8075 Tales of the Red Caboose. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1948–1949). Stories of railroading lore that are depicted through the operation of Lionel "O" gauge electric trains on specially constructed sets. See also Roar of the Rails. The series, sponsored by Lionel Electric Trains, ran from October 29, 1948 to January 14, 1949.

Host-Narrator: Dan Magee.

8076 Tales of the 77th Bengal Lancers. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1956–1957). The 77th Bengal Lancers was a real unit of the famed British Cavalry organization that was established in India during the 19th century. It's purpose was to uphold the peace by keeping the constant native uprisings under control. Stories, based on case histories, relate the efforts of its chief operatives, Michael Rhodes and William Storm, to patrol and protect on behalf of the British government.

Cast: Philip Carey (Lt. Michael Rhodes), Warren Stevens (Lt. William Storm), Pat Whyte (Colonel Standish), John Hubbard (Capt. Scott Ellis), Sean McClary (Captain Clary).

8077 Tales of the Texas Rangers. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1955–1957). Dramatizations based on the files of the Texas Rangers, North America's oldest law enforcement organization. Stories detail the investigations of Rangers Jace Pearson and Clay Morgan and the time-honored method of crime control from the 1830s to the 1950s.

Cast: Willard Parker (Jace Pearson), Harry Lauter (Clay Morgan).

8078 Tales of the Unexpected. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1977). An eight episode program of mystery and suspense presentations featuring top name stars. The series ran from February 2, 1977 to March 9, 1977.

Host: William Conrad.

8079 Tales of the Unexpected. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1979–1984). Dramatizations that depict how certain, unexpected events can alter the destinies of people. Produced in England. Also titled Roald Dahl's Tales of the Unexpected.

Host: Roald Dahl (1979–80), John Houseman (1980–82). Performers Include: Janet Leigh, Julie Harris, Jack Weston, Elaine Stritch, Kate Harper, Joseph Cotton, Susan George, Jeremy Clyde, Cyril Cusack, John Castle, Derek Jacobi, Lynette Davies, Alan Rowe, John Gielgud, Judy Geeson. Theme Music: "Carrousel Theme from Tales of the Unexpected" by Ron Grainer.

8080 Tales of the Unknown. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1954). A weekly series of science fiction stories that are enacted by a single actor or actress.

8081 Tales of the Vikings. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1960). Episodes of conflict and conquest in the lives of Leif Ericson and his sea raiders, the Vikings, in Scandinavia in 1000 A.D.

Cast: Jerome Courtland (Leif Ericson), Walter Barnes (Finn), Stefan Schnabel (Firebeard), Peter Bull (Halldar), June Thorburn (Jessica), Buddy Baer (Also).

8082 Tales of Tomorrow. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1951–1953). Science fiction presentations culled from both classic and modern stories.

8083 Tales of Wells Fargo. (Series; Western; NBC; 1957–1962). The town of Gloribee (near San Francisco) during the 1860s is a base for the gold transporting company, Wells Fargo, Inc. James ("Jim") Whitcomb Hardie is its chief agent and troubleshooter, a man who risks his life to protect gold shipments from outlaws. Shipments are made via Wells Fargo stages; the Overland Stage Lines and the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad service the area.

Jim owns the Haymaker Farm, a cattle ranch near Salt Canyon. Jebediah ("Jeb") Ganes is his foreman; Beau McCloud is Jim's assistant; and the Widow Ovie is Jim's neighbor, the mother of two beautiful daughters (Tina and Mary Gee). Mary Gee, the younger sister, has a crush on Jim and riles Jeb by using the ranch as a riding stable. Jeb's prize palomino is named Snowball. Hal Humphrey is the town's sheriff. See also A Tale of Wells Fargo.

Cast: Dale Robertson (Jim Hardie), William Demarest (Jeb Ganes), Jack Ging (Beau McCloud), Virginia Christine (Widow Ovie), Mary Jane Saunders (Mary Gee Ovie), Lory Patrick (Tina Ovie), Steve Darrell (Sheriff Hal Humphrey). Narrator: Dale Robertson. Theme Song: "Tales of Wells Fargo" by Michael Green, Stanley Wilson.

8084 Tales to Remember. (Live Test Program; Drama; CBS; 5/8/46). A proposed series of improvisations wherein a group of players enact a story narrated by the host. Had the project sold, the series would have used O. Henry–like stories (which have switcheroo endings).

Host-Narrator: Milton Bacon. Regulars: Doreen Lang, Elmer Lehr, Dick Wilder.

8085 Talk Show with Spike Feresten. (Comedy; Comedy; Fox; 2006–). A late night Saturday series whose aim "is to amuse." Former Seinfeld and Simpsons writer Spike Feresten hosts a show where the guests do all the work—from delivering monologues to performing in skits with the shows casts.

Host: Spike Feresten. Regulars: Tom Greene, Joey D'Auria, D.J. Lubell, Geoff Witcher, Adam Felber, Philip Friedman, Tony Gates, Neil Grieve, Barry Julien, Paul Korda, Edmond Lupinski, Matt O'Brien, Blaire Reinhard.

8086 Talk Soup. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 1991–2002). A talk show that derives its comedy from anything that can be made fun of—from other talk shows to reality shows to real life celebrities; from drama queens (and kings) to pretty boys and girly-girls. If it can be made fun of, it is.

Hosts: Greg Kinnear (1991–1995), John Henson (1995–1999), Hal Sparks (1999–2000), Aiesha Tyler (2001–2002).

8087 Talk to Me. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2000). "We're All Talk" is the slogan of New York radio station WSBJ (75.5 FM). There is an advice show called Dr. Debra and The Janey Munro Show, a snappy morning talk show hosted by Janey Munro, a young woman with the answers to solve everybody's problems but her own. Stories follow Janey's home and working life as she finds the activities she encounters outside the studio provide the basis for her following day's talk show.

Janey lives with her ditzzy sister, Kat, a full time volunteer—for any organization that wants her. Her favorite TV show is Fashion Emergency, a cable show that gives fashion makeovers to needy girls. Her and Janey's favorite drink is a Cosmopolitan.

Dr. Debra is a tough talking, right wing psychologist who loves to insult her audience. She is the author of the book Abstinence: If It Feels Good Don't Do It. Sandy is the clueless station manager who got the job because his father owns the station. Cam is Janey's show producer; Marshall is the sound effects man; Rob is another talk show host at the station.

Cast: Kyra Sedgwick (Janey Munro), Nicole Sullivan (Kat Munro), Beverly D'Angelo (Dr. Debra), Peter Jacobson (Sandy), Mike Estime (Cam), Max Baker (Marshall).

8088 Talkabout. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1989). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One team is isolated off stage. The other team is shown two topics that contain 10 unknown (to them) clue words each. The team selects one topic and one member receives 30 seconds to talk about it. At the end of the time, the other teammate receives 20 seconds to talk about the same topic. The object is for the team to say as many of the clue words as possible and leave as few clues as possible to the identity of the topic. At the end of the time the other team is brought out and shown any clue words not guessed by their opponents. If this team can guess the subject they win points (one for each clue that was previously guessed). If, however, the team at play guessed all 10 clues, the round ends and the team automatically wins $500. The first team to score 15 points is the winner.

Host: Wayne Cox. Announcer: Dean Hill.

8089 Tall Hopes. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993). George Harris is a subway cop for the Philadelphia Transit Authority. He is married to Lainie and is the father of Chester, Ernest and Didi. The series title refers to Chester, a promising basketball star who is called "Chet the Jet" as a member of the school's basketball team. George has a dream of raising Chester to become the world's greatest basketball player; Lainie feels differently and wants Chester to attend Temple University and get an education to make his way in the world. This is the conflict the series presents but nobody apparently cared and Chet's fate was left unresolved as the series was cancelled after four episodes.

Ernest is a budding film director; George is a member of the Subway Moles baseball team. When George gets upset and can't sleep he makes a meat-loaf and peanut butter sandwich.

Cast: George Wallace (George Harris), Anna Maria Horsford (Lainie Harris), Kenny Blank (Ernest Harris), Chester Harris (Terrence Harris), Karla Green (Didi Harris).

8090 The Tall Man. (Series; Western; NBC; 1960–1962). Lincoln County, New Mexico, during the late 1870s is the setting. It is here that William Bonney, alias the notorious outlaw, Billy the Kid, has been captured by Sheriff Pat Garrett but released in the custody of an English rancher. Though once enemies, Pat and Billy have become friends. The friendship is based on trust and as long as Billy upholds the law, he will be treated like any law-abiding citizen. Trouble is, Billy has a urge to be a part of the action and stories follow Billy as he helps (and sometimes hinders) Pat as he maintains law and order.

Cast: Barry Sullivan (Pat Garrett), Clu Gulager (William Bonney). Theme Song: "The Tall Man Theme" by Juan Esquivel.

8091 Tall Tales and Legends. (Series; Anthology; Showtime; 1985–1986). A retelling of famous legends (for example, "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," "Davy Crockett") and tall tales (for example, "John Henry," "Casey at the Bat"). The other five presentations were "Annie Oakley," "Ponce DeLeon," "Johnny Appleseed," "Pecos Bill" and "Darlin' Clementine."

Stars Include: Shelley Duvall, Anne Jackson, Danny Glover, Mac Davis, Mimi Kennedy, Michael McKean, McLean Stevenson, Jamie Lee Curtis, Edward Asner, David Dukes, Beverly D'Angelo, Charles Durning, Tim Thomerson, Walter Olkewicz, Ed Begley, Jr., Rob Reiner, Molly Ringwald, Martin Short, Will Sampson.

8092 Tallahassee 7000. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1961). Lex Rogers is a special agent and troubleshooter for the Florida Sheriff's Bureau, a special law enforcement agency established to assist the sheriff's of 67 counties in greater Miami. Lex is based in Miami Beach (Tallahassee 7000 is the Bureau's phone number) and stories follow his case investigations.

Cast: Walter Matthau (Lex Rogers).

8093 Tamara. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 8/4/41). Songs with Tamara, a singer-actress who performs folk songs and ballads in English, Russian and Spanish. Tamara provided her own guitar accompaniment and Steve Marvin produced and directed.

8094 Tammy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1965–1966). Tammy ("Tammy") Tarleton is a pretty bayou girl who lives with her grandfather, Mordecai Tarleton, and her uncle, Lucius Tarleton, on the Ellen B, a riverboat that is moored on the Louisiana shore in Ducheau County. Tammy is a very sweet and trusting girl. She is 18 years old and was raised by her grandfather, "with a little help from her Uncle Lucius," after the death of her parents when she was just a child. Tammy possesses enthusiasm and the ability to overcome adverse situations through her philosophy of love and understanding. The Tarletons are a poor family, and "if we don't have anything else," Grandpa says, "we have self-respect."

Tammy is an excellent cook and famous for her "river vittles" (for example, hog liver soup, poke weed salad, stuffed catfish and mustard greens). Delilah is the Tarletons' dog; Beulah is their cow; and Nan is Tammy's pet goat.

When the series begins, Tammy is seen returning from secretarial school (she previously completed special courses at nearby Seminole College) and applying for a position as the personal secretary to John Brent, a wealthy widower who owns Brent Enterprises (which he runs from his home at Brentwood Hall). Tammy's ability to type 200 words a minute causes friction when she is offered the job over another applicant, Gloria Tate. Gloria's mother, Lavinia, had hoped that Gloria would get the job and thus increase her own chances of marrying Gloria's new boss. Lavinia's efforts to discredit Tammy (in the hope of getting her fired) is a recurring aspect of the series.

The Tates are a wealthy high society family. Lavinia is divorced and has made it her goal to marry John Brent. When Tammy causes a setback in Lavinia's plans, it is typical for Lavinia to say, "I'm sick and tired of that water nymph pushing me into the backwoods with Mr. Brent," and then devise a plan to get Tammy fired. Gloria looks up to her mother ("You're so devious, cunning and underhanded; I'm so proud of you") and wants to follow in her footsteps. While Lavinia has Tammy to contend with, Gloria has the unwanted romantic attentions of Tammy's cousin, Cletus Tarleton. Cletus has made it his goal to convince Gloria that he is the man for her.

The series is based on the novels Tammy Out of Time and Tammy Tell Me True, by Cid Ricketts Sumner; the books were also made into the 1957 movie Tammy and the Bachelor, with Debbie Reynolds as Tammy.

Relatives: Jeanette Nolan (Tammy's aunt, Hannah), Jay Sheffield (John's son, Steven Brent), Doris Packer (John's Mother Brent), David Macklin (Lavinia's son, Peter Tate), Sal Ponti (Lavinia's cousin, Beauregard Bassett), Jeff York (Lavinia's cousin, Grundy Tate), Bella Bruck (Grundy's wife, Sybelline Tate).

Cast: Debbie Watson (Tammy Tarleton), Denver Pyle (Mordecai Tarleton), Frank McGrath (Lucius Tarleton), Donald Woods (John Brent), Linda Marshall (Gloria Tate), Dorothy Greene (Lavinia Tate), George Furth (Dwayne Witt, John's assistant), Dennis Robertson (Cletus Tarleton), Michael Ross (Sheriff), Ross Elliott (Sheriff; later). Theme: "Tammy" by Jay Livingston, Ray Evans.

8095 The Tammy Grimes Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1966). Tamartha ("Tammy") Ward is young, beautiful and single. She is an heiress, but cannot collect her multimillion dollar inheritance until she reaches the age of 30—a condition of her late parents' will that her guardian, her uncle, Simon Grimsley, strictly enforces. Stories follow Tammy's misadventures as she devises elaborate schemes to finance her expensive tastes.

Tammy lives at 365 Central Park West in New York City. She works for her Uncle Simon, the president of Perpetual Savings Bank (“The Bank with a Heart”) as its customer service relations officer. Tammy's twin brother, Terence Ward, is a bank vice president and lives at 51 Gramercy Place. While Tammy is wild and extravagant, Terence is laid back and stingy and opposed to the way Tammy schemes to get money. Only four of ten produced episodes aired.

Cast: Tammy Grimes (Tammy Ward), Dick Sargent (Terence Ward), Hiram Sherman (Simon Ward), Maudie Prickett (Mrs. Ratchett). Theme Song: “Theme from the Tammy Grimes Show” by Johnny Williams.

8096 Tanner '88. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1988). A political satire that follows the campaign trail of fictional Democratic Congressman Jack Tanner as he runs for the office of President of the United States (his slogan is “Tanner for President”). Jack is rather naïve and stories follow his campaign from nomination to his losing the election. Jack is aided by T.J. Cavanaugh, his campaign manager; Stringer Kincaid, his aide; and Andrea Spinelli, Jack's somewhat ditzy assistant.

Other Regulars: Alex Tanner, Jack's daughter; Emile Berkoff, the poll taker; Deke Connors, the film maker; and Joanna Buckley, a Republican who is Jack's secret love interest. The program, created by director Robert Altman and cartoonist Garry Trudeau has real life celebrities and politicians mixing with the fictional characters. See also the spin off series, Tanner on Tanner (which aired 16 years later in 2004).

Cast: Michael Murphy (John Quinton “Jack” Tanner), Cynthia Nixon (Alex Tanner), Pamela Reed (Theresa Jean “T.J.” Cavanaugh), Ilana Levine (Andrea Spinelli), Wendy Crewson (Joanna Buckley), Matt Malloy (Deke Connors), Daniel Jenkins (Stringer Kincaid).

8097 Tanner on Tanner. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 2004). A spin-off from Tanner '88 (although there is a 16 year gap between series, Tanner on Tanner is called the second season of Tanner '88). In the time that has passed, Alex, Congressman Jack Tanner's daughter, has become a filmmaker. Stories follow Alex as she sets about to produce a documentary about her father at the time of the Bush-Kerry campaigns. The cast of the original series is reunited. Many celebrities (such as Harry Belafonte and Robert Redford) as well as real newsmen (Tom Brokaw) and politicians (Jimmy Carter, Bill Clinton, John Kerry) appear with the fictional characters.

Cast: Michael Murphy (Jack Tanner), Cynthia Nixon (Alex Tanner), Pamela Reed (T.J. Cavanaugh), Matt Malloy (Deke Connors), Andrea Spinelli (Ilana Levine), Jim Fyfe (Emile).

8098 Taquita and Kauai. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2007). Taquita Thom and Kauai Beamer appeared as contestants on the MTV series Making the Band but failed to make it as part of an all girl rock group. The two met on the program and became friends. Both are determined to make it in show business and cameras follow their attempts as they hit Las Vegas and take any jobs they can find “as long as we can entertain”—from performing in magic shows to becoming clowns.

Stars: Taquita Thom, Kauai Beamer.

8099 Target. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1951). High tension, impact dramas that depict the conflicting forces that drive men and women. Actor Adolphe Menjou is the host.

8100 Target the Corrupters. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1961–1962). Paul Marino is a newspaper reporter who covers gangland activities (called rackets here). Jack Flood is a federal undercover agent who teams with Paul to infiltrate the rackets and expose the methods of organized crime through the power of the press. Stories, based on the articles of investigative reporter Lester Velie, follow their dangerous undercover assignments.

Cast: Stephen McNally (Paul Marino), Robert Harland (Jack Flood). Theme Song: “Target” by Rudy Schragger.

8101 Tarzan. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1966–1968). The original concept for Tarzan, as created by Edgar Rice Burroughs, began in 1911 when his story, “Tarzan of the Apes,” first appeared in the October issue of All-Story Magazine. The legend began with a mutiny on a ship bound for England. Two passengers, Lord John Greystoke and his wife, Alice, were put ashore off the coast of Africa and left with only tools and a rifle to defend themselves. As time passed, John built a small hut near the water. One year later, a son is born to them. Soon after, their hut is attacked by a tribe of Bull Apes. John and Alice are killed but their son (John) is taken by Kahla, a female ape and raised as Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle. Twenty years later, while on a safari, Jane Parker wanders from its safety and is soon facing impending death from a rampaging elephant. She is rescued by Tarzan, whom she befriends and teaches to speak English. She eventually decides to become his mate and remains with him in Africa. Tarzan has a companion named Cheetah.

This concept was adapted to television for the first time in an unsold pilot called Tarzan that was produced in 1958. Gordon Scott played Tarzan and Eve Brent was Jane (see Tarzan the Ape Man for further information).

The NBC version has Tarzan's companion, Cheetah, but no Jane. It is said that Tarzan was educated by a Frenchman when his safari was marooned in Africa. The Frenchman discovers that Tarzan's real name is John Greystoke and persuades him to return to England with him. John is educated in the finest schools but is unable to adjust to civilized life. He returns to Africa to protect it from the evils of man. Jai is the orphaned jungle boy cared for by Tarzan; Jason Flood is Jai's tutor; Rao is the village veterinarian; Tall Boy assists Rao.

Cast: Ron Ely (Tarzan), Manuel Padilla, Jr. (Jai), Alan Caillou (Jason Flood), Rockne Tarkington (Rao), Stewart Raffill (Tall Boy).

8102 Tarzan. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1991). An adaptation of the stories by Edgar Rice Burroughs that reworks the entire Tarzan legend to accommodate modern times. A plane, carrying a family of three, crashes in the dense African jungle. The lone survivor, a young boy, is found by Kahla, a great Bull Ape, and raised as Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle.

The series begins many years later when Tarzan is an adult. Tarzan and his companion, Cheetah (a chimp), live in a tree house by the Great River. Stories focus on Tarzan's efforts to protect the animals and jungle from environmental wrongdoers. Jane Porter is a beautiful French research scientist who maintains a compound near the Great River. She works with the Wildlife Institute to save endangered species. She is assisted by Roger Taft, the son of Roger Taft, Sr., the man who funds Jane's research. Simon Gaubier, a native African, also assists them. It is mentioned that Jane and Roger have been in Africa one year, but it is not related how they met Tarzan. Prior to Cheetah, Tarzan's chimp was Maya; Juma is Tarzan's lion and Tantor his elephant. Details are not related on how Tarzan learned to speak English.

Cast: Wolf Larson (Tarzan), Lydie Denier (Jane Porter), Sean Roberge (Roger Taft, Jr.), Chuck Shamora (Roger Taft, Sr.), Malick Bowens (Simon Gaubier).

8103 Tarzan. (Series; Adventure; WB; 2003). On April 24, 1983, a Cessna plane crashes in the jungles of the Democratic Republic of the Congo. The one survivor, a young boy (John Clayton, Jr.) survives and is raised by a great Bull Ape. John's uncle, Richard Clayton, arranges for a search and recovery operation, but none are successful. In August of 2003, Richard himself organizes a safari to look for the remains of his family — his brother John, his wife Alice, and their son, John, Jr., heir to the massive Clayton fortune. Richard is able to do what no one else has done — find the plane and his now grown nephew, John, a defender of the jungle known as Tarzan (he is able to speak English, but not at this time).

Richard, the C.E.O. of the Greystoke Corporation in Manhattan, captures John and takes him back to New York City. Richard's plan is to keep John a prisoner so he can control his share of the family fortune. Although Richard is John's legal guardian, John does not want to be held captive and escapes. As John wanders through the streets, amazed at what he sees, Richard calls the police and reports John as a thief.

Police detective Jane Porter becomes involved with John when he saves her life (rescuing her from a ledge after she attempts to jump from one rooftop to another but loses her perception while chasing a suspect). John's freedom is short lived, however, when Richard's henchmen, who had been tracking John, take him back to his glass cage at Greystoke Industries. Jane learns that Richard has John under medical and psychiatric care because Richard believes John has the mind of a child and could prove dangerous in society.

John is fascinated by Jane — the first woman he has ever seen and she becomes the first person to whom he speaks. Jane believes Richard is keeping John a prisoner, but he is John's legal guardian and there is nothing she can do. John, however, does not want to remain caged and escapes again — with Richard's and his henchmen in hot pursuit.

John finds the rooftops and alleyways of Manhattan the perfect hiding place — but he also finds refuge at Jane's apartment and later in the apartment of his aunt, Kathleen, a woman who knows Richard is up to no good and is seeking to protect John's rightful inheritance.

John has the ability to telepathically know when Jane is in danger and comes to her aid — "When someone needs help, I help them. I am Tarzan," he says. He can also track people by their scents and prefers the streets and building rooftops to living indoors. Because he is being sought by the police and Richard's henchmen, John always disappears after helping someone before the police arrive.

Jane is with the 12th Precinct of the N.Y.P.D. She was a by-the-books cop but now goes by her gut — "I go by what I feel." Stories follow Jane's efforts to help John avoid capture and her (and Kathleen's) efforts to defeat Richard and help John find his rightful place at Greystoke Industries. The series is based on the stories by Edgar Rice Burroughs (although changed greatly for this TV adaptation); the series ended without a resolution.

Other Regulars: Detective Sam Sullivan, Jane's partner; and Nicki, Jane's sister.

Cast: Travis Fimmel (John Clayton, Jr./Tarzan), Sarah Wayne Callies (Jane Porter), Mitch Pileggi (Richard Clayton), Lucy Lawless (Kathleen Clayton), Miguel A. Nunez, Jr. (Det. Sam Sullivan), Leighton Meester (Nicki Porter).

8104 The Tarzan/Lone Ranger/Zorro Adventure Hour. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1981–1982). The overall title for three animated series.

1. Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle. Tarzan, the Lord of the Jungle in Africa, battles the evils of man and beast.

2. The Lone Ranger. The Lone Ranger, a mysterious masked man (the lone survivor of six ambushed Texas Rangers), and his Indian friend, Tonto, help people in the turbulent days of the Old West.

3. The New Adventures of Zorro. Don Diego, alias the mysterious Zorro, fights for the rights of the people of early California.

Voice Cast: Robert Ridgely (Tarzan), William Conrad (The Lone Ranger), Ivan Naranjo (Tonto), Henry Darrow (Don Diego/Zorro), Christine Avila (Maria), Don Diamond (Sergeant Gonzales), Eric Mason (Ramon), Julio Medina (Miguel), Carlos Rivas (Don Alejandro), East Carlo (Frey Gasper).

8105 Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1976–1978). An animated adaptation of the Edgar Rice Burrows stories about Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle in Africa, as he battles the evils of man and beast. See the 1966 version of Tarzan for background information.

Voices: Robert Ridgely (Tarzan), Linda Gary, Joan Gerber, Ted Cassidy, Jane Webb, Alan Oppenheimer.

8106 Tarzan the Ape Man. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 2/23/68). When John and Alice Greystoke are put ashore by the mutinous crew of the ship on which they are traveling, they make Africa their home when they find they are unable to escape. One year later a son is born to them. Soon after, their hut is attacked by a tribe of Bull Apes. John and Alice are killed, but their son is taken by Kahla, a female ape, who raises him as Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle. Twenty years later, while on a safari, Jane Parker wanders from its safety and is soon facing impending death from a rampaging elephant. She is rescued by Tarzan, whom she befriends and teaches to speak English. Eventually Jane decides to remain with him in Africa. The unsold series (filmed in 1958) was to depict their adventures as they defend their jungle domain. In the pilot episode, Tarzan and Jane attempt to stop two ruthless trappers who are seeking the legendary elephant's graveyard. Released theatrically with added footage as Tarzan and the Trappers.

8107 Tarzan: The Epic Adventures. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1996–1998). An adaptation of the stories by Edgar Rice Burroughs. The legend begins when a young couple (the Greystokes) are put ashore by the mutinous crew of a ship on which they were traveling. With no hope of escape, the couple make the island their home. Shortly after, a son (whom they name John) is born to them. Later, they are attacked by a tribe of Bull apes. One of the apes, Kali, takes the baby and raises him as Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle. Tarzan, now a young man, is found by a safari and returned to his homeland (England) to assume his rightful place as the Earl of Greystoke. John, however, becomes disenchanted with civilized life and returns to the land of his birth. Stories follow John, now as Tarzan, as he defends his homeland from evil.

8108 Task Force. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/2/76, 3/9/76). A proposed spin-off from Police Woman about a three man (Rick, Bobbo, and Jesse) one woman (Michelle) motorcycle task force of the L.A.P.D. that tackles dangerous assignments (their superior is Sergeant Barnett). In the pilot episode, the Task Force joins Sergeant Pepper Anderson in a search to discover who brutally ran down her new love, an opera singing colleague.

Cast: Dane Clark (Sergeant Barnett), Cynthia Sikes (Michelle), Don Stroud (Bobbo Olchin), James A. Watson, Jr. (Jesse Arnold), James Darren (Rick Matteo). Guest Cast: Angie Dickinson (Pepper Anderson), Earl Holliman (Bill Crowley), Cooper Huckabee (Yancey), Gerald McRaney (Comet), Betsey Slade (Joan DiMarco), Deirdre Lenihan (Linda Hoffman), Andy Jarrell (Fritz Hoffman), Katherine McKee (Rhea), Charles Haid (Charley French), Priscilla Pointer (Adele French).

8109 Tate. (Series; Western; NBC; 1960). He is known only as Tate. During the Battle of Vicksburg in May 1863, his left arm was smashed (“I didn’t run fast enough”), and it is now preserved in a black leather casing. The Civil War toughened him (“He’s ugly as ever and twice as mean looking”); he is now a gunfighter who wanders from town to town siding with justice against criminal elements. Despite his handicap, he is lightning fast “and can shoot five times without reloading.”

Tate was a hard-nosed kid. He was born in Kansas City and had the nickname “Curley” (“You’re too ugly to be called that now,” folks say). His one and only love was a girl named Mary Ellen (not seen; she is mentioned as having died in the 1850s when Tate was a young man). When Tate returned to his hometown and ate at the Kansas City Steak House, pie was six cents a slice, coffee ten cents a cup and a sandwich 12 cents. Irving Friedman composed the theme.

Cast: David McLean (Tate).

8110 Tattletales. (Series; Game; CBS; 1974–1984). Three celebrity couples compete, each representing one-third of the studio audience. In Round One, the wives appear on stage; their husbands are isolated in a soundproof room. A question is read (for example, “It happened on vacation”). The first wife to sound a buzzer signal must relate a situation that concerns her marriage and a short clue that summarizes her answer. The question, along with the clue, is read to the husbands. The husband who believes that it is his wife’s response, sounds a bell and must relate a similar story. A correct match scores $100. Round Two reverses the prior round and the winners are the highest scorers. $100 is added to the total and it is divided among the studio audience members who are represented by that couple.

Host: Bert Convy. Announcer: Johnny Olsen, Jack Clark, Gene Wood.

8111 Tattooed Teenage Alien Fighters from Beverly Hills. (Series; Science Fiction; USA; 1994–1995). When the evil Emperor Gorganus threatens to take over the universe, an alien named Nimbar recruits four Beverly Hills teenagers to battle him. The teens, who each have a tattoo of the zodiac, are Gordon Healey (Taurus tattoo), Laurie Foster (Scorpio), Drew Vincent (Centaur) and Swinton Sawyer (Apollo). Stories (a low budget version of The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers) relate the teens battle against the monsters Gorganus send to destroy the planet.

Cast: Richard Nason (Gordon Healey), Leslie Danon (Laurie Foster), K. Jill Sorgen (Drew Vincent), Rugg Williams (Swinton Sawyer), Ed Gilbert (Gorganus), Glenn Shadix (Nimbar).

8112 Taxi. (Series; Comedy; ABC; NBC; 1978–1983). The Sunshine Cab Company is a Manhattan-based taxi service in New York City. According to Louie DePalma, the nasty dispatcher (whose office is called “The Cage”), all his drivers are losers, people who will never amount to anything. The only cabbie that made it out was James Caan — “But he’ll be back. They all come back.” The cabbies hangout is Mario’s, a bar-restaurant.

Louie, who lives for his job, has been with the company for 15 years — first as a driver than a dispatcher. He is lecherous and mean and considers himself a ladies’ man. He had a brief romance with Zina Sherman the candy machine-vending lady. “When one sees repulsive things floating around in the water one should think of Louie. He’d like that.”

Alex Reiger, the oldest of the cabbies is the one the others turn to for advice. Alex is divorced from Phyllis and the father of an adult daughter (Cathy). He says, “I’m a cab driver and I don’t mind” (which is his way of taking pride in the way things are).

Elaine Nardo is the only female cabbie with a speaking role. She is the divorced mother of two children (Jennifer and Jason) and works part time at the Hazleton Art Galleries. Elaine is sympathetic and although she has her share of problems, she will help a fellow cabbie in trouble.

Tony Banta is the cabbie who aspires to become a world champion boxer. Currently he is a middleweight boxer but loses most of his matches. He is also a veteran of the Vietnam War.

Bobby Wheeler is an aspiring actor who never seems able to get that big break. He made his debut on the TV soap opera For Better or Worse as Skip and starred in the one-man play Charles Darwin Tonight.

Latka Gravas, the alien from an unidentified (and strange) country, works as the garage mechanic. He is shy and awkward and is married to the equally strange Simka, a girl from his homeland (but a different tribe). Simka is romantic, moody and feared by men when she becomes angry (although Latka finds her temper romantic).

Jim Ignatowski, who is nicknamed Iggie, is the spaced-out cabbie who still lives in the 1960s. Jim was a studious, intelligent Harvard man before he turned to drugs and ruined his life. He changed his name from James Caldwell to Jim Ignatowski because he thought Ignatowski was “Star Child” spelled backwards. When Jim inherited his father’s money he bought the hangout and changed its name to Jim’s Mario’s. Jim is also an ordained minister in the Church of the Peaceful and he is sometimes called Reverend Jim.

Relatives: Jack Gilford (Alex’s father, Joe Reiger), Joan Hackett (Alex’s sister, Charlotte), Louise Lasser (Alex’s ex-wife, Phyllis Reiger), Talia Balsam (Alex’s daughter, Cathy Reiger), Julie Kavner (Tony’s sister, Monica Douglas), Donnelly Rhodes (Tony’s father, Angie Banta), Richard Foronjy (Louie’s brother, Nick DePalma), Julia DeVito (Louie’s mother, Gabriella DePalma), Victor Buono (Jim’s father, Mr. Caldwell), Walter Olkewicz (Jim’s brother, Tom Caldwell), Barbara Deutsch (Jim’s sister, Lila Caldwell), Susan Kellerman (Latka’s mother, Greta Gravas), Mark Blankfield (Simka’s cousin, Zifka).

The series ran on ABC from September 12, 1978 to June 10, 1982 (91 episodes); and on NBC from September 30, 1982 to July 13, 1983 (20 episodes).

Cast: Judd Hirsch (Alex Reiger), Marilu Henner (Elaine Nardo), Tony Danza (Tony Banta), Danny DeVito (Louie DePalma), Christopher Lloyd (Jim Ignatowski), Jeff Conaway (Bobby Wheeler), Andy Kaufman (Latka Gravas), Carol Kane (Simka Gravas), Jeff Thomas (Jeff Bennett; Louie’s assistant), J. Allen Thomas (Jeff Bennett; later), Allen Garfield (Ben Rutledge; cab company owner), Vincent Schiavelli (Reverend Gorky), Randall Carver (Cabbie John Burns), Ellen Regan (Suzanne Burns; John’s wife), T.J. Castronova (Tommy; waiter at Mario’s), Rhea Perlman (Zena Sherman), Stephen Elliott (Mr. MacKenzie; original cab company owner), Eileen Brennan (Ruth MacKenzie; Mackenzie's wife). Theme Music: Bob James.

8113 Taxicab Confessions. (Series; Reality; HBO; 1995). People take taxicabs everyday in every city. But in New York City, one taxi cab was outfitted with six lipstick (micro) cameras to record the conversations between passengers and the driver. The passengers are unaware that they are being recorded (although they are later asked to sign release forms). The edited conversations are shown and reveal the good — and bad side of ordinary people as they talk about their personal lives.

Taxi Drivers: Brenda Roman, Chris Moriarty, Todd Phillips.

8114 Taz-Mania. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1991–1993). Taz Tasmanian Devil, called Taz, is the son of Jean and Hugh Tasmanian Devil. He has a sister (Molly) and a brother (Jake) and the family lives in a moderately furnished cave in Tasmania. Stories focus primarily on Taz, the eldest child, as he goes about seeking his place in the world (but always encountering misadventure in his attempts).

Voice Cast: Jim Cummings (Taz Tasmanian Devil), Maurice LaMarche (Hugh Tasmanian Devil), Miriam Flynn (Jean Tasmanian Devil), Kellie Martin (Molly Tasmanian Devil), Debi Derryberry (Jake Tasmanian Devil), John Astin (Bull Gator), Jim Cummings (Tasmanian Wolf), Jim Cummings (Buddy Boar), Jim Cummings (Bushwhacker Bob), Jim Cummings (Wendel T. Wolf), Dan Castellana (Mr. Thickley), Rosalyn Landor (Constance Koala), Phil Proctor (Willie Wombat).

8115 Teachers. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2006). Filmore High School in New Jersey is the setting for a look at the faculty of a school where fun seems to be the number one subject. Particular focus is on Jeff Cahill, a happy-go-lucky English teacher who appears to be a slacker but secretly cares for his students. Emma Wiggins is the school's principal; other teachers are Alice Fletcher, an English teacher from England; Tina Torres, a history teacher; Calvin Babbit, the drama instructor; and Dick Greene, a veteran teacher at the school.

Cast: Justin Bartha (Jeff Cabill), Sarah Alexander (Alice Fletcher), Sarah Shahi (Tia Torres), Kali Rocha (Emma Wiggins), Deon Richmond (Calvin Babbit), Phul Hendrie (Dick Greene).

8116 Teachers Only. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1982). Diana Swanson is a teacher at mythical Millard Fillmore High School in Los Angeles. She cares about and takes an interest in her students. Stories relate the comical incidents that befall Diana as she sets about educating the youth of America. See also the following title. Other Regulars: Ben, the principal; teachers Gwen and Michael; Mr. Brody, the assistant Principal; Mr. Pafko, the custodian; Lois, Ben's secretary; and students Amy and Jeremy.

Cast: Lynn Redgrave (Diana Swanson), Norman Fell (Ben Cooper), VanNessa Clarke (Gwen Edwards), Adam Arkin (Michael Dreyfuss), Norman Bartold (Mr. Brody), Richard Karron (Mr. Pafko), Kit McDonough (Lois McArdle), Amanda Wyss (Amy Kelly), Timothy Patrick Murphy (Jeremy Stewart).

8117 Teachers Only. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1983). Mythical Arnold Wilson High School in Brooklyn, New York is the setting. Stories follow events in the lives of its faculty and students. Particular focus is on Diana Swanson, the guidance counselor (in the 1982 version of the series [see prior title], Diana was a teacher). Other Regulars: Ben, the principal; Samantha, Barney and Michael, teachers; Shari, Ben's assistant; and Spud, the gym teacher.

Cast: Lynn Redgrave (Diana Swanson), Norman Fell (Ben Cooper), Teresa Ganzel (Samantha Keating), Jean Smart (Shari), Joel Brooks (Barney Baker), Tim Reid (Michael Horn), Steve Ryan (Spud LaBoone).

8118 Teacher's Pet. (Pilot; Cartoon; ABC; 9/8/73). The pilot film for Mission Magic about a beautiful grade school teacher (Miss Tickle) who uses her magical abilities to help good defeat evil. In the pilot episode, broadcast on The Brady Kids, Miss Tickle and the Bradys travel to Africa to find her pet cat, Tut Tut, whom the Bradys magical myna bird, Marlon, has changed into a hippopotamus that meows.

8119 Teacher's Pet. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 2001). Leonard Amadeus Helperman is a nine-year-old boy with a talking dog named Spot. Spot is envious of Leonard because he is able to do great things like attend school. To become like Leonard and attend school, Spot disguises himself as a boy and calls himself Scott Leadready II. Spot, as Scott enters the fourth grade. Stories follow Scott as his brilliance makes him teacher's pet and his efforts to be a kid while at the same time keeping secret the fact that he is a dog.

Voice Cast: Nathan Lane (Scott Leadready II), Kevin Schon (Scott Leadready II; later), Shaun Fleming (Leonard Amadeus Helperman), Debra Jo Rupp (Mary Lou Helperman), Jerry Stiller (Pretty Boy), David Ogden Stiers (Mr. Jolly), Wallace Shawn (Principal Crosby Strickler), Mae Whitman (Leslie Dunkling), Rob Paulsen (Ian Wazselewski).

8120 Team Knight Rider. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1997–1998). Following Michael Knight's retirement from the Foundation for Law and Government (see Knight Rider), a new team of operatives is formed called Team Knight Rider, which consists of five operatives and five special, talking cars.

Kyle Stewart leads the team. He commands a car called Dante. Jenny Andrews rides in a car named Domino. Erica West has a motorcycle named Kat. Duke DePalma rides in a car called Beast and Kevin "Trek" Sanders has a motorcycle named Plato. The team is based in Sky One, a large cargo plane that serves as their mobile headquarters (to be ready at a moment's notice to help any city or town that requires their assistance). They are guided by the sexy female voice of a computer called both Sky and Sky One. It now takes five operatives and five cars to do what Michael and his car, KITT, previously did.

Kyle is a former CIA operative who was called America's James Bond (he was sent to the world's hot spots and performed near-impossible missions successfully). His career came to an abrupt end when his cover was blown behind enemy lines. He was then hired by the government to head TKR (Team Knight Rider). Because of the risks he once took, he now looks at life in a different way. He worries about the safety of his team, the moral issues of an assignment and the state of the world in which he lives.

Jenny is a beautiful but tough ex-Marine sergeant. She is an excellent gymnast and martial arts expert. She was raised in a military family. Her father was a general and her five brothers are all pursuing military careers in various branches of the service. Jenny fought in the Gulf War, received many accommodations and is obsessed with war games. Jenny is very cautious when it comes to her personal life and rarely shows her soft, feminine side (her teammates call her "Xena, Warrior Princess"). Jenny is focused, driven and efficient and the one Kyle worries about the most (fearing that her enthusiasm could get her killed).

Erica is a beautiful blonde with a mysterious and mostly unknown past (Kyle is not even sure if Erica West is her real name). Erica is a smooth talking con artist who can manipulate people into giving her exactly what she wants. It was revealed that during one scam, Erica made a mistake and was apprehended. She was tried, convicted and spent three years in prison before she was released to the Foundation for Law and Government on condition that she use her talents as part of TKR.

Duke was born in Chicago and fought his way out of the slums to become a small time boxer, then a police officer. His enthusiasm for pursuing justice was also his downfall: He was suspended for breaking too many rules in his attempt to apprehend a mobster. These actions brought him to the attention of TKR, who required an agent who was in touch with the common man (Duke's cop-on-the-beat experience makes him the only team member who possesses this quality). While he appears tough, Duke's actions are slow and thought out (he never rushes head first into anything).

Kevin, nicknamed "Trek" for his obsession with Star Trek is a scientific genius with an I.Q. of 200. At the age of 12 he graduated from M.I.T. and immediately went to work for a think tank in Washington. He soon tired of this and put his genius to work developing new technologies and selling them on the open market. By the time he was 20, he was a multi-millionaire; the following year he was broke. Making money soon became a game with him: invent something, make a fortune, lose it, invent something else. TKR intrigued him and he offered them his services.

Dante, Kyle's car, is a Ford Expedition Sport Utility Vehicle. It is also the self-appointed leader of the team's vehicles (acts as a liaison between the human team members and their cars). Dante has a dry, sarcastic sense of humor and makes sure that the needs of the other vehicles are met.

Jenny's car, Domino, is a Ford Mustang GT convertible. Domino is just the opposite of Jenny. She is somewhat vocal and flirts with any cute guy she sees (usually confusing the man, as he assumes it is Jenny). Domino "just wants to be one of the girls" and feels she has "a hot body and smooth curves." She helps Jenny with her energy blast weapons.

Kat, Erica's motorcycle, is a by-the-books vehicle. She acts more like Erica's mother than her partner (she makes Erica aware of road rules and regulations). Despite her safety conscious computer chips, Kat hopes to avoid damage to herself and property to get Erica where she has to be. Kat has a twin motorcycle named Plato, which is ridden by Trek (the cycles can merge to form a high pursuit vehicle). Plato is not only a motorcycle, but Trek's best friend. Plato is highly intelligent and an expert on pop culture and entertainment trivia.

Beast, also called Attack Beast, is Duke's Ford F-150 truck. It has a bit of an attitude, a gruff voice and is sometimes hostile. Beast is sent in to do the hard work (like crashing through walls). He doesn't like to be told what to do and will only listen to Jenny (whose voice softens him).

Cast: Brixton Karnes (Kyle Stewart), Christine Steele (Jenny Andrews), Kathy Tragester (Erica West), Duane Davis (Duke DePalma), Nick Wechsler (Trek Sanders), Linda McCullough (Sky One Voice), Tom Kane (Voice of Dante), Nia Valdaros (Voice of Domino), Andrea Beutner (Voice of Kat), Kerrigan Mahan (Voice of Beast), John Kissir (Voice of Plato).

8121 The Ted Bessell Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/8/73). Ted Harper is an editor for With It magazine. He is married (to Diane) but sorely tempted by all the beautiful girls in his office. The unsold series was to relate his misadventures as he struggles to remain faithful to Diane. In the pilot episode, Ted encounters trouble when he suggests to his home-loving wife that there should be more freedom in their marriage. Other Regulars: Barney, Margaret and Amy, magazine staffers.

Cast: Ted Bessell (Ted Harper), Lee Grant (Diane Harper), Robert Walden (Barney Raider), Beth Howland (Margaret), Karen Jensen (Amy).

8122 The Ted Knight Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1978). With a dream of starting his own escort service, Roger Dennis convinces his wealthy brother, Burt Dennis, to finance the business. In return, Roger agrees to repay the loan and hire Dottie, Burt's cranky and inefficient sister-in-law, as his secretary.

From his apartment at 136 East 46th Street in Manhattan, Roger operates his business—the Mr. Dennis Escort Service (telephone 555-DATE). In addition to his son, Winston, who attends NYU, Roger's "family" is made up of the alluring girls who work for him and make the agency successful: the sweet but zany Graziella, the shy Irma, the flirtatious Honey, sexy Cheryl, the beautiful Philadelphia ("Phil") Brown and the sweet and adoring Joy.

The agency's slogan is "We never let a client down." Claude Stroud had a recurring role as Hobart Nalven, the elderly mailman. Michael Leonard composed the theme.

Cast: Ted Knight (Roger Dennis), Iris Adrian (Dottie), Normann Burton (Bert Dennis), Thomas Leopold (Winston Dennis), Deborah Harmon (Joy), Cissy Colpitts (Graziella), Ellen Regan (Irma), Janice Kent (Cheryl), Tanya Boyd (Philadelphia Brown), Fawne Harriman (Honey), Claude Stroud (Hobart Nalven).

8123 Ted Mack and the Original Amateur Hour. (Series; Variety; DuMont; NBC; ABC; CBS; 1948–1970). Performances by undiscovered talent. Adapted from the radio series Major Bowes and His Original Amateur Hour. The series ran on DuMont from January 18, 1948 to September 25, 1949; NBC from October 4, 1949 to September 11, 1954; ABC from October 30, 1955 to June 23, 1957; CBS from May 1, 1959 to October 9, 1959; ABC from March 7, 1960 to September 26, 1960; and on CBS from October 2, 1960 to September 27, 1970.

Host: Ted Mack. Announcer: Dennis James, Roy Greece. Orchestra: Lloyd Marx.

8124 Ted Mack's Family Hour. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951). A Sunday evening program of music, songs and comedy that ran from January 7, 1951 to November 25, 1951.

Host: Ted Mack. Announcer: Dennis James. Orchestra: Lloyd Marx.

8125 Ted Mack's Matinee. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955). A daily program of music and songs aimed at the housewife. The series ran from April 4, 1955 to October 28, 1955.

Host: Ted Mack. Regulars: Elsie Rhodes, Dick Lee and the Honeydreamers. Orchestra: Lloyd Marx.

8126 The Ted Steele Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; DuMont; CBS; 1948–1950). Music and songs hosted by bandleader Ted Steele. The series ran on NBC from September 29, 1948 to October 29, 1948; DuMont from February 27, 1949 to July 12, 1949; and on CBS from June 6, 1949 to April 28, 1950.

Host: Ted Steele. Regulars: Helen Wood, Michael Rich, Nola Day, Marci Bryant, Charles Danford. Orchestra: Ted Steele.

8127 Teech. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1991). David Gibson, called Teech, is an African-American music teacher at Winthrop Academy, an all-white boys boarding school in Philadelphia. The school is populated by 200 boys, a select few of whom delight in causing mischief—like putting Teech to the test. Stories follow Teech as he attempts to fit in to his new environment, having previously worked at a tough South Philly school, and deal with the antics of Boyd, Kenny, George and Alby, the principal trouble-making students.

Other Regulars: Cassie Lee, the assistant headmaster; Teech's Uncle Isaac; and Alfred W. Litton, the headmaster.

Cast: Phill Lewis (David "Teech" Gibson), Maggie Han (Cassie Lee), B.B. King (Uncle Isaac), Steve Gilborn (Alfred W. Litton), Curnal Aulision (Boyd Askeew), Jason Kristofer (Alby Nichols), Joshua Hoffman (Kenny Freedman). Theme Vocal: B.B. King.

8128 Teen Angel. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1997–1998). Marty DePolo and Steven Beauchamp are teenagers who are also best friends. One day, while hanging out in Steven's bedroom, Marty finds an eight-month-old hamburger under Marty's bed. Steve dares Marty to take a bite. He does, gets food poisoning and dies.

Marty is sent to limbo. His past deeds on earth have made him ineligible to become an angel. Rod, the head angel (and God's cousin) allows Marty to return to earth to help his friend Steve and prove himself worthy of entering Heaven. Stories follow Marty as he tries to guide Steve's life.

Marty only appears (and only can be seen by) Steve. While Marty is supposedly Steve's Guardian Angel, he can be reached on the Internet at www.marty.angel.cooldude.com. Other Regulars: Judy, Steve's mother; and Katie, Steve's sister.

Cast: Mike Damus (Marty DePolo), Corbin Allred (Steve Beauchamp), Maureen McCormick (Judy Beauchamp), Katie Volding (Katie Beauchamp), Tommy Hinkley (Casey Beauchamp), Ron Glass (Head Angel Rod), Conchata Ferrell (Pam), Jordan Brower (Jordan Lubell).

8129 Teen Canteen. (Live Test Program; Variety; ABC; 5/1/46). A program designed to spotlight teenagers by visiting them on location at canteens (clubs that are integrated in community activities and provide inexpensive entertainment for teenagers). The Scotia Canteen in Schenectady, New York, was the setting for the test, but an unsociable group of teenagers made it a difficult telecast (the boys were seen in the game room while the girls danced the jitterbug with each other). The host remedied the situation, but by forcing the boys to dance with the girls spontaneity was lost.

Host: Kathleen "Kathi" Norris. Note: In July of 1948, a local New York television station (WPIX) aired a series based on this format called Teen Canteen with Kathi Norris as the host.

8130 Teen Time Tunes. (Series; Variety; Dumont; 1949). Musician Al Logan hosts a program of popular music aimed at teenagers. The Al Logan Trio provides the music.

The teens do not attend school and live together in Titan Tower (a building shaped like a T). Starfire is the peacekeeper of the group and has a power called Star Bolts (discharges energy blasts from her hands); Raven is a telekinetic who also has the ability of tele-transportation and the ability to stop time; Robin, the former Boy Wonder (to Batman), is the group's leader (he has no super powers and relies on his wits and training with Batman to fight evil); Cyborg, a scientific robot, has enhanced vision and built-in weapons (such as a laser cannon); Beast Boy has the ability to morph into any animal (he is also a prankster and rarely takes anything that is said seriously).

Voice Cast: Hynden Walch (Starfire), Tara Strong (Raven), Scott Menville (Robin), Khary Payton (Cyborg), Greg Cipes (Beast Boy), Ron Perlman (Slade).

8132 Teen Win, Lose or Draw. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1989). A young adult version of Win, Lose or Draw. Two three-member teams (two celebrities and one contestant) compete. One member of each team receives a secret phrase (name or saying) and must convey it to his team by drawing clues to its identity. Each correct identification scores money. Each member of each team receives a chance at drawing and the team with the highest cash score is the winner.

Host: Marc Price.

8133 Teen Wolf. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1986–1989). An animated adaptation of the theatrical film of the same title that follows the life of Scott Howard, a seemingly ordinary teenager who suffers from one slight disorder: he (and his family) become (good) werewolves under a full moon.

Voice Cast: Coleman Townsend (Scott Howard), Sheryl Bernstein (Frieda), Jeannie Elias (Boof), Donny Most (Stiles), James Hampton (Harold Howard), June Foray (Grandma), Stacy Keach, Sr. (Grandpa), Craig Schafer (Mick), Will Ryan (Chuck).

8134 Teenage Idol. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/8/58). A proposed spin-off from Mr. Adams and Eve about Swivelhips Jackson, a rock and roll singer who becomes America's newest teenage sensation. In the pilot episode, Howard and Eve Adams, a famous acting couple, attempt to help their housekeeper's nephew, Walter, impress a girl (Joanie) who has eyes only for Swivelhips.

Cast: Darrell Howe (Swivelhips Jackson). Guest Cast: Patrick Wayne (Walter), Carolyn Craig (Joanie), Howard Duff (Howard Adams), Ida Lupino (Eve Adams), Olive Carey (Elsie).

8135 Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1987). Homato Yoshi is a Japanese man who has been banished from his country by his arch enemy, Shredder, and now lives in the sewers below New York City. One day, four abandoned turtles fall through a sidewalk grate and into the sewers below. They are found and cared for by Yoshi. Shortly after, a strange green glow emitting from the sewers, transforms Yoshi into a rat (now called Master Splinter) and the turtles human-like creatures (Michelangelo, Raphael, Leonardo and Donatello). Master Splinter, a ninja champion, teaches the turtles martial arts skills in the hope that they will help battle Shredder when he feels the time is right. Stories follow the Ninja Turtles as they battle not only shredder but also other villains (such as Krang, Leatherhead, Don Turtelli and Rat King). April O'Neil, a television reporter for WRTL-TV, Channel 6, assists the Turtles, who strike at night, in the above ground world. The Turtles love pizza and "Cowabunga" is their favorite expression. See also the following two titles and Ninja Turtles: The Next Mutation.

8136 Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2003). A revised version of the prior title that follows the same basic format: four abandoned turtles that have fallen into the sewers of New York City are transformed in human-like creatures (Michelangelo, Donatello, Raphael and Leonardo) by an unknown green substance. Master Splinter, a former Japanese man who was also exposed to the green substance and transformed into a rat, befriends them. Master Splinter is a ninja master and teaches the turtles the martial arts. From this point on, the series differs in that the Turtles take to the streets of New York during the day (as opposed to only striking at night) to battle evil, the most notorious being Shredder, Master Splinter's arch enemy. See also Ninja Turtles: The Next Mutation and the following title.

Voice Cast: Darren Dunstan (Master Splinter), Townsend Coleman (Michelangelo), Michael Sinterniklaas (Leonardo), Sam Regal (Donatello), Frank Frankson (Raphael), Scott Williams (Baxter Stockman), Karen Neil (Karai), Marc Thompson (Casey Jones).

8137 Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles: Fast Forward. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2006). A futuristic version of The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles that features the four human-like crime fighters in the year 2105. Michelangelo, Donatello, Leonardo and Raphael and their mentor, Master Splinter, are propelled to a future New York City when their friend, Cody, a scientific genius, invents a time machine that malfunctions and strands the group in the future — a future, like the past, that is filled with evil beings. Stories relate Cody's efforts to repair the time machine while the Ninja Turtles, who have established themselves as heroes, battle whatever evil threatens the city.

Voice Cast: Wayne Grayson (Michelangelo), Michael Sinterniklaas (Leonardo), Sam Riegel (Donatello), Frank Frankson (Raphael), Darren Dunstan (Master Splinter), Pete Capella (Cody Jones), Sean Schemmel (Constable Biggles), Marc Thompson (Serling).

8138 Tek War. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1994–1996). A television adaptation of the Tek novels by actor William Shatner. In the year 2044, a highly addictive drug called Tek gives its users an all new high — a virtual reality fantasy world. But it also creates a new breed of ruthless criminal. A mysterious man named Walter Bascom has begun a battle to stop the drug. His chief operative is Jake Cardigan, a former cop who was jailed on false charges. Jake is assisted (first season) by Sid Gomez and (second season) by Samantha “Sam” Houston. Stories follow their efforts to stop the spread of Tek and deal with the criminal elements that result as users become hooked. Nika is the computer whiz that assists Walter.

Cast: Greg Evigan (Jake Cardigan), William Shatner (Walter H. Bascom), Maria del Mar (Sam Houston), Eugene Clark (Sid Gomez), Natalie Radford (Nika), Torri Higginson (Beth Kittridge), Christian Campbell (Danny Cardigan), Dana Brooks (Shelley Groul), Maurice Dean Wint (Lieutenant Winger).

8139 Teknoman. (Series; Cartoon; UPN; 1995–1996). It is the later part of the 21st century when the Venomoid Warlord, Darkon, has begun an invasion of the Earth. The planets defenders, the warrior Space Knights, are unable to defeat Darkon's soldiers (mutant Spidercrabs) and the fate mankind seems doomed. Then, suddenly, an alien space ship is caught in the crossfire, crashes on Earth and explodes. From the rubble a being (Blade) suffering from amnesia, appears. He possesses a Tekno crystal that gives him the ability to transform himself into a mighty armored warrior called Teknoman — Earth's last hope for survival. Stories follow Teknoman's battle against Darkon's deadly Spidercrabs.

Voice Cast: David Thomas (Blade/Teknoman Blade), Simon Prescott (Darkon), Richard Epcar (Teknoman Axel/Mac McKelroy), Jane Alan (Maggie Matheson), Paul Schrier (Teknoman Saber/Cain Carter), Wendee Lee (Shara Carter), Melodee Spevack (Teknoman Sword/Catherine), Mike Reynolds (General Xerxes Galt), Bob Bergen (Teknoman Slade/Ness Carter).

8140 Tele Pun. (Series; Game; NBC; 1948). A player, standing before the studio audience, performs a pun, which represents geographical locations, songs, people, proverbs or titles through charades to their satisfaction. If he is successful, he receives a prize. However, should he make a mistake, he is charged with “punning in public places” and arrested. The player is then comically defended by an attorney. When the judge dismisses the case, the player receives a consolation prize and the crime, “the errant pun,” is performed in the correct manner. The summer series ran from July 9, 1948 to August 6, 1948.

Host-Judge: Johnny Bradford. Announcer-Attorney: Ray Michael.

8141 Tele Tales for Children. (Live Test Program; Children; ABC; 9/21/45). A television version of the radio series, The Singing Lady that presents songs and stories for children. In the test program, the story of “The Three Little Pigs” is told to a studio audience of children. The program is produced by Paul Mowrey and written by Ireene Wicker. Babette Henry, one of the industry's earliest female directors, directs the program.

Host-Storyteller: Ireene Wicker.

8142 Tele Tips on Loveliness. (Live Test Program; Women; ABC; 8/15/46). A proposed series of beauty tips and fashion advice for women. Leona Woodworth, a beauty expert and former associate of Max Factor in Hollywood, demonstrates her techniques via live models and on charts. Her guest, Mary Kelly, from the Millinery Fashion Bureau, displayed the latest in hat fashions.

8143 Tele Varieties. (Live Test Program; Variety; NBC; 12/8/46). A proposed series of performances by new talent discoveries. Wes McKee is the producer.

Host: Tommy Farrell. Regulars: Betty Barto, Ann Crowley, Herb Howard.

8144 The Telecomics. (Series; Cartoon; Syn; NBC; 1949–1951). A series of non-animated cartoon strips that are viewed and narrated panel by panel. Also known as The NBC Comics. The strips are:

Danny March is the story of the personal secretary to the mayor of Metro City. Johnny and Mr. Do-Right relates adventures shared by a young boy and his dog. Kid Champion is the story of Eddie Hale, a budding musician who relinquishes his dream to become a boxer to please his father, who has only a short time to live. Space Barton tells the story of Horace “Space” Barton, Jr., a pilot with the Army Air Corps during World War II.

These segments comprised the network version (which ran from September 18, 1950 to March 30, 1951). The syndicated version (1949–1950) consists of the adventures of Brother Goose, Joey and Jug, Rick Rack, Special Agent and Su Lab. Both versions consist of four three-minute episodes per program.

Voices: Bob Bruce, Pat McGeehan, Howard McNear, Lurene Tuttle.

8145 Telephone Time. (Series; Anthology; CBS; ABC; 1956–1958). Historical dramatizations featuring well-known stars and quality productions. It ran on CBS from April 8, 1956 to March 3, 1957; and on ABC from June 4, 1957 to April 1, 1958.

Host: John Nesbitt, Dr. Frank Baxter. Performers Include: Beverly Washburn, Lon Chaney, Jr., Robert Vaughn, Johnny Crawford, Alan Baxter, Dennis Morgan, William Schallert, Robert Sterling, Anne Jeffreys, Henry Daniell, Beverly Garland, Walter Winchell, Dame Judith Anderson, Stephen McNally, Boris Karloff, Kathleen Nolan, Rita Lynn, Walter Slezak, Patrick McVey, Tom Tully, Edgar Buchanan, Greer Garson, George Tobias.

8146 Tele-Players. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1949). One of ABC’s earliest ventures into the field of dramatic programming. The program, filmed in Chicago, presents average stories (a mix of comedy and drama) featuring mostly Chicago-based actors and actresses. The program is hosted by Donald Gallagher and is also known as ABC Television Players, ABC Penthouse Players and ABC Tele-Players.

8147 Teletubbies. (Series; Children; PBS; 1998–2001). Teletubbyland is a fantasy-like world where strange but kind and loveable creatures called Teletubbies live. Teletubbies are mid height, of various colors and each has a television monitor in their stomachs (through which they view and show various aspects of the human world to children). Each day appears to be a summer day in Teletubbyland and each day the sun (seen as a cute baby) awakens the Teletubbies so they can explore their land and learn about life.

The featured Teletubbies are Tinky Winky, Dipsy, Po and Laa-Laa. Tinky Winky is purple and the largest of the Teletubbies (he has a triangle antenna on his head for TV reception). Dipsy is green and has a dipstick antenna on his head; Po, the smallest Teletubbie, is red with an “o” shaped antenna. Laa-Laa is a female. She is yellow and has a spiral antenna. The series, which produced 211 episodes, was produced in England and aired in the U.S. on PBS from April 1, 1998 to January 5, 2001.

Cast: Dave Thompson (Tinky Winky), Mark Thompson (Tinky Winky), Simon Shelton (Tinky Winky), John Simmit (Dipsy), Pui Fan Lee (Po), Nikky Smedley (Laa-Laa), Jessica Smith (Sun Baby), John Schwab (Trumpet voice), Sandra Dickinson (Trumpet voice). Additional Voices: Alex Pascall, Rudolph Walker, Toyah Willcox, Eric Sykes. Narrator: Tim Whitnall, Rolf Saxon.

8148 Television Canteen. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 1/30/44). A program of variety acts: songs by Jane Martin, Norma Ferris and Emily Remmson; ballerina dancing by Lorraine; Hawaiian dancing from Rose Bartholomew; comedy from Bernie West and Blanche Fellows; a jitterbug routine by Madeline Lee and Bill Corf; accordion music by Lou Kleinmann; and a dramatic skit called “The Pearls” with Jane Blair and Del Hughes. Ernest D. Glucksman, Bud Gamble and Jay Strong were the producers.

8149 Television Fashion Fair. (Live Test Program; Women; DuMont; 12/15/46). A proposed series of fashions and fashion news with the Conover Cover Girls. Raymond E. Nelson produces the program.

Host: Florence Pritchett.

8150 Television Inside and Out. (Series; Magazine; NBC; 1981–1982). A weekly look at the television industry via interviews, investigative reporting and nostalgic clips.

Hostess: Rona Barrett. Regulars: Sylvester “Pat” Weaver, Wil Shriner, Gary Deeb. Announcer: Tom Campbell.

8151 Television Roof. (Experimental Series; Variety; DuMont; 9/38). The DuMont Network’s earliest experimental variety series that featured performances by top name personalities at a time when only three hundred television sets were in existence. Dr. Alan B. DuMont produces the program.

Host: Dennis James.

8152 Television Screen Magazine. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1946–1949). A very early magazine series of various features, including music, interviews, chatter and songs. It aired from November 17, 1946 to July 23, 1949.

Host: George Putnam. Regulars: Millicent Fenwick, Ray Forrest, Alan Scott, John K.M. McCaffrey, Bill Berns.

8153 Tell It to Groucho. (Series; Game; CBS; 1962). Two contestants are first comically interviewed by host Groucho Marx then compete in a quiz wherein they attempt to identify persons, places or objects from pictures that are rapidly flashed on a screen. A player's earnings are based on the number of correct identifications he has made. The series, a slightly revised version of Groucho's You Bet Your Life aired from January 11, 1962 to May 31, 1962.

Host: Groucho Marx. Assistants: Patty Harmon, Jack Wheels. Announcer: George Fenneman.

8154 Tell It to the Camera. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1962). An extension (but direct opposite series) based on Allen Funt's Candid Camera. People, who are aware of a camera, speak directly into it and reveal their thoughts concerning themselves or worldly affairs. It ran from January 11, 1962 to May 24, 1962.

Host: Red Rowe. Creator: Allen Funt.

8155 Tell Me, Dr. Brothers. (Series; Women; Syn.; 1964). Frank discussions (although limited by its five-minute structure) of everyday problems with psychologist Dr. Joyce Brothers as the host.

8156 Tell Me You Love Me. (Series; Drama; HBO; 2007). In the simplest of terms, Tell Me You Love Me explores intimacy as seen through the eyes of three couples and their therapist (Dr. May Foster) who helps them navigate the way.

In describing content, it's the couples performing sexual acts wherever and whenever the opportunity permits. May is married to Arthur. There are also many scenes that show the couples totally nude, including series star Jane Alexander. It is the most sexually graphic series ever produced for American television and places the viewer in a situation where the smut of Times Square (the porn theaters) is brought right into their living rooms. While not explicit enough for a theatrical "X" rating, there are enough sexual acts and unclothed skin to give it an "R" rating. The series could have been done in less graphic detail as it attempts to show the psychological problems the couples are facing as they struggle to make their marriages (or soon-to-be marriages) work. Jamie and Hugo are a couple in their twenties; Carolyn and Palek represent a couple in their thirties; and Katie and David are a couple in their forties.

Cast: Jane Alexander (Dr. May Foster), Ally Walker (Katie), Tim DeKay (David), Michelle Borth

(Jaime), Luke Farrell Kirby (Hugo), Sonja Walger (Carolyn), Adam Scott (Palek), David Selby (Arthur Foster).

8157 The Teller and the Tale. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 10/85). A proposed series that was to feature guests telling their favorite stories. In the pilot episode, Hans Holzer, Vincent Price and Jackie Torrance spin Halloween tales.

Host: Sally Struthers.

8158 Teller of Tales. (Series; Anthology; CBS; NBC; 1950–1951). Dramatizations based on stories by author William Somerset Maugham. Also known as The Somerset Maugham Theater. It ran on CBS from October 18, 1950 to March 28, 1951, and on NBC from April 2, 1951 to December 10, 1951.

Host: William Somerset Maugham. Performers Include: Bonita Granville, Eddie Albert, Joan Bennett, Peggy McCay, Susan Douglas, Constance Bennett, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Richard Greene, Betty Field, Murray Matheson, Alfred Ryder, June Havoc, Veronica Lake, Martha Scott, Jessica Tandy, Adrienne Allen, Chester Stratton, Joan Chandler.

8159 The Telltale Clue. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1954). Richard Hale is a detective lieutenant with the Metropolitan Homicide Division of the New York City Police Department. Richard is not a man who employs violence; he rather use his brains than his fists. Stories follow him as he attempts to solve crimes through one seemingly insignificant piece of evidence: The Telltale Clue. The summer series ran from July 8, 1954 to September 23, 1954.

Cast: Anthony Ross (Richard Hale).

8160 Temperatures Rising. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1972–1973). A comical portrait of life in a hospital as seen through the eyes and antics of Jerry Noland, a doctor assigned to Capitol General Hospital in Washington, D.C. The gambling-inclined intern, with his cohorts Nurses Ann Carlisle, Mildred MacInerney and Ellen Turner, struggles to help patients who are in need of financial assistance. See also The New Temperatures Rising Show. Dr. Vincent Campanelli is the chief of surgery; Miss Llewellen is his secretary.

Cast: James Whitmore (Dr. Vincent Campanelli), Cleavon Little (Dr. Jerry Noland), Joan Van Ark (Nurse Ann Carlisle), Reva Rose (Nurse Mildred MacInerney), Nancy Fox (Nurse Ellen Turner), Olive Dunbar (Miss Llewellen).

8161 Tempestt. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1995). Actress Tempestt Bledsoe (Vanessa on The Cosby Show) hosts a daily talk fest that features themed programs geared to young adults as well as news oriented segments.

8162 Temple Houston. (Series; Western; NBC; 1963–1964). Temple Houston is a circuit-riding attorney of the post-Civil War southwest. George Taggart, an ex-gunfighter turned law enforcer, is his partner. Stories relate their experiences to defend unjustly accused people before circuit-riding judges (Temple with his knowledge of the law; George, with his guns, if necessary, to ensure that justice is served). See also The Man from Galveston for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Jeffrey Hunter (Temple Houston), Jack Elam (George Taggart). Theme: “Temple Houston” by Frank Comstock, Ned Washington.

8163 Temporarily Yours. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1997). Deborah DeAngelo (called Deb) is a street-smart Brooklyn (New York) gal who works as a temp girl at Temporarily Yours, an Upper East Side of Manhattan employment agency. Deb is a bit brass and although not the type of girl her snooty boss Joan Silver would like in her employ, Deb does serve a purpose — tackling the odd and difficult jobs that nobody else wants (Joan also hopes the jobs will discourage her and make her quit). Stories follow Deb as she tackles unpleasant jobs in her unique way that always make her come out on top. David is Joan’s son; Anne Marie is Deb’s sister; Caesar is their friend.

Cast: Debi Mazer (Deb DeAngelo), Joanna Gleason (Joan Silver), Seth Green (David Silver), Nancy Cassaro (Anne Marie), Saverio Guerra (Caesar Santos).

8164 Temptation. (Series; Game; ABC; 1967–1968). Each of the three female contestants who competes chooses a merchandise showcase that is displayed on stage. The players must attempt to identify the contents of the showcase by asking indirect questions of the host. After several questions, the host tempts the player to forfeit her showcase by offering her expensive merchandise items. The first player to identify the contents of her showcase is the winner and receives the articles it contains.

Host: Art James.

8165 Temptation Island. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2001–2003). Temptation Island is an exotic locale where four unmarried couples are brought and introduced to twenty-six single people. The program sets out to test the fidelity of the four couple’s relationship. As the couples meet with the singles and get to know one another, temptation sets in. Is the person he or she seeing the right person? The program shows how disloyal people are as the couples slowly break up for new mates.

Host: Mark L. Walberg.

8166 10-8: Officers on Duty. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2003–2004). Ten-Eight is the Los Angeles Sheriff’s Department code for deputies and sheriffs who are patrolling the streets. Principal focus is on the officers attached to the Lasky Station in Los Angeles: Chief Deputy John Henry Brown and his rookie partner, Deputy Rico Amonte; Senior Deputy Ryan Layne and her rookie partner, Deputy Matt Jablonski; and Senior Deputy Chase Williams and his rookie partner, Deputy Gabriela Lopez. Otis Briggs is their captain.

Rico, the series narrator, was born in Flatbush, Brooklyn, New York. He grew up in a tough neighborhood and was headed for a life of trouble until his brother, an L.A.P.D. detective, changed his life by bringing him to California to become a police officer. Rico is 28 years old when the series begins and lives at 46873 Ocean Walk Drive in Venice, California. He believes “bad guys make good cops and all good cops make bad guys.”

John Henry Barnes is a tough training officer who cares about his rookies — “Why I’m tough on them.” He has been married to Gina, a lawyer, for 24 years, and is the father of Maya, a 15-year-old girl who is just “discovering boys” and presenting the “she’s no longer my little girl” anxieties in him. John and Rico ride in car 789 and 21-Adam is their car code. He and Rico, as well as the other officers, hang out at Fontana’s, a bar-restaurant.

Ryan Layne and Matt Jablonski have the car code 23-Adam. Ryan appears to be one of the few female officers attached to the department. She is tough on her partner (whom she calls “Jabba” under her breath) but not as strict as Barnes. Ryan’s appearance in a red bra in the women’s locker room could be considered the series sexiest moment as the episodes are focused on the daily crime fighting activities of the police officers. Matt’s past is marred by a tragic event — the death of he and his wife’s child two weeks after her birth due to a bad heart. Matt and his wife couldn’t handle the grief and it caused them to divorce shortly after.

Chase Williams and Gabriela Lopez have the car code 22-Adam. Gabby, as Chase calls her, was a gang member as a teenager. She grew up on the streets but needed a place to feel safe. She wanted to make a difference and quitting the gang and becoming a police officer was her way to help others, especially girls who are gang members. Chase is a law school dropout. He plays strictly by the books and is hard on Gabby — especially if she does something that isn’t his way. Tension between officers is seen only between Chase and Gabby.

Cast: Danny Nucci (Rico Amonte), Ernie Hudson (John Henry Barnes), Jamie Luner (Ryan Layne), Scott William Winters (Matt Jablonski), Christina Vidal (Gabriela Lopez), Miguel Sandoval (Otis Briggs), Vanessa Bell Calloway (Gina Barnes), Monique Coleman (Maya Barnes).

8167 10 Items or Less. (Series; Comedy; TBS; 2006). Leslie Poole is a young man with a mission: save his family business, the Green and Grains Grocery Store, a 50-year-old food store that is facing stiff competition from supermarkets. The store was founded by his father, Bud, and stories which have improvised dialogue (although based on a plot outline) follows Leslie as he attempts to run the store and cope with a group of hapless employees.

8168 Ten Speed and Brown Shoe. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1980). The Lionel Whitney Agency, also called Whitney Investigations, is a Los Angeles-based private investigation organization owned by Lionel Whitney and his partner, E.L. Turner.

Lionel previously worked as a stockbroker for a company called Grey, Johnson and Smith. He was all work and no play, had few pleasures in life but found adventure by reading private detective books called A Mark Savage Mystery by Stephen J. Cannell (the show's producer). Lionel is a graduate of Pomona College where he had the nickname "Bunky" and was a member of the Pistol Range Club.

E.L. is an ingenious, streetwise con artist. E.L., nicknamed Tenspeed for his ability to move fast especially from endangering situations, claims the E.L. stands for Early LeRoy; he was born in the taxi cab that was taking his mother to the hospital. E.L. studied law at Yale but was expelled after two years for rigging student elections and skipping off to Tijuana with the funds.

E.L. feels Lionel is too uptight and calls him Brown Shoe — a guy in a three piece suit with brown shoes; a square, a Dow Jones. It was a con by E.L. that brought him and Whitney together. At San Francisco International Airport, a plan by E.L. to heist gangland money backfires. He uses Lionel as a pawn to smuggle the money into Los Angeles. The ensuing adventure, as they try to elude mobsters and help the police collar a crime boss, instills Lionel with a sense of excitement that he thought he could only get from reading books. Although he was up for a promotion as head of institutional sales, Lionel quit to open the agency with E.L. Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed "The Theme from Ten Speed and Brown Shoe."

Cast: Jeff Goldblum (Lionel Whitney), Ben Vereen (E.L. Turner).

8169 The $10,000 Pyramid. (Series; Game; CBS; ABC; 1973–1976). Two teams compete, each composed of one celebrity and one non-celebrity contestant. One team chooses a subject from six that are displayed on stage (for example, "Keep Going"). A question is then read that states its purpose ("Describe things that go from one place to another").

Through one-word clues, the player has to relate the meaning of six such words to his partner. One point is awarded for each correct identification. The highest scoring player after three rounds is the winner and receives a chance to play the $10,000 Pyramid. A large pyramid with six subject categories is displayed. Each subject is worth a different money amount (from $50 to $250). The player facing the pyramid relates clues to the identity of each of the subjects. If the player guesses all the categories within 60 seconds, he wins $10,000; if not, he wins the money represented by the subjects he identified. The series ran on CBS from March 26, 1973 to March 29, 1974; and on ABC from May 6, 1974 to November 16, 1976.

Host: Dick Clark. Announcer: Bob Clayton.

8170 Ten Who Dared. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1977). A ten-episode series that recalls the explorations of ten famous explorers. Produced by the BBC. The series, which is seen in Europe as The Explorers, is hosted and narrated by David Attenborough.

Cast: Carlos Ballesteros (Christopher Columbus), Francisco Cordova (Francisco Pizarro), Dennis Burgess (James Cook), Matthias Fuchs (Alexander von Humboldt), Richard Clark (Jedediah Smith), Martin Shaw (Robert Burke), John Bell (William Wells), Sean Lynch (Henry Morton Stanley), Paul Chapman (Charles Doughy), Penelope Lee (Mary Kingsley), Per Theodor Hqugen (Roald Amundsen). Host-Narrator: Anthony Quinn.

8171 Tenaflly. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1973–1974). Harry Tenaflly is a private detective employed by the Los Angeles firm of Hightower Investigations, Incorporated. He is married to Ruth and works closely with Sam Church, a lieutenant with the L.A.P.D. Harry is also the father of Herb and stories follow Harry's investigations into cases that often involve murder. Lorrie is Harry's secretary; Mary is Sam's wife. Six episodes aired as part of The NBC Wednesday Mystery Movie and The NBC Tuesday Mystery Movie.

Cast: James McEachin (Harry Tenaflly), Lillian Lehman (Ruth Tenaflly), Paul Jackson (Herb Tenaflly), David Huddleston (Lt. Sam Church), Mary Ann Gibson (Mary Church), Rosanna Huffman (Lorrie), Ford Rainey (Police Chief Vernon).

8172 Tenko. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1985). The harsh and grueling day-to-day lives of a group of British and Dutch women who are taken prisoner by the Japanese during World War II and placed in a decrepit camp on a hot and desolate island. Produced in Australia.

Cast: Louise Jamison (Blanche Simmons), Ann Bell (Marian Jefferson), Renee Asherson (Sylvia Ashburton), Stephanie Beacham (Rose Millar), Patricia

Lawrence (Sister Ulrico), Stephanie Cole (Beatrice Mason), Jeananne Crowley (Nellie Keene), Claire Oberman (Kate Norris), Emily Bolton (Christina Campbell), Veronica Roberts (Dorothy Bennett), Joanna Hole (Sally Markham), Karrin Foley (Debbie Bowen).

8173 The Tennessee Ernie Ford Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955–1957). Music and songs with country and western singer Tennessee Ernie Ford as the host. The series ran from January 3, 1955 to June 28, 1957.

Host: Tennessee Ernie Ford. Regulars: Molly Bee, Doris Drew, Reginald Gardner, The Voices of Walter Schumann. Announcer: Skip Farrell. Orchestra: Walter Schumann, Jack Fascinato.

8174 The Tennessee Ernie Ford Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1958–1960). A weekly program of music, songs and light comedy with singer Tennessee Ernie Ford as the host. The series ran from October 2, 1958 to July 21, 1960.

Host: Tennessee Ernie Ford. Announcer: Jack Narz. Orchestra: Harry Geller.

8175 The Tennessee Ernie Ford Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1962–1965). Singer Tennessee Ernie Ford has a program of music and songs that ran from April 2, 1962 to March 26, 1965.

Host: Tennessee Ernie Ford. Regulars: Anita Gordon, Dick Noel, Billy Strange. Announcer: Jack Narz. Orchestra: Jack Fascinato.

8176 Tennessee Tuxedo and His Tales. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1963). The overall title for three animated segments.

1. Tennessee Tuxedo. The penguin Tennessee Tuxedo and his friend, Chumley, the walrus, attempt to improve living conditions at the Megapolis Zoo.

2. The King and Odie. Villains Itchy Brother and Biggy Rat plot to oust Leonardo, the king of Bongo Congo.

3. Tutor the Turtle. Tutor is a turtle who becomes what he wishes through the magic of Mr. Wizard, the lizard.

Voice Cast: Don Adams (Tennessee Tuxedo), Bradley Bolke (Chumley), Larry Storch (Phineas J. Woopie), Jackson Beck (King Leonardo), Allen Swift (Odie Colognie), Jackson Beck (Biggy Rat), Allen Swift (Itchy Brother), Allen Swift (Tutor), Frank Milano (Mr. Wizard).

8177 Tequila and Bonetti. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1992). Nico Bonetti is a detective with the South Coast Police Department in California. Angela Garcia is his partner, a very pretty rookie officer. Assisting them is Officer Tequila, a burrito-loving dog who comments on the actions of Nico and Angela as they investigate crimes (heard only by the viewing audience).

Nico is on loan to South Coast from the N.Y.P.D.'s 62nd Precinct in Brooklyn. During an assignment, Nico was faced with a life or death situation: kill or be killed by a 12-year-old girl wielding a gun. Although Nico was exonerated (a justified shooting) he was shattered by the incident. To help him overcome the ordeal, he became part of an exchange program. Nico is divorced from Terry (Elena Stiteler), a former Rockette dancer.

Angela, described as “the best damned rookie that has come through here in years” by her captain, has been assigned to Nico to teach her the ropes. Angela is a widow (her husband, Officer Paulie Garcia, was killed in the line of duty) and the mother of a young daughter named Teresa. Teresa is unaware that her mother is a police officer; she believes Angela works in an art gallery. Angela gave up her job at the gallery to become a cop; she fears telling Teresa the truth at this time because of what happened to Paulie.

Tequila, a brown dog (a French breed called De-Bordeaux) is a graduate of the L.A. Canine Academy. He is not much on looks but he has more busts than most cops — “Tequila will cover your butt better than any cop.” Tequila dreams of French poodles, calls Angela “Sweet Pea,” Nico “B” and crooks “Dirt Bags.”

Captain Midian Knight is their superior. He calls Nico Visiting Detective Bonetti and hates to be called Captain Midnight. He served with the Bravo Company of the Fifth Marines during the Vietnam War. Mike Post composed the theme.

Cast: Jack Scalia (Nico Bonetti), Mariska Hargitay (Angela Garcia), Brad Sanders (Voice of Tequila), Charles Rocket (Capt. Midian Knight), Noley Thornton (Teresa Garcia).

8178 Terraces. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/27/77). The story, set in a luxury, high rise apartment building, depicts the social and sexual entanglements of the people who share adjoining terraces. Incidents in their lives were to be seen through the eyes of the building's doorman, Louis Parizzi.

Cast: Ralph Manza (Louis Parizzi), Julie Newmar (Chalane Turner), Lloyd Bochner (Dr. Roger Cabe), Kit McDonough (Julie Borden), Lola Albright (Doretha Cabe), Eliza Garrett (Beth Loomis), Jane Dulo (Roberta Robbins), Arny Freeman (Martin Robbins), Bill Gerber (Gregg Loomis), Tim Thomerson (Steve), Allan Rich (Vogel).

8179 Terrahawks. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1984). In the year 2020 the planet Earth faces its biggest challenge: battling Martian androids that seek to destroy the human race. A secret organization, the Terrahawks, has been established to battle the androids. They are based at Hawknest in South America and are led by Dr. Tiger Ninestein. He is assisted by Captain Mary Falconer, the pilot of the squad's ship, the Battlehawk; Kate Kestrel, captain of the fighter aircraft, the Hardwing; Lt. Hawkeye, the Hawkwing gunner; Lt. Hiro, commander of the ship Spacehawk. Zelda is the principal villain. She is assisted by Cy-Star, Yung-Star and It-Star. The Supermarionation marionette series relates the Terrahawks efforts to defeat the Martian androids.

Voice Cast: Denise Bryer (Mary Falconer), Windsor Davies (Major Zero), Jeremy Hitchen (Chick King), Anne Ridler (Cy-Star), Ben Stevens (Dix-Huit), Robbie Stevens (Hawkeye). Theme Vocal: "Living in the 21st Century" by Moya Griffiths.

8180 Terror at Alcatraz. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 7/4/82). The pilot film for Fitz and Bones that aired eight months after the series ended. San Francisco is the setting for a story about Ryan Fitzpatrick, an investigative reporter for KSFB-TV, Channel 3, and Bones Howard, his cameraman, as they seek stories. In the pilot episode, the duo attempts to solve the mystery of an attempted assassination of a mob chieftain (Ginelli) and catch a bomber who is crusading for rights for the elderly by blowing up buildings. (The title is derived from a race in which ten thousand people are trying to find a buried capsule on Alcatraz Island containing a Swiss bank account number worth millions of dollars. The island also happens to be the bomber's next target.)

Other Regulars: Terri, the KSFB news director; Lieutenant Rosie Cochran; Robert, the station owner; Lawrence, the rival newsman; Miss Tucker, Terri's secretary; Murphy, the owner of Murphy's Bar; and Charlie, Rosie's assistant.

8181 Terry and the Pirates. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1952–1953). Air Cathay is a small Singapore based cargo airline run by Chopstick Joe. Terry Lee, a former U.S. Air Force colonel, and his partner, Charles C. Charles, better known as "Hot Shot Charlie" and "Chazz," are the airline's pilots. They fly both a DC-3 and a C-47 (two-engine propeller planes). Terry's code to Chopstick Joe is "Flight Lee"; Joe's code for Terry is "Air Cathay Base."

Burma, "the gal who's always around," is Terry's friend, a beautiful freelance reporter (most often for the Affiliated News Service) who finds trouble wherever she goes. Lai Choi San, alias the Dragon Lady, is "the femme fatale of the Far East," an evil Eurasian who has her hand in all the illegal deals. Terry calls her "D.L." (she calls Terry "Golden One"). Hot Shot Charlie calls Chopstick Joe "Chops."

Mari Blanchard played Burma in the pilot episode, and Jack Kruschen was Hot Shot Charlie in the pilot (by the time the series was sold Mari had been signed by Universal Pictures and Jack was busy with other commitments).

Cast: John Baer (Terry Lee), Gloria Saunders (Dragon Lady), Mari Blanchard (Burma; pilot), Sandra Spence (Burma; series), Jack Kruschen (Hot Shot Charlie; pilot), Walter Tracy (Hot Shot Charlie; series), Jack Reitzen (Chopstick Joe).

8182 Tex and Jinx. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1947–1949). A program of music, songs, fashion, cooking and other items of interest to women. The series is also known as The Tex and Jinx Swift Show (when under the sponsorship of Swift Foods, 1948–49). In 1947 (to 1948), when under the sponsorship of Bristol-Myers, the program was titled Bristol-Myers Tele-Varieties.

Hosts: Tex McCrary, Jinx Falkenberg. Vocalists: Helen Carroll and the Escorts. Regulars: Sandra Gable, Martha Logan. Announcer: Dan Seymour. Music: The Johnny Guarneri Quintet.

8183 Texaco Star Theater. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1953). A program of music and outlandish slapstick comedy with Milton Berle, the comedian whose Tuesday night show drastically helped to boost the sale of television sets at a time when the new medium was considered a vast wasteland (and a set was quite expensive); he earned the nickname "Mr. Television." The series, sponsored by Texaco Gasoline, ran from September 21, 1948 to June 9, 1953.

Host: Milton Berle. Regulars: Sid Stone, Arnold Stang, Dolores Gray, Bobby Clark, Ruth Gilbert, Willie Field, The Dunhills, The Merry Texaco Repairmen, The Balicana Ivanko Troupe. Orchestra: Allen Roth. Commercial Spokesman: Jimmy Nelson.

8184 Texaco Star Theater. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1955). Music, songs and comedy with comedian Jimmy Durante as the host. The series, sponsored by Texaco Gasoline, ran from October 2, 1954 to September 24, 1955.

Host: Jimmy Durante. Regulars: Eddie Jackson, Jules Buffano, The Durante Girls. Orchestra: Allen Roth, Roy Bargy.

8185 The Texan. (Series; Western; CBS; ABC; 1958–1962). Texas during the 1870s is the setting. Bill Longley is a gunfighter (known as the Texan) who feels, as he begins to grow older, that it is time to change the course of his life. Bill has never killed out of vengeance or in situations other than self-defense. He never drew first and only faced an opponent when he had no other choice. Now, with years of experience, Bill has decided to use his guns for justice and help people in trouble as he wanders from town to town. The series ran on CBS from September 19, 1958 to September 12, 1960 and on ABC from October 3, 1960 to March 30, 1962.

Cast: Rory Calhoun (Bill Longley), Duncan Lamont (Mac).

8186 Texas. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1980–1982). Events in the lives of the Cookes, Dekkers and Marshalls, three Houston, Texas, oil families. A spin off from Another World; also titled Texas: The New Generation.

8187 Texas John Slaughter. (Series; Western; ABC; 1958–1961). “Texas John Slaughter made ’em do what they oughta, ’cause if they didn’t they die...” was heard in the opening theme of this series, presented as 15 segments of Walt Disney Presents (October 31, 1958 to April 23, 1961). Friertown, Texas, during the 1880s is the setting. John Slaughter is a former Texas Ranger turned sheriff who uses his experiences with the Rangers to maintain law and order. Based on actual incidents in the life of John Slaughter, Civil War officer, trail blazer, cattleman and law enforcer. John is married to Viola and Willie is his son.

Cast: Tom Tryon (John Slaughter), Betty Lynn (Viola Slaughter), Brian Corcoran (Willie Slaughter), Harry Carey, Jr. (Ranger Ben Jenkins). Theme Vocal: “Texas John Slaughter” by Stan Jones.

8188 Texas Justice. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 2002). A daily courtroom drama that features real people arguing real cases in the small claims court of Larry Joe Doherty — a Texas judge who deals justice — Texas style.

Judge: Larry Joe Doherty. Bailiff: William Bowers. Narrator: Randy Schell.

8189 The Texas Rangers. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/16/81). True stories of law enforcement in action as seen through Andy Bennett and Bill Cavanaugh, members of the Houston Division of the Texas Rangers, the oldest law-enforcement organization in the country. The pilot episode, based on an actual case history, follows Andy and Bill as they attempt to capture the Ames Brothers, convicted murderers who escaped from authorities while being transported to a maximum security prison. Other Regulars: Ranger Captain Richard Barton; Ranger J.W. Stevens; and Blanche, Barton’s secretary.

8190 The Texas Wheelers. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1974–1975). Zack Wheeler is a widower who lives in Texas. He is the father of Truckie, Doobie, Boo and B.J. and not the most ambitious of people; in fact he is rather lazy and somewhat unkempt looking. He relishes in an easy life and easy money (what he can get by scamming) and relies on Truckie to look out for his siblings. Zack was also not the most ambitious when it came to naming his children (it was sort of what came to mind when he first saw them) and now faces problems with four rambunctious children who can’t wait to grow up (especially Boo, a very pretty girl who feels her name is even more embarrassing than her father and the rundown ranch on which they live). Stories follow Zack as he attempts to cope with life, solve his kids problems and enjoy doing what he is doing with as little effort as possible. Sally is Doobie's girlfriend; Dennis Burkley is Bud, Truckie's friend.

Cast: Jack Elam (Zack Wheeler), Gary Busey (Truckie Wheeler), Mark Hamill (Doobie Wheeler), Karen Oberdiar (Boo Wheeler), Tony Becker (B.J. Wheeler), Lisa Eilbacher (Sally), Dennis Burkley (Bud), Noble Willingham (Sheriff).

8191 Thank God You're Here. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2007). An improvised comedy series that places actors in unknown (to them) situations to be funny on the spot. Four guest comedians appear on each program and perform in skits, one at a time. The actor is given a costume and props but no script. He then enters through a door and onto a set where he is welcomed with "Thank God, you're here" by improv actors who appear in the scene with him. The comedy stems from the actor's reaction to the situation and his responses to the lines that are thrown at him. Each actor is judged by comedian Dave Foley whose decision awards the best performer a plastic plaque called "The Thank God You're Here Award." The program is based on the Australian series of the same title.

Host: David Alan Grier. Celebrity Guests Include: Jason Alexander, Fran Drescher, George Takei, Bryan Cranston, Tom Arnold, Jennifer Coolidge, Fred Willard, Wayne Knight. Judge: Dave Foley.

8192 Thanks. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1999). Plymouth, Massachusetts, in 1621 is the setting. It is here that James and Polly Winthrop have settled (becoming Pilgrims) after leaving their home in England to establish a new life in the uncivilized new world. They are the parents of Elizabeth, Abigail and William.

James is a man of wisdom and wants to build a society based on virtue. He works as the general store owner and his dream appears to be just that — a dream as other villagers are not too keen on staying in a new land of harsh winters and rampant disease. Stories follow events in the lives of the Winthrop's (and the other citizens of 17th century Massachusetts) as they face the traumas of everyday life.

Polly believes in James's vision (although he can't even build a house) but fears for her family's welfare. Elizabeth is somewhat of a psychic as she envisions things as they can be (some villagers fear she may be a witch). Fourteen-year-old Abigail is eager for a boyfriend — "Half the girls in my class are engaged," she says. William, the youngest child, is a bit slow. Also living with James and Polly is James's grandmother, called Granny, an elderly woman who has eyes for younger men.

Other Regulars: Cotton, James's friend, a bumbler who is considered the village idiot (as a kid he had a toy — a piece of wood he called "Mr. Wood"); Dr. Addington; Nurse Rebecca; the Magistrate; the Constable; and villagers Alice Tungsley and Mr. Sturges.

Cast: Tim Dutton (James Winthrop), Kirsten

Nelson (Polly Winthrop), Amy Centner (Elizabeth Winthrop), Erika Christensen (Abigail Winthrop), Andrew Ducote (William Winthrop), Cloris Leachman (Granny Winthrop), Jim Rash (Cotton), Glenn Shadix (Dr. Addington), Jane Carr (Nurse Rebecca), Elizabeth Anne Smith (Alice Tungsley), Robert Machary (Magistrate), Kathryn Joosten (Mr. Sturges), John Fleck (Constable).

8193 That '80s Show. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2002). San Diego in 1984 is the setting. Teenagers Corey and Kate Howard are the principal focus of the short-lived series. They live with their divorced father, R.T., an entrepreneur who is about to become rich with his fitness invention, the Gut Whacker. Corey works at a music store called Permanent Record. The store is owned by Margaret, a woman who attended Woodstock in 1969. Also working at the store is June Tuesday, a punk rock girl (with spiked pink hair and an attitude).

Katie, Corey's younger sister, is a flirtatious girl who dresses like Madonna. A regular visitor to the Howard house is Sophia, Corey's former girlfriend, a bisexual who now has eyes for Katie. Rogers is Corey's friend, an eager beaver, would-be businessman who idolizes Ronald Reagan and is trying to find his place in corporate America. The local hangout is Club Berlin.

8194 That Girl. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1966–1971). In a small apartment at 344 West 78th Street near the FDR Drive in New York City lives Ann Marie, a young woman who has come to Manhattan to fulfill her dream of becoming an actress. Ann was born in the mythical small town of Fenwick, New York (her family now live in Brewster, New York). Before leaving Brewster, Ann taught elementary school.

Ann's first job (unaired pilot) was as a waitress. In the series, the second filmed episode aired first and showed Ann performing in a TV commercial for Jungle Madness perfume. In the second aired episode (actually the reworked pilot), Ann is seen leaving Brewster for New York and working as a mop on the children's TV show The Merry Mop-a-Teers. She played Doris the Ding-a-ling, a woman with multiple personalities, on an unnamed soap opera. Her most embarrassing moment occurred on a live broadcast of the TV series The Ladykiller (wherein Ann played a dead bank teller who opened her eyes on-camera; her end credit read "The Girl ... Ann Marie"). Ann appeared in television commercials for No Freeze Anti Freeze, Action Soda, POP Soft Drinks and Creamy Soap.

Ann also performed on stage. She costarred with Ethel Merman in a two-week Lincoln Center revival of Gypsy, and performed on the Broadway stage in The Revolutionary Heart and The Knights of Queen Mary.

Ann's modeling credits include: pajama model at Unifit; Miss Everything (for the New York Has Everything convention at the Coliseum); Girl Friday Productions Model; Miss Chicken Big (spokes girl) and roving clothes model at Sardi's Restaurant (where she performed scenes from movies while modeling).

To help further her career, Ann joined the Benedict Workshop of the Dramatic Arts (run by the stern Jules Benedict). She was also accepted by the Gilliam and Norris Theatrical Agency (represented most often by her agent, Seymour Schwimmer). Ann's dream is to purchase the rights to the book A Woman's Story by Joseph Nelson and star in a movie version of it.

Donald "Don" Hollinger, a reporter for Newsview magazine, is Ann's boyfriend. He was born in Toledo, Ohio (but later says Shelton, Ohio, then St. Louis, Missouri). He is a rather sloppy housekeeper and lives in Apartment 1 on West 54th Street in Manhattan. In the unaired pilot, Ted Bessell plays Don Blue Sky, Ann's Native American boyfriend and agent. Don and Ann became engaged at the start of the last season but no wedding occurred before the series left the air. His and Ann's favorite eatery is Nino's Restaurant.

Lou and Helen Marie are Ann's parents. Lou owns the La Parisienne Restaurant in Brewster. He is a member of the Shriner's Club, the Brewster Boosters, and the Brewster Country Club. Lou dislikes Ann in long earrings and short skirts and doesn't really approve of her becoming an actress (he finally accepted her when she directed his club's annual show). Lou who is not too fond of Don, calls him "Hollinger." Lou's competition is Tony's Restaurant.

Frank Faylen played Don's father, Bert (also called Ed and Harold), and Mabel Albertson was his wife, Mildred (also called Lillian). In the unaired pilot, Harold Gould and Penny Santon played Ann's parents, Lew and Helen. Earle Hagen and Sam Denoff composed the That Girl theme.

Cast: Marlo Thomas (Ann Marie), Ted Bessell (Donald Hollinger), Lew Parker (Lou Marie), Rosemary DeCamp (Helen Marie), Billy DeWolfe (Jules Benedict), Bonnie Scott (Judy Bessimer; Ann's neighbor), Dabney Coleman (Leon Bessimer; Judy's husband), Bernie Kopell (Jerry Myer; Don's co-worker), Bernie Kopell (Jerry Bauman; later episodes), Arlene Golonka (Margie Myer; Jerry's wife), Carolyn Daniels (Ruth Bauman; Jerry's wife), Alice Borden (Ruth Bauman; later), Reva Rose (Mary; Ann's friend), Ruth Buzzi (Pete; Ann's friend), Bobo Lewis (Gloria; telephone answering service girl), Forrest Compton

(Jonathan Adams; publisher of Newsview), James Gregory (Jonathan Adams; later), Phyllis Hill (Agnes Adams; Jonathan's wife), Frank Faylen (Bert Hollinger; Don's father), Mabel Albertson (Mildred Hollinger; Don's mother), Gino Conforti (Nino; restaurant owner), Frank Puglia (Mr. Brantano; Ann's landlord), Renata Vanni (Mrs. Brantano), Don Penny (Seymour Schwimmer; Ann's agent), Ronnie Schell (Harvey Peck; Ann's agent), Morty Guntz (Sandy Stone; Ann's agent), George Carlin (George Lester; Ann's agent), Cloris Leachman (Sandi Hollister; Don's sister).

8195 That Good Old Nashville Music. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1974). Performances by country and western entertainers. Produced by Elmer Alley and Bill Fisher.

Host: Earl Brown. Regulars: Margie Cates, Marcy Cates, John Gimble, Ralph Sloan, The Tennessee Travelers, The Dottie Lee Singers.

8196 That Reminds Me. (Series; Game; NBC; 1952). The object calls for a celebrity panel to identify, through a series of indirect question-and-answer rounds, guests who appear in elaborate disguises. The series, which aired four episodes, ran from April 5, 1952 to April 26, 1952.

Hostess: Arlene Francis. Panelists: Nina Foch, Roger Price, Robert Coates.

8197 That '70s Show. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1998–2006). Point Place, Wisconsin (beginning in 1976 and ending on the last day in 1979) is the setting. Incidents in the lives of a group of close knit Point Place High School friends: Eric Forman, Donna Pinciotti, Jackie Burkhart, Michael Kelso, Steve Hayden and a foreign exchange student named Fez.

Eric is the son of Red and Kitty. The basement of his home is the hangout for the diverse group of teens. Eric and Donna became close but Eric broke off their relationship when he chose to teach in Africa. He has tendency to relate life to the TV series Batman. Every time he does it in front of Donna, he has to give her a dollar. Eric's sister, Laurie, is boy crazy, not very ambitious and attempted to attend college (the University of Wisconsin) but flunked out. Their mother, Kitty, works as a nurse while their father, Red, held several jobs. He is first a factory worker who loses his job when the plant closes. He attempted to run a muffler shop (Forman and Son Mufflers) then became a salesman (at Bargain Bob's) and a store manager (at Price Mart). He has been working since he was 16 years old and fought in two wars. His favorite expression is "Dumb Ass," which he says at every opportunity (especially to Eric and his friends). Red is very hard on Eric and Laurie; Kitty is too sweet to be mean or dish out a harsh punishment. Red is a member of the Viking Lodge. Kitty's most prized possession are her Shirley Temple figurines.

Donna is the daughter of Bob and Midge Pinciotti. Following her breakup with Eric, Donna acquired a job as the host of a talk show called Hot Donna on radio station WFPP.

Jackie Burkhart is the most promiscuous one of the group. She had an on-and-off relationship with the somewhat flaky Michael Kelso and could never find her true calling in life. She was voted head cheerleader “by the widest margin ever” in her school’s history and after high school worked as a gopher for TV personality Christine St. George, the host of the morning show What’s Up, Wisconsin. Jackie also worked as a cheese maiden at the Cheese Palace.

Michael thinks he is so handsome that he could become a model. Although Michael does do some nutty things, he thinks Fez “is freakin’ weird for all the nutty things he does.” Michael attempted to become a cop, passed all the tests but was later “kicked off the force.” He became a cop because he felt the uniform gave him charisma and would make him sexy forever. He later accepts a job at the Playboy Club in Chicago as a security guard (“I tell the customers don’t touch”). At this same time Jackie, who has always been a go-getter, is fired from the TV show by Christine for knowing too much about Christine’s personal life (“I don’t like that”). She also had a cable access interview program on PPTV — “Your Cable Access Channel.”

Fez is from some unknown country and is in the U.S. as a foreign exchange student. He believes he is a ladies’ man (although girls find him annoying) and his home world customs make him look strange to other people. He finds his true calling as a hair stylist at a salon called Jeri’s Fresh Hair. Red calls him “a mush-mouthed foreigner.”

Steven is considered a conspiracy nut by his teachers (he believes, for example, that Xerox will take over the world). He works at Grooves Records, part of a chain of stores owned by his wealthy father, William Barnett (who is black; Steven is white). Steve later marries Samantha, a Las Vegas stripper at Weddings and Waffles (he met her at a dude ranch and the two became drunk and married). The spaced-out Leo, a former rock star, works as a clerk at the record store as does Randy Pearson, the guy who becomes Donna’s new boyfriend.

On May 18, 2006 the final episode airs. It is set in Eric’s basement on December 31, 1979. As the gang recalls the prior eight years together, the curtain falls when it becomes 1980.

Cast: Topher Grace (Eric Forman), Mila Kunis (Jackie Burkhart), Laura Prepon (Donna Pinciotti), Ashton Kutcher (Michael Kelso), Danny Masterson (Steven Hyde), Wilmer Valderrama (Fez), Kurtwood Smith (Reginald “Red” Forman), Debra Jo Rupp (Kitty Forman), Lisa Robin Kelly (Laurie Forman), Don Stark (Bob Pinciotti), Tanya Roberts (Midge Pinciotti), Tommy Chong (Leo), Josh Meyers (Randy Pearson), Judy Taylor (Samantha Hyde), Mary Tyler Moore (Christine St. George), Tim Reid (William Bennett).

8198 That Show Staring Joan Rivers. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1968). A daily series of talk and celebrity interviews with comedienne Joan Rivers as the host. Jim Perry is the announcer.

8199 That Was Then. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2002). Travis Glass is a home decorating center door salesman. He is thirty years old, unmarried and lives with his mother, Mickey. His long time love, Claudia, is married to his brother, Gregg. Travis feels his life is going nowhere and wishes he had a second chance at life. That night, celestial powers grant his wish. He wakes up in the past as a 16-year-old high school student who now has the opportunity to change his past to affect his future. Unfortunately, for Travis, when he changes a past event, he jumps back to the future only to find that what he did in the past has made his future worse. Stories follow Travis as he struggles to figure out what to do in the past to improve his future life. The series was cancelled after two episodes.

Cast: James Bullard (Travis Glass), Bess Armstrong (Mickey Glass), Kiele Sanchez (Claudia Glass), Brad Raider (Gregg Glass), Logan O’Brien (Ethan Glass), Jeffrey Tambor (Double G), Tricia O’Kelley (Sophie Firsch), Andrew Bowen (Zoey), Tyler Labine (Danny Pinkus).

Combining the format of a serial and the Broadway-paced blend of romance, music, comedy and song, stories relate the meeting and courtship of Robert Dickson, a junior executive with a chalk company, and Gloria Quigley, a beautiful salesgirl. Their marriage, struggles as newlyweds and attempts to adjust to parenthood when their son, Robert Dickson, Jr. is born, is later depicted.

Cast: Robert Morse (Robert Dickson), E.J. Peaker (Gloria Quigley), Shelly Berman (Gloria's father), Kay Medford (Gloria's mother), The Tony Mordente Dancers (Regulars). Music Director: Elliot Lawrence. Songs: Marvin Marx. Choreography: Tony Mordente.

8209 That's Life. (Series; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 2000–2001). Lydia Denise DeLuca is a young woman who wants to make something out of her life. She has had 58 jobs since graduating from high school; her current job is as a bartender at The After Hours Bar and Grill. Ever since she was five years old Lydia wanted to go to college. She is also attempting to make that dream a reality by enrolling in classes at MSU (Montville State University) in New Jersey. She is taking classes in human behavior, human sexuality and post modernism and photography. Lydia lives in Apartment E over the Runco Brothers Printing Company in Bellemont, New Jersey.

Lydia is the daughter of Dolly and Frank DeLuca. She has a younger brother, Paulie, who is a police officer with the Bellemont Police Department. Frank worked as a toll booth clerk on the New Jersey Turnpike before opening his own restaurant — Cucina DeLuca — “Great Food at a Fair Price” (Lydia also works here in later episodes when she loses her job at the bar; fired for refusing to serve beer to a drunken customer).

Dolly feels Lydia is not focused. She should focus on “matrimonial and reproductive urges — not academic ones.” Stories follow Lydia as she struggles to find her place in life.

Jackie O'Grady is Lydia's best friend, the owner of Jackie O's Beauty Salon; Candy, her other best friend, is a bit dense and is a salesgirl at a new car dealership. She prides herself on her beauty and was a contestant in the Miss New Jersey Pageant.

Cast: Heather Paige Kent (Lydia DeLuca), Paul Sorvino (Frank DeLuca), Ellen Burstyn (Dolly DeLuca), Kevin Dillon (Paulie DeLuca), Debi Mazar (Jackie O'Grady), Kristin Bauer (Candy).

8210 That's My Boy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1954–1955). John (“Jarrin' Jack”) Jackson is the perennial college boy who fears growing old. He lives for the trophies he earned as a football star at Rossmore College. He is the school's most famous alumnus and played quarterback; he earned the nickname “Jarrin' Jack” for his philosophy of “hitting them hard, fast and low. And if they get up, hit 'em again.”

Jack lives at 734 Appletree Lane in Rossmore, Ohio. He is married to Alice, a former tennis star, and is the father of an 18-year-old son named Jack Jackson, Jr. Jarrin' Jack years to relive his college days through his son. He had high hopes of Junior's becoming the next great football star at Rossmore, but he found only disappointment: Junior Jackson, as he is called, is a weakling and has no interest in sports; he'd rather be attending the engineering school at MIT. Jack's efforts to instill Junior with the sports spirit are the focal point of the series.

Jack heads an engineering firm called Jackson and Patterson. Henrietta Patterson is the wife of Jack's partner (who is not seen). Jack gives orders to his employees in the same way he used to give signals on the football field. Jack's grandfather attended Rossmore College and built the stadium. Since Jack was a nine-letter man and Alice is a former athlete, Jack has trouble understanding how Junior could be theirs — "Is there nothing to this heredity business? Could the hospital have made a mistake?" Alice assures Jack that "Junior is ours; he was born at home."

Junior wears glasses, is clumsy and allergic to strawberries. He also suffers from hay fever and is prone to sinus attacks. When Junior was six years old, Jack bought him the finest gym equipment; when he was ten, Jack bought him the best football equipment — but it never interested Junior, who fears he will not be able to fill his father's shoes: "They're too big and I keep tripping over them." The series is based on the feature film of the same title. Leith Stevens provides the show's bridge music.

Cast: Eddie Mayehoff (Jack Jackson, Sr.), Rochelle Hudson (Alice Jackson), Gil Stratton, Jr. (Jack Jackson, Jr.), Mabel Patterson (Henrietta Patterson), Larry Blake (Sam Baker). Announcer: Bill Goodwin.

8211 That's My Bush! (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2001). A satirical spoof of present-day U.S. President George W. Bush, his family, the White House and his friends. George, as depicted here, is not the brightest person in the world; he is actually quite dense (yet runs the country). His wife, Laura, is the actual heroine, as she saves the day for George by solving all the political problems that arise. Maggie is their wise-cracking housekeeper; Larry O'Shea is their know-it-all neighbor. The eight episode series ran from April 4, 2001 to May 23, 2001.

Cast: Timothy Bottoms (George W. Bush), Carrie Quinn Dolin (Laura Bush), Marcia Wallace (Maggie Hawley), John D'Aquino (Larry O'Shea), Kurt Fuller (Karl Rove), Kristen Miller (Princess Stevenson).

8212 That's My Line. (Series; Human Interest; CBS; 1980–1981). A ten episode series that spotlights the unusual occupations of ordinary people.

Tracy Taylor is Clifton's married sister; Leonard Taylor is her husband. Earl Chambers is the postman; Wildcat, Junior and Josh, Clifton's friends; and Laura, Eloise's friend.

Cast: Clifton Davis (Clifton Curtis), Theresa Merrett (Eloise Curtis), Lynne Moody (Tracy Taylor), Joan Pringle (Tracy Taylor; later), Illunga Adell (Leonard Taylor), Ed Bernard (Earl Chambers), Theodore Wilson (Earl Chambers; later), Jester Hariston (Wildcat), Ted Lange (Junior), DeForest Covan (Josh), Helen Martin (Laura).

8214 That's O'Toole. (Series; Advice; ABC; 1949). A program of home repair and advice featuring a do-it-yourselfer called Tinker O'Toole. The series aired from March 13, 1949 to June 5, 1949.

Cast: Arthur Peterson (Tinker O'Toole), Norma Ransome (Tinker's wife).

8215 That's Our Sherman. (Test Film; Comedy; NBC; 5/3/48). A proposed series of sketches featuring the talents of comedian Hiram Sherman.

Cast: Hiram Sherman (Sherman), Gloria Stroock (Gloria; his girlfriend). Regulars: Marc Daniels, Billy Farrell, Meg Mundy.

8216 That's So Raven. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 2003–2006). Raven Lydia Baxter appears to be a normal 16-year-old girl. She is pretty, a sophomore at Bayside High School in San Francisco and has a loving family. She is the daughter of Victor and Tanya Baxter and has a younger brother named Corey. She lives in a comfortable home at 419 Miranda Place and has a secret: she is psychic. She has the ability to see briefly into the future (an hour or so). These visions are most often mistaken for something else and land her in a load of trouble as she goes about pursuing them.

Victor is a chef (owner of the Chill Grill); Tanya works as a substitute teacher; and Corey, who attends Millard Fillmore Jr. High School, is quite resourceful and computer smart. He thrives on scams to make money. Other Regulars: Eddie Thomas and Chelsea Daniels, Raven's friends. Eddie is athletic while Chelsea, middle name Ophelia, is a good friend, appears a bit dense at times. She and Eddie are aware of Raven's abilities and often become involved in the mishaps that occur because of them. In the last episode ("Fur Better or Worse," August 5, 2006), Raven begins to realize her dream of becoming a fashion designer when she acquires a job as an intern with Donna Cabonna Fashions (Anne-Marie Johnson plays Donna Cabonna).

Cast: Raven Symone (Raven Baxter), Rondell Sherman (Victor Baxter), T'Keyah Crystal Keymah (Tanya Baxter), Kyle Massey (Corey Baxter), Anneliese van der Pol (Chelsea Daniels), Orlando Brown (Eddie Thomas), Amy Yasbeck (Joni Daniels, Chelsea's mother). Theme Vocal: "That's So Raven" by Raven Symone, Orlando Brown.

8217 That's TV. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/18/82). The program, set at an unidentified television station in an unnamed city, spoofs a typical day of programming through skits and blackouts.

Cast: Carl Anderson, Michael Binder, Charlie

8218 T.H.E. Cat. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1966–1967). Thomas Hewitt Edward (T.H.E.) Cat is a professional bodyguard. He was a former circus aerialist who risked his life for little money. By using his skills he found a more lucrative career as a cat burglar. Although successful, the fear of capture led him to give up his illegal lifestyle for a more lucrative but still dangerous career protecting people. Stories follow Cat as he does what it takes to help people in trouble. Pepe is the owner of the Casa del Gato Club (Cat's hangout); Maria is Cat's romantic interest; William McAllister is the police detective.

A narrator opens the show: "Out of the night comes a man who saves lives at the risk of his own. Once a circus performer, an aerialist who refused the net. Once a cat burglar, a master among jewel thieves. And now, a professional bodyguard — primitive, savage, in love with danger — T.H.E. Cat."

Cast: Robert Loggia (Thomas Cat), Robert Caricart (Pepe), Norma Bengell (Maria), R.G. Armstrong (William McAllister).

8219 Thea. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993). Thea Turrell is a widow and the mother of four children (Denisha, Jarvis, Jerome and Jamar). To make ends meet, Thea holds down two jobs: checker at Bagley's Supermarket (her day job) and hairdresser at night from her home. As the series progressed, Thea quit her day job to become partners with her friend, Roy Bennett in an eatery called Heavenly Bar-B-Q (also known as Roy's Heavenly Bar-B-Q). Stories follow Thea as she struggles to provide for her family. Other Regulars: Lynette, Thea's sister; Ricky, Thea's co-worker at Bagley's; and Walt and Clyde, customers at Roy's.

The series aired from July 25, 1957 to September 26, 1957.

8225 Then Came Bronson. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1969–1970). Disillusioned after his friend commits suicide, Jim Bronson, a newspaper reporter, resigns. Inheriting his friend's motorcycle, he begins his travels across the United States to discover the meaning of life. Stories depict his involvement with the people he meets.

Cast: Michael Parks (Jim Bronson).

8226 Then Came You. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2000). A romantic comedy about an older woman (Billie Thornton) who falls in love with a younger man (Aidan Wheeler). Billie is 33 years old. She is a book editor and has recently left her lawyer husband. She moves into a hotel and meets Aidan, a 22-year-old room service waiter. Stories, which are not all original (the same storyline was used on Karen's Song), follows Billie and Aidan's efforts to make their relationship work despite the objections of friends and family. Cheryl is Billie's best friend; Ed and Manuel are Aidan's friends; Lewis is Billie's ex-husband.

Cast: Susan Floyd (Billie Thornton), Thomas Newton (Aidan Wheeler), Miriam Shor (Cheryl), Colin Ferguson (Lewis), Bourke Floyd (Thomas).

8227 Theodore Tugboat. (Series; Children; PBS; 1993). The Big Harbor is a waterway in Canada (patterned after Halifax Harbor) where ships, boats and in particular, tugboats, can think and speak. The area is overseen by the Harbor Master and through his experiences stories of life in and around the harbor are related. The featured tugboats are Theodore, George, Emily, Foduck and Hank, who work for the Dispatcher, and each story has a moral to it.

Cast: Denny Doherty (The Harbor Master), Denny Doherty (All Character Voices).

8228 There Goes the Neighborhood. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/4/83). Following the death of their friend, a multi-millionaire, three hobos (Boxcar, Barney and The Kid) inherit his fortune, including a mansion in Bel Air, California. The unsold series was to depict their misadventures as they attempt to adjust to society. The pilot episode relates Boxcar's efforts to join a country club. Other Regulars: Philkins, the butler; Milton and Hortense, their neighbors.

Cast: Buddy Hackett (Leonard "Boxcar" Mumfred), G.W. Bailey (Barney), Patrick Collins (Kid Herbert), William Glover (Philkins), Graham Jarvis (Milton Crocker), Sue Anne Gilfillan (Hortense Crocker), Keene Curtis (Charles Hawthorne; guest role).

8229 There's Always Room. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/24/77). Madelyn Fairchild is a middle-aged free spirit and owner of a once fashionable house that has fallen into a state of disrepair. In an attempt to pay the repair bills, Madelyn opens her home to a variety of eccentric guests and the unsold series was to focus on the misadventures of the various guests. Other Regulars: Stewart, a greeting card businessman; and Annette, the girl who resides with Madelyn.

Cast: Maureen Stapleton (Madelyn Fairchild), Debbie Zipp (Annette Ederby), Conrad Janis (Stewart Dennis). Guest Cast: Barry Nelson (Bob Ederby), Leland Palmer (Valerie), Royce D. Applegate (Buck), Woody Chambliss (McRaven).

8230 There's One in Every Family. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1952–1953). Members of a family who are outstandingly different are placed in the spotlight. Several such people appear on each telecast to relate their stories (why they are different) to the studio audience. The audience then votes on each subject by applauding (which is registered on a meter). The person whose score registers the highest is the winner and receives the opportunity to win prizes for his family by competing in a question-and-answer session.

Host: John Reed King, Dean Miller.

8231 These Are My Children. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1949). The struggles of a mother as she attempts to raise her fatherless children. The series ran from January 31, 1949 to March 4, 1949.

Cast: Alma Platto (Mother), Jane Brooksmith, Martha McCain, Eloise Kunner, Joan Alt, George Kluge.

8232 These Are the Days. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1974–1976). Life in America at the turn of the century as seen through the eyes of the Day family, residents of the small town of Elmsville. Martha, a widow, is the mother; Cathy, Danny and Ben are her children; Jeff is the children's grandfather; Homer is Jeff's friend.

Voice Cast: June Lockhart (Martha Day), Pamela Lynn Ferdin (Cathy Day), Jackie Earle Haley (Danny Day), Andrew Parks (Ben Day), Henry Jones (Jeff Day), Frank Cady (Homer).

8233 These Friends of Mine. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1994). Ellen, Holly, Anita and Adam are the friends of the title, four singles living in Los Angeles and looking out for each other. Ellen is 32 years old and works as a salesgirl at a bookstore called Buy the Book. She shares Apartment 7 and maintains a strictly plutonic relationship with Adam, a free-lance photographer (occupations for Anita and Holly are not mentioned). Stories relate comical incidents in their lives. The series ran from March 29, 1994 to May 24, 1994. With cast changes (the dropping of Anita and Holly) and adding Joely Fisher as Ellen's friend, Paige Clark, the program became Ellen (see entry for information).

Cast: Ellen DeGeneres (Ellen Morgan), Holly Fulger (Holly), Maggie Wheeler (Anita), Arye Gross (Adam Green).

8234 They Call It Murder. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 12/17/71). A proposed series about Douglas "Doug" Selby, a small town district attorney. In the pilot episode, Selby investigates the murder of a gambler found floating in a swimming pool. Based on the character created by Erle Stanley Gardner. Filmed in 1969 and slated to be called Doug Selby.

Cast: Jim Hutton (Doug Selby), Lloyd Bochner (A.B. Carr), Jessica Walter (Jane Antrim), Nita Talbot (Rona Corbin), Jo Ann Pflug (Sylvia Martin), Edward Asner (Chief Larkin), Carmen Mathews (Doris Kane), Leslie Nielsen (Frank Antrim), Robert J. Wilke (Sheriff Brandon), Bill Elliott (Deputy Bob Terry), Miriam Colon (Anita Nogales), Vic Tayback (Jeffrey Poland).

8235 They Came from Outer Space. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1990–1991). Like most parents, Mr. and Mrs. Osceack believe their sons Ablerama ("Abe") and Boximaxio ("Bo") need a year of college to teach them responsibility. Although they live on the planet Crouton, Abe and Bo decide to attend Earth's Cambridge University in England. En route to Earth, Bo begins to read his favorite girlie magazine Baby Doll and becomes fascinated with a bikini-clad girl named Tammy. When he reads that Tammy sunbathes in the nude, he goes wild and convinces Abe that they should make California their home. Just as Abe programs California on their intergalactic travel guide, their spaceship enters the Earth's atmosphere. Before Abe can lower the ship's sunscreen, the rays damage the craft and it crash lands in an auto junkyard in California.

With their arms linked (to activate their power of transfer) Abe and Bo transform several junk cars into a brand new 1957 red Corvette. They equip their car with the communication device from their ship and decide to travel across the U.S. for their college education. As they begin their travels, Colonel Barker and Lieutenant Wilson of the Extraterrestrial Investigation Unit of the Air Force become suspicious of them and begin to monitor them.

Bo and Abe support themselves by taking various jobs. They can mind speak, have enormous appetites and can become part of an inanimate object via an inanimate projection. Stories follow Bo and Abe as they create havoc acquiring their college education. Gary Stockdale composed the theme.

Cast: Stuart Fratkin (Abe), Dean Cameron (Bo), Allan Royle (Colonel Barker), Christopher Carroll (Lieutenant Wilson), Rosalee Mayeux (Bo and Abe's mother), Victor Brandt (Bo and Abe's father).

8236 They Stand Accused. (Series; Drama; DuMont; 1949–1952). Dramatizations based on actual courtroom cases with actors portraying plaintiffs, witnesses and defendants; but actual lawyers and judges appearing as themselves. Broadcast live from Chicago, where it aired locally from April through September 1948 (the DuMont version ran from January 18, 1949 to October 5, 1952).

Judge: Charles Johnson. Announcer: Harry Creighton.

8237 They Went Thataway. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/15/60). A satire of westerns as seen through the experiences of Black Ace Burton, “the meanest gunfighter in the Old West.” In the pilot episode, Burton “borrows” money from a bank and soon finds himself a deputy sheriff when he is caught and talked into becoming a law officer.

Cast: James Westerfield (Black Ace Burton), Wayne Morris (Sheriff Sam Claggert), Ron Hagerthy (Poison Pete).

8238 They Were There. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 10/19/44). The program spotlights the performances of five entertainers who toured the warfront (World War II) with USO camp shows. Due to time limitations, only one performance was permitted per entertainer: Songs from Paula Bane and Jean Darling (the girl in the Our Gang theatrical shorts “who has blossomed into a peachy blonde dish with a swell voice”); tap dancing by Vivian Francis; comedy by Jan Murray; and magic with Arnold Furst and his rabbit Oscar.

Host: Mimi Dworsky (coordinator of USO shows). Performers: Paula Bane, Jean Darling, Vivian Francis, Arthur Furst, Jan Murray.

8239 They're Off. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1949). A short-lived game show, about which very little is known, that features contestants attempting to answer questions based on newsreel footage of horse races. The series ran from June 30, 1949 to August 18, 1949.

Host: Tom Shirley. Announcer: Byron Field.

8240 Thicke of the Night. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1983). The syndicated entry into the early 1980s late-night ratings war bucking the CBS late-night blend of series repeats and movies, NBC's Johnny Carson and ABC news. The program features celebrity interviews and offbeat comedy sketches.

Host: Alan Thicke. Regulars: Fred Willard, Richard Belzer, Charles Fleischer, Isabel Grandin, Rick Ducommun, Chloe Webb, Mike McManus, Gilbert Gottfried, Alvernette Jiminez. Announcer: Charlie Tuna. Music: Tom Canning.

8241 Thicker Than Water. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1973). In 1910 an enterprising young man named Jonas Paine established a business called Paine's Pure Pickles. In 1911 he won the gold medal for his gherkins at the American Grain Exhibition.

In 1933 his daughter, Nellie, was born; in 1937 his wife, Frances, gave birth to a boy they named Ernie. Jonas became a widower in 1955, and in 1963 he became chronically ill. In 1965 Ernie left home, and Nellie, who became a spinster, remained behind to run the family pickle works and to care for her father, “an old codger who just won't kick the bucket.”

In 1973, at age 82, Jonas takes another turn for the worse. As Nellie enters the room, we discover what Jonas wants most: “Ernie, is that you?” “No, Pop,” responds Nellie, “it's not Ernie.” “But your shoes squeaked just like Ernie's,” says Jonas. “It's been eight years, Pop. Ernie is no good, he never has been and he never will be.” “You'll see, he'll be back. Blood's thicker than water.”

Then one day, shortly after, Bert Taylor, the pickle factory foreman, finds Ernie, now a penniless playboy. When Ernie learns of Jonas's condition, he realizes there is money at stake and rushes back home. The meeting between Ernie and Nellie is anything but happy, for they despise each other. Nellie is bitter because Ernie left her to care for Pop.

After eight years of constantly asking for Ernie, Jonas is about to get his wish — or is he? Ernie enters the room. “Ernie, is that you?” “Hey Pop!” “Who is it?” “It's me.” “Well, who the hell is me?” “Pop, don't you recognize me? ... It's me, Ernie.” “How do I know it's Ernie? Maybe you're just out to steal the secret of my gherkins.” “Gherkins! Who wants your gherkins, you silly old codger.” Jonas yells, “Ernie!” and they both hug.

With the family reunited, Jonas reveals the conditions of his will: Ernie and Nellie will each receive $75,000, “the money to be paid you five years from today, provided you both operate the family pickle works and live together in the family residence.”

Ernie and Nellie begin bickering; Jonas interrupts: “Now stop it! You’ve got to. All you’ve got left is each other.” Reluctantly, Nellie and Ernie agree to Pop’s conditions and struggle to care for him and the pickle plant — and each other.

Ernie left home because he couldn’t stand the smell of pickles. In school, the kids called Ernie “Ernie Gherkin” and Nellie was called “Nellie, Nellie, Pickle Belly.” Ernie studiously avoids work, drinks, chases women and has a talent for getting the prize out of the Crackerjack box without opening it. When they were children, Nellie gave Ernie a doll that looked so much like him they called it the “Ernie Doll.”

Lyle Woodstock is Jonas’s lawyer; Lily Paine is a cousin; Walter is Lily’s husband; Agnes works in the pickle factory.

Cast: Julie Harris (Nellie Paine), Richard Long (Ernie Paine), Malcolm Atterbury (Jonas Paine), Jessica Myerson (Lily Paine), Lou Fant (Walter Paine), Pat Cranshaw (Bert Taylor), Jim Connell (Lyle Woodstock), Dolores Albin (Agnes Dorsel).

8242 Thief. (Series; Crime Drama; FX; 2006). Nick Atwater is a complex man facing tense situations. He is black, married to a Caucasian woman (Wanda) and the stepfather of her troubled 14-year-old daughter, Tammi. He is also a master thief planning a $40 million heist — robbing the U.S. government of its “non-existent” stash of money that is sent to Columbia for bribes (supposedly used to fight the war on drugs).

Nick lives in New Orleans and his cover is that of a dealer of vintage automobiles. Nick, a master safe-cracker, has assembled an elite team of thieves to help him: Elmo, Gabo, Jack and Izzy. Complicating matters is a police detective (Hayes), a crooked cop whose pension is threatened by an international police investigation, who has taken an interest in Nick and his gang. Roselyn is Arthur’s fence.

Cast: Andre Braugher (Nick Atwater), Dina Meyer (Wanda Atwater), Mae Whitman (Tammi Deveraux), Malik Yoba (Elmo “Mo” Jones), Clifton Collins, Jr. (Jack “Bump” Hill), Yancey Arias (Gabriel “Gabo” Williams), Michael Rooker (Sgt. John Hayes), Linda Hamilton (Roselyn Moore), Clayne Crawford (Izzy Driscoll), Bitty Schram (Lila Granville), Will Yun Lee (Vincent Chan).

8243 Thieves. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 2001). The Inter Agency Task Force is a special Baltimore-based unit of the Justice Department that retrieves stolen or missing U.S. property. In order to achieve their goal, the agency requires the talents of expert thieves. Their operatives are Johnny and Rita, highly skilled thieves who were captured red-handed in the act of stealing diamonds and offered a choice: “Steal things back that we feel were stolen from us. Serve time in jail or serve your country. Your choice.” Although arrested and booked they are freed when they elect to steal rather than spend 25 years in prison. Stories follow Rita and Johnny as they put their combined skills to work to pull off some very elaborate (and dangerous) heists.

Johnny is an expert pickpocket and locksmith and says, “I don’t find things, I take things. There are thieves and there are thieves. Don’t lump them into one category.” He doesn’t like shooting or being around shooting (“I break into people’s homes when they’re sleeping. If they wake up, I leave”).

Johnny likes to take things slow and easy; Rita is impatient. She thinks Johnny is unprofessional and is only working with her to stay out of prison.

Rita was born in Australia and raised by a father, a casino pit boss. She is a skilled blackjack dealer, a computer whiz and a weapons expert. At 18 years of age Rita was deciding whether to major in biology or psychology at college; Johnny, at 18, was learning how to hot wire cars.

Oliver Shue and Al Trundel are the special Justice Department agents who oversee Rita and Johnny’s assignments. Paulie is Johnny’s friend, a beautiful hit lady he uses to help him track down leads (“Only don’t shoot ‘em,” he tells her).

Cast: John Stamos (Johnny), Melissa George (Rita), Robert Knepper (Oliver Shue), Tone Loc (Al Trundel), Sofia Milos (Paulie).

8244 The Thin Man. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1957–1959). Nick and Nora Charles are a happily married young couple who live in an apartment in New York’s Greenwich Village. Nick is a former private detective (owner of Nicholas Charles — Confidential Investigations) turned mystery editor for an unnamed publishing house in Manhattan. Nora is heir to the Claridon (her maiden name) family fortune and has a dog named Asta.

Nora is beautiful, fashion conscious and a stand-out at society functions. She also feels that living with Nick has given her the abilities of a detective — abilities, though amateurish, that she puts to good use to solve the crimes she has a knack for stumbling upon. Nick has tried, but can’t stop Nora from doing what she likes doing. To protect her, Nick resumes his role as a private eye to not only watch out for Nora but to ultimately help her solve a crime.

Nick uses the “laundry list” method to solve crimes; Nick relates the facts, Nora writes them down. When someone takes a shot at Nick, he falls down so as not to disappoint the shooter — “It also prevents them from taking another shot.” Nick calls Nora “Tiger”; Nora calls Nick “Nickie.” Nick has an eye for the ladies although he tells Nora, “None are as beautiful as you.” Nora feels her intuition is better than Nick’s experience when it comes to solving crimes. She also never thinks in emergencies — “I only have hunches.”

