3950 The Invisible Woman. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/13/83). Hoping to get a scoop from her biochemist uncle (Dudley Plunkett), Sandy Martinson, a cub reporter for the Washington, D.C., Daily Express, touches a spilled chemical solution (mixed when spilled by Dudley's lab chimp, Chuck) that renders her invisible. When Sandy learns that Dudley is unable to reduplicate the formula to make her visible again, she makes the best of the situation and uses her misfortune to investigate stories. By using makeup, contact lenses, caps, a wig and clothes, Sandy appears as a normal girl. The unsold series was to relate Sandy's adventures as she uses her invisibility to investigate and solve crimes. The pilot episode depicts how Sandy became invisible, her uncle's efforts to return Sandy to normal, and Sandy's efforts to solve a series of art museum robberies.

Other Regulars: Neil, Sandy's editor; Dan Williams, Sandy's boyfriend, a police lieutenant; and Spike, the sportswriter for the paper.

Cast: Bob Denver (Dudley Plunkett), Alexa Hamilton (Sandy Martinson), David Doyle (Neil Gilmore), Jacques Tate (Dan Williams), Ron Palillo (Spike Mitchell). Guest Cast: Harvey Korman (Carlisle Edwards), Garrett Morris (Craig Larkin), Richard Sanders (Orville), Anne Haney (Mrs. Van Dam), George Gobel (Dr. Farrington), Mel Stewart (Museum guard). Theme Vocal: "She Must Be Around Here Someplace" by David Frank.

3952 Irene Wicker Story Time. (Series; Children; ABC; 1948). The alternate title for The Singing Lady. See this title for information.

3953 Irene. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/19/81). Irene Cannon is a hopeful singer who leaves her home in Omaha to pursue a career in New York City. She begins by acquiring a job as a waitress at Dotty Bushmill's Talent Hutch and the unsold series was to chart her rocky climb up the ladder of success. The pilot episode relates Irene's efforts to impress a handsome basketball player (Ray) she meets at work. Other Regulars: Dede and Lois, Irene's roommates; Lloyd, Irene's uncle; Dotty, the club owner; and Michael, a waiter at the club.

3954 Iron Horse. (Series; Western; ABC; 1966–1968). Wyoming during the 1870s is the setting. The story of Ben Calhoun, a rugged gentleman cowboy who wins a near-bankrupt railroad (The Buffalo Pass, Scalplock and Defiance Rail Road) in a poker game, and his efforts to establish a successful operation. Dave Tarrant is Ben's partner; Barnabas Rogers and Nils Torvald are Ben's assistants; Julie Parsons is the freight line operator. Ben's horse is named Hannibal; Ulysses is his pet raccoon.

Cast: Dale Robertson (Ben Calhoun), Gary Collins (Dave Tarrant), Bob Rando (Barnabas Rogers), Roger Torrey (Nils Torvald), Ellen McRae (Julie Parsons).

3955 Iron Man. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1994–1995). Tony Stark is a billionaire industrialist who heads Stark Enterprises. He is also Iron Man, a mysterious armor-clad super hero who battles evil wherever he finds it. Tony has created armor that is unique: it adapts to different environments and becomes whatever Tony needs to protect him. Tony's principal enemy is Mandarin, a villain with the power of his ten deadly rings, who is seeking to take over Tony's company; Justin Hammer is another villain Tony battles. Stories relate Tony's efforts to defeat the evils that plague his city. Based on the comic book of the same name.

3956 The Iron Mask. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1958). France in the seventeenth century was the setting for an unsold series about Philippe, an escaped political prisoner who is secretly the Iron Mask, a daring crusader who defends the people against the soldiers of King Louis XIV.

Cast: ? (Philippe; the actor portraying the role was never revealed), Lynn Roberts (Louise), Dorothy Patrick (Constance), Carl Esmond (Chief of Police).

3957 Ironside. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1967–1975). While on vacation, Robert T. Ironside, Chief of Detectives of the San Francisco Police Department, is shot by an assassin and crippled when the bullet shatters his spinal column. Determined to continue his crusade against crimes, he is appointed special consultant to the S.F.P.D. and assigned a team of agents: Sergeant Eve Whitfield, Sergeant Ed Brown and Marc Sanger (Robert's helper). Stories relate Ironside and his team's battle against crime and corruption. Diana Sanger is Marc's wife.

Cast: Raymond Burr (Robert T. Ironside), Barbara Anderson (Sgt. Eve Whitfield), Ed Galloway (Sgt. Fran Belding), Don Mitchell (Marc Sanger), Jane Pringle (Diana Sanger), Gene Lyons (Police Commissioner Randall), Jessie Royce Landis (Robert's Aunt Victoria).

3958 Is There a Doctor in the House? (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/22/71). Wendell Falls is a small, conservative New England town. Timothy Newly is its kindly physician and Michael Griffin, a recent medical school graduate is his female assistant. Newly hired Michael sight unseen because he thought she was a man. The proposed series was to relate Michael's efforts to prove herself to Newly and to the townspeople (who are distrustful of women doctors) that she is a capable physician. The pilot episode gives Michael her first opportunity to prove her abilities when Timothy sprains his wrist and she fills in for him. Emma is Newly's housekeeper.

Cast: William Windom (Dr. Timothy Newly), Rosemary Forsyth (Dr. Michael Griffin), Margaret Hamilton (Emma Procter). Guest Cast: Ray Young (Josh Miller), Jordan Rhodes (Joe Tyler), Cynthia Hull (Peggy Tyler), Ian Wolfe (Amos Sweeney), William Hansen (Charlie Larkin), Jill Foster (Mrs. Hancock), Kim O'Brien (Liza Hancock).

3959 Isabel Sanford's Honeymoon Hotel. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 1/87). A proposed daily series about Isabel Scott, the manager of Isabel's Honeymoon Hotel, a debt-ridden inn staffed by an assortment of odd characters (Carlton, the manager; Martha, his assistant; Mel, the bartender; and Agnes, the chambermaid). Other Regulars: Jolie Scott, Isabel's niece; K.C., Isabel's ex-husband; and Rooster, Jolie's friend.

3960 Isis. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1975–1978). While on an expedition in Egypt, high school science teacher Andrea Thomas uncovers a magic amulet that is possessed of unique powers. The amulet, given to the queen by the Royal Sorcerer, Thuhaupee, endows its possessor with the powers of Isis, the Egyptian goddess of fertility. Later, when at home in California, Andrea decides to use the powers of the amulet to help good defeat evil.

Andrea, a teacher at Larkspur High School, is now "The dedicated foe of evil, defender of the weak and champion of truth and justice." Andrea wears the amulet as her necklace. When she holds it and says "O Mighty Isis," she becomes Isis (the skies darken around her, the symbol of Isis is seen and Andrea is magically transformed into the goddess. She is able to soar, has power over animals and the ability to control the elements of earth, sea and sky).

As Isis, Andrea wears a white tunic with a short skirt and a tiara that allows her to see beyond her normal vision. Her hair also increases in length — from Andrea's mid-back length to hip length for Isis. Little effort is made to hide JoAnna Cameron's beauty as Andrea. Conservative dress, glasses and a ponytail are the "disguises" Andrea uses to conceal her secret identity. To perform any feat, Isis must recite a special rhyme related to the task at hand; the rhyme most often heard is "O zephyr winds which blow on high, lift me now so I may fly."

Andrea lives at 21306 Baker Place in the town of Larkspur and has a pet crow (Tut).

Cindy Lee was Andrea's teaching assistant for the first two seasons. Renee Carroll replaced her in the final season. Rick Mason was Andrea's friend, a teacher who had a boat called the Star Tracker. Last season episodes were broadcast as The Secrets of Isis. When broadcast back-to-back with the series Shazam! (see entry), it was titled The Shazam!/Isis Hour. Yvette Blais and Jeff Michael composed the theme.

A narrator opens the show: "O, My Queen," said the Royal Sorceress to Hashipseth, "With this amulet you and your descendants are endowed by the goddess Isis. With the powers of the animals and the elements, you will soar as the falcon soars; run with the speed of gazelles; and command the elements of sky and earth." Three thousand years later, a young science teacher dug up this lost treasure and found she was heir to the secrets of Isis. And so, unknown to her closets friends, Rick Mason and Cindy Lee, she becomes a dual person — Andrea Thomas, teacher — and Isis, dedicated foe of evil, defender of the weak, champion of truth and Justice."

3961 Island Son. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1989–1990). The title refers to Daniel Kulani, a Caucasian doctor at the Kamehameha Medical Center in Honolulu, who was adopted as an infant by Hawaiian parents (Tuti and Nana). Daniel has a native brother, James, an ex-wife (Janine) and a son, Sam. Daniel is a graduate of Stamford University and returned to Hawaii to help the people of his adopted state. Stories follow events in the private and professional life of Daniel as he treats patients with dignity and respect.

In addition to the doctors listed in the cast, other regulars are Emma, a nurse and Laura, Kenji's wife.

Cast: Richard Chamberlain (Dr. Daniel Kulani), Carol Huston (Dr. Caitlin McGrath), Timothy Carhart (Dr. Anthony Metzger), Leslie Bevis (Dr. Veronica Redfield), Kwan Hi Lim (Tutu Kulani), Betty Carvalho (Nana Kulani), Brynn Thayer (Dr. Margaret Judd), Clyde Kusatsu (Dr. Kenji Fushida), Carmela Barut (Emma), Christine Ebersole (Janine Willis), William McNamara (Sam Kulani), Ray Bumatai (James Kulani), Roxanne Hart (Laura Fushida).

3962 Island Sons. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 5/15/87). When their wealthy father disappears under mysterious circumstances, his four estranged sons, Tim (the owner of a charter boat service), Sam (an assistant D.A. in Honolulu), and Joe (a hotel owner) join forces with Ben to preserve their family dynasty — the Farraday Cattle Ranch (which is run by Ben) in Hawaii. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to become a family again and help each other in time of need. In the pilot episode, the Farraday brothers seek an unknown assailant who is stalking them.

Cast: Timothy Bottoms (Tim Farraday), Joseph Bottoms (Joe Farraday), Samuel Bottoms (Sam Farraday), Benjamin Bottoms (Ben Farraday), Clare Kirkconnell (Abby Farraday). Guest Cast: Kim Miyori (Diane Ishimura), Richard Narita (John Saito), David Wohl (Herb Engleman), Michael Currie (Jess Hamlin), Romey Windsor (Kate Landis), Moe Keale (Lieutenant Sapoiu), Ben Wong (Billy), Paul Martino (Detective Jenkins).

3963 The Islander. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 9/16/78). Following his retirement from the law profession, Gabe McQueen moves to Hawaii and purchases the Queen Kulani, a Honolulu hotel fraught with problems. The proposed series was to depict Gabe's attempts to run the hotel and his involvement with and attempts to help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Gabe seeks to help Trudy Engels, a beautiful fugitive grand jury witness; Jerry Stratton, a friend seeking his help to clear him of a frame; and Paul Lazarro, a former client seeking an extension in an upcoming trial. Other Regulars: Shauna, the hotel manager; and Kimo and Al, who work for Gabe.

Cast: Dennis Weaver (Gabe McQueen), Sharon Gless (Shauna Cooke), Ed Kaahea (Kimo), Dick Jen-son (Al Kahala). Guest Cast: Bernadette Peters (Trudy Engels), Robert Vaughn (Jerry Stratton), Sheldon Leonard (Paul Lazarro), Peter Mark Richman (Lieutenant Larkin), John S. Ragin (Noel Hatch), George Wyner (Arnie Simms), Moe Keale (Henchman). Theme Vocal: "My Islander" by Shelby Flint.

3964 The Islanders. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1960–1961). Latitude 4 south, longitude 128 east in the East Indies is the location of Ambowina, a small island off the coast of Sumatra, whose "chief natural resources are beautiful native girls." The tropical paradise is also the base for Lato Airlines, a Grumman Goose seaplane that is owned by Sandor ("Sandy") Wade and Zachary ("Zack") Malloy, two argumentative partners who share billing as president of the company on alternate months. They paid $35,000 for the plane and have another partner, a beautiful but scheming woman named Wilhelmina ("Willie") Vandever, who manages the business ("I'll be your treasurer") for 15 percent of the profits. (Sandy and Zack were once friends who flew for the same airline. Both left after a dispute. Sandy drifted up and down the islands for five years; Zack ventured into the business world. Willie, a mutual friend, thought they were both going nowhere and needed a business of their own. She conned each into investing $17,500 in the Goose. Neither knew about the other's investment until they went to claim the plane. The bickering started but was put aside long enough to save Willie's life when she became the target of a killer and drug smugglers. The adventure united the trio, and Willie convinced them to run the airline.)

Jim ("Shipwreck") Callahan runs Shipwreck Callahan's American Bar on Ambowina. He served on the destroyer USS Houston during World War II, and his favorite drink to serve is a Bamboo Bomb. The Bank of Jakarta holds the mortgage on the bar. Willie lives in Room 32 of the small hotel that is part of the bar.

Naja is a gorgeous 20-year-old Balinese girl who works in the American Bar as a dancer. She previously worked as a switchboard operator at Macaser Imports in Singapore. Naja looks more European than Balinese ("My father was Portuguese but more of an Islander than my mother") and loves to dance. Sandy was born in Cincinnati, and he and Zack served in Korea together during the war.

Willie was born in Holland, and the Vandever family was one of the biggest plantation owners in the Dutch East Indies. When the war broke out, they fled to the States. Her father managed to get back to Holland but died before Willie could join him. She is now fighting back and trying to salvage what was stolen from her. Islanders also call her "Steamboat Willie" because after a con "she always catches the next steamboat out. Before deciding on the name

Lato Airways (for “latitude zero”), the trio planned to call the company Malloy and Company (but Sandy objected — “Get a load of him”). Willie suggested Southern Cross (“It’s too much like double cross,” said Zack). Sandy suggested, and all liked, Lato Airways. Theme: “The Islanders,” by William Lava.

Cast: William Reynolds (Sandy Wade), James Philbrook (Zack Malloy), Diane Brewster (Willie Vandever), Gordon Jones (Shipwreck Callahan), Daria Massey (Naja).

3965 Islands in the Sun. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1969). Bill Burrud hosts and narrates trips to tropical islands via the sailing ship Islanda.

3966 It Could Be You. (Series; Game; NBC; 1956–1961). Contestants selected from the studio audience compete by performing stunts. Successful players receive a prize they have always wanted (which is stated before the game begins) but could never afford to purchase. The series ran in prime time from July 2, 1958 to September 17, 1958 (and December 11, 1958 to March 12, 1959) and on NBC daytime from June 4, 1956 to December 29, 1961.

Host: Bill Leyden. Announcer: Wendell Niles.

3967 It Could Happen to You. (Series; Game; ABC; 1951–1952). Three married couples are involved in a game wherein each must reenact a personal situation that was brought about as the result of a popular song. Prizes are awarded for participating. The series, which ran from February 5, 1951 to April 21, 1952, is also known as The Bill Gwinn Show and This Could Be You.

Host: Bill Gwinn.

3968 It Had to Be You. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1987). The original pilot film for Just in Time. Metropolis Press is a publisher of literary books that has not had a successful title in over three years. Joanna Farrell and Harry Stadlin are its chief editors and are forever seeking authors, especially Charlie Hightower, who has penned three successful novels. The unsold series was to relate Joanna and Harry’s efforts to keep the press alive and on the romantic relationship that develops between them. Isabel is their flaky Girl Friday.

Cast: Annette Bening (Joanna Farrell), Tim Matheson (Harry Stadlin), Ronnie Claire Edwards (Charlie Hightower), Nada Despotovich (Isabel).

3969 It Had to Be You. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993). Laura Scofield is a glamorous woman who owns the posh Scofield Publications in Boston. She lives on Beacon Hill at 204 Chandler and has been married twice, but never had time for husbands and divorced.

Mitch Quinn is a widowed carpenter with three children, David, Christopher and Sebastian. David, the oldest, sort of runs the house — he cooks, cleans, does the laundry and takes his younger brothers to school. He works at the Eager Beaver Car Wash. Sebastian has “an old” football injury — “he fell off the couch while watching the Super Bowl.” When Mitch was 14 years old he worked in his father’s hardware store. He began by sweeping the floors and worked his way up to sorting screws.

One day Laura decides to put shelves in her office and uses the Yellow Pages seeking a carpenter. She sees an ad, placed by Mitch, of a smiling screwdriver, and calls him. It’s a virtual love at first sight and the short lived (4 episode) series follows their unlikely courtship (and possible eventual marriage) as a woman who is afraid of marriage struggles to change her ways and possibly find what she has been looking for all her life (Laura and Mitch have their first date in the second episode).

Other Regulars: Eve, Laura’s assistant; and Mary Lou Maloney, the girl with a crush on Mitch’s son, Chris.

Cast: Faye Dunaway (Laura Scofield), Robert Urich (Mitch Quinn), Justin Whalen (David Quinn), Will Estes (Chris Quinn), Justin Jon Ross (Sebastian Quinn), Robin Bartlett (Eve), Melody King (Mary Lou Maloney).

3970 It Happened in Spain. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1958). Joseph Jones, called Joe, is an American private detective operating out of Spain. He has established a small office and his only assistant is his secretary, Tina. Stories relate his case assignments, which generally involve helping distressed American tourists.

Cast: Scott McKay (Joe Jones), Elena Barra (Tina).

3971 It Only Hurts When You Laugh. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 1/4/83). A proposed series of weekly skits that take a comical look at life’s everyday frustrations.

Host: Robert Guillaume. Regulars: Lewis Arquette, Hank Bradford, Marvin Braverman, Sid Caesar, Bob Elliott, Ray Goulding, Doug Hale, Renny Temple, Martin Rudy.

3972 It Pays to Be Ignorant. (Series; Game; CBS; NBC; 1949–1951). Two players compete. Each player, in turn, picks a question from the Dunce Cap and reads it aloud (for example, “What is the main ingredient in tomato soup?”). Three regular panelists are supposed to answer it but evade giving the correct response. The object is for the contestant, if at all possible, to get a word in and extract the right answer. Prizes are awarded accordingly — basically for attempting to face the panel. Based on the long-running radio series of the same title. The series ran on CBS from June 6, 1949 to September 19, 1949; and on NBC from July 5, 1951 to September 27, 1951.

Host: Tom Howard. Panelists: Harry McNaughton, George Shelton, Lulu McConnell. Vocalists: The Townsman Quartet. Announcer: Dick Stark. Organist: Ray Morgan.

3973 It Pays to Be Married. (Series; Game; NBC; 1955). Married couples first converse with the host and relate their marital difficulties and how they overcame them. The couples then compete in a general knowledge question-and-answer round with the highest scoring players receiving $350.

Host: Bill Goodwin. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

3974 It Takes a Thief. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1968–1970). Alexander Mundy is a cunning cat burglar who is captured in the act but granted a pardon (from the San Jobel Prison) in exchange for performing acts of thievery for Noah Bain, a U.S. government S.I.A. Chief (“Look Al, I’m not asking you to spy. I’m just asking you to steal” as Noah said in the opening theme).

Alexander poses as an international playboy as a cover for his assignments (which include highly dangerous feats of thievery to acquire information the government needs). He is a master pickpocket, escape artist, explosives expert and skilled at posing as someone else. Alexander can recognize style in a thief and “I can spot a pickpocket in the middle of St. Petersburg Square on Easter Sunday.” Al, as Noah calls him, is a ladies’ man and often dines at the Cheetah Club in Washington, D.C. Alexander lives in a swank penthouse (A) on Washington Square and uses the alias Alexander Barnes, fashion designer, on occasion.

Charlotte Brown, nicknamed “Chuck” is the beautiful but “kooky” thief who complicates Al’s assignments. Wally Powers replaced Noah as Al’s superior in last season episodes. Dave Grusin composed the theme.

Cast: Robert Wagner (Alexander Mundy), Malachi Thorne (Noah Bain), Fred Astaire (Alister Mundy, Alexander’s father), John Russell (SIA Agent Dover), Edward Binns (Wally Powers), Susan Saint James (Charlotte “Chuck” Brown).

3975 It Takes Two. (Series; Game; NBC; 1969–1970). Three celebrity couples compete and are each asked a question that must be answered in numbers (which are written on a card and the totals automatically calculated). The announcer, stationed in the studio audience, selects a player who chooses the couple he feels has come closest to the correct answer. If he selects the right couple, he receives a merchandise prize.

Host: Vin Scully. Announcer: John Harlan.

3976 It Takes Two. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1982–1983). Molly and Sam Quinn are a busy professional couple. They live in Manhattan and are the parents of Lisa and Andy. Also living with them is Molly’s elderly and somewhat senile mother, Anna (who is fondly called “Mama”).

Molly works as an Assistant District Attorney; Sam is the chief of surgery at the Rush–Thornton Medical Center. Stories follow Molly and Sam as they struggle to divide their time between work and home and still find time for each other.

Molly is a woman who gives of herself to help others. She believes that everyone is entitled to a fair trial — even those who break the law and she must prosecute. However, if she feels uneasy about a case and personally believes a wrong was done, she sort of turns defense lawyer and digs deeper into the facts. On occasion, she sides with the defense.

While Sam is a chief surgeon, the medical applications associated with such a position are not seen (they are only referenced when Sam and Molly are together). Sam is seen at the office and with patients but not in an operating room. Lisa is a high school student and works part time as a waitress at the Pizza Palace. Like her mother, she is devoted to helping others (she is also a member of the save the environment organization No Nukes). Crystal Gayle and Paul Williams sing the theme, “Where Love Spends the Night.”

Cast: Patty Duke (Molly Quinn), Richard Crenna (Sam Quinn), Helen Hunt (Lisa Quinn), Anthony Edwards (Andy Quinn), Billie Bird (Anna), Richard MacKenzie (Dr. Walter Chenkins), Della Reese (Judge Caroline Phillips), Gale Gordon (Judge in Program Opening), Charles Levin (Jeffrey Maxes), Jerry Houser (Jeremy Fenton).

3977 It Takes Two. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/2/85). Events in the lives of Kate and Elliot Weston, a neurotic married couple who share a psychiatric practice. In the pilot episode, the Westons consider a divorce when they begin to get on each other nerves.

Cast: Beth Howland (Kate Weston), Geoffrey Bowes (Elliot Weston). Guest Cast: Derek McGrath (Melvin), Lynne Griffin (Melba), Mary Ann McDonald (Emily).

3978 It Was a Very Good Year. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1971). The music, fads, sports, politics, and the sensational and tragic moments of the years 1918 through 1968 are recalled through film clips. The series, hosted by singer Mel Torme, ran from May 10, 1971 to August 30, 1971, and produced 13 episodes. Alan Landsburg, Mel Torme and Draper Lewis are the producers. Mel also provides the piano music and sings the show’s theme, “It Was a Very Good Year.”

3979 The Item of the Scarlet Ace. (Experimental; Adventure; NBC; 11/29/41). A television adaptation of the radio series The Bishop and the Gargoyle. The Bishop is a crime fighter who once served on the parole board of Sing Sing Prison; the Gargoyle is a convict the Bishop befriended and, upon his release, became the Bishop's sidekick, the one who provides the physical force when it comes to battling criminals. Richard Gordon and Ken Lynch, the radio stars, appeared in this TV version of an episode wherein they try to nab an elusive criminal known as the Scarlet Ace.

Cast: Richard Gordon (The Bishop), Ken Lynch (The Gargoyle). Also: Peggy Allenby, Parker Fennelly, Jane Lauren, Ernie Owen, Howard Petrie.

3980 It's a Business. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1952). The New York-based Broadway Music Publishing Company during the early 1900s is the setting. It was at this time that song writers visited the publisher to find material (not the other way around as it is today). Musically oriented stories relate the misadventures of song writers Bob and Leo as they attempt to write the hit tunes that will sell sheet music and make them rich.

Cast: Bob Haymes (Bob), Leo DeLyon (Leo), Dorothy Loudon (Secretary).

3981 It's a Gift. (Series; Game; CBS; 1946). A very early television game show that features contestants competing in question-and-answer sessions in return for prizes. The series ran from January 29, 1946 to July 6, 1946.

Host: John Reed King.

3982 It's a Great Life. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954–1956). Denny David and Steve Connors are two ex-GI's struggling to better their position in life. They live in Hollywood, California, in the Morgan Boarding House and stories follow their misadventures as they tackle various jobs to make ends meet.

Amy Morgan is the owner of the boarding house; Uncle Earl is Amy's conniving brother; Katy Morgan is Amy's daughter. During its syndicated run (repeats) in 1960, the series title was changed to The Bachelors.

Cast: Michael O'Shea (Denny David), William Bishop (Steve Connors), Frances Bavier (Amy Morgan), James Dunn (Uncle Earl), Barbara Bales (Katy Morgan).

3983 It's a Hit. (Series; Game; ABC; 1957). Two teams of children, aged seven to fourteen, compete in a series of question-and-answer rounds based on subjects the contestants are studying in school. Points are scored for each correct answer and prizes are awarded to the highest scoring teams.

Host: Happy Felton. Regulars: Jack Norwine, Al Chotin, George Able.

3984 It's a Living. (Series; Comedy; ABC; Syn.; 1980–1989). Above the Top, a thirtieth floor Los Angeles restaurant that features Sky High Dining, is owned by Pacific Continental Properties.

Nancy Beebe is the hostess, a snob who takes her work seriously and demands respect from her waitresses (Cassie, Lois, Jan, Vickie, Amy, Ginger and Maggie). Before acquiring her job as hostess, Nancy was a ballerina for fifteen years. Nancy was born in South Philadelphia and in later episodes marries the restaurant's chef, Howard Miller.

Katie Lou "Cassie" Cranston is the prettiest and sexiest of the waitresses. She flaunts her sexuality (especially her breasts) to attract men and is looking to marry money. Cassie was born in Kansas and dropped the "Katie Lou" so people would not think of her as a hick. She lives in Los Angeles at the Sun Palace Condominium Complex. And, while she appears to be self-centered she is there for any friend who may need her.

Lois Adams is the most sophisticated of the waitresses. She lives at 8713 Mercer Street and is married to the never-seen Bill (a salesman). They are the parents of Amy and Joey. Lois was born in Minnesota and worked as a secretary before marrying.

Jan Hoffmeyer is divorced and the mother of Ellen. She married Richard Grey in 1985 (when the series began its syndicated run). She was born in Philadelphia, attended Templar High School and is now registered at North Los Angeles Law School ("I plan to do more with my life than hand out menus").

Margaret "Maggie" McBirney is a widow and the most insecure member of the group. Maggie was pampered by her late husband (Joseph); she has now retreated, somewhat, into a shell and is afraid to take a chance. She lives in a spacious house at 1417 Brooke Avenue and while she involves herself with the waitresses and their problems, she pretty much keeps her life private.

Dorothy "Dot" Higgins is a hopeful actress (although Nancy believes "she is hopelessly irresponsible"). Dot was born in Detroit and majored in theater at Baxter College. She made her TV debut in a commercial for Autumn Years dog food and played triplets on the soap opera All My Sorrows.

Amy Tompkins was born in Snyder, Texas, and is the most outrageous of the waitresses. She is a member of the American Gun Association and owns a .357 Magnum with a six-inch barrel. She lives at the Carrie Nation Hotel for Women, will not let anyone take advantage of her and speaks her mind.

Virginia "Ginger" St. James shares an apartment with Amy. Ginger, the only African American waitress, was born in Buffalo, New York. She has a flair for fashion designing and hopes to parlay that talent into an occupation.

Victoria "Vickie" Allen is the most sensitive of the girls. She was born in Pocatello, Idaho and now lives at 102 North Brewster Place in Los Angeles. She worked as a waitress in Idaho and came to California to better her life but has set no immediate goals for herself.

“Run quick” are the two words that come to Cassie’s mind when she sees Sonny Mann, the restaurant’s one-man entertainment center (who thinks of himself as the “Singing Sex Symbol”). Sonny was born in Reno, Nevada and his real last name is Manishevitz. He has aspirations of becoming a rich and famous singer and puts on elaborate shows when record producers dine at Above the Top.

Relatives: Tricia Cast (Lois’s daughter, Amy Adams), Keith Mitchell (Lois’s son, Joey Adams), Sandy Simpson (Maggie’s brother, Bobby), Lili Haydn and Virginia Keehne (Jan’s daughter, Ellen Hoffmeyer), Dennis Dugan (Jan’s ex-husband, Lloyd Hoffmeyer), Georgann Johnson (Jan’s mother, Phyllis Frankel), Richard McKenzie (Jan’s father, Will Frankel), Richard Schaal (Vickie’s father, Emmett Allen), K Callan (Dot’s mother, Harriet Higgins), Edye Byrde (Ginger’s grandmother), Kelly Britt (Nancy’s cousin, Grace Beebee), Linda G. Miller (Nancy’s sister, Gloria Beebee), Arlen Dean Snyder (Amy’s father), Nita Talbot (Sonny’s mother, Rose), Donnelly Rhodes (Sonny’s brother, Buddy), Paul Kreppel (Sonny’s father, Irv Manishevitz), Sue Ball (Howard’s daughter, Lori Miller), Kathleen Freeman (Howard’s mother, Mae Miller), Mary Betten (Richard’s mother, Beth Grey), Maura Soden (Richard’s ex-wife, Cindy), Andre Gower (Richard’s son, Charlie Grey).

The program was originally titled It’s a Living (1980–1981) with waitresses Lois, Jan, Cassie, Vickie and Dot. It became Making a Living (1982) with waitresses Cassie, Jan, Maggie and Dot and It’s a Living again (1985–1989) with waitresses Jan, Cassie, Dot, Amy and Ginger. Nancy and Sonny were part of each version and the entire package is syndicated as It’s a Living.

3985 It’s a Man’s World. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1962–1963). Moored at Stott’s Landing in the Ohio River town of Cordella is the Elephant, a houseboat owned by Wesley (“Wes”) Macauley, Thomas A. (“Tom Tom”) DeWitt and Vernon (“Vern”) Hodges, three friends who are students at Cordella College. Also residing with them is Howard (“Howie”) Macauley, Wes’s younger (14-year-old) brother (Wes, 22, became Howie’s guardian after their parents were killed in an automobile accident).

Wes pumps gas for Houghton Stott, the owner of Stott’s Landing and Stott’s Service Station. Houghton is a former river barge pilot. He was forced to retire after 50 years and is bitter about losing his job; he never had the time to raise a family and looks upon Howie as the son he never had. His favorite pastime is playing checkers with Howie.

Tom Tom is the lazy one of the group — “he’ll sleep his life away if he could,” says Wes. He is a kid at heart and is fascinated by everything. Tom Tom enjoys every moment of life, but is in a dither most of the time and unreliable. He plays games with kids, helps the local sanitation men clear the trash (for which he gets a free ride to school on the truck) and hangs out at the Windmill, the local coffee house. He is sometimes called “Dimwit DeWitt.”

Vern, from the South, is quiet, and loves to play the guitar. He works at Dobson’s Market. Howie, who attends Cordella High School, has a paper route for the Cordella Gazette and works part time at Stott’s Service Station.

Irene Hoff is Wes’s girlfriend and a student at Cordella College. Nora Fitzgerald is Tom’s friend, a kindred free spirit and aspiring artist. She attends Cordella College, rarely wears shoes or socks (even in the winter), dresses in jeans and sweatshirts and, as Tom says, “Can’t even tell you’re a girl.” She was born in Westchester County and does her studying in the cemetery near the headstone of Priscilla Butler, who died in 1802.

Wes, Tom and Vern are members of the Delphi fraternity.

Cast: Glenn Corbett (Wes Macauley), Ted Bessell (Tom Tom DeWitt), Randy Boone (Verne Hodges), Michael Burns (Howie Macauley), Ann Schuyler (Nora Fitzgerald), Jan Norris (Irene Hoff), Harry Harvey (Houghton Scott), Kate Murtaugh (Iona Dobson), Jeannie Cashell (Alma Jean Dobson), Mary Adams (Mrs. Meredith), Dawn Wells (Molly), Joyce Bulifant (Lois), Scott White (Virgil Dobson), James Bonnet (Jeff), Diane Sayer (Jeri), Sally Mills (Helen), Cathy Birch (Sue). Theme: “It’s a Man’s World” by Jack Marshall.

3986 It’s a Miracle. (Series; Anthology; PAX; 1999). Heartwarming, if not, at times, tear-jerking stories of people whose lives seem to have been touched by miracles. In reenacted stories based on true incidents, people are seen facing an insurmountable obstacle — and how, from out of nowhere, the strength to overcome it occurs or, if by Divine intervention, pleas for help are answered by total strangers who, for one reason or another, found themselves in a position to help.

Hosts: Richard Thomas, Roma Downey, Nia Peoples.

3987 It’s a Small World. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 4/57). The pilot film for Leave It to Beaver.

The story of Wally and Beaver Cleaver, two young brothers, and their experiences growing up in a small American town. In the pilot episode, the boys set out to collect one thousand Franklin Milk Company bottle caps to win a free bicycle. Despite reviewers' objections that It's a Small World was "horribly juvenile," it did go on to launch the now classic "Beaver" series. Originally titled Wally and the Beaver. Broadcast as a segment of Studio '57. Other Regulars: Ward and June, the boys' parents; Mr. Baxter, Ward's boss; and Frankie, Wally's friend.

Cast: Barbara Billingsley (June Cleaver), Casey Adams (Ward Cleaver), Jerry Mathers (Beaver Cleaver), Paul Sullivan (Wally Cleaver), Richard Deacon (Mr. Baxter), Harry Shearer (Frankie). Guest Cast: Diane Brewster (Miss Simms), Joseph Kearns (Fred Cowley). Note: In the series Tony Dow played Wally; Hugh Beaumont was Ward; Richard Deacon became Fred Rutherford; and Frankie became Eddie Haskell (played by Ken Osmond).

3988 It's a Wacky World. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/13/71). A proposed series of skits, blackouts and songs performed by weekly guest stars. The pilot is produced by George Schlatter.

Pilot Guests: John Cleese, Tony Curtis, Lulu, Elke Sommer, Jacques Tati, The New Seekers.

3989 It's a Wonderful World. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1963). Host John Cameron Swayze also narrates films that depict the customs and lifestyles of various countries throughout the world.

3990 It's About Time. (Series; Game; ABC; 1954). Selected members of the studio audience compete in a game wherein they must identify incidents from the past through a series of clues (verbal, scrambled newspaper headlines, dramatic vignettes, etc.). Players with the highest score receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Dr. Bergen Evans. Panelists: Sherl Stern, Robert Pollack, Ruth Duskin.

3991 It's About Time. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1966–1967). As the series begins, the U.S. spaceship Scorpio is completing a NASA mission and about to land. The capsule sets down in a remote jungle area that its astronauts, Captain Mac MacKenzie and Lieutenant Hector ("Hec") Canfield find has the same gravity as Earth, but no electron field or radiation. Believing they are on another planet, they begin to explore their surroundings. When they spot a cave family and then a dinosaur (a Tyrannosaurus Rex), Mac theorizes that when they blacked out at 60,000 miles a second, they broke the time barrier and are now in the year 1 million B.C.

Just then, Mac and Hec hear a cry for help. They rush to a cliff and see a young cave boy (Breer) clinging to a branch. Breer, who grabbed the branch to escape from the Rex, is rescued by Mac and Hec.

Breer, beginning his test of manhood (to survive one day in the jungle) runs away. As Mac and Hec head back to their capsule, they are surrounded by a group of cavemen. Because of their dress, the Cave Boss believes they are evil spirits and orders Clon, his dim-witted aide, to kill them. Just then, Breer appears and saves the astronauts by telling the Cave Boss that they saved his life. Later, Mac and Hec befriend Breer's family — his father, Gronk; mother, Shad; and teenage sister Mlor.

Later, after a thorough examination of the Scorpio, the astronauts discover that the condenser points have been damaged, and without crystal and carbon it is impossible to fix and they cannot return to their time (in another episode, Mac mentions that they need copper to replace the filament of the solenoid transistor block, which controls liftoff). Stories relate Mac and Hec's efforts to survive and find the minerals they need to repair their craft and return home.

The astronauts are believed to be evil spirits by the other cave people and to have come from a forbidden area called "The Other Side of the Hill." Shad calls Gronk "Gronkie." Mlor, a teenage beauty, is a fabulous cook and famous for her mastodon stew. The Cave Boss wears a necklace of cooper to signify that he is the chief. The size of one's cave determines importance in the tribe.

Several months later, Gronk realizes what minerals Mac and Hec are seeking and takes a diamond from the eye of his tribal idol. Hec is able to repair the condenser points; Mac reverses the flight information from their last trip and programs it into the computer. Just as they are about to blast off, Gronk, Shad, Mlor and Breer run to Mac and Hec for help (the Cave Boss now considers Gronk and his family traitors for helping evil spirits). Mac and Hec take the cave family aboard the capsule and blast off. Soon it is traveling faster than the speed of light. The Scorpio touches down on the front lawn of a home about 50 miles outside Los Angeles.

Realizing that the cave family would become like animals in a zoo if the government knew about them, Mac and Hec decide to conceal their presence; they hide them in the three room apartment they share. Stories relate Mac and Hec's efforts to educate the cave family and keep not only the government but also their apartment house manager, Howard Tyler, from finding out who the cave family really are.

Relatives: Imogene Coca (Shad's mother, Krek), Kathleen Freeman (Cave Boss's wife, Mrs. Boss), Edson Stroll (Cave Boss's son, Brak).

Cast: Frank Aletter (Mac MacKenzie), Jack Mulaney (Hector Canfield), Joe E. Ross (Gronk), Imogene Coca (Shad), Mary Grace (Mlor), Pat Cardi (Breer), Cliff Norton (Cave Boss), Mike Mazurki (Clon), Kathleen Freeman (Mrs. Boss), Frank Wilcox

(General Morley), Alan DeWitt (Howard Tyler), Jan Arvan (Dr. Hamilton). Theme Song: "It's About Time" by Gerald Fried, Sherwood Schwartz.

3992 It's All Relative. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2003–2004). Mace O'Neill and his wife Audrey are the owners of O'Neill's, a pub in Boston. They are also the parents of Bobby and Maddie.

Simon Banks and Philip Stoddard are gays who live with Liz, a girl they are raising (Liz's mother died when she was just a baby. Simon and Philip were best friends with Liz's mother and when the biological father could not be found, Simon and Philip adopted Liz). Philip is a perfectionist and owns an art gallery; Simon is a third grade school teacher.

Fate brings Liz and Bobby together when they meet at a ski lodge in Vermont. Liz is a student at Harvard. Bobby works as a bartender in his parent's pub. Liz and Bobby fall in love and plan to marry — much to the delight of all but Mace when he finds out that Liz's fathers are gay — "If you marry a girl you marry their family" (and Mace appears to have an issue with gays as he is uncomfortable around them). Stories follow the efforts to the parents of both families to get along with each other as they are soon to become related by marriage.

Philip, an excellent cook, is proud and very protective of his kitchen. Simon is somewhat untidy (which stresses Philip out), but puts up with all of Simon's faults. Audrey performs in the church choir and playwright Eugene O'Neill is Mace's great uncle. Maddie spent two years in the third grade and has nothing in common with smart people. She dates what she calls drunks and losers; she hopes to marry someone dumber than her. She loves showing cleavage (she wears a 34C bra) and is in a band called Jail Bait.

Cast: Lenny Clarke (Mace O'Neill), Harriet Sansom Harris (Audrey O'Neill), Maggie Lawson (Liz), John Benjamin Hickey (Philip Stoddard), Christopher Sieber (Simon Banks), Paige Moss (Maddie O'Neill), Reid Scott (Bobby O'Neill).

3993 It's Always Jan. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955–1956). The Harry Cooper Talent Agency represents Janis ("Jan") Stewart, a talented but relatively unknown singer who is hoping to make the big time. Jan is a widow and the mother of ten-year-old Josie. Jan and Josie share an apartment at 46 East 50th Street in Manhattan with Valerie Marlowe, a shapely blonde model, and Patricia Murphy, a secretary with a heart of gold.

Jan currently works as a nightclub entertainer who performs regularly at Tony's Cellar, a small supper club in New York's Greenwich Village. She dreams of starring on Broadway and singing at the prestigious Sky Room of the Sherry-Waldorf Hotel. Jan's agent is Harry Cooper. Earle Hagen and Herbert Spencer composed the theme, "It's Always Jan."

Cast: Janis Paige (Janis Stewart), Merry Anders (Valerie Malone), Patricia Bright (Patricia Murphy), Jeri Lou James (Josie Stewart), Arch Johnson (Stanley Schrieber), Sid Melton (Harry Cooper).

3995 It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia. (Series; Comedy; FX; 2005–). Paddy's Irish Pub is a bar in Philadelphia that is owned by four slackers: Mac, Kelly, Dennis and Dee (Dennis and Dee are brother and sister; Frank is their wealthy but blustery father). Stories follow the argumentative group's efforts to run the bar despite both personal and financial problems. Charlie and Dee are graduates of St. Vincent's Elementary School and Penn State University (where Dee majored in psychology).

Cast: Charlie Day (Charlie Kelly), Kaitlin Olson (Deandra "Dee" Kelly), Rob McElhenney (Mac), Glenn Howerton (Dennis Reynolds), Danny DeVito (Frank Reynolds), Anne Archer (Frank's wife).

3996 It's Back to School. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 8/87). Michael Young hosts a proposed weekly series of information geared to and about children. Music is provided by Ray Reach; Jim Miller is the producer.

3997 It's Garry Shandling's Show. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; 1986–1990). Garry Shandling is a comedian who lives at the Happy Pilgrim Estates. He has a girlfriend (Phoebe) and a best friend, Pete Schumaker. Garry also has one other thing: An open life as the events that befall him unfold before a home and studio audience.

As a boy Garry's mother, Ruth, called him Bubba (Ruth owns a pet shop called Ruth's Pet Corral); Nancy, who works for the Going Places Travel Agency, is Garry's friend from childhood; Pete, whose middle name is Horatio, is married to Jackie and they are the parents of Grant. Louis and Leonard are Garry's friends.

Cast: Garry Shandling (Himself), Jessica Harper (Phoebe), Molly Cheek (Nancy), Michael Tucci (Pete Schumaker), Bernadette Birkett (Jackie Shoemaker), Paul Willson (Leonard Smith), Geoffrey Blake (Louis), Scott Sherk (Young Garry; flashbacks), Melanie Gaffin (Young Nancy; flashbacks), Barbara Cason (Ruth Shandling), Amzie Strickland (Pete's mother), Marty Zagon (Pete's father).

3998 It's Happening. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1968). The program features amateur band contests, performances by guest rock stars, comedy skits and other entertainment geared to teenagers.

Dick Clark is the producer.

3999 It's Magic. (Series; Children; CBS; 1955). Paul Tripp hosts a program, the summer replacement for Lassie, that presents performances by guest magicians.

4000 It's News to Me. (Series; Game; CBS; 1951–1954). A celebrity panel is presented with a prop or picture that is related to a news event. Three of the panelists relate the wrong events; one tells the truth. Each of the two competing players has to determine which panelist gave the correct news event. Players begin with thirty dollars and increase their winnings by ten dollars with each correct guess.

Host: John Daly, Walter Cronkite, Quincy Howe. Panelists: Anna Lee, Nina Foch, Quentin Reynolds, Constance Bennett, John Henry Faulk. Regular: Frank Wayne.

4001 It's Not Easy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1983). Jack Long is a divorced sporting goods store owner and the father of two children, Carol and Johnny. His mother, Ruth also lives with them. Living across the street is Sharon Townsend, Jack's ex-wife, who has recently married, and her second husband, Neal. Stories relate the efforts of Jack and Sharon to live their own individual lives while sharing custody of their children. Sherry is Jack's girlfriend; Matthew is Neal's son.

Cast: Ken Howard (Jack Long), Carlene Watkins (Sharon Townsend), Bert Convy (Neal Townsend), Jayne Meadows (Ruth Long), Rachel Jacobs (Carol Long), Evan Cohen (Johnny Long), Billy Jacoby (Matthew Townsend), Christine Belford (Sherry Gabler).

4002 It's Only Human. (Pilot; Human Interest; NBC; 11/13/81). The program presents taped interviews with ordinary people who speak their minds on subjects that concern them.

Host: Allen Funt. Guests: Barbara Eden, Reggie Jackson.

4003 It's Polka Time. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1956–1957). A weekly program of polka music, songs and dances.

Host: Bruno "Junior" Zielinski. Regulars: Carolyn DeZurik, Stan Wolowic's Band, The Polka Chips, The Konal Siodmy Dancers.

4004 It's Rock and Roll. (Pilot; Game; Syn.; 1/83). A proposed game show based on the 30-year history of rock and roll music. Two teams compete, the Blue and the Gold, each composed of one contestant and two performers associated with rock and roll music. An opening to a song is played. The first team to sound their buzzer receives a chance to answer. While no points are scored, the team does receive the first opportunity to select a category from a board of six topics. The team is then asked three questions, each of which is worth five points. The opposing team then selects a topic and is asked three questions. Two such rounds are played. The team with the highest score is the winner and receives a cash prize. While somewhat amateurish in production values, the program is entertaining for its use of rarely or never before seen clips of rock stars.

Host: Mike Egan.

4005 It's Rod Hull and Emu. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1973). Ventriloquist Rod Hull hosts a short lived (11 episode) series in which his puppet bird, Emu, relates his adventures traveling from Australia to England (where the program is taped).

4006 It's Showtime at the Apollo. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1987). A weekly program that features performances by popular entertainers. Film clips of entertainers who performed at the Apollo Theater over the years and highlights of its "Amateur Night" productions are also a part of the program. Taped at New York's Apollo Theater. Guests perform the hosting chores; Joey Carbone and his orchestra provide the musical backing. Bob Banner and Percy E. Sutton are the producers.

4008 It's Time for Ernie. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1951). A short lived program of satirical comedy skits featuring the comic genius of Ernie Kovacs. The series aired from May 14, 1951 to June 29, 1951.

Host: Ernie Kovacs. Regulars: Edie Adams, Hugh Price.

4009 It's Your Bet. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969). Two celebrity couples play for selected members of the studio audience. A small, movable wall is placed between each player. One partner is asked a question via a telephone to prevent the others from hearing it.

The player then bets points (25 to 100) as to whether or not his partner can or cannot answer it. The question is then read aloud. Points are added or deducted from the couples' scores based on the verbal replies by the other partner of the team. The first team to score 300 points is the winner and their studio audience members receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Hal March, Tom Kennedy, Dick Gautier, Lyle Waggoner. Announcer: John Harlan.

4010 It's Your Move. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1967). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One team member acts out a charade; the other member must guess it within a specific time limit. The amount of time is determined through bidding. The team that bids the lowest amount of time receives it and must act it out and solve it within that bid amount of time. Prizes are awarded to successful players.

Host: Jim Perry.

Julie is a cheerleader and captain of the Pom Pom Team. She “practices kissing on her stuffed Snoopy toy” and, according to Matt, “stuffs her bra with Kleenex.” “Hell Hound” is but one of the many terms Julie uses to describe Matt, a juvenile wheeler-dealer. Matt enjoys “torturing” Julie at every opportunity (for instance recording her telephone conversations for blackmail purposes), and he has a scam for any occasion to make money (such as holding annual term paper sales). When Matt does use a scam to acquire money, his intentions are good — to supplement Eileen’s income (Eileen appears to be a bit confused when it comes to money; Matt sneaks the money into her purse; and Eileen is always amazed to find extra money — but she has no idea where it came from).

Dialing the telephone number “Zoo Life” will get you Mort Stumplerutt, the rich but boring owner of the Stumplerutt Lumber Mills. This is the man Matt believes is right for his mother, the man who can give her the life of luxury she deserves. Matt’s efforts to spark a romance between the two is hampered when Norman Lamb, a former insurance salesman from Chicago turned freelance writer, moves into the apartment (406) across the hall. Norman is always in need of money and is not the man Matt wants for Eileen. Fate brings Eileen and Norman together (a chance meeting in the hallway); Mort becomes a thing of the past. (Matt believes that if his mother went to a millionaires’ convention, she’d wind up with the bellboy. He is concerned about her future and feels it is his obligation to find her the right man.)

Matt’s antics were curtailed halfway through the series when Eileen caught him red-handed in a scam. He was put on probation, and the original series concept was lost. Norman, who became an English teacher at Van Buren, and Eileen were now the focal point (the series declined and soon went off the air).

Eli is Matt’s “cohort in crime” (English is his worst subject — “I couldn’t even spell my first name until I was seven”); Lou Donatelli is the apartment building super; and Dwight Ellis is the principal of Van Buren (brought on when the format changed).

Cast: Caren Kaye (Eileen Burton), Tricia Cast (Julie Burton), Jason Bateman (Matt Burton), David Garrison (Norman Lamb), Adam Sadowsky (Eli’s Matt’s friend), Ernie Sabella (Lou Donatelli), Garrett Morris (Dwight Ellis). Theme Music: “It’s Your Move” by Rik Howard, Bob Wirth.

4013 Ivan the Terrible. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1976). Ivan Petrovsky is head waiter at the Hotel Metropole in Moscow, Russia, and the head of a family of nine who live in a three-and-a-half room apartment. Stories focus on Ivan’s endless attempts to solve family problems.

4014 Ivanhoe. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). England during the 1190s is the setting. Stories, based on characters created by Sir Walter Scott, relate the adventures of Ivanhoe, a young Saxon knight, as he battles the forces of injustice.

Cast: Roger Moore (Ivanhoe), Robert Brown (The Monk), Bruce Seton (King Richard), Paul Whitsun (Sir Maverick), John Pike (Bart).

4015 I’ve Got a Secret. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952–1967). The object calls for a celebrity panel of four to guess (through a series of indirect question-and-answer probe rounds) the secret of a guest contestant. Players receive both cash and merchandise prizes.

An announcer opens the show: “I’ve Got a Secret, presented by Winston, America’s best tasting, best selling filter tip cigarettes. Yes, Winston tastes good like a cigarette should. And now Winston filter tip cigarettes brings you America’s number one panel show, I’ve Got a Secret starring Garry Moore.”

Host: Garry Moore (1952–1964), Steve Allen (1964–1967). Panelists: Jayne Meadows, Louise Albritton, Bill Cullen, Henry Morgan, Betsy Palmer, Laura Hobson, Walter Kiernan, Faye Emerson, Orson Bean, Steve Allen, Laraine Day, Eddie Bracken. Announcer: John Cannon, Johnny Olsen.

4016 I’ve Got a Secret. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1972). A revised version of the 1950s game of the same title. A contestant appears on stage seated next to the host. He whispers his secret to the host (seen in a visual by the home audience) and through a series of indirect question-and-answer rounds, a celerity panel has to guess the secret. Players receive both cash and merchandise prizes.

Host: Steve Allen. Panelists: Pat Carroll, Richard Dawson, Nanette Fabray, Gene Rayburn, Jayne Meadows, Henry Morgan, Anita Gillette. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

4017 I’ve Got a Secret. (Series; Game; CBS; 1976). Four celebrity panelists attempt to identify the secret of a contestant through a series of indirect question-and-answer rounds. A four episode (June 15th to July 6th) revival of the popular 1950s game series of the same title.

Host: Bill Cullen. Panelists: Henry Morgan, Elaine Joyce, Phyllis George, Richard Dawson, Pat Collins. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

4018 I’ve Got a Secret. (Series; Game; Oxygen; 2000). A revised version of the 1950s CBS series of the same title that has a panel of four attempting to guess the secret of a guest. After the guest whispers his secret to the host (an announcer tells the home audience) each panelist has 30 seconds with which to indirectly question the guest and attempt to guess the secret. If the panelist does not identify the secret, the guest receives $200 (or $1,000 if all four fail to uncover the secret).

Host: Stephanie Miller. Substitute Host: Steve Allen.

4019 I’ve Got a Secret. (Series; Game; Game Show Network; 2006). A game based on the 1952–1967 CBS series of the same title that has a panel of four attempting to guess the secret of a guest. After whispering his secret to the host, each panelist receives 30 seconds with which to indirectly question the guest. If the panelist cannot identify the secret, the guest receives money.

Host: Bill Dwyer. Panelists: Suzanne Westenhoefer, Jermaine Taylor, Frank DeCaro, Billy Bean.

4020 I’ve Got News for You. (Series; Game; NBC; 1952). The alternate title for Up to Paar. See this title for information.

4021 Ivy League. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/13/59). Bull Mitchell, a former Marine sergeant, enrolls in college to get the education that was denied him earlier in life. The proposed series was to depict his misadventures as he attempts to adjust to non-military life. In the pilot episode, Bull seeks to discover who stole the school’s cannon and placed the blame on him. Other Regulars: Timmy, Bull’s son; Mamie, Bull’s landlady; and the college dean.

Cast: William Bendix (Bull Mitchell), Tim Hovey (Timmy Mitchell), Florence MacMichael (Mamie Parker), Bartlett Robinson (Dean). Also: Arte Johnson, Doug McClure and Mary Tyler Moore (Students) and Sheila Bromley and Kathleen Warren (Teachers).

4022 Jabberjaw. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1976–1978). A futuristic undersea world is the setting where teenagers Biff, Shelley, Bubbles and Clam Head have formed a rock group called The Neptunes. While the teens can live and breathe underwater, their band is unique in that its drummer is Jabberjaw, a 15-foot white shark. The band is also a cover for the group’s actual purpose: solve baffling crimes and bring criminals to justice. Stories relate their case assignment, which are hampered by Jabberjaw’s misguided attempts to help.

Voice Cast: Frank Welker (Jabberjaw), Julie McWhirter (Bubbles), Pat Paris (Shelley), Tommy Cook (Biff), Barry Gordon (Clam Head).

4023 Jack and Bobby. (Series; Drama; WB; 2004–2005). What does it take to become the president of the United States? Jack and Bobby attempts to answer that question (but fails when it is cancelled) by looking at the lives of two brothers — Jack and Bobby McCallister, the children of a single mother (Grace) growing up in the fictional town of Hart, Missouri.

The series is set in present times and follows the events in the lives of the brothers and the people who will (and do) shape their personalities and give them values.

Grace is a brilliant (but eccentric) college professor (she is unaware that she is raising a future president). Jack is the older, wiser brother, a natural born leader and the perfect role model for Bobby (Bobby is smart, but not as outgoing as Jack).

Peter Benedict is the newly appointed president of Hart College. Peter appears to be a brilliant businessman but his character is questionable. Nonetheless, Grace falls for him and a romance blossoms for them. Peter, a widower, is the father of Courtney, a beautiful girl with a troubled past, who becomes attracted to Jack and forms a sister-like friendship with Bobby. Marcus Ride is Jack's best friend, the son of the owner of J.R.'s, the neighborhood gathering spot.

In addition to exploring the present day lives of Jack and Bobby, glimpses of the future are seen as Jack becomes president (nicknamed "The Great Believer"). The series tries to explain how one person can make a difference.

4024 Jack and Jill. (Series; Comedy-Drama; WB; 1999). A romantic comedy-drama that centers around the experiences of Jacqueline Barrett (called "Jack" by her friends) and David Jillefsky (called "Jill" by his friends).

Remembering that Jack is the girl and Jill is the boy, viewers first meet Jack as she is about to be married — but walks out of the service after she finds out her soon to be husband slept with her maid of honor. She immediately leaves town and heads for New York City, where she feels she can begin a new life. Jill has a girlfriend (Elisa) and is contemplating moving in with her — until he meets Jack, who has rented an apartment in his building. Jack also meets Elisa and the two become friends.

Elisa finds Jack a job at the TV station where she and Jill work. Voice overs are used to convey the problems Jack and Jill encounter as they begin to date and try to make their relationship work.

Cast: Amanda Peet (Jacqueline "Jack" Barrett), Ivan Sergei (David "Jill" Jillefsky), Sarah Paulson (Elisa Cronkie), Jaime Pressly (Audrey Griffin), Justin Kirk (Bartholomew "Barto" Zane), Simon Rex (Michael "Mickey" Russo), Gary Marks (Eddie Naiman), Chad Willett (Jonathan Appel), Josh Hopkins (Matt Prophet), Lindsay Price (Emily Cantor), Ed Quince (Peter McCray).

4025 Jack and Mike. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1986–1987). Incidents in the lives of Jackie Shea, a beautiful columnist ("Our Kind of Town") for the Chicago Mirror and her husband, Mike Brennan, a hip restaurateur (owner of the 1935 Café).

Jacqueline, who prefers to be called Jackie, is a sophisticated woman who dresses so elegantly that most people mistake her for a high fashion model. She is also very feminine and soft spoken and mingles with people of all types (something Mike worries about) for stories for her column. Mike is not the kind of guy most people would suspect to being married to a girl like Jackie. He is a bit rough around the edges and more outgoing than Jackie. Despite their different lifestyles, they love each other and are determined to see that their marriage works. Kathleen is Mike's sister; Mary and John are his parents.

Cast: Shelley Hack (Jackie Shea), Tom Mason (Mike Brennan), Carol Rossen (Charlotte Branigan), Jacqueline Brookes (Nora Adler), Holly Fulger (Carol Greene), Kevin Dunn (Anthony Kubecek), Vincent Baggetta (Rick Scotti), Carol Potter (Kathleen), Beatrice Straight (Mary Brennan), James Green (John Brennan). Theme Song: "Jack and Mike" by Johnny Mandel.

4026 Jack and the Beanstalk. (Experimental Series; Children; CBS; July 1941). A daily children's series that tells in serial form the story of "Jack and the Beanstalk." A young girl kneels down by her mother's chair and is told the story. As she listens, an artist draws pictures that fit the narration. The camera switches back and forth between mother, child and the ever-expanding panel of drawings.

Cast: Lydia Perera (Mother), Anne Francis (Girl), John Rupe (Artist).

4027 The Jack Benny Program. (Series; Comedy; CBS; NBC; 1950–1965). Jack Benny is an entertainer who stands five feet, 11 inches tall and weighs 158 pounds. He was born in Waukegan, Illinois, and claims to be only 39 years old ("I've been 39 for so long I've forgotten how old I really am"). Jack felt he was born with show business in his blood but before he could test that theory, he joined the Navy. After his discharge in 1921, he broke into vaudeville. Audiences seemed to despise him, but Jack pushed on and teamed with a comedian named George Burns when they met in Philadelphia. They formed their own comedy team (Benny and Burns) but with Jack as the foil and George as the straight man, the act bombed and broke up. George teamed with a girl named Gracie Allen (forming "Burns and Allen") and Jack became famous when he went into radio and began his own show, The Jack Benny Program.

When television began to take hold, Jack transformed his radio program into a visual treat for his audience. Like his radio program, Jack's TV series is a glimpse into his life at home and at the studio.

Jack lives at 366 North Camden Drive in Beverly Hills, California. Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, his ever-faithful valet, lives with him (he calls Jack "Boss" or "Mr. Benny"). Jack has an image for being cheap; he blames this on his writers, who thought making him stingy would be funny. Although Jack has an account at the California Bank, he rarely withdraws money; he enjoys visiting it. When he decides to make a withdrawal, people fear the economy is in trouble and rush to withdraw their money.

While Jack trusts banks, he feels safer storing most of his money in a large vault in the dungeon beneath his home. To access the vault, one must overcome a mine field, poison gas, a rickety bridge, an alligator pool and flame throwers.

Jack has a laundry business on the side and enjoys attending parties (he has a Yellow Pages listing for "Available for Parties"). Jack wrote the song "When You Say I Beg Your Pardon, Then I'll Come Back to You" and is proud of his "ability" to play the violin (which everyone hears off key except him). Professor Pierre LeBlanc is Jack's long-suffering violin teacher.

Mary Livingston is Jack's girlfriend, a salesgirl at the May Company department store (where Jack does his Christmas shopping). Mary was born in Plainfield, New Jersey, and for her and Jack, a night at the movies is going over to her house "because her TV screen is bigger than mine."

Dennis Day is Jack's vocalist. Jack wanted "a nice cheap Morton Downey-like singer for $35 a week who had comedy potential."

Jack's agent, Steve Burke, recommended Dennis, an unknown singer slinging hash at the Lotus Blossom Inn. When Jack heard him sing, but most importantly when Dennis agreed to $35 a week, Jack hired him.

Dennis is a member of the Elks Club and has to sometimes take outside jobs to survive ("I can't survive on what Mr. Benny pays me").

Don Wilson is Jack's overweight announcer; Lois is Don's wife and Harlow is his overweight son (whom Don is grooming to become a TV announcer). Don lives at 4946 West End in Beverly Hills and it was mentioned that when Jack first hired Don, he paid him $5 a week plus meals.

Mel Blanc provides the voice for Jack's car, a rundown Maxwell, and plays Si, the Mexican who confuses Jack with the "See and Si" routine. Mahlon Merrick performs Jack's theme, "Love in Bloom."

Cast: Jack Benny (Himself), Mary Livingston (Herself), Dennis Day (Himself), Don Wilson (Himself), Eddie "Rochester" Anderson (Himself), Lois Corbett (Lois Wilson), Dale White (Harlow Wilson), Mel Blanc (Professor LaBlanc), Maudie Prickett (Miss Gordon; Jack's secretary), Iris Adrian (Miss Adrian; Jack's secretary), Fred DeCordova (Fred; Jack's director), Russ Conway (Joe; Jack's agent), Herb Vigran (Sam; Jack's writer), Artie Auerbach (Mr. Kitzel; the Jewish foil), Mel Blanc (Si, the Mexican), Frank Nelson (Yes Man). Various Roles: Joan Benny, Benny Rubin, Beverly Hills, Joe Besser, Barbara Pepper, Joan Tabor, Ruth Brady. Announcer: Don Wilson. Vocalists: Dennis Day, The Sportsman Quartet.

4028 The Jack Carson Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1955). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy with comedian Jack Carson as the host.

Host: Jack Carson. Regulars: Constance Towers, Don Ameche, Kitty Kallen, Donald Richards, Peggy Ryan, Ray McDonald, The Asia Boys. An- nouncer: Ed Peck, Bud Heistand. Orchestra: Harry Sosnik, Vic Schoen.

4029 Jack Carter and Company. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). Comedian Jack Carter hosts a weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches that ran from March 12, 1949 to April 21, 1949.

Host: Jack Carter. Regulars: Elaine Stritch, Jack Albertson, Sonny King, Bill Callahan, Don Richards, Paul Castle. Orchestra: Harry Sosnik.

4030 The Jack Carter Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1951). A revised version of Jack Carter and Company with comedian Jack Carter hosting a longer running program (February 25, 1950 to June 2, 1951) of music, songs and comedy sketches.

Host: Jack Carter. Regulars: Don Richards, Bill Callahan. Orchestra: Lou Breese, Harry Sosnik.

4031 The Jack Cole Dancers. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 6/16/39). Dancer Jack Cole hosts a program of East Indian music coupled with dance routines. Edward Sobol produced the program and although Jack was assisted by two female dancers, they were never identified.

4032 The Jack LaLanne Show. (Series; Health; Syn.; 1951–1970). The benefits of daily systematic exercise coupled with nutritional guidance with health and fitness expert Jack LaLanne and the assistance of his wife, Elaine. The program is simply thirty minutes of exercises that ran for nineteen years.

Emilia works on behalf of the British government and Jack on orders from U.S. President Thomas Jefferson.

Emilia is a brilliant scientist and has a secret laboratory in the basement of her home. She has the cover of an exporter and Jack poses as her attaché. Jack lives in that same basement with Emilia's skeleton, Mr. Bones. To protect himself, as well as Emilia, Jack adopts the alias of the Daring Dragoon, a local folk hero who helps good defeat evil (mostly the devious plans of Croque as he sets out to prove to his brother that he is capable of ruling a country). Croque considers the Dragoon a criminal ("He lives to spit in our faces. He strikes and vanishes into the shadows of the night"). He also calls the Dragoon "The Masked Weasel." Although Croque fears the Dragoon, he is more fearful of his wife, Camille, a buxom woman who is seeking to become the ruler of Pulau Pulau.

Jack, as the Daring Dragoon, wears a black mask and hat and a red cape.

Jack rides a horse named Nutcracker and fights for the people — “I am an enemy of all crime.” Jack hangs out at a pub called The Drunken Pig and jokes endlessly about everything. Jack has an eye for the ladies and sizes Emilia to measure 36-24-36 (although she won’t admit it).

Emilia believes that God is a woman and tries to impose her beliefs that Britain is better than America on Jack (Jack tries to prove just the opposite). Emilia takes a daily break for tea time and has invented such military weapons as knock-out gas, ginger spray, bullet-proof clothing (using titanium thread) and a submarine. The secret entrance to Emilia’s lab is through the fireplace in the living room (it has an illusionary fire made from candles and mirrors). Emilia is a graduate of Oxford; Jack attended West Point.

Jean Claude (voice of Shemp Wooley) is the secret courier, a parrot that delivers messages from the Resistance. When Jean Claude, who sometimes has too much alcohol to drink, departs, he says “Viva La Resistance.” As a child, Emilia’s father called her “Fu Fu.” Governor Croque is fond of wealth and fancy clothes (that portray him as a “sissy”) and secretly runs the Bonaparte family vineyards on the island.

Croque carries a cow hand puppet with him at all times that he calls Mr. Nippers and is quite fearful of his brother, Napoleon, the diminutive (literally here) ruler of France. Napoleon believes Croque is a wimp and will never follow in his footsteps. Napoleon despises the Daring Dragoon and beats on a Daring Dragoon doll to control his rage.

Joseph LoDuca composed the theme.

Cast: Bruce Campbell (Jack Stiles), Angela Dotchin (Emilia Smythe Rothschild), Stuart Devine (Governor Croque), Ingrid Parke (Camille Croque), Verne Troyer (Napoleon).

4034 The Jack Paar Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1953–1956). A weekly program of music, comedy and talk with humorist Jack Paar as the host. Al Spann is the producer.

4036 Jack Paar Tonight. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1973). A nightly program of music, interviews and chatter with humorist Jack Paar as the host. Bob Carman is the producer.

Host: Jack Paar. Announcer: Peggy Cass. Orchestra: Charles Randolph Grean.

4037 Jack the Ripper. (Series; Mystery; Syn.; 1974). A six-part series that recreates three terrifying months in British history: August 31st to November 9, 1988 — a time when five women met death in Whitechapel, London, at the hands of the mysterious Jack the Ripper. Through modern-day investigations of Scotland Yard detectives Barlow and Witt, new evidence is presented in an attempt to uncover the identity of history’s most notorious criminal.

Cast: Sebastian Cabot (Host). Stratford-Johns (Det. Jack Barlow), Frank Windsor (Detective Witt).

4038 Jackass. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2000–2002). A reality series that acquires laughs by showcasing sheer stupidity. Professional stuntmen and women are seen performing not only stupid but dangerous stunts that send the wrong message to children (who have a tendency to copy what they see and did as they tried to duplicate what they saw). Is, for example, dressing in a bear costume to wrestle a real bear funny? Is placing a baby doll in a car then setting the car on fire to see how people react (thinking it is a real baby) funny? The cast and producers think so.

Cast: Bam Margera, Johnny Knoxville, Steve-O, Ehren McGhehey, Preston Lacy, Chris Ponticus, Trip Taylor, Rick Kosick, Ryan Dunn, Jeff Tremaine, Dave England, Jess Margera, Jason Acuna, Dimitry Elyashkevich.

4039 Jackee. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/11/89). A proposed spin-off from 227. Hoping to make her mark in New York City, Sandra Clark leaves her home at the apartment house known as “227” and moves to Manhattan where she plans to become a fashion designer for Midway Productions. When she discovers that Midway produces pornographic films, she quits; she later acquires a job as the assistant manager of the Sensations Health and Fitness Club. The pilot episode follows Jackee’s efforts to run the club (also the unsold series storyline). Stephanie, Nathan, Zoltan, Margaret and Sven are the club workers.

Cast: Jackee Harry (Sandra Clark), Deborah Stricklin (Stephanie Potter), John Karlen (Nathan Pollock), B’nard Lewis (Zoltan), Margaret Kemp (Margaret), Dan Blom (Sven). Guest Cast: Bobby Hosea (Greg), Conroy Gedeon (C.J.), Franc Luz (Roger), Helen Martin (Pearl Shay), Paddi Edwards (Mrs. Newell), Paul C. Scott (Boy scout). Theme: “Jackee’s Theme” by Kurt Farquhar.

4040 Jackie and Darlene. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/8/78). Jackie Clifton and Darlene Shilton are roommates and police officers with the West Valley

Precinct in California. Jackie is a street officer and Darlene is a radio dispatcher. The proposed series was to relate their misadventures. The pilot episode depicts Jackie's attempts to apprehend three thieves she originally busted, but who were later freed because she neglected to advise them of their rights.

Cast: Sarina Grant (Jackie Clifton), Anna L. Pagan (Darlene Shilton), Lou Frizzell (Sergeant Guthrie). Guest Cast: Jeff Hollis (Simpson), Richard Beauchamp (Garcia), Dick DeCort (McArdle), Gerald Evans (Cop).

4041 Jackie Bison. (Pilot; Cartoon; NBC; 7/2/90). Jacob Bisonowitz is a bison who, after leaving the army and journeying to Hollywood, becomes a big star when he changes his name to Jackie Bison. He also becomes the first animal to ever host his own TV show — The Jackie Bison Show from television city in Wyoming. Jackie's show is patterned after The Jack Benny Program and features a comical look at his home and working life.

Voices: Stan Freberg (Jackie Bison), Richard Karon (Larry Lizard), Rose Marie (Doris), Jayne Meadows (Jill St. Fawn), Pat Paulsen (Franklin).

4043 Jackie Gleason and His American Scene Magazine. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1962–1966). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches culled from the mythical American Scene Magazine. The series features Jackie Gleason as himself, the host, and Joe the Bartender, The Poor Soul and Reginald Van Gleason III in skits. Frank Fontaine appears in Joe the Bartender skits as Crazy Googenheim (as well as a singer in these skits). Also featured is a Honeymooners skit and a segment called "It Pay to Be Ignorant" (a skit based on the old radio series wherein panelists evade answering simple questions like "What color was George Washington's White Horse?"). The series is taped in Miami Beach, Florida.

Cast: Jackie Gleason (Host), Frank Fontaine (Crazy Googenheim), Elizabeth Allen (The Away We Go Girl), Barbara Heller (Segment Introductions). Regulars: Sid Fields, Sue Ane Langdon, Phil Bruns, Jan Crockett, Patricia Wilson, Rip Taylor, Barney Martin, Stan Ross, Jerry Berger, Helen Curtis, Lucille Patton, Frank Marth, Charley Bolender, Stormy Berg, Pat Dahl, The June Taylor Dancers, The Glea Girls. Honeymooners Cast: Jackie Gleason (Ralph Kramden), Art Carney (Ed Norton), Sue Ane Langdon (Alice Kramden), Patricia Wilson (Trixie Norton). It Pays to Be Ignorant Panelists: Jayne Mansfield, Professor Irwin Corey, Frank Fontaine. Announcer: Johnny Olsen. Orchestra: Sammy Spear. Choreography: June Taylor.

4044 The Jackie Gleason Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1952–1961). Music, songs and comedy sketches that also features "Honeymooners" skits with Jackie Gleason as Ralph Kramden, Art Carney as Ed Norton, Audrey Meadows as Alice Kramden and Joyce Randolph as Trixie Norton.

These skits originally aired from 1952 to 1955. In 1955–1956, the skits were spun off into the now classic Honeymooners series (CBS, 1955–1956). When the series failed to make it past the first season, Jackie Gleason returned to his variety series format (1957–1961), where additional Honeymooners segments were produced (many of these segments were first seen on the Showtime cable network as The Honeymooners: The Lost Episodes. After the cable run, they were syndicated as part of the original Honeymooners package).

Other characters portrayed by Jackie ("The Great One") were Reginald Van Gleason III (his favorite), Rudy the Repairman, Joe the Bartender, Fenwick Bobbitt, The Poor Soul.

The series ran for sixty minutes from September 20, 1952 to June 18, 1955 (and from September 29, 1956 to June 22, 1957); and for thirty minutes from October 3, 1958 to January 2, 1961. Jack Hurdle is the producer.

Host: Jackie Gleason. Regulars: Art Carney, Audrey Meadows, Joyce Randolph, George O. Petrie, Frank Marth, Buddy Hackett, The Gleason Girls, The June Taylor Dancers. Announcer: Jack Lescoulie. Orchestra: Ray Bloch.

4045 The Jackie Gleason Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1966–1970). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches, including a reprisal of The Honeymooners both in vignettes and full hour episodes (Jackie Gleason played bus driver Ralph Kramden with Audrey Meadows as his wife, Alice; Art Carney as sewer worker Ed Norton and Sheila MacRae as Ed's wife, Trixie Norton). The series ran from September 17, 1966 to September 12, 1970. Jack Philbin and Frank Wayne are the producers.

Host: Jackie Gleason. Regulars: Art Carney, Audrey Meadows, Sheila MacRae, Lanita Kent, Jami Henderson, Andrea Duda, Carlos Bas, The June Taylor Dancers, The Glea Girls. Announcer: Johnny Olsen. Orchestra: Sammy Spear.

4046 The Jackie Thomas Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1992–1993). The mythical Jackie Thomas Show is America's top-rated comedy series. It is about a wacky father (Jackie), his wife, Helen, and their teenage son, Timmy. Its star, Jackie Thomas, is conceited, demanding, obnoxious and overbearing; his mere presence strikes fear in the hearts of his writing staff, co-stars and network executives. The series presents a behind-the-scenes look at the making of a weekly television show as Jackie attempts the impossible — to deliver a funny show without bloodshed.

Jackie is from Iowa and previously worked in a slaughterhouse. He wants the show to himself and gets very upset when a co-star gets too popular, too much fan mail or too much airtime. Jackie can't act and think at the same time, and he is quite naive when it comes to world affairs.

Jerry Harper is the new head writer. When Jerry arrived for work, he was greeted by a bonfire — made from the scripts of the previous head writer (staff members have a policy of not making friends with each other because "it's really sad when they get fired"). Jerry previously wrote for Barney Miller, Cheers and Taxi; he has a picture of his idol, Dick Van Dyke, on his desk.

Laura Miller is Jerry's assistant; she says simply, "Jackie is insane. I'm not talking wacky, funny insane; I'm talking clinical, dangerously insane." She longs to be a writer.

Nancy Mincher is a staff writer and previously wrote for The Brady Bunch and Who's the Boss? She was fired from The Brady Bunch for trying to seduce Greg and claims, "I'm the one responsible for giving Marcia her depth."

Grant Watson and Bobby Wynn are the remaining members of Jerry's writing team. Bobby is Jackie's drinking buddy from Iowa. He performs standup comedy at various clubs, and Jackie keeps him around as the writers' joke man.

Doug Talbot is the network's flunkie. He was a vice president at NBC and worked there at the same time as Jerry (when he wrote for Cheers). Doug was fired for trying to cancel Cheers.

The co-stars of The Jackie Thomas Show are Sophia Ford, who plays Jackie's television wife, Helen, and Chas Walker, who plays their son, Timmy. Jackie plays a butcher; Sophia dreads the thought of having to kiss Jackie on the show and does so only to keep her job. Chris Thomas is Jackie's brother.

Cast: Tom Arnold (Jackie Thomas), Alison LaPlaca (Laura Miller), Dennis Boutsikaris (Jerry Harper), Maryedith Burrell (Nancy Mincher), Paul Feig (Bobby Wynn), Martin Mull (Doug Talbot), Michael Boatman (Grant Watson), Jeanetta Arnette (Sophia Ford), Breckin Meyer (Chas Walker), Chris Farley (Chris Thomas). Theme: "The Jackie Thomas Show Theme" by W.G. Snuffy Walden.

4047 Jackpot. (Series; Game; NBC; 1974–1975). Sixteen players compete. One is made the "expert"; the others become the players. The expert pushes a button to establish a money amount and begins the game by calling on a player. When called, the player states the value of a riddle he possesses (placed on board) and reads it. If the expert solves it, he keeps his place and calls on another player; if he fails to answer it, he trades places with the player who stumped him. Each riddle that is solved increases the money on the board and can only be won by the player who matches or surpasses the previously established amount. The sixteen players compete for five days.

Host: Geoff Edwards. Announcer: Don Pardo.

4048 Jackpot. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1989). A revised version of the NBC series of the same title (see the prior title for information and format).

Host: Geoff Edwards. Announcer: John Harlan.

4049 Jack's Place. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1992). Jack's Place is actually Jack's Bar and Restaurant. It is world famous for its chocolate fudge cake, and customers are not obligated to pay for a meal if they do not like it.

Jack Evans is the charming proprietor, a former jazz musician during the 1960s. The only information revealed about Jack is that he was on the road a lot as a musician and felt it would be best for his wife and daughter if he left them to lead his own life.

Chelsea Duffy is the waitress and Greg Toback is the bartender. Stories relate incidents in the lives of the guests who frequent Jack's Place. Susan Sullivan is Jack's estranged daughter. David Schwartz and Bill Elliott composed the theme, "Jack's Place."

Cast: Hal Linden (Jack Evans), Finola Hughes (Chelsea Duffy), John Dye (Greg Toback), Michele Green (Susan Sullivan).

4050 Jackson and Jill. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1949). Jackson and Jill Jones are a married couple who live in a one-room apartment (1A) at 167 Oak Street in Manhattan. Jackson is an accountant for the Gimmling Company; Jill is a beautiful housewife who believes she is "mean, suspicious and narrow-minded" (Jackson says she isn't—"You're sweet, lovely and wonderful"). Stories relate their simple pleasures and trying times.

Jackson served with the Marines during World War II and believes you can tell a man's character by the coat he wears. Jill believes Jackson is forgetful "because he has something else on his mind" and always asks Jackson "if he prefers a girl with looks or a girl with brains." Jackson's answer, "Neither one darling, I prefer you," causes Jill to give a puzzled look to the camera. Jill does have a suspicious mind and constantly believes Jackson is seeing other women (each episode finds Jill threatening to leave Jackson). She ultimately learns she has jumped to the wrong conclusions.

Each episode opens and closes with Jill writing an entry about the day's activities in her diary (which we see as a flashback). The program closes with "Watch for another Jackson and Jill on this station soon."

Cast: Todd Karns (Jackson Jones), Helen Chapman (Jill Jones).

4051 The Jackson Five. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1971–1973). Michael Jackson and his brothers, Randy, Jackie, Tito and Marlon appear in animated form as the famous Motown rock group; here encountering misadventures at home and on tour.

Voice Cast: Michael Jackson (Michael Jackson), Randy Jackson (Randy Jackson), Jackie Jackson (Jackie Jackson), Tito Jackson (Tito Jackson), Marlon Jackson (Marlon Jackson). Additional Voices: Paul Frees, Edmund Silvers, Joel Cooper, Mike Martinez, Craig Grandy.

4052 The Jackson 5. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 11/4/72). An unsold project that was to feature a young Michael Jackson and his brothers on a weekly basis (it was considered as a replacement for Anna and the King but, despite good reviews, it was not picked up). Comedy by Johnny Brown and Jo Anne Worley supplemented songs by the Motown group.

Hosts: The Jackson Five (Jackie, Marlon, Michael, Randy and Tito Jackson). Regulars: Johnny Brown, Jo Anne Worley.

4053 The Jacksons. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1976–1977). A weekly program of music and songs with the Jackson family. Joe Jackson, Richard Arons and Bill Davis are the producers.

Hosts: Michael Jackson, Marlon Jackson, Randy Jackson, Jackie Jackson, Tito Jackson, Maureen Jackson, La Toya Jackson, Janet Jackson. Regulars: Jim Samuels, Marty Cohen. Orchestra: Rick Wilkins.

4054 Jacob Two-Two. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 2003–2007). Jacob is a young boy who earned the nickname "two-two" for his habit of repeating certain words (for example, "Let's go Renee, let's go" or "good luck Renee, good luck"). This habit occurred as Jacob, the youngest member of his family, had to repeat himself to be heard. Jacob is a best friend with Renee, a girl with a French accent, and stories follow their adventures as they face the daily challenges of being kids (situations are made more complex because of Jacob — called a double talker in some episodes when he speaks before he thinks and then says, "My big mouth gets me into trouble all the time").

Voice Cast: Billy Rosenberg (Jacob), Julie Lemieux (Renee), Janet-Laine Green (Florence), Harvey Atkin (Morty), Kaitlin Howell (Emma), Marc McMulkin (Noah), Kristopher Clarke (Beauford Pew), Duane Hill (I.M. Greedyguts), Fiona Reed (Sour Pickles).

4055 The Jacqueline Susann Show. (Series; Women; DuMont; 1951). A program of fashion previews, guests and celebrity interviews. The series, which ran from May 7, 1951 to June 18, 1951, is also known as Jacqueline Susann's Open Door.

Hostess: Jacqueline Susann. Announcer: Cy Newman, John McKnight.

4056 Jacques Fray's Music Room. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). The program features music by Jacques Fray coupled with performances by aspiring talent.

Host: Jacques Fray. Regulars: Bess Myerson, Jeri Nagle, Bob Calder, Joan Francis, Russell and Aura. Orchestra: Charles Stark.

4057 JAG. (Series; Drama; NBC; CBS; 1995–2005). Commander Harmon Rabb, Jr. and Lieutenant Colonel Sarah MacKenzie are lawyers attached to the Judge Advocate General's office (JAG for short), the legal department of the U.S. Navy.

Harmon was a fighter pilot who became a Navy lawyer after he and his co-pilot were involved in accident. He and his team (Bud, Harriet, Mic and Loren) investigate and litigate crimes involving marine and navy personnel.

Harmon and his team are not lawyers who sit back and let others do the legwork. They personally involve themselves in their investigations and risk their lives to see that justice is served.

When the series first began, Harmon's chief assistant was Lieutenant Meg Austin (she was dropped when the series switched networks in 1996).

An announcer opens the show: "Following in his father's footsteps as a naval aviator, Lieutenant Commander Harmon Rabb, Jr. suffered a crash while landing his Tomcat on a storm-tossed carrier at sea. Diagnosed with night blindness, Harmon transferred to the Navy's Judge Advocate General's core, which investigates, defends and prosecutes the law of the sea. There with fellow JAG lawyer Major Sarah MacKenzie, he now fights in and out of the courtroom with the same daring tenacity that made him a top gun in the air."

Cast: David James Elliott (Cmdr. Harmon "Harm" Rabb, Jr.), Catherine Bell (Lt. Col. Sarah “Mac” MacKenzie), Patrick Labyorteaux (Lt. Cmdr. Bud Roberts, Jr.), John M. Jackson (Adm. Albert Jethro “A.J.” Chegwidden), Karri Turner (Lt. Harriet Sims), Zoe McLellan (P.O. Jennifer Coates), Chuck Carrington (P.O. Jason Tiner), Scott Lawrence (Cmdr. Sturgis Turner), Randy Vasquez (Sgt. Victor “Gunny” Galindez), Nanci Chambers (Lt. Loren Singer), Steven Culp (Agent Clayton Webb), Paul Collins (Naval Sec. Alexander Nelson), Michael Belisario (Midshipman Mike Roberts), Harrison Page (Rear Adm. Stiles Morris), Jennifer Savidge (Cmdr. Amy Helfman), Tracey Needham (Lt. J.G. Meg Austin), David Andrews (Maj. Gen. Gordon Creswell), Anne-Marie Johnson (Rep. Bobbi Latham), Isabella Hoffman (Meredith Cavanaugh), Cindy Ambuehl (Rene Peterson), Dean Stockwell (Naval Sec. Edward Sheffield), Sibel Erhener (Lt. Elizabeth “Skates” Hawkes), Susan Haskell (Lt. Cmdr. Jordan “Jordi” Parker).

4058 Jake and the Fatman. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987–1992). Jason Lochinvar McCabe, called J.L. for short, began his TV career as the District Attorney of an unnamed Southern California city (1987–88). He next became a prosecuting attorney for the Honolulu Police Department (1988–90), then the D.A. of Costa Del Mar, a small city in California. Jake Styles is the stylish investigator who assists him in all locales. He was joined in 1991 by Neely Capshaw, an investigator for the Costa Del Mar D.A.’s office.

J.L. is somewhat overweight and has earned the nickname Fatman. He is a tough prosecutor and will use every means at his disposal to convict a felon. J.L. was born in Atlanta, Georgia, and began his career as a lawyer, then as a prosecuting attorney for the D.A.’s office. He has also been called “Buster” and he has a somewhat lazy (appears to always be sleeping) dog named Max. J.L.’s favorite watering hole is Dixie’s Bar. Only one base of operations was given for J.L.—building 310 of the Costa Del Mar Municipal Court House.

Jake was born in California and as a kid had the nickname Butchie. His childhood hero was Tom Cody, star of the mythical TV series Sky Hawk.

Neely lives at 5440 Canyon Drive with her daughter, Sarah (who attends the Folger Park Grammar School).

Each episode is titled after a song; for example, “It Had to Be You,” “The Tender Trap,” and this song is played over the episode’s after-theme opening credits. Dick DeBenedictis composed the theme “Jake and the Fatman.”

4059 Jake in Progress. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2005–2006). Jake Phillips is a publicist for the Magnum Public Relations Firm in New York City. Women say, “he’s charming and handsome but he doesn’t know it.” Jake is a smooth-as-silk fast-talking publicist who is totally devoted to work and dating the ladies, although he has no time for a commitment. He feels his life is a work in progress. Stories follow his seemingly carefree life style as he uses his suave and sophisticated moves to deal with an assortment of temperamental clients to his private life where he is determined (as soon as he gets a chance) to find the one perfect girl to settle down with and raise a family.

Naomi Clark is Jake’s boss, a single woman who is struggling through the mood swings of her first pregnancy. She is a lady of class but hates dealing with people; she uses Jake as her go between on deals.

Adrian is Jake’s married friend, a dentist who lives in the suburbs and wishes he had a life like Jake’s. Patrick is Jake’s friend, an out-of-work magician who is seeking to break a record and become famous. Brooke is a temp worker at the office who Jake feels an attraction to—but she always rejects his advances, knowing the type of non-committal person he really is.

Cast: John Stamos (Jake Phillips), Wendie Malick (Naomi Clark), Ian Gomez (Adrian Grossman), Rick Hoffman (Patrick Van Dorn), Julie Bowen (Brooke).

4060 Jake Lassiter: Justice on the Bayou. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/9/95). Following a knee injury that ends his pro football career, Jake Lassiter studies law and later becomes an attorney with the public defender’s office in New Orleans. Years later, when he gets tired of seeing dirt bags get off, he quits and joins the law firm of Harmon and Fox. The proposed series was to relate Jake’s somewhat controversial defenses of clients the conservative firm prefers he not handle. In the pilot episode, Jake defends a doctor (Roger) who has been accused of murdering his patient, a wealthy industrialist (Philip). Other Regulars: Cindy, Jake’s assistant, a free spirit who lives in a trailer with her dog Arnold.

4061 Jake 2.0. (Series; Science Fiction; UPN; 2003). Jake Foley is a tech support worker for the NSA (National Security Agency) in Washington, D.C. While attempting to fix a computer glitch, Jake finds himself in the middle of a hostage situation when a renegade scientist attempts to steal a top-secret computer file. Just as Jake thought it was the end, security guards appear. In the ensuing gun battle, a bullet strikes a computer and shatters debris — some of which strike Jake. The scientist is brought down and all appears to be fine for Jake. Later, however, he finds he has changed. The wound inflicted by the debris on his arm has healed and he now has a personal connection with computers (he can wave his hand and command them). He has encompassed the nano technology program of the molecular computer that struck him (which was a Department of Defense experiment for soldiers in combat that would enable them to repair damaged tissue. The nanites are now part of Jake's system and they cannot be removed).

Jake suddenly finds himself as an agent for the NSA — and the head of a special operations team. Stories follow Jake's adventures as he uses his new found abilities, including increased hearing and incredible strength to battle the enemies of the U.S. (the NSA is the largest intelligence agency in the world — 46,000 people who work to keep the U.S. safe).

Other Regulars: Louise Beckett, called Lou, the Deputy Director of the NSA; Diana Hughes-Keegan, the NSA doctor who takes a personal interest in Jake (she is hoping to get a Nobel Peace Prize — and a medal, fame and money — for her work with Jake); Agents Sara Heywood and Kyle Durante; and Jerry, Jake's brother.

A female narrator opens the show: “Jake Foley was an ordinary guy until a freak accident transformed him into the world's first computer enhanced man. Millions of microscopic computers interfaced with his biochemistry and made him stronger and faster; able to see and hear farther than normal men. They give him the power to control technology with his brain. Jake Foley — America's secret weapon; he takes on missions no ordinary agent can perform. He is the ultimate human upgrade.”

Cast: Christopher Gorham (Jake Foley), Judith Scott (Louise Beckett), Marina Black (Sara Heywood), Philip Anthony Rodriguez (Kyle Durante), Connor Tracy (Diana Hughes-Keegan), Drew Tyler Bell (Jerry Foley).

4062 Jakers: The Adventures of Piggley Winks. (Series; Children; PBS; 2003–2007). Piggley Winks is a young pig that lives on a farm with his parents (Elly and Padrig) and his sister Molly. Dannan the duck and Fernando the cow are Piggley's friends and stories follow the learning experiences they encounter at home and at school.

Each computer animated episode opens with Grandpa Piggley (who now lives in North America) relating a story about his youth to his grandchildren. A flashback is used to show his life in 1930s Ireland. Each episode concludes with a live action segment with host Codi Jones recapping the lessons presented in the story.

Cast: Codi Jones (Host), Peadar Lamb (Grandpa Piggley), Maile Flanagan (Young Piggley Winks), Tara Strong (Molly Winks), Tara Strong (Dannan), Charlie Adler (Padrig Winks), Russi Taylor (Elly Winks), Russi Taylor (Fernando), Mel Brooks (Wiley the Sheep), Joan Rivers (Shirley the Sheep), Pamela Adlon (Hector MacBadger), Nika Futterman (Sean).

4063 Jake's Journey. (Unaired Pilot; Fantasy; Produced in 1988). Shortly after Mike and Jean Finley and their children, Jake and Sarah move from the U.S. to England, Jake discovers he has the ability to travel to an amazing fantasy world of different medieval time periods. Here, he becomes the squire to Sir George, an unpredictable, cranky old Knight. The unsold series was to relate incidents in Jake's normal and boring life and his escapades with Sir George in strange fantasy lands.

Cast: Lane Smith (Mike Finley), Nancy Lenahan (Jean Finley), Chris T. Young (Jake Finley), Fay Masterson (Sarah Finley), Graham Chapman (Sir George).

4064 Jake's M.O. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 7/30/87). Jake Tekulve is a veteran crime reporter who now works for CNS (Country New Service), a group of radio and television stations that air Jake's stories. The proposed series was to relate Jake's exploits as he uses his keen instincts and memories of the good old days of police work to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Jake seeks “The Curbside Killer,” a seemingly random killer who is stalking L.A. Other Regulars: Tab, his assistant; Flo, a reporter for International Wire Service; Sigourney, Jake's boss; and Police Detective Abel Barnes.

Cast: Fred Gwynne (Jake Tekulve), Jeff McCracken (Tab Hoberman), Caroline McWilliams (Flo Duffy), Claudette Nevins (Sigourney Tompkins), James Avery (Abel Barnes). Guest Cast: James Handy (Danny McGurk), Kenneth Tigar (Sol Goddman), Raye Birk (Detective Bushkin), Eileen Conn (Stacy Horowitz), Garn Stephens (Liz Reardon), Sheila DeWindt (Barbara Calvin).

4065 Jake's Way. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/28/80). A proposed series about Jake Rudd, sheriff of Fox County, a rural town near San Antonio, Texas. The pilot episode depicts Jake's attempts to find the people responsible for the murder of a friend — an attorney who was about to reveal some important information. Other Regulars: Deputies Sam, Daniel and Steve; and Christina, the radio dispatcher.

Cast: Robert Fuller (Jake Rudd), Slim Pickens (Sam Hargis), Steve McNaughton (Daniel Doggett), Ben Lemon (Steve Cantwell), Lisa LeMole (Christina O'Toole). Guest Cast: Andrew Duggan (Mace Kaylor), Kristin Griffith (Luana Kaylor), Michael Jaynes (Tom Ross), Suzie Humphreys (Corrine Burke), Merrill Connally (Judge Pettibone), Donna Marie Awtrey (Maybelle).

4066 Jambo. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1969–1971). Actor Marshall Thompson hosts and narrates a weekly series of wildlife stories aimed at children (Jambo is African for Hello). The series is filmed on location in Africa.

4067 Jamboree. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1950). A summer series of music, songs and light comedy that ran from June 5, 1950 to August 9, 1950.

Hostess: Gloria Van. Regulars: Jane Brokeman, Jimmy McPartland, Dick Edwards, Danny O’Neill, Bud Tygett, Paula Raye, John Dolie, “Woo Woo” Stevens. Orchestra: Julian Stockdale.

4068 James at 15. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1977–1978). A realistic approach to the problems faced by today’s teenagers as depicted through the experiences of James Hunter, a student at Bunker Hill High School in Boston.

After ten episodes, the title changed to James at 16. Paul and Joan Hunter are James’s parents; Sandy and Kathy Hunter are James’s sisters; Marlene and Sly are James’s friends. The series, which produced 10 episodes as James at 15, ran from October 27, 1977 to January 26, 1978; and as James at 16, 11 episodes were produced from January 9, 1978 to July 27, 1978.

Cast: Lance Kerwin (James Hunter), Linden Chiles (Paul Hunter), Lynn Carlin (Joan Hunter), Kim Richards (Sandy Hunter), Deirdre Berthrong (Kathy Hunter), Susan Myers (Marlene Mahoney), David Hubbard (Ludwig “Sly” Hazeltine). Theme Vocal: “James” by Lee Montgomery.

4069 James at 16. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1978). The revised series title for James at 15 (when the title character, James Hunter, turned 16 years of age). See James at 15 for information.

4070 James Bond, Jr. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1991). Wakefield is a spy prep school based in England. James Bond, the famous international spy known as 007, is a graduate. His nephew, James Bond, Jr., yearns to be just like his uncle. He has been enrolled in the school and is studying to be a spy. Although he is only a student, he has already acquired the skills of his uncle — skills that enable him to battle the evils of S.C.U.M. (Saboteurs and Criminals United in Mayhem), a cartel of mad scientists seeking to take over the world. With the help of his schoolmates I.Q. and Gordo, James, Jr., fights to keep the word safe from S.C.U.M.

Voice Cast: Corey Burton (James Bond, Jr.), Jeff Bennett (Horace “I.Q.” Boothroy), Julian Holloway (Gordo), Jan Rabson (Goldfinger), Sheryl Bernstein (Princess Yasmine), Jennifer Darling (Phoebe Farragut). Additional Voices: Paul Eiding, Jane Downs, Hamilton Camp, Eddie Barth, Susan Silo, Mona Marshall.

4071 The James Boys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/25/82). William “Willie” James is a divorced construction worker (for the Heinwell Construction Company) who is having a difficult time raising his young son, Sam. The efforts of Willie and Sam to share each other’s interests was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Sam tries to break up his father’s romance with Mindy, a girl he doesn’t think is right to be his new mother.

Other Regulars: Kate, the owner of Kate’s Kitchen, a diner; Emily, Kate’s daughter; Jake, Willie’s friend; Dan, Willie’s boss; and Kathy, Dan’s secretary.

Cast: Brian Kerwin (Willie James), Eric Coplan (Sam James), Kelly Harmon (Kate Allgood), Viveka Davis (Emily Allgood), Edward Edwards (Jake), Arthur Rosenberg (Dan Felix), Patricia Cobert (Kathy), Liberty Godshall (Mindy; guest role).

4072 Jamie. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1953–1954). Jamison Francis McHummer, Jamie for short, is a young boy who comes to live with his grandfather, Frank M. Dimmer, Frank’s daughter, Laurie and Laurie’s daughter, Liz, after the death of his parents. Jamie is an obedient child and cherishes the company of his grandfather (they share a lot of activities together).

Frank, called Grandpa, owns Dimmer’s Drug Store; Laurie owns a catering business (with her friend Annie) and Jamie, who receives an allowance of 50 cents a week, earns extra money as a bicycle delivery boy for Briggs Hardware Store. Stories follow the everyday events that spark the lives of the family. In the original pilot film, which aired on ABC on April 26, 1953, Eva Marie Saint played the role of Liz.

Cast: Brandon DeWilde (Jamie McHummer), Ernest Truex (Frank Dimmer), Polly Rowles (Laurie), Kathy Nolan (Liz).

4073 The Jamie Foxx Show. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1996–2002). The King’s Tower is a Los Angeles hotel run by Junior King and his wife, Helen. Jamie King, their nephew, is a hopeful actor who has just left his home in Texas to pursue his dream. Until that time comes he is residing (and working) at his aunt and uncle’s hotel. Stories follow the events in Jamie’s life as he deals with staff and hotel patrons while at the same time trying to find his niche in show business.

Francesca Monroe, called Fancy, is the gorgeous desk clerk (a future romantic interest for Jamie); Braxton P. Hartnabrig is the stuffy perfectionist accountant who also has eyes for Fancy.

Cast: Jamie Foxx (Jamie King), Gracelle Beauvais (Francesca “Fancy” Monroe), Garrett Morris (Uncle Junior King), Ellia English (Aunt Helen King), Christopher B. Duncan (Braxton P. Hartnabrig).

4074 The Jamie Kennedy Experiment. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2002–2004). A Candid Camera type of program that plays pranks on unsuspecting people but expands the idea to have it done as part of a skit in front of a studio audience (who are in on the gag). Unsuspecting people are brought to the studio on a pretext. Actor/comedian Jamie Kennedy plays a wide variety of characters in an attempt to pull off the prank. Cameras capture the unsuspected “marks” reactions to the situation as it unfolds. When the skit appears to have run its course, Jamie drops the disguise and turns to the mark to say “You’ve been X-ed.”

Host: Jamie Kennedy. Regulars: Nick Swarson, Joannah Portman, Chris Tallman, Mighty Rasta, Lisa Deanne Young, Ivar Brogger, Masi Oka, Carrie Reeves, Larry Milburn.

4075 The Jan Murray Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955). Comedian Jan Murray hosts a weekly program of music, song and comedy.

Host: Jan Murray. Regulars: Tina Louise, Fletcher Peck, The Novelles. Music: Milton DeLugg.

4076 Jana of the Jungle. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1981–1982). A young girl (Jana), traveling on the Amazon River with her father, is separated from him when their boat hits a rock and sinks. Jana is found and rescued by Montaro, a noble descendant of a lost warrior tribe. Jana has only the necklace her father gave her before the disaster as a remembrance. She is taught the ways of the jungle by Montaro and grows up to become a daring defender of the jungle and its creatures. Jana, assisted by Montaro and her jaguar, Ghost, battles evil while at the same searching for her father, whom she believes is still alive. Jana’s weapon is the Mystic Staff of Power. The program is a spin-off from Godzilla (where Jana of the Jungle ran as a segment).

The program opens with these words from Jana: “The last thing I remember was traveling up the Great River with my father. He had just given me my special necklace when (visual of boat hitting a rock in the water). I was rescued by Montaro, a noble descendant of a lost warrior tribe. And while searching for my lost father, Montaro and my special animal friends help me guard the jungle and those who dwell within it. I am Jana of the Jungle.”

Voice Cast: B.J. Ward (Jana), Ted Cassidy (Montaro), Ross Martin (Various Voices).

4077 Jane. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1989). Jane is a beautiful undercover agent for the British government during World War II. Her mission is to battle the enemies of freedom and protect people who are important to the war effort. Jane is not a superhero; she has no amazing powers and she is not impervious to harm.

Her sexuality is her only “weapon” (it appears that the enemy has never encountered a woman as sensuous as Jane and their bedazzlement becomes their downfall). While Jane can fly an enemy plane by instinct, fire complicated weapons accurately by chance, she does have one serious problem: keeping on her clothes. Jane wears only dresses and losing that dress to reveal her sexy lingerie is not her fault: things just happen (for example, snagging the dress on a nail while climbing over a wall; being stranded on a raft and needing a sail). To add further spice for the viewer, Jane often manages to lose her bra (while split second nudity is seen, Jane is most often depicted from the back, side or in a silhouette). Finding outerwear becomes Jane’s number one priority.

In addition to Jane’s lack of wardrobe, the program is unique in its presentation: that of a comic strip come to life. The series is based on the World War II Daily Mirror British newspaper comic strip Jane. Each scene is a panel and all backgrounds and props (such as cars, trucks and planes) are drawings. Through special effects, the live actors are convincingly placed in comic book-like situations.

All of Jane’s serial-like adventures involve her faithful companion, her dog, Fritz, a Dachshund whose thoughts are seen in balloons (the cloud-like areas used for comic book characters’ speeches). Fritz wishes he could help Jane “But I’m not a Doberman.” When not on assignment, Jane enjoys relaxing in her flat in London. Her superior is Colonel Birdie Ewell, a Royal Navy commander who often joins Jane on assignments. He is cared for by Tombs, his ever-faithful butler (Tombs is often displeased with always being so far from home and longs for “the rationing, blitzes and blackouts of England”). When Birdie realizes something has happened, he slaps his forehead and a bell sounds (when Jane gets an idea, a ping is heard followed by a superimposed light bulb over her head). Tombs calls Jane “Miss Jane.”

Jane and her boyfriend, Georgie, are very much in love and would like to marry but circumstances will not allow it: “There is a war on, man.” Georgie, an undercover British army agent, has been assigned to capture Lola and Pola Pagola, deadly spies who are more of a threat to the Allies’ success than Hitler. The seductive twins feel that Jane is a threat to their missions and killing her has become their top priority. Detecting that Lola smokes Egyptian cigarettes and Pola doesn’t is Jane’s way of figuring out which sister is which. Bob Danvers Walker does the narrating; Neil Innes sings the theme.

Cast: Glynis Barber (Jane), Robin Bailey (Col. Birdie Ewell), Max Wail (Tombs), John Bird (Georgie), Suzanne Danielle (Lola and Pola Pagola).

4078 Jane and the Dragon. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 2006–). A computer animated series that is set in medieval times. Jane is a young girl who is being trained as a Lady-in-Waiting. Jane, however, refuses to accept this and would like to become a Knight. But, being a female, she cannot be taken seriously. Determined to prove everyone is wrong, Jane trains in secret (how to wield a sword) to prove her worthiness by slaying a dragon. As she trains, a playful dragon snatches the Royal Prince Gunther. Believing this is the opportunity she has been waiting for, Jane sets out to find and slay the dragon. Jane locates the dragon's cave but discovers something she didn't expect — a friendly dragon.

The three hundred-year-old green dragon befriends Jane and allows her to “rescue” Gunther. Upon returning to the castle, the King bestows upon Jane the title of Knight Apprentice. “Jane and the Dragon are best friends now,” as the theme explains and stories follow Jane as she trains to become a Knight and the antics of the dragon (whom Jane calls Dragon) to impress Jane and help her achieve her dream.

King Carodoc and his wife, the Queen rule the land; Sir Theodore is the head Knight; Pepper is the King's cook; Prince Cuthbert and Princess Lavinia are the King's children; Sir Ivan is a knight; Jester is the King's comic; Rake is the gardener; Smitty is the blacksmith. Tajja Isen sings the theme, “Jane and the Dragon.”

Cast: Lea Thompson (Cathy Davis), William R. Moses (Jack Davis), Jessy Schram (Susan Davis), Joe Penny (Frank Darnell), Donna Mills (Polly), Nick Davis (Zack Shada).

4080 Jane Eyre. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 10/12/39). A television adaptation of the 1847 novel by Charlotte Bronte. The story of Jane Eyre, an orphan girl, educated at Mr. Brocklehurst's Lowood School, who becomes the governess to Adele, the ward of Edward Rochester, the gruff owner of Thornfield Hall in Yorkshire, England.

Cast: Flora Campbell (Jane Eyre), Dennis Hoey (Edward Rochester), Eleanor Pitts (Adele), Effie Shannon (Mrs. Fairfax), Ruth Matteson (Blanche Ingrams), Naomi Campbell (Leah), Daisy Belmore (Grace Poole), Philip Tonge (Mason).

4081 Jane Eyre. (Series; Drama; PBS; 7/82). The story of Jane Eyre, a governess hoping to find love and romance in a 19th century class-ridden society in Thornfield (Yorkshire) (England). Based on the novel by Charlotte Bronte. Produced by the BBC in 1973.

Cast: Sorcha Cusack (Jane Eyre), Juliet Waley (Jane Eyre; as a child), Michael Jayston (Edward Rochester), Isabel Rosin (Adele), John Phillips (Mr. Brocklehurst), Megs Jenkins (Mrs. Fairfax), Zara Jaber (Grace Poole), Hazel Clyne (Leah), Anna Korwin (Sophie), Jean Hervey (Mrs. Reed), Brenda Kempner (Bertha), Eric Dodson (Wood), Anthony Webb (Briggs), Edward DeSouza (Mason), Ronald Meyer (John), Caroline Harris (Diana Rivers), Susan Broderick (Mary Rivers).

4082 Jane Froman's U.S.A. Canteen. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1952–1953). A military canteen (a recreation facility) is the setting for a program that presents performances by the men and women of the U.S. armed forces. The series ran as Jane Froman's U.S.A. Canteen from October 18, 1952 to July 2, 1953; and as The Jane Froman Show from September 1, 1953 to June 23, 1955. Byron Paul is the producer.

Hostess: Jane Froman. Regulars: The Peter Birch Dancers. Announcer: Allyn Edwards. Orchestra: Alfredo Antonini.

4083 The Jane Pauley Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 2004). NBC newswoman Jane Pauley hosts a daily series of celebrity interviews coupled with discussions on topical issues.

4084 The Jane Pickens Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1954). A program of music and songs with singer Jane Pickens as the host that ran from January 31, 1954 to September 5, 1954.

Hostess: Jane Pickens. Regulars: The Vikings. Music: Milton DeLugg.

4085 Jane Wyman Presents the Fireside Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1955–1956). A continuation of Fireside Theater under a new title (and host, actress Jane Wyman). A filmed series of dramas encompassing both well known and lesser-known performers. The series ran from August 30, 1955 to August 21, 1956.

Hostess: Jane Wyman. Performers Include: Jane Wyman, Nita Talbot, Vincent Price, Everett Sloane, Keith Andes, Frances Bergen, Beverly Washburn, John Dehner, Jeannie Carson, Gene Barry, Claude Akins, Cara Williams, Craig Stevens, Neville Brand, Mercedes McCambridge, Fernando Lamas, Ruth Roman, Grant Williams, Fay Wray, Mae Clarke, Carolyn Jones, Henry Jones, Ralph Meeker, Gene Lockhart, Peter Mark Richman, Ozzie Nelson, Nancy Gates, Sebastian Cabot, Wallace Ford, Richard Jaeckel, Jack Kelly, Gilbert Roland, Ruth Hussey, Betty Lynn, James Baryon, Dan O'Herlihy.

4086 The Jane Wyman Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1956–1957). A series of tense, highly dramatic stories with actress Jane Wyman as the host and occasional star. The series ran from August 28, 1956 to June 25, 1957.

Hostess: Jane Wyman. Announcer: Joel Cramer.

4087 Jane Wyman's Summer Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1957). The program features rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on Fireside Theater with actress Jane Wyman as the host. The summer series ran from July 2, 1957 to September 17, 1957.

4088 Janet Dean, Registered Nurse. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1954). Janet Dean is a private duty nurse working in New York City. She is young, pretty and dedicated to helping people who cannot help themselves. Janet believes that some patients' problems are psychosomatic and that by incorporating applied psychology she can resolve a problem by uncovering the cause for the problem. Stories relate Janet's efforts to prove her theories.

Cast: Ella Raines (Janet Dean).

4089 The Janice Dickinson Modeling Agency. (Series; Reality; Oxygen; 2006). A cable version rip off of the UPN (then the CW) broadcast network series America's Next Top Model (which puts a dozen potential models through a series of real life modeling situations to find one girl who qualifies to be a top model). Here super model Janice Dickinson, who appeared on America's Top Model, opens her own agency and grooms potential models to find potential fashion industry superstars (much in the same manner as Tyra Banks does on America's Next Top Model with tasks and elimination sessions).

Cast: Janice Dickinson (Herself).

4090 Jarrett. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 8/11/73). Sam Jarrett is an ex-prize fighter turned private detective who specializes in solving crimes associated with the fine arts. His major nemesis is Bassett Cosgrove, an international art thief, while his stumbling block is his niece, Luluwa, a somewhat spacey girl who works as a snake dancer. In the pilot episode, Jarrett is hired to recover a collector's stolen Biblical scrolls.

Cast: Glenn Ford (Sam Jarrett), Yvonne Craig

4091 Jason King. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1971–1972). A spin-off from Department S that takes writer Jason King (writer of Mark Caine Mystery novels) away from crime solving for the Paris-based Department S (a unit of Interpol) to solve crimes on his own.

After a tax audit it is discovered that the flamboyant Jason King overlooked paying taxes. To help solve his financial burden, Jason agrees to help the British government solve crimes (and acquire stories for his books). Although Jason works alone, he is just as extravagant as he was in the prior series with an interest in fast cars, travel, wine and beautiful women.

Other Regulars: Sir Brian, Jason's government supervisor; Ryland, Sir Brian's assistant; and Nicola Harvester, Jason's publisher.

Cast: Peter Wyngarde (Jason King), Dennis Price (Sir Brian), Ronald Lacey (Ryland), Ann Sharp (Nicola Harvester).

4092 Jason of Star Command. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 1979–1981). Jason is a pilot with the futuristic Star Command, a space-age interplanetary police station. Commander Carnarvin supervises Star Command operations (he is later replaced by Commander Stone). Nicole and Samantha are cadets who assist Jason, captain of the ship Starfire. Professor E.J. Parsafoot is responsible for the weaponry used by Star Command and Peepo is the unit's robot. The Evil Dragos is Star Command's enemy. He is a sinister being who plots to control the universe. Stories follow Jason and his crew as they attempt to defeat Dragos and safeguard the universe. The series originally aired as a segment of Tarzan and the Super 7.

4093 The Jaye P. Morgan Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1956). A lively summer program of music and songs with singer Jaye P. Morgan as the host. The series ran from June 13, 1956 to August 24, 1956.

Hostess: Jaye P. Morgan. Regulars: Dick Morgan, Charlie Morgan, Duke Morgan. Music: Joel Herron.

Patricia Marshall is an attractive widow (in her fifties) who established the firm with her late husband. She is now partners with her 30-year-old son, Paul Marshall.

Patricia, who attended Harvard Law School, lives at 367 South Oak Street. She has a brilliant record of corporate litigation wins, but is known for helping the underdog and taking cases that no other high-class firm would handle (for example, defending a boy's pet rooster, who is accused of crowing and disturbing a neighborhood; or defending a two-bit hood). Her favorite pastime is going to the beach and hunting for sea shells.

Paul, who also attended Harvard, lives in an apartment at 360 Etchfield Road. Unlike his mother (who will go to extremes), Paul is a by-the-books, laid-back attorney who will never tackle the cases she does (he seems to represent only corporate clients). Paul is a young man with spunk, Patricia makes things happen, and together they form a team that clients seem to want.

Morton is Patricia's chauffeur; Molly is the agency receptionist; Richie is the reformed hood who helps Patricia.

Cast: Jean Arthur (Patricia Marshall), Ron Harper (Paul Marshall), Richard Conte (Richie Wells), Leonard J. Stone (Morton), Sue Taylor (Sally), Sue Taylor (Sally). Theme Song: "Merry-Go-Round" by Johnny Keating, Richard Quine, Richard Kennedy.

4095 The Jean Carroll Show. (Live Test Program; Variety; CBS; 4/26/51). A proposed series of comedy sketches with former night club and vaudeville comic Jean Carroll. Other than dancer Bill Callahan (who assisted Jean in skits) additional regulars are not known: the show ran longer than planned and the closing credits were cut. Mario Lewis is the producer.

Hostess: Jean Carroll. Regular: Bill Callahan. Orchestra: Ray Bloch.

4096 The Jean Carroll Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1953–1954). Incidents in the life of the average American housewife as interpreted by comedienne Jean Carroll. The series, which ran from November 4, 1953 to January 6, 1954, is also known as Take It from Me and is set in New York City (an exact borough is not mentioned, but by accents, it is assumed to be the Bronx or Brooklyn).

Cast: Jean Carroll (Housewife), Alan Carney (Husband), Lynn Loring (Daughter), Alice Pearce (Neighbor).

4097 Jean Shepherd's America. (Series; Documentary; PBS; 1971–1972). Perspectives on American life as seen through the eyes of humorist Jean Shepherd (who serves as both the host and narrator of the 13 episode series).

4098 Jeannie. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1973–1975). While surfing, Corey Anders, a Center High School student, is overcome by a wave that washes him ashore and uncovers a bottle that had been buried in the sand. Upon opening the bottle, a beautiful young genie, named Jeannie, and her friend, an inept apprentice genie named Babu, emerge and become his slaves. Stories depict Corey's attempts to conceal their presence and live the normal life of a teenager, and Jeannie and Babu's efforts to adjust to life in the 1970s. A take-off on I Dream of Jeannie.

Voice Cast: Julie McWhirter (Jeannie), Mark Hamill (Corey Anders), Joe Besser (Babu), Bob Hastings (Henry Gloop; Corey's friend).

4099 Jeff Corwin Unleashed. (Series; Documentary; Discovery Kids; 2003). Animal enthusiast Jeff Corwin attempts to explain the animal world to children via his encounters with the animals he talks about. The series is actually a revised version of The Croc Files with newly written narration of animal footage he shot for the original series.

Host: Jeff Corwin.

4100 The Jeff Foxworthy Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; NBC; 1995–1997). Foxworthy Heating and Air is an air conditioning and heating company in Indiana. It is owned by Jeff Foxworthy, a likeable, easy-going man who is married to Karen, a nurse, at Bloomington General Hospital. Jeff and Karen are the parents of Matt, a gifted child who attends the genius program for gifted kids at school. Stories relate the events that befall the family of three.

Other Regulars: Russ and Walt, Jeff's employees (their favorite hangout is Hagen's Bar; they also eat at Earl's Diner). Elliot and Lois are Karen's parents (who appear to look down on Jeff as they feel their daughter could have done better); Craig is Jeff's neighbor; Big Jim is Jeff's father; and Sandy is Karen's friend.

When the series switched to NBC (1996), the locale switched to Georgia and Jeff and Karen suddenly had another child, Justin. Karen's parents were dropped and Jeff's father, Big Jim, was brought on, as was Bill Pelton, a best friend for Jeff.

4101 Jefferson Drum. (Series; Western; NBC; 1958–1959). The lawless gold-mining town of Jubilee during the 1850s is the setting. The story of Jefferson Drum, an embittered newspaper publisher struggling to establish peace through the power of the press. Jefferson, a widower, lost his wife through violence (hence his eagerness to establish peace through a non-violent means). He is the father of a young son, Joey. Lucius Coin is his typesetter; Big Ed and Hickey are Jefferson's friends. Also known as The Pen and the Quill.

Cast: Jeff Richards (Jefferson Drum), Eugene Martin (Joey Drum), Cyril Delevanti (Lucius Coin), Robert J. Stevenson (Big Ed), Hal Smith (Hickey).

4102 The Jeffersons. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975–1985). The Jeffersons were originally Archie Bunker's well-to-do African American neighbors on All in the Family from 1971 to 1975. The family consisted of Louise, her son Lionel and Louise's brother-in-law, Henry. George, Louise's husband, was mentioned but did not appear until 1973. In 1975 The Jeffersons was born when George, Louise and Lionel leave Queens for a high-rise apartment in Manhattan.

George is the wealthy, snobbish owner of the successful Jefferson Cleaners. He and Louise have been married for 25 years (George claims that their marriage lasts because "I put up with all her faults"). He calls Louise "Weezie" and "Weez."

George was born in Georgia and served time in the galley of a Navy aircraft carrier. He is always thought of as cheap (this comes from the fact that he grew up in poverty and treasured every cent he could earn). Louise is actually the one who puts up with all of George's faults (all "his nonsense" as she calls it). Louise is practical and understanding and learning to avoid arguments with George is why the marriage has lasted so long. She works as a staff member at the Neighborhood Help Center.

On All in the Family Lionel was Mike and Gloria's best friend. It was an established fact that Archie didn't like blacks but he liked Lionel (a lot of the humor comes when Archie makes remarks against black people in front of Lionel without being aware of what he is doing). Lionel likes Archie and realizes he isn't a vicious man.

Archie calls people names and gives them stereotyped labels. Archie just doesn't know any better and Lionel understand this.

Tom and Helen Willis are television's first interracial couple. Tom (who is white) is an editor for Pelham Publishing. He has been married to Helen (who is black) for 23 years. Their daughter, Jenny is engaged to Lionel (they later marry and become the parents of a girl they name Jessica).

Harry Bentley is George's neighbor. He was born in England and now works as an interpreter at the United Nations. Florence Johnston is George's sassy maid (she is not afraid to stand up to George. This character was spun off into the series Checking In which see for information). Jeff Barry and Janet DuBois composed the theme, "Movin' on Up."

Relatives: Zara Cully (George's mother, Olivia Jefferson), Leonard Jackson (Louise's father, Howard Mills), Josephine Premice (Louise's sister, Maxine Mills), Lillian Randolph (Olivia's sister, Emma), Leon Ames (Tom's father, Henry Willis), Victor Kilian (Tom's uncle, Bertram), Fred Pinkard (Helen's father, "Grandpa" Douglas).

4103 Jeff's Collie. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1954–1957). "To Jeff Miller I leave the best thing I've got, my dog, Lassie." With these words, read at the will of his neighbor, Homer Carey, ten-year-old Jeffrey ("Jeff") Miller inherits a beautiful and intelligent collie named Lassie. Jeff lives with his widowed mother, Ellen Miller, and his grandfather, George Miller, on a farm on Route 4 in Calverton, a small town about 30 miles from Capital City. Stories relate the adventures shared by a boy and his dog.

George, affectionately called "Gramps," owns the farm — "I was born on the land, married on the land and raised a family on the land." Ellen was married to George's son, Johnny. (In episode nine, Gramps tells Jeff that he got Johnny a rifle when he was 12 years old and put that "gun away ten years ago when we heard about your father." In episode 81, it is mentioned that Johnny lost his life attempting to save 20 men in his squadron, in 1944, during World War II.)

Ellen took French in college. She refers to herself as "George Miller's daughter" (although she is actually his daughter-in-law). She makes ice cream every Saturday, and the family has it with pie on Sunday. Jeff attends Calverton Elementary School and is planning to become a veterinarian. He was valedictorian at graduation (episode 113) and gave a speech on responsibility. Jeff's best friend is Sylvester ("Porky") Brockway, who has a dog named Pokey (the dog is a basset hound and has the official name of Pokerman III). They are blood brothers, and their signal to each other is "Eee-ock-eee." Jeff also had a horse (a yearling) named Domino, a cow (Daisy; later Bessie) and a burro (Lucky).

Jenny is the rarely seen but often needed telephone operator; Matt and Berdie are Porky's parents; Dr. Peter Wilson was the original vet; he was replaced by Dr. Frank Weaver, who is also the game warden. Clay Horton was the original sheriff; he was replaced by Sheriff Jim Billings; Clay now runs a garage. See also Timmy and Lassie.

Raoul Kraushaar composed the theme.

Cast: Jan Clayton (Helen Miller), George Cleveland (Gramps), Tommy Rettig (Jeff Miller), Donald Keeler (Sylvester "Porky" Brockway), Paul Maxey (Matt Brockway), Richard Garland (Sheriff Clay Horton), Frank Ferguson (Dr. Peter Wilson), Arthur Space (Dr. Frank Weaver; later), Dayton Loomis (Dr. Stuart), Marjorie Bennett (Beride Brockway), Florence Lake (Jenny), Jon Provost (Timmy).

4104 Jem. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1985–1988). In an effort to help his daughter, Jerrica Benton, run the Starlight Orphanage for Girls, Professor Emmett Benton creates Synergy, a sophisticated computerized holographic device. Through the abilities of Synergy (and the star-shaped earrings Jerrica wears), Jerrica is able to transform herself into Jem, a beautiful singer who is the leader of the Holograms (Kimber, Jetta, Aja and Shana), a stunning all-female group. Stories relate Jerrica's adventures as she uses the power of her holographic image to help others — and to battle the evils of Pizzazz, the leader of the Misfits rock group (Flasher, Roxie and Stormer) who seeks to dethrone Jem and the Holograms to become queen of the rock world.

Jerrica grew up around music and technicians and is now, after her father's death, the C.E.O. of the Starlight Music Company. When Jerrica touches her earrings and says, "Showtime, Synergy," her holographic image is created (by saying, "Show's over, Synergy," her image disappears). The Holograms are aware that Jerrica and Jem are the same person. Kimber is Jerrica's younger sister, co-owner of the company. While Jerrica is the lead singer, Kimber writes songs and plays keyboard. Aja Leith and Shana Elmsford were the first two girls adopted by Jerrica's parents (Emmett and Jacqui). Aja plays guitar; Shana (later replaced by Raya Alonso) is the drummer. Jetta (real name Sheila Burns) plays saxophone (she was formally with a group called the Tinkerbellies). Rio Pacheco is the group's road manager.

Pizzazz (real name Phyllis Gabor) is the daughter of rich parents and wants something her father can't give her — a position on top of the music world (she plays guitar). Roxy Pelligrini plays guitar (as does Stormer) and gets what she wants by lying and cheating. Stormer, a girl with a conscience who tries to do what is right, is the Misfits song writer.

Eric is the manager of the Misfits. Clash (real name Constance Montgomery) is a big fan of the Misfits and desperately wants to become a part of the group.

Another rock group, the Stingers were introduced in later episodes to cause further friction between the Holograms and the Misfits. This group consisted of Riot (lead singer), Rapture (lead guitar) and Minx (keyboards).

The pilot episode, Jem: Truly Outrageous, aired as a five-part miniseries in syndication in April of 1985. The series ran on ABC from October 1, 1985 to May 1, 1988.

Voice Cast: Samantha Newkirk (Jerrica Benton/Jem; speaking voice), Britta Phillips (Jem; singing voice), Catherine Blore (Kimber Benton), Cindy McGee (Shana Elmsford), Patricia Albrecht (Pizzazz; speaking voice), Eden Bernfield (Pizzazz; singing voice), Susan Blu (Stormer), Ellen Gerstell (Rapture), Louise Dorsey (Jetta), Linda Dangcil (Raya Alonso), Bobbie Block (Roxie), Michael Sheehan (Rio Pacheco), Kath Soucie (Minx), Charlie Adler (Eric Raymond), Marlene Aragon (Synergy), Ford Kinder (Riot). Additional Voices: Anne Bryant, Kim Carlson, T.K. Carter, Cathy Cavadini, Walker Edmiston Ullanda McCullough, Cindy McGee, Noelle North, Neil Ross, Florence Warner.

4105 Jennie: Lady Randolph Churchill. (Series; Biography; PBS; 1975). A seven-part series that dramatizes the life of Lady Randolph Churchill (nee Jennie Jerome, 1845–1921), the American-born mother of England's Sir Winston Churchill. The series ran from October 8, 1975 to November 19, 1975.

Cast: Lee Remick (Jennie Jerome), Ronald Pickup (Randolph Churchill), Dan O'Herlihy (Mr. Jerome), Helen Horton (Mrs. Jerome), Barbara Parkins (Leonie), Linda Liles (Clara), Cyril Luckham (Duke of Marlborough), Rachel Kempson (Duchess of Marlborough), Thorley Walters (Prince of Wales), Charles Kay (Montie Porch), John Barale (Sir Henry James), Barbara Laurenson (Bertha).

4106 Jennifer Slept Here. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1982–1983). Jennifer Farrell is a young girl with a dream of becoming a movie star. At age 17 she defies her mother (who wants her to become a beautician) and leaves her home in Illinois to pursue her dream in Hollywood. She made her television debut as a banana in the audience of Let's Make a Deal, and several months later, in 1966, when Jennifer was 18 years old, hungry and flat broke, she posed nude for a calendar (the calendar was never actually released; Jennifer acquired a job shortly after and bought up all the copies).

Jennifer landed a small role in the movie Desire, but it was her outstanding singing and dancing performance in her next film, Stairway to Paradise, that brought her overnight stardom. Jennifer soon became one of America's most glamorous and beloved stars.

Jennifer's untimely death in 1978 saddened the world. Five years later, New York lawyer George Elliot, his wife, Susan, and their children, Joey and Marilyn, move into Jennifer's fabulous mansion at 32 Rexford Drive in Beverly Hills. (While it is not made clear, the mansion was apparently seized by the state for nonpayment of taxes. It is also apparent that the Elliots are not wealthy, and it is assumed they bought the mansion on the condition that they pay off Jennifer's debts; George complains about these debts in several episodes.)

Shortly after, while settling into his room, Joey is startled to see the ghost of Jennifer Farrell—who appears and speaks only to him (she feels he needs help and has decided to guide his life). Joey attends Beverly Hills High School. Stories follow Jennifer as he uses her supernatural abilities to help Joey overcome the daily problems he faces.

Cast: Ann Jillian (Jennifer Farrell), Georgia Engel (Susan Elliot), Brandon Maggart (George Elliot), John P. Navin Jr. (Joey Elliot), Mya Akerling (Marilyn Elliot), Glenn Scarpelli (Marc; Joey's friend), Debbie Reynolds (Alice Farrell; Jennifer's mother; a ghost also). Theme Vocal: "Jennifer Slept Here" by Joey Scarbury.

4107 Jenny. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997–1998). "We were obnoxious little brats. We cut classes, broke curfew and snuck into 'R' rated movies," says Margaret "Maggie" Marino about her and her best friend, Jennifer "Jenny" McMillan. "But now we're poised, composed and no longer kids as we start a new beginning." Maggie is referring their move from Utica, New York, to the Playpen, a mansion in the Hollywood Hills that was owned by Jenny's late father, movie star Guy Hathaway. (While filming It Happened in Paris in Utica, Guy met Jenny's mother. They had an affair and he left after the wrap party. A year later Jenny was born but Guy distanced himself. He never forgot Jenny and willed her his mansion.) Guy was a "big" star whose glory years were 1970–1971. He made a disco album (Me, Myself and Guy), an exercise tape ("Guy-Zercise") and a six-episode TV series called The Adventures of Dickie (about a father and his young son).

Jenny and Maggie work at Inky Pete's High Speed Copying and Offset Printing (copies are three cents each) and sell Skin So Nice skin care products on the side. In Utica, Jenny and Maggie worked at Chubby Boy Burger.

They were on the girls' basketball team at Utica High and Jenny's favorite sport is volleyball. Jenny gets the hiccups when she is nervous. She and Maggie have to control their coffee intake or they become edgy and hyper. Maggie, whose idea of culture is shopping at the mall, is afraid to watch the film Ghost with Jenny ("Jenny cries and it becomes a two hour weep-a-paloosa"). Looking at guys and making up stories about who they are and what they do is a childhood game the girls still play wherever they go.

"We may have our quarrels, we may go our separate ways, but we'll be there for each other. We're friends," says Maggie. Stories relate their daily adventures.

Cast: Jenny McCarthy (Jenny McMillan), Heather Paige Kent (Maggie Marino), George Hamilton (Guy Hamilton), Dale Godboldo (Cooper), Rager Weigel (Max), Kevin Ruf (Ted Tucker), Carolyn Hennesy (Chase Gardner).

4108 The Jenny Jones Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1991–2003). A daily talk show that features discussions with appropriate guests on sensational topics. The gimmick here was to bring an unexpected guest who would appear during a discussion to hype the excitement (and ratings). Jenny, standing in the middle of her studio audience, conducted the stage happenings and often asked audience members for their reactions (or if they had any questions for the guests).

Host: Jenny Jones.

4109 The Jenny McCarthy Show. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 1997–1998). Gorgeous former Playboy Playmate (and Bunny) Jenny McCarthy headlines a skit program that spotlights her comedic talents (playing most often, as she still does, a ditzy blonde). Jenny is backed by an ensemble group of comedians and anything that can be spoofed gets the royal treatment.

Hostess: Jenny McCarthy. Regulars: Paul Greenberg, H. Jon Benjamin, Michael Loprete, Jack Plotnick, Lou Thornton, Brian Michael Tracy.

4110 Jeopardy. (Series; Game; NBC; 1964–1975). Three players compete in a game wherein they must supply answers to questions. A category board containing six subjects, each with five concealed answers and each worth a varying amount of money, is revealed. A player selects a subject and a money amount and must supply the question for the answer that is given. If he gives the correct question, he wins the money and continues to play. An incorrect response ends his turn. One of the remaining players must give the correct question to gain control of the board. The player with the highest score is the winner. The series ran from April 30, 1964 to January 3, 1975.

Host: Art Fleming. Announcer: Don Pardo, John Harlan.

4111 Jeopardy. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1984–). A revised, syndicated version of the prior title (which see for format).

Host: Alex Trebek. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

4112 Jep! (Series; Game; Game Show Network; 1998–2000). A children's version of Jeopardy that is basically played in the same manner with contestants having to give the questions to answers. Three children, aged ten to thirteen, compete. A board with five category topics is revealed (each has four questions worth from 100–500 points; not cash as in the adult version). One player chooses a category topic then pushes a plunger to determine the point value. The host reads the answer. If the player responds with the right question, he scores the points. If he gives an incorrect question or fails to answer within the ten second time limit, the points are deducted from his score and the other players (through a buzzer signal) receive a chance to answer. The player with the last correct response is in charge of the board. Round two, called “Hyper Jep” (“Double Jeopardy” in the adult version) adds two spaces that allows players to double their points if the question is answered correctly. “Super Jep” (“Final Jeopardy” on the parent show) allows all three players to bet all or a portion of their points on their ability to answer one final question. The person who scores the highest wins. The series ran from January 1, 1998 to September 1, 2000.

Host: Bob Bergen.

4113 Jeremiah of Jacob’s Neck. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/13/76). The house at 960 Post Road in the small New England town of Jacob’s Neck, is now owned by Tom Rankin, the police chief, and his family (his wife, Anne, and their children Tracy and Clay). The quaint little beach house has one other resident — the spirit of Jeremiah Starbuck, an eighteenth-century ghost who refuses to depart from his once earthly dwelling. The efforts of both the family and the ghost to adjust to each other is the focal point of the pilot episode. Wilbur is Tom’s deputy chief.

Cast: Keenan Wynn (Jeremiah Starbuck), Ron Masak (Tom Rankin), Arlene Golonka (Anne Rankin), Quinn Cummings (Tracy Rankin), Brandon Cruz (Clay Rankin), Elliott Street (Wilbur Swift). Guest Cast: Pitt Herbert (Mayor Dick Baker), Amzie Strickland (Abby Penrose), Alex Henteloff (Leonard), Les Lannom (Max), Tom Palmer (Crabtree).

4114 Jericho. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 5/18/61). A proposed spin-off from Zane Grey Theater about a man named Jericho, an undercover agent for the Attorney General, who helps people wrongly accused of crimes. In the pilot episode, Jericho poses as a land baron to help clear a woman (Amy) falsely accused of killing her husband and sentenced to death.

Cast: Guy Madison (Jericho), Les Tremayne (Attorney General). Guest Cast: Beverly Garland (Amy Schroeder), Claude Akins (Chuck Wagner), Allison Hayes (Paris).

4115 Jericho. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1966). Europe during World War II is the setting for a series about a group of Allied agents (Franklin Sheppard [American], Nicholas Gage [British] and Jean-Gatson Andre [French]) as they attempt to infiltrate enemy lines and sabotage and discredit the Germans. (Jericho is the code name under which the agents operate). The series is also known as Code Name: Jericho.

Cast: Don Francks (Franklin Sheppard), John Leyton (Nicholas Gage), Marino Mase (Jean-Gatson Andre).

4116 Jericho. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2006–2008). Jericho is a small town typical of any such town or small city in the U.S. It is also a town that is concerned with a new threat to the world — global vengeance (which, according to news reports, is on the rise). But, by fate, Jericho becomes unlike any town or city. It is a town that is spared destruction when an apparent nuclear bomb is detonated in what is said to be Denver, Colorado (and another in Atlanta). All communication is cut off and the people of Jericho are left wondering what happened and are they the only survivors. Was the explosion an accident? Or an attack? While the series focuses on the incidents that have propelled the town into panic and their desperate efforts to contact other survivors, it pays particular attention to the Green family and their various problems as they attempt to keep the calm.

Jonathan Green is the town’s mayor. He is married to Gail and they are the parents of Jake and Eric (the Deputy Mayor). Jake is the mysterious figure of the series. He had just returned after a five-year absence to claim his inheritance (from his grandfather to begin a new life). Where he has been is a mystery (he tells different stories to people when asked) but it is implied he was a drifter (he became trapped in Jericho right before he was to leave). Jonathan seems to have the needed leadership to keep the citizens under control; Gail is the typical loving mother, totally dedicated to her family. Eric is the all too perfect son who seems to do no wrong.

Emily Sullivan is the local high school teacher; other characters are Robert Hawkins, Heather Lisinski, Gray Anderson, Dale, Bonnie and Stanley.

Cast: Skeet Ulrich (Jake Green), Gerald McRaney (Jonathan Green), Pamela Reed (Gail Green), Kenneth Mitchell (Eric Green), Ashley Scott (Emily Sullivan), Sprague Grayden (Heather Lisinski), Shoshannah Stern (Bonnie), Erik Knudsen (Dale Turner), Michael Gaston (Gray Anderson), Brad Beyer (Stanley), Lennie James (Robert Hawkins), Darby Stanchfield (April), Christopher Wiehl (Roger Hammond), Siena Goines (Sarah).

Cast: Mark Blankfield (Navin Johnson), Mabel King (Mama Johnson), Al Fann (Papa Johnson), Todd Hollowell (Damon Johnson), Larry B. Scott (Harold

4118 Jerry. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/16/74). Jerry Edwards is a 30-year-old bachelor who works in a bank. He yearns for an exciting romance and the unsold series was to follow his misadventures as he tries to find the girl of his dreams. He is helped by Nina Pope, a not-so-gay divorcee; Morree Wu, his friend, a lady killer; and his neighbors, Frank and Gloria Fuller. Winston Barlow is Jerry's boss.

Cast: Robert Walden (Jerry Edwards), Linda Lavin (Nina Pope), Keone Young (Morree Wu), Bob Hastings (Frank Fuller), Beatrice Colen (Gloria Fuller), Norman Alden (Winston Barlow).

4119 The Jerry Colonna Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy hosted by comedian Jerry Colonna.

Host: Jerry Colonna. Regulars: Barbara Ruick, Gordon Polk, Frankie Laine, Arthur Duncan, Isabel Randolph, Louis Colonna. Announcer: Del Sharbutt. Orchestra: The Cookie Fairchild Band.

4120 The Jerry Lee Lewis Show. (Unaired Pilot; Variety; Produced in 1971). Country and western songs by singer Jerry Lee Lewis and his sister, Linda Gail Lewis, plus performances by guest stars.

Hosts: Jerry Lee Lewis, Linda Gail Lewis. Guests: Kenneth Lovelace, Carl Perkins, Bill Strom, Jackie Wilson, The Memphis Beats, The Nashville Sound Quartet, The Russ College Quintet, The Sound Generation. Orchestra: Bill Walker.

4121 The Jerry Lester Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953–1954). Comedian Jerry Lester hosts a weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches.

Host: Jerry Lester. Regulars: Nancy Walker, Betty George, Bobby Sherwood, Lorenzo Fuller, Kathy Collin, Eddie Russell, Leon Belasco. Orchestra: Buddy Weed.

4122 The Jerry Lewis Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1963). A weekly program that features guests, interviews and entertainment acts with Jerry Lewis as the host. The series ran from September 21, 1963 to December 22, 1963. Perry Cross is the producer.

Host: Jerry Lewis. Announcer: Del Moore. Orchestra: Lou Brown.

4123 The Jerry Lewis Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1967–1969). Music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Jerry Lewis as the host. The series ran from September 12, 1967 to May 26, 1969. Bob Finkel and Bill Foster are the producers.

Host: Jerry Lewis. Orchestra: Lou Brown.

4124 The Jerry Lewis Show. (Pilot; Interview; Syn.; 6/11 to 6/15/84). A five-part test program for a daily series of celebrity interviews with comedian Jerry Lewis as the host and interviewer. Charlie Callas did the announcing.

4125 Jerry Mahoney's Club House. (Series; Children; NBC; 1954–1956). A Saturday morning program of comedy and games for children with ventriloquist Paul Winchell and the antics of his wooden friends, Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff.

Host: Paul Winchell. Regulars: Dorothy Claire, Hilda Vaughn, Sid Raymond, Jimmy Blaine.

4126 The Jerry Reed When You're Hot, You're Hot Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1972). A weekly summer program of music, songs and comedy sketches, hosted by singer Jerry Reed, that are set against a country and western background. The series ran from June 20, 1972 to July 25, 1972. Rich Eustis and Al Rogers are the producers.

Host: Jerry Reed. Regulars: Carl Wilson, Spencer Quinn, Merie Earle, John Twomey, Norman Alexander, The Lou Regas Dancers. Announcer: Bill Thompson. Orchestra: George Wyle.

4127 The Jerry Springer Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1991–). A sensationalized daily talk show that has gone where no other talk show has: nudity (although blurred for broadcast), foul language (bleeped) and fights between guests (prevented from becoming violent by on stage security guards). The show exposes secrets between family and friends and, although overseen by host Jerry Springer, the situations are allowed to get explosive and thus produce the rage and violence that follows.

Host: Jerry Springer. Security Guards: Steve Wilkos, Mimi Madrigal, Katie Darwin, Mari Flores.

4128 Jerry Visits. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1971). Hollywood celebrities open their homes to television cameras and reveal their dreams, ambitions, and aspects of their public and private lives.

Host: Jerry Dunphy.

4129 Jesse. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1998–2000). Jesse Warner is a young woman trying to reorganize her life following her divorce from Roy (who she caught in bed "with that chick" from the video store. "And what's worse," Jesse says, "that shank still charges me if I don't rewind"). Jesse is the mother of "Little" John and works as a waitress at her father's pub, Der Biergarten, in Buffalo, New York (where the waitresses wear Bavarian-style dresses).

Jesse, a Sagittarian, is always the boot when she plays Monopoly. She drinks Chock Full O' Nuts coffee and when she has a cheese sandwich, it has to be ham, cheese, ham "because if the cheese is on top it means it will touch the mustard — and two yellows can't touch." Jesse lives at 346 McCord Avenue with her father, John Warner, and brothers Darren and John Junior. Jesse and her brothers attended Fledgmore High School. Although she dropped out of school to get married, she has now returned to get her diploma and become a nurse (she later receives a scholarship to the Rochester Nursing School). Jesse becomes manager of the pub whenever her father leaves town or there is something unpleasant to be done.

Junior worked as a gas station attendant, then stopped talking for a time; he now washes dishes at the pub. He has a talent for holiday cheese sculptors (Santa Claus cheese for Christmas; a Mayflower ship cheese for Thanksgiving). Darren is a hopeful actor whose only credit appears to be a TV commercial as pitchman for Freddie's Electronics Store. He uses the TV remote control to switch from channel to channel to watch commercials.

John Sr. is divorced from Susan.

Jesse is dating Diego Vasquez, her next door neighbor, a college art teacher and hopeful artist. Linda and Carrie are the pub's waitresses. Linda calls the uniforms "Franken Head costumes"; Carrie, who is bad at making change, sometimes lets customers make their own change.

Second-season episodes changed the premise somewhat. The bar, Jesse's brothers and father are gone (as if they never existed). Jesse, a single mother, attends nursing school and works part time at the Student Health Center. Carrie is now a keeper at the Buffalo Zoological Society; Linda, who lives next door to Jesse in Diego's house, is a bartender (later a security officer) at the Buffalo Airport.

Cast: Christina Applegate (Jessie Warner), George Dzundza (John Warner), David DeLuise (Darren Warner), John Lehr (John Warner, Jr.), Liza Snyder (Linda), Bruno Campos (Diego Vasquez), Jennifer Milmore (Carrie), Lesley Ann Warren (Susan).

4130 Jesse Hawkes. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1989). A short-lived spin-off (April 22 to May 27, 1989) from High Mountain Rangers (see entry). Jesse Hawkes is the head of the High Mountain Rangers, a rescue unit based in the Sierra Nevada Mountains near Lake Tahoe. When drug smugglers invade Jesse's territory and his son, Matt is injured Jesse travels to San Francisco to track them down. Later, with the help of his sons Matt and Cody, Jesse accomplishes his goal. Rather than return to the mountains Jesse, Matt and Cody decide to become modern-day bounty hunters and help people who have nowhere else to turn. Stories relate their adventures.

Cast: Robert Conrad (Jesse Hawkes), Christian Conrad (Matt Hawkes), Shane Conrad (Cody Hawkes). Theme Vocal: "Edge of the Sky" by David Cummings.

4131 Jessica Novak. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1981). Jessica Novak is the on-the-air reporter for Close-up News on KLA-TV, Channel 6, in Los Angeles. She lives at 318 Briarwood Avenue.

Jessica is not just satisfied reporting the stories; she has to be in the field (on the streets) to get the facts and interview the people involved. She sometimes finds herself becoming more like a detective as she uncovers information that helps the police make an arrest and bring a crime to a successful conclusion. She feels this personal involvement (as well as the personal touch) will help her program by improving her ratings.

Phil Bonelli is her field cameraman, and Ricky Duran is her field soundman. Max Kenyon is the news director; Audrey Styles is the videotape editor; Jackson Gage is the co-anchor; Vince Halloran is the public defender; Katie is Jessica's friend; and Richie is an employee of KLA-TV. Fred Karlin composed "The Theme from Jessica Novak."

Cast: Helen Shaver (Jessica Novak), David Spielberg (Max Kenyon), Andrew Rubin (Phil Bonelli), Nina Wilcox (Audrey Styles), Eric Kilpatrick (Ricky Duran), Michael D. Roberts (Jackson Gage), Kenneth Gilman (Vince Halloran), Lara Parker (Katie Robbins), Scott Thompson (Richie), Frank Taylor (KLA Dispatcher).

4132 Jessie. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1984). Dr. Jessica ("Jessie") Hayden is a beautiful police psychiatrist with the Behavioral Science Department of the Metro Division of the San Francisco Police Department. She rejected a job with "big bucks" at a hospital and even nixed the idea of her own private practice to do what she wants to do: be a part of the action and help the police solve crimes through her psychological profiles and work with suspects.

Jessie refuses to carry a gun ("I wouldn't know what to do with it. A doctor's duty is to preserve human life, not destroy it"). She doesn't drink coffee, likes Mexican food and "lives in a little shack in the hills." When she sets her mind on something, "trying to talk her out of it is a waste of time." Jessie rarely complains, except when she is in her office: "People are always walking off with my pens." Jessie grew up on Winterhaven Street, where her widowed mother, Molly Hayden, still lives.

Alexander ("Alex") Ascoli is a lieutenant with the Metro Division who has been taken off street duty and assigned as Jessie's liaison — "to interface her with the department."

The pilot episode had Alex constantly complaining about the change (he is and wants to be a street cop). In the series, Alex was both Jessie's liaison and a street cop; unfortunately, storylines were slow-moving psychological profiles and not action-oriented; not even the talents and beauty of Lindsay Wagner (looking much as she did as Jaime Sommers on The Bionic Woman) could save the series, and it was canceled after seven episodes. “Mac” McClellan is the police captain; Ellie is Mac’s secretary.

Cast: Lindsay Wagner (Dr. Jessie Hayden), Tony Lo Bianco (Alex Ascoli), William Lucking (Capt. Mac McClellan), Tom Nolan (Off. Hub Hubbell), Renee Jones (Ellie). Theme: “Jessie’s Theme” by John Cacavas.

4133 Jet Fighter. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 6/28/53). A proposed series about Chuck Powers, a captain with the U.S. Air Force. In the pilot episode, Powers attempts to help an American fighter who has violated the Russian-occupied zone in Germany. Filmed at the McGuire Air Force Base.

Cast: John Granger (Chuck Powers), Tige Andrews (Gunner Maddigan), Ben Hammer (Colonel Warner), Jackson Beck (Narrator).

4134 Jet Jackson, Flying Commando. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1956). The 1956 title for Captain Midnight (which see for information) when Ovaltine, the original sponsor of the series, retained its right to the original name and the series was reworked and renamed for syndication after its run on CBS.

4135 The Jetsons. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1962–1963). A futuristic view of life in the twenty-first century as seen through the experiences of the animated Jetson family: George and Jane and their children, Judy and Elroy.

George is employed by Cosmo G. Spacely, the owner of Spacely Space Sprockets. George is also in the Army Reserve (U.S. Space Guards Division at Camp Nebula).

Jane is 33 years old, wears a size eight dress and measures 36-26-36. She buys her dresses at Satellite City and has her hair done at the Constellation Beauty Salon. Jane entered the “Miss Solar System Beauty Pageant” and was crowned “Miss Western Hemisphere.” She and George live at the Sky Pad Apartments.

Fifteen-year-old Judy attends Orbit High School. She has a talking diary she calls Di Di. Elroy is their eight-year-old son and attends the Little Dipper School. He has a pet dog named Astro and is a member of the Little Dipper League baseball team.

Rosie, the Jetsons’ robot maid, is a model XB-500 service robot they acquired from “U-Rent-a-Maid.” Henry Orbit is the apartment house janitor. Mr. Spacely and his wife, Stella, reside at 175 Snerdville Drive. Spacely’s competition is Cogswell Cogs, a company owned by Mr. Cogswell. Spacely Space Sprockets produces three million sprockets a day.

Voice Cast: George O’Hanlon (George Jetson), Penny Singleton (Jane Jetson), Janet Waldo (Judy Jetson), Daws Butler (Elroy Jetson), Jean VanderPyl (Rosie), Mel Blanc (Cosmo G. Spacely), Howard Morris (Henry Orbit), Daws Butler (Mr. Cogswell), Selma Diamond (Di Di), Don Messick (Astro).

4136 Jigsaw. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1972–1973). Frank Dain is a detective with the Sacramento State Bureau of Missing Persons. He is a man who possesses a genius for solving complicated, clueless mysteries (taking what little evidence he has, envisioning them as a jigsaw puzzle then filling in the missing pieces until the puzzle is complete and he can solve the crime at hand). Stories follow Frank as he uses his expertise to solve missing persons cases. Aired as a segment of The Men.

Cast: James Wainwright (Lt. Frank Dain).

4137 Jigsaw John. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1976). John St. John is a detective with the Robbery-Homicide Division of the L.A.P.D. His talent for figuring out people and solving complex crimes has earned him the nickname “Jigsaw John.” He has a record of crime solution and criminal conviction that is the highest in the nation. John likes Chinese food for breakfast but has to take pills for his stomach — “worries related to the job.” His mobile car code is 4-King-90.

Maggie Hearn is his girlfriend, and Detective Sam Donner is his partner. In the pilot, They Only Come Out at Night (NBC, 4/29/75), John was married to a woman named Helen (Madeleine Sherwood) and was said to “take bits and scraps, find patterns and solve cases” — hence the name “Jigsaw John.” Pete Rugolo composed the “Jigsaw John” theme.

Cast: Jack Warden (Det. John St. John), Pippa Scott (Maggie Hearn), Alan Feinstein (Det. Sam Donner).

4138 Jim and Judy in Teleland. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1953). A five-minute animated program that relates various adventures in the lives of two imaginative children (Jim and Judy).

Voice Cast: Merrill Jolls (Jim), Honey McKenzie (Judy).

4139 The Jim Backus Show — Hot Off the Wire. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1960–1961). The Headline Press Service is a New York City based news gathering organization that is run by John Michael “Mike” O’Toole, a publisher hoping to turn a faltering service into a profitable one. While O’Toole fancies himself an editor, he finds that he must resort to his former skills as a reporter to get the stories he wants (“If you want a story done right, you have to do it yourself. I can’t trust my reporters to do anything right”).

Dora Miles, Mike’s glamorous secretary, is also his reporting assistant. She constantly complains about the money Mike owes her, claims she has only two outfits for work (one dress and one tight skirt) and will not date loafers — burglars are okay, “as long as they are working.”

Sidney is Mike’s combination office boy, photographer and reporter. He believes he has a nose for news — but rarely has a chance to put it to the test.

Fingers Larkin an ex-con, is Mike’s information man. Mike uses the services of the New York Globe for research material. Dora, who concludes episodes by saying, “My boss, he’s so clever” (when Mike solves a case), lives at 146 West 57th Street. David Rose composed the theme, “Hot Off the Wire.”

Cast: Jim Backus (John O’Toole), Nita Talbot (Dora Miles), Bobs Watson (Sidney), Lewis Charles (Fingers Larkin).

4140 Jim Bowie. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1956–1958). The shortened title for The Adventures of Jim Bowie. See this title for information.

4141 The Jim Henson Hour. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1989–1990). The overall title for two programs: Muppet Central and The Storyteller. The first segment revolves around Kermit the Frog as he struggles to operate a television station with a group of misadventure-prone Muppets as his staff. Shows presented by Muppet Central are Dog City (see entry for information), Lighthouse Island (tale of a young man and a mermaid); The Monster Maker (about a young boy’s eagerness to work in a creature special effects shop); Secrets of the Muppets (a behind-the-scenes look at the making of the Muppets with creator Jim Henson); Living with Dinosaurs (a boy with a talking dinosaur toy); and Song of the Cloud Forest (a tree frog seeks to stop his own extinction).

The Storyteller segment features a well-versed old man telling stories based on traditional folktales to his dog (which are seen in reenactments).

Muppet Voices: Frank Oz, Rickey Boyd, Kevin Clash, Richard Hunt, Rick Lyon, Rob Mills, Bob Stutt, Gord Robertson. Host: Jim Henson. Storyteller: John Hurt.

4142 Jim Henson Presents Mother Goose Stories. (Series; Anthology; Fox; 1997–1998). A series of stylish adaptations of fairy tales adapted from the book Mother Goose in Prose by L. Frank Baum (creator of The Wizard of Oz) as well as original stories written in the style of the book (these included Queen of Hearts, The Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, Mother Hubbard, Jack and Jill, Mary’s Little Lamb and Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star).

Cast: Nicholle Tom, Scott McAfee, Jodie Sweetin, James Conway, Michelle Weston, Simon Bright, Ethan Glazer, Ilan Ostrove, John Christian Graas.

4143 Jim Henson’s Animal Show with Stinky and Jake. (Series; Children; Fox; 1994–

1997). A daily morning series that, aimed at children two to five years of age, incorporates wildlife footage, videos and Jim Henson’s Muppet characters to familiarize children with nature and the environment. Muppets Stinky and Jake host the program.

Muppet Voices: Dave Goelz, Frank Oz, Katherine Smee, Steve Whitmire, Karen Prell, Mike Quinn, David Grenaway, Louise Gold, John Eccleston.

4144 Jim Henson’s Muppet Babies. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1984–1985). The adventures of Jim Henson’s fanciful creations, the Muppets, as babies (before they became stars on Sesame Street). The babies are cared for by a nursemaid called Nanny.

4154 The Jimmy Durante Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1957). A summer program of music and comedy with comedian Jimmy Durante that also features kinescoped highlights of Jimmy's prior series, Texaco Star Theater. The series ran from June 29, 1957 to September 21, 1957.

Host: Jimmy Durante. Regulars: Eddie Jackson, Jack Roth, Jules Buffano. Orchestra: Roy Bargy.

4155 The Jimmy Durante Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/18/64). Jimmy Banister is a famous entertainer who would like his son, Eddie, to follow in his footsteps. Eddie has no interest in show business and Jimmy's efforts to convince his son otherwise was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Jimmy struggles to convince Eddie to perform with him on a TV special.

Cast: Jimmy Durante (Jimmy Banister), Eddie Hodges (Eddie Banister), Audrey Christie (Rosie Banister, Jimmy's sister). Guest Cast: John McIntire (Mr. Duveen), Ralph Bell (Chet Hanson), Daryl Richard (Frank Peterson), Kevin O'Neal (Boy).

4156 Jimmy Hughes, Rookie Cop. (Series; Crime Drama; DuMont; 1953). Jimmy Hughes is a bitter young man. He has just returned to his home in New York City after serving a hitch in the Army (stationed in Korea) to learn that his father, a policeman, has been killed in the line of duty. When he discovers that the case is still unsolved, he decides to take matters in his own hands. He joins the police force and, with vengeance in his heart, finds the person responsible for the crime.

The case changes Jimmy's life. Although he is only a rookie and still "wet behind the ears," he has learned to serve for reasons other than revenge; that teamwork and concern for others is more important than individual action and motivation. The case also awards Jimmy something he didn't expect: the right to wear his father's badge. Stories concern the life and problems faced by Jimmy Hughes, a rookie cop with the N.Y.P.D. The series ran from May 8, 1953 to July 3, 1953.

Cast: Billy Redfield (Jimmy Hughes), Conrad Janis (Billy Hughes; later), Rusty Lane (Inspector Ferguson), Wendy Drew (Jimmy's sister).

4157 Jimmy Kimmel Live. (Series; Talk; ABC; 2003–). A late night talk show (12:05 A.M. to 1:05 A.M.) that goes beyond the celebrity interview formula to include one-on-one interviews with athletes, political figures and regular people of interest. The program also features comedy skits and the humorous monologues from host Jimmy Kimmel.

Host: Jimmy Kimmel. Announcer: Dicky Barrett. Regulars: Sal Iacono (as Cousin Sal), Frank Potenza (as Uncle Frank), Guillermo Diaz (Security guard). Music: The Jimmy Kimmel Band (Cleto Escobedo, Jr., Jeff Babko, Toshi Yanagi, Jimmy Earl).

4158 The Jimmy Stewart Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1971–1972). James K. Howard is an anthropology professor at Josiah Kessel College in Easy Valley, California. He is married to Martha and they are the parents of Teddy (eight years old) and Peter Jacob (called P.J.). Twenty-nine year-old P.J., a construction engineer, is married to Wendy and they are the parents of Jake. The three generations live under one roof at 35 Hillview Drive. Stories follow the simple pleasures and trying times of James as he attempts to cope with life at work and at home. Luther Quince is James's friend, the chemistry professor.

Cast: Jimmy Stewart (James K. Howard), Julie Adams (Martha Howard), Jonathan Daly (P.J. Howard), Ellen Geer (Wendy Howard), Dennis Larson (Teddy Howard), Kirby Furlong (Jake Howard), John McGiver (Luther Quince), Will Geer (Uncle Everett), Mary Wickes (Jo Ballard), Jack Soo (Woody Yamada), Roy Applegate (Garvey Hike).

4159 J.J. Starbuck. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1987–1988). J.J. Starbuck is an eccentric Texas billionaire who meddles in other people's business in the name of justice.

J.J. (Jerome Jeremiah) lives on the Starbuck Ranch in San Antonio. He owns a Beverly Hills company called Marklee Industries and drives a 1964 Lincoln Continental.

Jill Starbuck is J.J.'s gorgeous niece, a girl who idolizes her uncle. J.J. and Jill have a lot in common but their strongest urge is to see that everyone is treated fairly (J.J. believes in helping the little guy and never allows his company to take advantage of anyone). With a common desire and acting like a team of detectives, J.J. and Jill work together to help people in trouble. Stories relate the sometimes dangerous situations they become involved with when helping also means brining criminals to justice.

Cast: Dale Robertson (J.J. Starbuck), Shawn Weatherly (Jill Starbuck).

4160 Jo Jo's Circus. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2003). An entertaining animated series for the small fry that revolves around Jo Jo, an adorable clown who lives in a clown town and presents games and learning lessons to children.

4163 Joan of Arcadia. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2003–2005). Joan Girardi is a very pretty 16-year-old girl who lives in the town of Arcadia, Maryland. She was born on November 24, 1987 and is the daughter of Will and Helen Girardi. She has two siblings, Kevin and Luke, and attends Arcadia High School. Joan is also a very special girl. She has been chosen by God to perform small miracles for him.

God appears to Joan in various disguises (from janitor to old man to school girl) and tells Joan what to do. Joan is never quite sure why God asks her to do what he asks, but she does it (sometimes reluctantly); it is only by following through does Joan not only help others, but helps herself better understand life. Stories follow Joan as she performs small miracles for God.

Will is the town's police chief; Helen teaches art at Arcadia High School; Luke is the smartest of the children; Kevin is crippled due to an automobile accident. Although he is bound to a wheelchair, he is hopeful that he will one day walk again. Adam Rove and Grace Polk are Joan's closest friends.

Cast: Amber Tamblyn (Joan Girardi), Joe Mantegna (Will Girardi), Mary Steenburgen (Helen Girardi), Jason Ritter (Kevin Girardi), Michael Welsh (Luke Girardi), Becky Wahlstrom (Grace Polk), Chris Marquette (Adam Rove), Mageina Tovah (Glynis Figliola), Mark Totty (Detective Carlisle), Elaine Hendrix (Ms. Lischak), April Grace (Sgt. Toni Williams), Annie Potts (Lt. Lucy Preston), Derek Morgan (Roy Roebuck), Constance Zimmer (Sister Lilly Watters), Sprague Grayden (Judith Montgomery), Sydney Tamiia Poitier (Rebecca Askew), David Burke (Father Ken Mallory), Diane Delano (Coach Carol Keady), Russ Tamblyn (God), Juliette Goglia (God), Kathryn Joosten (God), Jeffrey Licon (God), Mike Starr (God).

4164 Joan of Arkansas. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1958). When the U.S. space program requires an ordinary person to become the first human in space, the Saraback Computer chooses Joan Jones, a dental technician from Hot Springs, Arkansas. The unsold series was to follow Joan's mishaps as she trains to become an astronaut. Other Regulars: Dr. John Dolan, head of the space program; and his assistant, Professor Henry Newkirk.

Cast: Joan Davis (Joan Jones), John Emery (Dr. John Dolan), Wilton Graff (Henry Newkirk). Guest Cast: Bob Brubaker (Dr. Curtis Short), Jolene Brand (Nurse Kelly), Olan Soule (Mr. Kepler), Paul Frees (Dr. Ferguson), Lee Patrick (Mrs. Putnam).

4165 The Joan Rivers Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1989). A daytime talk show that goes slightly beyond the norm (celebrity interviews) to do feature interviews with interesting, ordinary people as well as people who are a bit out of the ordinary.

Host: Joan Rivers.

4166 Joanie Loves Chachi. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1982–1983). A spin-off from Happy Days. In the pilot episode (“Love and Marriage,” broadcast on Happy Days on March 23, 1982), Al Delvecchio (co-owner of the local hamburger hangout, Arnold’s Drive-In), proposes to Louisa Arcola, Chachi’s widowed mother.

Louisa accepts his proposal and Al, Louisa and Chachi move from Milwaukee to Chicago, where Al begins a new business, Delvecchio’s Family Restaurant.

Shortly after, Al meets Louisa’s Uncle Rocco, a con artist who talks him into hiring his motley music group for his restaurant. When Chachi joins the group as a singer, he asks the girl he left behind, Joanie Cunningham, to come to Chicago and join him in the act. Joanie agrees (after getting permission from her parents, Howard and Marion).

Soon Joanie and Chachi are a success as a singing duo. Stories depict their struggle as they decide to become professionals and make a name for themselves in the music business. The series, which ran from March 23, 1982 to September 13, 1983 produced 15 episodes.

Other Regulars: Mario, Bing and Annette, other band members; and Suky, Joanie’s roommate.

Cast: Erin Moran (Joanie Cunningham), Scott Baio (Chachi Arcola), Ellen Travolta (Louisa Delvecchio), Al Molinaro (Al Delvecchio), Art Metrano (Uncle Ricco), Derrel Maury (Mario), Robert Peirce (Bingo), Winifred Freedman (Annette), Chris McDermott (Suky). Theme Vocal: “You Look at Me” by Erin Moran, Scott Baio.

4167 Joanna. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/30/85). When Joanna Weston, a Los Angeles girl, moves to Brooklyn, New York, to be with her boyfriend, Charles, she learns that he has run off with another woman. With no other choice but to begin a new life, Joanna applies for and acquires the position of executive director of the Rosebud Trucking Company. Her misadventures as she attempts to run the company is the focal point of the unsold series.

Other Regulars: Michael, Joanna’s neighbor; Elvis, the dispatcher; Rosenthal, the company manager; Napoleon Flipper, “the resident loon”; the truckers: Little Joe, Paulie, Sigourney, Petey and Dean; and Mrs. Benson, Joanna’s landlady.

Cast: Cindy Williams (Joanna Weston), Reni Santoni (Michael Braxton), Ron Karabatsos (Elvis Valentine), Lou Jacobi (Rosenthal), Florence Halop (Mrs. Benson), Larry Hankin (Little Joe), John DelRegno (Paulie), Julie Payne (Sigourney Schultz), Danny Mora (Petey Flowers), Larry Joshua (Dean), W.H. Macy (Napoleon Flipper).

4168 Joanne Carson’s V.I.P.’s. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1972). A daily program of celebrity interviews with Joanne Carson (the wife of TV talk show host Johnny Carson). Hugh Douger does the announcing.

4169 The Job. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2001–2002). Mike McNeil is a detective with the 21st Precinct of the N.Y.P.D. in Manhattan. He is Irish and “The only thing I like is being a cop.” He breaks the rules, or, as he says, “bends them,” to solve a case. Mike lives in the suburbs and works in the city. He smokes, drinks and is totally unfaithful to his wife, Karen. He is also a womanizer and is secretly dating a woman named Toni.

While Toni knows about Karen, Karen is unaware of Toni. Karen eventually discovered Mike’s mistress, but the series ended without any resolutions.

Mike takes pain killers even though he has no pain. He is not very friendly, sometimes looks the other way instead of arresting a suspect and believes he is unlucky, not only at gambling but with women. Mike works with Frank Harrigan, Jan Hendrix and Terrence Phillips. It took Terrence five years to figure out what a 12-year-old girl figured out while spending only 20 minutes with Mike — “He’s not nice.” Terrence is nicknamed Pip and is mystified as to why he has that nickname. He believes people think he resembles one of singer Gladys Knight’s Pips, but he feels he doesn’t look like any one of them — “It’s hard to tell because your eyes tend to look at Gladys Knight.”

Jan is the only regular female cop in the squad room. She was born in the Bronx and attended Cardinal Spellman High School where she was called Duck — “because I had a voice like a duck.” Jan is single and looking for Mr. Right but feels the pressures of her job will never make that happen. She believes women of all ages hate Mike because of his nasty attitude about everything.

Frank is the overweight cop who appears to be the only person in the precinct who can stand being Mike’s patrol car partner. He enjoys eating — at home, in the squad room, in the car, on the street — wherever and whenever a free moment allows him to indulge in his favorite activity. Before becoming a cop, Frank felt he had a calling to become a priest — “But the celibacy thing got me. I couldn’t imagine giving up sex.” The series concentrates heavily on Mike’s day-to-day activities on a job he appears to like, then hate, then like again.

Cast: Denis Leary (Mike McNeil), Wendy McKenna (Kate McNeil), Karyn Parsons (Toni), Lenny Clarke (Frank Harrigan), Bill Nunn (Terrence Phillips), Diane Farr (Jan Hendrix).

4170 Joe and Mabel. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955–1956). A blind date brought Mabel Spooner and Joe Sparton together. Mabel is beautiful, stubborn, a bit wacky and ready for marriage. Joe is hard working, level headed and “chicken” (not ready to tie the knot); he is a long range planner and looks ahead.

Joe feels Mabel is the prettiest girl in his crowd —

“She loves me no matter how stupid I am; she laughs at all my old jokes and knows how to fix my eggs. I say every guy ought to have a girl like Mabel, even if she sometimes inspires you to do crazy things.”

Mabel is dead set on convincing Joe that she is the perfect wife for him. She does her best to impress him (although her plans most often backfire) and has already planned on a house and three kids (Joe Jr., Adele and Stanley).

Joe, who lives at 764 Chauncey Street in Brooklyn, is an independent cab driver. Joe has a picture of Mabel above his rearview mirror. (Each episode begins with Joe driving his cab and relating an incident about himself and Mabel. A flashback is used to relate the tale. Joe returns right before the closing theme to give a final remark and tell the audience about next week's episode.)

Joe's hangout is Mac's Coffee Shop (“the Waldorf Astoria of the coffee shops”). While “Mac's Coffee Shop” is seen on the front door, it is called Harry's Coffee Shop in dialogue. Mike is Joe's friend, a cabbie also. Wilbur Hatch composed the theme.

Cast: Nita Talbot (Mabel Spooner), Larry Blyden (Joe Sparton), Luella Gear (Adele Spooner), Michael Mann (Sherman Spooner), Norman Fell (Mike).

4171 Joe and Sons. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975–1976). Joe Vitale is a widowed sheet metal worker living in Hoboken, New Jersey. He is the father of two teenage sons, Mark and Nick, and stories relate his efforts to raise Mark and Nick on the straight and narrow.

Other Regulars: Estelle, Joe's neighbor; Josephine Molonaire, Joe's married sister; Mo, Josephine's husband; Gus Duzik, Joe's friend; and Charlie, Joe's uncle.

Cast: Richard S. Castellano (Joe Vitale), Barry Miller (Mark Vitalie), Jimmy Baio (Nick Vitalie), Bobbi Jordan (Estelle), Florence Stanley (Josephine Molonaire), Jerry Stiller (Gus Duzik), Harold J. Stone (Charlie).

4172 J.O.E. and the Colonel. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 9/11/85). Seeking to develop the perfect soldier, U.S. government scientists develop J.O.E., a product of DNA experiments they hope will become the ultimate terminator. However, when J.O.E., a Project Omega creation, is ordered to kill, he shows a fatal flaw when he disobeys the command. J.O.E. is considered a failure and ordered destroyed.

Before action can be taken, Michael Roarke, one of J.O.E.'s creators, flees with J.O.E. and begins programming him as a human being. Shortly after, they move to an obscure town (Touchstone) and begin a business called Special Services, Incorporated (through which they tackle very hazardous jobs for a price). During one mission, Michael is killed and Colonel H.C. Fleming, the government agent assigned to destroy J.O.E. resigns. Fleming had given his own cells to help create J.O.E. and teams with J.O.E., who now calls himself Joe Smith, to continue where Michael left off. The unsold series was to relate Joe and Fleming's adventures as they tackle dangerous assignments and attempt to avoid the government agents who are still seeking to destroy J.O.E. (whom they feel contains vital information that may fall into the wrong hands).

In the pilot episode, Joe battles terrorists targeting major U.S. power sources.

Cast: Gary Kasper (Joe Smith), William Lucking (H.C. Fleming), Aimee Eccles (Miss Kai; their secretary). Guest Cast: Terence Knox (Michael Roarke), Gail Edwards (Lena Gant), Christie Houser (Pam), Douglas Alan Shanklin (Alpha), Allan Miller (Mr. Lyle), Don Swayze (Max Carney), William Riley (Travis), Marie Windsor (Mrs. Roth), Allan Rich (Mr. Roth).

4173 Joe and Valerie. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1978). The romantic ups and downs of two young people in love: Joe Pizo, an apprentice plumber, and Valerie Sweetzer, a cosmetics salesgirl. See the following title also.

Other Regulars: Vincent, Joe's father; Thelma, Valerie's friend; Stella, Valerie's mother; and Frank and Paulie, Joe's friends. The four episode series ran from April 24, 1978 to May 10, 1978.

Cast: Paul Regina (Joe Pizo), Char Fontane (Valerie Sweetzer), Robert Costanzo (Vincent Pizo), Pat Benson (Stella Sweetzer), Donna Ponterotto (Thelma Medina), Bill Beyers (Frank Berganski), David Elliott (Paulie Barone).

4174 Joe and Valerie. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1979). A three-episode continuation of the prior title that relates the marriage (on January 12, 1979) of Joe and Valerie and their efforts to begin a married life together.

Other Regulars: Vincent, Joe's father; Stella, Valerie's mother; Rita, Valerie's friend; and Frank and Paulie, Joe's friends. Valerie now works as a clothing salesgirl. The series ran from January 5, 1979 to January 19, 1979.

4175 Joe Bash. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986). Joe Bash and Willie Smith are police officers with the 33rd Precinct in New York City who patrol a ghetto section of the city at night. Stories focus in particular on Joe, a veteran who is nearing retirement, as he attempts to put in his remaining time quietly and collect his pension — something his young partner can't understand.

Cast: Peter Boyle (Officer Joe Bash), Andrew Rubin (Officer Willie Smith), Val Bisoglio (Sergeant Carmine DiSalvo), Michael Cavanaugh (Lieutenant Pendleton).

4176 Joe Dancer. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1981–1983). “I handle the garbage — and get paid for it,” says Joe Dancer, a tough Los Angeles–based private detective who takes the cases of people who are unable to turn to the police for help. His exploits were chronicled in three unsold attempts at a series. He is assisted by his secretary, Charlie.

The first pilot, The Big Black Pill (January 29, 1981), finds Joe attempting to solve a murder that was cleverly set up to frame him.

The Monkey Mission (March 23, 1981), the second pilot, finds Joe using a trained monkey to help him complete a seemingly impossible job: stealing a priceless European vase from a tightly guarded museum.

In Joe Dancer: Murder One, Dancer O (June 5, 1983), the third pilot, Joe attempts to clear himself of a false murder charge: that of running down a 17-year-old boy with his car.

Cast: Robert Blake (Joe Dancer), Sondra Blake (Charlie). Guest Cast (The Big Black Pill): James Gannon (Captain Jake Jacqualone), JoBeth Williams (Tiffany Farrenpour), Neva Patterson (Eliza Farrenpour), Edward Winter (Jerrold Farrenpour), Carol Wayne (Allegra Farrenpour), Veronica Cartwright (Sister Teresa), Eileen Heckart (Sister Carla), Bubba Smith (Big Foot). Guest Cast (The Monkey Mission): Mitchell Ryan (Keyes), Keenan Wynn (Stump), Elizabeth Halliday (Jennifer Gordon). Guest Cast: (Joe Dancer: Murder One, Dance O): Robin Dearden (Jenny Burnell), William Prince (Asa Lamar), Royal Dano (Cow John), Harriet Mathey (Jill), Jane Daly (Carl), Sam Anderson (Paul Iberville).

4177 The Joe DiMaggio Show. (Series; Children; NBC; 1950). Baseball star Joe DiMaggio chats with youngsters, answers their questions and interviews guest stars in a clubhouse like setting.

Host: Joe DiMaggio. Assistant: Jack Barry. Announcer: Ted Brown.

4178 Joe Forrester. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1975–1976). A realistic portrayal of police work in action as seen through the experiences of Joe Forrester, a veteran policeman who rejects a desk job to walk his old beat as a uniformed cop. Sergeant Bernie Vincent is his superior; Georgia Cameron is Joe's romantic interest; Jolene Jackson is Joe's informant.

Cast: Lloyd Bridges (Off. Joe Forrester), Eddie Egan (Sgt. Bernie Vincent), Patricia Crowley (Georgia Cameron), Dwan Smith (Jolene Jackson), Michael Warren (Detective Marshall), Lynn Redding (Sergeant Storm), Andra Akers (Assistant D.A. Johnson), Dale Tarter (Polygraph Operator), Taylor Lacher (Det. Will Carson).

4179 Joe Millionaire. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2003). Twenty single women are flown to France to meet Joe Millionaire, a man each of the women believe is worth over $50 million. In reality (and unknown to the women), Joe is a construction worker with an annual income of $19,000. The women each hope to win Joe's affection and become the one he chooses to possibly become his wife.

Joe romances each of the women (using the show's bank account and hoping not to expose the fact that he is a fraud). At the end of a month, he must choose the one he feels is right for him (the one who will not be spoiled by riches). Also, at that time, he must reveal his true identity and true financial status.

Cast: Alex McLeod (Hostess, Cycle 1), Samantha Harris (Hostess, Cycle 2), Evan Marriott (Joe Millionaire, Cycle 1), David Smith (Joe Millionaire, Cycle 2), Paul Hogan (Joe's Butler, Cycles 1 and 2), Mark Thompson (Narrator).

4180 The Joe Namath Show. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1969). A program of interviews with sports figures and show business personalities with former football star Joe Namath as the host.

Host: Joe Namath. Co-Host: Dick Schaap. Announcer-Assistant: Louisa Moritz.

4181 The Joe Palooka Story. (Series; Comedy-Drama; Syn.; 1954). The fictitious story of heavyweight boxer Joe Palooka, a clean living, moral champ who is ignorant of gambling, fixed fights, blonde sirens and nightclubs. Ann Howe is Joe's romantic interest; Knobby Walsh is Joe's manager; Humphrey Pennyworth is Joe's trainer. The series is based on characters created by Ham Fisher.

Cast: Joe Kirkwood, Jr. (Joe Palooka), Cathy Downs (Ann Howe), Louis Van Rooten (Knobby Walsh), Maxie Rosenbloom (Humphrey Pennyworth).

4182 The Joe Piscopo Show. (Unaired Pilot; Variety; Produced in 1988). An unsold series that was to feature the many characters comedian Joe Piscopo created on Saturday Night Live and in beer commercials. Joe would have been backed by celebrity and musical guest stars.

Host: Joe Piscopo.

4183 The Joe Pyne Show. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1966). A weekly discussion program on topical issues with appropriate guests with Joe Pyne as the host.

4184 Joe's Life. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993). Joe and Sandy are a happily married couple who live in Manhattan. They are the parents of Amy, Paulie and Scotty and have switched roles: Joe is a househusband; Sandy works at Temp Jobs.

Joe worked in an aircraft manufacturing plant but lost his job when the Cold War ended. To overcome financial difficulties, Sandy was able to find immediate work and Joe remained home to care for the kids. A short time later, Joe finds employment as the night chef at Gennaro's Restaurant. Although they do not see as much of each other as they would like, they are now financially stable and stories follow mostly events in Joe's daytime life as he cares for the house, the kids and becomes involved in the activities that Sandy normally covered (from grocery shopping to socializing with the other mothers in the neighborhood).

Joe is a New York Giants football fan and attributes his addiction to cooking on his twelfth birthday. He went to Macy's passed up footballs, basketballs and baseballs and bought a Susie Q Easy Bake Oven. Joe may know how to pick out his own birthday gifts, but when it comes to Sandy — he gives her the money to buy her own gift (as an after effect of a lime green vest that glows in the dark that he gave her on her birthday in 1984).

Amy is a very pretty 14-year-old girl who dreams of driving (she can't wait to get her dream car, a white K-80 convertible); she also loves to hang out at the Pizza Place after school. Twelve-year-old Paulie has a strong interest in astronomy. When he was five years old Amy dared him to eat the Yellow Pages. He was up to "air conditioning" when Joe and Sandy walked in and stopped him. Five-year-old Scotty doesn't do much of anything, except act cute for Joe when he takes him for a stroll and play with his plush animals: Petey, Quacky Duck and Puff Puff.

Cast: Peter Onorati (Joe Gennaro), Mary Page Keller (Sandy), Morgan Nagler (Amy Gennaro), Robert Gorman (Paulie Gennaro), Spencer Klein (Scotty Gennaro).

4185 Joe's World. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1980). Joe Wabash is a union painter living in Detroit, Michigan. He is married to Katie and they are the parents of Maggie, Steve, Jimmy, Linda and Rick. Joe enjoys a relaxing drink at the Hangout Bar and stories follow Joe as he attempts to cope with life at home and at work (where he does not have the most intelligent crew in the world. They are Rick, Judy and Bard). Tessie is the owner of the bar.

Cast: Ramon Bieri (Joe Wabash), K Callan (Katie Wabash), Melissa Sherman (Maggie Wabash), Christopher Knight (Steve Wabash), Michael Sharrett (Jimmy Wabash), Missy Francis (Linda Wabash), Ari Zeltzer (Rick Wabash), Misty Rowe (Judy Wil- son), Russ Banham (Brad Hopkins), Frank Coppola (Andy), Joan Shawlee (Tessie).

4186 Joey. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2004–2006). A spin-off from Friends that transplants Joey Tribbiani from New York City to Los Angeles to further his acting career (he gave up his role on Days of Our Lives to make the move). His sister, Gina, gets him an apartment and his 20-year-old nephew, Michael (Gina's son) moves in with him (when Joey suggests Michael spread his wings and move out of his mother's apartment). Joey then acquires an agent (Bobbie Morganstern), a new neighbor, Alexis "Alex" Garrett (a gorgeous divorced lawyer who has eyes for Joey, but Joey is too blind to see it), an assistant, Zach, and very few jobs until he landed the lead on a prime time series called Deep Powder. This series is suddenly pushed aside when Joey acquires a role in a major motion picture called Captured.

Gina was originally a hairdresser at Salon Viktor, then the neurotic Bobbie's assistant. She loves showing her breasts in low cut blouses and brags about her enhancement operation — "I went up three cup sizes." She is outspoken and not afraid to say what is on her mind. Michael is quite intelligent and is attending college. He idolizes Joey and hopes to do as well in the girl department as his playboy uncle. Stories follow events in Joey's life at home and at work — more often than not getting himself in all kinds of mishaps as he struggles to make his mark in Hollywood.

Cast: Matt LeBlanc (Joey Tribbiani), Drea de Matteo (Gina Tribbiani), Andrea Anders (Alex Garrett), Paulo Costanzo (Michael Tribbiani), Jennifer Coolidge (Bobbie Morganstern), Miguel A. Nunez, Jr. (Zach).

4187 Joey and Dad. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1975). A summer program of music and songs with singer Joey Heatherton and her father, Ray as the hosts. The series ran from July 6, 1975 to July 27, 1975.

4188 The Joey Bishop Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1961–1962). Joey Barnes is a public relations man for the Los Angeles firm of Wellington, Willoughby and Jones (originally called the J.P. Willoughby Company). The sign on his desk reads "Keep Smiling"; he owns a house on Wiltshire Boulevard and he is the sole support of his family: his widowed mother, Mrs. Barnes, his sister, Stella Barnes and his young brother, Larry Barnes. He also finds himself supporting his married sister, Betty Grafton, and her adverse-to-work husband, Frank Grafton.

Joey, whose catchphrase is “son of a gun,” was a Boy Scout (with a merit badge) and a sergeant in the army (82nd Airborne Division, Abel Company); he gives his mother $300 a month to run the house.

Stella is studying to become an actress (Joey pays for her acting lessons), and Larry is attending medical school (he has a “used skeleton” called “Mr. Bones” that he paid $60 for — it’s their “skeleton in the closet”). Mrs. Barnes looks to be in her sixties, claims she is 55, but is actually 57.

Frank impresses people by telling them he doesn’t need a job (Joey says he should impress people by telling people he needs a job). Frank and Betty have been married for ten years in 1961. Barbara is Joey’s girlfriend; J.P. is Joey’s boss and Peggy is J.P.’s secretary.

Cast: Joey Bishop (Joey Barnes), Marlo Thomas (Stella Barnes), Warren Berlinger (Larry Barnes), Joe Flynn (Frank Grafton), Virginia Vincent (Betty Grafton), Madge Blake (Mrs. Barnes), John Briggs (J.P. Willoughby), Jackie Russell (Peggy), Nancy Hadley (Barbara Simpson).

4189 The Joey Bishop Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; CBS; 1962–1965). A revised version of the 1961 Joey Bishop Show. Joey Barnes is now a former nightclub comedian who gave up the circuit in 1960 to host The Joey Barnes Show, a daily 60 minute talk-variety series. Joey is now married to Ellie and, a year later, becomes the father of a young son, Joey Barnes, Jr. Ellie was born in Texas, (Joey in South Philadelphia) and she and Joey live in the Carlton Arms Apartments in New York City.

Larry Corbett is Joey’s writer. (He was voted the 1963 “Writer of the Year” by the TV Critics Association. The critics also awarded Joey twelfth place in the comedy category; he came in just ahead of Bullwinkle the Moose. Joey is full of acceptance speeches but never has a chance to use them.) Joey first met Larry in 1953 when he was a struggling young writer. (Prior to his role as Larry, Corbett Monica played Johnny Edwards, a comedian at the Purple Pussycat Club, who substituted for Joey when he went on vacation.)

Freddie is Joey’s agent; they have known each other since childhood. Jillson is the building’s overweight superintendent. He has a wife who watches the eleven o’clock news for laughs, and the one word he can’t pronounce is aluminum (“I’d give anything to say that word right”). Hilda is the baby’s nurse.

Joey’s catchphrase is “son of a gun,” which he says when something stuns him. If Joey has an argument with Ellie, he comes to the studio irritated. The first thing Joey did when he got his show was an impression of a midget sneezing.

Cast: Joey Bishop (Joey Barnes), Abby Dalton (Ellie Barnes), Corbett Monica (Larry Corbett), Guy Marks (Freddie), Joe Besser (Jillson), Mary Treen

(Hilda), Matthew David Smith (Joey Barnes, Jr.), Joey Forman (Sam Nolan).

4190 The Joey Bishop Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1967–1969). A nightly program of music, light comedy and celebrity interviews.

Host: Joey Bishop. Announcer: Regis Philbin. Orchestra: Johnny Mann.

4191 Joey Faye’s Frolics. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1950). A two-week experimental series (April 5, 1950 to April 12, 1950) that spotlights the talents of comedian Joey Faye.

Host: Joey Faye. Regulars: Audrey Christie, Mandy Kaye, Danny Dayton, Joe Silver.

4192 The John Byner Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1972). A brief summer series of music and comedy with comedian John Byner as the host. The series, which produced 4 episodes, ran from August 1, 1972 to August 29, 1972. Rich Eustis and Al Rogers are the producers.

Host: John Byner. Regulars: Patti Deutsch, R.G. Brown, Linda Sublette, Gary Miller, Dennis Flannigan, The Lori Regas Dancers. Announcer: Bill Thompson. Orchestra: (The Other) Ray Charles.

4193 John Conte’s Little Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; ABC; 1950–1953). A program of music and songs with actor John Conte and his guests. The series, sponsored by Stokely-Van Camp Foods, is also known as Van Camp’s Little Show. It ran on NBC from June 27, 1950 to November 22, 1951; and on ABC from April 3, 1953 to June 19, 1953.

Host: John Conte. Regulars: Marguerite Hamilton, The Three Beaus and a Peep, The Jesse Bradley Trio. Music: The Tony Mottola Trio.

4194 The John Davidson Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1969). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy with singer John Davidson as the host.

Host: John Davidson. Regulars: Rich Little, Mirielle Mathieu, Amy McDonald. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

4195 The John Davidson Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1976). A weekly hour of music, songs and light comedy. Dick Clark and Bill Lee are the producers.

Host: John Davidson. Announcer: Pete Barbutti. Orchestra: Lenny Stack. Choreographer: Ron Poindexter.

4196 The John Davidson Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1980–1982). A daily program of interviews, music and songs with singer John Davidson as the host. The series is syndicated in 60 and 90-minute versions to accommodate the needs of local stations. Frank R. Miller and Frank Brill are the producers.

Host: John Davidson. Announcer: Jerry Bishop.
Music: John Toben.

4197 John Doe. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2002). “Who am I? And where did I come from,” says John Doe, a man of mystery who knows everything about everything — except who he is. Is he a government experiment? An extraterrestrial? John Doe simply does not know.

Life for John Doe, as he knows it, began when he awoke on a deserted island (Horseshoe Island). With no apparent means of escape, he dove into the ocean possibly hoping to swim to a mainland. This failed and he attached himself to some floating driftwood and let the tides guide him. He was found by Asian fishermen and rescued. He was put ashore in Seattle, taken to a hospital and given the name John Doe.

On the day of John’s appearance, satellite photos indicated that it was a clear day and there were no atmospheric disturbances. No distress calls were logged by the Coast Guard and no loved ones were reported as missing persons fitting his description — “No nothing,” he says.

The first episode reveals two clues to John’s possible identity. The first is a symbol on his right shoulder — “a circle in a K,” as John calls it. The symbol of ancient Egyptian hieroglyph from 29 BC shows slight similarities. It is also the symbol of a defunct Asian publishing house’s logo — is it a birthmark or a branding? The second clue comes at the end of the episode when it shows John standing on a pier. A ferry is passing and a woman is seen looking toward the pier. She apparently recognizes John Doe and calls out the name Tommy.

John turns and looks, but doesn’t recognize the woman. He attempts to find her but is unable when the ferry docks. Is Tommy his name? Does someone finally recognize him? John’s search for the mysterious woman is a continuing aspect of the series.

John is not only unaware of who he is, but he is color blind. He sees everything in black and white (as does the viewer when a scene is seen through his eyes). However, when something he sees is related to his life (a clue) he can see in color (as what happened with the girl on the ferry). And “did I mention I know everything from the contents of a box of Applejacks to the mating habits of the zebra to everything in between?” However, John is not a psychic; “I can’t predict things” and “for a guy who has all the answers, I don’t have the one that means the most.” To help him find out who he is, John begins his life by acquiring money.

He has an amazing ability to calculate odds and wins a great deal at a race track; he later acquires money by investing in the stock market. To make the best use of his abilities, he establishes himself as a consultant to help the police solve crimes or, as he says, “I’m a privately funded think tank.”

John hires a homeless teenage girl named Karen Kalwalski as his secretary and office organizer. John lives above a bar, The Sea, and plays piano in its lounge. A character named Digger is the apparent bar owner. About his name he says, “Don’t even ask.” The song “My Funny Valentine” by Rogers and Hart “means something to me, but I don’t know what it is.” “I don’t know things I’m supposed to know” (like why he likes hot dogs) “but I know things I’m not supposed to.”

While watching the game show Jeopardy on TV the show is interrupted for a news bulletin about a kidnapped young girl. John sees the news bulletin in color and figures the girl must be a connection to his past. He offers his help to Detective Frank Hayes and solves the case. He rescues the girl but is unable to connect her to his past. Lieutenant Jamie Avery, Frank’s superior, is skeptical of John and rather reluctant to work with him or let Frank associate with him. But John has the unique ability to find clues even the best forensic scientists overlook and his help becomes beneficial to the police department, especially Frank. Frank is married and the father of two children.

Before the series ended without revealing who or what John Doe is, he found one other clue to his identity — the plastic figure of a Phoenix. He saw this in red and a Phoenix is the ancient Greek symbol of rebirth. Danny Lux composed the theme.

Cast: Dominic Purcell (John Doe), Sprague Grayden (Karen Kalwalski), William Forsythe (Digger), John Marshall Jones (Det. Frank Hayes), Jayne Brook (Lt. Jamie Avery).

4198 The John Forsythe Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1965–1966). The original format tells the story of John Foster, a former U.S. Air Force major who inherits the Foster School for Girls in California from his late aunt (his misadventures as he assumes the position of headmaster and attempts to run the school is the focal point of stories). After several months the format changed to depict John’s adventures as a world-traveling secret agent when the government recalls him to active duty. Neither format worked and the series, which ran from September 13, 1965 to August 29, 1966, was cancelled after 30 episodes.

Sergeant Edward Robbins is John’s assistant; Margaret Culver is the school’s principal; Miss Wilson is the physical education teacher; Jeannie Hayes is a teacher; and the featured students are Joanna, Marcia, Kathy, Pamela, Janice, Susan, Norma Jean and Connie.

Cast: John Forsythe (John Foster), Guy Marks (Edward Robbins), Elsa Lanchester (Margaret Culver), Ann B. Davis (Miss Wilson), Peggy Lipton (Joanna), Page Forsythe (Marcia), Darleen Carr (Kathy), Pamelyn Ferdin (Pamela), Sara Ballantine (Janice), Tracy Strafford (Susan), Brooke Forsythe (Norma Jean), Celia Kaye (Connie Stewart), Lisa Gaye (Jeannie Hayes).

4199 John from Cincinnati. (Series; Drama; HBO; 2007). Imperial Beach, California, is called “The last surf break before Tijuana, where the U.S. meets Mexico and water meets land.” It is here, on Imperial Beach, that a family of surfing legends, the Yosts, live: Mitch, his estranged wife, Cissy, their son, Butchie, and Shaun, Butchie’s 13-year-old son.

Mitch, somewhat of a derelict, is bitter, having to give up surfing when he blew out his knee; Butchie, a legend like his father, ruined his career when he turned to drugs; and Shaun, a surfer, is being groomed by Cissy to become the next great surfer. It is also Cissy who keeps the family together as the owner of the local surf shop.

Life changes for the Yosts when John, a mysterious man comes into their lives. Is John magical? Is he a profit? Is he a demon? Whatever (it is not made clear) his presence begins to change the destinies of those with whom he comes in contact. Stories follow the events that affect the Yosts and the situations that result from John’s presence.

Bill is an eccentric ex-cop who lives in a houseful of birds; Ramon owns the rundown hotel in which Butchie lives; Meyer Dickstein is a local lawyer; Barry Cunningham is a businessman; Linc is the surfer agent seeking to represent Shaun.

Cast: Rebecca De Mornay (Cissy Yost), Bruce Greenwood (Mitch Yost), Brian Van Holt (Butchie Yost), Greyson Fletcher (Shaun Yost), Autsin Nichols (John Monad), Ed O’Neill (Bill), Willie Garson (Meyer Dickstein), Luis Guzman (Ramon).

4200 The John Gary Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1966). A summer program of music and songs with singer John Gary as the host. The series ran from June 22, 1966 to September 7, 1966. Saul Ilson and Ernest Chambers are the producers.

Host: John Gary. Regulars: The Jimmy Joyce Singers, The Jack Regas Dancers. Orchestra: Mitchell Ayres.

4201 The John Gary Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1968). A weekly program of music and songs with singer John Gary as the host. Sammy Spear and his orchestra provide the music.

4202 The John Larroquette Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1993–1994). The Crossroads Bus Terminal in St. Louis, Missouri, provides the setting. John Hemingway, the manager, is an alcoholic who is trying to quit “but everybody keeps offering me a drink.” He has a master’s degree in English lit and got the bus-terminal job because he was the only one who applied for it. He has a sign in his office that reads, “This Is a Dark Ride” (which he found in an amusement park as a kid) and frequents the Raincheck Room Bar (where he typically orders a club soda).

John, who says, “I’ve been a drunk for 20 years,” lives in Apartment 3 (when John lived in Chicago, Clancy’s Bar was his hangout). When John moves into a new apartment (2B, second season), he acquires a romantic interest — Catherine Merrick, a nurse at the County General Emergency Room, who lives in Apartment 2C.

Mahalia Sanchez is John’s assistant. Her husband ran off with a 17-year-old girl and left her to raise their four children. Carlie Watkins is a gorgeous prostitute who charges $300 a night. She has a pet crow (Phoenix) and gave up her profession to buy the Rainbow Room Bar.

Dexter Wilson is a tough black youth who runs the food counter in the terminal. Hampton and Eggers are the police officers who frequent the bus terminal. Oscar is the bum who seems to live in the terminal.

Cast: John Larroquette (John Hemingway), Alison LaPlaca (Catherine Merrick), Liz Torres (Mahalia Sanchez), Gigi Rice (Carlie Watkins), Daryl “Chill” Mitchell (Dexter Wilson), Lenny Clarke (Officer Hampton), Elizabeth Berridge (Officer Eggers), Bill Morey (Oscar).

4203 Johnny and the Sprites. (Series; Children; Disney; 2006–2007). Johnny T. is a musician (guitarist) who often needs to find time away from the world of music. One day, to find some solitude (and inspiration) Johnny retreats to a wooded area where he encounters a group of sprites (Muppet-like characters) who instantly become his friends. Each program is composed of two stories — each of which is presented like a mini Broadway musical and designed to relay messages and learning aspects to young children. The songs and musical numbers, written by name Broadway composers, are linked to the show’s daily theme. The program premiered as a five-minute filler series in 2006; it became a half-hour series in 2007.

4204 Johnny Bago. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1993). John Francis Tenuti is in a restaurant when a beautiful girl walks in and kills a mobster (Chico Roselli) who is sitting opposite him. The girl casually walks by Johnny and drops the gun in his food. Johnny picks up the gun and yells, “The bimbo did it,” but the girl is nowhere to be found. Fearing the worst, Johnny runs and is now sought by the police, the mob (who want revenge) and his ex-wife, his parole officer, Beverly Florio (Johnny is out on parole after serving five years for driving the getaway car for mobster Vincent Roselli).

Shortly after, Johnny befriends an old-timer named Hick Benson (Dub Taylor) who owns a 31-foot Winnebago. When Hick asks the stranger his name, Johnny sees the word “Bago” on the dashboard and says Johnny Bago. The following day, Heck dies and Johnny takes control of the Winnebago. He is now a fugitive and travels the back roads of America — hoping to keep out of sight and find the real killer to clear himself. The series ran from June 25, 1993 to August 6, 1993.

Cast: Peter Dobson (Johnny Bago), Rose Abdo (Beverly Florio), Richard Romanus (Vincent Roselli). Theme Vocal: “Johnny Bago” by Jimmy Buffett.

4205 Johnny Blue. (Pilot; Mystery; CBS; 9/4/83). Johnny Blue is a New Orleans-based detective who also runs a restaurant called Johnny Blue’s. The unsold series was to relate his efforts to help the police solve baffling crimes. In the pilot episode, titled “The Kruger Affair,” Johnny risks his life to break up a murder ring. Other Regulars: Deputy Police Chief “Mitch” Mitchell; and Saffron, Johnny’s chef.

Cast: Gil Gerard (Johnny Blue), Eugene Roche (“Mitch” Mitchell), George Kee Cheung (Saffron). Guest Cast: Delta Burke (Joanne Kruger), Rebecca Holden (Kathy Weatherby), Patricia Klous (Jenny).

4206 The Johnny Carson Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1955–1956). A program of music, songs, interviews and comedy sketches with comedian Johnny Carson as the host. Prior to this network series, Johnny had starred in three local series: The Squirrel’s Nest (in Omaha, Nebraska), Carson’s Cellar and Carson’s Corner (both in Los Angeles in 1953). The series ran in prime time from June 30, 1955 to March 29, 1956; and on CBS daytime from May 28, 1956 to September 28, 1956. Nat Perrin is the producer.

Host: Johnny Carson. Regulars: Virginia Gibson, Barbara Ruick, Glenn Turnbull, Laurie Carroll, Peter Hanley, Hank Simms, Jill Corey. Orchestra: Lud Gluskin, Cal Gooden.

4207 Johnny Cash and Friends. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1976). Performances by country and western entertainers. The festivities are headlined by singer Johnny Cash and feature light comedy by a cast of regulars.

Host: Johnny Cash. Regulars: June Carter Cash, Steve Martin, Jim Varney, Howard Mann. Orchestra: Bill Walker.

4208 The Johnny Cash Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1969–1971). A weekly program of music, songs and light comedy with a country and western accent. The series, hosted by singer Johnny Cash, produced 39 episodes and ran from June 7, 1969 to September 6, 1969; and January 21, 1971 to May 21, 1971. Joseph Cates, Chet Hagen and Walter C. Miller are the producers.

Host: Johnny Cash. Regulars: June Carter Cash, The Carter Family, Carl Perkins, The Statler Brothers, The Tennessee Three. Announcer: Mike Lawrence. Orchestra: Bill Walker.

4209 Johnny Come Lately. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/8/60). Johnny Martin is a TV newscaster who will go to any lengths to get a story. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps he encounters while trying to get firsthand information on the stories he reports. In the pilot episode, filmed in 1956, Johnny disguises himself as a sailor to get inside information on naval operations. Other Regulars: Angela Talbot, the station owner.

Cast: Jack Carson (Johnny Martin), Marie Windsor (Angela Talbot). Guest Cast: Dick Reeves (Eddie), Alvy Moore (Andy), Ernest Sarracino (Pardo), Tracy Morgan (Holly).

4210 The Johnny Dugan Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1952). A daily summer series of music and songs from Hollywood with singer Johnny Dugan as the host. The series ran from May 19, 1952 to September 5, 1952.

Host: Johnny Dugan. Regulars: Barbara Logan, Arch Presby.

4211 Johnny Garage. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/13/83). A financially troubled garage (called simply Garage) in Queens, New York, and the story of the man who owns it, Johnny Antonizzio (nicknamed “Johnny Garage”) was the focal point of this unsold series that was to also focus on his endless attempts to get out of debt. The pilot episode finds Johnny attempting to raise the money for his long-overdue rent.

Other Regulars: Frankie Parker, his mechanic; Mike, Frankie’s assistant; and Harriet, Johnny’s landlady.

Cast: Ron Carey (Johnny Antonizzio), Val Bisoglio (Frankie Parker), Timothy Van Patten (Mike), Carlin Glynn (Harriet Garfield). Guest Cast: Christina Avis-Krauss (Brenda Enright), Bill Smitrovich (Steve Enright), Jack Hallett (Paul Enright), Robert Cendella (Mr. Freeze-It), Carol Levy (Girl in car).

4212 Johnny Guitar. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 7/31/59). A singing cowboy (Johnny Guitar) who roams throughout the West and helps people in trouble was the idea behind this unsold series. In the pilot episode, Johnny attempts to help Anna Carrick, a rancher who is being forced to marry a killer against her will. Broadcast as “Ballad to Die By” on Stripe Playhouse (Johnny Guitar was the proposed series title).

Cast: William Joyce (Johnny Guitar). Guest Cast: Fay Spain (Anna Carrick), Reg Parton (Harry Shay), Michael Morgan (Gyte).

4213 The Johnny Johnston Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1951). A daily program of music and songs with singer Johnny Johnston as the host. The series ran from January 22, 1951 to February 9, 1951.

Host: Johnny Johnston. Featured: Rosemary Clooney.

4214 Johnny Jupiter. (Series; Comedy; DuMont; ABC; 1953–1954). In the mythical town of Clayville, U.S.A., lives Ernest P. Duckweather, a mild mannered clerk at the Frisby General Store. Horatio Frisby, who attended Hyldeberg University, owns the store; and Katherine Frisby, Horatio's daughter, is Ernest's girlfriend.

Ernest, who earns $15 a week, is a jack-of-all-trades. He accidentally discovered interplanetary television when he fooled around with a television set and contacted the inhabitants of Jupiter.

The planet is 600 million miles from Earth, and the Jupiterians we see are puppets Johnny Jupiter, Major Domo (the head robot) and Reject, "the factory rejected robot" (all voiced by Gilbert Mack).

Stories relate Ernest's misadventures as he seeks the Jupiterians' help in solving his earthly problems. When Ernest contacts Johnny, he turns several dials on a large television and says, "Duckweather on Earth, calling the planet Jupiter." Through some primitive but effective special effects, Jupiter comes into view. Ernest can see and speak to Johnny and vice versa.

If Ernest requires extraordinary help, Johnny sends Reject the Robot to Earth. To accomplish this, Johnny touches the puppet Reject and says, "Super Jelly Bean Power." Reject is sent through space and appears to Ernest (the only one who can see him). During the trip from Jupiter to Earth, the puppet becomes life-sized (the actor playing the robot is not credited). Reject's favorite television show is "The Robot Club" (Jupiterian television programs are all educational and instructive). On Jupiter, robots were built to service the humanoid inhabitants (for example, Johnny) and are excellent repairmen. Johnny calls Ernest "Mr. Duckweather."

Reta Shaw (as Mrs. Clandish, a townsperson) and Florenz Ames (as Mr. Latham, Horatio's nemesis) were semi-regulars in this version of the series (ABC owned and operated stations; syndicated elsewhere).

An earlier version aired on DuMont. Here Ernest P. Duckweather (Vaughn Taylor) is a television station janitor who dreams of becoming a producer. One night he sneaks into the control room and begins playing producer. While fiddling with the various controls, he accidentally discovers interplanetary television when he contacts the people of Jupiter (puppets Johnny Jupiter; Major Domo, "the head robot"; Reject, "the factory rejected robot"; and Johnny's pal, B-12). Due to limited available information, it is difficult to compare both versions.

It appears that the DuMont version, which was broadcast live, had only two actors: Vaughn Taylor as Ernest and Gilbert Mack doubling as Ernest's boss at the television station and as the puppet voices. Stories revolved around Johnny and Ernest assessing the values of their respective planets (which differed greatly; what was commonplace on Earth was usually just the opposite on Jupiter).

An announcer opens the show: "Time now for M&M's presentation of Johnny Jupiter. Once upon a time on the far off planet Jupiter lived two strange creatures (Johnny Jupiter, Major Domo). Strange in looks but with a wisdom far greater than our own. Each day they searched the universe for signs of intelligent life but alas they found none. Instead they settled for the planet Earth. Now on this planet lived a young inventor by the name of Ernest Duckweather. He invented a television set unlike any known before. For on this set he was able to tune in the planet Jupiter. The adventures of Johnny Jupiter are brought to you by M&M's, the chocolate treat that's neat to eat."

4216 Johnny Midnight. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1960). Johnny Midnight is a former actor turned private detective who says, "Broadway is the world of make-believe, but I found out that the curtain never comes down on the real things that happen on the Street of Dreams. That's why I gave up acting to become a private investigator." Johnny lives in a penthouse on West 41st Street and Broadway; "My favorite street in my favorite town — New York City." Johnny owns his own theater, The Midnight Theater, and still frequents the actors' hangout, Lindy's Bar, where he likes to eat and keep in touch with his show business friends.

Cost doesn't matter much when it comes to his clients. If he sees that a person is in real trouble, the money becomes secondary. Johnny also works on behalf of the Mutual Insurance Company and uses his skills as a former actor to help him solve cases.

Aki is Johnny's houseboy; he calls Johnny "Mr. Johnny Midnight." Lupo Olivera is Johnny's police department contact, a sergeant with the Homicide Division of the N.Y.P.D.

A jazz adaptation of the song "The Lullaby of Broadway," played by Joe Bushkin, is the show's theme song.

Cast: Edmond O'Brien (Johnny Midnight), Yuki Shimoda (Aki), Arthur Batanides (Lupo Olivera), Barney Phillips (Lieutenant Geller).

4217 Johnny Nighthawk. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 9/1/59). A proposed series about Johnny Nighthawk, the adventurous owner and pilot of a one-plane airline. In the pilot episode, Johnny risks his life to control a fire that has broken out in an oil well. Broadcast as "Forced Landing" on Geritol Adventure Showcase (Johnny Nighthawk was the proposed series title).

Cast: Scott Brady (Johnny Nighthawk), Richard Erdman (Matt Brent, his aide). Guest Cast: Maggie Mahoney (Lorna Kendriss), Joe DeSantis (Mac Ustich).

4218 Johnny Olsen's Rumpus Room. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1949–1952). A program of music, songs and comedy that also features a game segment wherein selected members of the studio audience compete in stunt contests for prizes.

Host: Johnny Olsen. Regulars: Kay Armen, Gene Kirby, Hal McIntyre. Orchestra: Buddy Weed, Hank D'Amico.

4219 Johnny Ringo. (Series; Western; CBS; 1959–1960). Velardi, Arizona, is a growing town of the 1870s; there is a lot of traffic. The railroad has started laying track going east and there is also a lot of trouble — from outlaws who find the town an easy mark. To stop the growing crime rate, Mayor Hartford (Willis Bouchey) hires Johnny Ringo, an ex-gunfighter, as the town's sheriff. Johnny, a right-handed gunfighter, receives $200 a month and has to prove he is as fast as his reputation — "Velardi didn't hire me, they hired my guns. I know that and got to live with it. Maybe someday it will be different."

Johnny doesn't know much about the law — he puts things on a personal basis. He philosophizes, and people say he sounds more like a preacher than a gunfighter. He sometimes poses as a wanted man and calls on his reputation as a gunfighter to apprehend criminals. Johnny never killed a man for money. He relinquished his gun fighting career to become a lawman and recalled that he didn't know how he came to be a gunfighter: "I don't know, it just grew.... All of a sudden you're a big man and you find yourself like a turkey in a shoot. Everybody wants to try their luck. You can't stop it, you wanna but you can't. You run, but they catch you; you hide, but they find you. Perhaps the badge will make up for some of the things I did."

Johnny's gun is a variation on the French firearm, the Le Met Special. It was designed by Cason ("Case") Thomas, Johnny's original deputy, "to even up the odds." Cason calls it "a seven shooter." It looks like a regular Colt .45 and fires the normal six bullets. But there is a separate barrel for an extra shell — a .410 shotgun shell (the seventh barrel, located under the standard one, is activated by setting the gun's hammer in the firing position). It was said that Johnny's reputation was known from the Gulf to the Pacific Ocean.

William Charles, Jr., better known as Cully, is Johnny's young deputy. Cully's father was a trick shot and taught him how to use a gun when he was five years old. Four years later Cully's father was killed, and Cully went to work as a roustabout in a carnival. He practiced shooting every day and eventually became a traveling show attraction called "Kid Adonis, the Fastest Gun in the World." When the show came to Velardi and the Kid found Johnny was a split second faster than he was, he decided to settle down and lead a normal life. When Cason tells Cully that he is getting too old for the job, Cully steps into his shoes and becomes Johnny's deputy. Cason buys the general store (which he runs with his daughter and Johnny's romantic interest, Laura Thomas). The town saloon is the Golden Wheel.

The original pilot film for the series, titled "Man Alone," aired on Zane Grey Theater on 3/5/59. Don Durant played Johnny Ringo, Thomas Mitchell was Cason Thomas and Marilyn Erskine was Laura Thomas (Cully did not appear; the reworked pilot, titled "Arrival" for Johnny Ringo, is a word-for-word remake of "Man Alone." The proposed series title at the time was "The Loner").

Cast: Don Durant (Johnny Ringo), Mark Goddard (Cully), Karen Sharpe (Laura Thomas), Terrence DeMarney (Cason Thomas). Theme Vocal: "Johnny Ringo" by Don Durant.

4220 Johnny Risk. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 6/16/58). Alaska in 1896 is the setting for an unsold series about Johnny Risk, a gambling boat entrepreneur. In the pilot episode, Johnny battles a corrupt new law designed to take gold mines away from aliens when a friend loses his mine. Broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Theater.

4221 Johnny Sokko and His Flying Robot. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1968). Shortly after a group of aliens secretly land on Earth (in Japan), they kidnap Dr. Lucas Gardion, a brilliant scientist, and force him to construct Giant Robot, an indestructible mechanical machine that they plan to use to destroy Earth. As the doctor completes the robot, a prehistoric type of creature brought to Earth by the aliens escapes and attacks a Japanese ship. Two people, Johnny Sokko (a young boy) and Jerry Mono (Agent 43), an agent for Unicorn (an international defense organization) survive and wash up on a nearby-uncharted island — the alien's base. There, they meet Dr. Gardion, who tells them about the robot and what the aliens plan to do. They also learn that the robot will obey the first voice it hears and that it is complete except for an atomic charge to activate its circuits. Just then, as the aliens attack the lab, Dr. Gardion detonates the atomic bomb he planted in the robot to destroy it. However, instead of destroying the robot, the bomb supplies the necessary power to activate it. Amid the ensuing confusion, Johnny finds the wristwatch-type control and speaks to the robot. He becomes its master. With the help of Giant Robot (as Johnny calls it), Johnny and Jerry return to Tokyo (where the series is set) and where Johnny becomes a member of Unicorn (Agent 7) and Giant Robot becomes Earth's most valuable defense weapon. The series depicts Unicorn's battle against sinister alien invaders.

Cast: Mitsundbu Kaneko (Johnny Sokko), Akjo Ito (Jerry Mono).

4222 Johnny Staccato. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1959–1960). Johnny Staccato is a former jazz musician (the Staccato Combo) turned private detective who operates out of New York City. Johnny, who was born in Manhattan (he now lives at 860 West 40th Street), says, “I’m a native, but I still ask questions, especially of pretty girls, to get around.” He also knows a lot — “It’s all from odd bits of information I picked up here and there.” Johnny’s hang-out is Waldo’s, a mid-Manhattan bar owned by his friend Waldo, an Old World Italian who likes opera but puts up with jazz. It’s here where Johnny seems to find his only means of relaxation when he plays piano in the jazz band that supplies the bar’s music. The series, also known as Staccato, relates Johnny’s case investigations.

Cast: John Cassavetes (Johnny Staccato), Eduardo Ciannelli (Waldo). Theme Song: “Staccato’s Theme” by Elmer Bernstein.

4223 Johnny Test. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2005). Johnny Test is not your typical 11-year-old boy. He is the brother of Susan and Mary, twin, scientific genius girls who constantly use him as a guinea pig for their experiments. But as Johnny says, “It’s just another day in the life of a boy.” Johnny also has a dog, Dukie, who was given the ability to speak by his sisters when they created a DNA program for him.

Mary and Susan often use their genius to create items to help mankind and so impress the government that they (and Johnny and Dukie) are sworn in as secret agents for SSGA (located in an area called 51.1). Stories follow Johnny as he helps out where he can — with the enhanced help of Susan and Mary’s experiments (which do not always go as planned and complicate matters even further. But, as they say to Johnny, “You have to trust us, Johnny, we’re family”).

Voice Cast: James Arnold Taylor (Johnny Test), Brittney Wilson (Susan and Mary Test), Jeff Woodlock (Dukie), Kathleen Barr (Johnny’s mother), Ian James Corlett (Johnny’s father).

4224 Johnnytime. (Series; Children; USA; 1997). An educational program for children that addresses the various problems they face as seen through the eyes of John Kassir, an imaginative actor who plays numerous characters in skits designed to show a problem and how to deal with it.

Host: John Kassir.

4225 The Johnsons Are Home. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/19/88). A slightly off-beat view of domestic life as seen through the experiences of the Johnsons, a not-so-typical American family: parents Andrew and Ora, their children, Mary and Andrew (“Andy”) Jr., and Ora’s Aunt Lunar. In the pilot episode, Mary believes she was accidentally switched at birth with another baby and sets out to find her real family.

Cast: Geoffrey Lewis (Andrew Johnson), Lynn Milgrim (Ora Johnson), Hannah Cutrona (Mary Johnson), John Zarchen (Andy Johnson), Audrey Meadows (Aunt Lunar). Guest Cast: Billie Bird (Miss Simms), Julie Condra (Buffy Heatherton).

4226 Jokebook. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1982). A series of animated cartoons culled from the studios of Hanna-Barbera Productions as well as from cartoon classics, foreign and student films. The short cartoon segments are tied together by various characters, such as the Nerd, Treeman and Eve and Adam.

Voices: Henry Corden, Bob Hastings, Joan Gerber, Joyce Jameson, Don Messick, Sidney Miller, Frank Welker, Lennie Weinrib, Janet Waldo, Ronnie Schell, Marilyn Schreffler.

4227 Joker! Joker!! Joker!!! (Series; Game; Syn.; 1980). A children’s version of the adult game The Joker’s Wild. Two contestants compete. One player pulls a lever to activate a large slot-like mechanism that contains five category topics. The machine pinpoints three question categories, one of which the player chooses. If the contestant answers correctly, he wins money and continues to play; if he is wrong, he loses his turn and his opponent receives the opportunity to win points. The winner is the first player to score 500 points (he wins a savings bond). Contained within the categories are jokers, as in a deck of playing cards, which sometime appear with a subject and allow a player to double his points (if one appears with two identical categories) or triple his score (if two jokers appear with one category). If three jokers appear during one spin, the player automatically wins the game and the savings bond.

Host: Jack Barry. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

4228 The Joker's Wild. (Series; Game; CBS; Syn.; 1972–1985). Two contestants compete. One player pulls a lever to activate a large slot-like mechanism that contains five category topics. The machine pinpoints three question categories, one of which the player chooses. If the contestant answers correctly, he wins money and continues to play; if he is wrong, he loses his turn and his opponent receives the opportunity to win money. The winner is the first player to score $500. Contained within the categories are jokers, as in a deck of playing cards, which sometime appear with a subject and allow a player to double his cash (if one appears with two identical categories) or triple his cash (if two jokers appear with one category). If three jokers appear during one spin, the player automatically wins the game and $500. The series ran on CBS from 1972–1975 and in syndication from 1976–1985.

Host: Jack Barry, Bill Cullen, Jim Peck. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs, Jay Stewart, Charlie O'Donnell.

4229 The Jonathan Winters Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1956–1957). Comedian Jonathan Winters hosts a weekly program of comedy skits with the songs provided by the group The Platters.

4230 The Jonathan Winters Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1967–1969). A lively program of music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Jonathan Winters as the host. Frank Peppiatt and Sheldon Keller are the producers.

Host: Jonathan Winters. Regulars: Paul Lynde, Alice Ghostley, Cliff Arquette, Dick Curtis, Abby Dalton, Pamela Rodgers, Debi Storm, Diane Davis, Georgene Barnes, Jerry Renneau, The Establishment, The Wisa D'Orso Dancers, The Andre Tayer Dancers. Announcer: Bern Bennett. Orchestra: Paul Weston.

4231 Jones and Jury. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1994–1995). Real people with a pending small claims court case appear before Star Jones, a former Brooklyn senior assistant district attorney and NBC's legal correspondent, to present their sides of the case. When the evidence on both sides has been presented, Star instructs the studio audience on the legal issues involved in the case they just heard. The audience then votes to determine the winner. No matter which side wins (the defendant or the plaintiff) the audience's decision is legal and binding and cannot be appealed in another court.

Host: Star Jones.

4232 The Jones Boys. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/21/67). Moose, Nick and Dixie are the Jones boys, the employees of Oliver Jones, the owner of the Jones Maintenance Company. Oliver's efforts to run a company beset with problems was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Oliver attempts to do a TV commercial to promote business. Other Regulars: Mary, Oliver's wife; and Betty, his secretary.

4233 Jonny Quest. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1964–1965). The shortened title for The Adventures of Jonny Quest. See this title for information.

4234 Jonny Zero. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2004). Jonny Calvo is a bouncer at a nightclub called Club Club in Manhattan (he previously worked at Club Ecstasy). One night, during a confrontation with a drug dealer, Jonny accidentally kills him. Jonny is arrested, charged with manslaughter and sentenced to eight years in Sing Sing Prison. He is released from prison after four years for good behavior.

