy (Bob wants to have sex with a woman other than Margo) and Nate uses this (helping his parents overcome their marital problems) to insure him a free ride — living at home with no responsibilities. Stories follow Nate as he seeks his place in society.

Other Regulars: Amber Danwood, Nate's girlfriend from high school (she works as a teller at the National Bank). Although she is engaged to another man, she still finds an attraction to Nate; and Mark Dove, Dave's idiotic friend, a party animal who hasn't the sense to come in out of the rain.

Cast: Josh Dean (Nate Stahlings), Allan Harvey (Bob Stahlings), Loretta Fox (Margo Stahlings), Erin Cahill (Amber Danwood), Dave Sheridan (Mark Dove).

2861 Free Spirit. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1989–1990). Winnie Goodwin is a very pretty and kind but slightly dizzy witch. She was born in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1665, and Halloween is her least favorite holiday (“It strains my powers”). Winnie is one of several witches who help needy earthlings through a public service duty program.

Thomas J. Harper is a divorced private practice attorney and the father of three children: Jessica, Robb and Gene. They live in a comfortable home at 33 Essex Drive in Connecticut, but Gene, the youngest, feels insecure and wishes he had someone to take care of him, Jessica and Robb. Gene’s wish is granted when Winnie appears (Gene made his wish at the exact same moment Winnie’s turn for duty came up). Gene convinces his father that they need help, and Tom hires Winnie as their housekeeper (her true identity is known only to the children). Stories relate Winnie’s efforts to provide a stable influence for three children whose father has little time to spend with them.

Jessica is a member of “the cool club” at her school, the “Debs”; Gene is a member of the Pizza House Little League team. Josie Davis played Winnie’s beautiful younger sister, Cassandra Goodwin, and Michael Constantine was their father (no name given).

In the original, unaired pilot film (taped in May 1989), Christopher Rich played Thomas and Shonda Whipple was Jessica. Steve Dorff and John Betts composed the theme, “She’s a Free Spirit.”

Cast: Corinne Bohrer (Winnie Goodwin), Franc Luz (Thomas J. Harper), Alyson Hannigan (Jessica Harper), Paul Scherrer (Robb Harper), Edan Gross (Gene Harper).

2862 Free Willy. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1994–1996). An animated television adaptation of the live action film of the same title. Jesse is a troubled 12-year-old youth who, while vandalizing a marina, is caught red handed. Being a juvenile, Jesse is sentenced to perform public service — cleaning the marina. There he bonds with Willy, a baby Orca whale captured by fishermen (and separated from its mother). Jesse also discovers he has the uncanny ability to communicate with Willy by relaxing his mind. Trouble soon brews when Rocklyn Stone, a half robot, half human known as the Machine, begins polluting the oceans of the world. With the ability to control Willy, Jesse begins a quest to stop the Machine and save the oceans. Stories, which relate their battle, also present environmental lessons for children. Marlene is an African-American teenager who helps Jesse; Einstein is a baby dolphin; Lucille is the sea lion.

Voice Cast: Zachary Bennett (Jesse), Paul Haddad

(Willy), Gary Krawford (The Machine), Alyson Court (Lucille), Rachel Crawford (Marlene), Kevin Zegers (Einstein), Sheila McCarthy (Annie), Neil Crone (Mr. Naugle).

2863 Freebie and the Bean. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1980–1981). Tim “Freebie” Walker and Dan “The Bean” Delgado are plainclothes police sergeants who work as a team to gather evidence against underworld figures scheduled for prosecution by the San Francisco District Attorney’s office. Stories, based on the feature film of the same title, relate their sometimes comical efforts to do so.

Other Regulars: Walter Cruskshank, the D.A.; Rodney, the police garage mechanic; and Wally the Wino, the informant. Bobby Hart performs the theme, “You and Me Babe.”

Cast: Tom Mason (Tim Walker), Hector Elizondo (Dan Delgado), William Daniels (Walter Cruskshank), Mel Stewart (Rodney Axel), Carmen Filipi (Wally the Wino).

2864 Freedom. (Series; Adventure; UPN; 2000–2001). It is the near future. War has broken out in the Middle East. Domestic terrorism has become a serious problem. In an effort to stop the violence, the President tours the country, urging peace and calm. Then unexpectedly, the President’s plane, Air Force One, crashes and the President is presumed dead.

Martial law is declared and the United States is turned into a police state. Curfews are enforced and identity papers are required for all. Penalties for unlawful behavior are harsh and certain. Two years later, stability and peace are returned to the country. But the military personnel from those special operations units used to impose martial law now pose a threat to the new order.

Owen Decker, Becca Shaw, James Barrett and Londo Pearl are four such specialists who are captured by U.S. Special Forces and sent to the William Jefferson Clinton Federal Prison. The charge: treasonable acts against the U.S.

Fifteen months later, a secret government organization, the Resistance, arranges for them to escape. After accomplishing their mission, they meet their mysterious female contact, Jin and learn “that the world isn’t what you remember when you went in. Everything has changed.” Half the country accepts the idea of a military takeover; the other half desires a freedom like before. A civil war has broken out and the Resistance needs their help to restore freedom by overthrowing the powers that reject it. Decker is given an encrypted cell phone (good for one use only). “When it rings it means the Resistance needs you.”

Decker, a captain, was assigned to a top secret military unit called Covert Operations 10 Zulu. When his unit was assigned to kill the President and blame it on domestic terrorism, he refused and was arrested. The military leader, Colonel Devon, killed his wife and kidnapped his son when Decker resisted arrest. Decker's mission is also a personal one: get Devon and find his son. He believes that "My country betrayed me."

Becca, a lieutenant with the Army Rangers, is well trained in the martial arts. She refused to carry out a mission against innocent civilians and was arrested.

Londo is a first sergeant with the U.S. Army's Special Intelligence Forces. He becomes tense and uneasy if he has to go without coffee for long periods of time. Londo, like Becca, was arrested for refusing to betray his country.

James, nicknamed Jake, was a Navy SEAL arrested on the same charges (he says "They gave me orders and I refused to obey them"). The series ended without any conclusions. Eddie Jobson composed the theme.

Cast: Holt McCallany (Owen Decker), Scarlett Chorvat (Becca Shaw), Darius McCrary (James Barrett), Bodhi Elfman (Londo Pearl), James Morrison (Colonel Devon), Francoise Yip (Jin).

2865 Freedom Rings. (Series; Game; CBS; 1953). A household crisis is enacted on stage by a group of actors. A female contestant, chosen from the studio audience, must suggest a way to solve the problem. Players, judged by the studio audience, receive prizes according to their satisfaction (applause). The title stresses the sponsor's theme of freedom from the drudgery of housework. The series, sponsored by Westinghouse, ran from March 3, 1953 to August 17, 1953.

Host: John Beal. Regulars: Alice Ghostley, Malcolm Broderick, Joy Hilton, Chuck Taylor, Ted Tiller. Announcer: Vince Williams.

2866 Freeman. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/19/76). Shortly after the Wainwright family (Dwight, his wife, Helen, and their son, Timmy) move into a colonial house at 36 Post Road in Darien, Connecticut, they discover that it is haunted by a ghost named Freeman. Freeman cherished the house when he was alive and now refuses to leave. The unsold series was to relate the problems that befall all concerned as they struggle to live together. In the pilot episode, Dwight hires a slightly cracked spiritualist (Madam Arkadina) to convince Freeman to disappear permanently.

Cast: Stu Gilliam (Freeman), Linden Chiles (Dwight Wainwright), Beverly Sanders (Helen Wainwright), Jimmy Baio (Timmy Wainwright), Melinda Dillon (Madam Arkadina; guest role).

2867 The Freewheelers. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/4/64). Marrieds Lincoln and Monica Wheeler are the "Freewheelers" of the title, traveling authors and newspaper columnists who go to where the news is to write stories. In the pilot episode, Lincoln's simple attempts to cover a story involve him in international cloak and dagger.

Cast: Tommy Noonan (Lincoln Wheeler), Patricia Barry (Monica Wheeler). Guest Cast: Jacques Bergerac (Coco Sorel). Also: Elvia Allman, Gaylord Cavallero, Fritz Feld, Kathleen Freeman, Nancy Kulp.

2868 The Fresh Prince of Bel Air. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990–1996). Will Smith, born in West Philadelphia on July 3, 1973, attended West Philly High and carried his books in a pizza box so no one would know he was studying. Fearing that her son was hanging out with the wrong crowd, Will's mother, Viola, sends him to Bel Air, California, to live with his rich relatives, Philip and Vivian Banks in the hope they will teach him values.

Will first attended the Bel Air Academy, then the University of Los Angeles (ULA). He plays ball at the L.A. Recreational Center and held jobs as a car salesman at Mulholland Motors; waiter at the Brawny Deep (where he dressed as a pirate); waiter at the college hangout, the Peacock Stop; waiter at the off-campus sportsbar, Chesler's Touchdown; and finally as the assistant talent coordinator (books guests) for the TV show Hilary.

Philip proposed to Vivian on the air on Soul Train (they were at the unscramble board and Philip used the letters intended to identify a celebrity to ask Vivian to marry him). He lives two houses from Ron and Nancy Reagan ("We even share the same pool man") and is a lawyer with the firm of Furth and Meyer (he is later a judge). Philip, middle name Zeke, grew up on a farm in Yamacrow, Nebraska. He had a pet pig (Melvin) and won the Young Farmers of America Pig Passing Contest four years in a row; he was also the first black president of the Young Farmers of America. He attended Princeton University and Harvard Law School, and won the Urban Spirit Award for his community work.

Vivian is a college professor who does substitute teaching at the Bel Air Academy, USC, ULA and UCLA. She gave birth to her and Philip's fourth child, Nicholas Andrew, on 2/22/93. Their other children are Hilary, Carlton and Ashley.

Hilary, 21, is beautiful, extremely feminine and conceited. She attended UCLA (quit when she found it too difficult) and dreams of a glamorous job so when people ask what she does she can see them turn green with envy. She first worked in the Bel Air Mall, then as the personal assistant to a has been movie star (Marissa Redmond). When Philip took Hilary's credit cards away ("You spend more money on clothes than some small nations spend on grain") Hilary found a job with Delectable Eats Catering. When this dissatisfied her, she found work as the weather girl on KFPB, Channel 8's News in Action (a paper called “The I Hate Hilary Newsletter” was published criticizing her skimpy wardrobe and lack of weather knowledge). This led to her hosting her own talk show, Hilary. Hilary posed nude for a Playboy layout on weather girls called “Warm Fronts” (Hilary’s breasts were covered by clouds). Hilary reads 17 and She magazines and will never wear the same clothes twice.

Carlton first attended the Bel Air Academy (3.9 grade point average; member of the poetry and glee clubs) and ULA with Will. Here Carlton worked as manager of the bookstore, the Peacock Stop. Carlton is majoring in pre-law (he hopes to attend Harvard Law School). He had his first crush on Tootie (The Facts of Life) and still hopes to meet her. He believes the world has gone crazy “since M&M’s introduced the blue ones”; Will believes he is an idiot for all the crazy things he does.

Ashley, born in 1979, first attended the Hollywood Preparatory Institute, then the Bel Air Academy (which she left to attend Morris High School). Hilary is proud that Ashley is dating right and becoming as beautiful as she is. When Ashley wrote a song called “Make Up Your Mind,” Will tried to launch her on a music career (which failed when Will had radio stations constantly play the song and kids got sick of hearing it). When her parents are away, Ashley throws parties.

Geoffrey, the prim and proper English butler, started his career with a Lord Fowler. He enjoys “loosening up” at the Circle M Dude Ranch on his weekends off and calls Will “Master William” (Will calls him “G”).

Cast: Will Smith (Himself), James Avery (Philip Banks), Janet Hubert-Whitten (Vivian Banks), Daphne Maxwell Reid (Vivian Banks; later), Karyn Parsons (Hilary Banks), Alfonso Ribeiro (Ashley Banks), Tatyana M. Ali (Ashley Banks), Joseph Marcell (Geoffrey), Ross Bagley (Nicholas “Nicky” Banks).

2869 Freshman Dorm. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1992). A five-episode program about the rite of passage of Louise “Lulu” Victoria Abercrombie, Molly Flynn and K.C. Richards, three first year students at Western Pacific University, who are struggling to deal with the academic and social pressures of college.

Molly is from Milwaukee and studying theater; Lulu hails from New York (she lives on Park Avenue) and is rich; K.C. is from Palm Springs and her real name is Kamala Consuela Ricardo; she uses K.C. Richards so no one will know she is from a large, poor family (she is at school on a scholarship and works as a waitress at Monroe’s Coffee Shop). Other Students: Zack, Danny, Alex and Joe.

Cast: Paige French (Lulu Abercrombie), Robyn Lively (Molly Flynn), Arlene Taylor (K.C. Richards), Casper Van Sien (Zack Taylor), Matthew Fox (Danny Foley), Kevin Mambo (Alex Woods), Justin Lazard (Joe Ellis).

2870 Friday Night Lights. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2006–). Dillon is a small West Texas town with only one thought—the Dillon Panthers, the football team of Dillon High School who are number one in pre-season ranking. The townspeople are so focused on the Panthers that when the team plays on Friday, stores close. At other times, the team seems to dominate virtually every conversation. Small town life is also depicted with a focus on the team members, their friends and family.

Eric Taylor is the coach, a former offensive coordinator; Jason Street is the star quarterback (later crippled in a car crash); Brian “Smash” Williams, Matt Saracen and Tim Riggins are the other featured players. The series is based on the book by Buzz Bissinger (which was also the basis for a feature film). See also Against the Grain.

Cast: Scott Porter (Jason Street), Adrianna Palicki (Tyra Collette), Minka Kelly (Lyla Garrity), Gaius Charles (Brian “Smash” Williams), Zach Gilford (Matt Saracen), Connie Britton (Tami Taylor), Derek Phillips (Billy Riggins), Kyle Chandler (Coach Eric Taylor), Aimee Teegarden (Julie Taylor), Jesse Plemons (Landry Clarke), Katherine Willis (Joanne Street), Nieko Mann (Noannie Williams), Liz Mikel (Corinna Williams), Blue Deckert (Coach Mac McGill), Kevin Rankin (Herc) Ravin Alexander (Christina), Cindy Creekmore (Missy Aubrey), Robert Parish (Phil), Whitney McCauley (Sheila Williams), Walter Perez (Bobby “Bull” Reyes), Libby Villari (Mayor Lucy Rodell), Kate Krause (Tabby Garrity).

2871 Friday Night Surprise. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/26/88). The pilot episode for a proposed series called Surprise! The program surprises celebrities and ordinary people via reunions, practical jokes and clips of unexpected happenings (bloopers). See the next title also.

Host: Dick Clark. Guests: Loni Anderson, John Davidson, Dom DeLuise, Morgan Fairchild, Jackee Harry, Robin Leach, William Shatner, Malcolm-Jamal Warner.

2872 Friday Night Surprise. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/31/89). A potpourri of surprises (for example, Scott Baio surprising two fans; “Mistress of the Dark” Elvira posing as her own figure in a wax museum; Chuck Connors paying a visit to a long-time fan) for an unsold series slated to be called Surprise! See also the prior title.

Host: Dick Clark. Guests: Scott Baio, Bob Costas, Chuck Connors, Bob Denver, Alan Hale, Jr., Cassandra Peterson (Elvira), Betty White.

2873 Friday the 13th: The Series. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1987–1990). Lewis Vendredi runs a curious goods shop called Vendredi Antiques. For his own sinister purposes, Lewis makes a pact with the Devil to sell cursed antiques — items that compel their owners to kill. Following Lewis's mysterious death by demonic forces, his estranged cousins Micki Foster and Ryan Dallion inherit the shop. Micki and Ryan decide not to keep the shop and are about to sell off the inventory, when they meet Jack Marshak, an antique dealer who was friends with Lewis. Jack tells them about Lewis and convinces them they must retrieve the cursed antiques. They become a team and reopen the shop as Curious Goods. (They store the cursed antiques they retrieve in a secret vault in the basement; they are helped greatly by Lewis's journals of the objects sold and to whom. Unfortunately, the items have changed hands since the original sale and much detective work is required to track down the new owners. The cursed objects appear to be harmless — until they come into someone's possession.)

Michael Constantine played Ryan's father, Ray Dallion, and Zachary Bennett was Micki's nephew, J.B. In last season episodes, the character of Johnny Ventura replaced Ryan Dallion. Fred Mollin composed the "Friday the 13th" theme.

Cast: Louise Robey (Micki Foster), John D. LeMay (Ryan Dallion), Chris Wiggins (Jack Marshak), Steven Monarque (Johnny Ventura), Sean McCann (Vince Ventura; Johnny's father), R.G. Armstrong (Lewis Vendredi).

2874 Fridays. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980–1982). A satiric and humorous look at the foibles of present-day society. Thirty-nine episodes were broadcast for 70 minutes each from April 11, 1980 to September 11, 1981; 24 episodes were broadcast for 100 minutes each from September 18, 1981 to October 22, 1982.

Regulars: Mark Blankfield, Maryedith Burrell, Melanie Chartoff, Larry David, Darrow Igus, Brandis Kemp, Kenny Loggins, Bruce Mahler, Michael Richards, John Roarke. Announcer: Jack Burns.

2875 Friend of the Family. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/14/88). A proposed spin-off from My Two Dads about Ed Klawicki, the owner of Klawicki's, a diner located in the apartment building where series regulars Joey, Michael and Nicole live.

The story begins when Roy Kupus, the older brother of Nicole's friend, Cory, borrows Joey's motorcycle and smashes it into the diner. When Roy is unable to pay for the damages, a judge orders him to work at the diner until the damages are paid. Roy and Cory live with their mother, Karen, an attractive divorcee with whom Ed begins a promising relationship. Ed also takes on a fatherly role and the unsold series was to focus on the problems that befall Ed and his new family.

Cast: Dick Butkus (Ed Klawicki), Lauren Tewes (Karen Kupus), Vonni Ribisi (Cory Kupus), Bradley

Gregg (Roy Kupus). Guest Cast: Greg Evigan (Joey Harris), Paul Reiser (Michael Taylor), Staci Keanan (Nicole Bradford), Florence Stanley (Judge Margaret Wilbur).

2876 Friends. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/19/78). Teddy Serrano and Scott Rollins are once-popular rock singers who forsake the "road" to become staff songwriters for a Hollywood record company. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures that occur as a result of their differing points of view: Teddy, a bachelor, longs for the glamour of performing and looks for ways to get himself and Scott back on stage, while Scott likes songwriting because it gives him more time to spend with his family (his wife, Susan, and their son, Kevin). Other Regulars: J.B., the record company president; and Leslie, the secretary.

Cast: Michael Tucci (Teddy Serrano), Darrell Fetty (Scott Rollins), Susan Buckner (Susan Rollins), Stephen Mond (Kevin Rollins), Brian Cutler (J.B. Henderson), Dori Brenner (Leslie Frankel). Guest Cast: George Wyner (Mike), Rae Dawn Chong (Diane Miller), Larry Cedar (Gordon Bass).

2877 Friends. (Series; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1979). A serio-comic look at growing pains as seen through the eyes and experiences of Nancy Wilks, Peter Richards and Randy Summerfield, three 11 year olds who live in Westerby, California.

Other Regulars: Frank and Pamela, Peter's parents; Cynthia, Peter's sister; Jane and Warren, Randy's parents; Charlie, Nancy's father; and Bill, the school bus driver.

Cast: Jill Whelan (Nancy Wilks), Charles Aiken (Peter Richards), Jarrod Johnson (Randy Summerfield), Andy Romano (Frank Richards), Karen Morrow (Pamela Richards), Alicia Fleer (Cynthia Richards), Janet MacLachlan (Jane Summerfield), Roger Robinson (Warren Summerfield), Dennis Redfield (Charlie Wilks), Lew Horn (Bill).

2878 Friends. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994–2004). Monica Geller, Rachel Greene, Phoebe Buffay, Ross Geller, Joey Tribbiani and Chandler Bing are six close friends who live in Manhattan. Stories relate comical events in their lives.

Monica shares Apartment 20 with Rachel. She is a chef and first became interested in cooking "when I got my first Easy Bake Oven and opened Easy Monica's Bakery." While she won't admit it, her love of cooking was also responsible for her being overweight in high school.

Monica is head chef at Alesandro's Restaurant and the food critic for the Chelsea Reporter. She also worked as a roller skating waitress (with blonde wig and stuffed bra) at the Moondance Diner and with Phoebe in a short-lived catering business (Monica did the cooking; Phoebe drove the van). Monica numbers the bottoms of her coffee mugs “so I can keep track of them.”

Rachel, middle name Karen, originally worked as a waitress at the group’s favorite hangout, a coffee shop called Central Perk. Possessing a flair for fashion design, Rachel quit the waitress job and found employment at Fortunato Fashions, then at Bloomingdale’s as a Junior Miss (assistant; she was later promoted to assistant buyer). When the store eliminated her job, she became a Bloomingdale’s Personal Shopper (helps people shop). When a better opportunity came her way, she quit for a job as fashion consultant at Ralph Lauren. She later has a baby (Emma) with Ross (although they do not marry).

Phoebe, called “Pheebs,” is a masseuse at Healing Hands, Inc. She has a dim-witted twin sister named Ursula (also played by Lisa Kudrow) who works as a waitress at Riff’s Bar (she appears occasionally on the series Mad About You). Phoebe, a vegetarian, was born on February 16, is somewhat of a psychic, and enjoys playing and writing folk songs (she performs at Central Perk and has recorded the “hit” song “Smelly Cat”).

Phoebe claims to make the best oatmeal raisin cookies in the world but doesn’t make them often “because it would be unfair to the other cookies.” When her business venture with Monica failed, Phoebe tried to turn her van into a taxi and begin Relax-a-Taxi (a cab with a massage table in the back).

Ross is Monica’s brother. He is a paleontologist with the Museum of Natural History (also mentioned as the Museum of Prehistoric History). In college, Ross played the keyboard and composed “wordless sound poems” (music with sound effects; each song ended with an explosion). Ross was married to Carol (Jane Sibbett) but lost her to her lesbian lover, Susan Bunch (Jessica Hecht). Carol gave birth to Ross’s son, Ben, shortly after leaving him.

Joey is the dim-witted member of the group. He is a hopeful actor with the Estelle Leonard Talent Agency. His big break came “when I got the part of the butt double for Al Pacino” (in an unnamed movie). Joey appeared in a porn movie (title not given) when he first started acting and was a regular on the TV soap opera Days of Our Lives (playing Dr. Drake Ramore. The character, named “The most dateable neurosurgeon” by Teen Beat magazine, was killed off when he fell down an elevator shaft). He next starred in a TV series called Mac and Cheese (Joey, a cop, is teamed with Cheese, a futuristic robot).

Joey guest-starred on an episode of Law and Order, made an infomercial (for the milk carton spout) and played Victor, the husband in an unnamed Broadway play at the Lucille Cortel Theater.

Chandler, a data processor, shares Apartment 19 with Joey (across the hall from Monica). Chandler hides the fact that “I have a third nipple.” While Chandler has to live with Joey, he also contends with Joey’s two pets — a duck and a chicken (the duck is called Duck and the chicken, Chicken; Chandler has also called the chicken “Our Chick” and “Little Yasmine” (“after a real chick” — Yasmine Bleeth of Baywatch). Chandler is afraid of bras (“can’t work them”) and was called “Sir Llimpsalot” in high school after Monica accidentally dropped a knife that cut off the tip of his pinky toe.

Chandler and Monica marry in last season episodes and move to the suburbs; Joey decides to move to Los Angeles to further his acting career (see Joey for further information).

2879 Friends and Lovers. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/16/74). The pilot film for Paul Sand in Friends and Lovers. The story of Robert Dreyfuss, a young bachelor and bass violinist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The pilot episode establishes the series storyline as Robert auditions for the orchestra. Other Regulars: Maggie, his girlfriend; Charlie, his brother; and Janice, Charlie’s wife.

2880 Frisky Dingo. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2006). Xander Crews is a man who leads two lives: billionaire playboy and super hero Awesome X. Xander’s exploits as Awesome X have earned him notoriety, an action figure and excitement. However, when Xander finds that he has ridden the city of crime and that his board chairman, Stan, has a bone to pick with him (his super hero expenses are bankrupting the company) he reluctantly decides to retire from the super hero business and run the company. All is going well until a villain named Killface appears on the scene. When Xander learns that Killface is planning to destroy the world with a device called the Annihilatrix, he dons his super hero costume and begins a quest to stop Killface (hoping at the same time to revive interest in his action figure). Aired as part of the Cartoon Network's Adult Swim segment.

Voice Cast: Adam Reed (Xander Crews), Stuart Culpepper (Stan), Adam Reed (Killface), Kelly Jenrette (Sinn), Michael Bell (Simon), Mary Kraft (Valerie), Kate Miller (Grace Ryan).

2881 From a Bird's Eye View. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1971). Millie Grover is a British stewardess for International Airlines; she is a bit overreager and this often gets her into trouble as it makes her look like a scatterbrain. Maggie Ralston is her partner, a levelheaded American who is on loan to International's European Division. Stories follow Millie's often-misguided attempts to help passengers she believes are in a bind and Maggie's efforts to resolve the situations that are caused by Millie's meddling.

Clyde Beachamp is the personnel director of International Airlines; Miss Fosdyke is Clyde's secretary; Bert Grover is Millie's uncle. Filmed in England.

Cast: Millicent Martin (Millie Grover), Pat Finley (Maggie Ralston), Peter Jones (Clyde Beachamp), Robert Cawdron (Bert Grover), Noel Hood (Miss Fosdyke).

2882 From Cleveland. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 10/24/80). The program, videotaped in Cleveland, Ohio, presents a satirical look at modern life through sketches and blackouts.

Hosts: Bob Elliott and Ray Goulding. Regulars: Joe Flaherty, Eugene Levy, Andrea Martin, Catherine O'Hara, Dave Thomas.

2883 From Here to Eternity. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1980). Hawaii in the aftermath of the attack on Pearl Harbor during World War II is the setting. Stories accent the personal crises of the military personnel of G Company, 24th Infantry and the civilians with whom they come in contact during wartime. Based on the novel by James Jones; adapted for television by Harold Gast.

In addition to the military personnel listed in the cast, other regulars are Karen Holmes, Dana's wife; Lorene Rogers, the prostitute; Gert Kipfer, the madam; Jeff Pruitt, the man seeking his brother's killer; Emily Austin, the society girl; Spencer Austin, Karen's father; Amelia Austin, Karen's mother; Dr. Mivamoto; Curt Von Norland, the book shop owner; Dr. Anne Brewster; Della, the maid in the New Congress Hotel (a brothel); prostitutes Raven, Suzie and Rose; and Aimee, Carmona's girlfriend.

2885 The Front Page. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 11/11/45). A television adaptation of the 1928 Broadway play by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur. The story is set in a small town and relates incidents in the life of Hildy Johnson, a newspaper reporter who constantly threatens to quit for a more lucrative job in New York but finds he can't get away when top stories break (like here, when he tries to get the scoop on a convict who just broke out of prison).

2886 The Front Page. (Series; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 1949–1950). The comic escapades of Hildy Johnson, a reporter for the Center City Examiner, a small town newspaper. Based on the 1928

Broadway play by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur. Walter Burns is the editor; Peggy Grant is Hildy's girlfriend. The series ran from September 29, 1949 to January 26, 1950.

Cast: Mark Roberts (Hildy Johnson), John Daly (Walter Burns), Jan Shaw (Peggy Grant), Cliff Hall (Town Mayor).

2887 Front Page Detective. (Series; Crime Drama; DuMont; Syn.; 1951–1953). David Chase is a New York newspaper columnist and amateur sleuth with an eye for beauty, a nose for news and a sixth sense for danger. Stories, based on crimes reported in Front Page Detective magazine, relates David's case investigations. The series ran on DuMont from July 6, 1951 to November 13, 1953 and in syndication in 1953.

A narrator opens the show: "Presenting an unusual story of love and mystery on Front Page Detective. Starring Mr. Edmund Lowe as the famous newspaper columnist and amateur detective, David Chase. And now for another thrilling adventure as we accompany David Chase and watch him match wits with those who would take the law into their own hands."

Cast: Edmund Lowe (David Chase), Frank Jenks (Lieutenant Rodney), Paula Drew (David's Girlfriend). Narrator: Edmund Lowe.

2888 Front Page Feeney. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 8/29/77). A proposed series about a mousy newspaper reporter named Feeney who strives to become a hot crime reporter. The pilot episode finds Feeney's dream of becoming a reality when he helps a fellow reporter solve a corruption case.

2900 Fudge. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1995–1996). Ann Hatcher, her husband Warren and their children, Farley and Peter live at 415 West 89th Street in Manhattan. Ann works for the Museum of Natural History; Warren is an ad agency executive. Peter is eleven years old and four-year-old Farley Drexel Hatcher, called Fudge, “is the scariest little brother you can ever have.”

Fudge doesn't mean to be naughty; he just has a great knack for getting into mischief—with Peter always coming to his rescue and trying to get him out of the situations he causes before his parents find out (sometimes he is not successful). Sheila Tubman and Jimmy Fargo are Peter's friends.

Cast: Eve Plumb (Ann Hatcher), Forrest Witt (Warren Hatcher), Luke Tarsitano (Farley Drexell Hatcher), Jake Richardson (Peter Hatcher), Nassira Nicola (Sheila Tubman), Alex Burrell (Jimmy Fargo).

2901 Fudge-a-Mania. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 1/7/95). The pilot film for Fudge (see prior title). There's the father (Warren), the mother (Ann), the big brother (Peter) and “the scariest little brother you can have — Farley Drexell Hatcher,” a four-year-old terror who is nicknamed Fudge. There are also the family pets — a dog (Turtle) and a parrot (Uncle Feathers) and, like the series, Fudge's misadventures are seen through the eyes of Peter, the recipient of his antics.

In the pilot episode, the Hatchers leave their Manhattan apartment for a two-week vacation in Maine, where Peter runs into Sheila Tubman, his fifth grade school mate, both of whom despise each other. Other Regulars: Jimmy, Peter's friend.

Cast: Eve Plumb (Ann Hatcher), Jake Richardson (Peter Hatcher), Forrest Witt (Warren Hatcher), Luke Tarsitano (Fudge Hatcher), Nassira Nicola (Sheila Tubman), Alex Burrell (Jimmy Fargo). Guest Cast: Darren McGavin (Buzzy), Florence Henderson (Grandma Muriel Hatcher), Shirley Knight (Mrs. A), Alex Karras (Big A), Marvin Krueger (Buzz, Jr.), Jessie Jones (Jean), Shaina Swanson (Mitzi), Troy Evans (Bob), Bob Monroe (Henry).

2902 The Fugitive. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1963–1967). Richard Kimble is a fugitive. He is wanted for the murder of his wife, but he insists he is innocent. Richard is seeking the real killer, a mysterious one-armed man named Fred Johnson, whom Richard saw running from his house on the night of the murder, a night Richard Kimble will never forget — September 19, 1961.

Richard Kimble was born on March 27, 1927, in Stafford, Indiana, to parents John and Elizabeth. With ambitions of becoming a doctor, he attended Cornell University in New York and interned at the Fairgreen, Indiana, County Hospital. He did his residency at Memorial Hospital in Chicago and specialized in pediatrics and obstetrics. Richard began his practice in Stafford and married Helen Waverly.

On that fateful night, Richard and Helen began to discuss the prospect of adopting a child. Helen is unable to have children, a result of the stillbirth of their first child. She refuses to adopt any, feeling it would be living with a lie. Richard feels just the opposite but can't convince her otherwise. After a heated argument, Richard storms out of the house. As he drives off, Helen invites her neighbor, Lloyd Chandler (J.D. Cannon) over to talk about adoption. While upstairs, they hear a noise coming from downstairs. Helen, believing it is Richard, goes down to welcome him home. She startles a burglar, who hits her with the base of a lamp and kills her. As the burglar, a one-armed man named Fred Johnson, looks up the stairs, he sees Chandler cowering in fear, and leaves the house. Chandler, a former war hero who did nothing to help Helen, now fears that if word gets out, he will be ruined. He decides to keep quiet about having been present.

Meanwhile, as Richard contemplates his actions, he decides to return home and apologize. When Richard enters the driveway, his car headlights catch the figure of a one-armed man running from the house. Richard rushes into the house and finds Helen. Because he cannot prove his alibi, Richard is arrested and charged with murder.

Kimble is booked (number KB 7608163), fingerprinted (classification: 19M 9400013) and sent to jail. When he is tried (case number 33972), he is unable to prove his innocence and is sentenced to death. Although Kimble insists that a mysterious one-armed man killed Helen, an exhaustive police search fails to uncover any suspects.

While being escorted to the death house by Indiana detective Lieutenant Philip Gerard, Kimble escapes when the train on which they are riding derails.

Now Kimble is wanted for murder and interstate flight, and a reward is offered for information leading to his capture.

Kimble, who weighs 175 pounds and is six feet tall, dyes his salt-and-pepper hair black and begins a cross-country search to clear his name by finding the one-armed man. His mission is jeopardized, however, by Gerard, who has sworn to apprehend his escaped prisoner.

In the last episode, after Johnson is killed in a confrontation with Richard, Lloyd comes forward to tell Gerard that Richard is innocent and that he will testify in court. Outside the courthouse, Richard Kimble stands a free man. Gerard makes the first move, and he and Richard shake hands for the first time. "Tuesday, August 29th, 1967. The day the running stopped."

Relatives: Robert Keith (Richard's father, Dr. John Kimble), Jacqueline Scott (Richard's sister, Donna Taft), Andrew Prine (Richard's brother, Ray Kimble), James B. Sikking and Richard Anderson (Donna's husband, Leonard Taft), Barbara Rush (Philip's wife, Marie Gerard; name also given as Ann Gerard and played by Rachel Ames), Bill Mumy (Donna's son, David Taft), Clint Howard and Johnny Jensen (Donna's son, Billy Taft).

Narrator William Conrad opens the show: "The Fugitive, a Q.M. production, starring David Janssen as Dr. Richard Kimble, an innocent victim of blind justice; falsely accused for the murder of his wife; reprieved by fate when a train wreck freed him en route to the death house; freed him to hide in lonely desperation, to change his identity, to toil at many jobs; freed him to search for a one-armed man he saw leave the scene of the crime; freed him to run before the relentless pursuit of the police lieutenant obsessed with his capture." An announcer was then heard: "The guest stars in tonight's story — Stephen McNally, Nan Martin, Richard Anderson. Also starring Barry Morse as Lieutenant Philip Gerard. Tonight's episode 'The Iron Maiden.'"

2903 The Fugitive. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2000–2001). A revised version of the 1963 ABC series of the same title (which see for information), about Richard Kimble, a doctor falsely accused of murdering his wife (Helen) who escapes custody to clear his name by finding the real killer — a mysterious one-armed man named Fred Johnson.

At the conclusion of his trial, the state of Indiana finds Richard Kimble guilty of murder. He is sentenced to death by lethal injection at the Joliet State Prison. Richard's story was disbelieved: he returned home one night to find Helen lying on the floor in a pool of blood. Richard also encountered the intruder (a thief) — a one-armed man who escaped when Richard chose to help Helen rather than chase the man (later revealed to be Fred Johnson).

Richard's prison file number was 760813 and Lieutenant Philip Gerard was assigned to transport Kimble to Joliet in a police van. En route the van turns sharply to avoid hitting a car and overturns. Richard escapes but is relentless pursued by Gerard who is determined to recapture him. Richard's efforts to find Johnson is the focal point of the series, but unlike the original series, there is no conclusion as it was cancelled before an ending was filmed.

Other Regulars: Sara, Philip's wife; Maggie, Richard's sister; and Michael McLaren, Philip's superior.

Cast: Timothy Daly (Dr. Richard Kimble), Mykelti Williamson (Lt. Philip Gerard), Stephen Lang (Fred Johnson), Connie Britton (Maggie Kimble-Hume), Bob Morrisey (Capt. Michael McLaren).

2904 Full Circle. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1960–1961). The story of Gary Donovan, a footloose wanderer who remains in one place only long enough to earn the resources he needs to continue his travels.

Cast: Robert Fortier (Gary Donovan), Dyan Cannon (Lisa Crowder), Jean Byron (Dr. Kit Aldrich), Amzie Strickland (Beth Pearce), Bill Lundmark (David Talton), Michael Ross (Virginia Denker), Andrew Colman (Roy Pollard), Sam Edwards (Deputy), John McNamara (Also).

2905 Full House. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/2/76). Events in the lives of three generations of one family (the Campbells) living in the same house in Iowa. Frank, his wife, Pauline, and their children, Susan, Jamie and Phil, share the residence at 8403 Palm Drive with Frank's parents, Eloise and Henry. In the pilot episode, Frank attempts to cope with the announcement that his parents are divorcing.

Cast: Ken Mars (Frank Campbell), Aneta Corsaut (Pauline Campbell), Nora Marlowe (Eloise Campbell), Liam Dunn (Henry Campbell), Doney Oatman (Susan Campbell), Poindexter Yothers (Jamie Campbell), Cameron Clarke (Phil Campbell).

2906 Full House. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/20/83). A television adaptation of the feature film Author, Author about Ivan Travalian, an almost broke, disorganized and divorced New York playwright struggling to raise his five children (Debbie, Bonnie, Igor and Spike and his stepson, Geraldo). In the pilot episode Ivan attempts to supplement his income by finding a part-time job. Other Regulars: Arthur, the theatrical producer.

Cast: Dennis Dugan (Ivan Travalian), Ari Meyers (Debbie Travalian), Shelby Balik (Bonnie Travalian), Eric Gurry (Igor Travalian), Scott Nemes (Spike Travalian), Danny Ponce (Geraldo Esposito), Ken Mars (Arthur Krantz). Guest Cast: Miriam Flynn (Bobbie Hall), Roberta Picardo (Mary), James Murtaugh (Eugene), Julie Payne (Mrs. Knopf), Ray Girardin (Ken Adams), Sam J. Cooper (Tony).

2907 Full House. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1987–1995). The house at 1882 Gerard Street in San Francisco is home to Danny Tanner, a widower with three daughters: D.J., Stephanie and Michelle. Also living with them are Jesse, Danny's brother-in-law, and their friend, Joey. Danny, Jesse and Joey attended Golden Bay Union High School and stories relate events in their lives as they care for three lively girls.

Danny, originally a sportscaster on KTMBTV, Channel 8's Newsbeat, now co-hosts Wake Up, San Francisco with Rebecca Donaldson. In college, Danny had a TV show called College Pop. Danny, a neat freak, attributes his condition to his fifth birthday when his mother gave him, her "special helper," a set of vacuum cleaner attachments. His late wife, Pam (Jesse's sister) was killed in a car accident.

Jesse, whose heritage is Greek, has the real first name Hermes. Because he was teased and called "Zorba the Geek," his mother changed it to Jesse. Jesse's last name was first Cochran then Katsopolis. He is a partner with Joey as a commercial jingle writer in J.J. Creative Services (later called Double J. Creative Services). They also worked as deejays ("The Rush Hour Renegades") on KFLH radio. Jesse, who had a band in high school (called both Disciplinary Action and Disciplinary Problem), is now with a group called Jesse and the Rippers (who play at the Smash Club; Jesse has a contract with Fat Fish Records). At one point he was with a band called Feedback. Jesse later inherits the Smash Club and turns it into the family-oriented New Smash Club. Jesse was dropped by the Rippers (for spending more time moussing his hair than playing the guitar) and formed a new band called Hot Daddy and the Monkey Puppets. Jesse's idol is Elvis Presley. Prior to working with Joey, Jesse was a "pest control specialist" (bug exterminator).

He fell in love with and married Rebecca. Rebecca later gave birth to twins Nicholas and Alexander (Blake and Dylan Tuomy-Wilhoit) on 11/12/91. Rebecca was born on a farm in Valentine, Nebraska, and had a pet cow named Janice.

Joey Gladstone is a stand-up comic and cartoon voice impersonator looking for his big break. He appeared on Star Search and did a pilot called Surf's Up (he was Flip, the surfer-dude mailman. When the live-action format didn't work, it was turned into a cartoon with Joey as Flip, the surfing kangaroo). He made another pilot, The Mr. Egghead Show with Jesse as the Music Professor.

Joey next became the host of Channel 8's The Ranger Joe Show (where he entertained kids from the Enchanted Forest with his hand puppet assistant, Mr. Woodchuck; Jesse was a regular as Lumberjack Jesse).

D.J. (Donna Jo), the oldest of the girls, attended the Frasier Street Elementary School, Beaumont Junior High, Van Allen Junior High and Van Allen High School. She loves to shop and is editor of the school newspaper. She wears Passion Plumb eye shadow and had a job as the Happy Helper at Tot Shots (a mall photographer).

Stephanie Judith, the middle child, attends Frasier Street Elementary, then DaMaggio Jr. High School. She carries a Jetsons lunchbox; Mr. Bear is her favorite plush animal and Emily is her favorite doll. Stephanie was a member of the Giants Little League team (coached by Danny) and threw "The Tanner Twister" ("A curve ball like no other girl"). Stephanie is a Capricorn and her catchphrase is "how rude." Pizza and strawberry yogurt are her favorite foods.

Michelle Elizabeth is the baby of the family. She attended Meadowcrest Preschool, then Frasier Elementary. She was Officer Michelle of the Polite Police at school; has two goldfish (Martin and Frankie) and "you got it, dude," is her catch phrase. Jesse calls Michelle "Munchkin."

Kimmy Louise Gibler is D.J.'s best friend. She is very pretty and tends to get D.J. into trouble with her antics. Kimmy writes the column "Madame Kimmy's Horoscope" for the school newspaper and she and D.J. frequent the Food Court at the mall. Kimmy cuts economics classes "because I'm going to marry a doctor and hire a maid." Kimmy calls Danny "Mr. T" and worked with D.J. as a waitress at the New Smash Club. She had a dog named Cocoa (later called Sinbad).

Cast: Bob Saget (Danny Tanner), Candace Cameron (D.J. Tanner), Jodie Sweetin (Stephanie Tanner), John Stamos (Jesse Kastapolis), David Coulier (Joey Gladstone), Mary Kate and Ashley Olsen (Michelle Tanner), Lori Loughlin (Rebecca Donaldson), Andrea Barber (Kimmy Gibler).

2908 Full Speed Anywhere. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/13/60). Stubby Fox is a Navy yeoman who is assigned to shore duty but who longs for action on the high seas. The unsold series was to relate endless efforts to fulfill a dream and see action. In the pilot episode, Stubby's dream is about to become a reality — until a friend becomes ill and he is forced to remain behind and care for him.

Cast: Stubby Kaye (Stubby Fox), Conrad Janis (Ensign Jones), George Dunn (Doc Clemens), Glenn Turnbull (Slim Jackson), Jose Gonzalez-Gonzalez (Lew).

2909 The Fun Factory. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1976). Music, comedy, songs are coupled with various game contests wherein studio audience members vie for cash and merchandise prizes by either answering questions or performing stunts. Ed Fishman and Randall Freer are the producers.

Host: Bobby Van. Regulars: Betty Thomas, Jane Nelson, Doug Steckler, Deborah Harmon. Announcer: Jim Thompson. Music: Stan Worth.

2910 Fun for the Money. (Series; Game; ABC; 1949). The object calls for a contestant to identify, within four clues, a piece of merchandise that is hidden on stage behind the "Magic Curtain." A cash prize is awarded based on the number of clues the player used before identifying the mystery object (prize money begins at $50 and diminishes with each successive clue that is needed). The series, which ran from June 17, 1949 to December 9, 1949, is also known as Fun and Fortune.

Host: Jack Lescoulie, Johnny Olsen. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

2911 Fun House. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Children 10 to 14 years of age compete. Each two-member team competes in several stunts and question and answer rounds with the team acquiring the most points winning the game. The winners then receive two minutes with which to run through a fun house loaded with obstacles and acquire tags that hold various cash and merchandise prizes.

Host: J.D. Roth. Announcer: John "Tiny" Hurley. Cheerleaders: Jacqueline and Samantha Forrest.

2912 Fun House. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1990). Two teams of children compete in a three round game. The first round, a question and answer session is held with one serious drawback — the child that answers a question incorrectly gets a gooey-looking liquid dumped on him. Round two has the two teams compete in "The Fun House Grand Prix." Here the teams race around a fun house set seeking to acquire points. The team with the most points from rounds one and two are the winners and face the fun house itself. The team is given three minutes to race around the house and find as many hidden prize cards as they can. The players win what prizes are contained on the cards they find.

Host: Pat Sharp. Co-Host: Martina Grant, Melanie Grant.

2913 The Funky Phantom. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1971–1972). It is 1776 and the time of the Revolutionary War. To escape a British patrol, a rather cowardly American soldier, Jonathan Muddlemore, runs into a deserted mansion and hides in a rather large grandfather clock. Unfortunately, the clock door locks from the outside and traps him. Two hundred years later three teenagers, April, Skip and Augie enter the mansion. They see the grandfather clock and set it to the correct time. Instantly, Jonathan's spirit is released and he becomes friends with the teens (who nickname him "Musty"). Hoping to make up for his cowardness, Musty takes on a cause to battle evil. Intrigued, Skip, April and Augie decide to join him. Stories relate the team's missions of good, which are complicated by Musty's cowardness. Elmo is the gang's dog; Boo is their car.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Jonathan Muddlemore), Kristina Holland (April Stewart), Micky Dolenz (Skip), Tommy Cook (Augie), Julie Bennett (Voice), Jerry Dexter (Voice).

2914 Funny Boners. (Series; Children; NBC; 1954–1955). The program features children competing in a series of question and answer rounds with players performing penalty stunts if they give an incorrect response. Each correct answer awards a player points and the child with the highest cash score is the winner.

Host: Jimmy Weldon.

2915 Funny Face. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1971). Sandy Stockton is a young woman who lives at 130 North Weatherly Boulevard (Apartment 2A) of the Royal Weatherly Hotel in Los Angeles. She lived in Illinois and has come to the West Coast to begin her career as a teacher. Sandy is currently enrolled at UCLA as a student teacher and works part time as an actress for Maggie Prescott, the owner of the Prescott Advertising Agency on West Pico Street. Stories follow Sandy as she struggles to divide her time between work, school and teaching.

Other Regulars: Pat Harwell, Sandy's landlord; Kate Harwell, Pat's wife; and Alice MacRaven, Sandy's friend. See also The Sandy Duncan Show, the spin-off series.

Cast: Sandy Duncan (Sandy Stockton), Valorie Armstrong (Alice MacRaven), Nita Talbot (Maggie Prescott), Henry Beckman (Pat Harwell), Kathleen Freeman (Kate Harwell).

2916 The Funny Manns. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1961). A 130 episode series that features Funny Manns and his relatives (Fire Mann, Police Mann, Rich Mann, Poor Mann, etc.) as they become involved in various misadventures (usually related to the re-edited theatrical comedy shorts that comprise a large portion of the program).

Cast: Cliff Norton (Funny Manns).

2917 Funny Money. (Series; Game; Game Show Network; 2003–2004). Las Vegas lounge comedians (usually up and comers) appear on stage.

Two contestants compete with the object being to guess how (or what) the comedians will say regarding questions asked of them. If the comedian responds the way the player predicted he wins money.

Host: Jimmy Pardo. Announcer: Budd Friedman.

2918 Funny People. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1988). A seven-episode program that showcases funny people, places and events from around the world.

Hosts: Scott Blakeman, Blake Clark, Leeza Gibbons, Rita Rudner.

2919 The Funny Side. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1971). The funny side of everyday life, presented through music, song and comedy skits, as seen through the eyes of five couples.

2920 The Funny World of Fred and Bunni. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 8/30/78). A proposed series of comedy skits and musical numbers with a live action host (Fred) and his animated female co-host (Bunni). John Aylesworth, Frank Peppiatt and Joseph Barbera are the producers.

Host: Fred Travalena. Guests: Sandy Duncan, Pat Harrington, Jr., Vicki Lawrence. Orchestra: Jack Elliott and Allyn Ferguson.

2921 Funny You Should Ask. (Series; Game; ABC; 1968–1969). Before air time, five celebrity guests are asked a series of specific questions. On stage, the host presents the same questions to three competing players, but states the answers in mixed order. The object calls for each player to pair the celebrity with what he or she said. Each correct match awards a player one point. The player with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Lloyd Thaxton.

2922 The Furst Family of Washington. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 9/11/73). Some may consider the White House, the government buildings, the memorials or even the Potomac to be the foremost attractions in Washington, D.C. But to those who really know, it is Oscar's Barber Shop, run by the Furst family of Washington.

Oscar Furst runs the inner-city shop, which houses a gambling parlor, with his meddling mother, Eloise. The shop is a microcosm of the society that surrounds it and the unusual and fascinating visitors that frequent it was to be the focal point of the unsold series that served as the basis for ABC's That's My Mama.

Other Regulars: The men who frequent Oscar's: Earl, King Osborne, Low Lead and Junior. A 1973 ABC press release credits star Godfrey Cambridge as Oscar Cosmo and the owner of Cosmo's Barber Shop.

Cast: Godfrey Cambridge (Oscar Furst), Theresa Merritt (Eloise "Mama" Furst), Theodore Wilson (Earl Jefferson), Eddy C. Dyer (King Osborne), Dewayne Jessie (Low Lead), Eric Laneuville (Junior).

2923 Further Adventures. (Pilot; Comedy-Adventure; CBS; 8/30/88). A proposed series about Jerry and Todd, two sleazy photographers who travel around the world seeking material. In the pilot episode, Jerry and Todd (no last names given) help a beautiful princess search for her missing parents.

Cast: David Bowe (Jerry), John Scott Clough (Todd). Guest Cast: Ada Maris (Princess), Sherman Howard (General Crow), Jennifer Rhoades (Queen Illizi), Rene Assa (King Kazamir), Nick Ramus (Wiseman), Frank Salsedo (Indian chief), Michael Greene (Maxwell Houston), Peter Elbling (Moshul), Mark Lonow (Mr. Rappaport).

2924 The Further Adventures of Ellery Queen. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1958–1959). Stories follow the cases of Ellery Queen, a sophisticated gentleman detective and writer living in New York City, as he helps his father, Inspector Richard Queen of the N.Y.P.D., solve crimes to acquire story material. An updated version of The Adventures of Ellery Queen. See also Ellery Queen.

Cast: George Nader (Ellery Queen), Lee Philips (Ellery Queen; later), Les Tremayne (Insp. Richard Queen).

2925 The Further Adventures of Oliver Twist. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1980). An animated adaptation of the classic story Oliver Twist. The series is set in Victorian England and follows additional events in the life of Oliver, an orphaned boy, and his friends the Artful Dodger and Fagin as they devise clever schemes to get by — and get themselves out of the troublesome situations they always seem to encounter.

Voice Cast: Daniel Murray (Oliver Twist), John Fowler (Artful Dodger), David Swift (Fagin), Leonard Preston (Noah Claypole), Pauline Quirke (Charlotte), Gary Shail (Ned Fingers).

2926 The Further Adventures of Spin and Marty. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1957). A sequel to Spin and Marty that continues to relate events in the lives of Spin Evans and Marty Markham, campers at the Triple R Ranch summer camp. The story concerns itself with the rivalry that ensues between Spin and Marty for the affections of Annette, a very pretty girl attending the Circle H Girls Camp. Broadcast as 13 segments of The Mickey Mouse Club.

Jim Logan is the Triple R ranch owner; Darlene is Annette's friend; Bill Burnett is the Triple R Counselor; Ollie is the Triple R wrangler; Moochie, Ambitious, Joe, George and Speckle are Triple R campers. See also The New Adventures of Spin and Marty.

Cast: Tim Considine (Spin Evans), David Stollery (Marty Markham), Annette Funicello (Annette), Darlene Gillespie (Darlene), Roy Barcroft (Jim Logan), Harry Carey, Jr. (Bill Burnett), Dennis Moore (Ollie), Kevin Corcoran (Moochie O'Hara), B.G. Norman (Ambitious), Sammy Ogg (Joe), Joe Wong (George), Tim Hartnagel (Speckle). Theme Song: "Theme from Spin and Marty" by William Lava.

2927 The Further Adventures of Wally Brown. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/21/80). Wally Brown is a fast-talking and the fast-running track star for Stephen Foster High School. He hangs out with his best friend, Douglas Burdett, and the unsold series was to relate their antics (a prior pilot dealing with the adventures of Wally Brown was not made; we were "treated" to the further adventures only).

Other Regulars: Warren and Arlene, Douglas's parents; Fleischman, the track coach; and Bernstein, Wally's friend.

Cast: Clinton Derricks-Carroll (Wally Brown), Peter Scolari (Douglas Burdett), Ron Masak (Warren Burdett), Sally Hightower (Arlene Burdett), Marvin Braverman (Coach Fleischman), Gilbert Gottfried (Bernstein). Guest Cast: Richard Karron (Bruno), Bobby Ellerbe (Kline), Robert Wise (Man).

2928 Fury. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1955–1966). A group of boys, engaging in a game of baseball, accidentally break a window. Fearing punishment, they place the blame on Joey, an innocent youngster who is suspected of being a troublemaker. Jim Newton, a witness to the act, clears the boy of the charge. Jim learns that the boy is an orphan and arranges to take him home to the Broken Wheel Ranch (outside of Capitol City). He later begins adoption procedures.

In an effort to acquire the boy's affections, Jim presents Joey with Fury, a recently captured black stallion. Joey, given a sense of responsibility, finds a home and love.

Stories concern an orphan boy's growth into manhood. The series is also known as Brave Stallion. Other Regulars: Pete, Jim's top hand ("who says he cut his teeth on a branding iron"); Helen Watkins, the school teacher; Pee Wee Jenkins, Joey's friend; Packey Lambert, Joey's friend; Harriet Newton, Jim's sister. Pee Wee rides a horse named Pokey; Packey's horse is Lucky.

2929 Futurama. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1999–2003). In New York City on December 31, 1999, Philip Fry, a 25-year-old pizza delivery boy who feels his life is going nowhere, accidentally freezes himself. It is December 31, 2999 when Fry wakes up. He hopes to begin a new life and goes to work for Planet Express Delivery Service, a company run by Fry's multiple great nephew, Hubert J. Farnsworth. Hubert is quite old and senile, but a great genius.

When Fry first woke up he met Turanga Leela, a one-eyed alien with purple hair, and Bender, an alcohol-powered robot who was built to bend things; he is also addicted to cigars, liquor, stealing and other bad vices. At work, Fry's co-workers are Hermes Conrad, the delivery service manager; Amy Wong, the Martian intern; and John Zoidberg, a lobster-like alien who serves as the crew's doctor. Stories follow the not-so heroic exploits of Fry and his friends as they risk life and limb to deliver packages.

Voice Cast: Billy West (Philip Fry), Billy West (Hubert Farnsworth), Billy West (Dr. Zoidberg), Katey Sagal (Turanga Leela), John DiMaggio (Bender), Lauren Tom (Amy Wong), Phil LaMarr (Hermes Conrad).

2930 Future Cop. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1977). As part of a secret L.A.P.D. project to make androids part of the police force, Officer Joe Cleaver is assigned John "Kid" Haven, a rookie that has been programmed to be the perfect cop, for testing in the field (Joe's actual partner, Bill Bundy, is not made aware of the fact that John is a robot). Stories relate their case assignments and the unusual methods John uses to apprehend criminals (surprising Bill, but always explained away by Joe so as not to expose John's true nature).

Other Regulars: Captain Skaggs, their superior; Dr. Tingley, Haven's creator; Peggy, the waitress at Hennessey's, the bar frequented by Bill and Joe; Natalie, Bill's wife; and Jane, Bill's daughter. The 90-minute pilot film, which established the storyline, aired on 5/1/76.

Cast: Ernest Borgnine (Joe Cleaver), John Amos (Bill Bundy), Michael Shannon (John Haven), Herbert Nelson (Captain Skaggs), Irene Tsu (Dr. Tingley), Angela May (Peggy), Tracy Reed (Natalie Bundy), Kim Hamilton (Jane Bundy).

2931 The Future: What's Next? (Pilot; Magazine; CBS; 9/15/81). A proposed series that was to project and explore the impact of technology on everyday life in the year 2000.

Hosts: Caren Kaye, George Plimpton. Segment Narrators: Paul Deates, Alex Pamansoff.

2932 The Fuzz Brothers. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 3/5/73). An unsold series about Francis Buchanan and Luther Prince, a black L.A.P.D. detective team, who are plagued by life's endless problems. In the pilot episode, Francis and Luther, who are called "The Fuzz Brothers" by the bad guys, attempt to apprehend a master thief who plans a ten-million-dollar jewel heist.

Cast: Louis Gossett, Jr. (Francis Buchanan), Felton Perry (Luther Prince), Jeff Corey (Captain Philip Lean). Guest Cast: Don Porter (Herbert Flowers), Bill Smith (Sonny), Nira Barab (Trina), Mario Rocuzzo (Andy Welsh), Mitchell Ryan (Ben).

2933 Fuzzbucket. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/18/86). When Michael Gerber, a young boy with an overactive imagination, feeds a special mixture of household foods to the invisible friend he calls Fuzzbucket, a furry creature materializes and appears visible only to Michael. The unsold series was to relate Michael's adventures with his invisible (to others) friend, Fuzzbucket. The pilot episode relates how Michael conjures up Fuzzbucket. Other Regulars: George and Carol, Michael's parents; and Stevie, Michael's sister.

Cast: Chris Hebert (Michael Gerber), Joe Regalbuto (George Gerber), Wendy Phillips (Carol Gerber), Robyn Lively (Stevie Gerber), Phil Fondacaro (Fuzzbucket), Hal Smith (Voice of Fuzzbucket). Guest Cast: John Vernon (Principal), Deena-Maria Consiglio (Tina), Nancy McLoughlin (Miss Fielding), Fran Ryan (Miss Langerdorf), David Katz (Boy), Wally Taylor (Cop), Judith Durand (Counselor).

2934 FX: The Series. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1997–1999). Rollie Tyler is a movie special effects expert who uses the wizardry of his craft to help the police capture criminals. Rollie and his assistant, Angie Ramirez, first assist Detective Leo McCarthy then Detective Mira Sanchez of the N.Y.P.D.

Rollie has a base of operations in what appears to be an abandoned warehouse in Manhattan. He is regarded as the movie industry's best special effects (FX) artist ("I can show you a thousand ways to die and a thousand ways to make fictional characters come to life"). Rollie helps the police by setting up elaborate traps to outsmart criminals in a deadly game of cat and mouse. He and Angie also assist in the field with their FX mobile workshop, a van that houses a unique array of special effects equipment (what Leo calls "The world's most advanced high-tech toys").

Angie is a recent graduate of the NYU School of Film and a computer whiz who, according to Rollie, "is a workaholic." Angie is also opinionated and constantly complains that her work prevents her from having a social life.

Lucinda Scott is Rollie's friend, an actress who assists them when a third person is necessary to set up a scam for the police. She is an expert at voice characterizations and accents and can impersonate people from 15 to 70.

Leo was somewhat of a maverick detective and liked to do things his way — even if it meant discipline from Captain Vanduren. His street smarts saved him on a number of occasions but his sometimes haphazard and unpredictable behavior cost him his life at the end of the first season when he was shot during a case investigation.

Mira, the Internal Affairs detective, originally worked in Queens, New York, before her transfer to Manhattan. She is street smart but careful. She likes to do things her way but will try to do so by staying within the limits of the law. Mira is dedicated to her work and will stop at nothing to see that justice is done. Like Leo, she incorporates Rollie and Angie's help. The series is based on the feature film FX.

Cast: Cameron Daddo (Rollie Tyler), Christina Cox (Angie Ramirez), Kevin Dobson (Leo McCarthy), Jacqueline Torres (Mira Sanchez), Carrie Ann Ross (Lucinda Scott), Richard Waugh (Captain Vanduren).

2935 The Gabby Hayes Show. (Series; Children; NBC; ABC; 1950–1956). Stories of the American West as seen through the experiences of western theatrical film star George "Gabby" Hayes, here as the foreman of the Double Bar M Ranch (Gabby is also the show's host and star of the various tales he tells). The series ran on NBC from December 11, 1950 to January 1, 1954; and on ABC from May 12, 1956 to July 14, 1956.

Host-Star: George "Gabby" Hayes. Regulars: Clifford Sales, Lee Graham, Robert F. Simon, Michael Strong, Irving Winter, Malcolm Keer.

2936 Gabe and Walker. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/20/81). Gabe Peterson and Marion Walker are friends who own the G & W Horse Ranch in California. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to keep their financially troubled ranch out of the hands of creditors by performing odd jobs.

The pilot episode depicts their battle against Cintrex Company developers who want their land for a shopping mall. Other Regulars: Cassie, their neighbor; and Kevin, Cassie's son.

Cast: Frank Converse (Marion Walker), Charles Martin Smith (Gabe Peterson), Katherine Cannon (Cassie), Jason Harvey (Kevin). Guest Cast: Hugh Gillin (Lee "Sweet Billy" Lawson), John Cunningham (Mr. Watkins), Lisa Loring (Sexy girl), Claire Malis (Iris O'Reilly), J.P. Bumstead (Deputy chief), Stefan Gierasch (Chef).

2937 Gabrielle. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1948). A musical interlude series with French singer Gabrielle as the host. The series aired from July 13, 1948 to August 12, 1948.

Hostess: Gabrielle.

2938 Gabrielle. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1995). Actress Gabrielle Carteris (Beverly Hills, 90210) hosts a daily talk show that not only presents celebrity interviews but remote pickups from around the country.

Hostess: Gabrielle Carteris.

2939 Gabriel's Fire. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1990–1991). Gabriel (“Gabe”) Bird served in Korea during the war and was decorated four times. He came home to Chicago, attended junior college and enrolled in the police academy in 1959. For nine years he was a beat cop and dedicated to the force. He was determined to advance the cause of the black man within the system. Neighborhood people felt safe and looked up to him. In 1969 Bird was assigned to the new State’s Attorney Prosecuting Team. He was the only black man in the unit.

At 4:45 A.M. on December 21, 1969, the unit raided an apartment on Hampton Street, an address believed to be the armed headquarters of the Black Liberation Army. It was a witch hunt — but Bird didn’t know it. Inside the apartment was the family of John C. Elner. Elner and his two brothers were killed by Bird’s partner. Just as his partner was about to kill a woman and her child, Gabe killed him. The police department disowned Bird and considered him a Black Liberation supporter. He was convicted of murder one; because of his war record, he was not sentenced to death but received life. Two years into his sentence, his wife divorced him and disappeared.

Seven thousand two hundred forty-three days later, an inmate named Ted Duke (Lincoln Kilpatrick) is killed for protesting. While investigating Ted’s death, his lawyer, Victoria Heller, meets Gabriel Bird. When Victoria discovers what has happened to him, she files a writ of habeas corpus, and case number 2266 is reopened. On day 7,271, Gabe is released.

Josephine Austin owns a restaurant called Empress Josephine’s Soul Food Kitchen on Emerald Street. Gabe was the cop on the beat when Josephine’s husband died. He came by with candy for the kids and groceries when they needed them. He took the kids to the park and became a substitute father to them.

After having two hot dogs with everything on them (the first thing he does when he is released), Gabe returns to his old neighborhood on Emerald Street. When Josephine sees “a ghost from her past,” she repays a favor she never forgot and gives Gabe free room and board in the attic above her restaurant.

Although Gabe is bitter, he helps Victoria find

Ted’s killer (a recently released ex-con). Gabe then accepts Victoria’s offer to work for her as an investigator. Stories relate their case investigations.

Gabe goes to extremes to get his man and keeps a diary of everything he does. He says, “It’s a big world out there and I’m having a great time getting to know it again.”

Victoria is a tough, dedicated attorney who will fight for any cause she believes in. See also Pros and Cons, the spin off-series. Flashbacks: Todd Davy (young Gabe), Yvonne Farrow (young Ellie). Theme: “Gabriel’s Fire” by William Olvis.

Cast: James Earl Jones (Gabriel Bird), Laila Robins (Victoria Heller), Madge Sinclair (Josephine Austin), Dylan Walsh (Louis Klein).

2940 Gadget Boy and Heather. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1995–1996). Gadget Boy is like no other boy (and he will eventually grow up to become Inspector Gadget). He is a human who has been outfitted with numerous high tech crime fighting accessories. Gadget Boy and his assistant, Agent Heather, work for Chief Stromboli. Their assignment: Stop Spydra, an evil villain who resembles a large human-looking spider (she has a talking vulture named Boris). Stories (a prequel to Inspector Gadget) follow Heather and Gadget Boy as the battle the evils of Spydra. See also Gadget Boy’s Adventures in History (the spin-off series).

Voice Cast: Don Adams (Gadget Boy), Tara Strong (Agent Heather), Louise Vallance (Spydra), Maurice LaMarche (Chief Stromboli), Maurice LaMarche (Boris).

2941 Gadget Boy’s Adventures in History. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1998). A revised version of Gadget Boy and Heather. Here Spydra, the evil woman who looks like a human spider and seeks to conquer the world, begins her task by traveling back in time to change history. Attempting to stop her are Gadget Boy (Inspector Gadget as a youngster) and his assistant Agent Heather. Together they travel throughout time to stop Spydra from altering the past to affect the future.

Voice Cast: Don Adams (Gadget Boy), Tara Strong (Agent Heather), Louise Vallance (Spydra), Maurice LaMarche (Chief Stromboli).

2942 Galactica 1980. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 1980). A spin-off from Battlestar Galactica. After many years in space, the starship Galactica reaches Earth in the year 1980. The Galacticans, however, are unable to land on the planet, fearing they will bring with them their enemies, the warring Cylons, and destruction. Stories focus on the Galacticans’ attempts to advance Earth’s technology to a point where it can fend off aliens; and on Galacticans Troy and Dillon and a group of Galactican children who are sent to Earth as scouts to pave the way for the remainder of the alien population to settle on the planet.

Other Regulars: Commander Adama, the Galactican leader; Dr. Zee, the Galactican's scientific genius; Jamie Douglas, the TV reporter who helps Troy and Dillon; Colonel Boomer; Mr. Brooks, Jamie's boss (at the United Broadcasting Company); Xavier, the renegade Galactican; Colonel Syddell, the Air Force agent seeking Troy and Dillon; Anne, Brooks's secretary; Dr. Donald Mortinson, the Earth scientist who helps Troy and Dillon; Miss Carlyle, Donald's secretary.

Cast: Lorne Greene (Commander Adama), Kent McCord (Captain Troy), Barry Van Dyke (Lt. Dillon), Robbie Rist (Dr. Zee), Patrick Stuart (Dr. Zee; later), Robyn Douglass (Jamie Douglas), Herb Jefferson, Jr. (Col. Boomer), Fred Holliday (Mr. Brooks), Richard Lynch (Xavier), Allan Miller (Colonel Syddell), Sharon Acker (Anne), Robert Reed (Dr. Donald Mortinson), Pamela Susan Shoop (Miss Carlyle). Galactican Child: Lindsay Kennedy, Michael Brick, Jeff Cotler, Mark Everett, Nicholas Davis, Ronnie Densford, Tracy Justrich, Georgi Irene, Eric Taslitz, Jerry Supiran. Narrator: Lorne Greene. Theme Music: "Galactican Song" by John Andrew Tartaglia.

2943 The Galaxy Goofups. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1978–1979). The William Hanna and Joseph Barbera characters Huckleberry Hound and Yogi Bear are transported to the future and made police officers with the Galaxy Goofups, a celestial law enforcement organization. Stories relate their mishaps as they attempt to maintain the peace.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Off. Yogi Bear), Daws Butler (Off. Huckleberry Hound), Joe Besser (Off. Scare Bear), Mel Blanc (Off. Quackup), John Stephenson (Captain Snerdley), John Stephenson (The General).

2944 Galaxy High School. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1986–1987). The adventures of a group of students, from every planet in the universe, as they attend Galaxy High School.

2945 The Gale Storm Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; ABC; 1956–1960). The SS Ocean Queen is a luxury liner owned by the Reardon Steamship Lines which sets sail from the port of Southampton in England and docks at New York Harbor. Susanna Pomeroy is the ship's beautiful social director; Simon Huxley is the captain; and Elvira ("Nugey") Nugent is first a manicurist in the beauty salon, then a salesgirl in the souvenir shop.

Susanna teaches dance lessons and deck tennis; she also arranges shuffleboard and bridge matches and does whatever is necessary to keep passengers occupied and happy. Susanna and Nugey look forward to each cruise as a means of meeting men; they also involve themselves in passengers' problems and inevitably cause problems by trying to solve them (the basic format of the series).

Nugey shares a cabin with Susanna. She is rather timid and shy and innocently becomes involved in Susanna's misadventures. As the captain says to her, "I know your aim is not to go through life destroying me; it just works out that way."

The captain, who joined the navy after college, objects to bonuses (he believes it destroys the morale of the other members of the crew). Simon was awarded a bust of John Paul Jones for his work by the Anglo Globetrotters. Cedric is the British steward. The ship's physician is Dr. Eugene Reynolds; J. Pat O'Malley appeared as Mr. Reardon, the gruff president of the steamship lines.

In the opening theme, the ship sounds its horn once; the ship's bell rings four times; and The Gale Storm Show: Oh! Susanna (the official title) is spelled out by the ship's flags. In some printed sources, ZaSu Pitts is referred to as Esmerelda Nugent.

Cast: Gale Storm (Susanna Pomeroy), ZaSu Pitts (Elvira "Nugey" Nugent), Roy Roberts (Captain Huxley), James Fairfax (Cedric), Rolfe Sedan (Dr. Reynolds), Joe Cranston (Purser). Theme Song: "Theme from the Gale Storm Show" by Alan Bergman.

2946 The Galen Drake Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1957). A program of music and songs geared to children.

Host: Galen Drake. Regulars: Stuart Foster, Rita Ellis, The Three Beaus and a Peep.

2947 Gallagher. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1965–1967). The adventures of Gallagher, an Old West newspaper copyboy with a nose for news who longs to become a reporter. Broadcast as nine episodes of Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color. The series aired from January 24, 1965 to February 7, 1965 (as Gallagher), September 26, 1965 to October 10, 1965 (as The Further Adventures of Gallagher) and January 29, 1967 to March 5, 1967 (as Gallagher Goes West).

Cast: Roger Mobley (Gallagher), Edmond O'Brien (Editor Crowley), Anne Francis (Reporter Adele Jones), Beverly Garland (Laurie Carlson), Biff Williams (Joe Carlson), Ray Teal (Sheriff Snead), Ron Hayes (George Moran), Harvey Korman (Brownie), Jack Warden (Lt. Fergus), Judson Pratt (Police Chief O'Malley), Victoria Shaw (Katherine Van Raatle), Liam Sullivan (Charles Van Raatle), Tom Skerritt (Corky Mardis).

2948 The Gallant Men. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1962–1963). Salerno, Italy, during the Italian Campaign of World War II (1943) is the setting. Particular focus is on Conley Wright, a foreign correspondent assigned to the 36th Infantry of the American Fifth Army. Scared and unsure of himself, he accompanies the squad on suicide missions and reports the experiences of men desperately seeking to end the war and return home.

2949 The Gallery of Mme. Liu Tsong. (Series; Crime Drama; DuMont; 1951). Liu Tsong is a beautiful Chinese woman who operates a chain of art galleries. Liu Tsong, whose name means Frosted Willow, was originally depicted as a tolerant, well-meaning business woman who not only had to face the problems of running her own empire — The Gallery of Mme. Liu Tsong — but become her own detective to solve crimes associated with the art world (basically forgers and thieves who crave great works of art). She was not a fighter and did not use martial arts skills. She was clever and used her wits to bring criminals to justice.

Liu Tsong was born in Los Angeles and is the daughter of parents who operated a Chinese laundry. She worked after school and on Saturdays in the laundry ironing clothes and at an early age developed an interest in art.

She carried this fascination with her into adult life, at which time she began her business. Six episodes later, the series became Mme. Liu Tsong and the star, Anna May Wong was depicted as the owner of an import company that dealt with various art objects. While acquiring precious paintings was still her goal, she now had a large inventory and more corruption to fight. “I was now a good girl against bad men. A combination of the daughter of Fu Manchu and the daughter of the Dragon.” Her new venture lasted for only five episodes.

Liu Tsong, who speaks fluent Chinese but with an American accent, mentioned that Groucho Marx was her favorite comedian. With this series, Anna May Wong became the first Oriental personality to star in an American television program.

Cast: Anna May Wong (Liu Tsong).

2950 The Galloping Gourmet. (Series; Cooking; Syn.; 1969). A comical (and enjoyable) approach to preparing meals with Graham Kerr, an international culinary expert known as The Galloping Gourmet.

Host: Graham Kerr. Assistant: Patricia Burgess, Wilhelmina Meerakker.

2951 Galtar and the Golden Lance. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). Following a raid on a village by the tyrant Tormak, a young warrior (Galtar), who is seeking Tormak for killing his parents, finds a lone survivor, the Princess Goleeta. When Galtar learns that Tormak has stolen the sacred shield to Goleeta's kingdom (Dindlar), he and Goleeta join forces to find him. Stories relate their adventures as they seek Tormak.

Voice Cast: Lou Richards (Galtar), Mary MacDonald-Lewis (Goleeta), Brock Peters (Tormak), Bob Arbogast (Ither), Barry Dennen (Krimm), David Mendenhall (Zorn), Frank Welker (Tuk), Frank Welker (Thork), Frank Welker (Koda), Don Messick (Pandat).

2952 Gambit. (Series; Game; CBS; 1972–1976). Two married couples compete in a game based on blackjack (21). An oversized deck of 52 playing cards is opened and the first card is revealed. A question is read and the first team to correctly answer it receives the option of either keeping or passing the exposed card. Questions (and cards) continue with each team seeking to score as close as possible to 21 without going over. Winning couples receive $100 a game and compete until defeated.

Host: Wink Martindale. Card Dealer Elaine Stewart. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

2953 Gamble on Love. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1954). Each of three married couples who compete is interviewed and quizzed via “The Wheel of Fortune.” One member of one team spins the wheel and the mate answers its specific questions. The winning team, the couple who answer the most questions correctly, receive prizes and the opportunity to win a mink stole if they can answer “The Cupid Question.” The series ran from July 16, 1954 to August 20, 1954.

Host: Denise Darcell, Ernie Kovacs.

2954 The Game. (Series; Comedy; CW; 2006–). Who are the women behind the men of pro football? The Game tries to highlight that aspect while also focusing on the lives of the players themselves. Particular focus is on Melanie Barnett, the live in girlfriend of Derwin Davis, a third string rookie for the San Diego Sabers.

Melanie is a very beautiful girl and she fears the worse: other women falling for Derwin (and Derwin becoming unfaithful to her). Kelly Pitts, Melanie's friend, also has the same fears. She is a gorgeous “white chick” who is married to Jason Pitts, a black player. Malik Wright, a single quarterback, rounds out the main characters. His problem stems from his mother, Tasha Mack, who is also his manager (the owner of Tasha Mack Management). Malik would like to quit football and become a rap star, but his mother believes he hasn't the talent and constantly persuades him to stay with football.

Kelly was a former cheerleader for the Sabers. Stories follow the heartaches, the insecurities and challenges and the rivalries each faces. The series is a spin-off from Girlfriends (where the pilot episode aired in April of 2006). The wives and girlfriends of the players are members of the Saber Sunbeams.

Cast: Tia Mowry (Melanie Barnett), Pooch Hall (Derwin Davis), Brittany Daniel (Kelly Pitts), Coby Bell (Jason Pitts), Wendy Raquel Robinson (Tasha Mack), Hosea Chanchez (Malik Wright).

2955 The Game Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969). Before the game begins, a contestant has to predict if he will score higher or lower than a panel of three guest celebrities. A psychological question is read (for example, "Should you be married?") that contains five parts. Part one of the question is revealed along with four possible answers (which are validated by the Southern Institute of Psychology). Each answer is worth from five to twenty-five points. Players score points according to their choice of answers. The remaining four questions are played in the same manner. The contestant receives money according to his prediction: twenty-five dollars for each celebrity he beats; one hundred dollars if he beats all three.

Host: Jim McKrell. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

2956 Game Over. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2004). Did you ever wonder what happens when the [video] game ends? Welcome to the other side" said an announcer during the show's opening theme. The games being referred to are video games and computer animation is used to tell the story of the Smashenburn family — video game characters who actually have a life after the video game ends.

Rip Smashenburn is the father; he is married to Raquel and their children are Alice (14 years old) and Billy (13). Their pet is Turbo.

Rip is a Grand Prix racecar driver. He drives Car 451 in circles until his game is activated; then its crashing and burning.

Raquel is a secret agent who fights evil as Agent Smashenburn. In her game, she is on a quest to find the Emerald Monkey (she already has the Gold Monkey); her job also has her entering booby-trapped ruins searching for relics.

Alice wears a camouflaged sweatshirt all the time because it defines her identity. She is cynical but socially conscious. Billy is confused — he doesn't know whether to hang out with the jocks, the nerds or the evil monkeys from the video game "Donkey Kong."

Turbo is a cigar smoking, wise cracking pet they adopted from the Pet Shelter.

Voice Cast: Patrick Warburton (Rip Smashenburn), Lisa Liu (Raquel Smashenburn), Rachel Dratch (Alice Smashenburn), Elizabeth Daily (Billy Smashenburn), Artie Lang (Turbo).

2957 Game Show Marathon. (Series; Game; CBS; 2006). A seven week celebration of game shows that have run on television over the past 50 years. Here, seven celebrities play selected game shows, that at one time or another aired on CBS. The shows are Beat the Clock, Card Sharks, Family Feud, Let's Make a Deal, The Match Game, Press Your Luck and The Price Is Right. The lowest scoring celebrity in each game that is recreated (exactly as seen in clips from the original series) is eliminated from further competition. The object is for one celebrity to become the best game player, for which he wins a cash prize for charity. Kathy Najimy proved to be the best.

Host: Ricki Lake. Contestants: Leslie Nielsen, Tim Meadows, Paige Davis, Lance Bass, Brande Roderick, Kathy Najimy. Prize Delivery Host: Todd Newton. Announcer: Rich Fields.

2958 Games People Play. (Series; Human Interest; NBC; 1980). A review of sporting games and contests in which average people compete.

Host: Bryan Gumbel. Co-Hosts: Cyndy Garvey, Donna de Varona, Johnny Bench, Mike Adamle, Ian Woodridge. Announcer: Gary Owens.

2959 Gang of Four. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 6/4/89). Jennifer Cullen, Eric Klein, Ellen Moore and Craig Stevenson are the "Gang of Four," longtime friends who are facing new challenges in life as they enter their senior year in high school. The unsold series was to relate incidents in their daily lives.

Other Regulars: Ben Moore, Ellen's father; Denise Cullen, Jennifer's mother; Sandra and Stan Klein, Eric's parents; and Mike Stevenson, Craig's father.

Cast: Amber O'Shea (Jennifer Cullen), Grant Heslov (Eric Klein), Kris Kamm (Craig Stevenson), Lara Flynn Boyle (Ellen Moore), Tom Atkins (Ben Moore), Lindsay Fisher (Denise Cullen), Claire Malis (Sandra Klein), Joseph Hindy (Stan Klein), Garrett Graham (Mike Stevenson). Guest Cast: David Wohl (Jerry Curtis), Annabella Price (Marsha), Josh Richman (Joey), Mitchell Anderson (Chris Ingram).

2960 Gangbusters. (Series; Anthology; NBC; Syn.; 1952–1953). Dramatizations based on the apprehension of major criminals by the police. The series, based on the files of local, state and federal law enforcement authorities, is adapted from the long-running radio program of the same title. The program was later titled Captured for syndication (1953). It ran on NBC as Gangbusters from March 10, 1952 to December 25, 1952.

Host-Narrator (Gangbusters): Phillips H. Lord. Host-Narrator (Captured): Chester Morris. Creator: Phillips H. Lord.

2961 The Gangster Chronicles. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1981). A violent series that chronicles the rise of organized crime as seen through the experiences of Charlie “Lucky” Luciano, Benny “Bugsy” Siegel and Michael Lasker, three childhood friends who grew up in poverty (on New York’s Lower East Side in 1907) and who would later help forge “The Secret American Empire” — what is today known as organized crime. Serial-type stories depict their lives through 1932.

Other Regulars: Ruth Lasker, Michael’s wife; Joy Osler, Charlie’s girlfriend; Stella Siegel, Benny’s wife; Chris Brennan, Charlie’s underworld contact; Joe Masseria, the crime boss; Mobster Al Capone; Mobster Dutch Schultz; Mr. Goodman, the factory owner; Salvatore Maranzano, a crime boss; Mobster Vito Genovese; Mobster Albert Anastasia; Mobster Tommy Lucchese; Vincent “Mad Dog” Coll, the syndicate killer; Thomas Dewey, the racket buster; Peter Coll, Vincent’s brother; Mobster Legs Diamond; Davey Levine, Stella’s brother; Gina Genovese, Vito’s wife; Mobster Tony Roscini; and Mobsters Morello and Batista.

2962 Garbage Pail Kids. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1987–1988). A program that was doomed before it even premiered. In 1985 a series of gross trading cards and stickers called “Garbage Pail Kids” hit the market and became extremely popular with children. When a series based on those cards was announced, it was immediately blasted by parents as being too unsuitable for children to watch. While the series picked up on the character names of the kids pictured on the cards, it did not use the gross aspects associated with those cards. But it was too late as the bad publicity killed the show before it had a chance to prove itself. The series itself is a potpourri of jokes, skits, movie spoofs, awards (like “The Garbage Pail Award”), awful commercial spoofs and anything else (clean) the producers thought would make kids laugh. The five main characters from the cards are depicted here, perhaps a bit gross looking, but in no way are they unpleasant: Split Kit, the leader, and his pals, Clogged Duane, Elliot Mess, Patty Putty and Terri Cloth.

Voice Cast: Noam Zylberman (Split Kit), Tara Strong (Patty Putty), Cree Summer (Clogged Duane), Alyson Court (Terri Cloth), Michael Fantini (Elliot Mess). Announcer: Len Carlson.

2963 Garfield and Friends. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1988–1992). Garfield, the lazy lasagna-loving feline comes to life in an animated series based on the comic strip by Jim Davis. Jon Arbuckle is Garfield’s owner and stories, which satirize pop culture, follow Garfield’s antics as he involves one and all in his attempts to do as little as possible to enjoy life.

Odie the dog; Nermal, Binky the Clown and Floyd Mouse are other regulars. A second segment called U.S. Acres (also based on a Jim Davis strip) relates the adventures shared by a group of barnyard animals (Orson Pig, Booker the Chick; Wade Duck; Roy Rooster; Bo and Carol Sheep and Sheldon, the un-hatched egg).

Voice Cast: Lorenzo Music (Garfield), Thomas Huge (Jon Arbuckle), Victoria Jackson (Penelope), Carl Ballantine (Al Swindler), Desiree Goyette (Nermal), Julie Payne (Lanolin), Frank Welker (Bo), Howard Morris (Wade Duck), Gregg Berger (Floyd Mouse), Thomas Huge (Binky the Clown).

2964 Gargoyles. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1994–1997). One thousand years ago in Scotland, Gargoyles were real, living creatures (although physically grotesque, but honorable). During the day the creatures slept frozen in stone. Each night Goliath, the Gargoyle leader, would come to life and awaken his clan to defend the king’s castle. Despite their noble efforts, humans who considered them an inferior race, held the Gargoyles in contempt.

One night, when Goliath was lured from his post, villagers overran and ransacked the castle. The king held the Gargoyles responsible and in punishment, his sorcerer placed a curse on them: they fell into what appeared to be an eternal stone slumber. Only a castle of greater heights could remove the curse.

In 1994 David Xanatos, a powerful and manipulative businessman, purchases the Scottish castle and transports it to New York City. He places it atop the tallest skyscraper in Manhattan (the Xanacorp Building) and breaks the curse. The Gargoyles are brought back to life.

When police detective Elisa Maza begins to investigate a series of crimes perpetrated against Xanacorp, she finds unexpected help from Goliath, who saves her life and eventually befriends her. Elisa is the first human to show him friendship and a sense of purpose. She vows to keep the secret of him and his fellow Gargoyles (who have each chosen new names in accord with their new home: Broadway, Lexington, Bronx, Hudson and Brooklyn). Stories relate the Gargoyles efforts to protect the city from modern-day “barbarians.” See also Gargoyles: The Goliath Chronicles.

Voice Cast: Keith David (Goliath), Salli Richardson (Elisa Maza), Marina Sirtis (Demon), Bill Fagerbakke (Broadway), Frank Welker (Bronx), Jeff Bennett (Brooklyn), Edward Asner (Hudson), Thom Adcox-Hernandez (Lexington), Kath Soucie (Princess Katharine), Clancy Brown (Wolf), Rocky Carroll (Glasses), Jim Cummings (Dingo), Neil Dickson (Griff), Jonathan Frakes (David Xanatos), J.D. Daniels (Tom), Brent Spiner (Puck), Sheena Easton (Robyn Canmore), William Morgan Sheppard (King Kenneth), Brigitte Bako (Angela).

2965 Gargoyles: The Goliath Chronicles. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1996). A sequel to Gargoyles (see for background information) that adds more conflict to a group of Gargoyles — mythical creatures of stone by day who come to life as warriors at night. Here the Manhattan Tribe, who secretly help the police bring criminals to justice, become known and feared by the people of New York City. Making matters worse is John Castaway (also known as Jon Canmore), a madman who exploits the city’s fears and forms the Quarrymen, a murderous anti-Gargoyle militia. The Gargoyles are friendly but unable to prove it. They have the support of the Xanatos family (David Xanatos was the man who brought the Gargoyles to Manhattan) and Demona, a former bad girl Gargoyle turned ally. Stories follow the Gargoyles as they battle the evils of the city while at the same time trying to defeat Castaway and convince humans they mean them no harm.

Voice Cast: Marina Sirtis (Demon), Tress MacNeille (Dr. Carrie Benjamin), Edward Asner (Burbank), Jim Cummings (Bum), Jeff Bennett (Thug), Charles Hallahan (Janitor), Lacey Chabert (Bobbi Porter), Elizabeth Daily (Alex), Rachel Ticotin (Capt. Maria Chavez), Kath Soucie (Cornelia Stallman), Bill Fagerbakke (Hollywood), Thomas Adcox-Hernandez (Brentwood), Brigitte Bako (Angela).

2966 The Garland Touch. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1960–1961). The alternate title for Mr. Garland. See this title for information.

2967 Garrison’s Gorillas. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1967–1968). United States Army Lieutenant Craig Garrison and four convicts (culled from various federal penitentiaries) attempt to demoralize German troops in Europe during World War II. Garrison is the squad leader; his convict squad is composed of Casino (a master thief), Actor (a master con artist), Goniff (an expert pickpocket) and Chief (a switchblade artist).

Cast: Ron Harper (Lt. Craig Garrison), Rudy Solari (Casino), Cesare Danova (Actor), Christopher Cary (Goniff), Brendon Boone (Chief).

2968 Garroway. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1969). A live talk show from Boston with humorist Dave Garroway as the host.

2972 The Garry Moore Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1966–1967). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy that ran from September 11, 1966 to January 29, 1967. Sylvester “Pat” Weaver, Bob Banner and Joe Hamilton are the producers.

Host: Garry Moore. Regulars: Durward Kirby, Carol Corbett, Pete Barbutti, John Byner, Ron Carey, Eddie Lawrence, Dick Davey, Patsy Elliott, The Bob Hamilton Dancers. Announcer: Durward Kirby. Orchestra: Bernard Green.

2973 The Gary Coleman Show. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1982–1983). The story of Andy LeBeau, a mischievous apprentice angel who is sent to earth to perform good deeds in order to become a full-fledged angel. Angelica is Andy’s superior; Hornswoggle is the evil being bent on discrediting Andy. Tina, Spence, Bartholomew, Chris, Lydia, Mack and Maggie are the children Andy helps. See The Kid with the Broken Halo for information on the series live action pilot film.

2974 The Gate. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Fox; Produced in 2005). Graham Hale is a detective with the Deviant Crimes Unit of the San Francisco Police Department. Graham is a partner with Ava Lyford, a rookie detective and they work closely with Matt Cavanaugh, their lieutenant.

Graham believes he is haunted by demons, a situation that arose about a year after his previous partner was killed in the line of duty. He now investigates bizarre crimes that seem to have a link with unnatural circumstances.

2975 Gavilan. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1982–1983). Robert Gavilan is an ex-CIA agent turned consultant for the DeWitt Institute, an oceanographic research organization based in Malibu, California. Marion Jawoiski is the head of the institute and stories follow Robert's adventures as he carries out assignments for Marion. Robert lives with Milo Bentley, a roguish Latin American exile. Robert has a submarine he calls "Buzz" and he can be reached by phone at 555-3224.

Cast: Robert Urich (Robert Gavilan), Patrick Macnee (Milo Bentley), Kate Reid (Marion Jawoiski), Jennifer Wallace (Girl Robert Meets on the Beach in Program Open). Theme: "Gavilan's Theme" by Steve Dorf.

2976 The Gay Coed. (Test Film; Comedy; DuMont; 11/1/47). A musical comedy that depicts the life of a college coed during America's most reckless and carefree era — the 1920s.

Cast: Sandra Barkin (Coed), Gary McHugh (Her boyfriend), Bernard Barrow (Football hero), Evelyn Bennett (Hero's girlfriend), Chuck Trantum and Melvin Nodell (Students).

2977 Gay Nineties Revue. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). The program, set in a gaslight nightclub, presents (and recalls) the music, songs and comedy of the early days of vaudeville (1890s). The series ran from August 11, 1949 to November 14, 1949. Tom DeHuff is the producer.

Host: Joe Howard, Gus Van. Regulars: J. Pat O'Malley, Lulu Bates, Loraine Fontaine, Romona Lang, The Townsman Quartet. Orchestra: Ray Bloch.

2978 Gay, Straight or Taken. (Series; Reality; Lifetime; 2007). Can a beautiful girl tell if a man is gay, straight or married (or engaged)? With that thought in mind, this series tries to answer that question. Each week one single girl is introduced to three men at a resort type location. The girl must gather as much information as possible (without asking straight out) about each man and select the gay, the straight and the married (or engaged) ones. If she is correct, she wins an exotic vacation with the straight man. If she is wrong the three men each receive separate vacations to spend with whomever they please. The series is produced by Joe Livecchi and Jenelle Lindsay.

2979 The Gaylord Hauser Show. (Series; Women; ABC; 1951–1952). A program of beauty tips, advice and nutritional information that ran from October 31, 1951 to April 25, 1952.

Host: Gaylord Hauser.

2980 The Gayle King Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1997). Hartford, Connecticut, news anchor Gayle King tackles real life issues with appropriate guests to present both sides of a selected topic.

Hostess: Gayle King.

2981 The G.E. College Bowl. (Series; Game; CBS; NBC; 1959–1970). Two four-member varsity scholar teams, representing two colleges, compete. The game begins with the Toss Up Round (in which the host asks a question). The first team to sound a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer and earn points (five to ten, depending on the question) and the opportunity to increase their score by 25 or 30 points via a four-part bonus round. The game continues in this manner until a winner is determined (highest point scorers). The champions receive a $3,000 scholarship grant and the right to return to defend their title; the losing team receives a $1,000 grant. The series, which ran from January 4, 1959 to June 16, 1963 (CBS) and September 22, 1963 to June 14, 1970 (NBC) is sponsored by General Electric.

Host: Allen Ludden (1959–1963), Robert Earle (1963–1970).

2982 G.E. Guest House. (Series; Interview; CBS; 1951). The program features a different celebrity panel each week discussing the various aspects of the entertainment industry. The series, sponsored by General Electric, ran from July 1, 1951 to August 26, 1951.

Host: Durward Kirby, Oscar Levant. Announcer: Durward Kirby.

2983 G.E. Summer Originals. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1956). A summer series of original dramatic presentations sponsored by General Electric. The series, which produced eight episodes, ran from September 3, 1956 to September 4, 1956.

Performers Include: Vivian Blaine, Jules Munshin, Shirley Mitchell, Casey Adams, Joe E. Brown, Hugh Beaumont, James Mason, Scott Forbes, Anne Kimball, Ellen Corby, Forrest Tucker, Donna Martel, Gene Raymond, Zachary Scott, Frances Rafferty, Reginald Denney, Paula Corday.

2984 The Geena Davis Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2000–2001). Teddie Cochran is a single, independent woman who owns her own public relations firm in New York City. Max Ryan is a widower with two children, Carter and Eliza. Max, a journalist, and Teddie meet by chance, begin dating and six weeks later become engaged. Teddie moves in with Max and his children in his suburban home and stories follow Teddie as she struggles to run her business and become a stepmother to Carter and Eliza.

Other Regulars: Gladys, Max's housekeeper; Judy and Alan, Teddie's employees; and Hillary, Teddie's friend, a glamorous, independent fashion designer who is a chronic drinker with a bad taste in men.

Cast: Geena Davis (Teddie Cochran), Peter Horton (Max Ryan), Mimi Rogers (Hillary Randall), Mackenzie Vega (Eliza Ryan), John Francis Daley (Carter Ryan), Harland Williams (Alan), Esther Scott (Gladys Cobora), Kim Coles (Judy Owens).

2985 The Gemini Man. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1976). Intersect is a U.S. government research organization that specializes in sensitive and often classified work. When an unidentified satellite loses orbit and crashes into the ocean, Intersect assigns special investigator Sam Casey the task of finding it in a mission called "Operation Royce Explorer."

While attempting to recover the satellite, it explodes and renders Sam invisible when heavy radiation affects his DNA structure.

Abby Lawrence is an Intersect doctor who saves Sam's life by fitting him with a DNA stabilizer to control his visibility. Abby later develops a sophisticated subminiature stabilizer in an atomic battery powered wristband. The stabilizer, which looks like a wristwatch, has three gold contacts on its back. When these contacts touch Sam's skin, he remains visible. When Sam presses the stem of the watch, he can change the frequency and become invisible, but only for 15 minutes a day; any longer and he will disintegrate.

While Abby searches for a permanent solution to Sam's problem, Sam uses his power of invisibility to fight crime by performing hazardous missions for Intersect.

Sam was born on April 16, 1948, in New York City. He received a juris doctor's degree from Harvard Law School in 1973 and has a clearance level of A-6 at Intersect. He lives at 3210 Driscoll.

Abby, a graduate of Harvard Medical School (class of 1975) lives at 173 Northern Boulevard and also has a clearance level of A-6.

Leonard Driscoll is the head of Intersect (International Security Technics). The series ran for only six episodes; Lee Holdridge composed the theme.

Cast: Ben Murphy (Sam Casey), Katherine Crawford (Abby Lawrence), William Sylvester (Leonard Driscoll; pilot), Richard Dysart (Leonard Driscoll; series).

2986 The Gene Autry Show. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1951–1954). "Hello folks, I've got a swell story I want to tell you today. Champion and I are ready for action" (as Gene Autry would open each show). The series appears to be set in the Old West, but some episodes show aspects of the late 1940s and early 1950s (like trucks and telephones); the action is also set on the open range giving the impression that the series is set in the Old West. At any rate, stories follow Gene, a ranch owner (the O.K. Corral Horse Training Ranch), and his partner, Pat (owner of Buttram's Tailor Shop), as they fight for right. Gene's horse is named Champion and Pat is sometimes called Pat Jenson as well as Pat Buttram. On another note, Gene's six shooter is capable of firing 16 shots with out reloading. The series, produced in black and white, then color, ran from 1951 to 1954 and produced 86 episodes.

Cast: Gene Autry (Gene Autry), Pat Buttram (Pat Buttram/Pat Jenson).

2987 Gene Autry's Melody Ranch. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966). The series, set at the Melody Ranch, presents performances by guest country and western entertainers. The series, hosted by film cowboy Gene Autry, produced 19 episodes.

Host: Gene Autry.

2988 Gene Simmons: Family Jewels. (Series; Reality; A&E; 2006–2007). Cameras follow the daily lives of Gene Simmons, former front man for the rock group KISS, his live-in girlfriend, actress Shannon Tweed, and their children Sophie and Nick. The program shows a totally different side of the rock star (portrayed somewhat as a maniac on stage) as he attempts to live a life away for the music world.

Cast: Gene Simmons, Shannon Tweed, Sophie Simmons, Nick Simmons, Tracey Tweed.

2989 Gene Simmons' Rock School. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2005). Students at an exclusive prep school in England (Christ's Hospital in West Sussex) who are bright but know very little about music are the subjects. Gene Simmons, the KISS bass player, has come to England to recruit students to form a rock band. The students are taught the principals of music including how to play instruments. The best performers make the cut and become part of the band.

Star: Gene Simmons. Narrator: Christian O'Connell.

1990 The General Electric Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953–1962). A long-running series of quality dramatic (sometimes comedic) productions sponsored by General Electric. The series, which produced 200 episodes, ran from February 1, 1953 to September 16, 1962.

An announcer opens the show: "In research; in engineering; in manufacturing skills. At General Electric progress is our most important product. Tonight, The General Electric Theater presents (name of episode). And here's your host, Mr. Ronald Reagan."

Host: Ronald Reagan. Announcer: Ken Carpenter. Performers Include: Ronald Reagan, Dorothy Malone, Barbara Rush, Nick Adams, Ernest Borgnine, Ed Wynn, Theodore Bikel, Geraldine Brooks, Diane Brewster, Cloris Leachman, Irene Dunne, David Janssen, Gloria Talbot, Jaye P. Morgan, Barbara Stanwyck, Stella Stevens, Elinor Donahue, Piper Laurie, Lola Albright, Lee Marvin, Suzanne Pleshette, Ida Lupino, Barbara Nichols, James Franciscus, Audrey Meadows, Jane Wyatt, Amanda Blake, Ruth Roman, Rod Steiger, Lee J. 2994 General Hospital: Night Shift. (Series; Drama; Soap Opera Network; 2007). A prime time cable series that is an extension of the ABC daytime serial General Hospital. The new series focuses on the doctors and nurses who handle the night shift at the hospital. Stories are not crossovers (begin on one version and end on the other) and are complete in themselves. While adapted from a soap opera, the drama is there but the continuing, cliff hanger-like endings are not.

Cast: Alla Korot (Stacey Sloan), Josh Duhon (Logan Hayes), Jason Gerhardt (Cooper Barrett), Lindze Letterman (Georgie Jones), Natalia Livingston (Emily Quartermaine), Kent Masters King (Dr. Lainey Winters), Minae Noji (Kelly Lee), Graham Shiels (Cody Paul), Jason Thompson (Dr. Patrick Drake), Kimberly McCullough (Dr. Robin Scorpio), Steve Burton (Jason Morgan), Bradford Anderson (Damien Spinelli), Rebecca Herbst (Elizabeth Spencer), Nazanin (Leyla Mir), Billy Dee Williams (Toussaint Dubois), Adrian Alvarado (Cruz Rodriguez), Amanda Baker (Jolene Crowell), Julie Berman (Lulu Spencer), Wendy Braun (Ms. Sneed), Kirsten Storms (Maxie Jones), Dominic Rains (Dr. Leo Julian), Ron Melendez (Dr. Andy Archer), Sonya Eddy (Epiphany), Derek Cheetwood (Max Giambetti), Angel M. Wainwright (Regina Thompson).

2995 Generation. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/24/85). Life in the year 2000 as seen through the eyes of the Breeds, an American family of the future facing the problems of tomorrow. The pilot episode relates the feelings of all concerned as the new century approaches.

The Regulars: Allan Breed, head of the family, a scientist at Techworld; Kate, his wife, a video teacher; Beth, their daughter; Jack, Allan's brother, a hockey player; Roma, Allan's sister, a doctor at Westholm Hospital; and Allan's parents, Tom and Ellen.

Cast: Richard Beymer (Allan Breed), Marta DuBois (Kate Mendez Breed), Hannah Cutrona (Beth Breed), Drake Hoyestyn (Jack Breed), Cristina Raines (Roma Breed), Bert Remsen (Tom Breed), Priscilla Pointer (Ellen Breed). Guest Cast: Liz Sheridan (Clara), Kim Miyori (Terri Tanaka), Reid Shelton (Raymond Wilkes), Lorene Yarnell (Pal), Scott Paulin (Graft), Harrison Page (George Leak), Beah Richards (Edna), Paige Price (Gila), Leigh Lombardi (Ann).

2996 The Generation Gap. (Series; Game; ABC; 1969). The younger generation is pitted against the older in an attempt to discover how much each knows about the other. The younger players are quizzed about the past; the older contestants answer questions regarding the present. Two three-member teams compete in a six-round game composed of three generation questions (directed to specific team members) and three cross-generation questions (which permit either team to answer). Points are scored for each correct response. The winners are the highest scorers. The points are transferred into dollars and each member of the winning team receives that amount; losing team members divide their earnings.

Host: Dennis Wholey, Jack Barry. Announcer: Fred Foy.

2997 Generation X. (Pilot; Science Fiction; Fox; 2/20/96). Emma Frost and Shawn Cassidy are adult mutants who run the Xavier School for Gifted Children, a front for teaching mutant teenagers how to become super heroes. In a futuristic time, humans are at risk of becoming genetic mutants due to activity by the X-Factor in certain glands. The X-Factor causes bizarre powers and people affected with this are declared “nonhuman” and denied human rights. Mutants must register as such and are subject to reeducation and forced confinement. Emma and Shawn rescue mutant teens from official custody and teach them to understand and develop their powers for good.

Emma, alias the beautiful White Queen, has the power to create illusion while Shawn, alias Banshee, can create powerful sound waves. Their students are Jubilation Lee (alias Jubilee), Arlee Hicks (alias Buff), Kurt Pastorius (alias Refrax), Mondo, Angelo Espinosa (alias Skin) and Monet. Their nemesis is Russell Tresh, a “mad scientist” who seeks to harvest the X-Factor in mutant brains to create his own mutants to control the world.

Jubilee can discharge energy from her fingertips. Buff possesses super strength. Refrax has x-ray vision. Mondo can take on the properties of any substance. Skin has thermo flexibility (can stretch his skin). Monet is a beautiful girl who possesses advanced brain functions and is immune to everything.

The pilot story finds Trench developing a dream machine that enables him to enter a person’s mind to control him for his own bidding. Based on the Marvel comic book.

Cast: Finola Hughes (Emma Frost), Jeremy Ratchford (Shawn Cassidy), Heather McComb (Arlee Hicks), Bumper Robinson (Mondo), Amaralis (Monet), Augustin Rodriguez (Angelo Espinosa), Matt Frewer (Russell Tresh). Guest Cast: Lynda Boyd (Alicia Lee), Randall Slavin (Kurt Pastorius), Gary Chalk (Detective Gaines), Kevin McNulty (Balston), Lalainia Lindbjerg (Kalya), Joely Collins (Jeannie), Wally Dalton (Pruitt), Robert J. Lewis (Jim Lee).

2998 Genesis II. (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 3/23/73). On February 14, 1979, in a secret underground NASA lab in the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, an experiment to discover a form of suspended animation to allow astronauts to travel further into space is conducted on scientist Dylan Hunt.

Shortly after he is placed in the Zeon Pressure Chamber, an earthquake triggers an avalanche of rock, caused by a flaw in the rock strata, and buries the experimental chamber under tons of stone. One hundred fifty years later, Dylan is found alive, perfectly suspended, by a group of explorers and learns from Lyra-a that it is the year A.D. 2133 and that the world, which was destroyed by a nuclear war, is just now revitalizing itself. The unsold series was to relate Dylan’s adventures on a new planet Earth. In his first adventure in his new world, Dylan becomes involved in a power struggle between the Pax, a people of peace, and the Terrania, a ruthless race of human beings. See also Planet Earth, the sequel pilot. Other Regulars: The Pax people: Harper-Smythe, Isiah, Astrid and Primus Isaac Kimbridge.

Cast: Alex Cord (Dylan Hunt), Lynne Marta (Harper-Smythe), Ted Cassidy (Isiah), Linda Grant (Astrid), Percy Rodrigues (Primus Isaac Kimbridge).

Guest Cast: Mariette Hartley (Lyra-a), Majel Barrett (Primus Dominic), Tom Pace (Brian), Leon Askin (Overseer), Beulah Quo (Princess Lu Chun), Harry Raybould (Slan-U), Ed Ashley (Wehr), Liam Dunn (Janos), Titos Vandis (Yuloff), Dennis Young (General), Harvey Jason (Singh).

2999 Gentle Ben. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1967–1969). Tom Wedloe is a game warden in the Florida Everglades. He is married to Ellen and is the father of a young boy named Mark. Mark attends the Ocheechokee School; they have a pet goat named Charlie and a flamingo they call Pinky. Old Joe is the 12-foot bull alligator who lives in the swamp near their home. Tom patrols the Everglades in an air boat. There is one other member of the family: Mark’s pet, Ben, a 600-pound black bear. (Several months earlier, Mark was exploring the Bear River Game Reserve when he stumbled upon a bear cub. He was suddenly confronted by its angry mother and climbed to the safety of a tree. Seconds later, a hunter named Fog Hanson shot the bear. Unaware of Mark’s presence, Fog took the cub. When Mark discovered that Fog was keeping the cub in a waterfront shack, he befriended it by sneaking in to feed it. He named the cub Ben. Later, when Ben was grown, Mark overheard Fog talking about killing the bear and selling the meat. Mark asked his father to buy Ben and Tom did when he accepted the position of game warden in the Everglades.) Stories follow the adventures shared by a young boy and his pet bear.

Vera Miles played Ellen in the pilot, and Ralph Meeker was Fog Hanson. Harry Sukman composed the “Gentle Ben” theme.

Cast: Dennis Weaver (Tom Wedloe), Beth Brickell (Ellen Wedloe), Clint Howard (Mark Wedloe), Rance Howard (Henry Boomhauer), Angelo Rutherford (Willie; Mark’s friend), Eleanor LaForge (Miss Salisbury; Mark’s teacher).

3000 Gentry’s People. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 7/7/59). The story of Gentry, a two-fisted, warm-hearted Los Angeles newspaper reporter-columnist. In the pilot episode, Gentry attempts to help Frank Simms, a cop killer who is afraid to give himself up, fearing he will be shot on sight. Broadcast as “Good Deed” on The David Niven Theater (“Gentry’s People” was the proposed series title).

Cast: Keefe Brasselle (Gentry). Guest Cast: James Best (Frank Simms), Virginia Gregg (Hazel), Jay C. Flippen (Sergeant Nelson), Jeanette Nolan (Frank’s mother).

3001 George. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993). George Foster is a retired boxer who invested his prize money in an investment firm called George Foster Investments. The business kept George busy but when he had built it into a success, he became bored. To occupy his time and give him a new outlook on life, George works with the community to help troubled kids. Stories follow George’s efforts as he attempts to help children find the right path in life (he begins the TKO Club and teaches children with the help of athletics, especially boxing).

Other Regulars: Maggie, George’s wife, a teacher at the Monroe Middle School; Vee, George’s daughter; Vanessa, Shasta, Mauricio, Daniel, Bubba and Lathan, the kids George helps; and Juanita, George’s housekeeper.

Cast: George Foreman (George Foster), Sheryl Lee Ralph (Maggie Foster), Laura Robinson (Vee Foster), Anne Haney (Juanita), Doniell Spencer (Shasta Roberta Rhodes), Larry Gillard, Jr. (Lathan Basmore), Cleandre Norman (Daniel Hickok), Pablo Irlando (Mauricio Butler), Tony Johnson (Bubba Foster).

3002 George and Alana. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1995). Actor George Hamilton and his (and singer Rod Stewart’s) former mate, actress Alana Stewart, join forces to host a daily talk show (like Live with Regis and Kathie Lee) that features conversation between the two, celebrity interviews, shopping segments and segments that spotlight phone calls from Alana’s friends.

Hosts: George Hamilton, Alana Stewart.

3003 George and Leo. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1997–1998). Summer Street Books is a bookstore run by George Stoodly. Leo Wagonman is a big shot for the mob in Las Vegas who helps himself to some casino money and soon finds there is a contract out for his life. Ted, George’s son, is married to Casey, Leo’s daughter (they run a restaurant). When Leo comes to pay his daughter a visit he talks George into letting him live in the spare room above the bookstore until the heat cools down. Stories follow the relationship between George and Leo as George tries to stay out of Leo’s affairs, and Ted and Casey’s efforts to run their restaurant.

Cast: Bob Newhart (George Stoodly), Judd Hirsch (Leo Wagonman), Jason Bateman (Ted Stoodly), Bess Meyer (Casey Stoodly; episodes 1–8), Robyn Lively (Casey Stoodly; episodes 9–22), Paul Willson (Deputy Zajac), Darryl Theirse (Ambrose), Jason Beghe (Ron).

3004 George and Mildred. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1984). The British series on which The Ropers is based. The series, a spin-off from the British series Man About the House (which see), follows the comic adventures of George and Mildred Roper, a bickering married couple, as they begin new lives in a classy and exclusive British neighborhood (at 46 Peacock Crescent, Hampton Wick, Middlesex, England).

Other Regulars: Jeffrey Fourmile, their snobbish neighbor (feels the Ropers are beneath his social scale); Anne, Jeffrey’s wife; Tristram, Jeffrey’s son; “Baby” Tarquin, Jeffrey’s infant son; Ethel, Mildred’s mother; Humphrey, Ethel’s husband; Hilda, Mildred’s sister; Jerry, George’s con artist friend.

Cast: Brian Murphy (George Roper), Yootha Joyce (Mildred Roper), Norman Eshley (Jeffrey Fourmile), Sheila Fearn (Anne Fourmile), Nicholas Bond-Owen (Tristram Fourmile), Simon Lloyd (“Baby” Tarquin Fourmile), Avril Elgar (Ethel), Reginald Marsh (Humphrey), Jean Marloe (Hilda), Gretchen Franklin (Mildred’s mother), Roy Kinnear (Jerry).

3005 The George Burns and Gracie Allen Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1950–1958). “I’m George Burns, Gracie Allen’s husband. I’m a straight man” — these were the first words George spoke to introduce his first television series to viewers. Gracie is a comedienne and scatterbrained. She has a knack for confusing people and complicating the simplest situations. George is level-headed and knows that if it weren’t for Gracie’s antics, “I’d still be selling ties.” George and Gracie live at 312 Maple Street in Beverly Hills, California, with their son, Ronnie.

George and Gracie met while performing in vaudeville in the 1920s. When George first dated Gracie, he gave her flowers. They married, according to Gracie, due to the meat shortage. (Gracie had invited George over for dinner one night in 1927. When Gracie’s mother had only enough steaks to feed four of the six people waiting for dinner, she told Gracie to elope — and so she and George did.) They were married in Cleveland, and George’s friend, Jack Benny, was the witness.

George and Gracie first lived at the Edison Hotel in New York City for three years before buying their home in California. George is a member of the Friars' Club and is famous for "The Pause" that he developed after Gracie's response to one of his questions.

George tries to discourage salesmen from coming to the house: "You heard of the play Death of a Salesman? Well, trying to sell Gracie something is what killed him."

Gracie believes that her father is younger than her husband ("I met my husband when he was 30; I first saw my father when he was 24"). When George and Gracie go to the movies, they sometimes have to sit through the film twice ("Gracie wants the movie and her popcorn to end at the same time").

George and Gracie's neighbors, Blanche and Harry Morton, live at 314 Maple Street. Blanche grew up on Elm Street in Seattle; Harry, a CPA, went to Dartmouth and will drink only one alcoholic beverage — blackberry cordial. Before Larry Keating played Harry, Hal March, John Brown, Bob Sweeney and Fred Clark played the role. Harry was first an insurance salesman, then a real estate salesman and finally an accountant.

Bill Goodwin, a ladies' man, was George's first announcer; he was replaced by Harry Von Zell, who frequently found himself the pawn in George's efforts to resolve problems arising from Gracie's antics. Ronnie attends UCLA in later episodes; Bonnie Sue McAfee is his girlfriend; and Ralph Grainger is his best friend.

Many of the episodes in syndication include references to the show's longtime sponsor, Carnation Milk (cans can be seen in kitchen shots, and Gracie was confused by the product — "How do they get milk from carnations?"). When Gracie retired from show business in 1958, the series continued on NBC as "The George Burns Show" (10/21/58 to 4/14/59), with George playing himself as a theatrical producer. Ronnie Burns, Bea Benaderet, Larry Keating and Harry Von Zell continued their roles from the earlier series. See entry for additional information.

Relatives: Mamie Kelly, Gracie's married sister; Jeri and Jill, Mamie's daughters; Harry Morton, Sr., Harry's father; Roger, Blanche's brother; Linda, Blanche's niece.

Ralph is Ronnie's friend; Imogene and Bonnie Sue are Ronnie's girlfriends; Mr. Beasley is the mailman; Chester Vanderlip is the bank president; Lucille is his wife; Emily is his daughter; Edie is the 11-year-old president of the Ronnie Burns Fan Club. Clara is Gracie's friend; Joey is Clara's son; Detective Soyer is the cop Gracie plagues; Casey is Harry's partner; Cuspert Jansen is the plumber. Theme: "Love Nest," played first by Leith Stevens, then Mahlon Merrick.

Announcer Harry Von Zell opened the show:

"The George Burns and Gracie Allen Show presented by Carnation Evaporated Milk, the milk from contented cows. And now the curtain rises, presenting George Burns and Gracie Allen."

Cast: George Burns (Himself), Gracie Allen (Herself), Ronnie Burns (Himself), Harry Von Zell (Himself), Bea Benaderet (Blanche Morton), Larry Keating (Harry Morton), Robert Ellis (Ralph Grainger), Judi Meredith (Bonnie Sue McAfee), Carol Lee (Imogene Reynolds), Rolfe Sedan (Mr. Beasley), Grandon Rhodes (Chester Vanderlip), Sarah Selby (Mamie Kelly), Sarah Selby (Lucille Vanderlip; later), Millie Davis (Emily Vanderlip), Jeri James (Keri Kelly), Jill Oppenheim (Jill Kelly), Anna Maria Nanasi (Edie Westlip), Irene Hervey (Clara Bagley), Michael Qaylen (Joe Bagley), King Donovan (Roger), Russell Hicks (Harry Morton, Sr.), Garry Marshall (Joey Bagley, Jr.), Ann Steffins (Linda), James Flavin (Detective Soyer), Howard McNear (Cuspert Jansen), Hal March (Casey), Judy Walker (Jansen's Daughter), Yvonne Lime (Jansen's Daughter), Darlene Albert (Jansen's Daughter), Mary Ellen Kay (Jansen's Daughter), Elvia Allman (Jane), Nestor Paiva (Mr. Meyers), Tom Henry Brown (Mr. Channing), Frank Wilcox (Ralph's Father), Sandra Burns (Various Roles), Barbara Stuart (Various Roles), Jackie Loughery (Various Roles). Announcer: Bill Goodwin, Harry Von Zell.

3006 George Burns Comedy Week. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1985). A weekly series of comedy presentations hosted by comedian George Burns. Performers include Valerie Perrine, Catherine O'Hara, Patrick Duffy, Anne Lockhart, Eugene Levy, Frank Bonner, Greg Morris, Fred Willard, Harvey Korman, Carrie Fisher, Joe Piscopo, Deborah Harmon, Robert Klein, Candice Azzara, Martin Mull, Geena Davis, Julie Payne, Ruth Buzzi, Don Rickles, Don Knotts, Fannie Flagg, Elliott Gould, Telly Savalas, Michael Ansara.

Host: George Burns.

3007 The George Burns Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1958–1959). The life of George Burns, an actor turned theatrical producer living in Beverly Hills, California. Stories relate his attempts to overcome the chaotic situations that arise from auditions, performer tantrums, his son, Ronnie's romantic entanglements, the antics of his secretary, Blanche, and the endless efforts of his announcer, Harry Von Zell, to convince George that he is capable of any role assignment. The series is a spin-off from The George Burns and Gracie Allen Show (George's wife, Gracie Allen, had retired from show business after the demise of their series in 1958). Harry Morton is Blanche's husband; Julie Meredith is the aspiring actress; Lily is the waitress; Miss Tenkins is George's secretary in later episodes.

Cast: George Burns (George Burns), Ronnie Burns

3008 The George Carlin Show. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1994–1995). George O’Grady is a nasty New York cab driver. He lives in Apartment 4C and drives a taxi for the New York City Cab Company. He has been exposed for bilking customers on the TV show You’ve Been Busted and his cab has been called “The Taxi of Terror.” He previously appeared on TV when he became intoxicated at Shea Stadium and streaked across the playing field (“I got to third base before they threw the tarp over me”).

George’s pride and joy is his collection of jazz records. He has a dog named Miles (after musician Miles Davis).

“Broadway” Harry Rosetti is George’s bookie. Before George became Harry’s best customer, Harry robbed cigarette trucks for a living, “but I was always caught and arrested, so I went into a different line, bookmaking.” Harry has been married to the ultra-sexy Barbara for 31 years but has only known her for 24 years (he doesn’t count separations and the two years he spent in Italy waiting for things to cool down when he was a suspect in the unsolved shooting of a mobster).

Jack Donahue owns the Molin Tavern, the bar hangout. He was thrown out of bartender school for drinking. Sydney Paris is the Molin’s busty barmaid. She is a model waiting for her big break and is a former Miss Texas; she is now with the Pinnacle Modeling Agency.

Kathleen Racowski is George’s girlfriend. She owns the To Fur with Love pet shop and graduated from Hofstra University in 1970. Neil Bick is the rich plastic surgeon who frequents the Molin and whom George finds to be the perfect patsy. He attended Georgetown University.

3009 George Gobel Presents. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 1/31/63). A proposed but unsold hour of music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian George Gobel as the host. Broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Premiere.” Howard Leeds is the producer.

Host: George Gobel. Regular: Cliff Norton. Guests: Peter Nero, Eddie Quillan, Joyce Van Patten, Marilyn Watson, Jerry Murad’s Harmonicats. Orchestra: Johnny Williams.

3010 The George Gobel Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1957). A relaxed, casual program of music, songs and comedy with comedian George Gobel as the host. The series ran from October 2, 1954 to June 29, 1957. Bud Yorkin and Edward Sobol are the producers.

Host: George Gobel. Regulars: Jeff Donnell, Peggy King. Orchestra: John Scott Trotter.

3011 The George Gobel Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957–1959). A casual program of music, songs and comedy with comedian George Gobel as the host. The series, which alternates with The Eddie Fisher Show, ran from September 4, 1957 to March 10, 1959. Fred DeCordova and Al Lewis are the producers.

Host: George Gobel. Regulars: Eddie Fisher, Phyllis Avery, Peggy King, The Johnny Mann Singers. Orchestra: John Scott Trotter.

3012 The George Hamilton IV Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1959). A program of country and western music hosted by singer George Hamilton IV. The series, which produced six episodes, ran from April 13, 1959 to May 29, 1959.

Host: George Hamilton IV. Regulars: Roy Clark, Mary Klick, Buck Ryan, Clint Miller, Elton Britt, Jack French, Billy Gibson, Joe Williams, Joe Davis, Jan Crockett, Smitty Irwin, The Country Lads. Music: Alec Houston and the Texas Wildcats.

3013 George Jessel’s Show Business. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953–1954). Testimonial dinners honoring personalities of the entertainment world. Celebrity friends, seated around a banquet table, roast the honored guest. George Jessel, the Toastmaster General of the United States, hosts the series, which ran from September 13, 1953 to April 11, 1954.

Host: George Jessel.

3014 The George Lopez Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2002–2007). George and Angelina (called Angie) Lopez are a happily married couple who live at 3128 Rose Street in Los Angeles. They are the parents of Carmen and Max.

George works as the assembly line supervisor for Powers Bros. Aviation Company (after 12 years on the assembly line George received the promotion). Angie was originally a sales representative for La Marie Cosmetics, then a wedding planner (Angie’s Weddings) when the company folded and she lost her job.

Carmen is the elder child, a beautiful teenage girl who can’t wait to become a woman. She is somewhat rebellious and is proud of her Cuban-Mexican heritage. She first attends the Allendale School, then St. Theresa’s High School. She is also a talented dancer.

Max, like his father, suffers from dyslexia, a problem that is now under control. Max is the mischievous child and always in trouble for doing something (like eavesdropping on Carmen; skateboarding in the house).

George is a Mexican American who was the first one in his family to graduate from high school. His mother Benita (called Benny) was (and still is) reckless. She smoked, drank and cursed and still does all three. George's dad, Manny, left them when George was 2.

Angie is Cuban-American and the daughter of Vic (a doctor) and Emilina Palmero.

Benny works with George at Powers Aviation (she has been an assembly line worker for 30 years). She has three basic house rules: "Don't touch my beer, don't touch my smokes, and don't sneak up on me when I'm asleep — I got a gun under my pillow and I sleep au natural."

Ernie is George's best friend, an assembly line worker at Powers Aviation. He and George enjoy a drink at Thirsty's Bar (Shelley is the bar tender). In the episode of February 7, 2007, Carmen leaves for college (in Providence, Rhode Island) and is replaced by Victoria, George's niece.

Cast: George Lopez (Himself), Constance Marie (Angie Lopez), Masiela Lusha (Carmen Lopez), Luis Armand Garcia (Max Lopez), Belita Moreno (Benny Lopez), Valente Rodriguez (Ernie), Aimee Garcia (Victoria), Jack Blessing (Jack Powers), Mark Tymchyshyn (Mel Powers), Emiliano Diez (Vic Palermo), Kelli Nordhaus (Shelley).

3015 George of the Jungle. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1967–1970). The overall title for three animated series.

1. George of the Jungle. The story, set in the Mbeebie Province in Africa, relates the exploits of George, the king of the jungle, a tree-crashing prone, simple-minded klutz who aids people in distress; George doesn't know the meaning of the word fear ("but George can look up"). Ape Named Ape, Shep, the elephant who acts like a Golden Retriever, and beauties Ursula and Marigold are George's jungle friends. George's most prized possession is his rhinestone yo yo.

In 2008 the Cartoon Network presented an updated version of George of the Jungle. George was still a bumbling klutz and his battle to protect his jungle domain was still featured. Shep was not a part of the new series, but Ape Named Ape, Ursula and Magnolia (changed from Marigold) were still George's jungle friends. Voices for the 2008 version are Lee Tockar (George), Paul Dobson (Ape Named Ape), Brittney Irwin (Ursula), Tabitha St. Germain (Magnolia).

2. Super Chicken. The story of Henry Cabot Henhouse III, a mild-mannered scientist who discovers Super Sauce, a drink that transforms him into the daring crime fighter Super Chicken. Episodes relate his battle against evil.