Nick calls Asta their child because of the way Nora babies him. Even though the dog is a male, Nora gave him a girl's name based on her Uncle Harry's theory that a sissy name will make a man out of a boy.

Beatrice Dean is a beautiful con artist who goes by the alias of Blondie Collins. "Blondie has a knack for larceny," says Nick, who has arrested her on several occasions. She often serves time at the Elmsville Prison for Women. When Blondie is in trouble and needs refuge, she considers the Charleses' home a port of call and retreats to it for help and Nick's affections. Despite Nora's jealousy, Nick can't resist "a gorgeous doll" and always helps Blondie.

Hazel is Nora's friend, an attractive single woman who has a crush on Nick and flirts with him at every opportunity. She lives in the brownstone next to Nick and Nora's. In second season episodes, Nick and Nora appear to live in a brownstone rather than an apartment as evidenced by outdoor scenes. Ralph Raine and Harry Evans are lieutenants with the Homicide Division of the N.Y.P.D. who assist Nick and Nora in solving crimes. See also Nick and Nora.

8245 Things Are Looking Up. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/29/84). John F. Kennedy High School in Ventura, California, is the setting for a potential series (to be called Making Out) about a group of close-knit students as they confront life. The pilot episode depicts the plight of Neil Troutman, an 18-year-old senior who feels that he may be marrying his girlfriend, Joy, for all the wrong reasons; and Joanne Braithwaite, a new teacher, whose attempts to make a good impression — and unwillingness to bend a few rules — threatens to alienate her from her daughter Mia, a student. Other Regulars: Students Giselle, Dale (Neil's brother), Clement, Kelly and Randi; Dionne, Clement's sister; Vice Principal Dougherty; and Ray, a teacher.

Cast: Gretchen Corbett (Joanne Braithwaite), Beth Ehlers (Mia Braithwaite), Tammy Lauren (Giselle Kraft), Eric Stoltz (Neil Troutman), Darvany Deal (Joy Villafianco), Dean Cameron (Kelly Sanfillipo), Judie Aronson (Randi White), Clarence Gilyard, Jr. (Clement McCallister), LaSaundra Hall (Dionne McCallister), Mark Blum (Ray Litertini), Bill Cort (Vice Principal Dougherty), K.C. Martel (Dale Troutman), Virginia Morris (Neil's mother). Guest Cast: Joe DeCenzo (Will Montrose), J.P. Bumstead (Minister).

8246 Things That Go Bump. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/22/97). "I'm your worst nightmare — a wizard with a badge," says Jack "Bump" Bumstead, a detective with the New Orleans Police Department, who heads a special group of crime fighters designed to banish demons who break the law.

Bump is assisted by Officer Azalea "Zee" DeCastro, Marcel, a computer specialist, Harry, a sorceress, and Hoodoo, his dog. Jack is divorced from Chloe, the spoiled daughter of Police Chief Ty Garrett. Zee is from the Bronx, New York, and relocated to be with her boyfriend — until she found him cheating on her. Marcel is an amateur inventor whose gizmos help Bump dispense of ghosts. Harry works as a singer at the Blues Bar (where Bump orders only milk).

The pilot finds Bump seeking to banish Sleepyhead, the ghost of a baby seeking to destroy New Orleans (the urban legend of Sleepyhead began in 1789 with the cursed birth of Augustine Dormezvous. After his mother died during a difficult delivery, his father sent him to an orphanage. There a sadistic headmaster named him Sleepyhead and took away his only possession — his baby rattle. When he was a young boy, Augustine escaped and took refuge in a warehouse. A mysterious fire broke out and Augustine was blamed. He was pursued to Lafayette Cemetery "and some say he was buried alive; others say he is still alive." Bump dispenses with Sleepyhead when he gives "the maniacal ghost with fangs and a large bulbous head" a baby rattle and sings him a lullaby.

Cast: Burke Moses (Jack Bumstead), Melora Hardin (Chloe Garrett), Jennifer Gatti (Azalea DeCastro), C.C.H. Pounder (Harriet Napoleon), Tony Molina, Jr. (Marcel), Charles Hallahan (Ty Garrett). Guest Cast: Kirk Gagnon (Zach), Erik von Detten (Christian).

8247 Think Fast. (Series; Game; ABC; 1949–1950). The object calls for celebrity panelists to reach a throne by out talking each other on topics that are supplied to them. The wordiest talkers (without hesitation or repetition) are the winners. The series ran from March 26, 1949 to October 18, 1950.

Hosts: Milton Gross (1949), Gypsy Rose Lee (1950). Panelists: Lois Wilson, Leon Janney, Eloise McElhone, Vivian Della Chiesa, David Broekman.

8248 The Third Commandment. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 2/8/59). The pilot episode for an unsold series of specials based on the Ten Commandments. The initial episode tells of an embittered writer who violates the Third Biblical Commandment (Thou Shalt Not Take the Name of the Lord in Vain) by abandoning his principles and striving for material success at any cost.

Host: Charles Van Doren. Cast: Arthur Kennedy (Jim Munday), Anne Francis (Clara Munday), Richard Erdman (Luke), Jack Weston (Kenny), Simon Oakland (Orlando), Fay Spain (Vikki), John Hoyt (Dr. Allen), Regis Toomey (Reverend Aldis).

8249 The Third Man. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1960). Harry Lime is a business tycoon, based in London, England, who works as a troubleshooter for a large international finance corporation. Harry was a major with Allied Intelligence during World War II and has incorporated those skills into his current profession. Bradford Webster is Harry's assistant and stories follow Harry as he and Bradford investigate cases for their company. Very loosely based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Michael Rennie (Harry Lime), Jonathan Harris (Bradford Webster).

8250 Third Rock from the Sun. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1996–2001). Aliens from an unnamed planet land near the Sweeny farm in Rutherford, Ohio. The aliens take on human form and find a home at 417 Pensdale Drive. Their assignment is to study life on Earth. Dick Solomon is the Commander; Sally becomes his sister; Harry, his brother; and Tommy, his son. Dick is a widower “because my wife burned up on re-entry.”

Dick teaches quantum physics at Pendleton University. He occupies office 109 in Hunt Hall and has become romantically involved with Dr. Mary Albright, a professor of anthropology, who is drawn to genius. In her youth, Mary posed nude for black and white photos in an art class; she and Dick frequent Balaska's Bar for a drink.

Dick prepares the daily status reports in limerick form for their superior, the Big Giant Head. When Dick needed a second job, he became a counter clerk at Rusty Burger. After several years on Earth, Dick feels heat, electricity and cooked meats have made him weak.

Sally, the security officer, is the woman “because I lost” (she is a male on their home planet). She is a lieutenant and her assignment is to report on the female human. She calls her breasts “the girls,” has a superior brain, and the ability to digest glass, “but I can't adjust to the mood swings.” When Sally finally adjusted to her body, she thought others needed to see it and volunteered to pose for Playboy magazine's “Co-Eds of the Midwest” issue (“but I was rejected for being too old”). Sally is dating police officer Don Leslie Orville and started a business called “Sally's Actual Salon — A Real Business” as a tax dodge (Harry worked there as “Mr. Harry”). Sally manipulates Don and Don knows it: “She plays me like a big dumb cello.” Don, Tommy and Harry bowl on a team called the Three Amigos.

Harry is the Transmitter (receives messages from the Big Giant Head). He worked as a bartender at McSorley's, but also held a position as Hargo the Alien at the LePine County Fair. On his home planet, Harry had a pet, a lower life form named Pickles.

Tommy, the information officer, has been assigned as the teenager to study Earth's culture. He attends Rutherford High School, is editor of the school newspaper, the Zephyr, and is required to be a model student. He briefly attended the Picnee County Day School for the Gifted when his intellect made him an above average student.

Although talked about, the Big Giant Head was seen only once. He posed as TV journalist Stone Phillips, wore an “I Love N.J.” baseball cap and fell in love with Earth life while visiting the Solomons. His one obsession was liquor — which he often misused and thus complicated life for the Solomons.

8251 Third Watch. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1999–2005). A compelling program that mixes crime drama with firefighting and rescue operations by paramedics. The series is set in New York City and features the mostly on duty life and death situations the men and women of the Manhattan 55th Precinct face in their everyday lives. The men of the firehouse have a dog (a Dalmatian) named Mantooth (allegedly named for Randolph Mantooth, the star of NBC's Emergency in 1972, one of TV's earliest series devoted to fire fighters and paramedics).

Cast: Coby Bell (Off. Tyrone “Ty” Davis, Jr.), Jason Wiles (Off. Maurice “Bosco” Boscorelli), Tia Texada (Sgt. Maritza Cruz), Alyxx Morgen (Nurse Morgan), Michael Beach (Monte “Doc” Parker), John Michael Bolger (Lieutenant Johnson), Anthony Ruivivar (Carlos Nieto), Molly Price (Det. Faith Yokas), Skipp Suduth (Off. John “Sully” Sullivan), Kim Raver (Kim Zambrano), Derek Kelly (D.K.), Yvonne Jung (Holly Levine), Eddie Cibrian (Jimmy Doherty), Chris Bauer (Fred Yokas), Bobby Cannavale (Roberto Caffey), Joe Lisi (Lieutenant Swersky), Amy Carlson (Alexandra “Alex” Taylor), Joseph Badalucco, Jr. (Jelly Grimaldi), Cara Buono (Grace Foster), Jeremy Bergman (Charlie Yokas), Bonnie Dennison (Emily Yokas), Saundra McClain (Nurse Mary Proctor), Susan Kelechi Watson (Emma St. Clair), Nick Sandow (Joe Lombardo), Monica Trombetta (Nurse Dana Murphy), Sakina Jaffrey (Dr. Hickman), Patti D'Arbanville (Rose Boscorelli), Kristopher Scott Fiedel (Joey Doherty), Nia Long (Off. Sasha Monroe), Lisa Vidal (Dr. Sara Morales), Josh Stewart (Off. Brendan Finney), Charles Haid (Capt. Cathel “C.T.” Finney), Lonetta McKee (Maggie Davis), Eva LaRue Callahan (Brooke).

8252 13 East. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989–1990). 13 East is the nurse's ward and the name of a hospital in an undisclosed locale. Maggie Poole is the head nurse and stories follow her efforts to deal with the problems that not only stem from an array of patients but those of her staff: Nurses Kelly Morrison, A.J. Gilroy, Monique Roberts and Janet Tom; Gertie Boston, the candy stripper; and Sidney Cooper, the orderly. Wayne Frazier is the hospital administrator; Warren Newman is the featured doctor on the floor. In the series original, unaired pilot film, the head nurse was African-American and played by Theresa Merritt. Maggie was a former army nurse who served in Vietnam.

Cast: Diana Bellamy (Maggie Poole), Ellen Regan (Janet Tom), Barbra Isenberg (Kelly Morrison), Rosemarie Jackson (A.J. Gilroy), Jan Cobler (Monique Roberts), Wayne Powers (Wayne Frazier), Marie Denn (Gertie Boston), Timothy Wade (Dr. Warren Newman), Eric Glenn (Sidney Cooper), Gino Conforti (Herbie Newman; Wayne's father), Dena Dietrich (Pearl Newman; Wayne's mother), Theresa Meritt (Nurse Etta Mae Jones; unaired pilot). Theme Vocal: "13 East" by Marie Cain.

8253 The 13 Ghosts of Scooby-Doo. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1985–1986). When Scooby-Doo, the cowardly Great Dane, opens a mysterious chest, he releases thirteen of the most terrifying hosts in the universe. Stories relate Scooby's efforts, assisted by his human friends Shaggy and Daphne, to return the ghosts to the Chest of Demons.

Voice Cast: Vincent Price (Vincent Van Ghoul), Don Messick (Scooby-Doo), Casey Kasem (Shaggy), Heather North (Daphne), Lennie Weinrib (Scrappy-Doo).

8254 13 Queens Boulevard. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1979). Events in the lives of a group of people who live on Queens Boulevard in Queens, New York. Principal focus is on the residents of 13 Queens Boulevard — Felicia and Steven Winters, a married couple who make it their business to take an interest in their neighbors lives: Elaine and her sister, Annie; Jill and her mother, Millie; Lois and her son, Donny; and Camille and her daughter Laurie. Originally titled Queen's Court.

Cast: Eileen Brennan (Felicia Winters), Jerry Van Dyke (Steven Winters), Marcia Rodd (Elaine Dowling), Susan Elliott, (Annie Dowling), Louise Williams (Jill Capestro), Helen Page Camp (Millie Capestro), Frances Lee McCain (Lois Sherman), Karen Rushmore (Camille), Rachel Jacobs (Laurie), Nicky Barton (Donny Sherman).

8255 13 Thirteenth Avenue. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/15/83). The apartment house at 13 Thirteenth Avenue in New York City is home to Dr. Carey, a psychiatrist with an unusual assortment of patients, all of whom live like a family in the building: Melinda, a beautiful witch; Roland, a vampire; Marv, a werewolf; and Vlastock, a troll. The unsold series was to relate Dr. Carey's efforts to help his patients adjust to a normal life. In the pilot episode, the "family" fears their secret will be exposed when the new tenants, an assistant D.A., Jack, and his son, Willie, move into the building.

Cast: Clive Revill (Dr. Carey), Ilene Graff (Melinda York), Paul Kreppel (Roland Keats), Robert Harper (Marv Hoberman), Ernie Sabella (Vlastock Spoltechzep), A.C. Weary (Jack Gordon), Wil Wheaton (Willie Gordon). Guest Cast: Elizabeth Savage (Joan Arthur), Stanley Brock (Mr. Epstein).

8256 The 13th Day: The Story of Esther. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 11/18/79). A potential series of Biblical stories. The initial presentation tells the Old Testament story of Esther, the beautiful Jewish girl who is wrested from her fiancé by the King of Persia to become his reluctant queen.

Cast: Olivia Hussey (Esther), Tony Musante (King), Harris Yulin (Haman), Nehemiah Persoff (Mordecai), Ted Wass (Simon), Erica Yohn (Sura), Kario Salem (Dalphon). Narrator: Raymond Burr.

8257 The 13th Gate. (Pilot; Science Fiction; NBC; 7/20/65). An unsold series about David Mathews, an agent for the U.S. government who investigates strange happenings. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Cloak of Mystery, David tries to determine if an unknown force was responsible for a near fatal accident involving a NASA space mission.

Cast: Karl Held (David Mathews), David Opatoshu (Dr. Jason Banner), Alex Vespi (Steve O'Hara), Joyce Taylor (Amy Hanson), Jeremy Slate (Major Andrew Clark).

8258 Thirty Minute Meals with Rachael Ray. (Series; Cooking; Food Network; 2005–). Recipes for preparing full meals — within thirty minutes by cookbook author and TV talk show host, Rachael Ray.

8259 30 Rock. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2006–). The Girlie Show "is a show for the ladies" that is produced in New York City at 30 Rockefeller Plaza, a building that is called "30 Rock." The Girlie Show is a sketch series. Its head writer is Liz Lemon, a woman who relocated from Chicago to New York to work on the series. She is totally dedicated to her job and hates to see change. The show, however, is not doing quite so well in the ratings and NBC brass decide Liz needs some help. They assign Jack Donaghy, a head honcho with the General Electric Division of NBC (he was responsible for creating Trivection ovens that use three kinds of heat to cook food faster) to retool Liz's show (his official title is Head of East Coast Programming). The series itself pokes fun at TV as it takes viewers behind the scenes to see what "really" happens before a sketch show is aired.

Jeanna Maroney is The Girlie Show star; Kenneth is the eager NBC page; Tracy Jordan is the comic Jack hires to boost ratings; Pete, Cerie and Joshua are fellow writers.

Cast: Tina Fey (Liz Lemon), Jane Krakowski (Jenna Maroney), Alec Baldwin (Jack Donaghy), Tracy Morgan (Tracy Jordan), Jack McBrayer (Kenneth), Katrina Bowden (Cerie), Scott Adsit (Pete Hornberger), Lonny Ross (Josh), Judah Friedlander (Frank), Rachel Dratch (Various Roles).

8260 30 Seconds to Fame. (Series; Variety; Fox; 2002). A talent search that puts extreme pressure on contestants — who have only thirty seconds to display their talent for the studio audience. Twenty-four acts compete. At the end of the competition the studio audience votes for the three best acts. The three finalists then perform one last time with the audience choosing the winner (who receives $25,000).

The program opens as follows: “Thirty Seconds to Fame starts now. Some of the acts you are about to see are dangerous. Please do not try them at home. From Los Angeles, performers from all across America have gathered tonight to battle it out for their chance at fame and fortune here on the fastest talent show ever, 30 Seconds to Fame.”

Host: Craig Jackson. Cheerleaders: Kari Ashford, Lisha Ashford.

8261 Thirty Something. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1987–1991). A slice of Yuppie life is seen through the activities of a group of adults in their thirties as they encounter real life problems in their search for security as they approach middle age. Particular focus is on Hope and Michael Steadman, a married couple who are the parents of young Janey.

Hope works as an editor at Synergy magazine. Michael and his friend, Elliot, run an ad agency called The Michael and Elliot Company. Elliot is married to Nancy. Other Regulars: Melissa, Michael’s cousin; Gary Shepherd, Michael’s friend; Susannah and Evelyn, Hope’s friends; Ruth and Ted, Hope’s parents; Charlie, Elliot’s father; Barbara, Michael’s mother; and Brad, Michael’s brother.

Cast: Mary Ellen “Mel” Harris (Hope Murdoch-Steadman), Ken Olin (Michael Steadman), Timothy Busfield (Elliot Weston), Patricia Wettig (Nancy Weston), Peter Horton (Gary Shepherd), Polly Draper (Ellyn Warren), Melanie Myron (Melissa), Shirley Knight (Ruth Murdoch), George Coe (Ted Murdoch), Patricia Kalember (Susannah Hart), Hayley Carr (Young Ellen), Eddie Albert (Charlie Weston), Barbara Barrie (Barbara Steadman), Danton Stone (Brad Steadman), Danielle Rioux (Melissa; age 12, flashbacks), Jade and Lauren Mortimer (Janey Steadman), Brittany and Lacey Craven (Janey Steadman; older).

8262 This American Life. (Series; Reality; Showtime; 2007). Profiles of people with unusual goals or occupations. The TV series is based on the National Public Radio program of the same title and presents two-to-three mini-documentaries per episode that profile people with the same or similar goals or impossible dreams they are seeking to fulfill.

Host-Narrator: Ira Glass.

8263 This Better Be It. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/10/76). A proposed series about Annie and Harry Bell, newlyweds who each previously had a bad marriage, as they attempt to make a new life for themselves. Other Regulars: Diana, Harry’s daughter; Flower, Annie’s daughter; and Paul, Diana’s fiancé.

Cast: Anne Meara (Annie Bell), Alex Rocco (Harry Bell), Ballie Gersten (Diana Bell), Linda Conrad (Flower), David Pollack (Paul).

8264 This Girl for Hire. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 11/1/83). Barbara Brady is a Los Angeles based private detective who charges $200 a day plus expenses. She drives a vintage ’48, packs a .38 and is a fan of old detective movies. The unsold series was to relate her cases and efforts to solve them in a manner fitting her detective film heroes of the 1940s. In the pilot episode, Barbara attempts to solve the murder of a famous mystery writer. Other Regulars: Zandra Stoneman, Barbara’s mother, a former actress; and Police Lieutenant Hanson of the L.A.P.D.

Cast: Bess Armstrong (Barbara Brady), Celeste Holm (Zandra Stoneman), Cliff De Young (Lieutenant Hanson). Guest Cast: Hermione Baddeley (Edwina Gaylord), Scott Brady (Mitch Dillon), Howard Duff (Wolfe Macready), Jose Ferrer (Harrison Woody), Beverly Garland (Evan Picard), Roddy McDowall (Manfred Hayes), Percy Rodrigues (Jonathan Eastman), Ray Walston (Abner Litto), Elisha Cook (Eddie).

8265 This Is Alice. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1958–1959). River Glen, “a good place to live,” is a small town in New Jersey. It has a population of 24,695, and its elevation is 322 feet. Alice Holliday is a bright and bubbly nine-year-old who lives at 857 Elm Street with her father, Chet, her mother, Clarissa Mae, and her grandfather, Colonel Dixon. Alice also has an infant brother named Junior, but no screen credit is given.

Alice attends the River Glen Elementary School with her friends Clarence (“Soapy”) Weaver, Susan Gray and Stingy Jones. Their classes are held in room 4B. Alice is president of the All for One Club (“Friends to the end” is their slogan); Susan is vice president. Alice is allowed to have as many pets as she wants — as long as she keeps them out of the house. She has many pets that she keeps in the garage, but only a few are given names: Pegasus (a pony), Rudolph (a frog) and Henry and Madeline (flies). Alice also has a little problem — a compulsion to help people in trouble, whether they want her help or not.

Chet works as a reporter for the local newspaper, the Star Herald; Clarissa Mae was born in Georgia, where her family owns a peanut plantation. Henry Weaver is Soapy's father; John Gray is Susan's father; and Mrs. Porter is Susan's grandmother.

Cast: Patty Ann Gerrity (Alice Holliday), Tommy Farrell (Chet Holliday), Phyllis Coates (Clarissa Mae Holliday), Lucien Littlefield (Colonel Dixon), Stephen Wootton (Soapy Weaver), Nancy DeCarl (Susan Gray), Benny Baker (Henry Weaver), Russell Arms (John Gray), Amy Douglas (Mrs. Porter).

8266 This Is Broadway. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949–1954). The alternate title for This Is Show Business. See this title for information.

8267 This Is Charles Laughton. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1952). The program features actor Charles Laughton reading selections from the Bible, classical and modern stories.

8268 This Is Galen Drake. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1957). A program of music and songs geared to children. Galen Drake is the host; Rita Ellis and Stuart Foster are his assistants.

8269 This Is Kate Bennett. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/28/82). Kate Bennett is a single mother and an investigative reporter for a Los Angeles television program called the News Six Team. Her efforts to cope with the demands of raising a daughter (Jenny) and being a career woman of the 1980s was to be the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Kate becomes the target of revenge when she covers a story involving a sniper who killed four women and angers the killer's mentally unstable brother — who then sets out to destroy her.

Other Regulars: Jeff, Kate's ex-husband; Ed, Kate's cameraman; Audrey, Kate's sound engineer; Tim, the Channel 6 weatherman; Seth, the news editor; Marv, Kate's superior; Melissa, the Channel 6 anchorwoman; Pat, Kate's secretary; Maura, the makeup woman; Larry, the rival investigative reporter; Mr. Fairmont, the Channel 6 news director; and Lisa, Jeff's fiancée.

Cast: Janet Eilber (Kate Bennett), Kyle Richards (Jenny Bennett), David Groh (Jeff Bennett), Greg Mullavey (Ed Fiore), Linda P. Stuart (Audrey), Granville Van Dusen (Tim Maxwell), Larry Breeding (Seth Greenwald), David Haskell (Harv Epstein), Stephanie Blackmore (Melissa Morgan), Nora Heflin (Pat Gans), Bever-Leigh Banfield (Maura Wilson), Fred Holliday (Larry Hamilton), James Noble (Mr. Fairmont), Carol Tru Foster (Lisa). Guest Cast: Joel Bailey (Bill Harris), Michael Talbott (Gary Harris), Dick Anthony Williams (Leonard Hayes), Helen Page Camp (Margaret Harris), William Bogert (Lawson), Michael Laurence (Fred Barnes), Jennifer Berito (Esther O'Donnell), Royce Wallace (Virginia Watson), Cheryl Francis (Mary Watson).

Cast: Peter Keleghan (Morton Swanson), Carol Huston (Kate Landry), Ron Fassler (Alan McCoy). Regulars: Dave Allen, Shannon Cochran, Paula McClure, Craig Stepp.

8280 This Man Dawson. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1959). The methods incorporated in the battle against crime as seen through the investigations of Colonel Frank Dawson, the police chief of a large, unidentified community.

Cast: Keith Andes (Frank Dawson).

8281 This Morning. (Series; Interview; ABC; 1968–1969). A mid-morning network series of celebrity interviews hosted by Dick Cavett. The series ran from April, 1968 to January 24, 1969. Fred Foy is the announcer.

8282 This Was America. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1981). A sensitive, candid look at the turn of the 20th century. The series, which uses narration over old photographs, depicts the plight of the various ethnic groups that came to America's shores seeking a new life.

Host-Narrator: William Shatner. Music: Edward Korvin. Theme Music: "This Was America" by Robert Cavicchio.

8283 This Week in Nemtin. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/14/72). A satirical survey of events that occur in the mythical country of Nemtin.

Cast: Alex Dreier (Newscaster), Carl Reiner (Wiseman).

8284 This Wife for Hire. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 3/18/85). Feeling discontent about her life and egged on by her friend, Valerie, who keeps reminding her what she would be earning if she were paid for all the things she does each day, Marsha Harper, a beautiful Costa Mesa, California, housewife, begins her own business: This Wife for Hire, a one woman organization through which she rents her services, which stop at the bedroom door, as a wife to men who require a housewife without the hassles of a marriage. The pilot episode relates Marsha's efforts to begin her business and her husband's efforts to adjust to the fact that he now has to share Marsha with other men. Other Regulars: Alan, Marsha's husband, a lawyer with the firm of Dunston, Simmons, Barstow, Hughes and Gibbs; Amy and Greg, Marsha's children; Larry, Alan's boss; and Kate, Larry's wife.

Cast: Pam Dawber (Marsha Harper), Robert Klein (Alan Harper), Maia Brewton (Amy Harper), Scott Nemes (Greg Harper), Ann Jillian (Valerie Roberts), David White (Larry Dunston), Lisa Figus (Kate Dunston). Guest Cast: Laraine Newman (Louise), Sal Viscuso (Paul Bellini), Dick Gautier (Howard Green), Sam J. Jones (Tommy Sellers), Tim Kazurinsky (Dr. Mel Greenfield), Nora Gaye (Candy Atwood), Tessa Richarde (Brenda). Theme Vocal: "This Wife for Hire" by Mitch Margo.

8285 Thompson's Ghost. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/5/66). While experimenting with some formulas she finds in a book on Black Magic, ten-year-old Annabelle Thompson accidentally conjures up the spirit of Henry Thompson, an ancestor who lived over 470 years ago. The potential series was to relate Henry's misadventures in the twentieth century. Other Regulars: Milly and Sam, Annabelle's parents; and Eddie, Annabelle's brother.

Cast: Bert Lahr (Henry Thompson), Pamela Dapo (Annabelle Thompson), Phyllis Coates (Milly Thompson), Robert Rockwell (Sam Thompson), Tim Matheson (Eddie Thompson). Guest Cast: Willard Waterman (Dr. Wheeler), Barry Kelly (Chief Watson), Trudy Howard (Nurse).

8286 Thor. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 5/22/88). While exploring a cave, Donald Blake, an anthropologist interested in Viking history, discovers an ancient stone tomb. Although he cannot read Viking writing, he is able to tell it is the tomb of Thor, a giant warrior king. When Blake picks up Thor's mighty hammer (which gave him strength), Thor appears and attaches himself to Donald, although they remain individual beings. (Thor is the rambunctious thunder god and the spoiled son of the mythical Norse god, Oden. Oden has banished Thor to Earth where he must perform good deeds by helping mankind before he can enter the Viking heaven, Valhalla.)

By speaking the word “Oden” and holding the hammer, Blake produces Thor, who can now function apart from Donald. The unsold series was to focus on Thor, who along with Donald Blake, will carry out the sentence imposed by his father by fighting crime and injustice. In the pilot episode, broadcast as the television movie The Incredible Hulk Returns, Donald teams with David Banner and the Hulk to battle Jack LeBeau, a corrupt military leader, from stealing a newly developed Gamma Transponder, a device David believes will help him end his transformations into the Hulk.

Cast: Steve Levitt (Donald Blake), Eric Kramer (Thor). Guest Cast: Bill Bixby (David Banner), Lou Ferrigno (The Hulk), Lee Purcell (Maggie Shaw), John Gabriel (Josh Lambert), Tim Thomerson (Jack LeBeau).

8287 The Thorns. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1988). Events in the everyday lives of the Thorns, a rich and snobbish family of five (parents Sloan and Ginger and their children Joey, Chad and Edmond) who live in Manhattan. (Sloan owns the Sloan Public Relations Agency.) Other Regulars: Cricket, Ginger’s mother’s helper; Toinette, the maid; Rose, Sloan’s mother.

Cast: Tony Roberts (Sloan Thorn), Kelly Bishop (Ginger Thorn), Lisa Rieffel (Joey Thorn), Jesse Tandler (Edmond Thorn), Adam Bisek (Chad Thorn), Lori Petty (Cricket Henshaw), Mary Louise Wilson (Toinette), Marilyn Cooper (Rose Thorn), Dorothy Loudon (Lounge singer in opening theme).

8288 The Thornton Show. (Live Test Program; Women; CBS; 8/22/46). Beauty tips and advice coupled with interviews and demonstrations. The program is produced in cooperation with the Walter Thornton Model Agency and features the wife of the agency owner as the host (who shows various makeup techniques on live models). Dorothy Barrett, the fashion editor of Mayfair magazine, showed first how the improper use of makeup can ruin a girl’s looks and how the same girl (a model) can drastically change her image with the correct use of makeup.

Host: Judy Thornton. Guests: Sally Archdeaton, Dorothy Barrett, Virginia Cavanaugh, Tita Cornell.

8289 Those Amazing Animals. (Series; Human Interest; ABC; 1980–1981). A fascinating look at the world of animals — and the amazing things they do.

Hosts: Burgess Meredith, Priscilla Presley, Jim Stafford. Regulars: Jacques Costeau, Joan Embrey.

8290 Those Endearing Young Charms. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1951–1952). The trials and tribulations of the Charms, a not-so-typical American family, who support themselves by running a mail order business that caters to collectors of household gadgets. Ralph and Abby are the parents; Connie and Clem are their children.

8291 Those Two. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951–1953). A program of music, songs and performances by guests that is built around the antics of an accompanist (Pinky) who is in love with a nightclub singer (Vivian; later replaced by Martha) who has no interest in him.

Cast: Pinky Lee (Pinky), Vivian Blaine (Vivian), Martha Stuart (Martha). Orchestra: Harry Lubin.

8292 Those Whiting Girls. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955). Eleanor Whiting is a widow and the mother of two talented but diversely different daughters, Barbara and Margaret. Margaret is a singer (although she has yet to make a name for herself) and Barbara is a student at U.C.L.A. who hopes to become an actress and achieve success on the big screen. Stories, which are set in Hollywood, California, relate events in the lives of the sisters as they struggle to achieve their dreams. Artie Grayson is Margaret’s accompanist; Daisy and Penny are Barbara’s friends. The summer series ran from July 4, 1955 to September 26, 1955.

Cast: Margaret Whiting (Margaret Whiting), Barbara Whiting (Barbara Whiting), Mabel Albertson (Eleanor Whiting), Jerry Paris (Artie Grayson), Beverly Long (Daisy Dunbar), Kathleen Nolan (Penny).

8293 Threat Matrix. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2003). The program opens with these words: “Every morning at 0800 hours, the President of the United States is given a report that outlines the most active international and domestic threats against the United States. This document is called the Threat Matrix. To combat these threats, the President, through the Department of Homeland Security, has created a highly specialized, elite task force whose mission is to keep our country safe from enemies determined to destroy our way of life.”

John Kilmer, a former FBI agent, heads the unit, which is based at the Homeland Security Ops Center in Washington, D.C. The center was established after the 9/11 attacks and comprises members from the CIA, FBI and NSA. John is 42 years old and reports only to Colonel Roger Atkins, the liaison to the President. Also part of John’s team are his ex-wife, Special Agent Frankie Ellroy-Kilmer, an interrogation expert and master profiler; Mo, an Egyptian-

American CIA operative who was stationed in the Middle East; Lia Larkin, an FBI forensics expert; Tim Serrano, a former Drug Enforcement Agency agent; Jelani, an African-American computer expert; and Holly Brodein, a mute who communicates via sign language, who is the team's computer whiz at their base, "The Vault."

Cast: James Denton (John Kilmer), Kelly Rutherford (Frankie Ellroy-Kilmer), Will Lyman (Roger Atkins), Anthony Azizi (Mo), Melora Walters (Lia Larkin), Kurt Caceres (Tim Serrano), Mahershalah-baz Ali (Jelani), Shoshannah Stern (Holly Brodein).

8294 Three. (Series; Adventure; WB; 1998). Jonathan Vance is an expert thief; Amanda Webb is a con artist and judo expert; Marcus Miller is a computer hacker who is called "The Candyman" (he robs from the rich to give to the poor). Each is wanted by the FBI but have thus far been able to escape capture — until they are found and invited to meet The Man, the head of a mysterious government agency called The Organization. The Organization requires people with unique skills; Amanda, Jonathan and Marcus have those skills. The Man offers the three a choice: work for him or face imprisonment. Stories follow the adventures of Amanda, Marcus and Jonathan as they use their unique skills to perform sensitive missions for The Organization.

Cast: Edward Atterton (Jonathan Vance), Julie Bowen (Amanda Webb), Bumper Robinson (Marcus Miller), David Warner (The Man).

8295 Three About Town. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1948). A fifteen-minute interlude series-featuring singer-pianist Betsi Allison (the title refers to Betsi and her twin pianos). The series ran from August 11, 1948 to October 27, 1948 .

8296 Three Coins in the Fountain. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/10/70). Maggie Wilson is an American girl living in Rome, Italy, and working as a secretary. She shares an apartment (at 27 Verda LaCruca) with two other Americans, Dorothy and Ruth. The unsold series, based on the 1954 feature film of the same title, was to follow their romantic misadventures. Other Regulars: Gino, the waif taken in by the girls.

Cast: Cynthia Pepper (Maggie Wilson), Yvonne Craig (Dorothy), Joanna Moore (Ruth), Antony Alda (Gino), Nino Castelnuovo (Count Giorgio; guest role). Theme Vocal: "Three Coins in the Fountain" by Trini Lopez.

8297 Three Eyes. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 6/27/82). Tony, Buzz and Cowboy are three private investigators who run The Three Eyes, a combination night club and private detective agency at 3645 Marina Del Ray in Los Angeles. The unsold series was to focus on their efforts to solve cases by doing whatever it takes. In the pilot episode, The Three Eyes are hired by Barbara Harmon to locate her missing husband, Jerry, an embezzler who disappeared, then had plastic surgery to change his appearance. Other Regulars: Francis, the night club manager; and Ace, the club busboy.

Cast: Ed Marinaro (Tony Rossi), Michael Horton (Buzz), Robin Strand (Cowboy; a.k.a. Dolph), Allan Miller (Francis), Peter Barton (Ace). Guest Cast: Kim Lankford (Barbara Harmon), Peter Brown (James Bemmelman), Larry Manetti (Vincent), Madge Sinclair (Molly), Noah Hathaway (Jason Harmon), Richard Dunus (Jackie Morse).

8298 The Three Flames Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). A live program of music and songs with the Three Flames, a popular black trio (vocal and instrumental) of the 1940s. The series ran from June 13, 1949 to August 20, 1949.

Stars: Tiger Haynes (Guitar), Roy Testamark (Piano), Bill Pollard (Bass).

8299 Three for Danger. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 9/8/67). A proposed series about Chris, Alan and Simon, three soldiers of fortune who hire out their expertise for a price. In the pilot episode, the trio becomes involved in a woman's plot to steal ten million dollars in gold from a Mexican bank.

Cast: Larry Pennell (Chris), Alejandro Rey (Alan), Charles Carlson (Simon). Guest Cast: Joanna Petter (Serena), Jason Evers (Kirk), John Van Dreelen (Lassiter).

8300 Three for Tahiti. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/19/70). Kelly, Muk and Jay are three men plagued by life's endless problems. In an attempt to get away from it all, they pool their resources and purchase, sight unseen, a hotel in Tahiti. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they attempt to operate what turns out to be a hotel fraught with problems. Other Regulars: Cecil, their friend; and Longet, the local police chief.

Cast: Robert Hogan (Kelly), Bob Einstein (Muk), Steve Franken (Jay), Alan Oppenheimer (Cecil Barrett), Marcel Hillaire (Longet).

8301 Three for the Money. (Series; Game; NBC; 1975). Two three-member teams compete. Three categories, each containing three questions, are revealed. A question chosen from one of the categories is read and clues appear on an electronic board. The player who is first to sound a buzzer stops the clues from progressing and receives a chance to answer; if a correct answer is given, money is scored. If the player is incorrect, the opposing team has the opportunity to win the money by giving a correct response. The remaining categories are played in the same manner. Several rounds are played and the team with the highest score is the winner.

Host: Dick Enberg. Model: Jane Nelson. Announcer: Jack Clark.

8302 Three for the Money. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 4/3/90). A proposed spin-off from Midnight Caller about that series star, Jack Killian's estranged father, J.J.; his brother, Frankie, an ex-con (jailed for car theft); and Frankie's girlfriend, Willie, as unusual sleuths who operate Finders of Lost Things, a San Francisco-based agency that will find anything for a price. In the pilot episode, the trio attempts to locate a stolen Buddha.

Cast: Peter Boyle (J.J. Killian), Scott Valentine (Frankie Killian), Cynthia Gibb (Willie Johnson). Guest Cast: Gary Cole (Jack Killian), Patricia Charbonneau (Dakota Roberts), Nicholas Coster (Connor McCarthy), David Marciano (Jerry Bones).

8303 Three for the Road. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1975). The Zebec is a mobile home owned by Pete Karras, a renowned free lance photographer. He is a widower and the father of two sons, Endy and John. Pete needs to go where the stories are and takes to the road with Endy and John as his assistants. Stories follow Pete as he travels across the country seeking story material (and helping the people he meets in trouble).

Cast: Alex Rocco (Pete Karras), Vincent Van Patten (John Karras), Leif Garrett (Endy Karas).

8304 The Three Garridebs. (Experimental; Mystery; NBC; 11/27/37). An adaptation of the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in which Sherlock Holmes is asked to help find a man with the odd name of Garrideb to fill the conditions of an eccentric's will and allow a lonely old man to collect a fabulous inheritance.

Cast: Louis Hector (Sherlock Holmes), William Podmore (Dr. John H. Watson), Eustace Wyatt (Inspector Lestrade), Violet Bosson (Mrs. Hudson), Arthur Maitland (John Garrideb), Harold DeBecker (Nathan Garrideb).

8305 Three Girls Three. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1977). A three episode musical comedy program that spotlights the talents of three unknown "but terribly talented girls doing a variety series about three unknown but terribly talented girls." One episode ran on March 20, 1977; the remaining two episodes on June 15 and June 29, 1977.

Hosts: Debbie Allen, Ellen Foley, Mimi Kennedy. Regulars: Warren Burton, Richard Byrd, Oliver Clark. Orchestra: Marvin Laird.

8306 Three Hearts. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1991). A proposed series about three recent high school graduates (Robbie, Lynn and Carrie) who work at a diner while trying to figure out what to do with their lives.

Cast: Kiersten Warren (Robbie), Meredith Lynn Scott (Lynn), Pamela Segall (Carrie), Florence Stanley (Mrs. Furgo), John Terlesky (Hank).

8307 Three Houses. (Experimental; Serial; CBS; 10/22/45, 10/24/45, 10/26/45). Three Houses is the simple story of three families who live next to one another in the same neighborhood. The program is also television's first attempt at creating its own soap opera (as opposed to borrowing from radio; see Big Sister). The serial lasted for only three twenty-minute broadcasts and focused on the efforts of Karl Bentley (Marty Miller), the young son of one of the families, to resolve a dispute between two of the families and find a date for his sister for a big dance.

Cast: Bonnie Baker, Henry Barnard, Wayne Gibson, Paul Kornspan, Marty Miller, Julie Warren, Richard Via.

8308 Three Moons Over Milford. (Series; Drama; ABC Family; 2006). Milford appears to be a typical small American town. However, when a meteor strikes the moon and divides it into three pieces, strange things begin to happen. One of those three moons is likely to fall to Earth and destroy the planet — but scientists cannot pinpoint an exact date. It also causes some bizarre happenings in Milford: people begin to express strange behavior. Their hidden desires and suppressed urges suddenly become the most important thing in their lives and pursuing them takes priority over everything else. Particular focus is on Laura Davis, the wife of Carl Davis, the richest man in Milford (the top executive at a company called Syndek). When the moon was split into three, Carl quit his job to pursue a long suppressed desire: climb the world's highest mountains. He deserted Laura and left the responsibility of raising their two teenage children, Lydia and Alex to her. Michelle Graybar is the town's over-achieving real estate agent; Mack McIntyre is the town's most eligible bachelor, an attorney called "Mr. Fix It" (as he can resolve any legal issue); and Claire Ling is an independent woman in her early 20s who is the object of 16-year-old Alex's affection.

Cast: Elizabeth McGovern (Laura Davis), Teresa Celentano (Lydia Davis), Sam Murphy (Alex Davis), Nora Dunn (Michelle Graybar), Rob Boltin (Mack McIntyre), Samantha Lee Quan (Claire Ling).

8309 The Three Musketeers. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1956). D'Artagan, Porthos and Aramis are Musketeers, specially trained swordsmen of the 1620s who are dedicated to protecting the throne of France against all its enemies. Stories focus in particular on their battle against Richileu, an evil Prime Minister, who seeks to rule the country. Based on the story by Alexandre Dumas. The series produced 26 episodes.

Cast: Jeffrey Stone (D'Artagnan), Peter Trent (Porthos), Paul Campbell (Aramis), Martina Berti (Jacqueline), Sebastian Cabot (Count of Brisemont), George Conneur (Captain De Treville), Alan Furlan (Sasquinet).

8310 Three of a Kind. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 5/6/89). After writing a book that portrays the CIA in a bad light, agent Charlie Gordon is ousted. He retreats to the south of France where he opens a restaurant called Charlie's. There he meets Giancarlo Rinaldi, an expelled spy who becomes his chef (he has a passion for Italian cooking and women, but not necessarily in that order). Rounding out the picture is Boris Koragin, a former spy with the KGB and an old colleague of Charlie's who has also taken to the French Rivera. Although separated from their homelands and out of the spy business, they can't completely close the door on their former lives. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they ban together to correct the injustices they encounter. In the pilot episode, they seek a missing American journalist.

Cast: Beau Bridges (Charlie Gordon), Ian Ogilvy (Giancarlo Rinaldi), Emrys James (Boris Koragin). Guest Cast: Sheligh McLeod (Sarah Carlisle), Charlotte Cornwall (Dixie Gordon), Stuart Margolin (Billy Joe).

8311 Three on a Match. (Series; Game; NBC; 1971–1974). Each of the three players who compete presses a button and locks in the number of questions he wishes to answer (one to four) about one of three category topics that are revealed. The players choices are revealed and each bet scores ten dollars, which becomes the money that is available for that round. True-or-false questions are asked of the players, beginning with the highest bidder, and a player can only win money by correctly answering his wagered amount of questions. When a player scores at least $150, he is permitted to play "Three On a Match." A large, twelve-square game board is displayed that is composed of three vertical rows of money ($20, $30 or $40) and four horizontal rows of colors (red, green, blue or yellow). The player purchases a square by naming a color and an amount. A merchandise prize represented by that square is revealed. Two additional squares contain the same prize. The player has thirty seconds to call a cash amount and a color. If the player is able to match the first square he chose with two identical squares, he receives the prize that is represented, becomes the champion and faces two new challengers. If he is unsuccessful, the game continues and follows the previous format until one player matches three squares (the prizes change position with each player's gamble).

Host: Bill Cullen. Announcer: Don Pardo.

8312 Three on a Match. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 8/2/87). Seizing upon the opportunity to escape from a Louisiana prison farm, three mismatched cons (Scott, a naive computer expert; Maxwell, a roguish con artist; and Ripper, a tough guy) manage to get away but become the prey of Hornet and Bull, guards ordered to apprehend them. The unsold series was to relate Scott, Maxwell and Ripper's adventures as they attempt to remain one step ahead of the law.

Cast: Patrick Cassidy (Scott Crossfield), David Hemmings (Maxwell Newton), Bruce A. Young (Andy "Ripper" Griffin), Lance LeGault (Hornet), Mitch Pileggi (Bull Tully). Guest Cast: Everett McGill (Boss), Deborah Pratt (Sissy Griffin), Kendall Conrad (Sarah), Dendrie Allyn Taylor (Mary Lou), John Calvin (Mark), Joseph Adams (Chad), David Hart (Ray Bob), Geraldine Pratt (Mama).

8313 Three on an Island. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/27/65). Taffy, Kris and Andrea are three beautiful girls living on the island of Manhattan who own half interest in a glass-jawed prize fighter named Julius Sweetley. The pilot episode relates how the girls acquire Julius when Taffy, a sculptress, accepts half his contract as payment for a job and rename him "Bulldog" and the series unsold storyline as they attempt to launch him on a winning career.

Cast: Pamela Tiffin (Taffy Warren), Julie Newmar (Kris Meeker), Monica Moran (Andrea Franks), Jody McCrea (Julius Sweetley), Sheila Bromley (Martha Sweetley; Julius's wife). Guest Cast: Rhodes Reason (Perry), Ned Glass (Riley), Ron Husmann (Glen).

8314 Three Passports to Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1970). Adventurer Hal Hinker, his wife Hallas and their son, David host and narrate films of their world-wide travels.

8315 3 Lbs. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2006). Three pounds is the approximate weight of the human brain. It is a mysterious organ with many hidden secrets. The doctors (brain surgeons) at Saint Abigail Hospital are dedicated to not only solving its mysteries, but saving the lives of the people who are severely affected by it.

Dr. Doug Hanson is a man who sees the world as a purely logical place. He believes "the brain is wires in a box." All questions have answers and he can or cannot save someone's life. There is no gray area to him. He has no bedside manner and appears to care only about the disease — not the patient (as patients say, "There he goes, walking away").

Dr. Jonathan Seger is a brain surgeon who has been selected for a fellowship at St. Abigail (called a neurological center by Doug) to study under Dr. Hanson. Jonathan is Doug's complete opposite. He believes in treating not only the patient but also the disease. Jonathan feels he must get to know the patient to provide the best treatment and a hopeful cure. He believes the brain is too mysterious to fully understand. Looking at X-rays is like looking at an undiscovered country to Jonathan. While Jonathan goes on hunches and will order tests if he feels the need, Doug will not run tests without the evidence needed to support it. Despite their differences, each man respects the other and as Jonathan says, “The most advanced equipment in the hospital is Doug’s judgment.”

Also featured is Dr. Adrienne Holland, a neurologist who believes in holistic procedures. She also hates rules and examines each patient barefoot. Each episode interweaves two to three stories.

Cast: Mark Feuerstein (Dr. Jonathan Singer), Indira Varma (Dr. Adrienne Holland), Addison Timlin (Charlotte), Armando Riesco (Dr. Tom Flores), Stanley Tucci (Dr. Douglas Hanson), Zabryna Guevara (Melina Ortiz), Malachi Weir (Eddie).

8316 The Three Robonic Stooges. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1978–1981). An updated version of the 1940s theatrical series, The Three Stooges. A space-age Moe, Larry and Curly, robots constructed from the finest parts available, use their fumbling ways to battle the sinister forces of evil. Triple O is their superior.

Voice Cast: Paul Winchell (Moe), Joe Baker (Larry), Frank Welker (Curly), Ross Martin (Triple O).

8317 Three Sisters. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2001–2002). Nora, Annie and Bess are three close sisters who live in Los Angeles. They are the children of Harry and George and stories follow events in their lives.

Nora is the oldest and the most unstable of the sisters. She is a graduate of Stanford University and works as a documentary filmmaker for the Discovery Channel. She is later a professor of film production at the University of Southern California. Nora smokes and drinks and is divorced from Elliott (who left her when he realized he was gay).

Bess is the middle sister. She is married to Steve Eubanks (who feels that her sister’s problems are also his problems). Bess is a marketing executive for McClaren and Clark Foods (where she is called “Miss Snooty Pants” for her all work no play attitude). Steve is a sports complex architect at Keats and Riley.

Annie is the youngest (21) of the sisters. Before acquiring a job as a bartender at The Canteen (“Although I don’t know anything about pushing beer or mixing drinks”) Annie was a Jill of all trades. Annie is so sweet and disarming that people fall in love with her and want to do things for her (how she got the bartending job).

Honey and George are a liberal couple who have been married for 35 years. George is a graduate of Oxford University and is now a university professor. Honey is a former Playboy Bunny who still relishes in the fact that she has the body of a 20-year-old. She teaches yoga classes (Beyond Yoga) from her home and is a graduate of UCLA.

Cast: Vicki Lewis (Nora Bernstein-Flynn), A.J. Langer (Annie Bernstein-Flynn), Katherine Lanasa (Bess Eubanks), Dyan Cannon (Honey Bernstein- Flynn), Peter Bonerz (George Bernstein-Flynn), David Alan Basche (Steven Eubanks).

8318 Three Steps to Heaven. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1953–1954). The dramatic story of Poco Thurman, a young woman struggling to succeed as a model in New York City. The series ran from July 31, 1953 to December 31, 1954.

Cast: Phyllis Hill (Poco Thurman), Kathleen McGuire (Poco Thurman; later), Mark Roberts (Bill Morgan), Walter Brooks (Bill Morgan; later), Joe Brown, Jr. (Mike), Lori March (Jennifer), Laurie Vendig (Alice), Ginger McManus (Angela), Doris Rich (Mrs. Doane), Roger Sullivan (Barry Thurmond), Inge Adams (Laura), Frank Twedell (Uncle Frank), Eata Linden (Pigeon Malloy), Earl George (Walter Jones), Mona Burns (Charlotte Doane), Lauren Gilbert (Jason Cleve), Beth Douglas (Nan), John Marley (Vince Bannister), Dort Clark (Alan Anderson). Also: Diana Douglas, Mercer McCloud, Irving Taylor. Organist: Charles Paul.

8319 330 Independence S.W. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 3/20/62). A proposed spin-off from The Dick Powell Show about Jim Corcoran, an investigator for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In the pilot episode, Jim attempts to track down the source of illegal pep pills.

During the spring and summer of 1963, a series based on the pilot was set by Four Star Productions and was to be titled The Robert Taylor Show. While shooting the fifth episode, HEW withdrew its approval and the series was canceled. The four never-telecast episodes were produced by Bruce Geller and Bernard L. Kowalski.

Cast: David McLean (Jim Corcoran), Julie Adams (Robin; his girlfriend). Guest Cast: William Bendix (Guts Finney), Alan Reed (Guy Vista), Yale Summers (Jeff), Ed Kemmer (Mac), Les Damon (Mr. Somers), Adrienne Ellis (Connie), Norman Alden (Gooby), Bert Freed (Joe Vista).

8320 333 Montgomery. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 6/13/60). The pilot film that would eventually evolve into the series Sam Benedict. The story of Jake Brittin, a criminal attorney who resides at 333 Montgomery in San Francisco. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Theater, Jake defends a man accused of killing his sweetheart’s father. Based on the book, Never Plead Guilty, by Jacob Ehrlich.

Cast: DeForest Kelley (Jake Brittin), Joanne Davis (Jake’s secretary), Tom Greenway (Police Captain), Joanna Barnes (Eva Fremont), Midge Ware (Liz), Steve Peck (Frank Piper).

8321 Three Times Daley. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/3/76). The comic adventures of Bob Daley, a divorced newspaper columnist, his son, Wes, and his father, Alex — three generations of one family trying to live together under one roof. Other Regulars: Stacy, Bob's friend; and Jenny, Wes's friend.

Cast: Don Adams (Bob Daley), Jerry Houser (Wes Daley), Liam Dunn (Alex Daley), Bibi Besch (Stacy), Ayn Ruymen (Jenny).

8322 Three Wishes. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/29/63). While in the basement of her uncle's antique shop, Annie Brenner accidentally locks herself in. While seeking a way out, she stumbles upon a dusty old lamp. As Annie begins to dust it off, a puff of smoke emerges and materializes into a genie. Having released the genie from 1,000 years of imprisonment, she becomes his master. The unsold series was to relate Annie's adventures as the master of a genie who can grant any wish. The pilot episode establishes the series storyline. Other Regulars: Annie's Uncle Jonas; Henry, Annie's boyfriend; and Miles, Henry's friend.

Cast: Diane Jergens (Annie Brenner), Gustavo Rojo (Genie), Wallace Ford (Uncle Jonas), George Grizzard (Henry), Gage Clark (Miles Bunker), Dan Tobin (John Bunker; guest role).

8323 Three Wishes. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2005). The wishes of deserving, real-life people are granted on this reality series. Host Amy Grant introduces viewers to the people chosen by friends or relatives to have a special wish granted. The program then grants these wishes with cameras capturing all the emotions that unsuspecting people have when, from out of nowhere, their dreams come true.

8324 The Three Wives of David Wheeler. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/1/79). David Wheeler, the owner of Wheeler Graphic Arts, is a man with three wives: Ginger, his first ex-wife and still his business partner; Bibi, his second ex-wife, a model he still employs; and Julia, his current wife, a girl who understands — usually. The unsold series was to focus on the misadventures that occur as David tries to divide his time between his three wives. Other Regulars: Vinnie, David's photographer; and Debbie, David's secretary.

Cast: Art Hindle (David Wheeler), Cathy Lee Crosby (Ginger Wheeler), Sheryl Lynn Katzman (Bibi Wheeler), Nancy Grigor (Julia Wheeler), Archie Hahn (Vinnie), Susan Tolsky (Debbie).

8325 Three's a Crowd. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1967). John Jake (J.J.) Hopper and Charlie Craft are friends who run The Hopcraft Air Taxi Company. One day an adventurous girl named Laura comes into J.J.'s life and sweeps him off his feet, so much so, that he marries her shortly after. Laura, being the outdoors type, insists on an exciting honeymoon in Africa. While on a safari, Laura becomes lost in the deep brush and is assumed to have died when she cannot be found. A heartbroken J.J. returns to Los Angeles, but he now feels life is meaningless. Shortly after, while wandering aimlessly, he steps onto a street and is about to be hit by a car when a girl named Linda comes to his aid and saves his life. Linda, a hopeful actress, is loving, charming and a bit kookie. J.J. finds a new meaning to life and marries her. All is going well for J.J. until Laura turns up — very much alive — and J.J. finds himself with two wives, each of whom he decides to keep secret from the other. The unsold series was to relate J.J.'s efforts to live two normal lives while trying to figure out how to remedy the situation without hurting either wife. In the pilot episode, each of J.J.'s wives plan to celebrate his birthday by throwing him a surprise party. Not much of a problem until he discovers that Linda and Laura unknowingly booked adjoining halls at the same hotel. His efforts to attend both parties and keep both wives a secret was the focal point. Other Regulars: Laslo, Linda's father, an acting teacher.

Cast: Bill Bixby (J.J. Hopper), Herb Edelman (Charlie Craft), Brenda Benet (Laura Hopper), Susan Bay (Linda Hopper), E.J. Andre (Laslo). Guest Cast: Nancy Andrews (Jessie), Don Penny (Harvey).

8326 Three's a Crowd. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1979). The object is to determine who knows a husband best — his wife or his secretary. Three husbands are asked three questions relating to either his wife or his secretary. The secretaries then join their employers and are asked the same questions. Each response on the part of the secretary that matches her employer's scores her one point. The wives are then brought out and asked the same three questions — but in order to score points, she must match both her husband and his secretary's answers. The team (secretary or wife) that scores highest splits $1,000.

Host: Jim Peck. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

8327 Three's a Crowd. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1984–1985). A spin-off from Three's Company but based on the British series Robin's Nest (see entry). After eight years, the curtain comes down on Three's Company: Jack falls in love with Vicky Bradford, an airline stewardess; Janet announces her plans to marry Philip Dawson (an art dealer played by David Ruprecht); and Terri is transferred to Hawaii. As Janet and Terri depart, Jack and Vicky move into an apartment above Jack's restaurant, Jack's Bistro. The new series depicts their courtship (and eventual marriage) and their efforts to run the bistro. James Bradford is Vicky's father (and Jack's landlord — the three's a crowd of the title as he is forever meddling in Jack and Vickie's lives); Claudia is Vicky's mother; E.Z. Taylor is Jack's assistant chef; Billie Bird is Jack's Aunt Mae. The series is also known as Three's Company, Too.

Cast: John Ritter (Jack Tripper), Mary Cadorette (Vicky Bradford), Robert Mandan (James Bradford), Jessica Walter (Claudia Bradford), Alan Campbell

(E.Z. Taylor), Billie Bird (Jack's Aunt Mae). Theme Song: "Side by Side" by Al Kasha, Joel Hirschhorn, Don Nicholl.

8328 Three's Company. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950). A twice-weekly series of music, songs and light comedy that ran from May 18, 1950 to September 29, 1950.

Host: Cy Walter. Regulars: Stan Freeman, Judy Lynn, Martha Wright.

8329 Three's Company. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1977–1984). Apartment 201 of the Ropers Apartment House in Santa Monica, California, is home to Janet Wood, Christmas "Chrissy" Snow and Jack Tripper, three singles attempting to live a strictly platonic relationship.

Janet and Chrissy originally share the apartment with Eleanor Garvey (Marianne Black). When Eleanor leaves to get married (to a man named Teddy, whom she later divorces), Janet and Chrissy throw a farewell party that gets Janet and a party crasher (Jack) so drunk that Janet attempts a striptease and Jack falls asleep in the bathtub. Janet and Chrissy need a new roommate to help pay the $300 a month rent. When they find Jack and learn he is living at the YMCA and can do something neither of them can — cook — they rent him Eleanor's old room for $100 a month. To convince their landlords, Stanley and Helen Roper, that "there will be no funny business," Janet tells Stanley that Jack is gay — a charade he must continue throughout the entire series run.

Janet was born in Massachusetts and works as a salesgirl (later manager) of the Arcade Florist Shop. She talks and nags and usually gets her way by doing so ("People just give in to shut me up"). She is the practical one of the group and is looking to marry and settle down. Janet exercises to keep her figure but feels she has one shortcoming: her small breasts. Janet panics when she gets upset and in the last episode, she accepted the marriage proposal of her boyfriend, art dealer Philip Dawson (David Ruprecht).

Jack is a cooking student at the L.A. Technical School (specializing in French cuisine). Jack's father called him "Junior" and as a kid, Jack was a Davy Crockett fan. He attended San Diego High School and served a hitch in the Navy; he has a tattoo on his behind that says "The Love Butt." After graduating ("You're looking at the Galloping Gourmet of 1980") Jack acquired a fulltime job as chef at Angelino's Italian Restaurant. He later opens his own French eatery called Jack's Bistro (at 834 Ocean Vista, Los Angeles). The last episode finds Jack returning home from a chefs' convention in San Francisco and falling in love with Victoria "Vicky" Bradford (Mary Cadorette), a stewardess. This led to the spin off series, Three's Company, Too, which is also known as Three's a Crowd (see this title for information).

Chrissy is the beautiful, blonde daughter of a minister. She was born in Fresno on Christmas Day (hence her name) and works as a secretary for an unnamed company (possibly J.C. Braddock & Company as her employer is a woman named J.C. Braddock, played by Emmaline Henry). Chrissy was also a salesgirl for the Easy Time Cosmetics Company. Jack and Janet worry about Chrissy. She is sweet and trusting and they feel her naiveté may attract the wrong kind of man (she has a habit of turning men on without realizing she is doing it). Chrissy does dumb things, cries when she gets upset and has a habit of sleepwalking (in a shortie nightgown) when she goes to bed worrying (a situation that started as a kid. Being the daughter of a minister, she had to be the best in bible class, the best in school, the best at everything).

A contract dispute forced Suzanne Somers to leave the series. She was first seen in cameos (a quick phone call to Jack and Janet telling them she is in Fresno caring for her sick mother) then written out when her cousin Cynthia "Cindy" Snow arrives to become their new roommate ("Chrissy said I could stay here while she's gone").

Cindy is tall, and like Chrissy, blonde and beautiful. She is also clumsy and accident-prone (Jack is most often on the receiving end of her mishaps). She has a basset hound named Wilbur, is a student at UCLA and earns extra money as a secretary or by hiring herself out as a maid.

Terri. When Cindy moves into a dormitory near school, Terri Alden becomes Janet and Jack's new roommate. Terri, a nurse at Wilshire Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles, was born in Indiana. Although Terri is the new roommate, Cindy still appears (she is seen in the opening theme and stops by to visit). Terri is also a blonde beauty who agrees to keep Jack's secret. She is warm and caring but easily exasperated. In the last episode, Terri leaves for a job opportunity in Hawaii.

Larry Dallas is Jack's friend, a playboy who lives in Apartment 304 at the Ropers. He is a rather dishonest used car salesman (for an unnamed company; he calls himself "Honest Larry, the used car salesman"). He is always in need of money and always borrowing it from Jack. He and Jack have drinks (usually beer) at the Regal Beagle, a bar styled after a British pub, and lust for Greedy Gretchen (Teresa Ganzel), a girl who is apparently the ideal dream date.

Stanley and Helen Roper own the apartment house. They are an older couple who live on the ground floor. Stanley has a hard time parting with money and believes Jack is gay while Helen knows he is straight. Helen, a USO entertainer during World War II, craves love and affection but just doesn't get it (Stanley always finds an excuse to avoid romantic situations). Helen says she wakes up with a headache every morning — "Stanley." Stanley always manages to intrude on a conversation that leads him to believe that Jack may not be a committed gay, but later realizes that Jack won't change "because you can't tinker with a tinkerbell."

When Stanley and Helen decide to retire they sell the apartment house to Bart Furley (Hamilton Camp) and move to the Royal Condominium in Chevia Hills, California. The spin-off series, The Ropers (ABC, 1979–1980), then aired (see this title for information).

When the Ropers moved, Bart needed someone to manage the building he just bought. He appoints his brother Ralph Furley to oversee things ("I'm the new manager, landlord in residence so to speak. I'll be in total charge"). Ralph dresses in outlandish outfits and believes he is a ladies' man. He is not comfortable with Jack, Janet and Terri's living arrangement and hopes to change all that "by making a man out of Jack" (teaching him the secrets to liking and dating women). See also Man About the House for information on the British series on which Three's Company is based.

Julia Rinker and (the other) Ray Charles perform the theme, "Three's Company."

Cast: John Ritter (Jack Tripper), Suzanne Somers (Chrissy Snow), Joyce DeWitt (Janet Wood), Jenilee Harrison (Cindy Snow), Priscilla Barnes (Terri Alden), Norman Fell (Stanley Roper), Audra Lindley (Helen Roper), Don Knotts (Ralph Furley), Richard Kline (Larry Dallas).

8330 Threshold. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 2005). Have aliens landed on Earth? While on patrol, the U.S. Navy discovers an extraterrestrial craft in the Atlantic Ocean. A government Threshold team (specially trained to deal with such occasions) is assembled and the series follows the efforts of Dr. Molly Anne Caffrey and her team (Sean, Nigel, Lucas, Arthur and J.T.) to uncover the mystery surrounding the unknown craft. The series gimmick is to keep viewers wondering; it was, however, cancelled after 10 of its 13 episodes aired and fans were left wondering as no ending was shown.

Cast: Carla Gugino (Molly Anne Caffrey), Brian Van Holt (Sean Cavanaugh), Brent Spiner (Dr. Nigel Fenway), Robert Patrick Benedict (Lucas Pegg), Peter Dinklage (Arthur Ramsey), Charles S. Dutton (J.T. Baylock), Scott MacDonald (Captain Manning).

8331 Thrill Hunters. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1966). Bill Burrud hosts and narrates films that depict the perilous occupations of ordinary people.

8332 Thrill Seekers. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1973). Chuck Connors hosts and narrates films that showcase the hazardous occupations of ordinary people.

8333 Thriller. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1960–1962). Mystery and suspense presentations about people suddenly trapped in unexpected situations that are fostered through emotion, greed or the threat of crime.

Host: Boris Karloff. Performers Include: Elizabeth Montgomery, Gina Gillespie, George Kennedy, Mary Tyler Moore, Patricia Breslin, Richard Carlson, Dick York, Sue Ane Langdon, Denver Pyle, Nancy Kelly, Pippa Scott, Ed Nelson, Charles Aidman, Hazel Court, Henry Daniell, Ann Todd, William Shatner, Elizabeth Allen, Bethel Leslie, Everett Sloane, Jay C. Flippen, Richard Chamberlain, Sarah Marshall, Diana Millay, Guy Stockwell, Susan Oliver, Nehemiah Persoff, Richard Kiel, Marlo Thomas, Ursula Andress, Beverly Garland, Warren Oates, George Grizzard, Leslie Nielsen, Constance Ford.

8334 Thrills. (Series; Anthology; Cinemax; 2001). Sexually oriented stories about the erotic pleasures that drive men and women. The series, which could be classified as soft-core pornography, contains female nudity as it explores the world of erotica.

Host: Lauren Hays (as Felicia Reynolds).

8335 Thrills and Chills. (Experimental; Documentary; DuMont; 5/7/44). The title refers to a film traveler Burton Holmes made several years ago while on the island of Bali. Following an introduction by the host, Holmes provided commentary as the film ran.

Host: Doug Allan. Narrator: Burton Holmes.

8336 Throb. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986). Sandra Beatty, called Sandy, is a young woman who lives in Buffalo, New York. She is married and the mother of a young son. When irreconcilable differences force Sandy to divorce, she moves to Manhattan to begin a new life. She and her son, Jeremy, acquire an apartment at 764 Maiden Lane and by chance, Sandy befriends Zachary Armstrong, the president of Throb Records, who offers her a job as his administrative assistant. Now, with the start of a new job, Sandy struggles to make it on her own and provide a decent life for herself and Jeremy.

Other Regulars: Meredith, Sandy's friend; and Blue and Phil, Sandy's co-workers.

Cast: Diana Canova (Sandy Beatty), Paul W. Cooper (Jeremy Beatty), Maryedith Burrell (Meredith), Jonathan Prince (Zachary Armstrong), Jane Leeves (Blue), Richard Cummings, Jr. (Phil). Theme Vocal: "Throb" by Diana Canova and the Nylons.

8337 Through the Crystal Ball. (Series; Children; CBS; 1949). Anita Alvarez and Jimmy Savo host a program of live dramatizations based on popular children's fables. The series ran from April 18, 1949 to July 4, 1949.

8338 Through the Magic Pyramid. (Pilot; Fantasy; NBC; 12/6 and 12/13/81). Bobby Tuttle is a young boy who is able to travel through time via a magic pyramid crystal he received as a birthday gift. By holding the crystal pyramid and concentrating, Bobby can transport himself into any period in time. In the pilot episode, Bobby journeys to ancient Egypt, where he teams with a beautiful young princess (Baket) to save the young Prince Tutankamen from a plot to overthrow his empire. Other Regulars: Sam and Eleanor, Bobby's parents; and Bonkers, his friend.

Cast: Christopher Daniel Barnes (Bobby Tuttle), James Hampton (Sam Tuttle), Betty Beaird (Eleanor Tuttle), Robbie Rist (Bonkers). Guest Cast: Olivia Barash (Baket), Hans Conried (Ay), Vic Tayback (Horembeb), Eric Greene (Tut), Jo Anne Worley (Mutjnedjmet), Sydney Penny (Princess), Gino Conforti (Hotep), Kario Salem (Akenaten), Mary Carver (Tiye).

8339 Through Wendy's Window. (Series; Interview; NBC; 1949–1950). Wendy Barrie hosts a program of celebrity interviews and gossip that ran from December 22, 1949 to February 16, 1950.

8340 Thru the Crystal Ball. (Live Test Program; Variety; CBS; 6/20/49). A proposed series of music and songs featuring performances by top name celebrities. Barry Wood is the producer.

Hostess: Ethel Merman. Guest: Gil Lamb.

8341 Thundarr the Barbarian. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1980–1982). In the year 1994, a runaway planet crosses between the Earth and the moon and unleashes a cosmic chain reaction that destroys both worlds. Two thousand years later, the planet Earth is reborn but a strange new world emerges from the old: a world of savagery, super science, and evil beings bent on ruling the universe. Stories relate the exploits of Thundarr, a slave who broke his bonds and now battles the evils that exist on Earth. Princess Ariel and Oukla are his aides.

Voice Cast: Robert Ridgely (Thundarr), Nellie Bellflower (Princess Ariel), Henry Corden (Oukla). Additional Voices: Rachel Baker, Marilyn Schrefler, Julie McWhirter, Joan Van Ark, Stacy Keach, Sr., Alan Dinehart, Shep Menkin, Alan Oppenheimer.

8342 Thunder. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1977–1978). The story of a semi-wild black stallion named Thunder, and the adventures of the young girl, Cindy Prescott, who befriends him. Bill and Ann Prescott are her parents; Willie Williams is Cindy's friend; Sam Williams is Willie's father.

A narrator opens the show: "Thunder, the adventures of a super horse. Co-starring Clint Ritchie, Melissa Converse, Melora Hardin, Justin Randi — and that little mule with the big appetite, Cupcake."

Cast: Melora Hardin (Cindy Prescott), Clint Ritchie (Bill Prescott), Melissa Converse (Ann Prescott), Justin Randi (Willie Williams), Ray Giardin (Sam Williams).

8343 Thunder Alley. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1994–1995). Gil Jones, a former stock car racer, owns the Thunder Alley Garage in Indiana. He was a Trans Am stock car champion (1977, '78 and '79), recipient of the NASCAR Life Achievement Award and called "Wild" Gil Jones during his racing career. Patti Page is his favorite singer and his car, which he keeps in the garage, has number 11 on it. Also living with Gil is his daughter, Roberta Ann "Bobbi" Turner and her children, Jenny, Claudine and Harry.

Bobbi left home at age 16 to marry and has now moved back following her divorce; she works as Gil's bookkeeper. Bobbi attended Ben Davis High School and had 19 jobs in five years ("But I didn't get fired — I quit. Family takes preference over work"). To help out with expenses, Bobbi took a temporary job as salesgirl at Foto Zip.

Claudine, age 12, is fashion conscious, reads Teen World magazine and is embarrassed to be living over the garage. She is fast becoming a beautiful young girl, but feels out of place and is eager to fit in. Jenny, age seven, is a pretty tomboy and member of the Park League Bloodsucking Blue Birds Basketball Team. Like Bobbi, Jenny is a fighter (Bobbi was "the skinny, runt kid in the neighborhood." Gil taught her to stand up for herself and she has been a fighter ever since). Harry, age five, has a dog named Daisy (whom Gil calls Fido). His favorite board game is "Candy Land" (because Bobbi lets him cheat and he always wins). Harry has an imaginary friend named Chester. He and his sisters enjoy pizza at Peter Pepperoni's Cheese Castle. When Harry feels like annoying Claudine, he pretends to be "Buzzard Boy."

Cast: Ed Asner (Gil Jones), Diane Venora (Bobbi Turner), Robin Riker (Bobbi Turner; later), Lindsay Felton (Jenny Turner), Kelly Vint (Claudine Turner), Haley Joel Osment (Harry Turner).

8344 Thunder Boat Row. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1989). An unsold series about a group of Caribbean-based government renegades from different arms of the law who have the responsibility of stopping the flow of contraband into the U.S.

Cast: Chad Everett (Ben Bishop), Todd Schaefer (Lieutenant Adam Wheaton), Jason Adams (Bobby "Mad Dog" Garland), Nick Corri (Hector "Detector" Cannero), Rob Estes (Moby Griffin), Freddie Marie Simpson (Rose O'Shea).

8345 Thunder in Paradise. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1994–1995). The Scuttlebutt Bar and Grill is a small eatery run by Kelly LaRue in Paradise Beach, Florida. Randolph Spencer and Martin Brubaker are friends who hang out at the bar.

Spencer, called Hurricane and Spence, and Brubaker, called Bru, operate Thunder, a high tech boat for hire at $5,000 a day. Spence and Bru were

Navy S.E.A.L.S. during the Vietnam War. They became friends after Spence saved Bru's life twenty years ago. It was during this time that Spence got the nickname Hurricane for flattening everything in his path and that Bru developed the plans for Thunder. When the Navy rejected the plans, Bru quit and built Thunder for himself. Bru graduated with top honors from M.I.T. and previously developed the RF15 navigational system for the Navy. He calls Kelly "Legs."

Thunder and its portable speed boat, Trigger, are docked at the Suncoast in Florida. Spence and Bru use their skills as S.E.A.L.S., a special warfare team, to fight the crime and corruption they encounter. Bru and Spence, partners in Thunder, owe $93,000 in bank loans on the boat and Bru is hoping to advance Thunder to a sub-ocean status.

Spence and Bru also care for Jessica "Jess" Whitaker, the nine-year-old daughter of Megan Whitaker (Felicity Waterman), the owner of the Paradise Beach Hotel. Although the hotel was owned by Megan, her uncle, Edward Whitaker threatened to take it away from her if she didn't follow the conditions of her late father's will which stipulated that she must be married to retain the hotel. Megan, a widow, makes a deal with Spence: she will pay off Thunder's debts if he will marry her. Spence agrees. All goes well until Megan is killed one foggy night in an auto accident. Now Spence, as Jess's legal guardian, must not only raise her, but fight Edward for Jess's legal right to become the hotel's owner when she comes of age. In the meantime, Edward, made a knight by the Queen of England for his heroic service with the Royal Navy during World War II, oversees the hotel's operations. As the series progressed, Spence and Edward became friends. Jessica attends St. Martin's Academy grammar school.

Adam McCall, also known as Hammerhead, is a former Navy buddy of Spence and Bru who is now their worst nightmare. When in the service they were sent on a mission to retrieve stolen weapons. Hammerhead thought the weapons would be worth a lot of money on the open market; Spence didn't. Hammerhead was captured and sent to Sea Quentin, a prototype underwater prison. He escaped and now seeks to ruin Spence.

Cast: Hulk Hogan (Randolph Spence), Chris Lemmon (Martin Brubaker), Carol Alt (Kelly LaRue), Robin Weisman (Jessica Whitaker), Ashley Gorrell (Jessica Whitaker; later), Patrick Macnee (Edward Whitaker), Russ Wheeler (Thunder's voice), Sting (Adam McCall).

8346 Thunderbirds. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1968). International Rescue (I.R.) is a global organization dedicated to rescuing people trapped in unusual predicaments. Their base is a remote Pacific island; all characters are marionettes.

Jeff Tracy is the head of I.R. He is a former astronaut and has named his five sons, all members of I.R., after American astronauts.

Scott Tracy is the oldest son. He is fast talking and quick thinking and pilots Thunderbird I, a fast scout vehicle that speeds to the crisis area. Virgil Tracy is reliable and steady and the pilot of Thunderbird II, a freighter that handles the priceless rescue equipment.

Alan Tracy is the most romantic of the sons and the pilot of Thunderbird III, which is capable of space flight. Gordon Tracy is young, enthusiastic and a joker; he operates Thunderbird IV, the underwater vehicle (which is contained in the pod of Thunderbird II). John Tracy, the youngest of the brothers, commands Thunderbird V, the satellite base of I.R.

Lady Penelope Creighton-Ward is I.R.'s glamorous London agent. She is adventurous and daring—a female James Bond. She owns an exotic wardrobe and a shocking pink Rolls Royce.

The Hood is the enemy of International Rescue and is dedicated to discovering the secrets of its operations. He lives in an exotic eastern temple and practices "Hoodoo" (spells that control people for his purposes).

8347 Thunderbirds: 2086. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). A revised version of Thunderbirds that continues to depict the adventures of the men and women of International Rescue, a global organization that uses highly technical equipment (the Thunderbirds) to rescue people trapped in unusual predicaments.

Voices: Joan Audiberti, Paolo Audiberti, Earl Hammond, Ira Lewis, Keith Mandell, Alexander Marshall, Terry Vantell.

8348 Thundercats. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). Thundera is a planet in a distant galaxy that is doomed. Before the planet explodes, the inhabitants, the Thundercats, escape in a space ship. During their flight to a planet called Third Earth, they are attacked by evil mutants. The ship is damaged but lands safely at their destination. The principal Thundercats (Cheetara, Lion-O, Panthro, Tygra and Wilykat and Wilykit) establish a base at Cat's Lair. Stories relate the Thundercats as the battle the mutants (led by Mumm-Ra).

Voice Cast: Lynne Lipton (Cheetara/Wilykit),

Peter Newman (Tygrał Wilykat), Lary Kenney (Lion-O), Earl Hammond (Mumm-Ra), Earle Hyman (Panthro).

8349 Tiara Girls. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2006). A documentary style reality series that charts the struggles of eight young women as they prepare for pageant titles: Miss Teen Southeast, The Queen of Queens (in Louisiana) and Miss Teen Florida. The series is a behind-the-scenes look at what happens as contestants prepare for a beauty pageant. Kimberly Belcher Cowin and Marshall Eisen are the producers.

8350 Tic Tac Dough. (Series; Game; NBC; 1956–1959). Two contestants, Player X and Player O, compete. A general-knowledge type of question is read. The first player to identify himself through a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. If he gives the correct response, he selects one square on a large tic tac toe board that is displayed on stage. The game continues until one player acquires three squares in a row, up and down or diagonally.

Host: Jack Barry, Gene Rayburn, Bill Wendell, Jay Jackson. Organist: Paul Taubman.

8351 Tic Tac Dough. (Series; Game; CBS; Syn.; 1978). The basic format calls for two contestants, Player X and Player O, to fill in a tic-tac-toe board by answering questions. Each correct response awards a player a box and the first contestant to acquire three boxes in a row — up, down or diagonally — is the winner and receives a cash prize. The series aired on CBS from July 3, 1978 to September 1, 1978; it began first run syndication in September of 1978.

Hosts: Wink Martindale, Jim Caldwell. Announcer: Jay Stewart, Charlie O'Donnell.

8352 Tic Tac Dough. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1990). Two contestants, Player X and Player O, compete in a game of tic tac toe. A general knowledge type of question is read. The first player to correctly answer selects one square on a large tic tac toe board that is displayed on stage. The game continues until one player wins by acquiring three squares in a row, up and down or diagonally.

Host: Patrick Wayne. Announcer: Dick Heather-ton.

8353 The Tick. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1994–1996). A man who wears a blue costume and calls himself the Tick becomes the protector of The City. With his assistant, Arthur (an accountant who dresses in a moth costume and yearns to be a super hero), the Tick wages a never-ending battle against the villains who pose a threat to The City.

Voice Cast: Townsend Coleman (The Tick), Micky Dolenz (Arthur), Rob Paulsen (Arthur; later).

8354 The Tick. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 2001). His identity is unknown (he doesn't know who he really is or where he came from). He wears an electric blue latex body suit with exaggerated muscles and twitching antennae. He is a superhero who calls himself the Tick. He has the powers of strength and speed, but is not always able to control them. He is also unable to distinguish between living things and inanimate objects. He creates a considerable amount of destruction as he goes about dispensing his own brand of justice in The City.

Arthur is a bookkeeper for World Wide Fishladder and Sons who dreams of becoming a superhero. He feels he has been living a lie and that his life is meant to be more than a mild-mannered accountant. He feels he has a higher calling and can't hide from it any longer — "I'm going to become a superhero." Arthur dons a white costume with rabbit ears and a backpack with wings to enable him to fly. He considers himself the Moth and decides to fight crime. He first meets the Tick when they join forces to defeat a Russian plot to kill visiting ex-President Jimmy Carter. The Tick takes a liking to Arthur and decides to team with him. They set up residence at 370 Pleasant Avenue, Apartment 7A, and befriend two other crime fighters: Captain Liberty and Batmanuel.

Captain Liberty, alias Janet, is a beautiful single woman who has been hired by the U.S. government to be a symbol of everything that is good. She is 29 years old and feels her superhero status leaves her no time for romance (she constantly complains about being lonely). Her costume is maroon and gold with a cutout star on her chest to reveal cleavage. She wears a Statue of Liberty crown and carries a plastic torch as a symbol of freedom. She keeps a supply of hand grenades in her apartment and drowns her sorrows (with other superheroes) at the Lonely Panda Bar.

Batmanuel, a Latin version of Batman, is a ladies' man and appears when a beautiful damsel is in distress. He wears a brown costume, black mask and says, "I get a lot of press." He drives the Batcar and is constantly rejected by Captain Liberty as he tries to seduce her. He believes women are attracted by "the power of the suit. Women cannot resist the suit."

The Tick is bulletproof and calls himself "The Mysterious Blue Avenger" and "The Big Blue Bug of Justice."

The Tick opens the show: "I am the wild blue yonder, the front line in the never ending battle between good and not so good. Together with my stalwart sidekick, Arthur, and the magnanimous help of some other folks I know, we form the ying to villain's yang. Destiny has chosen us. Wicked men — you face the Tick."

Cast: Patrick Warburton (The Tick), David Burke (Arthur), Liz Vassey (Captain Liberty), Nestor Carbonell (Batmanuel).

8355 Tickets, Please. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/6/88). A busy New York commuter train is the setting for an unsold series that was to explore the conflicts and tensions among the club car crew and its regular passengers: Ted, a rude young businessman; Elaine, a high-strung attorney; Ginger, a trendy executive; Sam, a pesticide salesman; and Jack, a crusty businessman. The crew: Bake, the man who runs the club car; Sal, a ticket taker from a long line of train employees; and Paula, a ticket taker who is also a part time law student.

Cast: Cleavon Little (Bake), Yeardley Smith (Paula), David Marciano (Sal), Joe Guzaldo (Ted), Marcia Strassman (Elaine), Bill Macy (Sam), Barbara Howard (Ginger), Harold Gould (Jack).

8356 Tie This. (Live Test Program; Game; DuMont; 5/22/46). The program mixes film sequences of sporting events with studio-staged contests (each of which has to do with tying or breaking a record). Studio segments involve players in various 57-second contests (for example, pie eating, tie tying) with the player performing the best time being declared the winner. Film segments (for example, of a horse race) match studio players with a counterpart in the film. The player whose film counterpart won was also a winner. The unsold project was sponsored by Ben Pulitzer Ties.

Hosts: Tiny Clark, Bill Slater.

8357 Tiger! Tiger! (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/18/69). Events in the life of Don MacMasters, an animal behaviorist in the small town of Kingsview. The pilot episode relates how Don acquires two orangutans and a tiger named Sultan when he leaves his old job and relocates to Kingsview — unaware that he is being followed by the animals who have attached themselves to him. (The episode ends with Don deciding to keep the animals rather than face that situation again.) Other Regulars: Louise, Don's wife; and Fred, Don's assistant.

Cast: Peter Jason (Don MacMasters), Marilyn Devin (Louise MacMasters), J. Pat O'Malley (Dr. Fred Bentley). Guest Cast: Otis Day (Doug Rowe), Phil Dean (Sheriff Wade).

8358 Tightrope. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1959–1960). Nick is a man who plays the underworld's most dangerous game — the double cross. His job is to infiltrate the mob. "When you work undercover, you have to do a lot of things you don't like to," he says.

Nick is a man who walks the tightrope between good and evil, a vital part of his job as an undercover cop for an unspecified agency. Only his superior at headquarters knows Nick's full name. He was called Nick Stone, but he is also referred to as Nick, the Unnamed Agent and the Undercover Agent. Mike Connors is credited on the screen as "Nick" in the closing theme.

Nick is considered the best undercover cop there is; "I have to live like a hood to catch a hood." Nick's job takes him to any city where there is a crime. "One slip and you're through," he says, "because you're always walking a tightrope." Nick is an expert at cons "and a real hot shot with the dames." He carries a gun on a belt that has its holster in the middle of his back.

Cast: Mike Connors (Nick). Theme: "Tightrope" by George Duning.

8359 'Til Death. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2006–). Eddie and Joy Stark are a couple who have been married (according to a graphic that appeared in the first episode) 8,743 days. They appear to be happy although argumentative. Eddie has just recovered from a mild heart attack and their teenage daughter, Allison (called Allie) has just left for college. Eddie is a history teacher at Winston Churchill High School in Philadelphia; Joy is a travel agent (Eddie, who teaches American History, will not take advantage of Joy's job because he won't leave the United States; in another episode, Joy mentions she is a real estate agent).

Jeff and Stephanie (called Steph) Woodcock are their new neighbors. They are a much younger couple (married only 12 days) and very much in love. They have relocated from Wisconsin so Jeff can begin his new job as vice principal at Winston Churchill High School. The four immediately become friends. Eddie, the older, set in his ways married guy, feels he is an expert on marriage and takes the "wet-behind-the-ears" Jeff under his wing to advise him on the pitfalls of marriage. Stories follow the events that spark the lives of the two married couples — made more complex for both as Eddie tries to teach Jeff the ropes.

Cast: Brad Garrett (Eddie Stark), Joely Fisher (Joy Stark), Eddie Kay Thomas (Jeff Woodcock), Kat Foster (Steph Woodcock), Krysten Ritter (Allison Stark).

8360 'Til Death Do Us Part. (Series; Anthology; Court TV; 2007). An anthology series based on reality — true stories concerning married couples whose union ends with the murder of one of them (although the following disclaimer is run: "The stories in this series are based on real court cases but all names and locations are fictional. Characters and events have been invented or combined for dramatic purpose").

While the program does air on Court TV, a courtroom proceeding is not seen. The circumstances surrounding a crime are dramatized with the host providing open commentary and closing remarks.

Host John Waters is "The Groom Reaper" who opens each show in a style reminiscent of the way Alfred Hitchcock did on his anthology show in 1955 (although John is always situated at a wedding ceremony where he warns the occasion is not as happy as it seems).

Host-Narrator: John Waters.

8361 Tim and Eric Awesome Show, Great Job! (Series; Comedy; Cartoon Network; 2007). A low budget (on purpose) skit show that features two freaks producing a cable show that incorporates crude animation and special effects (similar to Monty Python's Flying Circus). Aimed at a mature audience and aired as part of the Cartoon Network's late night Adult Swim segment.

Stars: Tim Heidecker, Eric Wareheim, Bob Odenkirk, Richard Dunn. Announcer: Bill A. Jones.

8362 The Tim Conway Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1970). Music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Tim Conway as the host. Bill Hobin is the producer.

Host: Tim Conway. Regulars: Sally Struthers, McLean Stevenson, Art Metrano, Bonnie Boland, Belland and Somerville, The Tom Hanson Dancers. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

8363 The Tim Conway Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1970). Timothy "Bud" Barrett, the pilot, and his partner, Herbert Kenworth, the executive officer, are the owners of the Lucky Linda, a plane that comprises Triple A Airlines, which is based at Crawford Airport in Los Angeles. Unable to pay creditors and threatened by eviction, Bud and Herbert struggle to acquire passengers, relieve their monetary burdens and maintain an airline. Mrs. Crawford is the airport owner; Ronnie Crawford is her son; Becky is the reservations clerk; Sherman is the control tower operator; Harry is the coffee shop owner.

Cast: Tim Conway (Timothy "Bud" Barrett), Joe Flynn (Herbert Kenworth), Anne Seymour (Mrs. Crawford), Johnnie Collins III (Ronnie Crawford), Emily Banks (Becky), Dennis Robertson (Sherman), Fabian Dean (Harry).

8364 The Tim Conway Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1980–1981). Tim Conway hosts a weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches. Joe Hamilton is the producer.

Host: Tim Conway. Regulars: Maggie Roswell, Kelly Garrett, Jack Riley, Dick Orkin, Harvey Korman, Miriam Flynn, Bert Berdis, Eric Boardman, The Don Crichton Dancers. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

8365 Tim Conway's Funny America. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/29/90). A Candid Camera style program in which hidden cameras capture the reactions of unsuspecting people caught in staged situations.

Host: Tim Conway.

8366 Time Blazers. (Series; Cartoon; Discovery Kids; 2003–2005). Sam and Jen are spirit guides that have been assigned to help students Alex and Shakira learn about the world and why things are the way they are. To accomplish this, Sam and Jen use time travel to explore the past to learn of the present, Stories follow their adventures as they witness the events that shaped the world.

Voice Cast: Heidi Leigh (Jen), Jasmine Richards (Shakira), Stephen Joffe (Alex), Mike Ackerman (Sam).

8367 Time Bomb. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 3/25/84). Wes Tanner and Dan Picard are transport specialists for SAT (Strategic Armored Transport), a company that handles extremely top secret assignments. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they tackle hazardous missions on behalf of their superior, a man named Hawsley. In the pilot episode, Wes and Dan become involved with Renee DeSalles, "The world's most beautiful and most wanted female terrorist," and her cohorts, who plan to hijack the plutonium they are transporting across Texas. Other Regulars: Laura, Dan's girlfriend; and Cara, Wes's girlfriend, the company dispatcher.

Cast: Billy Dee Williams (Wes Tanner), Joseph Bottoms (Dan Picard), Hugh Gorrian (Hawsley), Chad Redding (Laura Scanlon), Dianne Shaw (Cara). Guest Cast: Morgan Fairchild (Renee DeSalles), Merlin Olsen (Jake Callahan), Anne Kerry (Tracy), Colin Lane (Marchand), Alan Justin (Jordan McClinton), Sandi Fish (Judy Mallory), Cynthia Mims (Debra Ridgeway), Harlan Jordan (Matt Ridgeway).

8368 The Time Element. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 11/24/58). The pilot film for The Twilight Zone, a series wherein ordinary people are confronted with the mysterious unexplored regions of the fifth dimension. The pilot story, broadcast as a segment of Desilu Playhouse, tells of Peter Jenson, a man whose recurring dream becomes reality when he returns to Pearl Harbor on December 5, 1941, two days before it is bombed. His frantic efforts to convince military officials of the approaching bombing is the focal point of the story.

Cast: William Bendix (Peter Jenson), Martin Balsam (Dr. Gillespie), Jesslyn Fax (Maid), Jesse White (Bartender).

8369 Time Express. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1979). Adventure stories about people who board the Time Express, a special train that takes them back in time in order to alter important moments in their pasts. People are chosen to ride the Time Express by an unknown and unseen person (the head of the line). Selected individuals anonymously receive a time ticket and board at Union Station's Gate 6, Track 13. Jason and Margaret Winters are the Time Express hosts; Richard, the porter; Patrick, the engineer.

Cast: Vincent Price (Jason Winters), Coral Browne (Margaret Winters), James Reynolds (Richard Jefferson Walker), William Edward Phipps (E. Patrick Callahan), Woodrow Parfrey (Union Station ticket agent).

8370 Time for Beany. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1950). An early presentation of the Bob Clampett created characters of Beany, a freckle-faced young boy, Cecil, the seasick sea serpent, Horatio K. Huf-fenpuff (also called Uncle Captain) the owner of a ship called the Leakin' Lena and the dastardly Dishonest John. Stories follow their worldwide adventures. The characters here were rubber hand puppets with immobile expressions. Beany always had a large smile; the captain was always jolly; Dishonest John looked dastardly.

Other characters include Moon Mad Tiger, Jack Webfoot (a takeoff on Dragnet), Dizzy Lou and Hey You, The Double Feature Creature with the Super-sonic Sound, Marilyn Mongrel (a takeoff on Marilyn Monroe), Louie the Lone Shark, The Wildman and Go Man Gogh (both voiced by Scatman Crothers).

Cecil was a cloth hand puppet with a movable mouth (but only his head and neck were seen). With the addition of clever dialogue, imaginative painted backgrounds and music and sound effects, a primitive but effective series was sustained for four years. See also The Beany and Cecil Show.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Beany/Uncle Captain), Stan Freberg (Cecil/Dishonest John), Scatman Crothers (Wildman/Go Man Gogh), Herb Shoemaker, Walker Edmiston, Jim MacGeorge, Bill Oberlin.

8371 A Time for Love. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 3/3/73). A proposed series about people of opposite interests meeting on love's common ground. In the first pilot (of two that were aired back-to-back), John Davidson stars as a straight-laced junior executive who falls for a free-spirited convention hostess (Lauren Hutton). In the second, Bonnie Bedelia stars as a shy teacher whose life is disrupted when a rock singer seeking to escape from his hectic world, enters her life.

Cast (Story 1): John Davidson (Larry), Lauren Hutton (Darleen), Jack Cassidy (Tom Pierson). Cast (Story 2): Bonnie Bedelia (Kitty), Christopher Mitchum (Mark), Jennifer Leak (Patricia), Malachi Throne (Jamison May), JoAnna Cameron (Mini), Joseph Hindy (Seabrook).

8372 A Time for Us. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1964–1966). The dramatic story of two sisters, Linda and Jane Driscoll. Breaking her engagement to Steve Reynolds, Linda leaves home to further her acting career in New York City. Jane, who is secretly in love with Steve, remains behind, hoping to one day marry her sister's fiancé. The series, under its original title (Flame in the Wind) ran from December 28, 1964 to July 2, 1965; as A Time for Us it ran from July 5, 1965 to December 16, 1966.

Cast: Joanna Miles (Linda Driscoll), Beverly Hayes (Jane Driscoll), Gordon Gray (Steve Reynolds), Lenka Peterson (Martha Skerba), Roy Poole (Al), Walter Coy (Jason), Richard Thomas (Chris Austen), Kathleen Maguire (Kate Austen), Nancy Franklin (Elizabeth), Margaret Hayes (Roxanne Reynolds), John McMartin (Ted), Jane Elliot (Linda Skerba), Conrad Fowkes (Nick), Josephine Nichols (Louise), Morgan Sterne (Tony Grey), Jacqueline Brooks (Flora Perkins), Terrence Logan (Dave), Frank Scofield (Craig Reynolds), Jill O'Hara (Sue Michaels), Margaret Ladd (Jane Skerba), Rita Lloyd (Leslie Farrell), Elaine Hymas (Fran), Robert Hogan (Gillespie), Ira Berger (Doug), Lynn Rogers (Nancy).

8373 Time Machine. (Series; Game; NBC; 1985). Three players compete in various games based on events of the past. The highest scoring player competes in the time capsule segment wherein he must answer difficult questions associated with a particular year. Cash prizes are awarded depending on the number of correct answers the player gives.

Host: John Davidson. Announcer: Charlie O'Donnell.

8374 The Time of Their Lives. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 8/7/87). Following the death of his wife, Brian Tucker, an investment counselor, finds help in raising his four beautiful daughters (Andrea, Cathy, Beth and Denise) when his father, Buddy, a vaudeville performer, retires and moves in with him. The unsold series was to relate comical events in the lives of the Tuckers. In the pilot episode, Brian finds a free clinic pregnancy report and attempts to discover if his eldest daughter, Andrea, is with child. Other Regulars: Sully, Buddy's friend; and Greta, the housekeeper.

Cast: Buddy Ebsen (Buddy Tucker), James Wid-does (Brian Tucker), Suzanne Snyder (Andrea Tucker), Tanya Fenmore (Cathy Tucker), Christa Denton (Beth Tucker), Jaclyn Bernstein (Denise Tucker), Lionel Stander (Sully Carson), Karen Bercovici (Greta).

8375 The Time of Your Life. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1999). A spin-off from Party of Five. Sarah Reeves is the girlfriend of Party of Five regular Bailey Salinger. She is estranged from her father; her mother lives in New York City. Sarah is working as a waitress at Salinger's Restaurant in San Francisco when she receives word that her mother has died. She leaves the Bay area and heads for New York to find her father. In Manhattan Sarah takes up residence in her mother's apartment and stories follow Sarah as she struggles to begin a new life. Romy, an actress becomes her roommate; Mag, a struggling musician (works in a music store) is her friend as are Joss, a waitress (with Sarah) at a mid-town bar; and J.B., her neighbor, a hairdresser. Cecilia is Sarah's landlady.

Cast: Jennifer Love Hewitt (Sarah Reeves), Jennifer Garner (Romy Sullivan), Pauley Perrette (Cecilia Woznarski), Gina Ravera (Jocely "Joss" House), Diego Serrano (Jesse Bayron), Jonathan Schaech (John Maguire).

8376 Time Out for Dad. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/21/87). Dick Kowalski is a former football player (retired linebacker for the Chicago Bears) turned house husband. The unsold series was to relate his efforts to run a house and care for the kids (Shelley, Suzanne and Matt) while his wife, Pam, pursues a career as a writer for Modern Woman magazine. Mary is Pam's mother.

8377 Time Squad. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2001). Buck Tuddrussell is a member of Time Squad, a futuristic organization that travels back in time to correct history's mistakes (as time continues to unravel and create a future, it also changes the past, creating havoc for the future). Buck and his assistants, the robot Larry 3000, and Otto, an orphan with knowledge of the past, travel back in time to make sure history is returned to the way it was recorded (for example, returning Cleopatra to her reign as Queen, not as a Pyramid shopping mall developer; seeing that Ludwig von Beethoven gives up his career as a wrestler to compose classical music).

Voice Cast: Rob Paulsen (Buck Tuddrussell), Mark Hamill (Larry 3000), Pamela Adlon (Otto Os-worth).

8378 A Time to Live. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1954). The dramatic story of Julie Byron, a newspaper proofreader and occasional reporter in a small Midwestern town. The series aired from July 5, 1954 to December 31, 1954.

Cast: Patricia Sully (Julie Byron), Larry Kelly (Don Riker), Viola Berwick (Madge Byron), Len Wayland (Chick), Jack Lester (Carl Sherman), Carlton Kadell (Kroger), Zohra Alton (Greta), John Devoe (Justin), Barbara Foley (Lenore), Jim Kodi (Felix), Russ Reed (Sid Landis), Nell Clark (Lucy), John Himes (Don), Dort Clark (Lt. Miles Dow), Jim Andelin (Pete), Toni Gilman (Daphne), Ned Locke (Arthur Hogan), Jacqueline Burkley (Bernice), Howard Caine (Quinn), Rosemary Kelly (Ann Dugger), Zachary Charles (Rudy), Tom Neal (Paul), Kay Miller (Edna), Estelle Luttrell (Ellie Ross), Beverly

8379 Time Travelers. (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 3/19/76). An proposed series about Clinton Earnshaw and Jeff Adams, a doctor and a scientist, who travel through time for purposes of helping mankind. In the pilot episode, Clinton and Jeff return, via a time machine, to Chicago in 1871 to find a doctor who can help cure a disease that has broken out in the New Orleans of their era.

8380 Time Trax. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1993). Darien Lambert was born at Logan Hospital in Middle City on August 17, 2160. He was unclaimed by his parents and was raised in an orphanage. Darien was allowed to choose his own name. He chose Darien for the hero of the Just War of 2129; and Lambert, the surname of the woman who bore him, as his last name even though all he has of her is a photograph.

Darien was a solitary child and lived among his memories. He was also a patriot, something that no longer exists (out of fashion). Darien has feelings for his native land, once called America, and knows every detail of her history. He admired the early Fugitive Retrieval Specialists — the U.S. Marshals — and this led him to enter the International Police Academy at West Point.

At school Darien excelled. He graduated first in his class and was commissioned to Detective Junior Grade (a Marshal). The years that followed were turbulent for Darien as he learned the external lessons of his job: a policeman stands alone. Although he had a brilliant arrest record, his arrests declined sharply as the years passed — track downs were ending in mysterious disappearances and suspects were vanishing without a trace. In the summer of 2192 Darien is promoted to Captain of the Fugitive Retrieval Section (based at Metro Headquarters). He is also given SELMA (Specified Encapsulated Limitless Memory Archive), a microcomputer that contains all information ever printed. "Visual Mode" brings SELMA, as a hologram, into view. She is programmed never to appear with a third person present and there are few questions she cannot answer.

In another part of town Dr. Mordicai Sahmbi is a brilliant physics professor who has developed a process of tele-transportation called TRAX (Trans-Time Research and Experimentation). In order for one to travel in time, Sahmbi has developed TXP, a pill that aligns a person's molecules to the data wave transmissions of TRAX thus enabling the transfer of molecules. At present the body can only withstand two doses of TXP; thus the limit is one round trip in time.

As Darien investigates the strange disappearances that have been occurring, he is approached by Elissa Chang Knox, Dr. Sahmbi's research assistant, when she discovers what the doctor has been up to: transporting criminals back in time to escape punishment. A confrontation between Darien and Sahmbi occurs. During the struggle, Sahmbi takes Elissa captive and activates the TRAX machine. Sahmbi, who had previously taken the TXP pill, vanishes (he reappears in 1993 where he plans to seize power and take over the world). Elissa, not protected by the TXP pill, dies. Darien is enraged and vows to return to the past and capture Dr. Sahmbi.

The nation's government, the NHA, takes over the TRAX project. Darien is assigned the task of not only capturing Dr. Sahmbi, but to retrieve the criminals Sahmbi sent back to 1993.

SELMA is programmed with a profile of each of the escaped criminals. The TXP pill transports Darien and SELMA to 1993. Darien's strange behavior arouses the suspicions of FBI agent Annie Knox, who confronts Darien but doesn't arrest him. When Darien learns from SELMA that Annie is an ancestor of Elissa's, he confides in her and reveals his true identity and mission. Annie is a bit hesitant to believe him at first, but eventually does when he tells her about her future descendant. They become a team and stories follow Darien and Annie as they seek the futuristic criminals who have made the past their place of refuge.

Cast: Dale Midkiff (Darien Lambert), Elizabeth Ward (SELMA), Mia Sara (Elissa Knox), Elizabeth Alexander (Annie Knox), Peter Donat (Dr. Mordicai Sahmbi), Henry Darrow (TRAX Chief).

8381 The Time Tunnel. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1966–1967). The time: 1968. The place: Tic Toc Base, a secret government base in the middle of the Arizona desert. The project: The Time Tunnel, a seven and one-half billion dollar experiment concerned with time displacement.

General Heywood ("Woody") Kirk is the project supervisor. He and Douglas ("Doug") Phillips, a doctor of electro physics, have been working on the project since 1958. They were joined in 1965 by Anthony ("Tony") Newman, an eager young electro physicist (born in 1938) who has made great strides in accomplishing the impossible: traveling in time. Dr. Anne McGregor, an electro microbiologist, and Dr. Raymond Swain, a man with the finest electronics mind in the country, supervise the electrical operations of the project (which include history computers, tracking, freezing time and telecontrol, an amazing portal through which events of the past can be viewed as they happened). And, ramrod of the Tunnel's security force, is Master Sergeant Jiggs.

The Time Tunnel itself is located more than 800 floors beneath the surface of the desert.

A car, carrying Senator LeRoy Clark (guest star Gary Merrill) approaches the base then disappears after the car enters (like a zipper opening and closing).

Clark meets with Kirk, Tony and Doug and tells them that the government is seriously considering scrapping the project. In its ten year history, scientists have succeeded only in sending mice and monkeys back in time; however, they have not been able to retrieve them. The retrieval process is the major stumbling block facing the scientists.

Concerned only with results, not problems, the senator gives Kirk an alternative: send a man in time now or "I will either write you a blank check or cut off your umbilical cord."

That night, Tony decides to take matters into his own hands. He activates the Time Tunnel and enters its chamber. An explosion is seen and a red alert is sounded. Engineers rush to their terminals. Anne sees that Tony is suspended in motion in a blue mist inside the tunnel. She gives the signal for a 16 second countdown to remove him. At zero, an explosion is heard and Tony vanishes into time: "Yesterday, today, tomorrow — or a million years from now."

The blue mist was a radioactive bath Tony had developed to enable Time Tunnel personnel to locate a traveler in time via a magnetic fix. While engineers struggle to track him, Tony falls through the swirling infinite corridors of time to April 13, 1912 — as an unregistered passenger on the Titanic, one day before its fatal encounter with an iceberg.

With the Time Tunnel engineers unable to control Tony's destiny or return him to the present, Doug believes the only way to save Tony is to go back and help him. Doug dresses for the era and brings a newspaper dated April 15, 1912 — the day after the disaster. The 16 second countdown begins and Doug is sent to the Titanic. Doug finds Tony, but they are unable to convince the captain of the impending tragedy. At 11:40 P.M., as history had recorded, the Titanic strikes an iceberg. As the ship begins to sink, Time Tunnel engineers freeze Tony and Doug. They accelerate power and transport them to another time.

The Time Tunnel receives its funding. "We are perfecting our apparatus and techniques every day," Kirk tells Clark as he leaves, "It's just a matter of time [before we retrieve Tony and Doug]." Stories depict Tony and Doug's experiences as travelers lost in time. Johnny Williams composed "The Time Tunnel" theme.

An announcer opens the show: "Two American scientists are lost in the swirling maze of past and future ages during the first experiments on America's greatest and most secret project — the Time Tunnel. Tony Neuman and Doug Phillips now tumble helplessly toward a new fantastic adventure somewhere along the infinite corridors of time."

Cast: James Darren (Tony Newman), Robert Colbert (Doug Phillips), Whit Bissell (Gen. Heywood Kirk), Lee Meriwether (Dr. Ann McGregor), John Zaremba (Dr. Raymond Swain), Wesley Lau (Sergeant Jiggs), Sam Groom (Engineer Jerry).

8382 Time Warp Trio. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 2005–2006). Joe is a very special 10-year-old boy. He possesses a mysterious book (a gift from his magician uncle) that grants wishes — specifically to travel through time. Joe shares the secret of his book with his close friends, Jodie, Sam, Fred and Selim. When the children make a wish to visit a specific time period, they are engulfed in a glowing mist and transported to that era — where their experiences as they learn about history are related to the viewing audience.

Voice Cast: Mark Rendell (Joe), Darren Frost (Sam), Scott McCord (Fred), Tajja Isen (Jodie), Michael Cohen (Selim).

8383 Time Well Spent. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/29/85). Kenny, Bobby and Lloyd are three teenage boys who have been friends since childhood. The unsold series was to focus on their close relationship and how it helps them face the awkwardness, challenges and tragedies of high school life (at Harry S. Truman High School). In the pilot episode, Kenny falls for a beautiful classmate (Jane) and Bobby tries to protect his sister (Connie) from an older boy (Ramirez) he feels is not right for her.

Cast: Ryan Phillips (Kenny Marks), Johnny Strong (Lloyd Cleminger), Alexis Cruz (Bobby), Gladys Jiminez (Connie), Cindy Pickett (Barbara Marks; Kenny's mother), Marta DuBois (Luce; Bobby's mother), John Beck (Cal Cleminger; Lloyd's father), Valorie Armstrong (Lloyd's mother). Guest Cast: Annabelle Gurwitch (Miss Shapiro), George Perez (Ramirez), Monica Creel (Jane Pritchard), Dennis Brown (Umpire), Denise Richards (Girl), Ashley Thompson (Stacey), Tom Briggs (Mr. Loomis).

8384 Time Will Tell. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1954). A comedy game wherein contestants compete in a series of rapid-fire question-and-answer rounds interspersed with the clowning of comic genius Ernie Kovacs. The series ran from September 3, 1954 to October 15, 1954.

Host: Ernie Kovacs. Announcer: Bob Russell.

8385 Timecop. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1997–1998). It is the year 2007. Time travel has been mastered, but its technology has fallen into the hands of criminals who plan to use it to go back in time and change the course of history. Hoping to stop them is Jack Hogan, an agent for the Time Enforcement Commission (TEC) who travels back in time to capture the renegades and stop them from changing the past to affect the future.

Gene Matuzek is the TEC captain; Dale Easter is the team's historian; Claire Hemmings is the technical whiz. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Ted King (Off. Jack Logan), Don Stark (Eugene Matuzek), Kurt Fuller (Dr. Dale Easter), Cristi Conaway (Off. Claire Hemmings).

8386 Times Square Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1963). Rebroadcasts of filmed dramas that originally aired on other anthology series.

8387 The Timid Soul. (Test Film; Comedy; NBC; 6/22/49). Events in the life of Casper Milquetoast, a timid man who is constantly plagued by misfortune.

Cast: Ernest Truex (Casper Milquetoast), Sylvia Field (His wife).

8388 Timmy and Lassie. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1957–1964). A continuation of the Jeff's Collie (which see) version of the Lassie series. Shortly after the death of Helen's grandfather, Gramps, a seven-year-old boy named Timmy runs away from an orphanage. He is found by Lassie and brought to the Miller Farm and given a temporary home by Ellen and her son, Jeff. Ellen, who is alone and unable to run the farm, sells it to Paul and Ruth Martin, a childless couple who later adopt Timmy. Jeff, who is unable to take Lassie to the city with him, gives her to Timmy. Stories relate the adventures shared by a boy and his dog.

Timmy and Lassie is the syndicated title for the 1957–1964 episodes of Lassie. Petrie Martin is Timmy's uncle; Boomer Bates is Timmy's friend; Dr. Frank Weaver is the veterinarian; Harry Miller is the sheriff; Cully Wilson is Timmy's friend; Scott is Timmy's friend. Boomer's dog is Mike; Cully's dog is Silky.

8389 Timon and Pumbaa. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1995). A partial spin-off from the feature film The Lion King that focuses mainly on two of its featured characters: Timon, a fast-talking meerkat, and Pumbaa, a honest warthog.

Timon and Pumbaa are do-gooders who use their combined skills to battle the evils of the show's principal villain, Quint. Speedy the Snail is a snail with a knack for finding people and animals that want to eat him (he always depends on Timon and Pumbaa to rescue him). Simba, the Lion King (from the movie) appears several times to offer advice to Timon and Pumbaa; Rafiki is another character from the movie that appears on occasion to offer advice.

Voice Cast: Quinton Flynn (Timon), Kevin Schon (Timon), Ernie Sabella (Pumbaa), Cam Clarke (Simba), Michael Gough (Zazu), Robert Guillaume (Rafiki), Corey Burton (Quint), Corey Burton (Speedy).

8390 Tin Pan Alley TV. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950). The program spotlights the work of guest composers and ran from April 28, 1950 to September 29, 1950.

Host: Johnny Desmond. Regulars: Gloria Van, Chet Roble, The Visionaries. Orchestra: Rex Maupin.

8391 Tin Tin. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1991). The adventures of Tin Tin, a twelve-year-old boy, and his dog Snowy, as they become involved with and attempt to solve crimes. Based on the comic strip by Herge (Georges Remi). Produced in France and dubbed in English. An earlier version was syndicated to the U.S. in 1971 (produced in France ten years earlier) but there are no voice credits listed on the screen or on press release information.

Voice Cast: Colin O'Meara (Tin Tin), Susan Roman (Snowy), Dan Hennessey (Detective Thompson), John Stocker (Detective Thompson; later), Wayne Robson (Professor Calculus), David Fox (Captain Haddock).

8392 Tiny Toon Adventures. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1990–1992). Acme Looniversity is a Warner Bros. Studio school where adolescent versions of its popular “adult” cartoon stars (Bugs Bunny, Porky Pig, Daffy Duck, Elmer Fudd) learn how to become actors. The series focuses on a group of these students as the struggle to follow in the footsteps of their famous elders.

Buster and Babs Bunny (“No relation,” as they say) host the show; Hampton J. Pig is the stuttering, low self-esteem pig; Dizzy Devil is a pint-sized version of Taz (the Tazmanian Devil); Elmyra Diff is the little girl with an uncanny love for animals (although the feeling is not mutual; all her pets can think of is escaping from their cages); Plucky Duck is the troublesome kid version of Daffy Duck; and Montana Max is the rich, spoiled kid.

Voice Cast: Tress MacNeille (Babs Bunny), Charles Adler (Buster Bunny; 1990–91), John Kassir (Buster Bunny; 1991–92), Joe Alaskey (Plucky Duck), Don Messick (Hampton J. Pig), Cree Summer (Elmyra), Maurice La Marche (Dizzy Devil), Kath Soucie (Fifi LeFume), Kath Soucie (Little Sneezer).

8393 Titus. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2000–2002). Christopher Titus is a stand-up comedian who stars in and narrates stories about his dysfunctional family; himself, his brother, Dave, their father, Ken and their mother, Juanita. Christopher's narrative sequences are seen in black and white in what he calls his neutral space (a room away from his family).

Christopher has “a wimpy brother, a mean spirited and evil father and a psychotic mother who believed in hurting people.” Christopher does have one normal thing in his life — his adorable girlfriend Erin (who fears she may become just as dysfunctional by associating with the family, especially Ken, whom she calls “Papa Ken”).

Christopher and Erin met at Seacliff High School. After graduating, Erin enrolled in State College and Christopher became a used car salesman; he later started his own business, Titus High Performance (“We Build Hot Rods”) with his brother.

Juanita is disturbed. She has multiple personalities and has apparently killed several people (she is currently in the psychiatric ward of a hospital but does manage to escape to visit her family). Ken calls her “The Crazy Bitch.” Ken has been married five times but still chases women. “He also smokes, drinks and curses.” Christopher and Dave were brought up in a home of constant fighting by a father who called them wussies. Normal people now terrify Christopher. Apples, Juanita's insane German shepherd, also terrified Christopher and Dave. Other Regulars: Tommy Shafter, Chris's friend.

Cast: Christopher Titus (Himself), Stacy Keach (Ken Titus), Zack Ward (Dave Titus), Cynthia Watros (Erin Fitzpatrick), Connie Stevens (Juanita Titus), David Shatraw (Tommy Shafter), Phoenix Forsyth (Christopher; age 10; flashbacks).

8394 T.J. Hooker. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; CBS; 1982–1987). T.J. Hooker is a sergeant with the Academy Precinct of the L.C. City, California Police Department (what the L.C. and T.J. stand for are not mentioned). Hooker, as everyone calls him, is divorced from Fran and the father of Chrissy, Cathy and Tommy. Fran is a nurse at Memorial Hospital; the children attend the Lakeside Grammar School.

Hooker is a third generation police officer and is following in the steps of his father and grandfather. He is rather untidy and resides in a room at the Safari Inn while his wife and children reside in his former home at 1310 Forrest Drive. Hooker is not the most laid back of cops. He is bullheaded and prefers to charge into a situation without thinking first. He could be considered dangerous to other officers and he has little regard for department equipment (he holds the record for most damaged or destroyed police cars). He also follows police procedures — when they fit the situation at hand; when they don't, it's what he feels is best (and, despite what his superiors say, his way always seems to work out for the best).

Hooker is in charge of a squad of officers and he works most closely with Stacey Sheridan, Jim Corrigan and Vince Romano. Vince is Hooker's partner and while not as reckless as Hooker, shows potential of later emulating him. Stacey and Jim work as a team and are Hooker's complete opposite. They are cautious and follow police procedure. Stacey is the daughter of the precinct's captain, Dennis Sheridan; Jim, a former officer with the San Francisco P.D., refused a promotion to Sergeant to continue patrolling the streets (where he can be most effective in a squad car). Adrienne's Bar (later called Mid City Bar) is the group's after hours hangout (Sherry is the bartender).

Cast: William Shatner (T.J. Hooker), Heather Locklear (Stacey Sheridan), James Darren (Jim Corrigan), Adrian Zmed (Vince Romano), Leigh Christian (Fran Hooker), Lee Bryant (Fran Hooker; later), Nicole Eggert (Chrissy Hooker), Jenny Beck (Chrissy Hooker; later), Susan McClung (Cathy Hooker), Andre Gower (Tommy Hooker), Debra Blee (Officer Lisa Christopher), Pamela Brull (Sherry). Theme Music: "T.J. Hooker" by Mark Snow.

8395 T.L.C. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/8/84). A proposed series about Danny Martin and Pete Hamlin, roommates and the only male students at the previously all-female Philadelphia Nursing Academy. The pilot episode establishes the premise as Danny and Pete meet for the first time. Other Regulars: Jessica, the dean; and students Liz, Debbie, Claudia, Judy and Beth.

8396 TMT. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1983). Singer Toni Tennille hosts a program that spotlights rock personalities and their music. The title refers to "Tomorrow's Music Today." Bob Travis assists Toni.

8397 To Have and to Hold. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1998). Annie Cornell and Sean McGrail are newlyweds who live and work in Boston. Annie is a public prosecutor for the D.A.'s office; Sean is a police detective. Borrowing aspects of the movie (and TV series) Adam's Rib, stories relate the clash that occurs when Annie is assigned to the same case that Sean is investigating. Stories also focus on the antics of Sean's Irish American family: Robert, his grumpy father; Fiona, his meddling mother; Tommy and Michael, his younger brothers (both police officers); and Patrick, his older brother, a firefighter who is married to Carolyn, Annie's sister.

Cast: Moira Kelly (Annie Cornell), Jason Beghe (Sean McGrail), Fionnula Flanagan (Fiona McGrail), John Cullum (Robert McGrail), Stephen Lee

(Patrick McGrail), Colleen Flynn (Carolyn McGrail), Stephen Largay (Tommy McGrail), Jason Wiles (Michael McGrail).

8398 To Rome with Love. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1969–1971). Michael Endicott, a widower, and his three daughters, Alison, Penelope ("Penny") and Jane ("Pokey"), leave Iowa and relocate to Italy when Michael, an English professor, is hired to teach at the American School in Rome.

The Endicotts acquire a new home at the Rome Hotel and Apartments (a.k.a. Mama Vitale's Boarding House) in the town of Trastaviva. Stories relate their adventures as they attempt to adjust to a new homeland.

Gino Mancini, a con artist who runs a taxi service called Gino's Taxi Stand, and Mama Vitale, Michael's landlady, quickly become friends. Mike took a temporary job as the manager of the Catnip Club, a night spot in Rome for swingers.

In first season episodes, Walter Brennan played Michael's father-in-law, Andy Pruitt (who lived with them at Mama Vitale's). Kay Medford as Mike's sister, Harriet Endicott, joined the family for second season episodes. Jay Livingston and Ray Evans composed the theme, "To Rome with Love."

Cast: John Forsythe (Michael Endicott), Joyce Menges (Alison Endicott), Susan Neher (Penny Endicott), Melanie Fullerton (Jane "Pokey" Endicott), Walter Brennan (Andy Pruitt), Kay Medford (Harriet Endicott), Vito Scotti (Gino Mancini), Peggy Mondo (Mama Vitale), Gerald Michenaud (Nico), Brioni Farrell (Margot), Brenda Benet (Tina; Alison's friend).

8399 To Say the Least. (Series; Game; NBC; 1977–1978). Two teams, each composed of three members, compete. Two players from each team are isolated backstage. A phrase is shown to the on-stage players (for example, "Dutch girls clop around in them") and on an alternating basis the players eliminate words from it. At any time the contestant at play can challenge or take out a word. When a challenge is made, the backstage players are brought out and the challenged player's teammates must identify the meaning of the phrase from the words that remain. If they can identify it ("wooden shoes" in the example), they score one point; if not, the opposing team scores the point. The highest scoring team is the winner.

Host: Tom Kennedy. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

8400 To Sir, with Love. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/19/74). An unsold series based on the feature film of the same title about Paul Cameron, an idealistic American exchange teacher in London. In the pilot episode, Paul faces his first crisis when Trevor, one of his students, steals a horse (to save it from the glue factory) and disappears. Other Regulars: Headmaster Hawthorne; Philippa, the music teacher; Walter, the French teacher; and students Cheryl, Ruby, Terry and Charles.

8401 To Tell the Truth. (Series; Game; CBS; 1956–1958). Through a series of question-and-answer rounds, a celebrity panel of four must determine which of three guests, each of whom claims to be the same person, is telling the truth. Cash prizes are awarded to the players based on the number of incorrect guesses on the part of the panel. The series ran in prime time from December 18, 1956 to May 22, 1967; and on CBS daytime from December 18, 1962 to September 6, 1968.

Host: Clayton “Bud” Collyer. Panelists: Phyllis Newman, Sally Ann Howes, Peggy Cass, Tom Poston, Orson Bean, Kitty Carlisle, Milt Kamen, Joan Fontaine, Sam Levenson, Dr. Joyce Brothers, Polly Bergen, Dick Van Dyke, John Cameron Swayze, Hildy Parks. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

8402 To Tell the Truth. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969). A revised version of the prior title, which see for format.

Host: Garry Moore, Joe Garagiola. Panelists: Bill Cullen, Orson Bean, Kitty Carlisle, Peggy Cass. Announcer: Johnny Olsen, Bill Wendell, Alan Calter.

8403 To Tell the Truth. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1980). An updated version of the 1950s game show with Bud Collyer as the host. See this title for format.

Host: Robin Ward. Regular Panelists: Peggy Cass, Soupy Sales. Announcer: Alan Calter.

8404 To Tell the Truth. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1990). Four half-hour pilots were made (all unaired) based on the 1950s series of the same title. Through a series of question-and-answer rounds, a celebrity panel must determine which of three guests, each of whom claim to be the same person, is telling the truth.

Host: Richard Kline. Panelists (Pilots 1 and 2): Cindy Adams, Morton Downey, Jr., Lynn Redgrave, Lynn Swann. Panelists (Pilots 3 and 4): Kitty Carlisle, Khrystyne Haje, Jonathan Prince, Alex Trebek.

8405 To Tell the Truth. (Series; Game; NBC; 1990). A celebrity panel must determine which of three guests, each of whom claim to be the same person, is telling the truth. A revised version of the long-running CBS series of the same title.

Host: Gordon Elliott. Regular Panelist: Kitty Carlisle.

8406 To the Manor Born. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1982). The story of Audrey Forbes-Hamilton, a widow left bankrupt after the death of her husband, as she struggles to once again gain control of Grantleigh Manor, the 400-year-old family estate she was forced to sell to pay off debts. Produced in England.

Cast: Penelope Keith (Audrey Forbes-Hamilton), Peter Bowles (Richard DeVere), Angela Thorne (Marjorie Frobisher), John Rudling (Brabinger).

8407 To the Queen's Taste. (Series; Women; CBS; 1948–1949). The alternate title for Dione Lucas' Cooking School. See this title for information.

8408 Toast of the Town. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1948–1971). The original title for The Ed Sullivan Show. See this title for information.

8409 Toby the Terrier and His Video Pals. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 11/26/93). The action is set at WOOF, a television station “that has gone to the dogs” (canine puppets). Toby Terrier runs the station (Channel 58) and the antics of the station personnel provides the comedy as they present shows (for example, the game show “You Bet Your Bone,” “I Love Lassie,” an all-dog version of “I Love Lucy” and “The Three Little Pigs” with all roles played by dogs).

Voice Cast: Kevin Carlson (Toby Terrier), Sandy Grinn (Bob Barkley), Todd Mattox (Don Dane), James Murray (Billy), Tom Fountain (Afganna).

8410 Today Is Ours. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1958). The dramatic story of Laura Manning, an assistant principal at Bolton Central High School. Episodes depict her conflicts and tensions: divorced, the mother of a young son, and romantically involved with Glenn Turner, a married architect. The series ran from June 30, 1958 to December 26, 1958.

Cast: Patricia Benoit (Laura Manning), Peter Lazer (Nick Manning), Patrick O’Neal (Glenn Turner), Joyce Lear (Laura Turner). Also: Ernest Graves, Nancy Sheridan, Tom Carlin, Chase Crosley, Joanna Roos, Barry Thompson, Martin Blaine, Nelson Olmstead.

8411 Today's F.B.I. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1981–1982). Ben Slater is a dedicated government agent who heads an elite team of federal investigators in Washington, D.C. He is the deputy assistant director of the FBI and works with agents Maggie Clinton, Al Gordean, Joseph Cali and Dwayne Thompson. Ben is married to Phyllis and George Shannon is his superior. The series, which dramatizes actual (then) current cases, is inspired by the files the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Cast: Mike Connors (Ben Slater), Carol Potter (Maggie Clinton), Richard Hill (Al Gordean), Joseph Cali (Nick Frazier), Charles Brown (Dwayne Thompson), Harold Sylvester (Dwayne Thompson; later), Roberta Maxwell (Phyllis Slater), Lawrence Haddon (George Shannon).

8412 Together Again. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1986). After drifting apart seventeen years ago, two former high school sweethearts meet by chance in Las Vegas: Andrea, a divorced mother who runs the Maple Travel Agency; and Michael, a divorced contractor. They find they still love each other and impulsively decide to marry. The unsold series was to relate their marital misadventures. Other Regulars: Terry and Brad, Andrea's children; and Betty, Andrea's mother.

8413 Together We Stand. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1986). At 37 Brookfall Road in Portland, Oregon, lives the Randall family: parents Lori and David and their children, Amy, Jack, Sam Vu Tron and Sally. When Lori learned that she would not be able to have children, she and David adopted Amy (now 15) when she was an infant (her mother left her on the doorstep of an orphanage). A year later, Lori became pregnant. After giving birth to Jack, Lori was told "the miracle can never happen again." Years later, when Lori and David learn that two children at the orphanage, 13-year-old Sam (who is Oriental) and six-year-old Sally (who is black), are "having a difficult time finding someone to love them," they adopt them also. Sam's father is an unknown U.S. serviceman who was stationed in the Mekong Delta in Vietnam; his mother was killed in the last days of the war in the bombing. Sam was found alive with two other babies in a chicken coop. Sally was abandoned by her mother at an early age.

David played basketball for Oregon State and was known as "Dunkin' Dave." He then became a basketball coach (for the Portland Trail Blazers) and now owns the Randall Sporting Goods Store in the local mall.

Amy attends Mid Central High School. She is very pretty, hates her hair ("It's too flat and blah") and thinks she is too perfect. Amy does have a perfect attendance record (the school gives "Amy Awards" to students who maintain good attendance records). To "tarnish" her "goody-goody" image, she cut class one day "to run amok through the city" ("I wanted to be normal and imperfect"; Amy spent her time at the library—"Well, I had no place else to go").

Jack, the schemer of the family, and Sam, the worrier, attend Gregory Heights Junior High School. Sally, who is very close to Sam, attends an unnamed grammar school.

The series disappeared after four episodes. When it returned as Nothing Is Easy (CBS, 2/8/87 to 4/24/87), it is learned that David was killed in a car accident and Lori is now a working mother. Lori's exact job is not revealed (in one episode it is assumed she is a secretary when she mentions getting her hair caught in a typewriter; no mention is made of the sporting goods store). Lori also attends night school, where she is studying to become a court stenographer. New to the cast is Marion Simmons, Lori's bubbly neighbor, who is studying to become a bartender. She is divorced (from "the Bum," as she calls him) and is the mother of an eight-year-old nightmare named Chuckie. Chuckie is never seen and appears to be the child every parent dreads. He is extremely mischievous, so much so that Marian has a chain on her bedroom door to keep Chuckie out.

Cast: Dee Wallace Stone (Lori Randall), Elliott Gould (David Randall), Katie O'Neill (Amy Randall), Scott Grimes (Jack Randall), Ke Huy Quan (Sam Vu Tron), Natasha Bobo (Sally Randall), Julia Migenes (Marion Simmons).

8414 Tom. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1994). Tom Graham is a welder (for a company that builds roller coasters) who has a dream of building a farmhouse on land he owns that is located next to the city dump. He is married (to Dorothy, a teacher) and is the father of Mike, Trevor, twins Charlotte and Emily, and Donny. Stories relate his efforts to accomplish his dream despite the fact that he lacks money and supplies and has thus far built what Dorothy calls a "dream hole." (The family lives in a rented trailer on the land with a canine they call the Dump Dog.)

Other Regulars: Rodney, Tom's co-worker; and Cara, Rodney's wife (Tom's sister).

8415 Tom and Jerry. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 11/30/55). A proposed spin-off from Screen Director's Playhouse about the romantic misadventures of newlyweds Tom and Jerry Macy. In the pilot episode, a kindly priest attempts to bring Tom and Jerry together again after a dispute puts them at odds.

Cast: Peter Lawford (Tom Macy), Nancy Gates (Jerry Macy). Guest Cast: Frank Fay (Father O'Dowd), Marie Windsor (Lola), Charles Lane (Garity), Sidney S. Van Keuren.

8416 The Tom and Jerry Comedy Show. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1980–1981). The escapades of two non-taking mischief-makers: Tom the Cat and Jerry the Mouse. Newly animated segments based on the series of theatrical cartoons of the 1940s.

Vocal Effects: Frank Welker.

8417 The Tom and Jerry Kids Show. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1990). Tom and Jerry is a famous series of theatrical cartoons produced in the 1940s and 1950s. It is about a cat (Tom) and a mouse (Jerry) and their antics as Tom tried to capture Jerry — but always being outsmarted and getting the worst of each attempt. The television series features newly animated adventures with Tom and Jerry as kids — with Tom still chasing Jerry and Jerry still outsmarting him at every turn.

Voices: Joe Alaskey, Teresa Ganzel, Charlie Adler, Frank Welker, Rob Paulsen, Patric Zimmerman, Danny Cooksey, Marsha Clark.

8418 The Tom and Jerry Show. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1966–1972). A cat (Tom) who thinks he is smarter than a mouse (Jerry) finds the opposite true as he endlessly seeks to capture Jerry for no other reason than cats chase mice. Composed of both theatrical and new, made-for-television cartoons.

Vocal Effects: Paul Frees, June Foray, Mel Blanc, Allen Swift.