Jonny is not the most positive role model on TV. He is a low life thug with a nasty temper and a drug habit. He knows all the undesirables and he knows the underworld. He is called Jonny Zero because his life is nothing. When first released Jonny found work at Captain Jack's, a sleazy diner. He next worked in a gym (Jethro's Boxing Ring) as a sparring partner and janitor. Although Jonny knows the bad guys, he's a good guy compared to those bad guys (criminals). As Jonny seeks to change his life, he befriends Random, a wannabe hip-hop Renaissance Man, and Danni Styles, a troubled ex-stripper.

Jonny's life changes somewhat for the better when an FBI agent blackmails him into going undercover as an informant to use his criminal knowledge to infiltrate the New York club scenes to help people and solve crimes. With the help of Random and Danni, who call themselves "Alternative Detectives," Jonny helps those who are unable to help themselves. Jonny comes up with the worst possible plans for a job that always puts him in danger (and often a beating).

Cast: Franky G (Jonny Zero), GQ (Random), Brennan Hesser (Danielle "Danni" Styles).

4235 The Jordan Chance. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 12/12/78). Frank Jordan is an attorney who was once wrongly imprisoned for murder. When he got out he made a vow to help others who have been falsely convicted of a crime. The unsold series was to relate the detective work of Frank's legmen (Brian, Karen and Jimmy) as they uncover the evidence Frank needs to defend his clients and give them that Jordan chance at freedom. In the pilot episode, Jordan tries to help a young woman who was set up for the murder of her lover.

Cast: Raymond Burr (Frank Jordan), Ted Shackelford (Brian Klosky), Jeannie Fitzsimmons (Karen Wagner), James Canning (Jimmy Foster). Guest Cast: Stella Stevens (Virna Stewart), Maria-Elena Cordero (Elena Delgado), George DiCenzo (Sheriff DeVega), John McIntire (Joseph Colton), Peter Haskell (Lee Southland), Gerald McRaney (Sid Burton).

4236 Jo's Cousins. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/14/82). A proposed spin-off from The Facts of Life about the Largos, a family of four who operate a gas station-garage in Weehawken, New Jersey. (The Largos, Sal, a widower, and his children, Terry, Pauli and Bud, are the cousins of Facts of Life regular Jo Polniaszek.)

In the pilot episode, Jo, a student at the Eastland School in Peekskill, New York, visits her cousins and tries to pretty up Terry, a tomboy who now wants to start looking like a girl. Other Regulars: Tony, a friend of the Largos.

4238 Joseph Schildkraut Presents. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1953–1954). A series of half-hour filmed dramas with writer Joseph Schildkraut as the host.

4239 Josephine Little. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 1960–1961). A proposed spin-off from The Barbara Stanwyck Theater about Josephine Little, the beautiful owner of an import-export business in Hong Kong. Her adventures were chronicled in three pilot films:

1. The Miraculous Journey of Tadpole Chan (November 14, 1960). Josephine tries to help Tadpole Chan (Dick Kay Hong), a little boy who wants to see America. Ralph Bellamy plays Mr. Dobson.

2. Dragon By the Tail (January 30, 1961). Josephine teams with a U.S. intelligence agent to track down a dangerous spy. Also in the cast: Anna May Wong (Ahsing) and Russell Arms (James Horn).

3. Adventures in Happiness (March 20, 1961).

Josephine risks her life to help Dr. Paul Harris (Lew Ayres) get much needed medical supplies. Robert Culp plays Archie Bishop.

Cast: Barbara Stanwyck (Josephine Little).

Cast: Richard Crenna (Dr. Joshua Torrance), Tonya Crowe (Thorpe Torrance), Randy Gray (James Torrance), Mary Alice (Donie), Carol Vogel (Caroline Morgan), Alexandra Pauley (Dawn Starr), LaShana Dendy (Josie). Guest Cast: Carl Franklin (Nathaniel), Chez Lister (Thee), Hunter Von Leer (Billy Bob), Roberta Jean Williams (Viola), Brion James (Shug).

4241 Josie and the Pussycats. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1970–1972). Josie, the group leader and head singer, and Melody and Valerie comprise the rock group Josie and the Pussycats (Melody also plays the drums; Valerie is the guitarist). Alan is the group's manager; Alexander is his assistant; Alexandra is Alexander's sister; and Sebastian is the group's pet cat. Stories follow the group as they become involved with and attempt to solve mysteries during their tours. See also Josie and the Pussycats in Outer Space.

4242 Josie and the Pussycats in Outer Space. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1972–1974). A spin-off from Josie and the Pussycats. The rock group Josie and the Pussycats is posing for publicity pictures near a spaceship at NASA when Alexandra, a member of the group, moves forward and accidentally knocks the others off balance. As they fall backward into the open capsule hatch, the blast-off mechanism is activated, sending the craft and its passengers into the far reaches of space. Stories detail the group's adventures as they seek a way to return to Earth.

Josie is the group leader, a singer; Melody (a drummer and singer) and Valerie (guitarist and singer) are the Pussycats. Alan is the group's manager; Alexander is his assistant; Alexandra is Alexander's sister; Sebastian is the group's pet cat; and Bleep is the space creature Melody, the beautiful dumb blonde type, befriends on the planet Zelcor.

4243 The Journey of Allen Strange. (Series; Science Fiction; Nickelodeon.; 1997–2000). Allen Strange is an alien (from the planet Xela) who is now stranded on Earth (Allen stowed away on an intergalactic transport vessel. When it landed on Earth to refuel, Allen wandered off and was left behind when it took off. He was found wandering by Robbie and Josh Stevenson, a sister and brother who befriend him and agreed to keep his secret when they learned who he really was. Robbie and Jason became Allen's guides when Allen became inquisitive about Earth). Stories follow the trio as they seek a way to return Allen to his home planet.

Cast: Arjay Smith (Allen Strange), Erin J. Dean (Robbie Stevenson), Jack Tate (Ken Stevenson), Robert Crow (Manfred Strange), Evan Scott (Erika Romano), Steve Sobel (Prince Alazar), Jaquita Ta'le (La Tanya).

4244 Journey to Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1965). Gunther Less hosts and narrates films that depict the people, music and life styles of countries throughout the world.

4245 Journey to the Center of the Earth. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1967–1969). When Professor Oliver Lindenbrook uncovers the long lost trail of Arnie Saccnuson, a lone explorer who made a descent to the earth's center but died with its secret when he broke his leg, he organizes an expedition to follow Arnie's trail. Accompanied by his niece, Cindy, student Alec Hewit, a guide (Lars) and his pet duck Gertrude, Professor Lindenbrook begins a journey to the center of the earth. Unknown to them, the evil Count Saccnuson, the last living descendant of the once noble family, follows them.

Possessing a power-mad scheme to claim the earth's core for his own sinister purposes, he instructs his servant Torg to kill the Lindenbrook expedition. A dynamite explosion set off by Torg instead seals off the entrance, trapping them all. Stories relate their adventures as they struggle to find the secret of the way back to the earth's service. Based on the novel by Jules Verne.

4246 Journey to the Center of the Earth. (Pilot; Science Fiction; NBC; 2/28/93). Chris Turner is a geophysicist who believes that by penetrating the interior wall of an erupting volcano it is possible to access a fascinating and unexplored subterranean "inner world." Chris receives backing from Hiram Wentworth, a ruthless billionaire who is seeking the mythical Book of Knowledge, which is supposed to exist at the earth's center.

Chris then assembles a crew: Dr. Margo Peterson, Wentworth's representative; Dr. Tessue Itsukawa, the medical officer; Sandra Miller, a master caver; Dr. Cecil Chalmers, an expert on mystic inner worlds who possesses what he believes is a piece of the Book of Knowledge; Tony Estrella, a young jet pilot; and Joe Briggs, an ex-Navy Seal who is their head of security. Wentworth then begins construction on the Venture, a 182-foot long craft designed by Chris that will enable them to journey to the center of the earth.

The volcano in Mount Oliver is chosen as the point at which to begin the journey. Each member is paid one million dollars and the journey is expected to last six months. But the voyagers encounter an unforeseen problem: the underworld is in a constant state of flux.

The Venture is hurled down through the darkness and lost in the labyrinth of ever-shifting tunnels. Soon, they are cut off from the surface and trapped in a dangerous and startling world. Their one hope for rescue lies in finding the Book of Knowledge, which Cecil believes is the only way back to the surface. Complicating matters is an unknown being called the Evil One who senses Chalmers has the one piece he needs to complete the puzzle to the Book of Knowledge and gain immense power to rule the world.

Other Regulars: Devin, the Venture's female computer (she controls the craft); and Dallas, an abominable snowman-like creature they befriend and who becomes a part of the crew (Dallas saved the life of a young girl in his world and was banished to the maze for breaking the law). In the pilot episode, the voyagers battle a race of primitive Troglodytes (the missing link between ape and man) who are seeking the book piece for the Evil One. Based on the novel by Jules Verne.

Cast: Jeffrey Nordling (Chris Turner), Farrah Foke (Dr. Margo Peterson), John Neville (Dr. Cecil Chalmers), Kim Miyori (Dr. Tessue Itsukawa), Fabiana Udenio (Sandra Miller), Tim Russ (Joe Briggs), David Dundara (Tony Estrella), Justina Vail (Devin), Carel Struycken (Dallas). Guest Cast: F. Murray Abraham (Professor Harlech/Evil One), Francis Guinan (Hiram Wentworth), Susan Dear (Trog woman).

4247 Journey to the Unknown. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1968–1969). A British-produced series of mystery and suspense stories of people caught between the world of nightmare and reality. An established American performer appears with British supporting actors.

Included stories are Eve (The tale of a young man who believes that a beautiful store mannequin is a real girl. Stars Carol Lynley and Dennis Waterman); Matakitis Is Coming (The story of a modern-day woman who is transported back in time to a library where she is stalked by a killer. Stars Vera Miles and Leon Lissek); The Last Visitor (The story of an American girl who is stalked by a man who assumes the identity of her late husband. Stars Patty Duke and Kay Walsh); The Madison Equation (An insurance detective attempts to prove that a woman programmed a computer to kill her husband. Stars Barbara Bel Geddes, Sue Lloyd and Jack Hedley); Girl in My Dreams (An eerie tale of a young woman who possesses the ability to predict death through her dreams. Stars Zena Walker and Michael Callan). The series, which produced 17 episodes, ran from September 26, 1968 to January 30, 1969. Joan Harrison is the producer. Theme Song: "Journey to the Unknown" by Norman Kaye and David Lindup.

4248 Journeyman. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2007). Dan Vasser appears to be a normal guy. He works as a reporter for the San Francisco Register and is married to Katie, a former reporter for Channel 6 news (under the name Katherine Barron). Dan is also the father of Zack and possesses a very unique gift: the ability to travel back in time (although he cannot explain how he acquired the ability).

Dan cannot control what happens to him. He suddenly disappears (seen in a flash of light) when something in the past needs to be changed before it becomes history. He appears to pass out at the moment of his journey and awakens to find himself in another time period. He cannot predict (or cause it to happen) and he has no idea whom he is to help until some sort of altercation brings him in contact with the person he needs to save (to affect some future good).

Dan has never known the people he helps and he is not always sure why he was chosen to help someone (it is only when he completes his task and returns to the present that he discovers what he has accomplished).

Stories follow Dan as he struggles to cope with life in the present day world and solve the problems he encounters in a past time.

Jack Vasser is Jack's brother, a detective with the S.F.P.D.; Hugh is Dan's editor; Olivia is a girl who possesses the same ability as Dan. Olivia and Dan were engaged but Olivia was thought to have been killed in a plane crash. She escaped the crash (journeyed back in time) and now appears to be a part of the past — and a guide Dan uses for help on his missions. Olivia too, is unaware as to why she was chosen or how she acquired her ability.

Cast: Kevin McKidd (Dan Vasser), Gretchen Egnolf (Katie Vasser), Reed Diamond (Jack Vasser), Moon Bloodgood (Olivia), Charles Henry Wyson (Zach Vasser).

4249 Joyce and Barbara: For Adults Only. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1970). Joyce Susskind and Barbara Howar host a program that features discussions on topical issues that are current the week of the broadcast. David Susskind is the producer.

Host: Jud Strunk. Guests: Jack Burns, Tina Cole, Alice Ghostley, Andy Griffith, Louis Nye, The Lovin' Spoonful, The Carrabassett Grange Hall Talent Contest Winning Band.

4256 Judd, for the Defense. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1967–1969). Clinton Judd is a defense attorney based in Texas. He is a man of principal and will not give into pressure to compromise his beliefs. He is set in his way and will almost always go by the book; he will, on occasion, bend the rules (just slightly) to accomplish a goal.

Ben Caldwell, Clinton's younger partner, is a firm believer in doing what it takes to gather the evidence to defend a client. While they really do not bicker over their views, Ben's sometimes unorthodox methods do produce results and give Clinton the necessary ammunition to bring a case to a successful conclusion.

Cast: Carl Betz (Clinton Judd), Stephen Young (Ben Caldwell).

4257 The Judge. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 2/5/63). A proposed series about Daniel Zachary, a newly appointed Supreme Court judge. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Dick Powell Show, Zachary locks horns with his former law partner over the prospect of commuting the death sentence of a convicted murderer. Other Regulars: Chief Justice Caleb Cooke; and Karen Holm, Daniel's secretary.

Cast: Richard Basehart (Daniel Zachary), Otto Kruger (Caleb Cooke), Mary Murphy (Karen Holm). Guest Cast: Edward Binns (Matthew Connors), Robert Bolger, Elisha Cook, Robert Crawford, Sandra Kerr.

4258 The Judge. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1986). Actual courtroom cases based on family disputes are presented as a series of reenactments (as opposed to having an actual judge and real plaintiffs and defendants). Casts vary with each episode.

Cast: Robert F. Shield (Judge Robert J. Franklin).

4259 Judge Alex. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 2006). A daily series of actual small claims court cases presided over by Judge Alex Ferrer, a judge who listens and often puts up with litigants nonsense (until it gets out of hand and then he puts his foot down). In any event, Judge Alex never lets this influence his decision. All decisions are final and cannot be appealed in any other court.

Judge: Alex Ferrer. Bailiff: Victor Scott.

4260 The Judge and Jake Wyler. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 12/2/72). An unsold series about a retired, hypochondriac lady judge (Meredith) and a charming ex-con (Jake) who open a detective agency to help people in deep trouble. The pilot episode relates their efforts to help a girl (Alicia Dodd) prove that her father's apparent suicide was actually murder.

Cast: Bette Davis (Judge Meredith), Doug McClure (Jake Wyler). Guest Cast: Joan Van Ark (Alicia Dodd), Eric Braeden (Anton Granicek), Gary Conway (Frank Morrison), John Randolph (James Rockmore), Barbara Rhoades (Chloe Jones), Lou Jacobi (Lieutenant Wolfson), Elizabeth Rush (Caroline Dodd), Kent Smith (Robert Dodd).

4261 Judge Dee in the Monastery Murders. (Pilot; Mystery; ABC; 12/29/74). A proposed series about Judge Dee, a seventh-century Chinese magistrate turned detective. In the pilot episode, Judge Dee attempts to solve the mysterious deaths of three young women. Based on the stories by Robert Van Gulick.

Cast: Khigh Dhiagh (Judge Dee), Yuki Shimoda (Pure Faith), Keye Luke (Lord Sun Ming), Miiko Taka (Jade Mirror), Soon-Tech Oh (Kang I-Te), Mako (Tao Gan), Suesie Elene (Miss Ting), James Hong (Prior), Irene Tsu (Celestial Image).

4262 Judge for Yourself. (Series; Game; NBC; 1953–1954). The program features performances by promising new talent acts. Three studio audience members and three guest judges rate performances. In a later format, a panel rated the merit of new songs performed by Kitty Kallen, Bob Carroll and The Skylarks.

Host: Fred Allen, Dennis James. Vocalists: Kitty Kallen, Bob Carroll, Judy Johnson, The Skylarks. Announcer: Dennis James. Music: Milton DeLugg.

4263 Judge for Yourself. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1995). An actual court case is reenacted with twelve studio audience members serving as the jury. Following the deliberations, the case is discussed with the audience and the jury's verdict is revealed at the end of the program. Home viewers could also cast a guilty or not guilty vote through 900 telephone numbers.

Narrator: Bill Handel.

4264 Judge Hatchett. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 2000). A daily series of actual small claims court cases presided over by Judge Glenda Hatchett.

Judge: Glenda Hatchett. Bailiff: Tom O'Riordan.

4265 Judge Joe Brown. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1997). A daily series of actual small claims courtroom cases presided over by Judge Joe Brown.

An announcer opens the show: "He's a real judge. In his courtroom everyone has the right to a fair trial."

But if they are proven wrong, he has the right to make them pay. Judge Joe Brown.”

Judge: Joe Brown. Bailiff: Holly Evans. Commentator: Jacque Kessler. Announcer: Ben Patrick Johnson.

4266 Judge Judy. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1996). America’s most famous judge, Judith Sheindlin, presides over a daily series of actual small claims court cases. The program opens with these words: “You are about to enter the courtroom of Judge Judith Sheindlin. The people are real, The cases are real. The rulings are final. This is Judge Judy.”

Judge: Judith Sheindlin. Bailiff: Petri Hawkins-Byrd. Announcer: Jerry Bishop.

4267 Judge Maria Lopez. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 2006). A daily series of actual small claims court cases presided over by Judge Maria Lopez. The program opens with Maria’s words: “There’s only one person who decides the truth — I do. I tell it like it is. I was a judge for 15 years. I’ve seen it all. I came to this country as a little girl from Cuba. Talk about the American Dream. I am the American Dream.”

Judge: Maria Lopez. Bailiff: Pete Rodriguez.

4268 Judge Mathis. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1999). A daily series of actual small claims court cases presided over by Judge Greg Mathis, Judge Mathis opens the program: “Troubled kids? I was one. Gangs, jail — I was there. Second chances. I got one. I went to law school, became a lawyer and then a judge. Now I get to give second chances. In my courtroom the disputes are real. The cases are real. It’s time for hard decisions and tough love. That’s what I’m about.”

Judge: Greg Mathis. Bailiff: Doyle Deveraux, Kevin Lingle, Brendan Morgan.

4269 Judge Mills Lane. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1998). A daily series of actual small claims court cases presided over by Mills Lane, a very strict, no-nonsense judge — you obey his rules (like no talking when he is talking, or when the opposing litigant is talking) or you are thrown out of the courtroom and lose the case.

An announcer opens the show: “He grew up in the country and in the corps. He was a boxer, a lawyer, a prosecutor and a referee. In the ring and in the courtroom he’s fair and he’s firm. A fighter and a family man, He’s Mills Lane, America’s judge.”

Judge: Mills Lane. Bailiff: Jasper Cole, Ron Smith. Court Reporter: Kym Adams.

4270 Judge Roy Bean. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1955–1956). “During the 1870s, as the railroads pushed their way west, they attracted the most vicious characters in the country. Soon, the desolate region west of the Pecos River became known as the wildest spot in the United States. It was said that civilization and law stopped at the east bank of the Pecos. It took the courage of one man, a lone storekeeper who was sick of the lawlessness, to change all this. His name was Judge Roy Bean.”

Roy Bean, the self-appointed judge of Langtry, Texas, is also the town’s sheriff and owner of Roy Bean’s General Store. He is a bit on the heavy side, nearsighted without his glasses, older than the typical Wild West lawman and fond of apple pie. He is not quick on the draw, nor does he carry a fancy gun. He does possess a genius for figuring out the criminal mind and conning the con man. The judge does take an active part in apprehending outlaws; the rough work falls on the shoulders of his deputy, Jeff Taggard, a young man who is fast on the draw and quick with his fists.

Assisting Roy in the store is his niece, Letty Bean, who came to live with him after the death of her parents. She is beautiful, extremely feminine and dynamite with a gun (her dress conceals a gun strapped to her ankle). While Jeff does court her, he calls her “a big tomboy” and admires her ability to handle a gun — “You shoot just like a man.” Letty is forever getting angry when Jeff thinks of her as a man and remarks, “Can’t you think of me as a woman just once?” He tries — at least for the remainder of that particular episode.

Carson City is the neighboring town; Salt Lake City is the community north of Langtry; and the Southern Pacific Railroad services the area.

Cast: Edgar Buchanan (Judge Roy Bean), Jackie Loughery (Letty Bean), Jack Beutel (Jeff Taggard), Russell Hayden (Steve; a Texas Ranger).

4271 Judging Amy. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1999–2005). Amy Gray is a corporate lawyer in New York City. She is married to Michael and is the mother of Lauren. Shortly after Lauren’s fifth birthday, Michael wanted out of the marriage but wasn’t brave enough to say it so Amy said it for him. A month later he was with someone else and Amy moved back to her hometown of Hartford, Connecticut, where she and Lauren take up residence with her mother, Maxine Gray, a former lawyer turned social worker.

Life is now progressing well for Amy, especially when she becomes a Juvenile Court judge (also said to be a Family Court judge). Lauren, however, doesn’t like “the judge thing” and wants a normal family life. Amy can’t promise her that, but assures her “that raising you is the best job I’ll ever have.” Stories follow Amy as she struggles to be a single parent despite the demands of her career. Lauren attends Jefferson Elementary School; Maxine, who not only helps raise Lauren, but helps Amy with her career, has a dog named Socrates.

Cast: Amy Brenneman (Amy Gray), Tyne Daly (Maxine Gray), Karle Warren (Lauren Cassidy), Dan

Futterman (Vincent Gray), Jessica Tuck (Gillian Gray), Marcus Giamatti (Peter Gray), Jillian Armatte (Donna Kozlowski), Timothy Omundson (Sean Potter), Richard T. Jones (Bruce Van Exel), Columbus Short (Thomas McNab), Kevin Rahm (Kyle McCarty), Adrian Pasdar (A.D.A. David McClaren), Inny Clemons (Robert Clifton), Kristin Lehman (Dr. Lily Reddicker), Cheech Marin (Ignacio Messina), Reed Diamond (Stuart Collins), Sarah Danielle Madison (Heather Labonte), Sara Mornell (Carole Tobey), Richard Crenna (Jared Duff), Alice Dodd (Kimberly Fallon), Rhyon Nicole Brown (Rebecca Van Exel), Jay R. Ferguson (Dr. Todd Hooper).

4272 Judgment Day. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 12/6/81). An unusual story that is set in a celestial courtroom where a deceased is sent to be judged for either Heaven or Hell. The in-limbo soul, seated before the Judge, is placed on trial and Mr. Heavener (representing Heaven) and Mr. Heller (representing Hell) present the good and bad aspects of that person's life (seen in flashbacks). The Judge views these aspects to determine whether the forces of good or evil acquire the soul. In the pilot episode, Harriet Egan, a beautiful governor killed in a car accident, faces her Judgment Day as Mr. Heavener and Mr. Heller battle for her soul.

Cast: Barry Sullivan (The Judge), Victor Buono (Mr. Heavener), Roddy McDowall (Mr. Heller). Guest Cast: Carol Lynley (Harriet Egan), Beverly Garland (Vicki Connors), Robert Webber (Charles Egan), John Larch (Burton Randolph), Hari Rhodes (Joseph Pierson), Priscilla Pointer (Mrs. Miller).

4273 The Judy Garland Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1963–1964). A weekly hour of music and songs with singer-actress Judy Garland as the host. Each show spotlights her song duets with a special guest star. Although the series is available to any TV station, it most often appears on PBS stations during their pledge week drives. Twenty-six episodes were produced. Sid Luft, Gary Smith, Bill Hobin, George Schlatter and Johnny Bradford are the producers.

Host: Judy Garland. Regular: Jerry Van Dyke. Orchestra: Mort Lindsey. Special Musical Material: Mel Torme.

4274 The Judy Lynn Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1969). Singer Judy Lynn hosts a weekly program that features performances by country and western entertainers. The Judy Lynn Band provides the musical backing.

Hostess: Shirley Dinsdale.

4276 Julia. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1968–1971). Julia Baker is a registered nurse with the Inner Aero-Space Center, an industrial health office in Los Angeles. She is a recent widow (her husband, an Air Force captain, was killed in Viet Nam) and the mother of a young son (Corey). Stories follow Julia's life at work and at home and her efforts to raise her son as a single mother.

Dr. Morton Chegley is Julia's employer; Hannah Yarby is the head nurse; Carol Deering is Julia's part-time mother's helper; Ted Neumann is Julia's romantic interest (later replaced by Paul Carter, then Steve Bruce). Melba Chegley is Morton's wife; Earl J. Waggedorn is Corey's friend; Marie and Len are Earl's parents; Sol Cooper is Julia's landlord; Mrs. Deering is Carol's mother; Roberta is Corey's babysitter; Lou is Julia's uncle; Mrs. Bennett is a tenant in Julia's building.

Cast: Diahann Carroll (Julia Baker), Lloyd Nolan (Dr. Morton Chegley), Marc Copage (Corey Baker), Michael Link (Earl J. Waggedorn), Betty Beard (Marie Waggedorn), Hank Brandt (Len Waggedorn), Lurene Tuttle (Hannah Yarby), Alison Mills (Carol Deering), Ned Glass (Sol Cooper), Virginia Capers (Mrs. Deering), Don Marshall (Ted Neumann), Chuck Wood (Paul Carter), Paul Winfield (Paul Carter; later), Fred Williamson (Steve Bruce), Janear Hines (Roberta), Eugene Jackson (Lou), Mark Wickes (Melba Chegley), Jeff Donnell (Mrs. Bennett).

4277 Julie. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1992). The Julie Carlisle Show is a top rated variety series produced in Hollywood. When star Julie Carlisle decides to marry Dr. Sam McGuire, a veterinarian with a practice in Sioux City, she also decides to move her show to Iowa — to make her marriage work (Julie's first marriage ended in divorce when "my career got in the way. I'm not going to let it happen again"). The series is now taped at KCDM-TV, Channel 10, in Sioux City and stories follow Julie as she attempts to divide her time between being a TV star and a wife and mother.

Julie sings in the key of C, and her first job was that of understudy to an actress named Minerva Philbert. Sam calls Julie "Jules," and she hates the song "Feelings."

Sam is a widower and the father of two children: 14-year-old Allie and 12-year-old Adam. Sam runs The Animal Clinic and teaches at Iowa State University. He also coaches the Tigers Little League team. Allie takes singing and dancing lessons and has a dog named Dog.

I.F. ("Wooley") Wollstein is Julie's always complaining, easily upset producer; and Clem is Sam's gorgeous assistant (a situation that seems not to upset Julie). The series was originally titled Millie and starred Julie Andrews as Millie Cramer (storyline and supporting characters are the same).

Henry Mancini composed the theme, “Julie” (which, surprisingly, has no vocal by Julie Andrews).

Cast: Julie Andrews (Julie Carlisle), James Farentino (Dr. Sam McGuire), Hayley Tyrie (Allie McGuire), Rider Strong (Adam McGuire), Eugene Roche (I.F. Wollstein), Alicia Brandt (Clem).

4278 The Julie Andrews Hour. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1972–1973). Singer-actress Julie Andrews hosts a lively program of music, songs and dances coupled with light comedy. Nick Vanoff and William O. Harbach are the producers.

Hostess: Julie Andrews. Regulars: Rich Little, Alice Ghostley, The Tony Charmoli Dancers, The Dick Williams Singers. Announcer: Dick Tufeld. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle. Special Musical Material: Dick Williams. Choreography: Tony Charmoli.

4279 The Julie Brown Show. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/28/91). As a young girl, Julie Robbins kidnapped herself to raise the ransom to buy a Barbie Dream House. She sold cosmetics, did a commercial for a bug killer and now works as the celebrity reporter for Inside Scoop, a TV show that looks behind the news stories. The unsold series was to follow Julie’s misadventures as she hits the streets to get the scoops.

Other Regulars: Debra, the host of Inside Scoop (she worked for Greenpeace, danced in the New York Ballet for three years, speaks five languages and was second runner-up as Miss Ohio in the Miss America Pageant); Cheryl, Julie’s roommate (she has show business contacts — “I know everyone at the Home Shopping Network by their first names”); Tony, the show’s producer; and Janet, Julie’s mother. In the pilot episode, Julie tries to get an interview with a bratty 16-year-old singer named Kiki Marie.

Cast: Julie Brown (Julie Robbins), DeLane Matthews (Debra Deacon), Susan Messing (Cheryl), Kevin O’Rourke (Tony Barnell), Marian Mercer (Janet Robbins). Guest Cast: Kim Walker (Kiki Marie), Don Sparks (Desk clerk), Robin Angers (Kimba), Deborah Driggs (Tawney). Theme Vocal: “I Know Who I Am” by Julie Brown.

4280 Julie Brown: The Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/4/89). Julie Brown: The Show is a fictional CBS TV talk show hosted by bubbly actress Julie Brown. The unsold series was to relate her misadventures on and off the set. Other Regulars: Grant, her co-host; Candace, the producer; Jeff, the director; Michelle, the secretary; and Rhonda, the make-up lady.

4281 Julie Farr, M.D. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1978–1979). Julie Farr is an obstetrician with a private practice at 13471 East La Brea who also works for City Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles.

Julie originally worked at Riverside Hospital and is proud of her work. It has taken her a long time to build her practice. She has put off marrying and raising a family of her own to help women she feels are dependent upon her.

Dr. Blake Simmons works with Julie at City Memorial Hospital, and Kelly Williams is Julie’s receptionist (Alice Hirson, as Mimi, was Julie’s original receptionist).

Martha Cooper (Lee Meriwether) is Julie’s married older sister, and Jenny Cooper (Tracy Marshak) is Julie’s 14-year-old niece (Martha’s daughter).

The series, which deals with the joys and traumas of childbirth, was originally titled Having Babies (the title under which the first three episodes aired).

Three ABC television movies preceded the series: Having Babies (10/17/76), Having Babies II (10/28/77), and Having Babies III (3/3/78). The second and third movies feature the Julie Farr character, and in Having Babies II, the actual birth of twins (a girl and boy) is graphically depicted through Paula Plotkin (Cassie Yates).

Cast: Susan Sullivan (Julie Farr), Mitchell Ryan (Blake Simmons), Beverly Todd (Kelly Williams), Dennis Howard (Rod Danvers). Theme Vocal: “There Will Be Love” by Marilyn McCoo.

4282 Julie Reno, Bounty Hunter. (Unaired Series; Comedy; Produced for Fox in 2007). Julie Reno is a young, single mother (of Eileen), lives in Reno, Nevada, and works as a bounty hunter. Julie is tough and not afraid of confrontation. She does what she has to get the job done. Stories were set to relate her exploits — made more complicated by her jealous (of her abilities) partner T-Bone, as she tracks down the most dangerous bail jumpers in the state.

Cast: Erin Daniels (Julie Reno), Brooke MacKenzie (Eileen Reno), Vincent Ventresca (T-Bone), Cindy Cheung (Li Ming), Windell Middlebrooks (Windell), Spencer Hill (Freddy).

4283 Julius Caesar. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 3/15/40). The first known television adaptation of William Shakespeare’s classic story about the life and times of the Roman emperor, Julius Caesar.

Cast: Judson Laire (Julius Caesar), Muriel Hutchinson (Portia), Patrick Ludlow (Cassius), Eric Mansfield (Casca), Evelyn Allen (Calpurnia), Richard Coogan (Decius), Douglas Gilmore (Antonius), Grant Gordon (Cinna), Arthur Alexander (Lucius).

4284 The Julius LaRosa Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955). A summer program of music and songs with singer Julius LaRosa as the host.

Host: Julius LaRosa. Regulars: Sherry Ostrus,

Connie Desmond, Bix Brent, Irene Carroll. Orchestra: Russ Case.

4285 The Julius LaRosa Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956). Singer Julius LaRosa hosts a summer program of music and songs.

Host: Julius LaRosa. Regulars: George DeWitt, The Mariners, The Spellbinders, The Evans Dancers. Music: Mitchell Ayres.

4286 Jumanji. (Series; Cartoon; UPN; 1996–1997). An animated adaptation of the feature film of the same title. Many years ago a man named Alan Parrish found a board game called Jumanji (which has a life of its own). He opened the box, laid out the board and rolled the dice. A rhyming message appeared and he was sucked into the game, apparently trapped there forever.

In 1996 Peter and Judy Shepherd, an orphaned brother and sister, come to live with their Aunt Nora. While exploring the house they come across the cursed board game Jumanji. Curiosity gets the best of them and they begin playing the game. The dice are rolled, a rhyming clue appears and they too are transported to the strange jungle-like world of Jumanji. Here, they meet and befriend Alan and the three join forces to solve the mystery of the riddles and return to their own world. Thwarting their attempts is Van Pelt, an English hunter (who is seeking Alan as prey), his foil Oafel, and a mad inventor named Master Builder.

4287 Jump! (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 5/31/84). The program features a chorus line of seven dancers who combine dance interpretations of rock numbers with recollections from their personal lives. See also Jump! II. Bernie Brillstein and Don Mischer are the producers.

Dancers: Chelsea Field, Peggy Holmes, Brad Jeffries, Kenneth Jezeck, Lynda Baines Johnson, Vincent Paterson, Kimmy Smith. Choreographer: Kenny Ortega.

4288 Jump! II. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 1/16/85). A revised version of Jump! The program, set in the Jump Studios, spotlights eight dancers as they perform in video-style vignettes that sketch the moods of the songs they perform. Bernie Brillstein and Don Mischer are the producers.

Dancers: Chelsea Field, Peggy Holmes, Brad Jeffries, Kenneth Jezeck, Lynda Baines Johnson, Wanja McIntire, Kimmy Smith, Peter Tramm. Orchestra: Gary Scott. Choreographers: Kenny Ortega, Jerry Evans.

4289 Jumpin' Joe. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/9/92). Joe Dugan is a widower and the father of two youngsters (Beth and Joey). Joe was a former ball player whose promising career was ended when he was hit by a pitched ball and injured. The unsold series was to relate Joe's efforts to find work (he lives from check to check) and provide a decent life for Beth and Joey. Other Regulars: Irene, Joe's mother; Patsy, Joe's friend; and Christine, Joe's wife (seen in flashbacks).

Cast: Ron Eldard (Joe Dugan), Amy Reedman (Beth Dugan), Gregory Smith (Joey Dugan), Caroline Kava (Irene Dugan), Kehli O'Byrne (Christine Dugan), Paul Ben-Victor (Patsy), Sam Malkin (Angie; guest role).

4290 The June Allyson Show. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1959–1961). A weekly series of varying dramatic presentations including episodes written especially for actress June Allyson.

Hostess: June Allyson. Performers Include: June Allyson, Ginger Rogers, Ann Sothern, Bette Davis, Irene Dunne, Dick Powell, Mona Freeman, Jane Powell, Kevin McCarthy, Debra Paget, Ann Blyth, Gerald Mohr, Dan O'Herlihy, Phyllis Coates, Ronald Reagan, Edgar Bergen, Robert Culp, Pippa Scott, Chuck Connors, Patricia Crowley, Sylvia Sidney, Frank Lovejoy, Margaret O'Brien, Keenan Wynn, Susan Oliver, Joseph Cotten, Myrna Loy, Anne Baxter, Steve Allen, Carolyn Jones, Lew Ayres, James Komack, Harpo Marx, James Franciscus, Lloyd Bridges, Van Johnson.

4291 The June Havoc Show. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1964). A daily series of celebrity interviews with actress June Havoc as the host.

4292 Jungle Boy. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). The shortened title for The Adventures of a Jungle Boy. See this title for information.

4293 Jungle Cubs. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1996). A prequel to the Disney movie The Jungle Book that presents younger versions of the film's main characters as they struggle to survive in the wild: Baloo the Bear, Hathi the Panther, Shere Kahn the Tiger; Prince Louie the Ape and Kaa the Snake.

Voice Cast: Charles Adler (Ned), Pamela Adlon (Baloo the Bear), Jason Marsden (Louie the Ape), Cree Summer (Louie the Ape), Jason Marsden (Shere), Jim Cummings (Kaa), Kath Soucie (Winifred), Rob Paulsen (Akela the Wolf), Tress MacNeille (Martha), Stephen Furst (Hathi), Jim Cummings (Fred), Dee Bradley Baker (Bagheera).

4294 Jungle Jim. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1955). A man known as Jungle Jim is an African safari guide. He is a widower and lives with his son, Skipper, in Nairobi, East Africa. While Jim earns his living as a guide he also finds himself becoming a defender of his domain when he battles the unscrupulous characters who seek to harm the animals or cause problems among the native tribes.

Skipper assists Jim on his guided tours, as does Kaseem, their Hindu servant. They also receive help from Tamba, Jim's chimpanzee and Trader, Skipper's dog. The series is based on characters created by Alex Raymond.

Cast: Johnny Weissmuller (Jungle Jim), Martin Huston (Skipper), Norman Fredric (Kaseem), Peggy (Tamba).

4295 Jungle of Fear. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 4/22/65). Panama in 1850 is the setting for an unsold series about a casino owner known only as O'Rourke who helps people in trouble. In the pilot episode, O'Rourke comes to the rescue of a Chinese woman and her daughter who are being sought by a Chinese general. Broadcast as a segment of The Kraft Suspense Theater.

4296 Junior Almost Anything Goes. (Series; Game; ABC; 1976–1977). A children's version of Almost Anything Goes that features three four-member teams competing in outrageous outdoor games for prizes.

Host: Soupy Sales. Commentator: Eddie Alexander.

4297 Junior High Jinks. (Series; Game; CBS; 1952). The program features the antics of Willie the Worm, the puppet of ventriloquist Warren Wright. The series, which ran from March 2, 1952 to May 25, 1952, also showcases comedy shorts from the 1920s and 1930s.

Host: Warren Wright.

4298 Junior Miss. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 12/30/57). A proposed series about Judy Graves, an imaginative teenage girl with a knack for involving herself in and attempting to solve the problems of others. In the pilot episode, Judy mistakenly believes her father is having an affair with his employer's daughter (Ellen) and sets out to resolve the situation by setting Ellen up with another man — her Uncle Willis. Other Regulars: Judy's parents, Harry and Grace; Judy's sister, Lois; Judy's friend, Fuffy; and J.B., Harry's employer.

Cast: Carol Lynley (Judy Graves), Don Ameche (Harry Graves), Joan Bennett (Grace Graves), Jill St. John (Lois Graves), Susanne Sidney (Fuffy Adams), David Wayne (Uncle Willis Reynolds), Paul Ford (J.B. Curtis), Diana Linn (Ellen Curtis).

4299 Junior Rodeo. (Series; Children; ABC; 1952). A program of games, music and songs geared to children. The series, which produced five episodes, ran from November 15, 1952 to December 13, 1952.

Host: Bob Atcher. Regular: Valerie Alberts.

4300 The Jury. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2004). A failed attempt to present a twist on typical lawyer programs. Instead of focusing on the actual court case, the program goes behind the scenes to look at what transpires in the jury deliberation room. While the jury ponders the facts in a capital case, flashbacks are used to reveal the particulars of the case in question. After the jury reaches its decision and the verdict is revealed, the concluding aspects of the actual case is shown. The series ran from June 8, 2004 to August 6, 2004.

Cast: Billy Burke (John Ranguso), Adam Busch (Steve Dixon), Cote de Pablo (Marguerite Cisneros), Anna Friel (Megan Delaney), Shalom Harlow (Melissa Greenfield), Jeffrey Hephner (Keenan O'Brien).

4301 Just a Couple Guys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 12/14/79). A proposed spin-off from The Rockford Files about Eugene and Mickey, two klutzy New Jersey punks, who are desperately trying to break into the rackets. In the pilot episode, titled "The Jersey Bounce," Eugene and Mickey enlist the aid of a reformed mob boss to get in — and become involved in a local Mafia war.

Cast: Greg Antonacci (Eugene), Gene Davis (Mickey). Guest Cast: Gilbert Green (Joseph Lombard), Anthony Pronzini (Tony DeMichel), Lisa Donaldson (Renee Lombard), Simon Oakland (Beppy).

4302 Just Cause. (Series; Crime Drama; PAX; 2002). Alexandra DeMonaco is a young woman seeking to begin a new life. She has just been released from prison after serving three years of a five year sentence for insurance fraud. During her time at the Mendocino's Women's Prison, Alexandra, called Alex, studied law via Bay City college's internet program. Although Alex acquired her degree, she is a felon and is thus unable to practice law.

Alex was framed but she can't prove it. Alex was working as the office manager for her husband, a lawyer. Unknown to Alex, her husband was working with unethical doctors to defraud insurance companies. When an investigation into her husband's business affairs showed that Alex had manipulated the books, she was arrested and her husband disappeared, taking their daughter with him. Alex decided to use her time in prison to become a lawyer to help people.

Burdick, Whitney and Morgan is a prestigious San Francisco law firm. It is here that Alex hopes to find a job and get her name cleared by a pardon from the governor. Her meeting with senior partner Hamilton Whitney III nets her a job as his researcher when he becomes impressed by her enthusiasm. “I want to become a lawyer to help people who need help,” Alex tells him, “not to make rich clients richer.” But Whitney is doubtful he can have her case overturned, which would allow her to practice law, due to a lack of evidence.

Alex is not your typical researcher or paralegal. She is a bright and determined woman with the mind of a detective. Her enthusiasm and sleuthing skills immediately change Whitney’s way of thinking when Alex proves two cases of corporate suicide were actually murder. Whitney feels his life has changed in another way also: he changes the focus of the law firm from civil litigation to criminal defense when he realizes the true meaning of Alex’s words.

Alex was a model prisoner and has been released on parole. She was born in East Los Angeles and attended Roosevelt High School. In prison she worked kitchen detail and says, “I developed a talent for reading people.” Although she is not supposed to associate with felons, Alex does break parole by visiting her prison friends for help in solving crimes. She likes to do her own detective work but becomes too emotionally involved in cases.

Alex, called Miss DeMonaco by Whitney, believes her boss is rich and stuck up as he appears to be all work and no play. Whitney, a graduate of Harvard Law School, has an undergraduate degree in Asiatic languages.

Whitney comes from a family of professionals: his father was a surgeon; his uncle, the author of a book called Just Cause, was a criminal lawyer. Whitney will not violate a court order (“I have a code of ethics”). He loves San Francisco and hates to see it dragged through the mud. He says of Alex, “She’s a bully. She won’t listen. She irritates the hell out of me.” He also believes her emotions cloud her judgment. Whitney says of his career, “I like fishing, but I throw the little ones back. I like to wade out deep and catch the big ones.” Whitney has been married three times and maintains a working relationship with his third wife, Rebecca, an FBI agent whom he met when she interrogated him during a case.

Cast: Elizabeth Lackey (Alexandra DeMonaco), Richard Thomas (Hamilton Whitney III), Shaun Heller (Shaun Benson), Roger R. Cross (C.J. Leon), Khairia Ledeyo (Peggy Tran), Mark Hildreth (Ted Kasselbaum).

4303 Just Deal. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2000–2002). The fictional town of Beachwood, Washington, is the setting for a dramatic look at the events that spark the lives of three teenage friends — Dylan Roberts, Ashley Gordon (called Ash) and Jermaine Green.

Just Deal premiered on September 23, 2000 and became part of NBC’s Saturday morning teen block of shows called T-NBC (which included Saved By the Bell, One World, Hang Time and All About Us). With the exception of Skate, which mixed comedy with light drama, Just Deal was all drama and departed from the T-NBC style. Surprisingly, it became a hit but by the fall of 2002, when NBC dropped its T-NBC (in favor of Discover Kids on NBC) Just Deal was also cancelled.

Other Regulars: Mike and Colleen Roberts, Dylan’s parents; Mike, Jr., Dylan’s older brother; Mandy, Mike Jr.’s girlfriend; and Naomi, Hunter and Kim, other friends of Ashley.

Cast: Joel Grey (Michael Price), Jane Leeves (Amy). Guest Cast: Joan Severance (Libby Sinclair), Morgan Fairchild (Mona), Tim Reid (Scott Waring).

4305 Just for Laughs. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2007–). An extreme version of Candid Camera that pulls very elaborate practical jokes on unsuspecting people. Their reactions, caught by hidden cameras, is the focal point of the program. The program addresses itself as “The biggest hidden camera show.” “We’ve hidden cameras where you least expect them — just for laughs.”

Host: Rick Miller.

4306 Just in Time. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1988). The West Coast Review, “California’s Monthly Magazine,” was established in 1967 and is based in a skyscraper at 133 Wilshire Boulevard. When its rival, California Magazine, begins to show an increase in circulation (to 350,000 copies) and Review’s numbers begin to fall drastically, management hires Harry Stadlin, the editor of Chicago Magazine, to turn their publication around.

His assignment (which he has six months to accomplish): make the revamped West Coast, “California's Weekly Magazine," a success. Stories follow his efforts and his romantic relationship with Joanna Gail Farrell, the magazine's beautiful, vibrant and free spirited columnist-reporter. See also the 1987 version of It Had to Be You.

Isabel Miller is the art department director, and Carlie Hightower is the magazine's gossip columnist. The La Crosse is the local bar-restaurant hang-out.

Cast: Tim Matheson (Harry Stadlin), Patricia Kalember (Joanna Farrell), Nada Despotovich (Isabel Miller), Ronnie Claire Edwards (Carlie Hightower).

4307 Just Jordan. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2007). Borrowing slightly from the concept of Disney's Hannah Montana (about a transplanted teenager) Just Jordan focuses on Justin Lewis, a 16-year-old from Little Rock, Arkansas, who must readjust to life when his single mother, Pamela, relocates the family to California, to live with her father, Grant. Stories follow Jordan as he encounters the everyday 1950s-like television kid adventures (wholesome and clean) with his friends Joaquin and Tony.

Monica is Jordan's sister; Tangie is Jordan's cousin; Tamika is the girl on whom Jordan has a crush but is too shy to do anything but keep it a personal secret. Jordan works part time at the diner (Papa Grant's Fresh 'n Grill) owned by his grandfather.

Cast: James "Lil' JJ" Lewis (Jordan Lewis), Shania Accius (Pamela Lewis), Kristen Combs (Monica Lewis), Beau Billingslea (Grant Cunningham), Raven Goodwin (Tangie Cunningham), Eddy Martin (Joaquin Montez), Justin Chon (Tony Lee), Chelsea Harris (Tamika Newsome).

4308 Just Legal. (Series; Crime Drama; WB; 2005–2006). Grant Cooper is a down on his luck criminal defense attorney with a drinking problem. He is cynical but once he gets involved in a case he does what it takes to win.

David Ross, called Skip (for skipping grades in school) is an 18-year-old prodigy and lawyer who, because of his age, is unable to acquire a job with a law firm (they find he is too young). Skip feels his age is a plus because it gives him the time to become what he wants — a trial lawyer "because every great cause in this country was fought by trial lawyers."

Skip is a graduate of U.C.L.A. and is first seen as a caddy for Grant (exactly how they know each other is not really explained). When Grant learns of Skip's dilemma he takes him on as a partner to give him a taste of the legal profession. The two become an odd couple-like team and stories follow their cases as they defend clients with little money and nowhere else to turn.

Grant seeks press for his cases but he can never seem to get it (he hopes the publicity will put him on the map). Grant was a great trial lawyer with a big ego. During a cop beating case, Grant was accused of bribing a witness — a false fact he couldn't disprove and it cost him his career. Skip is, as he says, "an up with people guy." He likes to do things by the book — something he can't always do because Grant believes that to win a case you sometimes have to make bad deals. Working with Grant contradicts everything Skip learned in law school. Dulcinea Real (called Dee) assists Grant and Skip in their one flight up office in California.

Cast: Don Johnson (Grant Cooper), Jay Baruchel (David "Skip" Ross), Jamie Lee Kirchner (Dulcinea "Dee" Real).

4309 Just Life. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 7/26/90). Claire Moreno is divorced (from Joe), the mother of a young girl (Lulu) and a former police officer turned investigator for the Los Angeles District Attorney's Office. The unsold series was to relate Claire's case investigations. In the pilot episode, Claire tackles a murder case that implicates two cops who are also friends of hers. David Robbins is the D.A.

Cast: Victoria Principal (Claire Moreno), Alanna Ubach (Lulu Moreno), Nicholas Surovy (David Robbins), Joe Cortese (Joe Moreno). Guest Cast: Vernee Watson (Mrs. Johnson), Frantz Turner (Teddy), Jerry Hauck (Rick), Michele Lamar Richards (Madelyn), Danna Hansen (Mother Superior), Montrose Hagins (Mrs. Lords).

4310 Just Married. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/10/85). Shortly after Linda Shaughnessy and Michael "Mikey" Altobello marry, they find a glitch in their happiness via Linda's father, Jake, who believes that Mikey, a construction worker, is not worthy of his little girl. The unsold series was to relate the newlyweds' struggles to make their marriage work despite Jake's constant interference. In the pilot episode, Mikey tries to impress Jake by buying Linda a gorgeous new couch for her birthday — a present he can't afford. Other Regulars: Doreen and Buddy, Linda's neighbors.

Cast: Gail Edwards (Linda Altobello), Paul Reiser (Mikey Altobello), Barton Heyman (Jake Shaughnessy), Kathleen Wilhoite (Doreen Banasack), Matt Craven (Buddy Banasack). Guest Cast: Joel Brooks (Mitchell), Will Nye (Jim), Tony Longo (Bob).

4311 Just Men. (Series; Game; NBC; 1983). Two female contestants compete; seven male celebrities appear. The object calls for the contestants to predict, with a yes or no answer, how the celebrities will respond to specific questions asked of them (for example, "Are you a grouch in the morning?"). A player chooses a celebrity and is permitted to indirectly interview him. After 60 seconds she must give her prediction. The celebrity reveals his "yes" or "no" card. If the contestant is correct, she receives a set of car keys possessed by that celebrity. The player with the most sets of car keys is the winner and receives the opportunity to win a new car. The player selects one of the sets of car keys that she has won and uses it to start a car that appears on stage. If the car starts, she wins the car; if not, she returns to compete again.

Hostess: Betty White.

Cast: Tiffani-Amber Thiessen (Allison Morgan), Leah Remini (Didi DiConcini), T.C. Warner (Patti Hale), Michael Landes (Rob McGuire), Caroline McWilliams (Dorothy Loomis), Diane Delano (Margaret Dezell).

4313 Just Our Luck. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1983–1984). While jogging on the beach of Venice, California, Keith Barrow, a weatherman (later roving reporter) for the KPOX-TV, Channel 6 news program, bumps into a souvenir stand and cracks an odd-looking green bottle, which he is forced to buy (“You break it — you pay for it”). Later, at home, Keith’s pet cat knocks the bottle off the table and breaks it. From the debris there emerges Shabu, a genie who becomes Keith’s slave — and is able to grant him any wish. The I Dream of Jeannie rip off follows Shabu’s adventures, having spent 196 years in the bottle, in the 1980s as he struggles to please his new master.

Other Regulars: Meagan Huxley, the KPOX-TV program director; Nelson Marriott, the station manager; Professor Bob, the weatherman; Chuck, Shabu’s friend; Jim Dexter, the newscaster; The Bag Lady (in program open who sells Keith the bottle).

Cast: T.K. Carter (Shabu), Richard Gilliland (Keith Barrow), Ellen Maxted (Meagan Huxley), Rod McCary (Nelson Marriott), Hamilton Camp (Professor Bob), Richard Schaal (Chuck), Leonard Simon (Jim Dexter), Connie Sawyer (Bag Lady).

4314 Just Plain Folks. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/5/56). The “Just Plain Folks” are Cy Howard, a successful Hollywood writer who is married to a beautiful Hungarian actress named Zsa Zsa. The unsold series was to relate Cy’s home and show business life. In the pilot episode, Zsa Zsa jeopardizes Cy’s sale of a movie script by telling newspaper columnists she’ll be playing the lead, not Grace Kelly (whom Cy wants).

Cast: Cy Howard (Cy), Zsa Zsa Gabor (Zsa Zsa), Nelson Case (Host-Narrator). Also: George Baxter, Steve Bekassy, Sandra Rogers, Norma Varden.

4315 Just Say Julie. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 1989–1992). A potpourri series created, written, co-produced and starring comedienne Julie Brown. There is no real storyline to speak of; the format has Julie displaying her comedic genius (on her theme shows, like “The Julie Awards” and “How to Be Cool”), introducing music videos (it is MTV), interviewing celebrities or music artists (also poking fun at them) and her recurring commentary envisioning singer Bon Jovi is her fiancé.

Host: Julie Brown. Regulars: Paul Brown, Stacy Harris, Charlie Coffey, Larry Poindexter.

4316 Just Shoot Me. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997–2003). Jack Gallo is the owner of Blush, a fashion magazine based in Manhattan. Jack claims Blush was the first magazine to encourage women to express their sexuality; to encourage them to “drop their mops and pick up a briefcase” and the first magazine to give a voice to female politicians. Most women, however, believe Blush treats women like trophies.

Jack began Blush in 1967 and runs it like his blood type—B-positive. He is married to Allie, a woman 30 years his junior, and is the father of Hannah (neither are seen). He is divorced from his first wife, Eve, and the father of Maya (a result of that marriage). Jack is a big kid at heart, loves electronic gadgets and has a racehorse named Tax Dodge.

Maya is the articles editor for Blush (she previously worked as a writer for Channel 8 news). She tutors children in her spare time, finds video games exciting and believes people see her as “a straight-laced, uptight school teacher.” “But I’m not,” she says, “I like to have fun.” Maya was born on January 1 and as a kid was called “Crisco” by schoolmates “because I was fat in the can.” She attended the Westbridge School and majored in Shakespeare in college. She appeared in 10 productions and named the family cat Othello.

Assisting Jack is Dennis Finch, a schemer who sees his job as an opportunity to meet beautiful models. Dennis, born in Albany, New York, is a yuppie. Jack sees his magazine as his castle and Dennis as his gargoyle. Dennis writes the advice column “Dear Miss Pretty,” collects old TV action figures (for the money he can get for them) and ceramic kits (which he loves and saves).

He previously worked as a gift wrapper at Bloomingdale's and spends his spare time "thinking of women's breasts and bottoms." He has "a gift" for hearing certain words (like "nude" and "sex") from great distances. Dennis believes he works hard, gets little pay, and is given no respect.

Nina Van Horn is the fashion editor for Blush. Her real name is Claire Noodleman and she was a top model of the 1970s and '80s (her big break came when she was discovered modeling hats in Boston). She has appeared on the covers of such magazines as Vogue, Redbook, Blush and Mademoiselle. She appeared on Jeopardy (celebrity week), The Bionic Woman (as a Fembot), Wake Up, New York (giving makeup advice) and Cops ("but you can't see me; they pushed my face in the grass"). She was the spokesperson for Noxema Skin Creme and auditioned for a TV commercial for Simple Time Stuffing (as a homemaker; she was rejected for not being motherly enough). Nina is allergic to peanut butter ("my lips swell up") and grew up on a farm where she was called "The Horse Calmer Downer" (she calmed horses during storms). Nina, voted Model of the Year in 1974, bases her entire life on her looks (which she fears losing) and believes casual wear is ruining society ("adults should wear sophisticated clothes").

Elliott DeMoreau is the head photographer for Blush. He attended Hawthorne High School in New Jersey and was working as a street photographer when Jack hired him. He and Nina are constantly at odds and seem to have only one thing in common — an old blues singer named Cholera Joe Hopper (who had such "hits" as "A Pebble in My One Good Shoe," "Chin Hair Mama" and "Swollen Glands").

4317 Just the Ten of Us. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1988–1990). A spin-off from Growing Pains. Graham Lubbock, the former coach at Dewey High School on Long Island (New York), is now the athletic director and coach of the Hippos football team at Saint Augustine's, a Catholic high school for boys in Eureka, California. Graham is married to Elizabeth and is the father of eight children (Marie, Cindy, Wendy, Connie, Sherry, J.R. and twins Harvey and Michelle). They have a dog named Hooter and a milk cow named Diane.

Elizabeth, a deeply religious Catholic, met Graham at a C.Y.O. (Catholic Youth Organization) mixer, and they fell in love at first sight. They married in 1970. Marie, Wendy, Cindy and Connie formed a sexy singing group called the Lubbock Babes (who perform regularly at Danny's Pizza Parlor). Graham is overweight and constantly nagged by Elizabeth to go on a diet. Elizabeth does volunteer work at the food bank, and, for a short time, Graham held a second job as a counter boy at Burger Barn.

Marie is 18 years old and very religious (she is hoping to become a nun). She is also very attractive and boy-shy and hides her obvious beauty behind glasses and loose fitting clothes. Her first job was cooking and serving food at the Eureka Mission. In one episode, Marie began her career as a nun by taking a two-week seminar at Saint Bartholomew's Convent.

Wendy, 17, the most beautiful of the Lubbock girls, is boy-crazy and appears totally self-absorbed (although she'll secretly help one of her sisters in a crisis). Although she acts like a bimbo — her ploy to attract the opposite sex — she is deeply hurt when called one.

Cindy, 16, the beautiful but not too bright Lubbock Babe, is as boy-crazy as Wendy — but is also constantly in a dither about everything else. Cindy has a slight weight problem and is a member of the Diet Control Clinic. She had her own radio show (over KHPO, "The Voice of Saint Augie's") called What's Happening, Saint Augie's and her first job was as the receptionist at the Eureka Fitness Center.

Connie is fifteen years old, pretty, very intelligent and the most sensitive of the girls. While not as boy-shy as Marie, she is quite intimidated by Wendy and Cindy, feels she has small breasts and will never attract "hunks" as do Cindy and Wendy. Connie, who hopes to become a journalist, is a writer for the school newspaper, Saint Augie's Herald-Gazette; her first job was sweeping animal entrails at the MacGregor slaughterhouse.

Sherry, the youngest of the girls before Michelle's birth, is 11 years old and the most intelligent of the girls. She strives for excellent grades, and although she should be in grammar school she is seen attending Saint Augustine's (an exception to the all-boy rule was made to allow the Lubbock girls to attend). Sherry is constantly amazed by the antics of her sisters and has trouble believing Cindy and Wendy are related to her. In later episodes, Sherry wants to be like Wendy "and live on the wild side" (she smokes cigarettes and brags about wearing a training bra to get attention).

J.R. (Graham Lubbock, Jr.) is the older male child. He attends Saint Augustine's, loves horror movies, peanut butter and playing practical jokes on his sisters. There is no information on the infants, Harvey and Michelle, except that only Harvey is credited (Jason Korstjens).

Father Robert Hargis is the priest in charge of Saint Augustine's, and Janitor Bob is the strange ex-con custodian at school.

Relatives: Manfred Melcher (Robert's nephew, Damien). Flashbacks: Taylor Fry (young Marie), Robyn Faye Bookland (young Wendy), Hartley Haverty (young Cindy).

Cast: Bill Kirchenbauer (Graham Lubbock), Deborah Harmon (Elizabeth Lubbock), Heather Langenkamp (Marie Lubbock), Jamie Luner (Cindy Lubbock), Brooke Theiss (Wendy Lubbock), JoAnn Willett (Connie Lubbock), Heidi Zeigler (Sherry Lubbock), Matt Shakman (J.R. Lubbock), Frank Bonner (Father Robert Hargis), Sid Haig (Janitor Bob), Lou Richards (Father Bud), Maxine Elliott Hicks (Sister Ethel). Theme Vocal: "Doin' It the Best I Can" by Bill Medley.

4318 Justice. (Live Test Program; Drama; ABC; 4/12/53). The pilot episode for the 1954–56 NBC series of the same title that dramatizes files based on the Legal Aid Society. In the pilot episode, an impoverished wife seeks the society's help when she learns that her husband is being blackmailed.

Cast: John Lehine (Judge), Lee Grant (Wife), Paul Douglas (Husband). Commentator: Judge Leonard Hand.

4319 Justice. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1954–1956). Richard Adams and Jason Tyler are attorneys for the Legal Aid Society in New York City. Stories relate their case investigations as they seek the facts to help people who are unable to afford legal representation. The series "is based on official records of poor people in need of help."

4320 Justice. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2006). Trott, Nicholson, Tuller and Graves is a prestigious Los Angeles law firm that specializes in high profile crime cases especially those that garner much media attention.

Ron Trott is a senior, media-seeking partner; Tom Nicholson is the partner called "The Face of the Not Guilty" (he sincerely believes all the firm's clients are innocent); Luther Graves is the African-American member of the team, the man who appears to keep Ron and Tom in line; Alden Tucker, the only female partner, is a no nonsense girl who is totally dedicated to uncovering the truth — even if it means their clients are actually guilty.

Ron, who appears to be the man pulling all the strings, and his team are brilliant trial lawyers. Ron feels the media attention not only makes them look good, but also adds to the power of the firm. Ron and his team know what works — and how to work it. They also push the limits of the law — to stay within the law while not actually breaking it to help a client.

Unlike other lawyer programs that have been broadcast, Justice is more like a behind-the-scenes look at the cases and follows the defense attorneys from jury selection to the media spin. Shown here is the trial prep, the meticulous document research work, how mock juries are conducted, and how computer graphics are used to help the team recreate the crime. The program begins with a crime then follows through with the investigation. The last few minutes of each episode shows the viewer what the jury never saw — what really happened (and whether the firm defended a guilty or innocent client).

Ron, as previously mentioned, likes media attention — and he gets it most often from Suzanne Fulcrum, the anchor of a cable show called American Crime, a live newscast that thoroughly covers the cases of the firm of TNT&G.

Cast: Victor Garber (Ron Trott), Rebecca Mader (Alden Tuller), Eamonn Walker (Luther Graves), Kerr Smith (Tom Nicholson), Katherine LaNasa (Suzanne Fulcrum).

4321 Justice of the Peace. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/30/59). The story of Mark Johnston, a small town justice of the peace. In the pilot episode, Johnston faces the wrath of an escaped mental patient who is determined to kill him for putting him away. Broadcast as "The Vengeance" on The David Niven Theater (Justice of the Peace was the proposed series title).

Cast: Dan Duryea (Mark Johnston), Dorothy Green (Ellen Johnston; Mark's wife), Adam Williams (Patient), Tol Avery, Wright King.

4322 Justin Case. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/15/88). When Jennifer Spalding, an unemployed actress, applies for a secretarial position with private detective Justin Case, she discovers his body on the floor and promptly meets his ghost, who has only one question on his mind — who killed him? With Jennifer's help, Justin finds his killer and decides to remain on earth as a ghostly detective. The unsold series was to relate Jennifer's adventures as the partner of a ghost who appears and speaks only to her.

4323 Juvenile Jury. (Series; Children; NBC; CBS; 1947–1955). The program features a panel of five children answering questions or giving their opinions on questions or problems submitted by home viewers or presented by studio audience members. The panelists listed below are some of the better-known children who have appeared. The series, based on the radio program of the same title, ran on NBC from April 3, 1947 to October 3, 1953; on CBS from October 11, 1953 to September 14, 1954; and on CBS from January 2, 1955 to March 27, 1955.

Host: Jack Barry. Panelists: Robin Morgan, Johnny McBride, Elizabeth Mae Watson, Charlie Hankinson, Peggy Bruder, Dickie Orlan, Angela Bell, Jeff Silver, Paul Jackson, Veronique DeAllo, Sean Masterson, Ricky Cordell, Monique Althouse, Glenna Sargent, Christine Hare, Bobby Hull, Wayne Chestnut, Melanie Freeman, Douglas Stewart, Curtis Helm, Melanie Fogel.

4324 K-9. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 7/6/91). After Jack Bergen, an officer with the L.A.P.D. loses a collar, he is given a partner — a German Shepherd named Jerry Lee. The unsold series was to relate Jake and the dog's efforts to ferret out criminals. In the pilot episode, they seek to break up an auto theft ring.

Other Regulars: Lieutenant Emmett Broussard, Jack's superior; and Margaret Slate, Jack's neighbor, a pastry chef at a restaurant called Le Petit Giraffe.

Cast: Robert Carradine (Jack Bergen), Jason Bernard (Emmett Broussard), Lisa Darr (Margaret Slate). Guest Cast: Ken Force (Larry), George Waggrowski (Simon), Scott Casey (Ray), Vicki Rice (Monica), Bill Moser (Bart), Stuart Zolley (Sergeant Paultz), Kelly Jeris (Coed).

4325 K-9 and Company. (Pilot; Science Fiction; Syn.; 8/85). A proposed spin-off from Doctor Who that teams Sarah Jane Smith, one of the Doctor's beautiful assistants, with K-9, the Doctor's mechanical dog.

Shortly after Sarah Jane and the Doctor part company, Sarah Jane returns to work as a journalist. Some time later, when Sarah Jane visits her Aunt Lavinia, she learns that a large crate has been waiting for her. Upon opening it, she discovers the contents to be K-9, a present from the Doctor. The unsold series was to relate their experiences as they team to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Sarah Jane investigates the mysterious disappearance of her aunt and uncovers a local devil worship cult.

4326 K-9000. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced for Fox in 1989). In an attempt to battle crime, the L.A.P.D. commissions Aja, a beautiful British scientist to create Niner, a cloned German Shepherd with a computer-enhanced brain. Niner and Aja are assigned to Detective Eddie Monroe and the unsold series was to relate their battle against crime.

Cast: Catherine Oxenberg (Aja), Chris Mulkey (Eddie Monroe).

4327 K Street. (Series; Reality; HBO; 2003). A ten-episode series, promoted as "a combination reality and semi-improvised comedy-drama that takes viewers behind the scenes" to detail the lives of the political consultants with the firm of Bergstrom and Lowell on K Street in Washington D.C.

The main characters are James Carville and Mary Matalin, image specialists who interact with actual political figures (who appear in fictional stories). Tommy Flannigan is James's aide; Fran Cisco Dupre is the firm's newest "oddball" employee; Bergstrom is the reclusive employee who attaches himself to Caville; Maggie Morris is Mary's assistant.

Cast: James Carville (James Carville), Mary Matalin (Mary Matalin), Roger Guenveur (Francisco Dupre), Mary McCormack (Maggie Morris), Elliott Gould (Bergstrom), Jennice Fuentes (Woman in Red), John Slattery (Tommy Flanagan).

4328 K-Ville. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2007). The series is based on a real incident (Hurricane Katrina) and real incidents (the rising crime rate in a city ripped apart by the storm). It is now two years after Katrina and New Orleans is still a city in chaos. Stories follow the work of determined and dedicated police officers as they struggle to uphold the law and help rebuild their inner city.

Marlin Boulet is a member of the department's Felony Action Squad, a specialized unit that targets the worst offenders. Marlin is totally dedicated to his job. In the face of the hurricane he stood his ground, doing all he could to help where he could.

Trevor Cobb, a former soldier (deployed to Afghanistan) is Marlin's partner (an unlikely pair as Trevor is still troubled by the fighting he experienced and is now seeking redemption). Marlin has his own methods of dealing with criminals but Trevor cannot always accept his gung ho tactics.

Malcolm is married to Anaya and is the father of a young daughter (Tawni). He believes New Orleans (now called K-Ville; short for Katrinaville) can rebound and he is determined to see that it does.

Trevor grew up in New Orleans and served with the Army Rangers before returning home to become a cop. Trevor was introduced with a mysterious past (it is not known exactly who he is). It is later revealed that Trevor was a felon (arrested for drug possession) and imprisoned. The prison flooded during Katrina. Trevor escaped and to disappear (hoping all criminal files were destroyed by the flood waters) he joined the army (how he became a Ranger in so short a period of time and still serve in Afghanistan is not explained). Trevor thought his past was behind him and he returned to the city of his birth. Marlin, however, salvaged some criminal case files.

Among them was Trevor's file. Although Marlin reveals to Trevor that he knows who he really is, he chooses to give him a second chance and destroys the file.

Also part of the team is Ginger "Love Tap" Le Beau, Jeff "Glue Boy" Gooden and James Embry, their captain. The series, which is shot on location, follows the squad's efforts to do what the federal government apparently can't — bring New Orleans back to life.

Cast: Anthony Anderson (Marlin Boulet), Cole Hauser (Trevor Cobb), Tawny Cypress (Ginger LeBeau), Blake Shields (Jeff Gooden), John Carroll Lynch (James Embry), Elise Neal (Anaya Boulet), Jiya Fowler (Tawni Boulet).

4329 Kablam! (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1996–2000). An animated anthology series hosted by the animated characters Henry and June. While various cartoon shorts comprise the bulk of the series, several segments became regular features. These are Prometheus and Bob (about an alien's efforts to educate a caveman); Life with Loopy (about a teenager who tells tall tales); Sniz and Fondue (antics of two wombats); and Action League Now! (action figure toys come to life to battle evil via stop motion photography).

Voice Cast: Julia McIlvaine (June), Noah Segan (Henry), Burt Pence (Announcer).

4330 The Kaiser Aluminum Hour. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1956–1957). A series of dramatic presentations that feature both well known and lesser-known personalities. The series, which ran from July 3, 1956 to June 18, 1957, alternates with The Armstrong Circle Theater, The 20th Century–Fox Hour and Playwright's '56. Kaiser Aluminum sponsors the series.

Performers Include: Eli Wallach, Gaby Rogers, Andrew Duggan, Barton MacLane, Nancy Kelly, Bert Freed, Ann Shoemaker, Claude Rains, Alexander Scourby, Marisa Pavan, Roland Winters, Henry Hull, Natalie Wood, Dennis Hopper, Robert Sterling, Geraldine Brooks, Paul Newman, Joanne Linville, Roddy McDowall, Nancy Coleman, Forrest Tucker, Franchot Tone, Albert Salmi, Kim Hunter, Jan Sterling, June Lockhart, Nanette Fabray, Gene Nelson, Jacqueline Scott.

4331 The Kallikaks. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1977). In an attempt to find a better life, Jasper T. Kallikak, Sr., his wife, Venus, and their children, Bobbi Lou and Jasper, Jr., leave their home in Appalachia and migrate to Nowhere, California, to become the new owners of a run-down two-pump gas station. Stories focuses on their efforts to run the gas station. Oscar is Jasper's mechanic.

Cast: David Huddleston (Jasper T. Kallikak, Sr.), Edie McClurg (Venus Kallikak), Bonnie Ebsen

(Bobbi Lou Kallikak), Patrick J. Petersen (Jasper T. Kallikak, Jr.), Peter Palmer (Oscar Heinz). Theme Vocal: "Beat the System" by Roy Clark.

4332 Kama Sutra. (Series; Anthology; Cinemax; 2002). A soft core pornography series that presents sexually oriented stories as told by Dalia, a Madame whose house of ill repute offers the viewer a glimpse into the sexual fantasies people have. The series is produced by Rebecca Lord, a hardcore adult film actress, and sex star Tamara Landry (Dalia) seems a bit uneasy in her role (gorgeous and sexy, but not convincing). Casts and stories vary.

Cast: Tamara Landry (Dalia).

4333 Kangaroos in the Kitchen. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/25/82). The Apartment at 140 Cambridge Street in New York City is home to Ginny Provost, an animal talent scout, and her array of pets: Dagmar (Great Dane), Mickey (chimpanzee), Dolly (llama), Sidney (kangaroo) and Ramone (parrot). The unsold series was to relate Ginny's misadventures as she tries to find the right animals for the right show business jobs. The pilot episode relates Ginny's efforts to save her animals from eviction when a neighbor's complaint brings about a court hearing. Based on the book Kangaroos in the Kitchen: The Story of Animal Talent Scouts by Lorraine D'Essen. Other Regulars: Richard, Ginny's husband, a lawyer; and Lila, Ginny's assistant.

Cast: Lauralee Bruce (Ginny Provost), Sam Freed (Richard Provost), Peggy Pope (Lila). Guest Cast: Meeno Peluce (Kenneth Beckley), Nancy Andrews (Mrs. Burgess), Fred Stuthman (Judge), Martin Ferrero (Attorney).

4334 The Karate Kid. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1989–1990). An animated adaptation of the feature film of the same title. Here a karate master (Miyagi Yakuga) and his students (Daniel and Taki) travel around the world to battle injustice through the use of their martial arts skills.

Voice Cast: Robert Ito (Miyagi Yakuga), Joey Dedio (Daniel), Janice Kawaye (Taki), John Stephenson, Brian Tochi, Danny Cooksey.

4335 Karen. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1964–1965). Karen Scott is a beautiful 16-year-old girl with an uncontrollable penchant for mischief (she doesn't go looking for it but it seems that no matter what she does, something always goes wrong and she winds up in hot water).

Karen first lives at 90 Bristol Court (in Southern California) then at 437 Maple Lane in Los Angeles with her parents (Steve and Barbara) and younger sister Mimi. Karen is very bright although her grades sometimes suffer because she does not apply herself. She likes boys but does not go crazy over them. Karen has aspirations to become an actress and, despite the crazy things she does, the parents of her friends feel she is wholesome and are glad their children are friends with her (it's one less thing for them to worry about).

Karen attends Beverly High School and is best friends with Candy, Janis, Spider and David. Candy and Janis believe "Karen has a natural beauty that attracts boys" (which she does but she is not always comfortable meeting boys who are only attracted to her because of her looks). Steve is a lawyer and he and Barbara do punish Karen for her hi jinks — "It's only fair," Steve says.

Mimi, who is not as unpredictable as Karen, often sides with Karen when she does something wrong and calls her parent's punishing her "being mean to her." Mimi attends Beverly Junior High and is more of a homebody than Karen. Mrs. Rowe is the Scott's housekeeper.

The series originally aired as a segment of 90 Bristol Court (October 5, 1964 to January 4, 1965) and as a series of its own from January 11, 1965 to September 6, 1965.

Cast: Debbie Watson (Karen Scott), Richard Denning (Steve Scott), Mary LaRoche (Barbara Scott), Gina Gillespie (Mimi Scott), Grace Albertson (Mrs. Rowe), Guy Raymond (Cliff Murdock; the handyman), Trudi Ames (Candy), Bernadette Winters (Janis), Murray MacLeod (Spider), Richard Dreyfuss (David), Josephine Hutchinson (Karen's grandmother). Theme Vocal: "Karen" by The Beach Boys.

4336 Karen. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1975). Karen Angelo is a young woman with a deep determination to help other people. It started when she was a child (although the most she could ever do was help her mother around the house) but the feeling stayed with her through her grammar school and high school years. When Karen attended college (Berkeley) she joined every committee that was involved with helping others. She even protested for what she thought was wrong (and was even taken into custody for doing so). This, however, did not discourage her. After graduating, she applied for a position with Open America, a citizens lobby in Washington, D.C. While not the ideal job (she is hired as a staff worker) she feels that it is one step in the right direction — a direction that she hopes will lead her to make a significant change in the world. Stories follow Karen as she attempts to meet the political needs of the people of her community.

Dale W. Bush is the stern, no-nonsense founder of Open America (he demands results when his people go out and lobby). Karen lives at 1460 Cambridge Street. Cissy Peterson is Karen's roommate; Dena Madison and Adam Coopersmith are staff workers for Open America; Jerry Siegel is a tenant in Karen's rooming house; Cheryl is Jerry's wife; Senator Bob Hartford is Karen's friend; Ernie is another friend of Karen's.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Karen Angelo), Denver Pyle (Dale W. Bush; pilot), Charles Lane (Dale W. Bush; series), Dena Dietrich (Dean Madison), Aldine King (Cissy Peterson), Will Selzer (Adam Cooperman), Oliver Clark (Jerry Siegel), Alix Elias (Cheryl Siegel), Edward Winter (Senator Bob Hartford), Joseph Stone (Ernie), Liam Dunn (Captain Pike).

4337 Karen Sisco. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2003). Karen Sisco is a beautiful, tough and seductive Miami-based U.S. Marshal. She is stubborn and would like to do things her way — but she has to work with warrants (she can't legally do anything without one). That technicality doesn't always stop her. She does act on her own. She steals evidence from crime scenes — and worries about the consequences — three to five years if she is caught.

Karen's superior is Captain Amos Andrews and she sometimes seeks the help of her father, Marshall Sisco, a private detective who charges $5,000 per case with ten percent up front for expenses. Karen enjoys meals at Angelo's Pizza Parlor and is an expert at poker. She is a graduate of North Central High School. Stories follow Karen as she risks her life to bring criminals to justice.

Cast: Carla Gugino (Karen Sisco), Robert Forster (Marshall Sisco), Bill Duke (Capt. Amos Andrews).

4338 The Karen Valentine Show. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/21/73). Karen Scott is a beautiful Girl Friday to Buddy Loudon, the zany owner of the Buddy Loudon Public Relations Firm in New York City. The unsold series was to relate Karen's misadventures as she seeks ways to publicize the clients Buddy acquires — uninteresting people no other PR firm wants. In the pilot episode, Karen seeks a way to make a team of dull comic strip writers interesting.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Karen Scott), Charles Nelson Reilly (Buddy Loudon). Guest Cast: Kenneth Mars (Eddie), Henry Gibson (Chic), Louis Zorich (Sam), Regis Philbin (Himself).

4339 Karen's Song. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987). Karen Matthews is a beautiful 40-year-old publishing executive for the Dexter Publishing Company. She is divorced from Zach and is the mother of Laura.

Steve Foreman is 28 years old and single. He is the owner of a catering company (A Tasteful Affair) and is dating the older Karen Matthews. Stories present an honest approach to the problems of an older woman-younger man relationship as Karen and Steve struggle to enjoy each other's company despite the objections of family and friends who oppose their relationship.

Other Regulars: Claire, Karen's friend; and Michael, Karen's former lover (after Zach). Suzanne Pleshette was originally cast in the role of Karen when CBS had the project.

Cast: Patty Duke (Karen Matthews), Louis Smith (Steve Foreman), Teri Hatcher (Laura Matthews), Lainie Kazan (Claire Steiner), Granville Van Dusen (Zach Matthews), Charles Levin (Michael Brand).

4340 Kate and Allie. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1984–1989). Katherine (“Kate”) Elizabeth Ann McArdle is the divorced mother of a girl named Emma. Kate was married to Max, an actor who now lives in California.

Allison (“Allie”) Julie Charlotte Adams Lowell is the divorced mother of two children, Jennie and Chip. Allie was married to Charles, a doctor who now resides in Connecticut with his second wife, Claire.

Kate and Allie are longtime friends (they met as kids at the orthodontist’s office) who now share an apartment in New York’s Greenwich Village to save on expenses. Kate works as a travel agent for the Sloane Travel Agency. Kate was a radical during the later 1960s (she attended Woodstock, burned her bra, protested the bomb and participated in sit-ins and college demonstrations).

Allie loves to cook and cares for the kids while Kate works. She attends night classes at Washington Square College and held several part time jobs: bookstore salesclerk, box office cashier at the 9th Street Cinema and volunteer at Channel G, a Manhattan cable station run by a woman named Eddie Gordon (Andrea Martin).

In 1986 Kate and Allie formed their own company, Kate and Allie Caterers, which they operate from their home.

In the episode of 12/11/87, Allie marries former football player Robert (“Bob”) Barsky, a sportscaster for WNTD-TV, Channel 10, in Washington, D.C. (He commutes between New York and Washington and does the 11 O’clock Sports Update.) Allie and Chip move to a new apartment (21C) on West 55th Street; Kate remains for a short time at their old apartment and later moves in with Allie.

Jennie, Allie’s daughter, had an after school job as a waitress at Le Bon Croissant, a French diner. Jennie yearns to dress like Madonna, but Allie won’t let her. While a high school for Jennie is not given, she attends Columbia University in 1987 and lives in dorm room 512.

Emma, Kate’s daughter, attended the same unnamed high school as Jennie and moved to California in 1987 to attend UCLA. She, like Allie, is very obedient, not your typical boy-crazy teenage girl and into fashion and makeup.

Chip, Allie’s son, attends an unnamed grammar school. He has two cats (Iggie and Tristan) and a Sunday morning job delivering bagels to the neighbors; he later opened a pet cemetery in the backyard. Stories relate the events that spark their daily lives.

Relatives: John Heard (Kate’s ex-husband, Max McArdle), Paul Hecht (Allie’s ex-husband, Dr. Charles Lowell), Marian Seldes (Kate’s mother, Marian), Wendie Malick (Charles’s second wife, Claire Lowell), Robert Cornthwaite (Allie’s father, Dr. Ed Adams), Elizabeth Parrish (Bob’s mother, Eileen Barsky), Rosemary Murphy and Scotty Bloch (Allie’s mother, Joan Adams). Flash Forwards: Brad Davidson (adult Chip).

Cast: Susan Saint James (Kate McArdle), Jane Curtin (Allie Lowell), Ari Meyers (Emma McArdle), Allison Smith (Jennie Lowell), Frederick Koehler (Chip Lowell), Sam Freed (Bob Barsky). Theme Vocal: “Along Comes a Friend” by John Leffler.

Cast: Suzanne Pleshette (Kate Bliss). Guest Cast: Tony Randall (Seymour Devery), Don Meredith (Clint Allison), Burgess Meredith (William Blackstone), Harry Morgan (Hugo Peavy), Buck Taylor (Joe), David Huddleston (Sheriff), Alice Hirson (Betty Dozier).

4342 Kate Brasher. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2001). Kate Brasher is 34 years old. She is the single mother of two teenage boys, Daniel and Elvis, and is working two jobs to make ends meet — cleaning woman and waitress at the Club Café in Santa Monica (although the series setting is said to be Los Angeles). One day, when her employer stiffes her, Kate seeks legal advice from Brother’s Keeper, a Legal Aid Society run by Joe DeMatta. When Kate helps with a case (accidentally becoming involved when a speechless woman seeks her help) Joe finds she is a natural and offers her a job as a case worker at $500 a week. Stories follow Kate as she begins a new career helping people and learning about the harsh realities of life.

Also working with Kate is Abbe Schaffer, a lawyer who was formally Joe’s secretary (she spent seven years in law school and it took her two years to pass the bar exam). Kate’s sons attend Westside High School. Kate believes the Bible has the answers to her problems, She opens the book, flips through the pages and lets her finger stop on a page. What she picks usually solves her problem.

4343 Kate Loves a Mystery. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1979). Kate Columbo is the wife of the famed homicide detective, Lieutenant Columbo of the L.A.P.D. On the series Columbo (see entry) Kate was never seen or mentioned by a first name; she was either “The Wife” or “Mrs. Columbo.” Kate was never much of a detective on the Columbo series.

Lt. Columbo would remark that when he and the Mrs. would go to the movies, she would always pick the wrong person as the killer. Kate suddenly inherited her husband’s sleuthing abilities in two short lived series: Mrs. Columbo (February 26 to March 24, 1979) and Kate Loves a Mystery (October 18 to December 6, 1979). In Mrs. Columbo, Kate Columbo lives at 728 Valley Lane in San Fernando, California, with her daughter, Jenny. “My husband” or “The Lieutenant,” as Kate referred to her husband, is never seen; he is always on a case or away on business. Kate works as a writer for the Weekly Advertiser, a “throwaway” newspaper published by Josh Alden. Jenny attends the Valley Elementary School. While hubby is away, Kate looks after his badly in need of repair 1952 Peugeot by driving it on occasion. Kate also cares for Fang, the lazy basset hound who was also called Dog in the Columbo series. Kate studied journalism in college and worked at it for a time before she gave it up for marriage and a family. Six months ago she woke up and asked herself where she was. It was then that she decided she needed to get back in the work force. Although Kate is supposed to cover events like pet shows and garden clubs, she always manages to stumble upon and solve crimes.

When Kate Loves a Mystery premiered, Kate was now divorced and used her maiden name. Kate Columbo was now Kate Callahan and Lili Haydn her daughter, Jenny Callahan. They lived in the same house, had the same dog and Jenny attended the same school. Kate still worked for Josh Alden but at a different paper, the Weekly Advocate, in the San Fernando Valley. Kate still managed to stumble upon crimes, but solved them with the help of her friend, Mike Varrick, a sergeant with the Valley Municipal Police Department.

4344 Kate McShane. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1975). Kate McShane is an uninhibited and unorthodox Irish-American lawyer working out of Los Angeles. She is also fiercely dedicated to her clients and will do what it takes (just pushing the limits of the law) to get satisfaction (not only for her clients but for herself).

Stories follow Kate as she not only defends people but takes an active part in the investigation.

Pat McShane, her father, is also her investigator;

Ed McShane is Kate’s brother, a Jesuit priest; and Julie is Kate’s secretary.

Cast: Anne Meara (Kate McShane), Sean McClory (Pat McShane), Charles Haid (Ed McShane), Rachel Malkin (Julie).

4349 Katie Joplin. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1999). The Katie Joplin Show is a call-in radio program on WLBP-FM (87.5) in Philadelphia. Katie Joplin, a sassy single mother hosts the show. Katie was born in Knoxville, Tennessee. She is separated from her husband, Jerry and is the mother of a teenage son (Greg)

When Katie got fed up with her life in Knoxville (working 16 hours a day in a bottling plant), she chose to begin a new life in Philadelphia. She first worked at the Crescent Corset Company, then at Car City. It was here that Glen, the manager of WLBP became aware of Katie (she was attempting to sell him a car and he became impressed by her outspoken ways and offered her the six hour overnight show). Stories follow the events in Katie's life as she struggles to balance her life between her work and her son.

Other Regulars: Tiger French, Katie's engineer; Mitchell, the program director; and Liz, Katie's niece. Greg attends Franklin High School; Seven-teen years ago Glen was a night disc jockey at a Cleveland radio station. Jockey Shorts was the first major sponsor to buy time on Katie's show.

Cast: Park Overall (Katie Joplin), Jay Thomas (Glen), Jesse Head (Greg Joplin), Jim Rash (Mitchell Tuitt), Simon Max (Tiger French), Ana Reeder (Liz).

4350 Katie Ka-Boom. (Pilot; Cartoon; WB; 4/30/94). Katie is a teenage girl who lives with her mother and father on Oak Tree Lane. Katie, however, is not quite your typical teenage girl: when she gets upset she goes "Ka-Boom" and turns into a hideous monster who wrecks havoc until she gets what she wants, then she returns to her normal pretty self. In the pilot episode, "The Driving Lesson," Pop tries to teach Katie to drive — with disastrous results because "The family knows that anytime soon, the little lady, Katie, goes ka-boom." Aired on The Animaniacs. Steven Spielberg is the producer.

Voice Cast: Laura Mooney (Katie), Rob Paulsen (Katie's father), Mary Gross (Katie's mother).

4351 Kay Kyser's Kollege of Musical Knowledge. (Series; Game; NBC; 1949–1954). Musical numbers are interspersed with a quiz segment situated against a college format. Players compete in tests of musical questions divided into midterms and final exams. The Professor (host) leads the orchestra in a selection that the player must identify. If he is correct, a cash prize is awarded; if he is unable to answer it, the song title is relayed by the studio audience (students). The series ran from December 1, 1949 to September 12, 1954 and is based on the radio series of the same title.

4352 Kay O'Brien. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1986). A medical drama that focuses on the victories and defeats of Kay O'Brien, a second year surgical resident at Manhattan General Hospital in New York City.

Kay is not a girl to sit back and let others do the work. She is totally dedicated to fighting disease and will put her job on the line to do what is necessary to make the right diagnosis. She is often at odds with her superiors for this because she believes that an inconclusive diagnosis is as dangerous as no diagnosis at all. In medical emergencies, time is of the essence for Kay and saving lives is uppermost on her mind.

Kay was born in Manhattan and is the daughter of Jack and Lucille O'Brien. Dr. Josef Wallach is her superior and she is best friends with Rosa Villanueva, a nurse.

Rosa is married to Lee and is the mother of Allison and Danny. Other doctors at the hospital are Robert Moffitt, Mark Doyle, Cliff Margolis and Michael Kwan. Kay's real name is Katherine and she also has the nickname "Kayo." The series was originally titled Kay O'Brien, Surgeon.

Host: Keefe Brasselle. Regulars: Ann B. Davis, Rocky Graziano, Noelle Adam, John Style, Deanne Style, Deanda Style, The Buddy Foster Dancers. Orchestra: Charles Sanford.

4357 Keen Eddie. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2003). Eddie Arlette is a maverick cop with the 8th Precinct of the N.Y.P.D. A case to bust a drug ring takes Eddie to England where his rather unusual tactics impress Superintendent Nathan Johnson of New Scotland Yard. Eddie is invited to stay and help the local authorities. After permission is granted, Eddie is teamed with Monty Pippin and stories follow Eddie as he uses his keen instincts to help solve crimes for New Scotland Yard.

Other Regulars: Fiona, Eddie's roommate. She has a pet cat named Duchess while Eddie has a dog named Pete (who has his own TV remote control and starred in a TV commercial for Snoot Snacks Dog Biscuits for D.F. and Company Advertising).

4358 The Keenan Ivory Wayans Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1997–1998). Promoted as "Late night talk the Wayans way," the program features comedian Keenan Ivory Wayans interviewing celebrities (as well as lesser known personalities), performing comedy monologues and exchanging small talk with his announcer, Angeliq Perrin.

Host: Keenan Ivory Wayans. Announcer: Angeliq Perrin.

4359 Keep It in the Family. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/27/54). The pilot film for the series Father Knows Best (which see) about events in the lives of an American family of five: parents Tom and Grace, and their children, Peggy, Jeff and Patty. Aired as a segment of Ford Theater.

Cast: Robert Young (Tom), Ellen Drew (Grace), Sally Fraser (Peggy), Gordon Gebert (Jeff), Tina Thompson (Patty).

4360 Keep It in the Family. (Series; Game; ABC; 1957–1958). Two families, each composed of five members (the mother, father and three children) compete. General knowledge questions are asked of each member of the family, beginning with the youngest. Each correct response earns points, The winners, the highest point scorers, receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Keefe Brasselle, Bill Nimmo. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

4361 Keep on Crusin'. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1987). A weekly program that showcases music and comedy acts from Los Angeles. Dick Clark and Barry Adelman are the producers.

Host: Stephen Bishop. Co-Host: SinBad. Music: Stephen Bishop.

4362 Keep on Truckin'. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1975). A potpourri of broad comedy sketches, freewheeling spoofs and blackouts. The summer series ran from July 12, 1975 to August 2, 1975.

Cast: Franklyn Ajaye, Rhonda Bates, Katherine Baumann, Jeannine Burnier, Didi Conn, Charles Fleischer, Wayland Flowers, Richard Lee Sung, Larry Ragland, Marion Ramsey, Jack Riley, Fred Travalena. Orchestra: Marvin Laird.

4363 Keep Talking. (Series; Game; CBS; ABC; 1958–1960). Two teams compete, each composed of two celebrities. One member of each team receives a secret phrase that he must work into an ad-libbed conversation. At the end of the time, the player's teammate must identify the concealed phrase. Each correct guess awards the team points, The team with the highest score is the winner and prizes are awarded to the home and studio audience players being represented by the celebrities. The series ran on CBS from July 15, 1958 to September 2, 1959; and on ABC from October 29, 1959 to May 3, 1960.

4364 Keep the Faith. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/14/72). A religious comedy about two rabbis, the elderly Mossman and the younger Miller, and the misadventures that occur when Miller attempts to modernize the temple with his progressive ideas. In the pilot episode, the rabbis attempt to discharge the temple's long-established but ill-tempered caretaker (Hosentha).

Cast: Howard Da Silva (Rabbi Mossman), Bert Convy (Rabbi Miller), Henry Corden (Hosentha).
Guest Cast: Milton Selzer (Pink), Nancy Walker (Sophie), Linda March (Judy).

4365 Keeper of the Wild. (Pilot; Drama; Syn.; 1/77). A proposed series about Jim Donaldson, Holly James and Paul Limkula, the owner-operators of an animal preserve in Africa.

Cast: Denny Miller (Jim Donaldson), Pamela Susan Shoop (Holly James), James Reynolds (Paul Limkula).

4366 Keeping an Eye on Denise. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/19/73). An unsold series about a happy-go-lucky single who is suddenly saddled with the care of Denise, an uninhibited teenage daughter he never knew he had from a Korean War romance.

Cast: Jackie Cooper (The father), Lynne Frederick (Denise), Richard Dawson (Friend), Rae Allen, Ernie Anderson, Diana Chesney, Elaine Church, Gloria Manners, Shirley Mitchell, Barney Phillips, Joshua Shelley, Sheila Wells, Carmen Zapata.

4367 Keeping Up Appearances. (Series; Comedy; PBS; 1998). Hyacinth Bucket is a middle-class British woman who aspires to become part of the genteel high-class society. She is married to Richard, a former civil service worker (Department of Finance and General Purposes), now retired, and is the mother of Sheridan, her never-seen son (who is attending university and rooms with a boy named Tarquin. By telephone conversations between Hyacinth and Sheridan, it appears that Sheridan is gay, but Hyacinth doesn't realize it). Hyacinth insists that her last name be pronounced "Bouquet" ("It's Bouquet," as she always says). She is a stickler for cleanliness and is famous for her candlelight suppers.

Hyacinth and Richard live in a respectable neighborhood but Hyacinth is feared by all her neighbors, especially Emmett Hawksworth, a divorced musician who is living with his sister, Elizabeth (Elizabeth becomes a nervous wreck around Hyacinth as she hasn't the heart to refuse anything she requests, especially their daily morning tea and biscuit routine).

While Hyacinth aspires to impress anyone with her pretence social status, she is most proud of her sister, Violet (who married the wealthy Bruce Paddock — although Bruce is showing signs that he is gay). Plaguing Hyacinth's life are her less fortunate sisters, Daisy and Rose, who live in a rather rundown house in a deplorable neighborhood. Daisy is married to Onslow, a lovable but unemployed chap who is quite happy watching TV, drinking beer and eating chips. Rose is the thinnest and sexiest of the four sisters. She is also man-crazy and has had many romances (her biggest quest appears to be seducing the local Vicar even though he is married). Also living with Rose, Daisy and Onslow is the sisters' father, "Daddy," a senile old man who often embarrasses Hyacinth when he sneaks out of the house for some child-like mischief. Stories follow Hyacinth as she struggles to cope with the unpredictable events that befall her as she struggles to keep up her appearances of wealth and high society. The series aired in England from 1990–1995.

Cast: Patricia Routledge (Hyacinth Bucket), Clive Swift (Richard Bucket), Josephine Tewson (Elizabeth Warden), David Griffin (Emmett Hawksworth), Judy Cornwell (Daisy), Geoffrey Hughes (Onslow), Shirley Stelfox (Rose), Mary Millar (Rose; later), Anna Dawson (Violet Paddock), John Evitts (Bruce Paddock), George Web (Daddy), Jeremy Gittins (Vicar Michael), Marion Barron (Michael's wife).

4368 Keeping Up with the Joneses. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/24/72). The Brownstone at 15 East 46th Street in New York City is shared by two couples who have the same last name of Jones but who are not related: Ernie, a white construction worker, and his wife, Pat; and Walt, a black police officer, and his wife, Liz. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures the two couples, who are best friends, encounter. In the pilot episode, Ernie and Pat believe Walt is involved with another woman when they spot him in a restaurant with a girl who isn't his wife.

4369 Kelly Monteith. (Series; Comedy; The Entertainment Channel; 1982–1983). A British produced series of comedy skits about life with American comedian Kelly Monteith.

Host: Kelly Monteith. Regulars: Gabrielle Drake, Nicholas McArdle, Louise Mansi, Michael Stainton.

4370 The Kelly Monteith Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1976). A four episode summer series of comedy sketches that present comedian Kelly Monteith's unique view of contemporary life. The series ran from June 16, 1976 to July 7, 1976.

Host: Kelly Monteith. Regulars: Nellie Bellflower, Henry Corden. Orchestra: Dick DeBenedictis.

4371 Kelly's Kids. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 1/4/74). A proposed spin-off from The Brady Bunch about Ken and Kathy Kelly, a childless couple who adopt three children of different ethnic backgrounds: Matt (caucasian), Steve (oriental), and Dwayne (black). In the pilot episode, Ken and Kathy find bigotry the result when they adopt the children, and a neighbor (Mrs. Payne) objects to the racial intermix.

Cast: Ken Berry (Ken Kelly), Brooke Bundy (Kathy Kelly), Todd Lookinland (Matt), Carey Wong (Steve), William Attmore (Dwayne), Molly Dodd (Mrs. Payne). Guest Cast: Jackie Joseph (Miss Phillips), Florence Henderson (Carol Brady), Robert Reed (Mike Brady), Ann B. Davis (Alice).

4372 The Ken Berry Wow Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1972). A nostalgic look at the 1930s to 1960s through the music, song, dance and comedy of those eras. The summer series ran from July 15, 1972 to August 12, 1972. Allan Blye and Chris Bearde are the producers.

Host: Ken Murray. Regulars: Darla Jean Hood, Joe Besser, Laurie Anders, Jack Mulhall, Betty Lou Walters, Art Lund, Pat Conway, Annie Shelton, Jack Marshall, Richard Webb, Johnny Johnston, Anita Gordon, Joan Shea, Herbert Marshall, Lillian Farmer, Cathy Hild, Tommy Labriola, The Ken Murray Chorus, The Ken Murray Dancers, The Glamour Lovelies. Announcer: Nelson Case. Orchestra: David Broekman, Jane Bergmeyer.

4374 Kenan and Kel. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 1996–2000). The misadventures of two fun-loving teenagers: Kenan Rockmore and his best friend, Kel Kimble. Particular focus, however, is on Kenan and his experiences at school, his job (clerk at Rigby's Grocery Store) and at home (where he lives with his parents, Roger and Sheryl, and his sister, Kyra). Chris Potter is Kenan's boss at Rigby's; Sharla Morrison (introduced in 1998) works with Kenan at Rigby's.

Cast: Kenan Thompson (Kenan Rockmore), Kel Mitchell (Kel Kimble), Ken Foree (Roger Rockmore), Teal Marchande (Sheryl Rockmore), Vanessa Baden (Kyra Rockmore), Dan Frischman (Chris Potter), Alexis Fields (Sharla Morrison), Biago Messina (Marc Cramm).

4375 The Kenny Everett Video Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1981). An imaginative series that incorporates many visual and audio effects to present comedy sketches, music and songs. Produced in England.

Host: Kenny Everett. Regulars: Kay Bush, Katie Boyle, Arlene Phillips, Hot Gossip.

4376 Kenny the Shark. (Series; Cartoon; Discovery Kids; 2003). A young girl named Kat is very special (at least she thinks so; others disagree). She has a pet eight-foot 1500-pound pet Tiger Shark named Kenny. Kenny, however, is not your typical house pet: he craves food and is also very mischievous (causing numerous problems for Kat whose parents have vowed to return Kenny to the sea if he does not behave himself). Kat can speak shark and can control Kenny (and most of the time talking him out of eating Oscar, her younger brother, and anything else that looks good to him; he does get "Imitation Seal Flakes" for breakfast, though). Stories relate Kat's efforts to keep Kenny in line — and with her, despite Kenny's efforts to want to eat everything in sight.

Voice Cast: Kelli Rabke (Kat), Jim Conroy (Kenny), Russell Horton (Dad), Karen Culp (Mom), Alexander King (Oscar).

4377 Kentucky Jones. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1964–1965). Several weeks after the death of his wife, Kenneth ("Kentucky") Jones, a professional horse trainer turned veterinarian, receives notice of the arrival of the Chinese orphan he and his wife had planned to adopt. Feeling that he is no longer qualified to raise the child, he attempts but fails to stop the adoption. Stories relate the efforts of Kentucky Jones (owner of the 40-acre Jones Ranch in California) to raise his ten-year-old adopted son, Dwight Eisenhower Wong (called Ike).

Seldom Jackson is Kentucky's partner (called Seldom because he seldom won a horse race), Annie Ng is Ike's friend; Tommy Wong is Kentucky's friend; Miss Thorncroft is Ike's teacher; Mr. Ng is Annie's father.

Cast: Dennis Weaver (Kentucky Jones), Harry Morgan (Seldom Jackson), Ricky Der (Dwight Eisenhower Wong), Cherylene Lee (Annie Ng), Keye Luke (Thomas Wong), Nancy Rennick (Miss Thorncroft), Arthur Wong (Mr. Ng).

4378 Kenya. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1988). Following the death of her husband, Jennifer Yates elects to remain in Kenya, East Africa, to continue managing the wild game ranch they own and raise her two children, Chelsea and Terry. The unsold series was to relate Jennifer's efforts to carve out a life for herself and her children — with a little help from her father, Will.

Cast: Lisa Eichhorn (Jennifer Yates), Kimber Shoop (Terry Yates), Mary Griffin (Chelsea Yates), David Huddleston (Will).

4379 Kevin Hill. (Series; Drama; UPN; 2004–2005). Kevin Hill is a swinging young bachelor and top-notch attorney with the Manhattan law firm of Davis, Dugan and Kelly. He and his close friend Dame Ruiz enjoy attention in the courtroom and hitting the hottest nightspots in New York City. Life suddenly changes for Kevin when he becomes the guardian of Sarah, the 10-month-old daughter of his cousin (who was electrocuted trying to steal cable. His cousin's cocaine-addicted wife ran off and left him to care for Sarah when she was only six days old. When no other relative could be found, the courts elected Kevin as Sarah's guardian).

With his life now in complete turmoil, Kevin makes some changes: he quits his high-pressured job for a more relaxed position at Grey and Associates, a law firm owned and staffed by women.

Stories follow Kevin as he attempts to care for Sarah, curtail his nightlife and adjust to a work situation dominated by females. Other Regulars: Jessica Grey, the senior partner; Nicolette Raye, an attorney; George, Kevin's gay nanny; and Veronica Carter, a lawyer who finds it difficult working with Kevin.

Cast: Taye Diggs (Kevin Hill), Michael Michele (Jessica Grey), Jon Seda (Damian "Dame" Ruiz), Christina Hendricks (Nicolette Raye), Kate Levering (Veronica Carter), Patrick Breen (George Weiss).

4380 Key Club Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1957). Rebroadcasts of dramas that were originally seen on Ford Theater. See this title for information. The series ran from May 31, 1957 to October 11, 1957.

4381 Key Tortuga. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 9/11/81). John Jack Tyree is a widower and the father of two children (Laura and Matt) who runs a combination fishing charter and salvage service in Key Tortuga, Florida (the Hemingston is his charter boat; the Henry Morgan his salvage boat). The unsold series was to relate Jack, Laura and Matt's adventures as they attempt to run their business. In the pilot episode, the Tyrees become involved in a deadly race to recover bounty from a Spanish galleon that sank in the Atlantic Ocean three hundred years ago — before a group of unscrupulous characters beat them to it. Cyclone Williams is Jack's friend.

Cast: Scott Thomas (John Jack Tyree), Janet Julian (Laura Tyree), Brett Cullen (Matt Tyree), Paul Winfield (Cyclone Williams). Guest Cast: Med Flory (Shanklin), Bob Reynolds (Kaiser), Willis Knickerbocker (Brenner), Dick Callinan (Durand), Don Stout (Marvin).

4382 Key West. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 12/10/73). Key West, Florida, is the setting for an unsold series about Steve Cutler, a retired C.I.A. agent who helps people in trouble. The pilot episode relates Steve's attempts to stop Prescott Webb, an eccentric tycoon he once sent to prison, from carrying out his deadly plan of revenge. Other Regulars: Candy, Steve's sidekick; Brandi, Steve's girlfriend; Sam, Steve's friend; and Police Chief Jim Miller.

Cast: Stephen Boyd (Steve Cutler), Woody Strode (Candy), Sheree North (Brandi), George Fisher (Sam), Don Collier (Jim Miller). Guest Cast: Ford Rainey (Prescott Webb), Tiffany Bolling (Ruth Frazier), Simon Oakland (General Luker), Virginia Kiser (Carol Luker), Earl Hindman (Rick), William Prince (Senator).

Other Regulars: King Cole, the blind editor of the paper; Paul Bouseleaux, called Gumbo, the owner of Gumbo's Bar and Grill; Savannah, a high class prostitute (she charges $100 an hour and is proud to do so — "It was a lifelong dream of mine since childhood"); Dr. Rikki Clark, who is on the island conducting experiments with dolphins for the Atlantic Dolphin Research Center; Chauncy Caldwell, the deputy mayor; and Ticked Pink, Gumbo's pet alligator (he wears a pink bow on his head and "dreams of devouring beautiful native girls").

Seamus has always dreamed of living in Key West where all the artists come. He didn't want to follow in a family tradition and become a car mechanic. He was born into a family that did not read — "I was a closet bookworm. In my house if they caught me reading a cereal box, they'd castrate you."

King Cole calls Seamus "Newshound." "They call me King," he says, "because I've been king of this paper [The Meteor] before you [Seamus] were born. Gumbo's bar and Grill features scantily clad dancing girls. Savannah keeps a little black book of her clients — which she refers to when a client calls (as each client thinks he is the only man in her life). Savannah is one of Gumbo's prostitutes.

Chauncy is an alcoholic. Although she is the deputy mayor, she doesn't care about the environment, animal rights or anything else — except progress no matter what it costs.

Sheriff Cody is the local law enforcer. He claims to be a direct descendant of Wyatt Earp and the Lone Ranger. He worked previously as a clown in a circus. Cocoa assists King Cole, whom he calls "My eyes" and "Cocoanut."

Cast: Fisher Stevens (Seamus O'Neill), Denise

Crosby (Chauncy Caldwell), Lara Piper (Dr. Rikki Clark), Jennifer Tilly (Savannah Sumner), Ivory Ocean ("King" Roosevelt Cole), Leland Crooke (Gumbo), Brian Thompson (Sheriff Cody Jeremiah Jefferson), Sandra Domepower (Cocoa), Nicholas Surovy (Mayor Penbrooke), T.C. Carson (Jo Jo Nob-ulee).

4384 Keyhole. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1962). Jack Douglas hosts and narrates films that showcase the unusual experiences and occupations of people.

Khan helps people who have no other place to turn. While he is an expert in the martial arts and is opposed to violence, he often finds himself in situations where talking does not work and he must resort to physical skills to achieve a goal. While Khan does enlist the help of the police (in particular Lieutenant Gubbins), he also finds help from Annie and Kim, who turn amateur detective to help their father solve a case. Stories follow Khan as he takes on cases that are not only dangerous but puzzling as well. Khan is the only series in which the star refused screen billing.

Cast: Khigh Dhiagh (Khan), Irene Yah-Ling Sun (Anna Khan), Evan Kim (Kim Khan), Vic Tayback (Lieutenant Gubbins).

4386 Kibbee Hates Fitch. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/2/65). Russell Kibbee and Arthur Fitch are best friends who are also firemen with the New York City Fire Department. One day Kibbee is promoted to captain of Hook and Ladder Company Number 23. Fitch, a lieutenant who was also up for the promotion, becomes jealous and decides he now hates Kibbee for taking his job. The unsold series was to relate the bickering that occurs between two friends who now hate each other, but who must work together. Other Regulars: Selena, Russell's wife; Kevin, their son; Marcia, Arthur's wife; Nancy, their daughter; Captain O'Brien; and firemen Callahan and Walsh. See the following title also.

Cast: Don Rickles (Russell Kibbee), Lou Jacobi (Arthur Fitch), Nancy Andrews (Selena Kibbee), William Ade (Kevin Kibbee), Pert Kelton (Marcia Fitch), Karleen Wiese (Nancy Fitch), Ralph Dunne (Captain O'Brien), Herb Edelman (Callahan), Bob Kaliban (Walsh).

4387 Kibbee Hates Fitch, Fitch Hates Kibbee. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1974). A remake of the prior title about two sisters (Kate and Peg) who marry two bickering firemen (Kibbee and Fitch) and the complications that ensue when they attempt to work together as well as live next door to each other. The pilot episode relates how the bickering begins when Russell Kibbee is promoted to captain and his best friend, Arthur Fitch, becomes jealous.

Cast: Michael Bell (Russell Kibbee), Chuck McCann (Arthur Fitch), Lynnette Mettey (Kate Kibbee), Bonnie Boland (Peg Fitch), Alan Oppenheimer (Captain Fox). Guest Cast: George Furth (Walter), Reva Rose (Nun), Bob Hastings (Grogan), Valorie Armstrong (Monica), Johnny Haymer (Henshaw).

4388 Kicks. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1979). Jeff Kuntash hosts a weekly series that attempted to cash in on the disco craze by showcasing disco performers. The program was cancelled after 13 episodes.

4389 The Kid-A-Littles. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 9/84). The setting is the office of a newspaper called The Daily Typo, where learning experiences are related to children through the antics of the puppet characters who work for the editor-in-chief, Clipper (the only live character on the program).

Cast: John Wheeler (Chief Clipper).

4390 Kid Gloves. (Series; Children; CBS; 1951). Two children compete in a series of three thirty-second boxing bouts that follow the rules of the professionals. Between rounds, John DaGroza, the Pennsylvania Boxing Commissioner, conducts a question-and-answer session with the studio audience.

Commentator: Bill Sears. Referee: Frank Goodman. Ring Announcer: Barry Cassel.

4391 Kid 'n' Play. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1990). Christopher Reid (Kid) and Christopher Martin (Play), the rap duo from the film House Party, appear as aspiring rappers living in New York City. The series, which relates their misadventures as they seek their goal, is seen in animation while their introductions and closing segments are live action — all of which is designed to relay positive lessons to children.

Cast: Christopher Red (Kid), Christopher Martin (Play).

4392 Kid Nation. (Series; Reality; CBS; 2007). The format, borrowed from the book Lord of the Flies, follows 40 children as they attempt to build a society for themselves without help from adults. Bonanza City, New Mexico, a real Old West ghost town, is the site where the kids (aged 8–15) spend one month attempting to do what their forefathers were not able to accomplish — build a town that works. The kids must prepare their own meals, run the town businesses (for example, the saloon, where root beer is served) and uphold the law. Unlike other reality shows, there are no elimination rounds. A child can leave at any time if things become too difficult. The object is to show adults that kids have a better vision of what needs to be done in the real world.

The Kids (identified by a first name only): Madison (age 11), Alex (9), Gianna (10), Pharaoh (12), Randi (12), Maggie (14), Anjay (12), Greg (15), Blaine (14) Guylan (11), Mallory (8), Savannah (10), Sophia (14), Markelle (12), Hunter (12), Brett (11), Campbell (10), Jared (11), Sophie (10), Taylor (10), Mige (13), Jasmine (11), Cody (9), Zach (10), Mike (11), Jimmy (8), Colton (11), Morgan (12), Kelsey (11), Divad (11), Natasha (13), Kennedy (12), DK (14), Emilie (9), Nathan (11), Laurel (12), Olivia (12), Leila (9), Eric (14), Michael (14).

Host: Jonathan Karsh.

4393 Kid Power. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1972–1974). The story of a group of children, all members of the Rainbow Club, who are struggling to save the environment and improve the world in which they live. The object of the program is to show kids of different ethnic backgrounds sharing thoughts on prejudice, teamwork and responsibility.

4394 The Kid Super Power Hour with Shazam. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1981–1982). Animated segments are interspersed with live action segments that revolve around the music and joke telling of the rock group Hero High (who also appear in animated form in a segment called Hero High, about the students who attend a training school for super heroes). Characters in this segment are Captain California, Glorious Gal, Dirty Trixie, Misty Magic, Rex Ruthless, Weatherman, Punk Rock, and teachers Mr. Sampson and Miss Grim.

Segment two, Shazam follows the adventures of super heroes Billy Batson (alias Shazam), Mary Freeman (alias Mary Marvel) and Freddy Freeman (alias Captain Marvel) as they battle the sinister forces of evil.

4395 Kid Talk. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1972). The program features two guest celebrities (per show) discussing topical issues with four children.

Host: Bill Adler. Panelists: Mona Tera, Andy Yamamoto, Nellie Henderson, Alan Winston. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

4396 The Kid with the Broken Halo. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/15/82). The pilot film for the animated series The Gary Coleman Show about Andy LeBeau, a prankish angel who is sent to Earth to perform good deeds to prove himself worthy of entering Heaven. In the pilot episode, Andy, and his guardian angel and teacher, Blake, attempt to help the following people: Dorothea Powell, a fading movie star who refuses to see anyone; Julie and Jeff McNulty, a couple who are trying to give their children everything they never had; and Rudy Desautel, a former pro football star who is struggling to regain his self-esteem. Other Regulars: God, who appears as Michael, their superior.

4397 Kidd Video. (Series; Children; NBC; 1984–1985). While rehearsing a song, the rock group Kidd Video is transported to an animated flip side of reality—a world of rock and roll—by the Master Blaster, an evil wizard. The series relates their experiences when they escape from Master Blaster and set out to find their way back to reality. The program, which also relates their efforts to free rock stars kidnapped by the Master Blaster, features music videos. Kidd Video, Carla, Whiz and Ash are members of Kidd Video; Glitter is their friend; Fat Cat and Cool Kitty are Master Blaster's aides.

4398 Kideo TV. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). The actual series title for a block of three syndicated half-hour cartoon series: Popples, Rainbow Brite and Ulysses 31. See these individual titles for information.

4399 Kidnapped. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2006). Conrad and Ellie Cain are an apparently happily married couple with three children: Aubrey (attending college, Brown University), Alice and Leopold. The Cain's are wealthy and their children lead rather sheltered lives. They have a nanny (Maria) and a bodyguard (Virgil Hayes) for Alice and Leopold. All appears to be normal for the family until one morning when Virgil is driving Leopold to school, that Leopold is kidnapped in a well-executed traffic maneuver.

Shortly after, the Cain's receive a note telling them not to call the police or FBI. Conrad abides by the note, but calls a mysterious man named Knapp, a specialist in recovering kidnap victims. A woman named Turner assists him and Knapp cares about retrieval — everything else is a distraction. His fee is not negotiable and payable on the safe return of the victim. All is going according to plan until word about the kidnapping leaks out and the FBI gets wind of it — just at the same time veteran agent Latimer King is about to retire. Kidnappings are cases King cannot resist and he puts off his retirement to investigate the Cain kidnapping — something Knapp doesn't want (as he feels FBI involvement will endanger the chances of a safe retrieval).

Agent Andrea "Andy" Archer assists King. The series, which is actually a mystery, relates the independent efforts to Knapp and the FBI to find Leopold and uncover the people responsible for his abduction and the reason why. Unfortunately, low ratings ended the series and no conclusion was shown.

Cast: Jeremy Sisto (Knapp), Timothy Hutton (Conrad Cain), Dana Delany (Ellie Cain), Lydia Jordan (Alice Cain), Will Denton (Leopold Cain), Olivia Thirlby (Aubrey Cain), Delroy Lindo (Latimer King), Carmen Ejogo (Turner), Linus Roache (Andy Archer), Mykelti Williamson (Virgil Hayes), Doug Hutchinson (Schroeder), Michael Mosley (FBI Agent Atkins), Otto Sanchez (Otto), Lisa Dawnell James (FBI Agent), Michael McLaughlin (Leopold as a child), Susan Kelechi Watson (Ella King), Robert Clohessy (Caller).

4400 Kids and Company. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1951–1952). The program features performances by aspiring child talent. The studio audience rates each performer whose applause determines "The Kid of the Week."

Host: Johnny Olsen. Assistant: Ham Fisher. Organist: Al Greiner.

4401 Kids Are People Too. (Series; Children; ABC; 1980–1982). Celebrity interviews, music, information, cartoons and related entertainment geared to show kids that they are people too.

Hosts: Bob McCallister, Michael Young, Randy Hamilton. Regulars: Ellie Dylan, Joy Behar.

4402 Kids' Biz. (Pilot; Magazine; Syn.; 11/86). A proposed program of music, fashion, advice, exercise and other information and entertainment for children.

Host: Stacy Scott. Regular: Suzy Stone. Guests: Scott Thompson Baker, Jermaine Jackson, Dr. Roy Langer.

4403 Kids' Court. (Series; Children; Nickelodeon; 1985). Courtroom proceedings coupled with an understanding of how the law works was the idea behind a series designed to familiarize children with the judicial system. A simulated case is presented with children portraying the principals of a courtroom (lawyers, defendants, plaintiff, judge and jury). The case is presented as if it was real and the jury (via applause) determines the guilt or innocence of accused parties.

Host: Paul Provenza.

4404 The Kids from C.A.P.E.R. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976–1977). C.A.P.E.R. is short for the Civilian Authority for the Protection of Everybody, Regardless. It is a unit of the 927th Police Precinct in a town called Northeast Southwestern. Its top (and apparently only) operatives are P.T., Bugs, Doomsday and Doc, four somewhat fearless teenagers who do their best to right wrongs. Mr. Clintinger is the newspaper reporter who follows "the kids" and stories relate the case investigations of the kids from C.A.P.E.R.

Cast: Steve Bonino (P.T.), Cosie Costa (Bugs), Biff Warren (Doomsday), John Lansing (Doc), Robert Lussier (Mr. Clintinger).

4405 Kids in the Hall. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1988–1995). A sketch comedy series featuring the all male group the Kids in the Hall portraying virtually every character needed (including women) for their spoof of anything, everything and anybody.

Kids in the Hall: Dave Foley, Bruce McCulloch, Kevin McDonald, Mark McKinney, Scott Thompson. Semi-Regulars: Tamara Gorski, Nicole de Boer, Paul Bellini.

4406 Kids Incorporated. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1985). A series for children about a group of young adult rock stars struggling to make a success of their group, Kids Incorporated. Their experiences are also depicted as they play at a teen club called P*lace.

4407 Kids Say the Darndest Things. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996–2000). During the 1950s on Art Linkletter's House Party, host Art Linkletter devoted a segment of each program to interviewing children for their humorous reactions to the questions he asked. When House Party ended in 1969, so did the child interview concept. After an absence of almost 30 years, CBS adapted the House Party segment into the series Kids Say the Darndest Things with an adult (Bill Cosby) interviewing children for their funny (if not unpredictable) answers to questions asked of them.

Host: Bill Cosby. Co-Host: Art Linkletter.

4408 Kids 2 Kids. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 8/18/81). An informative series idea that explores the world of children — who they are and what they are doing.

Hosts: Kirk Brennan, Lynette Paradise.

Hosts: Tristen Potter, Chris Lytton. The Kidsong Kids: Todd Alyn Durboraw, David Chan, Julie Ann Gourson, Hillary Hollingsworth, Tiffany Johnson, Nicole Mandich, Robby Rosellen, Scott Trent.

4410 Kiernan's Kaleidoscope. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1949). John Kiernan hosts and narrates a program that explores scientific principals and explains the wonders of nature to children.

4411 Killer by Night. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 1/7/72). In an attempt to better serve the people of Los Angeles, two public servants, a health officer (Dr. Larry Ross) and a police captain (George Benson) form an alliance to use the resources available to them to help the other in times of emergencies. In the pilot episode, originally titled "The City by Night," Ross and his assistant, Dr. Tracey Morrow, join with the police to apprehend two killers: an armed robber infected with diphtheria.

4412 Killer Instinct. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2005). Jack Hale and Danielle Carter are members of the Deviant Squad of the San Francisco Police Department who investigate gruesome murders. Stories detail Jack and Danielle's investigations into cases most seasoned officers would find upsetting. Special attention is paid to the reason behind killings as Jack, who lost his prior partner during a case investigation, believes that knowing the reason why a crime was committed will better help him and Danielle find killers who believe they are criminal masterminds and beyond the reach of the law.

4413 The Killer Who Wouldn't Die. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/4/76). Following the death of his wife in a bombing incident that the police are unable to solve, homicide detective Kirk Ohanian quits the force and moves to Hawaii to become the owner of the Quest, a charter boat for hire. The unsold series, slated to be called Ohanian, was to relate Kirk's adventures as he uses his former training as a cop to solve the crimes he encounters. The pilot episode depicts Kirk's efforts to solve the murder of a close friend. Other Regulars: Uncle Ara, his mate on the Quest; Heather McDougall, Kirk's friend, a widow; and Steve and Doug, Heather's children.

4414 The Killin' Cousin. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/3/80). A proposed spin-off from Barnaby Jones about William Tarkington IV, a veteran private investigator, and his son, William Tarkington V, the owner-operators of the two-bit Tarkington Detective Agency in Los Angeles. In the pilot episode, the Tarkingtons' investigation of a murder leads them to suspect that Betty Jones, Barnaby's daughter-in-law, is responsible for the murders of several of her cousins in a ploy to acquire the family wealth.

4415 Kim. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 1972). A proposed spin-off from Here's Lucy that focuses on Kim, Lucy's daughter, as she sets out on her own after acquiring a job with a PR firm. Kim acquires an apartment at the Marina overlooking San Francisco Bay in a building owned by Lucy's brother, Herb Hinkley, a would-be song writer (he wrote, for example, the song “I’m Organically Yours,” about two people who meet in a health food store). The unsold series was to relate Kim’s misadventures as she attempts to live her own life away from her interfering mother. In the pilot episode, titled “Kim Cuts the Apron Strings,” Kim attempts to entertain a famous race car driver (Ronnie) as a potential client despite constant interruptions from Herb and her neighbor, Sue Anne (a tour guide at the Museum of History).

Cast: Lucie Arnaz (Kim Carter), Alan Oppenheimer (Herb Hinkley), Susan Tolsky (Sue Anne Ditenner). Guest Cast: Lloyd Battista (Ronnie Cumberland), Lucille Ball (Lucy Carter), Gale Gordon (Harrison Otis Carter).

4416 Kim Possible. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2002–). Kim Possible is a beautiful high school cheerleader. She is the daughter of brilliant parents and has twin mischievous brothers, Jim and Tim. Kim is also a girl who can do anything, including battling evil with her amazing powers and an array of gadgets. She is assisted by Ron Stoppable, her classmate and partner in crime fighting; Rufus, Ron’s pet rat; and Wade Load, her computer contact.

Dr. Drakken, a not-too-bright super villain seeking to take over the world, is assisted by Shego, a sharp-minded arch villain who is actually the one Kim should fear (as she makes up for the Doctor’s mistakes). Shego wants to rule the world, as do the villains Senor Senior Sr. and his son Senor Senior, Jr. Bonnie Rockwaller is Kim’s rival at school. Stories follow Kim as she tries to be a normal school girl while at the same time protecting the world from evil.

4417 Kimba, the White Lion. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1966). In Egypt four thousand years ago, a spendthrift pharaoh, King Tut Tut, caused the country to lose its prosperity. In an attempt to save his country, Fradies, the king’s minister, develops a special wisdom formula that he feeds to his rare, pet white lion. The lion is sent into the village and the people, who believe it is the spirit of the Sphinx, follow its leadership. The lion teaches them economy and the development of strong bodies and minds. As Egypt prospers once again, the king extends good will to all its neighboring African tribes. He selects one tribe in particular, the Kickapeels, to receive a special gift — the white lion.

The lion teaches, the tribe prospers and in return, the lion is made king. Thus, generation after generation, a white lion has ruled Africa. In 1966, Caesar, the aging, current lion ruler, bestows upon his son, Kimba, the title of king.

A second history has Caesar, the African animal king, married to the lioness Snowene. Caesar’s rule has all animals living free. When hunter’s invade Africa and begin capturing animals, Caesar foils them by setting the animals free. Caesar is killed during one mission and Snowene (who is pregnant) is captured. Aboard a ship bound for England, Snowene gives birth to Kimba, who learns from his mother the good work his father tried to do.

Kimba, through his mother’s urging, escapes from the ship and manages to make his way back to Africa. He establishes himself as a ruler with one purpose: develop an understanding between humans and animals.

Kimba is young but wise beyond his years. Stories follow Kimba as he struggles to safeguard his homeland from evil. Dan’l Baboon, Sampson, Pauley Cracker, Tadpole, Roger Ranger, Kitty and King Speckle Rex are Kimba’s friends; Claw his enemy.

A revised version of the Japanese series aired in 1994 with the voices of Kathleen Barr, Lisa Ann Beley, Michael Dobson, Venus Terzo and Richard Newman.

Voice of Kimba: Billie Lou Watt. Theme Song: “Kimba, the White Lion” by Bernie Baum Bill Grant, Florence Kaye.

Cast: Steve Reeves (Kimbar). Guest Cast: Virginia Hewitt (Joan Winton), James Craven (Commissioner Litchfield), Chester Clute (Dr. Beasley).

4421 King Arthur. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1987). Medieval England is the setting for a series about King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table as they dispense justice and help people who are unable to defend themselves from the evils that surround them.

4423 The King Family Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1965–1966; 1969). A weekly program of music and song featuring the King Family, a large family of talented singers and musicians. The series ran from 60 minutes from January 23, 1965 to January 8, 1966; and thirty minutes from March 12, 1969 to September 10, 1969. Yvonne King Birch and Louise King Rey are the producers.

4424 King Features Trilogy. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1963). The overall title for an adaptation of three King Features comic strips. The series produced 150 five-minute segments.

1. Barney Google. The mishaps of Barney Google, a hillbilly hustler, and his friend Snuffy Smith.

2. Beetle Bailey. The antics of Beetle Bailey, an army private stationed at Camp Swampy. Sergeant Snorkel is his superior.

3. Krazy Kat. The story of a lovesick cat plagued by the mischievous Ignatz Mouse.

Voice Cast: Allan Melvin (Barney Google), Howard Morris (Snuffy Smith), Howard Morris (Beetle Bailey), Allan Melvin (Sergeant Snorkel), Penny Phillips (Krazy Kat), Paul Frees (Ignatz Mouse).

4425 The King Kong Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1966–1969). After Professor Bond, an American scientist establishes a base on Mondo Island in the Java Sea, his young son, Bobby, discovers and befriends the sixty-foot tall gorilla, King Kong, a creature the Professor believes is intelligent and an important clue in the study of anthropology. Stories relate the struggles of the Professor, his children Bobby and Susan, and King Kong, as they struggle to battle the influences of Dr. Who, a power-mad scientist who seeks Kong for his own diabolical plan to control the world. Very loosely based on the 1933 feature film King Kong.

The second segment of the series, Tom of T.H.U.M.B., relates the adventures of Tom and his Oriental sidekick, Swinging Jack, as agents for Tiny Humans Underground Military Bureau, a secret U.S. government spy organization.

Voice Cast: Carl Banas (Professor Bond), Billie Mae Richards (Bobby Bond), Susan Conway (Susan Bond). Additional Voices: Alfie Scopp, Paul Soles, John Drainie.

4426 King Leonardo and His Short Subjects. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1960–1963). The overall title for a trio of short animated segments. Also known as The King and Odie.

1. King Leonardo. The story, set in the African kingdom of Bongoland, relates the adventures of its ruler, King Leonardo, and his assistant, Odie Cologne, and their battle against the evil influences of Itchy Brother and Biggy Rat.

2. The Hunter. The story concerns a beagle detective's attempts to apprehend the cunning Fox.

3. Tutor the Turtle. The story of a turtle who becomes whatever he wishes through the magic of Mr. Wizard, the Lizard.

Voice Cast: Jackson Beck (King Leonardo), Allen Swift (Odie Cologne), Jackson Beck (Biggy Rat), Allen Swift (Itchy Brother), Kenny Delmar (The Hunter), Ben Stone (The Fox), Allen Swift (Tutor the Turtle), Frank Milano (Mr. Wizard).

4427 King of Diamonds. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1961–1962). Continental Diamond Industries is a New York based company that is responsible for protecting gems and industrial diamonds from the time they come out of the ground until they reach their final destination. John King is the company's security chief. Along with his partner, Casey "Case" O'Brien, John investigates crimes associated with the diamond district. Continental Diamond Industries is located on West 47th Street in Manhattan in the heart of the diamond industry. John, who wears a white trench coat (making him look more like a shady character than the hero) lives at 146 East 36th Street; he refers to diamonds as "ice." Frank Ortega composed the theme.

Cast: Broderick Crawford (John King), Ray Hamilton (Casey O'Brien).

4428 King of Kensington. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1981). Events in the lives of the Kings, a family of three living in the city of Kensington near Toronto, Canada.

Larry King, the husband, is the owner of King's Variety Store; he is married to Cathy. Larry's mother, Gladys King, also lives with them. Duke, Nestor and Max are Larry's friends and stories relate the incidents that befall Larry at home and at work.

Cast: Al Waxman (Larry King), Fiona Reid (Cathy King), Helene Winston (Gladys King), Ardon Bess (Nestor Best), Bob Vinci (Duke Zaro), John J. Dee (Max), Vivian Reis (Rosa Zaro; Duke's wife). Theme Vocal: "King of Kensington" by Bob Francis.

4429 The King of Queens. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1998–2006). Doug and Carrie Heffernan are an argumentative but happily married couple who live at 3121 Alberdine Avenue in Rego Park, Queens, New York. Also living with them is Arthur Spooner, Carrie's sarcastic father.

Doug works as a driver for IPS (International Parcel Service). Carrie first worked as a legal secretary for the mid-Manhattan firm of Haskell and Associates (later called Kaplan, Hornstein and Stickler). She later works for a real estate company called The Dugan Group (also known as Dugan Properties).

Although very pretty, Carrie is grouchy and bitchy. She is not a happy person by nature and enjoys seeing other people miserable. Doug is her complete opposite and most often takes verbal abuse from Carrie just to avoid arguments.

Food is an important factor in Doug's life and he has the uncanny ability to make a delicious sandwich (he hopes to one day open a sandwich shop). Arthur is a hot head who often loses his temper (he threatens people with his catch phrase "Do you want a piece of me?").

Stories follow the daily incidents that spark romance, mistrust and arguments in the Heffernan household.

Arthur is 75 years old (first season episodes) and came to live with Doug and Carrie after his wife, Teresa, died and he burned his house down by accident. He now lives in the basement. Doug has Route 8 (the boonies) with IPS (he has been working there eight years when the series begins). Doug also dreams of owning a monkey — something Carrie will never let happen.

Other Regulars: Deacon Palmer, Spencer Olchin, Danny Heffernan, Richie Iannucci, Holly Shumpert and Lou Ferrigno.

Deacon, Spencer and Richie are Doug's friends. Deacon works with Doug and is separated from his wife, Kelly; they are the parents of Kirby and Major. Spencer is a subway toll booth operator (at the Queens Plaza Station). He is single (shares an apartment with Richie) and his TiVo thinks he is gay (it records programs that are geared toward gays) He has a dog named Alan. Danny Heffernan, Doug's cousin, is a not-so-great landscape artist and runs a company called The Garden of Weedin'.

Holly is a dog walker whom Carrie hired to "walk" Arthur so he could get his daily exercise (Nicole Sullivan, who plays Holly, first played Marilyn, a baby store salesgirl in an episode where Carrie becomes pregnant but later loses the baby).

Lou Ferrigno is a former TV actor, best known for The Incredible Hulk, who is Doug and Carrie's neighbor. Janet and Joe are Doug's parents; Veronica is Spencer's mother.

In the last episode Doug and Carrie adopt a baby Chinese girl (Ling Mai) at the same time Carrie

(who was told she could not have children) becomes pregnant. Doug had quit his job with IPS (now works as a salesman for Finelli Home Furnishings) and in a flash forward sequence (one year in the future), Doug and Carrie are seen as the parents of two children. Arthur in the meantime, has married Spencer's mother, Veronica.

Cast: Kevin James (Doug Heffernan), Leah Remini (Carrie Heffernan), Jerry Stiller (Arthur Spooner), Victor Williams (Deacon Palmer), Patton Oswalt (Spencer Olchin), Larry Romano (Richie Iannucci), Nicole Sullivan (Holly Shumpert), Gary Valentine (Danny Heffernan), Merrin Dungey (Kelly Palmer), Omari Lyles (Kirby Palmer), Desmond Roberts (Major Palmer), Lou Ferrigno (Lou Ferrigno), Jenny O'Hara (Janet Heffernan), Dakin Matthews (Joe Heffernan), Anne Meara (Veronica Olchin), Tyler Hendrickson (Young Doug; flashbacks), Gavin MacLeod (Doug's Uncle Stu), Shelly Berman (Arthur's brother, Skitch), Sam McMurray (Patrick O'Boyle, the IPS dispatcher).

4430 King of the Building. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/31/87). Joey (no last name given) is the doorman at 731 Park Avenue, a posh hotel in New York City. His attempts to manipulate the building and its employees for his own benefit — as well as helping tenants in need — was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Joey attempts to help an old lady (Mrs. Gladstone) facing eviction. Other Regulars: Hector, the plumber; Leon, the janitor; Eddie, the bellhop; and Mr. Jamison, the manager.

Cast: Richard Lewis (Joey), Jose Perez (Hector), Tiger Haynes (Leon), Bobby Slayton (Eddie), Simon Jones (Mr. Jamison). Guest Cast: Billie Bird (Mrs. Gladstone), Laura Staley (Mrs. Riley), Joyce Little, Nina Mann.

4431 King of the Hill. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1997–). Hank Hill is an old-fashioned family man who works for Strickland Propane in Arlen, Texas. He is married to Peggy and is the father of a young son, Bobby. They live at 123 Rainey Street. The family dog is Ladybird.

Hank works hard, enjoys his job (he is hoping Bobby will follow in his footsteps) and relaxes by drinking beer with his friends, Bill Dauterive, Dale Gribble and Boomhauer. Also living with Hank is Luanne Platter, his gorgeous niece, who is hoping to become a beautician.

Peggy is opinionated. She works as a substitute Spanish teacher (also seen as a reporter for the Arlington Bystander and a realtor with Seizemore Realty) and Hank often obeys her every command (although he believes his strong sense of morality makes him “king of the Hill” household). Bobby is somewhat of a disappointment to Hank as he seems to be interested in everything but propane. Bill is a divorced military barber; Dale, owner of Dale's Dead Bug Exterminating, is paranoid (he believes the government is out to get him); and Boomhauer speaks gibberish that only Hank seems to understand.

Other Regulars: Joseph Gribble, Dale's son; Buck Strickland, Hank's boss; Kahn and Minh Souphanousiphone, Hank's neighbors; John Redcorn, Hank's neighbor; Nancy Gribble, Dale's wife; Connie, Kahn and Minh's daughter.

Voice Cast: Mike Judge (Hank Hill/Boomhauer), Kathy Najimy (Peggy Hill), Pamela Segall (Bobby Hill), Brittany Murphy (Luanne Platter), Brittany Murphy (Joseph Gribble), Breckin Meyer (Joseph Gribble; later), Johnny Hardwicke (Dale Gribble), Stephen Root (Bill Dauterive/Buck Strickland), Ashley Gardner (Nancy Gribble), Toby Hill (Kahn), Lauren Tom (Minh/Connie).

4432 King of the Road. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/10/78). Cotton Grimes is a semi-retired country and western singer who runs a motel in Muscle Shoals, Alabama. The unsold series was to relate Cotton's efforts to run the hotel and spotlight the performances of guest artists. Other Regulars: Maureen, his girlfriend; Sam, his partner; Mildred, Sam's wife; and motel employees Bille Dee and Rick.

Cast: Roger Miller (Cotton Grimes), Lee Crawford (Maureen Kenney), Larry Haines (Sam Braffman), Marian Mercer (Mildred Braffman), R.G. Brown (Billy Dee Huff), Ric Carrott (Rick). Guest Cast: Eddie Foy, Jr. (Eddie), John Davidson (Himself), Karen Specht (Karen Kleegle), Beth Specht (Beth Kleegle), Jenny Neumann (Jenny Kleegle), Nedra Volz (Mrs. Hickey).

4433 The Kingdom Chums. (Pilot; Cartoon; ABC; 11/28/86). When an unusual pattern of stars appears in the sky, a young boy (Peter), his sister (Mary Ann) and their friend (Sauli) are magically transported by a stream of light to an animated world where they become cartoon characters and meet the Kingdom Chums (Christopher Lion, Magical Moz and Little David) — animals who allow them to witness stories from the Bible (the unsold series format). In the pilot episode, they learn the story of David and Goliath.

Cast: Jenna Von Oy (Mary Ann), Christopher Fitzgerald (Peter), Andrew Cassese (Sauli).

4434 Kingdom Hospital. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2004). Kingdom Hospital in Maine is anything but a normal medical facility. Strange things occur (like patients mysteriously dying — or miraculously cured). The hospital has been built over an ancient cemetery, is earthquake plagued and is haunted (psychic Sally Druce is seeking to discover why the ghost of a young girl — who may hold the secret about the haunting — has not passed over). Stories play out like a book with each episode (12 aired) like a chapter and leading into the next episode (a fancy way of producers saying a serialized story). The series is created by Stephen King (but based on a Danish miniseries called The Kingdom).

4435 The Kingdom of the Sea. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1957). Robert J. Stevenson hosts and narrates films that explore the seas and oceans of the world.

4436 Kingpin. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2003). A twice-weekly series (Tuesdays and Sundays) about drug trafficking that ended the same month it premiered (February 2 to February 18, 2003). Stories follow the activities of the Cadena family, a powerful Mexican drug trafficking family as they seek to keep their illegal enterprise going despite the D.E.A.'s (Drug Enforcement Agency) efforts to stop them.

Miguel Cadena, educated at Sanford University, is head of the family; Marlene is Miguel's wife, an American lawyer who protects the business from government intervention; Joey is their eight-year-old son. Chato is Miguel's ambitious brother; Della Flores is the D.E.A. agent seeking to put Miguel behind bars; Heywood Klein is a plastic surgeon that heads the Cadenas' North American operations; Junie Gatling assists him.

Cast: Yancey Arias (Miguel Cadena), Sheryl Lee (Marlene Cadena), Ruben Carbajel (Joey Cadena), Bobby Cannavale (Chato Cadena), Angela Alvarado Rosa (Della Flores), Brian Benben (Dr. Heywood Klein), Shay Roundtree (Junie Gatling).

4437 Kingpins. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/18/87). Kingpins is an Akron, Ohio, bowling alley owned by Hank Whittaker and managed by his daughter, Lindsay. Hank has an easy-going attitude and lets his friends ring up large tabs; Lindsay is a business-minded young woman who disagrees with her father's way of doing business. The unsold series was to relate Hank's efforts to run the alley his way despite Lindsay's attempts to change his methods. In the pilot episode, Lindsay tries to get Hank to collect a $2700 tab that his friends have rung up. Other Regulars: Sonny, Hank's brother; and the alley regulars: Deter, Vern, Spud, Milt and Duncan.

Cast: Dorian Harewood (Hank Whittaker), Marie-Alise Recasner (Lindsay Whittaker), Ji-Tu Cumbuka (Sonny Whittaker), David Alan Grier (Deter Philbin), Jason Bernard (Vern Puckett), Leonard Garner (Spud Bunsen), Tommy Hicks (Milt Simmons), Eric Flecks (Duncan Moss). Guest Cast: Diana Bellamy (Darla Eastwood), Bill Henderson (Vince Haines).

4438 King's Crossroads. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1951–1952). Carl King hosts a series that features first televised showings of theatrical shorts from the 1930s and 1940s.

4439 King's Crossing. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1982). A seven-episode, prime time serial that follows the lives of the Hollisters, a close-knit American family who move from Chicago to King's Crossing, a small California village, to rebuild their shattered lives.

Regulars: Paul (a writer) and Nan Hollister, the parents; Carey and Lauren, their daughters; Louisa, Nan's wealthy aunt; Billy, the stable hand; Jillian, Paul's cousin; Willa, the maid; Jonathan, the orchestra conductor; Carol, Jonathan's wife; Sam, Louisa's former lover, a horse breeder; and Robert, Sam's son.

Cast: Bradford Dillman (Paul Hollister), Mary Frann (Nan Hollister), Marilyn Jones (Carey Hollister), Linda Hamilton (Lauren Hollister), Beatrice Straight (Louisa Beauchamp), Daniel Zippi (Billy McCall), Doran Clark (Jillian), Jean LeBouvier (Willa) Dorothy Meyer (Willa; later), Michael Zaslou (Jonathan Hardari), Stephanie Braxton (Carol Hardari), Mitchell Ryan (Sam Garrett), Brian Patrick Clarke (Robert Garrett).

4440 King's Party Line. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1946). A live program of music, audience participation, games, stunts and quizzes. The series ran from July 13, 1946 to December 28, 1946. Frances Buss is the producer.

Host: Carl King.

4441 King's Record Shop. (Live Test Program; Game; ABC; 10/25/45). A record is played by the host. Viewers call in and attempt to identify either the song or its singer. The program also featured a stunt segment that placed a married couple and a sailor in an isolation booth. The wife was blindfolded and had to detect which man was making advances toward her. The show was unscripted and relied mostly on the host's ability to ad lib.

Host: John Reed King.

4442 King's Row. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1955–1956). The town of King's Row at the turn of the century is the setting. The dramatic story of Dr.

Parris Mitchell, a psychiatrist, as he attempts to begin a practice in his hometown. Based on the feature film of the same title and broadcast as seven segments of Warner Bros. Presents (which ran from September 13, 1955 to January 17, 1956).

Cast: Jack Kelly (Parris Mitchell), Nan Leslie (Randy Monaghan), Peggy Webber (Elsie Sandor), Robert Horton (Drake McHugh), Victor Jory (Dr. Alexander Tower), Lillian Bronson (Grandma), Robert Burton (Dr. Gordon). Host: Gig Young.

4443 Kingston: Confidential. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1977). R.B. Kingston is the editor-in-chief of the Frazier News Group, an influential organization of newspapers and television stations in California. R.B. is also not a man to sit around and let others do the work when an important story breaks. He was an investigative reporter who worked his way up to the top, but he never forgot his roots. Stories follow R.B. as he takes an active part in covering crime stories.

Jessica Frazier is the head of the organization; Beth Kelly and Tony Marino are reporters who assist R.B. See also Kingston: The Power Play for information on the series pilot film. The series produced 13 episodes.

Cast: Raymond Burr (R.B. Kingston), Pamela Hensley (Beth Kelly), Art Hindle (Tony Marino), Nancy Olson (Jessica Frazier), Milt Kogan (Police Lt. Vokeman).

4444 Kingston: The Power Play. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/15/76). The pilot film for Kingston: Confidential about R.B. Kingston, an investigative reporter for the Frazier News Group, an influential organization of newspapers and TV stations in California (in the series, R.B. is the news group's editor-in-chief). In the pilot episode, Kingston attempts to stop madmen who are planning to use nuclear power plants to control the world. Other Regulars: Beth and Tony, reporters; Laura, the head of Frazier; and Police Lieutenant Vokeman.

Cast: Raymond Burr (R.B. Kingston), Pamela Hensley (Beth Kelly), Lenka Peterson (Laura Frazier), James Canning (Tony Kolsky), Milt Kogan (Lieutenant Vokeman). Guest Cast: Bradford Dillman (Avery Stanton), Dina Merrill (Helen Martinson), Stacy Keach (Dr. Eberly), Martin Kove (Delany), Robert Mandan (Senator Hobath), R.G. Armstrong (Father Reardon), Robert Sampson (Sam Trowbridge), Biff McGuire (Pat Martinson).

4445 Kirk. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1995–1997). Kirk Hartman is a recent college graduate who has just entered the work force but also has an added responsibility in his life: caring for his younger brothers and sisters (Phoebe, Corey and Russell) after their parents are killed in a car accident. Kirk lives in a small apartment in Manhattan and, although cramped, the family manages to get along with each other.

Kirk is a happy-go-lucky young man who always has a cherry outlook. Even when something gets him down he always manages to bounce back and move on. Kirk is a talented artist and has a dream to create his own comic book character (Stan Lee is his idol). He first worked as a graphic artist for Graphics, a company that paints billboards. Next he becomes a artist for Wham Comics then executive vice president of creative affairs for Shotz Comics, a company that produces Barney the Badger comic books. He is later assigned to draw the characters for a revised version of an old comic called Mercury Man. Kirk also manages to create his own comic book character, Magno Man (a super hero who has all the powers of Earth's magnetic forces). In last season episodes, Kirk married his neighbor, Elizabeth Waters, a nurse at St. Bernard's Hospital (the newly formed family also moves to a larger apartment).

Phoebe has just become a teenager and his having a difficult time adjusting to the fact that she is growing up. She feels she now needs her own space and talking to Kirk about "girl things" just doesn't work (things don't always appear clear to Kirk at first. He needs a ton of bricks to fall on him at times — like Phoebe hinting and hinting she needs her first bra — not "Hello Kitty" undershirts). Corey is the wild and unpredictable. Kirk feels his middle name should be trouble because that is all that he finds. He is also fascinated by Kirk's hoodlum-like friend, Eddie, who works as a clown at the local car wash (later employed as a valet at the Parker Health Club). Kirk feels Corey may be following in Eddie's care-free lifestyle and is trying to convince Eddie to not be so cool around Corey. Russell is the youngest member of the family (seven) and basically the only one who listens to Kirk and who presents little or no problems for him.

Cast: Kirk Cameron (Kirk Hamilton), Taylor Fry (Phoebe Hartman), Will Estes (Corey Hartman), Courtland Mead (Russell Hartman), Chelsea Noble (Elizabeth Waters), Louis Vanaria (Eddie Verducci).

4446 Kiss Me ... Kill Me. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/8/76). Stella Stafford is a former police woman turned investigator for Edward Fuller of the Los Angeles District Attorney's Office. The unsold series was to relate Stella's exploits as she risks her life to solve crimes. The pilot episode follows Stella's efforts to prove that an ex-con is not responsible for the murder of a young schoolteacher.

Cast: Stella Stevens (Stella Stafford), Robert Vaughn (Edward Fuller), Dabney Coleman (Police Captain Logan). Guest Cast: Michael Anderson, Jr. (Dan Hodges), Claude Akins (Harry Grant), Tisha

Sterling (Maureen Coyle), Pat O'Brien (Jimmy), Bruce Boxleitner (Douglas Lane), Steve Franken (Murray).

4447 Kissifur. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1985). Dissatisfied with life in the circus, a young bear cub (Kissifur) and his father (Gus) leave the big top to begin life elsewhere. Stories relate their adventures as they attempt to enjoy their new lives in a swampland kingdom.

4448 Kit Carson. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1956). The shortened title for The Adventures of Kit Carson. See this title for information.

4449 Kitchen Confidential. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2005). From the age of eight years, Jack Bourdain knew exactly what he wanted to do — become a chef. At the age of 12 he would dress in a chef's outfit and prepared the family's Thanksgiving dinner. Twelve years later he appeared on the cover of the New Yorker magazine with the headline "Raw Ambition: Jack Bourdain creates a Feeding Frenzy."

Jack worked as the head chef at the Icaru Restaurant in Manhattan but smoking pot and accidentally setting the restaurant on fire got him fired and busted. Four years later (2005) he was released from prison and acquired a job at the Nolita, a top Manhattan restaurant. Stories revolve around Jack as he attempts to prepare meals and deal with a mixed bag of outrageous employees.

Other Regulars: Seth, the pastry chef; Teddy, the seafood chef; Steve, the kitchen manager; Mimi, the daughter of the restaurant owner; and kitchen workers Jim and Tanya.

4450 Kitchen Nightmares. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2007). A spin-off from Hell's Kitchen (wherein Chef Gordon Ramsay put potential chefs through hell seeking one to run his restaurant). Rather than be chained to the kitchen, Chef Ramsay takes to the road to solve the kitchen nightmares of restaurants across the country. Nothing gets Chef Ramsay more angered than an untidy restaurant's kitchen (or staff members who do not seem to know what they are doing). Chef Ramsay is sort of the 911 of the restaurant world and episodes relate his efforts to solve the problems restaurants are encountering. Based on the British series of the same title.

Host: Gordon Ramsay.

4451 Kitty Foyle. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1958). The dramatic story of Kitty Foyle, a teenage girl "just discovering life." The series ran from January 13, 1958 to June 27, 1958.

Cast: Kathleen Murray (Kitty Foyle), Bob Hastings (Edward Foyle), Ralph Dunn (Pop Foyle), Judy Lewis (Molly Scharf), Patty Duke (Molly; flashbacks as a girl), Billy Redfield (Wyn Stafford), Jan Merlin (Kenneth), Les Damon (Rosie Rittenhouse), Valerie Cassert (Olivia Stafford), Marie Worsham (Stacylea), Lanny Robinson (Mac), Casey Allen (Ma Balla), Mae Barnes (Myrtle), Martin Newman (Carter Hamilton), Arnold Robinson (Joe Gaines), Conrad Fowkes (Flip), Kay Medford (Sophie), Karl Webber (George Harvey).

4452 The Kitty Wells/Johnny Wright Family Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1969). The program spotlights the performances of country and western entertainers with singers Kitty Wells and Johnny Wright as the hosts.

Hosts: Kitty Wells, Johnny Wright. Regulars: Carol Sue Wright, Bobby Wright, Bill Phillips, Rudy Wright.

4453 Klein Time. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/2/77). An unsold weekly series of skits with comedian Robert Klein (who is assisted by a group of regulars and guest stars).

Host: Robert Klein. Regulars: Hilary Jean Bean, Michael Keaton, Kres Mersky, Gailard Sartain. Guests: Peter Boyle, Madeline Kahn.

4454 Klondike. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1960–1961). The muddy gold mining camps of Skagway, Alaska, in 1898 are the setting for a series that follows events in the lives of four people: Michael ("Mike") Halliday, an adventurer who has come to Skagway to find his fortune; Katherine ("Kathy") O'Hara, the daughter of a sea captain, who is struggling to operate the Golden Nugget Hotel and maintain an honest operation in a lawless territory; and Jeff Durain and Goldie, an ingenious con artist and his beautiful assistant, who seek to become rich on the fortunes of others.

Mike resides in Room 2 of the hotel; the town saloon is the Monte Carlo Gambling Hall; and the Circuit Queen is the riverboat that services the area. The "Klondike" theme was written and performed by Vic Mizzy. See also The Alaskans.

4455 The Knife and Gun Club. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/30/90). A medical drama set in the emergency room of Osler General Hospital in Los Angeles. During the week it is an emergency room, but from Friday Midnight to dawn on Monday it is referred to as “The Knife and Gun Club” due to the hospital’s location in an area riddled with drugs, crime, accidents and sudden illnesses. The unsold series was to relate the work of Drs. Matt Haley and Jack Ducette and nurses Nancy Denison and Mary Faulk. Ginny is Jack’s wife.

Cast: Perry King (Matt Haley), Dorian Harewood (Jack Ducette), Cynthia Bain (Nancy Denison), Fran Bennett (Mary Faulk), Suzanne Douglas (Ginny Ducette). Guest Cast: Judith Hoag (Annie), Daniel Jenkins (Jeff), Luis A. Ramos (Figgy), Fabiana Udenio (Teresa Imperato), Peggy Doyle (Mrs. Lewis), Julian Reyes (Henry), Robina Suwol (Tally Ryder), Bergan Williams (Parles), Marcus Chong (George).

4456 Knight and Daye. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989). When Hank Knight and Everett Daye, the hosts of a morning radio talk show of the 1940s called Knight and Daye (over New York station WLMM) have a dispute over a woman, they dissolve the program and go their separate ways. Thirty years later (1989) KLOP radio station manager Janet Glickman arranges a reunion between the two men in hopes of getting them to do a show for her station. The meeting brings about what Janet had hoped for when Hank and Everett agree to do The Knight and Daye Show for the San Diego area. The six-episode program relates their misadventures as they form a new friendship and attempt to do a daily radio program.

Other Regulars: Gloria, Everett’s wife; Ellie, Everett’s married daughter; Cito, Ellie’s husband, and Chris, Amy and Laurie, Ellie’s children. The series ran from July 8, 1989 to August 14, 1989.

Cast: Jack Warden (Hank Knight), Mason Adams (Everett Daye), Hope Lange (Gloria Daye), Julia Campbell (Janet Glickman), Lela Ivey (Ellie Escobar), Joe Lala (Cito Escobar), Emily Schulman (Chris Escobar), Shiri Appleby (Amy Escobar), Brittany Thornton (Laurie Escobar).

4457 A Knight in Shining Armour. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 3/19/71). The pilot film for Getting Together about Bobby Conway, a composer, and Lionel Poindexter, a tone-deaf lyricist, as they attempt to make a name for themselves in the music business. The pilot episode, broadcast on The Partridge Family, relates how the Partridges unite Bobby and Lionel and give them their first break by recording their first song. The episode ends with Bobby and Lionel driving off to Los Angeles to begin the rocky road to fame in the music world.

Cast: Bobby Sherman (Bobby Conway), Wes Stern (Lionel Poindexter). Guest Cast: Shirley Jones (Shirley Partridge), David Cassidy (Keith Partridge), Susan Dey (Laurie Partridge), Danny Bonaduce (Danny Partridge).

4458 Knight of the Realm. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). An unsold series, set in medieval times, that tells the tale of Dennis St. Dennis, a knight-at-arms and owner of a village (which he won during a joust) as he struggles to protect its eccentric citizens from the evil Black Knight, who is fiercely guarding his province.

Cast: Clayton Rohner (Dennis St. Dennis), Christine Dunford (Anne Hanover), Paul Benedict (Bob), Bobcat Goldthwait (Navy Blue Knight), Phil Buckman (Francis), Michael Talbot (Grizelda), Cameron Thor (Percy), Tony Jay (Narrator).

4459 Knight Rider. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1982–1986). KITT is a Knight Industries Two Thousand black Trans Am car (plate KNIGHT) that was created for the Foundation for Law and Government as a means to battle crime. It is made of a molecular bonded shell. The car is able to talk via its ultra sophisticated and elaborate micro circuitry. April Curtis is KITT’s engineer; Bonnie Barstow is a computer whiz and electronics expert who developed SID (Satellite Infiltration Drone), a bugging device that can go where KITT cannot.

KITT’s driver is Michael Knight, a former police officer with the 11th Precinct of the L.A.P.D. At this time Michael was known as Michael Long.

While on an undercover assignment, Long was shot in the face during a bust that went wrong. Although not expected to survive, he is saved by Wilton Knight, a dying billionaire and owner of Knight Industries, who provides life-saving surgery, a new face (patterned after his own when he was young), a new identity, and a mission: apprehend criminals who are above the law. Michael now works for Devon Miles, the head of the Foundation for Law and Government. Michael calls KITT “Buddy.”

KITT’s prototype was KARR (Knight Automated Roving Robot), an evil car that Wilton designed as the car of the future; he neglected, however, to program it with a respect for human life. KITT’s enemy is Goliath, an indestructible truck owned by Wilton’s evil son, Garthe. Garthe seeks to kill Michael because he feels he is a living and breathing insult to his likeness. Michael Sloan and Glen A. Larson composed the theme.

Richard Basehart opens the show: “Michael Knight, a young loner on a crusade to champion the cause of the innocent, the helpless, the powerless in the world of criminals who operate above the law.”

Cast: David Hasselhoff (Michael Knight), William

Daniels (Voice of KITT), Edward Mulhare (Devon Miles), Rebecca Holden (April Curtis), Patricia McPherson (Bonnie Bristow), Susan Norman (Shawn McCormick), Lynne Marta (Laura Phillips; April's sister), Robyn Lively (Becky Phillips; Laura's daughter), David Hasselhoff (Garthe Knight), Peter Cullen (Voice of KARR), Richard Basehart (Wilton Knight).

Note: On February 17, 2008, NBC aired Knight Rider, an update of the series. It is the present day and there is a new KITT (Knight Industries Three Thousand). KITT has many improvements, including the ability to change shape and color. The ordinary everyday KITT is called KITT Hero; in defense mode it is KITT Attack; when placed in the driverless mode it is KITT Remote.

In the original series viewers were led to believe that Wilton Knight created KITT. Here it is a scientist named Charles Graiman (Bruce Davison) who created KITT for Wilton. His daughter, Sarah (Deanna Russo), a 24-year-old Ph.D candidate at Stanford University in California, is following in his footsteps. Mike Tracer (Justin Bruening), a 23-year-old ex-Army Ranger (and childhood friend of Sarah's), is chosen to drive KITT. Carrie Rivai (Sydney Tamiia Poirier) is the FBI agent Knight Industries helps (and vice versa) to bring criminals to justice. Val Kilmer provides the voice for KITT.

4460 Knight Rider 2000. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 5/19/91). An unsold attempt to update Knight Rider. The Foundation for Law and Government and Knight Industries have been combined to form the Knight Foundation, an independent corporation that is concerned with law enforcement and seeks to help various police departments enforce the law. The time is the year 2000, and the foundation's ultimate weapon against crime is the Knight Rider 4000 car, a highly upgraded model of the original Knight Industries 2000 (KITT).

Although the red Knight Rider 4000 is still in the experimental stage, Devon Miles, the head of the foundation, decides to recruit Michael Knight, KITT's former driver, to come back to the foundation and help them launch the new car. Michael left the foundation in 1990 to open a bass charter service. He now lives in a house by the lake and drives a classic 1957 Chevrolet.

Michael is reluctant at first and becomes bitter when he learns that KITT has been dismantled and his parts sold off. Devon orders the repurchase of KITT's parts; all but one memory chip is recovered.

Meanwhile, Officer Shawn McCormick of the Metropolitan Police Department is shot in the head at point blank range during a case investigation. To save her life, Shawn is given a memory chip transplant to replace the part of her brain that was lost. The chip used is KITT's missing chip, which was sold to a trauma hospital. When Shawn finds that she has lost all memory of what happened to her and will be assigned to desk duty, she quits. She applies for a position at the Knight Foundation — and is hired when Russell ("Russ") Maddock, Devon's assistant and the designer of the Knight 4000, discovers that she carries KITT's memory chip in her brain. She is teamed with Michael, and together they solve their first crime via the Knight 4000 (breaking up a ring of illegal handgun smugglers). The proposed series was to follow Michael and Shawn as they use KITT to apprehend criminals who believe they are above the law. Theme: "The New Knight Rider Theme," by Jan Hammer.

Cast: David Hasselhoff (Michael Knight), Susan Norman (Shawn McCormick), Carmen Argenziano (Russ Maddock), Edward Mulhare (Devon Miles), William Daniels (Voice of KITT).

4461 Knight Rider 2010. (Pilot; Adventure; Syn.; 2/4/94). A proposed series, though not based on Knight Rider, about Jake McQueen, an outlaw turned law enforcer who uses a high tech car to battle crime. The story is set in the year 2010. Jake was a smuggler (brought aliens into the U.S. from Mexico) and was apprehended by his brother, Will, a U.S. marshal.

Shortly after Jake's girlfriend, Hannah Tyree, arranges for his bail, Jake's father, Zeke McQueen, is killed by thugs. Zeke, an automotive genius, ran a garage and left Jake a special engine he designed. With the help of his friend, Junkyard Dean, Jake places the engine in a 1969 Ford Mustang and equips the car with weapons and a special coating that protects it from bullets and fire.

As Jake and Will team to find their father's killers, Hannah, a virtual reality video game designer for the Crybalis Corporation, discovers that the company owner (Jarod) is involved in illegal medical experiments (to cure Lou Gehrig's Disease). To keep his secret, Jarod has Hannah killed. Hannah, however, does not actually die. Before she dies, she transforms her life force to a special crystal prism she developed. Jake discovers the prism and attaches it to a special unit in his car. Hannah, now composed of electrons, has unlimited power, can speak to Jake and appear to him via a holographic image she projects. Hannah "lives" in the car and assists Jake as he and Will attempt to uphold the law (Will is unaware that Hannah is part of Jake's car).

Cast: Richard Joseph Paul (Jake McQueen), Michael Beach (Will McQueen), Heidi Leigh (Hannah Tyree), Don McManus (Junkyard Dean). Guest Cast: Una Damon (Maria), Badja Djola (Zeke McQueen), Brion James (Jarod), Kimberly Norris (Ka- bookie), Joseph Redondo (Cholo), Nicky Katt (Robert Lee).

4462 Knight Watch. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1988–1989). Father Tim is a Catholic priest with a most unusual sideline — he presides over the Knights of the City, an inner-city community group that protects people from the criminal elements of an unidentified city.

Tony, Calvin, Casey, Burn and Condo are the principal members of the Knights of the City. Their gang is based in the basement of Father Tim's church and although the Knights engage in some violent confrontations with evildoers, Father Tim stresses (but knows it cannot be) non violent confrontations. Stories follow Tony and the Knights as they seek to keep the bad elements out of their community.

4464 The Knights of Prosperity. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2006–2007). Eugene Gurkin is a janitor with a dream — own his own bar in his Queens, New York neighborhood. Problem is he doesn't have the money (only $89 in the bank and he can't get a bank loan). One night while watching E-News Eugene sees a story in which singer Mick Jagger flaunts his wealth. Suddenly an idea dawns on him — rob Mick Jagger to make his dream become a reality.

Eugene knows a lot of people who are in the same situation and he recruits five of them to help him achieve not only his dream, but those of his fellow thieves: Squatch (a janitor), Esperanza (a beautiful waitress at Ruby's, the bar hangout), Gary (a cabbie), Rockefeller (a security guard; real name Reginald Von Hoogstratten) and Louis Plunkin ("the intern" college student who first believed Eugene was making a sequel to the movie Taxi). Once Eugene forms his group, he exclaims "We henceforth have a criminal organization — the Knights of Prosperity." The group also acquires a meeting place (their headquarters) — Glickman's Jewish Supplies (a warehouse).

The Knights are quite inexperienced and their comical attempts to plot, plan and execute the heist is the focal point of the series (which was originally titled Let's Rob Mick Jagger. The pilot episode features Mick flaunting his wealth before each commercial break). When the caper to rob Mick Jagger fails (someone beat them and were caught), the Knights first choose Kelly Ripa as their next target ("Let's Rob Kelly Ripa"). However, by the end of the episode (of February 28, 2007), the Knights change their mind and choose comedian Ray Romano as the one to rob. When the series returned (August 8, 2007) Ray Romano was still their target and the Knights planned to rob him of a $1.5 million dollar diamond ring that he owns. The series, however, was cancelled after the first return episode.

Cast: Donal Logue (Eugene Gurkin), Lenny Ventio (Squatch), Sofia Vergara (Esperanza), Maz Jobrani (Gary), Kevin Michael Richardson (Rockefeller), Josh Grisetti (Louis Plunkin).

4465 Knockout. (Series; Game; NBC; 1977–1978). Three contestants compete in a game wherein they have to spell the word "knockout." Four items appear on a board (for example, peach, apple, mustard and pizza) and the first player to identify the out-of-place item (mustard in the above example) wins one letter of the word "knockout." The player can win a second letter by naming the common denominator for all these items (pies in the example). The first player to spell the word "knockout" is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Arte Johnson. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

4466 Knots Landing. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1979–1993). A spin-off from Dallas that is set in fictional Knots Landing, California. Serial-like episodes follow the lives of Valene and Gary Ewing, the outcast members of the oil-rich Ewing family of Dallas. The prime-time soap opera also focuses on the lives of the Sumner, Fairgate, Avery and Ward families.

Gary Ewing is the middle son of Jock and Ellie Ewing (J.R. and Bobby are his brothers). Although born to wealth, Gary became a rodeo rider. It was at this time that he met Valene Clements, who worked as a waitress in a diner. It was a love at first sight and they married shortly after (they settled in Braddock, Texas, on his parents Southfork Ranch). They became the parents of Lucy.

Gary worked as a salesman for Sid Fairgate, the owner of Knots Landing Motors (a classic car dealership). Sid and his wife, Karen, were the parents of Eric, Michael and Diana. Kenny Ward, a recording executive, is married to Ginger; and Richard, an unscrupulous attorney, is married to Laura, a successful real estate agent.

Abby Cunningham is Sid's sister, the divorced mother of two children, Brian and Olivia. Lillimae, Valene's mother, later came to live with Valene and Gary. It was at this time (1981) that Valene wrote the tell tale book about the Ewings called Capricorn Crude. A year later, Gary divorced Valene and married Abby. Chip Roberts was Valene's press agent; Ciji Dunne was the singer Chip dated. Richard's philandering caused Laura to divorce him in 1983. Karen Married attorney Mack McKenzie in 1983; Gregory Sumner was the powerful state senator. Paul Galverston was the corrupt tycoon. Joshua Rush was Lillimae's son.

4467 Koala Brothers. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2003). Frank and Buster Koala are brothers who live in the Australian outback. They own a two-seat airplane and stories follow their adventures as they set out on missions to help others. The series is a puppet-animated program and each of the stories is meant to relay a message (like responsibility, caring, sharing) to children. Ned, a wombat, is Frank and Buster's mechanic; Mitzi, a possum, is Frank and Buster's know-it-all neighbor; Alice, a platypus, is the absent-minded messenger; George, a slow-moving tortoise, is the mailman; Sammy, an echidna, is the owner of the town's general store; Josie, a kangaroo, works the gas pump at Sammy's.

Voice Cast: Keith Wickman (Buster), Keith

Wickman (Frank), Keith Wickman (Archie), Keith Wickman (Sammy), Jonathan Coleman (Narrator).

Cast: Hope Emerson (Maw Shufflebottom), Jo Hurt (Josie Belle Shufflebottom). Regulars: Stan Fritz, Jimmy Allen, Eddie Grosso, Howard McElroy, Marty Gold, Nels Laakso, Charles Koenig, Joan Nobles, The Korn Kobbler.

4469 Kodak Request Performance. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1955). Rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. The series, sponsored by Kodak, ran from April 13, 1955 to September 28, 1955.

Host: Jack Clark.

4470 Kodiak. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1974). Cal McKay is a rugged member of the Alaska State Police Patrol. He has been nicknamed "Kodiak" (after the great bear that roams the area by the natives) for his relentless pursuit of justice. Stories follow Cal, and his assistant, Abraham Lincoln Imhook, as they risk their lives to protect the people of Alaska. Mandy is their police radio dispatcher.

Cast, Clint Walker (Cal "Kodiak" McKay), Abner Biberman (Abraham Lincoln Imhook), Maggie Blye (Mandy).

4471 Kojak. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; ABC; 1973–1990). The Manhattan South Precinct of the N.Y.P.D. is an old building that is cold in the winter and hot in the summer. The detectives work long hours and overtime is a necessary part of the job. The coffee is one step ahead of suicide and the squad room detectives joke all the time — "They have to. These guys don't know what they'll find out there. It could be a killer with a .351 Magnum or a body chopped into pieces. They gotta get their laughs when they can," says Theo Kojak, a dedicated, hard-working detective whose beat is lower Manhattan.

Kojak was previously an officer with the 26th Precinct. He works on hunches that often pay off, and when he personally becomes involved in a case, he becomes fixated and doesn't care what it takes to solve it. Kojak says, "I don't care about my badge; I don't care about my pension. But somebody's gonna take a hard fall for what they did." He smokes pencil-thin cigars, but is famous for being the only cop on the force who loves lollipops — the round Tootsie Roll Pops. Theo is abrasive and has to be to deal with the gory cases he investigates. Because of the nature of cases, there are no female detectives in Theo's unit.

Stella's is Theo's favorite restaurant and Irene Van Patten is his romantic interest. Theo is Greek and his catchphrase is "Who loves ya, baby." Frank McNeil is the chief of detectives, and Theo most often works with detectives Crocker, Stavros, Rizzo and Saperstein. While Kojak is forever yelling "Crocker!" "Saperstein!" and "Rizzo!," he calls only Crocker by a first name (Bobby). Theo refers to his men as yo-yo's when they get into arguments, and he calls Crocker and Saperstein Laurel and Hardy or Abbott and Costello when they work together. George Savalas, Telly's brother, originally worked under the name Demosthenes.

In the ABC version (1989–1990), Kojak is a police inspector with the 74th Precinct in Manhattan and his assistant is Detective Warren Blake. Kevin Dobson reprised his role in the episode of February 3, 1990, "It's Always Something." He is now assistant D.A. Robert Crocker. Kojak's lollipops have also been changed from Tootsie Roll Pops to an unknown sugar-free brand. The pops are wrapped in clear cellophane. Billy Goldenberg composed the original CBS theme "Kojak"; Mike Post composed the revised ABC theme "The New Kojak Theme."

Cast: Telly Savalas (Lt. Theo Kojak), Dan Frazer (Chief Frank McNeil), Kevin Dobson (Lt. Bobby Crocker), George Savalas (Detective Stavros), Vince Conti (Detective Rizzo), Mark Russell (Detective Saperstein), Carole Cook (Marie Stella; restaurant owner), Diane Baker (Irene Van Patten), Darrell Zivering (Detective Agajanian), Borah Silver (Detective Prince), Shelley Winters (Evelyn McNeil; Frank's sister-in-law), Michael Mullins (Johnny; Kojak's nephew), Eunice Christopher (Mary; Johnny's mother).

Note: Telly Savalas also played Kojak in three TV movies:

1. The Marcus-Nelson Murders (CBS, March 8, 1973). The pilot film for the CBS series. Here Theo attempts to help a teenager who is being wrongly convicted for the murder of two men.

2. Kojak: The Belarus File (CBS, February 16, 1985). Kojak teams with FBI agent Dana Sutton (Suzanne Pleshette) to find the killer of elderly Russian immigrants. Dan Frazer, George Savalas, Mark Russell and Vince Conti reprised their earlier roles.

3. Kojak: The Price of Justice (CBS, February 21, 1987). Theo, now an inspector at the precinct ("They let me join the club") investigates the case of a woman accused of murdering two children.

4472 Kojak. (Series; Crime Drama; USA; 2005). A remake of the 1973–1978 CBS series of the same title in which Telly Savalas played Detective

Theo Kojak, a bald, Greek, lollipop-loving crime fighter for the N.Y.P.D. For the new series, Theo Kojak is black and bald but he uses lollipops to help him kick his smoking habit (the original Kojak did smoke-pencil thin cigars).

The 1970s Kojak would not allow a woman to become a part of his team because he felt the gruesome aspects of the crimes he handles were too much for a woman to handle. The new Kojak has a female member of the team, Emily Patterson, a woman who can handle anything her male counterparts can handle. Bobby Crocker, Theo's partner, and Frank McNeil, their captain, has also been resurrected from the original series. New to the series are Detective Henry Messina and Carmen Warrick, the Assistant District Attorney. Stories follow Theo's intensive case investigations as he and his team seek to solve disturbing crimes.

Cast: Ving Rhames (Lt. Theo Kojak), Chazz Palminteri (Capt. Frank McNeil), Michael Kelly (Det. Bobby Crocker), Sybil Temchine (Det. Emily Patterson), Chuck Shamata (Det. Henry Messina), Roselyn Sanchez (Carmen Warrick).

4473 Kolchak: The Night Stalker. (Series; Thriller; ABC; 1974–1975). When first introduced in the television movie The Night Stalker (ABC, 1/11/72), Carl Kolchak is a down-on-his-luck reporter for the Las Vegas Daily News. He has been a reporter for 22 years, and he apparently first becomes involved with the supernatural when he attempts to prove that Janos Skorzeny (Barry Atwater) is a modern-day vampire and responsible for the deaths of several showgirls. Although he does prove it (and kills Janos by driving a stake through his heart), Carl is prevented by the police from printing his story; he is charged with murder (but not jailed) and ordered to leave town.

Carl, who wears a white suit and hat, next turns up in Seattle as a reporter for the Washington, D.C., Daily Chronicle (in the television movie, The Night Strangler, ABC, 1/16/73). Here, Carl tries to solve the bizarre murders of young women: beginning in 1889, and every 21 years thereafter (during an 18 day period from March 29 through April 16), six women have been murdered — found with crushed necks and partially drained of blood. Carl discovers that the crimes were committed by Dr. Richard Malcolm (Richard Anderson), a doctor who had found a means of gaining immortality which requires human blood.

When the series begins, Carl is a reporter for the INS (Independent News Service) in Chicago. His easily exasperated editor, Anthony ("Tony") Vincenzo, has assigned him to investigate stories of general interest, not the bizarre (which Carl manages to stumble upon week after week). Episodes relate the constant bickering between the two men as Carl defies Tony and seeks stories involving supernatural creatures.

Emily Cowles is an INS advice columnist ("Dear Emily"); Ron Updyke and Monique Marmelstein are INS reporters; Gordon ("Gordie the Ghoul") Spangler is Carl's contact at the morgue. Theme: "The Night Stalker," by Gil Mille. See also Night Stalker.

Cast: Darren McGavin (Carl Kolchak), Simon Oakland (Tony Vincenzo), Jack Grinnage (Ron Updyke), Carol Ann Susi (Monique Marmelstein), John Fielder (Gordon Spangler), Ruth McDevitt (Emily Cowles).

4474 Komedý Tonite. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 5/9/78). A proposed series of music, songs and comedy sketches with an all-black cast of regulars.

Regulars: Cleavon Little, Paula Kelly, Marion Ramsey, Shon Vaughn, Charles Valentino. Guests: Todd Bridges, Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, Paul Lynde, Danielle Spencer. Music: H.B. Barnum.

4475 Kong: The Animated Series. (Series; Cartoon; ABC Family; 20000). A very loosely based adaptation of the 1933 feature film King Kong. When the feature film ended, King Kong, the giant gorilla, fell from the Empire State Building. For the series, there was apparently a scientist named Lorna Jenkins who was present at the scene and was somehow able to get some of Kong's DNA. She used the sample to clone Kong and later took him back to his home on Skull Island so he could be protected from the world. Some time later, Lorna's grandson, Jason and his friend, Tan, bring their teacher to the island to show him King Kong. The teacher, Ramon De La Porta, however, has other plans (to steal the island's rare and valuable Primal Stones, which control the balance of the island). After accomplishing his plan and disappearing with the stones, Jason, Tan and a Shaman island girl, Lua, team with Kong and begin a worldwide journey to capture Ramon and return the stones to the island. Stories relate their efforts.

Voice Cast: Kirby Morrow (Jason Jenkins), Scott McNeil (Eric "Tan" Tannenbaum), Daphne Goldrich (Dr. Lorna Jenkins), Saffron Henderson (Lua), David Kaye (Ramon De La Porta), Ron Halder (Andre), Paul Dobson (Chyros), Nicole Oliver (Tiger Lucy), Pauline Newstone (Harpy), Richard Newman (Howling Jack Crockett).

4476 The Kopycats. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1972). A weekly summer series of skits and songs that features impersonations of show business personalities. The series ran from June 21, 1972 to August 10, 1972. Dwight Hemion and Gary Smith are the producers.

The Kopycats: Rich Little, Marilyn Michaels,

Frank Gorshin, George Kirby, Charlie Callas, Joe Baker, Fred Travaleña. Regulars: The Norman Maen Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

Cast: Jim Malinda (Korg), Bill Ewing (Bok), Naomi Pollack (Mara), Christopher Man (Tane), Charles Morted (Tor), Janelle Pransky (Ree), Burgess Meredith (Narrator).

4478 Koska and His Family. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 12/31/73). When he is unable to find work in his chosen field (an aerospace engineer), Herbert Koska decides to work at home and invent the things people need but haven't been invented yet. His efforts to do so, despite constant interruptions from his slightly off-the-wall family (his wife, Isabel; his children, Gina, Jimmy and Al; and his senile grandfather) was to be the focal point of the unsold series.

Cast: Herb Edelman (Herbert Koska), Barbara Barrie (Isabel Koska), Ellen Sherman (Gina Koska), Jack David Walker (Jimmy Koska), Albert Anderson (Al Koska), Liam Dunn (Grandpa Koska). Guest Cast: Jack Collins (Eugene), Nora Marlowe (Wilhelmina), Gil Barreto (Emmanuel).

4479 Kovacs on the Corner. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1951-1952). Comedian Ernie Kovacs, backed by regulars Edie Adams and Joe Behar, perform in a weekly program of sketches and blackouts that satirize everyday life.

4480 Kovacs Unlimited. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1952-1954). Split second blackouts and sketches that satirize everyday life. Comedian Ernie Kovacs, the host, is backed by singer Edie Adams and regulars Andy McKay, Trig Lund and Peter Hanley.

4481 The Kowboys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/13/70). A musical spoof of the Old West as seen through the adventures of four flower children (Matthew, Smitty, Zak and Sweetwater) as they travel from town to town helping people in trouble. In the pilot episode, the quartet attempts to help the people of Civilization rescue their town from a power-hungry boss.

4482 The Kraft Music Hall. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1958-1962). A weekly program of music, song and comedy sponsored by the Kraft Foods Company. Nick Vanoff and Ray Charles are the producers.

Hosts: Milton Berle, Perry Como, Dave King. Regulars: Ken Carpenter, The Bill Foster Dancers, The Jerry Packer Singers. Announcer: Ed Herlihy. Orchestra: Billy May, Mitchell Ayres.

4483 The Kraft Music Hall. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1967–1971). A series of music and comedy programs tailored to the talents of its weekly guest hosts. Sponsored by the Kraft Foods Company. Gary Smith and Dwight Hemion are the producers.

Regulars: The Peter Gennero Dancers, The Michael Bennett Dancers. Announcer: Ed Herlihy. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

4484 The Kraft Music Hall Presents Sandler and Young. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1969). A program of music and comedy featuring comedians Tony Sandler and Ralph Young. The series, taped in London, is sponsored by Kraft Foods. The summer replacement for The Kraft Music Hall.

Hosts: Tony Sandler, Ralph Young. Regulars: Judy Carne, The Paddy Stone Dancers. Announcer: Paul Griffith. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

4485 The Kraft Music Hall Presents the Dave King Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1959). The summer replacement for The Kraft Music Hall. An hour of music and songs with Dave King, a singer who has been called “The British version of Perry Como.” The series, sponsored by Kraft Foods, ran from May 26, 1959 to September 23, 1959.

Host: Dave King. Regulars: The Jerry Packer Singers, The Bill Foster Dancers. Announcer: Ed Herlihy. Orchestra: Vic Schoen.

4486 The Kraft Mystery Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1961–1963). A weekly series of mystery and suspense dramas originally intended for British television as well as repeats of dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology series. The series, sponsored by the Kraft Foods Company, ran from June 14, 1961 to September 27, 1961 (16 episodes); June 13, 1962 to September 26, 1962 (16 episodes); and June 19, 1963 to September 11, 1963 (13 episodes).

4490 Kristin. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2001). Kristin Yancey was born in Tulsa, Oklahoma and attended Broken Arrow High School. She is a talented singer and dancer and yearns to become a Broadway star. Kristin begins by moving to New York. Although she managed to get roles in two off-Broadway plays (Peter Pan in Schenectady, and A Kiss Before Midnight in Brooklyn) she finds disappointment when she auditions for a role in 42nd Street and is turned down. With a need for money she applies for the position of personal assistant to Tommy Ballantine, the wealthy owner of Ballantine Enterprises, a real estate development company.

Tommy made a lot of money really fast “and darn it if it hasn’t spoiled me rotten,” he says. He is so successful that he is called “New York’s Playboy Developer.” When he wants to eat dinner he makes reservations at his three favorite restaurants (Baltazar’s, Crescent and Moomba) because he is never sure at which one he wants to eat.

Stories follow Kristin as she continues to audition for Broadway shows and make her dream come true.

Other Regulars: Aldo, Tommy’s best friend and right hand man; Santa, a sales agent for Tommy who insists she be called “San-ta” not Santa; and Tyree, the bike messenger.

Bling’s Bar and Grill is Kristin’s favorite eatery. She has a tendency to talk too much and calls her reproduction area “Area 51—Private Territory Only.” In Tulsa Kristin worked as a weight counselor at Jenny Craig before leaving; her favorite drink is Moo Hoo (a chocolate milk drink “that gives me all my vitamins”). Tyree called his first bike Lucille; his current one is Whitney. San-ta enjoys smoking cigars with plastic tips. Kristin Chenoweth sings the theme, “Hold on to Who You Are.”

Cast: Kristin Chenoweth (Kristen Yancey), Jon Tenney (Tommy Ballantine), Larry Romano (Aldo Bonadonna), Ana Ortiz (San-Ta), Dale Godboldo (Tyree).

4491 The Krofft Komeday Hour. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 7/29/78). An unsold series of weekly comedy sketches coupled with performances by guest artists.

Hosts: Patty Harrison, Robin Tyler. Regulars: Bart Braverman, Gino Conforti, Kaptain Kool and the Kongs, Deborah Malone, Sheryl Lee Ralph. Guests: Redd Foxx, Sha Na Na.

4492 The Krofft Super Show. (Series; Children; ABC; 1976–1977). The overall title for three series: Dr. Shrinker, Electra Woman and Dyna Girl and Wonderbug. See individual titles for program information. The series itself is hosted by the rock group Kaptain Kool and the Kongs and features their songs and antics.

Cast: Michael Lembeck (Kaptain Kool), Debra Clinger (Super Chick), Louise Duart (Nashville), Micky McMeel (Turkey).

Voice Cast: Sam Vincent (Krypto), Alberto Ghisi (Kevin Whitney), Michael Dangerfield (Superman), Brian Dobson (Lex Luther), Nicole Oliver (Kevin’s mother), Dale Wilson (Paw Pooch), Kelly Sheridan (Mammoth Mutt), Scott McNeal (Bathound), Terry Klassen (Tusky Husky), Ellen Kennedy (Brainy Barker), Peter Kelamis (Tail Terrier), Nicole Bouma (Snooky Wookums). Additional Voices: Kathleen Barr, Brian Drummond, Matt Hall, Dallas McKinnon, Mark Oliver, Ty Olsson, Tabitha St. Germain.

4495 The Krypton Factor. (Series; Game; ABC; 1981). Four players compete in what was perhaps television’s most challenging game at the time: to match wits in various mental and physical contests. The title refers to the ultimate test of mental and physical ability and the program’s attempt to find one player who possesses the ultimate combination of intelligence and physical ability. The one player who scores the most points wins the game and $5000 in gold. Winners from the first four programs return to compete in the fifth program for $50,000 in gold. The program ended after five installments.

Host: Dick Clark. Announcer: Dick Tufeld.

Hindu mystic. The series ran from March 2, 1950 to June 17, 1950.

Host: Kuda Bux. Assitant: Janet Tyler. Announcer: Rex Marshall.

4497 Kudzu. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/13/83). The small town of Bypass, North Carolina, is the setting for a sentimental comedy about Odel "Kudzu" DuBose, a teenage boy who dreams of becoming a writer. In the pilot episode, Kudzu's attempts to write an article about his war-hero father leads him to uncover the truth: his father was really a no-account drifter who deserted his family 15 years earlier. Other Regulars: Mavis, Kudzu's mother; Dub, Kudzu's uncle, the owner of an antique store called Dub's Pineywoods One Stop; Betty Jane, Dub's salesgirl; and Kudzu's friends, Maurice and Veranda.

An announcer opens the show: "Here comes the fun, it's time for Kukla, Fran and Ollie. Martin Tossi presents Burr Tillstrom, creator of Kukla and Ollie and all the Kuklapolitan players, with Fran Allison in Kukla, Fran and Ollie."

Hostess: Fran Allison. Puppeteer-Voices: Burr Tillstrom. Regulars: Carolyn Gilbert, Cesar Giovannini. Announcer: Hugh Downs.

4499 Kung Fu. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1972–1975). Kwai Chang Caine is a fugitive Shaolin priest who wanders across the American frontier of the 1870s seeking an unknown brother. His travels bring him in contact with people in trouble and through Caine's efforts to help these people, the viewer learns of his past and upbringing through flashbacks.

Kwai Chang was born in China in the 1850s to a Chinese mother and an American father. He was orphaned shortly after but found a home at the Temple at Whonon when he was accepted by the priests to learn the art of Kung Fu, the medieval Chinese science of disciplined combat developed by Buddhist and Taoist monks. It is here that he befriends Master Po, the blind Shaolin priest who becomes his mentor and calls him "Grasshopper."

Caine trains and he learns. He also learns of Master Po's dream: to make a pilgrimage to the Forbidden City. A short time after Caine graduates from the temple, he meets Master Po on the road to the Temple of Heaven (which leads to the Forbidden City). As they journey to celebrate Master Po's dream, they encounter the bodyguards of the Royal Nephew. The guards are shoving people aside to allow passage of the Royal Nephew when one is tripped by Master Po. A ruckus ensues and Master Po is shot by one of the guards. At the request of his master, Caine takes a spear from a guard and kills the Royal Nephew of the Imperial House.

Before he dies, Master Po warns Caine to leave China and begin a new life elsewhere. The emperor dispatches men to find Caine; the Chinese Legation circulates posters: "Wanted for Murder: Kwai Chang Caine. $10,000 Alive. $5,000 Dead."

As Caine battles the injustice of the American West, he encounters situations that parallel those of his past. Flashbacks show Caine's strict training and the wisdom of his masters as he disciplines himself to face circumstances as a respected Shaolin priest (although Caine is seen killing in the pilot, the series depicts him as humble, just and wise, with a profound respect for human life). Danny Caine is the half-brother Kwai Chang is seeking. Jim Helms composed the theme.

Cast: David Carradine (Kwai Chang Caine), Keye Luke (Master Po), Radames Pera (Young Caine), Philip Ahn (Master Kan), John Leoning (Master Teh), Stephen Manley (Caine, age 6), Tim McIntire (Danny Caine), Season Hubley (Margit McLean; Caine's cousin).

4500 Kung Fu: The Legend Continues. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1993). "I am Caine. I will help you" are the comforting words heard by people in trouble when they find Kwai Chang Caine, a Shaolin priest and a master of the martial arts who uses his skill to defeat evil. He is also the grandson of his namesake, Kwai Chang Caine, the Shaolin priest of the 1870s who roamed the West helping people in trouble (see prior title).

The 1993 Caine is also the father of Peter Caine, a detective with the 101st Precinct of the Metro Division of the San Francisco Police Department. It was only recently, however, that the two found each other.

In 1978, Peter (Nathaniel Moreau) was a student in a northern California Shaolin Temple where his father, Kwai Chang, was a teacher. Chan, a former Shaolin priest who had been banned from the temple by Caine for his unorthodox ways, returns with a group of mercenaries to strike back — by destroying the temple. In the ensuing explosion, Kwai Chang is injured by a falling beam and Peter is hit by falling stones. Each believes the other has been killed. Both were found alive and rescued but neither knew of the other's existence. Peter was sent to an orphanage (his mother died when Peter was very young). A flashback episode recounts that at the orphanage Peter was befriended by Paul Blaisdell, a police captain who became his big brother and paved the way for him to enter the police academy. In a dialogue exchange in a later episode, Peter mentions that he was adopted by Paul and his blind wife, Annie. As Peter grew he rejected the ideals of the priests when he realized they were all empty ("I was given ideals like other kids were given ice cream"). It was his interest in television detective shows (The Rockford Files and Hill Street Blues were his favorites) that also influenced him ("I want to be one of the good guys").

In 1993, Peter is assigned to a case involving Chinese merchants being victimized by extortionists. At this same time, Kwai Chang arrives in San Francisco's Chinatown seeking Ping Hai (Kim Chang), an apothecary known as "The Ancient," who provides guidance for the Chinese community. Like his grandfather, Kwai Chang cannot stand by and do nothing. When thugs threaten Ping Hai, Caine involves himself as does Peter — and father and son find each other.

Kwai Chang acquires a loft in Chinatown and opens Master Caine's Kung Fu Academy. To find Caine, one needs only to ask for him by name.

Kwai Chang enjoys eating at the Golden Dragon Cafe and hates to be called "Pop" by Peter ("Don't ever call me that" he tells Peter). Kwai Chang also has an enemy — Chan, who is now a Chinese warlord and still out to settle a score.

While women were never seen as part of the Shaolin Temple, Caine did allow one woman, Valerie Mitchell (Cali Timmins) to join his northern California temple. She was a spiritual girl who wanted to learn the way of the Masters and Caine permitted her to do so. Jeff Danna composed the theme.

Cast: David Carradine (Kwai Chang Caine), Chris Potter (Peter Caine), Robert Lansing (Paul Blaisdell), Janet-Lanie Green (Annie Blaisdell), Ernest Abuba (Chan).

4501 Kung Fu: The Movie. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 2/1/86). An unsold attempt to revive Kung Fu. The story, set in 1885, continues to depict events in the life of Kwai Chang Caine, a fugitive Shaolin Chinese-American priest, martial arts expert and mystic as he roams the American West seeking an unknown brother. In the pilot episode, Caine attempts to break up an opium ring while at the same time battle the Manchu, a mysterious man who has sworn to kill him.

Cast: David Carradine (Kwai Chang Caine). Guest Cast: Mako (The Manchu), Keye Luke (Master Po), Kerrie Keane (Sarah Perkins), Martin Landau (John Martin Perkins III), Brandon Lee (Chung Wang), Luke Askew (Sheriff Mills), Benson Fong (Old One), William Lucking (Wyatt), Roland Harrah III (Liu).

4502 Kung Fu: The Next Generation. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/19/87). A modern-day update of the 1972–75 Kung Fu series. After years of wandering and helping people in trouble, Kwai Chang Caine marries and begins a family. Caine passes the wisdom of his training as a Shaolin priest to his son, who in turn passes it onto his son (Kwai Chang, the Kung Fu of the title), a 1980s father who has a rebellious son named Johnny (it is when Kwai Chang deters Johnny from a life of street crime that Johnny sees the wisdom of his father and joins with him to battle injustice). The pilot episode establishes the unsold series storyline. Other Regulars: Lieutenant Lois S. Poole, L.A.P.D.

4503 The Kwicky Koala Show. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1981–1982). The overall title for four animated segments.

1. Kwicky Koala. The adventures of Kwicky Koala, a fast moving but laid back Australian Koala Bear, and his nemesis, Wilfred Wolf, an ornery critter who plagues Kwicky with his various get-rich schemes.

2. Dirty Dawg. The story of Dirty Dawg, a down-on-his-luck dog, and his equally ragged pal, Ratso (a rat), as they attempt various cons to survive.

3. Crazy Claws. The adventures of Crazy Claws, a quick-witted wildcat, as he struggles to outwit Rawhide, a hunter who seeks Crazy Claws' hide.

4. The Bungle Brothers. The misadventures of George and Joey, two trouble-plagued dogs.

Voice Cast: Robert Allen Ogle (Kwicky Koala), John Stephenson (Wilfred Wolf), Frank Welker (Dirty Dog), Marshall Efrom (Ratso), Jim MacGeorge (Crazy Claws), Robert Allen Ogle (Rawhide), Peter Cullen (Bristeltooth), Michael Bell (Ranger)

Rangerfield), Allan Melvin (Joey), Michael Bell (George).

4504 The Kyle MacDonnell Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948). The alternate title for Girl About Town. See this title for information.

4505 Kyle XY. (Series; Drama; ABC Family; 2006–). The series opens in a forest with a 16-year-old boy apparently just being born. The boy, assumed to be an alien, is in awe of the wonders that surround him. The boy, however, is unable to speak (we hear his narration) and does not know where he is or how he got there. The boy begins to wander and soon find himself in the nearby town where he is arrested for indecent exposure (he is naked) and sent to a juvenile holding center in Seattle, Washington. Here, Lou Daniels, the head of the center, calls Nicole Trager, a psychologist friend, and tells her that he has something she should see. At the center, the boy, called John Doe, hears Nicole and Lou talking. There are no missing persons reports, no Amber Alerts — nothing relating to the boy. But there is one thing Lou does show Nicole — John Doe has no navel. He was also born as an adult and shows signs of great intelligence; but just like an infant he needs to learn. Nicole feels the boy, whom she names Kyle after Lou's brother, is unsafe at the center and elects to bring him home for observation. Stephen, Nicole's husband, and her children, Lori and Josh, originally opposed having a stranger in the house but later accepted him.

Kyle has no memory of being small. He learns by watching and listening (how he learns to speak English). The world is strange and confusing to Kyle. Nicole has made it her goal to figure out who he is, where he came from and where he belongs. Stories follow her efforts and each episode relates bits and pieces as to who or what Kyle may be.

The second season premiere explains that Kyle was an experiment based on Einstein's theory that the longer an embryo stays in the womb the smarter it will be. A man named Adam was the only survivor of the first such experiment (at this time, the surrogate mothers, who carried the child for 13 months, died in childbirth; the infants died shortly after). Adam knew his past and wanted to create a world of geniuses. He experimented and created a birth chamber with a pink fluid that could sustain life until the embryo reached an adult stage. Kyle was such an experiment — the first since Adam to survive. But Kyle is not alone. A second experiment, conducted by the visionaries produced a female — XX. This experiment escapes when an explosion destroys the lab. A bounty hunter (Emily Hollander) is hired by the company that created Kyle XY (Madacorp) to find her. The girl is nude, covered in pink "goo" (from the birth tank) and like Kyle, has no navel. She is found and captured by Emily and brought to Madacorp. Here she is programmed to be Jessica Hollander, Emily's sister (how she is programmed is not mentioned — only "We have the resources"). Madacorp's plan is put into action — use Jesse (as Jessica is called) to befriend Kyle and monitor him for Madacorp's ultimate goal — reclaim both XY and XX. But unknown to Madacorp, Kyle has a protector, Brian Taylor, the late Adam's faithful servant, who now watches over Kyle and helps him to understand his developing powers (Adam was shot by persons unknown).

Other Regulars: Amanda Bloom, the girl next door on whom Kyle has a crush; Heather, Lori's girlfriend; Declan, Lori's boyfriend; Tom Foss, the mysterious man who appears to know what Kyle is all about. Lori, Kyle and Josh attend Beachwood High School.

Cast: Matt Dallas (Kyle), Marguerite MacIntyre (Nicole Trager), Bruce Thomas (Stephen Trager), April Matson (Lori Trager), Jean-Luc Bilodeau (Josh Trager), Kirsten Prout (Amanda Bloom), Chelan Simmons (Heather), Nicholas Lea (Tom Foss), Chris Olivero (Declan), Leah Cairns (Emily Hollander), Jaimie Alexander (Jesse Hollander), Martin Cummings (Brian Taylor).

4506 The L Word. (Series; Drama; SHO; 2004–). An intimate look at the lives and loves of a select group of lesbians living in Los Angeles (West Hollywood). Principal focus is on Jenny Schecter, a graduate of Chicago University who moves to Los Angeles to live with her boyfriend, Tim Haspel, and begin a professional writing career. Her life changes when she attends a party and meets Bette Porter, Tim's next-door neighbor, a lesbian, and her lover, Tina Kennard.

At the party Jenny has a brief encounter with Maria, a lesbian who owns the local coffee house, the Planet, and is thrust into a whole new world. She begins to question her sexuality and becomes torn between her relationship with Tim and a new life-style that she enjoys.

Other Regulars: lesbians Dana, a pro tennis player looking for love; Alice, a magazine writer seeking the woman of her dreams; and Shane, the hairdresser who sleeps with women for her own pleasures and no commitment.

Cast: Mia Kirshner (Jenny Schecter), Jennifer Beals (Bette Porter), Erin Daniels (Dana Fairbanks), Leisha Hailey (Alice Pieszecki), Laurel Holloman (Tina Kennard), Katherine Moennig (Shane McCutcheon), Pam Grier (Kit Porter), Karina Lombard (Marina Ferrer), Eric Mabius (Tim Haspel), Rachel Shelley (Helena Peabody), Eric Lively (Mark Wayland), Sarah Shahi (Carmen de la Pica Morales), Janina Gavankar (Papi), Cybill Shepherd (Phyllis Kroll), Marlee Matlin (Jodi), Jessica Capshaw (Nadia), Dallas Roberts (Angus Partridge), Daniela Sea (Max Sweeney), Lauren Lee Smith (Lara Perkins), Preston Cook (James), Olivia Windbiel (Angelica), Meredith McGeachie (Tonya), Aidan Jarrar (Shay McCutcheon), Kristanna Loken (Paige Sobel), Michael Tomlinson (Franklin Phillips), Alexandra Hedison (Dylan Moreland), Eileen Bui (Jun Ying), Judith Maxie (Dr. Wilson), Rose Rollins (Tasha Williams), Holland Taylor (Peggy Peabody), Susan Hogan (Sharon Fairbanks), Rosanna Arquette (Cherie Jaffe), Sandra Bernhard (Charlotte Birch), Lolita Davidovich (Francesca Wolff).

L.A. Doctors tried to do what ER didn't—focus more on the patient rather than the doctor and set the action away from a large bustling hospital to a small, far less hectic clinic. The patients on L.A. Doctors were there for one episode only; on ER they often appeared in arc stories lasting several weeks.

4508 L.A. Firefighters. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1996). A look at the lives (both personal and professional) of the firefighters of Los Angeles County Fire Company 132. Jack Malloy is the Captain; Erin Coffey, a firefighter, is also Battalion Chief Dick Coffey's daughter. Bernie Ramirez is the arson investigator; Laura is Jack's wife. Other firefighters are Jed Neal, R.K. Martin, Mike Durning, Kay Rizzo, Ray Grimes, J.B. Baker and Lenny Rose.

4509 L.A. Heat. (Series; Crime Drama; TNT; 1999). August Brooks and Chester "Chase" McDonald are detectives with the Robbery Homicide Division of the Los Angeles Police Department. August, a seasoned veteran (with the force for 16 years), likes to take things slow and easy (and go by the books). Chase has been with the department for seven years and lives for the action the job gives him (or rather, the action his impulsiveness makes on the job).

August had hoped to become a professional boxer but when he was forced to take a dive on his first outing, he quit the ring and opted to uphold the law as a cop. Still enthused about the sport, August runs the Hoover Street Boxing Center for troubled youths. Chase believes in taking risks to achieve a goal and it is only through August's guidance that Chance gets to see another day. He lives in Malibu with his girlfriend, Jodi Miller (an art gallery manager who left Chase in later episodes for a job in Texas).

Kendra Brooks is August's wife (and a counselor at the boxing center); Captain Jensen is August and Chase's superior.

Cast: Steven Williams (August Brooks), Wolf Larson (Chase McDonald), Renee Tenison (Kendra Brooks), Kenneth Tigar (Captain Jensen), Clay Banks (Det. Sam Richardson), Dawn Eason (Jodi Miller).

4510 L.A. Ink. (Series; Reality; TLC; 2007). Kat Van D is a tattoo artist who made a name for herself in Miami. She has given up that business and returned to her hometown of Los Angeles to open her own tattoo parlor. Cameras follow Kat as she begins her own business as well as the people and events that surround her in her personal life.

Star: Kat Van D. Tattoo Artists: Hannah Aitchison, Corey Miller, Pixie (as credited), Kim Saigh.

4511 L.A. Law. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1986–1994). The private and personal lives of the attorneys attached to Los Angeles-based law firm of McKenzie, Brackman, Chaney and Kuzak. Members of the prestigious, high-priced law firm tackle cases of all types, most often tempting the bounds of the legal system to achieve their goal.

Cast: Richard Dysart (Leland McKenzie), Alan Rachins (Douglas Brackman), Harry Hamlin (Michael Kuzak), Susan Dey (Grace Van Owen), Jill Eikenberry (Ann Kelsey), Jimmy Smits (Victor Sifuentes), Michael Tucker (Stuart Markowitz), Corbin Bernsen (Arnie Becker), Michele Greene (Abby Perkins), Susan Ruttan (Roxanne Melman), Amanda Donohoe (Cara Jean "C.J." Lamb), Larry Drake (Benny Stulwicz), Blair Underwood (Jonathan Rollins), Cecil Hoffman (Zoey Clemmons), John Spencer (Tommy Mullaney).

4512 Lacy and the Mississippi Queen. (Pilot; Comedy-Western; NBC; 5/17/78). The story, set in the Old West, relates the lighthearted misadventures of Kate Lacy, a pretty, level-headed cowgirl, and her tomboyish, gun toting sister, Queenie Lacy. In the pilot episode, Kate and Queenie team up to track down the train robbers who shot their father (Sam).

4513 The Ladies. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/22/87). When her marriage of 24 years comes to an abrupt end, Darlene Patten, a neurotic, chain-smoking mother, moves in with her divorced daughter (Linda Taylor), a plant-loving young woman who cherishes her privacy. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures of a mother and daughter struggling to cope with being single in the 1980s. Other Regulars: Jerry, Darlene's ex-husband; Stephen, Linda's ex-husband; and Sachiko, Linda's friend.

4514 Ladies Be Seated. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1945). A five-week experiment (February 25 to March 24, 1945) adapted from the radio series of the same title. The basic format involves female members of the studio audience participating in a series of stunts for prizes. Interviews, guests and sing-alongs were also a part of the program.

Hosts: Johnny Olsen, Penny Olsen. Announcer: Helen Rhodes.

4515 Ladies Be Seated. (Live Test Program; Game; ABC; 5/16/46). A slapstick show that features female members of the studio audience competing in outrageous stunts for prizes. The idea would sell three years later (see next title).

Host: Johnny Olsen.

4516 Ladies Be Seated. (Series; Game; ABC; 1949). The program features female members of the studio audience competing in various contests (game, stunt, quiz) for merchandise prizes. Winners are those best at performing their segments. The series aired from April 22, 1949 to June 17, 1949.

Host: Tom Moore. Assistant: Phil Patton. Announcer: George Ansbro.

4517 Ladies Before Gentlemen. (Series; Discussion; DuMont; 1951). The program encompasses the format of a game show (without prizes) in which a female guest must defend the woman's point of view on a topical issue (against a panel of six men) to maintain her position on a pedestal. If she should fail, she loses her position and the argument is scored in favor of the men; should she successfully defend it, the argument is scored in the favor of women.

Host: Ken Roberts. Panelists: Harvey Stone, Dick Joseph, Fred Robbins, Robert Sylvester, John Kullers. Premiere Female Guest: Cara Williams.

4518 Ladies' Choice. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1953). The program showcases undiscovered aspiring talent that is presented by female talent scouts. The quiz segment of the program begins when an unrecognizable photograph is flashed in the screen, accompanied by a hint or jingle. A telephone call is then placed to a home viewer (post card selection). If the viewer identifies the photograph, he wins a merchandise prize; if he fails to do so, a wristwatch is awarded. The program also features guests selected by various women's clubs.

Host: Johnny Dugan.

4519 Ladies First. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for ABC in 1992). Dana and Monie are best friends who live together and work together as check out girls at Smitty's Market. The unsold series was to relate their experiences as they tackle life head on.

Cast: Queen Latifah (Dana), Mother Love (Monie).

4520 Ladies in Blue. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 3/19/80). A proposed spin-off from Vegas about Casey Hunt and Britt Blackwell, two beautiful police women with the San Francisco Police Department. In the pilot episode, Casey and Britt seek to apprehend a psychotic police killer. Other Regulars: Captain Turner; Sergeant Culley; and Mrs. Hunt, Casey's mother.

Cast: Michelle Phillips (Casey Hunt), Tanya Roberts (Britt Blackwell), Peter Haskell (Captain Turner), Bruce Kirby (Sergeant Culley), Natalie Schafer (Mrs. Hunt). Guest Cast: Andrew Robinson (Derek), Peggy Cass (Dottie), Peter Mark Richman (Sam), Robert Urich (Dan Tanna), Greg Morris (Lt. Dave Nelson).

4521 Ladies' Man. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1980). Alan Thackeray is the token male writer for Women's Life, a New York-based monthly magazine that is staffed by a bevy of gorgeous women.

Elaine S. Holstein is the managing editor; Andrea, Gretchen and Susan are writers.

"The publisher," says Elaine, "wants a man's point of view. I don't," and hence, Alan got the job. Alan, who lives in Apartment 306 at 461 West 46th Street in Manhattan, is 38 years old, divorced and the father of a pretty 10-year-old girl named Amy. Betty Brill, who lives across the hall from Alan, has a never-seen husband named Harry and believes she is the world's best problem solver (she has a master's degree in clinical psychology).

At the office (Room 212), Alan first worked on an article called "Sexual Harassment and the Working Woman." When he has to use "the powder room," he has to remove the "wo" from the women sign on the door. Elaine lives in an apartment on East 56th Street in Manhattan, is highly fashion conscious and once spent a night in the drunk tank.

Gretchen has a dry wit, lousy moods and once posed as a centerfold for the girlie magazine Body ("I was a senior in college and it was a political statement"). The sign on her desk reads "researchHer." Susan was on the varsity swim team in high school and ran track in college. Andrea, who is from Kansas, is the most naive of the group. She has a degree in journalism from Kansas State College and hopes one day to become a top notch reporter.

Cast: Lawrence Pressman (Alan Thackery), Louise Sorel (Elaine Holstein), Betty Kennedy (Andrea Gibbons), Simone Griffeth (Gretchen), Allison Argo (Susan Watson), Natasha Ryan (Amy Thackery), Karen Morrow (Betty Brill), Herb Edelman (Reggie; the accountant), Julie Cobb (Sheila Thackery; Alan's ex-wife), Mitzi McCall (Various Roles). Theme: "Ladies' Man" by Jack Elliott, Brian Neary.

4522 Ladies' Man. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1999–2000). Jimmy Styles is married to Donna, divorced from Claire, and the father of Bonnie and Wendy (who live with him and Donna).

Jimmy resides in Van Nys, California and earns a living as a carpenter (his specialty is making furniture; in later episodes he becomes a contractor and his first job was for TV game show host Alex Trebek. His partner in the business is Sabrina).

Jimmy lives in a house full of females: "I love women," he says, but of the women in his household he says, "Jimmy hates women." The reason for such a remark: Jimmy has a difficult time coping with all the mood swings he experiences, including those of his ex-wife, his mother (Mitzi), and Peaches, Donna's mother — all of whom have opinions to express (and Jimmy is seldom right about anything). Stories follow Jimmy as he attempts to cope with life — and find some serenity in a house full of women.

Claire works as a cocktail waitress ("I work for tips and I'm rude"). She sells Debbie Dean Cosmetics on the side. Bonnie, Jimmy's oldest daughter (16) likes to hang out at the mall (and spend her father's money); Wendy, the youngest (9) attends the Buddy Ebsen Elementary School. She is a smart alec and Jimmy calls her "not a girl but a miniature woman."

Jimmy and Donna have been married ten years and Jimmy's e-mail address is lumpybottom@yahoo.com. Donna's maiden name is DeVille; Jimmy's middle name is Donald; Mitzi's maiden name is Phister (in her youth she and her sister Louise were in a show business act called the Phister Sisters).

Cast: Alfred Molina (Jimmy Styles), Sharon Lawrence (Donna Styles), Alex Vega (Bonnie Styles), Kaley Cuoco (Wendy Styles), Park Overall (Claire Styles), Dixie Carter (Peaches DeVille), Betty White (Mitzi Styles), Elizabeth Beckwith (Sabrina), Rue McClanahan (Louise).

4523 Ladies on Sweet Street. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/16/90). Ruth Egan, a former school teacher from Chicago, and Bea Morina, a former New Jersey butcher, are now senior citizens who live in a retirement village on Sweet Street. With time on their hands they now indulge in their favorite pastime — amateur sleuthing, and the unsold series was to relate their efforts to help the police solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Ruth and Bea investigate a murder. Other Regulars: Anne, Bea's daughter; Patrick, Ruth's son; Lieutenant Spicer; and Sergeant Polsky.

4524 Lady Blue. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985–1986). Katy Mahoney is a detective with the Violent Crimes Division of the 39th Street Station of the Chicago Metro Police Department.

Katy, the daughter of a cop, is street smart, street tough, and an expert when it comes to using her guns. She is young, beautiful and mean — a female version of Clint Eastwood's Dirty Harry film character. Katy is called "ABC's Dirty Harriet" in press information. Katy plays by her own rules. While she respects the law and has sworn to uphold it, she bends it to accomplish her goals and keep the streets of her hometown free of thugs. Her superior, Lieutenant Terry McNichols says, "Katy can read a crime scene in progress like most guys read the sports page," although he does complain about her violent approaches and too frequent use of her gun. Katy lives at 1107 West Brandis Place.

Katy's snitch). Theme Vocal: "Lady Blue" by Arnetia Walker.

4525 The Lady Died at Midnight. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 2/23/58). The pilot film for Pursuit, a series of dramas about the plight of people being pursued by others. The pilot episode tells of a convicted murderer who vows to break out of prison and get even with those responsible for his capture.

Cast: Paul Douglas (Captain McCaffrey), Earl Holliman (Wayne Pilgrim), Gary Merrill (Paul Gorman), Lawrence Dobkin (Porter), Eddie Firestone (Hanson).

4526 Lady Lovely Locks and the Pixie Tales. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1987). The Grand Duchess Raven Hair is an evil woman who is seeking to take over the kingdom of Lovely Locks. When an attempt fails and she destroys herself, a young farmer's daughter is suddenly endowed with rainbow streaks in her blonde hair — a symbol that she is the ruler of the land. Now, as Lady Lovely Locks, and with the help of her two friends, Maiden Fair Hair and Lady Curly Crown, Lady Lovely Locks seeks to restore the kingdom and assume the throne. As she begins, she befriends a group of magical creatures called Pixie Tales who offer their help. However, seeking to gain control of the kingdom is Raven Waves, Raven Hair's vain and evil daughter who believes she is the rightful heir. She also believes that the rainbow streaks in Lady Lovely Locks hair will give her the power she needs to become the ruler and control the Pixie Tales. Stories follow Lady Lovely Locks as she begins her quest — and Raven Waves efforts to cut the rainbow streaks and acquire the power she needs to rule. Also assisting Lady Lovely Locks is Shining Glory, the Wizard and Prince, an enchanted dog who is actually a young man named Strong Heart.

4527 Lady Luck. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/12/73). She is beautiful and mysterious and magically appears to help people who are in trouble. She is not a witch but she seems to possess supernatural powers. She uses the earth name Laura and the unsold series was to relate her slightly misguided efforts to help people in need of a little Lady Luck. The pilot episode depicts Laura's efforts to help a hotel employee (Roger) who is about to miss out on a promotion.

Cast: Valerie Perrine (Lady Luck). Guest Cast: Paul Sand (Roger), Bert Convy (Clay), Sallie Shock-

ley (Penny), J.D. Cannon (Walter), Carole Cook (Fran).

4528 The Lady Next Door. (Series; Children; NBC; 1949). Madge Tucker hosts and tells fairy-like stories to children in a series that ran from March 9, 1949 to September 14, 1949.

4529 Laguna Beach. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2004). Laguna Beach is one of the wealthiest communities in California located in Orange County. It is here that cameras follow eight high school seniors who are ready to graduate and begin the next chapter in their lives. Each of the teens is rich and lives the privileged life. What they do — day and night for six months is taped and edited highlights of their activities — living the rich life are seen. The series is also known as Laguna Beach: The Real Orange County. See also The Hills, the spin-off series.

4530 Lamb Chop's Play-Along. (Series; Children; PBS; 1992). A potpourri of stories, games and songs for children hosted by Lamb Chop, the hand puppet of ventriloquist Shari Lewis. Her other hand puppets, Charlie Horse and Hush Puppy assist her and Lamb Chop.

Star Shari Lewis.

4531 The Lambs Gambol. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). The program features performances by members of the all-male Lambs Club, a fraternal order of show business people. The series ran from February 27, 1949 to May 22, 1949.

Host: Bert Lytell. Musical: Johnny McManus.

4532 Lancelot Link, Secret Chimp. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1970–1972). Lancelot Link is a fumbling counter-espionage agent for A.P.E. (the Agency to Prevent Evil), an international organization dedicated to fighting C.H.U.M.P. (Criminal Headquarters for Underground Master Plan) and its goal of world domination. Stories relate Lancelot's efforts to safeguard the world from C.H.U.M.P.

Characters are enacted by chimpanzees with voice-over dubbing. Commander Darwin is the head of A.P.E.; Marti Hari is Lancelot's assistant; Baron Von Butcher is the commander of C.H.U.M.P.; Creator is Butcher's assistant.

Voice Cast: Dayton Allen (Lancelot Link), Joan Gerber (Marta Hari), Malachi Thorne (Narrator). Additional Voices: Mel Blanc, Bernie Kopell, Steve Hoffman.

4533 Lancer. (Series; Western; CBS; 1968–1971). The Lancer Ranch in California’s San Joaquin Valley during the 1870s is the setting. The story of three men: Murdoch Lancer, the widowed ranch owner, and his two sons, born of different mothers, Scott Lancer (son of an Irish lass) and Johnny Madrid Lancer (son of a Mexican woman). Episodes depict their attempts to maintain their 100,000-acre cattle and timberland ranch in an era of lawlessness. Teresa O’Brien is Murdoch’s ward; Jelly Hoskins is the ranch foreman.

Cast: Andrew Duggan (Murdoch Lancer), Wayne Maunder (Scott Lancer), James Stacy (Johnny Madrid Lancer), Elizabeth Baur (Teresa O’Brien), Paul Brinegar (Jelly Hoskins). Theme Song: “Lancer” by Jerome Maross.

4534 The Land Before Time. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2007). A television adaptation of the 1988 feature film of the same title that follows the adventures of a group of lovable dinosaurs as they explore the Great Valley (a lush place where dinosaurs thrive and live in peace) and a world called the Mysterious Beyond.

Voice Cast: Cody Arens (Littlefoot), Aria Noelle Curzan (Ducky), Rob Paulsen (Spike), Anndi McAfee (Cera), Jeff Bennett (Petrie), Max Burkholder (Chomper), Peter Sepenuk (Saro), Meghan Strange (Ruby).

4535 Land of Hope. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 5/13/76). The struggles of four immigrant families (the Barskys, Gottschalks, Dwyers and Gianni) living on New York’s Lower East Side during the early 1900s.

Cast: Marian Winters (Reva Barsky), Phil Fisher (Isaac Barsky), Roberta Wallach (Debbie Barsky), Richard Liberman (Herschel Barsky), Joseph Miller (Benji Barsky), Ariane Munker (Gerda Gottschalk), Roy Poole (Gustav Gottschalk), Donald Warfield (Ernst Gottschalk), Robin Rose (Rose Dwyer), Colin Duffy (Kevin Dwyer), Maria Tucci (Lea Gianni), John Dunn (Angelo Gianni). Guest Cast: Michael Lombard (Labe Ravitz), Anthony Cannon (Rafe Paolini).

4536 Land of the Giants. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1968–1970). On June 12, 1983, as the Spinthrift, suborbital flight 612, approaches London (departure was from New York), Captain Steve Burton and his co-pilot, Dan Erickson, find they have lost all communication with the London control tower. Suddenly, the ship hits an area of solar turbulence and is pulled into a large glowing green cloud. All control of the ship is lost until they exit the cloud. With only partial reserve power remaining, Burton spots what he believes are airport lights and lands the craft. A thick fog makes visibility zero. Steve and Dan venture outside the craft to investigate. They are walking on a paved road when an enormous car passes over them. They then hear footsteps and rush back to the ship. Betty Hamilton, the stewardess, prepares the passengers for an emergency takeoff. As Steve fires up the engines, they are picked up by “a giant boy.” As the giant looks at the ship, Steve manages to escape his grasp. At 5,000 feet they are still passing buildings. With the reserve power virtually exhausted, Steve makes an emergency landing in a dense forest.

In addition to crew members Steve, Don and Betty, the passengers are Valerie Scott, a beautiful but rich and spoiled heiress; Mark Wilson, an engineer who is also a wealthy business tycoon; Commander Alexander Fitzhugh, a master thief who is being pursued by authorities for stealing one million dollars (which he is carrying with him in a briefcase); and Barry Lockridge, an orphan with a dog (Clipper), who is to live with cousins in England.