3. Tom Slick. The misadventures of Tom Slick, a simple minded racing car driver (of the Thunderbolt Grease Slapper).

Voice Cast: Bill Scott (George of the Jungle), Bill Scott (Tom Slick), June Foray (Ursula), June Foray (Marigold), Paul Frees (Ape Named Ape). Additional Voices: William Conrad, Walter Tetley, Skip Craig, Barbara Baldwin. Narrator: Paul Frees.

3016 The George Raft Casebook. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1953). The alternate title for I'm the Law. See this title for information.

3017 The George Ross Show. (Experimental; Interview; NBC; 9/6/39). George Ross, a columnist for the then World Telegram, conducts interviews with various personalities (here he interviews Mary Dowell, New York's tallest showgirl, who stands 6 feet 3 inches tall; and Tony Soma, a Manhattan nightclub owner who practices Yoga). The George Ross Show is one of the first experimental commercial programs. The sponsor, Geller's Shoes, paid for the talent and overcame the FCC regulations that prohibited the sale of time to advertisers.

Host: George Ross. Guests: Mary Dowell, Tony Soma. Commercial Spokes Girl: Mildred Gale, Mildred Murray.

3018 The George Sanders Mystery Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1957). A summer series of mystery presentations that produced eleven episodes and ran from June 22, 1957 to September 14, 1957.

Host: George Sanders. Performers Include: Marion Ross, Jerry Paris, Howard McNear, Eve McVeagh, Scotty Beckett, Elisha Cook, Jeanne Cooper, Harry Lauter, Sue England, Robert Horton, Mae Clarke, Don Haggerty, Dorothy Green, Helen Brown, Paul Petersen, John Archer, Freeman Morse, Alex Gerry, Adam Williams.

3019 George Schlatter's Comedy Club. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987). Comedy producer George Schlatter (Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In) hosts a series that features stand-up routines and specialty acts. Taped before a live audience in a comedy club setting.

Host: George Schlatter. Comics: Jenny Jones, George Miller, Bob Nelson, Don King, Margaret Smith, Kevin Meaney Robert Gruenberg, Bob Zang.

3020 The George Wendt Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1995). George and Daniel Coleman are brothers who run the Coleman Brothers Garage. They are also the hosts of The Coleman Brothers, a radio call-in car repair program. The brothers attended St. Gregory Grammar School. George is divorced; Daniel is single and the brothers can talk longer to women than they can to men. They enjoy a pizza at Valentino's and stories follow their efforts to run the garage, host a talk show and agree on how to repair cars.

Other Regulars: Libby Schuster, the radio show producer; Finney and Fletcher, George's mechanics; Bernadette, Finney's 15-year-old daughter.

Cast: George Wendt (George Coleman), Pat Finn (Daniel Coleman), Kate Hodge (Libby Schuster), Brian Doyle Murray (Finney), Mark Christopher Lawrence (Fletcher Williams), Carol Ann Plante (Bernadette).

3021 Georgia Gibbs Million Record Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957). The program features renditions of songs that have sold over a million copies. The series, hosted by singer Georgia Gibbs, aired from July 1, 1957 to September 2, 1957.

Hostess: Georgia Gibbs. Orchestra: Eddie Safronski.

3022 The Georgia Peaches. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 11/8/80). Lorette Peach, a country and western singer; her sister, Sue Lynn, a mechanic who owns the Georgia Peaches Garage; and Dusty Tyree, a stock car racer, are friends who are recruited by Randolph Dukane, a Treasury Department agent, to perform missions for the U.S. government. In the pilot episode, they attempt to break up a ring of cigarette bootleggers operating out of their home state of Georgia.

Cast: Tanya Tucker (Lorette Peach), Terri Nunn (Sue Lynn Peach), Dirk Benedict (Dusty Tyree), Lane Smith (Randolph Dukane). Guest Cast: Sally Kirkland (Vivian Stark), Dennis Patrick (Wade Holt), Noble Willingham (Jarvis Wheeler), Burton Gilliam (Delbart Huggins), David Hayward (Joe Dan Carter), Bob Hannah (Officer Orville). Theme Vocal: "The Georgia Peaches" by Tanya Tucker.

3023 Gerald McBoing-Boing. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1956–1958). Gerald McClory is a young boy who speaks in sound effects ("Boing! Boing!") rather than words. Stories follow his misadventures as he faces everyday life. The series, which ran from December 16, 1956 to March 10, 1957 (and May 30, 1958 to October 3, 1958) is composed of both theatrical shorts produced by U.P.A. and made-for-television cartoons.

Voices: Bill Baldwin (Commentator and Interpreter of Gerald's sounds), Marvin Miller.

3024 Geraldo. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1987–1996). A daily talk show with investigative reporter Geraldo Rivera as the host and doing what he does best — presenting in-depth coverage of top news stories and interviews with the people who make them.

Host: Geraldo Rivera.

3025 Get a Life. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1990–1992). The locale is Greenville, a small town in Minnesota. Our "hero" is Chris Peterson, a 30-year-old who never forgot what it is like to be a kid. Chris is a newspaper delivery boy for the Pioneer Press. His parents, Fred and Gladys, believe "he is like a diamond in the rough that needs polishing" (in other words, Fred says, "an idiot"). Larry Potter, his friend and neighbor, believes "Chris is a gas-headed idiot who gets on everyone's nerves"; Larry's wife, Sharon, knows "Chris is an idiot and has disgusting Chris microbes." Chris believes and says, "I have a happy-go-lucky outlook on life. I'm happy being an idiot."

Our tale of an idiot began in 1971 when Chris wanted to buy a Neptune 2000 submarine from an ad at the back of a comic book. To pay for it, he got a job as a paperboy. Twenty years later, Chris is still a paperboy — and the sub finally arrived in the mail (it runs on 54 "D" batteries). Chris is a failure at everything, but he is the last one to realize it. Our "aging Dennis the Menace" (as Larry calls him) lives in a room above the garage at his parents' home at 1341 Meadow Brooke Lane.

Fred, who was born in Chicago, and Gladys, an army brat, are Chris's parents. Their wardrobe mainly consists of bathrobes, which they wear virtually everywhere.

When Chris turned 31 (11/19/91), he moved into the garage of Gus Borden, an embittered ex-cop with a drinking problem. Gus lives at 1804 York Avenue and Chris pays him $150 a month rent.

Chris's neighbors, Larry and Sharon Potter, live at 1343 Meadow Brooke Lane and have two children, Amy and Bobby. Larry works as an accountant for the firm of Bushman and Simon. He also hems Sharon's dresses and makes homemade taffy with the kids. Sharon considers Chris to be her worst enemy in life. She has "idiot proofed" the house to keep Chris out.

Chris's Relatives: James Keane (Uncle Milt Peterson), Jackie Earle Haley (Cousin Donald Peterson), Bill Cort (Uncle Sid Peterson), David Wiley (Uncle Brad Peterson), Pat Crawford Brown (Aunt Molly Peterson), Bibi Osterwald (Aunt Jilly Peterson), Marte Boyle Slout (Aunt Kathy Peterson). Flashbacks: Brandon Crane (Chris age 12). Themes: "Stand" (opening), by R.E.M.; "Get a Life" (close), by Stewart Levin.

Cast: Chris Elliott (Chris Peterson), Bob Elliott (Fred Peterson), Elinor Donahue (Gladys Peterson), Robin Riker (Sharon Potter), Sam Robards (Larry T. Potter III), Brian Doyle-Murray (Gud Borden), Taylor Fry (Amy Potter), Bradley Bluhm (Bobby Potter), Zachary Benjamin (Bobby Potter; later).

3026 The Get Along Gang. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1984–1985). Events in the lives of the Get Along Gang (Montgomery Moose, Zipper Cat, Dotty Dog, Bing Beaver, Woolma Lamb and Portia Porcupine), six animals who battle the evils of Catchum Crocodile and Leland Lizard, two ne'er-do-wells who enjoy causing trouble.

Voices: Bettina Bush, Timothy Gibbs, Georgi Irene, Nicky Katt, Robbie Lee, Sherry Lynn, Sparky

Marcus, Chuck McCann, Scott Menville, Don Messick, Frank Welker.

3027 Get Christie Love! (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1974–1975). Christine Love, who prefers to be called Christie, is a gorgeous African American undercover police woman with the Homicide Division, Metro Bureau of the Los Angeles Police Department. Christie knows she is beautiful and that is her greatest asset. This, combined with her charm, wit and understanding of human nature, give her an edge over other such officers in the precinct.

Christie is not one for sitting in an office. She wants to be where the action is and loves her job on the streets. She is skilled with a gun and can be a pussycat, a seductress, or a cop gone bad — whatever the situation calls for if it will ensure her of a good collar and get a dangerous criminal off the streets.

Christie does take chances — something her partner, Joe Caruso, and their superior, Arthur P. Ryan, wishes she wouldn't do (as they feel chances do not always pay off. Clear thinking and persistent investigation will give the same, if not better results). Christie's mind can't be changed (although she will begin cases as told, she feels her feminine intuition is better and will give her the results she wants. She is brave but when she gets in over her head, she will scream for help).

Christie is not afraid to use a gun. She sharpens her skills at Hogan's Alley (a gun range) and never shoots to kill — “Just enough to stop 'em.” Christie uses the word “Sugah” often and “You're under arrest, Sugah” became her catch phrase. When on the job, Joe looks out for Christie (although he is not as gung ho as she) and he perhaps best sums up Christie when she is out to get her man (culprit that is) — “My partner is a mean lady.”

“Papa” Luigi Caruso, Joe's father, is the owner of Christie's favorite eatery, Caruso's Restaurant. Luchi DeJesus composed the “Get Christie Love” theme.

In the original pilot film (ABC, January 22, 1974), Andy Romano played Sergeant Seymour Greenberg (not Joe Romano) and Harry Guardino was the captain, Casey Reardon.

3028 Get It Together. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1970). Rock personalities perform in a program that ran from January 3, 1970 to September 5, 1970 but failed to capture the teenage audience.

Hosts: Sam Riddle, Mama Cass Elliott. Announcer: Sam Riddle.

3029 Get Smart. (Series; Comedy; NBC; CBS, 1965–1970). A vulture standing on top of the world is the symbol for KAOS, an evil international organization that is seeking to dominate the world. Its leader, Conrad Siegfried, believes that only one-man stands between him and global domination — Maxwell Smart, an agent for an organization of good called CONTROL. To accomplish his goals, the German-accented Siegfried has made stopping Maxwell Smart his top priority and his put out the word to all his operatives — “Get Schmartz!”

CONTROL is a supposedly secret U.S. government agency located at 123 Main Street in Washington, D.C. Admiral Harold Harmon Hargrade was the original head of CONTROL. He has retired when the series begins and has been replaced by a man only identified as Thaddeus but who is called “Chief.”

Maxwell Smart, the agency's top operative, has the code name Agent 86. He works with a beautiful operative identified only as Agent 99. Max is, in reality, a bumbling klutz whose foul-ups manage to foil the enemy. Agent 99, on the other hand, is bright, often covers for Max and uses various aliases to protect her true identity (even after she and Max marry, Max continues to call her 99 and her mother “99's mother” and “Mrs. 99”).

To protect his identity, Max uses the cover of Maxwell Smart, salesman for the Pontiac Greeting Card Company; the Chief poses as his boss, Howard Clark. While 99 relies on her intuition and training as a spy to battle the enemy, Max believes his weapons are his constant vigilance and his sharp instincts. “Sorry about that, Chief,” “Would you believe...” and “I asked you not to tell me that” are Max's catch phrases. “Oh Max” is what 99 usually says when Max does what he does best — bumble.

Hymie is a former KAOS robot that has been reprogrammed for good; Agent 13 is an agent who gets the least favorable undercover assignments (like hiding in a garbage can or grandfather clock); Charlie Watkins is a stunning blonde Max (and the audience) has a hard time believing is a man in drag; the dim-witted Larabee assists the chief while the bumbling Schtarker aides Siegfried. Harry Hoo is the Charlie Chan-like Oriental detective who assists Max (and vice versa). Fang is the lone CONTROL dog agent. Irving Szathmary composed the “Get Smart” theme. See also Get Smart (1995) and Get Smart, Again.

Cast: Don Adams (Maxwell Smart), Barbara Feldon (Agent 99), Edward Platt (The Chief), Dick Gautier (Hymie), Dave Ketchum (Agent 13), Robert Karvelas (Agent Larabee), Bernie Kopell (Siegfried), King Moody (Schtarker), Joey Forman (Harry Hoo), Jane Dulo (99's mother), Victor French (Agent 44), Ellen Weston (Dr. Steele), Robert Cornthwaite (Professor Windish), Stacy Keach, Sr. (Professor Carlson), George Ives (Dr. Bascomb), Angelique Pettyjohn (Charlie Watkins), William Schallert (Adm. Harold Harmon Hargrade).

3030 Get Smart. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1995). A revised version of Get Smart (1965–70) that focused on secret agents (for CONTROL) Maxwell Smart (Agent 86) and his companion, Agent 99.

The bumbling as ever Maxwell Smart is now the Chief of CONTROL; his wife, 99, is a Congresswoman; and new regular, Zack, their son, is an agent who is following in his father's footsteps — clumsy and dim-witted. Zack's partner is the beautiful Agent 66 (like 99, she has no other name); and KAOS, still an enemy of the world, is located in the KAOS Tower Building in Washington, D.C. (they now plan to take over the world via Total World Economic Domination). Stories relate Zack and 66's efforts to foil the evils of KAOS — much in the same manner as Max and 99 did in the 1960s.

Other Regulars: Trudy, Max's fumbling secretary; Siegfried, the former head of KAOS (fired when the Cold War ended). He and his daughter (Gretchen) plan to reactivate the Cold War so he can get his old job back.

Cast: Don Adams (Maxwell Smart), Barbara Feldon (99), Andy Dick (Zack Smart), Elaine Hendrix (66), Heather Morgan (Trudy), Bernie Kopell (Siegfried), Leah Lail (Gretchen Siegfried).

3031 Get Smart, Again. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 2/26/89). An unsold attempt to revive the 1965–70 series Get Smart (about secret agents Maxwell Smart and 99 and their efforts to stop the evils of KAOS).

When the evil organization KAOS threatens to destroy the world with a weather machine, the U.S. Intelligence Agency decides to reactivate CONTROL, the organization that was formed to battle KAOS, but closed in 1974. To head up the new CONTROL, Commander Drury contacts Maxwell Smart, former secret agent 86, who is now a protocol officer for the State Department. Max, married to Agent 99, begins by rounding up his old team (Hymie the Robot, Agent 13 and Agent Larabee). The pilot follows Max as he attempts to stop KAOS (in particular his old nemesis, Siegfried) from destroying the world. Other Regulars: Shtarker, Siegfried's aide.

Cast: Don Adams (Maxwell Smart), Barbara Feldon (Agent 99), Dick Gautier (Hymie), Dave Ketchum (Agent 13), Bernie Kopell (Siegfried), King Moody (Shtarker), Robert Karvelas (Larabee), Kenneth Mars (Commander Drury). Guest Cast: John deLancie (Major Preston Waterhouse), Steve Levitt (Beamish), Danny Goldman (Dr. Denton), Lou Felder (U.S. President), Harold Gould (Nicholas Diment), Roger Price (Dr. Hottentott), Rachele Carson (Lisa), Kate Stern (Dr. Godivar), Jim Antonio (Meriwether).

3032 Get the Message. (Series; Game; ABC; 1964). Two three-member teams, each composed of two celebrities and one non-celebrity contestant compete. The celebrities are each given an expression (title, name, place or slogan). The contestants have to identify it through word association clues given by their celebrity teammates. The first player to acquire three identifications is the winner and receives $100 and the chance to compete again.

Host: Frank Buxton, Robert Q. Lewis.

3033 Getaway Car. (Pilot; Crime Drama; Syn.; 3/58). The pilot film, broadcast as a segment of Studio '57, for an untitled series about the exploits of a special operative for the California Highway Patrol. In the pilot episode, the agent attempts to track down a group of thieves who pulled off a daring daylight bank robbery.

Cast: Mike Connors (The Agent), Ken Christy, Richard Collier, Wallace Ford, Jim Hayward, Irene James, Dorothea Lord, John McIntire, Olan Soule, Joseph Sargent.

3034 Getting By. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993). Cathy Hale is divorced and the mother of two girls, Nikki (16) and Julie (9). Dolores Dickson is also divorced and the mother of two boys, Marcus (15) and Darren (14). To save on expenses, Cathy and Dolores, who work for the Department of Social Services, pool their resources and rent a house. Stories follow their mishaps as they attempt to live together.

Cathy is a bit hyper and eager to advance her position in life; unfortunately she finds that being single and raising two kids, it is not in her immediate future. Dolores is a bit more relaxed and while she would also like a better job, realizes that she needs to focus on getting by and raising her children.

Nikki is a fashion conscious teenager who respects her mother for what she is doing and rarely pressures her into getting her something she wants. She is a good student and is hoping for a college scholarship. Julie, on the other hand, is a bit of a wise acre and, although not intentionally mischief, does manage to find her share of trouble.

Marcus and Darren are also good kids although the younger Darren is a bit like Julie and often walks hand in hand with trouble. Marcus, like most boys his age, likes sports, girls, and ways to impress girls. Marcus, Julie and Darren attend Richfield High School; Julie attends fourth grade at Templeton Elementary.

Cast: Cindy Williams (Cathy Hale), Telma Hopkins (Dolores Dickson), Nicki Vannice (Nikki Hale), Ashleigh Blair Sterling (Julie Hale), Merlin Santana (Marcus Dickson), Deon Richmond (Darren Dickson).

3035 Getting Ready. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1978). Music, songs, puppets, arts and crafts, and related entertainment geared to children.

Host: Renee Sweeney. Regulars: The Ronn Bohn Puppets.

3036 Getting There. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 2/12/80). Harry and Rose's West-East Auto Delivery Firm is a Los Angeles-based company owned by Harry and Rose Miller, a married couple who can seldom agree on how to run their business. The unsold series was to depict incidents in the lives of people who agree to transport cars from California to the East Coast.

Cast: George S. Irving (Harry Miller), Brett Somers (Rose Miller). Guest Cast: Cathryn Damon (Mary), Norman Fell (Jim), Todd Susman (Jerome), Dub Taylor (Ben), Tim Thomerson (Lester), Diane Verona (Melanie), Kelly Mohre (Tricia), Stephen Mond (Joey), Kristi Jill Wood (Julie), Hermione Baddeley (Agatha), Imogene Coca (Emily), Jane Connell (Grandma). Note: Sequences with Hermione Baddeley and Imogene Coca were cut in the 30-minute version (of an hour pilot) that aired.

3037 Getting Together. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1971–1972). Bobby Conway is a composer who has a difficult time writing lyrics to the songs he composes. Lionel Poindexter is a tone-deaf lyricist. Through the efforts of The Partridge Family (from which Getting Together is a spin-off), Bobby and Lionel are united and become a team. Stories follow the adventures of two unknown songwriters living in Los Angeles and awaiting success. See A Knight in Shining Armor for information on the series pilot film.

Jenny Conway is Bobby's sister; Rita Simon is Bobby and Lionel's landlord; Rudy Colcheck is Rita's boyfriend.

Cast: Bobby Sherman (Bobby Conway), Wes Stern (Lionel Poindexter), Susan Neher (Jenny Conway), Pat Carroll (Rita Simon), Jack Burns (Rudy Colcheck). Theme Vocal: "Getting Together" by Bobby Sherman.

3038 Ghost. (Series; Game; NBC; 1952–1953). In the original format of the game, four regular players compete. The host states the number of letters contained in a particular word. In turn, each of the players states a letter of the alphabet. If a correct letter is guessed, it is placed in its appropriate position on a board. The object is for players to spell the word without supplying the last letter. If the last letter is given before the word is known, the home viewer (who submitted the word) receives $50. If the word is guessed before the last letter appears, the sender receives $25.

A later format of the game (which was then titled Super Ghost) involved three players in a contest to identify words by suggesting letters. Each correct letter earns a player money, but supplying the last letter disqualifies a player from that particular round. The series ran as Ghost from July 27, 1952 to September 21, 1952; and as Super Ghost from June 21, 1953 to September 13, 1953.

Host: Dr. Bergen Evans. Panelists: Shirley Stern, Gail Compton, Hope Ryder, Robert Pallock.

3039 The Ghost and Mrs. Muir. (Series; Comedy; NBC; ABC; 1968–1970). In the 1800s, a sea captain named Daniel Gregg settled in a small New England town called Schooner Bay. He built a house he called Gull Cottage and planned to turn it into a home for retired sailors. One night as a southwest gale approached town, the Captain closed his bedroom window. While sleeping, Daniel "kicked the blasted gas heater with my blasted foot" and was killed by the escaping fumes. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of suicide because "my confounded cleaning woman testified that I always slept with my windows open."

As the years passed, Gull Cottage remained intact but believed to be haunted by Captain Gregg's ghost and unrentable. The cottage eventually fell into the hands of Claymore Gregg, the Captain's wimpy descendent, who runs Claymore Gregg Real Estate Sales and Services (he is also the justice of the peace and the town's notary public). In a last-ditch attempt to save Gull Cottage (the state is threatening to seize the property for nonpayment of taxes), Claymore leases it to Carolyn Muir, an attractive widow with two children (Candy and Jonathan) and a housekeeper (Martha).

Carolyn, a freelance magazine writer, previously lived in Philadelphia and has come to New England to begin a new life. Despite its reputation, Carolyn sees the cottage as charming: "It's exactly what I had in mind, a dear, gentle, lovely little house."

As Carolyn and her family settle into the house, the rumblings of Captain Gregg can be heard. When Carolyn decides to make Daniel's old room ("The Captain's Cabin") her bedroom, she has her first confrontation with the Captain. Although the Captain is reluctant to give up his privacy he agrees to let Carolyn and her family stay.

The Captain wishes only for peace and quiet, but seldom finds it. He calls Carolyn "Madame," and his favorite expressions are "Blast" and "Blasted." The porch above Carolyn's bedroom is his bridge (he stands watch on it each night); his treasured telescope remains in Carolyn's bedroom; and the wheel house (attic) is the last retreat the Captain has. A monkey puzzle tree, which the Captain planted 100 years ago, stands on the lawn in front of the house.

When it comes to Claymore, the Captain is seldom composed, especially when Claymore impersonates him (for example, when Carolyn's parents visit; they believe she is in love with a sea captain). The Captain doesn't believe Claymore is related to him: "I'm the only son of an only son. I never met Claymore's grandmother. I've been trying to tell him that for years, but every time he sees me, he faints." Claymore calls the Captain his great-uncle (in some episodes, the Captain calls Claymore his nephew).

Candy (Candice) and Jonathan attend the Schooner Bay School and have a dog named Scruffy. Martha calls the Captain “The Old Barnacle.” Norrie Coolidge owns the Lobster House Restaurant; Ed Peevey is the town’s handyman.

Relatives: Jane Wyatt (Carolyn’s mother, Emily), Leon Ames (Carolyn’s father, Brad), Jack Gilford (Carolyn’s uncle, Arnold). Theme: “The Ghost and Mrs. Muir,” by Dave Grusin.

Cast: Hope Lange (Carolyn Muir), Edward Mulhare (Daniel Gregg), Kellie Flannigan (Candy Muir), Harlen Carraher (Jonathan Muir), Charles Nelson Reilly (Claymoure Gregg), Reta Shaw (Martha Grant), Dabbs Greer (Noorie Coolidge), Guy Raymond (Ed Peevey).

3040 The Ghost Busters. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975–1976). “Spenser, Tracy and Kong: Ghost Busters” is the name of the company. Kong (no other name given), Eddie Spenser and Tracy (a trained gorilla) are its operatives. They have offices in a somewhat rundown building, drive a 1920 Ford touring car with the license plate GB (ghost busters) and enjoy seeing movies at the Bijou Theater.

Their superior is the never-seen Mr. Zero, a tape-recorded voice that gives them their assignment (as on Mission: Impossible). Spenser and Tracy (the driver) pick up their assignments at a hardware store called LeChler’s. The tape is hidden in the most unlikely places (such as a rubber fish, a bouquet of flowers, a bicycle wheel). After the assignment is given, it concludes with “This tape will self-destruct in five seconds.” In each episode, a disbelieving Tracy tempts fate by counting off the seconds; whether it is three seconds or eight seconds, the message always blows up in his face.

With an assignment in hand, the trio attempts to de-energize ghosts with their unique Ghost Dematerializer (a ray gun type of weapon). The Old House, the Castle, or the Graveyard are the haunts of the series’ ghostly manifestations (such as the cowardly Simon de Canterville [Ted Knight], the ghost of the Werewolf [Lennie Weinrib] and Big Al Caesar [Larry Storch in a dual role], the spirit of a gangster).

With the exception of Tracy (who has a wardrobe of hats), the characters appear in the same outfits in each episode. Kong wears a vest over a sweatshirt (with the number five on it); Spenser wears a 1940s style zoot suit. Spenser attended Camp Gitcha-goomie as a kid, has a never-seen girlfriend named Mabel and his favorite movie is Wings Over Hoboken.

The cowardly Tracy is an excellent bowler (can bowl 300 with a golf ball), ball player (even though he can’t hit, he scores home runs — “You gonna tell him he can’t hit?”) and artist (his pictures are so life-like that they actually come to life).

In the opening theme, Larry Storch is credited as Spenser. On their office door the name reads Spenser. Theme: “The Ghost Busters,” vocal by Forrest Tucker and Larry Storch.

Cast: Forrest Tucker (Kong), Larry Storch (Eddie Spenser), Bob Burns (Tracy).

3041 The Ghost Busters. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986–1987). An animated version of the live action 1975 CBS series of the same title. Jake Kong, Eddie Spenser and their trained gorilla, Tracy, are the owners of a company called Ghost Busters, Inc. Stories follow their adventures as they attempt to dematerialize the ghosts of Prime Evil, the most diabolical spirit in the universe, who sends his ghosts to do his bidding. The series also features Forrest Tucker and Larry Storch, stars of the live action series, in animated form (as Jake and Eddie’s fathers).

Voice Cast: Pat Fraley (Jake Kong), Peter Cullen (Eddie Spenser), Lou Scheimer (Tracy), Alan Oppenheimer (Prime Evil), Forrest Tucker (Jake’s Father), Larry Storch (Eddie’s Father), Linda Gary (Mysteria).

3042 Ghost Hunters. (Series; Reality; Sci Fi; 2004–). A program that investigates reports of paranormal happenings — no matter where they occur. Jason Hawkes and Grant Wilson, plumbers by trade, head an organization called TAPS (The Atlantic Paranormal Society), which also incorporates ordinary people with an interest in ghosts. Once a locale is chosen, the group sets up its equipment and viewers see the results as they wait for spirits to appear or make sounds. The series was originally titled TAPS.

Cast: Jason Hawkes, Grant Wilson, Brian Harnois, Steve Gonsalves, Kristyn Gartland. Announcer: Mike Rowe.

3043 Ghost in a Shell. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 1995). In the year 2029, the world has become dependant upon computers and each individual is connected to the Internet. One computer, Project 2501, has advanced on its own to develop into a dangerous stage. It has developed self-awareness and to fulfill its needs (to feel alive) it begins a mission to control not only computers but the people who operate them. As Project 2501 becomes too powerful for human control, a defense force of cyborgs called Section 9 is created to stop Project 2501 from expanding to a point where it could gain global domination. Stories relate Section 9’s battle to stop a virtually indestructible evil.

Voices: Steven J. Blum, Richard Barnes, Toni Burke, George Celik, Dorothy Gabriel, Meg Hamilton, Joe Michaels, Simon Prescott, Debra Rogers, Doug Stone.

3044 Ghost of a Chance. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/7/80). Shortly after Jenny Chance, a widow, marries Wayne Clifford, the spirit of Jenny’s first husband, Tom Chance, returns from the world beyond to haunt her and voice his objections to her remarriage. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures that occur as Jenny and Wayne struggle to live a normal married life despite the fact that a ghost lives with them. Other Regulars: Frances, Jenny's mother; and Michael and Leslie, Jenny and Wayne's friends.

Cast: Shelley Long (Jenny Clifford), Barry Van Dyke (Wayne Clifford), Steven Keats (Tom Chance), Gretchen Wyler (Frances), Archie Hahn (Michael), Rosalyn Kind (Leslie), John O'Leary (Minister; guest role).

3045 The Ghost Squad. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1960). The Ghost Squad is a special unit of New Scotland Yard that is based in London, England. Sir Andrew Wilson is the director; Nick Craig is his chief assistant. Stories relate their investigations as they go undercover to bring underworld criminals to justice.

Cast: Sir Donald Wolfit (Sir Andrew Wilson), Angela Brown (Wilson's first assistant), Michael Quinn (Nick Craig). Theme Song: "The Ghost Squad" by Philip Green.

3046 Ghost Stories. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1997). A weekly series of eerie stories (usually two per episode) that relates the fate of people who encounter paranormal situations.

Host-Narrator: Rip Torn.

3047 Ghost Stories. (Series; Reality; Sci Fi; 2001). Dramatic reenactments that explore the myths (or facts) behind reported supernatural happenings. Stories are supplemented by footage of actual ghostly encounters, eye-witness accounts and still photographs of the unexplained. The series is also known as Patrick Macnee's Ghost Stories.

The program opens as follows: "Reach beyond the grave to an unexplained dimension as we travel to the mysterious realm of ghosts. Journey with us into the world of Ghost Stories." It closed with these words: "Stories like the one we shared today are merely the tip of the iceberg. There are many more out there. Thanks for joining us. Until next time, this is Patrick Macnee for Ghost Stories."

Host: Patrick Macnee.

3048 Ghost Story. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1972). Suspense dramas that relate the plight of people who are suddenly confronted with supernatural occurrences. See also Circle of Fear, the spin-off series. A distinguished gentleman named Winston Essex hosts the series, which produced 13 episodes and ran from September 15, 1972 to December 29, 1972.

Host: Sebastian Cabot as Winston Essex. Performers Include: Stella Stevens, Pamela Franklin, Gena Rowlands, Karen Black, Elizabeth Ashley, Carolyn Jones, Steve Forrest, Stuart Whitman, Eleanor Parker, Melvyn Douglas, Marilyn Mason, Lynn Loring, Richard Mulligan, Jodie Foster, Mariette Hartley, Sandra Dee, Doug McClure, Angie Dickinson, Craig Stevens, Jason Robards.

3049 Ghost Whisperer. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2005–). Melinda Gordon is a young woman who lives in the seemingly pleasant town of Grandview. She is happily married to Jim Clancy (a paramedic; Melinda uses her maiden name for business) and operates an antique store (Same As It Never Was Antiques) with her best friend, Aisha. While Melinda is beautiful and vibrant and filled with a love for her fellow man, she also possesses a unique gift—the ability to see ghosts and communicate with the dead.

Melinda can sense spirits and feel what they are feeling. She believes spirits contact her so she can help them complete a mission before seeing the light and moving on. Melinda does reveal her secret to the people the spirits need to help and most people believe she is a social worker—"I get that a lot."

For Melinda it all began when she was eight years old and in the fourth grade. After the passing of a classmate Melinda saw her ghost (who was not aware that she was dead). Melinda's gift is apparently a family inheritance (although not specifically stated). Her grandmother had the ability, but her mother does not. It also appears to skip a generation (why her mother is immune and why Melinda inherited it. If Melinda were to have children, it would be her second child that would inherit the gift). Stories follow Melinda as she tries to lead a normal life (she now accepts most visions, although some truly frighten her) while at the same time helping spirits find closure. Melinda feels guilty if she cannot help spirits. She can't make a spirit go into the light if they do not want to. They have to be willing to do this on their own.

In second season episodes, Aisha is killed in a car accident and is replaced by Delia Banks, a real estate agent who later works as Melinda's partner. Ned is her son. It is also at this time that Melinda receives help in dealing with ghosts from Richard Payne, a Rockland University professor interested in the paranormal. Melinda also has a canine companion that only she can see—Homer, the ghost of a dog who died in an orphanage fire in the 1950s.

Melinda opens the show: "My name is Melinda Gordon. I'm married, I live in a small town and I own an antique shop. I might be just like you but from the time I was a little girl, I knew that I could talk to the dead—earth bound spirits my mother called them. They're stuck here because they have unfinished business with the living and they come to me for help. In order to tell you my story I have to tell you theirs."

Cast: Jennifer Love Hewitt (Melinda Gordon), David Conrad (Jim Clancy), Andrea Moreno (Aisha Tyler), Camryn Manheim (Delia Banks), Tyler Patrick James (Ned Banks), Jay Mohr (Richard Payne), Abigail Breslin (Young Melinda; flashbacks), Anne Archer (Melinda's mother).

3050 The Ghost Writer. (Pilot; Comedy; Fox; 8/15/90). Anthony Strack is a world famous horror novelist. He is married to his second wife, Elizabeth, and is the father of two children, Cindy and Edgar. They have recently moved into a new house that is anything but normal. Their efforts to live in a house with a mind of its own is the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Miss Blasko, their housekeeper.

Cast: Anthony Perkins (Anthony Strack), Leigh Taylor Young (Elizabeth Strack), Juliet Sorcey (Cindy Strack), Josh Miller (Edgar Strack), Pam Metteson (Miss Blasko).

3051 Ghost Writer. (Series; Mystery; PBS; 1992–1994). Ghost Writer is an unknown entity that appears in a glowing light and can only communicate through words. It appears to be very old (not familiar with modern technology) and has no recollection of a past life. No information is given as to where the spirit came from or how it came to be. The first episode relates only how the spirit gets its name and how it was discovered by Jamal Jenkins.

While moving an old trunk in the basement of his home, Jamal unknowingly knocks over an old book. The pages open as the book falls and a glowing light emerges from it. The light scans the house and takes refuge in Jamal's computer. Later, when Jamal attempts to use his computer, he finds that he is receiving messages from an unknown source.

Through questions typed into the computer, Jamal learns that the spirit can speak but only through typed or written words. Jamal contacts his friend, Lenni Frazier, and shows her what he has found. They name the spirit Ghost Writer and learn that it is dedicated to helping children (and can only be seen by the children it is helping). A short time after, when their friend Gabriella "Gaby" Fernandez becomes the victim of a crime at school (her money and school bag stolen), Jamal, Lenni and Ghost Writer decide to investigate. They recruit Gaby's brother, Alejandro and their friend Tina Nuen. Together they uncover the culprits as the members of a gang who wear two faced masks called THABTO (Two Heads Are Better Than One). They now work as amateur detectives to solve crimes.

Ghost Writer is not bound to a computer. It can rearrange any word it sees and communicate with team members in this manner (a question can be written on a piece of paper; Ghost Writer will rearrange the words to respond).

Jamal lives at 11 East 39th Street in Brooklyn, New York, with his widowed father, Reginald, sister Damitra and grandmother, C.C. Jenkins, a postal worker. He attends the Zora Neale Hurston Middle School (as do Lenni, Alex, and later Tina).

Lenni is a talented musician and song writer who lives at 361 East 46th Street (also given as Cumberland Street) with her widowed father, Max; her late mother was named Colleen.

Gaby and Alex live with their parents, Eduardo and Estella over a bodega they own at 6629 Cumberland Street (over which Lenni is later said to live). Gaby and Alex share a room. Gaby, the youngest member of the team, attends Washington Elementary School.

Tina first attended Washington Elementary, then the Hurston School (where she is a reporter for its newspaper, the Hurston Herald); in her prior school, she worked on the school newspaper with Gaby (Gaby did the reporting; Tina was the videographer). Tina, brought up by strict Korean parents (played by Ginny Yang, Richard Eng), worked as a Girl Friday to Lana Barnes (Patricia Barry), a once famous movie star. See also The New Ghost Writer Mysteries.

Cast: Sheldon Turnipseed (Jamal Jenkins), Blaze Berdahl (Lenni Frazier), Mayteana Morales (Gaby Fernandez), Melissa Gonzalez (Gaby Fernandez; later), David Lopez (Alejandro Fernandez), Tran-Ahn Tran (Tina Nuen), Marcella Lowery (C.C. Jenkins), Dean Irby (Reginald Jenkins), Samaria Graham (Damitra Jenkins), Richard Cox (Max Frazier), Shawn Elliott (Eduardo Fernandez), Cordelma Gonzalez (Estella Fernandez).

3052 Ghostbreaker. (Pilot; Thriller; NBC; 9/8/67). A proposed series about Barnaby Cross, a university professor who dabbles in the occult. In the pilot episode, Cross teams with a lady hypnotist (Cassandra) to investigate a series of bizarre murders.

Cast: Kerwin Matthews (Barnaby Cross), Diana Van Der Vlis (Cassandra), Norman Fell (Lieutenant P.J. Hartunian). Guest Cast: Larry Blyden (Waldo Kent), Richard Anderson (Timothy Selfridge), Michael Constantine (Oscar Janssen), Anne Jeffreys (Florence Blackstone), Kevin McCarthy (Cameron Witherpoon), Margaret Hamilton (Ivy Rumson), Richard Ney (Bunky Norris).

3053 G.I. Joe. (Series; Cartoon; USA; 1989–1992). A revised version of G.I. Joe: A Real American Hero (see entry) that continues to follow the adventures of heroic soldiers (G.I. Joes) as they battle the evils of Cobra.

Voices: Don Brown, Garry Chalk, Michael Benyaer, Jim Byrnes, Brent Chapman, Ian James Corlett, Kevin Conway, Lisa Corps, Christopher Collins.

3054 G.I. Joe: A Real American Hero. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 9/83). Duke, Scarlet, Nick, Wild Bill and Stalker are daring U.S. government undercover agents who battle diabolical villains on behalf of G.I. Joe, the military code for the American Special Mission Force. In the five-part pilot story, the team battles the evil Destro and Cobra Commander, who are seeking to steal America's most powerful satellite and control the universe.

Voices: Liz Aubrey, Michael Bell, Arthur Burghardt, Peter Cullen, Pat Fraley, Buster Jones, Christopher Latta, Morgan Lofting, Rob Paulsen, Marla Scott, John Stephenson, B.J. Ward, Frank Welker, Michael Yama. Announcer: Jackson Beck. Theme Song (“G.I. Joe”): Spencer Michlin, Ford Kinder.

3055 G.I. Joe Extreme. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1995–1997). The adventures of courageous soldiers (G.I. Joes) as they battle the evils of SKAR (Soldiers of Kaos, Anarchy and Ruin) as well as other mercenaries bent on causing havoc in the world.

Voice Cast: Blu Mankuma (Quick Strike), Michael Dobson (Robert Savage), Garry Chalk (Lieutenant Stone), Randall Carpenter (Mayday), Matt Hill (Matthew “Metal Head” Hurley), Francisco Trujillo (Jose “Harpoon” Montaloo), Terry Klassen (Kang Chi “Black Dragon” Lee), Richard Newman (Iron Claw), Brian Drummond (Albert “Ballistic” Salvatti).

3056 G.I. Joe: Stigma Six. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2005–2007). An updated version of G.I. Joe: A Real American Hero (see entry) that brings courageous U.S. soldiers (called G.I. Joes) into the 21st century and centering on members of Stigma Six, a U.S. government agency that battles the evils of Cobra with weapons as high tech as theirs.

Voice Cast: David Willis (Duke), Amy Burnbaum (Scarlet), Veronica Taylor (Scarlet; later), Eric Stuart (High Tech), Wayne Grayson (Buzzer), Scottie Ray (Long Ranger), Pete Capella (Scott), Lisa Ortiz (Jinx), Jonathan R. Ross (Torch), David Brimmer (Machete).

3057 The Giant Step. (Series; Game; NBC; 1956–1957). Three youngsters, aged seven to seventeen, compete. Each player selects a category subject and attempts to answer questions of increasing difficulty. Each correct answer scores a player points. The winner, the highest cash scorer, vies for the opportunity to win a college education by retaining the championship over a number of weeks.

Host: Bert Parks.

3058 Gibbsville. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1976). Gibbsville, a Pennsylvania mining town of the 1940s, is the setting. Events in the lives of its citizens is seen through the eyes of Ray Whitehead, a reporter for the Gibbsville Courier, a one-time prestigious foreign correspondent whose career and reputation have been destroyed by alcohol. Based on the short stories by John O’Hara. See also The Turning Point of Jim Malloy for information on the series pilot film.

Jim Malloy is Ray’s friend, a reporter; Dr. Michael Malloy is Jim’s father; Pell is the city editor; Lefty is the bartender.

Ray opens each episode with these words: “When I walk through the streets of Gibbsville I see a small but growing town, a busy town with its roots deep in the coal-mined earth. But behind the closed doors and drawn curtains are the secret lives of its people. The lives of the wealthy and the poor filled with ambition and need, love and hate, sorrow and private wars, and the dreams that make men go on. Behind the closed doors of Gibbsville lies the truth about this town, about any town. The real stories waiting to be told.”

Cast: Gig Young (Ray Whitehead), John Savage (Jim Malloy), Biff McGuire (Dr. Michael Malloy), Peggy McCay (Jim’s Mother), Bert Remsen (Pell), Frank Campanella (Lefty Lintzie).

3059 Gideon C.I.D. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1966). The alternate title for Gideon’s Way. See this title for information.

3060 Gideon Oliver. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1989). Gideon Oliver is an anthropology professor at Columbia University in New York City. He is a widower and lives at 3 West 67th Street in Manhattan. His daughter, Zina, lives at 651 West 117th Street. Gideon has a deep interest in crime prevention and intervenes in criminal cases that he feels his extraordinary knowledge of world cultures can help solve. Stories follow Gideon as he helps the police, especially Detective John Quinn of the Manhattan 74th Precinct, solve puzzling murders. Katherine Fraker is Gideon’s secretary.

Cast: Louis Gossett, Jr. (Gideon Oliver), Shari Headley (Zina Oliver), Michael Rooker (Det. John Quinn), Mary Fogarty (Katherine Fraker).

3061 Gideon’s Crossing. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2000). A slow moving but interesting medical drama that focuses on the work of Ben Gideon, a brilliant doctor who heads an experimental oncology ward of a fictional teaching hospital in New England. While seemingly dedicated to his research, Ben also finds the time to treat patients — with wisdom, understanding and an unusual but great bedside manner.

3062 Gideon’s Way. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1966). George Gideon is a Chief Inspector with the C.I.D., the Criminal Investigation Division of England’s New Scotland Yard. Gideon, as he is most always called, is set in his ways and rarely breaks the rules to solve a case. Stories follow Gideon as he investigates cases that most often involve murder. Also known as Gideon C.I.D.

Cast: John Gregson (George Gideon).

3063 Gidget. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1965–1966). Frances Lawrence is a 15½-year-old girl who lives with her father, widowed college English professor Russell Lawrence at 803 North Dutton Drive in Santa Monica, California. Frances was a typical American girl until June 23, 1965, “The day I fell in love with two things: My Moondoggie and surfing.” Her Moondoggie, as he is known, is Jeff Matthews, a student at Princeton University (and two years older than Frances); he and his surfer friends have nicknamed Frances “Gidget” (“A girl who is neither tall or a midget — a Gidget”).

Gidget attends Westside High School (where she is president of the civics club and author of the “Helpful Hannah” advice column for its newspaper, the Westside Jester). Gidget is the only one who is aware of a viewing audience. She speaks directly to the camera and relates her feelings as the story progresses. She is very philosophical for one so young and her advice on being a teenager is an intricate part of each episode. Gidget is very friendly and very obedient. She likes to help people she feels are in trouble (especially her friends) but when she hears “Frances” from her father she knows she is in trouble.

Gidget’s best friend is Larue, a pretty girl who hides her beauty with what Gidget calls “cover-up clothes” (for example, while Gidget wears a two piece bathing suit, Larue is in a one piece suit with a large hat to protect her from the sun). Despite what Larue calls herself—“a Limpnick” (“a left-footed, lopsided jerk. I can’t walk right, talk right or even sit right”) Gidget is determined to turn Larue into a glamour gal (even though Larue says “I really don’t care what other people think. When the people I like are happy, I’m happy”).

Gidget and Larue hang out at the Shaggy Dog, the Shake Shop and Pop’s (all fast food hamburger and soda shops).

Anne “Annie” Cooper is Gidget’s older sister. She is married to John, a graduate student pursuing his master’s degree in psychology. Gidget thinks John is a bit “whacko and it is going to be a contest to see whether they’ll let him practice or put him away.”

Other friends of Gidget’s are the well endowed Eleanor Chest (called “Treasure Chest”), Janie Carmichael, Shirley Marshall and Peter “Siddo” Stone. See also Gidget Grows Up, Gidget Gets Married, Gidget Makes the Wrong Connection, Gidget’s Summer Reunion and The New Gidget.

Cast: Sally Field (Gidget Lawrence), Don Porter (Russell Lawrence), Betty Conner (Annie Cooper), Peter Deuel (John Cooper), Lynette Winter (Larue), Stephen Mines (Jeff Matthews), Beverly Adams

3064 Gidget Gets Married. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 1/4/72). A proposed but unsold update of the 1965 Gidget series that was to relate incidents in the life of Frances “Gidget” Lawrence, now a housewife and married to her surfer sweetheart, Jeff “Moondoggie” Stevens. In the pilot episode, Gidget rebels against the social caste system in Jeff’s company. Russell Lawrence is Gidget’s father. See also Gidget Grows Up and Gidget’s Summer Reunion.

Cast: Monie Ellis (Gidget Stevens), Michael Burns (Jeff Stevens), Macdonald Carey (Russell Lawrence). Guest Cast: Don Ameche (Otis Ramsey), Joan Bennett (Claire Ramsey), Paul Lynde (Louis B. Latimer), Elinor Donahue (Medley Blaine), Roger Perry (Tom Blaine), Larry Gelman (Anatole).

3065 Gidget Grows Up. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 12/30/69). An unsold attempt to update the 1965 Gidget series (see also Gidget Gets Married and Gidget’s Summer Reunion). Frances “Gidget” Lawrence is now a young woman with her whole life ahead of her. She has given up surfing and moved to New York City to become a United Nations tour guide. The pilot episode relates her move from Santa Monica to Manhattan and her attempts to carry on a long distance relationship with her boyfriend, Jeff “Moondoggie” Griffin, an Air Force pilot stationed in Greenland. Russell Lawrence is Gidget’s father; Louis B. Latimer is Gidget’s landlord.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Gidget Lawrence), Bob Cummings (Russell Lawrence), Paul Lynde (Louis B. Latimer), Paul Petersen (Jeff Griffin). Guest Cast: Nina Foch (Bibi Crosby), Edward Mulhare (Alex MacLaughlin), Warner Anderson (Ambassador), Susan Batson (Diana), Michael Lembeck (Arnold), Doreen Lang (Mrs. Willard).

3066 Gidget Makes the Wrong Connection. (Pilot; Cartoon; ABC; 1973). An animated attempt to revise the Gidget character from the 1965 series Gidget. Gidget is a teenager here and in love with the world of surfing (Rink, Steve, Killer and Gorgeous Cat are her friends). Their goal in the unsold Saturday morning series was to help good defeat evil. In the pilot episode, Gidget and her friends attempt to expose a gold smuggling ring.

3067 Gidget's Summer Reunion. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 6/85). The pilot episode for the syndicated (1986) series The New Gidget (which see for additional information). Gidget, the teenage surfer girl from the 1965 series Gidget is now 27 years old and married to her "Moondoggie," Jeff Griffin, a construction worker for the Bedford Construction Company. Gidget, who owns her own business, Gidget Travel, still lives in California (Santa Monica) and is the guardian of her sister, Anne's daughter, Kim, a beautiful teenage girl who is living with her while her parents are away on business (Anne is married to John).

In the pilot episode, Gidget attempts to reunite her old beach bums and bunnies to help Jeff celebrate his thirtieth birthday. Russell Hoover is Gidget's father; Larue Powell is Gidget's girlfriend; and Anne Bedford is Jeff's employer. For the actual series, Kim became Danni; Jeff worked for the city; Larue's last name changed to Wilson; and Gidget's father became Russell Lawrence.

Cast: Caryn Richman (Frances "Gidget" Griffin), Dean Butler (Jeff Griffin), Allison Barron (Kim), William Schallert (Russell Hoover), Anne Lockhart (Larue Powell), Mary Frann (Anne Bedford). Guest Cast: Ben Murphy (Ron Levering), Vincent Van Patten (Mickey), Johnny Yune (Johnny Soo), Don Stroud (The Great Kahuna), Steven Kavner (Malibu Mac), Gillian Dodd (Mary Jane).

3068 Gigantor. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1964). Earth in the year 2000 is the setting (the future from when the series was produced). Gigantor is a gigantic "space-age robot" that is built out of steel but without any intelligence. It has been designed to fight for good and who ever possesses its remote control commands Gigantor.

Dr. Robert Brilliant is, like his name, a brilliant scientist that constructed Gigantor. He has given it to his 12-year-old nephew, Jimmy Sparks and stories relate Jimmy and Gigantor's battle against the sinister forces of evil.

Voice Cast: Bill Lou Watt (Jimmy Sparks), Ray Owens (Inspector Bloop), Gilbert Mack (Dick Strong), Peter Fernandez (Dr. Brilliant), Sonia Owens (Voice). Theme Song: "Gigantor" by Lou Singer and Eugene Raskin.

3069 Gigglesnort Hotel. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1979). The series, set at the Gigglesnort Hotel, attempts to explain various aspects of the world to children via the antics of the people (puppets) who inhabit the establishment.

Cast: Bill Jackson (B.J., the manager), Ian Harris (Puppet Voice), Nancy Wettler (Puppet Voice).

3070 The Gil Lamb Show. (Test Film; Variety; ABC; 9/20/50). A proposed series of comedy routines (by Gil Lamb), songs by Martha Tilton and dance numbers by Jesse, James and Correll

Host: Gil Lamb. Regulars: Martha Tilton, Jesse, James and Correll. Orchestra: Buz Adlam.

3071 Gilligan's Island. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; 1964). Gilligan's Island (CBS, 1964–67; see next title) told the story of seven people who were shipwrecked on an uncharted island in the South Pacific after their sight-seeing boat, the S.S. Minnow was caught in a tropical storm at sea. The crew, the Skipper (Alan Hale, Jr.), his first mate, Gilligan (Bob Denver) and the passengers established a home for themselves on the island after all attempts to escape failed.

Living with the Skipper and Gilligan were the movie star, Ginger Grant (Tina Louise), the millionaire Thurston Howell III (Jim Backus), his wife, Lovey (Natalie Schafer), Mary Ann Summers (Dawn Wells), a farm girl from Kansas, and Professor Roy Hinkley (Russell Johnson), a brilliant scientist.

The original pilot format is exactly the same as described above with the only changes being with the cast, a different theme song (totally different from the aired series version) and a tour that was said to be six hours (not three like in the series). John Gabriel plays the Professor and Kit Smyth is Ginger, a brunette secretary who is also bright. There was no Mary Ann. Instead we have Bunny (Nancy McCarthy), a blonde and slightly dim-witted secretary. Alan Hale, Bob Denver, Jim Backus and Natalie Schafer played the same roles as in the series. It is reported in some sources that a second pilot was made with 1950s sex symbol Jayne Mansfield as a bustier version of the role Tina Louise played (Ginger). Such a pilot appears to be a rumor only or a proposal that was never filmed.

3072 Gilligan's Island. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1964–1967). An uncharted island about 300 miles southwest of Hawaii was once inhabited by a tribe of headhunters called the Kubikai. It is now home to the seven survivors of the shipwrecked S.S. Minnow, a small sight-seeing boat that ran aground on the island after encountering a tropical storm at sea.

Jonas Grumby, called the Skipper, captained the ship. Gilligan, his first mate assisted him. Ginger Grant, Thurston Howell III and his wife Lovey, Mary Ann Summers and Roy Hinkley are the stranded passengers.

The Minnow is thought to have sunk and the Coast Guard has given up its search, forcing the castaways to make the island their home and find a means by which to escape.

The Skipper lost everything when the Minnow was beached. He is a Navy man and loves the sea, and plans to use the insurance money to start over again. It was his quick thinking that saved the crew and passengers.

Gilligan has no first name (producer Sherwood Schwartz wanted to call him Willie). He was born in Pennsylvania and met Jonas while serving a hitch in the Navy. Gilligan is accident-prone and his efforts to help the Skipper devise an escape plan always backfire when he inadvertently destroys each attempt that is made.

Ginger is a shapely movie actress (36-25-36) who broke into show business as the assistant to Merlin the Mind Reader. She starred in such films as Belly Dancers from Bali Bali, The Rain Dancers of Rango Rango and Sing a Song of Sing Sing. She is very sweet and trusting and uses her gorgeous looks to get the men to sometimes do her portion of the work.

For reasons that are not explained, the Howells packed a fabulous wardrobe and brought along a considerable amount of cash for "a three hour tour." Thurston, called "The Wolf of Wall Street," is a multi-millionaire who heads Howell Industries. He is married to the former (and wealthy) Lovey Wentworth.

Mary Ann is a pretty farm girl whose knowledge of planting and crops added greatly to the castaways' diet of fish and fruit. While Ginger wears skin-tight dresses (made from the boat's sails) Mary Ann wears shorts and stomach-revealing blouses.

Roy Hinkley, called the Professor, is a high school science teacher whose genius for inventing made life tolerable for the castaways. He has his own living quarters (hut) while Gilligan and the Skipper, the Howells, and Ginger and Mary Ann share huts.

Cast: Bob Denver (Gilligan), Alan Hale, Jr. (The Skipper), Tina Louise (Ginger Grant), Dawn Wells (Mary Ann Summers), Jim Backus (Thurston Howell), Natalie Schafer (Lovey Howell), Russell Johnson (The Professor). Theme Vocal: "The Ballad of Gilligan's Island" The Wellingtons.

3073 Gilligan's Planet. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1982-1983). An extension series based on Gilligan's Island. In a last-ditch attempt to escape from the island on which they have been shipwrecked for over 15 years, the Professor constructs a rocket ship that takes himself and the six other castaways (the Skipper, Gilligan, Ginger Grant, Mary Ann Summers, and Thurston and Lovey Howell) for an unexpected trip into the far regions of outer space. During the flight, the rockets solar panels become damaged forcing the ship to crash-land on an unknown planet

(which eventually becomes their new home). Stories relate the marooned castaways attempts to repair their rocket and return to Earth.

Voice Cast: Alan Hale, Jr. (The Skipper), Bob Denver (Gilligan), Jim Backus (Thurston Howell III), Natalie Schafer (Lovey Howell), Dawn Wells (Mary Ann Summers), Dawn Wells (Ginger Grant), Russell Johnson (The Professor).

3074 Gilmore Girls. (Series; Drama; WB; CW; 2000-2007). Lorelai Gilmore is a 32-year-old single mother who lives in Stars Hollow, Connecticut, and manages the Independence Inn. She is the mother of Rory, a brilliant 16-year-old girl who first attends Stars Hollow High School then the prestigious Chilton Academy in Hartford, Connecticut.

Lorelai lived in Hartford and became pregnant by her high school boyfriend, Chris Hayden. They never married because Lorelai felt they were too young and a marriage would never work. Lorelai's inability to live with her disapproving rich parents, Richard and his controlling wife, Emily, led her to leave home with Rory a year later. Lorelai found refuge at the Independence Inn. Here, the inn's owner, a friend of the family, hired Lorelai as a maid and gave her a place to live. Rory grew up in Stars Hollow and Lorelai worked her way up to managing the inn. As the series progressed, Lorelai became the owner of her own inn, the Dragon Fly. Rory, who yearns to become a journalist, later attends Yale University.

Lorelai and Rory are more than a mother and a daughter. They are the very best of friends. Stories depict events in their lives. Lorelai believes wonderful things happen when it snows and watching someone else work makes her feel happy. Lorelai is not one for home cooking and her best "china" is a set of "Charlie's Angels" dinner plates. She is a coffee junkie and obsessed with sweaters and breast size ("an evil, crazed spirit obsessed with bra size takes over my body and makes me go nuts"). She is all giving and will always give of herself to help others.

Rory's full name is Lorelai Leigh. Lorelai felt that if boys could be named after their fathers, girls should be named after their mothers. Rory inherited her mother's addiction to coffee and loves to read (she carries a book with her everywhere she goes). She wrote for the Chilton Prep newspaper, The Franklin (later she became editor of the Yale Daily News). She delights in receiving rare first edition books from her grandfather and like her mother, she will give of herself to help others.

Richard is a graduate of Yale University and originally vice president of the Gerhman and Driscoll Insurance Company; he later begins his own company, The Gilmore Group. Emily is a socialite and a member of the D.A.R. (Daughters of the American Revolution). She is also a perfectionist and can't hold onto a maid (she is always replacing them when she finds the slightest fault).

Other Regulars: Luke Danes, the owner of Luke's Diner; Sookie St. James, Lorelai's friend, the chef at the inn; Laine Kim, Rory's friend; Dean Forrester, Rory's first boyfriend; Paris Geller, Rory's school rival (then friend); Michel Gerard; the hotel's reservation clerk; Jess Mariano, Luke's rebellious nephew; Taylor Doose, the owner of Doose's Market (and head of the town council); Miss Patty, the dance instructor; Babette, Lorelai's friend; Jackson Melville, the produce supplier (married Sookie); Mrs. Kim, Laine's mother; and Kirk, the town's Jack of all trades.

April Nardini is Luke's 12-year-old daughter (from an affair with Anna Nardini); Christopher Hayden is Rory's father; Liz is Luke's sister (married to T.J.); Logan Huntzberger is Rory's boyfriend (2005); Mitchum Huntzberger is Logan's father; Lulu is Kirk's on-and-off girlfriend; Shira Huntzberger is Mitchum's wife; Honor Huntzberger is Logan's sister.

Laine later forms a band (Hep Alien) with Zack (whom she later marries) and Brian and Gil. Laine's father, who lives with her mother, is never seen or even mentioned. Caesar is Luke's diner cook. Lorelai has a dog named Paul Anka.

In the last episode Paris is accepted into Harvard Medical School; Rory, who had been editor of The Yale Daily News, accepts a job as the political reporter for an online magazine; Laine, who became the mother of twins (Steve and Quon) changed her band's name to Vapor Rub.

Cast: Lauren Graham (Lorelai Gilmore), Alexis Bledel (Rory Gilmore), Edward Herrmann (Richard Gilmore), Kelly Bishop (Emily Gilmore), Melissa McCarthy (Sookie St. James), Scott Patterson (Luke Danes), Liza Weil (Paris Geller), Yanic Truesdale (Michel Gerard), Keiko Agena (Lane Kim), Jared Padalecki (Dean Forrester), Liz Torres (Miss Patty), Michael Winters (Taylor Doose), Sally Struthers (Babette Dell), Jackson Douglas (Jackson Melville), Emily Kuroda (Mrs. Kim), Matt Czuchry (Logan Huntzberger), Sean Gunn (Kirk Gleason), Milo Ventimiglia (Jess Mariano), Sherilyn Fenn (Anna Nardini), Vanessa Marano (April Nardini), David Sutcliffe (Christopher Hayden), Kathleen Wilhoite (Liz), Michael DeLuise (T.J.), Gregg Henry (Mitchum Huntzberger), Leann Hunley (Shira Huntzberger), Devon Sorvari (Honor Huntzberger), Rini Bell (Lulu), Todd Lowe (Zack), John Cabrera (Brian), Sebastian Bach (Gil), Aris Alvarado (Caesar), Rose Abdoo (Gypsy), Krysten Ritter (Lucy), Michelle Ong Kingco (Olivia), Danny Strong (Doyle McMaster).

3075 Gimme a Break. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1981–1987). Margaret Kennedy and Nell Ruth Harper are friends who have not seen each other for many years. By coincidence, they meet at Mr. Funky's Night Club in Glenlawn, California, where Nell is performing (as a singer) and where Margaret and her husband, police officer Carl Kanisky, have come for dinner.

The reunion ends on a sour note when Nell is fired for refusing to sleep with the club owner. Margaret extends an invitation for Nell to stay with her and her family. There, Nell quickly wins the affections of Margaret's daughters, Katie, Julie and Samantha.

Five weeks later, when Nell is about to leave for a gig in Bakersfield, Margaret tells her a secret that she has kept from the family: she is dying. Margaret then asks Nell to raise her girls (knowing all too well that Carl could never manage alone). After much thought, Nell agrees to do this one last favor for her dearest friend.

The series is set some years later (when Carl is the police chief) and follows Nell's efforts to raise three mischievous girls.

The Kaniskys live at 2938 Maple Lane in Glenlawn, California. Also living with them is Carl's father, "Grandpa" Stanley Kanisky and Joey Donovan, an orphan Nell later adopts.

Katie, the oldest daughter, is also the prettiest. She attended Glenlawn High School (also given as Lincoln High School) and was a member of the Silver Slippers sorority. Katie was part of a rock group called the Hot Muffins. She also had her own business, Katie's, a clothing store in the Glenlawn Mall. In 1986 Katie moved to San Francisco to become a buyer for the Chadwick Department Store.

Julie, the middle child, has an IQ of 160 and attends Lincoln High. She is pretty, awkward and not sure of herself. She needs to wear glasses and feels comfortable with being plain and simple. Julie was the only one of the girls to marry (Jonathan Silverman, a delivery boy for Luigi's Pizza Parlor; they later move to San Diego to set up housekeeping. Julie gave birth to a girl she names Little Nell).

Samantha, the youngest of the girls, is also the closest to Nell. She is a tomboy and loves horror movies — but not for the obvious reasons (for example, she roots for the shark in Jaws). Sam, as she is affectionately called, attended Glenlawn Elementary, Lincoln High and finally Littlefield College in New Jersey. As a kid, Sam had an imaginary friend named Debbie Jo.

When Samantha leaves for college, Nell, who was born in Alabama and had been taking child psychology classes at Glenlawn Junior College, decides to move to New York (where she acquires a job as an editor at the McDutton and Leod publishing house).

Nell's friend, Addie Wilson, is Phi Beta Kappa and taught at Glenlawn Junior College (later at Littlefield when she too moves to the East Coast). The police station house dog (a German shepherd) was named Rex.

Relatives: Lili Valenty, Elvia Allman, Elizabeth Kerr and Jane Dulo (Stanley's wife, Mildred Kanisky), Ed Shrum (Carl's brother, Ed Kanisky), Ben Powers (Nell's ex-husband, Tony Tremaine), Lynne Thigpen (Nell's sister, Loretta Harper), Hilda Haynes and Rosetta LeNoire (Nell's mother, Maybelle Harper), Matthew Lawrence (Joey's brother, Matthew Donovan), Fred McCarren and Patrick Collins (Joey's father, Tim Donovan).

Flashbacks: Sharon Spelman (Carl's wife, Margaret), Nicole Roselle (Katie age eight), Keri Houlihan (Julie age six), Jeann Barron (Samantha age four).

Cast: Nell Carter (Nell Harper), Dolph Sweet (Carl Kanisky), Kari Michaelsen (Katie Kanisky), Lauri Hendler (Julie Kanisky), Lara Jill Miller (Samantha Kanisky), Howard Morton (Off. Ralph Simpson), John Hoyt (Stanley Kanisky), Joey Lawrence (Joey Donovan), Alvernette Jiminez (Angie McDaniel, Nell's friend), Rue McClanahan (Marian Grover, Carl's friend), Arlene Golonka (Maxine), Phil Rubenstein (Captain Luchesi). Theme Vocal: "Gimme a Break" by Nell Carter.

3076 The Ginger Rogers Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/22/63). A proposed series, originally titled A Love Affair for Just Three, about Margaret Harcourt, an artist, and her sister, Elisabeth Harcourt, a fashion designer, identical twins who help each other out in time of need. In the pilot episode, Elisabeth poses as Margaret to discover why Margaret was jilted by her handsome Italian boyfriend, Mario Cellini.

Cast: Ginger Rogers (Margaret and Elisabeth Harcourt), Charlie Ruggles (Eli Harcourt, their uncle). Guest Cast: Cesare Danova (Mario Cellini), Gardner McKay (Himself), Maureen Leeds (Girl), Warren Parker (Man).

3077 Girl About Town. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1949). A live entertainment program that features songs, chatter and film inserts of singer Kyle MacDonnell visiting various New York nightclubs and Broadway shows. The series, which ran from April 15, 1948 to September 10, 1949, is also known as The Kyle MacDonnell Show. Fred Coe and Craig Allen are the producers.

Hostess: Kyle MacDonnell. Regulars: Earl Wrightson, Johnny Downs. Announcer: Johnny Downs. Music: The Norman Paris Trio.

3078 The Girl from U.N.C.L.E. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1966–1967). A spin-off from The Man from U.N.C.L.E. April Dancer and Mark Slate are agents for U.N.C.L.E. (the United Network Command for Law and Enforcement), a secret global crime-fighting organization that is based in New York City. Its main enemy is THRUSH, an international organization bent on world domination. Stories follow the cases of April and Mark as they battle the threats posed by THRUSH. Alexander Waverly is the head of U.N.C.L.E.; Randy Kovacs is a featured agent.

April was born in Maine and received an international education (her father was a constantly uprooted serviceman). Although April is a spy she is also a very typical girl. She becomes easily frightened and is not above making mistakes. She is beautiful, dresses conservatively and is very frugal. She carries a gun, but will only use it if it is absolutely necessary; she is an expert in unarmed combat.

Mark was born and raised in England. He was a member of the Royal Air Force and joined the London branch of U.N.C.L.E. He later applied for and received a transfer to the New York branch. Mark has technical ability and is an expert shot. He is also a swinging bachelor and loves women and fast cars (he looks upon April as his little sister; she sees him as her big brother).

Cast: Stefanie Powers (April Dancer), Noel Harrison (Mark Slate), Leo G. Carroll (Alexander Waverly), Randy Kirby (Randy Kovacs).

3079 The Girl in My Life. (Series; Human Interest; ABC; 1973–1974). The program honors "that special girl in everyone's life" who has been kind, unselfish and undemanding. The format unites or reunites the recipient of the good deed with the woman who performed it. Various merchandise gifts are presented to that special girl.

Host: Fred Holliday. Announcer: John Harlan.

3080 The Girl in the Empty Grave. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/20/77). The first of two pilot films about the crime-solving efforts of Abel Marsh, a small-town police chief (see also Deadly Game). The story relates Marsh's investigation of the death of a supposedly dead girl when the girl appears at the funeral of her murdered parents.

Other Regulars: Gloria, Abel's secretary; Malcolm, Fred and John, deputies; and Susan Glasgow, the town doctor.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Abel Marsh), Mitzi Hoag (Gloria), James Cromwell (Malcolm Rossiter, Jr.), Sharon Spelman (Dr. Susan Glasgow), Claude Earl Jones (Fred), Hunter Von Leer (John). Guest Cast: Deborah White (The Girl), Jonathan Banks (Courtland Gates), Edward Winter (Dr. Peter Cabe), George Gaynes (David Allen), Byron Morrow (MacAlwee), Mary Robin Redd (Gilda), Robert F. Simon (Jedediah Partridge), Leonard J. Stone (Harry).

3081 Girl on the Run. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 10/10/58). The second of two pilot films for the series 77 Sunset Strip (see also Anything for Money). The story of Stuart Bailey, a veteran of the Office of Strategic Services, turned two-fisted private detective. In the pilot episode, Bailey attempts to find Kathy Allen, a cabaret singer who witnessed the murder of a states witness, before the killer's hired hit man does. Girl on the Run was originally intended as a theatrical film (shot in 1957) but was instead used as the first episode of 77 Sunset Strip; it is currently available in syndication as a 90-minute feature film.

Cast: Efreem Zimbalist, Jr. (Stuart Bailey). Guest Cast: Erin O'Brien (Kathy Allen/Karen Shay), Shepard Strudwick (James McCullough/Ralph Graham), Edd Byrnes (Kenneth Smiley), Barton MacLane (Francis J. Brannigan), Ray Teal (Lieutenant Harper).

3082 Girl Talk. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1963–1970). Guests, mainly women, discuss their thoughts, fears, joys, aspirations and confessions.

Hostess: Virginia Graham (1963–1969), Gloria DeHaven (1969), Betsy Palmer (1969–1970).

3083 Girl Talk. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 9/4/89). A proposed daily series of entertainment features geared to children (including celebrity interviews, music by guests, advice and games).

Host: Soleil Moon Frye. Co-Host: Sheri Geller. Theme: (“Girl Talk”) by Bob Farnsworth, Kevin S. Murray.

3084 The Girl, the Gold Watch and Dynamite. (Pilot; Fantasy; Operation Prime Time; 5/21/81). A sequel pilot based on The Girl, the Gold Watch and Everything (see next title). The story establishes Kirby Winter, the man who inherited a magical gold watch that can stop time from his uncle, as the owner of O.K. Devices, an organization that offers assistance to people who need it. In the pilot, for a potential series called The Girl and the Gold Watch, Kirby uses the magical stop watch to help his girlfriend's parents, who are facing eviction from their home by crooked realtors.

Other Regulars: Bonnie Lee Beaumont, Kirby's girlfriend; Wilma Farnum, Kirby's assistant; Hoover Hess III, Kirby's assistant; and Michelle, the firm's receptionist.

Cast: Philip McHale (Kirby Winter), Lee Purcell (Bonnie Lee Beaumont), Zohra Lambert (Wilma Farnum), Burton Gilliam (Hoover Hess III), Michelle Burton (Michelle). Guest Cast: Carol Lawrence (Sarah Beaumont), Jack Elam (Seth Beaumont), Morgan Fairchild (Stella Walker), Gary Lockwood (Sheriff Nathan Baker), Larry Linville (Wesley Reins), Gene Barry (Andrew Stovall), Tom Poston (Omar Krepps), Jerry Mathers (Deputy Henry Thomas Watts). Theme Vocal: “Two Hearts in Perfect Time” by Richie Havens.

3085 The Girl, the Gold Watch and Everything. (Pilot; Fantasy; Operation Prime Time; 6/13/80). At the reading of the will for Omar Krepps, an eccentric multimillionaire inventor, Kirby Winter, Omar's favorite nephew, receives as his inheritance a gold watch—a watch he later discovers can stop time (for everyone and everything except for the person who possesses the watch). The unsold series was to depict Kirby's adventures as he struggles to keep secret the power of the watch and use it to help good defeat evil. The pilot episode depicts Kirby's efforts to prove that he is innocent of a charge that he embezzled $75 million from his uncle's company, Krepps Enterprises, where he works as an accountant. The story also relates Kirby's attempts to keep secret the watch's ability from Charla O'Rourke, a beautiful seductress who is pursuing Kirby to learn the secret of Omar's success. (It is learned that Omar invented and used the watch for only one purpose: to control time for profit). See also The Girl, the Gold Watch and Dynamite, the sequel pilot film.

Other Regulars: Bonnie Lee Beaumont, Kirby's girlfriend; and Wilma Farnum, Kirby's secretary.

Cast: Robert Hays (Kirby Winter), Pam Dawber (Bonnie Lee Beaumont), Zohra Lambert (Wilma Farnum). Guest Cast: Jill Ireland (Charla O'Rourke), Maurice Evans (Leroy Wintermore), Ed Nelson (Joseph Locordolos), Macdonald Carey (Walton Grumbly), Burton Gilliam (Hoover Hess), Peter Brown (Raoul), John O'Leary (Hilton Hibber). Theme Vocal: “Two Hearts in Perfect Time” by Richie Havens.

3086 The Girl with Something Extra. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1973–1974). Sally is a one of a kind young woman. Not only is she pretty and effervescent, but she possesses a form of E.S.P. that gives her the ability to pick up on things. She can't read everybody's mind—“Some people some of the time, some people most of the time and a very few people all the time.” Sally can't always be specific; sometimes she can only get a general feeling.

Sally is married to John Burton, a handsome young lawyer who is a very private person. They met at an art show—“I should have realized there was something different about Sally the first time we met” (she turned him down for a date before he even asked). Since she was free the following night, she and John went bowling; later, while on a beach, Sally accepted John's proposal—without his asking. On their wedding night Sally reveals her special powers to John—“I married you because I know exactly who you are; no illusions, just the man I fell in love with.” “It's not going to be easy getting used to having you inside my head with my thoughts hanging out,” John says, “but we'll try.”

Sally and John live at 10 Havilland Drive. Yellow is Sally's favorite color, and she is partners with Annie in a variety shop called The Store. John is a lawyer with the firm of Metcalf, Klein and Associates in Los Angeles.

Jerry Burton is John's brother, a gambler (he plays pool at a hall called Family Billiards); Angela is John's secretary; and Owen Metcalf is John's boss. Dave Grusin composed the theme.

Cast: Sally Field (Sally Burton), John Davidson (John Burton), Jack Sheldon (Jerry Burton), Zohra Lambert (Anne), Henry Jones (Owen Metcalf), Stephanie Edwards (Angela), William Windom (Stewart Klein).

3087 Girlfriends. (Series; Comedy; UPN; CW; 2000–2008). The life, loves, joys and sorrows of Joan Clayton, Maya Wilkes, Lynn Searcy and Toni Childs, four beautiful African-American women struggling to find their place in the world.

Joan was originally a lawyer with the Los Angeles firm of Goldstein, Sweedlestone, Donaldson and Lee. She later quits the firm and opens a bar-restaurant called the J-Spot. Joan was born in Fresno, California and lives on the North 700 block at Wilton Place. She is a very sexy woman and delights in wearing see-through blouses and showing cleavage.

Maya was originally Joan's legal secretary. She turned her ability to write into a book called Oh Hell, Yes (published by Inner Vision Press) that offers help to others through the hardships she faced in life. Maya was born in Fresno and lives in Unit 8 of the Leirmert Park Village.

Lynn is the least focused member of the group. She is not easily motivated and not very responsible. Lynn has five degrees from U.C.L.A. (owes over $200,000 in student loans) and has never been able to put any of her degrees to work for her. She takes whatever jobs she can find — from waitress to secretary, but did hold one steady job (for a while, at least) as a documentary film maker (her films were Lives in the Balance: The African-American Woman and the AIDS Crisis and Life in the Balance: Single Mothers). Lynn was born in Charlottesville, Virginia, and often lives with one of her girl friends as she never has enough money to afford her own apartment). Lynn is later (2007) a singer who performs as Indigo Skye.

Toni is a material girl and dreams of marrying a millionaire (as Maya says, "Toni is a gold digger who dates rich men for what monetary gifts they can give her"). Toni is a graduate of U.C.L.A. and lives at the El Royale Apartments. She originally worked for Colonoda Realty before beginning her own company, Toni Childs Realty ("I Specialize in Class").

Other Regulars: William Dent, a close friend to all four girls. He is a lawyer at Joan's former agency and was romantically involved with Joan and Maya. Jabari is Maya's son (with her ex-husband, Darnell). Todd Grant is a Caucasian doctor who married Toni (but their constant bickering destroyed their marriage). When the series switched to the CW (2006) it is mentioned that Toni moved to New York to be with her boyfriend (Todd) who had acquired a job on a make over reality TV show.

Cast: Tracee Ellis Ross (Joan Clayton), Golden Brooks (Maya Wilkes), Persia White (Lynn Searcy), Jill Marie Jones (Toni Childs), Reginald C. Hayes (William Dent), Jason Pace (Dr. Todd Garrett), Tanner Scott Richards (Jabari Wilkes), Khalil Kain (Darnell Wilkes), Flex Alexander (Darnell Wilkes), Keesha Sharp (Monica Brooks).

3088 The Girls. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1950). New York's Greenwich Village is the setting for a light hearted look at a hopeful actress (Cornelia Otis Skinner) and a promising writer (Emily Kimbrough) as they seek fame and fortune in Manhattan. Based on the novel Our Hearts Were Young and Gay. The series, which ran from January 1, 1950 to March 25, 1950, was originally titled Young and Gay

Cast: Bethel Leslie (Cornelia Otis Skinner), Gloria Stroock (Cornelia Otis Skinner; later), Mary Malone (Emily Kimbrough). Also: Kenneth Forbes, Agnes Young, Harry Bannister, John Campbell.

3089 Girls Behaving Badly. (Series; Reality; USA; 2002–2006). A Candid Camera type of series that takes the concept of catching people in the act of being themselves one step further. Here a group of beautiful girls pull pranks on unsuspecting people with the object being two-fold — laughing with them and laughing at them as they attempt to cope with the prank.

Cast: Shondrella Avery, Laura Donna, Candy Ford, Chelsea Handler, Melissa Howard, Nichole Lennstrom, Isley Nicole Melton, Tori Meyer, Glenda Redfield, Kira Soltanovich.

3090 Girls Club. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2002). Lynne Camden, Jeannie Falls and Sarah Mickle are best friends who work at the San Francisco-based law firm of Meyers, Berry, Cherry and Fitch, LLD. The girls met in law school (Stanford University) and now share a loft in a gorgeous Victorian house.

Lynne, Jeannie and Sarah are each 27 years old and each have one goal in common: to get noticed. Lynne is the straight shooter; Jeannie is outgoing and finds that her gorgeous looks are helping her achieve her goal. Sarah has a bad temper, flies off the handle and easily makes enemies.

While the series does have its courtroom moments, particular attention is on the personal lives of the girls as they struggle with the pressures of complex legal issues and doing what is best for their firm and its clients.

Other Regulars: Nicholas Hahn, a senior partner; and the male lawyers, Kevin O'Neil and Michael Harrod. Two of eight filmed episodes aired.

Cast: Gretchen Mol (Lynne Camden), Kathleen Robertson (Jeannie Falls), Chyler Leigh (Sarah Mickle), Giancarlo Esposito (Nicholas Hahn), Sam Jaeger (Kevin O'Neil), Donovan Leitch (Michael Harrod).

3091 Girls in Love. (Series; Comedy; Showtime Family; 2007). Ellie Allard is a very pretty 13-year-old girl with a unique perspective on life. She is best friends with Magda and Nadine and believes that the exciting things in life are "fun, friends and kissing boys.” Ellie is also a worrier — she worries most over the prospect of not having a boyfriend.

Ellie, Magda and Nadine also worry about the future while at the same time struggling to cope with life as sophomores at a British high school (the series is set in England). Ellie has aspirations of becoming an artist; Nadine, who is musically inclined, hopes to become a rock star; and Magda, who is always dressed to the hilt, dreams of becoming a high-powered businesswoman.

The experiences of three best friends are depicted as they struggle to cope with their awkward teenage years while at the same time realizing that their innocent, almost totally carefree lives will soon give way to a whole new set of rules to follow and live with.

Ellie, aware of a viewing audience, narrates each episode and her facial expressions, aimed at the camera, add a sense of reality to stories (which are based on the Girls in Love books by Jacqueline Wilson).

Mark is Ellie’s father, a widower; Anna is Mark’s new love interest; Miss Henderson is the featured teacher at school; Mo is Ellie’s grandmother.

Cast: Olivia Hallinan (Ellie Allard), Zaraah Abrahams (Magda), Amy Kwilek (Nadine), Ian Dunn (Mark Allard), Sam Logan (Anna), Claire Wille (Miss Henderson), Sally Sheridan (Mo).

3092 A Girl’s Life. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/4/83). Gay Brooks is a beautiful divorcee living in New York City. She works as a commercials jingle writer and is looking for Mr. Right. The unsold series was to relate her efforts to find that special guy despite influences from her seven times married mother, Evelyn, her baseball-minded ex-husband, Johnny, and her overly sensible alter-ego, who is only visible to the viewing audience.

In the pilot episode, Gay attempts to entertain a new boyfriend (David) on the same night that both Evelyn and Johnny decide to stop by.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Gay Brooks), Joan Hackett (Evelyn), Fred Dryer (Johnny Paloney), Nea Bryant (Gay as a girl in flashbacks), Lyman Ward (Gay’s father). Guest Cast: Christopher Allport (David Rudolph), Phil Rubinstein (Man).

3093 A Girl’s Life. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/7/89). Events in the life of Meg Robbins, a beautiful, single psychologist, who has a daily radio program on WBI in Chicago. In the pilot episode, Meg faces her thirty-fifth birthday, a time she feels is great, until she realizes she doesn’t have a man in her life. Other Regulars: Walter, her assistant; Stephanie, her neighbor; Betty, Meg’s mother; and Richard, the station manager.

Cast: Brooke Adams (Meg Robbins), John Michael Bolger (Walter Flannigan), Kit McDonough (Stephanie), Martha Scott (Betty Robbins), Joe Flaherty (Richard White). Guest Cast: Brian Doyle

Murray (Frank), Christopher Rich (Bob), Tony Rozelli (Waiter).

3094 The Girls Next Door. (Series; Reality; E!; 2005–). Holly Madison, Kendra Wilkinson and Bridget Marquardt are three gorgeous women who live with and love Playboy magazine publisher Hugh Hefner. The series is set at the Playboy Mansion in Holmby Hills, California.

Hugh is 80 years old; Holly is 28; Kendra, 23; and Bridget is 34. While Hugh has limited himself to just three girlfriends at present (he is usually with seven) or at least for the series, the program not only follows the daily events that spark their lives (especially Hugh, who is seen in a totally different light than his public “Hef” playboy persona), but also gives viewers a look at a mansion that is normally not seen by strangers. The program doesn’t neglect the girlfriends — each is profiled with a glimpse into their private lives.

Cast: Hugh Hefner (Himself), Holly Madison (Herself), Kendra Wilkinson (Herself), Bridget Marquardt (Herself), Mary O’Connor (Hugh’s secretary), Keith Hefner (Hugh’s brother), Tiffany Fallon (2005 Playmate of the Year), Victoria Fuller (January 1996 Playmate), Alison Waite (May 2006 Playmate), Kara Monaco (2000 Playmate of the Year), Christie Hefner (Playboy Enterprises CEO), Barbi Benton (Hugh’s ex-girlfriend), Paris Hilton (Hugh’s friend), Carmella DeCesare (2004 Playmate of the Year), Stacy Berk (Hugh’s former girlfriend), Monica Leigh (March 2006 Playmate), Jillian Grace (March 2005 Playmate), Destiny Davis (January 2005 Playmate), Brian Olea (Guest Services), Cristal Camden (Hugh’s former girlfriend), Alison Reynolds (Hugh’s former girlfriend).

3095 G.I.’s. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/29/80). The program, set during World War II, relates the antics of a squad of American servicemen who serve as a “mop-up” troop during the Italian Campaign. The pilot episode relates the G.I.’s efforts to convince a British patrol that they are Americans — and not Germans — when they take refuge in a German tank during a rainstorm.

Cast: Kenneth Gilman (Corporal Peter Buchanan), Jonathan Banks (Sergeant John Vitella), Gregg Berger (Private T.J. Witherspoon), Michael Binder (Private Leroy Lumpkin), Lorry Goldman (Private Harry Freedman), Chick Vennera (Private Joseph Battaglia). Guest Cast: Lillian Garrett-Bonner (Peasant lady), Lew Horn (British soldier), Patrick Gorman (British officer).

3096 The Gisele MacKenzie Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957–1958). A weekly program of music and songs with singer Gisele MacKenzie as the host. Jack Benny and Charles Isaacs are the producers.

Hostess: Gisele MacKenzie. Vocalists: The Double Daters. Announcer: Jack Narz, Tom Kennedy. Orchestra: Axel Stordahl.

3097 Give and Take. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). The object calls for players to answer general knowledge questions in return for prizes. The series ran from March 20, 1952 to June 12, 1952.

Host: Bill Cullen, John Reed King.

3098 Give-n-Take. (Series; Game; CBS; 1975–1976). Four female contestants, seated in a circle surrounding a large electronic spinning arrow, each receive an expensive merchandise prize, the value of which is not stated. A question is read. The first player to correctly answer the question presses a button that slowly stops the spinning arrow. The player that is pinpointed by the arrow has the option of either keeping or passing the prize. The object is for players not to exceed $5,000 in merchandise cash value but to come as close as possible to that amount to win. Players are not made aware of their cash amounts and work blindly on keeping or passing prizes. Six prizes are played per game and the player who comes closest to the game's limit is the winner and receives what prizes she has accumulated.

Host: Jim Lange. Model: Jane Nelson. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

3099 The Gladiator. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 2/3/86). When his brother Jeff is killed by a mysterious driver in a black car, Rick Benton, a mechanic at Dream Cars, Inc., decides to avenge Jeff's death by waging a war on reckless drivers, seeking in particular, the mysterious black car. He soon becomes a somewhat unofficial source of law and order known as the Gladiator. The unsold series was to depict Rick's exploits as he avenges crimes.

Other Regulars: Susan Nevill, Rick's girlfriend; Lieutenant Frank Mason; Garth, Rick's boss; and Joe, Rick's friend.

Cast: Ken Wahl (Rick Benton), Nancy Allen (Susan Nevill), Robert Culp (Frank Mason), Rick Dees (Garth), Stan Shaw (Joe). Guest Cast: Brian Robbins (Jeff Benton), Linda Thorson (Lady in class), Rosemary Forsyth (Dr. Loretta Simpson), Jan Merlin (David), Royce D. Applegate (Phil), Mary Baldwin (Mary), Robert Phalen (Dr. Maxwell), Jim Wilkey (Death car driver).

3100 Gladiators 2000. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1994). A spin-off from American Gladiators that features children (ages 10–13) competing in game contests that, although based on the adult version of the series, were modified to accommodate children with a Gladiator (from the original series) appearing as guests to advise the teams (male vs. female) on the various contests in which they must compete. The team with the highest score is the winner.

Host: Ryan Seacrest. Hostess: Valarie Rae Miller, Maria Sansone.

3101 Gladys Knight and the Pips. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1975). A lively summer series of music and songs with singer Gladys Knight and her backup group, the Pips. The series ran from July 10, 1975 to July 31, 1975.

Host: Gladys Knight. Orchestra: George Wyle, Sid Feller.

3102 Glamour Girl. (Series; Women; NBC; 1953–1954). The program features women, selected from the studio audience, becoming the subjects for wardrobe advice, beauty treatments and other tips that are designed to make the average woman a glamour girl.

Host: Harry Babbitt, Jack McCoy.

3103 Glamour-Go-Round. (Series; Women; CBS; 1950). A program of beauty tips and advice for women with actress Ilka Chase as the host. The series ran from February 4, 1950 to May 3, 1950.

Hostess: Ilka Chase. Announcer: Durward Kirby.

3104 The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1968–1972). Music, songs and comedy sketches set against a country and western atmosphere with singer Glen Campbell as the host. The series ran from June 23, 1968 to September 8, 1968; and January 22, 1969 to June 13, 1972. Jack Shea, Rich Eustis, Al Rogers and Nick Sevane are the producers.

Host: Glen Campbell. Regulars: Jerry Reed, Eddie Mayehoff, Larry McNeely, R.G. Brown, John Hartford, Pat Paulsen, Mel Tillis, The Mike Curb Congregation. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Marty Paich.

3105 The Glen Campbell Music Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1982). A weekly series of music and songs with singer Glen Campbell and his guests.

Host: Glen Campbell. Orchestra: T.J. Kuenster.

3106 Glencannon. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1958). Colin Glencannon is the skipper of the freighter Inchcliffe Castle. His port of call is the Caribbean and stories follow his adventures as he seeks cargo, more often than not, taking on passengers and becoming involved with and attempting to solve their problems. See also Mr. Glencannon Takes All for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Thomas Mitchell (Colin Glencannon), Barry Keegan (Colin's shipmate), Charles Carson (Colin's shipmate), Patrick Allen (Bos'n Hughes).

3107 Glenn Miller Time. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1961). A summer program that recreates the sound of the Big Band Era, in particular the sound of Glenn Miller and His Orchestra. The series ran from July 10, 1961 to September 11, 1961. William O. Harbach is the producer.

Host: Ray McKinley, Johnny Desmond. Regulars: Patty Clark, The Castle Sisters. Music: The Glenn Miller Orchestra.

3108 The Glenn Reeves Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966). The program spotlights performances by country and western entertainers with singer Glenn Reeves as the host.

Host: Glenn Reeves. Music: The Glenn Reeves Band.

3109 Glitter. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1984–1985). Glitter “is the hottest celebrity magazine on the newsstand.” Celebrities vie for the opportunity to appear in the magazine and stories follow the incidents in the lives of those fictional celebrities whose adventures make for juicy stories in Glitter.

Mark Hughes is the editor (pilot episode); Charles Hardwicke is the editor for the actual series. The reporters are Sam Dillon, Kate Simpson, Peter Bozak, Chip Craddock, Julie Tipton and Jennifer Douglas. Clive Richlin is the featured photographer; Shelley Sealy is a columnist; Angela Timins is the receptionist and Marion is a secretary. Lalo Schiffrin composed the theme.

3110 Gloria. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1982–1983). A spin-off from All in the Family (although the pilot aired on Archie Bunker's Place; see Gloria Comes Home for information). Following her separation from her husband, Mike, Gloria Bunker Stivic leaves California and returns to Queens, New York, where she moves in with her father, Archie Bunker. Shortly after, Gloria acquires a job in Fox Ridge (Duchess County, New York) as the assistant to Dr. Willard Adams, an aging, somewhat forgetful veterinarian. Stories depict Gloria's experiences as a veterinary assistant and her attempts to make a new life for herself and her son, Joey.

Other Regulars: Mary Margaret Lawrence, called “Dr. Maggie,” Willard's partner; Clark Uhley, Gloria's co-worker; and Buck Uhley, Clark's father.

Cast: Sally Struthers (Gloria Stivic), Christian Jacobs (Joey Stivic), Burgess Meredith (Dr. Willard Adams), Jo De Winter (Dr. Maggie Lawrence), Clark Uhley (Lou Richards). Theme Song: “Gloria's Theme” by Tony Greco.

3111 Gloria Comes Home. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 2/28/82). The pilot film, broadcast as a segment of Archie Bunker's Place, for the CBS series Gloria (see prior title). When Mike Stivic, son-in-law to Archie Bunker, finds that he is unable to handle society's pressures, he leaves his wife, Gloria, and their son, Joey, and moves to a commune in Humble County, California. Unable to remain in her home in Santa Barbara, Gloria decides to return to New York and begin a new life. Several days later, after Gloria and Joey move in with Archie, Joey's pet turtle, Murphy, becomes ill. For unexplained reasons, Gloria and Joey travel three hundred miles (from Archie's home in Queens) to Dutchess County, New York, where they find a vet, the slightly eccentric Dr. Adams. When Dr. Adams, who is just setting up a new practice, discovers Gloria's love for animals, he hires her as his assistant. The pilot episode ends with Gloria telling Archie that she and Joey are planning to move to Dutchess County to begin a new life. The series picks up from this point.

Cast: Sally Struthers (Gloria Stivic), Burgess Meredith (Dr. Adams), Christopher Johnston (Joey Stivic). Guest Cast: Carroll O'Connor (Archie Bunker), Denise Miller (Billie Bunker), Danielle Brisebois (Stephanie Mills), Jason Wingreen (Harry Snowden), Anne Meara (Veronica Rooney), Allan Melvin (Barney Hefner).

3112 The Gloria DeHaven Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953–1954). A daily series of music and songs with singer-actress Gloria DeHaven as the host. The series ran from October 9, 1953 to January 25, 1954.

Hostess: Gloria DeHaven. Regular: Bobby Hackett. Music: The Tony Mottola Trio.

3113 The Gloria Swanson Hour. (Pilot; Women; DuMont; 6/23/48). A proposed series of fashion trends, glamour, cooking advice, and other subjects of interest to women.

Host: Gloria Swanson. Regular: Pat Murray.

3114 The Gloria Swanson Show. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1953). The alternate title for Crown Theater with Gloria Swanson. See this title for information.

3115 Glory Days. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1990). A coming of age program that looks at growing up in America via the lives of four friends who take different paths after graduating from high school: Walker Lovejoy, a star football player who goes off to college, fails to make the team and returns home to become a writer (for a newspaper called the Century Post); Dave Rutecki, who is now a cop; Dominic Fopiano, a college freshman who yearns to become an engineer; and Peter “T-Bone” Trigg, who has no plans for the future and is always broke.

Cast: Brad Pitt (Walker Lovejoy), Spike Alexander (Dave Rutecki), Evan Mirand (Dominic Fopiano), Nicholas Kallsen (Peter Trigg).

3116 The Glory Years. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1987). While attending the Coney Island High School Class of 1966 twenty-year reunion, three mischief-making friends (Jack, John and Gerald) are reunited. Finding they miss the former good times, they decide to bring back those times by reliving their youth. The five-episode program relates the misadventures that occur when Jack, John and Gerald attempt to recapture the past.

Other Regulars: Melinda, Jack's girlfriend; Norma, the waitress; Gina, the hooker; Minnie, the brothel owner; Robert, Melinda's father.

Cast: Tim Thomerson (Jack Sanders), George Dzundza (John Moss), Archie Hahn (Gerald Arkin), Tawny Kitaen (Melinda Murphy), Donna Pescow (Norma Palmer), Donna Denton (Gina), Mamie Van Doren (Minnie), Michael Fairman (Robert Murphy).

3117 G. L. O. W. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1987). A glitzy "variety" program in which a bevy of beautiful women appear in well coordinated wrestling matches coupled with comedy blackouts before and after commercial breaks. The title refers to the Gorgeous Ladies of Wrestling. Each match is a good girl vs. bad girl situation and features such characters as Sally, the Farmer's Daughter; Debbie Debutante; Americana; Ebony; Mt. Figi; Little Figi; Spanish Red; Hollywood and Vine; The Heavy Metal Sisters (Chainsaw and Smoker); Tammy Jones; Tina Ferrari; Matilda the Hun; Susie Spirit; Jungle Woman; Ashley; Olympia; and The Royal Hawaiian. David McLane is the producer.

Host: David McLane. Music: Hank Doing.

3118 Glynis. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1963). Glynis Granville is a British mystery storyteller who has made her home in San Diego, California. She is married to Keith Granville, a private practice attorney. Glynis is very attractive, very inquisitive and not the sort of woman you would suspect as being a crime solver.

Glynis is prime and proper. She feels that to write a good murder mystery one needs to become involved with a murder to get all the details. Glynis does not go looking for murder — it seems to find her. No matter where she goes, something sinister always happens.

Glynis has no training as a criminologist — what she has learned through research has become her chief weapon in helping the police solve crimes. Unlike Jessica Fletcher (Murder, She Wrote) who is an expert at solving crimes, Glynis is more of an amateur and a bit of a klutz who solves crimes quite by accident. Keith often becomes involved with Glynis and it is he who often saves her life. He tells her not to put her life at risk for the sake of a story and she promises to do so — until the next crime she stumbles upon.

Glynis says, "I dream about murders" and stories follow her efforts to write a book without actually becoming its main character. "Relaxing in a hot tub," Glynis says, gives her inspiration. Chick Rogers, a retired policeman, often assists Glynis (and Keith) when Glynis becomes an active participant in a crime. See also Hide and Seek for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Glynis Johns (Glynis Granville), Keith Andes (Keith Granville), George Mathews (Chick Rogers), Glynis Johns (Aggie; Glynis's double, a convict).

3119 Go. (Series; Game; NBC; 1983–1984). Two teams compete, each composed of five members — one celebrity captain and four contestants. One team at a time competes to guess the identity of words within the least amount of time. The object is for team two to beat that amount of time to win. Four rounds are played and the team that wins the most rounds is the champion. The non-celebrity players split a cash prize.

Host: Kevin O'Connell. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

3120 Go, Diego! Go! (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2005–). A spin-off from Dora the Explorer that gives her cousin, Diego, his own series. Diego is Dora's bilingual eight-year-old cousin who runs the Animal Rescue Center in the Latin America Rain Forest. Like in Dora, Diego engages children by having the characters talking directly to them. Stories revolve around Diego as he rescues and cares for animals (and relates facts about them to children). Diego is assisted by Baby Jaguar. He also has an 11-year-old sister, Alicia, who is a computer whiz and helps him run the animal facility.

Voice Cast: Jake T. Austin (Diego), Constanza Sperakis (Alicia), E. Austin Valentine (Baby Jaguar), Rosie Perez (Click), Sebastian Arcelus (Mr. Marquez), Gabriela Aisenberg (Various Animals).

3121 Go Fish. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2001). Westlake High School is the setting. It is here that Peter Troutner is a teacher. It is also here that Peter's 14-year-old brother, Andy, called "Fish," is a freshman. Stories follow Fish as he attempts to conquer high school by being cool — but nothing he tries seems to work. His goal is popularity and success in high school.

Peter also coaches the wrestling team. Andy considers the basement of his home "The War Room" (where he and his friends plan their school activities). Lauren Eastwood is a teacher who runs the school's Feminist Club; Jess Riley is a sophomore cheerleader Andy is desperately trying to impress; Amanda is the freshman who likes Andy (but he is too obsessed with Jess to realize it). Ernie Hopkins is the drama coach; Henry, Hazard and Sili are Andy's friends. Andy's parents have no first names (neither on screen or on press material); his father is a doctor who is obsessed with swimming in his neighbor's pool.

Cast: Kieran Culkin (Andy Troutner), Will Friedle (Peter Troutner), Joe Flaherty (Mr. Troutner), Molly

Cheek (Mrs. Troutner), Katherine Ellis (Jess Riley), Andy Dick (Ernie Hopkins), JoAnna Garcia (Amanda), Kristin Lehman (Laura Eastwood), Kyle Sabihy (Henry "Krak" Krakowski), Taylor Handley (Hazard), Trinity Stiles (Sili "Sleeper" Reznor).

3122 The Go Go Gophers. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1968–1969). Gopher Gulch is the setting for a story about two Old West gophers (who resemble Indians), the double-talking Ruffled Feathers, and his interpreter, Running Board, to safeguard their domain from Army Colonel Kit Coyote, who is attempting to rid the West of gophers.

Voice Cast: Sandy Becker (Ruffled Feathers), George S. Irving (Running Board), Kenny Delmar (Col. Kit Coyote), Sandy Becker (Sergeant).

3123 Go Lucky. (Series; Game; CBS; 1951). Two players compete. A group of players enact a common phrase through charades. The player who is first to identify it (within a two-minute time limit) receives one point. The player with the highest point score is the winner and receives a $100 bond. A $50 bond is awarded to the runner up. The series ran from July 15, 1951 to September 2, 1951.

Host: Jan Murray.

3124 Go West Young Girl. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/27/78). The story of Netty Booth, a beautiful New England reporter who travels west during the 1870s to seek her fame and fortune by writing of her experiences. The pilot episode depicts how she and her soon-to-become assistant, Gilda Corin (the widow of a cavalry officer), meet when both team up to search for Billy the Kid (Netty for an interview; Gilda to kill him). The unsold series was to relate their adventures as they travel throughout the West.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Netty Booth), Sandra Will (Gilda Corin). Guest Cast: Stuart Whitman (Deputy Shreeve), Richard Jaeckel (Billy the Kid), Michael Bell (Chato), David Dukes (Reverend Crane), Charles Frank (Captain Anson), Richard Kelton (Griff), Griff Palmer (Payne).

3125 God, the Devil and Bob. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2000). Bob Alman is a lazy autoworker who is the only hope the world has. If he cannot make it a better world, God will destroy it. And how did Bob manage to find himself in this predicament? It all started when God chose to take a good look at the world He created. When he saw the crime, the injustice and felt that people were not obeying his golden rules, he thought it would be best just to destroy the world and start over. But before doing so, He thought it best to give mankind one last chance. To be impartial, God chose to let his enemy, the Devil, choose one person to change his mind. The Devil chose Bob whom he believes is a loser and will never be able to fulfill God's wish. Stories follow Bob (who chose to become the Devil's pawn out of fear) to make the world a better place without any help from God.

Cast: French Stewart (Bob Alman), James Garner (God), Alan Cummings (The Devil), Nancy Cartwright (Megan Alman), Laurie Metcalf (Donna Alman), Kath Soucie (Andrea Alman), Jeff Doucette (Smeck).

3126 Godzilla. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1978–1981). The overall title for two series: Godzilla and Jana of the Jungle.

The Godzilla segment relates the adventures of Carl Rogers, a scientist who roams the seas (in his boat the Calico) and Godzilla, the 30-story-tall fire-breathing dragon he controls, as they battle evil. Quinn, Pete and Brock assist Carl; Godzuki is the fumbling monster.

Jana of the Jungle tells the story of a beautiful, white jungle goddess. A boat traveling down a river in Africa strikes a rock and sinks. One of the passengers, a young girl named Jana, is rescued by Montaro, a warrior, who raises her. As the years pass, Jana becomes a legend, the protector of the jungle and all its creatures. Stories relate Jana's adventures as she battles the unscrupulous characters that invade her adopted homeland.

Dr. Ben Cooper is the "white witch doctor" Jana befriends.

The series was broadcast as The Godzilla Power Hour from September 9, 1978 to October 28, 1978. It ran for 90 minutes as The Godzilla Super 90 from November 4, 1978 to September 1, 1979. It ended its run as Godzilla for 30 minutes from September 8, 1979 to September 5, 1981 (during which time the Jana of the Jungle segment was dropped).

3127 Going Bananas. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1984). Shortly after escaping from a zoo, an orangutan named Roxana is zapped with a ray from a UFO and given extraordinary powers. She is found by two children, James and Louis Cole, and unofficially adopted by them. When James and Louise discover Roxana's amazing abilities they become a team to battle injustice. Their efforts are hampered, however, by Hubert and Hank Gritz, two dastardly brothers who want to use Roxana's powers for their own evil purposes. The series also features Gran, James and Louise's grandmother.

Cast: Tim Topper (James Cole), Emily Moultrie (Louise Cole), Marie Denn (Gran), Bill Saluga (Hubert Gritz), James Avery (Hank Gritz), J.R. (Roxana Banana). Theme Vocal: "Going Bananas" by Irene Cara.

3128 Going My Way. (Series; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1962–1963). Father Charles O'Malley is a young Catholic priest with progressive ideas. Father Fitzgibbon is the conservative pastor of St. Dominic's, a parish church in New York City. St. Dominic's is also the new home to Father O'Malley when he is assigned to help Father Fitzgibbon run the church. Stories relate Father O'Malley's attempts to reform his stubborn pastor while at the same time assist the needy and modernize the church. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Other Regulars: Tom Colwell, the community center director; and Mrs. Featherstone, the church secretary.

Cast: Gene Kelly (Father Charles O'Malley), Leo G. Carroll (Father Fitzgibbon), Dick York (Tom Colwell), Nydia Westman (Mrs. Featherstone).

3129 Going Places. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/19/73). Wes Tucker is a hopeful writer who lives in a small town in Ohio. When he writes a novel and submits it to a New York publisher, he moves to Manhattan with the hope that his book will be published. When it is rejected, he decides to remain in the Big Apple and make a living as a free-lance writer. The unsold series was to relate his struggles.

Cast: Todd Susman (Wes Tucker), Jill Clayburgh (Gloria), Norman Fell (Mr. Shaw), Judith DeHart (Ellen), Jed Allan (Steve).

3130 Going Places. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1990–1991). Here's Looking at You is "a Candid Camera type of show without the bald guy [Allen Funt]." It is produced in Los Angeles by Dawn St. Claire for National Studios. The writers are Alexandra ("Alex") Burton, Kate Griffin and brothers Jack and Charlie Davis. Dawn allows her writers to share her three-bedroom house at 1800 Beach Road (one of two she got in a divorce settlement) for a very simple reason: "If I have to fire you, I only have to make one call."

The team's job is simple: devise situations that involve ordinary people in unsuspecting situations.

Alex, called "a sexy blonde bombshell," was born in Denver and loves to cook (as Kate says, "She looks like that and loves to cook? What is she, the product of some genetic experiment?"). Alex keeps the argumentative group together and has a rich fantasy life; she has an impressive answer for everything (for example, "I was Miss Colorado of 1985" or "I lived with Arnold Schwarzenegger") and always fools people; "I'm only kidding," she says when they start to believe her.

Alex produced the show Wake Up Denver for two years before joining Here's Looking at You.

Kate is from New York City and is the sharp tongued one of the group (she is also their self-proclaimed boss). Kate had been teamed by Dawn with three previous groups of writers (but it never worked out). Prior to working for Dawn, Kate wrote for standup comics in New York.

Jack and Charlie Davis are from Chicago. They had the impression they were the only writers. When Dawn mentioned they would be working with Alex Burton, they balked — until they saw Alex, bent over a desk in a short, tight skirt: "No problem." Charlie is the creative one but has to be pushed.

Lindsay Bowen is a very pretty teenage girl who lives next door to the team. She loves horror movies, attends Hollywood High School and is most friendly with Alex (from whom she seeks advice about boys and dating). Lindsay's parents are always traveling and are rarely home for her. "You're not just my friends," she tells the team, "you're my family."

In Your Face is the Here's Looking at You competition; National Studios is owned by the Mitsuoka Company; and in the original, unaired pilot version, Holland Taylor played the producer, Joyce Strickland.

On January 11, 1991, the format changed. Here's Looking at You is canceled and replaced by a reality show called American's Funniest Most Wanted. Alex, Kate, Jack and Charlie acquire jobs as writers on The Dick Roberts Show, a daily talk show patterned after Oprah and Phil Donahue.

Holland Taylor appeared in the first new episode to establish the premise (she is then dropped); Staci Keanan (Lindsay) is still a regular (her role has been drastically cut back).

New to the series is Dick Roberts, the star of the talk show. He is an egomaniac, difficult, arrogant, pompous and abrasive. Arnie Ross is the ulcer-ridden executive producer who lives on Maalox and Pepto Bismol. He and Dick have been together for ten years.

Nick is Kate's nephew, who comes to live with her while her brother, an anthropologist, is away on assignment. Sam is Dick's delicate son (he suffers from allergies and has been babied all his life).

Relatives: Dena Dietrich (Kate's mother, Claire Griffin), Ralph Bruneau (Kate's brother, Michael Griffin), Jonathan Ward (Jack and Charlie's brother, Jay Davis). Theme: "Going Places," vocal by Mark Lennon.

Cast: Heather Locklear (Alex Burton), Hallie Todd (Kate Griffin), Jerry Levine (Jack Davis), Alan Ruck (Charlie Davis), Holland Taylor (Dawn St. Claire), Staci Keanan (Lindsay Brown), Steve Vinovich (Dick Roberts), Philip Charles MacKenzie (Arnie Ross), J.D. Daniels (Nick), Christopher Castile (Sam).

3131 Going to Extremes. (Series; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1992–1993). The Croft University Medical School is located on the remote Caribbean Island of Jantique (called "One Happy Island"). It is here that Dr. Henry Croft established the school in 1980 to "blow the doors open on the medical monopoly."

The students that attend the Croft University were not good enough to get into medical institutions stateside. Henry went “to a rinky-dink” medical school and clawed his way into the medical profession. He invented a joint replacement system and sold the patent for $53 million and vowed to come back for the underdog to show “those pansy-assed lenders just what it really takes to be a doctor.” With Henry’s time-tested techniques he vows to make doctors out of any one with the ambition to become a doctor. Stories follow the experiences of those students who attend the university hoping to become doctors.

The Doctors-Teachers: Alice Davis, Jack Van DeWeaghe and Michael Norris. The students are Cheryl, Kim, Kathleen, Alex, Charles and Colin.

Cast: Roy Dotrice (Dr. Henry Croft), June Chadwick (Dr. Alice Davis), Carl Lumbly (Dr. Michael Norris), Charles Keating (Dr. Jack Van DeWeaghe), Erika Alexander (Cheryl Carter), Joanna Going (Kathleen McDermott; series), Kathleen McNenny (Kathleen McDermott; unaired pilot), Camilo Gallardo (Kim Selby), Daniel Jenkins (Alex Loren), Andrew Lauer (Charlie), Robert Duncan McNeill (Colin Midford).

3132 The Goldbergs. (Series; Comedy; CBS; NBC; DuMont; 1949–1954). Events in the lives of the Goldbergs, a poor Jewish family who are guided through their difficult times by Molly, a warm, compassionate and understanding mother.

Molly is married to Jake, a wedding gown manufacturer, and is the mother of Rosalie and Sammy. They live at 1030 East Tremont Avenue, Apartment 3B in the Bronx, New York and pay $78.00 a month in rent. Also featured are David Romaine, Molly’s uncle, who works with Jake; and Mrs. Bloom, Molly’s long-time friend and neighbor.

The series, based on the radio series of the same title, ran on CBS from January 17, 1949 to June 18, 1951; on NBC from February 4, 1952 to July 14, 1952 (and from July 3, 1953 to September 25, 1953); and on DuMont from April 13, 1954 to October 19, 1954. See the following title also.

Cast: Gertrude Berg (Molly Goldberg), Philip Loeb (Jake Goldberg), Harold J. Stone (Jake Goldberg), Robert H. Harris (Jake Goldberg), Arlene McQuade (Rosalie Goldberg), Larry Robinson (Sammy Goldberg), Tom Taylor (Sammy Goldberg), Eli Mintz (David Romaine), Olga Fabian (Mrs. Bloom).

3133 The Goldbergs. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1955–1956). A continuation of the prior title after its network cancellation. After living many years in the Bronx, New York, Molly Goldberg and her husband, Jake, decide to relocate to Haverville, a small American town, and begin new lives. Accompanying them are their children, Rosalie and Sammy, and Molly’s uncle, David Romaine (who assists Jake in a new wedding gown manufacturing business he establishes). Stories relate the events that befall the family and the wise and caring Molly’s efforts to solve them. The series produced 39 episodes and the series is also known as Molly (the screen title that appears on some episodes while The Goldbergs appears on others). The Goldbergs live at 1021 Central Avenue.

Other Regulars: Daisy and Henry Carey, Molly’s neighbor; Benjamin “Boogie” Romaine, David’s cousin; Simon, Molly’s cousin; Sam, Jake’s uncle; Harold, Molly’s nephew; Bessie, Jake’s cousin; Dora Barnett, Sammy’s fiancée; Carrie Barnett, Dora’s mother.

Cast: Gertrude Berg (Molly Goldberg), Robert H. Harris (Jake Goldberg), Arlene McQuade (Rosalie Goldberg), Tom Taylor (Sammy Goldberg), Eli Mintz (David Romaine), Susan Steel (Daisy Carey), Betty Bendyke (Dora Barnett), Ruth Yorke (Carrie Barnett), Pat Harrington, Jr., (Benjamin Romaine), Jon Lormer (Henry Carey), Reuben Wendorf (Sam), Lou Sorin (Simon), Harvey Lembeck (Harold), Nancy Pollock (Bessie).

3134 The Gold Diggers. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1971). A weekly program of music, songs and light comedy featuring the Gold Diggers (singers and dancers) and a male guest of the week. Greg Garrison is the producer.

The Gold Diggers: Susan Lund, Jackie Chidsey, Michelle Della Fave, Tanya Della Fave, Jimmie Cannon, Loyita Chapel, Lee Crawford, Liz Kelley, Francie Mendenhall, Nancy Reichart, Janice Whitby, Lucy Codham, Barbara Sanders, Karen Cavanaugh, Rebecca Jones. Regulars: Larry Storch, Alice Ghostley, Charles Nelson Reilly, Jackie Vernon, Lonnie Shorr, Barbara Heller, Don Rice, Jennifer Buriner. Male Guests of the Week: Van Johnson, Glenn Ford, Doug McClure, Martin Milner, Hugh O’Brian, John Davidson, Steve Allen, Dom DeLuise, Buddy Hackett, Rosey Grier. Orchestra: Van Alexander.

3135 The Gold Diggers in London. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1970). A summer variety series of music, songs and comedy with the Gold Diggers, a group of beautiful girls who sing and dance. The series, produced in England, ran from July 16, 1970 to September 10, 1970. Norman Campbell is the producer.

Host: Charles Nelson Reilly. The Gold Diggers: Pauline Anthony, Wanda Bailey, Jackie Chidsey, Paula Cinko, Rosetta Cox, Michelle Della Fave, Tara Leigh, Susan Lund, Jimmie Cannon. Regulars: Charles Nelson Reilly, Tommy Tune, Julie Chagrin. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

3136 Golden Gate. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 9/25/81). Events in the lives of the Kingsleys, an influential San Francisco Nob Hill family of newspaper publishers. In the serial-type pilot episode, Jordan, the estranged son, returns home after eight years to help save the family paper, the Bulletin, from financial ruin after its editor, Jordan's father, Thomas, suffers a stroke.

Other Regulars: Jane, Jordan's mother; Natalie, Jordan's sister; Johnny, Jordan's son; Karen, the maid; Claire (sells ads for the paper; determined to make Jordan, who is divorced, her husband); and Richard, the family attorney.

Cast: Perry King (Jordan Kingsley), Jean Simmons (Jane Kingsley), Richard Kiley (Thomas J. Kingsley), Mary Crosby (Natalie Kingsley), Eric Copeland (Johnny Kingsley), Melanie Griffith (Karen), Cheryl Paris (Claire McCartney), Peter Donat (Richard Byrne). Guest Cast: Robyn Douglass (Candy Martin), John Saxon (Monty Sagar), Maggie Blye (Bess McCartney), Tim Thomerson (Frank Nightingale), Jason Evers (Harry Stilwell).

3137 The Golden Girls. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1985–1992). Blanche Devereaux owns a home at 6151 Richmond Street in Miami Beach, Florida. When “the two old biddies from Minnesota” she had been living with suddenly leave, Blanche places a notice on a supermarket bulletin board for two new roommates. At the supermarket, Blanche meets her first new roommate, Rose Nylund, who was evicted from her apartment when a new landlord would not allow her to keep her cat, Mr. Peepers.

Later that day, Dorothy Zbornak became Blanche's second roommate when she answers the ad. Shortly after, Dorothy's mother, Sophia Petrillo, moves in with them when her residence, the Shady Pines Retirement Home, burns down.

Blanche Elizabeth Devereaux, who proudly boasts that her initials spell BED, is totally liberated and the most attractive of the women (all of whom are over 50 years old). She flaunts her sexuality, shows cleavage and is known to have had many affairs. She was born in Atlanta, Georgia, is a Baptist and works in an unnamed museum. The Rusty Anchor is Blanche's favorite bar.

Dorothy, the most outspoken of the women, was born in Brooklyn, New York, and is now a substitute English teacher in the Florida public school system. She was married to Stan Zbornak (her maiden name is Petrillo) for 38 years before they divorced. In the last first-run episode (5/9/92), Dorothy marries Blanche's uncle, Lucas Hollingsworth (Leslie Nielsen) and moves to Atlanta, Georgia, to begin a new life.

Sophia, Dorothy's mother, was born in Sicily and has a part-time job at the Pecos Pete Chow Wagon Diner (later, she works for Meals on Wheels, then as activities director for the Cypress Grove Retirement Home). Sophia calls Dorothy “Pussycat” and “Big Foot.” Sophia, who is over age 80, became somewhat senile as the series progressed.

Rose, the most naive of the women, was born in the strange little farming town of St. Olaf, Minnesota, the “broken hip capital of the Midwest” (“We revere our old people and put them on pedestals, but they fall off and break bones”). Rose's natural father was Brother Martin, a monk. Her mother was Ingrid, a cook in the monastery kitchen. They had an affair, but it ended when Ingrid discovered she was pregnant. She quit her job and later died giving birth to Rose. The baby was placed in a basket with hickory-smoked cheese, beefsteaks and crackers and left on the doorstep of the Lindstrom family, who raised Rose. (In another episode, Rose mentions it was the Gierkleckibiken family.)

Rose attended St. Olaf's Grammar School and the St. Olaf High School. She then attended Rockport Community College (where she was a member of the farmers' sorority, the Alpha Yams) and finally the St. Paul Business School.

Rose married Charlie Nylund (not seen), the owner of a tile grouting business, at St. Olaf's Shepherd's Church. When Charlie died, Rose moved to Florida.

Rose works as the production assistant at WSF-TV, Channel 8, for the consumer affairs program, The Enrique Ross Show. She is later associate producer of Wake Up, Miami (Rose first worked as a waitress at the Fountain Rock Coffee Shop; prior to the series, she was a counselor in an unnamed grief center). Rose is also a Sunshine Volunteer at the Community Medical Center. See also The Golden Palace.

Blanche's Relatives: Sheree North (her sister, Virginia), Billy Jacoby (her grandson, David), Hallie Todd (her niece, Lucy), Murray Hamilton (her father, Curtis [“Big Daddy”] Hollingsworth), Shwan Scheeps and Debra Engle (her married daughter, Rebecca), Monte Markham (her brother, Clayton Hollingsworth), Barbara Babcock (her estranged daughter, Charmayne), George Grizzard (her brother-in-law, Jamie Devereaux; later, her ex-husband, George Devereaux), Alisan Porter (her granddaughter, Melissa).

Rose's Relatives: Polly Holliday (her daughter, Lily), Christina Belford and Lee Garlington (her daughter, Kirsten), Marilyn Jones (her daughter, Bridget), Jeanette Nolan (her mother, Alma Lindstrom), Casey Snander (her cousin, Sven), Bridgette Andersen (her granddaughter, Charley), Don Ameche (her natural father, Brother Martin).

Sophia's Relatives: Bill Dana (her brother, Angelo), Nancy Walker (her sister, Angela).

Flashbacks: Estelle Getty (Sophia at age 50), Lyn Greene (young Dorothy), Sid Melton (Sophia's husband, Salvatore Petrillo), Kyle Heffner (young Salvatore), Bea Arthur (Sophia's mother), Rue McClanahan (Blanche's mother), Richard Tanner (young Stan).

Cast: Rue McClanahan (Blanche Devereaux), Betty White (Rose Nylund), Bea Arthur (Dorothy Zbornak), Estelle Getty (Sophia Petrillo). Theme Vocal: "Thank You for Being a Friend" by Cindy Fee.

3138 The Golden Griffon. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1954). A proposed series about the Golden Griffon, a mysterious figure who battles injustice in 12th-century England.

Cast: William Andrews (The Golden Griffon), Mischa Auer (His aide). Theme Vocal: "The Ballad of the Golden Griffon" by Otto Henning.

3139 The Golden Palace. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1992–1993). A spin-off from the last episode of The Golden Girls. When Dorothy leaves Rose, Blanche and Sophia after marrying Blanche's uncle, Blanche, Rose and Sophia start to rethink their future and believe they need a source of income other than their social security checks. They pool their resources and purchase the Golden Palace, a 42-room hotel in Miami, as a means of helping them through their golden years (it was not mentioned how they were able to raise the considerable amount of money the hotel cost, especially since they couldn't even afford $10,000 to have the roof in the house in which they live replaced).

Blanche assumes the role of manager (figuring she has the most business experience); Rose, who feels she has great cleaning abilities, becomes the housekeeper; and Sophia, who is in her eighties, becomes the kitchen manager. They also hire some help. Chuy Castillos is their Mexican chef. He attended the Fashion Institute of Technology and wanted to make a statement in men's fashions, but drew number seven in the 1969 Vietnam War lottery draft and went into the army — where he learned how to cook. Roland Wilson becomes Blanche's assistant and helps her run the everyday operations of the hotel. He worked previously at Disney World as one of the Seven Dwarfs (Sneezy). Stories follow Blanche, Rose and Sophia as they struggle to run their hotel.

Cast: Rue McClanahan (Blanche Devereaux), Betty White (Rose Nylund), Estelle Getty (Sophia Petrillo), Cheech Marin (Chuy Castillos), Don Cheadle (Roland Wilson).

3140 Golden Voyage. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1968). Filmed explorations, narrated by the traveler who experienced them, to areas around the world. Produced locally in Los Angeles from 1955 to 1968 (at which time the series was placed in syndication).

Host: Jack Douglas.

3141 Golden Windows. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1954). The story of Juliet Goodwin, an aspiring singer from Maine, as she struggles to further her career in New York City. The series ran from July 5, 1954 to September 28, 1954.

3142 Golden Years. (Series; Thriller; CBS; 1991). Harlan Williams works for Falcon Plains Agricultural Farms. He is 70 years old and a third level janitor. One day Dr. Todhunter (Bill Raymond), a scientist at the plant, begins an experiment on a green substance called K-ON-3 (a lethal biological rejuvenation substance). When Todhunter's experiment goes awry and a warning signal sounds, Harlan rushes to the lab. An explosion from inside the lab tears through the door and douses Harlan with K-ON-3. At first Harlan is apparently unaffected by the substance. But, as the days pass he begins to grow younger. The six-episode program, created by Stephen King, has no ending as it charts Harlan's adventures as he experiences the various changes in his life. David Bowe performs the theme, "The Golden Years."

Cast: Keith Szarabajka (Harlan Williams), Frances Sternhagen (Gina Williams; his wife).

3143 Goldie. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1959–1960). The alternate title for The Betty Hutton Show. See this title for information.

3144 Goldie and the Bears. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/26/85). Following the death of Red Hawkins, the beloved coach of the Chicago Bears football team, three team members (Mac, Rhino and Walker) team with Red's daughter, Goldie, a private detective who operates Hawkins Investigations. The unsold series was to relate their case investigations. The pilot episode relates their efforts to solve the mysterious death of a toy inventor.

Cast: Stephanie Faracy (Goldie Hawkins), Terry "Hulk" Hogan (Mac MacKenna), Ben Davidson (Thomas "Rhino" Rhiner), Julius J. Carry III (Walker Johnson). Guest Cast: William Prince (Paul Ellison), Dorothy Fielding (Caroline Morse), Mark Scheider (Nick Taylor), Jerry Houser (Brandt Hillman), Rhoda Gemignani (Dorothy), Annie O'Neill (Judy).

3145 Goldie and the Boxer. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 12/30/79). Goldie Kellog is a pretty ten-year-old girl and the daughter of a famous boxer. When her father dies, Goldie becomes friends with Joe Gallagher, a struggling fighter who was her father's sparring partner. Goldie soon becomes Joe's manager and the unsold series was to chart their adventures as Goldie brings Joe from obscurity to the championship. See the following title also.

Cast: O.J. Simpson (Joe Gallagher), Melissa Michaelsen (Goldie Kellog), Phil Silvers (Wally, Joe's trainer). Guest Cast: Vincent Gardenia (Sam Diamond), Madlyn Rhue (Marsha Miller), Gordon Jump (Alex Miller), Ned Glass (Al Levinsky), Anzette Chase (Anne Bennington), Judy Landers (Bonnie Dare), Fran Ryan (Ethel).

Other Regulars: Wally, Joe's trainer; and Babe and Cuddles, Wally's show business cousins.

Cast: O.J. Simpson (Joe Gallagher), Melissa Michaelsen (Goldie Kellog), Jack Gilford (Wally), Sheila MacRae (Cuddles), Stubby Kaye (Babe). Guest Cast: Roger Bowen (Scott Durkin), Reb Brown (Brian Kilpatrick), James Gregory (Leo Hackett), Robert Mandan (Jack Fountain), Lynne Moody (Melanie Foster), Bill Williams (Cowboy Bob).