8419 Tom and Jerry Tales. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2006–2007). A well-drawn (characters look like the originals) version of the 1940s and 1950s theatrical cartoons Tom and Jerry about a cat (Tom) and his endless efforts to catch a foxy mouse (Jerry). Here the cat and mouse chase still exists but the characters are placed in various story fantasies (for example, Jerry as a space ship captain with Tom as the evil alien trying to capture him). In the original series, Jerry is often saved by Spike, the bulldog; Spike returns here in the same capacity.

Voice Cast: Don Brown (Tom), Sam Vincent (Jerry), Michael Donovan (Spike), Colin Murdock (Butch).

8420 Tom and Joann. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/5/78). Events in the lives of Tom and Joann Hammil, a divorced couple who explore new relationships while maintaining their mutual affection a year after their 16-year marriage has ended. Other Regulars: Amy and T.C., their children.

Cast: Elizabeth Ashley (Joann Hammil), Joel Fabiani (Tom Hammil), Jennifer Cooke (Amy Hammil), Colin McKenna (T.C. Hammil). Guest Cast: Bibi Besch (Louise), David Ackroyd (Gabe), Marie McCann (Beth), Tim Okon (Kenny), Brenda Donohue (Helene), Louis Del Grande (Norman).

8421 Tom and the Mayor. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2004–2006). A politically oriented animated series about Tom Peters, a man who is seeking to make a name for himself in a town called Jefferson. Jefferson is best noted for its strip malls and rundown parks. With a seemingly endless supply of ideas to improve things (and become famous) Tom approaches the Mayor and convinces him that together with his ideas and the Mayor's power, they can change the face of Jefferson. Stories relate the duo's efforts to implement ideas that do little to do anything but make matters worse. Joy is Tom's wife. The series aired on the Adult Swim segment of Cartoon Network.

8422 Tom Corbett, Space Cadet. (Series; Adventure; CBS; NBC; ABC; DuMont; 1950–1955). It is the year 2350 and the planets Earth, Mars, Jupiter and Venus have been colonized. They are part of the Solar Alliance and protected by the Solar Guards, a celestial police force that is based at Space Academy, U.S.A., a training school for aspiring Solar Guards.

Space Academy itself enlists men of high school and college age to train as Solar Guards. While not readily explained, women are not permitted to become Solar Guards. They can, however, train as Auxiliary Cadets to assist Solar Guards in times of emergency. Stories follow the adventures of Solar Guards Tom Corbett, Astro and Roger Manning. Major Ben Connell, called “Blastoff” by the cadets, is the roughest, toughest and meanest officer in the Solar Guards, while Dr. Joan Dale, is the kindest of instructors at Space Academy.

Tom, Roger and Astro are assigned to training on the Polaris. While supposedly only a cadet, Tom appeared to be more of an academy official (he gave orders, charted flights and booked space maneuvers). He was strong and forceful and showed leadership quality. He was also quick thinking, assertive and popular with all those he worked with. Early episodes find Tom as the storyteller. He is seated in an official-looking office and welcomes viewers to relate an adventure he shared with Roger and Astro. A flashback-type of sequence is used and Tom returns at the end of the story to relate the moral and bid farewell with his famous “So long for now and spaceman's luck to all of you.”

Astro was the alien member of the team. He was born to Teron parents on the planet Venus (at a time when it was just being colonized) and is considered to be a Venusian by his colleagues. He is a natural-born engineer and his job is to oversee the rocket motors on the power deck of the Polaris. Astro has a quick temper and frequently acts without thinking first.

Roger is a wise guy, sarcastic and always causing trouble (especially with his habit of playing practical jokes). He often taunts Astro and causes endless rifts between them. While he did work on the radar bridge (near the nose of the Polaris) he also thought he was better than everyone else (boasting of his own accomplishments while downgrading those of his colleagues). Why Roger was not expelled is a mystery, but in time of dire need he became helpful (but in the end he would always give into temptation and belittle others). He was replaced in last season episodes by Cadet T.J. Thistle, a non-practical joke-playing student who had a chip on his shoulder (he felt his short height prevented him from achieving success).

Dr. Joan Dale was the only regular female presence at the academy. She was a professional and dedicated to teaching. Joan was not a femme fatale (a girl always in need of rescuing). She was beautiful, educated, intelligent and capable of defending herself. Joan was also a researcher and inventor. She created Tom's rocket-powered space suit as well as a new rocket fuel and the Hyper Drive (which allowed the Solar Guards' rocket cruisers to reach nearby stars). Joan was not all work. She had a human side and would worry about her superior, Captain Steve Strong and Tom's crew when they were off on dangerous missions.

Commander Arkwright was the stern principal of Space Academy; Cadet Eric Rattison headed the crew of the Vega; Rex Marshall appeared as Lieutenant Saunders in commercials for the show's long-time sponsor, Kellogg's Cereals (it was also sponsored by Kraft Foods and Red Goose shoes).

Announcer Jackson Beck opened early episodes with these words: "Space Academy, U.S.A., in the world beyond tomorrow. Here the space cadets train for duty on distant planets. In roaring rockets they blast through the millions of miles from Earth to far flung stars and brave the dangers of cosmic frontiers, protecting the liberties of the planets, safeguarding the cause of universal peace in the conquest of space."

The series ran on CBS in 1950; ABC, 1951–1952; NBC, 1951; 1954–1955; and on DuMont, 1953–1954.

Cast: Frankie Thomas (Tom Corbett), Al Markim (Astro), Jan Merlin (Roger Manning), Margaret Garland (Dr. Joan Dale), Patricia Ferris (Dr. Joan Dale; later), Carter Blake (Commander Arkwright), Frank Sutton (Eric Rattison).

8423 Tom Cottle: Up Close. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1982). Tom Cottle hosts a weekly series of personal one-on-one celebrity interviews.

8424 Tom, Dick and Harry. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/20/60). With a dream of becoming a success in life, three Army buddies (Tom, Dick and Harry) pool their resources and rent a restaurant. The proposed series was to focus on their efforts to run a business. In the pilot episode, Tom and Dick scheme to get Harry married to Hazel, the spinster daughter of the owner, in return for a free lease on the restaurant. Other Regulars: Shirley, Tom's wife; and Pamela, Dick's wife.

Cast: Gene Nelson (Tom Fellows), Joe Mantell (Dick Rawlings), Marvin Kaplan (Harry Murphy), Cheryl Callaway (Shirley Fellows), Pamela Dean (Pamela Rawlings), Hazel Shermit (Hazel), Howard McNear (Restaurant owner). Guest Cast: Irene Ryan and Mavis Davenport (Customers).

Cast: Tom Galloway (Tom Gentry), Joyce Bulifant (Mary Gentry), Steve Franken (Dick Moran), John Hoyt (Dr. Kievoy), Guy Raymond (Cliff Murdock).

8426 The Tom Ewell Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1960–1961). The Potter Real Estate Company on Main Street and the home at 611 Elm Street in Las Palmas, California, are owned by Thomas ("Tom") Potter, the lone male in a house full of women: his wife, Frances ("Fran") Potter, their children, Carol, Debbie and Cissy, and Fran's mother, Irene Brady. Tom's efforts to cope with life at work and home are the focal point of the series.

Tom has a secret recipe for barbecuing ("Flip the burgers counterclockwise") and a method for avoiding problems ("Honey, I've got to go to work"). While Tom says, "The Potter family has three wonderful girls, each a queen in her own right," he also calls Carol, Debbie and Cissy "The Three Gold Diggers" when they ask him for money. He calls Irene "Mother Brady."

Carol is the oldest child (17 years old) and attends Las Palmas High School. She is smart, fashion conscious and interested in makeup, boys and dating. Debbie is 11 years old and the middle child. She attends the Richmond Street Elementary School and rarely enters the house through the front door. She prefers entering through the window on the right side of the door (viewed from the living room). She then does a cartwheel and goes up the stairs to her room (Tom says she is the only one of the girls who can do cartwheels). Debbie's first job was delivering newspapers for the Las Palmas Gazette. She also launched "The Debbie Daily," a neighborhood gossip sheet Tom helped her print and distribute.

Cissy, whose real name is Catherine, is six years old and attends the same school as Debbie. "She is sweet, adorable and huggable" and had a first job walking the neighbor's dog, Bismark (Bismark was much bigger than Cissy and walked her — through bushes that tore her dresses; Tom found it was costing him more for Cissy to have a job than to give her an increase in her allowance). In some episodes, Cissy is blonde, like her sisters; in others she has black, possibly dark brown, hair (the series is in black and white). In the late 1960s, the series was re-titled The Trouble with Tom for syndication purposes.

Cast: Tom Ewell (Tom Potter), Marilyn Erskine (Frances Potter), Cindy Robbins (Carol Potter), Sherry Alberoni (Debbie Potter), Eileen Chesis (Cissy Potter), Mabel Albertson (Irene Brady).

8427 The Tom Show. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1997–1998). Tom Amross, the former producer of the top-rated talk show Maggie, now produces the local morning show Breakfast with Charlie on station KOGD in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Tom was married to but is now divorced from Maggie; he cares for their two daughters, Kenlon and Alissa. Maggie fired Tom when they divorced and has written the tell-all book about her family called Mothers, Daughters, Sisters and Friends. Charlie Dickerson, the host of Breakfast with Charlie, has been on TV for 43 years; the much younger Florence Madison co-hosts the show. Florence is an eager beaver who also hosts the late-night talk show Midnight in Minnesota. KOGD is located in the Endicott building and the local watering hole is The Roundhouse (also called Brownies).

Cast: Tom Arnold (Tom Amross), Shannon Tweed (Maggie Amross), Lisa Wilhoit (Kenlon Amross), Mika Boorem (Alissa Amross), Ed McMahon (Charlie Dickerson), Shawnee Smith (Florence Madison), Michael Rosenbaum (Jonathan Summers), Tasha Smith (Tanya Cole), Danton Stone (Brownie).

8428 Tom Snyder's Celebrity Spotlight. (Pilot; Interview; NBC; 1/21/80; 3/17/80; 6/23/80). A three pilot attempt at a weekly series of celebrity interviews.

Host: Tom Snyder. Guests (First Pilot): Gary Coleman, Bo Derek, Clint Eastwood, Barry Manilow. Guests (Second Pilot): Loni Anderson, Chevy Chase, Cher, Jack Lemmon. Guests (Third Pilot): James Cagney, Erik Estrada, Carroll O'Connor, Priscilla Presley.

8429 The Tom Swift and Linda Craig Mystery Hour. (Pilot; Mystery; ABC; 7/3/83). Tom Swift is a scientific genius; his cousin, Linda Craig, is a young detective. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they team to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, titled "The Treasure of Rancho del Sol," Tom and Linda attempt to rescue their grandfather (Bronco) from fortune hunters seeking a legendary treasure. Other Regulars: Kathy, Linda's cousin; Rad, Tom's friend; Grandma Mallory, Bronco's wife; and Mrs. Gorman, Rad's mother.

Cast: Willie Aames (Tom Swift), Lori Loughlin (Linda Craig), Amanda Wyss (Kathy Hamilton), Christopher Blande (Rad Gorman), William Windom (Bronco Mallory), Carmen Zapata (Grandma Mallory), Ja'net DuBois (Mrs. Gorman). Guest Cast: George DiCenzo (Rudolph Ulmer), Carlos Romero (Luis), Royce D. Applegate (Joe Hicks), Leonard J. Stone (Father Simon), Shawn Schepps (Marilyn Crosby), Robert O'Reilly (Al), John Ashton (Sheriff).

8430 Tom Terrific. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1957–1959). Tom Terrific is a small boy who acquires amazing powers (including super intellect) from a funnel-like hat that he wears. Mighty Manfred, the Wonder Dog is his lazy canine companion. His main foe is Crabby Appleton and stories relate Tom's efforts to foil the dealings of a man whose slogan is "Rotten to the Core." Aired as a segment of Captain Kangaroo. Stories are five-minute daily serials that were edited to form complete stories for syndication in 1962.

Voice Characterizations: Lionel Wilson.

8431 Toma. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1973–1974). David Toma is an undercover agent with the Newark, New Jersey Police Department. He is a tough, dedicated police officer who often uses disguises to apprehend criminals.

David is married to Patty and they are the parents of Donna and Jimmy. Stories, which are based on the real life exploits of Newark detective David Toma, relate his often-dangerous undercover assignments. Inspector Spooner is David's superior and the real David Toma appears in various roles.

Cast: Tony Musante (David Toma), Susan Strasberg (Patty Toma), Michele Livingston (Donna Toma), Sean Mannerling (Jimmy Toma), Simon Oakland (Inspector Spooner).

8432 Tomahawk. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). Pierre Radisson and his partner, Medard, are adventurers who roam the American Northwest during the 1700s. The territory has yet to be fully explored and dangers lurk everywhere, mostly for settlers from Indians who oppose them building homes on their land. Stories relate Raddison's adventures as he and Medard risk their lives to help the pioneers who are seeking to begin new lives.

Cast: Jacques Godin (Pierre Radisson), Rene Caron (Medard).

8433 Tombstone Territory. (Series; Western; ABC; 1957–1959). "An actual account from the pages of my newspaper, The Tombstone Epitaph. This is the way it happened in the town too tough to die — Tombstone Territory" said Harris Clayton, the paper's editor, in the series opening theme. The setting is Tombstone, Arizona during the 1880s and stories relate Harris's efforts to establish peace through the power of the press. Clay Hollister is the sheriff; Charlie Riggs is the deputy. Harris is also known by the last name of Clayborne; the Crystal Room is the town bar.

Cast: Richard Eastham (Harris Clayton), Pat Conway (Clay Hollister), Gil Rankin (Charlie Riggs). Theme Vocal: "Take Me Back to Tombstone Territory" by William M. Backer.

8434 Tomfoolery. (Series; Carton; NBC; 1970–1971). A fast-paced series of "riddles, jokes and silly things" that are based on characters from children's literature. The stories are interspersed with a variety of animated characters that are designed to relate aspects of the world to children. Arthur Rankin, Jr. and Jules Bass are the producers.

Voices: Peter Hawkins, Bernard Spear, Joan Gerber.

8435 The Tommy Hunter Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966). Performances by country and western entertainers. Dave Thomas is the producer.

Host: Tommy Hunter. Regulars: The Allen Sisters, The Rhythm Pals. Music: Bert Niesi.

8436 Tommy Lee Goes to College. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2005). Tommy Lee, a former drummer with the group Motley Crue, attends the University of Nebraska for one semester. Cameras follow him as he attends classes, mixes with students, takes tests—and even tries out for the school's marching band.

Cast: Tommy Lee (Himself), Natalie Riedman (Tommy's Tutor), Matt Ellis (Tommy's Roommate).

8437 The Tomorrow Show. (Series; Discussion; NBC; 1973–1982). Interviews with people rarely seen on television and for the most part non-show business that have a story to tell. The series aired for 60 minutes from October 15, 1973 to September 15, 1980; 90 minutes from September 16, 1980 to January 18, 1982.

Host: Tom Snyder. Co-Host: Rona Barrett. Announcer: Frank Barton, Bill Wendell.

8438 The Toni Tennille Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1980). Music, songs and celebrity interviews with Toni Tennille, the lovely half of the singing duo of The Captain and Tennille. Her husband, Daryl Dragon (the Captain) and their daughter, Melissa also appear. Bob Eubanks is the producer.

Hostess: Toni Tennille. Regulars: Daryl Dragon, Melissa Tennille. Orchestra: Ira Newborn.

8439 Toni Twin Time. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950). A program of music and songs (including performances by undiscovered talent) with Arlene and Ardelle Terry, the singing teenage twins. The series, sponsored by Toni hair care products, is also known as Twin Time. The series aired from April 5, 1950 to September 20, 1950.

Host: Jack Lemmon. Regulars: Arlene Terry, Ardelle Terry, Lee Goodwin, Jim Kirkwood, Jack Kriza, Ann Koesun. Orchestra: Ray Bloch.

8440 Tonight! America After Dark. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957). A live program of interviews coupled with on-the-spot news coverage. A revised Tonight Show format that failed to arouse new viewer interest. The series ran from January 28, 1957 to July 26, 1957.

Host: Jack Lescoulie, Al "Jazzbo" Collins. Vocalist: Judy Johnson. Newscaster: Hy Gardner, Bob Considine, Earl Wilson, Irving Kupcinet, Vernon Scott, Paul Coates, Lee Giroux. Music: The Lou Stein Trio, The Mort Lindsey Quartet.

8441 Tonight in Havana. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 9/2/58). Havana is the setting for a proposed series about Tio and Amelia, restaurant owners who help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, an old flame of Amelia's asks Tio to help recover a stolen necklace.

Cast: Ricardo Montalban (Tio), Lita Milan (Amelia). Guest Cast: Mari Aldon (Sorita), Edward Colmans (Captain Molina).

8442 Tonight on Broadway. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1948–1949). Excerpts from current (1948) Broadway shows and interviews with their stars. The series ran from April 6, 1948 to May 23, 1948 and October 2, 1949 to December 18, 1949.

Host: Martin Gosch (1948), James Mason Brown (1949).

8443 The Tonight Show. (Series; Variety; Local New York; 1953–1954). A local New York late night program (over NBC affiliate WNBT; now WNBC) of music, song and interviews that would eventually launch the long running Tonight Show. The series aired from July 27, 1953 to September 24, 1954 (three days later it became a network series called The Tonight Show).

Host: Steve Allen. Regulars: Steve Lawrence, Helen Dixon, Pat Kirby. Announcer: Gene Rayburn. Music: Bobby Byrne.

8444 The Tonight Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1957). Network television's first late-night entertainment series; a program of music, songs, comedy and interviews. It aired from September 27, 1954 to January 25, 1957.

Host: Steve Allen. Regulars: Steve Lawrence, Eydie Gorme, Pat Marshall, Andy Williams, Helen Dixon. Announcer: Gene Rayburn. Music: Skitch Henderson.

8445 The Tonight Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956–1957). A program of music and comedy that preempted the 1954–1957 Tonight Show twice a week for four months (October 1, 1956 to January 22, 1957).

Host: Ernie Kovacs. Vocalists: Maureen Arthur, Pete Hanley. Announcer: Bill Wendell. Music: Leroy Holmes.

8446 The Tonight Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957–1962). A nightly program of music, songs, chatter, comedy and celebrity interviews that replaced the failed Tonight! America After Dark. It ran from July 29, 1957 to March 30, 1962.

Host: Jack Paar. Regulars: Cliff Arquette, Pat Harrington, Jr., Peggy Cass, Alexander King, Mary Margaret McBride, Dody Goodman, Betty Johnson, Elsa Maxwell, Tedi Thurman, The Bil and Cora Baird Puppets. Announcer: Hugh Downs. Music: Jose Melis.

8447 The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1962–1992). A nightly program of celebrity interviews, music and light comedy. The program is famous for Johnny's opening monologue, his honest and often humorous interviews, his bits with announcer Ed McMahon and his animal "guests" with Jim Fowler and Joan Embury. There were also several regular features: The Mighty Carson Art Players (spoofs of movies, television shows and commercials); Carnac the Magnificent (Johnny as a mind reader who first gave the answer, then opened a "hermetically sealed" envelope that contained the question); the Tea Time Movie (Johnny as Art Fenn, a fast-talking huckster attempting to sell useless products during the film's commercial breaks); and a nonsense editorial segment with Johnny as Floyd R. Turbo.

8448 The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1992–). Comedian Jay Leno steps into the spot vacated by Johnny Carson to replace him as the host of NBC's Tonight Show. The style set by prior host Steve Allen and followed in part by Johnny Carson, is also followed by Jay: an opening monologue, celebrity interviews, comedy skits and musical numbers.

8449 Toni's Boys. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/2/80). A proposed spin-off from Charlie's Angels about Antonia "Toni" Blake, the owner of a private detective agency (at 612 Essex Road, Los Angeles) who solves crimes with the help of three handsome operatives (Bob, Cotton and Matt) and a butler (Rolph). The pilot episode teams Toni's Boys with Charlie's Angels (Kris, Kelly and Tiffany) to find Michael Durano, an assassin who is plotting to kill the Angels and get even with Charlie for putting him behind bars.

8450 The Tony Bennett Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956). A summer program of music and songs with singer Tony Bennett as the host. The series ran from August 11, 1956 to September 8, 1956.

Host: Tony Bennett. Regulars: The Spellbinders, The Frank Lewis Dancers.

8451 The Tony Danza Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997). Tony DiMeo is a sportswriter living in New York City. He is separated from his wife and the father of two daughters, Tina and Micki. Stories follow Tony as he attempts to be both mother and father to Tina and Micki. Helping him is his father, Frank, the owner of DiMeo's Italian Bakery.

Tony attended St. Paul's Catholic School; Tina attends the Springer School; Micki, the younger daughter, is neurotic, paranoid and a hypochondriac.

Other Regulars: Carmen Cruz, Tony's secretary (and occasional aide in raising Tina and Micki); and Stuey, the building doorman.

8452 The Tony Danza Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 2004). A daily talk show that tries to be a bit different. Here actor Tony Danza interviews not only celebrities but athletes, news makers and ordinary people who have a story to tell (people who are trying to make a difference). Children with talent are also put in the spotlight and a cooking segment is often devoted to Tony as he prepares family recipes.

Host: Tony Danza. Announcer: Erika Vetrini.

8453 The Tony Martin Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1956). Music and songs with singer Tony Martin as the host. Bud Yorkin is the producer.

Host: Tony Martin. Vocalists: The Interludes. Orchestra: Hal Bourne, David Rose.

8454 Tony Orlando and Dawn. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1974–1976). Music, songs and light comedy with singer Tony Orlando and his group, Dawn (Telma Hopkins, Joyce Vincent Wilson). Saul Ilson and Ernest Chambers are the producers.

Host: Tony Orlando. Co-Host: Telma Hopkins, Joyce Vincent Wilson. Regulars: Steve Franken, George Carlin, Susan Tolsky, Susan Lancer, Jimmy Martinez, Edie McClurg, Adam Wade. Announcer: Roger Carroll, Dick Tufeld. Orchestra: Bob Rozario.

8455 The Tony Orlando Show. (Unaired Pilot; Talk; Produced in 1987). A proposed but unsold daily series of celebrity interviews and entertainment acts to be hosted by singer Tony Orlando. Ernie DiMassa is the producer.

8456 The Tony Randall Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; CBS; 1976–1978). Walter O. Franklin is a less-than-magisterial judge of the Court of Common Pleas in Philadelphia. He is a widower and the father of Roberta and Oliver. While he will not exactly call Judge Eleanor Hooper his girlfriend or his romantic interest, he is seeing her and refers to her as his lady friend. Walter is a stickler for the rules of the courtroom and expects lawyers to act accordingly. Stories follow Walter as he strives for perfection — at home and at work (but rarely gets it).

Other Regulars: Janet Reubner, Walter's secretary; Bonnie McClellan, his housekeeper; Jack Terwilliger, the court stenographer; Judy, Walter's law clerk; Mario Lanza, Walter's law associate; Wyatt Franklin, Walter's father; Tanya, Jack's wife.

8457 Tony the Pony. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1979). Tony is a magic pony that can grant children any wish. The Book of Magic declared that a colt named Tony be endowed with magical powers and be given to Jonathan, a lonely boy. Stories depict their adventures as the help children in need.

Cast: Poindexter (Jonathan), Sterling Holloway (G.G. the Wizard), Barbara Cason (Agnes, the Witch). Theme Vocal: "Tony the Pony" by Jill Jackson.

8458 Too Close for Comfort. (Series; Comedy; ABC; Syn.; 1980–86). The red Victorian two-family house on Buena Vista Street in San Francisco was once a famous brothel. It has long since lost that reputation and is now owned by Henry and Muriel Rush, the overprotective parents of two beautiful girls, Jackie and Sarah. In order to keep tabs on his daughters, Henry rents them the downstairs apartment for $300 a month.

Henry is the creator and artist of the comic strip "Cosmic Cow" (a space crime fighter; his biggest challenge "is to draw an udder so it is not offensive"). He first worked as an artist by painting turtles. "Cosmic Cow" is published by Random Comics, a division of Wainwright Publishing. Muriel is a freelance photographer. Before marrying Henry, she was Muriel Martin, a singer with Al Crowler and His Orchestra. Last season ABC episodes find Henry and Muriel becoming the parents of a son (Andrew).

Jacqueline, nicknamed Jackie, is the older sister (22). She is first a teller at the Bay City Bank, then a salesgirl at Balaban's Department Store and finally a fashion designer. She wears a size 32A bra, is excessively neat and jealous of women with fuller figures.

Sarah, a freshman at San Francisco State College, takes various part time jobs to earn her half of the rent money. Her first job was as a "wench waitress" at the Fox and Hound Bar (she got the job because she has a figure that fit the available uniform). She then became a teller at Jackie's bank, the local weather forecaster for KTSF-TV's Dawn in San Francisco program and a businesswoman who attempted to market Cosmic Cow Cookies. Sarah, who considers herself a "ten," wears a size 36C bra, is somewhat lazy and a sloppy housekeeper. The constant attention men give Sarah makes Jackie extremely jealous.

Monroe Ficus was originally a friend of Sarah's who attended State College and sort of just attached himself to her. His major was communications, with a minor in journalism; he later became a security guard at the Riverwood Shopping Mall.

April Rush, Henry's niece, appeared for one season and was a free spirited musician who hung out with a character named Moonbeam.

In April 1986 the series became The Ted Knight Show (later re-titled Too Close for Comfort after the initial run). Henry and Muriel relocate to Marin County, California, after Jackie and Sarah move away. Henry becomes co-owner (49 percent) of the weekly paper, the Marin Bugler, with Hope Stinson, who owns 51 percent. Brutus is the name of the dog on the paper's masthead. Monroe is now Henry's assistant at the paper. He hopes to become a standup comic and performs as Buddy Ficus at the Comedy Shack. Henry and Muriel's son, Andrew (an infant on the earlier series) is now five years old.

The series ran on ABC from November 11, 1980 to September 15, 1983; and in Syndication from 1984–1986. Theme: "Too Close for Comfort," by Johnny Mandel.

Note: Too Close for Comfort is based on the British series Keep It in the Family. It is the story of Dudley Rush (Robert Gillespie), a strip cartoonist (of "Barney, the Bionic Bulldog"), and his wife, Muriel (Pauline Yates), as they struggle to keep tabs on their daughters, Jacqui (Jenny Quayle) and Susan (Stacy Dorning), when they move into the basement apartment of the Rush home.

Cast: Ted Knight (Henry Rush), Nancy Dussault (Muriel Rush), Deborah Van Valkenburgh (Jackie Rush), Lydia Cornell (Sarah Rush), Jim J. Bullock (Monroe Ficus), Deena Freeman (April Rush), Audrey Meadows (Iris Martin; Muriel's mother), Hamilton Camp (Arthur Wainwright; Henry's boss), Inga Neilson (Regis; Arthur's chauffeur), Selma Diamond (Mildred Rafkin; sister of the former Rush tenant), Ray Middleton (Huey Rush; Henry's father), Bill Dana (Wendell Balaban; Henry's friend), Paddi Edwards (Dr. Connelly; Muriel's obstetrician), Jaye P. Morgan (Cora Matthews; married Huey), William Thomas & Michael Philip Cannon (Andrew Rush), Joshua Goodwin (Andrew Rush; later), Sunni Watson (Voice of Andrew; baby talk), Frank Welker (Voice of Andrew; thoughts), Pat Paulsen (Benjamin Ficus; Monroe's father), Priscilla Pointer (Betty Farnsworth; Muriel's mother), Pat Carroll (Hope Stinson), Lisa Antille (Lisa), Leah Ayres (Jennifer; Hope's niece).

8459 Too Good to Be True. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/5/83). In an effort to save the Pepperidge Preparatory School for Girls from bankruptcy, its principal (Claire Shelton) changes the enrollment to allow boys. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps that occur as the school becomes co-ed. The pilot episode depicts the boys' efforts to run a candidate for student body president against a popular female candidate. Other Regulars: Gerald, the vice principal; Mona, the housemother; and students Cassie, Rhonda, Nance, Camille, Mick, Ditto, Joey and Eliot.

Cast: Diana Muldaur (Claire Shelton), Reid Shelton (Gerald Whitworth), Beah Richards (Mona Rainey), Diane Franklin (Cassie), Sarah Buxton (Rhonda), Alison Roth (Nance Mayberry), Cindy Herron (Camille), John Stockwell (Mick), Moosie Drier (Ditto), Patrick Labordeaux (Joey), Brian Backer (Eliot Zinberg).

8460 Too Good to Be True. (Pilot; Reality; NBC; 8/28/94). "If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is" and is probably a con — an ingenious scheme to get your money. The program explores, through dramatizations, various cons — how they are used, what to watch out for and how to avoid them.

Host: Fred Roggin. Cast: Keith Perry (Investigator).

8461 Too Many Sergeants. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 1/6/63). A proposed spin-off from McKeever and the Colonel that was to focus on the experiences of Ann Gruber, a tough WAC sergeant. The pilot episode introduces Sergeant Gruber when Colonel Maxwell, headmaster of the Westfield Military Academy for Boys, hires her to discipline his unruly cadets.

Cast: Ann B. Davis (Sergeant Ann Gruber), Mike Muzurki (Sergeant Swataski), Beverly Wills (Gruber's assistant). Guest Cast: Allyn Joslyn (Harvey Blackwell), Scott Lane (Gary McKeever), Jackie Coogan (Sergeant Barnes), Keith Taylor (Tubby), Johnny Eimen (Monk).

8462 Too Something. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1995). A buddy-buddy comedy about Eric McDougal and Donny Reeves, best friends who are nearing thirty, share a New York apartment "and aren't afraid of hugging and who don't get into all the weird macho stuff." Each also has a dream: Eric to become a writer; Donny, a photographer. The two also have a serious problem: Eric won't let anyone see what he writes; Donny will not exhibit (or let anyone see) the photographs he has taken. Until they overcome their inhibitions about their real life's work, Eric and Donny struggle to deal with the everyday pressures of life (and, being a sitcom) finding nothing but misadventure.

Cast: Eric Schaeffer (Eric McDougal), Donal Lardner Ward (Donny Reeves), Portia de Rossi (Maria Hunter), Lisa Gerstein (Evelyn), Larry Poindexter (Henry), Mindy Seeger (Daisy).

8463 Too Young to Go Steady. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1959). Pamela Blake is a very pretty fifteen-year-old girl. She is the daughter of Tom Blake, a lawyer, and his wife, Mary. Pamela is somewhat of a tomboy, has a younger brother, John, and a best girlfriend, Timmie. Pamela is also beginning to shed her tomboyish ways and has begun to notice boys — something her father can't accept because Pamela "is my little girl." Stories follow Pamela as she struggles to make the transition from tomboy to young lady; and Tom's efforts to adjust to the fact that Pamela is no longer that little girl. The series ran from May 14, 1959 to June 25, 1959.

Cast: Brigid Bazlen (Pamela Blake), Don Ameche (Tom Blake), Joan Bennett (Mary Blake), Martin Huston (John Blake), Lorna Gillam (Timmie).

8464 Toonces: The Cat Who Could Drive a Car. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/14/92). Various sketches that feature Toonces, the mischievous feline from the series Saturday Night Live. Toonces is a puppet-like character who is owned by Brenda and Lyle, but fancies himself as a human and capable of amazing things (like driving a car). His fantasies (for example, becoming “The Tooncinator”) were to be comically played out each week in skits with guest stars.

Cast: Victoria Jackson (Brenda), Dana Carvey (Lyle). Guests: Karen Allen, Linda Hamilton, Phil Hartman, Randy Quaid.

8465 Toonsylvania. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1998). Toonsylvania is a land where monsters rule — but they are not scary (as in Transylvania) but cuddly and lovable. A look into this wacky animated realm is led by Dr. Vic Frankenstein, a crazed scientist, and his dim-witted assistant, Phil, who introduce children (it is a Saturday morning series) to a world of monsters who find living the life they do (out of the ordinary) just ordinary to them. The series, produced by Steven Spielberg, ran from February 14, 1998 to December 21, 1998.

Voice Cast: David Warner (Dr. Vic Frankenstein), Brad Garrett (Phil). Additional Voices: Billy West, Charles Adler, Kath Soucie, Valery Pappas, Wayne Knight, Corey Burton, Nancy Cartwright, Cam Clarke, Sandy Fox, Matt Frewer, Jess Harnell.

8466 Tootsie Hippodrome. (Series; Children; ABC; 1952–1954). A program of entertainment geared to children: circus variety acts, country and western entertainers, music and quizzes (a prize is awarded to a child if he can correctly answer a question).

Host: John Reed King, Whitey Carson, Boyd Heath. Assistant: Mary Reynolds (as Judy Ann).

8467 Top Cat. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1961–1962). Top Cat, “whose close friends get to call him T.C.,” is a master con artist who uses schemes to enjoy a carefree life. His attempts, however, are put to the test by Charlie Dibble, a police officer with the 13th Precinct, who is seeking to put Top Cat where he belongs — behind bars. Top Cat is based on the Sergeant Bilko character from The Phil Silvers Show. Choo Choo, Benny the Ball, Fancy Fancy, Pierre and Spook are T.C.’s patsies; Goldie is T.C.’s girlfriend.

8468 Top Chef. (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2006–). A reality program with a simple but nerve-wrecking premise (for those involved) — put real life chefs in high-tension situations that test their abilities to deal with any and all problems that face top chefs everyday (from double bookings to late food deliveries). The chef who proves to be the best at coping with and solving the challenges that are presented is named Top Chef (chefs who fail to meet expectations are eliminated on a weekly basis).

Host: Padma Lukshmi.

8469 Top Cops. (Series; Reality; CBS; 1990). Each week the case of a real police officer is profiled. Once a case has been selected, it is dramatized with the officer involved serving as the host and narrator. Sonny Grosso is the producer.

8470 Top Dollar. (Series; Game; CBS; 1958–1959). A line that contains blank spaces, and refers to an unknown word, is displayed on stage. In turn, each of the three players who compete, suggest letters that may be contained in the word. A player earns $100 for each letter he suggests that is contained in the word; but is disqualified if he suggests the last letter. The first player to identify the word is the winner of that round. The highest cash scorer is the champion and competes until he is defeated. The series ran in primetime from March 29, 1958 to August 30, 1958; and on CBS daytime from September 1, 1958 to October 23, 1959.

Host: Toby Reed. Judge: Dr. Bergen Evans.

8471 Top 40 Videos. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1984). Video D.J.’s (hosts) Barbara Barrett and Kenny Noble oversee a visual radio series that showcases the latest rock videos. Jay Jacobs and Paul Stillman composed the theme.

8472 Top of the Heap. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992). Apartment 3A at 116 East Hampton in Chicago is the residence of Charles (“Charlie”) Verducci and his son, Vincent (“Vinnie”) Verducci, two men who are poor and looking for the perfect way to get rich quick.

Charlie, the building’s super, is a former marine who dreams that the “Verducci Master Plan” (finding Vinnie a rich girl to marry and living on easy street) will one day come true. Vinnie, who has a cat named Mr. Fluffy, is a former boxer who now works at the Rolling Hills Country Club. Vinnie was hired by Alixandra (“Alix”) Stone, the club manager, “to keep the ladies off my back.”

Mona Mullins is the Verduccis’ ultra sexy neighbor. She is 16 years old and considers herself “sensual, desirous and sexy.” Mona is obsessed with Vinnie and wants to have his children. Vinnie finds it difficult to resist her, but does — “Mona, you’re 16 and jailbait. I’ll wind up with other guys who might want me.”

Lupe Hernandez is the complaining tenant (Charlie doesn’t ignore tenants’ complaints, he just doesn’t listen to them), and Emmet Lefebvre is the “Rolling Hills Security Force.”

Kenny Yarbrough sings the theme, "Puttin' on the Ritz." The series is a spin-off from "Married ... with Children (the pilot aired as the episode of 4/17/91, "Top of the Heap"). See also Vinnie and Bobby.

Cast: Joseph Bologna (Charlie Verducci), Matt Le Blanc (Vinnie Verducci), Rita Moreno (Alix Stone), Joey Lauren Adams (Mona Mullins), Irene Olga Lopez (Lupe Hernandez), Leslie Jordan (Emmet Lefebvre).

8473 Top of the Hill. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1989). Patrick Bell is a powerful congressman on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. When the stress of the job causes a heart problem, Patrick is forced to step down. Thomas Bell, Patrick's son, is a young activist who feels, that to further his aspirations, he needs to occupy his father's seat in Congress. Thomas, a rather unconventional Californian (his truck, for example, has bumper stickers that read "I'd Rather Be Surfing" and "Warning — I Break for Waves"), runs for and wins the seat he was seeking.

Thomas is stubborn, unconventional and will not compromise his principals. Everything Thomas stands for is challenged as he begins his job and stories follow his experiences as he deals with real life crises (everything from child abuse to drug trafficking). Susan Pengilly, Mickey Stewart and Link Winslow are his young congressional aides; Shelly Bell is Patrick's wife.

Cast: William Katt (Thomas Bell, Jr.), Jordan Baker (Susan Pengilly), Tony Edwards (Link Winslow), Robby Weaver (Mickey Stewart), Dick O'Neill (Pat Bell), Beverly Leech (Shelley Bell).

8474 Top of the Month. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1972). Highlights of each month of the year are saluted through songs, sketches and dances. Bell Telephone sponsors the series. Perry Cross is the producer.

Host: Tony Randall. Hostess: E.J. Peaker. Regulars: Anson Williams, Tina Andrews, The Anita Mann Dancers, The Alan Copeland Singers. Orchestra: Aaron Copeland. Choreography: Anita Mann.

8475 Top of the World. (Series; Game; PBS; 1982). Three contestants compete, representing the US, the UK and Australia. In Round One, each contestant is required to answer twelve questions: four based on his own country and eight based on his challenger's countries. Each correct response scores one point. In Round Two, contestants are quizzed for two minutes on a subject of their own choosing. Two points are scored for each correct response. In Round Three, players are tested on world knowledge and each correct answer scores three points; an incorrect response deducts three points from a player's score. The highest-scoring player is the winner and receives a trophy. The three highest-scoring players (one per country) return at a later date and compete in a final game wherein a rare 1924 Rolls Royce is awarded to the highest-scoring player. The program is based in England and uses satellite transmission to pick up contestants in Europe, America and Australia.

Host: Eamonn Andrews.

8476 Top Plays of 1954. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1954). Rebroadcasts of outstanding dramas that were originally aired on Ford Theater. See this title for information. The summer series ran from June 1, 1954 to August 24, 1954.

8477 Top Secret. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1961). Peter Dallas is an agent for the British government who has been assigned to service in South America. Peter is a top agent and stories follow his undercover assignments as he involves himself in dangerous situations to ensure law and order.

Cast: William Franklyn (Peter Dallas).

8478 Top Secret. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 6/4/78). A proposed series about Aaron Strickland and (no first name) McGee, his partner, U.S. government secret agents. The pilot episode relates their efforts to recover 100 pounds of plutonium stolen from a U.S. Army depot in Italy.

Cast: Bill Cosby (Aaron Strickland), Tracy Reed (McGee). Guest Cast: Sheldon Leonard (Carl Vitale), Gloria Foster (Judith), Nat Bush (Sergeant Kwitney), Francesca DeSaplo (Brigitte), Marisa Merlini (Rosa Tattaglia).

8479 Top Secret, U.S.A. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1954). The work of the United States government undercover agents in conjunction with the Bureau of Scientific Information (B.S.I.).

Cast: Paul Stewart (Professor Brand), Gena Rowlands (Powell; his assistant).

8480 Top Ten. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/10/80). A satire of various aspects of life — from the top ten songs to the ten most difficult words to pronounce.

Host: Bill Saluga. Regulars: Marcie Barkin, Willie Curtis, Rick Dees, Mike Fulington, Phil Hartman, Mike Holden, Joyce Jillson, Chris Kling, Edie McClurg, Julie McWhirter, Paul Ryan, Diane Steinberg, Ted Zeigler.

8481 Topper. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1953–1955). The house at 101 Yardley Avenue in New York is home to Cosmo Topper, his wife, Henrietta, and its former owners, the ghosts of George and Marian Kerby, and their dog Neil.

Topper, a henpecked bank vice president, inherited the ghosts three months after the Kerbys' death in Switzerland. (As part of their fifth wedding anniversary celebration, George and Marian decided to go skiing. Fifty miles from nowhere Marian's ski broke. While arguing about what to do, a drunken Saint Bernard came to their rescue. Before anything could be done, the three perished in an avalanche.) George and Marian have come back, apparently, to bring some fun into Topper's dull life.

While measuring the floor for a carpet, Topper first realizes he has ghosts when he sees Marian's shapely legs, then the rest of her materialize. George then appears and Cosmo finds that his life is about to change forever as the ghosts will appear and speak only to him (coping with their antics and explaining unusual occurrences to other people becomes his biggest concern).

George and Marian consider Topper's home to be theirs. Marian, an excellent cook, calls Cosmo "Topper Darling" while George, a former playboy who still has an eye for the ladies, calls Topper "Old Man."

Because of his resemblance to George's cousin, Marian named the dog Neil. "Neil is crazy about bones and beer" says Marian.

Topper is associated with the following banks: National Security Bank, City Bank, Gotham Trust Company and City Trust and Savings. Humphrey Schuyler, the bank president (all listed), enjoys raising chickens on his upstate farm (Hildegard is his prize-winning chicken).

Henrietta sees many unusual things and accepts her husband's explanations, but believes Cosmo amuses himself by pretending to be haunted by three ghosts. She is most baffled by the front door—"It opens and closes by itself" (actually by George and Marian who prefer to enter and exit the house by opening the door as opposed to passing through it). It was Henrietta who talked Cosmo into moving (thinking their apartment was too small).

Her parents never liked Cosmo; they believed he was not good enough for her. Henrietta is a member of the Ladies' Drama Committee.

Over the course of the series, the Toppers had three maids: a girl named Vilma who appeared in the pilot but without a credit; Katie, a maid from the Abba Agency; and Maggie. The Toppers' mailbox (near the front gate) is a scale model of their home; their address is also given as 635 Yardley (in the pilot) and later 101 Maple Street. See also Topper (1979) and Topper Returns.

An announcer opens the show: "Anne Jeffreys as Marian Kerby, the ghostess with the mostess. Robert Sterling as George Kirby, that most sporting spirit. And Leo G. Carroll, host to said ghosts, as Topper."

In 1950 CBS produced a pilot (unaired) called Topper with Jack Sheehan (Cosmo Topper), Carol Goodner (his wife), Susan Shaw (Marian Kerby) and Joseph Boland (George Kerby).

Cast: Leo G. Carroll (Cosmo Topper), Robert Sterling (George Kerby), Anne Jeffreys (Marian Kerby), Lee Patrick (Henrietta Topper), Thurston Hall (Humphrey Schuyler), Kathleen Freeman (Katie), Edna Skinner (Maggie), Mary Field (Thelma Gib- ney; Henrietta's friend), Elvia Allman (Elsie Woods; Henrietta's friend), Buck (Neil).

8482 Topper. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 11/9/79). Following their death in an automobile accident, the spirits of Marian and George Kerby return to their earthly home to bring some fun and excitement into the life of its new owner, their drab and henpecked lawyer, Cosmo Topper. The unsold series was to relate Marian and George's efforts to brighten up Cosmo's dreary life and Cosmo's efforts to conceal the fact that he is haunted by two ghosts who appear only to him. The pilot episode relates Cosmo's efforts to help the Kerbys keep a piece of property they own from being turned into a high rise building project by a sinister developer. Other Regulars: Clara, Cosmo's wife; Wilkins, Cosmo's butler; and Fred, Cosmo's business partner.

Cast: Kate Jackson (Marian Kerby), Andrew Stevens (George Kerby), Jack Warden (Cosmo Topper), Rue McClanahan (Clara Topper), Macon McCalman (Wilkins), James Karen (Fred Korbell). Guest Cast: Charles Siebert (Stan Ogilvy), Gloria LeRoy (Salesgirl), Larry Gelman (Mechanic), Mary Peters (Marsha), Barbara Deutsch (Sylvia), Lois Areno (Charlene), Jane Wood (Nurse), Marshall Teague (Man in disco).

8483 Topper Returns. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/19/73). An update of the Topper story in which Cosmo Topper, Jr., the nephew of the late Cosmo Topper, finds his life plagued when he inherits his uncle's possessions, including the spirits of Marian and George Kerby. The fun-loving ghosts who appeared and spoke only to his uncle now appear and speak only to him in an attempt to bring some excitement in his dull life. Jones is Cosmo's butler.

Cast: Roddy McDowall (Cosmo Topper, Jr.), Stefanie Powers (Marian Kerby), John Fink (George Kerby), Reginald Owen (Jones). Also: Jeanne Bates, Arthur Lewis, Ralph Manza, John Randolph, Amzie Strickland.

8484 Tops of the Pops. (Series; Music; CBS; 1987–1988). Performances by both American and British (via satellite) singers. Based on the long-running British series of the same title.

Host: Nia Peeples, Gary Davies.

8485 Topsy-Turvy Quiz. (Live Test Program; Game; ABC; 1/25/46). An audience participation show in which everything is done backwards—from the show's opening (where the announcer signed off) to the closing (where he opened the show). The game format involved contestants earning money if they could successfully complete a stunt—but they were paid first, then had to give the money back if they couldn't complete the stunt or answer a question.

Host: Frances Scott.

8486 Tori & Dean: Inn Love. (Series; Reality; Oxygen; 2007). Actress Tori Spelling (the daughter of producer Aaron Spelling) and her husband, Dean McDermott, leave the glitz and glamour of Hollywood to open a bed and breakfast in California. Cameras follow their every move — from the financing to full purchase of the B&B, and their efforts to run it.

Cast: Tori Spelling, Dean McDermott, Scout Masterson, Suzanne McFarlane.

8487 Tori & Dean: Inn Love II. (Series; Reality; Oxygen; 2007). A sequel to Tori and Dean: Inn Love that picks up from where the prior series left off. Tori Spelling and Dean McDermott are now parents (of Liam) and have established their bed and breakfast (Chateau La Rue). The series follows Tori, as a mother, and Dean as they care for Liam, attempt to run the bed and breakfast and pursue their acting careers.

Cast: Tori Spelling, Dean McDermott.

8488 The Torkelsons. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1991–1992). The house off Farm Route Two in the small town of Pyramid Corners, Oklahoma, is home to the Torkelson family: Millicent, the divorced mother of five children, Dorothy Jane, Ruth Ann, Mary Sue, Steven Floyd and Chuckie Lee. They are a proud but poor family, and to help meet expenses, Millicent takes in a boarder named Wesley Hodges, a retired salesman who pays her $125 a month rent for a basement room; he is affectionately called “Boarder Hodges.” The family attends the Pyramid Corners Community Church on Sundays and has a dog named Fred.

Millicent is a very attractive woman who devotes all her energies to raising her family. She has not dated since her ex-husband, Randall (Gregg Henry), walked out on her. Millicent runs a small business (Millicent Torkelson — Custom Upholstering and Design) from her home and is famous for her pickled vegetables. Each autumn Millicent opens up the Torkelson’s roadside stand and sells Torkelsons’ Treats for one dollar a jar (homemade jellies, jams and the famous pickled vegetables). Millicent attended Will Rogers Junior High and Pyramid Corners High School. Her maiden name is Dowd.

Dorothy Jane is the oldest child (age 14) and longs “for a life of poetry, romance and beauty.” The only sanctuary she has is her bedroom (the tower room with a wraparound balcony that overlooks the street); she calls it her “sanctuary from the storm.”

Dorothy Jane is a freshman at Pyramid Corners High School. She is the only kid in her class who wears clothes that were once something else (for example, Millicent made curtains into a dress for her). Dorothy Jane confides her dreams, joys, sorrows and ambitions to the Man in the Moon. She is very pretty but shy and desperately wants to become an adult (“Dear Man in the Moon, the nightmare continues. Here sits the soul of a woman trapped in the shell of a child”).

Ruth Ann attends Will Rogers Junior High and plays the French horn in the school band. She believes she is beauty pageant material (“I’ve got legs that go on forever”).

Mary Sue is the youngest child (6) and has two dolls: Martha Sue and Elmo (the Muppet from “Sesame Street”). Millicent calls her “Pumpkin.” Chuckie Lee likes to hang out with the school custodian; Mary Sue enjoys going to Crawford’s Pet Shop to pet the hamsters; and Dorothy Jane and Steven Floyd enjoy ice cream and hamburgers at the Frostee King.

In the episode “Return to Sender” (11/24/91), William Schallert and Patty Duke were reunited (he played Patty’s father, Martin Lane, on The Patty Duke Show). Patty was Catherine Jeffers, the wife of Wesley’s late son, Michael (Catherine lives at 37 Martin Lane in Philadelphia; the address is named after William’s character on The Patty Duke Show).

Ronnie Claire Edwards appeared occasionally as Millicent’s mother-in-law, Bootsie Torkelson (she owns Bootsie’s Beauty Shop). In the pilot episode, Elizabeth Poyer played Ruth Ann and Benji Thall was Steven Floyd. Drew Carey appeared as Kirby’s uncle, Herb Scroggins; Connie Ray played her aunt, Jimmie Sissy Dowd. Naomi and Wynonna Judd sing the theme, “Everything Will Be All Right.”

Cast: Connie Ray (Millicent Torkelson), Olivia Burnette (Dorothy Jane Torkelson), Anna Slotky (Ruth Ann Torkelson), Rachel Duncan (Mary Sue Torkelson), Aaron Michael Metchik (Steven Floyd Torkelson), Lee Norris (Chuckie Lee Torkelson), William Schallert (Wesley Hodges).

8489 The Tortellis. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1987). A spin-off from Cheers. Nick Tortelli is Carla’s ex-husband. He is now married to the beautiful Loretta and has a business at 171 Hope Drive called Nick’s Talent Emporium. Loretta is his main client, a singer with a group called the Grinning Americans (later called the Lemon Sisters). With his business failing, Nick and Loretta decide to begin new lives in Las Vegas, where Loretta has high hopes of becoming a showgirl. Nick and Loretta, as well as Nick’s son, Anthony, and Anthony’s wife, Annie, move to Nevada and into the home of Loretta’s sister, Charlotte Cooper, and her young son, Mark.

Charlotte lives at 6531 Veronna Street and is a substitute schoolteacher for the Nevada public school system. While Loretta struggles to achieve her dream, Nick sets up a new business called Tortelli’s TV Hospital, which he operates from Charlotte’s garage. Perry Botkin composed “The Tortellis Theme.”

Cast: Dan Hedaya (Nick Tortelli), Jean Kasem

8490 Total Eclipse. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 9/6/39). A rather short experiment, only eight minutes, with Howard Reed, a black entertainer who was discovered playing the New York tavern circuit. He provided his own ukulele accompaniment and sang several pop tunes.

Host: Gilbert Martin. Star: Howard Reed (Total Eclipse).

8491 Total Recall: 2070. (Series; Crime Drama; Showtime; 1999). It is the year 2070 and police departments across the U.S. have teamed humans with android partners. One such team is David Hume and his robot partner Ian Farve. Technology has become so advanced that it is impossible to tell a human from an android. Stories follow the team as they do whatever it takes to uphold the law. The series is not totally a fresh idea. Several series with similar plots preceded it: Holmes and Yoyo, Future Cop and Mann and Machine. See these titles for information.

Cast: Michael Easton (David Hume), Karl Pruner (Ian Farve).

8492 Total Security. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1997). Total Security is a Culver City, California-based private detective organization whose main objective is to make their clients feel secure. Their true mandate is crime prevention. They provide personal home security, threat assessment, skip tracing, counter intelligence at the corporate level “and more.” The company was founded by Frank Cisco, a former L.A.P.D. homicide detective when he felt he could do more to help people by attacking crime from outside the system. “Law enforcement responds to the crimes committed; we do certain work after the fact to those who won’t or can’t turn to the police for help.” Steve Waigman, Jodie Kiplinger and Ellie Jones are Frank’s operatives.

Frank is 40 years old and hates to celebrate birthdays as it reminds him he is getting a year older. He is totally honest and draws the line at things that are immoral, illegal and unprofessional — “I deal straight up with everyone.” While Frank may be forthright and upstanding, he is rather cold and harsh; people say Frank needs people skills. Even though Frank is no longer a cop, he thinks like one and uses his prior experiences to help him nab criminals. He has feelings for his clients and does show remorse when a case turns bad.

Steve is a sleazy investigator who contradicts Frank’s beliefs. Steve tries but relies on underhanded methods — from lying to stealing — to satisfy a client and Frank. Steve cons clients into paying the money they owe (Frank appears to have a number of clients who do not pay their bills) and relishes setting up stings to apprehend criminals.

Jodie is a recent widow whose husband, a cop, killed himself when the pressures of his job became overwhelming. By the third episode, she and Frank began a relationship. Jodie was born in Los Angeles and is a graduate of UCLA. She carries a .38 for backup and is too sure of herself. She feels she can handle any case alone; Frank fears her overconfidence will eventually cost Jodie her life.

Ellie is called Jonesy by everyone and often goes undercover when a sexy or ditz blonde is required for a sting. She is a native Californian and attended Berkeley. She often complains about the equipment she has to sometimes wear to record evidence. She most objects to wearing a micro camera she calls a cleavage cam in her bra because she has to get suspects to look at her breasts in order to record their faces.

Also working for Frank are Nevil, Geneva and George. Other than keeping the books and complaining about overdue bills and Frank’s habit of taking cases for free, no other information is given about George. Nevil is Frank’s electronics expert and inventor of “The Cleavage Cam.” He is an expert at phone tapping, computer hacking, satellite surveillance and responsible for installing the company’s rather costly security systems — $50,000 and up. Geneva is the firm’s receptionist. While she does have skills taking messages and dictation, she was hired principally because she said she would not be interested in an acting career. Frank’s prior receptionists were apparently bitten by the acting bug and quit. Geneva possesses a degree in secretarial services from El Camino College. Mike Post composed the theme “Total Security.”

Cast: James Remar (Frank Cisco), James Belushi (Steve Waigman), Debrah Farentino (Jodie Kiplinger), Tracey Needham (Ellie Jones), Flex Alexander (Nevil), Kristin Bauer (Geneva), Bill Brochtrup (George).

8493 Totally Hidden Video. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1989–1991). A Candid Camera type of series that uses hidden cameras to catch people in prearranged situations and in the act of being themselves as they react to the predicaments.

Host: Steve Skrovan, Anne Bloom, Bill Kirchenbauer, Jeffrey Joseph, Mark Pitta. Regulators: Cynthia Lea Clark, Jon Mullich, Cheryl Rhoads, Gary Kramer, Sam Sako.

8494 Totally Spies. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2004). Samantha (called Sam), Alexandra (called Alex) and Clover appear to be ordinary high school girls living in Beverly Hills. They are — but they are also secret agents who perform hazardous missions for the government. Stories not only relate their adventures as they tackle cases around the world, but their efforts to live their lives as normal teenage girls (dealing with homework, boys and school activities).

8495 A Touch of Grace. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1973). The love between two elderly people: Grace Simpson, a 65-year-old widow who lost her husband, Henry, two years ago, and Herbert Morrison, a widowed 70-year-old gravedigger, two lonely hearts who met and fell in love when Grace first came to tend Henry's grave. Stories tenderly relate the aspects of their courtship and eventual marriage.

Grace, a member of the Over 60s Club, lives with her married daughter, Myra Bradley, and her husband, Walter ("Wally") Bradley, at 103 Court Street. Myra feels that Herbert is just not right for her mother and objects to their relationship: "What's the hurry? It took her 20 years to find my dad and only two years to find this gravedigger. What kind of life is she going to have with this man? She's entitled to have a little fun." Wally, the manager of the Penny Mart Supermarket, feels that Grace and Herbert are good for each other. He convinces Myra of this on the day Herbert proposes to Grace: "Myra, those people like each other an awful lot and getting married will make your mother very happy. The fact is, Grace will have more fun becoming 70 with Mr. Morrison than anything else." Had the series been renewed, it would have continued to focus on the lives of an elderly married couple. Herbert mentioned that he was with the Lancaster Light Infantry in 1917; Grace's last name was also given as Sherwood. Based on the British series, For the Love of Ada. Pete Rugolo composed the theme, "You're Never Too Old for Love."

Cast: Shirley Booth (Grace Sherwood/Grace Simpson), J. Pat O'Malley (Herbert Morrison), Marian Mercer (Myra Bradley), Warren Berlinger (Walter Bradley).

8496 Touche Turtle. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1962). Touché Turtle, a fumbling modern-day knight, and his assistant Dumm Dumm, find countless misadventures as they attempt to help people in trouble.

Voice Cast: Bill Thompson (Touché Turtle), Alan Reed (Dumm Dumm).

8497 Touched by an Angel. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1994–2003). Messengers of God who perform missions to help deserving individuals is the overall premise. Particular focus, however, is on three angels: Monica, Tess and Andrew. Monica and Tess are angels who answer prayers; Andrew is the Angel of Death.

Tess is an angel as old as God Himself. She appears to be more of a teacher although she does answer prayers; Monica, a caseworker, is her favorite student (whom Tess calls "Miss Wings"). Each case requires Monica and Tess to become a part of the lives of the people they are assigned to help. Monica is a bit more compassionate than Tess and sometimes becomes too personally involved in a case (thus requiring Tess's guidance to help her fulfill her mission). The people being helped by Tess and Monica are not aware that angels are in their presence. It is only when Tess and Monica answer prayers and reveal themselves in a heavenly glowing light do their true essences become known.

Neither Tess or Monica can undo the missions of Andrew, who often shows compassion for the people he must take. Later episodes feature Gloria, an apprentice angel who has been assigned to Tess and Monica for training in the field (she is more of an observer than an actual participant in a person's life).

Cast: Roma Downey (Monica), Della Reese (Tess), John Dye (Andrew), Valerie Bertinelli (Gloria).

8498 Touching Evil. (Series; Crime Drama; USA; 2004). David Creegan is a detective with the Organized and Serial Crime Unit of the FBI. David is a man who understands the criminal mind and who does what it takes to get the job done. David is also a man with special abilities — endowed when he was shot in the head during a case investigation.

During the twelve months psychological leave of absence he took, he developed his unusual perceptive powers. Now, teamed with Susan Branca, a non-sense cop who goes by the book, David and Susan tackle cases involving psychopaths who feels they are above the law. Based on the British series of the same title.

Cast: Jeffrey Donovan (Det. David Creegan), Vera Farmiga (Det. Susan Branca), Brian Markinson (Agent Charles Bernard), Kevin Durand (Agent Jay Swopes).

8499 Tough Cookies. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1986). Cliff Brady is a detective with the Chicago Police Department. He has been assigned to patrol his old neighborhood, an area "full of tough cookies." Stories follow Cliff as he deals with the various neighborhood problems and incorporates his former "skills" as a street kid to help keep his neighborhood safe.

Other Regulars: Lieutenant Iverson; Rita, the owner of the local bar-restaurant; Richie, Rita's bartender; Danny, Cliff's friend, a bookie; Officer Connie Rivera; Father McCaskey; Diane, the reporter for WLB-TV, Channel 7; Ruthie, the lady who confesses to every crime; Jennie, Cliff's married sister; and Arthur, Jennie's husband.

Cast: Robby Benson (Cliff Brady), Art Metrano

(Lieutenant Iverson), Lainie Kazan (Rita), Adam Arkin (Danny Polchek), Matt Craven (Richie Messina), Elizabeth Pena (Connie Rivera), Alan North (Father McCaskey), Gail Edwards (Diane Taylor), Peggy Pope (Ruthie), Wendy Goldman (Jennie), Archie Hahn (Arthur).

8500 Tour of Duty. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1987–1990). The experiences of a group of young soldiers with Bravo Company who are serving their 12 month tour of duty in Vietnam in 1967 (second season episodes are set on a base in Saigon in 1968). Stories are a grueling portrait of the horrors of war and is quite different from what is normally seen on the broadcast networks (more suited to cable). It didn't set any record ratings but was a pioneer in what could constitute good television if given a chance (network censorship stopped it from becoming like the too realistic and disturbing HBO series Vietnam War Story). Regulars in addition to the soldiers listed in the cast are Carol Anderson, Zeke's ex-wife; Alex Devlin, the wire service reporter; Chris Pearson, the base schoolteacher; Jack Percell, Danny's father.

8501 Tourist. (Pilot; Anthology; Operation Prime Time; 6/80). Vignettes that depict incidents in the lives of the people who book world passage trips with the Planet Tourist Bureau. The stories:

1. In London. Terry Carrell (Lois Nettleton) schemes to win the love of Harry Flemington (Bradford Dillman), a man she once loved and still does, from his wife, Lulu (Lee Meriwether).

2. In Amsterdam. Barbara and Jim Huggins (Adrienne Barbeau and David Groh) are a couple who find their vacation hindered by an unforeseen problem: Jim has agreed to help his brother by passing out hot money.

3. In Rome. Steve Konay (James Stephens) is a young priest who must face a decision: remain in the priesthood or abandon it for the love of Mandy Blake (Bonnie Bedelia).

4. In Paris. When Joe Virgil (John Ireland), the father of the tour guide, is kidnapped, his son and a friend, Marian (Marissa Berenson), embark on a dangerous plan to rescue him.

Cast: John McCook (Pepe Virgil; the tour guide), Laurette Spang (Roseanne Wicker; his assistant).

8502 Town Crier of Chung King. (Experimental; Drama; DuMont; 5/6/45). A World War II drama about the Chinese underground and the efforts of two brothers and their sister to infiltrate the Japanese supply lines to blow up their links.

Cast: Joan Danton, Jay Gorlin, George Kahn, Diana Kimble, Elliot Sharfe, Bill Wyatt.

8503 Townies. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1996). Carrie Donovan, Denise Garibaldi and Shannon Canotis are three life long friends who live in the small New England fishing town of Gloucester, Massachusetts. They are in their twenties and work together as waitresses at the Pelican, the local restaurant. Each of the girl's longs for something more than they have and stories follow the events in their lives as they strive to achieve something better.

Carrie is the peacemaker of the group, the one with her feet planted firmly on the ground. Shannon is the flirtatious one, considered too promiscuous by some for her record of dating "every man in town." Denise is the neurotic friend, unable to have a good time like Shannon. Denise jumped into marriage with Roger Callahan, a local fisherman who is more of a couch potato.

Other Regulars: Kurt, Carrie's friend; Marge, the owner of the Pelican; Jesse, Marge's son; Kathy, Carrie's mother.

Cast: Molly Ringwald (Carrie Donovan), Lauren Graham (Denise Garibaldi-Callahan), Jenna Elfman (Shannon Canotis), Lee Garlington (Kathy Donovan), Conchata Ferrell (Marge), Billy Burr (Ryan Callahan), Joseph D. Reitman (Jesse), Ron Livingston (Curt Bataglio), Dion Anderson (Mike Donovan).

8504 Toxic Crusaders. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1991). A spin-off from the feature film The Toxic Avenger. Tromaville is a world where deadly toxins are as natural as clear water. One day a geek named Melvin Junko stumbles and falls into toxic waste. He emerges as Toxie, a deformed mutant with incredible strength. He is also embodied with a sense of justice and joins with other such mutants (No Zone, Major Disaster, Junkyard and Head Banger) to form the Toxic Crusaders and use their unique abilities to fight crime and the enemies of the planet — polluters (including the city's evil leader, Mayor Grody). As the series progressed, it adapted partial elements of the second and third installments of the feature films by reintroducing Apocalypse, Inc., an organization of evil beings from outer space (led by Dr. Killehoff) who are bent on destroying Tromaville.

Voices: Gregg Berger, Susan Blu, Rodger Bumpass, Paul Eiding, Ed Gilbert, John Mariano, Chuck McCann, Michael J. Pollard, Hal Rayle, Susan Silo, Kath Soucie, Patric Zimmerman.

8505 Toyland Express. (Series; Children; ABC; 1955). A program of music and comedy with ventriloquist Paul Winchell and his wooden friends, Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff as the hosts. The series ran from November 7, 1955 to December 12, 1955.

8506 The Tracer. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1957). Tracers is a company that locates missing people for a price. A man, known only as Regan, is its chief investigator. Stories relate Regan's investigations into cases involving people who have seemed to just vanish, as well as missing heirs and beneficiaries.

Cast: James Chandler (Regan).

8507 Tracey McBean. (Series; Cartoon; Discovery Kids; 2001). Tracey McBean is a young girl with a very overactive imagination. She is also an inventive girl whose rather high I.Q. allows her to get herself out of the misadventures her exuberance causes. Tracey's best friend is Shamus Wong and stories relate the unfortunate situations in which Tracey and Shamus become involved — and how Tracey's genius for inventing exonerates her. Tracey's siblings are Megan and Jake. Based on the children's books by Mary Small and Arthur Filloy.

Voice Cast: Roslyn Oades (Tracey McBean), Alice Ley (Tracey McBean; later), Lisa Bailey (Megan McBean), Anthony Hayes (Shamus Wong), Ian James Corlett (Jake McBean).

8508 The Tracey Ullman Show. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987–1990). A sketch series hosted by British comedienne Tracey Ullman. Musical numbers are also featured as was a short cartoon segment (broadcast before and after commercial breaks) called The Simpsons (which was spun off into a series of its own; see entry). Tracey opened each show with a brief monologue. Two to three comedy skits followed and the show closed with a musical performance by Tracey and her guest for the evening. Two of the most popular recurring skits had Tracey playing Francesca, a young girl with two gay fathers (Sam McMurray, Dan Castellaneta); and Tracey as Kay, the slow-talking girl. Tracey closed each show, dressed in a robe, and delivering her famous catch phrase to the audience: “Go home, go home.”

Host: Tracey Ullman. Regulars: Sam McMurray, Dan Castellaneta, Julie Kavner, Anna Lavine, Joseph Malone. Simpsons Voice Cast: Dan Castellaneta (Homer Simpson), Julie Kavner (Marge Simpson), Nancy Cartwright (Bart Simpson), Yeardley Smith (Lisa Simpson).

8509 Trackdown. (Series; Western; CBS; 1957–1959). Porter County, Texas, during the early 1870s is the setting. Hoby Gilman, a Texas Ranger with the Frontier Company A, is the town's law officer, appointed by his superiors after the former town sheriff is killed.

Hoby is two fisted, fast on the draw and hard to figure. In some episodes he appears bloodthirsty and wants the outlaw to use his gun — “Cause I gotta have a reason to kill ya” (he will never shoot an unarmed man), while in others he seems to have compassion for outlaws (he saves their lives from vengeful people).

Henrietta Porter, the founder of the town, now publishes the town's only newspaper, the Enterprise. Aaron Adams is Hoby's friend, the barber; Penny Adams is Aaron's younger sister (she has eyes for Hoby). Ralph is Hoby's deputy.

While most businesses in town carry the name Porter before them (such as the Porter Hotel, the Porter Barber Shop, the Porter Bank), the local watering hole has a name all its own: the Buckhorn Saloon. Early episodes (before Hoby's appointment) relate his efforts to track down outlaws throughout Texas. Herschel Burke Gilbert composed the “Trackdown” theme.

Cast: Robert Culp (Hoby Gilman), Ellen Corby (Henrietta Porter), James Griffith (Aaron Adams), Gail Kobe (Penny Adams), Norman Leavitt (Ralph).

8510 Trackdown. (Pilot; Reality; ABC; 11/19/88; 12/4/88). Avery Brooks served as the host for two unsuccessful attempts at a series designed to dramatize real life stories of police trackdowns.

8511 Tracker. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 2001). Migar is a solar system of six planets. Sartop, its moon, has been colonized and serves as a prison for criminals from the various planets. Guardians oversee operations; Trackers capture felons and guard them. The Guardian Zin is a scientist who has discovered a wormhole and believes it can lead to another world. Zin also seeks power and feels his scientific achievements are not appreciated. Not willing to risk his own life in the wormhole, Zin releases the prisoner Ree and sends her through the portal. Ree's safe arrival on Earth prompts Zin to send 218 additional prisoners to Earth before he, himself, enters the wormhole. Zin plans to use the prisoners as soldiers to do his bidding (which includes killing and committing crimes).

A young woman named Mel Porter is stranded by an inoperable car near highway 88 in Illinois. A short distance away, the wormhole appears in the sky. A beam of energy is discharged. An unknown entity emerges and begins to wander. It stops near a highway billboard for Cole (men's briefs) and assumes the image of the model depicted in the ad.

As the entity walks it spots Mel and approaches her. Mel is apprehensive at first — until the alien places his hand on her car and the engine starts. Mel offers to give the good Samaritan a lift to town. As Mel speaks, the alien begins to understand English. When she suggests “You look like the Cole guy,” the alien assumes Cole as his name.

Cole's true name is Daggon. He lived on the planet Siron and was a Tracker. He has come to Earth to capture Ree, the being responsible for killing his wife and daughter.

When Ree arrived on Earth, it is assumed she killed a young woman and consumed her life force (Cole explained that he assumed an Earth image as opposed to consuming one). Zin has apparently killed to appear human also (it is explained that Zin provided Earth life forces for those 218 prisoners by killing passengers on a train that, by coincidence, had exactly 218 people on board).

There is a tremendous atmospheric disturbance, not to mention an equally powerful explosion when the wormhole appears and discharges someone. How this was not detected by anyone on Earth is a mystery (considering the wormhole had to be used 221 times to account for the prisoners, Ree, Zin and Daggon).

Mel is the owner of a bar called the Watchfire in Chicago's Criminal Courts District. She has inherited the bar — and her assistant, Jess Brown, from her late aunt. It is here that a very trusting Mel allows Cole to stay (in one of the rooms above the bar, where Mel also lives). Cole immediately takes matters into his own hands and converts a computer into a device to track Ree (Ree and others like her discharge an “excitement hormone” when they kill or commit a crime. The “tracking device” hones in on that hormone). Mel and Jess believe Cole is either an FBI or CIA agent. When Cole discovers Ree's whereabouts, he asks Mel for help. Cole is too late to save a girl Ree kills for pleasure, but it is when Cole places a sphere-like device near Ree's neck and captures her life force, that Mel learns he is an alien and must recapture Zin and those prisoners (Cole stores all captured life forms in a special container in his room that he plans to send back to Sartop).

Before Cole was a Tracker, he was an educator and studied many different fields in college. He believes human physiology is very primitive and is having trouble adjusting to his human life. He can mentally stop time and alter it for a split second. He has incredible strength and can leap to fantastic heights. Cole can sense when a prisoner is near or where one has been; he can also sense one by touching an object it touched. Extraordinary feats weaken Cole (“It takes one solar day for me to regenerate”) and becomes numb if exposed to cold weather. Victor Brun is the police detective Cole and Mel help. Donald Quon composed the theme.

Cole opens the show: “This is Siron, my home, one of six planets in the Migar Federation. There was a prison break. Two hundred and eighteen of the most violent criminals were assimilated into the city of Chicago. Finding them won't be easy. They aren't human. Luckily for Earth, neither am I.”

8512 Trading Spouses: Meet Your New Mommy. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004). What would happen to a family when the mother of the household is switched with a woman with a totally different attitude and perspective on what makes a family a family? The Fox network chose to find out and cameras capture all the chaos that occurs when families are faced with women who are (or appear to be) psychos when they impose their concepts on their temporary new family (for example, a Felix Unger-type neat freak who looks upon her slightly untidy “foster” family as monsters for not being neat). As the temporary moms deal with their new families, the reactions of the family as they attempt to deal with her creates two totally different pictures of what life would be like for both parties if things were different.

Cast: Tammy Nakamura, Marguerite Perrin, Yuki Nakamura, Melissa Webb.

8513 Traffic Court. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1958–1959). Reenactments of official traffic court cases. The series ran from June 18, 1958 to March 30, 1959 and from September 11, 1959 to October 2, 1959.

Judge: Edgar Allan Jones, Jr. Bailiff: Frank Chandler McClure. Court Clerk: Samuel Whitson.

8514 Trailblazers. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1952). A proposed series about Roger Stone, the director of the North Oaks Boys Camp. In the pilot episode, titled “The Fugitive,” Roger and his campers (Spike, Jim, Feathers, Ben and Pudge) attempt to capture an escaped murderer who has taken Spike as his hostage.

Cast: Alan Hale, Jr. (Roger Stone), Dick Tyler (Spike), Henry Blair (Jim), Bobby Hiatt (Feathers), Harry McCormick (Ben), Jim Flowers (Pudge). Guest Cast: Lyle Talbot (Joe McClain), Duke York (Dan Angus).

8515 Trails to Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1968). Jack Smith hosts and narrates filmed explorations to various landmarks throughout the United States.

8516 Trails West. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1958). Rebroadcasts of western dramas that were originally broadcast on Death Valley Days. See this title for information. Ray Milland serves as the host.

8517 Training Camp: the Bulls Are Back. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1986). A continuation of the HBO series First and Ten about Diane Barrow, a divorcee who acquired a professional football team (the California Bulls) in a divorce settlement. Diane is totally unprepared to manage the rowdy team and receives help from the team's coach, Ernie Dinardo, a man who is determined to see that his team wins the Super Bowl. Diane's adventures are continued in two additional series updates: First and Ten: Going for Broke and First and Ten: The Championships.

Other Regulars: Fred Grier, the assistant coach; Max Greene, the agent; and the players: T.D. Parker, Tom Yinessa, Mad Dog, Jamie Waldron, Bubba Kincaid, Rick Lambert, Jethro Snell, Dr. Death, Brice Smith.

Cast: Delta Burke (Diane Barrow), Reid Shelton (Ernie Dinardo), O.J. Simpson (T.D. Parker), Jason Beghe (Tom Yinessa), Tony Longo (Mad Dog), Jeff Kaake (Jamie Waldron), Prince Hughes (Bubba Kincaid), Sam Jones (Rick Lambert), Stan Kamber (Fred Grier), Marcus Allen (Jethro Snell), Donald Gibb (Dr. Death), Mark Lonow (Max Greene), Jeff East (Brice Smith), Hank Garrett (Tom's father).

8518 The Transformers. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; Cartoon Network; 1984–2007). AutoBots are giant robots with super strength and abilities that allow them to change their forms. They are residents of the planet Cybertron and they are in constant battle with the Decepticons, deadly robots who seek control of the universe.

In the first version, syndicated in 1984, the war escalates to a point where the battle is taken into outer space. Here, during a battle, two ships are damaged and both ships (one containing the AutoBots, the other, the Decepticons) crash land on Earth. Both species are deactivated and go unnoticed for millions of years.

It is the present when geological activity not only reactivates the AutoBots, but their enemies as well. The Decepticons emerge as evil as ever, now intent on stripping the Earth of its energy resources. The AutoBots, realizing they are partially responsible for the dilemma and that the human race is no match for the Decepticons, begin a quest to protect the Earth and destroy the Decepticons.

The Cartoon Network began airing a new series of Transformers beginning in 2002 with Transformers: Armada. The war between the AutoBots and the Decepticons is still raging but a new race has entered the picture — Mini-Cons, miniature Transformers that can attach to their larger counterparts and enhance their abilities. However, Megatron, leader of the Decepticons, has captured some of the Mini-Cons (others are scattered all over) and plans to use them to help him rule the universe. Optimus Prime, leader of the AutoBots, has set out on a mission to find (and also free) the Mini-Cons. Adding fuel to the fire is Unicorn, the Transformer God of Chaos, who is after the Mini-Cons — as they are his cells and he needs to absorb them as ruler of the universe (it is explained that the Mini-Cons traveled in a ship called Armada. They were a lost faction of the Transformers who have now returned to claim their rightful place).

In 2004, Transformers: Super Link aired. Several years have passed and the AutoBots and Decepticons are living in peace. Both have joined forces to mine for Energon, a powerful mineral need to restore war-torn Cybertron. A new threat begins when a villain named Alpha Q sets his sights on acquiring Energon. He begins his mission by sending Scorpionok, a powerful renegade Decepticon, and a group of Transformers called Terrorcons to raid the mining camps of Earth, the moon and Mars. Alpha Q hopes to use the Energon to revive Megatron, the once powerful leader of the Decepticons, who has been deactivated since the wars ended, and together control the universe. A battle soon begins when Optimus Prime, leader of the AutoBots, and a new group of Transformers, the Omnicons, join with humans to defeat Alpha Q and the revived, even deadlier Megatron.

The latest version (2007) is Transformers: Cybertron (which began in 2005). Here, when a Black Hole begins to threaten the universe, Optimus Prime and the AutoBots take refuge on Earth. Shortly after, an ancient AutoBot named Vector Prime appears to tell the AutoBots that the only way to stop an impending catastrophe (the Black Hole) is to find the four Cyber Planet Keys that are hidden on Earth, Speed Planet, Giant Planet and Jungle Planet. Also seeking the keys is Megatron who hopes to use their power to control the universe. Stories relate the AutoBots attempts to find the keys before Megatron and his Decepticons.

8519 The Trap. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1950). Live dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are suddenly confronted with uncertain situations. The series, which produced 9 episodes, ran from April 29, 1950 to June 24, 1950.

Host: John Bentley. Narrator: Joe DeSantis. Performers Include: Cara Williams, Dorothy Sands, Larry Fletcher, John Hudson, Margaret Rawlings, Jean Carson, Wright King, Robert Pastene, E.G. Marshall, George Reeves, Leslie Nielsen, Kim Stanley, Nancy Franklin, Peter Brandon, Torin Thatcher, Augusta Dabney, Warren Stevens, Frieda Altman, Mary MacLeod, Elliott Sullivan.

8520 Trapper John, M.D. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1979–1986). John McIntyre, nicknamed “Trapper John” is a Korean War M*A*S*H (Mobile Army Surgical Hospital) veteran who, after his dismissal from the service, became a doctor at San Francisco Memorial Hospital. In time he became the chief surgeon and stories follow Trapper John as he deals with the hassles of medical life — not as traumatizing as Korea but just as many life and death situations where, in a non-battlefield facility and with modern equipment, he feels better prepared to take on whatever challenges come before him. A spin-off from M*A*S*H.

Other regulars (in addition to the medical personnel listed in the cast) are Melanie McIntyre, John’s ex-wife; Arnold Slocum, the hospital administrator (replaced by Catherine Hackett in 1985); E.J., the wife of Dr. Stanley Riverside II; John T.

McIntyre, Jr., John’s son; Andrea, Nurse Gloria Brancusi’s daughter; Wayne McIntyre, John’s cousin; Henrietta, the mother of Dr. Alonzo Gates; Herb Wendover, Gonzo’s estranged father.

Cast: Pernell Roberts (Dr. “Trapper” John McIntyre), Gregory Harrison (Dr. G. Alonzo “Gonzo” Gates), Christopher Norris (Nurse Gloria “Ripples” Brancusi), Charles Siebert (Dr. Stanley Riverside II), Brian Stokes Mitchell (Dr. Justin “Jackpot” Jackson), Jessica Walter (Melanie McIntyre), Timothy Busfield (John T. McIntyre, Jr.), Mary McCarty (Nurse Clara “Starch” Willoughby), Madge Sinclair (Nurse Ernestine Shoop), Simon Scott (Arnold Sinclair), Janis Paige (Catherine Hackett), Marcia Rodd (E.J. Riverside), Marion Yue (Nurse Shapiro), Norman Gibbs (Dr. Clark), Karen Glow Carr (Hospital Receptionist), Tanya Fenmore (Andrea Brancusi), Robert Morse (Wayne McIntyre), John Randolph (Dr. Francis McDuffy), Andrea Marcovicci (Dr. Fran Brennan), Beau Gravitte (Dr. Andy Pagano), Sarah Cunningham (Nurse Barbara Andrews), Pat Hingle (Herb Wendover), Allyn Ann McLerie (Henrietta “Hettie” Gates), Lorna Luft (Nurse Libby Kegler).

8521 Traps. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1994). Joseph “Joe” Trapchek is now a retired cop. He was with the Central Division of the Seattle Police Department for thirty years and now serves as a special consultant to the department. Stories follow Joe as he and his son, Sergeant Chris Trapchek, investigate high profile crimes. Other Regulars: Cora, Joe’s wife; and Detective Jack Cloud.

Cast: George C. Scott (Joe Trapchek), Dan Cortese (Chris Trapchek), Piper Laurie (Cora Trapchek), Bill Nunn (Jack Cloud).

8522 Trash or Treasure. (Series; Human Interest; DuMont; 1952–1953). The program features appraisals of antiques and works of art that are brought to the studio by ordinary people.

Host: Nelson Case. Appraiser: Sigmund Rothschild.

8523 Trauma Center. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1983). The Medstar Trauma Center, a special medical unit of McKee General Hospital in Los Angeles is the setting. The unit has been designed to care for critical accident patients — people who require immediate admittance to a well-staffed operating unit. Stories follow the life and death emergencies unit head Michael Royce and his staff face every day. Chas Sternhauser is the hospital administrator; Buck Williams is the highway patrol helicopter pilot; other medical personnel are listed in the cast. The series was originally titled Medstar.

Cast: James Naughton (Dr. Michael “Cutter” Royce), Lou Ferrigno (Paramedic John Six), Dorian Harewood (Dr. Nate “Skate” Baylor), Wendie Malick (Dr. Brigitte Blaine), Jayne Modean (Nurse Jane Hooper), Eileen Heckart (Nurse Agnes Decker), Alfie Wise (Paramedic Sidney "Hatter" Petchelli), Arlen Dean Snyder (Dr. Chas Sternhauser), Bill Randolph (Dr. "Beaver" Bouvee), Jack Bannon (Buck Williams), Marla Adams (Chas's Secretary), Marion Yume (Nurse), Deborah Greene (Nurse). Announcer: William Conrad.

8524 Traveler. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2007). Jay Burchell, Will Traveler and Tyler Fog are three strangers who meet and become friends while completing graduate courses at Yale University. Jay is studying to become an investment counselor; Will, an engineer; and Tyler, a lawyer.

Two years later the three graduate and before pursuing their career goals, decide to take a road trip to have fun. The first stop is New York City. While visiting the Drexell Art Museum, they decide to pull a prank. Jay and Tyler will roller blade down the stairs while Will videotapes them. All appears to be going well. Although chased by security guards, Jay and Tyler escape their grasp outside the building. Where's Will? Seconds later Will calls them. He says he's sorry and a bomb explodes inside the museum. Jay and Tyler immediately become suspects and labeled terrorists (as their actions, caught on security cameras, make them look suspicious). Did Will set off the bomb? Is Will dead? Why did he set Jay and Tyler up? These are the questions Jay and Tyler must answer as they begin a trek to find Will — the only person who can clear them — before the FBI catches them.

Stories follow Jay and Tyler as they become fugitives, attempt to blend into crowds and search for the one person they thought they knew but apparently didn't. (Even though Jay calls the FBI to tell them about Will, they can find no evidence of him ever existing; Jay and Tyler cannot even find a clear picture of Will to help their cause.) Kimberly is Jay's girlfriend; Carlton is Jay's father, a powerful attorney; the Porter is the mysterious man who helps Jay and Tyler escape the FBI's grasp.

In the last episode Will finds Jay and Tyler in New York with a goal to make things right (according to a screen caption, only five-and-half days have passed since the explosion). It is learned that a man named Joseph Freed orchestrated the bombing. Freed is a former deputy director of the FBI who now heads Homeland Security and a mysterious organization called "The Fourth Branch" (possibly a terrorist cell — although this is not made clear). The explosion was meant to make a statement ("Spread fear. It was just the beginning"). That beginning was never revealed nor was the fate of any of the cast as the series ended in an unresolved cliffhanger (Will tricks Freed into meeting with him and takes him prisoner. Exposing Freed to the press is the one hope Will has of clearing Jay and Tyler. The trio believes their life on the run has ended until the car in which Freed is sitting explodes. Did Freed get out? Who set off the second bomb? If Freed is still alive, how will Jay, Tyler and Will ever get the goods on him now that he is aware of their plans)? At this same time FBI agent Jan Marlow discovers that members of her team are involved with "The Fourth Branch." Will she join with Will, Jay and Tyler (whom she has vowed to capture and bring to justice). All answers are unknown. Will's exact nature was not revealed; dialogue suggests that he was a soldier turned mercenary (but with a heart as he was supposed to kill Jay and Tyler at the museum but let them escape).

Cast: Matthew Bomer (Jay Burchell), Logan Marshall-Green (Tyler Fog), Aaron Stanford (Will Traveler), Pascale Hutton (Kimberly), Steven Culp (FBI Agent Fred Chambers), Viola Davis (FBI Agent Jan Marlow), Anthony Ruivivar (FBI Agent Guillermo Borjes), William Sadler (Carlton Fog), Billy Mayo (The Porter).

8525 Travelin' On. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 9/4/74). A proposed country-rock variety series for singer Ray Stevens that was to feature performances by guest artists. Carolyn Raskin is the producer.

Host: Ray Stevens. Guests: Franklyn Ajaye, The Limelighters, Olivia Newton-John.

8526 Traveling Man. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 9/11/87). When his wife, Annie, dies after a long illness that Dr. John "Doc" Dockery, a hospital trauma surgeon, couldn't cure, he feels there is no sense, justice or reward to medicine and quits. He takes to the road in a 1957 Chevrolet and the unsold series was to relate his experiences with the people he meets while searching for a new meaning to life. In the pilot episode, Doc becomes involved in the plight of a beautiful girl (Raylene) and her estranged father (Carl).

Buck Coulter is the wagon master (replaced later by Linc Murdock) and the travelers are the rich Henry T. Coe, Othello, his valet; Dick McBride, Matt Kissel, his wife and their children; Jenny, Shep, Hard Luck and John Murrell.

Cast: Dan O'Herlihy (Doc Sardius McPheeters),

Kurt Russell (Jaimie McPheeters), Michael Witney (Buck Coulter), Charles Bronson (Linc Murdock), Hadley Mattingley (Henry T. Coe), Vernett Allen III (Othello), John Chandler (Dick McBride), Mark Allen (Matt Kissel), Meg Wylie (Mrs. Kissel), The Osmond Brothers (The Kissel Children), Jean Engstrom (Jenny), Donna Anderson (Jenny; later), Sandy Kenyon (Shep Bagott), Robert Carriort (Hard Luck Slater), James Westerfield (John Murrell).

8528 Travels with Don and Bettina. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1965). Adventurer Don Shaw and his wife Bettina Shaw host and narrate films that explore various areas around the world. Also known as Faces and Places.

8529 Travis Logan, D.A. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 3/11/71). Travis "Trav" Logan is a hard-nosed district attorney in Camino County. He puts work before everything else and when he becomes suspicious of the obvious he will not rest until he resolves what is bothering him. Fishing relaxes him, but his mind is still on his work. The unsold series was to relate his efforts to solve baffling crimes. In the pilot episode, Logan's prosecution of a case involving a routine homicide and a plea of temporary insanity reveals an almost perfect crime and a premeditated murder when he discovers an odd-sized shotgun pellet. Other Regulars: Eve, his secretary; and his legmen, Jerry and Mark.

Cast: Vic Morrow (Travis Logan), Brooke Bundy (Eve), James Callahan (Jerry), Chris Robinson (Mark). Guest Cast: Hal Holbrook (Matthew Sand), Brenda Vaccaro (Lucille Sand), George Grizzard (Charles Bender), Scott Marlowe (George Carnera), Edward Andrews (Judge Rose), Michael Strong (Dr. Paul Reichart), Josephine Hutchinson (Mrs. Tice).

8530 Travis McGee. (Pilot; Mystery; ABC; 5/18/82). Travis McGee is a Florida-based salvage specialist, an unofficial private detective who assists people who have lost something and accepts as his fee half the value of what he recovers. The proposed series was to relate his exploits as he and his partner, Mayer, seek what others have lost. The pilot episode depicts McGee's efforts to help Van Harder, an old sea captain accused of negligence, regain his reputation.

Cast: Sam Elliott (Travis McGee), Gene Evans (Mayer). Guest Cast: Katharine Ross (Gretel Howard), Vera Miles (Julie Lawless), Barry Corbin (Sheriff Ames), Richard Farnsworth (Captain Van Harder), Geoffrey Lewis (John Tuckerman), Amy Madigan (Billy Jean Bailey), Marshall Teague (Nicky Noyes), Walter Olkewicz (Deputy).

8531 Treasure. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1960). Bill Burrud hosts and narrates intriguing films that relate the search for fabled treasures.

8532 Treasure Hunt. (Series; Game; ABC;

NBC; 1956–1959). Two players compete in a question-and-answer session wherein the highest scoring player receives the opportunity to win up to $25,000 in cash. The winner is escorted to a wall that contains 30 treasure chests. The player chooses one and its contents — from a head of cabbage to valuable merchandise to large sums of cash — are his prize. The series aired on ABC from September 7, 1956 to May 24, 1957; and on NBC from August 12, 1957 to December 4, 1959.

Host: Jan Murray. Assistant: Marian Stafford, Greta Tyssen.

8533 Treasure Hunt. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1981). Two players are chosen from the studio audience and brought on stage. Each receives a closed jack-in-the-box. Both players (female) open their boxes and the girl who possesses the box with the jack receives the opportunity to play Treasure Hunt. The player selects one box from 66 boxes that are displayed on stage. Before the contents are revealed, the player is offered a cash prize to forfeit the box. If she chooses the box over the money, she receives its contents — anything from merchandise, trips, cash, clunks or the grand prize of $20,000 in cash.

Host: Geoff Edwards. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

8534 Treasure Hunters. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2006). A reality series that has participants hunting for treasure. Five three-member teams compete at one location while a second group of similar teams competes from another location (completely opposite sides of the U.S. — one in Alaska, one in Hawaii — with the object being to find a buried treasure in mid-America). Clues are presented to each team (who must decipher it to proceed to the next location and receive the next clue). Teams that fail to decipher the clues and make it to the next location are eliminated. The first team to make it to the "x" marks the spot and uncover the treasure wins a cash prize.

Host: Laird Macintosh.

8535 Treasure Island. (Experimental; Adventure; NBC; 11/4/39). A television adaptation of the Robert Lewis Stevenson story about the pirate Long John Silver and his young ward, Jim Hawkins, and their adventures as they search for buried treasure.

Cast: Dennis Hoey (Long John Silver), Billy Redfield (Jim Hawkins), William Balfour (Captain Billy Bones), Florence Edney (Mrs. Hawkins), William Podmore (Squire Trelawney), Harvey Young (Ben Gunn), Harry Cooke (Black Dog), Simon Clayton (Pirate).

8536 Treasure Isle. (Series; Game; ABC; 1967–1968). An outdoor game show in which three married couples seek to find buried treasure. The first three rounds involve the players in various contests designed to test their mental and athletic abilities. The team with the highest point score is the winner and receives the opportunity to search for buried treasure chests on an actual island that was constructed especially for the program. The couples receive a series of clues and within a three-minute time limit, must unscramble them and dig for the buried chests. The players receive what prizes (usually merchandise) the chests contain (printed on cards).

Host: John Bartholomew Tucker. Assistant: Renne Hampton, Bonnie Maudsley.

8537 Treasure Mall. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Four children compete, divided into two teams of two. A question is read that has three possible answers. Each team electronically selects an answer. The correct answer is revealed and one point is scored for each correct selection. Three such rounds are played and the highest scoring team is the winner. The winners now receive a chance to win prizes by searching through a stage-built shopping mall for hidden coins — coins that are hidden in all sorts of messy substances. The number of coins they find within 100 seconds determines their prizes. Two such rounds are played and the team with the most coins receives the opportunity to “try to bust open a valuable treasure chest” (filled with prizes). The team has to search through a number of boxes to find keys. If they find the right key and open the safe, they win its contents.

Host: Hal Sparks.

8538 Treasure Quest. (Series; Game; ABC; 1949). The alternate title for Bon Voyage. See this title for information.

8539 Treasure Unlimited. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1957). Bill Symes hosts and narrates films that explore locales where buried treasures are presumably located.

8540 Treasury Men in Action. (Series; Anthology; ABC; NBC; 1950–1955). Dramatizations based on the files of the United States Customs and Treasury departments. Stories are introduced by The Chief. The series ran on ABC from September 11, 1950 to December 4, 1950; on NBC from April 5, 1951 to April 1, 1954; and on ABC from October 7, 1954 to September 20, 1955. Forty selected episodes are syndicated under the title Federal Men.

Cast: Walter Greaza (The Chief). Announcer: Durward Kirby, Carl Frank, Murray Golden.

8541 T-Rex. (Series; Cartoon; A&E; 1992–1993). The Plantation is a nightclub in a city of intelligent dinosaurs called Rep City. Here, Big Boss Graves, the nightclub owner and his reptile henchman, are seeking to take over the city and become its rulers. When the federal authorities fail in an attempt to stop Big Boss, they hire an unlikely team, of crime fighters to put an end to Big Boss — five T-Rex brothers who work as stand-up comics: Bugsy, Bernie, Buck, Bubba and Bruno. Armed with incredible strength (and endless jokes) the brothers battle the evils of Big Boss and attempt to save the city.

Voices: Kathleen Barr, Michael Beattie, Garry Chalk, Ian James Corlett, Jennifer Copping, Michael Dobson, Janyse Jaud, Alessandro Juliani, Scott McNeal, Venus Terzo.

8542 Trial and Error. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988). John Hernandez and Tony Rivera are boyhood friends who have taken very different paths in their adult lives. Both grew up poor and ran with a tough group of kids in Venice, California. John is now a lawyer with the firm of Kittle, Barnes, Fletcher and Gray, and Tony is a street schemer, using his skills to become the hottest T-shirt hawker on Venice Beach. Stories relate events in their lives. Other Regulars: Rhonda, John’s secretary; Bob, John’s associate; and Mr. Kittle, the boss. The three episode series ran from March 15, 1988 to March 29, 1988.

Cast: Eddie Velez (John Hernandez), Paul Rodriguez (Tony Rivera), Debbie Shapiro (Rhonda), John de Lancie (Bob Adams), Stephen Elliott (Mr. Kittle).

8543 Trial by Jury. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1989). A daily series of actual courtroom drama reenactments. What makes this series different from other such series is that a retired judge (Gordon Duane) guides viewers through the proceedings and explains legal terminology and highlights key testimony.

Cast: Raymond Burr (Former Judge Gordon Duane), Joseph Campanella (Prosecuting Attorney), Charles Siebert (Defense Attorney), Ilana B’Tiste (Prosecuting Attorney), Grant Goodeve (Prosecuting Attorney), Bridget Hanley (Defense Attorney).

8544 The Trials of O’Brien. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1965–1966). Daniel J. O’Brien is a brilliant but very disorganized criminal attorney working out of New York City. His office may appear messy, his clothes a bit untidy but his keen legal mind, eye for detail (while investigating cases) and ability to address a jury make for a winning combination that clears his clients of criminal charges. Katie is his ex-wife; The Great McGonigle is his con-artist friend; Mrs. G. is his secretary; Margaret is Katie’s mother.

Cast: Peter Falk (Daniel J. O’Brien), Joanna Barnes (Katie O’Brien), David Burns (The Great McGonigle), Ilka Chase (Margaret), Elaine Stritch (Miss G.), Dolph Sweet (Lt. Garrison). Theme Song: “The Theme from the Trials of O’Brien” by Sid Ramin.

8545 The Trials of Rosie O’Neill. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1990–1992). “I’m 43 years old and divorced,” says Fiona Rose (“Rosie”) O’Neill in television and radio ads. “He [Patrick Ginty] got the law practice, the house, the classic Mercedes, the dog and a girl young enough to be his daughter. I got a job in the public defender’s office.” In printed ads, Rosie was quoted as saying, “I’m 43 years old and divorced. He got the law practice, our house, our Mercedes and the dog. It's only natural I'm bitter. I really liked that dog."

In the series, Rosie is 43 years old and in the process of getting a divorce from Patrick (who ran off with a young girl named Bridget). Patrick did get their Beverly Hills home (no mention of a dog), but Rosie kept the car (which cost $80,000). Rosie now lives in Santa Monica. She left the law practice she and Patrick shared to become a lawyer in the Central Felonies Division of the Los Angeles County Public Defenders Office. In Beverly Hills, Rosie would help her rich clients get richer; she now feels she can do something she always wanted to do—help people who actually need her.

Rosie grew up in Waco, Texas and later moved to the classy Hancock Park section of Beverly Hills. She worked as a lawyer for 16 years before going out on her own. Rosie is an idealist and says, "My real first name is Fiona, but it sounds too soft and dreamy—like a fairy tale princess. I think my mother must have been expecting something else."

Patrick is now a private practice attorney, and Bridget Kane (Helen Hunt) is the young woman he left Rosie for. Each episode relates Rosie's efforts to get her life back together again. She talks to an unseen psychiatrist at the beginning of each episode. Rosie's remarks from the first episode were quite unexpected and gathered much publicity the next day: "I'm thinking maybe of having my tits done. I may not want them any bigger; they're a nice size already. I just thought maybe I'd have them fluffed up a bit...."

Kimberly ("Kim") Ginty is Rosie's pretty 16-year-old stepdaughter. She attends Beverly Hills High (later Taylor High School) and desperately wants to live with Rosie (she is unhappy at home; in second season episodes she gets her wish). Kim, whom Rosie calls "Kimmer," has an after school job as a waitress in a coffee house called Topaz.

Walter Kovatch is Rosie's investigator in second season episodes. He was a cop for 35 years and was arrested for breaking into his apartment after being evicted for nonpayment of rent (Rosie was assigned as his defense lawyer. She needed an investigator; he needed a job to stay out of jail). When they are on a case, Walter does the driving, Rosie does the talking.

Charlotte O'Neill is Rosie's 64-year-old mother. She is a snob and wishes Rosie would move back to Beverly Hills. Doreen Morrison is Rosie's married sister (to the unseen Doug). Hank Mitchell is a public defender who works with Rosie, and Ben Meyer is Rosie's superior.

Relatives: David Rasche (Rosie's ex-husband, Patrick Ginty), Kevin Davis (Hank's brother, Willie Mitchell). Theme: "I Wish I Knew," vocal by Melissa Manchester (written by Carole King, who sings it in the episode "Reunion").

Cast: Sharon Gless (Rosie O'Neill), Lisa Rieffel (Kim Ginty), Ed Asner (Walter Kovatch), Georgann

Johnson (Charlotte O'Neill), Lisa Barnes (Doreen Morrison), Dorian Harewood (Hank Mitchell), Ron Rifkin (Ben Meyer).

8546 Trinity Blood. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2006–2007). In an unknown future era, the Armageddon has brought about destruction and a war between humans and vampires has begun. Five hundred years later the battle still rages but mankind has managed to rebuild a new civilization from the ruins of the destroyed world. As the new world is established, the Vatican emerges as the new protector of humanity. A priest named Peter Abel Nightroad appears to be the only hope mankind has of defeating the vampires. He is a representative of the Vatican but also a member of AX, a secret operations unit headed by Caterina, the Duchess of Milan. Abel's secret is that he is a Cruznik, a new species that is neither human nor vampire but survives by feeding on vampires. Stories follow Abel as he teams with Esther, a human airship pilot, and their efforts to seek out and destroy the vampire breed.

8547 Triple Threat. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Two three-member teams compete. Each team represents a different generation. In Round One, each member of each team competes—but in separate games representing their generations. A song is played. The first player to buzz in receives a chance to answer. If correct, $50 is scored. Two questions based on that song, follow with the person first to buzz in with the correct answer scoring additional money.

Round Two, called "Out of Era," has players attempting to guess songs associated with eras other than their own. Each correct answer scores additional money. The team with the highest score is the winner.

Host: Jim Lange.

8548 Triplecross. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 3/17/86). When Elliott Taffle, Delia Langtree and Cole Donovan, three Los Angeles police officers, apprehend the kidnappers of a wealthy industrialist, he rewards them by making them instant millionaires. Now, independently wealthy, Elliott, Delia and Cole quit the force and for kicks, become private detectives. The unsold series was to relate their comical exploits as they compete against each other to be the first to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, the trio attempts to solve a case of murder, blackmail and syndicate revenge. Other Regulars: Winslow, Elliott's butler; Charmayne, Elliott's cook; and Toshi, Delia's butler.

Cast: Ted Wass (Elliott Taffle), Markie Post (Delia

8549 Tripping the Rift. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 2004). A comical computer animated series that follows the lives of a group of aliens who operate the Jupiter 42, a futuristic smuggling ship. The crew consists of Six, Chode, Darph Bobo, Gus, Spaceship Bob, T'nuk and Whip.

Chode is a three-eyed purple being who captains the ship. He is from a race that enslaves people and he loves to drink, smoke pot and curse like a sailor.

Six of One, called Six, is an android that is also a beautiful, busty, long-legged sex machine. She is the ship's science officer and taken on the responsibility of keeping the Jupiter 42 in orbit (as it is obvious that the lame-brained Chode can't do it).

T'nuk is hideous (triangle-shaped head with protruding eyes, sagging breast and grossly overweight). She is Chode's partner but not very bright.

Whip has the useless job of ship foreman. He is lazy, drinks beer and has only one ambition in life — have sex before his moronic crew gets him killed.

Darph Bobo is a creature of the Dark Clowns, beings bent on dominating the universe. He resembles an evil Bozo the Clown and enjoys crushing people under his large clown shoes.

Gus is a robot who works as the ship's inept engineer. He could be considered gay as he enjoys frosting cupcakes, Judy Garland movies and loosening his metal parts with hot penetrating oil. He also looks forward to becoming "the funny one" on the futuristic TV show Queer Eye for the Space Guy.

Spaceship Bob is the artificial intelligence that controls the ship. He is afraid of the vast regions of space and suffers from panic attacks. He is afraid to make a commitment and making decisions upsets him.

Voice Cast: Gina Gershon (Six of One), Stephen Root (Chode), Gayle Garfinkle (T'nuk), Rick Jones (Whip), Maurice LaMarche (Gus), John Melendez (Spaceship Bob), Terrence Scammell (Darth Bobo).

8550 Trista and Ryan's Wedding. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2003). A spin-off from The Bachelorette wherein Trista Rehn chose Ryan Sutter as the man she would most like to date and eventually marry. Ryan has since proposed and Trista accepted. The series relates all the preparations that occur (including spats) as Trista and Ryan and their friends and family prepare for the big day. The wedding is broadcast as the final episode (December 10, 2003).

Host: Stephanie Lydecker. Narrator: Chris Harrison.

8551 Trivia Trap. (Series; Game; ABC; 1984–1985). Two three-member teams compete: The Juniors (under the age of 30) and The Seniors (over the age of 30). Two rows of four answers are revealed. One team selects one row. A question relating to the answers is read. The object is for the team, one member at a time, to eliminate the three wrong answers contained in the row. Each correct elimination scores $50 or $300 if all the wrong answers are chosen. If the correct answer is selected, the team loses its turn at play and their opponents receive their chance. Three such rounds are played. In round two, players choose their own trivia-related categories and must answer questions related to it. Each correct answer scores $50. The first team to score $1,000 is the winner.

Host: Bob Eubanks. Announcer: Gene Wood, Bob Hilton.

8552 Trivial Pursuit. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1987). An unsold attempt to adapt the board game to television. Players answer trivia-related questions in return for prizes. Jay Wolpert is the producer.

Host: Steve Morris.

8553 Trollkins. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1981–1982). The woodland city of Trolltown is the setting. Here various misadventures in the lives of its citizens, the Trollkins, wee green and blue people, are depicted.

Voice Cast: Alan Oppenheimer (Sheriff Pudge Trollson), Jennifer Darling (Pixlee Trollson), Steve Spears (Blitz Plumkin), Frank Welker (Flooky), Michael Bell (Grubb Trollmaine), Jennifer Darling (DepuTroll Dolly Durkle), Marshall Efrom (DepuTroll Flake), Paul Winchell (Mayor Lumpkin), Frank Welker (Bogg), Hank Saroyan (Afid), Bill Callaway (Slug), Frank Welker (Top Troll).

8554 Trollz. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 2005). Topaz, Onyx, Sapphire, Ruby and Amethyst are five teenage girls (Trollz) who live in the town of Trollzopolis. The girls are distinguished by exceptionally large heads of hair and are best friends for life. Stories follow their antics as they do what ordinary teenage girls do — shop, droll over boys, shop, attend school, shop and something ordinary girls can't do — cast spells. Topaz Trollhopper is a dim-witted blonde; Onyx Von Trollenberg is quick witted; Sapphire Trollzowa is the brains of the group; Ruby Trollman is a redhead with a bad temper; and Amethyst Van Der Troll is the goody-good pink haired Trollz.

Voice Cast: Leah Juel (Topaz Trollhopper), Britt McKillip (Amethyst Van Der Troll), Alexandra Carter (Sapphire Trollzawa), Chiara Zanni (Ruby Trollman), Julie Lund (Onyx Von Trollenberg), Anna Van Hooff (Onyx Von Trollenberg), Mike Antonakos (Flint).

8555 Tropic Holiday. (Test Film; Variety; NBC; 7/16/49). The program, set against a South of the Border motif, relates the experiences of a merchant sailor as he recalls his adventures in various South American countries. Through the performances of guests, the music, song and dance of those foreign lands are showcased.

Host-Narrator (The Sailor): Sandy Buckert. Orchestra: Esai Morales.

Cast: Eddie Albert (Carroll Yeager), Martin Kove (Willie Yeager), James Sloyan (John David Yeager), Robin Dearden (Johanna Yeager), Belinda J. Montgomery (Carrie Yeager), Kevin Brophy (Tony Yeager), Steve Doubet (Kyle Yeager), Jimmy Mayer (Scotty Yeager), Joan Goodfellow (Lisa Yeager), John Quade (Roy). Guest Cast: James B. Sicking (Roger Lomax), Brion James (Eddie Rhodes), Michael J. Fox (Thomas Elston), John Lupton (Sheriff), Richard Sanders (Lester), Hugh Gillin (Bix).

8557 Trouble, Inc. (Test Film; Crime Drama; DuMont; 7/27/49). Jason and Jayne Meadows are an adventurous couple who operate a detective agency called Trouble, Inc. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they tackle any job anywhere, anytime. In the pilot episode, the Meadows become involved with a beautiful nightclub singer and a plot to rob a bank when they are hired to protect her from her gangster boyfriend.

Cast: Earl Hammond (Jason Meadows), Carol Hill (Jayne Meadows). Guest Cast: Elaine Williams (Singer), Maurice Gosfield (Thug).

8558 The Trouble with Father. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1950–1955). Hamburgers were 25 cents; milk was 10 cents a quart; and eggs were 25 cents a dozen. The time is the early 1950s, and the place is Hamilton, a small town in Anywhere, U.S.A. At 143 Melville Avenue lives the Erwin family: parents Stu and June and their daughters, Joyce and Jackie.

Stu and June have been married 19 years when the series begins. They eloped ("We were young and romantic and it was spring"), and on their honeymoon June made golden crust fried chicken — a tradition she still observes once a week. Stu was originally a teacher at Alexander Hamilton High School and is now the principal (he also teaches night classes in civics for adults and is a member of the University Club — where he goes for peace and quiet). June is a member of the Women's Club.

Joyce and Jackie share a bedroom. Joyce is the older daughter and attends Hamilton High (State College in 1954, when Merry Anders took over the role). She is very pretty and is described as "the perfect lady" (but, as Joyce says, "I wasn't always. I was a tomboy and got into fights with boys. I was the terror of the neighborhood. It all changed when I fell in love. I was 11. His name was Freddy. All I remember about him is that he had big ears").

Jacqueline, nicknamed Jackie, first attended Hamilton Elementary School, then Hamilton High (1954). She receives an allowance of 50 cents a week. She is a tomboy, "collects bugs, bottles, beetles and butterflies." "There are a lot of nice little girls for her to play with," says June, "but she doesn't want to." Stu wishes that she would change her ways — "But she just won't," he says. Jackie has a pet frog named Elmer ("He's trained. He can do somersaults and everything"). Freshly made strawberry jam is her favorite dessert, and she likes eating dinner in the kitchen — "It's closer to second helpings." Biff's Ice Cream Parlor is the after school hangout for both girls.

Willie is a Baptist from North Carolina who works as the school's custodian, basketball team equipment manager and handyman for Stu around the house. Drexell Potter is Joyce's boyfriend (also a student at Hamilton High).

The series is also known as Life with the Erwins, The Stu Erwin Show and The New Stu Erwin Show.

Cast: Stu Erwin (Himself), June Collyer Erwin (Herself), Ann Todd (Joyce Erwin), Merry Anders (Joyce Erwin; later), Sheila James (Jackie Erwin), Willie Best (Willie), Martin Milner (Drexell Potter).

8559 The Trouble with Larry. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993). In 1983 Larry Burton and Sally Easden were married by a Holy Man at the foot of Victoria Mountain in Africa. Shortly after the ceremony, a male ape broke into their camp and carried Larry off. Larry thought Sally was killed. Sally, who was not hurt, believed Larry was killed.

Larry was kept alive by the ape and managed to escape by singing opera to him. The ape became so mesmerized by the singing that he believed Larry was a king and picked flowers to throw at his feet. Larry escaped into the jungle — and even managed to escape being eaten by cannibals by writing an expiration date on his neck. Larry eventually found his way to Kenya and safety. One day while eating lunch with a Nomad, Larry sees a newspaper article regarding Sally, who has opened an art gallery in Syracuse, New York.

The time is 1993. Now that Larry knows Sally is alive he decides to return to his wife. But Sally and Larry are in for a shock. Sally is dumbfounded to see that Larry is alive and well; Larry is shocked to learn that Sally is now married to Boyd Flatt, a curator at the local museum. It appears that after the trauma of the jungle incident, a distraught Sally was unable to return to the home she and Larry had in Utah and chose to return to her childhood home in Syracuse. On the plane she met and fell in love with Boyd, whom she married three weeks later.

Larry appears to accept Boyd and moves in with him and Sally to write his memoirs in a book called Larry's Africa. Larry's experiences have made him a bit strange around people and stories follow Larry's misadventures as he attempts to readjust to life — and, as Sally hopes, realize that she and Larry are no longer married.

Other Regulars: Gabriella, Sally's sister and partner in the art gallery (Flatt and Easden); and Lindsey, Sally's 10-year-old daughter (by Larry, although Boyd believes it is his daughter). Gabriella explains Larry's odd behavior to strangers as putting himself through college by taking nerve gas experiments. Lindsey attends the East Fellow Field School.

Cast: Bronson Pinchot (Larry Burton), Shanna Reed (Sally Flatt), Perry King (Boyd Flatt), Courteney Cox (Gabriella Easden), Alex McKenna (Lindsey Flatt).

8560 The Trouble with Richard. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/22/60). An unsold series about Richard Abernathy, a meek, disorganized and gangling bank teller. In the pilot episode, Richard struggles to rectify a mistake he made when he accidentally issued a cashier's check for $50,000 instead of $50.

Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Richard Abernathy), Howard Smith (Harold Martin; Richard's boss), Parker Fennelly (Richard's Grandfather), Doro Merande (Richard's Aunt Julia).

8561 The Trouble with Tracy. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1971). "The two principal characters in this story are not fictitious. Very often I wish they were. Any similarity to persons alive or on videotape is purely intentional." Douglas Young is the "I" of this opening speech from the series' first episode. The other principal character is his wife, Tracy Young.

Douglas is a young, level-headed executive with the advertising firm of Hutton, Dutton and Norris in Toronto, Canada. Tracy is pretty, a bit forgetful and somewhat scatterbrained. She can be brilliant when she wants to (as long as she is coached first) and she has an uncanny knack for turning her blunders into lifesavers. Doug and Tracy live at 3110 Crescent Street. Tracy is also famous for her malapropisms (for instance, "If I'm wrong, I'm not far from it," or "You've got to take the bitter with the batter").

Also plaguing Doug's life is Tracy's brother, Paul Sherwood, an unemployed moocher who constantly borrows money from Doug in the hope of investing in something that is going to put him on easy street.

"Unfortunately," Doug says, "Paul has yet to find that investment. He keeps track of every cent I loan him; or, should I say, the track keeps every cent of it." Paul is an active member of the Free Al Capone Peace Movement (they are trying to raise $100,000 despite the fact that no one in the group knows that, in 1971, Capone has been dead for more than 20 years).

At work, the seemingly always harassed Douglas finds more hassles from his boss, Jonathan Norris, who "believes a man's best friend is his motto" and stresses that point every time he speaks (for example, "Douglas the early bird catches the worm, I always say"). Like most television bosses, Norris takes the credit for the good that results from Doug's hard work — and blames Doug for the things that go wrong when a client is unhappy. Margaret is Jonathan's wife. Tracy's best friend, Sally Anderson, is Doug's man-crazy secretary. Sally lives at a singles complex called the Happy Hunting Grounds Apartments and is "a single, uncomplicated girl who enjoys reading, browsing through museums, dabbling in finger painting, crossword puzzles, wood work, ping pong, pool, water skiing, karate, ballet, touch football, classical music, Western movies, dominos, darts, dancing and drag racing."

The series is created and written by Goodman Ace and is based on his radio (1930–48) and television (1949–50) series, Easy Aces (wherein Goodman played the long suffering husband of his scatterbrained wife, Jane).

Cast: Diane Nyland (Tracy Young), Steve Weston (Douglas Young), Franz Russell (Paul Sherwood), Ben Lennick (Jonathan Norris), Sandra Scott (Margaret Norris), Bonnie Brooks (Sally Anderson).

8562 The Troubleshooters. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1959–1960). Tim Kodiak and Frank Dugan are construction supervisors for the Stenrud Corporation, an international consulting firm that is responsible for building and construction site safety. Stories follow Kodiak and Dugan as they intervene in construction-site difficulties and attempt to return the job to normal.

Cast: Keenan Wynn (Tim Kodiak), Bob Mathias (Frank Dugan), Eddie Firestone (Loft), Chet Allen (Slats), Bob Harris (Jim), Carey Loftin (Skinner), Bob Fortier (Scotty).

8563 Tru Calling. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2003–2005). Tru Davies is a beautiful but most unusual young woman. She can go back in time 24 hours to relive the events of the day to change destinies (she says "I have 24 hours to relive the past to change the future"). Tru believes it is a curse not a calling — "A calling gives you something you're destined to do. What I do is more like a curse."

Tru is a medical student at NYU and works nights at the city morgue in Manhattan. It is here, while working in the crypt (where victims of untimely deaths are stored) that she first heard a female voice call her name and say, "Help me." Instantly Tru was transported back in time 24 hours to save the life of the girl — who died too soon. Tru is not sure why she was chosen or how she is able to relive days. She calls her experiences "Rewinding" or "The Day Has Rewound." Her memories of what happened on the day she is reliving is the key to saving people's lives. Stories follow Tru as she relives the past (and sometimes risking her life) to change the future.

Other Regulars: Davis, her boss at the morgue; Meredith, Tru's sister; Harrison, Tru's always-in-trouble brother; Lindsay, Harrison's girlfriend; and Jack Harper, a mysterious character who is also able to relive the past — but to foil Tru's efforts to save lives.

Cast: Eliza Dushku (Tru Davies), Zach Galifianakis (Davis), Jessica Collins (Meredith Davies), Shawn Reaves (Harrison Davies), Jason Priestley (Jack Harper), A.J. Cook (Lindsay Walker).

8564 True. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1962–1963). The syndicated title for General Electric True. See this title for information.

8565 True Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1960). Bill Burrud hosts and narrates films that explore the journeys of various explorers.

8566 True Blue. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1989–1991). Officers Frankie Avila, Robert ("Bobby") Traverso, Jessica ("Jessy") Haley, Casey Pierce and Mike Duffy are members of the E.S.U. (Emergency Services Unit) of the N.Y.P.D. Sergeant Skiboss ("Ski") Wojeski is their superior.

The team is attached to the Truck One Station, based on Bleecker Street in Manhattan. The unit's dog is named Bird, and the E.S.U. Standard Automated Robot is nicknamed Sam. Jessy, chosen from 287 applicants, is a registered nurse with psychological training. Her mobile code is Charlie One. Boy One is Frankie's mobile code. Stories relate their rescue operations.

Yuri is the amateur news photographer who drives a cab and frequently plagues the team as he attempts to capture rescues on tape; Tess is Bobby's ex-wife; Judy is Ski's wife; Lou Servino is the police chief of the 8th Precinct; and Sophie Zackalakakis is the elderly woman who lives across the street from Truck One. Shawnee Jackson sings the theme, "True Blue."

8567 True Colors. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1990–1992). When Ellen Davis cracks a tooth while eating a muffin (she bit into a walnut), she is referred by her boss, Herschel Freeman, to his brother Richard, a dentist. While looking in the phone book, Ellen sees R. Freeman and calls for an appointment. Ellen is white, divorced and the mother of a teenage daughter (Katie). The R. Freeman turns out to be Ron Freeman, who is black, a widower and the father of two sons (Terry and Lester). It's love at first sight, and a year later they marry and set up housekeeping at 218 Bratner Boulevard in Baltimore, Maryland.

Ellen and Ron are married two months when the series begins. Ellen is a bit neurotic, intense and excessively neat. She has been a kindergarten teacher since 1978, and she always feels compelled to accomplish something. Ellen later works as a substitute teacher at Cortez Junior High, then as housemother at the Alpha Kappa fraternity house of Marshall College, before she turns to her true love of painting.

Ron has an office in the basement of his home. He believes he is very handy around the house; so much so that Ellen suggested he get the book Home Repair for Idiots.

Katie was born on October 9, 1974, and attends John Marshall High School. Her hero is Penelope Atwater ("one of the greatest philanthropists in the world"), and she is an animal rights activist (for example, she is a member of the Save the Flipper Crab movement).

Terry, age 17, attends Marshall High, and 13-year-old Lester is enrolled in Marshall Junior High (he later attends Marshall High). Terry is the bright one. He is on the school's football team, and his lucky charm is his high school T-shirt. He later attends Marshall State College and is a member of the varsity football team and the Alpha Kappa fraternity. In early 1992, Terry, who is majoring in business, began an internship at the brokerage house of Haywood, Bates and Hamilton. Lester, who had a pet turkey named Ray, loves movies with violence and gore. He calls Terry "Tee."

Sara Bower, Ellen's mother, also lives with the family. She considers herself "the only ray of sunshine in this whole house." She nags, is somewhat opposed to her daughter's marriage and is having a difficult time accepting Ron as her son-in-law.

Relatives: Paul Sand (Ellen's ex-husband, Leonard Davis), Michele Scarabelli (Ellen's sister, Connie Bower), Frances Bay (Ellen's aunt, Sylvia), Ja'net DuBois (Ron's mother, Mae Freeman), Bill Cobbs (Ron's father, Bernard Freeman), Kathleen Mitchell (Ron's cousin, Toby), Sam McMurray (Sara's nephew, Marvin).

Flashbacks: Cyndi James Gossett (Ron's wife, Renee Freeman), Jason Bosesmith (Terry as a boy), Joseph J. Bryant (Lester as a boy). Theme: "True Colors," by Lennie Niehaus.

Note: In the original, unaired pilot version, Joan McMurtrey played Ellen and Brigid Conley Walsh played Ellen's daughter, Steffi (not Katie).

Cast: Stephanie Faracy (Ellen Davis-Freeman), Bridgid Conley Walsh (Katie Davis), Frankie Faison (Ron Freeman), Cleavon Little (Ron Freeman; pilot), Claude Brooks (Terry Freeman), Adam Jeffries (Lester Freeman), Nancy Walker (Sara Bower).

8568 True Confessions. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1986). Bill Bixby hosts a daily series of dramatizations based on stories appearing in True Confessions magazine. Among the performers who appeared are Lee Meriwether, Louanne Ponce, Grey Mullavey, S. Scott Bullock, Dick Wieand, Milda Dacys, Sonia Curtis, April Audia and Danielle Hand.

8569 True Crimes of Passion. (Series; Reality; USA; 2006). The program explores the reasons behind crimes of passion. A chosen case is explored via police records, crime scene photos, eye witness accounts and reenactments to determine the reasons for the crime — love, jealousy or adultery.

Host: Wendy Crewson.

8570 True Grit (A Further Adventure). (Pilot; Western; ABC; 5/19/78). A proposed series based on the John Wayne film True Grit about Rooster Cogburn, a crusty, one-eyed, hard-drinking old west marshal, and Mattie Ross, his pretty teenage charge, “the strangest team ever to fight for injustice on the untamed frontier.” Mattie’s efforts to reform Rooster while he attempts to unite her with her grandparents was to be the focal point of the series. In the pilot episode, a run of bad luck separates Rooster from the train fare he needs to begin his task.

Cast: Warren Oates (Rooster Cogburn), Lisa Peilikan (Mattie Ross). Guest Cast: Lee Meriwether (Annie), Jeff Osterhage (Christopher), James Stephens (Joshua), Lee H. Montgomery (Daniel), Parley Baer (Rollins), Ramon Bieri (Sheriff), Jack Fletcher (Clerk).

8571 True Life Stories. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 9/13/81). The program recreates the trials and tribulations of actual people. The following stories were presented in the pilot episode:

1. If I Were a Rich Man. The rags-to-riches-to-rags story of Charlie Steen, a geologist whose mine produced him enough uranium ore to build a fortune and how he lost it through careless spending. Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Charlie Steen), Lisa Blake Richards (Minnie Lee Steen), Bobby Jacob (Charlie Steen, Jr.).

2. Family Reunion. The story of Barbara Hallberg and her search to find the woman who abandoned her as an infant. Cast: Marion Ross (Barbara Hallberg), Sandy Kenyon (John Hallberg), Christine Avila (Maria Price), Crystal DeWoody (Michele).

3. Happy New Year. A vignette that depicts a critical turning point in the life of one of Hollywood’s most colorful underdogs. Cast: Vincent Guastaferro (Shabby Man), David Fresco (Newsstand owner), Stanley Ralph Ross (Derelict).

8572 True Story. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1957–1958). Kathi Norris hosts a weekly series of dramatic presentations that ran from March 16, 1957 to December 20, 1958.

8573 Trump Card. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1990). Each of the three contestants who compete has their own trump card. The object is for a player to answer questions correctly and fill four corners of his trump card. Five category topics are revealed. One player selects a category and a question is read. The first player to sound a bell receives a chance to answer. If correct, he wins one corner of his card. The game continues until one player fills in the four corners of his trump card. $750 is awarded. Round Two is played in the same way but the money is doubled. In Round Three the prize money is doubled again (now worth $3,000). The highest scoring player is the winner.

Host: Jimmy Gelfalo. Assistant: Debi Massey.

8574 Truth or Consequences. (Experimental; Game; NBC; 7/1/41). A television adaptation of the radio program. Contestants are asked questions that if they fail to correctly answer must pay the consequences by performing stunts for prizes (here, for example, one player had to perform a hula-hula dance in a grass skirt; another was told to act like a baby and cry while seated on the lap of a middle-aged woman).

Host: Ralph Edwards.

8575 Truth or Consequences. (Experimental; Game; NBC; 5/27/44). A second television adaptation of the radio program that created a television and radio first. This broadcast was a simulcast of the radio show and used the new medium of television as a stunt. The program followed the established format with players having to perform stunts for prizes when they could not answer a riddle. The video stunt proved why such programs are called experiments. On live television and radio a wife was asked to identify an image of her husband, who was disguised, over a television set displayed on stage. The stunt caused some confusion on the part of the wife (and a majority of the audience) who had never seen television before. The wife was more amazed than anything else and the stunt just fell apart when she tried to identify her husband but couldn’t.

Host: Ralph Edwards.

8576 Truth or Consequences. (Test film; Game; NBC; 1/21/49). Selected members of the studio audience are first interviewed then asked to answer a nonsense riddle. If they are unable to answer it, a buzzer sounds and they must pay the consequences by performing stunts (here, for example, getting squirted in the face by seltzer; hit in the face with a pie; wallowing in mud; and having a group of women, wearing bloomers, attempt to play a game of basketball). Participants received a very generous cash prize for the time ($25) which was paid out of the host's own pocket (normal cash prizes were between $5 and $10). This video version of one of Ralph Edwards radio broadcasts (see prior two titles) originated in Hollywood and kinescoped (photographed off the screen) for the east coast. An actual series would enjoy a healthy run on CBS (1950–51) and NBC (1952–65).

Host: Ralph Edwards. Stunt Assistant: Joe Greb.

8577 Truth or Consequences. (Series; Game; CBS; NBC; 1950–1965). Selected contestants are first interviewed then asked to answer a nonsense riddle. If they are unable to answer it before Beulah the Buzzer sounds, they have to pay the consequences and perform stunts. Prizes are awarded according to the success of their performances. Based on the radio series of the same title. The series ran on CBS from September 7, 1950 to June 7, 1951 and on NBC from January 14, 1952 to September 24, 1965.

An announcer opens the show: “Hello there, we’ve been waiting for you. It’s time to play Truth or Consequences. And now here he is ladies and gentlemen, the star of our show, Bob Barker.”

Host: Ralph Edwards, Jack Bailey, Bob Barker. Announcer: Ken Carpenter.

8578 Truth or Consequences. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1967). Selected contestants are first interviewed then asked to answer a nonsense riddle. If they are unable to answer it they have to pay the consequences and perform stunts. Prizes are awarded according to the success of their performances. Based on the radio series of the same title.

Host: Bob Barker. Announcer: Charles Lyon.

8579 Try and Do It. (Series; Game; NBC; 1948). An early game, based somewhat on radio's Truth or Consequences, wherein players, selected from the studio audience, have to perform stunts in return for prizes. It ran from July 4, 1948 to September 5, 1948.

Host: Jack Bright.

8580 Tucker. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2000–2001). Tucker Pierce is 14 years old. He is a victim of divorce. His mother divorced his father when he ran off with a 26-year-old real estate agent who sold their house for $30,000 less than the market value. With no other choice, Tucker and his mother, Jeannie, move in with Jeannie's sister, Claire Wennick, her husband Jimmy and their son, Leon.

Tucker meets and befriends (and falls for) his next-door neighbor, McKenna Reed, enrolls in Garfield High School, and attempts to begin a new life while still attempting to cope with the divorce of his parents.

Claire works as the senior officer at the Centerfield Bank; Jeannie works as a waitress and pays Claire $500 a month in rent. Jimmy is a pilot for Trans Globe Airlines (he has been involved in three major airline crashes — and cleared each time).

Cast: Katey Sagal (Claire Wennick), Eli Marienthal (Tucker Pierce), Noelle Beck (Jeannie Pierce), Casey Sander (Jimmy Wennick), Nathan Lawrence (Leon Wennick), Alison Lohman (McKenna Reed).

8581 Tucker's Witch. (Series; Fantasy; CBS; 1982–1983). Tucker and Tucker, Inc., is a Los Angeles-based private detective organization at 7000 Vista Del Mar Drive. Amanda Tucker and her husband, Rick, operate the agency. Amanda and Rick are not a typical couple: Amanda is a beautiful apprentice witch and is still in the process of perfecting her powers (witchcraft runs in her family, although it skips every tenth generation; girls born in the “off generation” do not inherit the powers of witchcraft). Rick is a typical mortal trying to cope with an unusual wife. Stories relate Rick's attempts to solve crimes with the supernatural assistance of Amanda.

Amanda and Rick are also part time investigators for the Sandrich Insurance Company. They live on a farm in Laurel Canyon's Mill Valley. Amanda has a Siamese cat named Dickens (after her favorite writer, Charles Dickens) and a goat named Myra. Also living with Amanda and Rick is Amanda's mother, Ellen Hobbes. Ellen is not a witch as she was born in the “off generation.” In the original, unaired pilot version, “The Good Witch of Laurel Canyon,” Kim Cattrall played Amanda Tucker and Art Hindle was Rick. Brad Fiedel composed the “Tucker's Witch” theme.

Cast: Catherine Hicks (Amanda Tucker), Richard Matheson (Rick Tucker), Barbara Barrie (Ellen Hobbs), Alfre Woodard (Marsha Fulbright), Bill Morey (Lt. Sean Fisk), Duncan Ross (Stucky; the mortician), Charles Parks (Fred Sandrich), Wendy Wolfe (Reena d'Allesandio; the Tucker's neighbor), Tanya Fenmore (Adele; Reena's daughter).

8582 Tuckerville. (Series; Reality; TLC; 2005). Country music star Tanya Tucker invites cameras to chronicle her life as a mother, businesswoman and singer. Tanya, who had 29 top ten hits, lives in the Tennessee Hills and is the mother of Grayson, Layla and Presley. Cameras document her daily activities as she runs a business, records and album and cares for her home and children.

Cast: Tanya Tucker, Presley Tucker, Grayson Tucker, Layla Laseter, Annie Carroll, Adam Davis. Narrator: Alex Pels.

8583 The Tudors. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 2007). England in the 1500s is the setting for an adult series (for graphic sex) about the life and times of Henry VIII, a king who created a new religion (defying the Catholic faith) so he could divorce his wife and sleep with his mistress. The series spans the time from Henry's marriage to Katherine of Aragon to his marriage to Anne Boleyn.