Shortly after, when they realize they have crashed on a strange planet, the Spinthrift is attacked by a giant cat. The ship is damaged and the seven earthlings are now marooned. Stories follow their adventures as they struggle for survival and seek the material they need to repair the craft and find a way to reverse the time warp.

As their presence becomes known, they are branded “The Little People” (they are only about six inches tall in this world), and a reward has been offered for their capture; death is the penalty for assisting them. The giant Kobic is the inspector seeking them.

4537 Land of the Lost. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1974–1977). Forest ranger Rick Marshall and his children, Holly and Will, are exploring the Colorado River on a raft when they are caught in a time vortex and transported to a closed universe they call the Land of the Lost, a prehistoric world from which there is no escape. They make a home in a cave they call High Bluff and discover that two other races inhabit the land: the simple, simian Palcus, and the saurian Sleestak. Through Enik, an intelligent Sleestak who fell through a time doorway and is now in his future, the Marshalls learn that their world is controlled by a series of pyramid-shaped triangles called Pylons. Each Pylon contains a series of colored crystals; escape can only be made by finding the right series of crystals that will open a time doorway. However, the crystals control the delicate balance of life; it is extremely dangerous to disturb them.

It is also learned that, although Enik is friendly, the other Sleestak are not; they pose a constant threat to the Marshalls' survival. Enik's mission is to find the doorway and return to his time, and prevent his people from becoming savages.

Ron Harper joined the cast in 1976 as Rick's brother, Jack. (While experimenting with the crystals, Rick finds the time doorway, but he is swept away before he can get Holly and Will. Since this is a closed universe, for each being that leaves it, one must take his place to maintain the harmony. As Rick is freed, Jack becomes his replacement.)

Dinosaurs co-exist with the inhabitants. Holly has befriended a baby brontosaurus she calls Dopey. Grumpy, a Tyrannosaurus rex, and Big Alice (Dopey's mother) are the creatures that most often plague the Marshalls. Philip Paley plays the Palcus boy, Chaka, and Sharon Baird, the Palcus girl Sa. See the next title also.

Cast: Spencer Milligan (Rick Marshall), Kathy Coleman (Holly Marshall), Wesley Eure (Will Marshall), Ron Harper (Jack Marshall), Walker Edmiston (Enik), Philip Paley (Chaka), Sharon Baird (Sa, the monkey girl), Scott Fullerton (Ta; the Palcus leader), Richard Kiel (Malak; an enemy), Jon Locke (Sleestak Leader; before Enik).

4538 Land of the Lost. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1991–1993). A revised version of the prior title. While riding in their camper, Tom Porter and his children, Annie and Kevin, “fall into a time warp” when an earthquake opens a time doorway and transports them to a world of prehistoric creatures called the Land of the Lost. The Porters quickly adjust to their new home when they feel there is no escape. They establish a new home in a large tree (“The Compound”) and quickly make friends with Christa, a beautiful but mysterious jungle girl, and her companion, Stink, a simian creature who is a member of the Palcus tribe. Their enemies are the Sleestak, intelligent saurian creatures led by Shung. Shung and his bungling assistants, Nim and Keeg, are based in an old temple in a cave. (The Sleestak were forced underground by pollution; Shung, Nim and Keeg are criminals who were banished to the surface. Shung uses a power crystal as his main weapon and believes everything in the Land of the Lost is his — including the humans.)

“San Francisco — Two Jillion Miles” is the sign the Porters have posted on the grounds next to their home. Tom is convinced that there is a tunnel or a canyon concealing a time doorway that will take them back to their world. He believes that the camper is their ticket home (he rarely uses it in order to preserve a now precious liquid — gasoline).

Tom calls Annie, his youngest child, “Sweet Face.” While the main dinosaur threat to the Porters is a Tyrannosaurus rex they call Scarface, Annie has a baby dinosaur she calls Tasha (after her late mother, Natasha). Kevin uses his camcorder to record his surroundings (he is hoping to make the epic dinosaur picture with the footage he has when he gets back).

Christa first made herself known to the Porters when she saved Tom's life after he had been bitten by a poisonous lizard. Christa, whom Shung calls “Long Hair,” is apparently an American who was engulfed by the Land of the Lost at an early age. She understands English, but cannot speak it well. She has a language all her own and has control over the dinosaurs via a Tarzan-like yell; she rides a triceratops with a broken left horn she calls Princess. Christa lives in a cave and has a Giants baseball cap and a picture of herself as a child — but she doesn't remember who she is or where she came from. Stink is intelligent and can understand and speak English once he grasps it.

Cast: Timothy Bottoms (Tom Porter), Jennifer Drugan (Annie Porter), Robert Gavin (Kevin Porter), Shannon Day (Christa), Bobby Porter (Stink), R.C. Tass (Nim), Brian Williams (Keeg).

4539 Landon, Landon & Landon. (Pilot; Comical Mystery; CBS; 6/14/80). While investigating a case, Ben Landon, an investigator who owns the Hollywood-based Landon Private Detective Agency, is murdered. When his children, Holly and Nick, take over the agency, Ben returns to Earth as a ghost to become the father he never was to his children and help them run the newly formed Landon, Landon & Landon Agency. The pilot episode relates Holly and Nick's efforts to find Ben's killer (Ben appears and speaks only to Holly and Nick). Other Regulars: Judith, Holly and Nick's secretary; and police inspector Ulysses Barnes.

Cast: William Windom (Ben Landon), Nancy Dolman (Holly Landon), Daren Kelly (Nick Landon), Millie Slavin (Judith Saperstein), Richard O'Brien (Ulysses Barnes). Guest Cast: Norman Bartold (George Rumsford), Sudie Bond (Billie), Jason Wingreen (Darryl Goren), Wil Albert (Reggie Ozer), Pat Studstill (Captain Nestor), Paul Tuerpe (White Suit), Maurice Hill (Cy Vorpall).

4540 Land's End. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1997–1998). Mike Land is a detective with the L.A.P.D. He has been on the force for 23 years but when a bribe attempt destroys his investigation into the murder of his wife, he quits the force and retreats to Cabo San Lucas, Mexico, to help an old friend (Willis) out of a jam.

After accomplishing his goal, Willis convinces Mike to join him and his friend, Dave “Thunder” Thornton, in the private detective agency they started. Stories follow Mike’s case investigations as he uses his skills as a former cop to help him solve crimes. Courtney Sanders is the manager of the Westin Regina, the resort hotel where Mike now lives.

Cast: Fred Dryer (Mike Land), Tim Thomerson (Dave Thornton), Pamela Bowen (Courtney Sanders), Geoffrey Lewis (Willis P. Dunlevy), William Marquez (Police Chief Ruiz).

4541 Lanigan’s Rabbi. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1977). The partially clothed body of a young girl named Arlette is found on the grounds of the Temple Beth Hallel Synagogue in Cameron, California. While investigating the case, Paul Lanigan, the Irish police chief, meets David Small, a rabbi with the mind of a detective, who has begun his own investigation. The two form an unlikely alliance and solve the homicide (proving it was the least thought-of suspect — the cop on the beat). They remain a team and stories relate their efforts to solve crimes.

Paul has been a cop for 22 years and lives with his wife, Kate, at 3601 Sycamore Lane. His office is in Room 121 of the Cameron Police Department. Paul doesn’t make arrests that don’t stick, he doesn’t speculate about murder cases, and he strives not to let innocent people get hurt. David and his wife, Miriam, live at 171 Circle Drive. In the pilot film Stuart Margolin played Rabbi David Small.

Cast: Art Carney (Paul Lanigan), Janis Paige (Kate Lanigan), Bruce Solomon (Rabbi David Small), Janet Margolin (Janet Small), Robert Doyle (Lt. Osgood), Barbara Carney (Bobbi Whittaker; the reporter), Reva Rose (Hannah Price; a temple member).

4542 Lanny and Isabelle. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for ABC in 1988). An unsold series about a mismatched pair of Manhattan roommates: Isabelle, a mid-thirties woman who is struggling to overcome the traumas of a broken marriage; and her 18-year-old niece, Lanny, a hopeful writer who believes there is a rainbow around each corner and all the good things she wants are just there for the taking.

Cast: Andrea Martin (Isabelle), Louanne Ponce (Lanny).

4543 The Lanny Ross Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1949). A program of music and songs with singer Lanny Ross as the host. Lee Cooley is the producer.

Host: Lanny Ross. Regulars: Martha Logan, Sandra Gahle. Music: Harry Simone.

4544 L.A.P.D.: Life on the Beat. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1995). Los Angeles police officers are followed by camera crews as they respond to calls to show how they deal with the various situations they encounter. A copy of Fox’s Cops that uses narration and added music to intensify the action that is seen.

Narrator: Andy Geller. Music: Scooter Pietsch.

4545 Laramie. (Series; Western; NBC; 1959–1963). Events in the shaping of Wyoming during the 1880s as seen through the eyes of the Sherman brothers, Slim and Andy, and their friend Jess Harper, the operators of a swing station (a combination of a ranch and stage depot) for the Overland Mail Stage Lines.

After the death of their father, Slim and Andy were left the responsibility of keeping the Sherman family cattle ranch profitable. Slim and Andy were said to have been raised by their father (after the death of his wife) and by a close friend, Jonesy. At the beginning of the second season, Jonesy was gone and Andy Sherman was eventually written out. Mike Williams, who was taken in by Slim after his parents were killed in an Indian raid, replaced him. Daisy Cooper is Slim’s housekeeper.

4546 Laredo. (Series; Western; NBC; 1965–1967). Reese Bennett, Joe Riley and Chad Cooper are Texas Rangers based in Laredo, Texas (1880s). Reese, Joe and Chad are a bit unorthodox and do what it takes to get the job done. They are also set in their ways and each likes to do things his way. This is not always possible as they must make compromises. Rarely does a compromise agree with each ranger and stories follow the bickering that ensues as Reese, Joe and Chad struggle to up hold the peace and bring outlaws to justice.

4547 Larry Boy Stories. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 2006). Larry the Cucumber works as a janitor for the Daily Bumbler, a newspaper in the town of Bumblyburg (where vegetables live like humans).

When evil strikes Larry becomes Larry Boy, a heroic crime fighter who risks his life to save innocent people. Larry is based at the Larry Cave and is assisted by Archie, his mentor. Bob the Tomato is the paper's editor; Vickie is a reporter; Awful Alvin is the chief villain, who is seeking to take over the town and rid his life of Larry Boy. Awful Alvin is also a bit daft as his assistant is Lampie, a lamp with a face painted on the shade that Alvin believes is alive.

Voices: Shari Belgeau, Marc Graue, Lee Marshall, Mike Nawrocki, Lisa Vischer, Phil Vischer, Larry D. Whitaker, Jr. Theme: "Fly By Night" vocal by Jesse Tewson, Kurt Heineckem Adam Frick.

4548 The Larry Kane Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1971). Larry Kane hosts a weekly program that features performances by and interviews with rock personalities.

4549 The Larry Sanders Show. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1992–1998). A parody of late night talk shows that focuses on Larry Sanders, the paranoid host of The Larry Sanders Show, a popular (but mythical) late night talk show. Larry, who is also very insecure, is assisted by Hank Kingsley, his announcer and sidekick. The series also takes viewers behind the scenes for a glimpse at the preparations that go into presenting such a show. Arthur (called Artie) is Larry's over protective producer and name celebrities (portraying themselves) appear as guests on Larry's show.

Cast: Garry Shandling (Larry Sanders), Jeffrey Tambor (Hank Kingsley), Rip Torn (Arthur), Wallace Langham (Phil), Penny Johnson (Beverly Barnes), Janeane Garofalo (Paula), Scott Thompson (Brian), Linda Doucett (Darlene Chapinni), Mary Lynn Rajskub (Mary Lou Collins).

4550 The Larry Storch Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1953). A summer series of music, songs and comedy skits with comedian Larry Storch as the host. The series ran from September 11, 1953 to September 12, 1953.

Host: Larry Storch. Regulars: Georgann Johnson, Milton Frome, Mildred Hughes, Tomi Romer, Russell Hicks, Ethel Owen, The June Taylor Dancers, The June Taylor Singers. Announcer: Jack Lescoulie. Orchestra: Sammy Spear, Ray Bloch.

4551 Las Vegas. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2003–2008). The Montecito Resort and Casino in Las Vegas is the setting for a behind-the-scenes look at the inner workings of a gambling hall. Principal focus is on an elite surveillance team charged with maintaining the security of the casino.

Ed Deline heads the team. Danny McCoy is his protégé, a former U.S. Marine. Monica Mancuso is the owner of the Montecito. Mike Cannon is the valet and assistant to Danny when needed; Delinda is Ed's seductive daughter; Mary Connell, Samantha Marquez and Nessa Holt (called "The Ice Princess") are casino hostesses and Ed's eyes on the floor.

Ed monitors casino activities from a large surveillance room and stories reveal the methods people use to cheat (or try to) despite the high tech equipment that is watching their every move. Jillian Deline is Ed's ex-wife.

In the episode of September 28, 2007, A.J. Cooper (who likes to be called Cooper) purchases the debt-ridden Montecito Hotel and Casino for $241 million. Cooper, worth $2 billion, runs the largest cattle ranch in Wyoming — and he plans to make the Montecito profitable once again. Ed is seen leaving for what can be assumed are greener pastures.

Cast: James Caan (Ed Deline), Josh Duhamel (Danny McCoy), Nikki Cox (Mary Connell), Vanessa Marci (Samantha Marquez), James Lesure (Mike Cannon), Molly Simms (Delinda Deline), Marsha Thompson (Nessa Holt), Lara Flynn Boyle (Monica Mancuso), Cheryl Ladd (Jillian Deline), Tom Selleck (A.J. Cooper), Camille Guaty (Piper).

4552 Las Vegas Beat. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced for NBC in 1964). Bill Ballin is a former police officer turned highly respected private detective who works for the Las Vegas Casino Owners Association but who also helps the police (especially Lieutenant Bernard McFeety) solve crimes related to his beat. Bill has a girlfriend (Cynthia) and is assisted by a newspaper reporter (R.G.) and a wise-cracking friend (Gopher). In the pilot episode, Bill pits his wits against a gang plotting to rob an armored car filled with casino cash.

4553 Las Vegas Gambit. (Series; Game; NBC; 1980–1981). Two teams, each composed of two members, compete in a card game based on blackjack ("21"). The first card, from an oversized deck of 52 playing cards, is revealed. A general knowledge question is read and the first team to correctly answer it receives the opportunity to either keep or pass the card to their opponents. A two-out-of-three match game is played. If twenty-one is not scored, the couple who comes closest but does not surpass twenty-one is the winner of that particular game and receives $200. $1000 is awarded if a couple scores an exact 21. Taped in Las Vegas.

Host: Wink Martindale. Card Dealers: Beverly Malden, Lee Manning. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

4554 The Las Vegas Show. (Series; Variety; United Network; 1967). Entertainment performances set against the background of various Las Vegas nightclubs. The Las Vegas Show was the first (and only) series to be produced by a proposed network called the United Network. After one month, the idea collapsed when money could not be raised to meet the next month's expenses. Howard Leeds and Jerry Goldsmith are the producers.

Host: Bill Dana. Regulars: Ann Elder, Pete Barbutti, Jo Anne Worley, Cully Richards, Danny Meehan. Orchestra: Jack Sheldon.

4555 Lash of the West. (Series; Children; Syn.; ABC; 1951–1953). A western-accented series in which western film star Lash LaRue demonstrated his cowboy skills. The series began in syndication in 1951 and aired on ABC from January 4, 1953 to April 26, 1953.

Host: Lash LaRue. Assistant Al "Fuzzy" St. John.

4556 Lassie. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1964–1968). A continuation of the Lassie series from where Timmy and Lassie leaves off. The need for American farmers overseas prompts Paul Martin to sell his farm and move to Australia with his wife, Ruth, and son, Timmy. Timmy, who is unable to take his dog, Lassie with him due to quarantine laws, leaves her in the custody of his friend, the elderly Cully Wilson. A short time later, when Cully suffers a heart attack and is no longer able to care for Lassie, he gives her to his friend, Corey Stuart, the local forest ranger. Stories relate Lassie's adventures as she assists Ranger Corey Stuart.

Cast: Robert Bray (Ranger Corey Stuart), Jed Allan (Ranger Scott Turner), Jack DeMave (Ranger Bob Erickson), John Archer (Ranger Kirby Newman), Lassie (Lassie).

4557 Lassie. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1968–1971). The last network version of Lassie that drops the format of the 1964 (to 1968) version (wherein Lassie was the assistant to forest ranger Corey Stuart) to present Lassie as a dog who is no longer bound to a human master and now a wanderer who roams and assists those she finds in trouble — both human and animal.

Cast: Lassie (Lassie).

4558 Lassie. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1972). The first syndicated version of Lassie that ends Lassie's days of wandering (as depicted in the 1968 CBS version of the series) to focus on Lassie's adventures when she finds a temporary home at the California ranch of Keith Holden. Keith is a widower and the father of Ron and Mike. Dale Mitchell is his assistant; Lucy Baker is Ron and Mike's friend; Sue Lambert is the veterinarian.

Cast: Larry Pennell (Keith Holden), Larry Wilcox (Dale Mitchell), Skip Burton (Ron Holden), Joshua Albee (Mike Holden), Sherry Boucher (Sue Lambert), Pamelyn Ferdin (Lucy Baker), Lassie (Lassie).

4559 Lassie. (Series; Drama; Animal Planet; 1997–1998). A new version of the Lassie series that ran on CBS from 1954–1971. The new version is set in the town of Hudson Falls, Vermont. Here, Karen Cabot, a widow, runs a veterinary clinic. She is also the mother of young Timmy Cabot. One day Timmy finds an injured Collie (mistreated by her owner) he names Lassie. Karen helps nurse the dog back to health and she and Timmy bond. Stories follow the adventures shared by a young boy and his dog as they help people — and animals — in trouble.

4560 Lassie reference titles. (Series; Drama; CBS; Syn.; 1954–1997). For information on the various versions of the series, see the following titles: Jeff's Collie, Timmy and Lassie, Lassie (1964), Lassie (1968), Lassie (1972), Lassie (1997), Lassie's Rescue Rangers, Lassie: The New Beginning and The New Lassie.

4561 Lassie: The New Beginning. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 9/17 and 9/24/78). An unsold update of the classic Lassie series about the beautiful collie and her new masters, Samantha and Chip Stratton, two orphans who live with their uncle, Stuart Stratton, the editor of the Lake Pines Journal, in Lake Pines, California. The two-part pilot episode tells how Samantha and Chip, left alone after the untimely death of their grandmother, journey across treacherous country with Lassie to find their only living relative in California. Other Regulars: Kathy, Stuart's friend; Buzz, Kathy's son; Sheriff J.D. Marsh; and Dr. Amos Rheams.

Cast: John Reilly (Stuart Stratton), Sally Boyden (Samantha Stratton), Shane Sinutko (Chip Stratton), Lee Bryant (Kathy McKendrick), David Wayne (Dr. Amos Rheams), Gene Evans (J.D. Marsh), Jeff Harlan (Buzz McKendrick). Guest Cast: Jeanette Nolan (Ada Stratton), John McIntire (Dr. Spreckles), Charles Tyner (Asa Bluel), Lucille Benson (Juno), Logan

Voice Cast: Ted Knight (Ben Turner), Jane Webb (Laura Turner), Lane Scheimer (Jackie Turner), Erica Scheimer (Susan Turner), Ted Knight (Jean Fox).

4563 Lassiter. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 7/8/68). A proposed series about Pete Lassiter, a tough investigative reporter for Contrast magazine. In the pilot episode, Lassiter travels to Grand Lake, a mid-western city, to investigate reports of corruption within the police department.

Cast: Burt Reynolds (Pete Lassiter). Guest Cast: Cameron Mitchell (Stan Marchek), Sharon Farrell (Joanie Mears), Gerald S. O'Loughlin (Dave Brandon), James MacArthur (Russ Faine), Lloyd Haynes (Kramer), Nicholas Colasanto (Charlie Leaf), Rena Carroll (Gambler), Lawrence Haddon (Jerry Burns).

4564 Last Call with Carson Daly. (Series; Talk; NBC; 2002–). Carson Daly, an MTV veejay, hosts a late night series of interviews with celebrities from the world of television, movies and music.

4565 The Last Chance Cafe. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 2/28/86). The Last Chance Cafe is situated in the middle of nowhere and allows weary travelers to partake of a meal before continuing their journey. It is run by a mysterious old man named Virgil who allows troubled customers to “see” crucial moments from their pasts with themselves as they were many years ago. In the pilot episode, a couple in their thirties (Melissa and Bill) are given the chance to rediscover the love they felt for each other in high school when their car runs out of gas near the Last Chance Cafe. Aired on The New Love, American Style.

4566 Last Comic Standing. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2003–2007). A reality series wherein professional as well as up-and-coming stand-up comedians compete for an exclusive contract with NBC. Ten finalists, selected from open auditions across the country, are brought to Los Angeles and placed in a large residence (where they live together during the competition). While cameras follow their preparations for a show (and how they get along with each other), it is the club audience that judge the material and vote their least favorite off the stage (must leave). The last comic standing is the winner.

Host: Jay Mohr, Bill Bellamy. Celebrity Talent Scout: Joy Behar.

4567 The Last Days of Russell. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/22/95). Russell Angel is a 13-year-old boy who feels that if something bad will happen it will happen to him. When his 14-year-old cousin Russell (after whom he is named) dies, Russell fears he too will die at 14. He decides to live life to the fullest. The unsold series was to follow Russell as he struggles to live a normal life despite the fact that he feels he is cursed. In the pilot episode, “The Beginning of the End,” Russell celebrates his 13th birthday—“on the last day of my life.” It also follows his efforts to get a date with a gorgeous classmate named Valerie. Walter and Darlene are Russell’s parents; Sanfus and Meatloaf are his friends.

Cast: Yohance Serrant (Russell Angel), Wendell Pierce (Walter Angel), Vernee Watson (Darlene Angel), Johnna Austin (Sanfus), Charles Duke (Meatloaf), Ebonie Smith (Valerie Harris), Alexis Fields (Cherisse), Cyndi-James Gossett (Mrs. Harris), Bumper Robinson (Cedric), Wendy Raquel Robinson (Teacher), Lamont Johnson (Gang leader), Jonathan Hicks (Mr. Harris), John Witherspoon (Grandpa).

4568 The Last Electric Knight. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 2/16/86). The pilot film for Sidekicks. When he realizes that he has only a short time to live, an aging grandfather (Mr. Lee), selects a tough, hard-nosed unmarried cop (Jake Rizzo) to become the guardian of his grandson, Ernie, a 10-year-old boy who is a master of karate. Though reluctant at first, Jake becomes fond of Ernie and agrees to care for him. The pilot establishes the series storyline: Jake’s case investigations and his attempts to care for Ernie, who finds excitement when assisting Jake.

4569 The Last Ninja. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 7/17/83). On a rainy evening in California in 1951, a Japanese-American family, the Sakuras, find an abandoned baby on their doorstep — a Caucasian boy they adopt and name Ken. The father, Mantaro, trains Ken in the martial arts and in the art of the Ninja — the ability to use disguise and illusion to battle evil. Thirty-two years later Ken begins a double life — as an antique dealer, and the mysterious Ninja, who battles crime and corruption. In the pilot episode, Ken attempts to rescue a group of scientists who are being held captive by terrorists atop a Dallas skyscraper. (The title refers to Ken being the last of his adopted family line to become a Ninja). Other Regulars: Noriko, Ken's sister; Mr. Cosmo, the U.S. government agent for whom Ken works.

Cast: Michael Beck (Ken Sakura), Nancy Kwan (Noriko Sakura), Mako (Mantaro Sakura), John McMartin (Mr. Cosmo). Guest Cast: Richard Lynch (Dr. Christian Norden), Irene Tedrow (Dr. Stanford), Carolyn Seymour (Lydia), John Larroquette (Officer), Kevin Brando (Young Ken; flashbacks), Ivan Sario (Aziz).

4570 Last of the Private Eyes. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/30/63). J.F. Kelly considers himself to be the last of a dying breed — a 1940s style private detective who puts his nose to the grindstone to solve cases. The unsold series was to relate Kelly's efforts to solve crimes — which he does quite by accident. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Dick Powell Show, Kelly attempts to solve a murder by proving that the butler did it.

Cast: Bob Cummings (J.F. Kelly). Guest Cast: Linda Christian (Susan Lane), Jeanne Crain (Elsie), Arnold Stang (Donald Joe), Macdonald Carey (Lt. Duff Peterson), Lawrence Dobkin (Paul the Butler), Janis Paige (Lavern), William Bendix (George Lane), William Lundigan (Frank Jeffers).

4571 The Last Precinct. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1986). Precinct 56 is a former county morgue turned funeral parlor turned police station that city officials use as a dumping ground for what it calls odd-ball officers — psychologically challenged cops who are part of the force but just not stable enough for regular precinct duties and assignments. They handle non-violent crimes but always manage to stumble upon real crimes that require their unique brand of justice to solve.

Rob Wright is the laid back, non-aggressive, easy-going, indecisive captain of Precinct 56. Rob feels he must do what is right because his last name is Wright and "I stand for right." His inability to command a regular precinct was the reason for his transfer, but Rob believes his leadership abilities made him the right man for the job. The officers under his command are Melba Brubaker, Tremayne Lane, Martha Haggerty, Butch Briscoe, Sundance, William Rader, Alphabet and the King.

Melba is blonde, beautiful and tough. Although it should be against the rules, Melba wears a revealing uniform (low cut top for cleavage and a miniskirt for her legs). You would never guess it by looking at her, but Melba, who likes to be called Mel, was formerly a man — Melvin Brubaker. Mel tried living the life of a man, was a star ballplayer, but felt he was meant to be a woman and underwent a sex change operation. Mel's toughness makes her a loner.

Tremayne is a sergeant and is nicknamed Night Train for his love of working the night shift. Martha, a sergeant also, is from a military family and assists Rob as his second in command. She runs the precinct like an army base and is too aggressive (the reason for her transfer). She is seeking a man but is having difficulty finding one that can meet her standards.

Alphabet is the nickname for Officer Shivoram-bhai Poonchwalla, an exchange officer from Calcutta that the police commissioner has no idea what to do with, so he assigned him to Captain Wright. Alphabet's full name is displayed on a rather large name tag on his uniform and he has little knowledge of American police procedures or what to do when on assignment. He is hoping to learn from his fellow officers and bring this knowledge back to his homeland.

The King, who has no other name, is a former Elvis impersonator who "overdosed" and now believes he is the reincarnation of Elvis Presley. He dresses like Elvis, sings and talks like him and will only respond to the name King. William, the overweight officer, is nicknamed Raid for his habit of raiding the refrigerator. Butch and Sundance are elderly officers who work as a team and prefer to be called Butch and Sundance after their Old West heroes, Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid.

Felony is the lazy precinct dog; the Honey Bunsns Drive-In is the local eatery. Stacey is the featured waitress. Arnold Bludhorn is the frustrated police chief who oversees Precinct 56 and is seeking a way to disband it and its officers.

Cast: Adam West (Capt. Rob Wright), Randi Brooks (Off. Melba "Mel" Brubaker), Ernie Hudson (Sgt. Tremayne "Night Train" Lane), Yana Narvanna (Sgt. Martha Haggerty), Keenan Wynn (Off. Butch Briscoe), Hank Rolike (Sundance), Vijay Amritaj (Alphabet), Nicollette Sheridan (Stacey), Pete Wilcox (The King), James Cromwell (Chief Arnold Bludhorn), Rick Ducommun (Off. William "Raid" Rader), Wings Hauser (Sheriff Ronald J. Hobbs), Jonathan Perpitch (Officer Price Pascall), Geoffrey Elliott (Deputy Justin Dial), Lucy Lee Flippen (Off. Rina Starland), Carl Strano ("Dead Eye" Al Demarta), Robert Miranda (Solly).

Theme: "The Last Precinct" by Mike Post, Pete Carpenter.

4572 The Last Resort. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979–1980). Michael Lerner, Duane Kaminski, Zack Comstock and Jeffrey Barron are four college students who decide to work as waiters at a resort during their summer vacation. Stories relate their antics as they turn a genteel mountain hotel into a madhouse.

Other Regulars: Gail Collins, the pastry chef; Kevin, the cook; Murray, the maitre d'; and Mrs. Trilling, the overbearing hotel guest.

Cast: Larry Breeding (Michael Lerner), Stephanie Faracy (Gail Collins), Zane Lasky (Duane Kaminski), Walter Olkewicz (Zack Comstock), Ray Underwood (Jeffrey Barron), John Fujioka (Kevin), Robert Costanzo (Murray), Dorothy Konrad (Mrs. Trilling).

4573 Last Stagecoach West. (Pilot; Western; Syn.; 1954). The pilot film for Stories of the Century about Bill Cameron, an agent for the Railroad Protection Association, an organization that protects the newly developing railroads from Indians, robbers or whatever trouble plagues them. In the pilot episode, Bill travels to Cedar City, a railroad junction town in Colorado, to put an end to the trouble plaguing the Chicago and Pacific Transcontinental Railroad.

4574 The Last Word. (Series; Discussion; CBS; 1957–1959). Discussion on the vagaries of the English language with Dr. Bergan Evans as the host and June Havoc, Arthur Knight and John Mason Brown as the panelists.

4575 The Last Word. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/10/86). A proposed spin-off from Gimme a Break about Nicky Popalardo and Tyler McVey, the misadventure-prone assistant managers of The Last Word, a restaurant for the young-at-heart. In the pilot episode, Nicky and Tyler attempt to apprehend the man who snatched a customer's purse. Other Regulars: Stefan Popalardo, the owner (Nicky's father); Sherry, the cashier; and Gloria, the waitress.

Cast: Harry Basil (Nicky Popalardo), Brian Backer (Tyler McVey), Reuven Bar-Yotam (Stefan Popalardo), Melody Hamilton (Sherry), Shari Ballard (Gloria).

Guest Cast: Nell Carter (Nell Harper), Howard Morton (Officer Simpson), Grace Albertson and John Taylor (Customers).

4576 The Last Word. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1989–1990). Two teams compete, each composed of a celebrity captain and a non-celebrity player. A board with three unknown words (indicated by blank spaces) is shown. One player from each team competes. One player begins by asking for a letter. If it is contained in the word it appears in its appropriate place on the board. The object is for players to guess each word (which are related to each other). The first player to identify the last word of the three words that are shown wins the round for his team. The team with the most correct identifications wins the game and merchandise prizes.

Host: Wink Martindale. Assistant: Jennifer Lyall.

4577 Late Bloomer. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 1/19/87). Hoping to find more meaning to life, actress Julia Peterson relinquishes her career and enrolls in Washington Square College in New York City where she hopes to become a psychologist. The unsold series, a proposed spin-off from Kate and Allie, was to relate Julia's activities at school (where she also teaches drama) and at home in Brooklyn Heights, where she teaches cooking. Other Regulars: Ann and Henry, Julia's parents; Millie, her friend; Keith, her ex-husband; and Sandy, a student of Julia's.

Cast: Lindsay Wagner (Julia Peterson), Barbara Barrie (Ann), Roger Bowen (Henry), Mercedes Reuhl (Millie), Sam Freed (Keith), Kelly Wolfe (Sandy).

4578 Late Date with Sari. (Series; Talk; Lifetime; 1995–1996). Sari Locker, the author of the book Mind-Blowing Sex in the Real World, hosts a program about sex and relationships as seen from the woman's point of view. Ordinary people are seen discussing (quite frankly) intimate details of their lives — in group sessions and in on-the-street interviews.

Host: Sari Locker.

4579 The Late Fall, Early Summer Bert Convy Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1976). A summer program of music, songs and light comedy that ran from August 25, 1976 to September 15, 1976. Sam Denoff is the producer.

Host: Bert Convy. Regulars: Sallie Janes, Donna Ponterotto, Marty Barris, Lennie Schultz, Susie Guest, Shirley Kirkes, Judy Pierce, Darcell Wynne. Orchestra: Perry Botkin, Jr. Announcer: Donna Ponterotto.

4580 Late Night with Conan O'Brien. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1993–). A late night talk show that has elements of other similar programs (like celebrity interviews and musical numbers) but differs in the fact that it spotlights off-the-wall characters as well.

Host: Conan O'Brien. Announcer: Joel Godard. Semi-Regulars: Andy Richter, Darrell Hammond, Al Franken, Jim Gaffigan, Will Ferrell, Dave Chapelle, Jerry Vivino, Jimmy Vivino. Band Leader: Max Weinberg.

4581 Late Night with David Letterman. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1982). A late night series that features celebrity (and non-celebrity) interviews and off-beat, satirical sketches. Barry Sand and Jack Rollins are the producers.

Host: David Letterman. Regular: Larry "Bud" Melman. Announcer: Bill Wendell. Music: Paul Shaffer.

4582 The Late Show Starring Joan Rivers. (Series; Variety; Fox; 1986–1987). A live, nightly program of talk, music and interviews. The premiere program of the new Fox Broadcasting Company, a fourth broadcast network. After eight months on the air, Joan Rivers was relieved of her duties as host (from October 9, 1986 to May 15, 1987). On May 22, 1987, the program became The Late Show and featured daily guest hosts in an attempt to boost its less-than-desirable ratings.

Hostess: Joan Rivers. Announcer: Clint Holmes. Music: Mark Hudson and the Party Boys Plus the Tramp.

4583 The Late Show with Craig Kilborn. (Series; Talk; CBS; 1994–2004). A middle-of-the-night talk show that features celebrity interviews and short comedy skits with Craig Kilborn as the host.

4584 The Late Show with David Letterman. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1993–). Comic David Letterman switches networks (NBC to CBS) to become the host of the CBS late night spot originally occupied by movies and series repeats that aired under the umbrella title The CBS Late Movie. Comedy bits, celebrity interviews and musical numbers comprise the nightly series.

Host: David Letterman. Regular: Larry "Bud" Melman. Band Leader: Paul Schaefer.

4585 Laugh-In. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1977–1978). A cast of virtual unknowns (at the time) in comedic nonsense satirizing everyday life. Six episodes aired from September 5, 1977 to February 8, 1978.

Cast: Nancy Bleiweiss, Ed Bluestone, Kim Braden, Claire Faulkonbridge, Antionette Attell, Robin Williams, Wayland Flowers, June Gable, Jim Giovanni, Ben Powers, Bill Rafferty, Michael Sklar, Lennie Schultz, April Tatro. Special Musical Material: Billy Barnes.

4586 Laugh Line. (Series; Game; NBC; 1959). The object calls for a celebrity panel to supply comic captions that are presented in tableau form. The winners are determined by studio audience applause and contestants, represented by the celebrities, receive prizes accordingly.

Host: Dick Van Dyke. Panelists: Dorothy Loudon, Mike Nichols, Elaine May, Orson Bean.

4587 Laugh Trax. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1982). Comedy Skits coupled with performances by guest rock personalities. See also Rock Comedy for information on the series pilot film. Toby Martin and Carolyn Raskin are the producers.

Host: Jim Staahl. Regulars: Gail Matthius, Lucy Webb, Frank Welker, Howie Mandel, Jim Fisher. Theme Music: "Laugh Trax" by Bob Summers.

4588 Laughs for Sale. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1963). Guest comics perform material (sketches, routines, monologues) that is submitted by fledging comedy writers. After the performance, the material is evaluated and offered for sale. Interested parties can purchase the material by contacting the show's producers.

Host: Hal March.

4589 Laughter in Paris. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 2/17/46). An unusual experiment: submitting an original story to motion picture executives through the use of television. NBC issued special invitations to film producers and story editors to watch the program in the network's viewing room. The play, written by the head of NBC's script department, told the tale of two brothers (Lawrence Dobkin, Oliver Thorndike) who are driven apart by a fight and of one of the brother's torment in his old age when his supposedly dead brother comes back to haunt him.

Cast: Charles Avery, Bill Beach, Haskell Coffin, Lawrence Dobkin, Don Gillette, John Graham, Alan Hayes, Eda Heinemann, Eva Langbord, Larry Parke, Michael Rosenberg, Arnold Stang, Oliver Thorndike, Graham Velsey.

4590 Laughtime. (Experimental; Comedy; CBS; 10/16/45). A program of burlesque-like acts with Buddy Hackett in his first TV appearance (discovered by producer Bud Gamble in a G.I. entertainment unit). "The cast tried hard," Variety said, "but never had a chance. Hackett's mugging and timing were creditable and the youngster should go places with better material."

Performers: Paul Brilliant, Herbert Graham, Buddy Hackett, Hildegard Holliday, Marcella Markham.

4591 Laurel and Hardy Laughtoons. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1979). Edited versions of silent Laurel and Hardy shorts of the 1920s. Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy are the featured stars. Music and sound effects have been added to the original films produced by Hal Roach. The series contains 120 episodes (each program contains 4 episodes; each episode runs 5 minutes, 30 seconds).

4592 The Laurel and Hardy Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986). A collection of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy theatrical shorts and feature films from the 1930s and 1940s. The series incorporates new prints made directly from the original negatives.

4593 Lauren Hutton and... (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1995). Model-actress Lauren Hutton hosts a one-on-one celebrity interview program wherein she tries to get her guests “to be honest because real human information is the sexiest thing there is.”

Hostess: Lauren Hutton.

4594 Laurie Hill. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1992). Laurie Hill is a mid-thirties woman struggling to balance her roles as housewife, mother and doctor. She is married to Jeff, a freelance journalist and eternal kid at heart, and is the mother of five-year-old Leo. Leo attends the Davis Preschool and has a plush dog named Floppy Dog.

Laurie has a B.A. from Cornell University, an M.D. from the University of Michigan and ten years of clinical experience. She now works at (and is partners in) the Weisman, Kramer and Hill Family Medical Clinic. Laurie listens to radio station KOLD (91.3 FM) and is on emergency call at Saint John's Hospital.

Laurie's business partners are Dr. Walter Weisman, a grandfatherly physician with one eye on retirement; and Dr. Spencer Kramer, a family practitioner with an aversion to people — he attended the Crittendon Academy for Boys. Nancy MacIntire is an office doctor, and Beverly Fiedler is the office receptionist. W.G. Snuffy Walden composed the “Laurie Hill Theme.”

They first lived at 730 Knapp Street, Apartment A (also given as 730 Hampton Street). The girls, graduates of Fillmore High School, work in the beer bottle-capping division of the Shottz Brewery. They served a hitch in the army (at Camp McClellan. Shirley wrote of their experiences under the pen name S. Wilhelmina Feeney. They played hookers in the army training film This Can Happen to You.) Sergeant Alvinia Plout was their stern superior.

The series changed locales beginning with the episode of 10/31/81 when Laverne and Shirley moved to California to begin new lives. They acquire an apartment at 113 1/2 Laurel Vista Drive in Los Angeles and find employment in the gift wrapping department of Bardwell's Department Store. One year later, Shirley marries her fiancé, Dr. Walter Meeney; Laverne works for the Ajax Aerospace Company.

Laverne, an Italian Catholic, suffers from a fear of small places. She loves milk and Pepsi, Scooter Pies, and peanut butter and sauerkraut on raisin bread sandwiches. She wears a large capital L on all her clothes, including her lingerie. Laverne dated Randolph Carpenter (Ted Danson), a firefighter who was ready to propose but lost his life in the line of duty.

Shirley, an Irish Protestant, is famous for the Shirley Feeney scarf dance, has a plush cat named Boo Boo Kitty, and uses the Feeney family traditional greetings “Hi-Yooo” (for hello) and “Bye-Yooo” (for goodbye).

Andrew (“Squiggy”) Squigman and Leonard (“Lenny”) Kosnoski are friends of Laverne and Shirley and work as beer truck drivers for the Shottz Brewery. In California episodes, they are co-owners of the Squignoski Talent Agency of Burbank, and ice cream vendors with a truck called Squignoski's Ice Cream. As talent agents, they wrote a movie called Blood Orgy of the Amazon and searched for young starlets to star in it. Their favorite food is Bosco (which they put on everything).

Lenny, whose home away from home is the gutter, likes horror movies and sports; his only toy when he was a kid was sauerkraut. He also had a pet turtle, but it killed itself trying to scratch Lenny's name off its back.

Squiggy, whose prized possession is his moth collection, is “blessed” with the Squigman birthmark (a big red blotch shaped like Abraham Lincoln), and he has two favorite things: old sandwiches and toenail clippings.

Frank DeFazio, Laverne's father, first owns the Pizza Bowl (a pizzeria and bowling alley); then, after he and Edna Babish marry and move to Burbank, Cowboy Bill's Western Grub (a fast food chain with the slogan “Stuff your face Western style”).

Carmino Ragusa, Shirley's pre 1981 boyfriend (who calls her “Angel Face”), is nicknamed “The Big Ragu,” and works as a singing messenger.

Rhonda Lee, Laverne and Shirley’s neighbor in Burbank, is an actress and mentioned that she starred in the stage play Bono Mania (the life of Sonny and Cher).

Cast: Penny Marshall (Laverne DeFazio), Cindy Williams (Shirley Feeney), Michael McKean (Lenny Kosnoski), David L. Lander (Andrew “Squiggy” Squigman), Eddie Mekka (Carmine Raguso), Phil Foster (Frank DeFazio), Betty Garrett (Edna Babish), Carol Ita White (Rosie Greenbaum; Laverne’s nemesis), Frances Peach (Mary; Pizza Bowl waitress), Bo Kaprall (Norman Hughes; Laverne’s friend), Helen Page Camp (Mrs. Havenhurst; Laverne’s landlady), Leslie Esterbrook (Rhonda Lee), Ed Marinaro (Sonny St. James; the apartment house manager), Norman Bartold (Harvey Hilderbrand; manager of Bardwell’s Dept. Store), Susan Barnes (Miss Peters; Harvey’s secretary), Vicki Lawrence (Sgt. Alvinia P. Plout), Paul Sylvan (Sal Melina; Laverne’s ex-fiancee), Raleigh Bond (Bill Ajax; owner of Ajax Aerospace), Robert Hogan (“G Bullets” Klein; Laverne’s boss at Ajax). Theme Vocal: “Making Our Dreams Come True” by Cyndi Grecco.

4596 Laverne and Shirley in the Army. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1981–1982). An extension series based on the live action comedy Laverne and Shirley. The army base, Camp Fillmore, is the setting and stories follows the antics of Laverne DeFazio and Shirley Feeney as privates. Their superior is Sergeant Squeely, a talking pig; Sergeant Turnbuckle is Squeely’s superior.

Voice Cast: Penny Marshall (Pvt. Laverne DeFazio), Cindy Williams (Pvt. Shirley Feeney), Ron Palillo (Sgt. Squeely), Ken Mars (Sgt. Turnbuckle).

4597 Laverne and Shirley with the Fonz. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1982–1983). A combination of two animated series: Fonz and the Happy Days Gang and Laverne and Shirley in the Army. The misadventures of army recruits Laverne DeFazio and Shirley Feeney and motor pool private Arthur Fonzarelli (a.k.a. The Fonz and Fonzie)—all of whom are supervised by Sergeant Squeely—the U.S. Army’s only talking pig. Mr. Cool is Fonzie’s dog; and Sergeant Turnbuckle is Squeely’s superior.

Voice Cast: Julie McWhirter (Pvt. Laverne DeFazio), Lynne Stewart (Pvt. Shirley Feeney), Henry Winkler (Pvt. Fonzie), Ron Palillo (Sgt. Squeely), Frank Welker (Mr. Cool), Ken Mars (Sgt. Turnbuckle).

4598 The Law and Harry McGraw. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987–1988). Harlan H. McGraw III, better known as Harry McGraw, is the owner-operator of Harry McGraw Private Investigations in Boston.

Harry is tough, disorganized and irritable. He is reluctant to tell the whole truth, or “The Straight Skinny” as he calls it. He believes he attracts the worst clients; he considers them missions of mercy clients. Harry rarely hands out a business card — “I’d give you a card but I’m fresh out. I’m in the book.” He has a gambling problem and especially likes to play the horses (“I never forget a nag I lose on”). He rarely uses a gun and relies on his fists (“Okay, I get busted up a bit, but at least I get a case solved”). He claims that murder cases have a way of bringing out the worst in people and that if you need a lot of protection, he’s the guy that can give it to you.

Harry lives in an untidy apartment on Melrose. He has a police record — arrested by the Boston Police for suspicion of murder and burglary — and had his private investigator’s license suspended four times in three years. Once on a case, Harry’s seedy and abrasive side appears. He becomes relentless and a determined fact finder despite the dangerous obstacles he might encounter. He is also a master of disguise and uses such deception to trick suspects into revealing information.

Harry uses the resources of the local paper, the Morning Bulletin, and hangs out at a bar called Gilhooley’s. Ellie Maginnis, a criminal attorney with the firm of Maginnis and Maginnis, has the office opposite Harry’s agency. The program is a spin-off from Murder, She Wrote, wherein the character of Harry McGraw appeared several times.

Cast: Jerry Orbach (Harry McGraw), Barbara Babcock (Ellie Maginnis).

4599 The Law and Mr. Jones. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1960–1962). Abraham Lincoln Jones is a tough but honest criminal attorney working out New York City. Named after the 16th President of the United States, Abraham believes in everything his namesake stood for; he will not compromise his beliefs and firmly believes that honesty from his clients is his best defense. Stores follow Abraham as he struggles to defend people falsely accused of serious crimes. Marsha Spear is Abraham’s secretary; C.E. Carruthers is his law clerk; Thomas Jones is Abraham’s father.

4600 Law and Order. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1990–). “In the criminal justice system the people are represented by two separate yet equally important groups—the police who investigate crimes and the district attorneys who prosecute the offenders. These are their stories.” These are the opening words to each episode of Law and Order, TV’s longest-running crime drama series. It is actually two series in one (as was the 1963 ABC series Arrest and Trial). It begins with a crime (usually based on an actual incident) and the investigations by the detectives of the N.Y.P.D. It concludes with the D.A.’s prosecution of the offenders. See also the spin-off series: Law and Order: Crime and Punishment, Law and Order: Criminal Intent, Law and Order: Special Victims Unit and Law and Order: Trial by Jury.

4601 Law and Order: Crime and Punishment. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2003). “In the criminal justice system, Deputy District Attorneys represent the people. The prosecutors you are about to see and they cases they try are real. Nothing has been recreated,” said the announcer to the fourth (but short lived) franchise of the Law and Order series. Unlike the other versions (which are set in New York City), this series is set in California and deals with real cases in San Diego. All participants, who vary from episode to episode, are real and cases are presented via interviews, witness gathering, trial preparation and the actual trial.

Announcer: Steven Zirnkilton.

4602 Law and Order: Criminal Intent. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 2001–). “In New York City’s war on crime, the worst criminal offenders are pursued by the detectives of the Major Case Squad. These are their stories.” These are the opening words to the second spin-off from Law and Order (see also Law and Order: Crime and Punishment, Law and Order: Special Victims Unit and Law and Order: Trial by Jury). Here, the investigations of Detectives Robert Goren and Alexandra Eames are seen as they investigate (most often) murder cases—from the first call to its successful conclusion.

Crime scenes are quite graphic and tend to be a bit upsetting when Robert arrives at the scene. Cameras follow his scrutiny of the site with a victim and blood ever so present. Criminal Intent is the most intense of the Law and Order programs as Robert and Alexandra’s investigations are meticulous. Robert’s knowledge of many things always helps him to trap suspects in a lie and bring a case to a successful conclusion (he also likes to work on hunches). Beginning with the 2005–2006 season, Detectives Mike Logan and Carolyn Berek alternate episodes with Robert and Alexandra.

Cast: Vincent D’Onofrio (Det. Robert Goren), Kathryn Erbe (Det. Alexandra Eames), Courtney B. Vance (A.D.A. Ron Carver), Jamey Sheridan (Capt. James Deakins), Leslie Hendrix (Dr. Elizabeth Rodgers), Chris Noth (Det. Mike Logan), Annabella Sciorra (Det. Carolyn Berek), Julianne Nicholson (Det. Megan Wheeler), Samantha Buck (Det. G. Lynn Bishop), Eric Bogosian (Capt. Danny Ross), Steven Zirnkilton (Theme Narrator).

4603 Law and Order: Special Victims Unit. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1999–). “In the criminal justice system, sexually based offences are considered especially heinous. In New York City, the detectives who investigate these vicious felonies are members of an elite squad known as the Special Victims Unit. These are their stories.” These are the opening words from the first spin-off from Law and Order (see also Law and Order: Crime and Punishment, Law and Order: Criminal Intent and Law and Order: Trial by Jury).

Elliot Stable, Olivia Benson, Fin Tutuola and John Munch are members of the Special Victims Unit of the N.Y.P.D, who investigate sexually related crimes that are quite gritty and often based on true incidents. Especially upsetting to some viewers are not only the graphic recreations of sexually abused victims, but cases that involve the sexual abuse or killing of children. Although every attempt is made to be discreet, coroner's office scenes can be quite upsetting.

4604 Law and Order: Trial by Jury. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 2005). Trial by Jury is the third spin-off from Law and Order. But unlike its predecessors (Law and Order: Criminal Intent and Law and Order: Special Victims Unit), Trial by Jury was cancelled shortly after it premiered. Here, the inner workings of the New York judicial system are seen beginning with an arraignment. The process of building a case follows, as does investigating leads, interviewing witnesses and defendants and finally the trial that ends the reign of a criminal.

Cast: Bebe Neuwirth (A.D.A. Tracey Kibre), Amy Carlson (A.D.A. Kelly Gaffney), Fred Dalton (D.A. Arthur Branch), Kirk Acevedo (D.A. Hector Salazar), Scott Cohen (Det. Chris Ravell), Seth Gilliam (A.D.A. Terence Wright), Candice Bergen (Judge Amanda Anderlee).

4605 The Law Enforcers. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1969–1970). The relationship between Sam Danforth, a white Deputy Police Chief, and William Washburn, the black District Attorney, as they attempt to maintain law and order in an unnamed California city beset by urban crime. The series, broadcast as a segment of The Bold Ones aired from September 28, 1969 to September 6, 1970.

Cast: Leslie Nielsen (Sam Danforth), Hari Rhodes (William Washburn).

4606 The Law Firm. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2005). Twelve actual lawyers compete for the top prize of $250,000. The lawyers are split into two teams of six and the competition has them arguing real cases in a real courtroom. The outcome of each case is legally binding, but the teams whose performance, according to legal analyst Roy Black, is the weakest (even if they win a case) is eliminated. The series was dropped by NBC after two episodes

(July 28 to August 4, 2005) with the remaining episodes airing on NBC's sister station Bravo (to September 21, 2005).

Host: Roy Black. Receptionist: Adrienne Allen, Kristen Green.

4607 Law of the Plainsman. (Series; Western; NBC; 1959–1960). With his right hand raised and his left hand on the Bible, a Harvard educated Apache Indian takes the oath to become a U.S. Marshal: "Do you swear to uphold the Constitution of the United States and the territory of New Mexico, to do your duty as a deputy U.S. Marshal without favor or prejudice, so help you God?" The Apache, named Sam Buckhart, responds, "I do." While Sam covers a great deal of New Mexico (1880s), he is based in Santa Fe and must overcome many obstacles to perform his job — especially the prejudices that existed at the time between Indians and whites. But it was a white man who changed the course of Sam's life.

During a battle between the cavalry and the Apache Indians, a 14-year-old brave encounters a wounded army captain. Instead of killing the captain, the brave befriends him and gets help. The captain and the brave, whom the captain names Sam Burkhart, soon become blood brothers. Two years later, after the captain is killed in an Indian ambush, Sam inherits a great deal of money, which enables him to attend Harvard University, as once did the captain. Wishing to help his people, Sam decides to become a law enforcement officer upon graduation.

Tess Logan is Sam's ward, a pretty seven-year-old he rescued from a wagon train massacre; Martha Cominter runs the Santa Fe Boarding House and helps care for Tess; Billy Lordan is Sam's assistant, the marshal of the nearby town of Glorieta; A.L. Morrison is the sheriff of Santa Fe. The town saloon is the Red Bar Saloon. The pilot episode, "The Indian," aired on The Rifleman (2/17/59).

Cast: Michael Ansara (Sam Buckhart), Gina Gillespie (Tess Logan), Robert Harland (Billy Lordan), Nora Marlowe (Martha Cominter), Dayton Loomis (Marshal Andrew Morrison). Theme Song: "Law of the Plainsman" by Leonard Rosenman.

4608 Lawbreaker. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1963). Dramatizations based on actual criminal cases. Stories are filmed at the scenes of crimes with the actual people involved. Also known as Lee Marvin Presents Lawbreaker.

Host-Narrator: Lee Marvin.

4609 Lawless. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 1997). John Lawless is a former Special Forces operative who resigns from the military to become a private detective. He retreats to Miami's trendy South Beach where his mother (Esther) runs a café and where he establishes a practice. He teams with Reggie, a Jamaican who operates a helicopter charter service and stories follow their case investigations. The series was canceled after the first episode aired (March 22, 1997) due to dismal ratings.

Cast: Brian Bosworth (John Lawless), Glenn Plummer (Reggie), Janet Hubert-Whitten (Esther Hayes).

4610 The Lawless Years. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1959–1961). New York City during the 1920s is the setting for a series about of Barney Ruditsky, a plainclothes police detective. Barney is as tough as nails investigator and stories relate his attempts to infiltrate the rackets and expose the racketeers. The series, which produced 52 episodes, ran from April 16, 1959 to September 3, 1959; and May 12, 1961 to September 22, 1961.

Cast: James Gregory (Barney Ruditsky), Robert Karnes (Max, his assistant).

4611 Lawman. (Series; Western; ABC; 1958–1962). When a girl, “someone special” to Dan Troop, is killed by a stray bullet in a pointless gunfight, Dan decides to devote his life to upholding the law. As the years pass, Dan becomes a legend — “The Famous Gun from Texas.” It is 1879 when Dan, the marshal of Abilene, receives a telegram from the town council in Laramie, Wyoming, asking him to rid the town of three outlaw brothers, one of whom killed the previous marshal (“The town is tough on lawmen and horse thieves”).

Dan is fast with his guns and tough with his fists. He is also high priced and likes his gratitude once a month — waiting for him at the bank. The town council members want a city where their wives and children can walk down the street without being afraid. Dan realizes that he can’t do the job alone and advertises for a deputy (a job that pays $50 a month). A young man named Johnny McKay applies for the position — but is turned down because Dan thinks Johnny is too inexperienced. However, when Dan arrests one of the three brothers and the other two trap him in a crossfire, Johnny comes to his defense — and is hired by Dan. Stories follow their efforts to uphold the law.

As a kid Dan worked in a hash house. He believes that a man has to wear a gun because of the way things are now; he also thinks there will be a time when it is not necessary.

Lily Merrill owns the town’s watering hole, the Birdcage Saloon; Dru Lemp runs the Blue Bonnet Café (where Johnny worked prior to becoming a deputy; it was then called Good Eats); and Julie Tate is the editor of the town newspaper, the Laramie Weekly (originally called the Laramie Free Press). The Hotel Laramie, the Bank of Laramie and the Laramie Trading Post are other businesses in town.

4612 The Lawrence Welk Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1955–1971). A program of music, songs and dance with orchestra leader Lawrence Welk and his family of regulars. Sponsored by Dodge Automobiles and originally titled The Dodge Dancing Party. Sam Lutz, Edward Sobel and James Hobson are the producers.

Announcer: Bob Orrin. Music Director: George Cates.

4613 The Lawrence Welk Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1971–1983). A syndicated version of the prior title that continues to present wholesome family entertainment (music, songs and dances). Sponsored in part by Geritol. Sam Lutz is the producer.

4614 Lawrence Welk’s Top Tunes and New Talent. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1955–1959). An extension series based on ABC’s The Lawrence Welk Show that presents music, songs and performances by aspiring but undiscovered talent. The series, under the sponsorship of Plymouth Automobiles, is also known as The Plymouth Show Starring Lawrence Welk. Edward Sobel and Sam Lutz are the producers.

Host: Lawrence Welk. Regulars: Alice Lon, Myron Floren, Buddy Merrill, Dick Dale, Larry Hooper, Larry Dean, Bob Lido, Dianne Lennon, Janet Lennon, Kathy Lennon, Peggy Lennon, Bob Brunner, Brenda Kay, Marjorie Meinert. Musicians: (Lawrence Welk's Little Orchestra; children): Allan Imback, Warren Luening, Cubby O'Brien, Tom Owens, Mike Quatro, Brian Siebman, Bown Wagner, Jeff Woodruff, Pee Wee Spitelers. Announcer: Bob Orrin. Music: George Cates.

4615 The Lawyers. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1969–1972). Walter Nichols is an elderly, but shrewd Los Angeles based attorney. Brian and Neil Darrell are brothers who are also lawyers. They represent the younger generation and work as Walter's protégés. To give his young assistants experience, Walter often lets them do the needed legwork to uncover the evidence needed to defend a client. Walter's years of experience have given him the edge he needs as he is an expert at piecing together seemingly useless facts to build the case he needs to exonerate his clients. Stories relate the case investigations as well as the courtroom defenses. Aired as a segment of The Bold Ones. See also The Sound of Anger and The Whole World Is Watching for information on the series pilot films.

Cast: Burl Ives (Walter Nichols), Joseph Campanella (Brian Darrell), James Farentino (Neil Darrell), John Milford (Lt. Paul Hewitt), Todd Martin (Deputy D.A. Jeff Skinner), Marcelle Fortier (Walter's secretary), George Murdock (D.A. Braddock), Charles Brewer (D.A. Dekker), Walter Brooke (Judge Howe).

4616 LAX. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2004–2005). A behind-the-scenes look at the inner workings of a large metropolitan airport as seen through the eyes of Harley Random, the Airfield Chief, and Roger DeSouza, the terminal manager of Los Angeles International Airport (called LAX). Harley is single and has no children — “I haven't gotten around to that.” Roger has been married twice; he is divorced from Allison and is currently married to Monique. He is also the father of Sophia and Peter (with Allison).

Harley is not one to stand around and do nothing. She actively involves herself with all aspects of the airport's operations. She likes to do things her way to make sure the job gets done. Roger is a bit more laid back and not as much of a problem solver as Harley. He prefers to follow the rules and not anger his bosses. Harley can't do that — “The job requires me to have passion and if that makes me a touch cranky too bad.”

Shortly after the premiere, Harley and Roger were promoted to co-directors of LAX. Other Regulars: Tony, the airline supervisor; Nick, the immigration officer; Henry, the security chief; Betty, the reservations clerk; and Julie, Harley's sister.

Cast: Heather Locklear (Harley Random), Blair Underwood (Roger DeSouza), Paul Leyden (Tony Magulia), Wendy Hoopes (Betty), Frank John Hughes (Henry Engels), Charisma Carpenter (Julie), Sharon Leal (Monique), Brooke Marie Bridges (Sophia DeSouza), Spensir Bridges (Peter DeSouza).

4617 The Lazarus Syndrome. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1979). MacArthur St. Clair is a no-nonsense cardiologist at Webster Memorial Hospital. He is a man whose dedication to work often takes its toll on his personal life. He is struggling to devote less time to his profession and more time to his wife as the strain is also causing problems with his marriage. Complicating matters is the fact that Mac's dedication has made him part of “The Lazarus Syndrome,” a situation where a patient believes a doctor is a god-like miracle worker.

Other Regulars: Gloria St. Clair, Mac's wife; Joe Hamill, the hospital administrator; Stacy, Joe's assistant; Virginia Hamill, Joe's ex-wife.

Cast: Louis Gossett, Jr. (MacArthur St. Clair), Sheila Frazier (Gloria St. Clair), Ronald Hunter (Joe Hamill), Peggy McCay (Stacy), Peggy Walker (Virginia Hamill), Christina Alvila (Admissions Nurse).

4618 Lazer Tag Academy. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1986–1987). While escaping from the police, Draxon Drear, an evil criminal from the year 2010, crashes his space ship into the ocean. A gas escapes and places him a state of suspended animation. One thousand years later, Draxon is found and revived. While learning about the future, Draxon steals a time machine device and returns to the past to change the course of history. When it is learned that Draxon has returned to the year 1987 to stop Beth Jaren, a scientist from developing time travel technology, Jamie Jaren, a member of the Lazer Tag Academy (the future government) and a descendant of Beth's, is sent back in time to stop Draxon. Stories relate Jamie's efforts to stop Draxon before he changes the course of history.

Voice Cast: Noelle Harling (Jamie Jaren), Booker Bradshaw (Draxon Drear), Christina MacGregor (Beth Jaren), Billy Jayne (Tom Jaren), Sid McCoy (Professor Olanga), R.J. Williams (Nicky Jaren), Tress MacNeille (Mrs. Jaren), Pat Fraley (Charlie Ferguson), Frank Welker (Mr. Jaren), Frank Welker (Skuggs), Frank Welker (Ralphie).

4619 Lazy Town. (Series; Children; Nickelodeon; 2004). A charming, delightful and truly entertaining program for children. The program is filmed in Iceland and combines live action with puppets. The setting is Lazy Town, a mythical and colorful community with odd-shaped buildings, a very pretty and adorable eight-year-old girl (Stephanie), a mean villain (Robbie Rotten) and a very athletic hero (Sportacus).

The series begins with Stephanie arriving in Lazy Town to live with her uncle, Mayor Milford Meanwell. She quickly makes friends (the puppets Ziggy, Trixie, Stingy and Pixel) and the human Sportacus. But she also encounters the human Robbie Rotten, a mean man who can't stand the thought of children (or adults) playing or having fun.

Sportacus watches over Lazy Town from his blimp in the sky. When he senses trouble, he descends to earth to help where needed (he also encourages children to exercise and eat right). Stephanie, who always becomes involved in the antics of her friends, encourages children to sing and dance (she is always featured in at least one song and dance number per show). This is all upsetting to Robbie Rotten who plots to destroy the happiness of Lazy Town—but his actions are always foiled by Sportacus or by his own misdeeds when one of his wacky ideas backfires. Other Regulars: Bessie Busybody, Milford's friend.

Cast: Julianna Rose Mauriello (Stephanie), Magnus Scheving (Sportacus), Stefan Karl Stefansson (Robbie Rotten), David Matthew (Milford Meanwell), Jodi Eichelberger (Stingy), Sarah Burgess (Trixie), Heather Asch (Trixie), Kobie Powell (Pixel), Gudmundur Thor (Ziggy), Julie Westwood (Bessie Busybody).

4620 A League of Their Own. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993). During World War II, candy bar king Walter Harvey, creator of the Harvey Bar, hires washed up ex-ballplayer Jimmy Dugan to manage the Rockford Peaches, an Illinois team in the first All American Girls Professional Baseball League (AAGPBL) to save the game (and make money) when baseball's biggest stars go off to war.

Jimmy was with the 1929 Chicago Cubs and was called "The kid on the team." He had 151 RBI's and went on to a great career. In his youth Jimmy was called "The Carpenter" ("because I nailed all the girls") and took the job because the money was good. Benny the Chimp (whom Jimmy won in a poker game) is the team's mascot.

Evelyn Gardner, Betty Horne, Dottie Hanson, Kit Keeler, Mae Mortibito and Marla Hooch are the Rockford Peaches. Evelyn, jersey 15, plays right field; she is married to Frank. Betty, the catcher, wears jersey 1. She is a widow (late husband, George) and is the quiet one on the team. Betty is a former Miss Georgia and cares for the other girls when they get hurt.

Dottie, jersey 8, plays first base. She is from Oregon and her husband, Bob, is in the army. Dottie is the only girl Jimmy feels he can talk to "man to man" (he considers her to be like one of the players from his old ball club). Kit, the pitcher, wears jersey 23. Mae, jersey 15, plays centerfield; and Marla, a powerful hitter, plays second base (jersey 32).

Jimmy earns $80 a week; Dottie, considered to be the best player, makes $90; Mae, $75; Marla, Kit and Betty, $45. The Suds Bucket is the local watering hole. The series is based on the 1992 feature film of the same title.

Cast: Sarah Paulson (Faith Wardwell), Lisa Edelstein (Patty), Regina King (Cynthia), Brad Rowe (Dan Murphy), Jill Clayburgh (Crickett Wardwell), Ken Marino (Andy), Tim Meadows (Lucas).

4622 Learning the Ropes. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1988–1989). Robert Randall is a single father (separated from his wife, Anne) who cares for his two teenage children, Ellen and Mark. Robert has a daytime job as a history teacher and vice principal at the Ridgedale Valley Preparatory School, and a second, nighttime job as a wrestler called "The Masked Maniac."

Home to the Randalls is 34 Hampton Street. Even though Ellen and Mark are not wealthy, they attend Ridgedale Prep, "a private school for rich kids," because their father teaches there. Robert's main concern is to see that Ellen and Mark get a college education. (His mind was eased one day when his health club manager asked him to become the Masked Maniac, "the animal of the wrestling ring.") Robert originally did it for laughs; but when the character caught on and the money started rolling in, he kept the job to provide for Ellen and Mark's future. Robert must now keep his wrestling job a secret because school regulations prohibit teachers from moonlighting.)

When Mark discovered his father was a wrestler (he was looking for his tennis racket and found the mask in the closet), he was thrilled ("It's like finding out your father is Freddy from Nightmare on Elm Street). Ellen's reaction was just the opposite when Mark told her. She was stunned and unable to accept it ("It's not every day you get to see your father maiming people").

Ellen is the smarter of the two children. She does the cooking (and is very proud of her ability to prepare meals) but does not want to be a housewife and mother — "I want to be a career woman." Mark, the mischievous one (he enjoys, for example, throwing water balloons at cheerleaders), wants "the big bucks job."

The Burger Palace is Ellen and Mark's after school hangout; fellow wrestlers call Robert "The Professor"; Robert's black mask has a skull and crossbones in the center of the forehead area and an M on each side of the eyeholes (Dr. Death and Gary Sabaugh performed the Masked Maniac stunts). Anne, who is never seen, is in England studying to become a lawyer. Beth is Ellen's boy-crazy girlfriend; and Carol Dickson is the school's French teacher.

In the original, unaired pilot version, Anne was said to have walked out on her family and Robert was romantically involved with Carol (this episode and two previously taped episodes were re-edited to delete the romantic aspect, which was not a part of the actual series). Theme: "Learning the Ropes," vocal by David Roberts.

Cast: Lyle Alzado (Robert Randall), Nicole Stoffman (Ellen Randall), Yannick Bisson (Mark Randall), Jacqueline Mason (Beth), Sheryl Wilson (Carol Dickson).

4623 The Leathernecks. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 2/2/63). A proposed but unsold spin-off from The Gallant Men about the experiences of a group of Marines during World War II.

Cast: Van Williams (Lieutenant Dave Cameron), Philip Carey (Sergeant Matt Barragan), Armand Alzamora (Corporal Vince Mazzini), George Murdock (Private Ben Cagel).

4624 Leave It to Beaver. (Series; Comedy; CBS; ABC; 1957–1963). Ward and June Cleaver and their children, Wally and Theodore, live at 211 Pine Street in the small town of Mayfield. Before the Cleavers move to a new home at 211 Lakewood Avenue, their address was also given as 211 Maple Street and 211 Pine Avenue. In the first episode only, the Cleavers have a maid named Minerva.

Ward enjoys fishing and reading the Mayfield Press. He grew up on Shannon Avenue (in the Shaker Heights section of town) and was a member of the 4H Club. He was on the shot put team in high school and studied engineering in college. He was also an engineer with the Seabees during World War II but his current profession (other than being a businessman) is not revealed. He and June are strict but not stern parents. They never spank their sons but when it comes to punishing or disciplining them, a "go to your room" or sermon by Ward is given. June, maiden name Bronson, was educated in a boarding school (where she received a letter in basketball).

Wallace, nicknamed Wally, is the older brother. He is in the eighth grade at the Grant Avenue School when the series begins. He later attends Mayfield High School then State College. In high school Wally becomes a three-letter man. He is captain of the varsity football team and has a girlfriend (Julie Foster).

Theodore is named after June's Aunt Martha's brother. He acquired the nickname of "Beaver" when Wally couldn't pronounce Theodore and said "Tweder." Ward and June thought "Beaver" sounded better. Beaver, also called the "Beave," attends the Grant Avenue School and then Mayfield High. He wears a green baseball cap, hates "mushy stuff" and likes "to mess around with junk." He would "rather smell a skunk than see a girl" and Miller's Pond is his favorite "fishin' hole." Mary Margaret Matthews (Lori Martin) was the first girl Beaver found attractive (she called him "Teddy").

Edward W. Haskell, better known as Eddie, is Wally's wisecracking friend (he and Wally met in the second grade). Eddie is extremely polite to adults (he fears their authority) but mean to everyone else, especially Beaver (whom he calls "Squirt"; he calls Wally "Sam," "Gertrude" and "Ellwood"). Eddie attends the same schools as Wally and lives at 175 Grant Avenue. Woody Woodpecker is his favorite TV show and he is allergic to mayonnaise.

Clarence Rutherford, the overweight friend of Wally and Eddie, is nicknamed "Lumpy." He takes tuba lessons and drives "a sickly green car" and his father, Fred, is Ward's boss. Fred calls Ward "Lord of the Manor." He is married to Geraldine; his wife in later episodes is named Gwen. Fred originally talked about having three children: a girl, Violet, and two boys who were offered football scholarships. Later, he has only two children, Lumpy and Violet.

Beaver's friends are Larry Mondello, Gilbert Grover and Hubert "Whitey" Whitney. Larry was first credited as Robert Stevens; Gilbert was first introduced as Gilbert Harrison, then Gilbert Gates and finally Gilbert Bates. Judy Hessler is the obnoxious girl who kisses up to teachers and annoys Beaver and his friends with her smug attitude. She was replaced by Penny Woods, a similar character, in last-season episodes.

Cornelia Raeburn is the principal of the Grant Avenue School, Alice Landers is Beaver's caring teacher, and Gus is the old fire chief Beaver visits at Fire Station Number 5. Michael Johnson and Melvyn Lenard composed the theme, "The Toy Parade." See also It's a Small World, Still the Beaver and The New Leave It to Beaver.

Hostess: Maggi McNellis. Host: Eddie Dunn. Panelists: Robin Chandler, Faye Emerson, Eloise McElhone, Florence Pritchett, Binnie Barnes, Peggy Ann Garner, Eva Gabor.

4627 Leave It to the Women. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1981). Stephanie Edwards is the host as panel of women discuss various topical issues with guests. Johnny Jacobs does the announcing.

4628 Leeza. (Series; Talk; NBC; 1993–2000). An enlightening talk show with entertainment reporter Leeza Gibbons interviewing celebrities as well as presenting information concerning movies, TV shows and other related show business news.

4629 The Left Over Revue. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). A program of music, song and comedy that replaced the cancelled Broadway Open House for a short time. The series ran from 11 P.M. to midnight from September 17, 1951 to November 9, 1951.

Host: Wayne Howell. Vocalist: Verna Massey. Music: Milton DeLugg.

4630 Leg Work. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987). Claire McCarron is a former assistant district attorney turned owner of McCarron Investigations, a private detective agency she operates from an office at 17 West 36th Street in New York City. Claire guarantees results and charges $500 a day plus expenses. She has a dog named Clyde and drives a silver Porsche. The car is always in need of repair and Claire must do a lot of walking to accomplish her goals, hence the title. Claire also displays her shapely legs by wearing miniskirts. Claire lives in an apartment at 765 East 65th Street and has a rare collection of pre-World War II Lionel "O" gauge electric trains that she inherited from her father. She often eats out and the only two foods she can prepare are oatmeal raisin cookies and coq au vin (chicken in wine sauce). When a case bothers Claire, she resorts to making cookies.

Claire works with her brother, Fred McCarron, a lieutenant with the Office of Public Relations at One Police Plaza in Manhattan, and Wilhelmina "Willie" Pipal, the Manhattan Assistant District Attorney. The series had two working titles: "Eye Shadow" and "Leg Work." Margaret Colin had the choice of using either title. While she preferred neither, she chose Leg Work. Michael Omartian composed the "Leg Work Theme."

Cast: Margaret Colin (Claire McCarron), Patrick

James Clarke (Fred McCarron), Frances McDormand (Willie Pipal).

4631 Legacy. (Drama; UPN; 1998–1999). Lexington, Kentucky, following the Civil War is the setting. It is here that a wealthy Irish American family, the Logans, are struggling to establish their empire as horse breeders. Despite their wealth, the Logans are not run by their money; they are a family who believe in helping others and a family to whom others can look to for help in trying times. Ned Logan heads the family, a widower who is raising his four headstrong children alone: Sean, Clay, Alice and Lexy. Also sharing their struggles is Jeremy Radford, a 17-year-old orphan taken in by Ned.

Cast: Brett Cullen (Ned Logan), Jeremy Garrett (Clay Logan), Sarah Rayne (Lexy Logan), Lea Moreno Young (Alice Logan), Grayson McCouch (Sean Logan), Ron Melendez (Jeremy Bradford), Lisa Sheridan (Vivian Winters), Sean Bridges (William Winters), Mark Joy (Col. Harry Griffith), Steven Williams (Isaac), Sharon Leal (Marista), Brigid Branagh (Molly).

4632 Legend. (Series; Western; UPN; 1995). Ernest Pratt is a 19th century novelist who has created Nicodemus Legend, a western hero. Ernest has written his dime store novels in a first-person narrative and is constantly mistaken for Legend. Unfortunately for Ernest, the real life deeds of Legend that Ernest only wrote about, have resulted in arrest warrants being issued in Colorado.

Legend is pure fiction — but the warrants are not and Ernest feels he needs to set the record straight. In Colorado, Ernest meets Janos Bartok, an eccentric inventor who convinces him to keep the identity of Legend and use his legend to help people in need.

Ernest agrees. Janos is actually the hero behind Legend. His wacky inventions provide Legend with the means to save the day and stories follow Ernest as he tries to be the hero he has written about. Ramos assists Bartok.

Cast: Richard Dean Anderson (Ernest Pratt/Nicodemus Legend), John de Lancie (Janos Bartok), Mark Adair-Rios (Huitzilopochtli Ramos).

4633 The Legend of Calamity Jane. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1997–1998). The Old West is the setting. Unlike her first name implies, Calamity Jane is no calamity. She is tall, slender, dresses in black (with a white scarf and belt) and carries a red whip. She was a runaway who was raised by a Native American tribe. She has honed her skills and uses her abilities to help the downtrodden. Jane is assisted by her partner, Joe Presto, and her romantic interest, Wild Bill Hickok. Stories follow the western heroine as she battles the various villains who plague the good people of the Old West.

Voice Cast: Jennifer Jason Leigh (Calamity Jane), Barbara Scaff (Calamity Jane; later), Frank Welker (Joe Presto), Clancy Brown (Wild Bill Hickok). Additional Voices: Miriam Flynn, Tim Matheson, Candi Milo, Jason Siner, Townsend Coleman, Julia Kato.

4634 The Legend of Custer. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1967). Kansas in 1867 is the setting. Found guilty of dereliction of duty, Major General George Armstrong Custer (U.S. Cavalry) is reduced in rank (to Lieutenant Colonel) and sent to Fort Hays, where he is put in charge of the Seventh Labor Battalion. Custer, who refuses to treat his Company C as a work detail, trains them and, after months of endurance, his squad is recognized as The Fighting Seventh. Stories depict Custer's exploits in Indian affairs, and his personal conflict with Crazy Horse, the Sioux Indian Chief. Also known as Custer

Cast: Wayne Maunder (Col. George Custer), Slim Pickens (Joe Miller, the trail scout), Peter Palmer (Sgt. James Bustard), Grant Woods (Capt. Myles Keogh), Robert F. Simon (Gen. Alfred Terry), Michael Dante (Chief Crazy Horse).

4635 The Legend of Jesse James. (Series; Western; ABC; 1965–1966). St. Louis, Missouri, during the 1860s is the setting. The tale of outlaws Frank and Jesse James, hard-working farmers who were forced into a life of crime after railroad officials killed their mother when she refused to sell them their land. Avenging their mother's death, Frank and Jesse strike and rob the Great Western Railroad and attempt to return rightful property to the survivors of innocent victims.

Sam Corbett is the marshal seeking Frank and Jesse; Cole and Bob Younger are the notorious gunfighters.

Cast: Chris Jones (Jesse James), Allen Case (Frank James), Robert J. Wilke (Marshal Sam Corbett), John Milford (Cole Younger), Bob McIntire (Bob Younger), Ann Doran (Mrs. James).

4636 The Legend of Prince Valiant. (Series; Cartoon; Fox Family; 1991). The series, set in the middle-ages, follows the life of Prince Valiant as he sets out to become a Knight of King Arthur's Round Table. His quest begins with a dream in which he envisions King Arthur requesting that he become a knight. Believing that his dream is an omen, he sets out to fulfill a destiny. As he begins his journey, he meets a peasant (Arn) and a blacksmith's daughter (Rowenne) who join him on his quest. Stories focus on the three as they arrive in Camelot and then perform duties to become Knights of King Arthur's Round Table.

Voice Cast: Robby Benson (Prince Valiant), Noelle North (Rowenne), Michael Horton (Arn), Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (King Arthur), Samantha Eggar (Queen Guinevere), Alan Oppenheimer (Merlin the Magician), James Avery (Sir Bryant), Tim Curry (Sir Gawain), Patty Duke (Lady Morgana), Jeff Bennett (Lord Maldon).

4637 Legend of the Dragon. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2006). In ancient China there is a legend of a Dragon Master, a person of special abilities who is chosen to be guardian of the sacred temple. When the current guardian passes, a search is begun to find a new guardian.

Ang and Ling are twins who were born in the year of the dragon. Ang and Ling are martial arts experts but each could face a different destiny: Ang is attracted to the powers of goodness (the light) while Ling is prone to evil (the powers of darkness). Both are seeking to become guardians but only one is chosen — the brother (Ling) not the sister (Ang). The balance of power suddenly changes and Ang can go either way — join her brother on the side of good or oppose him with the powers of darkness. Stories relate Ling's efforts to safeguard the temple from evil and Ang's struggles to choose between the light and the dark.

4638 The Legend of the Golden Gun. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 4/10/79). A proposed series about John Golden (a.k.a. John Colton), a legendary gunslinger who fights for justice in Kansas, 1860s. The pilot episode depicts how Golden became a legend: Shortly after William Quantrill, the Confederate guerilla leader, attacks the Colton farm and leaves, believing all members are dead, Joshua Brown, a runaway slave, finds and nurses back to health a wounded John Colton. Bitter, Colton vows to avenge his family and kill Quantrill. Believing that Colton is inexperienced, Brown suggests that he seek the help of Jim Hammer, a legendary gunslinger who fights for right. Hammer teaches Colton the art of gunplay — not for revenge, however, but to seek out and destroy evil. Before Hammer and Colton part company, Hammer gives John a gold outfit and a gold-plated seven-barreled gun (the seventh bullet being for evil "because evil doesn't fight fair"). The story follows Colton as he assumes the name John Golden and sets out to use his guns for justice.

Cast: Jeff Osterhage (John Golden), Carl Franklin (Joshua "Book" Brown), Hal Holbrook (John Hammer; a.k.a. John Swackhamer). Guest Cast:

Michele Carey (Maggie Oakley), Robert Davi (William Quantrill), Keir Dullea (General George Custer), Elissa Leeds (Sara Powell), R.G. Armstrong (Harrison Harding), William Bryant (William Ford), R.C. Tolbert (William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody).

4639 The Legends of the Hawaiian Slammers. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 11/25/94). Three thousand years ago there was a time of peace and wisdom on Earth. Then a great volcanic explosion caused a warp in time and space and released five evil entities from our world called the Slammers of Darkness (Shadow, Lead, Fire, Storm and Lava). These Slammers wrecked havoc on the world until the five Slammers of Light (Sun, Rain, Cold, Ice and Earth) were sent by the gods to stop them. The immortal Slammers battled for one hundred years before good could defeat evil (each Slammer of Light captured a Slammer of Darkness and transferred their powers into small metal disks — each trapping the other for eternity). The disks were buried deep inside an Hawaiian volcano and left untouched for centuries.

Over the course of time, earthquakes and eruptions jarred the casing that held the Slammers of Sun and Shadow (their energies can only be released by a life force of similar nature: an evil human can control the dark Slammer while a good human can control a light Slammer).

It is 1994 when the evil archeologist Von Fragman discovers a Slammer disk. By spinning the disk, as told in the hieroglyphics, Von Fragman releases Shadow and becomes his master. Meanwhile, a young boy (Ronnie) finds a metal disk, which he spins, thinking it is a neat bottle cap, and brings to life Sun. The proposed series was to follow Ronnie and Sun's efforts to stop Von Fragman and Shadow from finding and releasing the dark Slammers in his quest to rule the world.

4640 Legends of the Hidden Temple. (Series; Game; Nickelodeon; 1993–1996). A game for children that incorporates twelve players (six boys, six girls) divided into specific two-member teams: Silver Snakes, Red Jaguars, Green Monkeys, Blue Baracudas, Orange Iguanas and Purple Parrots. The format places teams in an ancient Mayan-like temple setting that is built on a stage called Olmec's Temple. Olmec is a talking rock that begins the game by telling the teams what artifact they must find that is hidden in his temple. In round one, each member of each team must cross a moat by any means they can. The first four teams to cross the moat continue with the game while the other two teams are eliminated. In round two, "The Steps of Knowledge," Olmec questions the teams on their knowledge of the artifact that was mentioned at the beginning of the program. Teams answer through buzzer signal recognition and the two highest scoring teams continue onto the next round, "The Temple Games." Here each of the boys and each of the girls must perform a physical task. A pendant is awarded to the best performing players. The team with the most pendants at the end of the round receives the opportunity to win merchandise prizes by entering Olmec's Temple with the object being to find the previously mentioned artifact. It is not as easy as it sounds as it has to be done within three minutes and there are twelve rooms with two doors in each room to navigate. One door holds the artifact but there are also temple guards who could hold a teammate captive if he opens the wrong door (having the pendants won in the prior round on them can set them free; however, if the player does not have a pendant, he is taken out of the game and his teammate must find the artifact alone). If the team fails to find the artifact a lesser value prize is awarded.

Host: Kirk Fogg. Announcer: Dee Bradley Baker.

4641 Legends of the Screen. (Pilot; Documentary; Syn.; 1/83). The program recalls screen legends via film clips and live interviews with the stars themselves.

Host: Nancy Collins. Guests: Rhonda Fleming, Dorothy Lamour, Myrna Loy, Ginger Rogers.

4642 Legends of the West: Truth and Tall Tales. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 3/22/81). An unsold series that attempts to separate western fact from fiction through dramatizations and film clips from various western films.

Hosts: Matthew Laborteaux, Don Meredith. Guest: Jack Elam (as the sheriff).

4643 Legion of the Super Heroes. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2006–). The Legion of the Super Heroes is a 31st century organization formed by the universe's greatest heroes to protect the United Planets from evil. Its members include Cosmic Boy, Saturn Girl, Triplicate Girl (can change herself into three separate girls), Lightning Boy, Colossal Boy, Ferro Lad, Brainic 5, Bouncing Boy and Superman (who was transported from the 21st century to the future to help battle the super villains of the era.). Stories relate the legion's battle against the diabolical villains who prey on innocent people and vulnerable planets.

Voice Cast: Yuri Lowenthal (Superman), Kari

Wahlgren (Saturn Girl), Kari Wahlgren (Triplicate Girl), Wil Wheton (Cosmic Boy), Adam Wylie (Colossal Boy), Adam Wylie (Brainic 5), Dave Wittenberg (Ferro Lad), Michael Cornacchia (Bouncing Boy), Andy Miller (Lightning Boy), Heather Hogan (Phantom Girl), Shawn Harrison (Timber Wolf), Jennifer Hale (Emerald Empress).

4644 Legmen. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1984). Jack Gage is a college man studying to be an engineer. David Taylor, his roommate, is studying to become a lawyer. Both are short on cash and find a way to relieve their problems by becoming legmen for Oscar Amismedi, the owner of the Tri-Star Bail Bonds Agency (later owned by Tom Bannon). Stories relate Jack and David's misadventures as they attempt to track down bail jumpers. Other Regulars: Chico, Oscar's assistant; Police Lieutenant Tedisco; and Mrs. Yehudi, Tom's secretary.

Cast: Bruce Greenwood (Jack Gage), J.T. Terlesky (David Taylor), Don Calfa (Oscar Amismedi), Claude Akins (Tom Bannon), Anthony Munoz (Chico), Robert DoQui (Lieutenant Tedisco), Connie Sawyer (Mrs. Yehudi).

4645 Legs. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/19/78). The pilot film for Who's Watching the Kids? about two beautiful Las Vegas showgirls (Stacy and Angie) who share an apartment and each other's responsibilities (Stacy cares for her younger sister, Melissa; and Angie cares for her younger brother, Frankie). Other Regulars: Major Putnam, the casino owner; and showgirls Cochise, Bridget, Memphis and Dixie.

Cast: Caren Kaye (Stacy Turner), Lynda Goodfriend (Angie Bates), Tammy Lauren (Melissa Turner), Scott Baio (Frankie Bates), Shirley Kirkes (Cochise), Elaine Bolton (Bridget), Lorrie Mahaffey (Memphis Blake), Sayra Hammel (Dixie), Dave Ketchum (Major Putnam). Guest Cast: Marcia Lewis (Norma Kay), Dawson Mays (Rimshot), Marv Daniels (Billy Joe), Fred Fox, Jr. (Freddie), Ed Cree (Bubba Stamp).

4646 The Lennon Sisters Show. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 5/6/69). The pilot presentation for Jimmy Durante Presents the Lennon Sisters Hour that spotlights the talents of the singing Lennon Sisters (Dianne, Peggy, Janet and Kathy). Harold Cohen, Bernie Kukoff and Jeff Harris are the producers.

Host: Jimmy Durante. Stars: Dianne Lennon, Janet Lennon, Kathy Lennon and Peggy Lennon. Guest: Bobby Goldsboro. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

4647 Lenny. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990–1991). When Leonard ("Lenny") Joseph Callahan met Shelly Morrison, he had to borrow ten dollars for their first date. When Lenny brought Shelly home to meet the family, his younger brother, Eddie, remarked, "What great torpedoes—and what a tush!" Lenny and Shelly eventually married and set up housekeeping in Boston. Lenny works at two jobs: gasman for Boston Utility, and doorman at an unnamed hotel at night. Shelly is kept busy caring for their three daughters, Kelly, Tracy and baby Elizabeth (played by the Hall twins).

Kelly, their 13-year-old daughter, receives an allowance of three dollars a week. She is a complainer, like her father, and has a negative view of everything. She desperately wants "cleavage like my other girlfriends" and feels she is overweight, unattractive and going to be flat-chested. Kelly attends Saint Theodore's Catholic Grammar School.

Tracy, their 10-year-old daughter, receives an allowance of two dollars a week. She has a doll named Wendy and a hamster she calls Fuzzball. Tracy is very bright and very knowledgeable for a girl her age (for instance, she watches a lot of television, especially the Medical Channel, and is thus an expert on all types of diseases). Tracy also attends Saint Theodore's, and both she and Kelly hide their money in a box under their beds.

Edward ("Eddie") Callahan is Lenny's uncouth brother (he has no respect for anyone and, in the presence of Kelly and Tracy, refers to breasts as "ta ta's," "hooters" and "honkers"). Eddie is on the run from the cops, has 1,500 unpaid parking tickets, writes bad checks, and is wanted for mail fraud and petty theft. Although he should be in jail, he's just smart enough to stay one step ahead of the police. For income, Eddie receives a disability payment (he goes under the name Louie Lonzo and pretends to have a glass eye). His favorite hangout is Snooky's Copa Cabana Club.

Relatives: Eugene Roche (Lenny's father, Patrick ["Par"] Callahan), Alice Drummond (Lenny's mother, Mary Callahan), Judith Hoag (Lenny's sister, Megan Callahan). Pat and Mary hide their vacation money in a tin can under the sink. In the episode of 1/5/91, Megan married Richard Johnson (Scott Lawrence), a black lawyer. Henry Harris played Richard's father, Tom Johnson, and Ann Weldon was Richard's mother, Sarah Johnson.

In the original, unaired pilot film, Alyson Croft played 13-year-old Trisha Callahan (who became Kelly), and America Martin was 10-year-old Kelly Callahan (who became Tracy for the series).

Cast: Lenny Clarke (Lenny Callahan), Lee Garlington (Shelly Callahan), Jenna Von Oy (Kelly Callahan), Alexis Caldwell (Tracy Callahan), Peter Dobson (Eddie Callahan). Theme Vocal: Lenny's "Theme" by Dion.

4648 Leo and Liz in Beverly Hills. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1986). When his bra manufacturing business suddenly begins to show a tremendous profit, Leo Greene, his wife, Liz, and their daughter, Mitzi, leave New Jersey and relocate to the plush and glamour of Beverly Hills. Stories relate their misadventures as they attempt to fit in among the rich and famous. Other Regulars: Lucille, their housekeeper (at 105 North Bevon Drive); Leonard, the handyman; Diane and Jerry Fedderson, their neighbors; and Bunky, Diane's son.

The pilot episode, "The Couch" aired as a segment of George Burns Comedy Week on 10/16/85. Carrie Fisher played the role of Mitzi and the story dealt with Leo and Liz's efforts to get an antique couch to impress the parents of their daughter's fiance (Bunky Winthrop, played by Mark Steen). Bunky's last name changed for the series, as did his parents (here played by Parker Whitman and Marlena Giovi).

Cast: Valerie Perrine (Liz Greene), Harvey Korman (Leo Greene), Sue Ball (Mitzi Greene), Julie Payne (Lucille Trumbley), Michael J. Pollard (Leonard), Deborah Harmon (Diane Fedderson), Ken Kimmons (Jerry Fedderson), Peter Aykroyd (Bunky Fedderson).

4649 The Les Crane Show. (Series; Discussion; ABC; 1964–1965). The program features discussions on controversial issues. The series, which ran from November 9, 1964 to November 12, 1965, is also known as ABC's Night Life.

Host: Les Crane. Regulars: Nipsey Russell, Jimmy Cannon, William B. Williams. Announcer: William B. Williams.

4650 The Les Paul and Mary Ford Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1954). A five-minute filler program consisting of a quick opening, two songs, one commercial and a short closing. Singer Les Paul and Mary Ford star.

4651 The Leslie Uggams Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1969). A weekly program of music, songs and light comedy with singer Leslie Uggams as the host. Saul Ilson, Ernest Chambers and Steve Binder are the producers.

Hostess: Leslie Uggams. Regulars: Johnny Brown, Lillian Hayman, Alison Mills, Lincoln Kilpatrick, The Donald McKayle Dancers, The Howard Roberts Singers. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

4652 Less Than Perfect. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2002–2006). GNB, a TV news network in New York City is the setting. It is here that Claudia Casey, unflatteringly called Claude, is the assistant to network news anchor Will Butler.

Claudia has been working at the station for two years when the series begins. She started as a floater on the fourth floor and worked her way up to the prestigious 22nd floor (where she is also in charge of birthday parties). Claudia also collects troll dolls and is vice president of the American Troll Doll Association.

Kipp Steadman and Lydia Weston are Claudia's condescending co-workers, who conspire to get rid of her to further their own ambitions. Owen Kronsky and Ramona Platt are Claudia's friends, supply room workers on the fourth floor. Carl Monari is the station's cafeteria manager. Stories at this point follow Claudia as she struggles to do her job and overcome the devious plots of Kipp and Lydia.

In 2005, Jeb Denton becomes a news personality with the station. A year later, when Claudia returns from her vacation in Italy, she finds that Will has resigned and Jeb has become the new anchor. She also learns that her job has been eliminated and that Lydia (who married Jeb in the prior season finale) has become the show's producer. She also finds one other bit of disturbing news: she has been rehired as Lydia's assistant. Stories now follow Claudia as she begins to evaluate her own ambitions and her struggles to succeed in both her personal and career life.

Claudia has giggle fits and is not use to compliments (although she is very pretty). She lives in Brooklyn and can't lie—"I think it's mean." She is a Pez candy lover (and claims to make her own Pez). Will was called "The Most Trusted Newsmen in America."

Owen was raised by his two lesbian mothers (Judith and Judy). He uses the ladies restroom "because it's not as scary as the men's room." He is also interested in dirt bikes and aliens but can't find anyone who shares his interests.

Cast: Sara Rue (Claudia "Claude" Casey), Sherri Shepherd (Ramona Platt), Andrea Parker (Lydia Weston), Andy Dick (Owen Kronsky), Eric Roberts (Will Butler), Patrick Warburton (Jeb Denton), Zachary Levi (Kipp Steadman), Will Sass (Carl Monari).

4653 Lester. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 1/8/76). A proposed spin-off from Harry O about Lester Hodges, a student criminologist who stumbles upon and solves crimes quite by accident. In the first pilot episode (see next title also), called "Mr. Five and Dime," Lester helps detective Harry Orwell crack a counterfeiting case involving an elderly man (Bill) who is kidnapped by drug dealers who need $250,000 in a hurry when they learn he prints money to supplement his pension.

Cast: Les Lannom (Lester Hodges). Guest Cast:

David Janssen (Harry Orwell), J. Pat O'Malley (Bill Hoxley), Glynnis O'Connor (Gayle), Michael Pataki (Bargo), Michael McGuire (Lipton), Margaret Avery (Ruby), Paul Jenkins (Ludford), Charles Siebert (Shaeffer).

4654 Lester and Dr. Fong. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 3/18/76). A second attempt (see prior title) to spin-off the Lester Hodges character from Harry O into his own series. This time, Lester, the student criminologist, teams with his college mentor, Dr. Fong, in an unsold series about their criminal case investigations. In the pilot episode, Lester and Dr. Fong seek a killer who is systematically decimating Lester's family.

Cast: Les Lannom (Lester Hodges), Keye Luke (Dr. Creighton Fong). Guest Cast: Anne Archer (Felicia Applequist), Sorrell Booke (Edward Tabor), Stuart Whitman (Arthur Rubin), Barry Atwater (Hammond), Dean Jagger (Simon Applequist), Richard Stahl (Dr. Samuelson), David Janssen (Harry Orwell).

4655 Let's Dance. (Live Test Program; Game; ABC; 7/2/46). Members of the Arthur Murray Dance Studios perform a dance step on stage. A contestant, chosen from the studio audience, is asked to identify the type of dance being presented. A correct answer wins the player a free dance course at the Murray studios.

Although Walter Herlihy actually hosted the program, Jim Ameche is seen as the host in the credits (Jim, chosen to host the program, refused to do so at the last moment. Walter was brought on in a rush, but there was no time to change the credit cards on the live show).

Host: Walter Herlihy. Regulars: Jerry Farr, Velma Smith, The Arthur Murray Dancers, The Flower Dance Company.

4656 Let's Dance. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1954). A live musical hour featuring ballroom dancing and broadcast from both New York and Chicago. The series ran from September 18, 1954 to October 16, 1954.

4657 Let's Get Mom. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for Fox in 1989). A proposed series about a vulnerable young housewife named Maureen as she struggles to cope with a husband (Bruce) and four mischievous children (George, Danny, Mickey and Jordan).

Cast: Carol Kane (Maureen), Bruce McGill (Bruce), P.J. Ochlan (George), Robert Oliveri (Danny), Robert Gorman (Mickey), Joe Schermoly (Jordan).

4658 Let's Go Go. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1965). John Reynolds (then Sam Riddle) hosts a program aimed at teenagers that features performances by rock personalities.

An announcer opens the show: "From Hollywood, Let's Go Go with the swingin' sounds. Today's guests, Bobby Vee, Eddie Randolph, The Cinder-men and special guest star Ryan O'Neal; and starring your host, John Reynolds."

4659 Let's Join Joanie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 1/12/51). Events in the life of Joan Davis, a misadventure-prone salesgirl for a store called Hats By Anatole. In the pilot episode, Joan joins a health club (Emerson Health Farm) in an effort to impress her heart-throb (Jim Benson) who "likes his women husky." Joan Davis is the only performer who receives credit. Joe Flynn, as Joan's boss, is easily recognizable, but other performers are unknown (there was no review of the program and TV Guide lists it only as "Let's Join Joanie" with no cast, storyline or credit information).

Cast: Joan Davis (Herself), Joe Flynn (Anatole).

4660 Let's Make a Deal. (Series; Game; NBC; ABC; 1964–1976). Ten of forty previously selected studio audience members vie for the opportunity to trade their home made articles for cash and/or merchandise prizes. A selected player is usually offered several deals. A first deal most often assures a player a decent prize; a second or third deal tests greed as large amounts of cash and valuable merchandise are at stake — along with everything a player has won up to that point if his deal results in a "zonk" (a nonsense prize). Perhaps the most memorable part of the series is the host offering the day's biggest dealers their choice of "what's behind door number one, two or three" that are displayed on stage. The series aired on NBC from December 30, 1964 to December 27, 1968; and on ABC from December 30, 1968 to July 9, 1976.

An announcer opens the show: "It's time for Let's Make a Deal starring TV's big dealer, Monty Hall."

Host: Monty Hall. Model: Carol Merrill. Assistant/Announcer: Jay Stewart.

4661 Let's Make a Deal. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1980). A revised, syndicated version of the prior title (which see for format). The series ran from 1980 to 1985 with Monty Hall "TV's Big Dealer," as the host.

4662 Let's Play Post Office. (Series; Game; NBC; 1965–1966). One line of a fictitious letter, which could have been written by a celebrity or a past figure of history, is revealed. The first of three competing players who associates the content with the author sounds a buzzer. If the player identifies the writer of the letter, he scores one point. If not, the second line is revealed and the game follows in the same manner. The highest scoring player is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Don Morrow.

4663 Let's Play Reporter. (Live Test Program; Game; ABC; 1946). A three-episode test program (May 23, May 30 and June 6, 1946). The host takes on the role of a city newspaper editor while selected members of the studio audience become her cub reporters. Each cub reporter becomes involved in a situation which he must relate back to the editor. Accuracy is the key ingredient as the reporter tells his story. The reporter whose story most closely matches his experience is the winner.

Host-Reporter: Frances Scott.

4664 Let's Take a Trip. (Series; Children; CBS; 1955–1958). Sonny Fox hosts a program that attempts to help children learn about the world in which they live via visits to places on interest. Ginger McManus and Brian Flanagan assists him.

4665 A Letter to Loretta. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1953–1954). Responsive dramatizations based on problems expressed in fan letters to actress Loretta Young. After the first season, the series became The Loretta Young Show (see this title for additional information).

Host-Frequent Star: Loretta Young. Featured Regular: Beverly Washburn. Announcer: Bob Wilson.

4666 A Letter to Your Serviceman. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1945). Variety performances geared to servicemen who are in the hospital. The program opens with the host, seated in an office, selecting a letter from a group sent in by actual, hospitalized servicemen. After reading the letter to the audience, the host makes a phone call and arranges for the variety act requested in the letter to perform on the show (servicemen were asked to send in suggestions for future guests). The experimental series ran from April 10, 1945 to June 12, 1945.

Host: Bert Bachrach. Announcer: Ken Farnsworth.

4667 The Letters. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 3/6/73). Three interconnected stories about the effects letters, delayed one year in transit due to a plane crash, have on the people to whom they were addressed once they are delivered by the postman (the only regular character). See the following title also.

Cast: Henry Jones (The Postman). Cast ("Dear Elaine"): Jane Powell (Elaine Anderson), John Forsythe (Paul Anderson), Lesley Ann Warren (Laura Reynolds), Gary Dubin (Paul Anderson, Jr.), Mia Bendixsen (Lisa). Cast ("Dear Penelope"): Dina Merrill (Penelope Parkington), Leslie Nielsen (Derek Childs), Barbara Stanwyck (Geraldine Parkington), Gil Stuart (Michael). Cast (“Dear Karen”): Pamela Franklin (Karen Forrester), Ida Lupino (Mrs. Forrester), Ben Murphy (Joe Randolph), Ann Noland (Sally), Shelly Novak (Sonny).

4668 Letters from Three Lovers. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 10/3/73). A sequel pilot film to the prior title that presents three interconnected stories about the effects letters (in this instance, written from one lover to another), delayed one year in transit, have on the recipients when they are delivered by the postman (the only regular character).

Cast: Henry Jones (The Postman). Cast (“Dear Vincent”): Belinda J. Montgomery (Angie), Martin Sheen (Vincent), Logan Ramsey (Wilson), Lou Frizzell (Eddie). Cast (“Dear Monica”): June Allyson (Monica), Robert Sterling (Bob), Barry Sullivan (Joshua), June Dayton (Jeanne). Cast (“Dear Maggie”): Juliet Mills (Maggie), Ken Berry (Jack), Lyle Waggoner (Sam), Ellen Weston (Donna), Dan Tobin (Thompson).

Host: Gary Owens. Announcer: Gary Owens.

4670 Level 9. (Series; Crime Drama; UPN; 2000–2001). Level 9 is a state-of-the-art Washington, D.C.–based government agency that has only one function: to solve the cases that other law enforcement agencies cannot. It is composed of the government's best cyber operations experts and is tailored to form a rapid response strike force against high tech criminals. The agency is fully mobilized and can go anywhere and anyplace.

Level 9 is so advanced that they go beyond fingerprints and credit card use tracking. Their computers can tap into any security camera at any location to match mug shots instead of fingerprints through their ultra high tech programs. Level 9 is also closely guarded; if any of their equipment should fall into the wrong hands, a new breed of evasive criminal will be born.

Annie Price, a former FBI agent with a remarkable arrest record, heads Level 9. She can think like a computer and figure out a criminal's next move. She has an amazing attention to detail and remarkable recollection abilities. She is rarely distracted by her duties, but is troubled by a computer hacker she dubbed “Crazy Horse.” Annie believes Crazy Horse is responsible for half the crimes in America. Her nightmare began in 1998 when, as an FBI agent, she was assigned to a case involving a hacker who broke into a bureau computer and demanded $50 million or he would jam their computers. Annie believed it could be done, but her superiors felt it was a hoax and ignored her — and the hacker. The supposed hoax jammed the computers and now demanded $100 million. With air traffic control computers out and to avoid the worst aviation disaster in history, the ransom was paid. The public never knew what happened — but Annie knew and she hopes with the technology of Level 9 to find Crazy Horse.

While there are a number of agents who work for Level 9, only two are featured: Wilbert “Tibbs” Thibodeaux and Joss Nakano. The featured hackers are Sosh, Roland Travis, Jargon and Jerry Hooten. The hackers, who use screen names, are not permitted to reveal their names. Brian Tyler composed the theme.

Cast: Kate Hodge (Annie Price), Michael Kelly (Wilbert Thibodeaux), Susie Park (Joss Nakano), Kim Murphy (Sosh), Fabrizio Filippo (Roland Travis), Esteban Powell (Jargon), Jerry Hooten (Romany Malco).

4671 Lewis and Clark. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1981–1982). Tired of working for his wife's father and commuting from his job in Manhattan to his home in Plainview, Long Island, Stewart Lewis purchases, sight unseen, the Nassau County Café, a Texas saloon, from an ad he sees on a train. With the hope of simplifying life for everyone concerned, Stewart uproots his family and moves to Luckenbach, Texas. Stories focus on Stewart's efforts to run his saloon and the misadventures of his family as they struggle to adjust to a life they do not particularly care for. Alicia is Stewart's wife and Kelly and Keith are their children. Roscoe Clark is Stewart's partner (hence the title); Wendy is the waitress; John, the bartender; Silas, the beer distributor; Lester, a bar regular; and Josie is Kelly's friend.

4672 Lexx. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 2000–2002). The Lexx is a gigantic, black space ship shaped like a bug. It is from a world called the Light Universe, which is under the rule of the Divine Order (His Divine Shadow is the leader). The Lexx is captained by Stanley H. Tweedle, a cowardly security guard and Zev Bellringer, a beautiful love slave, and Kai, a dead assassin, are its crew. Assisting them as best he can is 790, a robot head who constantly professes his love for Kai. Stanley, Zev and Kai were the only survivors of a rebellion against His Divine Shadow. They became the crew of the Lexx when Kai killed His Divine Shadow and Stanley stole the Light Hand Key that controls the ship. Zev, an escaped love slave, joined them.

Zev is a woman with a body designed for sex. She is 4,000 years old and was born on the planet B3-K. She is part human and part cluster lizard (an operation to make her a love slave fused her human blood with her lizard blood. It made her human in appearance but when angered she is very mean — “It’s the cluster lizard in me. It’s a predator without feelings”).

Stanley was a security guard for His Divine Shadow but was, in reality, a member of the rebel group Ostro-B Pair Legation. He is brave depending on the situations he encounters.

Kai is the last member of the Brunnen G, a once noble race that was destroyed by His Divine Shadow. Kai was brought back to life and served as a heartless killing machine. After 2,000 years, the memories of what he did came back to him and he began to think and act for himself. He has no heart beat and does not breathe. He has joined with Zev and Stanley to explore the Dark Universe and acquire knowledge.

Robot Head 790 was a robotic device that controlled the machine that turned women into love slaves. While overseeing Zev’s transformation, Zev ripped 790’s head off and placed it on a motorized running board. When an accident later destroyed 790, Kai rebuilt him and now 790 is in love with Kai. Being a head 790 can do nothing but profess his love for Kai.

The Lexx needs organic food to thrive (like remnants of stars and planets). It is extremely powerful and is designed to blow up planets — “That is what I do. I blow up planets.” Stanley calls it “The Big Bug That Flies Around in the Sky.” The Moth (red) is the Lexx’s scouting ship.

The Lexx is now in the Dark Universe, a cluster of strange planets that is apparently inhabited by evil beings. The experiences of Stanley, Zev and Kai are detailed as they explore strange new worlds.

Cast: Brian Downey (Stanley H. Tweedle), Eva Haberman (Zev Bellringer; 2000–2001), Xenia Seeberg (Zev Bellringer; 2001–2002), Michael McManus (Kai), Jeffrey Hirschfeld (Voice of Robot Head 790), Tom Gallant (Voice of Lexx).

4673 The Liar’s Club. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969). Two players compete. A panel of four liars (guest celebrities) describe in detail the purpose of a real but unusual item. Three explanations are false; one relates the truth. The players must determine which celebrity told the truth. Each correct guess awards the player one point and the player with the highest score at the end of the game is the winner and receives $100.

Host: Rod Serling. Resident Liar: Betty White. Announcer: Jim Isaacs.

4674 The Liar’s Club. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1976). Four players compete. Each of the four celebrity guests who appear describe an unusual but real item. Three explanations are false; one is true. Players have to determine which celebrity told the truth. Winners, the highest scorers with the most correct guesses, receive a cash prize.

Host: Bill Armstrong. Regulars: Larry Hovis, Buddy Hackett, Joey Bishop, Dody Goodman, Dick Gautier, Betty White. Announcer: Joe Sider, Bill Beary.

4675 The Liberace Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1952). A summer program of music with pianist Wladziu Valentino Liberace (simply known as Liberace) as the host. The series ran from July 1, 1952 to August 28, 1952. Joe Landis is the producer.

Host: Liberace. Orchestra: George Liberace.

4676 The Liberace Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1953–1955). A filmed series of music with pianist Liberace as the host. Louis D. Sander is the producer.

Host: Liberace. Orchestra: George Liberace.

4677 The Liberace Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1958–1959). Pianist Liberace hosts a weekly program of music and songs. The series ran from October 13, 1958 to April 10, 1959.

Host: Liberace. Regulars: Marilyn Lovell, Erin O’Brien, Dick Roman. Announcer: Steve Dunne. Orchestra: Gordon Robinson.

4678 The Liberace Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1969). A summer series, produced in England, of music and songs with pianist Liberace as the host. The program ran from July 15, 1969 to September 16, 1969. Colin Clews is the producer.

Host: Liberace. Regulars: Georgia Moon, Richard Wattis, The Irving Davies Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

4679 Liberty’s Kids. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 2002). An animated series that looks at the events leading up to the American Revolutionary War as seen through the eyes of children enlisted by Benjamin Franklin to record the events for his newspaper, The Pennsylvania Gazette.

James Hiller is a young patriot and the leader of the group; Sarah Phillips is the daughter of an English general; Henri is a French orphan (and the comical aspect of the series as he is forever looking for food). Together the children journey from colony to colony witnessing and reporting the events to Benjamin Franklin. The series is also known as Liberty’s Kids: Est. 1776.

Voice Cast: Walter Cronkite (Benjamin Franklin), Chris Lundquist (James Hiller), Kathleen Barr (Henri LeFeuvre), Reo Jones (Sarah Phillips), Annette Bening (Abigail Adams), Warren Buffett (James Madison), Aaron Carter (Joseph Plumb Martin), Billy Crystal (John Adams), Michael Douglas (Patrick Henry).

4680 The Lid's Off. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1969). Art Linkletter hosts a program that features interviews with people from all walks of life.

4681 Lidsville. (Series; Adventure; ABC; NBC; 1971–1974). Intrigued by a magician's performance and the wonders he draws from his hat (at a performance by Merlo the Magician at Six Flags Over Texas) a young boy named Mark (from Jackson City) remains behind as the theater empties. Alone, Mark picks up the magician's hat, which is on stage. The hat suddenly begins to grow larger. Unable to hold it any longer, Mark places it on the floor, where it grows to an enormous size. In an attempt to look inside, Mark climbs on the brim and loses his balance. He falls in and reappears in Lidsville, the Land of Living Hats. Mark is captured and imprisoned by the evil magician Whoo Doo, who believes he is a spy for the good hats. In his cell, Mark meets Weenie, a genie who is also a prisoner and Whoo Doo's slave because he possesses her magic ring. Offering to help her escape from Whoo Doo, and promising to take her back to America with him, Mark convinces Weenie to use her power to set him free. Spotting the magic ring on a table, Mark grabs it and now, in control of Weenie, commands her to take him to safety. Instantly they are transporter to the village of the good hats. Gaining the assistance of the good hats, Mark and Weenie struggle to find the secret of the way back to his world. They are opposed by Whoo Doo, who seeks to regain his prisoner, his genie and the magic ring. Characters are the puppet creations of Sid and Marty Krofft. The series aired on ABC from September 11, 1971 to September 1, 1973; and on NBC from September 8, 1973 to August 31, 1974.

Cast: Butch Patrick (Mark), Charles Nelson Reilly (Who Doo), Billie Hayes (Weenie the Genie). Also: Sharon Baird, Joy Campbell, Jerry Marling, Angelo Rosetti, Van Snowden, Hommy Stewart, Felix Silla, Buddy Douglas, The Hermine Midgets. Voices: Lennie Weinrib, Joan Gerber, Walker Edmiston. Theme Song: "Lidsville" by Les Szavras, Sid Krofft.

4682 Lie Detector. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1983). The program offers people the opportunity to substantiate any claims by means of a polygraph (lie detector) test. Subjects are first questioned by the host, then volunteer to undergo a polygraph test to prove their innocence or guilt.

Host: F. Lee Bailey. Polygraph Examiner: Ed Gelb.

4683 Lie Detector. (Series; Reality; PAX; 2005). An accuser and an accused appear on stage to relate a real life story. But who is telling the truth and who is lying? A polygraph test is given to both parties after each tells their story. The results are related to the viewing audience (as well as the participants) and, based on the lie detector test results, the record is set straight.

Host: Rolanda Watts. Polygraph Examiner: Ed Gelb.

4684 The Lieutenant. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1963–1964). The Camp Pendleton Marine Base in Oceanside, California, is the setting for a series that relates the personal and professional lives of three officers: Captain Raymond Rambridge; Second Lieutenant William Rice and Lieutenant Samwell Panosian.

Cast: Gary Lockwood (Lt. William Rice), Robert Vaughn (Capt. Raymond Rambridge), Steve Franken (Lt. Samwell Panosian), Carmen Phillips (Lily; Raymond's secretary), Don Penny (Lieutenant Harris), Chris Noel (Various Roles). Theme Song: "The Lieutenant" by Jeff Alexander.

4685 Life. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2007–). Charlie Crews is a police detective who was framed for a double homicide and sentenced to life in prison (at the Pelican Bay Penitentiary). After 12 years he was freed when the case was reexamined and none of the physical evidence matched.

Charlie was exonerated and given his life back (as well as a hefty and unspecified settlement check). Four months after his release, Charlie returns to the force (L.A.P.D.). Now, with a second chance at life, Charlie seeks to prevent what happened to him to happening to someone else.

Charlie was once a by-the-books cop. He is now quite unorthodox and what he learned on the inside gives him the edge on the outside (as he now looks at cases in a whole new light). Stories follow Charlie as he looks beyond the obvious facts to catch the guilty parties on the cases he investigates (stories also focus on Charlie as he attempts to solve his own dilemma — who framed him and why).

Dani Reese is Charlie's partner, who has been instructed by her superior (Lt. Karen Davis) to keep an eye on Charlie (in essence, she is responsible for him). Ted Early is a former CEO (with Alter Cliff Capital) who lives above Charlie's garage and is now Charlie's financial consultant; Constance Griffiths is the attorney responsible for Charlie's freedom.

4686 The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp. (Series; Western; ABC; 1955–1961). "Wyatt Earp, Wyatt Earp, brave courageous and bold; long live his fame and long live his glory and long may his story be told." Based very loosely on fact, the series, (first set in Dodge City, Kansas, then in Tombstone, Arizona), relates the adventures of Wyatt Earp, a U.S. Marshal, and his efforts to maintain law and order during the 1870s.

Wyatt's brothers, Morgan and Virgil, are also his deputies. Shotgun Gibbs is Wyatt's chief deputy; Doc Holliday is Wyatt's friend; Kate Holliday is Doc's daughter; Nellie Cashman is the saloon owner; Ned Buntline is Wyatt's friend (a gunsmith); Old Man Clanton is the notorious gang leader; Emma Clanton is his wife; Phin is their son; Bat Masterson is Wyatt's friend; Dr. Goodfellow is the Tombstone town physician; Abbie Crandall is Wyatt's friend.

Cast: Hugh O'Brian (Wyatt Earp), Dirk London (Morgan Earp), John Anderson (Virgil Earp), Ross Elliott (Virgil Earp; later), Morgan Woodward (Shotgun Gibbs), Myron Healey (Doc Holliday), Douglas V. Fowley (Doc Holliday; later), Carole Stone (Kate Holliday), Randy Stuart (Nellie Cashman), Lloyd Corrigan (Ned Buntline), Ralph Sanford (Mayor Kelly; Dodge City), Paul Brinegar (Mayor Kelly; later), Stacy Harris (Mayor John Clum; Tombstone), Lash LaRue (Sheriff John Behan), Steve Brodie (Sheriff John Behan; later), Trevor Bardette (Old Man Clanton), Carol Thurston (Emma Clanton), Steve Rowland (Phin Clanton), Alan Dinehart (Bat Masterson), Damian O'Flynn (Dr. Goodfellow), Gloria Talbot (Abbie Crandall), James Seay (Judge Spicer), Britt Lamond (Johnny Ringo), Don Haggerty (Marshal Murdock), William Phillips (Curly Bill Brocius), William Tannen (Deputy Harold Norton), Margaret Hayes (Dora Hard), Denver Pyle (Ben Thompson). Theme Vocal: "The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp" by The Ken Darby Singers.

4687 Life ... and Stuff. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1997). Ronnie and Rick Boswell have been married for ten years and are the parents of Shawn and Jerry. Ronnie is a housewife who fears Rick will leave her for a 17-year-old cheerleader; she also becomes upset if Rick looks at another woman's chest ("that means he's ignoring me").

Rick met Ronnie in college and began his career in advertising in Portland, Oregon; he is now a creative director but feels his career is unfulfilled, the kids don't appreciate him and he has a troubled marriage. His only pleasure is "my 70-inch projection screen TV with wraparound sound and satellite dish." Rick's dream of married life was like the family on Leave It to Beaver and he wonders why his married friends with children didn't talk him out of having children. After sex with Ronnie (which Rick marks on the calendar in the kitchen) he drinks a Yoo Hoo. The kids attend the Putnam (New Jersey) Pre-School. Jerry has a teddy bear named Mr. Teddy.

Adding to Rick's misery is his brother Andy who has no goals, no plans, no money and is always having fun. He lives in the driveway in an old, beat-up Winnebago he calls Casa Del Andy. He calls Ronnie "Mrs. Bro."

Cast: Pam Dawber (Ronnie Boswell), Rick Reynolds (Rick Boswell), David Bowie (Andy Boswell), Tanner Lee Prairie (Jerry Boswell), Kevin Keckeisen (Shawn Boswell), Brandon Allen (Shawn Boswell), Fred Applegate (Bernie Skabinsky), Ilana Levine (Nancy Linstrom).

4688 The Life and Times of Captain Barney Miller. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/28/74). The pilot episode for Barney Miller about Barney Miller, the chief of detectives of the 12th Precinct on 6th Avenue in New York's Greenwich Village. Other Regulars: Elizabeth, his wife; Rachel and David, his children; and Sergeant Fish.

Cast: Hal Linden (Barney Miller), Abby Dalton (Elizabeth Miller), Anne Wyndham (Rachel Miller), Michael Tessier (David Miller), Abe Vigoda (Sergeant Fish). Also: Henry Beckman (Barney's uncle), Val Bisoglio, Buddy Lester, Chu Chu Malave, Mike Moore. Note: In the series, Barbara Barrie replaced Abby Dalton as Elizabeth.

4689 The Life and Times of Eddie Roberts. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1980). Events in the life of Eddie Roberts, an Anthropology Professor at Cranpool College in Anaheim, California. Eddie is married to Dolores and is the father of Chrissy.

Cast: Renny Temple (Eddie Roberts), Udana Power (Dolores Roberts), Allison Balson (Chrissy Roberts), Allen Case (Harold Knitzer), Anne O'Donnell (Dr. Zindell), Wendy Schaal (Cynthia Lombocker), Loyita Chapel (Vivian Blankett), Jon Lormer (Professor Boggs), Stephen Parr (Prof. Tony Cranpool), Daryl Roach (Turner LaQuatro), Maria O'Brien (Chiquita Zamora), Victoria Carroll (Gertrude McQuillan), Lenore Nemetz (Gertrude McQuillan), Joan Hotchkis (Lydia Knitzer), Billy Barty (William Billy), William Wintersole (Senator Lombocker).

4690 The Life and Times of Grizzly Adams. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1977–1978). Falsely accused of a crime he did not commit (blamed for a murder that occurred near his home) James Adams flees to the wilderness where, as mountain man Grizzly Adams, he becomes a friend to all living creatures. Stories concern his adventures on the wilderness of the 1850s. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Other Regulars: Mad Jack, the series narrator and Grizzly's friend; Nakuma, Grizzly's Indian blood brother; Robbie Cartman, Grizzly's young friend. Grizzly has a pet bear named Ben; Number Seven is Mad Jack's mule.

Mad Jack opens the show: "They call me Mad Jack. And if there is anybody in these mountains that knows the real story of James Adams, that would be me. So I'm puttin' it down in writin' just the way it happened in the hopes of settin' the record straight. My friend Adams was accused of a crime he didn't commit. So he escaped into the mountains, leavin' behind the only life ever knew. Now that wilderness out there ain't no place for a greenhorn and his chance of survivin' were mighty slim. It were no time at all before he was beaten down, ragged and nearly starved. It was about this time that he found a grizzly bear cub all alone and helpless. Adams knew that little critter couldn't survive without his help so he started right down that cliff, risking his own life to save him. Now that cub took to Adams right off—and that was when he discovered he had a special kind of way with animals; they just come up to him like he was a natural part of the woods. But that bear cub he was extra special. As he grewed, he became the best friend Adams ever had and together they became a legend.”

Cast: Dan Haggerty (James “Grizzly” Adams), Denver Pyle (Mad Jack), Don Shanks (Nakuma), John Bishop (Robbie Cartman).

Cast: Chris Lowell (Jonathan Fields), Sean Farris (Dino Whitman), Jon Foster (Ben Conner), Lisa Darr (Annie Whitman), D.B. Sweeney (Michael Whitman), Kelly Osborne (Deborah), Jessica Lucas (Sue), Marguerite Moreau (Monica Young), Melissa Peregrym (Jackie).

4692 Life Begins at Eighty. (Series; Discussion; NBC; ABC; DuMont; 1950–1956). A panel of five senior citizens answer questions, either submitted by home viewers or presented by guests relating to the problems of life. The series ran on NBC from January 1, 1950 to August 25, 1950; on ABC from October 3, 1950 to March 10, 1952; on DuMont from March 21, 1952 to July 24, 1955; and on ABC from July 31, 1955 to February 25, 1956.

Host: Jack Barry.

4693 Life Goes On. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1989–1992). Glen Brook, Illinois, is the setting for a dramatic look at the lives of the Thatchers, a Catholic family of five: parents Libby and Drew, and their children, Paige, Becca and Corky. They have a dog named Arnold (“the semi-wonder dog”) and live at 305 Woodridge Road.

On their first date together, Andrew (“Drew”) Thatcher, a divorced construction worker with a young daughter (Paige), and Elizabeth (“Libby”) Giordano, a singer and dancer, saw the movies Curse of the Swamp Creature and Curse of the Stone Hand at the Glen Brook Drive-In (in Drew’s old Plymouth). They later married. Drew acquired work with the Quentico Construction Company, and Libby gave up her career to raise a family—Paige and their natural children, Becca and Corky. Drew later quits his job and purchases a diner called the Glen Brook Grill. Libby, now working as an account executive at the Berkson and Berkson ad agency, temporarily gives up her job to help Drew run the new business. Drew and Libby became parents of a baby boy (Nicholas James Thatcher) in the episode of 5/5/91 (“Proms and Prams”).

Libby worked under the stage name Libby Dean and starred in a production of West Side Story. Libby’s boss, Jerry Berkson, calls her “Libs.”

Paige, whose natural mother is Katherine Henning, is the oldest child and is called “Button” by Drew. She loves to paint and has two rabbits named Sammy and Matilda. She first worked as a receptionist at the Matthews Animal Hospital. The original Paige (Monique Lanier) left home at the end of the first season. When Paige (Tracey Needham) returned in November 1990, she moved back home but seemed to lack direction. She worked at several temporary jobs, then enrolled in acting classes at Glen Brook Community College. Paige next worked as a waitress at the family diner, then as a cross worker (doing what is necessary, from picking up metal scraps to stacking pipes) at Stollmark Industries. Shortly after, Paige meets and falls in love with a roustabout sculptor named Michael Romanov. They marry and run off to Europe, but the marriage is short-lived. Paige leaves Michael ten weeks later and returns home when he chooses his work over her. Paige also loses her job at Stollmark but begins the Darlin Construction Company with a former co-worker named Artie. Michael called Paige “Gus.”

Rebecca, nicknamed “Becca,” is 15 years old, weighs 85 pounds and attends Marshall High School. She is a bright student and a member of both the debating club and the gymnastics team. Becca is also a talented ballerina and hopeful writer who fears that her figure will never develop. When Becca turned 16 (10/20/91), Paige called her “a major babe”; the compliment helped Becca to shed “the ugly duckling” image she held of herself. She wrote for the Underground Marshal, the school’s forbidden tabloid.

Becca’s relationship with Jesse McKenna, a boy who is HIV positive, is the focal point of many 1992 episodes. Jesse is a budding artist, and he painted a picture of Becca in the nude. Prior to Jesse, Becca dated Tyler Benchfield.

Maxene (“Maxie”) Maxwell is Becca’s best friend.

She is physically more developed than Becca, but not as bright (she is somewhat flaky and boy-crazy). Just the opposite is Rona Lieberman, a blonde bombshell who is the most beautiful girl at school — and the envy of both Becca and Maxie. Rona is an average student who seems to shun the friendship of other girls. She uses her beauty to become the best at everything.

Charles, nicknamed “Corky” and “The Cork,” has Down syndrome. He first attended the Fowler Institution, then Marshall High School. Though older than other freshmen, Corky became “one of the guys,” proving that despite a handicap, he can become a part of society and do what other kids can do — from playing drums to running for class president. He first worked at the family diner, then as an usher at the Glen Brook Theater (he earns $165 every two weeks).

Like Paige, Corky impulsively married, but he is determined to make his marriage work. Amanda Swanson (Andrea Friedman), a girl with Down syndrome, is Corky’s wife. She is attending college, and they live on what Corky makes as an usher.

Angela (“Gina”) Giordano, Libby’s younger sister, was brought on to help Libby care for the family during her pregnancy (11/25/90 to 5/5/91). Gina is the mother of a pretty nine-year-old girl named Zoe and is separated from Zoey’s father, Dennis Rydell, who deserted Gina when he learned she was pregnant. Gina is impressed by people who can cook; she ran an unnamed cheesecake business. After the birth of Libby’s child, Gina moved out and returned to school.

Relatives: Al Ruscio (Libby’s father, Sal Giordano), Penny Santon (Libby’s mother, Teresa Giordano), Gina Hecht (Libby’s cousin, Angela Giordano), Patti LuPone (Libby’s cousin, Gabrielle [“Gaby”] Giordano), Pat Hingle (Drew’s father, Jack Thatcher), Rick Rosenthal (Drew’s brother, Richard Thatcher), Claire Berger (Drew’s cousin, Frances), Jennifer Warren (Rona’s mother), Julie Cobb (Maxie’s mother, Marina Maxwell), Sandy Baron (Jerry’s father, Sam Berkson), Drew Snyder (Amanda’s father, Bill Swanson), Charlotte Stewart (Amanda’s mother, Collette Swanson).

Flashbacks: Jenna Pangburn (Paige as a girl), Heather Lind (Becca as a girl), Bert Remsen (Drew’s grandfather; ghost sequence).

Theme: “Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da” (opening theme), by John Lennon and Paul McCartney; and “Life Goes On,” (closing theme) by Craig Safan.

Cast: Patti LuPone (Libby Thatcher), Bill Smitrovich (Drew Thatcher), Kellie Martin (Becca Thatcher), Monique Lanier (Paige Thatcher), Tracey Needham (Paige Thatcher), Chris Burke (Corky Thatcher), Mary Page Keller (Gina Giordano), Leigh Ann Orsi (Zoe Giordano), Ray Buktenica (Jerry Berkson), Lisa Banes (Katherine Henning), Lance Guest (Michael Romanov), Troy Evans (Artie), Chad Lowe (Jesse McKenna), Tommy Prueett (Tyler Benchfield), Tanya Fenmore (Maxene “Maxie” Maxwell), Michele Matheson (Rona Liberman), Andrea Friedman (Amanda Swanson), Drew Pillsbury (Dennis Rydell).

4694 Life in Desire. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for Fox in 1990). Shortly after she is released from a psychiatric institution, a wealthy New York woman (Diana) decides to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city and find a simpler life. She moves to Desire, Louisiana, population 5,000, and the unsold series was to relate her misadventures as she attempts to begin a new life in a town where the folks are sweet and the living is simple.

Cast: Kate Mulgrew (Diana Summerfield), William Daniels (Beauford Braxton), Lane Davies (Buzz Braxton), Nancy Lenehan (Miss Penelope Levec), Kelly Connell (Reverend Claude Hooper), Sarah Abrell (Taffy Hooper).

Realizing that his family is drifting apart, Danny hits on an idea to bring them closer together. He moves the family to the Blue Antelope, a run down lodge in South Africa when he learns there is an urgent need for veterinarians in Africa. Danny’s late wife, Claire, grew up at the Blue Antelope Game Lodge, a once prestigious lodge that was run by her father, Art. Since Claire’s death, Art has let the lodge fall into a state of disrepair. Now with his grandchildren by his side, Art’s life has taken on a new meaning and now seeks to return the lodge to its former glory (with Jo assisting him). In the meantime, Danny finds his time taken up by a need that really exists; Jo has become a full time mother and the kids have to make a new life for themselves. Stories follow the adjustments the family makes as they realize South Africa is their new home.

Tumelo is Danny’s intern; Emily and Oliver Banks are the children of the owner of the rival Mara Lodge. Katie and Jesse attend the Pecan Wood International School; Jesse works at a bar called Aut’s Hut (where Jesse becomes romantically involved with the bartender, Mbali).

Cast: D.W. Moffett (Danny Clarke), Stephanie Niznik (Jo Weller-Clarke), Leah Pipes (Katie Clarke), K'sun Ray (Chase Clarke), Andrew St. John (Jesse Weller), Mary Matilyn Mouser (Mia Clarke), David Butler (Art), Calvin Goldspink (Oliver Banks), Atandwa Kani (Tumelo), Tiffany Mulheron (Emily Banks). Precious Kofi (Mbali).

4696 The Life of Riley. (Test Program; Comedy; NBC; 4/13/48, 4/20/48). A two episode test (using different performers for the role of Chester A. Riley) for a proposed series based on the radio program of the same title about Chester A. Riley, a good-natured, but misadventure-prone aircraft company riveter living in Los Angeles.

Peg and Babs are Chester's wife and daughter; Jim and Honeybee Gillis are their neighbors.

4697 The Life of Riley. (Series; Comedy; Dumont; 1949–1950). Chester A. Riley is a hard working man and loving husband and father who lives at 1313 Blue View Terrace in Los Angeles. He is married to Peggy (called Peg) and Barbara ("Babs") and Chester Riley, Jr. ("Junior"). Chester is employed as a riveter for Stevenson Aircraft and Associates and earns $59 a week. He is struggling to provide a good life for his family but he is hampered somewhat by his knack for not only finding but causing comic complications at work and at home for always jumping to conclusions.

Sharing in Chester's misadventure-prone life is his neighbor and co-worker, James ("Jim") Madison Gillis and his wife, Olive, called "Honeybee." They are the parents of Egbert. Chester and Peg and Jim and Honeybee grew up in Brooklyn, New York, and were married in a double wedding ceremony before moving to California to begin new lives.

Other Regulars: Digby "Digger" O'Dell, "the friendly undertaker"; Carl Stevenson, Riley's boss; Waldo Bonny, Riley's friend; Millie, Carl's secretary; Simon, Babs' boyfriend (both attend North Hollywood High School).

4698 The Life of Riley. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1953–1958). A revised version of the 1949 series of the same title that continues to follow events in the life of Chester A. Riley, a good-natured (but trouble-prone) riveter for the Cunningham Aircraft Company in Los Angeles. Chester is married to Peg and they are the parents of Barbara (called Babs) and Chester, Jr. (called Junior); they first live at 1313 Blue View Terrace; then 5412 Grove Street and finally 3412 Del Mar Vista. In later episodes, after Babs marries her boyfriend, Don Marshall, they reside at 1451 Blue View Terrace, Apartment 3. Jim and his wife Olive (called "Honeybee") Gillis are the Riley's neighbors; they are the parents of Egbert. Waldo Binny and Otto Schmidlap are Chester's friends. Millicent is Waldo's girlfriend. Calvin and his wife, Belle Dudley are Chester's neighbors in later episodes. Mr. Cunningham is Chester's boss; Hank Hawkins is the company foreman (Hank is married to Lorna). Cissy Riley is Chester's sister; Annie Riley is Chester's niece; Moose Larkin is Junior's friend. Mitzi Carter is the aircraft company coffee shop waitress; Alvin Winkley is the Riley's landlord (second house); Arnold Willis is the paperboy. Roger Ganaway is Chester's friend; Constance is Roger's wife. Bobbie is Junior's girlfriend; Mrs. Hayes is Babs' baby nurse.

Cast: William Bendix (Chester A. Riley), Marjorie Reynolds (Peg Riley), Lugene Sanders (Barbara "Babs" Riley), Wesley Morgan (Chester Riley, Jr.), Tom D'Andrea (Jim Gillis), Veda Ann Borg (Olive "Honeybee" Gillis), Marie Brown (Olive Gillis; replaced Veda Ann), Gloria Blondell (Olive Gillis; replaced Marie), Gregory Marshall (Egbert Gillis), Martin Milner (Don Marshall), Melodie Chaney (Babs and Don's baby), Sterling Holloway (Waldo Binny), Stanja Lowe (Millicent), Henry Kulky (Otto Schmidlap), George O'Hanlon (Calvin Dudley), Florence Sundstrom (Belle Dudley), Lorraine Bendix (Annie Riley), Mary Jane Croft (Cissy Riley), James Gleason (Pa Riley), James Gavin (Pa Riley; later), Sarah Pudden (Ma Riley), Douglas Dumbrille (Mr. Cunningham), Emory Parnell (Hank Hawkins), Isabel Withers (Lorna Hawkins), Tamara Cooper (Cunningham's secretary), Denny Miller (Moose Larkin), Joe Conley (Arnold Willis), Arthur Shields (Alvin Winkley), Jack Kirkwood (Peg's Uncle Bixby), Reta Shaw (Mrs. Hayes), Victoria King (Mitzi Carter), Carolyn Kearney (Bobbie), Steve Pendleton (Roger Ganaway), Pamela Britton (Constance Ganaway), Sheila Bromley (Constance; later), Bea Benaderet (Honeybee's mother).

4699 The Life of Vernon Hathaway. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 11/9/55). A Walter Mitty type of proposal about Vernon Hathaway, a meek watch repairman who daydreams himself into exciting adventures. Aired as a segment of Screen Director's Playhouse.

Cast: Alan Young (Vernon Hathaway), Cloris

Leachman (Irma), Douglas Dumbrille (Red Beecham), Raymond Bailey (Howard Baines).

4700 Life on a Stick. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2005). Yippie Hot Dogs is a food court in a Seattle mall. It is here that Laz, his stepsister, Molly, and their friends Fred and Lily work.

Rick is Laz's father and Michelle is Molly's mother. Each was divorced and married eight years ago. Gus is their son together.

Rick and Molly appear as not so typical parents (superficial) and are very lax when it comes to disciplining their children, especially Molly, who has a severe attitude problem. Laz is apparently the only one who can deal with 16-year-old Molly. Molly is extremely jealous of her "totally hot Mom." She feels she isn't pretty and gets angry if someone compliments her on her looks. Laz is a not-easily-motivated 18-year-old who has made a deal with his parents: socialize Molly in return for free room and board. Stories relate events in the lives of Laz, Molly, Fred and Lily as they create havoc at Yippie Hot Dogs and cause numerous problems for their uptight, always-yelling, frantic boss, Mr. Hunt.

Cast: Amy Yasbeck (Michele), Matthew Glave (Rick), Saige Thompson (Molly), Zachary Knighton (Laz), Rachele LaFevre (Lily), Charlie Finn (Fred), Kurt Doss (Gus), Maz Jobrani (Mr. Hunt).

4701 Life on the Flipside. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/29/88). When Elroy "Tripper" Day, a rock legend who has been on the road most of his life, learns that his wife has left their three children (Bea, Sonny and Shea) to fend for themselves, he decides to return home and raise the kids himself. The unsold series was to relate Tripper's efforts to adjust to a life he has never known and, with the help of his friend, Jonesy, raise three children.

Cast: Trevor Eve (Elroy "Tripper" Day), Traci Lin (Bea Day), Frank Whaley (Sonny Day), Jarrett Lennon (Shea Day), Dennis Burkley (Jonesy). Guest Cast: Michael Des Barres (Elliott Wheelde), Eve Smith (Grandma Nettie).

4702 Life Stories. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1990–1991). A realistic dramatic anthology that presents stories of the medical problems and daily crisis that people face and how they seek help to overcome their situations — all of which are presented from the patient's viewpoint (and all of which are fictionalized cases). "We are a mystery to ourselves and nowhere more so than in our bodies."

Narrator: Robert Prosky.

4703 Life with Bonnie. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2002–2004). Events in the life of Bonnie Molloy, the host of Morning Chicago, a daily TV talk show. Bonnie is married to Mark, a doctor, and the mother of Samantha and Charlie.

Bonnie worked as a waitress and Mark was an intern when they first met. After marrying, and when Mark became a doctor, they moved into their comfortable home at 1226 Burton Way. Bonnie has what Mark calls "lateness disease" (as she is late for everything). Bonnie is also a very caring person and often gets involved in the problems of her guests — both on the air and off. Bonnie is never organized and pure dumb luck always seems to get her out of an embarrassing situation.

Other Regulars: Holly, Bonnie's best friend, her makeup artist; Tony, Bonnie's piano player; Gloria, the Molloy's housekeeper; and David, Bonnie's producer.

Second season episodes dropped the character of Samantha (without any reason given as to why Bonnie and Mark now have only one less child) and added the character of Frankie as a friend for Charlie. The change was a mistake as Bonnie and Samantha's relationship was an integral part of the first season episodes.

Mark works at Northwestern Memorial Hospital; Bonnie did a TV commercial for Stevenson Soup for the Benson and Stillman Ad Agency.

Cast: Bonnie Hunt (Bonnie Molloy), Mark Derwin (Mark Molloy), Samantha Browne-Walters (Samantha Molloy), Charlie Stewart (Charlie Molloy), Holly Wortell (Holly Brandis), Anthony Russell (Tony Russo), David Alan Grier (David Bellows), Frankie Ryan Manriquez (Frankie Tenucci), Marianne Muellerleile (Gloria).

4704 Life with Buster Keaton. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1952). The program, which is comprised primarily of reedited Buster Keaton theatrical shorts of the 1930s and 1940s, also features comedy vignettes in which Buster Keaton plays a man struggling to cope with life's endless problems.

Host-Star: Buster Keaton.

4705 Life with Derek. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 2005–). A blended family comedy wherein Nora MacDonald, a single mother with two daughters, Casey and Lizzie, and George Venturi, a single father with three children (Derek, Marti and Edwin) marry and merge their two families.

Derek and Casey are each 15 years old and each was the eldest sibling in their prior families. Each is an individualist and now that privilege has since disappeared. They must now live together, fit into each other's life and battle each other for control of the house, their school and literally their own space as they struggle to accept each other — but still try to come out on top when events places them in the same situation at the same time.

Stories also focus on the activities of Lizzie, Marti and Edwin — who manage quite well to find mischief on their own away from Casey and Derek's constant feuding.

Cast: Michael Seater (Derek Venturi), Ashley Leg-gat (Casey MacDonald), Joy Tanner (Nora MacDonald), John Ralston (George Venturi), Ariel Waller (Marti Venturi), Daniel Magder (Edwin Venturi), Jordan Todosey (Lizzie MacDonald), Arnold Pinnock (Paul), Robbie Amell (Max), Shadia Simmons (Emily), Kit Weyman (Sam).

4706 Life with Elizabeth. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1953–1957). Elizabeth and Alvin White are newlyweds living in San Francisco and struggling to survive the difficult first years of marriage. Episodes also feature, in addition to Elizabeth's antics (and Alvin's attempts to solve the problems she creates) the innocent involvement of their neighbor, Chole, in the various situations that make life with Elizabeth unpredictable.

4707 Life with Father. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1953–1955). New York City at the turn of the 20th century is the setting. In Manhattan at West 48th Street is a quaint little house that is home to the Day family: Clarence, Sr., a banker; Vinnie, his wife; and their children Clarence, Jr., Whitney, John and Harlan.

The early 1900s is a time of great change and many new innovations are changing the way people live. Clarence Day, Sr. is a stubborn man who refuses to accept the progress of a changing world (what was good enough for his father is good enough for him). Stories follow the daily events in the lives of the Days as Clarence fiercely struggles to hold onto his beliefs despite his family's objections and efforts to change his way of thinking. Nora (also called Kathleen) is the family's maid. Based on the feature film.

Cast: Leon Ames (Clarence Day, Sr.), Lurene Tuttle (Vinnie Day), Ralph Reed (Clarence Day, Jr.), Steve Terrell (Clarence Day, Jr.; later), Ronald Keith (Whitney Day), B.G. Norman (Whitney Day; later), Fred Ridgeway (Whitney Day; replaced B.G.), Freddie Leiston (John Day), Malcolm Cassell (John Day; later), Harvey Grant (Harlan Day), Marion Ross (Nora). Announcer: Bob Lemond.

4708 Life with Linkletter. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950–1952). A casual program of music, interviews and audience participation segments for prizes. John Guedel is the producer.

Host: Art Linkletter. Announcer: Jack Slattery. Music: The Muzzy Marcellino Trio.

4709 Life with Louie. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1995–1998). Incidents in the life of comedian Louie Anderson as a young boy in his hometown of Wisconsin. Louie is one of ten children and seems to attract trouble wherever he goes. His mother is a sweet, warm-hearted woman; his father is loud, obnoxious and a bit eccentric (as he is obsessed with solving problems based on his experiences as a soldier during World War II). Louie Anderson appears as the host and reminisces about his childhood which is seen in animated form. Other Regulars: Tommy, Louie's younger brother; and Jeannie and Michael, Louie's friends. The pilot aired on 12/18/94.

4710 Life with Lucy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986). Lucille Barker and Curtis MacGibbon are the elderly co-owners of the M&B Hardware store at 1027 Hill Street in Pasadena, California. Lucy, a widow, lives with her married daughter, Margo MacGibbon, Margo's husband, Ted and their children, Becky and Kevin.

Lucy's late husband was named Sam and her maiden name is Everett. She is a health food nut and financially well off. Curtis was on vacation in Hawaii when Lucy took half interest in the business (Sam and Curtis were partners). When Curtis discovers what Lucy has done — and that she has no business sense (especially with hardware) he suddenly finds his life plagued by Lucy as she attempts to help him run the store. Curtis also feels that his grandchildren are at risk and to safeguard them, he moves into the same house (Ted is his son). Stories follow Curtis as he struggles to cope with Lucy's endless harebrained antics. Eydie Gorme sings the theme, "Life with Lucy."

Cast: Lucille Ball (Lucille Barker), Gale Gordon (Curtis MacGibbon), Ann Dusenberry (Margo MacGibbon), Larry Anderson (Ted MacGibbon), Jenny Lewis (Becky MacGibbon), Philip J. Amelio (Kevin MacGibbon), Donovan Scott (Leonard Stoner).

4711 Life with Luigi. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1952–1953). With a devious plan to get his overweight daughter, Rosa, married, a man named Pasquale arranges for his friend, Luigi Basco, to join him in Chicago's Little Italy.

Luigi arrives in the United States (at Ellis Island) from Italy on 9/27/47 with three dollars to his name. Pasquale sets Luigi up in an antique business, and the struggles of an immigrant to adjust to the American way of life — and escape Pasquale's endless matchmaking attempts — are the focal point of the series. In these early episodes, stories begin and end with Luigi reading a letter he wrote to his "Mama Basco" in Italy.

Pasquale, who calls Luigi "Cabbage Puss" and "Little Banana Nose," runs Pasquale's Spaghetti Palace at 19 North Halsted Street. Luigi, who was born in the town of Cantaloma, runs a shop called Luigi Basco, Antiques at 21 North Halsted Street (he lives in the back of the store). His most cherished possession is a bust of George Washington that was made in 1833. Luigi does his banking at the Chase

National Bank (he opened an account with $50; Pasquale charges him $40 a month rent).

Pasquale has been running his café for 26 years. While Luigi is grateful to Pasquale for bringing him to Chicago, he refuses to marry the 250 pound Rosa (“I would rather finda my owna girl”). Despite Luigi’s attitude toward Rosa, Pasquale still looks after Luigi (“like Mama tiger help little baby deer”) and hopes one day to change Luigi’s mind (“What if a girl is beautiful,” says Pasquale, “and she gotta nice shape, pretty hair and all that. That’s nothing. My Rosa’s got some-a-thing none of those girls is got — character. When you see my Rosa in a bathing suit there is so much to pinch you gonna go crazy with power”).

Other Regulars: Miss Spaulding, Luigi’s night school English teacher; Schultz, the owner of Schultz’s Delicatessen; Olson and Horowitz are Luigi’s classmates. Joe is Pasquale’s deadbeat customer.

In 1953 the series returned with a new cast and a slightly revised format. Luigi Basco is now working for Pasquale as a waiter in Pasquale’s Spaghetti Palace. Luigi still lives at 21 North Halsted Street and Pasquale’s efforts to marry Rosa are still featured. Based on the radio series of the same title. Theme: “Oh, Marie,” by Lud Gluskin.

Cast: J. Carrol Naish (Luigi Basco, 1952), Vito Scotti (Luigi Basco, 1953), Alan Reed (Pasquale, 1952), Thomas Gomez (Pasquale, 1953), Jody Gilbert (Rosa, 1952), Muriel Landers (Rosa, 1953), Mary Shipp (Miss Spaulding), Sig Rumin (Schultz), Joe Forte (Horowitz), Ken Peters (Olson), Ben Welden (Joe).

4712 Life with Roger. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1996–1997). One day while driving across a bridge, Jason Clark’s car stalls. While attempting to fix it, Jason hears a voice telling him — “Fix the fuel line.” Jason looks up and sees a man (Roger Hoyt) standing on the edge of the bridge and contemplating jumping off (something he does two or three times a week to clear his head). Roger is carefree, jobless and homeless. He also finds a friend in Jason and attaches himself to him. Unfortunately, Jason does not want Roger as a friend but finds he can’t get rid of him. He also finds himself doing something he would later regret — inviting Roger to become his roommate. Stories, set in Manhattan, follow Jason’s efforts to put up with Roger and his carefree ways while attempting to live his own responsible life.

Other Regulars: Lanie Clark, Jason’s sister; and Myra, Jason’s girlfriend. Roger’s favorite hangout is Duffy’s Bar.

Cast: Mike O’Malley (Roger Hoyt), Maurice Godin (Jason Clark), Hallie Todd (Lanie Clark), Meredith Lynn Scott (Myra).

4713 Life with Snarky Parker. (Series; Children; CBS; 1950). A marionette adventure about Snarky Parker, a deputy sheriff in the town of Hot Rock, as he attempts to maintain law and order. Blackie McGoo is the outlaw; Cuda Barra is the sultry siren; Heathcliff is Snarky’s horse; Miss Butterball is the schoolmarm; Slugger is the Hot Rock Café piano player; Noose Nolan is a reformed but evil desperado; Fluffy Webster is Noose’s partner.

Voices-Puppeteers: Bil Baird, Cora Baird.

4714 Life with the Erwins. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1950–1955). The alternate title for Trouble with Father. See this title for information.

4715 Life with Virginia. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/18/62). Virginia Carol appears to be the typical American teenage girl. She is pretty and energetic but possesses an uncanny knack for trying to resolve other people’s problems. The unsold series was to follow Virginia as she tries to mend the problems she created while minding someone else’s business. The pilot episode relates Virginia’s efforts to help her sister borrow the family car so she can keep her date with her boyfriend. Other Regulars: Agnes and Harold, Virginia’s parents; Joan, Virginia’s sister; and Maggie, the housekeeper.

Cast: Candy Moore (Virginia Carol), Margaret Hayes (Agnes Carol), Karl Swenson (Harold Carol), Roberta Shore (Joan Carol), Margaret Hamilton (Maggie), Peter Leeds, John Rockwell, Hugh Sanders.

4716 Life’s Work. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1996–1997). Lisa Ann Hunter is married to Kevin and the mother of two children: Tess and infant Griffin. Lisa Ann is also a working mother, an assistant state’s attorney in Baltimore (Kevin works as a basketball coach). Stories follow Lisa Ann as she struggles to juggle her job as an attorney with the responsibilities of running and house and raising two kids.

Cast: Lisa Ann Walter (Lisa Ann Hunter), Michael O’Keefe (Kevin Hunter), Alexa Vega (Tess Hunter), Cameron and Lucas Weibel (Griffin Hunter), Lightfield Lewis (Matt Youngster), Larry Miller (Jerome Nash), Molly Hagan (Dee Dee Lucas).

4717 Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1984). Robin Leach hosts and narrates a program that reveals the private and personal lives of famous celebrities and people of great wealth.

4718 Lightning Force. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1991). An abandoned shipping yard in the Canadian Northwest is the secret headquarters for an elite intelligence unit called the Lightning Force. It was organized by Mike Rodney for the International Organization for Anti-Terrorism. Mike assembled the best of the collective strike forces to help the FBI and CIA battle the growing problem of terrorism. (Mike was killed during the first assignment; the strike force used Mike’s nickname of “Lightning” as their official name.)

Matthew ("Matt") Coltrane is a lieutenant in the U.S. Army and now heads the team. He is nicknamed "Trane" and is a very private person (nothing is known about him, other than that he was in the Intelligence Division).

Jo Marie Jacquard was an agent with the French Security Service. She is a combat pilot, computer expert and selective terminator. She is a genius at unscrambling codes and is known to get even with anyone who crosses her (for example, she killed the man who betrayed her father).

Winston Churchill Staples was a lieutenant with the Canadian Forces, Seventh Field Regiment. He is a trained engineer and an expert in demolition. He is the youngest member of the group and the most impetuous.

Sieb Abdul Rahmad is a colonel in the Egyptian Army. He is an expert in operations and intelligence and is also a language specialist.

Stories relate the teams extremely hazardous case assignments. Schaur Tozer composed the "Lightning Force" theme.

Cast: Wings Hauser (Matt Coltrane), Guylaine St. Onge (Jo Marie Jacquard), David Stratton (Winston Churchill Staples), Marc Gomes (Siek Abdul Rahmad), Michael A. Jackson (Mike Rodney).

4719 Lights, Camera, Action! (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950). A summer series that spotlights performances by promising but undiscovered talent (mostly singers and dancers). The series ran from July 4, 1950 to August 20, 1950.

Host: Walter Woolf King.

4720 Light's Out. (Live Test Program; Anthology; NBC; 6/30/46). A proposed series of suspense dramas that became a series three years later (NBC, 1949–52). The initial presentation, "First Person Singular," was a psychological drama about a man (voice of Carl Frank) who resolves the problem of a constantly nagging wife (Mary Wesley) by killing her. The camera enacted the part of the murderer and the viewer saw everything through the murderer's eyes.

Cast: Eva Condon, Bob Davis, Carl Frank, Thomas Healphy, Paul Keyes, Robert Lieb, W.O. McWatters, Russell Morrison, Gene O'Donnell, Vaughn Taylor, Mary Wesley.

4721 Light's Out. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1949–1952). A live program featuring stories of mystery, suspense and the supernatural. The series, based on the radio series of the same title, ran from July 12, 1949 to September 29, 1952 and produced 148 episodes.

Typical opening by announcer Jack LaRue: "Admiral electric ranges with Flexo Heat and Admiral radio phonographs present Lights Out." The host would then appear: "Hello, tonight's visit into the unknown is called "A Love Came to Professor Gilder." Each week on Lights Out we ask you to walk with us through the unknown realm of the supernatural. And now, so we won't interrupt tonight's program for commercial, here is our warning — beware the unknown." Jack would return: "Yes, beware the unknown, especially if you're in the market for a new television set...." The host would return after the commercial: "Professor Gilder is waiting to begin tonight's study in terror. Are you? Very well then — Lights Out."

Host: Jack LaRue (1949–1950), Frank Gallop (1950–1952). Performers Include: Eva Marie Saint, Arnold Moss, Lynn Salisbury, William Bendix, Doris Dowling, John Newland, E.G. Marshall, June Lockhart, Alfred Ryder, Louisa Horton, Lenka Peterson, John Forsythe, Burgess Meredith, Bethel Leslie, Nina Foch, Franchot Tone, Chester Morris, Jane Wyatt, Vincent Price, Raymond Massey, Albert Dekker, Grace Kelly, Yvonne DeCarlo, Henry Jones, John Carradine, Jane Seymour, Claire Luce, Basil Rathbone, Martha Scott, Louisa Horton, Denise Alexander, Robert Sterling, Peggy French, Eli Wallach, Tom Ewell, Eddie Albert, Arlene Francis, J. Pat O'Malley, Billie Burke, Robert Stack, Barbara Britton, Ross Martin, Jack Palance, Carol Ohmart, Inge Adams, Melba Rae, George Reeves, Ed Begley, Boris Karloff, Rita Lynn.

4722 Light's Out. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 1/15/72). An unsuccessful attempt to revive the 1949–52 series of the same title that featured mystery and suspense presentations. The pilot episode, "When Widows Weep," tells of a doll maker whose creations trigger a series of bizarre deaths.

Cast: Joan Hackett (Sabina), Laurence Luckinbill (Howard), Louisa Horton (Karen), Kathryn Walker (Helen), Michael McGuire (State Trooper).

4723 Like Family. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2003–2004). Maddie and Tanya have been friends since childhood. Maddie is white, divorced and the mother of a mischievous son (Keith). She works as the regional director for Windsor and Johnson Consultants in Manhattan. Tanya is black, married to Ed and the mother of Danika and Bobby. Ed and Tanya have been married for 17 years and Ed owns his own car washing business in New Jersey. Tanya was a lawyer who quit to raise a family.

While life went smoothly for Tanya, Maddie had a difficult time. She was living in New York when her husband deserted her and Keith was on the road to disaster. Tanya and Ed are Keith's godparents. With an arrangement with Tanya and Ed, Maddie and Keith move in with Tanya and her family when Maddie hopes Ed can straighten Keith out and lead him on the right path.

Stories relate the efforts of the two families to live together. Also helping with Keith is Eugene Ward,

Ed's father, a young-at-heart senior citizen who considers Keith "The white grandson I never wanted but got anyway."

Ed is a stern father; Tanya is bossy; together they help turn Keith's life around. Tanya is also opinionated and not only has a vision for her life, but everyone else's. She feels she has to be right about everything. Ed's business has been called Dine and Shine Bar-B-Q (it is a combination car wash and diner) and Ward's Hand Wash.

Danika is Tanya's oldest child. She is beautiful and very smart and a member of the student council at school (St. Mark's High School). She is also the chairman of the Flying Without Wings Dance Committee and is planning on becoming a doctor. Keith also attends St. Mark's but is not the best student in the world. Bobby is called "Mama's Little Man" by Tanya and feels his life is ruined if there is no dessert at supper. He looks up to Keith as a role model.

4724 Like Magic. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 6/13/81). An unsold attempt to spotlight guest magicians on a weekly basis.

Host: Chris Kirby. Guests: Melissa Gilbert and magicians Carlton and Company, Goldfinger and Dove, The Great Larcent, Ricky Jay. Orchestra: H.B. Barnum.

4725 Likely Suspects. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 1992–1993). Stanford Marshak is a homicide inspector. He is assisted by Detective Harry Spinoso and the viewer (whom Stanford calls "Rookie").

A case is established at the beginning of an episode. As Stanford and Harry begin their investigation, Rookie joins them (represented by a camera). Stanford talks directly to Rookie and presents him with all the clues and the suspects (the gimmick of the series is to allow the viewer to solve the crimes before or at the same time as Stanford). After the final commercial break Stanford recaps the case and solves the crime (almost always congratulating Rookie for his fine job).

Cast: Sam McMurray (Insp. Stanford Marshak), Jason Schombing (Det. Harry Spinoso), Melinda Culea (Capt. Wendy Hewitt).

4726 Li'l Abner. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; ABC; 1967; 1971; 1978). Three unsold attempts were made to transform Al Capp's comic strip characters into a weekly series. Each pilot is set in the mythical Ozark community of Dog Patch, U.S.A., and features such characters as the naive Li'l Abner, the beautiful Daisy Mae and Mammy and Pappy Yokum.

1. Li'l Abner (NBC, September 5, 1967). A senator (Henry Cabbage Cod) comes to Dog Patch to investigate the magical charm of Daisy Mae, the community's most beautiful resident. Cast: Sammy Jackson (Li'l Abner), Jeannine Riley (Daisy Mae), Judy Canova (Mammy Yokum), Jerry Lester (Pappy Yokum), Larry Mann (Marryin' Sam), Robert Reed (Senator Cod).

2. Li'l Abner (ABC, April 26, 1971). The citizens of Dog Patch unite to battle a new enemy: pollution in the form of Deadly Glops. Cast: Ray Young (Li'l Abner), Nancee Parkinson (Daisy Mae), Billie Hayes (Mammy Yokum), Billy Bletcher (Pappy Yokum), Dale Malone (Marryin' Sam), Bobo Lewis (Nightmare Alice), Jennifer Narin-Smith (Snow Bright), Inga Neilson (Beautify America), Jackie Kahane (Captain Rickeyback), H.B. Haggerty (Hairless Joe), Tom Solari (Lonesome Polecat).

3. Li'l Abner in Dog Patch Today (NBC, November 9, 1978). The nasty Bella Asgood attempts to upset the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance by telling women to chase careers instead of husbands. Cast: Stephan Burns (Li'l Abner), Debra Feuer (Daisy Mae), Polly Bergen (Phyllis Shoefly), Kaye Ballard (Bella Asgood), Louis Nye (General Bullmoose), Rhonda Bates (Appassionata), Deborah Zon (Moonbeam McSwine), Cissy Cameron (Mitzi Galore), Diki Lerner (Lonesome Polecat), Ben Davidson (Hairless Joe), Prudence Holmes (Sexless).

4727 Lil' Bush. (Series; Cartoon; Comedy Central; 2007). What were President George W. Bush and other members of the White House like when they were children? Lil' Bush takes that concept and shows in animated form, events in the lives of Lil' George Bush as a grade school child (with aspirations to become the President). He lives in the White House with his father, George, Sr., his mother, Barbara, and his mentally challenged younger brother, Jeb. There are also appearances by Lil' Bush's friends — Lil' Hilary (Hilary Clinton), Lil' Laura (Laura Bush), Lil' Cheney (Dick Cheney), Lil' Rummy (Donald Rumsfeld) and Lil' Kim Jong II. The series is also known as Lil' Bush: Resident of the United States.

4728 The Lili Palmer Show. (Series; Interview; CBS; 1951–1953). Actress Lili Palmer hosts a program of celebrity interviews. The series ran from January 4, 1951 to June 28, 1951; and from January 11, 1953 to April 5, 1953.

4729 The Lili Palmer Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1956). A short-lived syndicated series of dramatic productions featuring virtually unknown actors with actress Lili Palmer as the host and star. The series ran from September through December 1956 and produced 14 episodes.

Hostess: Lili Palmer. Performers Include: Wendy Hiller, Emory Jones, Andre Morrell, Brian Wilde, Mary Clare, David Kossoff, Ada Reeve, Joyce Barbour, Brenda Hogan, Eric Portman, Pamela Brown, Derrick DeMarney, Karel Stapanets, David Tomlison, Mona Washbourne, Andrew Cruikshank, Diana Lynn, Lamont Johnson, Sam Wanamaker, Renee Asherson.

4730 Lilo and Stitch. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2003–2006). An adaptation of the animated Disney film of the same title. In the feature film, a scientist (Dr. Jumba Jookiba) on a distant planet creates an illegal genetic creature he calls Number 626. The creature is strong and aggressive and unable to swim in water. When Number 626 is discovered, Dr. Jookiba is arrested and sent to prison by the Grant Council of the Galactic Federation. The creature, while being transported by Captain Gantu to a prison asteroid, manages to escape and takes refuge on Earth — specifically in Hawaii, where he is found by Lilo, a young girl who adopts him as a dog and names him Stitch. She also humanizes Stitch through kindness. As Stitch finds a home with Lilo and her sister Nani, the Galactic Foundation begins a search to find 626 and return him to their planet. The series itself follows the adventures shared by Lilo and Stitch as they seek to find Dr. Jookiba's experimental pods (Stitch's cousins), which have been scattered all over the Hawaiian Islands, and humanize those they find.

Voice Cast: Daveigh Chase (Lilo), Chris Sanders (Stitch), Tia Carrere (Nani), Vanessa Petruo (Nani), David Ogden Stiers (Dr. Jumba Jookiba), Roland Hemmo (Dr. Jumba Jookiba), Kevin MacDonald (Agent Pleakey), Oliver Rohrbeck (Agent Pleakey), Kevin Michael Richardson (Captain Gantu), Liliana Mumy (Myrtle Edmonds), April Winchell (Myrtle Edmonds), Jillian Henry (Elena).

4731 Lily. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/12/74). Events in the life of a pretty single girl (Lily) with marriage-minded parents (Madge and Ernie) and a marriage-shy boyfriend (Jonathan).

Cast: Brenda Vaccaro (Lily), Eileen Heckart (Madge), Michael Lombard (Ernie), Mike Farrell (Jonathan), Beverly Sanders (Ruthie), Yvonne Wilder (Elaine), Frank Campanella (Father Menotti).

4732 Lily. (Pilot; Comical Adventure; CBS; 6/14/86). Lily Miniver is the assistant curator of the Jeffersonian Museum in Washington, D.C. She is eccentric and intrepid and her job takes her around the world. The unsold series was to relate her escapades as she fulfills missions for the museum. In the pilot episode, Lily attempts to discover how a fake necklace became part of her museum's Aztec collection. Other Regulars: John Farnsworth, the museum's director; Claudia, Lily's secretary; and Wesley, a staff worker who is seeking Lily's job.

Cast: Shelley Duvall (Lily Miniver), Donald Moffat (John Farnsworth), Beverly Hope Atkinson (Claudia), Peter Jurasik (Wesley). Guest Cast: Spiros Focas (Ziaukus), Tom Conti (David Rand), Paddi Edwards (Mrs. Hudson), Stephen Davies (Employee).

4733 The Lily Tomlin Show. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 3/16/73). A proposed weekly series of music, songs and comedy sketches with actress-comedienne Lily Tomlin as the host. Irene Pinn is the producer.

4734 The Lily Tomlin Special. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 7/25/75). Although billed as a special, it was the pilot episode for a proposed weekly series of skits spotlighting the many talents of comedienne Lily Tomlin. Irene Pinn, Lorne Michaels and Jane Wagner are the producers.

Host: Lily Tomlin. Guests: Betty Beaird, Valri Bromfield, Christopher Guest, Doris Roberts, Bill Zuckert. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

4735 Lime Street. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985). Lime Street is a British-based insurance company with an American branch in Middleburgh, Virginia (its main branch is located at 55 Lime Street in London).

James Greyson Culver heads the Virginia office. Stories relate his case investigations as he seeks the Cheaters — people who attempt to defraud insurance companies.

James is a widower and the father of Elizabeth and Margaret Ann. His father, Henry, helps him with the girls as does his nanny, Evelyn. Edward Wingate is James's British colleague; Celia is James's secretary; and Sir Geoffrey Rimbatten is the head of Lime Street.

The series is dedicated to Samantha Smith (played Elizabeth), who was killed in a plane crash after filming four episodes in August of 1985.

Cast: Robert Wagner (James Greyson Culver), Lew Ayres (Henry Wade Culver), Samantha Smith (Elizabeth Culver), Maia Brewton (Margaret Ann Culver), Patrick Macnee (Sir Geoffrey Rimbatten), John Standing (Edward Wingate), Julie Fulton (Celia), Anne Haney (Evelyn).

4736 Limited Partners. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/19/88). Bumberg's Beefeaters in Martindale, Indianapolis, is an English-style fast food chain franchise. It is owned by Sir Freddy Bumberg, an intimidating Cockney, and managed by a 16-year-old (Kurt). Regis Rogan and Tim Tiffle are two friends who work under Kurt's supervision. Regis is an optimistic dreamer and Tim is his ever-faithful sidekick. The unsold series was to relate Regis and Tim's misadventures as they seek to better their lives through hare-brained get-rich-quick schemes. In the pilot episode, Regis and Tim contemplate purchasing a busted restaurant to cash-in on the football stadium that is supposed to be built opposite it. Margie is Tim's girlfriend.

Cast: Joe Flaherty (Regis Rogan), Kevin Meaney (Tim Tiffle), Holly Fulger (Margie), Anthony Newley (Sir Freddy Bumberg), Kari Weidergott (Kurt). Guest Cast: Richard Karron (Pete), Robert Ellenstein (Judge Harding), Bill Cort (Mayor Dilworth), Howard Honig (Bud Phillips), Kirk Scott (City lawyer), Eric Fry (Boy), Ann Ryerson (Mother), Lana Schwab (Secretary), Paul Willson (Bud's lawyer).

4737 Lincoln Heights. (Series; Drama; ABC Family; 2007–). Eddie Sutton is a police officer who wants to make a difference. He leaves the relative safety of his city beat and moves his family to the inner city neighborhood (Lincoln Heights) where he grew up — a neighborhood that is now crime ridden but holds fond memories of his youth. Stories follow Eddie as he patrols the streets and struggles to not only protect his family but make the people of the community feel they have someone on their side. Jen is Eddie's wife; Cassie, Lizzie and Taylor are their children.

Cast: Russell Hornsby (Eddie Sutton), Nicki Micheaux (Jen Sutton), Rhyon Nicole Brown (Lizzie Sutton), Erica Hubbard (Cassie Sutton), Misgon Ratliff (Taylor Sutton).

4738 The Line. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/29/87). Events in the lives of five women (Karen, Jo, Denise, Anna Mae and Lucy) who work side-by-side on an assembly line in a Houston airplane factory. Other Regulars: Ken, their supervisor; and workers Alice and Benno.

Cast: Dinah Manoff (Karen Cooper), Lori Petty (Jo Lanier), Alfre Woodard (Denise Powell), C.C.H. Pounder (Anna Mae Dempsey), Park Overall (Lucy Kershaw), Andrew Rubin (Ken Morris), Brian George (Benno).

4739 Line of Fire. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2003–2004). The FBI's battle against crime (specifically Jonah Malloy, the head of the Richmond, Virginia, based Malloy Crime Syndicate). Leading the FBI's battle is Lisa Cohen, a tough as nails agent who is determined to put an end to the syndicate by any legal means she can.

Cast: Leslie Hope (Agent Lisa Cohen), David Paymer (Jonah Malloy), Jeffrey D. Sams (Agent Todd Stevens), Leslie Bibb (Paige Van Doren), Anson Mount (Roy Ravelle), Julie Ann Emery (Jennifer Sampson), Brian Goodman (Donovan Stubbin), Kristen Shaw (Janet Malloy), Jazmin Lewis (Jada).

4740 The Line-Up. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1954–1960). The day to day assignments of a group of detectives attached to the San Francisco Police Department. The long-running series presents an engrossing look at police apprehension methods and how the use of line-ups (witnesses to a crime selecting whom they believe is the culprit from a line-up of five or more similar-looking individuals) helps bring cases to successful conclusions. The series, syndicated as San Francisco Beat, ran for 30 minutes from October 1, 1954 to September 23, 1959 (183 episodes); and for 60 minutes from September 30, 1959 to January 20, 1960 (18 episodes).

Cast: Warner Anderson (Lt. Ben Guthrie), Tom Tully (Insp. Matt Grebb), Jan Brooks (Off. Sandy McAllister), Rachel Ames (Off. Sandy McAllister; later), Bob Palmer (Off. Pete Larkin), Skip Ward (Off. Pete Larkin; later), William Leslie (Insp. Dan Delaney), Tod Burton (Insp. Charlie Summers), Marshall Reed (Insp. Fred Asher), Ruta Lee (Various Roles). Announcer: Art Gilmore. Theme Song: "San Francisco Blues" by Jerry Goldsmith.

4741 Lingo. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1987). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. A partially filled in Lingo card (similar to a Bingo card) is given to each player. A board with twenty-five blank spaces (five lines of five boxes) is displayed. The first letter to a mystery word appears in the first box. Players have to suggest words with the object being to find the mystery word. Words that are too long or too short ends a team's turn at play. The opposing team plays the same type of board (the same one if the opposing team failed to guess the word; a new board is they guessed the word). If the word is guessed the team scores points and receives the opportunity to select two numbered balls from a glass bowl that appears before them. If the balls that are picked have numbers that can complete their Lingo card (a line up and down, diagonally or across) they get Lingo and extra points. Round two plays in the same manner but doubles points. The highest scoring team wins.

Host: Michael Reagan, Ralph Andrews. Hostess: Dusty Martell, Marguax MacKenzie.

4742 Lingo. (Series; Game; Game Show Network; 2003). A revised version of the prior title that is played in the same manner (see for format).

Host: Chuck Woolley. Co-Host: Stacey Hayes, Shandi Finnessey. Announcer: Randy Thomas.

4743 Linus the Lionhearted. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; ABC; 1964–1969). Characters from Post Cereal boxes (Alpha Bits, Crispy Critters, Rice Krinkles and Sugar Crisp) are brought to life in a series of animated segments. These are Linus the Lionhearted (about a kind-hearted king of beasts), Sugar Bear (a fun-loving Bear), Lovable Truly, the Postman, Rory Raccoon, So-Hi (about an Asian boy) and The Company (a group of fun-loving animals). The series ran on CBS from September 26, 1964 to September 3, 1966 and on ABC from September 25, 1966 to September 7, 1969.

Voice Cast: Sheldon Leonard (Linus), Gerry Matthews (Sugar Bear), Carl Reiner (Billie the Bird), Ruth Bzzi (Granny Goodwitch), Bob McFadden (So-Hi/Rory Raccoon/Lovable Truly).

4744 Lippy the Lion. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1962). Lippy is a trouble-prone lion. Hardy Har Har is his equally blessed friend. Stories relate their efforts to simply get through each day and live to see another one.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Lippy the Lion), Mel Blanc (Hardy Har Har).

4745 Lipstick Jungle. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2008). Wendy Healy, Nico Reilly and Victory Ford are three New York businesswomen who are also best friends.

Wendy is president of the Manhattan office of Parador Pictures, a top Hollywood production company. Nico (called Nicki by her friends) is editor-in-chief of Bonfire magazine. They are the top in their fields. Victory, a fashion designer, heads Victory Ford Fashions and has fallen from the heights. Her company has fallen on hard times and she is struggling to make a comeback.

Wendy is married to Shane (a restaurant owner) and is the mother of Maddie and Taylor. Nicki is married to Charles (a writer); Victory is single.

Each of the women has weathered the ups and downs to accomplish what they have (as Wendy says, “busted my ass to get where I am”). Stories relate the events that effect the women at home and at work. Joe is the millionaire courting Victory; Janice is the rival magazine editor. Wendy has a pet cat named Grady. Fall 2007 premiere delayed by a writers’ strike.

Cast: Brooke Shields (Wendy Healy), Kim Raver (Nico Reilly), Lindsay Price (Victory Ford), Paul Blackthorne (Shane Healy), Sarah Hyland (Maddie Healy), Dylan Clark Marshall (Taylor Healy), Andrew McCarthy (Joe Bennett), Lorraine Bracco (Janice Lasher), Robert Buckley (Kirby Atwood), Julian Sands (Hector Matrick).

4746 Liquid Television. (Series; Anthology; MTV; 1991). A potpourri of short films from producers whose work would not normally be shown on television. The program spotlights mostly animated short subjects (including claymation and computer generated) and features such short subjects as Beavis and Butthead [which was spun off into a series of its own; see entry], Psycho Gram, The Art School Girls of Doom and Dog Boy. Casts and producers vary from show to show.

4747 The Lisa Hartman Show. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 6/30/79). A proposed weekly series that was to spotlight the talents of actress Lisa Hartman in music, songs and comedy sketches. George Schlatter, David Winters and Rod Warren are the producers.

Host: Lisa Hartman. Guests: Andy Kaufman, Bill Kirchenbauer, Rici Martin, Karen Turner. Orchestra: Johnny Harris. Theme Vocal: “Hot Stuff,” Lisa Hartman.

4748 The Lisa Whelchel Show. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/30, 5/7/88). A proposed spin-off from The Facts of Life. When college graduate Blair Warner learns that her former grammar school, the Eastland School for Girls in Peekskill, New York, has gone bankrupt and will soon close, she uses the money she had been saving to open a law office to buy the school. When Blair learns that enrollment is down and the administration is not to her liking, she appoints herself as the headmistress and changes the enrollment to allow boys. The proposed series was to relate Blair’s experiences as the owner of a school. Aired in two parts under the title “The Beginning of the End.” Other Regulars: Noreen, Blair’s secretary; Wes, the science teacher; and students Terry, Ashley, Pippa, Rick, Adam, Sara and Beldon.

Cast: Lisa Whelchel (Blair Warner), Kathleen Freeman (Noreen Grisbee), Sam Behrens (Wes Mitchell), Juliette Lewis (Terry Rankin), Mayim Bialik (Jennifer Cole), Meredith Scott Lynn (Ashley Payne), Sherri Krenn (Pippa McKenna), Scott Bryce (Rick Bonner), Seth Green (Adam Brinkerhoff), Marissa Mendenhall (Sara Bellanger), Jason Naylor (Beldon Glover).

4749 Listen Up. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2004–2005). Tony Kleinman is a columnist (for a paper called Living) and also hosts the TV Sports talk show Listen Up with Bernie Widmer, a former football player with the NFL.

Tony is married to Dana and is the father of Megan and Mickey. Tony feels his life is a series of trials (for example, shortest kid in his class, wore braces for seven years). Tony hates technology (he especially dislikes cell phones and fears all the waves are dangerous). When he gets upset, Tony does work around the house—but tightening screws is the only skill he has. Dana is an administrator for the Philadelphia Zoo (oversees zoo operations). She doesn’t watch Tony’s show because she hates sports.

Megan and Mickey attend Clearview High School. Megan, middle name Elizabeth, is a straight A student. She is on the school soccer team and is a member of Project Bully, an organization that provides help to children. Megan is an expert at defying her father—and getting away with it (she also yells at him for all the dumb things he does around the house).

Mickey is not too bright at schoolwork, but he is a golf prodigy and Tony is pushing him to become a pro. Mickey is rather silent compared to Megan and seems to live in his own private world.

Stories follow the events in Tony's life as he struggles to cope with all the problems he encounters at home and at work. His newspaper column, "I Am Champion," is not about sports, "but about life."

Cast: Jason Alexander (Tony Kleinman), Wendy Makkena (Dana Kleinman), Daniella Monet (Megan Kleinman), Will Rothhaar (Mickey Kleinman), Malcolm-Jamal Warner (Bernie Widmer).

4750 Little Bear. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1995). The story of a young cub (Little Bear) as he explores the world to learn about life with the help of his parents and friends. Based on the illustrated books by Maurice Sendak.

Voice Cast: Kristin Fairlie (Little Bear), Tracy Ryan (Duck), Tara Strong (Tutu). Additional Voices: Jonathan Wilson, Nadine Rabinovitch, Terry McGur-in, Ashley Brown, Diane D'Aquila, Janet Laney Green, Sean McCann, Elizabeth Hanna, Dan Hennessey.

4751 Little Bill. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1999–2002). An animated series loosely based on comedian Bill Cosby's life as a youngster. Here he is portrayed as five-year-old William Glover, called "Little Bill" by his family (his parents "Big" Bill, a city housing inspector and Brenda, a photographer; his siblings Alice and Bobby; and Brenda's grandmother, called Alice the Great). Stories relate the incidents that Little Bill faces at home, with his friends and at school. Each episode concludes with Little Bill talking directly to children in the audience to tell them what his experiences have taught him that day.

Voice Cast: Xavier Pritchett (William "Little Bill" Glover), Gregory Hines ("Big" Bill Glover), Phylicia Rashad (Brenda Glover), Monique Beasley (April Glover), Devon Malik Beckford (Bobby Glover), Tyler James Williams (Bobby Glover), Ruby Dee (Alice the Great), Robin Reid (Coach Maya), Melanie Nicholls-King (Miss Murray), Ayo Haynes (Miss Murray), Vincent Canoles (Dorado), Zach Tyler (Andrew).

4752 A Little Bit Strange. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/23/89). The story of a family that is "A Little Bit Strange": Ben, a widowed father (a sorcerer); Margaret, his mother, a mind reader; Tasha, his daughter, a witch; T.J. (Tyrone Jeffrey), his son, a warlock; Frank, Margaret's brother, a mad scientist; and Sidney, also known as Mud Man, Frank's "adopted" son (whom Frank created from a pile of mud). In the pilot episode, Ben attempts to prepare his fiancée (Marilyn) to meet his family.

Cast: Michael Warren (Ben Masterson), Vanessa Bell Calloway (Marilyn McClain), Myra J (Margaret Masterson), Cherie Johnson (Tasha Masterson), Shawn Skie (T.J. Masterston), Martin Lawrence (Sidney), Finis Henderson (Frank Masterson). Guest Cast: Thomas Ryan (Customer), Raymond Bud Davis (George Washington).

4753 Little Darlings. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1982). Angel Bright is a tough teenage girl who grew up on the mean city streets. Farris Whitney is her complete opposite — from a rich family and pampered all her life. They meet one summer at Camp Little Wolf and become friends when they are assigned to Cabin C. The unsold series, based on the feature film of the same title, was to relate the adventures of two girls who excel in mischief. Other Regulars: campers Lisa and Ruthie and the camp counselors (names not given).

Cast: Pamela Segall (Angel Bright), Tammy Lauren (Farris Whitney), Heather McAdam (Lisa), LaShana Dendy (Ruthie), Anne Schedeen and Michael McManus (Camp counselors).

Voice Cast: Erica Huang (June), Jesse Schwartz (Leo), Natalie Wojcik (Annie), Aiden Pompey (Quincy).

4755 Little House: A New Beginning. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1982–1983). A spin-off from Little House on the Prairie. When Charles Ingalls is unable to make a living in Plumb Creek, he sells his "little house" to John (a blacksmith) and Sarah Carter, a young couple with two children (Jeb and Jason) and moves (with his wife Caroline and daughters Carrie and Grace) to Iowa (where he becomes a purchasing agent. Laura, Charles's second-born daughter, and her husband, Almanzo, remain behind to continue the lumber mill previously operated by her father). The time is 1887 and stories follow the events in the lives of the people of Plumb Creek.

Other Regulars: Royal Wilder, Almanzo's brother; Jenny, Royal's daughter; Etta Plum, the school teacher; Harriet and Nels Oleson, the owners of the general store (Oleson's Mercantile); Willie Oleson, their son; Nancy Oleson, their adopted daughter; Hester Sue, the cook in the Oleson's restaurant; Bill Anderson, the banker; Rev. Robert Alden; Dr. Baker and Isaiah Edwards, Almanzo's partner.

Cast: Melissa Gilbert (Laura Ingalls Wilder), Dean Butler (Almanzo Wilder), Stan Ivar (John Carter), Pamela Roynance (Sarah Carter), Lindsay

4756 Little House: Bless All the Dear Children. (Series Extension; Drama; NBC; 12/17/84). An extension episode based on Little House on the Prairie. The story, set in Walnut Grove in 1898, relates Laura Ingalls Wilder's efforts to find her infant daughter, Rose, who has disappeared — and whom she fears has been kidnapped.

4757 Little House: Look Back to Yesterday. (Series Extension; Drama; NBC; 12/12/83). An extension episode based on Little House on the Prairie. The story finds Charles Ingalls, now a purchasing agent for J.R. Bennett & Company in Iowa, and his son, Albert (who hopes to become a doctor), returning to Walnut Grove for a reunion — a reunion that turns to sadness when Albert is found to be suffering from an incurable blood disease.

4758 Little House on the Prairie. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1974–1982). Under the Homestead Act, the Ingalls family receives 160 acres of land in Kansas. Parents Charles and Caroline and their daughters, Mary, Laura and Carrie, leave their home in Wisconsin's Big Woods and journey west to begin new lives. After battling the elements — the weather, wolves and Indians — Charles manages to build a home, barn and stable — only to learn that the government has moved their boundaries and they must pack up and start all over again.

Their journey next takes them to Walnut Grove in Plum Creek, Minnesota (1878), where Charles, called "Pa" by Laura, builds his "Little House on the Prairie" for his family. The family's experiences are viewed through the sentimental eyes of Laura, the second-born daughter, who hopes one day to become a writer. Mary is the oldest daughter, and Carrie the youngest, until the birth of Grace later in the series.

Charles ran a lumber mill but found it necessary to take whatever jobs he could find to make money. Mary, who later lost her sight through disease, married Adam Kendall in the episode of 11/6/78 ("The Wedding"). Adam is a blind teacher Mary met when she attended the Sleepy Eye School for the Blind. (Adam's sight was restored in the episode "To See the Light," 12/1/80.) Laura, who later taught at the Plum Creek School, married Almanzo Wilder in the episode of 9/29/80 ("Laura Ingalls Wilder"). Almanzo is the brother of the school's second teacher, Eliza Jane Wilder. (Eliza replaced the original schoolteacher, Grace Beadle, who left when she married. In 1886 Eliza Jane married Harve Miller and left town; Laura then became the schoolmarm.)

Laura's dogs were named Jack and Bandit; Charles called her "Half Pint."

Isaiah Edwards, commonly called Mr. Edwards, was Charles's best friend and, in later episodes, his partner in the lumber mill. Isaiah was married to Grace; they were the parents of three adopted children: Aliscia, John and Carl.

Nels and his bossy wife, Harriet Oleson, ran Oleson's Mercantile, Plum Creek's only general store. They have a rather nasty (spoiled) daughter named Nellie and a mischievous son named Willie. When Harriet started a restaurant, she first gave Nellie the responsibility of running it (Nellie's Restaurant); it eventually became Harriet's Restaurant when Nellie, a Protestant, married Percival Dalton, a Jewish accountant, in the episode of 5/5/80 ("He Loves Me, He Loves Me Not"). They moved to New York to help Percival's mother after his father's death. Without Nellie, Harriet went into a state of deep depression. Her spirits were lifted when she and Nels adopted an orphan girl named Nancy, a Nellie look-alike who was twice as obnoxious. Willie also married. In the episode of 3/14/83 ("May I Have This Dance") he and Rachel Brown were wed.

Charles too adopted three children after Mary left to live in Sleepy Eye: Albert, Cassandra and James. The characters of James and Cassandra were introduced in the episode "The Lost Ones" (5/4/81). Their last name was Cooper and they were the offspring of Alvin (George McDaniel) and Sarah Cooper (M.E. Loree). When their parents were killed, they are adopted by Charles (in the episode of 10/19/81, "Growing Pains").

Jonathan Garvey purchased a farm in Walnut

Grove and became friends with the Ingalls family. He was married to Alice and had a son named Andy.

The series is based on the Little House books by Laura Ingalls Wilder (Laura was born in a log cabin on the edge of the Big Woods in 1867. She based her stories on her travels with her family by covered wagon through Kansas, Minnesota and finally the Dakota Territory, where she met and married Almanzo Wilder. The books were first published in 1935, when Laura was 68 years old).

Other Regulars: Hester Sue, the cook in Nellie's Restaurant; Ebezener Sprague, the banker; Reverend Robert Alden, Christy, Laura's friend; Lars Hanson, the lumber mill owner.

Relatives: Barry Sullivan (Caroline's father, Frederick Holbrook), Anne Archer (Harriet's niece, Kate Thorvald), Rossie Harris (Almanzo's nephew, Rupert Wilder), Ham Larson (Almanzo's nephew, Myron Wilder), John McLiam (Sarah's father, Mr. Carter). Theme: "Little House on the Prairie," by David Rose.

Cast: Michael Landon (Charles Ingalls), Karen Grassle (Caroline Ingalls), Melissa Gilbert (Laura Ingalls), Melissa Sue Anderson (Mary Ingalls), Lindsay and Sidney Green Bush (Carrie Ingalls), Wendi and Brenda Turnbeaugh (Grace Ingalls), Victor French (Isaiah Edwards), Linwood Boomer (Adam Kendall), Dean Butler (Almanzo Wilder), Lucy Lee Flippen (Eliza Jane Wilder), Charlotte Stewart (Grace Beadle), James Cromwell (Harve Miller), Bonnie Bartlett (Grace Edwards), Corinne Michaels (Grace Edwards), Kyle Richards (Alicia Edwards), Radames Pera (John Edwards), Brian Pratt (Carl Edwards), Richard Bull (Nels Oleson), Katherine MacGregor (Harriet Oleson), Alison Arngrim (Nellie Oleson), Jonathan Gilbert (Willie Oleson), Steve Tracy (Percival Dalton), Allison Balson (Nancy), Matthew Laborteaux (Albert Cooper), Missy Francis (Cassandra Cooper), Jason Bateman (James Cooper), Merlin Olson (Jonathan Garvey), Hersh Parady (Alice Garvey), Patrick Laborteaux (Andy Garvey), Kevin Hagen (Dr. Baker), Ted Gehring (Ebenezer Sprague), Kitty Lester (Hester Sue), Dabbs Greer (Rev. Robert Alden), Tracie Savage (Christy Kennedy), Karl Swenson (Lars Hanson).

4759 Little House on the Prairie. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2005). A much more realistic adaptation of the Little House books by Laura Ingalls Wilder than the 1970s NBC series of the same title.

The ABC version closely follows the book series and presents a very harsh look at the life of the pioneering Ingalls family as they leave their home in Wisconsin to begin a new life (with new land) in the wilds of an unsettled Kansas (Charles, the father, could not find work in Wisconsin and felt that uprooting his family and taking advantage of the Homesteading Act—160 acres of land—was his only choice). Joining him are his wife, Caroline, their two young daughters, Laura and Mary, and Laura's dog, Jack. With only one wagon and two horses, the Ingalls begin their journey—and their harrowing (and intensely frightening) journey is detailed as they attempt to settle in an untamed territory. The one stranger they meet and befriend, Mr. Edwards, becomes their neighbor (although not right next door). The Indians, the intense heat, the bitter cold, the wildfires, the struggle for survival is so realistically portrayed and captivating that it was a shame only six hours were produced (a two hour pilot and four one hour episodes).

4760 Little House: The Last Farewell. (Series Extension; Drama; NBC; 2/6/84). An extension episode based on Little House on the Prairie. The story finds the citizens of Walnut Grove struggling to protect their homes from Nathan Lassiter, a mining entrepreneur, who has purchased their land and now wants them to leave.

4761 Little Leatherneck. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/29/66). "If I could be the President of the United States, or someone even more important like Santa Claus, it wouldn't mean a thing, 'cause I'd rather be a Marine..." said the opening theme of Cindy Fenton, a pretty pre-teenage girl fascinated by the U.S. Marine Corps, who decides to follow in the footsteps of her father, Marine Drill Sergeant Mike Fenton, and become a "Little Leatherneck." The unsold series was to follow Cindy as she strives to be a Marine.

4762 Little Lord Fauntleroy. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 8/14/82). An unsold attempt to continue the Frances Hodgson Burnett novel about Cedric Erroll, an impoverished New York youngster who becomes heir to Dorincourt, a British estate owned by his grandfather, the Earl of Dorincourt. In the pilot episode, Cedric tries to help an impoverished poacher and his family. Filmed on location at Belvoir Castle in Leicestershire, England. Other Regulars: Mrs. Erroll, Cedric's mother; McGregor, the estate caretaker; Billy, Cedric's friend; Mrs. Lemmy, the cook; Mary, the earl's wife; and Hustings, McGregor's assistant.

Cast: John Mills (Earl of Dorincourt), Jerry Supiran (Cedric Erroll), Caroline Smith (Mrs. Erroll), Godfrey James (McGregor), Dennis Savage (Billy), Avis Bunnage (Mrs. Lemmy), Carmel McHarry (Mary), David Cook (Hustings). Guest Cast: Gerry Cowper (Mellon), Jim Norton (Tom Mulley), Kate Binchy (Mrs. Mulley), Kenneth Midwood (Groom).

4763 Little Lulu. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 11/4/78). Rocky River is the town where a precocious pre-teenage girl named Little Lulu resides. She is a crusader for girls' rights and believes it is her duty to help people in trouble—whether they want it or not. The unsold series was to follow the adventures of this pint-sized whirlwind of energy as she and her friends seem to find misadventure in everything they do. In the pilot episode, Lulu and her girlfriends (Gloria, Annie and Martha) seek a way to protect their summer camp, Wacadoo, from boys when it becomes co-ed. Other Regulars: the boys: Tubby, Iggy and Willy.

Cast: Lauri Hender (Little Lulu), Annrae Walterhouse (Gloria), Lulu Baxter (Annie), Nita DiGampalo (Martha), Robbie Rist (Iggy), Kevin King Cooper (Tubby), Eddie Singleton (Willy). Guest Cast: Tim Reid (Counselor Tilson), Beverly Archer (Counselor Greenfield), Toy Newkirk (Diane), Billy Jacoby (Alvin), Evelyn Bell (Tubby's mother), Laura Fanning (Alvin's mother).

4764 The Little Lulu Show. (Series; Cartoon; HBO; 1995). A television adaptation of the theatrical cartoons that follows events in the life of Little Lulu, a very mischievous girl who can find innocent trouble in anything she does. Annie is her best friend and Tubby is her nemesis, a boy who heads a "For Boys Only Club" that Lulu desperately wants to (and plots to) join but can't ("just because I'm a girl").

4765 Little Men. (Series; Drama; PAX; 1998–1999). Concord, Massachusetts in the 1880s is the setting. It is here that Josephine Bhaer, called Jo, and her husband, Fritz Bhaer, established Plumfield, a school for children. The series is based on the book Little Men by Louisa May Alcott. Jo, one of the March sisters from Alcott's book Little Women, opens the show with these words: "My husband and I founded Plumfield as a school for children from all walks of life. His passing has left a void in my life. But in the children I see the promise of a new day and find the strength to keep our dream alive no matter how hard the struggle."

Jo is a devoted teacher who puts the needs of the children before her own. Jo and Fritz had originally established the school for boys but financial hardships found Jo changing the enrollment to allow girls. Bess Lawrence and Anthena "Nan" Harding are the first two girls to enroll.

Bess is the daughter of Jo's younger sister, Amy. Bess is all girl—"I don't enjoy playing horseshoes, feeding the pigs or breaking nuts on my head." She enjoys the finer things in life like elegant clothes, reading and painting.

Nan is a tomboy and reminds Jo of herself when she was a girl—mischievous and a whirlwind of energy. Nan enjoys doing what the boys do including fishing and pitching horseshoes. Nan is most proud of her frog skeleton and a music box given to her by her mother.

Nathaniel "Nat" Blake, Emil, Isaac, Jack and Dan are the principal boy students. Other Regulars: Nick Riley, the handyman; Amy and Laurie, Bess's parents; Asia, the cook; and Margaret "Meg" Brooke, Jo's older sister. The children call Jo "Mrs. Jo; Jo has a horse named Penny (whom she and her sister found stuck in a bog when Jo was 12 years old). Stories follow Jo's struggles to run the school.

Cast: Michelle Rene Thomas (Jo Bhaer), Rachel Skarsten (Bess Lawrence), Brittney Irvin (Nan Harding), Trevor Blumas (Nathaniel Blake), Spencer Rochfort (Nick Riley), Amy Price-Francis (Amy Lawrence), Dan Chameroy (Theodore "Laurie" Lawrence), Sandra Caldwell (Asia), Corey Server (Dan Maddison), Jennifer Wigmore (Margaret "Meg" Brooke), Michael Oliphant (Isaac), Alexander Campbell (Emil), Dov Tiefenbach (Jack Ford).

4766 The Little Mermaid. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1992–1994). An adaptation of the Disney film of the same title about Ariel, the mermaid daughter of Triton (his seventh and youngest) as she shares adventures in the sea with her friends Urchin, Flounder, Gabriella and Sebastian. Their enemy is Ursula, the Ea Witch.

Voice Cast: Jodi Benson (Ariel), Kenneth Mars (King Triton), Samuel E. Wright (Sebastian), Joachim Kemmer (Sebastian), Edan Gross (Flounder), Bradley Pierce (Flounder), Danny Cooksey (Urchin), Pat Carroll (Ursula, the Sea Witch).

4767 The Little People. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1972–1973). The 1972–1973 title for The Brian Keith Show. See this title for information.

4768 The Little Prince. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1982). A three country (Japan, Germany, France) produced, low budget (fair animation) cartoon about an alien (the Little Prince) and his friend, Swiftee the Space Bird, as they visit their favorite planet, Earth, to explore new things and find adventure.

Voice Cast: Julie McWhirter (The Little Prince), Katie Leigh (The Little Prince; later), Hal Smith (Swiftee the Space Bird). Additional Voices: Walker Edmiston, Christa Haussler, Janet Waldo, Pamela Ziolowski, Robert Ridgely.

4769 The Little Rascals. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1982–1984). A television adaptation of the popular Our Gang theatrical comedy shorts of the 1920s, '30s and '40s (The Little Rascals is the television title for the series). The adventures of a group of well meaning but mischievous children: Spanky, Alfalfa, Buckwheat, Porky, Darla, Waldo, Butch (the bully) and Woim, Butch's cohort.

Voice Cast: Scott Menville (Spanky), Julie McWhirter (Alfalfa), Patty Maloney (Darla), Shavar Ross (Buckwheat), Julie McWhirter (Porky), B.J. Ward (Butch), Julie McWhirter (Woim), B.J. Ward (Waldo), Peter Cullen (Petie, the dog), Peter Cullen (Police Officer Ed).

4770 The Little Revue. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949–1950). A live, half-hour program of music, song and comedy from Chicago (the title is derived from the fact that the series is half as long as other variety series). The series aired from September 4, 1949 to December 11, 1949; and from March 17, 1950 to April 28, 1950.

Host: Bill Sherry. Regulars: Gloria Van, Nancy Evans, Dick Larkin, Billy Johnson, Dick France. Orchestra: Rex Maupin.

4771 Little Rosey. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1990–1991). An animated series based on the sharp-tongued comedienne Roseanne Barr as she might have been as a pre-teenage girl. Rosie hangs out with her friends Buddy, Matthew and Jeffrey and stories relate their adventures with Rosey giving her perspective on life and how to survive childhood. The program also featured Rosey's Nanny and later friends Tess and Tater. After a bout with dismal ratings ABC cancelled the series but revised it as The Rosie and Buddy Show (which followed the same basic format).

Voice Cast: Kathleen Laskey (Little Rosey), Roseanne Barr (Little Rosey; later), Noam Zylberman (Buddy), Tony Daniels (Rosey's father), Judy Marshak (Rosey's mother), Paulina Gillis (Tess), Lisa Yamanaka (Tater), Lisa Yamanaka (Nanny), Stephen Bednarski (Jeffrey), Stephen Bednarski (Matthew).

4772 Little Shop. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1991). An animated adaptation of the feature film Little Shop of Horrors. Seymour Krelborn is a high school nerd who, to win a science fair, cross breeds several different species of plants (including a Venus Flytrap). What results is Junior, a crude, rapping plant that has the ability to brainwash people. Stories follow Seymour's misadventures as he struggles to live with a mischievous plant with a mind of its own (and a plant that wants to go everywhere Seymour goes).

Voice Cast: Jana Lexxa (Seymour Krelborn), Terry McGee (Junior), Jennie Kwan (Audrey), Michael Rawl (Mushnick).

4774 The Little Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1951). The shortened TV Guide title for John Conte's Little Show. See this title for information.

4775 Little Vic. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1977). A six-part series that depicts incidents in the life of Gillie Walker, a 14-year-old orphan who becomes a jockey. Little Vic is the horse he trains and later rides in the Santa Anita Derby.

Cast: Joey Green (Gillie Walker), Carol Anne Seffinger (Clara Scott), Doney Oatman (Julie Sayer), David Levy (Richie Miller), Del Hinkley (Mar. Hammer), Charles Stewart (Mr. Lauson), Med Flory (George Gordon), J. Jay Saunders (Dr. Freeman), Myron Natwick (Fred Amble).

4776 Little Women. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 12/22/39). The first television adaptation of the novel by Louisa May Alcott about the dreams and ambitions of Meg, Jo, Amy and Beth March, four close-knit sisters who live in Concord, Massachusetts, during the late 1860s.

Cast: Molly Pearson (Margaret "Marmee" March), Joanna Post (Margaret "Meg" March), Flora Campbell (Josephine "Jo" March), Frances Reid (Elizabeth "Beth" March), Joyce Arling (Amy March), Robert Connors (Jonathan March), Charles Bryant (Theodore "Laurie" Lawrence), Linda Kane (Hannah), Wilton Graff (Friedrich Bhaer).

4777 Little Women. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1971). A British series based on the novel by Louisa May Alcott. The story, set in Concord, Massachusetts, during the 1880s, follows events in the lives of the close-knit March sisters: Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy, the children of Marmee and Jonathan March. Katharine is their aunt; Hannah is their maid; Theodore "Laurie" Lawrence is Amy's romantic interest; Professor Friedrich Bhaer is Jo's romantic interest; James Lawrence is Laurie's grandfather; Rogers is James's butler.

Cast: Angela Down (Josephine "Jo" March), Jo Rowbottom (Margaret "Meg" March), Janina Faye (Amy March), Sarah Craze (Beth March), Stephanie Bidmead (Margaret "Marmee" March), Patrick Troughton (Jonathan March), Jean Anderson (Kathryn March), Stephen Turner (Theodore "Laurie" Lawrence), Frederick Jaeger (Prof. Friedrich Bhaer), Pat Nye (Hannah), John Welsh (James Lawrence), Philip Raye (Rogers), Martin Jarvis (John Brooke).

4778 Little Women. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 10/2, 10/3/78). The two-part pilot for the four-episode series of the same title (see next entry). The story, set in Concord, Massachusetts, during the late 1860s, follows the dreams, ambitions and frustrations of the March sisters (Jo, Meg, Amy and Beth), four close-knit girls whose lives unfold through the sentimental eyes of Jo, an aspiring writer. Based on the novel by Louisa May Alcott.

Other Regulars: Marmee and Jonathan, the girls' parents; Aunt Kathryn March; Friedrich Bhaer, Jo's fiancé; Theodore Lawrence, Amy's fiancé; James Lawrence, Theodore's father; John Brooke, Meg's fiancé; and Hannah, the Marches' cook.

Cast: Susan Dey (Jo March), Meredith Baxte Birney (Meg March), Ann Dusenberry (Amy March), Eve Plumb (Beth March), Dorothy McGuire (Margaret "Marmee" March), William Schallert (Jonathan March), Greer Garson (Aunt Kathryn March), William Shatner (Friedrich Bhaer), Richard Gilliland (Theodore "Laurie" Lawrence), Robert Young (James Lawrence), Cliff Potts (John Brooke), Virginia Gregg (Hannah).

4779 Little Women. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1979). Concord, Massachusetts, during the late 1860s is the setting for a series that follows the dreams, ambitions, and frustrations of the March sisters (Jo, Meg, Amy and Beth). As seen through the sentimental eyes of Jo, an aspiring writer, stories of Victorian manners and mores unfold. Based on the novel by Louisa May Alcott. In the pilot episode (see prior title), Beth, the gentle, shy and frail sister, dies after being stricken by scarlet fever. Melissa, her cousin and identical look-alike, replaces her.

Other Regulars: Margaret "Marmee" March, their mother; Rev. Jonathan March, Marmee's husband; John Brooke, Meg's husband; Theodore "Laurie" Lawrence, Amy's husband; Professor Friedrich Bhaer, Jo's fiancé; James Lawrence, Laurie's grandfather; Aunt Kathryn March; Hannah, the March's cook; Amanda, James's housekeeper.

Cast: Jessica Harper (Josephine "Jo" March), Susan

Walden (Margaret "Meg" March), Ann Dusenberry (Amy March), Eve Plumb (Beth March), Eve Plumb (Melissa Jane Driscoll), Dorothy McGuire (Margaret "Marmee" March), William Schallert (Rev. Jonathan March), Cliff Potts (John Brooke), Richard Gilliland (Theodore "Laurie" Lawrence), David Ackroyd (Prof. Friedrich Bhaer), Robert Young (James Lawrence), Mildred Natwick (Kathryn March), Virginia Gregg (Hannah), Maggie Malooly (Amanda).

4780 The Littles. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1983–1984). The small town of Grand Valley is the setting for a series that relates the adventures of Henry Bigg, a 13-year-old boy who befriends the Littles, a family of mouse-high people who live in the walls of homes. William and Lucy are the parents; Dinky, Tom and Little Lucy are their children. Also living with them is Ashley Little, their adopted daughter, and Grandpa Little.

Stories also focus on the efforts of the evil Dr. Hunter and his assistant, Peterson, to discover if what he believes is another life form (which he calls the Littles) really do exist, and the efforts of the Littles to remain a secret.

4781 The Littlest Hobo. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1964). London is a German Shepherd dog who wanders throughout the cities, towns and forests of Canada. Like Lassie, he has a keen sense of knowing when something is wrong. Stories follow London as he helps the people he finds in trouble. Darrell McGowan and Stuart McGowan are the producers.

4782 The Littlest Hobo. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1980). The adventures of London, an un-owned, roving German shepherd who helps people in trouble. The 26-episode series was produced in Canada and is a remake of a 1960s series of the same title.

Star: London. London's Trainer: Charles P. Eisenmann. Theme Vocal: "Maybe Tomorrow" by Terry Bush.

4783 The Littlest Pet Shop. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1995). Elwood Funk owns a pet shop that specializes in miniature versions of full-sized animals (like Chloe the Cat and Stu the Sheep Dog). Stories follow the adventures of the various animals, especially Stu and Chloe, after they are sold but always manage to find their way back to their original home.

Voice Cast: Babs Chula (Chloe), Michael Donovan (Stu the Dog), Ian James Corlett (Elwood Funk), Ted Cole (Squeaks). Additional Voices: Terry Klassen, Ellen Kennedy, Christopher Johnson, Phil Hayes, Lynda Boyd, Kathleen Boyd.

4784 Live-In. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1989). Sarah Mathews is the manager of the clothing department of Macy's in Manhattan. Her husband, Ed Mathews, owns the Mathews Sporting Goods Store in New Jersey. They are the parents of teenage boys Danny and Peter and infant daughter Melissa. When Sarah decides it is time to return to work after her maternity leave, she applies for a live-in housekeeper at the Broder Domestic Agency.

The agency finds Lisa Wells, a beautiful Australian girl (it is not explained why the agency had to go to Australia to find the Mathews a nanny/housekeeper). Lisa grew up in the Australia Outback and lived in a small house with seven brothers and sisters. She now has her own room at the Mathews house (30 Hogan Place in New Jersey) and the responsibility of caring for Melissa and watching over Danny and Peter.

Danny and Peter attend Whitney High School. Peter, a freshman, has yet to become overly concerned about girls and he and Lisa get along fine together. Danny, a sophomore, is just the opposite a girl-crazy teenager who can't believe a girl like Lisa is living in their house (he has set his goal to catch a peek of Lisa in the nude). Lisa's experiences in America as she cares for the Mathews children are the focal point of the series. Muriel is their neighbor; Gator is Peter's friend.

4785 Live Like a Millionaire. (Series; Game; CBS; ABC; 1951–1953). Performances by aspiring but undiscovered talent. The winners, determined by studio audience applause, receive one week's tax on a million dollars as their prize. The series aired on CBS from January 5, 1951 to March 14, 1952; and on ABC from October 25, 1952 to February 7, 1953.

Host: John Nelson (CBS), Jack McCoy (ABC).
Announcer: Jack McCoy.

4786 Live Shot. (Series; Drama; UPN; 1995–1996). A behind-the-scenes look at the world of television news reporting and story gathering as seen through the experiences of Alex Rydell, the news director for KXZX-TV in Los Angeles.

Alex is divorced and caring for his son, Sean. Harry Chandler Moore is the station's somewhat vain anchorman (called "The Beacon of Truth") for Re-Action News. Sherry Beck is the show's co-anchor, a bright and ambitious girl who has set her goal to become a top news anchor. Nancy Lockridge is the show's news producer; Tommy Greer and "Fast" Eddie Santini are the reckless news crew (they will let nothing stand in their way of getting a story; they have been nicknamed "The News Brothers"); Ricardo Sandoval is a news reporter; Lou Waller is the sportscaster; Liz Vega is the investigative reporter; Marvin Seaborne is the news commentator; Joe Vitale is the show's executive producer; Rick Evers is the assignment editor; and Peggy Traynor is news traffic controller.

Cast: Jeff Yagher (Alex Rydell), Karen Austin (Helen Forbes), Sam Anderson (Marvin Seaborne), David Birney (Harry Chandler Moore), Wanda De Jesus (Liz Vega), Spencer Klein (Sean Rydell), Bruce McGill (Joe Vitale), Cheryl Pollak (Nancy Lockridge), Rebecca Staab (Sherry Beck), Eddie Velez (Ricardo Sandoval), Antonia Jones (Peggy Traynor), David Coburn (Rick Evers), Michael Watson ("Fast" Eddie Santini), Hill Harper (Tommy Grier), Thomas Byrd (Lou Waller), Nia Long (Ramona Greer).

4787 Live with Regis and Kathie Lee. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1989–2001). A live daily talk show with Regis Philbin and Kathie Lee Gifford as the co-hosts. Celebrity interviews are mixed with the show's signature attraction, the exchange of conversation between the hosts at the beginning of each episode. In 2001, after co-starring with Regis for 12 years, Kathie Lee opted to leave to pursue other career goals. She was replaced by actress Kelly Ripa who continued the chemistry the show is noted for.

Hosts: Regis Philbin, Kathie Lee Gifford.

4788 Live with Regis and Kelly. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 2001–). A continuation of Live with Regis and Kathie Lee with Kelly Ripa replacing Kathie Lee Gifford as the co-host to Regis Philbin. The series follows the same format — an exchange of conversation between the two hosts coupled with celebrity interviews.

Hosts: Regis Philbin, Kelly Ripa.

4789 The Lively Ones. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1962–1963). A unusual summer series that features music, song and dance set against offbeat electronic background locations. The series aired from July 26, 1962 to September 13, 1962; and July 25, 1963 to September 12, 1963. Barry Shear is the producer.

Host: Vic Damone. Regulars: Joan Staley, Shirley Yelm, Gloria Neil, Quinn O'Hara, The Earl Brown Dancers. Orchestra: Jerry Fielding.

4790 The Lives of Jenny Dolan. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 10/27/75). Jennifer "Jenny" Dolan is a glamorous investigative reporter for the New World Journal. Her exploits as she risks her life to uncover the facts behind potentially dangerous stories is the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Jenny attempts to solve the murder of her husband

(Wes) which she believes is connected with her investigation of a conspiracy involving a political assassination.

4791 Livin' Large. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/30/89). "Livin' Large" is street talk for "doing fine," "feeling good" or "living well." It is spoken by the young people who live in the poorer sections of Manhattan and who are still full of dreams that have not yet been deflated by the harsh realities of life. The unsold series was to focus on 18-year-old Billy Angelo and his wife, Marsha, idealists who hope to one day be "Livin' Large." Other Regulars: Billy's friends Kevin (an apartment building super), Sal (the owner of Sal's Barber Shop, the hangout), Luz (works for Sal) and G.Q.

Cast: Eagle Eye Cherry (Billy Angelo), Alexia Robinson (Marsha Angelo), Jon Polito (Sal), Tim Guinee (Kevin Schaeffer), Tasia Valenza (Luz Rodriguez), Keith Amos (G.Q.).

4792 Living Dolls. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1989). Trish Carlin is a former high fashion model who now runs The Carlin Modeling Agency from her home at 68th Street and Madison Avenue in Manhattan. Trish appeared on the covers of such magazines as Vanity Fair, Harper's Bazaar, Ladies' Home Journal and Vogue. She has opened her home to four beautiful teenage girls she feels have "the look" needed to become models: Charlene "Charlie" Briscoe, Emily Franklin, Martha Lambert and Caroline Weldon. The girls attend Lexy High School and share two rooms in Trish's home.

Charlie, born in Brooklyn, New York, is streetwise and doesn't believe she is as beautiful as people tell her she is. She appears to have a tough exterior but is a softie on the inside. Charlie helps Trish with the cooking and takes charge of situations when Martha, Caroline or Emily get into a bind. Charlie likes to be herself ("what you see is what you get") and is rarely impressed by anything — even when she is told she is special ("a good burger is special, not me").

Martha, nicknamed "Pooch," loves the attention modeling gives her. She enjoys dressing up for any occasion and is teased by Charlie for constantly talking about her home state (Idaho).

Caroline enjoys shopping at Bloomingdale's and faces a crisis each morning: "What should I wear today?" She is a "C" student at school and to avoid reading books she has joined the Book on Tape Club. She relates aspects of her life based on episodes of her favorite TV Show (Star Trek) and believes in "Model Unity" ("We have to stick together when things get tough for one of us"). Caroline is a bit dense and tries to be bright but her efforts always fail (especially since she has to write notes on the palms of her hands to remember what she has to say to appear smart).

Emily, called "M" by Caroline, is the smartest one of the girls (a straight "A" student) and hopes to become a doctor ("being a doctor is all I dream about"). She gets very upset as she scores badly on a test and fears that if her grades slip "the closest I will ever get to being a doctor is modeling lab coats." Emily plays racket ball to relax and helps the other girls overcome their problems.

Rick Carlin, Trish's teenage son, can't explain to his friends what it is like living with four beautiful girls, but he is determined to make a profit from it (he sells model souvenirs and offers "Real Model Tours" for $1.50). Charlie calls him a "twerp."

Although the girls strive to do their best at school, their teachers consider them "Human Hangers" ("Girls who are so pretty that they can't be smart").

Marion Ross appeared in the last two episodes as Trish's sister, Marion (who took over the house as Trish appeared to be out of town). Edward Winter appeared as Trish's ex-husband, Todd Carlin.

In the original unaired pilot film, the cast was: Michael Learned (Trish Curtis), Leah Remini (Charlie), Melissa Willis (Caroline), Vivica A. Fox (Emily), Alison Elliott (Martha) and Jonathan Ward (Rick Curtis). John Beasley and John Vester composed the theme. The revised pilot aired as a segment of Who's the Boss?

Cast: Michael Learned (Trish Carlin), Leah Remini (Charlie Briscoe), Halle Berry (Emily Franklin), Deborah Tucker (Caroline Weldon), Alison Elliott (Martha Lambert), David Moscow (Rick Carlin), Marion Ross (Marion).

4793 Living Easy. (Series; Women; Syn.; 1973). A daily series of guests, interviews, fashion, decorating tips, music, and songs with psychiatrist Dr. Joyce Brothers as the host. Mike Darrow is the announcer.

4794 The Living End. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/17/72). Douglas "Doug" Newman is a veteran defense end for the Chicago Cherokees, a professional football team. The unsold series was to relate Doug's misadventures as he tries to divide his time between the two things he loves most — his wife (Nancy) and his team (Bullets, the coach; and players Richie, Mickey, Henry and Stan). See also Two's Company, a revised version of this pilot.

Cast: Lou Gossett, Jr. (Doug Newman), Diana Sands (Nancy Newman), Dick O'Neill (Bullets), Paul Cavonis (Richie Rosen), John Calvin (Mickey), Roger E. Mosley (Henry), Don Sherman (Stan).

4795 Living in Paradise. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/1/81). Following the death of his wife, Vincent Sherman, a retired businessman, moves to a retirement village called Paradise Park. The unsold series was to focus on Vincent as he struggles to live the carefree life of a bachelor, despite Winnie Coogan, his neighbor, who has set her sights on him. In the pilot episode, Vincent seeks a date to accompany him to the Emmy Awards presentation when he learns that his son's (Jason) TV series, Sorority Sisters, has been nominated for an Emmy. Other Regulars: Hazel, Vincent's landlady; Mel, Hazel's husband; and Donna, Jason's fiancée.

Khadjah attended Howard University (where she held a job after classes in a rat costume for Chuckie Cheese). She was editor of her high school and college newspapers and calls her magazine Flavor "because we've got taste." The one thing you don't do is lend Khadjah money (she can't eat or sleep until she pays it back). Khadjah's competition is the tacky Savor magazine; Flavor is located above the Chemical Bank Building in Manhattan.

Synclaire is from Missouri and works as the magazine's perky receptionist. As a kid Synclaire had a turtle (Fred) and a plush cow (Mr. Jammers); she now has a hamster named Robespierre. Synclaire has a desk full of good luck troll dolls "to spread joy and happiness in the office" and uses an "emotional filing system. Things that make Khadjah happy are in front; the things that make her weary are in back; and the things that upset her are not within her reach." Before acquiring the job at Flavor, Synclaire worked as a cashier, telephone solicitor, babysitter and order taker at Turkey Burger Hut. Synclaire feels sad at the end of the day "because I have to say goodbye to the makeup that got me through the day." When she feels blue, Synclaire wears wind chime earrings.

Regine is a buyer for the Boutique. She can't bear to be without a man by her side. She wears very sexy clothes and shows ample cleavage to attract men. She is self-centered, self-absorbed and wants kids — "These genes are too good to waste." Khadjah calls her "loud and busty" (Kim Fields' real-life breast reduction surgery was incorporated into the series, changing the Regine character somewhat. She became less obnoxious and more caring). Regine, real name Regina, is a woman on a mission to marry a man "who knows that fine wine doesn't come with a twist off cap." She believes that she is irresistible to men and that "sometimes life is not fair to me. That's why bras come in different sizes." She believes her breasts ("my double d's") got her into M.I.T. and made her homecoming queen. Regine also lives by her code, "The Three C's of Men" ("catch, control and conquer"). She also believes that if she is in a room and a man does not look at her "then he must be gay"; the downside: if Regine is without a man, she goes on a chocolate-eating binge.

Maxene Shaw, called Max, is a lawyer for the firm of Evans, Bell and Associates in Manhattan. She was born in Philadelphia and later became an attorney for the Public Defenders Office. She has her own apartment, but has made Khadjah's her second home.

Overton Wakefield Jones is the building's maintenance man. He is dating Synclaire and lives by the handyman's code "I won't rest until it's fixed." He has a dog (Sanford; named after his favorite TV show, Sanford and Son) and three fish (Cocoa, Maurice and Kyle). Overton, called "Obie" by Synclaire, shops at the Hardware Hacienda. Sundays are special for him and Synclaire — "It's flea market shopping day." He was born in Cleveland and has "a secret shame" (a childhood fear of clowns that has followed him into adulthood).

Kyle Barker is Obie's roommate (they share apartment C). He is a stockbroker and believes that he is irresistible to women. Kyle was in a band called Water ("the missing element in Earth, Wind and Fire") and had a love-hate relationship with Max.

Cast: Queen Latifah (Khadjah James), Kim Fields (Regine Hunter), Kim Coles (Synclaire James), Erika Alexander (Max Shaw), John Henton (Overton Jones), T.C. Carson (Kyle Barker).

4797 Living with Fran. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2005–2006). Reeves Interiors is an interior decorating business run by Fran Reeves, a beautiful and sexy divorcee who is the mother of Josh (21 years old) and Allison (15). Fran, who is in her 40s, but won't admit it, is divorced from Ted, but is not starving for affection — she is dating (and living with) Riley Martin, a handsome contractor who is 26 years old.