3147 Goldie Gold and Action Jack. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1981–1982). Goldie Gold is a gorgeous girl who is not only the world's richest teenager, but also the editor of her own newspaper, The Gold Street Journal. Jack Travis is her chief reporter, a man who risks his life to find the truth. Stories relate their adventures as they team to solve crimes with the help of sophisticated gadgetry.

Voice Cast Nellie Bellflower (Goldie Gold), Booker Bradshaw (Jack Travis), Henry Corden, Robert Ridgely.

3148 Gomer Pyle, USMC. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1964–1969). Gomer Pyle is a naive gas station attendant at Wally's Filling Station in Mayberry, North Carolina. When he learns from his draft board that he is expected to serve a term of military duty, he joins the U.S. Marines.

Gomer first reported to Camp Wilson at the Wilmington Base in North Carolina. Here he first meets his superior, Vincent ("Vince") Carter, the hot-headed gunnery sergeant — "It will do you well to remember that name because it is the only name that is going to matter from now on."

After basic training, Private Gomer Pyle is transferred to Camp Henderson in Los Angeles, where he becomes a member of the Second Platoon, B Company; his superior again becomes Sergeant Carter, who is also transferred to head B Company. Stories focus on the problems Gomer causes when he unconsciously breaks from the rules of the system and complicates matters; and on Carter's relentless efforts to resolve the chaos that results from Gomer's antics.

"I can't hear you!" is the catchphrase Carter uses when he asks his squad something and they fail to reply in a loud enough voice. "Shazam" and "Golly" are Gomer's remarks when something fascinates him; his greeting is "Hey" (for example, "Tell the captain Gomer says hey").

Gomer was promoted to Private First Class before the series, a spin-off from The Andy Griffith Show, ended.

Lou Ann Poovie is Gomer's girlfriend, a nightclub singer at the Blue Bird Café. Bunny Olsen is Vince's patient girlfriend; other members of B Company are privates Duke Slater and Frankie Lombardi. Corporal Charles Boyle is Carter's aide; Colonel Edward Gray is the commanding officer; Lou Ann's former boyfriend was Monroe Efid (Med Flory).

Relatives: George Lindsey (Gomer's cousin, Goober Pyle), Norris Goff (Grandpa Pyle), Enid Markey (Grandma Pyle), Kathleen Freeman (Vince's mother, Mrs. Carter), Marlyn Mason (Vince's sister, Bebe Carter), Reva Rose (Vince's sister, Muriel Carter), Tol Avery (Lou Ann's father, "Pop" Poovie), Suzanne Benoit (the colonel's daughter, Janice Gray), Bobby Rhea (the colonel's nephew, Danny Gray). Theme: "Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C.," by Earle Hagen.

Cast: Jim Nabors (Gomer Pyle), Frank Sutton (Vince Carter), Ronnie Schell (Pvt. Duke Slater), Ted Bessell (Pvt. Frankie Lombardi), Barbara Stuart (Bunny Olsen), Allan Melvin (Sgt. Charles Hacker), Roy Stuart (Cpl. Charles Boyle), Elizabeth MacRae (Lou Anne Poovie), Forrest Compton (Col. Edward Gray), William Christopher (Pvt. Hummel).

3149 The Gong Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1976–1978). Three celebrity judges rate the performances of undiscovered talent. Unsatisfactory acts are stopped in mid performance by a celebrity who sounds a large gong. Completed Performance acts are rated on a scale from 1 to 10. The highest scoring player is the winner and receives a trophy and a check for $516.32.

While Chuck Barris is known as the series host, John Barbour hosted the original first five episodes of the series that have never aired. The popularity of the daytime series prompted a prime time syndicated version in 1976 with Gary Owens then Chuck Barris hosting. Siv Aberg assisted and Johnny Jacobs did the announcing. Chuck Barris, Chris Bearde and Gene Banks are the producers.

Host: Chuck Barris. Assistant: Siv Aberg. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs. Music: Milton DeLugg.

3150 The Gong Show. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). A revised version of the 1976 NBC series of the same title. See the prior title for information regarding the format.

Host: Don Bleu.

3151 Goober and the Ghost Chasers. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1973–1975). Ted, Tina and Gillie are the staff members of Ghost Chasers magazine (originally called The Ghostly Review). Assisted by Goober, a dog who is able to become invisible when he is scared, they attempt to expose the frauds that perpetrate ghostly happenings. Episodes also feature The Partridge Family kids (Laurie, Danny, Chris and Tracy) as their occasional assistants.

Voice Cast: Paul Winchell (Goober), Jerry Dexter (Ted), Jo Ann Harris (Tina), Ronnie Schell (Gillie), Susan Dey (Laurie), Suzanne Crough (Tracy), Danny Bonaduce (Danny), Brian Forster (Chris).

3152 Goober and the Truckers' Paradise. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/17/78). A proposed spin-off from The Andy Griffith Show in which the character of Goober Pyle, a garage mechanic, was first introduced. In the pilot episode, Goober moves to a small town outside of Atlanta where he and his sister, Pearl, open a truck stop cafe. Their misadventures as they attempt to remain solvent were to be the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Charlene, the waitress; Becky Pyle, Goober's niece; and Toni Pyle, Goober's younger sister.

Cast: George Lindsey (Goober Pyle), Leigh French (Pearl Pyle), Sandie Newton (Charlene), Audrey Landers (Becky Pyle), Lindsay Bloom (Toni Pyle). Guest Cast: John Chappell (Deputy Eagle Keyes), Bill Medley (Bible Bill), Brion James (T-Bone), Bruce Fisher (Catfish), Mickey Jones (Troll), Robert Towers (Elwood). Theme Vocal: "Goober and the Truckers' Paradise" by Ray Stevens.

3153 Good Advice. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993–1994). Marriage counselors Susan DeRuzza and Jack Harold share adjoining offices (3rd floor) at the Professional Office Building in Los Angeles.

Susan believes in marriage although she is separated from her husband, Joey, whom she caught cheating on her. She has a Ph.D. in psychology and a Masters degree in family counseling. She wrote the book Giving and Forgiving and appeared on talk shows such as Oprah and Donahue. Susan deals in feelings and is trying to patch up her marriage and care for her son Michael, who attends the Montana Avenue Elementary School.

Jack is constantly harassed by Susan for stealing her clients to decide who gets what while Jack complains that Susan steals his clients to get them back together again. Jack has a gambling problem and as a child slept with his "blue blankie."

Paige Anderson is Susan's sister who works as the third floor receptionist. Her prior Seattle business, Salmon in a Cup, folded (as did her computer chip jewelry business). She has her own public access TV talk show called Paige (which costs her $68.50 to produce) and is a member of the Independent Women's Association.

Rounding out the cast is Artie Cohen, a chiropractor with an office on the third floor. He was born in Sheeps Head Bay, Brooklyn (New York) and Susan considers Artie "The Jewish uncle I never had." He frequents the Cuchina, the Italian restaurant in the lobby.

Other Regulars: Henriette, Susan's housekeeper; Dooley and Jack, Sr., Jack's parents; Jackie, Artie's daughter; Lynn Casey, Susan and Jack's receptionist (1993); Ronnie Cohen, Artie's mother, the receptionist (1994); and Joey DeRuzza, Susan's ex-husband.

Cast: Treat Williams (Jack Harold), Shelley Long (Susan DeRuzza), Teri Garr (Paige Anderson), George Wyner (Artie Cohen), Ross Malinger (Michael Druzza), Anne Mears (Dooley Harold), Dick O'Neill (Jack Harold, Sr.), Henriette Mantell (Henriette Campbell), Kiersten Warren (Lynn Casey), Estelle Harris (Ronnie Cohen), Anndi McAfee (Jackie Cohen), Chris McDonald (Joey DeRuzza; 1993), Peter Onorati (Joey DeRuzza; 1994), Lightfield Lewis (Sean).

3154 Good and Evil. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1991). Charlotte Sandler Cosmetics is a large, Washington, D.C.-based company owned by cosmetics queen Charlotte Sandler and run by her two opposite-in-personality daughters, Denise Sandler and Genevieve ("Genny") Sandler.

Denise is a schemer and, as Charlotte calls her, "a bitch." Denise believes her mother favors Genny. ("She was cuter," Charlotte tells Denise. "You had this oozing skin condition. We just didn't want to touch you." Denise was sent to a boarding school in Peru, and the only thing she was good at was being bad.) She is now plotting to take control of the company from her mother, who is 65 years old but won't retire until she looks 65. Denise is the mother of David, who attends the Pudget Academy for Boys.

Denise was married to Ronald Ethan "who died in a suspicious plunge off Mount Everest four years ago" (Denise pushed him). He was found at the bottom of the mountain, thawed out and returned to "his loving wife" (who now seeks to finish him off for good).

Genny is a brilliant biochemist and dedicated to her job. She won't experiment on animals; she tests her experiments on herself (which produce various side effects, like delusions and personality changes). Genny is the mother of a beautiful teenage girl named Caroline. Two years ago, Genny's husband, Jonathan, died; Caroline suffered a traumatic shock as a result and is now unable to speak. George Aliceson Tipton composed "The Good and Evil Theme."

Cast: Marian Seldes (Charlotte Sandler), Teri Garr (Denise Sandler), Margaret Whitton (Genny Sandler), Seth Green (David), Marius Weyers (Ronald Ethan), Brooke Theiss (Caroline).

3155 Good Company. (Series; Interview; ABC; 1967). The program features celebrity interviews via remote pickup with the host, attorney F. Lee Bailey, seated in a studio and guests being interviewed from their homes. The series ran from September 7, 1967 to December 21, 1967.

Host: F. Lee Bailey.

3156 Good Company. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996). The Blanten, Booker and Hayden World Wide Advertising Agency on Madison Avenue in New York City is the setting. It is here that Will Hennessy, the agency's art director, works and dreams of becoming an artist (he is looking forward to getting in the Yale School of Arts). Will works with Liza, Dale, Jody and Jack and stories follow their antics as they prepare ads for clients.

Other Regulars: Bobby McDermott, the CEO and Zoe Hellstrom, Bobby's second in command, the single mother of an infant.

Cast: Jon Tenney (Will Hennessy), Lauren Graham (Liz Gibson), Terry Kiser (Bobby McDermott), Wendie Malick (Zoe Hellstrom), Seymour Cassel (Jack O'Shea), Jason Beghe (Ron Nash), Timothy Fall (Jody), Elizabeth Anne Smith (Dale), Winifred Freeman (Nancy).

3157 Good Day! (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1976). A daily program of music and talk from Boston. Bruce Marson is the producer.

Hostess: Janet Langhart. Host: John Willis. Orchestra: Dave Witney.

3158 Good Grief. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1990–1991). Sincerity Mortuary in the town of Dacron, the sixty-third largest city in Ohio, is owned by the Pepper family: Debbie and her brother, Warren. Assisting the conservative Warren in running the business is Ernie Lapidus, Debbie's vile, despicable and simply dishonest husband.

Sincerity Mortuary has been in business for 60 years; it has fallen on hard times, and Ernie's underhanded attempts to make the business profitable again are the focal point of the series.

Debbie is a simple girl who expects nothing special from life; she believes in helping others and is totally dedicated to running the family business in the honest tradition set by her parents. She is often unaware of Ernie's devious attempts to turn a profit.

Warren is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and lives in a room that is an exact duplicate of Ralph and Alice's apartment on The Honeyymooners. His hobby is macaroni art.

Ernie calls Debbie "my little orange blossom," and their favorite restaurant is Swordfish, Swordfish, Swordfish; their favorite fast food takeout is chicken from Mr. Cluck. Ernie has a past (and it is a matter of public record in a number of other states; for instance, he was Ernie Love, the Evangelist, in Chicago).

Ringo Prowley is a jack of all trades who raised Ernie after his father's death (he also taught Ernie the tricks of the trade); Raoul is Ernie's non-speaking flunky; he does anything Ernie requests at a moment's notice. Steve Nelson sings the theme, "Celebrate Life."

Cast: Wendy Schaal (Debbie Pepper), Joel Brooks (Warren Pepper), Howie Mandel (Ernie Lapidus), Tom Poston (Ringo Prowley), Sheldon Feldner (Raoul).

3159 The Good Guys. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1968–1970). Rufus Butterworth and Bert Gramus, friends since they were infants, did everything together. When Bert, who is tall, joined the high school basketball team, Rufus, who is much shorter, was there at his side. When Rufus joined the school football team, Bert was there for him. When the series begins, Bert is married to the former Claudia Arsdale, and together they run Bert's Place, a Los Angeles diner; Rufus is a bachelor and owner of a taxi cab. In second season episodes, Rufus sells his cab and joins Bert as his partner when Bert moves the diner to the beach. Since childhood, through school and the army, Bert and Rufus have only one dream: to make it big. Right now they have only one thing going for them: failure.

Bert and Claudia have been married for ten years. Claudia is studying to become a teacher at UCLA; when Claudia agrees with him on a matter, Bert calls her "a good guy."

Arnold Schreck (William Daniels), now a wealthy used-car salesman, was the man Claudia had been dating before Bert came along.

Bert and Claudia have been the owners of Bert's Place for five and one-half years when the series begins. In first season episodes, Bert's competition was D.W. Watson, the owner of the Mother Watson diner chain. Big Tom, the truck driver, was Rufus's friend in several episodes. Theme: "Two Good Guys," by Jay Livingston, Ray Evans and Jerry Fielding.

Cast: Bob Denver (Rufus Butterworth), Herb Edelman (Bert Gramus), Joyce Van Patten (Claudia Gramus), Liam Dunn (D.W. Watson), Alan Hale, Jr. (Big Tom), Jim Backus (Henry Arsdale, Claudia's father).

3160 Good Heavens. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1976). Mr. Angel is a celestial messenger who is sent to earth to fulfill fantasies by granting deserving individuals one wish. The results of that wish are depicted in comedy accented stories that feature a different cast each week.

Cast: Carl Reiner (Mr. Angel).

3161 The Good Life. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1971–1972). "In the beginning, God created the Earth. Then God created man and woman. So far so good. Then man got into the act, and he created trouble. He created houses and cars and TV sets and waffle irons, washing machines, etc., etc., etc. And the Lord said unto man, 'Dummy, you better create a loan company because you can't pay for all this stuff.' But one man found a better way." The man is Albert ("Al") Miller, a stockbroker plagued by life's endless problems — from a house in need of repair to numerous unpaid bills. He gets an idea about how to better life for himself and his wife, Jane, when their car breaks down and they are befriended by a butler. After seeing the mansion and the style in which the butler lives, Al thinks, "Maybe there is a better way."

Al places a newspaper ad that reads "Couple for hire. Experienced husband and wife seek position with a pleasant family in country setting. P.O. Box 444." Many requests are received, but Jane is still reluctant: "Honey, I don't even like to do my own housework; now I'm going to do someone else's?" Al assures Jane that she can fake it; he poses as a butler, while Jane pretends to be a cook.

At 332 Ridgeway Drive, Al and Jane find employment with Charles Dutton, the wealthy head of Dutton Industries. Charles, who is "totally committed to a life of decadence," is impressed by Jane's legs (she is wearing a miniskirt) and hires them based on that. Al quits his job and sells their house ("Honey," he says, "we lost only $3,000"). They now struggle to maintain their cover, attend household duties, and live the good life. "I love it," Al says, "because we don't own it. This good life is going to take some getting used to."

Kate Reid (pilot) and Hermione Baddeley played Charles's sister, Grace Dutton; and Danny Goldman was Charles's son, Nick Dutton ("Offspring from my third marriage; good breeding, bad marriage"). Sacha Distel performs the theme, "The Good Life."

Cast: Larry Hagman (Al Miller), Donna Mills (Jane Miller), David Wayne (Charles Dutton), Kate Reed (Grace Dutton; pilot), Hermoine Baddeley (Grace Dutton; series), Danny Goldman (Nick Dutton).

3162 The Good Life. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994). John Bowman is the warehouse manager for Honest Abe Security Products in Chicago. He is married to Maureen and they are the parents of Melissa, Paul and Bob. John is a man who would like to live in a world without hassle. Unfortunately, his job, his wife and his kids provide all the problems he wishes he could avoid. Stories follow the events in John's life as he strives to find — and live the good life.

Maureen is a playwright and director of the local community theater (she wrote the play "The Life Cycle of Womanhood"). Twelve-year-old Melissa is in the sixth grade. Her favorite musical group is the Grateful Dead. Her first word as a baby was "scram" and at the age of five she believed an evil clown lived under her bed. Because of her gorgeous looks, she got a job as a model for Taggart Clothing Stores as "The Tweeners Girl" ('not yet a teen, still a child').

Other Regulars: Drew Clark, the co-manager of Abe Security Products; Tommy Bartlett, John's co-worker; and Jennifer, Melissa's friend.

Cast: John Caponera (John Bowman), Eve Gordon (Maureen Bowman), Shay Aster (Melissa Bowman), Jake Patellis (Paul Bowman), Justin Berfield (Bob Bowman), Drew Carey (Drew Clark), Monty Hoffman (Tommy Bartlett), Taylor Fry (Jennifer).

3163 Good Morning, Miami. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2002–2004). Good Morning, Miami is a low rated talk show on WWEN-TV, Channel 11 in Miami. Jake Silver, the executive producer, was brought in from Boston to improve the show's ratings. Gavin Stone, a recovering alcoholic, is the show's host; Lucia Rojas-Klein was Frank's original co-host; she was replaced by Joni. Sister Brenda Trogman, a Catholic nun with an attitude, is the show's weather girl. Dylan Messinger is the show's hairstylist; Penelope "Penny" Barnes Barrington is the assistant to station manager Frank Alfano. Victoria Hill is the vice president for the Sun Bright Media Group, the owners of WWEN.

Jake lives with his grandmother, Claire Arnold, a glamorous woman who tells people she is 49 years old and refuses to be called a grandmother (She feels she is too young). Gavin considers makeup "Man Power." Vodka was his favorite drink and it was his addiction to it that got him fired from his post as a network anchor. He cleaned up his act and he is now starting over. Lucia refuses to read the books of guests and fakes interviews. She is a Latino and first worked on Channel 48 as "The Lotto Girl" (calling the winning numbers). She dresses like a hooker and is married to Bert Klein, a purse tycoon.

Frank has a tendency to get emotional and blames it on his allergies — "Dam ragweed." He also blames Penny for everything that goes wrong. Sister Brenda is also a Jill of all trades and fixes things around the station. Penny attended a boarding school in Switzerland and comes from a rich family (they produce zippers). Victoria attended Sanford Business School and like Frank, she is a recovering alcoholic.

Dylan, who dated Jake, worked at the Pancake House while at college. She also produces "The Inspirational Story" segment of the show. Jake is a graduate of the Columbia School of Journalism. The gorgeous but totally dedicated to work Victoria Hill becomes the group's superior in later episodes.

Stories follow the antics of the cast and crew of Good Morning, Miami as they attempt to put on a show.

Cast: Mark Feuerstein (Jake Silver), Ashley Williams (Dylan Messinger), Matt Lescher (Gavin Stone), Tessie Santiago (Lucia Rojas-Klein), Jere Burns (Frank Alfano), Constance Zimmer (Penny Barnes Barrington), Tiffani-Amber Thiessen (Victoria Hill), Jillian Barberie (Joni), Brooke Dillman (Sister Brenda Trogman), Suzanne Pleshette (Claire Arnold), Carrie Fisher (Judy Silver; Jake's mother).

3164 Good Morning, Miss Bliss. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/11/87). The pilot film for what would eventually become the hit NBC series Saved by the Bell. Comical events in the lives of the students and faculty of an unnamed grammar school in Indianapolis. Carrie Bliss-Davis, who teaches sixth grade is the featured teacher. Gerald Belding is the principal; Lonnie Maple, his assistant principal; and Tina Paladrino, a teacher who is also Carrie's best friend. The students are Janet, Wendy, Bradley, Georgie, Bobby and Adam. Also featured was Charlie Davis, Carrie's husband.

In the pilot episode, Carrie tries to help a troubled student. Hayley Mills (Carrie) recreated her role for a 1988 Disney Channel version of the series but was dropped when NBC changed the title to Saved by the Bell in 1989.

Cast: Hayley Mills (Carrie Bliss-Davis), Oliver Clark (Gerald Belding), Julie Ronnie (Lonnie Maple), Maria O'Brien (Tina Paladrino), Charles Siebert (Charlie Davis), Sharon Jo Martin (Janet Hillyard), Samantha Mills (Wendy), Gabriel Damon (Bradley), Jaleel White (Bobby Wilson), Matt Shakman (Georgie), Brian Austin Green (Adam).

3165 Good Morning, Miss Bliss. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 1988–1989). Carrie Bliss is an eighth-grade schoolteacher at J.F.K. Junior High School in Indianapolis, Indiana. Richard Belding is the principal; featured students are Zack Morris, Lisa Turtle, Samuel "Screech" Powers, Nicole "Nikki" Coleman and Mikey Gonzales. Featured teachers are Mylo Williams and Tina Paladrino.

Carrie, a widow, has been teaching history for 11 years. She cares about her students ("Their problems are my problems") and uses innovative teaching methods that sometimes backfire. Her classes are held in Room 103. She was voted Indiana Teacher of the Year by School Days magazine.

Zack is the schemer and always trying to impress girls. Lisa is the fashion-conscious student who wears makeup to school without her parents' knowledge. Nikki, the crusader of the group, stands up for what she believes in, and is also a pitcher on the school's baseball team. Lisa is trying to bring out Nikki's feminine side and make her into a girl ("But it isn't an easy job"). Screech, the nerd, is glue monitor ("Believe me, it's not as glamorous as it sounds") and has two pet mice (Spin and Marty).

The Cosmos is the after-school hangout. The episodes have been re-titled Saved by the Bell (see entry) for syndication and feature an older Zack telling viewers that "this episode is from our junior high days."

Cast: Hayley Mills (Carrie Bliss), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding), Mark-Paul Gosselaar (Zack Morris), Lark Voorhies (Lisa Turtle), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers), Heather Hopper (Nikki Coleman), Max Battimo (Mikey Gonzales), Joan Ryan (Tina Paladrino), T.K. Carter (Mylo Williams). Theme: "These Are the Best of Times" by Charles Fox, Mark Meuller.

3166 Good Morning, World. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1967–1968). The Lewis and Clark Show is an early morning (6:00–10:00 A.M.) comedy, music and news program on an unidentified radio station in Los Angeles. David ("Dave") Lewis, who is married (to Linda), and Lawrence ("Larry") Clark, who is single and a ladies' man, are the hosts, longtime friends who have been working together for years.

Dave and Larry first worked together at a radio station in Hawaii. It was here that Dave met Linda, the station's receptionist. It was also here that Rolland B. Hutton, Jr., a Los Angeles radio station owner, heard Dave and Larry's show and hired them for his station (the series setting).

Dave is relaxed and easy going; Larry is energetic and always looking for a good time. Dave and Larry broadcast from Studio B and take turns buying their morning doughnuts at Mrs. Jelly Donuts. Larry's favorite record is "Pipati Papa," by Billy and the Bing Bongs. It is also a record he has had to replace many times because Rolland hates it, Larry, and all rock and roll music.

Rolland B. Hutton, Jr., is mentioned as the general manager of the station in some episodes. He hopes to be a legend in his own time and once performed in vaudeville as Billy Jones in 1932. He met his wife that year. She was wealthy and her family disapproved of actors, so he married her and gave up show business.

Sandy Kramer is Dave and Linda's pretty, energetic upstairs neighbor. She is Larry's girlfriend and a professional dancer ("She has the craziest legs in town," Larry says). She has a very slender waist, is "not too busty or hippy" and can eat a nine course meal without gaining an ounce. She is very dedicated to Larry despite the fact that he has eyes for other girls.

Captain Eddie is the unseen station traffic reporter; and "Big" Jack Jackson is the always intoxicated newscaster ("When you're tuned to Jack Jackson, you're tuned to the truth") and host of The 5 O'clock Platter Party (a show Dave and Larry sometimes host when Jack can't be sobered up). Vinnie is the engineer seen in the control booth for The Lewis and Clark Show.

Relatives: Byron Morrow (Linda's father), Jackie Joseph (Dave's cousin, "Bibian"; her real name is Vivian, but when she was young she couldn't pronounce Vivian so it came out “Bibian”; she calls David “Dabid”). Theme: “Good Morning, World,” by Dave Grusin.

Cast: Joby Baker (Dave Lewis), Ronnie Schell (Larry Clark), Julie Parrish (Linda Lewis), Billy DeWolfe (Rolland B. Hutton, Jr.), Goldie Hawn (Sandy Kramer), Burt Taylor (Vinnie), Gene Klavin (Big Jack Jackson).

3167 Good Neighbors. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1980). Barbara and Tom Good are a British couple who abandon their corporate rat race to live off the land (on a small plot of land in Surbeton, England). Episodes depict their struggles to be totally self-sufficient. Produced in England in 1975.

Other Regulars: Margot Ledbetter, their wealthy neighbor; Jeremy, her husband; Mrs. Weaver, the Good’s other neighbor. Tom worked as a designer for T.J. Plastics.

Cast: Felicity Kendal (Barbara Good), Richard Briers (Tom Good), Penelope Keith (Margot Ledbetter), Paul Eddington (Jeremy Ledbetter), Charmain May (Mrs. Weaver).

3168 Good News. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1997–1998). David Randolph is a young pastor who has been assigned to the Church of Life as a temporary replacement for its ailing minister. David, however, fails to make a good first impression as the old-fashioned thinking congregation is reluctant to accept his progressive ideas. His one ally is Vera, the church secretary who believes his ideas are just what the church needs to move into modern times. Stories follow David as he, with Vera’s guidance, tries to settle into the role of pastor while at the same time solve the many issues facing the church and its congregation — most of which are not covered in The Good Book.

Mrs. Dixon is a member of the church council who also works as the rectory cook; Cassie is the outspoken member of the church’s youth group; Little T is the church janitor (and choir member); Mona Phillips is youth center director.

Cast: David Ramsey (David Randolph), Rose Jackson (Vera Hudson), Tracey Cherelle Jones (Cassie), Alexia Robinson (Mona Phillips), Roz Ryan (Mrs. Dixon), Guy Torry (Little T), Jazsmin Lewis (Venita Stansbury).

3169 Good Ol’ Boys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/7/79). Nashville was the setting for a proposed series about Traveler and Cooter, two hopeful country and western music stars marking time as vending machine maintenance men. Other Regulars: Mary, Traveler’s girlfriend; Isaac, their employer; and Forklift, a co-worker.

Cast: Jerry Reed (Traveler), Lane Caudell (Cooter), Mel Stewart (Isaac), Linda Thompson (Mary), Dennis Harrison (Forklift). Theme Vocal: “Good Ol’ Boys” by Jerry Reed.

3170 The Good Old Days. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/11/66). A proposed series set in prehistoric times that tells the story of Rok, a young caveman seeking a life of peace and quiet away from his nagging mother and father. In the pilot episode, Rok sets out to find his own cave and falls in love with a beautiful cave girl (Pantha).

Cast: Dwayne Hickman (Rok), Kathleen Freeman (Mommy), Ned Glass (Daddy), Chris Noel (Pantha), Beverly Adams (Pretty cave girl), Dean Moray (Kid), Jacques Aubuchon (Soc), Dodo Denney (Ugh), Joe Bova (Kook), Bruce Yarnell (Slag), Charles Horvath (Brute).

3171 Good Penny. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/1/77). Therapy group humor was the premise of Good Penny, an unsold series about an emotionally disturbed woman (Penny) who finds comfort from a psychiatrist (Dr. Frosman) and his outlandish patients (Al, Pauline, Jerry, Herb and Mr. Glazer). In the pilot episode, Penny joins the group for the first time after her husband deserts her.

Cast: Renee Taylor (Penny), Scott Brady (Al), Gloria LeRoy (Pauline), Carmine Caridi (Jerry), Roger Bowen (Dr. Frosman), Bobby Alto (Herb), Fredric Franklyn (Mr. Glazer), Lila Teigh (Frosman’s receptionist).

3172 Good Sports. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1991). Gayle Roberts and “Downtown” Bobby Tannen are the co-anchors of Sports Central, an information program for the Rappaport Broadcasting System’s ASCN (All Sports Cable Network).

Gayle, a supermodel, appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated magazine. She had a dream of becoming a sports journalist; R.J. Rappaport, the owner of the network, gave her a chance. Gayle’s birth name is Gayle Gordon. She changed it to avoid confusion with Lucille Ball’s longtime sidekick, Gale Gordon. Her good looks and girl-next-door aura have earned her the title “The Doris Day of the Sports World.”

Bobby, now 42 years old, was the number one draft pick from the University of Miami. He became a recording star (“Downtown” Bobby Tannen) and released his own album (Downtown Sings Downtown and Other Chart Busters — Including the Hit Single, Wichita Lineman).

Two years later he quit football to manage the career of his new wife, singer-stripper Yvonne Pomplona (Sherie Rose). Three weeks later, Bobby, saddened by his divorce, made a comeback with the L.A. Rams. His new career was cut short when he punched a reporter; he was imprisoned shortly after when he disagreed with a judge about his tax bill.

Bobby then joined the Oakland Raiders and wrote the tell-all book Panty Raiders. When Lyle Alzado read the book, “he broke Bobby’s body and tore his face off.” Bobby next appeared in bandages on the cover of Look magazine with the headline "Bye Bye Bobby." He then worked as a delivery boy for the Friends of Pizza before R.J. hired him (Bobby got the job after the former anchor, Stu Ramsey [Arthur Burghardt], had a heart attack on the air). Gayle and Bobby are also hosts of the interview show Sports Chat and of Sports Brief (updates) for Sports Central. In the opening theme, the credits read "Farrah Fawcett vs. Ryan O'Neal."

R.J. runs the station like a military general (he attended Culver Military Academy and Amherst College). He also runs Rap-Ha-Port (the 24 hour comedy channel). He calls his assistant, John McKinney, his "yes man" ("I need my Mac"); he and R.J. had a morning radio show called Mac and Rap in the Morning.

Missy Van Johnson is a field reporter for Sports Central. She is a former Women's Pro Am golf champion and always miserable ("I'm a skinny ex-golfer whose goal in life is to be abused by men").

Relatives: Lois Smith (Bobby's mother), Howard Keel (Gayle's father, Sonny Gordon; he calls Gayle "Angel"). Theme: "Good Sports," vocal by Al Green.

Cast: Farrah Fawcett (Gayle Roberts), Ryan O'Neal (Bobby Tannen), Lane Smith (R.J. Rappaport), Christine Dunford (Missy Van Johnson), Brian Doyle-Murray (John McKinney).

3173 Good Time Harry. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1980). Events in the life of Harry Jenkins, ace sportswriter for the San Francisco Sentinel, and an accomplished womanizer who often confuses sport and play. In later episodes, the paper is changed to the San Francisco Journal.

Other Regulars: Jimmy, the sports editor; Carol, a sportswriter; Billie, Harry's girlfriend; Sally, Jimmy's secretary; Lenny, the bartender at Danny's, Harry's hangout; Stan, Harry's neighbor; Carmine, Billie's ex-husband; and Debbie, Billie's daughter.

Cast: Ted Bessell (Harry Jenkins), Eugene Roche (Jimmy Hughes), Marcia Strassman (Carol Younger), Jesse Welles (Billie Howard), Ruth Manning (Sally), Richard Karron (Lenny), Barry Gordon (Stan), Dan Hedaya (Carmine Howard), Kyle Richards (Debbie Howard). Theme Vocal: "Wild About Harry" by Norman Brooks.

3174 Good Times. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1974–1979). A spin-off from Maude. The Evanses (parents James and Florida, and their children, J.J., Thelma and Michael) are a poor black family struggling for survival during the bad times of the 1970s. Their rent is $104.50 a month, and they live in Apartment 17C of the Cabrini Housing Project at 963 North Gilbert in Chicago; their address is also given as 763 North Gilbert.

James, the father, is a totally dedicated husband to Florida and a loving but stern father to his children. He takes what work he can get and usually holds down several jobs at a time. James later enrolls in trade school.

Florida, nicknamed "Pookie Poo" as a child, is a very caring mother who is struggling to give her children the best life she and James can provide for them. She is very dedicated to James (as he is to her) and, in a dramatic moment, became a widow when James, hoping for a better job in Mississippi, was killed in a car accident (episode of 9/22/76). To support her family, she found employment as a school bus driver (for the Roadway Bus Company).

J.J. (James Jr.) is a ladies' man who considers himself the "Ebony Prince." He is a hopeful artist who later works as an art director for the Dynamite Greeting Card Company (in first season episodes, J.J. was a delivery boy for the Chicken Shack fast food store). J.J.'s catchphrase is "Dyn-O-Mite," and he hides his money "in that sock" in his dresser drawer.

Thelma, the middle child, was born on June 15, 1957, and like J.J. attends an unnamed high school. While J.J. sees Thelma as having "a face whose mold could make gorilla cookies" (Thelma sees J.J. as a "Beanpole"), Thelma is actually a very attractive girl with aspirations of becoming an actress. She attends classes at the Community Workshop and marries her boyfriend, Keith Anderson (a former football player who now drives a cab for the Windy City Cab Company).

Michael, the smartest of the children, attends Harding Elementary School, and is dedicated to the Black Movement. He can be stubborn when he wants to and this stubbornness often caused friction in the family.

Willona, the family friend, worked in a beauty parlor, a department store, and finally George's Fashion Boutique. She adopted Penny Gordon, a battered child, in later episodes.

Nathan Bookman, the overweight building super, is called "Buffalo Butt" by J.J. and Willona, and is a member of the "Jolly Janitors Club." His middle name is Millhouse.

Gary Coleman played Gary Daniels, the obnoxious kid who lived in the building, in several episodes; Sandra Sharp played his mother, Joyce. Willona calls Michael "Gramps."

Relatives: Richard Ward (James's father, Henry Evans), Percy Rodrigues (Florida's cousin, Edgar Edwards), Calvin Lockhart (Florida's cousin, Raymond), Kim Hamilton (Raymond's wife, Betty), Carl Lee (Willona's ex-husband, Ray), Chip Fields (Penny's natural mother, Mrs. Gordon), Marilyn Coleman (Nathan's wife, Violet Bookman).

In the last episode, "The End of the Rainbow," J.J. creates the comic strip called Dyno Woman (basing the character on Thelma); Ben, Thelma's husband, finds he can again play football (when his knee heals) for the Chicago Bears.

Cast: John Amos (James Evans), Esther Rolle

(Florida Evans), Jimmie Walker (J.J. Evans), Bern-Nadette Stanis (Thelma Evans), Ralph Carter (Michael Evans), Ja'net DuBois (Willona Woods), Janet Jackson (Penny Gordon), Johnny Brown (Nathan Bookman), Ben Powers (Keith Anderson), Moses Gunn (Cal Dickson), J. Jay Saunders (Mr. Harris; J.J.'s ad agency employer), Tanya Boyd (Valerie Harris; Harris's daughter), Pauline Myers (Lena Anderson; Henry's fiancée), Szymie Beard (Monty; a friend of James).

3175 The Good Witch of Laurel Canyon. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1982). The pilot film for Tucker's Witch about Rick and Amanda Tucker, husband-and-wife operators of Tucker and Tucker, a private detective organization in California. The twist: Amanda is a beautiful witch, still in the process of perfecting her craft, who uses her powers to solve crimes (Amanda and Rick live with Amanda's mother, Ellen, on a farm in Laurel Canyon).

Cast: Kim Cattrall (Amanda Tucker), Art Hindle (Rick Tucker), Barbara Barrie (Ellen Hobbs). Note: In the series, Catherine Hicks played Amanda and Tim Matheson was Rick.

3176 Goodbye, Charlie. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/4/85). While hang gliding (in New Jersey), Charlie Sorrell, a womanizing ad agency vice president, drowns when he crashes into a river. Shortly after, a beautiful but amnesiac young woman shows up at the apartment of George Erskine, Charlie's long-time buddy, a writer and director at the agency. The woman, who has no place to go, convinces George to let her spend the night. Several hours later, the woman snaps out of her delirium and realizes that she is Charlie Sorrell and has been reincarnated as a member of the opposite sex.

George is doubtful at first — until Charlie graphically proves to him that “she” is his best friend, Charlie. Charlie, who decides to call himself Charlene, convinces George to let him stay with him and help “him” readjust to life as a female. The unsold series was to relate Charlie's misadventures as he struggles to become a woman and endure the same sexual treatment “he” always dealt to the opposite sex. The pilot episode establishes the series storyline, which is based on the 1964 feature film of the same title (with Debbie Reynolds as Charlie).

Other Regulars: Victoria Burns, Charlie's former secretary; and Ray Lemon, the vice president who replaced Charlie.

3177 Goodbye Doesn't Mean Forever. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/28/82). The pilot film for a proposed series based on the motion picture The Goodbye Girl. The story, set in New York City, focuses on the relationship between Paula McFadden, a beautiful single mother and aspiring dancer, and Elliott Garfield, a struggling actor with whom she shares an apartment. Their efforts to share the apartment and live with each other's differing values is the focal point of the program.

The pilot episode depicts how Paula and Elliott meet (when each is rented the same apartment and each agrees to share the rent and responsibilities).

Filmed in 1980 as the first of three pilot films for a projected series based on Neil Simon's The Goodbye Girl. When NBC and MGM failed to come to terms on a firm deal of 13 episodes, the idea was shelved. Shortly after, a second pilot was ordered with Charlotte Brown and Jerry Isenberg as producers. When JoBeth Williams was chosen to play the lead (replacing Karen Valentine), NBC rejected the pilot. Producer-director Jay Sandrich was then hired to produce a third pilot, a 20-minute demonstration tape that again cast Karen Valentine as Paula — but which again failed to produce a series. Thus far, only the first pilot has aired.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Paula McFadden), Michael Lembeck (Elliott Garfield), Lili Haydn (Lucy McFadden; Paula's daughter). Theme Vocal: “Goodbye Doesn't Mean Forever” by David Gates.

3178 Goode Behavior. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1996–1997). Willie Goode is a con artist who, after pulling many scams, was caught and imprisoned. After serving time he is released and decides to go straight. He begins by moving in with his son, Franklin, the Dean of Boys at Henshall University, his wife, Barbara, a newscaster at WIRP-TV, Channel 27, and their daughter, Bianca. Stories follow Willie's adventures as he tries to make it on his own although he is always tempted to use a scam to succeed.

Cast: Sherman Hemsley (Willie Goode), Dorien Wilson (Franklin Goode), Alex Datcher (Barbara Goode), Bianca Lawson (Bianca Goode), Joseph Maher (Chancellor Willoughby), Scott Grimes (Garth).

3179 The Goodies. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1976). The Goodies are three British men (Graeme, Tim and Bill) who will do anything at anytime to succeed in the business world. Stories relate their less than successful attempts to accomplish that goal.

Cast: Graeme Garden (Graeme), Tim Brooke-Taylor (Tim), Bill Oddie (Bill). Regulars: Patricia Hayes, Michael Aspel, Milton Reid, Julie Desmond.

3180 Goodnight, Beantown. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1983). WYN-TV, Channel 11, in Boston is the number three news station in a three station market. In an attempt to improve the ratings of The WYN Six O'clock Report, management hires Jennifer Barnes as the co-anchor for Matt Cassidy, the station's lone newscaster.

Matt, who signs off his broadcast with “That’s the news. I’m Matt Cassidy. Goodnight, Beantown,” has been the anchor since the mid-1960s (apparently his only television job since graduating from Boston University, as no other background information is given).

Jennifer was born in California and worked as a special features reporter for KRF-TV. With little chance for advancement, she left the station when the opportunity arose at WYN to become a co-anchor. “They have their differences,” management says, “but they work well together.”

Matt, a bachelor, lives at 321 Waverly Place (Apartment 1). Jennifer wanted a place near the station, so management found her an apartment—Number 2 at 321 Waverly Place, right across the hall from Matt. Jennifer is divorced and the mother of Susan Barnes, a very pretty 13-year-old girl who cooks and cares for herself and the apartment while her mother is working. Susan attends Ridgely Junior High School.

Matt reads the Boston Tribune; the local watering hole is Kelly’s Bar and Grill. Dick Novack and, later, Albert Adelson were the news directors, and Frank Fletcher was the sportscaster. Dennis McCarthy composed the theme.

Cast: Bill Bixby (Matt Cassidy), Mariette Hartley (Jennifer Barnes), Tracey Gold (Susan Barnes), George Coe (Dick Novack), G.W. Bailey (Albert Adelson), Stephanie Faracy (Valerie), Jim Staahl (Frank Fletcher), Peter Levin (Sam Holliday), Dick Harwood (Newsroom Director), Franny Parrish (Assistant Director), Ty Henderson (Stage Manager).

3181 The Goodtime Girls. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980). Washington, D.C. in 1942 is the setting. There is rationing, housing problems and a man shortage due to World War II. Camille Rittenhouse, Betty Crandall, Edith Beatlemeyer and Loretta Smoot are four working girls who are enduring the home front hardships and struggling to live together in a small, converted attic in a boardinghouse at 1115 Sycamore Street South, better known as Coolidge House.

Camille is a pretty freelance magazine photographer who uses her feminine wiles to get what she wants. She was born in Washington, has a difficult time handling money and connived her way into Coolidge House after having been evicted from the Shoreham Apartments for nonpayment of rent.

Betty was born in Sioux City, Iowa. She is direct, firm and honest and works in a defense plant (Office of Price Administration). “But I can’t tell you any more than that. Loose lips sink ships.”

Edith is from California and works as a USO (United Servicemen’s Organization) showgirl. She has a heart of gold and feels sorry for the soldiers she meets who have been stationed overseas (she has a bad habit of getting herself engaged to them to make them feel better).

Loretta is sweet, kind and very trusting. She works for a general at the War Department and is the only one of the girls who is married. She and Bill Smoot (Russ Thacker) were married only one hour when he was called to active duty.

The girls may bicker, but they care for each other — “It’s like having a whole new wonderful family.”

Also living at Coolidge House, which is owned by George and Irma Coolidge, are Frankie Molardo, a cab driver, and his friend and roommate, Benny Lohman. Frankie claims that flat feet kept him from the service. Skeeter is George and Irma’s son.

Edith opens the show: “When I arrived in Washington, D.C., in 1942 I didn’t have a place to live. Then quite by chance I met Betty Crandell; she’d come all the way from Iowa to help with the war effort. Our cab driver, Frankie Molardo, became our first new friend in Washington and quite a lifesaver. He brought us to Coolidge House, the place that turned out to be our new home. George and Irma Coolidge were the landlords and thanks to Loretta Smoot, one of the sweetest if my new friends, we were soon sharing her room in the attic. Oh, then there was Camille Rittenhouse, she sweet-talked Mr. Coolidge into letting her stay in the attic too. Frankie shared the room across the hall with our resident comedian, Benny Lohman. Coolidge House was crowded — but we all became friends and although there were hard times, there were plenty of good times too.”

Cast: Francine Tacker (Camille Rittenhouse), Lorna Patterson (Betty Crandall), Annie Potts (Edith Beatlemeyer), Georgia Engel (Loretta Smoot), Adrian Zmed (Frankie Molardo), Marcia Lewis (Irma Coolidge), Merwin Goldsmith (George Coolidge), Sparky Marcus (Skeeter Coolidge), Peter Scolari (Benny Lohman). Theme Vocal: “Back in the 40s” by the Charles Fox Singers.

3182 The Goodyear Revue. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949–1952). A weekly program of music, songs and light comedy sponsored by Goodyear. William Brown, Jr. is the producer.

Host: Earl Wrightson. Regulars: Maureen Cannon, The Ray Porter Chorus. Orchestra: Glenn Osser.

3183 The Goodyear Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1958–1960). An anthology series that was broadcast on a rotating basis with The Alcoa Theater (under the title The Alcoa/Goodyear Theater. See this title for information).

3184 Goof Troop. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1992–1993). Goofy Goof, the lovable Disney dog, is now a single father (of Max) and living in the town of Spoonerville, U.S.A. He has a pet cat (Waffles) and is trouble and accident prone (as he was in Disney theatrical cartoons). But now, with a son to raise, he is trying to put his past mishaps behind him.

Max, on the other hand, appears not to have inherited his father's knack for mishap, and has become "a cool dude" with his friends P.J. and Pistol Pete. Pistol's parents, Peter and Peg are Goofy's neighbors. Peter would like nothing more than to see the accident prone Goofy leave the neighborhood as he feels he is an embarrassment.

Peter's efforts to rid the neighborhood of Goofy is a recurring storyline as is the How To segment (wherein Goofy demonstrates something over the advice of a narrator).

Voice Cast: Bill Farmer (Goofy Goof), Dana Hill (Maxie Goof), Nancy Cartwright (Pistol Pete), April Winchell (Peg Pete), Jim Cummings (Peter Pete), Rob Paulsen (P.J.), Frank Welker (Waffles the Cat), Corey Burton (How To Narrator).

3185 The Gook Family. (Test Film ; Comedy; NBC; 7/25/49). A television adaptation of the radio series Vic and Sade about the Gooks, a not-so-typical American family who live in Crooper, Illinois.

Vic, who works at Plant 14 of the Consolidated Kitchenware Company, his wife, Sade, and their son, Rush, also run a rooming house with some eccentric residents: Mr. and Mrs. Starbright, Mrs. Call and Mrs. Cook. The pilot episode relates the problems that occur when Vic leaves for a business trip on the same day Sade has planned a big surprise party. Other Regulars: Mr. Kneesuffer, the salesman.

Cast: Frank Dane (Vic Gook), Bernadine Flynn (Sade Gook), Dick Conan (Rush Gook), Norman Gottschalk (Mr. Starbright), Eleanor Eagle (Mrs. Starbright), Hope Summers (Mrs. Call), Beverly Younger (Mrs. Cook), Cliff Soubier (Mr. Kneesuffer).

3186 Goosebumps. (Series; Anthology; Fox; 1995–1998). A series of weird stories in which children are the featured players. Stories start off on a normal note but get progressively scary as children encounter strange (near supernatural) situations and must use their wits to escape or overcome. Based on the series of books by R. L. Stine. See also Nightmare Room.

Host-Narrator: R.L. Stine.

3187 The Gordon Elliott Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1994). A daily talk show featuring both celebrity and non celebrity interviews coupled with Gordon's offbeat humor and stunts (done in pre-recorded segments on the streets of New York with ordinary people).

Host: Gordon Elliott.

3188 The Gordon MacRae Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956). A quarter-hour program of music and songs with singer-actor Gordon MacRae as the host. The series ran from March 5, 1956 to August 27, 1956.

Host: Gordon MacRae. Vocalists: The Cheerleaders. Orchestra: Van Alexander.

3189 Gossip. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/10/79). A comic look at the editorial staff of the National Gossip, a Hollywood-based scandal sheet: Goldie, the secretary; Ed, the editor; Milton, April, Mac and Luanda, reporters; and Leech, the bookkeeper. See also Gossip II.

Cast: Judy Landers (Goldie), Thomas Hill (Ed Stone), Jeff Altman (Milton), Sarah Daly (April James), Charles Levin (Mac), Fern Fitzgerald (Luanda Neester), Raymond Singer (Leech).

3190 The Gossip Columnist. (Pilot; Drama; Operation Prime Time; 3/21/80). The story of Dina Moran, an ambitious journalist who settles for a job as a gossip columnist for the Roper Newspaper Syndicate in California (she writes the column "Dina Moran's Hollywood"). In the pilot episode, Dina investigates an agent (Mark Case) who is reported to be milking clients to fund his political campaign.

Other Regulars: Alan Keyes, the editor; Stacy Stanton, the receptionist; Marty Kaplan, the Ivan Bock and Associates press agent; Ivan Bock, Marty's boss.

Cast: Kim Cattrall (Dina Moran), Dick Sargent (Alan Keyes), Lynne Randall (Stacy Stanton), Bobby Vinton (Marty Kaplan), Conrad Janis (Ivan Bock). Guest Cast: Robert Vaughn (Mark Case), Lyle Waggoner (Terry Anderson), Catherine Campbell (Darleen Daniels), Bobby Sherman (Buddy Herman), Sylvia Sidney (Alma Llewellyn), Martha Raye (Georgia O'Hanlon), Richard Deacon (Director).

3191 Gossip Girl. (Series; Drama; CW; 2007–). Gossip Girl is a mysterious web site at an exclusive Manhattan Upper East Side prep school that claims to be all knowing and relays all the important news that the students need to know. The identity of Gossip Girl, however, is unknown. Student Serena van der Woodsen and her close friend, Blair Waldorf are the main focus of the series (who live for the gossip of scandal as well as fashion, shopping and partying at Manhattan's trendiest night spots).

Other Regulars: Eric, Serena's younger brother; Nate, Blair's boyfriend; Howie "The Captain" Archibald, Nate's father; Katy and Isabel, Blair's friends; Chuck, Nate's friend; Dan and his sister Jenny, the middle-class kids attending the school on their father's insistence (their father, Rufus, is a former rock star turned art gallery shop owner); Lily, Serena's mother. And keeping track of all the gossip in and out of school is Gossip Girl—the eyes and ears of the school.

Cast: Blake Lively (Serena van der Woodsen), Leighton Meester (Blair Waldorf), Connor Paolo (Eric van der Woodsen), Kelly Rutherford (Lily van der Woodsen), Chace Crawford (Nate Archibald), Sam

Robards (Howie Archibald), Nan Zhang (Katy), Nicole Fiscella (Isabel), Ed Westwick (Chuck Bass), Penn Badgley (Dan Humphrey), Taylor Momsen (Jenny Humphrey), Kristen Bell (Gossip Girl), Matthew Settle (Rufus Humphrey), Nan Zhang (Kati), Margaret Colin (Eleanor Waldorf), Susan Misner (Alison Humphrey), Nicole Fiscella (Isabel Coates), Zuzanna Szadkowski (Dorota).

3192 Gossip II. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/10/79). A second attempt (see also Gossip) to produce a weekly series based on the antics of the staff of the National Gossip, a Hollywood-based scandal sheet. The staff: Mr. Dempster, the editor; Mrs. Gallup, the secretary; Jeb and Mittie, reporters; Flash, the photographer; and Tip, the psychic predictor.

Cast: John Hillerman (Mr. Dempster), Dena Dietrich (Mrs. Gallup), Charles Levin (Jeb), Mary Catherine Wright (Mittie), Jeff Altman (Flash), Robbie Rist (Tip).

3193 The Gourmet. (Series; cooking; Syn.; 1969). Step-by-Step instructions to make the average cook a gourmet chef.

Host: David Wade. Announcer: Jack Harrison.

3194 The Gourmet Club. (Series; Cooking; Syn.; 1958). The program features guest celebrities assisting the hostess in the preparation of gourmet meals.

Hostess: Dione Lucas.

3195 The Governor and J.J. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1969–1971). William R. Drinkwater is a widower and the father of Jennifer Jo (called J.J.). William is the governor of an unidentified Midwestern state and has been called “a man of integrity, a man who dedicates himself to the services of the people.”

William and J.J. reside in the Governor’s Mansion at 1103 Madison Lane. J.J. is 23 years old when the series begins and works as the curator of the local children’s zoo. She is pretty, charming and always by her father’s side when he needs her. William was previously a lawyer with the firm of Sanders and Drinkwater. He is very sophisticated and always willing to give of himself to help others. It was when J.J. was five years old that his wife urged William to go into politics.

George Callison is William’s press secretary (he worked previously for the Attorney General of the state); Maggie McCloud is William’s faithful assistant and has been with him for 19 years. Sara is William’s housekeeper (whom he considers a member of the family). The politically oriented series relates the events (including scandals) that affect the lives of William and his staff.

Cast: Dan Dailey (William Drinkwater), Julie Sommars (J.J. Drinkwater), James Callahan (George Callison), Neva Patterson (Maggie McCloud), Nora Marlowe (Sara).

3196 Grace Under Fire. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993–1998). Grace Kelly and her children Libby, Quentin and infant Patrick live at 445 Washington Avenue in Victory, Missouri.

Grace, 36, is divorced from Jimmy and first worked as a waitress at Stevie Ray’s Bar, then as a field worker in Section 7 of the CBD Oil Refinery, a volunteer for the Crisis Center (where she was known as Chris) and finally as office manager for the Reliance Construction Company.

Before leaving the oil company to attend Missouri State College (to get her BA in English), Grace was promoted to crew chief.

Grace was born in Huntsville, Alabama (attended Huntsville High School). Her maiden name is Burdette. She had a serious drinking problem that she has now overcome (“I stopped when I saw a big red dog jump out of my lingerie drawer”). When Grace’s landlord sold the house she was renting, she moved across the street to house number 446 (formerly owned by the elderly Mrs. Walker).

Grace first dated Russell Norton, the owner of Smiley’s Pharmacy on 3rd and Lakesburg (when he took over the business, he never changed the store’s name). He has a dog (Phil) and uses a cologne “that’s cheap, chicks dig and kills bugs dead.” His favorite restaurant “is where girls stopped dancing on the tables five minutes before.”

Grace then dated Rick Bradshaw, head of the oil company. He had a dog (Ralph) and left Grace for a high-paying job in Alaska.

Elizabeth Louise, nicknamed Libby, is a Star Trek fanatic. She has a doll (Helen), a pet squirrel (Spot), a goldfish (Fishy Fisherman), is a member of the girls’ soccer team at Glenview Elementary School and winner of the fourth-grade “Why I Like Our State” contest.

Quentin, the troublesome member of the family (he rebels against Grace’s authority) finds serenity on the roof outside his window. In grade school, Quentin took the empty beer cans his father crushed against his head for Show and Tell and was first in trouble with the law for trespassing on property owned by the Victory Country Club.

Wade and Nadine Swaboda are Grace’s neighbors. Wade, a Marine (called “Wade the Impaler”) during the Vietnam War, was originally a telephone lineman; then traffic reporter for KPLG radio; helicopter reporter for KQMO-TV, Channel 6; and finally an officer with the 6th District of the Victory Police Department.

Nadine, Grace’s best friend, is a waitress at Stevie Ray’s Bar. When Grace had each of her children, Nadine was there for her (“Jimmy always had an excuse”). Nadine has been married four times and has never had anything consistent in her life — except for Grace, who is always there for her. Nadine left Wade during the show’s final season and moved to Colorado, leaving Wade to fend for himself. The series ended before anything was resolved.

Cast: Brett Butler (Grace Kelly), Kaitlin Cullum (Libby Kelly), Noah Segan (Quentin Kelly), John Paul Steuer (Quentin Kelly), Sam Horrigan (Quentin Kelly), Dylan and Cole Sprouse (Patrick Kelly), Geoff Pierson (Jimmy), Casey Sandler (Wade Swaboda), Julie White (Nadine Swaboda), Dave Thomas (Russell Norton), Alan Autry (Rick Bradshaw).

3197 The Graduation Dress. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/10/64). Sam Sharp is a slick young photographer who specializes in photos of high school graduations. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps that he encounters. In the pilot episode, Sam approaches Laura Jericho, a beautiful but poor farm girl, and convinces her to pose for some graduation pictures. Complications ensue when Laura, adorned in the glamorous white graduation dress Sam uses as a prop, believes the dress is to be hers, when in reality it is only to be used for the photo session.

Cast: Hugh O'Brian (Sam Sharp). Guest Cast: Stella Stevens (Laura Jericho), Buddy Ebsen (Pa Jericho), Ellen Corby (Ma Jericho), Tommy Nolan (Buddy Jericho), Susanne Sidney (Sally).

3198 Grady. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1975–1976). A five-episode spin-off from Sanford and Son that relates events in the life of Grady Wilson (Fred Sanford's best friend) as he moves from Los Angeles to 636 Carlisle Street in Santa Monica, California, to live with his daughter, Ellie, her husband, Hal, and their children, Laurie and Haywood. Other Regulars: Mr. Pratt, the landlord; and Rose, their neighbor.

Cast: Whitman Mayo (Grady Wilson), Carol Cole (Ellie Marshall), Joe Morton (Hal Marshall), Rosanne Katon (Laurie Marshall), Haywood Nelson (Haywood Marshall), Jack Fletcher (Mr. Pratt), Alix Elias (Rose).

3199 The Grady Nutt Show. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/24/81). Grady Williams is a minister at the Rockwell Community Church in the small town of Rockwell, Tennessee. The unsold series was to relate his misadventures as he attends to his parishioners. In the pilot episode, Reverend Williams attempts to solve two problems: eulogizing a man nobody liked, and accepting his teenage daughter's romance with a college student. Originally titled Reverend Grady.

Other Regulars: Ellie, Grady's wife; Becky, his daughter; Randy, Becky's boyfriend; Joe, Grady's neighbor; Jeremy, Grady's assistant; and Liz, Grady's secretary.

Cast: Grady Nutt (Grady Williams), Elinor Donahue (Ellie Williams), Debby Lynn (Becky Williams), Michael Dudikoff (Randy), Raleigh Bond (Joe), Ed

Marshall (Jeremy), Peggy Pope (Liz), Candice Azara (Mona Thompson; guest role).

3200 Graffiti Rock. (Pilot; Music; Syn.; 6/84). A proposed but unsold series of music videos supplied by the various record companies who trade broadcast rights for free nationwide playtime and publicity.

Host: Michael Holman.

3201 Graham. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; ABC; Produced in 1992). Graham is 35 years old; Alice is ten years old. Together they host a children's cable television program. The unsold series was to relate the child-like Graham's efforts to cope with the adult situations that surround him. Scheduled to air three times (7/13/93, 8/17/93 and 6/10/94) but canceled each time.

Cast: Griffin Dunne (Graham), Allison Porter (Alice), Dedee Pfeiffer (Lisa; the producer), David Marshall Grant (Jeb), Mary Mara (Ann), Helen Stenborg (Betty), Diana Douglas (Beverly).

3202 Grand. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990). Life in the small town of Grand, Pennsylvania. The Daily Bugle is the town's newspaper, the Grand Movie Theater seems to show only one film, Grand Illusion, and the main industry appears to be the Grand Piano Works, a company owned by the elderly and wealthy Harris Weldon. The company is located on Weldon Boulevard, and it takes one year to make a Weldon Grand Piano.

Janice Pasetti is a pretty divorcée who lives in a mobile home and earns a living by cleaning the Weldon mansion (as well as other homes in town). Janice is the mother of a teenage girl named Edda and later lives in the Weldon mansion after a tornado destroys her home (she is now the mansion maid and despises the sexy black cocktail waitress uniform Harris forces her to wear). Edda attends Grand High School (as did Janice).

Carol Ann Smithson is Harris's niece. She is married to Tom, and together they own the Smithson Group (a realty company). Tom calls her "Hamster," and in second season episodes Carol Ann writes a daily column "Ask Carol Ann" for the Bugle after she loses Tom (who is swept away in a tornado).

Norris Weldon is Harris's indecisive son. He has a dog named Fallon and first took on the personality of comedian Jack E. Leonard (believing it was his goal in life to be a standup comic); he next had a cable access television show called Let's Not Think with Norris Weldon on Channel 128; and finally he believed that his calling in life was to be a mime. He co-owns the town's only watering hole, the Beethoven Bar, with Desmond, Harris's ever faithful butler.

Wayne Kazmersky is the local motorcycle cop (Grand Police Department) who has a crush on Janice.

Relatives: Britt Ekland (Harris's ex-wife, Viveca), Ed Marinaro (Janice's ex-husband, Eddie Pasetti), Jacky Vinson (Tom's son, Dylan Smithson; from a previous marriage), Shawn Phelan (Carol Ann's estranged son, Timmy), Jane Hoffman (Wayne's mother, Dot Kazmersky). Theme: "Play It Grand," by Michael Leeson and Tom Snow.

Cast: John Randolph (Harris Weldon), Pamela Reed (Janice Pasetti), Sara Rue (Edda Pasetti), Bonnie Hunt (Carol Ann Smithson), Michael McKean (Tom Smithson), Joel Murray (Norris Weldon), John Neville (Desmond), Andrew Lauer (Wayne Kazmersky).

3203 The Grand Jury. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1958). "The fore work of liberty, protecting the inalienable rights of free people, serving unstintingly and without prejudice to maintain the laws of our land, the Grand Jury." Case dramatizations based on the files of the Los Angeles Grand Jury. Episodes depict the work of Harry Driscoll, an ex-FBI agent, and his partner, John Kennedy, Grand Jury Investigators.

Cast: Lyle Bettger (Harry Driscoll), Harold J. Stone (John Kennedy), Richard Travis (Grand Jury Investigator), Douglas Dumbrille (Grand Jury Investigator).

3204 The Grand Ole Opry. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1955–1956). The program features performances by country and western artists.

Host: Red Foley. Regulars: Les Paul, Mary Ford, Hank Snow, Chet Atkins, Minnie Pearl, Ernest Tubb, Goldie Hull, Jimmy Dickens, Cal Smith, The Lovin' Brothers, The Grand Ole Opry Square Dancers.

3205 Grand Opera. (Experimental; Opera; NBC; 3/10/40). The first U.S. telecast of a grand opera. The broadcast occurred on a stage in Radio City Music Hall under the auspices of the Metropolitan Opera Company. The program was actually a fund raiser to earn one million dollars so the Met could purchase its present home (but with less than one thousand television sets in existence, only a small portion of the money was earned). Acts were continually spotted with appeals for money and featured songs from Carmen, The Barber of Seville, Rigoletto and Pagliacci.

Hosts: Gene Hamilton, Edward Johnson. Performers: Lucia Albanese, Richard Bonelli, Hilda Burke, Bruna Castagna, George Cehanovsky, Frederick Jagel, Hilde Reggiani, Armand Tokatyan, Leonard Warren.

3206 Grand Slam. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1990). Dennis Baklenekoff is a bounty hunter and works for the Blue Bird Bail Bonds Company. Pedro Gomez is also a bounty hunter, but he works for Aztec Bail Bonds. Tired of always going after the same bail jumpers (but for different reasons) Dennis and Pedro decide to form their own company and cut out the middleman. The old adage "Friends should never work together" is put to the test when the two bickering friends team up to catch bail jumpers.

Dennis was a cop with the San Diego Police Department who was fired after a bad shooting. He was also a professional baseball player; he was nicknamed "Hardball" and signed a contract for $175,000 a year. Two months later he was out of work again (he was famous for giving up the only home run hit in the Jack Murphy Stadium). Dennis has a dog named Grace.

Pedro and Dennis named the company Associate and Associate as it was the only title they both could agree upon (it was originally called Hardball and Associates).

Irv Schlosser was Dennis's boss at Blue Bird; Al Ramirez was the owner of Aztec Bail Bonds. Joseph Conlan composed the "Grand Slam Theme."

Cast: John Schneider (Dennis Baklenekoff), Paul Rodriguez (Pedro Gomez), Larry Gelman (Irv Schlosser), Abel Franco (Al Ramirez), Lupe Ontiveros (Grandma Lopez).

3207 Grand Slam. (Series; Game; Game Show Network; 2007). A game show that incorporates top prize winners from other game shows (as far back as twenty years) as its contestants. Sixteen such people compete and play two at a time. A high cash-scoring player is placed opposite a lower cash-scoring player. An unseen quizmaster (The Questioner) asks rapid-fire questions of one player at a time. When the player gives an incorrect response, the opposing player is questioned. The player who scores the most correct answers in a one-minute time limit wins the round. Several additional rounds are played but with different question categories (for example, general knowledge, current events, logic, grammar, mathematics). The logic and math rounds are quite difficult as the players are under a great deal of pressure with very little time to think. Each player has two switches if he is stumped: he can pass the question and earn a point if the opposing player answers incorrectly (or lose the point if he gets it right). The highest scoring players win $100,000 and face each other again in a semi-finals competition (the winners of these games play the finals competition with the one successful player winning additional cash prizes).

Host: Dennis Miller. Questions Posed By: Pat Kiernan.

3208 The Grand Tour. (Pilot; Human Interest; Syn.; 12/85). A Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous type of pilot that features tours of interesting places around the world with a focus on the people and their customs.

Hosts: Dick Cavett, Jenilee Harrison. Narrators: Jenilee Harrison, Karen Kasaba.

3209 Grandpa and Richie. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1972). A proposed series about the relationship between a 16-year-old boy (Richie) and his young-at-heart grandfather. In the pilot episode, Grandpa attempts to help Richie prepare to get his driver's license. Other Regulars: Peter, Richie's father; and Kathy, Richie's mother.

Cast: John Marley (Grandpa), Scott Jacoby (Richie), Charles Aidman (Peter), Abby Dalton (Kathy). Guest Cast: John Amos (Harold), Robert Mandan (Jack Clark), Jerry Houser (Chicken delivery man).

3210 Grandpa Goes to Washington. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1978–1979). Joe Kelley is a former professor of Political Science who feels he can do a better job than most elected officials and runs for the office of senator. After winning a seat in the Senate, Joe moves to Washington, D.C. and attempts to practice what he taught — honest government. Stories follow his uphill battle as finds few believe as he believes.

Other Regulars: Kevin Kelley, Joe's son; Rose, Kevin's wife; Cathleen and Kevin, Jr., Kevin and Rose's children; Madge, Joe's secretary; Tony DuVall, Joe's political advisor.

Cast: Jack Albertson (Joe Kelley), Larry Linville (Kevin Kelley), Sue Ane Langdon (Rose Kelley), Michele Tobin (Cathleen Kelley), Sparky Marcus (Kevin Kelley, Jr.), Madge Sinclair (Madge), Tom Mason (Tony DuVall), Richard Eastman (U.S. President).

3211 Grandpa Max. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/28/75). "Grandpa" Max Sherman is a crusty, caustic Jewish widower. Paul Sherman is his overly protective son who treats Max, who considers himself young at heart, like an old man. The relationship between Max and Paul as Paul struggles to bridge the gap between middle and old age was to be the focal point of the unsold series.

In the pilot episode, Max, who lives in the modest Southern California home of his son, decides to move to a senior citizens home when Paul refuses to let him drive on the freeway. Other Regulars: Liz, Paul's wife; Michael, Paul's son; and Louis Yates, Max's friend.

Cast: Larry Best (Max Sherman), Michael Lerner (Paul Sherman), Suzanne Astor (Liz Sherman), Brad Savage (Michael Sherman), Shimen Ruskin (Louis Yates). Guest Cast: Dick Van Patten (Mr. Unger), Susan Alpern (Betty).

3212 Grandstand. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Three professional athletes are each teamed with a non-professional contestant. In Round One, the Face-Off, the contestant is asked seven questions about his celebrity teammate. Each correct answer scores 25 points. Additional rounds involve identifying sports figures from film clips and other sports related questions. The team with the highest score is the winner and the contestant receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Curt Chaplin. Co-Hostess: Deborah Johnson. Announcer: Dave Herman.

3213 Grapevine. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1992). David, a restaurant owner; Susan, a cruise line director; and Thumper, a broadcaster, are three friends who live in Miami. Each week they get together to gossip about people (usually couples) they have seen or met during that week. As the friends relay the gossip anthology-like stories are presented to relate the incidents they are talking about.

Cast: Jonathan Penner (David), Lynn Clark (Susan), Steven Eckholdt (Thumper).

3214 The Gray Ghost. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). Virginia during the Civil War is the setting. In a desperate attempt to infiltrate the Confederacy, the Union Army recruits a woman spy. The woman, a double agent, reveals their plans to John Singleton Mosby, a Confederate major. Later, when Mosby learns that the woman has been uncovered as a double agent and has been sentenced to die by the Union Army, he effects a dramatic raid on the Union camp and rescues her. He is proclaimed their enemy — the Gray Ghost. Stories relate Mosby's daring and cunning raids against the Union Army in the hopes of fostering a Confederate victory.

Cast: Tod Andrews (Major John Mosby), Phil Cambridge (Lieutenant St. Clair).

3215 Grease — You're the One I Want. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2007). In the feature film Grease Olivia Newton-John played Sandy Dumbrowski and John Travolta was Danny Zuko. In the summer of 2007 Grease opened on Broadway with two unknowns playing the roles of Sandy and Danny — actors who were chosen by television viewers on this reality show.

Open auditions were held across America with the best singers and dancers chosen to advance to the Grease Academy in Los Angeles. Here seven men and seven women were chosen to compete for the roles of Danny and Sandy. Each week a hopeful Sandy and Danny were paired to perform songs from the musical. Home viewer votes determined which Sandy and which Danny were eliminated each week. The prize for the remaining Sandy and Danny were the starring roles on Broadway and the series makes this "The biggest open casting call in Broadway history."

Host: Billy Bush, Denise Van Outen. Judges: David Ian (Grease Producer), Kathleen Marshal (choreographer), Jim Jacobs (Grease co-creator). Winners: Laura Osnes (Sandy), Max Crumm (Danny).

3216 Great Adventure. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1963–1964). Dramatizations based on the people and events that helped to shape America. The series, which produced 26 episodes, ran from September 27, 1963 to September 18, 1964.

Performers Include: Nancy Malone, Lee Marvin, Robert Culp, Jackie Cooper, Wayne Rogers, Lloyd Nolan, Ricardo Montalban, Ruby Dee, Brock Peters, Ethel Waters, Ossie Davis, Carroll O'Connor, Sheree North, Lloyd Bridges, Wallace Ford, Collin Wilcox, Julie Sommars, Ted Bessell, Victor Jory, Bob Cummings, Marion Ross, Peggy McCay, Andrew Duggan, Frank Silvera, Jack Warden, Fritz Weaver, Michael Constantine. Narrator: Van Heflin (Episodes 1–13). Narrator: Russell Johnson (Episodes 14–26).

3217 Great Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1972). Films that explore various countries of interest around the world.

Host-Narrator: Jim Dooley.

3218 Great Adventures. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1958). Films that explore many of the remote regions of the world.

Host-Narrator: Ray Forrest.

3219 The Great American Dream Machine. (Series; Satire; PBS; 1971–1972). A television magazine format designed “to make significant statements about the good and bad trends in our society.” The program satirizes everyday life — from first love to buying a frozen dinner at the supermarket.

Regulars: Marshall Efrom, Chevy Chase, Ken Shapiro, Lee Meredith, Robert Townsend, Andrew Rooney, Nicholas Van Hoffman.

3220 The Great American Dream Vote. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2007). Eight people, each with a specific dream, appear on stage one at a time, to relate that dream to the home and studio audience. The object is to tell why they are deserving of that special want. The home audience votes (via toll-free numbers) for the most deserving. The lowest rated contestant is eliminated but no winners were found as the series was cancelled after its second telecast.

Host: Donny Osmond.

3221 Great Bible Adventures. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 9/11/66). A proposed series based on stories from the Bible. The pilot story, “Seven Rich Years.... And Seven Lean,” tells of the Hebrew Joseph’s rise out of bondage to his reign as the pharaoh’s minister. Broadcast as a segment of Preview Tonight.

Cast: Hugh O’Brian (Joseph), Joseph Wiseman (Pharaoh), Eduardo Ciannelli (Aton), Katharine Ross (Asenath), Torin Thatcher (Potiphar), Sorrell Booke (Baker).

3222 Great Day. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/23/77). An inner-city mission in Los Angeles is the home to a group of misadventure-prone derelicts (Peavey, Doc, Boomer, Jabbo, Moose, Billy and Pop). The unsold series was to relate events in their daily lives. In the pilot episode, the derelicts attempt to raise the money needed to save their mission without taking the most desperate of steps — going to work. Other Regulars: Molly, the woman who helps out at the mission.

Cast: Al Molinaro (Peavey), Dub Taylor (Doc), Guy Marks (Boomer), Spo-De-Odee (Jabbo), Joseph Elic (Moose), Billy Barty (Billy), Pat Cranshaw (Pop), Alice Nunn (Molly). Guest Cast: Audrey Christie (Mrs. Graham), Dorothy Konrad (Woman in bar).

3223 Great Day. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 11/19/83). Howard Simpson is a family man. He is married to Jennifer and the father of Carla and Ricky. He has a dog (Brutus), a best friend (Ralph) and one major problem: he is a homeowner who is plagued by life’s seemingly endless problems. The pilot episode relates Howard’s fruitless attempts to protect his home from a persistent burglar.

Cast: Tim Conway (Howard Simpson), Joanna Gleason (Jennifer Simpson), Jill Schoelen (Carla Simpson), Corky Pigeon (Ricky Simpson), Gordon Jump (Ralph Maxwell), Mason Adams (Narrator). Guest Cast: Kenneth Tigar (Burglar), Philip Bruns (Police sergeant), Danny Wells (Dog trainer), Bill Paxton (Rudy), Suzanne Kent (Woman).

3224 The Great Defender. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 1995). “Do you need a lawyer? Call me, Lou Frischetti. Divorce, Accident, Criminal. Call me at 1-800-55-Legal” is one of a series of TV commercials called “The Great Defender” that are run by Lou Frischetti, a fast-talking Boston attorney who represents the clients nobody else wants — from hookers to bookies.

Lou believes in justice for all and will use every trick in the book to defend his clients whether they are accused of petty theft or murder. Lou has a night school degree from the East Podoc School of Law. He is a bit unethical and knows what is going on — in the courtroom, the police precincts and on the streets. He sometimes invents his own theories about the law and promises his clients that “if there’s trouble, I’ll be there on the double.”

These are the qualities that attract Jason DeWitt, senior partner in the prestigious Beacon Hill law firm of Osborne, Merritt and DeWitt. Jason feels Lou is the man they need to bring life to the firm and get it out of a rut. Lou agrees, provided he can also hire his staff: his gorgeous investigator, Frankie Colletti and his receptionist, his mother, Pearl Frischetti.

Jason, a graduate of Harvard Law School, takes the heat for allowing Lou to use his street tactics to get results. The other partners feel Lou and his staff will bring the law firm down, not improve it.

Frankie is Catholic and comes from an Italian background as does Lou. She respects her parents but prefers not to be called by her Christian name of Francesca — “I’m a Frankie, not a Francesca.” Frankie grew up as a tomboy in Boston and is a graduate of Boston University. She has a degree in business management but became disenchanted with following that career choice and found a job as a secretary to then budding lawyer Lou Frischetti. Lou needed an investigator and quickly recruited Frankie for the job.

Frankie is single and lives at 01342 Arlington Drive, Apartment 703. Lou lives with his mother at 462 Marlon Road. Jay Gruska composed the theme "The Great Defender."

Cast: Michael Rispoli (Lou Frischetti), Richard Kiley (Jason DeWitt), Kelly Rutherford (Frankie Colletti), Rhoda Gemignani (Pearl Frischetti).

3225 Great Expectations. (Series; Drama; The Entertainment Channel; 1982). A twelve-part dramatization of the novel by Charles Dickens. The story follows the life of Philip Pirrip, always known as Pip, as he is transformed from timid country child to snobbish young gentleman and finally to a man matured by suffering. The novel, written by Dickens toward the end of his life, reflects his changing attitudes toward society and, through the central portrayal of Pip, the passions and anguish of his own character. Produced in England.

Cast: Gerry Sundquist (Philip "Pip" Pirrip), Graham McGrath (Pip, age 9), Paul Davies-Prowless (Pip, age 13), Stratford Johns (Magwitch), Joan Hickson (Miss Havisham), Patsy Kensit (Estella, as a girl), Sarah-Jane Varley (Estella, as a woman), Phillip Joseph (Joe Gargery), John Stratton (Uncle Pumblechook), Derek Francis (Mr. Jaggers), Tim Munro (Herbert Pocket), Melanie Hughes (Clara Barley).

3226 Great Ghost Tales. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1961). A summer series of 12 mystery and suspense dramas that ran from July 6, 1961 to September 21, 1961.

Host: Frank Gallop. Performers Include: Joanne Linville, Robert Duval, Lee Grant, Kevin McCarthy, Mildred Dunnock, R.G. Armstrong, Janet Ward, Collin Wilcox, Vincent Gardenia, James Broderick, Cynthia Baxter, Harvey Millard, Lois Nettleton, John Abbott, Richard Thomas, Judith Evelyn, Anne Williams, Blanche Yurka, Diana Van Der Vlis, William Redfield, Salome Jens, Arthur Hill.

3227 The Great Gildersleeve. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1954–1955). The Gildersleeve Girdle Works is a company owned by Throckmorton P. ("Gildy") Gildersleeve in the town of Wistful Vista. When his sister and her husband are killed in a car accident, Gildy travels to nearby Sommerfield to take over the administration of his brother-in-law's estate (an automobile agency that hasn't been doing well) and to find a home for their children, Marjorie and Leroy Forrester. When Gildy is unable to find a home for the children, he petitions the court to adopt them.

During Gildy's hasty attempts to resolve the situation and return to Wistful Vista, he encounters the objections of Henry J. Hooker, a judge who thinks that Gildy, a carefree, womanizing bachelor, needs some discipline himself if he is to take care of his niece and nephew. Hooker grants Gildy custody of the children provided he posts a $100,000 bond and resides in Sommerfield for six months. Although reluctant, Gildy agrees.

The six month trial becomes a permanent stay for Gildersleeve. He sells his girdle company and takes up residence in the Forrester home at 217 Elm Street. He is later appointed the water commissioner by the mayor. Gildy is also president of the Jolly Boys Club ("All for One and One for All"; the weekly meeting is called "Jolly Boys Night").

As previously mentioned, Gildy is a ladies' man. He compares his luck with women to that with streetcars: "If one streetcar goes by without me, another will be along in a few minutes. The tracks are loaded." While Gildy has an eye for the ladies, they also have an eye for him: the Southern belle Leila Ransom; Kathryn Milford, a nurse at Sommerfield Hospital's maternity ward; Amy Miller, a member of the Sommerfield Ladies' Poetry Club; and Lois Kimball, the librarian.

Birdie Lee Coggins is Gildy's housekeeper; Floyd Munson is the town barber; Mr. Peavy owns Peavy's Pharmacy; and Bessie is Gildy's secretary.

Marjorie, who attends Sommerfield High School, calls Gildy "Unkie"; Leroy, who attends Sommerfield Elementary School, calls Gildy "Unk." Theme: "The Great Gildersleeve," by Jack Meakin.

Cast: Willard Waterman (Throckmorton P. Gildersleeve), Stephanie Griffin (Marjorie Forrester), Ronald Keith (Leroy Forrester), Shirley Mitchell (Leila Ransom), Doris Singleton (Lois), Lillian Randolph (Birdie Lee Coggins), Willis Bochey (Mayor Terwilliger), Forrest Lewis (Peavey), Barbara Stuart (Bessie), Earle Ross (Judge Hooker), Hal Smith (Floyd Munson).

3228 The Great Grape Ape Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1977–1978). The Grape Ape is a forty-foot tall purple gorilla. Beegle Beagle is his friend, a fast talking dog. Stories relate their adventures as they attempt to live life to the fullest but always encountering a weekly misadventure.

Voice Cast: Bob Holt (Grape Ape), Marty Ingels (Beegle Beagle).

3229 The Great Merlini. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1951). "Magic and crime have one thing in common, deception, and when criminals use deception to commit crimes it also takes deception to solve them," says the Great Merlini, a master illusionist and escape artist who uses his wizardry to help Inspector Gavigan of the N.Y.P.D. solve baffling crimes.

The Great Merlini is assisted by Julie Boyd, a beautiful girl who helps but sighs, "I'm supposed to be working in a magic act, not in a detective agency." In the pilot episode, titled "The Transparent Man," The Great Merlini (no other name given) attempts to resolve the puzzling theft of jewelry (the Marie Antoinette Necklace) by a supposedly invisible thief.

Cast: Jerome Thor (The Great Merlini), Barbara Cook (Julie Boyd), Robert Noe (Inspector Gavigan). Guest Cast: Howard Smith (Davis Belmont), Mike Myers (Joseph Willoughby), E.G. Marshall (Julian Cornell), Steve Gethers (Sergeant Duran), Byron Russell (Butler), Linda Lombard (Hotel clerk).

3230 The Great Movie Cowboys. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1977). A television revival of rarely broadcast western theatrical films of the 1930s and 1940s. These include Hopalong Cassidy, Roy Rogers and Gene Autry films.

Host: Roy Rogers.

3231 The Great Mysteries of Hollywood. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 3/81). A proposed series that explores various mysteries associated with Hollywood. The pilot presentation, titled "Did America Kill John Wayne," explores the possibility that John Wayne, Susan Hayward, Agnes Moorehead and Dick Powell were exposed to atomic radiation when filming The Conqueror in 1955 on an atomic testing range in Nevada.

Host: Chuck Connors. Guests: June Allyson, Bob Hope, Lee Van Cleef.

3232 Great Scott. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992). Scott Melrod is a sophomore at Taft High School. He has an older sister, Nina, a senior at Taft, and parents, Beverly and Walter, he believes are over bearing.

Scott likes Nikki, a schoolmate and his best friend is Larry. Scott is lazy, not easily motivated and is perceived as a bit of a loser. Viewers also see another side of Scott — his daydreams, wherein he is always a real cool guy and a hero to everyone. Stories follow Scott as he fantasizes his way out of the embarrassing situations he always seems to encounter at school and at home.

Cast: Tobey Maguire (Scott Melrod), Nancy Lenehan (Beverly Melrod), Ray Baker (Walter Melrod), Sarah Koskoff (Nina Melrod), Aimee Brooks (Nikki Avalar), Kevin Connolly (Larry O'Donnell).

3233 The Great Space Coaster. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1981). Music, songs and sketches that relate various aspects of the world to children. The Great Space Coaster is a magical ride that transports the program's hosts to various places of interest. Tom Griffin, Dave Bacall and John Claster are the producers.

Cast: Emily Bindiger (Francine, the Hostess), Chris Gifford (Danny, the Host), Ray Stephens (Roy, the Host), Francis Kane (Baxter, the visible-invisible boy), John Lovelady (Knock Knock the bird), Jim Martin (Gary Gnu, the newscaster), Ken Myles (Edison the elephant), Ken Myles (Speed Reader), Jim Martin (Mr. T, the evil carnival owner). Music: Don Friedman, Norris O'Neill, Don Dannerman. Theme Song: "The Great Space Coaster" by Spencer Michlin, Anne Bryant.

3234 The Great War. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1964). A twenty-six episode filmed history of the British and American participation in World War II.

Host-Narrator: Sir Michael Redgrave.

3235 The Greatest American Hero. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1981–1983). Ralph Hinkley is a special education teacher at Whitney High School in Los Angeles. He has integrity, a strong moral character and a healthy idealism.

William "Bill" Maxwell is a dedicated but hot headed FBI agent attached to the Los Angeles bureau. He is idealistic, incorruptible and obsessed with bringing criminals to justice. The two are strangers, but unearthly forces soon bring them together.

In Palmdale, Ralph becomes separated from his students during a field trip while Bill's car is made to drive to a predestined spot. As Ralph and Bill meet, an alien spacecraft appears and engulfs them in a circle of light. An alien leader from an unspecified planet, tells them that crime on Earth must be stopped to save the planet from destroying itself. Because of their qualities Ralph and Bill have been chosen for the job. Ralph will become the fighter and Bill his assistant.

Ralph is presented with a special costume (red tights, black cape, silver belt) that endows him with superhuman powers and an instruction manual on how to use the costume (which Ralph calls "The Suit"). Complications set in when Ralph, walking away from the site, unknowingly drops the instruction book. With no knowledge of how to use the Suit or the powers it beholds, Ralph has to play being the Greatest American Hero by ear (the circle insignia on the front of the costume is a symbol of the alien society).

The Suit (or "the Red Jammies" as Bill calls it) makes Ralph impervious to harm. He can deflect bullets, run at incredible speeds and possess great strength. He can fly (although this is difficult and awkward without the instruction book) and appear and disappear at will. Ralph also has visions (called "holographs" by Bill) that allow him to see a past or future event associated with a crime they are investigating. Bill believes "The job takes 110 percent of what you have 25 hours a day." He calls women "skirts," enjoys snacking on Milkbone dog biscuits and says "Life used to be so simple for me, an ordinary, card-carrying FBI agent trying to do the best job I knew how; doing everything by the book until they teamed me up with a school teacher named Ralph Hinkley." Bill's two "worst case scenarios" are that Ralph's true identity will be revealed and that his superiors will find out about his secret crime fighting activities. He calls the aliens "The Little Green Guys."

Pamela "Pam" Davidson is a lawyer with the firm of Carter, Bailey and Smith (later the firm of Selquist, Allen and Minor). She is also Ralph's girlfriend (later wife) and the unwitting assistant on most cases that involve Ralph and the Suit (Bill calls Pam "Counselor"). Pam is a brilliant attorney but often questions her thinking when she places herself in danger by joining Bill and Ralph. Pam, the daughter of Harry and Alice Davidson, lives in an apartment at 2871 Bryer. Ralph, who lives in a home on Meadow Lane, is divorced from Alicia and is the father of Kevin. See also The Greatest American Heroine.

Cast: William Katt (Ralph Hinkley), Robert Culp (Bill Maxwell), Connie Sellecca (Pam Davidson), Brandon Williams (Kevin Hinkley), Simone Griffeth (Alicia Hinkley), Faye Grant (Rhonda Harris; a student), Michael Pare (Tony Villacona; a student), Don Cervantes (Paco Rodriguez; a student), Cheryl Francis (Susan; Ralph's babysitter), E.J. Peaker (Rose Harris; Rhonda's mother, a waitress), Dave Shelley (Manny; Rose's boss), Robby Weaver (Ray Buck; a teacher at Whitney High), Michael Ensign (School Principal Kane), William Frankfather (Palmer Bradshaw; Bill's superior), William Bogert (Mr. Carlyle; Bill's boss; later), June Lockhart (Alice Davidson; Pam's mother), Norman Alden (Harry Davidson; Pam's father), Bob Minor (John Macke; the alien's representative). Theme Vocal: "Believe It or Not" by Joey Scarbury.

3236 The Greatest American Heroine. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1986). A proposed spin-off from "The Greatest American Hero" (ABC, 1981–83). Ralph Hinkley is a schoolteacher who was selected by aliens to battle evil as the Greatest American Hero. He is assisted by Bill Maxwell, a hot-headed FBI agent, and his girlfriend (later wife), Pamela.

In May of 1986 Ralph's true identity as the Greatest American Hero is revealed. Ralph becomes a celebrity — but the aliens who gave him the power are upset. They summon Ralph, Bill and Pamela. The alien leader tells Ralph that he is displeased. The suit that Ralph wears (his hero costume) must now be given to someone else so that crime can be battled in secret. Ralph learns that once the suit is given to someone else the world will forget that he was a superhero. Ralph suggests giving the suit to Bill, but the request is denied: "He is not the right type. Mr. Maxwell was always meant to serve as an associate. You will find someone and when you do you will know it." The aliens thank Ralph, Pam and Bill for all they have done and Ralph begins a quest to find his replacement.

Holly Hathaway is a young woman who is devoted to helping others. She is the foster parent of a seven-year-old girl (Sarah), runs a day care center and is the founder of the Freedom Life Foundation and an animal shelter called Anything's Pawsable. She cares.

She is honest, has a strong moral character and a healthy idealism. She is the girl Ralph chooses to become "The Greatest American Heroine."

Holly is teamed with Bill and their first (and only) assignment was in Newfoundland, where they investigated the illegal killing of whales. With added footage from its parent series, a 60-minute episode was culled and aired in syndication as part of The Greatest American Hero.

Cast: Mary Ellen Stuart (Holly Hathaway), Robert Culp (Bill Maxwell), Mya Akerling (Sarah). Guest Cast: William Katt (Ralph Hinkley), Connie Sellecca (Pamela Hinkley), Terry Porter (Bookkeeper), Wayne Grace (Whaler), John Zee (Alien leader).

3237 The Greatest Gift. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1954). The dramatic story of Eve Allen, a young doctor who returns from the Korean War to assume control of her late uncle's practice in a small American town. The series ran from August 30, 1954 to September 28, 1954.

Cast: Ann Burr (Dr. Eve Allen), Philip Foster (Dr. Phil Stone), Marion Russell (Lee Connor), Henry Barnard (Peter Blake), Josef Draper (Sam Drake), Helen Warren (Mrs. Blake), Peter Avramo (Johnny Ryan), Marvin Stephens (Captain Jameson), Henry Hamilton (John Leeds), Winston Ross (John Leeds), Jack Klugman (Jim Hanson), Jean Mann (Mrs. Eddy), Bill Mason (Nicky Randall), Hugh Thomas (Joe), Lee Saunders (Stubby), Joanna Ross (Emily), Bob Allen (Judge Parker), Janet Ward (Fran Allen), Mary Finney (Virginia Deering), Ward Costello (Ned Blackman), Frank Maxwell (Arthur), Woody Parker (Dick Steele), Doris Rich (Martha), Mary K. Wells (Lillian), Anne Meara (Harriet), Martin Balsam (Harold Matthews), Alan Stevenson (Martin Beal).

3238 The Greatest Gift. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 11/4/74). The pilot film for The Family Holvak. The story of Tom Holvak, a preacher struggling to provide a decent life for his family in the small town of Bensfield, Tennessee, in 1933. The pilot episode relates Tom's efforts to protect his small and dwindling congregation from a bullying sheriff. Other Regulars: Elizabeth, Tom's wife; Ramey, and Julie Mae, their children.

Cast: Glenn Ford (Reverend Tom Holvak), Julie Harris (Elizabeth Holvak), Lance Kerwin (Ramey Holvak), Cari Anne Warder (Julie Mae Holvak). Guest Cast: Harris Yulin (Hog Yancy), Charles Tynes (Amos Goodloe), Dabbs Greer (Deacon Hurd), Albert Smith (Eli Wiggins), Leslie Thorsen (Tincey Bell), Ken Renard (Abraham Morrison). Theme Vocal: "Look How Far We've Come" by Denny Brooks. Narrator: Burt Douglas. Note: In the series, Elizabeth Cheshire played the part of Julie Mae.

3239 Greatest Headlines of the Century. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1970). Events of world history are recalled through film clips. Because of its relatively short length (three minutes) the program is often seen as a filler (for example, when a movie runs short and a station needs something to fill time) and is therefore generally not listed as a series.

Narrator: Tom Hudson.

3240 Greatest Heroes of the Bible. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1978–1981). A series of dramatizations based on stories from the Old Testament. The series aired 10 episodes over a three-year period. It ran for 60 minutes, then 2 hours from November 19, 1978 to November 22, 1978, wherein four episodes aired. Three episodes aired from May 8, 1979 to May 22, 1979; two episodes aired back to back on July 26, 1981; and one episode aired on August 15, 1981.

Narrator: Victor Jory. Announcer: Brad Crandall.

3241 The Greatest Man on Earth. (Series; Game; ABC; 1952–1953). Five male contestants compete for the title “The Greatest Man on Earth.” Each contestant is nominated by a woman who assists him in various stunt and question-and-answer rounds. Each of the four rounds that are played is designed to eliminate one of the players. The last remaining player is the winner and crowned “The Greatest Man on Earth.”

Host: Ted Brown. Hostess: Vera Vague. Assistant: Pat Conway.

3242 The Greatest Show on Earth. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1963–1964). Dramatizations based on the problems faced by the performers of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus. Johnny Slate is the working boss; Otto King is the business manager.

During the shooting of the pilot episode, the following characters were regulars, but dropped when the series began: Louisa Johansen, the trapeze artist and Inge, Louisa’s mother. The series also incorporated name guests as circus performers: Annette Funicello, William Demarest, Cecil Kellaway, Lynn Loring, Ted Bessell, Buster Keaton, Joe E. Brown, Ricardo Montalban, Fabian Forte, Joan Blondell, Edgar Bergen, Yvonne DeCarlo, Dorothy Malone, Brenda Vaccaro, Steven Hill, Gilbert Roland, Bradford Dillman and Alejandro Rey (character names are listed in the cast).

Cast: Jack Palance (Johnny Slate), Stu Erwin (Otto King), Tuesday Weld (Louisa Johansen), Ruth Roman (Inge Johansen), William Woodson (Ringmaster), Barbara Pepper (Circus Fat Lady), Annette Funicello (Melanie Keller), William Demarest (Paul Keller; Melanie’s father), Cecil Kellaway (Doc Browne; Circus Veterinarian), Lynn Loring (Ivy Hatch), Ted Bessell (Loring Wagner), Buster Keaton (Pippo the Clown), Joe E. Brown (Diamond “Dimey” Vine the Clown), Ricardo Montalban (Gus Trikonnia; Aerialist), Fabian Forte (Aerialist), Joan Blondell (T.T. Hill), Edgar Bergen (McTavish), Yvonne DeCarlo (Magda Kolday; Fortune Teller), Dorothy Malone (Jeannie Gilbert; Aerialist), Brenda Vaccaro (Felicia Sartene; Aerialist), Steven Hill (Frank Sartene; Aerialist), Gilbert Roland (Papa Cesar Sartene; Aerialist), Bradford Dillman (Vito Fortunato; Aerialist), Alejandro Rey (Chico). Theme Song: “March of the Clowns” by Richard Rodgers.

3243 Greed. (Series; Game; Fox; 1999–2000). Five players compete, one of whom is designated as the captain (who has the option of quitting at any time and keep and divide what money has been won or risk everything to climb up the Greed Tower to win $2 million).

A question is read and six possible answers appear on a board. Each member of the team selects an answer they hope is correct (one of the answers on the board is wrong). After each player has made a selection the captain has the option of keeping the choices as they are or reject one and replace it with another of the answers on the board. The correct responses are revealed, one at a time. After three correct answers are revealed, the captain is offered a cash deal (for example, split $20,000 or go for the $200,000 question). If the offer is rejected, the money the team has won is at risk on the next answer. If any of the remaining answers to the question in play turn out to be wrong, the team loses everything and is eliminated.

If a team manages to climb the Tower of Greed and correctly answer all parts of the $1 million question, the next question is worth $2 million — but if any of the five answers chosen are wrong they win nothing. During each round (before a new question is asked) a sound called “The Terminator” is heard. A light randomly selects one player who is given an option: remain in the game and let it continue or try to win $10,000 by challenging one teammate (of his choice) to a one-question face off. If the challenge is taken, the two players appear onstage with the host (standing on opposite sides of them).

The question is read. The first player to sound a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. If he is correct he wins the money and the opponent is eliminated from further competition; if he is wrong he leaves the competition. This makes the Tower of Greed segment more difficult because the loss of one player (or more) means one of the remaining players has to give two (or more) responses for the questions asked. The only way for a player to win money and still lose the game is through the Terminator challenge (the money is safe).

Host: Chuck Woolery. Announcer: Mark Thompson.

3244 Greek. (Series; Drama; ABC Family; 2007–). A college themed series that focuses on a group of students who want more than just an education — “We want to have fun, meet people, grow up and find ourselves.” In actuality, their idea of college is joining a fraternity (or sorority) and downing Jell-O shots.

Fictional Cypress-Rhodes University in California is the setting and particular focus is on Rusty Cartwright, an anti-social freshman and his very social friendly sophomore sister, Casey (both of whom are from Chicago). Both find that college life may just be the best time of their lives.

Rusty joins Kappa Tau fraternity; Casey is a member of the prestigious Zeta Beta sorority. Casey knows how to fit in and be socially acceptable. She surrounds herself with the only the most beautiful girls on campus (who also happen to be members of Zeta Beta). She is charming, gorgeous but appears not to be that actively involved with the academic aspect of the school.

Rusty is a bit awkward but exceptionally intelligent (he is in the Honors Engineering Program). He feels his intelligence is hindering his ability to fit in.

Dale is Rusty’s roommate; Rebecca and Ashleigh are Zeta Beta girls; Beaver is a Kappa Tau brother.

Cast: Jacob Zachar (Rusty Cartwright), Spencer Grammer (Casey Cartwright), Jake McDorman (Evan), Amber Stevens (Ashleigh), Dilshad Vadsaria (Rebecca), Paul James (Calvin), Clark Duke (Dale), Aaron Hill (The Beaver), Jessica Rose (Ken K), Jhoanna Flores (Libby), Zack Lively (Heath), Derek Mio (Wade), Tiffany Dupont (Frannie).

3245 Green Acres. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1965–1971). Oliver Wendell Douglas is a New York lawyer with a lifelong dream of becoming a farmer. He grows corn on his Park Avenue patio and vegetables in his office desk drawer. But it is not enough. When he sees an ad for a farm for sale in the small town of Hooterville, he purchases it (the 160 acre Haney farm) sight unseen.

Oliver is married to a glamorous and sophisticated Hungarian woman named Lisa. Lisa is reluctant to leave her life of luxury but agrees to try “farm living” for six months. If she feels she cannot become a farmer’s wife, Oliver will move back to Park Avenue.

When Oliver and Lisa arrive at their farm (Green Acres), which is located four miles outside the town of Hooterville, Oliver sees his dream about to come true; Lisa sees it as it really is: a shabby, broken-down nightmare. Despite the farm’s appearance, Oliver is determined to make a go of it and become part of “the backbone of the American economy.”

Oliver attended Harvard Law School and was a fighter pilot during World War II. He and Lisa live in a historic Hooterville landmark, the home and birthplace of Rutherford B. Skrug, “the founder of the great state of Hooterville.” Oliver is a member of the Hooterville Fire Department Band and has his mind made up to be a farmer. (He constantly makes his farmer’s speech: “It is the dream of my life to buy a farm, move away from the city, plow my own fields, get my hands dirty, sweat and strain to make things grow. To join hands with other farmers, the backbone of the American economy...”).

Lisa is the only person who hears a fife playing when Oliver gives his patriotic speech. She calls the town “Hootersville” and has a cow named Eleanor and a group of chickens she calls “the girls.”

Eb Dawson, Oliver’s farmhand, has a poster of his hero, Hoot Gibson, on his bedroom wall, and he calls Oliver “Dad.” Eb has a second job, standing in for Stuff, Oliver’s scarecrow, when he goes to the neighboring town of Pixley for lunch.

Sam Drucker, the owner of the town’s general store, publishes the community’s only newspaper, the Hooterville World Guardian, and is its postmaster (their zip code is 40516), as well.

Farmers Fred and Doris Ziffel are the “parents” of Arnold the pig, the most colorful resident of Hooterville. Unable to have children, the Ziffels raised Arnold as their son (his official name is Arnold Ziffel). Arnold is in the third grade, drinks lime soda, has tea with Lisa, predicts the weather with his tail and gets “the shys” in front of beautiful women.

Mr. Haney, the valley’s con artist (who sold Oliver Green Acres), is a member of the Hooterville Chamber of Commerce and the chairman of the Bringing Outside Money into Hooterville Committee. Haney, who works out of his truck (and will sell anything to make a dollar) has a wooden Indian named Irving Two Smokes.

Hank Kimball is the forgetful state agricultural representative; Alf and Ralph Monroe are the inept brother and sister carpenters Oliver hired to repair Green Acres.

Hooterville, according to a sign at the train station, has an elevation of 1,427 feet. An 1890s steam engine, coal car and mail/baggage/passenger coach called the Cannonball Express services the area.

On May 18, 1990, CBS presented the television movie, Return to Green Acres. After years of frustration, Oliver sells Green Acres back to Mr. Haney, and he and Lisa return to their penthouse at 255 Park Avenue in New York City. However, when Oliver learns that the Armstrong Development Company is planning to turn Hooterville into a modern development, he and Lisa return to the town to represent the people. When Oliver wins the case and realizes he still loves Hooterville, he buys back Green Acres.

The original cast recreated their roles, with the exception of Fred and Doris Ziffel (who had passed away). Their lovely niece, Daisy Ziffel (Mary Tanner), inherited the farm and Arnold (Frank Welker was credited as “Arnold’s voice”). Mr. Haney, still a con artist, runs a hotel called Haney’s House of Hospitality. Sam has a new sign in his store that reads credit cards not accepted. Eb is now married to Flo (Lucy Lee Flippin) and the father of a teenage son named Jeb (Mark Ballou).

Cast: Eddie Albert (Oliver Douglas), Eva Gabor (Lisa Douglas), Tom Lester (Eb Dawson), Pat Buttram (Mr. Haney), Frank Cady (Sam Drucker), Alvy Moore (Hank Kimball), Hank Patterson (Fred Ziffel), Barbara Pepper (Doris Ziffel), Fran Ryan (Doris Ziffel; later), Kay E. Kuter (Newt Kiley, a farmer), Sid Melton (Alf Monroe), Mary Grace Canfield (Ralph Monroe), Edgar Buchanan (Joe Carson, Sam's friend), Eleanor Audley (Eunice Douglas, Oliver's mother), Judy McConnell (Darlene Wheeler, Eb's girlfriend), Robert Foulk (Matt Wheeler, Darlene's father), Rick Lenz (Brian Williams, Oliver's law partner), Robert Foulk (Roy Trendell, a farmer), Victoria Meyerink (Lori Baker; girl visiting Oliver and Lisa), Merie Earle (Sarah, the telephone operator), Mona Burns (Lottie Wheeler), Victor Baldwin (Grandpappy Miller), Lilia Skala (Lisa's Mother), Bill Zuckert (Sheriff), Jackie J. Jones (Young Oliver). Theme Vocal: "Green Acres" by Eddie Albert, Eva Gabor.

3246 Green Dolphin Beat. (Pilot; Crime Drama; Fox; 6/27/94). Terry Latner, John King, Joe Keller and Ron Marchek are four of the homicide detectives with the Green Dolphin Precinct, a police station established in 1925, that is located in a crime-ridden Los Angeles neighborhood. The unsold series was to relate their attempts to solve various crimes. The pilot episode focuses on Terry and John as they seek the murderer of a former prostitute (Ty Martin) who was also their friend.

Other Regulars: Officer Linda Rodriguez; the Desk Sergeant (no name given) and Captain Juan Garcia.

Cast: John Wesley Shipp (Terry Latner), Jeffrey Sams (John King), Troy Evans (Joe Keller), John Lavachielli (Ron Marchek), Miguel Sandoval (Juan Garcia), Melanie Smith (Linda Rodriguez), Cali Timmins (Desk sergeant). Guest Cast: Linda Hoffman (Ty Martin), Robin Mattson (Prostitute), Clifton Powell (Jo Jo Adams), Brent Strait (Jackson), Kip Harvey (Rupemstiltskin), John Vargas (Luis), Colleen Vinton (Elaine), Leslie Ewen (Ms. Williams), Elizabeth Leslie (Connie), Dolores Drake (Waitress).

3247 The Green Felt Jungle. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 4/1/65). A proposed series about Paul Maytric, a small town district attorney who has waged a personal war on crime to avenge the death of his wife (who died in a bombing meant to kill him). The pilot episode relates Paul's efforts to bring his wife's killers to justice. Broadcast as a segment of Kraft Suspense Theater.

Cast: Leslie Nielsen (Paul Maytric). Guest Cast: Macdonald Carey (Eloner Pike), Indus Arthur (Elizabeth Pike), Richard Conte (Jack Sallas), Larry Pennell (Sergeant Phil Scanlon), Michael Pate (Johnny Slato), William Edward Phipps (Frank), Nick Alexander (Marty), Inez Pedroza (Conchita Rivero).

3248 The Green Hornet. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1966–1967). The Daily Sentinel is considered the greatest crusading newspaper in America. It is published by Dan Reid, a man who uses the paper as a means by which to bring criminals to justice. Dan, however, is past retirement age and his only heir, his son Britt Reid is a playboy who squanders money and has no sense of responsibility.

In an effort to change Britt, Dan hands over ownership of the paper to him. He then hires Mike Axford, an ex-cop turned reporter, to secretly watch over Britt's activities.

Britt is, at first, reluctant to take the job until he learns about his great-grand-uncle, John Reid (alias the Lone Ranger). Britt's carefree attitude suddenly changes as he becomes instilled with a desire to help people in trouble and bring criminals to justice.

Believing that criminals are superstitious and cowardly, Britt devises a scheme to become the mysterious crime fighter, the Green Hornet. He chooses the symbol of the green hornet because it is the insect that is most deadly when aroused. His costume, however, is nothing extraordinary — a black suit, black hat and green mask. He reveals his secret identity to Kato, his Asian houseboy, who assists him as the Hornet's aide (Kato's outfit is a black chauffeur's costume and black mask); his secretary, Lenore Case; and Frank Scanlon, the D.A.

The Green Hornet and Kato, however, are considered criminals and wanted by the police. To avoid capture they avenge crimes as semi-fugitives, rather than a law enforcement organization, and always disappear before the police arrive.

As Britt Reid, Britt drives a white sports car; as the Green Hornet, he and Kato ride in the Black Beauty, a 1966 Chrysler Imperial that is equipped with a number of gadgets (rocket firing capabilities front and rear; a smoke screen button and a knockout gas emissions control). The Hornet's weapon of choice is a knockout gas gun to subdue suspects; Kato incorporates his skills in the martial arts.

When crime doesn't make sense, as to the why or the how, Britt feels it is time for the Green Hornet to act.

The program opens with these words (spoken by William Dozier): "Another challenge for the Green Hornet, his aide Kato, and their rolling arsenal, the Black Beauty. On police record, a wanted criminal, the Green Hornet is really Britt Reid, owner/publisher of the Daily Sentinel. His dual identity, known only to his secretary and the district attorney. And now, to protect the rights and lives of decent citizens, rides the Green Hornet."

Cast: Van Williams (Britt Reid/Green Hornet), Bruce Lee (Kato), Lloyd Gough (Mike Axford), Walter Brooke (Frank Scanlon), Wende Wagner (Lenore Case), Sheila Leighton (Scanlon's Secretary), Gary Owens (TV Newscaster). Announcer: Gary Owens. Theme Music Performer: "Flight of the Bumble Bee" by The Billy May Orchestra. Theme Trumpet Solo: Al Hirt.

3249 Greetings from Tucson. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2002–2003). The Tiant family is an ethnically mixed, upwardly mobile family who live in Tucson, Arizona. Joaquin, a Mexican-American, heads the family. He is married to Elizabeth (who is Irish) and they are the parents of Maria and David, teenagers who attend San Demo High School. Also living with them is Magdalena, Joaquin's free-spirited mother (she previously lived in a senior citizen's home).

Rounding out the family are Ernesto, Joaquin's brother, a dog catcher who has been married three times and is now the single father of young Daniel.

Stories focus on the events in the lives of the Tiant family as seen through the eyes of David as he faces the challenges of life.

David is proud of his family's heritage. Maria, on the other hand, is suffering from an identity crisis and rejects her Mexican roots, telling those who ask that her family is Spanish. She is a cheerleader at school and has a bad habit of lying. Sarah Tobin is David's friend, who also happens to be his next-door neighbor. Sarah is Episcopalian (David is Catholic); her parents own the Sunrise Video Store.

Cast: Julio Mechoso (Joaquin Tiant), Rebecca Creskoff (Elizabeth Tiant), Aimee Garcia (Maria Tiant), Pablo Santo (David Tiant), Lupe Ontiveros (Magdalena Tiant), Jacob Vargas (Ernesto Tiant), Sara Paxton (Sarah Tobin), Bobby Chavez (Daniel Tiant).

3250 Greg the Bunny. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2002). It is estimated that in the United States there are 3.2 million "fabricated Americans" (puppets) who live with humans. These puppets are just like humans and want the same things humans want. Greg the Bunny, one of the stars of the TV series Sweet Knuckle Junction, is the puppet given particular focus and stories follow events in his life as he crusades for fabricated American rights and better his position in life.

Gil Bender is the harassed director of the TV show. Gil's son, Jimmy, is the production assistant (a gopher) who also acts as Greg the Bunny's agent. Junction Jack is the human host of the TV show; Dottie Sunshine is Jack's very human assistant, a gorgeous girl who made "a naughty video" (wherein she stripped for her boyfriend) called "To Ira with Love."

Allison Kaiser is a Yale School graduate who worked for an investment firm but quit to become a network executive. Count Freddie Blah is the fabricated American vampire on the TV show; and Warren Demontaque is the puppet with aspirations to become a Shakespearian actor.

Cast: Eugene Levy (Gil Bender), Seth Green (Jimmy Bender), Dan Milano (Greg the Bunny; voice), Dina Waters (Dottie Sunshine), Sarah Silverman (Alison Kaiser), Bob Gunton (Junction Jack), Drew Massey (Count Freddie Blah; voice), James Murray (Susan Monster; voice), Victor Yerrid (Tardy Turtle; voice).

3251 The Gregory Harrison Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/31/89). The Sean Evans Studio is a photography company run by Sean Evans, the divorced father of two young boys (Sam and Matthew). The unsold series was to relate Sam's efforts to divide his time between a very busy schedule and raising his children. Other Regulars: Cecile, Sean's mother; and Annie, Sean's assistant.

Cast: Gregory Harrison (Sean Evans), Jane Leeves (Annie), Billy O'Sullivan (Matthew Evans), Kurt-Christopher Kinder (Sam Evans), Doris Roberts (Cecile Evans). Guest Cast: Eva Gabor (Rhonda Haines), Pierre Epstein (Morris), Fabiana Udenio (Fabiana), Henry Sutton (Henry), Marlise Richards (Gwendolyn), Jill Klein (Madame de la Croix).

3252 The Gregory Hines Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1997). Ben Stevenson is a widower and the father of Matty, his 12-year-old son. Ben works at the publishing house, Home Court Press and has been raising Matty on his own since the death of his wife 18 months ago. Ben had given up his social life to devote his time to Matty but now feels it is time to look for another mate. It is also at this time that Matty begins to notice girls — and likes what he sees. Stories follow Ben as he reintroduces himself to the dating world while at the same time keeping an extra sharp eye out on Matty, now that he is "out there."

Other Regulars: James, Ben's father; Carl, Ben's brother; Alex, Ben's co-worker; Angela, their assistant; Nicole, Alex's wife (who owns a restaurant called Nicole's); and Paige, Matty's friend. Gregory Hines sings the theme, "The Main Title from the Gregory Hines Show."

Cast: Gregory Hines (Ben Stevenson), Brandon Hammond (Matty Stevenson), Bill Cobbs (James Stevenson), Mark Tymchyshyn (Alex Moran), Robin Riker (Nicole Moran), Judith Shelton (Angela), Angeliq Parry (Paige).

3253 Greyhounds. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/24/94). Chance Wayne is a retired San Diego County sheriff; Robert Smith is a retired judge; Akira Mochizuka is a former San Diego Police Department coroner; and John Dolan is a con artist Chance arrested and Robert sentenced to prison. Together they are the Greyhounds, old timers who team to do what the youngsters can't — solve crimes. The pilot episode relates their efforts to find Evan Long, a criminal responsible for the death of a friend — and the man whom the Feds are seeking in connection with a government train robbery.

Other Regulars: Annie Smith, Robert's daughter; and Jo Jo Golina, the assistant U.S. Attorney they help.

3254 Grey's Anatomy. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2005–). Seattle Grace Hospital is the setting for a look at the personal and professional lives of five surgical interns: Meredith Grey, Cristina Yang, Isobel Stevens, Alex Karev and George O'Malley.

Meredith is the daughter of renowned surgeon Ellis Grey. Ellis is suffering from a devastating illness and this overshadows Meredith's ambitions. She is attempting to care for her mother while at the same time deal with the intense pressure of work.

Cristina is highly competitive and driven and refuses to accept favors from anyone. She is determined to make it on her own. Cristina is also determined to be the best surgeon she can be and seeks the medical assignments that will give her that advantage.

Isobel, called Izzie, is a small-town girl who paid for her medical education by performing as a lingerie model. She too is determined to make it on her own without help from anyone.

George is insecure and has a knack for doing or saying the wrong thing. He is the most laid back of the interns and often does what is asked of him with little resentment.

Alex is the most arrogant of the interns. He is ambitious and often balks at having to do jobs that he feels are beneath him.

Miranda Bailey is the senior resident in charge of interns. Her tough exterior has earned her the nickname "The Nazi." Derek Shepherd is the flirtatious surgeon; Preston Burke is arrogant but a skilled surgeon; Dr. Richard Webber is the chief of surgery.

Cast: Ellen Pompeo (Dr. Meredith Grey), Sandra Oh (Dr. Cristina Yang), Katherine Heigl (Dr. Isobel "Izzie" Stevens), Justin Chambers (Dr. Alex Karev), T.R. Knight (Dr. George O'Malley), Chandra Wilson (Dr. Miranda Bailey), James Pickens, Jr. (Dr. Richard Webber), Patrick Dempsey (Dr. Derek Shepherd), Isaiah Washington (Dr. Preston Burke), Sarah Utterback (Nurse Olivia Harper), Kate Walsh (Dr. Addison Montgomery-Shepherd), Sara Ramirez (Dr. Callie Torres), Eric Dane (Dr. Mark Sloan), Kate Burton (Ellis Grey), Moe Irvin (Nurse Tyler Christian), Jeffrey Dean Morgan (Denny Duquette), Linda Klein (Nurse Linda), Chris O'Donnell (Dr. Finn Dandridge), Mare Winningham (Susan Grey), Kali Rocha

3255 Griff. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1973–1974). Wade Griffin is a former police captain with the Parker Center Division of the Los Angeles Police Department. When it comes time for him to retire, Wade doesn't give up his desire to help people and capture criminals. It is something he has done all his life and he wants to continue doing it. He rents an office at 19734 Mays Street in Westwood, California and begins his own business — Wade Griffin Investigations.

Wade may be a bit older than other private detectives, but he is also a bit wiser and his years of experience on the force give him the edge he needs to solve cases that are, at times, more complex than simply investigating a husband cheating on his wife case.

When Wade was a police officer he carried badge number 26 and loved working with children in the PAL (Police Athletic League). He also continues this tradition as a volunteer with the local Boys' Club.

Wade does not do all his investigative work alone ("that would be too much at times," he says). He has hired Mike Murdock, a young, aggressive private detective to assist him. Mike took the job to gain experience from the best but also finds that being impetuous does not always pay off (as it results in confrontations from the enemy).

Wade is relaxed and careful in his approach (although if he gets angry enough, a rarely seen tough side will emerge). He is trying to instill that quality in Mike.

Grace Newcombe is Wade's secretary; Barney Marcus replaced Wade as the new police captain. Wade's favorite eatery is Farino's Restaurant. Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed the "Griff" theme.

Cast: Lorne Greene (Wade Griffin), Ben Murphy (Mike Murdock), Patricia Stich (Grace Newcombe), Vic Tayback (Barney Marcus), Jared Martin (Dr. Ray Rayburn).

3256 The Grim Adventures of Billy and Mandy. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2006–2007). The re-titled version of Grim and Evil. See this title for information.

3257 Grim and Evil. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2002–2006). The overall title for two separate animated series. In the first one, The Grim Adventures of Billy and Mandy, the Grim Reaper loses a bet and must pay the consequences of performing a good deed by becoming the playmate for two children: Billy, a cherry but dim-witted boy, and Mandy, a devious little girl (both of whom call him Grim). This segment also parodies stories with Billy and Mandy becoming the main characters they are spoofing.

The second segment, Evil Cancarne deals with Hector Cancarne, an evil man who plots to take over the world. Unfortunately for Hector, his body exploded and his brain was placed in a jar. He now relies on Boscoe, a simple-minded bear to do his bidding — all the physical tasks he is no longer able to do. The series is also known as The Grim Adventures of Billy and Mandy (when revised without the Evil Cancarne segment to devote a full half hour to Grim's misadventures with Mandy and Billy).

Voice Cast: Greg Eagles (Grim Reaper), Grey DeLisle (Mandy), Richard Steven Horvitz (Billy), Jane Carr (Puddin'), Vanessa Marshall (Irwin), Dee Bradley Baker (Mandy's father), Jennifer Hale (Billy's mother), Rachael MacFarlane (Mindy), Renee Raudman (Ms. Butterbean), Maxwell Atoms (Cod Commando), Diedrich Bader (Hoss Delgado), Chris Cox (Princess Goodvibes).

3258 Grindl. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1963–1964). A woman, known only as Grindl, is a maid with the Foster Employment Agency in New York City. While Grindl is good at her job, she is a bit trouble-prone and tends to find herself in unwanted situations when her antics complicate matters for her new, temporary employers (Grindl only wants to help, but she tends to become over zealous and involves herself in situations that she shouldn't, making her agency boss, Anson Foster, a nervous wreck as he attempts to resolve the situations she has caused). Stories follow Grindl on her various temporary job assignments as she does what she does best — meddle.

Cast: Imogene Coca (Grindl), James Millhollin (Anson Foster).

3259 The Groovie Goolies. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1971–1972). A spin-off from Sabrina and the Groovie Goolies that drops the characters of Sabrina, the Teenage Witch, her cat Salem and her aunts Hilda and Zelda.

Stories are set at Horrible Hall, an ancient, spider web-covered castle where a group of creatures (who resemble movie monsters of the 1930s) live (Franklin "Frankie" Frankenstein, Wolfgang "Wolfie" Wolfman, Orville Mummy, Tom "Drac" Dracula, Bella Love [female vampire] and the two-faced Dr. Jekyll/Mr. Hyde). The creatures are musically inclined (they have formed a band called The Groovie Goolies) but are also prankish and play jokes on each other. Stories relate their endless antics.

Voice Cast: Howard Morris (Frankenstein), Howard Morris (Wolfman), Howard Morris (Mummy), Larry Storch (Dracula), Larry D. Mann (Dr. Jekyll/Mr. Hyde), Jane Webb (Bella Love).

3260 Grosse Pointe. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2000–2001). Grosse Pointe is a mythical television series about high school students who attend Grosse Pointe High School in the mythical town of Grosse Pointe. It is written by Hope Lustig and Rob Fields and it airs on a real network (the WB). The mythical Grosse Pointe is a drama; the real Grosse Pointe (the actual series) is a comedy about the traumas the cast and crew of a drama face. Principal focus is on the series three female stars: Hunter, Courtney and Marcy.

Hunter plays Becky; Courtney is Laura; and Marcy, a Jewish girl, plays Kim, a Catholic on the show.

Hunter is the most experienced of the actresses. She has appeared on network series like Blossom and had auditioned for an Oliver Stone movie called The Monica Lewinski Story (but lost the role to Reese Witherspoon). Hunter has a problem with shoplifting and feels that her small breasts are the reason why she loses roles to other actresses.

Courtney delights in the fact that she has a large bosom and has become an international star (in Japan, where Grosse Pointe is a big hit, she is called "Miss Big Breasts"). Courtney also starred in the University of Arizona production of A Doll's House and was cast on Grosse Pointe to add sex to the series (her breasts were said to improve the show's ratings by 22 per cent). Nude pictures of Courtney appeared in a Playpen magazine layout called "Courtney's Grand Tetons."

Marcy is the most sensitive of the girls. She says that the audience for her show "is mostly teenage girls and gay men." She is very careful about what she eats (she knows the calorie count for everything) and she fears gaining weight may cost her job (as she is the head cheerleader and a role model for teenage girls in the audience).

Other Regulars: Johnny Bishop (plays Bradley on the show); Quentin King (plays Stone on the show); and Dave May, Johnny's stand-in.

Cast: Irene Molloy (Hunter Fallow), Bonnie Somerville (Courtney Scott), Lindsay Sloane (Marcy Sternfeld), Al Santos (Johnny Bishop), Kohl Sudduth (Quentin King), William Ragsdale (Rob Fields), Joely Fisher (Hope Lustig), Kyle Howard (Dave May).

3261 Grounded for Life. (Series; Comedy; Fox; WB; 2001–2005). Are Sean and Claudia Finnerty raising their children (Lily, Jimmy and Henry) or are their children raising them? It seems at times that the children are wiser than their parents.

Sean and Claudia are high school sweethearts who married shortly after graduation. Claudia worked as a waitress before becoming pregnant (with Lily). Sean first worked "in a dump" as a sanitation landfill supervisor, then as an electrician and finally as a construction supervisor for the New York Subway System. When he felt he could no longer work for someone else, he quit and opened a bar called the Red Boot Pub with his scheming brother Eddie. Sean and Claudia were immature in high school and they often appear immature as parents.

Lily, Jimmy and Henry attend a Catholic school called St. Finian's. Lily is not easily motivated but she is the most outrageous of the children. As a teenager, she delights in wearing very sexy clothes and in showing cleavage (she copies her mother and believes cleavage gets her what she wants from the opposite sex). She wants to be independent and is often very defiant of her parents. Lily is also not a good role model for teenage girls; she not only flaunts her sexuality, but, at age 16, she had sexual relations.

Jimmy is fascinated by his Uncle Eddie (a real bad influence on the kids for his unethical ways) and appears to be following in his footsteps. Henry is the youngest child and the least outgoing. He usually does what he is told and little impresses him.

Other Regulars: Walt Finnerty, Sean's father; Dean Peramotti, Lily's boyfriend; and Sister Helen, the principal of St. Finian's (where Lily and Henry are not model students).

Cast: Donal Logue (Sean Finnerty), Megyn Price (Claudia Finnerty), Lynsey Bartilson (Lily Finnerty), Griffin Frazen (Jimmy Finnerty), Jake Burbage (Henry Finnerty), Kevin Corrigan (Eddie Finnerty), Richard Riehle (Walt Finnerty), Bret Harrison (Brad O'Keefe), Mike Vogen (Dean Peramotti), Miriam Flynn (Sister Helen).

3262 Groundling Marsh. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1997). Groundling Marsh is a serene community on the outskirts of a large city. Here the residents are ecology-minded and care deeply for the Earth's environment. Echo is the wisest member of the community. He has the ability to talk to Nature and is also a storyteller. It is through his tales that two children, Maggie (a prankster) and Galileo (an adventurer) learn about the environment and what they can do to help. Mud/Slinger is the two-headed inventor; Stacks is Galileo's computer.

Voice Cast: James Rankin (Eco), Wende Welch (Maggie), Gord Robertson (Galileo), Stephen Brathwaite (Mud), Fred Stinson (Slinger), James Rackin (Stacks).

3263 Growing Pains. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1985–1992). At 15 Robin Hood Lane in Huntington, Long Island, New York, lives the Seaver family: parents Jason and Maggie, and their children, Mike, Carol, Ben and Chrissy.

Jason Roland Seaver and Margaret ("Maggie") Malone, who is 13 months older than Jason, first met at Boston College (where Jason was a member of the rock group the Wild Hots). Jason, a psychology major, and Maggie, a journalism major, married shortly after graduation. When the series begins, Jason is just leaving his position as a doctor of psychology at Long Island General Hospital to open a private practice from his home. Maggie worked as a researcher for Newsweek magazine for two years before giving up her career to raise a family; she is now returning to work as a reporter for the Long Island Daily Herald. Maggie later becomes a reporter for Channel 19's "Action News" (she works here as Maggie Malone) and a columnist for the Long Island Sentinel (she writes the column "Maggie Malone, Consumer Watchdog"). In later episodes, Jason also does volunteer work for the Free Clinic to help the people of his community.