The program is rich in period authenticity (especially the costumes) and through its ten episode run, shows that Henry was not quite the tyrant history makes him out to be (like beheading his wives). As the ruler of the House of Tudor, Henry sought only to find the right woman (to bear a son) but that quest took on tragic consequences. Henry was not meant to be a king. He was studying in a monastery for a celibate religious life when his brother, King Arthur died, leaving a widow (Katherine of Aragon) with a large dowry. Henry, now 18 years old, inherited the crown — and Katherine (who was six years older than Henry). It was the year 1509 when this occurred and Henry's efforts to divorce Katherine and having Anne Boleyn (his mistress) began a sensational but damaging reign for the teen king.

Cast: Jonathan Rhys Meyers (King Henry VIII), Maria Doyle Kennedy (Katherine of Aragon), Natalie Dormer (Anne Boleyn), Sam Neill (Cardinal Wolsey), Jeremy Northam (Sir Thomas More), Henry Cavill (Duke of Suffolk), Callum Blue (Anthony Knivert), Gabrielle Anwar (Princess Margaret Tudor), Steve Waddington (Duke of Buckingham), Mark Lambert (William Cornish), James Frain (Thomas Cromwell), Barry McGovern (Bishop Bonnivert), Slaine Kelly (Lady Jane Howard), Lorna Doyle (Joan Larke), Perdita Weeks (Mary Boleyn), Joe Van Moyland (Thomas Tallis), Anna Brewster (Anna Buckingham), Catherine Byrne (Alice More).

8584 Tuesday Night Book Club. (Series; Reality; CBS; 2006). The lives of seven beautiful Arizona suburban women are presented in weekly installments. The women are members of a Tuesday night book club (but not everyone reads the books) and the series does not concentrate on their book club discussions. Instead, cameras follow each of the women — together or alone, as they go about their daily lives. The women, identified by a first name only, are: Jenn (who is married to a rich man and calls herself “a trophy wife”), Tina (the 46-year-old “divorced mom”), Kirin (“the doctor’s wife”), Lynn (“the newlywed”), Sara (“the party girl”), Cris (“the loyal wife”) and Jamie (“the conflicted wife”).

Narrator: Kendra Cannoy.

8585 Tugboat Annie. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1957). The alternate title for The Adventures of Tugboat Annie. See this title for information.

Voice Cast: Michael Mish (Bret Matthews), Pamela Hayden (Patty), T.K. Carter (Alex), Pat Fralley (Dr. Chasel Eddie), Frank Welker (Dark Rider/Rusty/Flip).

8587 Turkey Television. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 1985). New comedy skits coupled with animated sequences and clips from classic television comedy series are presented in a potpourri presided over by Thurman T. Turkey.

Host: Jim Thurman (as Thurman T. Turkey).
Regulars: Christine McGlade, Adam Reid, Kevin Kubusheskie, Les Lye, Anthony Stechyson.

8588 Turn of Fate. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1957–1958). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are suddenly involved in unexpected and perilous situations.

Regular Performers: Jane Powell, Robert Ryan, Jack Lemmon, David Niven, Charles Boyer.

8589 Turn On. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1969). Visual, fast-paced comedy coupled with electronic distortion and stop-action photography. Because of its risqué material, the program was cancelled the same night it premiered (February 5, 1969). It was set to feature a guest host of the week and a cast of regular performers.

Guest Host: Tim Conway. Regulars: Chuck McCann, Bonnie Boland, Hamilton Camp, Teresa Graves, Maura McGivney, Debbie Macomber, Carlos Manteca, Bob Staats, Mel Stewart, Cecil Ozorio, Ken Greenwald, Alma Murphy, Maxine Green, Alice MaVega. Announcer: Chuck McCann.

8590 Turn to a Friend. (Series; Game; ABC; 1953). Female contestants stand before the studio audience and bear their souls, stating their single most needed possession. The studio audience then selects the person with the saddest story. The player receives her plea and additional help from the program in terms of prizes. The series ran from October 5, 1953 to December 31, 1953.

Host: Dennis James.

8591 Turnabout. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1979). When Penny Alston, a vice president with Aura Cosmetics in Los Angeles, believes her husband Sam's life (a writer for Sports Life magazine) is better than hers and idly wishes they could trade places, her wish is granted by an impish statue she had purchased from a gypsy. Stories relate their comic adventures as Penny, with Sam's personality, and Sam, with Penny's personality, struggle to adjust — and live as the other. The series ended before Penny could reverse her wish (7 of 13 filmed episodes aired).

Other Regulars: Judy and Jack Overmeyer, their neighbors; Al Brennan, Sam's publisher; Geoffrey St. James, Penny's boss.

Narrator Stanley Holloway opens the show: "Once upon a time in a very nice city in a very nice house there lives a very nice man and a very nice woman. They were married to each other. They also liked each other. How about that! But they had a problem. Even though they loved each other and lived with each other and had good jobs, they sometimes were not very happy. They envied each other. They each thought the other had a more interesting life and they wished they could change places with each other. And they said that, unfortunately, in front of a statue that had a magic spell and lo and behold, his spirit and personality went into her body and hers when into his — and that's the way they are today. Will they live happily ever after? Well, let's see."

Cast: Sharon Gless (Penny Alston), John Schuck (Sam Alston), Bobbi Jordan (Judy Overmeyer), Richard Stahl (Jack Overmeyer), Bruce Kirby (Al Brennan), James B. Sikking (Geoffrey St. James).

8592 Turner and Hooch. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/9/90). An adaptation of the theatrical film about Scott Turner, a detective with the Cypress Police Department ("a small town with small crime") who is burdened by a mischievous hound named Hooch. In the pilot episode, Turner and Hooch probe the theft of laundry and dinner rolls.

8594 The Turning Point of Jim Malloy. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 4/12/75). The pilot film for Gibbsville about life in a small Pennsylvania town (Gibbsville) as seen through the eyes of Ray Whitehead, a reporter for the Gibbsville Courier, the town newspaper. The pilot episode relates how Jim Malloy, son of the town doctor (Mike Malloy) acquires a job on the newspaper after being kicked out of Yale. Based on "The Doctor's Son" by John O'Hara. Other Regulars: Jim's mother (no name given), Lintzie, the bartender; Mr. Pell, the city editor.

Cast: Gig Young (Ray Whitehead), John Savage (Jim Malloy), Biff McGuire (Dr. Mike Malloy), Peggy McCay (Mrs. Malloy), Frank Campanella (Lintzie), Ivor Francis (Mr. Pell). Guest Cast: Kathleen Quinlan (Edith Evans), Janis Paige (Lonnie), Allan Miller (Dr. Enright), Rosalind Miles (Bo-Peep), John McLiam (Mr. Kelly), Sarah Cunningham (Mrs. Ingram), John Hoyt (Harry Longden).

8595 Turnover Smith. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 6/8/80). Thaddeus "Tee" Smith is a criminologist professor at Wellington University in San Francisco who has been nicknamed "Turnover" by the police for his ability to take evidence others have overlooked or not seen and turn it into a conviction. The unsold series was to relate Smith's efforts to help the police solve crimes through advanced scientific methods and computer technology. The pilot episode depicts Smith's desperate efforts to find a psycho who is murdering women — and not leaving any clues behind.

Other Regulars: Kelly and Eddie, his assistants; Police Lieutenant Brophy; Police Sergeant McCallister; and Rita, the coroner.

Cast: William Conrad (Thaddeus Smith), Belinda J. Montgomery (Kelly Kellogg), Hilly Hicks (Eddie), Michael Parks (Lieutenant Brophy), Nita Talbot (Sergeant McCallister), Gail Landry (Rita Downey). Guest Cast: James Darren (George Green), Cameron Mitchell (Colonel Simmons), Nehemiah Persoff (Ashmid Hamid), Tracy Reed (Anini), Richard Dimitri (Shariff), Sondra Blake (Victoria Simmons).

8596 Tutenstein. (Series; Cartoon; Discovery Kids; 2003). In ancient Egypt, a ten-year-old Pharaoh named King Tut ruled the land. He died shortly after and was placed in a pyramid. Three thousand years later, his sarcophagus is found and brought to a museum. One night during a thunderstorm, a bolt of lightning strikes the coffin and brings King Tut to life. The ten-year-old mummy meets and befriends Cleo, a 12-year-old girl, and her pet cat, Luxor. Tut learns from Cleo that he is in a new world and no longer a ruler. Stories follow Cleo as she struggles to protect King Tut, who has made it his mission to learn about the world in which he now lives. Dr. Roxanne Vanderwheeler is an archeologist who helps Cleo with information about ancient Egypt; Walter Jacobs is the museum's security guard.

Voices: Jeannie Elias (King Tut), Brian Swenlin, Brooks Wachtel, John Behnke, Anne D. Bernstein, Charlotte Fullerton, Rob Humphrey, Ken Koonce, Mark Seidenberg.

8597 TV Auction. (Series; Game; ABC; 1954). Various merchandise items are displayed on stage. The limit price of bids to be accepted is stated for each item. Via wire or mail, and on a first-come, first served bases, the items are sold to the home viewers whose bids are found to be acceptable. The summer series ran from July 10, 1954 to August 28, 1954.

Host-Auctioneer: Sid Stone.

8598 TV Funhouse. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2000). Doug, the host, appears before the camera to announce a theme for the day's program (for example, Shopping Day, Party Day). He then assigns his Aniplas (animal puppets Hojo, Fogey, Chickie, Hank and Larry) the task of performing skits that correspond to the day's theme. The puppets do anything but and the chaos they cause Doug is the focal point of the program. The program also features re-edited (for laughs) educational films and short cartoons by Robert Smigel.

Cast: Doug Dale (Doug), Jon Glaser (Hojo), Robert Smigel (Fogey), Dino Stamatopoulos (Chickie), Tommy Blacha (Hank), David Juskow (Larry).

8599 TV Funnies. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/18/82). Fast-paced comedy sketches based on the funnies found in daily newspapers. Mythical strips are used and live actors perform in cartoon-like sets to give the illusion of a newspaper comic strip come to life. The TV Funnies:

1. The Outrageous Brothers. Kip King (as Boris) and Charlie Dell (as Bruno), two nasty Siamese twins.

2. Father Gets Grey. Lou Cutell as a father who constantly worries about his beautiful teenage daughter, Tracy (Julie Brown).

3. Grunt and Groan. Prehistoric antics with a beautiful cave girl (Princess O'Mahoney) and two love sick cavemen (Vic Dunlop, C.W. Metcalf).

4. Lonnie and Bonnie. The antics of Bonnie (Deena Crowder) and Lonnie (Reece Clark), two kids on the block.

5. The Oldlyweds. Life with an elderly couple (Jacqueline Scott and Wynn Irwin).

7. Moe's World. Jeffrey Barron as Moe, a guy who feels the whole world is against him.

8. The Great American Guilt Machine. Sandra Gould and Marcie Vosburgh as a mother and daughter who make each other feel guilty in everything they do.

Host: Conrad Bain.

8600 TV General Store. (Series; Game; ABC; 1953). Various merchandise items are displayed on stage and the limit price of each item is stated. Home viewers bid on items via wire or mail. The viewer whose bid is the highest on a particular item is able to purchase it. Arrangements for the actual purchases are made after buyers are selected and off the air. The summer series ran from June 14, 1953 to July 12, 1953.

Hosts: Dave Clark, Judy Clark.

8601 TV Land Confidential. (Series; Documentary; TV Land; 2005). A behind-the-scenes look at popular television programs over the years. The series is not so much a profile, but more of an expose as it explores what happened behind the scenes—the good times but mostly the times that the public knew little or nothing about.

Narrator: Alan Kalter.

8602 TV Nation. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994). A spoof of television news magazines featuring outlandish parodies of current news stories and news personalities.

Host: Michael Moore. Regulars: Karen Duffy, Roy Sekoff, Louis Theroux. Announcer: Bruce Brown.

8603 TV 101. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1988–1989). Eleven years after graduating from Franklin Delano Roosevelt High School, Kevin Keegan returns to teach a course in journalism. Fascinated with the new age of video technology, Kevin changes the concept of the school's newspaper (The Kangaroo Courier) from print to video by having his students write, produce and edit a daily news program (broadcast over the school's TV system). Stories relate life in and around Roosevelt High as seen through the experiences of the students in Journalism Class 101 (changed by Kevin to TV 101).

Emilie Walker is the English teacher; Edward Steadman is the principal; students are Monique, Amanda, Penny, Sherman, Holden, Marty, Chuck and Vance.

Voice Cast: Matt Masellaro (Mouse "Fitz" Fitzgerald), Nick Gianopoulos (Eyeball), Dave Willis (Rhoda), Scott Luallen (Roostre), Adam Reed (Shark), Matt Harrigan (Liquor), Kurt Soccolich (Rectangular Business Man), Nick Weidenfeld (The Policeman), Bonnie Rosman (Siren Lady).

8623 The 25 Million Dollar Hoax. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2004). Chrissy Sanford is a regular, down-to-earth small town girl. One day she wins $5 million from an Internet website called www.the-bigwin.net. Or does she? Chrissy actually hasn’t won but she must convince her parents that she is a winner in order to actually win a prize for herself and her family.

The prank begins with Chrissy announcing her windfall and then having to convince her family that it actually happened. She must do this by recklessly spending the entire $5 million on herself (which she does at prearranged shopping sites with actors portraying sales people who make sure she spends, spends, spends). If Chrissy can spend all the money without telling her parents it is a joke, she wins the prize; if she breaks down, she wins nothing. The final episode has Chrissy appearing at the Big Win studios to spin a jackpot wheel where she can earn even more money ($25 million). With her family present, Chrissy spins the wheel (to actually win her real prize) and announces the win and shopping spree were a hoax. It ran from November 8, 2004 to November 22, 2004.

Host: George Gray.

8624 The $25,000 Pyramid. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1974–1977). Two teams, each composed of one celebrity and one non-celebrity contestant, compete. One team chooses one subject (out of six) that are displayed on a pyramid. Each subject contains seven related objects. One player, who receives 30 seconds, must use one-word clues and relate the meaning of each object to his partner. Each correct association scores one point. Each team plays three rounds. The highest-scoring team is the winner and the contestant receives the opportunity to win $20,000 by attempting to guess seven subjects within one minute.

Host: Bill Cullen. Announcer: Bob Clayton.

8625 24. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 2001–). An extremely tense action-adventure series that revolves around Jack Bauer, a top notch CIA agent who heads the President’s Counter Terrorism Unit (CTU). Jack tackles extremely sensitive missions that must be resolved within 24 hours to avoid chaotic consequences (24 episodes are produced each season and each episode is one hour of the 24 hours Jack has to resolve a crisis).

Jack first worked with the SWAT division of the L.A.P.D. He then took a Special Forces Operations training course. He served a hitch in the army where he was assigned to the Combat Alliance Group (then the Delta Force Terrorist Unit). Jack works with agent Tony Almeida and is responsible only to the President of the United States, David Palmer (then Charles Logan after Air Force One is blown out of the sky and Palmer is killed in 2006). Jack is the father of Kimberly (his late wife was named Teri). Tony was married to Michelle (killed in a car bombing). Martha Logan is First Lady to President Logan.

Cast: Kiefer Sutherland (Jack Bauer), Carlos Bernard (Tony Almeida), Elisha Cuthbert (Kimberly Bauer), Leslie Hope (Teri Bauer), Reiko Aylesworth (Michelle Almeida), Dennis Haysbert (David Palmer), Penny Johnson Jerald (Sherry Palmer), James Morrison (Bill Buchanan), Gregory Itzin (Charles Logan), William Devane (James Heller; Secretary of Defense), Sarah Clarke (Agent Nina Myers), Xander Berkley (George Mason), James Badge Dale (Chase Edmunds), Alberta Watson (Erin Driscoll), Kim Raver (Audrey Raines), Roger R. Cross (Curtis Manning), Mary Lynn Rajs kub (Chloe O'Brian), Jean Smart (Martha Logan), Rena Sofer (Marilyn; Jack's sister), Paul McCrane (Graham Bauer; Jack's brother).

8626 Twenty Good Years. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2006). John Mason is an egotistical surgeon with Chelsea General Hospital in New York City. Jeffrey Pyne is a somber Manhattan judge. Both men are approaching 60 and have been friends for 40 years (although John mentions they have been friends since high school, which would make them friends a few years longer). John has married and divorced three times and is the father of Stella, a fifth grade school teacher. Jeffrey, a widower for twenty years (his wife was named Cindy) is the father of Hugh, a male model.

Life changes for John and Jeffrey when John turns 60 and is forced into semi retirement. Figuring he has only 20 good years left, he convinces Jeffrey to join him in his new venture: live each day as if it were their last and fill it with adventure. Stories follow John and Jeffrey as they take the bull by the horns and seek to enjoy life to the fullest.

Cast: John Lithgow (John Mason), Jeffrey Tambor (Jeffrey Pyne), Heather Burns (Stella Mason), Jake Sandvig (Hugh Pyne), Paula Gale (Annette), Judith Light (Gina), Tim Russ (Marty).

8627 20 Minute Workout. (Series; Exercise; Syn.; 1983). The benefits of aerobic exercise are demonstrated by a bevy of beautiful girls.

Cast: Sharon Bisset, Laurie Briscoe, Holly Butler, Sue Carter, Bess Motta, Nicole Nardini, Anne Schumacher, Leslie Smith, Arlaine Wright. Music: Shiva.

8628 Twenty One. (Series; Game; NBC; 1956–1958). Two contestants are placed in separate isolation booths. The object calls for players to answer questions and score exactly twenty-one points. Players, who have no control over the categories from which questions are drawn, select a question based on its point value (one to eleven; the higher the point value, the more difficult it is). The first player to score twenty-one is the champion and receives $500 per point difference between his score and his opponent's score.

Host: Jack Barry. Announcer: Bill McCord.

8629 Twenty One. (Series; Game; NBC; 2000). A revised version of the 1950s game show of the same title. Two players compete, each of whom is placed in a separate isolation booth. A category is displayed with eleven accompanying questions worth from one to eleven points each. One player chooses a question by point value (the higher the value the more difficult the question). The sound is turned off in his opponent's booth (he does not know the point value of the question chosen or whether or not his opponent will answer the question correctly or not). If the player answers the question correctly, the points are placed on his side of the board (the object being to score 21); if he is incorrect, he receives one strike (three strikes and he automatically loses). The opponent now plays in the same manner. After two rounds the game is stopped. The host asks each player if they would like to end the game now or continue. If one player feels he has more points than his opponent and ends the game he wins if he has more points; however, if he ends the game and has fewer points he loses. If both choose to continue playing, the contestant who first reaches 21 is the winner and receives $25,000 and the opportunity to play again, seeking seven straight wins and $1 million.

Host: Maury Povich. Announcer: John Cramer.

8630 21 Beacon Street. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1959–1960). The David Chase Detective Agency is a sophisticated organization located at 21 Beacon Street in Boston. It is run by David Chase; he is assisted by Lola, Brian and Jim.

David is a former World War II intelligence officer for the O.S.S. (Office of Strategic Services) who now uses his skills in the private sector to help people in trouble. He tackles each case as if it were a military operation. Elaborate cons are established to outwit confidence men; complex stings are set up to bring criminals to justice; and well-calculated maneuvers are used to help the police nab killers. While David actively participates in each caper, he also oversees its operations and demands that each of his operatives follow strict protocol. Once a case has been established, the program becomes a "Mission: Impossible"-type of series with the team executing complex maneuvers to accomplish their goal. Viewing requires strict attention to follow the plot. While the Chase team works for the public, the police and the Gravestake Insurance Company, it appears they are only hired because they are the last hope anyone has. Once a case has been accepted, the program details the step-by-step planning, its execution and the apprehension of the sought culprit.

Lola, also called Jo, is a former chorus girl (Broadway and Las Vegas) who uses her skills (her beauty) for distraction. Brian and Jim are experts at disguises and knowledgeable in the art of cons. Dave Kahn composed the theme "21 Beacon Street."

Cast: Dennis Morgan (David Chase), Joanna Barnes (Lola), Brian Kelly (Brian), James Maloney (Jim).

8631 21 Jump Street. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 1987–90; Syn.; 1990–91). An abandoned chapel at 21 Jump Street and 6th Avenue in Los Angeles is the secret headquarters for Jump Street Chapel, a special squad of undercover detectives assigned to curtail the rising crime rate in high schools.

The unit, a division of the Metropolitan Police Department, recruits young looking cops and teaches them to be teenagers. Tom Hanson, Judy Hoffs, H.T. Ioki and Doug Penhall are the officers assigned to infiltrate high schools to battle juvenile crime. Richard Jenko was the first captain. He was replaced by Adam Fuller when Jenko was killed in a hit and run accident.

Tom is 21 years old and the son of a cop. After graduating with top honors from the Academy, he became a patrol car officer with the Metro Police Department. Jeff Yagher played Hanson in the original, unaired pilot version.

Judith Marie Hoffs, called Judy, is a strikingly beautiful black cop who worked undercover as a hooker for the Vice Squad before being transferred to Jump Street Chapel. Judy was born in Chicago and in high school was a three time all city guard on her basketball team. Judy, a victim of rape, spends Wednesday evenings as a counselor at the West Side Rape Clinic.

H.T. Ioki is a Vietnamese refugee. His real name is Vinh Von Tran and he was born in Saigon. In April of 1975, when he was 14 years old, the Vietcong invaded his city. He fled Saigon and found himself in St. Louis, where he was raised by a woman named Bessy Mason. He learned to speak English by watching Sesame Street and loved cop shows. They instilled in him a desire to become a law enforcement officer. After high school graduation, he went to San Francisco and posed as a reporter to gain access to death records. He took the name H.T. (Harry Truman) Ioki, enrolled in the police academy and finished fifth in his class. He was assigned to Jump Street Chapel by Captain Jenko. He is well versed in the martial arts.

Doug Penhall stands five feet ten inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. He was born on March 1, 1964, and lives at 8137 Juniper Street. He often plunges into dangerous situations without thinking first. He was joined by his brother, Joey Penhall in later episodes.

Kati Rocky was a federal agent who worked briefly as a Jump Street cop; she had a cat named Bugsy. Sal Banducci, called Blowfish, is the Chapel's jovial maintenance man. Captain Jenko called Tom "Sport" and played lead guitar in a band called the Bunco Dudes on Saturday nights. Captain Fuller was a graduate of the University of Toronto and often went undercover as a teacher in troubled schools. See also Booker.

Cast: Johnny Depp (Tom Hanson), Holly Robinson (Judy Hoffs), Dustin Nguyen (H.T. Ioki), Peter DeLuise (Doug Penhall), Frederic Forrest (Richard Jenko), Steven Williams (Adam Fuller), Alexandra Powers (Kati Rocky), Sal Jenco (Sal Banducci), Richard Grieco (Dennis Booker). Theme Vocal: "21 Jump Street" by Holly Robinson.

8632 Twenty Questions. (Series; Game; NBC; DuMont; ABC; 1949–1955). Four players compete: three regular panelists and one studio audience contestant. A subject, that is either vegetable, animal or mineral, is revealed. Players have to identify it by asking questions, twenty being the maximum. If the contestant can identify the subject before the panel he receives a prize. The series aired on NBC from November 26, 1949 to December 24, 1949; on ABC from March 17, 1950 to June 29, 1951; on DuMont from July 6, 1951 to April 5, 1954; and on ABC from July 6, 1951 to May 3, 1955.

Host: Bill Slater (1949–1952), Jay Jackson (1953–1955). Panelists: Bobby McGuire, Fred Von Deventer, Florence Rinard, Herb Palesie, Johnny McFee. Announcer: John Gregson, Frank Waldecker.

8633 26 Men. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1957). "Saddle up, saddle up, saddle up. This is the story of Twenty-Six Men who rode the Arizona Territory. Praise beat the glory of Twenty-Six Men whose courage helped to build the territory.... Ride on, ride on, ride on...." The Arizona Territory during the early 1900s is the setting for tales of the Arizona Rangers, men, limited to law to twenty-six, as they dispense justice in the final days of the Old West. Their stories are seen through the eyes of Captain Tom Rynning and his aide, Clint Travis, who most often go undercover to achieve results. Based on the official files of the Arizona Rangers.

Cast: Tris Coffin (Captain Tom Rynning), Kelo Henderson (Ranger Clint Travis). Theme: "26 Men" by Hal Hopper, Russell Hayden.

8634 The $20,000 Pyramid. (Series; Game; CBS; 1973–74; ABC; 1974–80). Two teams, each composed of one celebrity and one non-celebrity contestant, compete. One team chooses one subject (out of six) that are displayed on a pyramid. Each subject contains seven related objects. One player, who receives 30 seconds, must use one-word clues and relate the meaning of each object to his partner. Each correct association scores one point. Each team plays three rounds. The highest-scoring team is the winner and the contestant receives the opportunity to win $20,000 by attempting to guess seven subjects within one minute.

Host: Dick Clark. Announcer: Bob Clayton.

8635 Twice in a Lifetime. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 3/16/74). An unsold series about Vincent "Vince" Boselli, an old salt who operates a salvage tug, and his friend, Flo, a widow who runs a waterfront cafe in San Pedro called Flo's Place with her son, Lewis. In the pilot episode, Vince and Flo clash with an unscrupulous dock foreman who is trying to take over Flo's business. See also Flo's Place.

Cast: Ernest Borgnine (Vince Boselli), Della Reese (Flo), Eric Laneuville (Lewis). Guest Cast: Slim Pickens (Pete Lazich), Vito Scotti (Carlos), Warren Vanders (Kipp), Arte Johnson (Ron Talley).

8636 Twice in a Lifetime. (Series; Drama; PAX; 1999–2000). A mysterious figure named Othniel determines the fate of people who are given a second chance to change incidents in their lives.

When a deceased soul is determined to have a life smaller than fate intended, he or she is given a second chance — but only three days — to go back in time to a pivotal turning point and somehow convince their younger selves to follow a different path. Whether they succeed or not is the focal point of stories. Season one episodes feature Mr. Jones as the subject's guide; Mr. Smith is the second season guide.

Cast: Al Waxman (Judge Othniel), Gordie Brown (Mr. Jones), Paul Popowich (Mr. Smith).

8637 Twiggy's Juke Box. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1978). Super fashion model Twiggy hosts a program that features performances by rock musicians. Ken Lynch composed the theme; Mike Mansfield is the producer. See also Britt Ekland's Juke Box.

8638 Twilight Theater. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1958). Rebroadcasts of dramas that were originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. The series ran from July 3, 1958 to October 8, 1958.

8639 Twilight Theater. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/13/82). The first of two unsold attempts to satirize various aspects of our culture through comedy sketches. See also Twilight Theater II.

8640 Twilight Theater II. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 11/6/82). A second attempt (see prior title) at a late night series of skits that satirize people and events.

8641 The Twilight Zone. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1959–1964). Tales of people confronted with the mysterious unexplored regions of the fifth dimension — the area that is everywhere yet nowhere, the ground between all that is known and what is beyond understanding, an area called the Twilight Zone. See also The Time Element for information on the series pilot film.

Original open: "There is a fifth dimension beyond that which is known to man. It is a dimension as vast as space and as timeless as infinity. It is the middle ground between light and shadow, between science and superstition and it lies between the pit of man's fears and the summit of his knowledge. This is the dimension of imagination. It is an area which we call The Twilight Zone."

The revised opening: "You're traveling through another dimension, a dimension not only of sight and sound but of mind, a journey into a wondrous land whose boundaries are that of the imagination. That's the sign post up ahead, you're next stop The Twilight Zone."

Host-Narrator: Rod Serling. Performers Include: Anne Francis, Inger Stevens, Mickey Rooney, Orson Bean, Peter Falk, Don Rickles, Art Carney, Ed Wynn, Earl Holliman, Ross Martin, Charles Bronson, Elizabeth Montgomery, Burt Reynolds, Jack Warden, Buster Keaton, Dick York, Vera Miles, Martin Milner, Susan Oliver, William Shatner, Janice Rule, Jean Carson, Barbara Nichols, Burgess Meredith, Cliff Robertson, Jack Klugman, Jonathan Winters, Lois Nettleton, William Windom, Phyllis Kirk, Keenan Wynn, Mary LaRoche, Patricia Crowley, Martin Balsam, Julie Newmar, Donna Douglas, Albert Salmi, Telly Savalas, James Whitmore, Suzy Parker, Ann Blyth, Joan Blondell, Suzanne Cupito (now Morgan Brittany) Jackie Cooper, Nancy Malone.

8642 The Twilight Zone. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1985–1986). A revised version of the 1959–1964 CBS series of the same title that presents eerie stories of people confronted with supernatural-like unexpected situations.

Narrator: Charles Aidman. Performers Include: Danica McKellar, Richard Mulligan, Jenny Agutter, Jeffrey Tambor, David Hayward, Heather Haase, Martin Balsam, Eve Brenner, Burr Middleton, Andrew Robinson, Cynthia Lea Clark, Chip Heller, Harry Stephens, Eve Brenner, Tim Russ, James Whitmore, Jr., Raye Birk, William Atherton.

8643 The Twilight Zone. (Series; Anthology; UPN; 2004–2005). Eerie tales of people confronted with elements of the fifth dimension — an area that is known to exist but is beyond understanding. The one season series presents mostly modern adaptations of stories that were originally presented on the 1959–1964 series of the same title.

Host: Forest Whitaker. Performers Include: Jason Alexander, Shannon Elizabeth, John Reardon, Katherine Heigl, Wanda Cannon, Dylan Walsh, Ethan Embry, Olivia D’Abo, Alexandra Purvis, Jake Busey, Kelly Perine, Brian Austin Green, Greg Germann, Jim Byrnes, Portia de Rossi, Ione Skye.

8644 Twin Detectives. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/1/76). A proposed series about Tony and Shep Thomas, twins who are also police detectives (and who pretend to be one person to get an edge on the cases they are investigating). The pilot episode depicts their efforts to expose a ring of phony psychics.

8645 Twin Peaks. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1990–1991). Twin Peaks, population 51,201, is a Northwestern lumber town located five miles south of the Canadian border. Big Ed’s Gas Farm sells Indian Head Gasoline. The Double R Restaurant, owned by Norma Jennings, offers coffee for 25 cents a cup (free refills). One-Eyed Jack’s is the local casino and brothel. The local department store is Horne’s; Callahan General is the town’s hospital; and the Ghostwood Country Club and Estates is where the wealthy frolic. The Roadhouse is the local bar.

The Packard Saw Mill stands on land near Black Lake. The mill is owned by Jocelyn (“Josie”) Packard, who is struggling to save it from the Ghostwood Land Developers who seek the land for a new club. Early one morning, Pete Martell, the mill foreman, decides to go fishing. While walking to his favorite spot, he finds the body of a 17-year-old girl named Laura Palmer. The mystery surrounding Laura’s death becomes the focal point of first season episodes (later on the mysterious people and strange events that occur in Twin Peaks).

“Laura Palmer was bright, beautiful and charming. She was impatient for life to begin, for life to catch up with her dreams.” It is estimated that Laura died between midnight and 4:00 A.M. from a loss of blood. Her nude body was wrapped in plastic and shallow wounds (like bite marks) were found on her neck and shoulders. Her wrists showed evidence of being tied before she was killed.

Laura attended Twin Peaks High School. She was voted homecoming queen and worked at the perfume counter of Horne’s Department Store. She was the typical high school girl until she joined the Heavenly Choir, a cult group that changed her life. Laura was suddenly into drugs. She posed for the girlie magazine Flesh World and worked as a call girl at One-Eyed Jack’s. The last entry found in her diary read, “Feb. 23, 1990. Asparagus for dinner again. I hate asparagus.”

Shortly after, FBI agent Dale Cooper, who has been investigating a similar case elsewhere, is called in to assist Twin Peaks sheriff Harry S. Truman. Cooper examines Laura’s body and finds an additional clue: a letter R on a small piece of paper under the nail of her ring finger. The remainder of the episodes kept viewers curious — but also confused many as to what was happening as Cooper began his investigation.

In the second season premiere, it was revealed that “Bob” killed Laura Palmer. But who is Bob? Based on the episode of 11/10/90, Bob was a menacing figure from Laura’s past. An evil alter ego of Bob possessed Laura’s father, attorney Leland Palmer, and forced him to kill his daughter (it is possible, however, to interpret a different ending based on one’s own viewing of the series).

Other Characters: Sarah Palmer is Laura’s mother; she seems to possess psychic powers. Madeline Ferguson is Leland’s niece and Laura’s exact double. Bobby Briggs is Laura’s boyfriend. Donna Hayward is Laura’s girlfriend. Ben Horne owns the Lamplighter Inn. Audrey Horne is Ben’s daughter. Pete Martell is the mill foreman. Katherine Martell is Pete’s wife. And the Log Lady is the woman who carries a log and has a weakness for saplings and rugged, good looking men. Theme: “Falling, the Theme from Twin Peaks,” by Angelo Badalamenti (Julee Cruise sings the theme on a commercial release of the song).

Note: The original concept of the series is an un-aired pilot called Northwest Passage, which was produced for ABC in 1989. There was no Laura Palmer and no confusion; it was a mystery that dealt with crime prevention in a small Pacific Northwest town. Harry S. Truman (Michael Ontkean) was the sheriff, and Dale Cooper (Kyle MacLachlan) the FBI agent who comes to town to help him find a serial killer. Also cast were Richard Beymer (as Ben Horne), Brad Dourif (Jerry Horne), Joan Chen (Josie Packard), Piper Laurie (Katherine Packard), Lara Flynn Boyle (Donna Hayward) and Dana Ashbrook (Bobby Briggs).

Will Hayward), Sheryl Lee (Laura Palmer), Grace Zabriskie (Sarah Palmer), Joan Chen (Jocelyn "Josie" Packard), Ray Wise (Leland Palmer), Wendy Robie (Nadine Hurley), Piper Laurie (Catherine Martell), Eric DaRe (Leo Johnson), Kimmy Robertson (Lucy Moran), James Marshall (James Hurley), Everett McGill (Big Ed Hurley), Jack Nance (Peter Martell), Peggy Lipton (Norma Jennings), Dana Ashbrook (Bobby Briggs), Madchen Amick (Shelly Johnson), Frank Silva (Bob), Catherine E. Coulson (The Log Lady), Mary Jo Deschanel (Eileen Hayward), Chris Mulkey (Hank Jennings), Garrison Hershberger (Mike Nelson), Don S. Davis (Garland Briggs), Russ Tamblyn (Dr. Lawrence Jacoby), Charlotte Stewart (Betty Briggs), Miguel Ferrer (Agent Albert Rosenfield), John Boylan (Mayor Dwayne Milford), David Patrick Kelly (Jerry Horne), Michael J. Anderson (The Man from Another Place), Jan D'Arcy (Sylvia Horne), Billy Zane (John Justice Wheeler), Ron Blair (Randy St. Croix), Mak Takano (Mysterious Asian Man), Carel Struycken (The Giant), Michael Parks (Jean Renault), Annette McCarthy (Evelyn Marsh), David Lynch (Chief Gordon Cole), Robyn Lively (Lana Milford), Victoria Catlin (Blackie O'Reilly), Jill Rogosheske (Trudy Chelgren), Dan O'Herlihy (Andrew Packard).

8646 Twin Time. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950). The shortened title for Toni Twin Time. See this title for information.

8647 Twins. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2005–2006). Mitchee and Farrah Arnold are fraternal twin sisters. Mitchee is a pretty brunette; Farrah is the typical stereotyped gorgeous dumb blonde. The girls were born in 1976, making them 29 years old when the series begins. Mitchee knows this for a fact. Even though they are twins (and their mother was in labor for 42 hours with them) Farrah believes she is the younger twin — “I’m only 25.” They are graduates of Jefferson High School.

Mitchee and Farrah are the daughters of Alan and Lee Arnold, the founders of Arnold Undergarments, a female lingerie company in San Francisco. Alan is a graduate of Stanford University and started the company 30 years ago; Lee was his top model and literally put the company on the map. Lee is exactly like Farrah — a beautiful dumb blonde; Mitchee is exactly like her father: brilliant.

Mitchee and Farrah became the co-presidents of the company when the series began. Alan and Lee took on a lesser role as its overseers. Mitchee designs the company’s line; Farrah is the company’s top bra and panty model. Farrah named Mitchee’s latest panty creation “The Butt Pucker” (although Mitchee hates the name) and showed Mitchee she is more than a dazzling blonde and invented “The Lop Sizer” (a bra for girls with one breast bigger — or smaller — than the other).

Farrah calls Mitchee “Smarty McSmart Smart” (although in high school Farrah got a B plus for a science project called “We All Have Feet.” Wearing a mini skirt to class that day sort of helped her get that grade). Farrah says she tries to think about what she has to say before she says it “but it still comes out dumb.” They also live together in an apartment in the Arbogast Building. Neil and Jordan are the featured workers at Arnold Undergarments.

8648 The Twisted Tales of Felix the Cat. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1995–1997). An updated version of the 1960s syndicated cartoon series Felix the Cat that continues to follow the strange adventures of the black cat who seems to find nothing but trouble, but in this series he doesn’t need nine lives — he has the ability to change into any shape that he needs to exonerate himself from troublesome (or perilous) situations.

Voice Cast: Thom Adcox-Hernandez (Felix the Cat), Cam Clarke (Poindexter), John Astin, Jeff Bennett, Nancy Cartwright, Townsend Coleman, Elizabeth Daily, Jeannie Elias, Pat Fraley, Susan Silo, Cree Summer, Roger Rose, Jonathan Harris.

8649 Twitches. (Pilot; Comedy; Disney; 9/05). Alex Fielding and Camryn Barnes are twins, separated at birth, who are reunited by chance 21 years later when they meet at a clothing store. The girls are also witches and their efforts to use their powers for good is the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode they battle an evil (the Darkness) which is threatening to destroy their world (Coventry). On October 12, 2007, the Disney Channel presented Twitches Too, a sequel to Twitches. After saving the world of Coventry from the evil Darkness, the new story finds twin witch sisters, Alex Fielding and Camryn Barnes, seeking to discover if their father, believed to be dead, is actually still alive. Tia and Tamara Mowry reprise their roles as Alex and Camryn.

8650 Two. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1996–1997). Gus McClain is a college English professor and married to Sarah. He seems to have a perfect life. Unknown to Gus he has an evil twin brother, Booth Hubbard. Booth, however, is aware of Gus and jealous of his life style.

When they were infants, the twins parents were killed in a car accident. The infants were separated and adopted by different parents. Gus grew up with a good family and was well treated. Booth had a totally different upbringing. Although his mother was kind, his father was abusive and constantly beat him. He grew up hating people and, as a result of the beatings, suffered cerebral damage. Booth used his hatred of his father to kill people; eventually he became one of the FBI's most wanted killers and smart enough to evade capture.

When Booth learns about Gus, he concocts a rather deranged plan. He kills Sarah and plants evidence that pinpoints Gus as the killer. Gus, unable to prove his innocence, is arrested, but rescued by Booth when he hijacks the police van carrying Gus to prison.

Booth reveals himself to Gus. He also tells him that he may only have a short time to live and that he framed him then saved him so he can lead the life he has led—that of a fugitive and on run from the law.

Booth escapes Gus's grasp. Gus has vowed to avenge Sarah's death by capturing Booth and clearing his name. Stories follow Gus as he takes to the road, looking for Booth, dodging the law (especially FBI Agent Teresa Carter) and helping people he finds in trouble along the way.

Cast: Michael Easton (Gus McClain/Booth Hubbard), Allison Hossack (Sarah McClain), Barbara Tyson (Theresa Carter).

8651 2½ Dads. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 2/16/86). In an attempt to cut expenses and enjoy a much more carefree life, two fathers, Pete (divorced) and Frank (a widower) and a bachelor (Chick) pool their resources and decide to live together in the same house. The pilot episode establishes the unsold series storyline as Pete and his three children (Danny, Dorothy and Rosie), Frank and his two offspring (Kathleen and Frank, Jr.) and Chick begin their new family.

Cast: George Dzundza (Pete Seltzer), Billy Warlock (Danny Seltzer), Marissa Mendenhall (Dorothy Seltzer), Shana O'Neil (Rosie Seltzer), Richard Young (Frank Manley), Mary Kohnert (Kathleen Manley), Ricky Stout (Frank Manley, Jr.), Sal Viscuso (Chick Leoni), Lenore Kasdorf (Arlene; their neighbor), Sharon Madden (Candy; guest role).

8652 Two and a Half Men. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2003–). Charlie Harper and his brother Alan are “the men;” Jake, Alan's 10-year-old son, is “the half.” Charlie is a womanizing jingles writer whose carefree life style is suddenly disrupted when Alan divorces and he and Jake move in with Charlie in his beachfront house in Malibu, California. Also complicating Charlie's life is Evelyn, his “narcissistic, emotionally toxic mother;” and Judith, Alan's neurotic ex-wife. Stories relate Alan's efforts to raise Jake on the straight and narrow despite the complexities of the situations that arise living with Charlie. Charlie also performs as Charlie Waffles, a popular children's singing star (his CD's are produced by Fluffy Bunny Records). Later episodes find Alan, a chiropractor, marrying (and then divorcing) Khandi.

Other Regulars: Berta, Charlie's housekeeper; and Rose, the woman who is obsessed with having Charlie. Berta is rude and vulgar and Charlie never uses the “M” word in front of her (“Maid”) as he considers her one of the family.

Cast Charlie Sheen (Charlie Harper), Jon Cryer (Alan Harper), Angus T. Jones (Jake Harper), Holland Taylor (Evelyn Harper), Conchata Ferrell (Berta), Melanie Lynskey (Rose), Marin Hinkle (Judith Harper), April Bowlby (Khandi).

8653 Two Boys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/6/70). A proposed series about Jud Thomas and Billy Beckett, two 13-year-old boys growing up in a small Wisconsin town. The pilot episode follows the boys as they attempt to sneak into a movie theater.

Cast: Mitch Vogel (Jud Thomas), Mark Kearney (Billy Beckett), William Schallert (William Beckett), Dabbs Greer (Theater owner).

8654 The Two Coreys. (Series; Reality; A&E; 2007). Corey Haim and Corey Feldman were teen idols of the 1980s. Today they are over thirty years of age and basically forgotten or unknown to the under 20 crowd. Each had a successful film career (Corey Feldman also had had a semi-successful TV career) but that was then. In the years since, alcohol and drugs became an important part of their lives.

The Coreys appeared together in the film The Lost Boys. They have cleaned up their acts and have reunited. So far it is a reality show. From this point on it is more staged than reality. Corey Haim moves in with Corey Feldman and his wife in a large house (in Canada) that was rented for the show—a show that is produced and written by the two Coreys. While the program does focus on the pressures of life each is facing (as they attempt to get back into the world of film making) and this is not faked reality, the other aspects they encounter appear staged (although presented as if they were not rehearsed).

Cast: Corey Feldman, Corey Haim.

8655 Two Faces West. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1960). Gunnison is growing town of the 1860s but like all such towns it faces dangers from outlaws. Twin brothers Ben and Rick January grew up in the town. While each was given every opportunity to pursue any career goal, it was Ben who showed the most potential. He studied and became a doctor. Rick, who was not as motivated as Ben yearned to wander. He became a trail bum, traveling to wherever he pleased and earning a living by whatever means he could (from trail boss to store clerk). Rick has now returned to Gunnison with a hope of settling down. He has become somewhat proficient with a gun and has made it his duty to help uphold the law (by assisting Sheriff Maddox and his deputy, Johnny Evans). Stories follow events in the lives of the January brothers as each helps in his own way to help the citizens of Gunnison. Julie Greer is the hotel owner; Stacy is the saloon keeper.

8656 The Two-Five. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/14/78). After they accidentally arrest a mayor's wife, two undercover cops (Charlie and Frank) are transferred to a precinct (the 25th, called the Two-Five) that is under the supervision of Commander Malloy, a man who is approaching retirement and who wants to keep his precinct out of the limelight so as not to affect his pension. The proposed series was to follow Charlie and Frank as they attempt to perform their duties while at the same time trying to keep the Two-Five out of the papers. In the pilot episode, Charlie and Frank scheme to anonymously bust a narcotics ring.

Cast: Don Johnson (Charlie Morgan), Joe Bennett (Frank Sarno), George Murdock (Commander Malloy), John Crawford (Captain Paul Carter). Guest Cast: Michael Durrell (Vinnie Lombardo), Carlene Watkins (Dale Von Krieg), Tara Buckman (Angel), Sondra Lowell (Eileen), Walter Mathews (Johnson), Jacques Aubuchon (Pierre Menoir), Henry Olek (Bandit).

8657 Two for the Money. (Series; Game; NBC; CBS; 1952–1957). Three players compete in a series of general knowledge question-and-answer rounds. The highest cash scoring player in round one is the winner and moves onto round two where he competes in a rapid fire question-and-answer session. For each correct answer that the player gives, he receives the amount of money he won in round one. The final round follows the format of round two: for each correct answer, the player receives the total earnings of what he has won in rounds and two. The series aired on NBC from September 30, 1952 to August 11, 1953; and on CBS from August 15, 1953 to September 22, 1956 and March 23, 1957 to September 7, 1957.

An announcer opens the show: "It's time now for Sam Levinson in the wonderful fun-and-action show Two for the Money. And now here he is, the host for Two for the Money, Sam Levinson."

Host: Fred Allen (Pilot), Herb Shriner, Walter O'Keefe, Dennis James, Sam Levenson. Judge: Dr. Mason Gross. Announcer: Dennis James. Orchestra Milton DeLugg.

8658 Two for the Money. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 2/26/72). A proposed series about Larry Dean and Chip Bronx, police officers who quit the force to become private detectives. The pilot episode depicts their efforts to apprehend a mass murderer who has evaded police capture for years.

Cast: Robert Hooks (Larry Dean), Stephen Brooks (Chip Bronx). Guest Cast: Walter Brennan (Cody Guilford), Catherine Burns (Judith Gap), Neville Brand (Harley), Shelley Fabares (Bethany Hagen), Anne Revere (Mrs. Gap), Mercedes McCambridge (Mrs. Castle), Richard Dreyfuss (Morris Gap).

8659 240-Robert. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1979–1981). Morgan Wainwright, Dwayne L. ("Thib") Thibideaux and T.R. (Theodore Roosevelt) ("Trap") Applegate III are deputies for the E.S.D. (Emergency Service Detail) of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department. They operate under the overall code 240-Robert.

Dwayne, who sings in his spare time, wrote the song "Saddle My Dream" and rides with T.R. in car 240-R-2. Morgan pilots the unit's helicopter, 240-R-A (Robert Air).

In second season episodes, Pamela Hensley replaced Joanna Cassidy as Deputy Sandy Harper; and Stephan Burns replaced Mark Harmon as Deputy Brett Cueva. Stories follow their case investigations. The series ran from September 3, 1979 to August 23, 1980; and March 7, 1981 to March 21, 1981.

Cast: Mark Harmon (Dep. Dwayne Thibideaux), Joanna Cassidy (Dep. Morgan Wainwright), John Bennett Perry (Dep. T.R. Applegate), Lew Saunders (Dep. C.B. Harris), Pamela Hensley (Dep. Sandy Harper), Joe Al Nicassio (Deputy Roverino), Thomas Babson (Dep. Terry Caster), Steve Tanner (Deputy Kestenbaum), Peter J. Pitchess (Sheriff). Theme Song: "240-Robert" by Mike Post, Pete Carpenter.

8660 Two Girls Named Smith. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1951). "And now new liquid Glim presents Two Girls Named Smith starring Marcia Henderson as Babs and Peggy French as Frances." Announcer Vince Williams spoke these opening theme words to introduce viewers to Babs and Fran Smith, cousins who have come to New York City to further their dreams: Babs as a singer; Fran as a fashion designer.

Babs and Fran are originally from Omaha, Nebraska, and now share a small apartment at 514 East 51st Street. Babs works as a stenographer while taking singing lessons and hoping for her big break. She is timid and shy and has been described as "a nice, sweet, pretty kid"; her dream became a reality when she was chosen to replace the lead in the Broadway play Stairway to Venus ("I never dreamed anything so wonderful could happen to a little girl from Omaha" said Babs when she got the part).

Fran, the older of the cousins, works for East Side Fashions and is dating attorney Jeffrey Carter. The show ends with Babs and Fran facing the camera and saying “And now it’s time to be saying goodbye from Two Girls Named Smith. Bye bye.” The sponsor, Glim, was a liquid dishwashing detergent. Jacques Press composed the theme.

Cast: Peggy Ann Garner (Babs Smith), Marcia Henderson (Babs Smith; later), Peggy French (Frances Smith), Kermit Kegley (Jeffrey Carter), Joseph Buloff (Mr. Busmany, the landlord).

8661 Two Guys, a Girl and a Pizza Place. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1998–2000). Pete Dunville and Michael “Berg” Bergen are the guys; Sharon Carter, the girl; and Beacon Street Pizza (at 228 Beacon Street in Boston), the pizza place (where Pete and Berg work). Pete, Sharon and Berg are friends who attended Cambridge High School.

Pete, an architect student, and Berg, a medical student at Boston University, share Apartment A. Sharon is a salesgirl for the Immaculate Chemicals Company. Pete was a sportscaster on the college radio station (WMFO, 91.5 FM) and also held jobs as a limo driver, and as a career counselor at the Boston Metro Employment Agency. He later becomes a fireman (the gorgeous Marti is his co-worker; Felix Shaw is the fire chief).

Berg’s middle name is Leslie (he tells people it’s not a girl’s name, “it’s European”). He is afraid of moths, cries when he sees the film Bambi and interns at Boston Memorial Hospital (he is later a doctor).

Sharon was born in Brookville (Boston) and in tenth grade was president of the chess club. She is an untidy housekeeper and fears someone will see her grammar school yearbook picture (when she was chubby, wore braces and had a big nose).

Sharon, Berg and Pete frequent Mahoney’s Bar; the series was later titled Two Guys and a Girl. Ashley Walker is a fellow medical student (dating Pete); Johnny Donnelly is the repairman romantically involved with Sharon (they marry in last season episodes); Melissa is Pete’s girlfriend (first season episodes); Mr. Bauer is the eccentric who relates stories about the greatest moments in his life; Susan is Berg’s beautiful mother (who has a fling with Pete).

8662 Two Guys from Muck. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/29/82). Muck is a Los Angeles–based weekly magazine whose policy is not only to inform but to give readers what they want — the dirt. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures of Louie and Buzz (no last names given), photojournalists for Muck who encounter the unexpected while covering stories. In the pilot episode, Louie and Buzz travel to New York City to cover the opening of the Cleopatra Exhibit and become the dupes of a beautiful jewel thief (Miss DeMandt) who steals Cleopatra’s priceless rings. Other Regulars: Mr. Davis, the editor of Muck; and Sybil, the rival reporter (for Beautiful People magazine).

Cast: Alan Arkin (Louie), Rick Casorla (Buzz), Graham Jarvis (Mr. Davis), Gwen Humble (Sybil Sanders). Guest Cast: Jill St. John (Miss DeMandt), Victor Buono (Mr. Big), Larry Storch (Casey Muir), Sid Haig (Thug), Beverly Sanders (Bridie Muir).

8663 2 Hip for TV. (Series; Children; NBC; 1988–1989). The program is aimed primarily at teenagers and presents music and comedy skits that attempt to explore the problems teens face at school, at home and at play. Celebrity interviews are also conducted with teen stars and adults who may have the answers to some of the issues that are raised on each episode.

Hosts: Colin Quinn, Ahmet Zappa. Music Coordinator: Carla Diamond.

8664 Two in Love. (Series; Game; CBS; 1954). Newly married or engaged couples compete in a game wherein they try to build a nest egg. Friends and family of the individual couples appear on stage. Each time a personal question is answered by a friend or relative, that couple receives money that is placed in their nest egg. The couples themselves then compete. Before a question is asked, each couple has to predict the amount of time (in seconds) it will take them to answer the question. The host asks the question and the couple that comes closest to their prediction wins the nest egg. The series ran from June 19, 1954 to September 11, 1954.

Host: Bert Parks.

8665 Two Marriages. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1983–1984). Events in the lives of two suburban Iowa families: Ann and Jim Daley, who are struggling to balance their careers with the responsibility of raising three children (their son Willie; Scott, Ann’s rebellious son from her first marriage; and Kim, Jim’s half–Vietnamese daughter from his first marriage) and their neighbors, Art and Nancy Armstrong, a married couple with a rocky marriage but a strong common love for their children (Shelby and Eric). Other Regulars: Woody, Jim’s father. (Ann is an engineer; Jim, a dairy farmer; Nancy, a homemaker; and Art, a surgeon). Jerry Fuller performs the theme, “Home Here.”

Cast: Karen Carlson (Ann Daley), Tom Mason (Jim Daley), C. Thomas Howell (Scott Thompson), Ian Fried (Willie Daley), Tiffany Toyoshima (Kim Daley), Janet Eilber (Nancy Armstrong), Michael Murphy (Art Armstrong), Louanne Ponce (Shelby Armstrong), Kirk Cameron (Eric Armstrong), John McLiam (Woody Daley).

8666 Two of a Kind. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1998–1999). Mary Kate and Ashley Burke are pretty, identical 12-year-old twins who live at 238 Belmont Avenue in Chicago with their widowed father, Kevin, a science professor at Chicago University.

Ashley and Mary Kate are not only sisters, but “we’re best friends.” Ashley is glamorous and fashion conscious; Mary Kate is a tomboy. Ashley has aspirations to be a model; standing in front of a mirror and acting like a supermodel is her favorite activity (“I’ve been doing it since I could stand”). When Mary Kate is trying to fall asleep at night, Ashley keeps her awake by talking about clothes. When Ashley needs to wear something grubby, she borrows one of Mary Kate’s shirts. At school (unnamed) Ashley has mirrors and makeup in her locker and wishes she had an electrical outlet for her curling iron. She attends dance classes and “going to the mall to spend Dad’s money” cheers her up when she is depressed.

“People think of me as a tomboy, but I’m a girl too and like to do girl things, too,” says Mary Kate when she sees Ashley go “ga ga” over boys. Mary Kate is untidy, likes camping and sports and is slowly becoming interested in the opposite sex. She has a pet pigeon (Harriet) and was chosen over Ashley (for her natural look) for a fashion layout in Real Teen magazine.

Mary Kate is not as smart as Ashley. Every Thursday she and Ashley share a pizza at Pepperoni Joe’s. The girls are in seventh grade, buy their CDs at Mega Records and are in bed by 9 P.M.

Kevin’s late wife, Janice, died when the girls were in the third grade. Kevin frequents the campus eatery, the Coffee Bar, and likes “girls with great legs.” He has a bad habit of denying a problem exists so he doesn’t have to deal with it. Helping Kevin care for the girls is Carrie Moore, a student of Kevin’s who works part time as his nanny. Carrie, 26, has reentered college after dropping out (she was in her second year when she quit to become a blackjack dealer in Las Vegas). Carrie does “girlie stuff with Ashley and the cool stuff with Mary Kate.” When Carrie senses tension between two people she feels she has to remedy the situation. If the twins confide something in Carrie, she keeps it between them and will not tell Kevin.

Cast: Mary Kate Olsen (Mary Kate Burke), Ashley Olsen (Ashley Burke), Christopher Sieber (Kevin Burke), Sally Wheeler (Carrie Moore).

8667 The Two of Us. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/29/66). Chris Williams is a seven-year-old boy who prefers the world of fantasy he has created from his mother’s book illustrations to that of making real friends. The proposed series was to relate Chris’s adventures when he retreats to his imaginary world (seen in animation) and his widowed mother, Elizabeth’s efforts to explain the difference between fantasy and reality to him. In the pilot episode, Elizabeth attempts to prove that her son is not a bad influence when a neighbor (Helen) refuses to let her son (Roger) play with him.

Cast: Patricia Crowley (Elizabeth Williams), Billy Mumy (Chris Williams), Mary Jane Croft (Helen), Barry Livingston (Roger), Russ Brown (Captain Gibson).

8668 The Two of Us. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1981–1982). A brownstone on East 23rd Street in New York City is home to Nanette (“Nan”) Gallagher and her daughter, Gabrielle (“Gabby”) Gallagher. Nan, the co-host of a local television show called Mid-Morning Manhattan, lived previously in Ohio, where she was the host of a morning show called Wake Up, Cleveland. She moved to New York when the opportunity arose to host a major market series, but the move resulted in a divorce (details are not related; Nan mentioned her husband was named Marty and that he divorced her — “And I’ve been losing ground ever since”).

Nan is a Gemini, an art lover and a music buff; she majored in English at Ohio State University. Marty kept her life in order; without him, she is totally lost when it comes to organization. She does a lot of research, and as a result books and papers are scattered all over the house. She and Gabby (who attends Saint Bernadette’s Grammar School) eat whatever they can find, with nutrition being a secondary consideration.

On a suggestion from her agent, Cubby Royce, Nan advertises for a housekeeper. Robert Brentwood, a spit and polish British butler, answers the ad, thinking the English major mentioned in her ad meant he would be working for a British major — not a woman who used the term to refer to her education.

Brentwood is a gentleman’s gentleman and previously worked for the British cultural attaché to the United Nations (he became unemployed when the attaché was killed trying to ride a mechanical bull). Brentwood dislikes Americans, but finds Nan fascinating, despite the fact “that you have a child.” He sees Nan as a challenge: “You’re such a helpless wreck of a woman, that’s why I accept the job.” He also prefers to be called by his surname: “My name is Robert Brentwood, Madam. I am known as Brentwood.” Stories follow his efforts to care for Nan and Gabby. Patrick Williams composed the theme.

"Gabby" Gallagher), Oliver Clark (Cubby Royce), Tim Thomerson (Reggie Cavanaugh), Candice Azzara (Shirley Havelmeyer).

8669 The Two Ronnies. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1978). Offbeat comedy sketches with two men named Ronnie as the hosts and stars. Produced in England.

Host: Ronnie Corbett, Ronald Baker. Regulars: Julia McKenzie, Jane Webb, Joyce Windsor, Chaz Chase, Sue Lloyd, Noel Dyson, Jackie Piper, Carolyn Whittaker, Sid Hyman, The Fred Tomalson Singers.

8670 Two Soldiers. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 10/27/44). A television adaptation of the short story by William Faulkner about the effects the outbreak of World War II has on a simple mountain family living in Tennessee.

Cast: Gertrude Onnen (Maw), Gilbert Ferguson (Paw), Bill Thomas (Older son), Ronnie Liss (Younger son and narrator).

8671 2 Stupid Dogs. (Series; Cartoon; TBS; 1993–1995). The two stupid dogs of the title are Big Dog (an easy-going laid back sheepdog) and Little Dog (an easily excited dachshund). The canines are outcasts and they have a difficult time fitting into society. They are both somewhat dense and stories place them in various situations (from stowaways on a space ship to characters in fairy tales) to show their lack of sense (stupidity) not only manages to get them in trouble, but out of it as well.

Voice Cast: Brad Garrett (Big Dog), Mark Schiff (Little Dog).

8672 Two the Hard Way. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/11/81). Paradise Lost is a fictional daytime soap opera produced in New York City. It is written by Walter Chester and Richard Mallory and the unsold series was to present a behind-the-scenes look at a television serial as seen through Walter and Richard's efforts to write it. In the pilot episode, Chester and Mallory battle over their first assignment as a newly-formed team: either write out the character of Skip Logan whom the executive producer (Augusta) feels is a bore, or face termination of their jobs. Chester, six times married, aging and fearful of losing his job, wants to oblige Augusta; Mallory, young and impressionable, is touched by Rodney West [who plays Skip] and his pleas to save his character, and seeks a way for Rodney to continue playing his role.

Other Regulars: Veronica Moorehead, a soap star (plays Erin Bolton); and Penny, the station receptionist.

Cast: Eugene Roche (Walter Chester), Fred McCarran (Richard Mallory), Mary Jackson (Augusta Sedwell), Lyle Waggoner (Rodney West), Marlyn Mason (Veronica Moorehead), Loyita Chapel (Penny).

8673 2000 Malibu Road. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1992). Two Thousand Malibu Road is the address of a luxurious beachfront house on Malibu Beach in California. It is owned by Jade O'Keefe, a beautiful high-priced call girl. Because of the recession, Jade finds it difficult to meet her monthly rent payments and takes in three roommates: Lindsay Wallace, a gorgeous but unknown actress; Joy Wallace, her plain looking sister and agent; and Perry Quinn, an attractive criminal attorney. Stories follow events in their lives.

Jade can command as much as $4,000 a night. Her real name is Victoria Page Tremont, and she is the daughter of the influential Tremonts of Virginia (who have a net worth of $500 million). Victoria wanted no part of the life her parents had chosen for her (who to marry and how many children to have) and ran away from home when she was 17 years old. Becoming a prostitute was the only way she found to support herself.

Lindsay is an aspiring actress who appears to have little confidence in her abilities. She is busty and accentuates her breasts with low cut blouses (her sister thinks the sexier she is, the better her chances of getting work). While Lindsay is absolutely gorgeous, she believes that "there are thousands of girls who are a lot prettier and a lot bustier than I am." While Lindsay is very sweet and trusting, Joy is deceitful and devious. She has a gift for telling pathetic stories about herself or Lindsay and having people believe her to get what she wants. Joy is also "far out" and believes in psychic powers, tarot cards and Ouija boards. She is very nosy and pries into everyone's business (information she uses to blackmail people into helping Lindsay). Joy calls Lindsay "Honey Bunny" and through blackmail got Lindsay the role of the younger daughter on the DBS network television series The Jessica Rolley Show (Sally Kellerman played Jessica, a neurotic superstar who was taking her first plunge into television). Lindsay works under the professional name of Lindsay Rule.

Perry is a private practice criminal lawyer with a honest compassion for her clients. Other than Perry's late husband being named Mitch (a cop with the South Central Precinct who was killed in the line of duty), no additional information is given. James Newton Howard composed the theme, "2000 Malibu Road."

Cast: Lisa Hartman (Jade O'Keefe), Drew Barrymore (Lindsay Wallace), Tuesday Knight (Joy Wallace), Jennifer Beals (Perry Quinn), Brian Bloom (Eric Adler), Scott Bryce (Scott Sterling), Constance Towers (Camilla Tremont, Victoria's mother), Mitchell Ryan (Porter Tremont, Victoria's stepfather).

8674 227. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1985–1990). Events in the lives of a group of people who live at 227, an apartment building in Washington, D.C.

Mary Jenkins, a housewife, lives in Apartment E with her husband, Lester, an engineer for Stumer and Nathan Construction, and her daughter, Brenda, who attends Wendell Willkie High School. Mary first came to 227 when she was pregnant with Brenda. She worked as a counter girl at the Burger Barge and is president of the Tenants Association. Mary also held a job at the Winslow Travel Agency. Brenda later attends Waverly High School and her first job was burger bagger at Billy Bob's Burger Barge. In later episodes, Alexandria DeWitt, a genius college student comes to lives with the Jenkins.

Sandra Clark, who lives in Apartment J, is a very beautiful woman who is a threat to other men's wives (they "are jealous of my sexy walk, the way I act and the way I flaunt what I have"). Sandra calls her stunning figure, especially her breasts (which she proudly displays in low cut dresses), "her equipment." Her favorite letter of the alphabet is M ("for money, men and me"). She uses her feminine wiles to get men to do what she wants them to do — no matter what they want. Sandra first came to 227 when she was in college; her nickname at the time was "Sparkles." Sandra's jobs include receptionist for the Stumer and Nathan Construction Company, salesclerk at Benson's Department Store, door-to-door salesgirl for Luscious Lingerie, travel agent for Winslow Travel (at the same time as Mary; their boss, Bob Winslow, was played by Garrett Morris). Sandra also had a brief stint as a television weather forecaster on Channel 87.

Rose Holloway was the owner of 227 when the series began (she inherited it from the original owner, Herb Calloway [not seen], who died suddenly and left it to her "because it was his and he liked my apple pies"). Rose first came to 227 during the 1960s.

In last season episodes, Julian Barlow became the new building owner when he bought it from Rose. He is not as rich as he pretends to be and calls 227 the Beverly Barlow Hotel.

Pearl Shay is the elderly busybody tenant. She was one of the first tenants at 227, having moved there when she was a teenager in the early 1940s.

Other Regulars: Eva Rawley, Mary's not too bright friend, works at an art gallery called Gallery Moderne; Travis Fillmore and Dylan McMillan share Apartment L with Pearl's grandson, Calvin. Travis owns the one-car Fillmore Limo Service; Dylan is a public school teacher.

Relatives: Whitman Mayo (Mary's father, Henry Hurley), Beah Richards, (Mary's mother, Carolyn Hurley), Harrison Page (Mary's brother, Louis Hurley), John Hacker (Mary's uncle, Al), Virginia Capers (Mary's aunt, Gwen), Brian Mitchell (Mary's cousin, Ed), Vanessa Bell (Ed's wife, Sherry), Kim Fields (Mary's niece, Donna Denton), George Kirby (Lester's father, Milton Jenkins), Nipsey Russell (Lester's uncle, Edmund), Gary Grubbs (Lester's distant cousin, Chester Jenkins), Brandis Kemp (Lester's distant cousin, Amy Jo Jenkins), Robina Ritchie (Lester's distant cousin, Bonnie Bell Jenkins), Della Reese (Sandra's mother, Rita Clark), Jackee Harry (Sandra's cousin, Conchita Clark), Rick Fitts (Calvin's father), Charlotte Rae (Dylan's mother, Millie McMillan), Reid Shelton (Dylan's father, Buster McMillan), Kia Goodwin (Rose's daughter, Tiffany Holloway). Flashbacks: Stephanie Covington (Pearl as a teenager).

Cast: Marla Gibbs (Mary Jenkins), Hal Williams (Lester Jenkins), Regina King (Brenda Jenkins), Jackee Harry (Sandra Clark), Helen Martin (Pearl Shay), Alaina Reed Hall (Rose Holloway), Paul Winfield (Julian Barlow), Countess Vaughn (Alexandria DeWitt), Curtis Baldwin (Calvin Dobbs), Toukie A. Smith (Eva Rawley), Stoney Jackson (Travis Fillmore), Barry Sobel (Dylan McMillan). Theme Vocal: "There's No Place Like Home" by Marla Gibbs.

8675 Two's Company. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/8/73). A reworking of the pilot The Living End that focuses on the life of Charlie Travis, a running back for the Chicago Cherokees, a professional football team. In the pilot episode, Charlie and his wife Diana seek to uncover the identity of a woman phone caller who keeps asking for "Baby Face."

Cast: John Amos (Charlie Travis), Diana Sands (Diana Travis), Vic Tayback (Bullets; the coach).

8676 The Tycoon. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1964–1965). Walter Andrews is 65 years old and a multi-millionaire. He is also the founder of the Thunder Holding Corporation in Los Angeles. Although at the age of retirement, Walter, who feels he has the stamina of a young man, decides to keep on working — as the C.E.O. of his company. Stories follow the events in Walter's life as he forgoes retiring to run his business. Herbert Wilson is the company's president; Pat Burns is Walter's assistant; Betty Franklin is Walter's secretary; Martha Keane is Walter's granddaughter; Tom Keane is Martha's husband; Louise Wilson is Herbert's wife; and Una Fields is Walter's housekeeper.

Cast: Walter Brennan (Walter Andrews), Jerome Cowan (Herbert Wilson), Van Williams (Pat Burns), Janet Lake (Betty Franklin), Patricia McNulty (Martha Keane), George Lindsey (Tom Keane), Grace Albertson (Louise Wilson), Monty Margretts (Una Fields).

8677 The Tyra Banks Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 2005). A lively (and sometimes controversial) daily series, hosted by super model Tyra Banks that, although geared to women, has broader appeal for its handling of issues that not only affect women, but men and children as well. Tyra is very diverse and when an issue bothers her, she brings it full force to her show to expose it and hopefully offer solutions.

There are also celebrity interviews and shows devoted to glamour and beauty (and anything else that interests Tyra that she feels will be of interest to her audience).

Host: Tyra Banks. Music: Timothy Andrew Edwards, Jason Brandt.

8678 The Tyrees of Capitol Hill. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 4/9/63). A proposed spin-off from The Lloyd Bridges Show that, set in Washington, D.C., was to follow the adventures of Andrew Jackson Tyree and his son, Boford, as Senate page boys. The pilot episode relates how the Tyrees, residents of Zactly, North Carolina, are summoned to Washington to become Capitol Hill page boys.

Cast: Edgar Buchanan (Andrew Jackson Tyree), Phil Alford (Boford Tyree), Lloyd Bridges (Senator Guthrie), Reta Shaw (Mrs. Ardmore), Ed Peck (Paul Martin), Dub Taylor (Lev), June Dayton (Fran Harrison), Hank Patterson (Dexter), John Leman (Carl), Kevin Jones (Craig), Phill Phillips (Dixon).

8679 U.C.: Undercover. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 2001). “To catch a criminal you have to become one” says John Keller, the leader of the Special Operations Group, an elite undercover unit of the Justice Department. John and his team use all the current technology that is available from satellite tracking to miniature cameras. The team creates elaborate hoaxes to get criminals by becoming one of them.

Stories follow the team’s assignments as they seek criminals wanted by the government.

They act on the following phases: Surveillance, recruitment, infiltration and track down.

Frank Donovan directs the unit; Monica Davis is the team’s psychological profiler; Cody is the surveillance head (a computer specialist); and Jake Shaw, Alex Cross, Carlos Cortez, Sonny Walker and Vanessa round out the team.

Alex was a former cop who puts everything at a distance; Carlos was busted by Alex and served time at Terminal Island Federal Prison; Jake is 31. He was born in Troy, New York. His mother gave him up for adoption. He was raised in foster homes and grew up as a tough kid. He has an attitude problem and takes things personally.

Cast: Grant Show (John Keller), Bruklin Harris (Monica Davis), Vera Farmiga (Alex Cross), Jon Seda (Jake Shaw), Jarrod Paul (Cody), Oded Fehr (Frank Donovan), William Forsythe (Jack “Sunny” Walker), Gabriella Miller (Vanessa), Steven Bauer (Carlos Cortez).

8680 U.F.O. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1972–1973). In 1980 the world has progressed greatly since the landing on the moon in 1969. It is also a time of great danger from the unknown — a menace from outer space called U.F.O. (unidentified flying object).

To deal with the problem of U.F.O.s, world governments unite, and a multibillion dollar, highly organized defense organization called SHADO (Supreme Headquarters Alien Defense Organization) is established and guarded under a veil of deep secrecy (a worldwide panic is feared if it were known that Earth is battling aliens).

A bona fide feature film studio called Harlington-Straker is established in England as a front for SHADO control (which is housed beneath it). A base is established on the moon, and the most advanced weapons and equipment become part of SHADO’s defense force.

Who are they? Where do they come from? And what do they want? SHADO operatives seek answers to these questions as they strive to protect the Earth from the unknown.

Edward Straker is the commander of SHADO. He was an air force colonel for ten years, possesses a degree in astrophysics and studied lunar science for two years at MIT. He is assisted by Colonel Alec Freeman and Colonel Paul Foster (a pilot for eight years, a test pilot for two years; he tested the Ventura XV104 before joining SHADO).

“The most glamorous girls to be seen on television screens” are part of Moon Base. Lieutenant Gay Ellis is the commander of Moon Base. She is assisted by lieutenants Nina Barry and Joan Harrington. Together they operate as one team of Space Trackers. Like all the women of Moon Base, they have purple hair, and wear sexy one-piece silver uniforms. Leisure clothes for these well-endowed girls (seemingly a requirement) are bosom-revealing short dresses (usually metallic blue).

S.I.D. (Space Intruder Detector) is a satellite that constantly maintains a scan for U.F.O.s (it can detect U.F.O.s 32 million miles from Moon Base).

While it is not specifically stated, all the U.F.O.s apparently come from the same unknown planet. In one episode, it was said that the aliens are seeking humans for experimentation and body parts. Since they appear in human form, SHADO has concluded that human parts are being used in alien bodies.

The series features a very large cast (mostly unnamed pilots, navigators and other SHADO personnel).

Other Key Roles: Miss Eland, Edward’s secretary; Colonel Virginia Lake; Captain Peter Karlen; General James Henderson; and pilots Lew Waterman and Mark Bradley.

Relatives: Suzanne Neve (Ed’s ex-wife, Mary Rutland), Barnaby Shaw (Ed’s son, John Rutland).

Cast: Ed Bishop (Edward Straker), George Sewell (Alec Freeman), Michael Billington (Paul Foster), Gabrielle Drake (Gay Ellis), Dolores Montez (Nina Barry), Antoni Ellis (Joan Harrington), Wanda Ventham (Col. Virginia Lake), Peter Gorden (Capt. Peter Karlin), Norma Roland (Miss Eland; Ed’s sec- retary), Lois Maxwell (Miss Holland; Ed's secretary; later), Valdek Sheybol (Dr. Douglas Jackson), Keith Alexander (Lt. Keith Ford), Grant Taylor (Gen. James Henderson), Louise Pajd (Miss Scott; Henderson's secretary), Garry Myers (Pilot Lew Waterman), Harry Baird (Pilot Mark Bradley), Patrick Allen (Radio Operator Turner), Georgina Moon (Skydiver Operator), Jeremy Wilkins (Skydiver Operator), David Warbeck (Skydiver Operator), John Kelly (Skydiver Operator), Andrea Allan (Moonbase Operator), Hugh Armstrong (Mobile Officer), Penny Spencer (SHADO Operative), Ayshea (SHADO Operative), Michael Ferrand (Radar Technician). Theme: "U.F.O." by Barry Gray.

8681 The Ugly Family. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/26/80). When Sal Ugily (pronounced U-giel-ie), a Global Can Company employee, receives a promotion, he and his family move from New Jersey to California to begin new lives. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to adjust to new surroundings. In the pilot episode, the Ugilys, who are not overly attractive, struggle to cope with their first exposure to the "beautiful people" of southern California and the inferiority complexes the situation causes. Other Regulars: Verna, Sal's wife; Susan and Bradley, Sal's children; Tillie, Verna's mother; Kenny, their neighbor; Babs, Kenny's wife; Bambi, Kenny's daughter; and Jeffrey, Bradley's friend.

Cast: Al Molinaro (Sal Ugily), Mimi Hines (Verna Ugily), Susan Elliot (Susan Ugily), Stephen Myers (Bradley Ugily), Bella Bruck (Tillie Brock), Lyle Waggoner (Kenny Bing), Elaine Joyce (Babs Bing), Lory Walsh (Bambi Bing), Bumper Yothers (Jeffrey), Patti Gilbert (Photographer; guest role).

8682 The Ugliest Girl in Town. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1968–1969). "Who owns that fabulous face ... whose clothes are setting the pace ... the Ugliest Girl in Town...." Heartbroken after actress Julie Renfield returns to London, Hollywood talent scout Tim Blair is persuaded by his photographer brother, Gene, to pose as a girl for some hippie pictures. The photographs, which manage to find their way to a London ad agency, impress its head (Mr. Courtney), who commissions Gene to shoot a layout using the girl who, unknown to him, is a man. When Tim discovers that he now has a way to be with Julie, he retains the disguise and adopts the secret alias of Timmie Blair. Stories relate Tim's attempts to live a dual life — modeling as Timmie by day; and dating his starlet, Julie by night as Tim.

8683 Ugly Betty. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2006–). Betty Suarez, the Betty of the title, is not really ugly. She is not beautiful, but she appears to do little to make herself attractive. She is a bit overweight and her most noticeable distracting feature are the large silver braces on her teeth (her dentist apparently never heard of the clear plastic "invisi-braces"); her eyeglasses are also a poor choice as they distract from her good looks. Betty is also a bit clumsy, but a very determined young woman.

Betty was born in Queens, New York and is a recent graduate of Queens College. She lives with her widowed father, Ignacio, her older sister, Hilda, and her young nephew, Justin. Betty is sharp, optimistic and prepared — but life is not always fair to her.

She applies for a job at Meade Publications hoping to get a position on one of their magazines (Betty claims magazines are her life and she knows a lot about them). Her looks do not impress Daniel Meade, the editor of a fashion magazine (Mode) but they do impress Daniel's father, Bradford, who hires her as Daniel's assistant, to keep his playboy son from sleeping with his assistants (something Betty later discovers, but retains the job anyway). While Betty does nestle into her job and proves to be a valued employee to Daniel, she also becomes involved in Daniel's fight to stop Wilhelmina Slater, a stunning woman who seeks to become the editor of Mode. Stories follow Betty's life at home and at work. The series is based on the Colombian telenovela "Yo Soy Betty, La Fea" ("I'm Betty, the Ugly One").

Cast: America Ferrera (Betty Suarez), Eric Mabius (Daniel Meade), Tony Plana (Ignacio Suarez), Ana Ortiz (Hilda Suarez), Mark Indelicato (Justin Suarez), Alan Dale (Bradford Meade), Ashley Jensen (Christina), Becki Newton (Amanda), Vanessa Williams (Wilhelmina Slater), Michael Urie (Marc St. James), Elizabeth Payne (The Masked Woman), Kevin Sussman (Walter), Stelio Savante (Steve), Salma Hayek (Sofia Reyes), Ava Gaudet (Gina Gambarro), Judith Light (Claire Meade), Debi Mazar (Leah Feldman), Rhys Coiro (Vincent Bianchi), Rebecca Romijn (Alexis, the transsexual).

8684 Ukulele Ike. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950). Music and songs with musician Cliff Edwards, better known as Ukulele Ike. Barry Wood is the producer.

Host: Cliff Edwards. Vocalist: Beverly Fite. Music: The Slim Jackson Quartet.

8685 The Ultimate Challenge. (Series; Reality; Fox; 1991). The program spotlights world famous stunt professionals, adventurers, athletes, daredevils and thrill seekers as they perform, or attempt feats, for the viewing audience.

Host: Heather Thomas, Mike Adamle.

8686 The Ultimate Imposter. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 5/12/80). When Frank Monihan, an American secret agent, is captured by the enemy, he is treated with a chemical that erases ninety percent of his memory. When he is returned to the U.S., Dr. Jake McKeever implants an experimental Alpha computer in Frank's brain to recreate his mind and memory. The unsold series was to relate Frank's assignments — aided by a computer-brain-link-up that can last up to 72 hours at a time. In the pilot episode, Frank is assigned to rescue a Russian submarine commander who wants to defect but is being held by an agent from an unfriendly nation. Other Regulars: Beatrice "Bucky" Tate, Frank's girlfriend, an agent also; and Eugene, their supervisor.

Cast: Joseph Hacker (Frank Monihan), Erin Gray (Beatrice "Bucky" Tate), Keith Andes (Eugene Danzinger), Macon McCasman (Dr. Jake McKeever).

Guest Cast: Tracy Brooks Swope (Danielle Parets), Rosalind Chao (Chinese girl), Normann Burton (Rubin Papich), Robert Phillips (Cottle), W.T. Zacha (Weeks), Bobby Riggs (Himself), Thomas Berlin (Joe Mason).

8687 Ultimate Muscle: The Kinnikuman Legacy. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2002). Wrestlers, battling each other is the premise of Ultimate Muscle. Here, the hero is Mantaro Kinnikuman, alias Kid Muscle (the son of the legendary Suguru Kinnikuman, known as King Muscle in the ring). With the power of Ultimate Muscle (his family legacy) and the help of his trainer, Meat, Kid Muscle battles an enemy known as the Ultimate Evils, who seek to impose their rule over mankind.

8688 Ultimate Revenge. (Unaired Pilot; Reality; Produced in 1992). Real individuals are featured in a comical reality show that gives people a chance to get even with unsuspecting pranksters via humorous but harmless practical jokes.

Host: Marc Summers.

8689 Ultra Quiz. (Pilot; Game; NBC; 11/10/78, 11/17/78). Nine Hundred and thirty-two contestants compete in the most elaborate and expensive game show to be produced for American television. The game begins in Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles, where several events are held to eliminate a majority of the players and establish 84 winners. These players then compete in a series of contests conducted in various cities around the world. The winners in each city continue on to their next destination; the losers, who receive no prizes, are literally left on their own to get back home. The game continues until two contestants, the Ultra Finalists, are chosen. These players return to the U.S. and compete on live television in a final competition for the grand prize of $100,000. Contestant Craig Powers became the Ultra Quiz champion.

Hosts: Dick Martin, Dan Rowan. Co-Hosts: Jayne Kennedy, Richard Simmons.

8690 Ultraman. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1967). Two unidentified flying objects are approaching Earth and collide. One veers off course and crashes into a lake in Japan. The other strikes a Scientific Patrol Headquarters exploratory ship and kills its pilot, Hayata. A mysterious being from Nebula M-78 in the fortieth galaxy, emerges from the grounded alien craft. Guilt ridden for having taken a human life, the alien restores Hayata's life by giving him a special capsule that enables him and Hayata to become one. In times of emergency Hayata can become Ultraman, a 400-foot tall, indestructible crusader, to battle the dangerous and monstrous phenomena that are suddenly appearing on Earth.

Hayata is a member of the futuristic Scientific Patrol, an organization that safeguards the Earth from alien invaders. Stories follow Hayata as he encompasses his incredible abilities to battle creatures that only seek to destroy the planet. The series is produced in Japan and dubbed into English. Only the original Japanese cast appears on the screen.

Cast: Susumu Kurobe (Hayata), Bin Furuya (Ultraman), Sandayuu Dokumamamushi (Arashi), Masanari Nihei (Ide), Akiji Kobayashi (Captain Muramatsu), Hiroko Sakurai (Akiko Fuji), Akihiko Hirata (Dr. Iwamoto).

8691 Ultraman. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1979). In a galaxy millions of light years away, the rulers of the star Ultra dispense one of their men to help the Earth battle the space monsters that are beginning to appear at frequent intervals. Because of his strange, robot-like appearance and height, it is decided to implant the vast energy of the robot (Ultraman) into the body of Matt Gordon, a young Earth-based space Force trooper. In times of danger, Matt can call on amazing Ultra Powers and transform himself into the 400-foot-tall Ultra yet still be capable of keeping his identity a secret from his fellow troopers.

Matt is a member of the Earth Defense Force. By absorbing energy from the sun, Matt transforms himself into Ultraman and acquires his powers (incredible strength, the ability to fly and the ability to discharge energy bolts as a weapon). The series is produced in Japan and dubbed in English.

Voices: Peter Fernandez, Corinne Orr, Earl Hammond, Peggy Lobbin, William Kiehl.

8692 Ultraman. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1992). The Universal Multi Purpose Agency (UMA) is an Earth-based organization that investigates extraterrestrial matters. It has also begun an exploration of other planets. During an exploration of Mars, two UMA astronauts encounter an alien creature that is threatening to kill them. Suddenly, a humanoid being called a Vigor comes to their rescue. In the ensuing battle one of the astronauts is killed. The other astronaut, Jack Shindo, is injured. Vigor approaches Jack and uses the power contained in a crystal he wears to not only heal him, but to become part of him. Vigor, a creature 400 feet tall, then takes Jack back to Earth. Jack learns that a Martian virus called Gudas Cells have entered the Earth's atmosphere and have the ability to infect small or microscopic life forms and transform them into hideous and gigantic monsters. To battle these creatures, Jack calls on his secret alias by activating the crystal (the Delta Plasma Pendant) he wears around his neck on a chain. Jack is his normal height when he is himself. When he becomes his other self (whom he calls Ultraman) he grows to the height of a 20-story building but can only maintain his new image for a period of three minutes each seven hours. The pollution in the Earth's atmosphere destroys the energy cells he derives from the sun. As Ultraman, the warning light on Ultraman's chest blinks when his three minutes are nearly up (giving Ultraman the needed time to disappear from sight so he can revert back to Jack without arousing suspicions).

Ultraman, called "The Savior from the Stars," has the ability to fly, ultimate strength and the ability to discharge bolts from his hands. Arthur Grant is the head of UMA; Jean Echo, Kim Shoamin and Charles Morgan are members of UMA. The series is also known as Ultraman: Towards the Future.

Cast: Dore Kraus (Jack Shindo), Ralph Cotterill (Arthur Grant), Gia Carrides (Jean Echo), Grace Park (Kim Shoamin), Lloyd Morris (Charles Morgan), Steve Apps (Ultraman), Robert Simper (Ultraman), Mike Read (Various monsters), Johnny Holliday (Various monsters), John Bonney (Narrator).

8693 Ultraman Tiga. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 2002–2003). It is the year 2049 and the Earth is facing attacks from alien creatures bent on destroying the planet. Battling them is GUTS (Global Unlimited Task Squad). But GUTS cannot win the battle alone.

Concealed in the Sacred Pyramid of Light in a land called Tiga on a distant planet is a 400-foot warlord called Ultraman. During a battle in outer space, Daigo, a GUTS fighter pilot, crashes on the planet and is saved by the Tiga aliens when they fuse his life force with that of Ultraman. The aliens tell Daigo that he has been chosen to save the Earth with the abilities of Ultraman. He is given the Torch of Tiga, which enables him to retain his human form but transform into Ultraman Tiga when the need arises. Stories relate Daigo's battle (as the mysterious Ultraman Tiga) against the deadly creatures that invade the Earth. Produced in Japan and dubbed in English.

Cast: Hiroshi Nagano (Daigo Madoka), Mio Takaki (Captain Megumi Iruma), Akitoshi Ohtaki (Captain Seiichi Munakata), Yukio Masuda (Masami Horii), Skigeki Kagemaru (Tetsuo Shinjou), Yoichi Furuya (Jun Yazumi), Takami Yoshimoto (Rena Yanase), Noji Nakamura (Ultraman Tiga), Syunsuke (Ultraman Tiga), Yuji Machi (Voice of Ultraman Tiga).

8694 Ulysses 31. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). Homer's Odyssey is the inspiration for a series about the adventures of a futuristic Ulysses as he battles evil throughout the universe in the 31st century. Produced in Japan and dubbed in English.

Voice Cast: Matt Berman (Ulysses), Anick Faris (Yumi), Adrian Knight (Telemachus), Sylvie Moreau (Shyrka), Howard Ryshpan (Nono), Jean Topart (Zeus).

8695 U.M.C. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 4/17/69). The pilot film for Medical Center about Joseph Gannon, a dedicated doctor at the University Medical Center (U.M.C.) in California. In the pilot episode, Gannon is slapped with a malpractice suit by the wife of a doctor on whom he performed a heart transplant. Also known as Operation Heartbeat.

Cast: Richard Bradford (Dr. Joseph Gannon), James Daly (Dr. Paul Lochner), Audrey Totter (Nurse Eve Wilcox). Guest Cast: Edward G. Robinson (Dr. Lee Forestman), Kim Stanley (Joanna Hanson), Maurice Evans (Dr. George Berger), Kevin McCarthy (Clifford Coswell), J.D. Cannon (Thomas Jaris), William Windom (Raymond Hanson), Shelley Fabares (Michele Carter), Angela Cartwright (Angela). Note: In the series, Chad Everett played Dr. Joseph Gannon.

8696 Unacceptable Behavior. (Series; Comedy; Cable Syn.; 2006). A series of skits that satirize various aspects of pop culture.

Cast: Tina Kim, Susan Flynn, Ricky Garay, Joaquin Garay III, Jose Sonera, Charles Sanchez.

8697 Unanimous. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2006). Nine total strangers are brought together and locked in a large bunker. As each gets to know the other, they must come to a unanimous decision as to which one of them is worthy of receiving $1.5 million that the show is offering. The catch: the longer it takes to reach that decision, the lower the prize money becomes. Cameras follow the confrontations as the group dwindles itself down.

Host: J.D. Roth.

8698 Unclaimed Fortunes. (Pilot; Reality; ABC; 5/11/89). A proposed series that was to use dramatizations to report on the billions of dollars in unclaimed properties and money that is owned by people who are unaware that they have such fortunes. Mel Stuart and David Yarnell are the producers.

Host: Darren McGavin.

8699 The Uncle Al Show. (Series; Children; ABC; 1958–1959). Music, songs, adventure stories and puppet skits geared to children.

Cast: Al Lewis (Uncle Al, the Host), Janet Green (Cinderella), Wanda Lewis (Captain Windy), Larry Smith (Puppeteer-Voices).

8700 Uncle Buck. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990–1991). Five months after the death of his brother (Bobby) and his sister-in-law (Margaret), Buck Russell, an insensitive, uncouth and ill-mannered man, becomes the guardian of his brother's three children, Tia, Maizy and Miles. Stories relate Buck's efforts to raise the Russell children despite his total lack of preparedness.

Buck tends to solve family problems by accident. His hangout is Rafe's Place ("Pool, Food, Friendship"), and he is a Chicago Cubs fan. As a kid Buck would cut classes to learn the art of the con from Pete O'Halahan (Art Carney), who hung out at the local drugstore and taught Buck how to work scams, from three-card monte to handicapping.

Tia, the eldest child (age 16) has a fake I.D. (saying she is 21), likes to date older guys and dresses "too damn sexy" to suit Buck. The boy-crazy Tia receives a weekly allowance of ten dollars and attends Monroe High School. She wants to become a model and held her first job as a salesgirl at the French Collection, a boutique in the mall. Tia feels she has every technical skill to be a model right now: "I can walk and wear lip gloss at the same time." Her best friend is Lucy.

Maizy, who is seven years old, is a very pretty and adorable girl with a smart mouth. She attends the Livingston Avenue Grammar School and receives an allowance of 50 or 60 cents a week (Buck isn't quite sure). She was first a Blue Bell, then a Tulip in the Girl Scouts (Tia was a Blue Bell also), and she calls her brother, Miles, a "wuss" (because of a birthmark on her behind, Miles calls Maizy "Freckle Butt"). Maizy is on the girls' basketball team, the Pigtales and wants to be a doctor when she grows up because she cares about people. Tia calls Maizy "Sprout"; Buck calls Maizy "Maze."

Miles, ten years old, attends the same school as Maizy and receives an allowance of one dollar a week (again, Buck is not sure, "but it is easier to give the kid a buck and shut him up"). He is a smart aleck and always in trouble. His ambition is to become manager of the Chicago Cubs when he grows up.

Other Regulars: Margaret Hogoboom is the children's grandmother and lived in Southbrook, Indiana, before her house burned down; Darlene is Maizy's friend and stays with her a lot "because the longer I'm out of the house, the better chance my mother has of getting through tomorrow;" Bruno "Shank" Shankowski is Buck's uncouth friend; he works in a slaughterhouse. Based on the motion picture of the same title. Theme: "Uncle Buck," vocal by Ronnie Milsap.

Cast: Kevin Meaney (Buck Russell), Dah-ve Chodan (Tia Russell), Sarah Martineck (Maizy Russell), Jacob Gelman (Miles Russell), Rachel Jacobs (Lucy), Audrey Meadows (Margaret Hogoboom), Laurel (Diskin (Darlene)), Dennis Cockrum (Bruno).

8701 Uncle Croc's Block. (Series; Children; ABC; 1975–1976). A spoof of children's television programs. The antics of Uncle Croc, the crocodile-costumed host of Uncle Croc's Block, a kids' show he detests doing. Live-action segments are coupled with short cartoons.

Basil Bitterbottom is the director; Rabbit Ears is Croc's assistant; Steve Exhaustion is "The $6.95 Man" (a take-off on The Six Million Dollar Man); and Captain Klangaroo and Mr. Mean Jeans (a take-off on Captain Kangaroo and his assistant, Mr. Green Jeans).

Cast: Charles Nelson Reilly (Uncle Croc), Jonathan Harris (Basil Bitterbottom), Johnny Silver (Rabbit Ears), Alfie Wise (Rabbit Ears; later), Robert Ridgely (Steve Exhaustion), Huntz Hall (Mr. Mean Jeans), Robert Ridgely (Captain Klangaroo). Theme Music: "Uncle Croc's Block" by Floyd Huddleston.

8702 The Uncle Floyd Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1982). A program of music, songs and outlandish comedy skits. The series began as a local program over WBBT-TV (Channel 68) in New Jersey in 1974 before becoming a cult favorite in syndication. Comedian Floyd Vivino and his puppet, the mischievous Oogie host the daily activities.

8703 Uncle Jim's Question Bee. (Experimental; Quiz; NBC; 7/1/41). A one time only television version of the radio series that also became the first television quiz show to be sponsored (by the Lever Brothers product Spry). The format has two contestants attempting to answer questions asked of them by the host (Uncle Jim) in return for prizes. The two guests announced for the program, Lionel Stander and Gloria Stuart, did not appear; radio emcee Allen Prescott was brought on at the last second to replace them. The commercial segment found the cast gathered around Aunt Jenny's table where she had a chocolate cake made with Spry (shortening grease). Aunt Jenny, the sponsor's cook representative, cut the cake and the guests nibbled on their respective slices.

Host (Uncle Jim): Bill Slater. Aunt Jenny: Edith Spencer. Announcer: Dan Seymour. Guest: Allen Prescott.

8704 Uncle Johnny Coons. (Series; Children; CBS; NBC; 1954–1956). A program of sketches, stories and silent theatrical films that relate good habits to children with ventriloquist Johnny Coons and his dummy George. The series ran on CBS from September 4, 1954 to December 3, 1955 and on NBC from March 3, 1956 to December 1, 1956. Bruce Roberts did the announcing.

8705 Uncle Mistletoe and His Adventures. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1952). The lives of the magic little people (puppets) who live on Candy Cane Lane, a magic street in Wonderland, where dreams come true. The series is also known as The Adventures of Uncle Mistletoe.

Hosts: Jennifer Holt, Doris Larson, Elmira Roessler, Johnny Coons. Puppeteer: Pat Percy, Helen York. Regulators: Skeets Morton, Sam Singer.

8706 Undeclared. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2001–2002). The freedom and responsibilities faced by a group of college freshmen is the focal point of Undeclared.

Steven Karp is the principal focus of the series, an 18-year-old slacker who sees college as a place to reinvent himself after an amazing summer where he grew several inches and gained more self-confidence (he was previously a nerd). Lloyd Haythe is Steven's British roommate, a theater major who is also a "sophisticated" ladies' man. Also featured on the fourth floor dorm are Marshall Nesbitt, a music major; Lizzie Exley and her roommate, the panic attack ridden Rachel Lindquist; Ron, a business major; and Tina Ellroy.

Cast: Jay Baruchel (Steven Karp), Carla Gallo (Lizzie Exley), Monica Keena (Rachel Lindquist), Charlie Hunnam (Lloyd Haythe), Timm Sharp (Marshall Nesbitt), Christina Payano (Tina Ellroy), Seth Rogen (Ron Garner), Loudon Wainwright (Hal Karp; Steve's father).

8707 Under Fire. (Pilot; Reality; ABC; 5/21/89). Re-enactments of real life stories. In the pilot presentation:

1. Mississippi Burning Summer. The story of civil rights activist Sue Brown and her role in the Mississippi Freedom Summer of 1964. Cast: Shari Belafonte (Sue Brown), Herb Eley (Mr. Young), Ed L. Grady (Church spokesman), Eddie King (David Gelfano), Ginny Randall (Macie Brown).

2. High Water Tragedy. A dramatization of the devastating Guadalupe River flood. Cast: David Bauer (Chip Asberry), James Black (Crew chief), Chris Douridas (Jeff), Jimmy Pickens (Teen boy), Patricia Zehentmayr (Teen girl).

Cast: Ross Harris (Spencer Winger), Mimi Kennedy (Doris Winger), Amy Locane (Andrea Winger), Harold Gould (Ben Sprague), Frances Sternhagen (Millie Sprague), Grant Heslov (Wayne Westin), Dean Cameron (Bailey), Richard Sanders (Benjamin Beanly).

8709 Under Suspicion. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1994–1995). Rose Phillips, called Phil, is a detective with the Central Division of the Portland, Oregon, Police Department. She has been assigned as the Women's Coordinator for the department. Rose suddenly becomes the only "guy" in an all-male squad room (Chief Jack DeSort's plan was for Rose to be in charge of all females in the police department and serve as a role model for rookies). While the resentment among the male troops is part of the series, the principal focus is on the homicide investigations undertaken by the team.

Cast: Karen Sillas (Det. Rose Phillips), Philip Casnoff (Det. James Vitelli), Seymour Cassel (Lt. Mickey Schwartz), Ray Baker (Chief Jack DeSort), Paul McCrane (Det. Patrick Clarke), Michael Beach (Det. Desmond Beck), Anthony DeSno (Det. Costa "Doc" Papadakis), Richard Forongy (Det. Lou Borbini).

8710 Under the Umbrella Tree. (Series; Children; Disney; 1993). Children are taught different lessons and aspects about life through the hosting of a young woman (Holly) and her puppet friends (Iggy Iguana, Gloria Gopher and Jacob Blujay).

Cast: Holly Larocque (Holly Higgins), Noreen Young (Gloria Gopher), Bob Stuart (Iggy Iguana), Stephen Brathwaite (Jacob Bluejay).

8711 Under the Yum Yum Tree. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/2/69). Shortly after an unemployed writer (Charlie Procter) inherits an apartment building for singles in Los Angeles, he suddenly finds a wealth of story material when he begins observing them. The unsold series, based on the feature film of the same title, was to relate incidents in the lives of the people living in the apartment house as seen through Charlie's eyes. In the pilot episode, Charlie tells the story of Jennifer Hunnicutt, a girl who backs out of her wedding at the last minute when she realizes she does not love the man she is about to marry. Thelma is Charlie's manager.

Cast: Jack Sheldon (Charlie Procter), Nita Talbot (Thelma). Guest Cast: Leigh Taylor-Young (Jennifer Hunnicutt), Ryan O'Neal (Mike), Harold Gould (Mr. Hunnicutt).

8712 Undercover. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1991). The Company was the original title for a series about agents attached to the N.I.A. (National Intelligence Agency) of the U.S. Government. The N.I.A.'s concerns are truth, detail and the why of a case (the reason behind an agent's decision to take a case); an agent's concerns are the money, glamour and temptations associated with a case.

Kate and Dylan Del'Amico are the principal agents. They are married and the parents of Megan, Emily and Marlon. They live in suburban Maryland.

Kate, the only child of Edmond and Margaret Singleton, was born in Europe in 1955. She attended the Concord Boarding School in Boston and later became the first woman operative of the C.I.A. Her skills are risk management, damage control, interrogation, role playing and master recruiting. Kate can also speak Chinese and Russian. Her Achilles' heel is Dylan, whom she married in 1980. In 1982 Kate quit the agency to raise her natural children, Emily and Marlon, and her stepdaughter, Megan. She returned to active duty in 1990.

Dylan was 20 years old when he joined the N.I.A. in 1975. He values loyalty and does things his own way. He drinks brandy, and his cover is that of a security consultant for a company called Langley (Kate's cover is that she works for the State Department). Dylan was raised in the Bronx, attended Fordham University and had a job as an insurance agent. When he saw the inscription on the Lincoln Memorial, he believed the words and wanted to make a difference; he then joined the N.I.A. (his father was a street cop in New York City).

For Kate and Dylan, the most distressing part of their jobs is having to lie to their children about their true occupations. Megan is 16 years old and full of resentment and angry that her father is continually absent from her life. She also harbors resentment for Kate, whom she blames for taking Dylan away from her natural mother, Molly (Mariangela Pino). Emily is nine years old and loves to play soccer; seven-year-old Marlon is shy and a member of a Little League baseball team called the Dodgers.

Flynn is an agent who has no first name (his file lists "NFN" — No First Name Flynn). He is a womanizer, and the N.I.A. is his family. Flynn is a killer and understands the world in European style. He has been with the N.I.A. for 20 years and sees things that others do not; he is a weapons man and his cover is that of Chameleon (always changing roles).

Stuart Merriman is the chief of the task force agents. He is married, a good father to his kids, an excellent chess player and a master manipulator. He has a hardened sense of reality, and nothing escapes his notice.

Alex is a beautiful N.R. (New Recruit). She is young, just out of college, athletic, smart and intelligent. She expects to be on the fast track and will do anything it takes to win the game. Alexandria understands her sexual attractiveness and will do nothing to discourage it. Theme: "Undercover," by Cameron Allen.

Cast: Linda Purl (Kate Del'Amico), Anthony John Denison (Dylan Del'Amico), John Rhys-Davies (Flynn), Kasi Lemmons (Alex), Josef Sommer (Stuart Merriman), Marnette Patterson (Emily Del'Amico), Arlene Taylor (Megan Del'Amico), Adam Ryan (Marlon Del'Amico).

8713 Undercurrent. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1955). Rebroadcasts of episodes that were originally telecast on The Web. See this title for information. The summer series ran from July 1, 1955 to September 23, 1955.

8714 Underdog. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; CBS; 1964–1973). The overall title for three animated segments. Also known as The Underdog Show; it ran on NBC from October 3, 1964 to September 3, 1966; on CBS from September 10, 1966 to September 2, 1967; and on NBC from September 7, 1968 to September 1, 1973.

1. Underdog. Shoeshine Boy appears to be a humble dog who minds his own business. However, when the need arises and someone is in trouble, he transforms himself into Underdog, a daring crusader for justice. Sweet Polly Purebred is the newspaper reporter always in harms way.

2. The Hunter. The story of the Hunter, a bloodhound, and his efforts to apprehend a notorious criminal known as the Fox.

3. The Go Go Gophers. The efforts of two Old West gophers, Ruffled Feathers and Running Bored, to capture a U.S. Cavalry fort run by Kit Coyote and his aide, the Sergeant.

Voice Cast: Wally Cox (Underdog/Shoeshine Boy), Norma MacMillan (Sweet Polly Purebred), Kenny Delmar (The Hunter), Ben Stone (The Fox), Kenny Delmar (Kit Coyote), Sandy Becker (Sergeant), George Irving (Running Bored), Sandy Becker (Ruffled Feathers).

8715 The Underground. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; 2006). A sketch comedy series similar to In Living Color, Mad TV and Saturday Night Live that spoofs current issues, TV shows, movies and celebrities.

Regulars: Damon Wayans, Gabrielle Dennis, Vincent Oshana, Shannon Marie Codner, Will Bowles, Josh Flaum, Aries Spears, Mikey Day, Aaron Krebs, Milauna Jemai, Iva La'Shawn, Jessica Makinson, Edi Patterson, Sujata Ray, Damon Wayans, Jr.

8716 Undressed. (Series; Drama; MTV; 1999–2002). Serial-like stories that, although aimed at teenagers, are, at times, adult in nature (sexually oriented). The series itself follows events in the lives of a several groups of people (including gays) and their relationship problems.

Cast: Bree Turner (Tina), Sarah Lancaster (Liz), Eddie Ebell (Jamie), Kasey Stevens (Lola), Amy Stewart (Helen), Liza St. John (Yolanda), J.J. Stocker (Harry), Carolyn Stotes (Dawn), Geoff Stults (Dale), Melinda Sward (Maureen), Beth Ann Warren (Fiona), Justin Wade (Donovan), Cerina Vincent (Kitty), Carrie Szlasa (Sara), Brandon Tapp (Seth), Chloe Taylor (Carla), Hope Taylor (“Double D” Denise), Andie Tecec (Lucinda), Darlena Tejeiro (Sisca), Connie Teng (Jeannie), Jennifer Tisdale (Betsy), Linda Tomassone (Beth), Scott Torrance (Emory), Nicole Tubiola (Jen), Ashlee Turner (Sabrina), Brett Watson (Chris), Travis Wester (Burke), Jason Widener (Frank), Mary Wilcher (Marguerite), Lauren Woodland (Anika), Adam Wylie (Owen), Ashley Yegan (Ashley), Samson Yi (Cal), Kellner Young (Karri), Michael Yarmush (Nug).

8717 The Unexpected. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1952). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are trapped in unexpected situations.

Host-Narrator: Herbert Marshall. Performers Include: Bonita Granville, Raymond Burr, Veda Ann Borg, Ann Tyrrell, Billy Halop, Jane Nigh, Marjorie Reynolds, Jeanne Cagney, Paula Drew, Martha Vickers, Gale Storm, Marie Windsor, Paula Raymond, Alan Mowbray, Lois Collier, Katherine Locke.

8718 The Unexplained. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 7/10/56). The pilot episode for a series of chilling fantasy stories. The pilot tells the story of a merry-go-round in a deserted carnival whose forward motion advances age, while its backward revolutions decrease age. The tale itself is of a disreputable man who uses the carousel to become a boy and commit a robbery — and what happens when he is pursued by two other boys who accidentally break the carousel mechanism and jam it into the forward position (when it finally does stop, the boy is revealed to be a withered ancient). Filmed in 1954 and based on the story by Ray Bradbury.

Cast: Peter Votrian (First boy), Barry Froner (Second boy), Whitey Hautt (Pursued boy), Leo Gordon (Man), Whit Bissell (Father), Virginia Christine (Mother).

8719 Unexplained Mysteries. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2003). Numerous unexplained mysteries surround us — from ghosts, the Bermuda Triangle and Big Foot to alien crop circles. Are there actually overlooked clues that can unlock these mysteries? Through historical documentation the program explores a particular mystery and then attempts to offer a possible solution.

Host-Narrator: Jonathan David Cook.

8720 Unfabulous. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2004). Addie Singer is a very pretty 13-year-old girl and talented songwriter and singer who is struggling to get through adolescence. Her music helps her get through the troublesome situations she has a knack for encountering (and creating) and all she asks of life is to help her get through Rocky Road Middle School (where she seems to find most of the uncomfortable situations she encounters).

Each episode opens with Addie in the midst of an embarrassing or troublesome situation. A flashback then occurs to show how Addie managed to encounter the predicament she has. Addie often uses a song she has written to help her overcome her situation (she also sings to describe her feelings in certain situations). Addie is not alone in her awkward journey; her best friends Geena and the off beat Jake are often caught in the same predicaments. Addie lives at home with her parents Jeff and Sue, her older brother, Ben and her dog Nancy. Jeff owns the Singer Sporting Goods Store.

Cast: Emma Roberts (Addie Singer), Molly Hagan (Sue Singer), Markus Flanagan (Jeff Singer), Tadhg Kelly (Ben Singer), Malese Jow (Geena Fabiano), Jordan Calloway (Zach Carter-Schwartz), Mary Lou (Mary Ferry), Dustin Ingram (Duane Ogilvy), Bianca Collins (Patti Perez), Raja Fenske (Jake Behari), Sarah Hester (Jen), Chelsea Tavares (Cranberry), Mildred Dumas (Principal Brandywine). Songs Written By: Jill Sobule. Songs Performed By: Emma Roberts.

8721 Unhappily Ever After. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1995–1999). Jack and Jennie Malloy and their children, Tiffany, Ryan and Ross, reside at 30220 Oak Avenue in Van Nuys, California. Jack and Jennie married young; they separated for a short time after 16 years of marriage and are now back together again (although Jack lives in the basement).

Jack, who makes $40,000 a year, works as a salesman at Joe's Used Cars. He is not very fond of the kids — except for Tiffany — and calls them “the accident, the girl and the mistake.” Jack loves basketball and young, busty women, and fears the fact that he is getting older.

When Jack first moved out (and into a dingy apartment), Ross gave him a companion, his plush rabbit, Mr. Floppy, who came to life for Jack as his alter ego “to help guide his miserable life.” Mr.

Floppy has a crush on Drew Barrymore and constantly urges her to come on the show (“Drew, if you’re watching...”). He and Jack talk most often about women’s breasts and supermodels. Mr. Floppy appears to have had numerous affairs with a Barbie doll take-off named Berbie in “the toy box.” Mr. Floppy becomes lifeless when anyone else is with Jack.

Jennie. As a kid Jennie had a dog (Buttons) and a cat (Snuffles). She now has three dogs (Jasper, Emily and Annie), an unseen cat (Kitty) and a beloved glass-top living room table (Sheila). On the Internet, Jennie uses the name Vickie Vixen. As the series progressed, Jennie appeared less often. She is absent from many episodes (only referred to) and in 1998 left Jack for good when she ran off with her lesbian lover (although Jack claims she was abducted by aliens). Prior to this, Jennie was written out via a terrible accident: while tanning herself at Guy Macaroni’s House of Tanning, Jennie drank, fell asleep on the table and was “turned into beef jerky remnants.” She returned as a ghost to help guide her family. When the storyline change didn’t work, Jennie was back as her old self and the tanning salon incident was explained as just “the writer’s mistake.”

Tiffany, 16, is a beautiful redhead whose wardrobe consists primarily of miniskirts, low-cut blouses and tight jeans. She is proud of the fact that she is voluptuous and has built her life around her physical beauty. She hopes to one day own a Corvette “because I look this gorgeous and have to have a flashy car to put me in.” She wants to “marry an old geezer who’s loaded and has only a month to live.” Tiffany’s motto is “I will never trade my purity except for financial security.” Tiffany, a straight A student, first attended Priddy High (although the name Howe High can be seen in the background) then Northridge Junior College. At Northridge, she writes for the school newspaper, the North Ridgeon. In the last episode, Tiffany’s dream comes true: she is accepted into Harvard.

Ryan is naive. He attended the same schools as Tiffany but is far less intelligent. When it comes to girls he is a loser (“Girls find me completely repulsive”) and on Saturday nights he watches Only the Lonely Late Night Theater on TV. When Ryan is not needed for a particular scene, Jack sends him to other WB shows (via the WB Time Machine) to screw up someone else’s life until he is required at home. To make money on the Internet, Ryan began a site called “Cyber Sex Tiffany” (www.tiffanymalloy.com) using Tiffany’s image without her knowledge. When Ryan was struck by lightning (hiding in a metal garbage can during a thunderstorm), he thought he acquired unique powers and called himself “Lightning Boy.” He worked at Cali-Burger Dreamin’ and when he receives his grades, usually *F*s, he believes the F stands for phenomenal.

Ross, the youngest member of the family, took on the role of “Mom” when Jennie left (cooking, cleaning, and being referred to as Mom). He is neglected by the family and told at the beginning of an episode whether or not he will be needed. (This does not happen to Tiffany because, as Jack says, “We’re not crazy; if it were not for Tiffany, the WB would have canceled us long ago.”) Jack does little or nothing for Ross (he feels that ignoring him will toughen him up); as Tiffany says about Ross, “You’re a sad little man.” Ross is constantly degraded, but does have one fantasy—“to be hugged by my math teacher, 38 triple D Miss Bushnick.”

Stories follow the events in the family’s lives as seen through the eyes of Jack and Mr. Floppy. Sable and Barbara are Tiffany’s friends; Barry is Ryan’s friend; Maureen is Jennie’s mother.

Cast: Geoff Pierson (Jack Malloy), Stephanie Hodge (Jennie Malloy), Nikki Cox (Tiffany Malloy), Kevin Connolly (Ryan Malloy), Justin Berfield (Ross Malloy), Joyce Van Patten (Maureen Slattery), Kristanna Loken (Sable O’Brien), Wendy Benson-Landes (Barbara Caulfield), Ant (Barry).

8722 Unicorn Tales. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1977). Modern adaptations of classic fairy tales. Casts and stories (geared to children) vary week to week. Nick DeNoia and William P. Milling are the producers.

8723 Union Pacific. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1958). The saga of the final linking between East and West (Omaha to Cheyenne) of the Union Pacific Railroad as seen through the experiences of Bart McClelland, the operations head (based in Dale, Wyoming). Bill Kincaid is the chief surveyor; Georgia is the town’s dancehall owner.

Cast: Jeff Morrow (Bart McClelland), Judd Pratt (Bill Kincaid), Susan Cummings (Georgia).

8724 Union Square. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997–1998). Michael Weiss is a lawyer turned playwright who hangs out at Union Square, a diner in Manhattan. Stories follow his experiences with his friends, an assortment of odd characters who also hang out at the diner.

Jack Pappas is a ladies’ man (or so he thinks); Susan Barkley is a realtor with Barkley and Barkley Realty who uses the diner as her office; Gabby Diaz is an aspiring writer; Albie is the counter man; and Carrie, the waitress, is with a band called Binge/Purge. Gabby wears a St. Christopher medal for good luck (given to her by her grandfather).

8725 The Unit. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2006–). Jonas Blane, Bob Brown, Hector Williams, Mack

Gerhardt and Charles Grey are members of the 303rd Logistical Studies Unit, a division of the U.S. Army that is actually a cover for their real job — members of the Unit, a super secret Special Forces Strike Team that is designed to battle terrorism in any part of the world on a moment's notice. Colonel Tom Ryan is their commander.

The Unit officially does not exist and is responsible only to the President of the United States. The Unit is based at Fort Griffith and its compound is called "The Cave." To remain top secret, the Unit never takes credit for a completed mission. They go in, do the job and allow others to take the credit.

Married members of the Unit live on the army base on Maple Street. Jonas is married to Molly; Bob and his wife, Kim, are the parents of pre-teen Serena; and Tiffany is the wife of Mack. The wives are aware of their husband's jobs and must also keep their secret.

Stories not only follow the missions of the members of the Unit, but the lives of the women they leave behind whose fears and concerns are a vital part of the program.

Cast: Dennis Haysbert (Jonas "Snake Doctor" Blane), Scott Foley (Bob "Cool Breeze" Brown), De-more Barnes (Hector Williams), Max Martini (Mack "Dirt Diver" Gerhardt), Robert Patrick (Col. Tom Ryan), Michael Irby (Charles Grey), Regina Taylor (Molly Blane), Alyssa Shafer (Serena Brown), Abby Brammell (Tiffany Gerhardt), Audrey Marie Anderson (Kim Brown), Rebecca Pidgeon (Charlotte Ryan), Danielle Hanratty (Lissy Gerhardt), Summer Glau (Crystal Burns).

8726 Unit 4. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 9/29/81). With the growth in worldwide terrorist activities, the U.S. government secretly recruits the best commandos from its military forces and divides them into small, anti-terrorist strike forces. The unsold series depicts the exploits of one such strike force — Unit 4 (Max, Martin, Zina and Deke). In the pilot episode, Unit 4 is assigned to free U.S. government official Dwight Phillips, his wife, Liz, and their daughter, Tracy, from Tahir Sadek, the bomb-toting leader of Levantine revolutionaries based in the Colorado Rockies. Other Regulars: Jordan Harrower, the U.S. Security Bureau Chief and the head of Unit 4; and Jimmy Yew, Jordan's aide.

Cast: Nick Mancuso (Max Catlin), Ben Murphy (Martin Farnum), Tori Lysdahl (Zina Brandt), William Allen Young (Deke Thomas), Keene Curtis (Jordan Harrower), Keye Luke (Jimmy Yew). Guest Cast: Dominique Dunne (Tracey Phillips), Linwood McCarthy (Dwight Phillips), Jane Merrow (Liz Phillips), Michael Zaslow (Tahir Sadek), Than Wyenn (Dr. Yephvani).

8727 United States. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1980). Incidents in the day-to-day lives of a married couple, Richard and Libby Chapin, and their children Dylan and Nicky. The program is an experiment in that it does away with the traditional aspects of a sitcom. While there are situations for the characters to encounter, they are presented through an exchange of dialogue rather than extended physical encounters with them. The program becomes a bit dramatic, rather talkative and seriously lacking the comical aspects needed to sustain a series. It was cancelled after eight episodes (in the spring of 1985, A&E aired all 13 episodes, including the five that were not shown on NBC).

Cast: Beau Bridges (Richard Chapin), Helen Shaver (Libby Chapin), Rossie Harris (Dylan Chapin), Justin Dana (Nicky Chapin).

8728 The United States Steel Hour. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953–1963). Quality dramatic productions featuring well-known performers and talented writers and directors. The series, sponsored by U.S. Steel, ran on ABC from October 27, 1953 to June 21, 1955 and on CBS from July 6, 1955 to June 12, 1963.

Performers Include: Phyllis Kirk, Sally Forrest, Brian Keith, Peter Lorre, Tallulah Bankhead, Nina Foch, Diana Lynn, Gertrude Berg, Marilyn Erskine, Patricia McCormack, Walter Matthau, Patricia Crowley, Jack Klugman, Teresa Wright, Barbara Nichols, Ralph Bellamy, Dan O'Herlihy, Faye Emerson, June Lockhart, Celeste Holm, Andy Griffith, Julie Harris, Jack Carson, Keenan Wynn, Terry Moore, Jayne Meadows, Franchot Tone, Pat O'Brien, Robert Preston, Eva Marie Saint, Peggy Ann Garner.

United States see also U.S.

8729 Universal Star Time. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1971). Rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater. See this title for information. The title refers to the original series producer, Universal Television.

8730 University Hospital. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1995). Programs produced for syndication normally last two years or more. Anything less is considered a failure. University Hospital is one of the very few to last less than half a year (January through May). University Hospital in Seattle, Washington is the setting for a look at the triumphs and tragedies of a group of nurses struggling to cope with life. Mary Jenkins is the head nurse and her staff includes nurses Megan Peterson, Tracy Stone, Jamie Fuller and Samantha McCormick.

Cast: Tonya Pinkins (Mary Jenkins), Hudson Leick (Tracy Stone), Rebecca Cross (Megan Peterson), Hillary Danner (Jamie Fuller), Alexandra Wilson (Samantha McCormick), Doug Wert (Dr. Rob Daniels).

8731 Unk and Andy. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1950). A program, aimed at preschoolers, that relates facts about wildlife through the use of alphabet animals (for example, letters of the alphabet are drawn to resemble animals — from Andy Auk to Zachary Zebra). It is hosted by Uncle Jack and features the animated Andy Auk as his assistant.

Cast: Jack Kenaston (Uncle Jack), Jack Kenaston (Voice of Andy Auk).

8732 The Unknown. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 5/4/64). A proposed series of lavish science fiction stories. The pilot episode, titled “The Form of Things Unknown” and broadcast on The Outer Limits, tells the story of Tone Hobart, a man of the future who travels through time but cannot be affected by the present era he is in. In the story itself, Tone becomes involved with two women and a blackmail plot.

Cast: David McCallum (Tone Hobart), Scott Marlowe (Andre Pavan), Vera Miles (Kassia Paine), Barbara Rush (Leonara Edmond), Sir Cedric Hardwicke (Colas).

8733 Unsolved Mysteries. (Series; Reality; NBC; CBS; 1987–2002). Real life mysteries are examined and attempts are made to solve them through dramatic reenactments and interviews with the people involved in the case that is being presented.

Legends, ghostly happenings, bizarre deaths, lost heirs and stories on wanted felons are also presented. It ran on NBC from 1987 to 1998 and on CBS from 1998 to 2002.

While Robert Stack is known as the series host, Karl Malden and Raymond Burr hosted one-time pre-series specials in 1987. The series was repeated on Lifetime (2001–2006) but not edited and many of the cases that were solved since the original cases were presented were not updated and remained unsolved.

Host: Robert Stack. Co-Host: Virginia Madsen.

8734 Unsub. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1989). Before there were such forensic-oriented series like C.S.I. and Crossing Jordan, there was Unsub, a little known, short-lived series (February 3 to April 14, 1989) that, by today’s television standards, was ahead of its time. The setting was the fictional Behavioral Sciences Unit of the U.S. Department of Justice where a special team of forensic investigators incorporate the latest scientific technology to help various police departments solve baffling crimes. When a culprit cannot be determined, they refer to him or her as “Unsub” (unknown subject). The team prefers to investigate a crime scene that is “sealed up tight — no one touching it before we do.” They approach each crime scene wearing hospital gloves, gowns and slippers so nothing gets disturbed.

Wes Grayson is the team director. He is assisted by Ann Madison, a RNDSC (a registered nurse who is also a doctor of psychology) who gives them their psychological killer profiles; Ned Platt “is one of the best old time feds who ever walked. Ned knows more tricks about solving cases than you and I put together,” says Wes; Allen McWhirter is a forensic scientist. He can make a crime scene talk; Jimmy Bello has a degree in advanced hypnotic therapy and uses hypnosis to make witnesses recall something they never remember seeing. Wes keeps Jimmy around “because he is so uncomplicated; he helps the rest of the team when they become eaten by crimes”; Tony D’Agostino is the rebellious member of the team and is constantly at odds with Wes. Wes is opposed to Tony’s tardiness but needs his unique ability to approach a crime scene and psychologically become the Unsub. Through Tony, the team learns the sometimes elusive motive behind a crime. Mike Post composed the theme “Unsub.”

Cast: David Soul (Wes Grayson), Jennifer Hetrick (Ann Madison), M. Emmet Walsh (Ned Platt), Kent McCord (Allen McWhirter), Richard Kind (Jimmy Bello), Joe Maruzzo (Tony D’Agostino).

8735 Untitled. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 5/24/45). A television version of a World War II play Norman Corwin wrote for radio in April 1944. The rather unsettling story tells of a deceased serviceman named Hank Peters who rises from his resting place on the battlefield to tell the audience how he came to be there. Flashbacks are used to show aspects of his life, how he came to be killed and how he will not rest until peace is declared. Produced in association with the Treasury Department for the war bond drive.

Cast: Michael Everett (Hank Peters), Frances Fuller, Dick Hamilton, Klaus Kolmar, Warner Leroy, Bess McCammon, Frank Richards, Graham Velsey. Announcer: John Hersey.

8736 The Untouchables. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1959–1963). Chicago during its turbulent years of mobster rule during the late 1920s and ’30s is the setting. Walter Winchell, the program’s narrator, tells us that in 1929 the country was dry — bootlegged beer had been outlawed — but through conveyance with Al Capone, Chicago was wet — helped by corrupt officials and a public that was indifferent. To battle Capone and stop his illegal activities, the U.S. District Attorney assigns their top Prohibition Agent, 26-year-old Eliot Ness the task.

There are 300 federal agents in Chicago. “Some can be bought,” says Ness, “but what if you have a special squad, small, operating on its own; every man thoroughly investigated; brought in from all parts of the country. Men who will spit on Capone’s graft; just a few he can’t buy.” On June 28, 1929, Ness is given full access to all federal agents’ files.

His task: to find six or seven men who are reliable, courageous, dedicated and honest. “Six or seven of the most honest men.” Several days later, on July 5, 1929, in office 208 of the Federal Building in Washington, D.C., Ness meets with the men he has chosen to become the Federal Special Squad, dubbed "The Untouchables" by the press, as they cannot be touched by the mob: Martin Flaherty, a former Boston police officer with an outstanding arrest record; William Longfellow, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, responsible for the breakup of the Oklahoma booze ring; Jack Rossman, a former New York telephone company lineman, now a wiretap expert; Lamar Kane, an agent with the Richmond, Virginia, bureau, a law school graduate, married and the father of two children; Eric Hanson of the San Francisco bureau, a former guard at San Quentin's Death Row Prison; and Enrico Rossi, a former barber who became an agent after he testified as a witness against mobster Frank Nitti. He witnessed a mob hit that claimed the life of an innocent 17-year-old girl.

The pilot episode, broadcast as two segments of Desilu Playhouse (April 20 and 27, 1959) also featured agents Tom Kopka (Robert Osterloh) of the Sacramento Bureau, a former Pennsylvania State Trooper and World War I hero, and Joe Fuscilli (Keenan Wynn), a man who speaks the Sicilian and Neopolitan dialects, who spent five years in prison for robbery and knows every street and alley in the city — the best driving hands in Chicago. Joe was killed off and Tom was dropped. They were replaced by agents Lee Hobson (Paul Picerni) and Cam Allison (Anthony George).

At the age of 26, Eliot Ness headed the most elite crime fighting unit in the country. While it took him 18 months to bring Capone to justice (nailing him on an income tax evasion charge), Ness fought corruption until his death in 1957.

The team was first dubbed "The Untouchables" by the Chicago Bulletin when it ran the headline "Untouchables Defy Capone." Al Capone had his headquarters in a room above the Montmartre Cafe in Chicago. When caught by Ness, he was sentenced to 11 years in the Atlanta State Penitentiary.

Eliot dated Betty Anderson (Patricia Crowley) and married her in November of 1929. In the pilot episode, Bill Williams played Martin Flaherty; Paul Dubov was Jack Rossman; and Paul Picerni was Tom Lugari.

Note: NBC aired The Return of Eliot Ness, a two-hour TV movie on November 10, 1991, wherein Robert Stack reprised his role as Eliot Ness. The story is set in Chicago in 1947. Eliot has been living in Omaha but returns to Chicago when former Untouchable, Marty Labine, is killed in what appears to be a cop-on-the-take situation. Ness teams with Marty's son, police sergeant Gil Labine (Jack Coleman) and proves that Marty was framed by a mobster who wanted to further his position in the organization. The movie was actually a pilot that failed to produce an update of the original ABC series.

Cast: Robert Stack (Eliot Ness), Jerry Paris (Mar- tin Flaherty), Abel Fernandez (William Longfellow), Steve London (Jack Rossman), Peter Leeds (Lamar Kane), Eddie Firestone (Eric Hanson), Nicholas Georgiade (Enrico Rossi), Paul Picerni (Lee Hobson), Neville Brand (Mobster Al Capone), Bruce Gordon (Mobster Frank Nitti), Lloyd Nolan (Mobster George "Bugs" Moran), Lawrence Dobkin (Mobster Dutch Schultz), Clu Gulager (Mobster Vincent "Mad Dog" Coll), Walter Winchell (Narrator). Theme: "The Untouchables" by Nelson Riddle.

8737 The Untouchables. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1993–1994). An update of the 1959 series that chronicles the battle for control of prohibition-era Chicago between law enforcement officials and the mob. The series begins with some background information that was not given in the original series. Eliot was born in Chicago in 1900. His sister was married to a federal agent and Eliot grew up admiring his uncle, who would tell him exciting stories about his work. At this same time in Brooklyn, New York, a kid named Alfonse "Al" Capone was growing up on the streets and eventually found his way into the mob.

Eliot attended Fenger High School, where he was a member of the debate team. During a debate with a rival school (Jefferson High), Eliot met a girl named Catherine Staley. She vowed to one day marry Eliot. Several years later they met at the University of Chicago and dated. Meanwhile, Capone has made a name for himself in the New York mob but kills a cop on the take who tried to steal from him. He flees to Chicago, where he sets up his illegal alcohol operations. Eliot, who has been studying law in college, and Catherine wed when Eliot acquires a job as a junior partner with the Perennial Life Insurance Company. Eliot hadn't thought about a career in law enforcement until fate steps in. A short time later, Eliot and Catherine witness a gangland hit that goes wrong when the son of a friend of theirs is killed in the crossfire. Bitter and angered, Eliot quits his job and approaches his uncle for a job in law enforcement.

In 1929 President Hoover vows to end organized crime and creates the Federal Task Force. Although many federal agents are believed to be mob connected, the force will be comprised of seven men the mob cannot touch — "The Untouchables." Eliot Ness is chosen to head the team. Ness chooses the following men as his agents: Tony Pagano, a Harvard graduate, is from the Detroit Bureau. He possesses degrees in English and engineering and drives midget race cars as a hobby. Paul Robbins is from the St. Louis Bureau. He is an ex-fighter pilot for the Army Air Corps and worked as a district attorney before joining the Treasury Department. George Steelman is a full-blooded Cherokee Indian. He was based at the Omaha office and is a former Carlyle University football star and expert wire tapper. Mike Malone is the last of Ness's squad, a tough ex-cop and explosives expert.

Eliot and his team are based at 4478 Racine in a brewery once occupied by Al Capone; Ness fears the Federal Building "may have ears." Joel Goldsmith composed the new "Untouchables" theme.

Cast: Tom Amandes (Eliot Ness), Nancy Everhard (Catherine Ness), John Haymes Newton (Tony Pagamo), David Elliott (Paul Robbins), Michael Horse (George Steelman), John Rhys Davies (Mike Malone), William Forsythe (Al Capone).

8738 Up Front. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1986). Greg Jackson hosts a series of in-depth, one-on-one celebrity interviews.

Cast: Trevor Eve (Freddie Paddington), June Lockhart (Iris Cloverdale), Catherine Hicks (Alison Ploutzer; Iris's assistant), Missy Crider (Jennifer Cloverdale), Brian Bonsell (Henry Cloverdale), Jerry Marquardt (Doug Cloverdale). Guest Cast: Marlee Shelton (Denise Harmon), Bill Wiley (Stablehand).

8740 Up to Paar. (Series; Game; NBC; 1952). Three contestants compete in a game wherein they must answer questions based on current newspaper stories. Questions are valued from $5 to $50 and the money for each incorrect answer is placed in a jackpot. The player who answers the final question correctly (each player writes his answer on a card) wins the money in the jackpot. The series, which ran from July 28, 1952 to September 26, 1952, is also known as I've Got News for You.

Host: Jack Paar.

8741 Upbeat. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1955). A guest singer (who appears as the host) performs the songs he or she made famous.

Guests Include: Teresa Brewer, Tony Bennett, Mindy Carson, Georgia Gibbs, Don Cornell, The Four Lads. Vocalists: The Honeydramers. Dancers: The Tommy Morton Troupe. Orchestra: Russ Case.

8742 Upstairs, Downstairs. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1974-1977). A depiction of life in a fashionable London townhouse (at 165 Eaton Place) as seen through the interactions of two families from different levels of society: the Bellamys who live upstairs, and their servants, who form a family of their own downstairs.