Fran married Ted, now a doctor, right after high school. Ted's infidelity caused the breakup. Fran got the house and custody of the kids. She decided to redecorate the house and hired Riley to turn Josh's room into a gym. It was a love at first sight and Fran asked Riley to move in with her, Allison accepted the older woman-younger man relationship, but Josh doesn't and has a hard time accepting Riley as his potential step father. (Josh has returned home after being expelled from medical school. During a 72-hour shift, Josh went a bit nuts and chased a male nurse with a bone saw. He was expelled.)

Fran has blossomed into a self-confident, free spirited, emancipated woman with a growing career (she was always sweet and self doubting)—something else Josh has a hard time accepting. As Josh seeks to find his goal in life, he works as the assistant manager of a video tape/DVD store called Video King. Josh was only in medical school for six weeks and it cost Fran $47,000.

Allison is an adorable teenager and takes after her mother and like Fran, considers charisma the family curse—she can't help but flirt with boys. Allison works at I-Hop and delights in needling Josh about Fran and Riley's relationship.

The series reunites Fran Drescher (Fran) and Charles Shaughnessy (Ted) who were the co-stars of The Nanny.

Cast: Fran Drescher (Fran Reeves), Ryan McPartlin (Riley Martin), Ben Friedman (Josh Reeves), Misti Traya (Allison Reeves), Charles Shaughnessy (Ted Reeves).

4798 Lizzie McGuire. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 2001–2004). The problems faced by a very pretty 13-year-old girl growing up in a small town is the basic premise of Lizzie McGuire. Elizabeth Brooke McGuire, better known as Lizzie, is a seventh (then 8th grader) at Eldridge Elementary School (she later attends Bayridge High School). Lizzie lives at 804 Linwood Drive and is the daughter of Sam and Jo McGuire. She has a younger brother, Matt, and is best friends with Miranda and Gordo.

Lizzie always does (or tries) to do what is right. She is considered “a good girl prototype” by her friends mothers. Lizzie oversleeps, trips over things, keeps her room a mess and leaves hair in her hair brush. She worked as a waitress at her favorite hangout, the Digital Bean, and would like a job baby sitting “but I don't baby sit, I get baby sat.”

While Lizzie is quite obedient and causes little trouble for her parents, Matt appears to be constantly bored and to relieve his boredom, tries to find something to do—and always winds up in trouble for doing so.

Other Regulars: Kate Sanders, the class beauty (and snob); Ethan Craft, the rather simple minded school “hunk”; Larry Tudgegan, the school's number one geek; Lanny Onasis, Matt's friend (who never speaks); and Melina Bianco, Matt's classmate—and cohort in mischief.

Cast: Hilary Duff (Lizzie McGuire), Hallie Todd (Jo McGuire), Robert Carradine (Sam McGuire), Jake Thomas (Matt McGuire), Lalaine Vergas (Miranda Sanchez), Adam Lamberg (David “Gordo” Gordon), Ashlie Brillault (Kate Sanders), Clayton Synder (Ethan Craft), Kyle Downes (Larry Tudgegan), Christian Copelin (Lanny Onasis), Carly Schroeder (Melina Bianco).

4799 The Lloyd Bridges Show. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1962–1963). Dramatic presentations that recount the stories of free-lance journalist Adam Sheppard. Adam appears in each story but is supported by a different cast each week.

Cast: Lloyd Bridges (Adam Sheppard). Performers Include: Beau Bridges, Jeff Bridges, Gloria DeHaven, Diane Baker, Lonny Chapman, Norman Fell, Barbara Shelley, Nancy Gates, Benny Gatteys, Wanda Hendrix, Kathleen Nolan, Gena Rowlands, Glynis Johns, Suzanne Cupito (now Morgan Brittany), Anna-Lisa, Marie Windsor, Paul Ford, Cindy Bridges, Dianne Foster, Ricardo Montalban, Betty Garrett, Bethel Leslie, Alejandro Rey, Harry Guardino, Carolyn Jones, Paul Richards, Edgar Buchanan.

4800 Lloyd Bridges Water World. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1972). Excursions to various tropical islands as well as tips on boating safety and marine band radio use with former Sea Hunt star Lloyd Bridges as the host. Harold Haney is the announcer.

Voice Cast: Courtland Mead (Lloyd Nebulon), April Winchell (Nora Nebulon), Nicolette Little (Francine Nebulon), Justin Shenkarow (Eddie Horton), Pamela Hayden (Douglas McNoggin), Bill Fagerbakke (Kurt Blobberts), Diedrich Bader (Harvulian “Boomer” Standervault), Clancy Brown (Officer Frank Horton), Warren Sroka (Rodney Glaxer), Anndi McAfee (Brittany).

4802 The Lloyd Thaxton Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1964). The program features performances by the top names in rock and roll music.

Host: Lloyd Thaxton. Regulars: Lynne Marta, Michael Storm.

4803 Lobo. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1980–1981). A spin-off from The Misadventures of Sheriff Lobo. When the governor of Atlanta discovers that Orly County, Georgia, is virtually crime free due to what he believes is the honest work of the larcenous Sheriff Elroy P. Lobo, he hires Lobo and his deputies to help curb the rising crime rate. Stories relate the adventures of Sheriff Lobo as he and his deputies, Perkins and Birdie, attempt to do for Atlanta what they did in Orly (pull every scam or dirty trick in the book to accomplish a goal).

Perkins is following in Lobo's footsteps; Birdie (real name Birdwell Hawkins) is on the straight and narrow and a thorn in Lobo's back; John E. Carson is the chief of detectives, Metro Atlanta Police; Brandy and Peaches are the gorgeous officers Lobo works with; Hildy is the sergeant who is on to Lobo's dirty deeds; George is the police lab technician.

Cast: Claude Akins (Sheriff Elroy P. Lobo), Mills Watson (Deputy Perkins), Brian Kerwin (Deputy Birdwell "Birdie" Hawkins), Nicholas Coster (John E. Carson), Tara Buckman (Off. Brandy Ames), Amy Bostwinick (Off. Peaches McLain), Nell Carter (Sgt. Hildy Jones), William Schallert (The Governor), Mark Roberts (The Governor; later), Dudley Knight (George). Theme Vocal: "Sheriff Lobo" by Frankie Laine.

4804 Local 306. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/23/76). After many years on the job, the middle-aged Harvey Gordon is appointed chief steward of Plumber's Local 306. The unsold series was to relate Harvey's efforts to deal with the assortment of problems that arise both at home from a nagging wife and daughter (Rose and Helene) and on the job from fellow union members (Hutchings, Rocco and Fillmore). In the pilot episode, Harvey seeks a way to overcome his fear of flying in order to attend a distant union meeting.

Cast: Eugene Roche (Harvey Gordon), Miriam-Byrd Nethery (Rose Gordon), Susan Sennett (Helene Gordon), Milton Parsons (Hutchings), Roy Stewart (Rocco), Hilly Hicks (Fillmore). Guest Cast: Barrie Youngfellow (Darlene), Raymond Singer (Daniel).

4805 Locals. (Pilot; Comedy; Fox; 6/23/94). Port Ellen is a small town that is also "The Rake Capital of the World." Jerry Hawthorne, the town barber for 25 years, charges $5 for any haircut. His sister, Rita Levine, runs a business adjacent to Jerry's Barber Shop called Pancake Heaven. The town has a motto: "If you think you don't need a rake, then you're really, really wrong" and the unsold series relates life in Port Ellen as seen through the eyes of Jerry (who introduces viewers to the town and its colorful citizens).

In the pilot episode, Rita's new husband, Mike, tries to make amends for accidentally burning down the town's teen center. Other Regulars: Fred Wrighter, Rita's son from a first marriage; Old Claude, a barber shop regular; Margie, the town's sexpot (she has eyes for Jerry); and Royce Pruitt, the police chief.

Cast: John Ratzenberger (Jerry Hawthorne), Meagan Fay (Rita Levine), Kevin Connolly (Fred Wrighter), Jeff Corey (Old Claude), Jay Acovone (Mike Levine), Glenn Shadix (Royce Pruitt), Diane Salinger (Margie Murray), Ray Baker (Mayor). Guest Cast: Michael D. Weathered (Wayne), Scott William Whyte (Troy), Bruce French (Emmett Durst), Deborah Tucker (Jody), Stefanie Ridell (Chris).

4806 Lock, Stock and Barrel. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 9/24/71). Colorado during the 1880s is the setting for a proposed series about Roselle and Clare Bridgeman, newlyweds struggling to begin a new life on the ruthless frontier. See also Hitched, the sequel pilot film.

Cast: Belinda J. Montgomery (Roselle Bridgeman), Tim Matheson (Clare Bridgeman). Guest Cast: Claude Akins (Punch Logan), Jack Albertson (Brucker), Burgess Meredith (Willie Pursle), Felicia Farr (Beth Lambert), John Beck (Michael Brucker), Marlene Tracy (Joan), Mills Watson (Pyle), Robert Emhardt (Sam Hartwig).

4807 Lock Up. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1959). Herbert L. Maris is an attorney based in Philadelphia. He is a man who believes his clients are innocent and will do what it takes to defend them in court. Stories relate Maris's case investigations as he and his legman, Weston, seek the evidence to put the real culprits behind bars.

Cast: Macdonald Carey (Herbert L. Maris), John Doucette (Weston).

4808 The Log of the Black Pearl. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 1/4/75). Following the death of his grandfather (Captain Andrew Sand), stockbroker Christopher Sand, the only living heir, inherits the Black Pearl, a deeply in debt three-mast sailing ship. Rather than selling the ship and leaving his grandfather with a bad reputation, Chris assumes ownership to pay off his creditors. The proposed series was to follow Chris's adventures as captain of the Black Pearl. In the pilot episode, Chris becomes involved with a beautiful girl (Lila) and two killers seeking the whereabouts of a sunken treasure. Other Regulars: Captain "Fitz" Fitzsimmons, the skipper; and Jocko, the first mate.

Cast: Kiel Martin (Chris Sand), Ralph Bellamy ("Fitz" Fitzsimmons), Jack Kruschen (Jocko Roper). Guest Cast: Anne Archer (Lila Bristol), Glenn Corbett (Michael Devlin), John Anderson (Eric Kort), Edward Faulkner (Fenner), Pedro Armendariz, Jr. (Benjamin Velasquez).

4809 Logan's Run. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 1977-1978). In the year A.D. 2319, an atomic holocaust ravages the world. The remaining segment of civilization establishes itself in the City of Domes, a programmed society wherein no one over the age of 30 is permitted to live. At precisely that age, everyone goes willingly into the Carousel for the Ceremony of the Great Sleep, where they are led to believe that their lives will be renewed; in reality, they are exterminated. Those who try to circumvent this tradition are called Runners and become the prey of the Sandmen, whose duty is to pursue and destroy them. Runners are seeking Sanctuary, a supposed haven where all are free to live beyond the age of 30.

Logan 5, a Sandman, begins to question the Carousel. Never having seen a reborn citizen, Logan becomes curious. He follows a male Runner to Quadrant 4. There he meets Jessica 6, a girl runner who helps those seeking Sanctuary. Jessica confirms Logan's doubts and tells him that the Carousel means death; she also convinces him that beyond the city there is a Sanctuary. Before Logan is able to do anything, Francis 7, a Sandman, appears and orders Logan to destroy the runners. Logan's hesitation prompts Francis to kill the male; as he is about to kill Jessica, Logan knocks him unconscious. Now, a traitor, Logan becomes a Runner and joins forces with Jessica in an attempt to find Sanctuary.

Concerned about Logan's escape, the Council of Elders, who run the City of Domes (a.k.a. Dome City), assign Francis the task of returning Logan and Jessica so they can be used as an example and testify that there is no Sanctuary. Francis is then told the Carousel is a myth — but necessary because the city can support only a limited number of people. He is promised a seat on the council when he completes his mission. Stories follow Logan and Jessica's adventures with Rem, the android with humanlike qualities who abandoned his robot-run society, as they search for Sanctuary — before Francis finds and captures them.

Morgan, Jonathan and Martin are the leaders with speaking roles in the City of Domes. The series is based on the feature film of the same title. Theme: "Logan's Run," by Jerrold Immel.

4810 Lois and Clark: The New Adventures of Superman. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1993–1997). When the story opens, Clark Kent is seen driving to Metropolis, a city of 12 million people, seeking a job as a reporter for the Daily Planet, "The world's greatest newspaper" (according to its editor, Perry White). Clark is, in reality, Kal-El, the only known survivor of the planet Krypton. Before Krypton exploded, the infant Kal-El's parents, Jor-El and Lara (David Warner, Eliza Roberts), placed him in an experimental rocket and programmed the ship to land on Earth, a planet Jor-El knew to be inhabited.

On May 17, 1966, the rocket lands in Smallville, Kansas, and the child is found by Jonathan and Martha Kent, a childless farm couple who raise him as Clark Kent. As the child grows, the Kents become aware of the fact their son is no ordinary boy. He demonstrates abilities of amazing strength, keen hearing and amazing eyesight. Clark attended Smallville High School and worked as a reporter on the Smallville Press. He yearned to travel to Metropolis but couldn't figure out how to be Clark Kent and secretly uses his powers to help mankind. The solution comes when Clark ruins his clothes during a story investigation. He tells his mother "that I need a costume." Martha makes several before coming up with the red and blue one (she uses the blankets that were originally wrapped around Clark. The symbol S was a part of those blankets).

In Metropolis, Clark meets with editor Perry White but is not given the job because Perry believes Clark does not have what it takes to be a reporter on his paper. However, when Clark shows initiative by writing a story about plans to demolish an old theater (where Perry once worked as an usher), Clark is hired. He then meets his co-workers: Lois Lane, Jimmy Olsen and Cat Grant.

Clark first uses his powers in costume to save a space shuttle called the Prothesis from an attempt by the evil Lex Luthor to destroy it. Also aboard the shuttle is Lois Lane, who snuck aboard hoping for a great story. What she found was a bomb. Clark comes to her rescue and saves the shuttle. He flies her back to the Daily Planet building. As he flies off, Cat asks Lois, "What does the S on the chest of his costume stand for?" Lois replies "Superman." Hence the name.

Clark resides at the Apollo Hotel at 344 Clinton in Metropolis. Kryptonite, the green fragments from his planet's explosion, is the only substance that can take away Superman's powers and ultimately destroy Clark.

Lois Lane is a reporter for the Daily Planet ("The best damn investigative reporter I've ever seen" says Perry). She attended Metropolis High School (where she was called "Lo Lo") and lives in Apartment 105 at 6304 Chambers Place with her teenage sister, Lucy Lane. Lucy looks out for Lois and says "Lois, I just want you to meet a super guy." Lois is gutsy and can fight and take care of herself; unfortunately, she has a tendency to jump into the pool before looking to see how deep it is. "It's the only way I can do it" she says. "To get the respect of others, I always get involved in my stories." Phyllis Coates (TV's original 1952 Lois Lane), then Beverly Garland played Lois's mother, Ellen Lane; Harve Presnell was Lois's father, Dr. Sam Lane.

Perry White, the former mayor of Metropolis, is the Daily Planet's no-nonsense editor. He is an Elvis Presley fanatic and shouts "Great Shades of Elvis" when something upsets him. Perry is also an ordained minister of the First Church of Blue Suede Deliverance ("I was at Graceland, saw an ad for it on the back of a match cover and the rest is history"). Perry's competition is the Metropolis Star.

Jimmy Olsen, the paper's photographer, also likes to dabble in investigating. Perry calls him "Jimbo" and he calls Clark "C.K."

Catherine Grant, called Cat, is the paper's society editor/gossip columnist (she is also called “Cat Monger”). She attended Metropolis University and lives in a swank apartment at the Metropolis Hilton.

Lex Luthor is worth $20 billion and runs a company called LexCorp (a front for his illegal and sinister activities). He appears to have his hands in everything and claims he can’t be caught because “Evidence separates the criminal from the successful businessman.” Lex also runs LexTel Communications, the city’s television station. Jay Gruska composed the theme.

See also The Adventures of Superboy, The Adventures of Superman, The Adventures of Superpup, Smallville and Superboy.

Cast: Dean Cain (Clark Kent/Superman), Teri Hatcher (Lois Lane), Michael Landis (Jimmy Olsen), Justin Whalen (Jimmy Olsen; later), Tracy Scoggins (Cat Grant), Lane Smith (Perry White), Elizabeth Bonondes (Lucy Lane), Roxana Zal (Lucy Lane; later), John Shea (Lex Luthor), Eddie Jones (Jonathan Kent), K Callan (Martha Kent).

4811 Lola. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/1/90). When Lola Baltic, a successful attorney, becomes dissatisfied with the fast-paced life of New York City, she and her family (her husband, Peter, son Donald, and mother Phoebe) move to Connecticut to begin new lives. The unsold series was to follow Lola as she struggles to divide her time between a family, a home and a job — and still find the life of peace and quiet she is seeking. In the pilot episode, Lola makes the big move and finds her life turned upside down when she discovers that being a housewife is not as easy as she thought. Other Regulars: their neighbors, Slim Jim, his wife Annie and their daughter Francesca.

Cast: Lesley Ann Warren (Lola Baltic), James Read (Peter Baltic), Alexis Smith (Phoebe), Malachi Pearson (Donald Baltic), Don Lake (Slim Jim Alberino), Linda Hart (Annie Alberino), Jessica Puscas (Francesca Alberino).

4812 Lollipop Louie. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1/10/63). A proposed series about Louie Mastraeani, a happy-go-lucky dreamer who loves lollipops and earns his living as a fisherman in California. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Premiere, Louie encounters misadventure when he decides to travel to New York and visit a friend.

Cast: Aldo Ray (Louie Mastraeani), Barbara Turner (Emma), Paul Comi (Tony), Ralph Manza (Uncle Peter).

4813 London and Davis in New York. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 9/9/84). Photographer Claudia London and journalist John Greyson Davis are lovers who are also a world-famous photojournalist team. Although they are from opposite sides of the track (Claudia is from a wealthy family; John is from a poor one) they find an attraction to each other and cover the globe seeking stories and solving crimes. In the pilot episode, London and Davis comb the Big Apple seeking “The Bachelor Killer.” Other Regulars: Paul Fisk, Claudia’s chef; Frances Meyers, John’s housekeeper; and Brandon Westphal, a rival photographer.

Cast: Season Hubley (Claudia London), Richard Crenna (John Davis), Roddy McDowall (Paul Fisk), Vernee Watson (Frances Meyers), James Carroll Jordan (Brandon Westphal). Guest Cast: Gerald S. O’Loughlin (Sam Gains), Karen Austin (Adrienne Crowe), Macon McCalman (Tony Tannen), James Ingersol (Dan Carr), Jay Githens (Tom Fucello), Dan Dillon (Peter). Theme: “The Love Theme from London and Davis” by Chuck Mangione.

4814 The London Palladium. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1966). Entertainment acts from the London Palladium Music Hall in England (where the series is produced by Bill Ward). Five episodes were produced; each with a guest host.

Hosts: Lorne Greene (May 26, 1966), Kate Smith (June 3, 1966), Jonathan Winters (June 30, 1966), Hugh O’Brian (July 15, 1966), Roger Moore (August 12, 1966). Regulars: The Mike Sammes Singers, The Paddy Stone Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

4815 The Lone Gunmen. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2001). John Byers, Melvin Frohike and Richard Langly are the Lone Gunmen, publishers of The Lone Gunman, a Tacoma Park, Maryland-based newsletter that attempts to expose conspiracies, injustices and criminal activities on all levels of society (the paper is singular in name because it is the only such paper in America). They are backed financially by Jimmy Bond and allies with Yves Adele Harlow, a mysterious woman who seeks to profit from any misfortune she can find (most often cases involving the Lone Gunmen as they set out to right wrongs).

John, Melvin and Richard are, for the most part, geeks or computer nerds who use whatever means they can to bring criminals to justice. Most people believe The Lone Gunman, which was started in 1989, is about hunting and fishing. “It’s not,” says Melvin; “it’s called The Lone Gunman because we tell the stories others refuse.”

Melvin was born in Michigan and feels he’s the one “who risks his butt doing all the outside work while Langly is behind the scenes” (at his computer in their rundown green, white and rusty van). Prior to becoming one of the Gunmen, Melvin ran the Frohike Electronics Company (his sideline was selling illegal cable boxes). He is short, unshaven, loves women, but is not a great talker. He is also sarcastic (but sensitive) and is the photographic and surveillance expert of the group.

John, born in Idaho, has the middle name of Fitzgerald (he was named after President John F. Kennedy). John previously worked for the FCC (Federal Communications Commission) helping the government capture hackers. He quit when he discovered the government was conducting controlled experiments on civilians and concealing the truth about these activities from the public. He is always neatly dressed (suit and tie) and often uses the government's Freedom of Information Office for research. He is a topnotch hacker and the group's self-proclaimed leader.

Richard, born in Virginia and raised on a farm, has the nickname "Ringo." He loves hard rock music (he is always seen wearing a hard rock T-shirt) and feels he has the computer skills "to become a dot com gazillionaire." Richard also sold illegal cable boxes but quit when he became entangled in a conspiracy to keep the truth from the American public. He has long hair, is paranoid and serves as the communications expert on the team.

Jimmy is a former pro football player whose life savings is providing financial backing for the floundering newsletter. Jimmy helps "because you guys fight for causes I wanna help." In addition to liking the Lone Gunmen's morality, Jimmy wants to become one. He's described as "a dumb lunk with a big heart whose special skill is being able to count to 20 in Mexican."

Yves (pronounced Eve) doesn't work for anyone: "I only take their money." She is an expert computer hacker and speaks with a British accent. Her past is unknown, but she is ruthless and will kill if she has to. She wears Ferrari red lipstick and always signs her name in an anagram for Lee Harvey Oswald. While each of the Lone Gunmen likes her, they fear her when she appears at their doorstep (they hope she is not there to kill them). Yves profits off everything she does — whether she works with the Lone Gunmen or against them.

The program is a spin-off from The X-Files wherein the Gunmen did little more than give information to agents Mulder and Scully.

Cast: Bruce Harwood (John Byers), Tom Briadwood (Melvin Frohike), Dean Haylund (Richard Langly), Zuleikha Robinson (Yves Adele Harlow).

4816 The Lone Ranger. (Series; Western; ABC; 1949–1957). "I wear a mask in the cause of justice," says the Lone Ranger, a mysterious, early west lawman "who cut a trail of law and order across seven states, forcing the powers of darkness into the blinding light of justice." It was, however, a series of tragic events that transformed Texas Ranger John Reid into the Lone Ranger and teamed him with Tonto, the Potawatomi Indian who saved his life.

It began with an assignment to capture Butch Cavendish, the head of the notorious Hole in the Wall Gang. Butch, however, proved too clever for the Rangers to capture. At Bryant's Gap, a canyon about 50 yards wide and bound by cliffs, a team of six Texas Rangers are ambushed by the Cavendish gang and left for dead. Later that day Tonto, who had been hunting for food, finds a lone survivor of the attack — John Reid. Tonto brings Reid to the shelter of a small cave and begins nursing him back to health.

As Reid recovers, he recalls Tonto as the Indian he befriended as a child. Years ago, when Tonto was a child, his village was raided by renegade Indians. His parents were killed and Tonto was left for dead. A young John Reid found Tonto and helped him recover from his wounds. It was at this time that Tonto called Reid "Kemo Sabe" (translated as both "Faithful Friend" and "Trusted Scout").

There is a small patch of grassland that lies amid the rocks broken by countless years of wind and storm. On that land are six graves, each marked by a crudely constructed cross to represent the Texas Rangers who were killed — Captain Dan Reid (John's brother), Jim Bates, Jack Stacey, Joe Brent and Ben Cooper. The sixth cross bears the name of John Reid — put there by Tonto to convince Cavendish that all the Rangers had been killed; to conceal the fact that one Texas Ranger had lived to avenge the others — the Lone Ranger.

To conceal his true identity, Reid fashions a mask from the black cloth of his brother's vest. At first, Reid and Tonto posed as outlaws to enable them to apprehend the Cavendish gang — some of which were hanged, others imprisoned. Once their goal was accomplished, they became a force for good — "Wherever you find a wrong to be righted, that's where you'll find the Lone Ranger" (Reid says also that "keeping my identity a secret makes the pursuit of outlaws easier").

The Lone Ranger's trademark is the silver bullet — a precious metal that reminds him to shoot sparingly and to remember the high cost of human life. The silver comes from a mine Reid inherited. Jim Blaine is the old miner who works the Ranger's silver mine. George Wilson is the Ranger's secret banker in Border City who exchanges the silver for money.

Later episodes feature Dan Reid, John's nephew, as an assistant. The Lone Ranger rides a white horse named Silver (whom he calls "Big Fella"). Scout is Tonto's horse; Victor is Dan's horse. Father Paul is Reid's friend, the padre at the San Brado Mission.

As the show's theme, "The William Tell Overture" by Rossini plays, an announcer's voice is heard: "A fiery horse with the speed of light, a cloud of dust and a hearty Hi-yo Silver! The Lone Ranger! With his faithful Indian companion, Tonto, the daring and resourceful masked rider of the plains led the fight for law and order in the early West. Return with us now to those thrilling days of yesteryear; the Lone Ranger rides again!"

The program's closing is just as famous. While there were many variations, a typical sequence would begin with a man saying "You know those two men saved my life and I didn't even get the Masked Man's name." A sheriff would respond, "A name's not important. It's what a man does that counts. No man has done more for the west than The Lone Ranger." As the Ranger and Tonto ride into the sunset, "Hiyo Silver" is heard. The series is based on the radio program created by George W. Trendle.

Cast: Clayton Moore (John Reid/Lone Ranger), John Hart (John Reid/Lone Ranger), Jay Silverheels (Tonto), Chuck Courtney (Dan Reid), David Leonard (Father Paul), Ralph Littlefield (Jim Blaine), Tris Coffin (Dan Reid; flashbacks), Glenn Strange (Butch Cavendish), Lyle Talbot (George Wilson), Ben Welton (Various Outlaw Roles). Announcer: Fred Foy. Theme Music: "The William Tell Overture" by Rossini.

4817 The Lone Ranger. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1966–1969). An animated version of the live action ABC series of the same title (which see for complete background information). The animated version continues to depict the adventures of the Lone Ranger, the mysterious masked rider of the plains, and his Indian companion, Tonto, as they risk their lives to battle injustice.

Voice Cast: Michael Rye (The Lone Ranger), Shepard Menkin (Tonto), Marvin Miller (Additional Voices).

4818 The Lone Ranger. (Pilot; Western; WB; 2/26/03). An unsuccessful attempt to revise the 1949 TV series of the same title. Several changes were made, however. Here, the future Lone Ranger is named Luke Hartman (not John Reid). Luke is from Dallas but attending the Harvard School of Law in Boston while his brother Harmon (not Dan) is a peace officer with the Texas Rangers. After graduating, Luke returns to Texas and joins the Rangers. On an assignment to capture a gang called the Regulators (not the Butch Cavendish Hole in the Wall Gang), the 13 Rangers are attacked by the outlaws and left for dead (it was six Rangers in the series). Later that day, Tonto, an Apache Indian, passing through the area, finds a lone survivor — Luke. Tonto takes the injured Luke to his village, where he is nursed back to health (in the series Tonto helped John recover in a cave). To conceal the identity of Luke, Tonto digs 13 graves to conceal the fact that one Ranger lived to avenge the others — the Lone Ranger. The remainder of the pilot follows Luke's efforts to bring the outlaw gang to justice.

Tonto, a Potawatomi Indian in the series, joins Luke to avenge the death of his parents, who were killed by renegade Indians when he was a child. Together they prove to be a powerful symbol for justice in the Old West. Other Regulars: Alope, Tonto's sister; and Grace Hartman, Luke's sister, the editor of the Dallas Enterprise.

Cast: Chad Michael Murray (Luke Hartman/Lone Ranger), Nathaniel Arcand (Tonto), Fay Masterson (Grace Hartman), Anita Brown (Alope). Guest Cast: Sebastian Spence (Harmon Hartman), Dylan Walsh (Kansas City Haas), Lauren German (Emily Landry), Jeffrey Nordling (James Landry), Paul Schulze (Sheriff Landry), Antoinette Broderick (Julia), Cassie Pappas (Amy), Gil Birmingham (One Horn).

4819 Lone Star. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 7/31/83). Hoping to follow in the footsteps of their uncle, Luther, a retired Texas Ranger who tried to make a difference, two brothers (Ben and George), join the force. They are paired as partners and the unsold series was to follow their lighthearted exploits as they battle crime in the Lone Star state. In the pilot episode, Ben and George lock horns with Jake Farrell, a powerful oil baron they suspect of kidnapping an old oil prospector (who has discovered oil that Jake wants). Other Regulars: Ranger Captain Sam Mellon and Deputy Cissy Wells.

Cast: Lewis Smith (Ben McCollum), Alan Autry (George McCollum), John McIntire (Luther McCollum), Terri Garber (Cissy Wells), Sandy McPeak (Sam Mellon). Guest Cast: Chuck Connors (Jake Farrell), Nancy Stafford (Amanda Talbot), Amanda Wyss (Maggie Holloway), Bill Erwin (Ezra Holloway), Claude Earl Jones (Sheriff Pritchett), Frank Schuller (Dandy Jim Candy).

4820 The Lone Wolf. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954). Michael Lanyard, is a private detective who works alone, has amazing deductive abilities and has earned the nickname "The Lone Wolf." Michael is also a man who does not want to remain in one place for too long a time; he needs to be where he feels he is needed. Stories follow Michael as he crusades against the global forces of tyranny and injustice. The series, based on the stories by Louis Joseph Vance, is also known as Streets of Danger.

Cast: Louis Hayward (Michael Lanyard).

4821 The Lonely Wizard. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 11/15/57). The pilot episode for an untitled anthology series from Revue Productions. "The Lonely Wizard" tells the story of Charles Steinmetz, a brilliant electronics engineer who preferred to work in isolation. Broadcast as a segment of Schlitz Playhouse of Stars.

4822 The Loner. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 3/5/59). The pilot film for Johnny Ringo about a gun-fighter seeking to go straight and find a place to settle down. In the pilot episode, Johnny begins his new life as the sheriff of an Arizona town and attempts to help a derelict who is held in contempt by most of the town. Broadcast as a segment of Zane Grey Theater and also known as "Man Alone." Other Regulars: Cason Thomas, Johnny's friend; and Laura Thomas, Cason's daughter.

Cast: Don Durant (Johnny Ringo), Thomas Mitchell (Cason Thomas), Marilyn Erskine (Laura Thomas). Guest Cast: Scott Forbes (Evans), Bill Catching, Duane Grey, William Vaughn, Maurice Young. Note: In the series, Terence DeMarney played Cason and Karen Sharpe was Laura.

4823 The Loner. (Series; Western; CBS; 1965–1966). The post–Civil War west is the setting. William Colton was one of many men who fought in the bloody battle. As a union officer he did what it took to win. When the surrender at Appomattox ended the war, William took the time to reflect on what happened and he became disillusioned. He resigned his commission and headed west to search for the meaning of life. Stories follow William's journey as he encounters bitter hatreds in a country still torn apart by war.

A narrator opens the show: "In the aftermath of the blood-letting called the Civil War, thousands of ruthless, restless, searching men traveled west. Such a man was William Colton. Like the others he carried a blanket roll, a proficient gun and a dedication to a new chapter in American history — the opening of the West."

Cast: Lloyd Bridges (William Colton).

4824 The Loner. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/18/88). Michael Shane is a man caught between two worlds, neither of which satisfies him. He was raised by his mother, Kate, in an affluent lifestyle, but he rejected it for one he felt would be more meaningful — that of an L.A.P.D. officer. He is partners with a beautiful police woman (Nicole Carver), is seeing a glamorous and wealthy art dealer (Jessica) and displays quiet heroism on the job. But, despite all this, he feels disconnected from the world in which he grew up and not comfortable in the world in which he is currently living. The life of a loner, a man who finds true peace only when he is by himself, is detailed as he uses unorthodox methods to apprehend criminals. In the pilot episode, Shane and Carver attempt to break up a diamond theft ring that uses street kids to pull jobs. Other Regulars: Abner, his friend, an ex-con who writes poetry.

Cast: John Terry (Michael Shane), Vanessa Bell (Nicole Carver), Constance Towers (Kate Shane), Clare Kirkconnell (Jessica Grenville), Larry Hankin (Abner Gibson). Guest Cast: Kristy Swanson (Sherry), Michael Medeiros (Kyle Hadley), Claude Brooks (Cole), William Russ (Jake), Rick Logan (Manny), Monty Baine (Boomer), Julia Calderone (Mrs. Sanchez), David Perna (Gleason).

4825 Lonesome Dove: The Outlaw Years. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1995). A spin-off that is actually a continuation of Lonesome Dove: The Series (see entry). The setting is Curtis Wells, Wyoming. Sadness has befallen the town: Hannah, the wife of Newt Call has died and Newt, unable to face life without her, leaves town to begin a new life as a bounty hunter (but also drinking and womanizing to suppress the memories of his beloved Hannah). After two years Newt returns to Curtis Wells, hoping to settle down. Stories follow Newt as he tries to do just that in a town that is no longer the peaceful place he once knew.

Austin, Hannah's brother, is the town's alcoholic sheriff; Josiah, Hannah's father, is now the town's mayor; Clayton Mosby runs the town with an iron fist; the Lonesome Dove Hotel is now run by Amanda Carpenter; and Mattie Shaw, another newcomer to town, is the gunsmith. Ephriam Cleese is the town doctor; Florie and Unbob Finch are other featured townspeople.

Cast: Scott Bairstow (Newt Call), Tracy Scoggins (Amanda Carpenter), Paul Johansson (Austin Peale), Eric McCormack (Clay Mosby), Kelly Rowan (Mattie Shaw), Frank C. Turner (Unbob Finch), Paul Le Mat (Josiah Peale), Bruce McFee (Deputy Ike), Sam Khouth (Dr. Ephriam Cleese).

4826 Lonesome Dove: The Series. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1994). A spin-off from the 1989 miniseries Lonesome Dove (which told the story of Augustus McCrae [Robert Duvall] and Woodrow Call [Tommy Lee Jones], former Texas Rangers who leave the Texas town of Lonesome Dove to raise cattle in Montana). The series, set in the small town of Curtis Wells, Wyoming, relates events in the lives of its citizens, in particular: Newlyweds Newt Call and Hannah Peale (Newt is the son of Woodrow from the miniseries); Clay Mosby, the greedy town owner who is obsessed with Hannah (who resembles his late wife, Mary); Ida Grayson, the owner of the Lonesome Dove Hotel; Austin Peale, Hannah's father, the newspaper editor; and the legendary Buffalo Bill Cody. The series was spun off into Lonesome Dove: The Outlaw Years (see entry).

Cast: Scott Bairstow (Newt Call), Christanne Hirt (Hannah Peale Call), Eric McCormack (Francis Clay Mosby), Paul Le Mat (Josiah Peale), Paul Johansson (Austin Peale), Diahann Carroll (Ida Grayson), Sam Khouth (Dr. Cleese), Dennis Weaver (Buffalo Bill Cody).

4827 The Long Days of Summer. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/23/80). A nostalgic pilot that recreates the mood of America during the turbulent years just prior to World War II as seen through the eyes of Daniel Cooper, a 13-year-old Jewish boy growing up in Bridgeport, Connecticut. Other Regulars: Ed and Millie, his parents; Sarah and Frances, his sisters

(the elder Frances is married to Duane Haley); Freddy, Daniel's friend; and Fred Landauer, Freddy's father.

4829 Long John Silver. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1956). The shortened title for The Adventures of Long John Silver. See this title for information.

4830 Long Time Gone. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/23/86). When Nick Sandusky's ex-wife, Marilyn, accepts a job that requires frequent traveling abroad, she gives him the responsibility of raising their son, Mitchell. Nick is a screw-up private detective who has a difficult time coping with life, and the unsold series was to relate a father and son's adventures as they work as a team to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Nick tries to find a woman's missing husband — a case he doesn't like, but needs the money to pay off a $7,000 gambling debt to a mobster.

Cast: Paul LeMat (Nick Sandusky), Wil Wheaton (Mitchell Sandusky), Ann Dusenberry (Marilyn Sandusky). Guest Cast: Barbara Stock (Georgia Diablo), Ray Girardin (Michael Diablo), Richard C. Sarafian (Omar), Ann Pennington (Catherine), Deborah Wakeham (Peggy), Eddie Zammit (Carl), Michael Laskin (Ray). Theme Vocal: "This Time" by Gail Lopata.

4831 The Long Hot Summer. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1965–1966). Ben Quick is a young man who returns to his hometown of Frenchman's Bend, Mississippi, after a long absence, to find that his father has died, his ranch has been abandoned and the town is under the control of Will Varner, a powerful banker. Ben is a man of principal and convictions and rather than abandon what was once a prosperous farm, he decides to remain and rebuild it. As Ben begins, he meets and befriends Clara Varner, Will's beautiful, carefree daughter — a situation that does not sit well with Will, who believes Ben is just a drifter and not worthy of Clara. With only one hope of acquiring the money he needs, Ben approaches Will for a loan. Although Will dislikes Ben, he grants him the loan — provided he leaves Clara alone. Ben agrees. Complications set in when Clara discovers what her father has done and sets her goal to win Ben's love. Serial-like stories depict the conflicts and tensions that exist between Ben and Will as Ben struggles to prove himself worthy of Clara. Eula and Jody are Will's other children; Minnie is Will's romantic interest, owner of the town hotel. Based on the feature film.

Cast: Edmond O'Brien (Will Varner), Dan O'Herlihy (Will Varner; later), Roy Thinnes (Ben Quick), Nancy Malone (Clara Varner), Lana Wood (Eula Varner), Paul Geary (Jody Varner), Ruth Roman (Minnie Littlejohn), Warren Kennerling (Lucas Taney), Paul Bryar (Harve Anders), Josie Lloyd (Agnes), Michael Zaslow (Shad Taney), William Mims (Sam Ruddabow), Brian Cutler (Mitch Taney), Jimmy Hayes (Dr. Talicott), Anne Helm (Amy), Tisha Sterling (Susan), Jason Wingreen (Dr. Clark), Phil Chambers (Atkinson), Zalman King (John Wesley Johnson), Wayne Rogers (Curley), Harold Gould (Chamberlain). Theme: "The Long Hot Summer" by Alex North, Sammy Cahn.

4832 Longarm. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 3/6/88). Action and adventure is combined with light comedy to tell the story of Curtis Long, a tough deputy U.S. marshal who begins a quest to apprehend the bad guys in New Mexico during the 1870s. The pilot episode relates his mishaps with a pretty woman (Miss Barnett) and a ruthless gang of train robbers led by Codie Branch.

4833 Longstreet. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1971–1972). Michael Longstreet is an insurance investigator for The Great Pacific Casualty Insurance Company in New Orleans, Louisiana. He is a skilled investigator and known for his expertise in solving crimes. One night, after returning home from an engagement, Michael and his wife, Ingrid, find a gift-wrapped bottle of champagne in the courtyard. Believing it to be from Michael's employer, Duke Paige, Ingrid opens it. The bottle explodes, killing Ingrid and blinding Michael. Now bitter and determined to find Ingrid's killers, Michael enrolls in a clinic for the blind. Here he is taught to use his other senses to their best advantage.

Michael acquires a seeing eye dog, Pax (a white German Shepherd), a Braille teacher (Nikki Bell), a self-defense instructor (Li Tsung) and a job — his former position with Great Pacific. Michael sets out to do what he planned — find Ingrid's killers (members of a jewel gang who decided to eliminate Michael before their next caper). Stories relate Michael's efforts to apprehend the people who attempt to defraud his insurance company.

Michael lives at 835 Charters Street and is helped by his housekeeper, Mrs. Kingston.

Cast: James Franciscus (Michael Longstreet), Peter Mark Richman (Duke Paige), Marlyn Mason (Nikki Bell), Bruce Lee (Li Tsung), Ann Doran (Mrs. Kingston), Judy Jones (Ingrid Longstreet; flashbacks).

4834 Look at Us. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1981). Actor Richard Crenna hosts a series that reports on the issues of the 1980s and the lifestyles and achievements of people in the news.

4835 Look Ma, I'm Acting. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1949). The local New York title for Say It with Acting. See this title for information.

4836 Look Out World. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/27/77). Darcy and Gus are a couple who own a car wash in Santa Monica, California. Benny, Delfi, Beau and Cannonball are their employees, four young men with their heads in the clouds. The unsold series, based on the feature film, Car Wash, was to relate the hectic goings-on at a busy car wash.

Cast: Maureen Arthur (Darcy), Arnold Soboloff (Gus), Justin Lord (Benny), Bart Braverman (Delfi), Steve Doubet (Beau), Michael Huddleston (Cannonball). Guest Cast: Damon Raskin (Byron), Susan Bay (Byron's mother).

4837 Look Photo Quiz. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1953). A question appears on the screen followed by a series of visual clues. A phone call is placed to a home viewer (pre-selected for the pilot). If the viewer can provide the correct answer, he wins $10. The program is an adaptation of the photo quiz column in Look magazine. The pilot was actually a sales-pitch for its sponsor (Shopwell Supermarkets) who provided the prize money for two staged and pre-selected viewers.

Host: Hugh James. Announcer: Joe Smith. Pitchman: Mike Fitzsimmons.

4838 Look What They've Done to My Song! (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 7/80). A proposed weekly series that spoofs popular melodies via sketches based on the songs.

Host: Norman Fell. Cast: Damita Jo Freeman, Gale Garnett, Howard Iskowitz, Marsha Myers, Joe Ristivo, Karen Rushmore, Ty Witney, Sherry Worth.

4839 Look Who's Here. (Live Test Program; Interview; DuMont; 4/28/46). The host talks about a personality prior to his or her entrance. When an off-stage bell sounds, that person walks on stage, the host exclaims "Look Who's Here" and proceeds to interview him. Guests on the test show: Dr. Frank E. Adair (President of the American Cancer Society), Mary Case (a puppeteer), Berni Gould (a comedian), Ernest Jones (a one-legged golf pro) and Norman Squires (a USO Camp Show singer).

Host: Geraldine Frazier.

4840 Looking Through Gimple's Window. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 11/24/44). A variety format (that featured excerpts from Gilbert and Sullivan by singers from the Savoy Opera Guild) coupled with a long sales pitch by the sponsor (Gimble Brothers Department Store). The sales pitch aspect dealt with merchandise sold by Gimple's (here featured was a Botany 500 suit). It was presented like a sketch with one actor (Dick Bradley) meeting a fellow thespian (Tom Grace). Tom admires the suit Dick is wearing and Dick takes him to Gimple's. There they meet a Gimple's buyer (Al Cook), Mike Mutilus (a Gimple's tailor) and Charles Simon (a chemist) — all of whom tell Tom what a great suit the Botany 500 is. Natalie Lauds, Vivian and Lewis Denison and Charles Kingsley performed the songs.

4841 Lookwell. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/28/91). In the 1970s, Ty Lookwell had a TV series called Bannigan (wherein he played a tough homicide detective). The show was so realistic that the L.A.P.D. presented him with an honorary badge in 1972. When the series folded, Ty opened Ty Lookwell's Acting Workshop, but the role of a TV cop never left him: he uses the honorary badge as a license to solve crimes. The unsold series was to relate Ty's mishaps as he uses his students (Alberti, Suzanne, Chase, Miss Royster, Ben, Jason and Alex) to help him play real life detective. Other Regulars: Detective Kennerly, the L.A.P.D. cop he helps (or more often helps him out of scrapes) and Ty's housekeeper, June.

Cast: Adam West (Ty Lookwell), Ron Frazier (Detective Kennerly), Ann Weldon (June), Bart Braverman (Alberti), Molly Cleator (Suzanne), Jeff Austin (Chase), Deborah Richter (Miss Royster), Chris Barnes (Ben), Todd Field (Jason), Brian Bradley (Alex).

4842 Loonatics Unleashed. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2005–). The series is set in the year 2772. Here likenesses of famous Warner Bros. cartoon characters have become super heroes: Danger Duck (based on Daffy Duck), Ace Bunny (Bugs Bunny), Lexi Bunny (Lola Bunny), Slam Tasmanian Devil (Taz Tasmanian Devil), Rev Runner (Road Runner) and Tech E. Coyote (Wile E. Coyote). The characters are not as looney as their ancestors (nor are they as well drawn or voiced) and stories follow their efforts to preserve peace throughout the universe. Bootsie Collins sings the theme, "Loonatics Unleashed."

Voice Cast: Jason Marsden (Danger Duck), Charlie Schlatter (Ace Bunny), Jessica DiCicco (Lexi Bunny), Kevin Michael Richardson (Slam), Kevin Michael Richardson (Tech E. Coyote).

4843 The Loop. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2006–2007). Sam Sullivan is 23 years old. He lives in Chicago and shares an apartment with his brother, Sully, and two beautiful girls, Piper and Lizzy. Sam works as an executive for Trans Alliance Airways, a struggling airline on the verge of folding, whose boss (Russ) constantly seeks revolutionary ideas from his employees in an effort to save it. Russ is assisted by Meryl St. James, the second in command. She is a gorgeous older woman and has the hots for Sam (although he does not have the same feelings for her). In her youth, Meryl was a college professor; she teaches a course in aviation on Wednesday's. Working for Sam is Darcy, a girl who is also 23 years old but resents her position as Sam's secretary (she is a graduate of MIT and is a "whiz" at the computer; she has little knowledge of a keyboard but claims she is an expert—"MIT taught me how to e-mail"). Sam is later made head of "a youth oriented, low cost" division of Trans Alliance.

At home Sam's life is not much better. His brother, Sully, is not only a slacker, but idiotic. He chases women, drinks beer, plays practical jokes and enjoys taking naps in the hall closet. He feels he is living the good life through his employment as a counter "boy" at Long John Silver's.

Piper is the girl on whom Sam has a secret crush (but he is too shy to admit it to her). She is a medical student at college and is totally unaware of Sam's feelings toward her. Her passion is singing Karaoke. Lizzy works as a bartender and feels everything always goes her way because "I'm so smoking hot." Karen is the Trans Alliance executive in second season episodes.

Stories follow events in Sam's life as he struggles to cope with life at work (as the airline's youngest executive) and at home where he feels he is the only one with a real job.

Cast: Bret Harrison (Sam Sullivan), Amanda Loncar (Piper), Sarah Mason (Lizzy), Eric Christian (Sully Sullivan), Mimi Rogers (Meryl St. James), Philip Baker Hall (Russ MacDonald), Joy Osmanski (Darcy), Diora Baird (Karen).

4844 The Lorenzo and Henrietta Music Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1976). Music, interviews, songs and comedy sketches with actor-producer-writer Lorenzo Music and his wife Henrietta as the stars. Lorenzo Music and Lewis Arquette are the producers.

Hosts: Lorenzo Music, Henrietta Music. Regulars: Samantha Harper, Dave Willock, Bob Gibson, Erick Darling, Sandy Helberg, Murphy Dunne. Announcer: Dave Willock. Orchestra: Jack Eskew.

4845 The Loretta Young Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1954–1961). A series of quality dramatic productions. Attired in a lovely evening gown actress Loretta Young appears to introduce the evening's story (in which she is often the star). At the conclusion of the episode she reappears and quotes, in accord with the presentation, a proverb from the Bible (these opening and closing segments are often cut from the syndicated prints).

Hostess: Loretta Young. Regular Performers: Beverly Washburn, John Newland.

Substitute Hostess (1955): Dinah Shore, Merle Oberon, Barbara Stanwyck. Guest Performers Include: Patricia Crowley, Regis Toomey, Wally Cox, Jackie Coogan, Craig Stevens, Chick Chandler, Stephen McNally, Hugh Beaumont, Ricardo Montalban, Frank Lovejoy, Alan Hale, Jr., Barbara Hale, Keith Andes, Keefe Brasselle, Eddie Albert, Susan Seaforth, Larry Blyden, Ralph Meeker, Merry Anders, Jean Pierre Aumont, Mercedes McCambridge, Rosalind Russell, Phyllis Thaxter, Candy Moore, Chuck Connors, Marjorie Lord, Craig Stevens, Elizabeth Montgomery, Gene Barry, Amanda Randolph, Mildred Natwick.

4846 Lorne Greene's Last of the Wild. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1974). Wildlife films depicting animals' struggle for survival as man encroaches on their domain are hosted and narrated by actor Lorne Greene.

4847 Lorne Greene's New Wilderness. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1982). Lorne Greene hosts and narrates a series wherein man's efforts to save endangered animal species are depicted.

4848 Los Luchadores (The Wrestlers). (Series; Adventure; Fox; 2001). Lobo Fuerte is a masked wrestler who entered the ring 15 years ago and quickly became a world champion. Other than being of Spanish descent, his background is a mystery and no one knows where he came from. He has taken up residence in Union City and devotes his life to battling injustice. He fights in the wrestling ring for entertainment "and evil outside of the ring so the people of Union City can sleep at night." Turbine and Maria Valentine are fellow wrestlers who assist Lobo in and out of the ring.

Lobo (and Maria and Turbine) never remove their masks (“A luchadore’s mask is like a reflection of his soul”). Cheating is unthinkable to Lobo, even if it costs him a victory in the ring. He has never lost a fair fight. Lobo is called “the unbeatable champion of the ring” and wrestles for the Lucha Librae Federation at the Union City Sports Arena. Lobo has his headquarters (and appears to live) on the top floor of Lobo Towers, a building that also houses the latest in crime fighting and crime detecting equipment. A man known only as Laurant commands the equipment.

Laurant is a former wrestler who trained Lobo, Maria and Turbine to use their abilities to battle evil. “The Lobo Destroyo” is the move that Lobo’s opponents fear the most. Lobo drives a car called the Lobo Ride.

Turbine is a young, energetic wrestler with a passion for fast cars and motorcycles. He rides a super-powered motorcycle and is called “Speed Boy” by Maria (villains call him “that speed freak”). He and Lobo met in the ring and became quick friends. Turbine is a mechanical genius and designed many of the gadgets he and Lobo use in their high speed chases.

Maria is an up and coming enmascarada (masked wrestler). She likes speed, action, excitement and defeating the dark forces of evil. In the ring Maria is called “The Battling Beauty” and “The Girl with a Twirl”; Turbine calls her “The Blonde Brainiac.” Maria takes skydiving lessons and likes white orchids. She drinks herbal tea to relax and checks her fingernails after a fight with baddies to make sure she didn’t chip her fingernail polish. Maria was profiled as “The Young Luchadora” by a magazine called Union City Sports.

Cast: Maximo Morrone (Lobo Fuerte), Levi James (Turbine), Sarah Carter (Maria Valentine), Arthur Burghardt (Laurant).

4849 Lost. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 2004–). Oceanic Air Flight 815 is en-route from Australia to Los Angeles when it encounters unexpected turbulence. The plane is literally ripped in half and both halves crash land on an unknown island presumably in the South Pacific. While there are casualties, 48 passengers survive from the front half of the plane (the fate of the rear half passengers is not known during first season episodes; second season episodes reveal that the survivors of the rear plane section had made the other side of the island their home).

When all attempts at rescue fail and the survivors first make the beach their home, then a cave when the unknown mysteries of the island threaten their lives. Though there is discontent among the survivors, they must now work together to survive while they seek a way off the island.

The main survivors are Jack Shephard, a doctor; John Locke, a man who appears to be a survivalist—but on the mainland he was a cripple (something on the island has given him the ability to walk and function as he once dreamed). Claire, a pregnant Australian woman who gives birth to a son (Aaron); Charlie, a low life on the mainland who is now a changed man—devoted to helping the others, but especially Claire and her baby; Kate, a woman of mystery (she was arrested in Australia and was being taken back to the U.S.); Sun and Jin, a secretive Korean couple; Hurley, the mainland lottery winner who is eager to help wherever he can and usually keeps the peace between feuding passengers; and Michael and his son Walt (and Walt’s dog, Vincent). Also featured are Mr. Eko, a mysterious resident of the island; and Ana-Lucia, a mysterious woman whom Jack met at the Sydney airport and survived the crash of the plane’s rear section.

Cast: Matthew Fox (Dr. Jack Shephard), Evangeline Lilly (Kate Austen), Emilie de Raven (Claire Littleton), Naveen Andrews (Sayid Jarrab), Jorge Garcia (Hugo “Hurley” Reyes), Josh Holloway (James “Sawyer” Ford), Daniel Dae Kim (Jin Kwon), Yun-jin Kim (Sun Kwon), Dominic Monaghan (Charlie Pace), Terry O’Quinn (John Locke), Harold Perrineau (Michael Dawson), Maggie Grace (Shannon Rutherford), Adewale Akinnuoye-Agbaje (Mr. Eko), Malcolm David Kelley (Walt Lloyd), Ian Somerhalder (Boone Carlyle), Michele Rodriguez (Ana-Lucia Cortez), Cynthia Watros (Libby), Michael Emerson (Ben Linus), Dustin Watchman (Scott Jackson), Henry Ian Cusick (Desmond David Hume), Elizabeth Mitchell (Dr. Juliet Burke), Kiele Sanchez (Nikki), Mira Furlan (Danielle Rousseau), Fredric Lehne (Edward Mars), John Terry (Dr. Christian Shepard), Christian Bowman (Steve Jenkins), Kimberley Joseph (Cindy), L. Scott Caldwell (Rose), M.C. Gainey (Mr. Friendly), Rodrigo Santoro (Paulo), Fisher Stevens (Voice of Minkowski).

4850 Lost and Found. (Series; Reality; FX; 1995). A reality series with a heartwarming premise: reunions. The program reunites people with lost loves, childhood friends, missing pets and estranged family members. Laura Armstrong and Jonathan Barndeis are the producers.

4851 Lost at Home. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2003). Michael Davis works in an ad agency that is 40 miles from his home. He is married to Rachel and is the father of Will, Sarah and Josh. Michael is addicted to work and Rachel would like him to devote less time to work and more time to his family. Michael’s devotion to work has cost him a lot. He has missed his kids growing up and feels he doesn’t know them anymore. He has succeeded in making a success of himself in the work place, now he feels he needs to succeed as a family man and not become “lost” when he is at home. Stories follow Michael’s efforts to get to know his family again—“because I don’t know anything.”

Rachel was married at 19 and had her first child (now 15-year-old Will) when she was 20 years old. Other Regulars: Jordan King, Michael's boss (who has been married seven times).

Cast: Mitch Rouse (Michael Davis), Connie Britton (Rachel Davis), Gregory Hines (Jordan King), Stark Sands (Will Davis), Leah Pipes (Sarah Davis), Gavin Fink (Josh Davis).

4852 Lost in Space. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 1965–1968). In the year 1967, scientists become concerned with the problem of overpopulation. After ten years of preparation and study, construction is begun on the Jupiter II, a ship that will initiate humanity's move into space. It will be programmed to land on a planet orbiting Alpha Centauri; scientists believe this planet is the only one within the range of contemporary technology that can support human life.

In 1997 the Jupiter II is completed at a cost of $30 billion. The ship stands two stories high and contains the most sophisticated scientific equipment imaginable. The lower deck houses the pulsating atomic motors "that will propel the ship to new worlds." There is also an environmental control robot (called Robot) whose key function is to perform the final analysis of the physical environment of the new planet. The Jupiter II has also been shrouded by vigorous security precautions, as other nations, even more desperate for breathing room, may resort to sabotage to beat the United States to the new planet.

A geologist, Major Donald West, is chosen to pilot the Jupiter II, and the Robinsons, one of two million families who volunteered for the project, are selected to colonize the new planet. West and the Robinsons (John and Maureen and their children, Judy, Penny and Will) are to spend the five and a half years of their voyage frozen in a state of suspended animation that will terminate automatically as the spaceship enters the atmosphere of the new planet.

As countdown preparations continue, an enemy agent named Colonel Zachary Smith sneaks aboard the Jupiter II and reprograms the robot to destroy the radio transmitter and the cabin pressure control system eight hours after takeoff.

At minus two minutes and counting, the Robinsons enter the freezing tubes. Will and Penny enter first, followed by Maureen, Judy, Donald and John. At zero minus 45 seconds, the freezing units are activated. All hatches are secured and Smith is trapped aboard the craft.

The ship is launched and is proceeding normally until Smith's unaccounted-for extra weight (200 pounds) alters the ship's flight path. Suddenly the ship encounters a massive meteor shower. Unable to steer the ship, Smith awakens West in the hope of saving the ship. "Who the devil are you?" West asks. "I was trapped just before takeoff," Smith explains.

"You helium nitrogen ratio; I neglected to adjust the balance valve. The hatch closed before I could get off." West accepts Smith's explanation and manages to steer the ship clear of the shower; but they are off course.

West revives the Robinsons. Smith insists that they reprogram the ship and return to Earth; John thinks it would be best to continue with the mission. Just then Smith notices the departure time clock: 7:57 and counting. He attempts but fails to reprogram the robot. The robot's rampage starts as scheduled and seriously damages the ship before West immobilizes it by disconnecting its power pack.

The Jupiter II is now beyond the range of Alpha Control's tracking. West assumes they are lost two million miles in space. The ship crash-lands on an unknown planet that becomes their temporary home. First season episodes relate their adventures on the planet (which Will believes to be Cerberus); second and third season stories find the Robinsons back in space when the Jupiter II is repaired and they decide to continue with the mission — despite Smith's persistent efforts to get them to return to Earth.

John was a professor of astrophysics at the University of Stellar Dynamics. Maureen, a biochemist with the New Mexico College of State Medicine, is the first woman in history to pass the International Space Administration's grueling physical and emotional screenings for intergalactic flight. Judy, it was said, "heroically postponed all hopes for a career in the musical comedy field." Penny, who has an I.Q. of 147, is interested in zoology; she had an invisible friend she discovered in a grotto and called Mr. Nobody. Will, who graduated from the Campbell Canyon School of Science at the age of nine, held the highest average in the school's history; his field is electronics.

Donald, a graduate student from the Center for Radio Astronomy, "rocketed the scientific world with his theory of other planets' fitness for human habitation." Don was also an officer in the U.S. Space Corps. Colonel Zachary Smith, champion of the Oxford Chess Club three years in a row, operated under the code Aeolus-14 Umbre for his unidentified superiors.

Other Roles: Athena, the Green Alien Lady; Nancy Pi Squared, the space beauty; Mr. Zumdish, the space entrepreneur (he was originally the keeper of the Intergalactic Department Store, then owner of a tourist business called Outermost Fundish Ltd. and finally owner of the Zumdish Insurance Company); Farnum the Great.

Note: On 9/8/73, ABC aired Lost in Space, an animated special in which Craig Robinson (voice of Michael Bell) is the pilot of the Jupiter II, now a space shuttle. Other voices: Jonathan Harris (Professor Smith), Sherry Alberoni (Dodi Carmichael), Vincent Van Patten (Linc Robinson). The story finds the crew battling the Tyranos, metallic creatures on a strange planet, when the Jupiter II is shot down.

Cast: Guy Williams (John Robinson), June Lockhart (Maureen Robinson), Angela Cartwright (Penny Robinson), Billy Mumy (Will Robinson), Marta Kristen (Judy Robinson), Mark Goddard (Donald West), Jonathan Harris (Zachary Smith), Bob May (The Robot), Dick Tufeld (Robot's Voice), Vitina Marcus (Athena), Dee Hartford (Verda), Dee Hartford (Nancy Pi Squared), Fritz Field (Mr. Zumdish), Leonard J. Stone (Farnum the Great), Sue England (Various Computer Voices), Dawson Palmer (Various Alien Roles). Theme: "Lost in Space" by Johnny Williams.

4853 The Lost Saucer. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1975–1976). While exploring the universe, Fi and Fum, androids from the planet Z-3, penetrate a time warp and land on Earth. Anxious to make friends, they invite two earthlings, Alice and Jerry, aboard their saucer-like spaceship. Suddenly, as curious people begin to gather around the alien craft, Fum becomes alarmed and hurriedly activates the launch mechanism. The ship is sent back into space, where it becomes lost in time. Stories concern their adventures on strange, futuristic planets, and Fi and Fum's efforts to return their passengers to Earth. Also aboard the craft is The Dorse, Fi and Fum's pet (half dog, half horse).

Cast: Ruth Buzzi (Fi), Jim Nabors (Fum), Alice Playten (Alice), Jarrod Johnson (Jerry), Larry Larson (The Dorse).

4854 Lost Treasure. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 6/28/71). An unsold series about Andrew Bass, Milovan Drumm and Arleigh Marley, three friends who roam the world seeking lost treasures. In the pilot episode, the trio heads for Crete seeking a priceless buried icon.

Cast: James Stacy (Andrew Bass), Bo Svenson (Milovan Drumm), Ben Cooper (Arleigh Marley). Guest Cast: Tige Andrews (Albert Sanchez), Roger C. Carmel (Egasto), Fritz Weaver (Niklaus), Danielle DeMetz (Mika).

4855 The Lost World. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1999–2002). The time is 1920 when respected British anthropology professor George Edward Challenger expresses his theory that a lost world of unknown civilizations and prehistoric creatures exists within our own world. His evidence is a map drawn by a dying explorer who claims to have seen such a world. Through an arrangement with the Royal Zoological Society, an expedition is arranged for George and fellow explorers John Roxton, Marguerite Krux, Ned Malone and Arthur Summerlee.

While traveling down the Amazon River, the group is attacked by a hostile tribe and become stranded on a mysterious plateau of dinosaurs when the hot air balloon they used to escape drifts onto the Plateau (but is damaged during the process). Stories follow the adventures of the explorers as they seek to survive and find the secret of the way off the Plateau. They are helped by Veronica Layton, a young woman who is the future guardian of the plateau, and allows them to live in the tree house built by her parents (Veronica is unaware of her actual destiny and has lived on the Plateau since her parent's disappearance 10 years earlier);

Assai, Veronica's friend is a native girl from a friendly tribe; and Finn, a girl from the future, becomes their hope for escape in last season episodes.

Veronica was born on the Plateau (like her mother and grandmother who were protectors of the Plateau and cannot leave). Veronica's father, a botanist is believed to be dead. Veronica believes her mother, who mysteriously disappeared at the same time as her father, may be alive and in a land called Avalon. Veronica's search for her mother could lead the Challenger expedition to the secret of the unknown path to the outside world.

George is determined to find a dinosaur egg and bring it back to England with him. John Roxton is a famous hunter who is seeking the greatest game of all time: dinosaurs. Marguerite is a beautiful but mysterious woman who helped finance the expedition in a secret attempt to find rare gems. Ned Malone is a newspaper reporter who hopes to write the greatest story of his career; Professor Summerlee is a botanist with a keen interest in unlocking the secrets of the plateau.

Finn was born in the year 2010. In the year 2033 the plateau has been discovered and has become known as New Amazonia. The world, however, has been devastated by a great holocaust. Finn is propelled back in time (to 1924; the series setting in last season episodes) through a time warp. Now, in the past, she befriends the Challenger expedition and George feels that her presence in the past has opened a doorway to prevent the future holocaust.

A narrator opens the show: "A the dawn of the last century a band of explorers searched for a prehistoric world. Driven by ambition, secret desires, a thirst for adventure and seeking the ultimate story, they are befriended by an untamed beauty. Stranded in a strange and savage land, each day is a desperate search for a way out of The Lost World."

4856 Lotsa Luck. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1973–1974). Stanley Belmont is a clerk in the lost and found department of the New York City Bus Lines. He is single and lives with his widowed mother, Iris, his married sister, Olive, and Olive's unkempt and unemployed husband, Arthur Swann. Stanley is a man with a big heart who will lend a helping hand to others. Stories relate the simple pleasures and trying times that affect Stanley's life — both at home and at work. Bunny Fitzer is Stanley's neighbor, a bus driver.

Cast: Dom DeLuise (Stanley Belmont), Kathleen Freeman (Iris Belmont), Beverly Sanders (Olive Swann), Wynn Irwin (Arthur Swann), Jack Knight (Bunny Fitzer).

4857 Lottery. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1983). Each week a lottery drawing is held by the Intersweep Lottery. When a winning ticket has been drawn, lottery representative Patrick Flaherty visits the winner to present him with a cashier's check. Eric Rush, the IRS agent, accompanies him on every mission to collect the government's share. The series presents the incidents that occur in the lives of those lottery winners when they suddenly come into unexpected wealth. Three such stories are presented on each program. Alan Graham sings the theme, "Turn of the Cards."

Cast: Ben Murphy (Patrick Flaherty), Marshall Colt (Eric Rush).

4858 Lou Grant. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1977–1982). The character of Lou Grant first appeared on The Mary Tyler Moore Show as the executive producer of the "The Six O'clock News" on WJM-TV in Minneapolis. When the series ended, Lou relocated to Los Angeles, where he became the city editor of the Los Angeles Tribune, the second largest newspaper in the city. Stories take viewers behind the scenes for an accurate look at the working lives of newspapermen and women.

Other Regulars: Charlie Hume, the managing editor; Margaret Pynchon, the publisher; reporters Billie Newman, Joe Rossi and Carla Mardigan; Dennis "Animal" Price, the photographer; Art Donovan, Lou's assistant; Adam Wilson, the financial editor; Marion Hume, Charlie's wife; Greg Serantino, Billie's ex-husband; Ted McLovey, the baseball scout who marries Billie; Heidi, an office worker.

4859 The Lou Kelly Show. (Unaired Pilot; Interview; Produced in 1987). A proposed late night summer interview show with Lou Kelly as host and Dick Clark as producer that failed to generate station interest after the pilot was pitched (via closed circuit) in February 1987.

4860 The Louie Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996). Louie Lundgren is a therapist who lives in Duluth, Minnesota. He was born in Minnesota and is a graduate of Minnesota State University. Louie has always felt a need to help people — ever since he was a child and would help his family solve their problems. Naturally, as he grew, he believed becoming a therapist would be the right career choice for him. Unfortunately the people Louie helps are far more complex ("nuts") than he could ever imagine and stories follow the gruff-voiced Louie as he attempts to help people while also struggling to cope with the numerous problems in his own life. Louie most hates people touching his stuff.

Gretchen Lafayette is Louie's roommate. Gretchen was born in Los Angeles, went to Pepperdine University and worked as an actress. Her claim to fame was in a Monistat 7 TV commercial. Gretchen didn't want to become known as "the girl with the yeast infection" so she quit, hit the road, wound up in Duluth, answered an ad for a roommate and become friends with Louie.

Helen is Louie's receptionist; Curt and Jake are Louie's friends; Sandy is Curt's estranged wife; and Kimmy is the waitress at the local diner.

Cast: Louie Anderson (Louie Lundgren), Kate Hodge (Gretchen Lafayette), Bryan Cranston (Curt Sinic), Nancy Beeker-Kennedy (Helen), Paul Feig (Dr. Jake Reinhart), Laura Innes (Sandy Sinic), Kimmy Robertson (Kimmy).

4861 Love, American Style. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1969–1974). Comedy vignettes that tackle the world's oldest subject: love. Stories are interspersed with a series of blackouts (that are performed by a regular cast; guests appear in the actual stories). See also The New Love, American Style.

Blackout Regulars: Phyllis Elizabeth Davis, Jed Allan, James Hampton, Clifton Davis, Bernie Kopell, Tracy Reed, Stuart Margolin, Buzz Cooper, Marty Grover, Bill Calloway, Barbara Minkus, Lynne Marta, Jacki DeMar, Richard Williams. Theme Vocal: "Love, American Style" by the Charles Fox Singers.

4862 Love and Curses. (Series; Thriller; Syn.; 1991). A revised version of She-Wolf of London. Randi Wallace is a pretty Los Angeles student attending the University (as it is called) in London and preparing her thesis on disproving the supernatural. She was attacked and bitten by a werewolf while doing research on the Moors, and now through a curse, she becomes a beast when the moon is full. Ian Matheson is Kate's love interest, a professor of mythology who teaches at the University.

When the new version begins, it is learned that the University has decided to phase out Ian's classes. He is not upset because his experiences with Randi (encountering supernatural creatures in the She-Wolf version) prove that everything he has been teaching is wrong ("I don't know if I can go on teaching if I don't know the truth").

In Los Angeles, Randi's friend, Ellen Cravitz (Mary-Ellen Dunbar) believes space aliens have invaded her neighborhood in Northridge, and she calls Randi in London. Randi becomes curious and decides to investigate. Ian chooses to go with her and check on the progress of one of his books, which is being made into a movie at Monumental Pictures. In Northridge, Randi and Ian discover that trolls are living beneath the town and have made their way from the Earth's center to the surface "to eat all the Big Macs we can and get crystal clear TV reception." When all seemed lost, the Grand Wizard of the Golden Oracle (Milton Selzer) appears to help. He originally banished the trolls to the center of the Earth and disposed of them by turning them into frogs.

With their first adventure behind them, Randi and Ian decide to stay in Los Angeles and, they hope, find someone who can cure Randi of her curse. Ian acquires a job as the host of How Strange, with Dr. Matheson, on Channel 89, when his movie deal falls through and his former contact, now the station owner, Skip Seville needs a show to replace Count Phil's Creature Theater. Ian sees the show as interviewing "scholars, researchers and academics of the highest order"; Skip sees it as "hype, horror and hooters." By the second episode, Randi is working with Ian as his producer. They now live in a luxurious apartment. Behind the bookcase is a secret room that contains a cell—to keep Randi from killing when she becomes a werewolf. The six-episode series follows Randi and Ian's adventures as they investigate supernatural occurrences in the hope of finding a cure for Randi (they never did).

The only other show mentioned on Channel 89 was "Bikini Baking with Bambi" (Skip hired Bambi "because she's a 36D cup"). Theme: "Love and Curses," by Steve Levine.

Cast: Kate Hodge (Randi Wallace), Neil Dickson (Ian Matheson), Dan Gilvezan (Skip Seville), Heather Haase (Bambi).

4863 Love and Learn. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/1/79). Jason Brewster is a middle-aged college professor who, while on vacation in Las Vegas, meets, falls in love with and marries a beautiful 20-year-old showgirl named Holly. The unsold series was to focus on the newlyweds as they struggle to live a normal life despite the problems caused by the differences in their ages and occupations. Other Regulars: Mark, Jason's brother; Harvey, Jason's friend; Natalie, Jason's landlady; and Denise, a student of Jason's.

Cast: Lawrence Pressman (Jason Brewster), Candy Clark (Holly Brewster), James Van Patten (Mark Brewster), Earl Boen (Harvey), Natalie Core (Natalie), Kelly Bishop (Denise Pfeiffer).

4864 Love and Marriage. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1959–1960). A behind-the-scenes look at the business of a music publishing company as seen through the eyes of Patricia Baker, the daughter of Bill Harris, a widower who owns the near bankrupt Harris Music Publishing Company in Los Angeles. Bill is behind the times and cannot accept the new wave in music—Rock and Roll. Patricia knows her father is wrong and must convince him of that fact. Stories follow Patricia as she struggles to save the family business by acquiring Rock and Roll personalities and songs.

Steve is Patricia's husband, a lawyer; Susan and Jenny are their daughters; Stubby Wilson is the firm's song plugger; Sophie is the firm's secretary.

Cast: William Demarest (Bill Harris), Jeanne Bal (Patricia Baker), Murray Hamilton (Steve Baker), Susan Reilly (Susan Baker), Jeannie Lynn (Jenny Baker), Stubby Kaye (Stubby Wilson), Kay Armen (Sophie).

4865 Love and Marriage. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1996). Can a happily married but busy couple with two children survive marriage? That is the question posed on Love and Marriage, the story of Jack Nardini, the owner of a New York City parking lot garage, who works all day, and his wife, April, a waitress who works at night. Their children are Michael, Gemmy and Christopher. Despite their hectic schedules and little time to actually spend together, Jack and April make their marriage work because they love each other. Stories follow their ups and downs.

Cast: Anthony John Dennison (Jack Nardini), Patricia Healy (April Nardini), Alicia Bergman (Gemmy Nardini), Erik Palladino (Michael Nardini), Adam Zolotin (Christopher Nardini).

4866 Love and Money. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1999–2000). Allison Conklin is the daughter of billionaire Nicholas Conklin and his wife, Effie. She has an air head sister (Puff) and a sarcastic younger brother (Nicky). The Conklins live in a fashionable Manhattan high rise penthouse. Eamon McBride, the building's superintendent, lives in the basement with his father, Finn, the doorman.

Allison was brought up to respect money and her social position. Allison, however, has different feelings and causes a family rift when she falls in love with the blue collar Eamon. With the exception of her champagne drinking mother, the family disapproves of her new relationship and eagerly seek a way to end the romance. Stories follow Allison as she struggles to make her relationship work despite the obstacles of social status.

Cast: Paget Brewster (Allison Conklin), Brian Van Holt (Eamon McBride), Swoosie Kurtz (Effie Conklin), David Ogden Stiers (Nicholas Conklin), Judy Greer (Puff Conklin), John Livingston (Nicky Conklin), Brian Doyle-Murray (Finn McBride).

4867 Love and War. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1992–1995). Wallis “Wally” Porter is a beautiful 35-year-old businesswoman and famous chef who owns the trendy Chez Wally Restaurant on Manhattan’s 72nd Street. After five years, her marriage to Kip Zakaris, a conceited actor, breaks up. When Wally loses the restaurant in the divorce settlement, she walks out of the courtroom and wanders into the Blue Shamrock, a quaint 1940s–style bar, located between a bail bondsman and a credit dentist.

After several double vodkas, Wally becomes intoxicated and buys 80 percent of the bar from owner Ike Johnson for $70,000. Ike’s brother, Abe, becomes the new bartender when Ike passes away and leaves his 20 percent share to him.

Wally lives at 1016 East 74th Street (Apartment C). She attended the Cordon Bleu School in Paris and can de-bone a chicken in 20 seconds. She can serve 12 dinners in 21 minutes and once received a letter from Julia Child saying that her coq au vin was the best she ever tasted. Wally, born in Connecticut, is an Episcopalian and was named the most promising chef in New York City. She has a hard time serving lobster (“I name them and get attached to them”).

When Wally needed to find herself, she left suddenly for Paris and gave Abe ownership of the bar. Abe hired Dana Palladino, a former chef at the Le Petite Bateau who was fired for standing up for her rights (she was passed over for an executive position by a man). She is the daughter of a famous artist (Dante), worked as a chef for Mick Jagger during his Steel Wheels Tour, and spent a year on the Alaska Pipeline just to learn how to cook salmon. She was raised in Europe and at age ten had her own table at Harry’s Bar in Paris. She now lives in a loft in Manhattan with the name “Schaefer Sewing Machine Company” on it.

Wally first met Kip in an off-Broadway production of Westside Story (he was Jet number 2). Kip also appeared in The Front Page (off-Broadway); the deranged typesetter on an episode of Lou Grant; Ozzie the Terrorist in the TV movie Victory at Entebbe; a vampire in the film Vampire from Hell; the insane crossing guard in an episode of Sweating Bullets. When Kip appeared in Richard III, the newspapers called him “a nightmare in tights.”

Jack Stein, Mary Margaret “Meg” Tynan and Ray Litvak are the bar regulars. Jack, 42, writes the opinion column, “The Stein Way” for the New York Register. He was born in Brooklyn and as a kid attended Camp Olympus; in college he was a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. He loves jazz music, lives in Apartment 4C and has named the dust ball under his bed Milt. Jack won the Algonquin Award for his story on illiteracy and dated Wally for a short time.

Meg is a sportswriter for the Register. She attended Our Lady of Grace elementary school, Our Lady of Hope High School, and New York University. She is brash and tends to poke her nose into other people’s business.

Ray works as a “sanitation engineer” (garbage man) for the New York City Department of Sanitation. He calls the bar’s lone pinball machine “Line Drive” and lives in an apartment on Staten Island with items he found in the city dump.

Nadine Berkus is the Shamrock’s waitress. She lives in Westchester, drives a minivan and is afraid to be sexy (the most outrageous thing she ever did was to wear an off-the-shoulder sweater when she took her car to Jiffy Lube). Her kids are in college and her husband, Charles, is in prison for insider trading.

In the original unaired pilot, Love Is Hell, Jay Thomas played columnist Jack Simon and Joel Murray was Joe, the garbage man.

Cast: Susan Dey (Wally Porter), Jay Thomas (Jack Stein), Michael Nouri (Kip Zakaris), Joel Murray (Ray Litvak), Annie Potts (Dana Palladino), Charlie Robinson (Abe Johnson), John Hancock (Ike Johnson), Suzie Plakson (Meg Tynan), Joanna Cassidy (Nadine Berkus).

4868 Love at First Sight. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 10/13/80). The problems of a not-so-typical marriage as seen through the experiences of Karen Alexander, a housewife, and her husband, Jonathan, a blind jingles writer for the Fame Advertising Agency in New York City. In the first of two unsold pilot films (see the next title also), Jonathan prepares to meet Karen’s parents (the Bellamys) for the first time.

Other Regulars: Francis Fame, the agency owner; Genevieve, the stylish jingle writer; Denise, the agency’s buxom receptionist.

Cast: Susan Bigelow (Karen Alexander), Philip Levien (Jonathan Alexander), Pat Cooper (Francis Fame), Deborah Baltzell (Genevieve Lamont), Angela Aames (Denise). Guest Cast: Peggy McCay (Mrs. Bellamy), Robert Rockwell (Mr. Bellamy).

4869 Love at First Sight. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/29/82). A revised version of the prior title about newlyweds (now called the Grants) Karen, a housewife, and Jonathan, her blind husband, a jingles writer for the New York–based Fame Advertising Agency. In the second pilot episode, the Grants contemplate buying a gun after their apartment is robbed. Other Regulars: Heinrich, the apartment building super; and Stan, the Grants’ friend.

Cast: Susan Bigelow (Karen Grant), Philip Levien

(Jonathan Grant), Macon McCalmán (Heinrich Sawyer), Reni Santoni (Stan Brotman). Guest Cast: Gailard Sartain (Buck Cochran), Terence McNally (Sergeant Dunphy), Margaret Wheeler (Mrs. Simpson).

4870 The Love Boat. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1976–1977). Three pilot films were produced for ABC before the actual series, The Love Boat was launched (1977–1986). Each is set aboard a luxury cruise ship (the Sun Princess, then the Pacific Princess) and interweaves short, comical stories about romance. See also Luxury Liner.

The crew of the first pilot, The Love Boat (September 17, 1976) are Captain Thomas Allenford III (Ted Hamilton); Dr. Adam O’Neal (Dick Van Patten); cruise director Jeri Landers (Teri O’Mara); Gopher, the purser (Sandy Helberg); Isaac the bartender (Theodore Wilson); Nico, the steward (Joseph Sicari); Dena DeMarco, the lounge entertainer (Kathryn Ish); Danny, Dena’s husband (Richard Stahl).

The second pilot, The Love Boat II (January 21, 1977) saw the following crew: Captain Tom Madison (Quinn Redeker); cruise director Sandy Summers (Diane Stilwell); lounge entertainer Amy Mitchell (Candice Azzara); yeoman purser Burl “Gopher” Smith (Fred Grandy); Dr. Adam Bricker (Bernie Kopell); and bartender Isaac Washington (Ted Lange).

The New Love Boat (May 5, 1977), the third pilot, sailed with this crew: Captain Merrill Stubing (Gavin MacLeod); cruise director Julie McCoy (Lauren Tewes); Dr. Adam Bricker (Bernie Kopell); bartender Isaac Washington (Ted Lange); and yeoman purser Burl “Gopher” Smith (Fred Grandy).

4871 The Love Boat. (Series; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1977–1986). Merrill Stubing is captain of the Pacific Princess, a luxury cruise ship that has been nicknamed “The Love Boat” by her crew: cruise director Julie McCoy, purser Burl (“Gopher”) Smith, Dr. Adam Bricker and bartender Isaac Washington. Merrill’s daughter, Vicki Stubing became the assistant cruise director (1979), and Julie’s sister, Judy McCoy, replaced Julie as the cruise director in 1985. Merrill married Emily Haywood, a wealthy widow, in the episode of 5/24/86 (Emily became the special events director). Ashley (“Ace”) Covington-Evans became the ship’s photographer in 1984 (later the purser, when Gopher left). To spice up the cruises, the gorgeous “Love Boat Mermaids” were added in 1985: Susie (Deborah Bartlett), Maria (Tori Brenno), Jane (Nancy Lynn Hammond), Amy (Teri Hatcher), Patti (Deborah Johnson), Starlight (Andrea Moen), Mary Beth (Beth Myatt), and Sheila (Maccarena). On May 4, 1985, the Pacific Princess, which is owned by the Pacific Cruise Lines in Los Angeles, became the Royal Princess in honor of its one-thousandth guest star, Lana Turner. Stories (usually three to four per episode) relate brief incidents in the lives of passengers.

On 2/12/90 The Love Boat: A Valentine Cruise aired on CBS and reunited most of the original cast for a cruise to the Caribbean via the Sky Princess. Kim Ulrich signed on as Kelly Donaldson, the cruise director. Repeating their roles: Gavin MacLeod (Captain Merrill Stubing), Bernie Kopell (Dr. Adam Bricker) and Ted Lange (Isaac Washington, now the chief purser). Vicki Stubing (Jill Whelan) is now a travel agent (she is aboard the “Love Boat” as part of her vacation); Kelly is a former English literature major; Emily, Merrill’s wife, was said to have passed away.

Relatives: Red Buttons (Merrill’s uncle, Cyrus Foster), Olivia de Havilland (Merrill’s aunt, Hilly), Phil Silvers (Merrill’s father, Merrill Stubing, Sr.). Gavin MacLeod (Merrill’s brothers, Milo and Marshall Stubing), Bonnie Franklin (Merrill’s ex-wife, Stacy Stubing Scoggstaad), Norman Fell (Julie’s father), Betty Garrett (Julie’s mother), Carol Channing (Julie’s aunt, Sylvia), Richard Dean Anderson (Julie’s cousin, Carter Randall), Linda Blair (Carter’s wife, Muffy Randall), Ellen Bry (Judy’s cousin, Gretchen), Ethel Merman (Burl’s mother, Rosie Smith), Bob Cummings (Burl’s father, Elliott Smith), Melissa Sue Anderson (Burl’s sister, Jennifer [“Chubs”] Smith), Pearl Bailey (Isaac’s mother, Millicent Washington), Isabel Sanford (Isaac’s aunt, Tanya), Mel Stuart (Isaac’s uncle, Charles), Juliet Prowse (Doc’s ex-wife, Samantha Bricker), Elizabeth Ashley (Doc’s ex-wife, Nancy Bricker), Stephanie Beacham (Doc’s ex-wife, Elaine Riskin), Heidi Bohay (Doc’s new wife, 11/21/86, Cheri Sullivan Bricker), Cyd Charisse (Doc’s ex-mother-in-law, Connie Carruthers). Theme: “The Love Boat,” vocal by Jack Jones (1977–85), Dionne Warwick (1985–87).

Cast: Gavin MacLeod (Capt. Merrill Stubing), Lauren Tewes (Julie McCoy), Bernie Kopell (Dr. Adam Bricker), Fred Grandy (Burl “Gopher” Smith), Ted Lange (Isaac Washington), Jill Whelan (Vicki Stubing), Patricia Klous (Judy McCoy), Ted McGinley (Ashley “Ace” Covington-Evans), Mary Farrell (Mary Temple; Adam’s nurse), Charo (April Lopez; the entertainer), Sid Gould (Sidney; ship’s waiter).

4872 The Love Boat: The Next Wave. (Series; Drama; UPN; 1998). An update of the ABC series The Love Boat that continues to depict romantic incidents in the lives of the passengers who book passage on The Sun Princess, a cruise ship that has been nicknamed The Love Boat.

Jim Kennedy III, a 48-year-old ex-Navy man, is the ship’s captain (replaced Captain Merrill Stubing). Camille Hunter is the chief of security (a role not in the original series). John Morgan is the ship’s doctor (replaces Dr. Adam Brinker). Suzanne Zimmerman is the cruise director (replaces Julie McCoy). Paolo Kaire is the bar tender (replaces Isaac Washington). Will Sanders is the purser (replaces Gopher) and Danny is Jim's son (replaced Vicki, Merrill's daughter).

Cast: Robert Urich (Capt. Jim Kennedy III), Joan Severance (Camille Hunter), Corey Parker (Dr. John Morgan), Stacey Travis (Suzanne Zimmerman), Randy Vasquez (Paolo Kaire), Phil Morris (Will Sanders), Kyle Howard (Danny Kennedy).

4873 The Love Connection. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1983). One single person (for example, a male) selects one girl for his date from three videotaped interviews he is permitted to see. Shortly after their date, the male is brought on stage to relate his experiences. Following an interview with the subject, the studio audience is permitted to see excerpts from the videotapes through which the male had made a decision. The audience electronically selects the girl they feel is best for the male. The subject reveals the girl he chose. She is brought on stage and relates her experiences concerning the date. The audience vote is tabulated. If it differs from the subject's choice, he receives the opportunity to date the girl chosen by the audience. If both choices are the same, and if both singles want to date again, the program provides and expenses-paid date. Whatever the subject's final decision, merchandise prizes are awarded for participating.

Host: Chuck Woolery. Announcer: Rod Roddy.

4874 The Love Experts. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1978). A panel of four celebrities (guests) offers advice to real people on the problems of living and loving in today's world.

Host: Bill Cullen. Regular: Geoff Edwards. Announcer: Jack Clark.

4875 The Love Experts. (Series; Magazine; ABC; 1984). The program, broadcast live from Los Angeles, presents up-to-the-minute information on relationships and living and loving in the 1980s.

Hosts: Tawny Schneider, Chuck Henry. Regulars: Dr. Joyce Brothers, Betty White, Dr. Theresa Crenshaw, Dr. Ruth Westheimer, Dr. Meryle Gellman, Ellie Dylan, Johnny Mountain.

4876 Love, Inc. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2005–2006). Can a girl (Denise Johnson), the owner of a successful dating service (Love, Inc.) find true romance for herself? That is the basic premise of the series.

Denise is assisted by Francine, Clea, Viviana and Barry. Denise claims that, "Love is about capability. People with compatible interests being compatible." Denise is intelligent (a graduate of Northwestern University), outgoing and very pretty but she can't seem to find anyone who is compatible. Viviana is an extremely sexy girl from Argentina whose has no trouble finding men (even women are attracted to her) but often finds that the men she becomes attracted to are either gay or married. Clea is the type of girl Denise wishes she could be — compatible with almost everyone and seemingly never without a man. Barry is the typical "everyman," attracted to beautiful girls but not always sure he can score. Shannen Doherty played the role of Denise in the original, un-aired pilot version of the series.

Cast: Busy Philipps (Denise Johnson), Reagan Gomez-Preston (Francine), Ion Overman (Viviana), Holly Robinson Peete (Clea), Vince Vieluf (Barry).

4877 Love Is a Many Splendored Thing. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1967–1973). Dramatic incidents in the lives of three San Francisco families: the Chernaks, the Donnellys and the Garrisons. The series ran from September 18, 1967 to March 23, 1973.

Cast: Andrea Marcovicci (Betsy Chernak), David Birney (Mark Elliott), Michael Hawkins (Mark Elliott), Vincent Cannon (Mark Elliott), Tom Fucello (Mark Elliott), Donna Mills (Laura Elliott), Veleka Gray (Laura Elliott), Barbara Stanger (Laura Elliott), Leslie Charlson (Iris Garrison), Bibi Besch (Iris Garrison), Sasha Von Scherler (Sara Hanley), Martha Greenhouse (Sara Hanley), Vincent Baggetta (Dr. Peter Chernak), Shawn Campbell (Ricky Donnelly), Diana Douglas (Lily Chernak), Don Gantry (Senator Al Preston), Gloria Hoyer (Helen Donnelly), Abigail Kellogg (Velia), Judson Laire (Will Donnelly), Sean Linsey (Doug Preston), Edward Power (Spence Garrison), Leon Russom (Joe Taylor), Suzie Kay Stone (Angel Chernak), Albert Stratton (Tom Donnelly), Constance Towers (Marion Hiller), Betty Miller (Mrs. Taylor), Andrea Grossman (Nicole Chernak), Stephen Joyce (Dr. Hiller), Peter White (Dr. Hiller), Judy Safran (Maria), Paul Michael Glaser (Dr. Chernak), Russ Thacker (Andy Hurley), Greg Brown (Rusty Jackson), Thurman Scott (Judd Washington), Carmine Stipo (Rocco Fiore), Jane Manning (Jean), Salome Jens (Audrey Hurley), Christopher Papes (Tommy Hale), Robert Drew (Dr. Ellis), David Jay (Roger), Nancy Hsuek (Mia), Jack Somack (Amos Crump), Barbara Stanger (Donna Patrick). Announcer: Lee Jordan, Harry Falk.

4878 Love, Long Distance. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/30/85). Leslie Cummings is the assistant anthropologist to Dr. Arthur Ruskin at the Museum of Natural History in New York City. She shares a Manhattan apartment with her friend, Sybil Sylvester, but lives in Philadelphia. David Cummings, her husband of five years, runs a construction business with his brother, Stan, and lives in Philadelphia — a situation that forces them to live a commuter marriage with David residing full-time in Philadelphia and Leslie living weekdays in Manhattan and weekends with David. The unsold series was to focus on the misadventures that occur as Leslie and David attempt to live a normal married life. The pilot episode relates Leslie's efforts to uncover the identity of a secret admirer.

Cast: Tricia Pursley (Leslie Cummings), Jack Rose (David Cummings), Cristine Rose (Sybil Sylver), Mike Starr (Stan Cummings), Austin Pendleton (Dr. Arthur Ruskin), Eric Till (Admirer; guest role). Theme Vocal: "Love, Long Distance" by John Leffler.

4879 Love Monkey. (Series; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 2006). Tom Farrell is a bachelor who rents a one-room apartment in Manhattan. He is not a good cook, but he feels he has good job and a good life. He is an A&R (Artist and Repertoire) representative at a major record label (Goliath Records). However, when he objects to his boss's outlook for the company, he is fired.

Tom believes good music always finds its following. He had personally signed 12 successful bands and after he is unable to start his own company (lack of funds) he finds a job with True Vinyl Records, a small company that thinks like he does. Stories follow Tom as he seeks to better his life.

Other Regulars: Julie, Tom's girlfriend; Brandy, called Bran, Tom's friend ("She's a girl whose a friend, not a girlfriend"); Mike, Tom's oldest buddy (he is married to his sister, Karen); and Jake (an ex-pro athlete) and Shooter (a man-about-town), Tom's friends.

Cast: Thomas Cavanaugh (Tom Farrell), Jason Priestley (Mike Freed), Judy Greer (Brandy Lowenstein), Katherine La Nasa (Karen Freed), Christopher Wiehl (Jake Dunne), Larenz Tate (Shooter Cooper), Ivana Milicevic (Julia).

4880 Love, Natalie. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/11/80). The house at 16 Valley Hart Drive in California is the setting for a satire of family life as seen through the eyes of Natalie Miller, wife, mother and overall problem solver. The title is derived from Natalie's closing in her letter to her mother, which she reads during the opening. The entertaining pilot is also unique inasmuch as Natalie speaks directly to the audience and relates her feelings regarding the situations that develop. In the pilot episode, Natalie struggles to adjust to the fact that her husband's best friend, Mel, a real pest, is now moving in with her and her family (her husband, Peter, and their children, Nora and Franklin). Ruth is Natalie's friend.

4881 Love Nest. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/14/75). When widowed senior citizens Ned Cooper and Jenny Ludlow find that they can barely live on their social security incomes, they decide to live together in a Florida trailer court. The decision upsets Ned's son, Mort, and Jenny's daughter, Dorothy, who object and want them to move to a senior citizens home. The unsold series was to relate the efforts of two young-at-heart senior citizens to enjoy their golden years together without influence from their children. Other Regulars: Dick, Ned's friend; and Mary Frances, Jenny's friend.

Cast: Charles Lane (Ned Cooper), Florida Friebus (Jenny Ludlow), Dana Elcar (Mort Cooper), Dee Carroll (Dorothy Ludlow), Burt Mustin (Dick Ewing), Alice Nunn (Mary Frances).

4882 Love of Life. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1951–1980). The original format of the series, from 1951 to 1961, is set in Barrowsville, Anywhere, U.S.A., and tells the dramatic story of two sisters, Vanessa Dale and Meg Dale Harper. Episodes contrast their life styles and moral outlooks. The revised format (1961–1980) is set in Rosehill, New York, and depicts dramatic incidents in the lives of marrieds Vanessa and Bruce Sterling. The series, which produced 7,316 episodes, ran for fifteen minutes from September 24, 1951 to April 11, 1958; and thirty minutes from April 14, 1958 to February 1, 1980.

Cast: Peggy McCay (Vanessa Dale Sterling), Bonnie Bartlett (Vanessa Dale Sterling), Audrey Peters (Vanessa Dale Sterling), Jean McBride (Meg Dale Harper), Tudi Wiggins (Meg Dale Harper), Ron Tomme (Bruce Sterling), Paul Potter (Charles Harper), Richard Coogan (Paul Raven), Robert Burr (Paul Raven), Hildy Parks (Ellie Hughes), Marie Kennery (Mrs. Rivers), Gene Bua (Bill Prentiss), Marsha Mason (Judith Cole), Virginia Robinson (Judith Cole), Bonnie Bedelia (Sandy Porter), Geraldine Brooks (Arden Dellacorte), Susan Hubly (Candy Lowe), Nancy MacKay (Candy Lowe), Shelley Blanc (Dr. Leader), Cindy Grover (Stacy Corby), Jane Rose (Sarah Dale), Joanna Roos (Sarah Dale), Charles White (Alex Caldwell), Zina Bethune (Barbara Latimer), David Stambaugh (Hank Latimer), Helen Dumas (Vivian Carlson), Jack Stamberger (Henry Carlson), Diane Rousseau (Diana Lamont), Toni Bull Bua (Tess Krakauer), Ray Wise (Jamie Rollins), Catherine Bacon (Sally Rollins), Drew Snyder (Dan Phillips), Sally Stark (Kate Swanson), John Gabriel (Link Morrison), Rod Gibbons (Todd), Rod Gibbons (Josh Bendarik), Polly Rowles (Helen Hunt), Jane Hoffman (Mrs. Swanson), Amy Gibson (Lynn Henderson), Julia Duffy (Gerry Brayley), Tony LoBianco (Joseph Corelli), Paul Michael Glaser (Joseph Corelli), Robert Alda (Jason Ferris), John O'Hare (John Prentiss), Andrew Tolan (John Prentiss), Trip Randall (John Prentiss), Lois Smith (Mrs. Bendarik), Edward Grower (Mr. Bendarik), Gene Pellegrini (Link Potter), Ann Loring (Tammy Porter), Romola

4883 Love on a Rooftop. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1966–1967). Dave Willis, an apprentice architect with the firm of Bennington and Associates, earns $85.37 a week. Julie Hammond, the beautiful

22-year-old pampered daughter of a rich car salesman, is studying to become an artist. They meet one day when Dave, preparing to eat lunch at a construction site, drops his liverwurst on rye sandwich. The sandwich falls several stories and lands in Julie's open handbag as she is walking past the site. Dave chases after his sandwich and when he and Julie meet, it's love at first sight. They marry and set up housekeeping in a rooftop apartment at 1400 McDoogal Street in San Francisco.

"You're rich, go ahead and admit it, you're rich" is Dave's reaction when he learns that Julie is wealthy (her reaction: "You make it sound like some sort of disease"). Dave, being the independent type, insists that they live on his income. Julie agrees and relinquishes her world of luxury — a situation that angers her father, Fred Hammond, who was in Europe when she and Dave married. "You may as well know right now," Fred says when he first meets Dave. "If I had been here I would have stopped this marriage." A dumbfounded Dave responds simply, "Nice to meet you too, Mr. Hammond."

While Julie's mother, Phyllis Hammond, is hoping only the best for Julie and Dave, Fred firmly believes that Dave will never be able to support her. "We may have some rough times," Dave tells Fred, "but we're going to be all right because we love each other and we're gonna do it on our own with no help from you or anyone."

Dave and Julie's friends and downstairs neighbors are Stan and Carol Parker. They too are struggling to make ends meet on a small income. Stan is an idea man who hopes one day to make it big by inventing something that everyone needs (the problem is, "I can't figure out what it is because it is so obvious"). While Stan often says, "Sometimes I amaze myself," one of his "crazy" ideas that doesn't sound so crazy 40 years later was opening an agency called "Drive a Drunk" ("Somebody gets drunk at a party and they phone me to drive them home").

Charles Lane appeared as Dave's boss, Bert Bennington and Hope Summers played his wife, Bertha Bennington. Theme: "Love on a Rooftop," by Howard Greenfield and Jack Keller.

Cast: Judy Carne (Julie Willis), Peter Deuel (Dave Willis), Rich Little (Stan Parker), Barbara Bostock (Carol Parker), Herbert Voland (Fred Hammond), Edith Atwater (Phyllis Hammond).

4884 The Love Report. (Series; Magazine; ABC; 1984). The revised series title for The Love Experts (which ran on ABC from June 18, 1984 to July 27, 1984). See this title for information.

4885 Love, Sidney. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1981–1983). Apartment 405 at 136 East 46th Street in Manhattan is the home of Sidney Shorr, a lonely, middle-aged commercial artist. Sidney, who is a homosexual, has been depressed since the death of his lover, Martin (seen only in a photograph on the fireplace); he now has no social life and little or no fun.

One of the few joys in Sidney's life is seeing Greta Garbo films. At the Thalia Theater Sidney is seated midway in the theater watching Camille (with Greta and Robert Taylor). A pretty, spirited young actress named Laurie Morgan is sitting directly behind him. When the movie ends, Sidney is crying into his handkerchief. "Hey, sir, are you all right?" asks Laurie. "It's wonderful, it's wonderful," replies a teary eyed Sidney. When Laurie remarks that Camille is one of her least favorite Garbo films, she and Sidney get into a discussion about Greta. In an attempt to convince Laurie that Greta is a great actress, Sidney takes her to his apartment to show her his Garbo photo collection.

Sidney's discussion with Laurie seems to make a new man out of him — he is happy. When Laurie is about to leave, a thunderstorm begins. Laurie convinces a reluctant Sidney to let her spend the night. "One thing," she says. "Don't get any ideas." "Me?" responds Sidney. "You don't have to worry about me." "Oh, I get it, that's good," says Laurie. "I'll see you in the morning then." (This exchange of dialogue is virtually the only indication that Sidney is gay. NBC bowed to Moral Majority objections about a gay character and changed Sidney's sexual preference to a point where he could be either straight or gay.)

The following day, Sidney is changed; he is cheerful and looking forward to the day ahead but is saddened again when Patti leaves. That night, as he is sitting down to dinner, the doorbell rings. It is Laurie. Sidney's eyes light up as she enters and says, "We'll split the rent." Sidney responds by saying he never lived with a woman. "I'll be the best thing that ever happened to you," exclaims Laurie. She immediately begins by redecorating the dreary eight room apartment. Three months later the apartment is cheery and Sidney is a changed man. On Christmas Eve, 1981, Laurie begins to cry and tells Sidney she is seeing a married man and that she is pregnant. She also tells Sidney that the man has given her the money to have an abortion. Sidney, who strongly opposes this, talks Laurie out of having an abortion: "I'll take care of the baby.... Let this be your Christmas gift to me." They agree (Sidney is to become the baby's uncle).

Six and a half months later, at Flower Hospital, Laurie gives birth to a girl. Laurie names her Patti (after her favorite song as a kid, "Patty Cake"); Laurie also gives the baby a middle name — Greta — as a reference to how they met. As Laurie finds work on a television soap opera, Sidney becomes more and more of a father to Patti.

Five years later, Laurie falls for a man named Jimmy and decides to marry him. The big blow comes when Laurie tells Sidney she is moving to California. Although it breaks Sidney's heart, he agrees to let Laurie take Patti with her.

One year later, Laurie returns to New York for a visit and eventually decides to stay when she acquires a role on a television soap opera. When Laurie and Jimmy split up, Sidney convinces Laurie to share his apartment once again. Stories follow events in the lives of Sidney Shorr and his adopted family, Laurie and Patti Morgan.

Sidney, who was born in New York City, was originally a freelance commercial artist; he is later employed by Jason Stoller at the Graham and Ludwig Advertising Agency in mid-Manhattan. His favorite dessert is pineapple cheesecake. His unseen mother (deceased) was named Yetta.

Laurie, who was born in the small town of Smote, Wisconsin, first appeared in a television commercial for Amore Soap. She then appeared in four episodes of the TV soap Another World and later on the fictional soap A Time for Loving (where she played a home wrecker who was in love with the wife). She finally landed the permanent role of Gloria Trenell on the mythical soap As Thus We Are.

Other Regulars: Mort Harris, Sidney's neighbor; Mrs. Gaffney, Sidney's landlady; Nancy, Jason's secretary.

Relatives: Lenka Peterson (Laurie's mother, Eve Morgan), Hansford Rowe (Laurie's father, Dan Morgan). Theme: "Friends Forever," vocal by Tony Randall, Swoosie Kurtz and Kaleena Kiff; later by Gladys and Bubba Knight.

Note: In the NBC pilot film, Sidney Shorr (10/5/81), Lorna Patterson played Laurie and David Huffman, Jimmy.

Cast: Tony Randall (Sidney Shorr), Swoosie Kurtz (Laurie Morgan), Kaleena Kiff (Patti Morgan), Chip Zien (Jason Stoller), Graham Beckel (Jimmy), Alan North (Mort Harris), Barbara Bryne (Mrs. Gaffney), Lenka Peterson (Eve Morgan), Lynne Thigpen (Nancy).

4886 Love Songs. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1985). A daily series of music videos coupled with personal ads for singles seeking a mate. The program actually plays matchmaker by running personal ads submitted by viewers. The most appealing ads are shown (over romantic music) and viewers can respond via special box numbers that are provided. The results of matches made by the program are shown as well as the newest music videos.

Host: Dick Summer.

4887 Love Stories. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1991). A daily series of true stories about people who met and fell in love (and eventually married). The actual people involved in the reenactments that are seen appear to relate their stories.

Hostess: Kristian Alfonso.

4888 Love Story. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1954). A series of live dramatizations that emphasize the goodness in nature and the kindness in man.

The 11-episode series ran from April 20, 1954 to June 29, 1954.

Performers Include: Patricia Breslin, Basil Rathbone, Leslie Nielsen, Joan Lorring, Beatrice Straight, James Gregory, Frank McHugh, Mildred Natwick, Betty Field, Arthur O'Connell, Betty Lou Holland, Lee Bowman, Patricia Collinge, Audra Lindley, Peggy McCay, Murray Matheson.

4889 Love Story. (Series; Game; CBS; 1955–1956). Married or engaged couples are first interviewed then compete in a general knowledge question-and-answer session wherein the highest scoring couple receives and expenses-paid two-week honeymoon in Paris.

Host: Jack Smith. Assistant: Pat Meikle.

4890 Love Story. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1973–1974). A weekly series of adult and contemporary variations on the theme of love. The series, which produced 13 episodes, ran from October 3, 1973 to January 2, 1974.

Performers Include: Kay Lenz, Janet Leigh, Jan Smithers, Jodie Foster, Michael Lerner, Kim Darby, Frank Langella, Vic Morrow, Don Murray, Samantha Eggar, Anne Baxter, Valerie Perrine, James Farentino, Lynnette Mettey, Larry Hagman, Victoria Principal, Susan Oliver, Diane Baker. Theme Song: “Love Story” by Francis Lai.

4891 Love That Bob. (Series; Comedy; NBC; CBS; 1955–1959). The name on the office door reads “Bob Collins — Photography.” Robert (“Bob”) Collins, a swinging young bachelor, is owner of the downtown Hollywood studio. Bob lives with his widowed sister, Margaret MacDonald, and her teenage son, Charles (“Chuck”) MacDonald, at 804 Grummond Road.

Bob was born in Joplin, Missouri, and is descended from Scottish ancestors. He served in the air force during World War II. Bob is simply a suave and sophisticated ladies’ man whose job is to photograph the world’s most beautiful women. He considers his models “lumps of clay. I mold them into bright, shimmering butterflies. I give them grace, style and charm.” Bob shoots fashion layouts for various magazines. He can make girls swoon, and he desperately seeks to avoid the path to matrimony. His worst month is June — when girls are the most marriage-minded and he finds it extremely difficult to remain a bachelor.

Bob says he is married — to his camera: “Any other type of marriage is a serious commitment and I need my time before settling down. I need to find the right person — no matter how many girls I have to date to find her.”

“Margaret is young and attractive,” Bob says. “I keep telling her she should get married again, but does she listen to me? No.” Margaret takes care of the house, cooks, cleans, does the shopping and manages to find a little romance — but despite what Bob thinks is best for her, she is not ready to settle down again. (Her longest romance was with Paul Fonda, Bob’s World War II air force buddy. Paul is now an airline pilot [a captain] and married one of his stewardesses, Betty Havilland [Dorothy Johnson].)

Margaret considers Bob a father for Chuck: “He’s a kind man. He lets us share his house and is putting Chuck through school.” But Margaret also says, “Chuck has been raised in an atmosphere of girls, girls, girls.” This has been a delight for Chuck, who hopes that whatever his Uncle Bob has, it can be inherited by a nephew.

Chuck first attended Hollywood High School (where he was on the R.O.T.C. drill team). He joined the National Guard after graduation and in last season episodes enrolled in Gridley College (majoring in premed). Francine Williams was Chuck’s original girlfriend; Carol Henning replaced her in last season episodes (she enrolled in nearby Beaumont College).

“When Bob decides to get married, there is someone waiting for him — me,” says Charmaine Schultz, better known as Schultzy, Bob’s plain-looking girl Friday. Schultzy is totally dedicated to Bob and in love with him — “I can’t compete with the models on the sofa, but give me the kitchen and food and I’ll land him.” Bob has found the perfect assistant in Schultzy (who calls him “Boss”). Bob says. “Before Schultzy, I would train girls only to lose them to marriage.”

The hours may be long at times, but Bob rarely complains when it comes to photographing his beautiful models. The voluptuous blonde bombshell, Shirley Swanson, is the model dead set on marrying Bob. Shirley, who measures 38-26-36, is very jealous and called the “Wild Flower” by Bob (Schultzy calls her “Blondie”).

Other recurring models included Collette DuBois, a French knockout Bob called his “Sly Little Thief”; Marie DiPaolo is an Italian model Bob calls “My Little Venetian Ambassador of Loveliness.” She calls him “Roberto”; Mary Beth Hall and Ingrid are two additional models who worked for and drove Bob crazy.

Bob, like his father, is a photographer; but before them there was and still is “Josh Collins — Photography,” a business run by Bob’s elderly but young at heart grandfather, Joshua (“Josh”) Collins, in Joplin, Missouri. Grandpa Collins (Bob Cummings in a dual role) lives in a drafty old house his father built (and died in from pneumonia). He calls Bob “Young Rooster,” Chuck “Chuckie Boy” and Margaret “Mag Pie.”

Other Roles: Harvey Helm is Bob’s friend, a henpecked wholesale furniture salesman for the Gravener Furniture Company. He calls Bob “Bobby Boy” and was his co-pilot during the war. “Harvey brings home the bacon, but his wife decides how to slice it,” says Bob. Harvey is married to Ruthie, a former swimsuit model of Bob’s. Carol, Chuck’s girlfriend, is Ruthie’s niece.

Pamela Livingston is Bob’s friend, a member of the Bird Watchers’ Society. Frank Crenshaw is the sailor with a crush on Schultzzy. Kay Michael is the actress Bob dated. Martha Randolph is Schultzzy’s husband-hunting friend.

Relatives: Tammy Marihugh (Bob’s niece, Tammy Johnson), Bonita Granville (Schultzzy’s cousin, Bertha), Charlie Herbert (Harvey and Ruth’s son, Tommy Helm).

The series ran on NBC from January 2, 1955 to September 25, 1955; on CBS from October 5, 1955 to September 19, 1957; and on NBC from September 22, 1957 to September 15, 1959.

Note: Love That Bob is the now established title for a series that was originally called The Bob Cummings Show. In both versions, the music is the same (as is Bob’s opening line: “Hold it, I think you’re gonna like this picture”). The only change is the title.

Cast: Bob Cummings (Bob Collins), Rosemary DeCamp (Margaret MacDonald), Dwayne Hickman (Chuck MacDonald), Ann B. Davis (Charmaine “Schultzzy” Schultz), King Donovan (Harvey Helm), Mary Lawrence (Ruth Helm), Charles Herbert (Tommy Helm), Joi Lansing (Shirley Swanson), Lyle Talbot (Paul Fonda), Diane Jergens (Francine Williams), Olive Sturgess (Carol Henning), Robert Ellis (Joe DePew; Chuck’s friend), Jeff Silver (Jimmy Lloyd), Nancy Kulp (Pamela Livingston), Dick Wesson (Frank Crenshaw; Schultzzy’s friend), Gloria Marshall (Mary Beth Hall; a model), Tammy Marihugh (Tammy Johnson), Ingrid Goude (Ingrid), Lisa Gaye (Colette DuBois), Bob Cummings (Josh Collins), Marjorie Bennett (Fanny Neumeyer; Margaret’s friend), Kathleen Freeman (Bertha Krause; Schultzzy’s friend), Rose Marie (Martha Randolph), Lola Albright (Kay Michael). Models: Donna Foster, Julie Bennett, Penny Edwards, Jean Moorhead, Katherine Hughes, Barbara Wilson, Lisa Davis, Carole Conn, Carol LeVegue, Jeanne Vaughn, Jan Harrison, June Kirby, Leigh Snowden, Patricia Blake, Jeanne Evans, Patricia Murlin, Gloria Robertson, Elaine Edwards, Rose Beaumont, Sylvia Lewis, Marjorie Tenny, Suzanne Alexander, Barbara Long. Announcer: Bill Baldwin. Theme: “Theme from the Bob Cummings Show,” by Mahlon Merrick.

4892 Love That Jill. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1958). “They ought to marry so they can argue legally,” say friends of Jill Johnson and Jack Gibson, the rival heads of all-female modeling agencies in New York City.

Jill, who owns Model Girls, Inc., and Jack, the head of the Gibson Girls Agency, are friendly enemies who snare each other’s accounts, publicity and models in an attempt to become the number one modeling agency in Manhattan (both cater to television, film and print ads that require gorgeous girls). Their constant attempts at skullduggery and their continual bickering over accounts has led to an unforeseen love that neither one is willing to admit to under normal circumstances.

To merge agencies or for one even to ask the other out on a date is impossible; hence, each devises elaborate schemes to acquire the other’s company — even if it means mixing business with pleasure.

Models Girls, Inc., is located at 670 Madison Avenue; Jill lives in apartment 14A at 1064 Park Avenue. She buys her clothes at Abercrombie and Fitch, and her favorite ploy to get Jack’s attention is to make him jealous by pretending to fall for handsome men.

Jack lives in an apartment at 1360 West 63rd Street, and the Gibson Girls Agency is located at 540 Madison Avenue. In TV Guide and other printed sources, Jack’s agency is called the House That Jacques Built (the name Gibson Girls Agency is seen on screen).

Ginger and Peaches are Jill’s top models (Ginger is the buxom, dumb blonde type; Peaches is the girl with the hourglass figure). Richard is Jill’s secretary (a former crewman at Harvard). Pearl is Jack’s secretary; and Brooklyn-born Monty Callahan, a former glass-jawed boxer who was called “One Round Callahan” (he never lasted more than one round) is Jack’s masseur. Lud Gluskin composed the “Love That Jill” theme.

Cast: Anne Jeffreys (Jill Johnson), Robert Sterling (Jack Gibson), Betty Lynn (Pearl), Jimmy Lydon (Richard), Barbara Nichols (Ginger), Kaye Elhardt (Peaches), Henry Kulky (Monte).

Living next door, at 325 North Robin Hood Road, is Ferguson Bruce and his wife, Jackie, a black couple from Passaic, New Jersey, who are the first to move into an all white neighborhood. Ferguson, a Republican, is the efficiency expert at Turner.

Peggy and Jackie quickly become friends; Charlie and Ferguson, on the other hand, are friendly but distrustful of each other. Racial prejudices are satirized as the couples attempt to live side by side and “follow the golden rule, love thy neighbor, you’ll find out that it’s really cool.”

The local bar hangout is Lenny’s Tap Room, and the Sherwood Forest Estates were named after the developer: he thought of himself as Robin Hood, only he stole from the poor and made himself rich.

Cast: Joyce Bulifant (Peggy Wilson), Ron Masak (Charlie Wilson), Janet MacLachlan (Jackie Bruce), Harrison Page (Ferguson Bruce), Milt Kamen (Murray Ferguson), Louis Guss (Louie Gordon). Theme Vocal: "Love Thy Neighbor" by Solomon Burke.

4894 Love with a Twist. (Pilot; Reality; ABC; 1/28/90). A proposed but unsold series that recreates tear-jerking, real-life love stories. The pilot presentations are: The Lost Wallet (with Sid Kane, Richard Israel, Louise Rapport, Kamala Lopez); The Vietnam Story (with Granville Ames, Ren Hanami, Ernest Harada); Brother and Sister (with Mark Bailey, Phil Bock, Darrah Meeley); Tony and Tatyana (with Diana Brooks, Ken Dugan, Tony Fusce); and Reuniting Parents (with Dort Clark, Ralna English, Rachel Laffer, Honey Lauren).

Host: Bruce Boxleitner.

4895 The Lovebirds. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/18/79). Janine and Al Burley are "The Lovebirds" of the title. They are newlyweds and struggling to survive on what Al makes as the manager of the produce department of a local supermarket. The unsold series was to follow their romantic ups and downs. In the pilot episode, Janine attempts to find a job, despite Al's objections to her working. Other Regulars: Patricia and Fred, their neighbors.

Cast: Lorna Patterson (Janine Burley), Louis Welch (Al Burley), Ellen Regan (Patricia Wexelblatt), Eugene Levy (Fred Wexelblatt). Theme Vocal: "The Lovebirds" by Bobby Van.

4896 Lovers and Friends. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1977). The dramatic story of two Point Clare, Chicago, families: the affluent Cushings and their middle-class neighbors, the Saxtons. The daily serial aired from January 3, 1977 to May 6, 1977 and aired 105 episodes.

Cast: Ron Rondell (Peter Cushing), Nancy Marchand (Edith Cushing), Flora Plumb (Eleanor Kimball), Susan Foster (Connie Ferguson), Patricia Estrin (Megan Cushing), Karen Philipp (Barbara Manners), Christine Jones (Amy Gifford), Daniel Heyes (Marlow), Patricia Englund (Josie Saxton), Bob Purvey (Rhett Saxton), David Ramsey (Rhett Saxton), Stephen Joyce (George Kimball), Richard Backus (Jason Saxton), Sophia Slocum (Margaret Barker), Vicky Dawson (Tessa Saxton), Rod Arrants (Austin Cushing), John Heffernan (Lester Saxton), David Abbott (Bentley Saxton), Diane Harper (Laurie Brewster).

4897 Lovers and Other Strangers. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/22/83). Events in the daily lives of the Delvecchios, a not-so-typical American family (parents Frank and Bea; their children, Mike, Mary and Jerry; Mike's wife, Susan; their children, Bruno and Marie; and Bea's sister, Pauline). In the pilot episode, Frank attempts to resolve the marital difficulties between Mike and Susan.

Cast: Harry Guardino (Frank Delvecchio), Carol Teitel (Bea Delvecchio), Brian Benben (Mike Delvecchio), Claudia Wells (Mary Clair Delvecchio), Alan Hayes (Jerry Delvecchio), Keri Houlihan (Marie Delvecchio), Helen Verbit (Pauline). Guest Cast: Bruce Kirby (Priest), Joanne Baron (Brenda).

4898 Lovers, Partners and Spies. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 8/17/88). Satin is a beautiful undercover agent and troubleshooter for Interpol (The International Police Force). She is partners with Jack Smith, but retires when she meets and later marries Ross Carlyle, an internationally famous auctioneer. Several months later, Jack reappears in Satin's life to ask her and Ross's help in catching a clever thief known as the Madonna, who is seeking a priceless chalice. Satin and Ross agree and the unsold series was to relate the trio's exploits as they battle crime in Europe. Originally titled Satin's Touch.

Cast: Lise Cutter (Satin Carlyle), Timothy Carhart (Jack Smith), Martyn Stanbridge (Ross Carlyle). Guest Cast: Julie Carmen (The Madonna), Benjamin Bratt (Madonna's aide).

4899 Loves Me, Loves Me Not. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1977). Jane Benson is a beautiful grammar school teacher. Dick Phillips is a klutzy newspaper reporter. They are also lovers and struggling to make it through the travails of a latter 1970s romance.

Jane is a level-headed girl and best friends with Sue; Jack doesn't mean to be a klutz, "things just happen." He is best friends with Tom. Sue thinks Jane can do better; Tom knows Dick has a real doll. But can Dick keep Jane? With Tom's help he tries to impress her. Can Jane keep Dick? She tries despite Sue's efforts to find her someone better. Stories relate Jane and Dick's efforts to make their relationship work while attempting to survive the advice of their friends.

Cast: Susan Dey (Jane Benson), Kenneth Gilman (Dick Phillips), Udana Power (Sue), Phyllis Glick (Sue; later), Art Metrano (Tom).

4900 Lovespring International. (Series; Comedy; Lifetime; 2006). Lovespring International is a Tarzana, California, based matchmaking firm that claims to be in posh Beverly Hills. It is owned by Victoria Ratchford and her staff are Lydia, Burke, Tiffany and Steve.

Lydia Mayhew is a matchmaker who can't seem to find the right man for herself and has settled on an on-going (now 20 years) relationship with a married man. Burke Kristopher seems to have failed at making a lasting relationship for himself as he is in a marriage of inconvenience. Tiffany Riley Clarke is the sexy but slightly dizzy receptionist; Steve Morris is the staff psychologist; and Alex Odom is the videotographer.

Stories, which are partially scripted, follow an improve cast who ad lib lines as they strive to make perfect matches (bring together romantically challenged individuals). The series is executive produced by Eric McCormack.

4901 Loving. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1983–1995). Fictional Corinth, Pennsylvania, is the setting for a serial about the lives, intrigues and loves of a group of people corrupted by wealth and power. See also The City (1995), the spin-off series.

Cast: Augusta Dabney (Isabella Alden), Meg Murray (Isabella Alden), Celeste Holm (Isabella Alden), Patricia Barry (Isabella Alden), Peter Brown (Roger Forbes), John Shearin (Roger Forbes), Patty Lotz (Ava Masters), Peter Radon (Tony Perelli), Richard McWilliams (Tony Perelli), Dorothy Stinette (Rose Donovan), George L. Martin (Warren Hodges), John Allen Nelson (Duke Rochelle), Alice Haining (Cecilia Thompson), Jane Powell (Rebecca Beecham), Colleen Dion (Cecilia Sowolsky), Mary

Lynn Blanks (Jenny Baylor), Kathleen Fisk (Kelly Conway), John Gabriel (Zack Conway), Teri Polo (Kristin Larsen), Jeff Trachta (Hunter Beldon), Mark Pinter (Dan Hollister), Alexandra Wilson (April Hathaway), Luke Perry (Ned Bates), Karen Chapman (Shana Vocheck), Jacqueline Courtney (Diane Winston), Lois Robbins (Christy Connor), Lisa Peluso (Ava Masters), Deborah Quayle (Carrie Davis), Vince Williams (Joe Morgan), Toni Ann Johnson (Tally Hindman), John Schneider (Larry Lamont), Roger Howarth (Kent Winslow), Daisy Fuentes (Tess), Eden Atwood (Staige Prince), Rebecca Gayheart (Hannah Mayberry), Michael Weatherly (Cooper Alden), Paul Anthony Stewart (Casey Bowman), Eric Woodall (Matthew Ford), Jessica Collins (Dinah Lee Alden), Laura Wright (Ally Bowman), Brian Fitzpatrick (Rick Alden), Kathryn Meisle (Juliet Crawford), Nancy Addison (Deborah Alden), Alimi Ballard (Frankie Hubbard), Catherine Hickland (Tess Huston), Thom Christopher (Dante Partou), Jordan Gray (Patricia Burnell), Eileen Herlie (Myrtle Fargate), Anders Hove (Cesar Faison), Ruth Warrick (Phoebe Tyler Wallingford), Larry Haines (Neil Warren), Marian Seldes (Denise Nostrand), Michael Cullen (John Rescott), Lisby Larson (Bonnie Davis), Debra Monk (Sandra Thorpe), Elise Neal (Janey Sinclair), Susan Pratt (Elizabeth Barnes), Tammy Grimes (Mrs. Haversham), Ted King (Danny Roberts), Teri Keane (Rose Donovan), Anthony Herrera (Dane Hammond), Christopher C. Fuller (Tim Sullivan), Shannon Eubanks (Ann Alden Forbes), Peter Davies (Father James Vocheck), Bryan Cranston (Douglas Donovan), Linda Cook (Egypt Jones Masters), Noelle Beck (Patricia McKenzie), Bernard Barrow (Louie Slavinski), Corey Page (Richard Wilkins), Marilyn McIntyre (Noreen Donovan), Susan Keith (Shana Burnell), Callan White (Ann Alden Forbes), Pamela Saunders (Charlotte Alden), David O'Brien (Harrison Sheffield), Steve Fletcher (Alan Howard), Alice Hirson (Lisa Helman), Jennifer Harmon (Lucetia Jones). Announcer: Bruce Brown.

4902 Low Man on the Totem Pole. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/1/64). Humorous events in the life of H. Allen Smith, a kind-hearted author-columnist. The pilot episode relates a typical day in Smith's life when he becomes involved with a prize fighter (Pepe). Other Regulars: Nelle, Allen's wife; and Mr. Turnbull, Allen's publisher.

Cast: Dan Dailey (H. Allen Smith), Diana Lynn (Nelle Smith), John McGiver (Mr. Turnbull). Guest Cast: Pedro Gonzalez-Gonzalez (Pepe Martinez), Cliff Norton (Pepe's manager), Irene Tedrow (Woman), Gloria Pall (Girl).

4903 Lowell Thomas Reporting. (Experimental; Newscast; NBC; 7/1/41). A one time only simulcast of Lowell Thomas's radio program for Sunoco Oil (broadcast live at 6:45 P.M.). Thomas was seated at a desk while reading the news; the only change from his radio program was that cans of Sunoco Oil were added so the product could be seen while the commercial message was given.

4904 Lucan. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1977–1978). In 1957 an infant is abandoned by his parents and left to die in the forests of northern Minnesota. The infant survives, however, and is raised by a pack of gray wolves. Ten years later a hunting party stumbles upon a strange creature: a humanlike child who eats, sleeps, hunts and howls like a wolf. Authorities are informed and an expedition is organized to find the wolf child.

October 10, 1967: The wolf boy is captured and brought to the University Research Center in California to begin his journey from the forest to civilization. He is watched over and taught by Dr. Donald (“Don”) Hoagland. Progress is slow, but on January 17, 1969, the first breakthrough occurs: the boy learns to eat at the table with utensils.

September 5, 1970: The day the boy got his name. When the boy is having difficulty placing geometric shapes in their appropriate places on a board, Don tells him, “You can, you can.” When the boy does do it, he says “Lu can, lu can.”

It is now 1977 and Lucan 20 years old. His is the first known case in which a human raised in the wild has been successfully treated and restored to human behavior. His senses are remarkably acute, especially his sense of smell. In his ten years of captivity, his sleeping patterns have not changed: his time of greatest activity is still night, and he wanders about restlessly, which reflects the hunting habits of his early childhood. His retreat is a small hill overlooking the university. Here he thinks and makes up stories about his parents.

Shortly after, the school’s board of directors tells Don that Lucan is still too wolf like and should be placed in a state sanitarium. Don protests, and all changes when Don is injured in a car accident. He speaks to Lucan: “You must leave this place. I’ve felt for some time you must go ... to find your parents.... Even if you never find them, you promised yourself some day you would search.... I can’t protect you anymore.” Lucan leaves the university and begins his search, taking what jobs he can and helping people along the way.

In the two month interval between telecasts of the first and second episodes, a dramatic change occurred: instead of Lucan’s leaving on his own to search for his parents, the revised storyline finds him escaping from the authorities who tried to keep him captive, fearing he would revert back to being a wolf. The university then hires a bounty hunter named Prentiss to capture him. After another short absence, the series returned with a new storyline: Lucan’s adventures as a fugitive from justice. (When two thieves break into the university lab seeking drugs, they encounter Lucan. A fight ensues and one of the thieves is killed. When Lucan is unjustly accused of murder, he escapes to find the only man who can clear him — the other thief. Hindering Lucan’s efforts is Prentiss, now a police lieutenant relentlessly pursuing him.) The series ended before Lucan could find his parents or clear his name. Theme: “Lucan,” by Fred Karlin; later version theme by J.J. Johnson.

Cast: Kevin Brophy (Lucan), John Randolph (Don Hoagland), Don Gordon (Prentiss), Todd Olsen (Lucan, age 10). Narrator: John Randolph.

4905 Lucas Tanner. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1974–1975). A realistic portrayal of student–teacher relationships as seen through the eyes of Lucas Tanner, an English instructor at Harry S. Truman Memorial High School in Webster Groves, Missouri. Margaret Blumenthal is the principal (later replaced by John Hamilton); Glendon Farrell is Lucas’s young neighbor; Grace Baden is Glendon’s grandmother (with whom he lives); Jaytee, Cindy, Terry and Wally are students. Lucas has a dog named O’Casey (later called Bridget).

Cast: David Hartman (Lucas Tanner), Rosemary Murphy (Margaret Blumenthal), John Randolph (John Hamilton), Robbie Rist (Glendon Farrell), Alan Abelew (Jaytee Druman), Trish Sodick (Cindy Damin), Kimberly Beck (Terry), Michael Dwight-Smith (Wally), June Dayton (Grace Baden).

4906 The Lucie Arnaz Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1985). WPLE-AM is a radio station nicknamed “Advice Radio 88” (88 KHz is its location on the dial). It is located in Manhattan at 1700 Broadway (at 53rd Street), and 555-WPLE is its advice line phone number. While the station apparently has many programs, we know of only one: The Love and Lucas Show, an afternoon comedy and advice program that combines the psychological advice of Dr. Jane Lucas with the comic talents of Larry Love and his invisible dog, Tippy.

Jane lives in Apartment 4A on East 70th Street. She graduated from New York University and also has a daily advice column, “Dear Jane,” in the Daily Mirror. While Jane seems capable of helping other people resolve their difficulties, she can’t seem to work out her own problems — hence the situation for stories.

Thirty-one-year-old Jane plays shortstop on the station’s unnamed softball team; the slogan for The Love and Lucas Show is “Your spot for music and mental health in the afternoon.”

Jim Gordon is the station manager; Jill is Jane’s sister (she lives in New Jersey) and Sarah and Billy are Jill’s children.

The series is based on the British series, Agony (with Maureen Lipman as Jane Lucas, an advice columnist who can help people with their problems but is unable to solve her own). Jack Elliott composed the theme.

Cast: Lucie Arnaz (Dr. Jane Lucas), Todd Waring (Larry Love), Tony Roberts (Jim Gordon), Lee Bryant (Jill), Melissa Joan Hart (Sarah), Sandy Schwartz (Billy), Gwyn Gillis (Peggy Gordon, Jim's wife).

4907 The Lucille Ball–Desi Arnaz Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1957–1960). A continuation of I Love Lucy in an hour format but broadcast as 13 episodes of Desilu Playhouse. Stories follow Lucy and Ricky Ricardo and their friends, Fred and Ethel Mertz, as they travel to various places and become involved with a different guest star in each episode. The episodes are: “Lucy Takes a Cruise to Havana” (11/16/57), “The Celebrity Next Door” (12/3/57), “Lucy Hunts Uranium” (1/3/58), “Lucy Wins a Racehorse” (2/3/58), “Lucy Goes to Sun Valley” (4/14/58), “Lucy Goes to Mexico” (10/6/58), “Lucy Makes Room for Danny” (12/11/58; with Danny Thomas and Marjorie Lord from Make Room for Daddy), “Lucy Goes to Alaska” (2/9/59), “Lucy Wants a Career” (4/13/59), “Lucy’s Summer Vacation” (6/8/59), “Milton Berle Hides Out at the Ricardos” (9/25/59), “The Ricardos Go to Japan” (11/27/59) and “Lucy Meets the Moustache” (4/1/60; with guest Ernie Kovacs).

Cast: Lucille Ball (Lucy Ricardo), Desi Arnaz (Ricky Ricardo), William Frawley (Fred Mertz), Vivian Vance (Ethel Mertz), Richard Keith (Little Ricky Ricardo).

4908 Lucky. (Series; Comedy; FX; 2003). Michael Linkletter could be considered one lucky man: he won one million dollars in a poker game. However, he could also be considered unlucky: a year later his gambling addiction cost him the million dollars. Michael has tried to overcome his addiction but all efforts have failed — especially since he has mounting bills to pay. One day Michael finds a $100 gambling chip and devises a plan: parlay that chip into another million dollars. Stories follow Michael as he tries to recreate his lucky streak by competing in high stakes, world championship poker games.

Cast: John Corbett (Michael Linkletter), Ever Carradine (Theresa McWatt), Dan Hedaya (Joey Leggs), Kevin Breznahan (Danny Martin), Blaine Pate (Father Jack), Billy Gardell (Vinny Sticarelli).

4909 Lucky Letters. (Series; Game; NBC; 1950). The object calls for contestants to unscramble words from clues given through music, visual aids or verse. The players with the most correct answers are the winners and receive merchandise prizes. The series ran from June 1, 1950 to July 5, 1950.

Host: Frankie Masters. Regulars: Phyllis Myles and the West Twins.

4910 Lucky Louie. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 2006). A man named Louie (no last name given) is a man without a dream (or even much ambition). He is married to Kim and is the father of five-year-old

Lucy. Louie works part time in a muffler shop and cares for Lucy while Kim works full time as a nurse (to secure benefits). Stories follow the life of a man who constantly complains about life but has no ambition to change it.

Kim and Louie have been married for seven years and it is Kim who wears the pants in the family. She is the breadwinner and she doesn’t take “crap” from anyone. She is very foul-mouthed (as is Louie) but has set strict ideals for her family to live by.

Mike and Tina are Louie and Kim’s best friends, a married couple who like Louie and Kim, live a simple life in a modest apartment (although here it is Mike who is the breadwinner). Walter and Estelle are also their neighbors, an African-American couple with a daughter named Lisa. Jerry, Kim’s eccentric brother, also lives in her building. He is somewhat immature and constantly in need of Kim’s direction. Rich is Louie’s friend, a schemer who lives with his mother.

The HBO press release for this show claims, “Welcome to the end of the sitcom as you know it. They’ve been a staple of commercial networks since The Honeymooners but there’s never been a situation like this before.”

First of all, situation comedies dominated TV long before The Honeymooners (My Little Margie, I Love Lucy, My Friend Irma and Easy Aces, to name a few). And secondly, the only real thing that distinguishes Lucky Louie from other sitcoms is its over abundant use of gutter language (just too much, even for a cable series) and its simulated sex scenes (done with clothes on). Take away the filthy language and simulated sex and you have the typical sitcom.

Cast: Louis C.K. (Louie), Pamela Adion (Kim), Kelly Gould (Lucy), Mike Hagerty (Mike), Laura Kightlinger (Tina), Jerry Minor (Walter), Jim Norton (Ellen), Rick Shapior (Jerry).

4911 Lucky Partners. (Series; Game; NBC; 1958). Two contestants, plus each member of the studio audience are handed a sheet of paper with the word LUCKY printed on one side. Players are then asked to use their own dollar bills and write the last five digits of the serial number under the word LUCKY. The two studio audience players whose numbers match the stage players join them and together they compete for merchandise prizes via a general knowledge question-and-answer session. Winners are the players with the most correct answers.

Host: Carl Cordell.

4912 Lucky Pup. (Series; Children; CBS; 1948–1951). A puppet series about an evil magician named Foodini and his fumbling assistant, Pinhead, and their misguided efforts to steal the five-million dollar inheritance left to a dog named Lucky Pup. Characters are the puppet creations of Hope and Morey Bunin.

Hostess: Doris Brown. Voices-Puppeteers: Hope Bunin, Morey Bunin.

4913 Lucy: Daughter of the Devil. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2007). Lucy is the 18-year-old daughter of Satan. She has just graduated from art school and has joined her father in a business venture: operating a Tequila Sally restaurant. Unknown to Lucy she is the Anti-Christ. The Vatican is aware of Lucy and has dispatched the Special Sister and Special Fathers to find and destroy her before she can fulfill her destiny (when she reaches 21 years of age).

Lucy's boyfriend is Jesus (pronounced hey-soos) who is actually Jesus Christ in His second coming. Jesus, called D.J. Jesus, is a D.J. known as "The hippest D.J. in San Francisco."

Satan has become aware of D.J. Jesus' real identity but is stopped from killing him by Lucy (but he doesn't hesitate to tempt him into evil). Stories follow Lucy as she dates D.J. Jesus (still unaware of her destiny) and run her father's restaurant; and the efforts of the Special Sister and Fathers to find Lucy before Lucy changes the course of the world. Becky is the Devil's advocate. The computer animated series airs on Cartoon Network's Adult Swim segment.

Voice Cast: Melissa Bardin Galasky (Lucyl/Becky), H. John Benjamin (Satan), Jon Glaser (D.J. Jesus), Eugene Mirman (Special Sister), Sam Seder (Special Father).

4914 The Lucy Monroe Program. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 7/28/39). Songs with singer Lucy Monroe and dancing by the team of Josephine and Albert Butler. Edward Sobol produced and directed the program.

4915 The Lucy Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1962–1968). Lucy Carmichael is a widow with two children, Chris and Jerry. She lives at 132 Post Road in Danfield, a town in New York State. She shares the house with her divorced friend, Vivian Bagley and her son, Sherman.

Lucy and Vivian are former Navy WACS who met during World War II. Vivian is level-headed; Lucy is disorganized and desperate for money (she lives off a trust fund established by her late husband at the Danfield National Bank). The money, however, never seems to be enough and her misguided attempts to acquire additional cash — by whatever legal means she can — is the basic concept of the series from 1962–1965.

In the fall of 1965, Lucy moves to San Francisco to begin a new life. She acquires a home at 700 Gower Street and finds a job as the secretary to Theodore J. Mooney, the vice president of the Westland Bank (in the prior version, he was the president of the Danfield First National Bank). Chris and Jerry are not seen (Chris is said to be in college; Jerry has been sent to military school). Vivian had married prior to the format change and is now Vivian Bunson (she appears several times as a guest). Mary Jane Lewis becomes Lucy's new friend (and co-hort in mischief).

Other Regulars: Hughie, Marge's husband; Ted, Jr. and Bob Mooney, Theodore's sons; Harrison Cheever, the president of the Westland Bank; Mr. Barnsdahl, the president of the Danfield Bank (before Mr. Mooney); Harry Connors, Lucy's friend; and Marge, Lucy's sister.

Cast: Lucille Ball (Lucy Carmichael), Candy Moore (Chris Carmichael), Jimmy Garrett (Jerry Carmichael), Vivian Vance (Vivian Bagley), Ralph Hart (Sherman Bagley), Gale Gordon (Theodore J. Mooney), Charles Lane (Mr. Barnsdahl), Dick Martin (Harry Connors), Mary Jane Croft (Mary Jane Lewis), Roy Roberts (Harrison Cheever), Janet Waldo (Marge), Peter Marshall (Hughie Lewis), Eddie Applegate (Bob Mooney), Michael J. Pollard (Ted Mooney, Jr.).

4916 Luis. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2003). Park Avenue Donuts is a pastry shop in New York's Spanish Harlem. It is owned by Luis (no last name given) a 37-year-old constantly harassed man who is longing for a life of peace and quiet.

Luis is divorced from Isabella and is the father of Marlena (Called Marly). Perhaps Luis's problems began when Marly was eight years old and pretended to be a cat and would eat out of a bowl on the floor. Luis owns the building that houses his store. Marly lives in the building with her free-loading boyfriend Greg, a "half Dutch, half Scottish-Irish" artist who hopes to make it big selling his paintings; in short, he's a penniless artist.

Despite the fact that Luis is a landlord and shop owner, he barely has enough money to survive. But also vying for a piece of his near no income is Isabella, who works as a real estate agent. Luis calls Greg (whom he really doesn't like, "Twinkie"); Marly calls Luis "Pop." Luis's one pride and joy is his 1982 Oldsmobile Delta 88 (he calls it Ginger).

Other Regulars: Zhing Zhang, a Chinese delivery boy who doesn't speak English; T.K., the schemer who sells "merchandise" he finds in Luis's dumpster; and Mrs. Gallagher, Luis's obnoxious Irish tenant; Rickie, Luis's counter boy.

Cast: Luis Guzman (Luis), Diana-Maria Riva (Isabella), Jaclyn DeSantis (Marly), Wes Ramsey (Greg), Charlie Day (Richie), Reggie Lee (Zhing Zhang), Malcolm Barrett (T.K.), Eve Brenner (Mrs. Gallagher).

4917 Luke and the Tenderfoot. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/6 and 8/13/65). Luke Herkimer is a crooked wagon peddler. Pete Queen is his partner, a young tenderfoot. The unsold series was to relate their adventures as they peddle their wares throughout the Old West. In part one, of a two-part story, Luke talks Pete into posing as "The Boston Kid," a famous boxer, in an attempt to win money by betting against Pete. In the second story, Luke and Pete come to the aid of a town besieged by gun-fighters.

Cast: Edgar Buchanan (Luke Herkimer), Carleton Carpenter (Pete Queen). Guest Cast: Charles Bronson (John Wesley Hardin), Richard Jaeckel (Hardin's sidekick), Michael Landon (Tough).

4918 Lum and Abner. (Test Film; Comedy; CBS; 11/2/49). A television adaptation of the radio series about Lum Edwards and Abner Peabody, the owners of the Jot 'Em Down General Store in Pine Ridge, Arkansas. The pilot simply relates Lum and Abner's homespun humor as they react with their friends and customers of the store (Moze, Miss Pitts of the Eureka Moth-Spraying Company, the Widow Abernathy and Doc Miller).

Cast: Chester Lauck (Lum Edwards), Norris Goff (Abner Peabody), Andy Devine (Moze), ZaSu Pitts (Miss Pitts), Edgar Stehli (Doc Miller), Bess McCammon (the Widow Abernathy). Announcer: Wendell Niles.

4919 Lum and Abner. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 2/20/51). A second pilot (see prior title) based on the radio series about Lum and Abner, the owners of the Jot 'Em Down General Store in Pine Ridge, Arkansas. Although intended as a CBS series, only the pilot ran — and only in Los Angeles (it was used to fill The Alan Young Show time slot when Alan went to New York to do his live show and no kinescope was available for L.A. station KTTV to show).

Cast: Chester Lauck (Lum Edwards), Norris Goff (Abner Peabody), Andy Devine (Moze).

4920 The Lush Life. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1996). Margot Hines and Georgia Sanders (called George) have been best friends since childhood. They attended the same schools and are now adults and share an apartment together. The girls work as secretaries and despite their lack of riches, attempt to live a life well above their means. While not party girls, they feel that by scrimping and saving they can enjoy a life they feel they should be living. Stories relate the level-headed Margo and slightly ditzzy George's efforts to live the lush life. The series ran for three episodes.

Cast: Lori Petty (Georgia "George" Sanders), Karyn Parsons (Margot Hines), Concetta Tomei (Ann Hines), Fab Filippo (Hameton Ford Foster), Khalil Kain (Lance Battista), John Ortiz (Nelson "Margarita" Marquez), Sullivan Walker (Hal Gardner).

4921 The Lux Video Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; NBC; 1950–1959). Quality dramatic presentations sponsored by Lux soap products. In 1958 the series switched from sixty minutes to a half-hour and became The Lux Playhouse. The series is based on The Lux Radio Theater and ran on CBS (60 minutes) from October 2, 1950 to June 24, 1954; on NBC (60 minutes) from August 3, 1954 to September 12, 1957; and on NBC (as a half-hour series) from October 3, 1958 to September 18, 1959; 354 episodes were produced.

Host: James Mason (1954–1955), Otto Kruger (1955–1956), Gordon MacRae (1956–1957), Ken Carpenter (1957). Performers Include: Rod Taylor, Polly Bergen, Jane Wyman, Phyllis Coates, Esther Williams, Julie Adams, Joanne Dru, Ann Sheridan, Bonita Granville, Shirley Jones, Nelson Eddy, Jeanette MacDonald, Maureen O'Sullivan, Gene Lockhart, Forrest Tucker, Sallie Brophy, Joan Caulfield, Ralph Meeker, Carol Ohmart, Raymond Burr, Vera Miles, Martha Hyer, Lynn Bari, Mona Freeman, Anne Bancroft, Barbara Rush, Patricia Crowley, David Janssen, Karen Sharpe, Diane Jergens, Gloria Talbot, Cloris Leachman, Vincent Price, Brian Keith, Marilyn Erskine, Claire Trevor, Ann Harding, Beverly Garland, Miriam Hopkins, Nancy Gates, Lee J. Cobb, Edward G. Robinson, Ronald Reagan, Laraine Day, Margaret O'Brien, Janet Gaynor, Peggy Ann Garner, Angela Lansbury, Celeste Holm, Veronica Lake, Pat O'Brien, Robert Preston.

Cast: Rory Calhoun (Captain Victor Kihlgren). Guest Cast: Jan Sterling (Selena Royce), Michael Davis (Digo), Carroll O'Connor (Dr. Lyman Savage), Ludwig Donath (Jan Veltman), Ed Kemmer (Sam Barrett), Oscar Beregi (La Guerne), Danny Scholl (Mr. Marion). Host: James Stewart.

4923 The Lyon's Den. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2003). A short-lived series (six of 13 episodes aired) about Jack Turner, the idealistic offspring of a prestigious line of politicians who works as a lawyer with the firm of Lyon, Lacrosse and Levine. Stories follow Jack as he and his associates tackle difficult cases.

4924 M Squad. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1957–1960). Frank Ballinger is a special plainclothes detective lieutenant with the M Squad Division of the Chicago Police Department. He is a no-nonsense cop with a true dedication to his job. Stories follow his investigations into cases that surpass the requirements of systematic law enforcement procedure.

Cast: Lee Marvin (Lt. Frank Ballinger), Paul Newlan (Captain Grey). Narrator: Lee Marvin. Theme Music: “M Squad” by Count Basie.

4925 M Station: Hawaii. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 6/10/80). M (Makai) Station is a privately funded oceanographic research development company working off the coast of Hawaii. The unsold series was to relate the exploits of its five-member team (Dana, Andrew, Karen, Luana and Truck) as they tackle hazardous assignments. In the pilot episode, the team attempts to retrieve secret information contained in a sunken soviet submarine.

4926 Ma and Pa. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/7/74). Ma and Pa, as they are known, are a young-at-heart elderly couple who live in a quiet Chicago suburb. They have three grown daughters (Dorothy, Celia and Emily) and many problems as their daughters try to run their lives. In the pilot episode, Ma and Pa ask a priest to perform the Catholic wedding ceremony they have always wanted; but complications set in when Dorothy, Celia and Emily think the priest is coming over to administer the last rites. Derived from the Broadway play Twigs by George Furth.

Cast: Mary Wickes (Ma), Arthur Space (Pa), Dorothy Loudon (Dorothy), Marian Hailey (Celia), Barbara Sharma (Emily), Bruce Davison (Priest; guest role).

4927 Mabel and Max. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/31/87). Seeking to further her career as an actress, 24-year-old Maxine “Max” Tanner leaves Cedar Rapids and heads for New York City. There, she meets and befriends Mabel Oberdine, a 70-year-old veteran who takes her under her wing. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they seek work. The pilot episode focuses on Mabel’s efforts to find a job or face the prospect of moving to New Jersey to live with her sister. Other Regulars: Harry, Mabel’s agent; and Paul, Mabel’s son.

Cast: Geraldine Fitzgerald (Mabel Oberdine), Mary B. Ward (Maxine “Max” Tanner), Shelly

4930 The Macabans. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 1/19/76). The pilot film for How the West Was Won about the Macabans, a Virginia homesteading family, as they attempt to establish a new life on the Great Plains during the mid-1860s.

Cast: James Arness (Zeb Macabhan), Eva Marie Saint (Kate Macabhan), Richard Kiley (Timothy Macabhan), Bruce Boxleitner (Seth Macabhan), Kathryn Holcomb (Laura Macabhan), William Kirby Cullen (Jeb Macabhan), Vicki Schreck (Jessie Macabhan). Guest Cast: Frank Ferguson (Grandpa Macabhan), Ann Doran (Grandma Macabhan), Gene Evans (Dutton), Vic Mohica (Vic), Ben Wilson (Jethro), Mel Stevens (Doc Dodd), Rudy Diaz (Chief Bear Dance), John Crawford (Hale Crowley). Narrator: William Conrad.

Cast: Jane Russell (Brandy MacCreedy). Guest Cast: Don Durant (Nicky Weston), Sean McClory (Aristotle). Also: Bill Erwin, Ned Glass, Jonathan Harris.

4932 MacGruder and Loud. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985). Malcolm MacGruder is a patrol car officer with the L.A.P.D. Jennifer Loud is his partner. Jennifer, however, is not only a police officer but married to Malcolm and living a lie. Departmental rules prohibit married couples from working together and, to continue to be with each on and off the job, they quietly married, concealed the “evidence” from officials and have even rented separate apartments in the same building.

Malcolm lives in Apartment 2A at 165 North Veranda; Jennifer resides in Apartment 2B. While off duty and certain that no one will catch them, they actually live in Malcolm's apartment (the bookcase in Malcolm's apartment has been secretly converted into a revolving door to allow access to both apartments).

Jennifer, who likes to be called Jenny, is the more sensible of the two — on and off the job. Jenny likes to patrol at a steady pace (and avoid any confrontations if possible; she especially hates a Code 3 — “They’re too dangerous,” she says). Malcolm, while not exactly gung ho, is more action oriented and, despite what Jenny feels, hopes to find excitement by “kicking some bad guy butt.” Stories relate their efforts to perform as a team and keep their marriage a secret. Paul Chihara composed the theme.

Cast: John Getz (Malcolm MacGruder), Kathryn Harrold (Jennifer Loud), Frank McCarthy (Sgt. Bob Myhrum), Arlen Dean Snyder (Sgt. Jim Egi), Ted Ross (Det. Don Debbin), Lee de Broux (Sgt. Hanson), Rick Rossovich (Sgt. Geller), Susan Tyrrel (Mary Margaret Myhrum; Bob's wife).

4933 MacGyver. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1985–1991). Angus (“Mac”) MacGyver is opposed to firearms and relies heavily on his imagination and duct tape. He is a survival expert and scientific genius who tackles seemingly impossible missions for the government (Mac first worked for Western Tech, then U.S. Intelligence, the Company and finally the Phoenix Foundation).

Mac was born in Mission City. His high school sweetheart was Ellen Stewart (Mary Ann Pascal), and during his college summer vacations, he worked as an usher at Met baseball stadium. Mac is a vegetarian and lived on a houseboat. When the boat was destroyed by a fire (1991), Mac moved to a loft in Los Angeles owned by a sculptor named Melvin Krasney (Adrian Sparks). The second half of the two part episode “Goodnight, MacGyver” (11/18/91) revealed Mac's first name to be Angus. He previously had no first name; he was called “Stace” MacGyver on a preproduction press release; “Mac” by his friends; and “Bud” by his grandfather.

Peter (“Pete”) Thornton is Mac's superior; Nikki Carpenter is Mac's friend and occasional assistant. Jack Dalto is Mac's misadventure-prone friend, a pilot who runs the Dalton Air Service. Maria Romburg appeared as Mac's romantic interest for a short time in 1990.

The series' last episode, “The Stringer,” was broadcast as a special on 4/25/92. In it MacGyver meets Shawn A. Molloy, the son he never knew he had. Shawn, who uses the nickname Sam, is the son of Kate Molloy (Lisa Savage), Mac's college sweetheart. Kate, a photo-journalist, was killed by the Chinese while investigating the democratic movement in China. Her son, nine years old at the time (played by Nicholas Matus), survived and later became a photo-journalist. While investigating a case involving smuggled goods from China, Mac and Sam meet. The A in Sam's name stands for Angus and in a locket he carries a picture of his mother and a man who was unknown to him, until now, MacGyver. After completing the assignment, Mac leaves the Phoenix Foundation to spend time with his son.

Relatives: John Anderson (Mac's grandfather, Harry Jackson), Michele B. Chan (Mac's foster daughter, Sue Ling), Penelope Windust and Linda Darlow (Pete's ex-wife, Connie Thornton), Scott Coffey (Pete's son, Michael Thornton).

Flashbacks: Sean Wohland and Shawn Donahue (Mac as a boy), Phil Redrow and Martin Milner (Mac's father, James MacGyver), Sheila Moore (Mac's mother, Ellen MacGyver), Jan Jordan (Harry's wife).

Theme: “MacGyver,” by Randy Edelman.

Cast: Richard Dean Anderson (Angus MacGyver), Dana Elcar (Peter Thornton), Bruce McGill (Jack Dalton), Brigitta Stenberg (Maria Romburg), Dalton James (Shawn A. Molloy), Elyssa Davalos (Nikki Carpenter).

4934 Mack and Myer for Hire. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1963). Two hapless men, known only as Mack and Myer, are craftsmen with only one ambition in life: to succeed in the two-man business they have established: Mack and Myer for Hire. Stories relate their fumbling attempts to complete the jobs they acquire. The series, one of the last of the 15-minute series to be produced, aired 200 episodes.

Cast: Mickey Deems (Mack), Joey Faye (Myer).

4935 MacKenzie. (Series; Drama; The Entertainment Channel; 1982–1983). The British-produced series, which spans nineteen years (1955–1974) focuses on the life of Robert MacKenzie, a ruthless and ambitious businessman, and the fate of the three families (MacKenzies, Isaacs and Kovacs) he draws into a destructive web of love and hatred through the reckless pursuit of his desires.

Cast: Jack Galloway (Robert MacKenzie), Kara Wilson (Jean MacKenzie), Derek Gray (Jamie MacKenzie), Andrew Gray (Jamie MacKenzie), Maggie James (Marie MacKenzie), Michael McLaughlin (Duncan MacKenzie), David Donaldson (Duncan MacKenzie), Lynda Bellington (Ruth Isaacs), Toby Salaman (David Isaacs), Debra Langerman (Lisa Isaacs), Harriet Collins (Lisa Isaacs), Tracey Ullman (Lisa Isaacs), Richard Marner (George Kovacs), Sheila Ruskin (Diana Crawley).

4936 The MacKenzies of Paradise Cove. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1979). Each Sunday before dinner, Frank and Laura MacKenzie would go sailing. One Sunday afternoon in 1978, a tragic accident claims their lives and leaves their five children, Bridget, Kevin, Celia, Michael and Timothy, orphans.

When authorities threaten to break up the family by sending the children to orphanages, the MacKenzie children convince local fisherman Cuda Weber to pretend to be their uncle, William ("Willie") MacKenzie, so the Child Welfare Department will allow them to live together. Stories, set in Hawaii, follow the adventures of the five MacKenzie children as they struggle to remain together as a family.

Cuda owns the boat, the Viking. He held jobs as "dishwasher, grease monkey, bartender, outhouse builder and fish cleaner." He now lives in a cabin by the sea in Oahu and his favorite hangout is Flora's Pool Hall (Ethel Azama plays Flora).

The children live in a house on Paradise Cove and buy their food at Chang's Groceries. Bridget, called "Missy" by Cuda, is the oldest daughter (17). She had a job as a model for Pippa's Fashions, but quit when she was asked to wear a string bikini "and didn't want to let it all hang out." She later held a job as a cocktail waitress at O'Toole's (assigned to station one) but was let go when it was discovered she was underage.

Celia and Michael started a fruit punch business but were busted by the police when it was discovered that they had spiked the punch with liquor (unaware of what liquor was, nine-year-old Celia used it to give the punch some flavor; they were fined $150). Timothy, whom Cuda calls "Champ," is the youngest MacKenzie (age six) and believes that Cuda really is his Uncle Willie.

"Big" Ben Kalikini is Cuda's friend; Little Ben is his son; and Barney is another friend of Cuda's. In the original pilot film, Stickin' Together (ABC, 4/14/78), Sean Thomas Roche played Kevin MacKenzie, the oldest boy. Theme: "The MacKenzies of Paradise Cove," by John Rubinstein.

Cast: Clu Gulager (Cuda Weber), Lory Walsh (Bridget MacKenzie), Shawn Stevens (Kevin MacKenzie), Randi Kiger (Celia MacKenzie), Sean Marshall (Michael MacKenzie), Keith Mitchell (Timothy MacKenzie), Moe Keale ("Big" Ben Kalikini), Sean Tyler Hall ("Little" Ben Kalikini), Scott Kingston (Richie Kalikini), Leinaala Heine (Ben's wife), Harry Chang (Barney).

4937 MacKenzie's Raiders. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1958). Texas during the 1870s is the setting. The story of Colonel Ranald S. MacKenzie, an undercover agent for the U.S. Fourth Cavalry, as he attempts to end the reign of terror begun by marauding Mexican renegades.

Cast: Richard Carlson (Ranald S. MacKenzie). Also: Louis Jean Heydt, Morris Ankrum, Brett King, Jim Bridges, Charles Boax, Kenneth Alton. Music Theme: "MacKenzie's Raiders" by Bernard Bolmer.

4938 MacLeish and the Rented Kid. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/28/75). A proposed series, also known as Mac, about a 12-year-old boy (Augie) who lives with a single newspaper cartoonist named Mac

MacLeish. Augie is the son of Mac's best friend, a widowed foreign correspondent who is never at home and the project was to relate Mac's efforts to care for the mischievous Augie. Other Regulars: Suzy, Mac's girlfriend; and Hal, Mac's friend, a wealthy cartoonist.

Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Mac MacLeish), Jimmy Baio (Augie), Marcia Rodd (Suzy), Shelly Berman (Hal Stark), John Myhers (Mac's publisher).

4939 MacNamara's Band. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/14/77). A spoof of World War II adventure films. Seeking a squad of undercover agents for assignments too dangerous for their own agents, the U.S. government gives five con artists (Johnny MacNamara, Zoltan, Gaffner, Milgrim and Aggie) a choice: spend time in prison or perform hazardous assignments behind enemy lines. The group choose to perform the assignments and the unsold series was to follow their blundering efforts to complete their missions. In the pilot episode, Johnny and his band travel to Norway to save the U.S. fleet from an ambush by lurking German U-boats. See also MacNamara's Band II and MacNamara's Band III.

Cast: John Byner (Johnny MacNamara), Sid Haig (Zoltan), Bruce Kirby, Sr. (Gaffney), Joseph Sicari (Milgrim), Lefty Pedroski (Aggie). Guest Cast: Denise Galik (Hedy), Henry Polic II (Schnell), Joe Mell (Dr. Fuchtenstein), Ben Wright (General Grosshtecker).

4940 MacNamara's Band II. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 12/5/77). Johnny MacNamara is a New York City police officer who, with four fellow officers (identified only as Zoltan, Gaffney, Frankie Milano and Aggie), are a great source of discontent to the department and have been dubbed "The dirty one-third of a dozen." When World War II erupts, the U.S. government steps in and recruits "MacNamara's Band" as special agents for assignments no one else will take. In the second pilot (see also MacNamara's Band and MacNamara's Band III), called "Operation Dubrovnik," the band receives their first assignment (cleverly concealed in the luncheon menu at Lindy's): go to Yugoslavia and rescue Dr. Beshnokov, a scientist being held by the Nazis.

Cast: John Byner (Johnny MacNamara), Sid Haig (Zoltan), Bruce Kirby, Sr. (Gaffney), Joe Pantoliano (Frankie Milano), Steve Doubet (Aggie). Guest Cast: Albert Salmi (Jovan), Janice Heiden (Olga), Peter Elbling (Dr. Beshnokov), Geoffrey Lewis (Colonel Steinholtz), Martine Getty (Mrs. Beshnokov), Lewis Arquette (Corporal Schumacher).

4941 MacNamara's Band III. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/10/78). A third pilot (see also MacNamara's Band and MacNamara's Band II) for a series about five cuckoo New York City police officers (Johnny MacNamara, Zoltan, Gaffner, Frankie Milano and Aggie) who are recruited by the U.S. government as undercover agents during World War II. In the third pilot, “Stop the Falcon,” the band’s assignment, whether they care to accept it or not, is to keep a brilliant general (Wilhelm Zimhoff) from leaving Germany to take command of the forces that will invade Italy. Complications ensue when Frankie encounters the general’s beautiful daughter (Helga) and forgets why he came to Germany; and Johnny, who wishes he never came to Germany when an overwhelming Amazon (Hildegard) decides to keep him as a pet.

Cast: John Byner (Johnny MacNamara), Sid Haig (Zoltan), Bruce Kirby, Sr. (Gaffney), Joe Pantoliano (Frankie Milano), Steve Doubet (Aggie). Guest Cast: Albert Paulsen (Wilhelm Zimhoff), Laurette Spang (Helga Zimhoff), Ron Soble (Schlessler), Kate Murtaugh (Hildegard Hochmuser), Bruce Glover (Diegel), Joe Medalis (Kroger).

4942 Mad About You. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1992–1999). One Sunday evening in December of 1989, Paul Buchman stops at a newsstand to buy the New York Times. There is only one copy left, and he is about to pay for it when a girl named Jamie Stemple appears, seeking the Times also. She tells Paul that she needs the paper because it contains her parents’ obituary (“Beams fell on them during an earthquake”). Jamie is very pretty, has a very sexy voice and Paul halfheartedly believes her story; he gives her the paper. As Jamie leaves, she drops a dry cleaning receipt with her name on it. That night, while with a friend, Paul checks the obit page of the Times and sees no Stemple — “I knew she was lying.” The following day, Paul picks up Jamie’s dry cleaning (he told the cleaner he was Jamie’s houseboy, Coco, to find out where she works) and tracks her down. Jamie is a bit distrustful of Paul (having just broken up with a guy), but Paul knows this is the girl for him.

After talking, Jamie feels Paul may be the man she is seeking and invites him to the office Christmas party. They learn they are literally neighbors. Paul resides at 129 West 81st Street (Apartment 5B) and Jamie across the street at 142 West 81st Street (Apartment 11C). The strangers brought together by a newspaper begin dating and marry in 1992 (they are married five months when the series begins).

The newlyweds take up residence in Jamie’s apartment; Paul sublets his to Kramer (Michael Richards from the series Seinfeld). Jamie is 30 years old and works as regional vice president at a public relations firm called Ferrah-Gantz on Madison Avenue. She was born in New Haven, Connecticut, and attended Yale University; her father calls her “Peanut.” Jamie likes to be liked by other people; she gets extremely upset if people don’t like her and goes out of her way to impress them so they will like her (in high school, Jamie was known as “the Stemple sister who showed a boy her boobs to be liked”).

When she is laid off Jamie and her friend, Fran, start their own PR firm (Buchman and Devanow).

Paul is a documentary filmmaker and owns his own company (Buchman Films) in Manhattan. He was born in New York City and attended NYU Film School. Riff’s Bar is their favorite watering hole. Paul later works for the Explorer Channel.

Dr. Mark Devanow and his wife, Fran, are Paul and Jamie’s friends (they live downtown on 2nd Avenue). Mark is a gynecologist and called “Snookie” by Fran. Lila Stemple is Jamie’s sister; and Gus and Theresa Stemple are Jamie’s parents. Al Ruscio appeared as Paul’s Uncle Julius.

In the pilot episode, Paul and Jamie’s last name is Cooper. Don Was and Paul Reiser composed the theme, “Final Frontier.”

Cast: Helen Hunt (Jamie Buchman), Paul Reiser (Paul Buchman), Richard Kind (Mark Devanow), Leila Kenzle (Fran Devanow), Anne Ramsay (Lila Stemple), Paul Dooley (Gus Stemple), Nancy Dussault (Theresa Stemple).

Cast: James B. Sicking (Ben Lindsey), James McDonnell (Bruce Randall), Jennifer Van Dyck (Meg Kosar), M.A. Nickles (Kirk McNeill), Elizabeth Ruscio (C.G.), Brad Hall (Dan Montana), Guy Boyd (Murph). Guest Cast: Richard Cox (Peter Searls), Harley Jane Kozak (Vicky St. Clair), Michael Rhodes (Malcolm Cage), David Schramm (George Melman), JoAnne Bates (Linn), Sabrina Boudot (Wendy), Harvey Chao (Engineer), Robert Collins (Moustache), Alvin Boyer (George Robertson).

4944 Mad Men. (Series; Drama; AMC; 2007–). Sterling Cooper is a prestigious advertising agency on Madison Avenue in New York City. The time is the 1960s and the world of media advertising as it existed at the time is smartly captured (the series has the look and feel of the era of such a business — including the smoke-filled bars). Don Draper is the creative director of the agency. He is a man who knows his job — and he knows that if he is going to retain that position he must remain one step ahead of the competition. Roger Sterling is the head of the agency; Bertram Cooper is the co-founder. Joan is “the queen bee” of the secretarial pool (Peggy is a featured secretary — “the girl with a heart of gold”); Pete Campbell is the scheming account executive seeking to advance his position by any underhanded method he can. Stories are a behind-the-scenes look at the world of advertising as it once existed, including the intrigues, the deceit and all the other less than ethical ploys that are need to succeed.

Cast: Jon Hamm (Don Draper), John Slattery (Roger Sterling), Robert Morse (Bertram Cooper), Elisabeth Moss (Peggy), Christina Hendricks (Joan), Vincent Kartheiser (Pete Campbell), Maggie Siff (Rachel Menken), January Jones (Betty), Michael Gladis (Paul), Aaron Stanton (Ken), Bryan Batt (Salvatore), Rose Marie DeWitt (Midge).

4945 Mad TV. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1998–). A Saturday (11:00 P.M. to Midnight) skit series based on the humor found in Mad magazine (which includes spoofs of TV shows, commercials, people and movies and its own creations, like “Spy vs. Spy”).

Regulars: Michael McDonald, Debra Wilson, Aries Spears, Alex Borstein, Mo Collins, Nicole Sullivan, Will Sasso, Mary Scheer, Ron Pederson, Jordan Peele, Keegan Michael Key, Pat Kilbane, Nicole Parker, Phil LaMarr, Frank Caliendo, Bobby Lee, Stephanie Weir, Crista Flanagan, Orlando Jones, Bryan Callen, Artie Lange, Josh Meyers, David Herman, Paul Voght, Danielle Gaither, Noel William Berman, Christian Duguay, Andrew Bowen, Craig Anton, Nicole Randall Johnson, Frank Caeti, Nelson Ascencio, Arden Myron, Andrew Daly, Spencer Kayden, Melissa Paul, Simon Helberg, Steven Cragg, Dannah Feinglass, Christina Moore, Jill-Michele Melean, Michael Hitchcock, Taran Killam, Gillian Vigman, Kathryn Fiore, Ramon Hamilton, Lisa Kushell, Chris Hogan.

4946 Madame Sin. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 1/15/72). Madame Sin, as she is known, is a diabolical, all-powerful woman who has set her goal to rule the world. She operates from a castle in Scotland and is assisted by Malcolm DeVere, a sinister chap who carries out her every command. In the pilot episode, Madame Sin kidnaps a former CIA agent (Tony Lawrence) and forces him to steal a Polaris submarine, which she plans to ransom for one billion dollars.

Cast: Bette Davis (Madame Sin), Denholm Elliott (Malcolm DeVere). Guest Cast: Robert Wagner (Tony Lawrence), Catherine Schell (Barbara), Gordon Jackson (Teddy Cavendish), Paul Maxwell (Connors), David Healy (Braden), Alan Dobie (White), Frank Middlemass (Dr. Henriques), Arnold Diamond (Lengett).

4947 Madame's Place. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1982–1983). Madame is a not-so-attractive, witch-like looking puppet (controlled by Wayland Flowers) who hosts Madame's Place, a late-night talk show, from her mansion in Hollywood (she insists on doing the show from her home because it is titled “Madame's Place”).

Madame was a struggling comedian who worked the dingy nightclub circuit before she made it “big” in the movies. She was the star of such films as A Woman Named Hey You (with Clint Eastwood) and Trampoline Honeymoon.

Madame is a member of the Fetish-of-the-Month Club, was married six times (seven times in the pilot) and had 200 boyfriends. Like many stars, Madame has had her harrowing moments: she was kidnapped by Egbert Tegley, a famous criminal known as “Sweet Tooth” Tegley, who held her hostage at an Atlantic City saltwater taffy stand. Her butler, Walter (“Pinky”) Pinkerton, broke down the door and rescued her. Madame was also the target of a crazed fan (played by Archie Hahn) who believed she was the most beautiful woman in the world (he also believed that when the moon is full he turns into a parakeet).

Sara Joy Pitts is Madame's ultrasexy blonde niece. She is the daughter of Madame's sister, Marmalina, and has come to Hollywood (from Georgia, where Madame was born) to become an actress — “just like my Auntie Madame.” Sara Joy measures 37-24-36 and is described by Madame as “a sexpot who doesn't realize she is a sexpot.” Sara Joy, who wears very low cut and off-the-shoulder blouses, as well as short shorts, never achieved her goal.

Bernadette Van Gilder, whom Madame calls “Bernie,” is her shy, mousy secretary. Buzzy St. James is the 11-year-old kid who lives next door. Lynn LaVecque, a former “two bit band singer,” is Madame's competition, the host of Naked All-Star Bowling.

Lawrence (“Larry”) Lunch, the owner of the Lunch Agency, is Madame's exasperating, superfast talking agent (“Lunch has cut more throats than a cross-eyed barber,” says Madame). Rollin Espinoza is the leader of the Madame's Place All-Divorced Orchestra. R. Ray Randall is the never-seen (heard over a speaker phone) head of the unnamed network on which Madame's Place airs. Madame calls him “No Face” because “he has no face.” Eric Honest (a.k.a. Mr. Honest) is Madame's most frequent and most exasperating guest. Barney Wolfe is Madame's producer; Salaria is the psychic (a guest on Madame's show).

Cast: Wayland Flowers (Puppet Madame), Judy Landers (Sara Joy Pitts), Susan Tolksy (Bernadette Van Gilder), Johnny Haymer (Walter Pinkerton), Ty Henderson (Barney Wolfe), Corey Feldman (Buzzy St. James), Edie McClurg (Salaria), Barbara Cason (Lynn LaVecque), R. Chandler Garrison (Voice of R. Ray Randall), John Moschitta, Jr. (Larry Lunch), Don Sparks (Eric Honest), Hector Elias (Rollin Espinoza), Wendy Cutler (Evelyn Todd; Larry's girlfriend), E.J. Peaker (Carla St. James; Buzzy's mother), John Reilly (Max St. James; Buzzy's father), George Wyle (Madame's Place pianist). Theme Vocal: “Here At Madame's Place” by Denise DeCaro.

4948 Made in America. (Series; Game; CBS; 1964). A short-lived game (April 5 to May 3, 1964) in which a celebrity panel of three must guess how their guests, actual millionaires, acquired their fortunes. Guest millionaires are relatively unknown and panelists are permitted to indirectly question them.

Host: Bob Maxwell. Panelists: Jan Sterling, Don Murray, Walter Slezak.

4949 Madeline. (Series; Cartoon; Family Channel; 1993–1995). An animated series based on the children's books by Ludwig Bemelmans about Madeline, the smallest girl of twelve who live at Miss Clavelle's Boarding School in Paris, France. Her best friend is Pepito and stories relate their misadventures as their curiosity gets them involved in one predicament after another.

Voice Cast: Marsha Moreau (Madeline), Andrea Libman (Madeline), Tracey Lee Smythe (Madeline), Judith Orban (Miss Clavel), Anik Matern (Chloe), Vanessa King (Chloe), Kristin Fairlie (Nicole), Veronika Sztopa (Nicole), Sonja Ball (Nicole), Sonja Ball (Marie), David Morse (Pepito), Julian Bailey (Pepito), A.J. Bond (Pepito), Kyle Labine (Pepito), A.J. Bond (Pepito), Louise Vallance (Genevieve), Liz MacRae (Danielle). Narrator: Christopher Plummer.

4950 The Madhouse Brigade. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1978). A series of sketches that satirize politics and culture.

Regulars: Karen Rushmore, Joe Piscopo, Frank Nastagia, J.J. Lewis, Alexander Marshall, Dan Resin, Carlos Carrasco, Rocket Ryan, Nola Fairbanks.

4951 Madhouse 90. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 12/11/72). An unsold late-night (11:30 P.M. to 1:00 A.M.) series of comedy sketches that spoof movies, TV and everyday life.

Host: Monty Hall. Regulars: J.J. Barry, Michael Bell, Vivian Bonnell, Jack Carter, Tom Denver, Kay Dingle, Arnold Dover, Laara Lacey, Pat Proft, Frank Welker, Fred Willard.

4952 Madigan. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1972–1973). Dan Madigan is an embittered plain-clothes detective attached to the Manhattan 10th Precinct in New York City. Dan is a loner and tough on suspects; if he believes a suspect is guilty, he will not give up until he has an arrest. While Dan adheres to the rules, he will break them (and often put his job at risk) to get the evidence he needs for a conviction. The series, based on the feature film of the same title, produced six episodes (as a segment of The NBC Wednesday Mystery Movie) and ran from September 20, 1972 to August 22, 1973.

Cast: Richard Widmark (Sgt. Dan Madigan).

4953 Madman of the People. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994–1995). The Brooklyn, New York-based Your Times Magazine (owned by Kern Communications) is the setting. Jack Buckner is a columnist who writes "The Madman of the People" column. He has been married to Delia for 30 years. Their daughter, Meg, is the editor of the magazine.

Jack, whose favorite bar is the Sandbox, occupies office number 309. He previously worked as night editor on the New York Post. He was nominated "Man of the Year" by the Turk Lonigan Society and received the Lonigan Leg (Turk was a two-fisted, one legged reporter — "the best this town has ever seen"). He was also voted "The Knickerbocker Man of the Year" for his hard-hitting columns. Delia, a schoolteacher, calls Jack "A professional eccentric" and "Binky." Meg, the youngest publisher in the history of current communications, previously published a magazine called Working Mom. Jack has two other children: Caroline, an interior decorator; and Dylan, who at the age of 23, found his first job — waiter at the Dommo Bean Coffee House. When Jack first saw Dillon in the nursery he said, "I can't wait until he moves out of the house." He is still waiting. As children, Meg had a teddy bear she called Jamboree; Caroline's was Mr. Wooffee.

Other Regulars: Jonathan Gold, the magazine's technology writer; "Big" Kenny, Caroline's husband; B.J. Cooper, a reporter; and Agnes Davis, Delia's mother; Sasha, a reporter on the magazine.

Cast: Dabney Coleman (Jack Buckner), Concetta Tomei (Delia Buckner), Cynthia Gibb (Meg Buckner), Ashley Gardner (Caroline), John Ales (Dylan Buckner), Todd Susman (Jonathan Gold), Craig Bierko (B.J. Cooper), Jane Kean (Agnes Davis), Merrick Deamon (Kenny), Amy Aquino (Sasha Danzinger).

4954 Mady Christians: Ode to Liberty. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 4/12/40). A television adaptation of the Broadway play by Gilbert Miller about a Communist (Walter Slezak) sought by the police, who finds a hiding place in the home of a flighty female named Mady Christians (Ina Claire).

Cast: Ina Claire, Henry Edwards, Eduard Franz, Colin Hunter, Judson Laire, Boris Marshalor, Walter Slezak, Katherine Stewart.

4955 The Maggi MacNellis Show. (Series; Women; NBC; 1949). The alternate title for Maggi's Private Wire. See this title for information.

4956 Maggie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/29/60). Mark and Annie Bradley are a famous acting couple who, after years of living and working in New York City, decide to take life a bit easier and move to quieter surroundings in Connecticut. Accompanying them is their pretty teenage daughter, Margaret (who prefers to be called Maggie) and the unsold series was to relate the mischievous Maggie's misadventures as she (and her parents) struggle to adjust to a life away from show business. In the pilot episode, the Bradleys make the big move and encounter a neighbor (Miss Caldwell) who objects to actors.

Cast: Margaret O'Brien (Maggie Bradley), Leon Ames (Mark Bradley), Fay Baker (Annie Bradley).

Guest Cast: Jesslyn Fax (Miss Caldwell), Edwin

Bruce, Charlie Cantor, Michael Emmet, Mona Knox, Jeanne Tatum.

4957 Maggie. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1981–1982). Events in the hectic day-to-day lives of the Westons, a not-so-typical family of five living in Dayton, Ohio.

Len Weston, the husband, is the vice principal of Fillmore High School. He is married to Maggie, a woman who sees the family through their difficult times. They are the parents of 12-year-old Mark, eight-year-old Bruce and the mischievous L.J., a 16-year-old who is never seen but shares in family activities and seems to live in the bathroom. Loretta Davenport is Maggie's friend, the owner of the House of Coiffures (a hair salon); Buffy Croft is Maggie's friend; Chris is Loretta's assistant; Tiffany Dietrich is Bruce's friend. Series creator Erma Bombeck is the host.

Cast: Miriam Flynn (Maggie Weston), James Hampton (Len Weston), Billy Jacoby (Mark Weston), Christian Jacobs (Bruce Weston), Doris Roberts (Loretta Davenport), Judith-Marie Bergan (Buffy Croft), Margie Impert (Chris), Rachel Jacobs (Tiffany Dietrich), Erma Bombeck (Herself). Theme Music: "Maggie's Theme" by Patrick Williams.

4958 Maggie. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/19/86). Following the death of her husband, Maggie Web, a beautiful widow left with numerous debts and back tax problems, finds help from her wealthy sister-in-law, Diane, when she hires her for her London-based PR firm. The unsold series was to follow events in Maggie's life as she attempts to pay off her creditors and make her business a success. In the pilot episode, Maggie is assigned to escort a family of Texans (the Farnsworths) around England and becomes involved with murder when they begin killing each other off. Other Regulars: Harry "Pidge" Pidgeon, Maggie's friend; Jeremy Ashton-David, Maggie's boarder.

4959 Maggie. (Series; Comedy; Lifetime; 1998–1999). Margaret Day, called Maggie, is 40 years old. She is married to Art, a cardiologist, and they are the parents of Amanda, a teenager whose cartoonist boyfriend, Reg, believes he needs to become gay "because all the good cartoonists are gay." Like most people, Maggie begins to develop confused feelings about life. To relieve some of these depressing feelings, Maggie believes she needs to pick up her life from where she left off before marrying. She returns to school to become a veterinarian and takes a part time job at a local animal clinic. Stories follow Maggie as she struggles to deal with the incidents that contradict the lifestyle she has established.

Cast: Ann Cusack (Maggie Day), John Slattery (Art Day), Morgan Nagler (Amanda Day), Todd Giebenhain (Reg), Melissa Samuels (Amy Sherwood), Francesca P. Roberts (Kimberly Reed).

4960 Maggie Brown. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/23/63). Maggie Brown's is a Pacific Island club for American sailors. It is run by Maggie Brown, a former vaudeville song and dance girl, and the unsold series was to follow Maggie as she struggles to keep her bistro open despite the objections of John Farragut, the base commander, who feels that the club should be off limits for his men. In the pilot episode, Maggie seeks a way to regain business when Farragut again declares the club off limits.

Other Regulars: Jeannie Brown, Maggie's daughter; McChesney, Maggie's competitor; and sailors Joe and Marv.

Cast: Ethel Merman (Maggie Brown), Susan Watson (Jeannie Brown), Roy Roberts (John Farragut), Walter Burke (McChesney), Mark Goddard (Joe Beckett), Marvin Kaplan (Marv).

4961 Maggie Malone. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/9/59). A proposed spin-off from The David Niven Theater about Maggie Malone, a singer who is also partners (with Pete) in a successful nightclub. In the pilot episode, Maggie and Pete attempt to clear themselves of a charge that they murdered a gangster when he tried to muscle in on their business.

Cast: Julie London (Maggie Malone), Steve Brodie (Pete). Guest Cast: Stacy Harris (Frank Dennison), Regis Toomey (Andy Cullen), John Wilder (Thug).

4962 Maggie Winters. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1998–1999). Margaret Elaine Winters, called Maggie, is a young woman who grew up in the small town of Shelbyville. After graduating from college and attaining her degree in design, she moved to New York to start her career. Maggie became a success and eventually married and thought she found happiness. Then one day she caught her husband cheating on her and her whole world fell apart. She left him, her job and returned to the one place where she knew she could find happiness — Shelbyville.

Although Maggie is much more qualified than the job she soon gets — assistant to the women's apparel buyer at Hendley's Department Store, Maggie accepts it. Maggie is a very sweet girl who cannot hurt any one — no matter how mean they are to her. She simply does not have a mean bone in her body. Maggie feels that this is sometimes a drawback because people often take advantage of her. Such a person is Rachel Tomlinson, Maggie's friend (they grew up together) who is now her boss, the store manager. Rachel is pretty but feels she is not as pretty as Maggie. She has always been jealous of her because she feels Maggie got everything and she got nothing. The grudge started in Shelbyville Junior High when Rachel first became jealous of Maggie "because you got breasts before me." She now delights in the fact that "I'm the boss of the small town girl who moved away and came crawling back." Despite Rachel's jealousy, they are still friends and frequent Sonny's Restaurant after work.

While very pretty Maggie never dresses in revealing clothes or uses her physical attributes to impress anyone. This was not the case when she was three years old — she would embarrass her mother by stripping when guests arrived. Stories relate Maggie's struggles to make a new life for herself in the town where she was born.

Other Regulars: Estelle, Maggie's mother; Sonny, the restaurant owner; Bobby Campanelli, Maggie's old high school boyfriend; Tom, Maggie's friend, the bar tender at Sonny's Restaurant.

Cast: Faith Ford (Maggie Winters), Shirley Knight (Estelle Winters), Jenny Robertson (Robin Foster), Clea Lewis (Rachel Tomlinson), Patrick Warburton (Sonny), Robert Romanus (Jeff Foster), Alex Kapp Horner (Lisa Harte), Michael McKean (Lewis Stickley), Brittany McConnell (Katie Foster), Brian Haley (Tom Vanderhulst), Hayden Tank (Henry Foster), Vincent Vantresca (Bobby Campanelli).

4963 Maggi's Private Wire. (Series; Women; NBC; ABC; 1949–1952). A program of celebrity interviews, human-interest accounts, nightclub reviews, fashion previews and gossip. The series ran on NBC (as Maggi's Private Wire) from July 12, 1949 to July 2, 1949; and on ABC (as The Maggi McNellis Show) from July 31, 1952 to December 11, 1952.

Hostess: Maggi McNellis.

4964 The Magic Carpet. (Live Test Program; Variety; DuMont; 5/16/47). A proposed series of performances by guest magicians (who also act as the host). The program was sponsored by Alexander Smith Carpets (hence the title). Bud Gamble is the producer.

Host: Frank Clinton.

4966 The Magic Cottage. (Series; Children; DuMont; 1949–1951). A magic cottage (where the make believe becomes real) is the setting for stories, fairytales, art instruction, games and other sources of entertainment geared to children.

Hostess: Pat Meikle. Assistant: Robert Wilkinson.

Cast: Carole Demas (Carole), Paula Janis (Paula), Cary Antebi (Voice of Sherlock and Flap). Theme Vocal: "Here in the Magic Garden" by Carole Demas, Paula Janis.

4968 The Magic Hat Shop. (Experimental; Fashion; DuMont; 10/10/44). An unusual twist in a fashion show presentation: models displayed the sponsor's product (Knox Hats) by appearing in short dramatic skits and variety performances (songs).

Models: Jede Charles, Erin Kameron, Sharon Shaw, Jeanne Shephard, Leonard Stokes.

4969 The Magic Hour. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1998). Former NBA basketball star Magic Johnson hosts a talk show that not only features celebrity interviews but also monologues and comedy skits.

Host: Magic Johnson. Co-Host: Tommy Davidson. Skit Regulars: Steve White, Ernest Nyle Brown, Ryan Christian, Jimmy Hodson, Craig Shoemaker, Mike Buttons (as Mike the Security Guard). Announcer: Jimmy Hodson.

4970 The Magic Lady. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1951). Songs, fairy tales, guests and feats of magic with female magician Geraldine Larsen (The Magic Lady) as the host. Jerry Maren as Boko, her pixie helper, assists her.

Cast: Mark Wilson, Nani Darnell, Mike Wilson, Bev Bergerson (Rebo the Clown), Bob Towner (The King), Chuck Barnes (Periwinkle), Jackie Joseph, Bob Fenton.

4972 Magic Midway. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1962–1963). Performances by entertainers from the circus world. Ventriloquist Claude Kirchner and his puppet, Clownie serve as the hosts.

Host: Claude Kirchner. Regulars: Bonnie Lee, Bill "Boom Boom" Bailey, Phil "Coo Coo" Kiley, Douglas "Mr. Pocus" Anderson.

4973 Magic Mongo. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1977–1978). While walking on a beach three teenagers (Loraine, Christy and Donald) find a strange looking bottle that has washed ashore. Donald picks it up and opens it. A puff of smoke emerges followed by

Magic Mongo, a mischievous genie who becomes their slave. Stories relate the efforts of the teens to conceal the fact that have a genie and a genie's efforts to adjust to life in the 1970s.

Other Regulars: Ace, the bully; Duncney, Ace's cohort; and Huli, the owner of the beach café hangout. The series aired as a segment of The Krofft Supershow II.

Cast: Lennie Weinrib (Magic Mongo), Helaine Lembeck (Laraine), Robin Dearden (Christy), Paul Hinckley (Donald Connelly), Bart Braverman (Ace), Larry Larsen (Duncney), Sab Shimono (Huli).

4974 The Magic of Mark Wilson. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1977). Magician Mark Wilson performs feats of magic and presents guest magicians who perform the illusions that made them famous.

Host: Mark Wilson. Assistants: Nani Darnell, Greg Wilson. Music: Frank Ortega.

4975 The Magic Ranch. (Series; Children; ABC; 1961). Don Alan hosts a weekly series that features performances by guest magicians.

4976 The Magic School Bus. (Series; Cartoon; PBS; 1994). Valerie Frizzle is a very special grade school teacher. She has use of the magic school bus, a yellow vehicle that can go anywhere and become anything. As the class begins studying a particular subject, Valerie uses the bus to take them on a field trip. Here, with the help of the bus, the children experience first hand the principals of what they are being taught.

Voice Cast: Lily Tomlin (Valerie Frizzle), Daniel DeSanto (Carlos Ramon), Tara Meyer (Dorothy Ann), Stuart Stone (Ralphie Tennelli), Erica Luttrell (Keesha Franklin), Lisa Yamanaka (Wanda Li), Maia Filar (Phoebe Terese), Danny Tamberelli (Arnold Perlstein), Andre Otley-Lorant (Tim).

4977 The Magic Slate. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1950–1951). Dramatizations, geared to children that features adaptations of classic and contemporary stories.

Host: Norman Grant. Regulars: Valerie McElroy, Peter Conlow, Bob Borlek, Homer Yates, Wyley Hancock, Don Peggins.

4978 The Magic Trolls and the Troll Warriors. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 11/26/92). Once upon a time there was a magic village called Troll Land where all lived happily under the leadership of King Laugh. One day, the evil King No Laugh, ruler of Gloom Village, invaded Troll Land and forbade happiness. It was now a crime to smile or be happy and without happiness the magic Trolls (who are slaves in mines to find gold for King No Laugh) cannot survive. Several months later, five trolls (Lokie, Shrimp, Thor, Wartlet and Odine) and the good king's aide Siegfried the Bird, return from a mission to find their beloved kingdom gone. The unsold series was to relate the Trolls' efforts to defeat King No Laugh and bring happiness back to Troll Land.

Voices: Cheralyann Bailey, Tony Dakota, Mike Donovan, Alessandro Julian, Cam Lane, Lee Lockar, Scott McNeill, Lelani Marrell, Jesse Moss, Doug Parker.

4979 The Magician. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1973–1974). While performing in South America, illusionist Anthony Blake is arrested on a trumped up espionage charge and later imprisoned. Ten years later, he escapes from prison and takes his cellmate, a dying old man, with him. The old man, grateful for the few months of freedom Tony provided for him, leaves Tony a considerable fortune — money he uses, in part, to help people who are unable to turn to the police for help.

Tony now performs regularly at the Magic Castle Club in Los Angeles. He drives a white Corvette and he originally lived on his plane, a Boeing 737 called the Spirit (he later lives in a home at 315 Vinewood in Los Angeles). Tony's wrists bear the scars of the prison shackles; he can read people (their faces, eyes and hands) and knows when they need help. Tony, however, doesn't interfere; he enlists in a cause and uses the wizardry of his craft to foil evil. The plane is piloted by Tony's assistant, Jerry Anderson.

Max Pomeroy is an internationally known magazine and newspaper columnist who is also Tony's best friend and a vital source for information. He lives in San Francisco in a private residence that also serves as his headquarters. Max has unconventional views on "money, sex, marriage, religion, soccer and cheese." He keeps a microfilm record of all photos taken of him during his world travels and has a handicapped, wheelchair-bound son named Dennis. While Max is not married, he does live with a charming woman named Lulu. "I'm everything to Max except a wife," she says. By this line of dialogue, it is learned that Lulu is Dennis's mother: (Max to Lulu) "Lulu, whatever else you do in this life, the simple act of giving birth to a son like Dennis has made your stay on earth a complete success." When Max relates the story of Tony's prison experiences, he compares it to a book: "Have you ever read the book The Count of Monte Cristo? In a sense, Tony lived it...."

In the 90 minute pilot episode (NBC, 3/17/73), Bill Bixby played Anthony Dorian and Jim Watkins was Jerry Wallace. Theme: "The Magician," by Patrick Williams.

Announcer Bill Baldwin opens the show: "All the magic you are about to see is performed without trick photograph of any kind by Bill Bixby — The Magician."

Cast: Bill Bixby (Anthony Blake), Keene Curtis (Max Pomeroy), Jim Watkins (Jerry Anderson), Todd Crespi (Dennis), Joan Caulfield (Lulu).

4980 The Magilla Gorilla Show. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1964). The overall title for three animated series.

1. Magilla Gorilla. The adventures of Magilla, a mischievous, fun-loving gorilla, and the permanent resident of Mr. Peebles' Pet Shop. Also featured is Ogee, the young girl ("How much is that gorilla in the window?") who wants Magilla as a pet.

2. Ricochet Rabbit. The story of Ricochet Rabbit, sheriff of Hootin' Holler, a lawless western town. Droop-a-Long is his slow-moving deputy.

3. Punkin Puss and Mush Mouse. The misadventures of a hillbilly cat (Punkin Puss) and mouse (Mush Mouse).

Voice Cast: Allan Melvin (Magilla Gorilla), Howard Morris (Mr. Peebles), Jean VanderPyl (Ogee), Don Messick (Ricochet Rabbit), Mel Blanc (Droop-a-Long), Allan Melvin (Punkin Puss), Howard Morris (Mush Mouse).

4981 Magnavox Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1950). A Magnavox electronics sponsored program of comedy and drama productions. The series ran from September 15, 1950 to December 8, 1950.

Performers Include: Betsy Blair, Lee Tracy, Barbara Ames, Lois Wilson, Jack Manning, Peter Hobbs, Anna Lee, Sally Chamberlain, Dane Clark, Geraldine Brooks, Victor Moore, Leslie Nielsen, Jean Gillespie, Edward Everett Horton, Leora Thatcher, Kim Stanley, Barry Fitzgerald, Mildred Natwick, Lyn Thomas, Patricia Crowley, Cecil Kellaway, Robert Sterling, Dorothy Gish, John Forsythe, Henry Hull, Gerald Mohr, Iris Mann.

4982 The Magnificent Marble Machine. (Series; Game; NBC; 1975–1976). Two teams, each composed of one celebrity and one non-celebrity contestant, compete. The highest scoring team during a question and answer round receives the opportunity to play the Magnificent Marble Machine—a large, electronic pinball machine. Each team member is given one minute to play, and each bumper that is hit earns the contestant $500.

Host: Art James. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

4983 The Magnificent Menasha. (Test Film; Comedy; NBC; 2/20/50). A proposed series about the misadventure prone Jewish manager (Menasha) of a small restaurant. The test story relates Menasha's experiences when he becomes involved in a purse-snatching incident and becomes a witness in court. The program led to the series Menasha the Magnificent with Menasha Skulnik recreating the same role.

Cast: Menasha Skulnik (Menasha), Ellen Fenwick, Peggy Hillias, Leonard Scheerer.

4984 The Magnificent Six and a Half. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1970). England is the setting for a series about the comic adventures of six boys (Steve, Whizz, Dumbo, Toby, Stodger and Pee Wee), who call themselves the Magnificent Six, and a young girl, Liz, who joins their club to become the Half.

Cast: Len James (Steve), Michael Anderson (Whizz), Ian Ellis (Dumbo), Brinsley Forde (Toby), Lionel Hawkes (Stodger), Kim Tallmadge (Pee Wee), Suzanne Togni (Liz).

4985 Magnum, P.I. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1980–1988). Robin's Nest is an estate on Concord Road, later Kalohoa Drive, on the north shore of Hawaii that is owned by the fabulously wealthy but never seen pulp fiction writer, Robin Masters. Jonathan Quayle Higgins is the estate's major domo; private detective Thomas Sullivan Magnum provides security for the estate in return for his living quarters off the main house.

Magnum was born in the town of Tidewater, Virginia. As a kid he was a fan of Roy Rogers' movies and would pretend to be a hero and keep the neighborhood free of outlaws. His first paying job was delivering newspapers for the Daily Sentinel. He decided on a military career and attended Annapolis. After serving with the VM02 Unit in DaNang during the Vietnam War, he became a naval intelligence officer. He resigned shortly after "when I woke up one morning and realized I was 33 and never 23." He turned his attention to investigating and became a private detective. He is writing a book called How to Be a World-Class Private Investigator and also held a temporary job as house detective at the Hawaiian Gardens Hotel but was angry because he couldn't carry a gun.

Magnum enjoys working the New York Times crossword puzzle on Sunday and exercises by swimming, playing volleyball and running. Magnum is a member of the King Kamehameha Club and hates to be called Tommy. Magnum narrates the stories, talks to the camera, acts as a big brother toward women and hangs his head when he becomes frustrated.

Magnum claims that the relationship between himself and Higgins is "constant arguing, constant yelling, constant long, boring stories, constant not knocking on my door." Higgins always barges in on Thomas when he needs him. Jonathan served Her Majesty in five conflicts over 35 years, most notably as a member of England's MI-5 and MI-6 during World War II.

His greatest embarrassment is his expulsion from the prestigious Sandhurst Academy, something he does not talk about. In 1957 he ran a hotel called the Arlington Arms which catered to the rich and famous. He created his own blend of tea, Lady Ashley Tea, and is chairman—also called managing director—of the King Kamehameha Club. Higgins is also chairman of the Honolulu branch of the Britain Seaman's Fund Charity and a member of the committee on historical preservation.

And, as Magnum said, he tells endless tales of his experiences as a survival expert. He enjoys doing the Sunday London Times crossword puzzle and is writing his memoirs in a diary he calls Crisis at Suez. Higgins has two Great Danes, Apollo and Zeus, who patrol the estate grounds. The dogs, whom Higgins calls The Lads, do not like Magnum but tolerate him. In voice overs, Magnum tells the audience that "I am 99 percent sure that Higgins is Robin Masters; but it's that one percent that could mean disaster." The Serpent's Wisdom is one of the books mentioned as being written by Robin, whom Higgins calls Mr. Masters. John Hillerman also played his half-brothers, Father Paddy MacGuinness and Don Luis Monqueo.

Orville Wilbur Wright, called Rick, and Theodore Calvin, called T.C., are Magnum's friends. Rick was born in Chicago and was a Marine Corps weapons expert during the Vietnam War. He came to Hawaii to open his own nightclub, Rick's Place, but gave it up to manage the King Kamehameha Club. He has numerous underworld connections and helps Magnum by obtaining information from the street.

T.C., a former chopper pilot in Vietnam, now runs the Island Hopper Helicopter Service. Prior to the war, T.C. was a Golden Gloves Boxer (also said to be a football player). He is divorced from Tina (Fay Hauser) and is the father of Bryant (Shavar Ross).

Carol Baldwin is the assistant D.A. who sometimes works with Magnum; she has a dog named Chelsea. Francis Hofstetler, better known as Ice Pick, is the underworld boss Magnum turns to for help. Robin Masters, who is seen from the back only (Bruce Atkinson) is voiced by Orson Welles.

Ian Freebarin-Smith composed the original theme "Magnum, P.I." (first and second seasons); Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed the revised "Magnum's Theme."

4986 Mahalia Jackson Sings. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1961). A five-minute filler program that features songs by gospel singer Mahalia Jackson.

4987 The Mail Story. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1954). The alternate title for Handle with Care. See this title for information.

4988 Maintenance Ms. (Series; Women; Syn.; 1975). A filler program that features household tips and advice for women by a woman (hostess Jane Norman).

4989 Maisie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/12/60). Maisie Ravier is a beautiful showgirl who works the small night club circuit hoping to one day make the big time. The unsold series was to relate her club performance experiences and the misadventures that occur when she takes outside gigs and tries to help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Maisie becomes "Miss Guided Missile" in an attempt to help the army recruiting drive in the small town of Clary. Based on the Ann Sothorn theatrical film series.

Cast: Janis Paige (Maisie Ravier). Guest Cast: Lin McCarthy (Andy Clary), Joe Sawyer (Sergeant Blankenhorn), Olive Carey (Mrs. Clary), James Maloney (Mayor), Rudy Lee and Henry Kulky (Townpeople).

4990 Major Adams, Trail Master. (Western; ABC; 1957). The ABC daytime title for Wagon Train with Ward Bond as the star while the series remained first run in prime time. See this title for information.

4991 Major Annie, M.D. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 3/1/76). A proposed spin-off from Medical Center about Major Annie Malone, an Army doctor with a decidedly non-regulation outlook. In the pilot episode, Annie attempts to get classified information to save the life of a young Army surgeon when he suffers an inexplicable seizure.

Cast: Lois Nettleton (Major Annie Malone), Della Reese (Captain Sykes), John Randolph (Colonel Maybill). Guest Cast: Scott Hylands (Hoby), Michael V. Gazzo (Leo Gardena), James Gregory (Colonel Whittendale), Richard Yniquez (Paco), Roberta Carol Brahm (Lieutenant Hutton), Chad Everett (Dr. Joe Gannon).

4992 Major Dad. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1989-1993). The story of a tough marine (John D. [Mac] MacGillis) who marries a pretty widow (Polly Cooper) with three children (Elizabeth, Robin and Casey) and the misadventures that occur when they set up housekeeping together (first in Oceanside, California, then in Farlough, Virginia).

John was born in Snake River, Mississippi, where his parents owned a farm on Decatur Road. John, a history major at Vanderbilt College, joined the marines in 1967 (in another episode, he mentions being in the marines for 20 years; he joined in 1969). His basic training was done on Parris Island, and he served three tours of duty as a corporal in Vietnam.

When the series began, John was stationed at Camp Singleton in Oceanside. On September 17, 1990, John and his family move to Virginia when John is transferred to Camp Hollister (which Polly calls “a military hellhole”). They now live on the base (house number 485) and John becomes “a staff weenie” (the nickname for the job he holds as staff secretary to General Marcus Craig). John enjoys sitting on the front porch and listening to crickets chirp. In the episode of May 13, 1991, John adopts Polly’s girls (whose last name changes to MacGillis).

Polly was originally a reporter for the Oceanside Chronicle; at Camp Hollister she becomes the managing editor of the camp newspaper, the Bulldog. Polly also writes the column “The Suggestion Box” and is in charge of the “At Ease” section of the paper. Polly is a Democrat and a member of the Officers’ Wives Club.

Elizabeth, the oldest daughter, attends Keefer High School (Oceanside episodes). She is the prettiest of the girls; when she looks through the family photo album, she worries about how her hair looked at the time. In Virginia, she attends Hollister Base High School.

Robin, the middle girl, attends Martin Elementary School (Oceanside), where she is a member of the Condors basketball team. In Virginia, where she attends the base school, Robin is a member of the girls’ softball league, the Hollister Hornets.

Casey, the youngest of the girls, attends Martin Elementary School (Oceanside) and the base school (Virginia). Ruby and Henrietta are her dolls; Mr. Smithers is her teddy bear; and Whoobie is her plush toy.

General Marcus Craig is the commanding officer of Camp Hollister. He attended Cornell University, and when he gets upset he goes to the firing range to shoot off several hundred rounds. His unseen wife is named Mimsey. Alva Lou Bricker, called Gunny is the administrative chief of the general’s office (she replaced Merilee Gunderson, John’s secretary at Camp Singleton). Gunny calls Casey “Little Cooper,” and she has a dog named Elmo. Eugene Holowachuk is John’s second in command. He is from Idaho and also has a job as the manager of the Fuel-R-Up service station.

Relatives: Chance Michael Corbitt (Marcus’s nephew, Jeffrey Craig, a mischievous brat who is called “the beast of the base”). Theme: “Major Dad,” by Roger Steinman.

4993 Major Del Conway of the Flying Tigers. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1953). The Flying

Tigers is a U.S. fighter squadron based in China during World War II. Major Del Conway is the head of the Third Pursuit Squadron, one of three such units that are part of General Chennault’s Gallant Fighters (in Chinese, “Foo-hoo”; in English, “Flying Tigers”).

While the Flying Tigers is a military outfit that fights the forces that oppose liberty, it is made up of volunteers who are only out to make money. Discipline is easy, and their mission is to help the Chinese overcome the invading Japanese. Pilots get $500 for each Japanese Zero they shoot down (when a Japanese squadron is spotted, it is typical to hear “Money, money, the joint’s jumpin’ with Zeros”).

Members of Del’s squadron are Cashbox Potter, Dick Rossi, Joe Suie and Catfish. The squad’s planes (P-40s) are called “Sharks” (the face of a shark is painted on the nose). Their base is called “Firehouse”; Del’s air code is “Fire Chief”; Rossi’s is “Arson One”; Cashbox’s is “Arson Two.” The backs of the pilots’ jackets are marked with the Chinese flag. Al Evans composed the theme.

The program opens with a visual (symbol of the Flying Tigers) then an announcer: “This is the identification of the American Volunteer group, General Clare Chenault’s gallant fighters. In Chinese ‘Foo Hoo’; in American — ‘Flying Tigers.’ Flying Tigers starring Art Fleming as squadron leader Major Del Conway with Sandy Kenyon as Cashbox Potter.”

Cast: Art Fleming (Del Conway), Sandy Kenyon (Cashbox Potter), Carl Shanzer (Dick Rossi), Warren Nsien (Joe Suie), Eddie Luke (Catfish).

4994 Majority Rules. (Series; Game; ABC; 1949–1950). The object calls for a panel of three players to answer a question based on a majority decision. After a question is read, the players confer on an answer but before it can be stated, at least two players must agree that the answer they have chosen is correct. If they are correct, points are scored and prizes are awarded based on scores: the higher the score, the better the prizes. The series ran from September 2, 1949 to July 30, 1950.

Host: Ed Prentiss.

4995 Make a Face. (Series; Game; ABC; 1961–1962). Each of the three players who compete sits before three revolving wheels that contain pictures of celebrities that are cut into pieces. The object calls for the players to assemble and identify the celebrities. Each correct identification scores points. The winners, the highest point scorers, receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Bob Clayton. Assistant: Rita Mueller.

4996 Make a Wish. (Series; Children; ABC; 1971–1977). Tom Chapin is the host of a program that attempts to explain, through animation, films, songs and sketches, the differences between fantasy and the real world to children.

4997 Make Me Laugh. (Series; Game; ABC; 1958). Each contestant who competes stands opposite three guest comics. The object is for the contestants to remain straight-faced while the comics attempt to make them laugh. The rounds are divided into one-minute segments and the contestant receives one dollar for each second until he laughs.

Host: Robert Q. Lewis. Assistant: Renny Peterson.

4998 Make Me Laugh. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1979). A contestant appears and sits opposite a panel of three guest comedians. At sixty-second intervals, the comedians attempt to make the contestant laugh. For each second that the contestant remains straight-faced, he receives one dollar (up to a limit of $360).

Host: Bobby Van. Announcer: Bill Beary.

4999 Make Mine Music. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1948–1949). A weekly program of music and songs that ran from December 31, 1948 to May 19, 1949. Alex Leftwich is the producer.

Hostess: Carole Coleman. Regulars: Larry Douglas, Bill Skipper. Music: The Tony Mottola Trio.

5000 Make More Room for Daddy. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 11/6/67). An unsold attempt to continue the Make Room for Daddy series about events in the lives of the Williams family: Danny, a nightclub entertainer; Kathy, his wife, and their children Linda and Rusty. Danny and Kathy are still living in Manhattan. Linda, the youngest, has just begun college and Rusty, who has just completed college, has enlisted in the Army. Love blossoms for Rusty when he meets and falls in love with Susan MacAdams, the daughter of the base's commanding officer, Colonel MacAdams. The program focuses on Rusty's efforts to break the news to his parents that he and Susan are planning to marry. Other Regulars: Charlie Halper, Danny's boss (owner of the Copa Club); and Louise, Danny's maid.

5001 Make Room for Daddy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; CBS; 1953–1964). Danny Williams, his wife, Margaret, and their children, Terry and Rusty, live at the Parkside Apartments (Apartment 1204) in Manhattan.

Danny is a night club entertainer who performs at the Copa Club in New York City. He was born in Toledo, Ohio, and attended Ursuline Academy (in another episode, Danny mentions he was born in Deerfield, Michigan, raised in Toledo, and attended Woodward High School).

Danny, 24, met his future wife, Margaret Summers, when she was 17 years old. He was a struggling young stand-up comedian; she worked as a part-time waitress and piano player (in another episode, Margaret mentions she and Danny have known each other since they were children). Margaret was born in Baraboo, Wisconsin, and was cared for by Mom and Pop Finch while her parents were on the road in vaudeville. The family has a pet dog named Laddie.

Actress Jean Hagen wanted to leave the series. The 1955 season ended with Danny's emotional talk with Terry and Rusty that their mother "had gone to Heaven." The following season found Danny as a widower struggling to raise two children with the help of his maid, Louise. Various actresses were brought on to date Danny and win over the affections of his children. At the close of the 1956–57 season, Danny hires Kathleen "Kathy" O'Hara, a widowed nurse, to care for Rusty, who had come down with a case of the measles. Kathy, the mother of a young daughter named Patty, soon catches the measles and is quarantined in the Williams apartment. A romance develops and Danny proposes to Kathy (ending the ABC series).

When the CBS series begins in 1957 (now called The Danny Thomas Show) Danny and Kathy are married and Kathy's daughter is now Linda.

Kathy was born in Peoria, Illinois. She and Danny honeymooned in Las Vegas. The CBS episodes find the Williams family now living at 505 East 56th Street (Apartment 542; also given as 781) in Manhattan. Danny calls Kathy "Clancy" and her maiden name is also given as Daly. Although they have a maid, Kathy can be seen cleaning the apartment in many episodes.

Teresa (Terry) is Danny's oldest child. She attended West Side High School then goes to an unnamed college (where she is a member of the Alpha Beta Chi sorority). At this point Terry was written out but returned to marry Pat Hannigan, a night club performer.

Russell (Rusty) was born on February 15, 1947. He attended P.S. 54, Claremont Junior High School and then West Side High. His first crush was on a girl named Sylvia Watkins (Pamela Beaird) and he felt the best part of school was recess, lunch and holidays. (He is the best speller in his class and won several spelling bees. He always seems to get "a leaky old fountain pen.")

Linda attends P.S. 54 and has milk and cookies when she comes home from school. She believes in the Tooth Fairy and Santa Claus.

In Terry's absence, Danny sponsored Italian high school exchange student Gina Minelli. She attends West Side High and tutors the school's star football players, Buck Weaver and Bronco Lewis (Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside on the team).

Danny's Uncle Tonoose is the self-proclaimed head of the family. He is nicknamed "Hashush-al-kabaar" (Lebanese for "The man who made a monkey out of a camel") and loves goat cheese and grape leaves. Prior to his role as Uncle Tonoose, Hans Conried played Margaret's Cousin Carl, who "drank and traveled with jugs of wine." Charlie Halper is Danny's boss, the owner of the Copa Club; Bunny is his wife.

Cast: Danny Thomas (Danny Williams), Jean Hagen (Margaret Williams), Marjorie Lord (Kathy Williams), Sherry Jackson (Teresa "Terry" Williams), Penny Parker (Teresa "Terry" Williams; later), Rusty Hamer (Russell "Rusty" Williams), Angela Cartwright (Linda Williams), Lelani Sorenson (Patty Williams), Louise Beavers (Louise), Amanda Randolph (Louise; later), Sid Melton (Charlie Halper), Pat Carroll (Bunny Halper), Jesse White (Jesse Leeds; Danny's first agent), Horace McMahon (Phil Arnold; Danny's second agent), Sheldon Leonard (Phil Arnold; later), Mary Wickes (Elizabeth O'Neal; Danny's press agent), Ben Lessy (Ben; Danny's piano player), Frank Jenks (Frank; Danny's tailor), Hans Conried (Danny's Uncle Tonoose), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Pat Hannegan), Harry Ruby (Harry; Danny's songwriter), Annette Funicello (Gina Minelli), Piccola Pupa (Piccola; the singer Danny discovers), Richard Tyler (Buck; Gina's boyfriend), Bill Dana (Jose Jimenez; elevator operator), Bernard Fox (Alfie; Copa Club waiter), Gale Gordon (Mr. Heckendorn; the apt. building manager), William Demarest (Mr. Daly; Kathy's father), Judy Nugent (Debbie; Gina's friend), Barbara Baird (Sylvia Watkins; Linda's friend), John Qualen (Mr. Svenson; the janitor), Eileen Janssen (Peggy Conroy; Terry's friend), Patricia Moore (Patty; Benny's wife), Tony Bennett (Stephen; Danny's cousin), Nana Bryant (Julie Summers; Margaret's mother).

Note: On February 14, 1965, NBC aired The Danny Thomas TV Family Reunion a special that reunites the cast of The Danny Thomas Show for a series of skits that continues to depict events in the lives of the Williams family: Danny (Danny Thomas), Kathy (Marjorie Lord), Rusty (Rusty Hamer), Linda (Angela Cartwright), Louise (Amanda Randolph) and Uncle Tonoose (Hans Conried).

5002 Make Room for Granddaddy. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/14/69). The pilot film for the series of the same title that updates the lives of the Williams family: Danny, a nightclub entertainer (at the Copa Club), his wife Kathy, and their children, Linda and Rusty. The pilot relates Danny's attempts to adjust to the fact that he is about to become a grandfather. (Susan, Rusty's wife, gives birth to a son he and Susan name Michael). Other Regulars: Danny's Uncle Tonoose; Charlie Halper, Danny's boss; and Bunny Halper, Charlie's wife.

5003 Make Room for Granddaddy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1970–1971). An update of the classic Make Room for Daddy series that relates events in the life of Danny Williams, a nightclub entertainer who is now a grandfather. Danny is married to Kathy; Terry, Rusty and Linda are their children; Michael is his grandson (by Terry). Charlie Halper is Danny's boss, the owner of the Copa Club; Uncle Tonoose is the head of the Williams family; Rosey Robbins is Danny's accompanist; Henry is the building elevator operator. To make for comical situations (giving Danny another child to raise) Michael was advanced in age from an infant in the pilot (prior title) to six years of age for the series.

Cast: Danny Thomas (Danny Williams), Marjorie Lord (Kathy Williams), Sherry Jackson (Terry Williams), Rusty Hamer (Rusty Williams), Angela Cartwright (Linda Williams), Jana Taylor (Susan Williams), Michael Hughes (Michael Johnson), Sid Melton (Charlie Halper), Hans Conried (Uncle Tonoose), Rosey Grier (Rosey Robbins), Stanley Myron Handleman (Henry).

5004 Make the Connection. (Series; Game; NBC; 1955). Through a series of question-and-answer rounds with two contestants, a celebrity panel of four has to determine when, where, why and how their paths have crossed with the laymen players. Prizes are awarded to the players if the panel fails to uncover the relationship.

Host: Gene Rayburn, Jim McKay. Panelists: Gloria DeHaven, Gene Klavin, Eddie Bracken, Betty White.

5005 Make Your Own Kind of Music. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1971). The beautiful music of the Carpenters (Richard and his sister, Karen) is interspersed with comedy sketches and performances by guest artists. The summer series, which produced 8 episodes, ran from July 20, 1971 to September 7, 1971. Arnold Kane, Gordon Farr and Ken Hecht are the producers.

Hosts: Karen Carpenter, Richard Carpenter. Regulars: Al Hirt, Mark Lindsay, The New Doodletown Pipers, Tom Patchett, Jay Tarses. Orchestra: Jack Elliott, Allyn Ferguson.

5006 Makeover Ambush. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2004). Imagine walking down a street and being "ambushed" by a group of stylists who need a subject to makeover for a TV program. That is the basic concept of Makeover Ambush. Unsuspecting people, whom the team of stylists feel could benefit from a makeover, are approached, rushed to the studio and given a quickie makeover (clothes, hair and makeup). Surprisingly, even though it is a rush job, the results are quite amazing (the show is also a copy, in part of ABC's Extreme Makeover).

Style Agents: Nicole Williams, Mary Alice

Haney, William Whatley, Nancy Brensson, Anthony Perinelli, Gigi Barry, Rob Talty.

5007 Makeup Time. (Live Test Film; Women; CBS; 2/15/45). A program of makeup tips for women by Eddie Senz, an acknowledged camouflage expert. Models were used as Senz demonstrated his magic on hair, lips, eyes and other facial features.

Host: Eddie Senz. Guests: Ethel Colby, Julius Colby.

5008 Makin' It. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1979). Billy Manucci is an easygoing young man who lives at home (232 King Street, Passaic, New Jersey) with his parents, Joseph and Dorothy, his sister, Tina, and in the shadow of his swinging older brother, Tony, "a great dancer who just drifts."

Billy attends Passaic University and is studying to become a teacher. He works for Ivy Papastegios at an ice cream parlor called Tasty Treats and hangs out at a disco called the Inferno. Thirteen-year-old Tina attends Saint Bernadette's Elementary School, and when Billy seeks advice from Tony, he gets the "Manucci Prediction" ("I don't give advice, I predict").

Corky Crandall, an agent for the William Morris Agency in Manhattan, is Billy's girlfriend; and Al ("Kingfish") Sorrentino and Bernard Fusco are Billy's friends.

Cast: David Naughton (Billy Manucci), Lou Antonio (Joseph Manucci), Ellen Travolta (Dorothy Manucci), Denise Miller (Tina Manucci), Gary Antonacci (Tony Manucci), Rebecca Balding (Corky Crandall), Ralph Seymour (Al "Kingfish" Sorrentino), Gary Prendergast (Bernard Fusco) Jennifer Perito (Ivy Papastegios), Wendy Hoffman (Suzanne), Diane Robin (Felice), Leslie Winston (Roxanne). Theme Vocal: "Makin' It" by David Naughton.

5009 Making a Living. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980–1981). A spin-off from It's a Living that aired from October 24, 1981 to September 10, 1982 and continued to depict events in the lives of a group of waitress at the Above the Top restaurant in Los Angeles. These episodes have been re-titled and syndicated as It's a Living. See this title for information.

5010 Making It. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/30/76). An unsold series about four law students (Steve, Pete, Jay and Greg) from varying backgrounds who live together in a small apartment house run by a much-married woman named Cloris. Other Regulars: Janice, Cloris's daughter; and Professor Harry Ebberly.

Cast: Ed Begley, Jr. (Steve), Ben Masters (Pete), Alvin Kupperman (Jay), Evan Kim (Greg), Jeanne Arnold (Cloris), Sandy Faison (Janice), Renny Roker (Harry Ebberly).

5011 Making It Happen. (Pilot; Magazine; Syn.; 5/8/88). Comedian Rich Little hosts a proposed weekly series that offers a behind-the-scenes look at special events and places of interest to visit.

5012 Making the Band. (Series; Reality; ABC; MTV; 2002–2005). A search to find five male singer-musicians for a new boy band to be called O-Town. The finalists, selected by Lou Perlman (the man noted for creating "pretty boy bands" such as The Back Street Boys and 'N Sync) are placed together in a large house in Orlando, Florida. As with other reality series, the cameras roll to capture the "drama" that occurs in the house as the boys (who were given a record contract) prepare to become O-Town. The series first aired on ABC but played out on MTV after ABC dropped it for low ratings. A second cycle that ran on MTV in 2002, featured rap artist P. Diddy seeking aspiring rappers for a new hip-hop band. In 2005, a third cycle ran on MTV that sought a mixed (male-female) band with Sean P. Diddy" Combs again overseeing the procedures.

Host: Lou Perlman (Cycle 1), Sean "P. Diddy" Combs (Cycle 2 and 3).

5013 Making the Grade. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1982). The problems that befall the faculty of Franklin High, a school fraught with problems and troublesome students. Regulars: Harry Barnes, the dean of boys; Jack Felspar, the assistant principal; Sara, Dave, Anton, and Jeffrey, teachers; students Mindy, Walt and Arnold; and Cynthia, Dave's wife.

Cast: James Naughton (Harry Barnes), Graham Jarvis (Jack Felspar), Alley Mills (Sara Canover), Philip Charles MacKenzie (Dave Wasserman), Zane Lasky (Anton Zemeckis), Steven Peterman (Jeffrey Kelton), Ellen Regan (Cynthia Wasserman), Annabella Price (Mindy), Dan Frischman (Walt), Christopher Blande (Arnold).