Mike, the oldest child, first attended Dewey High School, then Alf Landon Junior College and finally Boynton State College. He had aspirations of becoming an actor and starred in the Dewey High production of Our Town. His first professional acting job was on the television series New York Heat as Officer Bukarski (who was killed off; Mike's name was misspelled in the credits as Michael Weaver). Mike was also a member of the Alf Landon Drama Club and starred with his girlfriend, Kate McDonald (Chelsea Noble), in the play The Passion. Mike next landed a role on the TV soap opera Big City Secrets before he found an interest in teaching. Although Mike hated high school and was the number one problem student, he acquired a job as a teacher of remedial studies at the learning annex of the Community Health Center.

Carol Ann is the second-born child. She is sensitive, very smart and very pretty, but wishes she could shed her brainy image and be thought of as "dangerous, provocative and sexy. Not the kind of girl who is voted recording secretary, left in charge of the class when the teacher leaves and immaculate." Carol first attended Dewey High School, then Columbia University in Manhattan. She dropped out of Columbia in 1990 to take a job as a computer page breaker at GSM Publishing. The following year, she returned to Columbia to study law. In late 1991 to early 1992 episodes, Carol is said to be in London attending school. In real life, Tracey Gold had been suffering from anorexia nervosa, an eating disorder (she took a break from the series on doctor's orders). The episode of 2/29/92 was dedicated to Tracey and ended with the words "We miss you, Tracey." (Tracey rejoined the cast when Carol returned from England in the episode of 4/11/92.) Elizabeth Ward played Carol in the original, unaired pilot version of the series.

Ben is the third-born child. He first attended Wendell Willkie Elementary School, then Dewey High — where he had the potential to surpass Mike as the worst problem student ever. A very pretty but bossy girl named Laura Lynn (Jodi Peterson) was Ben's girlfriend during the 1989–90 season. His full name is Benjamin Hubert Humphrey Seaver.

Christine, affectionately called Chrissy, is the youngest member of the family. She is an adorable six-year-old, who, despite the bad influence of Mike and Ben, appears to be following in Carol's footsteps. She was born at 12:30 A.M. and weighed eight pounds four ounces. Chrissy attends the Parkway Preschool (then Greenway Elementary School). Chrissy was originally an infant (played by twins Kristen and Kelsey Dohring); in the episode of 9/19/90, the character of Chrissy was advanced to the age of six and played by Ashley Johnson.

In the series' last first-run episode (4/25/92), Maggie accepts a job in Washington, D.C., as the executive director of media relations for an unseen senator. Jason, Maggie, Ben and Chrissy relocate; Carol moves into the dorm at Columbia University; and Mike remains in his apartment over the Seavers' garage (he mentions that he "has to break in new landlords").

Other Regulars: Julie Costello (Julie McCullough), a sophomore at Columbia University (majoring in child psychology), was the Seavers' nanny (for Chrissy) and Mike's first steady girlfriend. In 1987, when they break up, Julie apparently quit school to become a waitress at the La Village Restaurant. Richard ("Boner") Stabone (Josh A. Koenig) is Mike's best friend and comrade in misadventure. He was replaced in 1990 by Edward ("Eddie") Cornelius Zeff (K.C. Martel). Tina Louise (played by Melissa Young) is Eddie's flaky girlfriend, a hatcheck girl. Luke Brower (Leonardo DiCaprio) is the homeless teenager befriended by Mike.

Relatives: Jane Powell (Jason's mother, Irma Seaver), Gordon Jump (Maggie's father, Ed Malone), Betty McGuire (Maggie's mother, Kate Malone), James Callahan (Jason's uncle, Bob), Ruth Silveira (Boner's mother), Richard Marion (Boner's father), Gary Grubbs (Luke's father, George Brower; he deserted the family years ago).

Flashbacks: Judith Barsi (Carol age four), Victor DiMattia (Mike age five).

Flash Forwards: Khristyne Haje (Chrissy age 18). Theme: "We've Got Each Other," vocal by B.J. Thomas and Jennifer Warnes (later by B.J. Thomas and Dusty Springfield). See also the spin-off series Just the 10 of Us.

Cast: Alan Thicke (Jason Seaver), Joanna Kerns (Maggie Seaver), Kirk Cameron (Mike Seaver), Tracey Gold (Carol Seaver), Jeremy Miller (Ben Seaver), Ashley Johnson (Chrissy Seaver).

3264 Growing Paynes. (Series; Comedy; DuMont; 1948–1949). A live comedy about incidents in the lives of the Payne family: George, the father, an insurance salesman; his wife, Laraine; and their son, John. The series, which aired on DuMont from January 19, 1949 to August 3, 1949, originally aired locally in New York (WABD-TV) from October 20, 1948 to January 12, 1949.

Cast: John Harvey (George Payne; local version), Ed Holmes (George Payne; network version), Judy Parrish (Laraine Payne; local version), Elaine Stritch (Laraine Payne; network version), David Anderson (David Payne; both versions), Ann Sullivan (Birdie, the maid; both versions).

3265 Growing Up Creepie. (Series; Cartoon; Discovery Kids; 2006). Creepie is not as creepy as her name implies. She is a young girl who was abandoned as an infant and placed on the doorstep of the creepy, abandoned Dweezwold Mansion. She was taken in by a family of bugs and taught their ways. Naturally the girl, named Creepie, believes she is a bug, not a human, and will shed her human form and morph into a bug. In the meantime, Creepie has entered the human world and is now attending school. She has made some friends but she must keep her real life secret as well as where she lives a secret (she fears if anyone learns the truth about her she will be taken away from her family and the mansion would be fumigated). Stories follow Creepie as she struggles to accept the fact that she is human in a world that she really doesn't understand. Caroleena, a praying mantis, is Creepie's mother; Vinnie, the mosquito (who dresses like Dracula) is her father.

Voices: Athena Karkanis (Creepie), David Bernie, Stephanie Mills, Richard Yearwood.

3266 Growing Up Gotti. (Series; Reality; A&E; 2004). Victoria Gotti is a successful writer and hails from a family (the notorious Gottis) that are reputed to be associated with the underworld. Victoria is the daughter of John Gotti and is now the divorced mother of three children (Frank, John and Carmine). The 40-episode series charts the lives of Victoria and her sons as they go about living as normal a life as possible. Also appearing (and credited only by a first name) are Robert, Victoria's assistant (Victoria is also a TV correspondent and tabloid writer) and Luigi, Victoria's handyman.

Cast: Victoria Gotti, Frank Angello, Carmine Angello, John Angello.

3267 Grown Ups. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/2/95). Howie Morgan is a doctor; his wife, Julie is a dance instructor. They are the parents of Amy, Dave and Billy (an infant) and the proposed series was to follow their efforts to combine their busy careers with the responsibility of raising their children. In the pilot episode, Howie and Julie attempt to celebrate their anniversary despite a barrage of obstacles that ruin their plans for an intimate evening together.

Cast: Howie Mandel (Howie Morgan), Marietta DePrima (Julie Morgan), Sydney DeBear (Amy Morgan), Bradley Pierce (David Morgan). Guest Cast: Lance Guest (Martin), Dave Flonek (Ed), Shonda Whipple (Debbie).

3268 Grown Ups. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1999–2000). J. Calvin Frazier is a young man who lives in Chicago. He is the regional distributor for a corrugated cardboard box company (Calvin later quits cardboard boxes and becomes an Internet entrepreneur for Celluron, a computer company).

Calvin believes everything is perfect and wants the glory of every situation. Unfortunately, what he believes is not exactly what he gets. What he gets is the misadventure that every situation has to offer. Stories follow Calvin as he struggles to cope with the situations life throws at him.

Calvin is a graduate of Jackson High School. As a kid he had a dog named Fluffy and was a fan of the comic book "Ant Eater Man." Calvin lives in Apartment 201 with Robin Carlucci, a gorgeous lesbian who believes Calvin is gay (when Calvin's original roommate moved to Florida, Calvin discovered he was gay. When Calvin's friend Shari told her friend Robin of an apartment opening, Robin misunderstood Shari and believed Calvin was gay — the only reason why she becomes Calvin's roommate).

Gordon, a lawyer for the firm of Hamilton, Baird and Green, is Calvin's life-long friend. He is married to Shari. The gang's hangout is the Horney Frog, a bar.

Cast: Jaleel White (J. Calvin Frazier), Dave Ruby (Gordon Hamail), Marissa Ribisi (Shari Hamail), Soleil Moon Frye (Robin Carlucci), Michele Mehafey (Phyllis), Tammy Townsend (Melissa).

3269 Grudge Match. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1991). A person with a score to settle meets the person he has a dispute with in the Grudge Match Arena. A bout, usually boxing or wrestling, is held with the two going at each other in an attempt to let off steam. Matches are held just like in real situations, only here they are played for laughs (for example, boxers wearing oversized gloves; using foam bats).

Hosts: Jesse Ventura, Steve Albert. Hostess: Paula McClure. Referee: John Pinette. Ringside Announcer: Michael Buffer. Grudge Buster: Michael Stern.

3270 Gruen Guild Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; ABC; DuMont; 1951–1952). A series of varying presentations, including drama, comedy and fantasy, sponsored by Gruen Watches. The series ran on ABC from September 27, 1951 to December 20, 1951; and on Dumont from March 27, 1952 to September 23, 1952; 26 episodes were produced.

Performers Include: Bonita Granville, Bruce Cabot, Cameron Mitchell, Alan Mowbray, Dane Clark, Ann Rutherford, Marjorie Reynolds, Raymond Burr, Randy Stuart, John Hoyt, Craig Stevens, Elisabeth Fraser, Patrick O'Neal, Francis Ford, Vincent Price, Buddy Ebsen, Andrea King, Cesar Romero, Steve Brodie, Shirley Jones, Ludwig Donath, Robert Hutton, Ann Dvorak, Billy Gray.

3271 Grunt and Punt. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 10/29/94). Grunt, an aggressive pig, and Punt, an easy-going bear, are press box commentators who offer the play-by-play of the National Football League games (seen in clips). The program also combines animation with live action for interviews with football players and a segment on bloopers.

Voices: Alan Blumenfield (Grunt), Darryl Hammond (Punt).

3272 The Guardian. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2001–2002). Nick Fallin is a highly paid, well-dressed corporate attorney. He lives the good life and part of that life is drugs — an indulgence that almost costs him his freedom when he is busted. Nick, however, is not given jail time. Instead (to teach him a lesson about responsibility), he is given a hefty fine, three years probation and ordered to serve 1500 hours of community service for a non-profit agency called Children's Legal Services (he is, in effect, a guardian of children). Stories follow Nick as he reluctantly does his job — protecting children.

Other Regulars: Alvin Masterson, the head of the Children's Legal Services; and Burton Fallin, Nick's father, head of the law firm.

Cast: Simon Baker (Nick Fallin), Alan Rosenberg (Alvin Masterson), Dabney Coleman (Burton Fallin), Raphael Sbarge (Jake Strake), Wendy Moniz (Louisa "Lulu" Archer), Erica Leerhsen (Amanda Bowles), Charles Malik Whitfield (James Mooney).

3273 Guess Again. (Series; Game; CBS; 1951). A skit is performed on stage by a group of actors. Each of the three contestants who compete has to answer a series of questions related to it. The player with the most correct responses is the winner. The series ran for two episodes from June 14, 1951 to June 21, 1951.

Host: Mike Wallace. Regulars: Joey Faye, Bobbi Martin, Mandy Kaye.

3274 Guess What? (Series; Game; DuMont; 1952). The host reads a short quotation or statement that refers to a famous person, place or thing. Each of the four panelists who compete is permitted to ask "yes" or "no" questions in an attempt to identify it. A cash prize, which is donated to charity, is awarded for each correct identification. The series ran from July 8, 1952 to August 26, 1952.

Host: Richard Kollmar. Panelists: Quentin Reynolds, Mark Hanna, Cliff Norton, Audrey Christie, Lisa Fenaday, Virginia Peine.

3275 Guess What Happened? (Series; Game; NBC; 1952). A person, who is, or was, involved in an unusual news story is the guest. Through a series of indirect question-and-answer probe rounds, a panel has to discover exactly in what situation the guest was involved. The guest receives prizes if the panel fails. The series ran for three episodes from August 7, 1952 to August 21, 1952.

Host: John Cameron Swayze, Ben Grauer. Panelists: Neva Patterson, Maureen Stapleton, Frank Gallop, Jack Norton, Roger Price, H. Allen Smith.

3276 Guess What I Did Today? (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/10/68). Warren Springer is a widower and the father of two girls, Bonnie and Sally. He is an amateur inventor and works as a chemist for a paint company. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures he encounters while brewing up weird concoctions.

Cast: Fred Gwynne (Warren Springer), Bridget Hanley (Bonnie Springer), Pamelyn Ferdin (Sally Springer), Reta Shaw (Phoebe, their housekeeper).

3277 Guess Who's Coming to Dinner? (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/28/75). A story of an interracial marriage as seen through the experiences of Joanna Prentiss, who is white, and her black husband, John. In the pilot episode, the newlyweds face the prospect of having their respective families meet for the first time. Other Regulars: Matt and Christine, Joanna's parents; and Ralph and Sarah, John's parents. Based on the feature film.

Cast: Leslie Charleson (Joanna Prentiss), Bill Overton (John Prentiss), Eleanor Parker (Christine Drayton), Richard Dysart (Matt Drayton), Madge Sinclair (Sarah Prentiss), Lee Weaver (Ralph Prentiss). Guest Cast: Rosetta LeNoire (Tilie), William Calloway (Joe Delaney), Joseph Sicari (Orville Peacock).

3278 A Guest in Your House. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). A daily program of music, chatter and poetry with poet Edgar Guest as the host (and the guest in your home should you tune to his show). The series, which produced 20 episodes, ran from March 5, 1951 to March 30, 1951. Frank Jacoby is the producer.

Host: Edgar Guest. Assistant: Rachel Stevenson. Orchestra: Paul Arnold.

3279 Guest Shot. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1962). Filmed interviews that reveal little-known aspects of Hollywood celebrities (for example, Jayne Mansfield demonstrating her physical fitness program; Tina Louise doing gymnastics; Mamie Van Doren motorcycling; and Jeffrey Hunter skiing).

Host: Army Archerd. Interviewers: Army Archerd, Vernon Scott, Earl Wilson, Joe Hyams, Hank Grant, Dan Jenkins.

3280 Guestward Ho. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1960–1961). William (“Bill”) Hooten, an advertising executive who is fed up with the rat race of New York City, purchases Guestward Ho, a dude ranch in New Mexico, from a scheming Indian chief named Hawkeye. Hawkeye runs the local trading post and a souvenir stand opposite the reservations desk at Guestward Ho.

Bill, his wife, Barbara (“Babs”), and their son, Brook, relinquish their life in the city for what they believe will be an easier life out West, “under a sun so bad it can rattle your brains” (so says the theme).

Brook and Bill adjust quickly. Babs, who was reluctant from the beginning, is not an outdoors woman; Bill is afraid that if she hears a coyote she’ll pack her bags and move back to Manhattan.

Rates are $25 a day, and Guestward Ho lacks a number of things, including paying guests. The Hootens’ struggle to make their dude ranch profitable is the focal point of the series.

Santa Fe is the nearest town, and the Flying Horse Dude Ranch is their nearest competition. Babs wants a dude ranch where she can get a rest from all the work that has to be done at Guestward Ho.

“When the spirits delivered the Hootens to me,” says Hawkeye, “they said, ‘Hawkeye, there are no more where these came from.’” Hawkeye reads the Wall Street Journal, orders his “genuine Indian bows and arrows” souvenirs from Hong Kong and struggles to keep the Hootens, his only chance of ever unloading Guestward Ho, happy.

Pink Cloud is Hawkeye’s gorgeous assistant, and Lonesome is Bill’s wrangler.

In the original, unaired pilot film (produced for CBS in 1959), Leif Erickson played Bill Hooten and Vivian Vance was Barbara Hooten.

Cast: Mark Miller (Bill Hooten), Joanne Dru (Babs Hooten), Flip Mark (Brook Hooten), J. Carrol Naish (Chief Hawkeye), Jolene Brand (Pink Cloud), Earl Hodgins (Lonesome), Tony Montenaro (Rocky), Natalie Schafer (Mrs. Crawford; Babs’ mother), Adam West (Bill Crawford; Babs’ brother).

3281 Guide Right. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1952–1953). The program is designed to aid enlistment (for the Korean War) by showcasing both civilian and military talent.

Host: Don Russell. Orchestra: Elliot Lawrence.

3282 The Guiding Light. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1952–). The longest running program in broadcast history, premiering on CBS radio on January 25, 1937, then on television on June 30, 1952 (still current). On radio, the series focused on the people of Five Points, a suburb of Chicago (in particular on the Reverend John Rutledge [played by Arthur Peterson]). On television, the religious aspect of the series was dropped to focus on dramatic incidents in the lives of the close-knit Bauer, Spaulding and Reardon families, residents of the town of Springfield, U.S.A. (later said to be Springfield, Illinois). The series ran for 30 minutes from June 30, 1952 to November 4, 1977; it premiered as a 60-minute series on November 7, 1977.

Cast: Charita Bauer (Bertha Bauer), Robert Gentry (Dr. Edward Bauer), Mart Hulswit (Dr. Edward Bauer), Peter Simon (Dr. Edward Bauer), Cheryl Lynn Brown (Christina Bauer), Glenn Walker (Michael Bauer), Michael Allen (Michael Bauer), Gary Pillar (Michael Bauer), Paul Prokopf (Michael Bauer), Bob Pickering (Michael Bauer), Don Stewart (Michael Bauer), Lenore Kasdorf (Rita Bauer), 3283 Guilty or Innocent. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1984). Twelve competing players serve as jurors. Following the dramatization of an actual criminal court case, the jury must determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Those jurors whose verdict matches the verdict in the actual case split $5,000.

Host: Melvin Belli. Jury Moderator: John Shearin.

3284 Guilty or Not Guilty. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 3/9/66). A proposed series about Gregg Collier, a New York City assistant district attorney. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater, Collier attempts to get the goods on a suspected mugger.

Cast: Leslie Nielsen (Gregg Collier), Robert Ryan

(Andrew Dixon), Diana Hyland (Judy Collier), Richard Beymer (Ralph Belmonte), Robert Duvall (Frank Reeser), Leif Erickson (Ben Stafford), Pippa Scott (Catherine Collier).

3285 The Guinness Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1979). Players bet on whether an ordinary person can beat or establish a "Guinness Book" world's record. Three players each receive $1,000, which they use to wager on the outcome of three feats that are performed on each show. The player with the highest cash score is the winner and receives what money he has scored.

Host: Don Galloway. Contestant Assistant: Donny Evans, Toby Hoffman. Announcer: Charlie O'Donnell, Tony McClay.

3286 Gulf Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1952). A live dramatic series under the sponsorship of the Gulf Oil Corporation. The series, which produced 13 episodes, ran from October 3, 1952 to December 26, 1952.

Performers Include: Nina Foch, Dennis O'Keefe, Frank McHugh, Gene Lockhart, Ward Bond, Jack Palance, Margaret Hamilton, Mildred Dunnock, Eddie Bracken, Hoagy Carmichael, Henry Jones, Parker Fennelly, Gene Alda, Robert Sterling, Paul Hartman, Felicia Montealegre, Dean Jagger.

3287 The Gumby Show. (Series; Children; NBC; 1957). Scotty McKee's Fun Shop is the setting. Here, Scotty, the host, presents the clay animated adventures of Gumby, the green boy and his horse Pokey. The episodes, produced in Claymation, have since been re-edited (the host segments deleted) and syndicated as a series of cartoons called Gumby.

Host: Bob Nicholson, Pinky Lee. Voice of Gumby: Dick Beals, Hal Smith, Ruth Egleson, Nancy Wible. Voice of Pokey: Art Clokey, Dallas McKennon. Voice of Prickle: Art Clokey, Dallas McKennon.

3288 The Gummi Bears. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1985–1991). The adventures of a group of talking bears that live in a medieval English-like forest.

Voice Cast: Katie Leigh (Sunni Gummi), Lorenzo Music (Tummi Gummi), Noelle North (Cubbi Gummi), Michael Rye (Duke Ighorn), Paul Winchell (Zummi Gummi), June Foray (Grammi Gummi), Corey Burton (Gruffi Gummi), Will Ryan (Ogres), Brian Cummings (Sir Tuxford).

3289 Gun. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1997). Stories based on a gun (a Colt. 45 semi-automatic pistol) and what happens to each person who owns it is the basis of the series. The gun comes into being (first seen) after a failed assassination attempt (the terrorist discards it in the grasslands surrounding an airport). From this point on, after the gun is found and first sold (on the black market to a security guard for his wife to use as protection when he is not home) each story becomes a drama of the gun exchanging hands and how it affects the people who come in contact with it. Casts vary from episode to episode. Robert Altman is the producer.

Performers Include: Rosanna Arquette, Daryl Hannah, Sally Kellerman, James Gandolfini, Randy Quad, Jennifer Tilly, Sean Young, Dirk Blocker, John Considine, Nicholas Coster, Brooke Adams, Angela Alvarado, Katy Baker, Ed Begley, Jr., Adam Clark, Max Gail, Tess Harper, Tawny Little.

3290 The Gun and the Pulpit. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 4/3/74). When Ernie Parsons, an Old West gunfighter is falsely accused of a murder, he flees from justice in an effort to find the man who framed him. In order to roam freely, he poses as a minister who fights for right and helps people in need. In the pilot episode, Parsons helps the people of a town (Castle Walk) defend themselves against a crooked land baron (Mr. Ross).

Cast: Marjoe Gortner (Ernie Parsons). Guest Cast: David Huddleston (Mr. Ross), Slim Pickens (Billy One-Eye), Estelle Parsons (Sadie Underwood), Pamela Sue Martin (Sally Underwood), Geoffrey Lewis (Jake McCoy), Karl Swenson (Adams), Robert Phillips (Sam Underwood).

3291 Gung Ho. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986–1987). Shortly after the Hadleyville Auto Plant in Pittsburgh closes down, Assan Motors of Japan reopens the plant and assigns a Japanese foreman (Kazuhiro) to work alongside his American counterpart (Stevenson). Stories relate the efforts of both the Japanese and American workers to co-exist while at the same retaining their traditional work habits. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Gedde Watanabe (Kazuhiro), Scott Bakula (Hunt Stevenson), Stephen Lee (Buster), Sab Shimono (Mr. Saito), Clint Howard (Googie), Scott Atari (Kenji), Emily Kuroda (Yukiko), Willie Walton (Willie), Patti Yasutaku (Umeki), Heidi Brooks (Randi), Marc Poppel (Eddie; Hunt's brother).

3292 Guns of Paradise. (Series; Western; CBS; 1988–1991). The series is set in the 1890s and began as Paradise. When Lucy Carroll, a St. Louis entertainer, is no longer able to care for her four children (due to a serious illness that later claims her life), she sends them to live with her brother, Ethan Allen Cord, whom she believes is a hardware store owner in the town of Paradise. Unknown to Lucy, Ethan is a wanted gunfighter, and Paradise is a ruthless mining town.

When Lucy's children, Claire, Joseph, Ben and George Carroll arrive, Ethan relinquishes his career as a hired gun to become a rancher and provide a decent life for the children. The children quickly adjust to the fact that their uncle is a gunfighter when they see that the whole town turns to him for help and that he sides with right against wrong.

Amelia Lawson is the owner of the Paradise Bank and Ethan's romantic interest (she also helps Ethan care for his kids). John Taylor is Ethan's friend, an Indian who is learned in the ways of both the white man and his own people. He appears to be the only person with medical knowledge (he saved Ethan and the kids on several occasions) and helps Ethan in rearing the children. Charlie is the deputy sheriff; Tiny is the blacksmith; and P.J. Brackenhous was the marshal for one season.

Episodes broadcast under the title Paradise (1989–1991) are a harsh portrayal of life in the Old West. There are very few women and children there. Claire, at age 13, is the oldest girl in town. She is very close to Amelia and had no friends her age until she met a girl named Katie Hamilton (Milla Jovovich). Katie, a strikingly beautiful young girl (age 13), was raised by her mother, Sarah (Irene Miracle), the owner of Zack's Traveling Social Club, to become a high-priced prostitute. It was Claire's friendship that allowed Katie to experience the childhood she was denied by her mother. Claire has two dolls, Juliet and Rapunzel.

As Guns of Paradise (1991), the town became more civilized. Women and children are now prominent, and when a copper mine opens near town, Claire remarks, "Paradise is becoming a real city." Claire now works as a teller at Amelia's bank; Joseph (age 12), works at the Paradise Hotel; Ben (age eight), who collects wanted posters, and George, the youngest (age six), attend the Paradise School. Ethan is building a new home for his family in an area called the Meadow. The town also has the Paradise Theater, Paradise Hardware, and the Paradise Barber Shop (a shave is 25 cents).

In the episode of 1/4/91, the corrupt marshal, Blake (Robert Fuller), plots to kill Cord and take over the town. Ethan opposes Blake. In the ensuing gunfight, Blake is killed. Claire removes the badge from Blake's vest and pins it on Ethan's vest. He never wanted kids, he never wanted to be a rancher, and he never wanted to be marshal — "But it looks like I got all three."

Relatives: Ted Shackelford and Charles Frank (Amelia's ex-husband, Pierce Lawson), Edward Albert (Lucy's husband, Robert Carroll). He was a drifter and gambler who deserted his family when Lucy became pregnant with George. To shield her children, Lucy told them that their father died a hero's death). Themes: "The Theme from Paradise" and "Guns of Paradise," by Jerrold Immel.

Cast: Lee Horsley (Ethan Allen Cord), Jenny Beck (Claire Carroll), Matthew Newmark (Joseph Carroll), Brian Lando (Ben Carroll), Michael Patrick Carter (George Carroll), Sigrid Thornton (Amelia Lawson), Kathryn Leigh Scott (Lucy Carroll), Dehl Berti (John Taylor), James Crittenden (Charlie), John Bloom (Tiny), Nicholas Surovy (P.J. Brackenhous).

3293 The Guns of Will Sonnett. (Series; Western; ABC; 1967–1969). Will Sonnett and his 20-year-old grandson, Jeff Sonnett, are seen riding together as the theme plays. Over the music Will is heard saying, "We search for a man named Jim Sonnett and the legend folks tell may be true. Most call him gunman and killer — he's my son, whom I hardly knew. I raised Jim's boy from the cradle, till the day he said to me, 'I have to go find my father'; and I reckoned that's how it should be — so we ride, Jim's boy and me."

Jeff has never seen his "paw"; Will aims to see that he does. Twenty years earlier in Bensford, Wyoming (1852), Jeff was born; his mother died during childbirth. Unable to face the prospect of life without his wife, Jim abandoned his family. Will, Jim's father, raised Jeff as if he were his own son.

Jim carries a gold watch, given to him by Will, with the inscription "To James from his loving father." He is a wanted gunman and killer and has a difficult road to travel — a road with no turning back.

Will and Jeff begin their search in 1872 and are hampered by the fact that Jim is unaware he is being sought by kin. As they travel from town to town, Will and Jeff learn that Jim may be thought of as a killer but he is kind to people he finds in trouble and will kill only in self-defense. Each mile brings new hope that soon the Sonnetts will be a family again.

Will was an army scout and stationed at Fort Levenworth. It was said that as a boy, Jim would hang out at the fort trading post (run by Sam Cochran, played by Denver Pyle). Will was later stationed at Fort Kerney.

Will is fast on the draw, and James showed promise — "Trouble is, he left before I taught him half what I know. No brag, just fact." Jim was born in 1833. The Sonnetts' strategy when facing a gunfighter: "Keep 'em waitin', it makes 'em edgy." When an opponent faces Will, he says, "They say Jim is fast. Well, he ain't; I am. No brag, just fact." When Will and Jeff have lost their way, Will says, "Look at the sun, check the wind and ride north till we find him." Will taught Jeff the art of gunplay, how to fight and "to be respectful to women no matter what or where."

In the last episode, Will and Jeff find Jim and convince him to give up his life of running. With a hope of beginning new lives, the Sonnetts settle down in the town of Sampson. Will becomes the sheriff and Jim and Jeff his deputies. Had the series been renewed, it would have focused on the Sonnetts' attempts to maintain law and order in Sampson. Theme: "The Guns of Will Sonnett," by Earle Hagen and Hugo Friedhofer.

Cast: Walter Brennan (Will Sonnett), Dack Rambo (Jeff Sonnett), Jason Evers (James Sonnett).

3294 Gunshy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1983). Quake City, California, circa 1869, is the setting.

Stories follow events in the life of Russell Donovan, a gambling dandy who is struggling to raise Clovis and Celia, two precocious orphans he won in a poker game, and shape up Theodore and Amos, two bumbling, self-styled outlaws who constantly plague his life with their unpredictable antics. Based on the Walt Disney movies The Apple Dumpling Gang (1975) and The Apple Dumpling Gang Rides Again (1979). See also Tales of the Apple Dumpling Gang for information on the series pilot film.

Six episodes were produced but only four aired. Adam Rich was originally cast in the role of Clovis, but was dropped after two episodes. He was replaced by Keith Mitchell. CBS chose to run the four episodes with Keith first and had planned to air the Adam episodes as the last two episodes of the series. Poor ratings prompted CBS to drop the series before the Adam Rich episodes aired.

Other Regulars: Homer McCoy, the town barber/sheriff/justice of the peace; Nettie McCoy, Homer's ex-wife, the owner of the Quake City Hotel; Colonel Mound, owner of the Quake City Overland Stage.

Cast: Barry Van Dyke (Russell Donovan), Bridgette Anderson (Celia), Adam Rich (Clovis), Keith Mitchell (Clovis; later), Tim Thomerson (Theodore), Geoffrey Lewis (Amos), Henry Jones (Homer McCoy), Janis Paige (Nettie McCoy), Pat McCormick (Colonel Mound).

3295 Gunslinger. (Series; Western; CBS; 1961). Fort Scott in Los Flores, New Mexico (1860s) is the home base of a man known only as Cord, a U.S. Cavalry undercover agent who poses as a gunfighter. Stories relate his attempts to apprehend criminals wanted by the army. Captain Zachary Wingate is Cord's superior; Amber Hollister is Cord's romantic interest; Pico McGuire, Billy Urchin and Murdock are fellow undercover agents.

Cast: Tony Young (Cord), Preston Foster (Captain Zachary Wingate), Midge Ware (Amber Hollister), Charles Gray (Pico McGuire), Dee Pollock (Billy Urchin), John Pickard (Murdock). Theme Song: "Gunslinger" by Dimitri Tiomkin.

3296 Gunsmoke. (Series; Western; CBS; 1955–1975). The Atcheson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad services the area in and around Dodge City, Kansas, during the 1860s. Boot Hill is the graveyard; the Dodge House, the hotel; and the Long Branch Saloon, the local watering hole. There is also Ma Smalley's Boarding House and the Marshal's Office on Front Street. Matthew ("Matt") Dillon occupies that office, a U.S. Marshal who earns $100 a month.

Matt is tough, honest and fair. He is fast on the draw but not always quick to use his guns.

Kathleen "Kitty" Russell, an ambitious hard working beauty, appears to be all business. She had a hard life and struggled to succeed in a world where women were meant to be nothing more than wives, dress makers or saloon girls. She is the owner of the Long Branch Saloon and is fondly called Miss Kitty.

Galen Adams, fondly called "Doc" is the town's lone physician. Doc is well educated and has opinions about everything. He can only be as helpful as the 1860s–1880s medical knowledge will allow. His prognosis is "we'll have to wait and see." He loves fishing and his specialty is catfish stew.

Festus Hagggen is Matt's Deputy (originally introduced as a Wolfer [hunts wolves that kill livestock]). Festus is from a backwoods family (the Mooncreek Hagggens) and never learned to read (because "When you read the readin' how do you know that the person who wrote the readin' wrote the readin' right?") He may not be educated but he has what today would be called street smarts. He rides a mule named Ruth and the disagreements he and Doc have added a comical touch to the series.

Chester Goode was Matt's original deputy (replaced by Festus). He brews "a mean pot of coffee" and walks with a limp. He called Matt "Mr. Dillon."

Quint Asper, the town blacksmith is part Comanche Indian; he also helps Matt out when a need arises. Newly O'Brien is the gunsmith, who later found an interest in being a lawyer then a doctor; Sam is the Long Branch bartender; Thad Greenwood is Matt's friend, the son of a sheriff who works at the livery stable and assists Matt on occasion.

Nathan Burke is the freight agent; Mr. Jones is the general store owner; Percy Crump is the undertaker; and Louie Pheeters is the town drunk.

In the opening theme, when Matt faces his opponent in the famous showdown, the opponent fires first. John Wayne introduced the series at the beginning of the first episode. The series is also known as Marshal Dillon.

Three TV movies also aired: Gunsmoke: Return to Dodge (CBS, 9/26/87), in which Matt faces an outlaw with a score to settle.

Gunsmoke: The Last Apache (CBS, 3/18/90) finds Matt reunited with Mike Yardner (Michael Learned), who is now the owner of the Yardner Cattle Company in Arizona (Matt first met Mike in the series episode "Matt's Love Story"). Matt also learns that he has a daughter named Beth (Amy Stock) from the affair he had with Mike 20 years ago (occurring but never shown in the series episode. Matt had amnesia and Mike never told him when he regained his memory). The story follows Matt's efforts to save Beth when she is kidnapped by renegade Indians.

Gunsmoke: To the Last Man (CBS, 1/10/92) finds Matt and Beth involved in the notorious Arizona blood feud of the 1880s (it was revealed that Mike "died" from a high fever).

Cast: James Arness (Matt Dillon), Amanda Blake (Kitty Russell), Dennis Weaver (Chester Goode), Milburn Stone (Doc Galen Adams), Ken Curtis (Festus Hagggen), Buck Taylor (Newly O'Brien), Burt Reynolds

(Quint Asper), Glenn Strange (Sam Noonan), Ted Jordan (Nathan Burke), Hank Patterson (Hank Miller; the stableman), Roger Ewing (Thad Greenwood), Sarah Selby (Ma Smalley; boarding house owner), Roy Roberts (Mr. Bodkin; the banker), Howard Culver (Howie Uzzell; hotel clerk), Kelton Garwood (Percy Crump; the undertaker), John Harper (Percy Crump; later), Woody Chambliss (Woody Lathrop; the storekeeper), Charles Wagenheim (Halligan; towns person), Tod Brown (Ed O'Connor; rancher), James Nusser (Louis Pheeters; town drunk), Robert Brubaker (Jim Buck; stagecoach driver), Budd Buster (Moss Grim-mick; stableman), Clem Fuller (Clem; bartender), Dabbs Greer (Wilbur Jonas; storekeeper), Pat Hingle (Dr. John Chapman; 1971), Roy Roberts (Harry Bod-kin; banker), Fran Ryan (Hannah Cobb; saloon owner later), Charles Seel (Barney Danches; telegraph opera-tor), Rudy Sooter (Rudy; bartender; 1965–67), Charles Wagenheim (Joshua Halligan; rancher).

3297 Gus Brown and Midnight Brewster.

(Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/2/85). Following their discharge from the army Clarence “Midnight” Brewster, a fast-talking con artist from Detroit, and Gus Brown, a country bumpkin from Oklahoma, team with Gus’s beautiful but dim-witted girlfriend, Raylene, to get what they want through elaborate schemes. In the pilot episode, the trio invests in a scheme to profit from greyhound dog racing in Florida.

Cast: John Schneider (Gus Brown), Ron Glass (Clarence “Midnight” Brewster), Teri Copley (Ray-lene). Guest Cast: Harvey Vernon (Bo Willis), Scoey Mitchlll (Maurice Davis), Faye Hauser (Ann Davis), Russell Curry (Jonathan), Frantz Turner (Shine). Theme Vocal: “Unlikely Pair” by O.C. Smith.

3298 Guy Lombardo and His Royal Cana-dians. (Series; 30 min.; Syn.; 1954–1956). A program of music and songs with orchestra leader Guy Lombardo and his orchestra, the Royal Canadians.

Host: Guy Lombardo. Regulars: Carmen Lombardo, Lebert Lombardo, Victor Lombardo, Kenny Gardner, Toni Arden, Bill Flannigan. Music: The Royal Canadians.

3299 Guy Lombardo’s Diamond Jubilee.

(Series; Variety; CBS; 1956). A weekly program of music and songs. The program features a segment called “The Song of Your Life.” Letters, sent in by home viewers, describe how certain songs influenced their lives. The authors of selected songs received $1,000, appear on stage, and, as an offstage voice reads the letter, the song is played in the background.

Host: Guy Lombardo. Regulars: Victor Lombardo, Carmen Lombardo, Lebert Lombardo. Orchestra: The Royal Canadians.

3300 The Guy Mitchell Show. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 3/6/57). A proposed weekly series of music and songs with singer Guy Mitchell as the host.

Host: Guy Mitchell. Regulars: Polly Bergen, The Four Lads, Jack E. Leonard, The Spellbinders. Announcer: Tony Marvin. Orchestra: Bert Farber.

3301 The Guy Mitchell Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957–1958). Singer Guy Mitchell hosts a weekly program of music and songs.

Host: Guy Mitchell. Regulars: Dolores Hawkins, The Guy Mitchell Singers, The Ted Cappy Dancers. Orchestra Van Alexander.

3302 Guys Like Us. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/20/96). John, Tom and Mike are three friends who hang out together at the Palace Bowling Lanes. When they each realize their lives are going nowhere, they decide to join forces and open a rental business called Rabbit Rentals. The proposed series was to follow their antics as they struggles to make their business a success. In the pilot episode, the friends take on an associate (Helen) and try to help Tom, who is having doubts about marrying his fiancé, Kelly.

Cast: John Mendoza (John), Tom McTigue (Tom), Robert Hays (Mike Hanson), Donna Bullock (Donnie Hanson; Mike’s wife), Cynthia Ettinger (Kelly).

3303 Guys Like Us. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1998–1999). Jared Harris and Sean Baker are single friends who live together. They have a life of endless dating and swinging parties that suddenly comes to an end when Jared’s widowed father is transferred overseas and Jared is forced to care for Maestro, his six-year-old brother. As Maestro moves in, Jared and Sean’s life suddenly changes and stories follow Jared and Sean as they attempt to care for Maestro but still retain some aspects of their bachelorhood.

Cast: Bumper Robinson (Jared Harris), Chris Hardwicke (Sean Baker), Maestro Harrell (Maestro Harris), Linda Cardellini (Jude), Andy Berman (Vana), Karen Maruyama (Kim).

3304 The Guys Next Door. (Series; Children; NBC; 1990). A live action Saturday morning comedy about five boys (Patrick, Eddie, Bobby, Damon and Chris) who operate a pirate television station from a basement studio. The programs they present — from comedy skits to music videos comprises the show’s format (as do songs performed by the group the boys comprise, The Guys Next Door).

The Guys Next Door: Patrick J. Dancy, Eddie Garcia, Bobby Leslie, Damon Sharpe, Christopher Wolf.

3305 Gypsy. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1966). A daily program in which Gypsy Rose Lee, a famous stripper, interviews people from all walks of life.

Hostess: Gypsy Rose Lee.

3306 The Gypsy Rose Lee Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1958). World famous stripper Gypsy Rose Lee hosts a weekly program of music, talk, light comedy and celebrity interviews.

Host: Gypsy Rose Lee. Featured: Stan Freeman. Vocalist: Mary Ellen Terry. Music: Earl Wrightson.

3307 The Gypsy Warriors. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 5/12/78). Europe during World War II is the setting. Shelly Alhern and Ted Brinkerhoff are U.S. Army captains who undertake dangerous assignments behind enemy lines. They pose as gypsies and travel with a man named Ganault, his daughter, Lela, and his son Androck. In the pilot episode, Shelly and Ted seek to retrieve a deadly toxin that is capable of killing millions of people from French scientists.

Cast: James Whitmore, Jr. (Shelly Alhern), Tom Selleck (Ted Brinkerhoff), Joseph Ruskin (Ganault), Lina Raymond (Lela), Michael Lane (Androck). Guest Cast: Albert Paulsen (Bruno Schlagel), Kenneth Tigar (Schulman), Kathryn Leigh Scott (Lady Britt Austin-Forbes), Hubert Noel (Henry Deseau), William Wheatley (Ramon Pierre).

3308 Hack. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2002–2003). The last line in the closing of each episode of Naked City was “There are eight million stories in the Naked City. This has been one of them.” According to Mike Olshansky, “There must be eight million and one because you sure don’t know mine.”

Mike is the subject of a police scandal. He had a record of 159 drug busts and was shot once in the shoulder. He also believes that being shot at and risking his life day after day entitles him to hazard pay. Since the Philadelphia Police Department does not see things Mike’s way, Mike created his own fund. During a drug bust, 40 grand was left on a table. Mike and his partner, Marcellus Washington turned in $32,000, keeping four thousand each for themselves as hazard pay. Mike was caught and discharged (“No modified duty, no pension. Good-bye”). Marcellus was not caught and Mike did not turn him in. They are still good friends.

Mike is bitter although he says classical music calms him. The scandal cost him his marriage and his close relationship with his son. To make ends meet, Mike acquired a job as a driver for the Victory Cab Company although South Side Taxi Exchange is seen on the door of his hack. Although not a cop, Mike can’t stop thinking about crime. His police upbringing (six uncles in law enforcement) can’t let crime fighting go unnoticed. “I’m just a cabdriver, but deep down I’m still a cop.” It is when Mike has a consultation with his friend, Father Tom Gizelak, that Mike is made to see his pain. “It’s called change,” Father Tom tells him, and he must atone for his disgrace.

Mike works the night shift. After dropping off a fare, Mike sees a mugging about to take place and steps in. He saves a man and believes he has found a purpose — to help those who are unable to help themselves. “You got a problem? I can look into that for you,” he tells potential clients.

Although not an official private detective, Mike takes on the responsibilities of one. He tells his clients after solving the case, “You will testify against these monsters and send them to jail. You will tell the police everything but you will leave out one detail — me. I was never here.” Mike is under a felony indictment and is not permitted to carry a gun. He uses tools or whatever is handy as a weapon.

Father Tom, nicknamed “Grizz,” is pastor of Saint Victor’s Church. Heather is Mike’s estranged wife, a nurse; Michael, Jr. is Mike’s son, with whom he is trying to become a father again. In early episodes, Mike, Jr. is bitter and used his middle name of David as his first name. As the series progressed, Mike, Jr. went back to using his original first name; however, Heather filed for divorce. Stephen Phillips composed the theme.

Cast: David Morse (Mike Olshansky), Andre Braugher (Marcellus Washington), George Dzundza (Father Tom Gizelak), Donna Murphy (Heather Olshansky), Matthew Borish (Michael Olshansky, Jr.).

3309 Hagen. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1980). Carl Palmer & Associates is a San Francisco-based law firm that can be reached by phone at 555-7382. Its chief investigator is Paul Hagen, a man who uses his training in Idaho as a trapper to apprehend big city criminals. The nine episode series relates Paul’s case assignments. Other Regulars: Carl Palmer, Paul’s boss; Mrs. Chavez, Paul’s housekeeper; and Jody, Carl’s secretary.

Cast: Chad Everett (Paul Hagen), Arthur Hill (Carl Palmer), Carmen Zapata (Mrs. Chavez), Aldine King (Jody).

3310 Haggis Baggis. (Series; Game; NBC; 1958–1959). Each of the four contestants who compete picks a category from a large board. A related question is read. If the player answers correctly, a small portion of a concealed photograph is revealed. If the player can identify the photograph, he wins the round; if not, another question is read and so on until the photograph is identified. The player with the most correct identifications is the winner and receives his choice of two sets of prizes: the Haggis (luxury) or Baggis (utility). The series ran in prime time from June 20, 1958 to September 29, 1958; and on NBC daytime from June 30, 1958 to June 19, 1959.

Host: (Evening Run): Jack Linkletter, Dennis James. Host: (Daytime Run): Fred Robbins, Bert Parks. Assistant: Lillian Naud.

3311 Hail the Champ. (Series; Game; ABC; 1951–1953). Six children chosen from the studio audience compete in various athletic stunts. The winners are crowned “Champ of the Week” and receive merchandise prizes. The series ran from December 22, 1951 to June 14, 1952; and December 27, 1952 to May 20, 1953.

Host: Herb Allen (1951–1952), Howard Roberts (1952–1953). Assistant: Angel Casey (1951–1952), Jim Andelin (1952–1953).

3312 Hail to the Chief. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1985). A six episode irreverent political satire that focuses on the hectic home and working life of Julia Mansfield, the first woman president of the United States. Julia is married to Oliver and is the mother of three children (Lucy, Doug and Willie).

Other Regulars: Lenore, Julia's mother; Helmut Luger, Julia's foreign policy advisor; LaRue Hawks, Julia's U.N. Ambassador; General Hannibal Stryker, a Cabinet member; Randy, the Secret Service agent; Raoul, the butler; Darlene Lubin, Oliver's mistress; and Reverend Billy Joe Bickerstaff, the minister seeking to oust Julia.

Cast: Patty Duke (Julia Mansfield), Ted Bessell (Oliver Mansfield), Quinn Cummings (Lucy Mansfield), Ricky Paull Goldin (Doug Mansfield), Taliesin Jaffe (Willie Mansfield), Maxine Stuart (Lenore), Herschel Bernardi (Helmut Luger), Glynn Turman (LaRue Hawks), John Vernon (Hannibal Stryker), Joel Brooks (Randy), Chick Vennera (Raoul), Alexa Hamilton (Darlene Lubin), Richard Paul (Billy Joe Bickerstaff).

3313 Hal Roach Presents. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1978). A syndicated series of half-hour programs originally produced by the Hal Roach Studios and seen on various networks throughout the 1950s. Selected episodes from My Little Margie, Love That Jill, and all 35 episodes of Screen Director's Playhouse comprise most of the series.

3314 Half and Half. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2002–2006). Events in the lives of half-sisters Mona and Dee Dee Thorne. Mona and Dee Dee have the same father (Charles) but different mothers. The wealthy "Big" Dee Dee is Dee Dee's mother (a star in the 1980s known as Dee Dee La Fontaine); the middle-class Phyllis is Mona's mother. Dee Dee grew up in the lap of luxury while Mona was raised in a less affluent lifestyle (Charles became rich after he divorced Phyllis and later married Big Dee Dee)

Dee Dee is a graduate of Berkeley Law School and when the series begins she is taking graduate classes in law. In 2005 she acquires a job as an artist's representative at a firm called GMG (Brett Mahoney is her boss). Mona, the older sister, has an ear for music and is an executive at Delicious Records. She is a graduate of San Francisco State College.

Mona and Dee Dee live at 36 Briarcliff Avenue (in separate apartments) in a building owned by their father. In flashback sequences that are used to show incidents in the lives of Mona and Dee Dee when they were children, Gabby Soleil plays young Dee Dee and Penny Bae Bridges is young Mona. Dee Dee is the more flirtatious sister (loves to show her figure in very sexy outfits); Mona is more conservative, as she knows she is not as glamorous as Dee Dee. Other Regulars: Adam and Chico, employees at Delicious Records.

Cast: Essence Atkins (Dee Dee Thorne), Rachel True (Mona Thorne), Telma Hopkins (Phyllis Thorne), Valerie Pettiford (Big Dee Dee Thorne), Obba Babatundé (Charles Thorne), Alec Mapa (Adam Benet), Andre Spencer Williams (Chico Benymon), Joey Lawrence (Brett Mahoney), Charles Divins (Lorenzo Lathan), Suzy Nakamura (Tina), Penny Bae Bridges (Young Mona; flashbacks), Gabby Soleil (Young Dee Dee; flashbacks).

3315 The Half-Hour Comedy Hour. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1983). Fast-paced comedy sketches that include satires of television programs, movies and real life.

Hosts: Arsenio Hall, Tom Sharp. Regulars: Barry Diamond, Vic Dunlop, Rod Hall, Jan Hooks, Peter Isaksen, Victoria Jackson, John Moschitta, Jr., John Paragon, Diane Stilwell. Orchestra: Eddie Karam.

3316 Half 'n' Half. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 9/1/88). At the reading of the will for "Mama" Bess Colter, Scott Kallen, a white race car driver, and Ben Colter, a black jazz musician, meet and learn they are brothers. When they also discover that their mother bequeathed them The Paper, a struggling Los Angeles newspaper, they decide to keep it and run it as a family business. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to work together and run The Paper.

Cast: Perry King (Scott Kallen), Dorian Harwood (Ben Colter), Walter Olkewicz (Bert Elmen-dorf), Danielle Von Zerneck (Melissa Paracheck), Ann McCurry (Miss Westphal), Al Fann (Davey), Steve Leska (Jay Benson), Diana Bellamy (Reception-ist), Carol Bruce (Mama's voice).

3317 Half Nelson. (Crime Drama; NBC; 1985). Rocky Nelson, a decorated, diminutive New York undercover cop with acting aspirations, sells his heroic story to Hollywood. When he is denied the opportunity to portray himself, he takes a job as a private detective with the Beverly Hills Patrol, an organization started by celebrities who want to keep their lives safe and private. He immediately finds employment — and a place to live — with Dean Martin, as his personal part-time security guard. His exploits as a private eye to the stars and a hopeful actor are depicted.

Other Regulars: Annie O'Hara, the patrol's switchboard operator; Chester Long, the patrol's chief operative; and Hunk, Rocky's pit bull dog.

Cast: Joe Pesci (Rocky Nelson), Victoria Jackson (Annie O'Hara), Fred Williamson (Chester Long), Dean Martin (Himself), Tony (Hunk). Theme Vocal: "I Love L.A." by Randy Newman.

3318 Half Pint Party. (Series; Children; ABC; 1951–1952). A quarter-hour series of music and songs geared to children that ran from February 12, 1951 to May 10, 1952.

Host: Al Gannaway.

3319 Half the George Kirby Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1972). A weekly program of sketches coupled with music and songs with comedian George Kirby as the host. Burt Rosen, David Winters and Murray Chercover are the producers.

Host: George Kirby. Regulars: Connie Martin, Jack Duffy, Julie Amato, Steve Martin, Joey Hollingsworth, The Walter Painter Dancers. Orchestra: Hank Marr.

3320 The Hallmark Hall of Fame. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1951–1978). Hoping to present a special Christmas Eve program, NBC hired Gian-Carlo Menotti to compose Amahl and the Night Visitors, an opera about a crippled boy who joined the Three Wise Men on the road to Bethlehem. As Christmas Eve of 1951 approached, the program was still without a sponsor (no advertiser seemed willing to pay the $150,000 NBC was asking), until the president of Hallmark Greeting Cards decided to sponsor the program. Although it was too late to sell Christmas cards, Hallmark decided to sponsor the program as a thank you for all the people who did send Hallmark cards. Sarah Churchill was chosen to say a brief thank you and Amahl and the Night Visitors aired without commercial interruption. Viewers responded, flooding the NBC switchboard with congratulations all night long. Thus was born The Hallmark Hall of Fame, an outstanding collection of top-quality productions which, since 1951, has produced over 300 programs. One hundred and sixty-five episodes were produced as a weekly series from January 6, 1952 through June 26, 1955 (although four of these productions were two-hour specials) and 98 episodes were produced as a series of specials (from October 23, 1955 to December 17, 1978). The episodes aired after this date, for PBS and CBS, are TV movies.

Hostess: Sarah Churchill (January 6, 1952 to June 26, 1955). Host: Maurice Evans (October 23, 1955 to April 25, 1958).

3321 Halloran Holiday. (Experimental; Benefit; CBS; 11/28/46). Halloran General Hospital on Staten Island (New York) was the setting for a live Thanksgiving Day benefit program for hospitalized army vets. Show business celebrities provided the entertainment and this program marked the first time since the early 1940s (when the Federation of Musicians banned live music on TV) that non-recorded music was used.

Performers: Jimmy Kane, Jackie Kay, Lisa Kirk, Private Robert Moss, Sid Shiller, Maxine Sullivan, Mimi Walters, Alix Tournelle.

3322 Halloween Town. (Pilot; Comedy; Disney; 10/98). A charming pilot about a young witch named Marnie and her mischievous aunt, Aggie. In the first of four pilots for a proposed series called Halloween Town (see also Halloween Town II: Kalabar's Revenge, Halloween Town High and Return to Halloween Town) Marnie and Aggie attempt to save their town, a haven for mythical creatures (such as werewolves and vampires) from Kalabar, an evil being bent on ruling the town. Gwen is Marnie's mother; Dylan is her brother; Sophie is her sister.

Cast: Kimberly J. Brown (Marnie Cromwell), Debbie Reynolds (Aggie Cromwell), Judith Hoag (Gwen Cromwell), Joey Zimmerman (Dylan Cromwell), Philip Van Dyke (Luke), Emily Roeske (Sophie Cromwell), Robin Thomas (Kalabar), Judith M. Ford (Harriet), Nurmi Husa (Frankenstein), Betty Moyer (Vampire), V. Jude Hill (Witch), Vincent Gambino (Goblin).

3323 Halloween Town High. (Pilot; Comedy; Disney; 10/04). The third of four pilots about a pretty teenage girl (Marnie) and her efforts to adjust to life as a good witch (see also Halloween Town, Halloween Town II: Kalabar's Revenge and Return to Halloween Town).

Marnie lives in the mythical Halloween Town, a haven for witches, ghouls and other mythical creatures. The third pilot, for a proposed series called Halloween Town, finds Marnie entering and attempting to adjust to high school. In this pilot, Marnie's last name has been changed to Piper (it was previously Cromwell) although her aunt, Aggie's name remains the same (Cromwell). Marnie's mother (Gwen), and brother and sister (Dylan and Sophie) also have the new last name of Piper.

Cast: Kimberly J. Brown (Marnie Piper), Debbie Reynolds (Aggie Cromwell), Judith Hoag (Gwen Piper), Emily Roeske (Sophie Piper), Joey Zimmerman (Dylan Piper), Finn Wittrock (Cody), Clifton Davis (Phil Flanagan), Lucas Grabeel (Ethan Dalloway), Jesse Harward (Big Chester), Todd Michael (Pete the Werewolf), Aaron Justesen (Mummy), Olesya Rulin (Natalie).

3324 Halloween Town II: Kalabar's Revenge. (Pilot; Comedy; Disney; 10/01). The second of four pilots (for a series to be called Halloween Town) about a pretty teenage witch named Marnie Cromwell and her mischievous aunt, Aggie, residents of Halloween Town, a haven for mythical creatures (such as ghosts and mummies). In the second pilot (see also Halloween Town, Halloween Town High and Return to Halloween Town), Marnie and Aggie attempt to help a family lost in time and trapped by the evil villain Kalabar, who seeks to rule Halloween Town.

Cast: Kimberly J. Brown (Marnie Cromwell), Debbie Reynolds (Aggie Cromwell), Judith Hoag (Gwen Cromwell), Emily Roeske (Sophie Cromwell), Joey Zimmerman (Dylan Cromwell), Philip Van Dyke (Luke), Robin Thomas (Kalabar), Jessica Lucas (Vampire Girl), Blu Mankuma (Gort), Peter Wingfield (Alec), Daniel Kountz (Kal), Wren Roberts (Caveman).

3325 The Halls of Ivy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1954–1955). “Oh, we love the halls of Ivy that surround us here today, and we shall not forget though we be far, far away....” Life at Ivy College, located in the town of Ivy, U.S.A., as seen through the eyes of Dr. William Todhunter Hall, the college president, and his wife, Vickie, a former London stage star.

William was originally a student at Ivy. When he graduated and became an instructor, he lived in the boardinghouse across the street from Faculty Row. It was when William became a full professor that his life changed. During a summer vacation in England, William met, fell in love with and married Victoria (“Vickie”) Cromwell, a celebrated stage star. He brought her back to America with him, and they shared what William called “a Charles Addams mansion,” a rented house that William had found lonely and empty until Vickie arrived; Vickie found it a home no matter what William thought (“I never had a home of my own. It was hotel rooms and flats or living out of the backs of dressing rooms”).

Their new residence is One Faculty Row, a house reserved for the president of Ivy College. Vickie sometimes calls William “Toddie,” and William’s pride and joy is coming out ahead with the finances.

Professor Warren is one of the dedicated instructors at Ivy. “Teaching hardly ever pays off in money,” he says. “And it hardly ever pays off in glory. I myself can name ten baseball players or ten burlesque queens, bless ’em, for every teacher you can bring to mind. It’s pride in the job that makes us stick with it.” It is also a good bet to avoid accepting an invitation for coffee from Professor Warren: “In all the world no one concocts as nauseating a cup of coffee as I do.”

Alice is the Halls’ housekeeper, and Clarence Wellman is the chairman of the board of Ivy College (Sarah Selby appears as his wife, Mrs. Wellman).

Ivy is a small school and always has been. The personalities of the faculty play a much bigger part at Ivy than they do at those giant “diploma factories.” It’s a school rich in tradition and dedicated to giving its students the best education that is possible. Theme Adaptation: “The Halls of Ivy,” by Les Baxter.

Cast: Ronald Colman (William Todhunter Hall), Benita Hume (Victoria Cromwell Hall), Mary Wickes (Alice), Herb Butterfield (Clarence Wellman), Sarah Selby (Mrs. Wellman), Arthur Q. Bryan (Prof. Warren).

3326 Hammer, Slammer and Slade. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 12/15/90). A television adaptation of the film I’m Gonna Git You Sucka about three middle-aged friends who ban together to battle crime in their community. John Slade is an ex-police detective who left the force when he became disillusioned with the criminal justice system; he now works as a basketball coach at a local community center. Henry “Hammer” Wilson is a former pro-linebacker and playboy; and Slammer Jenkins is an ex-football hero who runs Hammer and Slammer’s House of Barbecue with Henry. In the pilot episode, they first ban together to help an old friend who is accused of a robbery. Other Regulars: Joanne Wilson, Hammer’s wife; and Officer Jack Spade.

3327 Hammerman. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1991). M.C. Hammer is a famous rap star. However, prior to his musical success, he was Stanley Kirk Burrell, a hard-working counselor at a children’s recreation center in a city called Oaktown. Stanley cares for the children. Whenever evil threatens them, Stanley steps into his “Magic Dancing Shoes” and becomes Hammerman, a “high-charged” super hero. Stories follow Stanley as a musical super hero who protects his young charges from bad influences.

Voices: M.C. Hammer (Stanley Burrell/Hammerman), Philip Akins, Jason Burke, George Buza, Len Carlson, Rob Cowan, Neil Crone, Michelyn Emelle, Susan Roman, Clark Johnson, Judith Scott, Louise Vallance.

3328 The Hamptons. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1983). New York’s fashionable Hamptons resort area on Long Island is the setting for a five episode program that follows, in serial-like form, the lives, loves and ambitions of two blue-blood families, the Chadways and the Mortimers. Billy Goldenberg composed “The Hamptons” theme.

Cast: Bibi Besch (Adrienne Duncan Mortimer), Holly Roberts (Tracy Mortimer), John Reilly (Jay Mortimer), Michael Goodwin (Peter Chadway), Craig Sheffer (Brian Chadway), Martha Byrne (Miranda Chadway), Kate Dezina (Cheryl Ashcroft), Leigh Taylor Young (Lee Chadway), Daniel Pilon (Nick Atwater), Kathleen Buse (Karen Harper), Jada Rowland (Penny Drake), Fran Carlton (Ada).

3329 Handle with Care. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1954). Dramatizations based on the problems encountered by the United States Postal Service in its handling of the mails. Stories relate the cases of postal investigators who attempt to curtail the misuse of the mail. The series, which ran from October 7, 1954 to December 30, 1954, was originally titled The Mail Story.

3330 Handle with Care. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/9/77). An unsold female version of *M*A*S*H* that follows the lives of Liz Baker and Jackie Morse, two beautiful Army nurses assigned to a Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (M*A*S*H) unit on the Korean war front. Originally titled Nurses.

Cast: Marlyn Mason (Liz Baker), Didi Conn (Jackie Morse), Mary Jo Catlett (Major Charlotte Hinkley), Jeannie Wilson (Nurse Turk), Brian Dennehy (Colonel Marvin Richardson), Robert Lussier (Corporal Carp). Guest Cast: David Dukes (Dr. O'Brien), Okay Miller (Dr. Roberts), Howard George (Dr. Rogers), Ted Wass (Corporal Tillingham).

3331 The Handler. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2003–2004). Joe Renato is a handler, a man who trains FBI agents for missions in the field. Once a case is assigned to Joe, he briefs his team (Lily, Heather and Darnell) and the (usually) complex case they must bring to a successful conclusion. Joe is assisted by Marcy and stories follow the team's efforts to pull off Mission: Impossible-like tactics to achieve their goal. The series is totally devoted to the case at hand and lacks factual character information. The program's downfall may be its concept as it requires the viewer to pay close attention to the stories as they unfold.

Cast: Joe Pantoliano (Joe Renato), Tanya Wright (Marcy), Lola Glaudini (Heather), Hill Harper (Darnell), Anna Belknap (Lily).

3332 Hands of Destiny. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1949). The alternate title for Hands of Murder. See this title for information.

3333 Hands of Murder. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1949–1951). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people caught in a web of supernatural intrigue. The series is also known as Hands of Mystery and Hands of Destiny. The series ran as Hands of Murder from September 30, 1949 to April 7, 1950; as Hands of Destiny from April 14, 1950 to June 30, 1950; as Hands of Mystery from September 8, 1950 to May 18, 1951; and as Hands of Destiny from May 25, 1951 to December 25, 1951. The series produced 28 episodes as Hands of Murder; 42 episodes as Hands of Destiny and 37 episodes as Hands of Mystery. James L. Caddington is the producer.

Performers Include: Marjorie Reynolds, Jack Palance, Edward Andrews, Peggy Conklin, Melba Rae, Ruth White, Henry Jones, Neva Patterson, Adelaide Klein, Joe E. Brown, Leo Carrillo, Elizabeth Ross, Wendy Drew, Anna Minot, George Reeves, Betty Garde, Frances Reid, Vinton Hayworth, John Marley, Truman Smith, Beverly Whitney, Jerome Thor, Karl Weber, Stephen Elliott, Herbert Rudley, William Redfield, Jeff Morrow, Joy Reese, Hal Cooper, Josephine Brown.

3334 Handsome Harry's. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/25/86). Handsome Harry's is a barbershop in St. Louis, Missouri. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures of its owner, Harry Marquette, and his partner, Speedy, as they struggle to operate a shop that is also a hangout for the neighborhood men. In the pilot episode, Harry and Speedy scheme to stage a raffle at the shop to help a friend in need of an operation.

Other Regulars: Pearlina Simms, Speedy's wife; Edna Miller, Harry's girlfriend; and Louis, Elmo, Tank and Dooney, Harry's friends.

Cast: Scoey Mitchlll (Harry Marquette), Art Evans (Harvey "Speedy" Simms), Ketty Lester (Pearlina Simms), Michelle Davison (Edna Miller), Cliff Norton (Louis Howitz), Don Bexley (Elmo Sweet), Rockne Tarkington (Tank), Al Fann (Dooney). Guest Cast: Lew Brown (O'Houliban), Nick Faltas (Swami), Tyrone G. Jones (Roosevelt), Kip King (Honest Stu Olsen), Ted Truesdale (Reverend Russell), Arnetia Walker (Claudia).

3335 Handy Manny. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2006). An animated fix-it show for children that focuses on Manny Garcia, a handyman in the town of Sheet Rock Hills who helps people by fixing what they have broken (his motto "You break it, we fix it"). While not quite as detailed in instruction as shows like This Old House, the program does show children (in simplistic terms) the ins and outs of fixing something that has broken.

Voice Cast: Wilmer Valderrama (Manny Garcia), Dee Bradley Baker (Turner), Carlos Alazraqui (Felipe), Nika Futterman (Stretch), Fred Stoller (Rusty), Nancy Truman (Kelly).

3336 Hang Time. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995–2001). Deering High School in Indiana is the setting. It is here that Julie Connor, a tall and beautiful student, is also the only female member of the all male basketball team, the Tornados (there are no female sports teams at the school). Julie plays point guard; Chris Atwater (is a forward); Danny Hanson (is a guard), Michael Manning (is a forward) and Earl Hatfield (is the center). A the age of three Julie's father taught her how to dribble and she was hooked on basketball.

The team was originally coached by Bill Fuller then by Mike Katowinski. Later members of the team are Teddy Brodis, Antonio Cooper, Kenny "Silk" Hayes, Nick Hammer and Josh Sanders.

Samantha Morgan is the team manager (her dream is to become a coach). Mary Beth Pepperton is a beautiful, rich, self-centered and stubborn girl who is friends with Julie and Samantha (Mary Beth's favorite song is "Material Girl").

Mary Beth is a cheerleader (first season) then the team manager when Samantha transfers to another school. Amy Wright is brought on as the new head cheerleader. Kristy Bell also becomes a new friend for Julie and Mary Beth.

The team colors are yellow and black; the team's favorite eatery is the Stadium. Stories relate the mostly sports related incidents in the life of Julie and her friends.

3337 Hangin' with Mr. Cooper. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1992–1996). Mark Cooper is a former student at Oakridge High School in Oakland, California, who has returned to his alma mater to teach science and history. He was the star of the school's basketball team and tried out for the professional league but failed in his efforts. His students call his "Coop" and he is also coach for the school's cheerleading team, the Penguinettes, and coach of the Oakland Peanut League basketball team.

Mark lives at 653 Hamilton Street in a house he shares with Vanessa Russell and Robin Dumars. Vanessa was originally an executive secretary at the investment firm of Toplin and Toplin. She had hoped to become a stockbroker but later developed an interest in the medical profession. She worked as an orthopedic surgeon, nurse at the Sweetwater Retirement Home, then an EMT (Emergency Medical Technician) trainee and finally a licensed EMT with an ambulance crew.

Robin and Vanessa were college roommates (members of the Alpha Delta Rho sorority) and moved in with Mark to save on expenses. Robin is the music teacher at Oakridge High School. She is a sweet girl but somewhat jealous that Vanessa can eat what she wants yet maintain her slim figure.

When Robin moves out (second season), Mark and Vanessa buy the house. Mark's cousin, Geneva Lee, a single mother, and her young daughter, Nicole, become their new tenants. Geneva is initially the new music teacher at Oakridge, then the acting principal and finally the principal. Geneva moved in with Mark so Nicole could have a male influence in her life.

Before Geneva's job as acting principal, P.J. Moore was the school's principal. She and Mark grew up together (Mark called her "Peaches"). P.J. left for a better job in Chicago. Stories follow the events in the lives of the three housemates.

Cast: Mark Curry (Mark Cooper), Holly Robinson (Vanessa Russell), Dawnn Lewis (Robin Dumars), Saundra Quaterman (Geneva Lee), Raven Symone (Nicole Lee), Nell Carter (P.T. Moore).

3338 Hanging In. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979). The story of Louis Harper, a former football hero who, after assisting in politically oriented educational programs, becomes the president of Braddock University. His struggles as he attempts to adjust to the responsibilities of the position is the focus of the four-episode program.

Originally intended as a new series for Beatrice Arthur, but the star of Maude rejected the idea. It was later turned into Onward and Upward, a series about a black athlete who tries to win a seat in Congress. John Amos, chosen as the star, quit over a format dispute when the title was changed to Mr. Dooley. Louis Gossett, Jr. also rejected the role. Cleavon Little was then brought on and several episodes were taped under the title Mr. Dugan. But due to the unfavorable portrayal of blacks, the series never aired. See also Mr. Dugan.

Other Regulars: Maggie Gallagher, the dean; Sam Dickey, the director of development; Pinky Nolan, Lou's housekeeper; and Rita, Lou's student helper.

Cast: Bill Macy (Louis Harper), Barbara Rhoades (Maggie Gallagher), Dennis Burkley (Sam Dickey), Nedra Volz (Pinky Nolan), Darian Mathias (Rita Zepperette).

3339 The Hanging Judge. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 3/9/60). A proposed spin-off from Wichita Town about Judge Parker and his efforts to uphold the law in the town of Fort Smith, Kansas, during the 1870s.

Cast: Frank Lovejoy (Judge Parker), Suzi Crandall (Mary Parker), Yale Wexler (Jim Kling), Carl Benton Reid (Senator Grady), Phil Chambers (Tully), William Leslie (Dan Upham), House Peters, Jr. (Sam Kling).

3340 Hank. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1965–1966). Hank Dearborn is an enterprising young businessman who is determined to obtain the college education he was denied when his parents were killed in an automobile accident and he was forced to quit high school, find a job and care for his younger sister, Tina. Supporting himself by operating several campus sessions, he attends classes (at Western State University) unregistered and under various aliases, struggling to achieve a long-awaited dream.

Doris Royal is Hank's girlfriend; Dr. Lewis Royal is Doris's father, the college registrar; Franny is Tina's baby sitter; Ralph is Hank's friend; Loretta is a student; Arlene Atwater is the social worker; Miss Mittleman is a teacher.

Cast: Dick Kallman (Hank Dearborn), Katie Sweet (Tina Dearborn), Linda Foster (Doris Royal), Howard St. John (Dr. Lewis Royal), Kelly Jean Peters (Franny), Don Washbrook (Ralph), Margaret Blye (Loretta), Lisa Gaye (Arlene Atwater), Lloyd Corrigan (Professor McKillup), Dabbs Greer (Coach Weiss), Dorothy Neumann (Miss Mittleman), Sheila Bromley (Coach's wife).

3341 The Hank McCune Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1950). Hank McCune is a kind-hearted bumbler who seeks but inevitably fails to achieve success. Lester, his friend, helps him overcome the unwanted situations he encounters. The series, which produced 6 episodes, ran from September 9, 1950 to October 9, 1950.

Cast: Hank McCune (Hank McCune), Hanley Stafford (Lester). Also: Sara Berner, Arthur Q. Bryan, Larry Keating. Announcer: Art Baker, Larry Keating.

3342 Hanna. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced for NBC in 1989). Los Angeles in the 1940s is the setting for an unsold series about Victor Hanna, a tough L.A.P.D. police detective.

Cast: Scott Plank (Victor Hanna), Ely Pouget (Lillian).

3343 The Hanna-Barbera Happiness Hour. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1978). A four-episode program with two life-size puppets (Honey and Sis) hosting a weekly hour of music, song and comedy. The series ran from April 13, 1978 to May 4, 1978.

Cast: Udana Power (Honey's voice), Wendy McKenzie (Sis's voice). Orchestra: Billy Barnes.

3344 Hanna-Barbera's World of Super Adventure. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1980). The syndicated title for off-network repeats of the following series produced by William Hanna and Joseph Barbera: Birdman, The Herculoids, Shazzan and Space Ghost. See these individual titles for information.

3345 Hannah Montana. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 2006–). Miley Stewart appears to be the typical 12-year-old girl. She is very pretty, attends the Seaview Middle School, has a best friend (Lily) and is full of energy. What Miley has that no other girl her age has is a powerful secret: she is also Hannah Montana, a super rock star.

Miley lives in Malibu, California, with her widowed father, Robbie, and older brother, Jackson. Hannah lived previously in Tennessee and moved to the West Coast when her career took off. Miley says, "I'm an average girl who lives her dream." As Hannah, Miley dons a blonde wig and sunglasses; as Miley she is a brunette and somewhat less out going as Hannah. Miley also prefers that she keep her secret "because if I don't I'll never be Miley again."

Miley enjoys her dual life; she likes being a tween and in school; and she enjoys performing at nightclubs as a teen idol (her father is always by her side, posing in disguise as her body guard; Robbie is a former singer/songwriter known as Robbie Ray). However, the secret is too big for Miley to hide and she does reveal her identity to her friends Lily and Oliver. Stories follow Miley as she struggles to balance her dual life and still be a kid.

Second season episodes find Miley attending high school and trying (more than ever) to conceal her singing career while struggling to lead life as a freshman. Hannah won the Silver Boot Award for best country/pop music crossover.

Miley's mother is seen in flashback sequences. When Miley was ten years old she wanted to become a singer like her father. With the odds stacked up against her, but blessed with a good singing voice, her father helped her get the start she needed and Miley's risk made her the star Hannah Montana.

Other Regulars: Amber and Ashley, the school snobs; Ferminé, Hannah's wardrobe master; Rico, the annoying kid who bothers not only Jackson, but Miley (in high school episodes). Rico, a spoiled rich kid owns the beach eatery, Rico's Surf Shop (where Jackson works as the manager). Heather is Lily's mother; Ruth is Miley's grandmother; Dolly is Miley's aunt.

Cast: Miley Cyrus (Miley Stewart/Hannah Montana), Billy Ray Cyrus (Robbie Stewart), Emily Osment (Lily Truscott), Jason Earles (Jackson Stewart), Mitchel Musso (Oliver Oken), Matt Winston (Ferminé), Shanica Knowles (Amber Addison), Anne Marie Perez De Tagle (Ashley DeWitt), Moises Arias (Rico), Brooke Shields (Susan; Miley's mother), Ryan Newman (Young Miley), Heather Locklear (Heather Truscott), Dolly Parton (Aunt Dolly), Vicki Lawrence (Ruth). Theme Vocal: "Best of Both Worlds" by Miley Cyrus.

Cast: Fred Willard (James Hannigan), Christina Pickles (Zelda Hannigan), John Bennett Perry (Sean Hannigan), Eric Christmas (Mike Hannigan).

3347 The Happeners. (Pilot; Drama; Syn.; 3/67). An unsold series about a trio of folk-rockers seeking fame and fortune in the music business. In the pilot episode, titled "You Gotta Have Charisma, Baby," the trio begins its rocky road to fame by playing the New York coffee house circuit. Originally produced for ABC, but when rejected it was sold into syndication.

Cast: Chris Ducey, Suzannah Jordan, Craig Smith (Trio members), Louis Gossett, Jr. (Recording engineer), Lou Jacobi (Club proprietor).

3348 Happening '68. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1968–1969). The program features performances by guest rock stars, amateur band contests, comedy sketches, fashion shows and other information geared toward teenagers. Dick Clark is the producer.

Host: Mark Lindsay. Regulars: Freddie Wallace,

Keith Allison, Paul Revere and the Raiders. Music: Tommy Boyce, Bobby Hart, Paul Revere and the Raiders.

3349 Happily Ever After. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/25/61). After a financial setback leaves them with no place to live, a young newlywed couple (Bill and Laurie Stewart) are forced to move in with Laurie's parents (Ruth and Gordon) and her younger sister, Patti. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures that occur as two families attempt to live under one roof.

Cast: John Armstrong (Bill Stewart), Olive Sturgess (Laurie Stewart), Catherine MacLeod (Ruth Garrison), Walter Coy (Gordon Garrison), Cheryl Holdridge (Patti Garrison). Guest Cast: Steven Terrell (Donald Quinn), Mary Ellen Terry (Doris Brown-ing), Ned Weaver (Judge Chambers), Olan Soule (Lawyer). Note: James Gregory is credited as Gordon Garrison on press information; Walter Coy is credited in the role on the screen.

3350 Happily Ever After: Fairy Tales for Every Child. (Series; Anthology; HBO; 1995). Well known celebrities lend voices to a series that adapts classic fairy tales true to their original origins.

Narrator: Robert Guillaume. Celebrity Voices Include: Raven Symone, Tia Carrere, Loretta Devine, Avery Brooks, Nell Carter, Margaret Cho, Marla Gibbs, Whoopi Goldberg, Pam Grier, Mary Hart, James Earl Jones, Henry Kissinger, Jackie Harry, Dawnn Lewis, B.D. Wong, James Earl Jones.

3351 Happy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1960–1961). In 1957 Sally Dooley and Chris Day married. They spent their honeymoon in Palm Springs and stayed in Room 7 of the Desert Palms Hotel. In the room were two-dozen yellow roses, a bowl of floating gardenias and a wedding cake with a bride and groom on top. When Chris learns that the owner of the hotel, Clara Mason is looking for someone to run the establishment, she offers Chris and Sally the job. Chris and Sally accept the offer and over time they are allowed to buy ten percent of the hotel — which they have when the series begins.

Sally and Chris also have an infant son in 1960 whom they name Christopher Hapgood Day, called simply Happy. As Chris and Sally attempt to run the hotel, Happy watches and comments (via voice-over dubbing) on their activities. There is no screen credit for Happy's voice; the credit reads "And Happy (of course)." Also featured is Charley Dooley, Sally's uncle. The series ran from June 6, 1960 to September 2, 1960; and January 13, 1961 to September 8, 1961.

Happy opens the show: "Hi folks, my name is Christopher Hapgood Day, Jr., but all my friends call me Happy." An announcer then says: "Happy is brought to you by Kraft — Kraft for good food and good food ideas."

Cast: Yvonne Lime (Sally Day), Ronnie Burns (Chris Day), Lloyd Corrigan (Charley Dooley), Doris Packer (Clara Mason), David and Steven Born (Christopher Hapgood Day).

3352 Happy Birthday. (Series; Children; DuMont; 1947–1949). A weekly series that celebrates the birthdays of pre-selected children with parties, games and prizes. The selected child celebrates his special day with family and close friends who are invited to appear at DuMont's Manhattan studios. The live series ran from May 15, 1947 to June 23, 1949.

Hosts: Ted Brown, Bill Slater.

3353 Happy Castle. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1991). A girl named Jessica is in her attic exploring when she finds a book (The Songs and Legends of Old Betwixt). She opens the book and begins by reading "Betwixt the land, between stars and sun, neath the moon over misty mountains and next to the slurpy sea ... the bad witch Gloomella came to live in the Happy Castle. It seemed all was lost till Marcus said, 'Only hope can save all the creatures of Betwixt.'"

"Oh, how exciting," Jessica says to herself. "I wonder what happens next?" When Jessica turns the page it is blank. She finds a folded sheet of paper and unfolds it to find a note: "To go to Betwixt sign here." Jessica then flips through the remaining pages in the book and finds songs. As she sings she wishes "Oh I'd love to go to Betwixt." Magically she is transported to the forest of Betwixt near the talking Well of What. The well tells Jessica that it has named her Hope as she is the only hope the residents of Betwixt have of defeating Gloomella.

The song book Jessica, now known as Hope, carries is magical and by singing certain songs she can defeat the evils of the witch (for example, the song "Music in the Forest," defeats the witch's Gloomdrops).

Gloomella seeks to destroy the happiness of Betwixt; she also believes Hope is a sorceress and has set her goal to destroy her. Stories follow Hope as she seeks to keep the happiness in Betwixt. The Well of What has been in existence since time began. It is for asking questions — but only "what" questions. Theme Song: "The Song of Hope" by Jimmy Tanaka and Peter Svatek.

Cast: Ed Asner (The Well of What), Brigitte Marc-hand (Jessica/Hope), Katerine Trowell (Gloomella), Frank Meschkvlect (Jimmy), Michael Lapointe (Charlie), Jani Lauzon (Lolita), Pierre Robitaille (Urg), Luc Labarra (Marcus), Pierre LeFroncois (Archibald), Jacques Boutin (Silver).

3354 Happy Days. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1970). A weekly summer series that recalls the music, song, dance and comedy of the 1930s. The series, which produced 13 episodes, ran from June 25, 1970 to September 10, 1970.

An announcer opens the show: "Yes, it's time for Happy Days with Bob and Ray, Chuck McCann, Laara Lacey, Julie McWhirter, Alan Copeland, Bill Overland, Jim MacGeorge, the Happy Days Band with Jack Elliott and Allyn Ferguson, the Wisa D'Orso Dancers, the Happy Days Singers and our special guest star Buddy Rich. And now our host of Happy Days Louis Nye." Louis would then say: "Good evening everybody, from the fabulous Happy Days Ballroom here in downtown Hollywood, California, the Columbia Broadcasting System is bringing you the music and manner of this wonderful decade, the 1930s."

Host: Louis Nye. Regulars: Chuck McCann, Laara Lacey, Julie McWhirter, Clive Clerk, Bob Elliott, Ray Goulding, Alan Copeland, Bill Overland, Jimmy Dexter, Jim MacGeorge, The Happy Days Singers, The Wisa D'Orso Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Elliott, Allyn Ferguson.

3355 Happy Days. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1974–1984). A nostalgic look at life during the 1950s (and later 1960s) as seen through the experiences of the Cunninghams, a family of five living in Milwaukee, Wisconsin: parents Howard and Marion, and their children, Richie, Joanie and Chuck.

Howard and Marion married in 1936 (based on first season episodes being set in 1956) and set up housekeeping at 618 Bridge Street. Howard, called "Cookie" during his hitch in the army during World War II, owns the Cunningham Hardware Store and is a member of the Leopard Lodge (local 462).

Howard was a young man when he found his goal in life. It all started when the toilet overflowed and he went to the hardware store to get a plunger. He saw the shelves lined with hardware and was hooked. He began work in that store as a stock boy, and by 1946 he owned it. He still has the plunger that began it all.

Marion, a secretary for an unnamed company before she married Howard, has a favorite drinking glass with a picture of Rudolph Valentino on it. Her mother ("Mother Kelp") calls Howard "Fatso." Marion is a member of the Milwaukee Women's Club and Howard's bowling team, the Ten Pins. Marion is allergic to spices, especially cayenne pepper.

Richie had the nickname "Freckles" at age nine and was said to resemble Howdy Doody. He first attended Jefferson High School, then the University of Wisconsin. Richie's trademark became the song "Blueberry Hill" (he would frequently sing the first line, "I found my thrill on Blueberry Hill").

In high school, Richie was a member of the French Club, ROTC 3rd Squad leader, and a reporter for the school newspaper, the Jefferson Bugle. Richie first had aspirations of being a lawyer, then a journalist. He was also a disc jockey at radio station WOW (where he earned $25 a week). "Cheap Work" ("Any job for money") was the short-lived company Richie formed with friends Potsie and Ralph to earn extra money. Richie was later a cub reporter for the Milwaukee Journal.

Arlene, Gloria and Lori Beth Allen were Richie's girlfriends. He married Lori Beth (who called him "Sizzle Lips"), and they had a son named Richie Jr. Richie left the series when he joined the army and was transferred to Greenland.

Richie's older brother, Chuck (see "Relatives"), who appeared to do nothing but bounce a basketball, left the series during the second season (he was written out) and was said to be attending college.

Joanie, Richie's younger sister, is a member of the Junior Chipmunks Scout troop and later attends Jefferson High (where she is a cheerleader). She has the nicknames "Shortcake" and "Pumpkin," and her first word as a baby was hardware. Joanie was a member of the singing group, the Suedes. She and Suedes Milly and Lilly provided the backup vocals for Leather Tuscadero.

Arthur Herbert Fonzarelli, better known as "The Fonz" and "Fonzie," is the cool high school dropout who once rode with a motorcycle gang called the Falcons. After quitting the Falcons, he worked as a mechanic at Otto's Auto Orphanage (then at Herb's Auto Repairs and finally Bronco's Auto Repairs). Fonzie later returned to Jefferson High to get his diploma. He first taught auto shop at Jefferson High, then became the dean of boys at the rowdy George S. Patton High School. Fonzie was also a member of the Demons gang, and his "office" at Arnold's Drive-In is the "Guys' Room." He commands attention by snapping his fingers and his catchphrases are "Aaayh" and "Whoaaa." While Fonzie could have any girl he wanted, he became serious about two women: Pinky Tuscadero, a biker who dressed in pink, and Ashley Pfister, a widow with a young daughter named Heather. In 1984 episodes, Fonzie adopted an orphan boy named Danny.

Fonzie's cousin, Charles ("Chachi") Arcola, became Joanie's romantic interest in Jefferson High School. Chachi was a member of the Lords gang and part of the Velvet Clouds band (playing drums). Joanie and Chachi married in the last episode, but before doing so were spun off into the series Joanie Loves Chachi. See entry for information.

Potsie. As a boy Warren Weber would make things out of clay; his mother nicknamed him "Potsie." He is Richie's best friend. He attended the same schools as Richie. Potsie (lead vocal), Richie (sax) and Ralph (keyboard) formed the Happy Days band (later called the Velvet Clouds). He, Richie and Ralph were members of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity in college (also given as the Pi Kappa Nu fraternity).

Jennifer ("Jenny") Piccolo is Joanie's best friend. She is boy crazy and calls herself "the object of mad desire." She is very sexy, reads Passionate Romance magazine and calls Joanie "Joans."

The after school hangout is Arnold's Drive-In, a hamburger joint located at 2815 Lake Avenue. It was originally owned by Arnold Takahashi. In the first episode, the hangout is called Arthur's Drive-In. When Arnold's burns down, Fonzie becomes Al's silent partner in the new Arnold's Drive-In (rebuilt by Trans Allied Construction). Fonzie wanted to call it "Fonzie's"; "Big Al's" was the name Al wanted. They settled for "Arnold's — Fonzie and Big Al, Proprietors."

In the original pilot, New Family in Town, Harold Gould played Howard and Susan Neher was Joanie. Fonzie did not appear, and the roles of Marion, Richie and Potsie were played by the same performers as in the series. The pilot, re-titled "Love and the Happy Days," aired on Love, American Style on 2/25/72.

Relatives: Ric Carrott, Gavan O'Herlihy and Randolph Roberts (Richie's brother, Chuck Cunningham), Danny Thomas (Howard's father, Shawn Cunningham), Nancy Walker (Howard's cousin, Nancy Blansky), Crystal Bernard (Howard's niece, K.C. Cunningham), Richard Paul (Howard's brother, Dick Cunningham), Pat O'Brien (Howard's uncle, Joe Cunningham), Jackie Coogan (Richie's uncle, Harold), Peggy Rea (Richie's aunt, Bessie), Bo Sharron (Richie's son, Richie Jr.), Ted McGinley (Marion's nephew, Roger Phillips, the basketball coach at Jefferson High), Eddie Fontaine (Fonzie's father, Vito Fonzarelli), Danny Butch (Fonzie's nephew, Spike), Frances Bay (Fonzie's Grandma Nussbaum), Charles Galioto (Fonzie's cousin, Angie), Phil Silvers (Jenny's father, Roscoe Piccolo), Al Molinaro (Al's brother, Father Anthony Delvecchio), Alice Nunn (Al's Mama Delvecchio), Alan Oppenheimer and Jack Dodson (Ralph's father, Mickey Malph), Craig Stevens (Ashley's father, George Pfister), Marla Adams (Ashley's mother, Millicent Pfister), J.J. Barry (Chachi's uncle, Gonzo).

See also Laverne and Shirley and Mork and Mindy, the spin-off series.

Cast: Tom Bosley (Howard Cunningham), Marion Ross (Marion Cunningham), Ron Howard (Richie Cunningham), Erin Moran (Joanie Cunningham), Henry Winkler (Arthur Fonzarelli), Anson Williams (Potsie Weber), Donny Most (Ralph Malph), Cathy Silvers (Jenny Piccolo), Scott Baio (Chachi Arcola), Ellen Travolta (Louisa Arcola; Chachi's mother), Lynda Goodfriend (Lori Beth Allen), Linda Purl (Ashley Pfister), Heather O'Rourke (Heather Pfister), Pat Morita (Arnold Takahashi), Al Molinaro (Al Delvecchio), Tannis G. Schwartz (Bag), John Anthony Bailey (Bill "Sticks" Downey, Jr.), Roz Kelly (Pinky Tuscadero), Kelly Sanders (Lola; a Pinkette), Doris Hess (Tina; same as Lola), Suzy Quatro (Leather Tuscadero; Pinky's sister), Jan Bunker (Milly), Jill Bunker (Lilly), Donna Fein (Birdie), Kathy Richards (Gerdie), Deborah Pratt (Kat Mandu), Danny Butch (Spike), Penny Marshall (Laverne DeFazio), Cindy Williams (Shirley Feeney), Ed Peck (Police Officer Kirk), Denis Mandell (Eugene "The Wimp" Belvin), Danny Ponce (Danny), Billy Warlock (Leopold "Flip" Phillip), Kevin Sullivan (Tommy), Gary Friedkin (Clarence), Scott Bernstein (Melvin Belvin), Richard Paul (Dick Cunningham), Sue Ane Langdon (Belle Cunningham), Ken Osmond (Freddie Bascomb), Steven Baio (Joey), Edward Hartes (Frankie), Robin Williams (Mork). Theme Song: "Happy Days" by Charles Fox and Norman Gimbel.

3356 Happy Family. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2003–2004). Peter Brennan, his wife Annie, and their grown children, Sarah, Todd and Tim, are the "happy family" of the title. Unfortunately, the Brennan's are anything but happy. Quarrelsome, confused and saddled with problems is more likely.

Peter is a dentist. Anne is a doctor. Sarah is vice president of Keystone Finance. Todd is also a dentist and partners with his father. Tim just flunked out of junior college (majored in "historical stuff") and is dating a woman twice his age (Maggie Harris, their neighbor).

Stories follow a professional suburban couple (Peter and Annie) as they become involved in the problems of their kids — "They're all a mess," Peter says.

Sara feels she will never find a man and takes Eric, her pampered pet parrot with her on dates. She feels she always has to do the right thing. She has no boyfriends and no social life.

Tim has no direction but did hold three jobs: scooper at a yogurt shop called Yogurt Delphia; clerk at the Hardware Depot; and a level entry job at a record company. Todd is a ladies' man who is now dating his dental assistant, Alex, but is never able to make a commitment.

3357 Happy Hour. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2006). Larry Cone is a happy-go-lucky bachelor who earns a living at www.ahoy.com., an Internet T-shirt business. No matter how good or bad a day Larry has, four in the afternoon is the one thing he looks forward to as it is his happy hour, the time of day he puts on a Frank Sinatra recording and has his martini. Larry also has a group of friends and it is his interaction with these friends that make up the series storyline.

Larry lives in Chicago in Apartment 6B. Henry is a rather dull chap who has just been dumped by Heather, a ditz who believes he is stunting her growth (she wants to blossom and can't do it with Henry). Tina DeFabio is a domineering woman who has found the perfect man to dominate — her spineless fiancé, Brad. Amanda is Larry's life-long friend (they have known each other since pre-school) and is very pretty, but tends to over eat and longs for a curvaceous figure.

Cast: Lex Medlin (Larry Cone), Beth Lacke (Amanda Pennington), Brooke D'Orsay (Heather Hanson), John Sloan (Henry Beckman), Jamie Denbo (Tina DeFabio), Nat Faxon (Brad Cooper).

3358 The Happy Time. (Pilot; Drama; Syn.; 4/59). Incidents in the life of Bibi Bonnard, a mischievous adolescent who lives in Ottawa, Canada, during the 1920s. Based on the book by Robert Fontaine. Other Regulars: Jacques, Bibi's father; Mignonette, the maid; and Bibi's Uncle Desmonde.

Cast: Miko Oscar (Bibi Bonnard), Claude Dauphin (Jacques Bonnard), June Vincent (Mignonette Chappuis), Mischa Auer (Uncle Desmonde).

3359 Happy Trails. (Series; Western; Disney; 1983). Roy Rogers, "King of the Cowboys," and his wife, Dale Evans, "Queen of the West," host a ten episode series of their 1940s theatrical films that are being broadcast on cable for the first time. The program also features Roy and Dale reminiscing about their film careers.

Hosts: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans.

3360 Harbor Command. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1957). Dramatizations based on incidents in the lives of the men of the U.S. Harbor Police Command. Stories relate in particular the work of Ralph Baxter, a harbor police chief (who is representative of all such officers).

Cast: Wendell Corey (Ralph Baxter).

3361 Harbormaster. (Series; Adventure; CBS; ABC; 1957–1958). The story of David Scott, the captain of The Blue Chip II and owner of a boat repair service on Scott Island, an island founded by his ancestors, in Cape Ann, Massachusetts. Episodes focus on his attempts to curtail coastal crime in the small New England community.

Jeff Kittredge is David's partner; Anna Morrison is the owner of the Dolphin Restaurant; Danny is Ann's son; Cap'n Dan is the retired naval officer. Also known as Adventures at Scott Island. The series, which produced 26 episodes, ran on CBS (as Harbormaster) from September 26, 1957 to December 26, 1957; and on ABC (as Adventures at Scott Island) from January 5, 1958 to June 29, 1958.

Cast: Barry Sullivan (David Scott), Paul Burke (Jeff Kittredge), Nina Wilcox (Anna Morrison), Evan Elliot (Danny Morrison), Michael Keene (Cap'n Dan), Murray Matheson (Professor Wheeler).

3362 Hard Copy. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987). The series is set in the pressroom of the California Metro Police Department. It is here that reporters work with the police to solve crimes and acquire stories. Particular focus is on Andy Omart, a reporter for The Morning Express, Blake Calisher, a reporter for City Wire Service and Paula Hirscham, a reporter for The Metro Register. Lieutenant Guyla Cook is the featured police officer and William Boot, David DeValle, Scoop Webster, Brian Parker and John Freed are fellow reporters.

Cast: Michael Murphy (Andy Omart), Wendy Crewson (Blake Calisher), Fionnula Flanagan (Lt. Guyla Cook), Kim Miyori (Paula Hirscham), Dean Devlin (David DeValle), Charles Cooper (William Boot), George O. Petrie (Scoop Webster), Jeffrey Kramer (John Freed), E. Erich Anderson (Brian Parker).

3363 Hard Knocks. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/9/81). Disenchanted with law school, Steve Pryor drops out and becomes a night watchman in Hollywood, where he hopes to find the life he has always sought — that of a hard-boiled private detective reminiscent of those portrayed in the films of the 1940s. With only one hope of ever seeing his dream become a reality, Steve travels to Fantasy Island where the mysterious Mr. Roarke, owner of the island, grants him his wish. Steve, magically transported to Hollywood, finds that he has already been established in business as a private detective. Shortly after, Steve meets his self-proclaimed partner — the spirit of Humphrey Bogart — who is learned in the school of hard knocks and who feels that Steve may need his help. The unsold series was to depict Steve's investigations — assisted by an apparition that appears and speaks only to him. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Fantasy Island, Steve is hired to deliver $50,000 to his client (Monica Hill) and becomes involved in a plot to buy stolen military plans.

Cast: Philip Levien (Steve Pryor), Robert Sacchi (Humphrey Bogart), Nina Axelrod (Doreen Rich, Steve's secretary). Guest Cast: Martha Smith (Monica Hill), Ricardo Montalban (Mr. Roarke), Herve Villechaize (Tattoo), Michael Allredge (Tom).

3364 Hard Knocks. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; 1987). The escapades of Gower Rhodes and Nick Bronco, a mismatched pair of private eyes who wreck havoc in New York City's worst neighborhoods as they attempt to get their man. Gower is a former flower child; Nick is aggressively macho.

Cast: Bill Maher (Gower Rhodes), Tommy Hinkley (Nick Bronco).

3365 Hard Knox. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 1/3/84). When health problems force him to retire from the service, U.S. Marine Corps Colonel Joseph "Joe" Knox becomes headmaster of Garfield Military Academy, his old alma mater. The unsold series was to depict Joe's attempts to run the school. The pilot episode relates Joe's efforts to establish himself at the academy.

Other Regulars: Master Sergeant LeRoy "Red" Tuttle, Joe's aide; Marilyn Cole, the principal; and Cadets Captain Gary Pascoe, Lieutenant Jeff Bridley and Bobby Sayers.

Cast: Robert Conrad (Joe Knox), Red West (LeRoy Tuttle), Joan Sweeney (Marilyn Cole), Stephen Caffrey (Gary Pascoe), Ricky Paull (Jeff Bridley), David Saunders (Bobby Sayers). Guest Cast: Frank Howard (David Ambrose), Dianne Shaw (Lela Stallings), Christian Conrad (Major Whitehouse), Alan Ruck (Frankie Tyrone), Bill Erwin (General Bill Garfield), Shane Conrad (Erik Shaner).

3366 Hard Time on Planet Earth. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 1989). On the planet Anteris a magnificent but violent warrior who has no regard for laws, is brought before a council and ordered to serve time on the primitive planet Earth. There, he is to blend in, do good deeds, stay out of trouble and obey Control, an electronic correctional unit that has been assigned to him (to monitor his actions). Within hours of arriving on Earth, the alien "borrows" a mechanics uniform (with the name Jesse on it, the name by which he becomes known), saves the life of a beautiful geologist (Karen) but arouses the suspicions of the police in doing so. Stories follow Jesse's efforts to blend in "and become an earthling," control his violent ways and help the people he finds in trouble to prove to his superiors that he is capable of obeying laws and returning to his planet.

Cast: Martin Kove (Jesse), Marita Geraghty (Karen).

3367 Hardball. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1989–1990). Charlie Battles is a veteran police officer with the Metro Division of the Los Angeles Police Department. Joe Kaczierowski is his young, street-wise partner. Together, they incorporate experience with youthful enthusiasm to apprehend criminals.

Charlie, badge number 6483, fought in the Korean War (52nd Unit of the U.S. Army Air Corps). He is forceful and sometimes incorporates his battle experiences to deal with criminals. While not a gourmet cook, Charlie claims he can make the best chili in town.

Joe, called "Kaz" by Charlie, was formerly a vice squad detective with the San Diego Police Department. Kaz prefers undercover work and uses various disguises to accomplish his goal. He wears badge number 696 and listens to radio station KRTW. His favorite D.J. is the sexy-voiced Jamie Steele. Eddie Money sings the theme "Roll It Over."

Cast: John Ashton (Charlie Battles), Richard Tyson (Joe Kaczierowski), Lydia Cornell (Jamie Steele).

3368 Hardball. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1994). Dave Logan, Lloyd La Combe, Arnold Nixon, Frank Valente and Mike Widmer are members of the Pioneers, a minor league baseball team owned by Mitzi Balzer, a bitchy woman who hates most of the members of the team.

Ernest "Happy" Talbot is the team manager; the team mascot is Hardball (a mean baseball) and stories follow the antics of the team as they struggle to do what Mitzi would like — win games and become major leaguers.

Dave is the veteran pitcher; Mike is the catcher; Frank is the player with delusions of greatness; Arnold is the second baseman with financial problems; Chris Browning is the rookie pitcher; Ernest "Happy" Talbot is the manager (served 23 years in the minors); Lee Emory is the publicity manager. The series, originally titled Bullpen, is based on the motion picture Major League and was cancelled after seven episodes (it premiered during a national baseball strike and just couldn't find an audience).

Other Regulars: Jennifer Talbot, Happy's daughter; and Lee Emory, the team's PR lady.

Cast: Rose Marie (Mitzi Balzer), Alexandra Wentworth (Lee Emory), Dann Florek (Ernest "Happy" Talbot), Bruce Greenwood (Dave Logan), Joe Rogan (Frank Valente), Mike Starr (Mike Widmer), Phill Lewis (Arnold Nixon), Steve Hytner (Brad Coolidge), Chris Browning (Lloyd La Combe), Adam Hender-shott (Nelson Balzer), Dave Sebastian Williams (Team Announcer).

3369 Hardcase. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 2/25/60). The relationship between two brothers who also happen to be law enforcers: Walt Devlin, a sheriff who believes that the end does not justify the means; and Bill, who uses unorthodox methods to maintain the peace. In the pilot episode, Bill faces the wrath of a notorious outlaw when he arrests the killer's kid brother. Broadcast as "The Sunday Man" on Zane Grey Theater (Hardcase was the proposed series title).

Cast: Ross Elliott (Sheriff Walt Devlin), Dean Jones (Deputy Bill Devlin), Trudi Ziskind (Cassie; Bill's girlfriend). Guest Cast: Brian Donlevy (Fred Childress), Leif Erickson (Cash Wilson). Also: Jeanne Bates, Howard Culver, Ron Hagerthy, Hank Patterson, K.T. Smith, Howard Wright.

3370 Hardcase. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 12/6/81). "Hardcase — Be Glad He's on Your Side" is the subtitle for an unsold series about Grover Harding Case, a hard-boiled New Orleans Police Department lieutenant whose unorthodox and strong-willed tactics have earned him the nickname "Hardcase." In the pilot episode, Harding defies departmental rules and regulations to apprehend the ex-con (Perk Dawson) who killed his partner.

Other Regulars: Officer Jane "Stretch" Ryan,

Grover's girlfriend; Captain Paul Morgan; and Cliff Mulburgher, the police commissioner.

Cast: Beau Kayzer (Grover Harding Case), Debra Feuer (Jane Ryan), G.W. Bailey (Paul Morgan), Stephen Elliott (Cliff Mulburgher). Guest Cast: Mickey Rourke (Perk Dawson), Andra Akers (Laura Tinkerbell), Ted Markland (Brine), Joanna Martin (Rita), Jeremy Summers (Mink), Francine Segal (Mrs. Sanchez), George Wilbur (Wolfgang), Lillian McCloskey (Mrs. Crawford).

3371 Hardcastle and McCormick. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1983–1986). Milton C. Hardcastle is a Los Angeles Criminal Courts judge who has been nicknamed “Hardcase” for his harsh courtroom sentences and outrageous procedures.

Milton was born in Clarence, Arkansas, and was a police officer before becoming a judge. He now faces retirement. Rather than give up his crusade against injustice, Milton decides to continue his battle against crime. During his time as a judge, the cases of 200 criminals were dismissed due to technicalities. Now, with time on his hands, he has set his goal to bring to justice those who escaped doing time.

Mark McCormick, a race car driver up for his third offense for grand theft auto, is brought before Judge Hardcastle days before his retirement. Feeling that Mark possesses the abilities he needs to help him in his crusade, Milton offers him a choice: serve time in jail “or work with me.” Mark, nicknamed “Skid” because of his reckless driving, chooses to work with the judge who becomes his parole officer.

Mark and the judge set up headquarters — Hardcastle and McCormick, Inc. — at 101 Pacific Coast Highway in Malibu Beach, California, on an estate owned by Milton called Gull's Way. Although strangers when they first met, Mark and the judge become close.

They constantly bicker over the legalities of a case; Mark wants to do it his way, the judge by the book. As the series progressed, it became evident that Milton saw Mark as the son he and his late wife never had; and Mark saw the judge as the father who had been absent from his life (ran off when he was a child).

Mark, who turned to a life of crime to supplement his racing income, drives a red Manta sports car called the Coyote and became so impressed by Milton that he began attending law school. In the last episode he was offered a paralegal job and worked part time at the law firm of Malcolm, Hughes and Dewitt doing investigative work. It was also at this time that Mark's parole was up. Though no longer bound to the judge, he decided to remain with him to help him complete his goal.

David Morgan sings the first season theme “Drive”; Joey Scarbury performs the subsequent theme “Back to Back.”

Cast: Brian Keith (Milton C. Hardcastle), Daniel

Hugh-Kelly (Mark McCormick), Mary Jackson (Sara; Milton's secretary), John Hancock (Lieutenant Delaney), Mayo McCaslin (Warren Wingate, Milton's niece), Steve Lawrence (Sonny Daye, Mark's father), Mary Martin (Zora Hardcastle, Milton's aunt), Mildred Natwick (May Hardcastle, Milton's aunt).

3372 Hardcastle, Hardcastle, Hardcastle and McCormick. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 2/4/85). A proposed spin-off from Hardcastle and McCormick about two elderly sisters (Zora and May) who are avid mystery fans and amateur sleuths. In the pilot episode, Zora and May, the mischievous aunts of Judge Milton C. Hardcastle, visit their favorite nephew in California and become involved in a murder plot to kill a famous mystery writer.

Cast: Mary Martin (Zora Hardcastle), Mildred Natwick (May Hardcastle). Guest Cast: Brian Keith (Milton C. Hardcastle), Daniel Hugh-Kelly (Mark McCormick), Jim McMullan (Bob Satin), Loyita Chapel (Lisa Ryan), Joe Santos (Lt. Frank Harper), Wolf Muser (Mike Shotwell).

3373 Hardesty House. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 7/5/86). While in law school, six students (Charlotte, Jack, Judy, Ray, Maxfield and Robbie) vow to one day open their own practice. Ten years later their dream becomes a reality when they pool their resources and take over a rundown California beach house that they name Hardesty House (after a favorite professor). The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they use any method possible to clear their clients. In the pilot episode, the lawyers come to the aid of an ex-hooker (April) who turns to them for help when her landlord, a powerful businessman, evicts her after she fights off his attempts to rape her. Other Regulars: Maxwell Eaton II, Maxwell's father; and Judy's twin daughters, Sara and Jamie Werner.

Cast: Susan Anton (Charlotte “Charlie” Montgomery), Robert Ginty (Jack Keenan), Melanie Chartoff (Judy Werner), Paul Rodriguez (Ray Gonzales), Harley Venton (Maxwell Eaton III), Randy Brooks (Robbie Hudson), John Anderson (Maxwell Eaton II), Brigitte Despar (Sara Werner), Tiffany Despar (Jamie Werner). Guest Cast: Cec Verrell (April), Kenneth Kimmons (Mr. Donovan), Arnold Johnson (William), Hanna Hertelendy (Lillian Rockefeller), Shari Shattuck (Brandy), Danny Capri (Streak), Margaret Nagle (Monica Burke), Deanna Claire (Sheila).

3374 The Hardy Boys. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 9/8/67). A proposed series about Frank and Joe Hardy, the mischievous amateur detective sons of world-famous private investigator Fenton Hardy. In the pilot episode, the boys attempt to help their father locate a stolen jade collection. Based on the stories by Franklin W. Dixon. Other Regulars: Aunt Gertrude, Fenton's sister and housekeeper.

Cast: Tim Matthieson (Joe Hardy), Rick Gates (Frank Hardy), Richard Anderson (Fenton Hardy), Portia Nelson (Gertrude Hardy). Guest Cast: Brian Fong (Jim Foy), Edward Andrews (Dr. Montrose), James Shigeta (George Ti-Ming), Malcolm Atterbury (Clams Daggett), Stephen Jahn (Chet). Note: Tim Matthieson is now known as Tim Matheson.

3375 The Hardy Boys. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1969–1971). An animated (and greatly changed) adaptation of The Hardy Boys mystery stories by Franklin W. Dixon. Here Frank and Joe Hardy, the amateur sleuth sons of world-famous detective Fenton Hardy, have formed a rock group (The Hardy Boys) with their friend Wanda Kay Breckenridge. Stories follow their adventures as they begin a world-wide concert tour and attempt to solve the mysteries (crimes) with which they become involved.

Voice Cast: Byron Kane (Frank Hardy), Dallas McKennon (Joe Hardy), Jane Webb (Wanda Kay Breckenridge).

3376 The Hardy Boys. (Series; Mystery; Syn.; 1995). An update of “The Hardy Boys” mystery stories by Franklin W. Dixon. The town of Bayport is the setting (although depicted more of a metropolis here, than the small town in the books). Joe and Frank Hardy are the sons of world famous private detective Fenton Hardy. Frank is now 22 years old and a reporter for a newspaper called The Bayport Eagle. Joe, who is two years younger, is a student at Bayport College and a computer enthusiast. Stories follow Frank and Joe as they team to solve crimes in conjunction with the Bayport Metro Police Department. Frank is still depicted as the more serious brother while Joe maintains the trouble attracting traits of the books. Kate Craigen is the paper’s editor (Frank’s boss).

Cast: Colin Gray (Frank Hardy), Paul Popowich (Joe Hardy), Fiona Hight (Kate Craigen), Ken Samuels (Fenton Hardy).

3377 The Hardy Boys and the Mystery of the Applegate Treasure. (Serial; Mystery; ABC; 1957). The setting is the small town of Bayport, Massachusetts. At 8966 Elm Street live Frank and Joe Hardy, the sons of private detective Fenton Hardy. Fenton, a widower, and his sons are cared for by Fenton’s sister, Gertrude Hardy.

Frank and Joe idolize their father and hope to one day become detectives. Fenton spends much time working in the city and is rarely home. Thus, the opportunity for the boys to work on a case never arises. Frank and Joe think it is just going to be another dull summer until Joe’s girlfriend, Iola Morton, stumbles upon a real mystery and involves the three in a dangerous quest to solve “The Mystery of the Applegate Treasure.”

Iola is young and very pretty and yearns for a life of excitement like Frank and Joe. The mystery begins when Iola and a new boy in town, Perry Robinson bump into each other. They are both knocked to the ground and the contents of Iola’s purse are scattered about. Iola gathers her belongings and leaves. As Perry picks himself up, he realizes that something of his is missing, and he believes Iola accidentally took it.

Moments later someone throws a canvas bag over Iola and steals her purse. Her screams for help bring Joe to her aide; Frank follows shortly after with her purse (which he found lying on the sidewalk). When Iola checks her purse and finds nothing is missing, they begin to wonder why someone would steal Iola’s purse and not take anything.

Their investigation begins with Perry, whom they find working for Silas Applegate, the old man who lives in a rundown mansion. Perry tells them that he mugged Iola in order to get back a gold coin he found while digging up weeds on the estate. Joe and Frank discover that the 1803 coin is a doubloon (pirates’ gold) and is linked to stories about the mysterious Applegate treasure.

From Silas they learn that the legend began during the War of 1812 when Silas’s great-grandfather, Colonel Nathaniel Applegate, received 3,000 gold coins from the pirate Jean Laffite in payment for unspecified damages. The gold was placed in a treasure chest and passed down as the Applegate legacy. But ten years ago it was stolen. By whom is the question and the mystery Frank, Joe and Iola set out to solve.

Aired as a segment of The Mickey Mouse Club. Theme: “Gold Doubloons and Pieces of Eight,” by George Bruns and Jackson Gillis.

Cast: Tim Considine (Frank Hardy), Tommy Kirk (Joe Hardy), Russ Conway (Fenton Hardy), Carole Ann Campbell (Iola Morton), Sarah Selby (Gertrude Hardy), Florenz Ames (Silas Applegate), Robert Foulk (Jackley), Donald MacDonald (Perry Robinson).

3378 The Hardy Boys and the Mystery of Ghost Farm. (Serial; Mystery; ABC; 1957). A sequel to the prior title. The story, set in the town of Bayport, follows the efforts of amateur sleuths Joe and Frank Hardy, the sons of detective Fenton Hardy, to solve the baffling mystery of a farm that is supposedly haunted by a ghost. Aired as a segment of The Mickey Mouse Club.

Iola Morton is Frank’s friend; Gertrude Hardy is Fenton’s sister.

Cast: Tim Considine (Joe Hardy), Tommy Kirk (Frank Hardy), Russ Conway (Fenton Hardy), Carole Ann Campbell (Iola Morton), Sarah Selby (Gertrude Hardy).

3379 The Hardy Boys Mysteries. (Series; Mystery; ABC; 1977). The adventures of Frank and Joe Hardy, the sons of famed detective Fenton Hardy, were created in 1926 by Edward Startemeyer (he created plots but used ghost writers to compile the stories under the pseudonym Franklin W. Dixon).

Bayport, a small town on Barmet Bay, an inlet three miles inland from the Atlantic Ocean, is the setting. The town has a population of about 50,000 and the Hardys live in a large home at the corner of Elm and High Streets. The principal characters are amateur sleuths Frank and Joe Hardy, the sons of master detective Fenton Hardy. Fenton was a former detective with the N.Y.P.D. who now works as a private investigator in Bayport. He quit the force so he could solve crimes on his own. His knack for solving complex mysteries made him a much sought after detective. While Fenton is married to Laura in books, he is a widower on television. Gertrude Hardy, Fenton's spinster sister (affectionately called Aunt Gertrude) cares for the family. She lives with Fenton on the TV version but only visits in the books.

Frank and Joe Hardy attend Bayport High School. Frank is the older, more serious brother. He tends to think about something before acting upon it. He is astute at figuring out, then analyzing clues. Joe is a year younger than Frank and impatient. He is curious and often plunges into a situation without thinking first (and worries about the consequences after the fact). While both boys are scientifically inclined, it is Frank who sets the investigative pace of a case, usually connected to one involving Fenton.

Callie is Fenton's secretary; and Frank and Joe also worked with Nancy Drew (under the series title The Hardy Boys/Nancy Drew Mysteries) and with government agent Harry Hammond in last season episodes.

Cast: Parker Stevenson (Frank Hardy), Shaun Cassidy (Joe Hardy), Edmund Gilbert (Fenton Hardy), Edith Atwater (Aunt Gertrude), Lisa Eilbacher (Callie Shaw), Jack Kelly (Harry Hammond).

3380 Harlan and Merleen. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/12 and 7/19/93). A proposed spin-off from Evening Shade. Harlan and Merleen Ellridge are a doctor and his wife and the owners of an estate they call Tara.

One day Merleen places an ad in the National Enquirer for pregnant women who are alone and have no place to go. They will find a home and the services of a doctor at Tara. Three pregnant women arrive: Frankie, Carmen and Sherilee.

Frankie was born in New Jersey and worked as a magician's assistant in Atlantic City for the Great Calzoni. When she got too big to fit her costume or the saw-the-lady-in-half box, she was fired.

Carmen was born in Cuba but moved to Miami when she became pregnant. She is from a poor family; her husband is from a wealthy family. When their respective families began arguing over her pregnancy she ran away and came to Tara.

Sherilee was born in Texas and quit high school to become a Dallas Cowboys cheerleader. She met a football player and became pregnant. She had a daughter she named April. When she became pregnant again, she and April ran away from him — "He's not a very good man."

Although Harlan objects, he allows Merleen to let the women stay because of an incident from Merleen's past: when she was a teenager and became pregnant she had to give up her baby. Merleen never saw her grow up, graduate, etc. She doesn't want the same thing to happen to these girls. Part one introduces the women; part two shows the birth of Carmen's daughter, whom she names Harleena.

Cast: Charles Durning (Harlan Ellridge), Ann Wedgeworth (Merleen Ellridge), Leah Remini (Frances "Frankie" Mosea), Maria Canals (Carmen Louisa), Rose Kristin (Sherilee Croft), Janna Michaels (April Croft). Guest Cast: Ja'net DuBois (Maxene), Nick Toth (Doug), Anita Gregory (Paola), Andrea Hampton (LaDonna). Theme Vocal: "It's Never Too Late" by Bobby Goldsboro. Note: The proposed series title was first It's Never Too Late then The Second Time Around and finally Harlan and Merleen.

3381 The Harlem Globetrotters. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1970–1973). The animated comic adventures of the Harlem Globetrotters, basketball magicians who use their talents on the court and off to help good defeat evil.

Voice Cast: Scatman Crothers (Meadowlark Lemon), Stu Gilliam (Freddie "Curly" Neal), Richard Elkins (Gip), Edie Anderson (Bobby Joe Mason), Johnny Williams (Geese), Robert Do Qui (Pablo).

3382 The Harlem Globetrotters on Gilligan's Island. (Series Extension; Comedy; NBC; 5/15/81). The third extension episode based on Gilligan's Island (see also Rescue from Gilligan's Island and The Castaways on Gilligan's Island). The final story finds the former castaways (The Skipper, Gilligan, Ginger, Mary Ann, the Professor and Thurston and Lovey Howell) in full operation of the Castaways Resort Hotel and their efforts, teaming with football wizards, the Harlem Globetrotters, to battle J.J. Pierson, an evil billionaire who plans to use Supermium, a rare energy source he found on the island, to control the world.

Cast: Alan Hale, Jr. (The Skipper), Bob Denver (Gilligan), Dawn Wells (Mary Ann Summers), Russell Johnson (The Professor), Jim Backus (Thurston Howell III), Natalie Schafer (Lovey Howell), Constance Forslund (Ginger Grant), David Ruprecht (Thurston Howell IV, Thurston's son). Guest Cast: Rosalind Chao (Lucinda), Martin Landau (J.J. Pierson), Barbara Bain (Olga Schmetner), Whitney Rydeck (George), Scatman Crothers (Dewey), Cindy Appleton (Linda), Wendy Hoffman (Jackie), Chick Hearn (Sportscaster).

3383 The Harlem Globetrotters Popcorn Machine. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1974–1975). Varied musical numbers and comedy sketches that are designed to relate social messages to children. The series is hosted by basketball wizards, the Harlem Globetrotters. Frank Peppiatt and John Aylesworth are the producers.

Hosts: The Harlem Globetrotters. Regulars: Avery Schreiber, Rodney Allen Rippy. Orchestra: Jack Elliott, Allyn Ferguson.

3384 Harold Lloyd's World of Comedy. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1977). First televised showings of Harold Lloyd silent shorts of the 1920s (music, sound effects and narration have been added).

Narrator: Henry Corden. Music Performer: The Don Peake Orchestra. Piano Music: Don Hulette. Theme Vocal: The Jimmy Joyce Singers.

3385 Harper Valley. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1981–1982). A revised version of Harper Valley PTA (which see for information). The series drops the PTA aspect of the original program to focus on the life of Stella Johnson, a beautiful single mother, who is now the executive assistant to Otis Harper, the intoxicated mayor of Harper Valley, Ohio.

Dee is Stella's daughter, a student at Harper Valley Junior High School. Winslow Homer Smith is Stella's mischievous uncle (called "Under Buster"), an amateur inventor whose contraptions seldom work. Cassie Bowman is Stella's friend, the publisher of the Harper Valley Sentinel. Flora Simpson Reilly is the woman who is jealous of Stella and seeking to discredit her; Wanda Reilly Taylor is Flora's daughter; Bobby Taylor is Wanda's husband; Scarlett is Wanda's daughter; Tom Meechum is the editor of the town's other newspaper, The Sun. The series, which produced 17 episodes, aired from October 29, 1981 to August 14, 1982.

Cast: Barbara Eden (Stella Johnson), Jenn Thompson (Dee Johnson), Fannie Flagg (Cassie Bowman), George Gobel (Otis Harper), Anne Francine (Flora Simpson Reilly), Bridget Hanley (Wanda Reilly Taylor), Rod McCary (Bobby Taylor), Suzi Dean (Scarlett Taylor), Christopher Stone (Tom Meechum), Georgia Paul (The Reilly's Cook). Theme Vocal: "Harper Valley USA" by Carol Chase.

3386 Harper Valley, PTA. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1981). Following the death of her husband, Stella Johnson, a beautiful and outspoken mother, moves to Harper Valley, Ohio, a hotbed of hypocrisy. Because of her flamboyant style and independent attitude, she encounters the objections of the PTA, a group of prudes who believe she is a bad influence and seek ways to discredit her in hopes that she will leave town. Episodes relate Stella's efforts to remain in Harper Valley by "teaching her neighbors some lessons" and showing them up as the hypocrites they are. Based on the motion picture of the same title. See also Harper Valley, the spin-off series.

Stella is a saleswoman for Angel Glow Cosmetics. Dee is her daughter, a student at Harper Valley Junior High School. Cassie Bowman is Stella's friend, a beautician at La Moderne Beauty Shop. Otis Harper is the intoxicated mayor of Harper Valley. Flora Simpson Reilly is the PTA president; Wanda Reilly Taylor is Flora's daughter; Bobby Taylor is Wanda's husband; Scarlett Taylor is Wanda's spoiled daughter. Willa Mae Jones is the recording secretary of the PTA; Vivian Washburn, Cliff Willoughby, Norman Clayton and Burt Powell are PTA members. Eunice Clayton is Norman's wife; George Kelly is the owner of Kelly's Bar; Doug Peterson is the WHV-TV, Channel 29 newscaster; Sandy is Bobby's secretary; Lyle P. Oliver is the president of Angel Glow Cosmetics. The series, which produced 13 episodes, ran from January 16, 1981 to August 28, 1981.

3387 Harper Valley, U.S.A. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 8/11/69). A proposed series of country and western sketches, monologues and songs set against the background of Harper Valley, the mythical town created by Tom T. Hall in the recording "Harper Valley PTA." (made famous by singer Jeannie C. Riley).

Host: Jerry Reed. Guests: Tom T. Hall, Jeannie C. Riley, Mel Tillis.

3388 Harper's Bazaar Fashion Parade. (Experimental; Women; DuMont; April 1944). A fashion and chatter show wherein guests are interviewed and the latest fashions are modeled. Sponsored by Harper's Bazaar magazine. A third attempt to turn a magazine into a series (see also Here's Click and What's New with Mademoiselle).

Host: Gloria Lehr. Models: Betty Gribble, Adrian Storm. Guest: Jack Pearl.

3389 Harrigan and Son. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1960–1961). James Harrigan, Sr. is a conservative attorney and the founder of the Manhattan law firm of Harrigan and Harrigan. James Harrigan, Jr. is his son, a recent Harvard graduate who joins his father's firm.

James Sr. believes in the human angle in defending clients; James, Jr. believes in defending clients strictly by the book. Episodes depict the clash that ensues as each attempts to prove that he is correct. Gypsy is the elder's young, gorgeous, free-spirited secretary; Miss Claridge is the younger's older, sedate secretary.

Cast: Pat O'Brien (James Harrigan, Sr.), Roger Perry (James Harrigan, Jr.), Georgine Darcy (Gypsy), Helen Kleeb (Miss Claridge). Theme Vocal: "Harrigan" by Pat O'Brien.

3390 Harris Against the World. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1964–1965). Alan Harris is a plant superintendent at a Los Angeles–based movie studio. He is married to Kate and is the father of Dee Dee and Billy. He lives in a comfortable apartment at 90 Bristol Court in Southern California and he is a man who has a difficult time coping with life. Stories relate his struggles as he attempts to survive the constant barrage of everyday problems. Cliff Murdock is the handyman; Helen and Norm are Alan's friends. The series, broadcast as a segment of 90 Bristol Court, produced 13 episodes and ran from October 5, 1964 to January 4, 1965.

Cast: Jack Klugman (Alan Harris), Patricia Barry (Kate Harris), Claire Wilcox (Dee Dee Harris), David Macklin (Billy Harris), Guy Raymond (Cliff Murdock), Fay DeWitt (Helen Miller), Sheldon Allman (Norm Miller).

3391 Harris and Company. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1979). A realistic approach to the problems facing a poor African American family as seen through the experiences of Mike Harris, a widowed Los Angeles mechanic and the father of five children (Juanita, Liz, David, Tommy and Richard). Other Regulars: Harry Foreman, Mike's partner in the Foreman-Harris Garage; Louise, Harry's wife; Charlie Adams, Mike's cousin; and Angie Adams, Charlie's wife.

3392 Harry. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 5/13/87). A proposed spin-off from The New Mike Hammer about Harriet "Harry" Quayle, a beautiful, two-fisted Australian private detective who makes New York City her home. In the pilot episode, titled "A Face in the Night," Harry first arrives in Manhattan then enlists Mike Hammer's help in tracking down Frederick Flynn, a mysterious and reclusive novelist.

Cast: Mary Frann (Harriet "Harry" Quayle). Guest Cast: Stacy Keach (Mike Hammer), Donna Denton (Laura, "The Face"), Philip Richard Allen (Milo), Marco St. John (Carl), Luca Bercovici (Werner), Mimi Maynard (Mildred), Lee Benton (Jenny).

3393 Harry. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1987). A four-episode program about Harry Porschak, an unorthodox, heart-of-gold scam artist who runs the purchasing department of New York's North Street Community General Hospital. Other Regulars: Ira Duckett, the head nurse; Wyatt Lockhart, the head of the hospital; Lawrence Pendelton, Wyatt's assistant; Bobby Kratz, Harry's assistant; and Dr. Sandy Clifton. The series ran from March 4, 1987 to March 25, 1987.