Cast: David Langton (Richard Bellamy), Meg Wyn Owen (Hazel Bellamy), Rachel Gurney (Lady Marjorie), Simon Williams (James Bellamy), Hannah Gordon (Virginia Bellamy), Gordon Jackson (Hudson), Jean Marsh (Rose), Angela Baddeley (Mrs. Bridges), Christopher Beeny (Edward), Jenny Tomasin (Ruby), Patsy Smart (Roberts), Jacqueline Tong (Daisy), Lesley-Anne Down (Georgia Worsley), Cathleen Nesbitt (Lady Southwold), George Innes (Alfred). Host: Alistair Cooke.

8743 Uptown Saturday Night. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/28/79). A proposed series about Wardell Washington and Monroe Hoover, two Harlem go-getters. Other Regulars: Sarah, Wardell's wife; and Greecy Dan, the hoodlum.

Cast: Cleavon Little (Wardell Washington), Adam Wade (Monroe Hoover), Starletta DuPois (Sarah Washington), Julius Harris (Greecy Dan).

8744 Urban Angel. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1991). Victor Torres is a reporter for The Tribune, a crusading newspaper in Montreal, Canada. Victor, however, is not your ordinary reporter: he is a man who wants to personally become involved with the stories he covers. He is an investigative reporter who thrives on risks and stories follow his attempts to expose crime and corruption through the power of the press.

Francine is the editor; Maroni is Victor's friend; Bill is a fellow reporter; Rachel Kane is a features writer; Bob Vanderham is the city editor.

Cast: Justin Louis (Victor Torres), Dorothee Berryman (Francine), Ellen Cohen (Richard Kane), Arthur Grosser (Bob Vanderham), Vittorio Rossi (Maroni), Vlasta Vrana (Bill). Theme: Marty Simon.

8745 Us. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 9/20/91). A proposed series for Michael Landon that was put on hold due to his illness at the time. The story was set to relate the experiences of Jeff Hayes, a man who was wrongly accused of a murder and exonerated after eighteen years in prison, as he becomes a traveling reporter. He would have been joined by his son (Cary) and father (Jack) as he traveled across the U.S.

8746 U.S. Border Patrol. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1958). Dramatizations based on the Department of Justice files concerning the activities of the U.S. Border Patrol as they protect and secure America's borders. The action is seen through the cases of Don Jagger, the Deputy Chief of the Border Patrol.

Cast: Richard Webb (Don Jagger).

8747 U.S. Bounty Hunters. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2003). A reality series that focuses on the real life adventures of bounty hunters as they track down wanted criminals.

Cast: James Calvert, Jr., Randy Carter, Benny Hoppes, Vincent Price (not the horror actor), Fred Slack, Robert Slack, Mark Snell, Matthew Tellez, Don Wadsworth, Robert Webb.

8748 U.S. Customs Classified. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1995). The program dramatizes cases handled by the U.S. Customs Services, the men and women who patrol and protect our borders. Cases are explored through actual coverage, reenactments, interviews and newsreel footage.

Host: Stephen J. Cannell.

8749 U.S. Marshal. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1958). A spin-off from The Sheriff of Cochise that relates the cases of Frank Morgan, a United States Marshal assigned to uphold the law in modern-day Cochise, Arizona.

Cast: John Bromfield (Marshal Frank Morgan), Robert Brubaker (Deputy Blake), James Griffith (Deputy Tom Ferguson).

8750 U.S. Marshals: Waco and Rheinbart. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 3/27/87). A proposed series about Josiah "Waco" Wheeler and Milo Rheinbart, undercover U.S. Marshals whose jobs entail capturing federal fugitives, bail jumpers, parole violators and escaped prisoners. In the pilot episode, "The Rocky and Bullwinkle of law enforcement" seek a group of illicit arms dealers.

Cast: Charles C. Hill (Josiah Wheeler), Justin Deas (Milo Rheinbart), William Hootkins (Chief Peavey), Bob Tzudiker (August Mirch, the department accountant). Guest Cast: Kathleen Lloyd (Connie Stevik), Daniel Faraldo (Gooper), Eugene Butler (Victor Koury), Nancy Stafford (Joyce Hunter), Carmen Argenziano (Varela), Talbot Simons (Fasil), Liz Georges (Angela), Eric Server (Officer).

8751 The U.S. of Archie. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1974–1976). The comic book characters, the Archie Gang (Archie Andrews, Betty Cooper, Veronica Lodge, Reggie Mantle and Jughead Jones) are seen as great American heroes in stories that detail their achievements throughout history.

Voice Cast: Dallas McKennon (Archie Andrews), Jane Webb (Betty Cooper), Jane Webb (Veronica Lodge), Howard Morris (Jughead Jones), Dallas McKennon (Reggie Mantle).

8752 U.S. Royal Showcase. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1962). Performances by singers, comedians and undiscovered, promising talent. The series, which ran from January 13, 1952 to June 29, 1952, is sponsored by the United States Rubber Company.

Host: George Abbott, Jack Carson.

8753 Used Cars. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/15/84). Barbara Fuchs is the owner-operator of The New Deal Used Car Lot in Las Vegas, Nevada. Barbara's uncle, Roy Fuchs, is the owner of Roy Fuchs' Auto Emporium. The unsold series was to focus on Barbara's efforts to run her car lot and the devious efforts of Roy to convince Barbara to sell him her business (so that he can have a monopoly on used car lots in the area). The pilot episode establishes the premise, which is based on the feature film of the same title. Other Regulars: Rudy and Jeff, Barbara's salesmen; Jim, her mechanic; and Mickey, Roy's aide.

Cast: Deborah Harmon (Barbara Fuchs), Pat Corley (Roy L. Fuchs), Fred McCarren (Rudy Russo), Clayton Landey (Jeff Kirkwood), Frank MacRae (Jim), Michael Talbott (Mickey). Guest Cast: Robert Costanzo (Irving), David Wyley (Claude Wiggins), J.P. Bumstead (Sam), Don Maxwell (Police Sergeant). Theme Vocal: "Used Cars" by Roy Clark.

8754 V. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 5/1 and 5/2/83). An imaginative two-part drama that depicts the plight of humans as they battle aliens who have invaded and plan to take over the Earth. The story itself, which interweaves several personal dramas associated with the aliens' presence, begins when fifty saucer-like spaceships simultaneously land in major cities around the world. The aliens resemble humans but wear dark glasses and have a metallic tone to their voices. They are thought to be friendly and are only here to seek a certain chemical we can manufacture for them to survive; in return they will make their knowledge available to us. While it is evident that the aliens have deceived the general population, they begin to fear scientists, whom they feel will discover their true nature (evil reptilian lizards seeking our water supply).

The aliens begin their invasion by eliminating scientists and brainwashing humans to join their cause by creating the belief that they are the hope of the future. The story depicts mankind's united battle to save the Earth from the Visitors (who came from the fourth planet from the star Cereus). See also: V: The Final Battle and V: The Series.

Howard K. Smith (Newscaster), Neva Patterson (Eleanor DuPrey), Andrew Prine (Steven), Curt Lowens (Arthur), Tommy Peterson (Josh Brooks), Denny Miller (Alien), Penelope Windust (Kathy Maxwell), Diane Civita (Harmony), Robert Englund (William), Clete Roberts (Newscaster), Peter Nelson (Brian), Bonnie Bartlett (Mrs. Bernstein).

8755 V: The Final Battle. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 5/6 to 5/8/84). A three-part sequel to V, about American freedom fighters battling invaders from outer space. Part one, set four months after V ended, establishes the fact that the aliens from outer space — evil reptilian creatures who look like humans — have taken over the Earth to plunder its resources and enslave the human race. Parts two and three relate the resistance force's fierce battle to conquer the aliens and reveal their true identities. See also: V and V: The Series.

8756 V: The Series. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 1984–1985). A weekly continuation of the miniseries V and V: The Final Battle (see entries for information), which depicts the Earth's battle against the Visitors, evil, alien lizards who assume human form, as they seek to control our world. Featured are Mike Donovan, KDHB-TV, Channel 6 (Los Angeles) newsmen, and Julie Parrish, a doctor with Science Frontiers, two resistance fighters who have joined forces to battle Diana, the beautiful but extremely deadly alien bent on ruling the Earth.

At a cost of one million dollars per episode, V: The Series was, at the time, the most expensive series to be produced for TV.

Other Regulars: Elizabeth Maxwell, the Star Child (half human, half alien); Robin Maxwell, Elizabeth's human mother; William, an alien ally; Ham Tyler, the mercenary seeking to kill Diana; Nathan Bates, the head of Science Frontiers; Elias Taylor and Chris Farber, resistance fighters; Kyle Bates, Norman's son; Sean Donovan, Mike's son; Chiang, Nathan's aide; and aliens Lydia, Charles, John Langley, Lieutenant James, Philip and Martin (twins) and Thelma; 17 episodes aired from October 26, 1984 to March 22, 1985.

Cast: Marc Singer (Mike Donovan), Faye Grant (Dr. Julie Parrish), Jane Badler (Diana), June Chadwick (Lydia), Jenny Beck (Elizabeth Maxwell), Jennifer Cooke (Elizabeth Maxwell; later), Blair Tefkin (Robin Maxwell), Robert Englund (William), Michael Ironside (Ham Tyler), Lane Smith (Nathan Bates), Michael Wright (Elias Taylor), Jeff Yagher (Kyle Bates), Nicky Katt (Sean Donovan), Aki Aleong (Chiang), Mickey Jones (Chris Farber), Duncan Regehr (Charles), Bruce Davison (John Langley), Judson Scott (Lt. James), Frank Ashmore (Martin and Philip), Marilyn Jones (Thelma), Howard K. Smith (Freedom Network Newscaster).

8757 The Vacant Lot. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 1994–1995). A sketch comedy series that attempts to poke fun at everything and anything (including religion, gays and even people with disabilities).

Cast: Nick McKinney, Vito Viscomi, Rob Gfroerer, Paul Greenberg.

8758 Vacation Playhouse. (Pilot; CBS; 1962–67). "Tonight, while Lucy is on a holiday, we bring you Vacation Playhouse," a series of 58 pilot films for prospective series that aired as the summer replacement for The Lucy Show. See the following titles: Alfred of the Amazon, All About Barbara, An Apartment in Rome, The Apartment House, At Your Service, The Barbara Rush Show, The Bean Show, Bravo Duke, Charlie Angelo, Come a Running, Down Home, The Eve Arden Show, The First Hundred Years, For the Love of Mike, Frank Merriwell, The Freewheelers, The Ginger Rogers Show, The Good Old Days, The Graduation Dress, Heaven Help Us, Hey Teacher, Hide and Seek, His Model Wife, The Hooper, Hooray for Hollywood, Hooray for Love, The Human Comedy, I and Claudie, I Love My Doctor, The Jimmy Durante Show, The Jones Boys, Life with Virginia, Love Is a Lion's Roar, Low Man on the Totem Pole, Luke and the Tenderfoot, McGhee, The McGonigle, Maggie Brown, Mickey and the Contessa, The Mighty O, Mimi, My Boy Googie, My Lucky Penny, My Son, the Doctor, Off We Go, Octavius and Me, Papa G.I., Patrick Stone, Poor Mr. Campbell, Satan's Waitin', The Soft Touch, Swingin' Together, Sybil, Three on an Island, Three Wishes, The Two of Us, Where There's Smokey, You're Only Young Twice.

8759 Vagabond. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1959). Don Hobart hosts and narrates filmed visits to interesting and unusual places.

8760 The Val Doonican Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1971). A summer series of music, songs and comedy sketches with singer Val Doonican as the host. The series, produced in England, ran from June 5, 1971 to August 14, 1971.

Host: Val Doonican. Regulars: Bob Todd, Bernard Cribbins, The Norman Maen Dancers, The Mike Sammes Singers. Announcer: Paul Griffith. Orchestra: Jack Parnell, Kenny Woods. Choreography: Norman Maen.

8761 Valentine Magic on Love Island. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 2/15/80). The pilot film for a proposed series to be called Magic on Love Island. Love Island is a beautiful tropical resort that is owned by a mysterious woman named Madge. Madge is assisted by her niece (Cheryl) and nephew (Jimmy) and possesses special powers that can make romance happen. The unsold series was to relate incidents in the lives of the singles who come to the magical retreat seeking romance.

Cast: Janis Paige (Madge), Dominique Dunne (Cheryl), Christopher Knight (Jimmy). Guest Cast: Adrienne Barbeau (Beverly McGraw), Bill Daily (Charles), Mary Louise Weller (Denise), Lisa Hartman (Crystal Kramer), Howard Duff (A.J. Morgan), Bob Seagren (Bill Colorado), Dody Goodman (Ida Kramer), Stuart Pankin (Harvey). Theme Vocal: "Love Island, Our Island of Love" by Bernard Ighner.

8762 Valentine's Day. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1964–1965). Valentine Farrow is a handsome playboy bachelor who lives in a brownstone on 23rd Street in Manhattan with his cook, housekeeper and best friend, Rocky Sin.

Val, as he is called, works as the nonfiction editor for Brackett and Dunstall, a publishing house at 50 Park Avenue. He collects books and paintings and when he is asked "Why don't you get married?" he responds "You sound like my mother" (whom Val corresponds with once a week; he concludes his letters with "Your year-round Valentine").

Val is called "Boss" by Rocky (they met during the Korean War). Rocky has a gambling problem; he worked for his father's import business before the war. Libby Freeman is Val's gorgeous, ever-efficient secretary (she earns $125 a week). Stories follow Valentine as he struggles to cope with the pressures of work and avoid the paths of matrimony. Jeff Alexander composed the theme.

Cast: Anthony Franciosa (Valentine Farrow), Jack Soo (Rocky Sin), Janet Waldo (Libby Freeman).

8763 Valentino. (Series; Women; ABC; 1952–1953). A program of soft music, poetry readings and romantic monologues geared to the female members of the viewing audience; ABC's attempt to copy the success of The Continental.

Host: Barry Valentino.

8764 Valerie. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1986–1987). Valerie and Michael Hogan and their children, David, Willie and Mark, live at 840 Crescent Drive in Oak Park, Illinois; the family dog is named Murray.

Valerie, middle name Angela (maiden name Varone), is manager of Forman-Lydell Antiques (also called The Forman-Lydell Antiques House); in early episodes, Valerie's job is a bit hazy; she appears to be a designer (for an unnamed company). She was born in Jersey City (New Jersey) and was a member of the Forest Girls as a teenager. She and Michael have been married for 17 years when the series begins. Michael, a pilot for an unnamed airline (based at Chicago O'Hare International Airport), is absent from many episodes (supposedly due to overseas flights).

David, 16 years old, attends Clifton High School. He has a pet turtle (Corkey) and on a dare ("a double dog dare") from a girl he ate a spider. The Deli is his after school hangout. Mark and Willie, 13-year-old fraternal twins, attend Lincoln Junior High School. Mark, the studious one, has a pet water dragon (lizard) named Chuck, and has to see a movie from the opening to the closing credits ("Those people work hard; they deserve to be recognized").

"Howdy, Hogans" is the greeting the family receives from next-door neighbor Patty Poole, a woman who cares for the Hogans as much as she does for her own family. She has a dog named Casey, vacuums to channel her anger, and is famous for her tuna salad — which contains a secret ingredient — Cool Whip ("It binds the tuna to the salad").

The series ended abruptly when Valerie Harper and the show's producers could not resolve a contract dispute. It was revamped as Valerie's Family: The Hogans, The Hogans and finally The Hogan Family (which see for further information). Valerie episodes have been syndicated as The Hogan Family.

Cast: Valerie Harper (Valerie Hogan), Josh Taylor (Michael Hogan), Jason Bateman (Mark Hogan), Jeremy Licht (Mark Hogan), Danny Ponce (Willie Hogan), Edie McClurg (Patty Poole).

8765 The Valerie Bettis Dancers. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 2/8/46). A simple program featuring the dancing expertise of Valerie Bettis, Orrin Hall, Virginia Miller and Duncan Nonle. Paul Belanger produced and directed.

8766 The Valiant. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 4/21/38). A talkative drama about a condemned prisoner (James) and the efforts of his sister (Josephine) to discover if James is actually guilty or really innocent and taking the rap to protect someone else. See the next title also.

Cast: Robert Regent (James), Flora Campbell (Josephine), William Daniel (Warden Holt), Herman Tub (Father Daly), Neil O'Malley (Dan), Arthur Maitland (Governor).

8767 The Valiant. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 6/7/39). A second adaptation of the vaudeville skit (see prior title) about a condemned prisoner (James) and his sister, Josephine's efforts to discover if he is really guilty of the crime.

Cast: Bert Lytell (James), Flora Campbell (Josephine), Al Webster (Warden Holt), Lionel Adams (Father Daly), Arthur Maitland (Governor).

8768 Valiant Lady. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1953–1957). The dramatic story of Helen Emerson and her attempts to raise her three children. The series ran from October 9, 1953 to August 16, 1957.

Cast: Nancy Coleman (Helen Emerson), Flora Campbell (Helen Emerson), Martin Balsam (Joey Gordon), Roberta Wilcox (Betty Cakes), Nancy Coleman (Helen Emerson), Jerome Cowan (Frank Emerson), Shirley Egleston (Bonnie Withers), John Graham (Lawrence Walker), Margaret Hamilton (Mrs. Sayre), Earl Hammond (Hal Soames), Frances Helm (Linda Kendall), Katherine Squire (Gertrude Harper), Lilia Skala (Mme. Garstel), Bonnie Sawyer (Kim Emerson), Lydia Reed (Kim Emerson), Sue Randall (Diane Emerson), Anne Pearson (Diane Emerson), Leila Martin (Diane Emerson), Dolores Sutton (Diane Emerson), Terry O'Sullivan (Elliott Norris), Doro Merande (Ivy Harper), Joan Loring (Bonnie Withers), James Kirkwood, Jr. (Mickey Emerson), Joan Tompkins (Marion Walker), Helen Wagner (Trudy), Larry Weber (Chris Kendall), Dolores Sutton (Margo). Organist: John Gart. Theme Song: "Valiant Lady" by John Gart.

8769 The Valiant Years. (Series; Documentary; ABC; 1960–1961). The life of Sir Winston Churchill (in particular his career as a statesman during World War II) is recalled through interviews, stills and archival films. The series, also known as Winston Churchill, aired from November 27, 1960 to June 11, 1961. It was rebroadcast by ABC as Winston Churchill from September 30, 1962 to April 5, 1963.

Host-Narrator: Gary Merrill.

8770 Valley of the Dinosaurs. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1974–1976). While exploring an uncharted river canyon in the Amazon, a twentieth-century family is engulfed by a whirlpool, propelled through an underground cavern, and transported to the prehistoric era, where they befriend their cave family counterparts. Stories depict the Butlers' struggle for survival and their interactions with the cave family (Gorak, the father; Gera, his wife; Tana and Lock, their children). John and Kim are the modern family parents; Katie and Greg are their children.

A narrator opens the show: "Deep in the heart of the Amazon the Butler family was exploring an uncharted river canyon. Suddenly, caught up in a violent whirlpool, they were propelled through an underground cavern and flung into a hostile world of giant prehistoric creatures — a world that time forgot. Now, befriended by a family of cave dwellers, each day is an adventure in survival for the Butlers in The Valley of the Dinosaurs."

8771 Van Dyke and Company. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1976). Music, songs and comedy sketches hosted by comedian Dick Van Dyke.

Host: Dick Van Dyke. Regulars: Lois January, Marilyn Sokol, Mickey Rose, Pat Proft, Andy Kaufman, Al Bloomfield, Bob Einstein, Chuck McCann, Tom Kelly, Barry Van Dyke, Michael Wheeler. Orchestra: Lex de Avezedo.

8772 The Van Dyke Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988). Matt Burgess is a former stage actor who now runs the Arley Playhouse, a struggling regional theater in Pennsylvania. His father, Dick Burgess, a veteran Broadway performer, helps him run the playhouse. Stories follow Matt and Dick's efforts to stage shows and make the Arley Playhouse a notable Pennsylvania attraction.

Matt is married to Chris, a woman who enjoys the theater experience. They are the parents of Noah. Jillian is the box office girl; Doc Sterling is the stage manager and Eric is the usher.

Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Dick Burgess), Barry Van Dyke (Matt Burgess), Kari Lizer (Chris Burgess), Billy O'Sullivan (Noah Bridges), Maura Tierney (Jillian), Whitman Mayo (Doc Sterling), Paul Scherier (Eric Rolando).

8773 Van-Pires. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1997). Nicky Shea, Zane Fix, Luke Luv and Jerry Moon are the teenage members of a band called Evil Rock Band Starr. Count Tracula, Snap, Rev, Nuke and Axle are alien parasites feeding off the Earth's natural gases. As the situations worsens and help is needed to stop the parasites, the teen rock group goes into action. The series, which mixes live action (the teens) with computer animation relates the teens efforts to defeat the parasites (called Van-Pires).

Cast: Nicky Shea (Nicky Shea), Zane Fix (Zane Fix), Luke Luv (Luke Luv), Jerry Moon (Jerry Moon), Jonathan Davis (Count Tracula), Jason Hayes (Axle), Marc Schwartz (Nuke), Melissa Marsala (Rev), Garikayi Mutambirwa (Snap).

8774 Vanished. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2006). Sara Collins is the wife of U.S. Senator Jeffrey Collins. She is a second grade school teacher in Washington, D.C., runs a charity and is dedicated to early childhood education.

Sara and Jeffrey are attending a social function at the Biltmore Hotel to honor her for her work in education. Moments before Sara is to give a speech, two instances occur. A young girl who admires her gives her a macaroni necklace; and Sara is told she has a call on the hotel's house phone. Thinking it is her stepdaughter, Marcy, Sara leaves her table to take the call (Sara is Jeffrey's second wife. He also has a son named Max; Marcy and Max are from Jeffrey's first marriage).

After a few minutes time Jeffrey becomes concerned that Sara has not returned. He begins to search for her but is unable to find her; what he does find, however, is the macaroni necklace given to her moments before on the sidewalk outside the hotel lobby.

The FBI is immediately called and the serialized drama presents not only a mystery, but also numerous clues as they investigate Sara's disappearance (and a dilemma for the viewer as it requires their full attention).

Was Sara kidnapped (she had no enemies)? Did she simply walk away from her marriage (she and Jeffrey wanted children but Sara was unable to conceive. She appeared to be very happily married)? Does her disappearance have something to do with revenge against her husband (who has made many enemies)? These are some of the questions Graham Kelton, the senior FBI agent assigned to the case must unravel.

Graham is a determined agent and likes to do things his way (he feels following a regulation is not always in the best interest of a victim; he is still haunted by a kidnapping case that went terribly wrong because he did follow protocol and the victim was killed in an explosion). Agent Len Lei assists Graham. Complicating matters is Judy Nash, a beautiful reporter for TV station WCN, who will stop at nothing to get the facts on Sara's mysterious disappearance. The series was cancelled before resolving the situation.

Cast: Gale Harold (Graham Kelton), Ming-Na (Len Mei), John Allen Nelson (Jeffrey Collins), Joanne Kelly (Sara Collins), Rebecca Grayheart (Judy Nash), Mararita Levieva (Marcy Collins), John Patrick Amedori (Max Collins), Penelope Ann Miller (Jessica Nevins), Esai Morales (Kyle Tyner).

8775 Vanishing Son. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1995). Jian-Wa Chang and his brother, Wago, are college students in China when they become involved in a demonstration against the government that forces them to flee their homeland and make a new life for themselves in the United States. Here, Jian-Wa attempts to pursue his career as a musician while Wago turns to a life of crime.

When Wago makes enemies of an underworld figure known as the General, he is killed. The General, however, frames Jian-Wa for the crime. With no other choice, Jian-Wa flees the arms of justice in an attempt to clear his name and find the real killer. Jian-Wa is guided by the ghost of Wago and stories follow his short-lived (13 episode) unrealized search to find the General. Along the way he uses his martial arts skills to help people in trouble. Judith Phillips and Dan Sandler are the FBI agents seeking Jian-Wa

Cast: Russell Wong (Jian-Wa Chang), Chi Moui Lo (Wago Chang), Ash Adams (Dan Sandler), Stephanie Niznik (Judith Phillips), Haing S. Ngor (The General).

8776 Vanity Fair. (Series; Women; CBS; 1948–1951). A magazine-style program of interviews, beauty tips and advice, and other topics of interest to housewives.

Hostess: Robin Chandler, Dorothy Doan. Regulars: The Lily Dache Models. Announcer: Tony Marvin.

8777 Vanity Fair. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1972). The story, set in 19th century London, charts the amoral adventures of Becky Sharpe, "a female Napoleon who is determined to claw her way up in the world by fair means or foul." A five-part adaptation of the novel by William Thackeray. Produced in England.

Cast: Susan Hampshire (Becky Sharpe), Marilyn Taylerson (Amelia Sedley), John Moffat (Joseph Sedley), Michael Rothwell (Sir Pitt Crawley), Dyson Lovell (Fawdon Crawley), Barbara Couper (Miss Crawley), Roy Marsden (George Osborne), Bryan Marshall (Dobbin), Consuela Burke (Pauline), Donald Sinclair (Prince of Orange), Terry Nelson (Duke of Wellington), Barbara Leaker (Mrs. Sedley), Debbie Davies (Lady Crawley).

8778 Variety. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 3/31/74). A proposed weekly series of performances by the top names in show business.

Host: Hugh Downs. Guests: Gabe Kaplan, Evel Knievel, David Merrick, Roberta Peters, Rodney Allen Rippey, Jim Stafford.

8779 Variety Over the Air. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 6/14/39). A potpourri of acts designed to transpose the format of a radio variety program to television. Highlights of the program were Ethel Waters performing in a dramatic scene from the then-recent Broadway play, Mamba's Daughters (by Dorothy and DuBose Heyward); Joey Faye and Phil Loeb performing songs and skits from 1938's "Sing Out the News" revue; and a scientific lecture by Dr. George Roemmert.

Host-Announcer: George Hicks. Performers: Ollie Barber, Georgia Buck, Joey Faye, Edith Gresham, Georgette Harvey, Leslie Littomy, Phil Loeb, Dr. George Roemmert, Fred Washington, Ethel Waters.

8780 Variety Show. (Experimental; Variety; Jenkins Labs; 8/20/30). Three New York buildings (a home at 98 Riverdale Drive; a store in the Hotel Ansonia on Broadway and 72nd Street; and the Hearst Building at Eighth Avenue and 75th Street) were equipped with a television screen in a variety show experiment to explore the possibilities of home reception. The transmission came from Jenkins experimental station W2XCD in Passaic, New Jersey.

Host: Harry Hershfield. Performers: Arthur “Bugs” Baer, George Jessel, Benny Rubin, Diana Seaby, Shirley W. Wynn.

8781 The Variety Show. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 5/8/39). The format had news bulletins by Lowell Thomas, a comedy performance by vaudeville veterans, the Three Swifts; songs with Mary Westcott (assisted at the piano by Dick Rodgers) performing numbers from “The Boys from Syracuse”; music by the Fred Waring Orchestra; and a playlet called The Unexpected (by Aaron Hoffman) with Marjorie Clark and Earl Lattimore. The program concluded with a Walt Disney cartoon called Donald’s Cousin Gus.

Host: Helen Lewis.

8782 Vaudeo Varieties. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). Eddie Hubbard hosts a program from Chicago that features five different entertainment acts each week. The series ran from January 14, 1949 to April 15, 1949.

8783 Vaudeville. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1975). Performances by vaudeville comedians and recreations of its unique comedy, music and song by new talent discoveries. Guests host (including) Milton Berle, Steve Allen, Jayne Meadows, Edgar Bergen, Eddie Foy, Rudy Vallee, Jack Carter, Red Buttons and Gordon MacRae. Burt Rosen is the producer.

Card Girl: Donna Jean Young. Orchestra: George Wyle.

8784 The Vaudeville Show. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 5/12/39). Performances by vaudeville artists. Included: songs by Helen Morgan; slapstick comedy by the three Weire Brothers; acrobatic antics with Paul Remos; Jean Muir and three unbilled supporting players performing the old vaudeville playlet The Red Hat; and a fencer named Aldo who demonstrated his skill. The program was panned by critics for its “hodge-podge of drab items.” “Dorothy Gish,” Variety said, was “televised badly and could scarcely have been identified without verbal aid.” Overall, Variety said “Fortunately these television trial balloons will die with the electrical pulsations that transmit them. They will not live to embarrass anybody. The future fans will not know just how bad some of the early programs were.” Today, if this program had survived, it would have been a treasure to behold from television’s experimental years — not an embarrassment.

Host: Dorothy Gish. Performers: Helen Morgan, Jean Muir, Paul Remos, The Weire Brothers.

8785 The Vaudeville Show. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 8/4/41). Performances by vaudeville entertainers. Included: songs by Caroline Marsh; comedy from Al Latell (as Bozo the Dog) and Charlie Althoff; roller skating by Dorothy and Lew Rowland; and dancing by the Dancing Debs (Lillian and Gertrude).

Host: Giles O’Connor.

8786 The Vaudeville Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953). A four-week interim series that features recreations of famous vaudeville routines (guests perform on each show). Glenn Osser and His Orchestra provide the musical backing. The series ran from December 9, 1953 to December 30, 1953.

8787 The Vaughn Monroe Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950). Music and songs with bandleader Vaughn Monroe as the host. It ran from October 10, 1950 to July 3, 1951.

Host: Vaughn Monroe. Regulars: Shaye Cogan, Ada Lynne, Ziggy Latent, Henry Davis, Olga Suarez, The Moon Maidens. Orchestra: Vaughn Monroe.

8788 The Vaughn Monroe Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1955). A summer program of music and songs with bandleader Vaughn Monroe as the host. The series ran from August 31, 1954 to September 30, 1954 and June 28, 1955 to September 8, 1955.

Host: Vaughn Monroe. Regulars: The Satisfiers, The Tunestones. Orchestra: Richard Hayman, Richard Maltby.

8789 Vegas. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1978–1981). Dan Tanna is a handsome, tough private detective with a penchant for finding (and helping) beautiful girls in trouble. He is based in Las Vegas and has a spacious office on the ground floor of the Desert Inn Casino and Hotel. His office also doubles as a garage (where he parks his prized 1957 Thunderbird).

Dan carries a .44 Magnum and while you wouldn’t think so, milk is his favorite drink. Although he lives at the Desert Inn and is friends with its owner (Philip Roth) Dan is not bound to cases involving the hotel and its guests and stories follow his case investigations — both at the hotel and from clients who walk in off the street.

Bea Travis (beautiful, bright and intelligent) and Angie Turner (a gorgeous dumb blonde) are the casino chorus girls who assist Dan (both were secretaries but as the series progressed Bea became more of an assistant than just a note taker). Robert “Binzer” Borseau is Dan’s legman; Dave Nelson is a lieutenant with the Las Vegas Police Department;

Sergeant Bella Archer is Dan's information lady at the station; Harlan Two Leaf is Dan's legman; Julie Travis is Bea's daughter; Diamond Jim is Dan's information man; Burt M. Cohen is the casino owner; and Margie is Binzer's girlfriend.

Cast: Robert Ulrich (Dan Tanna), Phyllis Elizabeth Davis (Bea Travis), Judy Landers (Angie Turner), Bart Braverman (Robert "Binzer" Borseau), Greg Morris (Lt. Dave Nelson), Naomi Stevens (Sgt. Bella Archer), Tony Curtis (Philip "Slick" Roth), Will Sampson (Harlan Two Leaf), Heather Hobbs (Julie Travis), Victor Buono (Diamond Jim), Burt M. Cohen (Himself), Cindy Morgan (Margie), Heather Menzies (Various Roles).

8790 Veggie Tales. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 2006). A land where vegetables live like humans and have the ability to move and talk is the setting. Each episode is designed to help children deal with a problem. The program begins with Bob the Tomato, the show's host, welcoming viewers to his home. With his co-host, Larry the Cucumber, Bob opens a letter just delivered by the mailman, Jimmy Gourd. The letter is read (contains a child's problem) and Bob and Larry, with the help of their friends Archibald Asparagus, Junior Asparagus, Mr. Lunt and Pa Grape, decide how to help the viewer (through story telling, old films and songs).

8791 The Veil. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1958). Dramatizations based on incredible but true phenomena. "The story you are about to see actually happened and is completely documented. It is one of those strange events that seem to defy all explanations; they lie beyond the veil of human knowledge and yet they happen. Science has many terms for these strange occurrences, but no explanations, as yet. But then, not too long ago, they had no explanation for a bolt of lightning or a falling star. They too seemed to come from beyond the Veil."

Host-Performer: Boris Karloff.

8792 Velvet. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/27/84). Velvet International is a world-wide chain of health spas that are actually high tech fronts for the N.S.I.A. (Network Security Intelligence Agency). Cass, Julie, Lauren and Ellen are four beautiful agents who pose as aerobics instructors and the unsold series was to relate their hazardous assignments. In the pilot episode, the girls attempt to rescue a kidnapped scientist who is being held for $10 million in ransom. Other Regulars: Mrs. Vance, the woman who runs Velvet; and Stefan, her assistant.

Cast: Leah Ayres (Cass Daton), Shari Belafonte

(Julie Rhodes), Mary-Margaret Humes (Lauren "Boots" Dawes), Sheree J. Wilson (Ellen Stockwell), Polly Bergen (Mrs. Vance), Michael Ensign (Stefan). Guest Cast: Andrea Marcovici (Erica Mueller), William Windom (Official), Leigh McCloskey (James Barstow), Ellen Geer (Nora Vandemeer), David Faustino (Billy Vandemeer), Clyde Kusatsu (Edward Yashima), Stephen Davies (Farrow).

8793 Vengeance Unlimited. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1998–1999). A mysterious man known only as Mr. Chapel, seemingly appears from out of nowhere to come to the aid of people who need to avenge a wrong done to them. Mr. Chapel charges $1 million for his services and guarantees results or he refunds the money. If, however, a client can't afford his services, he will do it for free — providing you sign an agreement to return the favor — whenever he needs it (to help with another case).

Mr. Chapel is assisted by K.C. Griffin, a gorgeous girl who was a former client and now repays her fee by helping Mr. Chapel help others. Mr. Chapel and K.C. never kill: they turn the tables on targets and use their own tactics against them. Mr. Chapel can be reached by phone at 555-0123; or at the Paladin Hotel, where he resides for free (in return for a favor).

Cast: Michael Madsen (Mr. Chapel), Kathleen York (K.C. Griffin), Louis Herthum (Conner Gulch).

8794 Venice Medical. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/29/83). The antics of the doctors and nurses attached to the Venice Medical Center in Venice, California. In the pilot episode, the staff attempts to treat an odd assortment of patients, including a television actress, a gang member and a distraught young man seeking help.

Cast: Michael Brandon (Dr. Pete Marcus), Barbara Rhoades (Nurse Ruth O'Malley), Clara Perryman (Dr. Becky Warfield), Stan Shaw (Dr. Alan Wilson), Brian Keeler (Dr. Randy Young), D.D. Howard (Nurse Abby McGee), Carol Arthur (Mrs. Baker; the regular visitor). Guest Cast: Elaine Giftos (Gwen Marcus), Rebecca Holden (Tawney), David Faustino (Terry Marcus), Ramon Franco (Jorge), Rick Garcia (Officer Montoya), Felipe Turich (Senor Rojas), Dennis Howard (Dr. Doug Wells).

8795 The Verdict Is Yours. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1957–1962). Dramatizations based on actual courtroom cases. Guest actors portray judges, witnesses, and plaintiffs; practicing attorneys portray the defense counselors. The series ran in primetime from July 3, 1958 to September 22, 1958; and on CBS daytime from September 2, 1957 to September 28, 1962.

Court Reporter: Jim McKay, Bill Stout.

8796 Veritas: The Quest. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 2003). Veritas is a secret and mysterious company that investigates ancient civilizations that involve beings from outer space (or other such unnatural things). Its enemy is the mysterious Brotherhood, which seeks to stop the members of Veritas (Latin for Truth) from learning the truth.

Veritas, also called the Truth Foundation, is based in New York City and is “well funded — let’s leave it at that,” says Solomon Zond, its top operative.

Solomon and his wife, Hayley Cayce, are archeologists and the parents of Nicholas (called Nikko). It was Hayley who set Solomon on the path he is currently traveling. Hayley was searching for a secret city when she was apparently murdered. Solomon doesn’t know what she found, why she was killed or who killed her. By joining Veritas he hopes to find that city and solve the mystery (possibly of a civilization that existed before the first known humans on record). Hayley believed that what she was searching for would rewrite the journals of time.

Solomon is also a professor at Princeton University. Nikko has been attending a private school called Brighton Academy. When Nikko proves to have a disciplinary problem, Solomon removes him from the school and hires a tutor (Juliet) to care for him while he travels.

Juliet is a student of Solomon’s (working on her doctorate in archeology). She and Nikko soon become involved with Veritas and a quest to find the evidence needed to prove the truth about mankind (this evidence is apparently contained in journals that were kept by Hayley. The journals were stolen from the university lab and Hayley was never found; her body was engulfed by a mysterious light in a cave and vanished). The series ended before any conclusions were given.

Cast Alex Carter (Solomon Zond), Ryan Merri-man (Nikko Zond), Cobie Smulders (Juliet Droil), Marybeth Cameron (Hayley Cayce), Arnold Vosloo (Vincent Siminou), Eric Balfour (Calvin Banks), Cynthia Martells (Maggie Hayes), Max Morrow (Nikko; as a child).

8797 Veronica Clare. (Series; Crime Drama; Lifetime; 1991). Veronica Clare is a Los Angeles-based private detective who operates out of a jazz club in China Town. Veronica is beautiful, elegant and has a non-violent approach to solving crimes — if she can avoid using a gun she will. Veronica also narrates her cases. The series ran from July 23, 1991 to September 17, 1991. Nine episodes were produced.

8798 Veronica Mars. (Series; Crime Drama; UPN; CW; 2004–07). Veronica Mars is a very beautiful 16-year-old girl who attends Neptune High School in a community of Balboa, California, called Neptune (a place where mostly rich people live according to Veronica). Veronica lives with her father, Keith, a former sheriff turned private investigator. And like Nancy Drew, Veronica helps her father solve crimes at Mars Investigations (at 1903 Seacrest).

Veronica is a computer expert and can pick locks with a hairpin (when that doesn’t work she uses bolt cutters). She also uses various disguises to go undercover when necessary. Veronica is gutsy and will take nothing from anyone. She lies, steals and cheats to get the evidence she needs to solve a case. Trouble seems to follow her around and she will help people for reasons that are sometimes known only to her.

While the series is actually one case that is resolved over the course of a season (in season one, for example, Veronica solved the murder of her best friend, Lily Kane), small cases often distract Veronica from her goal and these cases also comprise a bulk of the series.

Last season episodes find Veronica a freshman at Hearst College. She is majoring in criminology and works as a staff photographer for the school’s newspaper, The Hearst Free Press. While there is the traditional overall season-long crime for Veronica to solve, she also becomes involved in solving “mini mysteries” that affect her friends or the school; her father, Keith, has taken on the job of sheriff. He has written a book called Big Murder, Small Town. Lianne is Veronica’s estranged mother (actually a thief on the run from the law); Veronica has a dog named Buddy.

Cast: Kristen Bell (Veronica Mars), Enrico Colan-toni (Keith Mars), Percy Daggs III (Wallace Fennell), Jason Dohring (Logan Echolls), Francis Capra (Eli “Weevil” Navarro), Raven Hansen (Dick Casablancas), Teddt Dunn (Duncan Kane), Tina Majorino (Cindy “Mac” MacKenzie), Michael Muhrey (Sheriff Don Lamb), Kyle Gallner (Cassidy “Beaver” Casablancas), Brandon Hillock (Deputy Sacks), Tessa Thompson (Jackie Cook), Darin Morris (Cliff McCormick), Erica Gimpel (Alicia Fennell), Corinne Bohrer (Lianne Mars), Amanda Seyfried (Lily Kane), Lisa Thornhill (Celeste Kane), Harry Hamlin (Aaron Echolls), Chris Lowell (Stosh “Piz” Piznarski), Julie Gonzalo (Parker Lee), Duane Daniels (Van Clemmons), Charisma Carpenter (Kendall Casablancas), Alona Tal (Meg Manning), Ed Begley, Jr. (Cyrus O’Dell).

8799 Veronica’s Closet. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997–2000). Veronica Chase is a beautiful, crafty businesswoman who owns the very successful lingerie company, Veronica’s Closet (headquarters based in New York City). Veronica is also a best-selling author of romance and self-help books and is called “The Queen of Romance.”

But it wasn’t always so. Veronica was working as a counter girl in a Dairy Queen in Kansas when a fashion photographer noticed her good looks and stunning figure and hired her for a swimsuit ad. That picture of her in a macramé swimsuit was so stunning that it launched her on a modeling career, which led to her writing career and to her empire when she felt the need for women to have sexy lingerie.

Veronica is divorced from her philandering husband, Bryce (after 14 years of marriage; his infidelity — which was flaunted by the newspapers — was hurting her reputation and business and divorcing him was the only way to salvage her livelihood).

Veronica designs many of the bras she sells through mail order catalogues and mall stores. The Sherman Toy Company has released a roll model doll for girls based on Veronica and she has appeared on the cover of U.S. magazine. Stories follow Veronica, called Ronnie by her friends, as she seeks to enjoy the fruits of her labor despite the numerous problems that surround her at home and at work.

Olive is Veronica's outspoken best friend and senior merchandising head. Josh is Veronica's gay assistant (he could never understand why his attempts to seduce women always failed — until Veronica pointed out the reason why — “you're gay”). He makes Veronica's schedules and keeps her from going off the deep end with her favorite pastries.

Perry is the company's public relations director. Leo is the wet-behind-the-ears marketing executive; Pat is Veronica's father, who enjoys being her chauffeur. Alec is Veronica's business partner; June is his wife — and Veronica's new partner during the final season. Alec met June, a somewhat ditzzy waitress in the bar hangout (Finselli's) and married her three days later. On their honeymoon off the island of Jakarta, Alec perished in a freak volcano accident. June inherited a 51 percent share of the company and now drives Veronica insane with her antics. June says she wore a bra in the second grade — “and that's how you get to the third grade.” Veronica would like to take June's “little head and squeeze it until I smell helium.”

In the original unaired pilot version, Jamey Sheridan played the role of Bryce Chase, Veronica's ex husband.

Cast: Kirstie Alley (Veronica Chase), Christopher McDonald (Bryce Chase), Kathy Najimy (Olive Massery), Dan Cortese (Perry Rollins), Daryl “Chill” Mitchell (Leo Michaels), Ron Silver (Alec Bilson), Robert Prosky (Pat Chase), Wallace Langham (Josh Blair), Lorri Bagley (June Bilson).

8800 Versatile Varieties. (Series; Variety; NBC; ABC; CBS; 1949–1951). A live series set in a nightclub that features performances by guest stars. In a later format (1951), it became a children's variety show that featured songs, stories and performances by child stars. The program, sponsored by Bonny Maid products, ran on NBC from August 26, 1949 to January 19, 1951; on CBS from January 28, 1951 to July 22, 1951; and on ABC from September 21, 1951 to December 14, 1951.

Host: George Givot (1949), Harold Barry (1949–1950), Bob Russell (1950–1951). Hostess: Lady Iris Mountbatten (1951). Regulars: Anne Francis, Janis Paige, Eva Marie Saint, Edie Adams, The Delmars. Orchestra: Jerry Jerome, Bernie Sands, Mark Towers.

8801 A Very Missing Person. (Pilot; Mystery; ABC; 3/4/72). An unsold series about Hildegard Withers, a retired New York City school teacher turned amateur sleuth who annoys but helps the police solve baffling crimes. In the pilot episode, Hildegard and her young assistant, Al, help Inspector Piper search for a missing heiress.

Cast: Eve Arden (Hildegard Withers), Dennis Rucker (Al Fisher), James Gregory (Oscar Piper). Guest Cast: Julie Newmar (Aletha Westering), Ray Danton (Captain Westering), Skye Aubrey (Lenore Gregory/Sister Isobel), Udana Power (Mariette), Dawn Smith (Ora), Robert Easton (Onofre), Woodrow Parfrey (Eberhardt), Bob Hastings (Malloy).

8802 Vibe. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1997–1998). A late night talk show with comedian Sinbad as the host. The program features celebrity interviews, comedy bits and musical numbers.

8803 The Vic Damone Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1956–1957). A summer program of music and songs with singer Vic Damone as the host. The series, produced by Don Appel, ran from July 2, 1956 to September 24, 1956 and July 3, 1957 to September 11, 1957.

Host: Vic Damone. Regulars: Peggy King, The Spellbinders. Announcer: Rex Marshall, Johnny Olsen. Orchestra: Tutti Camarata, Bert Farber.

8804 The Vic Damone Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1971). Singer Vic Damone hosts a summer program of music and songs. The series, produced by Greg Garrison, aired from July 8, 1971 to August 19, 1971.

Host: Vic Damone. Regulars: Carol Lawrence, Gail Martin. Orchestra: Les Brown.

8805 The Vicki Lawrence Show. (Series; Talk; Fox; 1997). A daily program of celebrity interviews and lifestyle segments with actress Vicki Lawrence as the host. The morning program, originally titled Fox After Breakfast, featured chatter, interviews and comedy bits. Laurie Hibberd, the original host, was dropped when the series switched titles.

Host: Vicki Lawrence. Regulars: Suzanne Whang, Jeff MacGregor, Jillian Hamilton, Phil Keoghan. Announcer: Nancy Giles.

8806 The Victor Borge Show. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 11/9/44). The comical keyboard wizardry of pianist-comedian Victor Borge in his first television program (he was the host of his own series and several specials in the 1950s and 60s). Worthington Miner is the producer.

8807 The Victor Borge Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). A weekly program of music and comedy with Victor Borge, the comical wizard of the keyboard. The series ran from February 3, 1951 to June 30, 1951.

Host: Victor Borge. Orchestra: Phil Ingallis.

8808 Victoria Beckham: Coming to America. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2007). Victoria Beckham is married to soccer superstar David Beckham. Victoria sang with the Spice Girls (as Posh Spice) and is also a model. She and David have been living in England and have decided to make America their home. Because soccer commitments force David to remain in Spain, Victoria has chosen to come to America and start the ball rolling. They have chosen Los Angeles as their home and cameras follow Victoria as she seeks a home, learns to drive, deals with the paparazzi and, in general, just adjust to the American way of life. The program is unique in that a series was taped but was edited down to one hour and shown as a special on July 16, 2007.

Star and Narrator: Victoria Beckham.

8809 Victory. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 9/9/45). The story, set on a small island in the Java Sea, follows incidents in the lives of a group of people who frequent a small hotel run by a German innkeeper (E.A. Krumschmidt): an English couple (Uta Hagen, John McQuade), a Swede (Edward Crandall), and a Scotsman (John Robb).

8810 Victory at Sea. (Series; Documentary; NBC; 1952–1953). Films that detail the United States Naval operations during World War II. The series, which produced 26 episodes, was compiled from sixty million feet of film from ten governments; it aired from October 16, 1952 to April 19, 1953. In addition to the outstanding narration of Leonard Graves, the series is famous for its musical score, a 26-hour symphony composed by Richard Rodgers.

Narrator: Leonard Graves. Music Composer: Richard Rodgers.

8811 The Video Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1984). Two contestants compete in three rounds. In the first half of each round the contestants play the same video arcade game. The player who first reaches the predetermined score wins and proceeds to the second half of the round. Here the format varies somewhat, but the object calls for the contestant to either answer questions concerning video arcade characters or play video games (and attempt to reach a certain score within a very limited amount of time). Video-oriented games are awarded prizes to the best arcade game players.

Host: Greg Winfield. Assistant: Karen Lea. Announcer: Chris Creasis.

8812 Video Village. (Series; Game; CBS; 1960–1962). Two players compete in a game that is played on a large board with numerous squares of instructions (for example, “Go to Jail,” “Lose One Turn,” “Move Ahead Two Spaces”). The roll of two dice determines players’ moves and the first player to reach the finish line is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. A children’s version of the show, called Video Village Junior ran on CBS Saturday mornings from September 30, 1961 to June 16, 1962. The CBS prime time version ran from July 1, 1960 to September 23, 1960 and the CBS daytime version ran from July 11, 1960 to June 15, 1962.

Host (The Mayor): Jack Narz, Monty Hall. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

8813 Videopolis. (Series; Variety; Disney; 1988). A cable version of American Bandstand that features teenagers dancing to music (provided by guest bands and recording artists) at Videopolis at Disneyland in Southern California.

Host: Randy Newman.

8814 The Idiots. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/10/91). “If you’re unemployable, we’ll make your job enjoyable” is the slogan of the Plotz Employment Agency, a company run by Lenny, Lester and Louis Plotz, “three real nice brothers who are idiots.” The Plotz brothers are down on their luck, have no clients, but they know a lot of deadbeats. Their efforts to place what clients they have with what jobs are available was to be the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Lazlo Plotz, their late fourth brother’s son (whom they inherited along with the agency); and Bertha, their receptionist.

Cast: Roger Kabler (Lenny Plotz), John Kassir (Lester Plotz), Peter Pitofsky (Louie Plotz), Alex Zuckerman (Lazlo Plotz), Ellen Gerstein (Bertha). Guest Cast: Roy Brocksmith (Zwertlow Cruntag), Dorian Lopinto (Judge Thelma Canazo), Beans Morocco (Mailman), Lou Wills (Sam).

8815 Vietnam War Story. (Series; Anthology; HBO; 1987). Hard-hitting dramas inspired by events that actually occurred in Vietnam. Stories, written in some cases by actual Vietnam veterans, relate both the combat experiences of the soldiers as well as incidents in their personal lives.

Performers Include: Tony Becker, Angela Benton, Merritt Butrick, Eriq La Salle, Tony Higgins, David Harris, Hetty Edwards, Gregory Cruz, Daniel Jones, Marc Farley, Alan Duane, Byron Cherry, Tim Russ, Cheryl Song, Chris Robinson, Ching Valdes-

Aran, Amy Van Nostrand, Jeff Williams, Raymond Cruz.

8816 The View. (Series; Talk; ABC; 1997–). A daily exchange of conversation wherein a panel of women discuss the politics of the day. Celebrity interviews and general entertainment news is also a part of the program.

Moderator: Meredith Vieira. Panel: Barbara Walters, Joy Behar, Star Jones, Sherri Shepherd, Elizabeth Hasselbeck, Rosie O'Donnell, Joy Behar, Whoopi Goldberg.

8817 Viewtiful Joe. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2005–2007). Joe is a young man fascinated by Captain Blue, a motion picture action-adventure hero. One day while Joe and his girlfriend, Sylvia, are seated in a theater watching a Captain Blue film the villain emerges from the screen and pulls Sylvia into the movie. Without any time to think, Joe jumps into the screen and he also becomes a part of the movie. While searching for Sylvia, Joe meets his hero, Captain Blue, who bestows upon Joe the power of an anti-hero called Viewtiful Joe. Stories follow Joe as he searches the movie world for Sylvia. Produced in Japan in 2004.

Voice Cast: Jeff Nimoy (Joe), Philece Sampler (Sylvia), Paul S. Peter (Captain Blue), Kate Levine (Captain Blue, Jr.), Wendee Lee (Sprocket).

8818 Village Barn. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1950). A program of music and songs from the Village Barn, a nightclub in New York's Greenwich Village.

Host: Piute Pete. Regulars: Zebe Carver, Dick Thomas, Charlie Althoff, Ray Forrest, Dick Dudley, Bob Stanton. Music: Pappy Howard and His Tumbleweed Gang, Bill Long and His Ranch Girls.

8819 The Vin Scully Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1973). A short-lived series of music, guests and celebrity interviews with sportscaster Vin Scully as the host. The series ran from January 15, 1973 to March 23, 1973.

Host: Vin Scully. Announcer: Harry Blackstone, Jr. Orchestra: H.B. Barnum.

8820 The Vincent Lopez Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1956–1957). bandleader Vincent Lopez hosts a program of music and songs.

Host: Vincent Lopez. Regulars: Judy Lynn, Teddy Norman, Eddie O'Connor, Johnny Messner, Danny Davis, Johnny Amorosa. Orchestra: Vincent Lopez.

8821 Vinnie and Bobby. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992). A revamped version of Top of the Heap that continues to relate events in the life of Vincent ("Vinnie") Caulfield Verducci, a former boxer who is now a construction worker for Rand Construction. Vinnie shares Apartment 3B at 623 Cypress Avenue in Chicago with Robert ("Bobby") Grazzo, a not too bright construction worker who considers himself the consummate ladies' man. The only other character salvaged from the original series is Mona Mullins, Vinnie's beautiful and sensuous 17-year-old downstairs neighbor. Mona still craves Vinnie and can't wait until she turns 18. (She has given Vinnie a "Mona Countdown to Heaven Calendar." "I circled my eighteenth birthday; it's our wedding day." The calendar contains sexy, bikini-clad poses of Mona.) Vinnie still thinks Mona is too young for him ("jailbait") and avoids her like the plague ("Mona, you're like my kid sister, and we're never getting married"; Mona insists he is wrong).

Vinnie and Bobby have been friends since Bobby gave Vinnie the mumps in kindergarten. Vinnie attends night classes at Dick Butkus Community College (the only school that would accept him with a D average; Vinnie hopes to become a businessman with his name on the door).

Bobby is most concerned about his hair and uses the Omni Magnum 2000, the world's most powerful hair dryer. They frequent Martino's Restaurant and pick up girls at Smoke's, a pool hall and bar.

William ("Billy") Melvin Belly is the overweight, jovial construction worker who works with Vinnie and Bobby. Pizza is his favorite food, and he believes that Hoss Cartwright (on Bonanza) was the only man on television who knew what to do when the dinner bell rang. Bill greets people with "Hi, I just ate, but I'll be hungry soon." Bill also believes he is an amateur detective and frequents Martino's Pizza Parlor. Shelley Belly is Bill's ex-wife. Jimmy Thrill Quill and Danny Harvey sing the theme, "Vinnie and Bobby."

Cast: Matt LeBlanc (Vinnie Verducci), Robert Torti (Bobby Grazzo), Joey Lauren Adams (Mona Mullins), John Pinette (Melvin Belly), Julie Urbie (Shelley Belly).

8822 Violet. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). A proposed series about Violet Fields, a very pretty and talented six-year-old girl who is determined to break into show business — by either the front door or by kicking down the backstage door if necessary. Other Regulars: Anthony, her single father, a New York City fireman who is struggling to make ends meet; and Calvin, Violet's friend and "cohort in crime" as she scams her way into local auditions.

Cast: Raven-Symone (Violet Fields), Jeff Joseph (Anthony Fields), Zack English (Calvin).

8823 V.I.P. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1998–2002). Vallery Irons is beautiful, young and single. She has no special skills, little business experience, no knowledge of computers, but is an expert on makeup ad fashion.

She is also the owner of V.I.P. (Vallery Irons Protection), a high profile Los Angeles-based private protection service. Tasha Dexter, Nikki Franco, Quick Williams, Kay Simmons and Johnny Loh are her operatives.

Vallery is called "The Bodyguard to the Stars." She shows ample cleavage, loves short skirts and high heels and displaying her stunning figure in the most revealing outfits television permitted at the time. Vallery's knowledge of criminal activities comes from watching Law and Order. Her purpose at V.I.P. "is to pull in the rich and famous." Her haphazard crime fighting skills (accomplishes everything by accident) have led criminals to believe that her incompetence is her secret weapon.

Vallery has the ability to have a good time in any situation. Her (and her colleagues) favorite hangout is the bar Foam. Vallery was raised by her mother, Carol Irons (Loni Anderson) after her father Jed Irons (Lee Majors) deserted the family. Jed was a CIA agent and abandoned his family to protect them when a mission went wrong and he was framed for killing agents. Vallery believed her father was a house painter. Carol now works for STX Consolidated, a computer company in Vancouver, Canada.

Vallery shares her apartment with Maxene Della Cruz, a gorgeous fashion designer. Max calls Vallery "Val Gal." "The Evil Me," as Vallery calls Joan Archer, is Vallery's double (Pamela Anderson), an ex-undercover cop who was drummed out of the police department and uses Vallery's identity to commit crimes.

Tasha is the most ruthless of the V.I.P. girls. She was a CIA double agent ("I was a spy for the Soviet Union before I switched sides") and can speak six languages. Tasha is well versed in the martial arts and a licensed helicopter pilot. She was also a former KGB operative, a member of the Israeli Army and an agent for MI-5. She has also been married four times and spent one year in a KGB prison. She also mentioned she was a fashion model before becoming a spy. Tasha has a short attention span and says, "I do all the dangerous work and Val gets all the credit." Tasha is also uptight around Vallery because "no matter what case we are on, Vallery needs protection."

Nicollette, called Nikki, is a member of the Franco crime family "but I have nothing to do with the crime end of it." Her grandfather, Don Franco (David Groh), is a mafia boss in Los Angeles. Nikki is the most violent of the V.I.P. girls and feels bullets and guns are the only way to deal with the enemy. She carries two 357 magnums with her at all times and a grenade launcher is her favorite weapon (which she carries in the trunk of her car). Nikki is also an expert on bombs and explosives and has an electronic "sniffer" (bomb detector) shaped like a dog she calls Rex.

Quick is a former boxer who uses the skills he learned in the ring to defeat his enemies. In an early episode he said he was called "The Iron Bull" in the ring; later he says he was called "The Boxer with the Quick Hands." He had to quit the ring when he refused to take a dive and was framed on drug charges. Quick can tap dance, served a hitch in the army but was sentenced to the psychiatric ward for running naked across the base. Quick (no other name given) is skilled in the martial arts.

Kay is the agency's sexy and brilliant computer expert (Kay is the only other V.I.P. girl who wears revealing tops and shows cleavage). Kay would like to become more active in the field and be like Tasha and Nikki ("I can be mean and vicious as long as I don't hurt anyone"). Her middle name is Eugenia and says, "I rather it be Danger; anything is better than Eugenia." At the age of seven, Kay was enrolled in Neo Tech, "a school for brainy kids." Kay's computer name is "Muffin Girl" ("I like muffins") and curiosity is her Achilles heel.

Johnny joined the series in last season episodes. He is a former Hollywood stuntman and a risk taker who is skilled in the martial arts. Frankie Blue composed the theme.

Cast: Pamela Anderson (Vallery Irons), Molly Culver (Tasha Dexter), Natalie Raitano (Nikki Franco), Shaun Baker (Quick Williams), Leah Lail (Kay Simmons), Dustin Nguyen (Johnny Loh).

8824 Viper. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1994; Syn; 1997–2000). Viper is a crime-fighting car of the future. "It prowls the streets in the pursuit of justice. It is the perfect weapon for an imperfect future." Viper's origins are secret ("it's 21st century technology").

The Viper, originally red (NBC), then blue (Syndicated) morphs into the indestructible silver Defender at the touch of a button (people who see the Defender report it as "a phantom vehicle"). The original car, a 1992 red Dodge Viper RT/10 Roadster, was used for the NBC version and the first two seasons of the syndicated version. The final season kept the abilities of the prior car but incorporated them into a stock 1990 Dodge blue Viper GTS Coupe.

The NBC Format: Viper was created by Julian Wilkes as a secret project for the Chicago Police Department. Delia Thorne, a commander with Metropole Police, funded the project as a weapon to fight a criminal organization called the Outfit. At this same time, master thief Michael Peyton is seriously injured in a car crash while attempting to escape from a robbery. Peyton is taken to County General Hospital and unknowingly becomes part of the Viper Project. Delia believes Peyton's skills as a thief as well as a driver make him the perfect candidate to drive Viper.

Peyton's memory is surgically altered to create the identity of Joe Astor, a police officer who was a former auto racing champion. A chip is implanted in Michael's brain to suppress his memories and create his new identity (to cover their tracks, the police department releases a statement saying Michael Peyton died in a mysterious blast). However, before the Viper Project can be launched, it is scrapped due to corruption in the police department. In an attempt to save the project, Joe and Julian kidnap Viper and set up a secret headquarters in an abandoned power station they call "The Batcave." They are assisted by Franklin "Frankie" Xavier Waters, the police department motor pool mechanic who works as their inside man. Figuring she can accomplish more away from the department, Delia quits and joins the Consortium, a group of people who work with honest cops to stop the Outfit.

The Syndicated Version: The setting has changed to Metro City and the FBI is now in possession of the Viper Project (which is housed in a secret headquarters called "The Viper Complex.")

When Joe objected to the way the government ran the project, he quit. Thomas Cole, a former maverick CIA operative turned FBI Special Investigator, is assigned as Viper's driver. Julian leaves for a post in Washington; the Outfit/Consortium/Delia aspect is dropped.

Cameron Westlake is a patrol car officer with the Metro City Police Department. Her father, a captain, and her two brothers, law enforcement officers, have gold shields for outstanding work. Cameron demonstrates the same potential and is promoted to detective. She is assigned to the Viper Project as Cole's assistant and becomes the liaison between Viper and the police department. Frankie is transferred from the police department to the Viper Complex as the chief mechanic. Dr. Allie Farrow is the engineer responsible for Viper's computer and weapons systems as well as maintaining the complex's "nerve center," the computer base of operations.

Changes occur in the final season. Viper is destroyed in an explosion at the same time Cole decides to leave to pursue other career opportunities. Allie also leaves to join a government think tank in Portugal. Frankie becomes the new computer expert (and mechanic) as the FBI commissions Julian Wilkes to create a new Viper (the 1990 Dodge). Julian, wheelchair bound in the NBC version, is now able to walk due to a morphing device he invented that was implanted in his spine. However, as Joe Astor is asked to return and drive Viper (and assist Cameron), Julian leaves for "a job at NASA" that he can't refuse. FBI agent Sherman Catlett becomes the liaison between the new Viper team and the FBI.

Shirley Walker composed the original theme (NBC), Eddie Jobson the syndicated theme version.

Cast: James McCafferty (Michael Peyton/Joe Astor), Dorian Harewood (Julian Wilkes), Lee Chamberlain (Delia Thorne), Joe Nipote (Frankie Waters), Jeff Kaake (Thomas Cole), Heather Medway (Cameron Westlake), Dawn Stern (Dr. Allie Farrow), J. Downing (Sherman Catlett).

8825 The Virginia Graham Show. (Series; Talk-Variety; Syn.; 1970–1972). A daily program of music, talk and celebrity interviews that is available to stations in either a thirty or sixty-minute format.

Hostess: Virginia Graham. Music: The Ellie Frankel Quintet, The Jimmy Rowles Quartet.

8826 The Virginian. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 7/6/58). The original unsold thirty-minute pilot film for the 1962–70 series of the same title (it sold when it was reworked as a 90-minute concept). In an attempt to acquire help for his ranch (bookkeeping and new methods of caring for stock) Judge Henry sends to Virginia for the son of a good friend. When the unnamed man arrives in Wyoming he becomes involved in a plot to foil the Judge's efforts to build a railroad spur to his ranch. When the Virginian (as he is known) exposes the ranch foreman (Ben) as the culprit, he becomes the Judge's right hand man. The proposal was to relate the Virginian's efforts to help Judge Henry develop his dream of turning an unsettled region into a booming town.

Cast: James Drury (The Virginian), Robert Burton (Judge Henry), Stephen Joyce (Steve Henry), Jeanette Nolan (Dora), Andrew Duggan (Ben Stocker), Dan Blocker (Salem), Robert Gist (Dawes).

8827 The Virginian. (Series; Western; NBC; 1962–1970). Events in the shaping of Wyoming during the 1880s as seen through the eyes of the Virginian, the foreman of the Shiloh Ranch in the town of Medicine Bow.

The Virginian, called once by the first name of Jim, is a mysterious drifter who believes in justice and originally took the job as ranch foreman to help its first owner, Judge Henry Garth, battle unscrupulous men attempting to stop the judge from building a railroad spur to his ranch.

Morgan Starr becomes the temporary ranch owner after Judge Garth. The ranch then fell into the hands of John Grainger and finally Clay Grainger.

Trampas is the assistant foreman. Betsy Garth is Henry's (a widower) daughter; Randy is his son and Jennifer is his niece. Holly Grainger is Clay's wife; Elizabeth Grainger is John's niece and Stacy is John's grandson.

Molly Wood is the town's newspaper publisher; Mark Abbott is the town sheriff; Emmett Ryker is the deputy sheriff; and ranch hands are Belden, David, Jim, Steve and Gene. See also The Men from Shiloh, the spin-off series.

Cast: James Drury (The Virginian), Lee J. Cobb (Judge Henry Garth), John Dehner (Morgan Starr), Charles Bickford (John Grainger), John McIntire (Clay Grainger), Jeanette Nolan (Holly Grainger), Doug McClure (Trampas), Pippa Scott (Molly Wood), Roberta Shore (Betsy Garth), Randy Boone (Randy Garth), Diane Roter (Jennifer Garth), Sara Lane (Elizabeth Grainger), Don Quine (Stacy Grainger), Ross Elliott (Sheriff Mark Abbott), Clu Gulager (Deputy Emmett Ryker), David Hartman (David Sutton), Tim Matheson (Jim Horn), Jean Peloquin (Gene), Gary Clarke (Steve Hill), Harlan Warde (Sheriff Brannon), The Irish Rovers (Town Bartenders).

8828 The Vise. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1954–1956). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are caught in a web of their own misdeeds. After 65 episodes, the format changed to depict the adventures of Mark Saber, a former Scotland Yard inspector turned private detective based in England. The anthology version of the series ran from October 1, 1954 to December 16, 1955; the “Mark Saber” version ran from December 23, 1955 to October 12, 1956.

Cast: Ron Rondell (Host, anthology segment), Donald Gray (Mark Saber).

8829 Visions of Murder. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/7/93). Jesse Newman is a widowed psychotherapist and the mother of a teenage daughter (Kimberly). She lives in San Francisco and possesses a paranormal power of perception that entangles her in homicide investigations. The unsold series was to relate Jesse’s experiences as she uses her powers to help the police solve murders. In the pilot episode, Jesse tries to find the killer of a patient of hers. See also the following title.

Cast: Barbara Eden (Jesse Newman), Erika Flores (Kimberly Newman). Guest Cast: James Brolin (Hal), Terry O’Quinn (Admiral Hager), Joan Pringle (Gwen), Scott Brice (Lieutenant Sayles), Anita Finlay (Gloria), Jack Shearer (Captain Armstrong), Ray Reinhardt (Professor Brenner).

Cast: Barbara Eden (Jesse Newman), Missy Crider (Kimberly Newman), Michael Nouri (David Zaccariah). Guest Cast: Ted Marcoux (Detective Tony Carpelli), David Marciano (Ken Burch), Steven Anthony Jones (Captain Jim Armstrong), Joan Pringle (Gwen Singleton).

8831 The Visitor. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1997). Adam MacArthur is an Air Force pilot who, in 1947, mysteriously vanishes when he flies through the Bermuda Triangle. A search and rescue mission is conducted, but no sign of Adam or his plane are found and he is presumed dead. Fifty years later, Adam resurfaces, unchanged in his appearance from 1947 but heightened with perceptions and abilities.

Adam has seen the future and knows the earth is headed on a path of destruction. He escaped from his mysterious universe to help people facing insurmountable odds but he must also elude the aliens who captured him (and want him back) and the U.S. government — who want to question him about where he has been and why he has suddenly reappeared.

Douglas Wilcox is the FBI agent seeking Adam; Colonel James Vise is his NSA counterpart. Flash-back sequence reveal that Adam was married to Constance and the father of Charlotte.

Cast: John Corbett (Adam MacArthur), Grand L. Bush (Douglas Wilcox), Steve Railsback (Col. James Vise), Leon Rippy (Agent Nicholas LaRue), John Storey (Agent Craig Van Patten), Lola Glaudini (Constance MacArthur), Tammy Lauren (Charlotte MacArthur).

8832 Visual Girl. (Series; Advice; Syn.; 1971). A program, geared to teenage girls, that presents ideas and suggestions concerning exercise, makeup, skin care and fashion.

Host: Ron Russell. Assistant: Lois Rose.

8833 Viva Laughlin. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2007). Ripley Holden is a successful businessman (owner of a chain of 13 convenience stores) and a happily married family man. Natalie is his wife and they are the parents of Cheyenne and Jack. Ripley also has a dream — to build a casino in the gambling district of Laughlin, Nevada (129 miles south of Las Vegas).

Ripley is a gambler. He sells his stores and begins construction on a gambling casino. He is soon facing not only financial problems but a more serious problem — his ex-partner, Buddy Baxter (Wings Hauser) has been found murdered in his club. The series now becomes a mystery as Peter Carlyle, a detective with the Nevada Police Department begins an investigation into the crime with Ripley among the suspects.

Ripley’s gambling club (Casino Viva) is built (with the help of investor Bunny Baxter, Buddy’s wife). Ripley is now anxious to establish his casino but he is embroiled in a murder investigation; Jack wants to help out at the casino; Cheyenne, 18, wants his approval (on anything; like dating an older man); and Natalie wants more attention (especially in bed). Ripley is an optimist as to him there is no such thing as bad news (although he is totally surrounded by it). Stories follow Ripley as he struggles to run his casino and Peter’s efforts to solve the murder. Stories are a bit unusual: as a song is played in the background, characters sing along as the action progresses.

Nicky Fontana is Ripley's business rival (owner of Fontana's); Jonesy is Ripley's accountant. Based on the British series Viva Blackpool. The series was cancelled after two episodes (October 18 to October 21, 2007) without resolving any issues.

Cast: Lloyd Owen (Ripley Holden), Madchen Amick (Natalie Holden), Eric Winter (Peter Carlyle), Ellen Woglom (Cheyenne Holden), Carter Jenkins (Jack Holden), D.B. Woodside (Marcus), P.J. Byrne (Jonesy), Hugh Jackman (Nicky Fontana), Melanie Griffith (Bunny).

8834 Viva Pinata. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2006–2007). Piñata Island is a picturesque little island where many piñatas live and dream of that one big day when they will be chosen to entertain at a party “like only piñatas can.” The piñatas, who enjoy eating as much candy as possible, frolic on the island until they are chosen for a party (when this happens, they are blasted [by a cannon-like device] to the parties by Piñata Central). Stories follow the adventures of a group of piñatas, all based on animals as they encounter misadventures on the island.

Voice Cast: Jamie McGonnigal (Teddington Twingersnaps), Brian Maillard (Paulie Pretztail), Dan Green (Hudson Horstachio), David Wills (Fergy Fudgehog), Marc Thompson (Franklink Fizzlybear).

8835 Viva Valdez. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1976). The Valdezes are a Mexican-American family living in East Los Angeles and struggling to maintain their traditional values in a rapidly changing world. The family lives at 363½ La Hamber Street. Luis, the father, is a plumber. He is married to Sophie and they are the parents of Connie, Victor and Ernesto. Pepe and Jerry are their cousins and stories relate the events that effect their daily lives.

Cast: Rodolfo Hoyos (Luis Valdez), Carmen Zapata (Sophie Valdez), Lisa Mordente (Connie Valdez), James Victor (Victor Valdez), Nelson D. Cuevas (Ernesto Valdez), Claudio Martinez (Pepe Valdez), Jorge Cervera, Jr. (Jerry Ramirez). Theme Music: “Viva Valdez” by Shorty Rogers.

8836 Viva Variety. (Series; Variety; Comedy Central; 1997). A British couple (Meredith and Agatha Laupin) team with an American dim-wit (Johnny Blue Jeans) to host a series of skits coupled with novelty acts.

8837 The Voice of Firestone. (Series; Music; NBC; ABC; 1949–1963). Classical and semi classical concerts sponsored by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. The series actually began on November 29, 1943 as Voice of Firestone Televiews wherein ten-to-fifteen minute documentary films were shown. The series (of music) ran on NBC from September 5, 1949 to June 7, 1954 and on ABC from June 14, 1954 to June 16, 1963. Although long running, the series has never been syndicated; segments of the series however, can be seen on Classic Arts Showcase a free satellite service that is offered to broadcast, cable and PBS stations.

Host-Narrator: John Daly. Vocalists: The Howard Barlow Chorus. Announcer: Hugh James. Music Director: Howard Barlow. Substitute Music Director: Xavier Cugat, Percy Faith, Eugene Ormandy, Fred Waring.

8838 Voltron — Defender of the Universe. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1984). In a future era, the Galaxy Alliance is formed to protect the universe and maintain the peace. When the evil King Zarkon and Prince Lotor (from the Planet of Doom) threaten the universe, the Alliance resurrects Voltron, a lion robot from the planet Arus, who once before battled to protect member planets of the Alliance. Voltron joins the Space Explorers and stories relate the battle to save the planets of the Galaxy Alliance.

Voices: Jack Angel, Michael Bell, Neil Ross, B.J. Ward, Lennie Weinrib, Tress MacNeille, Kevin Michael Richardson.

8839 Volume One. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1949). Eerie stories of horror and suspense. The title refers to the titles given to each story (for example, the first episode is “Volume One, Number One.” The second episode is “Volume One, Number Two” and so on). The program is based on the radio series Quiet, Please (the original TV series title). It produced six episodes and aired from June 16, 1949 to July 21, 1949.

Host-Narrator: Ernest Chappel. Announcer: Ed Michaels.

8840 Vortech: Undercover Conversion Squad. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1996). In a futuristic era, technology has been developed to transform humans into powerful machines called Bio-Mechs. The Bio-Mechs, however, have a flaw that has turned them evil as they seek to take over the world and acquire other humans to become a part of their Matrix. Battling the Bio-Mechs are the Techs, a group of normal humans who are dedicated to stopping the spread of the Bio-Mechs.

Voice Cast: David Sobolov (Damian), Venus Terzo (Miranda), Ian James Corlett (Hardfire).

8841 Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1964–1968). Off the southern coast of California is located the N.I.M.R. (Nelson Institute for Marine Research), a government organization that does oceanic research. Five hundred feet beneath the institute is a top secret base, carved out of solid rock, which houses the Seaview, an awesome, atomic powered submarine.

"The Seaview is the most extraordinary submarine in all the seven seas. Its public image is that of an instrument of marine research; in actuality it is the mightiest weapon afloat and is secretly assigned the most dangerous missions against the enemies of mankind."

Harriman Nelson, an admiral in the U.S. Navy, is the creator and designer of the sub; he is also in charge of the scientific projects the Seaview will undertake. Lee Crane is the sub's captain. He is a by-the-books commander and once before served under Nelson when he captained the submarine Nautilus. Chip Morton is the skipper, and Chief Petty Officer Curley Jones, Chief Francis Sharkey and "Ski" Kowalski are the featured crew members.

The Seaview can take depths up to 3,600 feet (anything deeper strains the hull and could cause the sub to explode). Code 452 is the Seaview's code to the White House; Code 777 is the sub's code to the Pentagon. In the original, unaired pilot version (filmed in December 1963), the sub's commander was John Phillips (a credit was not given). "The Seaview's job is never finished," says Nelson, "as long as there are evil forces active in the world."

8842 Voyagers! (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1982–1983). A Voyager is a traveler in time who helps correct history's mistakes. Voyagers travel through time using the power of an Omni, a compass like device that is inscribed with the words "Time waits for no man." When an Omni flashes a red light, it indicates that history is wrong; a green light means that all is normal in a historical period.

Phineas Bogg is a seventeenth-century pirate who was "plucked out of time" to become a Voyager. Following the deaths of his parents, Bill and Cathy, 11-year-old Jeffrey Jones is sent to live with his aunt, Elizabeth (Janie Bradley), in Manhattan. As Bogg is traveling in time, his Omni, which had been programmed only up to 1970, malfunctions and sends him to 1982. Phineas "falls to earth" on the window ledge of Jeffrey's high rise apartment building bedroom. Bogg breaks the window and enters the room. Jeffrey's dog, Ralph, grabs Bogg's guidebook and a struggle ensues. As Jeffrey is attempting to get the book from Ralph, he accidentally falls out the window. Phineas jumps out after him. He grabs Jeffrey, touches his Omni and the two are sent safely into time (1450 B.C. Egypt). Because of the setting on his Omni, Bogg is unable to return Jeffrey to his time and is forced to become his guardian.

Bogg attended Voyager School but was more interested in watching the girls in his class than in learning about history; he is therefore lost without his guidebook. Jeffrey, who is destined to become a Voyager, is a history buff and soon himself becomes Bogg's "guidebook." Together they set out to correct history's mistakes.

Phineas has an eye for the ladies of the eras he visits. He calls Jeffrey "Kid" and remarks, "Smart kids give me a pain." He uses the catchphrase "Bat's breath" when something goes wrong. Jeffrey, whose father was a history professor, calls Phineas "Bogg" and poses as his son or his nephew depending on the situation.

Tracy Brooks Swope plays Voyager Olivia Dunn, and Stephen Liska is Drake, the renegade Voyager. Anne Lockhart and John O'Connell appeared as Jeffrey's great-grandparents, Amy and Steven Jones, in the episode "Merry Christmas, Bogg." Theme: "Voyagers!" by Jerrold Immel.

Note: In 1985 MCA Home Video released Voyager from the Unknown and everything changed: "Far out in the cosmos there exists a planet known as Voyager, where the mystery of travel into space and through time has been solved. It is inhabited by a race who call themselves Voyagers. Their purpose is to keep constant surveillance on history.... These people have a time-machine device, the Omni, which will take them into the past, present or future. As each Voyager graduates ... he is given an Omni and a guidebook. One such graduate was Phineas Bogg, who was assigned as a field worker to operate in certain time zones...." (The History Surveillance Unit, a computer complex, keeps track of Voyagers during their assignments.)

The 91-minute movie was re-edited from the pilot and the "Voyagers of the Titanic" episodes of the series. The year in which Jeffrey and Phineas met has been changed to 1984; the Omni now buzzes when opened (instead of sounding a bell); and they now travel through time in computer guided space hoops (instead of by quasi-free flight through space as in the series).

Phineas opens the show: "We travel through time to help history along — give it a push when needed. When the Omni is red it means history is wrong. Our job is to get everything back on track."

Cast: Jon-Erik Hexum (Phineas Bogg), Meeno Peluce (Jeffrey Jones).

8843 VR.5. (Series; Fantasy; Fox; 1995). VR.1 is Virtual Reality. Computer Screen, Interactive

Video is VR.2. The highest level thus far achieved is VR.3 (Flight Simulation) and Cyber Space is VR.4. TeleCal Telephone Company lineman and computer whiz Sydney Bloom has discovered the fifth level of Virtual Reality — worlds she can enter but can't control. This is the overall concept of the series; the actual episodes are a weekly mystery concerning Sydney, her father (Dr. Bloom) and her twin sister, Samantha.

It began in Pasadena, California in 1978 (when Sydney was 12) when Dr. Bloom created an advanced computer that was capable of Virtual Reality. Viewers are shown eerie sequences of unknown people attempting to seize Dr. Bloom and his daughters (presumably for his knowledge of computers). Dr. Bloom, Samantha and Sydney manage to break free and are attempting to escape in their car when it crashes through a guard rail and plunges into a river. Sydney manages to escape, but she sees her father and sister drown. The shock presumably traumatizes Sydney's mother (Nora), and Sydney's efforts to find out what actually happened that night is the focal point of the series. Complicating matters is the Committee, a mysterious organization that needs Sydney for what she can do with computers. Hoping that the Committee can somehow help her, Sydney agrees to work with them and acquires small pieces to her puzzle each week.

In the season finale, "Reunion," Sydney learns the truth: her father and Samantha were kidnapped by the Committee so Dr. Bloom would continue his experiments in Virtual Reality for them. She and her mother were subjected to a mind-altering computer program that left her with memories of her father and sister drowning and her mother traumatized. It is at this time that the Committee divides itself with both sides seeking power. It enables Dr. Bloom and Samantha to escape — and by chance, Sydney and Samantha meet. Samantha takes Sydney to a safe house where she learns that her father has gone one step further — VR.7 (different electrical impulses that stimulate a different part of the brain). Sydney feels that VR.7 may be the key to freeing her mother and uses it to do just that — but the experience leaves Sydney in an unknown state — a cliffhanger to be resolved if the series was renewed; it wasn't.

Other Regulars: Duncan, Sydney's friend; Dr. Frank Morgan, a professor of Virtual Reality who helps Sydney; and Oliver Sampson, the Committee member who helps Sydney. The series ran from March 10, 1995 to May 12, 1995.

Cast: Lori Singer (Sydney Bloom), Michael Easton (Duncan), David McCallum (Dr. Joseph Bloom), Louise Fletcher (Nora Bloom), Tracey Needham (Samantha Bloom; adult), Kimberly Cullen (Samantha Bloom; as a child), Kari Williams (Sydney Bloom; as a child), Will Patton (Dr. Frank Morgan), Anthony Stewart Head (Oliver Sampson).

8844 V.R. Troopers. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1994–1995). Ryan, Kaitlin and J.B. are friends who live in a place called Crossworld City. One day while working on his computer, J.B. receives a message for Ryan: "Greetings from Virtual Reality. I have gone to great lengths to contact a young man, Ryan Steele." J.B. contacts Ryan and they learn the message came from Professor Horatio Hart. By contacting Hart, Ryan learns Hart has a message from his father, Tyler, who mysteriously disappeared ten years ago. Ryan is instructed to meet Hart at his lab. There, Ryan, Kaitlin and J.B. meet the professor and are given virtual reality glasses "to see our world from the virtual reality world." Ryan learns his father has stepped into virtual reality to stop Grimlord, an evil being trying to break out of that realm and release an army of mutant robots on the real world. Professor Hart and Tyler need Ryan and his most trusted friends to become their V.R. Troopers.

J.B. and Kaitlin agree to help. They are given power jewels that transform them into soldiers when they touch the jewel and say "Trooper Transfer, We Are V.R." Grimlord has the ability to cross over into both worlds. In the real world he is a powerful industrialist named Ziktor (head of Ziktor Industries); in the virtual reality world, he is Grimlord (both played by Gardner Baldwin).

Ziktor calls on the forces of darkness to transport him to virtual reality. There, as Grimlord, he commands mutants, known as Skugs, to do his bidding. Once he has taken control of the world, Grimlord hopes to combine with Ziktor and become all powerful and rule the world.

Kaitlin works as a reporter for a newspaper called the Daily Underground Voice; Ryan and J.B. are instructors at the Tao Dojo Karate Studio (owned by Tao Dojo). Jed, Ryan's dog, also assists the troopers on assignments. Shuki Levy composed the theme.

Cast: Brad Hawkins (Ryan), Sarah Brown (Kaitlin), Michael Bacon (J.B.), David Carr (Tyler), Julian Combs (Horatio Hart), Gardner Baldwin (Grimlord/Ziktor).

8845 VTV. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1987). Celebrity interviews, audience participation and a shopping club (Value Television) wherein viewers can purchase merchandise at greatly reduced prices via a toll-free telephone number and their credit card.

Hosts: Alex Trebek, Meredith MacRae, Richard Simmons. Announcer: Bob Braun.

8846 Vytor, the Starfire Champion. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 1/16 to 1/19/89). Vytor is the Starfire Champion, the heroic savior of Terro Island. Princess Skyla is the daring defender of the Cloud People. Together they become invincible and the proposed series was to relate their efforts to protect the universe from the evil being seeking to control it. Presented as four half-hour episodes that were later syndicated as the two hour television movie The World of Vytor.

Voice Cast: Michael Horton (Vytor), Neil Ross (Targil), Liz Gorges (Skyla), Allison Argo (Baboose), Peter Cullen (Myzori Elder).

8847 The Wackiest Ship in the Army. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1965–1966). The South Pacific during World War II is the setting. In an effort to infiltrate enemy lines, the U.S. Army acquires the Kiwi, a two-mastered 1871 schooner that it re-commissions as a neutral Swedish sailing ship. Army Intelligence appoints Major Simon Butcher to captain the Kiwi. He selects a crew (listed in cast) and they pose as Swedish sailors thus allowing them to sail in enemy waters. Stories follow Simon and his crew as they observe Japanese movements, assist allies, and inform U.S. officials of enemy strategy. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Jack Warden (Major Simon Butcher), Gary Collins (Lt. Richard "Rip" Riddle), Mike Kellin (Chief Willie Miller), Fred Smoot (Machinist Mate Seymour Trivers), Don Penny (Charles Tyler, the cook), Mark Slade (Radioman Patrick Hollis), Rudy Solari (Crewman Nagurski), Duke Hobbie (Crewman Finch), Bill Zuckert (General Cross), Charles Irving (Admiral Vincent Beckett). Theme Song: "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" by Howard Greenfield, Jack Keller, Helen Miller.

8848 Wacko. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1977). A Saturday morning, live action series that is set at the Wacko Clubhouse and features outlandish comedy skits, animation, musical numbers and songs geared to children. While entertaining (more for teenagers) the fast-paced presentation and material didn't play well for children and the series was cancelled after nine episodes.

Cast: Julie McWhirter, Bo Kaprall, Charles Fleischer, Millicent Crisp, Doug Cox, Bob Comfort, Rick Kellard. Music: Stu Gardener.

8849 The Wacky Races. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1968–1970). The saga of a cross-country automobile race. Particular focus is on the evil Dick Dastardly and his efforts to win the race at any cost to secure the title of "The World's Wackiest Racer." He is assisted by Muttley, a snickering dog, and they drive the Mean Machine. The other competitors are Pat Pending, the ingenious inventor who drives the Convert-A-Car; Rufus Ruffnut and Sawtooth, drivers of the Buzz Wagon; Penelope Pitstop, "the glamour gal of the gas pedal," who drives the Compact Pussycat; The Slag Brothers, Rock and Gravel, drivers of the Boulder Mobile; The Ant Hill Mob, drivers of the Bulletproof Bomb; The Red Max, pilot of the Crimson Haybailer; The Gruesome Twosome, drivers of the Creepy Coupe; and Luke and Blubber Bear, drivers of the Arkansas Chugabug. See also The Perils of Penelope Pitstop, the spin-off series.

8850 The Wacky World of Jonathan Winters. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1972). Unrehearsed comedy skits that utilize Jonathan Winters' greatest gift: his ability to improvise.

Host: Jonathan Winters. Regulars: Marian Mercer, Mary Gregory, Ronny Graham, The Soul Sisters.

8851 The Wacky World of Tex Avery. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1997). Various short cartoons, produced in the unusual (wacky) style of animator Tex Avery, that feature such characters as Einstone, the prehistoric inventor, Freddy the Fly, Power Pooch and Pompeii Pete.

Voice Cast: David Kaye (Narrator), Billy West (Tex Avery), Billy West (Freddy Fly), Billy West (Sagebrush Kid), Ian James Corlett (Pompeii Pete), Ian James Corlett (Einstone), Scott McNeil (Amanda Banshee), Lee Tockar (Ghengis), Phil Hayes (Power Pooch), Kathleen Barr (Chastity Knot), Terry Klassen (Maurice), Alec Willows (Dan the Man).

8852 Wagon Train. (Series; Western; NBC; ABC; 1956–1965). "Dawn spreads its paint brush over the plains, spilling purple upon sleepers of the wagon train." The saga of wagon train's journey from the Midwest to California during the 1800s. Episodes focus on the lives of the individuals who have booked passage—the troubled and the carefree—all alive with the promise that awaits them at their journey's end. Seth Adams was the original wagon master (1957–1961); he was replaced by Chris Hale (1961–1965). Flint McCullough, Bill Hawks, Cooper Smith and Duke Shannon are trail scouts; Charlie Wooster is the cook; Barnaby West is Chris's ward; and Kate Crowley (recurring role) is Chris's romantic interest. The series, which produced 442 episodes, ran on NBC from September 18, 1957 to September 12, 1962 and on ABC from September 19, 1962 to September 5, 1965.

Cast: Ward Bond (Seth Adams), John McIntire (Chris Hale), Robert Horton (Flint McCullough), Frank McGrath (Charlie Wooster), Terry Wilson (Bill Hawks), Robert Fuller (Cooper Smith), Denny Miller (Duke Shannon), Michael Burns (Barnaby West), Barbara Stanwyck (Kate Crowley). Theme Song: "Wagon Train" by Henri Rene, B. Russell.

8853 Waikiki. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/21/80). Ronnie Browning and David King are two reckless private detectives based in Waikiki, Hawaii. Cassie Howard is a beautiful police woman with the Oahu Police Department. The proposed series was to relate their efforts as they team to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, the trio attempts to find "The Cane Field Killer," a murder-rapist. Other Regulars: Rex, their friend, owner of Rex's Bar; Kahona, the bartender; and Police Captain McGuire, Cassie's superior.

Cast: Donna Mills (Cassie Howard), Dack Rambo (Ronnie Browning), Steve Marachuk (David King), Cal Bellini (Rex), Kack Hisatake (Kahona), Darren McGavin (Captain McGuire). Guest Cast: Tanya Roberts (Carol), Mark Slade (Lloyd Barrington), Robert F. Lyons (Mark Barrington), Betty Carvalho (Anne Kahmonhu), Angus Duncan (Joe Farnsworth).

8854 Wait 'Til You Have Kids. (Series; Game; Family Channel; 1996). Three teams of married couples (who have children) compete. A question, based on raising a child, is read and three possible answers are revealed. Each couple selects the answer they believe is the correct one. A parenting expert explains each of the answers and points are scored for the teams who chose the correct response. Three such rounds are played and the team with the highest score is the winner.

Host: Tom Parks. Announcer: Burton Richardson. Parenting Expert: Ellen Winters.

8855 Wait Til Your Father Gets Home. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1972). Harry Boyle is president of the Boyle Restaurant Supply Company in Los Angeles. He is an old-fashioned father and struggling to bridge the generation gap that exists between him and his progressive children (Alice, Chet and Jamie). Harry is married to Irma, a woman who has bridged that gap, and stories follow Harry as he struggles to cope with the pressures of life at work and at home. Ralph is the Boyle's neighbor; Julius is the family dog.

Voice Cast: Tom Bosley (Harry Boyle), Joan Gerber (Irma Boyle), Kristina Holland (Alice Boyle), David Hayward (Chet Boyle), Jackie Earle Haley (Jamie Boyle), Jack Burns (Ralph), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Voice), Gil Herman (Voice).

8856 Wake, Rattle and Roll. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1990). A daily series that combines live action with animation. Sam Baxter is a boy who, like most, kids, is not that enthusiastic about school. He'd rather stay in his basement bedroom and create his own world with the help of his computer D.E.C.K.S. (Digital Eltrosonic Cassette Headed Kinematics System). But he must go to school and before he does, he activates the computer and the viewer sees various cartoon shorts that feature characters from television past (for example, Huckleberry Hound, Yogi Bear, Baba Looie, Blabber Mouse, Peter Potamus, Top Cat, Dick Dastardly, Augie Doggie and Wally Gator). Debbie is Sam's mother; K.C. is his friend; Grandpa Quirk is his grandfather.

Cast: R.J. Williams (Sam Baxter), Rob Paulsen (Voice of D.E.C.K.S.), Avery Schreiber (Grandpa Quirk), Terri Ivens (Debbie Baxter), Ebonie Smith (K.C.). Announcer: Shadoe Stevens.

8857 Wake Up. (Series; Children; CBS; 1981–1982). Songs, sketches and musical numbers geared to entertain and instruct children six to nine years of age. The briefly revised title and format for Captain Kangaroo (which reverted back to its original format following the departure of Wake Up). The program aired at 7:00 A.M. EST.

Cast: Bob Keeshan (Host), Bill Cosby (Picture Pages Host). Regulars: Carolyn Migini, Lumpy Brannum, Cosmo Allegretti.

8858 Waldo. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/19/60). Professor Rashford Wallingford III is an anthropologist who believes that animals are as intelligent as humans. The proposed series was to focus on his efforts to prove his theory by attempting to civilize a talented but headstrong chimpanzee named Waldo. In the pilot episode, Waldo is arrested for driving without a license.

Cast: Gil Stratton (Rashford Wallingford III), Virginia Wells (Molly; Rashford's girlfriend), Emory Parnell (Rashford's father), Eleanor Odley (Rashford's mother). Guest Cast: Frank Jenks (Cop), Robert Griffin (Judge).

8859 A Walk in the Night. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 7/15/68). A proposed series about James Van Ducci, the head of the Great Lakes Interstate Bureau, a Chicago-based investigative organization. In the pilot episode, Van Ducci and his team (Owen and William) search for a Swedish sailor who jumped ship — unaware that his suitcase contains a bomb that is set to go off in a matter of hours. Ellie is James's wife.

Cast: Carroll O'Connor (James Van Ducci), Andrew Duggan (Owen Kerr), Michael Murphy (William Smith), Jacqueline Betton (Ellie Van Ducci). Guest Cast: Gunnar Helstrom (Granstrom), Albert Paulsen (Linde), Karl Swenson (Erickson), Linda Wallenberg (Kathryn), Jim Lantz (McGrago), Don Mask (Sergeant Ford).

8860 Walker, Texas Ranger. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1993–2001). C.D.'s Bar and Grill in Fort Worth, Texas, is the gathering place for three close friends: Cordell Walker, Jimmy Trette and Alexandra Cahill. Cordell and Jimmy are Texas Rangers; Alexandra is the prosecuting assistant district attorney of Fort Worth.

Cordell exceeds authority to get the job done. He is skilled in the use of martial arts and uses his upbringing as a Cherokee Indian to help him outwit and capture criminals.

Walker's father, John Firewalker (Dan Brook), was a full-blooded Cherokee; his mother, Elizabeth (Kathleen Steele), was a white woman John met at a rodeo. They dated and married and had only one child — Cordell. Tragedy struck when Cordell was ten years old. Cordell and his family were leaving a county fair when three drunken thugs approached them. A fight began when the thugs insulted Elizabeth "for marrying a red skin." John and Elizabeth were killed and Cordell was raised by his uncle, Ray (Floyd "Red Crow" Westerman) on the reservation. Cordell was given the Indian name Washoe (Lone Eagle) and raised in the ways of both the Cherokee and the white man.

When the series begins, Cordell is living with his Uncle Ray on his parents ranch on South Road 8 in Springfield, Texas. The above story line was detailed in a flashback. Dialogue from prior episodes changed Cordell's upbringing. It was first said that his parents were killed in a car crash and he was sent to the Cherokee Reservation in Oklahoma to be raised. It was next said that after his parents death, Cordell was raised at the Santa Rosa Orphanage.

Cordell served in the Vietnam War (he was a captain and called "The Nighthawk") and was a kick boxing champion. He teaches karate and began a drug free program for kids called Kick Drugs Out of America. Walker bears an uncanny resemblance to Hayes Cooper, a former Old West Texas Ranger, played by Chuck Norris in flashback episodes.

Jimmy was born in Baltimore. He attended Penn State College and was first said to be a member of the wrestling team. This changed to a member of the football team where he showed potential for becoming a pro. A shoulder injury ended that career. Somehow he found his way to Texas and joined the highway patrol. Shortly after, he worked with the narcotics division of the Texas P.D. He then became a Texas Ranger. Another episode finds Jimmy as a pro football player for the Dallas Cowboys where a shoulder injury ended that career. It was at this time that he met C.D., a former Ranger who helped him get his life back together and paved the way for his becoming a Texas Ranger. Later, Jimmy was said to be a Texas police officer on a riot assignment when he was attacked by several hoods. From out of the shadows a Texas Ranger appeared and saved him. Trevette saw the Ranger's badge and knew what he had to become — a Texas Ranger. It was not until he and Walker were partners years later that Jimmy learned it was Walker who saved his life.

Alexandra, called Alex, teaches evening classes in law enforcement at the Irving Campus of Mid-Texas University. She had to fight for everything she got and Walker believes she is too stubborn for her own good. Alex often helps Walker so cases will not fall through the cracks in the system. Alex, like Walker, cares for people. She conducts a Victims of Crime women's support group at the South Shore of Stuart Lake that she calls Camp Cahill. She later opens a help center called H.O.P.E. (Help Our People). As the series progressed, a romance developed between her and Walker. They married in May of 2000 and in the series finale, May 19, 2001, Alex gives birth to a girl she and Cordell name Angela Walker.

C.D. is a retired Texas Ranger turned bar owner. He was a Ranger for 15 years but received a medical discharge five years ago when he was shot in the knee. He writes an advice column for the Gazette under the pen name Trail Buddy.

Sydney Cook and Francis Gage are other members of Walker's unit at the Department of Public Safety, Texas Ranger Unit. Both Sydney and Gage are well versed in the martial arts. Sydney caught the bouquet at Alex's wedding and often goes undercover on assignments with Gage while Walker and Trevette direct operations. Gage is never called by his first name; "I use my last name because of my first name." Both she and Gage do volunteer work for kids at the Christian Community Center.

Chuck Norris sings the theme "The Eyes of the Ranger." See also Sons of Thunder, the spin-off series.

Cast: Chuck Norris (Cordell Walker), Clarence Gilyard, Jr. (Jimmy Trevette), Sheree J. Wilson (Alexandra Cahill), Noble Willingham (C.D. Parker), Nia Peeples (Sydney Cook), Judson Mills (Francis Gage).

8861 Walkin' Walter. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/13/77). The story of Walkin' Walter, a free-spirited ex-vaudevillian songwriter who moves in with and freeloads off his late, long-lost brother's wife (Roseabell) and her two foster children (Booker and Jackie).

Cast: Spo-De-Odee (Walkin' Walter), Madge Sinclair (Roseabell "Mama" Hoxie), Christoff St. John (Booker Brown), Denise Marcia (Jackie Onassis Orlando), David Yanez (Loud Leon), Jack Dodson (Wendell Henderson), Theodore Wilson (Reverend Tucker Tooley).

8862 Walking Tall. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1981). Buford Pusser is the heroic sheriff of McNeal County, Tennessee. He is a widower and the father of Dwana and Michael. Buford was a Marine for three years and a wrestler (Buford the Bull) for five years. Wrestling was "disorganized and dishonest," he says and he quit "because people were ruining my life." When he returned to his hometown after quitting the wrestling circuit, he found it full of corruption; he chose to do something about it and became a lawman. Later, when thugs savagely attack him, he fights back with a four-foot club and vengeance. Now, with that club and a determination to see that justice prevails, Buford does what he does best — dispense his own brand of justice. Based on the real life exploits of Buford Pusser, a southern lawman.

Other Regulars: Carl Pusser, Buford's father; Deputies Joan Litton, Aaron Fairfax and Grady Spooner; and Judge Hines.

Cast: Bo Svenson (Buford Pusser), Walter Barnes (Carl Pusser), Heather McAdam (Dwana Pusser), Rad Daly (Michael Pusser), Courtney Pledger (Joan Litton), Harold Sylvester (Aaron Fairfax), Jeff Lester (Grady Spooner), Ivan Bonar (Judge Hines). Theme Vocal: "Walking Tall" by Victor Sendor.

8863 Walking with Dinosaurs. (Series; Documentary; Discovery Channel; 1999). A realistically computer animated series that explores the Jurassic, Cretaceous and Triassic periods of Earth's history. During these periods dinosaurs ruled and the series explores their habits and offers explanations as to why they suddenly disappeared. The series is produced by the BBC (where, in England, it is narrated by Kenneth Branagh).

Narrator (U.S.): Avery Brooks.

8864 Wally and the Valentines. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/15/89). Following the death of his uncle, a milquetoast accountant (Wally Gills), inherits a talent agency and its associated problems. The unsold series was to focus on Wally's efforts to manage the careers of his first clients, the singing Valentine family (Devonique, Jamaica, Roxanne and Russell). Originally scheduled to air 5/28/89 but pulled at the last minute.

Cast: William Ragsdale (Wally Gills), Audrey Meadows (Lillian; his secretary), Siedah Garrett (Devonique Valentine), Tatyana M. Ali (Jamaica Valentine), Cindy Herron (Roxanne Valentine), Tevin Campbell (Russell Valentine). Guest Cast: Michael McManus (Mr. Raymond), Tammy Katz (Receptionist).

Note: The pilot was originally filmed as Wally and the Diamonds and featured Wally's efforts to manage the singing Diamond family: Deanna (Siedah Garrett), Jamaica (Tatyana M. Ali), Roxanne (Cindy Herron) and Russell (Tevin Campbell).

8865 Wally Gator. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1962). Comic events in the day-to-day life of Wally Gator, a bon vivant lion-about town, and his friend Twiddles.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Wally Gator), Don Messick (Twiddles).

8866 Wally Western. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1960). The animated Wally Western and his pal Skeets present cliffhanger western stories (edited from western features of the 1930s). Stars include Hoot Gibson, Ken Maynard, Tex Ritter, Bob Steele and Tim Tylor. The series is composed of 13 full stories that were presented in 65 chapters.

8867 Wally's Workshop. (Series; Advice; Syn.; 1972). Home repair authorities Wally Bruner and his wife, Natalie, present related demonstrations, tips and advice. Johnny Olsen is the announcer.

8868 Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1961). See Disneyland for information.

8869 *W*A*L*T*E*R.* (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/17/84). A proposed spin-off from *M*A*S*H*. Following his release from the army in 1954, 4077 M*A*S*H company clerk Walter "Radar" O'Reilly returns to his home in Iowa with hopes of working the family farm. When he is unable to make the farm pay for itself, Walter marries his girlfriend, Sandy, and heads for Missouri to begin a new life. En-route to Gooseneck Falls for their honeymoon, Sandy deserts Walter when she falls in love with a garage mechanic. Dismayed but determined to pick up the pieces of his shattered life, Walter travels to St. Louis, where he joins the police department. The unsold series was to relate Walter's experiences as a rookie cop.

Other Regulars: Officer Wendell Mikeljohn, his partner; Sergeant Sowell, their superior; and Victoria, Walter's friend, a soda jerk.

Cast: Gary Burghoff (Walter O'Reilly), Ray Buktenica (Wendell Mikeljohn), Noble Willingham (Sergeant Sowell), Victoria Jackson (Victoria Peterson). Guest Cast: Sarah Abrell (Judith Crane), Lyman Ward (Sergeant Bigelow), Meeno Peluce (Elston Krannick), Clete Roberts (Interviewer), Victoria Carroll (Bubbles Sincere), June Berry (Dixie Devoe), Larry Cedar (Zipkin).

8870 Walter and Emily. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1992). Walter and Emily Collins have been married for 38 years. (Forty years ago in Chicago, Emily was working in the millinery department of the Marshall Field Department Store. Walter was a salesman and they accidentally bumped into each other. He bought her a turkey sandwich and they fell in love. Two years later they married). When their son, Matt, gets a divorce, Walter and Emily decide to move in with him and help him raise their 11-year-old grandson, Zack.

Matt is a sportswriter for the San Francisco Examiner and is constantly on the road. Walter, a salesman for 40 years, had a part time job as a tour guide on the Harbor Princess, a ferry that tours San Francisco Bay. Walter's favorite watering hole is the Bridge Café. Emily was the spelling bee champion of 1939 and is now a member of the Conservative Club. The family heirloom is a 1932 Joe ("Ducky") Medwick baseball card. Stories relate the events that befall the various members of the family. Jeff Andrew Koz composed the theme, "It's Never Too Late for Love."

Cast: Brian Keith (Walter Collins), Cloris Leachman (Emily Collins), Christopher McDonald (Matt Collins), Matthew Lawrence (Zack Collins).

8871 Walter Cronkite's Universe. (Series; Magazine; CBS; 1980–1982). A technical look at the complexities of modern-day life — its problems and its possible solutions. Twelve episodes aired over a two-year period (July 12, 1980 to September 4, 1982).

Host: Walter Cronkite.

8872 Walter Fortune. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1950). Walter Fortune is a mysterious man with a somewhat shady background. In an attempt to turn his life around, he moves to San Francisco where he opens a pawn shop. Unlike his last name, Walter is anything but rich (although he appears to be well off). Stories follow the events in his life as he helps the troubled people he encounters.

Cast: Howard DaSilva (Walter Fortune). Various Roles: Vanessa Brown, Maurice Cass, Dorothy Tree.

8873 Walter of the Jungle. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1967). An unrealized spoof of Tarzan that relates the not-so-heroic exploits of Walter, a mother-dominated, clumsy jungle king.

Cast: Jonathan Daly (Walter), Rose Marie (Mama), Nipsey Russell (Sidney), Bernard Fox (Reginald Stanhope), Vikki Harrington (Gillian Stanhope).

8874 The Walter Winchell File. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1957–1958). Dramatizations based on the stories covered by newspaper columnist Walter Winchell (for the now defunct New York Daily Mirror) when he covered the police beat.

Host-Narrator: Walter Winchell.

8875 The Walter Winchell Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956–1957). Crime reporter turned Broadway columnist Walter Winchell introduces performances by top name entertainers. Carl Hoff and his orchestra provide the music.

8876 The Waltons. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1972–1981). With only an ax, a plow and a mule to his name, a pioneer named Rome Walton settled in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. The year was 1789 (another episode mentions 1796). He fought wars there (disease, cold, fire and flood) and raised a family there. The area came to be known as Waltons' Mountain (they don't own it but "sort of hold it in trust").

It is 1931 when the series begins. The area surrounding Waltons' Mountain is now Jefferson County, and the current Waltons are John, his wife, Olivia, and their children, John-Boy (John Walton, Jr.), Mary Ellen, Erin, Elizabeth, Jason, Ben, and Jim-Bob. Also living with them is John's father, "Grandpa" Zebulon ("Zeb") Walton, and his wife, "Grandma" Esther Walton. The times are difficult, the country being in the midst of the Depression, and the family earns a living by operating a sawmill.

John and Olivia married in 1916 and established the mill in 1931 (1935 in another episode). Although Olivia's parents disliked John because they were Baptists and he was "a heathen," she and John still married (they eloped and were married by Preacher Hicks). John, a dedicated, hard working family man, would do what he could to provide for his family. According to the narration of series creator Earl Hamner, Jr., John passed away in 1965 (1969 in another episode).

Olivia, who is known for her applesauce cake, was replaced by her cousin Rose Burton when Olivia left to work as a nurse in an army hospital during World War II (this was the off-screen explanation as to what happened to Olivia when Michael Learned asked to be released from her contract in 1980).

Zeb's bones give him the weather forecast: "They feel one way for good weather, another way for bad weather." He calls Olivia "Livie" and "Daughter." In November 1976, Ellen Corby was forced to give up the role of Grandma when she had a stroke; in the March 30, 1978, episode she returned. It was explained that Esther had had a stroke and had been hospitalized. As a result of the illness, Grandma (and Ellen) were victims of aphasia (speech difficulty).

John-Boy, the oldest child, keeps a journal about his family and longs to be a writer. He attended Boatwright University and established his own newspaper, the Blue Ridge Chronicle. His first serious love affair was with Jenny Pendleton (Sian Barbara Allen), a runaway the Waltons took in. John-Boy left Waltons' Mountain to pursue his career in New York as a writer. After having his first novel published, he became a reporter for a national wire service. He later married and raised a family in California.

Mary Ellen, the oldest girl, became a nursing student and married Dr. Curtis Willard. They had a son they named John Curtis Walton Willard. Later, after becoming a nurse, and her marriage falls apart, Mary Ellen dated and later wed Arlington ("Jonesy") Westcott. When Mary Ellen was a youngster and got upset, she would go into the barn and hug a cow to feel better.

Erin, the second oldest girl, worked as an operator at the Jefferson County Phone Company and later at the Pickett Metal Products Company. Her first boyfriend, George ("G.W.") Haines enlisted in the army (World War II) and was killed in action. She later married Paul Northridge.

Jason, the second oldest son, is seeking musical fame. He studied at the Clyneburg Conservatory and played with the Bobby Bigelow and His Hayseed Gang band. Jason also played in a band called the Rhythm Kings and sang with the WQSR (radio)

Gospelites. He had an after school job at the Jarvis Used Car Lot and worked as a musician (playing guitar) at the Dew Drop Inn.

Ben, the third oldest son, took over the family sawmill business and turned it into the Walton Lumber Mill. He married Cindy Brunson and they had a daughter they named Virginia.

Elizabeth and Jim-Bob are the youngest Walton children. Elizabeth was carefree and anxious to grow up and had a sleepwalking problem because of a subconscious fear of a carnival ferris wheel. Jim-Bob was a twin; his brother, Joseph Zebulon, died (possibly at birth). He is a loner and constantly lost in his dreams. Jim-Bob wanted to be an airline pilot but couldn't because of astigmatism.

On Christmas Eve in 1931, as the family gathered in front of the tree, Elizabeth yawned and was about to say goodnight when Mary Ellen interrupted: "Don't say goodnight yet. Wait until we're all in bed and the last light is out." Thus began the program's traditional closing, with the Waltons wishing one another goodnight.

Other Regulars: Ike Godsey, the owner of Ike Godsey's General Merchandise Store; Corabeth Walton is John's spinster cousin from Doe Hills (she later married Ike).

Aimee Godsey is Ike and Corabeth's adopted daughter (and Elizabeth's best friend). Mamie and Emily Baldwin are two spinster sisters who are famous for "Papa's Recipe" (a home brewed liquor); they are referred to as "Miss Emily" and "Miss Mamie."

Marmaduke Ephraim ("Ep") Bridges is the local sheriff; Patsy Brimmer was Jim-Bob's first girlfriend; Ruby Davis was Ben's first girlfriend; Matthew Fordwick is the town's preacher; and Rosemary Fordwick is Matthew's wife.

Pilot Episode Roles ("The Homecoming," CBS, 12/19/71): Patricia Neal (Olivia Walton), Andrew Duggan (John Walton), Edgar Bergen (Zeb Walton), Woodrow Parfrey (Ike Godsey), David Huddleston (Ep Bridges), Josephine Hutchinson (Miss Mamie), Dorothy Stickney (Miss Emily). Theme: "The Waltons," by Alexander Courage.

Cast: Ralph Waite (John Walton), Michael Learned (Olivia Walton), Will Geer (Zeb Walton), Ellen Corby (Esther Walton), Richard Thomas (John-Boy Walton), Robert Wightman (John-Boy Walton; later), Judy Norton-Taylor (Mary Ellen Walton), Mary Elizabeth McDonough (Erin Walton), Kami Cotler (Elizabeth Walton), David W. 8878 The Waltons: A Wedding on Walton's Mountain. (Series Extension; Drama; NBC; 2/22/82). An extension episode based on The Waltons. The story begins in 1947 and focuses on the relationship between Erin Walton and Paul Northridge (Ben Walton's partner in the Walton Lumber Mill) and on the conflict that arises when Ashley Longworth, Erin's former boyfriend, returns from the war in Europe — and sets his goal to win her back (the title refers to Erin and Paul's marriage).

Cast: Ralph Waite (John Walton), Robert Wightman (John-Boy Walton), Judy Norton-Taylor (Mary Ellen Walton), Eric Scott (Ben Walton), John Walms-

sley (Jason Walton), Mary Elizabeth McDonough (Erin Walton), Kami Cotler (Elizabeth Walton), David S. Harper (Jim-Bob Walton), Richard Gilliland (Arlington Westcott), Morgan Stevens (Paul Northridge), Joe Conley (Ike Godsey), Ronnie Claire Edwards (Corabeth Godsey), DeAnn Robbins (Aimee Godsey), David Friedman (John Curtis), Angela Rhodes (Virginia Walton), Ellen Corby (Esther Walton), Kip Niven (Rev. Tom Marshall), Mary Jackson (Emily Baldwin), Helen Kleeb (Mamie Baldwin), Robert Donner (Yancy Tucker), Joanna Kerns (Doris Marshall), Louis Welch (Ashley Longworth). Narrator: Earl Hamner, Jr.

8879 The Waltons: Mother's Day on Walton's Mountain. (Series Extension; Drama; NBC; 5/9/82). An extension episode based on The Waltons. The story focuses on the individual members of the Walton family: Mary Ellen, who learns that a recent automobile accident has left her unable to bear children; Ben, who is struggling to keep his floundering marriage together (he is married to Cindy); and Aimee Godsey, the daughter of Ike and Corabeth, who, along with Elizabeth, is fighting to grow up.

Cast: Ralph Waite (John Walton), Michael Learned (Olivia Walton), Robert Wightman (John-Boy Walton), Judy Norton-Taylor (Mary Ellen Walton), Eric Scott (Ben Walton), John Walmsley (Jason Walton), Mary Elizabeth McDonough (Erin Walton), Kami Cotler (Elizabeth Walton), David S. Harper (Jim-Bob Walton), Richard Gilliland (Arlington Westcott), Morgan Stevens (Paul Northridge), Joe Conley (Ike Godsey), Ronnie Claire Edwards (Corabeth Godsey), DeAnn Robbins (Aimee Godsey), David Friedman (John Curtis), Angela Rhodes (Virginia Walton), Ellen Corby (Esther Walton), Kip Niven (Rev. Tom Marshall), Mary Jackson (Emily Baldwin), Helen Kleeb (Mamie Baldwin), Robert Donner (Yancy Tucker), Joanna Kerns (Doris Marshall). Narrator: Earl Hamner, Jr.

8880 Wanda at Large. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2003). Wanda Mildred Hawkins is an African-American correspondent for WHDC, Channel 11 in Washington, D.C. Her on-the-street reports are seen on the program The Beltway Gang (a public affairs discussion show) hosted by Bradley Grimes.

Wanda originally worked at a government job but quit to pursue her dream of becoming a standup comedian. When this failed she found a job at Channel 11. Stories follow Wanda as she uses her street smarts (and savvy attitude) to interview people on the street for her show.

Bradley has strong opinions and is willing to take the heat for what he says. He is a former sportscaster and says "Wanda is like poison — you take it in small doses until you get used to it then nothing can kill you."

Wanda is a graduate of Stanford University and lives at 62 Northern Avenue, Apartment 17. Jenny Hawkins, who is white, is Wanda's sister-in-law (she was married to Wanda's late brother, Steve; she is now raising their children, Barris and Holly). Roger is the show's producer; Keith is the segment producer; Vince Whitcomb is Wanda's ex-husband; Rita Dahlberg is Bradley's co-host. Jenny works as a file clerk for the FDA (Federal Drug Administration).

Cast: Wanda Sykes (Wanda Hawkins), Phil Morris (Bradley Grimes), Tammy Lauren (Jenny Hawkins), Ann Magnuson (Rita Dahlberg), Jason Kravits (Roger), Dale Godboldo (Keith Townsend), Jurnee Smollett (Holly Hawkins), Robert Bailey, Jr. (Barris Hawkins), Dave Chappelle (Vince Whitcomb).

8881 Wanda Does It. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2004). Wanda Sykes is a comedienne with a smart mouth who likes to tell it like it is. In a show that is part scripted, part acted and part reality, Wanda leaves her show business world to each week find a new job (the reality part) that has nothing to do with show business. She is accompanied by her manager, Tim, her friend Sue, and the comedy stems from all the trouble her smart mouth gets her into while seeking employment (and, of course, the efforts of Tim and Sue to exonerate her from the situation).

Cast: Wanda Sykes (Wanda Sykes), Sue Murphy (Sue), Tim Bagley (Tim Brewer).

8882 Wanderlust. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1957). Bill Burrud hosts and narrates films that explore interesting and unusual places.

8883 Wanted. (Series; Documentary; CBS; 1955–1956). Dramatizations based on incidents in the lives of criminals wanted by the FBI. Programs recap their lives and update viewers as to their offenses. Interviews are conducted with friends and family of those involved, and viewers who possess information regarding the subject are urged, under confidential protection, to inform the police or FBI.

Host-Narrator: Walter McGraw.

8884 Wanted. (Series; Crime Drama; TNT; 2005–2006). Capturing the 100 most wanted criminals in Los Angeles has become the job of a specialized team of law-enforcement officers on Wanted. The team is comprised of elite officers from various law enforcement agencies. Lt. Conrad Rose heads the team. Jimmy McGloin, Carla Merced, Tommy Rodriguez, Rodney Gronbeck, Joe Vacco and Eddie Drake assist him.

Conrad hails from the Los Angeles Metro SWAT Unit. Jimmy is an Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms officer; Carla is a former Naval Intelligence officer and a top-notch hostage negotiator. Tommy is an FBI agent. Rodney is from the L.A.P.D. and runs the unit's state-of-the-art computer department. Joe is a DEA officer who now lives in the team's warehouse headquarters (he was kicked out of his own place). Eddie is an eight-year veteran of the U.S. Marshal's Service and a graduate of the L.A. Metro Police Academy.

Other Regulars: Lucinda, Conrad's wife, and their children Tony and Millie.

Cast: Gary Cole (Conrad Rose), Ryan Hurst (Jimmy McGloin), Rashida Jones (Carla Merced), Benjamin Benitez (Tommy Rodriguez), Josey Scott (Rodney Gronbeck), Brendan Kelly (Joe Vacco), Lee Terhesen (Eddie Drake), Dee Dee Pfeiffer (Lucinda Rose), Chris J. Kelly (Tony Rose), Sasha Pieterse (Millie Rose).

8885 Wanted: Dead or Alive. (Series; Western; CBS; 1958–1961). On March 7, 1957, "The Bounty Man" aired on the CBS series Trackdown. It introduced viewers to a bounty hunter named Josh Randall and spawned the successful series Wanted: Dead or Alive. While millions of people saw the episode, only potential sponsors saw the show's sales pitch (which played right before the closing theme). It went like this:

"Hi, my name is Steve McQueen. I hope you liked what you just saw. Kind of a new approach to Westerns. I hope you liked Josh Randall. Oh, he's not a lawman, but he's got a lot of friends who are. And they like him because he respects them and their jobs. Since Josh doesn't wear a badge, he can take the shortest distance between two people. On these occasions, his lawmen friends kinda turn their heads and wish they could use the same methods. The stories on Wanted: Dead or Alive are about the people of the times; their dreams, their problems, their happiness.... There are a lot of stories on Wanted: Dead or Alive and they all have one thing in common — they all happen to people. Any way you slice it, Wanted: Dead or Alive is a good show, full of action, drama and adventure. Good entertainment for the whole family — and that's what'll sell any product. See y'all now."

The time is the 1870s, and being a bounty hunter "wasn't a bad way to live. You got to see a lot of the country and meet a lot of people. It was a living and now and then a good one." Josh Randall liked the life "and it seemed to like him." Though the world may be big and men can easily hide from the law, Josh finds that not a problem — "He's a man; there's nowhere he can lay down his feet that I can't walk — I'll find him." Josh's motto: "If he's got a price on his head, I've got an empty pocket."

Josh is a compassionate bounty hunter and sometimes finds himself in the position of protector, struggling to safeguard his prisoners from the less scrupulous bounty hunters.

Josh carries a .30–40 caliber sawed-off carbine he calls his "Mare's leg": "It's kinda like a hog's leg but not quite as mean. If I have to use it, I want to get the message across."

Josh's occasional assistant is Jason Nichols, a bounty hunter who travels with an unnamed mutt he calls "Hey, Dog."

Cast: Steve McQueen (Josh Randall), Wright King (Jason Nichols), Gloria Talbot (Various Roles), Warren Oates (Various Roles). Theme Song: "Wanted: Dead or Alive" by Rudy Schrager.

8886 War and Peace. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1973–1974). A tableau of Russian society during the turbulent era of the Napoleonic Wars (1805–1850). Based on the novel by Leo Tolstoy and produced in England.

Cast: Morag Hood (Natasha), Alan Dobie (Prince Andre Bolonsky), Anthony Jacobs (Nikolai Bolonsky), Angela Down (Maria Bolonsky), Colin Baker (Anatole Kuragin), David Swift (Napoleon Bonaparte), Basil Henson (Prince Vasili Kuragin), Fiona Gaunt (Helene Kuragin), Anthony Hopkins (Pierre Bezuhov), Donald Burton (Dolohov), Rupert Davies (Count Ilya Rostov), Faith Brook (Natalia Rostov), Joanna David (Sonya), Sylvester Morand (Nicolai Rostov), Gary Watson (Denisov), Neil Stacy (Boris Dubetskoj), Donald Douglas (Tsar Alexander I), Frank Middleman (Kutuzov).

8887 The War at Home. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2005–2007). A look at a not-so-typical American family, the Golds — parents Dave and Vicky, and their children Hilary, Larry and Mike.

Dave is an insurance salesman; Vicky was a department store merchandise buyer before settling into the role of housewife and mother (she later works as an assistant in a doctor's office).

Hilary is a gorgeous 16-year-old girl who feels that her small bust line (32A) makes her insecure ("Don't you think I notice how the girls with bigger breasts get all the attention?"). Hilary wants larger breasts (like her mother) and hopes to one day get implants to achieve her goal (right now her parents insist she concentrate on her schoolwork, not on what she can get with her figure). Hilary also feels she can never find a boy who is worthy of her. Dave calls her "a lazy, self-centered princess."

Larry appears to be gay — although he insists, "I'm not." He was caught by his parents in girl's clothes (he claims it was for a part in a school play) and is always caught doing something that would make him look gay (like showing little interest in girls, always hanging out with his friend Kenny. In later episodes it is revealed that Kenny is gay). Mike is the seemingly typical sitcom brother — seen or heard only when he is needed and delighted when his siblings get into trouble.

Dave and Vicky are quarrelsome — not only among themselves, but with their children. Other parents believe Dave and Vicky are not the best role models for children; Vicky believes “We’re fine.” Dave feels it is necessary to have a beer “because the kids live here.” Each of the characters appears in a solo scene to address the audience when a situation involves them.

Cast: Michael Rapaport (Dave Gold), Anita Barone (Vicky Gold), Kaylee DeFer (Hilary Gold), Kyle Sullivan (Larry Gold), Dean Collins (Mike Gold), Rami Malek (Kenny), Marcelo Tubert (Achmed; Kenny’s father), Anoush NeVart (Sheerah; Kenny’s mother).

8888 War Correspondent. (Pilot; Anthology; CBS; 8/25/59). A proposed series about the experiences of combat correspondents during World War II. The pilot episode focuses on a Marine sergeant (Andy Pile) as he attempts to save a Guam village from a Japanese Squadron. Broadcast as “Return to Guam” on Geritol Adventure Showcase (War Correspondent was the proposed series title).

Cast: Gene Barry (Andy Pile), Lin McCarthy (Combat Correspondent). Also: William Bryant, Eugene Iglesias, Didi Ramiti, Harry Dean Stanton.

8889 War in the Air. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1956). A BBC produced series that recounts the history of England’s Royal Air Force during World War II.

Host-Narrator: Robert H. Harris. Music: Muir Mathieson.

8890 War News. (Experimental; News; CBS; August 1941). A CBS contribution to the war effort: Richard Hubbell reading war news dispatches against a background of war maps (which he used to illustrate the location of the reported action). Rudy Bretz produced and directed.

8891 War of the Stars. (Pilot; Game; Syn.; 3/85). A proposed series that pits a celebrity against a golf pro in a six hole match. In the pilot, actor Jack Lemmon played touring golf pro Peter Jacobson. Taped at the La Costa Health Spa and Club in California.

Host: Bob Uecker.

8892 War of the Worlds. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1988–1990). In 1953 (as depicted in the film, War of the Worlds), the Earth is invaded by Martians, who begin an unprovoked attack on humanity. Earth’s weapons are useless against their destructive rays and dome-protected ships. It seemed that the Earth was doomed until the smallest of things, the bacteria in the air, to which humans have become immune, killed the Martians.

In 1988 it is learned that the aliens’ remains have been stored in metal containers. A group of aliens is revived by a nuclear accident when radioactive waste contacts one of the storage containers. They soon begin to revive others of their kind. To protect themselves from Earthly viruses, the aliens must inhabit human bodies.

Their leaders (now from the planet Mortex, not Mars) are called the Advocacy. When the U.S. government learns what has happened, it suppresses the information and creates the Blackwood Project, a secret army to battle the aliens. Dr. Harrison Blackwood is the leader; Dr. Suzanne McCullough, Colonel Paul Ironhorse and Norton Drake are his key assistants.

Blackwood’s team is based in a secret government safe house (Cottage 348) on 25 secured acres of land. Blackwood’s army is called the Omega Squad; Suzanne, who is divorced, lives on the base with her teenage daughter, Debi (who has a dog named Guido). Norton Drake, a crippled computer expert, calls his voice-activated wheelchair Gertrude. Harrison’s aunt is Sylvia Van Buren, who witnessed the original 1953 invasion (from the feature film) as a girl and can now sense when the aliens are near (because of the traumatic shock she suffered, she now resides at the Westwood Mental Health Center). Before a dramatic storyline change, Elaine Giftos was introduced as Katara, the Synth from the planet Qar’to. Katara, a beautiful killing android, was sent to Earth to aid Blackwell, destroy the Mortex and save mankind for Katara’s people’s more sinister purpose — to use Earth as a food source.

When the series returned for its second season (10/89 to 9/90), the format was revamped in an effort to improve the show. It is now set in a time called Almost Tomorrow. When the planet Morthrai is destroyed, survivors journey to Earth and take over the war begun by the Mortex — with a goal of making Earth their new Morthrai. In a fierce battle among the three different life forms, the Mortex are destroyed and the Earth is heavily damaged. Surviving Earthlings unite in an effort to defeat their new enemy. John Kincaid joins Suzanne, Debbie and Blackwood when Ironhorse and Drake are killed in the battle. The new aliens are led by the Eternal; Mana and Malzor are the two Morthrai aliens who serve the Eternal.

Relatives: Ann Robinson (Harrison’s aunt, Sylvia Van Buren), Michael Parks (Suzanne’s ex-husband, Cash McCullough). Theme: “War of the Worlds” by Bill Thorpe.

Cast: Jared Martin (Harrison Blackwood), Lynda Mason Green (Suzanne McCullough), Richard Chaves (Paul Ironhorse), Philip Akin (Norton Drake), Rachel Blanchard (Debi McCullough), Adrian Paul (John Kincaid), Catherine Disher (Mana), Denis Forest (Malzor).

8893 The Warden. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1963). The story of Sam Morrison, a warden with liberal ideas, as he struggles to bring modern techniques to the prison system. In the pilot episode, "Johnny Runs More Slowly," Sam tries to help a troubled Indian inmate.

Cast: Robert Webber (Warden Sam Morrison), Gene Evans (George Rafferty), Tige Andrews (Dr. Lou Metz), Nancy Rennick (Doris Bieman), Carl Benton Reid (Charles Randolph), Lane Bradford (Dutch Harker), Greg Morris (Dr. Lloyd Cleary), Walter Burke (Jimmy Wentworth), Neil Nephew (Johnny Runs More Slowly).

8894 Warden Duffy of San Quentin. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1952). San Quentin, California has its own fire department, its own ball team and its own prison — for the people who break the law. In the pilot episode, titled "The Hostages," prison Warden Duffy faces a tense situation when four inmates take a prison official hostage in an attempt to make a break.

Cast: Paul Kelly (Warden Clinton T. Duffy). Guest Cast: John Ireland (Al), Ned Glass (Pete), Charles Nolte (Frank), Lawrence Tierney (Chet Harmon), Lyle Talbot (Square), Stanley Adams (Guard).

8895 Warner Bros. Presents. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1955–1957). The overall title for four rotating series. See the following titles for information: Casablanca (1955 version); Cheyenne, Conflict and King's Row. The series ran from September 13, 1955 to September 10, 1957. Gig Young is the host.

8896 Warning Shot. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1967). A proposed series about Tom Valens, a detective sergeant with a California police department. In the pilot episode, Valens risks his life to uncover the leader of a narcotics smuggling operation. The pilot was released theatrically when a sponsor could not be found.

Cast: David Janssen (Tom Valens), Joan Collins (Joanie Valens; Tom's wife), Keenan Wynn (Sergeant Ed Musso), Ed Begley (Captain Roy Klodin). Guest Cast: Sam Wanamaker (Frank Sanderman), Lillian Gish (Alice Willows), Stefanie Powers (Liz Thayer), Eleanor Parker (Doris Ruston), George Grizzard (Walt Cody), George Sanders (Calvin York), Steve Allen (Perry Knowland), Walter Pidgeon (Orville Ames).

8897 The Warren Hull Show. (Series; Interview; CBS; 1949–1950). Warren Hull hosts a program of interviews featuring people from all walks of life. It ran from January 12, 1949 to June 3, 1949 and February 27, 1950 to June 26, 1950.

8898 Washington Square. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956–1957). Music, songs, dances and comedy sketches set against the background of New York's Greenwich Village with song-and-dance man Ray Bolger as the host.

Host: Ray Bolger. Regulars: Elaine Stritch, Rusty Draper, Kay Armen, Arnold Stang, The Bil and Cora Baird Puppets, The Danny Daniels Singers. Orchestra: Charles Sanford.

8899 Washington. (Pilot; Comedy; Showtime; 10/15/84). The personalities and politics of Capitol Hill are lampooned as seen through Bob Forehead, a television announcer turned political candidate, as he is groomed by "experts" in quest of a congressional seat. The pilot episode depicts Bob's campaign as he runs for and is elected as a congressman.