5014 Malcolm and Eddie. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1996–2000). Malcolm McGee and Eddie Sherman are friends who live in Kansas City, Missouri. Malcolm, a radio disc jockey at oldies station KZKC (1581 AM) and Eddie, a tow truck driver, share an apartment over their favorite hangout, Kelly's Pub. Malcolm later purchases the pub and renames it Malcolm McGee's Sports Bar; and Eddie begins his own business, Eddie's Tow and Repair with his one faithful truck, Bronkula. A year later Malcolm and Eddie pool their resources and turn the bar into a jazz club called the Fifty/Fifty Club (located at the corner of 4th and Main). Their competition is McGinley's Bar (owned by Mike McGinley). In his spare time, Eddie coaches a kid basketball team called the Little Dribblers.

Malcolm and Eddie have a "psycho chef" (Simone), as Eddie calls her, who is in therapy and talks to vegetables. Nicolette, the club's waitress, has a cat named Pokey. She feels chilly at 80 degrees, takes computer classes and uses milk in her bath water "to make my skin baby bottom soft.” Nicolette calls Malcolm “Little Bo Cheap” and, at age 30, “has been 24 for the last five years.” She has her own unique personality and is hard to live with (“I’ve been through 12 roommates in two years. Maybe it’s me?”)

5015 Malcolm in the Middle. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2000–2006). Hal and Lois Wilkerson are a happily married couple who often wonder how they produced four troublesome children: Francis, Malcolm, Reese and Dewey (a fifth child, Jamie, is born in 2003). Hal and Lois, however, are not so innocent either. Their antics, coupled with those of their children, have earned them the reputation as “The Most Hated Family in the Neighborhood” (where they live at 123341 Maple Road in an unspecified town). The family is not easily impressed and they care very little about status.

Hal originally worked as a systems supervisor at a company called G.N. Industries (“Making the World Safe with Our Products”). When Hal is laid off, he works at various jobs, including salesman at U Buy It.

Lois was born in Manitoba, Canada. She is totally stressed out by the kids and cares little about modesty (walking around the house topless or in a bra is normal to her). Lois is abrupt, short tempered and rude. She feels she always has to be right even if she is wrong. Lois works as a salesgirl at a department store called Lucky Aide. Because of her temper, Hal lives in total fear of her.

Malcolm is the genius of the family and the only one of the kids who tries to be good (but circumstances just force him to become “bad”). He has an I.Q. of 165 and excels in math. He is the only character who is aware of a viewing audience and talks directly into the camera. He attends North High School and worked with his mother at Lucky Aide.

Francis is the eldest and most troublesome of the children. Because of his uncontrollable ways he was sent to the Marlin Military Academy for rehabilitation. After Marlin, he drifted from job to job. In Alaska, where he worked in a diner, he met and married Piami. He was next a logger then foreman of the Grotto Ranch.

Reese, the third-born son, is following in Francis’s footsteps. He is a D student at North High School and is quite naïve and easily taken advantage of. He believes he is a ladies’ man but he seldom impresses girls (to do so he joined the Wildcats cheerleading team at school).

Dewey is the youngest son before the birth of Jamie and the most conniving. He uses what he calls “Turning on the Cute” to get things from people. He attends Grace Elementary School, never had piano lessons (but can play like a pro) and has a plush teddy bear named Domingo.

Other Regulars: Otto, Francis’s boss at the Grotto Ranch; Gretchen, Otto’s wife; Stevie, Malcolm’s wheelchair bound friend; Craig, Lois’s boss at Lucky Aide; Edwin Spangler, the headmaster at Marlin.

Cast: Jane Kaczmarek (Lois Wilkerson), Bryan Cranston (Hal Wilkerson), Frankie Muniz (Malcolm Wilkerson), Christopher Kennedy Masterson (Francis Wilkerson), Justin Berfield (Reese Wilkerson), Erik Per Sullivan (Dewey Wilkerson), Emy Coligado (Piami Wilkerson), Craig Lamar (Stevie Kenarban), David Anthony Higgins (Craig Feldspar), Daniel Von Barga (Edwin Spangler), Ken Mars (Otto), Meagan Fay (Gretchen), Cloris Leachman (Lois’s mother), Laurie Metcalfe (Susan; Lois’s sister).

5016 Malibu. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 1/23 and 1/24/83). A proposed serial about Linda and Stan Harvey, a young couple from Milwaukee who come to California, rent an expensive house in Malibu and become involved in the lives of the rich and beautiful people who reside in the seaside community, including Billie Farnsworth, the real estate agent; Art Bonnell, the womanizing tennis pro; Gail Hessian, the TV journalist; and Clint Redman, a mysterious recluse.

Cast: Susan Dey (Linda Harvey), William Atherton (Stan Harvey), Kim Novak (Billie Farnsworth), Ann Jillian (Gail Hessian), Chad Everett (Art Bonnell), Troy Donahue (Clint Redman), James Coburn (Tom Wharton), Valerie Perrine (Dee Stausfer), Steve Forrest (Rich Bradley), Richard Mulligan (Charlie Wigham), George Hamilton (Jay Pomerantz), Eva Marie Saint (Mary Wharton), Bridget Hanley (Laura Bonnell), Jenilee Harrison (Cherrie), Anthony Newley (Wilson Mahoney). Theme Vocal: “Malibu” by Anthony Newley.

5017 Malibu Beach Party. (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 8/28 to 9/1/89). A five-episode test for a daily series that, set on California’s Malibu Beach, features teenagers dancing to recorded and live music, game contests and celebrity guests.

Host: Alan Hunter. Pilot Co-Host: Alyssa Milano. Announcer: Staci Oki.

5018 Malibu, CA. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1998–2000). Peter Collins is a divorced restaurant owner who lives at 11721 Malibu Road in Malibu, California. When his ex-wife, Michelle, takes a job in Peru, his teenage sons Scott and Jason come to live with him and work as waiters at the Lighthouse, the seafood restaurant owned by Peter. Jennifer Stadler, Samantha Chapman, Murray Updike and Tracee Banks are Jason and Scott's friends.

Scott and Jason attended J.F.K. High School in New York. Scott is training for the Olympic Swim Team. Jason is a hopeful musician and singer.

Jennifer, nicknamed "Stads," is a female arm wrestling champion and once sold 500 boxes of girl scout cookies in one day. Samantha, a car nut, knows more about engines than most mechanics, and volunteers her services for charity. Samantha left the series (second season) "to attend college in the east." She was replaced by Lisa, a pre-med student at UCLA who works as a waitress at the Lighthouse. She and Tracee share an apartment Tracee calls "Casa de Fun Fun." Murray runs the Surf Shack, the beach eatery, for its owner (Peter).

Murray is a "surfer dude" and owns a pet electric eel (Sheila). He hosted an advice radio program called "The Dude of Love" on station KPOV.

Tracee is a gorgeous, busty blonde who believes she is "the most beautiful girl in Malibu and California and the whole U.S. of A. except for alien chicks who may appear on Star Trek." She loves to hang out at the beach and wants to be an actress. She did a guest shot on Baywatch, hosted a pilot called Blind Date and starred in a TV commercial as the Dancing Dorito Chip ("I was the only chip who got dipped in the salsa"). In second-season episodes, Tracee acquires the role of Dr. Sheila Lowenstein, a brain surgeon (who operates in a bikini), on the TV series Malibu Hospital. Her favorite color is pink and she says, "I may be an airhead, but I'm one hot babe." If her acting career fails, Tracee claims she will "fall back on the doctor thing — marry one, not be one." Tracee holds the title "Miss Shock Absorber '98."

Peter's biggest seller is Seinfeld Stew and his idea of dressing up is to wear a clean Hawaiian shirt. In the 1970s, Peter was a member of the band, the Disco Dudes.

Cast: Ed Blatchford (Peter Collins), Trevor Merzsei (Scott Collins), Jason Hayes (Jason Collins), Priscilla Lee Taylor (Tracee Banks), Wendi Kenya (Jennifer Stadler), Gina Marie May (Samantha Chapman), Brandon Brooks (Murray Updike), Marguita Terry (Lisa), Carol Houston (Michelle Collins).

5019 Malibu Run. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1961). A revised version of The Aquanauts that is set in Malibu Beach, California. Larry Lahr and Mike Madison are diving instructors who earn extra money as part time private investigators. While teaching people how to master the waters is their primary source of income, Larry and Mike find little adventure in this endeavor. It is when they offer their services to someone in trouble that they find the excitement they are seeking. Stories focus more on this aspect as Larry and Mike use their sleuthing skills to solve crimes.

5020 Malibu U. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1967). A summer series that is set at the mythical Malibu University on Malibu Beach in California and presents performances by the top names in rock and roll music. The series ran from July 21, 1967 to September 1, 1967.

An announcer opens the show: "It's ABC's summer beach-in, Malibu U with the dean, Rick Nelson and this week's Malibu U guests, the popular star, James Darren, the hip glee club, Harpers Bazaar, the Professor of Pop, Frankie Randall; the Bob Banas Dancers; the president of Malibu U's student body, Robbie Porter — and some Malibu U surprises. Among those contributing to the Malibu U. student body are the makers of Clairol, creators of the exciting natural look in beauty and tonight by Midnight Sun, the gentle shampoo lightener that leaves hair shiny. Now, here's the Dean of Malibu U., Rick Nelson...."

Host: Rick Nelson (as the Dean). Regulars: Robbie Porter, Erin Gray, The Bob Banas Dancers, The Malibuties. Theme Vocal: "Malibu U." by Harpers Bizarre.

5021 Mallory: Circumstantial Evidence. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 2/8/76). Daniel Mallory was a once-celebrated criminal attorney whose reputation and practice have been tarnished by unfounded perjury charges. He is now struggling to rebuild his reputation and the unsold series was to relate his efforts to help the people who still trust in him. In the pilot episode, Mallory attempts to defend a young man who is jailed for car theft, but charged with murder.

Cast: Raymond Burr (Daniel Mallory), Mark Hamill (Joe Celli, his aide). Guest Cast: Robert Loggia (Angelo Rondello), A Martinez (Roberto Ruiz), Vic Mohica (Tony Garcia), Peter Mark Richman (John Shields), Roger Robinson (Cliff Wilson), Eugene Roche (Bob Latimer), Allan Rich (Judge Paul Pieter).

5022 Mama. (Series; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 1949–1957). Events in the lives of the Hansons, a Norwegian family living in San Francisco (in 1910) is seen through the eyes of Katrin, the eldest daughter, an aspiring writer who records their daily activities in her diary.

Marta ("Mama") and Lars ("Papa") are Katrin's parents. Nels and Dagmar are her older brother and younger sister. Lars works as a carpenter (for the Jenkins Construction Company) and Marta, called Mama, is a practical woman and the guiding light of the family. The family is not rich and live comfortably at 118 Steiner Street. “Mama can do anything,” says Dagmar (Mama says, “It is not the best thing she grew up believing I can do everything”). Mama is content in her way of life and came to America because all her relatives were here — “It’s good for family to be together.” Katrin, Nels and Dagmar were all born in America; Marta and Lars became American citizens and Mama’s greatest desire is to return to Norway to show her children their homeland. Mama wears the silver brooch that belonged to mother; when she becomes upset, Mama scrubs the floors and does other house cleaning.

Jenny and Trina are Marta’s sisters; Gunnar is Marta’s uncle; Igeborg is Marta’s niece; Theodore Roosevelt (“T.R.”) Ryan is a friend.

Katrin (seen opening an old photo album) opens the show: “This old album makes me remember so many things from the past. San Francisco and the house on Steiner Street where I was born. It brings back memories of my cousins and aunts and uncles, of all the boys and girls I grew up with. I remember my friends as they were then; my brother Nels, my little sister Dagmar and, of course, Papa. But most of all, when I look back to those days so long ago, most of all, I remember Mama.”

Cast: Peggy Wood (Marta “Mama” Hanson), Judson Laire (Lars “Papa” Hanson), Rosemary Rice (Katrin Hanson), Iris Mann (Katrin Hanson; later), Robin Morgan (Dagmar Hanson), Toni Campbell (Dagmar Hanson; later), Dick Van Patten (Nels Hanson), Ruth Gates (Jenny), Alice Frost (Trina), Carl Frank (Uncle Gunnar), Patricia McCormack (Igeborg), Kevin Coughlin (T.R. Ryan), Paul Newman (Nels’s friend), James Dean (Nels’s friend), Jack Lemmon (Nels’s friend).

5023 Mama Malone. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1984). The kitchen of the fourth-floor apartment of Ranata Malone in Brooklyn, New York, is where the television program Cooking with Mama Malone is taped and broadcast. The comedy stems from Mama’s attempts to conduct a show — despite constant interruptions from friends and family members.

Ranata is a widow. Her divorced daughter, Connie Taramacopolis works at Paolo’s Pizza Patio; Frankie is Connie’s son; Dino Forresti is Mama’s brother, a pop singer; Austin is the show director; Padre Guardiano is Mama’s friend, the parish priest; Father Jose Silva is the Padre’s assistant; Stanley is the TV announcer; Jackie is the script girl; Harry is the floor director; Ken is the assistant director; Rosa is Mama’s niece; Albert is Rosa’s husband; Calvin Klinger is Mama’s neighbor; Neta Cavelli is Mama’s friend.

Cast: Lila Kaye (Mama Ranata Malone), Randee Heller (Connie Taramacopolis), Evan Richards (Frankie Taramacopolis), Don Amendolia (Dino Forresti), Raymond Singer (Austin), Ralph Manza (Padre Guardiano), Richard Yniquez (Father Jose Silva), Sam Anderson (Stanley), Joey Jupiter (Jackie), Mitchell Group (Harry), Pendleton Brown (Ken), Candice Azzara (Rosa), Robert Costanzo (Albert), Paul Benedict (Calvin Klinger), Alice Ghostley (Neta Cavelli). Theme Song: “Mama Malone” by John Kander, Fred Ebb.

5024 Mama Rosa. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1950). A little-known serial drama that depicts the trials and tribulations of an Italian-American family that own a boarding house in California. Broadcast on ABC from April 23, 1950 to June 15, 1950. The series, which was broadcast live in California and seen on kinescope in other areas of the country, was the first series to originate on the West Coast, where it began as a local show on KFI-TV in 1948.

Cast: Anna Demetrio (Mama Rosa), Beverly Garland (Her daughter), Richard Anderson (Her son), Vito Scotti (Nikolai).

5025 Mama’s Boy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1987–1988). When Molly McCaskey loses her money and is forced to leave Florida, she moves to New York to live with her bachelor son, Jake, a writer (of the column “McCaskey”) for the Manhattan Examiner. Jake would like his privacy and deal with the situations that he faces at work and with his friends in his own way. His mother still sees him as her little boy and feels obligated to help him. Stories follow Jake’s efforts to deal with his mother’s attempts to run his life. Agnes is Molly’s sister; Officer Mickey Ryan and Lucky are Jake’s friends.

NBC did not know what to do with the series and erratically ran it. Thirteen episodes were produced but only five aired (on the following dates: September 19, 1987; October 31, 1987; April 9, 1988; June 29, 1988; and August 6, 1988). The pilot episode, although produced before the series, ran on November 26, 1987.

Cast: Bruce Weitz (Jake McCaskey), Nancy Walker (Molly McCaskey), James Cromwell (Lucky), Dan Hedaya (Mickey Ryan), Grace Zabriskie (Agnes), Susan Blakely (Victoria; Jake’s editor), David Leisure (Apartment house manager).

5026 Mama’s Family. (Series; Comedy; NBC; Syn.; 1983–1988). Residing at 1542 Ray Lane (in some episodes, 1542 Ray Way) in Raytown, U.S.A., are the Harpers, a not so typical American family.

Thelma (“Mama”) Harper is the cantankerous head of the family. She was married to a man named Carl (deceased) who called her “Snooky Ookems.” Mama held a job as a receptionist for the Raytown Travel Agency. Her most treasured recipe is for Million Dollar Fudge, and her home was originally 10 Decatur Road (at which time it was a brothel called Ma Beaudine’s). As a child, Thelma was jump rope champion of the second grade.

Vinton Harper is Mama’s second-born child. He is a locksmith and works for Kwick Keys, a company that is owned by the Bernice Corporation. His favorite hangout is the Bigger Jigger Bar, and he is a member of the Mystic Order of the Cobra Club.

Naomi Oates, “the sexiest woman in Raytown,” and the Harpers’ next door neighbor, married Vint in 1983. (Vinton’s former wife, Mitzi, ran out on him. Naomi had four previous marriages, to Tom, Bill, Leonard and George.) Naomi is a checker at the local supermarket, Food Circus, and is called “Skeeter” by Vinton (Mama believes Naomi is the kind of girl mothers fear their sons will marry).

Sonia and Vinton Harper, Jr. (“Buzz”) are Vint’s children from his first marriage. Both attend Raytown High School, and both only appear in the NBC version of the series (1983–84). Sonia is named after her cousin, Sonia, “a schoolteacher for 35 years who one day went berserk and set the gym on fire.”

Bubba Higgins is Mama’s grandson (Eunice’s son). He attends Raytown Junior College and replaced Sonia and Buzz.

Iola Boylen is Mama’s longtime friend and neighbor, a spinster who lives with her never-seen domineering mother. She is a member of the Peppermint Playhouse Theater Company and loves to sew and do arts and crafts.

NBC episodes feature Mama’s other children: Ellen Jackson, Thelma’s first-born daughter, now a widow and a society woman; and Eunice Higgins, Mama’s third-born, neurotic daughter. Fran Crawley, Thelma’s sister, writes a column “for the local paper that is thrown on the porch” and Alistair Quince, the program host.

James Ray founded the town. The major tourist attraction is the tomb of the unknown Raytonian; the make out spot is Ray Point. The program is based on a series of skits originally performed on The Carol Burnett Show.

Relatives: Harvey Korman (Eunice’s husband, Ed Higgins), Vicki Lawrence (Thelma’s cousin, Lydia, and Thelma’s mother in a ghost sequence), Dorothy Van (Thelma’s sister, Effie), Imogene Coca (Thelma’s aunt, Gert), Jerry Reed (Naomi’s ex-husband, Leonard Oates), Penelope Sudrow (Iola’s niece, Vernette).

Cast: Vicki Lawrence (Thelma Harper), Ken Berry (Vinton Harper), Dorothy Lyman (Naomi Harper), Karin Argoud (Sonia Harper), Eric Brown (Buzz Harper), Allan Kayser (Bubba Higgins), Beverly Archer (Iola Boylen), Rue McClanahan (Fran Crawley), Betty White (Ellen Jackson), Carol Burnett (Eunice Higgins), Harvey Korman (Ed Higgins), Harvey Korman (Alistair Quince), Jerry Reed (Leonard), Tanya Fenmore (Young Eunice; flashbacks), Amy O’Neill (Young Ellen; flashbacks), David Friedman (Young Vinton; flashbacks). Theme: “Bless My Happy Home” by Peter Matz.

5027 Man About the House. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1983). The British series on which Three’s Company is based. The program follows the lives of Jo and Chrissy, two girls who share a flat in England, and the problems that ensue when their landlord raises the rent and they sublet a room to Robin Tripp, a male cookery student. See also Robin’s Nest, the spin-off series (which became the Three’s Company spin-off, Three’s a Crowd). Man About the House also led to the British spin-off George and Mildred (which became the basis for the Three’s Company spin-off The Ropers).

Other Regulars: George and Mildred Roper, the landlords; Larry Simmons, Robin’s friend; Jim, the bartender at the Mucky Duck Saloon, the hangout; Norman Tripp, Robin’s brother (who married Chrissy in the last episode).

Cast: Richard O’Sullivan (Robin Tripp), Sally Thomsett (Jo), Paula Wilcox (Chrissy Plummer), Brian Murphy (George Roper), Yootha Joyce (Mildred Roper), Doug Fisher (Larry Simmons), Michael Segal (Jim), Norman Eshley (Norman Tripp).

5028 Man About Town. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/11/86). Leon Feddick is a New York bachelor with few friends, few dates and very little excitement in his life. The unsold series was to focus on Leon’s efforts to turn his life around. In the pilot episode, Leon meets the girl of his dreams (Ellen) and attempts to impress her with his knowledge of American history. Other Regulars: Terry, Leon’s neighbor (at the Lakeside Vista Apartments in Manhattan), a singer; Vic, Leon’s friend, the owner of a bookstore; Sandy, Vic’s salesgirl; Mike, the Mailman; and Dean, Leon’s cousin.

Cast: Daniel Stern (Leon Feddick), Jayne Modeman (Terry Bishop), Tom Henschel (Vic LeMeara), Karlene Crockett (Sandy), George Wyner (Mike the Mailman), Sam Whipple (Dean Feddick). Guest Cast: Toni Kalem (Ellen Nance), Dominic Hoffman (Customer).

5029 Man Against Crime. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; DuMont; NBC; 1949–1956). Mike Barnett is a private detective based in New York City. Mike, one of the earliest of the TV detectives, is based on the movie detectives who preceded him (like Philip Marlowe and Sam Spade). He is hard-boiled and two fisted. He takes the cases of people desperately in need of help but to achieve his means, he uses every dirty trick in the book to acquire them — sometimes going above the limits of the law. Stories follow Mike as he solves crimes (and sets the pace for his fellow TV detectives that were to follow — from Mike Hammer to Richard Diamond). Also known as Follow That Man. It aired on CBS from October 7, 1949 to October 2, 1953; on DuMont from October 11, 1953 to April 4, 1954; and on NBC from July 1, 1956 to August 26, 1956.

5030 Man Against Crime. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/21/58). The story of a young lawyer (Dan Garrett) and his battle against crime through the legal system. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Decision, Dan defends a youth accused of killing a punk during a gang war.

Cast: Darren McGavin (Dan Garrett). Guest Cast: David Opatoshu (Sam Mitschner), Stanley Peck (Robbie Mitschner), Joe Sullivan (Voorhes), Terry Greene (Spotsy).

5031 Man Against the Mob. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/10/88). The pilot for a proposed series called City of Angels about Frank Dokey, a hardened police detective (Central Division) in Los Angeles during the 1940s. In the pilot episode, Frank attempts to solve the seemingly complex murder of a hooker.

Cast: George Peppard (Frank Dokey). Guest Cast: Max Gail (Rusty Kitchens), Barry Corbin (Big Mac McCleary), Kathryn Harrold (Marilyn Butler), Fredric Lehne (Sammy Turner), Stella Stevens (Joey Day), Norman Alden (Captain Necker), Sandy Ward (Captain Spivey), Paul Tuerpe (Barlow Rush).

5032 The Man and the Challenge. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1959–1960). Glenn Barton is a very special man. He is a U.S. government research scientist who has volunteered to go beyond the test tube phase and laboratory statistics to become a human guinea pig. His assignment: test the limits of human endurance. Lynn Allen assists Glen in his research and stories chart his experiences as he sometimes risks his life to make for a safer world.

Cast: George Nader (Glenn Barton), Jayne Meadows (Lynn Allen).

5033 The Man and the City. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1971–1972). A southwestern metropolis, the fictional equivalent of Albuquerque, New Mexico, is the home of Mayor Thomas Alcalá, a man who strays from the offices of city hall, mixes with the people, and struggles to solve their problems. Andy Hays is Thomas's assistant; Marian Crane is Thomas's secretary; Josefina is Thomas's housekeeper. See also The City for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Anthony Quinn (Thomas Jefferson Alcalá), Mike Farrell (Andy Hays), Mala Powers (Marian Crane), Carmen Zapata (Josefina).

5034 The Man Behind the Badge. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953–1955). Dramatizations based on official law enforcement records of the men and women who risk their lives to protect people.

Host-Narrator: Charles Bickford. Additional Narration: Norman Rose. Announcer: Joel Aldred.

5035 A Man Called Hawk. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1989). A spin-off from Spenser: For Hire. On Spenser Hawk was a mysterious man who helped Boston private detective Spenser bring criminals to justice. The new series begins with Hawk returning to his hometown of Washington, D.C., where he becomes a mysterious figure for justice, a vigilante who seems to come from out of nowhere to help people desperately in need of help. Hawk is assisted by his cousin, Jake and often helps Colonel Stoller, a retired army man out to see that justice is done and often gives Hawk a case that he feels needs resolving. "Old Man" (as Hawk calls him) is Hawk's mentor, a fierce believer in justice.

Cast Avery Brooks (Hawk), Moses Gunn (Old Man), Jack Ryland (Colonel Stoller), Keith David (Jake).

5036 A Man Called Ragan. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 4/23/62). The pilot film for The Dakotas about Frank Ragan, a U.S. territorial marshal stationed in Dakota. In the pilot episode, Ragan travels to Stark City to learn the whereabouts of an old friend who disappeared under mysterious circumstances. Broadcast as a segment of Cheyenne.

Cast: Larry Ward (Marshal Frank Ragan), Jack Elam (Deputy J.D. Smith), Chad Everett (Deputy Del Stark), Arch Johnson (Ben; guest role).

5037 A Man Called Shenandoah. (Series; Western; ABC; 1965–1966). "O, Shenandoah, you're doomed to wander; so roam in search of home, 'cross this land so lonely." As this theme played, the figure of a man (Robert Horton) is seen riding through the deep snow. The blistering winds and bitter cold have become part of his life as he wanders from town to town seeking to discover his past — an identity that was lost to him when he was shot in the head for unknown reasons and left to die on the prairie. He was found by two bounty hunters and brought to a nearby town. There he was nursed back to health by a saloon girl named Kate. But upon awakening, he found himself a man without a memory and unaware of who or what he was. Now, as Shenandoah (the Indian name for an amnesiac), he searches for his past throughout the turbulent West of the 1860s ("You can't build a future unless you know the past," he says).

Shenandoah never uncovered his true identity. He learned only that he was a U.S. Army lieutenant assigned to the Western Division of the Second Regiment at Fort Smith and that Fort Todd was the only place he could remember ever having lived.

Cast: Robert Horton (Shenandoah), Beverly Garland (Kate; first episode). Theme Vocal: "Shenandoah" by Robert Horton.

5038 A Man Called Sloane. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1979). Thomas Remington Sloane III is a Priority One Agent for UNIT, a secret U.S. government counterespionage team. Torgue is his assistant, and Mr. Director is the head of UNIT.

The front for UNIT is a Los Angeles toy store called the Toy Boutique; the brains behind UNIT is Effie, an E.F.I. series 3000 computer. KARTEL, an organization that is bent on destroying the world, is its enemy. Sara is Sloane's romantic interest.

In the 1979 pilot film, Death Ray 2000 (broadcast by NBC on 3/5/81), Robert Logan was Thomas R. Sloane, an agent for UNIT and the owner of an antique business called Sloane and Sons in Carmel, California (Penelope Windust was Sloane's business associate, Emma Blessing). Dan O'Herlihy was Mr. Director, but Ji-Tu Cumbuka was a villain named Torgue, who sought to kill Sloane. UNIT was located in Kentucky, where Mr. Director posed as a rural farmer (UNIT's offices were in the back of a barn).

Cast: Robert Conrad (Thomas R. Sloane), Ji-Tu Cumbuka (Torgue), Dan O'Herlihy (Mr. Director), Karen Purcill (Agent Kelly O'Neal), Michele Carey (Voice of Effie), Diane Stilwell (Sara). Theme Music: "A Man Called Sloane" by Patrick Williams.

5039 The Man Called X. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1956). Ken Thurston is an American intelligence agent who operates under the code name "X." Stories relate his adventures as he investigates cases on behalf of the government.

Cast: Barry Sullivan (Ken Thurston).

5040 The Man from Atlantis. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1977–1978). A storm deep within the Pacific Ocean unearths the sole survivor of the fabled lost kingdom of Atlantis and washes him ashore. A father and son, walking on a beach in California, find the unconscious Atlantian and call an ambulance.

The Atlantian, who has webbed hands, is brought to a hospital, where doctors are unable to determine what is wrong with him (other than desiccated lungs and the fact that "he has forgotten how to breathe").

Elizabeth Merrill, a naval doctor, takes an interest in the case and examines the victim. "I know how to save him," she exclaims. With the help of paramedics, she returns Mark to the sea. The water revives and saves the Atlantian's life. The Atlantian, whom Elizabeth names Mark Harris, is brought to the Naval Undersea Center. After an examination Elizabeth discovers that Mark is only marginally equipped for life on land and that he can only survive out of water for 16 hours. He has vocal chords but hasn't spoken yet. His diet is kelp and plankton but his origins are unknown.

Mark is then put through a series of additional tests. He can swim faster than a dolphin and can go to depths of over 36,000 feet. As Mark begins to learn about humans, he is asked to help the navy find a missing research submarine called the Sea Quest (which went off scope at 36,000 feet and is believed to be at the bottom of the Marianas Trench). Mark speaks for the first time, saying, "I say yes, Admiral" (referring to Admiral Dewey Pierce, played by Art Lund). Pierce appoints Elizabeth as Mark's supervisor.

While exploring the Marianas Trench, Mark spies a mysterious black submarine. He follows it through unexplored waters to a hidden passageway that leads to a sea mountain habitat owned by Mr. Schubert, "an ocean junkman who wised up, became rich and now gets whatever he wants." Schubert has created what he believes is a perfect world and is seeking to destroy the diseased world above, then make it good once again. Mark is captured, but he escapes and foils Schubert's plan (by flooding the habitat).

Although the government allows Mark to return to the sea, he elects to remain and help further humanity's knowledge of the sea and increase his own knowledge of human beings. Stories detail Mark and Elizabeth's work on behalf of the O.R.F. (Oceanic Research Foundation).

C.W. Crawford is the head of the foundation, and Jane, Jimmy and Jumo are crew members of the foundation submarine, the Citation. Brent is Mr. Schubert's fumbling assistant (Schubert's goal is to capture Mark for his own sinister purposes).

Mark calls himself a citizen of the ocean. He can't talk to fish, but he can understand dolphins and whales. Elizabeth calls Mark "The Project Atlantis Affair." Theme: "The Man from Atlantis," by Fred Karlin.

Cast: Patrick Duffy (Mark Harris), Belinda J. Montgomery (Dr. Elizabeth Merrill), Victor Buono (Mr. Schubert), Kenneth Tigar (Dr. Miller; Elizabeth's superior), Annette Cardona (Ginny Mendoza), Alan Fudge (C.W. Crawford), Robert Lussier (Brent; Schubert's assistant), Jean Marie Hon (Jane), J. Victor Lopez (Jimmy), Anson Downs (Jumo).

5041 The Man from Blackhawk. (Series; Western; ABC; 1959–1960). Sam Logan is a special investigator for the Blackhawk Insurance Company during the 1870s. Sam is fast with his guns, rugged and quick with his fists. Stories follow Sam as he travels throughout the lawless west investigating claims filed against his company. The program was cited for its excessive violence and was considered the most violent TV series on the air at the time.

Cast: Robert Rockwell (Sam Logan).

5042 The Man from Denver. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 4/30/59). A proposed series about Ward Pendleton, an examiner for a chain of banks, as he travels throughout the Old West. The pilot episode relates Ward's efforts to recover the stolen assets of a small town bank. Aired as "Checkmate" on Zane Grey Theater (The Man from Denver was the proposed series title).

Cast: Mark Miller (Ward Pendleton). Guest Cast: James Whitmore (Joel Begley), Marsha Hunt (Dr. Sara Martin), Jim Roarke (Sheriff), Dabbs Greer, William Schallert.

5043 The Man from Everywhere. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 4/13/61). A proposed spin-off from Zane Grey Theater about Branch Taylor, a happy-go-lucky drifter who tackles any job. In the pilot episode, Taylor is hired by Sheriff Morgan to get his prisoner, Tom Bowdry, to a nearby town to avoid an angry lynch mob.

Cast: Burt Reynolds (Branch Taylor). Guest Cast: Cesar Romero (Tom Bowdry), King Calder (Sheriff Jed Morgan), Peter Whitney (Moose), Ruta Lee (Jenny Aldrich).

5044 The Man from Galveston. (Unaired Pilot; Western; Produced in 1963). The pilot film for Temple Houston about Timothy Higgins (later to become Temple Houston), a circuit-riding frontier lawyer. In the pilot episode, Higgins defends a woman (Rita Dillard) falsely accused of murder. Originally intended for television, but released theatrically instead (it is currently available in syndication).

Cast: Jeffrey Hunter (Timothy Higgins). Guest Cast: Joanna Moore (Rita Dillard), Preston Foster (Judge Homer Black), James Coburn (Boyd Palmer), Edward Andrews (Hyde), Kevin Hagen (John Dillard), Martin West (Stonewall Grey), Ed Nelson (Cole Marteen), Grace Lee Whitney (Texas Rose), Karl Swenson (Sheriff).

5045 The Man from Interpol. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1960). Tony Smith is an inspector with New Scotland Yard in England. When the opportunity arises for Tony to study new crime solving techniques, he is assigned to active duty with Interpol (the International Police Force). Stories follow Tony's case investigations.

Cast: Richard Wyler (Tony Smith), John Longden (Superintendent Mercer).

5046 The Man from the 25th Century. (Unaired Pilot; Science Fiction; Produced in 1968). Robert Prentiss was born in Topeka, Kansas, in 1951. Seven years later he was abducted by aliens from a planet 500 years ahead of Earth. For 20 years he was trained for a special mission on Earth: to destroy the Delphi Project, which is designed to protect the Earth from alien invaders (Delphi emits a radium shield that disintegrates alien objects).

The aliens' plan begins to take effect when Prentiss, believed to be an important government scientist assigned to perfect Delphi, is taken one mile beneath the earth to its secret location (Prentiss is seen being transported to Earth; but exactly how he comes to be accepted as a scientist is not shown).

Prentiss, however, fails to destroy the project when his human qualities override his orders to kill. When the aliens, who are viewing what is happening, see that Prentiss has betrayed them, they send a death ship to destroy the Delphi Project. Prentiss reveals himself to Dr. Carl Baldwin and General George Atwood and uses the power of the project to destroy the alien ship. The aliens dispatch a death squad to destroy Prentiss and the unsold series was to follow Prentiss as he helps the government in its battle against alien invaders.

Cast: James Darren (Robert Prentiss), John Napier (Dr. Carl Baldwin), Ford Rainey (General George Atwood), John Crawford (Alien leader).

5047 The Man from U.N.C.L.E. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1964–1968). The United Network Command for Law and Enforcement (U.N.C.L.E.) is a U.S. government organization, based in New York City, that battles the evils of THRUSH, an enemy organization bent on world domination. Alexander Waverly heads the New York office and his top agents are Napoleon Solo and Ilya Kuryakin. The Del Flora Tailor Shop on Second Avenue and 40th Street fronts for the agency.

Napoleon is a suave and sophisticated ladies' man. He is an expert at chess, is single and longs for a family. He was born in Kansas City and served a hitch in Korea during the war. Napoleon is not a man of action; he would rather use his considerable charm to talk his way out of a situation rather than use physical force.

Ilya was born in Russia but speaks with what appears to be a British accent. He is knowledgeable in many areas and is well versed in the martial arts (he is also an expert shot and archer). He served a hitch in the Russian Navy and graduated from U.N.C.L.E. Survival School in 1956. Stories follow Napoleon and Ilya's investigations into cases that threaten world security.

Other Regulars: Lisa Rogers, Alexander's secretary; Del Flora, the owner of the tailor shop; and Heather, a field agent.

Cast: Robert Vaughn (Napoleon Solo), David McCallum (Ilya Kuryakin), Leo G. Carroll (Alexander Waverly), Barbara Moore (Lisa Rogers), Mario Siletti (Del Flora), May Heatherly (Heather), Julie Ann Johnson (U.N.C.L.E. Girl), Sharon Hillyer (U.N.C.L.E. Girl). Theme Music: "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." by Lalo Schifrin.

5048 Man in a Suitcase. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1968). John McGill is a former American intelligence agent turned private detective. Although now based in London, England, John will travel to wherever the need be to investigate a case for a client (sort of living out of a suitcase). Stories follow John's case investigations.

Cast: Richard Bradford (John McGill).

5049 The Man in the Family. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1991). When Sal Bavasso learns that his father, Carmine (Al Ruscio), is dying, he leaves Las Vegas and returns to his home in Brooklyn, New York. Sal, the black sheep of the family (Carmine disapproved of his playboy life-style, his friends and his spending habits), promises his father that he will care for the family and run the family business. Carmine's Deli is the business, and the family consists of Sal's mother, Angie Bavasso, his divorced sister, Annie Bavasso, his teenage sister, Tina Bavasso, Annie's son, Robby, and his uncle, Bennie Bavasso.

Carmine's Deli is located at 38 Benson Drive; Sal and the family live in Apartment 4 on the first floor above the deli.

Sal is a wheeler-dealer and has a shady quality about him (possibly mob connections). He has been knocking around from one job to another since high school. He frequents Ed's Lounge (his favorite night is Tuesday — Lingerie Night).

Annie, who is 33 years old, has been divorced for seven years and now works as a salesclerk at Macy's on 34th Street in Manhattan.

Tina, who is 17 years old, attends Saint Vincent's High School. She is very pretty, but sometimes doubts her beauty and ability to attract the opposite sex.

Robby attends Saint Vincent's Elementary School; Uncle Bennie shops at Vito's, Sal's competition, "because their prices are lower."

Cha Cha is Sal's not too bright friend. He runs a dry cleaning shop and has a crush on Annie. In the original, unaired pilot, Honor Bound, Camille Savioola played Sal's mother, Angie Bavasso. Louis Prima sings the theme, "When You're Smilin'."

Cast: Ray Sharkey (Sal Bavasso), Julie Bovasso (Angie Bavasso), Leah Remini (Tina Bavasso), Billy J. Sullivan (Bobby Bavasso), Louis Guss (Bernie Bavasso), Leah Remini (Tina Bavasso), Billy L. Sullivan (Robby Bavasso), Louis Guss (Bennie Bavasso), Don Stark (Cha Cha).

5050 Man in the Middle. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/14/72). A proposed series about a conservative family man (Norman) who is caught between a left-wing daughter (Debbie), a right-wing mother (Belle) and a middle-aged business partner (Harvey) on a youth trip. Other Regulars: Harriet, Norman's wife; and Kirk, Norman's son.

Cast: Van Johnson (Norman), Nancy Malone (Harriet), Heather Menzies (Debbie), Ruth McDevitt (Belle), Michael Brandon (Kirk), Allan Melvin (Harvey).

5051 The Man in the Square Suit. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/22/66). Frank Johnson is 37 years old, married (to Marilyn) and the father of a teenage girl (Nancy). He is an accomplished television writer but feels he is a square. He works on a rock and roll TV show but again feels he is square when it comes to such music. The pilot episode, titled "The Rambling Wreck from Discotheque," relates Frank's first days at his new job with his under-25-year-old co-workers: Maxine, his sexy secretary; and Gary Young, the producer.

Cast: Paul Dooley (Frank Johnson), Jan Shutan (Marilyn Johnson), Diane Sherry (Nancy Johnson), Astrid Warner (Maxine), Michael Blodgett (Gary Young). Guest Cast: Herb Ellis (Larry), Alan Reed (Harlow).

5052 Man of the Comstock. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 11/3/53). A proposed spin-off from Fireside Theater about Bill Stewart, a mining attorney in the Comstock mining area of Colorado during the Civil War, as he attempts to maintain the peace.

Cast: Bruce Bennett (Bill Stewart), Morris Ankrum (Joseph Goodman), Andrea King (Annie Foote), Jonathan Hale (John McKay), Glenn Strange (Sam Brown), Ruth Clifford (Mrs. Kinkaid), Robert Griffin (El Dorado Johnny), Emmett Vogan (Governor Nye).

5053 Man of the People. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1991). James ("Jim") Doyle is a city councilman who has to pull off scams to survive — "I can't survive on what they pay me in this burg." The "burg" is an unidentified town in the 7th District. Jim is a bookmaker and gambler. When his ex-wife, Margie Patterson, dies, the mayor, Lisbeth Chardin, appoints Jim to replace her (she believes the public wants the appointment to be that of someone close to the deceased councilwoman). It is also Lisbeth's plan to manipulate Jim for her own benefit. Unknown to Lisbeth, Jim is aware of her intentions but doesn't let on; he wheels and deals for his benefit, which includes winning the upcoming mayor's race and becoming the man of the people.

Constance LeRoy is Jim's former sister-in-law; she now works as his office assistant (she is determined not to let him run scams from the office). Her goal is to keep Jim on the straight and narrow; in her mind she is right and everybody else is wrong. Ritta is Jim's ditsy receptionist, an ex-hooker who was arrested twice for prostitution. Kathleen Quinlan played the part of Constance in the unaired pilot version. J.D. Hart, Steve Tyrrell and Darnell Brown composed the theme, "I'm the Man."

Cast: James Garner (Jim Doyle), Kate Mulgrew (Lisbeth Chardin), Corinne Bohrer (Constance Le Roy), Romy Walthall (Rita).

5054 Man of the West. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1958). The alternate title for Frontier Doctor. See this title for information.

5055 Man of the World. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1962). Michael Strait is a world-renowned photo-journalist. Stories follow his global assignments as his photo shoots often mean more than just taking pictures. Michael is a man who has a knack for finding trouble — and helping people in distress.

Cast: Craig Stevens (Michael Strait).

5056 Man on a String. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 2/18/72). An unsold update of Tighrope about a daring government undercover agent (Pete King) who tackles hazardous assignments. The pilot episode relates King's efforts to infiltrate and break up a crime ring. William Connaught is Pete's superior.

Cast: Christopher George (Pete King), William Schallert (William Connaught). Guest Cast: Michael Baseleon (Mickey Brown), Jack Warden (Jake Moniker), Keith Carradine (Danny Brown), Joel Grey (Joe Brown), Kitty Winn (Angela Canyon).

5057 Man on the Move. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 3/26/72). The pilot film for Jigsaw about Frank Dain, a detective lieutenant who specializes in solving complex missing persons cases. The pilot episode relates Dain's attempts to clear himself of a murder charge when he is found unconscious at a murder scene.

Cast: James Wainwright (Frank Dain). Guest Cast: Vera Miles (Lilah Beth), Andrew Duggan (Harrison Delando), Marsha Hunt (Dr. Gehlen), Edmond O'Brien (Ed Burtelson), Pamela Rodgers (Adele Collier), Richard Kiley (Dan Bellington), Ken Lynch (Mr. Cummings).

5058 Man on the Outside. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 6/29/75). Wade Griffin Investigations is a private detective organization in Westwood, California. It is owned by Wade "Griff" Griffin, a former police captain who, after coming out of retirement to solve the murder of his son (Gerald) opened the agency to help others. This pilot for Griff (ABC, 9/23/73 to 1/4/74) aired 18 months after the series ended. The pilot also depicts Wade's efforts to save his grandson (Mark) who has been kidnapped by a serial killer.

Cast: Lorne Greene (Wade Griffin). Guest Cast: James Olson (Gerald Griffin), Lee H. Montgomery (Mark Griffin), Lorraine Gary (Nora Griffin), Brooke Bundy (Sandra Ames), Ken Swofford (Lieutenant Matthews), Jean Allison (Ellen), Ruth McDevitt (Stella Daniels), Bruce Kirby (Scully), Scatman Crothers (Ruben Hammer).

5059 Man to Woman. (Series; Women; Syn.; 1971). An insert series (for magazine programs) wherein host Jack Douglas speaks his mind to today's women.

5060 The Man Who Fell to Earth. (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 8/23/87). A small alien space craft, carrying four passengers, crash lands on Earth. The one surviving passenger, John Dorey, is left to carry out his mission: save the remaining population of his dying planet, Athena (which was struck by a meteor and is now doomed as another meteor is approaching). The unsold series was to relate John's efforts to somehow find a means by which to return to Athena and transport his people to the safety of the Earth. The pilot finds John teaming with businessman Felix Hawthorne to create World Enterprises as a means of building a ship that can travel the 200 million miles to Athena to save his people. Complicating John's mission is Richard Morse, a U.S. government agent who has become suspicious of his actions.

Cast: Lewis Smith (John Dorey), James Laurenson (Felix Hawthorne), Robert Picardo (Richard Morse). Guest Cast: Beverly D'Angelo (Eva), Bruce McGill (Gage), Annie Potts (Louise), Wil Wheaton (Billy), Rob Nelson (Captain), Steve Anatole (Soldier), Michael Fontain (Guard), Annie O'Neill (Secretary).

5061 The Man Who Never Was. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1966–1967). While being pursued by East German police, who uncovered his identity, American espionage agent Peter Murphy wanders onto the ground of an estate where a society party is being held. Straying from the house, multimillionaire Mark Wainwright, Peter's exact double, is mistaken for Murphy by the police and killed. Shortly after, when the Wainwright chauffeur mistakes Peter for Mark, and told of an impending meeting, he assumes Wainwright's identity.

At first, Peter manages to fool everyone, including Eva, Mark's wife. At the scheduled meeting, in which Eva is to lose control of her family corporation to Roger Berry, Mark's scheming half brother, Peter refuses to sign the necessary papers. Later, when they are alone, Eva questions the stranger posing as her husband. Unable to reveal his true identity, he tells her about Mark and asks her to continue posing as his wife. Mystified, but needing Mark alive to save her family corporation, she agrees. Posing as Mark Wainwright, agent Peter Murphy continues in his capacity as a spy and, assisted by Eva, undertakes hazardous missions for the U.S. government. Jack Forbes is Peter's superior.

A narrator opens the show: "Peter Murphy, American secret agent, marked for death, meets a bizarre destiny. As his pursuers close in, he comes face to face with his exact double, multi-millionaire Mark Wainwright. The millionaire takes the bullet meant for the spy and Murphy finds the perfect cover. He steps into the shoes and likeness of the man with his face. And Peter Murphy, now alias Mark Wainwright, becomes The Man Who Never Was."

Cast: Robert Lansing (Peter Murphy/Mark Wainwright), Dana Wynter (Eva Wainwright), Alex Devion (Roger Berry), Murray Hamilton (Jack Forbes).

5062 The Man Who Wouldn't Die. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/29/95). Thomas Grace is an English author of "Inspector Fulbright" detective novels. He is also a newspaper columnist (of the feature “Man About Town”) for the Chronicle. Jessie Galardo is a waitress, art student, divorcee and ardent fan of Grace’s novels. She also possesses psychic powers that enable her to see the future. After reading Grace’s latest novel, The Man Who Wouldn’t Die, Jessie has visions of the crimes depicted in the book as actually happening. She seeks out Grace to tell him what she has seen. Grace is skeptical at first — until Jessie’s visions actually begin to happen. When Grace puts the pieces together, he realizes that a man he once interviewed in prison (Bernard Drake) and on whom he based his criminal, Morrisey, has come back from the dead (believed to have been killed in a prison fire) to taunt him (he believes he is Morrisey and that Grace is Inspector Fulbright) and wages a war of wits — using the book as the battle plan. The story follows Grace and Jessie as they attempt to stop Drake’s killing spree. The unsold series was to follow Grace and Jessie as they team to solve crimes.

Cast: Roger Moore (Thomas Grace), Nancy Allen (Jessie Galardo). Guest Cast: Malcolm MacDowell (Bernard Drake), Kevin McNulty (Jack Carruthers), Eric McCormack (Bill Sullivan), Jackson Davies (Lieutenant Davies), Don McKay (Henry Graham), Scott Bellis (Boris).

5063 Man with a Camera. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1958–1960). Mike Kovac is a freelance photojournalist based in New York City. He was a top combat photographer during the Korean War but suffered hard times after getting out of the service (he was barely able to survive and lived in a “broken down old tenement”). It took time, but Mike’s photos of celebrities visiting New York got him noticed and back on his feet. Mike’s interest waned from celebrities to crime and corruption and he has earned a reputation as a top-notch crime photographer. Stories follow Mike as he attempts to acquire material by assisting the police and solving crimes against insurance companies.

Cast: Charles Bronson (Mike Kovac), James Flavin (Lieutenant Donovan).

5064 The Man with the Power. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 5/24/77). Eric Smith is a Milwaukee high school teacher with a secret: he is the scion of an alien father and Earth mother. He possesses unique psychokinetic powers and the unsold series was to relate his efforts to help the U.S. government when the need arises. In the pilot episode, Smith attempts to safeguard an oil-rich princess (Siri) on her first visit to America.

5065 Man Without a Gun. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1958). Adam MacLean is a newspaper editor (of The Yellowstone Sentinel) in the town of Yellowstone, Dakota, during the 1870s. Although he lives in a rather ruthless and lawless territory, Adam does not believe in violence as a means of establishing peace. He believes the power of the press is a more powerful weapon. Stories follow Adam as he tries to do with his paper what he won’t do with a gun — uphold the peace (with a little help from the town Marshal, Frank Tallman). In April of 1957, an unaired pilot episode was filmed with Robert Rockwell as the star.

Cast: Rex Reason (Adam MacLean), Mort Mills (Marshal Frank Tallman).

5066 The Mancini Generation. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1972). Music and songs with orchestra leader and composer Henry Mancini. The 40-piece Mancini Orchestra provides music. Burt Sugarman and Stan Harris are the producers.

5067 Mancuso, FBI. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1989–1990). Nick Mancuso is a no-nonsense FBI agent with the Metropolitan Bureau Field Office in Washington, D.C. Nick grew up on the Lower East Side of New York City and was married to a woman named Mary Louise (who died in 1964). He now lives at 311 Delaware Street; Gertie’s Bar is his favorite hangout. Gertie is the bar owner.

Jean St. John is Nick’s secretary; Kristen Carter is an FBI agent who assists Nick; Lorraine Kovacs is Nick’s married daughter; Andy Kovacs is Lorraine’s husband; Lee Ann Kovacs is Lorraine’s daughter. Stories relate Nick’s case investigations. Susan Hamilton and Doug Katsaros composed the theme, “Mancuso, FBI.”

Cast: Robert Loggia (Nick Mancuso), Randi Brooks (Jean St. John), Janet Carroll (Lorraine Kovacs), Michael Bell (Andy Kovacs), Leigh Hughes (Lee Ann Kovacs), Lee Garlington (Gertie), Lindsay Frost (Kristen Carter), Janet Carroll (Lorraine Lovacs), Michael Bell (Andy Kovacs), Leigh Hughes (Lee Ann Kovacs).

5068 Mandrake. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/24/79). During the twelfth century, wizards carried on the secrets of ancient Egypt and the magic of ancient China. When the hordes of Genghis Khan began to sweep the western world, they destroyed the wizards and their lore. The few who managed to escape established the College of Magic in a secret Tibetan valley wherein the lore was preserved. To ensure its existence, one youth was selected every decade and taught the ancient secrets.

Eight hundred years later, a young boy is brought to the mysterious valley by his father, a former graduate, who has only a short time to live. The young boy, Mandrake, is taught the ancient secrets by Theron, the Master of Magic. Soon, Mandrake becomes greater than his masters. Upon his release from the college, Mandrake teams with his servant

(Lothar) and sets out to help mankind. The unsold series was to relate Mandrake's experiences as he uses the power of magic to defeat evil. The pilot episode relates Mandrake's efforts to apprehend a madman who is trying to blackmail a businessman for ten million dollars.

Cast: Anthony Herrera (Mandrake), Ji-Tu Cum-buka (Lothar). Guest Cast: Simone Griffeth (Stacy), Gretchen Corbett (Jennifer Lindsey), Peter Haskell (William Romero), David Hooks (Dr. Malcolm Lindsey), Harry Blackstone, Jr. (Dr. Nolan), Hank Brandt (Alex Gordon).

5069 Mandrake the Magician. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954). Mandrake is a magician who uses his feats of illusion more as a law enforcer than an entertainer. He is assisted by his servant, Lothar and stories relate their attempts to use magic to help people in trouble and solve crimes. See the prior title for information on Mandrake's history. Based on the stories by Lee Falk and Phil Davis.

Cast: Coe Norton (Mandrake), Woody Strode (Lothar).

5070 Manhattan Honeymoon. (Series; Game; ABC; 1954). Three engaged or married couples are first interviewed and then compete in a series of general knowledge question-and-answer rounds. The highest-scoring couple receives an expenses-paid honeymoon in New York City.

Hostess: Neva Patterson.

5071 Manhattan Showcase. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949). Performances by undiscovered, aspiring talent. The series ran from February 28, 1949 to June 16, 1949. Barry Wood is the producer.

Host: Johnny Downs. Assistant: Helen Gallagher. Music: The Tony Mottola Trio.

5072 The Manhattan Transfer. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1975). A nostalgic four-episode program that recalls the music, songs and dances of the 1930s and '40s. The series ran from August 10, 1975 to August 31, 1975.

Hosts: The Manhattan Transfer (Tim Hauser, Laurel Masse, Alan Paul and Janis Seigel). Regulars: Archie Hahn, Fayette Hauser, Laraine Newman, Leland Palmer. Orchestra: Ira Newborn.

5073 Manhunt. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1959). Howard Finucane is a lieutenant with the San Diego Police Department. Ben Andrews is a police reporter for The San Diego Dispatch. Stories follow their case investigations as they team to solve crimes that involve the search for criminals on run from the law.

Cast: Victor Jory (Howard Finucane), Patrick McVey (Ben Andrews), Charles Bateman (Det. George Peters), Chuck Henderson (Det. Dan Kramer), Michael Steffany (Det. Paul Kirk), Robert Crawford (Det. Phil Burns), Todd Armstrong (Det. Carl Spencer).

5074 Manhunter. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1974–1975). Cleary County, Idaho, during the public enemy days of the Depression (1934) is the setting. Dave Barrett is an amateur crime fighter who assists law enforcement officials by tracking down criminals in order to claim the rewards.

Other Regulars: James and Mary Barrett, Dave's parents; Lizabeth Barrett, his sister; and Paul Hogan, the local sheriff. Dave's dog is named Beau.

Cast: Ken Howard (Dave Barrett), Hilary Thompson (Lizabeth Barrett), Ford Rainey (James Barrett), Claudia Bauer (Mary Barrett), Robert Hogan (Sheriff Paul Hogan).

5075 Maniac Mansion. (Series; Comedy; Family Channel; 1990–1992). Maniac Mansion is a large home with a rather unusual "rock" in the basement — an active meteor. Dr. Fred Edison and his family inherited the mansion and stories follow their efforts to cope with all the unusual incidents that occur because of the meteor (which has changed Harry, Fred's brother-in-law, into a fly with a human head; and Turner, his 4-year-old son, into a hulking six-foot giant). Fred is married to Casey; Ike and Tina are their other children; Idella is Harry's wife.

5076 Manimal. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1983). Jonathan Chase is a professor of behavioral science at New York University who helps the police solve crimes as a member of the Special Investigative Division of the N.Y.P.D. (also called the Special Police Task Force). Chase, described as "wealthy, young and handsome," is also "champion of the world's darkest mysteries" — secrets of transmutation that divide animal from man and man from animal, that he uses to help him defeat evil.

The secret of transmutation (now called morphing on shows like Sheena) is not revealed. In the opening theme it is briefly shown that Jonathan's father (Don Knight) had traveled the world to learn the secret. It was in Africa that his quest came to an end. After being taught the powers by an unknown tribe, he passed the secret on to Jonathan when he was a young boy. No further information is given.

Jonathan now lives in a brownstone on Manhattan's Lower East Side. His home is quite unique in that it contains a miniature (and possibly illegal) zoo (tigers, lions, ostriches and snakes can be seen in elaborate glass cases).

As himself, Jonathan has a gift of super hearing; as the animals he becomes, he not only possesses their appearance and abilities, he retains his own thinking processes to control his actions. If, however, Jonathan should be injured while in his transformed state, he will retain that injury when he becomes human again. For Jonathan to become an animal he must think about an animal. Jonathan most often becomes a black panther (to spy on criminals) and a hawk (to follow suspects from the air). While the special effects are quite good, the same two sequences are used in each episode (the film is simply reversed to show Jonathan becoming human).

Brooke McKenzie is Jonathan's partner, a police detective with the Special Task Force. She is aware of Jonathan's power (he transformed into the panther to save her life) and has vowed to keep his secret. Tyrone C. "Ty" Earll is Jonathan's friend, a former corporal during the Vietnam War, who now assists him. He too is aware of Jonathan's secret and calls Jonathan "J.C." Paul Chihara composed the theme.

Cast: Simon MacCorkindale (Jonathan Chase), Melody Anderson (Brooke McKenzie), Glynn Thurman (Tyrone Earll), Michael D. Roberts (Tyrone Earll; later), Reni Santoni (Lt. Nick Rivera), Don Knight (Jonathan's father). Narrator: William Conrad.

5077 Mann and Machine. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1992). It is "the near future" in Los Angeles. It is a time when laser fences protect crime scenes and the San Francisco Giants football team has become the Tokyo Giants. It is also a time when man-made robots assist live police officers in upholding the law. Sergeant Eve Madison, a highly sophisticated and beautiful robot, is such a creation and the partner of Bobby Mann, an L.A.P.D. detective whose former partner, Warner, was "a bucket of bolts lab-created robot" that was put out of commission by a bullet.

Eve was created through the Artificial Intelligence Program by Dr. Anna Kepler. Eve's body is a combination of plastic compounds and alloy metals. Her brain functions like the human brain and is capable of assimilating artificial material. Anna says "Eve can learn to be human; she just needs the opportunity." Eve is the prototype for a project called the Protector, "the future partner of every police officer." Eve is highly advanced in technical terms, but emotionally she is very young (the age of a seven-year-old girl). She has the deductive reasoning of Sherlock Holmes and a genuine sense of humor (she will laugh if she hears something she thinks is funny). Eve eats, sleeps and daydreams. Her eyes are capable of emitting laser beams; her tears are a lubricant and she can speak 40 languages.

Eve watches television to learn about things she feels she will not learn on the job. Eve believes she was built for only one purpose: to enforce the law. When first built, Eve was transferred to the San Francisco Bay area (she was created in Danville in the Silicone Valley) and scored the highest marks on the sergeant's exam.

Bobby has to fill out a special report on Eve's actions after each case. He is divorced and the father of an unseen daughter. He is a Catholic and was an altar boy when he attended grammar school. Bobby has a dog named Rose. Bobby and Eve are with the Metropolitan Police Department; Captain Margaret Claghorn is their superior. Mark Mothersbaugh composed the theme.

Cast: Yancy Butler (Eve Madison), David Andrews (Bobby Mann), S. Epatha Merkerson (Capt. Margaret Claghorn), Samantha Eggar (Dr. Anna Kepler).

5078 Mannix. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1967–1975). In the original format of the series (1967–1968) Joe Mannix is an investigator for Intertect, a computerized private detective organization headed by Lou Wickersham. The remainder of the series finds the rugged, two-fisted, prone to violence detective, leaving Intertect to strike out on his own as a private detective (working independently from his home at 17 Paseo Verde in Los Angeles). He hires a secretary (Peggy Fair, who occasionally assists him in the field) and helps (and receives help from) L.A.P.D. lieutenants Arthur Malcolm, Adam Tobias and Daniel Ives. Also a part of the cast is Toby Fair, Peggy's young son.

Joe is the son of an Armenian vine-yard owner. He was a lieutenant in the Air Force during the Korean War and is a graduate of Western California University (class of 1955). He acquired his private investigator's license a year later. He also possesses a black belt in karate and plays golf to stay fit. Scotch is his favorite drink.

5079 M.A.N.T.I.S. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 1994–1995). Dr. Miles Hawkins, a biochemist and owner of Hawkins Laboratories, is the third richest man in Ocean City, California (locale later changed to Port Columbia). He grew up in the Lincoln Heights section of the city and graduated from M.I.T. at the age of 18 on a genius scholarship.

During the Los Angeles riots of 1991, Miles is shot in the back and crippled by a cop who opposed his beliefs. Miles, however, is unable to prove he was shot by a police officer because the bullet taken from his back is found not to come from a police issued gun. Embittered, the wheelchair bound Miles decides to fight back by waging a war on crime. With the help of his colleague, Dr. John Stonebreak, they create the Hornet (later called the Exo-Skeleton), a black suit that gives him a bug-like appearance, but enables him to walk. In technical terms, the suit is a M.A.N.T.I.S. (Mechanically Augmented Neuro Transmitter Interception System) and with the calling card of the praying mantis, Miles brings criminals to justice as the mysterious Mantis. As the Mantis, Miles will not use a gun (because of what happened to him). His weapon of choice is a paralyzing dart to stop enemies in their tracks ("They thaw out in an hour").

Beneath Hawkins Labs (also called Hawkins Technologies) is the Seapod, an undersea lab Miles built for ocean farming before he was shot, that now serves as his secret base of operations. His modes of transportation are the Chrysalid (a ship) and his black car, the Mantis. Unlike the Green Hornet, who was wanted by the police, Mantis works with them (especially Lieutenant Leora Maxwell of the Special Investigation Unit of the Port Columbia Police Department).

Miles was originally assisted by Dr. Amy Ellis, the associate medical director of the Ocean City Police Department. Yuri Barnes is the newscaster for KNCW-TV, Channel 8, who not only reports on Mantis activities, but helps Miles with vital information. Amy and Yuri each possess a "Mantis Broch," a special phone to contact Mantis ("Just dial M"). Taylor Savidge, a messenger boy for Iron Horse Couriers, is also Miles's legman (Taylor witnessed a Mantis operation and became intrigued. He saw Mantis enter a van and tracked it down, not knowing that Miles was Mantis. Taylor knows the streets and the people and persuaded Miles to let him join the team; it was at this time that Miles revealed to him that he was Mantis). When asked who he is, Miles (as Mantis) responds simply "Just one man trying to help." Joseph LoDuca composed the theme.

Cast: Carl Lumbly (Dr. Miles Hawkins), Gina Torres (Dr. Amy Ellis), Roger Rees (Dr. John Stonebreak), Bobby Hosea (Yuri Barnes), Christopher Gartin (Taylor Savidge), Galyn Gorg (Lt. Leora Maxwell).

5080 Mantrap. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1971). One male guest, representing a topic of current interest, appears and sits opposite a panel of three women. Both sides state their opinions then debate the issue.

Host: Al Hamel. Panelists: Phyllis Kirk, Meredith MacRae, Jaye P. Morgan, Carol Wayne, Selma Diamond.

5081 Many Happy Returns. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1964–1965). "Every customer is a satisfied customer" is the policy of Krockmeyer's Department Store in Los Angeles. The store's object is "not to accept returns. Talk customers into actually believing the object they are returning is what they actually need."

Walter Burnley is the man hired by Owen Sharp, the store owner, to manage the Adjustments and Refunds Department and follow his rule. Walter is a man who talked a cop out of giving him a ticket for driving the wrong way on a one way street, going through a red light and driving on the sidewalk. He's good, but when it comes to managing his department, he finds it one of the biggest challenges of his life.

Lynn Hall, Joseph ("Joe") Foley and Wilma Fritter are his annoying staff. Lynn is very pretty, but something of a dizzy blonde. She can handle the job, but irritates Walter by using her telephone extension for more personal calls than business calls. Joe is not too bright, has trouble spelling, is forgetful and can't handle a customer with a complaint. He calls Walter "Boss." Wilma is "the old biddie" who is a combination of both Lynn and Joe and seems to have been working at the store since before it was even built.

The bad way to start a day is with a return. Items can be held for only ten days, then become non returnable. Items that are accepted for return are marked "Return to Stock." Walter is a widower who lives in an apartment at 50 Chestnut Street. His daughter, Joan Randall, her husband, Bob Randall, and their daughter, Laurie Randall, live at 609 North Elm Street, just a short distance from his nephew, Ralph Conway, his wife, Ellen Braddock, and their son, Jimmy, who live at 629 North Elm Street. Walter's involvement with their problems is also depicted. David Rose and Parke Levy composed the theme.

Cast: John McGiver (Walter Burnley), Elinor Donahue (Joan Randall), Mark Goddard (Bob Randall), Andrea Sacino (Laurie Randall), Elena Verdugo (Lynn Hall), Mickey Manners (Joe Foley), Richard Collier (Joe Foley; later), Jesslyn Fax (Wilma Fritter), Jerome Cowan (J.L. Fox), Russell Collins (Owen Sharp), Ina Victor (Ellen Braddock), Ralph Conway (Martin Braddock), Bobby Buntrock (Jimmy Braddock), Don Beddoe (Mr. Krockmeyer), Elvia Allman (Mrs. Sharp).

5082 The Many Loves of Arthur. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/23/78). A proposed series about Dr. Arthur Murdock, a shy zoo veterinarian who finds it easier to relate to the animals he works with than to human beings. Other Regulars: Gail, the girl who would like Arthur to notice her; and Dr. Chase, Arthur's superior.

Cast: Richard Masur (Arthur Murdock), Caroline McWilliams (Gail Corbett), David Dukes (Dr. Chase). Guest Cast: Constance McCashin (Karen), Silvana Gallardo (Mendoza), Linda Lukes (Michele), Paddi Edwards (Peg), Lee Bryant (Nancy), Robert Ridgely (Jake).

5083 The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1959–1960). The first season title for what would eventually become Dobie Gillis. See this title for information.

5084 Maple Town. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 4/13/87). The magical land of Maple Town is the setting for a proposed series about the adventures of Patty Rabbit, her family (Mama, Papa and Rachel Rabbit) and her friends, Freddie Fox, Skippy Squirrel, Danny Dog, Bobby Bear and Fanny Fox.

Live Action Host: Janice Adams as Mrs. Maple.
Voices: Jeff Iwai, Wayne Kerr, Heidi Lenard, Bibi Linet, Lou Pitt, Alice Smith, John Zahler.

5085 Mapp and Lucia. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986). A satiric view of English life during the 1920s as seen through the experiences of Elizabeth Mapp, owner of a home (Tilling on the Sea in Sussex) and her tenant, Emmeline Lucas, who is known to one and all as Lucia. The series is based on the novel by E.F. Benson.

Cast: Prunella Scales (Elizabeth Mapp), Gerladine McEwan (Emmeline Lucas), Nigel Hawthorne (Georgie), Carol Macready (Daisy), Cecily Hobbs (Quaint Irene), Denis Lill (Major Benjy), Mary MacLeod (Diva).

5086 Marblehead Manor. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987–1988). The luxurious mansion located at 14 Sunflower Lane is called Marblehead Manor. It is owned by the eccentric millionaire Randolph Stonehill and his gorgeous, level-headed wife, Hilary. Randolph is the owner of a company called Stonehill, Inc. (exactly what they do is not said). Hilary is over 40 years old and her fabulous figure still turns men's heads. She has a dog named Albert. Hilary named Albert after their ever faithful butler, Albert Dudley. Albert is a third generation butler to a third generation of Stonehills.

Lupe Lopez is the manor's sexy cook and maid. She is the mother of Elvis. Rick is the inept, misadventure-prone estate gardener.

Carol Bruce appeared as Randolph's mother, Margaret Stonehill, and Natalie Core was Randolph's aunt, Charlotte. In the original pilot episode (shown as the last episode of the series), Charo played Cookie, the ultra sexy maid. Dan Foliart and Howard Pearl composed the theme, "It's a Grand Life."

Cast: Linda Thorson (Hilary Stonehill), Bob Fraser (Randolph Stonehill), Paxton Whitehead (Albert Dudley), Dyana Orтели (Lupe Lopez), Michael Richards (Rick), Humberto Ortiz (Elvis Lopez).

5087 March of Time Through the Years. (Series; Documentary; ABC; 1951–1952). John Daily is the host and Westbrook Van Voorhis is the narrator for a program that features screenings of old March of Time theatrical newsreels.

5088 Marcus Welby, M.D. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1969–1976). Marcus Welby is an elderly general practitioner who, after suffering a heart attack, decides to lighten his workload by taking on a younger assistant, Dr. Steven Kiley.

Marcus is the wise, kindly physician who still believes in making house calls; Steven is the eager doctor who finds that his years of medical study need the supplementary experience only a man like Marcus can provide. Together, they attempt to treat people as individuals in an age of specialized medicine and uncaring physicians. Marcus and Steven reside in Santa Monica, California, and work part time at Lang Memorial Hospital.

Other Regulars: Consuelo Lopez, their nurse; Nurse Kathleen Faverty; Janet Blake, the hospital public relations lady who married Steven (on October 21, 1975); Myra Sherwood, Marcus's romantic interest; Sandy Porter, Marcus's married daughter (Marcus is a widower); Phil Porter, Sandy's husband; Phil Porter, Sandy's son.

Cast: Robert Young (Dr. Marcus Welby), James Brolin (Dr. Steven Kiley), Elena Verdugo (Consuelo Lopez), Sharon Gless (Kathleen Faverty), Pamela Hensley (Janet Blake), Anne Baxter (Myra Sherwood), Anne Schedeen (Sandy Porter), Terry Kiser (Phil Porter), Gavin Brandon (Phil Porter; later), Alan Hale, Jr. (Steven's Father).

5089 The Marge and Gower Champion Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1957). Marge and Gower Champion are a real-life husband and wife who are also real-life professional dancers. Stories, based on incidents in their lives, follow their mishaps as they attempt to establish and live a life apart from the hectic demands of show business. Cozy is their friend, a drummer.

Cast: Marge Champion (Marge Champion), Gower Champion (Gower Champion), Jack Whiting (Marge's father), Buddy Rich (Cozy), Peg LaCetra (Amanda), Barbara Perry (Miss Weatherly).

5090 Marge and Jeff. (Series; Comedy; DuMont; 1953–1954). Marge and Jeff Green are a young newlywed couple struggling to survive the difficult first years of marriage in their first home together in New York City. Jeff is the typical level-headed husband; Marge is a bit scatterbrained and the comedy stems from Jeff's efforts to cope with Marge's antics. Paisley is their dog.

Cast: Marge Green (Marge Green), Jeff Cain (Jeff Green).

5091 Margie. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1961–1962). Marjorie ("Margie") Clayton is a pretty teenage girl who lives in the small town of Madison during the 1920s. Harvey and Nora are her parents; Cornell is her younger brother.

Margie attends Madison High School with her friends, the stunning Maybelle Jackson and the awkward Heywood Botts. Maybelle lives at 63 Oak Tree Lane and fancies herself as a flapper; Heywood has a crush on Margie. The after school hangout is Crawford's Ice Cream Parlor.

Margie is the editor of the school newspaper, the Madison Bugle, and writes the gossip column, "Through the Keyhole." Harvey is a loan officer at the Great Eastern Savings Bank; he and Nora also attended Madison High School.

Hollis Irving appeared as Margie's aunt, Phoebe; and Maxine Stuart and Herb Ellis played Maybelle's parents. Lionel Newman composed the theme adaptation of the song "Margie."

Cast: Cynthia Pepper (Margie Clayton), Dave Willock (Harvey Clayton), Wesley Marie Tackitt (Nora Clayton), Johnny Bangert (Cornell Clayton), Hollis Irving (Phoebe Clayton), Tommy Ivo (Heywood Botts), Penny Parker (Maybelle Jackson), Richard Ger- ing (Johnny Green).

5092 Mariah. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1987). Mariah is a small country town and the site of a huge maximum security prison. The seven-episode program focuses on the lives of the people on both sides of the antiquated prison which houses 2,500 men and women. Regulars are the prison personnel: Deputy Superintendent Ned Sheffield; Dr. Deena Hertz, the psychologist; Reverend Howard Bouchard; Superintendent James Malone; and corrections officer Lede Cervantes; and the town residents: Brandis LaSalle, Maggie Malone (James's wife), Linda Grancato and Father Timothy Quinlan.

Cast: John Getz (Ned Sheffield), Tovah Feldshuh (Deena Hertz), William Allen Young (Howard Bouchard), Philip Baker Hall (James Malone), Wanda DeJesus (Leda Cervantes), Kathleen Layman (Brandis LaSalle), Susan Brown (Maggie Malone), Renne Lippin (Linda Grancato), Chris Wiggins (Timothy Quinlan).

5093 Marie. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 12/1/79). With a dream of furthering her career as a Broadway dancer, Marie Owens leaves her home in Nebraska and moves to New York City. She enrolls in the Carla Coburn Dance Academy and finds an apartment at 368 West 17th Street (which she shares with her new-found friends, K.C. and Sandra). The unsold series was to relate Marie's misadventures as she struggles for that big break but encounters setback after setback.

Other Regulars: Edgar, Marie's landlord; and Pancho, Marie's neighbor.

Cast: Marie Osmond (Marie Owens), Ellen Travolta (Carla Coburn), Telma Hopkins (K.C. Jones), Zan Charisse (Sandra), Bruce Kirby, Sr. (Edgar Mer- ton), Tony Ramirez (Pancho). Guest Cast: Stephen Shortridge (Detective Driscoll), Cliff Pellow (Sergeant Dryer).

5094 Marie. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1981). A comedy accented program that spotlights the many talents of singer Marie Osmond.

Host: Marie Osmond. Regulars: Jeffrey Barron, Charles Graves, Charles Gray, Doris Hess, Jim Hud- son, Debbie Ing, Howard Itkowitz, Shirley Mitchell, Scott Mullaney, Melissa Multray, Greg Norberg, Kathy Primby, Nancy Steen, Steve Stucker, The Lester Wilson Dancers. Orchestra: D'Vaughn Per- shing, Bob Rozario.

5095 The Marie Eve, George Lloyd Show. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 6/16/39). Short per- formances by two international night club perform- ers: singer Marie Eve and mimic George Lloyd. The program, broadcast from the Gaumont British pro- jection room in New York City, features two French songs by Marie and George mimicking a tea leaf reader faking a trance and a man struggling to eat a peanut butter sandwich.

5096 Marilu. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1994). Ac- tress Marilu Henner hosts a daily series of celebrity interviews coupled with gossip and other items of interest to housewives.

5097 The Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis, Jr. Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1977). The hus- band and wife team of Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis, Jr. host a weekly series of music, songs and comedy.

Hosts: Marilyn McCoo, Billy Davis, Jr. Regu- lars: Lewis Arquette, Jay Leno, Tim Reid. Orches- tra John Myles.

5098 Marine Boy. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1966). Marine Boy is an agent for the Ocean Patrol, a 21st century, international defense organization that has been established beneath the sea. Marine Boy possesses the ability to breathe underwater (with "Oxy-Gum") and is able to propel himself through the water by his propeller boots. Dr. Mariner is the head of Ocean Patrol; Professor Fumble is the unit's absent-minded scientist; Bolton and Piper are the pilots of the submarine P-I; Neptina is the mermaid who assists Marine Boy (her magic pearl necklace gives her the power to see the future); Splasher is the patrol's dolphin. Stories relate Marine Boy's efforts help people in trouble and safeguard the oceans of the world. Produced in Japan.

Voice Cast: Corinne Orr (Marine Boy/Neptina/Cli Cli), Jack Curtis (Prof. Fumble/Splasher/Bolton), Peter Fernandez (Piper/Dr. Mariner/Bul-ton). Theme Music: "Marine Boy" by Kenjiro Nirosh.

5099 Mark Saber. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1951-1954). Mark Saber is a plainclothes de- tective with the Homicide Division of the New York City Police Department. He is tough when he has to be — and fair when he has to be (although he is a bit rough on criminals as sometimes reacting with violence to violence often accomplishes his goal). He is assisted by Sergeant Tim Maloney and stories re- late their case investigations. Originally titled Mys- tery Theater (then Homicide Squad and The Vise).

Cast: Tom Conway (Mark Saber), James Burke (Sgt. Tim Maloney).

5100 Mark Twain's Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1967). An adaptation of the novel by Mark Twain that relates the adventures of Tom Sawyer and his friend, Huckleberry Finn. The 27 episode series is produced in France.

Cast: Roland Demongeot (Tom Sawyer), Marc Dinapoli (Huckleberry Finn).

5101 Markham. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 6/23/58). The pilot film for the series of the same title about Roy Markham, a tough private detective. In the pilot episode, Roy attempts to rescue a girl who has been kidnapped by a psychopath. Aired as "Eye for Eye" on Suspicion (Markham was the proposed series title).

Cast: Ray Milland (Roy Markham). Guest Cast: Macdonald Carey (Ben Forbes), Kathleen Crowley (Lorene), Andrew Duggan (Guthrie), Amy Douglass, Dorothy Green, Peter Hansen, Ned Weaver, Howard Wendell.

5102 Markham. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1959–1960). Roy Markham is a criminal attorney based in Los Angeles, California. He works for John Riggs, is tough, likes to do his own investigating and will tackle any case as long as he believes his clients are telling him the truth; if they lie, he drops them as a client. Stories follow his case investigations. See the prior title for pilot film information (where Roy was depicted as a private investigator).

Cast: Ray Milland (Roy Markham), Simon Scott (John Riggs).

5103 Marlo and the Magic Movie Machine. (Series; Children; CBS; 1977–1981). L. Dullo Computer is a company located in the basement of a building in New York City. It is here that a lone computer operator (Marlo Higgins) has secretly invented the Magic Movie Machine, a computer that can talk, tell jokes and relate a variety of films. Acting as a disc jockey, Marlo and his computer present entertainment geared to children.

Cast: Laurie Faso (Marlo Higgins), Mert Hoplin (Movie Machine Voice).

5104 The Marriage. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954). Ben and Liz Marriott are a happily married couple that live at 31 West 43rd Street in Manhattan. They are the parents of Emily and Peter and stories relate the incidents that befall the individual members of the family.

Ben is an attorney with the firm of Burns and Marriott; Liz is a former buyer for Hunt's Department Store. They met (and fell in love) at a New Year's Eve party in 1935 that was held in a brownstone in Greenwich Village (on 12th Street).

Emily attends Grant High School and her parents are very strict about her dating. While she is allowed to date boys Ben and Liz prefer that she bring her dates to the house (where a typical date would consist of "listening to the phonograph and popping corn").

Ben, who handles the family's finances, is most pleased when he can balance the checkbook. Peter is interested in building model cars and reading comic books. Both children are quite obedient and good at school. Bobby Logan is Emily's boyfriend. The series, based on the radio program, ran from July 1, 1954 to August 19, 1954.

An announcer opens the show: "The National Broadcasting Company's sponsorship of this program constitutes no endorsement of the opinions, philosophies, stubbornness or confusion of the persons represented therein. However, with the conviction that marriage remains the most popular arrangement between two friendly people, NBC takes pleasure in presenting one of the most distinguished couples of the American theater — Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn as Liz and Ben Marriott in a new dramatic series, The Marriage."

Cast: Hume Cronyn (Ben Marriott), Jessica Tandy (Liz Marriott), Susan Strasberg (Emily Marriott), Malcolm Broderick (Peter Marriott), William Redfield (Bobby Logan).

5105 Marriage A La Mode. (Experimental; Comedy; DuMont; 8/28/46). A comedy skit about a couple on the verge of divorce who are reunited through an argument with another couple who had come to their home with the intention of buying it after the divorce. This DuMont experiment was an attempt to plug articles sold in the Wanamakers Department Store (where the DuMont studios were located). The idea was to showcase items before, during and after the play.

Cast: John Graham, Madeline Kalleen, Fran Lee, Arthur Page.

5106 The Marriage Broker. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; CBS; 6/12/57). When her husband is stolen by another woman, Mae Sweeney begins a matrimonial bureau to pair off lonely hearts for a fee. The unsold series, based on the 1952 feature film, The Model and the Marriage Broker, was to focus on the changes that occur in the lives of the people Mae matches to each other. Broadcast as a segment of The 20th Century-Fox Hour.

5107 Marriage Is Alive and Well. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 1/25/80). Incidents in the lives of married couples as seen through the eyes of Bryan Fish, a wedding photographer, and his wife, Sarah.

Cast: Joe Namath (Bryan Fish), Susan Sullivan (Sarah Fish). Guest Cast: Judd Hirsch (Herb Rose), Gee Gee Vorgan (Rachel Satowitz), Melinda Dillon (Jeannie), Deborah Baltzell (Corky Dennis), Fred McCarren (Chris Dennis), Jeannie Wilson (LuAnn Brightly), Mel Stewart (Elton Sheffield), Swoosie Kurtz (Jane Tremont), Nicholas Pryor (Larry Wax), John Harkins (Sonny Delmar).

5108 Married People. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1990–1991). A domestic comedy about incidents in the lives of three married couples who live in a three-family home at 862 Central Park North (at 73rd Street) in New York City. The rent is $500 a month, and the house is a brownstone that is actually located in Harlem, but the tenants prefer to call it “Central Park North” after the street sign on the corner.

Nick and Olivia Williams, a black couple in their fifties, own the building (they live in Apartment 1) and have been married for 32 years. Nick’s Fruits and Vegetables is the name of the store Nick operates and has owned for 23 years. Nick’s hangout is Morry’s Pool Hall. They have five children.

Elizabeth and Russell Meyers occupy Apartment 2. They are a white couple in their thirties who met in college and married after graduation. Elizabeth attended Yale University and now works as an attorney for the Wall Street law firm of Michaelson and Michaelson (she is later made a partner).

Russell is a freelance writer who has penned articles for TV Guide and the New Yorker magazine. He later acquires a monthly column for Manhattan Life magazine called “The Worst of New York” (wherein he reviews ten worst things each month; for example, worst landlords, worst diners). He attended the Columbia School of Journalism and hates to be called “Russie.” When the series began, Elizabeth was already pregnant; she later gave birth to a son she and Russell name Max.

Cindy and Allen Campbell occupy Apartment 3. They are a young white couple (18 years old) from Mineral Wells, Indiana, who moved to New York so Allen could attend Columbia University. Cindy, a cheerleader in high school who has aspirations of being a dancer, works as a waitress at the East Side Diner. Her first professional dancing job was with the Exotic Porthole Dancers, and in the last episode she auditioned for and got the part of a dancer (Girl number 2) in the Broadway play The Phantom of the Opera (which, according to the marquee, was playing at the Majestic Theater in Manhattan).

Allen works after classes in the school’s lab; Cindy is extremely jealous of Izzy, Allen’s gorgeous lab partner at school (her real name is Isabel). In Indiana, Allen was allergic to walnuts; in New York, he is allergic to hazelnuts. Cindy’s co-worker at the diner is Madeline.

Relatives: Florence Stanley (Russell’s mother, Evelyn Meyers), Paul Gleason (Cindy’s father, Paul Graham; owns a farm in Indiana), Christopher Rich (Elizabeth’s brother, Ned), Lela Ivey (Ned’s wife, Jane), Thora (Ned’s daughter, Emily), Brian Bonsall (Ned’s son, Brian), J.J. Jones (Nick and Olivia’s son, Joey Williams). Theme: “Married People,” by Bob Boykin.

Cast: Bess Armstrong (Elizabeth Meyers), Jay Thomas (Russell Meyers), Barbara Montgomery (Olivia Williams), Ray Aranha (Nick Williams), Megan Gallivan (Cindy Campbell), Chris Young (Allen Campbell), Elizabeth Berkley (Izzy), Andrea Elson (Madeline).

5109 Married: The First Year. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1979). A four-episode chronicle of the courtship and marriage of teenagers Billy Baker and Joanna Huffman, and their struggles to survive the difficult first year of marriage.

Other Regulars: Barbara, Joanna’s mother; Mike, Barbara’s ex-husband; Cheryl, Mike’s second wife; Jennifer, Joanna’s sister; Cathy and Bert, Billy’s parents; Millie, Billy’s sister; Emily, Cathy’s sister; Sharon and Cookie, Joanna’s friends; and Tom, Billy’s friend.

Cast: Leigh McCloskey (Billy Baker), Cindy Grover (Joanna Baker), Claudette Nevins (Barbara Huffman), Joshua Bryant (Mike Huffman), Constance McCashin (Cheryl Huffman), Tracy Justrich (Jennifer Huffman), K Callan (Cathy Baker), Stanley Grover (Bert Baker), Jennifer McAllister (Millie Baker), Christine Belford (Emily Gorey), Stephanie Kramer (Sharon Kelly), Gee Gee Vorgan (Cookie Levin), Gary Epp (Tom Liberatore).

5110 Married to the Kellys. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2003–2004). Susan Kelly is a young woman who was born in Kansas City, Kansas, but moved to New York City to get away from her possessive family (whom she felt were smothering her). It is here that she meets (and later married) Tom Wagner, a novelist.

After being separated from her family for a time, Susan begins to miss them — “The Kelly family is like an echo system and any small change can cause a ripple.” Susan wants to be near her family again and convinces Tom to return to Kansas City with her. He agrees and is sorry he did when he meets her eccentric family: Bill and Sandy, Susan’s parents; Lewis, the babied brother; and Mary, her older sister (who is married to the henpecked Chris). Bill works for the Social Security Administration. He calls Sandy “Mother” and constantly talks about the weather. Sandy is a coupon clipper and constantly worries about her family’s eating habits.

Mary teaches sociology at college and knits while watching TV. She is very demanding and the total boss of Chris (who lives in fear of her). Chris works for a greeting card company. He likes to smoke cigars but Mary won't let him, so he smokes pretend cigars.

Twenty-one-year-old Lewis is still considered a baby by his mother (she still buys his clothes). He has an uncanny interest in insects (his mother makes him insect shaped cakes on his birthday). He is studying entomology at college.

Tom wrote the book Eight Million Stories and dreams of writing for New Yorker magazine. Susan works as a hostess at Marino's Restaurant. In high school she was crowned "Miss Sweet Potato."

Stories follow Tom as he struggles to adjust to Susan's family — and suggest changes to make them more like a normal family.

Cast: Breckin Meyer (Tom Wagner), Kiele Sanchez (Susan Wagner), Sam Anderson (Bill Kelly), Emily Rutherford (Mary), Nancy Lenahan (Sandy Kelly), Josh Braaten (Chris), Derek Waters (Lewis Kelly), Richard Riehle (Uncle Dave Kelly).

5111 Married to the Mob. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/7/89). Connie Russo is "Married to the Mob" but is not aware of it. Her husband, Tony, is a mobster and his efforts to keep his family from discovering his shady business dealings was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, a legal problem forces Tony to turn over the family dry cleaning business to Connie, who is unaware that it is a front for dirty doings. Other Regulars: Nick, Tony's son; Marie, Connie's sister; Frank, Connie's father; and Tony's Mama Russo.

Cast: Richard Romanus (Tony Russo), Suzie Plakson (Connie Russo), Cynthia Stevenson (Marie Bondo), Cory Danziger (Nick Russo), Salem Ludwig (Frank Salerno), Gina DeAngelis (Mama Russo). Guest Cast: Mary Ann Pascal (Tina), Louis Mustillo (Steve), Brian Backer, Sue Giosa, Patrick James, Leslie Sachs, Carol Ann Susi.

5112 Married ... with Children. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987–1997). At 9674 (also given as 9764) Jeopardy Lane in Chicago, Illinois, live the Bundy family: a husband (Al) who has a pathetic life; a wife (Peggy) who doesn't cook or clean but loves to spend Al's hard-earned money; their beautiful but dense daughter (Kelly); and their girl-crazy son (Bud) who can't get a date.

The family members rarely speak to each other; Al can't remember his kids' names; and Peggy is always in a romantic mood (much to Al's regret). The Bundys also have a dog named Buck, whom they don't like to pet ("He might expect it from us").

Al works as a shoe salesman for Garry's Shoes and Accessories for the Beautiful Woman in the New Market Mall. He attended James K. Polk High School (where he was voted Most Valuable Player of 1966. He wore jersey number 33, made four touchdowns in one game and was offered a college scholarship; he turned it down to marry Peggy). Al believes his life was ruined when he met a fellow student named Margaret ("Peggy") Wanker at a hamburger joint named Johnny B. Goods (where Al holds the record for eating ten bags of fries at one sitting). She was a sex kitten; Al was a guy. He let his hormones do his thinking for him, and he has been sorry ever since. They married in 1972. Al loves women, except "my red-headed plague," and often has dreams about "gorgeous big-busted babes" (his dreams are always interrupted when something good is about to happen).

Peggy was born in Wanker County, Wisconsin (mentioned as being in Milwaukee in another episode), a community that was founded by her ancestors. Peggy knows what will make Al happy, but she will never leave him. Although Peggy is a housewife, she never shops for food, cooks or cleans. Her days are spent watching television and eating Bon-Bons. Finding food has become the family's number one priority. Al's favorite food is turkey (but he never gets it), and he has resorted to begging for leftovers at the local pizza parlor. Because of the lack of plates in the house, Al has to share Buck's bowl (both their names are on it). In later episodes Al forms NO MA'AM (The National Organization of Men Against Amazonian Masterhood).

Kelly, a blonde bombshell (typically dressed in tight jeans or tight miniskirt and low cut blouses) is, as Peggy calls her, "a hussy. She became a hussy when she learned to cut her diapers up the side." When Kelly was five years old, Peggy had her earning money by selling kisses. Kelly attends Polk High School (not for an education, but to pick up messages, supply the family with pens and get a hot meal). Kelly says, "Working is a bummer; I'm glad I'm a pretty girl so I don't have to work," but she actually held several jobs. She started as the Weather Bunny Girl on Channel 83's "Action News" program. What began as an intern project for school became a $1,000 a week job when management discovered that Kelly's stunning good looks were boosting ratings. Despite the fact that she didn't know where "East" Dakota was, she was given a raise to $250,000 a year. She lost the job when she couldn't read the teleprompter. She was next a roller skating waitress at Bill's Hilltop Drive-In, then Miss Weenie Tots, a model who represented Weiner Tots (hot dogs wrapped in bread and fried in lard) at supermarkets.

She next acquired her own show on public access television (Vital Social Issues 'n' Stuff with Kelly) then a job at Chicago's TV World Theme Park as the Verminator Girl (representing the environmentally safe insect killer; Bud worked as King Roach in the Verminator TV commercial exhibit). When Bud became a modeling agent Kelly found a new career with him as a model.

Bud first attended Polk High School, then Jermaine College. He is called “Rat Boy” and “Toad Boy” by Kelly and has a crush on his next door neighbor, Marcy Rhoades. In 1991 Bud pretended to be the street rapper Grand Master B to impress girls (his biggest problem is finding a girl who will date him). Bud later worked for the Department of Motor Vehicles before turning modeling agent.

Marcy Rhoades, the Bundys’ neighbor, is a loan officer at the Kyoto National Bank. She was first married to Steve Bartholomew Rhoades, a loan officer at the Leading Bank of Chicago. She and Steve were married on Valentine’s Day and are both vegetarians. When Steve lost his job he became a cage cleaner at Slither’s Pet Emporium, then a ranger at Yosemite National Park (at which time he left Marcy and the series).

In the episode of 1/6/91, we learn that Marcy was a wild party animal at a banking seminar and woke up in bed with Jefferson D’Arcy, a man she married at Clyde’s No Blood Test Needed Chapel.

Jefferson is a con artist and is now on parole (he was caught stealing money from investors). He calls Marcy “Bon Bon Bottom” (she calls him “Cinnamon Buns”). Steve, who was a member of his high school band (the Tuxedos), called Marcy “Angel Cups” (she called him “Sugar Tush”; Al calls Marcy as he sees it — “Chicken Legs”). After putting up with Al’s nonsense for years, Marcy chose to battle Al’s NO MA’AM organization and formed FANG (Feminists Against Neanderthal Guys).

Relatives: Ed O’Neill (Al’s father), Charlie Brill (Al’s uncle, Eugene Bundy), Joey Adams (Peggy’s gorgeous cousin, Effie Wanker), William Sanderson (Peggy’s uncouth cousin, Eb Wanker), James Haake (Peggy’s cousin, Otto Wanker), King Kong Bundy (Peggy’s cousin, Irwin Wanker), Milly, Elena and Eadie Del Rubio (Peggy’s triplet cousins, Milly, Elena and Eadie Wanker), Karen Lynn Scott (Al’s aunt, Heather Bundy). Not seen were Peggy’s father, Pa Wanker; Peggy’s grossly overweight mother (who needs to be transported by flatbed truck); and Peggy’s cousin, Hootie (half man, half owl).

Cast: Ed O’Neill (Al Bundy), Katey Sagal (Peggy Bundy), Christina Applegate (Kelly Bundy), David Faustino (Bud Bundy), Amanda Bearse (Marcy Rhoades), David Garrison (Steve Rhoades), Ted McGinley (Jefferson D’Arcy). Theme Vocal: “Love and Marriage” by Frank Sinatra.

5113 Mars: Base One. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for CBS in 1988). A proposed series, set on the planet Mars, that depicts incidents in the lives of the Ludlows, a family who are part of a pioneer group of earthlings attempting to colonize the planet. Doug Ludlow is the father, an easy-going chap who suffers from bouts of “Earth Sickness”; Ellen, his wife, is a sensible psychologist whose specialty is travelers who can’t adjust to life on Mars;

Brenda, their teenage daughter, finds it difficult adjusting to life, while their ten-year-old son, Tyrone, has totally conformed to his new surroundings.

Dixie, a stripper, her son, Nikki and brother, Mickie, are their annoying neighbors. Also inhabiting Mars: Base One is B.O.B., the environmental robot.

Cast: Tim Thomerson (Doug Ludlow), Nancy Youngblut (Ellen Ludlow), Christy Johnson (Brenda Ludlow), Jonathan Brandis (Tyrone Ludlow), Linda Thompson-Jenner (Dixie), Stephen Lee (Nikki), Dennis Burkley (Mickie), Marty Polio (B.O.B.).

5114 The Marshal. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1995). When you need help you call the police; when the police need help they call the U.S. Marshal. Winston McBride is such a man, a Deputy U.S. Marshal who has vowed to never let a criminal get away.

Winston is married (to Sally) and the father of two girls (Katie and Molly). Winston is not a big fan of violence and would rather talk than fight. Stories follow Winston as he incorporates his unorthodox brand of justice to get the job done.

Cast: Jeff Fahey (Winston McBride), Patricia Harras (Sally McBride), Kristina Lewis (Katie McBride), Carly McKillip (Molly McBride), Dey Young (Sally Caulfield-McBride).

5115 Marshal Dillon. (Series; Western; CBS; 1955–1961). The syndicated title for half-hour episodes of Gunsmoke produced between 1955 and 1961. See Gunsmoke for information.

5116 The Marshal of Gunsight Pass. (Series; Western; ABC; 1950). A low-budget western about a Marshal, his comical deputy and their efforts to maintain law and order in the town of Gunsight Pass. The series, based on the radio program of the same title, ran from March 12, 1950 to September 30, 1950.

Cast: Russell Hayden (Marshal), Eddie Dean (Marshal; later), Roscoe Ates (Deputy), Jane Adrian (Ruth; Deputy’s niece). Also: Bill Green, Ralph Moody, Kay Christopher, Riley Hall.

5117 The Marshall Chronicles. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1990). High school student Marshall Brightman lives with his parents Michael and Cynthia at 64 Gramercy Place in Manhattan. Michael is a private practice doctor, and Cynthia is a children’s storybook editor for Fawn Publishing. Marshall attended P.S. 84 Grammar School and now takes the number 6 IRT subway train to his unidentified high school. Stories relate Marshall’s activities at school, where he is intelligent but constantly put down.

Marshall’s friends are Melissa Sandler and Sean Bickoff. Melissa is a member of the school’s Quiz Bowl team; Sean reads the girlie magazine Big Babes in Water. Other students are Leslie Barash, Vincent and Johnny Parmetko. The school is called “our school” or just “the school.”

Karen Medak played Johnny’s sister, Donna; and Jack Wohl appeared as Leslie’s father, Jack Barash. Randy Newman sings the theme, “Falling in Love.”

Cast: Joshua Rifkind (Marshall Brightman), Steve Anderson (Michael Brightman), Jennifer Salt (Cynthia Brightman), Nile Lanning (Melissa Sandler), Bradley Gregg (Sean Bickoff), Meredith Scott Lynn (Leslie Barash), Todd Graff (Vincent), Gabriel Bologna (Johnny Parmetko).

5118 Marsupilami. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1993). The overall title for three animated shorts:

1. Marsupilami. The antics of a yellow creature with spots and his friends Norman and Maurice who live in the jungle. Marsupilami is a chap who feels he needs to help others but often finds misadventure in doing so. He also has to be on the lookout for Eduardo, a suave jaguar who craves Marsupilami morsels for dinner.

2. Sebastian. The further adventures of Sebastian the Crab (from the Disney movie The Little Mermaid) as he tackles life in the sea head on — from lifeguard to crab scout leader to bellhop.

3. Shnookums and Meat. The antics of Shnookums the cat and Meat the dog as they battle each other for leadership in the house in which they live with their human masters.

Voice Cast: Steve Mackall (Marsupilami), Samuel E. Wright (Sebastian), Frank Welker (Meat), Jason Marsden (Shnookums), Jim Cummings (Norman), Jim Cummings (Maurice), Steve Landesberg (Eduardo).

5119 Martha. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 2005). Martha Stewart’s new series after her arrest for insider trading and the demise of her prior program Martha Stewart Living (see entry). The new series is essentially the same program with the home decorating diva presenting home decorating projects, celebrity interviews, cooking demonstrations and gardening advice. Martha Stewart is the producer.

Host: Martha Stewart. Music: Jeff Lippencott, Mark T. Williams.

5120 The Martha Raye Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1956). A weekly series of music, song and slapstick comedy sketches with comedienne Martha Raye as the host. Norman Lear and Ed Simmons are the producers.

Hostess: Martha Raye. Regulars: Rocky Graziano, The Martha Raye Dancers. Orchestra: Carl Hoff.

5121 Martha Stewart Living. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1991–2004). Home decorating and remodeling ideas, cooking segments, guests, interviews, gardening tips and anything else associated with the home and garden are presented on a daily basis by Martha Stewart. Linda Corradina and Martha Stewart are the producers.

Host: Martha Stewart. Music: Shelly Palmer.

5122 The Martha Wright Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1954). A program of music and songs with singer Martha Wright as the host. The series, sponsored by Packard automobiles, is also known as The Packard Showroom.

Hostess: Martha Wright. Vocalists: The Norman Paris Chorus. Music: Bobby Hackett.

5123 Martial Law. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1998–2000). Sammo Law is a detective from Hong Kong who is on loan to the Los Angeles Police Department. His purpose is to learn American law enforcement methods and institute a similar system within the Hong Kong justice system. Sammo does not believe in using guns, but does believe in violence and uses his skills as a karate master to bring criminals to justice. Stories follow Sammo as he goes about dispensing justice in a manner that suits him (and which teaches his colleagues that maybe his way is better). He is assisted by Kelly Hu, a gorgeous girl who is almost as adept in karate as Sammo; and detectives Terrell Parker, Dana Dickson, Louis Malone and Amy Dylan.

Cast: Sammo Hung (Sammo Law), Arsenio Hall (Terrell Parker), Grace Chen (Kelly Hu), Tammy Lauren (Dana Dickson), Louis Mandylor (Louis Malone), Tom Wright (Lt. Benjamin Winship), Gretchen Egolf (Amy Dylan).

5124 Martin. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992–1996). Martin Payne and Gina Waters are lovers. Martin, a radio talk show host (“The Insane Martin Payne”) at Detroit station WZUP, lives in Apartment 42; Gina, a marketing executive with Whittaker Advertising, lives at 549 Springdale (They later marry and set up housekeeping in Martin’s apartment).

Martin broadcasts from Studio 5B and attempted his own business venture, a restaurant called Marty Mart’s Meat Loaf and Waffles; he later hosted his own TV talk show, On the Street.

Martin has a collection of Playboy magazines that offend Gina (and before their marriage Gina believed Martin loaned the apartment to his friends as a make-out den — “I can open up a Victoria’s Secret Catalogue with all the lingerie I find around here”).

Gina’s friend, Pam James, first worked with Gina at Whittaker. She was then a secretary at Keep It Real Records. Cole Brown, Martin’s friend, works as an airport janitor (Gina believes Cole’s brain is not connected to the rest of his body for all the dumb things he does). Tommy, Martin’s other friend, enjoys drinks at Nipsey’s Bar. In the last episode, Gina and Martin move to California when Gina is made head of the L.A. office and a network picks up Martin’s TV show for a national broadcast.

Other Regulars: Sheneneh, Martin's outrageous neighbor (Apartment 4B) who owned Sheneneh's Hair Salon; Stan, Martin's boss at the radio station; Martin's bitter mother, Edna; Jerome, the sleazy con artist; Dr. Cliff Waters, Gina's father; and Nadine Waters, Gina's mother.

Cast: Martin Lawrence (Martin Payne), Tisha Campbell (Gina Waters), Garrett Morris (Stan), Carl Anthony Payne II (Cole Brown), Tichina Arnold (Pam James), Thomas Mikal Ford (Tommy), J.A. Preston (Dr. Cliff Waters), Judyann Elder (Nadine Waters), Martin Lawrence (Sheneneh/Edna Lawrence).

5125 Martin Kane, Private Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1949–1954). Martin Kane is a rugged private detective working out of New York City. He has an office in the Wood Building in Manhattan. The sign on his office door reads Martin Kane—Private Investigator. Kane charges fees that he feels are appropriate to the case at hand—as much as $500. He uses determination and force of character to achieve results. He refers to women as “Doll Face” and “Sweetheart” and his hangout is McMann's Tobacco Shop. Kane smokes a pipe and uses Old Briar pipe tobacco at 15 cents a pouch. The shop is a vital part of the live series, as the sponsor's products are prominently displayed.

When Kane discusses a case with shop owner Tucker “Hap” McMann, customers appear to purchase a product. Hap excuses himself and pitches the sponsor's product while Kane, or someone else involved with the case, waits patiently on the side. With the sale concluded, the show picks up from where the customer entered. When Kane places tobacco in his pipe, the camera zooms in for a close-up of the product name. Hap was replaced by Don Morrow, who played himself in last season episodes, as the owner of the tobacco shop.

Also known as Assignment Danger, the title used when the series was first re-syndicated after its initial run. See also The New Adventures of Martin Kane.

5126 Martin Mystery. (Series; Comedy; Cartoon Network; 2003). The Center is a secret organization with only one purpose: investigate unexplained phenomena. Its principal agents are Martin Mystery and Diana Lombard, teenagers who must divide their home and school life with their duties as investigators for the Center. Java, a caveman lost in time (and familiar with the unnatural, assists them). Stories follow their case investigations as they encounter paranormal phenomena with one thing in common: dripping slime and goo.

Cast: Sam Vincent (Martin Mystery), Dale Wilson (Billy the Martian), Dale Wilson (Java), Kelly Sheridan (Diana Lombard), Teryl Rothery (MOM).

5127 The Martin Short Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994). A short lived (three episode) series that focuses on the life of Marty Short, a comedian who hosts a TV variety series. Marty is married to Meg and they are the parents of Caroline and Charlie. Stories follow Marty's life at home and his experiences with the guests who appear on the show, including his wife, an actress who often performs in the skit segments of the show.

Cast: Martin Short (Marty Short), Jan Hooks (Meg Harper Short), Noely Thornton (Caroline Short), Zack Duhamel (Charlie Short), Andrea Martin (Alice), Brian Doyle Murray (Gary).

5128 The Martin Short Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1999–2000). Comedian Martin Short as the host of a celebrity interview show that encompasses comedy skits. Bernie Brillstein, Martin Short and Stuart Krasnow are the producers.

Host: Martin Short. Regulars: Mary Scheer, Toby Hill, John Matta, Kelly Carangelo, Kevin McDonald, Jerry Minor, Michael McKean. Announcer: Michael McGrath.

5129 The Marty Feldman Comedy Machine. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1972). A blend of contemporary humor with that of the Max Sennett silent film era of slapstick comedy.

Host: Marty Feldman. Regulars: Barbara Feldon, Orson Welles, Spike Milligan, Fred Smoot, Lennie Schultz, Thelma Houston, Fred Roman.

5130 The Marty Robbins Spotlight. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1977). The program pays tribute to country and western performers by spotlighting a guest and his or her music.

Host: Marty Robbins. Music Director: Tom Tappan.

5131 The Marvel Super Heroes. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1965). Animated adaptations of five Marvel comic book characters (seen in six minute segments):

Captain America. Steve Rogers is endowed with super strength and speed through a chemical experiment called Super Soldier Serum. He battles evil with the aid of a special alloy shield that can be thrown and used like a weapon.

The Incredible Hulk. Dr. Bruce Banner, belted by gamma rays during an experiment, becomes the green Hulk when enraged. Banner now uses his other self to battle evil.

Iron Man. Tony Stark, the owner of Stark Industries, battles evil with a metal suit that gives him enhanced strength and the ability to fly.

The Mighty Thor. Thor, the son of Oden of Asgard (the home of the Norse gods) uses his super strength (and mystic hammer) to fight the forces of evil.

Sub Marnier. Namor is half Atlantian and half human (the son of Princess Fen of Atlantis and U.S. sea captain Leonard McKenzie). He grew up in Atlantis and uses his powers of strength and ability to swim to battle evil.

Voice Cast: Arthur Pierce (Steve Rogers/Captain America), John Vernon (Tony Stark/Iron Man/Sub Mariner/Major Glenn Talbot), Chris Wiggins (Thor), Paul Sols (Dr. Bruce Banner/Incredible Hulk), Peg Dixon (Betty Ross/Pepper Potts/Jane Foster).

5132 Mary. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1978). A comedy-accented series that spotlights the talents of Mary Tyler Moore as a comedienne, singer and dancer. Only three of the eleven produced episodes aired. Tom Patchett and Jay Tarses are the producers.

Hostess: Mary Tyler Moore. Regulars: Judith Kahan, Dick Shawn, Swoosie Kurtz, James Hampton, Michael Keaton, David Letterman, Leonard Barr, Jack O'Leary. Orchestra: Alf Clausen. Choreography: Marty Stevens.

5133 Mary. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1985–1986). Mary Brenner is an attractive, middle-aged magazine writer. She lives at 103 South Coast Road in Chicago and writes for a magazine called Women's Digest. When her magazine folds, Mary takes a job as the Consumer Helpline columnist for a newspaper called the Chicago Eagle (originally called the Chicago Post). Mary feels the job is beneath her, but she wants to remain in Chicago, and the Helpline Columnist job is the only one she could find.

Edward ("Ed") LaSalle, the theater critic, writes the column "Stepping Out with Ed LaSalle," and Josephine ("Jo") Tucker pens the column "The Mainline Reporter." Jo is a chain smoker and lives in rather untidy surroundings in an apartment at 704 Holland Street. The fast food service used by the staff is Mr. Yummy.

Dennis Patrick and Doris Belack appeared as Jo's parents, Charles and Norma Tucker. Dan Foliart and Howard Pearl composed "Mary's Theme."

Cast: Mary Tyler Moore (Mary Brenner), John Astin (Ed La Salle), Katey Sagal (Jo Tucker), Carlene Watkins (Susan Parks), David Byrd (Tully), James Tolkan (Lester Mintz), Robert Pastorelli (Mr. Yummy).

5134 The Mary Hartline Show. (Series; Children; ABC; 1951). Mary Hartline, a regular on the series Super Circus (as "The Queen of the Super Circus") hosts her own program of music, songs and games geared to children. The series ran from February 12, 1951 to June 15, 1951.

5135 Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1976–1977). The setting is the mythical town of Fernwood, Ohio, a peaceful little community until the mass murderer of Fernwood claimed the lives of the Lombardi family, their two goats and eight chickens, and put the town on the map.

The murders occurred on Mary June Street. A short distance from this street is Bratner Avenue in the Woodland Heights section of town. At 343 Bratner live Mary Hartman, a pretty housewife who constantly worries about the waxy yellow buildup on her kitchen floor, her husband, Tom, an auto plant assembly line worker, and their daughter, Heather, who attends the Woodland Heights Elementary School.

Mary, who is 31 years old (born 4/8/45), and Tom, who is 35 (born 10/4/41), met at Fernwood High School (Tom and Mary have been married 14 years when the series begins; Mary married Tom when she was 17).

While Tom often cheats on Mary (who often suspects he is unfaithful), Mary has only one extramarital affair—with the Fernwood Police Department's Sergeant Dennis Foley.

Mary's parents, George and Martha Schumway, her sister, Cathy, and her grandfather, Raymond Larkin, live at 4309 Bratner Avenue. George works with Tom at the Fernwood Auto Plant and has been married to Martha for 36 years. Grandpa Larkin, now 83, was born in Macon, Georgia, and has been arrested for being the Fernwood Flasher. He is somewhat senile and is always asking, "Where's the peanut butter?" Cathy, who is ten years younger than Mary, is a pretty, man-crazy free spirit.

Mary's next door neighbors are Charlie and Loretta Haggars, who live at 345 Bratner Avenue. Loretta, age 22, is a sweet and trusting country girl who is hoping to make it big as a recording artist. Charlie, her husband and manager, is 43 years old and works with Tom at the auto plant. Loretta, who calls Charlie "Baby Boy" (also the title of her first hit record), has two fish named Conway and Twitty, and performs at the local Fernwood watering hole, the Capri Lounge.

With the exception of Louise Lasser (whose character Mary ran off with Sergeant Foley), the series continued under the title Forever Fernwood (syndicated, 1977–78).

Earle Hagen composed the theme, "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" (Dody Goodman calls the name as the music plays).

Cast: Louise Lasser (Mary Hartman), Greg Mullavey (Tom Hartman), Claudia Lamb (Heather Hartman), Debralee Scott (Cathy Schumway), Philip Bruns (George Schumway), Dody Goodman (Martha Schumway), Mary Kay Place (Loretta Haggars), Graham Jarvis (Charlie Haggars), Victor Kilian (Ray- mond Larkin), Bruce Solomon (Sgt. Dennis Foley), Salome Jens (Mae Olinsky), Sallie Janes (Mona McKenzie), L.C. Downey (Muriel Haggars), Michael Lembeck (Clete Meizenheimer), Vivian Blaine (Betty McCullough), Beeson Carroll (Howard McCullough), Lawrence Haddon (Ed McCullough), Sparky Marcus (Jimmy Joe Jeeter), Dabney Coleman (Merle Jeeter), Marian Mercer (Wanda Jeeter), Susan Browning (Patty Gimble), Martin Mull (Garth Gimble), Martin Mull (Barth Gimble), Eric Shea (Garth Gimble, Jr.), Marjorie Battles (Lila), Will Selzer (Davy Jessup), Archie Hahn (Harold Clemens), Samantha Harper (Roberta Walashak), Harry Basch (Clyde Munsey), Ed Begley, Jr. (Steve Fletcher), Sid Weisman (Howie Freeze), Dennis Burkley (Mac Slattery), Gloria DeHaven (Annie Wylie), Sid Haig (Tex), Richard Ward (Dewey Johnson), David Bird (Vernon Bales), Robert Stoneman (Capri Lounge Bartender), John Fink (Brian Adams), Andra Akers (Christine Adams), Howard Morton (Dr. Andrew Ackerman), Howard Hesseman (Dr. Williams), Reva Rose (Blanche Fedders), Norman Alden (Leroy Fedders).

5136 Mary Kate and Ashley in Action. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 2001). An animated series that features the Olsen twins (Mary Kate and Ashley) as high school girls who are secretly special agents for the government. Mary Kate, as Agent Misty, and Ashley, as Agent Amber, use their unique abilities to protect the world from evil.

Voice Cast: Mary Kate Olsen (Mary Kate/Agent Misty), Ashley Olsen (Ashley/Agent Amber), Michael Dobson (Clive Hedgemorton-Smythe), Sam Vincent (Capital D), Brendan Besier (Quincy), Terry Chan (Rodney Choy), Lenore Zann (Renee La Rouge), Maggie Blue O'Hara (Romy Bates).

5137 Mary Kay and Johnny. (Series; Comedy; DuMont; NBC; CBS; 1947–1950). The marital misadventures of Mary Kay and Johnny Stearns, television's first domestic couple. The series is based on their actual experiences and relates their simple pleasures and trying times (both are level-headed and the everyday incidents that occur in their lives are the focal point of stories). The program ran on DuMont from November 18, 1947 to August 24, 1948; on NBC from October 10, 1948 to February 13, 1949; on CBS from February 23, 1949 to June 1, 1949; and on NBC from June 13, 1949 to March 11, 1950.

Cast: Mary Kay Stearns (Mary Kay Stearns), Johnny Stearns (Johnny Stearns), Christopher Stearns (Christopher Stearns; their son), Nydia Westman (Mary Kay's Mother), Howard Thomas (Howie, Johnny's friend). Announcer Jim Stevenson.

5138 The Mary Margaret McBride Show. (Series; Interview; NBC; 1948). A weekly program of celebrity interviews that ran from September 21, 1948 to December 14, 1948.

Hostess: Mary Margaret McBride. Assistant-Announcer: Vincent Connolly.

5139 The Mary Tyler Moore Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1979). A show within a show that focuses on the home and working life of Mary McKinnon, a television performer whose program, The Mary McKinnon Show, provides a vehicle for guests to perform, and whose off-camera life provides the backdrop for the comedy play and interactions of Mary's staff and friends.

Other Regulars: Harry, the producer; Iris, Mary's secretary; Ken, the usher; Artie, the writer-director; Crystal, Mary's housekeeper (first show); Ruby, the housekeeper (series); Mort, the head writer. Perry Lafferty is the producer.

Cast: Mary Tyler Moore (Mary McKinnon), Michael Lombard (Harry Sinclair), Joyce Van Patten (Iris Chapman), Michael Keaton (Ken Christy), Ron Rifkin (Artie Miller), Doris Roberts (Crystal), Dody Goodman (Ruby), Bobby Ramsen (Mort Zimmick). Orchestra: Alf Clausen. Theme Vocal: "Love Is All Around" by Sonny Curtis. Special Musical Material: Stan Freeman. Choreographer: Tony Stevens.

5140 The Mary Tyler Moore Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1970–1977). Following a breakup with her boyfriend, Bill (Angus Duncan), Mary Richards leaves New York and heads for Minneapolis to begin a new life. There she takes Apartment D at 119 North Weatherly in a building owned by her friend, Phyllis Lindstrom. Shortly afterward, she secures a job as the assistant producer of the WJM-TV, Channel 12, "Six O'clock News" program. Mary is over 30, single and female and the first such character to be portrayed on a weekly situation comedy.

Mary, a Presbyterian, originally applied for the job as a secretary at WJM. The job had been filled, but Lou Grant, the news show producer, hired her as the associate producer instead. Mary has spunk (which Lou hates) and "a nice caboose" (which Lou likes), and the job pays $10 a week less than the secretarial job (which is agreeable to both). Mary was later promoted to producer when Lou decided to make himself executive producer.

Mary is known for her terrible parties ("You give rotten parties. I've had some of the worst times of my life at your parties," says Lou, who broke up with his wife, Edie, at one such party). Mary was born in Roseburg, Minnesota and cares what other people think of her. She makes chocolate chip cookies to impress guests.

Lou Grant is the exasperated producer of the news program. His favorite watering hole is the Happy Hour Bar. Lou is a distinguished newsman who realizes that his news show will never become a ratings winner.

Though technically not a spin-off, a series called Lou Grant (see entry) evolved following cancellation of The Mary Tyler Moore Show. In it, Ed Asner played Lou Grant in a dramatic role as the city editor of the Los Angeles Tribune.

Ted Baxter, the station's incompetent newscaster, earns $30,000 a year, has trouble pronouncing words (for example, "Arkansas" becomes "Are-Kansas") and opened the Ted Baxter's Famous Broadcasting School. He longs for an anchor job in New York with his hero Walter Cronkite. Ted hates to part with money, and he calls the station's control room "the Technical Place." Ted married Georgette Franklin, a shy window dresser at Hempell's Department Store. Ted's closing is "Good night and good news."

Murray Slaughter, the only news writer on the show, calls Ted's cue cards "idiot cards," and has been married to his wife, Marie since 1955.

Sue Ann Nivens, host of the station's Happy Homemaker Show, has advice for everybody and has made it her goal to catch Lou (who wants nothing to do with her).

Mary's upstairs neighbor is Rhoda Morgenstern, a New Yorker who moved to Minneapolis when she couldn't find a job or an apartment in Manhattan. Although she and Mary did not hit it off at first (she wanted Mary's apartment), they became the best of friends. Rhoda works as a window dresser at Hempell's Department Store. She is Jewish and has a goldfish named Goldfish. When Rhoda returns to New York for a two week vacation, the spin-off series Rhoda begins. See this entry for information.

Phyllis Lindstrom is the owner of Mary's apartment building in the series, but only a tenant in the pilot. She has a never-seen husband named Lars (a dermatologist) and a very pretty daughter named Bess. According to Phyllis, "wearing makeup and putting on her mother's wigs" is what Bess does best. Bess is very close to Mary and calls her "Aunt Mary." Following the death of Lars, Phyllis and Bess move to San Francisco to live with Lars's parents in the spin-off series Phyllis. See this entry for information.

The most tragic event to hit WJM was the death of its star performer, Chuckles the Clown (whose real name was given only as George). Chuckles was the Grand Marshal of a parade and dressed as Peter Peanut. He was crushed to death when a rogue elephant tried to shell him. In the last episode, the new station manager (Vincent Gardenia) fires everyone but Ted.

Relatives: Nanette Fabray (Mary's mother, Dotty Richards; Mary originally referred to her as Marge), Bill Quinn (Mary's father, Dr. Walter Reed Richards), Eileen Heckart (Mary's aunt, Flo Meredith), Sherry Hursey (Murray's daughter, Bonnie Slaughter), Tammi Bula (Murray's daughter, Ellen Slaughter), Helen Hunt (Murray's daughter, Laurie Slaughter), Lew Ayres (Murray's father, Doug Slaughter), Priscilla Morrill (Lou's ex-wife, Edie Grant), Nora Heflin (Lou's daughter, Janie Grant), Harold Gould (Rhoda's father, Martin Morganstern), Nancy Walker (Rhoda's mother, Ida Morganstern), Liberty Williams (Rhoda's sister, Debbie Morgenstern), Brett Somers (Rhoda's aunt, Rose), Robbie Rist (Ted's adopted son, David Baxter), Liam Dunn (Ted's father, Robert Baxter), Jack Cassidy (Ted's brother, Hal Baxter), Pat Priest (Sue Anne's sister, Lila, who hosts a cooking show in Georgia), Robert Moore (Phyllis's gay brother, Ben Lindstrom).

Note: On February 7, 2000, ABC aired the television movie Mary and Rhoda that updated the lives of Mary Richards and Rhoda Morganstern. Mary now lives at 415 84th Street in New York City and is a segment producer for WNYT, Channel 6 a TV news station. She is a recent widow and the mother of Rose (Joie Lenz), an English major at NYU. Steve Corwin, Mary's late husband, died in a rock climbing accident.

Rhoda, a professional photographer, is divorced (from Jean Paul Rousseau) and the mother of Meredith (Marissa Ryan), a medical student at Barnard College.

Cast: Mary Tyler Moore (Mary Richards), Ed Asner (Lou Grant), Gavin MacLeod (Murray Slaughter), Ted Knight (Ted Baxter), Valerie Harper (Rhoda Morganstern), Cloris Leachman (Phyllis Lindstrom), Lisa Gerritsen (Bess Lindstrom), Betty White (Sue Ann Nivens), John Amos (Gordie Howard), Georgia Engel (Georgette Franklin), Joyce Bulifant (Marie Slaughter), Sheree North (Charlene McGuire), Brad Trumbull (Howard Gordon), John Gabriel (Andy Rivers), Ted Bessell (Joe Warner), Mark Gordon (Chuckles the Clown), Richard Schaal (Chuckles; replaced Mark), Dick Balduzzi (Philly), Penny Marshall (Paula Kovacs), Claude Stroud (Mary's Landlord), Ted Lehman (Fred), Lee Vines (Lee; WJM Announcer), Chuck Bergansky (Tony; Bartender at the Ballantine Bar), Benjamin Chuley (Pete), Slim Pickens (Wild Jack Monroe). Theme Vocal: "Love Is All Around" by Sonny Curtis.

5141 M*A*S*H. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1972–1983). During wartime the medical corps fights for every life. Helicopters go right to the battlefields to return wounded soldiers to nearby MASH units. One such Mobile Army Surgical Hospital is the 4077, a unit build on barren ground five miles from the Korean War front in one of the most brutal climates on earth — unbearably hot in the summer, subzero temperatures in the winter. Its doctors and nurses often operate under battle conditions risking their lives to save others. In order to remain sane amid the insanities of war, the personnel act somewhat abnormally.

Captain Benjamin Franklin Pierce, called "Hawkeye," is the doctor most opposed to the war and constantly defies authority. The nurse-chasing Hawkeye was drafted (he was working in a hospital at the time) and will not carry a gun. He calls the unit a cesspool and his tent the “Swamp” (where he has a still for making martinis). Hawkeye “is the best cutter in the outfit; he is certified in chest and general surgery” and holds the position of chief surgeon. Hawkeye turns his mind off and hopes the war will go away — “But it doesn’t work. You go back to your job and try to forget there is a war going on.” To relax Hawkeye collapses after a day of surgery and drinks. He also says, “that at night I dream I’m awake.”

Captain “Trapper” John McIntire is Hawkeye’s tent mate and “the champion of the oppressed and molester of registered nurses.” Trapper was a boxing champion in college and fought in the Army’s Inner Camp Boxing Tournament as “Kid Doctor.” Trapper enjoys smoking cigars and playing poker with Hawkeye but would like to go AWOL to see his wife and kids. Trapper and Hawkeye never had a chance to say goodbye (Hawkeye returns from R&R in Tokyo with “The Mount Rushmore of hangovers” to learn that Trapper was transferred stateside two hours earlier).

Captain B.J. Hunnicutt replaces Trapper John. He is a surgeon fresh from civilian residency. He attended Stanford Medical School and received the Bronze Star (saved a soldier under fire). He is a clean-cut, even-tempered family man who is tempted by nurses but avoids their advances (“I’m hopelessly and passionately in love with my wife”).

Major Frank Burns also shares a tent with Hawkeye. Frank, nicknamed “Ferret Face,” had a lucrative practice before being called up. Hawkeye claims Frank became a doctor for the money (“He married money and is crazy about money”). Frank keeps in touch with his patients with his “What’s Up Front Doc” letters so they will not forget him. Frank is married and fears his wife will discover he is having an affair with Major Margaret Houlihan.

Margaret Houlihan, nicknamed “Hot Lips,” is the head nurse. She has a spotless record and “is a woman of passion but a stickler for the rules” (which sometimes alienates her from her nurses, “who never make me a part of their activities”). Margaret is regular Army; she would like all the doctors and nurses to behave in a military manner but realizes they won’t (“They’re terribly unruly and undisciplined and I thank God for each and every one of them when those casualties roll in”). Despite the deplorable conditions, Margaret tries to be beautiful and alluring. She uses her sex appeal to wrap superiors around her finger and acts tough. But when the shelling starts, she becomes frightened (“I don’t like being afraid, it scares me”). While Margaret knows Frank “thinks of me as a bag of desirable bones,” she would like Frank to know “I have a mind and a brain.” When she found someone who did, she left Frank and married Major Donald Penobscott. This caused Frank to have a nervous breakdown and he was transferred to a stateside hospital in Indiana; he also received a promotion to lieutenant colonel.

Charles Emerson Winchester III replaces Frank as Hawkeye and B.J.’s new tent mate. Charles is a pompous Bostonian. He was educated at Harvard and was working at Tokyo General Hospital before his transfer. He says he is a good doctor “because I do one thing at a time. I do them very well then I move on.” He also says that “the meatball surgery that is performed in the OR is causing my skills to deteriorate; they’re wasting away.”

Colonel Henry Blake first commanded the 4077. He was more like “one of the boys” as opposed to being a leader (he found Hawkeye’s antics amusing). Though in charge he was often lost without the help of his company clerk, Radar. In one episode Henry mentions “I left a growing practice and a wife with a fistful of credit cards at home.” Henry’s joyous transfer stateside turns to sadness when the 4077 learn that his transport plane has been shot down over the Sea of Japan and there were no survivors.

Colonel Sherman Potter replaced Henry. He is a career army man and began practicing medicine in 1932. Unlike Henry, Sherman finds Hawkeye’s antics a violation of army rules but realizes why he is doing it and never punishes him.

Corporal Walter O’Reilly is the company clerk. He was born in Iowa and has the nickname “Radar” (for his ability to perceive what others think). He writes the announcements heard over the P.A. system and drinks only Grape Nehi. Radar received a hardship discharge when his uncle Ed died and he became the family’s sole support. In a follow-up letter we learn that Walter O’Reilly, gentleman farmer, has taken an evening job at the local general store to pay the bills.

Maxwell Klinger is the company’s “resident loon.” He is a corpsman and pretends to be insane to get a Section 8 psychiatric discharge. He is first a corporal then a sergeant and dresses in women’s clothes hoping to convince his superiors “that I’m nuts.” He became the clerk after Radar and “hates the damned army but love these people.” In the last episode he married Soon-Lee (Rosalind Chao), a migrant farm worker.

Father Francis Mulcahy is a first lieutenant and the unit’s chaplain. He finds his faith in God challenged every day by the horrors he sees. When the war ends the only thing he will miss “is the Korean children and their smiles.” Based on the feature film. See also AfterMASH and W.A.L.T.E.R.

5142 MASK. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985–1986). Mobile Armored Strike Kommand, MASK for short, is the code name for a top secret U.S. government fleet of sophisticated espionage vehicles that battles crime the world over. Stories relate the exploits of its team (Matt, Gloria, Dusty, Brad, Buddy, Bruce and Thunder) as they battle the evils of Venom, an organization bent on ruling the world.

Voices: Mark Halloran, Brendan McKane, Graeme McKenna, Sharon Noble, Brian George, Brennan Thicke, Doug Stone.

5143 The Mask. (Series; Mystery; ABC; 1954). Walter and Peter Guilfoyle are brothers who are also attorneys. They are based in New York City and not only defend clients, but do their own investigating. The series, billed as "Television's first hour-long mystery series," relates Walter and Peter's investigations into crimes (stories are presented like a mystery and allow viewers to unravel the clues as the brothers uncover the evidence to not only clear their clients, but bring the actual culprits to justice). The series, broadcast live on Sunday evenings (with kinescoped rebroadcasts on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings) ran from January 10, 1954 to May 16, 1954.

Cast: Gary Merrill (Walter Guilfoyle), William Prince (Peter Guilfoyle).

5144 The Mask. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1995–1997). An adaptation of the feature film of the same title about Stanley Ipkiss, a nerdy chap who finds an 11th century green mask that when placed on his face transforms him into a zany crime fighting super hero who upholds the peace in Edge City. Stanley is assisted by his girlfriend, Peggy and his dog Milo. Stanley's main nemesis is Pretorius, a mad scientist who seeks to take over the city. The Mask is said to once belong to Noki, the Norse god of Mischief.

Cast: Rob Paulsen (Stanley Ipkiss), Stefan Fredrich (Stanley Ipkiss), Heidi Shannon (Peggy Brandt), Tim Curry (Pretorius), Kevin Michael Richardson (Mayor Mitchell Tilton), Neil Ross (Lt. Mitch Kellaway).

5145 The Mask of Marcella. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 10/16/72). The pilot film for Cool Million about Jefferson Keyes, a private detective who charges one million dollars and guarantees results or refunds the money. The pilot episode relates Jefferson's efforts to locate an heiress who has been missing for 13 years.

Cast: James Farentino (Jefferson Keyes). Guest Cast: Christine Belford (Adrienne/Marcella), Barbara Bouchet (Carla Miles), John Vernon (Inspector Dupres), Jackie Coogan (Merrill Cossack), Patrick O'Neal (Emile Snow), John Karlen (Werner).

5146 The Masked Rider. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1995). When the evil Count Dregon and his assistant, Nefaria, begin plans to conquer the Earth, an alien Prince, Dex, is sent to stop them. Dex finds shelter with an Earth family (Hal and Barbara and their children Molly and Albee) and, when the need arises, becomes a powerful but mysterious (to the world) super hero called the Masked Rider, to battle the creatures sent to destroy the planet.

Like The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers (see entry), The Masked Rider is based on a Japanese series (three here — Kamen Rider, Kamen Rider ZO and Kamen Rider J). The Japanese version battle scenes are incorporated with non-battle sequences shot for the American version and edited together. Unfortunately, the American version tried to take a serious Japanese program and turn it into a comical action Power Rangers that just didn't work as the plots are a bit choppy; the editing is quite bad (background buildings do not match; the Japanese Dex's face is visible at times) and the continuity is off. It appears to be that the newly photographed sequences were just shot to be as close as possible to replace the footage that couldn't be salvaged.

Cast: Ted Jan Roberts (Prince Dex), Rheannon Silver (Molly), Candace Kita (Barbara), David

Stenstrom (Hal), Ashton McArn (Albee), Jennifer Tung (Nefaria), Ken Merckx (Count Dregon), Paul Pistore (Ferbus), Steve Kramer (Cyclopter), Julie Maddalena (Fact), Michael McConnohie (Gork), Michael Sorich (Double Face), Michi Yamato (Dex; Japanese version).

5147 Masland at Home. (Series; Variety; CBS; ABC; 1949–1951). A program of music, songs and comedy sponsored by Masland carpets. The series ran on CBS from September 14, 1949 to June 7, 1950; and on ABC from August 30, 1950 to February 2, 1951.

Host: Earl Wrightson. Music: The Norman Paris Trio.

5148 Mason. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/4/77). The Bennetts are a seemingly normal American family of four. Howard and Peggy are the parents and Mason and Joyce are their children. Joyce is the typical teenage girl concerned more with makeup and boys than intellectual pursuits. But Mason is different. He is a ten-year-old genius whose misadventures are chronicled as he tries to fit into a world that seems unfit for him. In the pilot episode, Mason's parents attempt to discover why Mason lacks friends.

Cast: Mason Reese (Mason Bennett), Barry Nelson (Howard Bennett), Barbara Stuart (Peggy Bennett), Lee Lawson (Joyce Bennett). Guest Cast: Lee Meredith (Bernice), Keith Charles (Linc).

5149 Masquerade. (Series; Anthology; PBS; 1971). Improvisational adaptations of classic fairy tales. Stories are performed by a regular cast and the series ran from October 5, 1971 to December 28, 1971.

Performers: Barbara Sharma, Avery Schreiber, Alice Playten, Bill Hinnant, Barbara Minkus, Seth Allen, Jacque Lynn Colton, Louise Lasser, J.J. Barry, Phil Bruns, Sudie Bond, Barbara Tracy, Abraham Sobaloff.

5150 Masquerade. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1983–1984). Operation Masquerade is a United States government program that recruits civilians with no espionage skills but who possess special abilities — from plumber to bank teller — to assist the government in various international cases that require anonymous agents.

Mr. Lavender heads Operation Masquerade; Danny Doyle and Casey Collins are his assistants. Stories follow Danny and Casey and their civilian recruit of the week as they risk their lives performing hazardous missions for the government. Danny is a bit gung ho and usually rushes head first into a situation (and never having a backup plan). Casey is glamorous and a bit more level headed (she prefers to rationalize and think before attacking). She also feels that her sex appeal can accomplish things that violent confrontation cannot. Caught in the middle is the civilian recruit who not only sometimes wonders why he volunteered but provides the only sensible means on how to proceed with a mission.

5151 Masquerade Party. (Series; Game; NBC; CBS; ABC; 1952–1960). The object calls for five celebrity panelists to identify elaborately disguised guest personalities. Each panelist is permitted to ask five questions of the guest. Each second of questioning scores one dollar to a maximum of $300. At the end of each five-minute segment, or at any time in between, panelists may attempt to guess their guest's identity. Whether correct or incorrect, the money that is established is donated to charity. The series ran on NBC from July 14, 1952 to August 25, 1952; CBS from June 23, 1953 to September 14, 1953; CBS from June 21, 1954 to September 27, 1954; ABC from September 29, 1954 to December 29, 1956; NBC from March 6, 1957 to September 4, 1957; CBS from August 4, 1958 to September 15, 1958; NBC from October 2, 1958 to September 24, 1959; CBS from October 26, 1959 to January 18, 1960; and on NBC from January 29, 1960 to September 23, 1960.

Host: Clayton “Bud” Collyer (1952), Douglas Edwards (1953), Peter Donald (1954–1956), Eddie Bracken (1957), Robert Q. Lewis (1958), Bert Parks (1958–1960). Panelists: Phil Silvers, Ilka Chase, Adele Jergens, Peter Donald, Madge Evans, Buff Cobb, John Young, Johnny Johnston, Betsy Palmer, Jonathan Winters, Jinx Falkenberg, Pat Carroll, Faye Emerson, Gloria DeHaven, Audrey Meadows, Sam Levenson, Lee Bowman, Bobby Sherwood. Announcer: Don Morrow, William T. Lazar.

5152 Masquerade Party. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1974). Three celebrity panelists attempt to identify an elaborately disguised guest from a series of indirect question-and-answer rounds. Once the questioning is completed, two players are chosen from the studio audience and asked to identify the guest. The identity of the guest is revealed and players receive prizes if they are correct.

Host: Richard Dawson. Panelists: Bill Bixby, Lee Meriwether, Nipsey Russell. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

5153 Massarati and the Brain. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 8/26/82). “Mas” Massarati is a wealthy, international soldier of fortune who becomes the guardian of his 12-year-old nephew, Christopher, after the death of his parents. Christopher is an electronics genius who becomes fascinated with his uncle's work — so much so that he joins him on assignments and supplies the necessary contraptions Mas needs to complete his mission. The unsold series was to relate Mas and Christopher's battle against the forces of evil. In the pilot episode, Mas is hired by Diana Meredith to retrieve valuable rare coins from her father's sunken yacht and becomes involved with Victor Leopold, a deadly neo-Nazi leader seeking the same treasure. Other Regulars: Julie, Mas's government contact; and Anatole, Mas's butler, chef and mansion overseer (in California).

Cast: Daniel Pilon (Mas Massarati), Peter Billingsley (Christopher Massarati), Markie Post (Julie Ramsdale), Christopher Hewett (Anatole). Guest Cast: Ann Turkel (Wilma Hines/Diana Meredith; false one), Kathryn Witt (Diana Meredith; real one), Christopher Lee (Victor Leopold), Kaz Garas (Nick Henry), Camilla Sparv (Dorothea Martin), Heather O'Rourke (Skye Henry), Gail Jensen (Camille Henry).

5154 Massine's Ballet. (Experimental; Ballet; NBC; 3/11/45). A ballet, staged especially for television by Leonide Massine, a dancer-choreographer with the Ballet Theater, and produced by Dr. Herbert Graf, stage director of the Metropolitan Opera in New York. The program included Katharine Lee (a solo to Bach's "Chaconne"); Katharine Lee and Ivan Kirov dancing to Rimsky-Korsakov's "Antar"; and Anna Istomina and Serge Ismailoff performing a scene from Leonide Messine's "Blue Danube."

5155 The Master. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1984). John Peter McCallister is a master of the Ninja (the Japanese art of disciplined combat). It was after his service with the Army Air Corps during World War II "that I found myself in Japan. The tranquility and the people kept me there" (in another episode, John mentions he found his way to Japan after the Korean War — where he was a prisoner of war and managed to escape via a motorcycle). Thirty years later, John receives a letter from a girl named Terry McCallister, a daughter he never knew he had. The letter contains a picture of Terry next to an airplane and a postmark from a U.S. city called Ellerston. With these clues, John leaves Japan and begins a quest to find Terry (who is never seen). It is not explained how Terry knew John was her father or how she even knew where or how to contact him. Also not explained is why Terry keeps moving from city to city, always leaving moments before John arrives or is about to find her.

Terry is depicted as a "Jill of All Trades," holding jobs as a pilot, model, waitress, dancer, etc., who always manages to get her picture in some newspaper or magazine. It is from these articles that John finds the clues he needs to track Terry).

John was a member of a secret Ninja society. His decision to leave Japan betrays his destiny and he is sentenced to die by the members of his sect (who fear he may reveal their secrets). Okasa, a former student of John's who is now a Ninja master, has sworn to find John and kill him. John mentions that Terry's mother is Laura Kennedy, a woman he met in Korea.

They had a two month relationship "and then one morning she was gone." Max Keller is a young drifter who earns money by competing in motorcycle races and doing odd jobs. He is also impulsive and plunges headfirst into situations to help people in trouble (especially beautiful girls). Max is in a bar in Ellerston when the local sheriff begins to harass John for carrying a concealed weapon (his Samurai sword). Max steps in, helps John fight off the sheriff and they escape in Max's customized van. While talking, Max learns of John's quest and volunteers to help. Max, intrigued by John's fighting abilities, asks only that John teach him the art of the Ninja. John was taught the secrets of the Ninja so he could pass them on as his master did to him. "What good is a Ninja teacher without a student" he says as he agrees to teach Max. Together they begin a quest to help people threatened by unscrupulous characters while searching for John's long-lost and elusive daughter, Terry (several episodes drop the daughter searching element to focus on John and Max as they help old friends of John's who are in trouble. How they managed to find and contact John, especially now that he is on the road, is not explained).

John is the only occidental American ever to become a Ninja. He carries with him a black suitcase that contains all his worldly possessions. John can scale buildings, catch an arrow in his hand, knock people out with a pinch to the temple and remain still for long periods of time ("slow the heartbeat and listen to the senses").

John says "I'm a cantankerous old man who's lived a lot of years alone." Max, who's "lived a lot of years on my own too" says "Cops and I don't snuggle up together" and "I often leave a bar through the window." Max travels with his pet hamster, Henry, and both like classical music.

Cast: Lee Van Cleef (John Peter McCallister), Timothy Van Patten (Max Keller), Sho Kosugi (Okasa), Tara Buckman (Cat Hellman; Max's friend), Doug McClure (Patrick Keller; Max's father). Narrator: Timothy Van Patten. Theme Song: "The Master:" Bill Conti.

5156 Masterminds. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 2004). Back in the early 1950s Racket Squad dramatized real police files based on the scams used by con men. Masterminds tells the real stories of real life crimes executed by brilliant criminals. Reenactments are used to show how the crime was committed (anything from bank robberies to kidnappings) and how law enforcement officials solved the crime.

Narrator: Jamie Watson.

5157 Masterpiece Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1950). A live series of seven dramatic adaptations of well-known literary works: Hedda Gabler (by Henrik Ibsen; aired 7/23/50); Richard III (by William Shakespeare; 7/30/50); The Rivals (by Richard Sheridan; 8/6/50); Six Characters in Search of an Author (by Luigi Pirandello; 8/13/50); The Importance of Being Ernest (by Oscar Wilde; 8/20/50); Othello (by William Shakespeare; 8/27/50); and Uncle Vanya (by Anon Chekov; 9/3/50).

Performers Include: Jessica Tandy, Walter Abel, Kent Smith, William Windom, Rita Colton, Douglas Watson, Blanche Yurka, Constance Ford, Hurd Hatfield, Mary Boland, Diana Douglas, Betty Field, Joseph Schildkraut, Margaret Lindsey, Brooks Byron, Margaret Phillips, Torin Thatcher, Alfred Ryder, Olive Deering, Tod Andrews, Boris Karloff, Leora Dana, Isabel Elsom.

5158 Masters of Horror. (Series; Anthology; Showtime; 2006). A series of horror yarns directed by Hollywood's top theatrical fright film directors. The stories:

1. The Damned Thing. Written by R.C. Mathe-son; directed by Tobe Hooper. Sean Patrick Flanery, Marisa Coughlin and Ted Raimi star in a story about a mysterious force that turns people against each other.

2. Family. Written by Brent Hanley; directed by John Landis. A young married couple (Meredith Monroe, Matt Keeslar) discover their new neighbor (George Wendt) has a passion for evil.

3. The V Word. Written by Mick Garris; directed by Ernest Dickerson. Michael Ironside is a vampire seeking a sacrifice.

4. Sounds Like. Written and directed by Brad Anderson. Larry Pearce plays a man who is suddenly plagued by a heightened sense of sound that threatens to destroy him.

5. Pro-Life. Written by Drew McWeeny and Scott Swan; directed by John Carpenter. A young woman (Caitlin Wachs) finds that her pregnancy is anything but normal when she realizes an evil entity is growing inside her.

6. Pelts. Written by Matt Venne; directed by Dario Argento. The tragedy that results when a fur trader (Meatloaf) steals supernatural raccoon pelts to make a fur coat to win over a woman.

7. The Screwfly Solution. Written by Sam Hamm; directed by Joe Dante. Elliott Gould stars in a strange story about a deadly virus that turns men into killers.

8. Valerie on the Stairs. Written and directed by Mick Garris. Christopher Lloyd and Tyron Leitso star in a story about an aspiring writer who encounters much more than he bargained for at a commune for aspiring novelists.

9. We Scream for Ice Cream. Written by David J. Schow; directed by Tom Holland. A man (Lee Tergeson) finds the sins of his past are coming back not only to haunt him — but kill him.

10. The Black Cat. Written and directed by Stuart Gordon. An adaptation of the Edgar Allan Poe story about a man (Jeffrey Combs) who is tormented by the spirit of a black cat.

11. The Washingtonians. Written by Jonathan Schaech; directed by Peter Medak. Jonathan Schaech and Saul Rubinek star in a story about a man who finds a cursed artifact that supposedly belonged to George Washington.

12. Right to Die. Directed by Rob Schmidt. The story of a man (Martin Donovan) who finds himself incapable of pulling the plug on his terminally ill wife — every attempt costs a life and appears to be producing an evil spirit inside his wife.

13. Dream Cruise. Written by Naoya Takayama and Norio Tsuruta; directed by Norio Tsuruto. The story of a man whose fear of the sea becomes a nightmare when he joins a pleasure cruise.

5159 Masters of Magic. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949). Andre Baruch hosts a live program that features performances by guest magicians. The series ran from February 16, 1949 to May 11, 1949.

5160 Masters of Science Fiction. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 2007). “Tales of a present and future Earth” are the subject of a four week series (August 4 to August 25, 2007) that features top name stars and directors.

“A Clear Escape,” the first story, finds a futuristic psychiatrist (Judy Davis) interrogating and amnesiac whose past holds a secret that can affect the future. Mark Rydell directed.

The second story, “The Awakening,” is set in war-torn Baghdad where U.S. soldiers discover a mysterious casualty — one who doesn't appear to be human. Terry O'Quinn, Elisabeth Rohm and William B. Davis star. Michael Petroni directed.

“Jerry Was a Man,” the third story, is set in the future and stars Anne Heche and Malcolm McDowell as a couple whose lives are changed when they acquire an anthropoid named Jerry. Michael Tolkin directed.

The concluding story, “The Discarded,” focuses on three dispensed minorities seeking to find refuge on Earth after they are set adrift in space. Brian Dennehy, John Hurt and James Denton star. Jonathan Frakes directed.

Narrator: Professor Stephen Hawking.

5161 Masters of the Maze. (Series; Game; Fox; 1994–1996). Three teams, each composed of three members, compete. An out-of-focus picture, which could be a person, place or thing, is displayed. The first team to buzz in receives a chance to identify the blurred image. A correct guess scores the team ten points. The person who identified the picture is then asked a question regarding the object of the picture. If he answers it correctly the team scores five additional points. The first team to score fifty points wins and receives the first opportunity to acquire prizes contained in a stage-displayed maze. Here one player remains outside the maze while his partner is placed inside the maze. The maze player must conquer three levels: The Mirror Man, The Honeycomb Man and The Chamber of Knowledge by answering three questions correctly on each level. The time it takes to do so is calculated. The opposing team competes in the same manner. The team that scores the best time competes in the final round, Prize Mountain. Here five monsters are seen flashing "Prize" or "No Prize." One player is given a laser gun; the other teammate must direct his shots (by calling "fire" when he feels the time is right to hit "Prize" on a monster). Three prize hits within the time limit awards the team a shopping spree.

Host: J.D. Roth (1994–1995), Mario Lopez (1995–1996). Mirror Man: Mark Maxwell Smith.

5162 The Match Game. (Series; Game; NBC; 1962–1969). A question that contains a blank is read to the two teams that compete (each composed of one celebrity captain and two contestants). Each player writes down the word he feels will best complete the thought. If two players on the same team match, they score $25; if the celebrity matches them, $50 is scored. The first team to score $100 is the winner and the contestants divide the money. A later format had two contestants attempting to match the answers provided by a panel of six celebrities. Money was scored for each match and the player with the highest cash score was the winner.

Host: Gene Rayburn. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

5163 The Match Game. (Series; Game; NBC; 1973–1979). An incomplete sentence, which contains a blank, is read to six celebrities, who fill in the blank by writing the word or words that best complete the thought. Of the two contestants who compete, one is asked to verbally give his response to the question. For each celebrity that he matches he scores one point. His opponent next receives a chance to play. The contestant with the highest score at the end of two rounds is the winner and receives $250.

5164 The Match Game–Hollywood Squares Hour. (Series; Game; NBC; 1983–1984). The program combines two former game shows under one title. In The Match Game two contestants compete. A question that contains a blank is read to the six celebrities who appear (each of whom writes their answer on card). The contestant at play gives a verbal response. The celebrities reveal their answers one at a time. For each match (same answer) the player scores one point. Three such rounds are played and the contestant with the highest score (up to six points) is the winner. He then competes against the previous champion in The Hollywood Squares. Nine celebrity guests appear in a large tic-tac-toe board. One player selects a celebrity. A question is read and the player must determine if the celebrity's answer is either true or false. A correct guess awards that player $25 and either an "X" or an "O" on the board. The first player to score three squares, across, up and down, or diagonally, is the winner of the first round and receives an additional $100 (two additional rounds are played with the money increasing by $100 for each game). The player with the most money is the champion and competes until defeated.

Match Game Host: Gene Rayburn. Hollywood Squares Host: Jon Bauman. Announcer: Gene Wood.

5165 Match Game P.M. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1976). A prime time version of the daytime series The Match Game (that is played in the same manner and which see for format).

Host: Gene Rayburn. Announcer: Johnny Olsen. Substitute Announcer: Bern Bennett.

5166 Matches 'N Mates. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1967). Two Married couples compete. A board that contains a series of answers is revealed for a short period of time. At the end of the time the answers are hidden and a board that contains a series of concealed questions is revealed. One player calls a number to reveal one of the concealed questions. The question is read. If he can recall under what number the correct answer is, he receives one point. If he is incorrect the answer and question he chose are concealed and the opponent receives a chance to play. The team with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Nick Nicholson, E. Roger Muir.

5167 Matchmaker. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1987). Three men and three women appear on stage. The host (who cannot see the players) questions each player by asking personal questions. After several such rounds, the host selects the two people he feels are suited for each other. The selected players receive a free trip to a romantic locale in the hopes of sparking a romance (the selected players, however, may elect to take the trip on his or her own or with another person of their choice). The results of each match are related on a future edition of the program after the trip is taken.

Host: David Hull. Assistant: Helaine Michaelsen.

5168 Matinee at the Bijou. (Series; Anthology; PBS; 1980). A collection of rare or never before telecast theatrical cartoons, serials, shorts and feature films of the 1930s. The series is set at an old time movie theater where the host invites the audience to join him in that week's presentations.

Host: W. Scott Devenney. Urshettes: Rebecca Delorme, Karen Davis, Kathleen Blackerby, Barbara Seuss, Jennifer McPhee. Theater Patrons: Linda Van Dusen, Steve Starr, Mark Zewe, Carol Childress, John Zewe. Theme Vocal: "At the Bijou" by Rudy Vallee.

5169 Matinee in New York. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1952). A summer program of music, songs, celebrity interviews and game contests aimed at the housewife. The series ran from June 9, 1952 to September 5, 1952. Ted Collins is the producer.

Hosts: Bill Cullen, Bill Goodwin. Interviewer: Ted Collins. Announcer: Andre Baruch. Music: Jack Miller, John Lesko.

5170 Matinee Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1955–1958). A daily afternoon series of live and filmed dramatic productions produced in California. The series aired from October 31, 1955 to June 27, 1958.

5171 Matlock. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1986–1995). Matlock and Matlock is an Atlanta, Georgia, based law firm owned by Benjamin Layton Matlock and his daughter, Charlene. It became Ben Matlock, Attorney-at-Law, when Charlene left in 1987 to begin her own law practice in Philadelphia. In the last first-run NBC episode in 1992, "The Assassination," Bryn Thayer is seen as Ben's daughter Lee Ann McIntyre. Lee Ann is a prosecuting attorney who has come to Atlanta from Philadelphia to visit her father following a legal separation from her husband, Peter. Charlene does not appear and no mention is made as to what happened to her. When the series switched to ABC with the episode, "The Vacation," Ben and Lee Ann have formed a partnership and operate a firm called Matlock and McIntyre, Attorneys-at-Law, in Atlanta. Lee Ann is still separated from her husband whom she calls "the jerk" and still uses his last name. Ben is trying to convince her to use her maiden name. When Lee Ann leaves to start her own practice in California in 1994, Ben replaces her with Attorney Michelle Thomas and changes the firm's name to B.L. Matlock, Attorney-at-Law, with Michelle Thomas, Attorney-at-Law appearing under his name in smaller letters.

Ben charges $100,000 a case and is known for his high rate of success in defending clients. He is a Gemini and was born in the town of Mount Harlan, Georgia. Ben is a graduate of Harvard Law School and worked as a public prosecutor in Atlanta before beginning his own law practice. He attends law seminars "because you're never too old to learn" and teaches law at Eaton University. He has a doctorate degree in law from the Baxter Law School where they have also named a chair after him. Ben is known for two things: eating hot dogs, usually with grape soda, and white suits; he has a closet full of them.

This began in 1969 when a case brought Ben to Los Angeles. He became ill after eating several pieces of bad fish and was taken to Community General Hospital. There, he was treated by a young resident intern named Dr. Mark Sloan (Dick Van Dyke, from the series Diagnosis Murder). Ben was just starting his practice and Mark convinced him to invest his life savings, $5,000, in the hottest new item, 8-Track tapes. The 8-Track system proved to be a failure and Ben lost everything. Cheap white suits off the store rack and hot dogs were all he could afford, but he carried on the tradition throughout the years.

Julie March is the prosecuting attorney with the Atlanta D.A.'s office. She was born in Nebraska and is an expert on jewelry. She considers herself one of the best legal minds in the South; Ben calls her the wildest, most ruthless prosecutor the state has. Julie left the series when she moved to Los Angeles to work as a prosecutor in the D.A.'s office.

Les Calhoun is Ben's neighbor, a retired manufacturer who prefers to be called "Ace"; he calls Ben "Benjie" or "Benje." Ace loves to shop for Christmas presents and believes "I've got great taste" in everything. Ace, who wore lizard skin shoes and ate chop suey everyday, made plastic eyelets for sneakers.

Tyler Hudson, Ben's first investigator, is a brilliant stock market investor. He was named Young Atlanta Businessman of the Year and won $2,000 in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Chili Bake-Off. He was replaced by Conrad McMasters, a police deputy who doubled as Ben's investigator. Cliff Lewis is a young attorney Ben hires to assist Conrad on investigations.

Carol Huston appeared briefly in 1994 as Jeri Stone, the private detective Ben hired as his investigator when Charlene first left.

Cassie Phillips is Ben's law clerk, a student at the Baxter Law School in Atlanta. Betty Lynn was Sarah, Ben's receptionist in first season episodes. In the pilot episode, Lori Lethin played Charlene and Alice Hirson was Hazel, Ben's receptionist. Flashbacks show Ben's father, Charlie Matlock (Andy Griffith) as the owner of a gas station in Mount Harlan. Steve Witting plays young Ben Matlock. Dick DeBenedictis composed the theme “Matlock.”

Cast: Andy Griffith (Ben Matlock), Linda Purl (Charlene Matlock), Brynna Thayer (Lee Ann McIntyre), Julie Sommars (Julie March), Don Knotts (Les Calhoun), Kene Holliday (Tyler Hudson), Clarence Gilyard, Jr. (Conrad McMasters), Daniel Roebuck (Cliff Lewis), Kari Lizer (Cassie Phillips).

5172 Matrix. (Series; Drama; USA; 1993). Steve Matrix is a ruthless hit man. Any job, the right price and someone is eliminated. No matter how careful and brilliant he thought he was, someone was smarter and got the drop on him and killed him. Matrix is placed in suspension between Heaven and Hell. It is here that Liz Teel, a representative of the Forces That Be (actually a person from the In-Between) offers him a deal: spend eternity in Hell or redeem his past by helping people in need. Matrix chooses to help people and stories follow his efforts as he is sent back to earth to make up for his deadly past.

Cast: Nick Mancuso (Steven Matrix), Carrie-Anne Moss (Liz Teel), Phillip Jarrett (Billy Hicks).

5173 The Matt Dennis Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955). A summer series of music and songs with pianist Matt Dennis as the host. The series ran from June 27, 1955 to August 29, 1955.

Host: Matt Dennis. Off-Camera Introductions: Frank Sinatra. Musicians: Trigger Albert (Bass), Mundell Lowell (Guitar), Jimmy Campbell (Drums).

5174 Matt Helm. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1975–1976). Matthew Helm (who prefers to be called Matt) is a U.S. government intelligence agent for an organization called the Company. Matt likes to tackle assignments in ways that he feels will work — not the way he is told to do things. When he becomes frustrated with all the rules he is forced to follow, he resigns. While not stated, Matt appears to be well off but to occupy his time (and continue in his capacity to help people) he purchases a house (the McGuire Beach House at 2001 Postal Road in Malibu Beach, California) and begins his new business venture — Matt Helm Investigations. Claire Kronski, his girlfriend, assists him.

Matt is not your typical private eye. His years of government experience have made him more perceptive and able to see crime in a different light. He knows how to use his wits to outsmart the enemy but he still hasn't learned to avoid confrontations that lead to him often getting the worst end of the situation (shot at, knocked out or beaten up). Despite the problems he encounters, Matt always finds a way to come out on top. He also has an eye for the ladies (looking more than anything else) — a situation that doesn't seem to bother Claire (as she knows he will always be faithful to her).

Claire (whom Matt always calls Kronski) is a private practice attorney who often becomes involved in Matt's cases. Claire's legal expertise always helps Matt out of an entanglement and, he says of her, “Kronski is the most honest lawyer who ever lived but one of the sneakiest people I have ever known.”

Ethel, who calls Matt “Matthew,” runs Ethel's Answering Service (the telephone service he uses); Lieutenant Hanrahan, Matt's friend, is with the Homicide Division of the Parker Center of the L.A.P.D. Morton Stevens composed the “Matt Houston” theme.

Cast: Anthony Franciosa (Matt Helm), Laraine Stephens (Claire Kronski), Jeff Donnell (Ethel), Gene Evans (Lt. Hanrahan).

5175 Matt Houston. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1982–1985). Matlock Houston, who prefers to be called Matt, is a millionaire oil baron, cattle rancher and playboy who has a compassion for people and uses his spare time (and money) to help people who are in deep trouble and cannot turn to the police for help.

Matt is the owner of Houston, Inc., a conglomerate at 200 West Temple Street in Los Angeles (later said to be at 100 Century Plaza) and the agency he has set up in the building — Houston Investigations. Making money has become so easy for Matt that he finds it dull. Helping people gives him a feeling of accomplishing something and he most often pays more attention to that occupation than what a three-piece suit calls for. Matt is a risk taker (it is what made him wealthy) and he often risks his life to bring criminals to justice and clear his clients' names. Matt is not all work and no play. To relax he retreats to the Houston Cattle Ranch in Texas.

C.J. Parsons is Matt's business assistant. And while she was hired to take care of his corporate matters, she also finds herself his partner when it comes to investigating cases. C.J. never complains; she only wishes Matt would stay away from the violent aspects of the cases he always seems to encounter.

Last season episodes teamed Matt with his uncle, Roy Houston, a somewhat older private detective whose years of experience as both a police officer and detective helped Matt use a more logical approach to solving crimes (as opposed to charging in head first and without really thinking).

Vince Novelli is the Southern California Police Department lieutenant who often becomes involved in Matt's cases (as does Michael Hoyt, a lieutenant with the L.A.P.D.). Murray Chase is Matt's harried business manager, a man who wishes Matt would give up helping people (and complicating his life) and settle down to just running his company. Rosa, Vince's mother, owns Mama Novelli's Restaurant, Matt's favorite eatery. Too Mean and Charlie Eagle are Matt's legmen; Lamar Pettybone is Matt's ranch foreman; Slim (a gorgeous girl) is Matt's accountant; Pam (later called Chris) is Matt's receptionist; Myron is Matt's business manager; Ann and Kathy are Michael's wife and daughter; Will is Roy's son; Bill is Matt's father.

Cast: Lee Horsley (Matt Houston), Pamela Hensley (C.J. Parsons), Buddy Ebsen (Roy Houston), John Aprea (Vince Novelli), Penny Santon (Rosa Novelli), Lincoln Kilpatrick (Michael Hoyt), George Wyner (Murray Chase), Penny Santon (Mama Novelli), D.D. Howard (Slim), Paul Brinegar (Lamar Pettybone), Cis Rundle (Pam/Chris), Maureen O'Connor (Matt's office secretary), Cal Bellini (Charlie Eagle), John Moschitta, Jr. (Myron), Rockne Tarkington (Too Mean), David Wayne (Bill Houston), Judyann Elder (Ann Hoyt), Christina Murrill (Kathy Hoyt), Michael Goodwin (Will Houston). Narrator: Pamela Hensley. Theme: "Matt Houston" by Dominic Frontiere.

5176 Matt Lincoln. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1970–1971). Matt Lincoln is a Los Angeles–based psychiatrist. He practices preventive psychiatry in an effort to assist people in the early stages of emotional distress to avoid further, more complicated treatment. Tag, Jimmy, Kevin and Ann assist Matt; Matt, Sr. is Matt's father. See also Dial Hot Line for information on the series pilot film.

Matt's students are rowdy, troubled teenagers. Stories follow Matt as he uses his Navy training to help discipline and set his students on the right path in life.

Cast: Montel Williams (Matt Waters), Nicole Moore (Kristen Wilson; a teacher), Sam McMurray (Charlie Sweet; the coach), Cyndi Cartagena (Angela Perez), Amy Hargreaves (Chloe Drescher), Jack Tisdale (Nathaniel Marston), Bob Prsybilski (Glenn Fitzgerald), Richard Chevolleau (Flea Decker).

5178 Matty's Funday Funnies. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1959–1961). The overall title for a series of Harvey theatrical cartoons, including Casper, the Friendly Ghost, Baby Huey, Little Audrey and Buzzy the Crow. The series, sponsored by Mattel Toys, is hosted by the animated Matty and Sisterbelle.

Voices: Jackson Beck, Mel Blanc, Daws Butler, Scatman Crothers, Stan Freberg, Joan Gerber, Bob Clampett, Mae Questel, Sid Raymond, Arnold Stang, Norma McMillan, Paul Frees.

5179 Maude. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1972–1978). A spin-off from All in the Family that relates incidents in the life of Maude Findlay, a totally outspoken and liberated woman who lives with her husband, Walter, and her sexy, divorced daughter, Carol Traynor at 30 Crenshaw Street in Tuckahoe, New York (their address is later given as 271 Elm Street).

Walter, Maude's fourth husband, is the owner of Findlay's Friendly Appliance Store. He and Maude constantly argue and she is struggling to solve all the incidents that creep in, disrupt and threaten to destroy her lasting relationship with Walter. Although Walter preferred that Maude did not work (he does not want a part-time wife and does not enjoy having dinner alone) Maude did take jobs (for example, real estate salesperson) and ran for and became a U.S. Congresswoman in the episode of April 3, 1978. At this point Walter had retired and became one Maude's aides in Washington, D.C. (along with Barbara Rhoades as Maggie Gallagher; Dennis Burkley as Sam Dickey; and Nedra Volz as Pinky Nolan). This episode was also the pilot for the new Bea Arthur series that was to pickup were Maude left off. Bea Arthur, however, rejected the role. It was turned into Onward and Upward, a series about a black athlete who tries to win a seat in Congress. John Amos, chosen as the star, quit over a format dispute when the title was changed to Mr. Dooley. Louis Gossett, Jr., also rejected the role. Cleavon Little was then brought on and several episodes were taped under the title Mr. Dugan. But due to the unfavorable portrayal of blacks, this version never actually aired. It was revised one final time as Hanging In and ran on CBS for four episodes (August 8th–August 29th, 1979). The new format told the story of Louis Harper (Bill Macy), a former football hero who becomes the president of Braddock University. Barbara Rhoades was Maggie Gallagher, the faculty dean; Dennis Burkley was Sam Dickey, the director of development; and Nedra Volz was Pinky Nolan, Lou's housekeeper.

The "Cousin Maude's Visit" episode of All in the Family (December 11, 1971) first introduced Edith's cousin, Maude Findlay to audiences. In it, Maude came to Queens, New York, to care for Edith, Archie, Mike and Gloria, who were stricken with a bad case of the flu. The episode of March 11, 1972, titled "Maude," was the actual pilot. Here Edith and a reluctant Archie attend the wedding of Maude's daughter, Carol, in Tuckahoe. In this episode, Marcia Rodd played Carol.

Dr. Arthur Harmon and his wife Vivian were Maude's neighbors. Florida Evans was Maude's first housekeeper (the character was spun off into the series Good Times); Nell Naugatuck, Maude's cockney British maid, replaced her. Victoria Butterfield, a West Indian maid, replaced Nell.

Philip Traynor is Carol's son; Vernon Traynor is Carol's ex-husband; Tinkie is Maude's aunt; Ian Harmon is Arthur's grandson; Henry Evans (later to become James Evans) is Florida's husband; and Mr. Butterfield is Victoria's stern father.

Cast: Bea Arthur (Maude Findlay), Bill Macy (Walter Findlay), Adrienne Barbeau (Carol Traynor), Conrad Bain (Dr. Arthur Harmon), Rue McClanahan (Vivian Harmon), Esther Rolle (Florida Evans), Hermione Baddeley (Nell Naugatuck), Marlene Warfield (Victoria Butterfield), Brian Morrison (Philip Traynor), Kraig Metzinger (Philip Traynor; later), Charles Siebert (Vernon Traynor), Bella Bruck (Aunt Tinkie), Sparky Marcus (Ian Harmon), John Amos (Henry Evans), Roscoe Lee Browne (Mr. Butterfield), Larry Gelman (Dr. Hubie Binder; Arthur's friend), Jan Arvan (Sam; the bartender), Fred Zuckert (Fred; the bartender). Theme Vocal: "And Then There's Maude" by Donny Hathaway.

5180 Maui Fever. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2007). The series, filmed in Hawaii, follows the lives of a group of twenty something friends who work for the island's resort industry and how their lives and friendships are affected by the different people (tourists) they encounter in each episode.

Cast: Jesse Beyer, David Corbin, Justin Dutro, Chaunte, Cheyne Magnusson, Sean McClenahan, Anna Stimson, Kevin Sullivan, Anthony Vicar.

5181 Maureen. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/24/76). Maureen Langley is a middle-aged department store lingerie salesgirl. She is a widow and lives with her son (Damon) and her mother (Ruth) at 4579 West Caulfield Street. She leads a somewhat boring life and always puts herself out to help others. The unsold series was to relate the problems that befall Maureen when she attempts to change her monotonous lifestyle. In the pilot episode, Maureen's friend, Alice, talks her into taking a cruise to the Virgin Islands—a move that meets with objections from her son, her mother and her boss (Mr. Frederick).

Cast: Joyce Van Patten (Maureen Langley), Sylvia Sidney (Ruth), Jack Bannon (Damon Langley), Alan Oppenheimer (Mr. Frederick), Karen Morrow (Alice). Guest Cast: Leigh French (Trudy), Ron Roy (Harvey), Timothy Blake (Jackie).

5182 Maurice Woodruff Predicts. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1969). Celebrity interviews and predictions by mentalist Maurice Woodruff. Robert Q. Lewis (then Vidal Sassoon) co-host and announce the program.

5183 The Maury Povich Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1991–). A sensitive reality based talk show wherein host Maury Povich tackles very controversial topics that other shows in the genre overlook. Programs are usually emotional as victims of crimes as well as people with personal or emotional problems appear to tell their stories (and be asked questions by members of the studio audience). Guests, familiar with the problem at hand, appear to offer counseling.

Host: Maury Povich.

5184 Maverick. (Series; Western; ABC; 1957–1962). Bret and Bart Maverick are brothers. They are gentlemen gamblers who roam the Old West in search of rich prey. They are also cowards at heart, but more often than not they find themselves helping people in trouble. They are unconventional, self-centered and untrustworthy, and they possess a genius for conning the con man.

Although they served with the Confederacy during the Civil War, they became Union soldiers when they were captured and figured it would be better to help the enemy than spend time in a Union prison camp. As "Galvanized Yankees" (as Bart puts it), they were assigned to keep the Indians under control out West. At this same time, it is mentioned that another Maverick, Cousin Beauregard (Beau), became a family disgrace when he was honored as a war hero. Beauregard ("Pappy") Maverick, the head of the family, instilled in his sons his cowardice and con-artist genius. When Pappy, as he is called, learned that his nephew, Beau, did something to bring honor to the Maverick name, he branded him "the white sheep of the family" and banished him to England. (Actually, Beau had been captured. While he was playing poker with a Union general, the Confederates attacked the camp. Just as the general lost a game and exclaimed, "Son, I give up," Confederate troops entered the tent. Beau was credited with the capture.) To make up for this family disgrace, Beau spent five years tarnishing his "good" name and was actually brought on (1960–61) to replace James Garner (who left the series in 1960). The following year, and until 1962, another brother, Brent, appeared when Roger Moore left at the end of the 1961 season.

It is against a Maverick's principles to drink alone, and they have one serious vice—curiosity. The Mavericks are from Little Bent, Texas, and a sheriff is not their best friend. A Maverick is not fast on the draw (if there is a way to get out of a gunfight, they will find it). Bret promised his Pappy that on his thirty-eighth birthday he would find himself a wife and raise 12 Mavericks. Bart, who enjoys smoking cigars, often says, "Sometimes it frightens me what I'll do for money." Bret contends that he is a cautious man—"It's the other faults that bother me." Bret calls Bart "Brother Bart," and Beau has a horse named Gumlegs.

Although Beauregard ("Pappy") Maverick appeared only once (in the episode, "Pappy"), his proverbs became an established part of the series. One of the Mavericks would exclaim, "As my old Pappy would say," followed by the saying (for example, “No use crying over spilled milk, it could have been whiskey”). Pappy is a ladies’ man and a gambler like his sons (but women call him “an old coot” and “a lecherous old goat”). On screen, Pappy is credited as “Pappy...?” Jack Kelly also played Pappy’s brother, Bentley Maverick, in “Pappy.”

Besides the Indians, the outlaws and the sheriff, another threat to Bret and Bart was Samantha (“Sam”) Crawford, a beautiful con artist who was just as cunning and clever as the Mavericks. A Northern girl at heart, Sam faked a Southern accent and used, besides her genius at the con, her feminine wiles to acquire easy money.

Gentleman Jack Darby and Dandy Jim Buckley are gamblers who also sought easy money and easy prey. Theme: “Maverick,” by David Buttolph and Paul Francis Webster.

Cast: James Garner (Bret Maverick), Jack Kelly (Bart Maverick), Roger Moore (Beau Maverick), Robert Colbert (Brent Maverick), Diane Brewster (Samantha Crawford), Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (Dandy Jim Buckley), James Garner (Beauregard “Pappy” Maverick), Richard Long (Gentleman Jack Darby).

5185 Maverick Square. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/29/91). Fat Nicky, as he is called, lives in Apartment 3 at 36 Maverick Square in East Boston. His best friend, Sal, lives across town next to the airport in a house that shakes every time a plane takes off. The unsold series was to relate incidents in the lives of two best friends who find misadventure in everything they do. In the pilot episode, Nicky seeks a way to earn some fast money so he can get his girlfriend, Rochelle’s ring out of hock. Althea is Sal’s wife.

Cast: Michael Chiklis (Fat Nicky), David Marciano (Sal), Sharon Cornell (Rochelle), Karla Tamburelli (Althea), Rosetta LeNoire (Mrs. Lewis; guest role).

5186 Max. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/28/83). A proposed spin-off from “Gimme a Break” about Max Greene, the owner of Max’s Deli, and Danny, an orphan girl he takes under his wing after he catches her shoplifting. The pilot episode establishes the unsold series storyline.

Cast: Don Rickles (Max Greene), LaShana Dendy (Danny). Guest Cast: Nell Carter (Nell Harper), Dolph Sweet (Carl Kanisky), Barbara Hamilton (Shopper).

5187 Max and Me. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/12/85). Max Brennan and his wife Anne (the “Me” of the title) are a middle-aged married couple with a dream: to seek a rejuvenated lifestyle by moving back to New York City to relive the memories of their children who have grown up and moved away from their suburban home on Long Island. The unsold series was to relate Max and Anne’s misadventures when they do move to a Manhattan brown-stone but can’t seem to find what they are searching for. Other Regulars: Leo and Ginger Winter, their always-battling downstairs neighbors; Mrs. Nelson, an overly protective mother who babies her grown son, Sheldon; Susan, Max’s daughter; and Ogden Dust, an undercover police detective who lives in the building.

5188 Max and Ruby. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2002–2003). Max and Ruby are a brother and sister who also happen to be rabbits (and, although they live in a large house, their parents are never seen). Max is three years old and is often at odds with his seven-year-old sister. Max is the mischievous one; Ruby, the obedient child, often has to use her wits to get Max out of the troublesome situations he gets into in his search for adventure. Stories relate the incidents that befall Max, Ruby and their friends (Louise, Valerie and Roger). Also appearing as a parental figure to Max and Ruby is their next-door neighbor, an elderly woman called Grandma.

Voice Cast: Samantha Morton (Ruby), Katie Griffin (Ruby), Bill Rosemberg (Max), Julie Lemieux (Louise), Cameron Ansell (Morris), Kay Hawtrey (Grandma).

5189 Max Headroom. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1987). The time is “20 minutes into the future.” Television cannot be turned off and ratings are all that matter. With an average low rating of 11.5 million and an average high of 23.6 million viewers a day, Network 23 has become the number one broadcast signal.

In addition to the competition from other networks, channel switching during commercials has become a major problem (it causes a dip in Network 23’s ratings). To resolve the problem, Bryce Lynch, the head of Network 23’s research and development, creates Blipverts, a system that compresses 30 seconds of commercials into only three seconds. The Blipverts work fine at first, until the unexpected happens — viewers begin to explode (spontaneously combust). The human body has millions of nerve endings, each of which contains a small electrical charge. Individually they are harmless and active people burn them off. However, in overweight or inactive people, the electrical charges build up. When a Blipvert is seen, the impulses violently stimulate these nerve endings. They cause a short circuit in inactive people who then explode. Authorities have not yet been able to associate Blipverts with these deaths. Bryce does have, however, a videotape (called a Rebus) of a Blipvert-caused explosion — a tape that can destroy Network 23 if it should fall into the wrong hands.

Edison Carter is a world famous journalist who hosts The What I Want to Know Show (a news program that goes after stories) on Network 23. His control (newsroom director) is Theora Jones, a beautiful computer genius who worked previously for the defunct World One Network. Edison decides to investigate the mysterious viewer explosions. When he gets too close, hit men are hired to stop him. Carter finds the Rebus tape at the same time he realizes he is being followed. The hit men's initial attempt to kill Carter fails when he escapes on a motorcycle. Carter is caught, however, when he misjudges a parking lot crossing gate (which reads "Max Headroom 2.3 feet") and crashes into it. He is brought to Bryce's lab. Carter, however, can't be killed; he is too famous and will be missed. Bryce devises a way to resolve this: he computes the physical characteristics of Carter's head into his computer, then he "prints the synaptic circuits of his mind." A computer-generated image of Carter can then be seen and programmed to do what Bryce wants.

Before the theory is tested, Carter, still unconscious, is given to the hit men for disposal (they sell him for body parts at the Nightingale Body Parts Clinic). When Bryce activates his Edison Carter, he finds that it is not Carter but an image that calls itself Max Headroom (the last image Carter saw before the accident). The image is wisecracking and a joker and only faintly resembles Carter. When Bryce finds that he cannot erase the image, he tells the hit men to dispose of the computer unit that houses it. The hit men sell it to Blank Reg, the operator of Big Time TV. Blank Reg activates Max Headroom and Max soon becomes a top Big Time TV personality. Meanwhile, Edison has regained consciousness and escapes from the body parts clinic. With Theora's help, he exposes Network 23 and its deadly Blipverts. Stories follow Edison's adventures as a reporter for Network 23 and those of his alter ego, Max Headroom. Theme: "Max Headroom," by Midge Ure and Chris Cross.

Cast: Max Frewer (Edison Carter/Max Headroom), Amanda Pays (Theora Jones), Morgan Sheppard (Blank Reg), Hilary Tindal (Dominique), Concetta Tomei (Dominique; later), Paul Spurrier (Bryce Lynch).

5190 The Max Headroom Show. (Series; Talk; Cinemax; 1985). An unusual talk show wherein guests are interviewed by a computerized image (Max Headroom) that appears on a TV screen. (Actually an actor, heavily made up in rubber makeup and enhanced by computer animation, creates the Max Headroom image).

Cast: Matt Frewer (Max Headroom).

5191 Max Liebman Presents. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1954–1956). A monthly series of lavish variety specials produced by Max Liebman. The specials (in telecast order): Satins and Spurs, Sunday in Town, Fanfare, Spotlight, Good Times, Variety, The Big Time, A Connecticut Yankee, Kaleidoscope, The Desert Song, The Chocolate Soldier, Heidi, The Great Waltz, Dearest Enemy, Babes in Toyland, Paris in the Springtime, Panorama, Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl, Marco Polo, The Music of Gershwin, The Maurice Chevalier Show and Holiday.

The series, which produced 22 specials, ran from September 12, 1954 to June 4, 1955 and from October 1, 1955 to June 9, 1956.

5192 Max Monroe: Loose Cannon. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1990). Maximilian Monroe is a detective with Precinct 57 of the L.A.P.D. Max, as he likes to be called, is rather unorthodox and likes to do things his way. He is also quite reckless when it comes to upholding the law. He feels a cop has to be as unpredictable as the felon he is pursuing in order to achieve positive results (a collar). He constantly defies authorities and has earned a reputation as a loose cannon (surprisingly his actions never get him fired or put on suspension; possibly because he always gets "the bad guy").

While Max is constantly taking the law into his own hands (he operates by what he calls "my own set of books"), his partner, Charlie Evers is his complete opposite. Charlie is a by-the-books detective who often finds working with Max not only contradicting everything he was taught, but also a good bet for losing his job. Charlie is trying to convince Max to stay within the limits of the law, but is not having much success.

Max is single and a ladies' man; Charlie is married to Loretta. Stories follow Max and Charlie as they attempt to uphold the law with totally different perspectives on how it should be done. Yello performs the theme, "Tied Up."

Cast: Shadoe Stevens (Max Monroe), Bruce A. Young (Charlie Ivers), Arnetia Walker (Loretta Ivers).

5193 Maxie's World. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1987). Maxie is a teenage girl who is not only beautiful but also rich and spoiled as well. While she does attend school (Surfside High), thinking about boys, shopping, thinking about boys, dating and thinking about boys are uppermost on her mind. Stories follow Maxie and her equally spoiled girlfriends, Simone, Ashley and Carly as they live the idealistic life that can only be found and enjoyed by cartoon characters.

Voice Cast: Loretta Jafelice (Maxie), Susan Roman (Ashley), Suzanne Coy (Simone), Tara Strong (Carly), Nadine Rabinovitch (Jeri), Yannick Bisson (Ferdie), Geoff Kahmert (Mushroom).

5194 Maximum Exposure. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 2000). Do people do idiotic things and do these people ever get the maximum exposure? They do here, as Maximum Exposure showcases the home videos of ordinary people caught doing funny and sometimes foolish things (for example, an Evel Knievel wannabe using a bicycle to jump from one rooftop to another). The commentary of the host is also meant to be funny as he says things as idiotic as the people are seen doing in the videos.

Host: Cam Brainard.

5195 Maximum Security. (Series; Drama; HBO; 1985). A gritty, realistic look at prison life as seen through the eyes of Frank Murphy, a long-term inmate (convicted of a crime of passion) at the Riverdale Correctional Facility.

Other Regulars: Robert McShane, the warden; Dr. Allison Brody, the deputy warden; Leslie, a guard; Bonnie, Frank's wife; and prisoners Benny, Papa Jack, Harry and Puck.

5196 The Maxx. (Series; Cartoon; MTV; 1995). A spoof of the superhero genre as seen through the adventures of Maxx, a homeless (purple clad) super hero who lives in a cardboard box. While Maxx may think his life has gone by unnoticed, there is Julie Winters, a social worker who cares for him and helps him when she can. While Maxx's situation is not bad enough already, he also suffers from delusions and believes he lives in a surreal world called Pangea. Here, in a fantasy sequence, Maxx is an heroic jungle king and Julie is his queen, whom he must constantly protect from evil. However, just when things are getting good for Maxx in Pangea, he shifts back to the real world and his cardboard box. Stories follow Maxx's adventures as he drifts back and forth between both worlds.

5197 Maya. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1967–1968). Terry Bowen, an American boy from Montana, arrives in Bombay, India, to join his father, great hunter Hugh Bowen. At the American Counsel, Terry learns that his father is missing and is believed to have been killed by a man-eating tiger. Believing that no animal can kill his father, Terry decides to begin his own search for him. Authorities, however, will not permit Terry to do so. While being taken into custody, Terry manages to escape. He hides in a train's boxcar and meets Raji, an Indian boy who was left alone in the world when a flood destroyed his village, and his pet elephant, Maya.

When Raji learned that Maya did not legally belong to him and was to be shipped to the desert for a lifetime of labor, he and Maya fled; and now, a fugitive, he is wanted by the police for stealing the elephant. Stories relate the adventures of two fourteen-year-old boys who join forces to help each other complete their self-imposed missions: Terry to find his missing father; Raji to return Maya to the land of her birth and freedom.

Narrator Marvin Miller opens the show: "Young Terry Bowen arrives in India from America to join his father, great white hunter Hugh Bowen. But Bowen has been lost on a tiger hunt and is presumed dead, although his body was not found. Convinced that his father is alive, Terry escapes the authorities who wanted to ship him back to America. Teaming with two other fugitives, Raji, an orphan Indian boy, and Maya, his elephant, Terry Bowen searches for his missing father through the strange cities and dangerous jungles of India."

Cast: Jay North (Terry Bowen), Sajid Khan (Raji).

5198 Maya and Miguel. (Series; Cartoon; PBS; 2004). Maya and Miguel Santos are ten-year-old Hispanic twins. They are the children of Rosa and Santiago and the simplistic series relates the twins' adventures at home and at school with stories designed to familiarize children with the Spanish culture. Paco is the family's pet bird; Theo is Miguel's best friend; Chrissie and Maggie are Maya's best friends; Abuela Elena is the twins' grandmother; Senor Felipe is the neighborhood mailman.

Voice Cast: Candi Milo (Maya Santos), Nika Futterman (Miguel Santos), Elizabeth Pena (Rosa Santos), Carlos Ponce (Santiago Santos), Carlos Alazraqui (Paco), Jerod Mixon (Theo), Elizabeth Payne (Chrissy), Lucy Liu (Maggie), Lupe Ontiveros (Abuela Elena), Erik Estrada (Senor Felipe).

5199 Maybe It's Me. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2001–2002). Molly Stage is a very pretty 15-year-old girl who keeps a daily computer diary of her life, a life that is complicated by her eccentric family — her parents, Jerry and Mary; her twin sisters, Cindy and Mindy; her brothers Rick and Grant; her grandmother (on her mother's side) Harriet; and her grandfather (on her father's side) Fred.

Molly lives in Wicketstown, Rhode Island and attends Wicketstown High School. She has a best friend (Mia) and likes a fellow classmate (Nick). Because of her wacky family, Molly never invites anybody to her house — except for Mia, "the only person who knows I still watch Mary Kate and Ashley videos." Because she is Jewish, Mia believes everybody thinks of her as "The Jewish Girl."

Molly is president of the Chess Club and as a girl was called (and still is by her mother) "Tubby" (not because she was overweight, but because she liked to take baths).

Jerry is an eye doctor (runs Dr. Stage's Optical Services) at the South Street Medical Building. He has an excessive passion for girl's soccer and coaches the Wicketstown Terminators.

Mary is a well meaning mother but insanely frugal "and has no business advising her children," says Molly (she gives ludicrous advice; for example, Mary would say to Molly, "If that boy asks you to try marijuana again you say 'No thanks, my grass is for mowing'"). Mary rings a cowbell to announce breakfast.

Grant is a hopeful Christian rock star and has a band called Behold (he plays guitar and sings). He also holds a Christian music coffee fellowship meeting at his home on Tuesday evenings. Rick is the black sheep of the family. He is a petty thief and has the street name "Renegade."

Cindy and Mindy take piano lessons "and hate everyone," says Molly (she calls them "the sweet-faced little terrors"). The twins argue about being the same and wanting to be different. But when they become different (like dressing) they become sad and want to be the same again.

Fred is Jerry's father and he is a real grouch. As Molly says, "Life stopped making sense to him in 1959 and he has been cranky ever since." Harriet, Mary's mother, is totally absent-minded and has a bad habit of hiding food around the house (like in the sofa, the washing machine).

Mia, although Jewish, pretends to be a Christian, as she has a crush on Grant. She is a cheerleader and works at her father's music store, Leiber's C.D. and Vinyl Emporium. Nick, a member of the school's wrestling team, likes Molly but looks upon her as a Marilyn Munster (from the TV series The Munsters—Marilyn was the only normal one in an abnormal family).

Cast: Reagan Dale Neis (Molly Stage), Fred Willard (Jerry Stage), Julia Sweeney (Mary Stage), Patrick Lewis (Grant Stage), Andrew Walker (Rick Stage), Daniella Canterman (Cindy Stage), Deanna Canterman (Mindy Stage), Vicki Davis (Mia Leiber), Ellen Albertini Dow (Harriet Krump), Walter Marsh (Fred Stage; pilot), Dabbs Greer (Fred Stage; series), Shaun Sipos (Nick Gibson).

5200 Maybe This Time. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1995–1996). The Coffee Dog Cafe is a small Pennsylvania eatery owned by Shirley Sullivan. Julia Wallace, her recently divorced daughter, has returned home to run the diner and raise her 12-year-old daughter, Gracie.

Julia, 35, is a paragon of beauty and virtue. Her honesty often gets her into trouble and she believes men are incapable of having an independent thought. The first spontaneous thing Julia did since the divorce was to buy a faucet for the cafe that she saw in a hardware store window.

Julia loved to skate as a kid and believes her cheating ex-husband (Frank) will never find a girl "as good as I am." She is delighted when Frank dates "bubble heads" but saddened when he finds a "brainless babe." Shirley has run the cafe for over 30 years ("Fresh and Friendly from Six till Six" is the ad the cafe runs on the obit page of the newspaper). She has been married five times and worked as a hula dancer at the Royal Hawaiian Village (in Cleveland) to put Julia through school. Shirley worries that Julia keeps herself busy with work and has no social life. She has set her goal to see that Julia finds someone.

Gracie attends P.S. 117 grammar school and receives an allowance of $5 a week. She reads Sassy and Tiger Beat magazines, loves to rollerblade and has not yet developed an interest in boys. Kay is Shirley's friend; Logan is the diner cook.

Cast: Marie Osmond (Julia Wallace), Betty White (Shirley Sullivan), Ashley Johnson (Gracie Wallace), Amy Hill (Kay O'Hara), Craig Ferguson (Logan McDonough).

5201 Mayberry, R.F.D. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1968–1971). The simple pleasures and trying times of Sam Jones, a full-time farmer and part-time city councilman in the small town of Mayberry, North Carolina. A spin-off from The Andy Griffith Show.

Mike Jones is Sam's son (Sam is a widower); Millie Swanson is Sam's romantic interest; Gooper Pyle, the gas station attendant; Bee Taylor, Sam's housekeeper (later replaced by Aunt Alice); Howard Sprague, the county clerk; Emmet Clark, the fix-it-shop owner; Martha Clark, Emmet's wife; and Ralph and Arnold, Mike's friends.

Cast: Ken Berry (Sam Jones), Buddy Foster (Mike Jones), Arlene Golonka (Millie Swanson), George Lindsey (Gooper Pyle), Frances Bavier (Bee Taylor), Alice Ghostley (Aunt Alice), Jack Dodson (Howard Sprague), Paul Hartman (Emmet Clark), Mary Lansing (Martha Clark), Richard Steele (Ralph), Sheldon Collins (Arnold).

5202 Mayor of Hollywood. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1952). Interviews with celebrities and tours of Hollywood with Walter O'Keefe as he attempts to win voters for his fictional quest to become the Mayor of Hollywood. Lou and Bill are his campaign managers; Jeanne and Lina are his campaign office secretaries. The series ran from July 29, 1952 to September 18, 1952. Homer Canfield is the producer.

Cast: Walter O'Keefe (Walter O'Keefe), Lou Crosby (Lou), Bill Baldwin (Bill), Jeanne Dyer (Jeanne), Lina Romay (Lina). Music: Irvine Orton.

5203 Mayor of the Town. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1954). Springdale is a small American town with a kindly Mayor who resides in an old-fashioned house on Elm Street with his nephew Roscoe Gardner and his housekeeper, Marilly. The Mayor enjoys sitting in his easy chair and reading the Morning Chronicle by the fireplace. He has an office on Main Street and each night before going to bed, he winds the clock, places the fire screen on the fireplace, puts the damper down and locks the front door. Each year he suffers from “post-Christmas mental hangover” (everything is dull, flat and uninteresting) that takes him the whole month of January to get over.

Roscoe, nicknamed Butch, attends Springdale Elementary School. Marilly says the mischievous Butch “can do more damage doing nothing than 20 people doing something.” When Butch is naughty, he is sent to bed early. Marilly prepares stewed chicken when guests arrive and talks endlessly about everything. The family has a pet cat (Sweet Alice) and a goldfish (Mr. Weismuller, named after Johnny Weismuller). Capitol City is the nearest metropolis (60 miles away). Stories relate the Mayor’s efforts to solve the problems that come before him — at home and at City Hall.

Based on the radio series of the same title (1941–1949) with Lionel Barrymore as the mayor.

Cast: Thomas Mitchell (Mayor), David Saber (Roscoe Gardner), Kathleen Freeman (Marilly).

5204 McAllister. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/30/88). A proposed spin-off from “Spenser: For Hire” about Thomas McAllister, a tough-minded attorney who is half Apache and all for the underdog. In the pilot episode, McAllister, who is based in Washington, D.C., travels to Boston to defend a black sailor (Victor) accused of killing a white officer’s daughter.

Cast: Steve Inwood (Thomas McAllister), Andie MacDowell (Maggie, his girlfriend). Guest Cast: Darrell Lewis (Victor Love), John Seitz (Warren Sears), James Eckhouse (Carl Westmore), Will Lyman (Commander Grant), Tom Ulrich (Judge), Susan Gibney (Molly Sears), Peter MacKenzie (Lieutenant Travis Williams).

5205 McBride. (Series; Crime Drama; Hallmark Channel; 2005). McBride calls himself “A lawyer for the little guy.” He has a heart of gold, is independently wealthy and money doesn’t matter to him; he often takes cases based on merit. McBride has been a lawyer for eight years when the series begins. He was a member of the L.A.P.D. but became disillusioned as to how easy criminals get back on the street. He quit to attend law school. That was twelve years ago. Now, as a tough but honest defense lawyer, McBride does whatever he can, within the limits of the law, to free clients of criminal charges. Roberta Hansen is a detective with the L.A.P.D. (and McBride’s former romantic interest when he was a detective; they still work well together); Phil Newberry is a former public defender that now works as McBride’s assistant; Jesse is McBride’s dog.

John Larroquette, who plays McBride, requested that his character have no first name or even an initial. But through rumors and press material, he is listed as M. McBride or Mike McBride in some sources.

Cast: John Larroquette (McBride), Marta DuBois (Sgt. Roberta Hansen), Matt Lutz (Phil Newberry).

5206 McClain’s Law. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1981–1982). When his friend, Sid Lammon is killed and the police investigation into the crime dissatisfies him, Jim McClain, a retired police detective, rejoins the force to solve the crime and do the job as he once did fifteen years ago — “by the gut.” Stories follow Jim McClain, a 52-year-old veteran cop, and his 30-year-old by-the-books partner, Harry Gates, as they solve crimes as members of the San Pedro, California Police Department.

Lieutenant Ed DeNisco is their superior; Vangie Cruise is Jim’s friend, the owner of the Tides (later called The Flatfish Café), a water-front bar; Susan Cross is Jim’s romantic interest; Marie DeNisco is Ed’s wife; Detective Jerry Cross and Grace Bannon, Jim’s neighbor. Jim wears badge number 127.

Cast: James Arness (Jim McClain), Marshall Colt (Harry Gates), George DiCenzo (Ed DeNisco), Carl Franklin (Jerry Cross), Conchata Ferrell (Vangie), Cheryl Anderson (Grace Bannon), Brooke Bundy (Marie DeNisco), Tanya Boyd (Susan Cross), Gerald S. O’Loughlin (Sid Lammon). Theme: “McClain’s Law” by James Di Pasquale.

5207 McCloud. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1970–1977). Sam McCloud is a deputy marshal from Taos, New Mexico, who is assigned to Peter B. Clifford, police chief of the Manhattan 27th Precinct in New York City, to study big city crime detection methods by participating in actual crimes. He is assigned to work with Sergeant Joe Broadhurst and stories follow McCloud as he uses his homespun ways, coupled with what he is learning, to help New York’s finest capture criminals. Chris Coughlin is Sam’s romantic interest. The series aired as a part of Four-in-One and The NBC Sunday Mystery Movie.

Cast: Dennis Weaver (Sam McCloud), J.D. Cannon (Peter B. Clifford), Terry Carter (Joe Broadhurst), Diana Muldaur (Chris Coughlin), Sharon Gless (Sgt. Maggie Clinger), Nancy Fox (Sgt. Maggie Clinger; later), Ken Lynch (Detective Grover).

5208 McCoy. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1975–1976). A man known only as McCoy is an engaging private detective who incorporates his unique skills as a con artist to solve crimes. Gideon Gibbs is his assistant; Lucy is the owner of the diner frequented by McCoy. Four episodes aired as a segment of The NBC Sunday Mystery Movie.

Cast: Tony Curtis (McCoy), Roscoe Lee Browne (Gideon Gibbs), Lucille Meredith (Lucy).

5209 McDuff, the Talking Dog. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976). Peach Blossom is a small mid-western town. It is here that Calvin Campbell, a misadventure-prone young man has a veterinary clinic. It is also here that the ghost of a sheep dog named McDuff, has chosen to appear to Calvin to help guide his life. Stories follow Calvin's efforts to cope with the situations that arise as he takes advice from a dog that only he can see and hear.

Kimmy Campbell is Calvin's sister; Amos Ferguson, his neighbor; Squeaky, Amos's nephew; and Mrs. Osgood, Calvin's housekeeper.

Cast: Walter Wilson (Dr. Calvin Campbell), Michelle Stacy (Kimmy Campbell), Gordon Jump (Amos Ferguson), Johnnie Collins III (Squeaky), Monty Margetts (Mrs. Osgood), Jack Lester (Voice of McDuff).

5210 McGarry and Me. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/5/60). Events in the day-to-day lives of Dan McGarry, a kind-hearted police officer, and his wife, Kitty. In the pilot episode, Dan attempts to teach a fellow officer the evils of gambling.

Cast: Michael O'Shea (Dan McGarry), Virginia Mayo (Kitty McGarry). Guest Cast: Les Tremayne (Captain), Richard Gaines (Officer).

5211 McGee and Me. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 1/15/94). Nicholas Martin is a 12-year-old boy who lives in the town of Eastfield with his parents (Elizabeth and David) and sisters (Sara and Jamie). He is a talented artist and one day creates McGee, a cartoon character who magically comes to life and speaks only to him. McGee's efforts to guide Nicholas's life is the focal point of the unsold series. In the first pilot film (see next title also) called "The Big Lie," Nicholas tries to impress the other kids at school by taking a dare and venturing into a spooky old house where there supposedly lives "a crazy old Indian who eats kids and pets." Nicholas's stay is short-lived and he lies about what happened only to later learn a lesson and apologize to the kindly old man (George) who lives there. Other Regulars: Louis, Nicholas's best friend; and Whatever, the family dog.

5212 McGee and Me. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 2/5/94). A sequel to the prior title about Nicholas Martin, a 12-year-old boy who creates a cartoon character named McGee that comes to life and speaks only to him. In the second attempt, "Take Me Out to the Ballgame," Nicholas becomes part of a Little League team (the Braves) and their games against the Dodgers for the regional championship is the focus of the story (McGee acts as a commentator for the home audience; the Braves lose).

Other Regulars: Elizabeth and David, Nicholas's parents; Sara and Jamie, his sisters; and Louis, his best friend.

5213 McGhee. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/28/65). Following the death of a distant relative, Willie McGhee, an impoverished artist living in the Bronx, inherits Cleveland, California, a small town populated by 209 people. The unsold series was to depict McGhee's efforts to get the town back on its feet after he discovers it is bankrupt. Other Regulars: Ann, the town manager; George, the sheriff; and Hilda, McGhee's cousin.

Cast: Jeremy Slate (Willie McGhee), Karen Steele (Ann Dorsey), George Chandler (George), Connie Sawyer (Hilda).

5214 The McGonigle. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/28/61). First Class Boatman's Mate Mac McGonigle and his friend Seaman Scuttlebutt Baines are two mischievous but well-meaning sailors stationed aboard the USS Okinawa. Their efforts to help people in trouble was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Mac and Scuttlebutt attempt to arrange a shipboard honeymoon for a fellow shipmate (Artie) and his bride (Nina).

Cast: Mickey Shaughnessy (Mac McGonigle), Tom D'Andrea (Scuttlebutt Baines), Frank Gerstle (Captain Amboy), Wally Cassell (Chief Petty Officer Commissar Jones), Paul Picerni (Seaman Bottleneck), Norman Grabowski (Seaman Hammerhead). Guest Cast: Mark Damon (Artie Dale), Diane Jergens (Nina Dale).

5215 McHale's Navy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1962–1966). The island of Taratupa in the South Pacific during World War II is the setting. Here, the Navy has established a base and has put Wallace B. Binghamton in charge. Binghamton was born in New York and was head of the Long Island Yacht Club before the war; he is somewhat inadequate at being a captain. He is assisted by Lieutenant Elroy Carpenter, who commands PT Boat 16.

Quinton McHale was born in Michigan and was the captain of a tramp steamer in the South Pacific when Admiral Reynolds commissioned him as a lieutenant and assigned him to Taratupa as the commander of Squadron 19 and PT Boat 73.

McHale and “his crew of pirates” (as Binghamton calls them) live on the far side of the island in what is called “McHale’s Island.” The crew, who wheel and deal, have turned Taratupa into “The Las Vegas of the Pacific” and have ruined what Binghamton considers a paradise. His attempts to get the goods on McHale are the focal point of the series.

McHale’s crew calls Binghamton “Old Lead Bottom,” and they have an unreported prisoner of war named Fuji Kobajji; Fuji is a Japanese soldier who went over the hill and now serves as McHale’s cook. McHale’s “pirates” are Lester Gruber, Harrison (“Tinker”) Bell, Willy Moss, Happy Haines, Virgil Edwards and Quartermaster (“Christy”) Christopher.

Last season episodes are set in Volterra, Italy where McHale, his crew and Binghamton have been transferred. New regulars are Mario Lugatto, Mama Rosa Giovanni, Lt. Gloria Winters and Colonel Harrigan. See also Broadside, the spin-off series. Axel Stordahl composed the “McHale’s Navy” theme.

5216 McKeever and the Colonel. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1962–1963). Gary McKeever is a cadet at the Westfield Military Academy for Boys. Harvey Blackwell is the school’s commander; Sergeant Barnes is his aide; and Miss Warner is the dietician. Harvey is a man who enjoys a disciplined school. Gary is a very mischievous cadet and forever causing problems that make Harvey’s life anything but peaceful. Stories follow Harvey’s endless (and seemingly fruitless) efforts to discipline Gary and his equally mischievous fellow cades (Tubby and Monk).

Cast: Scott Lane (Gary McKeever), Allyn Joslyn (Col. Harvey Blackwell), Jackie Coogan (Sergeant Barnes), Elisabeth Fraser (Miss Warner), Keith Taylor (Cadet Tubby Anderson), Johnny Eimen (Cadet Monk), Peter Hanson (Major McKeever; Gary’s father), Susan Gordon (Andrea; Harvey’s niece), Charlie Ruggles (Sgt. Barnes’ Father), Ellen Corby (Harvey’s Mother), Benny Baker (Tubby’s Father), Doris Singleton (Tubby’s Mother).

5217 McKenna. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1994–1995). McKenna Wilderness Outfitters is a ranch and guide company based in Bend, Oregon. It is run by Jack McKenna, a widower, who is assisted by his children: Brick, Cassidy, Leigh, Harry and Rose. Stories follow the McKenna’s experiences as they struggle to run the ranch and conduct a faltering tour business amid the gorgeous Oregon mountain scenery.

Cast: Chad Everett (Jack McKenna), Eric Close (Brick McKenna), Jennifer Love Hewitt (Cassidy McKenna), Vinessa Shaw (Cassidy McKenna; pilot episode), Shawn Huff (Leigh McKenna), Ashlee Lauren (Rose McKenna), Jacob Loyst (Harry McKenna), Jack Kehler (Walter Maddock), Rick Peters (Dale Goodwin).

5218 McLaren’s Riders. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 5/17/77). In an attempt to help understaffed police departments, the federal government creates the McLaren Project, a law enforcement program that helps where needed. The unsold series was to relate the exploits of its two top agents, highly trained policemen Sam Downing and T. Wood. In the pilot episode, Downing and Wood assist Sheriff Bill Willett in his investigation of a cattle rustling operation in Arizona.

Cast: George DiCenzo (Sam Downing), Ted Neeley (T. Wood). Guest Cast: Harry Morgan (Bill Willette), Brad Davis (Bobby John Britain), James Best (Lamarr Skinner), Hilary Thompson (Kate Britain), Joan Goodfellow (Wanda), Geno Silva (Pete Sunfighter).

5219 The McLean Stevenson Show. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 11/20/75). A proposed but unsold series of comedy sketches that was to spotlight the talents of McLean Stevenson in his first project after leaving the hit series *M*A*S*H*.

Host: McLean Stevenson. Guests: Mary Jo Catlett, Brion James, Philip Simms, Ken Stein, Raquel Welch, Edward Winter.

5220 The McLean Stevenson Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976–1977). Mac Ferguson is a hardware store owner in the small town of Evanston, Illinois. He is married to Peggy and is the father of Janet and Chris. Mac is a man with a big heart who finds trouble in virtually everything he does. Stories relate his efforts to cope with life at home and work. Janet is divorced and the mother of David and Jason; Muriel is Peggy’s mother.

Cast: McLean Stevenson (Mac Ferguson), Barbara Stuart (Peggy Ferguson), Ayn Ruyman (Janet), Steve Nevil (Chris Ferguson), Madge West (Muriel), David Hollander (David), Jason Whitney (Jason).

5221 McLeod’s Daughters. (Series; Drama; WE; 2005–2006). Claire McLeod and Tess Silverman McLeod are estranged sisters who are reunited after 20 years when they inherit Drovers Run, a vast cattle ranch. Now, as the owners of the ranch, Claire and Tess form a bond to work together to keep the family legacy alive. The series, which produced 170 episodes, ran in Australia from 2001–2006.

Cast: Bridie Carter (Tess Silverman McLeod), Lisa Campbell (Claire McLeod), Brooke Stacy-Clark (Charlotte McLeod), Kaitlyn Stacy-Clark (Charlotte McLeod), Tahlia Stacy-Clark (Charlotte McLeod), Aaron Jeffrey (Alex Ryan), Rachel Carpani (Jodi Fountain), Myles Pollard (Nick Ryan), Simmone Mackinnon (Stevie Hall), Michala Banas (Kate Manfredi), Jessica Napier (Becky Howard), Sonia Todd (Meg Fountain), Brett Tucker (Dave Brewer), Inge Hornstra (Sandra Kinsella), Michelle Langstone (Fiona Webb).

5222 McMasters of Sweetwater. (Pilot; Drama; Syn.; 9/2/74). A proposed series about Marion McMasters, a gentle school teacher from Boston who confronts the difficulties of frontier life when he comes to teach in Sweetwater, Arizona, a turn-of-the-century settlement town. In the pilot episode, McMasters, a widower, and his two children, Claire and Marion, Jr., arrive in Sweetwater and receive a cold reception from the townspeople (who were expecting a “schoolmarm” not a “schoolmaster”).

Cast: Jack Cassidy (Marion McMasters), Tracy Gartside (Claire McMasters), Errol Bartine III (Marion McMasters, Jr.), Alan Fudge, Gene Smith.

5223 McMillan. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1977). A short-lived (six episode) spin-off from McMillan and Wife without series co-star Susan Saint James (Sally, her character, “died” in an airplane crash). Stories follow Stewart “Mac” McMillan, the Police Commissioner of San Francisco, as he takes an active part in solving crimes. He is assisted by Lieutenant Charles Enright and Sergeant DiMaggio; Aggie Thorton is his housekeeper (replaced Mildred who is Aggie’s sister); Maggie is his secretary. Aired as a segment of The NBC Sunday Mystery Movie from December 5, 1977 to August 21, 1977.

Cast: Rock Hudson (Stewart McMillan), Martha Raye (Agatha Thorton), Charles Schuck (Lt. Charles Enright), Richard Gilliland (Sergeant DiMaggio), Gloria Stroock (Maggie), Bill Quinn (Police Chief Paulson).

5224 McMillan and Wife. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1971–1976). The home at 345 Melrose in San Francisco is the residence of Stewart McMillan, the police commissioner, and his wife, Sally, a woman who loves to play detective and help her husband solve crimes.

Stewart, nicknamed Mac (“Everybody calls me Mac”), is a former lawyer and Korean War veteran (Naval Intelligence). Mac played football in college and each year turns lawyer for his annual reserve duty with the Navy’s Legal Service Office.

Mac is an unusual police commissioner as he actually involves himself in criminal investigations. This pleases Sally, a bright woman who believes she has the makings of a private investigator. Sally works with deaf children at Century Hospital and when she has a problem, she meditates. She has an uncanny knack for finding trouble and gathers evidence for Mac “by peeking” (“It’s not nice to be sneaky”).

Mildred cooks and cleans for Mac and Sally. She considers herself a Jill of all trades for all the work she does — including helping Sally solve crimes. Mildred has a slight drinking problem and is trying to quit.

Sergeant Charles Enright is Mac’s right hand man; Maggie is his secretary; Beatrice is his eccentric mother; Emily Hull is Sally’s mother.

Cast: Rock Hudson (Stewart McMillan), Susan Saint James (Sally McMillan), Nancy Walker (Mildred), John Schuck (Sgt. Charles Enright), Gloria Stroock (Maggie), Bill Quinn (Police Chief Paulson), Mildred Natwick (Beatrice McMillan), Linda Watkins (Emily Hull).

5225 McNab’s Lab. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/22/66). He hopes to one day invent something that not only works, but what the world actually needs. He is Andrew McNab, a widowed small town druggist with two children, Ellen and Timmy, whose inventions often cause mishap for all concerned. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Summer Fun, Andrew tries to devote more time to Timmy when his Little League team makes the championships.

Cast: Cliff Arquette (Andrew McNab), Sherry Alberoni (Ellen McNab), David Bailey (Timmy McNab). Guest Cast: Paul Smith (Harvey Baxter), Elisha Cook (Coach), Jan Crawford (Steve Wilson), Gary Owens (Henry), Dee Carroll (Martha), Art Passarella (Umpire), Peter Lazer (Robert Harrison), Jonathan Hole (Nichols).

5226 McNaughton’s Daughter. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1976). Laurel McNaughton is a trial lawyer and the deputy district attorney of Los Angeles. She is the daughter of George McNaughton, the former District Attorney of Los Angeles County. Because of who she is, people expect more from her. Laurel was raised in an atmosphere of law enforcement and, like her father, has a deep passion for bringing criminals to justice. She will go beyond the office to uncover the facts she needs to prosecute a case. Stories not only relate her case investigations but aspects of her court room prosecutions. Lew Farragut is Laurel’s investigator; Charles Quintero is the D.A. and Ed Hughes is Laurel’s assistant.

Cast: Susan Clark (Laurel McNaughton), Ricardo Montalban (Charles Quintero), James Callahan (Lew Farragut), John Elerick (Ed Hughes).

5227 McShane. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 10/28, 11/3/86). A proposed spin-off from Matlock about James L. McShane, a former cop turned district attorney of Atlanta, Georgia.

McShane is overweight, has a German Shepherd named Max and has vowed to break the back of organized crime. With some changes, it was reworked as the CBS series Jake and the Fatman. In the two-part pilot episode, "The Don," McShane, the prosecutor, and Ben Matlock, the defense, clash when Ben is hired to defend Nicholas Baron, who is accused of killing a man (Donald Kovacks) who was trying to take over the Baron family empire. Other Regulars: Lieutenant Frank Daniels; and Palmer, McShane's legman.

Cast: William Conrad (James L. McShane), James McEachin (Frank Daniels), Alan Campbell (Palmer). Guest Cast: Andy Griffith (Ben Matlock), Joe Penny (Paul Baron), Sheree North (Alice Jenkins), Doran Clark (Kathy Baron), Mark LeMura (Daniel Baron), Claude Earl Jones (Bill Kovacks), Jose Ferrer (Nicholas Baron), Lucille Meredith (Judge Irene Sawyer).

5228 Me and Benjy. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/27/70). Life in a small American town as seen through the adventures of two mischievous young boys (Homer and Benjy). In the pilot episode, Homer and Benjy find two dozen baseballs (which fell off a delivery truck) and proceed to find the rightful owner. Other Regulars: Ruth and Fred, Homer's parents; Winifred, Homer's sister; Beverly and Joe, Benjy's parents; and Vivian, Benjy's sister.

Cast: Tony Frazer (Homer Baker), Audrey Dalton (Ruth Baker), John Lupton (Fred Baker), Cindy Cassell (Winifred Baker), Kevin Herron (Benjy Smith), Tracy Reed (Beverly Smith), Bernie Hamilton (Joe Smith), Kim Hamilton (Vivian Smith).

5229 Me and Ducky. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/21/79). Carol Munday and Cidra Hopnagel, better known as Ducky, are teenage girls who are also best friends. The girls attend San Francisco High School and their misadventures at home and school is the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Dawn, Babs, Toby and Rims, their friends; and Carol's mother and father (no first names given).

Cast: Linda Cook (Carol Munday), Jayne Modean (Cidra "Ducky" Hopnagel), Dawn Dunlap (Dawn Duval), Valerie Landsburg (Babs Hulet), Susan Duvall (Toby Wells), Gary Imoff (Rims), Kathleen Doyle (Carol's mother), James Karen (Carol's father).

5230 Me and Maxx. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1980). When a daughter (Maxx) is born to Elaine and Norman Davis, Norman deserts his wife and child because he feels he cannot handle the responsibility. Eleven years later, Elaine (not seen) decides that it is time to even up the score.

Believing that she is only going to stay with her father for two weeks while her mother is on vacation, Maxx Davis packs a suitcase and crosses the Brooklyn Bridge to Norman's apartment in Manhattan. Norman is surprised by Maxx's visit and shocked when the letter Elaine gave to Maxx for Norman reveals that Elaine is abandoning Maxx and it is now his turn to care for her. Norman has only seen Maxx four times in 11 years. He lives in a small, one bedroom apartment (738 at East 65th Street) and leads a swinging life-style. He must now change his ways and stories follow Maxx as she attempts to become close to a father she rarely saw and hardly knows.

Norman and his assistant, Barbara, run Empire Tickets (which supplies tickets for sporting, cultural and theatrical events). Norman believes everyone is created equal — although Maxx says he looks at women more than men.

Maxx, whose real name is Maxine, receives an allowance of five dollars a week. She attends Public School 135, and says she spells her name with two x's "because my mother says I was double-crossed." Gary is the building's elevator operator; Mitch Russell is Norman's friend.

In 1979 a similar series idea was rejected by ABC. "Maxx" is an unaired pilot about a womanizing New York bachelor named Norman (Tim Thomerson) and the complications that set in when he is suddenly made the guardian of his ten-year-old daughter, Maxx (Melissa Michaelsen), whom he deserted at birth.

Cast: Joe Santos (Norman Davis), Melissa Michaelsen (Maxx Davis), Jenny Sullivan (Barbara), Jim Weston (Mitch Russell), Denny Evans (Gary). Theme Vocal: "Is It Because of Love" by Leonore O'Malley.

5231 Me and Mrs. C. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1986–1987). Rather than spend her golden years with her son and his family, Ethel Conklin, an independent 60-year-old widow, decides to remain in her home (at 2709 Webb Street). All is progressing smoothly until she discovers that her Social Security income is not sufficient. To ease the situation, Ethel decides to take in a boarder to help with the expenses. Ethel places a newspaper ad and Gerri Kilgore, a gorgeous African American girl with a prison record responds.

Despite the fact that Gerri is an ex-con (arrested for armed robbery) Ethel feels Gerri deserves a chance and allows her to move in. Gerri works for the Martin, Barton and Fargo computer company and pays Ethel $100 a month plus expenses (she paid $62.50 a month when the series first began). Stories follow Gerri and Ethel's experiences as Ethel finds her life changed for the better due to Gerri's presence and Gerri's experiences as she learns how to get the most out of life from Ethel.

Ethan Conklin is Ethel's son, a private practice certified public accountant. He is married to Kathleen and they are the parents of young Jamie. Ethan is opposed to his mother's living arrangements and is trying to convince her to live with him and his family. Gerri is the daughter of a preacher, Reverend Kilgore. LaVonne Rucker sings the theme, "Side by Side."

In the original pilot episode (NBC, March 18, 1984), Doris Roberts played 60-year-old Ethel Connelly; Debra Malone was her boarder, Jeri Monroe; Terrence McGovern was Ethel's son, Ethan Connelly and Mary Armstrong was Ethan's wife, Kathleen. Here, Deborah Malone sang the theme, "Me and Mrs. C."

Cast: Peg Murray (Ethel Conklin), Misha McK (Gerri Kilgore), Gary Bayer (Ethan Conklin), Ellen Regan (Kathleen Conklin), Jeremy Brown (Jamie Conklin), Scoey Mitchell (Reverend Kilgore).

5232 Me and Mom. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985). Morgan, Garfield and Hunnicutt is a Los Angeles-based private detective agency located at 2936 Hampton Boulevard. Lou Garfield, Kate Morgan and Zena Hunnicutt are its operatives.

Lou Garfield is a former detective with the Homicide Division of the L.A.P.D. who, after his retirement, started the company to continue his crusade against crime. He has years of experience on the force to guide him and he operates much like he did when he was a cop — everything within the limit of the law.

Kate Morgan, the second partner, is a young criminologist, just out of school, who is eager to solve crimes that the police may not consider important enough or warrant their time to investigate. Kate has a deep desire to help people. She has always been this way and now feels that when someone needs help but can't get it from the police, they can turn to her company for that help. She is dedicated to each and every cause and will do what it takes (sometimes going against Lou's beliefs) to seek justice.

Zena Hunnicutt, Kate's glamorous mother, is the third partner, a friend of Lou's from the time her late husband and Lou were partners on the police force. Zena, like Kate, is eager to see that justice is served although her participation in cases is more of a background monitor (lookout) rather than as actively involved with criminals as Lou and Kate.

Mike Rojas is the L.A.P.D. lieutenant who often becomes involved in their cases. Stories relate the trio's efforts to solve the cases of people with no place else to turn.

Cast: Lisa Eilbacher (Kate Morgan), Holland Taylor (Zena Hunnicutt), James Earl Jones (Lou Garfield), Henry Darrow (Lt. Mike Rojas). Theme Vocal: "Me and Mom" by Amy Holland.

5233 Me and the Boys. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1994). Following the death of his wife, a hard-working father of three (Steve Tower) suddenly finds his life more complicated than he thought: how to work and care for his three sons (16-year-old Artis; 13-year-old William and 10-year-old Andrew) without the loving care of his wife? The solution: Mary, his mother-in-law, who has moved in with Steve to help him do what he cannot do alone. Stories, set in "the urban projects," follow Steve, a video store owner, (and Mary's) efforts to raise three mischievous boys.

Cast: Steve Harvey (Steve Tower), Wayne Collins, Jr. (William Tower), Benjamin LeVert (Andrew Tower), Chaz Lamar Shepherd (Artis Tower), Madge Sinclair (Mary), Wendy Raquel Robinson (Amelia).

5234 Me and the Chimp. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1972). One day, while playing in a park, Kitty and Scott Reynolds, the children of dentist Mike Reynolds and his wife, Liz, find a chimpanzee that they take home and unofficially adopt. The chimp, named Buttons by Kitty for his continual habit of pressing buttons, is actually a lab animal that escaped from an Air Force test lab in San Pascal, California.

The Reynolds family now has a new member. Liz is comfortable with the idea, but Mike feels a bit uneasy having to live with a chimp. Stories relate Mike's efforts to adjust to Buttons and the comic adventures that result as he tries to do just that.

Cast: Ted Bessell (Mike Reynolds), Anita Gillette (Liz Reynolds), Kami Cotler (Kitty Reynolds), Scott Kolden (Scott Reynolds), Jackie (Buttons).

5235 Meadowlands. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 2007). Danny and Evelyn Brogan appear to be a happily married couple. They are the parents of two teenage children (Zoe and Mark) and live in what appears to be an ideal neighborhood called Meadowlands. The only thing actually revealed about the Brogans is that they are in the Witness Protection Program and trying to begin a new life style. Except for the fact that the family is living a lie, nothing else is known — not who they really are, where they previously lived or even why they are in the program (which usually protects witness in murder cases against high profile figures). The series itself follows events in the individual lives of the family members. They apparently fear for their safety (always looking over their shoulder) and are struggling to overcome these feelings (and the suspicions of others) as they begin preparations to become part of a community that has many hidden secrets (like everyone seems to be a part of the Witness Protection Program). The series is known as Cape Wrath in England (where it is produced).

Ogilvie), Melanie Hill (Brenda Ogilvie), Nina Sosanya (Samantha Campbell), Ralph Brown (Bernard Wintersgill).