Cast: Alan Arkin (Harry Porschak), Holland Taylor (Nurse Ira Duckett), Kurt Knudson (Wyatt Lockhart), Matt Craven (Bobby Kratz), Thom Bray (Lawrence Pendelton), Barbara Dana (Dr. Sandy Clifton).

3394 Harry and the Hendersons. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1991–1993). George Henderson, his wife, Nancy, and their children, Sarah and Ernie, are returning from vacation and traveling on Interstate 5 in Seattle. Without warning, a creature (the legendary Bigfoot) steps onto the road and is hit by the Hendersons' van. Believing that they killed the creature, they somehow manage to tie it to the van's roof and bring it home. The creature, however, is not dead, just stunned, and it shows signs of sociability, so much so that he adopts the Hendersons and becomes a member of the family (whom they must conceal, fearing authorities will claim him for experiments; he lives in the Hendersons' loft).

Shortly after, Tiffany ("Tiffy") Glick, the young daughter of their neighbor, Samantha Glick, sees Bigfoot and tells her mother about "a big hairy guy in the Hendersons' backyard." Samantha dismisses it as just Tiffany's imagination, but Tiffany's description, "hairy guy," prompts the Hendersons to name their houseguest Harry.

The Hendersons live at 410 Forest Drive in Seattle. George was first a marketing executive for the People's Sporting Goods Company, then the publisher of a magazine called A Better Life (he is assisted by Nancy's brother, Brett Douglas).

Nancy, middle name Gwen, works with the Student Council Exchange of Seattle. The most risqué thing Nancy ever did, she says, "was not to wear a bra between 1972 and 1975." When Nancy gets mad at Harry, she calls him "Mister" (for example, "Now you cut that out, Mister!").

Sarah is 15 years old and attends Madison High School. She runs track (long distance) and hopes to one day write a book about her family and Harry — "But I'm going to use a pen name. I don't want anyone to think I'm nuts." Sarah worked as a counter girl at Photo Quickie and calls her white lace bra "my lucky bra."

Samantha works for Channel 10 and reports on "The News at 5." She has a prime-time series called Crime Time with Samantha Glick. She also hosts an interview series called Seattle Celebrities. Samantha, who learns of Harry's existence in later episodes, wishes the Hendersons “would get a pet duck like a normal family.”

Tiffany, called “Tiffany” by Samantha, calls Harry “Hairy Man.” For unexplained reasons, Samantha and Tiffany were dropped when the second season began. New to the cast was Darcy Farg, a pretty, rich young girl whose unseen parents purchased the home next door to the Hendersons. When she was first introduced, Darcy’s last name was given as Payne.

Harry is eight feet one inch tall and weighs 680 pounds. The first word he spoke was Ernie (whom he admires the most). Harry has a Barry Manilow tape collection and loves granola bars (he calls them “Num Num” and “Numie Numie”). Stories relate the Hendersons efforts to live with a Bigfoot and keep him secret; and Harry’s efforts to adjust to his human family.

Relatives: Marian Mercer (Nancy’s mother, Monica Douglas), Diane Stilwell (Nancy’s sister, Emily Graham), Julie McCullough (Darcy’s Swedish cousin, Uma Farg), Angela Vesser (Darcy’s cousin, Ema Farg), Mark L. Taylor (George’s cousin, Melvin Henderson).

Cast: Bruce Davison (George Henderson), Molly Cheek (Nancy Henderson), Carol Ann Plante (Sarah Henderson), Zachary Bostrom (Ernie Henderson), Noah Blake (Brett Douglas), Cassie Cole (Tiffany Glick), Gigi Rice (Samantha Glick), Courtney Peldon (Darcy Farg), Kevin Peter Hall (Harry), Dawan Scott (Harry), Brian Steele (Harry), Patrick Pinney (Harry’s voice). Theme Vocal: “Your Feet Too Big” by Leon Redbone.

3395 Harry and the Kids. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/5/85). A proposed series about Harry Stover, a middle-aged fisherman, and his efforts to raise three troublesome orphans—his nephews (Jason and Philip) and niece (Elizabeth), in Key West, Florida. In the pilot episode, Harry tries to convince the school’s principal that Jason, who is about to be suspended for fighting, was the innocent victim of a schoolyard brawl.

Cast: Max Gail (Harry Stover), Danny Kohn (Jason), Lisa Coristine (Elizabeth), Keram Malicki-Sanchez (Philip). Guest Cast: Patricia Idelette (Mavis), Geoffrey Bowes (Mr. Winegar), Derek McGrath (Otis).

3396 Harry O. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1974–1976). On Friday, January 18, 1969, police detective Harry Orwell and his partner responded to a burglary-in-progress at a drugstore. It is 1:20 A.M. when a shootout occurs between the cops and the suspect. Harry is shot in the back and his partner is killed.

When the series begins, Harry Orwell has retired from the police department. He is living on his disability pension and supplementing his income by moonlighting as a private detective. He has a bullet lodged near his spine and vigorous activity like running after a suspect causes pain.

Harry lives in a beach front house in San Diego and is working on a boat he calls The Answer (“which I’ll have as soon as I put it back together. I’m going out on the ocean where they have no telephones; telephones bug me”).

Harry has a gun but rarely uses it. He has a car but does a lot of walking.

The car, an ancient Austin-Healey MG, needs numerous repairs—all of which Harry is unable to afford. He will ride the bus or spring for a cab when he needs transportation (“It’s tax deductible”).

Harry never discusses politics or the shooting that disabled him. He isn’t particularly friendly, but a good friend to those who know him. He is a bit grouchy, more stubborn than he was before, and he is just now realizing that his chances for a true romance are becoming increasingly slimmer as he grows older.

When a case investigation takes Harry to Los Angeles, he rents an apartment. Shortly after, he learns that his home in San Diego is being torn down to make room for a high rise building. With the help of his neighbor, an airline stewardess named Betsy, Harry finds a beach front home at 1101 Coast Road in Santa Monica.

Linzy (a brunette Loni Anderson), Gina and Sue Ingham become Harry’s bikini-clad neighbors. Sue, an airline stewardess, and Harry become romantically involved although Harry has a difficult time adjusting to Sue’s Great Dane, Grover, a dog who just doesn’t seem to like Harry.

First season episodes feature Manuel Quinlan, a lieutenant with the San Diego Police Department. Manuel, called Manny, was a by-the-books, uptight cop who trusted Harry and worked with him to bring criminals to justice. When the series locale switched to Los Angeles, Lieutenant K.C. Trench was brought on to replace Manny who was killed off in the episode “Elegy for a Cop.” Trench had mixed feelings about Harry and disliked Harry’s casual mannerisms and ability to rely on intuition rather than hard evidence. “I don’t trust hunches,” says Trench.

Dr. Fong is Harry’s friend, a criminologist; Lester Hodges assists Dr. Fong. Billy Goldenberg composed the theme “Harry O.”

Cast: David Janssen (Harry Orwell), Henry Darrow (Lt. Manny Quinn), Anthony Zerbe (Lt. K.C. Trench), Paul Tully (Det. Don Roberts), Farrah Fawcett (Sue Ingram), Loni Anderson (Linzy), Katherine Baumann (Betsy), Barbara Leigh (Gina), Keye Luke (Dr. Fong), Les Lannom (Lester Hodges).

Note: Two pilots were produced for the series.

1. Such Dust As Dreams Are Made Of (ABC, March 11, 1973). The pilot establishes that Harry was a detective with the Los Angeles Police Department and he was shot in the back by Harlan Garrison (Martin Sheen) while responding to a robbery-in-progress at a drugstore. Harry’s police department contact is Lieutenant Arvin Grainger (Mel Stewart). The pilot story finds Harry as a private detective and being hired by the now free Harlan Garrison to protect him from a man who has put a contract out on his life. Richard Hazard composed the original theme.

2. Smile Jenny, You're Dead (ABC, February 3, 1974). Harry is established as a private detective working out of San Diego. In the pilot story, Harry investigates the death of a friend's son-in-law. Billy Goldenberg composed the theme.

3397 Harry's Battles. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/8/81). The endless frustrations of Harry Fitzsimmons, an average guy who constantly battles the bureaucratic errors that seem to plague his life. In the pilot episode, a simple trip to the hospital turns into a nightmare when Harry takes his wife (Mary Carol) to have a speck removed from her eye and they wind up misplacing her. Other Regulars: Harry's neighbors, Herb and Diane.

Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Harry Fitzsimmons), Connie Stevens (Mary Carol Fitzsimmons), Danny Wells (Herb), Marley Sims (Diane). Guest Cast: Joe Regalbuto (Dr. Harwood), Brooke Alderson (Nurse Hewitt), Florence Halop (Patient).

3398 Harry's Business. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/21/61). A proposed series about a young woman (Ellen Burton) as she attempts to begin a new life in San Francisco. In the pilot episode, Ellen leaves her home in Kansas for an important job interview (with her future employer, Harry Burns) only to be stranded in a small town by an inoperable car.

Cast: Elena Verdugo (Ellen Burton), Ray Walston (Harry Burns), Michael Burns (Brad), Bill Mulliken (Fred).

3399 Harry's Girls. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1960). The original pilot for the series Harry Girls. While the concept is the same (a song and dance troupe touring Europe), the cast is different. The troupe consists of showgirls Rusty, Lois and Teri and their manager, Harry. The pilot relates their first taste of Europe and their effort to keep a club date after they are stranded by an inoperable car. Based on the feature film Les Girls. Ellen McRae, who plays Rusty, is now known as actress Ellen Burstyn.

Cast: Larry Blyden (Harry Burns), Ellen McRae (Rusty), Kris Garner (Lois), Marsha Rivers (Teri). Theme Song: "Harry's Girls" by Ray Noble.

3400 Harry's Girls. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1963–1964). Rusty, Lois and Terry are three beautiful girls who comprise the act, Harry's Girls, a vaudeville-like entertainment song and dance act that is managed by Harry Burns, a smooth talking schemer. The act has found little success in America so Harry has taken the act overseas and stories follow the troupe's misadventures as they find excitement and romance while touring Europe. Based on the feature film Les Girls.

Cast: Larry Blyden (Harry Burns), Dawn Nicker-son (Lois), Susan Silo (Rusty), Diahn Williams (Terry).

3401 Harsh Realm. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 1999–2000). Harsh Realm is a virtual reality world created by the U.S. military to train soldiers and test war simulation games. Thomas F. Hobbes is an army lieutenant who agrees to test Harsh Realm. Soon after entering the game Hobbes discovers that he cannot leave as simply as he entered. He must defeat General Omar Santiago, the high scoring commando who has stolen the game's computer program. All who enter the game are now imprisoned and face a great obstacle: determining what is real and what is virtual reality. Stories follow Hobbes as he seeks a way to defeat the General and return to reality.

Cast: Scott Bairstow (Thomas Hobbes), Terry O'Quinn (Omar Santiago), Samantha Mathis (Sophie Green), Rachel Hayward (Florence), D.B. Sweeney (Michael Pinocchio), Max Martini (Mel Waters), Sara Jane Redmond (Inga Fossa).

3402 Hart to Hart. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1979–1984). Jonathan and Jennifer Hart are a husband and wife fascinated by crime. While not officially private detectives, they use their expertise as amateur crime sleuths to help people in trouble.

Jonathan and Jennifer live at 3100 Willow Pond Road in Bel Air. They have a dog named Freeway, whom they found stranded on the freeway, and a man Friday (Max).

Jonathan is the wealthy head of Hart Industries, located at 112 North Las Palmas in Los Angeles. He started the company in March of 1969 when he issued its first shares of stock.

Jennifer, maiden name Edwards, was born in Hillhaven, Maryland. She had a horse named Sweet Sue, attended Gresham Hall Prep School, and majored in journalism at an unnamed college. After graduation, Jennifer moved to New York City to become a freelance journalist. While on assignment in England for the London Herald, Jennifer learns that Jonathan has come to the city to close a big deal (prevent Kingsford Motors from going bankrupt). Her efforts to get an interview with the press-shy Jonathan fail until they meet by chance at the bar of the Hotel Ritz and find an instant attraction to each other. After a brief courtship, they marry and honeymoon in San Francisco's Napa Valley.

Max does the cooking, cleaning, and whatever else needs to be done at home. He enjoys a good cigar and is addicted to gambling. Roger Nichols composed the theme "Hart to Hart."

Max opens the show: "This is my boss (visual of Jonathan) Jonathan Hart, a self-made millionaire; he's quite a guy. This is Mrs. H (visual of Jennifer), she's gorgeous. She's one lady who knows how to take care of herself. My name is Max, I take care of both of them, which ain't easy 'cause when they met it was murder."

Note: Robert Wagner, Stefanie Powers and Lionel

Stander reunited for a series of TV movies that aired after the original series ended (Lionel appears in all but the last one in 1996): Hart to Hart Returns (1993), Hart to Hart: Crimes of the Hart (1994), Hart to Hart: Hart Throb (1994), Hart to Hart: Home Is Where the Hart Is (1994), Hart to Hart: Old Friends Never Die (1994), Hart to Hart: Secrets of the Hart (1995) and Hart to Hart: Harts in High Season (1996).

Cast: Robert Wagner (Jonathan Hart), Stefanie Powers (Jennifer Hart), Lionel Stander (Max), Mimi Maynard (Deanne; Jonathan's secretary), Lee Wilkof (Stanley Frieson, Jonathan's accountant), Eugene Roche (Marcus Wheeler, Jonathan's office manager), Alex Dreier (Marcus Wheeler; later), Michael Lerner (Lieutenant Moss), Richard B. Shull (Lieutenant Wilbur Gillis), Wynn Irwin (Lieutenant Herschel Gray), Hildy Brooks (Margo; Jennifer's literary agent), Ray Milland (Steven Edwards, Jennifer's father), Lyman Ward (Lieutenant Draper), Allyn Ann McLerie (Pearl, Max's ex-wife), Eva Gabor (Jennifer's Aunt Renie), Craig Wasson (Steve Thomas, Jennifer's cousin), Marilyn Kagan (Betsy Bach, Jennifer's cousin).

3403 The Hartmans. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1949). Life in a small town (Forrest Heights) as seen through the eyes of Paul and Grace Hartman, a young married couple encountering mishap after mishap as they struggle to survive the difficult first years of marriage.

Cast: Paul Hartman (Paul Hartman), Grace Hartman (Grace Hartman), Valerie Cossart (Grace's sister), Bob Shawley (Paul's nephew), Gage Clark (Paul's neighbor), Loring Smith (Grace's brother).

3404 Harts of the West. (Series; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 1993–1994). Dave Hart is a 41-year-old Chicago underwear salesman with a bad heart. After a mild heart attack Dave feels he has been given a second chance at life and buys the 100 acre Tumbleweed Ranch in Sholo, Nevada.

Dave quits his job, uproots his family and heads west to begin a new life. But when the Harts arrive it is another story — the ranch is broken down (it's owner, Alonzo Pike, had misrepresented the place. Dave answered his ad while he was in the hospital and has now lost the down payment. He also finds that Jake Tyrell, an aging cowpoke who once worked for Pike, is now his foreman). With no other choice, Dave decides to rebuild and return the dude ranch to the prosperity it once had. Stories follow Dave and his somewhat reluctant family to run their dude ranch. The series borrows elements from two prior series, Guestward Ho and Green Acres.

Dave is married to Allison. He has a fascination with the Old West and has named his children after western heroes: Duke is named after John Wayne; L'Amour after writer Louis L'Amour; and Zane after writer Zane Grey. Cassie Valesquez and Marcus St. Cloud are ranch hands; Nina is Allison's mother;

Zeke is Jake's brother. Auggie, an Indian, owns Auggie's Trading Post.

Cast: Beau Bridges (Dave Hart), Harley Jane Kozak (Allison Hart), Meghann Haldeman (L'Amour Hart), Sean Murray (Zane Grey Hart), Nathan Watt (John Wayne "Duke" Hart), Sterling Macer, Jr. (Marcus St. Cloud), Saginaw Grant (Auggie), Lloyd Bridges (Jake Tyrell), Diane Ladd (Nina Vandergrath), Cliff Robertson (Zeke Tyrell). Theme Vocal: "In a Laid Back Way" by Clint Black.

3405 Harvey Birdman, Attorney at Law.

(Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2000). Harvey Birdman was a daring super hero known as Birdman (from the 1960s cartoon series Birdman). Times have changed. Harvey has retired from battling super villains and become a lawyer (with the firm of Sebben and Sebben) to defend cartoon characters (such as Fred Flintstone, George Jetson, Scooby-Doo and other Hanna-Barbera created characters). Harvey was a brilliant crime fighter but he is not the greatest lawyer; he is rude and dim-witted and accomplishes everything by chance. Stories follow Harvey as he takes on the cases of cartoon characters who have no other place to turn. Debbie, Peanut, Reducto and Peter Potamus also work for the firm. Aired late at night as part of the Cartoon Network's Adult Swim segment.

Voice Cast: Gary Cole (Harvey Birdman), Thomas Allen (Peanut), Grey DeLisle (Debbie), John Michael Higgins (Judge Mentok the Mind Taker), Joe Alaskey (Peter Potamus), Stephen Colbert (Reducto).

3406 The Harvey Korman Show.

(Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/19/77). The pilot film for the limited run series (see next title). Francis A. Kavanaugh is a flamboyant "old school" actor who runs an offbeat acting class from his home. He is a widower and the father of a teenage daughter (Maggie). He has a nagging agent (Jake) and the proposed series at this stage was to relate his efforts to cope with his daughter's growing interest in boys and his efforts to teach no talented people the ability to act. In the pilot episode, Francis seeks a way to raise $1,000 to buy his daughter (Maggie) a used car. Other Regulars: Jake, Francis's agent; and Stuart, Maggie's boyfriend.

Cast: Harvey Korman (Francis A. Kavanaugh), Susan Lawrence (Maggie Kavanaugh), Milton Selzer (Jake Winkleman), Barry Van Dyke (Stuart Stafford). Guest Cast: Penelope Windust (Honey Buskin), Alma Beltran (Mrs. Robles-Diaz), Bart Braverman (Howie Hoff), Donna Ponterotto (Chris), Dino Natali (Carmine Despiccio), Don Sparks (Parker Crawford).

3407 The Harvey Korman Show.

(Series; Comedy; ABC; 1978). Harvey Kavanaugh is an aging actor with a small career who feels that the world is passing him by. His various attempts to find work was the focal point of a six-episode test based on the prior title. Other Regulars: Maggie, his daughter; Jake, his agent; Stuart, Maggie's boyfriend; and Bernie, Harvey's friend.

Cast: Harvey Korman (Harvey Kavanaugh), Christine Lahti (Maggie Kavanaugh), Milton Selzer (Jake Winkleman), Barry Van Dyke (Stuart Stafford), Harry Gold (Bernie).

3408 The Hat of Sergeant Martin. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 2/7/63). The story, set in a turbulent Latin American country during the 1930s, relates the adventures of Clinton Martin and Michael Lujack, two bickering U.S. Marine sergeants. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Premiere, Martin and Lujack attempt to hunt down a group of insurgents hiding in the mountains.

Cast: Roger Perry (Clinton Martin), Claude Akins (Michael Lujack). Guest Cast: Rafael Campos (Kiko), Carlos Romero (Sandy).

3409 The Hat Squad. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1992–1993). In Los Angeles in the 1940s, a special unit of police officers called the Hat Squad fought criminals. They were identified by their black fedoras and dusters and had no respect for the law; they did whatever it took to ensure justice. The squad was eventually retired when it was determined that the police officers were above the limits of the law.

Mike Ragland is a present-day captain with the 77th Precinct of the L.A.P.D. In an attempt to fight back at the new breed of criminal, Mike organizes a four man unit he calls the Hat Squad. Like the original unit, the new squad, nicknamed "The Hats," has little respect for the law. They wear black fedoras and dusters and specialize in solving violent crimes — "by whatever means we can within or just above the law." The new Hat Squad is made up of Mike and his three sons: Buddy Capatosa, Raphael Martinez and Matt Matheson, three orphans of crime who were adopted by Mike and his wife, Kitty and raised to be police officers.

Buddy, the eldest son, believes the Fortunata crime family is responsible for his parents' deaths and has sworn to prove it and bring them to justice.

Raphael, called Raffi, is a ladies' man; he calls himself "The Prince of Puerto Rico." He is a graduate of Jefferson High School and carries a special Jack of Spades playing card that is a certified weapon. It has razor sharp edges and he says, "It's my calling card." Raphael saw his parents gunned down and refuses to carry a firearm.

Matt, the youngest, attended Hoover High School. He is taking night classes in pre-law and is obsessed with apprehending criminals who prey on children.

Mike and Kitty also have a younger, adopted 12-year-old son named Darnell Johnson, who is being groomed as a future Hat Squad member.

When a female decoy is needed, the Hats use the station's CPR doll (Officer Jill) because they fear using a real woman is too dangerous. Mike Post composed the theme.

Cast: James Tolkan (Mike Ragland), Shirley Douglas (Kitty Ragland), Janet Carroll (Kitty Ragland; later), Don Michael Paul (Buddy Capatosa), Nestor Serrano (Raphael Martinez), Billy Warlock (Matt Matheson), Bruce Robbins (Darnell Johnson).

3410 The Hathaways. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1961–1962). Walter Hathaway and his wife, Elinor, are a happily married couple who live in a modest home at 148 Magnolia Drive in Los Angeles. They have a housekeeper, Amanda Allison and two sources of income: the Hathaway Realty Company, which Walter runs; and the Hathaway Chimps, Charlie, Enoch and Candy (The Marquis Chimps), three theatrical chimpanzees Elinor adopted, trained and now manages.

"The Kids," as Elinor calls them (Walter calls them "the children"), are a sought-after act for TV shows and films. Enoch is easily impressed and copies Walter's mannerisms and gestures. Charlie, the oldest, is the mischievous one. He has a mind of his own and costs the "family" jobs (he gives the "raspberry" to producers he doesn't like). Candy is the baby of the family and clings to Enoch for comfort. Stories follow Elinor as she manages "The Kids" and Walter as he struggles with his real estate business.

The Hathaway Chimps appeared on such shows as Ed Sullivan, Jack Benny and the mythical Al Jolson Show; they also had their own segment (in which they clowned around) on Barney Holt's Merchandise Showcase. Walter had a development called Desert Charm Estates ("Home Sites for People with Foresight") that he could never seem to unload. Jerry Rogers is the chimps' agent. Herbert W. Spencer composed the theme.

Cast: Jack Weston (Walter Hathaway), Peggy Cass (Elinor Hathaway), Mary Grace Canfield (Amanda Allison), Harvey Lembeck (Jerry Rogers).

3411 Haunted. (Series; Drama; UPN; 2002). Frank Taylor is an ex-cop turned private detective who says "I'm haunted." He can communicate with the dead and uses their help to solve crimes.

For Frank it began during his investigation of a missing child. Frank found the child but was stabbed by the culprit. Frank was rushed to the hospital but flatlined during an operation to save his life. During the time he spent between the worlds of life and death, Frank experienced a brief encounter with the world beyond. He was resuscitated seconds later and brought back from the brink of death. But he retained a link with departed souls who now haunt him.

Frank's business, Frank Taylor Investigations, is located in an office above the Black Hawk Bar in Los Angeles. He was a cop for eight years before becoming dissatisfied with his job and starting his own service. The onset of a splitting headache is usually an indication that spirits are trying to contact him. Not all his unearthly encounters are nice; some are pure evil who seek to kill him, especially the pasty-white ghost of murderer Simon Dunn who literally haunts Frank and “scares the hell out of me.”

Frank was with the 10th Precinct and has a dog named Gus who can sense when spirits are trying to contact Frank. Frank believes ghosts contact him because they are in limbo with unfinished business and cannot move on until they complete a mission. “That’s where I come in,” he says.

Frank is divorced from Jessica Manning and is the father of Kevin, a boy who mysteriously disappeared several years ago. Lynn is an assistant D.A. and helps Frank collar criminals “because I’m sick of seeing bad guys getting breaks.” Frank often works with his former police partner, Marcus Bradshaw, who calls Frank’s lone pursuit of criminals Lone Ranger tactics. Marcus was previously a cop with the New Orleans Police Department.

Frank can also receive visions of people in danger. And sometimes Frank is too late to help. Mark Snow composed the theme “Haunted.”

Cast: Matthew Fox (Frank Taylor), John Mann (Simon Dunn), Lynn Collins (Jessica Manning), Russell Hornsby (Marcus Bradshaw).

3412 Have a Heart. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1955). A general knowledge type of question is read to four players who compete (comprising two teams of two). The first player to sound a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. A correct response scores that team a cash prize. The team with the highest cash score is the winner and the money they have won is donated to their favorite hometown charity. The series ran from May 3, 1955 to June 14, 1955.

Host: John Reed King.

3413 Have a Nice Day. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for NBC in 1990). Bob Gladwin is a salesman. He is married to Tammy and he is the father of two children, Patty and Donny. The misadventures of a typical American family of the 1970s was the focal point of this unsold series.

Cast: James Eckhouse (Bob Gladwin), Mary Kay Adams (Tammy Gladwin), Tia Roosendahl (Patty Gladwin), Christopher Gartin (Donny Gladwin). Guest Cast: Holly Sampson (Rhonda), Christopher Carter Hooks (Elliott Keeler), Troy Burgess (Mr. Horner).

3414 Have Faith. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1989). Incidents in the lives of four Catholic priests (Joseph, Vincent, Gabriel and Edgar) at St. Catherine’s Church in Chicago. Other Regulars: Sally, Joseph’s secretary; and Arthur, the handyman. Gordon Lustig composed the theme, “Have Faith.”

Cast: Joel Higgins (Monsignor Joseph “Mac” MacKenzie), Ron Carey (Father Vincent Paglia), Stephen Furst (Father Gabriel Podmaninsky), Frank Hamilton (Father Edgar Tuttle), Francesca Roberts (Sally Coleman), Todd Susman (Arthur Glass).

3415 Have Gun — Will Travel. (Series; Western; CBS; 1957–1963). “Have Gun — Will Travel. Wire Paladin, San Francisco” reads the calling card of a man known only as Paladin, a fast gun for hire who operates out of the Hotel Carlton in San Francisco. Paladin is a connoisseur of the arts. He has box seats at the opera house, enjoys fine food (he even has his own recipes) and has an eye for the ladies. He smokes expensive cigars (he carries a spare in his boot), collects chessmen (especially the knight) and is lucky at gambling. He also has one rule: never to go anywhere without his gun.

Paladin, a right-handed gunman, carries a Colt .45 revolver (“The balance is excellent; the trigger responds to the pressure of one ounce. It was hand-crafted to my specifications.” He rarely draws it, “But when I do I aim to use it”).

Paladin’s work clothes are a black outfit with a chess knight (the Paladin) embossed on his black holster. He also wears a black hat and carries a small derringer under his gun belt.

Paladin is a graduate of West Point, and his experiences with the Union army have given him a knowledge of war tactics that he uses to help people. He has a talent with a gun, a devotion to duty and relaxes in luxury at the hotel, genuinely enjoying life between assignments. (He reads the newspapers from various states and sometimes sends his calling card to people he thinks may need his help; his fee is $1,000).

The theme from the unaired pilot version of Have Gun — Will Travel exclaims, “There are campfire legends that the plainsmen spin, telling of the man with the gun, of the man called Paladin.” Little is known about Paladin. His legend began when an unnamed ex-army officer lost a large sum of money to a wealthy land baron (William Conrad) in a poker game. To repay the debt, the army officer agreed to help the land baron by killing Smoke, an outlaw who has been plaguing him. In a duel to the death, the officer kills Smoke. The officer then adopts Smoke’s black outfit and the symbol of the Paladin as his own. He calls himself Paladin and begins a policy of hiring out his guns and experience to those who are unable to protect themselves. (In this particular episode, “Genesis,” Richard Boone played three roles: the older and younger Paladin and Smoke.)

Hey Boy and Hey Girl are Paladin’s servants at the Hotel Carlton; Mr. McGunnis is its manager. W. Beal Wong played Hey Boy’s uncle, Sing Wo, owner of Sing Wo’s Chinese Laundry, in one episode.

Cast: Richard Boone (Paladin), Kam Tong (Hey Boy), Lisa Lu (Hey Girl), Olan Soule (Mr. McGunnis). Theme Vocal: “The Ballad of Paladin” by Johnny Western.

3416 Have Mercy. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for CBS in 1992). Following the death of his ex-wife, Dugan McCoy inherits one-third of her posh country inn. The remaining two-thirds go to Janet Minswell, his beautiful, gold-digging ex-sister-in-law, and Mercy, a spoiled nine-year-old girl who is the secret daughter of his ex-wife and her second husband. The unsold series was to follow the mishaps that occur when Dugan and Janet learn that they must raise the “demon child” (Mercy) in order to keep their shares of the inn.

Cast: Daniel Hugh-Kelly (Dugan McCoy), Heather Locklear (Janet Minswell), Ashley Johnson (Mercy).

3417 Having Babies. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 1976–1978). A listing of the three pilot films that eventually led to the series Julie Farr, M.D.

1. Having Babies (ABC, 10/17/76). The personal dramas of three couples (Sally and George; Laura and Frank; and Beth and Mickey) and an expectant mother (Grace) who are preparing for childbirth through Lamaze classes being taught by Allie Duggan. Originally titled Giving Birth.

Cast: Adrienne Barbeau (Allie Duggan), Jessica Walter (Sally McNamara), Ronny Cox (George McNamara), Linda Purl (Laura Gorman), Desi Arnaz, Jr. (Frank Gorman), Karen Valentine (Beth Pertano), Greg Mullavey (Mickey Pertano), Vicki Lawrence (Grace Fontrelli), Richard Masur (Max Duggan), Harry Guardino (Ralph Bancini), Abe Vigoda (Al Schneider).

2. Having Babies II (ABC, 10/28/77). The story interweaves the dramas of three expectant couples (Trish and Aaron; Sally and Arthur; and Paula and Lou), a teenage girl in love (Jenny) and a doctor (Julie Farr) torn between her career and a romantic involvement.

Cast: Susan Sullivan (Julie Farr), Paula Prentiss (Trish Canfield), Tony Bill (Aaron Canfield), Carol Lynley (Sally McGee), Cliff Gorman (Arthur McGee), Lee Meriwether (Martha Cooper), Cassie Yates (Paula Plotkin), Wayne Rogers (Lou Plotkin), Tracy Marshak (Jenny Copper), Rosanna Arquette (Girl), Michael LeClair (Chris).

3. Having Babies III (ABC, 3/3/78). The story chronicles a work day in the life of Julie Farr, a dedicated obstetrician who is often embroiled in the personal lives of her patients. Other Regulars: Drs. Blake Simmons and Ron Daniels; and Kelly, Julie’s receptionist.

Cast: Susan Sullivan (Julie Farr), Mitchell Ryan (Blake Simmons), Dennis Howard (Ron Daniels), Beverly Todd (Kelly Williams). Guest Cast: Patty Duke (Leslie Wexler), Kathleen Beller (Dawn Roberts), Rue McClanahan (Gloria Miles), Richard Mulligan (Jim Wexler), Jamie Smith Jackson (Marnie Bridges), Michael Lembeck (Russ Bridges), Phil Foster (Chuck).

3418 Hawaii. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 2004). A heavily promoted but quickly cancelled series about the work of a group of diverse detectives with the Honolulu Metro Police Department whose cases are anything but routine.

Max Harrison heads the team; he is assisted by John Decian, Linh Dias, Christopher Gains and Danny Edwards. The program is filmed on location but even with the beautiful Hawaiian scenery, it could never catch on with viewers or duplicate the ambiance of Hawaii Five-0. The episodes that aired are totally devoted to catching criminals and offers very little character and factual information. Decian was revealed to be a former cop with the Chicago Police Department; Max’s car code was given as 242-Bravo.

Cast: Michael Biehn (Max Harrison), Sharif Atkins (John Decian), Aya Sumika (Linh Dias), Eric Balfour (Christopher Gains), Ivan Sergei (Danny Edwards), Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa (Captain Terry Harada).

3419 Hawaii Calls. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966). A 26-episode series that features the music, song and dance of Hawaii as performed by various artists.

Host-Narrator: Webley Edwards.

3420 Hawaii Five-0. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1968–1980). Hawaii Five-0 is a special investigative branch of the Hawaiian Police Department that is based in the Iolani Palace (“The only palace on American soil”).

Steve McGarrett is the head of Five-0 and works in conjunction with the governor of Hawaii. Daniel (“Danny”) Williams, Chin Ho Kelly and Kono are the main detectives who work with Steve.

Steve, a Capricorn, was born in San Francisco. He is a commander in the Navy Reserve. He attended Union High School and served in Japan during the Korean War. He moved to Hawaii in 1961 and joined the Hawaiian Police Department where he was later appointed to head Five-0.

Danny, whom Steve calls “Dan-O,” was said to have been born in both Honolulu and the Midwest. He majored in philosophy at the University of Hawaii for one year, then transferred to the University of California to major in police science.

CBS affiliate station KGMB-TV, Channel 9, is seen frequently as the station that covers Steve’s cases.

In last season episodes, when the series was also known as McGarrett, Steve was assisted by a new team of investigators: detectives Lori Wilson and James (“Kimo”) Carew, and Officer Moe (“Truck”) Kealoha. Wo Fat was Steve’s principal nemesis from the pilot to the series’ last episode, “Woe to Wo Fat.” “Doc Bergman is the medical examiner; Che Fong is the coroner; Tony Alika is the mobster; Edna and May are police department secretaries; Jenny is Steve's secretary; John Manicote is the Attorney General; Jonathan Kaye is a Naval Intelligence Officer.

"Book 'em, Dan-O" and "Patch me through to McGarrett" became the series' well-known catchphrases. Tim O'Kelly played Danny in the pilot film; Helen Hayes appeared as Danny's aunt, Clara, in one episode. Morton Stevens composed the theme, "Hawaii Five-0."

Cast: Jack Lord (Steve McGarrett), James MacArthur (Danny Williams), Kam Fong (Det. Chin Ho Kelly), Zulu (Detective Kono), Al Harrington (Det. Ben Koku), Sharon Farrell (Det. Lori Wilson), William Smith (Det. James "Kimo" Carew), Moe Keale (Off. Moe "Truck" Kealoha), Al Eben (Doc Bergman), Richard Denning (The Governor), Harry Endo (Che Fong), Morgan White (John Manicote), Khigh Dhiagh (Wo Fat), Ross Martin (Mobster Tony Alike), Herman Wedemeyer (Det. Duke Mikila), Barbara Luna (Edna), Linda Ryan (Dr. Judith Patrick), Bill Edwards (Jonathan Kaye), Peggy Ryan (Jenny Sherman), Patricia Barne (Jenny; later), Maggi Parker (May).

3421 Hawaiian Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1959–1963). Hawaiian Eye Investigations is a private investigative firm located in the lobby of the Hawaiian Village Hotel in Honolulu, Hawaii (the agency is also said to be a security firm and located at the Hilton Hawaiian Village Hotel). Tracy Steele, Tom Lopaka and Gregg MacKenzie are "The Eyes," as they are called, who provide the hotel security and hire out their investigative service to help people in trouble.

Chrysis Blake, called Cricket, is a singer who runs Cricket's Corner, the hotel's gift shop. Phil Barton is the hotel's director of special events. While not detectives, they assist "The Eyes" on cases when needed.

Cricket is 20 years old and was born in San Francisco. She performs in the Hawaiian Village's Shell Bar (also seen as the Shell Lounge) and is an amateur photographer (she hopes to make it big by selling one of her photographs to a newspaper). When Connie Stevens, who plays Cricket, left the series for a short time in 1963, she was replaced by Tina Cole as Sunny Day, a hopeful singer who worked at the Hawaiian Village Hotel's information booth.

Gregg was born in Los Angeles and had originally planned to become a police officer. After graduating from UCLA he became interested in private investigating and worked briefly in California before relocating to Hawaii.

Tom, born in Hawaii, is the son of a fisherman. New York born Tracy had studied law and yearned for a life of danger and intrigue. He worked briefly in his chosen field but gave it up to become a private investigator.

Kim Kasano is a cab driver (owner of Kim's Cab) who does occasional work for Tracy and Tom; Danny Quon is the police lieutenant who assists "The Eyes."

Cast: Anthony Easley (Tracy Steele), Robert Conrad (Tom Lopaka), Grant Williams (Gregg MacKenzie), Connie Stevens (Cricket Blake), Troy Donahue (Phil Barton), Tina Cole (Sunny Day), Poncie Ponce (Kim Kasano), Mel Prestidge (Danny Quon). Theme Song: "Hawaiian Eye" by Mack David, Jerry Livingston. Connie Stevens Musical Backing: The Exotic Sounds of Arthur Lyman.

3422 Hawaiian Heat. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1984). With little chance for promotion and fed up with the conditions that exist in Chicago, Metro Department police officers Mac Riley and Andy Senkowski decide to reconstruct their lives and move to Hawaii. There, after helping Major Taro Oshira of the Oahu Police Department, solve a complex case, they become detectives with the Criminal Investigation Division. Mac (badge number 6314) and Andy (badge number 316) originally worked on file duty.

Irene Gorley is their friend and neighbor, a beautiful young woman who runs a helicopter sight-seeing service called Cupid Eyes Tours. Detective Harker is Taro's aide; Earl the Pearl is Andy's snitch and Dr. Robin Barnett is the police psychologist who assists Mac and Andy.

Shelley Winters played Andy's mother, Florence Senkowski, and Moana Anderson appeared as Harker's niece, Keiki. Tina, Leila and Julie are the gorgeous native girls who share an apartment with Irene at 187 La Lanola Place in Oahu.

Cast: Robert Ginty (Mac Riley), Jeff McCracken (Andy Senkowski), Tracy Scoggins (Irene Gorley), Mako (Major Taro Oshira), Branscombe Richmond (Detective Harker), Diane Civita (Dr. Robin Barnett), Tina Marie Machado (Tina), Leila Hee Olson (Leila), Julie Marie Olson (Julie), James Grant Benton (Earl the Pearl). Theme Music: "Goodbye Blues" by Tom Scott and Candy Patterson.

3423 Hawk. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1966). John Hawk is a detective with the Manhattan (New York) District Attorney's Office. He is the head of an elite team of plainclothes special unit detectives that have been trained to infiltrate and destroy the underworld. Part Iroquois Indian and a prowler of the night, Hawk excels in solving crimes perpetrated by those whose specialty is working by dark.

Dan Carter is Hawk's partner; Murray Slacken is the Assistant District Attorney; Ed Gorten is Hawk's superior; Sam Crown is Hawk's informant.

Cast: Burt Reynolds (John Hawk), Wayne Grice (Dan Carter), John Marley (Sam Crown), Bruce Glover (Murray Slacken), Leon Janney (Ed Gorten).

3424 Hawkeye and the Last of the Mohicans. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). The series is set during the 1750s. The founding and growth of America is seen through the adventures of Nathaniel "Natty" Bumppo, a fur trader and pioneer who is known as Hawkeye, "The First of the Long Rifles," and his blood brother, Chingachgook, the last chief of the Mohican tribe. Stories relate their experiences as they assist pioneers and battle the constant Huron uprisings as scouts for the U.S. Cavalry. Hawkeye's real name is also listed in some sources as Nat Cutler. Based on characters created by James Fennimore Cooper.

A narrator opens the show: "The immortal pen of James Fennimore Cooper brings you thrilling tales of excitement; blazing action on the early American frontier. Stirring adventures filled with the daring and courage of Hawkeye, first of the long rifles, and his blood brother, Chingachgook, last of the Mohicans."

Cast: John Hart (Hawkeye), Lon Chaney, Jr. (Chingachgook).

3425 Hawkeye: The First Frontier. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1994–1995). The series is set on the American Frontier of the Hudson Valley in 1775. It depicts the adventures of Natty Bumppo, a woodsman, trapper and marksman (nicknamed Hawkeye) and his Indian blood brother, Chingachgook, a member of the Delaware Indian tribe.

Hawkeye was an orphan raised by Scottish missionaries, then by the Delaware Indians (where he befriended Chingachgook). Entering their lives is Elizabeth Shields, a beautiful young woman who is married to the elder William Shields.

William has taken Elizabeth from her stately home in Virginia to the Frontier to experience a new life as the operators of a trading post at Fort Bennington. Shortly after arriving, William is kidnapped by the Huron Indians and Elizabeth, with the help of Hawkeye and Chingachgook, set off on a dangerous quest to find William. Stories, which follow their quest, also relate their efforts to help settlers and their involvement in the white man–Indian battle for control of the land.

Cast: Lee Horlsey (Natty "Hawkeye" Bumppo), Rodney A. Grant (Chingachgook), Lynda Carter (Elizabeth Shields), Michael Berry (William Shields).

3426 Hawkins. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1973–1974). Billy Jim Hawkins is a shrewd, common sense criminal attorney working out of West Virginia. R.J. Hawkins, his cousin, is also his assistant and legman and stories follow Billy Jim's case investigations and courtroom defenses as he incorporates a relaxed, easy-going manner to accomplish things that seem unlikely to win cases for his clients.

Cast: James Stewart (Billy Jim Hawkins), Strother Martin (R.J. Hawkins), David Huddleston (District Attorney Harrelson), Ivan Bonar (Judge).

3427 Hawkins Falls, Population 6200. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1950). Personality sketches of life in the small American town of Hawkins Falls as seen through the eyes of Clate Weathers, the editor of the local newspaper. The series ran from June 17, 1950 to October 12, 1950.

Cast: Frank Dane (Clate Weathers), Win Strackle (Laif Flaigle), Hope Summers (Mrs. Catherwood), Phillip Lord (Judge), Bernadene Flynn (Lorna Cary), Michael Golda (Dr. Floyd Cary), Roz Twohey (Millicie Flaigle), Helen Bernie (Betty Sawtel), Russ Reed (Spec Bassett), Elmira Rossler (Elmira Cleebe). Also: Sam Gray, Arthur Peterson, Norm Gottschalk, Alice Dinsen, Jean Mowry, Viola Berwick, Alma DuBus, Mary Frances Desmond, Jim Bannon.

3428 Hay Fever. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 7/28/39). A television adaptation of the Broadway play by Noel Coward. The story is set in an English country home that is owned by an actress (Judith Bliss), her husband, a novelist, and their grown children. Each member of this ill-mannered family invites a guest and the comedy stems from the family members becoming engrossed with themselves and ignoring their guests. Hay Fever was the first play adapted to TV in its entirety and the first to exceed the usual hour allotted by NBC for such endeavors.

Cast: Isobel Elson (Judith Bliss), Dennis Hoey (Her husband), Montgomery Clift (Her son), Virginia Campbell (Her daughter), Florence Edney (Maid). Also: Lowell Gilmore, Carl Harbord, Barbara Leeds, Nancy Sheridan.

3429 Hayloft Hoedown. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1948). A weekly program of performances by country and western artists. The series, set at the Hoedown Ranch, aired from July 10, 1948 to September 18, 1948.

Host: Elmer Newman. Regulars: Jesse Rogers, Jack Day, Wesley Tuttle, The Murray Sisters, The Hoedown Ranch Square Dances. Music: The Sleepy Hollow Gang.

3430 Haywire. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1990). The Candid Camera type of situation is reversed in a not so original idea (CBS did it 30 years earlier with Tell It to the Camera) that has a visible camera crew approaching people on the street and asking them potentially embarrassing questions (for example, "Have you ever had an affair?"), or appearing unannounced at a person's house to ask similar embarrassing questions ("May we come in and see if the beds are made?").

Host: Jeffrey Joseph. Regulars: Bob Perlow, John Keister, Michael Bellah, Alan Hunter, David Jackson.

3431 Hazard's People. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/9/76). The story of John Hazard, a renowned criminal attorney whose style and flair, as well as his inherent sense of larceny in the pursuit of justice, sets him apart from his peers in the legal profession. In the pilot episode, Hazard and his three associates (Michael, Trish and Ernest), seek to help Dr. Carl DeLacy, a noted surgeon who has been accused of murdering his mistress. Other Regulars: Sylvia, the office secretary; and Robert F. Powell, the D.A.

Cast: John Houseman (John Hazard), John Elrick (Michael Crowder), Jesse Welles (Trish Corelli), Roger Hill (Ernest Clay), Doreen Lang (Sylvia Freed), Stefan Gierasch (Robert F. Powell). Guest Cast: Michael Tolan (Dr. Carl DeLacy), Hope Lange (Mrs. DeLacy), Cliff Emmich (Sam Colby), Richard Herd (Howard Frederickson), James Whitmore, Jr. (David Stock).

3432 Hazel. (Series; Comedy; NBC; CBS; 1961–1966). At 123 Marshall Road in an unspecified city (possibly in New Jersey, as New York and Philadelphia are mentioned as neighboring cities) reside attorney George Baxter, his wife, Dorothy, their son, Harold, and their live-in maid, Hazel. The family dog is Smiley.

Hazel has an insurance policy to cover her back when she bowls. She is famous for her fudge brownies and was the television spokesperson for Aunt Nora's Instant Cake Mix. Hazel has been working for the Baxters for 14 years, according to 1964 episodes. She is a member of the Sunshine Girls (a society of local neighborhood maids) and was voted "Maid of the Month" by American Elegance magazine. Hazel calls George "Mr. B," Dorothy "Missy" and Harold "Sport."

Hazel, George says, will never tell a lie; she has "George Washington heroics." George also says that Hazel is the only person who knows the true meaning of Christmas ("She makes her own presents"). Stories follow Hazel as she tries to be more than just a maid, but a helpful member of the family (but causing mishaps by meddling into George's business affairs).

George, who began practicing law in 1949, is a corporate lawyer with the firm of Butterworth, Hatch, Noll and Baxter. He attended Dartmouth and is a member of the board of regents of the University Law School (he delivers the Oliver Wendell Holmes Memorial Lectures). He is constantly nagged by Hazel to stay on his diet and gets additional annoyance from Harvey Griffin, his firm's biggest client (the owner of Griffin Enterprises). George is also an attorney for the Symphony Association.

Dorothy is a freelance interior decorator (no business name given) and a member of the I.D.S. (Interior Decorator's Society). She is also a member of the local women's club.

George's offices are in the Arcade Building. His most frequently seen partner is Harry Noll, a man who believes he is irresistible to women; he married Rita Linda, a famous singer who is 20 years his junior; they purchased a house next door to the Baxters at 121 Marshall Road.

Linda was George's original secretary ("The best secretary I ever had"); she was replaced by (no reason given) Miss Scott. Rosie Hamicker is Hazel's best friend, a maid also. Barney Hatfield is the mailman; and Herbert Johnson and his wife, Harriet, are the Baxters' elderly neighbors (Herbert, an investor, cornered the market on whale bones, 427 tons of it).

In the episode of 9/10/65 (when the series switched from NBC to CBS), Hazel and Harold move in with George's younger brother, Steve Baxter, when George is transferred to the Middle East to handle a big oil deal for Mr. Griffin. (George and Dorothy decided to leave Harold in Steve's care to avoid having him miss a semester at school. They were only supposed to be away for a few months; they are in Baghdad when the episode begins.)

Steve, his wife, Barbara, and their daughter, Susie, live at 325 Sycamore Street in the same unnamed city (an hour's drive from George's home). Steve owns the Baxter Realty Company and is called "Mr. Steve" by Hazel. Other Roles: (1965–66): Millie Ballard is Steve's secretary (she reads Teenager magazine and works after school and on Saturdays); Fred Williams is Steve's neighbor; Mona Williams is Fred's wife; and Jeff Williams is Fred's son. The series is based on the Saturday Evening Post character created by Ted Key.

Themes: "Hazel" (theme with lyrics), by Helen Miller and Howard Greenfield; "Hazel" (musical version), by Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen.

Cast: Shirley Booth (Hazel Burke), Don DeFore (George Baxter), Whitney Blake (Dorothy Baxter), Bobby Buntrock (Harold Baxter), Ray Fulmer (Steve Baxter), Lynn Borden (Barbara Baxter), Julia Benjamin (Susie Baxter), Maudie Prickett (Rosie Hamicker), Cathy Lewis (Deirdre Thompson; George's sister), Robert P. Lieb (Harry Thompson; Deirdre's husband), Davey Davison (Nancy Thompson; Deirdre's daughter), Howard Smith (Harvey Griffin), Molly Dodd (Miss Scott), Robert B. Williams (Barney Hatfield), Patrick McVey (Gus Jenkins; Hazel's friend), Alice Backus (Clara; a maid), Mary Scott (Miss Sharp; Harvey's secretary), Norma Varden (Harriet Johnson), Donald Foster (Herbert Johnson), Johnny Washbrook (Eddie Burke; Hazel's nephew), Dub Taylor (Mitch Brady; Hazel's friend), John Newton (Stan Blake; George's neighbor), Brenda Scott (Linda Blake; Stan's daughter), Judy Erwin (Mavis Blake; Stan's daughter), Paul Engle (Don Blake; Stan's son), Mala Powers (Mona Williams), Charles Bateman (Fred Williams), Pat Cardi (Jeff Williams), Ann Jillian (Millie Ballard).

3433 The Hazel Bishop Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). A half-hour program of music and songs with bandleader Freddy Martin. The series, sponsored by Hazel Bishop Cosmetics, is also known as The Freddy Martin Show. The series aired from July 12, 1951 to December 5, 1951. Perry Lafferty is the producer.

Host: Freddy Martin. Regulars: Merv Griffin, Murray Arnold, Judy Lynn. Orchestra: Freddy Martin.

3434 The Hazel Scott Show. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1950). A quarter-hour summer series of music with pianist Hazel Scott. The series ran from July 3, 1950 to September 29, 1950.

Hostess: Hazel Scott. Announcer: Gloria Lucas.

3435 He and She. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1967–1968). Richard Hollister is a cartoonist and the creator of the comic strip turned television series Jetman. Paula Hollister is Richard's beautiful wife, an employee of the Manhattan Tourist Aid Society (she has a heart of gold and can't resist helping people in trouble).

The Hollisters live in an apartment at 365 East 84th Street in Manhattan. Their side wall living room window faces the side of the local firehouse (station number 26). Fireman Harry Zarakardos has placed a plank from their window to the fire station window to provide easy access to both buildings.

Oscar North is the egotistical star of Jetman (a superhero with a jet-shaped helmet and two jets on the back of his vest for flying). Stories relate Richard's efforts to deal with problems at work (most notably from Oscar) and the problems Paula causes for him at home with efforts to help displaced people.

Andrew Humble is the building's not so handyman; Norman Nugent is Richard's employer; Murray Mouse is Richard's accountant. Jerry Fielding composed the "He and She" theme.

Cast: Richard Benjamin (Richard Hollister), Paula Prentiss (Paula Hollister), Jack Cassidy (Oscar North), Hamilton Camp (Andrew Humble), Kenneth Mars (Harry Zarakardos), Harold Gould (Norman Nugent), Alan Oppenheimer (Murray Mouse).

3436 He Said, She Said. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969). Four celebrity couples compete, playing for selected members of the studio audience. The husbands are on camera and the wives are isolated backstage in a soundproof room. The husbands have to state a personal association that will hopefully trigger a response from the individual's wife, to recognize it as what "He Said." The wives are aired and seen through four monitors that are built into the set and placed before their mates. The topic is stated and one answer is revealed. The first wife to sound a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. If she matches the response her husband gave, she receives points. Round two is played in the same manner; rounds three and four are played in reverse (he has to recognize what "She Said"). The highest scoring team wins $250 and a seven-day vacation at a Holiday Inn.

Host: Joe Garagiola. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

3437 He-Man and the Masters of the Universe. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1983). He-Man is the protector of the Castle Grayskull. He is in reality Prince Adam, the son of King Randor and Queen Marlena, the rulers of the planet Eternia. Adam has a twin sister, Adora, who battles the evils of the Horde (see She-Ra: Princess of Power).

The Sorceress of Castle Grayskull has given Adam special powers and his weapon, the Sword of Grayskull, to defend the castle from the evil Skeletor. When Adam holds the sword and says, "By the power of Grayskull, I have the power," he is transformed into He-Man (his tiger, whom he rides, Cringer, becomes the mighty Battle Cat).

Castle Grayskull resembles a large skull and is the source of He-Man's powers. Skeletor, an evil sorcerer "from another dimension," has blue skin with a skull for a head. He operates from Snake Mountain and the Havoc Staff is his weapon of choice. Stories relate He-Man's battles against the evil Skeletor, who seeks the powers of Castle Grayskull.

Voice Cast: John Erwin (He-Man), Alan Oppenheimer (Skeletor), Linda Gary (Teela/Queen Marlena/Sorceress/Eveil-Lyn), Lou Scheimer (Modulok), Alan Oppenheimer (Buzz-Off/Melakthal/Cringer/Mer-Man/Roboto). Additional Voices: Michael Bell, George DiCenzo, Erica Schemer.

3438 He-Man and the Masters of the Universe. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2002). A revised version of the 1980s series of the same title (see prior entry) that finds Prince Adam, the son of King Randor and Queen Marlena, secretly defending the Castle Grayskull from the evil Skeletor as He-Man, a mighty warrior.

Skeletor is seeking the repository of universal knowledge that is hidden deep within the recesses of Castle Grayskull. He-Man and his assistants, the Masters of the Universe, risk their lives to protect the castle and their home planet, Eternia, from Skeletor's evil warriors. See also The New Adventures of He-Man.

Voice Cast: Cam Clarke (He-Man), Lisa Ann Beley (Teela), Kathleen Barr (Evil-Lyn), Michael Donovan (King Randor), Nicole Oliver (Queen Marlena), Nicole Oliver (Castle Grayskull Sorceress), Paul Dobson (Man-E-Faces), Paul Dobson (Snake Face), Paul Dobson (Trap Jaw), Paul Dobson (Tri-Klops), Scott McNeil (Beast Man), Scott McNeil (Mer-Man), Scott McNeil (Ram Man), Scott McNeil (Kobra).

3439 The Head. (Series; Cartoon; MTV; 1997). Gork is an evil extraterrestrial who plans to conquer the Earth. A good alien (the blue-skinned Roy) wants to stop Gork, but his life form is not adaptable (in its present state) to life on Earth. To solve his problem, Roy takes up residence in the head of Jim, a student whose head suddenly grows to an enormous size. A week later Roy emerges from Jim's head; he is now able to breathe on Earth (although he still must use Jim's head to live). Roy explains why he has chosen Jim and the two become partners in a quest to stop Gork. However, they are not able to battle the enemy alone and recruit others to help. They are: Madelyn, Jim's girlfriend; Jim's doctor, Richard Axe (both of whom have aliens residing in their heads); and aliens Mona (who has a tail); Ivan (has a mouth in his chest); Raquel (has the nose of a rat); Chin (former freak show performer); Earl (has a fishbowl in his mouth) and Shane Blackman, the only member of the group with a normal head. The series aired with The Maxx on MTV Oddities.

Voices: Maia Danziger, Dick Rodstein, Eric Fogel, Chris Johnston, Melanie Holtzman, Tad Hills, Mike Judge, Jason Candler, Patricia Bibby.

3440 Head Cases. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2005). Jason Payne is a brilliant criminal attorney with a prestigious law firm whose cases finally get the best of him and he suffers a nervous breakdown.

Russell Shultz is a somewhat unorthodox lawyer (an ambulance chaser) with an anger management problem. Fate unites the two men when Russell is assigned to be Jason's outpatient buddy.

Jason, who is unable to face the pressures of a corporate law firm, begins his own practice with Russell as his assistant. Jason feels his breakdown and his being institutionalized in a mental hospital has given him a great gift—the ability to get into the mind of a criminal. Stories relate the rather unusual methods Jason and Russell use to defend clients. The series was cancelled after two episodes.

Cast: Chris O'Donnell (Jason Payne), Adam Goldberg (Russell Shultz), Richard Kind (Lou Alberini), Krista Allen (Laurie Payne), Rhea Seehorn (Nicole Walker), Rockmond Dunbar (Dr. Robinson), Jake Cherry (Ryan Payne).

3441 Head of the Class. (Pilot; Game; NBC; 6/24/60). Four contestants compete. Each correct answer to a question moves a player one space on a large board. When a player reaches the finish line he attempts to keep his position by answering questions based on comedy sketches or musical numbers. An incorrect response defeats a player and he loses his position as head of the class.

Host: Gene Rayburn. Regulars: Marilyn Lovell, The Noteworthy's. Orchestra: Elliot Lawrence.

3442 Head of the Class. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986–1991). Life at New York's Fillmore High School as seen through the eyes of I.H.P. (Individual Honors Program) history teachers Charles ("Charlie") Moore (1986–90) and William ("Billy") MacGregor (1990–91).

Charlie was born in Idaho and attended Weesur High School and Idaho State College. The after school hangout was a place called George's, and he wrote and directed a high school musical called "Goodbye Weesur, Hello Broadway."

Charlie originally came to New York to direct Broadway, but it never happened. He staged the off-Broadway play Hamlet, at the Playhouse Theater in Newark, New Jersey (where he now runs a small group of players). He began his acting career in 1969, and his most embarrassing moment occurred when he appeared in the play Hair (he did the nude scene in the wrong act). Charlie also appeared in plays by Chekhov and Ibsen and directed the off-Broadway play Little Shop of Horrors.

Charlie began as a substitute teacher at Fillmore and became a faculty member when the previous I.H.P. teacher, Vernon Thomas (Roscoe Lee Browne), left. Charlie lives next door to the Plant Store and appeared in television commercials as "The King of Discount Appliances" for Veemer Appliances. He left Fillmore to become an actor when he accepted the lead in the road company production of Death of a Salesman.

Billy is from Glasgow, Scotland, and attended Oxford University in England. Billy, who claims he was raised in the slums of Glasgow, has a second job at the Mother Hubbard Day Care Center. He has a comical approach to teaching and interweaves his life experiences with his lessons.

Bernadette Meara is the attractive vice principal. She is from North Carolina and came to New York on 8/9/74 to take the job she now has. Dr. Harold Samuels is the principal. He proposed the I.H.P. to the school board as a means of letting students monitor their own studies. He relaxes by taking folk dance lessons. The Students: Simone Foster is the prettiest girl in the Honors Program. She is sweet, shy and very sensitive and has been a straight "A" student all her life. Her greatest gift is her romantic vision of life. Simone's specialty is English, and her spare time is occupied by charity work.

Darlene Merriman is from a wealthy family and lives on Park Avenue. For a school project, she traced her family history and found that she was a descendant of Sally Hemmings, the black woman by whom Thomas Jefferson had children. Her specialty is speech and debate, and she believes she is extremely attractive to men: "I represent the physical and intellectual ideals men want." She tends to put herself on a pedestal; she is also editor of the school newspaper, the Fillmore Spartan.

Sarah Nevins is president of the Student Council and works after school at City General Hospital.

Maria Borges is dedicated to learning. If she gets a B, she grounds herself ("It's the only way I can learn"). Her greatest gift is her understanding of the human condition. She left after three years to further her singing career at the High School of the Performing Arts.

Arvid Engen is a math major and has a perfect attendance record. He has not missed one day of school since he first started — nothing has stopped him — "not subway strikes, blizzards, hurricanes or illness." Arvid is a member of the glee club, the school orchestra (he plays triangle) and runs the school radio station.

Dennis Clarence Blunden is the practical joker of the group. He is skilled in chemistry and physics and has been sent to the principal's office more times than any other student. Dennis loves to eat, but not the cafeteria food (he sends out for lunch at Izzy's, a fast food store). Dennis also held a part-time job as a waiter at Charlie's favorite eatery, Casa Falafel.

Eric Mardian has a father who is an alcoholic. When he was four, his father read Treasure Island aloud to him; one year later, Eric read it back to him. When the I.H.P. challenges other schools in a competition, Eric calls the meets "Nerd Bowls."

Janice Lazarotto is gifted in all areas of study and has a photographic memory. She is a child genius and entered the I.H.P. program at age ten — "She knows everything; she's spooky." She plays the cello (second chair) in the school orchestra and "dreams of colonizing another planet entirely out of Legos." She left the I.H.P. after three years to attend Harvard.

Alan Pinkard is a member of the Young Americans for Freedom and has set his goal as that of becoming president of the United States. He is gifted in the natural science.

Viki Amory is adopted and has a knack for falling in love with her teachers: "It's something I can't control. It comes, poof; it goes, poof." She is from Florida and her family is always on the move.

Jawaharlal Choudhury is gifted in the political sciences (he left after three years when his family moved to California to take advantage of a business opportunity).

T.J. Jones calls Billy "Mr. Bill" and has a beautiful singing voice. Jasper Quincy speaks five languages. Aristotle MacKenzie and Alex Torres are the remaining students.

In the last episode, graduation is held at the same time the school is to be demolished. The students chose the following colleges: Cal Tech (Arvid), Stanford (Darlene), Columbia (Sarah), Vassar (Alex), MIT (Viki), Sarah Lawrence (Simone), University of Iowa (Eric), MIT (Dennis), Harvard (Alan).

Relatives: Patricia McCormack (Eric's mother, Madeline Mardian), Dan Lauria (Eric's father, Frank Mardian), Gloria Hayes (Maria's mother, Francesca Borges), Susan Krebs (Dennis's mother), John DiSanti (Dennis's father), Marlene Clark (Darlene's mother), David Downing (Darlene's father), Enid Kent (Si-moné's mother, Maureen Foster), J. Patrick McNamara (Simone's father, Robert Foster), Bruce Gray (Arvid's father, Dr. Euric Engen), Nancy Fish (Arvid's mother), William Edward Lewis (Janice's father), Cinda Jackson (Janice's mother), Robert Hooks (Sarah's father), June Gable (Vicki's adoptive mother, Greta Amory), Cynthia Mace (Vicki's birth mother, Rose Gibson), Denice Kumagai (Jasper's mother), Tzi Ma (Jasper's father), Liz Torres (Alex's mother), Adrienne Barbeau (Harold's sister, Gilda Minnetta), Claudette Nevins (Harold's wife, Lois Samuels), Ken Mars (Charlie's Uncle Charles). Flashbacks: Ryan Rushton (Charlie as a boy). Theme: "Head of the Class" by Ed Alton.

Cast: Howard Hesseman (Charlie Moore), Billy Connolly (Billy MacGregor), Jeannetta Arnette (Bernadette Meara), William G. Schilling (Harold Samuels), Khrystyne Haje (Simone Foster), Robin Givens (Darlene Merriman), Kimberly Russell (Sarah Nevins), Leslie Bega (Maria Borges), Dan Frischman (Arvid Engen), Dan Schneider (Dennis Blunden), Brian Robbins (Eric Mardian), Tannis Vallely (Janice Lazarotto), Tony O'Dell (Alan Pinkard), Lara Piper (Viki Amory), Jory Husain (Jawaharlal Choudhury), Rain Pryor (T.J. Jones), Jonathan Ke Quan (Jasper Quincy), DeVoreaux White (Aristotle MacKenzie), Michael DeLorenzo (Alex Torres).

3443 Head of the Family. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/19/60). The life of a television writer named Rob Petrie. Rob, Sally Rogers and Buddy Sorrell write a TV variety series called The Alan Sturdy Show.

Laura, Rob's wife, plays baseball with their six-year-old son, Richie, on Sundays because Rob doesn't have the time — it is the day on which his show airs live.

Rob tries to be a loving father and good husband, but the obligations of work sometimes deprive him of that privilege. Richie has a hamster named Buster and spends most of his time in the closet when he gets upset.

With a new title, and a total change in cast the premise went on to become the now classic Dick Van Dyke Show. In the pilot episode, Laura corners Rob into writing the PTA bulletin while he is attempting to prove to Richie that his job is as important as his friends' fathers' jobs.

Cast: Carl Reiner (Rob Petrie), Barbara Britton (Laura Petrie), Gary Morgan (Richie Petrie), Morty Gunty (Buddy Sorrell), Sylvia Miles (Sally Rogers), Jack Wakefield (Alan Sturdy). Guest Cast: Milton Kamen (Snappy), Nancy Kenyon (Teacher), Joey Trent (Roy), Mannie Sloan (Freddie).

3444 Head Over Heels. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1997–1998). Head Over Heels is a Miami-based dating service owned by brothers Jack and Warren Baldwin. As a kid Warren watched The Dating Game (Jim Lange, the host, was his hero) and because of that show, he went into the dating business. His dream is to become a TV game show host.

Warren and Jack attended Lincoln High School. Warren is straight laced and all business; he hopes to find true love for his clients. Jack, the footloose younger brother, is a playboy and sees the agency as a means by which to meet beautiful women.

Jack, an Elvis fan, has a VIP card at his favorite strip club, the Booty Bar, and has a crush on Carmen Montalvo, the agency's pretty office manager.

Carmen, who likes picnics and mambo music, is studying to become a psychologist. She detests Jack's advances and longs for Warren to notice her.

Valentina, the receptionist, was a former stripper at the Booty Bar. Her favorite pastime is shopping at the South Beach Fashion Mall. Jack and Warren have drinks at the Banana Bar. The San Troupe Modeling Agency is next door to Head Over Heels.

Cast: Peter Dobson (Jack Baldwin), Mitchell Whitfield (Warren Baldwin), Cindy Ambuehl (Valentina), Eva LaRue (Carmen Montalvo).

3445 Headline Chasers. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1985). Two couples compete in a game based on headline news stories. Various rounds are played (including recognizing famous faces and voices; identifying famous headlines and answering questions based on newspaper headlines). The player with the most correct answers wins the game.

Host: Wink Martindale. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

3446 Headliners with David Frost. (Series; Interview; NBC; 1978). Live and videotaped interviews with "people who are making the news." The series ran from May 31, 1978 to July 5, 1978.

Host: David Frost. Regulars: Kelly Garrett, Liz Smith. Orchestra: Elliot Lawrence.

3447 Headmaster. (Series; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 1971). A tender portrayal of student-teacher relationships and their problems, both scholastic and personal, as seen through the eyes of Andy Thompson, the caring, sensitive headmaster of Concord, a small, private coeducational school in California.

Margaret Thompson is Andy's wife; Jerry Brownell is the coach; Mr. Purdy is the custodian; Judy is Andy's student helper.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Andy Thompson), Claudette Nevins (Margaret Thompson), Lani O'Grady (Judy), Jerry Van Dyke (Jerry Brownell), Parker Fennelly (Mr. Purdy). Theme Vocal: "He's Only a Man" By Linda Ronstadt.

3448 The Healers. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/22/74). The work of Dr. Robert Kier, the director of the Institute for Medical Research in California. The pilot episode depicts several problems facing the institute: a lack of funds, a threat of rebellion by the research staff, and a doctor who is using an untested drug without permission.

Other Regulars: Joe Tate, the financial director; Laura, Robert's ex-wife; Nikki and Vince, Robert's children; Barbara, Robert's secretary; and Claire, a doctor.

Cast: John Forsythe (Robert Kier), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Joe Tate), Kate Woodville (Claire), Beverly Garland (Laura Kier), Shelly Juttner (Nikki Kier), Christian Juttner (Vince Kier), Ellen Weston (Barbara). Guest Cast: Season Hubley (Ann Kilmer), John McIntire (Dr. Ernest Wilson), Anthony Zerbe (Al Scanlon), Michael C. Gwynne (Dr. Anton Balinowski), Jay W. McIntosh (Mrs. Brown), Liam Dunn (Mr. Addison).

3449 Hear No Evil. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 11/10/82). The story of Bill Dragon, a deaf police detective with the San Francisco P.D. The pilot episode relates how Dragon became disabled: Fearing that Dragon is coming too close to busting their illegal drug dealing operations, members of the Bay Riders (a motorcycle gang) rig Dragon's car with explosives. The ensuing explosion injures Dragon and disables him when he loses his hearing. With the aid of a speech therapist (Meg) and a "hearing dog" (Bozo), the remainder of the pilot depicts Dragon's efforts to put an end to the Bay Riders' drug dealings.

Other Regulars: Inspector Monday, Bill's partner; Lieutenant Lew Haley, their superior.

Cast: Gil Gerard (Bill Dragon), Bernie Casey (Inspector Monday), Mimi Rogers (Meg), Ron Karabatsos (Lew Haley). Guest Cast: Robert Dryer (Binnie Holzer), Christina Hart (Sheila Green), Brion James (Bobby Boy Burns), Wings Hauser (Don Garrard), Bruce McKay (Captain Shelhart), Janet Raney (Terri), Sam Conti (Sonny).

3450 Heart and Soul. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/21/88). A comical look at the recording industry as seen through the eyes of Curtis and Richard, young executives with Unisound Records. In the pilot episode, Curtis attempts to sign a talented singer (Jamie) whose father (Harlan) objects to her becoming a singer. Other Regulars: Jeff, the mail-room boy; Dawnelle, a recording artist; and Helen, the secretary.

Cast: Morris Day (Curtis Rousseau), Clark Johnson (Richard Bradley), Tisha Campbell (Jamie Sinclair), Barry Sobel (Jeff), Arnetia Walker (Dawnelle Washington), Marge Redmond (Helen Dewey), James Avery (Harlan Sinclair). Theme Vocal: "Are You Ready" by Morris Day.

3451 Heart and Soul. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/30/89). Philadelphia in 1961 is the setting for an unsold series about Brenda Kincaid and Wesley Harris, aspiring singer-songwriters who are also lovers. Other Regulars: Brenda's parents, Jean and Cecil; Wesley's mother, Tonia; and Wesley's brother, Buzzy.

Cast: Renee Jones (Brenda Kincaid), B'Nard Lewis (Wesley Harris), Denise Nicholas (Jean Kincaid), Jason Bernard (Cecil Kincaid), Loretta Devine (Tonia Harris), Shavar Ross (Buzzy Harris). Guest Cast: Veronica Redd (Laraine), Sidney Herron (Al Taylor).

3452 Heart Beat. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 8/14/85). The program combines drama and music video sequences to detail the struggles of Erin, Monica and Carla, three beautiful dancers determined to pursue their dreams of show business careers in New York City.

The pilot episode introduces viewers to the girls: the free-spirited Erin; the insecure Monica, both friends from Kansas City; and Carla, a tough New York-born street dancer who is also the support of her disabled father and sister (Antonia). Kevin is their manager.

Cast: Karen Kopins (Erin), Whitney Kershaw (Monica), Christine Langer (Carla), Michael Sabatino (Kevin), Bernice Massi (Antonia). Guest Cast: Bradford Bancroft (Frank), Stephen Shellen (Nick), Karen McArn (Susan), Rick Goldman (Actor), Smith Osborne (Joan), Robyn Peterson (Actress), Michael Nunez (Sam).

3453 Heart Beat. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1988–1989). A medical drama that focuses on the personal and professional lives of the doctors of the Women's Medical Arts Center, a progressive practice that treats the patient as well as the disease. The series is later set (1989) at Bay General Hospital. Cast changes for 1988 and 1989 are reflected in the cast listing by a date following the character.

Heart Beat is unique for its time for its portrayal of a lesbian character, Dr. Marilyn McGrath. It was after she married and had a daughter (Allison) that Marilyn realized she preferred to be with women; her lover is Patty.

Cast: Kate Mulgrew (Dr. Joane Springsteen, 1988), Kate Mulgrew (Dr. Joanne Halloran, 1989), Laura Johnson (Dr. Eve Autry, 1988), Laura Johnson (Dr. Eve Calvert, 1989), Lynn Whitfield (Dr. Cory Banks, 1988–89), Gail Strickland (Dr. Marilyn McGrath, 1988), Ben Morris (Dr. Leo Rosetti, 1988), Ray Baker (Dr. Stan Gorshalk, 1988), Darrell Larson (Dr. Paul Jared, 1988), Claudette Sutherland (Nurse Robin Flowers, 1988), Hallie Todd (Allison, Marilyn's daughter, 1988), Gina Hecht (Patty, Marilyn's lover, 1988), Julie Cobb (Beverly Rosetti, Leo's ex-wife, 1988), Michael Faustino (Nicky Rosetti, Leo's son, 1988), Julie Ronnie (Nurse Alice Swanson, 1989), Carmen Argenziano (Dr. Nathan Solt, 1989), Robert Gossett (Dixon Banks, Cory's husband, 1989), Amy Moore Davis (Donna Calvert, Eve's niece, 1989).

3454 Heart of the City. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1986–1987). Wes Kennedy is a detective with the Los Angeles Police Department. He is a widower and the father of two children, Robin and Kevin.

Wes solves 24 percent of his case load, which is 10 percent higher than the rate of other cops in the precinct. He became a cop "To get the animals off the streets. It's what I do, it's what has to be done." Wes has a photographic memory and an impressive arrest record but too many shootings.

Wes lives at 5503 Pacific Way and he is dating Kathy Priester, a waitress at a diner called Trio's Grill.

Wes is still haunted by the memory of his wife Susan's death. Wes was a street cop who was chosen to head a S.W.A.T. (Special Weapons and Tactics) team for the L.A.P.D. One day, while exercising to a television aerobics show, Susan sees a bulletin about a shooting involving a S.W.A.T. team. Fearing that Wes may have been shot, Susan ignores Wes's warnings about never going to a crime scene and rushes out of the house. Susan's mind is eased when she sees that Wes is fine. Seconds later a shooting occurs between the cops and criminals and Susan is killed in the crossfire.

It is 18 months later when the series begins. Robin is 16 years old and bitter; she blames Wes for her mother's death. Robin was sweet and innocent and held the image of the pretty girl next door. She has now drastically changed her image. She has shortened her hair, developed an attitude and dresses in clothes one would attribute to a high priced call girl. Robin attends West Hollywood High School and takes dance lessons. Although Robin is very attractive she says, "I don't think I'm as beautiful as other people see me." As the series progressed, Robin mellowed. She became less bitter when she forgave her father for what happened to her mother.

Kevin is 15 years old. He also attends West Hollywood High and while studious, he is confused by girls and doesn't know what to make of them. He is bright and wears glasses and thinks girls want muscles not brains. Wes mentioned that Kevin gets A's and B's from his male teachers and C's from his female teachers but can't explain why.

Ed Van Duzer is Wes's superior, the watch commander. Sergeant Halui is the Hawaiian by birth cop who calls everyone Brother. Patrick Williams composed the theme "Heart of the City."

3455 Heartland. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1989). The McCutcheon Ranch is a 350-acre farm in Pritchard, Nebraska. B.L. McCutcheon owns the ranch and runs it with his son, Tom, Tom's wife, Cassandra, and their children, Kim, Johnny and Gus.

B.L. is “a cantankerous old coot” who is set in his ways and has an opinion about everything. He is a widower and had three dogs: Chester, General Patton and Silky. His favorite recording artist is Elmo Tanner, the World’s Greatest Whistler; he enjoys relaxing in the chair on the front porch of his home.

Tom and Cassandra, whom Tom calls “Casey,” have been married for 15 years. Johnny and Gus are their biological children; Kim is adopted. The kids attend Pritchard High School; Kim is a talented violinist who hopes one day to play with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra; Johnny longs for a life away from the farm in a big city; Gus is content with farm life and has a pet pig named Dolly. Stories comically depict the family’s efforts to cope with life on the farm. Dion sings the theme, “Heartland.”

Cast: Brian Keith (B.L. McCutcheon), Richard Gilliland (Tom McCutcheon), Kathleen Layman (Cassandra McCutcheon), Daisy Keith (Kim McCutcheon), Jason Kristopher (Johnny McCutcheon).

3456 Heartland. (Series; Drama; TNT; 2007). Nathaniel Grant is a lung and heart transplant surgeon at the St. Jude Regional Transplant Center in Pittsburgh. He is television’s first such doctor and he has also been given an extra special gift — the ability to see the donor (who sometimes speaks) as he prepares to operate on the organ recipient.

Kate Armstrong, Nathaniel’s ex-wife, works with him as the organ donor coordinator; they have a teenage daughter named Thea. Nathaniel is a workaholic and appears to have a hobby (collecting baseball cards) and would also like a cigarette on occasion, but someone always prevents him from lighting up. Nathaniel rarely has time for himself, is rather pushy and seems to work well with Kate.

Stories, which are typical of television hospital dramas, relate Nathaniel’s experiences with the people in need of transplants — as well as those who died to save others.

Mary Singletary is the head ICU nurse; Jessica Kivala is a surgical nurse; Chris William Martin is a transplant surgeon; Bart Jacobs is Nathaniel’s boss.

3457 Hearts Afire. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1992–1994). Georgie Ann Lahti is a liberal journalist. She wrote questions for Jeopardy and an episode of Rhoda. She worked for the Chicago Tribune then the Chicago Post. She left the Post to pen the book My Year with Fidel (she had an affair with Castro and thought it should be told). When that failed, she went to work as “a cultural liaison in Paris” (“I worked at Euro Disney helping people on and off the teacup ride”). She then moved to Georgetown and found a job as speechwriter for Strobe Smithers, a senile, conservative senator.

When John Hartman, Strobe’s senatorial aide, learns that Georgie is broke, he offers to let her stay at his spacious home (1184 Arlington Drive). John is divorced (from Diandra, who left him for another woman) and the father of Ben and Eliot. Ben and Eliot attend the Overland Elementary school.

Georgie calls John “Hartman”; he calls her “Miss Lahti.” Georgie, a Pulitzer Prize nominee and winner of the Peabody Award for excellence in journalism, is trying to quit smoking but can’t (“I smoke when I get upset and I get upset a lot”). Georgie has done outrageous things (“I ran around the Trevi Fountain in Rome in my bra and panties”) and when she took the SAT test, she was singled out for writing the longest answers ever given on a multiple choice test (“I wasn’t satisfied with E — none of the above”). As time progressed, she and John fell in love and married. They moved to Clay County, John’s hometown, to find a better family life. Here, John, Georgie and their friend, Billy Bob Davis, take over the weekly newspaper, the Courier (located on Main Street) with John as the editor, Georgie the reporter, and Billy Bob, the society editor. Madeline Sossinger, a psychologist who rents space in the paper’s building, writes the advice column, “Dear Madeline.”

In final-season episodes, the paper’s name is changed to the Daily Beacon. At this time, Georgie gives birth to a girl she and John name Amelia Rose.

Strobe has been married to Mary Fran for 30 years. He plays the piano and had his own band during the 1940s. Mary Fran was born in Sparta, Georgia, and took the beauty pageant route to get out of town. She won the Miss Tennessee and the Miss USA crown. Strobe met her when he was a beauty contest judge. She sang “As Time Goes By” and he could see no one but her.

Mary Fran wants Strobe to retire so she can take his seat in the Senate (“It’s my turn now after putting up with him for 30 years”). If Strobe doesn’t quit, Mary Fran is threatening to air their dirty laundry in public.

Dee Dee Star is the office receptionist and carries on a secret affair with Strobe. She was born in Amarillo, Texas, and worked as a beautician at the Beauty Pit Salon. She worked previously at Foto Mat. Dee Dee believes other women feel threatened by her good looks. To show them that she is as intelligent as she is beautiful, she began a business called “Mail Order Bikini Bra and Panties.”

Mavis Davis, the office secretary, is married to Billy Bob (John’s assistant). She believes Dee Dee is “the last bimbo on the hill” and left Billy Bob (when the series switched locales) to get her Masters Degree at NYU. Their daughter, Carson Lee lives with Billy Bob.

Miss Lula has cared for Georgie since she was three years old (her mother died shortly after her birth). Georgie's father, George Lahti, is a disbarred attorney (he spent two years in prison and was the former president of the American Trial Lawyers Association). George took up ceramics in prison and is an excellent cook. He is staying with John and works as the housekeeper (first season episodes). To pay for her father's legal fees, Georgie wrote several romance novels: Flamingo Summer, Naked Spring and Lust Beyond Tomorrow (all under the pen name Dusty Silver).

Cast: Markie Post (Georgie Ann Lahti), John Ritter (John Hartman), George Gaynes (Strobe Smithers), Mary Ann Mobley (Mary Fran Smithers), Billy Bob Thornton (Billy Bob Davis), Beth Broderick (Dee Dee Star), Wendie Jo Sperber (Mavis Davis), Beah Richards (Miss Lula), Edward Asner (George Lahti), Justin Burnette (Ben Hartman), Clark Duke (Eliot Hartman).

3458 Hearts Are Wild. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1992). Rooms start at $90 a day and businesses pay an average of $7,000 a month rent. The place is Caesar's Palace Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas and the efforts of 36-year-old Jack Thorpe to run it is the focal point of the program.

Other Regulars: Kyle, the head of guest relations; Pepe, Jack's right hand man; and Caroline, Jack's mother. The series ran from January 10, 1992 to March 13, 1992.

Cast: David Beecroft (Jack Thorpe), Catherine Mary Stewart (Kyle Hubbard), Jon Polito (Leon "Pepe" Pepperman), Barbara Rush (Caroline Thorpe).

3459 Heart's Island. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/31/85). The setting is Shreveport, Louisiana, in 1952. The unsold series was to depict the struggles of Johnnie Baylor, a hard-working single mother (a widow) with many problems who lives at 411 Leo Drive in the Town of Heart's Island.

Johnnie works as a cocktail waitress at the Blue Moon Cafe and runs a dressmaking business with her best friend, Mattie (who lives with her and helps her care for her children, Tammy Jean and Buster). In the rather tender pilot episode, Johnnie discovers that Tammy Jean has polio.

Other Regulars: Clay, Johnnie's boarder; Sarge, the Blue Moon bartender; and Patsy, a waitress at the Blue Moon.

Cast: Dorothy Lyman (Johnnie Baylor), Sydney Penny (Tammy Jean Baylor), Christopher Burton (Buster Baylor), Clarice Taylor (Mattie), Gary Sandy (Clay Tanner), Court Miller (Sarge), Donna Bullock (Patsy). Guest Cast: Annette Kurek (Mar'sue Hopper), Elizabeth Harrower (Iola Spinks), David Hart (Roy Hopper). Theme Vocal: "Everything We Need Is Here" by Rosemary June.

3460 Hearts of Steel. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/13/86). When Annie's partner backs out of a deal to turn her bar into a restaurant, a group of her patrons, laid-off steel workers, pool their resources to help her open a restaurant in Pennsylvania. The unsold series was to relate the group's efforts to make a success of the business. The pilot episode relates how Annie, Eddie, Tom, Jake and Granville become partners and how a pretty 22-year-old girl named Michelle becomes their chef.

3461 The Heat. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 8/8/89). A proposed series about five federal marshals, known as "The Heat," who tackle extremely volatile situations. In the pilot episode, the team (Charley, Rafe, Emory, Whip and Eli) seek a maniacal bandit (Booth) who has hijacked three truckloads of stinger missiles.

Cast: William Campbell (Charley Wayne), David Ciminello (Rafe Morea), Bobby Hosea (Emory Hacker), Scott Kraft (Whip St. John), Stephen Shellen (Eli Saxon). Guest Cast: Richard Lynch (Booth), Claudia Christian (Claire), Harvey Vernon (Everett), Lew Gallo (Grayson), Dave Perna (Orin), Mark Giardino (Dane), Joe Tornatore (Coster).

3462 Heat of Anger. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 3/3/72). The story of Jessica Fitzgerald, a prominent Los Angeles attorney, and her associate, Gus Pride, as they tackle controversial cases. In the pilot episode, Jessica defends Frank Galvin, a building contractor who is accused of pushing an iron worker off a girder 21 stories up. Barbara Stanwyck was originally cast as Jessica, but was replaced when she became ill. The proposed series title was Fitzgerald and Pride.

Cast: Susan Hayward (Jessica Fitzgerald), James Stacy (Gus Pride). Guest Cast: Lee J. Cobb (Frank Galvin), Bettye Ackerman (Stella Galvin), Jennifer Penny (Chris Galvin), Fritz Weaver (Vincent Kagel), Tyne Daly (Jean Carson), Lynnette Mettey (Fran), Ron Masak (Sergeant).

3463 The Heathcliff and Dingbat Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1980–1981). The overall title for two cartoon segments. The first segment, titled Heathcliff, relates the antics of a very mischievous cat who delights in annoying others. The second segment, Dingbat and the Creeps, relates the misadventures of Dingbat, a vampire dog, Bone Head, a skeleton, and Nobody, a pumpkin, as they attempt to help people in trouble.

Voices: Mel Blanc, Julie McWhirter, Marilyn

Schreffler, Michael Bell, Melendy Britt, Rachel Blake, Henry Corden, Joan Van Ark, Joe Baker, Alan Oppenheimer, Shep Menkin.

3464 The Heathcliff and Marmaduke Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1981–1982). The overall title for two cartoon series: Heathcliff and Marmaduke. The Heathcliff segment follows the misadventures of a very mischievous alley cat. Marmaduke relates the antics of a loveable but mischievous Great Dane.

Voice Cast: Mel Blanc (Heathcliff), Marilyn Schreffler (Sonia; his girlfriend), Mel Blanc (Spike, the Bulldog), Don Messick (Marmaduke), Paul Winchell (Father; Marmaduke's owner), Russi Taylor (Mother), Marilyn Schreffler (Barbie, their daughter). Theme Vocal: Scatman Crothers.

3465 Heave Ho Harrigan. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/22/61). The antics of “Heave Ho” Harrigan, a Navy flagman stationed on an aircraft carrier. In the pilot episode, Harrigan attempts to carry out a special assignment: conducting three Russian scientists on a tour of a U.S. submarine.

Cast: Myron McCormick (Heave Ho Harrigan), Allyn Joslyn (Captain Towers), Darryl Hickman (Ensign Smithers). Guest Cast: Della Sherman (Miss Willoughby), Lawrence Dobkin (Interpreter), David White (State official), Ben Aster (Poliaikoff), Nestor Paiva (Russian), Michael Mahoney and Peter Haymen (Sailors).

3466 Heaven for Betsy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1952). “Being married to Peter is heaven for Betsy” says an unidentified announcer after an episode’s opening teaser. Betsy is a former secretary who is now married to Peter Bell, “an underpaid, underappreciated, overworked cog in the Willmot Department Store.”

Peter is timid and shy and easily taken advantage of; Betsy is strong and forceful and gives Peter the courage he needs to face obstacles.

Peter and Betsy are newlyweds and reside at 136 Oak Tree Lane in New York. Peter earns $42.50 a week as an apprentice executive to Mr. Willmot, but “do you realize the services I’ve been performing that are not even part of my job? I’m a combination salesman, floor walker, buyer, accountant, working store detective, complaint bureau and errand boy.” Peter’s haphazard attempts to make his boss, Alonzo Willmot, realize his worth paid off in one episode when Peter received a ten dollar raise.

The series is 15 minutes in length (including two commercials and an uncredited opening and closing theme song). It depicts the struggles that make up a marriage via short skits.

The end credits read: “Starring Jack Lemmon and Cynthia Stone. They’re also Mr. and Mrs. Lemmon.”

An announcer opens the show: “Heaven for Betsy stars Jack Lemmon and Cynthia Stone and is brought to you by Pepsodent toothpaste. And now Heaven for Betsy.”

Cast: Jack Lemmon (Peter Bell), Cynthia Stone (Betsy Bell), Cliff Hall (Alonzo Willmot).

3467 Heaven Help Us. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/14/67). Dick Cameron is a magazine editor whose life is complicated not only by his work, but by the spirit of his late wife, Marge, who has come back to earth to find him a new mate. The unsold series was to relate Dick’s misadventures as Marge plays matchmaker. Other Regulars: Mildred, Dick’s housekeeper; and Mr. Walker, Dick’s publisher.

Cast: Barry Nelson (Dick Cameron), Joanna Moore (Marge Cameron), Mary Grace Canfield (Mildred), Bert Freed (Mr. Walker). Guest Cast: Skip Ward (Collins), Sue Randall (Ruth), Sandra Warner (Linda).

3468 Heaven Help Us. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1994–1995). Doug Monroe, a baseball player, and Lexy Kitteridge, the daughter of rich parents, marry. While en-route to their honeymoon hideaway, the plane Doug is flying, develops engine trouble and crashes into a skyscraper.

When first seen by viewers Doug and Lexy appear fine and are in a large room. Here they meet a mysterious man named Mr. Shepherd (an angel) who tells them they were killed in that plane crash but are in a state of limbo, “We are not sure which way you are going yet.” They are then transported to the nerve center of Greenwich Meantime where all time is kept — “It starts here and ends here. It was decided to add a second to the clock this year (1994). Something to do with a change in the Earth’s orbit.”

It was precisely at that change that Doug and Lexy’s plane crashed (they weren’t covered and slipped through the cracks). Doug and Lexy were flying from Houston to Scotsdale — but “the Seers goofed” and nobody was watching them. Because of Mr. Shepherd’s inability to assign them to Heaven or Hell, he gives them a choice to make their own destiny by seeing how well they help people in trouble.

Doug and Lexy are assigned an apartment in the non-existent 13th floor of the Marriott Hotel in which they crashed (the floor exists only for them). Doug and Lexy remain invisible if they remain pure of heart; if they get angry, they can be seen by others. Stories follow Doug and Lexy as they try to remain pure of heart and invisible as they help people to earn their wings.

Cast: Ricardo Montalban (Mr. Shepherd), John Schneider (Doug Monroe), Melinda Clarke (Lexy Monroe), Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (Martin Kitteridge, Lexy’s father), Shirley Jones (Amy Kitteridge, Lexy’s mother).

3469 Heaven on Earth. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/28/79). Roxy and Karen are two beautiful girls whose lives are claimed in a fatal car accident. When it is learned that a celestial error caused the girls to be called before their time, Roxy and Karen are returned to their earthly status. The unsold series was to focus on their efforts to repay the kindness by performing good deeds. Other Regulars: Sebastian Parnell, the celestial messenger.

Cast: Carol Wayne (Roxy), Donna Ponterotto (Karen), William Daniels (Sebastian Parnell).

3470 Heaven on Earth. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/12/81). Katie Fredericks, a former actress; former ad agency executive Jerry Davidson; and former gang member Luis Padia are fledgling angels on the W.T.R. (Wings Through Rehabilitation) Program — the Almighty's way of allowing deserving souls entry into Heaven by performing good deeds. The unsold series was to relate Katie, Jerry and Luis's efforts to make up for their past misgivings by helping people on earth.

In the pilot episode, the trio is assigned the task of re-sparking a romance between two former lovers (Amy and Lenny) in an attempt to prevent Amy from marrying a man she does not love (Harvey). Repeated on July 5, 1981 as Heaven Sent.

Cast: Jack Gilford (The Almighty's Representative), Ilene Graff (Katie Fredericks), Douglas Sheehan (Jerry Davidson), Ron Contreras (Luis Padia). Guest Cast: Nora Morgan (Amy Henderson), Rod McCary (Harvey Mitgard), Christopher J. Brown (Lenny Caldwell), William Larsen (Mr. Henderson), June Dayton (Mrs. Henderson), Patch MacKenzie (Model), Lilah McCarthy (Brenda).

3471 Heavens to Betsy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1949). Mary and Betsy are young women hoping for a career on the Broadway stage. Stores, set in New York City, follow their struggles as they attempt to make their dreams come true.

Cast: Elizabeth Cote (Betsy), Mary Best (Mary), Nick Dennis (Their Landlord), Russell Nype (Their friend, a cab driver).

3472 Hec Ramsey. (Series; Western; NBC; 1972–1974). New Prospect, Oklahoma, in 1901 is the setting. Hector “Hec” Ramsey is an ex-gun-fighter turned law enforcer who uses scientific evaluation and deduction to solve crimes. Stories relate his investigations and efforts to solve murders through techniques never before incorporated in law enforcement. Norma Muldoon, a widower, is Hec's romantic interest; Andy is Norma's son; Oliver Stamp is the town sheriff; and Amos Coogan is the town doctor and barber.

Cast: Richard Boone (Hec Ramsey), Rick Lenz (Oliver Stamp), Harry Morgan (Amos Coogan), Sharon Acker (Norma Muldoon), Brian Dewey (Andy Muldoon). Narrator: Harry Morgan.

3473 The Heckle and Jeckle Show. (Series; Cartoon; Syn; CBS; NBC; 1955–1971). The antics of Heckle and Jeckle, two talking and very mischievous magpies (birds) that delight in causing whatever mischief they can.

The series aired in syndication from 1955–1956; on CBS from October 24, 1956 to September 8, 1957 (and January 25, 1958 to September 24, 1960; September 25, 1965 to September 3, 1966) and on NBC from September 6, 1969 to September 4, 1971.

Voice Cast: Paul Frees (Heckle and Jeckle).

3474 Heck's Angels. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/31/76). France in 1917 is the setting for an unsold series about Colonel Gregory Heck and his Aero Squadron 35, a group of inferior aviators who battle the Huns during World War I.

Other Regulars: Lieutenants David Webb, Eddie Almont, Billy Bowling and George McIntosh; Odette, the German spy; Pierre Ritz, the squadron's cook; and Ludwig, the squadron's P.O.W.

Cast: William Windom (Gregory Heck), Joe Barrett (David Webb), Christopher Allport (Billy Bowling), Jillian Kesner (George McIntosh), Susan Silo (Odette), Henry Polic II (Pierre Ritz), Chip Zien (Eddie Almont), Abraham Soboloff (Ludwig von Stratter). Theme Music: “Heck's Angels March” by Frank Peppiatt, John Aylesworth.

3475 The Hector Heathcote Show. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1963–1965). Hector Heathcote is a brilliant scientist who has invented a means by which to travel back in time through history. Stories relate his intervention into the major events that have shaped the world.

Voice Cast: John Myhers (Hector Heathcote).

3476 Hee Haw. (Series; Variety; CBS; Syn.; 1969–1971). Kornfield Kounty is the setting for a weekly program that features performances by country and western artists coupled with short skits and running gags played against the Nashville sound. Frank Peppiatt and John Aylesworth are the producers.

Hosts: Roy Clark, Buck Owens. Regulars: Slim Pickens, Barbi Benton, Misty Rowe, Kathie Lee Johnson, Linda Johnson, Gailard Sartain, Gunilla Hutton, Cathy Baker, Roni Stoneman, Grady Nutt, Grandpa Jones, Don Harron, John Henry Faulk, Buck Trent, Archie Campbell, Sheb Wooley, Gordie Tapp, Jeannine Riley, Susan Raye, Jennifer Bishop, Lulu Roman, Zella Lehr, Minnie Pearl, Alvin “Junior” Samples, Claude Phelps, Jimmy Riddle, Don Rich, Ann Randal, Mary Ann Gordon, Kenny Price, Don Gibson, George Lindsey, Jimmy Little, Lisa Todd, Nancy Traylor, The Hagers, The Buckaroos, The Inspiration, The Nashville Addition. Music: George Richey, Charlie McCoy.

3477 The Hee Haw Honeys. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 6/78). Chrissy, Lee Anne and Toby are three beautiful singers who appear in bit parts on the television series Hee Haw. The girls are unhappy and yearn to become big-time singers. The proposed series was to follow their struggles as they strike out on their own as a singing group they call The Hee Haw Honeys. Changes in cast and story brought about a syndicated series called The Hee Haw Honeys (see next title).

Cast: Kathie Lee Johnson (Chrissy), Catherine Hickland (Toby), Muffy Durham (Lee Anne), Kenny Price (Kenny; their manager).

3478 The Hee Haw Honeys. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1978). The story of the Honey family, the owner-operators of a country music nightclub in Nashville, Tennessee. The series, which is actually an extension of Hee Haw, presents music and songs by guests. See also The Hee Haw Honeys (prior title) for information on the series pilot film. The family consists of parents Kenny and Lulu and their children Kathie Lee, Misty and Willy Billy.

Cast: Kenny Price (Kenny Honey), Lulu Roman (Lulu Honey), Kathie Lee Johnson (Kathie Lee Honey), Misty Rowe (Misty Honey), Gailard Sartain (Willy Billy Honey).

3479 Heinz Studio '57. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1954–1955). The original, full length title for Studio '57. See this title for information.

3480 Heist. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 2006). “Every episode gets you closer to the greatest heist in history. They are about to hit an entire city” says an announcer in promotional spots for the intriguing, but totally fanciful NBC series Heist.

The program actually asks: can five highly skilled thieves pull off an extremely complex, if not impossible, series of robberies without getting caught? The slick and always-cool Mickey O’Neil heads the robbery team. He is assisted by the ultra sexy but bitchy, Lola (hates to be called “Babe”), his best friend, James, the elderly Robert (called Pops) and the youngest gang member, James Johnson.

Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills has the three most expensive blocks of real estate in the world — “Anything worth stealing can be found here,” says Mickey. “They also have the three most expensive jewelry stores in the world.” Mickey’s plan is to rob each of these stores at the same time and net one half billion dollars.

The L.A.P.D. is unaware of their plan but the brilliant detective, Amy Sykes, believes something is up but can’t quite put her finger on it. She detests sloppy police work and wants only the best from her detectives (Tyrese Evans and Billy O’Brien are the featured officers)

Each episode brings the viewer closer to the heist. The intricate planning and numerous practice runs are also shown. Amy’s suspicions are first aroused when a practice run nets only the theft of an $8000 item; later, when a clever bank heist is pulled (to help finance their plan) she feels the worst is about to happen. Her suspicions are never fully realized as the series was cancelled before the actual heist.

Cast: Dougray Scott (Mickey O’Neil), Michele Hicks (Amy Sykes), Mariska Dominczyk (Lola), Steve Harris (James Johnson), Reno Wilson (Tyrese Evans), Seymour Cassel (Pops), Billy Gardell (Billy O’Brien), David Walton (Rick Watman), K Callan (Helen; Pops’ wife).

3481 The Helen O’Connell Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957). A twice-weekly summer series of music and songs with singer Helen O’Connell as the host. The series ran from May 29, 1957 to September 6, 1957.

Hostess: Helen O’Connell. Orchestra: David Rose.

3482 The Helen Reddy Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1973). A weekly summer series of music and songs with singer Helen Reddy as the host. The series ran from June 28, 1973 to August 16, 1973. Flip Wilson and Monte Kay are the producers.

Hostess: Helen Reddy. Regulars: The Jaime Rogers Dancers. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

3483 Hell Date. (Series; Reality; BET; 2007). What happens when two people are set up for a date and one turns out to be a nightmare from hell? That is the premise behind Hell Date. An unsuspecting subject is matched with a date (an actor) that defies all the etiquette of dating (for example, a handsome young man is set up with a gorgeous girl whom he later discovers is a foul-mouthed alcoholic). Cameras capture the reactions of the poor soul who wound up with the date from hell. James DuBose is the producer.

3484 Hell Town. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1985–1986). St. Dominick’s is a Catholic church in a crime-ridden section of Los Angeles called Hell Town. Father Noah Rivers is a compassionate priest at the church who is called “The Guardian Angel of the Streets.” Noah is also an embittered ex-con who, while serving time, was called “Hardstep.” While the bitterness has not totally left Father Noah, he is dedicated to protecting the people of his poor parish. Stories follow his work with the church (and its adjoining orphanage) as he goes beyond the call of duty (with rough tactics when necessary) to spread the faith.

Mother Mary Margaret (“Maggie Jiggs”) is the nun who runs St. Dominick’s Orphanage and school; One Ball is Noah’s friend, a pool hustler; Brandy Wine is the hostess at Roy Bean’s the local bar; Roy Bean owns the bar; Sister Anastasia, called “Angel Cakes,” and Sister Indigo assist Maggie Jiggs. One Ball Tremayne, Poko Loco, Lawyer Sam and Crazy Horse are friends of Father Noah. Sammy Davis, Jr. performs the theme, "Hell Town."

Cast: Robert Blake (Father Noah Rivers), Natalie Core (Mother Maggie Jiggs), Whitman Mayo (One Ball Tremayne), Vonetta McGee (Sister Indigo), Isabel Grandin (Sister Angel Cakes), Tracy Morgan (Brandy Wine), Warren Vanders (Roy Bean), Rhonda Dotson (Sister Daisy), Guy Stockwell (Matthew the Cop), Jeff Corey (Lawyer Sam), Eddie Quillan (Poko Loco), Zitto Kazann (Crazy Horse).

Cast: George Hamilton (Lee Ragdon), John Craig (Buggs Middle), Warren Berlinger (Rippy Sloane). Guest Cast: Barbara Eden (Melinda), Nehemiah Persoff (El Primero).

3486 Hellinger's Law. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 3/10/81). The cases of Nick Hellinger, an unorthodox lawyer with the Philadelphia-based firm of Carroll & Hellinger. In the pilot episode, Nick travels to Houston to defend Lon Braden, a mob-connected man accused of murder. Other Regulars: Dottie, the office secretary; Andy Clay, Nick's legman; and Judge Carroll, Nick's partner.

Cast: Telly Savalas (Nick Hellinger), Ja'net DuBois (Dottie Singer), Morgan Stevens (Andy Clay), Roy Poole (Judge Carroll). Guest Cast: James Sutorius (Lon Braden), Melinda Dillon (Anne Gronouski), Lisa Blake Richards (Cara Braden), Kyle Richards (Julie Braden), Arlen Dean Snyder (Whedon), M. Emmett Walsh (Graebner).

3487 Hello Dere. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/9/65). An unsold series about two television reporters (Marty and Steve) and their endless misadventures as they attempt to acquire news stories. In the pilot episode, Marty and Steve attempt to interview an elusive Soviet official. The title is derived from the catch phrase used by comic Marty Allen at the time. Other Regulars: Vincent J. Vincent, the station manager; and Miss Malone, Vincent's secretary.

Cast: Marty Allen (Marty), Steve Rossi (Steve), Roland Winters (Vincent J. Vincent), Nina Shipman (Miss Malone). Guest Cast: Lisa Pera (Tanya), Henry Corden and Nestor Pavia (Russians).

3488 Hello Kitty's Furry Tale Theater. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1987). Fairy tale adventures with a feline twist as Hello Kitty, the program's host, is transported to fairytale worlds each week to become the main characters in stories.

Voice Cast: Tara Strong (Hello Kitty), Elizabeth Hanna (Grandma Kitty), Elizabeth Hanna (Mama Kitty), Len Carlson (Papa Kitty), Carl Banas (Grandpa Kitty).

3489 Hello, Larry. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1979–1981). Lawrence "Larry" Alder and his daughters, Ruthie and Diane, live at 46 Lafayette Street in Los Angeles. Larry is divorced from Marian and works for radio station KTCS as the host of a call-in talk show called The Larry Alder Show.

When the opportunity arises for Larry to begin a new life for himself and his daughters, he accepts a job at radio station KLOW-AM in Portland, Oregon. There he hosts a call-in show called first Hello, Larry, then The Larry Alder Show. The station is owned by Trans-Allied, Inc. Larry, Ruthie and Diane now live in Apartment 2B of an unnamed building.

Ruthie and Diane attend Portland High School; in Los Angeles, Ruthie had a dog named Rusty; she now longs for her father to buy a house.

Morgan Winslow is Larry's attractive producer; she lives at 67543 Baker Avenue. Henry Alder is Larry's father (who resides with them in second season episodes). Wendell the Drunk is the president of the Larry Alder Fan Club. When the series first began, the main characters had the last name of Adler. Stories relate Larry's efforts to deal with the problems he encounters at home and at work. John LaSalle and Tom Smith composed the theme, "Hello, Larry."

Cast: McLean Stevenson (Larry Alder), Kim Richards (Ruthie Alder), Donna Wilkes (Diane Alder), Krista Erickson (Diane Alder; later), Joanna Gleason (Morgan Winslow), George Memmoli (Earl, Larry's engineer), Ruth Brown (Leona Wilson; Larry's neighbor), Meadowlark Lemon (Himself; sports store owner), Fred Stuthman (Henry Alder), Shelley Fabares (Marion Alder; Larry's ex-wife), Don Chastain (Scott Thomas; Marion's boyfriend), John Femia (Tommy Roscini; Larry's neighbor), Rita Taggart (Marie Roscini; Tommy's mother), Parley Baer (Lionel Barton I; radio station owner), David Landesberg (Lionel Barton II, Barton's grandson), Will Hunt (Wendell; the drunk). Off-Camera Voices (Radio Callers): Judith Hurst, Kip King, John Myhers, F. William Parker, Sheryl Ford.

3490 Hell's Kitchen. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004–2007). Hell's Kitchen is a Hollywood based restaurant owned by Gordon Ramsay, a world-renowned chef who is noted for wanting perfection from his staff. He is also very temperamental and by watching the program, a person you do not want as your boss. The program has 12 aspiring young chefs (each of whom has either graduated from cooking school or has worked in a restaurant) competing for the top prize: head chef at one of Gordon's restaurants. But getting that honor is an extremely difficult task. Each of the contestants are placed in very trying meal preparation tests where, due to time restrictions and perfectionist standards Gordon places on them, leads to much yelling and foul (bleeped for broadcast) language. Each episode ends with Gordon shattering the dreams of a hopeful chef by eliminating him (or her) due to his poor performance. Eleven dreams are shattered in some truly tense and highly charged cook offs; aspiring chef Michael Wray was the first cycle winner.

Host: Gordon Ramsay. Narrator: Jason Thompson.

3491 Hellzapoppin. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 3/1/72). An unsold revue based on the comedy team of Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson's 1938 Broadway hit (and 1941 movie) of the same title. The program blends vaudeville and burlesque: zany one-liners, sight gags, walk-ons and variety acts. Alexander H. Cohen is the producer.

Hosts: Jack Cassidy, Ronnie Schell. Guests: The Jackson Five, Lynn Redgrave, Rex Reed, The Volantes, Bob Williams and his dog Louie. Cameos: Ruth Buzzi, Peter Lupus, Lyle Waggoner. Orchestra: Nick Perito.

3492 H.E.L.P. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1990). The Harlem Eastside Lifesaver Program, H.E.L.P. for short, is an experimental New York City emergency unit that combines paramedics, cops and fire fighters. The program details the work of its battalion chief, Patrick Meacham and his crew: Firemen Jimmy Ryan and E. Jean Ballentry; Paramedics Mike Pappas and Danny Tran; and Patrolmen Lou Barton, Frank Sordoni, Larry Alba and Suki Rodriguez. Other Regulars: Pat's wife, Kathleen; and Pat's daughter, Maureen. Originally titled 911.

3493 The Help. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2004). The Help refers to a group of servants who work for the wealthy Ridgeway family in Florida. Arlene Ridgeway heads the eccentric family (her husband is not seen as he is constantly away on business "working on his latest hostile takeover"). Adam is her eldest son, a slacker who spends most of his days drinking beer by the pool (he seems to have an endless supply in the refrigerator) and chasing women. Veronica is a teen pop star who rocketed to stardom with her hit song "Who Does Your Nails?" She relishes in this but doesn't realize she will only be a one hit wonder. Cassandra, Arlene's older daughter, is a neurotic plastic surgeon with a violent temper and is feared by everyone in the house. Douglas, Arlene's youngest child, is constantly ignored by the family but finds an attraction to older women (and he is only 14 years old).

Helping the Ridgeway family cope with life are their servants: Anna, Maggie, Maria, Ollie, Dwayne and Molly.

Anna is the sexy nanny on whom Douglas has a crush. Maggie is the cook who keeps the help in line. She does fear losing her job — "Who's gonna pay me this kind of money for mediocre cooking of standard American food?"

Maria is the maid. She believes she is exceptionally beautiful and hopes to one day open her own salon — "to make the world beautiful except for blondes. I hate blondes." Molly is a gorgeous blonde who works as the dog walker for Arlene's three pampered pooches — Pookie, Priscilla and Cinnamon. Ollie is the chauffeur who puts in extra hours as a personal stud for Veronica. Dwayne is the personal trainer for Arlene and her daughters. He is superficial and self-absorbed.

Cast: Brenda Strong (Arlene Ridgeway), David Faustino (Adam Ridgeway), Kri Lynn Pratt (Veronica Ridgeway), Megan Fox (Cassandra Ridgeway), Graham Murdoch (Douglas Ridgeway), Jack Axelrod (Grandpa Eddie Ridgeway), Mindy Cohn (Maggie), Mariska Dominczyk (Anna), Tori Spelling (Molly), Camille Guaty (Maria), Al Santos (Ollie), Antonio Sabato, Jr. (Dwayne).

3494 Help! It's the Hair Bear Bunch. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1971–1972). Hair, Square and Bubi are three bears that call themselves the Hair Bear Bunch. They live in Cave Block Number 9 of the Wonderland Zoo and stories relate their efforts to improve their living conditions (most often against the wishes of Mr. Peevley, the zoo keeper and his fumbling assistant, Botch).

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Hair Bear), Paul Winchell (Bubi Bear), Bill Calloway (Square Bear), John Stephenson (Mr. Peevley), Joe E. Ross (Botch). Additional Voices: Hal Smith, Jeannine Brown, Joan Gerber, Janet Waldo, Lennie Weinrib.

3495 Help Me, Help You. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2006). Dr. Bill Hoffman is a therapist with a successful practice in Manhattan. He is also the author of several books on psychology and is well regarded by his fellow therapists.

Bill and his wife, Anne have just separated after 15 years of marriage and his daughter, Sasha, is a college student who is dating a much older man — her psychology professor.

Bill says he has twelve degrees "and I know what I am doing." However, at times he flies off the handle when situations become difficult and it appears he needs a therapist.

Bill has several patients and it is his efforts to help these people that comprises the main focus of the series.

Dave is the newest member of Bill's therapy group. He is suicidal. Jonathan is a metro sexual who is in serious denial that he might possibly be gay. Inger, at age 25, is a self-made millionaire (now retired) who lacks social skills. Darlene has numerous psychological problems (including an obsession with Bill). Michael has serious anger issues.

Cast: Ted Danson (Dr. Bill Hoffman), Jane Kaczmarek (Anne Hoffman), Lindsay Sloane (Sasha Hoffman), Suzy Nakamura (Inger), Charlie Finn (Dave), Jim Rash (Jonathan), Darlene Hunt (Darlene), Jere Burns (Michael).

3496 Hennessey. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1959–1962). Lieutenant Charles J. Hennessey, called “Chick,” is a doctor with the U.S. Navy who has been assigned to the San Diego Naval Base in California. Stories relate his misadventures as he attempts to do his job but becomes involved in the antics of the enlisted men who are now a part of his life.

Nurse Martha Hale is Chick's romantic interest; William Hale is Martha's stern father; Harvey Spencer Blair III is the base dentist; Max Bronsky is the chief corpsman; other personnel are listed in the cast.

3499 Henry Morgan's Great Talent Hunt. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). The program presents performances by unusual talent acts (which are interspersed with comedy skits and songs). The series, hosted by comedian Henry Morgan, ran from January 26, 1951 to June 1, 1951.

Host: Henry Morgan. Regulars: Arnold Stang, Dorothy Claire, Art Carney, Kay Ballard, Pert Kelton.

3500 Herb Shriner Time. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951–1952). A program of music and comedy featuring the homespun philosophy of comedian Herb Shriner. Mel Ferber and Jack Mossman are the producers.

Host: Herb Shriner. Regulars: Peggy Allenby, Lenka Peterson, Biff McGuire, Eda Heinemann, Joseph Sweeney, Paul Hurber. Music: Milton DeLugg, Bernard Green.

3501 Herbert Hoover Telecast. (Experimental; Speech; Bell Telephone; 4/7/27). The earliest known attempt to broadcast a radio and TV program at the same time. This occurred on April 7, 1927, by a group of people at Bell Telephone labs at 463 West Street in Manhattan. Then Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover was seen in a speech broadcast from Washington, D.C. (over wire for video; via radio networks for audio). It actually marked two firsts: the complete transmission of sound and picture and of long distance video broadcasting.

3502 Herbie, the Love Bug. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1982). A five-episode program based on the Disney film The Love Bug. Herbie, the magical Volkswagen is owned by Jim Douglas, a former race car driver who now owns the Famous Driving School in California. Jim is romantically involved with Susan McLane, a pretty widow Herbie set him up with. Susan is the mother of three children (Julie, Martin and Robbie) and has a jealous ex-boyfriend named Rodney Bigelow. The focal point of the program is Rodney's efforts to win Susan back by breaking up her romance with Jim. Assisting Rodney is his mean mother, Mrs. Bigelow, the owner of the Valley Basin Savings Bank.

Other Regulars: Bo Phillips, Jim's assistant. Dean Jones sings the theme, “Herbie, My Best Friend.”

Cast: Dean Jones (Jim Douglas), Patricia Harty (Susan McLane), Claudia Wells (Julie McLane), Nicky Katt (Martin McLane), Douglas Emerson (Robbie McLane), Larry Linville (Rodney Bigelow), Natalie Cole (Mrs. Bigelow), Richard Paul (Bo Phillips).

3503 Hercule Poirot. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/1/62). An unsold series based on Agatha Christie's famous Belgian detective Hercule Poirot, who uses sheer wit to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of G.E. Theater Poirot attempts to solve a missing persons case.

Cast: Martin Gabel (Hercule Poirot). Guest Cast: Nina Foch (Mrs. Davenham), Philip Ober (Chief McMannus), James Callahan (Detective Floyd), John Harding (Billy Kellest).

3504 Hercules. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 9/12/65). A proposed series about Hercules, the mythical Greek hero possessed of superhuman strength. The pilot episode relates Hercules' efforts to save the city of Troy from a sea monster.

Cast: Gordon Scott (Hercules), Paul Stevens (Dio- genes), Mart Hulswit (Ulysses), Diana Hyland (Diana), Steve Garrett (Petra), Giorgio Ardisson (Le- ander). Narrator: Everett Sloane.

3505 Hercules. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1998–1999). The legendary hero of Greek mythology is seen as a teenager righting wrongs but also learning how to deal with life as a pre-adult from his mentor Philoctetes.

Icarus is Hercules' free-spirited friend; Cassandra is his psychic friend (ability to see the future); Hades is his evil uncle, who likes to nothing more than cause troublesome situations that Hercules and his friends must resolve.

Voice Cast: Tate Donovan (Hercules), Sandra Bernhard (Cassandra), French Stewart (Icarus), James Woods (Hades), Robert Costanzo (Philoctetes), Diedrich Bader (Prince Adonis), Corey Burton (Zeus), Jennifer Jason Leigh (Tempest), Samantha Eggar (Hera), Linda Hamilton (Nemesis), Lisa Kudrow (Aphrodite), David Hyde Pierce (Daedalus), Matt Frewer (Panic), Bobcat Goldthwait (Pain), Paul Shaffer (Hermes), Tom Arnold (Cupid), Charles Nelson Reilly (King Midas), Steven Weber (Odysseus).

3506 Hercules: The Legendary Journeys. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1994–2000). Hercules, the legendary hero of ancient Greece, is a half god (the son of the god Zeus and a mortal woman named Alcmene), who uses his mighty strength to help those the gods have turned away. He is assisted by Iolaus, his friend and traveling companion.

Zeus is the King of the Gods. He rules from Mount Olympus and is married to Hera, the all powerful Queen of the Gods. Based on the ancient Greek myth (which was adapted to TV), Zeus was unfaithful and had an affair with Alcmeme (Jennifer Ludlam, Elizabeth Hawthorne, Liddy Holloway), a beautiful mortal woman. The tryst resulted in a half mortal son (Hercules) and angered Hera who frowned on infidelity and set her goal to kill Hercules, a constant reminder of Zeus's infidelity. When Hera attempts to kill Hercules with a fireball but misses and destroys his home, killing his wife, Deianeira and his three children, Hercules begins a quest to avenge their deaths by destroying Hera (Hera is only seen in human form in the last episode, "Full Circle." She is played by Meg Foster and was previously only heard and usually represented by an animated pair of all-seeing eyes).

Hercules has chosen to live among mortals. He believes the Earth is round and that the sun revolves around it ("It is the reason why there are seasons"; Iolaus believes, like others, that the Earth is flat). Hercules can sew and make clothes ("My mother taught me") and devised the first Olympic games (as a means to avoid a bloody conflict between the Spartans and Eleans). Hercules has a certain knack for arriving just as a crisis erupts and, being of kind heart, feels honor bound to resolve the conflict.

Being a half god means Hercules is also related to full gods. His half brother, the devilishly evil Ares, the God of War, is his most troublesome relative (Ares seeks only to create havoc; Hercules despises Ares for this and risks his life to stop him and restore the peace).

Although Deianeira has been killed (her spirit lives on in the Elysian Fields), Hercules has vowed to remain faithful to her.

Iolaus considers himself to be a great comedian (he tells jokes and is often the only one who laughs at them). He is two years older than Hercules and was a thief (as a child he would steal donuts from villagers). It was Hercules who turned his life around. Iolaus is the son of Skouros, a professional soldier who spent little time at home and was later killed in a battle. Although Iolaus does not possess the strength of Hercules, he often becomes offended when Hercules thinks he cannot defend himself and steps in to help.

Iolaus believes he and Hercules find trouble without looking for it (Iolaus is a mortal and must use his skills and wits to survive).

Hercules also assisted Jason (of "Jason and the Argonauts" fame) as he sought the Golden Fleece.

Salmoneus is the fast-talking toga salesman who befriends Hercules and Iolaus and involves them in his various get-rich quick schemes (that always seem to fail).

Autolykus is the self-proclaimed "King of Thieves," a master cat burglar whose crimes often mean trouble for Hercules.

Aphrodite is the beautiful Goddess of Love (in one episode she called Hercules her brother, although in mythology they are not related). She is very protective of her shrines and often causes trouble when her love spells backfire.

Callistro is an evil warrior condemned to the hell of Tartarus (the underworld's place of punishment). She is used by Hera in plans to kill Hercules.

Xena is the evil and ruthless warrior princess reformed by Hercules to use her skills to help people besieged by evil. See the spin-off series Xena: Warrior Princess for additional information. Joseph Lo-Duca composed the theme.

An announcer opens the show: "This is a story of a time long ago, a time of myth and legend when the ancient gods were petty and cruel and they plagued mankind with suffering. Only one man dared to challenge their powers — Hercules. Hercules possessed a strength the world had never seen, a strength surpassed only by the power of his heart. He journeyed the earth battling the minions of his wicked stepmother, Hera, the all-powerful queen of the gods. But wherever there was evil, wherever an innocent would suffer, there would be Hercules."

Cast: Kevin Sorbo (Hercules), Michael Hurst (Iolaus), Mark Newham (Ares), Kevin Smith (Ares), Anthony Quinn (Zeus), Peter Vere-Jones (Zeus), Charles Keating (Zeus), Jeffrey Thomas (Jason), Robert Trebor (Salmonius), Bruce Campbell (Autolycus), Alexandra Tydings (Aphrodite), Hudson Leick (Callisto), Lucy Lawless (Xena).

3507 The Herculoids. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1967–1969). The story of the Herculoids, animals as strong as they are invincible, whose function is to protect their king, Zandor, and the inhabitants of their peaceful and utopian planet from evil creatures from other galaxies.

3508 Here and Now. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1992–1993). Alexander James, better known as A.J., is a graduate student at Columbia University in New York City who works at the Manhattan Youth Center. He is a graduate of Harvard University and wants to make a difference in the lives of children who may be heading down the wrong path.

A.J. works closely with Danielle Harrison, a graduate of Columbia University. Kalilla, Tanya, Malik, Randall and William are the featured kids at the center. Stories follow A.J.'s mishaps as he attempts to provide a bright future for kids with no direction.

Other Regulars: Sal, Danielle's uncle, a doorman (who calls her "Sugar Plum"); Amy, a counselor; Hubert, called "T," A.J.'s friend; Curtis Freeman, Randall's older brother; and Claudia St. Marth, A.J.'s supervisor.

Cast: Malcolm-Jamal Warner (Alexander James), Rachel Crawford (Danielle Harrison), Charles Brown (Sid Harrison), Daryl "Chill" Mitchell (T), Essence Atkins (Kalilla), Natalie Harris (Tanya), S. Epatha Merkerson (Claudia St. Marth), Jessica Stone (Amy), Pee Wee Love (Randall Freeman), Omar Epps (Curtis Freeman), Alexander Jackson (Malik), Shaun Weiss (William).

3509 Here Come the Brides. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1968–1970). Seattle, Washington, in 1870 is the setting. Jason, Joshua and Jeremy Bolt are three brothers who run a logging camp. The camp has few women and their workers threaten to quit unless women are brought to the camp. Jason hits on a plan to transport one hundred marriageable women, mostly Civil War widows from Massachusetts, to satisfy his woman-starved loggers and save his camp. Jason makes a deal with Aaron Stemple, the sawmill owner, for the finances he needs to transport the women. However, Jason has to keep the women in Seattle for one year or forfeit Bridal Veil Mountain, the legacy left to the Bolts by their parents, to Aaron if he should fail.

First season episodes depict the Bolts' efforts to retain their birthright by living up to the agreement Jason made. After succeeding, the remainder of the series follows the Bolts' as they struggle to run their logging camp.

Lottie Hatfield is the saloon owner; Candy Pruitt is Jeremy's love interest; Roland Francis Clancey is the ship captain; Molly Pruitt is Candy's sister; Christopher Pruitt is Candy's brother; Ben Perkins is the featured Bolt camp logger; Uncle Duncan is the head of the Bolt clan; Essie Gillis is the schoolteacher; Corky Sam McGee is the camp foreman; Mr. Gaddings is the reverend; and the featured brides are Biddie Cloom, Amanda, Peggy, Lulu, Ann, Franny, Maude, Polly, Beth, Mary Ellen and Sally; Julia is Aaron's sister.

Cast: Robert Brown (Jason Bolt), David Soul (Joshua Bolt), Bobby Sherman (Jeremy Bolt), Joan Blondell (Lottie Hatfield), Bridget Hanley (Candy Pruitt), Mark Lenard (Aaron Stemple), Henry Beckman (Roland Clancey), Hoke Howell (Ben Perkins), Patti Cohoon (Molly Pruitt), Eric Chase (Christopher Pruitt), Susan Tolsky (Biddie Cloom), Mitzi Hoag (Essie Gillis), Bo Svenson (Corky Sam McGee), Robert Biheller (Corky Sam McGee; later), William Schallert (Rev. Mr. Gaddings), Lindsay Workman (Reverend; later), Kristina Tolland (Amanda), Mary Jo Kennedy (Peggy), Stefani Warren (Lulu), Cynthia Hull (Ann), Carole Shelyne (Franny), Myra De Groot (Maude), Loretta Laversee (Polly), Susannah Darrow (Beth), Karen Carlson (Mary Ellen), Diane Sayer (Sally), Denver Pyle (Uncle Duncan), Katherine Crawford (Julia). Theme Vocal: "Seattle" by The New Establishment.

3510 Here Come the Double Deckers. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1970–1972). Scooper, Spring, Billie, Brains, Doughnut, Sticks and Tiger are seven pre-teen children who call themselves the Double Deckers (named after their clubhouse — an old double-decker British bus that is parked in a London junkyard). The Double Deckers believe they are quite independent and stories follow their attempts to solve problems without help from the adult world. Albert is their adult friend. Produced in England

Cast: Peter Firth (Scooper), Brinsley Forde (Spring), Gillian Bailey (Billie), Michael Anderson (Brains), Douglas Simmonds (Doughnut), Bruce Clark (Sticks), Debbie Russ (Tiger), Melvyn Hayes (Albert).