Other Regulars: Ginger, his wife; Sally and Robert, their children; Gerard, Bob's backer, head of the Glominoid Corporation.

8900 Wasteland. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1999). Dawnie Parker is a 26-year-old Manhattan graduate student who believes that her generation is "the lost generation." She is writing a "wasteland" thesis that describes "the emotional and professional void that bridges adolescence and adulthood." The short-lived three episode series follows Dawnie as she prepares her thesis using not only herself, but her former college friends as her research material: Jesse, a publicist; Samantha, a social worker; Russell, a gay television soap star; Vandy, a bartender; and Tyler, Dawnie's former love who has just reentered her life.

Cast: Marisa Coughlan (Dawnie Parker), Rebecca Gayheart (Samantha Price), Dan Montgomery, Jr. (Russell Baskin), Eddie Mills (Vandy), Brad Rowe (Tyler Swindell), Sasha Alexander (Jesse Presser), Jeffrey D. Sams (Vincent Lewis; Samantha's boss).

8901 Watch Over Me. (Series; Drama; My Network TV; 2006–2007). Jack Porter is a former member of the elite Special Forces Unit who has resigned from the military and now works as a taxi cab driver. One day, on a routine pickup, his passenger, Julia Rivera, is accosted by three men (who are attempting to kidnap her).

Jack uses his former skills to save her. Shortly after, Julia's fiancé, Andre Forester, hires him as her bodyguard. Serialized stories follow Jack's efforts to watch over Julia — while avoiding the obvious — each is falling in love with the other.

tian Macchio (Grant), Caitlin McCarthy (Caroline Krieger), Dan Wells (Eric).

8902 Watching Ellie. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2002–2003). Eleanor Riggs, called Ellie, is a wedding singer who earns extra money as a bar-lounge singer. She has a dream to tour with a hot band, sing at Carnegie Hall, make CD's and be a real jazz singer. She has been working "for so long" and hasn't achieved it yet. She seems to play all the worse clubs and stories follow her efforts to break out of the rut she is in and achieve that dream.

The original concept of the series was to showcase the life of a vivacious singer whose life unfolds each week in 22 minutes of real time. The bottom left side of the screen contained a ticking clock that counted down the time. On the right side of the screen was the NBC logo. The logo is irritating and distracting but the clock was even more so. The clock was dropped but the series still lingered in the ratings and was dropped after 19 episodes (February 26, 2002 through May 20, 2003).

Other Regulars: Susan, Ellie's sister, who works as reservations clerk at the Hotel Asburgh in Manhattan; Ben Radford, Ellie's guitarist (he is married but Ellie is still dating him). Steve is Ellie's obnoxious ex-boyfriend, a voice actor for cartoons and commercials, who is still in love with her. Dr. Don Zimmerman is Ellie's fiancé, a man with the advice Ellie always seems to need.

Cast: Julia Louis-Dreyfus (Ellie Riggs), Lauren Bowles (Susan), Darren Boyd (Ben Radford), Don Lake (Dr. Don Zimmerman), Steve Carell (Steve).

8903 Waterfront. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1954). Incidents in the lives of tugboat operators is depicted. John Herrick works for the Wellington Towing Company in San Pedro, California. He is captain of the tugboat Cheryl Ann, which he docks in Berth 14 of the San Pedro Harbor. John was born in San Pedro (he lived at 91 Surf Street in an area called the Wharf) and married his first and only sweetheart, May, whom he calls "Mom" (she is famous for her lemon pies).

John and May's son, Carl Herrick is captain of the tugboat Belinda (docked in Berth 5). His friend Dan Cord captains the tugboat Isabel (all tugs owned by Wellington are named after women), and his friend Max Benson runs the Lobster Claw Restaurant.

Zachary Morgan is John's boss and the owner of Wellington Towing. John's oldest son, Dave Herrick, is a detective with the San Pedro Police Department. The wealthy Terry Van Buren, who lives in the influential Crown Hill section of town, is Carl's fiancée (Frank Wilcox and Frieda Inescort appeared as Terry's parents, Henry and Emily Van Buren). Alexander Laszlo composed the "Waterfront" theme.

8904 The Waverly Wonders. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1978). Joe Casey is a washed-up professional football player who finds a new lease on his career when he becomes the basketball coach (and history teacher) at Waverly High School, an institution that has a less-than winning team (the Waverly Wonders). Stories follow Joe as he attempts to turn losers into winners. Linda Harris is the school principal; George Benton is a teacher; and team members are Connie, Tony, Hatsy and John. Joe Casey had originally been called Harry Casey.

Cast: Joe Namath (Joe Casey), Gwynne Gilford (Linda Harris), Ben Piazza (George Benton), Kim Lankford (Connie Rafkin), Joshua Grenrock (Tony Faguzzi), Tierre Turner (Hatsy), Charles Bloom (John Pate).

8905 Way Cool. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1981). Lighthearted sketches and music that focus on the issues that are important to young people. The sketches are set at either a school or at a home atmosphere.

Regulars: Spencer Barrows, Heather Gottlieb, Lisa Gay Hamilton, Jonathan Gottlieb, Maria Merullo, Tony Templeton, Suzanne Gilman, Heather Harlan, Brian Jennings, Barry Moore, Deborah Rabai. Theme: "Way Cool" by Jason Mizell.

8906 Way of the World. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1955). Adaptations of stories that appear in leading women's magazines. The vignettes are allotted the time needed, in days, to run without an interference to the original content. The series ran from January 3, 1955 to October 7, 1955.

Host: Gloria Louis as Linda Porter.

8907 Way Out. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1961). Supernatural-based tales with writer Roald Dahl as the host. Performers appearing on the program include Kathleen Widdoes, Charlotte Rae, Richard Thomas, Philip Coolidge, Woodrow Parfrey, Rosemary Murphy, Ernest Lydecker. The series ran from March 31, 1961 to July 14, 1961.

8908 Way Out Games. (Series; Game; CBS; 1976–1977). Two three-member teams of high school students compete in various contests of skill to complete stunts in the quickest time.

Host: Sonny Fox. Assistant: Mark Smith.

8909 The Wayans Bros. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1995–1999). Shawn and Marlon Williams are brothers who run a newsstand next to their father's diner, Pop's Joint, in a Manhattan hotel called the Nedemeyer Building. John "Pops" Williams is a widower; Shawn is the more responsible and dedicated-to-work brother; Marlon is the somewhat flaky brother with wild schemes to make money. Although both brothers seem to be satisfied with the business, both feel they can do it better. Shawn considers doing it in a by-the-books manner; Marlon feels by scheming it can happen quicker. Stories follow Shawn, Marlon and Pop as they attempt to deal with the everyday problems they encounter.

Louise, called Lou, is the sexy security guard (later replaced by Dee); Monique Latimore is the spoiled girl who pretends to be rich (she works in a card shop); Reggie is the con artist; Benny is Pop's cook; Jim Nedemeyer is the building owner; Trish is Jim's beautiful, flirtatious wife.

Cast: Shawn Wayans (Shawn Williams), Marlon Wayans (Marlon Williams), John Witherspoon (John "Pops" Williams), Anna Maria Horsford (Diedre "Dee" Baxter), Paula Jai Parker (Monique Latimore), Jill Tasker (Louise "Lou" Malino), Lala Rochon (Lisa Saunders), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Jim Nedemeyer), Adrienne Barbeau (Trish Nedemeyer), Daryl Heath (Reggie), Benny Quon (Benny).

8910 Wayne and Shuster Take an Affectionate Look At... (Series; Documentary; CBS; 1966). Through film and commentary, the comic movie trends of the past and the lives of individual comedians are recalled by comedians Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster. The summer series ran from June 17, 1966 to July 29, 1966.

8911 The Wayne Brady Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 2002). Comedian Wayne Brady hosts a program of celebrity interviews, audience participation segments games for prizes, comedy routines and songs (not only from Wayne but guests as well).

Host: Wayne Brady. Announcer: Ellen K. Band Leader: Peter Michael Escovedo.

8912 The Wayne King Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949–1952). A live program of music and songs from Chicago with orchestra leader Wayne King as the host.

Host: Wayne King. Regulars: Gloria Van, Nancy Evans, Barbara Becker, Jackie Jones, Harry Hall, The Don Large Chorus. Orchestra: Wayne King.

8913 Waynehead. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1996–1997). An animated program that attempts to show children how to accept others who are different. The series is based on incidents from the childhood of comedian Damon Wayans. Damon was born with an affliction known as clubfoot (slows down body movements). He also had a 10-year-old alter ego, Damey Wayne, who had the same disability. Damon (and Damey) came from a poor family and lived on the lower Eastside of Manhattan. Damon was also the object of ridicule by the other neighborhood kids (because of his home haircuts, he was called "Waynehead"). Despite the handicap, financial hardships, Damon was blessed with creativity and mechanical skills (which he used to build toys from junk he found when his parents couldn't afford to buy him any). Damey represents Damon in the series. Monique, Shavonne, Toof and Blue are his friends; Tripod is his three-legged dog. Stories follow Damey as he struggles (more so than other kids) to deal with the problems of adolescence.

Voice Cast: Orlando Brown (Damey "Waynehead" Wayne), Kim Wayans (Mother Wayne), John Witherspoon (Father Wayne), Jami Altuner (Monique), Jamil Walker Smith (Mo Money, Jr.), Shawn Wayans (Toof), Marlon Wayans (Blue), T'Keyah Crystal Keymah (Aki), T'Keyah Crystal Keymah (Shavonne), T'Keyah Crystal Keymah (Roz), Frank Welker (Tripod).

8914 The WB's Super Stars USA. (Series; Reality; WB; 2004). A rather degrading spoof of American Idol that looks for the worst, not the best singers. To make matters worse, the contestants (who literally cannot sing) are told they can — and perform believing that, hoping to acquire the title "Superstar USA." The worst of the worst singers are chosen from open auditions and sent to Hollywood to compete in a finals selection competition. These "lucky" finalists then compete on stage for all America to see (but still unaware that it is a joke).

Host: Brian McFayden. Judges: Tone Loc, Colleen Fitzpatrick, Chris Briggs. Winner: Jamie Foss.

8915 We Dare You! (Pilot; Human Interest; ABC; 4/5/82). A Candid Camera type of program that recruits ordinary people to play practical jokes on unsuspecting friends and family members.

Hosts: Jon Bauman, Terry McGovern. Guests: Pat McCormick, Paul Williams.

8916 We Got It Made. (Series; Comedy; NBC; Syn.; 1983–1988). Mickey MacKenzie is a blonde bombshell. She measures 36-24-34 and has a Marilyn Monroe-like aura about her (her speech, facial expressions and walk are reminiscent of Marilyn's). "That," she says, "is how men see me. But they don't see me." The "me" Mickey is referring to is the sweet, innocent and rather sensitive girl she really is, a girl who is very shy and afraid to take a chance. "All my life I've been afraid to take a chance. I didn't go out for cheerleading, I didn't apply to college, I didn't even take the Pepsi Challenge. I never took a risk and I never lost. I never did anything exciting."

After high school, Mickey held jobs as a dancer and as a movie theater usherette. Her life changed suddenly when she began working for a company called American Fryer and found a boyfriend who seemed to like her for her real self. When her boyfriend ran off with her mother, Mickey quit her job and moved to New York City to escape her past.

Only hours after arriving in Manhattan, she saw an ad for a housekeeper's position and applied for it. David Tucker and Jay Bostwick are the men who placed the ad — two sloppy bachelors who share Apartment 9A at 1054 West 61st Street. Jay hires Mickey the instant he sees her. Although Mickey has no experience as a professional housekeeper, she applied for the job to take a chance, "to try something different and make people happy. It's good, honest work."

David is a private practice attorney, and Jay is an idea man who imports seemingly useless gag items. Claudia Evans, a salesclerk at Bloomingdale's Department Store in Manhattan, is David's girlfriend; Beth Sorenson, a kindergarten teacher at the Ridge-way School, is Jay's girlfriend (she was previously a WAC and had dreams of becoming a stripper; she was too shy, however, "to take it off" when it came time to perform). Beth and Claudia are also best friends and take aerobics classes at the Manhattan Health Club.

In the syndicated version, John Hillner played David (now a lawyer employed by Herbert Foley). Beth and Claudia were dropped and replaced by Jay and David's neighbors, Max Papavasilios, Sr. and his son, Max, Jr.

Relatives: Elaine Joyce (Mickey's mother, Arlene MacKenzie), Teri Copley (Mickey's Southern cousin, Lucy MacKenzie), David Knell (David's brother, Rick Tucker). Theme: "We Got It Made," by Tom Wells (NBC, 1983–84) and Score Productions (Syn. Version 1987–88).

Cast: Teri Copley (Mickey MacKenzie), Matt McCoy (David Tucker), John Hillner (David Tucker), Tom Villard (Jay Bostwick), Bonnie Urseth (Beth Sorenson), Stephanie Kramer (Claudia Evans), Elaine Joyce (Arlene MacKenzie), David Knell (Rick Tucker), Ron Karabatsos (Max Papavasilios), Lance Wilson-White (Max Papavasilios, Jr.), John O'Leary (Herbert Foley).

8917 We Got to Do Better. (Series; Reality; BET; 2007). The series, originally titled Hot Ghetto Mess (but changed when advertisers withdrew their revenue) is a collection of home videos sent in by African American viewers. Based on the original concept (the web site that bears its name) it depicts African Americans in a not so positive light with the object being "we got to do it better" (to spark change within the black community through the unflattering images that are broadcast). Press material describes the show as an "In your face clip show that challenges viewers to improve themselves and their communities."

Host: Charlie Murphy.

8918 We Take Your Word. (Series; Game; CBS; 1950–1951). The object calls for a celebrity panel to supply definitions and derivations of words submitted by home viewers. Words that stump the panel award the senders a cash prize. The series ran from April 1, 1950 to January 23, 1951 and March 9, 1951 to June 1, 1951.

Host: John Daly, John K.M. McCaffrey. Panelists: Ilka Chase, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Abe Burrows.

8919 The Weaker Sex(?). (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1968). A daily series wherein women from various fields of business appear and discuss the controversial issues that affect women in their daily lives. Actress Pamela Mason is the host.

8920 The Weakest Link. (Series; Game; NBC; PAX; 2001–2002). A group of eight players stand in a half circle before the host. Rounds begin at two minutes and decrease in time by ten seconds for each additional round. The host reads a question to each player. If the player responds correctly, money is added to a bank; if not, the money is lost. The object is to either answer eight questions in a row correctly and win $125,000 (per round) or for a player to call "Bank" (only on his turn and before the question is read) to freeze the money at that point (becomes safe). The bank then reverts to its starting point and the questions continue. At the end of each round, players vote someone off (usually the one with the least ability — the weakest link that is preventing them from acquiring more money). When two players are left, a final round is played to determine the winner (the one who answers the most questions correctly); he receives whatever money was deposited in the bank. The series aired on NBC from April 16, 2001 to July 14, 2002. Episodes not aired (but produced for NBC) aired on PAX in late 2002.

Host: Ann Robinson (2001), George Gray (2002). Announcer: John Cramer.

8921 Weapons Man. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/8/63). A proposed spin-off from Stoney Burke about Mark Vickers, a weapons expert who assists the police in unusual cases involving the use of a weapon to commit a crime. In the pilot episode, Vickers investigates the arrow killing of a government official who was attending an archery exhibition at a local rodeo.

Cast: J.D. Cannon (Mark Vickers). Guest Cast: Henry Silva (Matt Elder), Pilar Seurat (Margo Tecas), Jack Lord (Stoney Burke).

8922 W.E.B. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1978). A behind the scenes look at television broadcasting as seen through the experiences of Ellen Cunningham, an up and coming programming executive for T.A.B. (the Trans-Atlantic Broadcasting Company) in New York City (in the pilot episode, T.A.B. stood for the Trans-American Broadcasting Company). Ellen was originally assistant to the head of daytime programming. When she saves the network's fall season by re-editing Our America, a 30 hour miniseries, she is promoted to director of the Department of Special Events. (Our America was a negative look at the United States and deemed unsuitable for airing. Ellen cut the negative aspects, added narration and stills and saved the first three weeks of T.A.B.'s fall season; the miniseries also won the network several Emmy Awards for outstanding program.)

Harry Brooks is the Chairman of the Board; Harvey Pearlstein is the research director; Jack Kiley is the programming chief; Yetta is Harvey's wife; Claire is Jack's wife; Jackie is Jack's daughter; Walter Matthews is the director of operations; Gus Dunlap is the news director; Dan Costello is the sales executive; Christine Nichols is Ellen's secretary; Kevin is Ellen's assistant.

The title refers to a television network (periods were probably used in the title to distinguish this series from two earlier anthology series called The Web). David Rose composed the theme.

Cast: Pamela Bellwood (Ellen Cunningham), Alex Cord (Jack Kelly), Andrew Prine (Dan Costello), Richard Basehart (Gus Dunlap), Howard Witt (Walter Matthews), Lee Wilkof (Harvey Pearlstein), Stephen McNally (Harry Brooks; series), John Colicos (Harry Brooks; pilot), Tisch Raye (Christine Nichols), Peter Coffield (Kevin), Joyce Gittlin (Yetta Pearlstein), Barbara Babcock (Claire Kiley), Katy Kurtzman (Jackie Kelly).

8923 The Web. (Series; anthology; CBS; 1950–1954). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are suddenly trapped in perilous situations. Stories are written by members of the Mystery Writers of America.

Host-Narrator: Jonathan Drake. Performers Include: Leslie Nielsen, Jane Seymour, Richard Webb, Grace Kelly, Jonathan Harris, Diana Douglas, E.G. Marshall, Judy Parrish, Jack Lemmon, John Newland, Henry Jones, Rita Lynn, Patricia Crowley, Whit Bissell, Virginia Vincent, Anthony Ross, Vincent Price, Anne Jackson, Anne Seymour, Darren McGavin, Joan Copeland, Jack Palance, Eva Marie Saint, Virginia Gibson, Martha Scott, Ben Gazzara, Jayne Meadows, Robert Sterling, Patricia McCormack, Cloris Leachman, Phyllis Kirk, James Dunn.

8924 The Web. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1957). Dramatizations that depict the attempts to people to overcome problems that were caused by their own doing. The series, which produced 14 episodes, ran from July 7, 1957 to October 6, 1957.

Performers Include: Beverly Garland, Rebecca Welles, Keith Larsen, Jerry Paris, Paul Richards, James Darren, Tina Carver, John Hudson, Robert F. Simon, Rex Reason, Jeff Richards, Fay Spain, Ken Lynch, Alexander Scourby, Joe Mantell, Ned Glass.

8925 Web Junk 20. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2003). Television and the Internet combine to present viewers with a look at the strange array of home made videos that are common on numerous web sites (although, in most cases, only highlight clips are seen). The series also allows viewers to send in video tapes of their unusual home made movies for airing on the program.

Host: Patrice O'Neal, Jim Breuer.

8926 Webster. (Series; Comedy; ABC; Syn.; 1983–1988). During an ocean voyage, Katherine Calder-Young and George Papadopolis meet, fall in love and marry aboard ship. Two weeks later, when Katherine and George return home (to George's apartment), George learns that his best friends, Travis and Gert Long, have been killed in a car accident. Shortly thereafter, George receives a telegram saying that he has been appointed the guardian of Webster Long, Travis and Gert's seven-year-old black son (George is Webster's godfather). Stories relate Webster's efforts to adjust to a new life with white parents, and George and Katherine's efforts to adjust to parenthood.

Webster, who attends Clemens Elementary School, has a teddy bear he calls Teddy and keep his "menstoes" (mementos) in an old cigar box. He calls "George," "George" and Katherine "Mam" (it sounds like "Mom" to him). Webster has two pet frogs (Fred and Peggy), a pet snake he calls Dr. Plotsman and a homemade robot called Mr. Spielberg.

Katherine is 37 years old and was originally a consumer advocate for the mayor's office in Chicago. She later attended the University of Chicago with the hope of becoming a child psychologist.

George, a 41-year-old former pro football player, now works as a sportscaster for WBJX-TV, Channel 6 (he is the host of Papadopolis on Sports). George's old jersey number was 71, and he attempted to make a comeback via the Warriors football team; he found he was too old to play again.

Jerry Silver was originally Katherine's assistant, then owner of Jerry Silver's Health Club and Spa. He also does volunteer work at the Oak Sure Hospital.

Cassandra ("Cassie") Parker and her husband, Bill, are George and Katherine's landlords in later episodes.

Phillip Long is Webster's uncle (his brother, Travis, was Webster's father). Although Philip is a blood relative, Travis and Gert believed that if anything happened to them, Webster would be better off with George (Philip is a dancer and has an unstable life). Although Philip petitioned the courts to raise Webster, he withdrew the petition when he realized that George and Katherine could provide a better life for Webster than he could. Although their relationship got off to a rocky start, Philip, George and Katherine became good friends. Maurice is a former football player and friend of George's who now owns the Trocadero Diner.

Relatives: Neva Patterson (Katherine's mother, Emily Calder-Young), Gwen Verdon (Katherine's aunt, Charlotte), John Astin (Katherine's uncle, Charles), Jack Kruschen (George's father, George ["Papa"] Papadopolis, Sr.; he owns a store called "Papa Papadopolis You Break It, I Fix It Shop"), Jennifer Holmes (Bill and Cassie's daughter, Maggie Parker), Jamie McEnnan (Maggie's son, Max), Dan Frishman (Cassie's nephew, Skippy Loomis), Lu Leonard (Maurice's sister, Babe).

Flashbacks: Harrison Page (Webster's father, Travis Long; he called Webster his "Little Quarterback"). Theme: "Then Came You," by Steve and Madeline Sunshine. The series appeared on ABC from 1983–87; in syndication from 1987–88.

Cast: Susan Clark (Katherine Papadopolis), Alex Karras (George Papadopolis), Emmanuel Lewis (Webster Long), Henry Polic II (Jerry Silver), Cathryn Damon (Cassie Parker), Eugene Roche (Bill Parker), Ben Vereen (Phillip Long), Richard Karron (Maurice).

8927 The Wedding Bells. (Series; Comedy-Drama; Fox; 2007). Jane, Annie and Samantha (called Sammy) Bell are three sisters who, after their parents divorce, decide to take over (and preserve) the family business, The Wedding Palace (established in 1983).

Jane, the eldest, is serious but seething; Jane, the respectable one, is married to David, the company's Chief Operating Officer; Sammy, the youngest, is flirtatious and portrayed as a slut (sleeping with members of the various wedding parties). Stories follow the Bell sisters as they deal with problem brides, nervous and anxious brides, nervous mothers — and anything else that can make a wedding go wrong.

Amanda Pontell is the owner of The Wedding Palace (from the second episode on; David becomes the wedding photographer); Ernesto is the Italian chef; Ralph Snow is the wedding singer; Laurie and Laine are sisters who help the Bell sisters plan weddings; Debbie Quill is the assistant wedding planner.

The program's opening theme is a bit unusual: the performer is seen with his or her character name (the stars' real names appear after the first commercial break with the guest stars and producer, writer and director credits).

8928 Wedding Day. (Pilot; Human Interest; NBC; 6/8 to 6/12/81). A five-part pilot for a potential daily series. Each of the programs records a real-life romance as an actual couple marries on the air. Make-shift bachelor parties and bridal showers are given, along with a wedding reception following the actual marriage ceremony.

Hosts: Huell Howser, Mary Ann Mobley.

8929 Wedding Party. (Series; Game; ABC; 1968). Three husband-and-wife couples compete. The wives are isolated backstage while the husbands appear before the cameras. The husbands each select three similar prizes from a group of merchandise items that are displayed on stage. The husbands are then isolated backstage and the wives, now before the camera, are asked to select three items also. The couples are reunited on stage. The choice of items chosen by each player is revealed. If both the husband and the wife chose the same item, the item becomes their prize. The series ran from April 1, 1968 to July 1, 1968.

An announcer opens the show: "Welcome to Wedding Party, the show that's all about love. And now here is the star of Wedding Party Al Hamel."

Host: Al Hamel.

8930 Wednesday Night Out. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/24/72). The story, set in the town of Bryer Crest, focuses on three suburban couples and a divorcee who takes turns inviting one another to theme parties on Wednesday evenings. In the pilot episode, the couples gather at the Warren's home to celebrate "Hawaiian Night." The Regulars: Jim Warren, the owner of a car wash, and his wife, Tess; Paula, Tess's divorced sister; Frank Bonio, a real estate salesman, and his wife, Anna Maria; David Goldberg, a gynecologist, and his wife, Sandy.

8931 Wednesday 9:30 (8:30 Central). (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2002). IBS is a mythical broadcast television network. IBS is also a low rated network — even lower than the then real network PAX, which achieves higher ratings with reruns of shows that originally aired on IBS (for example, Just the Three of Us and Reginald Woolworth, M.D.). In an attempt to improve the network's performance, management hires David Weiss, a stage producer from Minneapolis. Red Lansing, the owner of the network, feels that Paul "has insight into the average American mind" and can turn the network around. Now, as the program director, a somewhat out of place, but enthusiastic young man struggles to do what is expected of him despite a staff of “quirky” co-workers.

Mike McClarren is Paul’s boss, the senior head of programming; Lindsay Urich is the vice president of comedy development (she believes every man is out to sexually harass her); Paul Weffler is the president of IBS who has an impressive record but of late has hit a stumbling block (he developed America’s Funniest Home Videos for ABC and Yes, Dear for CBS, both real shows). Joanne Waters is the vice president of programming. After two episodes the title changed to My Adventures in Television (and ran for six additional episodes).

Cast: John Cleese (Red Lansing), Ed Begley, Jr. (Paul Weffler), Ivan Sergei (David Weiss), Melinda McGraw (Lindsay Urich), James McCauley (Mike McClarren), Sherri Shepherd (Joanne Waters).

8932 Weeds. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; 2005–). Nancy Botwin is a recent widow and the mother of two children, Silas and Shane. Nancy lives in the fictional town of Agrestic, California. Following the sudden death of her husband, Nancy finds that the only way she can support her family is by selling marijuana. Stories follow Nancy and the people close to her as she goes about selling weed to make ends meet.

Silas is Nancy’s oldest son, an insecure teenager who was forced to become the man of the house. Shane, the younger son, has been deeply affected by his father’s death and demonstrates bizarre and disturbing behavior. Celia Hodes is Nancy’s friend, the president of the PTA; Doug Wilson is Nancy’s accountant (and her best client, as he is always stoned); Andy Botwin is Nancy’s brother-in-law, an out-of-work schemer who finds Nancy’s business profitable and becomes her partner; Heylia James is Nancy’s weed supplier; and Conrad Shepard is Heylia’s son.

Cast: Mary Louise Parker (Nancy Botwin), Hunter Parrish (Silas Botwin), Alexander Gould (Shane Botwin), Elizabeth Perkins (Celia Hodes), Justin Kirk (Andy Botwin), Kevin Nealon (Doug Wilson), Tonya Patano (Heylia James), Romany Malco (Conrad Shepard).

8933 Weekend. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/9/67). The adventures of a group of high school teenagers who flock to the beach in southern California each weekend for two days of fun and sun. In the pilot episode, titled “Like the Red Sea, Baby, We’ll Never Part,” one of the teens attempts to recover his repossessed motorcycle.

Cast: Lori Martin (Eunice), Tim Matheson (Randy), Rick Kellman (Eldon), Tony Dow (Norm).

8934 The Weird Al Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1997–1998). Weird Al Yankovic is, as his name implies, a bit weird. He lives in a split-level cave twenty miles below the earth’s surface. His companion is his pet, Harvey the Wonder Hamster. It is here that Al oversees his television show (a contract granted to him when he saved the life of hard-nosed producer J.B. Toppersmith who was incapacitated by a bear trap).

While Al produces his show, the death-defying stunts performed by Harvey along with special guests who stop by to exchange talk and perform songs comprises a TV show broadcast from a cave. Regular visitors to Al’s home (the cave) are the Hooded Avenger (who always delivers a learning lesson for children); Al’s cousin Corky; Madame Judy, the mind reader; Bobby, the inquisitive boy; Val Brentwood, Gal Spy (a female James Bond); and Mrs. Fesenmeyer, Al’s neighbor. The program also features Fat Man cartoons (about a man’s endless efforts to find food), short educational films and a channel switching segment (here Al sits in front of his TV set to see what is on the other channels; Al plays the various characters hosting shows — like Aerobic Instructor Al; News Anchor Al; and Ralphie, host of “The Uncle Ralphie Show”). There is also an exchange of conversation between Al and “The Guy Boarded Up in a Wall” in Al’s cave.

Cast: Weird “Al” Yankovic (Himself), Brian Haley (The Hooded Avenger), Danielle Weeks (Cousin Corky), Judy Tetuna (Madame Judy), Paula Jai Parker (Val Brentwood—Gal Spy), Donovan Freberg (Baby Boolie), Eddie Deezen (Guy Boarded Up in the Wall), Martha Quinn (Woman in Commercials), Gary LeRoi Gray (Bobby), Bob Scott (“Mysteries” Announcer), Mary Yankovic (Herself), Nick Yankovic (Himself), Stan Freberg (J.B. Toppersmith), Beau Weaver (Channel Hopping Announcer), Billy West (Show Announcer), Patricia Place (Mrs. Fesenmeyer), Al Yankovic (Voice of Fat Man), Billy West (Al’s Show Announcer).

8935 Weird Science. (Series; Comedy; USA; 1994–1997). Gary Wallace and Wyatt Donnelly are high school freshmen who are also computer geeks. They have one great ambition: create the perfect electronic woman. One night they decide to do just that. Gary programs his belief of what constitutes “a total babe”; Wyatt programs his thoughts for an intellectual girl. As they begin their programming, a bolt of lightning from a brewing storm strikes the computer and creates a gorgeous super intelligent “babe” named Lisa — the girl of both Wyatt and Gary’s dreams.

Lisa, who wears tight dresses, is extremely knowledgeable in all fields but love — which she can explain in psychological and clinical ways, but not from the heart. Stories follow the adventures of Gary and Wyatt as nerdish teenagers with a P.C. genie (as Lisa calls herself) who can grant them any wish — well, almost anything as Lisa calls them “torgued up 15 year olds.” The series is based on the feature film of the same title.

Other Regulars: Gary's parents, Al and Emily; Wayne, Gary's brother; Wyatt's parents, Clint and Marcia; School principal Scampi.

8936 Weird TV. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1995). No matter how strange it appears — from UFO's to people just doing weird things, Weird TV professes to cover it all — no matter where it exists. The program also presented “Bizarre News from Around the World,” animated segments, short (five second) “weird bits” to longer (six minute) video clips of “weird stuff.” The audience was also asked not only to submit ideas but send in any videos they have that could be used on the program

Host: Shadoe Stevens.

8937 Welcome Aboard. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1949). A live program of music and song set against the background of a cruise ship that features top-name singers and comedians as guest hosts. The series ran from October 3, 1948 to February 20, 1949.

Regulars: The Four Step Brothers. Orchestra: Russ Morgan.

8938 Welcome Back, Kotter. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1975–1979). In 1965 Gabe Kotter lived in a Brooklyn, New York, neighborhood so tough that “the gangs didn't carry guns. They inserted the bullets manually.” He was a radical student at James Buchanan High School in Bensonhurst and coined the phrase “Sweathogs” (to describe students in special education classes). Gabe was on the basketball team and the vice principal, Woodman, blamed him for the cafeteria riots.

Ten years later things have changed. Gabe is married (to Julie) and is now a teacher who yearns to help students who are much like he was when he was young. He returns to Brooklyn and to Buchanan High where he is assigned to teach special guidance remedial academics to a new breed of incorrigible “sweathogs”: Vincent “Vinnie” Barbarino, Juan Epstein, Frederick “Boom Boom” Washington, Arnold Horshack, Rosalie “Hotsie” Totsi, Vernajejan Williams and Bambi Foster.

Gabe and his wife, the former Julie Hanson, first live in a small apartment (3C) at 711 East Ocean Parkway (later, after the birth of their twins, Robin and Rachel, they move to a more specious apartment, 409, at 1962 Linden Boulevard).

Julie was born in Nebraska and is famous for her tuna casserole (which Gabe hates and says “it will deter dinner guests from returning”). Julie works as a volunteer at the Free Clinic and makes $5 for every 1,000 envelopes she stuffs with polyester fabric samples.

Gabe, a social studies teacher, is looking for a meaningful relationship between himself and his students. His classes are held in room 11 and he is also the Sweathogs homeroom teacher.

Vinnie is the leader of the Sweathogs. “Room 11 is my place and these [the Sweathogs] are my people.” Vinnie believes he is the “Sweatog Heartthrob” and can date any girl he wants (“I have a stupefying talent with female girls of the opposite sex”). When it comes to homework “Barbarino don't do no reports for no one.” Vinnie plays on Gabe's sympathies by saying “It will hurt my sainted mother if she hears bad things about me.” “Up your nose with a rubber hose,” the expression associated with Vinnie, is a Sweathog farewell salute, according to Gabe (when one leaves the group, that saying is bestowed upon them). Vinnie later works as an orderly in the local hospital and would like “to be discovered in a drug store and become an actor” (the next Marlon Brando).

Juan Epstein, a Puerto Rican Jew, is the toughest kid in school and has been voted “most likely to take a life.” Epstein would like to become a “typhoon” and open a string of Puerto Rican–Jewish restaurants. When it comes to tests or being late, Epstein presents one of his famous “notes from my mother” excuses (usually a medical problem and each is signed “Epstein's Mother”). After 11 years of such notes, Juan actually handed Gabe a legit note (signed “Mrs. Epstein”) when he was out with a stomach virus.

Juan has nine brothers and sisters and an array of pets: Wally, Eddie Haskell, Lumpy and Jerry Mathers as the Beaver (lizards); Jimmy, Darlene, Cubby and Annette (white mice; his “Mouseketeers”); Florence, Harpo and John-Boy (hamsters); Truman Capote (turtle). Juan is the only Sweathog the school's principal, John Lazarus (voice of James Komack), has taken a liking to (he considers Juan his son).

Freddie. “Hi There” is the greeting one hears from Freddie “Boom Boom” Washington. He would like to be an architect and build the world's largest building, “Boom Boom Towers.” He is on the school's varsity basketball team and says his nickname doesn't come from the fact that he plays the bass “But because I like Boom Boom.” He and Vernajejan were an item in many episodes. He calls Gabe “Mr. Kotter.” Freddie hosted Hi There, a radio talk show on Station WBAD.

Arnold says that his last name, Horshack, “is an old and respected name. It means the cattle are dying.” He also says that he is the last of the Horshacks “because after they made me they broke the mold.” His father drives a cab and he originally only spoke when Vinnie gave him permission to do so. Arnold, whose catchphrase is “ooh, ooh, ooh,” often raises his hand to ask a question then forgets why he did so when he is called on. Arnold worked part time at his Uncle Harry’s costume shop, “Orshack’s of Fifth Avenue” (Harry, played by James Komack, doesn’t use the H). Arnold’s greeting is “Hello, how are you?”

Rosalie, a very pretty and sexy young girl, hates to be called “Hotsie Totsi” “because it gives me the image of being easy and I’m not. I’m a lady.” When asked which part of California she is from Bambi says “the beach.” Bambi calls Gabe “Gabsee.” Bambi is original from Texas and attended 11 different schools in 11 states (her parents are divorced and she lives with her father, who is constantly moving). Bambi puts on a big act to be liked.

Michael Woodman, the sarcastic vice principal, was a nurse’s aide during World War II and previously taught history at Buchanan High. He is ill-tempered and liked teaching history “because a good war cheers me up.” Woodman claims “I have no sense of humor” and calls Gabe’s unorthodox teaching methods “Nutty cuckoo.” (Gabe finds normal teaching methods don’t work with Sweathogs. “I talk, they listen” is how Woodman says he teaches his class.)

Cast: Gabe Kaplan (Gabe Kotter), Marcia Strassman (Julie Kotter), John Travolta (Vinnie Barbarino), Robert Hegyes (Juan Epstein), Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs (Freddie Washington), Ron Palillo (Arnold Horshack), John Sylvester White (Michael Woodman), Debralee Scott (Rosalie “Hotsie” Totsi), Vernee Watson (Vernajean Williams), Susan Lanier (Bambi Foster), Melonie Haller (Angie Graboski; a sweathog), Charles Fleischer (Carvelli; a sweathog), Stephen Shortridge (Beau DeLabarre; a sweathog), Bob Harcum (Wilbur Murray; a sweathog), Caterina Cellino (Maria; a sweathog), Wendy Rastatter (Wendy; a sweathog), Sally Hightower (Laura; a sweathog), Judy Young (Laura; a sweathog), Della Reese (Jean Tremaine; an English teacher), Elaine Lembeck (Judy Borden; a student), Dennis Bowen (Todd Ludlow; a student), Susan Pratt (Jenny Henson; Julie’s sister), Irene Arranga (Mary Johnson; Arnold’s girlfriend), Lisa Mordente (Carmine Epstein; Juan’s sister), Herb Edelman (Mo Epstein; Juan’s uncle), Linda McCullough (Sally; Vinnie’s girlfriend), Beth Kearney (Robin Kotter; flash forwards), Kay Kearney (Rachel Kotter; flash forwards), Ellen Travolta (Arnold’s mother). Theme Vocal: “Welcome Back” by John B. Sebastian.

8939 Welcome to New York. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2000–2001). A.M. New York is a morning talk show produced by Marsha Bickner for WNYD-TV, Channel 6 in Manhattan. Marsha is a by-the-books producer and will do what it takes to keep her show at the top of the ratings; she fears losing her job if the ratings slip.

Stories follow the ups and downs of the staff of A.M. New York.

Marsha’s idol is newscaster Diane Sawyer. When she had the opportunity to meet Diane, Diane gave her a cat (which she promptly named Diane Sawyer). Amy Manning is Marsha’s dedicated, mousey assistant. She won’t do anything for anybody else — “I work for Marsha.”

Jim Gaffigan is the weatherman. He was hired from an Indiana station and is totally out of place in the big city (his square ways just don’t fit the program). Adrian Spencer is the anchorman. He is obsessed with his eyeglasses. He is proud of the fact that they cost $1400 and has glass in the frames (he uses them for appearances only). He also wears very expensive Italian shirts with his initials on the cuffs. Vince is Adrian’s assistant; Amy was given a chance to do reporting and her first story was “The Mistreatment of Carriage Horses in Central Park.”

Cast: Christine Baranski (Marsha Bickmer), Sara Gilbert (Amy Manning), Rocky Carroll (Adrian Spencer), Jim Gaffigan (Himself), Anthony De Sando (Vince Verbeno).

8940 Welcome to Paradise. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 6/12/84). Andy, Felicity and Bo are three adventurers who own a boat called Paradise. The unsold series was to relate their adventures as they roam the South Pacific. The pilot episode, set in New Zealand, depicts the trio’s efforts to retrieve stolen museum artifacts.

Cast: Woody Brown (Andy Coles), Kelbe Nugent (Felicity “Filly” Ryan), Jerry Dinome (Bo Wallace). Guest Cast: Norman Forsey (Henderson), Carmen Heta (Hunemoa), Wi Kuki Kaa (Kahukura), James Cross (Koro), Tim Lee (Billy Kemp), Bruno Lawrence (Tony Blackwood).

8941 Welcome to Pooh Corner. (Series; Children; Disney; 1984). Winnie the Pooh and the characters from the Hundred Acre Woods created by A.A. Milne come to life (via actors in elaborate costumes) to help children understand the world that surrounds them. Each episode, while depicting the antics of the characters, includes a lesson on morals or safety.

Character Performers: Sharon Baird, Patty Maloney, Peter Risch, Larry Thomas, Al Berry, Joe Gimalva, Frank Groby, Norman Merrill, Jr. Voice Cast: Hal Smith (Winnie the Pooh), Hal Smith (Owl), Will Ryan (Tigger), Will Ryan (Rabbit), Ronald K. Gans (Eeyore), Kim Christopher (Kanga), Robin Fredericks (Kanga; later), Phil Baron (Piglet).

8942 Welcome to the Fun Zone. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 6/2/84). A proposed late night series that blends comedy, music and videos. Jay Levy and Hamilton Cloud are the producers.

Hosts: Rusty Cudleff, Tawny Moyer, Charles Zucker. Guests: John Candy, Larry Harmon, Howie Mandel, John Paragon, Mark Weiner, Al Yankovic. Announcer: Dr. Demento. Orchestra: Ira Newborn.

8943 Welcome to the Neighborhood. (Unaired Series; Reality; ABC; 2005). A proposed series that was considered unsuitable to run and was pulled days before its scheduled broadcast (the program was promoted by ABC on the air). The format called for white residents of an exclusive neighborhood in Austin, Texas, to choose new neighbors from a group of seven families from diverse backgrounds. Jerry Blumefield and Brianna Braderlin are the producers.

8944 Welcome to the Parker. (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2007). With programs like Hotel and Hotel Babylon (see entries) spotlighting make believe hotel staff and guests, Welcome to the Parker focuses on the real people of a real hotel — the luxurious Parker Palm Springs Hotel. Episodes take viewers behind the scenes to see hotel operations as well as glimpses into the lives of its guests.

Featured: Clinton Leupp, Micah McCain, Ric Murillo.

8945 Welcome Travelers. (Series; Interview; NBC; CBS; 1952–1955). Travelers, met at bus, railroad and plane terminals, are invited to the studio where, in exchange for gifts, they relate their experiences and impressions of Chicago. The series ran on NBC from September 8, 1952 to May 2, 1954 and on CBS from July 5, 1954 to October 21, 1955.

Host: Tony Bartlett, Bob Cunningham. Announcer: William T. Lazar.

8946 We'll Get By. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975). George and his wife Liz are a happily married couple who live in suburban, New Jersey. They are the parents of three children (Michael, Andrea and Kenny) and George makes a comfortable living as a lawyer. Liz cares for the house and kids while George is at work. Stories follow George and Liz as they attempt to deal with the antics of their exceptionally bright children. Alan Alda created the series.

Cast: Paul Sorvino (George Platt), Mitzi Hoag (Liz Platt), Jerry Houser (Michael "Muff" Platt), Devon Scott (Andrea Platt), Willie Aames (Kenny Platt), Henry Jones (Liz's father).

8947 We'll Take Manhattan. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/3/68). Just as tycoon Harrison Conroy is about to begin construction on a skyscraper in New York City, Chief Irontail, a 149-year-old Indian and the last of the Manhattan Tribe, lays claim to the property, declaring that it is legally his. Through Lucas Greystone, Irontail's attorney, it is discovered that over 100 years ago the original buyer failed to pay the chief for the property and it has since reverted back to him. The unsold series was to focus on Conroy's attempts to evict the chief and construct Conroy Towers. Other Regulars: Eagle Eye, the chief's son; and Laughing Rock, the chief's daughter.

Cast: Dwayne Hickman (Lucas Greystone), Ben Blue (Chief Irontail), Allan Melvin (Eagle Eye), Leslie Perkins (Laughing Rock), Walter Woolf King (Harrison Conroy).

8948 We'll Take Manhattan. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/16/90). Yvonne Hamilton is a hopeful singer and her friend and roommate, Cheryl Lee Donner is a hopeful dancer. Both girls possess a dream to make it big in New York City and the unsold series was to follow their ups and downs as they struggle to break into show business. Other Regulars: Rocky, their neighbor; and Bert, their landlord.

Cast: Jackee Harry (Yvonne Hamilton), Corinne Bohrer (Cheryl Lee Donner), Fred Applegate (Bert), Edan Gross (Rocky). Guest Cast: Joel Brooks (Mr. Rigaletti), Stanley Kamel (Director), Jean Speegle Howard (Mrs. Feinboy), David Dunard (Casting director), Louie Bonann (Pedro), Ossie Davis (Man on subway).

8949 Wendy and Me. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1964–1965). The Sunset de Ville is an apartment complex at 4820 Highland in Los Angeles that is owned by George Burns, a former vaudeville, movie, radio and television star turned landlord ("Well, here I am doing a weekly television series again. I didn't want to do it. I told the network not a chance. They said, 'George, we'll let you sing all you want.' I said, 'Where do I sign?'").

George lives in Apartment 104 and is the only one who is aware of a viewing audience. He speaks directly to them, relates monologues and sings whenever the occasion allows (much as he did on The George Burns and Gracie Allen Show). George practices singing five or six hours a day: "I want to be ready in case somebody gives a party ... I love to sing. I'd rather sing than eat. Some of my friends who heard me sing say they'd rather eat." George was a tenant and had to buy the building in order to sing: "I have it in the tenants' leases that they cannot evict the landlord."

George's favorite tenants are Wendy and Jeff Conway, a married couple who live in Apartment 217. Wendy was an airline stewardess and Jeff was a pilot for TGA (Trans Globe Airlines). Wendy was assigned to his flight and spent 20 minutes trying to fasten his seat belt before he could explain he was the pilot. "Having Wendy help you," George says, "is like being lost in the desert for four days and then having someone give you a glass of sand."

Wendy and Jeff have been married one year when the series begins. Wendy is blonde, beautiful and totally scatterbrained. "People gave up wondering why Wendy does things a long time ago. I'm glad I own the building. People can go to Wendy's apartment, get confused and come to my apartment to hear me sing."

Wendy has an organized type of mind — "She never knows what she is going to say even after she says it." She celebrates everything (such as the day she met Jeff, the day she first put sugar in Jeff's coffee, and March 23, "the day nothing happened"). Living across the hall from the Conways in Apartment 219 is Danny Adams, Jeff's co-pilot. Danny is a ladies' man and can't go 24 hours without a woman (he gets withdrawal pains; if things become desperate, he walks past beauty parlors until someone whistles). Danny has a little black book, and a red one called "The Red Star Edition."

Mr. Bundy is George's janitor; Bob Hunter (playing himself) is George's piano player ("He's out of the Juilliard School of Music. When they found out he was working for me, the next day he was out").

Relatives: Sheila Bromley (Jeff's aunt, Harriet), Walter Sande (Jeff's uncle, Benson Conway III), Amzie Strickland (Danny's sister, Mary Jo Adams).

Cast: George Burns (Himself), Connie Stevens (Wendy Conway), James Callahan (Danny Adams), J. Pat O'Malley (Mr. Bundy), Robyn Grace (Catherine; Wendy's friend), Bartlett Robinson (Mr. Norton; Jeff's employer), Jane Moran (Norton's wife), Sheila Bromley (Jeff's Aunt Harriet), Erin O'Donnell (Laura; Wendy's friend). Theme Song: "Wendy and Me" by Ervin Drake.

8950 The Wendy Barrie Show. (Series; Interview; NBC; 1949–1950). The alternate title for Through Wendy's Window. See this title for information.

8951 Wendy Hooper — U.S. Army. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/14/81). Thinking that the communications center of the Fort Waco Army Base will help her become a country and western singer, a pretty but naive Alabama girl (Wendy Hooper) joins the service. Shortly after, the truth dawns on Wendy and the unsold series was to focus on Wendy as she resolves to do her best to become a soldier. In the pilot episode, Wendy tries to please her tough sergeant (Bruno) by passing the pole climbing test.

Cast: Wendy Holcombe (Wendy Hooper), Michael Pataki (Sergeant Michael Bruno), VanNessa Clarke (Private Diane Simpson), Carol Ann Susi (Private Theresa Pelligrini), Dana Elcar (Colonel Alfred Hubik). Guest Cast: Helen Page Camp (Mrs. Hubik), Kathy Shea (Bruno's girlfriend), Dana House (Man).

8952 Wendy Wu: Homecoming Warrior. (Pilot; Adventure; Disney; 6/16/06). Wendy Wu is a gorgeous Chinese-American teenager who attends Fairspring High School in Fairspring, California. Wendy is a very popular girl and she is currently campaigning for Homecoming Queen of her school. Wendy's life seems perfect and she has few worries until Shen, a young Chinese monk appears to tell her that she is the reincarnation of an ancient and powerful warrior and is the only person who can prevent an ancient evil, Yan-Lo, from destroying the world.

Naturally, Wendy disbelieves him — until Shen enlists the help of Wendy's Grandmother, who convinces Wendy that she is who Shen says she is. Wendy is taught by Shen the special martial arts abilities she must have to defeat Yan-Lo. As Wendy learns, she also learns the importance of her heritage. The pilot pits Wendy against Yan-Lo in a battle for good against evil. The proposed series was to follow Wendy as she struggles to keep the status of a teenage girl yet battle evil when the situation arises.

Cast: Brenda Song (Wendy Wu), Shin Koyamada (Shen), Susan Chuang (Grandmother), Anna Hutchinson (Lisa), Sally Martin (Tory), Ellen Woglom (Jessica Dawson), Justin Chan (Peter), Andy Fischer-Price (Austin), Sally Stockwell (Coach Gibbs).

8953 We're Dancin'. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1983). Townsend Coleman hosts a program that features teenagers dancing to the hits of guest recording artists.

8954 We're Movin'. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1981). Scott Baio and Willie Aames (who would later co-star on Charles in Charge), co-host a program that spotlights the usual and unusual activities of ordinary people (the format is geared basically toward children).

8955 We're Puttin' on the Ritz. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/26/86). While working for John Wilkes Barry, a never-seen, reclusive millionaire, Max Montana, his chauffeur, finds a discarded black tie party invitation and convinces Barry's secretary, Mickey Kline, to attend the charity affair with him. At the affair, they pretend to be Max and Mickey Sterling, a wealthy brother and sister. Later, after Max inadvertently pledges $20,000, he and Mickey discover the party was a front for a bunco operation. They expose the culprits and become the hit of society and the most sought after party guests. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures of a chauffeur and a secretary who put on the ritz. Other Regulars: Mr. Mao, the cook; and Mr. Duvall, Barry's personal assistant.

ingstone), John Bedford-Lloyd (Thomas), Jane Hoffman (Dolly Chambers), Philippe Benichou (Jean Paul Lumiere).

8956 Werewolf. (Series; Thriller; Fox; 1987). While working on the fishing boat of Captain Janos Skorzeny, Ted Nichols is bitten by a werewolf (Janos) and cursed to become a murderous creature by the light of the full moon. Hoping to end his curse, Ted approaches his friend, Eric, tells him what has happened, and gives him a gun loaded with silver bullets. A disbelieving Eric witnesses Ted's transformation; but before he is able to do anything, he is attacked and bitten by Ted. Now, himself cursed, Eric begins a quest to find and kill Janos (to sever the original bloodline and end the curse). Stories relate Eric's search, helping people along the way, and his efforts to avoid Alamo Joe, a bounty hunter who has seen his transformation and now seeks to kill him.

Cast: John J. York (Eric Cord), Lance LeGault (Alamo Joe Rogan), Chuck Connors (Janos Skorzeny), Raphael Sbarge (Ted; first episode).

8957 Wesley. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1949). Wesley Eggleston is a 12-year-old boy growing up in a small, rural community. He is best friends with Alvin and has an older sister (Elizabeth) who doesn't quite understand him (and vice versa). Wesley's parents are always caught in the middle of Wesley and Elizabeth's disputes but are also the innocent victims of Wesley's (and Alvin's) efforts to have fun (which usually involves them in some misguided attempt to accomplish something). The live series ran from May 8, 1949 to August 30, 1949.

Cast: Donald Devlin (Wesley Eggleston), Johnny Stewart (Wesley Eggleston; later), Frankie Thomas, Sr. (Wesley's father), Mona Thomas (Wesley's mother), Joy Reese (Elizabeth Eggleston), Billy Nevard (Alvin), Joseph Sweeney (Wesley's grandfather), Jack Ayres (Elizabeth's boyfriend).

8958 The West Point Story. (Series; Anthology; CBS; ABC; 1957–1958). Dramatizations based on incidents in the training periods of West Point Military Academy cadets. The series ran on CBS from October 5, 1956 to September 27, 1957; and on ABC from October 8, 1957 to July 1, 1958.

Cast: Donald May (Cadet Charles C. Thompson), Clint Eastwood (Various Roles). Theme Song: "The West Point March" by Philip Egner, Alfred Parham.

8959 The West Wing. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1999–2006). A behind-the-scenes look at the Presidency of the United States as seen through the activities of Josiah "Jed" Bartlet, the President and his wife, First Lady Abbey Bartlet. The program also focuses on the personal and work lives of the staffers of the West Wing of the White House. Josiah is from a long line political family: his great grandfather's great grandfather Josiah Bartlet signed the Declaration of Independence. In the last episode, Matthew Santos defeats Jed and becomes the nation's first Hispanic President.

Cast: Martin Sheen (Pres. Josiah "Jed" Bartlet), Allison Janney (Claudia Jean "C.J." Cregg), Bradley Whitford (Josh Lyman), Janel Moloney (Donna Moss), Richard Schiff (Toby Ziegler), Nicole Robinson (Margaret Hooper), Dule Hill (Charlie Young), John Spencer (Leo McGarry), Rob Lowe (Sam Seaborn), Joshua Malina (Will Bailey), Stockard Channing (Abbey Bartlet), Kim Webster (Ginger), Jimmy Smits (Matthew Santos), Mary McCormack (Kate Harper), Lily Tomlin (Deborah Fiderer), Kathryn Joosten (Dolores Landingham), Timothy Busfield (Danny Concannon), Ivan Allen (Roger Salier), Kristin Chenoweth (Annabeth Schott), Elizabeth Moss (Zoey Bartlet), Mary-Louise Parker (Amy Gardner), Alan Alda (Senator Arnold Vinick), Anna Deavere Smith (Nancy McNally), John Amos (Percy Fitzwallace), Gary Cole (Bob Russell), Moira Kelly (Mandy Hampton), Randy Brooks (Arthur Leeds), Tim Matheson (John Hoynes), Marlee Matlin (Joey Lucas), Kris Murphy (Katie Witt), Teri Polo (Helen Santos), Kathleen York (Andrea Wyatt), Michael O'Neill (Ron Butterfield), Steve Ryan (Miles Hutchinson), Janeane Garofalo (Louise Thornton), Charles Noland (Steve), Devika Parikh (Bonnie), Renee Estevez (Nancy), Peter James Smith (Ed), William Duffy (Larry).

8960 Western Hour. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1963). Rebroadcasts of episodes originally broadcast on The Rifleman and Zane Grey Theater.

See these titles for information; Chuck Connors serves as the host.

8961 Western Star Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1963). Rebroadcasts of 67 selected episodes from Death Valley Days. See this title for information. Rory Calhoun is the host.

8962 Western Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1959). Rebroadcasts of western dramas that originally aired on Zane Grey Theater. See this title for information. The series aired from July 3, 1959 to September 4, 1959.

8963 The Westerner. (Pilot; Western; Syn.; 11/53). An early, not widely seen pilot about the exploits of a sheriff in a small California town. In the pilot episode, the Sheriff is captured by a group of outlaws and forced to guide them across the desert to the Mexican border.

Cast: James Craig (Sheriff), Kathleen Crowley, James Millican, William Phipps, Sandy Sanders.

8964 The Westerner. (Series; Western; NBC; 1960). He rides a spotted horse, has a dog named Brown and a 405 Winchester repeating rifle with a telescopic sight. He can't read or write, he tends to get drunk and is often defeated in fist fights. He wanders through the West of the 1890s looking for work, most often as a ranch hand or as a wrangler with a cattle drive. "He's a cheap tin horn with a two bit reputation who doesn't have enough guts to wear a gun." This is one description of Dave Blassingame, a man who once had a dream of settling down and starting a ranch but was dealt a cruel hand by fate. He can "break broncs with the best of 'em," rides "cause it's a big country" and has the utmost respect for women ("Women must be God's favorites," Dave says, "because he made 'em finer than anything in creation").

Little is revealed about Dave's past. In the episode "Jeff," information about Dave's desire to become a rancher is mentioned when he meets a "ghost" from his past, a now beautiful woman named Jeff (Diana Millay). Dave was dismayed to find Jeff (no other name given) had drifted into the world of prostitution, but he remembered her as she was, "a young girl he helped raise and loved like she was his own blood." They met again by chance, but how they drifted apart or how Jeff began working the cathouse circuit is not mentioned.

The pilot episode, "Trouble at Tres Cruces," reveals that Dave has an uncle named Adam Brown (Ted DeCorsia) "who raised him when they were breaking ground around Coleman." It also learned throughout the series that Dave first rode a horse when he was eight years old and that Brown is his own dog. Dave picked Brown up to feed him and has been with him ever since. He calls the dog Brown "cause he's a big brown dog." The pilot episode also mentions that Dave's rifle is a .95 Winchester repeating rifle (the bullets are more than double the size of the standard .44-40 rifle; Dave later mentions that the rifle is a 405 Winchester when he is asked what kind it is).

"Burgundy Smith is a reptile, a no good, low down, cheatin' rattlesnake," says Dave about Burgundy Smith, the snazzy dresser who riles Dave no end. They met on a friendly note — until Smith took a fancy to Brown and tried to steal him. They are now rivals at everything and constantly bicker whenever they meet. Theme: "The Westerner," by Herschel Burke Gilbert.

Note: The original pilot, "Trouble at Tres Cruces," aired on The Zane Grey Theater on 3/26/59 (the proposed series title at the time was Winchester). In 1963 (1/15) on The Dick Powell Show, a pilot called The Losers aired. It was an unsold attempt to revise The Westerner series, with Lee Marvin as Dave Blassingame and Keenan Wynn as Burgundy Smith, drifters of the Old West who help people in trouble.

Cast: Brian Keith (Dave Blassingame), John Dehner (Burgundy Smith).

8965 The Westerners. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1965). The syndicated title for 125 selected episodes of Black Saddle, Johnny Ringo, The Law of the Plainsman, The Westerner and Zane Grey Theater. Keenan Wynn is the host.

8966 Westinghouse Summer Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1951-1952). A summer series of dramatic stories sponsored by the Westinghouse Corporation. It ran from June 18, 1951 to September 10, 1951 and June 23, 1952 to September 15, 1952.

8967 Westside Medical. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1977). The personal and professional lives of doctors Sam Lanagan, Janet Cottrell and Phil Parker, staff physicians at Westside Memorial Hospital in California.

Cast: James Sloyan (Dr. Sam Lanagan), Linda Carlson (Dr. Janet Cottrell), Ernest Thompson (Dr. Phil Parker), Alice Nunn (Carrie, their nurse).

8968 The Westwind. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1975-1976). Steve Andrews is an underwater photographer; his wife Kate is a marine biologist. They are the owners of a yacht called The Westwind and stories relate their adventures as they travel through the various Hawaiian islands seeking to further man's knowledge of the sea. Also traveling with them are their children, Robin and Tom.

Cast: Van Williams (Steve Andrews), Niki Dantine (Kate Andrews), Kimberly Beck (Robin Andrews), Steve Burns (Tom Andrews).

8969 We've Got Each Other. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1977-1978). Events in the lives of the Hibbards: Judy, a not-so-attractive, lanky photographer's assistant, and her husband Stuart, who works as a copywriter for bizarre devises advertised in the Herman Gutman Mail Order Catalogue. Damon Jerome is Judy's employer; Dee Dee Baldwin is Damon's top model; Donna is Damon's secretary; Ken Redford is Judy's neighbor; Belinda Baldwin is Dee Dee's daughter; Anitra and Reba are Damon's other models.

Cast: Beverly Archer (Judy Hibbard), Oliver Clark (Stuart Hibbard), Tom Poston (Damon Jerome), Joan Van Ark (Dee Dee Baldwin), Ren Woods (Donna), Martin Kove (Ken Redford), Jennifer McAllister (Belinda Baldwin), Ann Doran (Judy's Mother McCree), Anitra Ford (Anitra), Reba Waters (Reba). Theme Vocal: "We've Got Each Other" by Nino Candido.

8970 Whacked Out. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/26/81). Whacked Out is a far-out magazine published by the Van Gordon Gordon Communications Corporation. The unsold series was to present a behind-the-scenes look at the magazine as seen through the eyes of Jack Ferguson, a writer with a knack for uncovering stories that lead to unexpected legal hassles. In the pilot episode, Jack tries to get the magazine out of hot water when he writes an article on military toys and the manufacturer sues.

Other Regulars: Bud, the editor; Hini and Sarah, writers; Trish, daughter of the publisher (Mr. Van Gordon Gordon) and Jack's girlfriend; Mrs. Dumont, Gordon's secretary; and staffers Louis and Simon.

8971 Whammy! The All New Press Your Luck. (Series; Game; Game Show Network; 2002–2003). A revised version of the CBS game Press Your Luck. On that program the Whammy was introduced—a devil-like symbol that cost players all their winnings if they were caught by him. In the revised version three players compete in a three round game. In round one players face an electronic board with 18 spaces that contain prizes, cash amounts and Whammies. The game begins with flashing lights that rapidly pinpoint various squares on the board. A player randomly stops the lights by pressing a button. If the light stops on a prize, the player wins it and is given the option to continue (and press your luck) or quit and keep what he has; if he continues and lands on a Whammy he loses everything. The two remaining players compete in the same manner. Round two is a question and answer session. The host reads a question. The first player to buzz receives a chance to answer. His answer plus two additional possible answers are placed on a board. The two remaining players can select any one of the visible answers. If the first player answered correctly he wins three spins for use on the electronic board; the opposing players receive one spin if they chose the correct response (no spins are awarded for incorrect responses). Five questions are played and each of the contestants uses their earned spins in the final round. Here a player must use the spins he has won—whether by himself or passing them to an opponent when he feels safe and is satisfied with what he has won. The player who inherited the spins cannot pass them off and must use the spins himself (once done he can pass the spins he won in the prior round). Landing on a Whammy four times during the round eliminates a player from the game. The player with the highest cash/merchandise total is the winner.

Host: Todd Newton. Announcer: Gary Kroeger.

8972 What a Country. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986–1987). Room 107 of Los Angeles High School is “home” to a group of foreign students studying for their citizenship tests. Taylor Brown is their English teacher, and the students are Nikolai Rostopovich, Maria Conchata Lopez, Yung Hee, Laslo Garbo, Victor Ortega, Robert Moboto, Inga Berstrom and Ali Nadeem. Joan Courtney was the original principal; she was replaced by F. Jerry (“Bud”) McPherson. Dani owns the after school hangout, Dani's Diner.

Taylor, who lives at 36 Whitney Way, is from Dakota and originally came to California to find a job as a high school coach. Joan first hired him as a one-night substitute teacher for the citizenship class; he became the permanent teacher when the earlier one resigned. Joan lived at 71306 Harper Valley Drive, and Bud, who fancied himself a rugged sportsman, lived at 11 Fairlawn Street.

Nikolai was born in Russia and now drives a taxicab; he is hoping to open his own retail appliance store. The gorgeous Spanish-born Maria lives in Beverly Hills and is the maid to Lenny Feldman (Larry Gelman), the owner of Feldman's Sofa Village. Yung Hee is a very beautiful but very shy Chinese woman. She is hoping to become a nurse, and her name means “petal of wildflower blossoming in sun. Then withers and dies and is gone forever.”

Robert is an African prince (“of all one can envision”) and the son of Julius Moboto, the ousted king of Africa. Inga is a Swedish bombshell who has the male students in a fog. Laslo is from Hungary; Ali was born in Pakistan; and Victor is from Puerto Rico.

Relatives: Audrey Meadows (Taylor's mother, Millie Brown), Gordon Jump (Taylor's father, Ed Brown), William Marshall (Robert's father, King Julius Moboto). Theme: “I Want to Be an American,” vocal by Richard De Benedictis.

Cast: Garrett M. Brown (Taylor Brown), Yakov Smirnoff (Nikolai Rostopovich), Ada Maris (Maria Lopez), Leila Hee Olsen (Yung Hee), George Murdock (Laslo Garbo), Julian Reyes (Victor Ortega), Harry Waters, Jr. (Robert Moboto), Donna Dixon (Inga Betstrom), Vijay Amritaj (Ali Nadeem), Gail Strickland (Joan Courtney), Don Knotts (F. Jerry McPherson), Elaine Giftos (Dani).

8973 What a Dummy. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1990–1991). Shortly after the death of their great-uncle, Jackie Brannigan, a 99-year-old vaudeville performer, Ed and Polly Brannigan and their children, Tucker, Cory and Maggie, inherit his possessions, including an old trunk. While looking through the trunk, Cory finds Buster (“Buzz”) Brannigan, the dummy Jackie used in his act Brannigan and Buzz.

Buzz, however, is no ordinary ventriloquist's dummy—he is alive and can talk (he's been in the trunk for 50 years, is full of wisecracks and has a lot to say; details are not given as to how he came to life). Stories revolve around Buzz's antics and the Brannigans' efforts to keep him a secret.

The Brannigans live at 912 Lincoln Drive in Secaucus, New Jersey. Ed owns Brannigan's Seafood Restaurant. Ed and Polly have been married for 17 years when the series begins.

Tucker, whose middle name is Humphrey, attends Seabury High School. He believes the future is a new breakfast cereal, and on the school radio station, WXRБ, he had a show called Talking with Tucker.

Cory is the brightest of the children and is easily exasperated. He attends Daniel Boone Elementary School, and Tucker calls him “Nerd,” “Dweeb,” “Wuss” and “Geek.” He calls Tucker “Airhead.”

Margaret (“Maggie”) Michelle Brannigan is six years old and also attends the Daniel Boone School (she is called “The Rock” at school for her nerves of steel). She likes to eat raw cookie dough and has dolls named Helen, Mary, Brian and Susan.

Buzz first mentioned he was made of redwood; later he said he was made of oak and was in love with Effie Klinker (Edgar Bergen’s dummy) but it didn’t work: “She was made of mahogany and I was made of oak.” Buzz mentioned that his mother died of Dutch elm disease.

Treva Ann Maria Travalony is the Brannigans’ nosy neighbor. She is a psychic and says she was such a beautiful baby that she “was in diaper ads.”

Relatives: Shelley Berman (Ed’s father, Sam Brannigan), Michelle Mann (Treva’s niece, Chris Travalony). Theme: “What a Dummy,” by L.A. Aprino.

Cast: Annabel Armour (Polly Brannigan), David Doty (Ed Brannigan), Stephen Dorff (Tucker Brannigan), Joshua Rudoy (Cory Brannigan), Jeanna Michaels (Maggie Brannigan), Kaye Ballard (Treva Travalony), Loren Freeman (Voice of Buzz).

8974 What About Brian. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2006–2007). Brian O’Hara is 32 years old. He is single and the last unmarried member in his close circle of friends. Brian and his best friend, Adam, design computer games for a software company called Zap Monkey.

Brian is everybody’s friend. If you need a helping hand, he is there for you. Brian appears to have a problem with commitment. He does date, but seems unable to find the right girl. His reason appears to be that the right girl is Marjorie Seaver, a pediatrician on whom he has a secret (and huge) crush; his problem: Marjorie is engaged to Adam.

Unaware of his feelings for her, it was actually Marjorie who told Brian what he needs to do: “You’re everybody’s friend ... but you have to stop, look in the mirror and ask yourself who you want to be with.” Brian is still a bachelor, but he is seeking Miss Right. But will he ever find a Miss Right when he has strong feelings for Marjorie? The series explores that concept as Brian attempts to change his life.

Other Regulars: Nicki, Brian’s sister, and her husband, Angelo; David and Deena, Brian’s married friends; and Larissa, their daughter. Nicki and Angelo are desperately trying to have children; David and Deena’s sex life is nearly non-existent.

Cast: Barry Watson (Brian O’Hara), Sarah Lancaster (Marjorie Seaver), Rosanna Arquette (Nicki), Matthew Davis (Adam), Rick Gomez (Dave Greco), Amanda Detmer (Deena Greco), Mikila Baumel (Larissa).

8975 What About Joan. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2001). Joan Gallagher is a very pretty young woman who is a nervous wreck all the time. She is a teacher at Chicago High School and says she is not the type of girl who sweeps men off their feet — “I’m the low maintenance, dependable girl who gets called by men who get dropped by the girls who sweep them off their feet.” Joan also says “I’ve run on instincts all my life. I have to do what they tell me to do.” Joan also makes notes about everything — and has to bring them with her when she faces a situation. The series follows the rather insecure Joan as she faces the challenges of daily life.

Despite what Joan says about not sweeping men off their feet, she does have a boyfriend, Jake Evans, a banker. Dr. Ruby Stern, Joan’s friend, wrote the book Solid Food for Thought: A Mid-Western Guide to Mental Health. She works as a therapist. Alice Adams is Joan’s teaching assistant; Betsy is Joan’s closest friend; Mark is Jessica’s husband.

Cast: Joan Cusack (Joan Gallagher), Kyle Chandler (Jake Evans), Jessica Hecht (Betsy Morgan Ludlow), Donna Murphy (Dr. Ruby Stern), Kellie Shanygne Williams (Alice Adams), Wallace Langham (Mark Ludlow).

8976 What Are My True Colors? (Pilot; Game; ABC; 5/30/87). Prior to the game, a celebrity guest is asked several questions. On stage, the celebrity appears opposite two contestants. The host reads one of the questions previously asked of the celebrity and reveals four possible answers (each designated by a color — orange, gold, green and blue). Players have to determine the celebrity’s correct answer. Each correct response scores a player $50. The player with the highest cash score wins.

Host: Mike Jerrick. Guests: Leslie Charleson, Richard Simmons. Announcer: Charlie O’Donnell.

8977 What Do You Have in Common? (Series; Game; CBS; 1954). Three specially selected contestants, who each possess something in common, but are unknown to each other, compete. Within a three-minute time limit, and through a cross-examination session, each has to discover what the common denominator is. Clues are provided by an unseen fourth party (for example, same doctor). The first person to identify the common bond is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Ralph Story.

8978 What Happened? (Series; Game; Syn.; 1952). An individual, who performed some unique act for which he received newspaper coverage, appears on the program. A panel of four celebrities then questions him with the object being to determine what he did. If they fail, the contestant receives a prize.

Host: Ben Grauer. Panelists: Lisa Ferraday, Maureen Stapleton, Roger Price, Frank Gallop. Announcer: Frank Gallop.

8979 What Have You Got to Lose? (Series; Game; ABC; 1953). Through a series of question-and-answer probe round with the host, four players have to identify white-elfant objects that have been submitted by home viewers. If one of the players identifies the mystery article, he receives a prize; if none of the players identifies the object, the sender receives a prize.

Host: John Reed King.

8980 What I Like About You. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2002–2006). Valerie and Holly Tyler are sisters who live together in New York City. Valerie is an executive at a PR firm called Harper and Diggs; Holly is a 16-year-old who has come to live with Valerie when her father, a widower, was transferred to Japan. She attends Stuyvesant High School. The basic premise of the series is Holly's mishaps as she tries to become part of Valerie's life yet lead her own life as she become older.

Holly hangs out at the Liberty Diner with her friends, Gary, Tina, Vince and Henry. Many episodes focus on Holly's boyfriend problems, liking both Henry and Vince and never being able to choose one over the other (in the end, she chose Vince). Holly held a job as a waitress in her sister's boyfriend's restaurant, mailroom clerk at Harper and Diggs; and clerk at Copy That, a duplicating company. She later attended NYU but dropped out when she was unable to handle the workload. She next worked as a junior manager at Marquee Records (she hopes to become a rock musician manager and promoter). Holly also dates, between Henry and Vince, a musician named Ben.

Valerie works with Lauren at Harper and Diggs. Lauren was first portrayed as a back stabber and would stop at nothing to get what she wants. Valerie and Lauren eventually became friends and started their own PR firm called Valco. When this fails, Valerie and Lauren open a cup cake store called Sugar Babies Bakery. Valerie also married—Vic Maladao, a fireman with the city of New York (Val and Vic had a date, got drunk and Valerie woke up married. Much of the series last season episodes revolve around Valerie's efforts to get out of this marriage but in the end she finds she really loves Vic and accepts the marriage). Jeff, the restaurant owner, is Valerie's boyfriend in first season episodes.

Cast: Jennie Garth (Valerie Tyler), Amanda Bynes (Holly Tyler), Leslie Grossman (Lauren), Wesley Jonathan (Gary Thorpe), Simon Rex (Jeff), Nick

Zano (Vince), Allison Munn (Tina Haven), Michael McMillan (Henry Gibson), David DeLautour (Ben Sheffield), Dan Cortese (Vic Maladao).

8981 What I Want to Be. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1955). The training and study periods of two young people: Patricia Morrow (an airline stewardess) and Duncan Richardson (a pilot). The series, broadcast as ten segments of The Mickey Mouse Club, ran from October 3, 1955 to October 14, 1955.

Cast: Patricia Morrow (Patricia Morrow), Duncan Richardson (Duncan Richardson), Alvy Moore (Reporter). Theme Song: "What I Want to Be" by William Lava.

8982 What Really Happened to the Class of '65? (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1977–1978). Dramatizations that update the lives of the 1965 graduating class of the fictitious Bret Harte High School in Los Angeles. Stories open with a commentary by Sam Ashley, a 1965 grad who now teaches at Bret Harte High, as he recalls his fellow classmates. The program then chronicles the life of a particular grad from 1965 to 1977. Based on the book by Michael Medved and David Wallechinsky.

Cast: Tony Bill (Sam Ashley).

8983 What Will They Think of Next? (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1948). Inventors of clever gadgets appear and demonstrate their creations to a panel of three comedians who, in turn, appraise it. A gift is awarded to the inventor, who appears in the hope of interesting a manufacturer with his product. The series, which ran for four episodes, aired from September 18, 1948 to October 9, 1948.

Host: Ed Herlihy. Panelists: Arthur Q. Bryan, Janet Graham, Harry Hershfield.

8984 Whatever Became of...? (Pilot; Human Interest; ABC; 10/25/81). The first of two pilot films (see next title also) that spotlights the current lives of celebrities from the past. The pilot updates the lives of: Ursula Andress, Brigitte Bardot, Danny Bonaduce, Angela Cartwright, Barbara Hale, Rusty Hamer, Lisa Loring, Irish McCalla, Spanky McFarland, The Monkees, Jay North, Margaret O'Brien, Janet Pilgrim (Playboy magazine's first playmate), Mason Reese, Bobby Sherman, Mark Spitz, Danny Thomas, Paul Winchell, Alan Young.

Host: Dick Van Patten. Guests: Angela Cartwright, Phyllis Diller, Donna Dixon, Barbara Hale, Rusty Hamer, Richard Lamparski, Irish McCalla, Adam Rich.

8985 Whatever Became of...? (Pilot; Human Interest; ABC; 9/26/82). A second pilot film that updates the lives of past celebrities. In the second pilot: Patty Andrews, Jackie Coogan, Brandon Cruz, Sandra Dee, Fanne Foxe, Kathryn Grayson, Sheila James, Virginia Mayo, George Montgomery, Terry

Moore, The Silhouettes, Mamie Van Doren, Deborah Walley, Johnny Whitaker, Jane Withers.

8986 Whatever Happened to Dobie Gillis? (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/10/77). The story, an update of the 1959–63 CBS series Dobie Gillis, reunites the original cast in an unsold pilot that continues to depict events in the life of Dobie Gillis, a once indecisive teenager who is now married (to Zelda Gilroy), the father of a teenage son (George), and partners with his father (Herbert T.) in an expanded Gillis Grocery Store. In the pilot episode, which is basically a reintroduction of the cast, Dobie's friend Maynard, the former beatnik, is now an entrepreneur and returns to help Dobie celebrate his 40th birthday. See also Bring Me the Head of Dobie Gillis.

Cast: Dwayne Hickman (Dobie Gillis), Bob Denver (Maynard G. Krebs), Sheila James (Zelda Gillis), Frank Faylen (Herbert T. Gillis), Steven Paul (George Gillis), Lorenzo Lamas (Lucky; George's friend). Guest Cast: Wynn Irwin (Henshaw), Alice Backes (Mrs. Lazlo), Susan Davis (Mrs. Tucker).

8987 What's Alan Watching? (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 2/27/89). A proposed series about a 17-year-old high schooler (Alan) who escapes from reality through his television set when he finds he can interact with various television characters as he flips through the channels. Other Regulars: Libby and Leo, his parents; Gail, his sister; Jeff, his brother; Alyssa, Alan's girlfriend; and Lenny, his friend.

Cast: Corin "Corky" Nemec (Alan Hoffstetter), Barbara Barrie (Libby Hoffstetter), Peter Michael Goetz (Leo Hoffstetter), Fran Drescher (Gail Hoffstetter), David Packer (Jeff Hoffstetter), Cheryl Pollak (Alyssa), Rob Bartlett (Lenny Kling), Eddie Murphy (Various roles). Guest Cast: Pauly Shore (Craig), Brent Spiner (Brentwood Carter), Stanley Brock (Ed's producer), Kit McDonough (Wife), John Korkes (Husband), Bill Morey (Judge), Milt Kogan (Mr. Rankin), Shelly Berman (Himself), George Carlin (Himself), Tom Smothers (Himself), Dick Smothers (Himself), Alex Trebek (Himself).

8988 What's Going On? (Series; Game; CBS; 1954). Two three-member teams compete: The Insiders and The Outsiders. The Outsiders are brought to a remote location and asked to perform certain activities. By remote pickup, their activities are displayed on a large screen behind each of The Insiders. Through a series of question-and-answer probe rounds with the host, The Insiders have to discover where The Outsiders are and what they are doing. Prizes are awarded to The Insiders if they correctly identify the situation and the activities; if not, The Outsiders win.

Host: Lee Bowman. Regulars: Kitty Carlisle, Jayne Meadows, Susan Oakland, Hy Gardner, Gene Raymond. Announcer: Jimmy Blaine.

8989 What's Going on Down There? (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1991). An unsold project about the adventures of two fun-loving brothers (13-year-old Larry and 12-year-old Ozzie) as they match wits with their parents — who are smart, savvy and usually one step ahead of them.

Cast: Billy Sullivan (Ozzie), Mike Simmin (Larry), Ken Ober (Dad), Laurie Walters (Mom).

8990 What's Happened to Elaine? (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1973). The story of a deceased wife (Elaine) who comes back to earth as a ghost to help her husband (Richard) raise their young son (Nicky).

Cast: Michele Carey (Elaine), Richard Mulligan (Richard), Larry Wilson (Nicky), Richard Stahl (Mr. Wilson), Shirley Mitchell (Wilson's secretary).

8991 What's Happening!! (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1976–1979). Roger ("Raj") Thomas, Dwayne Clemens and Frederick ("Freddie") Stubbs are three black teenagers and friends who attend Jefferson High School in southern California. Roger, the most studious of the group, lives with his mother, Mabel Thomas, and his smart aleck, obnoxious sister, Dee Thomas, at 1147 Central Avenue. Mabel, called "Mama," is a "supervisor of domestic maintenance in private residences" (a maid). Dee first attends an unnamed grammar school, then Jefferson High.

Roger yearns to be a writer. He was editor of the Jefferson High Gazette and was paid $35 by Little Miss Muffet magazine for a story he wrote called "Mr. Beaver Builds a Dam and Saves the Town of Gum Drop Falls." He also worked briefly as a writer on the television series Central Avenue (about three black teenagers).

"Hey, what's happening!!" is the catchphrase Freddie uses when he greets his friends. He is nicknamed "Rerun" (for his habit of repeating in summer school what he should have learned during the school year). He was a member of the music group the Rockets and in last season episodes was a page at KABC-TV in Los Angeles. Roger and Rerun later shared an apartment (3A). Dwayne, who lives at 534 Oakmont, is the typical girl-crazy student.

Rob's Place, located on Second Avenue in Los Angeles, is the after school hamburger joint hangout. Shirley Wilson is the wisecracking, overweight waitress, and Rob is the owner. Earl Barrett, Jr., called "Little Earl," is the nine-year-old white boy with a crush on Dee.

Relatives: Thalmus Rasulala (Mabel's ex-husband, Bill Thomas), Lee Chamberlain (Bill's second wife, Lee Thomas), Chip Fields (Rerun's married sister, Donna; later Shirley's sister, Norma Wilson); Nathaniel Taylor (Donna's husband, Ike), Greg Morris (Dwayne's father, Lawrence Clemens). Theme: "What's Happening!!" by Henry Mancini.

Cast: Ernest Thomas (Roger Thomas), Haywood Nelson (Dwayne Clemens), Fred Berry (Freddie Stubbs), Mabel King (Mabel Thomas), Danielle Spencer (Dee Thomas), Earl Billings (Rob), David Hollander (Earl Barrett), Shirley Hemphill (Shirley Wilson).

8992 What's Happening Now!! (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1985–1987). A continuation of What's Happening!! That relates further events in the lives of Roger ("Raj") Thomas, Dwayne Clemens and Freddie ("Rerun") Stubbs.

Roger is now a newlywed, married to a beautiful social worker named Nadine. They live at 1147 Central Avenue in what is now Roger's home (his mother, Mabel, remarried, moved to Arizona and sold Roger the house). Dee Thomas, Roger's sister, is attending an unnamed college and appears in some episodes.

Dwayne now works for Milster Computers, and Rerun (who now lives with Dwayne) is a used car salesman for K-Doe's OK Cars (he appears as "Swami Stubbs" in television commercials). Dwayne mentioned that he joined the army after high school and learned about computers. Roger is now a struggling writer (his first novel, The Kremlin Dimension, sold 25 copies; his second book, Fateful Harvest, was published by Ballard Publishing. He also wrote a play called It's Nothing Personal and a movie script titled The Great Cleveland Jewel Heist).

Nadine's specialty is working with troubled children. She posed nude for art classes in college and met Roger on a New York subway (she changed seats to get away from a wino); their first date was seeing the Broadway play A Chorus Line; they honeymooned in Maine.

When Roger sees Shirley for the first time in six years, he learns that their former hangout, Rob's Place, has been closed and is slated for demolition. Shirley, who worked at Rob's for 11 years, convinces Roger to join her in purchasing the diner. They save a memory and become business partners in the new Rob's Place. Shortly after, a little girl named Carolyn Williams runs away from an orphanage and "camps out" in front of Rob's Place. When Nadine discovers that she is a runaway, she and Roger take her in for the weekend; they later adopt her.

During second season episodes, the character of Rerun was dropped when Fred Berry demanded a large raise. Martin Lawrence was brought on as Maurice Waterfield, the waiter at Rob's Place, to replace him.

Relatives: Thalmus Rasulala (Roger's father, Bill Thomas), Roger Thomas (Roger's criminal cousin, "Wee Willie" Thomas), Lillian Lehman (Nadine's mother, Yvonne Hudson), Al Fann (Shirley's father, Roscoe Wilson). Theme: "What's Happening Now!!" by Henry Mancini.

Cast: Ernest Thomas (Roger Thomas), Haywood Nelson (Dwayne Clemens), Fred Berry (Freddie Stubbs), Anne-Marie Johnson (Nadine Thomas), Danielle Spencer (Dee Thomas), Regina King (Carolyn Williams), Shirley Hemphill (Shirley Wilson), Martin Lawrence (Maurice Waterfield).

8993 What's Hot, What's Not. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1985). Fred Willard, Melanie Chartoff and Ken Maynard host a program aimed at women with reports on current trends.

8994 What's in a Word? (Series; Game; ABC; 1954). A contestant, selected from the studio audience, presents a single rhyme to the host (for example, "Red Bed"). Through one-word clues provided by the host, a celebrity panel has to identify the rhyme. For each clue used before the panel identifies it, the contestant receives five dollars. The series ran from July 22, 1954 to September 9, 1954.

Host: Mike Wallace, Clifton Fadiman. Panelists: Audrey Meadows, Faye Emerson, Carl Reiner, Jim Moran.

8995 What's It All About World? (Series; Variety; ABC; 1969). An attempt, through skits that spoof everyday life, to explain our troubled world—a world that finds it difficult to make light of its faults.

Host: Dean Jones. Regulars: Dick Clair, Jenna McMahon, Byan Johnson, Gerri Granger, Alex Dreier, Scoey Mitchell, Maureen Arthur, Ron Price, Dennis Allen, The Kevin Carlisle Three. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Denny Vaughn.

8996 What's It For? (Series; Game; NBC; 1957–1958). Inventor's descendants appear with actual working models of thingamajigs registered by the U.S. Patent Office since 1800. Through a series of question-and-answer probe rounds, a panel has to identify its purpose. Guests receive cash for each question that is asked by the panel before it is identified.

Host: Hal March. Panelists: Hans Conried, Betsy Palmer, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Abe Burrows.

8997 What's It Worth? (Series; Human Interest; CBS; DuMont; 1948–1953). Owners of paintings and objects d'art are the subjects of each program. Each person appears with and tells how he acquired his treasure. A panel of experts then appraises the object and quotes its actual value. As the experts give their opinions, cameras reveal the emotions of the owner. The series aired on CBS from May 21, 1948 to March 28, 1949; and on DuMont from October 21, 1952 to October 11, 1953.

Host: Gil Fates, Nelson Case, Bill Wendell. Appraiser: Sigmund Rothschild.

8998 What's My Line? (Series; Game; CBS; 1950–1967). Through a series of question and answer probe rounds with a guest, a celebrity panel of four has to uncover his or her occupation. Three such rounds are played per program, one of which involves a mystery guest celebrity (at which time the panelists must wear blindfolds). The guest receives money for each question that the panel asks. The series ran from February 16, 1950 to September 3, 1967.

Host: John Daly. Panelist: Arlene Francis, Dorothy Kilgallen, Bennett Cerf, Fred Allen, Steve Allen, Hal Block, Harold Hoffman, Louis Untermeyer. Announcer: John Briggs, Johnny Olsen.

8999 What's My Line? (Series; Game; Syn.; 1968). A revised version of the 1950s game of the same title. A guest appears on stage and whispers his or her occupation to the host (seen by the home audience in superimposed caption). Through a series of question-and-answer rounds, a panel of four must uncover the guest's occupation. Money is awarded to the guest for each question that is asked.

Host: Wally Bruner, Larry Blyden. Panelists: Arlene Francis, Soupy Sales, Jack Cassidy, Kaye Ballard, Anita Gillette, Gene Rayburn, Alan Alda, Nancy Dussault, Joanna Barnes, Bennett Cerf, Bert Convy. Announcer: Johnny Olsen, Chet Gould.

9000 What's New, Mr. Magoo? (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1977–1978). Newly animated adventures in the life of Quincy Magoo, a near-sighted, apparently wealthy gentleman, and his equally near-sighted dog, McBarker. Based on the series of 1950s theatrical cartoons.

Voice Cast: Jim Backus (Quincy Magoo), Frank Welker (McBarker).

9001 What's New with Mademoiselle? (Experimental; Women; DuMont; 3/30/44). The basic format of the program was to turn the March 1944 issue of Mademoiselle magazine into a television show. The program opened with a shot of the cover then switched to a living room setting where the hosts (two magazine editors) broke down the contents of the issue into a fifteen minute program (which included makeup demonstrations, hair styles and a fashion show). The telecast brought out several problems concerning women's makeup and clothing. Preliminary tests of normal makeup on models under the then harsh lights had them looking either too white or too dark. Consultants for the Helena Rubinstein Company were brought in and, after twenty experiments, a makeup base using green and blue rouge solved the problem. The fabric used on models' gowns also caused a problem with washout (for example, a model clad in a form-fitting pale blue sweater appeared over television to be wearing a shiny white blouse). See also Here's Click and Harper's Bazaar Fashion Parade.

Hosts: Frances Hughes, Geri Trotta. Guests: Dick Bradley, Fred Carter. Models: Glendora Donaldson, Toni Myles.

9002 What's On? (Pilot; Magazine; Syn.; 4/86). A proposed series that was to present an in-depth analysis of the television programs, specials and TV movies that were to air the week the show itself airs.

Host: Pat Collins.

9003 What's the Story? (Series; Game; DuMont; 1951–1955). The object calls for a panel of journalists to identify famous news events from sketches that are performed on stage.

Host: Walter Raney, Walter Kiernan, Al Capp, John K.M. McCaffrey. Panelists: Jimmy Cannon, Harriet Van Horne, Robert Sullivan.

9004 What's This Song? (Series; Game; NBC; 1964–1965). Two teams, each composed of two members, compete. A musical selection is played. The first team that identifies the song receives points and the opportunity to win additional points by singing the opening four bars. The team with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Wink Martindale.

9005 What's Up? (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/26/71). A satire of the contemporary scene through sketches, blackouts, interviews and newsreel footage. Ed Weinberger is the producer.

Host: Jackie Cooper. Guests: Tom Bosley, Phil Leeds, Marian Mercer, Lee H. Montgomery, John Ritter, Bill Zuckert.

9006 What's Up Doc? (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/27/78). Howard Bannister is an uptight professor of music at the Claunck Polytechnic Institute who has just broken off a rocky romance with a shrewish woman named Claudia. Judy Maxwell is a pretty, free-spirit who takes Howard's class and immediately falls in love with him. The unsold series was to follow their misadventures as Howard attempts to begin a new relationship.

Cast: Barry Van Dyke (Howard Bannister), Harriet Hall (Judy Maxwell), Caroline McWilliams (Claudia). Guest Cast: Don Porter (Urban Wyatt), Neva Patterson (Amanda Wyatt), Jeffrey Kramer (Fabian Leek).

9007 What's Your Bid? (Series; Game; ABC; DuMont; 1953). A merchandise item is offered for bid. With their own money, studio audiences members bid for it. The highest bidder receives it and donates it to charity. For his generosity, the program awards him a duplicate item plus additional gifts for his kindness. The series ran on ABC from February 14, 1953 to April 11, 1953; and on DuMont from May 3, 1953 to June 28, 1953.

Host: John Reed King (ABC), Robert Alda (DuMont). Auctioneer: Leonard Rosen. Announcer: Dick Shepard.

9008 Whattley By the Bay. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/9/88). When Hank Pearson, an harassed New York newspaper editor, feels too pressured by life, he decides to return to Whattley By the Bay, the small Chesapeake town where he grew up. When Hank realizes this is the life he really misses and wishes he could live again, he decides to stay and do just that. The proposed series was to relate his misadventures. Other Regulars: Max, his son; Mom, his mother, the owner of Mom's, a restaurant; How Dang, Mom's Vietnamese short-order cook; Dwayne, the town sheriff; Effie, the town gossip; Annie, Mom's waitress; Libby, Max's friend; and Eloy and Daddy-Bob, the local good ole boys.

Cast: Richard Gilliland (Hank Pearson), Aeryk Eagan (Max Pearson), Anne Pitoniak (Mom), George Kee Cheung (How Dang), Ken Jenkins (Dwayne Pewe), Enid Saunders (Effie Beasley), Lezlie Deane (Annie), Rochelle Greenwood (Libby), Ardrien Dorval (Eloy), David H. MacIntyre (Daddy-Bob).

9009 Wheel of Fortune. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). Good Samaritans are honored and awarded prizes for their unselfish acts of kindness to other people. Both individuals appear to relate the circumstances surrounding the good deed.

Host: Todd Russell.

9010 Wheel of Fortune. (Series; Game; NBC; Syn.; 1975–). A line of blanks, which represent the letters in a famous name, place or event, is displayed. One of three players spins a large wheel that pinpoints a money amount, and suggests a letter of the alphabet that might be contained in the mystery phrase. If the letter is contained in the phrase, it is revealed in its appropriate position and the player receives the chance to identify the phrase. If he is stumped he spins again and suggests another letter (each correct letter awards the player the money pinpointed by the wheel). When an incorrect letter is suggested (or the player lands on "Bankrupt" or "Lose a Turn") the next player receives a turn, and the game continues in this manner until the phrase is identified. The player with the highest cash score is the winner and receives the money he has accumulated. Originally this money was used by the player to purchase merchandise gifts from a series of showcases that were displayed on stage. This was later changed to the player keeping his winning and competing in a bonus round where he had to guess a mystery phrase within 10 seconds for additional cash or a car. The series aired on NBC from 1975–1982 with the syndicated version (still current in 2009) beginning in 1982.

Cast: Chuck Woolery (Host, 1975–1982), Pat Sajak (Host, 1982–), Susan Stafford (Hostess, 1975–1982), Vanna White (Hostess, 1982–). Announcer: Charlie O'Donnell.

9011 Wheel of Fortune 2000. (Series; Game; CBS; 1997–1998). A children's version of Wheel of Fortune. Three children, between 11 and 14 years of age, compete. A large board that contains a number of blank spaces (pertaining to a person, place or phrase) is displayed on stage. Each player receives a chance to spin a large wheel that contains a number of point values (as opposed to cash on the adult version). Lose-A-Turn, The Creature (Bankrupt on the adult version), and a space called Physical Stunt (requires a player to perform a stunt) also appear on the large spinning wheel. The player who is first to solve the puzzle wins the round. Three such rounds are played (time permitting) and the player with the highest score wins the game. Cyber Lucy, an animated virtual girl with an attitude, co-hosts (somewhat like Vanna White on the adult version but not as nice).

Host: David Sidoni. Voice of Cyber Lucy: Tanika Ray.

9012 Wheeler and Murdoch. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/9/73). An unsold series about Sam Wheeler and Terry Murdoch, Seattle-based private detectives. The pilot episode relates their efforts to solve a syndicate murder-robbery.

Cast: Jack Warden (Sam Wheeler), Christopher Stone (Terry Murdoch). Guest Cast: Van Johnson (Buddy Shore), Diane Baker (Karen), Jane Powell (Dorcie), Charles Cioffi (DeNisco), Michael Conrad (Turk), Woodrow Parfrey (Weston), Dewey Martin (Travanty).

9013 Wheelie and the Chopper Bunch. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1974–1975). Wheelie and his girlfriend, Rota Ree are Volkswagens with human-like qualities. Chopper, the leader of the Chopper Bunch, is an evil motorcycle with designs on Rota Ree. Stories follow Wheelie as he attempts to overcome the devious efforts of Chopper to acquire Rota's affections. Revs and Hi Riser are Chopper's cohorts.

Voice Cast: Frank Welker (Wheelie), Judy Strangis (Rota Ree), Frank Welker (Chopper), Paul Winchell (Revs), Lennie Weinrib (Hi Riser).

9014 When Havoc Struck. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1978). Glenn Ford hosts and narrates a program that examines twentieth century disasters through old newsreel film footage and interviews with eyewitnesses.

9015 When Television Was Live. (Series; Variety; PBS; 1975). A seven part series that recalls the television careers of Peter Lind Hayes and Mary

Healy, pioneers of early television variety and comedy series, through kinescopes.

Hosts: Peter Lind Hayes, Mary Healy.

9016 When the Nightingale Sang in Berkeley Square. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 3/24/39). A television adaptation of the short story by Michael Arlen that tells of an ex-con, trying to go straight, who is duped into robbing a bank.

Cast: Anthony Cooper (Ralph Loyalty), Patricia Calvert (Joan), John Moore (Hugo Carr), J. Malcolm Dunn (George), Bruce Evans (Austin).

9017 When the Whistle Blows. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980). Darlene's Place is the local bar hangout for a group of workers for the Tri-State Construction Company in Los Angeles. Ted Hanrahan is the plant foreman and Bulldog is his assistant. It is through their eyes that viewers see the comical events that spark the lives of construction workers on and off the job. Darlene Ridgeway is the owner of the bar; the construction workers are Big Buzz Dillard, Lucy Davis, Norm Jenkins, Randy Harford, and Martin "Hunk" Kincaid. Dottie Jenkins is Norm's wife; Sharon Jenkins is Norm's daughter; Jill Macklin is Randy's girlfriend.

Cast: Sue Ane Langdon (Darlene Ridgeway), Douglas Barr (Big Buzz Dillard), Susan Buckner (Lucy Davis), Dolph Sweet (Norm Jenkins), Philip Brown (Randy Harford), Tim Rossovich (Martin "Hunk" Kincaid), Noble Willingham (Bulldog), Gary Allen (Ted Hanrahan), Alice Hirson (Dottie Jenkins), Talia Balsam (Sharon Jenkins), Stacey Kuhne (Jill Macklin). Theme Vocal: "When the Whistle Blows" by Jerry Whitman.

9018 When Things Were Rotten. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1975). A satire based on the legend of Robin Hood. Twelfth century England is the setting. Robin Hood, the man who stole from the rich to give to the poor, is depicted as a birdbrain; his Merry Men, freeborn Englishmen loyal to the king, are bumbling klutzes; and Maid Marion, Robin's romantic interest, is a sexy dumb blonde. The legend begins when Prince John usurps the throne of his brother, Richard, and imposes an unfair tax on the Saxons. When Sir Robin of Locksley opposes this, he is declared a criminal. Retreating to Sherwood Forest, Robin establishes a base and organizes his group of Merry Men (Alan-A-Dale, Friar Tuck, Renaldo, Little John). Episodes depict Robin's efforts to return the throne to Richard, protect the weak, avenge the oppressed, and foil the evils of Lord Hubert, alias the Sheriff of Nottingham, who seeks to capture him. Other Regulars: Bertram, the Sheriff's aide; Princess Isabelle; and Sylvester, a peasant.

Cast: Dick Gautier (Robin Hood), Misty Rowe (Maid Marion), Bernie Kopell (Alan-A-Dale), Dick Van Patten (Friar Tuck), Richard Dimitri (Renaldo), David Sabin (Little John), Henry Polic II (Sheriff of Nottingham), Richard Dimitri (Bertram), Ron Rifkin (Prince John), Jane Johnston (Princess Isabelle), Jimmy Martinez (Sylvester). Creator: Mel Brooks, Buck Henry.

9019 When We Are Married. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 3/3/40). A television adaptation of the British stage play by J.P. Priestley about three couples who are celebrating twenty-five years of marriage when, at the anniversary party, it is inferred that the parson who married them had not been regularly ordained. The couples' reactions to the rumor is the focal point of the story.

Cast: Ann Andrews, Alice Fleming, Robert Henderson, A.P. Kaye, Henry Mowbray, Winston O'Keefe, Sally O'Neill, Leona Powers, Tom Powers, Allison Skipworth, Jane Sterling, Philip Tonge, Estelle Winwood.

9020 Where I Live. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993). Douglas St. Martin is an African-American teenage boy who loves basketball more than anything else. He is the son of James and Marie and has a younger sister named Sharon. Doug lives in Harlem (New York) and hangs out with his two best friends, Reggie and Malcolm. Stories, set mostly in and around Doug's neighborhood, follow the three friends as they talk about girls, shoot hoops and generally find mischief while contemplating what life has to offer them. Kwanzie is the boy with a crush on Sharon.

Cast: Doug E. Doug (Douglas St. Martin), Lorraine Toussaint (Marie St. Martin), Sullivan Walker (James St. Martin), Yunoka Doyle (Sharon St. Martin), Flex Alexander (Reggie Coltrane), Shaun Baker (Malcolm), Jason Bose Smith (Kwanzie), Alma Yvonne (Vonzella).

9021 Where in Time Is Carmen Sandiego? (Series; Game; PBS; 1996-1999). A spin-off from Where on Earth Is Carmen Sandiego? that has children answering questions about history. Carmen Sandiego is a master thief. The program begins with one of Carmen's gang members using a time machine to steal something that would change the course of history (seen in animation). The game portion follows. In round one, the players have to answer questions relating to the period in history Carmen chose to visit. Round two finds the players placing historical events from the latest to the earliest. Players who fail to do so are eliminated. The last remaining player stands opposite six Gateways of Time. A question is asked by Carmen (off stage voice). If the child correctly answers it, he passes through the gate automatically; if not, he has to manually open it and use valuable time. If, within 90 seconds he can correctly answer six questions and pass through the gates, he wins a computer.

Cast: Kevin Shinick (Host), Lynne Thigpen (The Chief), Kevin Shinick (Squadron Leader), Jamie Gustis, John Lathan, Elaine Kashian.

9022 Where on Earth Is Carmen Sandiego? (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1994–1996). An animated adaptation of the computer game of the same title. Carmen Sandiego is a very unusual woman. She is a skilled thief who fancies the world's greatest art treasures. While a thief is the heroine of the series, Carmen never harms anyone and steals mostly for the thrill the caper poses. She is easily recognizable (with her trademark red coat and fedora titled at just the right angle) and she is constantly pursued by Ivy and Zack, a sister and brother detective team who work for the Chief, the head of the Acme Detective Agency. Ivy is a skilled fighter; Zack is a computer whiz; the Chief a hologram. Carmen is assisted by various henchmen and stories detail the efforts of Ivy and Zack to capture Carmen (which, of course, they never do). Since Carmen goes to where the art objects are, the series is designed to educate children on geography and world culture. And, since the program is an adaptation of a computer game, a player is seen in front of a computer screen.

Voice Cast: Rita Moreno (Carmen Sandiego), Jennifer Hale (Ivy), Scott Menville (Zack), Rodger Bumpass (The Chief), Justin Shenkarow (Player), Jeffrey Tucker (Player), Joanie Pleasant (Player). Additional Voices: Lisa Raggio, Eugene Roche, Lisa Ann Beley, Alaina Reed Hall, Kevin Castro.

9023 Where the Action Is. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1965–1967). “Oh baby, come on let me take you where the action is, it's so nice to meet ya baby, where the action is....” A daily program of music, songs and performances by guest rock stars.

Host: Dick Clark. Regulars: Linda Scott, Steve Alaimo, Paul Revere and the Raiders. Theme Vocal: “Action” by Freddy Cannon.

9024 Where the Heart Is. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1969–1973). The conflicts, tensions and drives of the close-knit Hathaway family, residents of Northcross, Connecticut. The series ran from September 8, 1969 to March 23, 1973.

Ruben Greene (Dr. Jim Hudson), Ted LePlatt (Terry Stevens), Robert Symonds (Will Watts), Gil Rogers (Detective Munford), Ted Beniodes (Lt. Fenelli), Alan Manson (Dr. Homes Rayburn), Rue McClanahan (Margaret Jordan), Barbara Baxley (Margaret Jordan), Joseph Dolen (Daniel Hathaway), Zohra Lambert (Ellie Jordan), Caroline Coates (Mrs. Harrison), Jeanne Ruskin (Lois Snowden), William Prince (Judge), Daniel Keyes (Ben Jessup), Laurence Luckinbill (Steve Prescott), Ron Harper (Steve Prescott), Kara Fleming (Baby Katina), Mason Adams (Judge Halstad), Charles Dobson (Dave), Barton Hayman (Bill Conway), Paula Truman (Mrs. Pangborn).

9025 Where There's Smokey. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/1/66). The story of Smokey, an ineffectual but eager fireman, who lives with his sister (Blossom) and her husband, the fire chief (Warren). The unsold series was to relate Smokey's misadventures as the chief schemes for ways to marry him off and get him out of his home. Other Regulars: Richie, Warren's son; Maggie, Smokey's girlfriend; and Fireman Hogan.

Cast: Soupy Sales (Smokey), Gale Gordon (Warren Packard), Hollis Irving (Blossom Packard), Ricky Allen (Richie Packard), Louise Glenn (Maggie Dennison), Jack Weston (Hogan). Guest Cast: Charles Tannen (Benson), Robert Nichols (Charlie).

9026 Where Was I? (Series; Game; DuMont; 1952–1953). The original format called for panelists to guess where contestants had been at certain times. In the revised format, a panel of four celebrities were called upon to locate hidden objects in photographs.

Host: Dan Seymour, Ken Roberts, John Reed King. Panelists: Bill Cullen, Peter Donald, Skitch Henderson, Nancy Guild, David Ross, Samuel Graffin. Announcer: Bob Williams.

9027 Where Were You? (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1954). The program recreates incidents in the lives of famous people.

Host: Ken Murray. Regulars: Barbara Eiler, Bette Lou Murray, Dan Tobin.

9028 Where's Everett? (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/18/66). Early one morning a spaceship lands in a small town in suburbia. Its inhabitants place a seemingly empty basket on the doorstep of the home of Arnold and Sylvia Barker and leave. Moments later, the sound of a baby's cries awaken the Barkers — who discover that the basket contains an invisible baby named Everett and a note asking them to care for it. The unsold series was to focus on the Barkers as they attempt to raise and keep secret the existence of a mischievous and invisible baby named Everett.

Cast: Alan Alda (Arnold Barker), Patricia Smith (Sylvia Barker), Doreen Miller (Lizzie Barker; their daughter). Guest Cast: Nicholas Coster (Dr. Paul Jellicoe), Frank DeVol (Murdock), Robert Cleaves (Milkman).

9029 Where's Huddles? (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1970). Ed Huddles and Bubba McCoy are the quarterback and team center for the Rhinos, a disorganized professional football team. Ed is married to Marge and Penny is Bubba's wife. Ed has a dog named Fumbles and Claude Pertwee, Ed's neighbor has a cat named Beverly. Stories follow Ed and Bubba's misadventures as they struggle to balance their private lives with their professional lives.

Voice Cast: Cliff Norton (Ed Huddles), Mel Blanc (Bubba McCoy), Jean VanderPyl (Marge Huddles), Marie Wilson (Penny McCoy), Paul Lynde (Claude Pertwee), Alan Reed (Coach), Herb Jeffries (Freight Train; team member). Announcer: Dick Enberg.

9030 Where's Moma? (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1974). Richard Spraggue is a recent widower who is having a difficult time trying to raise his two children, George and Nicky. Celestial powers are also observing this and allow Richard's late wife, Dorothy, to return to earth as a spirit to help him raise their sons. The unsold series was to focus on Richard's efforts to cope with his kids and a wife who appears and speaks only to him.

9031 Where's Poppa? (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/17/79). The story, based on the 1970 feature film of the same title, is about a somewhat senile widow (Momma Hockheiser) whose demands on her son (Gordon) are wrecking his social life and his law practice. Other Regulars: Louise, Momma's nurse; and Sid, Gordon's brother.

Cast: Elsa Lanchester (Momma Hockheiser), Steven Keats (Gordon Hockheiser), Judith-Marie Bergan (Louise Hamelin), Allan Miller (Sid Hockheiser).

9032 Where's Raymond? (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1953–1955). Events in the life of Raymond Wallace, a professional song-and-dance man with a bad habit of arriving at the theater at the last possible moment before airtime (and causing pandemonium for all concerned). After one season the title changed to The Ray Bolger Show and while the program still depicted Ray's adventures as a Broadway star, it also focused on his relationship with a young woman named Susan, who had arrived in New York from a small town with a dream to become a famous writer.

Other Regulars: Jonathan Wallace, Ray's brother and agent; Pete Morrissey, Ray's friend; June, the restaurant owner; Farley, Ray's understudy; Ruth, Farley's wife; Katie, Susan's roommate; Artie, Ray's friend.

9033 Where's Rodney? (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/11/90). Rodney Barnes is a 14-year-old boy whose idol is comedian Rodney Dangerfield — and like Rodney, Rodney gets no respect. One day the young Rodney wishes that his idol could help him. Like magic Rodney Dangerfield appears before Rodney as the young Rodney's imagination. The unsold series was to relate the imaginary Rodney's efforts to help the young Rodney overcome the hurdles of teen life. In the pilot episode, Rodney tries to help young Rodney impress a pretty schoolmate (Sonja). Other Regulars: Ann and Lou, Rodney's parents; Lisa, Rodney's sister.

Cast: Rodney Dangerfield (Himself), Jared Rushton (Rodney Barnes), Jay Thomas (Lou Barnes), Jane Daly (Ann Barnes), Amy O'Neill (Lisa Barnes), Soleil Moon Frye (Sonja). Guest Cast: Lois Hall (Grandma), Paul Lambert (Grandpa), Jennifer Richards (Rodney Dangerfield's date), Danny Capri (Johnny).

9034 Where's the Fire? (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/17/75). The antics of the firefighters of Engine Company 22 (Roscoe, Buck, Stanley and Renaldo). In the pilot episode, the firemen's efforts to stage a beauty contest (to attract beautiful girls) involves them with a local gangster who insists that his plain-looking daughter (Angelina) win the contest.

Cast: Dave Ketchum (Captain O'Hara), Roger Bowen (Fire Chief), Johnny Brown (Roscoe), John Fink (Buck), Danny Fortus (Stanley), Gregory Sierra (Renaldo). Guest Cast: Leigh French (Angelina), J. Pat O'Malley (Skipper), Edward Andrews (Trusdale), Carl Ballantine (Acropolis).

9035 Where's Waldo? (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1991). An animated series based on the popular children's picture books by Martin Handford. Sight gags and slap stick humor are presented to depict the travels of Waldo and his sidekick, his dog, Woof, as they magically appear in very unlikely places (like on the moon, under the sea, in a prehistoric jungle). Waldo and Woof always appear to blend into a scene and it is up to the viewer to find him (hence the title). Waldo is able to travel through time and space through the use of his Magic Walking Stick (which activated a time vortex) that was given to him by the Wizard Whitebeard.

Voice Cast: Townsend Coleman (Waldo), Brad

Garrett (Wizard Whitebeard). Additional Voices: Joe Alaskey, Susan Blu, Carol Channing, Jeff Bennett, Jack Angel, Jennifer Darling, Gregg Berger, Maurice LaMarche.

9036 Whew! (Series; Game; CBS; 1979–1980). Two players compete; one is made the Charger, the other the Blocker. The Charger is taken offstage to a soundproof room. A large board containing six lines is displayed (five lines of five boxes; one line of three boxes). Each of the boxes on the first five lines has a value of $10, $20, $30, $40 or $50; the sixth line has three boxes worth $200, $350 or $500. The Blocker selects any six boxes, which become five-second penalty blocks. The Charger is brought out and begins the game by calling a line and a money amount. A blooper is read that the Challenger must correct. Each correct response wins him the associated money amount. The object is for the Charger to correct six bloopers, one for each line, within a sixty-second time limit (if a block is called, it deducts five seconds from the Charger's time). The Charger wins the round if he successfully answers six bloopers. If not, the Blocker wins. Players alternate turns and the first contestant to win two games is the champion.

Host: Tom Kennedy. Announcer: Rod Roddy.

9037 Which Way'd They Go? (Pilot; Western; ABC; 4/1/63). Unable to pay their land taxes, and unable to make a go of their farm in North Fork, the Jackman family (Neb, the father; and his three not-too-bright sons, Moss, Haslam and Bo), depart for greener pastures. After several days, the Jackmans stumble upon the town of Pair O Dice, which is desperately in need of a sheriff. Out of work and in need of money, the Jackmans take the job, figuring they'll have a nice easy job in a nice, easy town. The unsold series was to relate their antics as they attempt to uphold the law. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Rifleman, the Jackmans attempt to protect the town's bank from Stack Wade, an escaped bank robber who is reported to be in the area. Other Regulars: Marcello, the banker; Miss Goldie, the saloonkeeper; and Judge Moze.

Cast: Peter Whitney (Neb Jackman), Mickey Manners (Moss Jackman), Conlan Carter (Haslam Jackman), John Craig (Bo Jackman), Vito Scotti (Marcello Carhini), Beatrice Kay (Miss Goldie Drain), Dallas McKennon (Judge Moze). Guest Cast: Leo Gordon (Stack Wade), Chuck Connors (Lucas McCain).

9038 Whiplash. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1961). Chris Cobb is the American owner of Cobb and Company, a stage coach line in Australia (1850s). Australia, like America, is struggling to establish stage coach routes to transport passengers and light cargo. Though an American, Chris is a pioneer, becoming the first person to attempt such a venture in Australia. Chris is assisted by Dan and stories relate their efforts to maintain the country's first stage route. Filmed on location.

Cast: Peter Graves (Chris Cobb), Anthony Wickert (Dan; Chris's partner).

9039 Whirlpool. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1959). Rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. Thirty-nine episodes were shown.

9040 Whirlybirds. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954–1957). Whirlybirds, Inc. is a helicopter charter service located at Longwood Field in California. Chuck Martin and P.T. Moore pilot Bell Ranger helicopters; their air code is Seven-Five-Bravo. Janet Culver was their original ground assistant; she was replaced by Helen Carter. Al is the base mechanic. Stories follow Chuck and P.T. as they use their helicopters to help people in trouble and assist the police in tracking down criminals.

Cast: Kenneth Tobey (Chuck Martin), Craig Hill (P.T. Moore), Nancy Hale (Helen Carter), Sandra Spence (Janet Culver), Joe Perry (Al), Robert B. Williams (Sheriff Rollo Brice).

9041 Whispering Smith. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1961). Tom Smith is a detective with the Denver, Colorado Police Department. Because of his soft spoken manner he is called "Whispering Smith." It is the 1870s and Tom is a pioneer, the first police detective to incorporate modern methods of analysis and apprehension in the practice of law enforcement in the West. Stories, based on actual case histories from the Denver Police Department, follow Tom as he sets out to solve crimes based on the new technology. Detective George Romack is Tom's assistant; John Richards is the police chief. The overall series is based on the 1906 novel by Frank H. Spearman (and the 1948 feature film Whispering Smith) but the original concept of Tom as a railroad detective has been changed to police detective.

Cast: Audie Murphy (Det. Tom Smith), Guy Mitchell (Det. George Romack), Sam Buffington (Chief John Richards).

9042 Whistle, Daughter, Whistle. (Live Test Program; Comedy; NBC; 10/18/48). An adaptation of the radio series The Goldbergs that served as the pilot for the television series of the same title that aired a year later on CBS. In this presentation, which aired on Chevrolet on Broadway, Jewish housewives Molly Goldberg and her neighbor, Mrs. Bloom, attempt to work out a marriage between Molly's daughter, Rosalie, and Mrs. Bloom's son, Mickey.

Cast: Gertrude Berg (Molly Goldberg), Lenore Lonergan (Rosalie Goldberg), Minerva Pious (Mrs. Bloom), John Harvey (Mickey Bloom).

9043 The Whistler. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1954). “I am the Whistler. And I know many things for I walk by night. I know many strange tales hidden in the hearts of men and women who have stepped into the shadows. Yes, I know the nameless terrors of which they dare not speak.” Stories of people who are suddenly caught in a destructive web of their own misdeeds. The Whistler, who is identified by the mournful whistling of the theme music, is never seen. His observations concerning the actions of the individuals prevail throughout each drama. Based on the radio series of the same title.

The Whistler (Narrator): Bill Forman. Theme Music: “The Whistler” by Wilbur Hatch.

Theme Song Whistling: Dorothy Roberts.

9044 The Whistling Wizard. (Series; Children; CBS; 1951–1952). While looking into an enchanted well, an inquisitive child named J.P. loses his balance and falls in. He reappears in the fantasy kingdom of the Land of Beyond. Stories relate his adventures in the bewitched kingdom. The puppet series also featured these characters: Dooley, the Whistling Wizard, an Irish elf who rules the Land of Beyond; Heathcliff, J.P.’s horse; Thimble, the assistant ruler; Davy Jones, the guardian of the treasures at the bottom of the sea; King Rutabaga, the ruler of the kingdom of Nagard; and the Spider Lady, a villainess who seeks to rule the Land of Beyond.

Voices-Puppeteers: Bil Baird, Cora Baird.

9045 White and Reno. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/31/81). Steve White is black; Danny Reno is white; together they are White and Reno, a struggling comedy team trying to make it big in New York City. The proposed series was to chart their progress. In the pilot episode, White and Reno take a booking sight unseen — only to later discover that it is a gathering for a Ku Klux Klan association dinner. Other Regulars: Benjamin, Steve’s uncle and agent; Bunny, their neighbor, a stripper at The Body Store Night Club (Bunny uses a snake named Walter in her act); and Karen, Bunny’s sister, a student nurse.

Cast: William Allen Young (Steve White), Martin Short (Danny Reno), Slappy White (Benjamin White), Judy Landers (Bunny Holly), Audrey Landers (Karen Holly). Guest Cast: Bobby Ramsen (Bernie Starker), William Bronder (KKK member).

9046 The White Avengers. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1951). Bob and Billy White are brothers who are known far and wide as the White Avengers. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they and their dogs, Timber and Lobo, uphold the law in the west of the 1800s. In the pilot episode, titled “The Fangs of Justice,” the White Avengers attempt to stop a swindler from cheating Indians out of their land. Other Regulars: Badger, their friend; and Ray, the newspaper reporter.

Cast: Clint Swanstrom (Bob White), Bill Dix (Billy White), Warren MacGregor (Badger MacGregor), Clint Johnson (Ray Dobbs). Also: Jimmy Brown, Bruce Dane, Whitey Hughes, Ray Parsons.

9047 White Dwarf. (Pilot; Science Fiction; Fox; 5/23/95). Rusta is a primitive planet governed by a White Dwarf star system. It is also a planet divided into the light side and the dark side by civil war. It is the year 3048 A.D. when Dr. Driscoll Rampart arrives on the planet (to do a six month internship off Earth). He takes up residence at the Light Side Clinic and soon becomes involved in the plight of the people of Rusta (the concept for the proposed series). The pilot follows Driscoll’s first experiences and a dark side Lieutenant’s devious attempts to foil a peace accord between the light and dark sides.

Cast: Neal McDonough (Dr. Driscoll Rampart), Paul Winfield (Dr. Akada), C.C.H. Pounder (Nurse Shabana), Ele Keats (Princess Ariel), Joey Andrews (Never), Roy Brocksmith (Governor Twist), Tara Graham (Xaxa), Beverley Mitchell (Xuxu), Chip Heller (Osh), Michael McGrady (Lieutenant Strake), John Dennis Johnston (Morgus), Robert Cornthwaite (The King).

9048 White Fang. (Series; Drama; HBO; 1993). Matt Scott is a teenage boy who is facing what he considers a crisis. His family has just moved from the city to the country and he must face a new life without the friends he grew up with. One day, the brooding teenager stumbles across a dog (a wolf-husky mix) that he befriends and names White Fang. The two soon become inseparable and stories follow the adventures the two share as Matt experiences new challenges growing into adulthood.

Cast: Jaimz Woolvett (Matt Scott), David McIlwraith (Adam Scott), Denise Virieux (Kate Scott), Carin C. Tietze (Joanna), Veronica Logan (Maggie), Helmut Berger (Sam Calman), Kevin Atkinson (Sheriff David), Lee Grant (Blair Dillon), Ken Blackburn (Hank).

9049 White Hunter. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). John A. Hunter is a game hunter and trapper based in Africa. He works on behalf of the Game Commissioner to insure that the animals are protected from unscrupulous characters who hunt them outside the limits of the law. Stories also relate John’s adventures as he oversees safaris and becomes a protector to the natives who inhabit the jungle.

Cast: Rhodes Reason (John A. Hunter), Tim Turner (Game Commissioner).

9050 The (White) Rapper Show. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2007). A talent search to find “the next great white rapper.” Hopeful white rap singers are chosen from auditions across the country with the finalists placed in “The White House” (an old garage called “The School House” in the Bronx, the birthplace of Rap) where, in addition to the singing competition, the origins of rap music are discussed. Each week the finalists compete in free style competitions with the weakest performers eliminated until the strongest performer remains to become "The Next White Rapper." Michael Berrin, better known as white rapper M.C. Serch (of the group 3rd Bass) co-hosts the show.

Host: Michael "M.C. Serch" Berrin, Paul Houston.

Cast: Ken Howard (Ken Reeves), Jason Bernard (Jim Willis), Ed Bernard (Jim Willis; later), Joan Pringle (Sybil Buchanan), Robin Rose (Katie Donahue), Jerry Fogel (Bill Donahue), Kevin Hooks (Morris Thorpe), Byron Stewart (Warren Coolidge), Eric Kilpatrick (Curtis Jackson), Timothy Van Patten (Mario "Salami" Petrino), Nathan Cook (Milton Reese), Thomas Carter (James Hayward), Ira Augustain (Ricardo Gomez), Ken Michaelman (Abner Goldstein), John Mengatti (Nick Vitaglia), Stoney Jackson (Jessie Mitchell), Larry Flash Jenkins (Wardell Stone), John Laughlin (Patrick Falahey), Art Holliday (Eddie Franklin), Wolfe Perry (Teddy Rutherford), Russell Philip Robinson (Phil Jeffries), David Hubbard (Harold Witherspoon), Dick Baker (The Referee), Billy Crawford (School PA Announcer).

9052 Whitney and the Robot. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1979). An unusual series in which aspects of the adult world are explained to children via the adventures of Whitney, a cab driver, and 4-U-2, a robot from the planet Zeda who was sent to Earth to study our ways.

Cast: Whitney Rybeck (Whitney), Buddy Douglas (4-U-2), Corky Greene (Corky; Whitney's friend).

9053 Whiz Bang Quiz Bang. (Pilot; Game; Syn.; 6/20/92). Two children compete, one representing the Red Team, the other the Blue Team. A board with three categories is displayed. One player chooses a category and a question is read. The first player to buzz in receives a chance to answer. Ten points is scored for a correct response and the player that scores the highest wins. Three such rounds are played.

Host: Matt Gallant. Announcer: Valerie Smaldone.

9054 The Whiz Kids. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1983–1984). Computer whiz kids Richard "Richie" Adler, Alice Tyler, Jeremy Saldino and Hamilton "Ham" Parker attend Canyon High School in California. Richie has a "home brewed" 64K computer named Ralph, a roving robot called Herman and a dog named Rabies. Alice works after school as an order taker at the Burger Barn; they are also members of the Canyon High Computer Club.

Richie, Alice, Ham and Jeremy use their skills to help the authorities solve crimes, most notably Lew Farley, a reporter for the Los Angeles Gazette; Carson Marsh, the head of the Athena Society (an intelligence agency), and Neal Quinn, a detective with the L.A.P.D.

Irene Adler is Richie's divorced mother, and Cheryl Adler is Richie's younger sister (they live at 601 North Canyon Drive).

Relatives: Jim McMullan (Richie's father, Don Adler), Michael Boyle (Alice's father, David Tyler), Wayne Norton (Ham's father, Lew Parker), Barbara Brownell (Ham's mother, Aggie Parker). Theme: "The Whiz Kids," by Paul Chihara.

Cast: Matthew Labordeaux (Richie Adler), Andrea Elson (Alice Tyler), Jeffrey Jacquet (Jeremy Saldino), Todd Porter (Hamilton Parker), Madelyn Cain (Irene Adler), Melanie Gaffin (Cheryl Adler), Max Gail (Lew Farley), A Martinez (Lt. Neil Quinn), Dan O'Herlihy (Carson Marsh), Barbara Brownell (Aggie Parker), Linda Scruggs (Ms. Vance; Richie's teacher), Reid Sheldon (Lew's editor).

9055 Who Do You Trust? (Series; Game; CBS; ABC; 1956–1963). Married couples, chosen for their unusual backgrounds, compete. The host asks each couple four sets of questions for a total of $1200. The husband may answer himself or trust his wife to do so. The couple who answers the most questions correctly wins the game, whatever money they have accumulated, and the added bonus of $100 a week for one year. The series was originally titled Do You Trust Your Wife? (which aired on CBS from January 3, 1956 to March 26, 1957). It aired on ABC as Who Do You Trust? from July 14, 1958 to December 23, 1963.

CBS Host: Edgar Bergen (with his dummy friend Charlie McCarthy). ABC Host: Johnny Carson, Woody Woodbury. Announcer: Ed Reimers, Del Sharbutt, Ed McMahon.

9056 Who Pays? (Series; Game; NBC; 1959). Two employees of a famous personality appear opposite a panel of three celebrities. The panelists each receive the opportunity to ask indirect questions of the employees. The object is for the panel to name the celebrity for whom the employees work. The star's employees receive $100 each if the panel fails to uncover their employer's identity. The series ran from July 2, 1959 to September 24, 1959.

Host: Mike Wallace. Panelists: Celeste Holm, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Gene Klavin.

9057 Who Said That? (Series; Game; NBC; ABC; 1948–1955). The object calls for a celebrity panel to identify news stories from which quotations are taken. The series aired on NBC from December 9, 1948 to February 18, 1951 (and April 5, 1952 to April 26, 1952; and April 13, 1953 to July 5, 1954) and on ABC from February 2, 1955 to July 26, 1955.

Host: Robert Trout, Walter Kiernan, John Daly. Panelists: June Lockhart, John Cameron Swayze, Morey Amsterdam, H.V. Kaltenborn, Bob Considine, John Mason Brown, Bill Henry. Announcer: Peter Roberts.

9058 Who Wants to Be a Millionaire? (Series; Game; ABC; 1999–2002). A player appears opposite the host on stage. A board with 15 money amounts is shown, ranging for $100 to $1 million. A question is asked and four possible answers appear on a screen before him. He can attempt to answer on his own or use one of three Lifelines available to him (narrow it down to 50/50 [two of the wrong answers are eliminated]; Ask the Audience [who vote via hand-held devices; the odds are revealed] or Phone a Friend [thirty seconds is given for a player to call a friend for help]). Each correct answer moves a player up the money ladder, with the $1,000 question being the first safety net (he can't go home with anything less if a wrong answer is given). The player can quit at any time or risk large amounts of money for the grand prize.

Host: Regis Philbin.

9059 Who Wants to Be a Millionaire? (Series; Game; Syn.; 2001). A daily, syndicated half-hour version of the prime time ABC series of the same title that premiered after the ABC version was cancelled. The program is played in the same way (see the prior title for format).

Host: Meredith Vieira.

9060 Who Wants to Be a Super Hero? (Series; Reality; Sci Fi; 2006). A six episode series to determine a super hero to be added to comic book creator Stan Lee's list of such characters (for example, Spider-Man, the X-Men and the Incredible Hulk). Each of the contestants parades his creation for judge Stan Lee. Stan has the final word and his choice will be immortalized in comic book and will be featured in a Sci Fi Channel movie. The series ran from July 27, 2006 to August 31, 2006.

Host: Stan Lee.

9061 Who Wants to Be a Super Millionaire? (Series; Game; ABC; 2004). An extension series based on Who Wants to Be a Millionaire? (see entry for original format). Here the top prize has been increased to $10 million. The player still has to answer 15 general knowledge questions, but each has increased in value (and difficulty) and from $1,000 to $10 million. Questions one through ten offer the players the same lifelines (50/50, Ask the Audience, Phone a Friend); however, if the player correctly answers the tenth question correctly and chooses to continue, he receives two additional lifelines — Double Dip (a second chance at the same question he answered incorrectly; however, once Double Dip is chosen, he cannot back down and must answer the question) and get help from a panel called Three Wise Men (experts who can offer their advice on a question). Answering the 15th question correctly awards the player $10 million.

Host: Regis Philbin.

9062 Who Wants to Marry a Multi-Millionaire? (Series; Reality; ABC; 2000). The series that is said (others say blamed) for starting the reality series craze of the early 2000's. The program's concept is simple: Introduce 56 women to a millionaire (Rick Rockwell) and have each of them attempt to persuade him that she is the girl for him (the one he would love to marry). After the supposedly unattached (some weren't) women are introduced, Rick's life is made public by a news program. They now know about him; he must now get to know them. His interactions with the women comprise the heart of the program. Unfortunately, half the women joined the program for a free trip to Las Vegas, while the other half were serious about getting married. When Rick chose the girl he thought was the one meant for him — Darva Conger (one of the ones who entered for the free trip), they were married, but her reputation as the show's vixen proved to be true and the union was annulled shortly after.

Host: Jay Thomas, Leanza Cornett. Announcer: Mark Thompson. Multi-Millionaire: Rick Rockwell. Winner: Darva Conger. The Girls: Anna Agatka, Kate Barnett, Alycia Benn, Michelle Bien, Kendra Bolduc, Kelly Bonk, Teresa Bowman, Kira Burt, Stacie Campbell, Felicita Carino, Kristen Clark, Andrea Csorba, Sheryl Dahl, Tonya Davis, Tara Elwell, Lisa Fink, Carrie Francis, Julie Gardner, Wendy Gibson, Peggy Gray, Laurel Heske, Martina Holiday, Amanda Kostman, Amy Krokos, Cindy LaJoie, Lori-Ann LaPadura, Jessica Leiner, Barbara Lopez, Lora Manka, Elana Mansfield, Michelle McLin, Anna Meredith, Kelli Ann Meyer, Tia Mindeh, Stacie Mohowitsch, Tammie Monaco, Gina Morale, Irene Musyj, Michelle Myers, Susan Prince, Lisa Rhyne, Annie Sawyer, Jennifer Seelig, Daneen

Seifert, P.J. Stover, Tricia Swenson, Julie Tibbits, Shanti Williams, Elizabeth Wittelsbach, Elizabeth Woods, Melissa Young, Peggy Zumbunnen.

9063 Who Wants to Marry My Dad? (Series; Reality; NBC; 2004). The premise finds the daughters of a single (and good-looking) father seeking the right wife for him and the perfect stepmother for them. Thirteen women (the contestants) are introduced to the father and his daughters. Over the course of the series run (six weeks) the father acquaints himself with each of the women (including dating them). But it is the daughters who decide which woman their father will marry (and in the final episode, he proposes to that woman). The series appeared in two cycles: July 14, 2003 to August 18, 2003; and August 2, 2004 to September 6, 2004. Bruce Nash and Scott Satin are the producers.