5236 Meatballs and Spaghetti. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1982–1983). Meatballs and Spaghetti is a rock group composed of its plump leader, Meatball, his slim wife, Spaghetti, Clyde, their assistant and their dog, Woofer. The group has a knack for encountering misadventure wherever they perform and stories relate that aspect of their tours.

Voice Cast: Ron Masak (Meatballs), Sally Julian (Spaghetti), Frank Welker (Woofer), Jack Angel, Wally Burr, Philip Clarke, Peter Cullen, Ronald Ganes, Barry Gordon, Bill Ratner, Ronnie Schell, Marilyn Schreffler, Hal Smith, Paul Winchell.

5237 Medallion Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953–1954). The shortened TV Guide title for Chrysler Medallion Theater. See this title for information.

5238 Medic. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1954–1956). Dramatizations that present authentic and sophisticated approaches to medical problems and practices as seen through the eyes of Dr. Konrad Styner.

Dr. Styner opens the show: “My name is Konrad Styner. I’m a doctor of medicine. Guardian of birth, helper of the sick; comforter of the aged. To the profession of medicine; to the men and women who labor in its cause, this story is dedicated.”

Host: Richard Boone (as Dr. Konrad Styner). Performers Include: Beverly Garland, Charles Bronson, Denver Pyle, Carole Welles, Peggy Webber, Whitney Blake, Russell Johnson, Lee Marvin, Vera Miles, Paul Birch, Richard Garland, Hugh Beaumont, Harry Townes, Ann Morrison, Richard Crenna, Jacqueline May, Carol Sydes, Lee J. Cobb, Cynthia Stone. Theme Song: “Blue Star” by Victor Young, Edward Heyman.

5239 Medical Center. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1969–1976). Dr. Paul Lochner is the administrative surgeon at University Medical Center in Los Angeles. Joe Gannon is a professor of surgery. Stories relate the events in their lives in an adult-oriented and technically accurate drama that depicts the problems faced by doctors in a large city hospital.

Cast: James Daly (Dr. Paul Lochner), Chad Everett (Dr. Joe Gannon), Richard Bradford (Dr. Joe Gannon; pilot), Tyne Daly (Jenny Lochner; Paul’s daughter), Jayne Meadows (Nurse Chambers), Corinne Comacho (Dr. Bartlett), Audrey Totter (Nurse Wilcox), Barbara Baldavin (Nurse Holmby), Chris Huston (Nurse Courtland), Catherine Ferrar (Nurse Higby), Virginia Hawkins (Nurse Crawford), Louise Fitch (Nurse Bascomb), Robert Walden (Dr. Corelli), Jack Garner (Dr. Bolton), Nancy Priddy (Nurse Loring), Eugene Peterson (Dr. Weller), Fred Holliday

5240 Medical Investigation. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2004). A somewhat disturbing medical drama that goes beyond the norm to graphically focus on the hypothetical situations that could arise if dangerous outbreaks of diseases should occur. The program focuses on the highly skilled professionals of the National Institutes of Health as they investigate, attempt to resolve situations and prevent a public panic.

Cast: Kelli Williams (Dr. Natalie Durant), Anna Belknap (Eva Rossi), Neal McDonough (Dr. Stephen Connor), Christopher Gorham (Dr. Miles McCabe), Troy Winbush (Frank Powell), Susanna Thompson (Dr. Kate Ewing), Clare Carey (Lisa Connor; Stephen’s wife), Chris J. Kelly (Jack Connor; Stephen’s son).

5241 Medical Story. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1975–1976). Dramatizations that stress an open, human approach to the problems of medicine as seen through the eyes of the doctor rather than the patient.

Performers Include: Linda Purl, Meredith Baxter, John Forsythe, Geraldine Brooks, Donna Mills, Christine Belford.

5242 Medicine Ball. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1995). A short-lived (seven episode) medical drama that focuses on the lives of a group of doctors at a large city hospital.

Cast: Sam McMurray (Dr. Douglas McGill), Jensen Daggett (Dr. Katie Cooper), Timothy Omundson (Dr. Patrick Yates), Harold Pruett (Dr. Harley Spencer), Donal Logue (Danny Macklin), Jeffrey D. Sams (Clate), Kai Soremekun (Nia), Darryl Fong (Max), Vincent Ventresca (Tom).

5243 Medicine Man. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1962). A proposed series about a fast-talking con man (Doc), his silent Indian partner (Junior) and his eight-year-old ward (Chris) as they roam throughout the West seeking rich prey. In the pilot episode, Doc schemes to get a pony for Chris.

Cast: Ernie Kovacs (Doc), Buster Keaton (Junior), Kevin Brodie (Chris).

5244 Medium. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2005–). Allison DuBois appears to be a typical wife and mother. She is married to Joe and they are the parents of Ariel, Bridgette and Maria. Allison is thirty-three years old and is studying to become a lawyer. She works as an intern at the D.A.’s office in Phoenix, Arizona and says her life is “like a freaky TV show” because she can sense things about other people and see and talk to dead people. “I’m supposed to be an advocate. I’m supposed to be objective. I’m supposed to be normal. But I don’t feel so normal.”

Allison, through her visions, can actually see the truth. Spirits appear to her to tell her things. She also has dreams that come true. "How does it happen," people ask. "I don't know. Who ever made me this way didn't give me an instruction book."

Stories follow Allison as she tries to help people through her visions and dreams. Joe accepts and believes in Allison. He is an aerospace engineer for Aero Dytech Labs. Ariel appears to have the same abilities as her mother but her dreams are not as frequent and her visions are seldom.

Manuel Devalos is the District Attorney of Mariposa County; and Lee Scanlon is a detective with the Phoenix Police Department who assists Allison (and knows her secret, as does Manuel). Lynn Di Novi is Lee's girlfriend.

In January of 2008, Anjelica Huston joined the cast as Cynthia Keener, an investigator for Ameri-Tips, a crime hot line that rewards people whose tips lead to the arrest of a criminal. Allison earns extra money by helping Cynthia, who is aware of Allison's abilities, solve crimes. Cynthia wanted to be a nun and took temporary vows of poverty, celibacy and obedience. It soon became evident that she had no talent for obedience. She left the nunnery and chose to become a cop (like her father). She went to college, studied criminology but when she saw an ad for Ameri-Tips, she joined them.

Cast: Patricia Arquette (Allison DuBois), Jake Weber (Joe DuBois), Sofia Vassilieva (Ariel DuBois), Maria Lark (Bridgette DuBois), Miranda Carabello (Marie DuBois), Miguel Sandoval (Manuel Devalos), David Cubitt (Lee Scanlon), Anjelica Huston (Cynthia Keener), Tina Di Joseph (Lynn Di Novi).

5245 Meego. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1997). Meego Smith Triangle Not to Scale is an alien from the planet Marmazon Four Point O. Edward Parker is a doctor and widower with three children, Alex, Trip and Maggie. He is also desperately in need of a nanny to care for the kids while he is at work. Fate intervenes in a strange way. While returning from a vacation, Meego, for short, runs into a meteor shower and his ship, the Bigga 2000 is damaged. The ship enters the earth's atmosphere and Meego is forced to land his ship—in the backyard of the Parker home. There young Alex discovers Meego and asks him to be his nanny. Alex tells Trip, but not Maggie (a blabbermouth) and his father, about Meego, who accepts Alex's offer. Meego then conceals his presence and pretends to be a nanny from the agency. Edward accepts him as an agency nanny and stories follow Meego as he struggles to repair his space ship and care for the Parker children.

Cast: Bronson Pinchot (Meego), Ed Begley, Jr. (Dr. Edward Parker), Michelle Trachtenberg (Maggie Parker), Erik von Detten (Trip Parker), Jonathan Lipnicki (Alex Parker).

5246 Meet Betty Furness. (Series; Women; CBS; 1953). Guests, interviews, fashion and other topics of interest to housewives. The series aired from January 2, 1953 to July 3, 1953.

Hostess: Betty Furness. Regulars: Don Cherry, Hank Ford, Bill Stern, David Ross.

5247 Meet Corliss Archer. (Series; Comedy; CBS; Syn.; 1951–1955). "And now we invite you to meet Corliss Archer, America's teenage sweetheart." Sixteen-year-old Corliss Archer, the daughter of Harry and Janet Archer, lives at 32 Oak Street in what appears to be a small American town.

Corliss is a pretty high school sophomore with a penchant for getting herself into trouble. She doesn't mean too but her over enthusiastic approach to every situation always causes confusion.

Dexter Franklin is Corliss's boyfriend and the man she plans to marry some day. Dexter is the innocent victim of Corliss's endless attempts to improve him (she feels he needs to be more mature). More often than not, Corliss's attempts backfire. "Golly," says Corliss, "How do I manage to mess things up?" "I'll admit it takes talent," says her father, who often resolves the problems at the end of each episode. Despite Harry's help, Dexter still feels, as he says, "lower than a midget with flat feet." Dexter wants to keep on the good side of Harry because if he and Corliss marry, "we may want to live here one day."

Harry Archer is a private practice lawyer who has been married to Janet for 18 years.

Janet, a secretary before marrying Harry, is, as Harry says, "a remarkable woman. She is not only attractive and intelligent, but she's also a wonderful housekeeper and an extremely talented cook." The series ran on CBS from 1951–1952 and in syndication from 1954–1955.

Relatives: Ken Christy (Dexter's father, Bill Franklin; 1954–55), Vera Marshe (Dexter's mother, Mary Franklin; 1954–55).

Cast: Lugene Sanders (Corliss Archer, 1951–52), Ann Baker (Corliss Archer, 1954–55), Fred Shields (Harry Archer, 1951–52), John Eldredge (Harry Archer, 1954–55), Frieda Inescort (Janet Archer, 1951), Irene Tedrow (Janet Archer, 1952), Mary Brian (Janet Archer, 1954–55), Bobby Ellis (Dexter Franklin, 1951–55). Announcer: John Heistand.

5248 Meet Corliss Archer. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/5/56). A rare color pilot for a new version of the prior title about Corliss Archer, a very pretty teenage girl with a penchant for finding trouble. Other Regulars: Harry and Janet Archer, Corliss's parents; Dexter, Corliss's boyfriend; Lenny, Corliss's brother; and Mildred, Lenny's girlfriend.

Cast: Robin Morgan (Corliss Archer), Jerome Cowan (Harry Archer), Polly Rowles (Janet Archer), John Connell (Lenny Archer), Warren Berlinger (Dexter Franklin), Marian Randall (Mildred Pringle).

Guest Cast: Howard St. John (Mr. Pringle), Florida Friebus (Mrs. Franklin), Steven Chase (Uncle George).

5249 Meet Julie. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 12/87). While experimenting with a new security device, engineer David McCallister develops a very special doll he names Julie and gives it to his daughter, Carol, as a companion. The doll, which has the ability to speak (via a computer) is magically brought to life one night by unknown forces. The doll, now possessed of magical powers, becomes Carol's guardian and protector. The proposed series was to relate their adventures. In the pilot episode, Carol and Julie attempt to protect a snow leopard from kidnappers.

Voice Cast: Nicole Lynn (Julie), Karen Burthwright (Carol), Dan Hennessey, Blaine Fariman, Peggy Mahon, Mike Meyers, Greg Morton, John Stocker.

5250 Meet McGraw. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1957–1958). A man, known only as McGraw, is a private detective who cannot stay in one place long enough to settle down. He enjoys moving from city to city to find business. He calls himself “a professional busy body” and stories relate the cases he finds by minding other people's business.

Cast: Frank Lovejoy (McGraw).

5251 Meet Me in St. Louis. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 9/2/66). Events in the lives of the Smiths, a family of six living in St. Louis, Missouri, at the turn of the century. In the pilot episode, based on the book by Sally Benson, Alonzo Smith, the father, a lawyer, upsets the family with an announcement that they will be moving to New York so he can take advantage of a business opportunity. Other Regulars: Anne, his wife; Esther, Glenn, Agnes and Tootie, their children; Katie, their maid; and John Truitt, Esther's boyfriend.

Cast: Celeste Holm (Anne Smith), Wesley Addy (Alonzo Smith), Shelley Fabares (Esther Smith), Larry Merrill (Glenn Smith), Tammy Locke (Tootie Smith), Suzanne Cupito (Agnes Smith), Michael Blodgett (John Truitt), Reta Shaw (Katie). Note: Suzanne Cupito, who played Agnes Smith, is now known as Morgan Brittany.

5252 Meet Millie. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1952–1956). Millie Bronson is a beautiful 21-year-old single girl who lives with her mother, Bertha Bronson at 137 West 41st Street (Apartment 3B) in New York City.

Millie, a graduate of Public School 98 and Central High School, works as a secretary to Johnny Boone, Jr. Johnny's father, John Boone, Sr., is the owner of the company (it is impossible to tell what kind of company Boone owns; there is no name on the door or office walls, and office conversation revolves around Millie and Johnny; printed sources describe it as both an ad agency and an investment company). Stories focus on the relationship between Millie and Johnny — a romance that Millie originally only dreamed about until one of Bertha's endless attempts to spark a romance between the two finally worked.

Bertha, called “Mama,” is a widow who is 48 years old but tells everyone she is 37; in some episodes she says she is “48 minus ten minus five.” If Mama had had the opportunity to have a second daughter, she would have named her Gwendolyn. In last season episodes, Millie and Mama spend time as ranch hands on the E.K. Weems Cattle Ranch in Texas.

“It all started the day I was born. My father said he wanted a girl and my mother said she wanted a boy. I was born and they were both disappointed,” says Alfred E. Printzmetal, Mama and Millie's “life is depressing” seemingly permanently unemployed friend (Bertha says, “Alfred's job is standing in line at the unemployment office”). Alfred can't get along with his parents, especially his father, and has a parrot named Irving. He hopes one day to build up the courage to leave home and find his own apartment. “I'll never understand women,” he says. “They're too complicated. I'll wait until there is something else to marry.”

John Boone, Sr. believes that when P.T. Barnum said, “There is a sucker born every minute,” he was referring to women. He is henpecked, calls his wife many things behind her back but is a pussycat when he is with her. Based on the radio series of the same title (in which Audrey Totter played Millie). Irving Miller composed the theme.

Announcer Bob Lemond opens the show: “Live from Television City in Hollywood, Arrid Cream Deodorant, America's largest selling deodorant, presents Meet Millie. Created by Frank Gallen. Starring Florence Halop as Mama, Marvin Kaplan as Alfred and Elena Verdugo as Millie. A gay comedy about the life and loves of a Manhattan secretary.”

Cast: Elena Verdugo (Millie Bronson), Florence Halop (Bertha Bronson), Ross Ford (Johnny Boone, Jr.), Marvin Kaplan (Alfred E. Printzmetal), Earl Ross (J.R. Boone, Sr.), Roland Winters (J.R. Boone, Sr.; later), Isabel Randolph (Mrs. Boone; J.R.'s wife), Harry Cheshire (E.K. Weems).

5253 Meet Mr. McNutley. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1953–1954). Lynn Haven is a small college town. It is here that Ray McNutley teaches drama at the all-girl Lynn Haven College. Ray is married to Peggy, a housewife who doesn't seem to mind the fact that Ray is surrounded by a bevy of beautiful girls each day (Ray, however, looks, but that is as far as it goes). Josephine Bradley is the college dean; Pete and his wife, Ruth Thompson, are Ray's neighbors. Stories relate the incidents that confront Ray and always manage to get him into trouble. See also The Ray Milland Show for information on the spin-off series.

Cast: Ray Milland (Ray McNutley), Phyllis Avery (Peggy McNutley), Gordon Jones (Pete Thompson), Jacqueline DeWit (Ruth Thompson), Minerva Urecal (Josephine Bradley). Announcer: Del Sharbutt.

5254 Meet My Folks. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2002–2003). In cycle one of the series, a single female and her parents are introduced to three single males who would love to date her. The bachelors meet her family in her home and over the course of a weekend each gets to know the other (basically through conversation and simple tasks that test compatibility). The person the parents feel is not right for their daughter is eliminated. The one bachelor who remains, the one the parents agree is the right man for their daughter, wins a special date with the girl (a week long vacation in Hawaii). Cycle two plays the game with a single male whose parents must choose which of three single women is right for their son.

Host: Matthew Parrott.

5255 Meet the Girls. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/30/60). Maybelle Perkins is a model who is known as “The Shape.” Advertising executive Lacey Sinclair is called “The Face” and Josephine Dunning, an assistant buyer for a department store, is nicknamed “The Brain.” The girls are roommates and each is searching for fame and fortune via rich husbands. The unsold series, a variation on the feature film and 1958 TV series How to Marry a Millionaire, follows the girls as they attempt to meet the right man—a millionaire.

Cast: Mamie Van Doren (Maybelle Perkins), Gale Robbins (Lacey Sinclair), Virginia Field (Josephine Dunning). Guest Cast: John Bryant (Ken Evans), Darlene Fields (Darlene), Cynthia Leighton (Cindy).

5256 Meet the Governor. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/5/55). A proposed spin-off from Screen Director's Playhouse about Clem Waters, a mid-western lawyer who possesses a dream to become governor of his state. Other Regulars: June, his wife; and Sonny, his son.

Cast: Herb Shriner (Clem Waters), Barbara Hale (June Waters), Bobby Clark (Sonny Waters). Guest Cast: Rita Lynn (Mrs. Larkin), Paul Harvey (Mr. Dirkes), Arthur Q. Bryan (Mr. Hurley).

5257 Meet the Munceys. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/22/88). Following the death of her employer, Esther Lovell-Mingott, a wealthy woman who heads an important Palm Beach philanthropic foundation, her maid Billie Muncey inherits her vast fortune and luxurious mansion. Billie invites her mother (Bernice), father (Bud) and brother (Bruce) to move in with her, and the unsold series was to relate the slightly off-center Muncey's efforts to adjust to a new lifestyle. In the pilot episode, Billie tries to continue the foundation's good work despite the objections of her elegant but snobbish neighbor, Cissie, who feels Billie is too uncouth for such responsibilities. Freddie is Cissie's son.

Cast: Nana Visitor (Billie Muncey), Peggy Pope (Bernice Muncey), Carmine Caridi (Bud Muncey), Dan Gauthier (Bruce Muncey), Joan Hotchkis (Cissie Vanderplas), Mark Neely (Freddie Vanderplas). Guest Cast: Lee Weaver (Frank Monroe), D.D. Howard (Gamble), William Glover (Edmund), Paddi Edwards (Jessie), Mary Jackson (Esther Lovell-Mingott), Vanna White (Herself).

5258 Meet Your Cover Girl. (Series; Interview; CBS; 1950–1951). Fashion model Robin Chandler hosts a daily daytime series in which fashion models discuss various aspects of their careers.

5259 Meet Your Match. (Series; Game; NBC; 1952). One pre-selected contestant chooses one person from the studio audience as his opponent. A general knowledge question-and-answer session is conducted wherein a correct answer awards a cash prize. If one player fails to answer a question correctly, he is defeated and the opponent (winner) receives whatever cash he has accumulated and the opportunity to select another player with whom to match wits. The series, which produced two episodes, aired from August 25, 1952 to September 1, 1952.

Host: Jan Murray.

5260 Meeting at Apalachin. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 1/22/60). A proposed spin-off from Desilu Playhouse for an untitled series about Ed Crosswell, a dedicated detective with the Chicago Police Department. In the pilot episode, Ed attempts to expose a gang of underworld bosses.

Cast: Frank Behrens (Sergeant Ed Crosswell), Joe Sullivan (Lieutenant Horlick). Guest Cast: Cameron Mitchell (Gino Rospond), Cara Williams (Midge Rospond), Luther Adler (Sal Raimondi), Nicholas Georgiade (Tommy), Arthur Batanides (Vince), Edith Claire (Joan), Johnny Seven (Lou Varni).

5261 The Megan Mullally Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 2006–2007). Megan Mullally, the former co-star of Will and Grace (as the rich and spoiled Karen Walker) turns her talents to daytime television as the host of a program of celebrity interviews and chatter. Bret Simmons provides the music; Lorin Nelson and Liz Stanton are the producers.

5262 Mel and Susan Together. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1978). Established country singer Mel Tillis and Susan Anton, Miss America runner-up (Miss California) and then TV spokeswoman for Muriel Cigars, co-host a four episode program that features performances by country and western entertainers. Donny and Marie Osmond appeared on the first show to launch the first non-Osmond starring series from the Osmond family's new production facilities in Utah.

Hosts: Susan Anton, Mel Tillis. Orchestra: Bob Rozario.

5263 The Mel Torme Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1951–1952). A daily daytime program of music and songs with singer Mel Torme as the host. Bob Bach is the producer.

Host: Mel Torme. Regulars: Peggy King, Ellen Martin, Kaye Ballard, Jean Louise Dustine. Music: The Red Norvo Trio, The Terry Gibbs Quintet.

5264 Melba. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1986). Melba Patterson is a divorced African American mother who works as the director of the Manhattan Visitors Center in New York City. She lives with her daughter, Tracy, at 623 Bleecker Street. Tracy attends P.S. 89 in Manhattan.

Susan Slater is Melba's "white sister," a carefree single girl who works at the Furth and Preston Ad Agency. She is looking for a husband and hoping to begin a family; she was raised by Melba's mother, Mama Rose, when she was orphaned as a young girl. Stories follow the incidents that spark the lives of Melba and Susan. Jack and Gil are Melba's co-workers; and Virginia is Melba's boss. Melba Moore sings the theme, "We're Sisters."

Cast: Melba Moore (Melba Patterson), Gracie Harrison (Susan Slater), Jamila Perry (Tracy Patterson), Barbara Meek (Mama Rose), Lou Jacobi (Jack), Evan Mirand (Gil), Ellen Tobie (Virginia Atwater).

5265 The Melba Moore–Clifton Davis Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1972). Music, songs, dances and comedy skits set against the background of a Manhattan brownstone.

Hosts: Clifton Davis, Melba Moore. Regulars: Ron Carey, Richard Libertini, Timmie Rogers, Liz Torres. Announcer: Johnny Olsen. Orchestra: Charles H. Coleman.

5266 Melba Moore's Collection of Love Songs. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1985). Singer Melba Moore hosts and narrates a weekly series that showcases the latest in contemporary music videos.

5267 Melody, Harmony, Rhythm. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949–1950). A twice-weekly series of music and songs with singer Lynne Barrett as the host. The series aired from December 13, 1949 to February 16, 1950.

Hostess: Lynne Barrett. Regulars: Carol Reed, Charles Dobson.

5268 Melody Street. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1953–1954). The actual songs of top name singers are incorporated into dramatic (sometimes comedic) mini stories by a cast who lip synch to the songs that are played off stage. Roger Gerry is the producer.

Host: Elliot Lawrence, Tony Mottola. Regulars: Roberta McDonald, Lynn Gibbs, Jo Bowen. Music: The Tony Mottola Trio.

5269 Melody Tour. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1954). A summer series that features tours of the world via the music and dance style of the chosen cities and countries. The series ran from July 8, 1954 to September 30, 1954.

Host: Stan Freeman. Regulars: Nellie Fisher, Nancy Kenyon, Norman Scott, Robert Rounseville, Jonathan Lucas, Jane Remes, Peter Gladke. Orchestra: Harry Sosnik.

5270 Melrose Place. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1992–1999). A prime time soap opera that focuses on the dreams and ambitions of a group of young adults living at Melrose Place, a housing complex in California. The series spawned a spin-off (Models, Inc.) and set the pace for a number of additional Fox (and WB and UPN) prime time soaps (including Felicity, The O.C., Savannah, Hyperion Bay, Dawson's Creek and South Beach).

Cast: Heather Locklear (Amanda Woodward), Thomas Calabro (Dr. Michael Mancini), Josie Bissett (Jane Andrews Mancini), Courtney Thorne-Smith (Allison Parker), Andrew Shue (Billy Campbell), Grant Show (Jake Hanson), Doug Savant (Matt Fielding), Jack Wagner (Dr. Peter Burns), Marcia Cross (Dr. Kimberly Mancini), Laura Leighton (Sydney Andrews), Daphne Zuniga (Jo Reynolds), Rob Estes (Kyle McBride), Kelly Rutherford (Megan Lewis Mancini), Brooke Langton (Samantha Reilly), Jamie Luner (Lexi Sterling), Lisa Rinna (Taylor McBride), David Charvet (Craig Field), Alyssa Milano (Jennifer Mancini), Patrick Muldoon (Richard Hart), Vanessa Williams (Rhonda Blair), Linden Ashby (Dr. Brett Cooper), Kristin Davis (Brooke Armstrong), John Newton (Ryan McBride), Rena Sofer (Eve Cleary), Selma Archerd (Nurse Amy), Lynn Meneses (Nurse Lynn), Mark L. Taylor (Dr. Louis Visconti), John Enos II (Bobby Parezi), Dan Gauthier (Jeff Baylor), Lonnie Schuyler (Alan Ross), Dena Lang (Nurse Dena), William R. Moses (Keith Gray), Michael Des Barres (Arthur Field), Deborah Adair (Lucy Cabot), Amy Locane (Sandy Louise Harling), Katie Wright (Chelsea Fielding), Dey Young (Dr. Irene Shulman), Wayne Tippit (Palmer Woodward), Andrew Williams (Chris Marchette), Ann-Marie Johnson (Alycia Barnett), Perry King (Hayley Armstrong).

5271 The Melting Pot. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1978). Comedian Orson Bean provides a light touch for a cooking program that features guest celebrities preparing their favorite meals. Doug Dowdle provides the music. Fred Rheinstein is the producer.

5272 Melvin Purvis: G-Man. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/9/74). The Midwest of the 1930s is the setting for an unsold series about the real life exploits of Melvin Purvis, a ruthless FBI agent (then called a G-Man) with an appetite for publicity. The pilot episode relates Melvin's relentless pursuit of the notorious mobster, George "Machine Gun" Kelly. Sam Cowley is his assistant. The pilot is syndicated as The Legend of Machine Gun Kelly.

Cast: Dale Robertson (Melvin Purvis), Steve Kanaly (Sam Cowley). Guest Cast: Harris Yulin (Machine Gun Kelly), Maggie Blye (Katherine Ryan), Dick Sargent (Thatcher Covington), Matt Clark (Charles Parlmetter), John Karlen (Anthony Redecci), Elliott Street (Thomas Longaker), David Canary (Eugene Faber), Woodrow Parfrey (Nash Covington). Note: In a TV movie sequel, The Kansas City Massacre (ABC, 9/19/75), Dale Robertson reprised his role as Melvin Purvis with John Karlen as Sam Cowley.

5273 Memories with Lawrence Welk. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1982–1983). Repeats of selected episodes of The Lawrence Welk Show that presented music, songs and dances in "Champagne Style." The series ran on ABC from 1955–1971 and in syndication from 1971–1983 (from where most of the series is derived). Bob Orrin does the announcing; see The Lawrence Welk Show for information.

5274 Memories with Music. (Live Test Program; Variety; NBC; 7/28/46). A proposed series that was to recall the music, songs and dances of the 1920s with the old time entertainers who actually performed them. Highlights were songs by Lillian Cornell and Larry Brooks; comedy with silent screen star Mae Murray; and dancing by the team of Blair and Dean.

Performers: Blair and Dean, Larry Brooks, Fairfax Burgher, Sid Cassell, Lillian Cornell, Frederic de Wilder, Dorothy Emery, Jay Gessen, Mae Murray, John Robb.

5275 The Memory Game. (Series; Game; NBC; 1971). Five women begin the competition with $50 each. Each is presented with a packet of five questions and given twenty seconds to study them. At the end of the time, the questions are taken back and the host asks one player a question. If she cannot answer it, she is permitted to pass it to any other player by calling her number (1,2,3,4, or 5). The player who correctly answers it scores five dollars; if the player fails to correctly answer it, five dollars is deducted from her total. The player who was the last to give a correct answer becomes the first player to receive the next question. The girl with the highest cash score at the end of two rounds is the winner and keeps what money she has earned.

Host: Joe Garagiola. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

5276 Men. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1989). A talkative five-episode program about incidents in the lives of four Baltimore men, friends since high school: Dr. Steven Ratajowski, a surgeon; Charlie Hazard, a criminal lawyer; Paul Armas, a reporter for the Sun; and Danny McDaniel, a police officer. Other Regulars: Margaret, Charlie's wife; and Claire, Paul's ex-wife.

Cast: Ted Wass (Steven Ratajowski), Saul Rubinek (Paul Armas), Ving Rhames (Charlie Hazard), Tom O'Brien (Danny McDaniel), Candy Ann Brown (Margaret Hazard), Betsy Brantley (Claire Armas).

5277 The Men. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1972–1973). The overall title for three rotating series: Assignment: Vienna, The Delphi Bureau and Jigsaw. See these individual titles for information.

5278 Men at Law. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1971). A spin-off from The Storefront Lawyers. The Neighborhood Legal Offices is a Century City (Los Angeles) service that offers legal help to people who are unable to afford an attorney. It is headed by David Hansen, a seasoned attorney; Deborah Sullivan and Gabriel Kay are his principal assistants. David has instilled in his team a determination to seek the facts but not go beyond the limits of the law to do so. Stories follow the team's investigations and court room defense of indigent clients. Devlin McNeil oversees operations; Kathy is Devlin's secretary.

Cast: Robert Foxworth (David Hansen), Sheila Larken (Deborah Sullivan), David Arkin (Gabriel Kay), Gerald S. O'Loughlin (Devlin McNeil), Nancy Jeris (Kathy).

5279 Men at Work. (Experimental; Music; CBS; 5/13/42). An informal program of jazz music with Henry "Red" Allen (trumpet), Bunny Briggs (singer), Eddie Condon (drummer), Woody Herman (bandleader; clarinet), Max Kaminsky (trumpet), Benny Montan (trombone), Pee-Wee Russell (piano), Zutty Singleton (drummer), and Joe Sullivan (piano).

5280 Men Behaving Badly. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1996–1997). Kevin Murphy and Jamie Coleman are not only best friends, but they are also roommates and sort of an odd couple — Jamie is not only a slacker, but a slob while Kevin, just as immature as Jamie, shows signs of attempting to improve his pathetic life (which consists of watching TV, drinking beer and eating Fudge pops). Also embroiled in their lives is Sarah Mitchell, Kevin's girlfriend, who finds trying to improve Kevin's life a very difficult task: the immoral Jamie always manages to undo her good intentions. The series, based on the British series of the same title (1992–1998), follows Kevin and Jamie as they do what they do best — nothing constructive.

Cast: Ron Eldard (Kevin Murphy), Rob Schneider (Jamie Coleman), Justine Bateman (Sarah Mitchell), Dina Spybey (Brenda Mikowski), Ken Marino (Steve), Jenica Bergere (Katie).

5281 The Men from Shiloh. (Series; Western; NBC; 1970–1971). A spin-off from The Virginian that is set in Medicine Bow, Wyoming, during the 1890s. The story of four men: Colonel Alan MacKenzie, the owner of the Shiloh Ranch; The Virginian, the mysterious foreman; and hired hands Trampas and Roy Tate, as they attempt to maintain law and order. Their adventures are presented on a rotating basis.

Cast: James Drury (The Virginian), Stewart Granger (Alan MacKenzie), Doug McClure (Trampas), Lee Majors (Roy Tate).

5282 Men in Black: The Series. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 1997–2000). Jay, Kay and Elle are the Men in Black, members of a top secret government organization that has been established to battle aliens. The agents must, at all times, keep their existences a secret from the public to avoid causing a panic (which is feared if aliens are known to exist). Stories relate the trio's efforts to battle an array of extraterrestrials who manage to find their way to Earth with only one goal: destroy it. Based on the feature film.

Voice Cast: Jennifer Lien (Elle), Jennifer Martin (Elle; later), Keith Diamond (Jay), Ed O'Ross (Kay), Gregg Berger (Kay; later).

5283 Men in Crisis. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1964). Actor Edmond O'Brien hosts and narrates films that recall the vital decisions of men whose leadership helped to shape the twentieth century.

5284 Men in Trees. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2006–2008). Marin Frist is a relationship coach. She is the author of two books — Whose Gonna Love Your Body? and If I Can Date, So Can You. Marin was also commissioned to write a third book, I'm Getting Married, So Can You.

Marin is on top of the world. Her books are best sellers. She is enjoying a good life, is engaged to be married (to Justin) and has numerous speaking engagements. Marin also believes she knows a lot about men. However, on a speaking engagement in Alaska, Marin finds she knows very little about men and relationships. It all begins when she accidentally grabs her fiancé's computer and sees a slide show of him with other women.

In the small town of Elmo, Alaska, where Marin is to give a lecture, she has a rude awakening. The population is ten men to every one woman. Marin realizes that what she has been writing are all lies (she cannot figure men out and cannot sensibly categorize them). Although frustrated, she becomes fascinated by them. She believes Elmo is the perfect place to learn about men. Stories follow Marin as she struggles to adjust to small town life, learn what men are all about and eventually write the ultimate relationship book (the series title refers to signs posted around town — “Men in Trees” [tree trimmers]).

Other Regulars: Annie, Marin's friend; Jack, the fish and wildlife environmentalist; Buzz, the pilot (owner of Buzz Airlines); Ben, the bartender at the bar-hotel (The Chieftain Pub); Patrick, the Jack of all trades; Theresa, Ben's ex-wife; and Sara, a single mother who is also a hooker.

Cast: Anne Heche (Marin Frist), Emily Bergl (Annie), Abraham Benrubi (Ben Jackson), John Amos (Buzz), James Tupper (Jack Slattery), Sarah Strange (Theresa), Derek Richardson (Patrick), Suleka Matthew (Sara), Justine Bateman (Lynn), Lauren Tom (Mai), Cynthia Stevenson (Chief Celia Bachelor), Orlando Jones (George).

5285 Men into Space. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1959–1960). Edward McCauley is an Air Force colonel with the U.S. government's space exploration program at NASA. Although quite dated by what has happened since the program aired, it is a fascinating look at the progress man has made to that time as Edward oversees the attempts to explore the final frontier. Mary is Edward's wife; Peter is their son.

Cast: William Lundigan (Col. Edward McCauley), Angie Dickinson (Mary McCauley), Joyce Taylor (Mary McCauley; replaced Angie), Charles Herbert (Peter McCauley), Corey Allen (Lt. Johnny Baker), Kem Dibbs (Capt. Harvey Sparkman), Tyler McVey (General Norgath). Theme Song: “Men Into Space” by David Rose.

5286 Men of Annapolis. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1957). Dramatizations based on incidents in the training of men attending Annapolis, the U.S. Naval Academy. The midshipmen of Annapolis perform in all stories.

Narrator: Art Gilmore.

5287 Men of the Dragon. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 3/20/74). Jan and Lisa Kimbro are an American brother and sister and karate experts who, with their Asian friend, Li-Teh, run a self-defense school in Hong Kong. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they use their unique skills to battle crime. In the pilot episode, they seek to stop a ring of modern-day slave marketers operating in Hong Kong.

Cast: Jared Martin (Jan Kimbro), Katie Saylor (Lisa Kimbro), Robert Ito (Li-Teh). Guest Cast: Joseph Wiseman (Balashv), Lee Tit War (Sato), Hsai Ho Lan (Madame Wu), Nang Sheen Chious (O-Lan), Bill Jervis (Endacott), David Chow (Tao).

5288 Men, Women and Dogs. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2001). Jeremiah, Clay, Eric and Royce are four friends who hang out at the dog park (in Los Angeles) to talk about women. These four guys, however, seem to care more about dogs than anything else — and use their dogs (or lack of them) to attract women.

Jeremiah is a chef at the Strand Restaurant and also tries to impress women with his special recipe chocolate cake. He has a dog named Wolfgang. His dream girl is one who likes food and dogs (but not necessarily in that order). Eric is a surf bum and has a dog named Betsy. He is living with his girlfriend, Michelle (who has issues about playing second fiddle to Betsy). Royce is a penny-pinching miser who likes dogs but doesn't actually have one. He carries a leash with him at the park and pretends to have a dog. Clay is a young idealist who actually loves women more than dogs but his mocked by his friends for thinking so. Stories follow the events in the lives of Jeremiah, Clay, Eric and Royce as they each go about seeking the women of their dreams.

Cast: Bill Bellamy (Jeremiah), Mike Damus (Royce), Niklaus Lange (Eric), Danny Pino (Clay), Heather Stephens (Michele).

5289 Menasha the Magnificent. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1950). Events in the life of Menasha Skulnik, the manager of a decrepit restaurant that is owned by a domineering woman (Mrs. Davis). The summer series ran from July 30, 1950 to September 11, 1950.

Cast: Menasha Skulnik (Menasha Skulnik), Jean Cleveland (Mrs. Davis), Zanah Cunningham (Mrs. Davis; later). Also: Vinton Hayworth, Danny Leane.

5290 Mercy Point. (Series; Science Fiction; UPN; 1998). A futuristic medical drama that is set in the 23rd century and follows the lives of the personnel of Mercy Point, a health care center on a colony called Jericho that caters to both humans and aliens.

Cast: Joe Morton (Dr. Grote Maxwell), Alexandra Wilson (Dr. Dru Breslauer), Maria del Mar (Dr. Hay Len Breslauer), Brian McNamara (Dr. Caleb "C.J." Juardo), Julia Pennington (Nurse ANI—Android Nursing Interface), Gay Thomas (Dr. Rema Cook), Jordan Lund (Dr. Batubg), Kristen Robek (Nurse Davies).

5291 The Merry Life of Mary Christmas. (Test Film; CBS; 7/3/45). A one time television adaptation of the radio program of the same title. Events in the life of Mary Christmas, a Hollywood gossip columnist who goes to extremes to get stories.

Cast: Mary Astor (Mary Christmas), Paul Marlon (Her husband), Frank Martin, Howard Dinsdale, Jerry Epstein.

5292 The Merv Griffin Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1962–1963). A program of music and celebrity interviews with singer Merv Griffin as the host.

Host: Merv Griffin. Assistant: Arthur Treacher. Announcer: Arthur Treacher. Orchestra: Mort Lindsey.

5293 The Merv Griffin Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1965). Singer Merv Griffin hosts a daily program of music, songs and celebrity interviews.

Announcer Arthur Treacher opens the show: "With a hi ho and a cherry oh, from the Little Theatre off Times Square, it's The Merv Griffin Show. The company tonight includes for your entertainment The Farmer's Daughter Inger Stevens, Tammy Grimes, Kathryn and Arthur Murray, Dom DeLuise, Mort Lindsey and the Orchestra and your very obedient servant Arthur Threacher. Look sharp now, here's the dear boy himself—Merrrr-vinnnn."

Host: Merv Griffin. Announcer: Arthur Treacher. Orchestra: Mort Lindsey.

5294 The Merv Griffin Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1969–1972). Music and celebrity interviews with singer Merv Griffin as the host. Walter Kempfle and Bob Shanks are the producers.

Host: Merv Griffin. Announcer: Arthur Treacher. Orchestra: Mort Lindsey.

5295 The Merv Griffin Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1972). A daily series of celebrity interviews and lively conversations with appropriate guests on topical issues with singer Merv Griffin as the host. Murray Schwartz and Bob Murphy are the producers.

Host: Merv Griffin. Featured Band Member: Jack Sheldon. Audience Regular: Mrs. Dorothy Miller. Orchestra: Mort Lindsey.

5296 Messing Prize Party. (Series; Game; CBS; 1948–1949). Bill Slater hosts and Messing Bakeries sponsors a program wherein couples, chosen from the studio audience, perform stunts in return for prizes. The series ran from December 6, 1948 to June 17, 1949.

5297 Metalocalypse. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2006). Dethlock is a world-famous heavy metal rock band (they would like to believe the most famous in the world). Nathan Explosion (vocals), William Murderface (bass), Pickles (drums) and guitarists Skwigaar Skwigelf and Toki Wartooth comprise the band. The guys may be able to sing and play instruments but away from the band they are total morons. Stories relate their misadventures as they play gigs but often leave a trail of mayhem and destruction behind. Aired on the Adult Swim segment of the Cartoon Network.

Voice Cast: Brendon Small (Nathan Explosion), Brendon Small (Pickles), Brendon Small (Skwigaar Skwigelf), Tommy Blacha (Toki Wartooth), Tommy Blacha (William Murderface). Additional Voices: Laura Silverman, Laraine Newman, Jon Schnepp, George Fisher, Victor Brandt.

5298 The M-G-M Parade. (Series; Documentary; ABC; 1955–1956). Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first television series; a behind-the-scenes look at the world of filmmaking with guests, interviews, tours of soundstages and clips from various M-G-M films (upcoming and classics).

Host: George Murphy.

5299 Miami Ink. (Series; Reality; Learning Channel; 2005). The world of tattoo artists is explored in a documentary-style presentation that not only profiles the artists but the people who opt for a tattoo and the reasons for their decisions. The program is set at a tattoo shop in Sunset Beach that is owned by Ami James (who also narrates the program).

Tattoo Artists: Ami James, Darren Brass, Chris Garver, Chris Nunez, Yojiro Harada.

5300 Miami Slice. (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2004). A rather graphic behind-the-scenes look at the world of plastic surgery that focuses on a group of Miami based doctors and the people who seek the services of such doctors to improve their physical appearance. The program is quite graphic and could be upsetting to some viewers for its depiction of surgical procedures.

Doctors: Leonard Hochstein, Ary Krau, Constantino Mendicta, Jhonnt Salomon, Howell Tiller.

5301 Miami Undercover. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1961). Over a scene of Miami Beach, Florida, we hear: "This is Miami Beach and it's quite a town. The richest ten-mile stretch of sand in the world. We have the simple things of Nature — sun and sea and sand and the tropical breezes. Anybody can go native in half an hour. My name is Jeff Thompson, I'm a personal investigator for the Hotel Association. Most people think I'm a playboy and that's the way it's supposed to be because I work without credentials in Miami Undercover." Stories follow Jeff as he goes undercover to investigate problems reported by the Miami Hotel Owners Association. Rocky, a former prizefighter, is Jeff's partner; Mike O'Malley is the Miami Police Department Lieutenant who Jeff helps (and who helps Jeff).

Cast: Lee Bowman (Jeff Thompson), Rocky Graziano (Rocky), Hugh Lawrence (Lt. Mike O'Malley). Theme Music: "Miami Undercover" by Johnny Green.

5302 Miami Vice. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1984–1989). James "Sonny" Crockett and Ricardo Tubbs are detectives with the vice squad division of the Miami Metro Dade County Police Department, also called the Miami, Florida, Police Department. Sonny is divorced from Caroline and the father of Billy. Sonny lives away from the pressures of society on a boat he calls The Saint Vidas Dance. Sonny is "a drug dealer this week, an outlaw biker the next. I'm trying to get by on four hours of sleep a day. I go undercover for weeks at a time. It's disastrous on a marriage, hell on the nervous system." Sonny still loves Caroline but when it comes to being a cop it's strictly business.

Sonny is a former football player for the University of Miami, the Gators. Although he had a promising career, "I traded the whole thing in for two years in Nam." After the war he became a cop. He started in plainclothes and worked his way up to vice. He gets a high from the action but suffers from a gambling and drinking problem. He prefers to do things his way and has been suspended for misconduct. Once on a case he doesn't request backup and he won't submit progress reports. He fears leaks in the department could compromise his cases.

Sonny lives on his boat with Elvis, an alligator who was the former mascot of the Gators football team. Elvis was benched for taking a bite out of a player and now works as Sonny's watchdog and dope sniffer. Elvis shows his teeth when strangers appear and ticks — he ate a clock. Elvis is also high; he devoured a bag of LSD when searching a Key West bus for drugs. To protect his identity around the marina where his boat is docked, Sonny is known as Sonny Brunette.

Ricardo was born in the Bronx, New York, and was a detective with the Armed Robbery Division of the N.Y.P.D., Bronx Division. Another episode claims he was an undercover narcotics detective with the N.Y.P.D. When his brother, Raphael, is killed by a drug kingpin in Brooklyn, Ricardo tracks the killer to Miami and meets Sonny, who is seeking the same man. They solve the case and Ricardo accepts an offer to work with Sonny in vice.

When Ricardo visits Sonny on the boat he is known as Ricardo Cooper to protect his identity. Ricardo, called Rico by Sonny, says his name stands for "tough, unique, bad, bold and sassy." Ricardo is single and lives in an apartment on Linden Avenue. He is not as aggressive as Sonny and prefers to take a less gung ho approach when it comes to questioning or chasing suspects.

Sonny and Ricardo work with detectives Gina Calabrese, Larry Zito and Trudy Joplin. Lieutenant Lou Rodriguez is their first superior; he is replaced by Lieutenant Martin Castillo. Last season episodes find Sonny marrying Caitlin Davies. Jan Hammer composed the theme.

Cast: Don Johnson (Sonny Crockett), Philip Michael Thomas (Ricardo Tubbs), Belinda J. Montgomery (Caroline Crockett), Clayton Barclay Jones (Billy Crockett), Saundra Santiago (Gina Calabrese), John Diehl (Larry Zito), Gregory Sierra (Lt. Lou Rodriguez), Edward James Olmos (Lt. Martin Castillo), Sheena Easton (Caitlin Davies), Olivia Brown (Det. Trudy Joplin), Michael Talbott (Det. Stanley Switek), Martin Ferrero (Noogie Lamont; Switek's snitch), John Hernandez (Izzy Moreno; Noogie's partner), Ellen Greene (Darlene; Stanley's girlfriend).

5303 Michael Hayes. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1997–1998). Michael Hayes is a former officer with the N.Y.P.D. turned prosecutor for the U.S. Attorney's Office. When his superior is injured in a bombing, Michael is promoted to the post of Acting U.S. Attorney for the southern district of New York. Michael is an Irish Catholic. He believes in the letter of the law and will not be compromised; if a person is guilty, he will stop at nothing to get the conviction (no matter who he has to expose to pursue justice).

Michael lives with Caitlin, the wife of his troubled brother, Danny (who is struggling to find his place in society following his release from prison) and his nephew, Danny, Jr., who needs all the guidance he can get to avoid following in his father's footsteps.

Cast: David Caruso (Michael Hayes), Mary B. Ward (Caitlin Hayes), David Cubitt (Danny Hayes, Sr.), Jimmy Galeota (Daniel Hayes, Jr.), Ruben Santiago-Hudson (Eddie Diaz), Peter Outerbridge (John Manning), Hillary Danner (Jenny Nevins), Philip Baker Hall (William Vaughn), Rebecca Rigg (Lindsay Straus).

5304 Michael Nesmith in Television Parts. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1985). A seven-episode program that presents comedy and music videos produced by ex-Monkee Michael Nesmith.

Host: Michael Nesmith. Regulars: Billy Beck, Richard Brunelle, Tina Caspary, Michael Castellano, Randy Doney, Nancy Gregory, John Hobbs, Alan McRae, Dani Minnick, Donna Rupert, Jeff Scott, Nick Shields, Linda Stayer, Kevin Thompson, The Whispers.

5305 The Michael Richards Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2000). Vic Nardo is a private investigator for the McKay Detective Agency in Los Angeles. He is a graduate of the U.S.A. Detective School and he considers his ability to penetrate any situation, to be chameleon, his greatest asset — “Just ask the judges at the Mr. Universe Contest,” he says.

Vic shops at Frugal Simpleton “where simple people shop” and carries Lady Be Brave pepper spray for protection in his inside jacket pocket. Vic uses aliases (his favorite is Roland) and he was the technical consultant for the TV detective series The Eliminator.

Vic is also a bit of a klutz and stories follow his fumbling attempts to solve crimes for his no-nonsense boss, Brady McKay (his bad back often bothers him and he attributes it to an old football injury — “Someone threw a football at me”). When he gets upset, Brady buys a six-pack of beer, goes home and drinks it — “It saved my wife's life several times.” Brady also has a TV segment, “On Your Case,” for the series Extra, where he exposes criminals.

Jack LaMoine is the elderly detective who first met Brady while they were doing security for the Rolling Stones. Jack is also famous for saving 20 people in a Mexican train wreck. Stacy is the office secretary; and Kevin is the eager-to-learn young detective employed by Brady.

Cast: Michael Richards (Vic Nardo), William Devane (Brady McKay), Bill Cobbs (Jack LaMoine), Amy Farrington (Stacy Devers), Tim Meadows (Kevin Blakeley).

5306 Michael Shayne. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1960–1961). Michael Shayne is a private detective with an office at 483 Adams Street in the city of Miami, Florida. Mike, as he is sometimes called, often complains that his mail occasionally gets rerouted to Miami Beach by mistake. He never sees a client before ten in the morning. Mike enjoys his work despite what some people say — “Mike is practical and realistic and will never get rich at what he is doing.” He is relaxed and easygoing and tries not to fly off the handle. He will avoid violence if possible, offers a cigarette to clients and suspects to relax them, and manages to sneak in a kiss when the client is a gorgeous female. Mike gathers the evidence, sorts through the clues and uses every dirty trick in the book to get the truth from both clients and suspects. He uses Brazer's Chemical Lab to do his analysis, and he is a member of the Private Investigators of America.

Angel is the affectionate name Mike uses for Lucy Hamilton, his ever faithful secretary and sometimes “legman.” Lucy, who can type 90 words a minute, never lets a client get away.

Tim Rourke is Mike's friend, a reporter-photographer for the Miami Tribune; Will Gentry is the homicide police chief based in the Municipal Justice Building who Mike says is “one of the most cooperative police officers I've ever worked with.” Leith Stevens composed “The Theme from Michael Shayne.”

Cast: Richard Denning (Michael Shayne), Patricia Donahue (Lucy Hamilton), Margie Regan (Lucy Hamilton; later), Jerry Paris (Tim Rourke), Herbert Rudley (Will Gentry).

5307 Michael Shayne, Detective. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/28/58). The pilot film for Michael Shayne (NBC, 1960–61) about a two-fisted private detective named Michael Shayne. In the pilot episode, Shayne is hired by Ann Conway to discover who murdered her husband just before he was to inherit a great deal of money. Aired as “Man on a Raft” on Decision (Michael Shayne, Detective was the proposed series title at the time). Other Regulars: Lucy Hamilton, Shayne's secretary; and Tim Rourke, Shayne's reporter friend.

Cast: Mark Stevens (Michael Shayne), Merry Anders (Lucy Hamilton), Robert Brubaker (Tim Rourke). Guest Cast: Diane Brewster (Ann Con- way), William Kendis (Ed Shelton), Mary Adams (Sara Redford).

5308 The Michele Lee Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/5/74). Michele Burton is a pretty newsstand clerk at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills. She has little excitement in her life but finds great pleasure in helping others. The unsold series was to relate her mishaps as her good intentions backfire. The pilot episode depicts her misadventures as she attempts to impress a young intern (Steven) by preparing him a home-cooked dinner despite the fact that she can't cook. Other Regulars: Mr. Zelensky, Michele's neighbor; and Gladys, her friend.

Cast: Michele Lee (Michele Burton), Herbie Faye (Mr. Zelensky), Joyce Bulifant (Gladys Gooch). Guest Cast: Stephen Collins (Dr. Steven Mayhill), Sidney Clute (Customer).

5309 Mick and Frankie. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 7/30/89). A proposed series about Mick and Frankie Loomis, brothers who are also modern-day bounty hunters. The brothers are somewhat easy-going and misadventure-prone and flashbacks are used to show them as children when they encounter situations that remind them of childhood incidents.

Cast: Ed Marinaro (Mick Loomis), Robert Firth (Frankie Loomis), Max Mattino (Young Mick), Phillip Glasser (Young Frankie). Guest Cast: Elizabeth Keifer (Diane), Robert Forster (Feinstein), David Wohl (Danny), Susan Vash (Teddy Hann), George Kee Cheung (Lieutenant Kee), Guy Stockwell (George), Perry Anzilotti (Joey), Howie Gold (Phil).

5310 Mickey. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1964–1965). Mickey O'Grady is retired businessman who purchases the Newport Arms, a hotel in Newport Beach, California, as a means of proving additional income for his family (his wife Nora, and their children, Timmy and Buddy). Unfortunately, for Mickey, the hotel is fraught with problems and stories follow Mickey's efforts to run the hotel. Sammy Ling is the hotel manager; Mr. Swidler is the owner of the nearby gas station.

Cast: Mickey Rooney (Mickey Grady), Emmaline Henry (Nora Grady), Timmy Rooney (Timmy Grady), Brian Nash (Buddy Grady), Sammee Tong (Sammy Ling), Alan Reed (Mr. Swidler).

5311 Mickey and Nora. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/26/87). Mickey Travis is a former CIA agent turned New York lawyer. He is married to Nora, the manager of a toy store, and the unsold series was to relate the problems that befall the newlyweds when Mickey's past comes back to haunt him (everyone still thinks he is a CIA agent). Other Regulars: Vivian, Nora's sister; Adele, Mickey's secretary; and Rip, Mickey's former CIA boss.

Cast: Ted Wass (Mickey Travis), Barbara Truetelaar (Nora Travis), Nancy Lenehan (Vivian), Florence Stanley (Adele), George Furth (Rip). Guest Cast: Jesse Lawrence Ferguson (The Colonel), Miriam Flynn (Betty), Cleavant Derricks (Dr. Marvin Flowers). Theme Vocal: "Back in the Main Stream" by Cheryl Wheeler.

5312 Mickey and the Contessa. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/12/63). When Mickey Brennan, a former all-star football player, retires and acquires a job as the basketball coach of a small college, he hires, sight unseen, a housekeeper for his two children (Sissy and Mike). Several days later, Czigoina, a beautiful but impoverished Hungarian contessa appears and presents herself as his new housekeeper. The unsold series was to depict Czigoina's efforts to run the Brennan household. Other Regulars: Arney, the team manager; and Butch, the team's star player.

Cast: Mickey Shaughnessy (Mickey Brennan), Eva Gabor (Contessa Czigoina), Ann Marshall (Sissy Brennan), Bill St. John (Mike Brennan), John Fielder (Arney Tanner), Michael Green (Butch Gorkey).

5313 Mickey Daytona. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1992). A proposed series about Mickey Daytona, a sophisticated East Coast private detective, recently relocated to Southern California, as he strives to solve baffling crimes.

Cast: Ray Sharkey (Mickey Daytona).

5314 The Mickey Mouse Club. (Series; Children; ABC; 1955–1959). For an hour (later half an hour) each weekday afternoon, children of all ages were entertained by a group of talented children (called "Mouseketeers") who were members of the Mickey Mouse Club. There were no rules and there were no fees; the only requirement was to have fun — to sit back, "put on your Mouseke-ears" and join the Mouseketeers in songs, dances and sketches.

"Who's the leader of the club that's made for you and me" meant the start of the show and fun with club leader Mickey Mouse and his friends. While Mickey Mouse appeared in animated form to introduce each episode, it was Jimmie Dodd and co-host Roy Williams who actually conducted the club. The stage was the official Mouse Club House and the Mouseketeers were introduced in many ways via song.

The sight of Mickey, seated at a piano meant it was Monday and "Fun with Music Day." Tuesday found Mickey in a tuxedo and preparing for "Guest Star Day." A flying carpet, carrying Mickey in a sorcerer's suit, meant Wednesday's "Anything Can Happen Day." Thursday's "Circus Day" found Mickey dressed as a ringmaster. And "Talent Round Up Day" was the Friday show, with Mickey outfitted in cowboy duds.

"Time to twist our Mouseke-dial to the right and left with a great big smile; this is the way we get to see a mouse cartoon for you and me. Meeska, Mooseka, Mouseketeer, Mouse Cartoon Time is now here” (a door to the Mickey Mouse Treasure Mine would then open and a Disney cartoon would be seen).

“From the far corners of the Earth; from across the Seven Seas, the stories of today for the leaders of tomorrow” signaled the beginning of “The Mickey Mouse Club Newsreel” (reported by Hal Gibney). “Fun with a Camera” was a segment with photographer Earl Kyser teaching the Mouseketeers aspects of photography.

A daily serial was also a part of the program. For information on the major serials that were presented, see the following titles: Annette, Corky and White Shadow, The Hardy Boys and the Mystery of the A-plegate Treasure, The Hardy Boys and the Mystery of Ghost Farm, Spin and Marty, The Further Adventures of Spin and Marty and The New Adventures of Spin and Marty.

Other segments included the animated Jiminy Cricket in safety segments for children, and “Sooty and His Friend Harry Corbett” (Harry is the straight man for his non-speaking hand puppet, Sooty, who plays songs on his electric organ).

Jimmie Dodd, who played the Mouseguitar (especially made by the Mattel Toy Company), concluded each show with a Words of Wisdom segment. (For example, Jimmie, holding a rubber band, would say, “You know, Mouseketeers, this rubber band is a lot like truth. You can twist it but it will always come back the way it was. It is strong, but you can stretch it. The more you stretch it, the thinner it gets. Finally you can’t stretch it any further and it’s so thin you can’t hold it — and that’s the time it’s going to snap back. And when it does, you’re the one that’s been hurt. The truth is just the same as it was. You haven’t changed it; but by twisting and stretching it, you’ve hurt yourself.”)

“Now it’s time to say goodbye to all our company. M-I-C (see you real soon), K-E-Y (why? Because we like you). M-O-U-S-Eeeee.” See also the following title and The New Mickey Mouse Club.

5315 The Mickey Mouse Club. (Series; Children; Disney; 1989). An updated version of The Mickey Mouse Club and The New Mickey Mouse Club. Like the prior series, the program presents a group of talented children (the Mouseketeers) who entertain via songs and dances. The program also presented a group of serialized comedies and dramas (“The Daily Serial”):

1. Match Point. Follows a group of young people as they train at a tennis camp run by Holly and Casey Turner. Cast: Diana Baines (Holly Turner), Danny Sullivan (Casey Turner), Kristin D’Atrilo (Bonnie Stafford), Renee O’Connor (Robin), Brian Krause (Barton Cummings), Marisol Cassidy (Theresa Gonzales).

2. Teen Angel. A teenager (Dennis) suddenly finds his life more complicated than it already is when authorities from above feels he needs guiding and assign Buzz Gunderson, a fledging guardian angel to watch over him. Cast: Jason Priestley (Buzz Gunderson), Adam Biesk (Dennis Mullen), Renee O’Connor (Nancy Nichols), Sasha Jenson (Jason).

3. The Secret of Lost Creek. A sister and brother (Jeannie and Robert), spending the summer at a camp in Lost Creek (in the Sierras) search for a buried treasure when they stumble across a series of mysterious clues. Cast: Shannen Doherty (Jeannie Fogel), Scott Bremner (Robert Fogel), Jody Montana (Travis Hathaway), Florence H. French (Ade-laide Murchison), Ruth Hale (Augusta Murchison), Dabbs Greer (Henry Fogel).

4. Teen Angel Returns. A sequel to Teen Angel that follows fledging guardian angel Buzz Gunderson as he returns to earth to help Cindy Boone, the teenage daughter of a friend (Rodney) when he was alive. Cast: Jason Priestley (Buzz Gunderson), Robin Elaine Lively (Cindy Boone), Randy Oglesby (Randy Boone), Jennie Garth (Karrie Donato).

5. My Life As a Babysitter. Follows high school seniors Nick and Mitch as they compete for the affections of a girl (Jennifer). Cast: Jim Calvert (Nick Crane), Sean Patrick Flanery (Mitch Buckley), Michele Abrams (Jennifer Edwards), Kelli Williams (Kelly), Lara Lyon (Michelle).

6. Just Perfect. A perfectionist teenager (Trent) finds his life turned upside down when he has to care for Barney, his grandmother’s mischievous St. Bernard for three weeks. Cast: Christopher Barnes (Trent Beckerman), Jennie Garth (Crystal), Sean Patrick Flanery (Diane), Judith Jones (Shelley), Francesca Jarvis (Grandmother).

7. Secret Bodyguard. Comedy about Brittany Belmont, a teenage girl with a seriously overprotective father, who is only allowed to attend high school under the watchful eye of Ernie, a teenage martial arts expert he hired to protect her. Cast: Ernie Reyes, Jr. (Ernie), Heather Campbell (Brittany Belmont), Stephen Burton (Rick), Johnny Moran (Kevin).

8. Emerald Cove. See title for information (aired as serial here then as a series on its own).

Mouseketeers: Christina Aguilera, Keri Russell, Britney Spears, Justin Timberlake, Josh Ackerman, Rhona Bennett, Nita Booth, Mylin Brooks, Brandy Brown, Marc Worden, Mowava Pryor, Kevin Osgood, Matt Morris, Fred Newman, Braden Danner, Tasha Danner, Nikki De Loach, T.J. 5316 The Mickey Mouse Clubhouse. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2006). A daily computer animated program that is set at the Mickey Mouse Clubhouse. Here the antics of Mickey Mouse, his girlfriend, Minnie Mouse, and their friends Donald Duck, Goofy and Daisy Duck are depicted as they go about their daily lives.

Voice Cast: Wayne Allwine (Mickey Mouse), Russi Taylor (Minnie Mouse), Tony Aneslmo (Donald Duck), Bill Farmer (Goofy), Tress MacNeille (Daisy Duck).

5317 The Mickey Rooney Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1954–1955). The alternate title for Hey, Mulligan. See this title for information.

5318 Mickey Rooney's Small World. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1975). Eight children, aged four to eight and who vary from program to program, discuss various matters with celebrity guests.

Host: Mickey Rooney.

5319 Mickey Spillane's Margin for Murder. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 10/15/81). The first of three pilot films for the 1984 series Mike Hammer (see also Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer: More than Murder and Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer: Murder Me, Murder You). The story, set in New York City, tells the story of Mike Hammer, a former cop turned tough private detective. In the pilot episode, Mike attempts to prove that the supposed accidental death of a close friend was actually murder (which involves him with mobsters and political intrigue). Velda is Mike's secretary; Captain Pat Chambers is the homicide detective. Based on the character created by Mickey Spillane.

Cast: Kevin Dobson (Mike Hammer), Cindy Pickett (Velda), Charles Hallahan (Pat Chambers). Guest Cast: Donna Dixon (Daisy), Asher Brauner (Jerry Adams), John Considine (Lou Krone), Aarika Wells (Lindsay Brooks), Charles Picerni (Glover).

5321 Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer: More Than Murder. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 1/26/83). The third pilot film for the 1984 series Mike Hammer (see also Mickey Spillane's Margin for Murder and Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer: Murder Me, Murder You). Mike Hammer, a tough private detective working out of New York City, attempts to clear his wife, Captain Pat Chambers of the N.Y.P.D. Homicide Division of a false murder charge. Velda is Mike's secretary; Ozzie the answer is Mike's information man; Lawrence Barrington is the Assistant D.A.

5322 Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer: Murder Me, Murder You. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/9/83). The second pilot film for the 1984 series Mike Hammer (see also Mickey Spillane's Margin for Murder and Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer: More Than Murder). Mike Hammer, the hard-boiled New York City-based private detective, attempts to find Michele Jameson, the 19-year-old daughter he never knew he had; a girl who is somehow involved in several murders and a missing briefcase containing $2 million. Velda is Mike's secretary; Pat Chambers is the homicide captain with the N.Y.P.D.; Lawrence Barrington is the Assistant D.A.; Marty is the owner of Marty's Bar.

Cast: Stacy Keach (Mike Hammer), Tanya Roberts (Velda), Don Stroud (Pat Chambers), Kent Williams (Lawrence Barrington). Guest Cast: Lee Meredith (Marty), Lisa Blount (Michele Jameson), Tom Atkins (Jack Vance), Delta Burke (Paula Corey), Michelle Phillips (Chris Jameson), Jonathan Banks (Saracen), Bert Rosario (Dorado), Randi Brooks (Arla), Eddie Egan (Hennessy).

5323 Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer: Murder Takes All. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS;

5/21/89). A TV movie pilot that reunites the original cast of Mike Hammer in a story that takes Mike Hammer, the tough New York private detective, to Las Vegas to solve a baffling murder. Velda is Mike's secretary; Pat Chambers is the homicide detective.

5324 Mickie Finn's. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1966). The Mickie Finn Nightclub, "America's number one speakeasy," in San Diego, California, is the setting for a program of music, song and dance from yesteryear — from the Gay 1890s to the 1960s. Wife and husband singer-musicians Mickie and Fred Finn host the series that ran from April 21, 1966 to September 1, 1966. Bob Finkel is the producer.

Hosts: Mickie Finn, Fred Finn. Regulars: The Mickie Finn Waitresses, Spider Marillo, Bobby Jensen, Story Gormely, Owen Leinhard, Don Van Paulta. Music: The Mickie Finn Band.

5325 Microcops. (Pilot; Science Fiction; CBS; 6/20/89). While pursuing a cosmic criminal named Cloyd, two intergalactic law enforcers from the planet Ich (Nardo and Bidra) land on Earth and discover they are microscopic as compared to humans. In order to function, they befriend a human (Morgan) and enter his body. Through Morgan's eyes, they are able to function here. The unsold series was to relate Nardo and Bidra's efforts to apprehend Cloyd and stop him from destroying the universe. In the pilot episode, Nardo and Bidra help Morgan create an organism that eats petroleum when Cloyd causes a massive oil spill. Produced in 1988 as Meganauts.

5326 Midas Valley. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 6/27/85). California's Silicon Valley is the setting for the serial-like story of the Hammonds, a wealthy family (head of the Lantern Computer Company), and the romances, intrigues and corporate espionage associated with their high tech business worlds.

Regulars: Drew Hammond, the head of the family; Molly, his wife; Lillian and Franklin, their children; Sara, Franklin's fiancé; Josh, the computer genius; George, Drew's business rival; and Mitzi, the Japanese industrialist.

Cast: Robert Stack (Drew Hammond), Jean Simmons (Molly Hammond), Shanna Reed (Lillian Hammond), Joseph Hacker (Franklin Hammond), Linda Purl (Sara Corey), James Read (Josh Landau), George Grizzard (George Carew), France Nuyen (Mitzi Koamoto). Guest Cast: Catherine Mary Stewart (Betsy), Richard Kuss (Max Landau), Brett Cullen (Brad Turner), Stephen Elliott (Elias Markof), Philip R. Allen (Eric Gregory), Scott Paulin (Seth), Kathryn Witt (Donna).

5327 Midnight Caller. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1988–1991). Jack Killian is a police inspector who accidentally shoots and kills his partner while pursuing a felon. Jack is exonerated but quits the force. Devon King owns a radio station and is seeking a host for a late night call-in show to help people who are worried about street crime. She hires Jack, and stories relate his experiences as he strives to solve crimes that result from listeners' calls.

Jack hosts Midnight Caller (12:00 midnight to 3:00 A.M.) on KCJM (93.3 FM) in San Francisco (located at 9009 Howard Street, thirty-eighth floor). Jack, who calls himself "The Nighthawk," lives at 928 Fargo Street (Apartment 3C). Carmen's Bar is his favorite watering hole.

Devon lives at 3546 North Weatherly. At the beginning of the 1990–91 season (9/28) Devon is seen pregnant. Stockbroker Richard Clark was revealed to be the father in the episode of 10/19/90. It had been rumored that Jack was "the lucky father" by Jack's nemesis, Becca Nicholson, a gossip columnist for the San Francisco Dispatch. The following week (10/26) Devon and Richard marry. Before moving to Tahiti, Devon sells the radio station to Foster Castleman of Aradella, Inc. Nicky Molloy, Foster's "talent lady" (who programs radio stations) is given the responsibility of running KCJM. She previously worked for KSPN (as a tape loader), KLTX (promo copy writer) and KSCO (general manager). When Devon has her baby (at Saint Francis Memorial Hospital), she and Richard name him Jack.

Other Regulars: Deacon Bridges is a reporter for the San Francisco Dispatch; Carl Zymak is a lieutenant with the Homicide Division of the S.F.P.D.; and Billy Po is Jack's engineer.

Relatives: Peter Boyle (Jack's father, J.J. Killian), Terri Garber (Jack's sister, Katie), Scott Valentine (Jack's brother, Frankie Killian), Bonnie Bartlett (Devon's mother, Hilary King), Richard Bradford (Devon's father, Mel King).

Flashbacks: Chad Harden (Jack as a boy), Thomas Drayden (Devon's father, Mel, as a young man). Theme: "Midnight Caller" by Brad Fiedel.

Cast: Gary Cole (Jack Killian), Wendy Kilbourne (Devon King), Lisa Eilbacher (Nicky Molloy), Christopher Lawford (Richard Clark), Eugenie Ross-Leming (Becca Nicholson), Don Meredith (Foster Castleman), Mykelti Williamson (Deacon Bridges), Arthur Taxier (Carl Zymak), Dennis Dun (Billy Po).

5328 Midnight Mystery. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 6/5/57). An unsold series of mystery anthologies for NBC. In the pilot episode, "Rain in the Morning," a terrified housewife (Jane Wilson) attempts to escape from a lunatic (Larry) who traps her in her home. Broadcast as a segment of Matinee Theater.

Cast: Peggy McCay (Jane Wilson), Robert Morse (Larry), Theodore Newton (Mr. Wallace), Robert Karnes (Frank Wilson), Will J. White (Attendant), Barbara Drew (Bess Carlson), Tom Greenway (Harper).
Host: John Conte. Announcer: Paul Davis.

5329 Midnight Patrol. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1990). Potsworth is a dog owned by Carter. Keiko, Rosie and Nick are their best friends. Each night, when the five are asleep, they each meet in a magical land called the Dream Zone. Here Potsworth can speak and the five have formed a group called the Midnight Patrol. Not all is peaceful here though. Each evening, the Nightmare Prince awakens to begin a quest to ruin dreams. Stories follow the Midnight Patrol as they attempt to foil the prankish Nightmare Prince.

Voice Cast: Clive Revill (Potsworth), George Lemoire (Carter), Janice Kawaye (Keiko), Elisabeth Harnois (Rosie), Whit Hertford (Nick), Rob Paulsen (Nightmare Prince).

5330 The Midnight Special. (Series; Music; NBC; 1973–1981). Performances by rock, pop, soul and country and western entertainers. Syndicated in September of 1982 as an edited series called The Best of the Midnight Special.

Hostess: Helen Reddy. Regular: Carol Wayne. Announcer: Wolfman Jack, Mike Carruthers.

5331 Midwestern Hayride. (Series; Variety; Syn; ABC; 1947–1967). Performances by country and western artists. The long-running series played in syndication from 1947 to 1967 and on ABC from June 29, 1957 to September 22, 1958.

Hosts: Paul Dixon, Dean Richards, Willie Thall, Bill Thall. Regulars: Bonnie Lou, Phyllis Brown, Helen Scott, Billy Scott, Paul Arnold, Mary Jane Johnson, Clay Eager, Phyllis Holmes, Bill Holmes, Freddy Langdon, Tommy Watson, Zeeke Turner, Wally Praetor, Martha Hendricks, Barney Sefton, Jim Philpot, Ernie Lee, Judy Perkins, Kenny Roberts, Bob Shredi, The Pleasant Valley Boys, The Country Briar Hoppers, The Hometownners, The Kentucky Boys, The Midwesterners, The Lucky Pennies, The Trail Blazers, The Girls of the Golden West, The Brown Ferry Four. Announcer: Hal Woodard. Music: The Pleasant Valley Rangers.

5332 Mighty Ducks. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1996–1997). The Mighty Ducks are a half human, half duck team of intergalactic hockey players who, in their spare time, battle the evil Dragaunus. During one of their battles to save the Earth from Dragaunus, the Mighty Ducks become stranded on the planet. Unable (for the present) to return to their own planet (Puckworld), they establish a base in an abandoned hockey rink. The rink is later restored and the Mighty Ducks do what they do best — play hockey. But when the need arises, they use their hockey power to battle crime and eventually defeat Dragaunus and his nasty henchmen.

Voice Cast: Tim Curry (Lord Dragaunus), Jim Cummings (Commander Xenon), Townsend Coleman (Canard), Ian Ziering (Wildwing), Steve Mackall (Nosedive), Jennifer Hale (Mallory McMallard), Brad Garrett (Grin), Rob Paulsen (Dr. Swindle), April Winchell (Tanya), Dennis Franz (Captain Klegghorn).

5333 The Mighty Hercules. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1960). Hercules, the legendary hero of mythology, struggles to protect the Learirn Valley from the evils of the villainous wizard Deadalus. Helena is the beautiful maiden; Newton, half human, half horse, and Tweet assist Hercules in his quest.

Voice Cast: Jerry Bascombe (Hercules), Helene Nickerson (Helena), Jimmy Tapp (Newton), Jimmy Tapp (Tweet), Jimmy Tapp (Deadalus). Theme Vocal: "The Mighty Hercules" by Johnny Nash.

5334 Mighty Max. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1993–1994). On a distant planet intellectual fowls (Lemurians) have developed the ability to travel from planet to planet through the use of portals. One dissident, Skull Master, sought the secret of the portals but was refused its knowledge. Enraged, he destroyed the Lemurians — or he thought he did. Virgil, the lone survivor, managed to escape with a magical red cap — a cap that, when its preordained wearer can be found, will endow him with the power to stop Skull Master (who, with his Legion of Warriors, is seeking to take over the Earth).

On Earth Virgil finds Max, a boy who, according to ancient prophecy, is the Chosen One. He is bestowed with a mission and responsibilities that he really does not want but must accept. While Max now holds the power to activate the planet portals, he is also a target of Skull Master, who not only wants to conquer Earth, but gain control of the red cap (which will give him ultimate control). In addition to Virgil, Max is assisted by Norman, his Viking guardian, and stories follow the trio as they attempt to vanquish Skull Master and save the planet.

5335 The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1993–1998). Zordan is an inter-dimensional being caught in a time warp. Rita Repulsa is an alien, intergalactic sorceress who has set her goal on conquering the Earth. To protect the Earth (as well as the rest of the universe from Rita), Zordan forms an elite team of soldiers to stop her. He chooses Jason, Trini, Zack, Kimberly and Bill, teenagers who attend the Cultural High School in a city called Angel Grove (the Angel Grove Gym and Juice Bar is their hangout).

The teens are magically transported to Zordan's headquarters, the Power Station, and told about Rita and why they are needed. Each of the teens is an expert in the martial arts and each is given a special gift to enable them to fight Rita and the monstrous creatures she sends to destroy the Earth.

Jason receives the Power Sword; Kimberly, the Power Bow; Trini, the Power Dagger; Billy, the Power Lance; and Zack, the Power Axe. Each of these weapons can be combined to form a super power weapon. They are next given extraordinary powers drawn from the earth — the Power of Dinosaurs.

Jason, bold and powerful, controls the Tyrannosaurus Rex; Zack, clever and brave, controls the Mastodon; Kimberly, graceful and smart, controls the Pterodactyl; Billy, ancient and wise, controls the Triceratops; and Trini, fearless and agile, controls the Saber Tooth Tiger. Each is then given a magic belt that contains a sphere shaped object called a Morphin. If they encounter trouble, they can raise their Morphins to the sky and say the name of their dinosaur. This transforms them into the Power Rangers. As Power Rangers they will have access to a universe of power to unleash fighting machines called Zords. Just as the five of them work together, so do their Zords (which use the Power of the Dinosaurs to form gigantic Mega Zords. The dinosaurs are mechanical — miniatures and computer animated — and each ranger controls his dinosaur from the inside).

Each of the Power Rangers is given a costume that completely hides their identity. The concealing costumes also serve another purpose: to allow producers to use the original Japanese version fight scenes in the American adaptation (voice dubbing is easily achieved but fight scenes that take place in Japan do not match well with newly shot footage for the American version. Not only do skyscraper building styles not match, but the Japanese writing that appears on buildings in one scene, disappears in another. The buildings that surround the Angel Grove Park [where most fight scenes take place] also differ when footage from both countries is edited together).

Unlike most successful series that continue with the same characters and plots, The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers changed character and story ideas frequently. The first change occurs in the episode of 11/8/94 (“The Power Transfer”). Here Jason Leigh, Trini Quan and Zack Taylor are chosen to represent Angel Grove in the World Peace Summit in Switzerland (the summit is a group of teens from around the world who become ambassadors to help save the world). Kimberly also leaves. She always feared hurting herself and quit to pursue her dream of becoming a world class gymnast.

Zordan, who lives in a glass-enclosed chamber, chooses new rangers to replace them: Rocky, Katherine, Aisha and Adam. Also assisting them is Tommy. Zordan equips them with new powers called Dragon Zords. Rocky powers the Dragon Thunder Zord; Aisha, the Griffin Thunder Zord; Adam, the Lion Thunder Zord; Billy, the Unicorn Thunder Zord; and Katherine, the Firebird Thunder Zord. These Zords combine to form the Thunder Mega Zord (which they use to battle monsters sent by Rita).

When Rita fails to complete her mission and destroy the Power Rangers, she is replaced by her emperor, Lord Zedd. Although Lord Zedd did exactly what Rita did — create monsters to destroy Angel Grove, he complicated matters by reversing time and giving us another set of Power Rangers — the Young Power Rangers — the above rangers who were turned into preteen children but fought as Power Rangers: young Katherine (Julia Jordan), young Adam (Matthew Sakimoto), young Aisha (Sicilly), young Rocky (Michael J. O’Lasky II), and young Tommy (Michael R. Gotto).

To help the Young Power Rangers, Zordan enlisted the help of the Alien Rangers of Aquitar: Delephine (Rajia Baroudi), Auria (David Bacon), Cesta (Karim Prince), Tidens (Jim Gray) and Corcos (Alan Palmer). The Young Power Rangers became adult again when Zordan found the Zeo Crystal and reversed time. This also brought about a new version called Power Rangers Zeo (1996). Here, Lord Zedd destroys Zordan’s base of operations, leaving the Power Rangers without a leader. While sifting through the wreckage of Command Center, the powerless rangers find the Zeo Crystal, which restores not only their powers, but Zordan, Alpha 5 (his robot aide) and Command Center. The Zeo is the next step in the Power Rangers’ fight against evil.

Next, Aisha is replaced by Power Ranger Tanya (Nakia Burrise) and Billy steps down as a ranger to help Alpha because the Zeo Crystal can only power five rangers. The teens are given new powers called Zeo Zords. Katherine and Tanya, Zeo Zords One and Two, control fire power; Rocky and Adam, Zeo Zords Three and Four, control the driving force of the sphinx and Taurus the Bull; and Tommy, Zeo Zord Five, controls flight, the power of the Phoenix. When combined, they control the awesome Zeo Zord.

Each of the Power Rangers also had a colorful costume: Jason (red), Trini (yellow), Zack (black), Kimberly (pink), Billy (blue), Adam (green), Rocky (blue), Tommy (green, then white, then red), Aisha (yellow), Katherine (pink), Tanya (yellow).

When it is realized that Lord Zedd has also failed to destroy the Power Rangers, he is replaced by Mondo, the Machine King, his wife, Queen Machina, and their robot son, Prince Sprocket — all attempting to conquer the Earth as it is the last planet they need to control the universe. These characters, from the Japanese version, are not credited.

Cast (1993–1994): Austin St. James (Jason), Thuy Trang (Trini), Walter Jones (Zack), Amy Jo Johnson (Kimberly), David Yost (Billy), David Fielding (Zordan), Soga Machiko (Rita Repulsa).

Cast (1994–1998): Austin St. James (Jason Leigh), Thuy Trang (Trini Quan), Walter Jones (Zack Taylor), Steve Cardenas (Rocky), Catherine Sullivan (Katherine), Karon Ashley (Aisha), John Bush (Adam), Robert Axelrod (Lord Zedd).

5336 The Mighty Mouse Playhouse. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1955–1967). Mighty Mouse is a courageous and daring defender of the weak and oppressed (“Here I come to save the day” is his cry when he sets out to help someone). In the episode, “The Johnstown Flood,” Mighty Mouse is depicted as an ordinary mouse who invents a potion called Atomic Energy that, when taken, endows him with extraordinary powers. Pearl Pureheart is the girl always in distress and in need of rescuing. Oil Can Harry, is the evil cat who sought to defeat Mighty Mouse. Other segments were Gandy Goose and Heckle and Jeckle.

Voice Cast: Tom Morrison (Mighty Mouse/Oil Can Harry/Narrator), Carol Lawrence (Pearl Pureheart), Anthony Kay (Gandy Goose).

5337 Mighty Mouse: The New Adventures. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1987–1988). An updated version of the prior title. Before becoming the heroic Mighty Mouse, Mike Mouse worked as an employee in a factory owned by Pearl Pureheart. He is friends with an orphan named Scrappy Mouse and they live in a city terrorized by hungry cats. The legend of Mighty Mouse has been changed (see the prior title for the original concept). Here Mike Mouse is determined to do something. He enters a supermarket, eats some Super Soup, Super Soap and Super Celery. He then dives into a wedge of Super Cheese. The combination of elements endows him with super powers and changes him into the city’s new hero, Mighty Mouse. Now, with super strength and ability to fly, he uses his abilities to protect his city from such fiends as The Cow, The Glove and Petey Pate.

Voice Cast: Patrick Pinney (Mighty Mouse), Dana Hill (Scrappy), Maggie Roswell (Pearl Pureheart), Neil Ross, Lisa Raggio, Alan Oppenheimer, Mona Marshall, Tami Holbrook, Candy Candido, Jeannie Elias.

5338 Mighty O. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/21/62). A proposed series about Joe Slattery and Barney Blaney, misadventure-prone chief petty officers assigned to the Coast guard cargo vessel Ortega, affectionately nicknamed “Mighty O.” Other Regulars: Chief Muldoon; and Mary, Barney’s girlfriend.

Cast: Craig Stevens (Joe Slattery), Alan Hale, Jr. (Barney Blaney), Richard Jaeckel (Chief Muldoon), Lola Albright (Mary). Guest Cast: Jane Easton (Girl), Jack Prine (Man).

5339 The Mighty Orbots. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1984–1985). Earth in the 23rd century is the setting. Here scientist Rob Simmons has created an army of robots (Tur, Bort, Beau, Crunch and Ono) for the Galactic Patrol, the Earth-based futuristic police force. Focal point of the program is their battle against Shadow, a sinister planet of evil whose leader, Umbra, seeks to control the universe.

Voices: Sherry Alberoni, Julie Bennett. Jennifer Darling, Barry Gordon, Jim MacGeorge, Bill Martin, Don Messick, Robert Ridgely. Narrator: Gary Owens.

5340 Mike and Buff. (Series; Interview; CBS; 1951–1953). Newsman Mike Wallace and his wife Buff Cobb host a program of celebrity interviews that ran from August 20, 1951 to February 27, 1953.

5341 Mike and Maty. (Series; Talk; Disney; 1994). Mike Burger, a former cruise ship entertainer, and Maty Monfort, a hostess on the Spanish network Univision, are teamed to present a daily talk show that, because of its similarity to Live with Regis and Kathie Lee was canceled after one season. (Maty and Mike interviewed celebrities with Mike as the comedy relief and Maty as the voice of reason.)

5342 Mike and the Mermaid. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 1/5/68). While fishing in a river, a young boy (Mike) discovers a legendary creature of the sea — a beautiful mermaid. The proposed series was to depict Mike’s adventures when he befriends and attempts to keep the mermaid’s existence a secret. Other Regulars: Mike’s parents, Nellie and Jim.

Cast: Jeri Lynne Fraser (Mermaid), Kevin Brodie (Mike Malone), Rachel Ames (Nellie Malone), Med Flory (Jim Malone).

5343 The Mike Douglas Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966–1981). Singer Mike Douglas hosts a daily series of music, songs and celebrity interviews. Jack Reilly is the producer.

Host: Mike Douglas. Announcer: Jay Stewart. Music: Ellie Frankel, Joe Harnell, Frank Hunter, Joe Massimino.

5344 Mike Hammer. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1958). Mike Hammer is a two-fisted private detective working out of New York City. He has an eye for the ladies (friends tell him, “Watch out, Mike, your fangs are showing”). If there is a “doll” or “dish” in trouble, Mike will go out of his way to help her, even waive his fee if necessary. Mike uses force (his fists) to get results and considers roughing up a suspect his social call. Mike takes the law into his own hands and dishes out his own brand of justice — and gets away with it.

Mike has an office, Room 812, in Manhattan and lives in a hotel on West 47th Street. For research Mike uses the newspaper morgues of the real Daily News at 220 East 42nd Street and the mythical Chronicle. Mike’s traditional secretary, Velda, is not present in this series, which presents Mike as a loner out to battle injustice and make a buck. The only other regular is his friend, Pat Chambers, a captain with the Homicide Division of the N.Y.P.D.’s 19th Precinct. Brian Keith was originally scheduled to play the role of Mike Hammer but was dropped by the producers when they felt he was not right for the role. The series is based on the character created by Mickey Spillane and is also known as Mickey Spillane’s Mike Hammer.

Cast: Darren McGavin (Mike Hammer), Bart Burns (Capt. Pat Chambers). Narrator: Darren McGavin. Theme Song: “Riff Blues” by Dave Kahn, Melvyn Lenard.

5345 Mike Hammer. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1984–1985). Hard-boiled New York City–based private detective Mike Hammer was once a cop — “But I knew all the rules, that’s why I’m not a cop now.” Mike is the owner of the Mike Hammer Agency at 304 West 16th Street in Manhattan. He has an eye for the ladies and is quite ruthless when it comes to criminals. Mike resides at 4100 Tenth Avenue. He drives a blue 1966 Ford Mustang and carries a gun he calls Betsy. As a kid Mike had a dog named Ike (they were called “Mike and Ike”). Mike’s hangout is Marty’s Bar. Velda is Mike’s secretary (as originally written by creator Mickey Spillane, Velda was a brunette with a gift of gab and the ability to handle a gun. For television, her hair color didn’t matter; being well endowed did). Pat Chambers is the Homicide Detective with the N.Y.P.D.; Lawrence Barrington is the Manhattan District Attorney; Ozzie the Answer is Mike’s information man; Duck Ho Cho, called “Ducky,” is the owner of the grocery store where Mike shops; Jenny is the bartender at Marty’s; Mochie is the pimp; and the series gimmick is a character called “The Face,” a beautiful but mysterious girl who is seen briefly in each episode. In the final episode, Mike uncovered her to be a writer named Laura who wrote “Nick Steele” mystery novels under the pen name Frederick Flynn. She tailed Mike to get story material. Prior to the last episode (when her full name was revealed), the girl playing the role had only been identified as “D.D.” See also Mike Hammer (1958) The New Mike Hammer, Mike Hammer, Private Eye, Mike Hammer: Come Die with Me, Mickey Spillane’s Margin for Murder, Mickey Spillane’s Mike Hammer: More Than Murder and Mickey Spillane’s Mike Hammer: Murder Me, Murder You, The Return of Mike Hammer and Mickey Spillane’s Mike Hammer: Murder Takes All. The series ran from January 26, 1984 to January 12, 1985.

Cast: Stacy Keach (Mike Hammer), Lindsay Bloom (Velda), Don Stroud (Pat Chambers), Kent Williams (Lawrence Barrington), Danny Goldman (Ozzie the Answer), James Hong (Duck Ho Cho), Lee Benton (Jenny), Ben Powers (Mochie), Donna Denton (The Face). Narrator: Stacy Keach. Narrator (Last Two Episodes): Rich Little. Theme Song: “Harlem Nocturne” by Earle Hagen.

5346 Mike Hammer: Come Die with Me. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 12/6/94). The name plate on his office door reads “Mike Hammer, Private Eye.” The locale, however, is not New York City, Mike’s traditional home base, but Miami Beach, Florida. Mike has also gone through some changes — he’s 20 years younger and 30 years wiser. Velda, his ultra-sexy secretary, has also relocated to Florida to be with him and Captain Pat Chambers of the N.Y.P.D. is now Detective Sergeant Patricia “Pat” Chambers of the Miami P.D. In the pilot episode, Mike helps a pretty girl (Trinity) find her missing father who disappeared 14 years ago.

Cast: Rob Estes (Mike Hammer), Pamela Anderson (Velda), Darlanne Fluegel (Pat Chambers). Guest Cast: Randi Ingerman (Trinity Sinclair), James Hong (Nathan), Geoff Mead (Schlitz), Chuck McCann (Track manager), Dr. Joyce Brothers (Judge), Bert Remsen (Ticket seller).

5347 Mike Hammer, Private Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1997–1998). A revised version of The New Mike Hammer that presents a tougher, more aggressive private detective named Mike Hammer. Mike is a tough ex-cop who quit the force because the rules prevented him from taking matters in his own hands to get the job done. He is tough on criminals (a beating is his social call), has an eye for the ladies and a non-holds barred approach to fighting crime — do what it takes. Stories follow Mike’s case investigations. Velda is Mike buxom secretary; Lawrence Barrington (formally an Assistant D.A. in the prior series) is now the Deputy Mayor of New York; and The Face is a mysterious character who trails Mike for story information for her mystery novels.

Cast: Stacy Keach (Mike Hammer), Shannon Whirry (Velda), Kent Williams (Lawrence Barrington), Rebecca Chaney (The Face).

5348 The Mike O'Malley Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1999). Mike O'Malley is a thirty-year-old EMS technician who lives in a small house in New Haven, Connecticut, with his slacker friend Weasel. Mike is not all that ambitious either. He loves hockey and if there is a way to get away with working he will find it. Life changes for Mike when his friend, the womanizing Jimmy decides to marry (Marcia). Mike suddenly realizes that his life has gone nowhere. He impulsively decides to make a change. He begins by rekindling his relationship with his ex-girlfriend (Shawna) but low ratings ended the series after two episodes and never really changed Mike's situation.

Cast: Mike O'Malley (Himself), Mark Rosenthal (Weasel), Will Arnett (Jimmy), Missy Yager (Shawna), Kate Walsh (Marcia), Kerry O'Malley (Kerry).

5349 A Milestone in Television. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 5/15/40). A variety outing that celebrated a TV milestone for NBC: the elapse of one year of regular programming. Following a speech by then NBC vice president Alfred H. Morton, variety acts were presented: ballet dancing from Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin; a fashion revue hosted by Hildegard; songs from Avis Andrews, Anna Mary Dickey and Leonard Warren; dances by the Berry Brothers and the Three Peters Sisters; a dramatic skit ("House of Glass") with Gertrude Berg; and a Walt Disney cartoon, "The Ugly Duckling."

Host: Ray Perkins.

5350 Milestones of the Century. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1960). An insert series that features newsreel film footage (from Pathe films) that covers one event for each day of the year (thus 365 episodes were produced).

Narrator: Ed Herlihy.

5351 The Milky Way. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 10/20/39). A television adaptation of the 1934 stage play, The Cheese Champ, about a scrawny milk delivery man (Burleigh Sullivan) who is turned into a boxer against his will. The story follows Burleigh as he is trained (by Speed) and how he wins the title in a one punch affair (he kayos the champ by beating him senseless). The Milky Way is the first program to use rear projection (filming scenes especially for the live program that were used to heighten the fight scene).

Cast: Fred Stewart (Burleigh Sullivan), James Corner (Speed), June Blossom (Mae Sullivan), Alexander Cross (Gabby), Claudia Morgan (Anne Westley), Ross Hertz (Spider).

5352 Millennium. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 1996–1998). Frank Black is a former FBI agent who now works as a profiler for the Millennium Group, a Seattle-based organization that incorporates the abilities of former law enforcement officers to battle the crime that is growing as the new millennium approaches. The group believes the current (1996) and the approaching (2000) crime wave may be the result of an evil that is related to prophecy. The rather violent series follows Frank as he investigates unsettling crimes that may be only the start of something he can't even imagine for the future.

Catherine is Frank's wife; Jordan is their daughter; Andy McClaren is the unit's assistant director; Peter Watts, Emma Hollis, Bob Bletcher and Lara Means are investigators.

Cast: Lance Henrickson (Frank Black), Megan Gallagher (Catherine Black), Britany Tiplady (Jordan Black), Terry O'Quinn (Peter Watts), Klea Scott (Emma Hollis), Stephen E. Miller (Andy McClaren), Bill Smitrovich (Bob Bletcher), Kristen Cloke (Lara Means).

5353 The Millionaire. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1955–1960). A man, seated behind a desk, speaks: "My name is Michael Anthony. For many years, I was executive secretary to the late multibillionaire, John Beresford Tipton. He was one of the very few men who ever earned, by the use of his phenomenal brain, a fortune that ran into the billions of dollars. Among my duties was the unique job of delivering one million dollars which Mr. Tipton frequently gave away tax free, to a total stranger."

Of the 2.5 billion people populating the world in 1955, only 19 were worth $500 million or more. One such man was John Beresford Tipton (never fully seen). Mr. Tipton lived a life of treasured seclusion and conducted his business activities from Silverstone, his 60,000 acre estate. Here, he indulged in many hobbies, the most unusual of which began when his doctor told him that he must find a means of relaxation.

Mr. Tipton, seated in his study, is toying with one of his ivory chess figures, when he sends for his executive secretary, Michael Anthony. "You sent for me, sir?" "You know, Mike," Tipton says, "these chessmen were the first luxury I ever allowed myself ... I decided to make my hobby a chess game with human beings ... I'm going to choose a number of people for my chessmen and give them each a million dollars. The bank will issue the check.... No one is to ever know that I'm the donor. I want a complete report on what happens to each person's life in writing."

After Mr. Tipton's death, the will instructed Michael Anthony to reveal the files of people, selected by a means known only to Mr. Tipton, who were mysteriously presented with a tax free cashier's check for one million dollars. Via flashback sequences, John Beresford Tipton's intrusion on fate is revealed as stories disclose how the money helped or hindered lives.

John Beresford Tipton issued 188 checks for one million dollars (drawn on the Gotham City Trust and Savings Bank). His unique hobby was related to the subject of human nature. "Every subject in his vast store of knowledge was close analysis and was always related to the behavior and destiny of man." Each check recipient must sign a document agreeing never to reveal the exact nature of the gift or its amount. Spouses can be told, but telling anyone else results in a forfeiture of any remaining monies. The series' catchphrases were: (Mike) "You sent for me, sir," and (Tipton, handing Mike a check) "Mike, our next millionaire." The series is also known as If You Had a Million.

Cast: Marvin Miller (Michael Anthony), Paul Frees (John Beresford Tipton), Roy Gordon (Andrew V. McMahon; bank vice president). Announcer: Ed Herlihy.

5354 The Millionaire. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 12/19/78). An unsold attempt to revise the 1955–60 series of the same title about Michael Anthony, a man who delivers tax free checks for one million dollars to unsuspecting people on behalf of his employer, the mysterious billionaire John Beresford Tipton (who is never seen). The pilot, like the series, shows how the money helps or hinders lives.

Cast: Robert Quarry (Michael Anthony). Guest Cast: Pamela Toll (Kate Matthews), Martin Balsam (Arthur Haines), Patricia Crowley (Maggie Haines), Edward Albert (Paul Matthews), William Demarest (Oscar Pugh), John Ireland (Wayburn), Jane Wyatt (Mrs. Matthews), Ralph Bellamy (George Matthews), Bill Hudson (Eddie Reardon), Mark Hudson (Mike Reardon), Brett Hudson (Harold Reardon).

5355 The Milton Berle Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1953–1955). A program of music, song and slapstick comedy with comedian Milton Berle as the host. The series ran from September 29, 1953 to June 14, 1955. Milton Berle and Ford Henry are the producers.

Host: Milton Berle. Regulars: Arnold Stang, Connie Russell, Ruth Gilbert, Nancy Walker, Fred Clark, Charlie Applegate, The Herb Rose Dancers. Announcer: Jack Lescoulie. Orchestra: Allen Roth.

5356 The Milton Berle Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955–1956). Music and comedy that varies according to the talents of its assistant guest hosts. The series aired September 27, 1955 to June 5, 1956. Milton Berle and Irving Gray are the producers.

Host: Milton Berle. Orchestra: Victor Young.

5357 The Milton Berle Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1966–1967). Music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Milton Berle in his fourth TV series (see also The Milton Berle Show, 1953 and 1955 and The Texaco Star Theater). The series ran from September 9, 1966 to January 6, 1967. Nick Vanoff and William O. Harbach are the producers.

Host: Milton Berle. Regulars: Bobby Rydell, Donna Loren, Irving Benson, The Berle Girls, The Louis DaPrun Dancers. Announcer: Dick Tufeld. Orchestra: Mitchell Ayres.

5358 The Milton the Monster Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1965–1966). The overall title for five animated series.

1. Milton the Monster. Horrible Hill in Transylvania is the setting for the antics of Milton, a lovable Frankenstein-type of monster.

2. Fearless Fly. Hiram is a mild-mannered insect who becomes Fearless Fly, a daring crusader for justice.

3. Flukey Luke. The story of a cowboy who doubles as a private detective.

4. Muggy Doo. The antics of a fast-talking con artist.

5. Penny Penguin. The adventures of a very mischievous child.

Voice Cast: Bob McFadden (Milton the Monster), Dayton Allen (Professor Weirdo), Dayton Allen (Fearless Fly), Beverly Arnold (Florrie), Dayton Allen (Flukey Luke), Larry Best (Two Feathers), Larry Best (Muggy Doo), Beverly Arnold (Penny Penguin).

5359 Mimi. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/29/64). The Garden of Eden is an exclusive California health spa owned by Mr. Peavey. His staff comprises people who have a knack for fouling things up and the unsold series was to focus on two of his staff: Mimi, a kind-hearted dietician, and Phil, her friend, the therapist. The pilot episode relates Mimi's efforts to undo the damage she causes when she annoys a customer, the famous ballet master M. Quibideaux.

Cast: Mimi Hines (Mimi), Phil Ford (Phil), Dan Tobin (Mr. Peavey). Guest Cast: Thomas Gomez (M. Quibideaux), Lee Patrick (Miss Birch), Lili Garner (Giselle), Lloyd Kino (Council), Roger Ertlenne (Grisha).

5360 Mimi and Me. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 9/7/91). The setting is Los Angeles. A free-spirited girl named Mimi Molloy is shopping for clothes when a dying man (shot by crooks) hands her a box and tells her not to let his pursuers get it. Mimi runs but is spotted by the killers. While trying to escape, she bumps into Howard Raney, an upright orthodontist student, who tries to help her but soon finds himself being pursued. With the help of Howard's uncle, private detective Al Marr, they solve the mystery of the box (containing German relics needed for a fascist uprising), capture the killers and decide to remain a team. The unsold series was to relate Mimi and Howard's adventures as detectives. Other Regulars: Amy, Howard's girlfriend; and Rula, Mimi's friend, the owner of a sidewalk boutique.

Cast: Terry Farrell (Mimi Molloy), Howard

McGillin (Howard Raney), Bellina Logan (Rula), Kari Lizer (Amy), Ken Mars (Al Marr). Guest Cast: Basil Hoffman (Peter Block), Jack McGee (Professor Stanley Sour), Patricia Smith (Howard's mother).

5361 Mind Control with Derren Brown. (Series; Reality; Sci Fi; 2007). Derren Brown bills himself as a mentalist (he claims he can make you do something without realizing you are doing it). That concept is put to the test as Derren is set loose on an unsuspecting public to prove what he claims. In the first episode, as an example, Derren enters a Manhattan jewelry store, purchases an expensive ring — and pays for it with blank white pieces of paper the merchant believes is real money (the ring is later returned); or Derren approaching people on the street and asking for directions but in actuality (by using mind control) he mentally asks them to hand over their wallets, rings, watches etc., which they gladly do without realizing it.

A trick? A gag? Is he fake? Derren may not really be able to control minds but it appears he can manipulate them.

5362 Mindreaders. (Series; Game; NBC; 1979–1980). Two teams of four players, men vs. women, compete. A question calling for a yes or no answer is read to one team. One member of that team (turns rotate) has to predict how each of his teammates answered the question. Each correct prediction score the team $50. The opposing team competes in the same manner. The first team to score $300 is the winner.

Host: Mark Goodson, Bill Todman. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

5363 Mindy Carson Sings. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). Music and songs with singer Mindy Carson as the host.

Hostess: Mindy Carson. Regulars: Danny Horton, Florian ZaBach. Announcer: Don Pardo. Orchestra: Earl Sheldon, Norman Cloutier.

5364 Minerva Mink. (Pilot; Cartoon; WB; 4/24/94). The most beautiful, the most desirable animal in the forest is Minerva Mink (a combination of Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield). Despite her fabulous looks, she is lonely and looking for “the hunk of my dreams” (a guy with rich parents). Her efforts to find that dream is the focal point of the potential series. In the pilot episode, a nerd wolf (Wilford) tries to impress Minerva. Aired as a segment of the Animaniacs. Steven Spielberg is the producer.

Voice Cast: Julie Brown (Minerva Mink), Peter Scolari (Wilford Wolf), Frank Welker (Frog).

5365 Minor Adjustments. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995–1996). Ron Aimes is a child psychologist who is quite competent at the office and can solve virtually any problem parents face with their children. At home it is a different story. Ron is married to Rachel and the father of Emma (four years old) and Trevor (ten) — two mischievous kids over which Ron's years of professional training has little effect — until he uses methods a bit unorthodox and is able to deal with them. Stories follow Ron's experiences with his family at home and his attempts to deal with upset parents and rambunctious children at work.

Ron shares a medical facility with Dr. Bruce Hampton (a dentist) and Dr. Francine Bailey (a pediatrician); Darby Gladstone, Bruce's niece, is the floor receptionist.

Cast: Rondell Sheridan (Dr. Ron Aimes), Wendy Raquel Robinson (Rachel Aimes), Camille Winbush (Emma Aimes), Bobby E. McAdams II (Trevor Aimes), Linda Kash (Dr. Francine Bailey), Mitchell Whitfield (Dr. Bruce Hampton), Sara Rue (Darby Gladstone).

5366 A Minute with Stan Hooper. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2003). Newsline is the highest rated television news magazine in America. A segment of that TV program, “A Minute with Stan Hooper” has been voted “The Best Moment on Television.” In this segment, Stan Hooper relates stories about real people. Stan has always done it from a phony set in a Manhattan studio and feels he can do a better job by meeting “real people,” the down-to-earth people of Middle America. To accomplish this, Stan and his wife, Molly, leave the hustle and bustle of New York City for life in Waterford Falls, a sleepy little Wisconsin town.

The town appears to be run by Fred Hawkins, the powerful and rich owner of the Hawkins Cheese Factory. The Waterford Falls Truth is the local (and only) newspaper; the Patterson Boys Diner is the local eatery run by gay lovers Pete and Lou. Jimmy's Tavern is the local bar; women in town are not allowed to vote (“It's on the books”) and nobody ever loses at pool because nobody ever finishes a game. This is Stan's real life dream town and from the center of the Peterson Boys Diner, “A Minute with Stan Hooper” is broadcast live to the nation (Newsline airs at 9:00 P.M. on Wednesday evenings opposite The Wisconsin Farm Report in Waterford Falls).

Pete and Lou are actually married (when they tied the knot, Lou took Pete's last name). While Stan enjoys apple pie (at $2.30 a slice) at the diner (baked by the elderly Clara Meeks), Molly considers herself a good cook although Stan believes her specialty is not cooking (Molly likes to experiment, preparing meals like Oyster Jell-O, Ham and Jam sandwiches, and 4-Bean Salad — the fourth bean being jelly-beans). Stan and Molly reside in a rather lavish house ($500 a month rent) that comes with its own butler (Gary Jameson).

Frank's son, Ryan Hawkins, works as Stan's cameraman; Molly is Stan's makeup artist; and Chelsea is the diner's sexy waitress (she lives with her mother in a trailer). Margie Hawkins is Ryan's dim-witted sister.

Cast: Norm MacDonald (Stan Hooper), Penelope Miller (Molly Hooper), Daniel Roebuck (Pete Peterson), Garrett Diblahunt (Lou Peterson), Reagan Dale Neis (Chelsea), Fred Willard (Fred Hawkins), Brian Howe (Gary Jameson), Eric Lively (Ryan Hawkins), Carolyn Lawrence (Margie Hawkins).

5367 Miracle at Beekman's Place. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 12/26/88). Following the death of his wife, Dr. Cyrus Beekman, chief of staff of Mid-Mercy Hospital in New York City, quits his job and moves to his old neighborhood on West Wilson Avenue where he opens an inner-city clinic for the needy (The Olivia Beekman Medical Clinic; named after his wife). The unsold series was to relate Cyrus's experiences as he attempts to practice what he believes — helping people. Other Regulars: Nurse Sarah Coleman; Dr. Paul Hemingway; Mario, Cyrus's friend; and Isabella, Mario's wife.

5368 Miracle at Blaise. (Experimental; Drama; DuMont; 8/22/44). A talkative World War II drama about a mysterious American woman (played by Claire Luce) who helps the French underground against the Nazis. When a pass is needed to permit a patriot to filter through enemy lines and set a signal for Allied planes, the woman volunteers. As she begins her seemingly suicidal mission, she is visited by a spirit named Tabitha, herself a victim of the war, who provides the guidance she needs to complete the mission.

Cast: Claire Luce, Janet Dowd, Rhodelle Heller, Ruth LeSher, Dorothy South, Nancy Strauss.

5369 Miracle Pets. (Series; Reality; PAX; 2001–2003). Inspirational stories about animals and the amazing (and sometimes miraculous) things they do to help humans in trouble or life-threatening situations.

Host: Alan Thicke.

5370 Miracles. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2003). Paul Callan is a man with a most unusual job — he investigates the validity of supposed miracles for the Catholic Church (for example, religious images suddenly appearing on the walls of buildings; statues of the Virgin Mary that shed tears; Jesus Christ figures with bleeding palms). What Paul hasn't seen, however, "is the true spirit of God."

Paul is an orphan and never knew his parents. He grew up at Saint Jerome's Orphanage in Boston; he works for Alvin Keel, the head of a secret U.S. government agency that investigates strange happenings. Evelyn Santos assists Paul (she helps him investigate but is also there to be a second witness to an event and authenticate what they believe is truly a miracle).

Evelyn is a former police officer with knowledge of forensics. Paul says he feels like a doctor — "I never cure anyone. I show up, deliver the bad news and move on."

Cast: Skeet Ulrich (Paul Callan), Marisa Ramirez (Evelyn Santos), Angus MacFodyen (Alvin Keel).

5371 The Misadventures of Sheriff Lobo. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1979–1980). A spin-off from B.J. and the Bear. Elroy P. Lobo, is the slightly dishonest sheriff of Orly County, Georgia. His honest deputy, Birdwell "Birdie" Hawkins, and his flunky, Deputy Perkins, assist Lobo. Stories follow Sheriff Lobo as he attempts to dispense his own brand of justice-for profit (but always winds up paying for it in the end).

Sarah Cumberland is the manager of the Orly Hot Springs Hotel; Rose Perkins is Perkins' wife; Margaret Ellen Mercer is the waitress at Danny's Restaurant; Oscar Gorley is the promoter; Mayor Hawkins is Birdie's father. See also the spin-off series Lobo.

Cast: Claude Akins (Elroy P. Lobo), Mills Watson (Deputy Perkins), Brian Kerwin (Birdie Hawkins), Leann Hunley (Sarah Cumberland), Cydney Crampton (Rose Perkins), Janet Lyn Curtis (Margaret Ellen Mercer), J.D. Cannon (Oscar Gorley), William Schallert (Mayor Hawkins), Pamela Myers (Hotel Waitress), Dick Winslow (Hotel Bartender), Rosemary DeCamp (Elroy's Mother).

5372 The Mischief Makers. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1960). The television title for a series of 78 selected Our Gang theatrical comedy shorts of the 1920s. Music and sound effects have been added to enhance the silent films.

5373 Misery Loves Company. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1995). Nicky St. Hubbins is the Manhattan bar hangout for brothers Joe and Mitchell DeMarco and their friends Perry and Lewis. Joe and Perry are divorced; Mitchell is single and Lewis is married (to Tracy). Stories follow the ups and downs of four close friends who are in various stages of romance and divorce.

Other Regulars: Nicky, the bar owner; Melanie, Lewis's daughter; and Connor, Perry's son.

Cast: Dennis Boutsikaris (Joe DeMarco), Christopher Meloni (Mitchell DeMarco), Julius Carry (Perry), Stephen Furst (Lewis), Nikki DeLoach (Tracy), Kate E. Mazur (Nicky), Diane Delano (Melanie), Wesley Jonathan (Connor).

5374 The Misfits of Science. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1985–1986). “Weird ’R’ Us” and the “Misfits of Science” are the nicknames for H.I.T. (the Human Investigative Team) of Humanidyne (“Science to help the human condition”), the largest defense contractor in the United States. Dr. William (“Billy”) Hayes and Dr. Elvin (“El”) Lincoln are the research scientists who head H.I.T.; Dick Stetmeyer is their easily exasperated supervisor. Billy and El are assisted by Gloria Dinallo, Johnny Bukowski and Jane Miller. They are extraordinary people who happen to be different, but who use their unique powers to help people in trouble.

Billy possesses no special powers; he looks out for the other members of the group. El complains constantly about the poor working conditions, the broken equipment and “a salary that would make a paperboy cry.” He is also very tall (seven feet four inches) and self-conscious about his height. He was born in Watts, “but I can’t play basketball.” El has been working on glandular research and developed what Billy calls the “shrinking stuff” (El injected himself with it; now when he touches the back of his neck, he can reduce himself to the size of a Ken doll; the condition lasts for 14 minutes, but he can only reduce his height once an hour. In his reduced size, El wears Ken’s jogging outfit).

Gloria Dinallo is a very pretty 17-year-old girl who possesses amazing telekinetic powers. She is also a juvenile delinquent and cared for by her probation officer, Jane Miller (Gloria’s father deserted her some months ago). “Glo,” as Billy calls her, works as a waitress at the Burger Barn.

Johnny Bukowski, a former rock star known as Johnny B, was “fried” by 20,000 volts of electricity at his last concert and is now a human dynamo. “B Man,” as Billy calls him, attracts electricity and discharges lightning bolts. His fingers spark, water can kill him and his eyes glow (he wears sunglasses to cover them).

Miss Nance is the agency’s pretty receptionist. She loves Snickers bars and The Days of Our Lives is her favorite television soap opera. She is oblivious to what is happening around her and considers it her duty to give recipients their telephone messages — no matter what the circumstances (there is usually a crisis in progress).

Kathleen O’Malley appeared as Billy’s mother, Mrs. Hayes. Basil Poledouris composed the theme, “The Misfits of Science.”

5375 The Miss and the Missiles. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/25/64). The romantic misadventures of Connie Marlowe, a magazine writer, and Bill

Adams, an Air Force test pilot. In the pilot episode, Connie attempts to help her brother (Buzz) pass his first driving test. Other Regulars: Emma, Connie’s housekeeper; John P. MacBain, Connie’s boss; and Spider, Buzz’s friend.

Cast: Gisele MacKenzie (Connie Marlowe), John Forsythe (Bill Adams), Gordon Gebert (Buzz Marlowe), Kathleen Freeman (Emma), John McGiver (John P. MacBain), Michael J. Pollard (Spider).

5376 Miss Bishop. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/1/61). An unsold series based on the 1941 feature film, Cheers for Miss Bishop, about a dedicated English teacher in a small mid-western college. In the pilot episode, Miss Bishop extends some help to one of her students and finds herself becoming romantically involved. Cast: Jan Clayton (Ella Bishop), Tom Helmore (Student), Julie Payne (Mechanic).

5377 Miss Guided. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2008). Becky Freeley is a guidance counselor who has returned to her old high school to help students make the right choices in life. In high school, Becky was not the most ambitious of students; she was an underachiever and socially unacceptable; in other words, a geek. But that has all changed. She is now a gorgeous young woman who has shed everything about her former self.

Becky has been given a second chance (to go back and help others who were much like she was) and stories provide an inside look at the lives of the students and faculty who populate the school.

Lisa, a former classmate of Becky’s (the beautiful popular girl) now teaches at the school; Tim is the Spanish teacher Becky has an eye for. Fall 2007 premiere delayed by a writers’ strike.

Cast: Judy Greer (Becky Freeley), Brooke Burns (Lisa), Kristoffer Polaha (Tim), Earl Billings (Principal Huff).

5378 Miss Jones. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/12/91). Shortly after she graduates from law school, Althea “Thea” Jones, a single parent, acquires a job with Ryan, Shapiro and Johnson, a legal firm that specializes in sports figures. The unsold series was to relate Althea’s efforts to divide her time between defending clients and raising her young son, Spencer. In the pilot episode, Althea tries to handle Jim “Doogie” Dolan, a baseball player with off-the-field problems. Other Regulars: Larry Shapiro, Evanrude Johnson and Buddy Ryan, the senior law partners; Mrs. Mayo, the receptionist, and Bob Nettles, a lawyer.

Cast: Christine Ebersole (Althea Jones), Charlie Newmark (Spencer Jones), Ernie Hudson (Evanrude Johnson), Ken Welch (Buddy Ryan), Lynn Milgrim (Mrs. Mayo), Larry Haines (Larry Shapiro), Robert Prescott (Rob Nettles). Guest Cast: William O’Leary (Jim Dolan). Theme Vocal: “Ain’t Life Grand” by Christine Ebersole.

5379 Miss Match. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 2003). Kate Fox is a beautiful young attorney who works for her father, Jerry Fox, head of the law firm of Jerrold Fox and Associates. Kate is a brilliant divorce attorney and has an uncanny knack for paring the right man with the right woman. Kate, however, only considers this to be a hobby until a grateful socialite credits Kate in the press on her romantic success and Kate becomes a much sought after matchmaker. Soon Kate finds herself not only handling divorce cases but bringing people together for marriage.

Other Regulars: Victoria, Kate's friend; Nick, Kate's law partner (who is opposed to her new side line, as is her father); Michael, Kate's boyfriend; and Claire, the office receptionist.

Cast: Alicia Silverstone (Kate Fox), Ryan O'Neal (Jerry Fox), Lake Bell (Victoria), James Roday (Nick Paine), David Conrad (Michael Mendelsohn), Jodie Long (Claire).

5380 Miss Pepperdine. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for CBS in 1959). Hoping to become a model, Marie Pepperdine, a beautiful mailroom clerk for Pontifore Company Dresses, finds her chances becoming a reality when she is promoted to the position of receptionist. The unsold series was to relate Marie's efforts to achieve her dream. Other Regulars: Simon Pontifore, the boss; Lily, a model; Herbie, the shipping clerk; Bentley, Simon's nephew; and Hazel and Gus, Marie's neighbors.

Cast: Marie Wilson (Marie Pepperdine), Jack Durant (Simon Pontifore), Hildy Parks (Lily Baldwin), Paul Smith (Herbie), Paul Picerni (Bentley Pontifore), Mary Beth Hughes (Hazel), Harry Clark (Gus).

5381 Miss Spider's Sunny Patch Friends. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2004). Miss Spider and Holley are spiders who live in the Hollow Tree in Sunny Patch. They are the parents of Squirt, Wiggle, Spinner and twins Pansy and Snowdrop, and the adoptive parents of Dragon, Shimmer and Bounce. Stories follow Miss Spider and Holley as they attempt to be good parents to a brood of very different children. Squirt is always seeking adventure; Wiggle is shy and introverted; Spinner is very smart; Pansy and Snowdrop may look alike, but they have totally different personalities; Shimmer is a brightly colored jewel beetle; Dragon is a dragonfly who tends to be a bit mean to others; and Bounce loves to eat. Other characters are Grandma Betty Beetle, Beatrice the Queen Bee; and the lazy aunts Ned and Ted.

Voice Cast: Kristin Davis (Miss Spider), Robert Smith (Holley), Scott Beaudin (Squirt), Rebecca Brenner (Shimmer), Mitchell Eisner (Dragon), Tajja Isen (Lil Sis), Julie Lemieux (Bounce), Marc McMulkin (Wiggle), Austin Di Iulio (Spinner), Alexandra Lai (Snowdrop), Tony Jay (Spiderus), Kristina

Nicoll (Spindella), Catherine Gallant (Queen Bee-ri-ce), Philip Williams (Ted).

5382 Miss Stewart, Sir. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/31/72). A proposed series about Kate Stewart, the first female faculty member of an exclusive all-male boarding school. In addition to teaching, Kate is also a housemother and coach of the school's dismal football team. In the pilot episode, Kate meets her first challenge: to teach her charges (Buzz, Joe, George and Mike) the art of playing football. Other Regulars: Principal Prentiss and Hannah, the cook.

Cast: Joanna Pettet (Kate Stewart), Murray Matheson (Principal Prentiss), Gary Vinson (Buzz), Michael Witney (Joe), Don Clarke (George), Lee Hollingshead (Mike), Nora Marlowe (Hannah).

5383 Miss Susan. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1951). The dramatic story of Susan Martin, a handicapped (wheelchair bound) criminal attorney working out of Ohio. The series, broadcast from March 12, 1951 to December 28, 1951, is the first series to star a real-life handicapped person (Susan Peters).

Cast: Susan Peters (Susan Martin), Katherine Gill (Miss Peck, Susan's nurse), Natalie Priest (Laura, Susan's housekeeper), Robert McQueeny, Jon Lormer, Betsy Palmer, Robert McQueeney, Don Hamner, Gerry Lock, Helen Ray, Mark Roberts.

5384 Miss Winslow and Son. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979). Susan Winslow is a young woman who, after an affair, finds herself pregnant and alone when her boyfriend deserts her. Susan elects to keep the child and continues working as a commercial artist. After the birth of her child (whom she names Edmund), Susan finds a better paying job as an artist at the Callahan Agency. Susan is a single mother; she holds a responsible job; has a fussy neighbor (Harold, who feels children are a nuisance) and is struggling to provide a decent life for her son. Her wealthy parents, Warren and Evelyn, want to help but Susan wants to make it on her own. Stories relate the comical incidents that plague Susan's life at home and at work. Based on the British series Miss Jones and Son. Joseph Callahan is Susan's boss; Rosa and Angelo are Susan's friends.

Cast: Darleen Carr (Susan Winslow), Roscoe Lee Browne (Harold Neistader), Elliott Reid (Warren Winslow), Sarah Marshall (Evelyn Winslow), William Bogert (Joseph Callahan), Ellen Sherman (Rosa Vallone), Joe Rassulo (Angelo Vallone), Benjamin Margolis (Edmund Winslow).

5385 Missing. (Series; Drama; Lifetime; 2003–2005). Finding missing persons is the basic premise behind this series. There are, however, two versions. In the first version, titled I-800-Missing, Brooke Haslett, a by-the-books FBI agent, and Jess Mastriani, a special consultant with the FBI with a unique gift, attempt to find people reported as missing. Jess was struck by lightning and is able to receive psychic visions that give her clues to the whereabouts of the people she and Brooke are seeking. Assisting them are Sunny Estrada, a computer and forensics expert, and Alan Coyle, their boss.

Brooke was dropped when the second season began (2004) and Jess was teamed with Nicole Scott, a tough, former undercover agent. They work for a special unit out of Washington, D.C. that is run by John Pollock, the assistant director. Antonio Cortez, an evidence expert, assists them. Stories follow their investigations into perplexing (if not bizarre) missing persons cases.

Cast: Gloria Reuben (Brooke Haslett), Caterina Scorsone (Jess Mastriani), Vivica A. Fox (Nicole Scott), Dean McDermott (Alan Coyle), Mark Consuelos (Antonio Cortez), Justina Machado (Sunny Estrada), Justin Louis (John Pollock).

5386 Missing Links. (Series; Game; NBC; ABC; 1963–1964). A story that contains a number of specific blanks is read. A player selects one of the three celebrity guests who appear and bets points on the celebrity's ability to fill in the blanks within a specific time limit. Each word that correctly fits a blank space scores the player one point. The player with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The series ran on NBC from September 9, 1963 to March 27, 1964; and on ABC from March 30, 1964 to December 25, 1964.

Host: Ed McMahon (NBC), Dick Clark (ABC).

5387 Missing Persons. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1993). Ray McAuliffe is a detective lieutenant with the Missing Persons Bureau of the Chicago Police Department. Ray is married to Barbara and his team consists of Connie Karadzic, Bobby Davison and Carlos Marrone. While each episode does relate the team's investigative efforts to find missing people, it does so by incorporating two-to-three mini-dramas with one of the detectives (or two teamed together) handling the case (which are not related to each other).

Cast: Daniel J. Travanti (Lt. Ray McAuliffe), Patty Lombard (Barbara McAuliffe), Jorja Fox (Officer Connie Karadzic), Erik King (Officer Bobby Davison), Juan Ramirez (Carlos Marrone).

5388 Missing/Reward. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1989). Actual cases involving missing persons are presented through eyewitness accounts, newsreel footage and reenactments in the hope that someone in the viewing audience has knowledge that will help the police solve the case. To entice viewers, large rewards are offered for information that leads to an arrest and conviction.

Host: Stacy Keach.

5389 Mission Hill. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1999). Mission Hill is a fictional neighborhood in an equally fictional city called Cosmopolis. It is here in an apartment, that Andy French and his younger brother, Kevin reside. Andy is 24 years old and charming but lazy. He seems uncomfortable settling on any job or any girlfriend. Kevin, on the other hand, is ambitious, a straight A student at school but unable to find a girlfriend. Stories follow events in the brother's lives as they interact with the colorful characters of Mission Hill.

Other Regulars: Posey Tyler, Kevin's friend; Jim Kuback, Andy's friend; Natalie and Carlos, the married couple who live across the hall; and Gus and Wally, a senior citizen gay couple. Fifteen episodes were produced but only seven aired on the WB (cancelled due to dismal ratings). In 2002, the Cartoon Network aired all 15 episodes.

Voice Cast: Wallace Langham (Andy French), Scott Melville (Kevin French), Brian Poeshn (Jim Kuback), Vicki Lewis (Posey Tyler), Vicki Lewis (Natalie Leibowitz-Hernandez), Herbert Siguenza (Carlos Hernandez), Nick Jameson (Gus Duncz), Tom Kenny (Wally Langford).

Dan Briggs was the original head of the I.M.F.; he was replaced by Jim Phelps. Cinnamon Carter, Rollin Hand, Barney Collier and Willy Armitage were the original members of the team. Paris replaced Rollin; Dana replaced Cinnamon; Casey replaced Dana; and Mimi Davis replaced Casey; Tracy, Lisa, Beth, Monique, Nora and Valerie were the girls used (usually for distraction purposes) in the interim between Barbara Bain (Cinnamon) and Lesley Ann Warren (Dana).

Theme: "Mission: Impossible" by Lalo Schiffrin.

5391 Mission: Impossible. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1988–1989). A revised version of the 1966–73 CBS series of the same title that dealt with the cases of the I.M.F. (Impossible Missions Force), a unit of the government that attempts to solve highly complex assignments. It was headed by Jim Phelps. Following the death of a friend, Jim Phelps, the former head of the Impossible Missions Force, comes out of retirement to bring the killer to justice. With the help of a new I.M.F. team Jim accomplishes his goal. Jim feels the need to help prevent crime and the government needs a man with Jim's experience to lead a team. Nicholas Black, Casey Randall, Max Hart, Grant Collier (the son of former I.M.F. member Barney Collier) and Shannon Reed form the new I.M.F. team and stories follow Jim as he and his team attempt to solve near impossible cases for the government.

Cast: Peter Graves (Jim Phelps), Thaa Penghlis (Nicholas Black), Terry Markwell (Casey Randall), Tony Hamilton (Max Hart), Phil Morris (Grant Collier), Jane Badler (Shannon Reed). Theme: "Mission: Impossible" by Lalo Schiffrin.

5392 Mission Magic. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1973–1974). Miss Tickle is a pretty schoolteacher who possesses magical powers that she uses for good over evil. With her students (Carol, Vinnie, Kim, Socks, Harvey and Franklin) and Rick Springfield, a troubleshooter, the group forms the Adventurers Club and travels to fantasy lands to help people in trouble. Tomaly is Rick's owl; Mr. Samuels is the school principal; and Tut Tut is Miss Tickle's magic cat. See also Teacher's Pet for information on the series pilot film.

Voice Cast: Erica Scheimer (Miss Tickle), Rick Springfield (Rick Springfield), Lola Fisher (Carol), Lane Scheimer (Vinnie), Lola Fisher (Kim), Howard Morris (Harvey), Lane Scheimer (Franklin), Howard Morris (Socks).

5393 The Mississippi. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1983–1984). Ben Walker is a big city criminal lawyer who leaves what he calls "the rat race" for a quieter life in Mississippi as the owner of The Mississippi, a river boat. As Ben begins his new life he also finds that there are people who need legal help. Ben was a dedicated lawyer and that dedication is something that has never left him. Ben forfeits part of his leisure life by establishing a law office and stories relate his efforts to help the defenseless people who live by the river.

Stella McMullen and Lafayette "Lafe" Tate are his law assistants; Rachel Walker is Ben's daughter (Ben is a widower). Filmed on location in Natchez and also known as On the Mississippi.

Cast: Ralph Waite (Ben Walker), Laurie Prange (Rachel Walker), Linda Miller (Stella McMullen), Stan Shaw (Lafayette Tate). Theme: "Theme from the Mississippi" by Lee Holdridge.

5394 The Missus Goes-A-Shopping. (Experimental; Game; CBS; 8/3/44). A television adaptation of the CBS radio program of the same title. A supermarket is the setting. Ordinary people attempt to win prizes by performing a stunt that is designed not only to test skill, but evoke laughs. This experiment featured such sight gags as a WAC trying to dislodge a coin from the top of her nose without moving her head; and a burly truck driver trying to squeeze his large frame into a girdle.

Host: John Reed King. Assistant: Paul Mowry.

5395 The Missus Goes-A-Shopping. (Series; Game; CBS; 1947–1949). CBS television's first daytime series (November 19, 1947 to January 12, 1949). The program is broadcast live from a supermarket in Manhattan. Here ordinary shoppers (usually women) are chosen to compete in various stunt contests in return for grocery prizes. The stunts are meant to result in laughs and players who fail to complete their tasks are awarded a lesser prize.

Host: John Reed King, Clayton "Bud" Collyer. Assistant: Jimmy Brown.

5396 Mr. Adams and Eve. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1957–1958). Howard Adams and Eve Drake are actors who also happen to be married to each other. Howard first saw Eve on the set of a movie and set his goal to marry her. Two months later they were married.

Howard and Eve enjoy their careers and would have it no other way (when Eve was five years old she said she wanted to be an actress and followed through with that statement). Howard and Eve live in Hollywood, California and stories relate incidents in their home and on the set lives (where they star as romantic leads; Eve Drake is Eve's stage name; at home she is Eve Adams). J.B. Hafter is the studio producer; Steve is the Adams's agent; Elsie Carstairs is the Adams's maid; Connie Drake is Eve's mother; and Walter is Elsie's nephew.

Cast: Howard Duff (Howard Adams), Ida Lupino (Eve Adams), Alan Reed (J.B. Hafter), Hayden Rorke (Steve), Olive Casey (Elsie Carstairs), Lee Patrick (Connie Drake), Patrick Wayne (Walter), Larry Dobkin (Director), Alan Wood (Slate Boy), Paul Grant (Assistant Director). Theme Music: David Rose.

5397 Mr. and Mrs. Carroll. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1950–1951). Musician-singer Jimmy Carroll and his wife, singer Rita Carroll host a program of music, songs and chatter. Jimmy Carroll provides the music and the series is also known as The Most Important People.

5398 Mr. and Mrs. Cop. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 5/3/74). Paul and Nancy Roscommon are a married couple who are also police officers. The proposed series was to relate their experiences as they try to make their marriage work despite the demands of their jobs.

Cast: Anthony Costello (Officer Paul Roscommon), Marianne McAndrew (Officer Nancy Roscommon), Richard Angarola (Lieutenant Ocala), William Campbell (Sergeant Baum), Redmond Gleeson (Officer Irv Pyle). Guest Cast: Tom Falk (Al Johnson), Howard Platt (Chester), Max Gail (Albanel), Holly Near (Mrs. Salmon), Daniel Spelling (Krunkle), Gerald Ray (Sergeant Plantanos).

5399 Mr. & Mrs. Dracula. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 9/5/80). After 618 years of marriage, vampire Vladimir Dracula, his wife, Sonia, and their children, Minna and Sonny, relocate from their castle in Transylvania to the Bronx, New York, when angry villagers force them to leave their homeland. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they attempt to adjust to life in America. The pilot episode relates Vladimir's efforts to provide a happy anniversary celebration for Sonia. Other Regulars: Vladimir's Cousin Anton; Mario, their apartment building manager; and Gregor, the bat who forgot how to turn back into a vampire.

Cast: Dick Shawn (Vladimir Dracula), Carol Lawrence (Sonia Dracula), Gail Mayron (Minna Dracula), Anthony Battaglia (Sonny Dracula), Johnny Haymer (Voice of Gregor), Barry Gordon (Cousin Anton), Rick Aviles (Mario).

5400 Mr. & Mrs. & Mr. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/1/80). A year after her husband, Jimmy York, an ex-quarterback for the New York Jets, is reported killed in a plane crash in the Caribbean, Jenny Collins (who retained her maiden name) marries Jeff Zelinka, a sportswriter. Shortly after, Jenny's life becomes complicated when Jimmy shows up alive, having been nursed back to health by an Indian fisherman. The unsold series was to focus on the problems that exist as Jenny, now with two husbands who each dispute the other's claim on his wife, desperately seeks a way to resolve the situation and live a normal, happily married life — with one husband. Susan is Jenny's friend.

Cast: Rebecca Balding (Jenny Collins), Kale Browne (Jimmy York), Patrick Collins (Jeff Zelinka), Eda Zahl (Susan Masters). Theme Vocal: "Mr. & Mrs. & Mr." by Joanie Sommers.

5401 Mr. and Mrs. Mystery. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1949). The first television series to relate a husband and wife's efforts to solve murder mysteries (Mr. and Mrs. North and The Thin Man followed). John Gay and his wife, Barbara, live at 46 Perry Street (Apartment 3-C) in Manhattan. John works as a criminologist. Barbara, who is not content being just a housewife, feels that living with John has given her the knowledge she needs to be an amateur sleuth (John, however, doesn't think so and wishes Barbara would go back to being a loving wife). John's cases always fascinate Barbara; so much so that she attaches herself to John in the hope of helping him solve the case. Stories follow John's efforts, assisted (and hindered) by Barbara, to solve crimes.

Cast: John Gay (Himself), Barbara Gay (Herself).

5402 Mr. and Mrs. North. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 5/19/46). A television adaptation of the Broadway show by Frances and Richard Lockridge that relates incidents in the lives of Jerry North, a retired private detective, and his zany but shrewd wife, Pamela, as they try to solve a murder mystery — that of who killed a man and placed the body in the North's Greenwich Village apartment.

Cast: John McQuade (Jerry North), Maxine Stuart (Pamela North), Vinton Hayworth (Lieutenant Weigand), Millard Mitchell (Detective Mullins). Also: Alexander Clark, Don Haggerty, Joan Marlowe, Russell Morrison, Patricia Shay, Mort Stevens, Vaughn Taylor.

5403 Mr. and Mrs. North. (Test Film; Crime Drama; NBC; 7/4/49). A television adaptation of the radio series of the same title about a private detective turned publisher (Jerry North) and his wife, Pamela, who has a knack for stumbling onto crimes. The pilot episode relates the Norths' efforts to help an attorney find a culprit who is killing heirs to a large estate. Based on characters created by Frances and Richard Lockridge.

Cast: Joseph Allen, Jr. (Jerry North), Mary Lou Taylor (Pamela North).

5404 Mr. and Mrs. North. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; NBC; 1952–1954). "To Jerry, with Love, Pam," is the inscription on the pocket watch Pamela North gave to her husband, Gerald ("Jerry") North, on the occasion of their first wedding anniversary. (They have been married five years when the series begins. Pam and Jerry married on a Friday afternoon during Pam's lunch hour and honeymooned in Paris.) Jerry, a lieutenant in the Navy during World War II, is a former private detective who relinquished the rough life for a peaceful existence as a publisher (for an unidentified house). Pamela is young, beautiful and fashion conscious, and she believes she possesses the mind of a detective (when she sees something that is wrong, she immediately associates it with foul play). Much to Jerry's regret, Pam is most often right and he finds himself playing detective again to solve a crime.

It is unfair to give Jerry all the credit. Pam does solve crimes on her own. She is so unassuming that the culprit is unaware of her brilliance and is caught by surprise. Pam is extremely proud of herself at these moments and tells Jerry, "If I hadn't used my brains, I'd be dead. You'd have a corpse for a wife." (Unfortunately, Pam tells Jerry this when he is trying to sleep or is involved with a manuscript; the remark falls virtually on deaf ears — "Yes, honey, that's nice, dear." Occasionally, Jerry's subconscious hears what Pam is saying. When he realizes what she said, he shows great concern and tells her not to do it again. She agrees — until the next episode.)

Jerry and Pam live at 24 Sainte Anne's Place, Apartment 6A, in New York's Greenwich Village. (Their address is also given as 23 Sainte Anne's Place, Apartment 408 — even though Apartment 6A is seen in the opening theme.) Their closest friend is Bill Weigand, a lieutenant with the Homicide Division of the Police Department of New York City (he was best man at their wedding). The series is based on the novel by Frances and Richard Lockridge. See also the two prior titles.

Cast: Richard Denning (Jerry North), Barbara Britton (Pamela North), Francis DeSales (Bill Weigand).

5405 Mr. and Mrs. Ryan. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 4/12/86). Shortly after she is rescued from kidnapers, Ashley Hamilton, a beautiful Beverly Hills socialite, marries the man who saved her life, Los Angeles police detective Lieutenant Michael Ryan. The unsold series was to focus on Ashley's misadventures as she stumbles upon and involves Michael in crimes. In the pilot episode, Michael and Ashley go undercover (as an antique buff and his senile mother) to break up a theft ring that specializes in art objects and antiques.

Cast: Sharon Stone (Ashley Hamilton Ryan), Robert Desiderio (Michael Ryan), Joseph Maher (Stockwell, Ashley's butler). Guest Cast: Christine Belford (Margo Slater), David Fox-Brenton (Thomas Pershing), Nicholas Worth (Kolvak), Frederick Coffin (Beckerman), Walter Dalton (Sloan), Frank Birney (Harlan), Don Pugsley (Aldo), Victoria Tucker (Dawn), Jay Robinson (Auctioneer).

5406 Mr. and Mrs. Smith. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1996). A man, known only as Mr. Smith, and a woman, known only as Mrs. Smith, are sophisticated private detectives who are recruited by a man known only as Mr. Big to work for his organization — The Factory. The man and woman pretend to be a married couple and with the aliases of Mr. and Mrs. Smith to protect their true identities (which are never revealed; also not revealed is any other information for these characters). The Factory is a mysterious organization that appears to be associated with the government as it strives to resolve troublesome situations. Stories relate the cases of Mr. and Mrs. Smith as they solve cases for The Factory.

Cast: Scott Bakula (Mr. Smith), Maria Bello (Mrs. Smith), Roy Dotrice (Mr. Big).

5407 Mr. & Ms. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 1975). Two 90-minute pilot films were produced for ABC in 1975 for a mystery series about David and Mandy Robbins, a husband-and-wife team of private detectives. David's father, Ben Robbins, a police lieutenant, helped them solve crimes.

The pilots were Mr. and Ms. and the Magic Studio Mystery (December 16, 1975, wherein David and Mandy investigate the death of a young woman who had attempted to blackmail a group of magicians and was later found dead inside a magician's trick iron maiden); and Mr. and Ms. and the Bandstand Murders (December 23, 1975, wherein David and Mandy investigate the death of a young British rock star and a conspiracy by several people to gain control the singer's large estate).

5408 Mr. Arsenic. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1952). Burton Turkus is the host for a series of dramatizations based on actual criminal cases. The short-lived program ran from May 8, 1952 to June 26, 1952.

5409 Mr. Bean. (Series; Comedy; PBS; 1992). He is known only as Mr. Bean (no first name given). He lives in a small apartment in North London with Teddy, a teddy bear that appears to be his security blanket. He is fully grown but he is child-like in everything else. He could be considered a buffoon for all the trouble he gets into (but manages to get out of using his wits). But no matter what Mr. Bean does it seems to be something new to him and he must experiment with it to understand it (thus the comical situations). Is Mr. Bean an alien sent to Earth to learn its culture? The opening theme leads one to believe so as he is seen falling from the sky in a beam of light. Or was he just "born yesterday" and totally ignorant about the things that surround him in his everyday life? This, along with what he does for a living is not revealed. Mr. Bean wears a tweed suit with red tie and drives a British Leland Mini. He also rarely speaks and the comedy is completely visual.

Irma Gobb is the only human Mr. Bean appears to be fond of. Although he treats her with little respect (he sees her only as a friend), she sees him in a romantic light. Stories follow Mr. Bean as he goes about exploring the world about him — and getting into endless mischief doing so. The series is produced in England and airs in the U.S. on PBS stations.

Cast: Rowan Atkinson (Mr. Bean), Matilda Ziegler (Irma Gobb).

5410 Mr. Belvedere. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/12/65). Lynn Belvedere is a man-about-town and master of various arts, crafts and professions. The unsold series was to relate his experiences as he involves himself in other people's lives. In the pilot episode, Lynn attempts to reunite a runaway girl (Lily) with her parents.

Cast: Victor Borge (Lynn Belvedere). Guest Cast: Debbie Paine (Lily Van Cleve), Leland Howard (Mr. Van Cleve), Louise Troy (Mrs. Van Cleve), Harry Bellaver (Harry), Pamela Truman (Miss Briggs), Martin Brill (Mooney).

5411 Mr. Belvedere. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1985–1990). Lynn Aloysius Belvedere appeared on the cover of World Focus magazine (“Housekeeper of the Year”). He possesses medals for climbing Mount Everest and winning the Pillsbury Bake-off. He worked for English nobility (valet to Winston Churchill and housekeeper to Queen Elizabeth II).

Lynn now resides at 200 Spring Valley Road in Beaver Falls, Pittsburgh, with his new employers, the chaotic Owens family: parents George and Marsha, and their children, Kevin, Heather and Wesley.

Lynn was born in England. He lived on Higby Road and attended the Pennington School. Lynn wrote a book on his experiences with the Owens family called An American Journal: The Suburban Years. In the last episode, Lynn marries Louise Gilbert (Rosemary Forsyth), an animal behaviorist he met at a Laundromat. Lynn leaves the family to join Louise in Africa when she is asked to return to the University of Boutari to take a gorilla census. In the final minutes of the show, Lynn remarks that he left his weekly journals (the diaries that he was seen writing at the end of each episode) at the Owens home, with a possibility that he may one day return for them.

George Owens, who attended Cleveland High School, originally hosted Sports Page (later Sports Rap), a radio program on WBK-AM. Later, he is the sports anchor of WBN-TV, Channel 8’s Metro News, and writer of the “Sports Bear” column for the Pittsburgh Bulletin. George calls Lynn “Big Guy.” Shopping at Lumber Rama is George’s favorite pastime.

Marsha Owens, originally a law student, passed the bar exam in July 1987 and joined the firm of Dawson, Metcalfe and Bach. The following year, she became an attorney for the Legal Hut. Marsha dreamed of helping the underdog; when she couldn’t find it at the Legal Hut, she quit and became “Babs,” a waitress at the Beaver Falls Diner.

Kevin Owens, their oldest child, attends Van Buren High School. He worked part time at Mr. Clucks’s Fried Chicken and as a salesman for Phil’s Friendly Motors (a used car lot). He was born in 1967 and was an Eagle Scout. In later episodes, Kevin has his own apartment (number 5), which is next to a sewage treatment plant (“I’m a student [University of Pittsburgh] and the rent is cheap”).

Heather Owens, the middle child, attends Van Buren High School and is called “Kitten” by George. She had an after school job at Traeger’s Record Store.

When Heather gets depressed over losing a boyfriend, she eats Rocky Road ice cream then goes shopping at the mall. Heather’s best friend is Angela, a very pretty but kooky girl who has a hanger collection and calls Lynn everything but Mr. Belvedere (for example, “Mr. Bumper Sticker,” “Mr. Beaver Dam,” “Mr. Beer Belly,” “Mr. Bell Ringer”). She and Heather were cheerleaders at school (for the Beavers football team) and members of the Iron Maidens, a community group that reads to old people. “Being blonde and pretty are about the only assets Angela has,” says Heather. Angela was rarely called by a last name; but when she needed one, she was given three — Shostakovich, Gilbert and Jostakovich.

Wesley Owens, the youngest and most mischievous of the Owens children, attended Conklin Elementary School, Allegheny Junior High and finally Beaver Falls Junior High. He has a dog named Spot, a snake called Captain Nemo and a hamster named Inky. Wesley, who is called “Wesman” by George, made a home movie about Mr. Belvedere called “The Housekeeper from Hell.” Wesley delights in playing practical jokes on his never-seen, but always complaining neighbors, the Hufnagels (in the next to last episode, Teresa Ganzel played the only Hufnagel to be seen, the gorgeous Giselle). To make money, Wesley sold Heather’s lingerie, claiming it belonged to Madonna.

Relatives: David Rappaport (Lynn’s cousin, Galen Belvedere), Sylvia Kauders (Lynn’s mother, “Mumsey” Margaret Belvedere). Flashbacks: Trevor Thiegen (young Lynn).

Cast: Christopher Hewett (Lynn Belvedere), Bob Uecker (George Owens), Ilene Graff (Marsha Owens), Tracy Wells (Heather Owens), Rob Stone (Kevin Owens), Brice Beckham (Wesley Owens), Michele Matheson (Angela). Theme Vocal: “Theme from Mr. Belvedere” by Leon Redbone.

5412 Mr. Bevis. (Pilot; Fantasy; CBS; 6/3/60). A proposed but untitled spin-off from The Twilight Zone about J. Hardy Hempstead, a guardian angel who is assigned to help deserving earthlings. In the pilot episode, titled “Mr. Bevis,” Hempstead is assigned to improve the life of James B.W. Bevis, an accident-prone, kind-hearted lover of children and animals who is a fixture in his own optimistic world. To help Bevis, Hempstead gives him the one day on which he gets fired and loses his apartment to live over again so he can do things differently. But it is not the same — the old Bevis is gone and so is the laughter he brought to so many people. Realizing that he miscalculated, Hempstead pleases his superiors when he gives Bevis his old life back again.

Cast: Henry Jones (J. Hardy Hempstead). Guest Cast: Orson Bean (James B.W. Bevis), Charles Lane (Mr. Peckinpough), Horace McMahon (Bartender), Florence MacMichael (Margaret), Dorothy Neumann (Mrs. Chatfield), Vito Scotti (Tony), Colleen O'Sullivan (Young lady), Tommy Cletro (Boy).

5413 Mr. Bill's Real Life Adventures. (Pilot; Comedy; Showtime; 9/11/86). The adventures of the inches-tall Mr. Bill, a down-trodden clay figure living in his own world and falling prey to countless pit falls (basically those of inflicted by Mr. Sluggo). Based on sketches that appeared on Saturday Night Live.

Cast: Peter Scolari (Mr. Bill), Mike McManus (Mr. Sluggo).

5414 Mr. Black. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1949). A series of mystery and suspense dramas in which the "bad guys" get their just deserts. The series, hosted by a character called Mr. Black, ran from September 19, 1949 to November 7, 1949.

Host: Anthony Christopher as Mr. Black.

5415 Mr. Boogedy. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/20/86). In the 1600s, a small group of Pilgrims settled in a section of New England they named Lucifer Falls. William Hanover, an outcast member who delighted in scaring children (hence called Mr. Boogedy), fell in love with the Widow Marion and asked her to marry him. When she refused, Hanover sold his soul to the Devil in exchange for a magic cape that will make Marion fall in love with him. The cape fails to grant Hanover's wish and instead destroys him and his house in an explosion. Hanover, now as the disfigured Mr. Boogedy, remains on his property, seemingly destined to haunt it forever.

In 1986 Carlton Davis, a novelty salesman for Gag City, and his family (wife, Eloise, and children, Jennifer, Ahri and Corwin) move into a house that was constructed on the original Hanover land. Immediately they encounter the wrath of Boogedy's ghost who does not relish the idea of sharing his domain with the Davis family. The unsold series was to relate the Davises' efforts to enjoy their new home and find a way to rid their lives of the practical-joke-playing Mr. Boogedy. Other Regulars: Neil Witherspoon, head of the town historical society.

Cast: Howard Witt (Mr. Boogedy), Richard Masur (Carlton Davis), Mimi Kennedy (Eloise Davis), Kristy Swanson (Jennifer Davis), Benjamin Gregory (Ahri Davis), David Faustino (Corwin Davis), John Astin (Neil Witherspoon). Guest Cast: Katherine Kelly Lang (Widow Marion), Jaimie McEnnan (Jonathan), Kedric Wolfe (Devil).

Note: On April 12, 1987, ABC presented a two-hour TV movie sequel called The Bride of Boogedy wherein Boogedy seeks to find the spirit of his lost love, the Widow Marion. Cast changes were Tammy Lauren as Jennifer Davis, Joshua Rudoy as Ahri Davis, and Leonard Frey as Walter (not Neil) Witherspoon.

5416 Mr. Broadway. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1964). Michael Bell is a sophisticated Broadway press agent and the owner of the highly successful Michael Bell and Associates, a public relations firm in New York City.

Michael's job is to keep people out of the gossip columns as well as in them. He is a man who personally gets involved with his clients and a man who takes a professional interest in his long-time clients. He is, in essence, a P.R. man who acts like a detective when he needs to take action to clear a client of a false charge. A girl named Toki is his girl Friday; Hank McClure is Michael's contact man.

Cast: Craig Stevens (Michael Bell), Lani Miyazaki (Toki), Horace McMahon (Hank McClure).

5417 Mr. Chips. (Series; Instruction; Syn.; 1975). A program of home repairs and advice that features a do-it-yourselfer called Mr. Chips demonstrating what to do and what not to do.

Host: Don Megowan. Mr. Chips: Bill Brown. Announcer: Don Megowan.

5418 Mr. Citizen. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1955). Dramatizations that detail the unselfish acts of ordinary people. The person whose story is selected receives the "Mister Citizen Award."

Host: Allyn Edwards. Awards Presenter: Senator Clifford Chase. Organist: John Gart.

5419 Mr. Deeds Goes to Town. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1969–1970). Longfellow Deeds is a philosophical country gentleman who becomes misplaced when he inherits the multi-million dollar Deeds Enterprises in New York City after the death of his Uncle, Alonzo Deeds. Now, as the head of the company, Longfellow attempts to run a corporation the way he feels it should be run — to help people — not as a corporation that he feels can easily take advantage of people.

Tony Lawrence is Longfellow's assistant (also inherited from his uncle); Henry Masterson is the chairman of the board (who disapproves of Longfellow's simplistic ways of running the company); George is Longfellow's butler. Sam is Longfellow's dog.

Cast: Monte Markham (Longfellow Deeds), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Tony Lawrence), Herbert Voland (Henry Masterson), Ivor Barry (George).

5420 Mr. District Attorney. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1951). Dramatizations based on the facts of crime from the files of the District Attorney's office (representative of any such office in any city or town). Each story is seen through the eyes of Paul Garrett, alias Mr. District Attorney. "As district attorney for the county it is my job to prevent crimes as well as solve them. But sometimes you can't prevent them. Sometimes you can only pick up the trail after the violence has begun."

Elizabeth Miller is Paul's secretary; Harrington, who has been with the D.A.'s office for 22 years, is Paul's investigator. Based on the long-running radio program of the same title.

Announcer Fred Uttal opens the show: "Mr. District Attorney starring David Brian. Mr. District Attorney, champion of the people, defender of truth, guardian of our fundamental rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Mr. District Attorney then speaks: "And it shall be my duty as District Attorney, not only to prosecute to the limits of the law all persons accused of crimes committed within this county, but to defend with equal vigor the rights and privileges of all its citizens."

Cast: Jay Jostyn (Paul Garrett), David Brian (Paul Garrett; later), Vicki Vola (Edith Miller), Len Doyle (Harrington).

5421 Mr. Dugan. (Unaired Series; Comedy; Produced for CBS in 1979). The story of Matthew Dugan, a fledgling black Congressman. Three episodes were produced (scheduled to air 3/11, 3/18 and 3/25/79) but outside pressure killed it before it ever got on the air. After a special screening, a caucus of black Congressmen thought "Mr. Dugan" was offensive to black officials and threatened a nationwide switch-off campaign if the series aired. Norman Lear, producer of the show, withdrew it explaining "we have not yet totally fulfilled our intention for the series." See also Hanging In for information of the series that evolved from Mr. Dugan. Other Regulars: Maggie, Matthew's assistant; Sam, his chief of staff; Pinkie, the housekeeper; and Aretha, the press secretary.

Cast: Cleavon Little (Matthew Dugan), Barbara Rhoades (Maggie Gallagher), Dennis Burkley (Sam Dickey), Nedra Volz (Pinkie Noland), Sarina Grant (Aretha Balducci).

5422 Mister Ed. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; CBS; 1960–1966). Newlyweds Wilbur and Carol Post purchase a home at 17230 Valley Spring Lane in Los Angeles from Golden Acres Real Estate. Shortly after, Wilbur discovers an unusual resident in the barn: a talking horse, named Mister Ed, who was left by the previous owners. Because Wilbur is the only human Ed (as Wilbur calls him) likes well enough to talk to, he will only talk to him (thus begin Wilbur's problems as the owner of a talking horse). "It's been a long time since I was a pony," were the first words Ed, "the playboy horse of Los Angeles," spoke to Wilbur.

Ed weighed 96 pounds at birth. He was an incubator baby, and his birth sign is Taurus. Ed, who is seven years old when the series begins, loves carrots and wrote the hit song "Pretty Little Filly." Ed dances, cooks and sews. He can read (with the help of eyeglasses) dial a telephone and work crossword puzzles. He is a crusader for animal rights. In last season episodes Ed, who believes he is the James Bond of the animal kingdom, and Wilbur solved spy cases for the SIA (Secret Intelligence Agency).

Wilbur, an independent architect, operates his office from the barn (which doubles as Ed's home); he was originally slated to be a lawyer (as depicted in sales pitches for the show in early 1960). He is a graduate of Mulholland High School and UCLA.

Carol, a former dancer, measures 36-22-36, and had a job as a dance instructor at Miss Irene's in Hollywood. Her maiden name is Higgins (also given as Carlyle). She is a graduate of Hollywood High School and takes pride in her vegetable garden and is a member of the neighborhood Women's Club.

Roger and Kay Addison are the Posts' original neighbors (replaced later by Gordon and Winnie Kirkwood).

Relatives: Barry Kelley (Carol's father, Mr. Carlyle), Eleanor Audley (Wilbur's aunt, Martha), Jack Albertson (Kay's brother, Paul Fenton).

In the original, unaired pilot version, The Wonderful World of Wilbur Pope, Scott McKay played Wilbur Pope, Mister Ed's owner, and Sandra White was his wife, Carlotta Pope. Allan ("Rocky") Lane was the voice of Mister Ed, and Peggy Converse and Ray Walker were their neighbors, Florence and John Reese.

In 2004, Fox produced a pilot for a new version of Mister Ed that never materialized into a series. The script was based on the original concept of the series (The Wonderful World of Wilbur Pope) and featured David Alan Basche as Wilbur Pope; Sherilynn Fenn as Carlotta Pope; and Sherman Hemsley as the voice of Mister Ed.

Cast: Alan Young (Wilbur Post), Connie Hines (Carol Post), Allan "Rocky" Lane (Voice of Mister Ed), Larry Keating (Roger Addison), Edna Skinner (Kay Addison), Leon Ames (Gordon Kirkwood), Florence MacMichael (Winnie Kirkwood), Richard Deacon (Dr. Baker, the veterinarian). Theme Song: "Mister Ed" by Jay Livingston, Ray Evans.

5423 Mr. Garlund. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1960–1961). Frank Garlund is a youthful tycoon (thirty years of age), financial wizard, and mysterious individual who is a key figure in national and international affairs. Frank's ancestry remains a mystery; all that is known about him is that he was raised by a Chinese gentleman named Po Chang. In flashback sequences, the lives of people who had come in contact with Frank in his struggle to reach the top of the financial ladder are dramatized. Kam Chang is Frank's foster brother. Also known as The Garlund Touch.

Cast: Charles Quinlivan (Frank Garlund), Philip Ahn (Po Chang), Kam Tong (Kam Chang).

5424 Mr. Glencannon Takes All. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 4/19/53). A proposed series about Colin Glencannon, the skipper of a freighter called Inchcliff Castle. In the pilot episode, Colin tries to win the trade of a whiskey manufacturer for his shipping company. Based on the stories by Guy Gilpatrick.

Cast: Robert Newton (Colin Glencannon), Melville Cooper, Myron McCormick.

5425 Mr. I. Magination. (Series; Children; CBS; 1949–1952). Imagination Town is a magical land where children’s dreams come true. It is here that fantasy is used to relate various aspects of the world to children. Dramatic vignettes are also presented to familiarize children with figures and events of past history.

Cast: Paul Tripp (Mr. I. Magination). Regulars: Ruth Enders, Ted Tiller, David McKay, Donald Devlin, Butch Cavell, Johnny Stewart, Joe Silvan, Don Harris, Clifford Sales, Robin Morgan, Richard Boone, Richard Trask. Organist: David Roberts.

5426 Mr. Inside/Mr. Outside. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 3/14/73). Lou Isaacs and Rick Massi are two N.Y.P.D. detectives who buck the system to get the job done. One day during a shootout, Rick is injured and later loses an arm as a result of a criminal’s bullet. Rick is forced to retire and becomes the “Mr. Outside” of the title working as a private citizen to help Lou (“Mr. Inside” the system) solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Lou and Rick join forces to find the killer of a retired cop. Other Regulars: Renee, Lou’s wife; and Lieutenant Valentine, Lou’s superior.

Cast: Hal Linden (Lou Isaacs), Tony LoBianco (Rick Massi), Marcia Jean Kurtz (Renee Isaacs), Paul Benjamin (Lieutenant Valentine). Guest Cast: Stefan Schnabel (Vince Luber), Philip Bruns (Mr. Brack), Brigit Winslow (Nurse), Ed Van Nuys (Fred Wakeman), Melody Santangelo (Hooker), Sonny Grosso and Randy Jurgenson (Detectives).

5427 Mr. Jericho. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 3/3/70). Dudley Jericho is a dapper confidence man who devises elaborate schemes to acquire other people’s money. The Great Georgina is a beautiful con artist who uses her skills as a thief to relieve people of items she wants. Jericho and Georgina often work separately but sometimes find themselves working together to achieve the same goal. The unsold series was to focus on their exploits as they travel the world seeking rich prey. In the pilot episode, Jericho teams with Georgina to dupe a millionaire (Victor Russo) out of the rare and valuable Gemini Diamond. Connie Stevens is featured in three roles. Wally is Dudley’s assistant.

Cast: Patrick Macnee (Dudley Jericho), Connie Stevens (Georgia), Marty Allen (Wally). Guest Cast: Herbert Lom (Victor Russo), Connie Stevens (Susan Grey/Claudine Lucet), Joanne Dainton (Merle Nolan), Leonardo Pieroni (Angelo), Bruce Boa (George Nolan), Jasmina Hilton (Maid), Peter Yapp (Felipe). Theme Vocal: “Mr. Jericho” by Lulu.

5428 Mr. Lucky. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1959–1960). When first introduced (in the episode “The Magnificent Bribe,” 10/24/59), a man known only as Mr. Lucky and his partner, Andamo (no other name given), are seen entertaining the corrupt president (Nehemiah Persoff) of an unnamed Latin American country. At this time it is made clear that Mr. Lucky owns a gambling club called Joba Lobo and a pleasure yacht called the Fortuna.

During El Presidente’s stay at the Joba Lobo, Lucky becomes involved with revolutionaries (who are planning to assassinate the president), when Andamo, a supporter of free government, uses the Fortuna to smuggle in guns.

Realizing that their lives are now at risk, Lucky and Andamo attempt to flee — but before they can, El Presidente is killed by a beautiful assassin named Elena (Ziva Rodann). With Elena’s help, Lucky and Andamo escape from the club. At the dock, they learn from an old fisherman (Francis J. MacDonald) that the Fortuna has been sunk. With the only money they have left to them, the $3,000 Andamo managed to stash, they buy the fisherman’s motorboat and escape. In the second episode (“They Shall Not Pass,” 10/31/59), Lucky and Andamo are seen walking on a dock in Los Angeles (they are dressed as sailors and carrying duffle bags). Andamo mentions that he was glad to “get off that freighter” and has only ten cents to his name. Lucky counters with having only a dollar. Just then, they see a beautiful girl, dressed as a harem dancer, heading for a costume party on a yacht. Because of their dress, Lucky and Andamo are believed to be guests and invited aboard. There Lucky meets Maggie Shank Rutherford, an old friend, whose father owns the yacht. During the party Lucky learns that Maggie’s father, Julius Shank, a con man who is known as Chicago Julius, is in debt to a gambler named 12th Street (Lou Krugman) for $85,000. Lucky devises a plan to help himself and Julius. At 12th Street’s gambling casino, Lucky parlays a $5,000 loan from 12th Street into a large but unspecified amount at the dice table. Lucky buys the yacht from Julius (possibly for $100,000, based on Julius’s statement of the value of the yacht) and turns it into a gambling yacht called Lucky’s. To be his own law and free of syndicate interference (including 12th Street’s revenge), Lucky anchors the yacht, which he names the Fortuna, three miles off shore in international waters. Episodes 1–15 depict Lucky and Andamo’s efforts to maintain an honest operation; episodes 16–34 focus on Lucky and Andamo’s adventures as the owners of a floating nightclub (Lucky’s) when they convert the Fortuna into a supper club (Lucky applied for a private club license when he felt it was time for a change and to avoid the hassle of the police trying to arrest him and shut down the club).

Lucky, who gets his name because he is lucky at gambling, is two-fisted and a master of the con (which he will only use to help good defeat evil). He carries a pocket watch that plays the first four notes of the song “Mr. Lucky” (“They say I’m lucky”).

Andamo, who manages the Fortuna, is a Latin and has an eye for the ladies. He is a genius at the con also and calls Mr. Lucky “Lucky” and “Compadre.” According to Lucky, “Andamo fights with the police instead of cooperating with them.” Lucky and Andamo are not on the best of terms with the police, especially with Lieutenant Rovacs of the L.A.P.D., who, like many other officers of the law, would like to see Lucky and Andamo put away for 20 years.

Relatives: Conrad Nagel (Maggie’s father, Julius Shank), Lillian Bronson (Maggie’s mother, Mrs. Shank Rutherford; no first name given).

Cast: John Vivyan (Mr. Lucky), Ross Martin (Andamo), Pippa Scott (Maggie Shank Rutherford), Tom Brown (Lieutenant Rovacs), Joe Scott (Fortuna Maitre d’), Paul Genge (Police Captain), Della Sharm (Doris; Fortuna cashier). Theme Song: “Mr. Lucky” by Henry Mancini.

5429 Mr. Magoo. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1963). Quincy Magoo is a very kind near-sighted gentleman whose handicap involves him in all sorts of mischief; situations are sometimes perilous but by luck, he always manages to overcome each one safely. Charlie is his houseboy; Prezley is Quincy’s nephew; Waldo is Quincy’s uncle.

Voice Cast: Jim Backus (Quincy Magoo), Jerry Hansen (Charlie/Prezley/Waldo).

5430 Mr. Mayor. (Series; Children; CBS; 1964–1965). An entertainment program that relates various aspects of the world to children as seen through the activities of a kind-hearted mayor of a small, friendly town. The Saturday morning series ran from September 20, 1964 to September 18, 1965.

Cast: Bob Keeshan (Mr. Mayor), Jane Connell (Miss Melissa/Aunt Maude/Mother Homan), Bill McCutcheon (Dudley B. Dudley/Herman Homan), Cosmo Allegretti (Rollo the Hippo/Russell Duck).

5431 Mr. Meaty. (Series; Children; Nickelodeon; 2006). A simplistic puppet series about Josh Redgrove and Parker Dinkleman, two lazy teenagers who dream of film careers and pursuing girls, but instead are hampered by a lack of energy and miserable jobs at the local mall food court.

Cast: Jason Hopley (Parker Dinkleman), Jamie Shannon (Josh Redgrove).

5432 Mr. Merlin. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1981–1982). King Arthur was a student of his; he taught Atila the Hun to brush his teeth; he was born in Wales in A.D. 381 as Merlin Silvestra; his father was an incubus and his mother a Welsh princess. He didn’t part the Red Sea (“I’m good, but not that good”), but he did become a sorcerer, a magician of the highest order who was known as Merlin the Magician.

When the series begins in modern times, Merlin is seen as the owner of a garage in San Francisco. Max Merlin (as he is now known), is 1,600 years old and has fallen behind on the performance of his good deeds. One day, Max receives a visit from Alexandra (whom he calls “Alex”), a gorgeous courier from above, who informs him that he must find an apprentice and teach him the art of sorcery.

Though reluctant, Max places a “help wanted” sign at his garage (which has no visible name; it is called Mr. Merlin’s). It has also been decided by celestial powers that whoever is able to remove a crowbar from a block of cement (like King Arthur and his sword, Excalibur), will become the Sorcerer’s apprentice.

One day while riding his skateboard, young Zachary (“Zack”) Rogers, a girl-crazy, awkward teenager, crashes into Max’s supply of oil cans and knocks a car off the hydraulic ramp. Looking for something to help Max lift the car, Zack spots the crowbar and pulls it from the cement. The crowbar glows (and briefly changes to Excalibur), and Max finds his apprentice.

Even though Max hasn’t instructed anyone since King Arthur, Zack becomes his new student (Zack works part time at the garage and spends 14 hours a week learning from Mr. Merlin). Stories relate Zack’s attempts to learn the art of sorcery, and his and Max’s efforts to help people in trouble.

Zack and his cohort in misadventure, Leo Samuels, attend Mumford High School. Zack lives with his mother, Elizabeth Rogers, at 13761 Havenhurst Road. Leo reads Punk Junk magazine, and he and Zack formed a rock singing duo called Hot Pink Head. Diane is Max’s mechanic; Laurie is another friend of Zack’s. Theme: “Mr. Merlin,” by Ken Harrison.

Cast: Barnard Hughes (Max Merlin), Elaine Joyce (Alexandra), Clark Brandon (Zack Rogers), Jonathan Prince (Leo Samuels), Mickie MacKenzie (Laurie), Sandy Rosenberg (Diane Fishman), Betty Garrett (Elizabeth Rogers).

5433 Mr. Mom. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 11/30/84). When Jack Butler, an automotive engineer, loses his job, his wife, Caroline, takes a position with an advertising agency while Jack assumes the household duties. The unsold series, based on the feature film of the same title, was to relate Jack’s misadventures as a house husband. In the pilot episode, Jack faces his first crisis when his 12-year-old son, Curtis, leaves home to join the Marines. Other Regulars: Kenny and Megan, their other children; and Joan, their sexy neighbor.

Cast: Barry Van Dyke (Jack Butler), Rebecca York (Caroline Butler), Brendon Blincoe (Curtis Butler), Sean de Veritch (Kenny Butler), Heidi Zeigler (Megan Butler), Phyllis Elizabeth Davis (Joan Hampton). Guest Cast: Howard Honig (Darryl Fetty), Pat McNamara (Vernon Wesley), Sam Scarber (Sergeant Preston). Theme Vocal: “Mr. Mom” by Judy Hart Angelo, Gary Portnoy.

Cast: John Sarantos (Mr. Moon), Mark Ganzel (Cosmos), Marilyn Magness (Tanzy), Hank Adams (Barnaby), Marcia Lewis (Fatima), Chuck Quinlon (Stan). Music: Jeffrey Rockwell.

5435 Mr. Novak. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1963–1965). Incidents in the lives of the students and teachers of Jefferson High School in Los Angeles as seen through the eyes of John Novak, a graduate of Yale University who now teaches English (Room 112 is his homeroom).

Albert Vane is the principal (later replaced by Martin Woodbridge); Jean Pagano is the assistant vice principal; Ruth Wilkinson is the girl’s vice principal; Rosemary Dorsey is the school secretary (teachers and students are listed in the cast). Filmed at John Marshall and Hamilton High Schools in Los Angeles.

Cast: James Franciscus (John Novak), Dean Jagger (Albert Vane), Jeanne Bal (Jean Pagano), Burgess Meredith (Martin Woodbridge), Phyllis Avery (Ruth Wilkinson), Marjorie Corley (Rosemary Dorsey), Frank Ferguson (Stan Novak, John’s father). Teachers: David Sheiner (Paul Webb), Stephen Roberts (Mr. Peeples), Marian Collier (Marilyn Scott), Vince Howard (Peter Butler), Peter Hansen (Mr. Parkson), Anne Seymour (Mrs. Vreeland), Kathleen Ellis (Ann Floyd), Andre Phillippe (Everett Johns), Donald Barry (Mr. Galo), Gloria Talbot (Miss Harvey), Steve Franken (Jerry Allen), Larry Thor (Jim Hendrix). Students: Kim Darby (Julie Dean), Tony Dow (Georget), Jimmy Baird (Billy Gee), Marta Kristen (Gail Andrews), Noreen Corcoran (Cathy Williams), Heather Angel (Alfreida “Chalky” White), Brooke Bundy (Shirley Whittier), Beau Bridges (Pat Knowland), Brenda Scott (Sue Johnson), Patricia Morrow (Gloria), Shelley Fabares (Dani Cooper), Joey Heatherton (Holly Metcalfe), Teno Pollock (Steve Acerno), Michael Walker (Bill Russell), Peter Lazer (Arnold Frazer). Theme Song: “Theme from Mr. Novak” by Lyn Murray.

5436 Mr. O’Malley. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 12/20/59). When Barnaby Baxter, a six-year-old boy, wishes upon a star for a fairy godmother who can make his dreams come true, he is answered by O’Malley, a cigar-smoking, jovial, pink-winged fairy godfather. The unsold series was to depict O’Malley’s misadventures as the invisible (except to the audience) guardian of a young boy. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of G.E. Theater, O’Malley struggles to grant Barnaby’s wish of a puppy for Christmas. Based on the comic strip, “Barnaby and Mr. O’Malley” by Crockett Johnson. Other Regulars: Alice and George, Barnaby’s parents.

Cast: Bert Lahr (Mr. O’Malley), Ronny Howard (Barnaby Baxter), June Dayton (Alice Baxter), William Redfield (George Baxter). Guest Cast: Don Beddoe (Dr. Harvey), Debbie Megowan (Janie), Mel Blanc (Leprechaun’s voice).

5437 Mister Peepers. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1952–1955). Jefferson City is a small American town rather than a city. There is the local newspaper, the Jefferson City Press and Collector, City High School, City College, Jefferson General Hospital and, most important, Jefferson City Junior High School, the focal point of the first series to spoof the public schoolteacher.

The hero of our saga is Robinson J. Peepers, an army corporal who returns to teaching (general science) after an honorable discharge (poor eyesight). Robinson is gentle and kind, and his students are all his fans. He is also timid and shy and easily taken advantage of. Robinson was born in the neighboring town of Williamsport where his mother, “Ma Peepers,” and his sister, Agnes Peepers, still live (Agnes is a teacher at the Jefferson Observatory; Mrs. F.R. Peepers is the name on the mailbox). Robinson talks directly to the audience when he feels the need.

Royala Dean, the school’s music teacher, was Robinson’s first love interest. When the series, intended only to be a summer replacement for The James Melton Show, achieved high ratings, it was quickly brought back to replace the Eddie Mayehoff series, Doc Corkle, which was canceled after three episodes. Robinson’s new love interest was Nancy Remington, the school nurse. They became engaged in the episode of 4/25/54 and married on 5/23/54 (Sylvia Field and Ernest Truex appeared as Nancy’s parents. For this particular episode, 50 couples, honeymooning in New York City, occupied the studio audience).

Harvey Weskit is the history teacher. He is married to Marge and is best friends with Robinson (whom he calls “Ace” and “Rob”; Marge calls him “Robbie”). Marge and Harvey became parents of a baby boy (1954) they named Harrison Brookfield Weskit. Marge was born in Chicago, and Robinson calls Harvey, who was best man at his wedding, “Wes.”

Mrs. Gurney is the wife of school principal Gabriel Gurney and is an English teacher. She fusses, mutters to herself, sentimentalizes and forgets what she is about to say (she is almost identical to “Aunt Clara,” the character she played on Bewitched). Gage Clark as Mr. Bascomb, became the principal in 1954.

Frank T. Whipp III is the school’s coach; Madeline Schreiber is one of Robinson’s students. Bernie Green composed the theme.

A narrator opens the show: “NBC television presents Mister Peepers. Created by David Swift. And now, here’s Jefferson City’s most popular general science teacher, Robinson J. Peepers.”

Cast: Wally Cox (Robinson J. Peepers), Tony Randall (Harvey Weskit), Norma Crane (Royala Dean), Marion Lorne (Mrs. Gurney), Joseph Foley (Gabriel Gurney), Patricia Benoit (Nancy Remington), Georgann Johnson (Marge Weskitt), Gage Clark (Mr. Bascomb), Ernest Truex (Nancy’s father), Sylvia Field (Nancy’s mother), Ruth McDevitt (Robinson’s mother), Jenny Egan (Agnes Peepers), Carol Lynley (Madeline Schreiber), Jack Weston (Frank T. Whipp III).

5438 Mr. President. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987–1988). The Tresch family are America’s newest First Family. Sam Tresch, a governor from Wisconsin, was elected the 43rd President of the United States. Meg Tresch is his wife, the new First Lady and Cynthia, Nick and Jennifer are their children. Stories focus on the efforts of America’s “newest First Family” as they struggle to adjust to a life that is more public than private in Washington, D.C.

Charley Ross is Sam’s aide; Clifford Tresch is Sam’s brother; Fred Hayes is Jennifer’s husband; and Lois Guloxton is Meg’s sister.

Cast: George C. Scott (Sam Tresch), Carlin Glynn (Meg Tresch), Maddie Corman (Cynthia Tresch), Andrew Gower (Nick Tresch), Susan Wheeler Duff (Jennifer Tresch-Hayes), Daniel McDonald (Fred Hayes), Conrad Bain (Charley Ross), Eugene Roche (Clifford Tresch), Madeline Khan (Lois Guloxton).

5439 Mr. Quiet. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/2/85). An untitled and unsold spin-off from The Cosby Show about Tony Castillo, a social worker at the Keystone Community Center in Brooklyn, New York. In the pilot episode, titled “Mr. Quiet,” Tony attempts to help a young boy (Papo) who refuses to talk. Other Regulars: Selena, Tony’s girlfriend; and Chester, a center worker.

Cast: Tony Orlando (Tony Castillo), Ada Maris (Selena Cruz), David Langston Smyrl (Chester). Guest Cast: Alexis Cruz (Papo), Pearl Tama (Sonia Terron), Raymond Rosario (Raymond), Angela Bassett (Mrs. Mitchell), Emmett O’Sullivan Moore (Mr. Burdette), Lisa Mordente (Mrs. Andreoli), Olga Merediz (Mrs. Orgtega), Alva Chinn (Mrs. Rodriquez).

5440 Mr. Rhodes. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1996). Thomas Rhodes is a writer whose book has been critically acclaimed but a commercial failure. With his writing career on hold and with no other choice, Thomas accepts a job to teach English at his former conservative prep school. Stories follow Thomas, a somewhat undisciplined person, as he attempts to teach but too often presenting his somewhat prejudiced views on his impressionable students.

Cast: Tom Rhodes (Thomas Rhodes), Ron Glass (Ronald Fletcher), Lindsay Sloane (Zoey Miller), Farrah Forke (Nikki), Alexandra Holden (Dani Swanson), Jensen Ackles (Malcolm), Jessica Stone (Amanda Reeves), Stephen Tabolowsky (Ray Heary).

5441 Mr. Roberts. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1965–1966). The South Pacific during World War II is the setting. Lieutenant Douglas Roberts is cargo officer aboard the Reluctant, a U.S. Navy cargo ship nicknamed “The Bucket” by its reluctant-to-serve crew. Felling he is displaced, and hoping to serve aboard a fighting vessel, Douglas seeks to acquire a transfer. But, by shouldering the antics of his men, he encounters the hostility of the ship’s commander, Captain John Morton who, feeling that the morale of his men preceded Roberts’s wants, refuses to forward his letters to the proper authorities. Through Douglas’s continual efforts, a rarely seen sentimental picture of the war is seen. Based on the feature film of the same title.

5442 Mr. Rogers’ Neighborhood. (Series; Children; PBS; 1970–1975). The program concerns the emotional development of children from three to eight years of age through actual demonstrations and guests who discuss topics. The series is set in the neighborhood of a very friendly and kind gentleman called Mr. Rogers who invites people into his home at the beginning of each episode. Aspects of the world are related to children also through the use of puppets and several kindly people who live in Mr. Rogers neighborhood.

Cast: Fred Rogers (Mr. Rogers), Lady Aberlin (Betty Aberlin), Joe Negri (Handyman Negri), Yoshi Ito (Pilot Ito), Don Brockett (Chief Brockett), Francois Clemmons (Francois), Elise Neal (Elsie), Audrey Roth (Audrey Cleans Everything), Betsy Nadas (Mrs. McFeely), William Barker (Voice of Puppet Dr. Duckbill), Robert Trow (Voice of Puppet Henrietta Crow). Puppets Voiced by Fred Rogers: King Friday XIII, X the Owl, Queen Sara Saturday, Henrietta Pussycat, Daniel Tiger, Donkey Hodie, Lady Elaine Fairchild.

5443 Mr. Romance. (Unaired Pilot; Talk; Produced in 1987). Langdon Hill, the “Mr. Romance” of the title, first talks with studio audience members, then celebrity guests about romance and concludes with a practical guide on how to keep the romance of passion alive.

5444 Mr. Skullhead. (Pilot; Cartoon; WB; 4/24/94). Mr. Skullhead is a skeleton that lives in a rather spooky-looking house next to the cemetery. He does not speak and wants only to be left alone but people feel obligated to help him. In the pilot episode, broadcast on the Animaniacs, an Alon Cosmetics Girl (voice of Elizabeth Lamers) tries to help Mr. Skullhead find a job. Steven Spielberg is the producer.

5445 Mr. Smith. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1983). While driving from Arizona to California with his act, the Atwood Orangutans (Cha Cha and Bobo) Tommy Atwood is run off the road. Tommy is knocked unconscious and Cha Cha and Bobo, frightened by the approaching police sirens, run away. Cha Cha is found by the Humane Society and is later sent to a government research center in Washington, D.C. Six weeks later, Cha Cha escapes from his cage and, while wandering about the building, enters a lab in which an enzyme designed to increase human intelligence is being developed. Cha Cha mixes some chemicals, drinks the result — and is suddenly endowed with the ability to talk. When tests reveal that he has an I.Q. of 256, he is named Mr. Smith and made a government consultant. Tommy, later traced through Mr. Smith, is summoned to Washington and becomes Cha Cha's assistant. Stories depict the adventures of an articulate genius and government consultant — who happens to be an orangutan — as he attempts to become human.

Other Regulars: Raymond Holyoke, Mr. Smith's secretary; Ellie Atwood, Tommy's sister; Judy Tyson, works at the research center; Tracy Randolph, a primate psychologist; Dr. Kline, head of the research center.

Cast Leonard Frey (Raymond Holyoke), Tim Dunigan (Tommy Atwood), Laura Jacoby (Ellie Atwood), Terri Garber (Judy Tyson), Lauren Chase (Tracy Randolph), Stuart Margolin (Dr. Kline), Ed Weinberger (Voice of Mr. Smith), C.J. (Mr. Smith), Bobo (Bobo).

5446 Mr. Smith Goes to Washington. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1962–1963). Eugene Smith is a young patriot. He lives in Jackson County and admires George Washington and Abraham Lincoln (quotes them when the occasion arises). Eugene has no political experience, but after the death of his state senator, he is elected to replace him. Encompassing mature wisdom, boyish charm, warmth and dignity, Eugene relocates to Washington, D.C. and now must adjust to the norms of Capitol life. Patricia Smith is his wife; Cooter Smith is his uncle; Miss Kelly is his secretary; and Arnie is Eugene's butler. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Fess Parker (Eugene Smith), Sandra Warner

(Patricia Smith), Red Foley (Cooter Smith), Rita Lynn (Miss Kelly), Stan Irwin (Arnie). Theme Song: “Mr. Smith Goes to Washington” by Hal Stanley, Irving Taylor.

5447 Mister Sterling. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2003). The daily happenings of William Sterling, Jr., a young, idealistic senator struggling to adjust to the norms of life in Washington, D.C.

William is a bit wet-behind-the-ears as he was rushed into the Washington scene to replace the California senator who died unexpectedly. Jackie Brock is his Chief of Staff; Tommy Doyle is the legislative director; Leon Montero is the computer whiz; William, Sr. is William's father, the former governor of California; Laura Chandler is the political reporter; Senator Jackson is William's aide; Derek Larner is the Deputy Press Secretary.

Cast: Josh Brolin (William Sterling, Jr.), Audra McDonald (Jackie Brock), William Russ (Tommy Doyle), Chandra West (Laura Chandler), James Whitmore (William Sterling, Sr.), Graham Greene (Senator Jackson), David Norona (Leon Montero), Nicole Forester (William's receptionist), Dean Cameron (Derek Larner).

5448 Mr. Success. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/23/84). Vernon Silt is the manager of the complaint department of Dorfman's Department Store. He would like to become a success in life, but he is beset by problems, both at home and at work. He feels he is too easy-going and easily taken advantage of. The unsold series was to follow Vernon as he tries to assert himself and become a success in life. In the pilot episode, Vernon struggles to find a gift for his wife's anniversary after he is robbed by a petite young thief (Louise) of the money he saved. Other Regulars: Helen, Vernon's wife; Libby and Andy, their children; and Lonnie, Vernon's friend.

Cast: James Coco (Vernon Silt), Miriam Flynn (Helen Silt), Viveka Davis (Libby Silt), Pat Cochran (Andy Silt), Murphy Dunne (Lonnie Barst). Guest Cast: Patsy Pease (Louise), Ivana Moore (Marie), Jake Steinfeld (Officer Winston Simon), Jennifer Savidge (Lara), Samantha Lewis (Customer). Theme Vocal: “Mr. Success” by James Coco.

5449 Mr. Sunshine. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986). Paul Stark is an English professor at Kenyon College whose dry wit and fast thinking have brought him through many crises in his lifetime. Then one day he suffers from an accident that costs him his sight. He is now cynical and has been nicknamed “Mr. Sunshine” by his students. Stories follow events in the life of a man who is anything but “Mr. Sunshine.” Other Regulars: Chris, Paul's son (Paul is separated from his wife after 16 years of marriage); June, Paul's landlady; Grace, Paul's typist; and Gary, Paul's teaching assistant.

Cast: Jeffrey Tambor (Paul Stark), John P. Navin, Jr. (Chris Stark), Barbara Babcock (June Swinford), Nan Martin (Grace D'Angelo), Brian Benben (Gary Frank).

5450 Mr. Sweeney. (Live Test Program; Comedy; NBC; 10/14/53). Events in the life of Cicero P. Sweeney, a teller of tall tales who owns a general store in the town of Mapleton. In the pilot episode, Cicero's bragging has his grandson, Kippie, believing that he had been a great war hero when in reality he never left the town. His efforts to tell Kippie the truth is the focal point of the program. The test aired on The Kate Smith Hour and served as the basis for the daily series The World of Mr. Sweeney.

Cast: Charlie Ruggles (Cicero P. Sweeney), Glenn Walkin (Kippie Franklin), Helen Wagner (Marge Franklin; Kippie's mother).

5451 Mr. T. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1983–1984). Mr. T, one of the stars of The A-Team, plays the coach of a U.S. teenage gymnastics team whose members include Kim, Robin, Spike, Jeff, Woody and Toby. Mr. T is a man who cares about children and wants to encourage them to believe in themselves. This aspect is related in stories that find Mr. T and his team battling evil as they compete in various meets around the world.

Voice Cast: Mr. T (Himself), Philip LaMarr (Woody), Siu Ming Carson (Kim), Shawn Lieber (Jeff), Ted Field III (Spike), Takayo Fischer (Miss Bisby), Amy Linker (Robin), Lauren Anders, Henry Corden, Alan Dinehart, Keye Luke, Shepard Menken, Jean VanderPyl, Janet Waldo.

5452 Mr. T and Tina. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1976). Taro Takahashi is a widowed Japanese businessman who is vice president of a company called Moyati Industries. He is the father of Sachi and Aki and has moved from Tokyo to Chicago to head an American branch of the company. In an attempt to help him care for his children, he hires Tina Kelly, a pretty but dizzy young American woman as a governess. Stories follow the events that spark Taro's life — from his life at home to his life at work. Matsu his Taro's uncle; Michi is his sister-in-law; Miss Llewellyn is the building manager; Harvard is the janitor.

5453 Mr. Terrific. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1967). As the theme music plays, an announcer tells us that "A scientist both wise and bold set out to cure the common cold. Instead he found this power pill which he said most certainly will turn a lamb into a lion, like an eagle he'll be flying; solid steel will be like putty, it will work on anybody. But then 'twas found this potent pill made the strongest men quite ill; so the secret search began to find the one and only man. What they found made them squeamish for only Stanley Beemish, a weak and droopy daffodil could take the special power pill. When he took the pill specific, it made him the most prolific, terrific, Mister Terrific!"

Stanley Beemish and Hal Waters are partners in Hal and Stanley's Service Station on Northeastern and Wyoming streets in Washington, D.C. Dr. Ned Reynolds is the government scientist who accidentally invents a source of incredible energy he calls the Power Pill. Barton J. Reed is the head of the Bureau of Special Projects, a government organization that seeks to use the pill as a secret weapon in the battle against crime. Henley Trent, Reed's assistant, has been ordered to conduct a search to find a man capable of taking the special pill. His search leads him to the gas station where Stanley is persuaded to test the pill. Seconds after taking the pill, Stanley is transformed into the invincible Mr. Terrific. Stanley is sworn in as an agent and begins a double life: private citizen and "the U.S. government's secret weapon against crime."

Stanley's Mr. Terrific costume is a jacket with wing-like sleeves (which he flaps in order to fly), a pair of goggles and a scarf—all of which he stores in his locker at the gas station. In addition to flying, the pill endows Stanley with incredible strength and speed and an immunity to harm. Stanley is also not your typical superhero. He has difficulty flying and landings become a problem (he can't navigate). He has difficulty finding assigned targets when airborne (his scarf constantly obstructs his vision) and he has a difficult time adjusting to his secret alias.

When Mr. Terrific is needed, Reed sounds the Purple Alert. Before each assignment, Reed gives Stanley a box with three pills (one base pill that lasts one hour and gives Stanley the strength of 1,000 men, and two booster pills that last ten minutes each). The pills, which are specially candy coated so Stanley will take them, always wear off at crucial moments and Stanley often has to wrap up cases as his ordinary, bumbling self. Three pills is the maximum Stanley can take in one day.

Hal, a ladies' man, introduces himself to women by saying "Hi, I'm Hal, gas station attendant, snappy dresser and lady killer." He lives in what he calls a bachelor pad near the station on Wyoming Street. Gerald Fried composed the music theme.

In the original, unaired pilot version, titled Mr. Terrific, Stanley Beemish (Alan Young) is a shoe salesman for Mr. Finney (Jesse White) and is recruited by the Chief (Edward Andrews) of the Office of Special Assignments, to test a pill that transforms him into Mr. Terrific, a daring but misadventure-prone crime fighter. Stanley did not have a girlfriend in the series, but in the pilot he was in love with Gloria Dickinson (Sheila Wells). Lyn Murray composed the original theme.

Cast: Stephen Strimpell (Stanley Beemish), Dick Gautier (Hal Waters), John McGiver (Barton J. Reed), Paul Smith (Henley Trent), Ned Glass (Dr. Reynolds), Ellen Corby (Hal's mother).

5454 Mr. Tutt. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 9/10/58). A television adaptation of the Arthur Twain stories about Mr. Tutt, a shrewd, respected small-town lawyer in New York State. In the pilot episode, Mr. Tutt attempts to help a girl who claims that someone has tampered with her late grandfather's will. Broadcast as "Strange Counsel" on Colgate Theater (Mr. Tutt was the proposed series title).

Cast: Walter Brennan (Mr. Tutt), Olive Blakeney (Olive, his wife), Harry Harvey, Jr. (Charlie, his leg-man). Guest Cast: Vera Miles (Judy Gregory), Don Shelton (Uncle Ben), Geraldine Carr (Aunt Sarah), Barbara Fuller (Mrs. Phillips).

5455 Mr. Wizard. (Series; Children; NBC; 1951–1965). The basis of various scientific experiments are explained to children through demonstrations. Children assist Mr. Wizard in each experiment and the program is also known as Watch Mr. Wizard. It ran from March 5, 1951 to September 5, 1965.

An announcer opens the show: "Watch Mr. Wizard. That's what all the kids in the neighborhood call him because he shows them the mystery of science in everyday living. Watch Mr. Wizard is brought to you by General Mills, makers of Cheerios, the oat cereal that's ready to eat. A Cheerios breakfast gives you power protein to help youngsters grow strong and adults keep feeling fit. And now here he is Don Herbert as Mr. Wizard."

Host: Don Herbert (as Mr. Wizard).

5456 Mr. Wizard. (Series; Children; NBC; 1971–1972). The basis of various scientific experiments are explained to children through demonstrations. The series, a revised version of the 1951–1965 series of the same title, ran from September 11, 1971 to September 2, 1972.

Host: Don Herbert (as Mr. Wizard).

5457 Mitchell and Woods. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 12/18/81). After a stint as traffic cops, officers Paula Woods and Melanie Mitchell are promoted to plainclothes detectives. Their exploits with the Ocean City, California, Police Department, is the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, which depicts the girls' first days on the job, Paula and Melanie attempt to solve the murder of a man who walks into the police department to report a murder—his own.

Cast: Jayne Kennedy (Paula Woods), Cindy Morgan (Melanie Mitchell), Paul Gale (Lieutenant Richards). Guest Cast: Pamela Susan Shoop (Chickie Anderson), Ann Coleman (Eleanor Martin), John David Carson (Wilder), Tony Burton (Avrom), Michael Maguire (Lawrence), Frank Ashmore (Lance).

5458 Mixed Doubles. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1949). Events in the lives of the Abbotts and the Colemans, newlywed couples who live side by side in one-room apartments in New York City. The husbands (Bill Abbott and Eddy Coleman) are underpaid copywriters in the same ad agency, and the wives (Ada Abbott and Elaine Coleman) struggle to make ends meet on scanty paychecks. The series aired from August 5, 1949 to October 29, 1949.

Cast: Billy Idelson (Bill Abbott), Ada Freeman (Ada Abbott), Eddie Firestone (Eddie Coleman), Rhoda Williams (Elaine Coleman), Bonnie Baken (Elaine Coleman; later).

5459 Mixed Nuts. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/12/77). Dr. Sarah Allgood is a psychiatrist who, like her name, tries to help people. She is on staff at the Rosewood State Psychiatric Center and the unsold series was to relate her comic adventures as she struggles to deal with her mischievous charges (Bugs, Logan, Moe, Gato and Jamie). The pilot episode relates the group's misadventures when they go on a field trip to a swinging singles nightclub. Other Regulars: Dr. Folder, director of the center; and Nurse Cassidy.

Cast: Zohra Lambert (Dr. Sarah Allgood), Emory Bass (Dr. Folder), Conchata Ferrell (Nurse Cassidy), Dan Barrows (Bugs), Richard Karron (Logan), Morey Amsterdam (Moe), James Victor (Gato), Ed Begley, Jr. (Jamie).

5460 The M&M Candy Carnival. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1952–1953). Undiscovered, aspiring talent performs against the background of a carnival. Winners, determined by a judge, receive a $25 savings bond and a week's pro-booking at the Hamid Steel Pier in Atlantic City, New Jersey. The series, sponsored by M&M Candies, ran from January 6, 1952 to June 28, 1953. Charles Vanda is the producer.

Host: Gene Crane. Ringmaster: Barry Cossell. Clowns: Don Lennox, Bill Bailey. Judge: George Hammond. Music: Gene Crane.

5461 Mo and Joe. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/7/74). Maureen, nicknamed "Mo," and her husband, Joe, are a mid-thirties married couple with two children, Julia and Edward. They are also a working couple and have hired a college girl (Iris) to care for their kids. One day, while watching Iris with Julia and Edward, Mo and Joe feel that life may be passing them by. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps that befall Mo and Joe when they try to recapture their youth.

Cast: Louise Lasser (Mo Lambert), Michael Tolan (Joe Lambert), Andrea McArdle (Julia Lambert), Matthew Anton (Edward Lambert), Judith Kahan (Iris). Guest Cast: Adam Arkin (Ralph), Nina Wilcox (Sandy), Marvin Lichterman (Man).

5462 Mobile Medics. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 5/10/77). In an effort to help people in extremely critical condition, Dr. Liz Rheiner receives the funding to start Mobile Medics, an experimental project that uses a sophisticated, medically equipped van to help where needed. Pete Vasquez drives the van; Robb Spencer and Craig Bryant are the doctors who ride with him; and Liz heads the unit from Memorial Hospital. The unsold series was to relate their experiences as they assist people who don't have the time to make it to a hospital.

Cast: Ellen Weston (Liz Rheiner), Jack Stauffer (Robb Spencer), Ben Masters (Craig Bryant), Jaime Tirelli (Pete Vasquez). Guest Cast: Julie Cobb (Cheryl), Robert DoQui (Foreman), Maggie Malooly (Nurse), John Pickard (Fire captain).

5463 Mobile One. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1975). Pete Campbell, a top notch reporter for ABC-TV, is fired for excessive drinking. After drying out and getting his life back together, Pete acquires a job as a sportscaster for WQPR radio (103.1 FM) in Crown City, Georgia.

When Maggie Spencer, the producer of "The 11 O'clock News" on KONE-TV, Channel 1, in Southern California, thinks she needs the hard hitting news stories of the past in order to improve ratings, she hires Pete as a reporter. Doug McKnight is assigned as his cameraman, and stories follow Pete as he uses his ingenuity as a seasoned reporter to go where the news is to get the stories.

Pete and Doug ride in a station wagon; their radio code to the television station base (K-One Base) is Mobile One. See the following title also. Nelson Riddle composed the theme.

Cast: Jackie Cooper (Pete Campbell), Julie Gregg (Maggie Spencer), Mark Wheeler (Doug McKnight), Gary Crosby (Bruce Daniels; works at KONE), Warren Stevens (Police Lt. Baker).

5464 Mobile Two. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 9/2/75). The pilot film for Mobile One about Pete Campbell, a seasoned television news reporter. In the pilot episode, Campbell, an alcoholic, attempts to prove his abilities in order to gain a job at a TV station (KITE, Channel 10 in Southern California. In the series he works for KONE-TV, Channel 1; Mobile Two is the car code). Other Regulars: Maggie, the assignment editor; and Doug, Pete's cameraman.

Cast: Jackie Cooper (Pete Campbell), Julie Gregg (Maggie Spencer), Mark Wheeler (Doug McKnight). Guest Cast: Edd Byrnes (Robert Brice), Jack Hogan (Bill Hopkins), Joe E. Tata (Father John Lucas), Bill

Boyett (Lieutenant Don Carter), Harry Bartell (Philip Ganzer).

5465 Moby Dick and the Mighty Mightor. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1967–1969). The overall title for two series.

1. Moby Dick. Moby Dick, the legendary white whale, struggles to protect his human foundlings, Tom and Tub, from danger.

2. The Mighty Mightor. Tor is a young boy who possesses the power to change his meek self into the Mighty Mightor, a hero of unparalleled power. Stories depict his battle against the evils of a savage era.

Voice Cast: Bobby Resnick (Tom), Barry Balkin (Tub), Don Messick (Scooby the Seal), Paul Stewart (Mightor), Bobby Diamond (Tor), Patsy Garrett (Sheera), John Stephenson (Pondo), Norma McMillan (Lil Rock), John Stephenson (Ork), John Stephenson (Tog).

5466 The Mod Squad. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1968–1973). The word "mod" is defined as "young people noted for their emphasis on stylish dress; often as a symbol of their alienation from conventional society." Pete Cochrane, Julie Barnes and Linc Hayes are three such people — young adults arrested on minor charges and offered a choice by Captain Adam Greer of the L.A.P.D.: spend time in jail or perform specific undercover assignments for him as the Mod Squad. "Times change and cops have to change with it," says Adam. "They can get into a thousand places that we can't. Who is going to suspect kids." Pete, Julie and Linc were headed for nowhere and Adam gave them a chance to change the course of their lives. They are not permitted to carry guns and rely on their street smarts to accomplish their goals.

Pete is from a wealthy family and lived in a 14 room, five bathroom Beverly Hills mansion. He simply met the wrong kind of people and was kicked out by his parents for being anti everything. Pete rejected all the efforts his parents made to help him. He was arrested for taking a joy ride in a stolen car.

Julie had no address. Her father had deserted the family and Julie lived with her mother in San Francisco. When Julie discovered her mother was a prostitute, she ran away. She was arrested in Los Angeles for having no visible means of support. Julie couldn't handle her mother's life of one night stands and just "split." She has lost track of her mother and does not know where her mother is or if she is still alive. Recalling her life with her mother depresses Julie; she becomes bitter and cries.

Lincoln, nicknamed Linc, was born and raised in the Watts section of Los Angeles. He lived in a three room apartment with 13 people and grew up bitter and disillusioned. He believed in the Black Cause but during the Watts riots, he started a fire and was arrested for arson. He has now come to respect people of all races, and color doesn't matter when arresting criminals although he does say, "I hate to fink on a soul brother."

The whole idea behind the Mod Squad is for Linc, Julie and Pete to melt in, not stand out. Adam believes this is possible although his superior, Chief Barney Metcalf believes the Mod Squad are just kids on probation. Adam becomes upset when the squad is arrested as part of a bust. He feels their attitudes will expose their undercover operations. Julie screams, "Police brutality"; Linc uses the Uncle Tom bit and Pete sounds off with his big mouth. At first the cases were tough and Julie said, "How did we get into this?" "We made a deal," says Pete; "And it beats walking the streets," says Linc.

Julie, Pete and Linc break all the rules — from stealing and breaking and entering — to get the job done. Each feels they are now part of something important for the first time in their lives. Although they like Adam, they feel he is too hard to please. Julie is restless during assignments; Pete is impatient and too anxious to make things happen; Linc is the calm one and usually brings focus to the group. See also Return of the Mod Squad.

Cast: Michael Cole (Pete Cochrane), Peggy Lipton (Julie Barnes), Clarence Williams III (Linc Hayes), Tige Andrews (Capt. Adam Greer), Simon Scott (Chief Barney Metcalf).

5467 Model by Day. (Pilot; Crime Drama; Fox; 3/21/94). When her best friend and roommate, Jae, is injured by carjackers, a beautiful model known only as Lex, decides to do something about it and apprehend the culprits herself.

Lex has appeared in Playboy magazine, done lingerie ads and was the Prism Lipstick Girl; to hide her true identity, she dons a black outfit and sets out to find Jae's attackers. When she completes her task and figures that the police aren't doing their job, she decides to continue in her dual capacity — a model by day and a mysterious crime fighter by night (called "The Vigilante Vixen" by the press and "Lady X" by medics. A home video caught Lex running from a scene. It showed the shoulder straps of her black leather bra crossed like an "X" in the back. She also wears leather shorts, a hood and dark glasses). Lex, however, does have a problem leading a dual life — getting bruised (wearing makeup solves the problem when modeling). In the pilot episode, Lex seeks a copy cat Lady X — a girl who is taking advantage of Lex's secret identity to kill people she feels are too evil to live (Lex never kills; she disables them with her expertise in karate, then handcuffs them for the police to arrest). Other Regulars: Master Chang, Lex's martial arts teacher; and Mercedes, Lex's agent.

Cast: Famke Janssen (Lex), Traci Lin (Jae Davis), Clark Johnson (Master Chang), Sean Young (Mercedes). Guest Cast: Shannon Tweed (Shannon), Stephen Shellen (Lieutenant Eddie Walker), Von Flores (Johnny Lee), Jefferson Mappin (Adam), Kim Coates (Tommy Nolan), Louis DeBanco (Uri).

5468 Model Citizens. (Series; Reality; PAX; 2004). Female models are commonly thought of as beautiful girls who do nothing but look beautiful, model clothes and make money. PAX-TV chose to show a different side of a model's life (also incorporating some male models). Here ten models (seven women, three men) have agreed to make the world a better place by doing what they can (manual labor) in the poorest regions of the country. Cameras follow their sincere efforts to make a difference.

Host: Larissa Meek. Models: Chantille Boudousque, Jacqueline Lord. Nicole Spruill, Daniela Melgoza, Gretchen Eakins, Matthew Schaefer, Kellan Lutz, Rib Hills.

5469 A Model Life with Petra Nemcova. (Series; Reality; TLC; 2007). Petra Nemcova, a gorgeous super model, is perhaps best known (or came to world wide attention) when she miraculously survived the 2004 tsunami in Thailand. Petra, as the host of her own series, is seeking a top model (much in the same way Tyra Banks seeks them on America's Next Top Model). Here six hopeful models are put through various tasks to test their modeling abilities. The potential models are chosen from around the world and looks take priority over everything else. The one girl Petra feels has the look to be a fashion model is awarded that golden opportunity.

Host: Petra Nemcova.

5470 Models Inc. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1994–1995). A spin-off from Melrose Place that takes an inside look at the cutthroat world of high fashion modeling. Hillary Michaels is the president and CEO of Models Inc., a prestigious Los Angeles modeling agency. Hillary is ruthless and runs her company with an iron fist (although she puts up with her alcoholic employee, Sarah Owens). The prime time soap opera has all the elements of a hit — seductions, blackmail, back stabbing, stalking, murder and betrayal, but it just didn't catch on and was cancelled after one season (29 episodes). Models Inc. is not the first show about models to fold. Three other attempts also failed: Love That Jill (1958), Paper Dolls (1984) and Living Dolls (1989).

5471 Modern Men. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2006). Doug Jessup Reynolds, Tim Clark and Kyle

Brewster are three men who love women — but are unable to maintain a steady relationship. The three have been friends since high school and now share an apartment in Chicago. Tim works in his father's bar, The Tug House. He is single and always getting dumped. Doug is divorced from Allie and still holds deep feelings for her. He is hesitant to date other women, fearing Allie will catch him. Kyle, a pharmaceutical salesman, believes he is a ladies' man and although he has numerous one-night stands, they are meaningless because he cannot seem to hold onto a girl.

To solve their problem, Doug, Tim and Kyle, decide to visit a life coach and get the help they need to learn how to romance a woman and maintain a steady relationship. They choose Dr. Victoria Stangel, a gorgeous sex therapist who uses her life experiences coupled with her college degrees to help men (and women) solve their romantic heartaches.

Victoria's philosophy is to figure out what her clients need then help them get it. Stories follow Victoria's efforts to help Tim, Doug and Kyle land the women of their dreams — a situation that proves more difficult than it sounds as Kyle, Tim and Doug know nothing about women — and prove it with each episode.

Other Regulars: Tug Clark, Tim's father, the bar owner; and Molly Clark, Tim's sister, a law student who also helps tend bar.

Cast: Jane Seymour (Dr. Victoria Stangel), Eric Lovely (Doug Reynolds), Josh Braaten (Tim Clark), Max Greenfield (Kyle Brewster), George Wendt (Tug Clark), Marla Sokoloff (Molly Clark).

5472 Modern Romances. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1954–1958). Dramatizations based on modern romance stories. Each story runs five chapters and casts and authors change weekly.

Host-Narrator: Martha Scott, Mel Brandt.

5473 Modesty Blaise. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 9/12/82). Modesty Blaise is a beautiful former criminal turned mysterious adventurer who helps people in distress. She is assisted by Willie Garvin, a man whose life she once saved, and most often helps Gerald Tarent, an SIB (Special Intelligence Bureau) agent. In the pilot episode, Modesty attempts to stop Debbie DeFarge and her evil plan to pull off a computerized heist of Wall Street. Based on the British comic book characters created by Peter O'Donnell. Other Regulars: Jack, Tarent's aide; and Wang, Modesty's chauffeur and houseboy.

Cast: Ann Turkel (Modesty Blaise), Lewis Van Bergen (Willie Garvin), Keene Curtis (Gerald Tarent), Sab Shimono (Wang), Douglas Dirkson (Jack). Guest Cast: Carolyn Seymour (Debbie DeFarge), Sarah Rush (Emma Woodhouse), Charles Cioffi (Leo Bazin), Hector Elias (Placido), Pearl Shear (Mr. Turner), Jan Van Reenen (Narvick).

5474 Moe's World. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/9/92). The house on Avenue B in an unnamed inner city is occupied by the Bakers, a family consisting of a widowed mother (Melba), her children (Natalie and Jerome), a grandfather (Gramps), and the spirit of Moe, Melba's 12-year-old son, who was a victim of street violence. The rather unusual series project was to focus on Moe as he looks over his family. The pilot episode revolves around the family's attempts to help Natalie's friend, Jiwanda, who is pregnant and unmarried.

Cast: Deon Richmond (Moe Baker), S. Epatha Merkerson (Melba Baker), Jada Pinkett (Natalie Baker), Kenneth Brown (Jerome Baker), Bill Cobbs (Gramps Abe Baker). Guest Cast: Tisha Campbell (Jiwanda Carter), Carl Lumbly (Peter), Duane Martin (Steve Heisman).

5475 Moesha. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1996–2001). Moesha Denise Mitchell, called “Mo” for short, lives at 6653 West Post Road in Los Angeles with her father, Frank, stepmother Deidre “Dee” and brother Miles.

Fifteen year old Moesha attends Crenshaw High School, hangs out with her friends at the Den, and works after school as a salesgirl at Class Act, a clothing store. She is a straight A student, helps people she believes are in trouble (always making situations worse) and has a knack for defying parental authority and getting into trouble. Moesha attempted a business venture called Unforgettable Vitamins (to help people remember), watched Spunky's World as a kid, and hates to hear the words “Moesha, we have to talk,” from Dee. In the 1999 season finale (5/25), Moesha graduated from Crenshaw and took a job as a receptionist at Vibe magazine (hoping for a break in a career to become a writer). She had planned to attend Northwestern University in Chicago and major in journalism (she was also accepted to USC, Harvard, Duke and Spellman). When the series returned for a new season (8/30/99), Moesha is fired from Vibe (for interviewing Maya Angelou without permission) and enrolls in college.

Frank, a widower, married Dee three months before the series began. He owns a car dealership, calls Moesha “Pumpkin” and hates for Moesha to wear midriff blouses (he has a “heart attack” when Moesha shows cleavage). He believes “the gray hairs, headaches and wrinkles” he has are “a part of raising a beautiful teenage daughter.” Dee is the vice principal at Crenshaw High School. She is desperately trying to win Moesha's love but finding it difficult because Moesha feels no woman can replace her real mother.

Miles has a Chicago Bulls poster on his bedroom door and a sign that reads “Caution: No Trespassing.” He is a talented dancer and often hears “go to your room” for all the trouble he gets into. His most defiant act was smoking weed at home in his room. See also The Parkers, the spin-off series.

Cast: Brandy Norwood (Moesha Mitchell), William Allen Young (Frank Mitchell), Sheryl Lee Ralph (Dee Mitchell), Marcus T. Paulick (Miles Mitchell), Countess Vaughn (Kim Parker), Hakeem Campbell (Lamont Bentley), Yvette Wilson (Andell Wilkerson), Shar Jackson (Nicey Jackson), Fredro Starr (Quinton Brooks), Bernie Mac (Uncle Bernie).

5476 The Mobawk Showroom. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). A live musical interlude series featuring singers Roberta Quinlan and Morton Downey as the hosts. The series, sponsored by Mohawk Carpets, ran from May 12, 1949 to December 9, 1949. E. Roger Muir is the producer.

Hosts: Roberta Quinlan, Morton Downey. Regulars: Carmen Mastren, The Chieftains. Announcer: Bob Stanton. Orchestra: Carmen Mastren, Harry Clark.

5477 The Mole. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2001–2004). A clever reality series with several versions that allows viewers at home to play along. The basic format had regular people, then celebrities as contestants. They compete against each other in a series of challenges for a $250,000 prize (later $1 million). One of the players, however, is a mole, a double agent hired by ABC to secretly sabotage the games (which tests the players abilities to complete certain task challenges). At the end of each episode, the players take “The Quiz,” a ten question survey regarding the mole. The person whose test score shows the least knowledge about the mole is “executed” and must leave the competition. The person (other than the mole—who has all the answers to the quiz) that scores highest on the final exam wins the top prize.

The series began as The Mole (which featured ten players and a $250,000 prize). The series ran from January to February 2001. The second cycle, The Mole: The Next Betrayal, used 13 players and hiked the jackpot to $1 million. The show suffered from a ratings meltdown and was put on hiatus after three episodes; it returned in August of 2002 for a run off of the final episodes. The third cycle, Celebrity Mole: Hawaii (January–February 2003) added the celebrity aspect and kept the $1 million jackpot. The final edition, Celebrity Mole: Yucatan aired in 2004 and had eight celebrities competing for $250,000. The overall series an from January 9, 2001 to February 1, 2004.

Host: Anderson Cooper, Ahmad Rashad. Players (Celebrity Mole: Hawaii): Kathy Griffin, Stephen Baldwin, Corbin Bernsen, Michael Boatman, Kim Coles, Erik von Detten, Frederique van Der Wal. Players (Celebrity Mole: Yucatan): Corbin Bernsen, Tracey Gold, Angie Everhart, Dennis Rodman, Mark Curry, Keshia Knight Pulliam, Stephen Baldwin, Ananda Lewis.

5478 Moll Flanders. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1980). A four-part series about Moll Flanders, a 17th century woman who was married five times, was twelve years a prostitute, and twelve years a thief. A faithful adaptation of the novel by Daniel DeFoe. Contains nudity and adult situations. Produced by the BBC in 1975.

Cast: Julia Foster (Moll Flanders), Karin MacCarthy (Meg), Patrick Newell (Thomas), Paul Lavers (Robin), Ian Oglivy (Humphrey Oliver), David Bentley (Henry), Lynne Jones (Catherine), Kenneth Haigh (Jeremy Earl), Diana Fairfax (Lady Verney), Jeremy Clyde (Edward), Sheila Reid (Jenny), Barry Jackson (William Stubbs), Madge Ryan (Mrs. Oliver). Bal-ladeers: The Watsonsons.

5479 Molloy. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1989). The pilot film for Malloy. Following the death of her mother, Maude Molloy, an independent and outspoken 13-year-old girl, is sent to live with her father, Malcolm, in California. This particular version was set to relate Maude’s efforts to adjust to a life she finds totally different from what she had come to know living in New York City.

Other Regulars: Suzannah, Malcolm’s girlfriend; Tripper and Baron, Maude’s friends; and Robert, Malcolm’s friend. See the following title for information on the series.

Cast: Mayim Bialik (Maude Molloy), Robert Desiderio (Malcolm Molloy), Cindy Morgan (Suzannah), Ashley Maw (Tripper), Bumper Robinson (Baron), Matt Morero (Robert Hutchins III).

5480 Molloy. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1990). Molloy Martin is a pretty 13-year-old girl who attends Beverly Hills Junior High School and works professionally as an actress on the KQET-TV children’s show Wonderland. She lives at 6113 Fullerton Drive with her father, Paul, stepmother, Lynn, half sister Courtney and half brother Jason.

Molloy has recently moved to Beverly Hills following the death of her mother and is having a difficult time adjusting to her new family, especially Courtney, “a crybaby who puts up a fuss when she gets blamed for something or doesn’t get her way.” Courtney, 16, attends the Beverly Hills Private School and is called by students (including girls), “the most beautiful girl” at the school. Molloy says, “Courtney is deserving of the title, but beneath all that beauty she is just an airhead.” Courtney is totally devoted to herself and looking gorgeous is her number one priority. She is easily distracted from whatever she is doing and gets upset by the simplest things (for example, a strand of hair out of place; a chip in her fingernail polish).

For one so young, Molloy is quite knowledgeable and has impressive answers for anything asked of her. “I major in stuff,” says Molloy. Despite Courtney’s childish behavior, Molloy desperately wants to look like her “and become a woman, but without the dullard interior.” However, we hear “I’m being such a girl. I hate that” when Molloy tries to look like Courtney and wear fancy clothes and jewelry that makes noise when she walks.

Paul, the program director of radio station KNAP, calls Molloy “Mo.” Unlike Molloy, who questions everything and tries to understand what is going on, Paul seems to accept everything that happens and considers it all just a part of life.

Lynn, born in Nashville, is a Republican (Paul is a Democrat), and runs a business called Martin Interior Decorating. She is a carefree individual and has a lighthearted approach to life. When Lynn dresses to impress and someone says “You look great,” she responds with “Yes, I know.” She has to eat when she gets depressed and each year when Lynn is nominated for the Golden Foyer Award by the Beverly Hills Decorators Association, she rehearses her prepared speech, wears her “lucky lingerie” and always loses.

Jason attends an unnamed grammar school and has a pet turtle (Lance) and a mentioned but unseen dog named Sparky.

Simon Lansbury is the host of Wonderland. He plays Joey the Squirrel and feels he is worthy of better roles. He is also distressed by the fact that the kid stars get all the attention and fan mail and what fan mail he receives seems to come from “old biddies” who want him to come “and share their trees.”

Cast: Mayim Bialik (Molloy Martin), Kevin Scannell (Paul Martin), Pamela Brull (Lynn Martin), Jennifer Aniston (Courtney Martin), Luke Edwards (Jason Martin), I.M. Hobson (Simon Lansbury), Ashley Maw (Sara, Molloy’s friend).

5481 The Molly Picon Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). Stage and movie star Molly Picon hosts an early (and short lived) program that relies heavily on guests to support Molly in skits. The series aired from March 1, 1949 to April 12, 1949.

5482 Mom. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for Fox in 1992). Carol Ann Cooper-Kent-Canelli-Highland-Ulvik is four times widowed, virtually penniless and determined to snare a wealthy man. Carol Ann, otherwise known as Mom, has three daughters (Belinda, Bree and Nash) and is struggling to teach them her gold-digging philosophy so they too may marry rich men. The unsold series, a variation of the film How to Marry a Millionaire, follows events in the lives of Mom and her daughters as they seek wealthy prospects.

Cast: Loni Anderson (Carol Ann), Amy Yasbeck (Belinda), Erin Reed (Bree), Alanna Ubach (Nash).

5483 Moment of Decision. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1957). Rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on Ford Theater. See this title for information. The summer series aired from July 3, 1957 to September 25, 1957.

5484 Moment of Fear. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1960). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are confronted with sudden, unexpected and perilous situations. While most of the series is composed of repeat episodes from other filmed anthology series, the eight programs broadcast in 1960 were first run and featured such stars as Robert Redford, E.G. Marshall, Laraine Day, Inger Stevens, Macdonald Carey, Fay Spain, Robert Lansing and Peter Mark Richman. The series aired from July 1, 1960 to September 9, 1960; May 19, 1964 to September 15, 1964; and May 25, 1965 to August 10, 1965.

5485 Moment of Fear. (Pilot; Thriller; Syn.; 2/88). An unsold attempt at a weekly series of suspense stories. The pilot, shot under the title “Moment of Fear,” was re-edited as “Attic Suite” and shown on Tales from the Darkside. The story of an unemployed and desperate couple (Ann and Michael), plagued with caring for a bedridden aunt (Ruth) who each devise a deadly solution for their problem.

Cast: Brenda Vaccaro (Ann), Ray Baker (Michael), Paula Trueman (Ruth).

5486 Moment of Truth. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1965). The dramatic story of Dr. Wallace Bennett, a professor and practicing psychologist in a small college town in Canada. Episodes relate the conflicts and tensions that arise from the interactions of the characters — his family, friends and colleagues.

Cast: Douglas Watson (Dr. Wallace Bennett), Louise King (Nancy Bennett), Lucy Warner (Helen Gould), Steven Levy (Jack), Bob Christie (Professor Hamilton), Lynne Gorman (Wilma Leeds), Toby Tarnow (Carol), Mira Pawluk (Barbara Wallace), Peter Donat (Vince Conway), Barbara Pierce (Sheila), Ivor Barry (Dr. Russell Wingate), Sandra Scott (Lila), Tom Fielding (Steve), Fernande Giroux (Monique), Chris Wiggins (Dexter), John Horton (Eric), Robert Goodier (Mr. Leeds), Michael Dodds (Johnny Wallace), Anne Campbell (Diane), Anna Hagan (Linda), John Bethune (Gil Bennett).

5487 Momma the Detective. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/19/81). She’s a housekeeper by profession and an amateur sleuth at heart. She’s Momma Sykes, the mother of Sergeant Alvin Sykes of the N.Y.P.D. and the unsold series was to relate Momma’s efforts to solve crimes — despite the objections of her son. In the pilot episode, Momma attempts to solve the mysterious murder of a man in a hotel room. Other Regulars: Jessie and Andy, Alvin’s children.

Cast: Esther Rolle (Momma Sykes), Kene Holliday (Alvin Sykes), Claude Brooks (Jessie Sykes), William Walker II (Andy Sykes). Guest Cast: Jean

Marsh (Sally Hackman), Frank Converse (Tom Hackman), Andrew Duggan (Edward Forbes), Laurence Luckinbill (Dr. Glickman), Fritz Weaver (Mr. Foster), Paul Dooley (Prescott Ames), Jane Hickox (Ruth), Jack Straw (Norman), James Dickson (Sweeney).

5488 The Mommies. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1993–1995). Caryl Kellogg lives at 13 Oak Way. Her best friend, Marilyn Larson, lives next door at 15 Oak Way. Caryl is married to Paul and is the mother of Blake and Danny. Marilyn is married to Jack; Casey and Adam are her children. The families also share a pet dog named Cosmo.

Jack is an accountant; Paul a computer trouble shooter. Marilyn works from her home as a real estate agent; Caryl, a homemaker, previously worked as a travel agent (she and Marilyn attended Montgomery High School, class of '66).

Adam, 15, attends Valley High School; Blake, Casey and Danny are enrolled in Valley Elementary School. Casey is on the girls' soccer team; Blake plays flute in the school band and has a frog named Spot.