3511 Here Come the Stars. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1968). Testimonial dinners that honor special guests. George Jessel, "The Toastmaster General of the United States" is the host.

3512 Here Comes Melinda. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1960). The comical adventures of Melinda Gray, an elderly baby-sitter for the Westwood Baby Sitters Service in California. In the pilot episode, Melinda attempts to care for a beautiful 19-year-old girl (Judy) whose parents (Phyllis and Martin) are reluctant to leave her alone while they attend a distant wedding. Other Regulars: Paula, the agency director; and Ann, Melinda's niece.

Cast: Spring Byington (Melinda Gray), Alice Backes (Paula Trowbridge), Toby Michaels (Ann Gray). Guest Cast: Roberta Shore (Judy Saunders), Maxine Stuart (Phyllis Saunders), John Zaremba (Martin Saunders), Charlie Ruggles (Grandpa Cooper), Jimmy Hawkins (Johnny Douglas), Hal Smith (Mr. Winograd).

3513 Here Comes the Grump. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1969–1971). As a magic fantasyland is put under the Curse of Gloom by the evil Grump, Terry Dexter, a young American boy, and his dog, Bib, are magically transported to the affected kingdom. There, Terry meets Princess Dawn, the only citizen who has not been affected by the curse. From the Princess, Terry learns about the Land of a Thousand Caves. In the Cave of the Whispering Orchids, the Grump has hidden the Crystal Key, which, if found, will lift the dreaded curse. Stories relate Terry and Dawn's efforts to find the Crystal Key; and the Grumps attempts, assisted by his fumbling Jolly Green Dragon, to keep secret the location of the Cave of Whispering Orchids.

Voice Cast: Stefanianna Christopher (Princess Dawn), Jay North (Terry Dexter), Rip Taylor (The Grump).

3514 Here Comes Tobor. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1955). A proposed spin-off from Captain Video and His Video Rangers that was to use the evil (but now reformed) robot, Tobor, as a U.S. government secret weapon against crime.

Tobor (robot spelled backwards) is now owned by Bruce Adams, a professor at the Adams Research Center (exactly how Tobor came to be in Bruce's possession is not explained; nor is it explained how Tobor, who came from the 22nd century on Captain Video is suddenly in the 20th century). Assisting the professor is his nephew, Tommy, a boy who was born with one of the highest ESP quotients ever known.

Tobor has built-in Extra-Sensory Perception. Tommy has been cleared for top-secret material and because of his gift, controls Tobor through thought transferences. Together they work with Professor Adams to thwart evil. The pilot story finds Tommy and Tobor helping the U.S. Navy locate a missing atomic submarine. The screen credit for Tobor reads, "Tobor played by Tobor." Howard Jackson composed the theme.

Cast: Arthur Space (Bruce Adams), Tommy Terrell (Tommy Adams). Guest Cast: Bruce Cowling (Steve), Alan Reynold (Lieutenant Talbot), Gavin Gordon (Admiral Morgan).

3515 Here We Go Again. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1973). Living at 1450 North Valley Lane in Encino, California, are Richard Evans, an architect (owner of Evans Architecture, Inc.), and his new wife, Susan. One block away, at 1490 North Valley Lane, lives Jerry Standish, Susan's ex-husband, a former Los Angeles Rams quarterback, who now owns the Polynesia Paradise Café. Half a mile away is 361 Oak Tree Drive, the address of Richard's ex-wife, Judy Evans, the editor of Screen World magazine.

Jan and Cindy, Jerry and Susan's preteen children, now reside with Susan and Richard (Jerry maintains a bachelor pad), and Richard and Judy's son, Jeff, now lives with his father (Richard) and stepmother, Susan.

Richard and Susan's struggles to find serenity in a neighborhood where they are plagued by the constant intrusion of their former spouses is the focal point of the series.

Richard and Judy were married for 17 years before their marriage ended. Richard, who thought that "my first marriage had an Edgar Allan Poe quality to it," just couldn't take Judy's bossiness and left.

Jerry and Susan met in college, fell in love, married and hoped for a storybook life together. What they found was a divorce after ten years of marriage.

While Judy is bossy, formidable and efficient, Susan is sweet, tender and very trusting. While Richard is easygoing and trusting, Jerry is a playboy and unfaithful. Jerry's philandering cost him his marriage ("I was a kid from nowhere. Suddenly, when I became a Ram, all these gorgeous girls began throwing themselves at me. What was I supposed to do?").

Shortly after divorcing Jerry, Susan, a representative of the Better Boys Foundation (an organization that provides facilities for underprivileged boys), meets Richard when she hires him to design a new center. Richard takes Susan to dinner that night to discuss matters. They fall in love, marry and, "even though we share one life with your ex-husband and my ex-wife, here we go again." Theme: "Here We Go Again," vocal by Carol Sager and Peter Allen.

3516 Hereafter. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 11/27/75). Nathan, Cliff and Lionel are three forgotten singers who make a pact with the Devil's youngest son (Rick) to sell their souls in return for a year at the top of the music world. The unsold series was to chart their new lease on life as a successful rock group. See also A Year at the Top.

Cast: Josh Mostel (Nathan), Greg Evigan (Cliff), Paul Shaffer (Lionel), Don Scardino (Rick), Vivian Blaine (Lillian), Robert Donley (Frank), Phil Leeds (Lou), John J. Fox (Joe), Kay Dingle (Girl).

3517 Here's Barbara. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1969). A daily program that focuses on the lives of people who live in or frequent the nation's capitol.

An announcer opens the show: "Here's Barbara with fashions, politics, and an insiders look at Washington and the world with your hostess Barbara Coleman. And now, Here's Barbara."

Hostess: Barbara Coleman.

3518 Here's Boomer. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1980–1982). The story of Boomer, an un-owned, roving shaggy dog who helps people in trouble (he sort of crosses their paths, senses a troublesome situation and hangs around just long enough to receive a temporary home and use his canine smarts to help them overcome their problems). Twenty-one episodes were broadcast rather erratically over a two-year period. Ten episodes aired from March 14, 1980 to August 29, 1980. One 60-minute episode aired on December 12, 1980. Six episodes aired from October 4, 1981 to November 22, 1981. Two episodes aired from January 10, 1982 to January 17, 1982. One episode aired on June 3, 1982 and one on July 3, 1982. Repeats aired from July 10, 1982 to August 14, 1982. See also A Christmas for Boomer for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Boomer (Star), Tom Moore (Voice of Boomer's Thoughts). Theme Music: "Here's Boomer" by Zoey Wilson, Edward Leonetti. Boomer's Trainer: Ray Berwick, Bryan Refreno.

3519 Here's Click. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 4/5/44). Following in the footsteps of Mademoiselle magazine (see What's New with Mademoiselle), the variety magazine Click attempted to transform its May 1944 issue to the video screen. Acts included ballroom dancing by the team of Maye and Harger (with the piano backing of Sam Medoff), interviews with Anabella, Jack Dempsey and Mickey Walker; a novelty act with the girls of the Stratosphere Club; pop songs from Kay Carroll and Naomi Stevens; a "Barber of Seville" excerpt from Met opera star Gerhard Peschner; and an interview with Max Weinberg, a Brooklyn bartender who sells $18.75 war bonds for a dollar off. See also Harper's Bazaar Fashion Parade.

Host: Danton Walker. Performers: Anabella, Kay Carroll, Jack Dempsey, Gerhard Peschner, Maye and Harger, Naomi Stevens, Mickey Walker, Max Weinberg.

3520 Here's Edie. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1963–1964). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches with singer-actress Edie Adams as the host. The series, which ran from September 26, 1963 to March 19, 1964, is also known as The Edie Adams Show. David Oppenheimer, Johnny Bradford and Barry Shear are the producers.

Hostess: Edie Adams. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

3521 Here's Hollywood. (Series; Interview; NBC; 1960–1962). Intimate aspects of celebrities' lives are revealed through in-person interviews.

Host: Dean Miller. Hostess: Joanne Jordan.

3522 Here's Lucy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1968–1974). Lucille Carter is a widow who works as secretary to her brother-in-law, Harrison Otis Carter, the owner of the Unique Employment Agency ("Unusual Jobs for Unusual People"). Lucy lives at 4863 Valley Lawn Drive in Encino, California (in the San Fernando Valley) with her teenage children, Kim (17) and Craig (15).

Kim and Craig attend Los Angeles High School and stories follow Lucy's attempts to do a good job for Harrison; unfortunately, her good intentions always backfire, causing untold mishaps for Harrison (who must resolve the situations she causes). Mary Jane Lewis is Lucy's friend.

Cast: Lucille Ball (Lucille Carter), Gale Gordon (Harrison Otis Carter), Lucie Arnaz (Kim Carter), Desi Arnaz, Jr. (Craig Carter), Mary Jane Croft (Mary Jane Lewis).

3523 Here's Morgan. (Live Test Program; Variety; ABC; 6/6/46). A proposed but unsold TV series based on the routines of radio comedian Henry Morgan. Basically, the pilot was just 15 minutes of Henry Morgan performing his material — from lampooning his sponsor (Adler Shoes) to complaining about the terrible conditions under which actors on TV must perform (referring to the heat generated from the overhead lights; heat so intense that it can melt vinyl records).

Host: Henry Morgan.

3524 Here's Richard. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1982). Health guru Richard Simmons hosts a program that combines comedy sketches, celebrity guests, interviews health advice and cooking tips to help people get in shape and exercise.

The pilot film aired in April of 1982 (the actual series began in October of 1982) and featured guests Judy Landers and Erma Bombeck. Woody Fraser is the producer.

Host: Richard Simmons. Music: Louis A. McLean. Theme Music: "Here's Richard" by Stacy Wideltiz, Wendy Fraser.

3525 Here's the Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1955). A weekly program of music and comedy with comedians Jonathan Winters and Ransom Sherman that ran from July 9, 1955 to September 24, 1955.

Hosts: Jonathan Winters, Ransom Sherman. Regulars: Kay O'Grady, Stephanie Antie, Tommy Knox, The Ted Carpenter Singers, The Double Daters.

3526 Herman's Head. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1991-1993). Herman Brooks is a magazine fact checker and researcher for the Waterton Publishing Company in Manhattan. He lives at 564 West 58th Street, Apartment 3C, and hopes one day to become a writer. Viewers see not only this side of Herman but also "inside" Herman's head as characters representing his sensitivity, intellect, lust and anxiety battle over his actions.

Angel is Herman's sensitivity ("Without me he wouldn't feel tenderness, honesty or love, the good things in life"). Animal represents Herman's lust ("Without me he'd miss out on all the good stuff, you know, fun, food, babes"). Wimp is Herman's anxiety ("I keep him out of trouble. And believe me, there is trouble everywhere"). Genius is Herman's intellect ("Without me he couldn't hold a job, pay his rent or tie his shoes").

Herman earns $22,500 a year. He was born in Millbury, Ohio, and attended Millbury High School and Ohio State College; Herman's father is a tire salesman. Herman had a parakeet named Pookie as a kid. His favorite watering hole is McAnally's Pub and Restaurant.

Herman had a brief romantic affair with Elizabeth, a writer for Manhattan Weekly magazine. Elizabeth had an apartment at Washington Square Park and set her bedroom alarm clock one hour behind to give herself extra time to get ready in the morning.

Paul Bracken is Herman's boss. He is an editor and "knows facts about everything." He suffers from "Bozo phobia" (when he was a kid his parents hired a clown for his birthday party; the clown scared him, and now even people with too much makeup on make him nervous).

Heddy Newman is a researcher and Herman's beautiful colleague. She was born in Baltimore and believes she is a "ten." She posed nude for a magazine and let it slip that she once made love to another woman. Heddy uses Herman's desk phone to make long distance calls and wants to marry a man of wealth — "But all I meet are men who are married or gay."

Louise Fitzer was born in Pennsylvania and is the office assistant. She is very sweet and trusting and looking to find a husband (she is saving herself for that special man and is a member of the Virgin Support Group and the Women Who Cry Too Much Support Group). Louise has a pet iguana named Kitty.

Jay Nichols is Herman's lecherous, womanizing friend; he works for the same company. Jim Crawford is the senior editor (he calls Herman "Sherman"). The series was originally called It's All in Your Head.

Waterton Publishing is on the twenty-sixth floor; Animal wears an Ohio State jersey; Jay attended Jefferson High School.

Relatives: Jennifer Aniston (Herman's 19-year-old sister, Suzie Brooks), John Scott Clough (Herman's brother, Stan Brooks), Alaina Reed Hall (Paul's wife, Margaret Bracken), Victoria Rowell (Paul's daughter, Susan Bracken), Gigi Rice (Jim's wife, Mrs. Crawford), Elinor Donahue (Louise's mother), Richard Paul (Louise's father), Christine Cavanaugh (Louise's sister, Martha Fitzer).

Flashbacks: Edan Gross (Herman as a boy), Taylor Fry (Suzie as a girl), Joey Wright (Stan as a boy). Theme: "Inside Herman's Head," by Bill Bodine.

Cast: William Ragsdale (Herman Brooks), Jane Sibbett (Heddy Newman), Yeardley Smith (Louise Fitzer), Jason Bernard (Paul Bracken), Hank Azaria (Jay Nichols), Molly Hagan (Angel), Ken Hudson Campbell (Animal), Rick Lawless (Wimp), Peter MacKenzie (Genius), Edward Winter (Jim Crawford), Julia Campbell (Elizabeth).

3527 Hernandez, Houston P.D. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/16/73). A proposed series about Juan Hernandez, a Mexican-American detective with the Houston, Texas, Police Department. Other Regulars: His mother, Mamacita Hernandez; and his partner, Sergeant Lukas.

Cast: Henry Darrow (Juan Hernandez), Desmond Dhooge (Sergeant Lukas), Amapola Del Vando (Mamacita). Guest Cast: Dana Elcar (Jackman), Ronny Cox (Roper), G.D. Spradlin (Penner).

3528 Herndon and Me. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/26/83). The Silicone Valley in San Jose, California, is the setting for an unsold series about Herndon P. Pool, a clumsy computer genius employed by the Judicto Computer Company. In the pilot episode, Herndon attends his ten-year high school reunion — with the hope of changing his image from nerd to conquering hero. Other Regulars: Jeff, his friend and executive assistant (the "Me" of the title); Hilary, Judicto's P.R. lady; and Miss Helter, the office secretary.

Cast: Michael Richards (Dr. Herndon P. Pool), Ted McGinley (Jeff Shackelson), Randi Brooks (Hilary Swanson), Anne Ramsey (Miss Helter). Guest Cast: Robin Riker (Connie Kokorium), Marla Pennington (Laura), F. William Parker (Mr. Coombs), Tony Longo (Stanley Gabotowski), Sharon Thomas (Paula).

3529 The Hero. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1966–1967). Sam Garrett is an actor. He is married to Ruth and is the father of Paul. Sam lives in Los Angeles and is the star of the television series Jed Clayton, U.S. Marshal. In real life Sam is a bumbling klutz; on TV he plays a fearless and dauntless law enforcer. Stories follow Sam's home and working life and in particular his efforts to conceal his real life from his adoring fans.

Other Regulars: Fred and Adele Gilman, Sam's neighbors; Burton, Fred and Adele's son; Marilyn, Sam's niece. The Gilman's dog is named Brownie.

Cast: Richard Mulligan (Sam Garrett), Mariette Hartley (Ruth Garrett), Bobby Horan (Paul Garrett), Victor French (Fred Gilman), Maureen Arthur (Adele Gilman), Joey Baio (Burton Gilman), Laurel Goodwin (Marilyn), Norman Palmer ("Jed Clayton" Show Director), Jack Perkins (Bartender in "Jed Clayton"), John Harmon (Bartender in "Jed Clayton").

3530 Heroes. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 2006–). The program begins with these words: "In recent days a seemingly random group of individuals has emerged with what can only be described as 'special' abilities. Although unaware of it now, these individuals will not only save the world but also change it forever. Their transformation from ordinary to extraordinary will not occur overnight. Every story has a beginning. Volume one of their epic tale begins here [New York City]."

Mohinder Suresh is the indirect link to each of these special humans. He is a geneticist from India who is following in his father's footsteps (the study of mutations and the human potential). Unknown people killed his father just as he figured out how to identify and locate these mutants. As he begins his mission, the viewer learns that he must bring these strangers together to save the world; it is also learned that sinister forces are out to locate these same people for reasons that are anything but good.

Peter Petrelli is a male nurse; his brother, Nathan, is a politician. They share an uncanny ability to fly.

Claire Bennett is a Texas high school cheerleader (at Union Wells High School) who can instantly heal herself from any injury.

Hiro Nokamura is a Japanese office worker who has the ability to bend the space-time continuum (he is also a comic book fanatic who believes everything he reads in them).

Nikki Sanders is a single mother (of a genius son named Micah) who earns a living over the Internet by stripping via a web cam (for $39 a customer). She is capable of incredible strength and brutality when she blacks out (she can also see an image of her other self in a reflective surface).

Isaac Mendez is an artist who unconsciously paints pictures of future disasters — one of which is the destruction of the world.

Eden McCain is a telepathic. Matt Parkman is an L.A.P.D. cop with the ability to read minds. Claude is an apparent homeless man who possesses the power of invisibility (although he has been using it for stealing).

Once the mutants are united, Suresh wages a war of good vs. evil in an attempt to avert what Isaac had painted.

In mid-season the character of Nikki Sanders is written out when she has a confrontation with the man seeking the mutants powers — Sylar — and kills herself rather than give him her power; Claude replaces her.

Monica is introduced in the episode of October 15, 2007 ("The Kindness of Strangers") as a girl who derives her powers from what she sees on television; Ellen is also introduced as a girl who derives her power from electricity.

Cast: Milo Ventimiglia (Peter Petrelli), Ali Larter (Nikki Sanders), Sendhil Ramamurthy (Mohinder Suresh), Masi Oka (Hiro Nokamura), Adrian Pasdar (Nathan Petrelli), Hayden Panettiere (Claire Bennett), Greg Grunberg (Matt Parkman), Noah Gray-Cabey (Micah Sanders), Nora Zehetner (Eden McCain), Dana Davis (Monica), Kristen Bell (Ellen), Santiago Cabrera (Isaac Mendez), Zachary Quinto (Sylar), Tawny Cypress (Simone Devereaux), Jack Coleman (Claire's father), Kristen Bell (Ellen), Dana David (Monica Dawson), James Kyson Lee (Ando Masahashi), Ashley Crow (Sandra Bennett), Leonard Roberts (D.L. Hawkins), Christopher Eccleston (Claude), Cristine Rose (Angela Petrelli), Clea DuVall (Audrey Hanson), Danielle Savre (Jackie Wilcox), Deirdre Quinn (Tina), Elizabeth Lackey (Janice Parkman), Matt Lanter (Brody Mitchum), Adair Tishler (Molly Walker), Thomas Dekker (Zach), Randall Bentley (Lyle Bennett), Stephen Tobolowsky (Bob), Nora Zehetner (Eden McCain), Matthew John Armstrong (Ted Sprague), Dania Ramirez (Maya Herrera), Audrey Hanson (Clea DuVall), George Takei (Kaito Nakamura), Melissa Peregrym (Candice Wilmer), Eric Roberts (Thompson).

3531 He's the Mayor. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986). Carl Burke is a 25-year-old college graduate who is fed up with the conditions of his (unidentified) city. On a whim he decides to run for mayor on a platform of improving the quality of life. Unexpectedly he is elected. Carl lacks political savvy but he does possess charisma, honesty, resourcefulness and a lot of help from his friends. Stories follow Mayor Burke as he struggles to solve the problems that befall his crisis-ridden community.

Other Regulars: Alvin Burke, Carl's father, the City Hall janitor; Paula Hendricks, Carl's secretary

(later replaced by Kelly Enright); Walter Padgett, the police chief; Harlan Nash, a councilman; Wardell Halsey, Carl's chauffeur; Penny, a waitress at the local diner; and Ivan Bronski, Alvin's friend.

Cast: Kevin Hooks (Carl Burke), Al Fann (Alvin Burke), Mari Gorman (Paula Hendricks), Margot Rose (Kelly Enright), David Graf (Harlan Nash), Wesley Thompson (Wardell Halsey), Pat Corley (Walter Padgett), Shuko Akune (Penny), Stanley Brock (Ivan Bronski).

3532 Hex. (Series; Drama; BBC America; 2006). Cassie Hughes is a young woman who is new to a British boarding school called Mendenham Hall. Cassie is a plain girl who delights in her study of art and literature. Life changes for her when she begins exploring a long forgotten room at the school and discovers an ancient vase that endows her with visions and the ability to not only see ghosts, but a fallen angel named Azazeal, a demon that has tormented young women, including Cassie's mother, over the centuries; it has now set its sights on acquiring Cassie's soul.

The school's past might explain what has happened: the school was, at one time, a stately home when the daughter of its owner dabbled in voodoo and conjured up evil — evil that eventually killed her when she was unable to control it.

Stories follow Cassie as she battles Azazeal — not always winning and, at times, becoming evil herself. Thelma is Cassie's roommate (although she is later killed and becomes a lesbian ghost); and Troy, Roxanne and Leon are Cassie's friends. The series was produced in England in 2004 (to 2005).

Cast: Christina Cole (Cassandra "Cassie" Hughes), Jemima Rooper (Thelma Bates), Joseph Morgan (Troy), Amber Sainsbury (Roxanne Davenport), Jamie Davis (Leon Tyler), Anna Wilson-Jones (Jo Watkins), Samuel Collings (Tom), David Tyler (Colin Salmon), Michael Fassbender (Azazeal), Jemima Abey (Alex), Joseph Beattic (Malachi), Laura Pypier (Ella Dee).

3533 Hey Arnold! (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1994–2005). Arnold is a nine-year-old boy (with a football shaped head for which he received the nickname "Football Head") who lives in a boarding house with his grandparents. He loves to day-dream and jazz and football are his favorite pastimes. Arnold hangs out with his best friend, Gerald and stories follow his misadventures as he faces the daily pressures of life at school, with his friends and at home.

Arnold's main problem is that he feels obligated to help others — a situation that becomes all too complicated when he starts minding other people's business. Helga, the meanest girl in school, has a crush on Arnold (although Arnold is not aware of it); Phoebe is the brainy kid; Harold is the school's overweight bully; Rhonda is the school's rich girl; Phil and Pookie are Arnold's grandparents (his parent's absence is explained as their being "out in the wild saving people's lives"). Stinky, Sid and Eugene are other classmates. Oskar, his wife Susie and construction worker Ernie are residents of the boarding house.

Voice Cast: Phillip Glen Van Dyke (Arnold), Alex D. Linz (Arnold), Spencer Klein (Arnold), Jamil Walker Smith (Gerald), Francesca Smith (Helga), Justin Shenkarow (Harold), Anndi McAfee (Phoebe), Olivia Hack (Rhonda), Dan Castellaneta (Grandpa Phil), Tress MacNeille (Grandma Pookie), Christopher P. Walberg (Stinky), Sam Gifaldi (Sid), Benjamin Diskin (Eugene), Jarrett Lennon (Eugene), Steven Viksten (Oskar), Mary Scheer (Susie), Dom Irrera (Ernie).

3534 Hey Dude. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 1989–1991). The Bar None is a dude ranch in Tucson, Arizona. It is owned by Benjamin Ernst, an over enthusiastic man who often goes out of his way to make sure his guests receive the best service possible; unfortunately, his scheming employee, Ted, causes more problems than solutions as he goes out of his way to do what is best for Ted. Other employees of the Bar None are Melody, the lifeguard; Brad, the horse instructor; and Danny, Kyle and Jake; and Buddy, Benjamin's young son.

Cast: David Brisbin (Benjamin Ernst), Christine Taylor (Melody Hanson), David Lascher (Ted McGriff), Kelly Brown (Brad Taylor), Josh Tygiel (Benjamin "Buddy" Ernst, Jr.), Joe Torres (Kyle Chandler), Jonathan Galkin (Jake Decker).

3535 Hey, Jeannie! (Series; Comedy; CBS; ABC; 1956–1957; 1960). Jeannie MacLennan is a beautiful Scottish girl newly arrived in New York City from her homeland. Through an arrangement with her family and an American friend, Al Murray, Jeannie is given the opportunity to experience life in the States. She now lives in Manhattan with Al, a cab driver, and his sister, Liz.

Liz is fascinated by what she sees and wants to experience every aspect of American life. Al and Liz feel she is a bit over enthusiastic and must take things one step at a time. Stories follow Jeannie as she sets out to find her place in the world and Al and Liz's efforts to keep a watchful eye on Jeannie as her eagerness often leads to misadventure.

The series, which produced 32 episodes, ran on CBS from September 5, 1956 to May 4, 1957 and on ABC (repeats) from June 30, 1960 to September 22, 1960.

Cast: Jeannie Carson (Jeannie MacLennan), Allen Jenkins (Al Murray), Jane Dulo (Liz Murray).

3536 Hey, Landlord! (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1966–1967). At 140 West 41st Street in Manhattan stands an old brownstone that has been converted into a ten room apartment house by its youthful owner, Woodrow (“Woody”) Banner, an aspiring writer who inherited the building from his late uncle. Woody shares his ground-floor apartment with his friend Charles (“Chuck”) Hookstratten, a brash city boy who aspires to be a comedian. Pursuing girls is uppermost in their minds, and they take whatever jobs they can find while waiting for their big breaks.

Woody grew up on a farm in Ohio. He was a Boy Scout (a member of the Skunk Troop) and attended Fillmore High School in Toledo. He was on the school’s football team (he quit after the tackling dummy broke and he substituted for it one day); he then joined the swim team.

Chuck was born and raised in New York City. He was, as he says, “a rotten kid.” He wrote on the school walls, stuck chewing gum under the seats in the auditorium and once tried to burn down the school. He somehow managed to graduate and attended Ohio State University—where he met Woody. The two became quick friends. After graduation, they decided to pursue their career goals in New York City.

“Why did I move into this building? They said the rent would be lower. But what about my medical bills—who else buys pills by the gross?” Such is one of the many complaints from upstairs tenant Jack Ellenhorn, an ulcer-ridden, easily exasperated commercial photographer who feels that the antics of “the Boy Landlord” (this is how he refers to Woody) and “Chuckula” (Chuck) are tied with the aggravation of his job to see who can kill him first. Although Jack shouldn’t drink, he does (it’s the only pleasure he gets from life) at the Elegant Palace.

Other tenants are Timmie Morgan and Kyoko Mitsui, two gorgeous girls who share an upstairs apartment; and Mrs. Henderson, another complaining tenant.

Relatives: Sally Field (Woody’s sister, Bonnie Banner), Tom Tully (Woody’s father, Lloyd Banner), Ann Doran (Woody’s mother, Marcy Banner), Jack Albertson (Woody’s uncle, Dwight), Joseph Leon (Chuck’s father, Leon Hookstratten), Naomi Stevens (Chuck’s mother, Fanny Hookstratten). Theme: “Hey Landlord” by Quincy Jones.

Cast: Will Hutchins (Woody Banner), Sandy Baron (Chuck Hookstratten), Michael Constantine (Jack Ellenhorn), Pamela Rodgers (Timmie Morgan), Miko Mayama (Kyoko Mitsui), Ann Morgan Guilbert (Mrs. Henderson).

3537 Hey Mack. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/26/57). A proposed spin-off from The Schlitz Playhouse of Stars about Conal F. McConnell, an easy-going widower with a teenage daughter (Sharon) who runs the Fisherman’s Bend Hotel and Sportsman’s Lodge in Northern California. The unsold series was to focus on the changes that occur in Conal’s life when a pretty widow (Carla) with a spoiled son (Greg) arrive and Conal and Carla fall in love.

Cast: Gary Merrill (Conal F. McConnell), Sue George (Sharon McConnell), Marion Marsh (Carla Winthrop), Gordon Gebert (Greg Winthrop), Vito Scotti (Bennie).

3538 Hey, Mulligan. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954–1955). The Trials and Tribulations of Auntie Julia, Macaroni and His Enchanted Piano, True to Life Tim, The Saturday Night Super Dooper Special and Breakout are some of the television series (all mythical) broadcast over I.B.C., the fictitious International Broadcasting Company.

Michael (“Mickey”) Mulligan is a page (official title: Guest Relations Staff) at the Los Angeles Bureau of the New York–based network. Mickey earns $47.62 a week take-home pay and believes he is meant for bigger and better things; his only problem is, what are those bigger and better things?

Mickey, who considers himself “the tallest short man you’ll ever meet,” feels that his five-foot height is preventing him from going places at the network. He has enrolled in the Academy of Dramatic Arts (figuring acting may be his goal), but he also seizes upon every opportunity to find his actual goal in life.

Patricia (“Pat”) Harding is Mickey’s romantic interest, the secretary to Mr. Brown, the program director at I.B.C. Freddie Devlin is Mickey’s friend, a page also (they eat lunch at the Hamburger Hut). J.L. Patterson is the head of the network.

Mickey’s father, Joseph (“Joe”) Mulligan is a retired police officer (with the 23rd Precinct of the L.A.P.D.), and his mother, Nell Mulligan, is a former vaudeville actress.

The series is also known as The Mickey Rooney Show. Van Alexander composed the theme.

Cast: Mickey Rooney (Mickey Mulligan), Carla Balenda (Pat Harding), Joey Forman (Freddie Devlin), John Hoyt (J.L. Patterson), Regis Toomey (Joseph Mulligan), Claire Carleton (Nell Mulligan), John Hoyt (J.L. Patterson), John Hubbard (Mr. Brown).

3539 Hey Paula! (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2007). Singer and American Idol judge Paula Abdul is profiled. The program reveals a side of Paula that is not known by the public—her expertise as a businesswoman (for example, developing her own fragrance; confrontations with home shopping QVC network executives). Her public life experiences as well as a playful side (playing jokes on her assistants) are also “exposed.”

Star: Paula Abdul.

3540 Hey Teacher. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/15/64). An unsold series about Joe Hannon, the only male teacher in an elementary school dominated by females. In the pilot episode, Joe attempts to survive his first day as a teacher. Other Regulars: Mrs. Foley, the principal; and Lester, the custodian.

Cast: Dwayne Hickman (Joe Hannon), Reta Shaw (Mrs. Foley), Wallace Ford (Lester Tinney).

3541 Hey Vern, It's Ernest. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988–1989). Various offbeat comedy sketches that features the humor of Jim Varney as Ernest P. Worrel, the wacky character who plagues the never-seen Vern, a man who wishes Ernest would just go away and leave him alone. Jim, as well as the other show regulars, play several different characters.

Cast: Jim Varney (Ernest P. Worrel; Baby Ernest; Sergeant Glory; Dr. Otto; Auntie Nelda), Gailard Sartain (Lonnie Don; Chuck; Matt Finish), Bruce Arntson (Mike the Clown; Existo), Jackie Welch (Mrs. Simon Simmons; Daniel Butler; Willie the Robot; Earl the Barber).

3542 Hi Honey, I'm Home. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1991). In September 1952, Hi Honey, I'm Home premiered at 8:00 P.M. following Dragnet. It was a typical sitcom about the Niensens, a squeaky clean American family: parents Honey and Lloyd and their children, Babs and Chuckie. They lived in the town of Springfield. Honey was the problem-solving housewife, and Lloyd, “the idiot father”; he was a businessman, “but darned if I know what kind.” Babs was the high school beauty queen, and Chuckie, the youngest, a Boy Scout. Then it happened — their show was canceled; but it was picked up for syndication and ran for many more years in reruns. As the years passed, stations began to drop the series. When the last station on which the series was running decided to pull the plug, the S.R.P. (Sitcom Relocation Program) stepped in and relocated the black and white characters to 178 Morgan Road in New Jersey (all characters from canceled television shows are sent to different cities across the country. When their shows are picked up for another run, they return to TV land).

The Niensens live in a black and white world. The “Turnerizer” allows them to switch to color to live in the modern world, or to black and white to feel secure. They are also given a book, A Modern Life User's Manual, to help them adjust to life in 1991. The S.R.P. places them next door to the Duffs, a single mother (Elaine) and her two children (Mike and Sidney), who are the direct opposite of the Niensens.

Honey Nielsen looks like a Barbie doll. She is starched and ironed and cheerfully goes about her wifely household duties. Honey has a naturally sunny disposition; when something goes wrong she says, “Oh pooh.” She is the only one who can grasp the reality of life in the 1990s.

Lloyd Ralph Nielsen is impervious to what is going on. He is a wimp — but a hero in Honey's eyes. He first worked for Mr. Mooney (Gale Gordon) in an unnamed position; then as a salesman for the Bijou Furniture Company, as a broker for a savings and loan company, and finally as a golf ball salesman at Mr. G's World-O-Golf.

Barbara (“Babs”) is rather well developed and loves to wear tight, cleavage-revealing sweaters. Elaine has a tendency to call her “Boobs” (the 1950s Babs doesn't realize what Elaine means and just smiles). Babs says, “I'm not only beautiful on the outside, I'm beautiful on the inside too.” She is the most popular girl in high school (not named) and dates only the most handsome boys.

Charles (“Chuckie”) Nielsen is a Boy Scout (Nest 14). In many sitcoms of the 1950s and 1960s, parents were given kids — even if they didn't know what to do with them. If Chuckie, who has virtually no scenes, is not needed, he is simply ignored (as is Sidney Duff).

Elaine Duff is a hard working single mother struggling to raise two kids. While she never mentioned a job, she was seen wearing a phone company tool belt, and she seems to be either a line “man” or an in-home installer. Elaine attends night classes three times a week and is involved in various projects to save the planet. When Elaine needs to make dinner in a hurry, she uses the “Elaine Duff Emergency Dinner Kit — Instant Everything.”

Elaine can't believe a woman like Honey exists and is determined to make a 1990s woman out of her. Elaine mentioned that her husband, Ted, deserted her and the family.

Mike Duffy is Elaine's oldest son. He uses TV to escape from reality and Hi Honey, I'm Home is his favorite daily TV show (when it was replaced by Joanie Loves Chachi, the Nielsen family appeared next door). The show made Mike laugh and feel happy. When he visits his new neighbors, he realizes they are the TV Niensens, and he agrees to help them keep their secret (if the truth were known about the Niensens, they would never get picked up for reruns again and would have to remain in the real world forever).

Sidney Duff is Elaine's youngest son. He is a punk dresser and goes by the name of “Skunk.” Mike refers to him as “the crime of the neighborhood”; he calls Mike “Coma Boy.” Theme: “Hi Honey, I'm Home” by Rupert Holmes.

3543 Hi Mom. (Series; Information; NBC; 1957–1959). The program, hosted by ventriloquist Shari Lewis (and her hand puppets Lamb Chop, Hush Puppy and Charlie Horse) presents advice and information geared to young mothers.

Host: Shari Lewis. Assistant: Johnny Andrews. Regulars: Paul Ritts, Mary Ritts, Josephine McCarthy, Jane Paler.

3544 Hi Mom. (Unaired Pilot; Variety; Produced for NBC in 1960). A live closed-circuit audition program for a daily series (9–10 A.M.) of entertainment geared to young mothers and their children. The program contains chatter between the hosts, Paul and Mary Ritts; songs and drawings by Mary; an interview with a five-year-old girl (Terry Kenney) by Paul; and the antics of the Ritts Puppets: Magnolia the Ostrich (voiced by Mary) and Sir Geoffrey the Giraffe, Calvin the Crow and Albert the Squirrel (All voiced by Paul). There are no credits on the screen.

3545 Hickey vs. Anybody. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/19/76). If it sounds a bit fishy; if it's unethical; if there is a buck to be made — it's Julius V. Hickey, attorney-at-law who will take the case. He is assisted by Phyllis Avedon, a pretty law student who believes in helping people for the sake of helping, not for profit. In the pilot episode, Hickey sues the city on behalf of his client. Other Regulars: Netty, Hickey's secretary; and Willie, a colleague.

Cast: Jack Weston (Julius V. Hickey), Liberty Williams (Phyllis Avedon), Beverly Sanders (Netty), Malcolm Atterbury (Willie). Guest Cast: Jack Gilford (Dr. McCaffery), Alan Manson (Mr. Taggart), Jessamine Milner (Mrs. Neilson).

3546 Hidden Faces. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1968–1969). The dramatic story of Arthur Adams, a lawyer in a small Mid-western town.

Cast: Conrad Fowkes (Arthur Adams), Rita Gam (Mimi Jaffe), Gretchen Walther (Katherine Logan), Linda Blair (Allyn Jaffe), Ludi Claire (Grace Ensley), John Towey (Wilbur Ensley), Louise Shaffer (Martha Logan), Nat Polen (Earl Harriman), Tony Lo Bianco (Nick Turner), John Karlen (Sharkey Primrose), Conrad Fowkes (Arthur Adams), Betsy Durkin (Jeannet Sloan), Joseph Daly (Robert Jaffe), Ludi Claire. Also: Stephen Joyce, Mark Curran, Tony Lo Bianco, Roy Scheider.

3547 Hidden Hills. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2002–2003). Life in suburbia, particularly the community of Hidden Hills, California, is the premise for this series. It centers on two married couples — Doug and Janine Barber and their neighbors Zack and Sarah Timmerman, as they seek domestic bliss in an area where there are more hidden secrets and sexual goings on than in an inner city community.

Adding spice to Hidden Hills is Belinda Slypich, a sexy softball mother who has her own Internet website. Doug is the owner of a construction company called The Barber Building Company; Janine is a doctor; Sarah is a sports columnist. Emily and Derek are the Barber's children.

Cast: Justin Louis (Doug Barber), Paula Marshall (Dr. Janine Barber), Dondre T. Whitfield (Zack Timmerman), Tamara Taylor (Sarah Timmerman), Kristin Bauer (Belinda Slypich), Alexa Nikolas (Emily Barber), Sean Marquette (Derek Barber).

3548 Hidden Palms. (Series; Drama; CW; 2007). Johnny Miller appears to be a normal teenager. Everything also appears to be going well for him. Then, unexpectedly, his father (for unexplained reasons) commits suicide (gun to head) in front of him. The situation traumatizes Johnny in a way that he turns to drugs and alcohol. His grades go from A to F and he eventually drops out of his junior year in high school. The situation becomes so bad that his mother sends him to a rehab center.

One year later (when the series actually begins), Johnny and his mother, Karen (and her new husband, Bob Hardy) move from Seattle, Washington, to Palm Springs, California, where Karen, and especially Johnny, hope to put the past behind them.

Johnny is interested in photography and appears to have recovered from the ordeal of the past year (he has also been enrolled in school and is repeating his junior year). Serial-like stories follow Johnny's efforts to start a new life with new friends as he faces all the problems that teenagers face in any city or town.

Cast: Taylor Handley (Johnny Miller), Gail O'Grady (Karen Hardy), D.W. Moffett (Bob Hardy), Amber Heard (Greta), Michael Cassidy (Cliff Wiatt), Ellary Portefield (Liza Witter), Tessa Thompson (Nikki), Sharon Lawrence (Tess Wiatt), Kyle Secor (Alan "Skip" Matthews), J.P. Cacia (Travis Dean), Valerie Cruz (Nina Carter), Leslie Jordan (Jesse Jo).

3549 The Hidden Room. (Series; Anthology; Lifetime; 1991). Dramas that focus primarily on women and the problems they face when unexpected (and often unnatural) incidents occur (for example, a woman who sees the life she could have had if she chose a different path; a woman seeing her romance novel hero come to life; a woman seeing the baby she never had).

Host: Mimi Kuzak.

3550 Hidden Treasure. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1957). Two contestants compete. Clues to a hidden merchandise prize are presented in the form of musical questions that contain similar words. The players have determine which is the correct usage of the word (for example, "padded" or "added"; "sitter" or "setter"). Each correct response reveals a clue and the first player to piece together the clues and identify the hidden treasure receives it as his prize.

Host: Robert Q. Lewis. Vocalists: Russell Arms, Judy Johnson, Richard Hayes, Eve DeLuca. Trumpet Soloist: Bobby Hackett.

3551 Hide and Seek. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/5/63). The pilot film for Glynis about Glynis

Granville, a scatterbrained wife who, with her inflexible sense of logic, helps her attorney husband, John, solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Glynis attempts to solve the murder of a man found slain in a locked hotel room.

In the series Glynis became an intelligent mystery writer who solved crimes to acquire story material. Her husband's name was changed to Keith Granville.

Cast: Glynis Johns (Glynis Granville), Keith Andes (John Granville). Guest Cast: Michael Constantine (Police detective), Mary Gregory (Mrs. Gombert), Phyllis Love (Mrs. Green).

3552 High. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced for CBS in 1990). Life at Ray Kroc High, a suburban middle-class school where social classes, ethnic groups and generations collide in the pursuit of education.

Cast: Craig Ferguson (Declan Connelly), Zach Braff (Brad Bryant), Rodney Eastman (Palmer Bryant).

3553 High Adventure with Lowell Thomas. (Series; Travel; CBS; Syn.; 1957–1960). Films that depict the people and customs of lands untouched by modern civilization. The series ran on CBS from November 12, 1957 to May 28, 1958 (where 7 episodes aired); and in syndication in 1960 (where 11 additional episodes aired).

Host: Lowell Thomas.

3554 High and Wild. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1968). A weekly program that takes viewers on exciting adventures to share the hunting and fishing experiences of various outdoorsmen.

Host-Narrator: Don Hobart.

3555 The High Chaparral. (Series; Western; NBC; 1967–1971). Tucson, Arizona, during the 1870s is the setting. The saga of the Cannon family as they struggle to maintain and operate the High Chaparral Ranch in an era of violence and lawlessness.

John Cannon is the ranch owner; he is married to Victoria de Montoya. Buck Cannon is John's brother and Billy Blue Cannon is John's son from a prior marriage.

Don Sebastian de Montoya is Victoria's father, the owner of the Montoya Ranch. Manolito de Montoya is Sebastian's son. Anna Lee is John's first wife (flashbacks); Sam Butler is the Chaparral Ranch foreman; Ira is the wrangler; and ranch hands are Ted, Pedro, Wind, Joe and Vaquero.

Cast: Leif Erickson (John Cannon), Cameron Mitchell (Buck Cannon), Linda Cristal (Victoria de Montoya Cannon), Mark Slade (Billy Blue Cannon), Frank Silvera (Don Sebastian de Montoya), Henry Darrow (Manolito de Montoya), Don Collier (Sam Butler), Jerry Summers (Ira), Joan Caulfield (Anna Lee Cannon), James Almonza (Soldado), Ted Mark-land (Ted Reno), Roberto Contreras (Pedro), Rudy Ramos (Wind), Bob Hoy (Joe), Rodolfo Acosta (Vaquero).

3556 High Feather. (Series; Comedy; PBS; 1980). Comic incidents that spark the lives of a group of children who are spending the warm weather months at the High Feather Summer Camp.

Cast: Jacqueline Allen (Leslie), Brian Goldberg (Stan), Virgil Hayes (Leo), Richard Levey (Tom), Cindy O'Neill (Suzanne), Emily Wagner (Cathy), Taisha Washington (Ann Campbell), Tino Zaldívar (Domingo), Robert Y.R. Chung (Kim), Barbara Brown (Mrs. Riggs; counselor), Ernesto Gonzalez (Chef), Mrs. Rodriguez (Nurse).

3557 High Finance. (Series; Game; CBS; 1956). Contestants, selected from various cities across the country, are quizzed on news items that appear in their local papers. Question-and-answer rounds, consisting of three levels, are played one per week. The winner of the first round, the highest cash scorer, receives the choice of either keeping his earnings or returning to increase his money by tackling level two. If the player decides to continue and attempt the third level, he can win his secret desire (up to $35,000) but he stands to lose everything he has won up to this point if he fails.

Host: Dennis James. Announcer: Jay Sims, Jack Gregson.

3558 High Five. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/22/82). KBHX, Channel 55, is an all-black television station located in the Watts section of Los Angeles. Because of its high ranking on the UHF dial, it has been nicknamed the "High Five." The unsold series was to relate the antics of its staff as they try to run the station. In the pilot episode, Al Cook, the station manager, schemes for a way to sign up a big advertising client.

Other Regulars: Wilson Porter and Velma Williams, the news co-anchors; Stacey, the receptionist; Calvin, the station owner; and Jamal, an employee.

Cast: Harrison Page (Al Cook), Franklyn Seales (Wilson Porter), Clarice Taylor (Velma Williams), Cindy Herron (Stacey), Ted Ross (Calvin T. Washburn), Clinton Derricks Carroll (Jamal), Roscoe Lee Browne (Truman Murdock; guest role).

3559 High Hopes. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1978). The dramatic story of Dr. Neal Chapman, counselor in the fictional town of Cambridge, Canada. Sixty-five episodes aired.

Cast: Bruce Gray (Dr. Neal Chapman), Marianne McIsaac (Jessie Chapman), Nuala Fitzgerald (Paula Myles), Barbara Kyle (Trudy Bowen), Colin Fox (Walter Telford), Doris Petrie (Meg Chapman), Gena Dick (Amy Sperry), Jayne Eastwood (Louise Bates), Michael Tait (Michael Stewart, Sr.), Gordon Thompson (Michael Stewart, Jr.), Gerry Salsberg (Georgia Morgan), Dorothy Malone (Carol Tauss), Nehemiah Persoff (Victor Tauss), Jan Muszynski (Dr. Dan Gerard).

3560 High Incident. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1996–1997). A true-to-life depiction of police work in action as seen through the assignments of Jim Marsh, a sergeant with the El Camino Police Department, as he and his fellow officers risk their lives battling street crime.

Cast: David Keith (Sgt. Jim Marsh), Catherine Kellner (Off. Gayle Van Camp), Blair Underwood (Off. Michael Rhoades), Matt Beck (Officer Terry Hagar), Aunjanue Ellis (Off. Leslie Joyner), Cole Hauser (Off. Randy Willitiz), Matt Craven (Off. Len Gaye), Lisa Vidal (Off. Jessica Helgado), Lindsay Frost (Sgt. Helen Sullivan), Wendy Davis (Off. Lynette White), Julio Oscar Mechoso (Off. Richie Fernandez), Louis Mustillo (Off. Russell Topps).

3561 The High Life. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/3/90). Teresa “Tracy” Peters is a beautiful Manhattan fashion model whose life suddenly changes when she is made guardian of Paul, Frank and Dion, her three orphaned nephews when their parents are killed in a car accident. The unsold series was to relate Tracy’s efforts to change her lifestyle and care for three mischievous orphans. The pilot episode establishes the series storyline. Other Regulars: J. Mason Lowell, Tracy’s friend, a lawyer.

Cast: Tracy Scoggins (Tracy Peters), Raye Birk (J. Mason Lowell), Danny Nucci (Paul Minetti), Michael Miceli (Frank Minetti), Matthew Lawrence (Dion Minetti). Note: On press releases, Tracy Scoggins is called Francesca Peters.

3562 High Low Quiz. (Series; Game; NBC; 1957). The object calls for a contestant to challenge a panel of three experts by offering to answer one or more parts of questions containing several segments. A player has to match the panelist claiming to have the most answers (High) or the one with the fewest (Low). If the player matches the High expert, he receives $1500; if he matches the Low expert he wins $1000. Failure to match either High or Low results in the loss of everything and a new challenger is introduced.

Host: Jack Barry. Panelists: Burl Ives, Walter Slezak, Patricia Medina.

3563 High Mountain Rangers. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1988). High Mountain Rangers is a rescue organization based in the Sierra Nevada Mountains near Lake Tahoe. It was founded by Jesse Hawkes (as an attempt to rescue people who become trapped in perilous situations while in the region). His sons, Matt and Cody Hawkes, assist him.

“Frostbite” is headquarters code for the rangers; Yamaha snowmobiles are used. Jesse’s sled is Top

Gun; Cody’s is White Eagle; Ranger T.J. Cousins rides a sled called Black Magic; and Snow Babe is the sled of Ranger Robin Carstairs. Jesse has a dog named Ding, and a girl named Jackie appears to be Jesse’s romantic interest (it is not made clear whether Jesse is a widower or divorced). Lee Greenwood performed the “High Mountain Rangers” theme.

Cast: Robert Conrad (Jesse Hawkes), Christian Conrad (Matt Hawkes), Shane Conrad (Cody Hawkes), Toni Towles (T.J. Cousins), P.A. Christian (Robin Carstairs), Robyn Peterson (Jackie).

3564 High Performance. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1983). High Performance is an elite protection agency that undertakes hazardous assignments for $5,000 a day plus expenses. Kate Flannery, a martial-arts expert; Blue Stratton, an ex-military intelligence officer; and Shane Adams, a former stunt car driver, are its three top operatives.

Kate is a beautiful woman who does not let her looks interfere with her job (she is reluctant to use sex appeal to accomplish a mission; guns and violence are more her style). Blue is the group leader and uses strategy he acquired from his years in the service as a guide to how missions should be conducted. Shane is the reckless one. He plunges head first into situations, feeling his back is being covered by Kate and Blue.

Other Regulars: Brennan, Kate’s father, the head of High Performance; and Fletch, Brennan’s mechanical design genius.

Cast: Lisa Hartman (Kate Flannery), Jack Scalia (Blue Stratton), Rick Edwards (Shane Adams), Mitchell Ryan (Brennan Flannery), Jason Bernard (O.T. “Fletch” Fletcher).

3565 High Risk. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 5/15/76). Sebastian, Sandra, Guthrie, Daisy, Walter T. and Eric are ex-circus performers who use their expert skills as thieves to help the U.S. government solve complex cases. The pilot episode depicts their attempts to steal a national treasure, the Mask of the Sun, to win the freedom of four American medical missionaries being held in a Latin American country.

Cast: Victor Buono (Sebastian), JoAnna Cameron (Sandra), Joseph Sirola (Guthrie), Ronne Troup (Daisy), Don Stroud (Walter T.), Wolf Roth (Eric). Guest Cast: Rene Enriquez (Ambassador Henriques), John Fink (Quincey), George Skaff (Aide), William Beckley (Butler).

3566 High Road. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1959). Films that explore the people and customs of distant lands. Also known as John Gunther’s High Road.

Host-Narrator: John Gunther.

3567 High Road to Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1964). The people and customs of various countries around the world are explored in documentary-style film presentations.

Host-Narrator: Bill Burrud, Bob Stevenson.

3568 High Rollers. (Series; Game; NBC; Syn; 1974–1980). Two players compete. A general knowledge question is read. The first player to correctly answer it receives the option of either keeping or passing the roll of two large dice. When the dice are rolled, players have to match the numbers that appear by selecting numbers from a large board. Each number contains a concealed prize and, once selected, that number becomes inactive for the round. The game continues in this manner until one player is disqualified by rolling a number that cannot be duplicated on the board. The winner receives the prizes he has accumulated on his side of the board.

The series aired on NBC from July 1, 1974 to June 11, 1976 (465 episodes were produced). In September of 1975 to September of 1976, 200 episodes were produced for syndication. The series returned to NBC (April 22, 1978 to June 10, 1980) where 502 additional episodes were produced; in total, 1167 episodes aired.

Cast: Alex Trebek (Host). Dice Rollers: Ruta Lee, Elaine Stewart. Substitute Dice Rollers: Linda Kaye Henning, Suzanne Somers, Dawn Wells, Nanette Fabray, Leslie Uggams. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

3569 High Rollers. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1987). A question is read to two competing players. The first player to correctly answer receives the chance to roll two large dice. When the dice are rolled, the player uses the numbers that appear to deduct that number from a large board of nine numbers. Each of the three columns of numbers (which appear in a tic tac toe like board) contains a prize. Players try to eliminate the numbers in the columns to win their prizes. If, however, a player rolls an inactive number, he is defeated (for example, if a player rolls a six and six has already been eliminated, he loses his turn and a new question is read). The first player to win two games is the winner and receives what prizes he has uncovered.

Host: Wink Martindale. Announcer: Dean Goss.

3570 High School Reunion. (Series; Reality; WB; 2003–2005). Graduates from various high schools are reunited ten years later to share experiences about their lives. Since scandal is needed for a reality show to work, the fourteen chosen subjects range from the class player to the class bitch to the class nerd.

Have they changed? How do they interact with each other now when they are all placed in a house together? The good, the bad and the ugly of the situation is highlighted as High School Reunion sets out to show how each has progressed and what each seeks to gain.

First season episodes (Cycle 1) focus on the graduates of Oak Park Forest High School (class of 1992); Cycle 2 reunites the class of 1993 from Round Rock

High School; students from Cardinal Gibbons High School, class of 1994, are reunited in Cycle 3.

Host: Mike Richards, Ananda Lewis.

3571 High School, U.S.A. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/16/83). The first of two pilot films (see next title) for a potential series about the antics of the faculty and students of the mythical Excelsior Union High School in Indiana.

Cast (Faculty): Dwayne Hickman (Mr. Plaza), Angela Cartwright (Miss D'Angelo), Tony Dow (Pete Kinney), Steve Franken (Dr. Fritz Hauptman), Dawn Wells (Miss Lori Lee), David Nelson (Mr. Krinsky), Barry Livingston (Mr. Sirota). Cast (Students): Nancy McKeon (Beth Franklin), Dana Plato (Cara Ames), Cathy Silvers (Peggy), Lauri Hendler (Nadene), Michael J. Fox (Jay Jay Manners), Anthony Edwards (Beau Middleton), Crystal Bernard (Ann Marie Conklin), Todd Bridges (Otto Lipton). Guest Cast: Bob Denver (Milton Feld), Elinor Donahue (Janet Franklin), Ken Osmond (Baxter Franklin), Kelly Ann Conn (Swoosie).

3572 High School, U.S.A. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/26/84). The second of two pilots (see prior title) for an unsold series about the students and faculty of the mythical Excelsior Union High School in Indiana. The pilot episode relates the auto shop's efforts (the "Square Pegs") to beat the preppies in a float contest.

Cast (Faculty): Rick Nelson (Principal Pete Kinney), Henry Gibson (Vice Principal Roman Ing), Harriet Nelson (Mrs. Crosley), Melody Anderson (Cindy Franklin), Jerry Mathers (Mr. Sirota), Ken Osmond (Biology Teacher), Burt Ward (Teacher), Paul Petersen (Coach), Dick York (Superintendent McCarthy). Cast (Students): JoAnn Willett (Nadene), Anne-Marie Johnson (Beth Franklin), Crystal Bernard (Anne-Marie Conklin), Michael Zorek (Chuckie). Guest Cast: Julie Newmar (Stripper), Tegan West (Peggy), Barbara Billingsley (Mrs. McCarthy).

3573 High Sierra Search and Rescue. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1995). The Bear Valley Search and Rescue Team is a volunteer mountain rescue team living in the town of Bear Valley in California's Sierra Nevada Mountains. Episodes, based on true life incidents, follow the team as they risk their lives to save people trapped in perilous situations.

The Team: Griffin "Tooter" Campbell, a helicopter pilot for hire (he gets his nickname from playing the bagpipes); Morgan Duffy, owner of the Bear Valley General Store; Kaja Wilson, her clerk; Lisa Peterson, a service station owner; Enrique Cruz, the town's only school teacher; Ty Cooper, a deputy sheriff; and Flynn Norstedt, a ski instructor. Based on the TV movie Search and Rescue (NBC, 3/27/94).

Cast: Robert Conrad (Tooter Campbell), Dee Wallace Stone (Morgan Duffy), Brittney Powell (Kaja Wilson), Lavelda Fann (Lisa Peterson), Alistair MacDougall (Ty Cooper), Ramon Franco (Enrique Cruz), Jason Lewis (Flynn Norstedt).

3574 High Society. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1995–1996). Eleanor Walker, called Ellie, is a New York socialite who makes her living by writing trashy love stories. She lives in the lap of luxury at 511 Sutton Place in Manhattan. She is beautiful, sassy and has a bad habit of not only chasing men (and making sure the incidents get into the papers) but also drinking (which she does a bit much of). When Ellie dines out she refuses to sit at a corner table “because no one can see me.” Her closest companion appears to be her dog Goochie, who is always by her side.

Ellie was born Eleanor Antoinette Worshorsky in Pittsburgh. She was voted “best French kisser” in the fourth grade and feels that “honor” planted the seed for the books she would later become famous for (changing her last name didn’t hurt either, she says). Ellie mentioned writing the following books: Hermaphrodite Swedish Meat Boys, High Sierra Street-walker, Hung Jury, Pool Boys Plunge, Stiletto Summer, Submissive Samurai and The Naked and the Deadline.

Dorothy “Dot” Emerson owns Emerson Publishing, the company that produces Ellie’s books (it is actually a travel and leisure books company). Valerie “Val” Brumberg is Ellie’s “bland, uninteresting, non-wealthy friend.” She was born in New Jersey and worked previously as the hostess at Le Petit Burger (where she was fired for arguing with the chef over the size of a hamburger).

Stories follow the events that plague Ellie’s life (she wants a simple, uncomplicated life with nothing to do but relax and enjoy herself).

Cast: Jean Smart (Ellie Walker), Mary McDonnell (Dot Emerson), Faith Prince (Val Brumberg).

3575 High Tide. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1994–1997). Mick Barrett and his younger brother, Joey, run a surf shop on the boardwalk off the beach in Los Angeles. Mick is an ex cop; Joey is an ex surfer. The surf shop, however, doesn’t pay the bills. A man named Gordon is a former CIA agent with a mission to stop crime. He hires the brothers to be his legmen to investigate crimes and bring criminals to justice. Stories follow Mick and Joey as they plunge head first into dangerous situations to get the job done. Fritz, a gorgeous girl, assists Gordon and Anne runs the local gift shop.

Cast: Rick Springfield (Mick Barrett), Yannick Bisson (Joey Barrett), George Segal (Gordon), Julie Cialini (Annie), Cay Helmich (Fritz Boller; 1994), Diane Frank (Fritz Boller; 1994–1995).

3576 Highcliffe Manor. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1979). A four-episode gothic farce about the eccentric residents of the Blacke Foundation, a scientific institute located in Highcliffe Manor on a desolate island.

Helen Blacke is the foundation’s owner. She is assisted by Wendy Sparks, her secretary, and Rebecca, the housekeeper.

Frances Cascan is a scientist conducting secretive experiments (he is trying to create a bionic man he calls Bram Shelley). Dr. Felix Morger is the man seeking to seduce Helen while the Reverend Mr. Ian Glenville is seeking to expose the hidden secrets of the foundation.

Smythe assists Ian (his valet); Francis is assisted by Cheng; and Doctors Sanchez and Knootz appear to be conducting sinister experiments. Frank DeVol composed the theme.

Cast: Shelley Fabares (Helen Blacke), Eugenie Ross-Leming (Frances Cascan), Audrey Landers (Wendy Sparks), Jenny O’Hara (Rebecca), Christian Marlowe (Bram Shelley), Gerald Gordon (Dr. Felix Morger), Stephen McHattie (Ian Glenville), Ernie Hudson (Smythe), Harold Sakata (Cheng), Luis Avalos (Dr. Sanchez), Marty Zagon (Dr. Knootz). Narrator: Peter Lawford.

3577 Higher and Higher, Attorneys at Law. (Pilot; Mystery; CBS; 9/9/68). A proposed series about Liz and John Higher, a husband-and-wife law team. In the pilot episode, Liz and John’s defense of an accused murderer involves them with a haunted house, ghosts and numerous suspects.

Cast: Sally Kellerman (Liz Higher), John McMartin (John Higher). Guest Cast: Dustin Hoffman (Arthur Greene), Robert Forster (Doug Payson), Alan Alda (Frank St. John), Ruth White (Ellen St. John), Barry Morse (Colin St. John), Marie Masters (Paula), George Wallace (Charlie Alda), Billy Dee Williams (David Arnold), Gunilla Hutton (Astrid), Eugene Roche (McElheny).

3578 Higher Ground. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced for CBS in 1988). Jim Clayton is an FBI agent who has a dream of becoming a bush pilot in Alaska. One day, after 20 years on the job, Jim quits over a questionable assignment. Rick Loden, Jim’s ex-partner, urges him to come to Alaska and fulfill his dream by becoming a partner in his company, the Annakin Air Charter Service. Shortly after, Rick is killed in a drug related incident. Jim teams with Rick’s widow, Ginny, and her young son, Tommy, in an effort to keep the fledgling air service from bankruptcy. The unsold series was to relate their adventures.

Other Regulars: Linc Holmes, an Indian trapper who helps them; and Lieutenant Smight, a no-nonsense cop Jim aids from time to time.

Cast: John Denver (Jim Clayton), Meg Wittner (Ginny Loden), Brandon Marsh (Tommy Loden), John Rhys-Davies (Lieutenant Smight), David Renan (Linc Holmes).

3579 Highlander. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1992–1998). Duncan MacLeod and Tessa Noel are co-owners of an antique store in an unspecified city (the store is referred to as The Antique Shop and only the words “Antiques” and “Appraisals” are seen on the window). Tessa and Duncan are lovers and Tessa is one of the two people who know Duncan’s secret: he is an Immortal.

Although he looks to be 35, Duncan was born in the Scottish Highlands 400 years ago. He knows only that he was brought to his father as an infant by a midwife when the baby that was born to his mother died at birth. It was not until Duncan was a young man that he learned he was an Immortal.

During a battle with a rival clan Duncan was mortally wounded. Duncan’s father praised him as a brave warrior; but when Duncan’s wounds healed and he returned to life, his father condemned him, saying he was in league with the devil. Although cast out by his parents, Duncan kept the only name he knew. Now, as a representative of the Clan MacLeod, Duncan is seeking to become the last Immortal and acquire the power of all Immortals to rule the world for good. Legend states that all knowledge is contained by the Immortals. When one Immortal encounters another, the Gathering is held. This is followed by the Quickening (combat by sword) to acquire additional strength. An Immortal can only be killed by beheading. When this happens, the surviving Immortal acquires the other’s knowledge and strength. If a virtuous Immortal delivers the final blow, goodness triumphs; if the last surviving Immortal is evil, darkness will reign forever. “In the end there can be only one.”

As Duncan seeks to fulfill his destiny, he helps people who have become victims of crime and dispenses justice with his ornamental Japanese sword (he also seeks to prevent evil Immortals from harming people and has become a vigilante of sorts).

Duncan and Tessa live in a loft over the antique store. Before her career as a sculptress proved financially sound, Tessa worked as a tour guide on a sight-seeing boat. It is here that she met Duncan when he boarded at the last moment. Duncan’s assistant, Richie Ryan is a young hoodlum Duncan reformed and the only other person who knows Duncan’s secret.

In the episode of 10/23/93, “The Darkness,” Tessa and Richie become involved in a struggle with car thieves and are shot; Tessa is killed and Richie seriously wounded. Richie miraculously recovers and learns from Duncan that he is an Immortal. Richie, however, has no recollection of his past. The following episode, “An Eye for an Eye,” finds Duncan selling what is now called The Art Gallery and purchasing controlling interest in DeSalvo’s, a gym run by Charlie DeSalvo. Duncan remains basically behind the scenes; Charlie and Richie conduct the daily operations.

The following episode, “The Watcher,” introduces an additional regular — Joe Dawson, the owner of Joe’s Bookstore at 27 North Jay Street. Joe is a member of the Watchers, a secret society of mortals who observe and record the deeds of Immortals. Joe also helps Duncan in his quest (which has been changed somewhat to destroy the evil Immortals).

First season episodes also feature Randi McFarland, a television reporter for KLCA, Channel 8 News, who covers the incidents that just happen to involve Duncan. Tessa dislikes Randi because she feels Randi is only interested in air time and does not care about the victims of the crime.

Amanda is a beautiful Immortal who is not only Duncan’s romantic interest (after Tessa) but a cunning thief who is drawn to the good things in life (see Highlander: The Raven for additional information). Queen performs the theme, “I Am Immortal.” The series is based on the 1985 feature film of the same title.

Cast: Adrian Paul (Duncan MacLeod), Alexandra Vandernoot (Tessa Noel), Stan Kirsch (Richie Ryan), Philip Akin (Charles DeSalvo), Jim Byrnes (Joe Dawson), Amanda Wyss (Randi McFarland), Elizabeth Gracen (Amanda).

3580 Highlander: The Animated Series. (Series; Cartoon; USA; 1994). An animated series based on the live action theatrical film (and television series) Highlander. In a futuristic time a great catastrophe has befallen the Earth. A meteorite has destroyed virtually everything mankind has built. An evil Immortal named Kortan has risen from the ashes to rule from the fortress city of Mogonda.

Immortals are a race of beings that have been battling each other for centuries to become the last remaining Immortal to gain enormous power. But now the knowledge lost to humanity must be saved. The Immortals put their differences aside and join together to pass on knowledge. The Immortals are awaiting the arrival of Quentin MacLeod, the last member of the Clan MacLeod, who has been proclaimed the one to battle Kortan and set the human race free of his rule. The wait has been long. After 700 years Quentin arrives and meets with Ramirez, the oldest and wisest of the Immortals. It is Ramirez’s job to train and guide Quentin for the ultimate confrontation. Stories follow Quentin as he defends survivors of the Great Catastrophe from Kortan. The series is actually a new slant on the Immortals history and changes many of the established formulas seen in the movie and on the TV series.

Ramirez was killed in the 1991 film but brought back to life here. Immortals originally killed each other (by beheading — the only way to kill an Immortal) to gain his or her power; here the battles (called Quickening) pass knowledge, not power among the Immortals. Also, Quentin can receive knowledge (not power) from any Immortal that is willing to give up his immortality. See also Highlander: The Raven.

Voice Cast: Miklos Perlus (Quentin MacLeod), Lawrence Bayne (Kortan), Ben Campbell (Ramirez), Stuart Stone, Tracey Moore.

3581 Highlander: The Raven. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1998–1999). A spin-off from Highlander. Her name is Amanda. And like Duncan MacLeod, she is an Immortal. To survive in her present stage of life, Amanda has become a “Princess of Thieves,” striking at night and stealing only from the rich and famous. She never kills “I only steal.” In the pilot episode, Amanda had the last name of Montrose.

Nick Wolfe is a detective with the South Police Precinct, 52nd Division, in an unidentified city. He is a dedicated, skilled investigator who believes in what he is doing.

While investigating a series of robberies, Nick crosses paths with Amanda and is about to arrest her when he discovers that she has been framed (for this particular series of robberies) by a crooked cop. In an ensuing confrontation, Nick’s partner is killed protecting Amanda.

Amanda cannot forget what Nick’s partner did for her. She suddenly develops something she has never known before — a sense of responsibility. Nick, on the other hand, brought down a crooked cop, something he thought was good for the department, until he finds his superiors unwilling to admit that one of their own was a killer.

Now, feeling betrayed, he begins to question his definition of right. When he is offered a promotion to lieutenant to forget about the incident, he quits.

Nick, however, cannot abandon his right “to protect and serve.” While working outside the law to solve crimes and defend people, Nick finds unexpected help from Amanda, her way of trying to pay back Nick for what he has done for her.

Rather than work as separate entities, they join forces to return light to the world by waging a private war against evil and injustice.

Amanda cannot die, except by beheading (which is her ultimate death. Other methods can kill her, but she will be reborn again).

Like Duncan MacLeod, Amanda fights injustice with a Samurai sword. Amanda, said to be 1200 years old in dialogue (but 1000 years old in the theme), has lived for centuries as a roguish beauty who is attracted to the good things in life. She is never malicious and not without scruples. Some episodes are set in Europe and find Amanda and Nick becoming detectives to return stolen art objects for a percentage of their value.

Joe Dawson (Jim Byrnes), the Watcher from the prior series, appears only once in the third episode.

Like Duncan, Amanda’s history is a mystery; there is no explanation given as to who she really is or where she actually came from. Amanda says only that she belongs to a privileged class called the Immortals. She has lived and died many times and recalled her first birth as a young peasant girl in Normandy in A.D. 850. This life was cut short when she was killed for stealing a loaf of bread. She was reborn that same day, but was unaware of her destiny. She was found and taken in by a mysterious woman named Rebecca Horne. It was Rebecca, who is assumed to be a good Immortal, who cared for Amanda until she became a young woman. At this time, Amanda was taught the martial arts and the art of swordplay. She was also told that she was an Immortal and that to survive, she must defeat the evil Immortals who seek to plunge the world into darkness (when a good Immortal meets her evil counterpart, the Quickening is held — a fight to the death by sword. The Immortal who is victorious acquires the strength and powers of the defeated Immortal).

Amanda has been a duchess, a slave and a woman of nobility (what she has mentioned). If Amanda cuts herself, the wound heals immediately. She fears that modern technology could expose the secret of her eternal life if a sample of her blood made its way to a laboratory. Simone Cloquet composed the theme.

Cast: Elizabeth Gracen (Amanda), Paul Johansson (Nick Wolfe).

3582 Highway Honeys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 1/3/83). Carol Lee and Datona Shepherd are a sister-and-brother team of clean-living tow truckers whose father, Cannonball Shepherd, runs the Good Shepherds Towing Service in Sierra Madre, Texas. The unsold series was to relate their adventures as they attempt to run an honest business. In the pilot episode, Carol Lee and Datona try to help an old friend keep his junkyard which is being sought by the corrupt sheriff, who believes the land is over a potential oil well. Originally titled Towheads (the nickname for tow truckers).

Other Regulars: Sheriff Wilbur T. Mossburgh; Draggin’ Lady, a trucker for the corrupt Apocalypse Towing Service; Wolfe Crawley, the owner of Apocalypse; Conchita Valdez, Wilbur’s deputy; and Amigo, Tattoo and Pig Long, Wolfe’s other truckers.

Cast: Mary Davis Duncan (Carol Lee Shepherd), Will Bledsoe (Datona Shepherd), Don Collier (Cannonball Shepherd), Glen Ash (Wilbur T. Mossburgh), Kirstie Alley (Draggin’ Lady), Matt Clark (Wolfe Crawley), Tina Gail Hernandez (Conchita Valdez), Miguel Rodriguez (Amigo), Keenan Ivory Wayans (Tattoo Calhoun), Michael Weston Crabtree (Pig Long). Guest Cast: Jerry Briggs (Junker), Carla Palmer (Leora Perlmutter), Rod Amateau (Sweeper operator), Jessie Lee Fulton (Old lady), Joe Berryman (Oil man), Harlan Jordan (FBI agent).

3583 Highway Patrol. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1956). “Whenever the laws of any state are broken, a duly authorized organization swings into action. It may be called the State Police, State Troopers, Militia, the Rangers or the Highway Patrol. These are the stories of the men whose training, skill and courage have enforced and preserved our state laws.” Dramatizations based on the experiences of Highway Patrol officers in all 48 states (at the time of filming). Dan Matthews, a Highway Patrol Chief, is representative of such officers who serve to patrol and protect as members of the Highway Patrol.

Cast: Broderick Crawford (Dan Matthews), William Boyett (Sergeant Williams). Narrator: Art Gilmore. Theme Song: “Highway Patrol” by Richard Llewellyn.

3584 Highway to Heaven. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1984–1989). Arthur Morton was born in 1917 and worked as an honest lawyer all his life. He died in 1948. He was married to Jane (Dorothy McGuire) and was the father of a daughter named Mandy (Joan Welles). Sometime after his death, Arthur became an apprentice angel and was given an assignment in order to gain his wings: to help people on earth. He was given the new name of Jonathan Smith and worked alone until he met Mark Gordon, a cynical ex-cop. When Jonathan restored Mark’s faith in his fellow man and revealed himself to be an angel, Mark asked to let him help. Mark attended Lathrop High School and had the nickname of “Stick.” He was with the Oakland Police Department for 15 years. Mark wears a California A’s baseball cap and drives a Ford sedan. Jonathan calls God “The Boss” (Mark blames “The Boss” for all the little misadventures he encounters).

Stories follow Jonathan and Mark as they help deserving people in need of spiritual guidance. Bob Hope made a rare dramatic appearance as Symcopop, the Assignment Angel. David Rose composed the theme, “Highway to Heaven.”

Cast: Michael Landon (Jonathan Smith), Victor French (Mark Gordon), John McLiam (Carl Fred Sims; Mark’s grandfather), Sean de Veritch (Mark as a child; flashbacks).

3585 The Highwayman. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 8/17/58). England in 1750 is the setting for an unsold series about James McDonald, an apparent fop who is actually a highwayman (thief). In the pilot episode, McDonald comes to the aid of a young chimney sweep who is accused of stealing an emerald ring. Produced in England and broadcast on Decision as “The Chimney Sweep.” (The Highwayman was the proposed series title.)

Cast: Louis Hayward (James McDonald). Guest Cast: Richard O’Sullivan (Luke), Adrienne Corri (Lady Sylvia), Sam Kydd (Jerry Bridger).

3586 The Highwayman. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1988). In an effort to battle crime and corruption in areas where laws often terminate (at county lines on long stretches of highway), the Justice Department institutes a test program called the Stealth Project and creates a new breed of lawmen called Highwaymen who work in secret.

Our mysterious Highwayman is known only as “Highway” or “Highwayman.” He uses a high tech 12-ton black Mack truck and an awesome handgun (capable of firing grenades like bullets) to battle crime in those legal blackouts. His field code is “Highway One”; “Master Key” is the code for his base of operations.

The cab, which has “The Highwayman” printed on the doors, is actually the cockpit of a helicopter which can operate independently of the truck. The truck can also become invisible when full Stealth Power is ordered. Although the opening theme narration tells us that “Highwaymen work in secret and alone,” Jetto, an Australian-bred Highwayman, assists our hero.

A girl known only as Dawn was Highway’s original contact (she was a government agent who posed as a disc jockey; she hosted “The Dawn Patrol” on an unnamed 50,000 watt clear channel station, “The Mighty 690 from New Orleans”). She was replaced by Tanya Winthrop, an agent who met with Highway in the field (as opposed to over the airwaves). Highway’s superior is Admiral Conte, who supervises operations for the Control Center as Master Key. Highway has no other name. If someone asks “Who are you?” he responds with “Someone who may be able to help.” We are told the Highwayman is a legend: “They say his mother was born of fire and his father was born of wind. You hear a lot of legends told when you ride the long hard slab. Some who say the man is good and some who say he is bad; but all agree who try to play a cheatin’ hand, you only get one chance to draw against the Highwayman.” William Conrad narrates; Glen A. Larson and Stu Phillips composed the theme.

Cast: Sam J. Jones (Highwayman), Claudia Christian (Dawn), Jane Badler (Tanya Winthrop), Jack Ging (Admiral Conte), Jacko (Jetto).

3587 The Hilarious House of Frightenstein. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1975). The castle of Frightenstein in Transylvania is the setting. Here comedy sketches, songs, blackouts and music are presented that revolve around Count Frightenstein, his servant Igor, and their attempts to bring to life Bruce, an “out of order” Frankenstein-style monster.

Cast: Vincent Price (Host), Billy Van (Count Frightenstein), Rais Fishka (Igor). Regulars: Prof. Julius Sumner Miller, Joe Torby, Guy Big.

3588 Hill Street Blues. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1981–1987). A realistic, gritty crime drama that looks at the everyday lives of the men and women attached to an inner city police precinct. The series, created by Steven Bochco and Michael Kozoll, was actually the first series since ABC's Naked City in 1958 to go beyond crime solving and realistically focus on the personal and professional problems law enforcers face in their everyday lives. See also Beverly Hills Buntz, the spin-off series.

Cast: Daniel J. Travanti (Capt. Frank Furillo), Barbara Bosson (Fay Furillo), Charles Haid (Officer Andy Renko), Veronica Hamel (Joyce Davenport), Michael Conrad (Sgt. Phil Esterhaus), James B. Sikking (Lt. Howard Hunter), Betty Thomas (Sgt. Lucy Bates), Michael Warren (Officer Bobby Hill), Bruce Weitz (Sgt. Mick Belker), Barbara Babcock (Grace Gardner), Gerry Black (Det. Alf Chesley), Taurian Blacque (Det. Neal Washington), Robert Clohessy (Officer Patrick Flaherty), Lindsay Crouse (Kate McBride), Pat Corley (Coroner Wally Nydorf), Kiel Martin (Officer J.D. LaRue), Lynne Moody (Martha Nichols), Ken Olin (Sgt. Stan Jablonski), Megan Gallagher (Officer Tina Russo), Dennis Franz (Det. Sal Benedetto), Dennis Franz (Lt. Norman Buntz), Jon Cypher (Chief Fletcher Daniels), Rene Enriquez (Lt. Ray Calletano), Robert Hirschfeld (Officer Leo Schnitz), Peter Jurasik (Sid, the snitch), Vincent Lucchesi (Capt. Jerry Fuchs), Ed Marinaro (Officer Joe Coffey), Ken Olin (Det. Harry Garibaldi), Robert Prosky (Sgt. Stan Kablonski), Trinidad Silva (Jesus Martinez), Joe Spano (Det. Henry Goldblume), Lisa Sutton (Officer Robin Tataglia), Jeffrey Tambor (Judge Alan Wachtel). Theme Song: "Hill Street Blues" by Mike Post.

3589 The Hillbillies of Beverly Hills. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1962). The original pilot film for The Beverly Hillbillies. The pilot establishes how poor mountaineer Jed Clampett, his daughter, Elly Mae, mother-in-law Granny Moses, and his nephew, Jethro Bodine, become wealthy and move to a plush mansion in Beverly Hills, California.

In the series, Jed was hunting for food, missed his target and the bullet struck the ground. Oil spouted from the hole made by the bullet and soon Jed had something he never heard of "millions" of dollars when the O.K. Oil Company purchased the oil rights. In this pilot, Jed already knew about the oil (the hunting aspect was not used) and just thought of it as a headache. When a geologist discovered the oil in Jed's swamp, the O.K. Oil Company purchased the rights. Milburn Drysdale of the Bank of Beverly Hills (the Commerce Bank in the series) was given the account and found the mansion, built by John Barrymore, for Jed and his kin. The pilot shows the Clampetts settling into their new home and ends with Drysdale introducing future scenes from the series.

The familiar theme, "The Ballad of Jed Clampett," is not used; an uncredited banjo music theme is used and the pilot has a much more realistic laugh track than the reworked series pilot.

Cast: Buddy Ebsen (Jed Clampett), Donna Douglas (Elly Mae Clampett), Irene Ryan (Granny), Max Baer, Jr. (Jethro Bodine), Raymond Bailey (Milburn Drysdale), Nancy Kulp (Jane Hathaway). Guest Cast: Bea Benaderet (Cousin Pearl Bodine), Frank Wilcox (Mr. Brewster), Ron Hagerthy (Geologist), Bob Osborne (Jeff Taylor), Byron Foulger (Sonny Drysdale). Note: Louis Nye took over the recurring role of Milburn's son, Sonny Drysdale, in the series. There is also a different actress playing the part of Milburn's wife, but the role is not credited (Harriet MacGibbon played it in the series).

3590 Hiller and Diller. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1997). Ted Hiller and Neil Diller are friends who write the TV series The Katie Show (they previously wrote a series called Captain Al's Circus).

Ted is a normal, sensible family man. He is married to Jeanne and is the father of Alice, Lizzie and Josh. Neil is a slick and sarcastic. He is divorced (from Sherry) and the father of Brooke and Zane. Stories follow events in the lives of Ted and Neil as they struggle to cope with life at home and at work with an overbearing boss (Gordon Schermerhorn), the producer of The Katie Show.

Ted lives at 422 West Grove Street; his kids attend the Meadowland School; their family dog is Nathan.

Cast: Kevin Nealon (Ted Hiller), Jordan Baker (Jeanne Hiller), Richard Lewis (Neil Diller), Jill Bernard (Allison Hiller), Faryn Einhorn (Lizzie Hiller), Jonathan Osher (Josh Hiller), Allison Mack (Brooke Diller), Kyle Sabihy (Zane Diller), Eugene Levy (Gordon Schermerhorn).

3591 Hillman. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/7/87). The pilot episode for Cosby Show regular Lisa Bonet's A Different World series (about her character, Denise Huxtable, and her experiences at Hillman College in Atlanta; see entry for information). The story introduces viewers to the college as Cliff and Clair Huxtable, Denise's parents and graduates of Hillman, return to their alma mater to bid farewell to retiring college professor Dr. Haynes.

Cast: Lisa Bonet (Denise Huxtable), Bill Cosby (Cliff Huxtable), Phylicia Rashad (Clair Huxtable), Malcolm-Jamal Warner (Theo Huxtable), Sabrina LeBeauf (Sondra Huxtable), Tempestt Bledsoe (Vanessa Huxtable), Keshia Knight Pulliam (Ruby Huxtable), Earle Hyman (Russell Huxtable), Clarice Taylor (Anna Huxtable), Gloria Foster (Dr. Barbara Bracy), Ted Ross (Dean Harris), Joe Seneca (Dr. Zachariah Haynes).

3592 The Hills. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2006). A spin-off from Laguna Beach that follows Lauren

Conrad as she moves to Los Angeles after graduating from high school to attend the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising. Cameras follow her every move as she faces the challenges of life—living on her own and her work as an intern at Teen Vogue magazine (Lisa Love is Lauren's editor). Lauren, called "L.C.," is from a wealthy family and has decided to do something constructive with her life. That struggle is profiled as she proves she is not a spoiled rich girl.

Cast: Lauren Conrad, Whitney Post, Heidi Montag, Lisa Love, Jordan Eubanks, Brian Drolet, Audrina Partridge, Whitney Post, Lisa Love.

3593 Hippodrome. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1966). A summer series that showcases European circus variety acts. The series, which features guest hosts, ran from July 5, 1966 to September 6, 1966. Guy Della Cooppa and Joseph Cates are the producers.

Guest Hosts: Woody Allen, Allan Sherman, Merv Griffin, Eddie Albert, Tony Randall. Orchestra: Peter Knight.

3594 The His and Her of It. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1969). A topical-issues program that is designed to reveal the male and female points of view (the His and Her of it) with appropriate guests representing both sides of the issue.

Host: Geoff Edwards. Hostess: Suzanne Edwards.

3595 His and Hers. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/15/84). Jimmy McCabe is a syndicated newspaper columnist and playboy who marries a pretty widow (Barbara) with two children (Kelly and Stacy) when he believes she is the girl of his dreams. The unsold series, set in New York City, was to relate Jimmy's attempts to end his playboy life and adjust to marriage. In the pilot episode, a senseless argument threatens to destroy the McCabes' three-month marriage.

Other Regulars: Sharon, the owner of Jimmy's watering hole, Sharon's Place; and Larry and Pete, Jimmy's friends.

3596 His and Hers. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990). Douglas ("Doug") Lambert is divorced and the father of two children, Mandy and Noah. Regina ("Reggie") Hewitt is a divorcee with no children. They are also marriage counselors and married to each other (they honeymooned at Lake Tahoe). They live at 960 North Eagle Lane in Los Angeles and have a pet cat named Fluffy.

Doug and Reggie share adjoining offices in an unnamed high-rise building in downtown Los Angeles. They also co-host Marriage Talk, a call-in radio program on station KRTM.

Doug was born in Muncie, Indiana. He is a Capricorn, and banana pancakes are his favorite breakfast. He collects Civil War cigar bands as a hobby and estimates that he saved 84 marriages. Reggie is a Taurus and was born in Los Angeles. She was voted "the psychologist you'd most like to share a couch with" in grad school. Her mentor (not seen) is Dr. Emile Ludwig.

Other Regulars: Jeff Spencer, Doug's friend; Debbie, Reggie and Doug's receptionist; Lynn, Doug's ex-wife; Marian Hewitt, Reggie's mother; Ben Hewitt, Reggie's father; Belle Lambert, Doug's mother.

Cast: Martin Mull (Doug Lambert), Stephanie Faracy (Reggie Lambert), Lisa Picotte (Mandy Lambert), Blake Soper (Noah Lambert), Richard Kline (Jeff Spencer), Blair Tefkin (Debbie), Randee Heller (Lynn Lambert), Peggy McKay (Marian Hewitt), Barbara Barrie (Belle Lambert), William Windom (Bill Lambert). Theme: "Love Crazy" by James Besley, John Bestor.

3597 His Honor, Homer Bell. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1955). Homer Bell is a respected judge in the small town of Spring City. He is also an understanding man and always strives to be fair in his courtroom. At home, Homer cares for his orphaned niece, Cassandra (called Casey), a mischievous girl who doesn't mean to, but often causes problems for her uncle with her tomboyish ways. Stories follow the events that spark the lives of Judge Bell, Casey and their housekeeper, Maude.

Cast: Gene Lockhart (Judge Homer Bell), Mary Lee Dearing (Cassandra Bell), Jane Moutrie (Maude).

3598 His Model Wife. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/4/62). Events in the lives of the Laurens: Jean, a former model turned housewife; John, her husband, a magazine publisher; and their children, Benjy and Chris. In the pilot episode, Jean searches for a new housekeeper when their former servant marries and moves out.

Cast: Jeanne Crain (Jean Lauren), John Vivyan (John Lauren), Jimmy Gaines (Benjy Lauren), Jerry Barclay (Chris Lauren), Alice Frost (Miss Bickle, their new housekeeper). Guest Cast: Cliff Norton (Cappy), Annelle Hayes, Frances Robinson, Lorrie Thomas.

3599 The History Detectives. (Series; Reality; PBS; 2003–2007). Ordinary people who believe they possess an item that is related to an historic figure or event are the subject of the program. Once the item is examined, a team of experts is brought in to authenticate it or show it to be a fake. The exhausting search to discover the truth is highlighted (usually three items per show) and concludes with the principal researcher meeting with the object's possessor to reveal the truth (if it is an historical artifact or not). The viewer, as well as the possessor, is well informed of its significance if it is, indeed, an artifact.

Cast: Elyse Luray-Marx (Appraiser), Gwen Wright (Professor of Architecture), C. Wesley Cowan (Appraiser), Tukufu Zuberi (Professor of Sociology).

3600 Hit Man. (Series; Game; NBC; 1983). Three contestants compete. A story (for example, "The Making of the Wizard of Oz") is read and illustrated with photographs. When it is completed, questions based on the story are asked. Behind each player is a vertical row of six spaces. When a player gives a correct response an animated Hit Man moves up one of those spaces; an incorrect response eliminates a player from the next question. The first two players to correctly answer six questions receive $300 and continue into round two; the third place player is eliminated. In Round Two, the two players are pitted against the previous champion. The champion receives seven Hit Men; the first-place winner four Hit Men; and the second place winner three Hit Men. Another story is read and the champion must defeat the challengers while the challengers try to defeat the champion. A series of questions based on the story are asked. If the champion answers correctly, one of the Challengers Hit Men is eliminated; if one of the Challengers answers correctly, one of the Champion's Hit Men is eliminated. The first player to eliminate the others' Hit Men is the winner.

Host: Peter Tomarken. Announcer: Rod Roddy.

3601 Hit Man. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 6/29/91). An unsold series about Roger Woods, a motion picture producer-director who uses his writers, stunt coordinator, special effects men, make-up artists, actors and crew to create elaborate stings to help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, the team (Sara, Spider, Jerry, Billy and Vigo) scheme to outwit a greedy loan shark (Gordon).

Cast: Dennis Boutsikaris (Roger Woods), Gail O'Grady (Sara Gibson), Daryl Anderson (Spider), Tim Dunigan (Jerry Wilson), Eagle Eye Cherry (Billy), Ferdinand Mayne (Vigo Bonifont). Guest Cast: Nicholas Pryor (Gordon Padway), Robert Donner (Otto), Dante Basco (Pauly Arando), Jenny Gago (Rita Arando), Charles Lane (Judge), Deena Freeman (Annie), Branscombe Richmond (Kentucky), Robin Leach (Himself).

3602 Hit Squad. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 1/11/88). A Candid Camera type of program wherein hidden cameras record the reactions of ordinary people caught in elaborate practical jokes set up by the show's staff. Also featured are outtakes from movies and TV shows.

Host: Kelly Monteith. Regular: Mel Sharpe.

3603 Hit Video, USA. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1988). A weekly program of music videos featuring the industries top recording artists.

Host: Jacqueline Black. Interviewer: Ricky Marks. Music Director: Bill Bowen.

3604 Hitched. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 3/31/73). The story of Roselle and Clare Bridgeman, newlyweds struggling to begin a new life in the old West of the late 1880s. In this sequel pilot to Lock, Stock and Barrel, Roselle and Clare accidentally become separated and, while trying to find each other, become involved in perilous situations (Clare is mistaken for an outlaw and almost lynched; Roselle becomes involved with unruly railroad workers and some unfriendly Indians).

Cast: Sally Field (Roselle Bridgeman), Tim Matheson (Clare Bridgeman). Guest Cast: Henry Jones (Barnstable), Neville Brand (Banjo Riley), John Anderson (Cruett), Slim Pickens (Dawson), John Fiedler (Henry), John McLiam (Hunter), Denver Pyle (Ben Bridgeman), Kathleen Freeman (Rainbow).

3605 The Hitchhiker. (Series; Anthology; HBO; 1983). An adult series that follows the adventures of a mysterious hitchhiker and the effects his presence has on those he encounters: evil people who are led to experience the terrors of the unknown.

The program contains nudity, adult situations and strong language. Guests who have appeared on the program include Robert Vaughn, Klaus Kinski, Susan Blakely, David Dukes, Judy Landers, Audrey Landers, Pamela Bowman, Tabitha Herrington, Jackson Davies, August Schellenberg, Alexandra Stewart, Alesia Shirley, Bruce Greenwood.

Cast: Nicholas Campbell (The Hitchhiker), Page Fletcher (The Hitchhiker; later).

3606 The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy. (Series; Science Fiction; PBS; 1982). Seconds before the Earth is destroyed, Ford Prefect, an alien being from the galaxy Betelgeuse and a field researcher for The Hitchhiker's Guide, rescues Arthur Dent, an Englishman, from the impending doom. As the Earth is destroyed by a Vogon construction fleet (to make way for a new hyperspace bypass) Ford and Arthur are transported to one of the cabins of the Vogon ship. Soon they are ejected from the Vogon ship — and thus begin a series of intergalactic adventures as they become hitchhikers in space.

Other Regulars: Trillian, the beautiful alien; Marvin, Trillian's robot; Eddie, Trillian's computer; Marvin, the paranoid android; Zaphod Beeblebrox, the alien with two heads and three arms; Deep Thought, the greatest computer in the universe. The seven-episode series was produced in England.

Cast: David Dixon (Ford Prefect), Simon Jones (Arthur Dent), Sandra Dickinson (Trillian), Peter Jones (Voice of the Book), David Lerner (Marvin), David Tate (Voice of Eddie), Stephen Moore (Voice of Marvin), Mark Wing-Davey (Zaphod Beeblebrox), Martin Benson (Vogon Captain), Valentine Dyall (Voice of Deep Thought). Theme Music: Bernie Leadon. Radiophonic Music: Paddy Kingsland.

3607 Hitz. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1997). Busby Evans and Robert Moore are artist representatives for Hi Tower Records, a struggling record company run by the obnoxious Jimmy Esposito. Equally “bad” is Jimmy’s promotional head, Tommy Stans, “the most pathetic, slimy weasel in the promo game” (and those are his good points). Angela is the company’s lawyer; April is the publicist; and Rif’s Bar is the local watering hole.

Stories follow Busby and Robert’s antics as they struggle to do their job against numerous obstacles. A Hi Tower C.D. sells for $15.95.

Cast: Andrew Dice Clay (Jimmy Esposito), Claude Brooks (Busby Evans), Rick Gomez (Robert Moore), Rosa Blasi (April Beane), Kristin Dattilo (Angela), Spencer Garrett (Tommy Stans).

3608 Hizzoner. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1979). Michael Cooper is the mayor of a typical American city (although not identified by a particular name). He is jovial, kind-hearted and dedicated to carrying out the promises he made in his campaign speeches: make his city a better place to live and assisting people in need. Although a good premise for a dramatic series, Hizzoner is a comedy and stories follow Michael’s efforts to do what he promised — only to meet with calamity along the way.

Michael is a widower and he is also struggling to raise two children, Annie and James (he is assisted here by his butler, Nails). Melanie is Michael’s heart-of-gold secretary; Timmons is his chief of staff.

Cast: David Huddleston (Michael Cooper), Diana Muldaur (Ginny Linden), Kathy Cronkite (Annie Cooper), Will Selzer (James Cooper), Gina Hecht (Melanie), Mickey Deems (Nails Doyle), Don Galloway (Timmons).

3609 H. M. S. Pinafore. (Experimental; Opera; DuMont; 8/13/44). The first known television adaptation of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera about Sir Joseph Porter, Lord of the British Admiralty.

Cast: Cecil Carol, Joseph DeStefano, Ione Di-Caron, Andrew Duvries, Robert Feyti, Charles Kingsley, Josephine Lombardo, The Light Opera Theater Chorus.

3610 Hobbies in Action. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1958). People with usual (and unusual) hobbies appear to discuss and showcase their leisure time activities.

Host: Steve Booth.

3611 Hobby Lobby. (Series; Human Interest; ABC; 1959–1960). Like the program Hobbies in Ac- tion, people with usual as well as unusual hobbies appear to discuss their leisure time activities for the home audience. Celebrity guests, who may be involved with the same activities, appear to lobby their hobbies. A comical touch is added by the host, Cliff Arquette, who appears as his Mount Idy backwoods character, Charley Weaver.

Host: Cliff Arquette as Charley Weaver. Announcer: Tom Reddy.

3612 The Hogan Family. (Series; Comedy; NBC; CBS; 1986–1991). Valerie Angela Hogan, the manager of Forman-Lyde Antiques (a.k.a. the Forman-Lyde Auction House), is married to Michael, an airline pilot, and the mother of three sons (David, Willie and Mark). The Hogans live on Crescent Drive in Oak Park, Illinois. Valerie and Michael have been married for 17 years when the series begins. Mike is a pilot based at Chicago’s O’Hare International Airport.

When a contract dispute between Valerie Harper and the show’s producers could not be resolved, Valerie Hogan was written out (killed in a car crash). Michael, who is unable to raise his sons alone, asks his sister, Sandy, to come and live with him and help in their upbringing. Sandy was first a guidance counselor, then the vice principal of Colfax High School. She majored in psychology in college.

David, the eldest son, first attended Colfax, then Northwestern University. He was a member of the Bulls basketball team in high school and had a job as a waiter at the Four Corners Café.

Twins Willie and Mark attended Lincoln Junior High, Oak Park Junior High and finally Colfax High. He and Willie held jobs at Bossy Burger and at a shoe store called Hi Tops.

“Hi-dee-ho” is the shrill cry the Hogans and viewers hear when next door neighbor Patricia (“Patty”) Poole drops by for a visit. Mrs. Poole (as she is called) is happily married to Peter Poole, whom she calls “The Mister.” Patty has a dog named Casey and a parrot she calls Tweeters. The Hogan’s have a dog named Murray.

Lloyd Hogan is Sandy and Michael’s father. He has a yacht called the Bounty and can’t read paperback books (“It makes the story seem so disturbing”). He is rather bossy, set in his ways and came to live with his children in last season episodes (when the series moved to CBS in 1990; he previously lived in California). The series was originally called Valerie (which see for information).

Other Regulars: Cara Eisenberg is Mark’s girlfriend; Brenda is Willie’s girlfriend; Burt Weems is David’s friend; Annie is Valerie’s neighbor (before Mrs. Poole).

Relatives: Nan Martin (Valerie’s aunt, Josephine), Francine Tacker (Mike’s sister, Caroline Hogan), Gretchen Wyler (Mike’s mother), Robert Rockwell

Cast: Valerie Harper (Valerie Hogan), Sandy Duncan (Sandy Hogan), Josh Taylor (Michael Hogan), Jason Bateman (David Hogan), Danny Ponce (Willie Hogan), Jeremy Licht (Mark Hogan), Edie McClurg (Patty Poole), John Hillerman (Lloyd Hogan), Josie Bissett (Cara Eisenberg), Willard Scott (Peter Poole), Angela Lee (Brenda), Steve Witting (Burt Weems), Judith Kahan (Annie). Theme Vocal: "Together Through the Years" by Roberta Flack.

3613 Hogan Knows Best. (Series; Reality; Spike TV; 2005–2007). Terry "Hulk" Hogan, a World Wrestling Federation wrestler, is married to Linda and is the father of Brooke and Nick. Cameras follow Hulk and his family as they go about their daily lives to allow the viewer to see, for the most part, a side of Hulk that does not reflect his life as a superstar wrestler.

Cast: Terry "Hulk" Hogan, Linda Hogan, Brooke Hogan, Nick Hogan.

3614 Hogan's Heroes. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1965–1971). Germany during World War II is the setting. Robert Hogan, a U.S. Army Air Corps Colonel (with the 504th Bomber Squadron), is a prisoner of war. His plane was shot down and he is now confined to Stalag 13, a camp outside of Hammelburg that is commanded by Colonel Wilhelm Klink and his bumbling assistant Sergeant Hans Schultz. Also sharing quarters with Hogan in Barracks 2 are Captain Peter Newkirk, Corporal Louis LeBeau, Sergeant Andrew Carter and Sergeant James Kinchloe, Allied prisoners who have banned together to help fellow prisoners escape the Nazi High Command and secure German secrets for their superiors. In last season episodes, Sergeant Richard Baker replaced Kinchloe.

Robert Hogan, a master manipulator, plots to outwit his captors and leads his squadron of four "heroes" on various missions to achieve his goals (help the Allies). Peter Newkirk, the British prisoner, is a master pickpocket with a talent for impersonation. Andrew Carter is an explosives expert. Louis LeBeau, the French POW, is a jack-of-all-trades. James Kinchloe was a former Golden Gloves boxer. He and Richard Baker ran the underground communications center.

Colonel Klink and Sergeant Schultz are members of the Luftwaffe (the German Air Force). They opposed Hitler and the war but performed as soldiers because it was their job. Klink worked as a bookkeeper before the war; Schultz owned a toy company. Schultz wants only to go home and looks the other way when he feels Hogan is up to something ("I know nothing, I see nothing").

Helga was Klink's first secretary; Hilda replaced her. Marya is the beautiful Russian spy who often helped Hogan. The real villains were General Albert Burkhalter and Major Wolfgang Hochstetter. Albert, Klink's superior, was a stern Gestapo agent with a weakness for pretty women; Wolfgang was devoted to Hitler's cause and intent on destroying the enemy. Jerry Fielding composed the theme.

Cast: Bob Crane (Robert Hogan), Werner Klemperer (Col. Wilhelm Klink), John Banner (Sgt. Hans Schultz), Richard Dawson (Peter Newkirk), Robert Clary (Louis LeBeau), Larry Hovis (Andrew Carter), Ivan Dixon (James Kinchloe), Kenneth Washington (Richard Baker), Cynthia Lewis (Helga), Nita Talbot (Marya), Sigrid Valdis (Hilda), Leon Askin (Alfred Burkhalter), Howard Caine (Major Hockstetter), Bernard Fox (Colonel Crittendon), Kathleen Freeman (Gertrude Linkmier).

3615 Hold 'Er Newt. (Series; Children; ABC; 1950). A marionette adventure that revolves around Newton Figg, the proprietor of a general store in the town of Figg Center. The short lived series (September 11, 1950 to October 13, 1950) follows Newton as he becomes involved in the problems of his customers.

Cast: Don Tennant (Newton Figg).

3616 Hold It Please. (Series; Game; CBS; 1949). A telephone call is placed at random to a viewer. If the viewer is able to correctly answer a question, he is awarded a prize and receives a chance to win the jackpot, which consists of valuable merchandise prizes. To win, the caller must identify the portrait of a celebrity that is shown on a spinning wheel. The series, which produced 3 episodes, ran from May 8, 1949 to May 22, 1949.

Host: Gil Fates. Regulars: Cloris Leachman, Bill McGraw, Mort Marshall, Evelyn Ward.

3617 Hold That Camera. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1950). Two players compete: a studio contestant and a home viewer. The viewer, whose voice is amplified over the telephone, directs the studio player through a series of shenanigans. The time needed to complete the stunts is recorded. Another set of players competes in the same manner. The team that performs the stunts in the least amount of time is the winner and both the home viewer and the studio player receive prizes.

Host: Jimmy Blaine. Hostess: Kyle MacDonnell.

3618 Hold That Note. (Series; Game; NBC; 1957). The object calls for players to identify song titles as fast as possible and in as few notes as possible. The first player to identify three tunes wins a round and money. The player with the most wins is the overall champion and keeps what money he has accumulated.

Host: Bert Parks. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

3619 Holiday Hotel. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950–1951). Entertainment performances set against the background of the Pelican Room of the fashionable but fictitious Holiday Hotel on Park Avenue in New York City.

Hotel Manager: Edward Everett Horton, Don Ameche. Regulars: Betty Brewer, Dorothy Greener, Leonore Longergan, Don Sadler, The June Graham Dancers, Bob Dixon, Bill Harrington. Orchestra: Bernard Green.

3620 Holiday Lodge. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1961). Johnny Miller and Frank Boone are the social directors at the plush Holiday Lodge Hotel in Upper New York State. Stories revolve around their efforts to provide interesting entertainment despite an encounter with ever-present obstacles. J.W. Harrington is the hotel manager; Dorothy Johnson is the receptionist; Woodrow is the bellboy-handyman.

Cast: Johnny Wayne (Johnny Miller), Frank Shuster (Frank Boone), Justice Watson (J.W. Harrington), Maureen Arthur (Dorothy Johnson), Charles Smith (Woodrow).

3621 Holloway's Daughters. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/11/66). When Nick Holloway, a private investigator and the owner of the Holloway Detective Agency, retires, he turns over the business to his son, George. George, who dislikes the way his father ran the company (by instinct), changes it to a by-the-books operation. The change not only angers Nick, who decides to remain active and run the company as he feels it should, but his two beautiful granddaughters, Fleming and Casey, amateur sleuths who side with their grandfather. The unsold series was to focus on the investigations of Nick, Fleming and Casey as they solve crimes. The pilot episode relates the Holloways' efforts to solve a jewel theft. Broadcast as a segment of The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater.

Other Regulars: Martha, George's wife; and Miss Purdy, the agency's secretary.

Cast: Robert Young (Nick Holloway), David Wayne (George Holloway), Marion Ross (Martha Holloway), Brooke Bundy (Fleming Holloway), Barbara Hershey (Casey Holloway), Ellen Corby (Miss Purdy). Guest Cast: Meg Wyllie (Mrs. Ransworth), Bruce Gordon (Hartford).

3622 Holly Golightly. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for ABC in 1969). Events in the life of Holly Golightly, a New York playgirl who enjoys standing outside of Tiffany's (a jewelry store) at dawn, nibbling on a bun, sipping coffee and gazing at the precious gems in the elegant store window.

Holly was married, at age 15, to a good-hearted

Texan name Doc Golightly, but had the marriage annulled and now supports herself (as an escort) and lives in a partially furnished apartment on Manhattan's East Side. The visits to Tiffany's keep Holly from becoming depressed. The pilot episode, based on the feature film, Breakfast at Tiffany's, finds Holly moving into her new apartment.

Cast: Stefanie Powers (Holly Golightly), Jean Pierre Aumont, George Furth, Jack Kruschen.

3623 Hollywood. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1980). A British-produced series that traces the history of the Hollywood silent film via film clips and interviews with guests from the silent era.

Narrator: James Mason.

3624 Hollywood a Go Go. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1965). Performances by and interviews with the top named in rock and roll music. Sam Riddle is the producer.

Host: Sam Riddle. Regulars: The Sinners, The Gazzarri Dancers.

3625 Hollywood and the Stars. (Series; Documentary; NBC; 1963–1964). The behind-the-scenes story of Hollywood — its stars and its celluloid accomplishments. The series, which produced 31 episodes, ran from September 30, 1963 to September 28, 1964.

Host-Narrator: Joseph Cotten.

3626 Hollywood Backstage. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1965). A behind-the-scenes report on Hollywood, showcasing the people, the parties and the premieres.

Announcer John Willis opens the show: "Let's go — Hollywood Backstage! Hollywood Backstage, exciting stars, premieres, glamorous parties, exclusive interviews — all in color. The fascinating world of Hollywood and its people; let's go Hollywood Backstage. This is John Willis at Sunset and Vine in the heart of Hollywood, ready to take you behind the scenes to Hollywood Backstage, the magic kingdom whose personalities are the royalty of entertainment. On this program, another glittering lineup of stars and the glamour in which they live; you are about to have an intimate look at these and other well-known celebrities and their glamorous world called Hollywood. After this short message, we'll go Hollywood Backstage."

Host: John Willis.

3627 Hollywood Beat. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985). Nick McCarren and Jack Rado are undercover police officers with the Los Angeles Police Department. They are masters of disguises and use that talent to help apprehend criminals. They have such street contacts as Lady Di, a bag lady, and at times receive help from Norman, a man who believes he is Captain Crusader and on a mission to right wrongs.

Billy Night Eyes is a Blackfoot Indian who runs the local newsstand; George Grinsley is the bar tender at their favorite watering hole, Lita's (owned by Lita Delaware).

Nick and Jack's superiors are Captain Milton Treadwell and Captain Wes Biddle. Natalie Cole sings the theme, "Hollywood Beat."

Cast: Jack Scalia (Nick McCarren), Jay Acavone (Jack Rado), Ann Turkel (Lita Delaware), Edward Winter (Wes Biddle), Lane Smith (Milton Treadwell), Robert Englund (Norman/Captain Crusader), Michael Horse (Billy Night Eyes), Barbara Cason (Lady Di), John Matuszak (George Grinsley).

3628 The Hollywood Connection. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1977). Six celebrity guests appear, divided into two three-member teams. Two non-celebrity contestants are the players. A question is read that involves one team in a hypothetical situation. One player has to predict how each member of that team responded to the question. Each correct prediction awards the player one point. The remaining player competes in the same manner (although a different question is used). The player with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Jim Lange. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

3629 Hollywood Dog. (Pilot; Comedy; Fox; 7/25/90). Hoping to make his mark in the world of rock and roll music, Bodine Frank leaves his home in Nebraska and heads for Hollywood. At the bus depot he meets Dog, an animated toon with an attitude, who takes him under his "paw." Dog, a con artist, invites Bodine to share his room (2-B) at the Hollywood Bahama Lounge Hotel until such time as he can become a big performer. The unsold series was to follow the escapades of Dog and Bodine as they struggle to make ends meet. In the pilot episode, which combines live action with animation, Dog attempts to get Bodine his first job.

Other Regulars: Louise, the landlady; Dwayne, her son; Rhonda, Bodine's friend; and Tyler, Rhonda's son.

Cast: Hank Azaria (Voice of Dog), Tim Ryan (Bodine Frank), Conchata Ferrell (Louise), Raymond O'Connor (Dwayne), Lenora May (Rhonda), Matthew Brooks (Tyler). Guest Cast: Shannon Tweed (Herself), Anadel Baughn (Anadel), Adele Baughn (Adele).

3630 The Hollywood Freeway. (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 11/18/74). A failed attempt to combine talk and entertainment in a weekly syndicated series. The pilot was more talk than variety with only a brief amount of time allotted for singers Barbara McNair, Melissa Manchester and Jose Feliciano to perform.

Host: Charles Ashman. Guests: Melvin Belli, Ernest Borgnine, Nate Branch, Minnesota Fats, Marty Feldman, Jose Feliciano, Barbara McNair, Melissa Manchester, George C. Scott, Trish Van Devere. Orchestra: Jack Elliott.

3631 The Hollywood Game. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced for CBS in 1991). The simplistic format has contestants answering questions based on movie trivia in return for prizes.

Host: Peter Allen.

3632 The Hollywood Game. (Series; Game; CBS; 1992). Two teams compete. Each of the letters of the word Hollywood represent a category topic. One player (flip of coin) receives a chance to select a category. Three questions are asked, earning the teams $100 per correct response. Round Two is played in the same manner with values increasing: $200 for one correct answer; $400 for two; $800 for three correct answers (all questions are accompanied by clips of movies and TV shows). Round Three doubles the money: $500, $1,000 and $1,500. Round Four is the Double Feature Round. A category is stated. The teams can bet half, all or none of the money they have thus far won. The question is read. Players write down their answers. The team with the correct and best bet (to earn the most money) wins the game.

Host: Bob Goen.

3633 Hollywood High. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/21/77). The first of two pilot films broadcast back-to-back with the next title, about the students of Hollywood High School. In the first pilot, students Phoebe and Dawn reluctantly accept dance invitations from the class undesirables (Icky and Dr. Bad), then scheme to get out of the dates. Wheeler and Bill are other students.

Cast: Annie Potts (Phoebe), Kim Lankford (Dawn), Chris Pina (Wheeler), Rory Stevens (Bill), John Megna (Icky), Sam Kwasman (Dr. Bad).

3634 Hollywood High II. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/21/77). The second of two back-to-back pilots (see prior title) for a series about the antics of the students of Hollywood High School. The second attempt relates the problems that arise when journalism students Paula and Eugene accept an out-of-town assignment and are forced to spend the night together in a motel room. Other Students: Allison, Judith, Janet and Stu.

Cast: Annie Potts (Paula Lindell), Darren O'Connor (Eugene Langley), Roberta Wallach (Allison), Beverly Sanders (Judith), Janet Wood (Janet), John Guerrasio (Stu).

3635 Hollywood Historama. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1962). Profiles of famous celebrities are presented through newsreel footage, home movies and footage shot especially for the series.

3636 The Hollywood Hounds. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 11/25/94). A proposed series about Dude, a country singing dog who leaves his home in Nashville to pursue a singing career in Hollywood. In the pilot episode, Dude befriends two dogs (Cuz and Rosie) who were adopted by a young boy (Michael) and his father, a music teacher. When the boy's father is laid off, Dude tries to provide a decent Christmas for them.

Voices: Jeff G. Bennett, Theodore Borders, Christopher Broughton, Candi Milo, Frank Welker.

3637 Hollywood Junior Circus. (Series; Variety; NBC; ABC; 1951–1952). A program of circus variety acts sponsored by Hollywood Candy. The series ran on NBC from March 25, 1951 to July 1, 1951; and on ABC from September 8, 1951 to January 19, 1952.

Host: Art Jacobson, Paul Barnes. Clown: Carl Marx. Commercial Spokesman: Max Bronstein as Zero. Regulars: Marie Louise, George Cesar, Bill Hughes, The Hanneford Family. Music: Brad Chase.

3638 Hollywood Lives. (Series; Reality; Disney; 1995). An early cable reality series that follows the lives of a group of young Hollywood hopefuls (Brandy Norwood, Jamie Kennedy and Bianca Lawson being the most notable) as they attempt to make it in the world of show business.

Hopefuls: Brandy Norwood, Bianca Lawson, Jamie Kennedy, Joe Loera, Devin Oatway, Tamara Ruth, Brian Gross, Poppi Monroe. Theme: “Hollywood Lives” by Mark Mothersbaugh.

3639 Hollywood Off Beat. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1952–1953). “Steve Randall, Investigator” is the sign on the door at 6103 Gentry Avenue in Hollywood, California. “Trouble is his business,” and he charges $25 a day for his services. Steve Randall has one weakness: “insatiable curiosity.” He is “allergic to being detained when a lady is screaming for help,” and bitter — determined to regain his right to practice law by finding those who are responsible for a frame that got him disbarred. Steve became a private detective to gain the legal authority to find those who framed him. The series was filmed, despite its Hollywood locale, at the Parsonnet Studios on Long Island in New York.

Cast: Melyvn Douglas (Steve Randall).

3640 Hollywood Opening Night. (Series; Anthology; CBS; NBC; 1951–1953). A series of filmed (CBS) and live (NBC) dramas and comedies from the West Coast (the first anthology series to originate in Hollywood). The series ran on CBS from July 20, 1951 to March 28, 1952; and on NBC from October 6, 1952 to March 23, 1953.

Performers Include: Peggy Ann Garner, Ann Sothorn, William Bendix, Richard Egan, James Dunn, Ann Harding, Teresa Wright, Mark Stevens, Marguerite Chapman, Richard Carlson, Roland

Young, David Niven, Gloria Swanson, June Havoc, Don DeFore, Boris Karloff, Celeste Holm, Diana Lynn, Ronald Reagan, Ann Whitfield, Maureen O’Sullivan, Ethel Barrymore, Dorothy Lamour, Robert Stack, Macdonald Carey, Albert Dekker.

3641 The Hollywood Palace. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1964–1970). The program, broadcast from the Hollywood Palace Theater, presents music, songs, dances and comedy from the weekly hosts who appear and perform on the program.

A virtually unknown (at the time) Raquel Welch is the Card Holder (appears on stage to introduce the acts). The series ran from January 4, 1964 to February 7, 1970 and also presented performances by the top names in show business at the time.

Announcer Dick Tufeld opens the show: “From Hollywood, the heart of the entertainment world, The Hollywood Palace, with your host, Don Knotts. Tonight starring Charo; Bobby Goldsboro; Joey Heatherton. We’ll return to The Hollywood Palace after a word from one of our sponsors.”

Card Holder: Raquel Welch. Regulars: The Ray Charles Singers, The Buddy Schwab Dancers. Announcer: Dick Tufeld. Orchestra: Mitchell Ayres.

3642 Hollywood Reporter. (Pilot; Magazine; Syn.; 12/85). A five episode pilot for a daily series of show business gossip with reports on current movies and TV programs.

Host: Peter Torkayan. Reporters: David Kriet, Meredith MacRae.

3643 Hollywood Screen Test. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1948–1953). A series of dramatic productions in which young hopefuls appear with established stars in the hope of furthering their careers.

Host: Bert Lytell, Neil Hamilton, Hurd Hatfield, Betty Furness. Assistant: Martha Wayne, Robert Quarry. Announcer: Ted Campbell.

3644 Hollywood Showcase. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1966). The 1966 syndicated title (with June Allyson as the host) for repeats of the 1961 NBC series The Dick Powell Show. See this title for information.

3645 The Hollywood Squares. (Series; Game; NBC; Syn.; 1966–1980). An elaborate game of tic tac toe that involves two players (Player “X” and Player “O”) and nine celebrity guests (each occupying one square on a large board). A celebrity, chosen by a player, is asked a question. The player agrees or disagrees with the celebrity’s answer. A correct guess wins the player the square; an incorrect guess awards the square to the opponent. The first player to acquire three squares in a row — up, down, or diagonally — is the winner and receives a cash prize (varied over the years). There was also a children’s version of the series (broadcast on Saturday mornings by NBC with Peter Marshall as the host) called The Storybook Squares (see entry for information). In 1996 new syndicated version was titled The New Hollywood Squares.

Host: Peter Marshall. Regulars: Wally Cox, Paul Lynde, Cliff Arquette, Rose Marie, Karen Valentine, George Gobel. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

3646 The Hollywood Squares. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1986). A revised, syndicated version of the prior title that is played in the exact same way. See the prior Hollywood Squares for information.

Host: John Davidson. Announcer: Shadoc Stevens.

3647 The Hollywood Squares. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1998–2004). A syndicated, prime time version of 1966 NBC series of the same title. The game is played in the same manner with an exception being an added bonus round. Here, the champion receives a chance to win expensive merchandise (or large sums of cash) by selecting a key from a board. If the key opens a chest (or starts a car in a later format), he wins the contents of the chest or a new car.

Host: Tom Bergeron. Regulars: Whoopi Goldberg, Bruce Vilanch.

3648 Hollywood Starr. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 2/23/85). A proposed spin-off from T.J. Hooker about Dani Starr, a beautiful female detective with the Los Angeles Police Department, Hollywood Station, Vice Squad Division. Dani's badge number is 322; she has a pet tortoise named Beau-regard and her car code is Six King 22. In the pilot episode, Dani attempts to solve the murder of a man who produced adult films.

Cast: Sharon Stone (Dani Starr). Guest Cast: William Shatner (T.J. Hooker), Adrian Zmed (Vince Romano), James Darren (Jim Corrigan), Heather Locklear (Stacy Sheridan), Mary-Margaret Humes (Chrissy Wild), Jonathan Goldsmith (Frankie Gable), Stewart Moss (Alan Hartman), JoAnn Willett (Andrea Kolt), Madison Arnold (Vic Kolt). Theme Vocal: "Hollywood Starr" by Paulette McWilliams.

3649 Hollywood Talent Scouts. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1962–1966). Film and television celebrities appear with their protégés to introduce them and hopefully lead them on the road to stardom. The series ran from July 3, 1962 to September 11, 1962; July 2, 1963 to September 17, 1963; June 22, 1965 to September 7, 1965; September 20, 1965 to September 5, 1966. Perry Cross is the producer.

Host: Jim Backus (1962), Merv Griffin (1963), Art Linkletter (1965 and 1966). Orchestra: Harry Sosnik, Harry Zimmerman.

3650 Hollywood Teen. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1978). Interviews with and performances by young Hollywood personalities.

Host: James Vincent McNichol.

3651 Hollywood Theater Time. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1950–1951). An early dramatic series and one of the first to originate from the West Coast. The series ran from October 8, 1950 to October 6, 1951.

3652 Hollywood's Most Sensational Mysteries. (Pilot; Documentary; NBC; 2/4/84). Film clips, interviews and dramatizations that recall the circumstances that surround headline-making stories of Hollywood celebrities (for example, in the pilot: John Belushi, Sal Mineo, Marilyn Monroe, Freddie Prinze and Lana Turner).

Host: Ben Gazzara. Performers: Frank Annese, Patti Blankinship, Chao-Li Chi, Angus Duncan, Biff Elliott, Troy Evans, Lois Hamilton, Marcia Mae Jones, Claudia Lamb, Leslie Landon, Kathy Maisnik, Shirley Mitchell, Aarika Wells.

3653 Hollywood's Talking. (Series; Game; CBS; 1973). A video tape, divided into three cash amounts ($150, $100 and $50) is played, showing celebrities expressing their opinions on people, places or things. Each of the three contestants who compete have to determine exactly what is being talked about. A player receives money according to the segment at which he correctly guesses the topic of discussion. The first player to score $250 is the winner.

Host: Geoff Edwards. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

3654 Holmes and Yoyo. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1976–1977). Alexander Holmes is a not-too-bright police officer with the Los Angeles Police Department. Gregory Yoyonovich, called Yoyo, is a not-yet-perfected computer robot designed to combat crime. For reasons that do not quite make sense, it is decided to team Alexander with Yoyo in the hope that Alexander can help fine tune Yoyo's crime fighting abilities. Stories follow the unlikely pair as Yoyo tries to act human and Alexander tries to become the cop the department can be proud of.

Other Regulars: Harry Sedford, their captain; Officer Maxine Moon; Dwight Buchanan, the police chief; Dr. Bancroft, Yoyo's creator; Mimi. Dwight's wife.

Cast: Richard B. Shull (Sgt. Alexander Holmes), John Schuck (Sgt. Gregory Yoyonovich), Bruce Kirby (Capt. Harry Sedford), Andrea Howard (Off. Maxine Moon), Ben Hammer (Chief Dwight Buchanan), Larry Hovis (Dr. Babcock), Fritzi Burr (Mimi Buchanan), G. Wood (Police Commissioner).

3655 Home. (Series; Women; NBC; 1954–1957). A daily program of information geared to the female members of the audience that is presented in a series of segments corresponding to a magazine.

Cast: Arlene Francis (Host, Leisure Activities Editor and Shopping Guide Expert), June Lockhart (Substitute Hostess), Eve Hunter (Women's Interest. Fashion).

ion and Beauty Editor), Sydney Smith (Decorating Editor), Poppy Cannon (Food Editor), Will Peiglebeck (fix-It-Shop/Home Gardening Editor), Rose Frangblau (Children's Problem Editor), Estelle Parsons (Special Projects Editor), Johnny Johnston (Vocalist), The Norman Paris Trio (Music Editors). Announcer: Hugh Downs.

3656 Home. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 3/6/87). Events in the daily lives of the Costigans, a family of five living in Chicago. The pilot episode relates their first televised problems: Will, the father (married to Maggie) fears that a rival has usurped his first important construction job; Kelly, his teenage son (who attends Hillcrest High with his sister, Susan and younger brother, Brian) has begun a starvation diet to avoid a confrontation with a savage wrestling competitor; and Brian has begun brooding over his failing grades.

Cast: Max Gail (Will Costigan), Anne Twomey (Maggie Costigan), Tracy Nelson (Susan Costigan), Michael Sharrett (Kelly Costigan), Jody Lambert (Brian Costigan). Guest Cast: Barbara Baxley (Katherine), Dennis Holahan (Phillip Beaumont), Robert Lipton (Ray), Kevin McCarthy (Edison), Kristoffer Tabori (Scott Diamond), Gregory Morgan (Coach).

3657 Home Again. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/2/88). Following the death of their mother, two sisters (Maureen and Estelle) who are total opposites and who dislike each other, inherit Ma's Place, a small restaurant in a rural Ohio town. The unsold series was to relate Maureen and Estelle's efforts to run the restaurant despite their feelings for each other. Other Regulars: Angela, Maureen's daughter; Duke, the chef; Derek, the waiter; and Brian, the busboy.

Cast: Betty Thomas (Maureen DeFranco), Deborah Rush (Estelle Parker), Pamela Segall (Angela DeFranco), Henry Gibson (Duke Coleman), Joe Guzaldo (Derek Baker), Bo Dremann (Brian Thompson), Bill Cort (Spencer Halloran; guest).

3658 Home Cookin'. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/11/75). Ernie's Truck Stop is a roadside diner that is run by a married couple (Ernie and Adelle) and offers home-cooked meals to the weary traveler. The unsold series was to focus on the interactions between the owners and their customers. The pilot episode relates the problems that occur when Ernie hires a pretty waitress (Dinette) who sparks Adelle's jealous streak. Other Regulars: Jammer and Bevo, truckers.

Cast: Wynn Irwin (Ernie), Fannie Flagg (Adelle), Nancy Fox (Dinette), Burton Gilliam (Jammer), Frank McRay (Bevo). Guest Cast: Roy Applegate (Mouse), Walker Edmiston (Trooper), Bill McLean (Shorty).

3659 The Home Court. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995). Sydney J. Solomon is a family court judge who lives at 22 West Oak Street in Chicago, Illinois. She is divorced from Jeffrey and is raising four children alone: Neal, Marshall, Ellis and Mike. Stories follow the events in Sydney's life as she struggles to balance her duties in the courtroom with her responsibilities at home.

Other Regulars: Judge Gil Fitzpatrick, Sydney's friend; and Greer Stanton, Sydney's sister.

3660 Home Delivery. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2004). A daily series that attempts to help people improve their lives (mostly through makeovers). People with compelling stories (submitted to the show) are surprised at their homes by a crew who attempt to give them what they requested. The subjects are interviewed and cameras record all the details as wishes are granted.