9064 The Who, What or Where Game. (Series; Game; NBC; 1969–1974). Each of the three contestants who compete receives $125 bidding money. A category topic is revealed, followed by three questions: the Who (even money), the What (two to one) and the Where (three to one). Players then press a button and secretly lock in a “W” of their choice and a cash wager. If all three players chose differently, the highest bidder receives the “W” question (and the bet amount of money if it is correctly answered). If two players choose the same “W” it is an automatic cancellation and a new category is introduced. The winners, the highest cash scorers, receive whatever money they have accumulated as their prize.

Host: Art James. Announcer: Mike Darrow.

9065 Whodunit? (Series; Game; NBC; 1979). Three players compete. A short mystery, in which a murder is committed, is performed on stage. Following the dramatization, the suspects are brought out and cross-examined by three celebrity guests. Each player must determine which suspect is the killer. Money is awarded to the player who solves the crime.

Typical opening: “Tonight, San Francisco’s flamboyant trial lawyer, a famous crime reporter for the New York Times and a world-renowned defense attorney will match wits on television’s first mystery-game Whodunit. Starring Loni Anderson in tonight’s story ‘Before Your Very Eyes.’”

Host: Ed McMahon. Regular: F. Lee Bailey.

9066 A Whole Lotta Fun. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/4/88). A proposed weekly series of comedy sketches that spoof people and their everyday activities.

Hosts: John Byner, Suzette Charles. Guest: Sammy Davis, Jr.

9067 A Whole New Ballgame. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1995). Brett Sooner is an obnoxious, arrogant and womanizing ball player who, because of the baseball strike of 1995, is forced to find work until a settlement is reached. Meg O’Donnell is the pretty, easy going but easily irritated general manager of WPLP-TV, Channel 5 in Milwaukee. Hoping to boost the ratings of her station’s Live at 5 News, Meg hires Brett for a commentary segment called “Brett Sooner on Sports.” Stories relate Brett’s on- and off-the-air antics as Meg tries to make a sportscaster out of him. Other Regulars: Dwight, the head of sales; Libby, Meg’s assistant; Warner, the weatherman; and Tad, the evening anchor.

Cast: Corbin Bernsen (Brett Sooner), Julia Campbell (Meg O’Donnell), Richard Kind (Dwight Kling), Kari Coleman (Libby DeSoto), John O’Hurley (Tad Thurman), Stephen Tobolowsky (Dr. Warner Brakefield).

9068 The Whole World Is Watching. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/11/69). The second pilot film (see also The Sound of Anger) for The Lawyers segment of The Bold Ones about brothers Brian and Neil Darrell, attorneys for a prestigious law firm run by Walter Nicholls. In the pilot episode, the firm is hired to defend a student accused of murdering a cop during a student revolt.

Cast: Burl Ives (Walter Nicholls), Joseph Campanella (Brian Darrell), James Farentino (Neil Darrell). Guest Cast: Hal Holbrook (Chancellor Graham), Stephen McNally (Governor), Rick Ely (Gil Bennett), Dana Elcar (Huston), Carrie Snodgrass (Megan Baker), Eileen Wesson (Debbie), Steve Ihnat (Officer Platt).

9069 Whoopi. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2003–2004). Mavis Rae is a former singer with the Ebony Blackbirds. They had a hit single, “Chocolate Lovin’” and appeared on the TV show Soul Train. When the group broke up (faded from the scene) Mavis used the money she made to purchase the LaMont Hotel in Manhattan as an investment for her retirement.

Mavis is the daughter of Lawrence and Viveca Rae and has a brother named Courtney. Courtney is African-American and dating Rita Nash, a beautiful Caucasian girl who acts like a stereotyped black “sista” to impress Mavis (who finds her more insulting than impressive).

Stories follow Mavis as she struggles to run a hotel against numerous obstacles. Mavis is a liberal. She is also vulgar, crass and opinionated (“I smoke, drink and cuss like a sailor”).

Courtney is a staunch Republican (Mavis is a Democrat). He is a graduate of the Columbia School of Law and worked at Enron for five years before he lost his job in the corporate scandal that closed the company. He later works as a salesman (at Suit King), researcher for the law firm of McMillan and Lohman and finally at a job with the George S. Bush

Re-Election Campaign. Rita calls Courtney "Boo" and Mavis "Mae Rae." Rita is a technician at the MRI Imaging Center.

Other Regulars: Nasim, Mavis's foreign handyman (he is afraid of being mistaken for a terrorist); Jadwiga is the head housekeeper; Sophia and Soo Lin are Mavis's smoking and card-playing companions.

Cast: Whoopi Goldberg (Mavis Rae), Wren T. Brown (Courtney Rae), Elizabeth Regan (Rita Nash), Omid Djalili (Nasim), Gordana Rashovich (Jadwiga), Mary Testa (Sophia), Mary Ann Hu (Soo Lin), Jaclynn Tiffany Brown (Candy the Prostitute), Danielle Lee Greaves (Danielle).

9070 The Whoopi Goldberg Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1992–1993). Comedian Whoopi Goldberg hosts a daily talk show in which she interviews top Hollywood celebrities as well a newsworthy political figures.

9071 Who's on Call? (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 12/16/79). Manhattan General Hospital in New York City is the setting for an unsold series about the antics of a group of doctors and nurses assigned to its emergency room.

9072 Who's the Boss? (Series; Game; ABC; 1954). The object calls for a celebrity panel to discover the identity of an employer through a series of question-answer rounds with his secretary. Secretaries receive $100 if the panel fails to identify her employer (usually a prominent person).

Host-Narrator: Walter Kiernan. Panelists: Peggy McCay, Polly Rowles, Sylvia Lyons, Horace Sutton, Mike Wallace, Dick Kollman.

9073 Who's the Boss? (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1984–1992). Tony Micelli, the widowed father of a young girl (Samantha), tends house for Angela Bower (a divorcée), her son, Jonathan, and Angela's mother, Mona Robinson. They live at 3344 Oak Hill Drive (also given as 3334 Oaks Hills Drive) in Fairfield County, Connecticut.

Tony was born on April 23, 1952. He is a Catholic, attended P.S. 86 and was an altar boy at the Blessed Sacrament Church. At Brooklyn's Pitkin High School, he was a member of a band called the Dreamtones. After a hitch in the navy, Tony played second base for two seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals. When an injury ended his career, he returned to Brooklyn where he acquired a job as a fish truck driver. Several years later, following the death of his wife, Tony applied for a job as Angela's housekeeper in an attempt to give Samantha a better life.

Tony later decides to complete his education and takes night courses in business at Ridgemont College. As the series progressed, he changed his major to education and soon became a substitute teacher at the Nelson Academy for Boys.

Samantha, affectionately called Sam, is a pretty tomboy. Her tomboyish ways, however, came to an end when she became 12 and wanted her first bra. Angela took her to Bloomingdale's. The tomboy returned as a beautiful young lady.

Samantha attended Fairfield Junior High, Fairfield High and Ridgemont College. In 1990, Sam moved into the college dorm; she shares room 214 with Melinda. In 1992, Sam married Hank Tomopolus, a would-be puppeteer (Candice Azzara and Vic Poliza appeared as Hank's parents, Fran and Joe Tomopolus).

Samantha's first job was as Angela's girl Friday at her ad agency. She was then a waitress at the Yellow Submarine (a hamburger joint). Bonnie Munson is Sam's best friend.

Angela, formerly the president of the Wallace and McQuade Advertising Agency in New York City, later began her own company, the Angela Bower Agency, at 323 East 57th Street in Manhattan. Angela attended the Montague Academy for Girls and later Harvard Business School.

Mona, Angela's ultra sexy mother, works as Angela's assistant at the ad agency. She is very proud of her large bust (her mother calls her "all boobs and no brains") and is constantly reminding Angela that she lacks cleavage. Mona appeared in a sexy pose on the cover of Mature Woman magazine. She has a dog named Grover.

Jonathan, who has a pet snake named Wilbur, first attends Oak Valley Grammar School, then Fairfield High School.

In 1990, when elderly neighbor Mrs. Napoli (Vera Lockwood) falls ill and is unable to care for her grandson, Billy (Jonathan Halyalkar), she asks Tony to care for him. Billy, a very annoying character, just didn't fit the show and was dropped after one season.

Relatives: James Naughton (Angela's ex-husband, Michael Bower), James Coco (Tony's father-in-law, Nick Milano), Ana Obregon (Tony's cousin, Anna), Vito Scotti (Tony's uncle, Aldo), Richard Grieco (Tony's cousin, Maurio Micelli), Tony Danza (Tony's grandfather), Antonia Ray (Tony's aunt, Rosa Micelli), Louis Guss (Tony's cousin, Dominic Micelli), Gordon Jump (Mona's brother, Archie Rockwell), James B. Sikking (Mona's brother, Cornelius Rockwell), Efreim Zimbalist, Jr. (Mona's late husband, Robert, in a ghost sequence), Marian Seldes (Mona's mother, "Nana" Reynolds).

Flashbacks: Danny Geuis (Tony as a boy), Kenny Morrison (Tony as a teenager), Lani Golay (Angela as a girl), Candace Cameron (Mona as a girl).

Cast: Tony Danza (Tony Micelli), Judith Light (Angela Bower), Alyssa Milano (Samantha Micelli), Katherine Helmond (Mona Robinson), Danny Pin-tauro (Jonathan Bower), Diane Robin (Rosie; Angela's secretary), Earl Boen (Jim Peterson; Angela's Vice President), Shana Lane-Block (Bonnie Munson), Curnal Aulisio (Hank Tomopopolus), Andrea Elson (Melinda). Theme Vocal: "Brand New Life" by Rick Riso.

9074 Who's There? (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). The object calls for a celebrity panel to identify a mystery guest through props, personal items and apparel clues. The series, which produced nine episodes, ran from July 14, 1952 to September 15, 1952.

Host: Arlene Francis. Panelists: Bill Cullen, Paula Stone, Robert Coote, Roger Price. Announcer: Rex Marshall.

9075 Who's Watching the Fleshpot? (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 3/7/66). A proposed spin-off from Run for Your Life about Mark Shephard, an easy-going American who runs an offbeat tour services on the French Riviera. In the pilot episode, Mark asks his friend, Life regular Paul Bryan, to act as an escort for a wealthy client's (Mame) glum daughter (Marcia)—a girl who turns out to be anything but glum.

Cast: Bobby Darin (Mark Shephard). Guest Cast: Eve Arden (Mame Huston), Davey Davison (Marcia Huston), Jeff Corey (Abe Lincoln), Jocelyn Lane (Brigitte Lemaire), Nicholas Colasanto (Benno Capalupo), Maurice Marsac (Delgado), Nadia Sanders (Poucette Clement), Thordis Brandt (Else Brandt), Ben Gazzara (Paul Bryant).

9076 Who's Watching the Kids? (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1978). Stacy Turner and Angie Vitola are beautiful showgirls who work at the Sand Pile, a seedy Las Vegas night club Angie says is "a garbage pile with a liquor license." The girls live in a spacious apartment at 86 Desert Way. Also living with them are Melissa Turner, Stacy's pretty nine-year-old sister, and Frankie Vitola, Angie's wise-cracking 15-year-old brother. Melissa is sweet and feminine; she is an A student and a chess expert, and enjoys balancing the checkbook (she came to live with Stacy after their parents were killed in a car accident). Frankie is a smart aleck and calls himself "Frankie the Fox." Like Angie, Frankie was born in South Philadelphia. His mother felt he had the potential to become a juvenile delinquent and sent him to live with Angie in the hope of straightening him out. Their parents own a grocery store in Philadelphia.

Larry Parnell is Stacy and Angie's neighbor. Larry is a newscaster for KVGs-TV, "The Voice of the Desert" (he is a field reporter and anchors the six o'clock KVGs News Watch). His family owns a business called Parnell Paints ("Semi-Gloss for a Better Nation"). His father wanted him to go into the business after college (studying journalism), but after six months he left "to cover the news, not walls." Larry answered an ad in Broadcasting magazine, "and here I am in Las Vegas trying to make it on my own." His field mini cam operator is Burt Gunkle who despises being called "Gunk" ("Don't call me Gunk. The name is Gunkle, it rhymes with uncle").

Angie best sums up what the series title means: "We [Stacy and Angie] work all night. Larry works during the day. He can look in on the kids for us while we work. It ain't a bad trade—dinner for babysitting." This sounds good in theory and it usually works; the comedy stems from the complications that set in when it doesn't work (for instance, when Larry has to leave Frankie in charge because he has to cover a fast breaking story).

Memphis, Cochise and Bridget are the showgirls who work with Stacy and Angie. Mitzi Logan is the landlady who yearns to be a comedian. See also Legs. Charles Bernstein composed the theme, "Who's Watchin'?"

Cast: Caren Kaye (Stacy Turner), Lynda Goodfriend (Angie Vitola), Scott Baio (Frankie Vitola), Tammy Lauren (Melissa Turner), Larry Breeding (Larry Parnell), Jim Belushi (Burt Gunkel), Marcia Lewis (Mitzi Logan), Lorrie Mahaffey (Memphis), Shirley Kirkes (Cochise), Elaine Bolton (Bridget).

9077 Who's Whose? (Pilot; Game; CBS; 6/25/51). Three men and three women appear on stage and sit opposite a celebrity panel. Through a series of question-and-answer probe rounds, the celebrities have to determine who is married to whom. Lester Lewis is the producer.

Host: Phil Baker. Celebrity Panel: Robin Chandler, Basil Davenport, Art Ford.

9078 Whose Line Is It Anyway? (Series; Comedy; ABC Family; 1998–2006). Host Drew Carey oversees the program, an improvised skit show. Based on suggestions from the studio audience, Drew assigns roles and scenarios to several stand-up comedians who then perform an improvised skit on the spot. The successful series (1998–2006) also ran on ABC when it needed to fill a time slot vacated by a poorly rated series.

Host: Drew Carey. Regulars: Ryan Stiles, Laura Hall, Colin Mochrie, Wayne Brady, Linda Taylor, Denny Siegel, Kathryn Greenwood, Cece Worrall Rubin, Charles Esten, Brad Sherwood, Greg Proops.

9079 Why? (Series; Game; ABC; 1952–1953). A game that involves the five W's: Who, What, When Where and Why. The host states the first four W's of a situation; through a series of question-and-answer probe rounds, contestants have to determine the Why. Each correct answer awards a player points and the player with the highest score is the winner.

Host: John Reed King. Assistant: Bill Cullen.

9080 Why on Earth? (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 7/18/88). A group of aliens (from the planet Ovatia) seeking knowledge about humans, secretly land on Earth and establish Synisys, Inc., a Los Angeles-based company that accumulates and analyzes information. The unsold series was to follow the experiences of two Ovatians: Franklin Smith, a field anthropologist, and his superior, Patricia Adams, as they attempt to solve the mystery of man. In the pilot episode, Smith, who involves himself in the plight of humans, attempts to help a young woman (Eve) plagued by a hoodlum boyfriend (Oscar).

Cast: Chris Makepeace (Franklin Smith), Hillary Edson (Patricia Adams), George Coe (Henry; their mentor, an older Ovatian). Guest Cast: Yvette Niper (Eve Plummer), Merritt Butrick (Oscar), Joseph Maher (Mr. Bell), Christian Clemenson (Mr. Jones), Deborah May (Healer Wilson), Michael Pniewski (Wally), B.J. Barie (Junior McPeak), Julius J. Carry III (Bill), Tommy Bush (Gilbert Small), Ann Hearn (Lily).

9081 Why Us? (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/21/81). The problems of an unlikely marriage as seen through the experiences of Geri Sanborn, a female auto mechanic, and Jules Sanborn, her husband, a college professor at U.C.L.A. In the pilot episode, Holly, Geri's pretty daughter from a previous marriage, and Zoey, Jules's plain-looking daughter from his previous marriage, vie for the attentions of a handsome young college student — and bring their parents to odds when Hugh, the student, takes a liking to Holly.

Cast: Joanna Gleason (Geri Sanborn), John Lawlor (Jules Sanborn), Kim Richards (Holly Sanborn), Lauri Hendler (Zoey Sanborn), Lance Guest (Hugh Whitaker; guest role).

9082 The Why Why? Family. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1996). An educational cartoon for children in which Mr. and Mrs. Why Why take their inquisitive children through time and space to answer their questions and show them exactly how something works.

Voices: Heidi Noelle Lenhart, Jamie Simone, Mendi Segal, Stanley Gurd, Jr., Genghis Studebaker.

9083 Wichita Town. (Series; Western; NBC; 1959–1960). Mike Dunbar is a United States Marshal who has been assigned to Wichita Town, Kansas, during its crucial growth period of the 1870s. Pioneers from the east have been coming west and many have made Kansas their new homes. But with the good also come the bad and stories relate Mike's efforts to uphold the peace. Ben Matheson and Rico Rodrigues are his deputies; Aeneas MacLinahan is the town blacksmith; Joe Kingston is the bartender; Nat Wyndham is the doctor.

Cast: Joel McCrea (Marshal Mike Dunbar), Jody

McCrea (Deputy Ben Matheson), Carlos Romero (Deputy Rico Rodrigues), Bob Anderson (Aeneas MacLinahan), Robert Foulk (Joe Kingston), George Neise (Nat Wyndham).

9084 Wicked Wicked Games. (Series; Drama; My Network TV; 2006–2007). A woman's attempts to gain revenge on the man who jilted her 25 years ago. Blythe Hunter is the woman; Theodore Crawford is the man. Theodore is now the wealthy owner of the Tides Race Track in San Diego and stories follow Blythe as she sets out to use her wicked ways to achieve her revenge and gain the race track for herself.

Cast: Tatum O'Neal (Blythe Hunter), Clive Robertson (Theodore Crawford), Joan Severance (Anna), Debbie Duning (Hope Lorce), Jessie Ward (Emma Crawford), Jack Krizmanich (Aaron Spencer), Kate French (Brooke Crawford), LeAnna Campbell (Chelsea Reed), David Smith (Josh Spence), Tanja Reichert (Jennifer), Femi Emiola (Lani), Tim McElwee (Edward), Nicholas Irons (Taylor), Azie Tesfai (Cherry), Hannah Baker (Stacie), Kathleen Mary Carthy (D.A. Kelly Kinney).

9085 Wide Country. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1962–1963). Mitch Guthrie is a champion rodeo rider. But no matter how good a bronco buster is, there is only one thing that proves a rider's true worth — the Gold Buckle, the trophy that is awarded to the world's best bronco buster. Accompanied by his younger brother, Andy, Mitch travels from rodeo to rodeo (from Texas to California) competing for the county championships that will ultimately lead to the prized Gold Buckle. See also Second Chance for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Earl Holliman (Mitch Guthrie), Andrew Prine (Andy Guthrie). Theme Song: "Wide Country" by Stanley Wilson.

9086 Wide Horizons. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 2/27/44). A television version of the Mutual network radio series of the same title that features variety performances and dramatic skits.

Host: Eddie Dowling. Performers: John Farrell, Ruth Gates, Ben Harrod, Alice Hatton, Bill Leach, Marie Mendoza, Jean Parker, Jay Wesley.

9087 Widget, the World Watcher. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1990). Widget is a friendly, purple extraterrestrial that calls the Erath his home. He lives in a cave and has a mission: protect the world from evil and pollution. He is assisted by the Mega Brain, an intelligent floating head with a transparent cranium, and two Earth youngsters, brothers Brian and Kevin, and their friend Christine. Stories follow Widget (who calls himself a World Watcher) as he battles to protect the environment and its natural resources from polluters and exploiters.

Voice Cast: Russi Taylor (Widget), Jim Cummings (Mega Brain), Dana Hill (Kevin), Kath Soucie (Brian), Kath Soucie (Christine). Additional Voices: Cree Summer, Tress MacNeille, Peter Cullen.

9088 Wife, Mom, Bounty Hunter. (Series; Reality; WE; 2007). Sandra Scott is no ordinary woman. She is a former wrestler turned housewife, mother and bounty hunter (owner of Old West Bail Bonds in Phoenix, Arizona). Sandra is married to Ron (her second husband) and is the mother of Sabree (15 years old) and Ever-Skye (6). Theresa and J.D. are her partners. Stories, which are presented like a reality documentary, follow Sandra as she cares for her family and does her job — “When someone skips out on bail, I’m on the case.” Sandra also has two dogs (Buddy and Buster) and two cats (Mocha and Daisy).

Cast: Sandra Scott, Ron Scott, Sabree Scott, Ever-Skye Scott, J.D. Hall, Theresa.

9089 Wife Swap. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2004). Two families with differing lifestyle are selected. The wives exchange places and take over as the head of their new household. The wives first live by the rules and habits of their new families and make notes on what they like and dislike. Once they have decided how to improve things in their new environment, they set out to implement them and do away with what they find objectionable (getting their new families to go along with what they find objectionable is not always possible). After the experience, the wives are reunited with their real families and both families are seen discussing what happened and if the experience resulted in anything positive being changed or introduced into their respective families. Based on the British series of the same title.

Cast: Lynn Bradley, Jodi Spolansky, Hallmark Van Noy, Roz Bailey, Paula Downs, Clark Richard Reeves, Lori Reeves.

9090 Wifesaver. (Experimental; Comedy; DuMont; 11/23/44). A television version of the local New York radio series of the same title that uses skits to help couples overcome problems at home and at work. In the video experiment, a man and wife used pantomime to show the problems that befall an average couple struggling to keep their heads above water.

Host: Allen Prescott. Cast: Morton DaCosta (Husband), Dorothy Eaton (Wife).

9091 The Wil Shriner Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1987). Comedian Wil Shriner hosts of a daily talk show that features celebrity guests, health and fitness segments and interviews with authors.

9092 The Wilburn Brothers Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1963). Performances by country and western entertainers.

Hosts: Doyle Wilburn, Ted Wilburn. Hostess: Loretta Lynn. Music: The Nashville Tennesseans.

9093 Wild About Harry. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/26/78). The problems faced by an older man (45-year-old divorced architect Harry Baxter) when he meets and falls in love with a young woman (20-year-old Vickie Knowles) was to be the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Harry meets Vickie and encounters the objections of his daughter (Jennie), his ex-wife (Sophie) and Vickie’s parents (Frank and Molly).

Cast: Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (Harry Baxter), Andrea Howard (Vickie Knowles), Stephanie Zimbalist (Jennie Baxter), Emmaline Henry (Molly Knowles), Dick Yarmy (Frank Knowles), Ruth Manning (Sophie Baxter). Guest Cast: Elaine Giftos (Maggie), Reva Rose (Delia), Gloria Stroock (Sheila Marshall), George Sperdakos (Larry Marshall).

9094 Wild and Woolly. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 2/20/78). The wild and woolly west of the early 1900s is the setting for an unsold series about the assignments of Liz, Lacey and Shiloh, three beautiful undercover law enforcers. The pilot episode relates their efforts to expose a plot to kill then-President Teddy Roosevelt.

Cast: Christine De Lisle (Lacey Somers), Susan Bigelow (Liz Hannah), Elyssa Davalos (Shiloh). Guest Cast: Jessica Walter (Megan), Paul Burke (Tobias Singleton), Ross Martin (Otis Bergen), Doug McClure (Delaney Burke), Vic Morrow (Warden Wills), David Doyle (Teddy Roosevelt), Sherry Bain (Jessica).

9095 Wild Bill Hickok. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1951–1956). The West of the 1870s is the setting. James Butler (“Wild Bill”) Hickok and his sidekick, Jingles P. Jones are undercover agents for the federal government who pose as a marshal and his deputy to maintain law and order. Bill is agile, fast on the draw and quick with his fists; Jingles is somewhat overweight, easily scared, a bit clumsy, superstitious and an expert marksman.

Fort Larabee is their regional headquarters; Bill’s horse is named Buckshot and Joker is Jingles’s horse (which he bought from an Indian). Jingles has a two-bit Confederate coin that he carries as a good luck charm, and he mentioned he had an uncle named Petey (“a mountain man who got chewed up by a grizzly”). Being the comedy foil, Jingles receives the worst assignments. Bill feels he overplays roles and complains, but “when I play a part I get into it,” says Jingles.

Cast: Guy Madison (Wild Bill Hickok), Andy Devine (Jingles). Announcer: John Cannon, Charles Lyon.

9096 Wild Card. (Series; Drama; Lifetime; 2003–2004). Zoe Busiek is a blackjack dealer who enjoys her life and her job in Las Vegas. When a car accident claims the life of her widowed sister, Zoe suddenly becomes the guardian of her children — Taylor, Cliff and Hannah. Things are not progressing smoothly and get worse when the insurance company denies the family a financial settlement. Feeling that something is not right, Zoe takes matters into her own hands and begins an investigation that leads her to Dan Lennox and Sophia Mason, insurance investigators who help her get her family what is rightfully theirs.

Life changes for Zoe. She has a knack for uncovering fraud and is offered a job by Sophia and Dan to work for them. Stories follow Zoe as she sets about exposing insurance frauds by every means she can (she believes in using her own rules) no matter how infuriating she is to her bosses.

Dan is a former criminal who tries to keep Zoe on the straight and narrow. M. Pearl McGuire, who has been married five times and outlived three of her husbands, becomes Zoe's boss in second season episodes (she replaces the sweet and trusting Sophia; Pearl is gruff but lovable and has a great singing voice). Also working with Zoe is investigator Marcos Morales.

Cast: Joely Fisher (Zoe Busiek), Rae Dawn Chong (Sophia Mason), Chris Potter (Dan Lennox), Loretta Devine (M [Matilda] Pearl McGuire), Vikki Kinsky (Taylor Woodall), Aislinn Johnston (Cliff Woodall), Bronson Pickett (Marcos Morales).

9097 Wild Cargo. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1963). Arthur Jones hosts and narrates films that depict the capture of wild animals for zoos.

9098 Wild C.A.T.S. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1994). In a prehistoric era, two races are struggling for power on earth: the Earthlings and the evil aliens, the Daemonites. To battle the aliens, C.A.T.S. (Covert Action Team) is established and stories relate the battle as both races seek control of the planet.

Voice Cast: Dean McDermott (War Blade), Dennis Akayama (Dockwell), Paul Mota (Maul), Roscoe Handford (Zealot), Janet-Lanie Green (Void), Ruth Marshall (Voodoo), Sean McCann (Marlowe), Colin O'Meara (Grifter), Maurice Dean Wint (Helspont), Rod Wilson (Spartan).

9099 Wild Jack. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1989). Following the death of a good friend, "Wild" Jack McCall, an Alaskan wilderness guide, is named trustee of FCI Communications, a multi-million dollar publishing and broadcasting corporation, in Los Angeles. Stories relate Jack's adventures as he attempts to abide by his friend's final wishes and run the company (to feel at home, Jack has established a business on the side — Tracking Unlimited — wherein he and his pet wolf, Dinale, help people in trouble).

Other Regulars: Constance, the president of FCI (her father, Winston, owned the company; he felt that Jack was the best person to run it); Marion, Constance's assistant; and Grace, Constance's secretary. Three episodes aired (January 15, 1989; July 9, 1989; July 16, 1989).

Cast: John Schneider (Jack McCall), Carol Huston (Constance Fielding), Kevin Skousen (Marion Reynolds), Janet MacLachlan (Grace), Mel Ferrer (Winston Fielding; pilot only).

9100 Wild Oats. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1994). Jack and Brian have been friends since childhood. They met at the principal's office in the third grade. Jack snuck into the girl's bathroom, was caught and tried to pin it on Brian, saying it was his idea. They are now adults and roommates. Jack is the wild one; Brian is laid back. Both are girl hunting and their attempts to sew some wild oats is the focal point of the short-lived (three episode) series.

Jack works as a photographer; Brian is a social worker. Gordon, their nerdy friend, works for the McCormick Place Convention Center in Chicago. Shelley and Liz are also their friends. Liz and Shelley met at college. Shelley is a fifth grade school teacher; Liz is a beautician at a salon called Chez Bartholomew. Their bar hangout is The Hanger.

Cast: Tim Conlon (Jack Slayton), Paul Stephen Rudd (Brian Grant), Paula Marshall (Shelley Thomas), Jana Marie Hupp (Liz Bradford), Timothy Fall (Gordon).

9101 The Wild Thornberrys. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1998–2001). A female version of Dr. Dolittle. Eliza Thornberry is a young girl with a unique ability to talk to and understand animals. Her parents, Nigel and Marianne are nature show hosts; Debbie is her older sister; Donnie is her wild boy brother (found by Nigel and Marianne); and Darwin is her pet chimpanzee. Eliza travels with her family across the country in an RV and stories follow Eliza as she uses her abilities to help wild life.

Voice Cast: Lacey Chabert (Eliza Thornberry), Jodi Carlisle (Marianne Thornberry), Tim Curry (Nigel Thornberry), Danielle Harris (Debbie Thornberry), Tom Kane (Darwin).

9102 The Wild West Cowboys of Moo Mesa. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1992–1993). Moo Mesa is a plateau where cows talk and walk on two legs (a comet landed and its rays spread into the grass. The cows ate the grass and were turned into human-like creatures). The series is set in the Wild West era where Moo Marshal and his deputies, Dakota Dude and Cow Lorado Kid uphold the law in Moo Mesa (C.O.W. is Code of the West which the "Cow Cows," as they call themselves, uphold).

Voices: Jim Cummings, Joe Piscopo, Kay Lenz, Tim Curry, Michael Horse, Robby Benson, Sally Struthers, Neil Ross, Danny Mann, Jeff Bennett, Russi Taylor. Theme Vocal: "The Cowboys of Moo Mesa" by Billy Dean.

9103 The Wild Wild West. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1965–1969). The Nimrod is a luxurious passenger coach that serves as the mobile base of operations for Major James T. West and his partner, Artemus Gordon, Secret Service operatives for President Ulysses S. Grant in the west of the 1870s.

James, called Jim, had served in the U.S. Cavalry for ten years before being selected by President Grant for duty as an undercover intelligence officer. The Nimrod is actually a government loan but as far as the outside world is concerned, the train is the sole property of James T. West, a big spender from the east who is known as “the dandiest dude who ever crossed the Mississippi in his own train.”

Artemus, called Artie, is a brilliant actor turned agent who uses the wizardry of his craft (disguises) to help Jim apprehend criminals who pose a threat to the country. Artie gets the less glamorous assignments — nondescript characters that are there to help Jim.

While Jim and Artie battle many notorious villains (in some cases using surveillance techniques and weapons that had not yet been invented), their most diabolical enemy was Dr. Miguelito Coyote Loveless, an evil scientist who owned his villainy “to the curse of my midget size.” He also believed the U.S. government took the country away from his grandfather and getting back at the government was his way of seeking revenge.

Tennison is Jim’s manservant on the train; Voltaire and Antoinette are two of Loveless’s assistants. The series was originally titled The Wild West (same music; title graphics are the only difference). See also More Wild Wild West and The Wild Wild West Revisited. Richard Markowitz composed the theme.

9104 The Wild Wild West Revisited. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 5/9/79). The first of two pilots (see also More Wild Wild West) for an updated version of The Wild Wild West about U.S. government Secret Service agents James T. West and Artemus Gordon. The story, set in 1885, reunites West (who had retired to Mexico) with Artemus (who had become an actor with the Deadwood Shakespearian Strolling Players Travelling Tent Show). Their assignment: stop Michelito Loveless, Jr., the son of their old adversary, from controlling the world with perfect clones of heads of state — “people” who will be responsible only to him. Other Regulars: Robert T. Malone, head of the Secret Service; Hugo, Malone’s aide; and Sir David Edney, the British Intelligence agent.

9105 Wild Wild World of Animals. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1973). William Conrad narrates films that depict the animals’ struggle for survival in a rapidly changing world. Mary Batten and Hugh Fault provide additional narration.

9106 The Wild Women of Chastity Gulch. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 10/31/82). An unusual project about the adventures of Dr. Maggie McCulloch, mayor of Sweetwater, Missouri, and the owner of Annie’s (a brothel), as she struggles to maintain the peace in the lawless 1860s. The pilot episode depicts how Maggie, the niece of Annie McCulloch (the founder of Sweetwater), became mayor: on a visit to her aunt, Maggie discovers that Annie has only a short time to live. Annie appoints Maggie as the mayor and requests that she also look after her girls and run the brothel. Reluctant at first, but motivated by the need for a town doctor — and justice in Sweetwater — Maggie has a change of heart and abides by her aunt’s wishes. The pilot also depicts the efforts of Maggie and her ladies of the evening to defend the town from marauding Union soldiers.

Other Regulars: Betsy, Maggie’s sheriff; Sugar and Lanie, two of Maggie’s girls; townspeople Sarah, Gertrude, Lamont and Bodie; Tom, Sarah’s husband; and Tommy, Sarah’s son.

Cast: Priscilla Barnes (Dr. Maggie McCulloch), Susan Kellermann (Betsy), Phyllis Elizabeth Davis (Sugar Harris), Morgan Brittany (Lanie), Pamela Bellwood (Sarah), Jeanette Nolan (Gertrude), Dennis Fimple (Lamont), Paul Brinegar (Bodie), Scott Arthur Allen (Tom), Jerry J. Lewandowski (Tommy). Guest Cast: Joan Collins (Annie McCulloch), Howard Duff (Colonel Samuel Isaacs), Lee Horsley (Captain John Cain), Lisa Whelchel (Amy Cole), Donny Osmond (Frank Isaacs), Rex Holman (Lieutenant Pritchard).

9107 Wilder and Wilder. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/26/78). A proposed series about Steffi Wilder and her husband Sam, television writers who constantly find themselves at odds when they are assigned to the same project but can never agree on how a situation should be played.

Cast: Meredith MacRae (Steffi Wilder), Greg Mullavey (Sam Wilder), Susan Lanier (Tina Chambers; Steffi's sister). Guest Cast: Lou Criscuolo (Al Meredith), T.K. Carter (Jason), Lonnie Shorr (Roger Bacon), Warren Burton (Phil Crawford), Vaughn Armstrong (Joel).

9108 Wildest Dreams. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1989). An unsold series about a group of kids (Tommy, Lewis, P.J. and Mike) who are members of the Juniper Knights, a super secret club. Other Regulars: Helen and Tom, Sr., Tommy and P.J.'s parents; Connie and Richard, Mike's parents.

Cast: Danny Girard (Tommy Gamble), Lizzy Joy (P.J. Gamble), Adam Gold (Mike Patterson), Nicky Bronson (Lewis Abernathy), Mimi Kennedy (Helen Gamble), Cliff Bemis (Tom Gamble, Sr.), Julie Cobb (Connie Patterson), Ray Buktenica (Richard Patterson).

9109 Wildfire. (Series; Drama; ABC Family; 2005–). Kristine Furillo is an 18-year-old girl who is constantly in trouble with the law. After being sentenced to juvenile hall and serving time, Kris, as she is called, receives a second chance at life when she is given a job at the Raintree, a ranch owned by the Ritter's, a family who lend a hand to children in need. Kris soon realizes she must change her ways and struggles to do her best to make the Ritter's proud of her. It is also at this time that Kris learns the ranch owner, Henry and his daughter Jean are facing a financial crisis and struggling to save their ranch. Kris has an uncanny talent with horses; the Ritter's have a spirited horse named Wildfire. Kris and Wildfire bond and with the help of Pablo, the local horse trainer, the Ritter's enter the world of horse racing with Kris's winnings keeping the ranch from financial ruin.

9110 The Wilds of Ten Thousand Islands. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 2/24/78). Drs. Jeff and Barbara Wild are dedicated animal behaviorists. They are working on a grant from the University of Miami and live on one of the remote Ten Thousand Islands off the Florida West Coast with their 14-year-old daughter (Sarah) and their ten-year-old son (Tim). The proposed series was to relate their experiences working with the animals of the wilderness wetlands. In the pilot episode, the Wilds discover two rare scarlet macaws and begin experimenting on the birds' unusual navigational habits.

Cast: Chris Robinson (Jeff Wild), Julie Gregg (Barbara Wild), Mary Ellen McKeon (Sarah Wild), Charles Aiken (Tim Wild). Guest Cast: Rachel Roberts (Clara Mooney), John Kauffman (Fred Osceola), Monica Gayle (Miss Kathy), John Ashton (Orville).

9111 Wildside. (Series; Western; ABC; 1985). A story of five men, seemingly ordinary citizens, who combine their unique skills to form the Chamber of Commerce, an elite law enforcement team in Wildside, California during the late 1800s. The men are Brodie, a fast gun; Sutton, his son; Bannister, an explosives expert; Vargas, a gunsmith and a master with a knife; and Prometheus, a veterinarian who is a rope whiz.

Other Regulars: Cally, editor of the town newspaper, the Daily Flash; Elliot, Cally's typesetter; Alice, the town's pretty undertaker; Pete the owner of the cafe; Zeke, the 14-year-old boy who helps around town; and G.W., the Governor of California (for whom the Chamber of Commerce sometimes work).

Cast: William Smith (Brodie Hollister), J. Eddie Peck (Sutton Hollister), Howard E. Rollins, Jr. (Bannister Sparks), John DiAquino (Vargas De La Costa), Terry Funk (Prometheus Jones), Meg Ryan (Cally Oaks), Kurt Fuller (Elliot Throckmorton), Robin Hoff (Alice Freeze), Patrick Culliton (Pete "Skillit" Montana), Jason Hervey (Zeke), Sandy McPeak (G.W. Summerhayes).

9112 The Will. (Series; Reality; CBS; 2005). A reality series that was cancelled the same night it premiered (January 8, 2005). The format (which has no aired conclusion) has Bill Long (a 73-year-old, Scotsdale, Arizona, land developer) overseeing a series of challenges to determine which of ten family members and friends is most deserving to control his ranch. Each of the challenges is designed to eliminate one of the heirs on a weekly basis with the one proving himself the most worthy becoming the heir Bill is seeking.

Cast: Tony Noakes (Host), Bill Long, Sr. (The Benefactor), Penny Long (The Wife), Bill Long, Jr. (The Son), Josh Magee (The Surrogate Son), Betty Miller (The Mother-in-Law), Scott Miller (The Son-in-Law), Crystal Salas (The Family Friend), Danielle Pino (The Trusted Employee), Mickey Nelson (Lifelong Friend).

9113 Will and Grace. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1998–2006). Will Truman and Grace Adler are friends. They share Apartment 9C at 155 Riverside Drive in Manhattan.

Will is a lawyer and gay; Grace, an interior designer, is straight. Will, a gourmet cook, attended New York University and is a highly charged negotiator when it comes to money matters. He is controlling and uncompromising. He was originally a private practice attorney then a lawyer for the firm of Doucette and Stein. He loves to cook and embroider and first learned he was gay when, as Grace says, “he put his hand on my boob and said is that a cashmere sweater?” He frequents such gay bars as The Tight End, Ada’s Bar and Crisco Disco.

Grace owns Grace Adler Designs. She is a beautiful woman but sensitive to the fact that she has small breasts. (Grace’s mother was so desperate for Grace to have breasts that she padded her high school gym uniform). Grace was married to a doctor (Leo) for a short time (the marriage ended when he abandoned her). Grace attended Hawthorne High School and New York University (where she met Will). She next attended the Fashion Institute then started her own business. At the start of the second season (9/21/99), Grace moves across the hall (Apartment 9A) “because I think it will be healthier for the both of us.”

Karen Walker, Grace’s assistant, loves to show cleavage. She is self-centered, does not know how to work a computer, fax or phone, but she knows people and gets what she wants; she also gets back from lunch in time for dinner.

Karen is married to Stanley Walker, her second husband (she never talks about hubby number one). Stanley is grossly overweight but rich. Karen’s life changes when Stanley is arrested for tax evasions and dies shortly after from a heart attack. Karen becomes the head of Stanley’s company, Walker, Inc. She next falls in love with and later marries Lyle Finster, a man who sells rattraps to breweries. Karen’s maid is Rosario, a woman who has the nerve to stand up to Karen but also takes constant verbal abuse from her.

“I’m here and I’m queer. Get used to it” is the oath Jack McFarland “took in front of God and my mother.” Jack is a hopeful playwright and is a good friend of Will and Grace. Jack did a one-man show called Just Jack and wrote a Caribbean fantasy called Love Among the Coconuts (which he changed to Untitled Jack when Karen told him his play stinks). Jack gets nauseous when he thinks about making love to a woman. Jack was an usher on Broadway for two performances of Les Misérables and, as a kid, had a growing-up Skipper doll (hence, “I know all about women”). Jack later works as a backup dancer for Jennifer Lopez, then for Janet Jackson. He later acquires a job as the host of a talk show (Jack Talk) for Out TV, a gay cable network.

Marilyn is Jack’s mother; Bobbie is Grace’s mother; Vince is Will’s lover; Ben Doucette is Will’s boss.

Cast: Debra Messing (Grace Adler), Eric McCormick (Will Truman), Megan Mullally (Karen Walker), Sean Hayes (Jack McFarland), Shelley Morrison (Rosario Salazar), Harry Connack, Jr. (Leo Markus), Blythe Danner (Marilyn Truman), Debbie Reynolds (Bobbi Adler), Minnie Driver (Lorraine Finster), Alec Baldwin (Malcolm), Leigh Allyn Baker (Ellen), Bobby Cannavale (Vince D’Angelo), Leslie

Jordan (Beverley Leslie), Gary Grubbs (Harlan Polk), Gregory Hines (Ben Doucette), Woody Harrelson (Nathan), John Cleese (Lyle Finster).

9114 Will the Real Jerry Lewis Please Sit Down. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1970–1972). A animated adaptation of comedian Jerry Lewis that depicts him as a fumbling janitor for the Odd Job Employment Agency. Geraldine is Jerry’s sister; Mr. Blunderpuss is Jerry’s boss; Rhonda is Jerry’s girlfriend; Spot is Geraldine’s pet frog.

Voice Cast: David L. Lander (Jerry Lewis), June Foray (Geraldine Lewis), June Foray (Rhonda), Howard Morris (Mr. Blunderpuss).

9115 Willie Wonderful. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1952). A puppet series about the adventures of Willie Wonderful, a young boy who travels with a circus.

Voices: Stan Freberg, Eddie Bracken.

9116 Willow B: Women in Prison. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 6/29/80). Life in the El Camino Institution for Women as seen through the eyes of Kim Cavanaugh, a socialite who finds herself behind bars (in section Willow B) when she is convicted of felony manslaughter (driving while intoxicated and killing a pedestrian). The pilot episode establishes how Kim came to be sentenced and depicts her first day’s experiences in prison. Based on the Australian series Prisoner: Cell Block H (see entry). Other Regulars: Prisoners Chris, Claire, Kate, Sabrina, Helen, Trini, Lynn, Francine and Eloise; Sergeant Pritchett, the sadistic guard; Dave, a guard; Mr. Canady, a guard; and Mrs. McCallister, the prison governor.

Cast: Debra Clinger (Kim Cavanaugh), Trisha Noble (Chris Bricker), Carol Lynley (Claire Hastings), Sally Kirkland (Kate Stewart), Sarah Kennedy (Sabrina Reynolds), Elizabeth Hartman (Helen), Liz Torres (Trini Santos), Susan Tyrrell (T.J.), Lynne Moody (Lynn), Sandra Sharpe (Francine), Virginia Capers (Eloise Baker), Ruth Roman (Sergeant Pritchett), Norma Donaldson (Mrs. McCallister), Jared Martin (Dave Tyree), John P. Ryan (Mr. Canady).

9117 Willy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954–1955). Wilhelmina “Willy” Dodger is a young woman who, after graduating from a big city law school, decides to return to her small hometown of Renfrew, New Hampshire, to begin her law practice. Stories follow Willy’s misadventures as she struggles to make her practice a success despite the fact that people are distrustful of female lawyers. Charlie Bush is the town’s veterinarian; Emily Sanders is Willy’s widowed sister; Franklin is Emily’s son. The series ran from September 18, 1954 to March 31, 1955. Willy’s dog is named Rags.

Cast: June Havoc (Willy Dodger), Wheaton Chambers (Willy’s Father), Whitfield Connor (Charlie Bush), Mary Treen (Emily Sanders), Danny Richards, Jr. (Franklin Sanders).

9118 Willy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1955). A revised version of the prior title. The locale switches from Renfrew, New Hampshire, to New York City to relate the adventures of Wilhelmina “Willy” Dodger as the legal counsel for the Bannister Vaudeville Company. Perry Bannister is Willy’s employer; Harvey Evelyn is Willy’s friend. The series ran from April 7, 1955 to July 7, 1955.

Cast: June Havoc (Willy Dodger), Hal Peary (Perry Bannister), Sterling Holloway (Harvey Evelyn).

9119 The Wilton North Report. (Series; Satire; Fox; 1987–1988). A comical view of the news coupled with celebrity interviews, health and science reports, movie reviews and comedy skits. The series was originally scheduled to premiere on November 30, 1987 but was delayed until December 11, 1987 when the producers felt the show was not ready; it was cancelled on January 8, 1988.

Host: Paul Robins, Phil Cowan. Interviewers: Greg Jackson, Nancy Collins. Regulators: Jack LaLanne, Jane Scott, Richard Dominick. Announcer: Steve Morris.

9120 Win Ben Stein’s Money. (Series; Game; Comedy Central; 1997–2003). A game show where the host is also a contestant and attempts to win his own pay check. A board with category topics, each worth a varying amount of money, is displayed on stage. Each of the three contestants who compete selects a category and has to answer the questions it contains. Each question scores money and the player with the least amount of money at the end of the round is eliminated. Host Ben Stein joins the two remaining players and the game is played in the same manner. The player with the most money is the winner (excluding Ben) and joins Ben in the final round, “The Best of Ten Test Knowledge.” Here Ben and his opponent are asked the same ten questions (isolated from each other during questioning). The non-Ben player, who gets to keep what he won in the prior two rounds, adds $1,000 to his sum if he scores the same as Ben; if this player scores higher than Ben, he wins all of Ben’s available money ($5,000).

Host: Ben Stein. Co-Host: Jimmy Kimmel (1997–2001), Nancy Pimental (2001–2003), Sal Iacono (2002). Announcer: Sal Iacono, Nancy Pimental.

9121 Win, Lose or Draw. (Series; Game; NBC; Syn.; 1987). Two teams compete, each composed of three members (two celebrities, one contestant). One member of each team receives a secret name or saying and must convey it to his team by drawing clues to its identity. If the team guesses it, they score $200. Each member of each team receives a chance at drawing and the team with the highest score wins. The program, both a network and syndicated program at the same time, is created by Burt Reynolds and features name celebrities (in the premiere, for example, Burt Reynolds, Debbie Reynolds, Loretta Swit, Jason Bateman and Loni Anderson). See also Teen Win, Lose or Draw.

Cast: Vicki Lawrence (Host, Network Version), Sally Struthers (Substitute Host for Vicki), Bert Convy (Host, Syndicated Version), Burt Reynolds (Semi Regular), Bob Hilton (Announcer).

9122 Win with a Winner. (Series; Game; NBC; 1958). Five players compete and each stands before a numbered post (as in a horse race). The object calls for players to reach the finish line by answering questions. Players select their questions by point value and move forward according to the point value (if they answer the question correctly); the higher the point value, the more difficult the question. The first player to reach the finish line is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The series, which ran from June 24, 1958 to September 9, 1958, is also known as Winner’s Circle.

Host: Sandy Becker, Win Elliott. Assistant: Marilyn Toomey, Rita Hayes. Announcer: Bill Wendell.

9123 Win with the Stars. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1968). Two teams compete, each composed of two members, in rounds composed of forty-five second segments. A musical selection is played. As soon as the title is recognized, a player presses a button to stop the ticking clock. A correct identification scores the team two points. Additional points can be won by singing the first two lines of the song. Each correct lyric scores one point. The game continues until the forty-five second time limit has elapsed. The remaining team competes in the same manner with the object being to beat their opponent’s score. The winners, the highest-scoring team, receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Allen Ludden. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

9124 Wind on Water. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1998). Cole and Kelly Connolly are brothers who earn a living as champion surfers. They were born in Hawaii. Their grandparents were missionaries who settled on the island; their parents run a thriving cattle ranch that is being sought by members of the Poole family (headed by Gardner Poole). Life changes suddenly for Cole and Kelly when their father unexpectedly dies and their mother, Ceil, is left to run the ranch. When the brothers discover that their ranch is in danger of foreclosure and is eagerly sought by Gardner, they hit the extreme sports circuit in the hope of winning the money needed to save their family heritage. Kate and Val Poole are the widower Gardner’s children. Two of eight filmed episodes aired.

Cast: Bo Derek (Ceil Connolly), Brian Gross (Kelly Connolly), William Gregory Lee (Cole Con- nolly), Lee Horsley (Gardner Poole), Jacinda Garrett (Kate Poole), Shawn Christian (Val Poole), Matt George (Charlie Flanagan), Vincent Klyn (Israel), Matthew Stephen Liu (Kai).

9125 Windfall. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2006). A group of 20 friends each place one dollar in a pool to buy lottery tickets for a possible jackpot of $386 million in the Statewide Lotto. At a convenience store, one of the friends, Nina, buys the 20 tickets, but something tells her to play one extra game. She plays her birthday—12-19-71.

That night, the lotto drawing is held and the numbers 12, 9, 19, 7, 1 come out, making the group instant millionaires. “Money changes everything” is said on the program and the series charts how the money affects each of the winners. The principal winners are: Nina, Peter, Cameron, Beth, Kimberly, Damien and Sean and Maggie.

Nina is married to Peter Schaefer. They appear to be a happy family and have two children (although Nina still has romantic feelings for her former boyfriend, Cameron).

Cameron, Nina’s college boyfriend, is married to Beth, a florist. Cameron is a college professor and he too has lingering feelings for Nina.

Kimberly George is a hard-working single mother. Damien is a rebellious high school student and friend of Nina’s. When he met Nina by chance at the convenience store, he gave her a dollar to become part of the pack (it was with that dollar that Nina played the extra game).

Sean Mathers has a mysterious, unknown past. He is an outsider who works in Beth’s flower shop. Frankie is a 16-year-old girl whose parents are in a miserable marriage. She is literally left on her own when her parents get their share of the money and run off. Maggie Hernandez is a nurse who cares about her patients.

Cast: Luke Perry (Peter Schaefer), Laura Parrilla (Nina Schaefer), Sarah Wynter (Beth Walsh), Malinda Williams (Kimberly George), Jon Foster (Damien Cutler), Jason Gedrick (Cameron Walsh), D.J. Cotrona (Sean Mathers), Sarah Jane Morris (Zoe Reida), Alice Greczyno (Frankie Townsend).

9126 Window on Main Street. (Series; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 1961–1962). Life in a small American town (Millsburg) as seen through the eyes of Cameron Garrett Brooks, a novelist who, after the death of his wife, returns to his hometown to write about its people. Lloyd Ramsey is the newspaper editor; Chris Logan is Lloyd’s assistant; Wally Evans is the owner of the Majestic Hotel; Peggy Evans is Wally’s wife; Henry McGill is the hotel desk clerk; Arnie Logan is Chris’s son.

Cast: Robert Young (Cameron Brooks), Ford Rainey (Lloyd Ramsey), Constance Moore (Chris Logan), James Byron (Wally Evans), Carol Byron (Peggy Evans), Warner Jones (Henry McGill), Brad Berwick (Arnie Logan).

9127 Window Shade Revue. (Test Program; Variety; NBC; 8/25/46). Songs and skits based on vaudeville routines. The title is derived from the program opening: a window shade is opened to reveal the cast who perform before two windows.

Cast: Maxine Barrett, Lillian Cornell, Harold Lang, Lou Nelson, Bibi Osterwald, Carl Ravazza.

9128 Window Shopping. (Series; Game; ABC; 1962). A photograph is briefly flashed on a screen. Each of the three players who compete states the items he believes were depicted in the photo. For each correct identification, he receives one point. The player with the highest point total is the winner and receives the opportunity to window shop. His point total is transferred into seconds and for that amount of time, a stage window, that contains numerous merchandise items, is displayed. The items that he is able to recall become his prizes. The series ran from April 2, 1962 to June 29, 1962.

Host: Bob Kennedy. Judge: William Wood.

9129 Windows. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1955). A short-lived (eight episode) series of dramatizations about people confronting real problems. Stories include The World Out There (with Mary Perry, Anthony Perkins and Joseph Perkins in a story about an illiterate woman’s efforts to learn how to read and write); Rose’s Boy (with Judith Evelyn in a one character play in which a woman attempts to work up the courage to tell a young boy about his mother’s serious accident); The Calliope Tree (with Henry Hull and Van Dyke Parks in a story about an ex-circus clown and his efforts to relive his past through the admiration of a young boy); and Domestic Dilemma (with Geraldine Page and Jason Robards, Jr. in a story about how an alcoholic woman affects her family). The series ran from July 8, 1955 to August 26, 1955.

9130 Windows, Doors and Keyholes. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 5/16/78). Various adult-oriented sketches that satirize topical issues. Guests were slated to host the weekly series and assist a cast of regulars in sketches.

Guest Hosts: Bill Dana, Telly Savalas, Lindsay Wagner. Regulars: Hilary Beane, Hamilton Camp, Patrick J. Cronin, Mickey Deems, MacIntyre Dixon, Joy Garrett, Trisha Hart, Peter Palmer, Linda Redford, Dee Dee Rescher, John Schuck.

9131 Windy City Jamboree. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1950). An hour of music and songs from Chicago with singer Danny O’Neal as the host. The series ran from March 26, 1950 to June 18, 1950.

Host: Danny O’Neal. Regulars: Gloria Van, Jane Brockman, Jimmy McPartland, Dick Edwards, Paula Raye, John Dalce, Bud Tygett. Music: Julian Stockdale.

Voice Cast: Malcolm McDowell (Geoffrey Tolwyn), Thomas F. Wilson (Todd Marshall), Mark Hamill (Christopher Blair), Dana Delany (Gwen Bowman), Lauri Hendler (Maya), Kevin Schon (Blizzard), Kevin Schon (Thrakath), Dorian Harewood, Michael Dorn, Earl Boen, Pat Fraley.

9133 Wingo. (Series; Game; CBS; 1958). Two players compete in very difficult question-and-answer rounds. Players with the highest scores are the winners and receive $1000. Contestants compete until defeated and vie for the top prize of $250,000 (the highest offered on television at this time; unfortunately, the decision to use difficult questions was not a viewer attraction and the series ended after a short run: April 1, 1958 to May 6, 1958).

Host: Bob Kennedy.

9134 Wings. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990–1997). Joseph ("Joe") Hackett and his brother, Brian Hackett run Sandpiper Air, a one plane airline based at the Tom Nevers Field in Nantucket, a rustic island off the coast of Massachusetts. Their plane, a Cessna 402 has the radio call letters Sandpiper 28. Joe started Sandpiper Air with $5,700 and a lot of sweat; Brian joined him as a partner after flying for Iguana Air ("We're ugly, but we get you there"). Stories follow Joe and Brian as they struggle to keep their airline running.

Helen Chappel, the airport lunch counter operator, is a musician and hopes to one day play the cello with the Cambridge Symphony Orchestra. (Her big break almost came when she auditioned for and got a job with the Maine State Symphony Orchestra. The orchestra, however, lost its funding and Helen lost her job.) Although it is hard to believe, Helen said she "was once as big as a whale." When she lived in Boston, her hangout was the South Bay Fudge Factory. Her and the brothers' favorite watering hole is the Club Car.

Roy Biggins is the owner of the rival six-plane Aeromass Airline. Faye Evelyn Cochran is the reservations clerk (a former stewardess now in her sixties). She is a member of the Quilting Club, and she claims that when she was a stewardess, she was the first one to use the emergency exit gestures.

Lowell Mather is the general maintenance man;

Antonio Scarpacci is the Italian immigrant and cabbie.

Kim Ulrich appeared as Brian's ex-wife, Carol, and Barbara Babcock played Joe and Brian's mother, Mae Hackett. In a flashback sequence, Valri Jackson was Joe and Brian's mother; Granville Ames was their father; Adrian Arnold was young Joey; Spencer Vrooman was young Brian; and actress Valentino was young Helen. A public domain piece by Franz Schubert is credited as "The Wings Theme."

Cast: Timothy Daly (Joe Hackett), Steven Weber (Brian Hackett), Crystal Bernard (Helen Chappel), David Schramm (Roy Biggins), Rebecca Schull (Fay Cochran), Farrah Forke (Alex Lambert), Amy Yasbeck (Casey Davenport), Budd Bronski (Brian Haley), Laura Innes (Bunny Mather), Thomas Hayden Church (Lowell Mather), Tony Shalhoub (Antonio Scarpacci).

9135 Winky Dink and You. (Series; Children; CBS; 1953–1957). The series encourages children to participate via Winky Dink home kits (inexpensive kits that contain a "magic transparent screen," a set of wax crayons and an erasing cloth. The kits sold anywhere from fifty cents to $2.95). The "magic transparent screen" is also called "the magic window."

Before the screen is actually used, a child joins the host and through the host's instruction, children in the home audience are taught how to apply the clear, flexible "magic window" to the TV screen (placing the screen on the glass picture tube and using the erasing cloth to press it on. The magnetic static emitted from the TV screen allows the plastic to cling to it). Once this has been accomplished, the host calls on his friend, the animated Winky Dink, by saying the word "Winko" (or words "Winko Blinko") Winky (and his pal, Woofer the dog) are seen on stage on a TV monitor. A story is told that involves Winky Dink in an adventure. The events unfold through a series of cartoon drawings that enable children at home to assist the characters when they are in trouble (for example the host might say "Draw and escape hatch here to help our friends escape from this locked room"). Magically, as kids are supposedly drawing the host's request, it appears on the screen for all to see.

Cast: Jack Barry (Host), Dayton Allen (Mr. Bungle, the Janitor), Mike McBean (Assistant), Mae Questel (Winky Dink's Voice), Dayton Allen (Woofer's Voice).

9136 Winky Dink and You. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1969). An animated version of the prior title that encourages children to participate at home via "Winky Dink" Home kits (a plastic screen that is placed over the TV screen and wax crayons). The program itself relates the adventures of Winky Dink (a young boy) and his dog, Woofer, as they become involved in perilous situations. Children participate by placing their “magic transparent screen” on the TV screen and drawing essential life-saving elements with the wax crayons.

Voice Characterizations: Lionel G. Wilson.

9137 The Winner. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2007). Glen Abbott, at age 43, is the richest man in Buffalo, New York — now. But to know him, you have to go back to the beginning — “Of my wonder years” in 1994 — “The very last summer of my childhood — the summer I turned 32 and became a man.”

Glenn lives with his parents, Ron and Irene, who are worried about their son — he has no ambition (but claims to be writing a book). Life changes for Glen during the summer of 1994 (where the series is set) when Alison McKellar (formally Alison Miller), the girl he had a crush on in high school, returns to town to care for her sick mother. Alison is now divorced and the mother of 13-year-old Josh. Glen renews his friendship with Alison and becomes best friends with Josh — the only person he can truly relate to. To impress Alison, Glen acquires a job — his first at age 32 — as a clerk in a video rental store called Reel World. Stories follow Glen as he grows from child (at 32) to man and sets out to not only win Alison’s love but make his mark on the world (Alison is divorced from a man named Donny); Richard is Glen’s boss at Reel World.

Cast: Rob Corddry (Glen Abbott), Lenny Clarke (Ron Abbott), Julie Hagerty (Irene Abbott), Erin Hayes (Alison McKellar), Keir Gilchrist (Josh McKellar), Brett DelBuonn (Glen as a teenager), Jillian Clare (Alison as a teenager), Amir Talai (Richard).

9138 Winner Take All. (Series; Game; CBS; 1948–1952). The object calls for players to answer questions based on sketches that are performed on the stage. The player with the most correct answers is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The series ran from June 15, 1948 to October 3, 1950; January 12, 1951 to April 20, 1951; and February 25, 1952 to October 5, 1952.

Host: Clayton “Bud” Collyer, Bill Cullen. Assistant: Sheila Connolly. Performers: Betty Jones Watson, Jerry Austen, Howard Malone, Barry Gray.

9139 Winner Take All. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/1/77). Allison Nash is a stunning free-lance insurance investigator. Charlie Quigley is a cracker-jack police lieutenant with the L.A.P.D. When a theft becomes a police matter, Allison is often assigned to the same case by her employer at the time. The unsold series was to pair the duo, who work in tandem to solve crimes but for different reasons — Allison for her company; Charlie for the police department. The pilot episode depicts their efforts to recover five perfectly matched emeralds they believe were stolen by a notorious cat burglar. Other Reg- ulars: E.P., Allison’s assistant; and Mo, Charlie’s assistant.

9140 Winnetka Road. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1994). A prime time soap opera (that ran for five episodes) about Terry Mears, a divorcee who moves to Oak Bluffs, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, with her young son, Nicky, to begin a new life. As Terry takes up residence on Winnetka Road, and gets to know her new neighbors, conflict enters the picture when her trouble-making ex-husband, Stan, arrives in town. While Terry did struggle to overcome Stan’s intrusion, she became somewhat of a tramp as the series focus changed to explore Terry’s sexual activities as well as the lives of the people with whom she comes in contact. Caring for Nicky and efforts to rebuild her life became secondary.

9141 Winning Lines. (Series; Game; ABC; 2000). A complicated (and very difficult) game that begins with 49 players. Mathematical related questions are used to eliminate 43 of the players. A question is read (for example, “The Partridge Family and The Brady Bunch combined equals what number?”). Each player that answers incorrectly is eliminated. When six players remain, the finalist competition begins. Mathematical based questions are again used. The first player to be recognized by a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer the question that is up for grabs. A correct response keeps a player in the game while an incorrect response disqualifies him from further competition. The last remaining player is the winner and enters the final round, “Wonder Wall.” The object is for the player to answer 20 questions within three minutes ($1 million is awarded if he can). The player is allowed two incorrect answers and is still allowed to play (although the $1 million is no longer available); money is won for each correctly answered question. Three incorrect answers cost the player all his earnings as does not bailing out with what he has before time runs out.

Host: Dick Clark.

9142 Winning Streak. (Series; Game; NBC; 1974–1975). Sixteen letters of the alphabet, each representing a different point value, are displayed. One player (of two who compete) chooses one letter and its point value is revealed. A player wins the point by correctly answering a question that corresponds to that letter (for example, if the letter T is chosen, the answer will begin with the letter T). Turns alternate and the first contestant to reach the goal (from 250 to 350 points) is the winner.

Host: Bill Cullen. Announcer: Don Pardo.

9143 Winter Kill. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/15/74). The pilot film for Adams of Eagle Lake about Sam McNeill, a sheriff in the resort town of Eagle Lake, California. The pilot episode depicts Sam's efforts to unravel a sudden series of murders that are plaguing the ski resort town. Other Regulars: Deputy Jerry Troy; Betty, Sam's girlfriend; and Doris, the radio dispatcher.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Sam McNeill), John Calvin (Jerry Troy), Sheree North (Betty), Louise Latham (Doris). Guest Cast: Elayne Heilveil (Cynthia Howell), Nick Nolte (Dave Michaels), John Larch (Dr. Hammond), Tim O'Connor (Bill Carter), Joyce Van Patten (Grace Lockwood), Lawrence Pressman (Peter Lockwood), Eugene Roche (Clint Bickford).

9144 Winter Wheat. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 5/6/45). An original television drama about an easterner who settles in Montana with his Russian-born wife and teenage daughter after World War I. Later, while attending college, the daughter (Ellen) falls in love with a man (Gill) who is killed shortly after while serving with the Air Corps. The focal point of the story is Ellen's efforts to remain faithful to him despite the attentions of a neighbor.

Cast: Mary Patton (Ellen), Lyle Sudrow (Gill), Richard Barrows (Father), Michael Artist (Leslie), Thomas Hepahy (Nels).

9145 Winterset. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 10/28/45). A television adaptation of the play by Maxwell Anderson that tells of a man (Mio Romagna) and his attempts to clear the name of his father, who was executed for a murder he did not commit.

Cast: John McQuade (Mio), Eva Langbord (Mirianna), Grandon Rhodes (Judge Gaunt), Peter Capelle (Trock Estrella), Anatole Winogradoff (Estras), Thomas Nello (Shadow), Ralph Ahearn (Garth), Sid Martoff (Carr).

9146 The Winx Club. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2004). A battle for good over evil as seen by a group of fairies and warriors as they battle the evils of the Senior Witches (who use black magic in an attempt to control the universe). The fairies are teenage girls, known as the Winx Club: Bloom, the red head, uses the power of fire to battle evil; Stella, the blonde fairy, has the power of electricity to shock her enemies; Flora has the power over plants and flowers;

Musa is the most intelligent of the group and "the brains of the Winx Club"; Techna has pink hair and is the technical wizard of the group.

The Warriors are Brandon, Prince Sky, Riven and Timmy. The senior witches are Icy, the evil leader, who has the ability to freeze; Darcy has the ability to create confusion; Stormy suffers from a bad temper that can create havoc if she doesn't get what she wants.

Professor Polonium is the woman who organized the Winx Club; Professor Gryffin is a teacher at Cloud Tower who once taught the Senior Witches (at a time when they were good. She also taught them how to fight and this led them on their path of domination); Mr. Knut is the man who does the bidding of the Senior Witches.

Voice Cast: Liz Jacqueline (Bloom), Amy Birnbaum (Stella), Lisa Ortiz (Musa), Dani Schaffel (Techna), Kerry Williams (Flora), Dan Green (Brandon), Michael Sinterniklaas (Riven), Lisa Ortiz (Icy), Kathleen Delaney (Darcy), Suzy Myers (Stormy), Carol Jacobanis (Professor Gryffin), Marc Thompson (Mr. Knut).

9147 WIOU. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1990–1991). WNDY, Channel 12, is a local Midwest television news station that is better known, because of its financial position, as WIOU. It is housed in a run-down building with the street number 6000 (an actual address is not given), and the "N" in the WNDY neon sign on the outside of the station has a tendency to go on the blink.

Hank Zaret began his career at WNDY as an intern and is now the station's news director. His goal is to make "News 12" number one in the ratings (right now it is tied for fourth place with reruns of Mister Ed).

Kelly Robinson is the beautiful co-anchor of News 12. She is 37 years old and desperately seeking to protect her job from the younger, glamorous reporters who are seeking it. Kelly has been in local television news for 12 years, and now, at WNDY, she feels she can grab the brass ring and become an anchor. Kelly and Hank are former lovers, and she has been at WNDY for two years. Kelly is worried about her biological clock and desperately wants a baby.

Ann Hudson is a 25-year-old field producer who has a nose for news. She has a tendency to freeze up on the air if a technical mishap causes a graphics problem when she is reading copy (she does the Newsbreak 12 reports). Ann wants to be taken seriously and to become an on-the-air reporter.

Elizabeth "Liz" McVay is the executive producer of News 12 and second in command in the newsroom. She very much wants to be the news director but has been passed over for the job three times in the past year.

Neal Frazier is the anchor of News 12 and he earns $1.3 million a year. He left his job at the network (which is assumed to be CBS) for the job. He also brought his network sized ego with him. The fifty-ish anchor is fond of younger women, and Kelly calls him “the most lecherous anchorman in America.”

Floyd Graham is the station’s veteran weatherman. He takes advantage of his celebrity status by promoting his restaurant (“Floyd’s Restaurant”) on the show. He caters to senior citizens, who he feels “are his numbers.”

Taylor Young is the newest member of WNDY (she joined shortly after Hank). She is determined to replace Kelly and become the co-anchor. Taylor knows her beauty gets her numbers and she uses her sexuality to acquire ratings.

Lenny Lubinsky is WNDY’s sportscaster. His claim to fame is having been the only white player on the local N.B.A. team’s roster (though he never played more than the last 15 seconds of a game).

Grant Gelt played Elizabeth’s son, Daniel McVay (he attends Saint Patrick’s Grammar School); Eddie Jones appeared as Hank’s father, Gus Zaret; and Rita Wilson played Hank’s ex-wife, Ellen Zaret. Gary Chang composed the theme.

Cast: John Shea (Hank Zaret), Helen Shaver (Kelly Robinson), Jayne Brook (Ann Hudson), Mariette Hartley (Liz McVay), Harris Yulin (Neal Frazier), Dick Van Patten (Floyd Graham), Kate McNeil (Taylor Young), Kevin Conroy (Lenny Lubinsky), Grant Gelt (Daniel McVay), Eddie Jones (Gus Zaret), Rita Wilson (Ellen Zaret).

9148 Wipeout. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Three contestants compete. A board with 16 answers is revealed. Eleven are correct; five are incorrect. A question is read. One contestant selects an answer. If he is correct, a dollar sign appears on the board. The contestant can keep playing seeking additional money or pass the play onto another contestant. (An incorrect selection means a Wipeout — loss of all the money that a player has earned for that round.) The game continues in this manner until the two highest scoring players are determined. These players progress to the Challenge Round where another such game is played to determine a single winner (highest scorer or a player not wiped out by an incorrect answer).

Host: Peter Tomarken. Announcer: Jim Hackett.

9149 The Wire. (Series; Crime Drama; HBO; 2002–2008). The efforts of a police department to curtail the illegal business of dealing drugs is the basic premise of the gritty cable series.

Avon Barksdale is the major force behind the Barksdale drug operations, a crime family that is devastating the city of Baltimore. The efforts of the officers attached to the Baltimore Police Department to stop the drug cartel is seen from the viewpoint of the individual members of the force — each of whom has a sincere desire to rid the city of drugs.

Detective Jimmy McNulty is the most driven — almost to a point of self-destruction. He is a good cop and has a passion for solving cases the right way — a passion that often gets him into trouble with his superior, Lieutenant Cedric Daniels (Jimmy’s conflicts have led him to reassignments like with the no hope Baltimore Harbor Patrol). He is separated from his wife, Elena.

Caroline Massey is a no-nonsense officer who is a member of Jimmy’s Task Force. She is an expert at wire tapping (hence the series title) and has the ability to translate the meanings of certain wire-tapped conversations to fellow police officers. She has an ear for “ghetto slang.”

Shakima “Kima” Greggs is a detective who feels she was born to be a leader. She is a better narcotics cop than most and has a sharp eye for detail. Jimmy has a dim view of female cops — until he learns Kima is a lesbian and offers her a compliment (or at least it sounds like one) when he says the only other female cop her knew was worth a darn was also a lesbian.

Rhonda Pearlman is a tough prosecutor with the Baltimore District Attorney’s office. She is a stickler for the rules but had an affair with Jimmy that ultimately cost him his marriage.

William Moreland, called “Buck,” is a cop who plays on criminal’s sympathies to achieve a goal. He is a sharp dresser and detests office work. He and Jimmy are drinking buddies.

Lester Freamon is a detective whose sideline is making antique French dollhouse furniture. He previously worked on pawnshop detail (for 13 years) before manning the wiretap operations at the Detective Room of the police department.

Cedric Daniels is the shrewd lieutenant who strives for solid productive police work from his Task Force officers. This, he feels is the only way to get the job done.

Cast: Dominic West (Det. James McNulty), Lance Reddick (Lt. Cedric Daniels), Sonja Sohn (Det. Shamima “Kima” Greggs), Domenick Lombardozzi (Det. Thomas “Herc” Hauk), Jim True-Frost (Det. Ronald “Prez” Pryzbylewski), Clarke Peters (Det. Lester Freamon), Seth Gilliam (Sgt. Ellis Carver), Idris Elba (Russell “Stringer” Bell), J.D. Williams (Preston “Bodie” Broadus), Delaney Williams (Sgt. Jay Landsman), Michael K. Williams (Omar Little), John Doman (William A. Rawls; Deputy Commissioner), Anwan Glover (Slim Charles), Corey Parker Robinson (Det. Leander Sydnor), Jamie Hector (Marlo “Black” Stanfield), Tray Chaney (Malik “Poot” Carr), Andre Royo (Bubbles), Deirdre Faison (Commissioner Ervin H. Burrell), Wood Harris (Avon Barksdale), Michael Salconi (Det. Michael Santangelo), Hassan Johnson (Roland “Wee-Bey” Brice), Robert Wisdom (Maj. Howard “Bunny” Colvin), Aidan Gillen (Thomas J. Carcetti), Chad Coleman (Dennis “Cutty” Wise).

9150 Wire Service. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1956–1957). Dean Evans, Katherine Wells and Dan

Miller are wire service reporters for Trans Globe News. Stories relate their story-gathering assignments on a rotating basis. The program opens with an announcer introducing one of the three stars (for example: “Wire Service starring Mercedes McCambridge.” Mercedes would then say: “Nothing travels faster than news, an electronic impulse that splinters distance at 186,000 miles per second. From Tokyo, from London; from Rio; from New York. An age of speed and curiosity. The news probes and the probe is truth. I’m Katherine Wells, wire service reporter, Trans Globe News”).

Cast: George Brent (Dean Evans), Mercedes McCambridge (Katherine Wells), Dane Clark (Dan Miller).

9151 Wiseguy. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987–1990). In an attempt to infiltrate the mob, the Organized Crime and Task Force of the FBI arranges for an agent (Vinnie Terranova) to serve 18 months in the Newark (New Jersey) State Pen to help establish his cover. Shortly after his release, Vinnie infiltrates the “mob family” of Sonny Steelgrave, a powerful figure in organized crime. Vinnie is now a wiseguy (a member of the mob) and an FBI undercover agent. This particular storyline, which launched the series (September 16th), ran until November 12, 1987. In this episode Vinnie’s cover is blown and Sonny, about to be captured by the FBI, kills himself (via electricity) rather than face a trial and a possible death sentence.

After a leave of absence following Sonny’s death, Vinnie is given a new assignment: infiltrate the rich and lethal crime organization of Susan and Mel Proffitt, powerful underworld figures. This storyline ends with Mel dying from a drug overdose and Susan being committed to a mental institution. Additional cases followed, but Ken Wahl, who played Vinnie, had to bow out of the series due to injuries and personal problems. He was replaced by Steve Bauer as Michael Santana, a disbarred federal prosecutor, who became the new wiseguy. The new episodes premiered on November 10, 1990 and the series ended on December 15, 1990. Agent Hilary Stein assisted Michael.

Frank McPike is Vinnie (and Michael’s) superior; Lifeguard (real name Dan Burroughs) is McPike’s right hand man, a paraplegic who receives Vinnie’s coded messages. Father Peter Terranova is Vinnie’s brother, a priest; Carlotta Terranova is Vinnie’s mother, a widow. Dave Steelgrave is Sonny’s brother; Tracy Steelgrave is Dave’s daughter; Lorenzo Steelgrave is Sonny’s nephew.

Cast: Ken Wahl (Vinnie Terranova), Jonathan Banks (Frank McPike), Jim Byrnes (Lifeguard), Gerald Anthony (Peter Terranova), Elsa Raven (Carlotta Terranova), Steven Bauer (Michael Santana), Cecil Hoffman (Hilary Stein), Ray Sharkey (Sonny Steel- grave), Gianni Russo (Dave Steelgrave), Jessica Steen (Tracy Steelgrave), David Marciano (Lorenzo Steelgrave), Joan Severance (Susan Proffitt), Kevin Spacey (Mel Proffitt).

9152 Wish Kid. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1991–1992). Nick McClary is a very special adolescent — he has a magic baseball glove that when punched three times grants his every wish. Unfortunately for Nick, his wishes always involve him in trouble and his efforts to get out of the situations that he creates is the focal point of stories. Darryl is Nick’s friend (and aware of the secret of the glove); Frankie Dutweiler is the neighborhood bully; Katie is Nick’s younger sister. Macaulay Culkin, who voices Nick, appears in person (live action) to introduce each animated episode (the series is based, in part on the role Macaulay played in the film Home Alone).

Voice Cast: Macaulay Culkin (Nicholas McClary), Quinn Culkin (Katie McClary). Additional Voices: Tara Strong, Andrew Sabiston, Greg Swanson, Marilyn Lightstone, Paul Haddad, Stuart Stone, Paul de la Rosa, Susan Roman, Harvey Atkin.

9153 Wish Upon a Star. (Series; Children; Disney; 1983). An interesting series that attempts to grant a child’s wish. Candidates are chosen from letters written to the program. The most interesting requests (anything from running away to a circus to meeting Captain Kirk) are fulfilled on the air.

Host: Joyce Little, Sharon Brown. Music: Harvey Truitt.

9154 Wishbone. (Series; Children; PBS; 1995–1998). Wishbone is a Jack Russell Terrier who lives in the town of Oakdale. He is also a dog who daydreams and becomes the characters he dreams about (for example, Robin Hood, Cyrano de Bergerac — all which present him in period costumes). As Wishbone takes on the persona of the person he is (and experiencing the adventures that real or fictional person experienced) the series attempts to familiarize children with historical and fictional characters and encourage them to read. Over the course of the series run, Soccer, Bear, Phoebe and Slugger played Wishbone.

9155 Wishman. (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 6/23/83). In an attempt to create a biological worker, Dr. Alex MacGregor and a team of scientists attached to the Cromogene Corporation produce Wishman, a new life form that is designed to be the work force of the future (immune to high voltage and radiation, dispensable and versatile). However, when the playful little creature fails to respond to commands during testing, he is ordered destroyed and a more responsive life form created. Having developed a special affinity for Wishman, Alex decides to save him and steals the biological robot. Suddenly, Alex and his wife, Mattie, a fashion photographer, find themselves on the run when Cromogene assigns Galen Reed, a security chief, to recapture Wishman. The story depicts the MacGregors' efforts to elude Reed and safeguard Wishman.

Cast: Joseph Bottoms (Alex MacGregor), Linda Hamilton (Mattie MacGregor), James Keach (Galen Reed), Margarita Fernandez (Wishman). Guest Cast: Jean Bruce Scott (Karen Kaleb), John Reilly (Sam), Sam Weisman (Nat Kaleb), Robin Gammell (Dr. Harold Wish), Jason Presson (Bruce Kaleb), Burt Edwards (Ed).

9156 W.I.T.C.H. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2005). Will Vandom, Irma Lair, Taranee Cook, Cornelia Hale and Hay Lin are five young girls (whose initials spell W.I.T.C.H.) who have been chosen by extraterrestrial powers to become Guardians of the Veil, super heroes who possess the powers of the elements to protect the universe from evil.

Will (Wilhelmina) is 13 years old and is the Keeper of the Heart of Kandrakhar, the source that endows the girls with their abilities. Irma (12 years old) has the power over water; Taranee (12 years old) has the ability to control fire; Cornelia (13 years old) has the power over the Earth; and Hay Lin (12 years old) has the power of the air.

Voice Cast: Kelly Stables (Will Vandom), Candi Milo (Irma Lair), Taranee Cook (Miss Kittie), Khalil Khalil (Cornelia Hale), Liza Del Mundo (Hay Lin), Serena Berman (Elyon Brown), Greg Cipes (Caleb), Mitchell Whitfield (Phobos), Dee Bradley Baker (Frost the Hunter), Byrne Offutt (Uriah), Kath Soucie (Nerissa), Jason Marsden (Shagon).

9157 Witchblade. (Series; Adventure; TNT; 2001). The Witchblade is a mysterious, ancient bracelet with a mind of its own that has attached itself to strong women throughout history (from Cleopatra to Joan of Arc to World War II spy Elizabeth Bronte). It is said to be "a branch ripped from the tree of knowledge to balance good and evil." When possessed by the Witchblade, its wearer gains extraordinary abilities to fight evil. The bracelet becomes a chameleon-like powerhouse: a bullet-deflecting bracelet, a bayonet-like knife, a Samurai sword, a suit of armor — whatever its preordained champion needs to protect herself as she battles "to cleanse the world and make it pure." A gift of the Witchblade is the power to slip back and forth in time. A refusal to wear the bracelet or fight its power could result in death.

Sara Pezzini is a young woman who lives in a Greenwich Village loft and works as a homicide detective with the 11th Precinct of the N.Y.P.D. She wears badge 322 and is called "Pez" by her partner, Jake McCarty.

Kenneth Irons is a mysterious billionaire who heads Vorschlag Industries. He is also the owner of the Witchblade (he killed Elizabeth Bronte 30 years ago when he could not use her to acquire its power). He is also growing old and fears he will die before he can harness the power of the Witchblade (in order to control the Witchblade, Irons must control the woman who wears it).

On November 11, 2000, Sara's life changes forever. It is the day the Witchblade chooses her as its wielder. A robbery suspect, being pursued by Sara, takes refuge in the Mid-Town Museum. During an exchange of gunfire, a bullet shatters a display case exhibiting the Witchblade. As Sara seeks cover, the Witchblade attaches itself to her. A bullet hits the bracelet, is deflected and ruptures a gas pipe. An explosion results and kills the suspect. Sara emerges unharmed. She has little memory of what happened and conceals the gold band, red ruby bracelet while being questioned. Later, while investigating a mob plan to take over a nightclub, Sara meets Kenneth Irons, a man who displayed the Witchblade as part of his Joan of Arc collection. Sara also learns of her destiny.

Irons has a mysterious link to the Witchblade; he can feel its power when in use but cannot control it. Sara was destined to wear the Witchblade (only women can wear it because women are more elemental; they are closer to nature than men and the Witchblade finds them superior). Sara was meant to find the Witchblade and Irons was meant to find Sara.

The Witchblade will not allow Sara to remove it from her wrist. She must accept it and earn its power; if she does not, it will abandon her.

The Witchblade is a mystery wrapped in a riddle. Irons would like to solve the mystery. "The Witchblade has many powers," Ken tells Sara, "and only the person who wields it can truly know it all."

Jake, a former world-famous surfing champion, had a bad spill that forced him to retire. He became a cop "because I'm a neat freak. I want to make my corner of this insane world a little more orderly."

Ian Nottingham, called "The Man in Black" (for his black trench coat) by people who see him, is Irons' mysterious assistant. He is Sara's "Guardian Angel" and has been assigned by Irons to watch over Sara. He can catch bullets in his hands and be wherever Sara is in the blink of an eye. Also helping Sara is Danny Woo, the ghost of her original partner (killed during an assignment at a movie theater). While Danny cannot physically assist Sara, he tries to help her understand the powers of the Witchblade. Stories follow Sara as she battles crime with the secret aid of the Witchblade. Joel Goldsmith composed the theme, "Witchblade."

Cast: Yancy Butler (Sara Pezzini), David Chikachi (Jake McCarty), Anthony Cistaro (Kenneth Irons), Eric Etebari (Ian Nottingham), Will Yun Lee (Danny Woo), Nester Serrano (Capt. Bruno Dante).

9158 The Witches of Eastwick. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/3/92). Alex, Jane and Suki are three beautiful witches who met in Eastwick but now live in a brownstone on Beacon Hill in Boston. Alex is a sculptor; she is dynamic and intelligent and the group's leader. Suki, a television reporter for Channel 8, is outspoken and vivacious. Jane, an elementary school music teacher, is warm and funny and inclined to be more traditional than the others.

One night the girls have a little too much to drink and decide to use sorcery to conjure up the perfect man. What they get is Darryl Van Horne, a handsome but impish character who is the Devil in disguise and downright trouble. The unsold series, based on the feature film of the same title, was to relate Darryl's efforts to enjoy his new surroundings despite the constant efforts of the girls to return him from whence he came.

Cast: Julia Campbell (Alex Spofford), Ally Walker (Jane Hollis), Catherine Mary Stewart (Suki Ridgmont), Michael Siberry (Darryl Van Horne). Guest Cast: Robert Picardo (Raymond), Erich Anderson (Coach Mullin), Billy Kane (Umpire), Jan Rubes (Fidel).

9159 Without a Trace. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2002–). When a person is reported missing authorities race against time, hoping to find the victim within a small time frame — 72 hours (which offers the greatest hope of recovery; any longer than that and hope of recovery becomes increasingly doubtful). Stories focus on the members of the New York Missing Persons Squad, an elite team of FBI agents headed by Jack Malone.

Flashbacks are used to show what happened as the team questions suspects and witnesses. Jack and his team reconstruct the day of the disappearance to learn every facet of the victim's life. Jack believes that knowing who the person is helps greatly in determining the circumstances surrounding the disappearance. Each episode also profiles a real missing person and asks the viewer's help in finding the missing person. The series was originally titled Vanished.

Cast: Anthony LaPaglia (John Michael "Jack" Malone), Poppy Montgomery (Agent Samantha Spade), Enrique Murciano (Agent Danny Taylor), Marianne Jean-Baptiste (Agent Vivian Johnson), Eric Close (Agent Martin Fitzgerald), Roselyn Sanchez (Agent Elena Delgado).

9160 Without Prejudice. (Series; Reality; Game Show Network; 2007). Five ordinary people, each seeking to win $25,000, face a panel of ordinary people who must determine which of the subjects is worthy of receiving that money. Each of the judges is permitted to ask questions of the players beginning with their age, name and where they live (the judges can even eliminate a player at this stage if they feel something is not right about them). Additional rounds are designed to extract additional personal information, including background life, political views, gun control views — anything the panel can dig their teeth into to find something they do not like (and a cause for elimination). After each round of questioning, the panel can eliminate those players they feel are unsuitable. The one player that is judged the most worthy receives the money. Based on the British series of the same title.

Hostess: Dr. Robi Ludwig.

9161 Witness. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1960–1961). People who have witnessed or become innocently involved in a crime relate their experiences to a panel of defense attorneys. The program attempts to expose rackets and criminals by making people aware of confidence games.

Reporter-Narrator: Verne Collett. Panelist: Richard Steele, William Geoghan, Benedict Ginsberg, Charles Hayden.

9162 Wives. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/21/75). A proposed series about the daily routines and misadventures of five married women (Connie, Doris, Mary Margaret, Frannie and Lillian).

Cast: Penny Marshall (Connie), Phyllis Elizabeth Davis (Doris), Candice Azzara (Mary Margaret), Janie Sell (Frannie), Jacque Lynn Colton (Lillian). Guest Cast: Barbara Luna (Miss Chin), Pat Morita (Waiter), Billy Sands (Man).

9163 The Wizard. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1986–1987). Simon McKay was not your normal child. He was brilliant and because of this his parents treated him special. He was sent to special schools and was deprived a normal childhood. As Simon grew he wished to be like other children but couldn't. Now, as an adult, Simon decides to devote his life to keeping the magic of childhood alive by creating ingenious toys for children. Soon, Simon is nicknamed "The Wizard" and comes to the attention of the U.S. government who feel he has a special something they need to help them deal with certain, troublesome situations. Simon is recruited and stories follow Simon's exploits as he uses his amazing inventions to battle evil.

Other Regulars: Alex Jaeger, Simon's aide; Darcy Stafford, Simon's assistant; Jack Brooks, the man who assists Simon on occasion; Mr. Linder, Alex's government superior; Tillie, Simon's assistant (later; replaced Darcy); and HENRI VIII (Hazardous Environmental Robot Intelligence), Simon's robot. The series was originally titled The Wizard of Elm Street.

Cast: David Rappaport (Simon McKay), Doug Barr (Alex Jaeger), Cheryl McFadden (Darcy Stafford), Billy Jacoby (Jack Brooks), Macon McCalmán (Mr. Linder), Fran Ryan (Tillie), Roddy McDowall (Voice of HENRI).

9164 The Wizard of Odds. (Series; Game; NBC; 1973–1974). Selected members of the studio audience compete in greatly varying contests designed to test their knowledge of national odds and averages and bring forth a "Wizard's Champion."

Points are awarded for each segment that a contestant competes in, and the player with the overall highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Alex Trebek. Assistant: Mary Pom. Announcer: Owen Spam, Charlie O'Donnell. Music: Stan Worth.

9165 The Wizard of Oz. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1990). A television adaptation of the book by L. Frank Baum (and the 1939 classic film of the same title) that follows Dorothy Gale and her dog Toto and their adventures in the magical Land of Oz after their Kansas farmhouse is transported to Oz by a tornado. Here Dorothy and Toto befriend the Cowardly Lion, the Tin Man and the Scarecrow and with the help of the inhabitants of Munchkin Land seek the help of the great and powerful Wizard of Oz (Dorothy to find the secret of the way back home; Scarecrow for a brain; Lion for courage and Tin Man for a heart). Hampering their journey is the Wicked Witch of the West (who is seeking to dispose of Dorothy for killing her sister, the Wicked Witch of the East. Actually, Dorothy is innocent; when the house was transported to Oz, it fell on the Wicked Witch of the East). Also guiding Dorothy and her friends is Glinda, the Good Witch, who supplies clues to the secrets she is seeking to unlock.

Voice Cast: Liz Georges (Dorothy Gale), Charles Adler (Cowardly Lion), David Lodge (Scarecrow), Hal Royale (Tin Man), Tress MacNeille (Wicked Witch of the West), B.J. Ward (Glinda the Good Witch), Alan Oppenheimer (The Wizard of Oz), Frank Welker (Toto), Susan Silo (Munchkin Mayor).

9166 Wizards and Warriors. (Series; Fantasy; CBS; 1983). The mythical kingdom of Camarand is the setting. The adventures of Erik Greystone, a dashing prince, as he battles the forces of black magic and the evils of Prince Dick Blackpool, who seeks to gain control of the kingdom. Episodes are a tongue-in-cheek take-off on the medieval age with special effects, comedic overtones and modern language. Other Regulars: Marko, Erik's aide; Bethel, Dirk's seductive, evil witch; King Baaldorf, the monarch of Camarand; Princess Ariel, the King's daughter; Queen Lattinia, the King's wife; Vector, Dirk's evil wizard; Traquill, the King's good but aging wizard; Justin, Erik's playboy brother; Geoffrey, Dirk's ne'er do-well brother.

9167 WKRP in Cincinnati. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1978–1982). WKRP is a 5,000 watt AM radio station (1530 on the dial) that signed on the air on December 7, 1941. It is located in Suite 1412 (on the ninth floor) of the Flem Building in downtown Cincinnati, Ohio. It is the number 16 station in a 18 station market. Its mascot is a fish (a carp) and Snooky's Bar is the staff's watering hole.

Arthur Carlson is the manager of WKRP (he has held the job since 1955, and his forbidding mother, "Mama" Carlson, owns the station). Arthur is a family man (he has been married to Carmen for 27 years) and is active in his church. He tends to shun station responsibility and resorts to playing with toys or practicing fishing or golf in his office. In his youth Arthur was a ballplayer and had the nickname "Moose."

Jennifer Elizabeth Marlowe is the ultra sexy receptionist. She is the highest paid employee at WKRP and earns $24,000 a year. She will not take dictation or make coffee. Jennifer wears tight skirts and low cut blouses and knows she is, as she says, "a very sexy and desirable woman." Other women describe Jennifer as "the best-looking woman I have ever seen."

Bailey Quarters, the only other female employee at the station, majored in journalism in college and first did continuity work before becoming a member of the news staff (she does two of the ten daily "WKRP News Roundup" broadcasts).

Lester "Les" Nessman is the news director of WKRP. He is a graduate of Xavier University and uses his motor scooter as the WKRP mobile news unit. Les is the proud recipient of the Silver Sow Award (for his hog reports) and has also won the Buckeye Newshawk Award for his news broadcasts. Les, the self-proclaimed "Information Beacon of the Ohio Valley," has a nasty dog named Phil. He works in a large room with Bailey and Herb Tarlek and has imaginary walls and an office door that all the staff respect. He ends each news broadcast with "Good day and may the good news be yours."

Dr. Johnny Fever, whose real name is Johnny Caravella, is the spaced-out disc jockey who earns $17,500 a year. He was fired from a Los Angeles station for using the word booger on the air. He is addicted to gambling and is often in need of money.

Venus Flytrap, whose real name is Gordon Simms, is the night disc jockey. He went AWOL after serving ten months and 29 days in the army and has been in hiding ever since. Though it is against the rules, he makes the most of his job by romancing his many women friends with candlelight and wine in the broadcast booth.

Herb Tarlek, the obnoxious sales manager, has been married to his wife, Lucille, for 12 years and is the father of two children, Herb III and Bunny. Although he has "the hots" for Jennifer, she won't give him the time of day. Herb's catchphrase is "O.K., fine."

Andy Travis, the station's program director, has a dog named Pecos Bill and is the only one at WKRP who realizes the station will never do any better than number 14 (which it did achieve in one ratings period). The love of Andy's life is Linda Taylor, a singer played by Barrie Youngfellow.

The show's gimmick was a bandage that Les wore in each episode, but always in a different location (it was a reminder of an injury Sanders received on the first day of shooting). Rex Earhardt is the mid-morning man; Skivvy Nelson is the unseen weatherman.

Relatives: Ruth Silveira (Johnny's ex-wife, Paula), Patrie Allen (Johnny's daughter, Lori Caravella), Allison Argo (Andy's sister, Carol Travis), Edie McClurg (Herb's wife, Lucille Tarlek), Stacey Heather Tolkin (Herb's daughter, Bunny Tarlek), N.P. Soch (Herb's son, Herb Tarlek III), Bert Parks (Herb's father, Herbert Tarlek, Sr.), Sparky Marcus (Arthur's son, Arthur Carlson, Jr.). See also The New WKRP in Cincinnati.

9169 Wolf. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1989). Anthony ("Tony") Wolf is a former San Francisco police department sergeant who now works as an investigator for Dylan Elliott, a high priced criminal attorney. Tony lives on a boat called the Sea Wolf with his father, Salvatore ("Sal") Lupo; Tony uses the English translation of his Italian last name for business. Tony was married to a woman named Renee (not seen) and is now romantically involved with Connie Bacarri, a single mother with a teenage daughter named Angeline. Connie owns Bacarri's Bar, and Angeline, a member of the Bellas softball team, attends Pertola High School (Tony calls her "Angel"). Sal's late wife was named Laura.

Karen Kondazian appeared as Connie's aunt, Gina, and Judith Hoag played Elliott's sister, Melissa Shaw Elliott. In the original, unaired pilot version of the series, Jack Scalia played Nick Wolf. Artie Kane composed the "Wolf" theme.

Cast: Jack Scalia (Tony Wolf), Nicholas Surovy (Dylan Elliott), Joseph Sirola (Sal Lupo), Mimi Kuzak (Connie Bacarri), J.C. Brandy (Angeline Bacarri), Karen Kondazian (Gina), Judith Hoag (Melissa Shaw Elliott).

9170 Wolf Lake. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2001; UPN; 2002). Wolf Lake appears to be a normal community in the Pacific Northwest. But for centuries it has hidden a dangerous secret from the rest of the world: it is home to a werewolf clan, a secret that is even unknown to many of the people who live there. This is accomplished by the clan's ability to shape shift (physically transform from human to wolf and vice versa). Willard Cates, a powerful industrialist, rules the town. He is also the Alpha Male, the clan leader. Vivian "V" Cates, his wife is the Alpha Female.

John Kanin is a Seattle police detective who lives for two things: his job and his girlfriend, Ruby Cates, Willard's daughter. John is unaware of Ruby's supernatural heritage but becomes involved in a dangerous quest when Ruby mysteriously disappears and his investigation takes him to Wolf Lake. An outsider now threatens to expose the truth about Wolf Lake. Stories follow John as he searches for Ruby and becomes involved in the strange lives of the people of Wolf Lake.

Matthew Donner is the town's sheriff, a shape shifter who is struggling to keep a balance between the commitment he made to uphold the peace and his true nature; Sophia is his 16-year-old daughter; Luke is Willard's son (who has begun a romance with Sophia); Tyler Creed is the land developer seeking to take over the clan from Willard; Sherman Blackstone is the mysterious high school teacher who seems to know more than he professes. The series ended without conclusions.

Cast: Lou Diamond Phillips (John Kanin), Tim Matheson (Sheriff Matthew Donner), Sharon Lawrence (Vivian Cates), Mia Kirshner (Ruby Cates), Graham Greene (Sherman Blackstone), Scott Bairstow (Tyler Creed), Bruce McGill (Willard Cates), Paul Wesley (Luke Cates), Mary Elizabeth Winstead (Sophia Donner), Kelly Waymire (Miranda Devereaux).

9171 Wolf Rock TV. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1984–1985). Music videos are combined with the antics of radio D.J. Wolfman Jack as he oversees a group of kids (Sarah, Sunni and Ricardo) who run a music video TV station owned by Mr. Morris.

Voice Cast: Wolfman Jack (Himself), Si Ming

Carson (Sunni), Noelle North (Sarah), Robert Vega (Ricardo), William Calloway (Mr. Morris).

9172 The Wolfman Jack Radio Show. (Pilot; Music; Syn.; 6/80). A proposed weekly series of performances by recording artists.

Host: Wolfman Jack. Guests: Chuck Berry, Leif Garrett, Michael Jackson, Toni Tennille.

9173 The Wolfman Jack Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1977). Music, songs and light comedy sketches hosted by radio disc jockey Wolfman Jack. Riff Markowitz is the producer.

Host: Wolfman Jack. Regulars: Peter Cullen, Murray Langston, John Harris. Music: Jimmy Dale.

9174 The Woman in White. (Series; Mystery; The Entertainment Channel; 1982–1983). Victorian England in the mid–1800s is the setting for the story of a mysterious, ghost-like woman in white (Ann Catherick) and her intervention in the lives of two sinister villains who plot to gain control of an innocent girl's fortune. A television adaptation of the first mystery novel (by Wilkie Collins) ever written. Produced by the BBC.

Cast: Deirdra Morris (Ann Catherick), Daniel Gerroll (Walter Hartright), Milo Sperber (Pesca), Ann Queensberry (Mrs. Hartright), Clare Bonasso (Sarah Hartright), Diana Quick (Marian Halcombe), Anna Lindup (Fanny), Ian Richardson (Frederick Fairlie), Martin Donovan (Louis), Gladys Robinson (Mrs. Vesey), Jenny Seagrove (Laura).

9175 Woman on the Run. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 12/17/77). After three years of marriage, Laura Frazier discovers that her husband, Daniel, is a foreign spy. Fearing for her life, Laura flees. The unsold series was to depict Laura's attempts to elude capture by her husband and his organization who seek to silence her — by killing her.

Cast: Donna Mills (Laura Frazier), Edward Winter (Daniel Frazier). Guest Cast: Bo Hopkins (Owen), Dan O'Herlihy (Crandell), David Opatoshu (Ed Miles).

9176 A Woman to Remember. (Series; Serial; DuMont; 1949). An AM radio station, where a daily soap opera is produced, serves as the setting. It relates the conflicts and tensions of its cast, in particular Carol Winstead, a relatively unknown actress who is hired to replace the leading star. The series ran from February 21, 1949 to July 15, 1949.

Cast: Joan Catlin (Carol Winstead), Patricia Wheel (Christine Baker), John Raby (Steve Hammond), Frankie Thomas (Charlie Anderson), Ruth McDevitt (Bessie Thatcher).

9177 The Woman Who Was Acquitted. (Experimental; Drama; DuMont; 6/2/44). A live psychological drama about an acquitted murderess (Josephine Van Vliet) who confesses her crime (strangling her baby) while in a cataleptic trance.

Cast: Ronald Alexander, Mason Andrews, Donald Kuyes, Jack Rittner, Steve Roberts, Josephine Van Vliet.

9178 Woman with a Past. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1954). The dramatic story of Lynn Sherwood, a fashion designer. The series ran from February 1, 1954 to July 2, 1954.

Cast: Constance Ford (Lynn Sherwood), Anne Hegira (Peggy Sherwood), Barbara Ellen Myers (Diane Sherwood), Jean Stapleton (Gwen), Felice Camargo (Diane Sherwood), Barbara Myers (Diane Sherwood; later), Mary Sinclair (Sylvia Rockwell), Gene Lyons (Steve Rockwell), Dennis Patrick, Jay Barney, Kathleen Comegys, John Conte, Marta Linden, Geoffrey Lumb, Bram Nossem, Beverly Roberts, Lilia Skala.

9179 Woman's Page. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1981). A visual magazine that offers beauty, health and consumer information for women.

Cast: Larry Freeman (Host), Jo Giese Brown (Consumer Editor), Alanna Davis (Fashion Editor), John Chadwick (Hair Care Editor), Suzanne Chadwick (Hair Care Editor), Dr. Walter Dishell (Medical Editor), Rita Davenport (There's Got to Be a Better Way Editor), Bob Roseki (Financial Editor), Claude Gobet (Cooking Editor), Michele Wetmore (Seafood Editor), Dennis Overstreet (Wine and Gourmet Editor).

9180 Women and the Badge. (Series; Reality; Oxygen; 2001). A documentary style reality series that profiles various women in law enforcement. The rather hard-hitting series shows that women, like their male counterparts, put their lives on the line to protect the public. Camera crews follow the women as they respond to cases, patrol the street and attempt to collar criminals.

Narrator: Pam Grier.

9181 Women in Prison. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987–1988). A comical look at life in a women's prison, as seen through the experiences of Victoria ("Vicki") Springer, a pampered, naive and rich woman who is set up on a shoplifting charge by her husband and convicted of grand larceny. She is sent to the Bass Women's Prison in Wisconsin and assigned to Cell Block J.

Vicki can't file or type; she can cross her legs and show a little bit of thigh. For this talent, prison warden Cliff Rafferty, who majored in hotel management in college, appoints her as his secretary. Vicki, who believes she is "very sexy and the most attractive woman in captivity," held the title of Miss Dairyland in 1984 and 1985. Her résumé lists "soft, mysterious and feminine" as her qualifications.

Eve Shipley is a gun moll serving a life sentence for robbery and murder. Bonnie Harper is a coquettish lesbian who was arrested for soliciting. She yearns to make love to Vicki.

Dawn Murphy is the toughest of the women and commands respect through fear; she was convicted of murder. Pam Norwell is a computer whiz who was arrested for embezzling. While Vicki, Bonnie, Eve and Dawn share a cell, Pam has her own cell, complete with computer, a shade for privacy and furnishings.

Meg Bando is the nasty prison guard who delights in tormenting the prisoners, especially Vicki. Her favorite pastime is going down to Death Row and fiddling with the dimmer switch.

Relatives: Thomas Callaway (Vicki's low-life husband, Philip Springer), Arlen Dean Snyder (Eve's husband, Charlie Shipley). Theme: "Women in Prison," by Ray Colcord and Phyllis Katz.

Cast: Julia Campbell (Vicki Springer), Peggy Cass (Eve Shipley), Antonette Byron (Bonnie Harper), C.C.H. Pounder (Dawn Murphy), Wendie Jo Sperber (Pam Norwell), Denny Dillon (Meg Brando), Blake Clark (Cliff Rafferty).

9182 Women in Wartime. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 11/16/44). An experiment to dramatize stories of women's roles in then current World War II as published in Mademoiselle magazine. Two short dramas were interwoven into several talk sessions. The program opened with remarks by Mademoiselle magazine editor Beth Blackwell, then her interview with Dr. F.W. McBryde.

The first story was set in an apartment where several women talked about the difficulties of preparing meals and acquiring clothes due to the wartime restrictions. Another chat session followed wherein the host and her guests discussed the importance of maps and cartography to the armed forces. This was illustrated by a skit showing how the lives of two soldiers were saved by a map in a war zone.

The host then spoke with a young Czech girl who related her experiences with her family and how they escaped from a Nazi concentration camp and came to America. The final drama was set in a hospital room where a young wife first sees her husband, back from the war front and missing a leg. The host then interviewed Lt. Colonel Hobart Todd (of the Pawling, N.Y. Air Force Rehabilitation Center) as a follow-up to the skit.

Host: Beth Blackwell. Performers: Fred Beckner, Jacqueline Flynn, Stewart Hoover, Jean Jennings, Cliff Raynor, Helen Rescher, Natalie Reid, John Thomas, Ruth Unsell. Guests: Dr. F.W. McBryde, Colonel Hobart Todd.

9183 Women in Wartime. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 12/14/44). A second attempt by Mademoiselle magazine to dramatize stories from its magazine, this time eliminating the talk and interviews and concentrating on stories. Several short vignettes were seen that dealt with the Christmas season and how the women the GIs left behind cope with the holiday. Unfortunately, no attempt was made to identify any of the performers before, after or during the telecast (which was called "Christmas Without Tinfoil").

Host: Ruth Woodner. Performers: Robert Antoine, Michael Artist, Helen Brown, Edwin Bruce, Tony Burger, Ellen Carlyle, Morton DaCosta, Virginia Dwyer, Marilyn Erskine, Martha Felconer, Betty Furness, Will Hare, Ronni Jacobi, George McDonald, Marilyn Maloney, Sydna Scott, Patricia Voiles, Frosty Webb.

9184 Women in Wartime. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 4/18/45). A program that transposes the pages of Mademoiselle magazine to television. It opened with a look at springtime and bridal fashions. A dramatic skit followed that was set in Warsaw during its underground days. It involved two underground workers (Ann Shepherd, William Hollenbeck) who fall in love and marry, then are separated when the girl is sent out on an important assignment. A short film segment followed that showed war brides going to the W.L.A. (Women's Land Army) to help raise crops in the U.S. Next came another dramatic skit in which two Nazis (Theo Goetz, Michael Ingram) discussed how the people of Europe could come under Hitler's reign if they were deprived of food. See also the prior two titles.

Host: Ruth Woodner. Performers: Theo Goetz, William Hollenbeck, Michael Ingram, Rusty Lane, Pamela Padget, Henry Sharp, Ann Shepherd.

Cast: Kathryn Harrold (Dr. Jill Bates), Susan Flannery (Dr. Rebecca Dalton), Patty Duke (Nurse Cathy Payson), David Ackroyd (Dr. Mike Rayburn), Laraine Stephens (Dr. Karen Fletcher), Sheree North (Nurse Lisa Gordon), Stuart Whitman (Dr. Ken Dalton), Howard McGillin (Dr. Frank Evanbauer), June Whitley Taylor (Nurse Jean Robinson), Gloria Delaney (Nurse Manners).

9186 Women of Russia. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1981). The role of Russian women in the 1980s: how they live, work and play.

Cast: Juliet Prowse (Entertainment Hostess), Shirley Jones (Marriage and Family Hostess), Peggy Fleming (Sports Hostess), Kathryn Crosby (Liberation Hostess), Carol Lawrence (Fashion Hostess).

9187 Women of the House. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1995). Following the death of her 76-year-old husband, Ray, Suzanne Sugarbaker (from the series Designing Women) is asked to fill her husband's seat in the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C., until an election can be held to find a new Georgia representative. Suzanne's knowledge of politics stems from what she learned while watching the Jimmy Stewart film Mr. Smith Goes to Washington. Stories follow Suzanne's efforts to become one of the women of the House of Representatives. Other Regulars: Cissy, a former reporter for the Post, now Suzanne's press secretary; Natalie, Suzanne's administrative assistant; Jennifer, the receptionist (she carries a can of Pledge with her at all times — "You never know when something needs cleaning"); Desaree, Suzanne's adopted daughter; and Jim, Suzanne's mentally retarded brother.

Cast: Delta Burke (Suzanne Sugarbaker), Teri Garr (Cissy Emerson), Patricia Heaton (Natalie "Nattie" Hollingsworth), Valerie Mahaffey (Jennifer Malone), Julie Hagerty (Jennifer Malone), Brittany Parkyn (Desaree), Jonathan Banks (Jim).

9188 Women's Murder Club. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2007–2008). Lindsay Boxer is a San Francisco Police Detective who is an expert at her job. She is tough, a bit unorthodox and can immediately analyze a crime scene and proceed with a plan of action. But all of Lindsay's best efforts are often frustrating to her as investigating and prosecuting a crime could take months (even years). To help speed the process, Lindsay forms a team with three of her friends — Claire Washburn, Cindy Thomas and Jill Bernhardt.

Claire is a no-nonsense medical examiner; Jill is an eager young Deputy District Attorney who becomes ill at crime scenes; Cindy is a reporter (assigned to the Metro Desk) for the San Francisco Register. With her team formed, Lindsay hopes to do what the system can not — get quick results. Stories follow the women as they combine their skills to solve homicide cases within the shortest possible time following the crime.

Tom Hogan, Lindsay's ex-husband, is a police lieutenant (and her superior); Warren Jacobi is a detective with the department. Heather Donnelly is Tom's fiancé, an elementary school teacher. The women gather to discuss their cases at Papa Joe's Coffee House.

Cast: Angie Harmon (Lindsay Boxer), Paula Newsome (Claire Washburn), Aubrey Dollar (Cindy Thomas), Laura Harris (Jill Bernhardt), Rob Estes (Tom Hogan), Tyrees Allen (Det. Warren Jacobi), Rob Benedict (Owen), Ever Carradine (Heather Donnelly), Linda Park (Denise Kwon), Jonathan Adams (Ed Washburn).

9189 Wonder Pets. (Series; Children; Nickelodeon; 2006). Linny the Guinea Pig, Ming-Ming Duckling and Turtle Tuck are three pre-school animals with one special goal: rescue animals in trouble in any part of the world. The three friends have no special powers; they use teamwork to overcome any problem. Stories follow their humorous adventures. Real animals are used but are digitally altered to give them clothes and the ability to walk and talk.

Voice Cast: Sofie Zamchick (Linny the Guinea Pig), Teala Dunn (Turtle Tuck), Danica Lee (Ming-Ming Duckling).

9190 Wonder Woman. (Unaired Pilot; Comic Adventure; Produced in 1968). The first known attempt at a Wonder Woman series (that differed greatly from the version that emerged with Lynda Carter in the title role). The six minute pilot was produced by 20th Century-Fox and followed the style of its popular Batman series — mixing comedy with adventure. Here, Diana Prince is 27 million years old and lives in a modern-day apartment with her domineering mother. Diana appears to be misadventure-prone (for example, she falls off her chair while reading the newspaper) and is very vain. She is not as busty or gorgeous as Lynda Carter's Wonder Woman but wears a similar outfit (a bosom-revealing red and gold top and blue bottom with white stars).

Diana loves to look at herself in the mirror and admire her figure. "She knows she has the strength of Hercules, the wisdom of Athena, the speed of Mercury — and she thinks she has the beauty of Aphrodite."

Mother is worried that she has "an unmarried daughter Diana's age" and fears what the neighbors are saying about the situation. She refuses to let Diana go out of the house in bad weather or on an empty stomach. When Diana decides to fight crime and become Wonder Woman, she takes her blue bracelets out of a dresser drawer, approaches a wall and pushes it. The wall revolves to reveal Diana's secret dressing room. When she emerges as Wonder Woman, she first admires herself in the mirror, then climbs out the window and says, "Away, away you vision of enchantment, you've got a job to do." She is then able to fly by her own power (here, to help an unseen Steve Trevor on an unknown mission).

Cast: Ellie Wood Walker (Diana/Wonder Woman), Maudie Prickett (Mother), William Dozier (Narrator).

9191 Wonder Woman. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 3/12/74). Paradise Island is an uncharted land mass in the Bermuda Triangle that is concealed from the world by the refraction of light. It is inhabited by a race of super woman called Amazons and the Queen Mother leads them.

Diana, a beautiful young Amazon, is the Queen's daughter and the next in line to become ruler. While the inhabitants of Paradise Island have lived in serenity for over 2,000 years, the Queen Mother is fearful that recent world events have the potential of disrupting the harmony of the island. The Queen Mother feels there is a need to help the world in its battle against evil. She selects Diana for that mission. Diana possesses special powers and uses the ability of her invisible plane to leave the island and travel to Washington, D.C. Here, she establishes the alias of Diana Prince and acquires a job as a secretary to Steve Trevor, a U.S. government agent.

In times of emergency, Diana can become Wonder Woman, a costumed super hero who uses her unique skills to help Steve battle the enemy. In the pilot episode, Diana attempts to recover stolen books that contain the names of American agents from Abner Smith, a diabolical criminal who is seeking a $6 million ransom for them. Complicating Diana's mission is Ahnjayla, a renegade Amazon who uses her abilities for the side of evil (here siding with Abner).

9192 Wonder Woman. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 11/7/75). The pilot film for the ABC series of the same title (1976–77). The setting is World War II (the same as the comic book on which it is based). A plane, flown by U.S. fighter pilot Steve Trevor, is hit by enemy gunfire and crash lands on Paradise Island, an uncharted land mass in the Bermuda Triangle that is inhabited by a race of super powerful women called Amazons. Steve is found by the Princess Diana, who nurses him back to health. When Diana learns of the war, she receives permission from her Queen Mother to use her unique powers to aid America in its battle against Nazism. She receives her revealing red, white and blue costume from her mother, as well as her gold bracelets (to deflect bullets) and her magic lariat (to compel people to tell the truth). After returning an unconscious Steve Trevor to Washington, D.C., Diana adopts the alias of Diana Prince and acquires a position as a Navy yeoman to Steve at the War Department. In the pilot episode, Diana attempts to foil a German plot to destroy the prototype of a new American bomb-sight.

Cast: Lynda Carter (Diana Prince/Wonder Woman), Lyle Waggoner (Steve Trevor), John Randolph (General Philip Blankenship), Cloris Leachman (Queen Mother). Guest Cast: Stella Stevens (Marcia), Red Buttons (Ashley Norman), Eric Braeden (Kapitan Drangel), Fannie Flagg (Amazon doctor), Henry Gibson (Nicholas), Ken Mars (Colonel Von Balasko), Severn Darden (Villain).

9193 Wonder Woman. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1976–1977). Paradise Island is an uncharted land mass in the Bermuda Triangle (refraction of light prevents the island from being seen). Its inhabitants are a race of super women called Amazons. Paradise Island was established in the year 200 B.C. At this time, the rival gods Aphrodite and Mars battled for control of the Earth.

When Aphrodite suffered a defeat, she retreated to the island and created her race of women (“There are no men here. It is free from their wars and barbaric ways. We live in peace and sisterhood”). Aphrodite chose Hippolyta as their queen. As the war continued, Mars resorted to skullduggery and used Hippolyta's own weapon of love to defeat her. Hoping to achieve forgiveness, Hippolyta fashioned a small statue out of clay and offered it to Aphrodite. Aphrodite brought the statue to life as the baby Diana. As the centuries passed, Diana, groomed by Hippolyta to become a ruler, grows into a beautiful young woman.

In 1942 the idyllic life of Paradise Island is shattered when man once again threatens its serenity. U.S. fighter pilot Steve Trevor is on a mission to intercept a Nazi plane (en route to bomb the Brooklyn shipyards) when his plane is hit by gunfire. Although wounded, Steve manages to eject himself from the plane and his parachute lands on a beach near a cave on Paradise Island. There he is found by the Princess Diana and nursed back to health. When Diana learns from Steve that the world is engaged in a war and the Allies are battling a fierce enemy called Nazis, she asks her Queen Mother for permission to use her abilities to help America.

Hippolyta presents Diana with a gold belt (to retain her cunning, strength and immortality away from Paradise Island) and a magic lariat (which compels people to tell the truth). To signify her alliance to freedom and democracy, Diana receives a red, white and blue costume. She is also given a gold tiara (with a red ruby star in the middle) and a set of gold bracelets, made from Feminum, to deflect bullets.

“Go in peace my daughter,” Hippolyta tells Diana. “And remember, in a world of ordinary mortals, you are a Wonder Woman.” “I will make you proud of me and of Wonder Woman,” promises Diana. Steve is given a drug from the Hybernia tree to erase his memory of Diana and the island. The invisible plane enables Diana to fly Steve back to Washington, D.C. (where she brings him to the Armed Services Hospital to regain his strength). Diana adopts the alias of Diana Prince, becomes a Navy yeoman and is assigned to the War Department as Steve's secretary.

To become Wonder Woman, the plain looking Diana places her arms in the air and performs a twirling striptease. In addition to her super strength, Wonder Woman possesses the ability to imperson-ate any voice and run and jump at an accelerated speed.

Wonder Woman's sexy costume is a strapless one piece bathing suit ("her satin tights" as the theme says) which has a blue bottom with white stars and a red with gold (around the bust line) top.

After several months, Hippolyta feels Diana has spent enough time in America and must return home to assume her duties as heiress to the throne. She discharges her younger daughter, Drusilla, to find Diana and bring her home. Drusilla, however, becomes fascinated by the American way of life and talks Diana into letting her stay with her (through dialogue it is learned that Diana has spoken to her mother and has been allowed to continue her fight for freedom).

Drusilla, as Wonder Girl, possesses the same powers as Diana, but her costume is not as revealing. She wears a red top with white stars, a silver belt, silver tiara and blue bottom. Dru, as Diana calls her, poses as a typical 15-year-old high school girl to hide her true identity. She does a twirling striptease to become Wonder Girl, but acts on impulse and charges in without thinking of the consequences. There is no explanation given as to how Drusilla came to be.

The Nazis believe Wonder Woman is a top secret U.S. weapon. The ABC version ended with Steve and Diana battling Nazism in 1945. It is assumed that Diana returned to Paradise Island when the war ended. General Philip Blankenship is Steve's superior; Yeoman Etta Candy is Philip's secretary. The Charles Fox Singers perform the Wonder Woman theme vocal. Also known as The New, Original Wonder Woman.

9194 Wonder Woman. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1977–1979). A revised version of the 1976 Wonder Woman series that was broadcast as The New Adventures of Wonder Woman but syndicated as Wonder Woman (see the prior title for background information). It is assumed that when the original series ended, Diana Prince, alias Wonder Woman, returned to Paradise Island in late 1945. It is 1977 when the new series begins. When Diana learns that the outside world is battling modern-day criminals, she receives permission from her Queen Mother to once again use her unique abilities to help the free world. Diana uses her invisible plane to travel to Washington, D.C. Here, she adapts the alias of Diane Prince and acquires a job as the assistant to Steve Trevor, Jr. (the son of the major she helped 32 years earlier) at the I.A.D.C. (Inter-Agency Defense Command), a government organization that protects the national security. Joe Atkinson is their superior; Eve is Steve's secretary; Harold Farnum is Diana's trouble-prone friend; Karen and Beverly are I.A.D.C. receptionists; IRA is the nickname for the I.A.D.C. computer. Stories follow Diana as she uses her secret alias as Wonder Woman to battle enemies that could one day make their way to Paradise Island. Diana uses a twirling striptease (as she did in the prior series) to change from Diana Prince to Wonder Woman.

Cast: Lynda Carter (Diana Prince/Wonder Woman), Lyle Waggoner (Steve Trevor, Jr.), Normann Burton (Joe Atkinson), Beatrice Straight (Queen Mother), Sandra Sharp (Eve), Ed Begley, Jr. (Harold Farnum), Dulcie Jordan (Karen), Judith Christopher (Beverly), Tom Kratochvil (Voice of IRA).

9195 The Wonder Years. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1988–1993). A nostalgic look at life in the late 1960s and early 1970s as recalled by the narration of the adult Kevin Arnold, but seen through his eyes as a preteen (age 12) and teenager.

Kevin was born on March 18, 1956, and attended Hillcrest Grammar School, Robert F. Kennedy Junior High School and William McKinley High School (beginning in fall 1971). He hopes to become a writer, a center-fielder for the San Francisco Giants or an astronaut (and become a member of the first manned flight to Mars).

Gwendolyn "Winnie" Cooper, the pretty girl next door, is Kevin's on and off girlfriend. She likes to read, dance and play tennis. Winnie was a member of the Kennedy Junior High cheerleading team (for the Wildcats). She and Kevin shared their first kiss while sitting on a rock in Harper's Woods. Classmate Becky Slater is the girl Kevin turns to when he and Winnie have a falling out.

In the spring of 1970, Winnie moves to a new home (four miles away and enrolls in Lincoln Junior High). Although her relationship with Kevin seems lost, Kevin explains that "I'm a part of Winnie and Winnie is a part of me. For as long as I live I will never let her go." In the fall of 1971, Winnie enrolls at McKinley High. Although she and Kevin now attend the same school, they have grown apart (but Kevin still holds a torch for her).

Jack Arnold, Kevin's father, was born on November 6, 1927. He served in Korea and is now the manager of distribution and product support services for Norcom Enterprises, a government company. He gets up at five in the morning, fights traffic, "busts his hump all day," comes home and pays taxes.

Norma Arnold, Kevin's mother, keeps the family together. She and Jack married in 1949 and spent their honeymoon in Ocean City. In the episode of 3/20/91, Norma enrolled in River Community College to improve her secretarial skills after she was discharged for poor typing and dictation at Kennedy Junior High (where she worked in the attendance room).

Karen, Kevin's rebellious 16-year-old sister, is the typical flower child of the 1960s. She attended the same schools as Kevin, and in 1971 (1991 episodes) she enrolled in “McKinley College up north.” In the episode of 4/29/92, Karen married Michael (David Schwimmer) and moved to Alaska.

Wayne is Kevin’s obnoxious older brother (he attended the same schools as Kevin) and delights in annoying him (he calls Kevin “Butthead”).

Paul Pfeiffer is Kevin’s best friend. He attended the same schools as Kevin until fall 1971 (1991 episodes) when his parents sent him to the Allenwood Academy Prep School (a year later, Paul is suddenly Kevin’s classmate again and attending McKinley High). Paul finds schoolwork a breeze and suffers from a number of allergies.

In the final episode (May 12, 1993), Kevin and Winnie make a promise to never let their friendship end; it is also learned that Karen is pregnant. These words, spoken by the adult Kevin, close out the series: “Karen’s son was born that September ... and Mom, she did well. Businesswoman, board chairman, grandmother ... the Weiner [Wayne] stayed in furniture — wood seemed to suit him; in fact he took over the factory two years later when Dad passed away. Winnie left the next summer to study art history in Paris. Still, we never forgot our promise. We wrote each other once a week for the next eight years. I was there to meet her when she came home — with my wife and my first son.... Like I said, things never turnout exactly as you planned. Growing up happens in a heartbeat. One day you’re in diapers, the next you’re gone. But the memories of childhood stay with you for the long haul. I remember a place, a town; a house like a lot of houses; a yard like a lot of other yards on a street like a lot of other streets. And the thing is, after all these years, I still look back with wonder.”

Relatives: David Huddleston (Jack’s father, Albert Arnold), Lynn Milgrim (Winnie’s mother), H. Richard Greene (Winnie’s father), John C. Moskoff (Paul’s father, Alvin Pfeiffer), Stephanie Satie (Paul’s mother, Ida Pfeiffer), Torrey Anne Cook (Paul’s sister, Debbie Pfeiffer), Philip Sterling (Paul’s Grandpa Pfeiffer), Arlen Dean Snyder (Jack’s cousin, Lloyd Arnold), Helen Page Camp (Jack’s cousin, Opal Arnold), John Brandon (Jack’s cousin, Philip Arnold), Danny Breen (Jack’s cousin, Ray McKinney). Winnie’s older brother, Brian (Bentley Mitchell) was killed in Vietnam.

Flashbacks: Zachary Benjamin (young Kevin), Jodie Rae (young Karen), Benjamin Daskin (young Paul). Theme: “With a Little Help from My Friends,” vocal by Joe Cocker.

Cast: Fred Savage (Kevin Arnold), Dan Lauria (Jack Arnold), Alley Mills (Norma Arnold), Olivia D’Abo (Karen Arnold), Jason Hervey (Wayne Arnold), Danica McKellar (Winnie Cooper), Josh Saviano (Paul Pfeiffer), Crystal McKellar (Becky Slater), Daniel Stern (Narrator).

9196 The Wonder Zone. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 12/26/93). The program explains various aspects of the world to children by showing them how things are done (for example, how to care for a pet; how to buckle your seat belt).

Host: Dr. Anne Sumers (of the New Jersey Children’s Museum).

9197 Wonderbug. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1976–1977). Susan, Barry and C.C. are teenagers seeking an affordable used car. In a junkyard they find Schlep Car, a conglomeration of several junked cars. As they admire the car, Susan finds an old horn and places it on the car. Suddenly, Schlep Car is magically transformed into Wonderbug, an amazing dune buggy that can talk, think, fly and travel on water. A squeeze of the magic horn transforms Schlep Car into Wonderbug and vice versa. The four join forces the battle crime.

Susan is the real brains of the group (comes up with all the plans) but it is Barry who takes the credit (he says, “I’ve got a better idea,” then repeats Susan’s idea; C.C. agrees with what Barry says, not realizing it was actually Susan’s idea). Schlep Car is not your typical run-down car. It needs a paint job, can barely carry the weight of its passengers (huffs and puffs), loses parts as it rolls along, hesitates, eats gasoline, and expels too much exhaust. Its windshield has two bandages in the shape of the Red Cross that is apparently holding it together.

As Wonderbug, all the problems disappear. Not only is the car spotless, but it can drive by itself and thus come to the aid of Susan, Barry and C.C. when they need help. The headlights act as Wonderbug’s eyes while its two-part front bumper (upper and lower) act as its mouth. Broadcast as a segment of The Krofft Supershow. Jimmie Haskell composed the theme.

Cast: Carol Anne Seflinger (Susan), David Levy (Barry), John Anthony Bailey (C.C.), Frank Welker (Voice of Wonderbug), Frank Welker (Voice of Schlep Car).

9198 Wonderfalls. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2004). Jaye Tyler is a very pretty 24-year-old woman who works as a salesgirl at the Wonderfalls Gift Emporium in Niagara Falls, New York. Jaye is not easily motivated, has a subtle sense of humor and seems to repel others (she feels the universe is conspiring against her). She hangs out at a bar called the Barrel and does not perform acts of kindness. She lives in a mobile home at the High and Dry Trailer Park. She also thinks she may be clinically insane because inanimate objects speak to her and ask her to help people.

Jaye is not sure why it is happening but believes it is connected to the legend of the Lady of the Mist (an Indian myth about a beautiful Indian maiden who sacrificed her life to save her people from an evil god. Her unselfish act made Niagara Falls an enchanted wonderland). Has some unknown force intervened to make Jaye like that Indian maiden to give of herself to help others? Jaye is slowly beginning to think so.

A trinket sold at the emporium, a plastic lion “with the smushed face” (as Jaye calls it), was the first inanimate object that came to life for Jaye. She also has a monkey statue that commands her to perform good deeds.

Jaye is often reluctant to do what the lion (and others) ask of her, but does so because if she doesn't, they constantly sing to make her succumb to their requests. Stories follow Jaye as she reluctantly sets out on missions to help people the objects know are in (or about to face) trouble.

Alec Tyler, a doctor is Jaye's father; Karen, a travel book author, is her mother. Sharon, Jaye's older sister, is a lesbian and works as an immigration lawyer for the firm of Merifield, Harrison and Eldridge; Eric, Jaye's younger brother, is pursuing a doctorate in comparative religion. Mahanda McGinty is Jaye's closest friend.

Cast: Caroline Dhavernas (Jaye Tyler), Diana Scarwid (Karen Tyler), Lee Pace (Alec Tyler), Tyrone Leitso (Eric Tyler), Katie Finneran (Sharon Tyler), Tracie Thomas (Mahanda McGinty).

9199 Wonderful John Acton. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1953). Events in the lives of the Actons, an Irish-American family living in Ludlow, Kentucky, in 1919, as seen through the eyes of Kevin, the family's son, as he reminisces about his family. John, a court clerk, and Julia are Kevin's parents; Terrence is John's brother, the manager of the general store; Perry Bodkin, Jr. is John's employer; Bessie Acton is John's sister; Birdie Bodkin is Perry's wife. The series ran from July 12, 1953 to October 6, 1953.

Cast: Harry Holcombe (John Acton), Virginia Dwyer (Julia Acton), Ronnie Walker (Kevin Acton), Ian Martain (Terrence Acton), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Perry Bodkin, Jr.), Jane Rose (Bessie Acton), Mary Michael (Birdie Bodkin).

9200 The Wonderful World of Philip Malley. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/18/81). A proposed series about Philip Malley, a bright science professor at Rutledge University in Riverside County. The pilot episode depicts Philip's efforts to put the unknown Rutledge on the map by using an anti-gravity device he invented to help the school's track team win an important meet.

Other Regulars: Frederick Carswell, the dean; Meredith, Frederick's daughter; Ben, Philip's landlord; Mongo, the athletic coach; Francine, Ben's wife; and Lyle Floon, the town local who sees Philip's experiments as an invasion from space.

Cast: Stephen Nathan (Philip Malley), William Daniels (Frederick Carswell), Lori Lethin (Meredith Carswell), Stubby Kaye (Ben Grady), John Calvin (Rodney “Mongo” Bronson), Bibi Osterwald (Francine Grady), Stuart Pankin (Lyle Floon). Guest Cast:

David Knell (Scott Hanson), Alvy Moore (Jonas), Elliott Reid (Official), Mark Robert Brown (Runner), Dick McGarvin (Announcer).

Cast: Scott McKay (Wilbur Pope), Sandra White (Carlotta Pope), Allan “Rocky” Lane (Voice of Mister Ed), Peggy Converse (Florence Bagby), Ray Walker (John Bagby), Jimmy Fields (Larry Bagby).

9202 Won't It Ever Be Morning? (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/18/65). A proposed spin-off from The Kraft Suspense Theater about Paul Chandler, a lawyer who crusades against crime. In the pilot episode, Chandler defends the manager (Ozzie) of a singer (Lois) who is accused of killing one of the singer's fans.

Cast: John Cassavetes (Paul Chandler). Guest Cast: Gena Rowlands (Lois Baxter), Jack Klugman (Ozzie Keefer), John Anderson (Rankin), Ben Cooper (Sam Grayson), Carl Benton Reid (Judge), Than Wyenn (Prosecutor), Carla Doherty (Shirley Rankin), I. Stanford Jolley (Mr. Shamley).