Adam, "not stupid, just highly unmotivated," works at Jolly Meals (a fast food restaurant). Also working there is Tiffany, Adam's girlfriend, the assistant manager. She is a year older than Adam and a year behind him at Valley High. Being pretty is about the only asset Tiffany has ("people say I'm an airhead"). Marilyn calls her "the Giggler" (for her habit of giggling at everything).

Tom Booker is "Mr. Mommy." He is learning the ropes of motherhood when he loses his defense plant job and his wife, Christine, goes to work. Beth and Jason are his kids.

Barbara "Babs" Valentine is a spokeswoman for Kitchen Comfort Products. She is the mother of an infant (Zachary) and "has the ability to fold a fitted sheet." She is overly organized and never lies ("I even put my correct weight on my driver's license").

5489 Mona. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/12/87). Following his retirement from the military, Cornelius Rockwell invites his estranged sister, Mona Robinson, to a reunion in Manhattan. There, he talks Mona into using her savings to purchase a seedy hotel (the Nottingham) that he feels he can turn into a money-making venture. The unsold series, a proposed spin-off from Who's the Boss? was to relate Mona's efforts to protect her investment by helping Cornelius run the hotel.

Other Regulars: Kitty, the reservations clerk;

Don, Packard and Eddie, the bellhops; and Tessie, the head bookkeeper.

Cast: Katherine Helmond (Mona Robinson), James B. Sikking (Cornelius Rockwell), Susan Walters (Kitty McClaren), Joe Regalbutto (Don West), Paul Sand (Packard Vance), Robert Petkoff (Eddie), Billie Bird (Tessie). Guest Cast: David Hedison (Jim Radcliff), Lin Shaye (Mrs. Padnick), Don Sparks (Mr. Padnick), Candace Cameron (Mona as a girl), Gabriel Damon (Cornelius as a boy).

5490 Mona McCluskey. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1965–1966). Mona McCluskey is a beautiful Hollywood film actress. She works under the name Mona Carroll and earns $5,000 a week. She is married to Mike McCluskey, a U.S. Air Force Sergeant who makes $500 a month. Mona and Mike live in a moderately furnished two-room apartment away from the Affluent Society because Mike insists that he be the breadwinner and they live on his income. Mona agrees because she loves him.

Incorporating methods that are a bit deceiving, Mona struggles to supplement the strained family budget without arousing Mike's suspicions. The series was originally titled Presenting Mona McCluskey.

Other Regulars: Mr. Caldwell the studio producer; Sergeant Stan Gruzewsky, Mike's friend; Alice, Stan's girlfriend; General Crone; Jim Stanton, Crone's nephew; Margaret Kincaide, Mona's aunt; and Agatha Kincaide, Mona's aunt.

Cast: Juliet Prowse (Mona McCluskey), Denny Miller (Mike McCluskey), Bartlett Robinson (Mr. Caldwell), Robert Strauss (Stan Gruzewsky), Elena Verdugo (Alice), Herbert Rudley (General Crone), Sal Mineo (Jim Stanton), Madge Blake (Margaret Kincaide), Dorothy Neumann (Agatha Kincaide). Theme Song Adaptation: "Yes Sir, That's My Baby" by Sonny Burke.

5491 Monchhichis. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1983–1984). Monchhia is a city in the clouds above very tall trees. Stories follow the efforts of its inhabitants, the monkey-like Monchhichis, as they struggle to preserve their peaceful lives by battling the Grumplings, the evil creatures who want to enslave them.

Voices: Jack Angel, Robert Arbogast, Carol Bacall, Dick Beals, Julie Bennett, Susan Blu, Bill Callaway, Victoria Carroll, Nancy Cartwright, Peter Cullen, Jeff Doucette, Walker Edmiston, Jennifer Ann Fajardo, Laurie Faso, Peggy Frees, Joan Gerber, Ellen Gerstell, Gary Goran, David Hollander, Hettie Lynn Hurtes, Erv Immerman, Buster Jones, Stanley Jones, Ham Larsen, Laurie Main, Patty Maloney, Julie McWhirter, Bill Martin, Gregg Marx, Scott Menville, Sidney Miller, Frank Nelson, Laurel Page, Robert Ridgely, Shavar Ross, Rick Segall, B.J. Ward, Frank Welker, Evie Williams, William Woodson, Ted Zeigler.

5492 Monday Theater. (Pilot; NBC; 7/6/70 to 8/3/70). The overall title for five pilot films that were produced for the 1969–70 season. See the following titles for information: The Boys, The Kowboys, Me and Benjy, Run, Jack, Run and Southern Fried.

5493 The Mondo Beyondo Show. (Pilot; Comedy; HBO; 3/19/88). An unsold series of unusual (weird) comedy acts that are presented by Mondo Beyondo, a sexy but off-center woman who hosts a public access channel program called The Mondo Beyondo Show. Also known as Mondo Beyondo and Bette Midler's Mondo Beyondo (the title listed appears on the screen).

Host: Bette Midler (as Mondo Beyondo). Guests: David Cale, Leon Chesney, Steve Clemente, Pat Oleszko, Brian Routh, Martin Van Haselberg, Paul Zaloom.

5494 The Money Maze. (Series; Game; ABC; 1973–1974). Two married couples compete. One member of each team stands before a large maze; the other members compete in a series of question-and-answer rounds. The first team to score eight points by correctly answering questions is the winner and plays the Money Maze. Five large boxes, each of which contains one figure of $10,000, are lit. The player must make his way through the maze, touch as many boxes as possible, and return to the starting point — all within sixty seconds. Money is awarded based on the number of boxes touched and what they total — $1, $10, $100, $1,000 or $10,000.

Host: Nick Clooney. Announcer: Alan Caulfield.

5495 The Monk. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 10/21/69). Gus Monk is a tough private detective with few friends who wanders from state to state (with his cat Aristotle) minding other people's business. The unsold series was to relate his exploits as he tackles dangerous cases. In the pilot episode, set in San Francisco, Monk attempts to clear himself of a frame, and an underworld figure of a false murder charge — two incidents which seem to be the same case (to cover the theft of a million dollars from mobster Danny Gouzenko).

Cast: George Maharis (Gus Monk). Guest Cast: Janet Leigh (Janice Barnes), Rick Jason (Wideman), Jack Albertson (Tinker), Carl Betz (Danny Gouzenko), Raymond St. Jacques (Ed Heritage), William Smithers (Leo Barnes), Jack Soo (Hip), Linda Marsh (Lisa Daniels), Mary Wickes (Mrs. Bedford), Joe Besser (Herbie).

5496 Monk. (Series; Crime Drama; USA; 2002–). Adrian Monk is a brilliant detective with the 14th Division of the San Francisco Police Department. He is married to a woman named Trudy and lives in a house on Cole Street. Trudy, an investigative reporter for the Examiner, was killed on December 14, 1997 when she became the victim of a car bombing. Was she working on a story? Did she get too close to something? These are the questions that drive Adrian to continually review the facts of the case in the hope that he will one day find her killer. He often returns to the site of the bombing — Parking Space 5-B in a building garage — looking for inspiration. Trudy's death also affected Adrian in another way.

It triggered a rare anxiety disorder that makes him germ phobic and afraid of virtually everything. The condition immediately interferes with Adrian's work and he is given a 315 temporary suspension (a psychological discharge).

Adrian regularly sees psychiatrist Dr. Kroger and is aided by his full time nurse, Sharona Fleming. Adrian needs to keep busy, but he is still "too nuts," as people say, to return to the force, something he desperately misses. With the help of Sharona, the only person he feels comfortable with, Adrian begins a private consulting business and together they set out to help people in trouble. Even the police use Monk's unique abilities when they are stumped.

Monk has encyclopedic knowledge of strange and obscure facts. He cleans to think and notices everything about people. He has a photographic memory and the deductive skills of Sherlock Holmes. He can spot things at a crime scene that even the most highly trained specialists overlook. Monk can tell the brand of cigarette a person smokes simply by the odor; he can study a crime scene and deduct, quite accurately, whether the killer was a man or woman, black or white and even height and weight. He can rearrange shredded documents and everything must make sense in order for him to perform properly. A person who is neat and tidy impresses Monk. After first meeting Monk, people say, "That's the famous Adrian Monk, the living legend? He's nuts." Sharona assures them, "He's not." In a flashback sequence, it is learned that in high school Monk was on the track team but was even compulsive then.

When Monk studies a crime scene, Sharona says, "He's doing the zen Sherlock Holmes thing." Sharona, a practical nurse, is very devoted to Adrian, but his disorder sometimes gets to her and she exclaims, "I quit," but she always comes back "because I miss Monk." When asked why she works for Adrian, Sharona says, "It's the worst job I ever had but it's also the best job I ever had. I'm having adventures, I'm putting bad guys behind bars, I feel like Lois Lane. How many practical nurses can say that? Not many." Sharona does act like Lois Lane and puts her life on the line to help Monk, who becomes her "Superman" when he overcomes a fear only momentarily to save her life.

Sharona is divorced and lives at 308 Valencia at 28th Street with her young son, Benjy. Benjy is in the sixth grade and loves to draw comics. Sharona mentioned that before moving to San Francisco she worked as a ballroom dancer in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Sharona cannot take a vacation because Adrian cannot live without her.

Adrian carries a good luck charm with him at all times — a key chain given to him by Trudy. When Monk assists the police, it is on “Observer Status” only. His former captain, Leland Stottlemeyer is the one who seems to need Monk’s help the most. Leland is often amazed by Monk’s abilities. “How does he see what he sees? I have two eyes and see everything he sees, but I don’t see what he sees.” It was Leland, who was worried about Monk, who found him Sharona — “She showed up one day and never left,” says Monk.

In later episodes Monk is assisted by Natalie Teeger, a single mother with a 13-year-old daughter named Julie. Jeff Beal composed the theme.

Cast: Tony Shalhoub (Adrian Monk), Bitty Schram (Sharona Fleming), Kane Ritchote (Benjy Fleming), Ted Levine (Leland Stottlemeyer), Traylor Howard (Natalie Teeger), Emmy Clarke (Julie Teeger), Stanley Kamel (Dr. Kroger).

5497 The Monkees. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1966–1968). Micky Dolenz, Davy Jones, Mike Nesmith and Peter Tork are a rock group known as the Monkees (while popular and successful in real life, they are portrayed as struggling new comers with no hit songs to their credit). They live together in an apartment at 1334 Beachwood Street in Los Angeles. Each sings and also plays an instrument: Davy, the tambourine; Micky, the drums; Peter, keyboard; and Mike, guitar. They have recorded such songs as “I’m a Believer,” “Last Train to Clarksville,” and “Daydream Believer,” but, while a success in real life, they apparently have not yet caught on in the series. Right now they are out of work and seeking gigs and stories relate that aspect of their lives (along with the countless misadventures they encounter along the way).

Davy was born in England and is the most sensible member of the group. Micky, born in Burbank, was called “Goo Goo Eyes” by his mother. In one episode, Micky mentions that “I haven’t been to the circus since I was a kid” and proceeds to sing the theme to the TV series Circus Boy (in which he starred as a kid under the name Mickey Braddock).

Peter was born in Connecticut and is shy around girls. He cries at card tricks, gets the hiccups when he auditions for producers, has hay fever and is prone to seasickness.

Mike was born in Texas and was an Eagle Scout as a kid. He is the most righteous member of the group and believes that whatever they do, they should never give into temptation and do anything unethical. They drive a car called “The Monkeemobile” and reside with Mr. Snyder, a life-size mannequin that is seen in their apartment.

Cast: Davy Jones (Himself), Micky Dolenz (Himself), Mike Nesmith (Himself), Peter Tork (Himself). Theme Vocal: The Monkees.

5498 Monopoly. (Series; Game; ABC; 1988). Three players compete and attempt to acquire a monopoly by answering questions. The Parker Brothers game of Monopoly is displayed in a large format on stage. A question is read. The first player to buzz in and answer it wins one of the properties on the board and its cash value is placed in his bank (an incorrect response deletes that amount of money). Four such rounds are played and the player with the highest cash score acquires a monopoly and wins the game.

Host: Mike Reilly. Assistant: Kelly Davis. Announcer: Charlie O’Donnell.

5499 The Monroes. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1966–1967). The year is 1875. With a hope of beginning a new life in Wyoming, Albert and Mary Monroe and their children, Clayt (age 18), Kathleen (16), twins Jefferson and Fennimore (12) and Amy (six), leave their farm in Illinois and head west to find an unknown valley that Albert laid claim to in 1866.

After a hazardous trek through treacherous country, the Monroes reach the banks of the Snake River, the last crossing before the valley is within reach. Although all precautions are taken, including using float logs for the wagon, a rope becomes loose and pulls Mary into the perilous water. Albert dives in after her, and in a tragic moment both are lost. “Now we were orphans. I was the oldest ... I’m Clayt ... I kept wondering what Pa would do. We couldn’t stay here (banks of the river) and we didn’t have a farm anymore to go back to. And up ahead there was nothing but wilderness and one valley Pa had marked with a pile of rocks. But I was the Pa now and I had no choice. I had to find that valley for him.... We moved out into strange new country. All I had to guide me was a map Pa had made ten years before.” After several days, landscape features begin to appear (square top mountains) that fit the map. Soon, they are in “Pa’s Valley.” “Where are we?” asks Amy. “We’re home,” a tearful Kathleen responds.

“The rocks were just where Pa said.” As Clayt lifts them, he finds Albert’s U.S. Army belt buckle and his claim to the land: “Now it was ours to root down, to hold if we could.”

That next day, as the Monroes begin to establish their home, they meet Major Mapoy, an Englishman who heads the Mapoy Cattle Company. He tells them they have settled on cattle grazing land and must move on. But Clayt refuses — “If it means fighting, we’ll fight. We’ve come too far to turn back now.” The Major, being a reasonable man, listens to Clayt’s story and believes him. He allows the Monroes to stay (hoping the harsh life will discourage them), but tells them that although they have won him over, the Wales family is another battle that may not be as easily won.

Shortly after Clayt files a claim for the land in Greenwood City, he meets Barney Wales, a rough-neck horse rancher who claims the valley is his. (Because of the Monroes claim, his land now borders on “the dry creek”; he needs the Monroes land, which is on “the new creek,” for its water. The Wales run horses, not cattle, and are even the enemy of Mapoy). Again Clayt refuses to move out — “Being a Monroe is the only thing we’ve got.” While the Monroes win the initial battle, they find the Wales a constant threat to their safety. “It’s just as Pa said. If it were easy it wouldn’t be worth having.”

The Monroes are called “nesters” by Wales and Mapoy. Clayt wanted to become a sailor and had planned on journeying to San Francisco once his family was settled in Wyoming. Clayt calls Kathleen “Kath”; Amy calls Kathleen “Sister.” Jefferson is nicknamed “Big Twin” and Fennimore, who is slightly shorter, “Little Twin.” The family has a white dog named Snow, and the valley they have settled in is called Bear Valley. Albert and Mary were married for 20 years; Paradox is the nearest town.

Other Regulars: Jim is the renegade Sioux Indian the Monroes befriended (“Big Twin gave him the name”). Jim, called “a lariat Red who drifted in from the north,” was wanted by the Major for butchering his cattle in the bench land. Jim was blamed because he is an Indian; the Major believes he may be innocent and places him in Clayt’s custody — “Any more cattle missing and he’ll be hung.” (The Monroes first encountered Jim on a stormy night when he sought shelter in their camp.)

Ruel Jaxon, Sleeve and John Bradford are employees of Major Mapoy. Sleeve and Ruel, who calls Kathleen “Miss Kathleen,” are friends of the Monroes, despite some initial scrapes.

Dalton Wales and Billy Dan Wales are Barney’s rowdy sons; Lorna Wales is Barney’s beautiful, mute daughter, who, despite her father’s attitude, is sympathetic to the Monroes.

Cast: Michael Anderson, Jr. (Clayt Monroe), Barbara Hershey (Kathleen Monroe), Tammy Locke (Amy Monroe), Keith Schultz (Jefferson Monroe), Kevin Schultz (Fennimore Monroe), Ron Soble (Jim), Liam Sullivan (Major Mapoy), James Westmoreland (Ruel Jaxon), Ben Johnson (Sleeve), Buck Taylor (John Bradford), Russ Conway (Albert Monroe; first episode), Marilyn Moe (Mary Monroe; first episode), Robert Middleton (Barney Wales), James Brolin (Dalton Wales), Tom O’Kelly (Billy Dan Wales), Lisa Jack (Lorna Wales). Theme Song: “The Monroes” by David Rose.

5500 The Monroes. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1995). Serial-like stories about the Monroes, a powerful and ambitious family whose patriarch, John Monroe, is seeking the position of governor of the state (Washington, D.C.). John is married to Kathryn and is the father of five children: William (married to Anne), Greer, James, Gabriel and Ruby.

The Monroes are a family who do not play by the rules; stories relate the sex scandals, the family betrayals, the bribery and anything else that can cause conflict within the family.

Cast: William Devane (John Monroe), Susan Sullivan (Kathryn Monroe), David Andrews (William Monroe), Lynn Clark (Anne Monroe), Steve Eckholdt (James Monroe), Tracy Griffith (Ruby Monroe), Cecil Hoffman (Greer Monroe), Tristan Tait (Gabriel Monroe).

5501 Monster Force. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1994). Monsters, based on those that appeared in Universal pictures in the 1930s and 40s, are recreated to wreck havoc while seeking to escape from the Monster Force, a group of college students who have banned together to stop the rampage. Dracula leads the monsters, which also include Frankenstein (and his wife, Shelly Frank), Bela the Werewolf, Hotep the Mummy and the Creature from the Black Lagoon.

Voices: Philip Akin, Lawrence Bayne, Robert Bockstael, Rob Cowan, Paul Haddad, Dean Hagopian, David Hewlett, Howard Jerome, Ray Landry, Caroly Larson.

5502 Monster in My Pocket. (Pilot; Cartoon; ABC; 10/23/93). In a prison on Monster Mountain in Transylvania, the evil Vampire is being guarded by the good monsters (the Invisible Man, the Wolfman, Big Ed — a Frankenstein type, and the Mummy). When the opportunity arises, Vampire casts a shrinking spell to escape. The spell backfires, shrinking Monster Mountain and blowing it all the way to Los Angeles. Vampire and his evil assistants, Medusa and the Swamp Beast, escape, but they, like their pursuers (the good monsters) are now only one inch tall. Hoping to find help, the good monsters seek out Edgar Raven, a world-famous horror writer who they feel will understand their predicament. Edgar, however, is not at home when they call, but his ten-year-old daughter, Carrie, an avid horror fan, is and agrees to help them recapture Vampire, who now wants to rule the world. (Carrie carries the good monsters around with her in her shirt pocket; both sides are seeking a growth formula to restore them to their normal height.) In the pilot episode, titled “The Big Scream,” Vampire kidnaps Carrie as a ploy to lure her new friends to his lair (the Mid-City Junk Yard).

Voice Cast: April Winchell (Carrie Raven), Rob Paulsen (Wolfman), Stuart K. Robinson (Big Ed), Dina Sherman (Medusa), Frank Welker (Swamp Beast), Marvin Kaplan (Mummy), Paxton Whitehead (Vampire/Invisible Man).

5503 The Monster Squad. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976–1977). While working as a night watchman at Fred’s Wax Museum, Walt, a criminology student, activates a secret crime computer he has invented and, through its oscillating vibrations, brings to life three legendary monsters—Frankenstein, Dracula and the Werewolf. Once wax, but now alive, the monsters hope to make up for their past misgivings by helping people. Stories follow Walt as he and his monster assistants attempt to solve crimes.

Cast: Fred Grandy (Walt), Henry Polic II (Count Dracula), Buck Kartalian (Bruce W. Wolf), Michael Lane (Frank N. Stein), Paul Smith (Officer McMac Mac).

5504 The Monte Carlo Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1980). Actor Patrick Wayne hosts a weekly program of performances by American and European variety acts. Marty Pasetta is the producer.

Host: Patrick Wayne. Regulars: Les Girls (dancers), Andre Cahoune. Orchestra: Dennis McCarthy. Choreographer: Walter Painter.

5505 The Montefuscos. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1975). Events in the lives of three generations of Montefuscos, a large Italian-American family living in New Canaan, Connecticut. Tony is the father, a painter. He is married to Rose and they are the parents of Frankie, Joseph, Nunzio and Angelina. Tony is a dentist and married to Theresa; they are the parents of Carmine, Gina and Jerome. Joseph is a priest; Nunzio is an actor; Angelina is married to Jim and they are the parents of Anthony.

Cast: Joseph Sirola (Tony Montefusco), Naomi Stevens (Rose Montefusco), Ron Carey (Frankie Montefusco), Phoebe Dorin (Theresa Montefusco), John Aprea (Joseph Montefusco), Sal Viscuso (Nunzio Montefusco), Linda Dano (Angelina Cooney), Bill Cort (Jim Cooney), Jeffrey Palladini (Carmine Montefusco), Dominique Pinassi (Gina Montefusco), Robby Paris (Jerome Montefusco), Damon Raskin (Anthony Cooney).

5506 The Montel Williams Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1991–2008). A distinguished daily talk show that presents controversial topics but does not present them in a wild and racy way (like The Jerry Springer Show). The program also has professionals on hand (like psychotherapist Dr. Patricia Johnson) to help people whose situations are overwhelming to them.

Host: Montel Williams. Psychotherapist: Maria Setaro, Patricia Johnson.

5507 Montgomery's Summer Stock. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1952–1956). Original dramatic productions with a regular cast of performers that aired as the summer replacement for Robert Montgomery Presents. The series, which produced 44 episodes total, is also known as Robert Montgomery's Summer Stock. The series aired from July 14, 1952 to August 25, 1952 (6 episodes); July 6, 1953 to August 24, 1953 (8 episodes); June 28, 1954 to September 13, 1954 (12 episodes); July 4, 1955 to September 5, 1955 (10 episodes); and July 2, 1956 to September 3, 1956.

Regular Performers: Elizabeth Montgomery, Vaughn Taylor, Jan Miner, Judy Parrish, John Newland, Margaret Hayes, Anne Seymour, Cliff Robertson, Charles Drake, House Jameson, Augusta Dabney, Dorothy Blackburn, Eric Sinclair, Mary K. Wells, John Gibson, Tom Middleton.

Cast: Henry Winkler (Monty Richardson), Kate Burton (Fran Richardson), David Krumholtz (Dave Richardson), David Schwimmer (Greg Richardson), Joyce Guy (Rita Simon), Tom McGowan (Clifford Walker).

5509 Monty Nash. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1971). Monty Nash is a United States government special investigator who handles top-secret White House affairs. Stories, based on the spy yarns by Richard Jessup, relate Monty's highly secretive assignments—assignments that often involve him in dangerous situations that require breaking all the rules to achieve results.

Cast: Harry Guardino (Monty Nash). Theme Song: "Monty Nash" by Michael Lloyd.

5510 Monty Python's Flying Circus. (Series; Comedy; PBS; 1974). An absolutely meaningless title for a program of tasteless, uneven, and insane material that is ingeniously interwoven into an intellectual and entertaining program. Produced in England.

Stars: John Cleese, Graham Chapman, Eric Idle, Terry Gilliam, Terry Jones, Michael Palin. Regulars: Carol Cleveland, Donna Reading, Katy Wayech, Dick Vosburgh, Rita Davis, Niki Howorth, Sandra Richards, Ian Davidson, The Fred Tomalson Singers.

5511 Moolah Beach. (Series; Reality; Fox Family; 2001). A Survivor for teenagers (as it was described) that has twelve teenagers competing in Hawaii for a $25,000 cash prize. The teens are divided into six two-member teams (the Red, Purple, Orange, Blue, Yellow and Green). While in no way as grueling as Survivor, the show does challenge the teams to use their wits to unravel clues to determine the whereabouts of the money (hidden in an Hawaiian idol). Teams that fail to complete a challenge are banished from the island (eliminated) by the Tiki God. The last team standing wins the money.

Host: J.D. Roth.

5512 Moon Over Miami. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1993). The Walter Tatum Detective

Agency, also called Walter Tatum, Inc., is a private investigative firm located at 668 Strand in South Beach in Miami, Florida. Walter Tatum owns the agency; Gwen Cross assists him.

Walter was raised by his grandparents, Nate and Adelaide Tatum (George O. Petri, Pat Gellar) since he was two years old, at which time his parents were killed in a plane crash. Nate was a famous musician and played sax with the Benny Goodman Band. Walter was fascinated by police and detective shows on television and this influenced his decision to become a lawyer to help people. One summer while working as an apprentice for the Legal Aid Society, Walter's life changed. He saw private detective Gavin Mills (Elliott Gould) help an old lady get her hot water turned back on. The detective did more for the lady than a whole team of lawyers. Walter quit law school and became an apprentice to Mills. He later opened his own agency.

Gwenevere, called Gwen, is the spoiled daughter of Arthur Cross, a wealthy businessman. Arthur has babied Gwen all her life. When he felt the time was right, he arranged a marriage for her — to a man Gwen disliked. Feeling that “My life has no meaning,” Gwen refused to get married and deserted her father and fiancé. In an effort to find Gwen, Cross hires Walter Tatum. Walter finds Gwen, but takes her side and tells Cross he is unable to find her. Gwen, without any money and desperately in need of a job, finds employment as Walter's receptionist. She later doubles as Walter's investigator when she helps him solve a case of bank fraud.

Gwen adapts quickly to her new life style but fears her father will one day find her and she will be forced to go back to live a life she hates.

The series ended abruptly three months after its premiere with Gwen's relationship with her father still uncertain. She and Walter began a relationship, but this too was left unclear. Delfeayo Marsalis composed the theme.

Cast: Bill Campbell (Walter Tatum), Ally Walker (Gwen Cross), Chelcie Ross (Arthur Cross).

5513 The Moonglow Affair. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 2/25/66). The pilot film for The Girl from U.N.C.L.E. about April Dancer and Mark Slate, espionage agents for U.N.C.L.E. (The United Network Command for Law and Enforcement). In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Man from U.N.C.L.E., April and Mark attempt to find a means by which to counteract a radiation projector that is rendering U.N.C.L.E. agents helpless.

Cast: Mary Ann Mobley (April Dancer), Norman Fell (Mark Slate), Leo G. Carroll (Alexander Waverly, their superior). Guest Cast: Kevin McCarthy (Arthur Caresso), Mary Carver (Jean Caresso), Robert Vaughn (Napoleon Solo), David McCallum (Illya Kuryakin).

5514 Moonlight. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 9/14/82). When Lenny Barbella, a deliveryman for The House of Wu, a Chinese restaurant in New York City, witnesses a murder, he is secretly recruited by the U.S. government as a spy to help capture the terrorist who they feel will come out of hiding to kill the only person who can identify him. The episode depicts Lenny's escapades as he attempts to catch the terrorist known as Anatoli. The unsold series was to depict Lenny's exploits as a part-time spy for the U.S. government. Other Regulars: Thomas Marshall Bibb (a.k.a. Mr. White), Lenny's superior; Clifford Wu, the restaurant owner; and Daphne Wu, Clifford's daughter.

5515 Moonlight. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2007–2008). Mick St. John is a private investigator in Los Angeles. He appears to be 30 years old — and has been for 60 years. Mick was 30 years old in 1947. He fell in love with a girl (Coraline) who happened to be a vampire. She turned him into a vampire (bit him) on their wedding night and ever since he has lived a dual life — vampire by day; “normal” person by night. Mick's life, however, wasn't always evil. One night, eighteen years ago, Mick saved the life of a young girl (Beth Turner). The incident changed his life. He no longer wanted to feed on humans for nourishment nor did he want to be the embodiment of a vampire. He turned his back on the traditional vampire life style to help humans in trouble. All is progressing nicely for Mick until he accidentally crosses paths with Beth — now a beautiful young woman who works as an internet investigative reporter (for Buzz Wire). Mick is now faced with a dilemma: the reunion has unleashed feelings that he can't pursue without exposing the truth about himself (in later episodes, Beth, who has faint recollections of the man who saved her, discovers that Mick is that man — and a vampire [catches him drinking blood] and vows to keep his secret). Stories follow Mick as he uses his unique vampire abilities to help people (and Beth with her stories).

Josef, who is said to be the oldest living vampire, is Mick's friend (who thinks like Mick does, but still feeds on humans; Mick acquires his blood [in drip-like hospital bags] “from a friend”). Mick is a vampire of the modern age. Sunlight does not kill him; a stake through the heart will only paralyze him. He can eat garlic and fire is apparently the only way to actually destroy a vampire. See also Angel and Forever Night.

Cast: Alex O'Loughlin (Mick St. John), Sophia Myles (Beth Turner), Jason Dohring (Josef Konstantin), Shannyne Sossamon (Coraline), Brian White (Lt. Carl Davis).

5516 Moonlighting. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985–1989). Blue Moon Investigations is a Los Angeles–based private detective organization owned by Maddie Hayes. David Addison is her chief investigator and the agency's manager. Agnes DiPesto is the agency's receptionist; and Herbert Viola is Agnes's romantic interest and the agency's bookkeeper.

Madeline, who prefers to be called Maddie, was a beautiful and sophisticated model who suddenly found herself penniless when her business manager embezzled her funds. With no intent on working for a living, Maddie begins to sell off her business interests, one of which is a detective agency called City of Angels Investigations. Fearful of losing his job, David Addison sweet talks Maddie into saving the company. They become partners and lovers in the reorganized Blue Moon Investigations, also called the Blue Moon Detective Agency.

Maddie is said to be one of the world's most glamorous and most photographed models. Her face has graced the covers of such magazines as Fashion, Glamour, Vanity Fair and Vogue and she appeared in television commercials as the Blue Moon Shampoo Girl.

David was born in Los Angeles (Maddie in Chicago) and is a graduate of UCLA. He is optimistic about everything. He constantly jokes, makes lewd sexual remarks and sings whenever the opportunity permits, even when it doesn't. He calls Maddie "Blondie Blonde."

Maddie is totally honest and forthright; she believes in people despite what has happened to her. David is immature, deceitful and totally distrustful of people. He'll take any case as long as it means money and often goes behind Maddie's back to find clients.

A series like Moonlighting comes along once in a blue moon. It was something different at the time but production problems abounded and eventually caused its cancellation.

Eva Marie Saint and Robert Webber appeared as Maddie's wealthy parents, Virginia and Alexander Hayes. Paul Sorvino was David's father, David Addison, Sr.; and Imogene Coca played Agnes's mother, Clara DiPesto. Al Jarreau sings the theme "Moonlighting."

Cast: Cybill Shepherd (Maddie Hayes), Bruce Willis (David Addison), Allyce Beasley (Agnes DiPesto), Curtis Armstrong (Herbert Viola).

5517 The Moonman Connection. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1979). A disco version of American Bandstand wherein young adults dance to disco music.

Host: Moonman–Bacote. Co-Host Alfie Williams. Choreographer: Larry Campbell, Kenneth Hale.

5518 Moral Court. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 2000). People with a moral issue appear before a judge. The accuser speaks first and states why he brought the accused to court (for performing an act that he considers immoral). The accused then speaks and states why he believes he was not immoral. Following the statements and questioning by the judge, a verdict, based on the moral aspects of the issue, is rendered. If the judge finds for the accuser, a monetary award (up to $2,000) is ordered to be paid by the accused; vice versa if the accuser was wrong for bringing the case to Moral Court — "Where it pays to be right."

Judge: Larry Elder. Bailiff: Russell Brown. Court Reporter: Vivian Guzman.

5519 More Wild Wild West. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 10/7 and 10/8/80). A sequel to the pilot film The Wild Wild West Revisited that was also an attempt to revive the series The Wild Wild West (about Old West Secret Service agents James T. West and Artemus Gordon). It is now 1890 when West and Gordon are called upon by their superior, Robert T. Malone, to stop Professor Albert Paradine II, a daft megalomaniac who seeks to rule the world with his ingenious and diabolical weapons of doom.

Cast: Robert Conrad (James T. West), Ross Martin (Artemus Gordon), Harry Morgan (Robert T. Malone). Guest Cast: Jonathan Winters (Albert Paradine II), Rene Auberjonois (Sir David Edney), Victor Buono (Dr. Messenger), Liz Torres (Juanita), Candi Brough (Daphne), Randi Brough (Yvonne), Emma Samms (Mirabelle), Avery Schreiber (Russian ambassador), Dr. Joyce Brothers (Bystander), Jack LaLanne (Jack LaStrange), Hector Elias (Spanish ambassador), Joe Alfasa (Italian ambassador), Dave Madden (German ambassador), Gino Conforti (French ambassador).

5520 The Morecambe and Wise Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1980). British comedians Eric Morecambe and Ernie Wise host a program of Burlesque-like comedy skits. Ann Hamilton, Kenny Ball and Peter Hansen assist them.

5521 The Morey Amsterdam Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; DuMont; 1948–1950). Music, songs and comedy set against the background of the Silver Swan Café. Morey is the café owner; Newton is the waiter; Rosemary the singer; and Jacqueline the cigarette girl. The series ran on CBS from December 17, 1948 to March 7, 1949; and on DuMont from April 21, 1949 to December 12, 1950. Irving Mansfield, Barry Wood and Morey Amsterdam are the producers.

Cast: Morey Amsterdam (Morey), Art Carney (Newton), Rosemary Clooney (Rosemary), Jacqueline Susann (Jacqueline), Francy Lane (Regular), Vic Damone (Regular), Mary Raye (Regular). Announcer: Don Russell. Orchestra: Ray McKinley, Johnny Guarneri.

5522 Mork and Mindy. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1978–1982). Ork is a planet about 200 million miles from Earth. It has three moons, and its inhabitants, who resemble humans, evolved from the chicken (their spaceships resemble eggs). Orson is a leader on the planet. He assigns Mork, a former dinner diver in a lobster tank turned explorer who charted 16 galaxies, the job of Earth Observer. Mork is assigned to study life on Earth and to relate his observations to Ork via his Scorpio Reports (which he transmits to Orson via mind transference).

Mork lands on Earth in Boulder, Colorado, and befriends Mindy McConnell, a pretty student who takes him to her apartment at 1619 Pine Street. When she learns about his mission, she agrees to help him. Stories depict their adventures as Mork attempts to learn about life on Earth.

Mork was born in a test tube (there are no parents on Ork). He attended Ork Prep School and travels through time via his red sequined Time Traveling Shoes (size eight). Mork has a pet Orkan Nauger Chump named Beebo and an Earth caterpillar he calls Bob. On Earth, Mork works as a counselor at the Pine Tree Day Care Center and celebrates the Orkan holiday, National Backwards Day.

Mindy, the first girl to play Little League baseball in Boulder, attended Boulder High School, then the University of Colorado, where she majored in journalism. She first worked in her father's store (McConnell's Music Store), then as a newscaster at KTNS-TV, Channel 31, and finally as the host of Wake Up, Boulder.

When Mork and Mindy marry (10/5/81), they honeymoon on Ork. Shortly after they are married, Mork becomes pregnant and lays an egg. The egg hatches and Mork and Mindy become the parents of an elderly "baby" they name Mearth (Orkan children are born old and become young with time). Mearth is a combination of Mork, Mindy and Earth. Mearth has a teddy bear he calls Teddy and attends Ork Prep School one day a month via the Orkan Schoolbus — the 828 Transport Beam.

Fred McConnell, Mindy's father, was originally the owner of McConnell's Music Store and later was the conductor of the Boulder City Orchestra. Cathy is Fred's new wife and Mindy's young stepmother (Mindy's natural mother, Beth, is deceased); she plays flute in the orchestra.

Exidor, the local loon (and Mork's friend), has an invisible dog named Brutus (a Doberman) and an invisible aide named Pepe.

Frank Bickley, Mindy's downstairs neighbor, is a greeting card writer and has a dog named Bickley. Remo and Jeanie DaVinci are a brother and sister who own DaVinci's Restaurant (later called the New York Delicatessen). Mork's greeting is "Na-nu, Na-nu."

Relatives: Elizabeth Kerr (Mindy's grandmother, Cora Hudson; she calls Fred a "weiner"), Jim Staahl (Mindy's cousin, Nelson Flavor), Jonathan Winters (Mindy's uncle, Dave McConnell), Beverly Sanders (Mindy's aunt, Caroline McConnell). Flashbacks: Missy Francis (Mindy as a girl). Theme: "Mork and Mindy," by Perry Botkin.

Cast: Robin Williams (Mork), Pam Dawber (Mindy McConnell), Conrad Janis (Fred McConnell), Jonathan Winters (Mearth), Tom Poston (Frank Bickley), Robert Donner (Exidor), Ralph James (Orson's Voice), Jay Thomas (Remo DaVinci), Gina Hecht (Jeanie DaVinci), Morgan Fairchild (Susan Taylor), Georgia Engel (Ambrosia Malspar; married Exidor), Shelley Fabares (Cathy McConnell), Crissy Wilzak (Glinda Comstock; Nelson's girlfriend), Jeffrey Jacquet (Eugene; Mork's friend), Tammy Lauren (Holly; music student of Cora's), Foster Brooks (Miles Sternhagen; Mindy's boss at Ch. 31), Charles Bloom (Daniel Pierson; KTNS manager), Pat Cranshaw (Jack Loomis; KTNS cameraman), Jillian Kessler (Judy; KTNS weathergirl), Vidal Peterson (The Orkin Elder), Larry Gelman (Al Clemens; Mindy's landlord), Priscilla Morrill (Mrs. Fowler; head of the day car center), Amy Tenowich (Lola; a kid at the center), Stephanie Kona (Stephanie; same as Lola), Corey Feldman (Billy; same as Lola), Tom Sullivan (Tom Bickley; Frank's son), Joseph Regalbutto (Kalnik; alien seeking to kill Mork).

5523 Mork and Mindy. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1982–1983). An animated series based on the live-action comedy of the same title (about Mork, an alien from the planet Ork, who befriends Earthling Mindy McConnell). On orders from Orson, his superior on the planet Ork, Mork and Mindy are ordered to enroll in Mt. Mount High School in an attempt to supply Orson with more information about life on primitive Earth. Stories depict Mork's various misadventures as he attempts to become a typical American high school kid. Fred McConnell is Mindy's father; Mr. Carruthers is the school principal; Doing is Mork's pet; Eugene and Hamilton are Mork's friends.

Voice Cast: Robin Williams (Mork), Pam Dawber (Mindy), Frank Welker (Doing), Conrad Janis (Fred McConnell), Stanley Jones (Mr. Carruthers), Ralph James (Orson), Shavar Ross (Eugene), Mark L. Taylor (Hamilton).

5524 Morning Court. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1960–1961). The program features reenactments of actual metropolitan courtroom cases. Actors portray all of the involved. The series ran from October 10, 1960 to May 12, 1961.

Judge: William Gwinn, Georgiana Hardy.

5525 Morning Glory. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/14/89). Blythe Pickney and Connie Briggs are bookers for a local Pittsburgh television program called The Morning Show. The program is hosted by Manuel Loco Lopez, is produced by Paul Stengel and airs over station WART. The unsold series was to focus on Blythe and Connie as they seek guests for the show. In the pilot episode, the girls attempt to get a 63-year-old couple back together again after their marriage unravels on the air. Donna is Paul's secretary.

Cast: Wendel Meldrum (Blythe Pickney), Gail Boggs (Connie Briggs), Joel Brooks (Paul Stengel), Christopher Mayer (Manuel Loco Lopez), Sandra Searles Dickinson (Donna). Guest Cast: Bill Erwin (Morris Schubert), Eve Smith (Lillian Schubert), Brian Haley (Zach Zabriski), Natalie Core (Mildred), Vito Scotti (Dominic). Note: On screen the credit for Manuel reads Christopher Mayer; in TV Guide and on press releases the credit reads Chip Mayer.

5526 The Morning Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1969). Actor Ed Nelson hosts a program of music, talk and celebrity interviews designed for an early morning time period. Rona Barrett, Mr. Blackwell and Dr. Julius Sumner Miller are the regulars.

5527 Morning Star. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1965–1966). “No matter how dark the night there is always a new dawn to come. The sun is but a Morning Star....” The dramatic story of Kathy Elliott, a model caught in the intrigue and excitement of the high fashion industry in New York City. Episodes relate her struggles “facing today and looking forward to tomorrow’s bright promise.”

5528 Morning Star/Evening Star. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1986). When a fire destroys the Morning Star Children’s Orphanage in Birchfield County, California, Debbie Flynn, manager of the Evening Star Retirement Home, arranges for the homeless orphans to remain with her senior citizens. Stories relate the heartwarming adventures of the residents of Evening Star as the members share each others’ joys and sorrows. Other Regulars: Bob, a social worker; the senior citizens: Binnie, Bill, Kathy, Excell, Gordon and Alice (married), Martha and Nora; and the orphans: Lisa, Sarah and Alan (sister and brother), Eugenia and Doug.

Cast: Sherry Hursey (Debbie Flynn), Darrell Larson (Bob Lane), Sylvia Sidney (Binnie Byrd Baylor), Jeff Corey (Bill MacGregor), Elizabeth Wilson (Kathy Kelly), Scatman Crothers (Excell Davis), Mason

Adams (George Blair), Teresa Wright (Alice Blair), Ketty Lester (Nora Blake), Kate Reid (Martha Cameron), Tammy Lauren (Lisa Thurston), Missy Francis (Sarah Bishop), Fred Savage (Alan Bishop), Ebonie Smith (Eugenia Waters), Leaf Phoenix (Doug Roberts).

5529 Mortal Kombat. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1995–1998). An adaptation of the video game that produced three series: Mortal Kombat (1995), Mortal Kombat: Defenders of the Realm (1996) and Mortal Kombat: Conquest (1998).

Mortal Kombat is a tournament where participants duel to the death. In the first series, Rayden, the Lightning God, guides Liu Kang, a warrior; Sonya Blade, a police detective; and Johnny Cage, a martial arts movie star, to a remote island where a Shaolin tournament of Mortal Kombat will be held. Here, Liu, Sonya and Johnny must battle alien warriors to save the Earth. Failure to do so, as prescribed in Mortal Kombat, will allow the aliens to enter the Earth’s realm and take over.

The second series, Mortal Kombat: Defenders of the Realm, finds alien fighters from Mortal Kombat tournaments entering the Earth realm to begin their quest of domination. An elite team of Earth warriors is assembled to stop them. Stories relate the team’s efforts to locate and battle the aliens before the tournament is lost and the Earth becomes dominated by aliens.

The final series, Mortal Kombat: Conquest, picks up from the prior series with warrior Kung Lao defeating the evil alien Shang Tsung and saving the Earth realm. As Kung Lao begins a quest to train a new generation of fighters for future Mortal Kombat tournaments, an exiled Shang Tsung begins his quest — thwart Kung Lao and his young warriors, Siro and Taja, before he can accomplish his goal. Stories relate Siro, Taja and Kung Lao’s battle against Shang Tsung.

Mortal Kombat Voice Cast: Brian Tochi (Liu Kang), Olivia D’Abo (Sonya Blade), Clancy Brown (Rayden), Luke Perry (Sub-Zero), Cree Summer (Princess Kitana).

Mortal Kombat: Defenders of the Realm Voice Cast: Clancy Brown (Rayden), Brian Tochi (Liu Kang), Olivia D’Abo (Sonya Blade), Cree Summer (Princess Kitana), Luke Perry (Sub-Zero), Tod Thawley (Nightwolf), Dorian Harewood (Jax), Ron Perlman (Kurtis Stryker).

Mortal Kombat: Conquest Voice Cast: Paolo Montalban (Kung Lao), Daniel Bernhardt (Siro), Kristanna Loken (Taja), Jeffrey MEEK (Rayden), Bruce Locke (Shang Tsung), Tracy Douglas (Vorpax), Sultan Uddin (Noob Saibot).

5530 Morton and Hayes. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1991). “Everybody remembers great comedy teams like Laurel and Hardy and Abbott and Costello.

But who remembers Morton and Hayes — nobody!” The reason why nobody remembers Morton and Hayes, says host Rob Reiner, is “because their films were thought lost forever in a tragic fire. But recently in Los Angeles, while workers were either in the process of tearing down a Burger King to make way for a Sizzlers, or vice versa, a rusty, battered old vault was discovered.” Inside that vault more than 100 black and white “Morton and Hayes” classic comedy shorts of the 1930s and 1940s were found. The prints were restored and presented for the first time on television by Rob Reiner in a weekly series (which aired only six “Morton and Hayes” classics).

Chick Morton and Eddie Hayes began their career in vaudeville with a mind-reading act called the Great Vincenzo (Chick) and Al (Eddie). Chick, who is thin, was the straight man; Eddie, who is overweight, was the foil. They were discovered by Max King, a filmmaker, who produced the comedy shorts. Their earliest known film is The Vase Shop; their last film, Sheeps, made $19 on opening day.

The success of Morton and Hayes comedies spawned fan clubs. People just couldn't get enough of them. By 1939 virtually every child had in his possession Morton and Hayes hand puppets. For adults there were Morton and Hayes coffee mugs, and “for a more comfortable walking experience, you could purchase a pair of Morton and Hayes foot pads.” In 1948 Max released the boys from their contracts. They last appeared together on The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour on CBS in 1968. Eddie became rich through investments. Chick gambled, drank and was slapped with four paternity suits. He did a guest shot on Hawaii Five-0 and some television commercials before he retired to the Old Actors' Home in San Fernando. Morton and Hayes were reunited for the first time in 23 years by Rob Reiner in the final two episodes of the series. See also Partners in Life.

Cast: Rob Reiner (Host), Kevin Pollak (Chick Morton), Bob Amaral (Eddie Hayes).

5531 The Morton Downey, Jr. Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1988). A talk show that focuses, for the most part, on political issues (as opposed to the personal issues of guests) with opponents from both sides of an issue presenting their views on the topic at hand.

Host: Morton Downey, Jr.

5532 Morton's by the Bay. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/29/89). When Isidore Morton retires, he turns over operation of his Queens, New York, catering business, Morton's by the Bay, to his incompetent son, Junior. Unknown to Junior, Isidore has made Maggie, his assistant for 13 years, the real boss. The unsold series was to relate Maggie's efforts to cover for Junior and keep the business afloat. Other Regulars: Patty, Maggie's assistant; Tina, the receptionist; and Harry, the salesman.

Cast: Nell Carter (Maggie), Alan Ruck (Junior Morton), Stephanie Hodge (Patty), Johnnie Karam (Tina), Louis Guss (Harry), Barney Martin (Isidore Morton). Guest Cast: Kate Vernon (Kathy Davenport), Greg Ramos (Edison). Theme Vocal: “To the Top” by Nell Carter.

5533 Moscow Bureau. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/6/86). Christine Nichols, who prefers to be called Chris, is a beautiful magazine reporter for News Today. When Chris is assigned to the Moscow Bureau, she has high hopes of becoming the new bureau chief when she hears rumors that the current chief (Herb Medlock) is about to retire. When Chris arrives in the USSR, she finds disappointment when Herb changes his mind and decides to keep his job. The unsold series was to relate Chris's misadventures as she seeks stories for the magazine and prove herself worthy of one day replacing Herb. Other Regulars: Sasha, the Russian translator; Connie, the American TV reporter; and Tim and Nigel, rival magazine reporters who try to scoop Chris.

Cast: Caroline McWilliams (Chris Nichols), William Windom (Herb Medlock), Elya Baskin (Sasha Zhukov), Nancy Lane (Connie Uecker), Dennis Drake (Tim Carmichael), Barrie Ingram (Nigel Blake). Guest Cast: Michael Zaslow (Phil), James Newell and Charles Knox Robinson (Reporters).

5534 Moses the Lawgiver. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1975). An eight episode series that is set in Egypt during the 13th century and drawn from the Book of Exodus. The story follows Moses as he defies the Egyptian empire to deliver the Jews from their enslavement and lead them to the Promised Land.

Cast: Burt Lancaster (Moses), Will Lancaster (Young Moses), Anthony Quayle (Aaron), Irene Papas (Zipporah), Ingrid Thulin (Miriam), Laurent Terzieff (Mernephta), Simonetta Stefanelli (Cotbi), Ahron Ipale (Joshua), Martina Berti (Eliseba), Didi Lukof (Gherson), Fausto Di Bella (Zimri). Narrator: Richard Johnson.

5535 The Most Deadly Game. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1970–1971). Ethan Arcane is a master criminologist with offices in Los Angeles. Although aging, Ethan cannot force himself to retire. In order to continue what he loves doing, he hires two young detectives to assist him: Vanessa Smith and Jonathan Croft.

Vanessa and Jonathan are both recent criminology student graduates. Vanessa is a beautiful young woman who could easily become a fashion model but whose keen interest in helping the police solve crimes has led her down a different — and more dangerous path. Jonathan, the son of a police officer, also has deep feelings about bringing criminals to justice and has chosen to continue a family tradition. They are both eager to learn from Ethan and stories relate their efforts (working as legmen for Ethan) to solve crimes of the most deadly nature — murder. The series was originally titled Zig Zag and set to star Inger Stevens.

Cast: Ralph Bellamy (Ethan Arcane), Yvette Mimieux (Vanessa Smith), George Maharis (Jonathan Croft).

5536 The Most in Music. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966). A program of music and songs that are tailored to the talents of its guest hosts, including Barbara McNair, Vikki Carr and Johnny Mathis.

Regulars: The Irving Davies Dancers, The Mike Sammes Singers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

5537 The Most Outrageous Moments. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2006). John Cramer narrates a program of outtakes from movies and foreign and domestic television shows; sporting mishaps and home video accidents caught on tape (for which the sender receives $1,000).

5538 Most Wanted. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1976–1977). The Most Wanted Unit is an elite law enforcement division of the Los Angeles Police Department that is designed to apprehend criminals on the Most Wanted List. The unit is headed by Captain Lincoln Evers and overseen by Dan Stoddard, the city's mayor. Sergeant Charlie Nelson and Officer Kate Manners assist Lincoln.

Cast: Robert Stack (Capt. Lincoln Evers), Shelly Novack (Sgt. Charlie Nelson), Jo Ann Harris (Off. Kate Manners), Hari Rhodes (Mayor Dan Stoddard).

5539 Mother and Me, M.D. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/14/79). Barrie Tucker is a young female doctor who has been assigned to do her internship at Memorial Hospital in New York City. The hospital also employs her mother, Lil Brenner, as one of its head nurses. The unsold series was to focus on the problems that arise with mother and daughter working in the same hospital. Other Regulars: Evan, Lil's neighbor; and doctors Mace Oatfield and Sam Kanin.

Cast: Leah Ayres (Barrie Tucker), Rue McClanahan (Lil Brenner), Jack Riley (Evan Murray), Kenneth Gilman (Mace Oatfield), Howard Witt (Sam Kanin).

5540 Mother, Jugs and Speed. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/17/78). The F and B Private Ambulance Company is a near-bankrupt operation owned by the greedy Harry Fishbine. The unsold series, based on the feature film of the same title, was to follow the antics of three of Harry's employees: Mother, the hard-drinking driver; Jugs, the busy paramedic; and Speed, the embittered ex-cop. In the pilot episode, the reckless paramedics scheme for a way to get Harry's business license renewed — despite endless complaints from the Public Utilities Commission that F and B is a danger to the ill and injured. Other Regulars: Whiplash, Harry's lawyer; Harry's wife (no first name given) and Murdock, an employee.

Cast: Ray Vitte (Mother), Joanne Nail (Jugs), Joe Penny (Speed), Harvey Lembeck (Harry Fishbine), Shay Duffin (Whiplash Moran), Barbara Minkus (Mrs. Fishbine), Rod McCary (Murdock). Guest Cast: Jan Shutan (Mrs. Barry), Charlotte Stewart (Iris), Marcus Smythe (Tom).

5541 Mothers Day. (Series; Game; ABC; 1958–1959). Three mothers compete in various contests based on the operation of a household. The winners, those who successfully complete all tasks, are crowned "Mother for a Day" and receive merchandise prizes. The series ran from October 13, 1958 to January 2, 1959.

Host: Dick Van Dyke. Assistant: Dotty Mack, Betty Anders.

5542 The Mothers-in-Law. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1967–1969). Herbert ("Herb") Hubbard is a private practice lawyer who resides at 1805 Ridgeway Drive in Los Angeles with his wife, Eve, and their daughter, Suzie. Living next door, at 1803 Ridgeway, are Roger Buell, a television script writer, his wife, Kaye, and their son, Jerry.

Eve and Kaye became pregnant at about the same time and Suzie and Jerry grew up together. They played together and eventually fell in love with each other. After graduating from high school, they eloped and moved into the Hubbards' garage, which they converted into an apartment (Suzie and Jerry planned on a church wedding, but their meddling mothers-in-law forced them to elope).

Suzie and Jerry attend college (UCLA); they live next door to their parents and they have a difficult time finding any privacy or peace as Eve and Kaye constantly interfere in their lives. Stories focus on the newlyweds efforts to live a life of their own by finding a way to stop their mothers from running their lives.

In the 1940s, Roger was a radio writer and scripted such shows as The First Nighter, The Lone Ranger and Miss Primrose of Feathertop Hill. He now writes freelance for television. Roger hardly understands Kaye — "It's probably the one thing that holds our marriage together." Roger calls Kaye "Creampuff"; Kaye calls Roger "Cupcake." Kaye was in show business before she married Roger and sang (as Angelina DiVina, "The Little Girl with the Big Voice") in the Ozzie Snick Orchestra and with Charlie Banks and His Ten Tellers.

In the original, unaired pilot film, Kay Cole played the role of Suzie Hubbard. Theme: "The Mothers-in-Law," by Wilbur Hatch.

Cast: Eve Arden (Eve Hubbard), Herbert Rudley (Herb Hubbard), Kaye Ballard (Kaye Buell), Roger

C. Carmel (Roger Buell), Richard Deacon (Roger Buell; later), Deborah Walley (Suzie Hubbard), Jerry Fogel (Jerry Hubbard), Desi Arnaz (Raphael del Gado; Kaye and Eve's friend), Herbert Voland (Dr. Butler; Suzie's pediatrician).

5543 Motor Mouse. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1970–1971). A spin-off from The Cattanooga Cats. Motor Mouse tells the story of a cat (Auto Cat) and his endless but fruitless attempts to beat a mouse (Motor Mouse) in a car race. The second segment, It's the Wolf; relates the efforts of Mildew Wolf to acquire a decent meal—in the form of Lambsy, a poor, defenseless lamb.

Voice Cast: Marty Ingels (Auto Cat), Dick Curtis (Motor Mouse), Paul Lynde (Mildew Wolf), Marty Ingels (Lambsy), Allan Melvin (Bristol Hound).

5544 The Motorola Television Hour. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953–1954). A series of live dramatic presentations from New York City. The series, sponsored by the Motorola Corporation, produced 15 episodes and ran from November 3, 1953 to May 18, 1954.

Performers Include: Eddie Albert, Jackie Cooper, Jane Wyatt, Wallace Ford, Jack Palance, Elisha Cook, Lee Marvin, Vicki Cummings, Walter Matthau, Phyllis Thaxter, Horace McMahon, Basil Rathbone, Roberta Peters, Oscar Homolka, Leora Dana, Estelle Winwood, John Raitt, Elaine Stritch, Hume Cronyn, Arnold Moss, Charlie Ruggles, Lisa Kirk.

5545 Motown Revue. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1985). A five-part series that salutes Detroit performers and the hit songs of the 1960s, 1970s and 1980s. Robert Illes and Steve Binder are the producers.

Host: Smokey Robinson. Regulars: Arsenio Hall, Leo O'Brien, The Hitsville Gang Dancers Music: Bruce Miller.

5546 The Mountain. (Series; Drama; WB; 2004). David Carver, Sr. was a man of vision. After winning land (Boundary Mountain) in a poker game, he founded a town and built an escapist playground for sports fanatics and wealthy tourists. After his death, the resort went to his grandson, David Carver, Jr., a free spirit who dreams of becoming a world-class motor cross racer. It was Will, his older brother who was expected to inherit the land (especially since he was already attending business school and had plans for Boundary Mountain) but didn't. Conflict arises within the family as David, saddled with a responsibility he never wanted, finds himself battling his family, as well as outsiders who want the mountain, to maintain and protect his grandfather's legacy.

Cast: Oliver Hudson (David Carver, Jr.), Anson Mount (Will Carver), Barbara Hershey (Gennie Carver), Tara Thompson (Shelly Carver), Elizabeth Bogush (Maxine Dowling), Tommy Dewey (Michael Dowling), Alana De La Garza (Maria Servano), Penn Badgley (Sam Tunney), Jonathan Urb (Travis Kurri), Chad Everett (David Carver, Sr.; pilot).

5547 The Mouse Factory. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1972). Guest celebrities, assisted by clips from various Walt Disney-produced feature films, attempt to explain various aspects of the world to children. Guests hosts the program.

Guests (with Topics Hosted): Annette Funicello ("Mickey"), Jo Anne Worley ("Women's Lib"), Johnny Brown ("Folk Tale Favorites"), Phyllis Diller ("Spooks and Magic"), Don Knotts ("Physical Fitness"), Dom DeLuise ("Great Outdoors"), Joe Flynn ("Water Sports"), John Byner ("Men at Work"), Jonathan Winters ("Interplanetary Travel"), Jim Backus ("Home Owners"), Wally Cox ("Back to Nature"), John Astin ("Pluto"), Shari Lewis ("Cats").

5548 The Mouse That Roared. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1966). In 1480 an Englishman named Roger Fenwick founded the Grand Duchy of Fenwick, the smallest country in the world (located in the French Alps and only 15¾ square miles) and the only English-speaking European country. Fenwick was not only the founding father, but he also fathered a lot, hence some citizens tend to look alike, such as the current ruler, Duchess Gloriana XII, its prime minister, Count Rupert of Mountjoy, and its forest ranger/Grand Constable of the Armed Forces, Tully Bascomb. Fenwick's major weapon is the long bow and it has been at peace for over 500 years. Its only export is Pino Grand Fenwick, a wine that is sold to the United States. The unsold series was to focus on life in Fenwick and the efforts of its leaders to make the nation economically strong again after a California wine bottler creates the imitation Pino Grand Enwick, sells it at a lower price and plunges Fenwick into bankruptcy. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Sid Caesar (Gloriana XII Rupert of Mountjoy), Tully Bascomb, Joyce Jameson (Eleanor), Richard Deacon (Bender).

5549 Mousterpiece Theater. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1983). George Plimpton hosts a series of animated Disney shorts that are broadcast under the umbrella title of Mousterpiece Theater (a takeoff on the PBS series Masterpiece Theater which broadcast British programs).

5550 The Movie Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969). Two three-member teams compete in a game based on films and film stars. The team with the highest score at the end of a series of question-and-answer rounds is the winner and receives $250.

Host: Sonny Fox, Larry Blyden. Assistant: Army Archerd. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

5551 The Movie Museum. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1954). Paul Killiam is the host (the Curator) for a series that features screenings of theatrical comedy shorts of the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s.

5552 Movie Stars. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1999–2000). Reese Hardin, “America’s Leading Action Star,” and Jacey Wyatt, “America’s Favorite Leading Lady,” are married. They live in Malibu, California, and are the parents of Apache and Moonglow. Also living with them is Lori Hardin, Reese’s daughter from a previous marriage.

Reese has his own Kimbo Toys action figure (Reese Hardin — Navy Seal), his picture on a cereal box (Flutie Flakes — although he snacks on Honey Heroes cereal) and has been voted “the World’s Sexiest Man” by Appeal Weekly magazine. He is known as “Reese Hardin, Action Star,” and has made such films as Clash of the Titans (actually starring Harry Hamlin), Lethal Impact and Sudden Vengeance. It was on the film Cyber Death 2000 that Reese first met Jacey (she played “the annoying mime who got vaporized”). He is represented by the CAA Agency (Jacey by the William Morris Agency).

Jacey is a three-time Oscar nominee; Reese is a People’s Choice Award winner. Jacey “gets the movies that receive praise” while Reese “makes those with the word ‘lethal’ in the title and gross three billion dollars.” Jacey has made such films as Joan of Arc and A Perfect Fool and is sometimes called “the biggest chick star around.” Jacey was raised in Bakersfield by her mother Audrey, a stripper (at the Extreme Turbulence Room) who posed nude for Playboy’s “Moms of the Stars” pictorial.

Lori came to live with her father “when things got too tense in Ohio. You burn down one Dairy Queen and they never forget.” Lori first attended Buchanan Prep School (“Geek Prep” as she called it), then the “cool” Crosswinds High School. She is 17, gorgeous, and has a love-hate relationship with Jacey (she also borrows much of Jacey’s wardrobe — which “looks great on Jacey, but fabulous on me”).

Apache and Moonglow attend Buchanan Prep. Apache hates his name and Reese explains “that I was into the American Indian movement and my spiritual guide said for me to name you after a famous Indian.” Moonglow seems content with her name. Apache walks celebrities’ dogs to earn extra money. Moonglow has a pet hamster (Popeye) and when Reese takes her to the set, Jacey warns him not to let her ride the camera crane (she has motion sickness).

Todd Hardin is Reese’s brother, an actor who gets the least desirable roles. He has been in Titanic (frozen corpse number 3), Babe, Pig in the City (voice of Nick the Ferret), Starship Troopers (“the guy who gets crushed by the giant roach”), Deep Impact (asteroid victim 702) and Fargo (the leg sticking out of the wood chipper). He is proud of his starring role in a Mentos commercial. While Reese has a house that overlooks the Pacific Ocean, Todd lives in an apartment that overlooks a homeless guy with a sock puppet called Eddie. Todd attended Juilliard and the Actors Studio, and went to Hollywood with great expectations for a role in The Sting II. Reese tagged along “to race motorcycles and chase chicks.” Reese got into an altercation with a producer, punched his lights out and got the jobs. Todd frequents the Juice Bar and plays poker with his friends “Stallone, Swayze and Travolta” — Frank Stallone, Don Swayze and Joey Travolta — the brothers of famous stars who feel as Todd does (that their brothers have taken all the glory). Todd, Frank, Don and Joey pooled their resources and opened their own juice bar, “L.A.’s Hottest Spot,” Squeezeze This.

Cast: Harry Hamlin (Reese Hardin), Jennifer Grant (Jacey Wyatt), Marnette Patterson (Lori Hardin), Zack Hopkins (Apache Hardin), Rachel David (Moonglow Hardin), Mark Benninghofen (Todd Hardin), Loni Anderson (Audrey), Frank Stallone (Himself), Joey Travolta (Himself), Don Swayze (Himself).

5553 Movieland Quiz. (Series; Game; ABC; 1948). The object calls for contestants to identify stars and titles of old films from selected scenes. A cash prize is awarded for each correct answer. The series ran from August 19, 1948 to October 26, 1948.

Host: Arthur Q. Bryan, Ralph Dumke. Assistant: Patricia Bright.

5554 Movin’ On. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 7/24/72). Clint Daniels, a stock car racer, and cycle racer Johnny Lake are two clean-cut young men who share the same dream: to travel around the country to see America. One day they decide to quit the racing circuit, pool their resources and follow their dream. The unsold series was to follow their travels across America. In the pilot episode, Clint and Johnny encounter a beautiful Mormon girl (Cory) and stage a death-defying race to win her affections.

Cast: Patrick Wayne (Clint Daniels), Geoffrey Deuel (Johnny Lake). Guest Cast: Kate Jackson (Cory), David Soul (Jeff), Meg Wyllie (Mrs. Lake), Walter Barnes (Clint’s father).

5555 Movin’ On. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1974–1976). Various areas between Oregon, Utah and Nevada are the setting for a saga about gypsy truck drivers Sonny Pruitt, a tough, uneducated veteran, and Will Chandler, his partner, a rebellious, college-educated youth who is seeking to discover how the other half lives. Stories relate their struggles to deliver their goods and help the troubled people they come in contact with. See also In Tandem for information on the series pilot film.

Other Regulars: Betty, Will’s girlfriend; Myrna, Sonny’s girlfriend; Benjy, a gypsy truck driver; Moose, Benjy’s partner.

Cast: Claude Akins (Sonny Pruitt), Frank Converse

(Will Chandler), Janis Hansen (Myrna), Ann Coleman (Betty), Rosey Grier (Benjy), Art Metrano (Moose).
Theme Vocal: "Movin' On" by Merle Haggard.

5556 Mrs. Columbo. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1979). A spin-off from Columbo. Kate Columbo is the wife of the famed Inspector Columbo of the L.A.P.D. She is a mother (of Jenny) and works as a journalist for Josh Alden, the publisher of the Weekly Advertiser in San Fernando, California. Kate appears to have picked up some knowledge of police work living with the lieutenant and considers herself an amateur sleuth. Stories follow Kate as she uses her new-found abilities to solve crimes.

When Mrs. Columbo failed to attract viewers, it was revived as Kate Loves a Mystery. Kate has divorced but is still caring for Jenny. She uses her maiden name (Callahan) and now works for Josh Alden's new paper, the Valley Advocate in San Fernando. New to the second version is Sergeant Mike Varrick of the Valley Municipal Police Department. Stories continue to relate Kate's efforts, now assisted by Mike, to solve crimes.

Cast: Kate Mulgrew (Kate Columbo), Lili Haydn (Jenny Columbo), Henry Jones (Josh Alden), Don Stroud (Mike Varrick).

5557 Mrs. G. Goes to College. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1961–1962). Sarah Green, called Mrs. G. by her friends, has one regret in life: she was never able to attend college. When her husband passes away and Sarah is left with lots of free time, she decides to fulfill her lifelong dream and enroll in college. She enters an unidentified college that resembles the University of Southern California and stories follow the efforts of a middle-age widow to achieve her college education. Professor Crayton is Sarah's advisor; Maxfield is Sarah's landlady; Susan is Sarah's daughter; Jerry is Sarah's son; Joe Caldwell is the featured student.

Cast: Gertrude Berg (Sarah Green), Sir Cedric Hardwicke (Professor Crayton), Mary Wickes (Maxfield), Skip Ward (Joe Caldwell), Marion Ross (Susan), Leo Penn (Jerry), Paul Smith (George Howell), Aneta Corsaut (Irma Howell), Karyn Kubicnet (Carol). Students: Adrian Ellis, Obin Lory, Tracy Olsen, Bunny Henning, Allyson Daniell, Martin Dean. Theme Song: "Alma Mater" by Herschel Burke Gilbert, Alfred Perry.

5558 Mrs. R. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/20/75). Shirley Ridgeway is a homicide detective with the L.A.P.D. She is called Mrs. R., possesses a motherly image but is shrewd and the unsold series was to relate her case investigations. In the pilot episode, titled "Death Among Friends," Shirley attempts to solve the murder of a financier.

Cast: Kate Reid (Shirley Ridgeway), A Martinez (Officer Manny Reyes), John Anderson (Captain Lewis). Guest Cast: Martin Balsam (Mr. Buckner), Jack Cassidy (Chico Donovan), Paul Henried (Otto Schiller), Lynda Day George (Lisa Manning), William Smith (Sheldon Casey), Pamela Hensley (Connie), Katherine Baumann (Carol), Denver Pyle (Morgan).

5559 Ms. Fixer Upper. (Series; Women; Syn.; 1980). Kay Arnold hosts a program of home repair, instruction and advice for women by a woman.

5560 MTV Top 20 Countdown. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1986). The program features a rundown of the week's (preceding the broadcast) most popular music videos coupled with interviews with music stars and musicians. Surveys are based on the MTV (Music Television) cable channel.

Host: Marc Goodman.

5561 Mucha Lucha. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2002–2005). Rikochet, Buena Girl and the Flea are three masked wrestlers who live by the code of Masked Wrestling (they never remove their colorful masks). They are also students at the Foremost World Renowned International School of Lucha (wrestling). Stories follow the wrestlers as they train and compete in the ring.

Rikochet is skilled at the "Pulverizing Pinball" and "Spinning Top" maneuvers and is seeking to become the school's top wrestler. Buena Girl has a move called: "The Buena Bulldozer of Truth." The Flea is a bit nasty and refers to himself in the third person (for example, "The Flea thinks we ought to get out of here"). Other characters are Snow Pea, a wimpy guy who hates violence (and often loses matches) and is known for his "Cuddly Hug of Friendship" move; Cindy Slam is a violent young lady who is known for her move, "The Cindy Slammer"; and The Masked Dog is the school's mascot who wrestles under the name "Knocking Paws."

Voice Cast: Carlos Alazraqui (Rikochet), Jason Marsden (Rikochet; later), Kimberly Brooks (Buena Girl), Kimberly Brooks (Snow Pea), Kimberly Brooks (Cindy Slam), Candi Milo (The Flea), Janyse Jaud (Dragon Fly), James Arnold Taylor (Kid Wombat).

5562 Muddling Through. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1994). Suspecting that her husband, Sonny, is cheating on her, Connie Drego follows him to the Hotel Starlite on Route 5 in Michigan and finds that her suspicions are true. Hoping to scare Sonny, Connie bursts into the room and points a gun at Sonny. The gun accidentally discharges and hits Sonny in the butt. Connie is arrested and sentenced to two-and-a-half years in prison. Two years, four months and six days later Connie is released for good behavior. Connie, now 35, returns to her home and business, a roadside diner and motel called Drego's Oasis. The business is being run by her eldest daughter, Madeline, who is now married to Dwayne Cooper, the trooper who arrested Connie. Connie's younger daughter, 16-year-old Carrie is wild and uncontrollable; and Sonny, who is now broke, returns also, to live off Connie. Stories focus on Connie as she struggles to turn her life around and become the mother Madeline and Carrie never really had. Other Regulars: Gidney and Lyle, diner customers.

Cast: Stephanie Hodge (Connie Drego), Jennifer Aniston (Madeline Cooper), Aimee Brooks (Carrie Drego), D. David Morin (Sonny Drego), Scott Waara (Dwayne Cooper), Hal Landon, Jr. (Gidney Pace), Hank Underwood (Lyle Meriwether).

5563 Muggsy. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1976–1977). Margaret Malloy is a very pretty 13-year-old girl. She is an orphan (her parents killed in a car accident) and is being cared for by her half-brother (and guardian), Nick Malloy, a taxi cab driver. Margaret is not as feminine as Nick would like her to be. While not a hoodlum, she has grown up on the streets of her unidentified urban neighborhood and has the nickname Muggsy. Her best friend is Clytemnestra and the two attend the same school and hang out together. They are not mischievous, just curious, and stories relate their experiences as they learn about life in the inner city. Gus, the gas station owner, is Nick's friend; T.P. is Clytemnestra's brother.

Cast: Sarah MacDonnell (Margaret Malloy), Ben Masters (Nick Malloy), Paul Michael (Gus Gardician), Star-Shemah (Clytemnestra), Danny Cooper (T.P.P.). Theme Vocal: "Keepin' It Together" by Blood, Sweat and Tears.

5564 Mulberry Street. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/8/90). Conchetta "Connie" Savioa is a new-thinking woman with an old world style family. Following a financial setback Connie is forced to move in with her parents, who own Savioa and Sons Grocery on Mulberry Street in New York's Little Italy. The unsold series was to focus on Connie as she struggles to rebuild her life. Other Regulars: Dominic and Anna, Connie's parents; Vincent, Connie's brother; Joanne, Vincent's wife; Mia and Joseph, Vincent's children; and Connie's Aunt Carmella.

Cast: Connie Sellecca (Connie Savioa), Cesar Romero (Dominic Savioa), Lila Kaye (Anna Savioa), Eddie Mekka (Vincent Savioa), Shera Danese (Joanne Savioa), Mandy Ingber (Mia Savioa), Brad Tatum (Joseph Savioa), Penny Santon (Aunt Carmella).

5565 The Mullets. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2003–2004). Dwayne and Denny Mullet are spaced-out brothers who work as roofers (owners of Mullet Bros. Roofing) who claim to have "the biggest ladder in the San Francisco area."

Dwayne and Denny are bachelors and live together in an apartment in Reseda, California. They are the sons of Mandi, an absolutely gorgeous divorcee who has married Roger Heidecker, the host of the TV game show Wizardry.

Dwayne and Denny hang out at Honk 'n' Go, a convenience store. Drinking beer and getting high is their favorite pastime and stories follow the events that befall two dimwits (most people wonder how such a beautiful and sophisticated woman like Mandi produced two such idiotic sons).

Other Regulars: Gordo, Dwayne and Denny's equally dim-witted friend; and Melanie, the waitress at the Honk 'n' Go.

Cast: Michael Weaver (Dwayne Herbert Mullet), David Hornsby (Denny Mullet), Loni Anderson (Mandi Mullet-Heidecker), John O'Hurley (Roger Heidecker), Anne Stedman (Melanie), Ben Tolpin (Gordo), Mark Christopher (Bill), Adam Bobrow (One Man Party Machine).

5566 Mulligan's Stew. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1977). International Airlines flight 237 from Hawaii lands in Birchfield, California. Aboard the plane are Polarus ("Polly") Friedman, Star Shine ("Stevie") Friedman, Adam Friedman and Kimmy Friedman, five orphaned children who have come to live with their uncle, Michael ("Mike") Mulligan, his wife, Jane, and their children, Melinda, Jimmy and Mark, following the death of their parents, Kathy (Mike's sister) and Steve Friedman, who perished in a charter plane crash.

The Mulligans live in a three bedroom, two bathroom house at 1202 Circle Drive. Melinda, Stevie and Kimmy share a room; Mark, Adam and Jimmy also share a room; the den has been converted into a bedroom for Polly; and Mike and Jane have the master bedroom. "We're crowded, but we take it day by day," says Mike, the football coach at Birchfield High School. Jane is the school's consulting nurse, and Polly (age 17), Stevie (14), and Mark (16) also attend the school. Jimmy (age nine) and Adam (age eight) attend Birchfield Elementary School.

Mike and Jane were childhood sweethearts; Mark plays the guitar and is part of a group that plays at school dances. Stevie "knows guy things" (like fixing cars) and is the mechanical genius of the family. Melinda "knows girl things" like cooking and cleaning and is struggling to shed her tomboyish ways for her newfound interest in makeup, clothes, boys and dating. Polly, the oldest girl, is approaching her eighteenth birthday and longs for privacy; Kimmy, who is five years old, is a Vietnamese orphan Kathy and Steve, a civil rights lawyer, adopted six months before their death. She calls Jane "Mommy Jane"; won't say "no" to anybody; and is violently allergic to strawberries. Adam, who is nicknamed "Moose" for his stocky build, is well versed in the martial arts. Theme: "We've Gotta Stick Together," by Michael Price and Daniel Walsh.

Cast: Lawrence Pressman (Michael Mulligan),

Elinor Donahue (Jane Mulligan), Johnny Doran (Mark Mulligan), Johnny Whitaker (Mark Mulligan; pilot), Julie Anne Haddock (Melinda Mulligan), Suzanne Crough (Stevie Freeman), Lory Kochheim (Polly Freeman), Sunshine Lee (Kimmy Freeman), Christopher Ciampa (Adam "Moose" Mulligan), K.C. Martel (Jimmy Mulligan).

5567 Mummies Alive! (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1997). When Presley Carnovan, a 12-year-old boy living in San Francisco, is discovered to possess the soul of the Pharaoh Prince Rapses of ancient Egypt, four mummies (Armon, Ja-Kal, Nefertina and Rath) come to life to protect him from Scarab, an evil being who is seeking the spirit of Prince Rapses to gain immortality. The mummies have special powers and their efforts to protect Presley and battle evil at the same time, is the focal point of the series.

Voice Cast: Bill Switzer (Presley Carnovan), Cree Summer (Nefertina), Dale Wilson (Ja-Kal), Scott McNeil (Rath), Graeme Kingston (Armon), David Kaye (Talos), David Sobolov (Eye of Darkness), Gerard Plunkett (Scarab), Pauline Newstone (Heka). Additional Voices: Kathleen Barr, Andrew Francis, Brian Drummond, Gary Chalk, Adrienne Carter, Jay Brazeau, Chiara Zanni, Brenda McDonald, Christopher Gaze, Paulina Gillis.

5568 The Munsters. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1964). The color pilot film for the black and white series of the same title about a family of 1940s movie monster look-alikes who live in their own unique world. The pilot, titled "My Fair Munster," introduces viewers to Herman Munster (Frankenstein), his wife, Phoebe (a vampire), their son, Eddie (a werewolf), Phoebe's father, Grandpa (a mad scientist) and their beautiful, normal-looking niece, Marilyn. The story is basically a one scene where Marilyn believes there is something wrong with her because she (not Herman) scares off her dates. The date sequence, which featured the same players, was used as part of the premiere episode. The pilot ended with these words on the screen: "The distinguished ghouls in our presentation were modernized by Messrs. Liebman and Haas from the classic characters of Dracula, Frankenstein's monster and his bride, and their charming little offspring. Any resemblance to anything living is purely a coincidence."

5569 The Munsters. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1964–1966). Herman and Lily Munster, their son Eddie, niece Marilyn and Lily's father, Count Vladimir ("Grandpa") Dracula, live in a spooky, rundown house at 1313 Mockingbird Lane in the town of Mockingbird Heights. The family members look like movie monsters of the 1930s but believe they are normal and that the rest of the world is strange.

Herman, who resembles Frankenstein, is 150 years old and works as a gravedigger for the Gateman, Goodbury and Graves Funeral Parlor. He was at the Heidelberg School of Medicine in several jars for six years. "Darn, darn, darn" is his catchphrase (which he says when something goes wrong). Mr. Gateman is his boss.

Lily, Herman's wife, is a vampire whose maiden name is Dracula. She is 304 years old and married Herman in 1865. Her favorite charity is Bundles for Transylvania; her and Herman's favorite food is Bat Milk Yogurt.

Count Vladimir Dracula, called Grandpa, is a 378-year-old vampire and mad scientist. His hometown is in Transylvania, and he has been married 167 times.

Marilyn, their normal-looking (to the viewer) niece, is the black sheep of the family; she attends State University, where she is studying art. Edward ("Eddie") Wolfgang, Herman and Lily's son, is a werewolf and attends Mockingbird Heights Elementary School. He has a werewolf doll named Woof Woof and a pet snake called Elmer (who lives under the garbage pail in the backyard).

The family pets are Spot, a fire breathing dragon Grandpa found while digging in the back yard; Kitty Kat, a cat who roars like a lion; and an unnamed raven who says "Never more."

Relatives: Fred Gwynne (Herman's twin brother, Charlie Munster; and Herman's prototype, Johan), Richard Hale (Lily's uncle, Gilbert, the Creature from the Black Lagoon), Irwin Charone (Lily's brother, Lester Dracula).

Note: In the 1966 theatrical film, Munster Go Home, Debbie Watson played Marilyn.

5570 The Munsters' Revenge. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/27/81). An unsuccessful attempt to revive the 1964–66 series The Munsters, about the problems that befall a family who resemble famous movie monsters of the 1930s and '40s. In the pilot episode, Herman and Grandpa, two of the family, seek to clear the family name when they are arrested as the Monster Muggers and blamed for a series of crimes actually committed by the villainous Dr. Diablo and his evil robots. Regulars: Herman Munster, the father, a gravedigger; Lily, his wife; Eddie, their son; Grandpa, Lily's father; Marilyn, their normal-looking niece; the Phantom of the Opera, Lily's cousin.

Cast: Fred Gwynne (Herman Munster), Yvonne DeCarlo (Lily Munster), Al Lewis (Grandpa), Jo McDonnell (Marilyn Munster), K.C. Martel (Eddie Munster), Bob Hastings (Phantom of the Opera). Guest Cast: Sid Caesar (Dr. Diablo/Emil Hornshymler), Howard Morris (Igor), Herbert Voland (Police Chief Harry Boyle), Peter Fox (Detective Glen Boyle), Charles Macauley (Commissioner McClusky), Colby Chester (Michael), Ezra Stone (Dr. Lickider), Billy Sands (Shorty), Anita Dangler (Elvira).

5571 The Munsters Today. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1988–1991). An update of the 1964–1966 series The Munsters. Parents Herman and Lily Munster, their son Eddie, niece Marilyn, and Lily's father, Count Vladimir Dracula, better known as Grandpa, resemble 1930s movie monsters and consider themselves normal people living in a strange world.

In 1966 Grandpa conducts an experiment that backfires and places the family in a state of suspended animation. Twenty-two years later, the family awakens to the new world of the 1980s. Their attempts to adjust to society are depicted. The family still lives at 1313 Mockingbird Lane in the town of Mockingbird Heights.

Herman, who stands six feet eight inches tall, was "born" in Dr. Frankenstein's lab in Transylvania over 300 years ago. He is a gravedigger and works for Mr. Graves (Stanley Ralph Ross) of the Gateman, Goodbury and Graves funeral parlor.

Herman worships the ground his wife, the former Lily Ann Dracula, was buried under. Lily is 324 years old and married Herman 299 years ago in Transylvania. Before Lily met Herman, she worked as a singer in Club Dead in Transylvania. She won the beauty pageant title, "Miss Transylvania of 1655" and the Silver Shroud Award for Fashion Design. Her normal body temperature is 25.8 degrees, and her favorite song is "Transylvania the Beautiful." She gave birth to Eddie within 24 hours of becoming pregnant (a tradition in her family).

Grandpa, the original Count Dracula, is a mad scientist who enjoys conducting experiments in the lab beneath the Munsters home. He was married to a woman named Katja (who left him when she got tired of ironing capes and mopping dungeons).

Grandpa attended the University of Transylvania and majored in philosophy. Grandpa is a member of the A.V.A. (American Vampire Association). Igor is his pet bat, Stanley his lab rat, and Leonard is the skeleton he befriended in his college days who now lives in the dungeon. Grandpa also has a computer named Sam and once had a business in Transylvania sharpening fangs. His last job was guillotine janitor.

Marilyn is blonde, beautiful and the black sheep of the family. She is 17 years old and attends Mockingbird Heights High School. She is a neat freak and desperately wants a bigger bosom ("I wanna be a 36D") to attract boys. She first wanted to be an actress, then a magazine writer-editor. Herman mentioned that he was not sure how Marilyn is related to them (in one episode she is Herman's niece; in another she is Lily's niece).

Edward ("Eddie") Wolfgang Munster, Lily and Herman's son, attends Mockingbird Heights High School and wants to become a rock video producer. He has a pet Tasmanian devil named Irving.

The Munsters also own Munster Moor, a swamp at 1313th Avenue; their insurance company is Grave Diggers Mutual — "The Good Hands People." Spot, the fire breathing dragon, lives under the staircase in the living room; Maxine is the sea serpent who lives in the moat that surrounds their home; and Boris is the name of the boar's head mounted on the living room wall. In one episode, Daniel Wilson played Herman as a kid and Whitby Hertford was Grandpa as a child.

Relatives: Jo deWinter (Lily's mother, Katja Dracula), Angelina Fiordessisi (Lily's cousin, Bella), Christopher Fielder (Lily's cousin, Damien), Jerry Houser (Lily's cousin, Wolfgang Dracula), Camilla Ashland (Lily's aunt, Lucretia Dracula), Peter Isachsen (Herman's cousin, Gill), Peter Schuck (Herman's brother, Frank Munster), Foster Brooks (Herman's cousin, Igor), Ruth Buzzi (Grandpa's mother), Sandy Baron (Grandpa's brother, Yorga Dracula).

Cast: John Schuck (Herman Munster), Lee Meriwether (Lily Munster), Howard Morton (Grandpa), Hilary Van Dyke (Marilyn Munster), Jason Marsden (Eddie Munster).

5572 Muppet Babies. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1984–1985). An animated series based on the Muppet characters created by Jim Henson. While the Muppets have been seen on television and in feature films, their lives as youngsters was kept out of the public eye — until now. Before they became the big stars that they are, they were babies and cared for by a kind woman called Nanny. Stories follow the antics of Jim Henson's beloved characters as they encounter misadventures while seeking things to do.

5573 The Muppet Show. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 3/19/75). The pilot film for the syndicated (1976–81) series of the same title. Various comedy sketches, blackouts and songs featuring the fanciful creations of Jim Henson (in particular, Nigel the host and his foils Sam and Floyd. Kermit the Frog, Miss Piggy and other well-known Muppets from Sesame Street had only cameos. When the pilot was reworked for syndication, Kermit became the host and Miss Piggy a featured player).

Muppet Voices: Dave Goelz, Jim Henson, Richard Hunt, Jerry Nelson, Frank Oz. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

5574 The Muppet Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1976–1981). Comedy sketches featuring guest stars in performance with the Muppets, the fanciful puppet creations of Jim Henson. The series is hosted by Kermit the Frog; he is assisted by Miss Piggy.

5575 The Muppets Tonight. (Series; Variety; ABC; Disney; 1996–1998). A revised version of the prior title that, despite old and new Muppet characters, failed to impress a new generation of children (and adults). The plot follows Kermit the Frog as he attempts to run a variety show (on KUMP-TV) despite the numerous obstacles that befall him (mainly from his staff of Muppet lamebrains). Name guests stars appear in skits with the various Muppet characters. Unlike the prior series, a new Muppet named Clifford hosts. The series ran on ABC in 1996; on Disney from 1997–1998.

Muppet Voices: Brian Henson, Steve Whitmire, Jerry Nelson, Bill Barretta, Frank Oz, Leslie Carrara, Kevin Carlson, Drew Massey, Allan Trautman, Bruce Lanoil. Music: Philip Giffin, Eric Colvin.

5576 Murder. (Series; Game; Spike TV; 2007). Two teams compete in a rather disturbing game show that uses real life, horrific crime scenes as its basis. A gruesome crime scene is recreated and the players are shown the evidence (in addition to blood-splattered walls and other upsetting details, videotaped interviews with the subjects involved). The host then presents the players, who act as CSI forensic experts, with several clues to help them find the killer (although there are several fake clues added to the crime scene to throw players off). When all the evidence has been examined, the host says, “Present Your Case.” After each does so, what really happened in the presented case is revealed. Players do not receive any prizes; money is donated to a crime victim’s charity. Real life 27-year veteran Texas P.D. detective Tommy LeNoir hosts the series.

5577 Murder by the Book. (Series; Crime Drama; Court TV; 2006). The author of a best selling crime novel appears as the guest of a particular episode. As the author discusses the crime he has written about, newspaper clippings, crime scene photos and recreations are used to reconstruct the incidents that led up to and caused the murder — and how it was solved or why it still remains a mystery. Authors appearing on the program include James Ellroy, Michael Connelly, Faye Kellerman, Lisa Scottoline and Jonathan Kellerman.

5578 Murder Can Hurt You! (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/21/80). A proposed series in which the clones of television’s most famous detectives ban together to solve crimes. The detectives are all members of the Best Cops in the World Club and in the pilot episode they join forces to apprehend “The Man in White,” an arch villain who is planning to kill each one of them. The pilot film clones: Lieutenant Nojack (Kojak clone), Sergeant Salty Sanderson (Police Woman Pepper Anderson clone), Chief Ironbottom (Ironside clone), Detectives Studsky and Hatch (Starky and Hutch clones), Pony Lambretta (Baretta clone), Sheriff Tim MacSkye (McCloud clone), Inspector Palumbo (Columbo clone).

Cast: Gavin MacLeod (Lieutenant Nojack), Connie Stevens (Salty Sanderson), Victor Buono (Chief Ironbottom), Jamie Farr (Detective Studsky), John Byner (Detective Hatch), Tony Danza (Pony Lambretta), Buck Owens (Tim MacSkye), Burt Young (Inspector Palumbo), Liz Torres (Sarafina Palumbo), Jimmie Walker (Parks), Marty Allen (Detective Starkos), Mel Blanc (Voice of Pony’s cockatoo, Chickie Baby), Mitch Kreindel (The Man in White), Gunilla Hutton (Raquel Sophia), Roz Kelly (Virginia Trickwood), Mason Adams (Willie the Wino), Richard Deacon (Mr. Bernice). Narrator: Don Adams.

5579 Murder in High Places. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 6/2/91). Zenieth, Colorado, is a ski village that is billed as “Half Dodge City, Half Beverly Hills.” Carson Russell is its mayor and his efforts to keep the peace, with the help of a former cop (Horn) and a former pro football player (Stoney Ptak), was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, the trio attempts to solve a murder cover-up.

Cast: Ted Levine (Carson Russell), Adam Baldwin (Stoney Ptak), Jamey Sheridan (Horn), Joyce Hyser (Terry Ptak, Stoney’s wife). Guest Cast: Traci Lords (Diane Russell), Ken Swofford (Van Stamp), Michael McKeon (Pettibone), James Keach (Levering), Judith Hoag (Meg Faithorn), Richard Edson (Noogie), Kit Carson (Prentiss), Victoria Johnson (Naked woman), Spice Williams (Sheila), Lisa Kudrow (Miss Stitch), Edward Blatchford (Bozak).

5580 Murder Ink. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 9/6/83). Murder Ink is a Manhattan bookstore that is owned by Laura Ireland, an avid mystery fan and amateur sleuth. She is married to Lou Ireland, a sergeant with the N.Y.P.D. and the unsold series was to relate Laura's exploits as she attempts to help her husband solve baffling crimes. In the pilot episode, Laura attempts to solve a case involving a missing $100,000 and a girl who inherits a bottle of sleeping pills from her grandmother (the bottle contains a code under its label that tells the whereabouts of the stolen money).

Other Regulars: Sergeant Martin "Willie" Wilkinson, Lou's partner; Claire, Laura's assistant at the bookstore; and Hildy, the post office letter carrier.

Cast: Tovah Feldshuh (Laura Ireland), Daniel Hugh-Kelly (Lou Ireland), Ron McLarty (Martin Wilkinson), Marcia Jean Kurtz (Claire), Anna Maria Horsford (Hildy). Guest Cast: Ellen Barkin (Ellen Gray), Paula Trueman (Greta Stahlmeyer), Harris Laskaway (Ray Stahlmeyer), Paul D'Amato (Alfred Swallow), Brent Collins (Pinky Musso).

5581 Murder One. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1995–1997). A single law case that takes a full season to solve was the idea behind Murder One. The season one story (1995–96) follows defense attorney Ted Hoffman as he handles an exceptionally controversial case: the defense of Richard Cross, a wealthy businessman accused of murder. Ted successfully defends Cross and gets him exonerated. However, just as this happens, Neil Avedon, a famous actor with a drinking problem, is framed for the murder Cross was just cleared of. Ted believes Neil is innocent and his season long defense of Neil is the focal point of the stories (bits and pieces from other cases handled by the law firm is interspersed between Ted's defense).

Season two episodes (1996–97) begin with Ted leaving the Los Angeles law firm he is associated with to reestablish a relationship with his family (Annie and Lizzie) whom he had neglected because of work. Also leaving the firm are lawyers Lisa and Lily, who worked alongside Ted.

Attorney Jimmy Wyler becomes the center of attention as he and his associate, Justine Appleton take on the case of Sharon Rooney, a woman (a former mistress of the governor of California) accused of murdering the governor and his current mistress.

Cast: Daniel Benzali (Ted Hoffman), Anthony LaPaglia (Jimmy Wyler), Grace Phillips (Lisa Gillespie), Patricia Clarkson (Annie Hoffman), Mary McCormick (Justine Appleton), Stanley Tucci (Richard Cross), Missy Crider (Sharon Rooney), Jack Kehler (Frank Szymanski), Gregory Itzin (Roger Gardfield), John Fleck (Louis Hines), Jason Gedrick (Neil Avedon), Barbara Bosson (Miriam Grasso), Clayton Rohner (Vince Biggio), Kevin Tighe (Davey Blalock), Dylan Baker (Arthur Polson), J.C. MacKenzie (Arnold Spivak), D.B. Woodside (Aaron Mosley), Michael Hayden (Chris Docknovich), Ralph Waite (Malcolm Dietrich), Eileen Heckart (Frances Wyler), Jessica Tuck (Laura Crimmins), Toni DeRose (Angela Rosetti).

5582 Murder 101. (Series; Crime Drama; Hallmark Channel; 2006). Dr. Jonathan Maxwell is a senior citizen. He is brilliant when it comes to his job as a criminology professor, but away from class he is a bit absent-minded and a bit of a klutz. Jonathan may forget where his next class is being held, but if the police need help to solve a baffling crime, he is there to assist (although he most often helps Mike Bryant, a former cop turned private detective, solve crimes). The series, which airs as part of The Hallmark Channel Mystery Movie relates Jonathan's investigations as he and Mike solve complex crimes.

Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Dr. Jonathan Maxwell), Barry Van Dyke (Mike Bryant).

5583 Murder, She Wrote. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1984–1996). The Victorian house at 698 Candlewood Road in Cabot Cove, Maine, is home to Jessica Beatrice Fletcher, a widowed mystery novelist better known as J.B. Fletcher. Jessica, maiden name MacGill, is a former high school English teacher who was married to Frank Fletcher, a real estate broker responsible for establishing the Cabot Cove Democratic Society. They had a faithful marriage but were never blessed with children. After Frank's death from natural causes in the early 1980s, Jessica quit her teaching job of 19 years to devote full time to her one indulgence — writing. The publication of her first novel, The Corpse Danced at Midnight, became a best seller and began a new career for her as a mystery novelist and amateur sleuth.

Jessica is friendly, talkative and uses her bicycle to get around town. She dislikes driving and refuses to get a license. In later episodes, Jessica acquires a job in New York City as a criminology teacher at Manhattan University. She resides in Apartment 4B at the Penfield Apartments, 941 West 16th Street. In New York-based episodes, Jessica also teaches creative writing in Inner City High School and does volunteer work on behalf of the Museum of Cultural History and the Liberty Foundation.

Jessica also became a world traveler and wherever she goes she is willing to help a stranger in trouble; she is also eager to help the police figure out "who done it," all of which give her inspiration for her books.

Jessica is an expert on poisons due to her research and often says, "I think I know who the murderer is. Now to prove it!"

Jessica's original publisher was Covington House; later it is Sutton Place Publishers then Harper Publishers and finally Consolidated Publishers, all in New York City. Two of Jessica's lead fictional detectives are Inspector Dison and Inspector Gelico.

Damain Sinclair is the debonair jewel thief she created. Some of Jessica's books are: The Belgrade Murders; The Corpse at Vespers; The Crypt of Death; The Dead Must Sing; The Killer Called Collect; The Launch Pad Murders; Love's Revenge; Murder at Midnight (Jessica's favorite book "because I didn't know who the killer was until the last 12 pages"); Runaway to Murder; The Stain on the Stairs; Stone Cold Dead; The Triple Crown Murders; and Yours Truly, Damain Sinclair.

According to Seth Hazlett, the town's elderly doctor, Cabot Cove leads the nation in the sale of live bait. Doc Hazlett, as he is called, has been practicing medicine for 37 years and lives in a 120-year-old house. Doc is a widower, a bit cantankerous and has a penchant for talking. He has a natural curiosity about life and enjoys fishing off his boat, Cavalier.

Amos Tupper was the original town sheriff. He was a bus driver before he joined the police department and is a bit inept at his job — a better talker and eater than he is law enforcer. He was replaced by Sheriff Mort Metzger when Amos retired and went home to Kentucky. Mort was a football player with the LA Rams whose career ended when he injured his knee. He then became a police officer with the N.Y.P.D. but quit for the job of sheriff in Cabot Cove because "I couldn't handle the politics."

A reformed jewel thief named Dennis Stanton (Keith Michell) is featured in nine episodes that have Jessica Fletcher acting as the host rather than the principal player in the story. In the introductory episode, "A Little Night Work" (October 30, 1988), it is learned that Dennis became a thief to get even with the insurance company, Susquehana Fire and Casualty, that refused to pay for his late wife's medical bills. He would steal jewelry insured by that company. Stanton's second episode, "When the Fat Lady Sings" (November 19, 1989) found him reformed, now working as a claims investigator for the Consolidated Casualty Insurance Company in San Francisco. He is employed by Robert Butler (James Sloyan) and receives assistance from his secretary, Rhonda Markowitz (Hallie Todd). His nemesis is Perry Catalano (Ken Swofford), the police lieutenant who balks at Stanton interfering in police matters.

While the Dennis Stanton character was not spun-off into a series of its own, one series did evolve from Murder, She Wrote—The Law and Harry McGraw with Jerry Orbach recreating his role as a Boston-based detective (see entry for information).

John Addison composed the theme "Murder, She Wrote." Angela Lansbury returned as Jessica Fletcher in the following TV movies: Murder, She Wrote: South by Southwest (1997), Murder, She Wrote: A Story to Die For (2000), Murder She Wrote: The Last Free Man (2001) and Murder, She Wrote: The Celtic Riddle (2003).

5584 The Murdocks and the McClays. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 9/2/70). A hillbilly-accented comedy about a feud that exists between two families, the Murdocks and the McClays. In the pilot episode, Calvin Murdock and Angus McClay, the family leaders, seek a way to discourage a romance between their children, Junior Murdock and Julianna McClay; a romance that could lead to marriage and an unwanted peace between the two families (and "hate ain't no good 'less it's likewise").

Cast: Dub Taylor (Angus McClay), Kathy Davis (Julianna McClay), Noah Beery, Jr. (Calvin Murdock), Nydia Westman (Grandma Murdock), James Westerfield (Sheriff Bates), George C. Fisher (Turkey).

5585 Murdock's Gang. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 3/20/73). When disbarred criminal attorney B.J. (Bartley James) Murdock, falsely accused of allowing a witness to perjure himself, is released from prison after serving a two-year sentence, he begins a private investigative service to help people by hiring a staff of ex-cons (Bat, Denver, Ed, Mickey and Red). The unsold series, set in California, was to follow the adventures of Murdock's gang as they use unorthodox methods to help their clients. In the pilot episode, Murdock attempts to find a bookkeeper who embezzled money from a millionaire. Other Regulars: Terry, Murdock's secretary; and Lawrence, Murdock's lawyer.

Cast: Alex Drier (B.J. Murdock), Donna Kei Benz (Terry), Colby Chester (Lawrence Devans), Walter Burke (Bat Collins), Ed Bernard (Ed Lyman), Dave Morrick (Mickey Carr), Norman Alden (Red Harris), Charles Dierkop (Denver Briggs). Guest Cast: Murray Hamilton (Harold Talbot), Janet Leigh (Laura Talbot), Milton Selzer (Frank Winston), William Daniels (Roger Bates), Harold Gould (Dave Ryker), Frank Campanella (Barney).

5586 Murphy Brown. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988–1997). Murphy Brown is a beautiful, hard-hitting investigative reporter for F.Y.I. ("For Your Information"), a CBS-TV, Washington, D.C.-based news magazine series.

In college Murphy majored in journalism and after graduating set out to become the best broadcast journalist of her day. Newsman Howard K. Smith was her hero. She made a video audition tape and had a friend submit it to Smith. After six weeks Murphy got a response from Smith: "You stink but you've got a nice tush." At some point after this (not specified) Murphy became a foreign correspondent. She auditioned for F.Y.I. on August 16, 1977 and beat out newswoman Linda Ellerbee for the role. Since then she has won the Robert F. Kennedy Journalism Award, an Emmy Award and eight Humboldt News Story Awards.

Murphy has a reputation for getting even with anyone who crosses her. She is easily exasperated and has a tendency to yell a lot. Murphy met Jake Lowenstein (Robin Thomas) at the Democratic National Convention in 1968. They demonstrated together and were arrested together. It was love at first sight, and they were married by the judge who heard their case; five days later they were divorced. When Jake re-entered Murphy's life in 1990, they had a brief affair and Murphy became pregnant (beginning 9/16/91). She chose to raise the baby alone. On 5/18/92, at 5:32 A.M., Murphy gave birth to a nine pound seven ounce boy she first called "Baby Brown." She later named the baby Avery (after her mother). Kate Mulgrew as Hillary Wheaton replaced Murphy on F.Y.I. during her maternity leave.

Corky Lynn Sherwood is an F.Y.I. news team reporter who can recite all the books of the Bible by heart. She was born on a farm in Louisiana and was crowned Miss America at age 19. She was seen in a flashback as a model prior to working for F.Y.I. as "The Check Girl" for the First Bank of New Orleans. At the end of the first season Corky married Will Forrest, thus becoming Corky Sherwood-Forrest. Will is a struggling writer and authored a book called The Dutch Boy.

Frank Fontana joined the F.Y.I. team as an investigative reporter in 1977 (he previously worked as a reporter for the New York Times). He was babied as a kid and attended the Bishop Fallon High School for Boys. Frank mentioned that he has been in therapy "for 13 or 14 years"; TV Guide has a tendency to list Frank as "Fred Fontana." Frank and Murphy co-hosted the premiere of the network's early morning newscast, Overnight News.

James "Jim" Dial, the senior anchor, has been with CBS News for 25 years. In 1956 he was the only correspondent to get an interview with John F. Kennedy when he lost the presidential nomination. If Hubert Humphrey had won the presidency in 1968, he would have made Jim Dial his press secretary. A later episode changed Jim's background somewhat: He was a struggling news reporter for Channel 9 in Chicago who doubled as the host of Poop Deck Pete and Cartoons Aboy. Jim wears expensive Italian suits and has been called "America's Most Trusted Anchorman." Jim, a Presbyterian, lives at 3134 South Bedford Drive with his wife of 30 years Doris.

Myles Silverberg is the executive producer of F.Y.I. He attended Harvard (class of '84) and was known as "Myles Silverbrain" in his freshman class. Murphy's antics have driven Myles to the point of hysteria, and he is a good candidate for ulcers and heart attacks — "I'm 27 years old and living on Mylanta." Myles also hears Murphy's voice in his sleep: "They should pipe it into cornfields to scare the crows away." In the episode of May 20, 1996 Miles quits F.Y.I. to become the head of news operations for CBS in New York. He is replaced by Kay Carter Shepley, the new executive producer.

Eldin Stanislaus Bernecky is Murphy's around-the-clock housepainter. He is struggling to paint what appears to be a rather large house but is having difficulty matching colors with Murphy's moods. After several bad experiences with nannies, Murphy appointed Eldin as Avery's nanny.

Phil (no last name given) is the owner of the local watering hole, Phil's Bar and Grill (established in 1919). The bar is located at 1195 15th Street (although number 406 is seen on the front door).

The show's gimmick is to exasperate Murphy even more than she already is by assigning her a different (and rather strange) secretary in virtually every episode.

Relatives: Darren McGavin (Murphy's father, Bill Brown; he publishes the Chicago Voice and calls Murphy "Susie Q"), Colleen Dewhurst (Murphy's mother, Avery Brown), Susan Wheeler (Bill's second wife, Karen Brown), Alice Hirson (Corky's mother, Bootsie Sherwood), Courtney Gebhart (Corky's sister, Cookie Sherwood), Sarah Abrell (Corky's sister, Kiki Sherwood), Bryan Clark (Corky's father, Edward Sherwood), Janet Carroll (Jim's wife, Doris Dial), Barney Martin (Frank's father, Dominic Fontana), Rose Marie (Frank's mother, Rose Fontana), Sara Ballantine (Frank's sister, Mary Fontana), Gracie Moore (Frank's sister, Pat Fontana), Richard Zavaglia (Frank's uncle, Sal), Brittany Murphy and Shanelle Workman (Frank's unnamed sisters), Dena Dietrich (Phil's wife, Phyllis), Jon Tenney (Myles's brother, Josh Silverberg).

Flashbacks: Meghann Haldeman (Murphy as a girl), Sean Baca (Frank as a boy), Jason Marsden (Myles as a boy), Eva Chainey (Myles's mother). Theme: "Murphy's Theme" (normally heard only during the closing credits) by Steve Dorff.

Cast: Candice Bergen (Murphy Brown), Faith Ford (Corky Sherwood), Joe Regalbuto (Frank Fontana), Charles Kimbrough (Jim Dial), Grant Shaud (Myles Silverberg), Robert Pastorelli (Eldin Bernecky), Pat Corley (Phil), Scott Bryce (Will Forrest), Lily Tomlin (Kay Carter Shepley).

5587 Murphy's Law. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1988–1989). Daedalus Patrick Murphy is an insurance investigator who not only solves cases of insurance fraud but murders as well. He is a recovering alcoholic and lives in a loft at 3116 Hillside with Kimiko Fannuchi, a beautiful Eurasian model.

Murphy works for Wes Hardin, the claims manager for the First Fidelity Casualty Insurance Company in San Francisco; he originally worked for Triax Insurance. Murphy came from a troubled past. His parents had an unsteady relationship. When Murphy was ten years old his father walked out on him; his last words to Murphy were "Go to hell, kid." Murphy's mother struggled to raise him on what little money she made as a waitress. Murphy became part of the work force at an early age, taking whatever odd jobs he could find. Murphy eventually married a girl named Marissa and they had a daughter named Kathleen. They lived on Baker Street and Marissa called Murphy "Paddy." The pressures of work caused Murphy to take up drinking and this, in turn, caused Marissa to divorce him. Ten years later Marissa married Charles Danforth, a wealthy lawyer, and has totally raised Kathleen. Murphy now feels he wants to become a part of Kathleen's life and is in a fierce battle with Marissa to win visitation rights.

Murphy's battles with Marissa is also affecting his relationship with Kimiko, who is caught in the middle. Kimiko, who prefers to be called Kim, is much younger than Murphy. She was born of an Italian father and Japanese mother and often helps Murphy solve cases, most often by going undercover. Kim's claim to fame is being the calendar girl for Morgan Power Tools.

While blessed with stunning good looks and a gorgeous figure, Kim can't seem to achieve the status of a model with lesser assets. She refuses to do nude layouts and spreads featuring her in string bikinis.

Morgan DeSade is Murphy's nemesis, his old boss at Triax Insurance, and Victor Beaudine is Murphy's rival, a sleazy agent for First Fidelity, who uses underhanded methods to solve cases. Al Jarreau sings the theme "Murphy's Law."

Cast: George Segal (Patrick Murphy), Maggie Han (Kimiko Fannuchi), Josh Mostel (Wes Hardin), Kim Lankford (Marissa), Bruce Gray (Charles Danforth), Sarah Sawatsky (Kathleen), Elizabeth Savage (Morgan DeSade), Charles Rocket (Victor Beaudine).

5588 Music Bingo. (Series; Game; NBC; ABC; 1958–1960). A musical selection is played by the orchestra. The first of two players who compete that sounds a buzzer signal receives a chance to identify the song title. If he is correct, a square is marked on a large electronic game board. The first player to complete the board (as in the game of Bingo) is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The series ran on NBC from May 29, 1958 to September 11, 1958; and on ABC from December 5, 1958 to January 1, 1960.

5597 The Music Machine. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1987). Three aspiring entertainers compete in a challenge round by performing in original music videos. A panel of three celebrity guest judges score the video (0–100) based on verbal ability and showmanship. The current winner and the week's prior winner compete against each other in the championship round. At the end of the season a grand champion is chosen and receives an array of prizes and the chance to record a professional music video.

Host: Curtis Gadson.

5598 The Music Maker. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 1/24/63). A proposed series about Johnny Ballard, a jazz musician who helps people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Babe Simms, a famous jazz drummer, returns to the U.S. after years in Europe to settle an old score. Broadcast as "Five Six, Pick up Sticks" on Alcoa Premiere (The Music Maker was the proposed series title).

Cast: John Forsythe (Andy Ballard). Guest Cast: Mickey Rooney (Babe Simms), Barbara Nichols (Willy Simms), Geraldine Brooks (Lorraine Gardner).

5599 The Music Mart. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/8/80). Wally and Carol Coogan are a retired song-and-dance team who run a record store called Coogan's Music Mart. The unsold series was to focus on Wally and Carol as they try to relive their show business past through their music store. In the pilot episode, Wally and Carol attempt to help the people of a homeless shelter run by Sister Hitchcock. Other Regulars: Scotty, Wally and Carol's son; Lola, their bookkeeper; and Al, Wally's friend.

Cast: Donald O'Connor (Wally Coogan), Gloria DeHaven (Carol Coogan), Scotty Plummer (Scotty Coogan), Micki McKenzie (Lola), Sidney Miller (Al Coody), Lucille Ball (Sister Hitchcock; guest role).

5600 Music on Ice. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1960). Music and song set against the background of an ice show. The series ran from May 8, 1960 to September 11, 1960. George Charles is the producer.

5601 The Music Scene. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1969–1970). Performances by the top artists in various fields of music (country and western, ballad, rock, folk and blues). Musical numbers are interwoven with comedy sketches. The series was broadcast back-to-back with The New People to form a 90 minute block of programming (with two 45-minute shows). The series, which produced 13 episodes (as did The New People), ran from September 22, 1969 to January 12, 1970.

An announcer opens the show: "It's The Music

Scene, a super concert of the world's best music, each week featuring the best selling records in the country as selected by the editors of Billboard, the weekly record and music industry magazine. This week starring Merle Haggard, Bobby Sherman, Sly and the Family Stone, the Temptations, Pat Williams and the Music Scene Orchestra and the comedy of hosts David Steinberg and Lily Tomlin; and our special guest host, Tommy Smothers."

Hosts: David Steinberg, Lily Tomlin. Regulars: Paul Reid Roman, Larry Hankin, Christopher Ross, Patrick Williams. Orchestra: Patrick Williams.

5602 Music Scoupe. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1993). A music oriented series that showcases relatively unknown garage bands that compete for a chance at a recording contract. Each week several such bands perform and are voted upon by the home audience. The band that receives the most call-in votes is the weekly winner and returns to compete in May (the series began in September) with other weekly winners for the grand prize (based on viewer call-in votes). The program also features clips of established alternative bands as well as musical highlights (video clips) of up-and-coming bands.

Host: Dave Kendall.

5603 The Music Shop. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1959). Performances by the recording industry's top artists. The series, hosted by band leader Buddy Bregman, ran from January 11, 1959 to March 8, 1959. Maurice Duke is the producer.

Host: Robert Trendler. Regulars: Mike Douglas, Eleanor Warner, Jackie Van, Henri Noel, Dolores Peterson. Orchestra: Robert Trendler.

5605 Music with the Hormel Girls. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1960). A 44 episode series that features the music and songs of the Hormel Girls Orchestra and Chorus.

5606 Music World. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1978). Performances by country and western entertainers. A guest singer hosts each episode (78 were produced). Guest hosts include Stella Parton, Tommy Cash, Patsy Slead, Conway Twitty, Karren Wheeler, Ben Dover, Tennessee Tucker, The Fox Brothers. Music is by the White Horse Band.

5607 Musical Chairs. (Series; Game; NBC; 1955). Three celebrity panelists compete and play for members of the home audience. A vocal group presents a musically oriented question. The first panelist who is able to give the correct answer by impersonating the original recording artist receives one point. The celebrity with the highest score is the winner and his home viewer receives a cash prize. The series ran from July 9, 1955 to September 17, 1955.

Host: Bill Leyden. Panelists: Bobby Troup, Johnny Mercer, Mel Blanc. Vocalists: The Cheerleaders.

5608 Musical Chairs. (Series; Game; CBS; 1975). A song, either sung by the host or a guest, is stopped one line before its conclusion and three possible last lines of the lyric appear on a board. Four players press a button and lock in their choices. The correct line is revealed and money is awarded to the players choosing the correct line. Three rounds, each containing three songs, are played. The contestant with the highest cash score is the winner. The first game show to be hosted by an African-American; 90 episodes aired from June 16, 1975 to October 31, 1975.

Host: Adam Wade. Announcer: Pat Hernan.

5609 Musical Comedy Time. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1950–1951). The program features guest performers repeating great moments from hit Broadway musicals. The thirteen adaptations are Anything Goes, Whoopie, The Chocolate Soldier, Rio Rita, The Merry Widow, Hit the Deck, Babes in Toyland, Miss Liberty, Louisiana Purchase, Mademoiselle Modiste, Revenge with Music, No! No! Nanette and Flying High. The series ran from October 2, 1950 to March 19, 1951.

Performers Include: Martha Raye, John Conte, Johnny Morgan, Beverly Tyler, Nancy Walker, Billy Gilbert, Mimi Benzell, Patricia Morison, Bert Wheeler, John Tyers, Melville Cooper, Ira Retina, Jack Gilford, John Beal, Robert Weade, Edith Fellows, Dorothy Jarnac, Kenny Baker, Carol Bruce, Gloria DeHaven, Victor Moore, Irene Bordini, Fritz Scheff, Anne Jeffreys, Marguerite Piazza, Audrey Christie, John Raitt, Ann Crowley, Jackie Gleason, Ruth Mattheson, Bert Lahr.

5610 Musical Merry-Go-Round. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1947–1949). A program of live and recorded music that also features performances by relatively unknown entertainers. The series ran from July 25, 1947 to March 11, 1949.

Host: Jack Kilty. Regulars: Eve Young, Penny Gerard, Frederick DeWilde.

5611 Mutant League. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1996). An animated sports oriented series for children that, despite being a cartoon, is quite bloody (and violent as limbs tend to be lost in the extreme sports games that are played). The series is based on the video games “Mutant League Football” and “Mutant League Hockey,” which depicts the world of ultimate athletes. With that concept in mind, the series begins with the birth of the Mutant Athletes

(humans were exposed to toxic waste when a stadium was built over a forgotten toxic waste dump). Now with Bones Justice of the Midway Monsters (and his teammate Razor Kidd), stories follow their sports activities and their only goal: win at any cost.

Voice Cast: Roman Foster (Bones Justice), Rich Bulloidy (Razor Kidd), Jerry Lee (Razor Kidd; later), William Summers (Joe Magician), Robert Panepinto (Darkstar), Barbara Jeanne Harrison (Sherry Steele), Barbara Jeanne Harrison (Thrasher Malone), Rich Bulloidy (Liquie Lazer), Jim Herbie (Zelgor), Robert Brousseau (Bob Babble), Mark Fleisher (Kang), Roman Foster (Grim McSlam).

5612 Mutant X. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 2001). Genomex is a secret branch of U.S. Intelligence that was established to remake the world by creating perfect men and women through genetic manipulation. Adam, a chief biochemist at Genomex, felt enormous guilt for going against the laws of nature when “genetic mistakes” were created. When he is unable to convince his superior, Mason Eckhart of his beliefs, he breaks loose from Genomex and forms Mutant X, a group of rogue, genetically enhanced agents, who believe Genomex is wrong and now fight to protect the world from Eckhart and his plan to use his creations as super agents for covert missions.

Shalimar Fox, Jesse, Emma DeLauro and Brennan Mulray are Adam’s main operatives (born mutants). They are in constant battle with Eckhart’s G.S.A.

(Genetic Security Agency), a branch of Genomex that is responsible for retrieving their former children, now the agents of Mutant X. Despite the genetic enhancement, the Genomex creations are not super heroes. Adam believes it is important for these people to realize this and not let their powers take command of their mind, body and soul. Some of these “children” do believe they are god-like and battling them becomes a dangerous challenge for Adam.

Shalimar is very territorial and very protective of the people she loves. She has extraordinary martial arts skills and the ability to move (including jumping and leaping) at an accelerated rate. Shalimar also uses an additional “power” — her sexuality, to distract the enemy. She was the first mutant Adam rescued (he found her in a sleazy hotel and she hadn’t eaten for five days). She was unsure of what happened to her body but felt she could trust Adam. Her eyes turn cat-like when she gets angry. She is also reckless and leaves herself wide open to attack.

Emma has the gift of inner vision (as Adam calls it). She first realized this when she was five years old (she was attending a rock concert with her parents and became separated from them. She closed her eyes, was able to visualize their whereabouts and found them. Five years later her parents “ran off” and she was raised in an orphanage). Emma’s telepathic powers are only the beginning. She has “enormous untapped powers” that have yet to surface (in the second episode, a new power, the ability to sense the feelings of others, emerged). She can also kill by thoughts (for example, choking someone to death simply by thinking it). She “is cautious and can be read like a book” says Adam.

Brennan controls electricity. He can discharge such bolts from his fingers and create a ball of energy by placing his hands in a circle. The electricity also gives Brennan incredible strength and a split second burst of invisibility to pass through solid objects. Brennan grew up on the streets and learned to cope with his powers at an early age (using it to commit petty crimes). Now, as a part of Adam’s team, he hopes to put his past behind him and begin a new life. He calls the Mutant X hideout (secured in a secret mountain location) “Sanctuary.”

Jesse is the sensitive one of the group. He can control objects by concentrating and can create a force field around his body to absorb the impact of a bullet. He is a computer whiz and skilled in the martial arts.

Proxy Blue is a computer generated female image that reports news events.

Lexa Pierce becomes the head of Mutant X in last season episodes. She works for the Dominion (which controls the world’s technology) and has the ability to change her molecules to pass through solid objects. Lou Natale composed the theme.

A narrator opens the show: “Scientist Adam Kane was a pioneer of genetic research, manipulating DNA to save human lives. But in many their genes unrepentantly mutated and they developed super human abilities. Together four of the most powerful fight to protect the world that doesn’t even know they exist. They are Mutant X.”

Cast: John Shea (Adam Kane), Victoria Pratt (Shalimar Fox), Lauren Lee Smith (Emma DeLauro), Forbes March (Jesse), Victor Webster (Brennan Murray), Tom McCamus (Mason Eckhart), Karen Cliche (Lexa Pierce), George Buza (Lexa’s Dominion Contact).

5613 Mutts. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 10/2/88). While in a pet store seeking a dog, young Eric Gillman is attracted to a mutt named Jeepers — a canine he discovers can telepathically communicate with him. Soon Eric finds his life changed when Jeepers helps him out of his introverted shell. The unsold series was to relate the adventures of a boy and his dog. In the pilot episode, Chris tries to impress Christine Hayden, the pretty girl who lives next door and on whom he has a crush. Other Regulars: Janice and Stuart, Eric’s parents; Michelle and Glen, Christine’s parents.

Cast: Wendy Schaal (Janice Gillman), Geoff Pierson (Stuart Gillman), Stephen Dorff (Eric Gillman), Amy Hathaway (Christine Hayden), Jennifer Darling (Michelle Hayden), Ray Buktenica (Glen Hayden), David Garrison (Voice of Jeepers), Mike the Dog (Jeepers).

5614 My Adventures in Television. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2002). IBS is a mythical broadcast television network. IBS is also a low rated network — even lower than the then real network PAX, which achieves higher ratings with reruns of shows that originally aired on IBS (for example, Just the Three of Us and Reginald Woolworth, M.D.). In an attempt to improve the network’s performance, management hires David Weiss, a stage producer from Minneapolis. Red Lansing, the owner of the network, feels that David “has insight into the average American mind” and can turn the network around. Now, as the program director, a somewhat out of place, but enthusiastic young man struggles to do what is expected of him despite a staff of “quirky” co-workers.

Mike McClarren is David’s boss, the senior head of programming; Lindsay Ulrich is the vice president of comedy development (she believes every man is out to sexually harass her); Paul Weffler is the president of IBS who has an impressive record but of late has hit a stumbling block (he developed America’s Funniest Home Videos for ABC and Yes, Dear for CBS, both real shows). Joanne Waters is the vice president of programming. The series aired for its first two episodes as Wednesday at 9:30 (8:30 Central). Six episodes aired as My Adventures in Television.

Cast: John Cleese (Red Lansing), Ed Begley, Jr. (Paul Weffler), Ivan Sergei (David Weiss), Melinda McGraw (Lindsay Ulrich), James McCauley (Mike McClarren), Sherri Shepherd (Joanne Waters).

5615 My Africa. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 6/21/88). Following the death of their mother, two children (Sara and Davey) are sent to Kenya, East Africa, to live with their estranged father, Dr. Charles Marston. Charles, the son of a British father and an American mother (Millie) was born in Africa and raised in America. He abandoned his family to return to the land of his birth to help its people. The pilot episode tenderly depicts Sara and Davey’s attempts to adjust to their new lives; and Charles’s efforts, assisted by a British doctor (Maggie) and a native (Peter) to treat the sick.

Cast: Carl Weintraub (Dr. Charles Marston), Gennie James (Sara Marston), Jaimie McEnnan (Davey Marston), Jenifer Landor (Dr. Maggie Halston-Cray), Joseph Mydell (Peter), Louise Latham (Millie Marston). Guest Cast: Mwai Muigan (Risa), Sid Onyulo (Koiyak), Kenneth Mason (Horden), Ann Wanjunga Maina (Judith), Jayne Karanja (Nasha), Joy Mboya (Zipporra).

5616 My Big Fat Greek Life. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2003). A television adaptation of the feature film My Big Fat Greek Wedding (which was a hit in theaters but a failure on the small screen). The story picks up with the newlyweds (Nia and Thomas) returning from their honeymoon and talking about how to set up a modern-day marriage while surrounded by old world Greek customs and relatives — loud and obnoxious relatives.

Nia works for her father at the Dancing Zobras (a bar-restaurant in Chicago). Nia and Thomas live in a house across the street from the bar (a wedding gift from her father; they previously lived in a cramped apartment). Nia's family calls Thomas "a non Greek" and the only thing Thomas has in common with his in-laws is that they attend St. Anthony's church together. Stories follow Thomas's efforts to become a Greek and adjust to life not only as a newlywed but to Nia's outlandish family.

Other Regulars: Maria and Gus, Nia's parents; Nick, Nia's brother; Nikki, Nia's cousin (and best friend) and Nia's Aunt Voula.

In the feature film Nia Vardalos played Toula Portokalos, not Nia, and John Corbett played Nia's boyfriend-husband Ian (Steve Eckholdt plays the role as Thomas on the series)

Cast: Nia Vardalos (Nia Portokalos-Miller), Steven Eckholdt (Thomas Miller), Lainie Kazan (Maria Portokalos), Michael Constantine (Gus Portokalos), Gia Caridel (Nikki), Andrea Martin (Aunt Voula), Louis Mandylor (Nick Portokalos), Victoria Adams (Young Nia).

5617 My Big Fat Obnoxious Fiancé. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004). Randi Coy is a very pretty real life girl who has agreed to be part of a prank in order to win $500,000. She has to pretend to be in love with Steve Williams, a man she met on a reality show and convince friends and family that they are in love and are going to be married. She must also allow a film crew to record all the reactions that occur as Steve meets Randi's family and announces the engagement. The twist — the joke is actually on an unsuspecting Randi. Steve is an actor who has been hired to be the worst fiancé any girl could possibly have — as obnoxious and embarrassing as possible. Randi's reactions and those of her family to Steve's total embarrassment of Randi is the focal point of the six episode series.

Cast: Claudio DiFolco (Host), Randi Coy (Herself), Steven W. Bailey (Steve Williams). Announcer: Jack Roth.

5618 My Boy Googie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/24/67). Bill and Kate Wallace are the parents of two children, 12-year-old Frances and eight-year-old Googie. Frances, called "Fannie" is the typical pre-teenage girl who is just discovering boys, while Googie, on the other hand, is a problem child who delights in causing mischief. The unsold series was to focus on Googie's escapades and the efforts of all concerned to control him. In the pilot episode, Bill and Kate attempt to discover why Googie bit his music teacher.

Cast: Jerry Van Dyke (Bill Wallace), Jeanne Ranier (Kate Wallace), Teddy Eccles (Googie Wallace), Pamela Dapo (Frances Wallace). Guest Cast: Alice Pearce (Miss Audobon).

5619 My Boys. (Series; Comedy; TBS; 2006–). P.J. Franklin is a young woman in her twenties who is also a sports writer (baseball); she covers the Chicago Cubs for the Sun Times. P.J. has mostly male friends and could be considered a tomboy. She is a low maintenance girl and is the glue that keeps her friends together. P.J. does have a female friend, Stephanie, who attended journalism school with her and who, being more feminine than P.J., offers her tips on how to use her feminine wiles on men. Her male friends are Mike, a ladies' man who is afraid to make a commitment (he also works for the Cubs); Brendan, a D.J. with numerous romantic heartaches; Kenny, a dating challenged sports memorabilia store owner; and Andy, P.J.'s henpecked brother. Adding spice to P.J.'s life is Bobby, a sports writer for the rival newspaper, the Chicago Tribune.

Cast: Jordana Spiro (P.J. Franklin), Kellee Stewart (Stephanie), Michael Bunin (Kenny Mortitori), Jamie Kaler (Mike Callahan), Reid Scott (Brendan Dorff), Jim Gaffigan (Andy Franklin), Kyle Howard (Bobby Newman).

5620 My Brother and Me. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 1994–1995). The humorous adventures of an African-American family living in Charlotte, North Carolina. Roger and Jennifer Parker are the parents; Melanie, Alfie and Derek (called "Dee Dee") are their children. They have a nosey neighbor (Milton Berry, called "Goo"); Dionne, Donnel and Harry are friends with the children. Particular focus is on Dee Dee and his relationship with his older brother, Alfie.

Cast: Jim R. Coleman (Roger Parker), Karen E. Fraction (Jennifer Parker), Aisling Sistrunk (Melanie Parker), Arthur Reggie III (Alfred "Alfie" Parker), Ralph Woolfolk IV (Derek "Dee Dee" Parker), Jimmy Lee Newman (Milton "Goo" Berry), Amanda Seales (Dionne), Stefan J. Wernli (Donnel Wilburn).

5621 My Buddy. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/3/79). Buddy's Bar is a San Francisco watering hole where people from all walks of life can find a friend in its owner, Woodrow "Buddy" Johnson. One such customer was Albert Worth, a wealthy man who found release from the pressures of work at the bar. One day Buddy is surprised to learn that Mr. Worth has died and he has inherited his multi-million dollar empire, Worth Enterprises. But to keep his inheritance, Buddy must live in the Worth mansion with Albert's snobbish sister, Catherine, and her money-hungry husband, Bernard. Buddy turns over the bar to his friend, Slappy, moves into the mansion and the unsold series was to relate Buddy's misadventures as he attempts to adjust to his new life in high society.

Cast: Redd Foxx (Buddy Johnson), Pamela Mason (Catherine Worth), Slappy White (Slappy), Basil Hoffman (Bernard Worth), Irwin C. Watson (Sumpter, Buddy's friend).

5622 My Darling Judge. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/23/61). Cyrus Dunn is a prestigious Beverly Hills judge. He is married to Betsy and is the father of two children, Charlotte and Leila. The unsold series was to focus on the problems that befall the good-natured but easily exasperated judge as he tries to put his work aside and spend more time with his family. The pilot episode relates Cyrus's efforts to get an early start on a long-delayed fishing trip.

Other Regulars: Willie, the Dunns' gardener.

Cast: Fred Clark (Cyrus Dunn), Audrey Totter (Betsy Dunn), Melinda Plowman (Charlotte Dunn), Anne Whitefield (Leila Dunn), Willie Tsang (Willie). Guest Cast: Marjorie Bennett (Elderly woman), Wally Brown (Cop).

5623 My Enemy, This Town. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 2/6/64). A proposed spin-off from The Kraft Suspense Theater (slated to be called The Strangers) about Johnny Baroja, a wandering ex-con who helps people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Johnny returns to his home town to get even with the girl who framed him on a false assault charge.

Cast: Scott Marlowe (Johnny Baroja). Guest Cast: Diane McBain (Mary Jorgenson), Philip Carey (Edgar Martin), Barbara Nichols (Ann Hiltz), R.G. Armstrong (Sheriff Harder), Adam Williams (Ben Jorgenson), Bill Smith (Deputy Raynor), Martin Garalaga (Papa Baroja), Argentina Brunetti (Mama Baroja), Louise Glenn (Edna Jeffries).

5624 My Fair Brady. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2005–). Christopher Knight, the actor who played Peter Brady on The Brady Bunch (ABC, 1969–1974) is now 47 years old. Adrienne Curry, the first winner of America's Next Top Model, is 22 years old. The two met on The Surreal Life and fell in love. A year after their meeting they are still in love and living together. For reasons that are not really explained (other than for publicity) the couple allows cameras in their lives. The program follows Peter and Adrienne as they go about their everyday business — now made more public than private.

Stars: Christopher Knight, Adrienne Curry.

5625 My Family. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for NBC in 1992). Monologues, flashbacks and present-day scenes are used to tell the comedic story of Rick Garrison, a survivor of a dysfunctional family, as he goes out of his way to ensure a happy childhood for his two sons Jack (16) and Morgan (6).

Cast: Rick Reynolds (Rick Garrison), Maureen Mueller (Maureen Garrison), Matt Nolan (Jack Garrison), Bradley Pierce (Morgan Garrison).

5626 My Favorite Husband. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1953–1955). A lovely home, decorated in Chinese modern and located at 1561 Briar Street in Westwood, California, is the residence of George Cooper and his wife Elizabeth ("Liz") Cooper.

"George is a husband and banker," says Liz; "Liz is a wife and homemaker," says George. George is level headed and is an executive with the Sunset State Bank. Liz is beautiful but scatterbrained and stories relate events in their lives.

Elizabeth, as portrayed by Joan Caulfield, was tall and blonde. Her 1955 replacement, Vanessa Brown, was petite and brunette. Despite the obvious difference in wives, "the beguiling combination of wit, femininity and attractive sex which has become a hallmark of the role" remained the same.

Myrna Cobb is Liz's friend; Gilmore is her husband. In 1955 Myrna became Myrna Shepard and she was now married to Oliver Shepard. George's sister, Janice Cooper is a commercial artist (she buys her supplies from Dottie Broom's Art Supply); and George's Uncle Norman broke into show business with a "talented pet pig" (whom he calls "Pig" or "The Show Biz Pig"). Based on the radio series of the same title with Lucille Ball (Liz) and Richard Denning (George).

Lud Gluskin composed the theme.

Cast: Joan Caulfield (Liz Cooper; 1953–55), Vanessa Brown (Liz Cooper; 1955), Barry Nelson (George Cooper), Bob Sweeney (Gilmore Cobb; 1953–55), Alix Talton (Myrna Cobb; 1953–55), Alix Talton (Myrna Shepard; 1955), Dan Tobin (Oliver Shepard; 1955), Carolyn Jones (Janice Cooper), Adele Jergens (Dottie Broom), David Burns (Uncle Norman). Announcer: Dick Joy.

5627 My Favorite Martian. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1963–1966). Tim O'Hara is a reporter for the Los Angeles Sun. One morning, while driving to an interview, Tim witnesses the crash-landing of a UFO (unidentified flying object). He investigates and befriends its pilot, Exagitious 12½, a professor of anthropology from Mars whose specialty is the primitive planet Earth. (During the U.S. Air Force's testing of an X-15 plane, the Martian's spacecraft entered the Earth's atmosphere and locked into a head-on collision course with it. To avoid disaster, the Martian, who was traveling at 9,000 miles per hour, strained his ship to get out of the path of the X-15. The strain caused a malfunction and the saucer crash-landed.)

a very pretty but slightly dizzy widow. To protect his true identity, the Martian adopts the alias of Uncle Martin, a relative who has come to live with his nephew, Tim. (Martin's silver spaceship is hidden in Lorelei's garage.) While Martin seeks a way to repair his craft (the materials he needs are still unknown to Earth), he struggles to adjust to a more primitive world and to keep his true identity a secret. His task is complicated by Bill Brennan, a detective with the 12th Precinct of the L.A.P.D., who is suspicious of both Tim and Martin.

On Earth, Martin needs an accurate barometer so he can monitor storms. Thunderstorms are a Martian's worst fear on Earth because if struck by lightning and not properly grounded by his antennae, he gets "Popsy," a condition that causes him to appear and disappear uncontrollably. Martin is prone to short circuits, has the ability to project his dreams, can read minds (unless there is a conscious effort to shut him out), speak to and understand animals, levitate (with his right index finger) and appear and disappear at will (by raising the antennae at the back of his head).

When Bill, the human bloodhound who is called "Bulldog Brennan," is around, Martin's antennae quiver. Mrs. Brown, who is famous for her fudge brownies, is the mother of two beautiful daughters: Annabel and Angela. Lorelei gives bridge lessons, sells Christmas cards and beauty creams, is studying real estate and plays the stock market with a Ouija board.

In the unaired pilot version of the series, Martin did not have the power of levitation (he used a control device from his ship to levitate), and Lorelei had only one daughter, Annabel (Ina Victor), who was Tim's romantic interest.

Relatives: Paul Smith, (Tim's cousin, Harvey O'Hara), Sean McClory (Tim's granduncle, Shamus O'Hara), Madge Blake (Martin's mother), Wayne Stam (Martin's nephew, Andrometer), Marlo Thomas (Lorelei's niece, Pamela), Bill Idelson (Lorelei's brother, Leroy Wanamaker), Bernie Kopell (Lorelei's nephew, George), Gavin MacLeod (Lorelei's brother, Alvin Wanamaker), Yvonne White (Lorelei's sister, Dulcie), Don Keefer (Dulcie's husband, Henry), Rory Stevens (Dulcie's son, Stanley). Theme: "My Favorite Martian," by George Greeley.

5628 My Favorite Martians. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1973–1975). A spin-off from My Favorite Martian. When a damaged spacecraft lands on Earth, its occupants, Uncle Martin, his nephew Andy, and their dog Oakie Doakie, are befriended by Tim

O'Hara, a newspaper reporter, and his niece Katy—the sole witnesses to their landing. In an effort to help the stranded Martians, Tim shelters them at his home but arouses the suspicions of Bill Brennan, a freelance security officer, who tries to uncover their secret. Stories relate Martin's efforts to maintain his false identity and find the materials he needs to repair his disabled craft and return home. Lorelei Brown is Tim's landlady; Brad Brennan is Bill's son.

Voice Cast: Jonathan Harris (Uncle Martin), Lane Scheimer (Tim O'Hara), Jane Webb (Katy O'Hara), Jane Webb (Lorelei Brown), Lane Scheimer (Bill Brennan), Edward Morris (Andy), Edward Morris (Brad Brennan).

5629 My Friend Flicka. (Series; Drama; CBS; ABC; 1956–1964). The Goose Bar Ranch in Coulee Springs, Wyoming, in the early 1900s is the setting. The experiences of the McLaughlins, a horse-ranching family. Episodes focus in particular on the adventures shared by young Ken McLaughlin and his horse Flicka (Swedish for Little Girl), a once wild stallion given to him by his father to teach him responsibility. Rob and Nell are Ken's parents; Gus Broeberg is a ranch hand; Hildy is Gus's niece; Walt Downey is the town Sheriff; Sergeant Tim O'Gara is Rob's friend. The series, based on the stories by Mary O'Hara, produced 39 episodes and ran on CBS from February 10, 1956 to September 23, 1959; on ABC from September 30, 1959 to December 31, 1963; and on CBS from September 30, 1961 to September 26, 1964.

Cast: Gene Evans (Rob McLaughlin), Anita Louise (Nell McLaughlin), Johnny Washbrook (Ken McLaughlin), Frank Ferguson (Gus Broeberg), Pamela Beard (Hildy Broeberg), Hugh Sanders (Walt Downey), Sydney Mason (Walt Sanders; later), Tudor Owen (Tim O'Gara), Craig Duncan (U.S. Marshal), Wahama (Flicka).

5630 My Friend Irma. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1952–1954). "If she thinks it could be dangerous," says Jane Stacy, the level-headed roommate of Irma Peterson, a beautiful and shapely "dumb blonde" whose well-meaning intentions always backfire.

Irma and Jane share Apartment 3B (later 2C) at Mrs. O'Reilly's Boarding House at 185 West 73rd Street in Manhattan. Irma was born in Minnesota and loves the excitement of big-city life. She works as a secretary for Milton J. Clyde, owner of the Clyde Real Estate Company at 631 East 41st Street. She is sweet and sensitive and realizes that she is not as smart as other people. She talks to walls "to clear the cobwebs out of my mind," reads "Flash Gordon" comic books and "when I don't want people to know I know something, I pretend I'm dumb."

Irma is always fashionably dressed; she is a picture of beauty, a good housekeeper and an ample cook, but is head over heels in love with the wrong man — Al, “The best customer at the state unemployment office.” The averse-to-work Al is a con artist who calls Irma “Chicken.” Jane believes he “is a live wire and it is only a matter of time before they hook him up and put a chair under him.”

Jane was born in Connecticut and lived with her parents at 1362 Post Valley Road before coming to New York to fulfill a dream: marrying a rich man. Jane believes only money can buy happiness and begins her quest by becoming the personal secretary to Richard Rhinelander, the wealthy owner of the Richard Rhinelander Investment Company at 113 Park Avenue. Jane secretly loves Richard and desperately tries to impress him, but feels her chances will be ruined by Irma, who is well below his social scale.

Richard is a graduate of Harvard Business School and, despite his encounters with Irma, finds her delightful. Jane talks directly to the audience to relate her feelings as the story progresses. She met Irma quite by accident while looking for an apartment. Irma, who never looks where she is going, bumped into Jane and knocked her to the ground. In the process of helping her to her feet, Irma ripped Jane’s dress. When Irma learned that Jane was looking for a place to live, she offered to let her live with her — in “a one-room furnished basement Irma calls home.”

Before leaving the series in 1953 (she was transferred to Panama), Jane summed up Irma with “Mother Nature gave some girls brains, intelligence and cleverness. But with Irma, Mother Nature slipped her a Mickey.” Kay Foster is Irma’s new roommate. Irma appeared onstage and explained in an opening curtain speech that Kay responded to her newspaper ad and became her new roommate. Kay is bright and beautiful and works as a reporter for the New York Globe. She, too, speaks directly to the audience and comments on the situations that develop as a result of Irma’s antics.

Kay was born in Ohio and attended Ohio State College (majoring in journalism).

There were plans for Irma to marry and continue the series as My Wife Irma. While this never happened, Al was dropped to give Irma a more respectable boyfriend — Joe Vance, a neatly dressed, intelligent, hard-working man (for the Spic and Span Cleaners). Joe called Irma “Beautiful” and gave her a “used” engagement ring when he proposed (he purchased the microscopic diamond in the ring from a friend when he broke up with his girl). Irma didn’t mind; she loved Joe and accepted it. Kay’s boyfriend is Brad Jackson, a reporter for the Globe.

Kathleen O’Reilly is the owner of the boarding house; Professor Kropotkin is Irma’s neighbor, who plays violin at the Paradise Burlesque Theater (later the Gypsy Tea Room). To avoid the hassle of always having to do her nails, Marie Wilson wears white gloves in virtually every episode. Based on the radio program of the same title.

Cast: Marie Wilson (Irma Peterson), Cathy Lewis (Jane Stacey), Mary Shipp (Kay Foster), Sid Tomack (Al), Hal March (Joe Vance), Brooks West (Richard Rhinelander III), Gerald Mohr (Brad Jackson), Donald MacBride (Milton J. Clyde), Sig Arno (Professor Kropotkin), Gloria Gordon (Mrs. O’Reilly), Richard Eyer (Bobby Peterson, Irma’s nephew), John Carradine (Mr. Corday), Margaret DuMont (Richard’s mother). Announcer: Frank Bingham, Bob Lemond.

5631 My Friend Tony. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1969). John Woodruff is a private detective and criminologist professor at U.C.L.A. He is a World War II veteran whose partner is Tony Novello, a young boy (now a man) he befriend while serving in Italy. Stories relate their case investigations: John as a man who strictly follows the book; Tony as an eager beaver who feels it is necessary to break the rules to get the results they need.

Cast: James Whitmore (John Woodruff), Enzo Cerusico (Tony Novello).

5632 My Friends Tigger and Pooh. (Series; Children; Disney; 2007). A computer animated adaptation of the “Winnie the Pooh” stories by A.A. Milne. The story is set in the Hundred Acre Woods where Winnie the Pooh, the honey-loving bear, and his animal friends Tigger (a tiger), Piglet (pig), Rabbit, Eeyore (donkey), Kanga and Roo (kangaroos) live. Christopher Robin is their only human friend. In the this version several new characters are introduced: Darby, a six-year-old tomboyish girl; Buster, her puppy, and Lumpy, a new neighbor in the woods. Stories, aimed at preschoolers, teach learning aspects through the adventures shared by the animals and their human friends.

Voice Cast: Jim Cummings (Winnie the Pooh), Jim Cummings (Tigger), Ken Sansom (Rabbit), Chloe Moretz (Darby), Struen Erhlinhorn (Christopher Robin), Travis Oates (Piglet), Dee Bradley Baker (Piglet), Max Burkholder (Roo), Kath Soucie (Kanga), Peter Cullen (Eeyore), Oliver Dillon (Lumpy).

5633 My Guys. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996). Sonny DeMarco is the owner of a small limo company in New York City. He is also a widower and the father of Michael and Francis (the “My Guys” of the title). Stories follow Sonny as he attempts to run his business (DeMarco Limousines), care for his sons and find the time for a social life.

Other Regulars: Angela, his next-door neighbor; Dori, the waitress at the coffee shop who hopes to become a professional dancer.

Cast: Michael Rispoli (Sonny DeMarco), Francis Capra (Francis DeMarco), Mike Damus (Michael DeMarco), Marisol Nichols (Angela), Sheri Scott (Dori).

5634 My Gym Partner’s a Monkey. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2005). The Charles Darwin Middle School is an institution devoted to educating animals. Adam Lyon is a 12-year-old human boy who also attends the school. A mix-up by the school board (spelling his last name as Lion instead of Lyon) placed him in the animal category and a candidate for the school. Adam adjusts (although he has to be careful as there are signs posted that read “Do Not Eat the Students”) and has become friends with Jake Spider Monkey. Stories follow Adam’s misadventures (complicated by Jake) in a school where being human is odd. A diminutive frog, Principal Pixiefrog, runs the school; Coach Gillis (a goldfish) is the athletic director; Eugenia Tusk (an elephant) is the lunch lady; Miss Chameleon is the drama teacher; Virgil Sharkowski, called Bull, is the school bully; Slips Python is the school nerd; Ingrid Giraffe is the tallest kid in class; Henry Armadillo anchors the school’s news program.

Voice Cast: Nika Futterman (Adam Lyon), Tom Kerry (Jake Spider Monkey), Maurice La Marche (Principal Pixiefrog), Brian Doyle Murray (Coach Gillis), Grey De Lisle (Ingrid Giraffe), Rick Gomez (Slips Python), Phil LaMarr (Virgil Sharkowski), Nika Futterman (Miss Chameleon), Cree Summer (Eugenia Tusk), Tom Kenny (Henry Armadillo).

5635 My Hero. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1952–1953). The “hero” of the title is Robert S. Beanblossom, a handsome salesman for the Thackery Realty Company in Los Angeles, who uses his suave and sophisticated style and “power over women” to sell real estate.

The girl to whom Robert is a hero is Julie Marshall, a red haired, brown eyed beauty who works as the office secretary. Julie sees Robert as other women do (a playboy bachelor), but she also sees a side of him that other women do not — his somewhat klutzy approach to selling properties when he becomes desperate. Despite Robert’s misadventures, he always manages to come out on top (at which time Julie hugs him and says, “My hero”).

Willis Thackery, the owner of the company, has been in the real estate game for 27 years. He is a member of the Ancient and Exalted Order of the Araby Club. When Willis likes what Robert is doing, he calls him “Bob,” “Bob-O” and “Robin.” When he gets angry at Bob, it’s “Beanblossom!” Thackery’s competition is Yeager’s Developments.

Leon Klatzkin composed the “My Hero” theme.

Cast: Bob Cummings (Robert S. Beanblossom), John Litel (Willis Thackery), Julie Bishop (Julie Marshall).

5636 My Kind of Town. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2005). Two hundred people, chosen from typical American small towns, are brought to New York City to compete in a series of games. At the end of each episode, one player, chosen by the others to be their representative, competes in a game called “Name Your Neighbor.” Here the player must identify the names of six players who were featured in the various games that were previously held. If he can, each member of the group wins a prize tailored especially for them; if not, all two hundred lose.

Host: Johnny Vaughan.

5637 My Life and Times. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1991). “I wouldn’t say I’ve seen it all, but I’ve seen a lot. I’ve seen the world change, I’ve seen myself change. I’ve watched footsteps on the moon; I’ve seen myself stumble. I’ve made a fortune, I’ve lost a fortune ... I’ve loved and lost and lived to love again. The one thing I know, life is an adventure. You’ve got to hold on and let it carry you away. It carried me all the way to the year 2035. And I’m here to tell the tale. I’m Ben Miller and this is my life and times.”

From an unidentified retirement home in the year 2035, 85-year-old Benjamin (“Ben”) Miller spoke those words (over the theme music), and through flashbacks, as Ben recalled his life, we saw his life and times. On September 17, 1968, Ben began his journalism studies at Northwestern University. It was here that he met and first fell in love with Rebecca Elizabeth Eastman, a student majoring in psychology. After graduation they drifted apart: Ben went to New York to pursue his writing career; she remained in Chicago to attend graduate school; the time is 1972.

We next learn about Ben in 1978. He has written a story about an enchanting girl he met named Jessie (Claudia Christian) for the Illinois Review. At age 35 in 1985, Ben returned to Chicago to look up Rebecca, who is 31. Ben is now a reporter for the New York Globe, and he and Rebecca find that they still love each other. She accepted his proposal. They married and returned to New York to live. From this point on, information was not given to link Ben’s past.

Ben and Rebecca had two children, Melanie and Daniel. Daniel was born in 1989; Melanie in 1994. At some point between 1989 and 1998, Ben wrote two books: A Break in the Clouds and Come the Redeemer. Ben also left his job at the Globe (possibly in 1986) and began driving a Checker Cab in Manhattan.

Apparently the times were getting hard for Americans. There was the Crash of 1998, and 50 million people were out of work. It was in 1998 that Ben and his family moved from their home at 323 Sycamore Drive in Seattle to Washington, D.C., where Ben found work as a bookkeeper with Colby-Stern, a government contracting company.

On Memorial Day in 1999, Ben and his family vacationed at Pearl Lake in Illinois. On Labor Day of that year, Rebecca died of cancer. Ben then moved to St. Louis to take a factory job.

We saw Ben celebrate the millennium with his family, and we know from an early episode that in the year 2000 Ben married Lily Matheson. We also know that Rebecca loved working with kids in a Manhattan welfare center. And, we learn that Ben's favorite candy in the year 2036 (the series progressed one year in the fourth episode) is Milk Duds.

Relatives (Year 2035): Regina Leeds (Ben's daughter, Melanie Miller), Tim Stack (Ben's son, Daniel Miller), Harriet Medin (Daniel's wife, Jessie Miller), Matt McGrath (Daniel's son, Robert Miller), Christopher Pettiet (Daniel's son, Michael Miller).

Flashbacks: Emily Ann Lloyd (Melanie in 1999), Sean Baca (Daniel in 1999), Angela Patton (Ben's mother, Sarah Miller in 1985), Priscilla Pointer (Rebecca's mother in 1985), Paul Dooley (Rebecca's father in 1985). Theme: "My Life and Times," by Lee Holdridge.

Cast: Tom Irwin (Ben Miller), Helen Hunt (Rebecca Miller), Lisa Zane (Lily Matheson).

5638 My Life as a Dog. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 1997). A television adaptation of the Swedish film of the same title (about a young boy struggling to cope with his mother's illness). The series picks up after the mother's death with the boy (Eric) now living with relatives in a small fishing village called Gimil. It is here that 11-year-old Eric begins a new life and stories follow him as he makes new friends and begins his journey into adulthood. Johnny Johansson is Eric's uncle. Johnny is married to Zoe; Anastasia "A.J." Burke is Eric's friend (her parents own the Seaside Hotel); Sam, whose father runs an automobile shop, is also Eric's friend.

5639 My Life As a Teenage Robot. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2003). Jenny Wakeman appears to be an ordinary teenage girl. She is, however, a robot and has been designed to defend the Earth. Her official designation is Global Robotic Response Unit XJ-9. Jenny is brave and powerful, but she has developed human qualities and would like to live the life of a real teenage girl — and even go to school. Jenny (who was created by her mother, Nora) is six feet tall and made of metal and is constantly reminded that she has a prime function — saving the world. Brad Carbunkle is Jenny's neighbor and best friend. Tucker Carbunkle is Brad's younger brother. Nora Wakeman is a scientist who has devoted her life to ridding the world of evil. She has created a number of weapons to destroy evil but Jenny is her greatest success. Tiffany and Brittany are the "cool" girls at school. Sheldon is the school geek who finds Jenny to be the true incarnation of the super heroes he reads about in comic books.

Voice Cast: Janice Kawaye (Jenny Wakeman), Chad Doreck (Brad Carbunkle), Audrey Wasilewski (Tucker Carbunkle), Candi Milo (Nora Wakeman), Moira Quirk (Brittany), Cree Summer (Tiffany), Quinton Flynn (Sheldon Lee). Announcer: Bob Joles.

5640 My Little Margie. (Series; Comedy; CBS; NBC; 1952–1955). As the opening theme music is heard, the audience sees the framed pictures of two people: a beautiful 21-year-old girl named Marjorie ("Margie") Albright, and her distinguished father, Vernon ("Vern") Albright. The camera first focuses on the portrait of Vern. The picture comes to life and we learn about his problem — Margie: "I've been both mother and father to her since she was born. She's grown up now.... When she was little I could speak to her and make her mind me. I had control over her.... When she disobeyed, I took her roller skates away for a week. What can you do when a girl reaches this age? She's completely out of hand. I've got a problem, believe me, I've got a problem."

The camera pans to the picture of Margie and we learn of her problem — Vern: "I've raised him from my childhood. He's nearly 50 now and you'd think he'd settle down, wouldn't you? Today, he looks better in shorts on a tennis court than fellows 25. Girls wink at him, and what's worse, he winks back at them. I want a nice old comfortable father. I try to look after him, but he just won't settle down. I've got a problem, believe me, I've got a problem."

Stories relate incidents in Margie and Vern's lives as they attempt to resolve their respective problems.

Margie and Vern live in Apartment 10A of the Carlton Arms Hotel in New York City. Vern is an investment counselor with the Manhattan firm of Honeywell and Todd. Mrs. Clarissa Odetts, their neighbor, lives in Apartment 10C, and Vern's romantic interest, Roberta Townsend, lives in Apartment 10B.

Margie, who is described as "pretty, shapely and attractive," appears to have no job. She uses her beauty to get men to do what she wants them to do. Margie loves to meddle in Vern's business (and private) affairs. When Margie does something, Vern finds out. Vern decides to get even and teach her a lesson. However, as Vern tries to teach Margie a lesson, she finds out and turns the tables and tries to teach him a lesson for trying to teach her a lesson (the basic plot of virtually every episode). Margie, who has Irish blood from her mother, is a talented dancer.

Freddie Wilson is Margie's impoverished boyfriend. He seems permanently suited for unemployment, and, as Vern says, "Freddie is the only man I know who got fired from five different jobs in the same week." Despite the fact that Vern dislikes Freddie and calls him a "droop," Margie loves him.

Mrs. Odetts is Margie's elderly neighbor and her "cohort in crime." She is an 82-year-old, young at heart widow who had British ancestors at Valley Forge. Her lifelong ambition was to be an actress, and she finds pure delight in helping Margie turn the tables on Vern.

George Honeywell is Vern's boss at the investment agency, and Charlie is the building elevator operator.

Relatives: Lela Bliss Hayden (Freddie's mother), Harry Hayden (Freddie's father), Sheila James (Clarissa's granddaughter, Norma Jean Odetts), Crystal Reeves (Clarissa's sister, Amy McKenna), Fess Parker, (Clarissa's nephew, Lonny Crunchmeyer), Gloria Talbott (Clarissa's granddaughter, Amy McKenna), Angela Stevens (George's niece, Nancy Crumbley), Alvy Moore (George's nephew, Dillard Crumbley III). In one episode, Margie pretended to be her 11-year-old sister, Sally Albright. The series, which produced 126 episodes, ran on CBS from June 16, 1952 to July 10, 1953; and on NBC from September 9, 1953 to August 24, 1955.

Cast: Gale Storm (Margie Albright), Charles Farrell (Vernon Albright), Don Hayden (Freddie Wilson), Hillary Brooke (Roberta Townsend), Gertrude Hoffman (Clarissa Odetts), Willie Best (Charlie), Clarence Kolb (George Honeywell), George Meader (Mr. Todd).

5641 My Little Pony and Friends. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). The overall title for several mini animated series. My Little Pony relates the serial-like adventures of Megan, a beautiful young girl, and her friends, the multi-colored ponies, as she struggles to protect Dream Valley from evil. Potato Head Kids relates the misadventures of the Potato Head family. Glo and Friends tells the story of tiny creatures who battle evil Mooligans.

Voice Cast: Ginny McSwain (Megan), Nancy Cartwright (Gusty), Charles Adler (Spike), Katie Leigh (Baby Shady), Russi Taylor (Morning Glory), Susan Blu (Buttons), Sarah Partridge (Wind Whistler), Sherry Lynn (Galaxy), Ellen Gerstell (Lofty), Jill Wayne (Baby Lofty), Keri Houlihan (Molly), Scott Menville (Danny), Jeannie (Masquerade).

5642 My Living Doll. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1964–1965). Rhoda Miller is a beautiful female robot that was built by Dr. Carl Miller for a U.S. space project designed to send robots into outer space. His creation, AF 709 (AAF 709 in the pilot), is made of low-modulus polyethylene plastics, miniature computers "and assorted components."

Rhoda, called "the ultimate in feminine composition," stands five feet ten inches tall and measures 37–26–36. On her back are four small birthmarks, each of which acts as an emergency control button. Her main "off" switch is located in her right elbow, and her eyes provide a source of power obtained from light (covering her eyes causes a system relaxation). Her microscopic sensors keep her body temperature at a constant 98.6 degrees, making her immune to cold. Rhoda's memory bank contains 50 million items of information, and her computer brain can compute any piece of programmed information in one second. Carl calls his creation "Living Doll" (the original series title), "It," "709" or "the Robot" — and sees her as just that, not as a beautiful woman.

Carl assigns her to Dr. Robert ("Bob") McDonald, a psychologist at the Cory Psychiatric Clinic, to mold her character. She poses as Rhoda Miller, Carl's niece. At the office she is Bob's secretary; at home (an apartment at 5600 Wilshire Boulevard), where Bob lives with his sister, Irene Adams, Rhoda is a patient who requires special attention and is living with them until she can function on her own.

Bob is a ladies' man, and his favorite eatery is the Galaxy Club in Los Angeles. Peter Robinson, Bob's neighbor, is like everyone else and unaware that Rhoda is a robot (Peter has fallen in love with her and desperately wants to date her; Bob is trying to prevent this from happening, fearing Rhoda will learn all the wrong things, as Peter is a playboy).

After the twenty-first episode, Bob Cummings left the series (he and Julie Newmar simply could not get along together). Bob's hasty departure was explained as his being sent to Pakistan on an assignment. Rhoda became Peter's ward for the remaining five episodes. The series, which produced 26 episodes, ran from September 27, 1964 to September 8, 1965.

Cast: Julie Newmar (Rhoda Miller), Bob Cummings (Bob McDonald), Doris Dowling (Irene Adams), Jack Mullavey (Peter Robinson), Henry Beckman (Dr. Carl Miller). Theme Song: "My Living Doll" by George Greeley.

5643 My Lucky Penny. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/8/66). Jennifer "Jenny" Penny is the wife of a dental student (Ted) who works as a secretary for an unseen, absent-minded and eccentric boss who communicates with her via tape recordings. The unsold series was to relate Jenny's misadventures as she struggles to carry out her boss's sometimes idiotic chores — like, for example, in the pilot episode when she helps her boss get sweet revenge on an unscrupulous gambling friend by paying off $15,000 in pennies. Other Regulars: Freddy and Sybil, the Pennys' friends.

Cast: Brenda Vaccaro (Jenny Penny), Richard Benjamin (Ted Penny), Joel Grey (Freddy Rockefeller), Luana Anders (Sybil Rockefeller). Guest Cast: Larry Storch (Commodore), David Moss (Frederick), Jonathan Harris (Money collector).

5644 My Mother the Car. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1965–1966). On August 23, 1949, Agatha

Crabtree, the mother of David Crabtree, passed away. In November 1957, David, now a lawyer, and his high school sweetheart, Barbara Natwick, married. Eight years later, they have two children (Cindy and Randy), a dog (Moon), a comfortable home (at 213 Hampton Street) and the need for a station wagon.

On September 14, 1965, Dave sets out to buy a station wagon for the family. While in a used car lot, he becomes fascinated with a decrepit looking 1928 Porter with the sign "Fixer Upper" on it. Dave gets into the car, touches the radio — and hears a female voice say, "Hello, Davey." Davey responds, "Mother?" and is startled to learn that the voice is emerging from the car's radio. Agatha, who liked automobiles, has been reincarnated as a car to help Davey ("You need help, son") and his family. His mother, however, will speak only to him. Dave pays $200 for the Porter and drives home.

He immediately encounters the objections of Barbara (whom he calls "Barb"), who wants a station wagon. In an attempt to make Mother more presentable, Dave takes her to Doc Benson's Auto Clinic for an overhaul and then to A. Schreiber's Auto Painting for a new paint job (red). A proud Dave Crabtree returns home to encounter Barbara's objections once again; she and the kids want a station wagon.

Just then Captain Bernard Manzini, an easily exasperated and eccentric antique car collector arrives and offers to buy the Porter for his collection (Dave bought it minutes before Manzini had a chance to acquire it). Dave, of course, refuses to sell, and Manzini's continual efforts to acquire the Porter are a recurring theme. Stories relate Mother's attempts to guide Davey's life and Dave's efforts to conceal the fact that his mother is a car.

Complicating Dave's life is his neighbor, Ernie Stewart (Peter Leeds) who believes the Porter is an eyesore and has started a petition drive requesting that Dave get rid of the car. Manzini, who considers the Porter "Our Vehicle" (referring to himself and Dave), calls Dave everything but Crabtree (for example, Crabmaster, Kravitz, Crabmeat, Kragle); he always responds with "Whatever" when Dave corrects him.

Cast: Jerry Van Dyke (Dave Crabtree), Maggie Pierce (Barbara Crabtree), Cynthia Eilbacher (Cindy Crabtree), Randy Whipple (Randy Crabtree), Ann Sothern (Mother's Voice), Avery Schreiber (Bernard Manzini), Peggy Miller (Suzy; Dave's neighbor), Chuck Grodin (Fred; Suzy's husband), Paula Wilson (Barbara's mother), Bruno VeSota (Manzini's Uncle Louie). Theme Vocal: "My Mother the Car" by Paul Hampton.

5645 My Name Is Earl. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2005–). Earl Hickey is a guy who would steal anything that wasn't nailed down. He was mean to people, took advantage of others and was simply not the nicest guy you'd ever want to meet. He lives at the Pimitt Trailer Park and is married to the beautiful but very unfaithful Joy. He also has a dim-witted brother named Randy.

One day life appears to be changing for Earl — he wins $100,000 on a scratch-off lottery ticket, but he is hit by a car and loses the ticket. While recuperating in the hospital, Earl sees the TV program Last Call with Carson Daly. Carson is discussing a topic regarding success (the direct result of doing good things for other people) and Earl has an epiphany; he vows to improve his life by correcting every bad thing he has ever done.

Earl makes a list of his past misdeeds and with Randy's fumbling help, sets out to right what was once wrong.

Other Regulars: Darnell, the owner of the Crab Shack (Earl's favorite bar) and Joy's new lover (she and Earl are now divorced); and Catalina, a very sexy friend of Earl who also helps him on occasion.

Cast: Jason Lee (Earl Hickey), Jaime Pressly (Joy), Ethan Suplee (Randy Hickey), Eddie Steeples (Darnell "Crab Man" Turner), Nadine Velazquez (Catalina), Noah Crawford (Young Earl; flashbacks), Phoenix Smith (Young Randy; flashbacks).

5646 My Partner the Ghost. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1973). Jeff Randall, who offers free advice, and Marty Hopkirk, who always arrives five minutes ahead of his appointments, co-own Randall and Hopkirk — Private Investigators, at Marshall and Brooks Street in London, England. Marty's wife, Jean Hopkirk works as their secretary-receptionist (Jeff is single).

Jeff and Marty are investigating a case involving a woman's philandering husband when the woman dies suddenly from a heart condition. While Jeff writes off the case, Marty believes the woman was murdered and continues his investigation. One Wednesday evening, while walking across the street, Marty is killed by a hit and run driver — a murder arranged by the husband. Because of the circumstances surrounding his death, Marty is allowed to return to Earth as a ghost to solve his own murder. Because he is now a spirit, Marty is unable to function as before and must use a person to perform for him. Marty chooses Jeff and appears only to him. With Jeff's help, Marty finds his killer, but he violates an ancient rule and is rejected by his grave: "Before the sun shall rise on you, each ghost unto his grave must go. Cursed be the ghost who dares to stay and face the awful light of day. He shall not to the grave return until a hundred years be gone."

Marty, now forced to remain on Earth, decides to resume his former life as a detective and becomes Jeff's ghostly assistant. The curse also gives Marty the opportunity to watch over his beautiful wife, whom he still worries about. Jean inherited everything from Marty, including trouble from those he convicted who are out and now seeking revenge. The series is also known as Randall and Hopkirk (Deceased). Edwin Astley composed the theme.

Cast: Kenneth Cope (Marty Hopkirk), Mike Pratt (Jeff Randall), Annette Andre (Jean Hopkirk), Ivor Dean (Inspector Large).

5647 My Pet Monster. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1987). Max is a young boy who finds friendship in plush toys. One day, while at a toy store, Max spots an unusual animal—a monster with a purple body, pink face and cuffs on its wrists. After purchasing the toy, Max finds a key and unlocks the cuffs. To his amazement, the plush toy grows to a six-foot tall, live monster with an appetite for garbage. Max names the creature Monster and must now keep him a secret (if Monster Land learns that one of its dolls has come to life, it will be whisked back home through a dimensional doorway). The evil Beastur has become aware of Monster and is now trying to retrieve him. Stories follow Max's adventures with Monster—and his efforts to keep him safe from Beastur. Jill is Max's sister; Chuckie is their friend.

Voice Cast: Sunny Besen Thraser (Max), Jeff McGibbon (Monster), Alyson Court (Jill), Stuart Stone (Chuckie), Dan Hennessey (Beastur), Tara Strong (Amie), Tracey Moore (Princess). Additional Voices: Noam Zylberman, John Stocker, Simon Reynolds, Robert Cait, Colin Fox, Mary Long, Maxine Miller.

5648 My Secret Identity. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1988–1989). Fourteen-year-old Andrew Clements wanders into the lab of his neighbor, Dr. Benjamin Jeffcoat, and is hit by blue gamma rays from an experimental machine. The rays endow Andrew with extraordinary powers he uses to foil evil as Ultraman.

Andrew, who attends Briarwood High School, lives with his divorced mother, Stephanie, and sister, Erin, at 43 Meadow Drive (also given as 51 Meadow Drive) in Briarwood, Canada. Andrew based his alter ego on his favorite comic book character, Ultraman (Andrew wears no special costume). His powers consist of strength, the ability to fly, speed and an immunity to harm). Andrew's favorite hangout is Jerry's Burger Barn, and he held a job as a parking lot valet for the Le Club Restaurant.

Stephanie, a freelance real estate agent, does volunteer work at the York Community Center. Erin, who loves horseback riding, attends Briarwood Elementary School. She is very sweet and very close to her mother (whom she rarely disobeys).

Dr. Jeffcoat, the fifth smartest man in the world, lives at 45 Meadow Drive (his lab is maintained at a constant temperature of 75.5 degrees Fahrenheit). He writes scientific articles for the Quantum Quarterly magazine. "Dr. J," as Andrew calls him, attended Broadhurst University. In Briarwood High School, Ben was called "Sparky" for blowing up the science lab.

Ruth Shellenbach is Ben's nosy neighbor. She lives at 47 Meadow Drive and is an Elvis fanatic. Ruth has a dog named Elvis and is a member of the Women's Helicopter Action Rescue Team. In her youth, she was a member of the Bruise Brothers roller skating team.

Relatives: Susannah Hoffman (Ben's niece, Rebecca; she attends the Claridge School for Girls). Flashbacks: Jaymie Blanchard (Andrew as a boy), Wanda Cannon (Stephanie as a teenager), Marc Marcutt and Kyle LaBine (Ben as a boy), Derek McGrath (Ben's father), Rona Polly (Ben's mother).

Cast: Jerry O'Connell (Andrew Clements), Wanda Cannon (Stephanie Clements), Marsha Moreau (Erin Clements), Derek McGrath (Dr. Benjamin Jeffcoat), Elizabeth Leslie (Ruth Shellenbach). Theme Song: "My Secret Identity" by Fred Mollin.

5649 My Sister Eileen. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1960–1961). A basement apartment at the Appopolous Arms at 121 Broadway in New York's Greenwich Village is the residence of Ruth and Eileen Sherwood, sisters from Columbus, Ohio, who moved to the big city to further their career goals.

Ruth is the older sister, a writer who hopes to turn her hometown experiences into a book. She first works as a manuscript reader for the McMann Publishing House, then as a writer for Manhattan Magazine. Ruth writes wholesome short stories (such as "My First Hiking Trip," "My Day at the Zoo") but finds it difficult selling them to magazines.

Eileen is the younger, more glamorous sister. She is a hopeful actress and dreams of starring on Broadway. She has an agent named Marty, but few jobs and many struggles as she seeks to achieve her goal. Eileen does have admirers, however—men simply cannot take their eyes off her, and she is constantly wooed by them.

Alan Dahorsameche, better known as "The Wreck" is the Sherwoods' upstairs neighbor. He is a football player for the New York Giants and extremely jealous. He fears that every "wolf" in New York is after his wife, Helen, whom he calls "Princess."

Chick Adams is Ruth's friend, a reporter for the Daily News; Bertha Bronsky is Ruth's co-worker; and Mr. Appopolous owns the building. See also You Should Meet My Sister for information on the pilot film. The series is based on the book by Ruth McKinney.

Cast: Elaine Stritch (Ruth Sherwood), Anne Helm (Eileen Sherwood), Shirley Boone (Eileen Sherwood; later), Leon Belasco (Mr. Appopolous), Stubby Kaye (Marty), Raymond Bailey (Robert Beaumont), Jack Weston (Chick Adams), Rose Marie (Bertha Bronsky), Tom Reese (The Wreck), Hal Baylor (The Wreck; later), Pattee Chapman (Helen), Treva Frazee (Helen; later), Agnes Moorehead (Ruth & Eileen's Aunt Harriet).

5650 My Sister Hank. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/31/72). Henrietta Bennett is a young tomboy who prefers to be called Hank. Her parents, Eunice and Willis, don't quite understand her, but accept her and are trying to change her. Her older sister, Dianne, is mystified (as is Hank about Dianne and her pursuits of such feminine things as makeup). The unsold series was to follow Hank's misadventures as she struggles to remain just as she is — a tomboy. In the pilot episode, Hank faces and attempts to overcome discrimination when, because of her sex, she is kept from joining the Little League team. Other Regulars: Grandpa Bennett; and Arthur, Hank's friend.

Cast: Jodie Foster (Hank Bennett), Pippa Scott (Eunice Bennett), Jack Ging (Willis Bennett), Edgar Bergen (Grandpa Bennett), Suzanne Hillard (Dianne Bennett), Todd Bass (Arthur).

5651 My Sister Sam. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1986–1988). Samantha (“Sam”) Russell is a beautiful 29-year-old girl who runs the Russell Scouts Photography Studio from her apartment (5C) at 1345 Benchley Street in San Francisco, California. Sam shares the apartment with her pretty 16-year-old sister, Patti. Patti previously lived in Oregon, where her Aunt Elsie and her Uncle Bob had been caring for her since her parents were killed in a car accident. Patti wanted to be with Sam and moved out.

Sam was a straight “A” student at Bennett High School in Oregon (with the exception of a C-minus in Spanish). Sam's biggest disappointment in life occurred when Epicure magazine rejected her “Table Settings” photo for its cover; her dream is to make the cover of a national magazine before she is 30. Sam alphabetizes her fruit juices in the refrigerator and arranges the shoes in her closet so that all the toes point north.

Patti is a sophomore at Millard Fillmore High School; her dream is to quit school and become a rock star. Sam and Patti attempted to make money by selling hand decorated sweatshirts at the Serendipity Boutique (the boutique ordered 150 and returned most of them).

Jack Kincaid is Sam's neighbor (Apartment 5D) and a photojournalist who got his first cover story in Newsweek magazine when he was 22. He drives a 1955 Buick convertible and when he gets depressed he looks into the mirror and sings “Happy Talk” (from South Pacific) to himself. Dixie Randazzo, Sam's assistant, is married and the mother of six children (five of whom are not seen). She was a member of the Ink Skulls Club in high school and has a tattoo on her behind that says “I Love Dwayne.”

J.D., Sam's agent, attended the University of Bridgeport and has a never-seen wife named Lorraine.

Relatives: Nan Martin (Sam's aunt, Elsie), Patrick Breen (Jack's nephew, Scotty Kincaid), Stuart Fratkin (Dixie's son, Mickey Randazzo). Theme: “Room Enough for Two,” vocal by Kim Carnes.

Cast: Pam Dawber (Samantha Russell), Rebecca Schaeffer (Patti Russell), Jenny O'Hara (Dixie Randazzo), Joel Brooks (J.D.), David Naughton (Jack Kincaid).

5652 My So-Called Life. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1994–1995). Angela Chase is a 15-year-old high school girl struggling to cope with friends, family and first loves. She is somewhat gloomy and has a narrow view of life. She does, however, have a loose cannon of a friend (Rae Anne) who is everything Angela would like to be, but isn't.

Angela likes cookie dough ice cream, attends Liberty High School and has a father (Graham) who thinks everyone in the world is having more fun than him. He works as a salesman for Wood Printing (his father did as he now does — “it's in the family,” he says). Betty, Angela's mother, is a go-getter (something Angela would like to be) and is sort of Graham's boss, as her father, Chuck Wood, owns the company, and Betty oversees business operations.

Angela, seen in flashbacks as a girl, was shy and very obedient. She had friends, but never did anything out of the ordinary. As the series begins, Angela decides to change all that and begins by hanging out with Rae Anne. She changes her hair color (to Crimson Glow), which displeases her mother (but not her father) and begins to see life in a new light. Stories follow the events in Angela's so-called life.

Other Regulars: Danielle, Angela's younger sister; and students Brian, Jordan, Sharon and Rickie.

Cast: Claire Danes (Angela Chase), Bess Armstrong (Patricia “Betty” Chase), Tom Irwin (Graham Chase), Lisa Wilhoit (Danielle Chase), A.J. Langer (Rae Anne Graff), Paul Dooley (Chuck Wood), Devon Odessa (Sharon Cherski), Jared Leto (Jordan Catalano), Devon Gummersall (Brian Krakow), Kaley Cuoco (Young Angela; flashbacks), Wilson Cruz (Rickie Vasquez).

5653 My Son, the Doctor. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/22/66). Some doctors are only in the medical profession to make money. This is not the case with Peter Piper, a mother-dominated doctor whose total dedication to work often leaves him little time to spend with his wife, Barbara. The unsold series was to focus on Barbara as she tries to change Peter's work habits; and on Peter, as he tries to get out from under his mother's dominance over him. In the pilot episode, Barbara engineers a scheme to allow her and Peter to spend an uninterrupted evening together. Other Regulars: Jenny, Peter's mother;

Dr. Jeffrey Berry, Peter's friend, a private practice doctor; and Miss Primrose, Peter's nurse.

Cast: Jefferson Davis (Dr. Peter Piper), Julie Gregg (Barbara Piper), Kay Medford (Jenny Piper), Dick Patterson (Dr. Jeffrey Berry), Patsy Kelly (Miss Primrose). Guest Cast: Lee Meriwether (Doris), Cliff Norton (Phil), Dave Willock (Gilmore), William Lanteau (Dr. Hopkins).

5654 My Super Sweet 16. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2005–). The program spotlights the Sweet 16 parties of real life girls — girls who are the offspring of rich parents and who receive luxurious gifts as they turn “Sweet 16” (while called a reality series, it caters to the upper middle class and does not truly reflect the actual Sweet 16 parties of the average girl). Erin Shockey, Jordana Starr and Rachel Elder are the producers.

5655 My Talk Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1990). My Talk Show was a local talk show on Channel 56 in Derby, Wisconsin. It was hosted by Jennifer Bass and was very amateurish — shaky camerawork, missed cues, out of focus shots. When TV syndication king Perry Flapman sees the show (and dubs Jennifer “a TV Tush”) he believes the show is what America is looking for and decides to distribute it nationally. Stories relate the problems Jennifer encounters as she struggles to host a live, national TV talk show.

Other Regulars: Angela Davenport, Jennifer's co-host; Mrs. Battle, the show's organist; Anne Marie, Jennifer's neighbor; and Marty, Jennifer's brother-in-law, who lives in a trailer in her driveway (and hosts the “Marty's Corner” segment of the show).

Cast: Cynthia Stevenson (Jennifer Bass), Stephanie Hodge (Angela Davenport), Debra McGrath (Anne Marie), David Packer (Marty), Josephine Hinds (Mrs. Battle).

5656 My Three Sons. (Series; Comedy; ABC; CBS; 1960–1972). The house at 837 Mill Street in the town of Bryant Park is home to widower Steven (“Steve”) Douglas and his three sons: Michael (“Mike”), Robert (“Robbie”) and Richard (“Chip”). Also living with them is Steve's father-in-law, William (“Bill”) Michael Francis Aloysius O'Casey, who is affectionately called “Bub.” (CBS episodes, 1965–72, are set in North Hollywood, California.)

The town was named after Seth Bryant, an itinerant pots and pans salesman who founded the town after his wagon broke down and forced him to stay. Steve is an aeronautical engineer (structural design) for Universal Research and Development (he began his career as a test pilot). Steve finds wearing a cardigan sweater and smoking a pipe most relaxing. Steve is a graduate of Midwest University (class of 1938) and married Louise O'Casey when he was 21 years old (Louise died 12 years later on the night before Chip's first birthday). The family dog is named Tramp.

In 1969 Steve married a teacher named Barbara Harper, a widow with a young daughter named Dodie; Dodie had a doll named Myrtle.

Mike is the eldest of Steve's children (18). He attends Bryant Park High School (he is a senior when the series begins). He is on the track team and has a girlfriend named Jean Pearson. Mike next attends State College (he is a member of the Sigma Gamma Chi fraternity), then joins the air force reserves. Mike then marries Sally Ann Morrison and moves East to accept a job as a psychology professor.

Robbie (14) first attended Webster Elementary School, then Bryant Park High. He was a member of a club called the Chieftains and wrote a song called “Ugga Bugga.” In 1967 episodes he marries a college friend named Katie Miller and becomes the father of triplets two years later: Charley, Steve Jr. and Robbie II.

Chip, the youngest child (seven) attended Webster Elementary School and was a member of the Moose Patrol scouting troop. In the fall of 1970, Chip married Polly Williams. They eloped and honeymooned in Mexico (they stayed at the Concha Azul Hotel — the hotel at which Steve and Barbara were married).

Ernie Thompson was Chip's friend (beginning with 1963 episodes). When Ernie is orphaned (his parents are killed, but how is not related), he is sent to the King's County Children's Home. Steve then adopts him; at the time Ernie had a dog named Wilson and attended the Susie B. Dorsey School. He and Chip were later classmates at Buchanan Elementary School.

Bub, who helps care for the family, says, in one episode, that he got his nickname from Mike (when Mike was an infant, he tried to say Grandpa but it came out “Bub”); in another episode it is mentioned that when Chip tried to say Bill it came out “Bub.” Bub was a member of the Brotherhood of the Cavaliers and left the series in 1964. Steve tells the kids that Bub has gone “to visit his mother in Ireland” (actually he went to Ireland to help his aunt, Kate, celebrate her 104th birthday). To fill the void left by Bub, Steve hires Fedocia Barrett (Reta Shaw) as a temporary housekeeper until Bub returns from Ireland. Shortly after, Bub's brother, Charles (“Charlie”) O'Casey, a former merchant marine, arrives at the Douglas home seeking Bub. When Steve learns that Charlie is en route to the Caribbean, he invites him to stay with the family for a few days. Fedocia refuses to cook for another male and gives Steve her notice. Charlie, who comes to be called “Uncle Charlie,” agrees to stay and help look after the boys (Charlie was born in Sandusky, Ohio).

Relatives: Fred MacMurray (Steve's Scottish cousin, Fergus McBain Douglas), Joan Tompkins (Katie's mother, Louise Miller), Marsha Hunt (Katie's aunt, Cecile), Sebastian Cabot (Sally's father, Thomas Morrison, an archaeologist), Doris Singleton (Sally's mother, Helen Morrison), Norman Alden (Polly's father, Tom Williams), Doris Singleton (Polly's mother, Margaret Williams), Eleanor Audley (Barbara's mother, Mrs. Vincent), Barbara Collentine and Barbara Perry (Ernie's mother), Richard Jury (Ernie's father), Robert P. Lieb (Jean's father, Henry Pearson), Florence MacMichael (Jean's mother, Florence Pearson).

Flashbacks: George Spicer (Steve as a college student), David Marklin (Steve as a high school student), Tom Skerritt (Steve when he proposed to Louise), Vera Stough (Steve's fiancée, then wife, Louise), Bee Peters (Bub's wife, Mary O'Casey).

Cast: Fred MacMurray (Steve Douglas), Tim Considine (Mike Douglas), Don Grady (Robbie Douglas), Stanley Livingston (Chip Douglas), William Frawley (Bub), William Demarest (Uncle Charlie), Barry Livingston (Ernie Douglas), Meredith MacRae (Sally Ann Morrison), Tina Cole (Katie Miller), Beverly Garland (Barbara Harper), Ronne Troup (Polly Thompson), Dawn Lyn (Dodie Harper Douglas), Joseph Todd (Charley Douglas), Daniel Todd (Robbie Douglas II), Joseph Todd (Steve Douglas, Jr.), Russ Conway (Bob Walters, Steve's boss), Joseph Gallaudet (Bob Walters; later), Jodie Foster (Priscilla; Dodie's friend), Victoria Meyerink (Margaret; Dodie's friend), Cynthia Pepper (Jean Pearson).

Theme: "My Three Sons" by Frank DeVol.

5657 My Town. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 5/25/86). Wheelerville, Ohio, is a small town where people seeking to start new lives can get that chance. The idea came from Lucas Wheeler, the banker and descendant of the town's founder, and the unsold series was to relate incidents in the lives of the people who attempt to rebuild their lives as seen through the eyes of Amber Wheeler, Lucas's pretty granddaughter. In the pilot episode, Cynthia and Hal Fisher come to Wheelerville to fulfill a dream — starting a diner. Other Regulars: Tug Wheeler, Amber's brother (they are orphans who live with Lucas); Mrs. McDaniel, Lucas's housekeeper; and Laura Adams, the school teacher.

Cast: Glenn Ford (Lucas Wheeler), Meredith Salenger (Amber Wheeler), Parker Jacobs (Tug Wheeler), Mary Jackson (Mrs. McDaniel), Kate Mulgrew (Laura Adams). Guest Cast: Laraine Newman (Cynthia Fisher), James Widdoes (Hal Fisher), Elya Baskin (Mr. Slovak), Richard Erdman (Fletcher Mays), Ilana Martin (Laura), Elizabeth Ward (Patty), Amy Lynne (Mary Lynn), Ellen Geer (Mother).

5658 My True Story. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1950). Dramatic adaptations of stories that appear in My True Story magazine. The series aired from May 5, 1950 to September 22, 1950. Herbert Duncan is the announcer.

5659 My Two Dads. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1987–1990). Nicole Bradford is a pretty 12-year-old girl who lives in Apartment B at 627 North Brewster Street in Manhattan with her fathers, Joey Harris and Michael Taylor. Joey and Michael, Nicole's co-guardians (she calls them "My Two Dads") are friends who dated Nicole's mother, Marcie Bradford (Emma Samms in a flashback).

When Marcie passed away and the actual biological father could not be determined, Joey and Michael were both given the responsibility of caring for her by Judge Margaret Wilbur; Margaret owns the building and resides in Apartment 3B.

Joey is initially an artist (1987–88), then art director for Financial Update magazine (1988), artist again (1989) and finally a teacher at New York University (1990). He also wrote the children's book, Mr. Biggles (about a leprechaun).

Michael is initially a financial advisor for the Taft-Kelcher Agency (1987–89) then marketing manager for Financial Update magazine. He considers his job as a father is to focus on Nicole's needs and wants; Joey's job, he feels, is to help him decide how she is to be punished when she does something wrong. Joey is much more liberal in his parenting and considers Michael a Ward Cleaver (the father on Leave It to Beaver) and too strict in raising Nicole.

First-season episodes find Nicole attending an unnamed grammar school. She has a teddy bear (Mr. Beebles) and is a typical kid — she likes boys, but is not eager to date; she is experimenting with makeup; and through no fault of her own is growing up and saddening Michael — "She's my little girl. I never want to see her grow up." But grow up she does. She is soon a teenager attending Kennedy Junior High School, and a worry to both her dads as the series focus changed to depict Nicole's growth into young adulthood — and to boys and dating.

Nicole felt she was smart and pretty, but became jealous of girls with larger breasts. She padded her bra, wore tight blouses and spent $29.95 on the "Bust-o-Matic" breast developer to discover that being fake was not her (it was also the toughest talk the fathers had to face in dealing with Nicole's oncoming womanhood).

Michael and Joey hang out at Klawicki's, a diner located on the ground floor of their building. The diner is owned by Ed Klawicki, a former football player. In final-season episodes, Judge Wilbur takes over the diner and renames it the Judge's Court Cafe.

Cast: Staci Keanan (Nicole Bradford), Greg Evigan (Joey Harris), Paul Reiser (Michael Taylor), Florence Stanley (Margaret Wilbur), Dick Butkus (Ed Klawicki).

5660 My Wife and Kids. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2001–2005). Michael Kyle is a former UPS truck driver who now owns his own business, Kyle Trucking. He is married to the weight conscious Jay and is the father of Michael, Jr., Claire and Cady. Michael longs for a tranquil life but his outrageous family guarantees that his dream will be just that — a dream.

Jay also has a dream — to open her own restaurant (which she did in 2004 when she started Jay's Soul Kitchen). Claire is 12 years old when the series begins (Michael calls her "My Black American Princess"). Claire is beautiful but self-centered. She is a cheerleader at school, volunteers her time as a Big Sister and works after school at Ann Tailor, a clothing shop.

Michael, Jr., called Junior, is inspired by pork rinds, naked women and video games (his father calls him "an expert in the dork department" as he is not bright and a very poor student at school). In 2004 Junior married his girlfriend, Vanessa Scott, when he got her pregnant. They had a child they named Michael Jr., but to avoid confusion called him Junior Junior. Cady is the youngest child (five when the series begins). She attends Crestview Elementary School and is best friends with Franklin Aloysius Mumford, a super-intelligent seven-year-old boy.

Cast: Damon Wayans (Michael Kyle), Tisha Campbell (Jay Kyle), Jazz Raycole (Claire Kyle, 2001), Jennifer Nicole Freeman (Claire Kyle, 2001–05), George O. Gore II (Michael Kyle, Jr.), Parker McKenna Posey (Cady Kyle), Noah Gray-Cabey (Franklin Mumford), Brooklyn Sudano (Vanessa Scott).

5661 My Wife Next Door. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 12/31/75). A proposed series about Suzy and George Barrett, a newly separated young couple awaiting a divorce settlement who become sparring partners again when they accidentally rent neighboring apartments.

Cast: Julie Sommars (Suzy Barrett), James Farentino (George Barrett), Martha Scott (Suzy's mother), Jordan Crittenden (Ronnie; guest role).

5662 My Wife Next Door. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/11/80). Lisa Pallick is a television commercials producer; Paul Gilmore is her ex-husband, a big league ball player. Lisa and Paul thought they had seen the last of each other when they got divorced. Then by accident, they rent adjoining apartments in San Francisco. The unsold series was to focus on their misadventures as they become sparring partners again.

Other Regulars: Jan, Lisa's sister; Vinnie, Paul's friend; Lionel, Lisa's co-worker; and Artie, the apartment building super.

Cast: Lee Purcell (Lisa Pallick), Granville Van Dusen (Paul Gilmore), Desiree Boschetti (Jan Pallick), Michael DeLano (Vinnie Messina), Frank Dent (Lionel), Phil Rubinstein (Artie).

5663 My Wildest Dreams. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1985). Lisa McGinnis is a working mother and housewife whose daydreams help keep her family and life together. Lisa is married to Jack and is the mother of seven-year-old Danny. Lisa has been married to Jack for eight years and works at a recording studio called Mound of Sound. Helping Jack and Lisa is Mary, their babysitter. Chandler Trapp is Lisa's boss; Stephanie Benaditto is Lisa's sister; and Gloria Benaditto is Lisa's mother.

Cast: Lisa Ann Walter (Lisa McGinnis), John Posey (Jack McGinnis), Evan Bonifant (Danny McGinnis), Candice Brown (Mary), Miguel Nunez, Jr. (Chandler Trapp), Kelly Bishop (Gloria Benaditto), Mary Jo Keenan (Stephanie Benaditto).

5664 My Wives Jane. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/1/71). Jane Franklin is an actress who is married to a doctor (Nat) and who plays a doctor's wife on a television serial. The unsold series was to focus on Jane as she struggles to handle both careers — actress and housewife — efficiently. Other Regulars: Vic, the serial star; Dirk, the producer; Molly, Dirk's assistant; and Magda, Jane's housekeeper.

Cast: Janet Leigh (Jane Franklin), Barry Nelson (Dr. Nat Franklin), John Dehner (Vic Semple), McLean Stevenson (Dirk Bennett), Mia Bendixsen (Molly), Nora Marlowe (Magda).

5665 My World ... and Welcome to It. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1969–1970). John Monroe is a cartoonist for Manhattanite magazine. He is discontented with his job (his office is next to the freight elevator, and his boss, Hamilton Greeley constantly complains that "his cartoons talk with their mouths closed"); he is suspicious of smart children and hostile animals; he is intimidated by his loving wife and precocious daughter, and scared to death of life. When life becomes intolerable or when he is troubled, John retreats to the secret world of his imagination. His cartoons become real, life becomes tolerable and he is transformed into a person who is irresistible to women and a tower of strength in the eyes of men.

John's ambition is to write a book ("Wanting to do a book is important; what it is about comes later"). "The trouble with women," he says, "is that when you get to know them and trust them, you realize that you can never get to know them and you can't trust them."

John lives at 130 Post Road in Westport, Connecticut, with his wife, Ellen, and his daughter, Lydia. Ellen is totally dedicated to John and worries that he is much too critical of the world that surrounds him. Lydia is ten years old, very bright, very pretty, and attends Compton Elementary School. Ellen considers Lydia a sensitive child. The Monroe family dogs are Christabel and Irving.

Carole Cook appeared as John's sister, Kate Monroe. The series is based on “drawings, stories, inspirational pieces and things that go bump in the night, by James Thurber.”

Warren Barker and Danny Arnold composed the theme.

Cast: William Windom (John Monroe), Joan Hotchkis (Ellen Monroe), Lisa Gerritsen (Lydia Monroe), Harold J. Stone (Hamilton Greeley).

5666 M.Y.O.B. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2000). Riley Veatch is a television character who knows she is a television character. She describes her series as “It’s the whole fish out of water, odd couple, unrequited love combo you get most every night on every channel. So you don’t want to watch? Hey, that’s okay, Law and Order is bound to be on somewhere” (refers to the three Law and Order series and the repeats on various cable stations).

The odd couple referred to above are Riley and her aunt, Opal Brown. Riley is tough, the product of her all too human experiences. She was abandoned by her working, cult-prone birth mother (Pearl Brown) then left alone when her adoptive mother died (killed when she “went crazy” in a post office and tried to shoot up the place). Riley developed acute personal survival instincts, a fierce independence, a distaste for pretense and an extraordinary ability to sense the needs and desires of others. Riley also needs to do one thing—find her birth mother. With only one known relative, Pearl’s sister, Opal, Riley leaves her home in Ohio and heads to California. In the town of Gusset she finds Opal. Opal believes Pearl is with a cult in Finland but is unable to contact her. Until Pearl can be reached, Opal allows Riley to stay with her (thus the odd couple).

Opal is the principal of Gusset High School. She lacks Riley’s self-confidence and skepticism about people and their motives. Riley lacks Opal’s clear sense of responsibility and fundamental optimism about life. They share sharp intelligence, verbal nimbleness and a not very well hidden loneliness. Stories follow events in their lives and 16-year-old Riley’s comments as she speaks directly to the camera.

Cast: Katherine Towne (Riley Veatch), Lauren Graham (Opal Marie Brown), Paul Fitzgerald (Mitch Levitt), Don McManus (Stan Peyton), Colin Martinson (P.J.).

5667 Mysteries, Myths and Legends. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1981). Steve Marshall narrates a program that explores various legends and myths that surround us in everyday life.

5668 Mysteries of Chinatown. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1949–1950). Yat Fu’s is a curio shop at 1302 Golden Avenue in San Francisco’s Chinatown. Dr. Yat Fu is its owner, an amateur crime sleuth who helps the police solve crimes. Ah Toy is his beautiful niece and shop assistant and sometimes partner in crime solving; she lives with her uncle at 0734 Magnolia Street.

Dr. Yat Fu works closely with Lieutenant Hargrove of the S.F.P.D.’s Homicide Bureau. When East Coast commitments forced Bill Eythe to leave the live West Coast–produced series, his Hargrove character was killed during “a volley of slugs pouring out of a Chinatown alley.” He was replaced by Richard Crane as Lieutenant Cummings (when commitments called Crane away from the show, Cummings was not killed off; he was simply contacted by phone and not seen).

Mysteries of Chinatown is a unique show for its time, as no expense was spared to make authentic sets. While shows like Captain Video had a weekly props budget of $25 in 1949, “Mysteries” spent more than $10,000 just to furnish the set. Some of the most notable props were a genuine teakwood tabaret valued at $3,000, a real Chinese sacred urn (so ornate it couldn’t be replaced; valued at $1,500) and two genuine opium pipes, each over 155 years old. The program also employed four exterior sets and four interior sets (which cost many thousands of dollars and took one thousand man hours to build). Topping it off was $5,000 worth of theatrical lights to illuminate the eight sets.

Cast: Marvin Miller (Dr. Yat Fu), Gloria Saunders (Ah Toy), Bill Eythe (Lt. Hargrove), Richard Crane (Lt. Cummings).

5669 Mysterious Forces Beyond. (Series; Documentary; Learning Channel; 1994). Are ghosts real? Are there actually powers that can heal the sick? Are visions of the future people say they experience real? These are the types of questions the program attempts to answer with thorough examinations of paranormal phenomena. It basically asks, after all the evidence is presented, for the viewer to decide for himself.

Host: Nick Mancuso.

5670 The Mysterious Mummy Case. (Experimental; Mystery; NBC; 5/17/38). Newsreels, travelogues, speeches and live talent were combined with story telling to relate the tale of an evil influence that has been responsible for several deaths and eventually caused the sinking of the SS Titanic. Variety exclaimed the program “as cathode ray television’s first important milestone from a purely story-telling entertainment technique standpoint.” Five sets were used and fades to black, slides and film inserts were also used for transitions (allowing actors costume changes). The action, Variety said, “was cramped and rigid due to the present limited range of the iconoscope.” It also said that “the close-up ... is still an unsolved television problem” (close-ups back then tended to blur the other characters when focusing on a speaker).

Cast: Tom Terriss (Himself), Dorothy McGuire

(Miss Clark), William David (Edward Lawson), J. Malcolm Dunn (Colonel), Aristes DeLeone (Egyptian), Arthur Maitland (Dr. Harvey), Anthony Cooper (Wilson Ellis), Ned Weaver (Curt).

5671 The Mysterious Two. (Pilot; Science Fiction; NBC; 5/31/82). Tim Armstrong is an Earthling with a self-imposed mission: destroy He and She, aliens who pose as evangelists to recruit people (by brainwashing) to abandon their worldly goods and join them in their world of serenity called New Tomorrow (located in an abandoned missile site outside of Santa Fe, New Mexico). The pilot episode depicts Tim's first encounter with He and She and his efforts to save his girlfriend, Natalie, who has become a victim of their brainwashing. Originally titled "Follow Me if You Dare" and filmed in 1979.

Cast: James Stephens (Tim Armstrong), John Forsythe (He), Priscilla Pointer (She). Guest Cast: Vic Tayback (Ted Randall), Noah Beery, Jr. (Sheriff Virgil Malloy), Robert Pine (Arnold Brown), Karen Werner (Natalie), Renny Roker (Williams), Robert Englund (Boone), Mo Malone (Martha), Candy Mobley (Amanda).

5672 Mysterious Ways. (Series; Drama; PAX; 2001–2002). Declan Dunn is an anthropologist and teacher at Northern Oregon University. He says, "I've seen some strange things. Some explainable, some that defy all logic. Maybe it's just plain luck, coincidence or maybe they're miracles, a higher power at work. This is the stuff I investigate because Albert Einstein once said, "The most beautiful things we can experience is the mysterious."

Declan is assisted in his attempts to prove strange happenings are miracles by Peggy Fowler, a psychiatrist in private practice and on staff at Oregon Hospital. Stories follow Declan and Peggy as they probe mysterious happenings. Miranda is the college coed majoring in physics who helps Declan.

Cast: Adrian Pasdar (Declan Dunn), Rae Dawn Chong (Dr. Peggy Fowler), Alisen Down (Miranda Feigelsteen).

5673 Mystery and Mrs. (Test Program; Crime Drama; ABC; 9/27/50). Sally and George Fame are a young married couple who are also business partners in a private detective agency. Sally is a level-headed girl with a keen sense for crime solving. George, a master at deductive reasoning, fears for Sally's safety, but is not hampered by her attempts to help him. The proposed series was to relate their case investigations.

Cast: Gale Storm (Sally Fame), Don DeFore (George Fame). Also: George Pelham, Robert Shayne, Eve Whitney.

5674 Mystery Chef. (Series; Cooking; NBC; 1949). The program, one of NBC's first daytime shows, features step-by-step cooking instruction.

The title refers to the host, who was not identified when the program first began. The series ran from March 1, 1949 to June 29, 1949.

Host: John McPherson.

5675 Mystery Dance. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 6/29/95). Susan Baker is a community affairs reporter (for example, covering the PTA, the art center) for a Los Angeles paper called the L.A. Paid Reader. She is married to Alan Baker, a college biology professor who leads a boring life. Susan has a daughter (Emily), who is busy with high school and work and a son (not seen) who is away at college. Susan seems to be content until a professor (Hiram Stofsky) is found dead at her husband's unnamed college. The police have ruled it as a suicide, but Susan, being a friend of Hiram's, believes differently and decides to investigate. She brings in Alan and together they prove it was murder. "That murder was fun, wasn't it," Susan remarks; then she tells Alan the rest — that she is taking out a personal ad to hire her services out as a private detective. The unsold series was to follow Susan's efforts to solve crimes — with a little help from Alan. Other Regulars: Colleen, their neighbor; Bob, Colleen's husband; Nancy, the paper's receptionist; and Beth, the dean of the college.

5676 Mystery File. (Series; Game; ABC; 1951). The alternate title for Q.E.D. See this title for information.

5677 The Mystery Files of Shelby Woo. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 1996–1998). Shelby Woo is a young girl who excels in school (she is a straight A student and is fascinated by crime and crime solving). Shelby has, for one so young, developed a keen sense of deduction and uses that ability to help the local police (especially Detectives Sharon Delancey and Whit Hine) solve baffling crimes. Shelby lives with her grandfather, Mike "Grandpa" Woo, and Noah, Cindy and Vince are her friends (who help her solve crimes and provide some comic relief).

Cast: Irene Ng (Shelby Woo), Pat Morita (Mike "Grandpa" Woo), Ellen David (Det. Sharon Delancey), Steve Purnick (Det. Whit Hine), Adam Busch (Noah Allen), Preslaysa Edwards (Cindy Ornette), Noah Klar (Vince Rosania).

5678 Mystery Is My Business. (Series; Crime Drama; DuMont; 1950–1951). The syndicated title for The Adventures of Ellery Queen. See this title for information.

5679 Mystery Science Theater 3000. (Series; Science Fiction; Comedy Central; Sci Fi; 1989–1999). Dr. Clayton Forrester is a mad scientist with an insane idea: take over the world by inflicting the worst movie ever made on the population. But what movie? With the help of his equally insane assistant, Frank, at the Deep Thirteen Research Center, Clayton kidnaps the unit's janitor, Joel, and "shoots" him into orbit in a satellite called the Satellite of Love. Here Joel, who later builds two robots for company, Tom Servo and Crow T. Robot, is forced to watch an endless supply of the worst science fiction movies ever made. As Joel (later replaced by Mike) watches the films, he is seen in silhouette with his robots at the bottom of the screen commenting on the film. The series ran on Comedy Central from 1989 to 1996 and concluded its run on the Sci Fi Channel from 1997–1999.

Cast: Joel Hodgson (Joel), Michael J. Nelson (Mike), Kevin Murphy (Tom Servo), J. Elvis Weinstein (Tom Servo; later), Trace Beaulieu (Crow T. Robot), Bill Corbett (Crow T. Robot; later), Trace Beaulieu (Dr. Clayton Forrester), Frank Conniff (Frank), Jim Mallon (Gypsy), Mary Jo Pehl (Magic Voice).

5680 Mystery Woman. (Series; Crime Drama; Hallmark Channel; 2006). Samantha Kinsey is a young woman who operates a bookstore called Mystery Woman. As a girl growing up Samantha read every mystery novel she could find. Her Uncle, Bob, a crime novel aficionado, would read her a detective story each night at bedtime. As the years passed Samantha became more and more of an expert at solving baffling crimes (even before she finished reading a whodunit). When her Uncle Bob passed away, Samantha inherited not only his bookstore (Mystery Man) but also Ian Philby, the store's crime connoisseur (a former CIA agent) and a mysterious friend of the family. Samantha takes over the bookstore (changing its name to Mystery Woman) and soon finds herself using her expertise to solve real life baffling crimes. It seems that wherever Samantha is (or goes) murder seems to follow. Stories relate Samantha's (and Ian's) efforts to take what they only read about in books into the real world and solve real crimes.

Cassie is Samantha's friend, the Assistant D.A.; Connors is the police chief.

Cast: Kellie Martin (Samantha Kinsey), J.E. Freeman (Ian Philby; pilot), Clarence Williams III (Ian Philby; series), Constance Zimmer (Cassie Thomas; pilot), Nina Siemaszko (Cassandra "Cassie" Tilman; series), Casey Sender (Chief Connors).

5681 Mystic Knights of Tir Na Nog. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 1998–1999). Terma is a mystic island that has been ruled by two families: those of Queen Maeve and those of King Conchobar. Maeve's thirst for power, however, causes her to form an alliance with Mider, a dark fairy, to gain the abilities of a sorceress. Maeve believes the rule of the land is her birthright and now no one will be able to stop her. Conchobar, powerless to stop her, is about to give up the battle when fate intervenes.

Rohan, a young warrior, finds an ancient Terma scroll that speaks of Draganta, a warrior that is destined to bring peace to Terma. When Rohan notices that the birthmark on his arm matches that of the mark on the scroll, he realizes he is the chosen one. However, to fulfill his destiny, he must find Draganta, whose whereabouts lies in the mystery of the four scrolls. Rohan is not alone in his journey. He is joined by his friend, Angus; the king's daughter, Deirdre; Ivar, a prince; and Cathbad, a druid who becomes their guide.

Cathbad's first instincts lead them to a land of little people called Tir Na Nog. Here, the king endows each member of the team with a power to become the Mystic Knights of Tri Na Nog (Rohan is the Mystic Knight of Fire; Deirdre is the Mystic Knight of Air; Angus is the Mystic Knight of the Earth; Ivar is the Mystic Knight of Water. In later episodes a young warrior named Garrett joins them and becomes the Mystic Knight of the Forests). Stories follow the Mystic Knights as they search for Draganta while at the same time battling Queen Maeve, who is determined to stop them by conjuring up mythical beasts to destroy them.

Cast: Lochlainn O'Meararn (Rohan), Lisa Dwan (Deirdre), Vincent Walsh (Angus), Justin Pierre (Ivar), Ben Palmer (Garrett), Charlotte Bradley (Queen Maeve), Stephen Brennan (King Conchobar).

5682 The Naked Brothers Band. (Series; Reality; Nickelodeon; 2007–). The Naked Brothers Band is a rock group started by Nat and Alex Wolff, the teenage sons of composer Michael Wolff. Cameras follow the brothers as they experience all the problems of starting a band and journeying up that rocky road to musical stardom.

Cast: Alex Wolff, Nat Wolff, Michael Wolff, Polly Draper (off screen voice of Alex and Nat's mother), Kari Kim.

5683 Naked City. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1958–1963). The program opens with these words spoken by the producer, Herbert B. Leonard: "Ladies and gentlemen, you are about to see the Naked City. This story was not photographed in a studio; quite the contrary. The actors played out their roles in the streets and buildings of New York itself." Naked City appeared as two separate series: a half-hour version (1958–1959) and an hour version (1960–1963). Each version was filmed in black and white and focused on the grueling investigations of police officers as they solved crimes.

Jim Halloran and Dan Muldoon are detectives with the 65th Precinct in Manhattan. Jim is married to Janet and is the father of Evie. He wore badge number 41367 and lived at 39 West 64th Street. Dan, an older detective, played by the books; Jim was a bit more impulsive and, while he followed all the rules, was eager to apprehend suspects and solve a case. Dan was killed off in the episode "Ten Cent Dreams" (March 10, 1959) when his car blew up after hitting a gasoline truck during a high speed car chase. He was replaced by Mike Parker, a somewhat gruff lieutenant who now worked alongside Jim. Also assisting Jim and Mike was Sergeant Frank Arcaro. George Duning and Ned Washington composed the 1959 theme "This Is the Naked City."

Lieutenant Mike Parker and Sergeant Frank Arcaro reprised their roles with Detective Adam Flint becoming their new partner in hour long episodes.

Adam was born in the Bronx and lived at 166th Street and McClelland Avenue; he attended P.S. 11 near Yankee Stadium. He now lives in Manhattan at 393 West 48th Street, Apartment E. He is romantically involved with Libby Kingston, an actress who works at an unidentified television studio in Manhattan.

Like the prior version, the series is a character study of people in trouble with the law. Before it became known by the initials N.Y.P.D., P.D.N.Y.C. (Police Department of New York City) appears on police vehicles. Each episode ended with one of the most famous lines in television history: "There are eight million stories in the Naked City. This has been one of them." Billy May composed "The Naked City Theme" (1960–62); Nelson Riddle composed "The New Naked City Theme" (1962–1963).

5684 The Naked Trucker and T-Bones Show. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2007). Dave Allen and David Koechner are the stars of a live comedy act that plays at comedy clubs in Los Angeles. Dave is "The Naked Trucker," a big rig trucker who drives in the nude; David is his sidekick, Gerald "T-Bones" Tibbons. The program is an adaptation of the stage show with the two characters relating some of their outrageous trucking experiences to the TV audience. A guitar covers the Naked Trucker (who sings and preaches the gospel, so he is not fully naked); T-Bones is a drifter who rides with the Naked Trucker. Songs and stories of life on the road are featured.

Cast: Dave Allen (The Naked Trucker), David Koechner (Gerald "T-Bones" Tibbons).

5685 The Naked Truth. (Series; Comedy; ABC; NBC; 1995–1997). Nora Wilde is a photographer for The Comet, a trashy tabloid that loves celebrity dirt. Nora, 27, is divorced and previously worked for The Washington Post. At Sarah Lawrence, where she was editor of the school newspaper, Nora created a sensation by writing about campus lesbians; later she learned her roommate, Janice, was a lesbian. Nora was a Pulitzer Prize nominee and divorced her husband (Leland) for her own freedom. Her first assignment for The Comet was to photograph Anna Nicole Smith (and find out if she is pregnant); her most embarrassing assignment: posing as a stripper for an expose on big-breasted girls. All went well until she stuffed her bra with M&M's ("the plain ones"), bent over and the candies spilled out.

Nora longs to get back into the mainstream and cover traditional news for a prestigious paper, but her ex-husband's revenge (and extreme wealth) closes those doors for her. Nora later becomes an advice columnist for The Comet. When Camilla Dane, the paper's editor, decides to begin her own publication (The Inquisitor), Nora joins her as a reporter (at which point the series ended).

Also working for The Comet is Nicky Columbus, a fellow photographer was a child star (at age 10) and had a TV series called Otterboy (about an orphan who was raised by a family of otters; his companion, Nick Nick, was a kid "who grew up to become Sharon Stone"). The series was originally titled Wilde Again.

Cast: Tea Leoni (Nora Wilde), Holland Taylor (Camilla Dane), George Wendt (Les Polonsky), Amy Ryan (Chloe Banks), Jack Blessing (Mr. Donner), Darryl Sivad (T.J.), Jonathan Penner (Nick Columbus), Mark Roberts (Dave Fontaine), Mary Tyler Moore (Catherine Wilde; Nora's mother), George Segal (Fred Wilde; Nora's father), Tom Verica (Jake Sullivan).

5686 Nakia. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1974). Nakia Parker is a Navaho Indian and the deputy sheriff of Davis County, New Mexico. He works under Sheriff Sam Jericho and often finds his heritage and beliefs clashing with the law he has sworn to uphold. Stories follow Nakia as he attempts to uphold the law — despite the situations he encounters.

Irene James and Hubbel Martin are the deputies who work with Nakia; Ben Redearth and Half Cub are his Indian friends.

Cast: Robert Forster (Nakia Parker), Arthur Kennedy (Sam Jericho), Gloria DeHaven (Irene James), Taylor Lacher (Hubel Martin), Victor Jory (Ben Redearth), John Tenorio, Jr. (Half Cub).

5687 The Name Game. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1990). Four players compete, divided into two teams of two. The object calls for one player to guess the identity of a famous person from indirect clues given to him by his partner. Each correct identification scores the team one point. The highest scoring team wins.

Host: Bob Eubanks.

5688 The Name of the Game. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1968–1972). Glenn Howard is the publisher of Crime, a Los Angeles based magazine. Glenn built the then-fictional and defunct People magazine into a multimillion-dollar empire (Howard Publications); Dan Farrell is the senior editor, a former FBI agent who is conducting a personal battle against the underworld (who killed his wife and child); Jeff Dillon is the editor of the “People” section of Crime magazine. Their individual attempts to uncover story material are depicted on a rotating basis. See also Fame Is the Name of the Game for information on the series pilot film. Peggy Maxwell is their Girl Friday; Joe Sample, Andy Hill and Ross Craig are fellow reporters.

Cast: Gene Barry (Glenn Howard), Robert Stack (Dan Farrell), Tony Franciosa (Jeff Dillon), Susan Saint James (Peggy Maxwell), Ben Murphy (Joe Sample), Cliff Potter (Andy Hill), Mark Miller (Ross Craig). Theme Song: “The Name of the Game” by Dave Grusin.

5689 Name That Tune. (Series; Game; NBC; CBS; 1953–1959). The object calls for players to identify song titles after hearing only a few bars. Each correct identification scores a player a point and the player with the highest point total is the winner. The series ran on NBC from July 6, 1953 to June 14, 1954; and on CBS from September 2, 1954 to October 19, 1959.

Host: Red Benson, Bill Cullen, George DeWitt. Vocalist: Vicki Mills. Announcer: Johnny Olsen, Wayne Howell.

5690 Name That Tune. (Series; Game; NBC; 1974–1977). The series varies greatly in presentation but the basic format calls for players to identify song titles after hearing only a few notes played by an orchestra. See also The $100,000 Name That Tune. The series aired on NBC from July 29, 1974 to January 3, 1975; it was revised from January 3, 1977 to June 10, 1977. It appeared in syndication from 1974–1977.

Network Host: Dennis James. Syndication Host: Tom Kennedy. Announcer: John Harlan. Orchestra: Bob Alberti, Tommy Oliver.

5691 Name That Tune. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1989). An unsold attempt to revive the series of the same title (which first appeared in 1953). The object calls for players to identify song titles after hearing only a few bars of music.

Host: Peter Allen. Announcer: Charlie O’Donnell.

5692 Name Your Adventure. (Series; Reality; NBC; 1992). A Saturday morning series that allows teenagers the opportunity to fulfill their most exciting dreams. Subjects are selected from letters sent to the program and selected entries are granted that dream (from rafting down the Colorado River to riding in a hot air balloon).

Host: Mario Lopez. Co-Host: Jordan Brady, Tatyana M. Ali.

5693 The Namedroppers. (Series; Game; NBC; 1969–1970). The game involves three guest celebrities who comprise the panel; twenty contestants selected from the studio audience; and two Namedroppers (people who are in some way related to the celebrities). One Namedropper appears and briefly tells how he is related to one of the celebrities but does not say to whom. Each celebrity relates a story concerning their relationship, but only one story is true. Of the twenty studio audience members, two compete at a time. The eighteen remaining players each press a button and select the celebrity they believe is related to the Namedropper. The stage players verbally divulge their choice. The celebrity identifies the Namedropper. The studio audience votes are revealed and each incorrect vote awards the correct player ten dollars; if neither of the two players is correct, the Namedropper receives the money. Two such rounds are played per game, enabling all twenty contestants to compete during a five-day period.

Host: Al Lohman, Roger Barkley. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

5694 The Name’s the Same. (Series; Game; ABC; 1951–1955). The object calls for a celebrity panel to identify the birth names of guests who have the same names as famous celebrities. Players receive cash prizes based on the number of probing questions asked of them by the panel. Ten questions is the limit and $25 is the amount that is awarded if the panel fails to identify the name.

Host: Robert Q. Lewis, Dennis James, Bob Elliott, Ray Goulding. Panelists: Joan Alexander, Bess Myerson, Gene Rayburn, Arnold Stang, Abe Burrows, Meredith Wilson, Audrey Meadows, Laraine Day, Walter Slezak, Roger Price. Announcer: John Reed King, Lee Vines.

5695 Nancy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1970–1971). Nancy Smith is the daughter of the President of the United States. She is young and beautiful and longs for a life she once lived in Iowa (where her family owns a horse ranch). However, being in the position she is in, she stays by her father's side and is sort of a First Daughter as her father is a widower. She appears to be content with life in Washington, D.C. although she does take periodic trips back home to tend to the ranch in Center City. On one such visit, Nancy's favorite horse, Lady, suddenly becomes ill. Nancy calls the local veterinarian, Adam Hudson, and it is a love at first sight when Nancy and Adam meet. They date, marry and set up house-keeping in Center City on the former Swenson farm. Adam is an easy-going young man who often offers his services at no charge when people can't afford to pay him. He also realized one thing now that he really hadn't considered before his marriage — he is married to the president's daughter and must now lead a life that is more public than private. Stories follow the somewhat shy Adam as he and Nancy attempt to make their marriage work despite the constant press attention and the bodyguards who must protect Nancy at all times.

Abby Townsend is Nancy's guardian; Willie Winslow is Adam's friend, a reporter for the Daily Clarion; Everett Hudson is Adam's uncle; Turner and Rodriguez are the Secret Service Agents assigned to protect Nancy. Sid Ramin composed the theme, "Nancy."

Cast: Renne Jarrett (Nancy Smith), John Fink (Adam Hudson), Celeste Holm (Abby Townsend), Eddie Applegate (Willie Wilson), Robert F. Simon (Everett Hudson), William H. Bassett (Secret Serviceman Turner), Ernesto Macias (Secret Serviceman Rodriguez).

5696 Nancy Drew. (Series; Mystery; Syn.; 1995–1996). An update of the "Nancy Drew" mystery stories by Carolyn Keene. Nancy Drew, the pretty daughter of attorney Carson Drew, is now 21 years old and lives on her own in Apartment 603 of the Callisto Hotel at 306 Marsh Avenue in a city presumed to be Ohio (she previously lived with her father in River Heights, Ohio).

Nancy, still hoping to become a detective, works at various jobs as an employee of the Temp Agency. She is also attending college and studying criminology. Nancy has a knack for stumbling upon crimes (and enjoys solving them). She is assisted in her capers by her best friend, Georgia "George" Fayne and George's cousin, Bess Marvin.

George and Bess share Apartment 3 over a store called Phillips Shoes. George is studying film (and hopes to become an editor) and works part time as a messenger for Quick Draw Couriers. Bess is studying journalism and works part time on a newspaper called The Rag, the city's alternative paper. Ned Nickerson, Nancy's boyfriend, appears occasionally.

Cast: Tracy Ryan (Nancy Drew), Jhene Erwin

(Bess Marvin), Joy Tanner (Georgia Fayne), Scott Speedman (Ned Nickerson).

5697 Nancy Drew. (Pilot; Mystery; ABC; 12/15/02). Pamela Sue Martin (then Janet Louise Johnson) played Nancy Drew, the teenage sleuth and daughter of criminal attorney Carson Drew in 1977 on ABC's The Nancy Drew Mysteries. In 1995 Tracy Ryan played the pretty sleuth as a 21-year-old in the syndicated Nancy Drew series in 1995. In 2002, ABC presented the pilot episode for another version of Nancy Drew with Maggie Lawson as Nancy (back to being a teenager).

Here Nancy has just graduated from River Heights High School and has enrolled in River Heights University. She is accompanied by her close friends, George Fayne and Bess Marvin. New to the format is Christina Louisa Maria Timkins, Teeny for short, Nancy's friend, a rich debutante from Rockport, Texas. The pilot story finds Nancy attempting to unravel the mystery surrounding a school athlete who falls into a mysterious coma. Other Regulars: Carson Drew, Nancy's father; and Ned Nickerson, Carson's investigator.

Cast: Maggie Lawson (Nancy Drew), Lauren Birkell (George Fayne), Jill Ritchie (Bess Marvin), Marieh Delfino (Teeny), Brett Cullen (Carson Drew), Nick Stabile (Ned Nickerson). Guest Cast: Heath Freeman (Det. Patrick Daly), Brian J. White (Franklin Sanderson), Charlie Finn (Hank), James Avery (Professor Shifflin), Kevin Tighe (Coach Jeffries), Jenny O'Hara (Hannah Green), Joanna Canton (Sue), Michelle Morgan (Jaclyn Calbersen).

5698 The Nancy Drew Mysteries. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1977–1978). Teenage sleuth Nancy Drew was created by Edward Stratemeyer in 1930. Stratemeyer also created the Hardy Boys, the Bobsey Twins and the Tom Swift mystery stories. As with the Hardy Boys, Stratemeyer suggested plot lines and hired ghost writers to compile the stories under the pseudonym Carolyn Keene; Mildred Benson is the best known of these. Since publication of the first book, The Secret of the Old Clock, Nancy has solved over 350 mysteries.