Hosts: Egypt, Sukanya Krishnan, Stephanie Lydecker, John Senico.

3661 Home Fires. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1992). Ted and Anne Kramer have been married for 21 years. They are the parents of two children, Libby and Jesse, and are in good shape. "We have enough money, the roof stopped leaking and the kids are healthy," says Ted. "I don't think our family has one large problem, just a lot of little pieces that need fine tuning. The problem is, I thought we'd have time to fix everything. I didn't expect Libby and Jesse to grow up so fast."

Helping the family "fine tune" those little pieces is Dr. Frederic Marcus, a therapist who appears to be having a difficult time understanding and helping the family — each member of which has his or her own unique outlook on life.

Libby is a beautiful 18-year-old girl whom Ted would like to see remain a little girl ("Life was a lot easier before children were given their rights," says Ted). "The idea that I am a product of them is terrifying," says Libby. "My father thinks he is clever and insightful. He's not; he's annoying and irrational. My mother sees the world in an angle undiscovered in any geometry textbook. This dimension of Dad's for me to change is another thing. I swear there must be some correlation between breast development and parental psychic degeneration. I always wished I was in another family."

Jesse is 14 years old and is obsessed with driving. He wants a Saab — "The only trouble is, my parents want me to get a driver's license for it." He would also like to race in the Daytona 500 and generally accepts his family members for what they are.

Anne believes her incompatible family is about to go the way of the elephant and the crocodile — endangered species on the brink of extinction.

Ted fights with Libby; Libby argues with Jesse; and Anne is constantly at odds with her mother, Nana. Nana is a widow (her late husband was named Herbert). She has no concept of privacy and says whatever is on her mind without taking into consideration Anne's feelings. Also living with the family are two dogs named Nick and Nora. J.A.C. Redford composed the theme, "Home Fires."

Cast: Michael Brandon (Ted Kramer), Kate Burton (Anne Kramer), Nicole Eggert (Libby Kramer), Jarrod Paul (Jesse Kramer), Norman Lloyd (Dr. Fred-eric Marcus), Alice Hirson (Nana).

3662 Home Free. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993). Vanessa Bailey is the divorced mother of two children (Abby and Lucas). She is 37 years old and starting law school. She lives with her brother, Matthew Bailey and her mother Grace Bailey at 1273 Ashbury Drive in Ocean View, California. Vanessa won "The Miss Penmanship Award of 1967" and for her sixteenth birthday, her father hired the Rolling Stones to follow her around "so I could have music wherever I go." Her favorite punishment for Abby and Lucas is potato peeling. Abby practices kissing on her pillow while Lucas, afraid of the dark, sleeps with a Tinkerbell night light.

Matt is a reporter for the Beach Cities News Advertisers, a local newspaper. He was also the weekend Lifestyle Reporter for Channel 6 News ("If It's Important to You, It's News to Us"). Matt also writes "Chat with Matt" for his elementary school newsletter and covers stories like the new scorpion at the Insect Museum.

Other Regulars: Laura, the paper's photographer; and Ben, the paper's editor. Stories follow events in the lives of Vanessa and Matthew.

Cast: Diana Canova (Vanessa Bailey), Matthew Perry (Matthew Bailey), Marian Mercer (Grace Bailey), Anndi McAfee (Abby), Scott McAfee (Lucas), Brooke Theiss (Laura Peters), Alan Oppenheimer (Ben Brookstone).

3663 Home Free. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 7/13/88). Hoping to help problem youngsters from broken homes, Michael Davis establishes his large residence in Long Beach, California, as a foster home under the supervision of the juvenile court. The unsold series was to relate Michael's efforts to care for the kids put in his charge. Other Regulars: Ms. Tracy, the social worker; Eddie, the live-in cook; Barry, Michael's business partner; and the kids: Jerome, Douglas, Dennis, Willie and Vladimir.

Cast: Michael Warren (Michael Davis), Lonetta McKee (Ms. Tracy), Trinidad Silva (Eddie), Charles Levin (Barry), Teddy Abner (Jerome), Donnie Jeffcoat (Douglas), Danny Nucci (Dennis), Ben Hoag (Willie), Jonathan Brandis (Vladimir). Guest Cast:

Al Ruscio (Avidisian), Michael Russo (Giorgio), Marcy Kaplan (Jennifer).

3665 Home Front. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1991–1993). River Run, Ohio, following World War II is the setting. Stories focuses on a group of army veterans and their families as they attempt to adjust to the post war world.

The series is presented like a soap opera and has many interwoven story lines. Jeff and Hank Metcalf, who are both in love with the same woman (Sarah Brewer); Robert Davis, a young black veteran who is having a difficult time readjusting due to the discrimination that existed at the time; Mike and Ruth Sloan, parents of a slain soldier (Mike, Jr.) who left behind a pregnant Italian wife (Gina); Charlie Hanley, a vet who promised to marry his girlfriend, Ginger Szabo, when he returned but instead married a woman (Caroline) he fell in love with in England; Judy Owen is a war widow who works at the local bar.

Cast: Kyle Chandler (Jeff Metcalf), Wendy Phillips (Anne Metcalf), Jessica Steen (Linda Metcalf), David Newsom (Hank Metcalf), Giuliana Santani (Gina Sloan), Tammy Lauren (Ginger Szabo), Mimi Kennedy (Ruth Sloan), Sammi Davis (Caroline Hailey), Harry O'Reilly (Charlie Hailey), Dick Anthony Williams (Abe Davis), Hattie Winston (Gloria Davis), Ken Jenkins (Mike Sloan, Sr.), John Slatery (Al Kahn), Sterling Macer, Jr. (Robert Davis), Kelly Rutherford (Judy Owen), John DiSanti (Sam Schenkkan), Montrose Hagins (Grandmother Davis), Alexandra Wilson (Sarah Brewer).

3666 Home Improvement. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1991–1999). Tim Taylor, nicknamed "The Tool Man," is the host of Tool Time, a comical Detroit cable TV home improvement show. Tim is married to Jill and is the father of Randy, Mark and Brad. They live at 508 Glenview Road. Tim worked as a salesman for Binford Tools when owner John Binford selected him to host Tool Time. Tim is a klutz while doing projects on TV and at home. He has blown up a washing machine, five toasters and two blenders; his remedy, "it needs more power," rarely works (he has, for example, a blender than can puree a brick).

Binford Tools sponsors the program. Tool Time airs Saturdays on Channel 122 (also given as Channel 112); it is simulcast on Channel 88 in Spanish. The motto of Binford Tools is "If it doesn't say Binford on it, somebody else makes it." A claw hammer was the first tool manufactured by Binford. Bob Vila is not Tim's favorite guest. A frequent guest is Pete Bilker of the K and B Construction Company.

Tim's hobby is restoring classic cars. He won the "Car Guy of the Year Award" for his devotion to classic automobiles and wrote the book How to Maintain Your Bench Grinder. Tim can't resist the Sears catalogue home improvement sale and is the youngest person to ever join the Triple A.

As a teenager, Jill had a dog named Puddles, wore Tinker Bell perfume, and was called "Jilly Dilly" by her father. She was an army brat, attended Adams High School and met Tim in college. Jill, a song expert, considers herself "The High Priestess of Pop Songs."

Jill was a researcher for Inside Detroit magazine; when she was laid off, she went back to school to get her master's degree in psychology. Jill's maiden name is Patterson. She later mentions she attended the Huntley School for Girls and the Hockaday School for Girls.

Al Borland assists Tim on Tool Time. He was a Navy man and spent a year as a heavy crane operator. Al, constantly teased by Tim for wearing flannel shirts, invented the "Tool Time" board game and made a video called How to Assemble Your Tool Box. Al's superior knowledge of tools and construction actually saves the show when Tim's antics foul up projects (Tim has become a regular at the hospital's emergency room). Al lives in Apartment 505 with his supposedly (never seen) overweight mother (who has a pet turtle named Scooter). Al and Tim hang out at Harry's Hardware Store (originally called Kelly's Hardware Store; Al later owns 20 percent of the store, located at 3rd and Main in Royal Oak); their favorite eatery is Big Mike's.

"Hi-dee-ho, Neighbor" is the greeting Tim gets from his neighbor, Wilson Wilson, Jr. Wilson lives at 510 Glenview Road and his face is never fully seen (always obstructed by something, usually the picket fence that divides their property). Wilson gives Tim advice on how to solve his problems and calls him "Good Neighbor." His late wife was named Kathryn. Wilson has had dinner with Albert Einstein, knows world leaders and can talk brilliantly about anything. He is interested in insect mating, hangs ancient Crete bells in his backyard to attract friendly spirits, and is a trained midwife. He attended the Greenville School for Boys and wrote the column "Rock Beat" (about rocks) for the Wichita Star. He greets Jill with "Hi ho, neightborette." His father, a scientist, was Wilson Wilson, Sr.

Lisa was the first "Tool Time Girl" (announces the show, shows a bit of cleavage and leg, brings in needed props). Heidi replaced her when Lisa left to attend medical school (later becoming a paramedic at Detroit Hospital). Heidi opens each show with "Does everybody know what time it is?" (The audience responds with "Tool Time").

Cast: Tim Allen (Tim Taylor), Patricia Richardson (Jill Taylor), Richard Karn (Al Borland), Earl Hindman (Wilson Wilson, Jr.), Jonathan Taylor Thomas (Randy Taylor), Taran Noah Smith (Mark Taylor), Zachery Ty Bryan (Brad Taylor), Pamela Anderson (Lisa), Debbe Dunning (Heidi), Bob Vila (Himself), Mickey Rose (Pete Bilker).

3667 Home Life of a Buffalo. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 7/21/46). A simple, original TV drama about incidents in the lives of an old time vaudeville family (Eddie, his wife, June, and their son, Joey).

Cast: John McQuade (Eddie), Virginia Smith (June), Mickey Carroll (Joey), Percy Helton (Performer), Enid Markey (Performer).

3668 Home Movies. (Series; Cartoon; UPN; Cartoon Network; 1999–2004). Brendon Small is an 18-year-old boy whose parents are divorced. He lives with his mother (Paula) and his best friends are Melissa and Jason. Stories follow Brendon's life at school and at home — where his has directed over one thousand home movies and where, with Melissa and Jason, he continues to produce them (and showcase them for viewers). The series aired on UPN in 1999; the Cartoon Network from 2001–2004.

Voice Cast: Brendon Small (Brendon Small), Paula Poundstone (Paula Small), Janine Ditullio (Paula Small; later), Melissa Bardin Galsky (Melissa Robbins), H. Jon Benjamin (Jason Penopolis), Ron Lynch (Ronald Lynch), Sam Seder (Fenton Mulley), Laura Silverman, Jen Kirkman, Bill Braudis.

3669 Home on the Range. (Live Test Program; Cooking; NBC; 4/12/48). An unusual (and unsold) attempt at a cooking show that used actors to prepare meals for the home audience. Comedian Hiram Sherman and budding actress Gloria Stroock prepared (without much success) sauce, crepes and pancakes. Broadway restaurant owner Vincent Sarde appears to comment on the menu.

Hosts: Hiram Sherman, Gloria Stroock. Guest: Vincent Sardi.

3670 Home Room. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/10/81). Events in the lives of Karen Chase and her brother Craig, newly enrolled students at Hancock High School. In the pilot episode, Karen and Craig meet their classmates (Annette, Elvis Clone, Billy Coe, Ron and “Crazy” Willie) and encounter the wrath of the school bully (Steve) who takes an instant dislike to Craig.

Cast: Ally Sheedy (Karen Chase), Michael Spound (Craig Chase), Irene Arranga (Annette Savinski), Lee Lucan (Elvis Clone), Donald Fullilove (Billy Coe), Eddie Deezen (Ron Carp), Antony Alda (“Crazy” Willie), Andrew Levant (Steve), Nicholas Pryor (Steve Thomas; the guidance counselor), Severn Darden (Mr. Melish, the biology teacher). Guest Cast: Faye Grant (Tina), David Dumas (Sweeney), Curt Ayers (Truck), Peter Kowonko (Peter). Theme Vocal (“High School”): Brett Tuggle.

3671 Home Team with Terry Bradshaw. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1997). Former football star and sportscaster Terry Bradshaw hosts an informal daily talk show that features celebrity interviews and how-to segments as well as segments devoted to children who are interviewed for their unpredictable responses to the questions asked of them.

Host: Terry Bradshaw.

3672 Homeboys in Outer Space. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1996–1997). The 23rd century is the setting. Ty and Morris are two slackers who perform whatever odd jobs come their way while waiting for the one big one that will give them easy money and an easy life. A normal person would realize that this is a pipe dream; Ty and Morris are a bit dense and episodes relate their endless mishaps as they seek that easy life.

Ty and Morris travel throughout the universe in their ship, the Space Hoopy. Their gorgeous female android, a computer they call Loquatia, guides the ship. Carl is their competent but somewhat clueless mechanic; Vashti is Ty’s brother-in-law, the owner of the Jupiter Too, a bar that is also the “office” for Ty and Morris. Vashti is a humanoid who enjoys cigars and eating humans.

Cast: Flex Alexander (Ty Walker), Darryl M. Bell (Morris Clay), Rhona Bennett (Loquatia), Kevin Michael Richardson (Vashti), John Webber (Carl), Paulette Braxton (Amma), Michael K. Colyar (Silky Jay/Milky Way).

3673 Homemaker’s Exchange. (Series; Women; CBS; 1949–1952). Cooking, decorating, household tips and shopping advice geared to housewives.

Hostess: Louise Leslie.

3674 Homicide. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1973). An Australian series about the lives and problems faced by the detectives attached to the Melbourne Police Force.

Cast: John Fegan (Inspector Connolly), Terry McDermott (Det. Sgt. Bronson), Lex Mitchell (Detective Frazer), Leonard Teale (Det. Sgt. McKay), Les Dayman (Detective Hudson), George Mallaby (Det. Peter Barnes), Lionel Long (Detective Costello), Alwyn Kurts (Inspector Fox), Norman Yemm (Detective Delaney), Mike Preston (Detective Delaney), Gary Day (Detective Redford), Charles Tingwell (Inspector Lawson), John Stanton (Detective Kelly), Don Barker (Det. Harry White), Dennis Grosvenor (Detective Deegan).

3675 Homicide: Life on the Street. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1993–1999). A gritty, realistic look at the work of the Homicide Division of the Baltimore, Maryland, Police Department. The series is filmed on location in the Fells Point Community of Baltimore, Maryland, and is based on the book Homicide: A Year on the Killing Streets by David Simon.

While Homicide: Life on the Street is a crime drama, it differs from series like Law and Order in the fact that the focus is on case closure—finding the culprit—as opposed to showing the act of the crime. The series, which uses hand-held cameras, follows the detectives assigned to the case as their investigation eventually leads to an arrest and a “case closed.”

Cast: Ned Beatty (Det. Stan Bolander), Yaphet Kotto (Lt. Al Giardello), Richard Belzer (Det. John Munch), Daniel Baldwin (Beau Felton), Andre Braugher (Det. Frank Pemberton), Melissa Leo (Det. Kay Howard), Clark Johnson (Det. Frank Lewis), Jon Polito (Det. Steve Crosetti), Michelle Forbes (Dr. Julianna Cox), Callie Tjorne (Det. Laura Ballard), Michael Michele (Dr. Carol Blyth), Kyle Secor (Det. Tim Bayliss), Toni Lewis (Det. Terri Stivers), Jon Seda (Det. Paul Falsone), Isabella Hofmann (Meagn Russert), Zelijko Ivanek (Det. Ed Fanvers).

3676 Homicide Squad. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1955). The syndicated title for Mark Saber. See this title for information.

3677 Hondo. (Series; Western; ABC; 1967). The Arizona Territory during the late 1860s is the setting. Stories relate incidents in the life of Hondo Lane, a United States Army troubleshooter, as he attempts to resolve the bloodthirsty conflict between settlers and the Apache Indians over the possession of land.

Hondo travels with his dog, Sam. Buffalo Baker is Hondo’s partner; Angie Dow, a widow, is a settler Hondo befriends; Johnny Dow is Angie’s son; Vittorio is the Apache Chief; Captain Richards is Hondo’s superior. Based on the feature film.

Cast: Ralph Taeger (Hondo Lane), Noah Beery, Jr. (Buffalo Baker), Kathie Brown (Angie Dow), Buddy Foster (Johnny Dow), Michael Pate (Chief Vittorio), Gary Clarke (Captain Richards).

3678 Honest Al's A-OK Used Car and Trailer Rental Tigers. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 1/78). When the Tigers, a youth league football team lose their sponsor, “Honest” Al, the owner of Honest Al’s Used Cars and Trailer Rentals, becomes the team’s new sponsor. The unsold series was to relate Al’s misadventures as he tries to run a business and manage a group of kids. Other Regulars: Franklin, his mechanic; Ethel, Franklin’s aunt; and the kids: Moody, Doc and Chicago.

Cast: Herb Edelman (Honest Al), Danny Bonaduce (Franklin), Zoey Wilson (Aunt Ethel), Kyra Stempel (Moody), Marc Jason (Doc), J.R. Miller (Chicago).

3679 Honestly, Celeste. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1954). Celeste Anders is a young Minnesota college journalism teacher. She wants to bring more to her students than what is written in textbooks. She wants to bring them their real-life experiences. With that ambition, Celeste moves to New York and, although not really qualified to be a reporter, her book-knowledge experience of journalism, lands her a job as a cub reporter on a newspaper called The New York Express. Stories follow Celeste as she struggles to acquire real journalism experience.

Mr. Wallace is the paper’s editor; Bob Wallace, his son, is Celeste’s romantic interest; Marty Gordon is Celeste’s friend, a cab driver; Mary is Mr. Wallace’s secretary.

Cast: Celeste Holm (Celeste Anders), Geoffrey Lumb (Mr. Wallace), Scott McKay (Bob Wallace), Mike Kellin (Marty Gordon), Mary Finney (Mary), Henry Jones (The Obit Editor), Frederic Worlock (Also).

3680 Honey, I Shrank the Kids: The TV Series. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1997–2000). Matheson is a small town in Colorado that is also the home of Wayne Szlinski, an ingenious inventor whose creations often backfire.

Wayne is married to Diane and is the father of Amy and Nicholas. They live at 6808 Bonnie Meadow Court and have a dog named Quark.

Wayne works as a research scientist for Jen Tech West Labs, a company whose motto is “Exceptional Living Through Expensive Technology.” While Wayne enjoys the scientific challenges of his job, he finds pure satisfaction at home in his private attic lab where he has invented such devices as the Shrink Ray, the Time Hopper (for travel through time) and the Igloo of Health (a plastic isolation bubble).

It was when Wayne was in college that his life changed. He was exploring a cave as part of a science project when he discovered a strange, glowing metal. After experimenting with the metal, Wayne determined that it was alien in nature as it produced extraordinary power. He called his find “Szlinskism” and it enabled him to invent items no one else could.

Diane is a successful lawyer with Coleman and Associates who often becomes the “victim” of one of Wayne’s inventions when it backfires (for example, becoming a gorgeous but evil Egyptian queen; reverting back to a 16-year-old girl; aging far beyond her years; speaking in rhymes).

Amy, called “Ames” by Wayne, is a pretty 16-year-old girl who attends Matheson High School (where she is a member of the Spartans’ basketball team). Amy worries that her father’s wacky inventions are ruining her reputation. When Amy tinkered with Wayne’s Neuron Nudger (a device to improve mental power) she acquired amazing powers and sought to become Mistress of the Universe. Amy also became a victim of Wayne’s Suntan Block (made from fish oils) that slowly turned her into a mermaid.

Nicholas, called Nick and “The Nick Meister” by Wayne, attends Matheson Elementary School. He is very smart and seems to be following in Wayne’s footsteps (as he understands the logic behind what his father invents). He is a member of the Science Club at school.

Stories relate the problems the family encounters as a result of Wayne’s wacky inventions. Jake McKenna is the police chief; H. Gordon Jennings is Wayne’s boss. The series is based on the theatrical feature Honey I Shrank the Kids.

Cast: Peter Scolari (Wayne Szlinski), Barbara Alyn Woods (Diane Szlinski), Hillary Tuck (Amy Szlinski), Thomas Dekker (Nicholas Szlinski), George Buza (Chief Jake McKenna), Bruce Jarchow (H. Gordon Jennings).

3681 Honey West. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1965–1966). H. West and Company is a Los Angeles-based private detective agency owned by Honey West, a shapely (36–24–34) blonde who inherited the business and her partner (Sam Bolt) from her late father. Sam made a promise that he would look after Honey and keep her out of trouble if anything should happen to her father. Honey has assisted her father and Sam and has now become a much sought-after detective.

Honey operates out of her luxurious apartment at 6033 Del Mar Vista in Los Angeles. She is shrewd, uncanny and capable of defending herself. Although she does possess a black belt in karate, she does take an occasional beating. Honey uses the latest in scientific equipment and incorporates a mobile base of operations disguised as a television repair truck.

Honey is always elegantly dressed (although on assignments she dresses in black) and has a pet ocelot named Bruce. The wall displaying various vases in Honey’s apartment is actually the secret entrance to her lab behind the living room wall. Honey carries a gun — and uses it. She is not afraid of confrontation and is not always successful and does let clients down. She and Sam try to cooperate with the police but Honey can't promise they will always go by the book.

"That West dame and her partner, they're tough to handle," say felons. Sam is always there for Honey although he does sometimes arrive too late to save Honey from getting roughed up. He thinks Honey is a born cynic as she believes every case is connected to a murder. Sam also feels Honey is not as effective as her father when he ran the company.

Honey has a tendency to let cases pile up and becomes too focused on a case when it gets the best of her.

The pilot episode, "Honey West: Who Killed the Jackpot," aired on Burke's Law on April 12, 1965. Here Honey and Sam seek the person who killed their client three days after he hired them to protect him. Joseph Mullendore composed the opening theme "Wild Honey" and the closing signature "Sweet Honey."

Cast: Anne Francis (Honey West), John Ericson (Sam Bolt), Irene Hervey (Meg West; Honey's aunt).

3682 Honeymoon Hotel. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987). The alternate title for Isabel Sanford's Honeymoon Hotel. See this title for information.

3683 The Honeymoon Race. (Series; Game; ABC; 1967–1968). Three newlywed couples compete in a scavenger hunt. The couples are situated in the Hollywood Mall Shopping Center in Florida. The players are each given a series of clues and have to find the items they represent. The couples who find the most items are the winners and receive the articles as their prizes.

Host: Bill Malone.

3684 Honeymoon Suite. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 1/30/73). Comedy vignettes that depict brief incidents in the lives of couples who check into Room 300 of the plush Honeymoon Suite of the Beverly Hills Hotel. Regulars: Maggie, the maid; Charlie the bellboy; and Duncan, the hotel manager.

Three stories were presented:

1. Continental Pickup. A sophisticated Italian movie director named Valentine (Gavin MacLeod) tries to seduce an innocent librarian named Sophie (Mitzi McCall).

2. Letting Go, Maybe tells of a newlywed couple (Tammi Shaw and Bruce Kimmell) who can't retire to their connubial bed because the bride's father (Ted Knight) can't bear to give up his daughter. Pat Carroll plays the bride's mother.

3. Death Takes a Honeymoon tells of Peter (Roger Perry) and Mildred (Jo Anne Worley), an unhappily married couple who try to knock each other off so they can enjoy the real objects of their affections: Brenda (Elaine Giftos) and Bob (Ronnie Schell).

Cast: Rose Marie (Maggie), Morey Amsterdam (Charlie), Richard Deacon (Duncan).

3685 Honeymoon Suite II. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 10/23/73). A second pilot about brief incidents in the lives of couples who check into Room 300 of the plush Honeymoon Suite of the Beverly Hills Hotel (see also Honeymoon Suite). Regulars: Maggie, the maid; Charlie, the bellboy; and Duncan, the hotel manager.

Four stores were presented:

1. The Night the Walls Came Tumbling Down. Amanda Conway (Fannie Flagg) and Arthur Conway (Herb Edelman) are not related, but through the misguided but well-meaning efforts of Maggie and Charlie, the two wind up sharing the honeymoon suite for the night.

2. The Bust. Murray (Gary Collins) is a vice cop. Mona (Mary Ann Mobley) is a narcotics police woman. They meet at the hotel's bar, become chummy and agree to spend the night together in the honeymoon suite. Each is unaware of the other's profession and the vignette depicts the mishaps that occur when he believes she is a hooker and she believes he is a drug dealer.

3. Pen Pals. Raymond (Chuck McCann) and Estelle (Renee Lippin) are pen pals who, through correspondence, have agreed to marry. Both are overweight and each is afraid to meet the other. They send friends Tom (John Fink) and Patty (Amanda McBroom) to impersonate them. The story shows that looks do not always count when the four come face to face at the hotel.

4. I Don't, I Don't. Michael Callan plays Gerald Hampshire, a nervous groom with a major problem — no bride.

Cast: Rose Marie (Maggie), Henry Gibson (Charlie), Richard Deacon (Duncan).

3686 The Honeymooners. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955–1956). Ralph and Alice Kramden are an argumentative married couple that live in an apartment at 728 Chauncey Street (358½ Chauncey Street in Jackie Gleason Show segments) in Bensonhurst, Brooklyn, New York. Their best friends are upstairs neighbors Ed Norton and his wife Trixie.

Ralph works as a bus driver (the Madison Avenue route) for the Gotham Bus Company. He attended P.S. 73 grammar school and at age 14 had his first job as a newspaper delivery boy. He met his future wife, Alice Gibson, during a winter snowstorm. Ralph was assigned to shovel snow by the WPA and met Alice, a WPA employee handing out snow shovels.

Alice is not a demanding wife. She doesn't have any modern conveniences and feels that living in a tent would be better than the archaic apartment she and Ralph now occupy. She puts up with Ralph and his constant yelling (and promises to provide her with everything when his ship comes in) because she loves him.

“Hominia, homina, homina” is what Ralph says when he doesn’t know what to say; “I’ve got a big mouth!” is what he says when he realizes he shouldn’t have said something. Ralph is easily aggravated and believes he is the head of the house — “I give the orders, I make the decisions” or so he thinks. Ralph is thought of as cheap and hopes, through one of his crazy ideas (as Alice calls them) to make a fortune. He and Ed are members of the Raccoon Lodge.

Ed works as an “Engineer in Subterranean Sanitation” (a sewer worker for the Department of Sanitation). Ed tried working in an office after his release from the army but he couldn’t stand being cooped up in an office. Ed and Trixie are happily married and Ed always becomes a part of Ralph’s guaranteed to fail get rich quick schemes. Stories, which are now a classic depiction of life in the 1950s, relate events in the lives of the two couples.

Cast: Jackie Gleason (Ralph Kramden), Audrey Meadows (Alice Kramden), Art Carney (Ed Norton), Joyce Randolph (Trixie Norton), George O. Petrie (Various Roles), Frank Marth (Various Roles). Announcer: Gaylord Avery, Jack Lescoulie. Theme Song: “You Are My Greatest Love” by Jackie Gleason, Bill Templeton.

Note: Jackie Gleason first played Ralph Kramden on DuMont’s Cavalcade of Stars from 1950 to 1952. Art Carney was Ed Norton, Pert Kelton was Alice Kramden, and Elaine Stritch was Trixie Norton. A series of Honeymooners segments appeared on The Jackie Gleason Show (CBS, 1952–1955) featuring the same cast as the 1955 series. The same cast returned to a new Jackie Gleason Show (CBS, 1956–1961) wherein additional Honeymooners segments were produced. These segments were originally syndicated as The Lost Honeymooners (they have been re-titled [The Honeymooners] are now combined with the original 1955 series episodes).

On Jackie Gleason and His American Scene Magazine (CBS, 1962–1966), Jackie Gleason and Art Carney reprised their roles as Ralph and Ed with Sue Ane Langdon and Patricia Wilson as Alice and Trixie in short Honeymooners segments. Jackie and Art reprised their roles of Ralph and Ed with Sheila MacRae and Jane Kean as Alice and Trixie in short and then full-hour episodes of The Honeymooners on The Jackie Gleason Show (CBS, 1966–1970). The hour segments produced in 1970 are syndicated as The Honeymooners European Vacation. This cast repeated their roles on two Jackie Gleason Specials (CBS, 12/12/70 and 11/11/73).

Four additional ABC specials aired with Jackie Gleason, Art Carney, Sheila MacRae and Jane Kean reprising their roles. See The Honeymooners Second Honeymoon, The Honeymooners Christmas, The Honeymooners Valentine Special and The Honeymooners Christmas Special.

3687 The Honeymooners Christmas. (Series Extension; Comedy; ABC; 11/28/77). An extension episode based on the 1955 CBS series The Honeymooners. The story finds bus driver Ralph Kramden attempting to direct a stage play of A Christmas Carol for his fraternity, the Raccoon Lodge. Alice is Ralph’s wife; Ed and Trixie Norton are their friends.

Cast: Jackie Gleason (Ralph Kramden), Audrey Meadows (Alice Kramden), Art Carney (Ed Norton), Jane Kean (Trixie Norton). Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

3688 The Honeymooners Christmas. (Series Extension; Comedy; ABC; 12/10/78). The story, an extension episode based on the 1955 Honeymooners series, finds Ralph Kramden attempting one of his famous get rich quick schemes: gambling his and neighbor Ed Norton’s life savings on lottery tickets in an attempt to win one million dollars. Alice is Ralph’s wife; Trixie is Ed’s wife.

Cast: Jackie Gleason (Ralph Kramden), Audrey Meadows (Alice Kramden), Art Carney (Ed Norton), Jane Kean (Trixie Norton). Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

3689 The Honeymooners Second Honeymoon. (Series Extension; Comedy; ABC; 2/2/76). Ed and Trixie Norton reunite with their friends Ralph and Alice Kramden to celebrate Ralph and Alice’s 35th wedding anniversary in this extension episode based on the original Honeymooners series.

Cast: Jackie Gleason (Ralph Kramden), Audrey Meadows (Alice Kramden), Art Carney (Ed Norton), Jane Kean (Trixie Norton). Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

3690 The Honeymooners Valentine Special. (Series Extension; Comedy; ABC; 2/13/78). Bus driver Ralph Kramden believes his wife, Alice, is having an affair with another man and planning to kill him when he overhears a conversation and, as usual, jumps to the wrong conclusion in this extension episode based on the original Honeymooners series. With the help of his friend, Ed Norton, Ralph goes “undercover” and learns the awful truth: Alice had been planning to surprise Ralph with a new suit for Valentine’s day.

Cast: Jackie Gleason (Ralph Kramden), Audrey Meadows (Alice Kramden), Art Carney (Ed Norton), Jane Kean (Trixie Norton). Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

3691 Hong Kong. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1960–1961). Glen Evans is a foreign correspondent based in Hong Kong. He works for the World Wide News Service and lives at 24 Peak Road.

Glen is not a man who sits back and let others do the work. When a story comes his way he needs to get in the field and investigate. He is also not one to walk away from a confrontation. Stories follow Glen as he often risks his life to get stories.

Fong (1960) and Ling (1961) are Glen's houseboys; Neil Campbell is the police chief; Tully is the owner of Glen's favorite watering hole, Tully's Bar; and Ching Mei is a waitress at the Golden Dragon Café. Lionel Newman composed the "Hong Kong" theme.

Cast: Rod Taylor (Glenn Evans), Lloyd Bochner (Neil Campbell), Jack Kruschen (Tully), Mai Tai Sing (Ching Mei), Harold Fong (Fong), Gerald Jann (Ling), Maria McClay (Glenn's secretary).

Voice Cast: Scatman Crothers (Henry/Hong Kong Phooey), Joe E. Ross (Sgt. Flint), Kathi Gori (Rosemary), Don Messick (Spot).

3693 The Hooper. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/15/66). The world of show business during the 1920s was the setting for an unsold series about Donald Dugan and Freddy Brady, a struggling vaudeville comedy team trying to make a name for themselves. In the pilot episode, Donald and Freddy seek another way to make a booking in Chicago when Freddy loses the train fare to a loan shark.

Cast: Donald O'Connor (Donald Dugan), Soupy Sales (Freddy Brady), Jerome Cowan (Brainsley Gordon, their agent). Guest Cast: Jackie Coogan (finnegan), Cliff Norton (Wake), Jolene Brand (Wanda), Carole Cook (Nurse), Ray Kellogg (Orderly), Ned Glass (Professor).

3694 Hooperman. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1987–1989). Harry Hooperman is an inspector with the San Francisco Police Department. He is single and lives with his vicious little dog, Bijoux. Harry is also a landlord and owns an apartment building at 633 Columbus Street. Harry is dating a girl named Alex and for relaxation he plays saxophone at a club owned by Max on Tuesday nights. Harry's car code is 5-George-35 and stories relate the hectic events in his life as he struggles to be a cop, landlord and normal guy just seeking a little peace and quiet from life.

Other Regulars: Celeste Stern, the police captain; Officer Betty Bushkin, the police dispatcher; Susan Smith, Harry's building manager; Gail Minkoff, the seedy lawyer; T.J., the cabbie; Police Officers Boris "Bobo" Pritzger, Maureen "Mo" DeMott, Clarence McNeal and Rick Silardi; Lou, Celeste's husband; Rudy, Harry's complaining tenant; and Susan's mother. Mike Post composed the theme.

Cast: John Ritter (Insp. Harry Hooperman), Barbara Bosson (Capt. Celeste Stern), Debrah Farentino (Susan Smith), Daphne Ashbrook (Alex), Sydney Walsh (Off. Betty Bushkin), Clarence Felder (Det. Boris Pritzger), Felton Perry (Det. Clarence McNeal), Joseph Gain (Off. Rick Silardi), Jim Haynie (Max), Andrew Divoff (Rudy), Dan Lauria (Lou Stern), Lee Garlington (Gail Minkoff), Rod Gist (T.J.), Britches (Bijoux).

Cast: Herschel Bernardi (Jerome P. Baggley), Joyce Jameson (Vanda Renee), Joan Blondell (Miss Zilke), John Litel (Albert P. Leviathan), Ruby Keeler (Ruby). Guest Cast: Bobby Troup (Gardner), George Sidney (Executive), Marvin Kaplan (Marvin).

3696 Hooray for Love. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/9/63). The comic struggles of a young newlywed couple (Sky and Abby Young). In the pilot episode, Sky must choose between a lucrative job with his father-in-law's trucking business, or continue with his education (seeking a Ph.D.). Other Regulars: Clara and Gillie, Abby's parents; and Otis, Sky's friend.

Cast: Darryl Hickman (Schuyler "Sky" Young), Yvonne Craig (Abby Young), Beverly Willis (Clara Boone), Don Edmonds (Gillie Boone), Alvy Moore (Otis Platt), Cherylene Lee (Samantha Soo; guest role).

3697 Hootenanny. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1963). Folk music artists are given the spotlight on a weekly series that goes on location (various college campuses) to present performances by professional as well as talented amateur bands and singers.

Host: Jack Linkletter. Featured: Glenn Yarbrough. Music: The Chad Mitchell Trio.

3698 Hopalong Cassidy. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1948). Hopalong Cassidy is a rancher (the owner of the Bar 20 Ranch) and a daring defender of range justice in the Old West. Stories relate his adventures as he and his partner, Red Connors, help people who are unable to help themselves (protecting them from outlaws).

In 1935 producer Harry Sherman bought the screen rights to Clarence E. Mulford's Hopalong Cassidy stories. Offered a chance to star in the first film, William Boyd accepted, but refused to play the part of the ranch foreman. His assistance awarded him the role of Cassidy. As written, Cassidy was originally an illiterate, “tobacco-chewin’, hard drinkin’, able-swearin’ son of the Old West who got his nickname because of a limp.” However, when the first feature film, Hop-a-Long Cassidy was released by Paramount, Boyd dropped everything that the original literary character had possessed, including the limp, with an explanation in the second film that the wound had healed (although the nickname stuck). Between 1935 and 1948, sixty-six Hopalong Cassidy films were made. A half-hour television series appeared in 1948; a thirty-minute radio series, also starring William Boyd, appeared on Mutual in 1949. Hopalong rides a horse named Topper and the TV series produced 99 episodes.

Cast: William Boyd (Hopalong Cassidy), Edgar Buchanan (Red Connors).

3699 Hope and Faith. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2003–2006). Hope Shanoski is a 35-year-old housewife who lives at 22 Cherry Lane in Glen Falls, Ohio. She is married to Charlie, a dentist, and is the mother of Sydney, Hayley and Justin.

Faith Fairfield is Hope’s sister, a once famous TV soap opera star (10 years on The Sacred and the Sinful) who lost her job (written out) and has returned to her childhood town of Glen Falls to live with Hope and her family (she claims to have no money and no prospects for a job other than in show business).

Faith lives in the glory of her past and hopes to one day return to New York (where her soap was taped) and once again make her mark on the world. In the meantime she is struggling to adjust to a much simpler life — and in doing so causes numerous problems for the family, especially for Hope, who always becomes the innocent victim in her harebrained schemes to make money. Faith is quite dense and Charlie feels his life is plagued by Faith as he is always the one who has to step in and get her (and Hope) out of trouble. Faith does show promise. In last season episodes she (and Hope) began a food catering company (You Gotta Have Hope and Faith Catering). Faith also held a brief job as the weather girl on WGFLN-TV, Channel 13.

Hope is a very pretty simple girl who likes life to be uncomplicated. She is a bit of a control freak and loves to go shopping. She is not as sexy or flamboyant as Faith but is a bit envious that Faith’s breasts are larger (something Faith flaunts; although Hope says “their fake boobs” she does wish she were as busty). Hope also held a job as a columnist (“Life in the Carpool Lane”) for the Glen Falls Gazette.

Sydney is the eldest child, a sophomore at Grant High School. She is gorgeous and totally devoted to looking the best she can. While smart, she is not addicted to school work and believes she can get by on her physical assets. Younger sister Hayley is pretty and very smart. Her life revolves around her ability to improve her mind and while she could be very attractive, she doesn’t dress to impress boys. Justin, the youngest, is smart but not as intellectual as Hayley. He is easily impressed by others and often takes on their persona to impress people (for example, several episodes portray him as imitating Frank Sinatra).

In the original unaired pilot film, Josh Stamberg played Charlie; Brie Larson was Sydney and Slade Pearce was Justin.

Cast: Faith Ford (Hope Shanoski), Kelly Ripa (Faith Fairfield), Ted McGinley (Charlie Shanoski), Nicole Paggi (Sydney Shanoski), Megan Fox (Sydney Shanoski; later), Macey Cruthird (Hayley Shanoski), Paul Litowsky (Justin Shanoski), Dixie Carter (Joyce Shanoski, Charlie’s mother), Hal Holbrook (Edward Shanoski, Charlie’s father).

3700 Hope and Gloria. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995). Hope Davidson and Gloria Utz are friends who share adjoining apartments (Hope, 3-C; Gloria, 3-B) in Pittsburgh. Hope is a bit wild and unpredictable and always looking for a good time. Gloria is shy, sweet and vulnerable and not the party girl type (she feels comfortable in her own environment). Hope calls Gloria a “Gushy Gush” and is trying to make her more aggressive.

Hope is divorced (after ten years of marriage) and works as the producer of The Dennis Dupree Show (which airs on WPNN, Channel 5). Gloria is also divorced and the mother of a five-year-old son (Sonny). Gloria works as a hair stylist at Cookie’s Salon; her ex-husband, Louis, works for Bud Green’s Carpetorium.

Dennis Dupree is the obnoxious star of the talk show (which airs daily at 4:00 P.M.). He has been in television for 23 years and his mentor is Merv Griffin, the creator of Wheel of Fortune (who called him “The Kid”). Dennis began his career on radio (WNYW in New York) with Regis Philbin as co-hosts of The Morning Zoo Program. Dennis has also written a black musical called Man and Woman (“I maybe white, but I’m black on the inside”). Stories follow the incidents that spark he lives of Hope and Gloria — when they are apart (at their jobs although Gloria often visits Hope at the station) and when they are together after work.

Cast: Cynthia Stevenson (Hope Davidson), Jessica Lundy (Gloria Utz), Alan Thicke (Dennis Dupree), Robert Garrova (Sonny Utz).

3701 Hope Division. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/17/87). A proposed series about James Reynolds (black) and Anne Russell (white), homicide detectives with the Hope Division of the L.A.P.D. In the pilot episode, Reynolds and Russell seek a killer who preys on prostitutes. Other Regulars: Lieutenant Bruce Thorpe; Lilah, James’s wife; Melissa and Louis, James’s children; and Jenny, Anne’s daughter.

Cast: Dorian Harewood (James Reynolds), Mimi Kuzak (Anne Russell), H. Richard Green (Bruce Thorpe), Hattie Winston (Lilah Reynolds), Saban Shawel (Melissa Reynolds), Cliff Magee (Louis Reynolds), Hayley Carr (Jenny Russell). Guest Cast: K Callan (Carolyn Braden), Elizabeth Savage (Mrs. Coe), Mason Adams (Peter Braden), Sam McMurray (Frank McGee), Richard Keeler (Marty Soames).

3702 Hoppity Hopper. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1962). The shortened TV Guide title for The Adventures of Hoppity Hopper from Foggy Bogg. See this title for information.

3703 The Horace Heidt Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950–1951). Band leader Horace Heidt spotlights performances by promising young talent (who appear with the hope of achieving a booking). Glenn Miller and Ralph Branton are the producers.

Host: Horace Heidt. Announcer: Clayton “Bud” Collyer. Orchestra: Horace Heidt.

3704 Hornblower. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 2/28/63). England in 1803 when the Crown was at war with France is the setting. A proposed series about Horatio Hornblower, captain of the HMS Firedrake, a British warship. The pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Premiere, relates Horatio’s sea search for his missing sister ship, the Flame. Based on the stories by C.S. Forester.

Cast: David Buck (Captain Horatio Hornblower), Terence Longdon (Lieutenant Bush), Peter Arne (Nathaniel Sweet), Sean Kelly (Lieutenant Carlon), Jeremy Bulloch (Midshipman Bowser).

3705 Horseland. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 2005–). The area in and around a stable called Horseland is the setting. Here, beside a group of humans, also live a dog (Shep) a cat (Angora), and a pig (Teeny). Through the observations of these animals (as they speak but only among themselves), the activities of five close girlfriends (Alma Rodriguez, sisters Chloe and Zoe Stilton, Molly Washington and Sarah Whitney) are depicted as they interact with each other and share their love of horses.

Alma’s horse is Button; Chili is Chloe’s horse; Zoe rides Pepper; Scarlet is ridden by Sarah; and Molly rides Calypso. Will is the stableman (his parents own Horseland) and has a horse named Jimber.

Voices: Dana Donlan, Emily Hernandez, Bianca Heyward, David Kalis, Jerry Longe, Vincent Michael, Marissa Shea, Aleyah Smith, Michelle Zacharia.

3706 H.O.T. (Pilot; Music; Syn.; 1/84). The pilot episode for the syndicated (6/84) series of the same title that features H.O.T. (Hits of Today) music videos.

Host: Michael Binder. Announcer: Tom Pino. Theme Music: “HOT” Chris Christian.

3707 H.O.T. (Series; Music; Syn.; 6/84). A daily series based on the prior title that features a countdown of the top music videos (sort of in the style of what MTV does today). The title refers to the Hits of Today and is also designed to give airplay to a lesser known (or totally unknown) group on each broadcast.

Host: Claud Mann. Announcer: Tom Pino. Theme Music: “HOT” by Chris Christian.

3708 Hot City Disco. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1978). A short lived (13 episode) weekly series that spotlights performances by disco artists.

Hosts: Shadoc Stevens, David Jones. Regulars: The Jeff Kutect Dancers. Theme Music: Vernee White, Robert Wright, Gary Goetzman.

3709 Hot Country Nights. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1991–1992). A Sunday evening program that spotlights the biggest names in country and western music. Guests host and the program also features country comedians and a segment called “Hot New Hit Maker” that showcases a promising singer. The series is produced by Dick Clark. The John Hobbs Orchestra provides the music.

3710 Hot Dog. (Series; Children; NBC; 1970–1971). An interesting program, aimed at children that explores in a humorous light the mysteries that surround the making of everyday items.

Regulars: Woody Allen, Jonathan Winters, Jo Anne Worley.

3711 Hot Footage. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/15/60). A proposed spin-off from G.E. Theater about Jonathan Love, a TV news cameraman, and Hank Wahr, his competition, a cameraman for a rival news service. In the pilot episode, Love and Wahr head for Acapulco to cover the mysterious torpedo bombing of a freighter.

Cast: Richard Greene (Jonathan Love), Robert Strauss (Hank Wahr), Hazel Court (Vicky Phillips), Jerome Cowan (Editor), Fernando Wagner (Joseph Karnak), Elsa Cardenas (Senorita).

3712 Hot Hero Sandwich. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1979–1982). A potpourri of celebrity interviews, music and comedy aimed at young people. The series premiered on November 10, 1979 and ran until April 5, 1980. NBC aired two additional episodes: one on November 2, 1982 and one on December 7, 1982.

Regulars: Vicky Dawson, Paul O’Keefe, Matt McCoy, Denny Dillon, Nan-Lynn Nelson, Jarrett Smithwick, L. Michael Craig, Andy Breckman, Andrew Duncan, Frankie Faison, Sandra McClain, Adam Ross, Claudette Sutherland. Music Director: Felix Pappalardi. Theme Music: “Hot Hero Sandwich” by Bruce Hart, Stephen Lawrence.

3714 Hot l Baltimore. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1975). Life in the seedy Hotel Baltimore (the title reflects the fact that the E in the neon sign has burned out) as seen through the activities of the eleven people who live like a family in the decaying Maryland establishment. Based on the Broadway play of the same title.

Bill Lewis is the desk clerk; Clifford Ainsley is the hotel manager; Suzy and April are prostitutes who reside at the hotel; Winthrop Morse is the cantankerous old man; Charles Bingham is the philosopher; Jackie is the young, unemployed girl; Millie is the waitress; Esmee Belotti is the mother of the never-seen psychotic younger, Moose; George and Gordon are homosexuals (and one of the earliest examples of gays being a regular part of a series).

Cast: James Cromwell (Bill Lewis), Richard Masur (Clifford Ainsley), Jeannie Linero (Suzy Marta Rocket), Conchata Ferrell (April Green), Stan Gottlieb (Winthrop Morse), Al Freeman, Jr. (Charles Bingham), Robin Wilson (Jackie), Gloria LeRoy (Millie), Charlotte Rae (Esmee Belotti), Lee Bergere (George), Henry Calvert (Gordon).

3716 Hot Metal. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1988). A British produced series that takes a lighthearted look at England's Fleet Street Journalists as seen through the experiences of Howard Stringer, executive editor of The Daily Crucible, a struggling newspaper. Terrence Rathbone is the paper's owner; Russell Spam is Howard's assistant (the same performer plays both roles), and Greg Kettler is a reporter.

Cast: Geoffrey Palmer (Howard Stringer), Robert Hardy (Terrence Rathbone/Russell Spam), John Gordon Sinclair (Greg Kettler).

3717 Hot Music. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1984). A daily countdown of the week's top thirty music videos (as determined by a viewer poll). The revised series title for what originally aired as H.O.T. See this title for information.

3718 Hot Off the Wire. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1960). The shortened title for The Jim Backus Show: Hot Off the Wire. See this title for information.

3719 Hot Potato. (Series; Game; NBC; 1984). Two three-member teams compete. A question containing seven possible answers is read. The returning champions receive the first opportunity to answer the question. They can answer it themselves or pass it to their opponents. If they choose to answer it themselves and are correct they score one point; if the player who answers (each takes a turn) is incorrect, he is disqualified from that round and the opponents can score the point if a correct answer is given. A seven-point round is played and the team with the highest score (in a two-out-of-three game match) is the winner. The champions then receive the opportunity to win $5,000 by answering a series of questions that begin at $300 and increase with difficulty to $5,000.

Host: Bill Cullen. Announcer: Charlie O'Donnell.

3720 Hot Properties. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2005). Ava Summerlin, Chloe Reid, Emerson Ives and Lola Hernandez are four beautiful women who work for Summerlin and Associates Realty Company in Manhattan. Ava started the company in 1995 with the philosophy "We are not only real estate agents, we're matchmakers for people and homes." Stories follow the women as they try to follow Ava's creed and not only match people with homes but people with people.

Ava is somewhat self-centered and is an expert on makeup. She is from a rich family and has a tendency to wear blouses whose buttons rarely stay buttoned (she feels the sexy bras she wears help sell properties).

Chloe constantly puts herself down. She feels she is pretty but yearns for bigger breasts. She feels this will give her power and the ability to make a lasting impression on people.

Lola is the sexiest of the women and feels she is only attracted to gay men but is not aware of it at first. She was married to a gay man for 10 years before he left her when he discovered he was gay.

Other Regulars: Mary, the agency receptionist; and doctors Charlie Thorpe and Sellers Boyd, friends of the women. Charlie is a plastic surgeon; Sellers, a psychologist.

3721 Hot Prospects. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/31/89). Silverberg, California, a small gold mining town in 1902, is the setting for an unsold series about Ben Braddock, a former prospector who opens a restaurant in a train depot. Other Regulars: Ben's waitresses, Lorelei and Molly; Goldie, the brothel owner; Franklin Roosevelt, Ben's cook; and Blackie, the town banker.

Cast: George Clooney (Ben Braddock), Crystal Bernard (Lorelei LaRue), Leann Hunley (Goldie), Cathy Ladman (Molly Singer), James Watkins (Franklin Roosevelt), Steve Tobolowsky (Blackie). Guest Cast: Dee Dee Rescher (Lola), Phyllis Lyons (Charlotte Slaughter), Bert Rosario (Colonel Julian), Tony Longo (Hoss), Robert Alan Browne (Butcher), Robert Telford (Marshal), Denise Gallup (Yvonne), Dian Gallup (Yvette).

3722 Hot Pursuit. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1984). In an attempt to stop her husband from squandering company money to develop a car she feels will be a disaster, Estelle Modrian arranges for his murder. When Estelle learns that her husband, Victor, has promised a share of the profits to Kate Wyler, the designer of the car, she decides to use Kate in her plan.

On the pretext that one of their horses is sick, Estelle phones Kate's husband, Jim, a veterinarian. While Jim is at the Modrian home, Victor is shot — and a woman fitting Kate's description is seen fleeing from the scene. Kate, who has no alibi, is arrested and later charged with murder when a gun with her fingerprints is found.

Sometime later, while in a bar, Jim spots the dead ringer but is unable to capture her after she spots him and escapes. When Jim tries to convince authorities that Kate was set up, no one will believe him. Jim devises a plan. He ambushes the car that is carrying Kate to prison and the two escape. The series follows their adventures as Kate and Jim become the pursued and the pursuer — on the run from the law and the real killers — and searching for the only hope they have of clearing themselves — the impersonator.

Other Regulars: Alex Shaw, Estelle's henchman; Edward Wyler, Jim's father; Stephanie Josephson, Jim's sister; Jody, Stephanie's daughter.

Cast: Teri Keane (Kate Wyler), Eric Pierpoint (Jim Wyler), Dina Merrill (Estelle Modrian), Mitchell Ryan (Edward Wyler), Deidre Hall (Stephanie Josephson), Deborah Foreman (Jody Josephson), Bradford Dillman (Victor Modrian; first episode).

3723 Hot Seat. (Series; Game; ABC; 1976). Two husband-and-wife teams play, but compete one at a time. One member is placed in the Hot Seat, a skin response machine that measures emotional reactions. The sound is turned off in the booth and the other member is asked a question that requires a specific answer. The player chooses the answer that he feels will register highest on the machine when his mate is asked the same question. Correct predictions award players points. The highest scoring couple is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Jim Peck. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

3724 Hot Shots. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1986). Amanda Reed and Jason West are reporters for Crime World, a national magazine devoted to reporting the facts behind crimes. Amanda is a carefree young woman who believes in taking chances and risking her life if it means getting the facts (and solving crimes). Jason, on the other hand, is a more conservative and believes in caution while investigating a case. Jason, however, is rarely able to convince Amanda of his beliefs and always winds up protecting her while risking his life to gather the facts. Nicholas Broderick is their editor.

Cast: Dorothy Parke (Amanda Reed), Booth Savage (Jason West), Paul Burke (Nicholas Broderick).

3725 Hot W.A.C.S. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/1/81). Privates Pamela Jordan, Kitty Trumpp and Leslie Bates are U.S. Army W.A.C.S. stationed at Fort Ord in Monterey, California. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they attempt to adjust to military life. In the pilot episode, the girls participate in a survival test to save the honor of their platoon.

Cast: Ellen Regan (Pamela Jordan), Dana Vance (Kitty Trumpp), Damita Jo Freeman (Leslie Bates), Julie Payne (Major Janet Morehead), Susan Duvall (Private Charlene Kellogg), Rebecca Holden (Private Heather Cassidy), Richard Jaekel (Major Philip Seabrook). Guest Cast: David-James Carroll (Sergeant O'Neal), Herbert Voland (Colonel Loveday), Sandy Helberg (Private Duckworth), Robert Lussier (Robert).

3726 Hot Wheels. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1969–1971). The experiences of a group of responsible young teenage drivers who are members of the Hot Wheels automobile racing club in Metro City.

The program, aimed at teenagers, is designed to advocate automotive safety. Jack Wheeler is the club organizer; Janet Martin is Jack's girlfriend; Ardeth Pratt is the tomboy; Mother O'Hara is the owner of the local café hangout; Dexter Carter is the reckless driver; Doc Warren is the school's driving teacher; Mike Wheeler is Jack's father; and club members are Kip, Mickey Barnes and Tank Mallory.

Voice Cast: Bob Arbogast (Jack Wheeler), Melinda Casey (Janet Martin), Albert Brooks (Mickey Barnes), Susan Davis (Ardeth Pratt), Casey Kasem (Tank Mallory), Nora Marlowe (Mother O'Hara), Casey Kasem (Dexter Carter), Michael Rye (Mike Wheeler), Albert Brooks (Kip), Bob Arbogast (Doc Warren). Theme Vocal: "Hot Wheels" by Mike Curb and the Curbstones.

3727 Hotel. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1983–1988). Incidents in the lives of the guests who stay at the posh St. Gregory Hotel in San Francisco. The hotel is owned by Laura Trent and is overseen by Victoria Cabot. Peter McDermott is the manager. He is assisted by Christine Francis (she later becomes the manager when Peter inherits the hotel after Victoria's death).

Billy Griffin provides the hotel's security; Julie Gillette is the reservations clerk (later the Director of Guest Relations). Megan Kendall is the desk clerk and her husband, Dave is the bellhop.

Cheryl Dolan and Ryan Thomas are the receptionists in later episodes. Drew Hayward is the Director of Operations; and Eric Lloyd is the bellman.

Charles Cabot is Victoria's cousin; Kevin Walker is Victoria's nephew. Jack Cabot is Victoria's uncle and Jessica Cabot is Victoria's cousin. Janet McDermott is Peter's ex-wife; Jody "Jo" Payne is Peter niece. Roz Campbell is Peter's grandmother. Amanda Price is Julie's aunt; Bill Sr. is Bill's father. Dea Dolan is Cheryl's mother and Addie is Christine's aunt.

Cast: James Brolin (Peter McDermott), Bette Davis (Laura Trent), Anne Baxter (Victoria Cabot), Connie Sellecca (Christine Francis), Nathan Cook (Billy Griffin), Shari Belafonte (Julie Gillette), Heidi Bohay (Megan Kendall), Michael Spound (Dave Kendall), Valerie Landsburg (Cheryl Dolan), Susan Walters (Ryan Thomas), John Bennett Perry (Drew Hayward), Ty Miller (Eric Lloyd), Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (Charles Cabot), Timothy Patrick Murphy (Kevin Walker), Ralph Bellamy (Jack Cabot), Dina Merrill (Jessica Cabot), Lee Meriwether (Aunt Addie), Cathy Lee Crosby (Janet McDermott), Tori Spelling (Jody Payne), Martha Scott (Roz Campbell), Leslie Uggams (Amanda Price), Paul Winfield (Bill Griffin, Sr.), Lainie Kazan (Dea Dolan). Theme Song: "Hotel" by Henry Mancini.

3728 Hotel Babylon. (Series; Drama; BBC America; 2007). A British version of Hotel that relates incidents in the lives of guests who check into the elegant Hotel Babylon in England.

Rebecca Mitchell is the hotel director; Charlie Edwards is her assistant. Jackie Clunes is the head of housekeeping; Tony Casemore is the concierge; Anna Thornton-Wilton is the lobby receptionist. Like the American series, stories also focus on the efforts of the hotel staff to help patrons overcome their problems.

Cast: Tamzin Outhwaite (Rebecca Mitchell), Emma Pierson (Anna Thornton-Wilton), Max Beesley (Charlie Edwards), Dexter Fletcher (Tony Casemore), Natalie Mendoza (Jackie Clunes).

3729 Hotel Broadway. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1949). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy set against the background of the fictitious Manhattan-based Hotel Broadway, an establishment that spotlights both established and new talent discoveries. The series aired from January 20, 1949 to March 17, 1949. Harvey Marlowe is the producer.

Hostess: Jerri Blanchard. Regulars: Avon Long, Rose and Rana, The Striders. Music: The Harry Ranch Sextet.

3730 Hotel Cosmopolitan. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1957–1958). Dramatizations based on incidents in the lives of the people who frequent the Hotel Cosmopolitan as seen through the eyes of television actor Donald Woods.

Cast: Donald Woods (Himself), Henderson Forsythe (House Detective), Dinnie Smith, John Holmes, Walter Brooks, Tom Shirley.

3731 Hotel De Patee. (Series; Western; CBS; 1959–1960). "There is no law in Georgetown, Colorado [1870s]—only what a man makes for himself," says a man known only as Sundance, an ex-gunfighter turned law enforcer.

Sundance was born in Tombstone, Arizona, and is now half owner of the Hotel De Patee, "One of the West's most colorful gathering places." Sundance is partners with a French woman named Annette Devereaux and her niece, Monique.

Sundance, also called "The Sundance Kid," has a very special trademark: a black Stetson with a hatband of ten small mirrors. He has a dog named Useless and carries a Colt .45, which he will only use (or wear) when there is a need. Sundance also has a knack for whittling. Stories follow Sundance as he attempts to run the hotel and uphold the peace.

Aaron Donager runs Donager's General Store and is sweet on "Miss Annette" (who enjoys playing checkers with him). Dimitri Tiomkin composed the theme, "Sundance."

Cast: Earl Holliman (Sundance), Jeanette Nolan (Annette Devereaux), Judi Meredith (Monique Devereaux), Strother Martin (Aaron Donager).

3732 Hotel Malibu. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1994). On Malibu Beach in Southern California stands the Hotel Malibu, a fashionable establishment that is owned by the Mayfield family (Ellie, the widowed owner; her career-minded daughter, Stevie; and her scheming son, Jack). Incidents in their lives and the lives of their guests are dramatized.

Other Regulars: Nancy, a maid; Harry, the bartender; and Sal Lopez, a parole officer who is Ellie's romantic interest; Melinda is Sal's daughter, the assistant bartender at the hotel; Mark Whitsett is Stevie's former fiance. The series, a spin-off from Second Chances, ran from August 4, 1994 to September 8, 1994.

Cast: Joanna Cassidy (Ellie Mayfield), Cheryl Pollak (Stephanie "Stevie" Mayfield), John Dye (Jack Mayfield), Romy Walthall (Nancy), Harry O'Reilly

(Harry), Pepe Serna (Sal Lopez), Jennifer Lopez (Melinda Lopez), Paul Satterfield (Mark Whisett).

3733 Hound Town. (Pilot; Cartoon; NBC; 9/1/89). A view of suburban life as seen through the eyes of Rusty, the shy dog of the Anderson family (parents John and Betty and their daughter, Susie). In the pilot episode, Rusty tries to impress a classy show dog named Sasha.

Host: John Conte.

3739 House. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2004–). Press release information states “Every week a new mystery and every week a new baffling case that only one team can solve.” The mysteries are baffling medical diseases and the team are doctors stationed at the Princeton-Plainsboro Teaching Hospital in New Jersey.

Gregory House, a maverick, anti-social doctor, is a brilliant diagnostician and heads a team of skilled physicians (Allison Cameron, Eric Foreman and Robert Chase). Gregory is an expert in infectious diseases and his philosophy is “We treat. If the patient gets better we’re right. If not, we learn something else.” Gregory does not believe in pretense and says what he thinks. “Treating illness is why I became a doctor. Treating patients is what makes doctors miserable.” He rarely talks to a patient (only when he becomes intrigued) and balks at having to work the common cases in the hospital’s clinic.

Gregory calls himself “a lonely infectious disease guy.” He does not dress like a doctor and walks with a cane; he doesn’t want people to see a doctor who is sick (a heart attack left him with a partially crippled right leg). While Gregory appears to solve every medical mystery by himself, it is only accomplished with the investigative work of his specialized team.

Dr. Lisa Cuddy, Gregory’s superior, is the hospital administrator and won’t fire him because “the son of a bitch is the best doctor we have.” The series has the screen title House, M.D.

3740 House Calls. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979–1982). The escapades of the staff of fictional Kensington General Hospital in Los Angeles.

Charley Michaels is the playboy surgeon; Ann Anderson, the administrator (later replaced by Jane Jeffreys); other doctors and nurses are listed in the cast. Louella Grady is Charlie’s girlfriend; Conrad Peckler is Ann’s superior; Mrs. Phipps is a hospital volunteer. Based on the feature film.

Cast: Wayne Rogers (Dr. Charley Michaels), Lynn Redgrave (Ann Anderson), Sharon Gless (Jane Jeffreys), David Wayne (Dr. Amos Weatherly), Ray Buktenica (Dr. Norman Solomon), Aneta Corsaut (Head Nurse Bradley), Sharon DeBord (Admissions Nurse), Roger Bowen (Dr. Floyd Beiderbeck), Deedy Peters (Mrs. Phipps), Candice Azzara (Louella Grady), Mark L. Taylor (Conrad Peckler), Dick Martin (Dr. Shineberg), Beth Jacobs (Nurse Nancy McMillan), Richard Stahl (Dr. Albert), Vince Howard (Anesthesiologist), Peggy Frees (Nurse), Terri Berland (Nurse), Georgia Jeffries (Nurse), Linda Dancil (Nurse’s Aide), Bob Larkin (Orderly), Christopher Blanc (Orderly).

3742 House of Buggin’. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1995). Latino themed skits that satirize television, movies and everyday life. The short-lived series ran from January 8, 1995 to February 26, 1995.

Host: John Leguizano. Regulars: Jorge Luis Abreu, Tammi Cubilette, Luis Guzman, David Herman, Yolba Osorio, Gina Torres. Announcer: Harry Pritchard. Orchestra: Stephen M. Gold.

3743 House of Payne. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; TBS; 2006–). A daily comedy series that focuses on the lives of three generations of one family living under the same roof. Curtis and Ella Payne are a couple who have been married for thirty-one years. Curtis is a firefighter (a lieutenant) and they are the parents of C.J. (a firefighter). C.J. is married to Janine and they are the parents of Jazmine (called Jasi) and Malik.

Janine is not the best role model for her children. She loves her children but is addicted to drugs. She uses the money C.J. gives her to pay the bills to buy drugs. In a desperate effort to cover this up, Janine sets fire to their house. When an investigation discovers that arson was to blame and the finger points to Janine, she regrettably leaves her children “until things cool off.” Now, without a place to live (and no insurance money as Janine never paid the premium), C.J. and his children move in with his parents. Can three generations of one family live under one roof? Other Regulars: Miss Cloretha, Ella’s righteous, church-going friend. This is the 2006 syndicated version.

When the series returned in 2007 to TBS, Curtis and Ella are the parents of Calvin, a college student with a knack for pulling off schemes. Curtis is now a fire chief; C.J. is now Curtis’s nephew. Janine, his wife, is now responsible and they are the parents of Jazmine and Malik. Here, when C.J.’s house catches fire, C.J. and his family move in with Calvin. Stories follow the same basic format with three generations of one family living under the same roof. The series is also known as Tyler Perry’s House of Payne.

Cast: LaVan Davis (Curtis Payne), Cassi Davis (Ella Payne), Allen Payne (C.J. Payne), Demetria McKinney (Janine Payne), China Anne McClain (Jazmine “Jasi” Payne), Larramie “Doc” Shaw (Malik Payne), Lance Gross (Calvin Payne), Denise Burse (Miss Cloretha).

3744 House of Style. (Series; Reality; MTV; 1989–2000). The program alerts viewers to the latest news on fashion, models and shopping. The casual series also features interviews with models, designers and other people associated with the fashion industry.

Host: Cindy Crawford (1989–1995), Amber Valletta (1996–1997), Shalom Harlow (1996–1997), Daisy Fuentes (1997–1998), Jennifer Cole (1998), Rebecca Romijn (1998–2000), Molly Sims (2000).

3745 The House on Greenapple Road. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 1/11/70). The pilot film for Dan August about a tough homicide detective who is caught between his hatred of the establishment and his duty to protect. In the pilot episode, Dan investigates the case of a meek salesman who is accused of murdering his promiscuous wife.

Cast: Christopher George (Dan August), Barry Sullivan (Chief Frank Untermyer), Keenan Wynn (Sergeant Charles Wilentz). Guest Cast: Janet Leigh (Marian Ord), Julie Harris (Leona Miller), Tim O’Connor (George Ord), Walter Pidgeon (Jack Parker), Peter Mark Richman (Sal Gilman), William Windom (Paul Durstine), Lynda Day (Lillian Crane), Joanne Linville (Connie Durstine), Eve Plumb (Margaret Ord), Edward Asner (Sheriff Muntz).

3746 The House on High Street. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1959–1960). The cases of John Collier, a Los Angeles defense counselor. Stories, based on actual records from the Domestic Relations Court, are episodic and run from three to five installments. The series ran from September 28, 1959 to February 5, 1960.

Cast: Philip Abbott (John Collier), James Gehrig (Judge James Gehrig), Harris B. Peck (Dr. Harris B. Peck).

3747 House Party. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1952–1959). The shortened title for Art Linkletter’s House Party. See this title for information.

3748 House Party. (Series; Magazine; NBC; 1990). A daily series of entertainment and information based on the 1950s series of the same title that was hosted by Art Linkletter.

Host: Steve Doocy. Announcer: Dan Ingram. Theme: Robert Kraft.

3749 Houston Knights. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987–1988). Joey Lafiamma and Levon Lundy are sergeants with the Houston, Texas, Police Department. Sherina McLaren is a lieutenant with the Major Crime Unit of the Houston Police Department. Joey, Levon and Sherina join forces and stories relate their efforts to solve complex murder cases.

Other Regulars: Captain Scully; Detectives Lipscombe and McCandless; Annie, the wheelchair bound cop; Chicken, the owner of the Alamo Bar (the local hangout); Legs, Chicken’s waitress; and Sara Kelsay, Annie’s niece. Joanna Bennett replaces Sherina in later episodes.

Cast: Michael Pare (Sgt. Joey Lafiamma), Michael Beck (Sgt. Levon Lundy), Robyn Douglass (Lt. Joanne Beaumont), Leigh Taylor-Young (Lt. Sherina McLaren), John Hancock (Chicken), Madlyn Rhue (Annie Kelsay), James Hampton (Captain Scully), Bill McKinney (Det. Lipscomb), James Crittenden (Det. McCandless), Nancy Everhard (Legs).

3750 How Do I Kill Thee—Let Me Count the Ways. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 12/15/82). A second pilot film (see also Rooster) about Brewster “Rooster” Steele and William “Sweets” McBride, two ex-cops struggling to make it as private detectives. In the pilot episode, for an unsold series called Rooster, Steele and McBride team with stuntman Colt Seavers to find a man named Durwood, an elusive accountant who is facing a trial for manslaughter — and seemingly about to skip town. Broadcast as a segment of The Fall Guy.

3751 How Do You Rate? (Series; Game; CBS; 1958). Selected members of the studio audience compete in a program designed to test hidden aptitudes. The players compete in a series of tests that are designed to test their intelligence and reasoning power. The first player who successfully completes the problems (for example, mathematics, observation, logic, mechanics, etc.) is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Tom Reddy. Announcer: Jack Clark.

3752 How I Met Your Mother. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2005–). Ted and Robin are a married couple with two children (seen as teenagers, a boy and a girl, as Ted tells them about how he met their mother). But how did they meet? Flashbacks are used to recall their first meeting (at a bar when Ted, an architect, approached Robin and she threw a drink in his face), their eventual courtship and marriage. Stories also follow events in the lives of Ted’s friends: Barnabas, called Barney, an executive at a Manhattan company called Altrucel, who is also a swinging bachelor and known to have had many affairs (especially with foreign women), and his engaged friends, Marshall (a student at the Columbia School of Law) and Lily, a kindergarten teacher and artist.

Altrucel is famous for making “the fuzzy yellow stuff on the surface of tennis balls.” Robin works as a reporter for Metro News One (reports fluff stories) in New York City. Marshall and Lily also eventually marry and become an “aunt” and “uncle” to Ted and Robin’s kids. Before coming to America Robin lived in Canada and worked as a mall singer; her record, “Let’s Go to the Mall,” was released on Dominant Records under the name Robin Sparkles. Wendy is the waitress at the group’s favorite bar hangout; Carl is the bartender.

Cast: Josh Radnor (Ted Mosby), Cobie Smulders (Robin Scherbatsky), Alyson Hannigan (Lily Aldrin), Neil Patrick Harris (Barney Stinson), Jason Segel (Marshall Eriksen), Lyndsy Fonseca (Daughter), David Henrie (Son), Bob Saget (Older Ted Mosby/Narrator), Charlene Amoia (Wendy), Michael Gross (Alfred Mosby, Ted’s father); Joe Nieves (Carl).

3753 How the West Was Won. (Series; Western; ABC; 1977–1979). The saga of the Macahans, a Virginia homesteading family, as they attempt to establish a new life on the Great Plains during the mid-1860s. Twenty-six episodes aired over a two-year period. Three episodes aired from February 6, 1977 to February 14, 1977. Twelve episodes were broadcast from February 12, 1978 to May 21, 1978; Eleven episodes aired from January 15, 1979 to April 23, 1979.

Cast: James Arness (Zeb Macahan), Eva Marie Saint (Kate Macahan), Bruce Boxleitner (Luke Macahan), Kathryn Holcomb (Laura Macahan), Vicki Schreck (Jessie Macahan), William Kirby Cullen (Josh Macahan), Fionnuala Flanagan (Molly Culhane), Don Murray (Jim Anderson), Anthony Zerbe (Martin Grey), Richard Kiley (Timothy Macahan), Royal Dano (Elam Hanks), Brit Lind (Erica Hanks), Todd Lookinland (Joshua Hanks), John Dehner (Bishop Benjamin), Jack Elam (Cully Madigan), Morgan Woodward (Henry Coe), Richard Angarola (Shoshine Chief), Woody Strode (Arapaho Chief), John Reilly (Jeremiah Taylor), Richard Basehart (Colonel Flint), Elyssa Davalos (Hilary Grant), Ricardo Montalban (Satangkai), Lloyd Bridges (Sheriff Orville Grant), Brian Keith (Gen. Lee Stonecipher), Tim Matheson (Curt Grayson), Cameron Mitchell (Coulee John), William Shatner (Captain Harrison), Harris Yulin (Deek Peasley), Slim Pickens (Tap Henry), Ivan Naranjo (One Wolf), Ralph Brannen (Otter Belt), Vera Miles (Beth), Ramon Bieri (General Sheridan), Jared Martin (Frank Grayson), Kay Lenz (Doreen), Morgan Woodward (Henry Coe), Eric Braden (Francis Britten). Narrator: William Conrad.

3754 How To. (Series; Discussion; CBS; 1951). A person with a problem is brought on stage. The host and three regular panelists then attempt to resolve his or her dilemma. If the subject takes the advice, he or she returns at a later date to explain how the advice helped or hindered the situation. The series ran from July 10, 1951 to September 11, 1951.

Host: Roger Price. Panelists: Anita Martell, Leonard Stern, Stanley Adams. Announcer: Bob Lemond.

3755 How to Get the Guy. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2006). Four very attractive women, who do not appear to be desperate for a man, appear to find the man of their dreams. Two “love coaches” guide the women, all from San Francisco, as cameras follow their every move (including embarrassing themselves) to find Mr. Right.

The girls, identified by a first name only, are Anne, a girl next door type; Alissa, a massage therapist; Kris, a party girl (in her own words) and Michelle, a career girl. Each girl faces a series of interviews (which appear to be scripted and rehearsed) but their attempts to follow the advice of the love coaches and impress men appears to be real (although a review in the New York Post reported “a ridiculous, condescending, wrong-headed reality show about four desperate women willing to humiliate and demean themselves — including being coached by two certified blockheads — just to get a man, any man”).

Love Coaches: Teresa Strasser, J.D. Roberto.

3756 How to Marry a Millionaire. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1958–1960). Penthouse G on the 22nd floor of the Tower Apartment House on Park Avenue in New York City is home to Michele “Mike” McCall, Loco Jones and Greta Hanson, three beautiful girls seeking millionaire husbands. The girls have taken a pledge (“On my honor I promise to do my best to help one of us marry a millionaire. So help me, Fort Knox”).

Mike, Loco and Greta were each renting a small apartment on Amsterdam Avenue before Mike convinced them to pool their resources (“You gotta spend money to make money”) and rent a swank penthouse (“We have something to sell — ourselves — and we have to surround ourselves in the best possible surroundings”). While each seeks to help the other find a millionaire, virtually every cent they make goes toward paying the rent. When Mike spots a potential prospect, she sees dollar signs (as does the viewer — when a moneybag is superimposed over the subject); her credo is “Have money, will marry.”

Mike, the schemer of the group, works as an analyst for the Wall Street firm of Hammersmith, Cavanaugh and Hammersmith. She believes that “the only way for a girl to be smart is to be dumb.” Mike reads the financial section of the newspaper and uses Dunn and Bradstreet for her research material. She feels that “one of these days we’re gonna hit it big” and knows that women have to put on airs — “Men go for either the sophisticated Tallulah [Bankhead] type or the slinky Marilyn Monroe type.”

Greta is a hostess on the TV game show Go for Broke, a takeoff of The $64,000 Question. She reads Who’s Who in America (her research material) and the drama and TV section of the newspaper. Greta borrows Mike and Loco’s nylons, doesn’t make her bed and enjoys soaking in a bubble bath. She hopes that if there is a millionaire out there for her that “he comes along before he has to whisper sweet nothings in my ear trumpet.”

Loco (her given name) was born in North Platte, Nebraska, on February 25. She was voted “The one most likely to go further with less than anyone” at North Platte High School. She is a bit naive when it comes to current events but has acquired encyclopedic knowledge of comic strips by reading Super Comics magazine. Loco is nearsighted and needs to wear eyeglasses but feels men will not find her attractive if she does. The resulting chaos often costs the girls a prospective husband (“Loco has cost us more millionaires than the 1929 stock crash” says Greta).

Loco, a fashion model for the Travis (later Talbot) Modeling Agency, is called “a fabulous blonde with an hourglass figure.” While always fashionably dressed, Loco worries about short skirts that show her legs.

At the start of the second season it is learned that Greta married and moved to California (“Greta wanted to marry an oil man,” said Mike, “but she married a man who owns a gas station”). Mike and Loco acquire new roommate Gwen Kirby when she responds to their Journal News newspaper ad.

Gwen, born in Illinois, was a girl scout and had been working on a small magazine before coming to New York. She now works as an editor for Manhattan Magazine and is almost a clone of Greta: Marilyn Monroe figure, lover of bubble baths and a borrower (of Mike and Loco’s nylons).

In the original, unaired 1957 pilot, Greta Lindquist (Lori Nelson), Loco Jones (Charlotte Austin) and Mike Page (Doe Avedon) are the women seeking millionaire husbands (they share a 13th floor Manhattan penthouse apartment). Loco is a brunette (not a blonde) in this version but just as vain about wearing her glasses. She mentions that her real name is Rita Marlene Gloria Claudette Jones and that Loco is her nickname. She is a model but no agency name is given.

Greta, a blonde who majored in psychology at college, is hostess on the TV game show The Dunlap Quiz Show. Mike is a stockbroker for the firm of Hammersmith, Cavanaugh and Hammersmith. Both versions are based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Merry Anders (Mike McCall), Barbara Eden (Loco Jones), Lori Nelson (Greta Hanson), Lisa Gaye (Gwen Kirby), Jimmy Cross (Jesse, the elevator operator).

3757 How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/27/75). J. Piermont Finch is a young man determined to make it in the business world — even if it means starting at the bottom. The unsold series was to chart his progress, beginning with his first step: quitting his job as a window washer and joining the ranks of the World Wide Wicket Company as a mailroom boy.

Cast: Alan Bursky (J. Piermont Finch), Susan Blanchard (Rosemary), Larry Haines (Bratt), Jim Jansen (Frumph), Marcella Lowery (Smitty), Steve

Roland (Gatch), Max Showalter (J.B. Biggley), Polly Rowles (Miss Jones), Sam Smith (Twimble).

3758 How to Survive a Marriage. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1974–1975). Lakeview, a fictitious suburb of Chicago, is the setting for a dramatic look the problems of marriage, divorce and separation.

3759 Howdy. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 8/8/69). Music and comedy sketches set against the background of a fictional town called Mildew, Arkansas. Jay Sommers is the producer.

Host: Ferlin Husky. Regulars: Sidney Blackmer, Chanin Hale, Bob Hastings, Gene Sheldon, William Sylvester, Lyle Talbot. Guests: Eddie Albert, Pat Buttram, Jimmy Durante, Barbara Eden, Nanette Fabray, Henry Fonda, Glenn Ford, Eva Gabor, Jack Jones, Terry-Thomas. Orchestra: Alan Copeland.

3760 Howdy Doody. (Series; Children; NBC; 1947–1960). On December 27, 1941, in the town of Doodyville, Texas, twin boys were born to the wife of a ranch hand named Doody. The boys, named Howdy and Double grew quickly and enjoyed life on the ranch where their parents earned a living by doing chores for the owner.

At the age of six, the boys learn that their rich Uncle Doody has died and bequeathed them a small parcel of land in New York City (that would later become 30 Rockefeller Plaza — NBC’s headquarters). When NBC offered to purchase the land to construct a television studio, Mr. Doody arranged it so that Howdy, who yearned to run a circus, could have his dream come true. NBC built a circus grounds, surrounded it with cameras and appointed Buffalo Bob Smith as Howdy’s guardian.

The series is set against the background of Doodyville and surrounded by the Peanut Gallery (children). Stories follow a circus troupe’s efforts to perform against numerous obstacles, in particular those of Phineas T. Bluster, a mean old man who is opposed to people having fun. Clarabelle Hornblow is the circus clown (he does not speak but responds to questions by honking a “yes” or “no” horn; he spoke only once — on the last episode to say goodbye).

Puppet characters are Howdy and Double Doody, Phineas T. Bluster, the Flubadub (the main circus attraction) and Dilly Dally (the confused boy).

Live characters are Buffalo Bob Smith; Clarabelle Hornblow; The Story Princess; Chief Thunderthud; Tim Tremble (the nervous chap); Princess Summerfall Winterspring; Bison Bill (Buffalo Bob’s temporary replacement during his illness in 1954). George “Gabby” Hayes, playing himself (also served as a temporary host); Ugly Sam (the wrestler); Lowell Thomas, Jr., the traveling lecturer. The series, which produced 2,543 episodes, ran from December 27, 1947 to September 24, 1960.

3761 Howie. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1992). A four episode program (July 1 to July 22, 1992) of comedy sketches that spotlight the talents of comedian Howie Mandel.

Host: Howie Mandel. Orchestra: Clarence Clemons.

3762 Howie and Rose. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/2/91). Howie Neuman is an easy going, carefree young bachelor who co-hosts a radio talk show on WCRY in New York City with his friend, Lawrence Fine. Shortly after his sister and her husband are sent to prison for bookmaking, Howie is given custody of Rose, their daughter, a pretty 11-year-old girl with an attitude, street smarts and a hood-like personality (she drinks coffee and smokes cigarettes). The unsold series was to relate Howie’s efforts to reform and care for Rose. The pilot episode establishes the series storyline as Howie and Rose struggle to adjust to each other. Other Regulars: Rita, Lawrence’s ex-wife.

Cast: Howie Mandel (Howie Neuman), Shanelle Workman (Rose Haber), Stephen Furst (Lawrence Fine), Dee Dee Rescher (Rita Fine), Margot Rose (Ms. Hubbard; guest role).

3763 How's Business? (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 12/28/59). A sequel pilot to Another Day, Another Dollar about Augie Adams, a toy company salesman. The pilot episode relates Augie's efforts to discover how a "nothing box," made by a group of orphans, became a part of his samples. Broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Theater. Other Regulars: Joyce, Augie's wife; and Robbie, Augie's son.

Cast: Jack Carson (Augie Adams), Jean Gillespie (Joyce Adams), Flip Mark (Robbie Adams). Guest Cast: Norma Connolly (Miss King), Scott Morrow (Scotty), Ronnie Dapo (Ronnie).

3764 How's Your Mother-in-Law? (Series; Game; ABC; 1967–1968). The object calls for three guest celebrities, acting as lawyers for the defense, to judge (through a series of question-and-answer probe rounds) which of three contestants is the best mother-in-law. The decision of the judges determines the winner (who receives merchandise prizes).

Host: Wink Martindale.

3765 The Hoyt Axton Show. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 9/28/81). Following the death of his wife, Del Parsons, a constantly-on-the-road country and western singer-musician, is forced to settle down and raise his three estranged children (Jenny, Norma Sue and Dean). The proposed series was to chart his experiences. In the pilot episode, set in California, Del struggles to adjust to his new responsibilities and begin his new business: converting his barn into a recording studio and renting it to aspiring performers. Other Regulars: Carol Dean, Del's neighbor.

Cast: Hoyt Axton (Del Parsons), Tonja Walker (Jenny Parsons), Tonya Crowe (Norma Sue Parsons), John Shepherd (Dean Parsons), Joy Garrett (Carol Dean). Guest Cast: Reid Smith (Walker Lee), Kenny Davis (Billy Dee), Sally Kemp (Mrs. Carucci). Theme Vocal: "Honeysuckle Rose" by Hoyt Axton.

3766 H.R. Pufnstuf. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1969–1971). While playing near the edge of a river, Jimmy and his talking gold flute, Freddie, board a boat that beckons to them. As it drifts out to sea, the evil Miss Witchiepool, seeking Freddie for her collection, casts a spell that makes the boat vanish. Swimming to the shore of Living Island, Jimmy is rescued by its mayor, H.R. Pufnstuf, who, in an attempt to help them get back home, takes them to the secret escape path. But Miss Witchiepool follows and makes the path vanish when Jimmy refuses to give up Freddie. Stories follows the efforts of Jimmy and Freddie to escape from the island; and the efforts of Miss Witchiepool to acquire Freddie (the world's only talking flute) for her collection. Characters, with the exception of Jimmy and Miss Witchiepool, are Sid and Marty Krofft puppets.

Cast: Jack Wild (Jimmy), Billie Hayes (Miss Witchiepool). Also: Joan Gerber, Felix Silla, Jerry Landon, John Linton, Angelo Rosetti, Hommy Stewart, Buddy Douglas.

3767 The Huckleberry Hound Show. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1958). The overall title for four animated series.

Hosts: Bill Hudson, Brett Hudson, Mark Hudson. Regulars: Stephanie Edwards, Ronny Graham, Rod Hull, The Jaime Rogers Dancers, Katee McClure, Gary Owens. Orchestra: Jack Eskew.

3770 Hudson Street. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1995). Precinct Number 7 on Hudson Street in Hoboken, New Jersey, is home to Tony Canetti, a conservative homicide detective. He is divorced from Lucy and the father of Mickey. Tony was born in New Jersey and attended Hoboken High School.

His late father owned a store, Canetti's Discount Shoes; it was here that Tony worked after school and on weekends. A botched robbery attempt cost Tony's father, Victor, his life, but made Tony realize he had to do something about it — become a cop. He graduated from rookie school and became a beat cop.

He upheld the law and he made people feel safe. He made friends and acquired snitches he could trust — and who could trust him.

Tony lives near the precinct on Hudson Street and frequents a diner called the Pool Hall. He calls his snitches “information engineers.”

Melanie Clifford is a young woman who dreams of becoming a reporter for the New York Times. She was born in New Jersey and lives with her parents at 11 Wilson Street. She is liberal and works as the obituary editor for the Hoboken Reporter. After several years on the job she receives a promotion to the Metro Desk (police reporter) and finds a new hang-out — the press room of Precinct 7. A short time earlier, Melanie and Tony met on a blind date. They were opposites who were attracted to each other but barely able to stand each other. They agreed not to see each other again. Circumstances place them together again and their bickering love-hate relationship is the actual focal point of the series.

Kirby McIntire is the gorgeous police detective who works with Tony. She is well endowed and when someone says “Nice bust,” she takes it the wrong way, believing they are referring to her breasts. Kirby is the precinct’s Jill of all trades. She always manages to get the cases nobody else wants (for example, catching a lingerie thief) and the work nobody else will do (like filing, filling out reports, making coffee).

Cast: Tony Danza (Tony Canetti), Shareen Mitchell (Lucy Canetti), Lori Loughlin (Melanie Clifford), Frankie J. Galass (Mickey Canetti), Christine Dunford (Kirby McIntire), Jennifer Bassey (Betsy Clifford, Melanie’s mother), Steven Gilborn (Nelson Clifford, Melanie’s father).

3771 Hudson’s Bay. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1959). A Canadian produced series about the men and dangers they faced in the early 1800s as members of Hudson’s Bay, a fur trading company. The program opens as follows: “Hudson’s Bay, the saga of the great Hudson’s Bay Fur Company and of the brave men who traveled the untracked wilderness. From Labrador to California; from Minnesota to Alaska. Starring Barry Nelson as Jonathan Banner, Hudson Bay’s man; with George Tobias as Pierre Falcone.”

Cast: Barry Nelson (Jonathan Banner), George Tobias (Pierre Falcone).

3772 Huff. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; 2005). Dr. Craig Huffstodt is a Los Angeles based psychiatrist who devotes all his energies to helping his patients. Huff, as he is called, is suddenly faced with a crisis when a 15-year-old patient commits suicide in his office and his life is thrown into turmoil. Huff is now re-evaluating his life and stories follow Huff as he struggles to get through the events that affect his daily life (some of which are seen as outburst of delusions by viewers).

Other Regulars: Beth, Huff’s loving and empathetic wife (she helps him overcome his meltdowns); Izzy, Huff’s tough and manipulative mother (she lives in the apartment over the garage); Russell Tupper, Huff’s longtime friend, a not so moral attorney; Byrd, Huff’s 14-year-old son; Teddy, Huff’s younger, mentally unstable brother, who has been confined to a mental institution; Paula Dellahouse, Huff’s office manager; Maggie Del Rosario, Russell’s assistant; and Kelly Knipper, Russell’s romantic interest, a TV sales representative.

Cast: Hank Azaria (Dr. Craig Huffstodt), Paget Brewster (Beth Huffstodt), Blythe Danner (Izzy), Anton Telchin (Byrd Huffstodt), Oliver Platt (Russell Tupper), Andy Comeau (Teddy Hoffstodt), Kimberley Brooks (Paula Dellahouse), Liza LaPira (Maggie Del Rosario), Faith Prince (Kelly Knippers).

3773 The Huggie Bunch. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 7/85). Huggins and Hugsy are two adorable creatures (puppets) who spread love and joy. They live on the other side of mirrors and the unsold series was to relate their adventures as they help humans find happiness.

In the pilot episode, Huggins and Hugsy appear from behind the bedroom mirror of Bridget Severson, a pretty seven-year-old girl, to help her overcome the sadness she feels for her grandmother, who is growing old. Bridget’s adventures with Huggins and Hugsy as they seek magical youngberries in a mystical kingdom ruled by an evil and vane witch (Admira) are depicted.

Voice Cast: Terry Castillo (Huggins), Tony Urbano (Hugsy). Live Cast: Gennie James (Bridget Severson), Aarika Wells (Queen Admira), Susan Mullen (Janet Severson), Carl Stevens (Andrew Severson), Mark Withers (Parker Severson), Natalie Masters (Grandma Severson), Kelly Britt (Aunt Ruth).

3774 The Hugh Herbert Show. (Test Film; Comedy; ABC; 11/1/50). A proposed series of comedy skits that feature the talents (and antics) of stage and movie comedian Hugh Herbert (“Mr. Woodoo”). The program involved Hugh in three skits: a soft-hearted judge; the patsy for a love-sick maid; and a man who finds misadventure in a department store.

Host: Hugh Herbert. Regulars: Frank Scannell, Charlie Williams, Gloria Wood.

3775 The Hughleys. (Series; Comedy; ABC; UPN; 1998–2002). Darryl Hughley and his wife, Yvonne, live at 317 Crestview in the West Hills section of Los Angeles. They are the parents of Sydney and Michael and are attempting to adjust to a mostly all white neighborhood having previously lived in a Los Angeles all-black community (“from the hood to the burbs,” says Darryl).

Darryl grew up in a poor family and managed to become a success by starting a business called the Hughley Vending machine Company with his childhood friend Milsap Morris (they previously worked as vending machine repairmen before starting their own company). Milsap, the vice president of the company is one of 14 children and also from a poor family. It was Yvonne, however, who sought a better life for her children, who persuaded Darryl to relocate. Unlike Darryl, Yvonne hails from a rich family. She has a master's degree in business and later works in marketing at the Staples Sports Center (Darryl promoted Milsap from sales manager to vice president so he could stay at home with the kids while Milsap ran the company).

Darryl likes to insult people (make jokes) and hates to admit that he is wrong. He is afraid of no one — except Yvonne, whom he fears. Yvonne, whom Darryl calls “Vonnie,” likes helping people, the community and car-pooling. She is also a member of the Neighborhood Safety Committee and the PTA.

Sydney is ten years old and Michael is nine when the series begins. Darryl is ashamed of few things, but his lack of a high school diploma is his biggest regret. To hide this from the kids, he Xeroxed his brother's diploma and hangs it high on a wall so Sydney and Michael can't read it. Sydney and Michael attend West Hills Middle School. Sydney is a very pretty girl who is six inches taller than most of the boys in her class. While Sydney is smart (enrolled in the accelerated class at school) Michael is having a difficult time due to dyslexia.

Milsap and Darryl have known each other for 25 years. He calls Darryl “D” (Darryl calls him “Sap”). Milsap is a ladies' man and is looking to find the right girl and settle down; he is currently dating Coral Mills, Michael's gorgeous tutor.

Sally and Dave Rogers are the Hughley's neighbors. Sally is a professional therapist and Dave owns a sports store called Dave's Extreme Sports. They are the parents of Otto and infant Gretchen. Otto is rarely seen and has many problems (like imaginary friends — one of whom beat him up). Sally wrote a book called Coping with Sally Rogers (also the name of her TV call-in show on KMDE, Channel 87). When Darryl budded in and began dispensing street advice, he became Sally's co-host on a show called Dr. Darryl and Sally (where he dispensed advice “so people will stop whining about their situations”).

Cast: D.L. Hughley (Darryl Hughley), Elise Neal (Yvonne Hughley), Ashley Monique Clark (Sydney Hughley), Dee Jay Daniels (Michael Hughley), John Henton (Milsap Morris), Marietta DePrima (Sally Rogers), Eric Kramer (Dave Rogers), Alex Meneses (Coral Mills), Conrad Mathews (Otto Rogers), Ian Meltzer (Otto Rogers; later).

3776 Hulk Hogan's Rock 'n' Wrestling. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1985–1987). The program combines live action with animation to detail the adventures of wrestler Hulk Hogan: in the ring in live action matches; outside the ring (in animation) battling evil wherever he finds it.

Cast: Hulk Hogan (Hulk Hogan), Gene Oakland (Announcer). Voices: Charles Allen, Lewis Arquette, Jodi Carlisle, George DiCenzo, Neilson Ross, Pat Fraley, Ernest Harada.

3777 Hull High. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1990). Be True to Your School was the original title for this musical comedy-drama about life at Cordell Hull High, a large, full service middle-class suburban school to which many of the minority kids are bused (by the Whitmarsh Bus Lines).

Camilla Croft is the new student on campus. She originally lived in Philadelphia, where she attended Rush High School. She now lives in a mobile home in King's Trailer Park at 34 Cove Road. Camilla is older than the other girls in her sophomore class (she started school late), and rumors began to spread that she was a narcotics undercover cop.

Student D.J. Cameron is a gorgeous red-head who knows she is very sexy, and she strives to drive the boys wild. She lives at 27461 Havenhurst Drive. D.J. also has a reputation for doing the outrageous (for example, inciting a riot “to protest the revolting cafeteria food,” joining the men's wrestling team to prove that a woman is equal to a man).

Cody Rome is another new student and has a mysterious past; 16-year-old Mark Fuller is a lovesick student with a crush on Camilla. Although she wants nothing to do with him, he takes desperate measures to impress her.

Only two teachers are given full names: Donna Breedlove and John Deerborn. Donna is 23 years old and lives in an apartment at Farrington Place. She is considered so beautiful that the students in her English class tend to watch her rather than listen to what she is saying. She dresses in short skirts and tight blouses, and moves in such sexy ways that her students are mesmerized. John Deerborn is a history teacher who taught previously at All City High School.

Jennifer Blang and April Dawn are billed as the “Hull High Bulletin Announcers” and Trey Parker, Philip DeMarks, Carl Anthony Payne and Lawrence Edwards are credited as the “Hull High Rappers” (also called “Hull High Devils”). In the original pilot, Mark Ballou played Mark Pastorelli.

Cast: Cheryl Pollak (Camilla Croft), Kristin Dattilo (D.J. Cameron), Harold Pruett (Cody Rome), Nancy Valen (Donna Breedlove), Will Lyman (John Deerborn), Mark Ballou (Mark Fuller), Marty Belafsky (Louis Plumb), George Martin (Emery Dabosh), Holly Fields (Michelle), Gary Grubbs (Mr. Brawley), Marshall Bell (Mr. Fancher), Rowdy Metzger (Randy), Mark David (Mark).

3778 Hullabaloo. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1965–1966). The program, aimed at teenagers, presents performances by the top names in rock and roll music. The series, hosted by a Guest of the Week, ran from January 12, 1965 to August 29, 1966; it produced 16 one-hour shows and 28 half-hour shows. Gary Smith is the producer.

Regulars: Lada Edmonds, Jr., Sheila Forbes, The Hullabaloo Dancers, The David Winters Dancers. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

3779 The Human Adventure. (Experimental; Human Interest; NBC; 8/15/39). A program of science fact and fiction with dramatizations to illustrate specific principles.

Host: Frank Gallop. Cast: Ted DeCorsia, Kenny Delmar, John Gibson, Neal O'Malley, Vicki Vola, Dwight Weist, Ruth Yorks.

3780 The Human Comedy. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/19/64). A 13-year-old boy's experiences as the man of the house following his father's death was the premise of this proposed series set in Ithaca, New York. In the pilot episode, the boy (Homer) attempts his first money-making venture by starting a delivery service. Other Regulars: Alice, Homer's mother; Ulysses, Homer's brother.

Cast: Timmy Rooney (Homer Macauley), Phyllis Avery (Alice Macauley), Jimmy Honer (Ulysses Macauley). Guest Cast: Arthur O'Connell (Grogan), Minerva Urecal (Mrs. Windler).

3781 The Human Factor. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1992). A short-lived medical drama (April–May 1992) about Dr. Alec McMurty, a physician at an "inner city hospital" who also teaches a course called "The Human Factor," which is intended to make hopeful doctors more humane. Alec, himself, is married (to Joan) but rather unorthodox as he likes to do things his way; he has also devoted his life to treating people who are seriously ill and sometimes unable to afford his services rather than becoming wealthy due to his abilities.

Cast: John Mahoney (Dr. Alec McMurty), Jan Lucas (Joan McMurty), Kurt Deutsch (Dr. Matt Robbins), Eriq La Salle (Dr. Michael Stoven), Matthew Ryan (Dr. Joe Murphy), Melinda McGraw (Rebecca Travis), Allan Miller (Dr. Walter Burke).

3782 Human Feelings. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/16/78). Angry at the crime, the divorce rate and the general sleaziness of Las Vegas, God decides to give the city one chance to redeem itself before She destroys it. Myles Gordon, an angel, is dispatched to find six righteous people within one week. The pilot episode depicts Myles's efforts to find the six people to appease God and save the city. The unsold series was to focus on the angel Myles as he sets out to fulfill God's missions on earth. Other Regulars:

Verna Gold, the human who befriends and helps Myles; and Lester, God's secretary.

Cast: Nancy Walker (God), Billy Crystal (Myles Gordon), Pamela Sue Martin (Verna Gold), John Fiedler (Lester). Guest Cast: Richard Dimitri (Angel Garcia), Donna Pescow (Gloria), Jack Carter (Robin Dennis), Squire Fridell (Phil), Armand Assante (Johnny Turner), Pat Morita (Waiter), Art Metrano (Cab driver), James Whitmore, Jr. (Detective).

3783 Human Giant. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 2007). Paul Scheer, Jason Woliner, Aziz Ansari and Rob Huebel are a sketch comedy team known as Human Giant, they are known for edgy, reckless comedy and their style of humor is spotlighted in a weekly session.

3784 The Human Jungle. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1964). The work of Dr. Roger Corder, a London-based psychiatrist, as he attempts to help people overcome by the turmoil of human emotion. Produced in England.

Cast: Herbert Lom (Dr. Roger Corder), Michael Johnson (Davis; his assistant).

3785 Human Target. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1992). The Wing, a huge, highly technical black plane that resembles the wings of an airliner, is the mobile headquarters of Christopher Chase, a man who steps into the lives of people marked for murder to become a human target until he can restore that person's safety.

It was an incident from Chris's past that led him to become a human target. During the Vietnam War, Lieutenant Chase was in charge of a special unit that went into villages to destroy them. During one such raid Chris was captured by the Vietcong and placed in a tiger cage. Chris spent ten days in the cage before he was rescued (he now has a fear of small places). When he was discharged from the service, he realized what he had done and it all came crashing in on him; so much so that he spent 19 months in the psychiatric ward of the Walter Reed Hospital. When he was released he knew the only way to keep sane was to somehow balance it all out and right wrongs through his unique abilities. He begins by commissioning construction of the Wing (although it is not made clear, Chris is apparently wealthy). He then hires three highly skilled people to assist him: Libby Page, Philo Marsden and Jeff Carlyle.

Chris has an amazing ability to impersonate voices and through the use of highly advanced computer makeup (masks) Chris becomes the person he is seeking to protect. The fee varies depending on the job (usually ten percent of a client's yearly income) and the client remains in safety on the Wing until Chris completes the job.

Libby has known Chris for several years. She previously worked for the Company, a secret U.S. government organization, in a top level security position. When the project she was working on collapsed, she found employment with Chris, who required her expertise to operate his high tech telecommunications equipment.

Philo is a movie special effects makeup expert who impressed Chris with his computer-generated masks for the film Zombies on Holiday. Philo now incorporates his computer skills to make the target masks for Chris (which combine Chris's general features with special features of a target's face).

Jeff served with Chris in Vietnam; he now pilots the Wing. The team also assists in the field if necessary. When a woman is marked as a target, Chris goes undercover as the male closest to her.

An unaired pilot version exists with Frances Fisher as Libby and Clarence Clemmons as Jeff. The series is based on the D.C. comic book character. Anthony Marinelli composed the theme.

Cast: Rick Springfield (Christopher Chase), Signy Coleman (Libby Page), Kirk Baltz (Philo Marsden), Sami Chester (Jeff Carlyle).

3786 The Hunter. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1952–1954). Bartholomew “Bart” Hunter is a mysterious United States undercover agent who is known as “The Hunter.” Adopting the guise of a wealthy American playboy, he attempts to corrupt the forces of Communism in the Western world. The series is spiced with light humor as it depicts Bart's somewhat unorthodox methods (usually in a variety of disguises) to accomplish his missions.

Liz is Bart's friend in Prague; Janet Wood is the American reporter based in Europe; Rita is Bart's friend in Copenhagen; Ruby Ellis is Bart's old flame (1954 episodes).

Cast: Barry Nelson (Bart Adams, 1952–1954), Keith Larsen (Bart Adams, 1954), Anna Minot (Liz), Lisa Howard (Janet Wood), Barbara Bolton (Rita), Susanna TaFel (Ruby Ellis). Narrator: Barry Nelson, Keith Larsen.

3787 Hunter. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1968). COSMIC, the Commonwealth Office of Security and Military Intelligence Coordination, is a branch of the Australian government that has been established to combat the evils of CUCW (the Council for the Unification of the Communist World). John Hunter is COSMIC's top operative. He is attached to Division SCU-3, which works behind a front organization called Independent Surveys.

Hunter, a veteran of the Korean War, combines the elements of commando, spy and detective. He works above the law and knows the law offers him no protection “and no exemption. If necessary, his country will deny his existence.”

Eve Halliday is an undercover agent and Hunter's partner on assignments. Her cover is as a stenographer for Independent Surveys. Blake is the stern Security Chief and head of SCU-3.

A man called Mr. Smith is the scheming local representative of CUCW. It is his job to disrupt the inner workings of COSMIC and pick the targets his agents must destroy or sabotage around Australia and South East Asia. Kragg is Smith's chief operative, an expert killer with no conscience. The 26 episode series was produced in Australia.

Cast: Tony Ward (John Hunter), Fernande Glyn (Eve Halliday), Nigel Lovell (Blake), Ronald Morse (Mr. Smith), Gerard Kennedy (Kragg).

3788 Hunter. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1977). James Hunter and Marty Shaw are U.S. Government Special Intelligence agents who cover the world of contemporary espionage. James and Marty, however, have other jobs. In his free time, James operates a bookshop in Santa Barbara, California; Marty is a high fashion model. Harold Baker is their superior and stories chart their exploits as the tackle dangerous assignments for the government.

Cast: James Franciscus (James Hunter), Linda Evans (Marty Shaw), Ralph Bellamy (Harold Baker).

3789 Hunter. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1984–2003). Rick Hunter is a detective sergeant with the Los Angeles Police Department, Division 122. The department is also called Central Division, the Parker Division, the Parker Center Police Station and Metro Division. Rick is an honest but tough cop who has a skeleton in his closet: he is the son of a mobster but has rejected a life of crime to uphold the law.

Hunter, unlike previous TV detectives, seems to enjoy violent confrontations, especially when he is forced to use his gun. Unlike so many prior series where bullets fly and no one seems to get hit, Hunter's bullets are often fatal to criminals. He resides at 5405 Ocean Front Drive.

Over the course of the series run, Rick was partnered with three women: Dee Dee McCall, Joann Molinski and Christine Novak. Dee Dee, a detective sergeant, was teamed with Rick from 1984–1990. Like Rick, she was tough and honest and those qualities earned her the nickname “The Brass Cupcake.” Dee Dee resides at 8534 Mezdon Drive.

Dee Dee, a widow, had been married to Steve McCall (Franc Luz), a sergeant killed in the line of duty. In the episode “Street Wise” (May 7, 1990), Dee Dee accepts the marriage proposal of her old flame, Dr. Alex Turner (Robert Conner Newman), a college professor. In part two of the episode (May 14), Dee Dee leaves the force to marry Alex. The episode of September 19, 1990, “Deadly Encounters,” teams Rick with a tough rookie cop, Officer Joann Molinski. Joann lived at 4535 North Sheridan and is written out in the episode of January 9, 1991 (“Fatal Obsession”) when she is killed (shot three times) by a psychotic woman named Loreen Arness (Ellen Wheeler). Rick remains without a steady partner until September 9, 1991, when he is teamed with Christine Novak, a sergeant who prefers to be called Chris. Chris is the mother of a young daughter named Allie (Courtney Barilla) and lives at 6341 West Beverly Drive; Allie attends the Worster Avenue Grammar School. Chris is divorced from Al Novak (Robin Thomas), Allie's now estranged father.

Rick's superiors also varied throughout the series. Lester Cain was the first captain. He was replaced by Captain Dolan; Dolan by Captain Wyler; and Wyler by Chief Charles Devane. Sporty James, owner of the somewhat shady Sporty James Enterprises, is Rick's information man (snitch). Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed the "Hunter" theme.

Cast: Fred Dryer (Rick Hunter), Stephanie Kramer (Dee Dee McCall), Darlance Fluegel (Joann Molinski), Lauren Lane (Christine Novak), Franc Luz (Steve McCall), Robert Conner Newman (Dr. Alex Turner), Michael Cavanaugh (Lester Cain), Arthur Rosenberg (Lester Cain; later), John Amos (Captain Dolan), Bruce Davison (Captain Wyler), Charles Hallahan (Chief Charles Devane), Garrett Morris (Sporty James).

Note: The series was updated as follows.

The Return of Hunter (NBC, April 30, 1995). Rick Hunter (Fred Dryer) is now a lieutenant with the Parker Division of the L.A.P.D. He is as tough as ever but now works alone. He is engaged to Vickie Sherry (Beth Toussant) and Charlie Devane (Charles Hallahan) is still his superior. The TV movie, which has the subtitle "Everyone Walks in L.A.," finds Hunter taking on a personal vendetta: finding Jack Valko (Miguel Ferrer), a madman who killed Vickie and now taunts Hunter to catch him.

Hunter: Return to Justice (NBC, November 16, 2002). Rick Hunter (Fred Dryer) is a lieutenant with the L.A.P.D. He has been involved in seven shootings in the past three years. Dee Dee McCall (Stephanie Kramer) is now a sergeant with the Juvenile Division of the San Diego Police Department. Dee Dee was not a part of the prior TV movie.

Dee Dee is engaged to Roger Prescott (Sam Hennings), a wealthy drug company owner who is running for mayor. The story, also promoted by NBC as Hunter: The Movie, reunites Rick and Dee Dee when she invites Hunter to her engagement party. Trouble begins when Roger's past is uncovered (a Russian KGB agent) and Dee Dee is kidnapped by members of the Russian Mafia seeking to trade her for secret lists of former KGB agents possessed by Roger. Rick intervenes and in a violent confrontation with the mafia, rescues Dee Dee but is unable to save Roger's life. The program ends with Rick and Dee Dee parting company. No mention is made of what happened to Alex, the man Dee Dee left the force to marry in 1990.

Hunter (NBC, 2003). A six-episode continuation of the prior TV movie. The first episode, "Back in Force" (April 12, 2003) finds Lieutenant Rick Hunter (Fred Dryer) becoming a member of the San Diego Police Department when he leaves Los Angeles following the shooting death of his partner. Sergeant Dee Dee McCall (Stephanie Kramer), formerly with the Juvenile Division of the San Diego P.D., is now partners with Hunter in the Robbery-Homicide Division. Their superior is Captain Gallardo (Mike Gomez).

Rick has not mellowed with age; he is more prone to violent confrontations than before. When he speaks to a suspect he warns him, "The worst part of your day is not when I show up but when I come back." Dee Dee teaches children music at the Juvenile Center in her spare time. Christopher Franke composed the new series "Hunter" theme.

3790 Hunter's Moon. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 12/1/79). Wyoming during the range wars between cattlemen and sheepherders at the turn of the century is the setting for an unsold series about Fayette Randall, a mysterious figure for justice. In the pilot episode, Randall begins a vendetta against a man called the Captain, who murdered his family.

Cast: Cliff DeYoung (Fayette Randall), Robert DoQui (Isham Hart, his friend). Guest Cast: Alex Cord (The Captain), Leif Erickson (George Randall), Dan O'Herlihy (Hobble), John Ericson (Kels Johansen), Ty Hardin (Marshal), John Quade (Ora Bowen), Morgan Ramsey (Senator Terry), Morgan Stevens (Peter Randall).

3791 The Huntress. (Series; Crime Drama; USA; 2000–2001). Dottie Thorson is a unique woman. She is a mother (of Brandi) and was a housewife but is now a bounty hunter who earns a living by tracking down wanted men and women.

Dottie was married to Ralph Thorson, a legendary bounty hunter. When Ralph was killed in the line of duty, financial necessity forced Dottie to take over his business and become one of the rare breed — a beautiful woman who is a bounty hunter. Joining Dottie is her equally beautiful daughter, Brandi, an 18-year-old who often goes undercover to help bring a wanted felon to justice. Stories follow the mother-daughter team as they risk their lives to earn a living.

Other Regulars: Ricky Guzman, the bail bondsman Dottie works for; and Tiny Bellows, Dottie's love interest, a criminal she once put behind bars.

Cast: Annette O'Toole (Dottie Thorson), Aleska Palladino (Brandi Thorson; pilot), Jordana Spiro (Brandi Thorson; series), James Remar (Tiny Bellows), Paulie Dortmund (Ricky Guzman; pilot), Luis Antonio Ramos (Ricky Guzman; series).

3792 Hurdy Gurdy. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1967). A honky tonk is the setting for a program of music and song that recreates the mood of an bygone era called the Gay 1890s.

Host: Pete Lofthouse. Regulars: Barbara Kelly, The Sportsmen, The Hurdy Gurdy Dancers. Music: The Second Story Men.

3793 Hurricane Sam. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/25/90). Jeannie and Bob Kelvin are a typical mother and father of a not-so-typical son — a mischievous whirlwind of energy with a high I.Q. they nickname “Hurricane” Sam. The efforts of Sam’s parents to keep him under control is the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Sam, who attends Bronson Elementary School, finds himself in hot water when he shows his class a home video he made of his gorgeous neighbor, Renee, swimming in the nude. Other Regulars: Trisha, Sam’s sister; Ed, Bob’s father; and Neil, Renee’s son.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Jeannie Kelvin), Tim Stack (Bob Kelvin), Ben Savage (Sam Kelvin), Kiersten Warren (Trisha Kelvin), Ray Walston (Ed Kelvin), Fran Drescher (Renee), Christopher Castile (Neil). Guest Cast: Kurt Fuller (Phil Gower), Jeff Silverman (Joey). Theme Vocal: “Take It As It Comes” by Bob Boykin.

3794 Husbands and Wives. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/18/77). The pilot film for Husbands, Wives and Lovers about the hassles, foibles, and frivolities of five suburban couples, each with diverse backgrounds, who live in the San Fernando Valley.

The Couples: Murray Zuckerman, a salesman, and his wife, Paula; Harry Bell, a garbage truck tycoon, and his wife, Joy; Ron Cutler, a dentist, and his wife, Helene; Dixon Fielding, a lawyer, and his wife, Courtney; and Lennie Bell, Harry’s brother, who lives with his girlfriend, Rita.

Cast: Alex Rocco (Murray Zuckerman), Cynthia Harris (Paula Zuckerman), Ed Barth (Harry Bell), Suzanne Zenor (Joy Bell), Ron Rifkin (Ron Cutler), Linda Miller (Helene Cutler), Charles Siebert (Dixon Fielding), Claudette Nevins (Courtney Fielding), Mark Lonow (Lennie Bell), Rande Heller (Rita).

3795 Husbands, Wives and Lovers. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1978). The hassles, foibles and frivolities of five suburban couples living in the San Fernando Valley.

Murray and Paula Zuckerman are a couple whose marriage is full of ups and downs due to Murray, a pharmaceutical salesman who is frequently out of town.

Harry Bellini is a gruff, self-educated garbage truck tycoon whose cute, blonde and innocent second wife, Joy, is young enough to be his daughter.

Lennie Bellini is Harry’s younger, unmarried brother. He lives with Rita DeLatorre, a woman who is several years his senior.

Dr. Ron Wilson is a dentist who is separated from his from his wife, Helene. They are splitting up in order to attain new heights in personal growth and fulfillment. They retain their friendship with the rest of the group.

Dixon Carter Fielding is a corporate lawyer and Ron’s oldest friend (Dixon is representing Helene in Ron’s separation proceedings). Dixon’s wife, Courtney, is a woman with one goal in life: to find ways to spend her husband’s money.

Harry is the owner of the Bellini Waste Removal Service; Lennie and Rita run a trendy boutique called Rita’s (which specializes in denim “with more zippers than anyone could use”); Dixon is a lawyer with the firm of Lindquist, Provost and Fielding. When the couples took a televised sex quiz and flunked, they attended the Center for Sensual Exploration and Sexual Awareness at Pinewood. The women demonstrated for equal rights on “National Women’s Strike Day” when they felt their spouses were taking advantage of them.

Cast: Stephen Pearlman (Murray Zuckerman), Cynthia Harris (Paula Zuckerman), Eddie Barth (Harry Bellini), Lynne Marie Stewart (Joy Bellini), Mark Lonow (Lennie Bellini), Rande Heller (Rita DeLatorre), Ron Rifkin (Ron Wilson), Jesse Welles (Helene Wilson), Charles Siebert (Dixon Fielding), Claudette Nevins (Courtney Fielding). Theme Music: “Husbands, Wives and Lovers” by Mitzi Welch, Ken Welch.

3796 Hustle. (Series; Crime Drama; AMC; 2006). Albert Stroller is a very distinguished gentleman one would never suspect of being a thief. He is, though, a brilliant veteran con artist who has assembled a team of expert thieves and together they steal what they want from whomever they want. Albert is based in London, England and chooses the victims; Mickey Stone devises the plans; Stacie Monroe is the distraction specialist; Ash Morgan manages the team’s specialized equipment; and Danny Blue is the young amateur with high potential Mickey has taken under his wing. Following in the steps of Mission: Impossible, episodes relate the team’s experiences as they pull off very complicated scams that always offer them unexpected twists and turns.

Cast: Robert Vaughn (Albert Stroller), Marc Warren (Danny Blue), Jaime Murray (Stacie Monroe), Robert Glenister (Ash Morgan), Adrian Lester (Mickey Stone).

3797 The Hustler of Muscle Beach. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/16/80). A proposed series about Nick Demmick, a con-artist who devises elaborate schemes to make money. In the pilot episode, set in Venice, California, Nick stages a “Mr. Venice” body building contest on Muscle Beach, with Todd Nash, a slightly retarded, strong sanitation man, as his unlikely entrant at incredible odds. Other Regulars: Jenny O’Rourke, Nick’s partner, a waitress at Chez Stan, a restaurant; and Stan, Jenny’s boss.

Cast: Richard Hatch (Nick Demmick), Kay Lenz (Jenny O'Rourke), Sam Laws (Stan). Guest Cast: Veronica Hamel (Sheila Dodge), Joe Santos (Mr. Layton), Tim Kimber (Todd Nash), Jack Carter (Mr. Mancuso), Jeanette Nolan (Rose McIntosh), Heather Hobbs (Kathy), Bobby Van (Emcee).

3798 Hyperion Bay. (Series; Drama; WB; 1998–1999). Dennis Sweeney is the son of Frank and Amy Sweeney and has an older brother named Nick. Dennis was somewhat of a loner and grew up in the shadow of Nick. After graduating from college Dennis left the town of Hyperion Bay to seek fame and fortune. After achieving success with a computer company (Muse Prime), Dennis returns to Hyperion Bay to open a branch of the company and bring the modern world to the small town. Dennis is accompanied by his girlfriend, Jennifer Worth, and together they face the problems of small town life as Dennis suddenly captures the spotlight and Nick becomes overshadowed by Dennis's success.

Cast: Mark-Paul Gosselaar (Dennis Sweeney), Sydney Penny (Jennifer Worth), Dylan Neal (Nick Sweeney), Raymond J. Barry (Frank Sweeney), Christina Moore (Amy Sweeney), Cassidy Rae (Trudy Tucker), Bart Johnson (Nelson Tucker), Carmen Electra (Sarah Hicks), Cindy Pickett (Marjorie Sweeney).

3799 I Am the Greatest: The Adventures of Muhammad Ali. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1977–1978). Heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali lends his image and voice to an animated series that attempts to teach children right from wrong through Ali's adventures as a modern-day Robin Hood who helps good defeat evil.

Voice Cast: Muhammad Ali (Himself), Frank Bannister (Himself), Patrice Carmichael (Nicky), Casey Carmichael (Damon), Richard Paul, Joan Gerber, Peter Hass, Wali Muhammad, Bob Arbogast.

3800 I and Claudie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/2/64). Clint Hightower and Claudie Hughes are con artists who devise unique schemes to make a living. The unsold series was to chart their adventures as they travel across the country and prey on the unsuspecting. In the pilot episode, Clint and Claudie attempt to help two girls (Nancy and Jo Anne) run a ranch short of manpower.

Cast: Jerry Lanning (Clint Hightower), Ross Martin (Claudie Hughes). Guest Cast: Barbara Stuart (Nancy Gifford), Jennifer Billingsley (Jo Anne Smith). Also: Bella Bruck, Frank Gerstle, Jess Kirkpatrick, Jay Novello, Eddie Quinlan.

3801 I Carly. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2007–). Carly Shay is not only a very pretty teenage girl but a girl with a powerful dream: to achieve fame as the creator and star of a web cast.

Carly is 13 years old and an eighth grader at Ridgeway Junior High School in Seattle. She lives at the Bushwell Plaza Apartments with her brother, Spencer, who is also her guardian (their father, a widower, is in the military and stationed overseas).

Spencer, a sculptor, is 26 years old and a bit off the wall. Samantha (who likes to be called Sam) is Carly's best friend. She has a penchant for finding and getting into trouble (most of the time for which Carly takes the blame as Sam is on the vice principal's "most wanted" list).

Carly's Internet web cast is www.icarly.com (it was Carly who came up with the idea. "We can do what we want and say what we want." Sam liked the idea—but not the work involved. "Make it your show," she told Carly. "You do the work and I'll be your amusing little sidekick." For two girls so young, they have an amazing chemistry together and are perfectly matched co-hosts).

Freddie, Carly's across-the-hall neighbor, has a crush on Carly (the feeling, however, is not mutual) and is, as Carly calls him, "Our tech guy" (handles the camera and broadcast aspects of the show).

Carly, Sam and Freddie have converted Carly's loft into a makeshift studio and each week i.carly.com presents "a show about anything—something different each week."

While press release information states that Carly wants to be a role model and help kids overcome their problems, the actual program does not appear to stress that point. It is entertaining and is more focused on Carly (and Sam's) mishaps at school and their efforts to produce their weekly Internet show. Carly's website is real and viewers can log on to express their opinions and share messages with Carly.

Mr. Franklin is the school's principal; Francine Briggs is the stern vice principal. Miranda Cosgrove and Drake Bell perform the theme "Leave It All to Me."

Cast: Miranda Cosgrove (Carly Shay), Jennette McCurdy (Sam Puckett), Jerry Trainor (Spencer Shay), Nathan Kress (Freddie Benson), Tim Russ (Principal Franklin), Mindy Sterling (Francine Briggs).

3802 I-Caught. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2007). An unusual series that goes behind the scenes to explore the stories associated with the video images that are generated by surveillance cameras, computer up loads and down loads, cell phone images and web cameras. The people involved in producing these images are also featured.

Host: Bill Weir.

3803 I Cover Times Square. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1950–1951). Johnny Warren is a crusading Broadway newspaper columnist whose beat is the out-of-town newsstand on Seventh Avenue in Times Square (New York City). Stories relate Johnny's relaxed, easy-going attitude as he covers stories for his paper. The pilot episode, titled I Cover

Times Square, aired on Chevrolet Tele-Theater on December 26, 1949. The series ran from October 5, 1950 to January 11, 1951.

Cast: Harold Huber (Johnny Warren).

3804 I Do, I Don't. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 9/2/83). Shelley Hewitt is married to Earl and stepmother to his children, Lisa and Zack. Earl is a widower; Shelley is divorced and was previously married to Ivan. The unsold series was to relate Shelley's misadventures as Ivan constantly plagues her life in his fruitless attempts to win her back. In the pilot episode, Ivan tries to impress Shelley when a scheduling mix up reunites them for a weekend at a mountain cabin.

Cast: Linda Purl (Shelley Hewitt), Bo Svenson (Earl Hewitt), Martha Byrne (Lisa Hewitt), Scott Schutzman (Zack Hewitt), Charles Rocket (Ivan). Guest Cast: Robin Eisenmann (Taffee McDermott), Sandy Ward (Sheriff McDermott).

3805 I Dream of Jeannie. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1965–1970). The house at 1030 Palm Drive in Cocoa Beach, Florida, is owned by Captain (later Major) Tony Nelson, an astronaut with the NASA Space Center at Cape Kennedy. Also living with him is Jeannie, a beautiful genie he found after a rocket he was testing malfunctioned and crash-landed on a deserted island in the South Pacific.

Jeannie was born in Baghdad on April 1, 64 B.C. When she become of age, the Blue Djinn, the most powerful of all genies, asked for her hand in marriage. When she refused he turned her into a genie, placed her in a bottle, and sentenced her to a life of loneliness on a deserted island. Centuries later, when Tony becomes stranded on the island, he finds her green bottle (while making an S.O.S. signal), opens it, sets her free and becomes her master. Jeannie wants only to please Tony by using her magic to help him. Tony feels he does not need help and demands that Jeannie not use her powers (something she tries to do, but cannot as she feels Tony needs all the help he can get).

Jeannie crosses her hands over her chest and blinks her eyes to invoke her powers. She appears and disappears in a puff of pink smoke. When Jeannie becomes unhappy, her powers weaken; if she becomes depressed she begins to vanish.

Tony was born in Fowlers Corners, Ohio and attended Fowlers Corners High School (where he was called "Bunky" Nelson). He has piloted Apollo 14, Apollo 15, Stardust 1 (the ship that malfunctioned in the pilot), the X-14 and the Trail Blazer. Tony's main goal is to keep Jeannie's presence a secret — especially from NASA officials (he fears the Air Force will discharge him for having a genie).

Captain (then Major) Roger Healey is Tony's best friend and the only other person who knows about Jeannie. He is a swinging bachelor and often becomes a victim of the fallout (with Tony) when Jeannie uses her powers.

Dr. Alfred Bellows is the base psychiatrist who, after meeting Tony, has set two goals for himself: to prove to someone else that something strange is going on, and to figure out what (Alfred most always experiences the after effects of Jeannie's magic). Alfred is married to Amanda.

A recurring aspect of the series was the efforts of Jeannie's evil sister, Jeannie II, to steal Tony away from Jeannie and marry him. This failed when Jeannie and Tony married in 1969. Jeannie II wears a green harem outfit (Jeannie a pink one) and has been married 47 times.

General Martin Peterson and later General Winfield Schaefer are Tony's commanding officers. Jeannie's magical dog is the mischievous Gin Gin. See also I Dream of Jeannie: 15 Years Later and I Still Dream of Jeannie.