Cast: Don Pascoe (Dr. John Stevens), Sonia Hofmann (Tiggie Stevens), Bindi Williams (Kevin Stevens), Slim Degrey (Jack Johnson), Lutz Hochstraate (Peter Fischer).

9204 The Woody Woodbury Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1967). Woody Woodbury hosts a daily program of music, talk and celebrity interviews. Music is by the Michael Melvin Combo.

9205 The Woody Woodpecker Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1957–1958). An animated series of theatrical cartoons that feature the antics of Woody Woodpecker (the very mischievous bird), Andy Panda, Space Mouse, Charley Beary and Gabby Gator. Based on characters created by cartoonist Walter Lantz.

Cast: Walter Lantz (Host), Grace Lantz (Woody's Voice), Paul Frees, June Foray, Walter Tetley, Daws Butler.

9206 Woof. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). Michael Turner is a nine-year-old boy who possesses a special imagination that takes him to places others scarcely dream of. But he is not alone. When Michael dreams, his dog Woof becomes his confidante and advisor and the viewer sees their adventures in imaginary worlds through animation. Other Regulars: Alan and Barbara, Michael's parents; and Terri, Michael's 14-year-old sister.

Cast: Ben Savage (Michael Turner), Thom Sharp (Alan Turner), Deborah Harmon (Barbara Turner), Heather McComb (Terri Turner), Jon Cryer (Voice of Woof).

9207 Whoops. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992). During a parade in which new missiles from Fort Pratt are being displayed, the frequencies from remote control cars being played with by some kids activate the nuclear missiles. The missiles hit assigned targets in foreign countries. Enemy nations retaliate and the world is destroyed — except for six survivors who must build a new society. They each manage to stumble upon an untouched farmhouse, which becomes their new home. Stories follow their efforts to start a new society.

Alice McConnell was the owner of Every Woman's Book Store. She was at the cash register when the tape ran out. She was in the basement to get a new register tape when it happened.

Curtis Thorpe was a stockbroker, a corporate giant with an office on the sixty-third floor of the International Trade Building in New York. He ran Thorpe, Inc., and was in the company's vault when the missiles struck.

Suzanne Skillman was a manicurist at Antoine's (how she survived is not mentioned). She is a bit ditsy and can't quite understand what has actually happened; she still dreams of becoming a hairdresser.

Jack Connors was a carpenter for 15 years. The stock market took a turn for the worse. He lost his wife and became homeless. He was living in a cardboard refrigerator box under the interstate highway when the disaster happened.

Dr. Frederick Ross is apparently the only black survivor. A pathologist, he was working two stories below ground in the morgue when it happened.

Mark Braddock was a teacher at Jefferson Elementary School. He was in his Volvo at an automated teller machine when the missiles hit.

Cast: Meagan Fay (Alice McConnell), Lane Davies (Curtis Thorpe), Marita Geraghty (Suzanne Skillman), Fred Applegate (Jack Connors), Cleavant Derricks (Dr. Frederick Ross), Evan Handler (Mark Braddock).

9208 WOR Television Varieties. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 3/14/44). Various variety acts

(from songs and music to demonstrating sound effects) that encompassed the studios of radio station WOR in New York City (hence the title).

Host: Bob Emery. Performers: Martha Deane, Bruce Elliot, Dick Ertlanger, Lucky Fields, Mel Heimer, Paul Killion, Bill Pause, Theresa Rillo, Phil Senna, Walter Shaver, Thelma Sobel, Sonia Stolin, Bernard Tunis, Lee Wallace, The WOR Cuties.

9209 Word for Word. (Series; Game; NBC; 1963–1964). Two players compete in a game wherein they have to make as many three- and four-letter words as possible from larger words. Each acceptable word scores a player one point. The player with the highest score is the winner and receives his score transferred into seconds, which he uses against the Electronic Word-O-Meter. The object calls for the player to unscramble a jumbled word before the machine. The player's cash prize depends on the number of words he successfully unscrambles before the machine and his time runs out.

Host: Merv Griffin. Announcer: Frank Simms.

9210 Word of Mouth. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1991). A scheduled (NBC, 8/17/91) but never-aired pilot that was to follow the antics of Jim, Sara, Marsha and Hammond, four speech writers for the President of the U.S. Other Regulars: B. Laurence Taylor, the Chief of Communications; Bonnie, their secretary; and Steve, a researcher. Originally titled The War Room.

Cast: William Daniels (B. Laurence Taylor), George Newburn (Jim Smith), Michele Lamar Richards (Sara Scadutto), Haviland Morris (Marsha Katzenberg), Lewis Black (Hammond Egle), Gladys Knight (Bonnie Cole), Josh Rifkin (Steve Lawson).

9211 Word Play. (Series; Game; NBC; 1986–1987). A board with nine words is displayed. One player (two compete) selects one word. Three celebrity guests each define the meaning of the word. The players must determine which celebrity gave the correct definition. A correct choice awards the player a money amount; an incorrect guess allows the opponent a chance to guess which celebrity gave the correct response. The player with the highest score after six words wins the game.

Host: Tom Kennedy. Announcer: Charlie O'Donnell.

9212 Words and Music. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). A twice-weekly program of music and songs with singer Barbara Marshall as the host. The series ran from August 2, 1949 to September 8, 1949.

Host: Barbara Marshall. Musical: The Jerry Jerome Trio.

9213 Words and Music. (Series; Game; NBC; 1970–1971). A large board that contains sixteen squares is displayed onstage. Each square contains a clue that is associated with a particular word in a song. One player (of three who compete) chooses one number. A clue is read and the accompanying song is sung. The first player to correctly associate the clue with the word receives a cash prize and the opportunity to select the next clue. The player with the highest cash score is the winner and vies for a new car by winning three straight games.

Host: Wink Martindale. Vocalist: Peggy Connelly, Katie Grant, Pat Henderson, Don Miller, Bob Marlo. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

9214 Working. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997–1999). Matt Peysler is a young idealistic college graduate with little work experience. He worked previously while in high school as the assistant manager of the Busy Bee Café. He is now embarking on his first real job at a company called Upton-Webber where he feels his college business degree will make him invaluable to the company.

Matt is loaded with fresh ideas but finds he has a boss (Tim) who doesn't seem to have any business sense and couldn't care less. Stories follow Matt as he struggles to get through the routine of his job — and hopefully convince his boss that his ideas could improve business operations.

Other Regulars: Abby Cosgrove, an office worker who sees his job as helping everyone else; Hal, a girl whose abilities seem to be wasted at the company (she is a Yale graduate); Evelyn, the non nonsense operations manager; John Delaney, the under achiever who seems to get ahead by kissing up; and office workers Liz, Val and Jimmy.

Cast: Fred Savage (Matt Peysler), Arden Myron (Abby Cosgrove), Debi Mazar (Liz Tricolli), Maurice Gordin (Tim Deale), Sarah Knowlton (Hal), Steve Hytner (John Delaney), Yvette Freeman (Evelyn Smalley), Rebecca McFarland (Val Gibson), Dana Gould (Jimmy Clarke).

9215 Working Girl. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990). Tess McGill is the working girl of the title. She is employed by Trask Industries in Manhattan as the junior marketing executive for Bryn Newhouse, the marketing head. Tess began working for Trask on April 13, 1989, as a secretary. A year later, when she felt she was qualified to become Bryn's assistant (though lacking a college degree), Tess submitted a report to Bryn under the name Fred McDonald. The report impressed Bryn and got Tess the job.

Tess was born on Staten Island on January 25, 1965. She attended Island High School, and Adorable is her favorite perfume. Bryn, a Yale graduate, was a member of the Kappa Gamma sorority. She lives in Manhattan at 63 East 63rd Street, a two block walk from Trask (located at 165 East 65th Street).

Tess and her girlfriend, Lana, a secretary in accounting at Trask, shoot pool at Nick's Pool House. Tess's parents, Joe and Fran McGill, run McGill's Deli on Staten Island, where Tess also lives in Apartment 210.

In the original, unaired pilot film (produced in 1989), Nancy McKeon played Tess and Holly Fulger was Lana. Based on the feature film of the same title. Carly Simon sings the theme, "Let the River Run."

Cast: Sandra Bullock (Tess McGill), Nana Visitor (Bryn Newhouse), Judy Prescott (Lana), David Schramm (Joe McGill), B.J. Ward (Fran McGill).

9216 Working It Out. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990). Sarah Marshall, a divorcée with a nine-year-old daughter (Molly), and David Stuart, a divorced man with a 17-year-old daughter (Jodie), meet at Mr. G's Cooking School (both are taking the course "Italian Cooking for Beginners"). They find an attraction but neither is willing to make a serious commitment. Stories relate their attempts to work out their differences and begin a serious relationship (they have the same sense of humor and the same tastes, but nothing else in common).

Sarah, who loves anything Italian, is the assistant manager of the Bennington Hotel in Manhattan and lives in Apartment 9G at 654 West 54th Street. Sarah's ex-husband, Joe, was a tennis pro who couldn't make it ("Neither could our marriage"); now Joe is a schoolteacher in Hawaii.

David is a freelance photographer who runs Stuart Photography from his apartment at 36 West 72nd Street. His daughter, Jodie, attends Lincoln High School.

Andrea ("Andy") Kristoli, Sarah's neighbor (Apt. 9B), is a book editor (company not named). Her husband, Charlie (not seen), lists her as "the Little Woman" on their income tax return. Stan is Stuart's agent and assistant. Theme: "Working It Out," by John Leffler.

Note: In the original unaired pilot, The Jane Curtin Show, Jane Curtin was Jane Marshall; Stephen Collins was Dan Stuart; David Garrison was Steve Rice; and Randy Graff was Jean (the role that became Andy).

Cast: Jane Curtin (Sarah Marshall), Stephen Collins (David Stuart), Kyndra Joy Casper (Molly Marshall), David Garrison (Stan Rice), Mary Beth Hurt (Andrea Kristoli), Robin Lange (Jodie Stuart).

9217 Working Stiffs. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979). Ernie and Mike O'Rourke are two incompetent brothers who work as incompetent janitors in the O'Rourke Building in Chicago, an establishment owned by the only man who would hire them — their uncle Harry. Stories follow Ernie and Mike's well-intentioned efforts to do the best job they can — a situation that is hampered by their reluctance to actually want to do any work. Four of seven produced episodes aired.

Other Regulars: Charles Pressman, the building manager (first episode); Al Steckler, the building manager (second episode), Frank Falzone, the building manager (episodes three and four); Mitch Hannigan, the owner of the Playland Café; Nikki Evashevsky, Mitch's waitress; Ralph, Nikki's husband.

Cast: Jim Belushi (Ernie O'Rourke), Michael Keaton (Mike O'Rourke), Michael Conrad (Harry O'Rourke), Neil Thompson (Charles Pressman), Val Bisoglio (Al Steckler), Phil Rubinstein (Frank Flazone), Allan Arbus (Mitch Hannigan), Lorna Patterson (Nikki Evashevsky), Thomas Calloway (Ralph Evashevsky).

9218 The World According to Straw. (Pilot; Comedy; Fox; 8/1/90). He is known only as Straw and he heads the maintenance department of an unnamed New York City office building. Straw is also a master con artist and the unsold series was to relate his efforts to wheel and deal to get what he needs.

Cast: Kevin Pollak (Straw), Leila Kenzle (Gina DeSalvo), Don Swayze (Abalone), John Thaddeus (Eddie G.), Rod McCary (Jason Mythe), Danny Goldman (Gerald Klotz), Ron Canada (Clarence Melmore), Billy Beck (Rollie Komers), Maria O'Brien (Muriel), Marianne Muellerleile (Vanessa Neff), Cliff Norton (Charles Wonder), Robert Rockwell (Mr. Westland), Barry Neikrug (Jack Nargans).

9219 A World Apart. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1970–1971). Chicago is the setting for the dramatic story of Betty Kahlam, a serial writer and unwed mother of two children, Patrice and Chris. The series ran from March 30, 1970 to June 25, 1971.

9220 The World Beyond. (Pilot; Thriller; CBS; 1/27/78). Paul Taylor is a sportswriter who, after a serious motorcycle accident, dies on the operating table. After two-and-a-half minutes of clinical death, his doctors are able to revive him. Paul, however, retains a thread tying him to the world beyond—a connection through which the dead can compel him to seek out people he has never seen and protect them from the deadly forces of the occult. In the pilot story, a supernatural inner voice brings Paul to a remote island in Maine to seek out Marian Faber and protect her and her brother Frank from a Golem, an evil spirit Frank created from mud that now seeks only to kill.

Cast: Granville Van Dusen (Paul Taylor). Guest Cast: JoBeth Williams (Marian Faber), Richard Fitzpatrick (Frank Faber), Barnard Hughes (Andy Borchard), Jan Van Evers (Sam Barker).

9221 World Crime Hunt. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1955). The alternate title for Paris Precinct. See this title for information.

9222 World Cup Comedy. (Series; Comedy; PAX; 2004). Improvisational comedians are pitted against one another in a rather bizarre competition for the honor of winning a fictitious award called "The World Cup of Comedy." Two teams appear and must perform skits based on suggestions from the studio audience. The twist: a technical crew does whatever it can to disrupt the performance (from odd props to weird sound effects). A panel of judges scores the performance (basically on how well they managed to perform under pressure). The winning team returns the following week to compete against another team. The one team that outperforms all others receives the coveted title.

Host: Dan O'Connor. Commentator: Mary Gallagher, Stephen Kearin.

9223 The World of Darkness. (Pilot; Thriller; CBS; 4/17/77). The first of two pilot films (see also The World Beyond) about Paul Taylor, a sportswriter who dies on the operating table and is brought back from the brink of death. Though in a world of the living, Paul still holds a connection to the world beyond, one that commands him to help people threatened by the occult. In the first story, a supernatural inner voice brings Paul to Woodvale, a small New England town, to seek out Clara Sanford and solve the mystery of an eerie presence that has her and her Aunt Joanna in the grip of fear.

Cast: Granville Van Dusen (Paul Taylor). Guest Cast: Tovah Feldshuh (Clara Sanford), Beatrice Straight (Joanna Sanford), Gary Merrill (Dr. Thomas Madsen), James Austin (John Sanford), Sean McCann (Matty Barker), Jayne Eastwood (Helen), Al Bernardo (Max).

9224 The World of Entertainment. (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 4/25/82). Performances by personalities from around the world. Segments are linked together via satellite and the program is an attempt to revive the format of The Ed Sullivan Show (CBS, 1948–71), which brought international acts to television audiences.

Host: Gene Kelly. Guests: Alabama, The Can Can Dancers, Nell Carter, David Copperfield, Patricia Crowley, The Flying Wallendas, Rich Little, Mary Ann Mobley, Joe Montana, Tai and Randy (ice skaters), The Vienna Boys Choir.

9225 World of Giants. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1959–1960). The Federal Bureau of Investigation guards many fantastic secrets — but none perhaps as unusual as that of Mel Hunter. It all began six months ago in Europe when FBI counterespionage agents Mel Hunter and his partner, Bill Winters, infiltrated a secret missile launching site behind the Iron Curtain. During an experiment to test a new type of fuel, one of the rockets blew up. Mel was in exposure radius of the blast. At first the exact nature of his illness was not known; he seemed simply to be suffering from shock, accompanied by a loss of appetite. Bill managed to get Mel back to the States when it started to happen: some unknown ingredient in the rocket fuel began to affect Mel’s molecular structure. Fourteen doctors and 17 scientists watched as Mel began to shrink. In less than a month, Mel was reduced to a height of six inches. While his physical appearance remained the same, a medical report stated that he now possesses “superhuman manual dexterity coupled with agility and reflexes many times faster than normal: somewhere between a hummingbird and a mongoose.”

Mel is the first such case known to medical history and has scientists stumped; they are unable to determine what ingredient caused the shrinkage or how to reverse the process. Thus Mel’s condition is classified top secret.

“The problem is to keep him classified and alive,” says Commissioner H.G. Hall, Mel and Bill’s superior (whom they call “Chief”).

Mel was originally six feet two inches tall; he is now six inches tall and lives with Bill in Apartment 3B at 37 Lynley Drive in Washington, D.C. Things most people wouldn’t notice (such as a pencil falling off a desk) could mean death for Mel. He has to be careful 3,600 seconds of every hour.

Mel and Bill are assisted by Miss Brown, a pretty FBI agent who works with them out of Bill’s apartment (she is always called Miss Brown). In his spare time, Mel, a jazz music expert, plays the drums.

Cast: Marshall Thompson (Mel Hunter), Arthur Franz (Bill Winters), Marcia Henderson (Miss Brown) John Gallaudet (H.G. Hall).

9226 The World of Lowell Thomas. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1966). Traveler Lowell Thomas hosts and narrates films that explore the remote regions of the world.

9227 The World of Mister Sweeney. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954–1955). A daily series about the lighthearted misadventures of Cicero P. Sweeney, a general store owner (in the town of Mapleton) who involves himself in and attempts to solve the problems of others.

Marge Franklin is Cicero’s daughter; Kippie Franklin is Marge’s son; Tom Millikan is Cicero’s friend; Abigail is Tom’s wife; Henrietta is Marge’s friend; Molly is the town spinster; and Little Eva is the refugee girl. The series, which produced 345 episodes, aired from June 30, 1954 to December 30, 1955.

Cast: Charlie Ruggles (Cicero P. Sweeney), Helen Wagner (Marge Franklin), Gene Walker (Kippie Franklin), Harry Gersham (Tom Millikan), Betty Garde (Abigail Millikan), Janet Fox (Henrietta), Jane Cleveland (Molly), Lydia Reed (Little Eva).

9228 The World of People. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1981). The program spotlights the usual and unusual activities of ordinary people.

Hosts: Sarah Edwards, Steve Adelman, Jan D’Atry, Nigel Bullard, David Sisson, Mark Shaw, Sharon Anderson.

9229 World War I. (Series; Documentary; CBS; 1964–1965). Actor Robert Ryan hosts and narrates a filmed series that recalls the key events and battles of the first world war. It ran from September 22, 1964 to September 5, 1965.

9230 World War II: G.I. Diary. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1978). Former servicemen recount their experiences during World War II — the highlights of which are seen through newsreel film footage.

Narrator: Lloyd Bridges. Soldier’s Voices: Bob McFadden, Peter Edens, Steve Rolland.

9231 World’s Fair Beauty Contest. (Experimental; Contest; NBC; 6/15/39). The earliest known telecast of a beauty pageant. The female employees of the 1939 New York World’s Fair (“The Fair Girls”) competed in a photographic contest. The girl with the best photo appeal won an RCA television set and was crowned “The New York World’s Fair Television Girl” (as a tie-in with RCA’s demonstration of home sets). Judges were seated in front of the RCA Television Exhibit; the broadcast was done live from the Calvalcade of Centaurs.

Host: Jack Frazier. Commentator: Ernest Chappell.

9232 The World’s Funniest! (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1998). An America’s Funniest Home Videos clone that, in addition to showcasing comical home videos, also shows comedy clips from movies, TV shows and commercials.

Host: James Brown. Announcer: Mark Thompson.

9233 The World’s Greatest Super Heroes. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1978–1980). A spin-off from The Super Friends. The revised format pits the Super Friends, members of the Justice League of America, against the Legion of Doom, thirteen sinister villains who have united to wreck havoc on the universe. Each episode finds the Justice League of America facing a challenge from the Legion of Doom.

The Super Friends are Wonder Woman, Superman, Batman, Robin, Aquaman, Hawkman, Samurai, Green Lantern Apache Chief, Flash, Black Vulcan, Jana and Zan. Gleek is their space creature ally.

The Villains are Luthor, Brainic, Grodd, Toyman, Giganta, Cheeta, Riddler, Captain Gold, Sinestro, Scarecrow, Bizarro, Solomon Grundy, Black Manta.

9234 World's Most Amazing Videos. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1999). A rather violent reality series that incorporates videotape footage from various sources (from police car cameras to news programs) to show people getting injured (even killed) doing anything from sporting events to hunting accidents to natural disasters.

Narrator: Stacy Keach. Announcer: Don La Fontaine.

9235 The World's Scariest Police Chases. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1997). A realistic reality program that incorporates actual footage from police car cameras and news helicopters to show the dangers police officers face everyday in their attempt to serve and protect. The video quality is quite poor, but it does demonstrate the hazards of police work, especially when a chase is involved. Paul Stonjanovich is the producer.

9236 Wow! Wow! Wubbzy. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2006). Walden, Widget and Wubbzy are three crudely drawn characters that live in the town of Wuzzleburg. Widget is the genius member of the group, a girl who can create (or fix) almost anything from her special toolbox. Wubbzy is a misadventure-prone dimwit who walks hand-in-hand with trouble. Walden, a somewhat British-accented chap, is the voice of reason. He is calm and collected and looks out for Widget and Wubbzy. Stories follow the adventures the three share as Wubbzy does what he does best — create chaos.

Voice Cast: Grey DeLisle (Wubbzy), Lara Jill Mailer (Widget), Carlos Alazraqui (Walden).

9237 Wrangler. (Series; Western; NBC; 1960). The frontier of the 1860s is the setting. The story of a man known only as Pitcarin, a wandering, two-fisted, fast with his guns cowboy who helps people in trouble. The series, which ran from August 4, 1960 to September 15, 1960, is the first (and only) western series to be seen on a new process called video tape.

Cast: Jason Evers (Pitcarin).

9238 Wren's Nest. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1949). The trials and tribulation of Sam and Virginia Wren, newlyweds struggling to survive the difficult first years of marriage. Sam and Virginia are a real life married couple and the incidents portrayed on the screen are drawn from their real life experiences. The series ran from January 13, 1949 to April 30, 1949.

Cast: Sam Wren (Sam Wren), Virginia Wren (Virginia Wren).

9239 The Wright Verdicts. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1995). Charles Wright is a British barrister who has taken up residence in New York City. He is a respected member of the legal community and appears to be somewhat eccentric and absent-minded. Wright specializes in criminal cases but also serves as a special prosecutor in government investigations. Stories follow Wright's courtroom defenses as he uses outrageous antics to achieve his goals. Other Regulars: Sandy, a former cop turned private investigator who works as Wright's legman; and Lydia, Wright's assistant. The series aired from March 31, 1995 to April 23, 1995.

Cast: Tom Conti (Charles Wright), Margaret Colin (Sandy Cameron), Aida Turturro (Lydia).

9240 Write Me a Love Scene. (Live Test Program; Drama; DuMont; 6/20/46 to 7/11/46). A proposed series of romantic dramas. The stories, which were enacted by a regular cast of performers, were sponsored by Sweetheart Soap on a four week test basis (Thursday evenings at 8:30 P.M.).

Performers: Wayne Gibson, Ruth Jane Harven, Woody P. Parker, Peter Van Zerneck. Announcer: Fran Malis.

9241 The Wubbulous World of Dr. Seuss. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1996). Live action is mixed with puppetry and computer animation to bring the world of children's books written by Dr. Seuss to life (with the Cat in the Hat as the host). The program does not adapt any of the Dr. Seuss stories, but takes aspects of each of them to tell morality stories to children — "incorporating all the great nonsense and goofiness and wacko sense of humor that the books embody."

Voice Cast: Bruce Lanoil (Cat in the Hat), Bruce Lanoil (Fox in Socks), Anthony Asbury (Yertle the Turtle), Anthony Asbury (The Grinch), Anthony Asbury (Thidwick the Big-Hearted Moose), John Kennedy (Little Cat), John Kennedy (Horton the Elephant), John Kennedy (Mr. Knox), John Kennedy (Norval the Fish), Kathryn Mullen (Little Cat A), Kathryn Mullen (Morton the Elephant-Bird), Kathryn Mullen (Junior Kangaroo), Stephanie D'Arbruzzo (Little Cat B), Stephanie D'Abruzzo (Jane Kangaroo).

9242 The Wuzzles. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1985–1986). Wuzzles are hybrid creatures who are two animals in one. They reside on the isolated island of Wuzz and stories follow adventures in their daily lives.

Voice Cast: Brian Cummings (Bumblelion), Henry Gibson (Eleroo), Kathleen Shipley (Butterbear), Alan Oppenheimer (Croc), Bill Scott (Brat), Tress MacNeille (Mrs. Pedigree), Jo Anne Worley (Hopotamus). Narrator: Stan Freberg.

9243 Wyatt Earp. (Series; Western; ABC; 1955). The shortened title for The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp. See this title for information.

9244 The Wyatts. (Pilot; Drama; Fox; 6/19/94). Dallas Hardin and Mikey Wyatt are 19 years old. They are college students who fall in love, have an intimate experience and decide to marry when Dallas becomes pregnant. The proposed series was to relate their struggles to make their marriage work despite the demands of school and work. The pilot episode relates the meeting and marriage of Dallas and Mikey. Other Regulars: Barbara and Tom, Mikey's parents; Danny and Tommy, Jr., Mikey's brothers; Ned, Mikey's friend.

Cast: Brooke Langton (Dallas Harden-Wyatt), William McNamara (Mikey Wyatt), Concetta Tomei (Barbara Wyatt), Frederick Coffin (Tom Wyatt, Sr.), Dana Ashbrook (Danny Wyatt), Adam Roth (Tommy Wyatt, Jr.), Tim Conlan (Ned Waddams). Guest Cast: Tina Coffey (Tammy), Elon Gold (Bob Patterson), Emily Procter (Tracey), Brad Sherwood (Blues singer), Donna Barnes (Co-ed), Daniel Gardner (Student), Michael Kampmann (Young Mikey; flashbacks); Trevor Wyse (Young Danny; flashbacks), Leonard Termo (Coach), Dana Felton and Sara Suzanne Brown (Strippers).

9245 X. (Series; Cartoon; A&E; 2001–2002). Kamui Shirou is a high school sophomore living in Japan. Unknown to him, he was born with the power to save or destroy the Earth. Fuma Mono and Kotori Monoui are his best friends. When Kamui turns sixteen, two opposing forces come into being: the Dragons of Heaven (also called the Seven Seals) and the Seven Angels. The Seals want to preserve the Earth; the Angels want to destroy it “and the plaque of humanity.”

When the battle begins Kamui comes face to face with his destiny. He can choose to side with the Seals or the Angels. He chooses to defeat evil. Stories follow Kamui as he (and Fuma and Kotori) protect the planet from the forces seeking to destroy it.

Voice Cast: Steve Staley (Kamui Shirou), Kirk Thornton (Fuma Mono), Michelle Ruff (Kotori Monoui), Wendee Lee (Karen Kasumi), Misa Watanabe (Tokiko Magami), Tom Wyner (Stargazer), Lia

Sargent (Arashi Kishu), Philece Sempler (Yuzuriha Nekoi), Mary Elizabeth McGlynn (Kanoe).

9246 The X-Files. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1993–2002). Does the paranormal exist? Are there unknown forces in the world? Do aliens really exist? FBI agent Fox Mulder believes so. His partner, Dana Scully, is not so convinced, but helps him investigate matters that are considered beyond the ordinary (Dana believes everything has a logical, scientific explanation).

Fox has a photographic memory. He has a degree in psychology from Oxford University and worked with the Violent Crimes Unit of the FBI. In 1986, when Fox joined the FBI, he stumbled upon the Bureau's X-Files, which contain the records of cases dealing with unexplained phenomena. He spent the next three years in the Bureau's behavioral science department. Shortly after he was given permission to investigate the strange cases encountered by the FBI.

Dana is a medical doctor and possesses a degree in physics from Maryland University. Her specialty is forensics. She was recruited by the FBI and had been teaching at the FBI's academy in Quantico, Virginia. It was Section Chief Scott Blevins who assigned her as Fox's partner to keep an eye on him.

Also assisting Fox and Dana are a group of fanatics who call themselves the Lone Gunmen (they publish a monthly magazine called The Lone Gunman which exposes government conspiracies). The Gunmen are John Fitzgerald Byers, Richard “Ringo” Langly, Melvin Frohike and Kenneth Soona, called “The Thinker.” For additional information on the Lone Gunmen, see the spin-off series The Lone Gunmen.

9247 X-Men. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1992). Professor Charles Xavier is the head of the Xavier Academy for Gifted Children. The school appears to normal, but it has a secret purpose: a safe haven for mutants, genetically endowed human beings who are considered outcasts by society. Here they are taught how to control their abilities but also to use them to help the human race battle evil. Xavier, who possesses unique telekinetic abilities, has formed the mutants into a team called X-Man: Cyclops (ability to store solar energy; discharge energy bursts); Jean Grey (telekinetic powers), Storm (control elements of Nature), Gambit (electrical abilities), Beast (super strength), Rogue (ability to absorb energy), Wolverine (heightened senses); and Jubilee (power to discharge fire balls). Stories relate the team's battle against diabolical villains (for example, the Sentinels, Banshee and Graydon Creed). Based on the Marvel comic book.

Voice Cast: Cedric Smith (Prof. Charles Xavier), Lenore Zann (Rogue), George Buza (Beast), Catherine Disher (Jean Grey), Alyson Court (Jubilee), Norm Spencer (Cyclops), Chris Potter (Gambit), Tony Daniels (Gambit), John Colicos (Apocalypse), James Blendick (Apocalypse), Cathal J. Dodd (Logan), Alison Sealy-Smith (Ororo Munroe), Ron Rubin (Morph), Lawrence Bayne (Cable), Jennifer Dale (Mystique), Don Francks (Sabertooth), Christopher Britton (Mr. Sinister), Jeremy Ratchford (Banshee), Christopher Brittan (Graydon Creed), Len Carlson (Senator Robert Kelly), David Fox (Sentinels), Lally Cadeau (Dr. Moria McTaggart), David Hemblin (Erik Magnus Lehmsherr).

9248 X-Men: Evolution. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 2000–2003). An animated adaptation of the Marvel comic book about a group of people, called Mutants, who possess extraordinary abilities and who work together to battle evil as members of the Institute for the Gifted. The Institute is run by a man named Xavier and the Mutants include Wolverine, Storm, Cyclops, Jean Grey, Night Crawler, Shadowcat, and Mystique.

Voice Cast: Venus Terzo (Jean Grey), Meghan Black (Rogue), Scott McNeil (Wolverine), David Kaye (Prof. Charles Xavier), Chiara Zanni (Jubilee), Andrew Francis (Bobby "Iceman" Drake), Kristen Williamson (Ororo "Storm" Munroe), Colleen Wheeler (Mystique), Brad Swaile (Kurt "Night Crawler" Wagner), Kirby Morrow (Scott "Cyclops" Summers), Campbell Lane (Mastermind), Jim Byrnes (Nick Fury), Richard Ian Cox (Quicksilver), Megan Leitch (Tabitha), Christopher Judge (Magneto), Kelly Sheridan (Scarlet Witch), Mark Hildreth (Angel), Monica Stori (Amanda Sefton).

9249 The Xavier Cugat Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957). A twice-weekly program of music and songs featuring the Continental sound with orchestra leader Xavier Cugat. The series ran from February 27, 1957 to May 22, 1957.

Host: Xavier Cugat. Vocalist: Abbe Lane. Orchestra: Xavier Cugat.

9250 Xena: Warrior Princess. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1995–2001). Amphipolis is a small village in ancient Greece that is home to Xena, a young woman who works in a tavern run by her mother, Cyrene (Darien Takle). Xena's father is unknown. He deserted his family when Xena and her brothers, Lyceus and Toris (Aaron Devitt, Joseph Kell) were young. When the warlord Cortese threatens Amphipolis, Xena organizes reluctant-to-fight villagers into a small army that manages to defeat Cortese. Xena, however, is blamed for a needless war and the deaths of many villagers, including Lyceus. Now, guilt ridden, Xena leaves Amphipolis to build an army to defend her homeland against future attacks.

Xena's abilities and bravery earn her the name Warrior Princess, but she is soon corrupted by power and fights for the thrill of battle.

Xena will not kill women and children. When she stops her lieutenant from killing an infant, she is believed to be weak and loses control of her army. She seeks the help of Hercules (Kevin Sorbo) and together they defeat Xena's rogue army. Xena sees the evil person she has become and vows to Hercules to use her skills to help people.

A short time later, when Xena saves the village of Potaidain from the warlord Draco, she meets Gabrielle, a young woman who becomes fascinated with Xena and attaches herself to her. Although Xena is reluctant to have a traveling companion, she finds Gabrielle's proficient gift of speech a valuable asset when she returns to Amphipolis and is saved by Gabrielle when she talks angry villagers out of attacking her. Gabrielle feels she is meant to be more "than just a village girl" and is welcomed by Xena, although Xena refuses to teach Gabrielle how to fight.

Gabrielle's true skill is that of a bard. She keeps records (called "The Xena Scrolls") of her and Xena's adventures. People think of Gabrielle as "that irritating little blonde" that travels with Xena. Life changes for Gabrielle when she risks her life to save a wounded Amazon (a warrior daughter of Ares, the God of War).

Epiny (Danielle Comack), the Amazon queen, bestows the title of Amazon Princess on Gabrielle and teaches her how to fight. Gabrielle becomes proficient with her wooden staff, but is also an expert with a sword and a knife.

Xena, proficient in the art of swords play, has a deadly and powerful weapon called the Chakram (a flat, round piece of iron with razor sharp blades). She is also feared for "the pinch" (a technique that stops the flow of blood to the brain when a nerve on the neck is pinched). Xena's horse, Argo, loves apples and will only allow Xena to ride her. Stories follow Xena and Gabrielle as they travel throughout the land and battle evil wherever they find it.

It had been suggested that Xena and Gabrielle were lesbians. Although Gabrielle told Xena she loved her and vice versa, they never kissed.

Joxer is a well-meaning but bumbling warrior trying to make a name for himself as Joxer the Mighty. He carries a lucky rabbit's foot, is more talk than action and accomplishes things by accident. Joxer is unable to kill. He wears armor, a helmet and carries a sword and shield. He and Xena met for the first time on the road to Corinth (when he offered to help her).

Callistro is a beautiful but lethal warrior who is out to kill Xena because "you barbecued my family." Years ago, during Xena's raid on the village of Sera, a fire was accidentally started that killed Callistro's family. Callistro, a young girl at the time, vowed to destroy everything Xena loved. Xena encounters Callistro for the first time when she learns someone is raiding villages and killing people in the name of Xena. Even though Xena appears to defeat Callistro (watching as Callistro drowns in quicksand) Callistro always returns to fulfill her vow. “I smell burning” is the phrase Xena uses to indicate to Gabrielle that Callistro is near.

Aphrodite is the Goddess of Love. She often speaks with a 1980s style Valley Girl accent and believes there is no one as beautiful as she. Aphrodite treasures the shrines mortals have built for her and is very protective of them. She is friendly, fun-loving and playful (“I’m a material girl,” she says). “Love at first sight is my specialty” and “Just doin’ the god thing” is what she says when she casts her love spells—whether they work or not. She calls Xena and Gabrielle “my favorite girl group.” Aphrodite’s enemy is Discord, a goddess who delights in undoing Aphrodite’s good deeds. Discord dresses in black (Aphrodite in either white or pink) and uses fireballs as her weapon. See also Hercules: The Legendary Journeys. Joseph LoDuca composed the theme.

The program opens with these words: “In a time of ancient gods, warriors and kings, a land in turmoil cried out for a hero. She was Xena, a mighty warrior princess forged in the heat of battle. The power, the passion, the danger. Her courage will change the world.”

Cast: Lucy Lawless (Xena), Renee O’Connor (Gabrielle), Ted Raimi (Joxer), Hudson Leick (Callistro), Alexandra Tydings (Aphrodite), Meighan Desmond (Discord).

9251 Xiaolin Showdown. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2003–2007). The Shen-Gong-Wu are the keys to ancient Chinese artifacts that have the power to control good and evil. The monks of the Xiaolin Temple have protected the keys over the centuries. Should the keys fall into the wrong hands, the power balance will be destroyed and evil will rule. In modern times, Omi is a young monk-in-training at the Xiaolin Temple. He is an expert in the martial arts and has been assigned a great mission: secure all the Shen-Gong-Wu keys to keep the balance between good and evil. His task is not easy. The ancient witch Wuya and the evil genius Jack Spicer (and his robot army) are also seeking the keys for the evil powers they will give them. Stories follow Omi as he and trainees, Kimiko, Raimundo and Clay, begin a dangerous quest to capture the keys (which can only be done in a gravity defying martial arts showdown) and keep the balance in tact.

Kimiko, is the daughter of rich Japanese parents and possesses the element of fire; Raimundo is a Brazilian circus performer who possesses the element of the wind; Clay, born in Texas, is a cowboy who possesses the elements of the earth. Master Fung is Omi’s master (Omi was an orphan who grew up in the Xiaolin Temple); Dojo Kanojo Cho is a 400-year-old fire breathing dragon and the guardian of the Xiaolin Temple. Omi uses Dojo as his guide as he can “sniff out” the Shen-Gong-Wu keys.

Voice Cast: Tara Strong (Omi), Grey DeLisle (Kimiko Tohoniko), Jeff Bennett (Clay Bailey), Tom Kenny (Raimundo Pendrosa), Rene Auberjonois (Master Fung), Maurice LaMarche (Master Fung; later), Wayne Knight (Dojo Kanojo Cho), Susan Silo (Wuya), Danny Cooksey (Jack Spicer).

9252 Xuxa. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1993). Xuxa (pronounced Shoo-Sha) Meneghel is a strikingly beautiful woman of Brazilian descent who dresses in mini skirts and hot pants and hosts a program for children that features her animal friends (Jam the Jaguar and Jelly the Panda), a pretty teenage assistant (Paquita) and a group of children who sing, dance and join Xuxa in various activities set in the studio.

Cast: Xuxa Meneghel (Xuxa), Natasha Pearce (Paquita), E.E. Bell (Jelly the Panda), Mark Caso (Jam the Jaguar), Jeff Dunham (Assistant).

9253 XXX’s and OOO’s. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 6/21/94). Sasha, Pam, Reed and Kelly are ex-wives of famous country and western music stars. They are friends and have a number of things in common, including fame, fortune, hurt and deceit.

Sasha is now an aerobics instructor and works in a clothing store (hoping to become a designer); Pam runs the Randall Private Security Firm; Reed is an agent for the Gates and Barnum Theatrical Agency; and Kelly is “The Kelly Girl,” a D.J. on Nashville radio station WCDJ. Each woman has a story to tell and the unsold series was to relate, in serial like form, their pasts (via flashbacks and present day situations). The title refers to both loves and hugs and the name of a nightclub in Nashville where country and western stars perform. Other Regulars: Kyle, Sasha’s ex-husband; and Bullet, Reed’s rival.

Cast: Nia Peeples (Sasha Townes), Debrah Farentino (Pam Randall), Susan Walters (Reed Barrett), Andrea Parker (Kelly Morgan), Brad Johnson (Kyle Townes), David Keith (Bullet Dobbs). Guest Cast: Paul Gross (Bucky Dean), Pam Tillis (Herself), John Allen Nelson (Sonny), Lisa Zane (Deirdre Malone), Karen Carlson (Reed’s mother). Theme Vocal: “An American Girl” by Trisha Yearwood.

9254 Xyber 9: New Dawn. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1999). Terrana is a futuristic world ravaged by a war against Machestro, an evil intergalactic being bent on conquering and controlling the universe. Terrana’s only hope is Jack, a 15-year-old orphan who, by accident, found Xyber 9, a deactivated thinking computer. When Jack activated Xyber 9, it endowed him with incredible powers that he now uses to battle Machestro.

Jack is called “The Chosen One” by the people of Terrana (because only such a person could activate Zyber 9). Machesro is half machine and has the ability to control all machines — except Xyber 9 (he is not the chosen one) which he seeks to acquire from Jack because its possession would make him the king.

Voice Cast: Rene Auberjonois (Xyber 9), Jason Marsden (Jack), Tim Curry (King Renard), Tony Jay (Machesro), Quinton Flynn (Mick), Nika Futterman (Anakonda), Jolie Jenkins (Princess Rozalyn).

9255 Yabtzee. (Pilot; Game; Syn.; 1/11/88). Celebrity guests are asked a series of questions before the game begins. On stage, a question is restated and several possible answers are revealed. The player who picks the correct response receives a chance to roll a pair of dice for a cash prize.

Host: Peter Marshall. Hostess: Teresa Ganzel.

9256 Yakkity Yak. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2003). Yakkity Yak is a teenager in the town of Onion Falls. His grandmother, Granny Yak, has raised him and he is the class clown at school — full of jokes he hopes to parlay into a career as a standup comic. Stories follow Yakkity the yak as he jokes his way through life. Keo and Lemony are his friends; Professor Crazy Hair (whose hair changes color) rents a room at Granny Yak’s; Penelope is a teenage robot; Mr. Highpants is the candy storeowner; Rondo, Jr. is Lemony’s brother; Mr. Trilobite is Yakkity’s agent.

Voice Cast: Lee Tockar (Yakkity Yak), Pam Hyatt (Granny Yak), Brian Drummond (Keo), Andrea Libman (Lemony), Brenda Crichlow (Wanda), Tabitha St. Germain (Penelope), Jason Schombing (Mr. Trilobite), Ian James Corlett (Mr. Highpants), Ian James Corlett (Rondo, Jr.), Scott McNeil (Professor Crazy Hair).

9257 Yancy Derringer. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1958–1959). The setting is New Orleans, Louisiana, in 1868. Yancy Derringer, a former Confederate soldier and the owner of a riverboat and plantation, volunteers to help city administrator John Colton institute a system of law and order. Stories relate that aspect.

Yancy is assisted by a non-speaking Pawnee Indian named Pahoo-Ka-Ta-Wah (“Wolf Who Stands in Water”). (Pahoo saved Yancy’s life at some point within the last eight years. He went against his faith saving a white man and is now responsible for Yancy’s life.) Pahoo carries a shotgun with him at all times.

The only background information on Yancy is that he was born in New Orleans. He left in 1860, joined the Confederacy, was shot during the Battle of Cold Harbor and spent one year in a Yankee prison. When he got out (possibly in 1865), he went out West to strike it rich but didn’t (it was probably at this time that Pahoo saved Yancy’s life). Yancy then returned to Louisiana to pick up where he left off. Old Dixie is Yancy’s dog, the Sultana is his riverboat and Waverly Plantation is the place of his birth and is his home.

Yancy indeed carries a derringer, in his hat, up his sleeve, in his belt and in his boot. He owns a silver mine in Virginia City, Nevada, and buys his fancy “duds” at Devereaux’s Gentlemen’s Apparel.

Mme. Francine is Yancy’s love interest; Mai Ling Mandarin, Yancy’s friend, runs the Sazarack Restaurant; and Captain Billy is the skipper of the Sultana. The Central Pacific Railroad was mentioned as laying track in New Orleans.

Relatives: Noreen Marsh (John’s sister, Agatha Colton), Victor Sen Yung (Mai Ling’s cousin, Hon Lee; he owns the Green Dragon Café in San Francisco). Theme: “Yancy Derringer,” by Don Quinn and Henry Russell.

Cast: Jock Mahoney (Yancy Derringer), X Brands (Pahoo), Kevin Hagen (John Colton), Frances Bergen (Mme. Francine), Lisa Lu (Mai Ling Mandarin), J. Pat O’Malley (Captain Billy).

9258 The Yeagers. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1980). A two episode series, set in MacKenzie County, Washington, that relates events in the life of Carroll Yeager, the owner of the Yeager Logging and Mining Company, and his family as they struggle to operate and maintain the family-owned business. See also Trouble in High Timber Country. Other Regulars: Willie, John, Joanna and Kyle, Carroll’s children (he is a widower); Carrie, John’s wife; Scotty and Timmy, Carrie’s sons; Tony, Carroll’s nephew; and Roy, works for Carroll. The series ran from June 1, 1980 to June 8, 1980.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Carroll Yeager), James Whitmore, Jr. (Willie Yeager), David Ackroyd (John David Yeager), Deborah Shelton (Johanna Yeager), Molly Cheek (Carrie Yeager), Kevin Brophy (Tony Yeager), Gregg Henry (Kyle Yeager), Jimmy Mair (Scotty Yeager), Bob O’Lidi (Timmy Yeager), John Quade (Roy).

9259 A Year at the Top. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for CBS in 1977). The original storyline and cast for the series of the same title. Lillian, Cliff and Studly are three aging and disorganized performers who sell their souls to the Devil’s daughter (Dee Dee) in exchange for youth (30 years younger) and a year at the top of the music world as the group Top. A series was originally scheduled to air on 1/19/77 but was pulled at the last moment, then revised to improve it.

Cast: Vivian Blaine (Elder Lillian), Judith Cohen (Young Lillian), Robert Alda (Elder Cliff), Greg Evigan (Young Cliff), Phil Leeds (Elder Studly), Paul Shaffer (Young Studly), Kelly Bishop (Dee Dee). Guest Cast: Mickey Rooney (Mickey), Kay Dingle (Stage manager), Jeannie Wilson (Girl).

9260 A Year at the Top. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1977). Greg and Paul are two unknown songwriters who sell their souls to Paragon Records president Frederick J. Hanover — the Devil's son — in return for a year at the top in the music world. Stories follow their ups and downs as they enjoy success — but also fear the moment when their year at the top is over. Other Regulars: Mickey, their uncle; Linda, Greg's girlfriend; Miss Worley, Hanover's secretary; Trish, Paul's friend; Dee Dee, the Devil's daughter; and Bell, Mickey's mother.

Cast: Greg Evigan (Greg), Paul Shaffer (Paul), Mickey Rooney (Mickey Durbin), Gabriel Dell (Frederick J. Hanover), Priscilla Lopez (Linda), Priscilla Morrill (Miss Worley), Julie Cobb (Trish), Kelly Bishop (Dee Dee), Nedra Volz (Bell Durbin).

9261 A Year in the Life. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1987–1988). A sensitive look at the lives of three generations of the Gardner's, a prosperous family living at 123 Liberty Lane in Seattle, Washington.

Joe Gardner is the head of the family, a man who grew up during the Depression yet built himself the successful Gardner Plastics Company. He is married to Ruth and they are the parents of Jack, Sam, Anne and Lindley.

Anne is the oldest child (35) who grew up as a hippie. She has been married twice and is the mother of David and Sunny (both from her first marriage with Glenn Maxwell).

Lindley is 31 years old and is a sales representative for the family company and the mother of an infant (Ruthie). She is married to Jim, an attorney. Thirty-year-old Jack is the black sheep of the family, a rebellious drifter. Sam, the youngest (24) is married to a flighty girl (Kay) and also works for Gardner Plastics.

The program is based on the 1986 NBC miniseries of the same title. Here, Eva Marie Saint played Ruth. Ruth died in the miniseries; for the series, Dr. Alice Foley became Joe's romantic interest (later fiancé).

Cast: Richard Kiley (Joe Gardner), Eva Marie Saint (Ruth Gardner), Wendy Phillips (Anne Gardner-Maxwell), Jayne Atkinson (Lindley Gardner), Morgan Stevens (Jack Gardner), David Oliver (Sam Gardner), Sarah Jessica Parker (Kay Erickson Gardner), Amanda Peterson (Sunny Maxwell), Scott Paulin (Glenn Maxwell), Trey Ames (David Maxwell), Adam Arkin (Jim Eisenberg), Diana Muldaur (Dr. Alice Foley), Melissa and Sarah Kay (Ruthie Eisenberg), Brian Benben (Bill Putsy; the eccentric inventor), Bette Ford (Jackie; Kay's mother), Alan Arkin (Mayron Eisenberg; Jim's father), Geraldine Fitzgerald (Alice's mother).

9262 The Yellow Rose. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1983–1984). A dramatic prime-time serial about the Champions, modern-day ranchers, and their struggle to operate and safeguard their 200,000 acre west Texas ranch, The Yellow Rose. Focal point of the series is the efforts of Jeb Hollister to regain control of The Yellow Rose — which he lost over a bet with its late owner, Wade Champion.

Roy Champion is Wade's son, the ranch owner; Colleen Champion is the widow of Roy's father; Quisto Champion is Roy's brother; Chance MacKenzie is Wade's bastard son; L.C. (Love Child) Champion is Colleen's daughter; Whit Champion is Roy's son; Grace MacKenzie is the kitchen boss; Luther Dillard is a ranch hand; Hoyt Coryell is a ranch hand; Jeb Hollister is the owner of the Crown H Ranch; Juliette Hollister is Jeb's daughter; Lenny Hollister is Jeb's son; Caryn Cabrera is Jeb's assistant; Rose Hollister is Jeb's sister; John Stronghart is a Yellow Rose ranch hand; Marlene Champion is Roy's ex-wife; Trey Champion is Roy's brother.

9263 Yes, Dear. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2000–2006). Greg and Kim Warner are a happily married young couple who live in Los Angeles. They are the parents of Sammy and Emily. Jimmy and Christine Hughes are a carefree married couple. They are transplanted New Yorkers who live with Greg and Kim. Christine is Kim's older (but not wiser) sister and she and Jimmy are the parents of Logan and Dominick. Stories follow events in the lives of the two couples as they attempt to raise their children in completely opposite ways.

Kim and Greg are caring and responsible parents; Christine and Jimmy are a bit flaky and not overly concerned about anything their children do.

Greg first worked as an executive at Bradford Studios; later he is a business affairs executive for CBS-TV in Burbank. In grammar school Greg was considered a nerd and constantly picked on. He took home economics in high school because his mother said he would make a good catch if he could cook. He relaxes by playing the guitar.

Kim majored in art in college, but it was in high school that she became famous. She was not wearing anything under her graduation gown. The wind blew open her gown and a censored picture of her graces her yearbook. While Kim loves her children, she is saddened when she has to stop breast feeding — "I like the boobs. I never had anything like them before and I hate giving them back."

Jimmy is very lazy and was originally unemployed; through Greg he acquires a job as a security gate guard at CBS. As a kid Jimmy dreamed of becoming a baseball umpire; he now dreams of collecting permanent disability. He likes to frequent strip clubs and finds no objections from Christine. In high school Christine was considered the "loose sister" (Kim the prudish one) and called herself "a big high school slut." She does the cooking, cleaning and cares for the kids while Jimmy basically sits back, drinks beer and watches.

Cast: Anthony Clark (Greg Warner), Jean Louisa Kelly (Kim Warner), Liza Snyder (Christine Hughes), Mike O'Malley (Jimmy Hughes), Christopher and Nicholas Berry (Dominic Hughes), Joel Homan (Dominic Hughes; later), Anthony and Michael Bain (Sammy Warner), Madelyn and Marissa Poer (Emily Warner), Alexander and Shawn Shapiro (Logan Hughes), Brendon Baerg (Logan Hughes; later), Brian Doyle Murray (Mr. Savitsky; Greg's boss).

9264 Yes, Minister. (Series; Comedy; The Entertainment Channel; 1982–1983). A British produced series that satirizes government bureaucracy through the experiences of James Hacker, a newly elected Member of Parliament, who finds many of his ideas for reform openly opposed by the civil servants whose job it is to implement them. Annie Hacker is his wife; Humphrey Appleby is the Permanent Secretary; Bernard Wooley is the Principal Private Secretary.

Cast: Paul Eddington (James Hacker), Diana Hodgson (Annie Hacker), Nigel Hawthorne (Humphrey Appleby), Derek Fowlds (Bernard Wooley).

9265 Yes Yes Nanette. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1961). Events in the lives of the McGovern family: Dan, a Hollywood writer; Nanette, his wife, a former Broadway actress; and their children, Nancy and Buddy. Stories are based on real-life incidents drawn from the lives of Nanette Fabray and her husband, writer Randal MacDougall. Also known as The Nanette Fabray Show and Westinghouse Playhouse (the series is sponsored by Westinghouse Appliances).

Cast: Nanette Fabray (Nanette McGovern), Wendell Corey (Dan McGovern), Jacklyn O'Donnell (Nancy McGovern), Bobby Diamond (Buddy McGovern), Doris Kemper (Mrs. Harper; their housekeeper).

9266 Yesterday. (Series; Documentary; HBO; 1982). Dick Cavett hosts and narrates an interesting series that incorporates film clips to recall the major events of previous years. Donny Gerard performs the theme.

9267 The Yesterday Show. (Pilot; Satire; HBO; 4/6/83). A spoof of television news magazines wherein each program is devoted to a specific time (March 16, 1956 in the pilot) and through actual news footage and sketches, events of that time are satirized. The show's newscasters are Jane, Nick and Tony.

Cast: Ann Ryerson (Jane Lawlor), Eric Braeden (Nick Spangler III), Jim Staahl (Tony Burrell). Regu- lars: Lucy E'Alliso, Meagan Fay, Francis Guinan, Mike Hagerty, Trevor Hall, John Kapelos, Joe Keefe, Lance Kinsey, Jeanette Schwaba, Rick Thomas, Al Wilder.

9268 Yesterday/Today. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1992). After spending twenty years in a coma, the result of an injury he suffered during a high school football game, Rick Davidson awakens to a world that has passed him by. The unsold series was to focus on Rick as he attempts to regain a perspective on his life through a series of "think backs" to his experiences as a 14-year-old boy.

Cast: Nick Gregory (Rick Davidson).

9269 Yo Yogi! (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1991). An update of the classic Yogi Bear series that, while still set in Jellystone National Park, has Yogi and his friends Boo Boo Bear, Cindy Bear, Huckleberry Hound and Snagglepuss as teenagers who hang out at the Jellystone Mall. The friends are also amateur detectives and stories relate their efforts to solve crimes that occur in Jellystone. In addition to the characters listed above, Jellystone is also inhabited by an array of other Hanna-Barbera created characters (listed in the cast).

9270 Yogi Bear. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1958). The overall title for three animated series.

1. Yogi Bear. The story, set in Jellystone National Park, relates the effort of Yogi Bear and his buddy, Boo Boo Bear, to acquire picnickers' lunch baskets. Determined to stop them is the park ranger, John Smith.

2. Snagglepuss. The antics of a trouble-prone lion.

3. Yakky Doodle Duck. The story of a mischievous duckling named Yakky Doodle.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Yogi Bear), Don Messick (Boo Boo Bear), Don Messick (Ranger Smith), Daws Butler (Snagglepuss), Jimmy Weldon (Yakky Doodle Duck).

9271 Yogi's Gang. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1973–1975). As living conditions become intolerable, Yogi, the Jellystone Park bear, and his friends decide to do something about it and hire inventor Noah Smith to construct a flying ark. Beginning a crusade to protect the environment, they travel throughout the country and attempt to battle the enemies of man and nature — polluters. The cast reflects Yogi's Gang.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Yogi Bear), Don Messick (Boo Boo Bear), John Stephenson (Doggie Daddy), Daws Butler (Augie Doggie), Henry Corden (Paw Ruggs), Daws Butler (Huckleberry Hound), Daws Butler (Snagglepuss), Daws Butler (Quick Draw McGraw), Daws Butler (Peter Potamus), Daws Butler (Wally Gator), Don Messick (Touche Turtle), Don Messick (Squiddly Diddly), Don Messick (Ranger Smith), Allan Melvin (Magilla Gorilla), Don Messick (Atom Ant).

9272 Yogi's Space Race. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1978–1979). An updated version of the Yogi Bear character that takes him out of Jellystone National Park, makes him an astronaut and teams him with a new friend, Scarebear. Stories relate their adventures as they compete against other William Hanna-Joseph Barbera created characters (see cast) in various space races for prizes.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Yogi Bear), Joe Besser (Scarebear), Frank Welker (Jabberjaw), Frank Welker (Buford), Pat Parris (Rita), Frank Welker (Nugget Nose), Daws Butler (Huckleberry Hound), Frank Welker (Captain Good), Frank Welker (Kleen Cat), Frank Welker (Phantom Phink), Frank Welker (Sludge), Marilyn Schreffler (Wendy), Mel Blanc (Quackup). Announcer: Gary Owens.

9273 Yogi's Treasure Hunt. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). Characters created by William Hanna and Joseph Barbera over the years appear together and join forces to recover lost treasures all over the world. The comedy stems from the mishaps that occur as they find what they are looking for then attempt to retrieve it.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Yogi Bear), Daws Butler (Huckleberry Hound), Daws Butler (Quick Draw McGraw), Daws Butler (Wally Gator), Daws Butler (Snagglepuss), Don Messick (Boo Boo Bear), Don Messick (Touche Turtle), Arnold Stang (Top Cat), Paul Winchell (Dick Dastardly).

9274 You Again. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1986–1987). When his wife runs off with another man and his ten-year-old son decides to go with his mother, middle-aged businessman Henry Willows files for divorce. Seven years later, Henry's son, Matthew, returns home to live with his father (when he could no longer get along with his step father). Stories, set on Long Island (New York) relate the misadventures of a conservative, loud-mouthed father and his liberal-minded son.

Henry works as the assistant buyer for Global Markets; Enid Tompkins is Henry's housekeeper; Julie is Matthew's friend; Wendy is Henry's secretary; Mabel is Enid's friend; Randy Williams is Henry's brother; Pam is Henry's secretary in later episodes.

Jim Berry is the accountant at Global; Maggie Davis is Henry's boss (executive vice president of market products); Mr. Beals is the president of market products; Sue is Henry's ex-wife.

Cast: Jack Klugman (Henry Willows), John Stamos (Matthew Willows), Elizabeth Bennett (Enid Tompkins), Dana Kimmell (Julie), Valorie Armstrong (Wendy), Fritzi Burr (Mabel), George Grizzard (Randy Willows), Valerie Landsburg (Pam), Barbara Rhoades (Maggie Davis), Armin Shimerman (Jim Berry), Joseph Cameron (Mr. Beals), Anita Gillette (Sue).

9275 You Are the Jury. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/5/84). A proposed series that allows viewers to determine the guilt or innocence of a defendant in a crime. The program begins in a courtroom and flashback sequences are used to recall the crime and the circumstances that led up to it. In the pilot episode, "The Case of the People of Florida vs. Joseph Landrum," viewers must determine if a man is guilty of murdering his wife's lover. (Special 900 telephone numbers are given — one for guilty, one for not guilty. In this particular instance, the home audience vote was innocent [87 percent] while the actual jury verdict was guilty of murder in the first degree.)

Host: Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. Cast: Joe Regalbuto (Joseph Landrum), Cindy Fisher (Dorothy Landrum), Nita Talbot (Sara Dabney), Judith Light (Elizabeth Harding), Paul Koslo (Ed Harrison), M. Emmet Walsh (Samuel Lynn), Thomas Hill (Judge Anders).

9276 You Are the Jury II. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/26/86). A second attempt at a series that allows viewers to determine the guilt or innocence of a defendant in a crime through special 900 telephone numbers (one for guilty, one for not guilty). In the second pilot, "The State of Arizona vs. Dr. Evan Blake," the trial of a doctor accused of murdering his wife (by asphyxiation) is reenacted. Here, the audience vote was 53 percent guilty (47 percent not guilty) while the actual jury vote was not guilty.

9277 You Are the Jury III. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 11/25/86). A third pilot for a series that was to involve viewers in determining the guilt or innocence of a defendant. In "The State of Ohio vs. James Wolsky," a high school football star is accused of killing his girlfriend. The actual courtroom verdict was guilty. Viewer response: 73.6 percent guilty; 26.3 percent not guilty.

Host: Robert Vaughn. Cast: Pat O'Bryan (James Wolsky), Ken Kercheval (Stanley Nelson), Rebecca Staples (Jessica McKay), Isabel Sanford (Judge Elizabeth Robbins), Vince Edwards (Philip Lombardo), Peter Scolari (Stephen Best), Marion Ross (Dr. Talb), Bill Macy (Frank Montabana).

9278 You Are the Jury IV. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/26/87). The final attempt at a series where viewers can determine the guilt or innocence of a defendant via special 900 telephone numbers. In "The State of Oregon vs. Stanley Manning," a handyman is accused of murdering his employer after having an affair with the victim's wife. The home verdict: 87 percent not guilty; 13 percent guilty. The actual jury verdict: guilty.

Host: Peter Graves. Cast: Adrian Zmed (Stanley Manning), Audrey Landers (Sheila Farley), Robert Mandan (Peter Farley), John Amos (Harold Borman), Max Wright (Judge Rhodes), Lee Meriwether (Marjorie Forrest), Kelsey Grammer (Stuart Cooper), Doris Roberts (Miss Loring).

9279 You Are There. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953–1957). Historical dramatizations are presented through reenactments but presented in a manner in which present-day (1950s) CBS-TV newscasters magically appear in the depicted era to witness the events and interview the people who were there.

Host-Narrator: Walter Cronkite. Reporters: Harry Marble, Winston Burdett, Bill Leonard, Dick Joy, Todd Hunter, William Kenneally, Clete Roberts, Harlow Wilcox, Grant Sewell, Lou Cioffi. Regulars (appearing in dramas): DeForest Kelley, Paul Birch, Barry Atwater, Claude Akins, John Larch, Whit Bissell.

9280 You Are There. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1971–1972). Through reenactments and present-day interviews, events from America's past are brought to life. The people and events that contributed to its founding and growth are seen through eyewitness accounts. A revised version of the prior title that ran on Saturday mornings.

Host-Narrator: Walter Cronkite.

9281 You Asked for It. (Series; Variety; DuMont; ABC; 1950–1959). "Whatever it is ... wherever it is ... at home, or around the world, you see it here, You Asked for It." The program attempts to answer viewers' requests (through films) for unusual sights or entertainment acts. The series ran on DuMont from December 29, 1950 to December 3, 1951; and on ABC from December 10, 1951 to September 2, 1959.

Host-Narrator: Art Baker, Jack Smith.

9282 You Asked for It. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1981–1983). The program features videotaped segments that fulfill viewers' requests to see unusual or bizarre events. A revised version of the prior title.

Cast: Rich Little (Host, 1981–1982), Jack Smith (Host, 1982–1983), Janet Langhart (Hostess, 1982–1983), Dale Harimoto (Hostess, 1982–1983). Field Reporters: Toni Thomas, Janet Langhart, Kathy Cronkite, Desiree Goyette, Danielle Folquet, Alan Erickson, Alanna Davis, Laura Louise, Mattie Majors, Ivana Moore, Adrienne Allen, Delvene Delaney. Announcer: John Harlan, Paul Kirby.

9283 You Bet Your Life. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced for CBS in 1949). In January of 1949 an unsuccessful attempt was made to bring the popular radio series You Bet Your Life to television (it would become an NBC series in 1950). This initial attempt contains warm-ups before the actual show begins, flubs and stage hands can be seen adjusting microphones and walking across the set. When a commercial is being pitched (here for Elgin American Cosmetics), the camera focuses on the host and the couple at play while an offstage voice reads copy for the radio audience. The basic format has the host first interview a couple (in a comical manner) then testing them on a category they choose. They begin with $20 and can bet any part of that amount on the first question. The amount is added if correct; deducted if wrong. Four such questions are asked and the couple with the highest score (of the three couples who compete) receive a chance to win $1,000 by answering the bonus question (here: "In 1876, government troops were annihilated in the Battle of the Little Big Horn. What general was in command of the doomed force?"). There was also the traditional secret word (here "Name") which if said awarded the player an Apollo 16mm projector worth $129.50.

Host: Groucho Marx. Announcer: George Fenneman.

9284 You Bet Your Life. (Series; Game; NBC; 1950–1961). Two players, working as a team, compete. Contestants are first interviewed then must answer a series of questions. The team receives $100 betting money. A player selects a question (based on a previously chosen category) by its cash amount ($10 to $100). A correct response adds the chosen amount to their cash score; an incorrect response cuts the cash total in half. The team with the highest cash score is the winner and receives the opportunity to win $500 by answering a difficult general knowledge question. If the question remains unanswered, the money rolls over into a larger jackpot (and continues to grow until it is won). Players can also win money if they say "The Secret Word" (seen at the beginning of the show) during their conversation with the host. Selected episodes are syndicated as The Best of Groucho.

Host: Groucho Marx. Assistant: George Fenneman. Secret Word Girl: Marilyn Burtis. Announcer: George Fenneman. Theme Song: "Hooray for Captain Spaulding" by Bert Kalmar, Harry Ruby.

9285 You Bet Your Life. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1980). A revised version of the prior title. Three contestants compete, one at a time. Each player is asked four questions based on a category he selects and receives money as follows: $25 for the first two correct answers; $100 for three correct replies; and $400 for four correct responses. If the player answers a fifth segment of his question correctly, he triples his winnings up to that point (an incorrect response at any stage cuts a player's earnings in half). The winner is the player with the highest cash score.

Host: Buddy Hackett. Assistant: Ron Hussman.

9286 You Bet Your Life. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1992–1993). A revised version of the Groucho Marx-hosted series of the same title. A coupe is first interviewed by the host then asked three questions in a category of their own choosing. They are given $750 and can bet any amount of the money on their ability to answer the questions. If they are correct, the bet money is added to their score; if they are incorrect, the money is deducted from their score. The couple (of three who compete) with the highest cash score is the winner.

Host: Bill Cosby. Announcer: Robbi Chong.

9287 You Can't Do That on Television. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 1979–1986). A skit program geared to children with amateur young actors performing all the roles (which spoof everything from television shows to fast food restaurants).

Regulars: Les Lye, Abby Hagyard, Christine McGlade, Lisa Ruddy, Alasdair Gillis, Vanessa Lindores, Doug Ptolemy, Chris Bickford, Kevin Kubusheskie, Adam Reid, Ted Wilson, Christian Tessier, Jennifer Brackenbury, Matthew Godfrey, Amyas Godfrey, Carlos Braithwaite, Jill Stanley, Justin Cammy, Stephanie Chow, Brodie Osmoe, Sairya Sharp, Stephanie Bauder, Kevin Schenk.

9288 You Can't Take It with You. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 11/18/45). A television adaptation of the 1936 Broadway play by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart that tells of an eccentric Grandfather (Martin Vanderhof) and his screwball family. The story itself revolves around two young people in love: Martin's granddaughter, Alice, and her boyfriend, Tony, and the chaos that erupts when Alice and Tony's families meet for the first time.

Cast: Robert Ober (Martin Vanderhof), Mabel Taliaferro (Penny Sycamore), Diane Clement (Alice Sycamore), Tom Seidel (Tony), Arthur Hunnicutt (Mr. DePinna). Also: Mardi Bryan, Phil Kramer, Al Linder, Henry Walden.

9289 You Can't Take It with You. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987). Martin Vanderhof is a retired advertising man who is now living with his family in a large house on Staten Island in New York. Martin is a widower and is set in his ways. He is stubborn, arrogant and thought of as eccentric by anyone who knows him. He lives with his married daughter, Penny Sycamore, a free-lance writer, and her husband, Paul, an eccentric toy inventor. Also living with them are Alice and Essie, Penny and Paul's beautiful daughters.

Penny could be considered eccentric as she talks to herself for inspiration; Paul appears to always be in a dither about what to create and is constantly arguing with himself and the his assistant, Durwood Pinner, over the prospect of what toy will be acceptable by children. Essie and Alice appear somewhat normal (not as eccentric). Alice is the older sister (and seeking Mr. Right); Essie is a college student and still undecided about her future. Eddie is their neighbor, a kid who manages to retain his sanity when he visits the Vanderhofs. Based on the Broadway play of the same title. In the unaired pilot version of the series, Elizabeth Townsend played Essie and Paul's assistant was called Mr. DePenna.

Cast: Harry Morgan (Martin Vanderhof), Lois Nettleton (Penny Sycamore), Richard Sanders (Paul Sycamore), Lisa Aliff (Alice Sycamore), Heather Blodgett (Essie Sycamore), Teddy Wilson (Durwood Pinner), Glenn Scarpelli (Eddie Carmelli).

9290 You Don't Say. (Series; Game; NBC; 1963–1969). Two teams, each composed of one celebrity and one contestant, compete. One member of each team receives the name of a famous person or place. The player makes up and relates a sentence to his partner wherein he leaves the last word, which sounds like the name, blank. If his partner is able to identify the name, the team scores one point; if not, the opponents receive a turn. A two-out-of-three match competition is played and the winning contestant receives $100.

Host: Tom Kennedy. Announcer: John Harlan.

9291 You Don't Say. (Series; Game; ABC; 1975). Four guest celebrities and two contestants are involved. The celebrities are each given the name of a famous person or place. One contestant chooses a celebrity, who must give the contestant a clue to his person or place by making up a sentence and leaving the last word, which sounds like part of the name, blank. If the player identifies the name within five seconds he scores $200; if not his opponent chooses a celebrity and receives a chance to play. The clue is worth $150 and decreases to $100, then $50 if the two remaining clues are needed to identify the name. The first player to score $600 is the winner. As host Tom Kennedy would say—"It's not what you say, it's what You Don't Say."

Host: Tom Kennedy. Announcer: John Harlan.

9292 You Don't Say. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1978). A revised version of the prior syndicated title (which see for format).

Host: Jim Peck. Announcer: John Harlan.

9293 You Should Meet My Sister. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/16/60). The pilot film for My Sister Eileen about two pretty sisters (Ruth and Eileen Sherwood) who leave Ohio and move to New York City to begin their careers: Ruth as a writer and Eileen as an actress. The pilot episode relates the girls' move to New York and their renting of a Greenwich Village basement apartment (owned by Mr. Spivak). Broadcast as a segment of Goodyear Theater. Other Regulars: The Wreck, their neighbor, a football player; and Helen, the Wreck's wife.

Cast: Elaine Stritch (Ruth Sherwood), Anne Helm (Eileen Sherwood), Henry Corden (Mr. Spivak), Tom Reese (The Wreck), Pattee Chapman (Helen). Note: In the series, Shirley Boone played Eileen; Leon Belasco became the girls' landlord as Mr. Apopolous; Hal Baylor played the Wreck; and Treva Frazee was Helen.

9294 You Take the Kids. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990–1991). Michael Kirkland, a school bus driver, and his wife, Nell, a piano teacher, live at 830 Fairview Lawn (in Pittsburgh) with their children, Lorette, Raymond, Nathaniel and Peter. Stories relate events in their daily lives. Nell and Michael have been married 17 years. Michael earns $18,000 a year, and in high school (where he met Nell) he and his three best friends were called “The Love Surgeons.”

Raymond, the oldest son (16), thinks “he’s pretty.” He is a D student and a member of the school’s basketball team. His favorite eatery is the Wiener Schnitzel.

Lorette is 13 years old and “desperately wants breasts to become popular.” (She stuffs her bra with socks. Nell calls the socks “Lorette’s two friends,” and despite Lorette’s complaints — “I’m the only girl in my class who hasn’t developed yet,” Nell continually takes them away from her). She is a C student at school.

Peter, who is 12 years old, is the studious one and wants to become a doctor. He is an A student, and his “disease,” as he calls it, is being excessively neat.

Nathaniel is 10 years old and has a pet goldfish named Dirt Bag. He has a job as a delivery boy at Mr. Stereo, is a C student at school and Raymond calls him “Squirt.”

Cast: Nell Carter (Nell Kirkland), Roger E. Mosley (Michael Kirkland), Caryn Ward (Lorette Kirkland), Trent Cameron (Nathaniel Kirkland), Marlon Taylor (Peter Kirkland), Dante Beze (Raymond Kirkland), Leila Danette (“Mama” Helen,” Nell’s mother). Theme Vocal: “Nobody’s Got It Easy” by Nell Carter.

9295 You Wish. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1997–1998). In ancient Persia a genie (called Genie) makes a fatal error; he falls in love with his female master. For his crime, Genie is imprisoned in a rug for all eternity.

Two thousand years later, while searching for a new rug for her bathroom, Gillian Apple, a divorced mother of two children (Mickey and Travis) purchases an old-looking purple rug in a Los Angeles curio shop. At home Gillian unrolls the rug and releases Genie. He becomes her slave and seeks to grant her every wish.

Gillian is somewhat reluctant to accept Genie’s wishes but she is his master and she does allow him to reside with her. Stories follow a genie’s efforts to live in modern times and please his master by performing feats of magic — even though Gillian disapproves of such things and is considered a “non wisher” by Genie’s mother, Estelle, and Genie’s 50,000-year-old decommissioned genie, his Grandfather Max.

Cast: John Ales (Genie), Harley Jane Kozak (Gillian Apple), Alex McKenna (Mickey Apple), Nathan Lawrence (Travis Apple), Jerry Van Dyke (Grandpa Max), Jessica Walter (Estelle).

9296 You Write the Songs. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1986). Aspiring song writers compete for the opportunity to win $100,000. The original compositions of three song writers, which are performed by a resident company of singers and dancers, are judged by a celebrity panel who rate it from 1 to 10 (based on hit potential). The weekly winner receives $1,000 and returns the following week to compete again. The five best songs over a 12-week period are judged in a final competition with the best songwriter receiving $100,000.

9297 You’ll Never Get Rich. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955–1956). The original title for The Phil Silvers Show for one season before the title change. See this title for information.

9298 Young Again. (Pilot; Fantasy; ABC; 5/11/86). The story of a mysterious old man (actually an angel from above) who grants deserving people their wish to become young again. The unsold series was to relate incidents in the lives of those people whose wishes are granted to show whether or not youth is the answer to that person’s problems. In the pilot episode, Michael Riley, a forty-year-old stockbroker is shown what it is like to be young again when he wishes to be seventeen to relive a high school romance.

9299 The Young Americans. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 3/15/95). An unsold retooling of All-American Girl that aired as the last episode of that series. In the 1994–95 series, college student Margaret Kim lived at home with her parents Benjamin and Kathryn (Clyde Kusatsu and Jodi Long), her brothers Stuart and Eric (B.D. Wong and J.B. Quon) and her grandmother, Yunnice Kim. With the exception of Margaret and Yunnice, the other cast members were dropped. The program also changed looks — from video tape to film — and found Margaret already moved out of her parents home and now sharing an apartment (23) with three men: Spencer, Jimmy and Phil. Margaret is no longer working as a department store perfume girl; she is now the Assistant to the Assistant to the Associate Vice President of Bleach Records; Spencer is a law student; Phil is a security guard; an occupation is not given for Jimmy. The proposal was to follow the misadventures of the four young Americans, who receive moral support from Yunnice, a television fanatic who relates real life with what she sees on television.

In the initial program, the group seeks a way to raise the money to get their phone turned back on; a dim-witted exterminator (Tim) wrecks havoc seeking a mouse in their apartment; and Phil develops a crush on Jane, the sexy bartender at their favorite watering hole, the Goat's Head.

Cast: Margaret Cho (Margaret Kim), Amy Hill (Yunnice Kim), Diedrich Bader (Spencer), Andrew Lowery (Jimmy), Sam Seder (Phil Pinachio), Mariska Hargitay (Jane). Guest Cast: Vicki Lawrence (Phone company lady), John Terlesky (Tim), Arsenio "Sonny" Trinidad (Dr. Park).

9301 Young Blades. (Series; Adventure; PAX; 2005–2006). Seventeenth century France is the setting. D'Artagnan, Jr. (the son of the legendary Musketeer, D'Artagnan), Jacques, Ramon and Siroc, are Musketeers in training to protect their homeland, especially young King Louis, from evil (in particular the evil Cardinal Mazarin).

Jacques is a natural with a sword — only he is a she — Jacqueline, a woman who killed the man who killed her father and is now wanted. To avoid capture, she disguised herself as a man and joined the Musketeer garrison to fight evil and hopefully clear her name. Stories follow the exploits of the Musketeers as they defend their homeland.

Other Regulars: Captain Duvall, the man who leads the young Musketeers; and Queen Anne, Louis's mother.

Cast: Karen Cliche (Jacqueline Roget/Jacques Le-Pointe), Bruce Boxleitner (Captain Duvall), Sheena Easton (Queen Anne), Tobias Mehler (D'Artagnan), Mark Hildreth (Siroc), Zak Santiago (Ramon), Michael Ironside (Cardinal Mazarin), Robert Sheehan (King Louis).

9302 Young Dan'l Boone. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1977). Kentucky during the 19th century is the setting. Events in the life of Daniel Boone, the frontiersman-pioneer, as a young man (age 25), before he became a legend. Rebecca Bryan is his girlfriend; Peter Dawes is Daniel's friend; Hawk is the ex-slave; Tsiskwa is Daniel's Cherokee friend. A prequel to the NBC series Daniel Boone; 4 of 13 produced episodes aired.

Cast: Rick Moses (Daniel Boone), Devon Ericson (Rebecca Bryan), John Joseph Thomas (Peter Dawes), Ji-Tu Cumbuka (Hawk), Eloy Phil Casados (Tsiskwa).

Theme Vocal: "Young Dan'l Boone" by The Mike Curb Congregation.

Cast: Mark Jenkins (Dr. James Kildare), Gary Merrill (Dr. Leonard Gillespie), Marsha Mason (Nurse Marsha Lord), Dixie Marquis (Nurse Ferris), Olga James (Nurse Newell), Dennis Robinson (Orderly).

9304 Young Dr. Malone. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1958–1963). The dramatic story of Jerry Malone, a young doctor at Valley Hospital. The series ran from December 29, 1958 to March 29, 1963.

Cast: William Prince (Dr. Jerry Malone), Virginia Dwyer (Tracy Malone), Augusta Dabney (Tracy Malone), John Connelly (Dr. David Malone), Patricia Bosworth (Fran Merrill), David Stewart (Dr. Paul Brown), Edmond Ryan (Dr. Paul Brown), Kathleen Widdoes (Jill Malone), Freda Holloway (Jill Malone), Peter Brandon (Dr. Ted Powell), Emily McLaughlin (Dr. Eileen Seaton), Barbara O'Neill (Phyllis Brooks), Bob Drivas (Ernest Cooper), Nicholas Pryor (Ernest Cooper), Robert Lansing (Peter Brooks), Kathleen Murray (Sandra), Stephen Bolster (Jody), Joyce Van Patten (Clara Kershaw), Judson Laire (Emory Bannister), Lesley Woods (Claire Bannister), Margot Anders (Deirdre Bannister), Martin Blaine (Lionel), John Vickers (Laddie Bannister), Lenka Peterson (Faye Bannister), Peggy Feury (Kate), Michael Ingram (Dr. Stephen Koda), Ruth Hammond (Opal), Stuart McIntosh (Palmer), Leora Thatcher (Mrs. Hartman), Joan Hackett (Gail Prentiss), Loretta Levesee (Eve Dunbar), Liz Gardner (Dorothy Ferris), Florence Mitchell (Dorothy Ferris), William Post (Cranston), Bill Dwyer (Artie Ferris), Betty Sinclair (Miss Fisher), Luke Halpin (Peter Ferris), Royal Beal (Aaron Shipley), Noah Keane (Detective Glesner), Fred Scollay (Driscoll), Leon Janney (State Attorney), Mary Alice Moore (Michele Weaver), Zina Bethune (Lisha), Michelle Tuttle (Lisha), Susan Halloran (Lisha), Diane Ramey (Jennifer), Ruth McDevitt (Amanda Penny-packer), Dick Van Patten (Larry Renfrew), Scott McKay (Lester), Hugh Franklin (Dr. Fred McNeill), Joan Wetmore (Natalie Price), Ken Hammer (Dr. Dudley), Ralph Bell (Judge), Rod Colbin (Bailiff), Gene Fanning (Clerk), Terri Keane (Marge Wagner).

9305 Young Guy Christian. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/24/79). A spoof of super spy dramas as seen through the exploits of Guy Christian, a playboy who combats international evil in his spare time. Other Regulars: Professor Mishugi, his superior; Mia, the professor's daughter; Junkman, the professor's assistant.

Cast: Barry Bostwick (Guy Christian), Pat Morita (Professor Mishugi), Shelley Long (Mia Mishugi), Richard Karron (Junkman).

9306 Young Hearts. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/18/84). St. Louis is the setting for a proposed series about a group of middle-class teenagers who find fun and romance at the local shopping mall. In the pilot episode, one of the teens (Doug, who works at the Body Zone Clothes Store) tries to save his sister, Karen, from Keith, a guy with a bad reputation with girls. Other Regulars: Wendy and Carl, Doug's parents; Larry, Doug's brother; Bernie, owner of the Body Zone (where Kate and Doug work); Beef, Doug's friend, works at Happy Chicken Fast Food; and Jeanie, works at Snip City (a beauty parlor).

Cast: Jeffrey Rogers (Doug Fettis), Anne Howard (Karen Fettis), Patricia Harty (Wendy Fettis), Michael Callan (Carl Fettis), Jerry Supiran (Larry Fettis), Michelle Downey (Kate), Anthony Holland (Bernie), Michael Zorek (Beef), Janeen Best (Jeanie Grouslley). Guest Cast: Michael Dudikoff (Keith), Charles Zuker (Eddie). Theme Vocal ("Young Hearts"): Donna McDaniel.

9307 Young Hercules. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 1998–1999). "In an age of light and darkness Zeus, king of the gods, rules the universe. He had a son, young Hercules. Half god, half man, young Hercules longs to find his place in this world; the father he has never known and what it means to be a hero. Before the man becomes a legend; before the legend becomes a myth comes the greatest adventure of all — Young Hercules." Basically, a Fox network prequel to the syndicated Hercules: The Legendary Journeys. Here, as the opening narration stated, Hercules was not yet a legend. He does possess incredible strength and is a half god (the offspring of Zeus and a mortal woman). Zeus was married to Hera; when he became unfaithful and the mortal woman gave birth, Hera refused to accept Hercules as her son and swore to destroy him (Hera's efforts to carry out her threat is one of the perils Hercules must overcome). Hercules is accompanied on his journeys by Iolaus and Jason and together they help people they find in trouble.

Cast: Ryan Gosling (Hercules), Dean O'Gorman (Iolaus), Chris Conrad (Jason), Kevin Smith (Ares), Jodie Rimmer (Lilith), Angela Marie Dotchin (Kora), Nathaniel Lees (Cheiron), Joel Tobeck (Strife), Meighan Desmond (Discord), Elizabeth Hawthorne (Voice of Hera).

9308 Young in Heart. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/16/65). A proposed series about Margaret Malloy, the housemother at Kappa Phi, a college sorority house. In the pilot episode, Margaret clashes with Gerry Hart, the Kappa House president, over the decision to allow the sorority to have a housemother.

Other Regulars: Evelyn, the dean; Ted, the football star; Liz, Ted's secret wife; Charles, Liz's father.

9309 The Young Indiana Jones Chronicles. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1992–1993). A television adaptation of the Indiana Jones series of theatrical films that is set at a time when the title character is seen as both a boy and young man (before his life in theatrical films). Stories chronicle the early adventures of Henry "Indiana" Jones as he learns life lessons while experiencing thrilling adventures all over the world (and encountering various historical figures along the way). Indiana was said to have been born in New Jersey on July 1, 1899. George Lucas is the executive producer.

Cast: Sean Patrick Flanery (Henry "Indiana" Jones), George Hall (Dr. Henry "Indiana" Jones), Lloyd Owen (Prof. Henry Jones, Sr.), Corey Carren (Young Henry Jones; flashbacks), Ronny Coutteure (Remy), Margaret Tyzack (Miss Seymour).

9310 The Young Lawyers. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1970–1971). David Barrett is the senior lawyer for the Neighborhood Law Office (N.L.O.), a legal aid service in Boston, Massachusetts. Aaron Silverman and Pat Walters, Berkel University law students, are his protégés. Stories follow their cases, investigations and courtroom defenses of people in need of free legal help.

Cast: Lee J. Cobb (David Barrett), Zalman King (Aaron Silverman), Judy Pace (Pat Walters), Philip Clark (Lawyer Chris Blake).

9311 Young Lives. (Pilot; Serial; Syn.; 7/20 to 7/24/81). A five-episode pilot for a potential daily serial. The story, set in a community called Southridge, focuses on the problems faced by teenagers in today's world.

The program opened with these words: "You are about to take part in a unique television experiment. A preview of the first five pilot episodes of a new continuing daily drama. This is only the beginning. This is a program in development and your reactions are important. At the conclusion of this episode, we'll tell you how you can let us know what you think. And now "Young Lives."

The announcer returned for the closing statement: "You've been watching a preview of Young Lives, a new daily dramatic serial. The problems Young Lives deals with are real problems. They've been identified for us by experts in psychology and family counseling. And now we want your reaction. You have the opportunity to affect the development of this show. Please watch all five episodes this week. Look for the Young Lives questionnaire in the current issue of TV Guide. Please fill it out and send it to us. We want to know what you think and if you want to see more of Young Lives."

9312 The Young Marrieds. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1964–1966). The dramatic story of three couples: Dan and Susan Garrett; Anna and Walter Reynolds; and Roy and Lena Gilroy. Episodes depict their relationships within the family and with their friends. The series ran from October 5, 1964 to March 25, 1966.

9313 Young Maverick. (Series; Western; CBS; 1979–1980). A continuation of the Maverick series that ran on ABC from 1957–1962 and dealt with the less-than-honorable adventures of three slick gamblers, brothers Bret and Bart (James Garner, Jack Kelly) and their suave British cousin, Beau (Roger Moore). Although there is a 17-year gap between series, the new version continues the same story line and again details the exploits of a Maverick — Beau's son, Ben, a suave, fast-talking gambler who roams throughout the west seeking rich prey. See also The New Maverick for information on the series pilot film, as well as Maverick and Bret Maverick. Eight of 13 produced episodes aired. Other Regulars: Nell McGarrahan, Ben's friend and Marshal Edge Troy.

Cast: Charles Frank (Ben Maverick), Susan Blanchard (Nell McGarrahan), John Dehner (Marshal Edge Troy). Theme Song: "Maverick" by Jay Livingston, Ray Evans.

9314 Young Mr. Bobbin. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1951–1952). Events in the life of Alexander Bobbin, a recent high school graduate who forsakes college and is now struggling to establish himself in the business world. Nancy is Alexander's girlfriend; Susie is Nancy's sister; Bridie and Bertha, who raised Alexander after his parent's death in a car accident, are his aunts.

Cast: Jackie Kelk (Alexander Bobbin), Pat Hosley (Nancy), Laura Weber (Susie), Jane Seymour (Aunt Bridie), Nydia Westman (Aunt Bertha). Announcer: Tex Antoine.

Through Molly's narration, their struggles are chronicled. (Molly records her and David's adventures in her diary, which she keeps in a seashell-decorated box that David gave to her.)

Molly and David lived alone in the wilderness when they first homesteaded; they were closest to the town of Wildrose and eventually acquired some neighbors: Dan Gray, and the pioneering Peters family, Mr. Peters and his three children, Nettie, Flora and Charlie. Mr. Peters (no first name given) owns the claim next to the Beatons'. During the harsh winter months, David earns money by working as a hauler for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad (later the Dakota Southern Railroad) or as a hand at the Roslyn Feed Mill. Wood is said to be very scarce and valuable.

In the first pilot The Young Pioneers (ABC, 3/1/76), Shelly Juttner played Nettie, and a son, Little Davy, is born to Molly on January 18, 1874 (the infant is not credited). In the second pilot, Young Pioneers' Christmas (ABC, 12/17/76), Kay Kimler played Nettie, Sherri Wagner was Flora and Brian Melrose was Charlie. (In the story, Molly and David lose little Davy to a high fever in June 1874 and struggle to put aside their grief to extend the gift of friendship at Christmas time.) Charles Tyner played David's father, Mr. Beaton, in the first pilot. Laurence Rosenthal composed "The Young Pioneers Theme."

Cast: Linda Purl (Molly Beaton), Roger Kern (David Beaton), Robert Donner (Mr. Peters), Mare Winningham (Nettie Peters), Michelle Stacy (Flora Peters), Jeff Cotler (Charlie Peters), Robert Hays (Dan Gray).

9316 The Young Pioneers' Christmas. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 12/17/76). The second pilot film for the series The Young Pioneers. See this title for pilot film and series information.

9317 The Young Rebels. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1970–1971). The Yankee Doodle Society is a secret organization that protects the Colonies during the American Revolution. In Chester, Pennsylvania (1777) one such society exists. It is made up of four people who pretend to be indifferent to the American cause as a cover to foil British advances on the Colonies: Jeremy Larkin, a man who is regarded as the town fool; Henry Abington, a chemist and explosives expert; Isaac Poole, a blacksmith; and Elizabeth Coates, a beautiful woman no one would ever suspect as being a rebel (Jeremy calls her "their one-woman auxiliary").

A narrator opens the show: "This is the Yankee Doodle Society, a secret organization like those that operated during the American Revolution. Young patriots determined to help mold their own future by fighting for freedom behind enemy lines."

Cast: Rick Ely (Jeremy Larkin), Lou Gossett (Isaac Poole), Alex Henteloff (Henry Abington), Hilary Thompson (Elizabeth Coates), Philippe Forquet (General Lafayette).

9318 The Young Riders. (Series; Western; ABC; 1989–1991). The Russell, Majors and Waddell Company is an 1860s Pony Express outfit that runs 2,000 miles from St. Joseph, Missouri to Sacramento, California. There are 190 way stations and "500 of the best injun horses." Teaspoon Hunter, a rough and tough old plainsman, oversees operations. The Kid (as he is called) is his main rider, a soft-spoken orphan with a quick trigger finger. The other riders (all teenagers) are Bill Cody (who will eventually become Buffalo Bill), Jimmy Hickok (the future Wild Bill Hickok), female riders Emma Shannon and Louise "Lou" McCloud; the half-breed Little Buck and the ambitious Ike. Stories relate the obstacles the riders must overcome — from Indians, to outlaws, to bad weather — as they attempt to deliver the mail. The series was originally titled The Kid.

9319 Young Robin Hood. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1992). A youth oriented version of the legend of Robin Hood that follows a teenage Robin of Locksley, better known as Robin Hood, the man who stole from the rich to give to the poor, his Merry "Men" (Little John, Alan-A-Dale, Will Scarlet and Brother Tuck), his romantic interest (Maid Marion) and his enemy, the Sheriff of Nottingham, who has set his goal to capture and imprison the thief.

Voice Cast: Thor Bishopric (Robin Hood), Anik Matern (Maid Marion), Sonja Ball (Will Scarlet), A.J. Henderson (Sheriff of Nottingham), Michael O'Reilly (Alan-A-Dale), Michael Rudder (Prince John), Terrence Scammell (Little John), Harry Standjofski (Brother Tuck), Bronwen Mantel (Hagalab, the Good Witch), Kathleen Fee (Mathilda), Jessalyn Gilsig (Gertrude of Griswald).

9320 The Young Sentinels. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1977–1978). At a time when the Earth was young, Sentinel One, an intelligent life force from another galaxy, selected three young people for training on his planet. Granting them astounding powers and eternal youth, the three Earthlings — Hercules, Astria and Mercury — are returned to their native planet to watch over the human race and help the good survive and flourish. Now, with the guiding influence of Sentinel One and his maintenance robot, Mo, stories follow the Young Sentinels as they battle evil on Earth.

Sentinel One opens the show: “Many centuries ago three athletes were transported from their native lands to my world. Here they were granted astounding powers and eternal youth. They were returned to Earth. Their mission: to watch over the human race helping the good to survive and flourish. In the course of history, their names have become legends — Hercules, with the power and strength of a hundred men; Astria, able to assume any life form; Mercury, the amazing athlete who can match the speed of light. Working together with me, Sentinel One and my maintenance robot, Mo, these teen guardians form the greatest team the world has ever known — The Young Sentinels.”

Voice Cast: George DiCenzo (Hercules), Dee Timberlake (Astria), Evan Kim (Mercury), George DiCenzo (Sentinel One), Evan Kim (Mo).

9321 The Young Set. (Series; Discussion; ABC; 1965). A daily series of discussions on topical issues with actress Phyllis Kirk as the host. The series ran from September 6, 1965 to December 17, 1965.

An announcer opens the show: “It’s time for The Young Set. Today’s ideas, today’s stars, today’s minds. The Young Set with your host Phyllis Kirk and the music of Ray Martin and His Orchestra. And ladies and gentlemen, here is our lovely host, Miss Phyllis Kirk.”

9322 Your All American College Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1968). Performances by college entertainment acts (four per show). The winners, determined by three celebrity judges (guests) receive $1000.

Host: Dennis James, Rich Little, Arthur Godfrey.

9323 Your Chevrolet Showroom. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953–1954). The program showcases lesser-known talents, including singers, comedians, and musicians. The series, sponsored by Chevrolet, ran from November 20, 1953 to February 12, 1954.

Host: Cesar Romero.

9324 Your Favorite Story. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1953). Dramatizations based on stories selected by guests and hosted by actor Adolphe Menjou.

9325 Your First Impression. (Series; Game; NBC; 1962–1964). Three celebrities appear as the panel (one guest and two regulars). Before a mystery guest is identified, a list of five possible celebrities is displayed. Each of the panelists indirectly questions the host about the identity of the mystery guest. Once each panelist has asked his questions, they have to predict who the mystery celebrity is. The guest is brought out and prizes are awarded to the home viewers the panelists play for based on the outcome (a merchandise or cash prize for those whose panelist correctly identified the guest).

Host: Bill Leyden. Regular Panelist: Dennis James, George Kirby.

9326 Your Funny Funny Films. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1963). Amateur home movies are showcased. The photographer appears and narrates his films, which have been professionally reedited for laughs. The series ran from July 8, 1963 to September 9, 1963.

Host: George Fenneman.

9327 Your Hit Parade. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1958). America’s taste in popular music is dramatized (what today would be called a music video). The top songs of the day, which are played from number twelve “to the song that’s number one all over America,” are determined by surveys of the best sellers, sheet music and record sales, juke box selections and songs played over the radio. Based on the radio series of the same title.

Stars: Eileen Wilson, June Valli, Dorothy Collins, Snooky Lanson, Russell Arms, Gisele MacKenzie, Tommy Leonetti, Jill Corey, Alan Copeland, Virginia Gibson. Regulars: Niles and Fosse, The Hit Parade Singers, The Hit Parade Dancers. Announcer: Andre Baruch, John Laing. Orchestra: Raymond Scott, Peter Van Steeden, Dick Jacobs, Harry Sosnik.

9328 Your Hit Parade. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1958–1959). A revised version of the prior title. The top songs of the day are played (in dramatic form) from number twelve “to the song that’s number one all over America.”

Stars: Virginia Gibson, Johnny Desmond, Dorothy Collins, Jill Corey. Regulars: Sara Jane Tallman, Chuck Casey, Ken Bridges, Bob Sands, Marilyn Jackson, Ray Cooke, Dean Parker, Clair Chatwin, Helyne McLain, Lia Farmer, The Clay Warnick Singers. Announcer: Art Gilmore. Orchestra: Harry Sosnik.

9329 Your Hit Parade. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1974). A five episode update of the prior two titles that dramatizes (in the form of would today be called a music video) the top songs of the day, from number 12 “to the song that is number one all over America.”

Stars: Kelly Garrett, Chuck Wollery, Sheralee. Regulars: The Tom Hanson Dancers. Announcer: Art Gilmore. Choreographer: Tom Hanson.

9330 Your Jeweler’s Showcase. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1952–1953). Quality dramatic presentations that ran from November 1, 1952 to June 9, 1953.

Performers Include: Phyllis Coates, Celeste Holm, June Vinson, Barbara Whiting, Barton MacLane, Robert Sweeney, Robert Hutton, Jan Clayton, Dave Willock, Gladys George, Elisabeth Fraser, Sheldon Leonard, Lee Aaker, Martha Hyer, Ellen Corby, Ruth Warrick.

9331 Your Lucky Clue. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). A dramatic sketch, that outlines the facts of a criminal case, is enacted on stage but stooped prior to the denouncement. Players are then asked to solve the crime based on the clues that were presented during the reenactment. Players write down their answers and the sketch is concluded to reveal the culprit. Players who successfully solve the crime receive merchandise prizes. The summer series ran from July 1, 1952 to August 31, 1952.

Host: Basil Rathbone. Announcer: Andre Baruch.

9332 Your Luncheon Date. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1951–1952). An afternoon program of music, songs, and chatter that ran from November 9, 1951 to January 5, 1952.

Host: Hugh Downs. Vocalist: Nancy Wright. Music: The Art Van Damme Quintet.

9333 Your New Day. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1980). A daily series of consumer tips, beauty advice, exercise and related information geared to women.

Host: Vidal Sassoon. Regulars Suzy Prudden, Nina Blanchard. Announcer: John Harlan.

9334 Your Number's Up. (Series; Game; NBC; 1985). Three players compete and answer questions based on numbers that appear on a spinning wheel. One player chooses a number and is asked a question. If a player gives a correct response he scores one diamond and the number in play is placed on a large board. Prior to the game, studio audience members were asked to write down the last four digits of their phone numbers. When a studio audience member matches his phone number with the numbers that appear on the board, he is selected to chose the player he feels will win the game. The first contestant to score six diamonds is the winner and receives $500. If the studio audience player had chosen the same contestant to be the winner, he receives a merchandise prize.

Host: Nipsey Russell. Hostess: Lee Minney. Announcer: Gene Wood, John Harlan.

9335 Your Place or Mine? (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/27/78). Kelly Barnes is an attractive editorial assistant for Manhattan magazine who lives in Queens, but works in New York City. Jeff Burrell is a young free-lance writer who lives in Manhattan but longs for the tranquility of the country for his writing. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps that befall them when they meet, fall in love and decide to swap residences to be closer to what they each require. Other Regulars: Frances and Ernie, Kelly's parents; Linda, Kelly's neighbor; and Mrs. Hicks, Kelly's boss.

Cast: Jane Actman (Kelly Barnes), Stuart Gillard (Jeff Burrell), Alice Hirson (Frances Barnes), Peter Hobbs (Ernie Barnes), Judy Graubart (Linda Heller), Elizabeth Kerr (Mrs. Hicks). Guest Cast: Elizabeth Halliday (Carol), George Pentecost (Harold).

9336 Your Play Time. (Series; Anthology; CBS; NBC; 1954–1955). A series of original dramas (CBS, June 13, 1954 to September 5, 1954) and re-titled episodes from other anthology series (NBC, June 18, 1955 to September 3, 1955).

9337 Your Show of Shows. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1954). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy featuring high quality material and an outstanding cast of comedians. One of the very few live series whose material, marred only by faulty kinescopes, remains as fresh today as it was when originally broadcast. The program, television's first 90-minute series, ran from February 25, 1950 to June 5, 1954.

Host: Sid Caesar. Regulars: Imogene Coca, Carl Reiner, Howard Morris, Cliff Norton, Judy Johnson, Robert Merrill, Marguerite Piazza, Bill Hayes, Nellie Fisher, Virginia Curtis, Roy Drakeley, Rod Alexander, The Bob Hamilton Trio, The Billy Williams Quartet, The Chandra Kay Dancers. Announcer: Vaughn Monroe. Orchestra: Charles Sanford, Irwin Kostal, Tony Romano. Choral Director: Clay Warnick.

9338 Your Show of Shows. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1976). A syndicated, edited version of the prior title that consists of new opening and closing themes and introductions by Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca. Kinescope clips from the original series are shown.

Hosts: Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca.

9339 Your Show Time. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1949). An early series of filmed dramas that produced 26 episodes and ran from January 21, 1949 to July 15, 1949.

9340 Your Star Showcase. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1953). Rebroadcasts of dramas that were originally aired on The General Electric Theater. See this title for information. Edward Arnold served as the host.

9341 Your Surprise Package. (Series; Game; CBS; 1961–1962). A large box, that contains merchandise items, is displayed on stage. The value of the box, but not its contents, is revealed to three competing players. A general knowledge question is read. The player who correctly answers it receives cash and the opportunity to purchase buying time with which to question the host concerning the contents of the surprise package. The game continues until one player wins by identifying the contents of the box (which becomes his prize).

Host: George Fenneman. Announcer: Bern Bennett.

9342 Your Surprise Store. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). Selected studio audience members compete in a series of question-and-answer rounds or by performing various stunts. The player with the highest quiz score (most correct answers) or the player who is most successful at completing stunts, receives the opportunity to select valuable merchandise items from a surprise store that is constructed on stage. The series ran from May 12, 1952 to June 27, 1952.

Host: Lew Parker. Assistant: Jacqueline Susann. Announcer: Bern Bennett.

9343 Your World Tomorrow. (Experimental; News; DuMont; 4/30/44). The first attempt at a thirty-minute news program that was divided into three segments. The first dealt with straight news reporting on that week's industrial advances and how they will affect America. Part two related the aspects of post-war housing (with architect Walter Darwin Teague). The finale featured a musical sketch with Jessica Dragonette and Isham Constable.

Newscaster: Dick Bradley.

9344 You're Gonna Love It Here. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/1/77). Lolly Rogers is a famous Broadway star who is suddenly made the temporary guardian of her eleven-year-old grandson (Peter) when the boy's parents are jailed for tax evasion. The proposed series was to follow Lolly's efforts to change her life to accommodate Peter.

Cast: Ethel Merman (Lolly Rogers), Christopher Barnes (Peter Rogers), Austin Pendleton (Harry Rogers; Lolly's son and agent). Theme Vocal: "You're Gonna Love It Here" by Ethel Merman.

9345 You're in the Picture. (Series; Game; CBS; 1961). Each of the four celebrity panelists who appear is situated behind large picture scenes (like those found in amusement parks) with their heads through appropriate cutouts. Through a series of clues that are related by the host, the players have to identify their particular situation.

After the first telecast, the above format was dropped

(as host Jackie Gleason felt the idea was awful). Jackie appeared the following week to apologize for the initial episode. The remainder of the series, titled The Jackie Gleason Show became a short-lived talk show with Jackie interviewing guests and talking about his career. The series aired as You're in the Picture for one episode (January 20, 1961) and as The Jackie Gleason Show from January 27, 1961 to March 24, 1961.

Host: Jackie Gleason. Panelists: Keenan Wynn, Pat Carroll, Jan Sterling, Arthur Treacher.

9346 You're Invited. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1948). A summer program of music and songs that spotlights the performances of guests. The series ran from July 1, 1948 to September 20, 1948.

Host: Ralph Vincent.

9347 You're Just Like Your Father. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/13/76). Harry Toffler, Sr. is a divorced businessman who lives with his son, Harry, Jr., and his wife, Cheryl, an insurance agent. Father and son are partners in the near-bankrupt Toffler Enterprises and both believe in the great American Dream that success is just around the corner. Unfortunately, it is not and the two sort of sponge off Cheryl while hoping one of their get rich quick schemes will put them on easy street. The unsold series was to follow their comic adventures as they seek that big score. Claudine is Harry, Sr.'s romantic interest.

Cast: Dick Shawn (Harry Toffler, Sr.), Barry Gordon (Harry Toffler, Jr.), Nellie Bellflower (Cheryl Toffler), Maureen Arthur (Claudine).

9348 You're on Your Own. (Series; Game; CBS; 1956–1957). Three players compete in a series of general-knowledge question-and-answer rounds. Correct answers score players one point; incorrect responses force players to perform a humiliating stunt. The player with the most correct answers is the winner.

Host: Steve Dunne.

9349 You're Only Young Once. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/11/62). A proposed series about Casey and Liz McDermott, newlyweds who are also students at the University of Southern California. The pilot episode relates the McDermotts' move into the college housing complex, Benedict Village, and the troubles that ensue when Mildred Offenbach, Casey's beautiful former flame, appears to congratulate him on his recent marriage (and arouses Liz's jealous streak).

Cast: Jim Hutton (Casey McDermott), Patricia Blair (Liz McDermott). Guest Cast: Dorothy Provine (Mildred Offenbach), Charles Briggs (Piggy Burke), Lynn Alden (Midge Burke), Frank Killmond (Randall Fletcher), Ann Morgan Guilbert (Connie Fletcher), Gary Hunley (Young Tiger), Philip O'Hanlon (Mopy Burke).

9350 You're Only Young Twice. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/1/60). After their children marry, a middle-aged couple (Charles and Kit Tyler) decide to retire and rediscover life. Their attempts to do so, despite constant intervention from their children, was to be the focal point of the series. In the pilot episode, Charles and Kit embark on their second honeymoon. Other Regulars: Lois, their daughter; and Arthur, Lois's husband.

Cast: George Murphy (Charles Tyler), Martha Scott (Kit Tyler), Sue Randall (Lois), Roger Perry (Arthur), Jane Darwell (Olga; guest role).

9351 You're Only Young Twice. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/3/67). Professor Hubert Abernathy is a scientist with a knack for inventing unusual devices. One day he invents a rejuvenation pill that temporarily makes people ten years younger. The proposed series was to relate brief incidents in the lives of the people who take the pill. In the pilot episode, Hubert attempts to help a depressed 39-year-old housewife (Betsy) by offering her the opportunity to become young again.

Cast: Ed Wynn (Hubert Abernathy), Ethel Waters (Carrie; his housekeeper). Guest Cast: Kathryn Hays (Betsy Fleming), Andrew Duggan (George Fleming), Steve Dunne (Charlie), Andy Devine (Andy), Jerry Van Dyke (George), Dwayne Hickman (Lennie), Patricia Crowley (Joan).

9352 You're Putting Me On. (Series; Game; NBC; 1969). Six celebrities, divided into three two-member teams, compete. One member of each team is given the name of a famous celebrity. The player has to get his partner to guess who he is by assuming that celebrity's identity. If the teammate gives the correct name, they score one point. Winners are the highest-scoring teams. Selected members of the studio audience, who are represented by the celebrities, receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Bill Cullen, Larry Blyden. Panelists: Anne Meara, Peggy Cass.

9353 Yours for a Song. (Series; Game; ABC; 1961–1963). The lyrics to a popular song, which contain certain word omissions, are flashed on a screen. The first player, of two who compete, who identifies himself through a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. For each correct word that he is able to fill in, he receives $20. Winners, who receive their earnings, are the highest cash scorers. The series ran in prime time from November 14, 1961 to September 18, 1963; and on ABC daytime from December 4, 1961 to March 29, 1963.

Host: Bert Parks. Model: Michaelina Martel. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

9354 Yu-Gi-Oh! GX. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2005–2006). Jaden Yuki is a young boy who lives in a future time. He is a student at Duel Academy, a martial arts institute owned by the Kaiba Corporation. Other students are Alexis Rhodes, Bastion Misawa, Chazz Princeton, Zane Truesdale and her brother Syrus Truesdale. Stories follow Jaden and his fellow classmates as they use their martial arts abilities to battle evil. Produced in Japan.

Voice Cast: Matthew Charles (Jaden Yuki), Wayne Grayson (Syrus Truesdale), Anthony Salerno (Chazz Princeton), Priscilla Everett (Alexis), Eric Stewart (Bastion), Scottie Ray (Zane), Jason Griffith (Harrington), Ted Lewis (Chumley Huffington), Sean Schemmel (Dr. Vellian Crowler), Veronica Taylor (Ms. Sorothy), David Wills (Principal Sheppard).

9355 The Yum Yums. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 4/7/90). A proposed series about a loveable group of animals called Yum Yums and their nemesis, the Sour Pusses, who delight in annoying the Yum Yums. In the pilot episode, the Sour Pusses attempt to ruin the opening day of the Yum Yum's fun park.

Voices: Charlie Adler, Nancy Cartwright, Stacey Nelkin, Noelle North, Susan Silo, B.J. Ward, Frank Welker.

9356 Yuma. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 3/2/71). A proposed series about Dave Harmon, a tough U.S. Marshal who relentlessly battles lawlessness. In the pilot episode, Harmon attempts to clean up a frontier town filled with bitter cattlemen and crooked businessmen.

Cast: Clint Walker (Marshal Dave Harmon). Guest Cast: Barry Sullivan (Nels Decker), Kathryn Hays (Julie Williams), Edgar Buchanan (Mules McNeil), Morgan Woodward (Arch King), Peter Mark Richman (Major Lucas), John Kerr (Captain White), Bruce Glover (Sam King).

9357 The Zack Files. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2001). Zack Greenburg is a student at the Horace Hyde White School for Boys. He is also a teenager that life has apparently chosen to befall strange happenings. Zack doesn't go looking for such things but weird things just keep happening to him (Zack believes that life is weird and full of odd and spooky things. He has opened his eyes and can see them; most people haven't).

Zack's friend, Spencer Sharpe records all the unusual events that happen to Zack (he is "The Keeper of the Zack Files") and stories follow Zack, Spencer and their friend, Gwen (the only girl student at the school) as they investigate strange happenings to find out what they don't understand. Gwen works as a waitress at her Uncle's pizza parlor; her father is the school's headmaster (hence the reason for her enrollment). Cameron and Vernon are other students.

Cast: Robert Clark (Zack Greenburg), Michael Seater (Spencer Sharpe), Katie Boland (Gwendolyn "Gwen" Killerby), Noah Griffin (Vernon Mantuelfel), Jake Epstein (Cameron Dunleavy), Jeff Clarke (Daniel Greenburg; Zack's father), Marvin Karnon (Headmaster Killerby).

9359 Zatch Bell. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2005). While exploring a forest in England, an archeology professor (Takomine) discovers an unconscious and apparently dying child. The professor saves the boy’s life. The boy, who is suffering from amnesia can only recall his name — Zatch Bell. Unknown to the professor, Zatch is actually an alien king, a member of the Momado World. Every one thousand years the Momados descend upon the Earth to conduct battle tournaments to declare a new king (the one who outperforms all others). In a further effort to help Zatch, the professor sends him to Japan to live with his 14-year-old son, Kiyo. The professor hopes that his genius son can help Zatch regain his memory. Kiyo and Zatch become friends and stories follow them as they seek to uncover Zatch’s mysterious past. As they begin, Momado warriors — who are seeking to defeat Zatch and become the next king, suddenly confront them.

Voice Cast: Debi Derryberry (Zatch Bell), Jason Spisak (Kiyo Takamine), Phil Hayes (Professor Takamine), Leslie Carrara (Kiyo’s mother). Additional Voices: Robbie Rist, Mona Marshall, Scott Menville, Jeff Nimoy, David Rasner, Roger Rose.

9360 Zazoo U. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1990). Zazoo University is an unusual school for unusual animals — animals that are offbeat and socially conscious. Through their antics life lessons are related to children. Although aimed at children, it was presented in an offbeat style (very artsy) that was above the mentality of its target audience and dropped shortly after.

Voice Cast: Tress MacNeille (Ms. Devine), Stu Rosen (Dr. Russell), S. Scott Bullock (Slogo Bonito), Michael Horton (Boink), Jerry Houser (Grizzle), Neilson Ross (Logan Chomper), Danny Mann (Rarf), Brian Cummings (Bully), Dorian Harewood (Rawld-O), Susan Silo (Tess).

9361 Zero Intelligence. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/10/76). A lighter side of the Cold War as seen through the activities of a group of servicemen stationed at a top-secret radar station in Alaska in 1959.

Cast: Don Galloway (Higgins), Sorrell Booke (Deerfield), Tom Rosqui (Fred), Michael Huddleston (Arnold), Chu Chu Malave (Ruben), Clyde Kusatsu (Mo).

9362 Zero One. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1962). Alan Garrett is the head of Airline Security International, an airline crime-detection organization, based in London, England. Alan’s job is safeguard passengers and insure airline safety. He is assisted by Maya and Jimmy and stories follow their investigations into situations that threaten outgoing (sometimes incoming) flights.

Cast: Nigel Patrick (Alan Garrett), Katya Douglas (Maya), Bill Smith (Jimmy Delaney).

9363 Zixx: Level One. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 2004). Zixx Phunkee Zee is an alien from a distant galaxy who has landed on Earth and assumed the form of a human female. Zixx, however, is not evil and has come to the planet to save it from Deith, an evil alien (leader of the Goeke), who is bent on ruining the universe. Zixx is a student of her planet’s Academy. She is assisted by fellow alien, Flanngo, but they cannot battle the dark forces alone as there is also a parallel threat — level one of a virtual reality game called “The Keep” that also needs to be conquered. To help her and Flanngo, Zixx chooses two video game smart 12-year-old boys, Adam and Griff, to assist them. The series combines live action with animation (the video game segment) as an unlikely group of heroes battle to save the planet. See also Zixx: Level Two.

Voice Cast: Barbara Mamabolo (Zixx), Jeffrey Hirschfield (Flanngo), Jamie Johnston (Adam), Duane Murray (The Man).

9364 Zixx: Level Two. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 2005). The second season title (with a change in characters) for Zixx: Level One (see prior title). When the evil Dark Lord Oncalon becomes a threat to the survival of the planet Earth, Zixx and Flanngo leave their prior series assistants, Adam and Griff, and head for new territory where they enlist the help of 16-year-old Riley, his 12-year-old cousin Meghan, and their geek-like 13-year-old friend Dwayne. Oncalon is clever: he utilizes earthlings to do his bidding (such as Jayda, Marko and Earl) and Zixx and company must now be just as clever as they battle a level two threat to the universe.

Voice Cast: Barbara Mamabolo (Zixx), Jeffrey Hirschfield (Flanngo), Ephraim Ellis (Riley), Brenna O’Brien (Meghan), Reece Thompson (Dwayne), Agam Darshi (Jayda), Michael Eklund (Earl), Tyler Johnston (Marko), Jill Teed (Janice), Chelan Simmons (Louie), Chris Gauthier (Verg).

9365 Zoe, Duncan, Jack and Jane. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1999–2000). Zoe Bean, Duncan Milch and Jack and Jane Cooper are four close friends who reside in New York City. They attend Fielding High School and hang out at a coffee house called Cafe 'n Pastries in Greenwich Village.

Zoe lives in Chelsea (Apartment 16) with her single mother Iris. Zoe has a dog (Wally) and she is sometimes mistaken for Alyssa Milano (rather than disappoint people, she signs autographs in Alyssa's name). When she is between boyfriends, Zoe wears a purple skirt that Jane calls "the available skirt." Zoe considers herself "a sexy young thing" and the emotional glue that holds the group together. She also believes her mother dates freaks and deserves better.

Iris asks only one thing of Zoe when a date calls: "Be a nice Zoe." Iris attends weekly "Divorced and Bitter Wives" meetings and when she shows cleavage before meeting a date, Zoe pulls up her blouse and tells her to cover up.

Duncan Milch lives in Chelsea and is the least secure of the group. He has a butterfly collection and can't stand up to his domineering mother (who clings to him because he is all she has left). Duncan has a pigeon (Pidgey) and carries a picture of himself with Mayor McCheese (from McDonald's commercials) in his wallet.

Jack is an overconfident hustler forever in search of a fast buck. He has a thing for older women and goes out of his way to impress them (he believes he radiates poise; Zoe believes "Jack is a disillusioned freak who thinks that every older woman loves him"). He also likes to hear himself speak — "and it doesn't matter what I say."

Jane is Jack's paternal twin. Zoe is her best friend and she masks her insecurity with deadpan humor and a cool attitude. Although sexy, Jane studies other girls to see what makes them sexy and copies what strikes her fancy. Before each date, Jane and Zoe wear push-up bras — "for cleavage purposes only," says Zoe. Jane becomes extremely jealous if Zoe attaches herself to another girl, and changes her personalities to accommodate what a guy she is with likes. Overall, Jane is cynical and sour "and that's what I like about you," says Zoe.

Second season episodes are set three years later and titled Zoe. Zoe, majoring in psychology, Jane, studying to become a photographer, and Jack attend college. Zoe, who shares Apartment 9H with Jane, is also the manager of the Ching Hi Chinese Restaurant. Duncan works as an internet designer at American Webnet. Iris has been dropped.

Cast: Selma Blair (Zoe Bean), Mary Page Keller (Iris Bean), Azura Skye (Jane Cooper), David Moscow (Duncan Milch), Michael Rosenbaum (Jack Cooper).

9366 Zoey. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 2/1/85). A proposed spin-off from Matt Houston about Zoey

Martin, a beautiful private investigator who uses the latest in scientific technology to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, titled "The Beach Club Murders," Zoey teams with Matt Houston to find an extortionist who has resorted to killing — the first victim of which was her sister.

Cast: Deborah Adair (Zoey Martin). Guest Cast: Geoffrey Scott (Fred Logan), Richard Herd (Andrew Moffitt), Patty Lotz (Desk clerk), Valerie Wildman (Beth), Cis Rundle (Chris), Lee Horsley (Matt Houston).

9367 Zoey 101. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2005–2008). Zoey Brooks is a very pretty 13-year-old girl who likes to take chances and be different. She proves this to the fullest when she enrolls as a student at Pacific Coast Academy (PCA for short), an all-male boarding school that has just become co-ed (the school her brother, Dustin also attends). Stories follow events in Zoey's life as she and her friends, Dana, Lola and Nicole, struggle to fit in a school that is heavily populated by boys. In virtually every episode Zoey dresses like a girl — in a skirt or dress, something her female classmates rarely do. Zoey resides in Room 101 at Fulton Hall on campus; The Sushi Rox is the local campus eatery.

Cast: Jamie Lynn Spears (Zoey Brooks), Kristin Herrera (Dana Cruz), Victoria Justice (Lola Martinez), Alexa Nikolas (Nicole Bristow), Paul Butcher (Dustin Brooks), Sean Flynn (Chase Matthews), Matthew Underwood (Logan Reese), Christopher Massey (Michael Barrett), Erin Sanders (Quinn Pensky), Jack Salvatore, Jr. (Mark Del Figgalo), Jessica Chaffin (Coco), Christopher Murray (Dean Rivers).

9368 Zoids: Chaotic Century. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2002). Zi is a planet that exists on the outer regions of the Milky Way. It is a planet inhabited by Zoids, metallic life forms that possess incredible fighting abilities. There are also two superior races on Zi: the Republicans and the Guylos Empire. There is also an on-going war with the Republicans and the Imperial Forces of the Guylos Empire (each is seeking control of the planet). The war has reached a point where both sides are not on the verge of destroying each other, but the planet as well. Fate intervenes and unites three heroes to stop the war: Van Flyheight, a young Republican; Fiona, an ancient Zoid awakened from a long sleep; and Zeke, a Zoid with the ability to fuse with other Zoids to form an incredible fighting machine. Stories relate Van, Fiona and Zeke's efforts to prevent an approaching disaster by bringing down Prozan, the evil Guylos Prime Minister who is seeking to become emperor of Zi.

nell), Jennifer Holder (Maria Flybeight), Robert Scott Henrickson (Raven), Colleen Blackmore (Alina), Victor Atelevich (Jaro), Jonathan Love (Col. Karl Shubaltz), Onalea Gilbertson (Moonbay), Kurtis Sanheim (Capt. Rob Herman), Katie Towan (Marienne).

9369 The Zoo Gang. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1975). Steve Halliday, Manouche Roget, Tom Devon and Alec Marlowe are former World War II resistance fighters known as “The Zoo Gang.” The Fox (Steve), the Leopard (Manouche), the Elephant (Tom) and the Tiger (Alec) reunite 33 years later (1975) to battle crime in Europe. Steve has become an antiques dealer, Manouche owns the Les Pêcheurs Bar in France (their headquarters), Tom is a jeweler and Alec is a mechanic.

Stories relate the Zoo Gang’s efforts to foil evil by incorporating their former skills to defeat the modern-day criminal. Jill Barton is Tom’s niece; Police Lieutenant Georges Roget is Manouche’s son.

Cast: Brian Keith (Steven Halliday), Lili Palmer (Manouche Roget), John Mills (Tom Devon), Barry Morse (Alec Marlowe), Seretta Wilson (Jill Barton), Michael Petrovitch (Georges Roget). Theme: “The Zoo Gang” by Paul and Linda McCartney.

9370 Zoobilee Zoo. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1986). The Zoobiles are magical animals that live at Zoobilee Zoo. The animals have human characteristics and the ability to sing, dance and tell jokes. Stories spotlight the talents of these creatures as they present learning lessons to children.

Cast: Ben Vereen (Mayor Ben), Louise Vallance (Wazzut Kangaroo), Sandy Grinn (Bill DeBeaver), Michael Sheehan (Bill DeBeaver; later), Michael D. Moynihan (Lookout Bear), Forrest Gardner (Van Go Lion), Gary Schwartz (Bravo Fox), Karen Hartman (Talkatoo Cuckatoo), Roger Behr (Limerick Leprechaun), Roger Peltz (Rhymin’ Simon).

9371 Zorro. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1957–1961). Spanish California in 1820 is the setting. On a ship bound for Old Los Angeles, Don Diego de la Vega, a Spanish nobleman, is returning home to Monterey after three years of study at the University of Spain. He has been summoned by his father, Don Alejandro, to help fight a tyrant, the new comandante, Enrique Monasterio, who has imposed harsh laws and taxes on the people in his quest to become the richest man in California.

In his cabin aboard ship, Don Diego tells his mute servant Bernardo that he must find a way to deal with Monasterio without arousing suspicion that his father has summoned him home. Bernardo uses sign language to suggest force — “No, Bernardo. I’m dealing with a powerful enemy. We must play another game.” Just then Don Diego recalls a proverb: “When you cannot clothe yourself in the skin of a lion, put on that of a fox. I must convince the new comandante that I am perfectly harmless. Instead of a man of action, I shall be a man of letters, an innocent scholar interested only in the arts and sciences.” With his plan half organized, Don Diego then devises his secret alias, the man who will fight Monasterio — “Zorro — the Fox.” He then chooses a black mask and outfit to disguise his true identity. However, to make his plan work, he must also conceal his secret identity from his father.

The de la Vegas are the most important family in southern California. Zorro’s base is a secret cave below his hacienda in Monterey. Zorro rides a black horse named Tornado and his trademark is the carved sign of the Z.

While Zorro is an expert marksman, Don Diego pretends to be inexperienced at fencing. To further cover his tracks as Zorro, Diego teaches Bernardo to play the guitar (to make it appear that Don Diego is in his room practicing when in reality he is out battling injustice as Zorro). Although Zorro helps people, he is considered a criminal by the authorities. Zorro, “a friend of the people,” is “the defender of the oppressed” and “the champion of justice.”

After battling Monasterio for several months, Zorro finds a new enemy when Enrique is found to be corrupt by the Viceroy (John Dehner) and arrested. Captain Arturo Pollidano, the new magistrate, replaces him and vows to bring the criminal Zorro to justice.

Sergeant Demetrio Lopez Garcia is the bumbling second in command, a soldier of the King’s lancers (he replaces Arturo in second season episodes). Cresencia is the de la Vega maid; Anna Maria Verdugo is Don Diego’s romantic interest; Ricardo Delano is Don Diego’s rival for Anna Maria’s hand.

Senor Esteban de la Cruz (Cesar Romero) is Don Diego’s playboy uncle on his mother’s side; Lt. Rafael Santos (Carlos Romero) is another “bad man” who plagued Zorro; Ignacio “Nacio” Torres (Jan Arvan) is Don Diego’s neighbor; Elena Torres (Eugenia Paul) is Ignacio’s daughter; Father Felipe (Joseph Calleia) is the padre at the Mission de San Gabriel.

In addition to 78 half-hour episodes (1957–59), four one hour programs were produced and aired on Walt Disney Presents on the following dates: October 30, 1960 (“El Bandito”), November 6, 1960 (“Adios el Cuchillo”), January 1, 1961 (“The Postponed Wedding”) and April 2, 1961 (“Auld Acquaintance”).

Cast: Guy Williams (Don Diego/Zorro), Gene Sheldon (Bernardo), George J. Lewis (Don Alejandro), Henry Calvin (Sgt. Garcia), Britt Lomond (Captain Monasterio), Peter Adams (Captain Pollidano), Penny Santon (Cresencia), Jolene Brand (Marc Verdugo), Richard Anderson (Ricardo Delano), Carlos Romero (Lt. Rafael Santos), Jan Arvan (Ignacio Torres), Joseph Calleia (Father Felipe), Annette Funicello (Anna Cabrillo; 1959), Annette Funicello (Constancia de al Torres; 1961). Theme: “Zorro” by George Bruns and Norman Foster.

9372 Zorro. (Series; Adventure; Family Channel; 1990–1993). An adaptation of the 1957 ABC series about Don Diego, a peace-loving Spanish nobleman who is secretly Zorro, a daring defender of the oppressed in Old California (1820s). It is here that the evil Alcalde Luis Ramon has imposed his unfair laws on the poor people. By day Don Diego appears as a wealthy but seemingly lazy man-about-town; by night he dons a black outfit and becomes Zorro to battle Ramon's injustices (later Alcalde Ignacio De Soto when Ramon is replaced).

Cast: Duncan Regehr (Don Diego/Zorro), Michael Tylo (Luis Ramon), Juan Diego Botto (Felipe), John Hetzler (Ignacio DeSoto), Efreem Zimbalist, Jr. (Don Alejandro), Henry Darrow (Don Alejandro; later), Patrice Cahmi Martinez (Victoria Escalante), James Victor (Sergeant Mendoza).

9373 Zorro. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1997). Old California is the setting but the story deviates greatly from the 1957 ABC version in that Don Diego/Zorro uses not only his whip and sword to defeat the evil Captain Montecero, head of the Los Angeles Garrison, but futuristic devices unheard of in the 19th century (for example, submarines, robots, steam powered wheelchairs, automatic guns). Zorro is aided by Isabella Torres, the daughter of his neighbor. Ursula is an Indian sorceress who conjures up ghosts and ghouls. Sergeant Garcia assists the captain; Don Alejandro is Don Diego's father. Also known as The New Adventures of Zorro.

Voice Cast: Michael Gough II (Don Diego/Zorro), Earl Boen (Captain Montecero), Jeannie Elias (Isabella Torres), Mary Kay Bergman (Ursula), Tony Pope (Sergeant Garcia), Pat Faraley II (Don Alejandro).

9374 Zorro and Son. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1983). A satirical version of Walt Disney's Zorro (ABC, 1957–59). The original series told the story of Don Diego de la Vega (Guy Williams), a young Spanish nobleman, who was summoned to Old California by his father to battle injustice. To battle evil he adopted a dual personality, that of Don Diego, a handsome man about town, and Zorro, a mysterious figure designed to strike fear into the hearts of evil doers.

The new version begins twenty-five years later with Don Diego still trying to defend the people of Old Los Angeles from their oppressors. However, "the old gray fox isn't what he used to be" and his inability to perform as Zorro should prompts Bernardo, Diego's faithful servant, to send to Spain for Diego's son, Don Carlos, in the hope that the young man may help his father. When Don Carlos arrives in California and discovers that the new commandant, Paco Pico, is unfairly imposing his law on the citizens, he is instilled with a desire to help them.

Seeing this, Don Diego reveals to his son his other identity — and begins a quest to train his son as the new Zorro, defender of the people. Stories depict the comical adventures of Zorro and Son as they struggle to protect the oppressed.

Cast: Henry Darrow (Don Diego/Zorro), Paul Regina (Don Carlos/Zorro, Jr.), Bill Dana (Bernardo), Gregory Sierra (Paco Pico), Richard Beauchamp (Sergeant Sepulveda), John Moschitta, Jr. (Corporal Cassette), Barney Martin (Brothers Napa and Sonoma), Catherine Parks (Señorita Anita).

9375 Zorro: The Sword and the Rose. (Series; Drama; Telemundo; 2006–2007). A Spanish language telenova with English subtitles. The series is based on the 2005 novel by Isabel Miller but encompasses the characters from the 1957 ABC series Zorro. The setting is Old Los Angeles in the 1820s. In the original series, the hero, Don Diego de la Vega was a Spanish nobleman. Here is depicted as the son of a white father (Don Alejandro de la Vega) and a Native American mother (Toypurnia; name changed to Regina when she married).

Don Diego is an accomplished swordsman. He grew up witnessing the injustices of Old California and to help the people fight oppression, he has become Zorro, a masked crusader who battles the evils of Fernando Sanchez de Moncada, the evil dictator. Zorro does have Bernardo, his mute servant, but here he is backed by a secret society called the Knights of the Broken Thorn. The only other character from the original series is Sergeant Garcia.

The new series introduces several additional characters: Esmeralda Moncada, Moncada's widowed sister, the girl with whom Zorro falls in love with (creating a conflict as he can not reveal his true identity); Mariangel, the woman who falls in love with Don Diego (who can not reveal he is Zorro); she also has a sinister plan to steal the de la Vega fortune. Maria, Alejandro's sister; Ricardo Montero de Avila, the comandante and Zorro's enemy; Anibal Pizarro, Montero's captain; Mercedes, Esmeralda's mother; Padre Tomas Villaite, Don Diego's mentor; and Dolores, the slave girl who helped raise Don Diego. Stories, which strongly focus on Don Diego's romantic encounters, also spotlight his attempts to defeat Montero and Moncada.

Cast: Christian Meier (Don Diego de la Vega/Zorro), Osvaldo Rios (Don Alejandro de la Vega), Marlene Favela (Esmeralda Sanchez de Moncada), Autro Peniche (Fernando Sanchez de Moncada), Harry Geithner (Richard Montero de Avila), Ricardo Gonzalez (Bernardo), Adriana Campos (Regina), Andrea Lopez (Mariangel Sanchez de Moncada), Carmen Marina Torres (Dolores), Cesar Mora (Sgt. Garcia), Andrea Montenegro (Maria Pia de la Vega), Hector Suarez Gomis (Anibal Pizarro), Jorge Cao (Padre Tomas Cillaite).