Narrator Paul Frees opens the show: "Once upon a time in a mythical place called Cape Kennedy, an astronaut named Tony Nelson went up on a space mission. The missile went up but something went wrong and they had to bring it down. Captain Nelson landed on an island in the South Pacific where he found a bottle — at least it looked like a bottle, but it didn't act like a bottle (visual follows with Tony opening the bottle; Jeannie popping out; Tony wishing to be rescued; helicopter appearing). Captain Nelson was so grateful he set Jeannie free — only she didn't want to be free — you know how it is when you've been cooped up in a bottle for 2,000 years; she wanted to have fun and she wanted to have it with Captain Nelson. So she followed him back to Cocoa Beach, a mythical town in a mythical state called Florida. And there, in this house, the girl in the bottle play spin the astronaut."

Cast: Barbara Eden (Jeannie/Jeannie II), Larry Hagman (Tony Nelson), Bill Daily (Roger Healy), Hayden Rorke (Dr. Alfred Bellows), Emmaline Henry (Amanda Bellows), Barton MacLane (Gen. Martin Peterson), Vinton Hayworth (Gen. Winfield Schaefer), Abraham Sofaer (Hadjji; master of all genies), Ted Cassidy (Habib; Jeannie's sister's master), Florence Sundstrom (Jeannie's mother), Lurene Tuttle (Jeannie's mother; later), Spring Byington (Tony's mother), Hal Taggart (Tony's father), Gabriel Dell (Tony's Cousin Arvel), Michael Ansara (The Blue Djinn).

3806 I Dream of Jeannie: 15 Years Later. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/20/85). An unsold attempt to revise I Dream of Jeannie which told of the adventures of a beautiful genie (Jeannie) and her master (Captain Tony Nelson), an astronaut who found her on a deserted island in the South Pacific. In 1970, when the series ended, Jeannie and Tony were married and were apparently meant to live as newlyweds forever in syndication. The continual popularity brought forth an attempt to revive it.

Jeannie and Tony (now a colonel) have a teenage son named T.J. (Tony Junior) and have moved from Cocoa Beach, Florida (the series setting), to Houston, Texas. Major Roger Healey, Tony's best friend, has retired; Colonel Alfred Bellows, the base psychiatrist, has also retired and gone into private practice; and Jeannie II, Jeannie's devious sister (she tried to steal Tony away from Jeannie) has remained the same: devious.

In the pilot, Jeannie II attempts to make the content-as-a-housewife Jeannie into a swinger by making her independent when Tony decides to forsake retirement and continue with the space program. During the final 15 minutes of the program, Jeannie requests special permission from Haji, the master of all genies, to save Tony's life when she discovers that his shuttle is in direct line with an asteroid. With NASA unable to change the shuttle's orbit and only seconds left before collision, Jeannie receives the power to save Tony's life. However, as a result of the act, Jeannie fades from the memories of all who knew her.

Six months later, while walking on a street, two strangers pass each other by — Jeannie and a civilian named Tony Nelson. As Tony continues to walk, Jeannie casts her magic spell over him. As Tony approaches Jeannie, Jeannie turns to the camera and says "Haji didn't say we couldn't start a new beginning." See also I Still Dream of Jeannie.

Cast: Barbara Eden (Jeannie/Jeannie II), Wayne Rogers (Tony Nelson), MacKenzie Astin (T.J. Nelson), Bill Daily (Roger Healey), Hayden Rorke (Dr. Alfred Bellows), Andre DeShields (Haji). Guest Cast: Dody Goodman (Scheherazade), Lee Taylor-Allan (Captain Nelly Hunt), Dori Brenner (Dori Greene), John Bennett Perry (Wes Morrison), Michael Fairman (General Hatten), Nicole Eggert (Melissa), Helen J. Siff (Millie), Brandon Call (Tony, age 7), Belita Moreno (Mrs. Farrell).

3807 I Gave at the Office. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/15/84). The Brinker Advertising Agency is a small company based in Denver and owned by Larry Brinker. His staff includes Michael, Julie, Janet and Jimbo (copywriters); Yvonne, his secretary; and K.C., the receptionist. The unsold series was to focus on their antics as they attempt to run the company. In the pilot episode, Michael, the eager new employee, attempts to help the hard-drinking, burned out Jimbo get through a difficult ad presentation.

Cast: Michael Lerner (Larry Brinker), Matt de Ganan (Michael Boatwright), Candy Clark (Julie), Janet Carroll (Janet Holloway), Max Wright (Jimbo), Kathleen York (K.C. Conklin), Jill Jacobson (Yvonne). Guest Cast: George Solomon (Sal), Zeld Rubinstein (Scruffy).

3808 I Had Three Wives. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1985). "Just about every client I ever had wants to kill me," says Jackson Beaudine, a three times divorced private detective who owns Jackson Beaudine Investigations at 1163 Vandover Street in Los Angeles. Jackson is not your typical private detective.

While he does investigate cases and tries to help people in trouble, he has a knack for asking the wrong questions of the wrong people and constantly puts his life in jeopardy. "I need all the help I can get," he says, and he relies on the assistance of his three ex-wives — Liz Bailey, Samantha Collins and Mary Parker.

Liz, Samantha and Mary are career women. Jackson claims each of the marriages failed "because we got in the way of each other's career and stopped each other's personal growth."

Elizabeth is a reporter for the Los Angeles Chronicle. She lives at 6 Preston Drive. Samantha, called Sam by Jackson, is an aspiring actress. Her claim to fame is the starring role in the horror film Hatchet Honeymoon. She lives in an apartment at the Roxbury Apartment Complex. Mary is a lawyer with the firm of Maxwell, Cooper and Associates. She is the mother of their son, Andrew and they live at 12718 Kenmore Road in Brentwood.

Jackson lives in an apartment near the waterfront. Lucy Baines is Andrew's cousin. Bill Conti composed the theme "I Had Three Wives."

Cast: Victor Garber (Jackson Beaudine), Shanna Reed (Elizabeth Bailey), Teri Copley (Samantha Collins), Maggie Cooper (Mary Parker), David Faustino (Andrew Beaudine), Keri Houlihan (Lucy Baines).

3809 I Hate My 30s. (Series; Comedy; VH-1; 2007). A coming of age comedy about a group of office workers who have or are about to reach the age of thirty. While there are a number of characters, most with nothing more to do than brood about the prospect, particular focus is on Carol, a 29-year-old who is rapidly approaching the most dreaded day of her life — her next birthday. Carol is in a panic as she has no boyfriend, her biological clock is ticking and she needs to be married to have a child.

Chad has turned that "horrible" corner and is struggling to accept the fact that he is no longer a young man in his twenties but a man in his thirties. Carol is secretly in love with Chad but fears approaching him as they have a great working relationship and an office romance may upset the bond they have.

Mandy is a beautiful, self-absorbed woman who constantly worries about what thirty may do to her looks. She is, needless to say, vain, and is also looking to settle down, but can't seem to find anyone (besides dreading wrinkles, Mandy worries about becoming another bridesmaid but never a bride).

Kyle is the office assistant who is smitten with every girl he sees but is a patsy — especially in the hands of Mandy who constantly takes advantage of him. The series is narrated by a so-called expert on such matters, Dr. Rod (somewhat in the style of Rod Serling on The Twilight Zone) and stories are actually a look at leaving one's twenties and assuming a greater responsibility in life as one grows older.

Cast: Megahn Perry (Carol), David Fickas (Chad), Jill Ritchie (Mandy), Liam Sullivan (Kyle), Michele Specht (Katie), James Mathis III (Bruce), Rachael Lawrence (Vicki), Mark Kelly (Travis), Brice Beckham (Corey), Ric Barbera (Dr. Rod).

3810 I Led Three Lives. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1953–1956). Herbert Philbrick is a man who led three lives: private citizen, undercover agent, and FBI counterspy. Stories depict his life as a counter-spy and his efforts to infiltrate the American Communist Party and inform the U.S. government officials of the Red military movement. Eva Philbrick is Herbert's wife; Constance is their daughter; Steve Daniels and Joe Carney are FBI agents.

Cast: Richard Carlson (Herbert Philbrick), Virginia Stefan (Eva Philbrick), Patricia Morrow (Constance Philbrick), John Berardino (Steve Daniels), Charles Maxwell (Joe Carney).

3811 I Love a Mystery. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 2/27/73). A television adaptation of the radio series of the same title about Doc Long, Jack Packard and Reggie York, private detectives who roam the world solving crimes. The pilot depicts their efforts to escape from Randy Cheyne, an eccentric who has lured them to her mysterious castle and plans to kill them. The pilot was filmed in 1966.

Cast: David Hartman (Doc Long), Les Crane (Jack Packard), Hagan Beggs (Reggie York). Guest Cast: Ida Lupino (Randy Cheyne), Jack Weston (Job Cheyne), Don Knotts (Alexander Archer), Terry-Thomas (Gordon Elliott), Melodie Johnson (Charity), Karen Jensen (Faith), Deanna Lund (Hope), Francine York (Telegram girl).

3812 I Love Her Anyway! (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/3/81). An updated version of The George Burns and Gracie Allen Show (CBS, 1950–58) wherein a level-headed husband (Jerry Martin) struggles to cope with and solve the situations that occur through the actions of Laurie, his pretty but scatterbrained wife.

The program also captures the feel of the original series by setting the action in and around the Martins' California home, where Jerry and Laurie live with his free-loading brother Fred and Fred's wife Mona. Jerry, like George Burns, is aware of a viewing audience and speaks directly into the camera — to recap the story and hopefully straighten out the situations that have arisen due to Laurie's meddling. The pilot episode depicts the complications that ensue when Laurie pretends to be Mona, her best friend, and keep the doctor's appointment the real Mona forgot — and didn't cancel. Other Regulars: Willie Winslow, their neighbor.

3813 I Love Lucy. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/30/90). The original pilot film for I Love Lucy that was produced in March of 1951 and aired in 1990 after being lost for almost 40 years (found in the effects of one of its guests, Pepito, a Spanish clown).

The pilot is slightly different from the series in that Fred and Ethel Mertz do not appear and Lucy and Ricky Ricardo (not Lucy and Larry Lopez as reported in TV Guide) live in a modern apartment building, not the Brownstone owned by Fred and Ethel in the series. The pilot relates the same aspect of the series — Lucy's wacky efforts to break into show business despite Ricky's efforts to discourage her. Here Lucy poses as a clown to appear on a TV show band leader Ricky is preparing for broadcast. Lucille Ball was six months pregnant at the time and it cost Desi Arnaz $5,000 to produce the show.

Cast: Lucille Ball (Lucy Ricardo), Desi Arnaz (Ricky Ricardo), Pepito (Himself). Note: Lucie Arnaz hosted the program for its initial airing.

3814 I Love Lucy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1951–1957). Lucy and Ricky Ricardo are a happily married (but somewhat argumentative couple) who live at 623 East 68th Street in Manhattan in a converted brownstone that is owned by their good friends, Fred and Ethel Mertz.

Lucy Esmerelda McGillicuddy met Ricky Ricardo Alberto Fernando Acha (a.k.a. Ricky Alberto Ricardo IV) in New York City in 1941 when her friend Marian Strong arranged a blind date for her with Ricky. They fell in love and married shortly after. Ricky, a Cuban drummer who later has his own rumba band, performs at the Tropicana Club in Manhattan. In 1956 Ricky buys controlling interest in the Tropicana and renames it the Club Babalu (after his favorite song; the club is also called the Ricky Ricardo Babalu Club and the Babalu Club).

Lucy was born in Jamestown, New York. She is, as some people call her, "a wacky redhead," because all her good intentions always backfire and she gets into nothing but trouble. Lucy is fascinated by the world of show business and desperately wants to become a part of that world. She believes she can sing, dance and act, but Ricky refuses to let her enter his world. This sets the stage for most episode storylines as Lucy schemes to get what she wants most—and Ricky attempts to discourage her. Lucy is famous for her “spider noise” (“Eeeuuuuu”). Ricky couldn’t always stop Lucy from doing what she wanted to do and she did acquire some show business jobs, she is most famous for her TV commercial on Your Saturday Night Variety Show—Vita-meatavegamin, a vitamin product that contained meat, vegetables, minerals and 23 percent alcohol; naturally Lucy became intoxicated during rehearsals.

In 1953 Lucy and Ricky became the parents with the birth of Ricky Ricardo, Jr. better known as Little Ricky.

Ethel and Fred Mertz are former vaudevillians that met on the stage and later married. Fred is considered a cheapskate and always too frugal with a dollar according to Ethel. Ethel was born in Albuquerque, New Mexico; Fred in Steubenville, Ohio. He and Ricky are members of the Recreation Club. In European-based episodes (1955–1956) Fred becomes Ricky’s band manager and the quartet books passage on the ocean liner SS Constitution.

While visiting friends in Connecticut, Lucy falls in love with an Early American-style house for sale. She convinces Ricky to move. When they find the cost of living higher than expected, they decide to raise chickens and take in two borders—Fred and Ethel Mertz. Last season episodes follow their lives in the country.

Cast: Lucille Ball (Lucy Ricardo), Desi Arnaz (Ricky Ricardo), William Frawley (Fred Mertz), Vivian Vance (Ethel Mertz), James John Gouzer (Little Ricky Ricardo), Richard Lee Simmons (Little Ricky Ricardo), The Meyer Twins (Little Ricky Ricardo), Richard Keith (Little Ricky Ricardo), Jerry Hausner (Jerry; Ricky’s agent), Elizabeth Patterson (Mrs. Trumbull; Lucy’s neighbor), Kathryn Card (Mrs. Magilicuddy; Lucy’s mother), Mary Jane Croft (Betty Ramsey; Lucy’s neighbor), Frank Nelson (Ralph Ramsey; Betty’s husband). Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

Note: In 1957 (to 1960) thirteen additional I Love Lucy episodes were produced and aired as The Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz Show (titled The Lucy-Desi Comedy Hour for syndication). Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz, William Frawley and Vivian Vance recreated their roles; the first episode, “Lucy Takes a Cruise to Havana” (11/16/57), changes how Lucy and Ricky met. Here Lucy and her friend Susie McNamara (Ann Sothern) are in Havana when Lucy meets Ricky and falls in love with him.

The remaining episodes are “The Celebrity Next Door” (12/3/57), “Lucy Hunts Uranium” (1/3/58), “Lucy Wins a Racehorse” (2/3/58), “Lucy Goes to Sun Valley” (4/14/58), “Lucy Goes to Mexico” (10/6/58), “Lucy Makes Room for Danny” (12/11/58; Danny Thomas guests), “Lucy Goes to Alaska” (2/9/59), “Lucy Wants a Career” (4/13/59), “Lucy’s Summer Vacation” (6/8/59), “Milton Berle Hides Out at the Ricardos” (9/25/59), “The Ricardos Go to Japan” (11/27/59) and “Lucy Meets the Moustache” (4/1/60; Ernie Kovacs guests).

3815 I Love My Doctor. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/14/62). Jim Barkley is a doctor with a large city practice who relocates to a small suburban community to help its people. The proposed series was to relate his experiences. In the pilot episode, Connie, Jim’s wife, attempts to help him with a promotional campaign to win patients. Other Regulars: Liz and Albert, Jim and Connie’s children.

Cast: Don Porter (Dr. Jim Barkley), Phyllis Avery (Connie Barkley), Terry Burnham (Liz Barkley), Ricky Kelman (Albert Barkley).

3816 I Love New York. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2007). A spin-off from Flavor of Love. The title refers to Tiffany Pollard, the girl known as New York (given the name by rapper Flavor Flav because she is from upstate New York). The simplistic format has twenty “hunks” competing for New York’s affections and become the one she chooses as her own. After a number of challenges that narrows down the field (contestants eliminated) New York chooses the one man she feels will love her (New York claims to have the ability “to look into a man’s soul and see if he is sincere”). Patrick “Tango” Hunter was chosen by New York “as the one who will love me the most.” It looked like a good match, but Hunter later dumped New York.

Star: Tiffany Pollard.

3817 I-Man. (Pilot; Fantasy; ABC; 4/6/86). After several years in space, the Galaxy I U.S. Space probe returns to Earth with a sample of alien atmosphere. Several days later, while en-route to a NASA research lab, a truck carrying the alien sample is involved in an accident. While attempting to help the truck driver, cabby Jeffrey Wilder is exposed to a canister of the leaking alien atmosphere. The alien gas reacts with his molecular structure and renders him indestructible. Immediately, he is recruited by the International Security Agency to become an agent for the U.S. government. The unsold series was to relate Jeffrey’s exploits as he uses his amazing abilities to benefit mankind. In the pilot episode, Jeffrey attempts to stop Oliver Holbrook from using a government laser weapon to destroy San Francisco.

Other Regulars: Karen McCorder, Jeffrey’s assistant; Art Bogosian, their supervisor; Eric Wilder, Jeffrey’s son; and Harry Murphy, Jeffrey’s assistant.

3818 I Married a Dog. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/4/61). Peter Chance is a handsome young businessman. Joyce Nicoll is an attractive secretary. The two meet, fall in love and marry. They set up housekeeping and believe they are going to have the ideal life until Jonah, Joyce's French poodle, becomes extremely jealous and makes it difficult for Peter to get close to Joyce. The proposed series was relate a newlywed couple's efforts to make their marriage work under unusual circumstances.

Cast: Hal March (Peter Chance), Marcia Henderson (Joyce Nicoll-Chance). Guest Cast: Mary Carver (Madge Kellogg), Dave Willcock (Fred Bender), Oscar Beregi (Granek), Melinda Markey (Receptionist), Clark Gordon (Bartender). Note: In the actual program, the dog is called Jonah; in TV Guide, the dog is called Noah.

3819 I Married a Princess. (Series; Reality; Lifetime; 2005). A 13 episode reality series that looks at the personal lives of marrieds Catherine Oxenberg (from TV's Dynasty) and Casper Van Dien (from the theatrical film Starship Troopers) and their blended family of five children. India is Catherine's daughter; Gracie and Cappy are Casper's children from his first marriage; Maya and Celeste are their children together. Episodes capture their daily routine, including the good and bad times.

Cast: Catherine Oxenberg, India Oxenberg, Casper Van Dien, Cappy Van Dien, Gracie Van Dien, Maya Van Dien, Celeste Van Dien, Reverend Michael Beckwith, Dr. Ricki Beyers Beckwith.

3820 I Married Dora. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1987–1988). Peter Farrell, an architect with the firm of Hughes, Whitney and Lennox, lives at 46 LaPaloma Drive in Los Angeles with his children Kate and Will.

When his wife leaves him, Peter hires Dora Calderon, a young woman from El Salvador, as his housekeeper. Several months later, when Dora's visa is about to expire, Peter marries her to keep her in the country and with his family.

Peter claims he and Dora are not really married and are free agents when it comes to dating. Dora agrees that they have a marriage of convenience (although she secretly loves him) and asks simply "If our marriage is going to work you can't sneak around with other women. You have to bring them home to meet your wife and children." Dora calls Peter "Mr. Peter" and functions only as his housekeeper (had the series been renewed, the focus would have changed to Peter and Dora falling in love with each other, based on the last episode).

Kate, Peter's 13-year-old daughter, considers her best assets to be her gorgeous thick hair and her love of the Beastie Boys' music. She is a bit dense, believes going around the world "is like going from here to the mall a lot of times." She plays saxophone in her school band (but worries how her makeup looks) and plays golf with Peter at Putter World. Kate claims she possesses the three P's to be popular: "positive, pretty and perky." When Kate and her friends dress in short skirts and tight blouses and "feel sexy," they go to the mall "so other people can see how hot we are." Peter worries about Kate; Dora tells him "she's a 13-year-old girl. Her job is to whine and complain and be moody. If she is not making your life miserable, you're doing something wrong." It was when Peter opened Kate's bedroom closet door and saw a poster of Bon Jovi he knew "my little girl is growing up" (she previously had a poster of Strawberry Shortcake).

Other than being there when he is needed, no information is given about Will, Peter's younger and smarter child. Kate calls him a jerk "but he's a nice jerk." His only interest appears to be snooping in Kate's room when she is not home.

Cast: Daniel Hugh-Kelly (Peter Farrell), Elizabeth Pena (Dora Calderon), Juliette Lewis (Kate Farrell), Jason Horst (Will Farrell), Henry Jones (Hughes Whitney Lennox, Peter's boss), Evelyn Guerrero (Marisol Calderon, Dora's mother), Peggy McCay (Lucille Farrell, Peter's mother), Alley Mills (Janice Desmond), Sanford Jensen (Dolf Mennenger).

3821 I Married Joan. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1952–1955). Pretending she is an item on an auction block, Joan Stevens, the wife of Judge Bradley ("Brad") Stevens, says, "Folks, I have here item 45, a wife. Due to circumstances beyond her control, this wife is losing its owner. Now, what am I bid for this wife? This is not an ordinary wife. This one's a real goof. This wife is unconditionally guaranteed to louse things up."

Joan means well, meddling in Brad (and other people's lives) but all her good intentions inevitably backfire (even her fortune cookie fortunes are against her: "When you opened this cookie, you read the fortune we put in it. But when you opened your mouth, you just stuck your foot in it"). Joan is president of the local Women's Club and a member of the Women's Welfare League.

Joan is a whiz at maneuvering the household funds "to balance the books." She loves to buy clothes; when she doesn't have the money to pay for something at the moment, she has it sent C.O.D.

Brad, on the other hand, is level-headed, patient, understanding and deeply in love with Joan. He is a domestic relations judge for the county of Los Angeles. Brad loves hunting and golf and he calls Joan "Lover" (she calls him "Honey"). Brad's hobby is stamp collecting.

The Stevens live at 133 Stone Drive (also given as 345 Laurel Drive). Joan's favorite television soap opera is Two Hearts Against the World, and she is a fan of Guy Lombardo. The series' official screen title is The Joan Davis Show: I Married Joan.

Relatives: Beverly Wills (Joan's sister, Beverly Grossman), Alan Grossman (Beverly's husband, Alan Grossman, an army lieutenant stationed at Fort Williams), Elvia Allman (Joan's aunt, Vera), Norma Varden (Brad's mother, Florry Stevens).

Cast: Joan Davis (Joan Stevens), Jim Backus (Bradley Stevens), Sheila Bromley (Janet Tobin), Dan Tobin (Kerwin Tobin), Geraldine Carr (Mabel), Hal Smith (Charlie), Sandra Gould (Mildred Webster). Theme Vocal: "I Married Joan" by The Roger Wagner Chorale.

3822 I Pity the Fool. (Series; Reality; TV Land; 2006). "I Pity the Fool" is a catchphrase used by Mr. T in the movie Rocky III and on the TV series The A-Team. Taking that concept, Mr. T travels around the country to offer advice (or help) to people he feels need all the help they can get.

Host: Mr. T.

3823 I Remember Caviar. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/11/59). Margaret "Maggie" Randall is a debutante who lives with her aunt, Caroline, and her brother, Eric. The Randalls come from a once wealthy family who lost their money through bad investments. The family must now learn to live with poverty and their efforts to do just that was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Goodyear Theater, the family attempt to adjust to their reduced circumstances by finding a less expensive home. See also All in the Family, the 1960 sequel pilot film.

Cast: Patricia Crowley (Maggie Randall), Lurene Tuttle (Caroline Randall), Elliott Reid (Eric Randall), Jack Mulhall (Lister; guest role).

3824 I Search for Adventure. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1954). Jack Douglas, who serves as the host, also narrates documentary-like films that depict the unusual activities of seemingly ordinary people who defy danger for the thrill of an adventurous experience.

3825 I Spy. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1956). Tales of intrigue and espionage that span time from the sixteenth to the twentieth centuries. Stories, which feature a different cast each week, are related by Anton, the Spy Master.

Host: Raymond Massey (as Anton).

3826 I Spy. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1965–1968). Kelly Robinson and Alexander Scott are U.S. government undercover agents who pose as a tennis pro (Kelly) and his trainer/masseur (Scott, called Scotty). Their exact affiliation is not mentioned by name; they call their "boss" "our people," "our superiors" or "Washington."

Kelly, called Kel by Scotty, is a graduate of Princeton University. He is skilled in karate but still manages to take a beating from the enemy. He loves fishing, golfing and duck hunting and has a bad habit of repeating what the person he is speaking to says. He also enjoys eating (especially steamed clams) and Scotty warns him to curtail his culinary pursuits "or you'll look like a lox on the court." Kelly calls himself a "tennis bum" and has won two Davis Cup trophies (when asked why he chose such a life, he responds with "It's better than digging ditches"). Although he travels around the world to compete, he doesn't always win (for example, he lost in five sets at Forest Hills).

Scotty is a Rhodes scholar and can speak eight languages. He was born in Philadelphia and mentioned he would have become a basketball coach at Allentown High School had he not become a spy. Scotty, a black belt in the martial arts, has the instincts of an alley cat and is an expert on explosives. He has training as a chemist and can make a bomb out of almost anything. Scott will also shoot to kill.

While they work well as a team, Scotty and Kelly constantly argue, usually about how a case should progress. They also bicker about who saves who the most (Scotty claims to have pulled Kelly out of a lot of "close shaves" and Kelly promises "I will do the same thing when the situations arise").

Cast: Robert Culp (Kelly Robinson), Bill Cosby (Alexander Scott). Theme Song: "I Spy" by Earle Hagen.

3827 I Still Dream of Jeannie. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/20/91). An unsold attempt to update the 1965–70 series I Dream of Jeannie. In the series, Jeannie was born in Baghdad 2,000 years ago. She was a normal girl who was transformed into a genie as punishment when she refused the marriage proposal of the Blue Djinn, the most powerful and most feared of all genies. The Blue Djinn placed her in a bottle and sentenced her to a life of loneliness on a deserted island. It was on that South Pacific island in 1965 that astronaut Tony Nelson found the genie (whom he called Jeannie) when his space capsule crash-landed. Tony became Jeannie's master, and they married in 1969.

In the pilot, Jeannie is still a genie, still married to Tony Nelson (now a colonel, but not seen) and the mother of a 16-year-old boy named Tony Nelson, Jr. The locale of the series moved from NASA in Cocoa Beach, Florida, to the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas. Jeannie's past was also quite different: Jeannie is now 4,233 years old (although she claims "I'm only 4,229"). She was born a genie in Mesopotamia and attended genie school to learn her craft. She was said to have had many masters over the centuries.

Jeannie II, Jeannie's older sister, was also brought back. In the series, Jeannie II had many masters, but none pleased her, so she sought to steal Tony away from Jeannie. The pilot depicts Jeannie II as the same devious girl and still seeking Tony as her master. It is said that Jeannie II never had a master; because of this, she is now bound to remain in Mesopotamia forever (she can leave, but only for periods of 24 hours at a time; she must return to maintain her youth, beauty and powers).

Tony's friend, Roger Healey, now a colonel, was also brought back. He is married to the never-seen Tanya and has also been transferred to the Johnson Space Center. General Westcott (Al Waxman) is the base commanding officer; and Shamir is the chief of the genies (in the series it was the Blue Djin). Jeannie's genie dog, Gin Gin, was also brought back.

The pilot begins with Tony being launched into space on a top secret mission so secret that not even Jeannie can know his whereabouts. The situation doesn't seem to bother Jeannie until her sister brings one of the laws of the Sacred Scroll of Rismock to Shamir's attention: "A genie without a master for more than three months must return to Mesopotamia forever" (a genie cannot remain in a plain of reality without a master; by leaving the planet, Tony forfeited his right as a master). The story relates Jeannie's desperate efforts to find a temporary master until Tony (who has been gone three months) can return to claim her as his genie. (Jeannie chose Bob Simpson [Ken Kercheval], the local high school guidance counselor, as her temporary master. She could not choose Roger because he was married ["a master must be single"] or her son ["a master must be over 21"].) The pilot ends with Tony still in unknown space and a rather dim-witted Bob trying to comprehend his decision to become Jeannie's temporary master.

Cast: Barbara Eden (Jeannie/Jeannie II), Bill Daily (Roger Healy), Christopher Bolton (Tony Nelson, Jr.). Guest Cast: Al Waxman (General Westcott), Peter Breck (Shamir), J.J. McColl (Clara), Jackson Davies (Dave), Ken Kercheval (Bob Simpson), Brent Stait (Eddie), Briggita Dau (Beth).

3828 I Want a Famous Face. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2004). There are celebrity impersonators, people who resemble celebrities and use accessories to personify that image. Then there are people who idolize celebrities but do not resemble them. That is the subject of I Want a Famous Face, a reality series not for the faint of heart, as plastic surgery scenes are quite graphic. The program attempts to provide such people with their dreams of celebrity status. It should be noted that MTV offers no incentive to the subjects being profiled. They do not pay for the surgeries nor do they hold any open auditions to acquire candidates for the purposes of a reality show.

Narrator: Jessica Chesler.

3829 I Want to be a Soap Star. (Series; Reality; Soap Opera Network; 2006). A group of ordinary people compete for the opportunity for a role on a network soap opera. Each contestant is placed in single acting chores as well as in group sessions. A panel of judges determines which candidate is worthy of the role.

Host: Cameron Mathison. Judges: Debbi Morgan, Michael Bruno.

3830 I Was a Bloodhound. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 2/15/59). Barney Colby is a private detective with an uncanny sense of smell—a gift he uses to solve baffling crimes. In the pilot episode, Colby is hired to recover a baby elephant, the symbol of royalty to a foreign country, when it is stolen and held for $50,000 in ransom. Other Regulars: Eunice, Barney's wife; and Jennie, Barney's secretary.

Cast: Ernie Kovacs (Barney Colby), Yvonne White (Eunice Colby), Shirley Mitchell (Jennie). Guest Cast: Larry Dobkin (Singh), Bart Bradley (Prince Puranajab), Robert Nash (Walters), Michael Garrett (Charlie), Joseph Mell (Joe).

3831 I Witness. (Unaired Pilot; Mystery; Produced for NBC in 1991). An interactive program that follows an investigative reporter (Jack Barnett) whose detective work is seen through the lens of his video camera operator (Mike) but whose face is never seen. The idea was to end each mystery with the solution unrevealed. Viewers could then call a special 900 number to guess who the culprit was. At the beginning of the next episode, the culprit and the prize winner were to be revealed.

Cast: Robert Firth (Jack Barnett), Larry Hankin (Mike), Walter Addison (Lieutenant Stanislaus "Stan" Wisniewski).

3832 I Witness Video. (Series; Reality; NBC; 1992–1994). The program spotlights videos of natural disasters, crime scene investigations, car chases and other such happenings as caught on videotape by both amateur and professional photographers.

Hosts: Patrick Van Horn (1992–1993), John Forsythe (1993–1994).

3833 The Ian Tyson Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1970). The program features performances by U.S. and Canadian folk and country and western artists.

Hosts: Ian Tyson, Sylvia Tyson. Music: The Great Speckled Bird.

3834 The Ice Palace. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1971). Entertainment acts set against the background of a mythical ice palace. The series, which ran for eight episodes and features a guest host of the week, ran from May 23, 1971 to July 25, 1971. Perry Cross and Peter Engel are the producers.

Guest Hosts: Vikki Carr, Dean Jones, The Lennon Sisters, Roger Miller, Leslie Uggams, Jack Jones, Johnny Mathis, John Davidson. Regulars: (Ice Skating Personalities): Tim Wood, Linda Car-bonetto, Billy Chappell, Gisela Head, Don Knight, Tim Noyers, Roy Powers, Sandy Parker, The Bob Turk Ice Dancers. Orchestra: Alan Copeland.

3835 Ice-T's Rap School. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2006). Tracy Morrow, better known as actor-rapper Ice-T, appears in an experiment that attempts to teach prep school students (mostly white) how be rappers.

York Prep School in Manhattan is the setting. Here Ice-T is presented with a group of eight students and through musical exercises, trains them to become rappers for a public performance. While they will not become real rappers, the purpose of the program is to make the public more aware of the genre.

Host: Ice-T.

3836 Ichabod and Me. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1961–1962). Bob Major, a widower with a young son named Benjie, quits his job as an editor for the New York Times and moves to Phippsboro, a small town in New Hampshire. There, he purchases the Phippsboro Bulletin, the town newspaper, from its owner, Ichabod Adams.

Ichabod, who has a beautiful daughter named Abigail (“Abby”) Adams, is the town’s mayor, traffic commissioner and overall problem solver.

Bob lived at 720 Madison Avenue in New York City; he now resides at 432 Maple Lane (Ichabod and Abby [Bob’s romantic interest] live at R.F.D. number 6). It is an eight hour drive from Manhattan to Phippsboro. Bob eats lunch at Bailey’s Drug Store.

When Bob sets his mind to get a story, he doesn’t give up until he gets it (he uses “the famous Major charm” to get what he wants). Bob’s housekeeper, Ichabod’s aunt, Lavinia Perkins, receives $35 a month and room and board. Jonathan assists Bob at the paper. See also Adams Apples.

Cast: Robert Sterling (Bob Major), Jimmy Mathers (Benji Major), George Chandler (Ichabod Adams), Christine White (Abigail Adams), Reta Shaw (Aunt Livinia), Jimmy Hawkins (Jonathan), Tim Graham (Mr. Bailey). Theme Song: “Ichabod and Me” by Pete Rugolo.

3837 I'd Like to See. (Series; Documentary; NBC; 1948). Host Ray Morgan also narrates films that highlight past historic events. The series ran from March 15, 1948 to August 7, 1948.

3838 I'd Rather Be Calm. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/24/82). An adult-oriented pilot, broadcast at 12:05 A.M., E.T., that focuses on the lives, loves and relationships of a group of singles who gather in a swinging singles restaurant-bar in Cleveland, Ohio.

The Regulars: Katherine, a department store buyer; Julie, a school teacher; Sissy, a dizzy beauty contest winner; Herbie, a lawyer; Leslie, the seductive widow suspected of killing Herbie’s father; Wally, Katherine’s boyfriend; Michael, a seminary school drop-out; Jack, the bar owner; and Seymour, the waiter.

Cast: Susan Spilker (Katherine Lange), Melissa Steinberg (Julie Williams), Trisha Hilka (Sissy Shafer), Gregg Berger (Herbie Weinstein), Fran Drescher (Leslie Harper Weinstein), Charles Levin (Wally), Buddy Powell (Michael Riley), Paul Stolarsky (Jack Minkus), Justin Lord (Seymour). Guest Cast: Feather Austen and Nancy Roberts (Bimbos), Tracee Lyles (Nurse), Clyde Phillip Taylor (Milt Solms), Meshach Taylor (Man). Theme Vocal: “I’d Rather Be Calm” by Carol Connors.

3839 The Ida Lupino Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1956). A filmed series of dramatic presentations hosted by and occasionally starring actress-director Ida Lupino.

3840 Identity. (Series; Game; NBC; 2007). One player stands before twelve strangers. A board with twelve occupations is displayed. Based on looks, the player must match the stranger with the occupation. The player chooses one occupation from the board and the stranger he believes it matches. If he is correct he wins $1,000 and a choice: quit and leave with his money or continue playing (the player is allowed one mistaken identity; the chance to ask a panel of experts for help; or a narrow down to three possibilities). Money increases with each additional challenge and if he identifies all twelve strangers, he wins $500,000. The pilot presentation aired from December 18, 2006 to December 22, 2006.

Host: Penn Jillette. Panel of Experts: Mark Edgar Stevens (body language expert), Stacy Kaiser (psycho therapist), Bill Stanton (private detective).

3841 If I Had a Chance. (Test Film; Variety; NBC; 8/14/47). What career would a celebrity have chosen if he or she were given a second chance? That was the idea behind this unsold series where celebrities appeared to tell you what might have been had they not chosen show business. Here, model Carol Brooks said she by-passed a nursing career to become a night club singer; actress Jessica Dragonette would have become a museum curator; Russ Case (RCA Records music director) had plans to become a car designer; and commentator Ben Grauer would have become a singer.

Host: Robert Lieb. Announcer: Roger Bowman. Guests: Carol Brooks, Russ Case, Jessica Dragonette, Ben Grauer.

3842 If I Had a Million. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 12/31/73). An unsold series based on the 1932 feature film of the same title. Here, a wealthy young man (as opposed to an elderly man in the movie) randomly chooses names from a phone book and anonymously gives them a million dollars. Stories were to focus on the recipients and how the money helps or hinders their lives. Four vignettes were presented in the pilot:

1. The Good Boy. John Schuck as a klutz who becomes involved with some comic book-like hoods. With Doolie Brown, Val Bisoglio and Louis Zorich.

2. First the Tube, and Now You, Darling. Brett Somers as a nagging wife; Ted Gehring as her silent husband — until the check comes.

3. The Searchers. Joseph Wiseman and Ruth McDevitt as senior citizens seeking a little dignity among non-caring young people. With Rae Allen and Gerald Hiken.

4. Three. The story of a loving husband (Ken Mars) with a loving wife (Melendy Britt) and a loving girlfriend (Elayne Heilveil).

Cast: Peter Kastner (The Millionaire).

3843 If I Love You, Am I Trapped Forever? (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/22/74). A proposed series about a group of close-knit high school friends: twins Leah and Sophie Pennington; the non-conformist Alan Bennett; the always gloomy Doomed; and the wealthy Carleton Penner. In the pilot episode, Alan touts the joys of unrequited love when he falls for Leah.

Other Regulars: Alice, Alan's mother; Alan's grandfather; Gwen, a student; and Lucius, the coach.

Cast: Tannis G. Montgomery (Leah Pennington), Denise Nickerson (Sophie Pennington), Teddy Eccles (Alan Bennett), Rod Berger (Doomed), Paul Clemens (Carleton Penner), Elinor Donahue (Alice Bennett), Liam Dunn (Grandfather Bennett), Vicky Huxtable (Gwen Graney), Joe DiReda (Lucius Luther). Guest Cast: Michael Talbott (Dave McKee), Rachel Bard (Mrs. Tompkins), Kevin McCarley (Simon).

3844 If Not for You. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1995). Jessie Kent is an audio book producer. She is engaged to Elliott Borden, an architect. Craig Schaffer is a producer at Gopher Records, a recording studio in Minneapolis. He is engaged to Melanie, a dull woman who happens to be a psychologist.

A chance meeting at a restaurant brings Jessie and Craig together and it is a love at first sight. Craig and Jessie find they have a lot in common and want to be with each other. Unfortunately, they are each engaged to someone else. The short lived (four episode) series really didn't have a chance to establish what would actually happen, but in its brief presentation, Jessie and Craig carry on a secret romance with each other hoping to build up the courage to break off their other relationships.

Other Regulars: Cal, Craig's audio engineer; and Eileen, a voice actor and gopher.

Cast: Elizabeth McGovern (Jessie Kent), Hank Azaria (Craig Schaffer), Debra Jo Rupp (Eileen Mott), Jane Sibbett (Melanie), Peter Krause (Elliott Borden), Reno Wilson (Bobby), Jim Turner (Cal).

3845 If You Knew Tomorrow. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 10/7/58). Ned Carver is a newscaster with a very unusual teletype machine — it reports news that will happen instead of what has happened. Ned's attempts to help the people whose lives are affected by the future was to be the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Colgate Theater, Ned attempts to save the lives of a newlywed couple whose car will be hit by a train at a gate crossing within 24 hours.

Cast: Bruce Gordon (Ned Carver). Guest Cast: Judith Ames (Julie Brewster), Dan Barton (Stanley Brewster). Also: Frances Bavier, Harry Cheshire, Harry Harvey, Jr., Dick Ryan, Herb Vigran.

3846 The Igor Cassini Show. (Series; Interview; DuMont; 1953–1954). Newspaper columnist Igor Cassini hosts a program of one on one celebrity interviews that ran from October 25, 1953 to February 28, 1954.

3847 I'll Bet. (Series; Game; NBC; 1965). Two married couples compete. A question is asked of one mate via a telephone (to prevent the other player from hearing it). The telephoned player then silently bets points (from 25 to 100) as to whether or not his mate can or can't answer it. The question is read aloud and the mate's answers determine the score. The team with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Jack Narz.

3848 I'll Buy That. (Series; Game; CBS; 1953–1954). An object, submitted by a home viewer, is put up for sale. A celebrity panel then questions the host regarding the article's identity. Each question raises the purchase price from five dollars to a limit of one hundred dollars. Contestants, chosen from the studio audience, then receive the opportunity to identify the article. A correct guess awards the player the purchase price of the article and the opportunity to triple his money by answering three questions. If the player takes the challenge, he must answer all three questions correctly. Failure to so costs him his money and his prize becomes the article he identified.

Host: Mike Wallace. Panelists: Hans Conried, Vanessa Brown, Robin Chandler, Albert Mooreland, Audrey Meadows. Commercial Spokeswoman: Robin Chandler.

3849 I'll Fly Away. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1991–1993). A social awareness series that is set in the South during the fledgling Civil Rights movement of the late 1950s. Here Forrest Bedford is a liberal prosecuting attorney who is basically satisfied with his life. He is a widower and the father of three children: John Morgan, Francie and Nathan. Lilly Harper, an African-American woman, cares for them (their housekeeper). Stories follow Forrest as he slowly becomes involved with civil rights issues through his cases; his children's efforts to adjust to a new situation; and Lilly's personal involvement with the movement.

Cast: Sam Waterson (Forrest Bedford), Regina Taylor (Lilly Harper), Jeremy London (Nathaniel "Nathan" Bedford), Ashlee Levitch (Francie Bedford), John Aaron Bennett (John Morgan Bedford), Kathryn Harrold (Christina LeKatzis), Michael Genevie (Winset Carter).

3850 I'll Never Forget What's Her Name. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 3/29/76). A proposed spin-off from On the Rocks that introduces Rosa Dolores, the cousin of prisoner Hector Fuentes (Jose Perez) as a New York girl who dreams of becoming a star in Hollywood. Her adventures with her girlfriend (Lillian) and her ex-con boyfriend (Howie) as she struggles to make a name for herself was the focal point of the unsold series.

Cast: Rita Moreno (Rosa Dolores), Yvonne Wilder (Lillian), Hamilton Camp (Howie Weston).

3851 The Ilona Massey Show. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1954–1955). A program of music and songs set against the background of a Continental supper club. The series ran from November 1, 1954 to January 3, 1955.

Hostess: Ilona Massey. Music: The Irving Fields Trio.

3852 I'm a Big Girl Now. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980–1981). The original format, episodes 1 through 17, tells the story of Diana Cassidy, a divorcee with a young daughter (Rebecca) and her father, Benjamin Douglas, just divorced after 34 years of marriage, as they attempt to share an apartment and help each other through the difficult times. Diana's efforts to prove to her intrusive and acerbic father, who still treats her like a child, that she is a big girl now is the focal point of the series.

Without explanation, the remaining episodes in the series (18 through 20) changes the format of the program to depict Diana, employed by the Kramer Research and Testing Company (a think tank in Washington, D.C.) in the above episodes, as a columnist for a newspaper called The Arlington Dispatch in Washington. Edie McKendrick, her employer in the first 17 episodes, is now the paper's editor, and her previous co-workers, Karen Hawks and Neal Stryker, are now reporters for the paper. The program ended its first run production only after producing three of the newer episodes. Benjamin works as a dentist; Walter is Diana's brother; and Preston Kramer is the research company owner.

Cast: Diana Canova (Diana Cassidy), Danny Thomas (Benjamin Douglas), Sheree North (Edie McKendrick), Rori King (Rebecca Cassidy), Michael Durrell (Walter Douglas), Deborah Baltzell (Karen Hawks), Martin Short (Neal Stryker), Joan Wells (Polly Douglas), Richard McKenzie (Preston Kramer). Theme Vocal: "I'm a Big Girl Now" by Diana Canova.

3853 I'm a Celebrity: Get Me Out of Here! (Series; Reality; ABC; 2003). Ten celebrities of varying notoriety are brought together and placed in the rather inhospitable Australian rain forest. Here, removed from their comfortable lifestyle, the celebrities must learn how to survive on limited rations and primitive living conditions. They are presented with survival tasks and compete for a large cash prize (to be donated to charity) and the title "King (or Queen) of the Jungle." Toll free numbers are offered to viewers who vote for their favorite celebrities to keep in the outpost camp; celebrities who receive the least amount of votes are eliminated from the competition. Cris Judd was voted "King of the Jungle."

Host: John Lehr. Celebrities: Melissa Rivers, Alana Stewart, Robin Leach, Maria Conchita Alonso, Nikki Schieler Ziering, Tyson Beckford, Downtown Julie Brown, Bruce Jenner, John Melendez, Cris Judd.

3854 I'm Dickens ... He's Fenster. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1962–1963). Harold ("Harry") Dickens and Archibald ("Arch") Fenster have been friends for ten years. They are carpenters and work together at the Bannister Construction Company in Los Angeles. Harry is married and henpecked; Arch is a swinging young bachelor with more girls than he can handle.

Harry married Katherine ("Kate") Conway in 1953. They live at 285 South Lakehurst. Harry, the shop foreman at Bannister, is a bit of a klutz and not very handy when it comes to making repairs around the house (for example, he has "this thing about magnets" and always uses ones that are too powerful for the job at hand). Kate, a stunning blonde, is very much in love with Harry and very much a part of his life with his co-workers (their problems seem to become Kate's problems). Kate is also the first person to experience the fallout from Harry's repair jobs at home.

Arch, who is famous for "his little black book" (a 300-page, six-by-nine-inch soft cover), lives in an apartment at 366 Brockhurst Avenue and dines most often at Fontano's Restaurant. He is more competent than Harry and can usually repair the damage Harry's bungling has caused.

Arch has a unique talent with bread (he makes dolls out of it) and loses his confidence around brainy girls (he is not used to "the intellectual breed" and goes to pieces around them).

Melvin ("Mel") Warshaw, a fellow carpenter, has 11 kids, two dogs and three cats; his never-seen wife is named Isabel. Robert ("Bob") Mulligan, who lives at 317 South Lakehurst (eight blocks from Harry), is also a carpenter and constantly teases Harry about his foul-ups. Bob calls Arch "Lover Boy" and has a never-seen wife named Eloise. Joe Bentley is a fellow carpenter; Myron Bannister is the owner of the company.

Harry and Arch are members of the Carpenter's Four singing group; and, strange as it may seem, the carpenters do not use power tools.

Roger Mobley appeared as Mel's son, Ralph Warshaw, and Karla Most played Bob's cousin, Arlene.

Cast: John Astin (Harry Dickens), Marty Ingels (Arch Fenster), Emmaline Henry (Kate Dickens), Dave Ketchum (Mel Warshaw), Henry Beckman (Bob Mulligan), Frank DeVol (Myron Bannister), Noam Pitlik (Joe Bentley). Theme Song: "The Dickens and Fenster March" by Irving Szathmary.

3855 I'm Home. (Pilot; Comedy; Fox; 8/8/90). Events in the lives of the Singers (parents Charlene and Ronald and their grown daughters, Carrie and Jennifer) a wealthy Beverly Hills family. In the pilot episode, eldest daughter Carrie announces that she is going to have a baby. Other Regulars: Sarah, their housekeeper; and Charlene's mother.

Cast: Andrea Martin (Charlene Singer), Tom Sharp (Ronald Singer), Stacy Galina (Carrie Singer), Laurel Morgan (Jennifer Singer), Shelley Morrison (Sarah Santos), Rae Allen (Charlene's mother). Guest Cast: Ernie Sabella (Moving man), Angel Harper (Caterer). Theme Vocal: "Are You Going My Way" by Franne Gold.

3856 I'm Telling. (Series; Game; NBC; 1987–1988). A variation on The Newlywed Game. Three two-member teams compete, each composed of an actual brother and sister. In round one, the brothers are isolated offstage and their sisters are asked three questions regarding their relationship. Their answers are recorded. The brothers are brought on stage. The brothers are asked the same questions. If they match their sister's answers they score points. Round two reverses round one. The highest scoring team wins a $1000 savings bond.

Host: Laurie Faso. Announcer: Dean Goss.

3857 I'm the Law. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1953). George Kirby is a tough, no-nonsense plain-clothes police detective with the N.Y.P.D. Stories relate Kirby's not so orthodox investigations as he deals his own brand of justice but always keeping within the limits of the law. The series is also known as The George Raft Casebook.

Cast: George Raft (Lt. George Kirby).

3858 I'm with Her. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2003–2004). Patrick Owen teaches English literature at Center High School in West Hollywood. He could also be considered one of the luckiest men in America because this ordinary guy is dating Alexis

Young, better known as Alex, a beloved movie actress who is called "America's Sweetheart."

Patrick and Alex met by accident — her dog bit him and he and Alex found an instant attraction to each other.

Alex is 31 years old and has been in show business for 12 years. She made her debut in a movie called Cause for Alarm (playing Hooker Number 3) then a horrible slasher film called All About Evil, which she considers the most embarrassing thing she has ever done. She made 20 additional films and received an Oscar nomination for September Song. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and performs at charity functions.

Alex's real name is Alexis Baldzikowski. She was born in Tennessee and raised by her mother, Suzanne, an actress who gave up her career to raise her and her sister, Cherie.

Suzanne drank, smoked and was a bit wacky (she lived in a tree three years; cooked food in pickle juice and always embarrassed Alex. At Alex's high school graduation, for example, Suzanne's blouse just happened to pop open to reveal her breasts). Suzanne had her one success in as the female lead in The Music Man.

Alex is with the William Morris Agency and Cherie works by her side as her hairdresser, publicist, makeup artist and wardrobe girl (she lives with Alex in her Beverly Hills mansion).

Cherie is 29 years old and is hoping to become a fashion designer. She has a fascination with fire, mimics Joan Rivers and loves to roller blade in hot pants. She had breast implants and can be seen naked on the Internet (at www.gunsandbuns.net).

Patrick attended Harvard Law School but dropped out after two years when he felt it was not the right career choice for him. He returned to his hometown of Connecticut and enrolled in State University to acquire his teaching degree.

Stevie Hanson is Danny's friend, a substitute teacher. Stories follow not only Alex and Patrick's work lives but their efforts to establish and enjoy a relationship away from the glitter of Hollywood.

Cast: Teri Polo (Alex Young), David Sutcliffe (Patrick Owen), Rhea Sheehorn (Cheri Baldzikowski), Danny Comden (Stevie Hanson), Cybill Shepherd (Suzanne Baldzikowski), Alexandra Deberry (Young Alex; flashbacks), Kennedy Noel (Young Cherie; flashbacks), Susan Sullivan (Rosalyn Owen; Patrick's mother).

3859 Imagine That. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2002). Josh Miller and Kenny Fleck are friends who work as comedy writers for the TV sketch show Barb Thompson's Imagine That. Barb Thompson, the star of the show, is also their boss, the head writer, a flaky woman with her mind on everything but comedy writing. She is also stern and Josh is a doormat; he let's Barb take total advantage of him. The short-lived series (two episodes) follows the events in Josh and Kenny's lives as they try to provide comedy material for a weekly show.

Josh is married to Wendy, a lawyer, and uses aspects of their married life as a basis for comedy skits. Tabitha, Rina and Koozman are fellow staff writers for the show. When Josh gets upset he goes to Hardy's, a fast food store, to have a Hardy Burger.

Cast: Hank Azaria (Josh Miller), Jayne Brook (Wendy Miller), Katey Sagal (Barb Thompson), Joshua Malina (Kenny Fleck), Suzy Nakamura (Rina Oh), Julia Schultz (Tabitha), David Pressman (Koozman).

3860 The Immortal. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1970–1971). Jordan Braddock is a billionaire and the owner of Braddock Industries. He is also quite elderly and suffering from a heart condition. His condition becomes critical when a plane on which he is traveling experiences an area of electrical turbulence. Jordan is rushed to the hospital but the doctors believe nothing can save him. In an attempt to give Jordan a little more time, he is given a transfusion of Type O Negative blood that was donated earlier in the day by Ben Richards, a Braddock Industries employee (in the automotive division. Ben is 43 years old and has never been sick a day in his life). Within hours Jordan miraculously recovers, looking and feeling younger. Matthew Pearce, Jordan's doctor, conducts tests and discovers that Ben's blood is quite unusual. It possesses rare factors that make him immune to old age and disease. Further tests reveal that Jordan's rejuvenation is only temporary; to sustain it, periodic transfusions are necessary.

To insure the supply of life-saving blood, Jordan has Ben imprisoned, then begins a search to find Jason Richards, Ben's long-lost brother (separated as infants) who may also possess the same blood antibodies. Jordan's plan is thwarted, however, when Ben escapes and begins his own search to find Jason. Episodes follow Ben's search for Jason — and his efforts to escape capture by Fletcher, the henchman Jordan has ordered to find and bring back Ben.

Janet Braddock is Jordan's younger wife; Sylvia Cartwright is Ben's girlfriend.

A narrator opens the show: "This man (image of Ben Richards) has a singular advantage over other men. Ben Richards is immune to every known disease, including old age. Periodic transfusions of his blood can give other men a second, a third lifetime, perhaps more. Ben Richards will live longer than anyone has ever lived. But a transfusion to the wrong man could make him a prisoner for all time. And so he runs from the hunters, the human hounds who want to cage him."

Cast: Christopher George (Ben Richards), Barry Sullivan (Jordan Braddock), Don Knight (Fletcher), Michael Strong (Jason Richards), Jessica Walter (Janet Braddock), Ralph Bellamy (Dr. Matthew Pearce), Carol Lynley (Sylvia Cartwright).

3861 The Immortal. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 2000–2001). Rafael "Rafe" Caine is an Immortal, a man who has sworn an oath of vengeance to send demons back to hell. It was while on a trip to Japan in the year 1638 to acquire silk and spices for his father, an importer, that destiny would change young Rafe's life.

An unexpected encounter with a severe storm sinks the ship on which Rafe is traveling. Rafe manages to swim to shore and after three days of wandering, meets a man named Yashiro (Robert Ito). Yashiro welcomes Rafe into his home. Rafe remained and eventually married Yashiro's daughter, Mikko (Grace Park).

They built a home near a small stream and were blessed with a child. One day, in 1643, evil demons named Mallos (Keith Martin Corday) and Vashista (Kira Clavell) kill Mikko and steal Rafe's child. An enraged Rafe burns his house to the ground, forges a sword of revenge and swears an oath: "I'll hunt them forever and never rest until they're dead. With this sword I seek an oath of vengeance. The evil ones will know my name and fear it. I will send them back to hell with this blade and never stop until it's done." "Me too," says the man who is at his side, Rafe's companion, who is known only as Goodwin. Just then, Rafe raises his sword to the heavens. Thunder sounds and he and Goodwin are encircled in a sphere of light. Their destiny has begun. Rafael is the Chosen One and Goodwin his Squire.

It is not until the year 2000 that Rafael and Goodwin acquire a companion — Dr. Sarah Beckman, a paranormal physicist who specializes in psychokinetic exploration (Sarah was threatened by a demon when Rafe came to her rescue. When Sarah saw Rafe dispose of the demon by using his sword to behead it and send it back to hell, she became intrigued and attached herself to Rafe and Goodwin in the hope of acquiring material on demons for her studies).

Rafael doesn't eat or drink. He can smell demons when they are near and has a plan for everything ("We make it up as we go along"). Demons call Rafe "The Vengeful One." Rafe can be killed, but Yashiro taught him how to survive. "If the demons win," says Rafe, "the world would be plunged into darkness."

Sarah now rides with Rafe and Goodwin in a mobile home. Sarah has invented the Sonic Transponder to study subjects believed to be suffering from demonic possession (they react to the ultrasonic stimulus). Sarah thinks she, Rafe and Goodwin make an excellent team ("With your experience and my research, we're going to kick some serious demon butt").

While Rafe seeks to destroy evil and find his daughter, he must also content with Randall, a demon hunter known as “The Collector.” Randall comes from the fifth level of Hell hunting. He is relentless and his mission is to find demons who have strayed from the darkness of evil to the goodness of light and return them to evil by beheading them.

These words are heard as the theme plays: “An oath sworn is an oath answered. An oath of vengeance for a life taken, a past destroyed, a future threatened. Enemy of darkness, eternal, he walks the earth relentless. His mission is to hunt the messengers and drive them back to hell. Now the light of earth depends on the Immortal.”

Cast: Lorenzo Lamas (Rafe Caine), Steve Braun (Goodwin), April Telek (Dr. Sandra Beckman), Bret Harte (Randall).

3862 The Imogene Coca Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1955). Comedienne Imogene Coca hosts a weekly program of music, songs and outlandish comedy sketches (much in the same light as Your Show of Shows). Ernest D. Glucksman, Marc Daniels and Don Appel are the producers.

Hostess: Imogene Coca. Regulars: Billy DeWolfe, Ruth Donnelly, Hal March, David Burns, Bibi Osterwald. Orchestra: George Bassman.

3863 The Imperial Grand Band. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 2/22/75). Following the death of her parents, Sue Barton inherits their hotel, the Imperial Grand, which is badly in need of repair. The unsold series was to depict her efforts to restore the hotel and make it profitable once again. In the pilot episode, Sue hires her brother’s band in an attempt to attract customers.

Other Regulars: Dick Barton, her brother; Skip and Marvin, band members; Albert, the eccentric hotel manager; and Margaret, Albert’s wife.

Cast: Libby Stevens (Sue Barton), Jaro Dick (Dick Barton), Shimmy Piener (Skip Jenkins), Martin Short (Marvin Baxter), Jack Creley (Albert Flynn), Kay Hawtrey (Margaret Flynn).

3864 The Imposter. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 3/18/75). Joe Tyler is a former Army intelligence officer who possesses a unique talent for impersonation. He now works as an off-Broadway actor to cover his real activities as a troubleshooter for hire. The unsold series was to relate his hazardous assignments as he impersonates other people to solve crimes. The pilot episode depicts Joe’s efforts to safeguard an intended murder victim (a wealthy businessman) by standing in for him.

Cast: Paul Hecht (Joe Tyler). Guest Cast: Meredith Baxter Birney (Julie), Edward Asner (Barney West), John Vernon (Sheriff Turner), Jack Ging (Renick), Barbara Baxley (Margaret Elliott), Nancy Kelly (Victoria Kent), Suzanne Denor (April).

3865 Improv Tonight. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1988). A weekly showcase for stand-up comedians. Acts are performed in front of a live audience and presented as if the viewer were part of an improvisational club audience.

Host: Budd Friedman. Theme Music: Peter McGowan.

3866 In Case of Emergency. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2007). Harry Kennison, Kelly Lee, Jason Ventress and Sherman Yablonsky are graduates of Westwood South High School, Class of 1987. Today, they each have nobody (except each other, as they are still friends) but no one else to put down in case of emergency.

Harry is divorced, the father of a young son (Dylan) and a greeting card writer. Kelly, a Korean girl with a promising future, is a masseuse at Korean Massage. Jason is an investment broker who performs shady deals (he later works as a volunteer nurse at Westside Hospital and begins a relationship with Dr. Joanna Lupone). Sherman, once overweight, has become a diet guru and the author of the book Eating for Mama—Confessions of a Mother’s Best Eater. Unfortunately, he has a sweet tooth and his efforts to acquire snacks often destroys his public image. Stories relate the ups and downs (but mostly downs) of the four friends as they struggle to cope with life.

In case of emergency, the four have the following phone numbers: Harry (310-555-0135); Kelly (213-555-0169); Jason (310-555-0127) and Sherman (818-555-0156).

Cast: Jonathan Silverman (Harry Kennison), Kelly Hu (Kelly Lee), David Arquette (Jason Ventress), Greg Germann (Sherman Yablonsky), Jackson Bond (Dylan Kennison), Lori Loughlin (Dr. Joanna Lupone), Arbell Field (Stephanie; Sherman’s ex wife), Jane Seymour (Donna Ventress; Jason’s mother).

3867 In Common. (Series; Game; CBS; 1954). Three specially selected contestants who have never met, but who each have something in common, compete. Each player has three minutes to question the other and determine the common dominator. Players receive merchandise prizes for participating.

Host: Ralph Story.

3868 In Like Flynn. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 9/14/85). Terri MacLaine is a female novelist who writes In Like Flynn adventure novels under the pen name of Darryl F. Raymond. She poses as Darryl’s researcher and the unsold series was to relate her escapades as she gathers story material. In the pilot episode, Terri travels to Jamaica to research the story of a Vietnam MIA who was found dead on the beach. Other Regulars: Mr. Fulton, Terri’s publisher (Action Novels); and Beattie Woodstock, the free-lance photographer who helps Terri.

Cast: Jenny Seagrove (Terri MacLaine), Murray Cruchley (Mr. Fulton), William Gray Espy (Beattie Woodstock). Guest Cast: Eddie Albert (Bill White), William Conrad (Sergeant Dominic), Robert Webber (Colonel Harper), Laura Press (Stephanie Holden), Alan Jordan (Dover), Dennis Strong (Thurman).

3869 In Living Color. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1990–1994). A series of risqué (for the time) skits that spoof everything — from products to TV shows to movies to the everyday man and woman and the challenging situations they face. While a majority of the cast was African-American, the program saw no ethnic barriers — as it poked fun at all races. The program featured many skits, several of which became very popular; among them were Fire Marshal Bill (Jim Carrey as a fireman whose demonstrations on fire safety found him becoming a victim of what he was trying to prevent); Handi-Man (Marlon Wayans as a handicapped super hero); Men on Film (Damon Wayans and David Alan Grier as gay film reviewers); Honey D. Clown (Damon Wayans as an ex con who works as a nasty clown).

Regulars: Damon Wayans, Keenan Ivory Wayans, Kim Wayans, Marlon Wayans, Shawn Wayans, Jim Carrey, David Alan Grier, Tommy Davidson, Keymah Crystal T'Keyah, Carrie Ann Inaba, Kelly Coffield Park, Alexandra Wentworth, Kim Coles, Jamie Fox, Steve Park, Anne-Marie Johnson, Marc Wilmore, Reggie McFadden. Dancers (Fly Girls): Jennifer Lopez, Lisa Joann Thompson, Lisa Marie Todd, Deidre Lang, Lauree-Ann Gibson, Michelle Whitney-Morrison, Cari French, Masako Willis, Jossie Thacker.

3870 In Person with Maureen O'Boyle. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1996). Newswoman Maureen O'Boyle tackles current (and sometimes controversial) topics with appropriate guests discussing both side of the issue.

3871 In Record Time. (Series; Game; NBC; 1951). The Alternate title for The Art Ford Show. See this title for information.

3872 In Search of... (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1976–1982). Leonard Nimoy hosts and narrates newly conducted investigations that offer possible explanations for some of the mysteries that surround us in our everyday lives (for example ghosts, myths, psychic happenings).

3873 In Search of the Partridge Family. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2004). The program attempts to recreate the 1970s ABC series The Partridge Family with a new cast of singers that resemble Keith, Shirley, Laurie, Danny, Tracy and Chris.

After selecting look-alike finalists from open auditions around the country, the finalists are brought to Los Angeles to be coached by their real life counterparts (Shirley Jones [Shirley], David Cassidy [Keith] and Danny Bonaduce [Danny]) and compete in various singing and acting competitions. Toll free phone numbers allow viewers to vote for their favorites. The ultimate prize was to star in a pilot for an update (but now unsold) version of the original Partridge Family.

Cast: Adam Baldwin (Agent Danny Love), Jay Harrington (Agent Paul Ryan), Peter Coyote (Agent Virgil Webster), Katie Finneran (Agent Melody Sin), Rachel Nichols (Agent Rebecca Locke). Winners: Suzanne Sole (Shirley Partridge), Leland Grant (Keith Partridge), Emily Stone (Laurie Partridge), Spencer Tuskowski (Danny Partridge), Hannah Leigh Dworken (Tracy Partridge), Anthony Skillman (Chris Partridge).

3874 In Security. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/7/82). Mayfield's is a large department store in Philadelphia. Eldon Radford is the head of security and his officers are Annie, Doris, Rudy and Henry. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they attempt to protect the store. Other Regulars: Garrett, Annie's neighbor; and Jennie, Garrett's daughter.

Cast: John Randolph (Eldon Radford), Annie Potts (Annie Leighton), Cara Williams (Doris Gleen), James Keane (Rudy DeMayo), Peter Jurasic (Henry), James Murtaugh (Garrett Lloyd), Kari Ann Patterson (Jennie Lloyd). Guest Cast: Margaret Wheeler (Shoplifter), Robert Lussier (Draperies man), Esther McCarroll (Cookware lady), John Dennis (Mr. Bowman), Greg Lewis (Man in crowd).

3875 In Security. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for NBC in 1992). A proposed series about the after hours activities of a group of security guards in a New York high-rise office building.

Cast: Trevor Eve (Riddle), Cathy Lind Hayes (Cooper), Kris Kamm (Pete Johnson), Richard Schiff (Hasselhoff), Eric Allan Kramer (DuPont).

3876 In Tandem. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 5/8/74). The pilot film for Movin' On about gypsy truck drivers Sonny Pruitt and Will Chandler. In the pilot episode, Sonny and Will help a group of citrus growers in their battle against greedy transporters.

Cast: Claude Akins (Sonny Pruitt), Frank Converse (Will Chandler). Guest Cast: Richard Angarola (DiAngelo), Sondra Blake (Connie), Ann Colman (Betty), Janis Hansen (Myrna), Titos Vandis (Guido), Ernest Sarracino (Emilio).

3877 In the Beginning. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1978). Father Dan Cleary is an uptight conservative priest. Sister Agnes is a free-spirited, streetwise nun. The two have a plan to help the children of their poor community: open a mission. Unfortunately, the only affordable building is located in an area populated by hookers, drunks, teenage gangs and runaways. Father Dan and Sister Agnes have one other problem: their inability to agree on issues concerning the welfare of the mission and its people. Stories focus on the bickering that occurs between the two as they each attempt to do what is best.

Other Regulars: Monsignor Frank Barlow, Dan's superior; Sister Lillian, Agnes's superior; and the neighborhood kids: Willie, Jerome, Tony, Bad Lincoln and Frank.

Cast: McLean Stevenson (Father Dan Cleary), Priscilla Lopez (Sister Agnes), Priscilla Morrill (Sister Lillian), Jack Dodson (Monsignor Frank Barlow), Olivia Barash (Willie), Bobby Ellerbe (Jerome Rockefeller), Cosie Costa (Tony), Michael Anthony (Bad Lincoln), Fred Lehne (Frank).

3878 In the Dark. (Series; Game; WB; 1998). Couples compete for prizes in one of the most bizarre game shows (at the time) ever created for television (Spike TV's Murder holds the new record; see entry). The game is played in total darkness (special infrared cameras allow the action to be seen by the home audience). Based on the concepts of Beat the Clock and Truth or Consequences, each of the couples that compete must perform a stunt in the dark. The show is not so much for the game aspect, but for the comical mishaps that occur as the players try to accomplish a task without being able to see what they are doing.

Host: Julian Clary.

3879 In the Dead of Night. (Pilot; Thriller; ABC; 8/30/69). A gothic suspense chiller about the adventures of Jonathan Fletcher, a ghost hunter, and his assistant, Sajeed Rau. In the pilot episode, Fletcher attempts to exorcise the spirits from the estate of Angela Marten, an heiress whose Victorian mansion is unable to be sold because of its "haunted" reputation.

Cast: Kerwin Matthews (Jonathan Fletcher), Cal Bellini (Sajeed Rau). Guest Cast: Marj Dusay (Angela Marten), Thayer David (Seth Blakely), Louis Edmonds (Commodore Blaise).

3880 In the Doghouse. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/14/50). The family dog is named Rover. The master of the house (the husband here) spends much time with Rover after a fight with the wife. Opening and closing sequences are set in the doghouse where hubby's conversations with the canine set up and conclude the episode. The unsold series was to depict the marital spats of a typical American husband and wife. The pilot episode depicts the chaos that ensues when the couple decides on different ways of celebrating their fifth wedding anniversary.

Cast: George O'Hanlon (Husband), Joan Dolan (Wife), George Clark (Neighbor). Also: Rosetta LeNoire, Robert Noe, Daniel Ocko.

3881 In the Heat of the Night. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; CBS; 1988–1994). Sparta, Mississippi, is a small southern town with a considerable amount of crime. William O. Gillespie is the town's white police chief and Virgil Tibbs is his black chief of detectives.

William, called Bill, was born in Mississippi. He resides at 11 Vanover Street and has a hunting dog named Roscoe. Bill first mentions he was married to a woman named Anna Caterina but never had any children. Anna died in childbirth. "I lost him when I lost her." Later, Bill mentions he was married to a woman named Georgia Farren, who deserted him shortly after the birth of their daughter, Lana (played as an adult by Christine Elise).

In 1988, Bill dated Jo Ann St. John, a cashier at his favorite eatery, the Magnolia Cafe. Ten years earlier, Jo Ann was a $100 a night call girl known as Kelly Kaye. Their romance ended a short time later. In 1991, Bill began a romance with Harriet DeLong, a younger woman who was also a black city councilwoman. Bill's office is in the City Hall Building.

Virgil was born in Philadelphia and was a member of the state police department before relocating to Sparta. He tends to go by the book and often objects to Bill's sometimes unorthodox investigative procedures. Bill feels you have to think like a criminal to catch a criminal. Virgil and his wife, Althea live at 4602 Cherry Lane. Althea's maiden name was Peterson and she is a teacher at Sparta Community High School. They are later the parents of a son they name William Calvin Tibbs.

In 1989, when Carroll O'Connor (Bill) entered the hospital for by-pass surgery, the former police chief, Captain Thomas Dugan was brought out of retirement to replace him. Bill's absence was explained as the Chief attending a month-long symposium on domestic terrorism in Washington, D.C., as the representative from Mississippi. Another change occurred in 1994 when the City Council objects to Bill's relationship with Harriet and declines to renew his contract. As Bill steps down to become the county sheriff, Hamilton Forbes, a former police inspector from Memphis, Tennessee, is brought in as Sparta's new police chief. It is at this time that Virgil also leaves to complete school and become a lawyer. The series ended shortly after.

Other officers working under Bill are Parker Williams, Bubba Skinner, Wilson Sweet, Chris Rankin and Lu Ann Corbin. Based on the 1967 feature film.

Cast: Carroll O'Connor (William Gillespie), Howard Rollins (Virgil Tibbs), Lois Nettleton (Jo Ann St. John), Denise Nicholas (Harriet DeLong), Anne-Marie Johnson (Althea Tibbs), Joe Don Baker (Capt. Thomas Dugan), David Hart (Parker Williams), Alan Autry (Bubba Skinner), Geoffrey Thorne (Wilson Sweet), Sheryl Lynn Piland (Chris Rankin), Crystal Fox (Lu Ann Corbin). Theme Vocal: "In the Heat of the Night" by Bill Camplin.

3882 In the House. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/1/91). Derek Brantley is a college graduate who returns to his Detroit neighborhood to start a business and help its people. His father, Ike, is a successful businessman who frowns on his son's intentions, yearning for him to join him in the corporate world. Derek refuses and thus the series premise of the comical conflict between a father and his son. Originally titled Homeboy.

Other Regulars: Charlotte, Derek's aunt; Roxy, Derek's high school sweetheart; Daphne, Roxy's sister; and Dave, Derek's friend.

Cast: Bruce A. Young (Ike Brantley), Don Cheadle (Derek Brantley), Loretta Devine (Aunt Charlotte), Vivica A. Fox (Roxy), Liliani Fields (Daphne), Troy Burgess (Dave Collins).

3883 In the House. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995–1999). Jackie Warren is the mother of two children (Tiffany and Austin) who, after her divorce, enters the work force to make ends meet. She acquires a secretarial position at a law firm (Comstock, Nathan and Smythe) and a place to live — in the home of Marion Hill, an injured NFL star, at $200 a month rent. Marion played with the Raiders and injured himself when he ran into a goal post; he is now hoping for a comeback (he too is in need of money and lives in a room over the garage to meet expenses). Episodes follow the misadventures that occur as Jackie goes to work and Marion becomes a nanny of sorts.

Marion later runs a sports health clinic with Tonia Harris, an unpredictable physical therapist.

Cast: Debbie Allen (Jackie Warren), L.L. Cool J (Marion Hill), Maia Campbell (Tiffany Warren), Jeffrey Wood (Austin Warren), Kim Wayans (Tonia Harris), John Amos (Coach Sam Wilson), Chris Brownning (Clayton), Lisa Arrindell Anderson (Heather Comstock), Dee Jay Daniels (Rodney). Note: James Todd Smith uses his better known alias, rapper LL Cool J as his screen credit.

3884 In the Kelvinator Kitchen. (Series; Women; NBC; 1947–1948). A program of cooking advice and instruction sponsored by Kelvinator Kitchen Appliances. The series, set in a modern-day kitchen, ran from May 21, 1947 to June 30, 1948. The pilot episode aired on May 7, 1947.

Hostess: Alma Kitchell. Announcer: Ray Forrest.

3885 In the Lion's Den. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/4/87). Hoping to further her career in TV, Dana Woodrow, the associate producer of a New York game show (Target Practice) moves to San Antonio, Texas, where she becomes the producer of In the Lion's Den, a puppet show on KPLP-TV (a PBS station). The proposed series was to relate Dana's experiences. The pilot episode relates Dana's acquisition of the job.

Other Regulars: Keith Warfield, the star of the show (the voice of the puppet lion Maynard), Stan, the writer; Newton, the station's fundraiser; and Kim, a station employee.

Cast: Wendy Crewson (Dana Woodrow), Dennis Boutsikaris (Keith Warfield), Marsha Gaye Harden (Kim Fellows), Brian Backer (Stan Timmerton), Fred Applegate (Newton Gorse). Guest Cast: Jack Blessing (Jerry Simms), Joshua Grenrock (Stage manager), Steve Hansen (Jake).

3886 In the Morgan Manner. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950). Bandleader Russ Morgan (who performs with his orchestra) hosts a program of music and songs that recaptures the music of the 1940s as well as presenting renditions of current day tunes.

3887 In Town Today. (Test Program; Interview; NBC; 8/15 and 8/22/46). Two proposed series ideas that have a very simple format: to take the TV camera to a specific location and interview people on the street. In the first outing, the camera caught people on Times Square in New York City. A Manhattan restaurant called the 21 Club was the setting for the second telecast where the host moved from table to table for informal chatter with the celebrities who just happened to be present: Danton Walker, Sonja Henie, Arthur William Brown, Patrice Munsel, Ray Bolger and John Loder.

Host: Ben Grauer.

3888 In Trouble. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/24/81). "We're in trouble again" is a common exclamation from Ivy Miller, a pretty but prankish high school student who, with her two best friends, Annie and Janey, are always in hot water. The unsold series was to relate Ivy, Annie and Janey's encounters with innocent situations that somehow manage to become big trouble. In the pilot episode, the girls wind up in trouble when they become underage barmaids in Lou's Locker Room, a strip joint, to earn money to buy Janey contact lenses. Other Regulars: Irma DeGroot, the principal; Mr. Zerneck, Janey's father; students Abenauer and Elaine; and Mr. Damrush, the school custodian.

Cast: Lisa Freeman (Ivy Miller), Nancy Cartwright (Annie Monahan), Deena Freeman (Janey Zerneck), Doris Roberts (Irma DeGroot), Tim Thomerson (Mr. Damrush), Charles Bloom (Abenauer), Cathy Cutler (Elaine), Peter Michael Getz (Mr. Zerneck). Guest Cast: Martin Azarow (Lou). Theme Vocal: "In Trouble" by Leslie Briscusse.

3889 The Ina Ray Hutton Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956). The program features performances by female guests coupled by a bevy of beautiful regulars (the program has a no-men allowed policy). The summer series, hosted by bandleader Ina Ray Hutton, ran from July 4, 1956 to September 5, 1956.

Hostess: Ina Ray Hutton. Regulars: Dee Dee Ball, Helen Smith, Margaret Rinker, Janice Davis, Harriet Blackburn, Judy Var Buer, Mickey Anderson, Evie Howeth, Helen Wooley, Lois Cronen, Peggy Fairbanks, Helen Hammond, Zoe Ann Willy. Announcer: Diane Brewster. Music: The All-Girl Ina Ray Hutton Orchestra.

3890 Inch High, Private Eye. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1973–1974). Inch High, the world's smallest man, is a master detective employed by the Finkerton Organization. He is assisted by his niece, Laurie, and her dog, Bravehart. Stories follow their mishaps as Inch High attempts to solve baffling and dangerous crimes.

Voice Cast: Lennie Weinrib (Inch High), Kathi Gori (Laurie), Don Messick (Bravehart), John Stephenson (Mr. Finkerton), Jean VanderPyl (Mrs. Finkerton).

3891 Inconceivable. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2005). Couples who are desperate to have children but are unable to do so naturally find help at the Family Options Clinic, an organization that offers alternative methods. Dr. Malcolm Bowers heads the clinic; he is assisted by Rachel Lu and Nora Campbell. Through their consultations with patients, the viewer is given an insiders look at the options and procedures that are involved for couples facing the same situation. Other Regulars: Nurse Patrice Locicero, psychologist Lydia Crawford, attorney Scott Garcia and office manager Marissa Jaffee.

Cast: Ming-Na (Rachel Lu), Jonathan Cake (Malcolm Bowers), Alfre Woodard (Lydia Crawford), Mary Catherine Garrison (Marissa Jaffee), Angie Harmon (Nora Campbell), David Norona (Scott Garcia), Joelle Carter (Patrice Locicero).

3892 The Incredible Crash Dummies. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 5/1/93). A proposed computer animated series based on the crash dummies seat belt safety TV commercials. Slick and Spin are two crash dummies who work for Dr. Zub at the test center. Their job is to test the safety of cars by crashing them. In the pilot episode, Slick and Spin attempt to stop Junkman, an evil robot that was accidentally activated with an experimental Torso 900 Body Suit and who now wants to control the world (he wants to end the reign of the crash dummies and end safety).

3893 The Incredible Hulk. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1978–1982). During an experiment to discover how certain people can tap hidden resources of strength under stress situations, Dr. David Bruce Banner, a research scientist, is exposed to an extreme overdose of gamma radiation. The exposure causes a change in his DNA chemistry: whenever he becomes angry or enraged, his mild nature is transformed into a green creature of incredible strength. When he relaxes, the metamorphous is reversed and David again becomes himself. David's secret is exposed however, when, during one such transformation, he is seen (as the Hulk) by Jack McGee, a reporter for a newspaper called The National Register. Jack's curiosity is aroused and he has made it his goal to track down and expose the creature he saw. Jack's persistence causes serious problems for David.

While in a lab with his partner, Elaina Marks, a fire starts and David, in an attempt to battle the flames, transforms into the Hulk. The Hulk manages to rescue Elaina, but she dies shortly after. Jack, witnessing the Hulk carrying Elaina out of the building falsely assumes he killed her. There is also no trace of David and he is assumed to be dead, a victim of the fire. David, now believed to be dead, wanders across the country, seeking a way to control the Hulk and find a means by which to reverse the process. Jack, who has vowed to bring the creature to justice, hinders his efforts. (Though the Hulk is innocent, Jack's so-called eyewitness description to the police has made him a fugitive. David cannot prove the Hulk is innocent as he has little or no recollection of his actions as the Hulk). The actual focus of each episode is David's efforts to help the people with whom he comes in contact.

Cast: Bill Bixby (Dr. David Banner), Lou Ferrigno (The Hulk), Jack Colvin (Jack McGee), Ric Drasin (The Demi Hulk; transformation from Hulk to human), Susan Sullivan (Elaina Marks; pilot episode only). Theme Music: "The Incredible Hulk" by Joe Harnell.

3894 The Incredible Hulk. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1982–1984). An animated adaptation of the comic book that more closely follows the comic's story than the prior live action CBS series, The Incredible Hulk. Here Dr. Bruce Banner is a scientist at Gamma Base, a military research center under the command of General Ross. Bruce suffered an accident (the after effects of a gamma bomb explosion) that altered his DNA and under stress, transforms him into a green creature called the Hulk — a creature Banner uses to help good defeat evil while at the same time trying to reverse the gamma ray accident that causes the transformations.

Betty Ross is a scientist and David's fiancé (and the General's daughter); Major Ned Talbot, the General's aide, is seeking to capture he mysterious Hulk;

Rio and his daughter, Rita, are the owners of the local restaurant; and Rick Jones, is the teenager who helps David (responsible for David becoming exposed to the gamma radiation when David saved him, but not himself, from the bomb when Rick wandered onto the test site).

Voice Cast: Michael Bell (Dr. Bruce Banner), Bob Holt (The Incredible Hulk), Robert Ridgely (General Thaddeus "Thunderbolt" Ross), B.J. Ward (Betty Ross), Michael Horton (Rick Jones), Roberto Cruz (Rio), June Foray (Rita), Pat Fraley (Major Ned Talbot), Stan Lee (Narrator).

3895 The Incredible Hulk. (Series; Cartoon; UPN; 1996–1999). A second animated adaptation of the comic book (see prior title) about Dr. Bruce Banner, a scientist who develops a gamma bomb for the military but who is accidentally exposed to its rays and suffers a startling metamorphosis — whenever he becomes angered Bruce becomes a green creature called the Hulk (which he uses to help good defeat evil).

General Ross, Bruce's former boss, becomes his mortal enemy (determined to capture the Hulk). His daughter, Betty Ross, opposes her father and is attempting to help Bruce find a means by which to end the transformations. Also assisting them is Rick Jones, the teenager whose recklessness caused Bruce to become exposed to the gamma radiation (driving near the bomb test site and saved by Bruce; Bruce did not have enough time to get to shelter himself). In later episodes, a She-Hulk is introduced in the person of Jennifer Walters, a scientist who suffered a similar exposure to gamma radiation, and with Bruce, battles evil (save the world) for Gabriel Jones, an agent for SHIELD, an organization that experiments with Gamma Power.

Voice Cast: Neal McDonough (Bruce Banner), Lou Ferrigno (The Hulk), Genie Francis (Betty Ross), Philece Sampler (Betty Ross), Cree Summer (Jennifer Walters), Cree Summer (She Hulk), John Vernon (Gen. Thaddeus "Thunderbolt" Ross), Luke Perry (Rick Jones), Thom Berry (Gabriel Jones), Kevin Schon (Maj. Glenn Talbot), Michael Donovan (Gray Hulk), Matt Frewer (The Leader).

3896 The Incredible Ida Early. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/29/87). Following his wife's sudden death, Chicopee Falls school principal Paul Sutton finds unexpected help in caring for his four mischievous children (Ellen, Randall, Clay and Dewey) when Ida Early, an outlandishly attired magical woman appears and becomes his housekeeper. The unsold series was to follow Ida's efforts to run the Sutton household. The pilot episode finds Ida helping Paul raise money for a new playing field.

Cast: Jackee Harry (Ida Early), Ed Begley, Jr. (Paul Sutton), Missy Crider (Ellen Sutton), Huckleberry Fox (Randall Sutton), Artie DeCheser (Clay Sutton), Allen DeCheser (Dewey Sutton). Guest Cast: Kate McGregor-Stewart (Aunt Ernestine), Kim Houser (Cheerleader), Hank Aaron (Himself), Lily Nell Warren (Girl).

3897 Incredible Kids and Company. (Pilot; Human Interest; Syn.; 8/8/81). The program encourages children to pursue their talents by showcasing talented youngsters.

Hosts: Bobby Day, Mickey Dougherty.

3898 Indemnity. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 8/10/58). A proposed series about Paul Scott, an insurance company investigator. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Decision, Scott attempts to recover $275,000 stolen during an armored car robbery.

Cast: Richard Kiley (Paul Scott), Chuck Webster (Lieutenant Mike Kappell). Guest Cast: George Chandler (George Thompson), Ruth Lee (Girl), Michael Healy (Thief). Also: Skip Fletcher, John Kellins.

3899 Independence. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 3/29/87). Sam Hatch is the sheriff of Independence, Missouri, a somewhat peaceable town of the 1880s. He is married to Bridie (his second wife) and is the father of four children (Chastity, Prudence, Keela and Fitz). His efforts to maintain law and order was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Sam attempts to protect his town from Colonel Grey and his marauders — the same men who killed his first wife years ago.

Cast: John Bennett Perry (Sam Hatch), Isabella Hofmann (Bridie Hatch), Stephanie Dunnam (Prudence Hatch), Vanessa Vallez (Keela Hatch), Amanda Wyss (Chastity Hatch), Joshua Julian (Fitz Hatch), Macon McCalman (Mayor Angus Thurston). Guest Cast: Anthony Zerbe (Colonel Oral Grey), Joseph Brutsman (Ezekiel Creed), Sandy McPeak (Sterling Mott), Christian Clemenson (Isaiah Creed), W.T. Zacha (Coyote Kid), Scott Jones (Harry S. Truman), R.G. Armstrong (Mr. Creed).

3900 The Indian. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 2/17/59). The pilot film for Law of the Plainsman. During a battle between the cavalry and Apache Indians, a 14-year-old brave encounters a wounded army captain. Instead of killing the captain, the brave befriends him and assists him by acquiring help. The captain and the brave, whom the captain names Sam Buckhart, soon become blood brothers. Two years later, after the captain is killed in an Indian ambush, Sam inherits a vast wealth that enables him to attend Harvard University, as once did the captain.

With a desire to help his people, Sam becomes a U.S. Marshal (he patrols the New Mexico territory of the 1880s). In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Rifleman, Sam encounters hostility when he attempts to bring a white man to justice.

Cast: Michael Ansara (Sam Buckhart). Guest Cast: Chuck Connors (Lucas McCain), Johnny Crawford (Mark McCain), Paul Fix (Micah Torrance), Herbert Rudley (Gorman), Lewis Charles (Slade), Mickey Simpson (Tub), Frank DeKova (Old Chief), Eddie Little Sky (Apache).

3901 Infatuation. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1992). A single person appears on stage and talks to the host about the person he or she is infatuated with. That person is brought out and the two are interviewed. These people then talk to each other — either to make a date or reject each other based on the “evidence” they have heard.

Host: Bob Eubanks.

3902 The Infiltrator. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 8/14/87). During an experiment in tele-transportation, Dr. Paul Sanderson of the Stuart Institute of Technology, accidentally links his cells and atoms to Infiltrator, an experimental space probe being tested in another part of the lab by Dr. Kerry Langdon. The probe’s power is absorbed by Paul’s molecules; now, when he becomes angered or enraged, a startling metamorphosis takes place and he becomes the Infiltrator, a metal, robot-like defense mechanism that the U.S. government uses for its most hazardous assignments. The pilot episode relates Paul’s efforts to retrieve Infiltrator’s blueprints from its co-creator (Richard Markus) who is holding them for ransom. Other Regulars: John J. Stewart, Paul and Kerry’s supervisor.

Cast: Scott Bakula (Dr. Paul Sanderson), Deborah Mullooney (Dr. Kerry Langdon), Charles Keating (John J. Stewart). Guest Cast: Michael Bell (Richard Markus), Peter Palmer (Millian). Theme: “The Infiltrator” by Stan Jones.

3903 Information Please. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). A short-lived television version of the long-running radio series of the same title. The program features the “Brain Panel” attempting to answer questions submitted by home viewers. The viewer (sender of the question) receives a cash prize. The series ran from June 29, 1952 to September 21, 1952.

Host: Clifton Fadiman. Panelists: Oscar Levant, Franklin P. Adams, John Kiernan.

3904 The Informer. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1965). Alexander Lambert is a disbarred British barrister who works with New Scotland Yard (in London) as a police informer. Stories relate his dangerous undercover assignments.

Cast: Ian Hendry (Alexander Lambert), Jean March, Heather Sears.

3905 The Inhumanoids. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). In a future era, a deadly breed of creatures called the Inhumanoids arise and threaten to destroy all living creatures. Stories relate the efforts of Earth Core, a specialized unit of humans, to defeat their deadly enemies.

Voice Cast: Michael Bell (Eddie Agutter/Blackthorn) Susan Silo (Sandra/Cypher), John Stephenson (General Granetary), William Callaway (Liquidator/Nightcrawler/Jonathan Slattery/Mangler), Dick Gautier (Magnakor/Crygen/Pyre), Edward Gilbert (Sentator Masterson/Meltar), Chris Latta (Tendrill/D’Compose), Neil Ross (Herc Armstrong), Richard Sanders (Dr. Derek Bright).

3906 Injustice. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2006). A disclaimer appears on the screen before an episode begins: “The following program is not intended to reflect any actual person or event.” A crime is established after the disclaimer. When the police investigation goes wrong (things just don’t add up) and an individual feels a wrong has been done, the case is turned over to the National Justice Project, a group of lawyers who tackle the cases of people with no where else to turn. The lawyers investigate the facts and try to make sense of what makes no sense in a crime. As the team tackles a case, flashbacks are used to highlight the crimes as the investigators check into the facts. David Swayne heads the group. Charles Conti, Brianna Brown and Sonya Quintano assist him.

Cast: Kyle MacLachlan (David Swayne), Jason O’Mara (Charles Conti), Constance Zimmer (Brianna Brown), Marisol Nichols (Sonya Quintano).

3907 Ink. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996–1997). Kate Montgomery and Mike Logan are journalists. They met at a presidential conference on the lawn of the White House and married three months later. The marriage broke up after 15 years (they are the parents of a daughter named Abby) and each continued in their respective fields.

Mike is a reporter for the New York Sun while Kate has just become its first female managing editor — and Mike’s boss (due in part to her impressive and hard-nosed reporting). Stories follow the minor problems that arise as the formally divorced couple find themselves together again — as employer and employee.

Other Regulars: Ernie Trainor, the no-nonsense reporter; Alan Mesnick, the neurotic financial reporter; Belinda Carhardt, author of the column “On the Town”; and Dennis French, the editorial assistant.

3908 Inked. (Series; Reality; A&E; 2005–2006). An inside look at the world of tattooing and tattoo parlors (here the Hart and Huntington Tattoo Company that operates inside the Palms Casino and Resort in Las Vegas). Carey Hart, the co-founder, takes viewers behind the scenes for a colorful look at the people (including celebrities) who frequent the parlor.

Cast: Carey Hart (Co-owner), Thomas Pendleton (Co-owner), Monica Rizzolo (Manager), Jenn Dabbs (Receptionist), Eric Pele (Tattoo artist), Clark North (Tattoo artist), Joey Hamilton (Tattoo artist).

3909 The In-Laws. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2002). Matt and Alexandra (called Alex) are a happily married couple with one big problem—a lack of money to buy their own home (Matt is currently in cooking school). To solve their problem, Matt and Alex move in with her parents, Victor and Marlene Pellet.

Victor is overly protective of his daughter; Marlene has traded cooking and cleaning for a job in real estate, leaving Matt to deal with Victor while Alex tends to the household chores. Matt naturally clashes with Victor and stories relate the problems that befall the newlyweds, especially Matt, as he attempts to live with his in-laws.

Victor ran an armored car service called Pellet Armored. He drives a classic Cadillac Fleetwood car that is a gas-guzzler (8 miles per gallon highway; 4 miles city). Alex knows Victor believes she is perfect—“And I’m not going to burst that bubble” when she does something wrong and tries to hide it from him. Alex and Matt are hoping to open a restaurant when Matt graduates.

Cast: Elon Gold (Matt Landis), Bonnie Somerville (Alex Landis), Dennis Farina (Victor Pellet), Jean Smart (Marlene Pellet).

3910 The Inner Flame. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1954–1955). The original title for Portia Faces Life. See this title for information.

3911 The Inner Sanctum. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1954). A television adaptation of the long-running radio series of the same title. Mystery presentations, narrated by the mysterious, unseen Raymond, that depict the plight of people confronted with sudden, perilous situations.

Narrator: Paul McGrath as Raymond. Performers Include: Audrey Christie, Norma Crane, Paul Stewart, Kevin McCarthy, Jeannie Shepherd, John Marley, Jill Kraft, Peg Hillias, Everett Sloane, Rita Lynn, Margaret Draper, Anthony Ross, Louisa Horton, E.G. Marshall, John Newland, Mildred Dunoock, Edward Binns, Barbara Baxley, June Dayton, Sheppard Strudwick, Jack Albertson, Nita Talbot, Carol Wheeler, Susan Fleming, Betsy Palmer, June Dayton, Vaughn Taylor, James Gregory, Robert H. Harris, Martin Huston, Murray Hamilton, Beatrice Straight, Jane Seymour.

3912 Innocent Jones. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/11/61). A proposed series about Innocent Jones, a free-lance, footloose magazine reporter whose assignments often lead to misadventure when he becomes personally involved in his subjects’ problems. In the pilot episode, Jones visits a casino in Cannes and becomes involved with Prudence Brown, an old friend, and her wacky system for betting the roulette wheel.

Cast: Chris Warfield (Innocent Jones). Guest Cast: Merry Anders (Prudence Brown), Henry Cordeen (Inspector Javent).

3913 Inside America. (Series; Magazine; ABC; 1982). Provocative and informative features that explore various aspects of American life.

Host: Dick Clark. Correspondents: Anson Williams, Rex Reed, Lynn Shawn, Shawn Weatherly.

3914 Inside Detective. (Series; Crime Drama; DuMont; 1950–1954). The alternate title for Rocky King, Detective. See this title for information.

3915 Inside Edition. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1989). A daily series of hard-hitting investigative reports, celebrity profiles and human-interest stories.

Hosts: David Frost, Bill O’Reilly. Reporters: Marguerite Bardone, Bill O’Reilly, Jeff Cole, Rich Kirkham.

3916 Inside O.U.T. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/22/71). “Where does the average person go when he needs help? The CIA? The FBI? No. To O.U.T.”—the Office of Unusual Tactics, a semi-official U.S. government organization that handles the cases nobody else wants.

Ron Hart is the director of O.U.T. and his agents, who have normal jobs on the side, are Pat Boulion (a museum tour guide), Chuck Dandy (a moving man) and Edgar Winston (an airline pilot). The unsold series was to take viewers inside O.U.T. to detail their Mission: Impossible case-like assignments. In the pilot episode, the agents are asked by the Director of finance to recover two million in counterfeit dollar bills from the First City National Bank before they are put into circulation (their job is to get it back and replace it with real money).

Cast: Bill Daily (Ron Hart), Farrah Fawcett (Pat Boulion), Alan Oppenheimer (Edgar Winston), Mike Henry (Chuck Dandy). Guest Cast: Edward Andrews (Director of Finance), Val Bisoglio (Bendix man), Herb Vigran (Harry), James B. Sicking (Cop), Paul Smith (Chicken man), Larry Fleischman (Majestic man).

3917 Inside the Jury Room. (Unaired Pilot; Reality; Produced for ABC in 1992). A proposed series that was to present condensed versions of actual trials. Each episode was to begin with a compressed version of a trial then switch to the jury room for the deliberations and verdict using the actual people and no recreations.

Host: Jason Robards.

3918 Inside U.S.A. with Chevrolet. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949–1950). A program of music and songs, sponsored by Chevrolet, with singers Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy.

Hosts: Peter Lind Hayes, Mary Healy. Regulars: Sheila Bond, Marion Colby. Orchestra: Jay Blackton.

3919 The Insider. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1962). The story of Dan Castle, a Hollywood press agent who becomes personally involved with the problems of his clients. In the pilot episode, Dan struggles to protect Belle Summers, a fading star, from a mobster who wants her to give up her career.

Cast: David Janssen (Dan Castle). Guest Cast: Polly Bergen (Belle Summers), Carroll O'Connor (Mr. Griffith).

3920 The Insider. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2004–2005). A daily series dedicated to reporting the stories behind the Hollywood stories — from celebrities, the movies, TV shows and other entertainment related fields where gossip can be found.

Hosts: Pat O'Brien, Ananda Lewis, Victoria Recano. Correspondents: Kathie Lee Gifford, Steven Cojocaru.

3921 The Insiders. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985–1986). Nick Fox is an investigative reporter for Newspoint, a national magazine whose editor, Alice West, wants her reporters to go beyond the norm and find the little known facts that can blow a case wide open and lead to an eventual conclusion. James Mackay is a street-wise ex con who has gone straight (almost) hired by Alice to use his expertise as a thief, con artist and schemer to assist Nick in getting stories. Episodes relate Nick and James' efforts to acquire stories by becoming a part of them.

Other Regulars: Melissa, Alice's secretary; Roxanne, Nick's cousin; and Louise, Alice's mother.

Cast: Nicholas Campbell (Nick Fox), Stoney Jackson (James Mackay), Gail Strickland (Alice West), Kelly Ann Conn (Melissa), Jeannie Elias (Roxanne), Jane Greer (Louise Browning).

3922 Inspector Fabian of Scotland Yard. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1955). Inspector Robert Fabian is the superintendent of Detectives of New Scotland Yard in London, England. Fabian believes, in addition to the traditional legwork needed to investigate a crime, that the modern detective must incorporate other methods that are available to him. Scientific evaluation of the crime scene and its clues is one of them. Stories follow Fabian as he tackles crimes from the scientific point of view.

Cast: Bruce Seton (Insp. Robert Fabian).

3923 Inspector Gadget. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1983). Inspector Gadget is a dim-witted and bumbling bionic crime fighter (half man, half contraption) who is the savior of Metro City. He has amazing abilities and through the activation of any of his 13,000 mechanical devices he can overcome an obstacle that crosses his path. Stories follow Inspector Gadget as he wages a one-man battle against crime and corruption. He is assisted by Penny, his niece and Brain, his dog. Chief Quimby is his superior; Dr. Claw his nemesis; and Madcat is Dr. Claw's pet cat.

Voice Cast: Don Adams (Inspector Gadget), Mona Marshall (Penny), Frank Welker (Brain), Jesse White (Chief Quimby), Frank Welker (Dr. Claw), Frank Welker (Madcat).

3924 Inspector Mom. (Series; Crime Drama; Lifetime; 2006). Madeline (called Maddie) Monroe is a former journalist (investigative reporter) turned housewife and mother. She is married to Craig and they are the parents of Tara and Nate.

While Maddie appears to be living the life of an average American housewife, she longs for the excitement her former life gave her. She receives partial fulfillment when she acquires a part time job as a reporter.

Maddie is curious (and her curiosity could get her killed); wherever she goes she always manages to find something that intrigues her (most often stumbling upon a murder). Stories follow Maddie as she detaches herself from the kids and housework and puts her investigative genius to work to solve crimes.

Maddie likes to know what makes people tick. She's a smart problem solver and quick with her wits. These attributes help her solve the complex mysteries she encounters.

Inspector Mom is a unique series. It began as a two-hour TV movie on the Lifetime Movie Network (LMN). Eight episodes then aired as "webisodes" on the Internet (www.LMN.tv) followed by an additional TV movie.

Cast: Danica McKellar (Maddie Monroe), Drew Waters (Craig Monroe), Ashlan Cunningham (Tara Monroe), Nate Bell (Nate Monroe).

3925 Inspector Perez. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/8/83). Shortly after the death of his wife, Antonio Perez, a detective with the N.Y.P.D., decides to begin a new life in California and transfers to the Homicide Division of the San Francisco Police Department. He moves in with his widowed mother and the unsold series was to relate his case investigations. In the pilot episode, Perez and his partner, Sergeant Richards, struggle to solve the mysterious murders of several beautiful young Chinese women.

Cast: Jose Perez (Inspector Antonio Perez), Dana Elcar (Captain R.C. Hodges), Michael Corneilson (Sergeant Richards), Betty Carvalho (Mama Perez). Guest Cast: Cyril O'Reilly (Danny McMahon), Irene Yah Ling Sun (Lisa Soong), Beulah Quo (Mrs. Liu), Mary Jackson (Mrs. Rackwolski), Anne Bloom (Jane Langley), Chao-Li-Chi (Master Fong), Lydia Lei (Patricia Liu), Lew Brown (Captain Groves), Walter Mathews (Sergeant Grady).

3926 Instant Family. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/28/77). In an attempt to cut expenses, Clifford Beane and Frank Boyle, two single fathers, pool their resources and rent an apartment. The unsold series was to relate the efforts of both families to live together. Other Regulars: Lisa and Robbie, Frank's children; and Kevin, Ernie and Alexander, Clifford's offspring.

Cast: William Daniels (Clifford Beane), Lou Criscuolo (Frank Boyle), Wendy Fredericks (Lisa Boyle), Brad Wilkin (Robbie Boyle), Jeff Harlan (Kevin Beane), Robbie Rist (Ernie Beane), Sparky Marcus (Alexander Beane).

3927 Institute for Revenge. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 1/22/79). The Wyatt Foundation for Human Rights is a Palm Springs-based organization run by the IFR 700 Computer and nicknamed the Institute for Revenge (it is dedicated to righting nonviolent wrongs). John Schroeder is its chief agent and the unsold series was to relate his case assignments for the institute. In the pilot episode, John seeks to apprehend Alan Roberto, a swindler who has fleeced both the rich and poor out of $20 million. Other Regulars: Lilah, John's assistant; Mr. Wellington, the head of the foundation; and agents Jo Ann and T.J. (Terence James).

Cast: Sam Groom (John Schroeder), Lauren Hutton (Lilah Simms), Robert Coote (Mr. Wellington), Lane Binkley (Jo Ann Newcombe), T.J. McCavitt (T.J. Bradley), John Hillerman (Voice of the IFR 700). Guest Cast: George Hamilton (Alan Roberto), Leslie Nielsen (Hollis Barnes), Ray Walston (Frank Anders), James Karen (Powerbroker), Robert Emhardt (Senator).

3928 Interceptor — The Game of High Adventure. (Pilot; Game; Syn.; 4/1/89). Two teams compete, each composed of one celebrity and one non-celebrity contestant. Each team member is fitted with a back pack that contains valuable prizes and an infra-red sensitive target mounted on the pack. Each team has to make its way through a rugged outdoor survival course and seek banners that award prizes — but also avoid the Interceptor, their enemy who possesses an infra-red gun.

The Interceptor's mission is to track the teams and seal their back packs by hitting a concealed target on the pack. After an exhausting five-mile run and endless attempts to avoid the Interceptor, the teams are brought together at headquarters at Studio 6 in University City Studios. Here the host attempts to open the back packs. Those that were hit by the Interceptor are locked and no prizes are awarded; however, each banner that was retrieved during the game awards various prizes.

Host: Erik Estrada. Guests: Barbi Benton, Bruce Boxleitner. The Interceptor: Gary Davis. Bill Ratner does the off-screen voice for the Interceptor.

3929 Interesting People. (Experimental; Human Interest; NBC; 3/22/44). A sponsored program (by Ben Pulitzer Neckwear) that featured performances by show business people (here, actor Guy Kibbee did a comical monologue; Madelyn Balaban, the daughter of the director of the Roxy Theater in New York, sang; and Anne Bracken, a teenager who appeared in the Broadway production of Lady in the Dark, performed a skit).

Performers: Madelyn Balaban, Anne Bracken, Dick Bradley, Marie Howard, Guy Kibbee.

3930 International Airport. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/25/85). The problems of running an airport as seen through the eyes of David Montgomery, the manager of International Airport. The pilot episode relates several problems facing David: Defusing a bomb threat; counseling a friend who is contemplating a divorce; and placating an overwrought air traffic controller. Other Regulars: Beverly, David's secretary; Kathy, his assistant; Marjorie, the information desk girl; Jack, the head of security; and Pepe, the shoeshine boy.

3931 The International Animation Festival. (Series; Cartoon; PBS; 1975). Actress Jean Marsh hosts a weekly series of award-winning cartoons from around the world.

3932 International Detective. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1959). Ken Franklin is a former police detective turned chief investigator for the William J. Burns Detective Agency, an organization that handles international cases. Ken is not one to sit back and let others do the work; he is also one who believes in violent confrontations if it means getting what he needs. Stories follow Ken as he sometimes bends the rules to solve his clients problems.

Cast: Arthur Fleming (Ken Franklin). Theme Song: "International Detective" by Sidney Shaw, Leroy Holmes.

3933 International Showtime. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1961–1965). Actor Don Ameche hosts a weekly program that presents highlights from various European circuses.

3934 The Interns. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1970–1971). The personal and professional lives of Gregg Pettit, Lydia Thorpe, Pooch Hardin, Sam March and Cal Barrin, interns, supervised by Dr. Peter Goldstone, at New North Hospital in Los Angeles.

Cast: Broderick Crawford (Dr. Peter Goldstone), Christopher Stone (Dr. Pooch Hardin), Sandra Smith (Dr. Lydia Thorpe), Mike Farrell (Dr. Sam Marsh), Stephen Brooks (Dr. Greg Pettit), Hal Frederick (Dr. Cal Barrin), Elaine Giftos (Bobbie Marsh; Sam's wife), Skip Homeier (Dr. Jacoby), Edward Faulkner (Dr. Lansing), Jenny Blackton (Nurse), David Sachs (Dr. Cherry).

3935 Interpol Calling. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1960). Interpol, the International Police Force, is made up of sixty-three member nations and is the most complex and powerful law enforcement agency in the world. Cases undertaken by Interpol are seen through the experiences of Paul Duval, a chief inspector.

Cast: Charles Korvin (Insp. Paul Duval), Edwin Richfield (Police Inspector).

3936 Intertect. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 3/11/73). John McKennon is a former FBI agent who now runs Intertect, an international investigative agency. The proposed series was to relate John's case assignments. The pilot episode depicts John's efforts to free the wife and son of a wealthy industrialist from a kidnapper who is holding them for $1 million ransom.

Cast: Stuart Whitman (John McKennon). Guest Cast: Pamela Franklin (Amanda Hollister), David Soul (Curt Lowens), Sherry Alberoni (Sylvia Doyle), Robert Reed (Blake Hollister), Eric Braeden (Emhardt), Bernard Fox (Barrett).

3937 Intimate Sessions. (Series; Anthology; Cinemax; 1998). An adult series (for female nudity and adult situations) that dramatizes stories based on the discussions a group of women have when they gather once a week to talk to each other about their most erotic fantasies. As the women describe their fantasy it is seen in a reenactment. Casts change from episode to episode. The series is produced by Marilyn Vance and Alan B. Bursteen.

3938 Into the Unknown. (Pilot; Human Interest; Syn.; 8/86). A proposed series that explores and attempts to answer the mysteries of paranormal phenomena (for example, faith healing, UFO's, psychokinetic metal bending).

Host: Kevin Sanders. Narrator: Ron McKuen.

3939 Intrigue. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 9/11/88). Alexander Crawford was born in Chicago and attended Princeton University. He now works as an American undercover intelligence agent who poses as a cultural attaché based at the U.S. Embassy in Brussels. The unsold series was to relate Crawford's adventures as he relies more on brains and wits than guns to solve cases. In the pilot episode, Crawford is ordered to find his former mentor (Higbie), a defector who is now dying and wants to return to the U.S.

Cast: Scott Glenn (Alexander Crawford). Guest Cast: Robert Loggia (Buzz Higbie), Cherie Lunghi (Adriana), William Atherton (Doggett), Martin Shaw (Roskov), Eleanore Bron (Sophia), William Roberts (Walter Merriman), Paul Maxwell (Leonard Esterbrook), Philip O'Brien (Secretary of State).

3940 Invader ZIM. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2001–2006). ZIM is an alien soldier who desires to be an invader but he is terribly accident-prone and a big disappointment to his superiors, the Almighty Tallest Red and Purple, the leaders of the planet Irk. The Irkin Empire is slowly taking over the universe but ZIM is a thorn in their side. In order to get rid of him, they assign him a bogus secret mission: explore a worthless planet called Earth. ZIM accepts the assignment and establishes himself as a schoolboy on the planet. His guise is uncovered, however, by Dib Membrane, an absent-minded ten-year-old paranormal researcher who has taken it upon himself to stop ZIM.

Dib is as fumbling as ZIM and stories follow Dib's endless efforts to foil ZIM's attempts to destroy the planet (in order to prove himself to his superiors. On Irk tallness determines status. ZIM is short and thus considered quite worthless). ZIM is assisted by GIR, a badly programmed (deranged) robot that hinders ZIM's efforts.

Voice Cast: Richard Steven Horvitz (ZIM), Andy Berman (Dib), Rosearik Rikki Simons (GIR), Jhonen Vasquez (Computer voice), Rodger Bumpass (Professor Membrane), Lucille Bliss (Ms. Bitters), Melissa Fahn (Gaz), Mo Collins (Zita), Kevin McDonald (Almighty Tallest Purple), Wally Wingert (Almighty Tallest Red).

3941 The Invaders. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 1967–1968). Landers and Vincent is an architectural firm at 3006 Willow Street in Santa Barbara, California. David Vincent, a graduate of State College, is the eager, young partner; Alan Landers (James Daly), the senior partner, has been an architect for 30 years.

David is returning home (36 Hemming Drive) from a business trip one night when he decides to take a shortcut. He exits Highway 166 and soon finds himself on a dark and desolate country road. He passes a closed and deserted café (Bud's Diner) and decides to stop. The time is 4:20 A.M. and David has been driving for 20 hours. David is suddenly startled by a loud, strange noise. He sees a bright light and witnesses the landing of a spacecraft from another galaxy.

David reports the incident later that morning, but an investigation by the sheriff's department fails to uncover any evidence of what David saw. Unable to accept the explanation that he had gone too long without sleep and just imagined what he saw, David begins an investigation on his own. In the town of Kinney, he uncovers proof of what he saw: in an abandoned hydroelectric plant, aliens from a dying planet (unnamed) have established a base of operations as the beginning of an invasion to make the Earth their home. Before he is able to show others his proof, the Invaders vanish (a series problem for David). Stories relate David's efforts "to convince a disbelieving world that the nightmare has already begun."

The Invaders take human form, and their plan is to assimilate into society. David knows their one flaw—"Some of them have mutated hands: a crooked fourth finger"—and he knows that where an invasion has begun, there must also be a recharging base for them (to maintain their human forms, the aliens must use their glass tube-like regeneration chambers).

Police departments have David listed as "a kook who believes aliens are trying to take over the Earth." As David gathers evidence to prove his story, he makes contact with several powerful people who have seen what David has seen and who know the aliens must be stopped. The group becomes known as the Believers. (Corporate head Edgar Scoville is the only Believer with a recurring role. Guests Carol Lynley, as Elyse Reynolds, and Anthony Eisley, as Bob Talman, were two of the group of seven Believers.)

"You can't stop it, it's going to happen. Don't fight us," the aliens tell David. But for as long as it takes, David will fight, "for they must be stopped, they must be exposed. If David Vincent doesn't do it, who will?"

A narrator opens the show: "The Invaders, alien beings from a dying planet. Their destination: the Earth. Their purpose—to make it their world. David Vincent has seen them. For him it began one lost night on a lonely country road looking for a shortcut that he never found. It began with a closed, deserted diner and a man too long without sleep to continue his journey. It began with the landing of a craft from another galaxy. Now David Vincent knows the Invaders are here, that they have taken human form. Somehow he must convince a disbelieving world that the nightmare has already begun."

Cast: Roy Thinnes (David Vincent), Kent Smith (Edgar Scoville). Theme Song: "The Invaders" by Dominic Frontiere.

3942 Invasion. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 2005–2006). Are natural disasters (such as hurricanes) created by outer space aliens as smoke screens for their landings on Earth or for something more ominous? This is one of the theories presented on the series Invasion.

It all begins in Homestead, a small town in Florida, following a fierce hurricane. Have aliens landed in the lake? Bizarre incidents begin occurring and signs indicate that unearthly forces are controlling life in Homestead. The series explores this concept in serial-like stories.

Regulars are Russell Varon, the park ranger; his second wife, Larkin Groves, the local TV reporter; Dave Groves, Larkin's wayward brother; Rose, Russell's daughter from a previous marriage (she claims to have seen hundreds of lights floating toward the water during the storm); Dr. Mariel Underlay, Russell's ex wife (now married to Tom Underlay, the sheriff); Jesse, Russell's 15-year-old son; Kira, Tom's 16-year-old daughter; and Mona, the assistant park ranger.

Cast: Eddie Cibrian (Russell Varon), William Fichtner (Tom Underlay), Kari Matchett (Mariel Underlay), Lisa Sheridan (Larkin Groves), Tyler Labine (Dave Groves), Alexis Dziena (Kira Underlay), Aisha Hinds (Mona Gomez), Ariel Gade (Rose Varon), Evan Peters (Jesse Varon).

3943 The Investigator. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1958). Jeff Prior is a private detective working out of New York City. He is young, eager and as tough as nails when he has to be. Lloyd Prior, his father, is also his assistant. Lloyd, however, is not as headstrong as his son and prefers a laid back approach when it comes to investigating cases. Stories follow the father-son case investigations as styles clash with each trying to do what is best for their clients.

Cast: Lonny Chapman (Jeff Prior), Howard St. John (Lloyd Prior).

3944 The Investigators. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1961). Steve Banks and Russ Andrews are highly paid and highly skilled private insurance investigators working out of New York City. They believe in incorporating the latest in crime detection methods and stories relate their case investigations as they attempt to uncover the culprits who defraud insurance companies. Maggie Peters and Bill Davis are their assistants; Polly Walters is their secretary.

Cast: James Philbrook (Steve Banks), James Franciscus (Russ Andrews), Mary Murphy (Maggie Peters), Al Austin (Bill Davis), June Kenny (Polly Walters).

3945 The Investigators. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1984). A spoof of news programs as seen through the outrageous reports of Truman Knuman and Peter Quest, two "Crusading Reporters on the Air." Their segments are interspersed with the reporting of Angry Arnie, the consumer watchdog.

Cast: Charles Rocket (Truman Knuman), Mark King (Peter Quest), Bill Kirchenbauer (Angry Arnie).

3946 The Invisible Avenger. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1960). A proposed TV series based on the radio program The Shadow. Many years ago in the Orient, Lamont Cranston learned the mysterious power to cloud men's minds so they cannot see him from a mystic named Jogendra (when Lamont concentrates he sends a powerful image into the minds of others. The affected person does not see Lamont — only his image in a shadow).

Lamont poses as a wealthy man-about-town and is said to be a friend of the Shadow and the only man who knows how to contact him. Like the radio program, Lamont helps people in trouble; however, his "lovely traveling companion, Margot Lane," has been replaced by Jogendra (who uses the power of hypnosis to help Lamont) for TV. In the pilot episode, Lamont travels to New Orleans to search for an old friend (Tony) and becomes involved in a plot to overthrow a foreign government (Santa Cruz).

3947 The Invisible Man. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1958–1960). Peter Brady is a British scientist concerned with the problems of optical density (the refraction of light). He is stationed at the Castle Hill Research Lab in England. During a test, reactor number three springs a leak and sprays Peter with a gas. His body absorbs the gas and it renders him invisible. Brady, however, lacks the knowledge to become visible. (He wears facial bandages, sunglasses and gloves to be seen. In one episode, Peter mentions that his clothes will become invisible if they are made of animal fibers, such as wool.) Before Peter can do anything, he is put under lock and key by the Ministry (they fear panic will result if it is known an invisible man exists).

Through the use of his invisibility, Peter escapes and retreats to the home of his sister, Diane Wilson. There he explains to Diane and her daughter, Sally, what has happened. He concludes with, "It's quite simple. Take a jellyfish, put it in water and you can't see it. That's happened to me. My reflective index has been lowered to that of theirs."

The situation changes drastically when a rival experimenter learns what has happened and attempts to steal Brady's formula for invisibility. The Ministry reverses its decision about Peter and allows him to continue his research: to find the key to becoming visible again. In the meantime, Peter uses his great advantage of invisibility to assist the British government in its battle against crime. In later episodes, Peter's invisibility is known to the general public.

The identity of the actor portraying the lead (Peter Brady) had been (and still is) a closely guarded secret. (The cast for each episode, including the regulars, is listed only during the end credits. While the lead is listed first, he is credited only as "The Invisible Man"; the remainder of the cast follows, each with a character name.) It has been rumored that series producer Ralph Smart played Brady (Smart did the same anonymous casting for The Iron Mask; see entry), or that actor Tim Turner, who appeared in the episode "Man in Disguise," was actually the un-credited actor behind the bandages. The actor's identity was concealed not only from the public, but also from the cast and crew. (The actor wore bandages on the set; his voice was dubbed in after the episodes were shot. In some episodes he sounds American; in others there is a slight British accent.)

A dramatically different version of the H.G. Wells story was produced in early 1958 but was scrapped and never aired. In it, Peter Brady is conducting an experiment in optical density on a guinea pig (which disappears, then reappears) when a reactor begins leaking. Peter's system absorbs too much of the gas, and he is rendered invisible; his clothes, however, do not become invisible. Peter is free to leave the lab; in fact, it is known that Peter Brady has become invisible (as television and newspaper reporters constantly annoy him).

In this version he lives with his widowed sister Jane Wilson (Lisa Daniely) and her daughter Sally (Deborah Watling). It is difficult to predict how this version of the series would have progressed, since there was only one episode. Based on the storyline (Brady using his invisibility to rescue Sally from kidnappers) it appeared that he would either become a detective and use his invisibility to help solve crimes; or would follow the aired format and work with the British government — which would give him the greatest chance of discovering the formula for visibility. There is no real ending explaining what Brady would do next.

Peter works for Sir Charles, the British cabinet minister. Sir Charles's superior is the prime minister. (Sir Charles and the prime minister did not appear in the unaired pilot version.) Theme: "The Invisible Man Theme," by Sydney John Kay (both versions of the show).

Cast: ? (The Invisible Man), Lisa Daniely (Diane Wilson), Deborah Watling (Sally Wilson), Ernest Clark (Sir Charles), Ewen MacDuff (Sir Charles; later), Basil Dignam (Prime Minister).

3948 The Invisible Man. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1975–1976). Believing that it is possible to transfer objects from one place to another with laser beams, Daniel Wilson, a scientist for the Los Angeles-based KLAE Corporation, receives the authority to prove his theory via his Tele-Transportation Project. Eight months later, and after having spent $1.5 million in research money, Daniel reaches the point where he believes he can make a man invisible. Although the project is still experimental, Daniel is able to make himself invisible (by standing between two laser beams) and bring himself back to visibility (by injecting himself with a special serum he developed). Although excited about his discovery, Daniel is soon dismayed when he learns from his superior, Walter Carlson, that his invention can be used as the ultimate military weapon.

Opposed to a military use of his weapon, Daniel takes matters into his own hands and chooses to destroy the Tele-Transporter. In order to escape from the building, Daniel makes himself invisible, then destroys the machine. Later, when Daniel injects himself with the visibility serum, it fails to work; he discovers that he is permanently invisible.

Daniel seeks help from his friend, Nick Maggio, a brilliant plastic surgeon who has been experimenting with a plastic lifelike substance he calls Derma Pleque (which can reconstruct a patient's face). To help Daniel, Nick modifies the process to what he calls Derma Plex, a rubbery liquid plastic that he uses to reconstruct Daniel's face and hands (for his eyes, Nick develops a special set of contact lenses; caps are used for his teeth; a wig becomes his hair, hence Daniel appears as he did before).

Daniel, however, must take his new face (the mask) off every six to eight hours to allow his invisible skin to breathe. When Daniel realizes that KLAE Corporation's research center is his only way of finding the means to become visible, he becomes their chief investigator, using his invisibility to tackle very dangerous national and international assignments.

Daniel and his wife, Kate, live at 40137 Hazelton Road in Los Angeles. The KLAE Corporation is a highly specialized research center that undertakes government contracts.

In the pilot film Jackie Cooper plays Walter Carlson. Theme: "The Invisible Man," by Richard Clements.

Cast: David McCallum (Daniel Weston), Melinda Fee (Kate Weston), Craig Stevens (Walter Carlson), Henry Darrow (Nick Maggio), Ted Gehring (KLAE Gate Guard), Paul Kent (KLAE Security Chief).

3949 The Invisible Man. (Series; Adventure; Sci Fi; 2000). When petty thief Darien Fawkes is caught in the act of robbing an elderly man in a San Diego retirement home, it becomes his third strike and he is sentenced to life without parole in the Bakersfield State Penitentiary.

While awaiting transfer to the prison, Darien is approached by his brother, Kevin, a government scientist with the Agency, who feels that he got a raw deal. Kevin offers Darien an option: to become the subject of a secret experiment in lieu of spending his life behind bars. Kevin's experiments on invisibility have been successful on rats; he now needs a human guinea pig.

An artificial gland called Quick Silver is implanted in Darien's brain. When fear is induced, the Quick Silver seals the skin (like Saran Wrap) and makes the subject invisible (the Quick Silver bends light instead of reflecting it). When the subject relaxes, the Quick Silver dissolves and the subject returns to visibility again. The government wants to use Darien to make a difference (to fight for right). This version of the H.G. Wells story adds a drawback to becoming invisible: the procedure drives Darien violently insane and he must be injected with a counteragent every week (which is also how the government continues to get him to do what they want).

Bobby Hobbes is Darien's partner, a government agent who will break the rules and get his hands dirty to accomplish his assignments. Hobbes is smart, street-wise, cynical and jealous because Darien, "the new kid on the block," has a higher security clearance than he does.

A woman, known only as "The Keeper" is a mysterious figure who represents rationality, control and the established order. She has an uneasy alliance with Darien and is the one who administers the special Quick Silver counteragent that preserves Darien's sanity and keeps his violent temper in check. She is a scientist and intrigued by what has happened to Darien (it appears she may be tempted to learn Darien's secrets and either use them herself or sell them to the highest bidder).

Alexandra "Alex" Monroe is the Agency's highest ranking agent (a five star A rating). She is an expert in weapons, seduction, surveillance and infiltration. She is in peak physical condition and has something no other agent at the Agency has — her own office. While Alex does help Darien, she has instituted her own personal mission: to destroy Chrysalis, the Agency's arch rival organization. Alex wanted a child without the hassles of a marriage. She used artificial insemination to conceive a child but the fertility clinic that performed the procedure was owned by Chrysalis (they implanted her with a genetically engineered fetus and abducted her son shortly after birth). Alex is now determined to find her son — and destroy Chrysalis for what they did to her.

The Agency is headed by a man called The Official. He is a typical bureaucrat and appears to have many hidden secrets. The Official controls all top secret experiments (like the one performed on Darien). He gets others to do what he wants by wielding red tape and paperwork like a Samurai wields a sword. He says, "I'm no mere paper pusher."

Albert Eberts is the Official's right hand man. He is a by-the-books agent who is often on the receiving end of abuse from Fawkes and Hobbes (they treat him like an annoying kid brother) and from the Official, who constantly tells him "Shut up, Eberts!" when he complains.

Eberts is a computer genius and a master of the double ledger (his job is to keep the Agency's paperwork organized and secure); he is also responsible for trying to keep the Agency's meager budget under control despite Fawkes' and Hobbes' tendency to destroy property and cars. See also the two prior Invisible Man titles, The Gemini Man and The Invisible Woman.

Cast: Vincent Ventresca (Darien Fawkes), Paul Ben-Victor (Bobby Hobbes), Shannon Kenny (The Keeper), Brandy Ledford (Alex Monroe), Eddie Jones (The Official), Michael McCafferty (Albert Eberts).