Nancy is pretty, smart and adventurous and has become a heroine to millions of American girls. Nancy attends River Heights High School in the town of River Heights and is being raised by her widowed father, Carson.

Nancy's mother died when Nancy was three years old. Nancy has her own car, a blue Roadster, and enjoys solving mysteries, making her the most famous of the literary detectives. All Nancy Drew books carry the same identical face type and the familiar Nancy Drew profile — Nancy with a magnifying glass. Nancy is accompanied on her adventures by her tomboyish girlfriend, George; George's somewhat neurotic cousin, Bess; and Nancy's true but dull boyfriend, Ned. Only recently, in 1996, did 16-year-old Nancy turn 18 and graduate from high school to attend college.

A series of four Warner Bros. feature films brought Nancy Drew to life in 1938 and 1939: Nancy Drew, Detective; Nancy Drew and the Hidden Staircase; Nancy Drew, Reporter; and Nancy Drew, Troubleshooter. Bonita Granville was perfectly cast as Nancy Drew with John Litel as her father, Carson, and Frank Thomas, Jr. as her boyfriend, Ted — not Ned. George and Bess were not a part of the movies. Here, Nancy attended the Brinwood School for Girls in River Heights and was planning to become a lawyer (“I think every intelligent woman should have a career”).

The books were first adapted to television in 1977 as The Nancy Drew Mysteries and in 1978 as The Hardy Boys/Nancy Drew Mysteries.

The series is set in the town of River Heights. Nancy has been out of high school for five years and is now working for her father, attorney Carson Drew, as a part time investigator. Her ambition is to become a private detective, but in the meantime she researches legal files and checks driving records. However, when a case turns into a mystery for Carson, Nancy becomes a detective and tries to help Carson solve it. Nancy constantly takes chances and often places her life in jeopardy. “Nancy is a girl with a very inquisitive mind who loves to solve a mystery,” says Carson.

“But the day she began part time investigative work for me was the start of my gray hairs.” Carson, a widower, has offices in the Municipal Building next to the Essex Smoke House. He and Nancy live at 8606 Bainbridge Street. Nancy dislikes being told she is wrong; it angers her and sets her into motion to prove what she saw or feels is right. While Nancy does do investigating, she doesn’t consider what she does prying — “I just observe.” Nancy donates toys to the Children’s Hospital and is capable of trick motorcycle riding.

Nancy is assisted on all her cases by her best friend, Georgia “George” Fayne. George, who attended River Heights High School with Nancy, lives at 16 River Street. A job is not mentioned for George but she does want to become a detective. Nancy feels George is not ready and lets her practice by doing undercover work for her. While Carson is shrewd and can read people, George is often in a daze as to what is going on when she and Nancy are on a case. George often comes up with “clues that don’t seem to mean anything except to Nancy,” she says. George loves to shop and is usually frightened by everything she feels is dangerous. She often paints a graphic picture of what could happen if she and Nancy go any further.

Ned Nickerson is Carson’s assistant and Nancy’s shy boyfriend although Nancy was never quite sure what Ned’s intentions were. Ned believes in psychics, palm readers and tarot cards. Ned is afraid to ask Nancy for a date and George believes “Nancy has turned your brains into mush. Your mistake was to become her friend. She thinks of you as a big brother.” Ned also believes “Nancy is not interested in romantic things like moonlit rides. She’s a very serious girl.” In later episodes Ned was made more forceful when he became an investigator for the Boston D.A.’s office. Glen A. Larson composed the theme.

Cast: Pamela Sue Martin (Nancy Drew), Janet Louise Johnson (Nancy Drew; later), William Schallert (Carson Drew), Jean Rasey (George Fayne), Susan Buckner (George Fayne; later), George O’Hanlon, Jr. (Ned Nickerson), Rick Springfield (Ned Nickerson; later), Ruth Cox (Bess), Robert Karnes (Sheriff Kane).

5699 The Nancy Dussault Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/8/73). After several years as a Broadway understudy, actress Nancy Clancy finally gets a break when her leading lady becomes ill. Nancy steps into the spotlight and becomes an overnight sensation. The unsold series, set in New York City, was to relate Nancy’s misadventures as a newly discovered star and as a new wife, having just married Bill Clancy. In the pilot episode, Nancy seeks a way to tell her former suitor (David) that she is now married. Other Regulars: Claire, Nancy’s friend.

Cast: Nancy Dussault (Nancy Clancy), Lawrence Pressman (Bill Clancy), Karen Morrow (Claire), John Byner (Dr. David Froelich; guest role).

5700 The Nancy Walker Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1976–1977). Nancy Kitteridge is a Hollywood theatrical agent. She is married to Kenneth and is the mother of Lorraine. Nancy’s clients are not always the typical actor or actress seeking a job, but unusual people seeking to break into show business. Stories follow Nancy as she struggles to cope with clients and deal with her neurotic family. Glen is Lorraine’s husband; Terry Folson assists Nancy.

Cast: Nancy Walker (Nancy Kitteridge), William Daniels (Kenneth Kitteridge), Beverly Archer (Lorraine), James Cromwell (Glen), Ken Olfson (Terry Folson). Theme Vocal: “Nancy’s Blues” by Nancy Walker.

5701 The Nanette Fabray Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1961). The alternate title for Yes, Yes Nanette. See this title for information.

5702 The Nanny. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1993–1999). The fashionable 19-room dwelling at 3236 Park Avenue in New York City is home to Maxwell Sheffield, a widow with three children (Maggie, Gracie, Bryton), a butler, Niles and a live-in nanny, Fran Fine. Stories relate events in their lives.

Maxwell, a successful Broadway producer, has been listed by Esquire magazine as one of the most eligible widowers (his late wife was named Sarah). He was born in England, attended the Eton School (where he was captain of the water polo team). His sister, Jocelyn (Twiggy Lawson) called him “Puddle Duck” (he called her “Mopsey”). Max, responsible for such Broadway plays as Annie 2, Moby, Regardless and Loves Me Not, won three Tony Awards but considers Maggie, Gracie and Bryton his three greatest productions. As a kid, Max had his own strict nanny, Clara Mueller (Cloris Leachman), and at age 17 produced his first play, The Sound of Music. He is a partner with C. C. Babcock in Sheffield-Babcock Productions (originally Maxwell Sheffield Productions).

Franice, nicknamed Fran, is 29 years old and believes some women think she is a stripper or a hooker “by the clothes I wear.” After losing her job at the Bridal Shoppe in Flushing, Queens, she began selling Shades of the Orient Cosmetics door to door. At the Sheffield home she was mistaken for an agency nanny, impressed Max’s kids and was hired as their nanny. Fran attended P.S. 19 grammar school (later called P.S. 165), then Flushing High School (later called Hillcrest High). She is a graduate of the Ultissima Beauty Institute. She later attended the Barbizon School of Modeling and was a foot model for two years. Fran is an expert on 1960s TV shows. Fran’s favorite performer is Barbra Streisand (she believes Yentl is the best movie ever made). Fran is a member of Shopper’s Anonymous (when she gets depressed she shops) and played Juliet in an off-Broadway retelling of Romeo and Juliet. Final-season episodes found Fran marrying Maxwell and giving birth to twins they name James Samuel and Eve Kathryn.

Margaret, nicknamed Maggie, is 14 years old and very pretty but feels she is “a worthless, pathetic, unlovable nothing.” Maggie also believes she has no personality. Fran, who cured Maggie of her wrongly held beliefs, feels more like her girlfriend than her nanny. Maggie plays the piano and loves three bean salad. She attended the Holy Cross Grammar School, then the Lexington Academy. At age 15 Maggie received a chance to become a model when the Chloe Simpson Agency tested her potential for a series on gorgeous teenagers. Her dreams were shattered when her test shots revealed her to be “vacant and lifeless.” Maggie’s first job was a volunteer candy striper at Belmont Hospital.

Gracie, the youngest child (called “Angel” by Fran), is “a complicated girl” with multiple personalities. She is six years old when the series begins and is in therapy sessions to treat her introversion and insecurities. Gracie has an imaginary friend (Imogene), a teddy bear (Mr. Fuzzy) and two hamsters (Miss Fine and Mr. Sheffield). Gracie attends the Holy Cross School (later Lexington Academy). Gracie, a member of the Red Robbins Scouts (Fran is their troop mother), can’t have fun at school because she worries about the polar ice caps melting. She believes the showgirls that audition for her father are “giant Barbie dolls.” Gracie sometimes fears to sleep alone and snuggles up in bed with Fran.

Bryton is ten years old and mischievous. He attends the Lexington Academy and overindulges on junk food. He and Fran watch Gilligan’s Island marathons to hear the title theme change from “and the rest” to “the Professor and Mary Ann.” Bryton is interested in sports “if I can own the team” and was a member of the Flushing Queens, a canasta team with Fran, her mother and grandmother. Bryton, a Mets baseball fan, had his first kiss with Fran’s cousin Tiffany (Jaclyn John), a miniature version of Fran.

Miles. By 1999, Niles has been in service to Maxwell for 25 years. He is a member of the Professional Butler’s Association and says about his name “It’s Niles, just Niles, like Cher.” His favorite part of the job is watching gorgeous showgirls audition at the house. He has written a play he hopes Maxwell will produce called Love, Valet, Compassion. In his all-boys high school, Niles played the Baroness in a production of The Sound of Music.

Chastity Claire Babcock, is Maxwell’s business partner and calls herself C.C. (her mother is B.B.; her sister, D.D.). She is constantly trying to impress Maxwell (in hopes of marrying him) and calls Fran “Nanny Fine.” She has a dog (given to her by Maxwell) named Chester, and calls the kids “Macy, Bob and Nancy.” C.C. believes people think she is “a self-centered, cold-hearted witch.” She and Niles are constantly at odds, but fell in love and later married. C.C. tries to be nice and sensitive “but my nasty attitude can’t make it happen.”

Before moving to California to produce a TV series (final episode), Max produced one last play—Yetta’s Letters (based on the love letters of Fran’s grandmother). Ann Guilbert, who plays the somewhat senile Yetta Rosenberg, believes Max and Fran are Rob and Laura Petrie from The Dick Van Dyke Show. (Ann played neighbor Millie Halper on that show.)

Cast: Fran Drescher (Fran Fine), Charles Shaughnessy (Maxwell Sheffield), Daniel Davis (Niles), Lauren Lee (C.C. Babcock), Nicholle Tom (Maggie Sheffield), Madeline Zima (Gracie Sheffield), Benjamin Salisbury (Bryton Sheffield), Renee Taylor (Sylvia Fine, Fran’s mother), Rachel Chagall (Val Torriello, Fran’s friend), Ann Morgan Guilbert (Yetta).

5703 Nanny and the Professor. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1970–1971). Phoebe Figalilly is not a witch or a magician, but she possesses the ability to spread love and joy. She drives an antique car she calls Arabella and seems to appear when someone needs help. Professor Harold Everett is a widowed college professor and the father of three mischievous children: Harold (“Hal”) Jr., Prudence and Bentley. Professor Everett is having a difficult time caring for his kids (housekeepers are frightened off by the children), until Phoebe, who prefers to be called Nanny, arrives to help him and take charge of his household.

The Everett’s live at 10327 Oak Street in Los Angeles. Professor Everett teaches math at Clinton College, and the family pets are Waldo (a dog), Sebastian (a rooster), Mike and Myrtle (guinea pigs) and Geraldine and Jerome (baby goats). Bentley’s nickname is Butch. Stories follow Nanny as she uses just enough of her magical charm to solve the problems of running the Everett household.

Francine Fowler is the Everett’s neighbor (a pretty girl with a crush on Hal, Jr.); Frances is her mother; Henrietta is Nanny’s mystical aunt. Harry Nilsson sings the theme, “Nanny.”

Cast: Juliet Mills (Phoebe Figalilly), Richard Long (Harold Everett), David Doremus (Hal Everett), Kim Richards (Prudence Everett), Trent Lehman (Butch Everett), Eileen Baral (Francine Fowler), Patsy Garrett (Florence Fowler), Elsa Lanchester (Nanny’s Aunt Henrietta), Harry Hickox (College Dean).

5704 Nanny and the Professor. (Pilot; Cartoon; ABC; 9/15/73). A proposed, animated version of the prior title. Phoebe Figalilly is a beautiful and enchanted housekeeper who works as the nanny for Harold Everett, a widowed college professor with three mischievous children: Hal, Prudence and Butch. The pilot episode relates Nanny’s efforts to help her Aunt Henrietta solve the mysterious disappearance of performers from her traveling circus. The story, titled “The Phantom of the Circus,” uses the voices of the series’ original cast.

Voice Cast: Juliet Mills (Phoebe Figalilly), Richard Long (Harold Everett), David Doremus (Hal Everett), Kim Richards (Prudence Everett), Trent Lehman (Butch Everett). Guest Voices: Joan Gerber (Aunt Henrietta), Thurl Ravenscroft (Waldo), Paul Shively (Lazlo), Walker Edmiston (Zambini), Dave Ketchum (Arturo).

5705 Nanny 911. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004). Real life nannies, each with a specific skill for dealing with unruly children, appear at the home of a family with a problem child (or children) and take over — giving the parents a rest while they attempt to turn wild children into obedient children. The nannies rules are not easily accepted by the child (who usually goes into a faked crying tantrum) when put to the test. The nannies also offer advice to the parents. When the nannies feel their job is done, they leave; the parents are left to deal with the aftermath. The nannies are identified as Head Nanny Lillian, Nanny Stella, Nanny Debbie and Nanny Yvonne.

5706 Naomi’s New Morning. (Series; Talk; Hallmark Channel; 2006). Singer Naomi Judd is the host of a no topics is off limit talk show. In addition to celebrity interviews, the program presents discussions with experts in psychology, neuroscience and the paranormal.

Hostess: Naomi Judd.

5707 Naruto. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2002). Uzumaki Naruto is a young ninja who is seeking to become a master ninja and a Hokage (leader) of his village (Konoha in the Land of Fire). Naruto, however, is not an ordinary boy. Twelve years earlier, a Kyubi (a nine tailed demon fox) attacked Konoha. The village chief, the Fourth Hokage, captured the spirit of the fox and sealed it within a baby boy named Naruto. Although adults fear Naruto for the demon that lives within him, he has shown not to have turned evil. Stories follow Naruto as he and three friends (Sasuke, Sakura and ninja instructor Kakashi) join forces to battle evil wherever they find it.

Voice Cast: Maile Flanagan (Naruto Uzumaki), Danielle Judovits (Tenten), Kate Higgins (Sakura Haruno), Kyle Hebert (Kiba Inuzuka), Tom Gibis (Nara), Grant George (Yoroi), Crispin Freeman (Ebisu), Quinton Flynn (Iruka Umino), Susan Dalian (Haku), Julianne Buescher (Anko), Colleen O’Shaughnessy (Ino), Tara Platt (Temari).

5708 NASCAR Angels. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2006). An Extreme Makeover: Home Edition copy that has members of the NASCAR racing circuit doing good deeds across the country (like building a playground for an elementary school; fixing a truck for a deserving man who can’t afford the repair bill). The emotional reactions of the people helped close out each episode.

Hosts: Rusty Wallace, Shanna Wiseman. Announcer: Steve Wood.

5709 NASCAR in Primetime. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2007). A behind-the-scenes look at the world of NASCAR (The National Association for Stockcar Auto Racing) with a particular focus on the men and women behind the wheel. The program focuses on aspects of their personal and professional lives as well as showcasing the people behind the scenes (the families, pit crews, friends). Highlights of various NASCAR races are also shown.

Featured: Tony Stewart, Mark Martin, Jimmie Johnson, Johnny Sauter.

5710 NASCAR Racers. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2000–2001). The basic plot is a team of good NASCAR racers (Team Fastex) vs. the evil Team Rexcort. Car designer Jack Fassler developed the concept for the cars; his daughter, Megan, created the cars. Members of the Fastex team include Steve, Sharp, Carlos Rey and McCutchen. Jack’s rival, Garner Rex Rexton stole Jack's concept and created his own brand of cars and now each strives to beat the other to become number one on the NASCAR circuit.

Voice Cast: Paul Dobson (Jack Fassler), Kathleen Barr (Megan Fassler), Ron Halder (Garner Rexton), Roger R. Cross (Steve Sharp), Ian James Corbett (Mark McCutchen), Scott McNeil (Lyle Owens), Kirby Morrow (Redline), Rino Romano (Carlos Rey).

5711 The Nash Airflyte Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1950–1951). A series of dramatic presentations sponsored by Nash Products. The series, which produced 25 episodes, ran from September 21, 1950 to March 15, 1951.

Performers Include: Laraine Day, Joan Bennett, Richard Greene, Kitty Carlisle, Jane Wyatt, Jimmy Carroll, Katherine Alexander, Nina Foch, Lionel Stander, Barbara Rollins, Joan Blondell, Richard Arlen, Dane Clark, Parker Fennelly, Van Heflin, John Payne, Torin Thatcher, David Niven, Marguerite Piazza, Ronald Reagan, Basil Rathbone, Bethel Leslie, Marsha Van Dyke, Ann Rutherford, Fredric March.

5712 Nash Bridges. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1996–2001). Nash Bridges is an inspector with the San Francisco Police Department. He is partners with Joe Dominquez and the father of Cassidy. He is twice divorce and lives with his father and Cassidy at 855 Sacramento Street.

Nash was born on December 7, 1955. He attended the San Francisco Police Academy and was the youngest cop to ever receive a Gold Star. Nash has a tendency to call people "Bubba." Nash drives a 1971 yellow Plymouth Barracuda convertible. Only 14 such cars were made and he calls his The Cuda. Nash has a photographic memory and loses his temper when he becomes angry.

Lisa is Nash's first ex-wife; Kelly was the second Mrs. Bridges. Lisa, the owner of a catering company, is Cassidy's mother. Though divorced, Nash and Lisa are still close; he and Kelly are further apart.

Nash is first an inspector, then Captain, and heads the S.I.U. (Special Investigative Unit of the S.F.P.D.). Nash often breaks the rules to get the job done and takes the heat for doing so. He prefers to work with his team and balks at sharing cases and information with the FBI. "They're too damned sure about everything," says Nash.

Joe was originally introduced as Nash's ex-partner who quit the force to become a private detective. He is semi-retired when the series begins and helps "The Nashman," as he calls Nash, solve crimes. He is later back on the force, first as an inspector then lieutenant. He is married to Inger and lives in an apartment at 4665 Laguna. In last season episodes, he and Inger become the parents of a girl they name Lucia.

Joe is the owner of a gay bar called the Tender

Loin through a get-rich scheme that backfired and partners with Nash in a moonlighting business called Bridges and Dominquez — Private Investigators. They have offices at 427 Grey Street in a building full of psychiatrists. They often become involved in private capers while working on departmental matters.

Cassidy, Nash's only child, first attended Bay High School then Berkeley College. She originally had aspirations to become an actress but later found an interest in law enforcement and attended the police academy. As an actress, Cassidy appeared topless in an avant garde play called Tears of the Monkey. Cassidy became a police officer and was first assigned to the Seacliff section of San Francisco. She was later reassigned to Nash's unit as a uniformed officer. Cassidy is rarely defiant and loyal to her father.

Nash was uneasy with Cassidy becoming a cop as he was with her doing nude scenes in plays. Cassidy was involved in a fatal shooting and exonerated but quit the force when she felt her father was against her becoming a police officer. The series ended with an unresolved cliff hanger on May 4, 2001 when Cassidy is seen weighing the possibilities of returning to the force or leaving to begin a new life in Paris.

Nick Bridges is Nash's father, a former longshoreman who lived at the Three Oaks Retirement Home before he came to reside with Nash. Nick could not get along with "management" as he calls it. Nick served aboard the USS Phoenix during World War II and now cares for the house and does the cooking. He is suffering from the early stages of Alzheimer's disease. Nash's sister, Stacey Bridges, is an assistant district attorney.

Caitlin Cross is a beautiful internal affairs inspector Nash calls "The Grand Inquisitor." Caitlin has been assigned to perform an audit investigation of the S.I.U.'s prior cases. She first worked for the FBI but quit "when I couldn't tell lies from truths." She next worked as an analyst for the CIA, Russian Intelligence Division; "I analyzed Russian documents all day long." As a result, she can read and speak Russian. She resigned after five years. The mayor of San Francisco then hired her to oversee S.I.U. procedures.

Caitlin says, "I find things out, that's what I do." She becomes angry when Nash tries to keep something from her; "I'll find out," she says. After working with Caitlin for a while Nash said, "She's a hell of a lot better than people give her credit for, but when it comes to solving crimes, she's not better than me."

Harvey Leek, Evan Cortez and Antwon Babcock are other members of Nash's team. Harvey is a Grateful Dead music fan; he has a collection of 155 ticket stubs from every concert he attended. He is divorced from Bonnie (Julianne Christie) after five years of marriage. Evan was formerly an officer with the S.F.P.D. for seven years before being reassigned to the S.I.U. He had a brief relationship with Cassidy that was frowned upon by Nash who didn't want his daughter dating a cop because of the risks involved. Evan also calls Nash “Nashman.” Antwon is a tough black inspector whose attitude has fostered his transfer to five different investigative units in three years. He is street smart and appears to have found a permanent station with the S.I.U.

Nash is the only cop at the S.I.U. with his personal guardian angel — Angel, an apparent homeless person who dresses in white with a pair of wings. He came from out of nowhere to save Nash’s life during a case and has now taken it upon himself to watch over Nash. Angel, as Nash calls him, has no apparent means of income and no background after 1958. As best as Nash can determine, Angel is really Peter Spellman. He was born at Saint Mary’s Hospital on January 27, 1949. He was adopted by Dr.

Alvin Spellman and his wife Helen. After Helen’s death, Peter was sent to a foster home where he lived until the age of nine. In the summer of 1958 his records stopped. He became non-existent. He never paid taxes, never had a job, has no social security number, was never in the service. No school records exist either. Angel says he cannot lie to anyone.

Elia Cmral composed the original theme “Nash Bridges.” Eddie Jobson composed the revised theme “I’ve Got a Friend in You” and Ray Bunch composed the final season “New Nash Bridges Theme.”

Cast: Don Johnson (Nash Bridges), Cheech Marin (Joe Dominquez), Jodi Lynn O’Keefe (Cassidy Bridges), Annette O’Toole (Lisa Bridges), Serena Scott Thomas (Kelly Bridges), James Gammon (Nick Bridges), Yasmine Bleeth (Caitlin Cross), Angela Dohrman (Stacey Bridges), Jeff Perry (Harvey Leek), Jaimie P. Gomez (Evan Cortez), Cress Williams (Antwon Babcock), Caroline Langerfelt (Inger Dominquez), Tracey Walter (Angel).

5713 Nash’s Vision. (Unaired Pilot; Fantasy; Produced in 1991). A rather unusual approach to fighting crime: After his son is killed in a hit-and-run accident, David Nash, an undercover detective who possesses telepathic powers, finds assistance in his battle against crime from his deceased son’s little toy dinosaur — which is capable of transforming itself into a real dinosaur 50 feet tall. The unsold series was to relate David’s unusual methods to deal with the city’s arch criminals.

Cast: Robert Taylor (David Nash).

5714 Nashville. (Series; Reality; ABC; Fox; 2007). The program follows a group of hopeful country and western singers as they try to make their mark in Nashville. Because of dismal ratings, the program was cancelled after two episodes (September 14 to September 21, 2007) and only managed to introduce the hopefuls and give a glimpse into what they were to face (from meeting managers and preparing for performances).

Cast: Jeff Allen, Rachel Bradshaw, Mika Combs,

Sarah Gunsolus, Lindsey Hager, Matt Jenkins, Jamey Johnson, Clint Moseley, Monty Powell, Chuck Wickes.

5715 Nashville 99. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1977). Nashville 99 is the badge number of Stonewall “Stoney” Huff, a dedicated detective lieutenant with the Nashville Metropolitan Police Department in Tennessee. The three-episode series relates his and his partner, Detective Trace Mayne’s exploits as they patrol the streets of Nashville. Other Regulars: Birdie Huff, Stoney’s mother; and Deputy R.B. Jerry Reed performs the theme, “Nashville 99.”

Cast: Claude Akins (Stoney Huff), Jerry Reed (Trace Mayne), Lucille Benson (Birdie Huff), Charley Pride (R.B.).

5716 The Nashville Palace. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1981). Performances by country and western entertainers coupled with a weekly skit called “The Coots” (about a wacky family living in Looney Corners, Tennessee). Taped at the Nashville Palace Theater. Roy Clark hosted the pilot episode.

Host-Announcer: Slim Pickens. Cast: Hamilton Camp (Pa Coot), Donna Siegel (Ma Coot), Terri Gardener (Daughter Amelia Coot), Harry Murphy (Son Thomas Alva Coot), Wendy Suits (Granny Coot). Orchestra: Charlie McCoy and His Palace Pickers.

5717 Nashville Star. (Series; Reality; USA; 2003–). A talent search to find “the next great country music artist.” Ten promising finalists are selected from open auditions across the country. These contenders compete in Nashville in a talent contest for a recording contract with RCA records. Contestants are judged by a panel and each week one hopeful faces elimination. The one remaining singer, chosen from three finalists in the last episode, wins the contract. Buddy Jewell was the first winner.

Host: Nancy O’Dell, Cowboy Troy, LeAnn Rimes, Wynonna, Jewel, Billy Ray Cyrus. Judges: Bret Michaels, Tracy Gershon, Robert Oermann, Anastasia Brown, Billy Greenwood, Phil Vassar, Randy Owen, Jeffrey Steele, John Rich, Charlie Robison, The Warren Brothers, Blake Shelton, Jewel.

5718 Nasty Boys. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1990). A fact-based series about the Northern Narcotics Bureau of the Las Vegas Police Department, an elite (and rather unorthodox) team of five undercover cops known as the Nasty Boys (Eduardo, Paul, Wheeler, Danny and Tommy). Other Regulars: Serena, Eduardo’s wife; Lieutenant Max Krieger; and Chief Bradley. Lisa Keith performs the theme, “Nasty.”

Cast: Benjamin Bratt (Eduardo Cruz), Jeff Kaake (Paul Morrissey), Don Franklin (Al Wheeler), Craig Hurlley (Danny Larsen), James Pax (Tommy Kee), Dennis Franz (Max Krieger), Nia Peeples (Serena Cruz), Sandy McPeak (Chief Bradley).

5719 The Nat King Cole Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956–1957). A charming half-hour of music and songs with singer Nat King Cole (the first African-American singer to host a major network variety series). The series ran from November 5, 1956 to December 17, 1957. Bob Henry is the producer.

Host: Nat King Cole. Regulars: The Randy Van Horne Singers, The Boataneers. Orchestra: Gordon Jenkins, Nelson Riddle.

5720 National Bingo Night. (Series; Game; ABC; 2007). A large plastic sphere that stands two-and-one-half stories high contains 75 numbered balls (1–75). Three games of Bingo are played — the Red Card, Blue Card and White Card. Descriptions for each of the games is based on the first episode (they vary slightly from there on). Each member of the studio audience receives a normal Bingo card. Three players compete, one at a time (one per color card).

The Red Card game is called “500 Mile Run.” The Bingo balls are activated (sent spinning by an air machine) and the player has to predict whether the ball that comes out will be higher or lower than the first number given by the host. If he is correct, that ball’s total is added to the mileage (he must drive 500 miles); studio audience members mark that number on their Bingo cards. The player must then predict whether the next ball will be higher or lower than the prior ball. An incorrect prediction stalls the player but allows the studio audience to use that number on their Bingo cards. If a studio audience member makes Bingo (five numbers in a line) before the stage player reaches the 500 miles (points) he loses his chance at $50,000 and the studio audience player receives $5,000.

Round two is the White Card game. Here, a stage player chooses one car from three that are displayed on stage. The vin number of that car is displayed on a board. The object is for the player to win that car by eliminating the vin number. He must predict whether the Bingo balls that will exit the machine will be odd or even. If a correct guess is made and a number that appears on the ball matches a number on the board, that number is eliminated. He must, however, eliminate all the numbers before a studio audience member calls Bingo.

The third round, the Blue Card, has the Bingo balls marked with a black or red decal. Bride and groom mannequins are displayed in a diorama. The bride needs to make seven steps to reach the groom. The player has to predict whether a ball will be black or red. Correct predictions move the bride one step closer to the groom. The player must get the bride to the groom before a studio audience player calls Bingo.

Host: Ed Sanders. Bingo Girl: Yesenia Adame. Bingo Verifier: Sunil Narkar.

5721 National Lampoon’s Hot Flashes. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1984). A limited run (five episode) series that takes an off-the-wall look at the antics of the staff of National Lampoon’s Hot Flashes, an evening TV news show as they prepare for broadcast. Kimberly Clark and John B. Goode are the anchors; Barry Gold is the entertainment reporter; Walter Conkrite is the consumer reporter; Samantha is the production assistant Ali is the floor manager; Juan Jones is the investigative reporter; Chuck Fodder is the roving reporter.

Cast: Lois Robbins (Kimberly Clark), Mark King (John B. Goode), Kevin Pollak (Barry Gold), Franklyn Ajaye (Walter Conkrite), Wendy Goldman (Samantha), Blake Clarke (Ali), Jeff Marder (Juan Jones), Rodger Bumpass (Chuck Fodder).

5722 National Lampoon’s Two Reelers. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/28/81). Stephen and Rodger (last names not given) are college students who decide to leave school and travel around the world. They pool their resources and the unsold series was to relate their experiences as they seem to encounter nothing but misadventure. In the pilot episode, Stephen and Rodger’s vacation in a strife-torn Latin American country is interrupted when they are taken hostage by bank robbers.

Cast: Stephen Furst (Stephen), Rodger Bumpass (Rodger). Guest Cast: Penny Peyser (Waitress), Pierino Mascarino (Villain), Victor Brandt (General), Owen Bush (Postman), Peter Schrum (Dignitary).

5723 The National Snoop. (Pilot; Satire; NBC; 8/18/83). The unsold pilot episode for a satirical television newsmagazine series that, set at the newsroom of the National Snoop, presents unusual news and human interest stories.

Co-Anchors: Catherine Bergstrom, Phil Hartman, Lennie Weinrib. Regulars: Dr. Joyce Brothers, Sheila Frazier, Don Calfa, K.C. Winkler, Bob Yerkes, Rose Lau, Allan Katz, Greg Lewis, Terrence McGovern.

5724 National Velvet. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1960–1962). Velvet Brown is the pretty 12-year-old daughter of Herbert and Martha Brown, the owners of the Brown Dairy Ranch in a Midwestern community called the Valley (on the outskirts of Birch City). Velvet has a beautiful 16-year-old sister (Edwina) and a curious and mischievous six-year-old brother (Donald). Velvet also has a dream: to own a horse and train it for competition in the Grand National Sweepstakes.

One day Velvet sees her neighbor’s chestnut horse jump a four rail, six-foot fence and theorizes that it can be trained for the steeplechase. When Velvet learns that the chestnut’s owner, Homer Edie (Tim Graham) plans to sell the horse for $30 she asks her father to buy it. A new water pump is desperately needed and Velvet's father is unable to help Velvet. Velvet, however devises a plan. With Mr. Edie's permission, she begins a raffle and sells 100 tickets at 50 cents each. At the local fair, the raffle is held and the winning ticket, number nine, is drawn. It is not one of the tickets held by Velvet. Velvet believes her dreams have been shattered until she learns that her father purchased ten tickets and among them was number nine. A teary eyed Velvet rushes over to the horse. It was as fate had intended Velvet and the Chestnut to be together.

Velvet names the horse King and receives help in training him from Mi Taylor, the ranch hand, a former steeplechase rider whose career ended when he was thrown from a horse during a race and injured his leg; he now walks with a limp.

Edwina, called "Winna," shares a bedroom with Velvet. She is very feminine (Velvet is more like a tomboy) and is a sophomore at Valley High School. She breeds canaries and had two boyfriends: the more steady Theodore P. Nelson, an anthropology professor at State College, and the occasional Carl Evans, a local boy. Donald is a realistically typical little boy. He gets hurt (for example, falling down the stairs), adopts stray animals, fibs, blames his sisters for something he did and is often confused by "big words" (like elopement).

While stories relate incidents in the lives of the Brown family, particular focus is on Velvet as she trains King for the Grand National Steeplechase. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: Lori Martin (Velvet Brown), Arthur Space (Herbert Brown), Ann Doran (Martha Brown), Carole Wells (Edwina Brown), Joey Scott (Donald Brown), James McCallion (Mi Taylor), Carl Crow (Theodore P. Nelson), Michael Vandever (Carl Evans).

5725 The Natural Look. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/6/77). Reedy Harrison is a cosmetics executive for Contessa Toiletries. She is married to a pediatrician (Bud) and the unsold series was to relate Reedy's efforts to divide her time between a monopolizing job and her husband, who yearns for a wife who is more at home than at work. In the pilot episode, Reedy prepares to meet her husband's ex-flame (Jane), a glamorous girl who exhibits a domestic flair she feels she can't match. Other Regulars: The Countess, the owner of the company; Edna, Reedy's friend; and Arthur, the Countess's son, the director of the company.

Cast: Barbara Feldon (Reedy Harrison), Bill Bixby (Dr. Bud Harrison), Brenda Forbes (Countess), Sandy Sprung (Edna), Michael MacRae (Arthur), Caren Kaye (Jane; guest role).

5726 Naturally, Sadie. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 2005). Is being smart the new in thing for a pretty teenage girl? Sadie Hawthorne is a high school girl who is determined to answer that question. Sadie is a girl who not only loves Nature, but also loves to study and observe animals ("I'm amazed by everything that is wild — animals, bugs and even the wild people in my own life. Guess it just comes ... naturally").

While Sadie's dream is rather weird ("to go to the Rain Forest to study bugs and fungus and weird microbes") she uses her research in studying animals and their behavior to analyze people (mostly her school mates) and help them overcome any problem they may have — a situation that seems sound — until Sadie intervenes and mishap occurs.

Cast: Charlotte Arnold (Sadie Hawthorne), Collette Micks (Jean Hawthorne), Justin Bradley (Hal Hawthorne), Jasmine Richards (Margaret Browning-Levesque), Richard Clarkin (Walter Hawthorne), Michael D'Ascenzo (Rain Papadaki), Alex Hood (Ron Yuma), Mallory Margel (Mallory Randell), Shenae Grimes (Arlene Alcott), Kyle Kass (Owen Anthony), Alison Sealy-Smith (Ms. Mann), Mandy Butcher (Chelsea Brewer).

The series ran from September 15, 1971 to September 4, 1977.

5740 N. C. I. S. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2003–). The NCIS is the Navy Criminal Investigative Service, an organization that operates outside of the U.S. military to investigate crimes associated with service men and women.

Special Agent Jethro Gibbs heads the unit. He is a highly skilled investigator (and interrogator) who sometimes goes by his own book of rules to get the job done. Working with Jethro are Anthony DiNozzo, a former homicide detective with street smarts; Caitlin Todd, a former Secret Service agent; and Abby Sciuto, a gifted forensic scientist. Also assisting the team is medical examiner Dr. Donald Mallard, affectionately called “Ducky.”

Cast: Mark Harmon (Leroy Jethro Gibbs), Sasha Alexander (Caitlin “Kate” Todd), Michael Weatherly (Tony DiNozzo), Pauley Perrette (Abby Sciuto), David McCallum (Dr. Donald “Ducky” Mallard), Lauren Holly (NCIS Director Jenny Shepard), Alan Dale (NCIS Director Tom Morrow), Joe Spano (FBI Agent T.C. Fornell), Brian Dietzen (Agent Jimmy Palmer), Sean Murray (Agent Timothy McGee), Cote de Pablo (Agent Ziva David), Pancho Demmings (Gerald Jackson), Scottie Thompson (Jeanne Benoit), Stephanie Mello (Cynthia Smmer), Liza LaPira (Agent Michelle Lee), Jessica Steen (Agent Paula Cassidy), Muse Watson (Agent Mike Franks), Susanna Thompson (Lt. Hollis Mann), Mary Matilyn Mouser (Kelly Gibbs).

5741 Nearly Departed. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989). While on vacation, Professor Grant Pritchard and his wife Claire perish in a rock slide. The spirits of Grant and Claire return to their earthly home and find it inhabited by the Dooley family, a prospect that annoys Grant who desperately wants his house back. Stories relate Grant’s continual complaints (to the audience) and attempts to live with the Dooleys (who cannot see him). The Dooleys: Michael, the father, a plumber; Liz, his wife; Derek, their son; and Jack Garrett, Liz’s father. Eric Idle performs the theme, “Nearly Departed.”

Cast: Eric Idle (Grant Pritchard), Caroline McWilliams (Claire Pritchard), Stuart Pankin (Michael Dooley), Wendy Schaal (Liz Dooley), Jay Lambert (Derek Dooley), Henderson Forsythe (Jack Garrett).

5742 Neat and Tidy — Adventures Beyond Belief. (Pilot; Satire; Syn.; 12/86). Valentena Tidelio, the daughter of a mobster, runs away from her father’s jailer, music school conservatory Headmistress

Bruno Van Kleef, seeking to find her mother, who was presumed killed in a car accident 15 years ago.

Nick Pratt, a mechanic and Elvis Presley freak, who fears he killed his partner during a heated argument, flees, thinking the police are seeking him. By chance Valentina, who pretends to be Tena Tidy, and Nick, who uses the alias Nick Neat, meet and team to help each other out. The proposed series was to relate Tena and Nick's outrageous world-wide adventures as they seek Tena's mother and attempt to escape from their relentless pursuer — Headmistress Van Kleef.

Cast: Jill Whitlow (Tena Tidy), Skyler Cole (Nick Neat), Elke Sommer (Bruno Van Kleef). Guest Cast: Edie Adams (Flo), John Astin (Hackman), Larry Storch (Hooked Sheriff), Stella Stevens (Loretta Kimbell).

5743 Ned and Stacey. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1995–1997). Ned Dorsey is an executive at the Spencer Advertising Agency on Madison Avenue (he considers himself an Advertising Industry Professional). Stacey Colbert is a newspaper columnist (for The Village Voice) and later a freelance writer. Ned lives in a two-bedroom Manhattan apartment and has a boss who believes in married executives — no marriage, no promotion.

Stacey works in Manhattan but lives on Long Island. Ned and Stacey meet by chance at a bar and become friends although they are not fully compatible — she's politically right wing and "he's no wings at all." They find they each have something the other wants. Stacey agrees to pose as Ned's wife; Ned agrees to let Stacey live in his second bedroom apartment so she can be closer to her job.

Although Ned is "married," he hits on other women — and Stacey would like to know whom he is dating — "I'm your wife, I have the right to know." Ned, 35, is neat, loves to cook, and enjoys growing vegetables and flowers on his balcony. He drives a cranberry colored 1967 Cadillac, folds clothes to classical music and maneuvers and manipulates his way through life. "I exploit people, that's what I do."

Stacey, born in Trenton, New Jersey, attended Brandice College. As a kid she was gawky, wore braces and was a head taller than other girls. Her father, Saul, called her "Cookie." For Stacey, a good day can only happen "if I have a great hair day." When Ned takes Stacey out for a meal, they dine at Dugan's Café; they each enjoy snacks at Amanda's-A-Muffins, a coffee shop owned by Stacey's sister, Amanda Moyer (she is married to Eric "Rico" Moyer). Commercials for the ad agency are filmed at Astoria Studios in Queens. The program is a reworking of the 1966 series Occasional Wife.

Cast: Thomas Hayden Church (Ned Dorsey), Debra Messing (Stacey Colbert), Nadia Dajani (Amanda Moyer), Greg Germann (Eric Moyer), Harry Goz (Saul Colbert).

5744 Ned Blessing: The Story of My Life and Times. (Series; Western; CBS; 1993). Ned Blessing is an Old West outlaw with many people gunning for him. After six years Ned, called "The bad boy of Texas," decides to return to his home town of Plum Creek to see his father. When Ned and his amigo, "Old" Crecencio Salos, arrive in town, they discover it is a hell-hole and filled with riff-raff (taken over by an outlaw gang. Ned's father has left on a mission to find Ned). Seeing that the citizens are in need of help — and with the aid of a brave townsper-son (Tim "Sticks" Packwood) Ned faces the outlaws and in the ensuing gunfight, ends their reign. Grateful for what Ned has done, Judge Longley approaches Ned and asks him to become their sheriff. Ned, however, wants to search for his father; his mind is changed when the judge tells him that before he left Ned's father said he would return. Figuring that the best way to see his father would be to wait for him, Ned accepts the job, although it means he and Old "will have to give up stealing for a while."

Ned wears a bracelet made from a girl's hair on his right wrist (it was made by Jilly Blue, a girl who lived in the town when he "was just a spud") and fears one man — General Pelo Blanco, who is after him for stealing his cattle in Mexico. Stories follow Ned as he becomes a good guy — for the time being to help rebuild the town of Plum Creek. Other Reg-ulars: Wren, the saloon girl; One Horse, the "crazy" Indian who carries a bag that he won't let anyone touch; and Big Emma, the saloon owner.

Cast: Brad Johnson (Ned Blessing), Luis Avalos (Crecencio Salos), Brenda Bakke (Wren), Wes Studi (One Horse), Tim Scott (Tim Packwood), Rusty Schwimmer (Big Emma), Tony Genaro (General Pelo Blanco), Richard Riehle (Judge Longley).

5745 Ned's Declassified School Survival Guide. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2004–2007). How does a kid get through school? For 13-year-old Ned Bigby, a seventh grader at the James K. Polk Middle School, it is using his wits to overcome the hurdles of junior high.

Ned is a witty kid who shares tips on surviving the obstacles that plague most school kids with the view- ing audience. Ned is not special; he is just a normal kid who has to overcome the tests, crushes, teachers and whatever else life throws at him as he struggles to achieve his education. There are mishaps and mis- adventures for him too, and he shares those good and bad times with his two best friends, Jennifer "Moze" Mosley and Simon "Cookie" Cook. Billy Loomer, called Bully, has a crush on Jennifer; Co- conut Head is a student whose hair is oddly enough, shaped to look like half a coconut; Gordy is the school janitor; Ms. Derga is the P.E. teacher; Mr. Monroe, the science teacher; and Mr. Copsaw, the shop teacher.

Cast: Devon Werkheiser (Ned Bigby), Lindsey Shaw (Jennifer "Moze" Mosley), Dan Curtis Lee (Simon "Cookie" Cook), Rob Pinkston (Coconut Head), Kyle Swann (Billy "Bully" Loomer), Dave Florek (Mr. Copsaw), Kim Sava (Ms. Derga), Jim J. Bullock (Mr. Munroe), Teo Olivares (Crony), Don Creech (Mr. Sweeney), Christian Serratos (Susie Crabgrass), Steve Bannos (Mr. Cambover), Carlie Casey (Missy Meany), Rachel Sibner (Lisa Zemo), Cathy Immordino (Sandy Crew).

5746 Ned's Newt. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1997–1999). Ned Flemkin is a hyperactive boy with a normal pet, a salamander (a newt) until he feeds it Zippo Newt Food. The food transforms the four-inch creature into a mischievous, fun-loving (but gluttonous) 500-pound monster called Newton. Newton is also very curious and lives to cause trouble for Ned; however, when the trouble becomes too much for Newton to handle, he shrinks down to four inches and leaves it to Ned to deal with the situation. Eric and Sharon are Ned's parents (who are unaware of Newton's actual size); Linda, Renfrew and Doggle are Ned's friends.

Voice Cast: Tracey Moore (Ned Flemkin), Harland Williams (Newton), Ron Pardo (Newton; later), Carolyn Scott (Sharon Flemkin), Peter Keleghan (Eric Flemkin), Tracy Ryan (Linda Bliss), Colin O'Meara (Renfrew), Colin O'Meara (Doogle).

5747 Needles and Pins. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1973). Life in the aggravating world of the garment industry as seen through the experiences of Wendy Nelson, a struggling young fashion designer with Lorelei Fashions in New York City (located at 463 7th Avenue). Nathan Davidson is in charge of manufacturing; Harry Karp is Nathan's partner; Charlie Miller is the salesman; Sonia Baker is the bookkeeper; Max is the material cutter; Myron Russo is the pattern maker; Julius Singer is the owner of the competing Singer Sophisticates; Elliott is the restaurant waiter.

Cast: Deirdre Lenihan (Wendy Nelson), Norman Fell (Nathan Davidson), Louis Nye (Harry Karp), Bernie Kopell (Charlie Miller), Sandra Dee (Sonia Baker), Larry Gelman (Max), Alex Henteloff (Myron Russo), Milton Selzer (Julius Singer), Joshua Shelley (Elliott).

5748 The Neighbors. (Series; Game; ABC; 1975–1976). Of the five actual female neighbors who appear on each program, two are selected as the players; the remaining three become the panel. The object calls for a player to determine if a statement made by the panel refers to her or her neighbor. Each correct guess scores the player money and the highest scoring player is the winner.

Host: Regis Philbin. Models: Jane Nelson, Sylvia Neils. Announcer: Joe Sinan.

5749 Neon Rider. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1990–1991). Michael Terry has a Ph.D. in child psychology and taught science and human behavior at the university level for five years. He had an article published in the most highly regarded sociology magazine in the world and is the author of a book called The Development of Teenage Behavior. Despite his achievements, Michael feels it's all talk and no action. He decides to put his schooling to work and get firsthand experience working with troubled teens and developing their character.

Michael quits his job and purchases a ranch in Canada's Fraser Valley. There, with the cooperation of the juvenile court, he begins his program of helping troubled teens deal with poverty, parental neglect, gang wars and drug abuse. The court considers the juveniles on the Ranch (as it is called) to be in confinement; if they attempt to leave, it will be considered an escape; if they are caught it means being tried as adults and prison.

Michael's former colleagues call the Ranch "Michael's Folly."

Fox Devlin, who has a white horse named Saddles, is the Ranch foreman. Vic is a Native American who works as a ranch hand; he has a horse named Dundee. C.C. Dechardon is the cook; Rachel Woods is the social worker assigned to assist Michael. Bill Henderson sings the theme, "Neon Rider."

Cast: Winston Rekert (Michael Terry), Antoinette Bower (Fox Devlin), Samuel Sarker (Vic), Alex Bruhanski (C.C. Dechardon), Suzanne Errett-Balcom (Rachel Woods).

5750 The Nerd. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/2/96). Rick Steadman is the kind of guy who gets under your skin. He is annoying and considered a nerd. Although awkward he is also a hero. He risked his life to save an unconscious man (William Boyd) from a burning building. Years later, when William learns that his rescuer has fallen on hard times and has no place to live, he repays the kindness by letting Rick move in with him and his wife, Tanzy. A big mistake. Rick's obnoxious ways cause problems for William and Tanzy. In the pilot episode, Rick tries to help William impress an important client (Mr. Walgrave).

Cast: John Dye (Rick Steadman), Robert Joy (William Boyd), Harley Jane Kozak (Tanzy Boyd), M. Emmet Walsh (Mr. Walgrave; guest role), Toni Sawyer (Celia Walgrave; guest role).

5751 Nero Wolfe. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 12/18/79). Nero Wolfe, the fictional character created by Rex Stout, is a gourmet, horticulturist and master criminologist who helps the police and FBI solve baffling crimes. Nero rarely leaves his home; Archie Goodwin, his legman, does the actual detective work, which he brings to Nero for his final analysis. Nero then gathers all the suspects at his home and reveals the culprit. In the pilot episode, based on the novel, The Doorbell Rang, Nero becomes involved in a puzzling murder when he takes on the case of Sarah Dacos, a young tycoon under secret investigation by the FBI. Other Regulars: Inspector Cramer of the N.Y.P.D.; and Fritz Brenner, Nero's butler.

Cast: Thayer David (Nero Wolfe), Tom Mason (Archie Goodwin), Biff McGuire (Inspector Cramer), David Hurst (Fritz Brenner). Guest Cast: Brooke Adams (Sarah Dacos), Anne Baxter (Racher Bruner), Sarah Cunningham (Mrs. Althaus), John Randolph (Lon Cohen).

5752 Nero Wolfe. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; A&E; 1981; 2001). Nero Wolfe is an overweight master criminologist, gourmet cook, horticulturist and connoisseur of fine wine. He is also wealthy, reclusive, abrupt, insulting and arrogant. He lives in a New York brownstone but seldom leaves the house to solve crimes. His legman, private detective Archie Goodwin, collects the evidence for him. Nero considers the evidence Archie gathers to be pieces of a puzzle. When a case is solved in Nero's mind, he gathers all the suspects at his home. He recaps the crime, questions the suspects and reveals the culprit. While operating as a private investigative agency, Nero also helps the police, namely Inspector Cramer, solve crimes. On NBC (1981), Nero's address was given as 918 West 35th Street; on A&E (2001–2002), he resides at 454 West 35th Street in Manhattan.

Nero raises orchids and enjoys sitting "in my nice big easy chair and enjoying a delectable glass of beer." Nero claims he doesn't leave the house "because I hate traffic." When a circumstance forces Nero to leave his home, he immediately misses the comforts of his home and avails himself to the comforts of other people's homes. It is at these times that Nero hopes for one thing — a meal prepared by a gourmet cook. These occasions also give Nero the opportunity to pick up minute details the police often overlook. He solves cases by hard facts not by imagining who did it. Nero usually sets a trap to catch a killer — "We can't go to him, so we have to make him come to us." Nero depends on Archie and Archie depends on Nero. "I do nothing without Archie," says Nero. "He's inquisitive, charming, impetuous, alert and forceful. He gets me what I need to solve crimes."

Archie lives at 237 East 46th Street and doesn't take notes when he questions a suspect — "I have a photographic memory." Nero sometimes believes Archie's last name should be Wolf because he has an eye for the ladies. Nero is not a judge of women, but of Archie he says, "Your insatiable interest of the female seems to sometimes border on the psychotic." Deep down Nero fears that Archie is going to leave him when he meets the right girl and marries. Archie believes Nero has only two passions — orchids and beer. Both versions are based on the character created by Rex Stout.

NBC Cast: William Conrad (Nero Wolfe), Lee Horsley (Archie Goodwin), George Voskovec (Fritz Brenner, Nero's gourmet cook), Robert Coote (Theodore Hortsman, Nero's horticulturist), Allan Miller (Inspector Cramer).

A&E Cast: Maury Chaykin (Nero Wolfe), Timothy Hutton (Archie Goodwin), Colin Fox (Fritz, Nero's personal chef), Bill Smitrovich (Inspector Cramer). This version is set first in the 1950s, then the 1960s although Archie's outlandish wardrobe places him in the 1940s.

5753 Nettie. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 4/22/45). A television adaptation of the play by George Ade. The story is set in a swanky night club called the Palm Room (where a beautiful girl named Nettie entertains). Here, three men-about-town (played by Steve Chase, Richard Maloy and Mort L. Stevens) have an appointment to meet with Nettie (Leila Ernst) at her favorite corner table. Each is unaware that the other knows Nettie (each met her on Fifth Avenue; and each has given her a piano to help her fledgling music career) and their reactions to this discovery is the focal point of the play.

5754 Nevada Smith. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 5/3/75). An unsold adaptation of the 1966 feature film about Nevada Smith, a half-breed gunslinger, and his mentor, Jonas Cord, as they team to enforce law and order on the ruthless frontier. The pilot episode relates their efforts to escort a shipment of explosives across the Utah territory.

Cast: Cliff Potts (Nevada Smith), Lorne Greene (Jonas Cord). Guest Cast: Adam West (Frank Hartlee), Warren Vanders (Red Fickett), Loraine Chanel (Belva), Eric Cord (Davey), Jerry Gatlin (Brill), Jorge Luke (Two Moon).

5755 Never Again. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 11/30/84). Abigail "Abby" Cartwright is a lawyer; Lawrence "Larry" Newman is a radio sportscaster; and Mitchell "Mitch" Franklin is a bookkeeper. The three are friends, single and share adjoining apartments; the unsold series was to relate incidents in their lives as they help each other out. In the pilot episode, Larry and Mitch attempt to console Abby, who is suffering from the traumas of a recent divorce. Other Regulars: Denise, their friend, a waitress.

Cast: Jamie Rose (Abby Cartwright), Judge Reinhold (Larry Newman), Allen Garfield (Mitch Franklin), Margot Rose (Denise). Guest Cast: Loyita

Chapel (Dawn Stevenson), Dalton Cathey (Allen), Mark Sawyer (Man).

5756 Never Say Never. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/11/79). Harry Walter is a hard-working 54-year-old plumbing supply company businessman; Sarah Keaton is a poised and beautiful pediatrician. They meet, fall in love and plan to marry — and the unsold series was to relate their courtship, eventual marriage and efforts to make their marriage work. The pilot episode relates Sarah's efforts to convince Harry that, before they marry, they should first live together. Other Regulars: Florence, Harry's mother-in-law; Paul, Harry's son; and Ronnie, Sarah's friend.

Cast: George Kennedy (Harry Walter), Anne Schedeen (Dr. Sarah Keaton), Irene Tedrow (Florence), Bruce Kimmel (Paul Walter), Rick Podell (Ronnie). Guest Cast: Ric Mancini (DeMarco), Maudie Norman (Sarah's nurse), Jan Jordan (Mother), Danny Gellis (Boy).

5757 Never Too Young. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1965–1966). "...We're young but never too young to set this whole world spinning, say you'll be my girl and we'll show the world we're never to young..." Malibu Beach, California, is the setting for a look at the lives of a group of young people as seen through the eyes of Alfie, the owner of the local beach hangout (Alfie's Café).

Cast: David Watson (Alfie), Michael Blodgett (Tad), Robyn Grace (Joy), Tommy Rettig (Jo Jo), Tony Dow (Chet), Cindy Carol (Susan), Pat Connolly (Barbara), Dack Rambo (Tim), Patrice Wymore (Rhoda), Merry Anders (Joyce), John Lupton (Frank). Announcer: Roger Christian.

5758 The New Adam-12. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1989–1990). An updated version of the NBC series Adam-12 (1968–1974) that follows the daily assignments of Matt Doyle and Gus Grant, Los Angeles police officers who are assigned patrol duty in a car whose code is Adam-12.

Times have changed since the original series and stories are bit more violent as Matt and Gus have to deal with a new breed of criminal. Their favorite hangout is a bar-café called Scruffy's.

Cast: Ethan Wayne (Off. Matt Doyle), Peter Parros (Off. Gus Grant), Miguel Fernandez (Sgt. Harry Santos).

5759 The New Addams Family. (Series; Comedy; Fox Family; 1998–2002). A revised version of the 1964–66 ABC series The Addams Family. The Addams are an eccentric family who live in a spooky mansion on Cemetery Ridge. Gomez, a wealthy eccentric, is married to the beautiful, always dressed in black, Morticia. They are the parents of Wednesday and Pugsley. Also living with them is Gomez's brother, Fester (called Uncle Fester), Gomez's Grandmama, Eudora; Lurch, the zombie-like butler; and Thing, a human right hand, the family servant.

Gomez dabbles in the stock market (apparently how he made his money). He is of Spanish ancestry and an excellent swordsman. He and Morticia celebrate Halloween and Bastille Day as major holidays. Morticia makes curses on shooting stars, carves statues out of stone and uses swamp water for cooking.

Eleven-year-old Wednesday and eight-year-old Pugsley attend the Sherman School. Wednesday dresses in black like her mother and appears to have one primary goal in life: kill Pugsley. She considers Pugsley to be "an expendable guinea pig." Pugsley enjoys playing with dynamite caps. Fester is an explosives expert (or so he thinks) and generates his own electricity. He sleeps on a bed of nails and is a member of the Global Mercenaries. Lurch loves to play the piano and responds with "You Rang" when he is summoned.

Stories follow the family as they go about their "normal" daily lives, always trying to figure out why the outside world is so strange and won't accept them as members of society. Based on characters created by Charles Addams.

Cast: Glenn Taranto (Gomez Addams), Ellie Harvie (Morticia Addams), Nicole Fugere (Wednesday Addams), Brody Smith (Pugsley Addams), Michael Roberds (Fester Addams), Betty Phillips (Eudora Addams), John DeSantis (Lurch), Steven Fox (Thing).

5760 The New Adventures of Batman. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1977–1978). A continuation of the live action series Batman with Bruce Wayne, Dick Grayson and Barbara Gordon (alias Batman, Robin the Boy Wonder and Batgirl) upholding the law in Gotham City. Batmite, the mouse, assists them.

Voice Cast: Adam West (Batman), Burt Ward (Robin), Melendy Britt (Batgirl), Lennie Weinrib (Batmite).

5761 The New Adventures of Beans Baxter. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987–1988). Benjamin ("Beans") Baxter is a typically normal 17-year-old boy. He lives in the small town of Witches Creek, Kansas, with his mother, Susan, father, Benjamin, Sr., and younger brother, Scooter. Unknown to the family, Ben Sr. is a courier for the Network, a postal service for the secret agencies of the U.S. government, which is headed by Number One.

When the series begins, Ben Sr. is transferred to Washington, D.C. He and his family take up residence at 1341 Maple Street and Beans enrolls in Georgetown High School. Shortly after, Beans stumbles into his father's secret life (he believes he is a mailman) when he sees him being kidnapped by U.G.L.I. (Underground Government Liberation Inter-group), an evil organization headed by Mr.

Sue. In an attempt to rescue his father, Beans comes in contact with Number One and is recruited by the Network as a spy-courier to help him in his quest to find his missing father (his “new adventures”).

Darla (Kristin Cumming) was Beans’s original girlfriend (in Witches Creek); in Washington, he is pursued by Cake Lase, “the most gorgeous girl on his high school campus.” Beans, however, sees no other girl but Svetlana, a beautiful Soviet defector, when he learns he is going to be working with her. Scooter, “a pint-sized Albert Einstein,” has a pet guinea pig named Alvin.

Relatives: Sarah Sawatsky (Cake’s sister, Cupcake Lase), Lorraine Foreman (Number One’s wife, Mrs. Number One), Shawn Clements (Number One’s son, Little One). Theme: “The New Adventures of Beans Baxter,” by Joseph Birtelli.

Cast: Jonathan Ward (Beans Baxter), Elinor Donahue (Susan Baxter), Scott Bremner (Scooter Baxter), Karen Mistal (Cake Lase), John Vernon (Number One), Kurtwood Smith (Mr. Sue), Shawn Weatherly (Svetlana), Rick Lenz (Ben Baxter, Sr.).

Cast: J. Carrol Naish (Charlie Chan), James Hong (Barry Chan), Rupert Davies (Inspector Duff), Hugh Williams (Inspector Carl Marlowe).

5763 The New Adventures of Gilligan. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1974–1977). A spin-off from Gilligan’s Island that continues to relate the misadventures that befall the shipwrecked survivors of the sightseeing ship S.S. Minnow as they struggle for survival and seek a way off the island. Jonas Grumby is the skipper; Gilligan is his first mate; Ginger Grant is the actress; Mary Ann Summers is the clerk from Kansas; Thurston and Lovey Howell are the millionaires; Roy Hinkley is the Professor.

Voice Cast: Alan Hale, Jr. (The Skipper), Bob Denver (Gilligan), Jane Webb (Ginger Grant), Jim Backus (Thurston Howell), Natalie Schafer (Lovey Howell), Russell Johnson (The Professor), Jane Edwards (Mary Ann Summers).

5764 The New Adventures of He-Man. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1990). An updated version of He-Man and the Masters of the Universe that takes the super warrior away from his home planet of Eternia to battle the evil Skeletor on the planet Primus (where Skeletor has waged a war using the mutants of the planet Denebria, as his army). Skeletor plans to conquer the universe but he faces the opposition of He-Man who, with the Galactic Guardians, attempt to stop him and his mutant army. The Galactic Guardians are Captain Hydron, Lieutenant Flipshot, Drissi (a teenage girl), her brother Caz and Darius, the head of the Galactic Council.

Voice Cast: Gary Chalk (He-Man), Tracy Eisner (Drissi), Mark Hildreth (Caz), Campbell Lane (Skeletor), Scott McNeil (Lt. Flipshot), Don Brown (Capt. Hydron).

5765 The New Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1968–1969). A live action-animated series adapted from the novel The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn by Mark Twain. Pursued by the vengeful Injun Joe, Huckleberry Finn, Becky Thatcher and Tom Sawyer run into a cave where they are engulfed by a raging river and transported to a strange fantasyland that is inhabited by cartoon characters. Stories relate their adventures, pursued by Joe, as they wander through various lands, help people in need, and try to find the way back home to 1845 Hannibal, Missouri. Live action is played against superimposed animated backgrounds.

Cast: Michael Shea (Huckleberry Finn), Lu Ann Haslam (Becky Thatcher), Kevin Schultz (Tom Sawyer), Ted Cassidy (Injun Joe), Anne Bellamy (Tom’s Aunt Polly), Dorothy Tennant (Becky’s mother). Voices: Ted Smith, Ted DeCorsia, Charles Lane, Vic Perrin, Julie Bennett, Paul Frees, Marvin Miller.

5766 The New Adventures of Madeline. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1995). An updated version of Madeline that is still set in France (where Madeline is a student at a school run by Miss Clavel). Here, the school is the same, Madeline is the same, only now she has befriended Pepito, a boy from a nearby school. Stories relate their misadventures “as they trade pranks.”

Voice Cast: Andrea Libman (Madeline), Louise Vallance (Miss Clavel), Louise Vallance (Genevieve), David Morse (Pepito).

5767 The New Adventures of Martin Kane. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1953–1954). A revised version of Martin Kane, Private Eye that transplants private detective Martin Kane from America to Europe. Kane is still as tough as he was in the prior series, and, although he preferred to work alone, he now finds business booming as a consultant (who actively investigates crimes) to various international police departments. Also known as Assignment Danger (its title when first syndicated).

Cast: Mark Stevens (Martin Kane), William Gargan (Martin Kane; later), Brian Reece (Scotland Yard Inspector).

5768 The New Adventures of Mighty Mouse and Heckle and Jeckle. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1979–1982). The overall title for two series. The first, Mighty Mouse, updates the 1940s theatrical cartoon with newly animated segments about Mighty Mouse as he battles the forces of evil. Pearl Pureheart is his girlfriend; Oilcan Harry is the villain.

Heckle and Jeckle, the second series, features newly animated sequences that relate the adventures of the mischievous talking magpies. See also The Mighty Mouse Playhouse and Mighty Mouse: The New Adventures.

Voice Cast: Alan Oppenheimer (Mighty Mouse), Diane Pershing (Pearl Pureheart), Alan Oppenheimer (Oilcan Harry), Frank Welker (Heckle and Jeckle).

5769 The New Adventures of Ocean Girl. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 2000). An animated version of the live action series Ocean Girl (see entry) that changes the original series concept. Here Neri is a princess (daughter of King Nemon) and lives on a planet of water called Oceana. A series of crystal keys is the planet's balance and they are guarded by the sacred whales. Galiel, an evil space wizard, is seeking the crystals to gain absolute power. When Galiel tricks the whales and manages to steal one of the crystals, it upsets the planet's balance and causes it to become totally immersed in water. Stories follow Neri as she embarks on a mission to stop Galiel from acquiring the other crystals and return the crystal he has stolen to save her planet.

Voice Cast: Marnie Reece-Wilmore (Princess Neri), Michael Carman (Galiel), Dennis Pryor (King Nemon), Stephen Whittaker (Moza), Samuel Jackson (Prince Jobah), Gary Files (Zardor), Marg Downey (Elgar), Doug Trimlett (Neanda), Sigrid Thornton (Narrator).

5770 The New Adventures of Old Christine. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2006–). Christine Campbell is the owner of 30 Minutes to Bloom, a female only health spa in Los Angeles. She is divorced (from Richard) and is the mother of eight-year-old Richie, Jr. Christine has custody of Richie and lives with her single brother, Matthew.

Christine has been divorced from Richard for two years (when the series begins) and says "My divorce is better than most people's marriages. We still spend time together as a family." Christine has not dated since the divorce and becomes "the old Christine" when she discovers Richard is dating a younger woman named Christine (who becomes "the new Christine"). Richard claims they are not dating — "We are in love." The situation angers "old" Christine (who still has feelings for Richard) and her adventures as she goes about seeking love are the focal point of the series.

"Old" Christine often leaves messages on her telephone answering service to remind her what has to do for that or the following day. She also thanks herself for the things she does because "Sometimes I'm the only one who is polite to me." Richie, Jr., attends the prestigious Westbridge School.

"New" Christine is pretty and perky and accepts Richard's relationship with "old" Christine ("new" Christine is a receptionist at Schwartz, Loder, Young, Jacob and Weitz). Marly and Lindsay are the two blonde mothers "old" Christine encounters at her son's school; Barb and Pete are a married couple who are also "old" Christine's friends. Barb is later partners with Christine in the spa; Allie is the spa's receptionist.

Cast: Julia Louis-Dreyfus (Christine Campbell), Clark Gregg (Richard Campbell), Trevor Gagnon (Richard Campbell, Jr.), Emily Rutherford ("New" Christine), Tricia O'Kelley (Marly), Alex Kapp (Lindsay), Hamish Linklater (Matthew), Wanda Lewis (Barb), Anthony Holiday (Pete), Amy Farrington (Allie).

5771 The New Adventures of Pinocchio. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1961). Pinocchio is the wooden boy who was brought to life to please Gepetto, the lonely old man who created him. Stories, based on the Italian fairy tale (not so much the Disney movie) follows Pinocchio and he and his friend, Cricket, seek adventure. Other friends are Pedro Pistol, the private detective; Simoro, Pedro's dog; Cool S. Cat, a feline beatnik and the con artist Foxy Q. Fibble. Characters are puppets that are brought to life by a process called Animagic. Arthur Rankin and Jules Bass are the producers.

5772 The New Adventures of Robin Hood. (Series; Adventure; TNT; 1997–1998). An update of the Robin Hood legend that finds the English outlaw hero of Sherwood Forest a bit more daring and a master swordsman (forsaking the customary bow and arrow) to battle for the rights of the common man. His band of outlaws include Little John, Friar Tuck, his mentor Olwyn and his love interest, Lady Marian Fitzwalter; his enemies are Prince John and the Sheriff of Nottingham.

Cast: Matthew Poretta (Robin Hood), John Bradley (Robin Hood; later), Anna Galvin (Marian Fitzwalter), Barbara Griffin (Marian Fitzwalter; later), Richard Ashton (Little John), Martyn Ellis (Friar Tuck), Christopher Lee (Olwyn), Andrew Bicknell (Prince John), Christine Woods (Rowena).

5773 The New Adventures of Spin and Marty. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1958). A second spin off from Spin and Marty (which see, along with The Further Adventures of Spin and Marty). Continued events in the lives of Triple R Ranch campers Spin Evans and Marty Markham. The story concerns the efforts of Spin and Marty to stage a variety show to pay for the damages caused by Marty's Jalopy when it ran into the ranch house. Broadcast as 12 segments of The Mickey Mouse Club.

Jim Logan is the ranch owner; Bill Burnett is the counselor; Ollie is the wrangler; Speckle, Ambitious, Joe, Moochie and George are campers; Annette and Darlene are campers at the all-girl Circle H Ranch.

Cast: Tim Considine (Spin Evans), David Stollery (Marty Markham), Roy Barcroft (Jim Logan), Harry Carey, Jr. (Bill Burnett), Dennis Moore (Ollie), Annette Funicello (Annette), Darlene Gillespie (Darlene), Kevin Corcoran (Moochie O'Hara), Tim Hartnagel (Speckle), Joe Wong (George), Sammy Ogg (Joe), B.G. Norman (Ambitious). Theme Song: "Theme from Spin and Marty" by William Lava.

5774 The New Adventures of Superman. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1966–1967). An animated series that is composed of two segments. The first deals with the crime-fighting adventures of Clark Kent, alias Superman, and reporter Lois Lane (see The Adventures of Superman for background information). The second depicts the adventures of Clark Kent as Superboy (see The Adventures of Superboy for background information).

Voice Cast: Clayton "Bud" Collyer (Superman/Clark Kent), Joan Alexander (Lois Lane), Ted Knight (Editor Perry White), Bob Hastings (Superboy/Clark Kent).

5775 The New Adventures of Winnie the Pooh. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1988–1991). The title refers to new stories based on the characters created by A.A. Milne. The Hundred Acre Woods is the setting for the adventures of a group of close animal friends. Winnie the Pooh is a fun-loving, caring, honey-seeking bear that is always helping others; Tigger is a dim-witted but energetic tiger that loves to bounce on his tail; Piglet is easily frightened. He is a small pig but has big dreams and, despite his small size, hopes to achieve those dreams. Rabbit is the eldest of the animals and also the wisest. His passion is planting vegetable gardens. Eeyore is the slow-talking and slow walking donkey that puts up with his friends antics but would like to find some peace and quiet away from them. Kanga and Roo are mother and son kangaroos; Christopher Robin is the only human character that is fully seen (his mother is seen but not in full figure). Christopher often shares adventures with Pooh and is the only one who knows his animal friends can talk.

Voice Cast: Jim Cummings (Winnie the Pooh), Paul Winchell (Tigger), John Fiedler (Piglet), Ken Sansom (Rabbit), Peter Cullen (Eeyore), Michael Gough (Gopher), Hal Smith (Owl), Tim Hoskins (Christopher Robin), Patricia Parris (Christopher's mother).

5776 The New Adventures of Wonder Woman. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1977–1979). The original 1977–1979 title for the revised version of the 1976 ABC series Wonder Woman. See Wonder Woman (1977) for information.

5777 The New American Bandstand. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1987–1989). A revised version of ABC's Saturday Afternoon 1950s hit American Bandstand that features performances by popular music artists. The program, hosted by the series original host, Dick Clark, features a new segment that spotlights promising comedians.

The program failed to generate the success of the original series.

Host: Dick Clark. American Bandstand Theme: David Russo.

5778 New Amsterdam. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2008). In the 1640s when New York was known as New Amsterdam, John Amsterdam was a soldier in the Dutch army. During a battle with a Native American tribe, John stepped in front of a sword to save the life of a young Indian girl. The girl brought Jack to a place of refuge and saved his life by casting an ancient spell that made him immortal. John will never age and the spell can only be broken (to make him mortal again) when he finds his one true love. The centuries pass and John has devoted his life to upholding the law. It is 2008 when viewers are introduced to John Amsterdam. He lives in Manhattan and is a detective with the N.Y.P.D. John has seen New York grow from its colonial beginnings to its present day metropolis. He and Manhattan are a part of each other and his 400 years of experiences have made him an invaluable addition to the police department. Only one man, Omar, the owner of a jazz club and his life-long friend, knows John's secret. Over the course of time, John has met and known and lost many women — but none have been the one that can change his life.

This happens one day while chasing a suspect and John suffers a heart attack and nearly dies. He realizes that during that pursuit he must have crossed paths with his one true love. He now realizes that his life has changed forever. Stories follow John as he not only upholds the law, but seeks the mysterious woman the Indian girl spoke of in her prophecy. Eva Marquez is John's partner. A writers' strike delayed its fall 2007 premiere.

Cast: Nikolaj Coster Waldau (John Amsterdam), Zuleikhla Robinson (Eva Marquez), Stephen Henderson (Omar), Alexie Gilmore (Dr. Sarah Dillane).

5779 The New Andy Griffith Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1972). Andy Sawyer is a former sheriff and justice of the peace turned the mayor of Greenwood, North Carolina. Andy is married to Lee and they are the parents of Lori and T.J. Andy is a peace loving, easy going, kind hearted politician who wants only the best for his town. He listens to the people's wants and tries to do something about them. Stories relate his simple pleasure and trying times as he deals with the problems of work and family. Nora is Lee's sister; Buff MacKnight is the senior town councilman.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Andy Sawyer), Lee Meriwether (Lee Sawyer), Lori Ann Rutherford (Lori Sawyer), Marty McCall (T.J. Sawyer), Ann Morgan Guilbert (Nora), Glen Ash (Buff MacKnight), Ruth McDevitt (Mrs. Gossage).

5780 The New Archies. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1987). An updated version of The Archie Show that presents junior high school versions of Archie Andrews and his friends Veronica Lodge, Betty Cooper, Jughead Jones, Big Ethel and Big Moose. The town of Riverdale is the setting. Miss Grundy is still the teacher and sight gags are still used to complicate their lives as adolescents.

Voice Cast: J. Michael Roncetti (Archie Andrews), Alyson Court (Veronica Lodge), Sunny Besen Thrasher (Veronica Lodge; later), Lisa Coristine (Betty Cooper), Michael Fantini (Jughead Jones), Victor Erdos (Big Moose), Jazzmin Lausanne (Big Ethel), Linda Sorenson (Miss Grundy).

5781 New Attitude. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1990). Beauticians Vicki St. James and her younger sister, Yvonne St. James, own New Attitude, a beauty salon located at 41 South La Brea in Los Angeles. Vicki, the prettier sister, is also the smarter one; she is seeking Mr. Right and wants to settle down. Yvonne, who attended Carver High School (as did Vicki), looks to Vicki for guidance. While not exactly a flake, she seems to have a knack for complicating everything she does.

Selena's Hair Affair, located at 44 South La Brea is New Attitude's main competition. Lamaar is Vicki's hairstylist and runs the "Hair by Lamaar" corner of New Attitude. Audrey Laker is the manicurist; Taylor is the assistant who is hoping to pass her beautician's test (which, as of 9/2/90, she had failed 12 times); Leon is Vicki's landlord. Sheryl Lee Ralph sings the theme, "New Attitude."

Cast: Sheryl Lee Ralph (Vicki St. James), Phyllis Yvonne Stickney (Yvonne St. James), Jemma Jones (Selma), Morris Day (Lamaar), Karen Bankhead (Audrey Laker), Larenz Tate (Taylor), Earl Billings (Leon), Jemma Jones (Selena).

5782 The New Avengers. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1978–1979). An update of The Avengers that continues the British government's battle against diabolical villains as seen through the assignments of John Steed, the Ministry's top agent, and his partners, Purdy and Mike Gambit.

The dashing and debonair John Steed is basically the same character as in the prior series. He believes that Britain rules and has sworn to defend her against all her enemies. While he still lives at 3 Stable Mews in London, he also owns a country estate called Steed's Stud (where he entertains the ladies and breeds horses. It also serves as his headquarters for issuing orders to agents). Steed is still a master of Old World charm and courtesy, still carries his sword-in-the-handle umbrella, and still wears bowler hats (which have been lined with metal). Steed, Purdy and Gambit work well as a team because they have mutual respect for each other.

Purdy, named after the most respected and expensive shotgun in the world, was born in India. Because her father, a Brigadier in the British army, was constantly on the move, Purdy had an international education and attended such private schools as La Sorbonne and Roedean. She studied dance and eventually became a professional ballerina. After her father's death (shot as a spy after joining the Secret Service), Purdy became a Ministry agent. She is well versed in the martial arts, especially the French technique called Panach (fighting with the feet). She is an expert on firearms and is capable of driving any car (she has her own TR7 sports car). Purdy lives in a basement flat in London that is decorated in the Art Deco style.

Mike Gambit has a long and distinguished military background. He spent time in the British army (Parachute Regiment) and was later with the Special Air Services. He acquired knowledge of guerrilla warfare when he worked as a mercenary in Africa and the Middle East. He also wrestled crocodiles in the Congo and became a professional race car driver before becoming a Ministry agent. Laurie Johnson composed "The New Avengers Theme."

Cast: Patrick Macnee (John Steed), Joanna Lumley (Purdy), Gareth Hunt (Mike Gambit).

5783 The New Batman/Superman Adventures. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 1997). A series that combines segments of Batman Gotham Knights with repeat segments of Batman: The Animated Series and the 1996 animated version of Superman. See these titles for information.

5784 The New Bill Cosby Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1972–1973). Various songs, dances and comedy sketches that depict the world as seen through the eyes of comedian Bill Cosby. George Schlatter is the producer.

Host: Bill Cosby. Regulars: Susan Tolsky, Lola Falana, Foster Brooks, Oscar DeGruy, Erin Fleming, The Donald McKayle Dancers. Announcer: Lola Falana. Orchestra: Quincy Jones, Bobby Bryant.

5785 The New Bob Cummings Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1961–1962). Bob Carson is a freelance pilot based in Palm Springs, California who is not only a ladies' man but also a man who will go out of his way to help people (he thinks) are in trouble (especially beautiful women). Bob also has numerous monetary problems and stories follow Bob as he struggles to cope with the various, aggravating situations that confront him every day. Lionel is Bob's sidekick and Henrietta Gregory, a very pretty teenage girl who is part tomboy and called "Hank" is Bob's neighbor. Bob owns the never marketed Aero Car (a car that could be converted into a plane in ten minutes. Its inventor could never get it mass-produced and Bob flew the prototype model; it was slated to sell for $13,000, a considerably large sum for 1961).

Cast: Bob Cummings (Bob Carson), Murvyn Vye (Lionel), Roberta Shore (Henrietta "Hank" Gregory).

5786 The New Breed. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1961–1962). The Metropolitan Squad is an elite team of Los Angeles Police Department detectives assigned to battle organized crime. Price Adams is its leader. He is a man who believes the experimental squad is the city's best defense against the new breed of criminals (he feels that the police must be as clever — and deceiving as the criminals they are pursuing). A veteran of the force, Price also believes in caution and working within the limits of the law. Vince Cavelli, Joe Huddleston and Peter Garcia are his featured team; Keith Gregory is their captain.

Cast: Leslie Nielsen (Lt. Price Adams), John Berardino (Sgt. Vince Cavelli), Byron Morrow (Capt. Keith Gregory), John Clark (Off. Joe Huddleston), Greg Roman (Off. Pete Garcia).

5787 The New Card Sharks. (Series; Game; CBS; 1986). A revised version of Card Sharks. A question, based on a survey of 100 people, is stated. The player (two compete) who comes closest to predicting the number of people who said yes, plays high-low card. The first card of five playing cards is shown. The player has to predict whether the next card will be higher or lower. The first player to correctly predict his line of cards is the winner.

Host: Bob Eubanks. Card Dealers: Susanna Williams, Lacey Pemberton. Announcer: Gene Wood.

5788 The New Christy Minstrels Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1964). A summer program of music and songs starring the singing group the New Christy Minstrels. The series ran from August 6, 1964 to September 3, 1964. Gary Smith and Dwight Hemion are the producers.

The New Christy Minstrels: Ann White, Paul Potash, Barry Kane, Karen Gunderson, Barry McGuire, Clarence Treat, Larry Romos. Regulars: The Chuck Cassey Singers, The Doerr-Hutchinson Dancers. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

5789 New Comedy Showcase. (Pilot; CBS; 8/1/60 to 9/19/60). The overall title for a series of seven unsold pilot films. See the following titles for information: Johnny Come Lately, Maggie, Maisie, Slezak and Son, They Went Thataway, You're Only Young Once and You're Only Young Twice.

5790 The New Dating Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1986). A revised version of The Dating Game that also features a TV rarity, a beautiful female host. The format calls for a young woman to question three bachelors and choose the one she would like to have as her date. The game is also played in reverse.

Hostess: Elaine Joyce. Announcer: Bob Hilton.

5791 The New Daughters of Joshua Cabe. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 5/29/76). The third of three unrealized series attempts about Joshua Cabe, a fur trapper who passes off three shady ladies as his daughters (see also The Daughters of Joshua Cabe and The Daughters of Joshua Cabe Return). The story focuses on an elaborate plan by Bitterroot, Cabe's friend, and Charity, Ada and Mae, Joshua's three daughters, to clear Cabe of a murder charge for which he was unjustly accused — and save him from the hangman's noose.

Cast: John McIntire (Joshua Cabe), Jack Elam (Bitterroot), Liberty Williams (Charity), Renne Jarrett (Ada), Lezlie Dalton (Mae). Guest Cast: Jeanette Nolan (Essie Cargo), John Dehner (Warden Mannering), Geoffrey Lewis (Dutton), Sean McClory (Codge Collier), Joel Fabiani (Matt Coble), Ford Rainey (Judge), Randall Carver (Billy Linaker).

5792 A New Day. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). The Watsons are a suburban, white middle-class family of five. Cathy, the mother, is a social worker with a heart of gold who dramatically changes her family when she brings home Demond Carter, a black teen who has a tough inner-city background. Cathy sees untapped potential in Demond, who has exhausted all his foster care possibilities. She feels his presence will broaden the perspective of her three pretty, self-involved daughters (Lori, Julie and Tammy) and provide for her husband (Kevin) the son he never had. The unsold series was to follow events in the lives of the Watsons as they unofficially adopt a new member.

Cast: Cindy Williams (Cathy Watson), Richard Gilliland (Kevin Watson), Lackey Bevis (Lori Watson), Megan Parlen (Julie Watson), Ashleigh Blair Sterling (Tammy Watson), Merlin Santana (Demond Carter).

5793 The New Dick Van Dyke Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1971–1974). Richard ("Dick") Preston, his wife, Jennifer ("Jenny") Presto, and their children, Annie and Lucas, reside in a ranch-style house on Hayes Creek Road in Carefree, Arizona. Dick is the host of The Dick Preston Show, a 90 minute talk-variety program that is produced by KXIU-TV, Channel 2, in Phoenix (the station is owned by the Compton Broadcasting Company).

Michelle ("Mike") Preston is Dick's sister, booking agent and secretary at Channel 2; Bernard ("Bernie") Davis is Dick's agent and business manager; and Carol Davis is Bernie's wife.

Annie Preston is nine years old and attends Camelback Grammar School. She did a television commercial with Dick for a product called Cicely's Instant Oatmeal. Dick calls Annie "Pumpkin," and Bernie's affectionate name for her is "Sweetness."

Lucas Preston is 16 years old. He attends an unnamed high school, presumably, that is some distance from his home (he lives on campus). He is a young Romeo and seems to have a never-ending supply of girlfriends.

Dick and Jenny also have an infant son named Chris (Tiffany Graff). Before the birth of the baby (Jenny became pregnant while she was secretary of the Planned Parenthood Association), their working name for it was Florence Scruffarini. Dick closes his show with "Bye, have a nice rest of the day." His mother hates his show, and Dick buys his clothes at Mr. Mens. The family cat is Mr. Rosenbloom (named after Annie's music teacher).

Mabel Albertson played Dick's mother, Marge Preston; Carl Reiner's voice was heard as that of the studio director; and Dick's real life children, Barry and Stacy Van Dyke, played various roles.

In 1973 the series switched locales (to California) when Dick quit his local talk show to play Dr. Brad Fairmont on the television soap opera Those Who Care. Hope Lange and Angela Powell continued their roles as Jenny and Annie Preston. They now live in Tarzana at 747 Bonnie Vista Road. New to the cast were Max Mathias, the show's producer; Alex Montez, the director; and Dennis Whitehead, the show's writer.

Richard Richardson is Dick's neighbor, an actor who stars in the television series Harrigan's Hooligans; Connie Richardson is Richard's wife; and Margot Brighton is the star of Those Who Care (she plays Dr. Susan Allison, Brad's supervisor at Pleasant Valley Hospital). Theme: "The New Dick Van Dyke Show Theme," by Jack Elliott and Allyn Ferguson.

5794 The New Dragnet. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1989–1990). An updated version of the 1951 series Dragnet. Los Angeles, California, is the setting and stories follow the day-to-day grueling assignments of Vic Daniels and Carl Melina, detectives with the West L.A. Police Department. Vic and Carl are partners whose case investigations are profiled on a weekly basis. Stories, while not as dramatic as those presented on the original series, are based on true events (with only the names and places changed "to protect the innocent"). Vic and Carl were good at their job, but not as persistent and determined as Jack Webb's Joe Friday character (nor as droll and somber). Here Vic and Carl had equal rankings; on the original series, Joe was a sergeant and outranked his partners. Bill Fulton composed "The New Dragnet Theme."

Cast: Jeff Osterhage (Det. Vic Daniels), Bernard White (Carl Melina), Don Stroud (Captain Lussen), Thalmus Rasulala (Captain Bolz).

5795 The New Ernie Kovacs Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1961–1962). Sketches and blackouts that satirize life. See also The Ernie Kovacs Show, It's Time for Ernie, Kovacs on the Corner and Kovacs Unlimited. Ernie Kovacs is the producer.

Host: Ernie Kovacs. Regulars: Jolene Brand, Maggi Brown, Bobby Laugher, Joe Mikalos, Leonard Allstar, Alice Novice, Francis McHale, Bob Warren. Orchestra: Harry Geller.

5796 The New Fred and Barney Show. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1979). A spin-off from The Flintstones that presents newly animated events in the lives of Fred and Wilma Flintstone and their neighbors Barney and Betty Rubble, residents of the stone age town of Bedrock. Pebbles is Fred and Wilma's daughter; Bamm Bamm is Barney and Betty's adopted son. George Slate is Fred and Barney's boss (at the Slaterock Gravel Company); Dino is the Flintstone pet dinosaur.

Voice Cast: Henry Corden (Fred Flintstone), Jean VanderPyl (Wilma Flintstone), Mel Blanc (Barney Rubble), Janet Waldo (Betty Rubble), Jean VanderPyl (Pebbles Flintstone), Don Messick (Bamm Bamm Rubble), John Stephenson (George Slate), Don Messick (Dino).

5797 The New Ghost Writer Mysteries. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1997–1998). Camela Gorrick, Emily Robson and Henry Strickland are eighth graders at Jesse Owens Junior High School in the Fort Greene section of Brooklyn, New York. While they appear to be ordinary 13 year olds, they are actually amateur detectives who solve crimes in and around their school. What makes this trio so unusual is that they receive help from Ghost Writer, a silver (sometimes gold) entity that fights for right.

Ghost Writer appears as a round, glowing object that can only be seen by Camela, Emily and Henry. Although the series is an update of Ghost Writer (see entry), it is not explained what Ghost Writer is or how it attached itself to the teenagers. Ghost Writer cannot speak. It communicates through words and has the ability to rearrange any printed matter to get its message to Camela, Emily and Henry. They, in turn, can communicate with Ghost Writer by writing their instructions on a piece of paper or typing it into a computer. Ghost Writer reads the message (seen in a glowing light) then does what it is asked (usually to investigate as Ghost Writer can get into places no one else can — like computer circuits, inside sealed envelopes).

Once the Ghost Writer Team (as they call themselves) have the facts they proceed to investigate and eventually solve crimes. When writing to Ghost Writer, the team uses its nickname, G.W.

Camela, called Cam, lives at 207 Fulton Street. She is an amateur photographer and loves sports (she is a member of the school's volleyball team; her mother, a lawyer, was a star sprinter on her high school track team). Cam is fashion conscious and buys knockoffs of designer labels at Clothes World.

Emily, called Em, lives in a brownstone at 61 Bridge Street. She is the daughter of a district attorney and a reporter for the school's newspaper, The Ratler. While Em is not as fashion crazy as Cam, she accompanies Cam on her shopping sprees to get her mind off her problems.

Henry, called Strick, lives in a cluttered, basement-like area he calls "The Batcave." Strick was a troubled kid and served time in Juvenile Hall (for what is not stated). He appears to have good grades and helps Cam and Em as an unofficial member of the school paper (Cam appears to be the paper's photographer in some episodes while in others she just seems to be helping Em get the facts for stories).

Cast: Charlotte Sullivan (Camela Gorrick), Erica Luttrell (Emily Robson), Kristian Ayre (Henry Strickland).

5798 The New Gidget. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986–1988). An update of the 1965 Gidget series. The home at 656 Glendale Avenue in Los Angeles is owned by Frances and Jeff Griffin, a young married couple who met as teenagers on Malibu Beach — when Jeff was a surfer called "Moondoggie" and Frances was nicknamed "Gidget" ("a girl who is not a giant or a midget — a Gidget"). Gidget now owns her own business (Gidget Travel) and Jeff is a city planner.

Gidget and Jeff attended Westside High School. Jeff was taught to surf by the Great Kahuna (Don Stroud), a legendary surfer. Jeff was originally a construction worker for the Bedford Construction Company.

Danielle ("Danni") Collins is Gidget's pretty niece (the daughter of her unseen sister, Anne). Danni is temporarily living with Gidget and Jeff while her parents are away on business. Gidget and Jeff are new to being parents "and we make it up as we go along in raising Danni." Danni is tall, slender and very attractive, and she inherited Gidget's love for surfing. She and her friend, Gail Baker, attend Westside High School and listen to radio station K-GOLD. Like Gidget, Danni's favorite hangout is Malibu Beach. Danni calls Gidget "Aunt Gidget" and has a 9:00 P.M. curfew on school nights. She carries her Uncle Jeff's credit card "for emergency use only."

Gidget's father, Russell ("Russ") Lawrence, is now retired (he was an English professor at UCLA) and assists Gidget at the travel agency (as does her long-time friend, Larue).

In the original pilot film, Gidget's Summer Re- union, Allison Barron was Gidget's niece, Kim; William Schallert was Gidget's father, Russ Hoover; and Anne Lockhart played Gidget's friend, Larue.

Relatives: J. Michael Flynn (Danni's father, John Collins), R.J. Williams (Jeff's nephew, Dennis). Flashbacks: Shiri Appleby (Gidget as a girl), Bridget Hoffman (Gidget's mother).

Cast: Caryn Richman (Gidget Griffin), Dean Butler (Jeff Griffin), Sydney Penny (Danni Collins), William Schallert (Russ Lawrence), Lili Haydn (Gail Baker), Jill Jacobson (Larue Powell). Theme: "One in a Million" by Jeff Vilinsky, Craig Snyder, Marek Norman.

5799 A New Girl in His Life. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/26/57). The pilot film for Bachelor Father about Bentley Gregg, a confirmed young bachelor whose carefree lifestyle suddenly changes when he becomes the guardian of his niece, Kelly, following the death of her parents in an automobile accident. In the pilot episode, Bentley attempts to help Kelly pick out a formal gown when she is invited to her first high school dance. Other Regulars: Peter, Bentley's houseboy; and Vickey, Bentley's secretary (he is a lawyer). Broadcast as a segment of The General Electric Theater (the proposed series title at the time was Uncle Bentley).

Cast: John Forsythe (Bentley Gregg), Noreen Corcoran (Kelly Gregg), Sammee Tong (Peter Tong), J.D. Thompson (Vickey). Guest Cast: Patricia Morrow (Nancy), Barbara Darrow (Rita), Frank Cady, Frank Gorshin, Joyce Meadows.

5800 The New Healers. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 3/27/72). Calvin Briggs and Jimmy Martin are ex-Vietnam medics who team with an ex-nurse (Michelle Johnson) to help an aging physician (Dr. Simmons) care for the people of Hope, a rural community in California. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to help people who are distrustful of young doctors.

Cast: Robert Foxworth (Calvin Briggs), Kate Jackson (Michelle Johnson), Jonathan Lippe (Jimmy Martin), Burgess Meredith (Dr. Simmons). Guest Cast: Leif Erickson (Dr. Victor Briggs), William Windom (Mr. Farrigan), Karl Swenson (Mr. Fisherman), Susan Moffat (Terri), Barbara Baldavin (Mrs. Spencer), William Bryant (Mr. McDermott).

5801 The New Hollywood Squares. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1986). A revised version of The Hollywood Squares. Nine celebrity guests appear and are situated in a large tic tac toe board. A celebrity, chosen by a player (two compete — Player X and Player O) is asked a question. The player either agrees or disagrees with the celebrity's answer. A correct guess wins the player the square. The first player to score three squares in a row wins the game and cash.

Host: John Davidson. Announcer: Shadoc Stevens.

5802 The New Howdy Doody Show. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1976). An updated version of Howdy Doody, the NBC 1947–1960 series about the puppet Howdy Doody and his friend, Buffalo Bob Smith, and their efforts to run a circus in Doo-dyville. The new version follows the basic format of the original series with songs, stories and sketches geared to children. Clarabell Hornblow is the circus clown (honks a yes or no horn instead of speaking); Happy Harmony is the schoolteacher; Cornelius Cobb is the prop man; Nicholson Muir is the producer; Jackie is the singer; Phineas T. Bluster (puppet) is the mean old man who is opposed to Howdy and his circus; Fletcher is the sketcher.

5803 The New Jetsons. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). An update of the 1960s series The Jetsons which continues to depict events in the lives of the futuristic (21st century) Jetson family: George, his wife, Jane and their children Judy and Elroy.

Voices: Mel Blanc, Susan Blu, Earl Boen, Foster Brooks, Daws Butler, Ruth Buzzi, Victoria Carroll, Didi Conn, Henry Corden, Peter Cullen, Julie Dees, Jerry Dexter, Selma Diamond, June Foray, Joan Gardner, Ken Mars, Howard Morris, Don Messick, Tim Rooney, Penny Singleton, Avery Schreiber, Fred Travalena, Paul Winchell, William Windom.

Voice Cast: Matt E. Mixer (Jonathan Knight), Scott Menville (Joe McIntyre), David Coburn (Donnie Wahlberg), Brian Stokes Mitchell (Danny Wood), Dave Fennoy (Dick Scott), J.D. Hall (Bizcut), Patricia Alice Albrecht, Leslie Speights.

5805 A New Kind of Family. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1979–1980). The story of two families, the Flanagans and the Stones (later dropped in favor of the Ashtons), and the problems that arise when both families agree to share the same rented house at 1836 Loma Linda Drive in Los Angeles.

Kit Flanagan is a widow and the mother of Hilary,

Tony and Andy. Abby Stone is a divorcee and the mother of Jill. Jessica Ashton, is a divorcee who runs the Elegant Eats Catering company; she has a daughter named Jo Jo. Harold Zimmerman is their landlord; Michael Jansen is Kit's romantic interest; Carl Ashton is Jessica's ex-husband. Harold is the host of a TV show called The Homemaker's Midday Matinee; Kit has a dog named Heinz.

Cast: Eileen Brennan (Kit Flanagan), Lauri Hendler (Hilary Flanagan), Rob Lowe (Tony Flanagan), David Hollander (Andy Flanagan), Gwynne Gilford (Abby Stone), Connie Hearn (Jill Stone), Telma Hopkins (Jessica Ashton), Janet Jackson (Jo Jo Anderson), Chuck McCann (Harold Zimmerman), Robert Hogan (Michael Jansen), Scoey Mitchell (Carl Ashton).

5806 The New Land. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1974). Minnesota in 1858 is the setting and stories follow the life and struggles of the Larsen family, Scandinavian immigrants, as they seek to build a new life for themselves.

Christian Larsen is the father; he is married to Ann and they are the parents of Tuliff and Annaliase. Bo Larsen is Christian's brother; Lars and Molly Lundstrom are their neighbors; Rhodie is Lars and Molly's daughter; Mr. Murdock is their friend. The series ran for four episodes (September 14, 1974 to October 19, 1974).

Cast: Scott Thomas (Christian Larsen), Bonnie Bedelia (Ann Larsen), Todd Lookinland (Tuliff Larsen), Debbie Lytton (Annaliase Larsen), Kurt Russell (Bo Larsen), Donald Moffat (Lars Lundstrom), Gwen Arner (Molly Lundstrom), Stephanie Steele (Rhodie Lundstrom), Lou Frizzell (Mr. Murdock).

5807 The New Lassie. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1989–1991). Glen Ridge is a small town in California. At 415 Latimor Road live the McCullochs: parents Dee and Chris, their children, Megan and Will, and their dog, Lassie, a descendant of television's original 1954 Lassie, who became a part of the family (1986) when Chris rescued her from a car wreck and named her (a puppy at the time) Lassie.

Chris is self-employed and runs the McCulloch Construction Company. He has Scottish ancestors, and he and the family are members of the Highlands Lodge, a brotherhood of the McCulloch and McPhearson families (who purchased land in California over 100 years ago). Dee works at the Willingham Pet Adoption Center and did a television commercial with her family for Williams Flea Free Stay Free pet beds. When the pet agency closed, Dee acquired a job as a placement officer at the Glen Ridge Employment Agency.

Megan attended Glen Ridge Elementary (first season), then Glen Ridge High. She is a cheerleader (for the Gophers football team) and worked after school with her mother at the pet adoption center.

Megan is a budding photographer and has a plush stuffed rabbit named Gabby. Her girlfriend (second season) is Tracy Edmonston. (In one episode, Megan mentioned attending Madison High School.)

Will, the youngest McCulloch, attends Glen Ridge Elementary School (first season) and the Evergreen School (second season). He has a lucky baseball catcher's mitt he calls "Trapper," and his first crush was on a tomboyish girl named Frankie Warren (Debbie Slaboda). Megan and Will's after school hangout is Dominick's Burger Palace.

Steve, a freelance writer and member of the Glen Ridge Hang Gliders Society, is Chris's adopted brother. Steve is actually Timmy Martin, the second owner of Lassie (Timmy and Lassie, 1957–64. In this series, Timmy was the adopted son of Paul and Ruth Martin and lived on a farm in Calverton). In the episode "Roots" (11/89) it is learned that 25 years ago young Timmy was taken away from his foster parents. Later, Timmy began using his middle name of Steve and was adopted by the McCulloch family. In 1989 Ruth Martin-Chadwick (June Lockhart), Timmy's first adoptive mother (now remarried) tracks Chris down to reclaim her dog — the puppy Chris rescued from the car wreck. Ruth is unaware that Timmy is now Steve or part of a new family. It is a bittersweet reunion — Timmy blames Ruth for abandoning him — until Ruth explains that she fought tooth and nail to get him back but couldn't. When Ruth sees how much Will and Lassie love each other, she allows the McCullochs to keep Lassie.

In the episode of 11/25/90 Tommy Rettig, Lassie's original owner (1954–57), appeared as Professor Jeff Miller and was reunited with Jon Provost when Steve and Will bring Lassie to the university for an experimental project involving dogs and computers.

Roddy McDowall appeared in several episodes as Andrew Leeds, a famous writer and friend of the McCullochs; in first season episodes, a stray cat named Sam frequented the McCullochs' house for food. Theme: "The New Lassie Theme," by Al Burton and Timothy Thompson; whistle by Les Baxter.

Cast: Dee Wallace Stone (Dee McCulloch), Christopher Stone (Chris McCulloch), Wendy Cox (Megan McCulloch), Will Niper (Will McCulloch), Jon Provost (Steve McCulloch), Jodi Peterson (Tracy Edmonston).

5808 The New Leave It to Beaver. (Series; Comedy; TBS; 1986–1989). An updated version of Leave It to Beaver that continues to depict events in the lives of the Cleaver family. June is now a widow and a member of the Mayfield City Council. She lives in the original series house at 211 Pine Street with her younger son, Theodore ("Beaver") Cleaver, and his two sons, Kip and Ollie; Beaver is divorced from Kimberly. Kip attends Mayfield High School, and Oliver, the Grant Avenue School. Beaver is now partners with Clarence ("Lumpy") Rutherford in the Cleaver and Rutherford Company (exactly what they do is not revealed). Lumpy is now married and the father of a daughter (J.J.).

Wally, June's older son, is an attorney and lives at 213 Pine Street. He is married to Mary Ellen, and they have a daughter named Kelly. Mary Ellen was Wally's high school sweetheart (played in the original series by Pamela Beaird); Kelly attends the Grant Avenue Grammar School and is a member of the Junior Chipmunks. She is also part of the Mayfield Youth soccer team and the Soda Shop is her favorite after school hangout. Oliver, called "Ollie" by Beaver, has a pet dove named Wilma, hangs out with Kelly and his first job was attendant at Vince's Full Service gas station.

Eddie Haskell is now married to Gert and is the father of two boys, Freddie and Bomber. He is still the same wisecracking character he was in the 1960s. Eddie, who still watches "Woody Woodpecker" cartoons on television, owns the rather poorly run Eddie Haskell Construction Company. Beer and pop tarts is Eddie's favorite breakfast, and chocolate pudding is his favorite dessert. Freddie (who takes after Eddie), attends Mayfield High School. Bomber (also mischievous) is enrolled at the Vicksburg Military School. Theme: "The Toy Parade" (new adaptation by Cabo Frio).

Cast: Barbara Billingsley (June Cleaver), Tony Dow (Wally Cleaver), Jerry Mathers (Beaver Cleaver), Ken Osmond (Eddie Haskell), Janice Kent (Mary Ellen Cleaver), Kaleena Kiff (Kelly Cleaver), John Snee (Oliver Cleaver), Kipp Marcus (Kip Cleaver), Ellen Maxted (Gert Haskell), Eric Osmond (Freddie Haskell), Christian Osmond (Bomber Haskell), Frank Bank (Lumpy Rutherford), Keri Houlihan (J.J. Rutherford), Joanna Gleason (Kimberly Cleaver).

5809 The New Liar's Club. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). A revised version of The Liar's Club. Four players sit opposite a panel of four celebrity "liars." Each celebrity describes a real but unusual item. Three descriptions are false; one is true. Players have to determine which celebrity is telling the truth. The player with the most points (correct guesses) is the winner.

Host: Eric Boardman.

5810 The New Lorenzo Music Show. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/10/76). A satirical behind-the-scenes look at a television talk-variety show as seen through the experiences of Lorenzo Music, the nervous, anxiety-ridden host, and his wife, Henrietta, the relaxed and poised co-host. The pilot led to the syndicated (9/76) The Lorenzo and Henrietta Music Show which featured the real-life husband and wife team co-hosting a talk-variety series.

Cast: Lorenzo Music (Himself), Henrietta Music (Herself). Guests: Steve Anderson, Lewis Arquette, Jack Eagle, Roz Kelly, David Ogden Stiers.

5811 The New Loretta Young Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1962–1963). Christine Massey is a beautiful, charming and sophisticated woman who lives in a conservative neighborhood at 7816 Willow Road in the small town of Ellendale, Connecticut. Christine is a widow and the mother of seven children (Vickie, Maria, Marnie, Judy, Binkie and twins Dack and Dirk). She moved to Ellendale 14 years ago to raise her children away from the congestion of a big city. She earns a living as a children's storybook writer. Hoping to secure a position as a writer for Manhattan magazine, Christine submits a story idea. She is granted an interview and meets with its editor, Paul Belzer, in Manhattan. Paul likes her style and is willing to hire her if she will upgrade her writing to accommodate the sophisticated publication. Her decision to comply prompts him to request her presence at dinner to discuss matters. She accepts and stories, which are presented in a serial-like format, depict their courtship, their marriage and their establishing a home in Connecticut. Following their marriage, stories focus on the trails and tribulation of the nine-member Massey-Belzer family. The series is called "New" because it is a departure from Loretta's prior anthology series, A Letter to Loretta and The Loretta Young Show.

Cast: Loretta Young (Christine Massey), James Philbrook (Paul Belzer), Beverly Washburn (Vickie Massey), Tracy Stafford (Maria Massey), Celia Kaye (Marnie Massey), Sandy Descher (Judy Massey), Dack Rambo (Dack Massey), Dirk Rambo (Dirk Massey), Carol Sydes (Binkie Massey), Leif Erickson (Bascombe Beebee), Regina Gleason (Rain Beebee), Hope Summers (Mrs. Teasdale).

5812 The New, Love American Style. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1985–1986). A daily series of comedy vignettes that tackle the ups and downs of love, marriage and divorce. Stories are interspersed with blackouts (performed by a regular cast; guests appear in the actual stories). The series, a revised version of Love, American Style, ran from December 23, 1985 to August 15, 1986.

Blackout Regulars: Marcia Wallace, Damita Jo Freeman, Norm Crosby, Amy Yasbeck, Barry Pearl, Arsenio Hall. Theme Vocal: "Love, American Style" by Lou Rawls.

5813 The New Maverick. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 9/3/78). A revised version of Maverick and the pilot for Young Maverick. Maverick dealt with the less than honorable intentions of brothers Bret and Bart Maverick (and later cousin Beau) as gamblers seeking rich prey. The new Maverick is Ben, the young, eager and more honorable but inexperienced son of Beau. In the pilot film, Ben teams with Bret and Bart for a series of comic adventures involving a corrupt judge, a lady gambler and a feisty young farm girl.

5814 The New Mickey Mouse Club. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1977). An updated version of The Mickey Mouse Club that features twelve new Mouseketeers in songs and dances and an array of never-before televised Disney cartoons and films. The animated Mickey Mouse is the series host; Jiminy Crickett assists him.

The show's daily themes were "Who, What, Why, Where, When and How" (Monday), "Let's Go Day" (Tuesday), "Surprise Day" (Wednesday), "Discovery Day" (Thursday) and "Showtime Day" (Friday).

The daily serial, The Mystery of Rustler's Cove was presented. Patty, Stewie, Chris and Bobby are children attending the Circle B Ranch. During a field trip they stumble upon a group of rustlers near a cave at Apache Cliff. Stories follow their efforts to help authorities capture the rustlers.

Mouseketeers: Lisa Whelchel, Kelly Parsons, Julie Piekarski, Mindy Feldman, Nita DiGiampaolo, Curtis Wong, Shawnte Northcutte, Allison Fonte, Todd Turquand, Angel Florez, William Atmore, Scott Craig. Voice of Mickey Mouse: Wayne Allwine, Cliff Edwards. Serial Cast: Kim Richards (Patty Bell), Robbie Rist (Stuart "Stewie" Withers), Christian Juttner (Chris Hollister), Bobby Rolfson (Doug Withers), Tony Becker (Brett Bell), Lou Frizzell (Buzz), Bing Russell (Waco), Dennis Fimple (Charlie), Pete RenouDET (Bill Logan), Bill Zuckert (Will the Cook).

5815 The New Mike Hammer. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1986–1987). A revised version of the 1984 CBS series Mike Hammer that continues to relate the cases of Mike Hammer, the tough private detective working out of New York City who dishes out his own brand of justice to law breakers. Based on the character created by Mickey Spillane. Velda is Mike's secretary; Pat Chambers is the Homicide Captain; Lawrence Barrington is the D.A.; Ozzie the Answer is Mike's information man; and The Face is the girl who tails Mike for research for her "Nick Steele" mystery novels. See The Return of Mike Hammer for information on the series pilot film.

5816 The New Monkees. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987). An updated version of the 1966 cult series The Monkees that failed to generate the success of the original series. The new program relates the misadventures of a rock group called the New Monkees (Marty, Dino, Larry and Jared) who live in a very large and bizarre mansion. Each episode features two music videos and a new mishap for the group to encounter. Manfred is their butler; Rita is the café waitress; Helen is the group's computer.

Cast: Marty Ross (Marty), Dina Kovacs (Dino), Larry Saltis (Larry), Jared Chandler (Jared), Gordon Oas-Heim (Manfred), Liz Godfrey (Helen's voice), Bess Motta (Rita).

5817 The New Newlywed Game. (Pilot; Game; ABC; 1984). A five episode test (February 13 to February 17, 1984) for a new daily version of The Newlywed Game. Four recent newlywed couples compete. The husbands appear on stage; their wives are isolated backstage in a soundproof room. Each husband is asked four questions relating to their marriage. The wives are brought on stage and asked the same questions. Points are scored if the wife matches her husband's answer. Round two reverses round one. The winner, the highest scoring couple, receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Jim Lange.

5818 The New Newlywed Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1985). An updated version of The Newlywed Game that began as a five episode pilot a year earlier. See the prior title for information and format.

Host: Bob Eubanks. Announcer: Bob Hilton.

5819 The New Odd Couple. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1982). A revised version of The Odd Couple featuring African Americans in the lead roles. The series, based on the play by Neil Simon, follows the lives of photographer Felix Unger, a perfectionist, and his roommate, sports writer Oscar Madison, a slob, as they struggle to live together despite their totally different life styles. Oscar and Felix share a Manhattan apartment; Oscar is a sportswriter for The New York Herald.

Most episodes are just recast versions of original Odd Couple scripts. Other Regulars: Mira, Oscar's secretary; Cecily and Gwendolyn Pigeon, Oscar and Felix's neighbors; Murray Greschner, the cop; Frances Unger, Felix's ex-wife; Roy, Vinnie and Speed, Oscar's poker-playing pals; Henry and Vivian, members of Felix's theater group; Barney, the pool hall owner.

Cast: Ron Glass (Felix Unger), Demond Wilson (Oscar Madison), Liz Torres (Mira), Sheila Anderson (Cecily Pigeon), Ronald Douglas (Gwendolyn Pigeon), John Schuck (Murray Greschner), Telma Hopkins (Frances Unger), Bart Braverman (Roy), Marvin Braverman (Vinnie), Christopher Joy (Speed), Wally Taylor (Barney), Michael Rappaport (Henry), Jill Jaress (Vivian).

5820 The New $100,000 Name That Tune. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1984). A revised version of The $100,000 Name That Tune. Two contestants compete in various contests wherein they must identify song titles after hearing only a few bars. The winner, the highest scorer, receives the opportunity to win $100,000 by identifying a very difficult mystery tune after hearing only one note.

Host: Jim Lange. Announcer: John Harlan.

5821 The New Operation Petticoat. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1978–1979). A spin-off from Operation Petticoat. The original series focused on the crew of the Sea Tiger, a pink submarine during World War II (see entry for additional information). Matthew Sherman captioned the sub and Nick Holden was the supply officer. In the new series the Sea Tiger is taken out of combat service and refitted as a lifeguard rescue vehicle assigned to patrol the Pacific for downed fliers. Sherman and Holden are relieved of their command. Sam Haller, a dedicated and compassionate lieutenant, becomes the sub's new commander; and Mike Bender, the unregimented wheeling dealing second lieutenant assists him. The sub's crew now consists of Chief Engineer Stanley Dobritch, Yeoman Hunkle, Seaman Broom and Seaman Horner. The nurses assigned to the Sea Tiger are Katherine O'Hara, the self-assured head of the Navy Nurse Brigade; Lieutenant Dolores Crandall, the ingenious but naïve nurse; and Betty Wheeler, the sharp and witty nurse. Stories follow the crew of the Sea Tiger as they patrol the Pacific — seeking to avoid the enemy and help downed Allied fliers.

Cast: Robert Hogan (Capt. Sam Haller), Randolph Mantooth (Lt. Michael Bender), Melinda Naud (Lt. Dolores Crandall), Jo Ann Pflug (Lt. Katherine O'Hara), Hilary Thompson (Lt. Betty Wheeler), Warren Berlinger (Chief Stanley Dobritch), Richard Brestoff (Yeoman Alvin Hunkle), Sam Chew, Jr. (Lt. Travis Kern), Jim Varney (Seaman Broom), Don Sparks (Seaman Horner), Fred Kareman (Seaman Doplos), Martin Azarow (Chief Manhiannini), Peter Mamakos (Seaman Kostos).

In the first episode, Hanachek (Richard Kiley) of the American Counsel, helps "The New People" establish themselves on the island (he later dies from injuries suffered in the crash). The series, broadcast back-to-back with the 45-minute Music Scene (thus creating a 90-minute block) aired from September 22, 1969 to January 12, 1970.

Cast: Tiffany Bolling (Susan Bradley), Zooey Hall (Robert Lee), David Moses (Eugene "Bones" Washington), Peter Rattray (George Potter), Lee Jay Lambert (Errol "Bull" Wilson), Kevin Michaels (Dexter), Brenda Sykes (Brenda), Nancy DeCarol (Gloria), Dennis Olivieri (Stanley), Kevin O'Neal (Stanley; later), Jill Jaress (Ginny), Elizabeth Berger (Laura), Clive Clerk (Jack), Donna Baccala (Wendy), Carl Reindel (Dan Stoner).

5823 The New Perry Mason. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1973–1974). Perry Mason is a brilliant criminal defense attorney working out of Los Angeles. He is not a man to stand by and let others do all the work; he often takes an active part in his case investigations. He is also a man who is known for his brilliant courtroom defenses — often waiting for the last possible moment to present a surprise witness that inevitably wins him the case. Della Street is Perry's ever-faithful secretary; Paul Drake is his investigator; Hamilton Burger is the District Attorney and Perry's chief adversary; Arthur Tragg is a lieutenant with the Los Angeles Police Department; Gertie Lade is Perry's office receptionist. The series, an update of Perry Mason, is based on the character created by Erle Stanley Gardner. It ran from September 16, 1973 to January 27, 1974 and produced 15 episodes.

Cast: Monte Markham (Perry Mason), Sharon Acker (Della Street), Harry Guardino (Hamilton Burger), Albert Stratton (Paul Drake), Dane Clark (Arthur Tragg), Brett Somers (Gertie Lade).

5824 The New Phil Silvers Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1963). Plant 4 of Osborne Industries in Los Angeles is the location. Office B-116 of Factory D is the base of operations. Harry Grafton, the maintenance department foreman, is the man assigned to that office.

While Osborne Industries makes everything from plumbing supplies to machinery parts, Harry has his own business called Grafton Enterprises, which he runs from his office and struggles to keep secret from his superiors. Harry is the only man who can get the assembly line started again when it breaks down; he is also a master manipulator who is totally dedicated to acquiring money (he has a coffee break service called Harry Grafton's Coffee Break Wagon).

Fred H. Brink is the plant supervisor. When Brink approaches Harry's office, the word Enemy in the sign above the door blinks, and the lights around a picture of Fred (next to a picture of George Washington) flash. In the opening theme, Harry is seen in animated form, and he says, "Glad to see ya." When the factory whistle blows smoke for the show's title and star, Phil Silvers name appears in various combinations (for instance, Slip Hilvers, Shil Pilvers). Waluska, Roxy, Scarpitta and Lester are Harry's assistants and cohorts in crime. Mr. Osborne is the company owner. The series is a reworking of the Sergeant Bilko character from The Phil Silvers Show (see entry).

Relatives: Elena Verdugo (Harry's sister, Audrey), Sandy Descher (Audrey's daughter, Susan), Ronnie Dapo (Audrey's son, Andy), Evelyn Patrick (Osborne's niece, Della Osborne). Theme: "Theme from The New Phil Silvers Show," by Harry Geller.

Cast: Phil Silvers (Harry Grafton), Stafford Repp (Fred Brink), Herbie Faye (Waluska), Jim Shane (Lester), Pat Renella (Roxy Klinger), Norman Grobowski (Scarpitta), Douglas Dumbrille (Mr. Osborne).

5825 The New Price Is Right. (Series; Game; CBS; 1972–1975). A revised version of The Price Is Right. The format calls for players to guess the manufacturer's suggested list price for various merchandise items. Players who come closest to the actual price (but do not surpass it) win the item as their prize (and usually compete for further prizes in greatly varying rounds based on selling prices). The series ran from September 4, 1972 to October 31, 1975. The series was lengthened (to 60 minutes) and became The Price Is Right (see for additional information).

Host: Bob Barker. Models: Nancy Myers, Pamela Parker, Anitra Ford, Holly Hallstrom, Janice Pennington, Dian Parkinson. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

5826 The New Shmoo. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1979). The Shmoo is a comic strip character created by Al Capp. It is a bit mischievous and enjoys the company of humans. Nita, Mickey and Billy Joe are its human friends, teenagers who have a keen interest in anything unnatural (like the Shmoo). With the help of the Shmoo, Nita Mickey and Billy Joe put their interest to the test and investigate psychic phenomena.

Voice Cast: Frank Welker (The Shmoo), Dolores Cantu-Primo (Nita), Chuck McCann (Billy Joe), Bill Idelson (Mickey).

5827 The New Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1984). Topical comedy sketches coupled with music and songs by top name guest stars.

Cast: Dave Thomas, John Candy, Buck Henry, Valri Bromfield, Maggie Jacobson, Tom Davis, Laura Monahan, J.D. Smith. Announcer: Jeff Bergman.

5828 The New Soupy Sales Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1979). An update of comedian Soupy Sales' programs of the past (see The Soupy Sales Show) that continues to spotlight him in various mishaps that occur in and around his home (where he lives with his dogs White Fang and Black Tooth).

Host: Soupy Sales. Regulars: Clyde Adler, Marty Brill.

5829 The New Steve Allen Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1961). A weekly series of music, songs and comedy sketches that failed to generate the success of Steve Allen's similarly themed 1950s series. It ran from September 27, 1961 to December 27, 1961.

Host: Steve Allen. Regulars: Louis Nye, Pat Harrington, Jr., Joey Forman, Bill Dana, Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers, Tim Conway.

5830 The New Stu Erwin Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1950–1955). The later title for Trouble with Father. See this title for information.

5831 The New Super Friends Hour. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1977–1978). A spin-off from The Super Friends that continues to relate the exploits of the world's mightiest heroes (listed in the cast) as they battle injustice throughout the world.

5832 The New Temperatures Rising Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1973–1974). A satire of medical series as seen through the antics of the staff of Capitol General Hospital in Washington, D.C. A spin-off from Temperature's Rising. Dr. Paul Mercy is the easily exasperated head of the hospital; Dr. Jerry Noland is the manipulating doctor who tries Mercy's patience. Wendy Winchester is the nurse caught in between; Dr. Charles Claver is the pompous doctor who appears to be the only one truly dedicated to helping patients.

Cast: Paul Lynde (Dr. Paul Mercy), Jennifer Darling (Nurse Wendy Winchester), Barbara Cason (Admissions Nurse Tillis), Cleavon Little (Dr. Jerry Noland), John Dehner (Dr. Charles Claver), Jeff Morrow (Dr. Lloyd Axton), Alice Ghostley (Edwina Mercy; Paul's sister), Sudie Bond (Agatha Mercy; Paul's mother), Barbara Rucker (Nurse Kelly), Sharleen Cotright (Nurse Kelly; replaced Barbara), Jerry Houser (Orderly Haskell), Ken Smedberg (Orderly Jackson), Mary Batten (Nurse Reed), Sandy Freeman (Nurse Hamlin).

5833 The New Three Stooges. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1966). Animated adventures that follow the antics of Moe, Larry and Curly, three trouble prone men known as the Three Stooges. Based on the style and slapstick humor made famous by the Three Stooges in motion picture theatrical shorts during the 1930s and 1940s.

Voice Cast: Moe Howard (Moe), Larry Fine (Larry), Curly Joe Howard (Curly), Joe DeRita (Curly).

5834 The New Tom Greene Show. (Series; Talk; MTV; 2003). A talk show that is more comedy than talk. Although celebrity interviews make up the bulk of the program, Tom's exchange of talk with his sidekick, Glenn Humplick and his comedy bits make the show a tad different than others of its type.

Host: Tom Greene. Featured: Glenn Humplick, Ed Scott, Rita de Leon (as Tom's blind date in skits).

5835 The New Treasure Hunt. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1973–1977). Three players each stand before a jack-in-the-box. The handles on the boxes are turned. When they open, the contestant whose box contains a Treasure Hunt card receives the opportunity to win $25,000. The player chooses one of thirty boxes that are displayed on stage. The contents, or a cash bribe not to take the box, becomes the player's prize. An updated version of Treasure Hunt, which ran from 1956–1959 with Jan Murray as the host. 122 episodes were produced.

Host: Geoff Edwards. Assistants: Jane Nelson, Siv Aberg. Check Guard: Emil Autre. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

5836 The New Truth or Consequences. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1977). The first updated version of Truth or Consequences (see next title also). A contestant appears on stage and is asked a nonsense riddle. If he is unable to answer it (which is always the case), Beulah the Buzzer sounds and he must pay the consequences — perform a stunt. The player's prizes are based on his success in performing the stunt.

Host: Bob Hilton. Announcer: John Harlan.

5837 The New Truth or Consequences. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1987). A revised version of the prior title (which see for format).

Host: Larry Anderson. Regulars: Hillary Safire, Murray Langston.

5838 The New $25,000 Pyramid. (Series; Game; CBS; 1982). Two teams, each composed of one celebrity and one non-celebrity contestant, compete. One team chooses one of six subject categories that are displayed on a large pyramid. Each subject contains seven related objects; one player has to relate each subject to his partner in one-word clues (within a 30-second time limit). The player who scores highest (each plays three categories) wins the game and receives the opportunity to win money (originally $50,000; then $25,000) by attempting to guess seven subjects on a large pyramid board within 60 seconds. The program was originally syndicated in January 1980 as The $50,000 Pyramid before becoming a daily CBS series in September of 1982.

Host: Dick Clark. Announcer: Alan Calder, Jack Clark, Charlie O'Donnell, Johnny Gilbert.

5839 The New Voice. (Series; Comedy-Drama; PBS; 1981–1982). A social awareness series that follows the lives of a group of students who write for The New Voice, the newspaper of Lincoln High School in Boston. Lorraine, Millie, Ken, Claudio, Larry and Kiko are students; Mr. Morfi is the paper's advisor; Mrs. Carrington is the school's principal.

Cast: Lorraine Gauli (Lorraine George), Millie Santiago (Millie), Ken Mochizuki (Ken), Claudio Martinez (Claudio), Kiko Mckee Redwing (Kiko), Shawn Elliott (Mr. Morfi), Carmen DeLavallad (Mrs. Carrington).

5840 The New WKRP in Cincinnati. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1991–1993). A revised version of WKRP in Cincinnati. WKRP, 1530 on the AM dial, is a 5,000 watt rock station in Ohio. The station made its premiere broadcast on December 7, 1941, with the news story “The Japanese have just attacked Pearl Harbor.” The station is still located on the fourteenth floor of the Flimm Building and is still very low rated. Its slogan is “The Mighty 1530 AM.”

Arthur Carlson manages the station for his mother, Lillian (“Mama”) Carlson; his late father founded WKRP. Arthur has high hopes that one day the station will crack the top ten. He rarely listens to WKRP and spends most of his day dreaming about fishing, reading magazines (for example, Ohio Fisherman) and playing with various toys (from yo-yos to computer games). Arthur's wife, Carmen, runs a business called Carmen's Crystal Critter Corner in the Pinedale Mall.

Les Nessman is WKRP's news director. He has been with the station for more than 20 years and won the Buckeye Hawk News Award nine times. He still wears a bandage (to remind him of an injury he received in 1978 on the original series) and still has “invisible walls” that surround his desk in the bullpen office. Les has a bird named Hilda and calls himself “The News Beacon of the Ohio Valley.” He leaves for work every day at 6:32 A.M.

Herb Tarlek is still the station's salesman. He is still married to Lucille and he still hits on every beautiful girl he sees. He continues to call Arthur “Big Guy.”

Mona Loveland is the late night D.J. (her character replaced Venus Flytrap from the original series). Mona's sexy voice has made her a hot item at the station. Her show, Mona Till Midnight, begins at 9:00 P.M. with these words: “This is Mona Loveland, I'll be your guide to dreamland. It's just you and me and music till midnight.” Mona, who loves to wear blouses that accentuate her well-developed bosom, says, “I have a hard time finding bikini tops that fit.” She is a Leo and was a compulsive gambler who resolved her problem through professional counseling. She lives in a former firehouse.

Dana Burns and Jack Allen are divorced D.J.'s who host a music and talk program called The Burns and Allen Show (the replacement for Dr. Johnny Fever). Radical D.J. Razor Dee replaced “Burns and Allen” in second season episodes. Dee works as “The Razor Man” and was a monks' barber for two years in the Order of Our Lady of the Forgetful.

Ronnie Lee was the first receptionist (Jennifer Marlowe's replacement). Ronnie, a Virgo, was not as glamorous or buxom as Jennifer and was dropped (she was said to be attending night school to get her master's degree). She was replaced by Nancy Brinkwink, a busty blonde who has the hots for “the only man for me — Herb.” Nancy has a B.A. in communications from Dennison College and was a former buyer for Studor and James in Cincinnati (she left the job because all the men she worked with were either married or gay).

Claire Hartline is the traffic manager (she arranges commercial time); her character replaced Bailey Quarters. Donovan Aderhold is the new program director (his character replaced Andy Travis). New to the concept was Arthur's son, Arthur Carlson, Jr., the obnoxious junior salesman (Herb calls him “Little Big Guy”).

Several regulars from the original show appeared: Jennifer Marlowe (Loni Anderson) was first a wealthy widow (“My husband, Cesare, died on our honeymoon; he was smiling at the time”); she later announced her engagement to Reynaldo Roberio Ricky Ricardo Goulegant III (Robert Goulet), the prince of a small European country called Rosario Roberto. Venus Flytrap (Tim Reid) now lives in Washington, D.C. After leaving WKRP he acquired a job with BET (Black Entertainment TV), first in marketing, then as chief executive officer.

Dr. Johnny Fever (Howard Hesseman) was first living in New York's Greenwich Village and writing a book about rock and roll music. Howard received special guest star billing in second season episodes when Johnny returned to WKRP as the new overnight D.J.—the midnight to 6:00 A.M. shift. (He replaced the unseen Moss Steiger. Moss went up to the roof to smoke a cigarette. He fell off and landed on the theater marquee on the Fourth Street side of the building. An air conditioner came loose, fell on the marquee and tossed Moss into the street where he was hit by a bus. Chuck Blore provided Moss's voice.) Theme: “WKRP in Cincinnati,” by Tom Wells and Jim Ellis.

Cast: Gordon Jump (Arthur Carlson), Richard Sanders (Les Nessman), Frank Bonner (Herb Tarlek), Tawny Kitaen (Mona Loveland), Kathleen Garrett (Dana Burns), Michael Des Barres (Jack Allen), French Stewart (Razor Dee), Wendy Davis (Ronnie Lee), Marla Jeanette Rubinoff (Nancy Brinkwink), Hope Alexander-Willis (Claire Hartline), Mykelti Williamson (Donovan Aderhold), Lightfield Lewis (Arthur Carlson, Jr.), Howard Hesseman (Dr. Johnny Fever), Allyn Ann McLerie (Carmen Carlson), Carol Bruce (Mama Carlson), Edie McClurg (Lucille Tarlek).

5841 New Year. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/17/93). Daniel J. “Danny” Hartman is the wealthy co-owner of Hartman, Fishkin and Mavis Pharmaceuticals. He represents the established, empowered older generation. Elsie Robertson is his competition, the owner of Robertson, Inc., a struggling company run by the younger generation who feel that they’ve been robbed of the American Dream that no longer exists. The story opens on New Year’s Eve in 1999. Danny is hosting a lavish party to welcome the new millennium when a mysterious young man approaches him and says, “I’m going to destroy you.” Thus the plot as the older battles the younger for control of the pharmaceutical world. In the pilot episode, which establishes a serial-like format, both companies seek a micro chip, developed by Dr. Barbara Beck, that once injected into the system, monitors vital signs for life. Other Regulars: Suzanne, Jimi and Katie, Danny’s children; Larry, Danny’s partner; Alan, Elsie’s aide; and Eudora, Danny’s associate.

Cast: Stacy Keach (Danny Hartman), Jane Alexander (Elsie Robertson), Roma Downey (Suzanne Hartman), Linden Ashby (Jimi Hartman), Joanna Going (Katie Hartman), Mark Matheisen (Alan Dale Masters), Zelijko Ivanek (Larry Fishkin), C.C.H. Pounder (Eudora Kellogg), Giancarlo Esposito (Marcus Foster), Amelia Campbell (Dr. Barbara Beck), Socorro Santiago (Izabella Gallardo).

5842 New York Confidential. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1958). Lee Cochran is a newspaper reporter-columnist based in New York City. He is not the typical columnist who just sits in an office and reads off a teletype; Lee is tough, determined and obsessed with solving crimes. He investigates and takes the punches to get the goods on criminals and the stories that make the headlines. Based on the book by Lee Mortimer and Jack Lait.

Cast: Lee Tracy (Lee Cochran).

5843 New York News. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1995–1996). A behind-the-scenes look at the workings of a daily newspaper (the New York Reporter) as seen through the activities of its editorial staff and reporters. Louise Felcott is the tough publisher (“Get me the story at any cost”); Nan Chase is the gossip columnist, with Angela, Ellie, Mitch, Jack, Tommy and Victor as reporters.

Cast: Mary Tyler Moore (Louise Felcott), Madeline Kahn (Nan Chase), Melina Kanakaredes (Angela Villanova), Kelli Williams (Ellie), Anthony DeSando (Tony Amato), Kevin Chamberlain (Victor), Gregory Harrison (Jack Reilly), Joe Morton (Mitch Cotter).

5844 New York Undercover. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 1994–1998). The lives — more personal than professional — of a group of N.Y.P.D. undercover detectives is the focal point of the series. The main characters are Detectives J.C. Williams and Eddie Torres, partners with their share of personal problems. J.C. has just divorced his wife, Chantal, and is trying to be a good father to their son, Gregory (called “G”). Eddie is an over-eager cop who strives to do the best he can while struggling to deal with family problems and his Puerto Rican heritage. The only relaxation the J.C. and Eddie seem to have is at a bar called Natalie’s. Their strict (no nonsense) lieutenant is Virginia Cooper; Detective Nina Moreno is a young Puerto Rican officer who is also struggling to become the best cop she can. Tommy MacNamara is an Irish detective with a know-it-all attitude; Alec Stone is a detective who will do what it takes to get the job done. Nell Delaney is a tough detective who uses her intelligence not violence to deal with criminals. Malcolm Baker is a lieutenant who joins the series in last season episodes as the unit’s supervisor (replacing Virginia).

Cast: Malik Yoba (Det. J.C. Williams), Michael DeLorenzo (Det. Eddie Torres), Patti D’Arbanville (Lt. Virginia Cooper), Lauren Velez (Det. Nina Moreno), Jonathan LaPaglia (Det. Tommy MacNamara), Thomas Mikal Ford (Lt. Malcolm Baker), Josh Hopkins (Det. Alec Stone), Marisa Ryan (Det. Nell Delaney), Fatima Faloye (Chantal Williams), George O. Gore II (Gregory “G” Williams), Gladys Knight (Natalie, the bar owner).

5845 The New Zoo Revue. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1972). Various aspects of the world are explained to children through songs, sketches, dances and stories. Humans Doug and Emily are the hosts; they are assisted by the costumed animals Charlie the Owl, Freddie Frog and Henrietta Hippo.

Cast: Doug Momary (Host), Emily Peden (Host), Sharon Baird (Charlie the Owl), Bill Galloway (Voice of Charlie), Bob Holt (Voice of Charlie), Yanco Innone (Freddie Frog), Joni Robbins (Voice of Freddie), Thomas Carri (Henrietta Hippo), Larri Thomas (Henrietta Hippo), Hazel Shermit (Voice of Henrietta), Chuck Woolery (Mr. Dingle, the store owner), Frank Ryan (Miss Goodbody).

5846 Newhart. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1982–1990). Richard (“Dick”) Loudon, a history buff and “how-to” book author, and his wife, Joanna, own the 200-year-old Stratford Inn at 28 Westbrook Road in River City, Vermont.

Dick attended Cunningham Elementary School. In college Dick was the drummer in a band called the Jazz Tones (he was nicknamed “Slats” Loudon). Dick has written such books as Pillow Talk (how to make pillows), How to Make Your Dream Bathroom and Installation and Care of Your Low Maintenance Lawn Sprinkler. His first novel was Murder at the Stratley (a takeoff on the Stratford Inn). Dick also hosts the TV show Vermont Today on WPIV, Channel 8.

Joanna was born in Gainsville, Ohio. She and Dick met when they both worked for an ad agency in New York City. Joanna is a real estate broker and hosts a television show called Your House Is My House on Channel 8; the show was later called Hot Houses.

George Utley, Dick's handyman, is a member of the Beaver Lodge. He has a favorite hammer he calls "Old Blue" and invented the board game "Handyman: The Feel Good Game."

Stephanie Vanderkellen is Dick and Joanna's maid. She is the spoiled daughter of a wealthy family (who live in Newport) and took the job to experience real life. Stephanie replaced her sister, Leslie, the original maid, when she left to complete her education at Oxford. In addition to being spoiled, Stephanie is very moody and looks down on people of lower social status. She had a show on WPIV called Seein' Double (in which she played twins Jody and Judy Bumpter; Dick Loudon played her father, Henry Bumpter, and the show was produced, written and directed by Stephanie's boyfriend, Michael Harris).

Michael was an executive at WPIV (he produced Dick's show), then a salesman at Circus of Shoes after he was fired for insulting the boss's daughter. He was then a produce clerk at Menke's Market, a mime, and finally a resident of the Pine Valley Psychiatric Hospital. Michael is totally devoted to Stephanie, calls her "Cupcake," "Gumdrop" and "Muffin" and constantly showers her with gifts. In 1989 Stephanie became pregnant and gave birth to a girl she and Michael named Baby Stephanie (played at age five by Candy Hutson).

Larry and his two non-speaking brothers, Darryl and Darryl, are rural types who own the local diner, the Minuteman Café (originally owned by Kirk Devane). Larry attended the Mount Pilard Technical School; Darryl One was enrolled at Oxford University; and Darryl Two, who majored in royalty, attended Cambridge University under a rowing scholarship. Larry does all the talking for his brothers. When he enters a scene, he starts by saying, "Hello. My name is Larry. This is my brother, Darryl, and this is my other brother, Darryl."

On May 21, 1990, the final first-run episode aired: "The Last Newhart." Mr. Takadachi (Gedde Watanabe) offers each resident of the town one million dollars for their property with a plan of building the 5,000-room Takadachi Hotel and golf course. All but Dick and Joanna sell. Michael and Stephanie, with plans to build "Stefi Land," move to Switzerland; George, who once bought some land when he was drunk to build "Utley Land" (an amusement park for handymen), sells it; and Larry and the Darryls move to Chicago to live with an uncle.

Five years later, the Stratford Inn is on the fourteenth fairway, and it has a Japanese motif. It is also the site for a reunion of the old gang. With the exception of Larry and the Darryls, all have remained the same. Larry is now married to Ronda (Christie Mellor), Darryl One has wed Sada (Lisa Kudrow) and Darryl Two is married to Zora (Nada Despotovich). The occasion marks the first time the Darryls speak — to yell "Quiet!" at their arguing wives ("They never spoke before," Larry says, "because nothing ever pissed them off before"). As the reunion becomes unruly, Dick decides to leave. He is standing in the doorway when he is hit by a golf ball. He passes out and the screen goes black. Seconds later a figure is seen in bed. He switches on the light, and we see that it is not Dick Loudon but Dr. Bob Hartley (from The Bob Newhart Show). His wife, Emily (Suzanne Pleshette), asks what is wrong, and Bob proceeds to tell her about a horrible nightmare in which he was an innkeeper and married to a beautiful blonde; about an heiress for a maid; about three strange brothers....

Apparently, the eight years of Newhart were but the one night's dream of Dr. Bob Hartley.

Relatives: Bob Elliott (Dick's father, Bill Loudon), Peggy McCay (Joanna's mother, Florence McKenna), Nancy Walker (Joanna's aunt, Louise), Richard Roat and José Ferrer (Stephanie's father, Arthur Vanderkellen), Priscilla Morrill (Stephanie's mother, Mary Vanderkellen), Ann Morgan Guilbert (George's aunt, Bess), Derek McGrath (George's cousin, Eugene Wiley), Ruth Manning (Michael's mother, Lily Cassiano), Henry Gibson (Michael's father, Ted Harris). Flashbacks: Jason Marin (George as a boy), Tom Poston (George's father). Theme: "The Newhart Theme," by Henry Mancini.

Cast: Bob Newhart (Dick Loudon), Mary Frann (Joanna Loudon), Julia Duffy (Stephanie Vanderkellen), Tom Poston (George Utley), Peter Scolari (Michael Harris), William Sanderson (Larry), Tony Papenfuss (Darryl One), John Volstad (Darryl Two), Jennifer Holmes (Leslie Vanderkellen), Steven Kampmann (Kirk Devane), Rebecca York (Cindy Parker; Kirk's girlfriend), Zoanne LeRoy (Rose; Vanderkellen's maid), Thomas Hills (Jim Dixon; Bob's friend), William Lanteau (Chester Wanamaker; Bob's friend), Lois de Banzie (Shirley Dixon; Jim's wife), Lee Wilkof (Elliot Gabler; Bob's agent), Linda Carlson (Beverly Dutton; WPIV station manager).

5847 The Newlywed Game. (Series; Game; ABC; 1966–1974). Four husband-and-wife couples compete. The husbands appear on stage (the wives are isolated backstage) and asked a series of questions regarding their personal lives. After the questioning, the couples are reunited on stage. The questions are restated and the wives have to predict how their husbands answered. Each correct match scores a point. Round two is played in reverse and the team with the highest score is the winner and receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Bob Eubanks. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

5848 Newlyweds: Nick and Jessica. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2003). Singing stars Jessica Simpson and Nick Lachey have ended their engagement and married. Cameras follow the newlyweds virtually everywhere they go as they begin their new lives together.

Cast: Jessica Simpson, Nick Lachey, Tina Simpson, Joe Simpson, Ashlee Simpson, Drew Lachey, Lea Lachey, Cacee Cobb.

5849 Newman's Drugstore. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/30/76). Brooklyn, New York, during the Great Depression is the setting for an unsold series about Charles Newman, a widower and the father of a 12-year-old son (Woody) who owns a corner pharmacy called Newman's Drugstore. Charles is overly generous with his hard-luck customers and his efforts to keep his business afloat would have been the focal point of the series.

Cast: Herschel Bernardi (Charles Newman), Michael LeClair (Woody Newman), Allan Rich (Leon Rossoff), June Gable (Shirley Tinker), Robert Lussier (Murray Tinker), Fritzi Burr (Dora Goldman), Dominique Pinassi (Marcy Goldman), Joel Parks (Ira), Darrell Zwerling (Paul).

5850 The News Is the News. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1983). A spoof of television newscasts that presents a comical view of news casting, preparation and news gathering. The live program, broadcast from New York City, was cancelled after only four of its eight episodes aired.

Newscasters: Michael Davis, Simon Jones, Charlotte Moore, Lynne Thigpen, Trey Wilson. London Correspondent: Michael Palin. Announcer: Karen Dale. Orchestra: Bob Mounsey.

5851 News Radio. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995–1999). WNYX, 585 on the AM dial, is an all news radio station located in the Criterion Building on 58th Street in Manhattan. Dave Nelson is its young director and his efforts to curtail the antics of his staff and run the station is the focal point of the series. Although played for laughs, the program does present a look at the office politics and relationships in a radio station.

Other Regulars: newscasters Matthew Brockwell, Bill McNeal, Lisa Miller, Max Lewis and Catherine Duke; Beth, Dave's secretary; Joe, the electrician. Bill McNeal is also called Bill McIntire.

Cast: Dave Foley (Dave Nelson), Phil Hartman (Bill McNeal), Maura Tierney (Lisa Miller), Ella Joyce (Catherine Duke; pilot), Khandi Alexander (Catherine Duke; series), Andy Dick (Matthew Brockwell), Vicki Lewis (Beth), Jon Lovitz (Max Lewis), Stephen Root (Jimmy James), Joe Rogan (Joe Garrelli).

5852 Newsstand Theater. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1952). A short-lived series of dramatizations based on short stories. The series, which produced four episodes, ran from January 16, 1952 to February 6, 1952.

5853 The Newz. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 1999–2002). Comedy skits that spoof everything from news events and political figures to movies and television shows.

Cast: Mystro Clark, Tommy Blaze, Nancy Sullivan, Lou Thornton, Stan Quash, Dan O'Connor, Deborah Magdaleva, Brad Sherwood.

5854 The Next Action Star. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2004). A search to find the next male and female action star from a group of gutsy contenders (not afraid of explosions, jumping off buildings, dodging cars, etc.). Each is competing for the opportunity of starring in the made-for-TV action film Bet Your Life (to be directed by action movie director Joe Silver). Each of the participants must perform stunts and are judged by a panel for their authenticity. Each of the fourteen participants (seven men, seven women) receives six weeks of training (including acting and weapons precaution) before actually performing stunts. At the end of the session, they are put through their paces and judged on an acting sequence and a stunt scene. The least satisfactory performers are eliminated on a weekly basis by the judges. The two remaining players (one male, one female) receive the co-starring movie roles.

Host: Tina Malave. Winners: Sean Carrigan, Corinne Van Ryck de Groot.

5855 The Next Best Thing: Who Is the Greatest Celebrity Impersonator? (Series; Reality; ABC; 2007). A search for "The world's greatest celebrity impersonator." Celebrity look-alikes, chosen from open auditions, appear before a panel of three judges. The impersonator must provide three aspects in order to become a finalist: the look, the voice and the performance. Impersonators who fail in any aspect (no matter how much they resemble the celebrity) are sent home. When the finalists are chosen (the best from auditions across the country) they perform again in California — this time to be judged by viewers, whose call-in votes determine who goes and who stays. The last remaining impersonator is crowned "The World's Greatest Celebrity Impersonator."

5856 The Next Great Chef. (Series; Reality; PBS; 2005). A Canadian produced series that seeks to find Canada's next great chef. The first ten episodes of the series spotlight non-professional chefs from across Canada who compete in a series of bake offs where they create three course meals and are judged by a panel of experts. The judging, however, is done a bit differently. The judges (who sample the food) do not know what chef prepared what meal and base their point system on style, taste and presentation. The points are tabulated and the highest scoring chef wins that weekly competition. The final episode features the top chefs from the prior competitions preparing one final meal. The chef whose meal is deemed to be the best is the grand champion.

Judges: John-Carlo Felicella, Lesia Burlak, Jean Luc Piquemal, Bruno Marti. Competitors: Trevor Bird, Robert Bowe, Vicky Cheng, Jesse Fraser, Ben Funk, Carl Habeck, Justin Labossiere, Kim Maloney, Ian Milner, Grace Oh, Robert Piercey, Bill Scott, Laura Sharpe, Stewart Sharpe, Ryan Stone, Nicole Stoughton, Peter Tiessen, Brian Verstraten, Angela Wall.

5857 The Next Step Beyond. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1978). A revised and updated version of One Step Beyond that presents true stories of psychic happenings.

Host: John Newland.

5858 Nice Guys Finish Dead. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 11/16/79). A proposed spin-off from The Rockford Files about Lance White, a handsome, rich and elegant private detective who seems to do everything wrong but still get the glory for solving crimes. In the pilot episode, Jim Rockford and his arch rival, Lance White, lock horns when they both seek to solve the murder of a guest speaker at the Private Detectives Association Awards Dinner.

Cast: Tom Selleck (Lance White), James Whitmore, Jr. (Fred Beamer, his sidekick). Guest Cast: James Garner (Jim Rockford), Simon Oakland (Vern St. Cloud), Larry Manetti (Larry St. Cloud), James Luisi (Lieutenant Chapman), Roscoe Born (Commentator), Fritzi Burr (Mrs. D'Angelo).

5859 Nichols. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1971–1972). The town of Nichols, Arizona, in 1914 is the setting. A former cavalry officer known only as Nichols, returns to his hometown after an 18 year absence. He discovers that the town, which was founded by his parents, no longer belongs to him; it has been taken from his late mother by two mean brothers named Scully One and Scully Two. With no plans to stay in town, Nichols decides to drown his sorrows. At the Salter House Bar, Nichols begins to talk with Ruth, the barmaid. When a man named Ketcham thinks Nichols is flirting with Ruth (whom he considers his girlfriend), a fight breaks out. Nichols is arrested and held responsible for $300 in damages. Later, when Sara (“Ma”) Ketcham, Ketcham’s mother and the town’s self-appointed law, finds that Nichols cannot pay what he owes, she sentences him to six months’ duty as sheriff. Though reluctant, Nichols becomes the sheriff—“But don’t let that worry you, it’s only a sideline.” His real genius, though, is at the con — which he uses to outwit the bad guys and help maintain the peace.

Nichols, who lives in Room 3 of the Salter House Hotel, is assisted by “Mitch” Mitchell, a deputy who reports directly to Sara and obeys her every command. Mitch has a dog named Slump.

Nichols was with the U.S. Cavalry’s 19th Unit and was the division’s boxing champion.

Ruth sleeps with a Colt .45 under her pillow, carries a large hatpin for protection in her purse and hides a tiny derringer in her bosom-revealing dress near her heart. “I have ambitions to be a sheriff,” she says. “But since I’m a woman and can’t, I’m happy where I am.”

The series, which was expected to be renewed, was not, and the last episode introduced a more courageous and forceful hero named Jim Nichols (James Garner)—Nichols’s twin brother. When Nichols attempts to break up a barroom brawl, he is killed. Several days later, Jim arrives in town. After learning what has happened, he apprehends his brother’s killer. Sara offers him the job of sheriff, but Jim refuses. In a substituted ending, Jim leaves town, never to return. Bernard Segall composed the “Nichols” theme.

Cast: James Garner (Nichols), Margot Kidder (Ruth), John Beck (Ketchum), Neva Patterson (Sara “Ma” Ketchum), Stuart Margolin (Mitchell), John Harding (Salter), Paul Hampton (Johnson), Alice Ghostley (Bertha), Richard Bull (Judge Thatcher), M. Emmet Walsh (Gabe), John Quade (Scully One), Jesse Wayne (Scully Two).

5860 Nichols and Dymes. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 10/7/81). When local law enforcement agencies need help they turn to the federal government. When such is the case, Bureau Section Chief Whitney assigns his two best agents — Buck Nichols and Willy Dymes — to resolve the situation. The unsold series was to relate the lighthearted exploits as the fun-loving Nichols and Dymes go undercover and use unconventional methods to get the job done (“What the boss don’t know won’t hurt him”). In the pilot episode, Buck and Willy attempt to infiltrate and break up an interstate truck hijacking ring.

Cast: Rocky Bauer (Buck Nichols), Robin Strand (Willy Dymes), George McDaniel (Chief Whitney). Guest Cast: Kate Murtaugh (Aunt Lydia), Bill Cross (Sergeant Wilkins), Teddi Siddall (Laura Jean), Richard Gibb (Cogsworth).

5861 Nick and Hillary. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989). A two-episode revamped version of Tattinger’s about Nick Tattinger and his efforts to run a swanky restaurant called Tattinger’s.

When Nick learns that his accountant made off with all his money, he leaves the restaurant in his ex-wife, Hillary's hands so he can try to find the accountant. After an unsuccessful search, Nick returns to New York to find that Hillary has turned Tattinger's into a jazzed-up, now successful night club. The unrealized series was to relate Nick's mishaps as he and Hillary operate the club. Other Regulars: Nina and Winifred, Nick's daughters; Sid, the bartender; Sheila, the chef; Spin, the maitre d'; and Louis, a waiter. The series aired from April 20, 1989 to April 26, 1989.

Cast: Stephen Collins (Nick Tattinger), Blythe Danner (Hillary Tattinger), Patricia Colihhan (Nina Tattinger), Jessica Prunell (Winifred Tattinger), Jerry Stiller (Sid Wilbur), Mary Beth Hurt (Sheila Brady), Chris Elliott (Spin), Roderick Cook (Louis).

5862 Nick and Nora. (Pilot; Mystery; ABC; 3/4/75). An unsold series based on "The Thin Man" characters created by Dashiell Hammett, featuring the husband-and-wife detective team of Nick and Nora Charles. In the pilot episode, Nick and Nora investigate the mystery surrounding the murder of a wealthy man wearing white gloves and found floating in the swimming pool of a luxurious Los Angeles hotel. See also The Thin Man.

Cast: Craig Stevens (Nick Charles), Jo Ann Pflug (Nora Charles). Guest Cast: Jack Kruschen (Sergeant Steinmetz), Denny Miller (Mickey Garrity), Charles Lampkin (Captain Kingsley), Lester Rawlins (Brown), Whit Bissell (Welles), Judith Brown (Madeline), Carmel Myers (Mrs. Thurston).

5863 Nick and the Dobermans. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 4/25/80). Duke, Erskine and Pee Wee are three smart Doberman Pinschers owned by Nick Luchese, a New York-based private detective who inherited them from a late carnival performer. The unsold series, a revised version of Alex and the Doberman Gang was to relate Nick's efforts to solve crimes with the assist of the dogs. The pilot episode follows Nick as he attempts to safeguard Barbara Gayton, an accountant who witnessed a murder and now fears for her life.

5864 Nick Derringer, P.I. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/4 and 5/11/88). A proposed spin-off from Hooperman about Nicholas "Nick" Derringer, a diminutive private investigator whose motto is "No Case Too Small." Nick is four feet tall and operates a successful business from a luxurious office in San Francisco where he serves clientele that respect his professional skill.

Cast: David Rappaport (Nick Derringer), Laura Bassett (Yolanda, his secretary). Guest Cast: Felton Perry (Inspector Clarence McNeil), Jillie Mack (Eva), Barbara Rush (Mrs. Smith), Michael Crabtree (Drug dealer), John Ritter (Harry Hooperman), Debrah Farentino (Susan Smith), Sydney Walsh (Maureen DeMott), Barbara Bosson (Celeste Stern).

5865 Nick Freno: Licensed Teacher. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1996–1998). Nick Freno is an out-of-work actor who takes a job as a substitute English teacher to pay the bills. He first works at the Gerald R. Ford Middle School (1996–97) then at the Gerald R. Ford High School (1997–98). Kurt Fust is the vice principal at the middle school; Dr. Katherine Emerson, author of the book School of Thought is the principal at the high school.

Stories follow Nick as he tries to make a difference in the lives of his students. Nick is a natural comedian and has an outrageous sense of humor — assets he uses to deal with students who think they know more than he does.

Other Regulars: Mitch "Mezz" Crosby, a science teacher who also hosts a live TV show on WWEN-TV called Science with Mitch Crosby; teachers Al Yaroker, Mrs. Fox, Elaine Lewis; and the students: Sarah, Davey, Orlando, Jordan, Anna Marie, Tyler, Sophia, Tasha and Jared.

Cast: Mitch Mullany (Nick Freno), Stuart Pankin (Kurt Fust), Jane Sibbett (Katherine Emerson), Portia de Rossi (Elana Lewis), Charles Cyphers (Al Yaroker), Estelle Harris (Mrs. Fox), Mila Kunis (Anna Marie Del Bruno), Christina Vidal (Sophia Del Bruno), Malinda Williams (Tasha), Cara DeLizia (Sarah), Kyle Gibson (Davey), Jonathan Hernandez (Orlando Diaz), Blake Heron (Jordan), Andrew Levitas (Marco), Arjay Smith (Jared).

5866 Nick Knight. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 8/20/89). Many years ago a man named Nicholas wished for immortality. A master vampire named LaCroix arranged for Nicholas to have his wish by making him a creature of the night who must live on human blood. But Nicholas was unable to kill anyone and turned his back on vampirism — making an enemy of LaCroix but using his powers to help good defeat evil.

It is now 1989. Nick Knight (the name Nicholas has assumed) is a homicide detective who works the night shift with his obnoxious partner, Don Schanke (who is unaware that Nick is a vampire). The unsold series was to relate Nick's efforts to apprehend criminals via his special powers: super strength, the ability to fly (as a bat), super sensitive vision and hearing and his ability to work well at night. In the pilot episode, Nick attempts to stop LaCroix, who has come back to haunt him, this time as a killer of transients. Other Regulars: Janette, the beautiful vampire from Nick's past; and Dr. Jack Brittington, the police coroner who knows Nick's secret and is trying to develop an artificial blood that can help cure him.

5867 Night Club Review. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 6/9/39). Performances by night club and vaudeville artists: Frank and Jean Huber (comedy drunks), Bob Nellor (a ventriloquist), Charles Carrer (a juggler), Ella Logan (singer), Buck and Bubbles (black comedians), Joe Jackson, Jr. (comical bike rider) and the California Jitterbugs.

5868 Night Court. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1965). Dramatizations based on the files of New York and Los Angeles Night Court hearings.

Cast: Jay Jostyn (Judge), Sandy Spillman (Public Defender), Barney Biro (Public Defender).

5869 Night Court. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1984–1992). The Manhattan Criminal Courts Building in New York City is the setting for a comical look at life inside the night court of arraignment judge Harold T. ("Harry") Stone. The building is also called the Municipal Court House, and Harry's sessions are held on the eighteenth floor in Room 808 (1808 in some episodes).

Harry attended East Chesapeake State College and attempted to break into show business as a magician. His idol is singer Mel Tormé (he owns every record Mel ever made and has decided to marry the first girl who is impressed by that). Harry's inability to meet Mel under normal circumstances was a recurring gimmick of the series.

Harry, voted "Most Fascinating Judge in New York" by the Empire Magicians' Society, processes 12 percent fewer cases than any other judge in his position (the reason: he talks to defendants and lectures them). Harry's lucky charm is a Mercury-head dime, and he teaches law classes at the Ed Koch Community College (Ed Koch is the former mayor of New York). Harry is also faculty advisor for the school's newspaper, the Harpoon. He is famous for his "$55 and time served" sentences.

Christine Sullivan is the defense attorney. She was born in the small town of North Tonawanda near Buffalo, New York. As a girl, she had a dog named Puddles and dreamed of becoming an ice skater, competing in the Olympics and winning a gold medal for the United States. The ice stopped her ("It's slippery on that stuff").

Christine is very beautiful and always fashionably dressed. She is easily exasperated and often remarks, "I should have worn my under wire bra" (she has a tendency "to jiggle" when she gets upset). Christine wrote a children's book called Mommy's World under the pen name Mother Sullivan. In the episode of 2/12/92 Christine ran for congresswoman of the 13th District; she was elected to Congress in the final first-run episode (5/13/92) and moved to Washington, D.C., to begin her new career.

Reinhold Fielding Elmore (he assumed the name Dan Fielding when he started school) was born in Paris, Louisiana. His parents were rural, and he lived with pigs in his room. He was six before he realized he wasn't related to them. Dan now lives in an apartment on Hauser Street on Third Avenue in Manhattan. He is the prosecuting attorney and drives a Mercedes with the license plate HOT-TO-TROT. Dan hosted a television show called In Your Face and picks up girls at a club called the Sticky Wickiey. Dan left his job in the last episode to pursue the woman of his dreams, Christine, in Washington.

Bull Shannon. On a judicial system I.Q. test, bailiff Bull Shannon scored 181; despite this, his friends still think "I'm dumber than dirt." His real first name is Nostradamus; he got the name Bull from his mother (she said "Bull" when she found out she was pregnant). As a young man Bull worked as an usher at the Majestic Theater. He attempted to write a children's book called Bully the Dragon (but it scared kids). Bull is very devoted to Harry—"I'd swallow molten lava for that man. Fortunately, he never asked me." He also says people mistake his humor for a rare pituitary disease.

In the episode of 11/20/91, Bull married Wanda (Cathy Appleby) on the roof of the courthouse. In the last episode, Bull is taken to the planet Jupiter by two aliens to become somebody—"The man who can reach the items on our top shelves."

Mac Robinson is the court clerk. He is married to a pretty Vietnamese women named Quon Le Dac, who works as a checker at the Vegetable Mart. Mac met Quon Le in Vietnam during the war. She was only 12 years old and fell in love with him when he helped her family overcome the ravages of recent bombings. In 1985 Quon Le left Vietnam when the new regime took over and came to New York to find Mac. Mac married her in an attempt to keep her in the United States. In his youth, Mac was a singer with the group the Starlights, "before they became famous."

Rosalind Russell, called Roz, is a bailiff and earns $410 a week. Before becoming a bailiff, Roz was a stewardess for Paramus Airlines (it was here that she found her goal in life "was to kick butt"; a group of annoying passengers made her "see the light").

Lana Wagner was the original court clerk. She was replaced by Charli Tracy; Mac Robinson then replaced Charli.

In the original pilot, Gail Strickland played Sheila Gardner, the public defender. Sheila was replaced by Liz Williams. Wilhelmina ("Billie") Young replaced Liz. Mary replaced Billie and Christine replaced Mary as the legal aid lawyer.

Selma Hacker and Florence Kleiner were the female bailiffs before Roz. Selma was a chain smoker and hadn't missed a day of work in 27 years. Florence had the maiden name of Nightingale and "went through hell in grade school."

Lisette Hocheiser is the pretty, curly haired blonde court stenographer. She is a sweet girl who knits sweaters for birds and gets a kick out of folding socks. Al Craven is the sleazy court reporter for the New York Herald.

Relatives: Eugene Roche (Christine's father, Jack Sullivan), John McIntire (Dan's father, "Daddy" Bob Elmore), Jeanette Nolan (Dan's mother, Musette Elmore), Susan Diol (Dan's sister, Donna Elmore, the vice president of Farmer Frank Meats, Inc.), Paddi Edwards (Bull's mother, Henrietta "Hank" Shannon), Gordon Clapp (Bull's cousin, Ralph Shannon, a crooked lawyer), Keye Luke (Quon Le's father, Ho Dac), Charles Lampkin (Mac's father, Clarence Robinson), Della Reese (Roz's aunt, Ruth), John Astin (Buddy Ryan, Harry's stepfather).

5870 Night Editor. (Series; Anthology; Dumont; 1954). Dramatizations that depict the work of newspapermen as seen through the eyes of Hal Burdick, the night editor of a newspaper.

Host-Narrator: Hal Burdick.

5871 Night Gallery. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1971-1973). Supernatural tales of the horrifying confrontation between nightmare and reality. An artist's gallery is the opening sequence setting. It is here that the host displays a painting and briefly explains its meaning. A story is then shown based on the evil that lies behind the canvas. Originally broadcast as a segment of Four-in-One and also known as Rod Serling's Night Gallery.

Host: Rod Serling. Performers Include: Louise Sorel, Burgess Meredith, Joanna Pettet, Agnes Moorehead, Leslie Nielsen, Vincent Price, Adam West, Pat Boone, David McCallum, E.J. Peaker, Victor Buono, Gale Sondergaard, Ross Martin, Barbara Rush, Edward G. Robinson, Lois Nettleton, Cloris Leachman, William Windom, Barbara Anderson, Bill Bixby, Mickey Rooney, Susan Strasberg, Alejandro Rey, Leonard Nimoy, Chuck Connors, Joan Van Ark, Lesley Ann Warren, Kathryn Hays, Rudy Vallee, John Carradine, Laurie Prange.

5872 Night Games. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/16/74). The pilot film for Petrocelli about Tony Petrocelli, a Harvard-educated Italian attorney working out of San Remo, a southwestern cattle town. In the pilot episode, Tony defends a young socialite (Pauline) accused of killing her husband. Other Regulars: Patsy (Maggie in the series), Tony's wife; and Pete Toley, Tony's investigator.

Cast: Barry Newman (Tony Petrocelli), Susan Howard (Patsy Petrocelli), Albert Salmi (Pete Toley). Guest Cast: Stefanie Powers (Pauline Hannigan), Luke Askew (D.D. Franklin), JoAnna Cameron (Thelma Lattimer), Anjanette Comer (Jenny Kenedisis), Jon Cypher (Dale Hannigan), Henry Darrow (D.A. Jaimie Martinez), Ralph Meeker (Dutch Armbeck), William Prince (Clayton Nichols), Dennis Patrick (Judge Medford).

5873 Night Games. (Series; Game; CBS; 1991). Three women and three men appear on stage in their pajamas. In round one each of the girls has to answer a personal question based on openness and honesty. Her answer is rated from one to ten by the remaining five players (that rating becomes that player's point total). Round two has the men each answering a personal question and points are scored in the same manner.

Rounds Three and Four have questions that deal with creativity and sensuality. Each player is asked two questions and the rating they receive from the other players (from one to twenty) is added to their prior scores. The player with the highest score is the winner. The prize: an expenses paid date with the player he or she would most like to get to know better.

Host: Jeff Masters.

5874 Night Heat. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1985). Tom Kirkwood is a reporter-columnist for a newspaper called The Eagle. He writes the column "Night Heat" and works closely with the detectives of the Midtown South Police Station in Toronto, Canada. Tom follows the detectives on and off the job and it is through his eyes that the rewards, frustrations and comradeship of the detectives who work the night beat are seen. In addition to the detectives listed in the cast, other regulars are Nicole, the owner of the local hangout, Nicole's Bar; Helen Hogan, the wife of Lieutenant Bob Hogan; Bob Hogan, Jr., Bob's son; and Dorothy Fredericks, the prosecuting attorney.

Cast: Allan Royal (Tom Kirkwood), Jeff Wincott (Det. Frank Giambone), Scott Hylands (Det. Kevin O'Brien), Lynda Mason Green (Det. Florence "Fleece")

Toland), Wendy Crewson (Dorothy Fredericks), Sean McCann (Lt. Bob Hogan), Stephen Mendel (Det. Freddie Carson), Eugene Clark (Det. Colby Burns), Susan Hogan (Nicole), Debra Grover (Off. Elaine Jeffers), Maxine Miller (Helen Hogan), Louise Vallance (Off. Stephanie Brody), Robert McClure (Robert Hogan, Jr.). Theme Vocal: "Night Heat" by B.J. Cook.

5875 Night Partners. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 10/11/83). Feeling the need to help the police, two women (Elizabeth and Lauren) form a police auxiliary to aid the victims of violent crimes.

Elizabeth is the wife of a police officer (Glen) and the mother of two children (Francine and Sam); Lauren is a divorced secretary and the mother of a son (Josh). The unsold series was to relate Elizabeth and Lauren's experiences as they patrol the night beat (5:30 P.M. to 1:00 A.M.) under the code name Crisis One. Other Regulars: Police Chief John Wilson and Detective Roy Henderson.

Cast: Yvette Mimieux (Elizabeth McGuire), Diana Canova (Lauren Hensley), Arlen Dean Snyder (Glen McGuire), Tricia Cast (Francine McGuire), Patrick Brennan (Sam McGuire), Michael Evans (John Hensley), Larry Linville (John Wilson), Michael Cavanaugh (Roy Henderson). Guest Cast: Patricia McCormack (Sophie Mesmeth), M. Emmet Walsh (Officer Joe Kirby), Dee Dee Bridgewater (Gloria), Patti Davis (Janice), Nellie Bellflower (Battered wife), Peter Brocco (Zachary Katsulas).

5876 Night Prowl. (Pilot; Drama; Syn.; 3/58). Dick Richards is a former attorney who gave up his successful practice to become the editor of a music magazine called Take 5. Dick prowls from cafe to cafe in New York City meeting the stars of today and trying to pick the stars of tomorrow. The unsold series was to follow Dick's experiences when his work involves him with shady characters and the police, especially his friend, Lieutenant Pete Lonigan, whom he helps solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Dick says, "Dennis Day is the star of today and my pick for the star of tomorrow is Jen Bradley, who is opening at Monte's at 54th Street." When Dick meets Jen (a singer), he takes a personal interest in her plight and sets out to find her boyfriend, Hap Gordon, who has disappeared. Broadcast as "Take 5" on Studio 57 (Night Prowl was the proposed series title).

Cast: Dennis O'Keefe (Dick Richards), Jack Straw (Pete Lonigan). Guest Cast: Bethel Leslie (Jen Bradley), Dennis Day (Himself), Ray Anthony (Himself), Mike Connors (Hap Gordon), Lenore Roberts (Myra), Nestor Paiva (Monte).

5877 The Night Rider. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 5/11/79). Shortly after the murder of his parents (Marie and Jim Hollister) in New Orleans, a wealthy British woman (Lady Earl) adopts the surviving son (Charles) and takes him home to England with her. Charles is raised and educated in the finest schools and eventually becomes Sir Thomas Earl. But the memories of the past still haunt him. With a plan to avenge his parents' deaths, Sir Thomas returns to the home of his birth (New Orleans, now the 1870s). He poses as a dandy by day but becomes the mysterious Night Rider by night — a daring and powerful figure who avenges the wrongs done to innocent people. The unsold series was to relate his adventures.

Cast: David Selby (Sir Thomas Earl), Percy Rodrigues (Robert, his friend). Guest Cast: Anna Lee (Lady Earl), Michael Sharrett (Charles as a boy), Hildy Brooks (Marie Hollister), Van Williams (Jim Hollister), Curt Lowens (Hans Klaus), Pernell Roberts (Alex Sheridan), George Grizzard (Dan Kenton), Kim Catrall (Regina Kenton), Sydney Penny (Girl), Harris Yulin (Billy Baines).

5878 Night Rose. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 11/2/87). A proposed series of weekly thrillers. The pilot episode, titled "Akhbar's Daughter," tells of a young man (Bill) and his efforts to romance the mysterious daughter (Kara) of a wealthy Arabian (Akhbar) — a girl who is icy by day and passionate by night.

Cast: Christopher Atkins (Bill Bitterman), Roya Megnot (Kara), Ed Setrakian (Akhbar), Beth Laufer (Samantha), Henry Judd Baker (Najir), Rosanna Magarelli (Sister).

5879 The Night Stalker. (Pilot; Thriller; ABC; 1/11/72). The first of two pilot films for the series of the same title about Carl Kolchak, a reporter who investigates stories of the supernatural. In the first pilot (see also The Night Strangler), Carl, a reporter for the Las Vegas Daily News, seeks to prove that the murders of several young women were the act of a vampire (Janos Skorzeny). Other Regulars: Anthony Vincenzo, Carl's easily exasperated boss (the paper's managing editor).

Cast: Darren McGavin (Carl Kolchak), Simon Oakland (Anthony Vincenzo). Guest Cast: Carol Lynley (Gail Foster), Claude Akins (Warren Butcher), Charles McGraw (Ed Masterson), Barry Atwater (Janos Skorzeny), Kent Smith (Thomas Paine), Larry Linville (Dr. Robert McKenzie), Stanley Adams (Fred Herliby).

5880 Night Stalker. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 2005). A short-lived (six episode) remake of the 1970s cult classic Kolchak: The Night Stalker (the new version keeps the basic concept of the original series but presents bland characters and story lines).

Carl Kolchak is a seasoned crime reporter for the Los Angeles Beacon. He previously worked in Las Vegas and has been with the Beacon for 18 months when the series begins. Carl also has a personal vendetta to settle: find and kill the supernatural creature that killed his wife and caused him to have a mental breakdown and spend six months in a psychiatric ward.

Carl believes creatures of the supernatural are possible. Since the death of his wife by such forces, he now associates the unnatural with the various crimes he investigates (but the execution of such stories pales in comparison to the suspenseful presentation of the original series). Complicating Carl's efforts to find his wife's killer are the FBI — who consider Carl the prime suspect but can't prove it (Carl and his wife were in a car when an unknown being with considerable fur and sharp fangs, crashed through their windshield. It killed Carl's wife and left him with a huge chip on his shoulder; in turn, Carl is rarely nice to anyone). Stories follow Carl as he seeks the reason for his wife's murder — and why he was left with a strange, unknown symbol on his hand.

Other Regulars: Perri Reed, the senior reporter who works with Carl; Tony Vincenzo, the editor; and Jain McManus, the photographer who accompanies Carl and Perri.

Cast: Stuart Townsend (Carl Kolchak), Gabrielle Union (Perri Reed), Cotter Smith (Tony Vincenzo), Eric Jungmann (Jain McManus).

5881 Night Stand with Dick Dietrick. (Series; Satire; Syn.; 1995). A spoof of talk shows with a dim-witted, self-absorbed, obnoxious host (Dick Dietrick) and comical discussions on topical issues (such as sex addicts with Dick setting two such people up on a date; a salute to the post office); actors play the guests brought on to discuss topics.

Host: Timothy Stack as Dick Dietrick. Regulars: Lynne Marie Stewart, Robert Alan Beuth, Tim Silva, Christopher Darga, Jordana Capra.

5882 The Night Strangler. (Pilot; Thriller; ABC; 1/6/73). At the end of The Night Stalker, the first pilot film for Kolchak: The Night Stalker (see also The Night Stalker), newspaper reporter Carl Kolchak is asked to leave Las Vegas after he kills the vampire Janos Skorzeny in a blazing fire.

Carl is now a reporter for the Daily Chronicle, a Seattle, Washington, paper managed by his old boss from the prior title, Anthony Vincenzo. Carl now has a girlfriend (Louise) and he is still prone to cover cases involving the supernatural. Here, Carl seeks to solve a bizarre series of murders of young women: Since 1889 and every 21 years thereafter, and during an 18-day period (March 29 through April 16), six women have been murdered — found with crushed necks and partially drained of blood. He discovers the crimes were committed by Richard Malcolm, a doctor who perfected a means of immortality that requires human blood.

Wally Cox (Berry Titus), Nina Wayne (Charisma Beauty), Scott Brady (Roscoe Schubert), Ivor Francis (Dr. Christopher Webb), Margaret Hamilton (Hester Crabwell).

5883 Night Talk with Jane Whitney. (Unaired Pilot; Talk; Produced in 1992). A proposed late night talk show that was to focus on a specific topic each day (for example, the human stories behind the headlines; the issues and concerns of the working man; believable stories about personal relationships).

Host: Jane Whitney.

5884 Night Visions. (Series; Anthology; Fox; 2001). A weekly series of dramas, some with supernatural overtones, that focus on people who are suddenly confronted with unexpected (and sometimes) perilous situations. The series ran from July 12, 2001 to September 6, 2001.

Host: Henry Rollins.

5885 The Nightingales. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/19/79). As part of an experiment to team female officers as patrol car partners, the L.A.P.D. launches a program called the Nightingales and selects two beautiful undercover cops (Jenny and Cotton) to become the first team. The unsold series was to relate Jenny and Cotton's experiences as they patrol the Hollywood beat at night. The pilot episode follows their efforts to nab a criminal posing as Humphrey Bogart, reform Fingernail Dolly, a famous thief, and apprehend thieves who make their getaways in a souped-up van. Other Regulars: Big Duane, Jerry and Cotton's contact at Radio Station KIRA; and Sergeant Donovan, their superior.

Cast: Marcia Strassman (Jenny Palmermo), Colette Blonigan (Cotton Gardner), James Spinks (Big Duane), Richard Hatch (Sergeant Donovan). Guest Cast: Sheree North (Fingernail Dolly), Jerry Lacy ("Humphrey Bogart"), Dennis Redfield (Ice), Ji-Tu Cumbuka (James), Eugene Butler (Jumbo).

5886 Nightingales. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/27/88). Nightingale House is a dorm for the student nurses at Wilshire Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles. Elizabeth "Liz" McCarren is the den mother and the featured nurses are Bridget, Thea, Samantha, Becky, Julie and Lorna. The pilot like the series that followed (see next entry) relates incidents in the personal and professional lives of the girls.

Cast: Mimi Kuzak (Liz McCarren), Susan Walters (Bridget), Britta Phillips (Thea), Chelsea Field (Samantha), Kristy Swanson (Becky), Neith Hunter (Julie), Galyn Gorg (Lorna). Guest Cast: Larry Poindexter (Buzz), Reed Rudy (Tod), Fran Bennett (Nurse Ritt).

5887 Nightingales. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1989). Nightingale House is a dorm for student nurses in Los Angeles. It has 20 rooms and two clothes dryers. Christine Broderick, the director of student nursing at Wilshire Memorial Hospital, is the den mother to the featured nurses: Samantha ("Sam") Sullivan, Allyson Yates, Bridget Loring, Becky Grainger and Yolonda ("Yoyo") Puento.

Christine attended the Wellington School of Nursing in 1968; she took the job as den mother when the previous woman "took a job up north and suddenly left." At Wilshire Memorial, a teaching hospital, Christine has office 728. Samantha, who teaches "Cardio Funk" (aerobics) at the Health Club, was an alcoholic who lost custody of her daughter, Megan, to her mother, Effie Gardner; Sam is now waging a court battle to regain custody of Megan. Bridget is in the witness protection program (she witnessed a murder); and Becky mentioned she is from a town called Blue Springs.

Room 124 is the nurses' lounge at the hospital. The series has many "lingerie scenes." (Each episode features some or all the student nurses in their bras and panties. It is the first time lingerie became a "vital" part of an American series. The scenes, which included some in the opening theme, were blasted by critics and eventually caused the show's cancellation when it became "to hot to handle.")

Dr. Paul Petrillo is Christine's ex-husband; Dr. Garrett Braden is head of the hospital; and Charlene Chasen is the "evil" doctor who opposed Christine.

Relatives: Scott Curtis (Garrett's son, Scott Braden), David Gale (Becky's father, David Grainger), Carol Mayo Jenkins (Becky's mother, Evelyn Grainger), William Cort (Allyson's father). Theme: "Nightingales," by John E. Davis.

Cast: Chelsea Field (Samantha Sullivan), Kim Ulrich (Allyson Yates), Susan Walters (Bridget Loring), Kristy Swanson (Becky Grainger), Roxann Briggs (Yolonda Puento), Gil Gerard (Dr. Paul Petrillo), Barry Newman (Dr. Garrett Braden), Doran Clark (Charlene Chasen), Taylor Fry (Megan), Jennifer Rhodes (Effie Gardner).

5888 NightMan. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1997–1999). Jonathan Dominus, better known as Johnny Domino, is a musician who plays sax at the House of Soul, a jazz club in Bay City. Johnny is the son of ex cop Frank Dominus and secretly NightMan, a daring crusader who helps the police, especially Lieutenant Brianni Branca, capture felons.

Johnny's life changed one day when a sudden, freak storm erupted and engulfed him in a strange light that endowed him with the ability to hear evil (the crimes others are planning to commit). Johnny's first such "hearing" is that of a terrorist planning to bomb a communications peace conference.

Johnny, scheduled to play at the conference, alerts authorities about a potential problem, but is too late: a bomb explodes and Johnny takes the full impact of the explosion. Doctors are amazed that he is not only alive, but apparently unhurt.

At Bay City Hospital, Johnny meets Raleigh Jordan, a U.S. government scientist who developed a military defense system being sought by the enemy. Because Johnny saved Raleigh's life at the conference (by clearing people out before the bomb exploded), the terrorists are now seeking to kill both Raleigh and Johnny. Raleigh tells Johnny, "You won't be safe unless you join me." At a warehouse, Raleigh shows Johnny the reason why he is being sought: for a defense system of the future that will be sold to the highest bidder. These include a bulletproof suit with advanced stealth capabilities, a lens with targeting scanners, a laser beam, and an antigravity belt. These items transform Johnny into the mysterious NightMan.

Johnny lives at 1943 Ward Court in an apartment over the House of Soul. This becomes his and Raleigh's base of operations (later episodes find Raleigh as the club's manager).

NightMan, called "Evil's worst nightmare," is said to be "tuned to the frequency of evil" and "hunts the evil that walks in the dark." To make it appear that Johnny and NightMan are two distinct people, Raleigh has devised a special holographic device that projects a 3-D image of Johnny performing on stage at the House of Soul. This gives Johnny the perfect cover to convince everyone he is not NightMan. Brianni, the daughter of an army master sergeant, has a photographic memory (when it comes to criminal case details) and suspects Johnny is NightMan but can't prove it. Johnny drives a car called the Plymouth Prowler.

Johnny's greatest enemy is Kieran Keyes, an evil billionaire who runs the Keyzar Corporation, a computer software company he uses as a front for his plans to control the world. Keyes has invented "The Ultra Web," a computer program that digitizes users and transports them to a cyber world (where he controls them for his own sinister purposes).

Helping NightMan on occasion is Laurie, an ex-cop Johnny calls "NightWoman." Laurie suffered a spinal injury that crippled her. After experimental spinal surgery at the Leander Institute in Switzerland and with the aid of an energizer suit she developed, Laurie can walk. The suit also gives her special powers to battle evil. Laurie uses her costume to help her as a detective for her company, Woman Trouble ("I help women in trouble"). The series is based on the comic book of the same name.

Cast: Matt McColm (Jonathan Dominus), Earl Holliman (Frank Dominus), Jayne Heitmeyer (Brianna Branca), Derek Webster (Raleigh Jordan), Derwin Jordan (Raleigh Jordan; later), Kim Coates (Kieran Keyes), Deanna Milligan (Laurie Jarvis).

5889 Nightmare. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1958). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are suddenly involved in unexpected and perilous situations.

5890 Nightmare Cafe. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1992). The All Night Café is located near the docks in Los Angeles. The café has strange powers: it gives people a second chance at life, the opportunity to go back and relive a crucial moment that can alter their future existence.

A mysterious man named Blackie operates the café “for a higher authority.” Fay Peronovick is the waitress, and Frank Novak is the cook. (The café needed a new waitress and cook; Fay and Frank’s lives ended in the waters overlooking the café; Fay, when she was jilted and committed suicide; Frank, when he stumbled upon toxic waste polluters. Both were given a second chance to right their wrongs by working at the café and helping other people through personal crises.)

Blackie seems sinister (possibly a messenger of the devil) and appears to delight in the circumstances that cause a person’s downfall (he views second chance lives via a special television set in the café; he can also send Fay or Frank into that person’s life to help). Blackie calls Fay “Faysie.” Penny Fuller appeared as her mother, Victoria, and Molly Parker was Fay’s sister, Ivy. J. Peter Robinson composed the “Nightmare Café Theme.”

Cast: Robert Englund (Blackie), Lindsay Frost (Fay Peronovick), Jack Coleman (Frank Novak).

5891 Nightmare Classics. (Series; Anthology; Showtime; 1989). The program features condensed adaptations of famous horror stories.

Performers Include: Rue McClanahan, Amy Irving, Laura Dern, Denholm Elliott, Linda Hunt, Ione Skye, Lisa Marie Russell, David Hemmings, Roy Dotrice, John Doolittle, Roddy McDowall, Armelia McQueen.

5892 Nightmare Room. (Series; Anthology; WB; 2001–2002). A Saturday morning series of chilling stories aimed at teenagers that are based on the Nightmare Room books by R.L. Stine. The stories, which star teenagers, feature adults in minor roles. Children are placed in frightening situations but they are never killed or harmed.

R.L. Stein opens the show: “When the light fades and the moon rises anything can happen. The world becomes a carnival of shocks and chills. A whirling merry-go-round that never stops. Spinning faster and faster, taking you on a frightening ride. I’m R.L. Stein. Don’t fall asleep or you may find yourself in The Nightmare Room.”

Narrator: R. L. Stine. Performers Include: Madeline Zima, Keiko Agena, Allison Mack, Dakota Floeter, Kathy Wagner, George O. Gore II, Dylan Sprouse, Sam Jones III, Shelly MacLachlan, Michael Galcota, Betsy Randle.

5893 Nightmares and Dreamscapes. (Series; Anthology; TNT; 2006). A series of eight horror tales (each featuring a different cast) based on short stories by Stephen King. Each story begins as a normal presentation. A twist happens and it suddenly becomes abnormal (for example, in the first story, “Battleground,” a hit man [William Hurt] assassinates the CEO of a toy company. Suddenly toy soldiers created by the toy king come to life and attack the hit man). The series aired two back-to-back episodes over a four-week period (July–August).

Performers Include: William Hurt, William H. Macy, Jeremy Sisto, Steven Weber, Kim Delaney, Samantha Mathis, Tom Berenger, Richard Thomas, Sigrid Thornton, Andy Anderson.

5894 Nightside. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 4/15/73). Carmine Kelly is a press agent who covers the Mid-night action in New York City. His experiences “with the people who brighten up when the sun goes down” was to be the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Kelly attempts to protect his friend Smitty from the impending destruction of her restaurant by a ruthless realtor; and to help Vantura Davis, a faded movie star who has come to New York to appear on The Dick Cavett Show to promote an awful movie which, unfortunately, is her attempt at a comeback. Other Regulars: Aram, the private detective.

Cast: John Cassavetes (Carmine Kelly), Alexis Smith (Smitty), Mike Kellin (Aram Bessoyggian). Guest Cast: June Havoc (Vantura Davis), Joseph Wiseman (Grudin), Richard Jordan (Gable), Joe Santos (Jabbo), Dick Cavett (Himself), F. Murray Abraham (Acky).

5895 Nightside. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 6/8/80). Danny and Ed are two L.A.P.D. police officers who patrol the city at night. They relax, when they can, by listening to the sexy-voiced D.J., Janie Moody over KDEV radio; they find aggravation from their hot-headed watch commander (Sergeant Duckman); they get interference from Eddie Kopeck, the free-lance reporter who seeks to get the stories Danny and Ed are covering; and they find mishap from Redlight and Greenlight, two reckless ambulance drivers. The unsold series was to relate Danny and Ed’s experiences with the various characters they meet.

Cast: Doug McClure (Danny Dandoy), Michael Corneilson (Ed Macey), Roy Jenson (Sergeant Duckman), Melinda Naud (Janie Moody), Danny Wells (Eddie Kopeck), Michael D. Roberts (Greenlight), Michael Winslow (Redlight), Janice Lynde (Lily, the radio dispatcher). Guest Cast: John de Lancie (Dr. Wiley Pitts), Jason Kincaid (Dr. Samuel Hicks), Patch MacKenzie (Redhead), Sondra Blake (Maggie), Louise Ellis (Vanilla), Karen Newell (Rusty), Susan Plumb (Sharon), Doug Hume (Smitty), Wayne Hefley (Sergeant Treetorn).

5896 Nikki. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2000–2002). Nikki and Dwight White are a happily married young couple with vastly different jobs. Nikki is a gorgeous chorus girl (a calf dancer) at the Golden Calf Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas; Dwight is a wrestler who performs under the name “The Cry Baby” at the Las Vegas Pavilion (as a member of the CWF Wrestling Federation). Nikki and Dwight live at 262 Lincoln Drive, Apartment C (also seen as Apartment 25) and stories follow their efforts to survive the difficult first years of marriage.

As the series progressed, Nikki loses her job when the Golden Calf closes. She first taught children to dance at the Frances Lang School of Dance then became the weather girl on KAAC-TV’s Five O’clock News program. She next worked as the Meat Girl (hands out meat samples at the Rivera Hotel), then as Orchida (a super hero who is part girl and part flower) at the Comics Fair; a CWF cheerleader (she also wrestled as the Cheerleader of Doom) and finally as a salesgirl at American Auto Parts.

Nikki’s stunning good looks were also her biggest disappointment. She was hired by Succulent Records as a singer but was fired when she objected to them using her body with another girl’s voice.

TV fate was not kind to Dwight either. When the CWF folded, Dwight became a wrestler with the WXL league. When this was not to his liking he joined the VWF (Very Violent Wrestling). The series ended before establishing any further information.

Other Regulars: Jupiter, Dwight’s boss; Mary and Luna, Calf dancers; Martine, the choreographer; Marion, Dwight’s domineering mother; and Thor, a wrestler.

Cast: Nikki Cox (Nikki White), Nick von Es-march (Dwight White), Toby Huss (Jupiter), Christine Estabrook (Marion White), Susan Egan (Mary), Steve Valentine (Martine), Brad William Henke (Thor), Marina Benedict (Luna).

5897 Nikki and Alexander. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/16/89). While writing an article, free-lance journalist Alexander Bowman is interrupted by a knock at the door. A beautiful Russian girl named Nikki Simka, a delegate to the United Nations in New York City, enters and begins crying (having found out that the man she was in love with was married). When Alexander learns that Nikki has also lost her apartment, he offers to rent her the spare bedroom in his Greenwich Village apartment. Although the pilot ended with Nikki and Alexander as just friends, the series would have followed their romantic misadventures.

Cast: Irena Ferris (Nikki Simka), Tim Matheson (Alexander Bowman). Guest Cast: Nana Visitor (Jeri Lea), Kyle Heffner (Boyd), Alice Drummond (Mrs. Klein), Monte Markham (Bill Powers), Peter Hansen

5898 The Nine. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2006). It was a regular day. A group of people went to work but destiny brought them each to the Federal Republic Bank (also called Fidelity National Bank). Outside, two men are seen observing the bank. When it seems like the perfect opportunity, they enter the bank (with an intent to rob it) but something goes terribly wrong and nine patrons are taken hostage. The action quickly switches to a SWAT team recovering the hostages after a 52-hour stand-off. But what happened during those 52 hours? That is the premise of this serialized drama as flashbacks are used to convey the lives of these nine people before, during the hostage standoff and the after effects.

The principal players are Dr. Jeremy Kates, a noted surgeon; Nick Cavanaugh, a gambling addicted homicide cop; Kathryn Hale, an Assistant D.A.; Malcolm Jones, the bank manager; Egan Foote, a depressed and henpecked man who came to the bank to commit suicide in the men’s room; Franny and Eva Rios, sisters who are bank tellers; Felicia, Malcolm’s daughter (who was visiting her father at the time); and Lizzie Miller, a hospital social worker. Of the nine hostages, one is killed (Eve — although she is seen in flashbacks); as for the two bank robbers — Randall Reese is shot; the other, Lucas Dalton is captured. Low ratings killed the series before loose ends were tied up.

Cast: Tim Daly (Nick Cavanaugh), Kim Raver (Kathryn Hale), Chi McBride (Malcolm Jones), Camille Guaty (Franny Rios), John Billingsley (Egan Foote), Jessica Collins (Lizzie Miller), Scott Wolf (Jeremy Kates), Dana Davis (Felicia Jones), Jeffrey Price (Randall Reese), Tom Verica (Ed Nielsen), Lourdes Benedict (Eva Rios), Owain Yeoman (Lucas Dalton), Michael Emmanuel (Tom Mitchell), Kim Stanton (Naomi Jones).

5899 905-Wild. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 3/1/75). A proposed spin-off from Emergency about 905-Wild, a five-member team of the Los Angeles County Bureau of Animal Control: Doc Coolidge, the head of the team; Officers Walt Marsh, Dave Gordon and Les Taylor; and Rose, their secretary. The pilot episode relates the team’s various experiences — from capturing an escaped tiger to saving the life of a goat overcome by smoke.

5900 9 to 5. (Series; Comedy; ABC, 1982–83; Syn., 1986–88). A television adaptation of the feature film about incidents in the lives of a group of secretaries at a large corporation. When the series first began, it was set at Consolidated Industries in Cleveland, Ohio. American Household Products (AHP) in New York City became the locale in second season episodes. In 1986–87 it was Berkley Foods International, and finally (1987–88) Barkley Foods International — both of which were located at 36 East 46th Street in Manhattan.

The Sexist Bosses: Franklin Hart, Jr. (1982–1983); Dag Larson (1983) and William (“Bud”) Coleman (1986–1988). Last season episodes had one additional boss: E. Nelson Felb, the vice president of foreign sales.

The Assistants: Roz Keith, Hart’s assistant, the Budget Department head; Charmin Cunningham, Bud’s girl Friday; Harry Pearlman, a salesman (ABC); Mike Henderson, a salesman (ABC); and Russ Merman, a salesman in syndicated episodes.

The Secretaries: Violet Newstead was the secretarial supervisor (ABC); Doralee Rhoades was Hart’s secretary (ABC); in syndicated episodes, she is Doralee Brooks, secretary to Bud and married to the never-seen Curtis Brooks.

Judy Burnley was originally an office secretary (ABC); later she is Russ’s secretary. Marsha McMurray was first Charmin’s secretary, then Felb’s. Third season episodes also feature office secretary Linda Bowman.

Violet is the mother of a young son (Tommy) and has the maiden name of Fernandez. To make extra money, she sold Loverware (sexy lingerie). Judy, whose maiden name is Zendell, lives in Manhattan on West 48th Street. Doralee, who is sweet and trusting, lives in an apartment at 102 West 72nd Street. Franklin is a Republican and, while he may be a sexist, does go out on a limb for his secretaries — “Didn’t I break all the rules to get you Sweet and Low for the coffee room?” The E in Nelson’s name stands for Excellent, and his nickname is “Spanky.”

Bud was the vice president of acquisitions. While the president of Berkley Foods is not seen, his daughter, Evelyn Berkley was. In a rare sitcom appearance, Jane Fonda played O’Neal, the security guard, in the episode of 10/12/82; her guard dog was named Nunzio.

Relatives: Lawrence Pressman (Marsha’s ex-husband, Don), Gail Strickland (Franklin’s wife, Lois Hart), Tony LaTorre (Violet’s son, Tommy Newstead), Maylo McCaslin (Felb’s niece, Debbie Felb), Eileen Heckart (Judy’s mother). Phoebe Snow then Dolly Parton perform the theme “9 to 5.”

Cast: Rita Morena (Violet Newstead), Rachel Dennison (Doralee Rhoades), Valerie Curtin (Judy Burnley), Leah Ayres (Linda Bowman), Jeffrey Tambor (Franklin Hart, Jr.), Peter Bonerz (Franklin Hart, Jr.; later), Jean Marsh (Roz Keith), Herb Edelman (Harry Pearlman), George Deloy (Mike Anderson), Peggy Pope (Betty), Suzanne Stone (Roberta), Mary Farrell (Denise), Ann Weldon (Claire), Peter Hobbs (Mr. O’Malley), Leah Ayres (Linda Bowman), James Komack (Dag Larson), Robin Dearden (Evelyn Berkley), Jane Fonda (O’Neal).

5901 The 1900 House. (Series; Reality; PBS; 1999). A British produced reality series that goes back in time — to the year 1900 for a family to experience life as it was then. A volunteer family (the Bowlers) are placed in a house just as it would have appeared in 1900. The family must wear clothes of the era and live just as a real family would have lived in the era (they are not permitted to use any items invented after 1900). Individual family members are allowed only one modern convenience — a TV camera placed in a special room to allow them to speak directly to it and convey their feelings as they live in the past.

Cast: Paul Bowler, Kathryn Bowler, Ruth Bowler, Hilary Bowler, Herself, Joseph Bowler, Joyce Bowler.
Narrator: Henry Strozier.

5902 90 Bristol Court. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1964–1965). The overall title for three family comedies that are set against the background of 90 Bristol Court, a fashionable but fictitious apartment-motel in Southern California. For information on the three series that aired, see the following titles: Harris Against the World, Karen (1964 version with Debbie Watson) and Tom, Dick and Harry. The series, which produced 13 episodes (of each comedy) ran from October 5, 1964 to January 4, 1965.

5903 Ninja Turtles: The Next Mutation. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 1997–1998). A live action series based on the animated Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles (see entry). Five turtles (not four as in the original version) are abandoned and fall into a New York City sewer. They come in contact with a mysterious green substance that transforms them into human-like creatures. Four (Michelangelo, Donatello, Leonardo and Raphael) are found by Master Splinter, a ninja master (turned into a rat by the green substance); the fifth turtle, a girl (Venus de Milo), is found by Chung I, a Shinobi Master (who whisked her off to China to teach her the way of the Shinobi [Ninja]). Her brothers were taught the martial arts by Master Splinter to battle the Dragon Lord, an evil dictator and leader of an army of dragons called the Rank. The new series reunites Venus (who returns to New York) with her brothers to help them battle evil and keep the city safe from the Dragon Lord.

Lindbjerg (Venus de Milo), Christopher Gaze (Dragon Lord), Andrew Kavadas (Rank Lieutenant), Chang Tseng (Chung I).

5904 Nip/Tuck. (Series; Drama; FX; 2003–). Sean McNamara and Christian Troy are plastic surgeons based in Miami Beach, Florida. They are friends but as different as night and day. Sean is a timid family man who devotes all his efforts to his work to avoid facing his dysfunctional family: his oversexed and vengeful wife, Julia; his rebellious teenage son, Matt; and his pre-teenage daughter, Annie. Christian has the “qualities” Sean wishes he sometimes wants, but could never live with himself if he were to imitate them. Christian is an arrogant ladies’ man who worships money and will go to any lengths to get it (including seducing woman and blackmail).

Sean and Christian are unlikely friends who share a practice. Stories follow not only the events in the lives of the doctors, but in the patients who come for them for life changing surgery. Sean has also strained their relationship when he takes pity on the victims of a slasher-rapist and offers to restore these women’s looks for free (something the unethical Christian can’t comprehend).

Beginning with the episode of October 30, 2007, Christian and Sean leave their Miami practice for hopeful greener pastures in Hollywood, California. Stories, which still focus on people seeking plastic surgery to improve their looks, and on the private lives of the doctors, also details their efforts to establish a new practice.

Shortly after finding a new office, they acquire an agent named Fiona who not only supplies them with potential patients but also with jobs as consultants on Hearts ‘n’ Scalpels, a television program produced by Freddy Prune. Carly Summers is the show’s star; Bob Easton is the studio executive; Mistress Dark Pain is the dominatrix who abuses Bob.

Cast: Dylan Walsh (Sean McNamara), Julian McMahon (Christian Troy), Joely Richardson (Julia McNamara), John Hensley (Matt McNamara), Kelsey-Lynn Batelaan (Annie McNamara), Roma Maffia (Dr. Liz Cruz), Bruno Campos (Dr. Quentin Costa), Valerie Cruz (Grace Santiago), Jessalyn Gilsig (Gina Russ), Linda Klein (Nurse Linda), Kelly Carlson (Kimber Henry), Brooke Shields (Faith Wolper), Famke Janssen (Ava Moore), Robert LaSardo (Escobar Gallardo), Lauren Hutton (Fiona), Oliver Platt (Freddy Prune), Daphne Zuniga (Carly Summers), Craig Bierko (Bob Easton), Tia Carrere (Mistress Dark Pain).

5905 No Complaints. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/24/85). After a 12-year absence, former college roommates and best friends Valerie Anastas (a housewife with two children, Melanie and Raymond) and Joanna Newman (a vice president with the advertising firm of Burkin, Wain and Burkin) resume their friendship when they meet again. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures of two best friends. In the pilot episode, Valerie and Joanna meet for the first time after graduation and are amazed by the drastic changes in their lives — so much so that jealousy on Valerie’s part threatens to destroy their friendship. Other Regulars: Nick, Valerie’s husband; Jack, Joanna’s boss; and Michael, Jack’s junior partner.

5906 No Holds Barred. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1980). A look at the crackpot side of contemporary American life via film and videotaped segments. The series premiered on September 12, 1980 and ended on October 3, 1980 after airing only four episodes.

Host: Kelly Monteith. Theme Music: Lou Christie.

5907 No — Honestly. (Series; Comedy; PBS; 1975). The courtship and early-married life of the Danbys: Charles, an actor, and his scatterbrained wife, Clara, author of “Ollie the Otter” stories for children. The Danbys live in England and, although she means well, Clara’s good intentions always backfire and involve Charles in embarrassing situations that he must always resolve.

Other Regulars: Lord and Lady Burrell, Clara’s parents; and Royal, the Burrell’s butler.

Cast: John Addison (Charles Danby), Pauline Collins (Clara Danby), James Berwick (Lord Burrell), Fanny Rowe (Lady Burrell), Kenneth Benda (Royal).

5908 No Place Like Home. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/6/85). When Diana Bellamy and Marsha Brayfield, friends since childhood, come to the conclusion that the only way they can afford their lifelong dream of owning a home is to buy one together, they convince their mates of the decision. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures of Diana (and her live-in boyfriend, Murray) and Marsha (and her husband, Paul) as they attempt to share a house. In the pilot episode, Murray attempts to raise the $400 he needs for his share of the rent.

Cast: Susan Hess (Diana Bellamy), Molly Cheek (Marsha Brayfield), Rick Lohman (Paul Brayfield), Jack Blessing (Murray McCoy). Guest Cast: Erica Yohn (Roxy), Archie Hahn (Rick), Jeff Silverman (Benny).

5909 No Soap, Radio. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1982). The floundering Hotel Pelican in Atlantic City, New Jersey, is the setting for a five-episode program about the antics of the staff and residents of the establishment. Stories are frequently interrupted by nonsensical skits and anything that can generate a laugh — from sight gags to sound effects — creating “comedy that’s impossible to describe.” The fifth episode, scheduled for May 13, never aired on the East coast due to preemption by a Presidential news conference. Regulars: Roger, the proprietor; Sharon, the desk clerk; Al, the house detective; Morris, the bellboy; and hotel residents Mr. Plitzky, Mrs. Belmont, Marian, Gunther (Marian’s husband) and Victoria.

5910 No Time for Sergeants. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1964–1965). Will Stockdale is a naïve Georgia farm boy who suddenly finds his life turned upside down when he is drafted into the United States Air Force. Will has a philosophy of kindness (which displeases his superior officers) and is lost in a world he has never known before. Will is awkward and amazed by what he sees and determined to make the Air Force proud of him. Stories follow Will as he tries to what is best for the Air Force — no matter how many times he receives KP (Kitchen Patrol) for all the foul ups he causes.

Millie Anderson is Will’s girlfriend; Grandpa Anderson is Millie’s grandfather; Tilda Jay Stockdale is Will’s sister; Pa Stockdale is Will’s father; other Air Force personnel are listed in the cast. Will’s dog is named Blue. Based on the feature film.

Cast: Sammy Jackson (Will Stockdale), Harry Hickox (Sgt. Orville King), Paul Smith (Capt. Paul Martin), Kevin O’Neil (Pvt. Ben Whitley), Laurie Sibbald (Millie Anderson), Andy Clyde (Grandpa Anderson), Greg Benedict (Pvt. Irving Blanchard), Michael McDonald (Pvt. Jack Langdon), Joe E. Tata (Private Neddick), Hayden Rorke (Colonel Farnsworth), Stacey Maxwell (Tilda Jay Stockdale), Frank Ferguson (Pa Stockdale).

5911 No Warning. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1958). A short-lived, revised version of Panic. Dramas that depict the plight of people whose lives are suddenly thrown into turmoil by an unexpected crisis. The series, which produced 13 episodes, ran from April 6, 1958 to September 7, 1958.

Performers Include: Marsha Hunt, Leon Ames, Richard Bull, Elisha Cook, Jr., Mercedes McCambridge, Ann Rutherford, Robert Fuller, Everett Sloane, Bruce Bennett, Eduardo Ciannelli, Lola Albright, Whit Bissell, Ronnie Burns, Richard Jaeckel, Paul Stewart. Narrator: Westbrook Van Voorhis.

5912 Noah’s Arc. (Series; Drama; Logo; 2005). While Showtime’s The L-Word focuses on lesbians, Logo’s Noah’s Arc tells the story of a group of gay men living in Los Angeles. The principals are Noah Nicholson and his romantic interest Wade, both screenwriters (although Wade is an established pro and Noah is struggling to make his mark in the film industry); Alex Kirby, an HIV/AIDS counselor; Trey, an anesthesiologist; and Ricky, the owner of an exclusive clothing store. Stories follow the men as they face the pressures of everyday life — made much more difficult by the fact that they are gay.

Cast: Darryl Stephens (Noah Nicholson), Rodney Chester (Alex Kirby), Christian Vincent (Ricky Davis), Douglas Spearman (Chance Counter), Jensen Atwood (Wade), Gregory Keith (Trey), Jennia Fredeique (Brandy), Merwin Mondesir (Dre), Wilson Cruz (Junito), Benjamin Patterson (Guy), Jonathan Julian (Eddie), Sahara Davis (Kenya).

5913 Noah’s Ark. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1956–1957). Dr. Sam Rinehart is an ill and aging veterinarian who is also wheelchair bound. Dr. Noah McCann is the young assistant he hires to assist him at his veterinary clinic. Stories follow the dedicated veterinarians as they use time tested methods (those of Sam) with the new theories of animal treatment (as introduced by Noah) to serve the people of their community. Liz is their nurse-secretary; Agnes Marshall is Sam’s daughter (a widow); Davy is her son.

Cast: Paul Burke (Dr. Noah McCann), Vic Rodman (Dr. Sam Rinehart), May Wynn (Nurse Liz Clark), Natalie Masters (Agnes Marshall), Paul Engle (Davy Marshall), Russell Whitney (Glenn White). Theme Vocal: “Noah” by the Hi-Lo’s.

5914 Noble Quest. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1991). Ty Nuygen was born in Vietnam during the war. Twenty years later, Ty makes a pledge to his dying mother to find his American father. The unsold series was to relate Ty’s travels across the U.S. as he searches for the father he has never known.

Cast: Keith Cooke (Ty Nuygen).

5915 Nobody’s Perfect. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980). As part of an exchange program, Roger Hart, a brilliant Scotland Yard inspector is assigned to duty with the San Francisco Police Department’s 22nd Precinct. Hart is teamed with a beautiful officer (Jennifer Dempsey) and stories relate Hart’s exploits as he investigates crimes and struggles to overcome his one imperfection: he is calamity-prone.

Other Regulars: Lieutenant Vince DeGennaro, their superior; Dreyfus, the lab technician; and Careful Eddie, Hart's informant. Originally titled Hart of San Francisco but changed due to a possible title confusion with Hart to Hart.

Cast: Ron Moody (Roger Hart), Cassie Yates (Jennifer Dempsey), Michael Durrell (Vince DeGennaro), Greg Monaghan (Dreyfus), Danny Wells (Careful Eddie).

5916 The Noel Edmonds Show. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/21 to 6/27/86). A five-episode pilot for an unsold late night potpourri of music, comedy, unusual variety acts and celebrity interviews.

Host: Noel Edmonds.

5917 The Noonday Show. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 12/15 to 12/19/75). A five-episode attempt at a daily series of news, music and comedy. Marty Pasetta is the producer.

Host: David Steinberg. Regulars: Carol Anderson, Stan Cann, Jane Dulo, Gailard Sartain, Bill Saluga. Music: David Foster.

5918 N.O.P.D. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1956). Victor Beaujac and John Conroy are detectives with the homicide division of the New Orleans Police Department (N.O.P.D.). Stories, based on official N.O.P.D. files, relate their investigations in a Dragnet style presentation that is rather primitive (in terms of the acting and camerawork) and slow-moving (the writing). The series is also filmed on location, and it appears that actual citizens were used in the dramas (acting is not their forte; only the two stars receive credit). Stacy Harris plays his character like Jack Webb's Sergeant Joe Friday on Dragnet. He narrates and questions the suspects while Conroy, whom Victor calls "John-O," takes notes. Victor resides in an apartment on Bourbon Street, while John was said to have a home on Shady Pine Avenue. N.O.P.D. is one of the lost series of early television. Virtually nothing was known about the program prior to the information uncovered here; even after the acquisition of episodes, information is still very limited.

An announcer speaks over a visual of a police badge: "This is the official emblem of the New Orleans Police Department. You are about to witness a true story of a crime from the official files of the N.O.P.D. The names of all persons actually involved have been changed."

Cast: Stacy Harris (Det. Victor Beaujac), Louis J. Sirgo (Det. John Conroy).

5919 Norby. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1955). Pearl River, New York, is the setting. It is here that Pearson Norby, the vice president of small loans at the First National Bank, lives with his family (his wife Helen and their children Diane and Hank). Pearson is an easy-going, kind-hearted man and stories relate the events in his life as he struggles to cope with the problems he encounters at home and at work. Bobo and his wife Maureen are their neighbors; Wahleen Johnson is the bank telephone operator; Maude Endles is the bank president; Mr. Rudge is the bank efficiency expert.

Cast: David Wayne (Pearson Norby), Joan Loring (Helen Norby), Susan Holloran (Diane Norby), Evan Elliott (Hank Norby), Jack Warden (Bobo), Maxine Stuart (Maureen), Janice Mars (Wahleen Johnson), Paul Ford (Bank President), Carol Veazie (Maude Endles), Ralph Dunn (Mr. Rudge).

5920 Norfn Adventures. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 10/31/93). Norfins are "the original trolls" as they call themselves. Sherlock, Aggie, Bogie and Herc are the good Norfins. Dr. Doom is an evil Norfn who is seeking the key to unlimited power. The unsold series was to follow the good Norfins as they attempt to find Olaf's Opal — the key to unlocking the mystery of ultimate power — before Dr. Doom.

Voices: Don Brown, Mike Donovan, Michael Benyaer, Saffron Henderson, Andrew Kavadas, Sam Kouth, Doug Parker, Kathy Weseluck.

5921 The Norliss Tapes. (Pilot; Thriller; NBC; 2/21/73). David Norliss is a San Francisco-based writer who investigates supernatural occurrences. As he covers stories he records his notes on audio tape (hence the title) and later transcribes them for a book. The unsold series was to relate David's adventures as he, like Carl Kolchak (see Kolchak: The Night Stalker) becomes involved in unearthly situations. In the pilot episode, David attempts to solve a series of murders committed by a zombie-like reincarnation of a deceased sculptor.

Cast: Roy Thinnes (David Norliss), Don Porter (Sanford Evans, his publisher). Guest Cast: Angie Dickinson (Ellen Cort), Michele Carey (Marsha Sterns), Claude Akins (Sheriff Tom Hartley), Nick Dimitri (James Cort), VONETTA McGEE (Madame Jechiel), Jane Dulo (Sara Dobkins), Hurd Hatfield (Charles Langdon).

5922 The Norm Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1999–2001). Norm Henderson is a man who likes to gamble. He was also a professional hockey player but not considered very good. Combine sports with gambling and tax evasion and you have the predicament Norm finds himself—caught, busted and banned from playing hockey. As part of his sentence, Norm is assigned to community service with the New York City Department of Social Services. Stories follow Norm's antics as he tries to pay off his tax bill, avoid gambling and try to help people who really need help (despite the fact that Norm is not overly qualified to help people).

Other Regulars: Laurie Freeman, Norm's co-worker; Max Denby, the harassed head of the agency; and Shelley Kilmartin, Danny Sanchez, Taylor Clayton and Amy Wilson, other social service workers.

Cast: Norm MacDonald (Norm Henderson), Laurie Metcalf (Laurie Freeman), Max Wright (Max Denby), Faith Ford (Shelley Kilmartin), Ian Gomez (Danny Sanchez), Nikki Cox (Taylor Clayton), Amy Wilson (Molly Carver), Artie Lange (Artie Henderson).

5923 Norma Rae. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 11/21/81). Norma Rae Webster is a mill hen (a textile mill worker) in the small town of Oakalona. She is a widow and the mother of two children (Willie and Craig). Norma is also a fighter and is struggling to unionize the workers at the mill. The unsold series, based on the 1979 feature film of the same title, was to relate Norma Rae's experiences at work and at home. In the pilot episode, titled "A Matter of the Heart," Frank Osborne, the father of Norma Rae's illegitimate son (Craig) brings her to court in an attempt to gain custody of the boy. Other Regulars: Vernon, Norma's father; Alma, the woman who boards at Vernon's home; Reuben, Norma's friend; and William and Emery, mill workers.

Cast: Cassie Yates (Norma Rae Webster), Nancy Jarnagin (Willie Webster), Keith Mitchell (Craig Webster), Barry Corbin (Vernon Witchard), Jane Atkins (Alma Woodruff), Jordan Clarke (Frank Osborne), Gary Frank (Reuben), Ernest Hardin, Jr. (William Poole), Mickey Jones (Emery). Guest Cast: Richard Dysart (Judge Elvin Allen), James T. Hall (Clay Johnson), Enid Kent (Waitress), Ed Call (Bossman), Jack Garner (Bailiff).

5924 Normal Life. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990). Incidents in the lives of the Harlows, a "normal" family of five living in Los Angeles. Max Harlow, the father, is a novelist (supposedly famous, but titles of books he has written were not given). Anne, his wife, is seldom content, harassed either by her job or by the antics of her children. Since the series was not broadcast in the order the episodes were made, information on Anne is not consistent. When first seen, Anne apparently worked for a lawyer (based on a conversation with Max). She next worked as a member of the school board. She quit this job when she got fed up with the school board's ignoring her suggestions. Two episodes later, she is now head of the public school board, 5th District. In an episode after this, she is unemployed. When something upsets Anne, she takes a long bath.

Information on Tess, their oldest child, is also conflicting. When first introduced, she is 22 years old and working for New Market Films in Hollywood. Later, she is 21 years old and looking for a job (having just quit her job as a tour guide at the Hollywood Wax Museum). One week she is living at home, the next she has her own apartment "seven blocks away." In one episode, when she is not living at home, Tess has a job in an unnamed art gallery. She and her best friend, the seemingly spaced-out Prima, have their hair done at a salon called Chez Brad. Her favorite dinner is lasagna.

Jake, the middle child (19 years old), plays guitar in a professional band. While it is difficult to tell, it seems that he is attending college. Jake, who makes video movies featured Tess in two: "Tess Flosses Her Teeth" and "Tess Moves Out."

Simon, the youngest child, attends Valley Junior High School and is a member of the Wildcats basketball team. Dr. Bob Gordon is the Harlows' neighbor. Bill Morey appeared as Anne's father, Jesse. Theme: "Normal Life," by Dweezil Zappa.

Note: In the unaired pilot version (produced in 1989), Janet Margolin played Anne Harlow.

Cast: Cindy Williams (Anne Harlow), Max Gail (Max Harlow), Moon Unit Zappa (Tess Harlow), Dweezil Zappa (Jake Harlow), Josh Williams (Simon Harlow), Bess Myer (Prima), Jim Staahl (Dr. Bob Gordon).

5925 Normal, Ohio. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2000). Butch Gamble is a construction worker who lives in Normal, Ohio. He is the son of Bill and Joan Gamble, is divorced from Elizabeth, and is the father of Charlie. Butch also has a divorced sister, Pamela. Elizabeth has now re-married (to Danny). Butch's life, however, is not normal. He has a deep dark secret and after years of living with it, he chose to come out of the closet and profess to being gay. Butch is now happy although living his new life style is not as easy as he thought it would be as he is the guiding light of his eccentric family. Stories follow Butch's efforts to help his family overcome their numerous problems — while attempting (but never really succeeding) to start his new life style.

Other Regulars: Kimberly, Pamela's daughter and Robbie, Pamela's son. Pamela is a beautician who yearns to start her own business in a nail salon. To earn extra money for her salon, Pamela attempted to strip — as the Blushing Bride — at the Nude Ranch (but when it came to actually doing it, she couldn't). But Pamela's dream did come true; her father loaned her the money to take her Nails by Pamela basement business to a store called Pamela's Institute of Cuticle care.

Bill is a member of the Southside Poker Club; Joan teaches Sunday school at the local church. Kimberly works as the maitre'd at Joshua's Grill, a restaurant. Butch likes left over cake for breakfast and as a kid had a doll named Sally (that he stole from Pamela). Danny is addicted to the Weather Channel (especially the girls) and calls such people "Weatherheads."

Cast: John Goodman (Butch Gamble), Orson Bean (Bill Gamble), Anita Gillette (Joan Gamble), Joely Fisher (Pamela Miller), Julia McIlvaine (Kimberly Miller), Cody Kasch (Robbie Miller), Mo Gaffney (Elizabeth Gamble), Charles Rocket (Danny Miller), Greg Pitts (Charlie Gamble).

5926 Norman Corwin Presents. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1971). Writer Norman Corwin is the host for a weekly series of original dramatic presentations.

5927 The North Shore. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2004). The Grand Waimea is a luxurious hotel located on the North Shore of Hawaii. Jason Matthews is the hotel's general manager while his ex-girlfriend, the gorgeous Nicole Booth, is the head of guest relations, a position she took to make it on her own in the business world (she felt stifled by her father, the owner a hotel empire). Stories focus on the events in the lives of both the staff and guests of the hotel.

Other Regulars: Chris Remsen, the owner of the adventures company that works the hotel; M.J. Beavans, the hotel waitress; Gabriel Miller, the lifeguard; Frankie Seau; Tessa Lewis, a con artist who works as the hotel's receptionist.

Cast: Brooke Burns (Nicole Booth), Kristoffer Polaha (Jason Matthews), Jay Kennedy Johnson (Chris Remsen), Nikki DeLoach (M.J. Beavans), Jason Momoa (Frankie Seau), Corey Sevier (Gabriel Miller), Amanda Righetti (Tessa Lewis), James Remar (Vincent Colville).

5928 Northern Exposure. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1990–1995). After 74 rejections for a medical school scholarship, Joel Fleischman finds that the state of Alaska will pick up the $125,000 tab if he will begin his practice (and spend four years) in Alaska. Joel attended Richfield High School, Columbia University Medical School and did his internship at Beth Sinai Hospital in New York City.

Joel leaves his home in Flushing, New York, and his girlfriend, Elaine Schulman (Jessica Lundy), and heads for Alaska. In Anchorage, Joel finds that he has been assigned to the remote town of Cicely — a growing community in the borough of Arrowhead (which was founded by Maurice Minifield, a former NASA astronaut, who arranged for Joel's scholarship).

Cicely is a small town desperately in need of a doctor. It has a population of 215 (214 until Joel arrived) and an elevation of 6,572 feet. Joel's office is established in the abandoned Northwestern Mining building, and a native woman named Marilyn Whirlwind serves as his nurse. A threat to the town is Jessie, a Great Bear that roams the area (the bear is missing two toes, which were shot off by Holling Vincoeur, the owner of the Brick Bar; Rosalyn's Café is the local eatery). In addition to Jessie, a legendary man-beast named Adam (Adam Arkin) is believed to be living in the great woods that surround the town.

The kind mountain man married Eve (Valerie Mahaffey) in the episode of 5/11/92.

Maurice served with the marines and was stationed on Parris Island. He likes gourmet cooking and show tunes.

Margaret ("Maggie") Mary O'Connell, a pretty brunette who was born in Michigan, is Joel's landlady and the owner of the one plane O'Connell Air Taxi Service.

Shelley Tambo, the beautiful young wife (age 23) of Holling (age 68), is the waitress at the Brick Bar; she won the beauty pageant title "Miss Northwest Passage."

Chris Stevens, who was born in West Virginia, is the only D.J. on the town's only radio station, KBHR (57 on the AM dial; "Great Bear Radio," as it is called, is owned by the Minifield Communications Network). Ed Chigliak is a native Alaskan who assists Joel.

In last season episodes, when Joel's relationship with Maggie fizzles, he leaves Cicely and retreats to the nearby fishing village of the Manonash tribe. He returned several months later and was let out of his contract. He returned to New York to begin a new practice. Maggie was elected mayor of Cicely. The series is filmed in Roslyn, Washington.

Relatives: John McCann (Maggie's father, Frank O'Connell), Bibi Besch (Maggie's mother), Anthony Curry (Shelley's father, Gordon Tambo), Wendy Schaal (Shelley's young stepmother, Tammy Tambo), Rob Morrow (Joel's twin brother, Jules Fleischman).

Cast: Rob Morrow (Joel Fleischman), Janine Turner (Maggie O'Connell), Barry Corbin (Maurice Minifield), John Cullum (Holling Vincoeur), Cynthia Geary (Shelley Tambo), John Corbett (Chris Stevens), Darren E. Burrows (Ed), Elaine Miles (Marilyn Whirlwind). Theme: "Northern Exposure" by David Schwartz.

5929 Northstar. (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 8/10/86). During a NASA mission to photograph an eclipse in space, a solar disturbance releases a beam of light that enters the camera lens of astronaut Jack North. Jack is temporarily blinded but on his first exposure to sunlight (after a two-week hospital stay) it is discovered that ultra violet sun light can accelerate his IQ to 1000. It is also learned that Jack has the ability to command his brain and accelerate his senses — but also that prolonged exposure to the sun can kill him. By wearing a special pair of sunglasses developed by Dr. Allison Taylor, Jack can now live like a normal person. The unsold series was to relate Jack's exploits, as an agent for Operation Northstar, as he uses his unique abilities to solve impossible problems. In the pilot episode, Jack and Allison investigate the death of a fellow scientist who died under mysterious circumstances.

Cast: Greg Evigan (Major Jack North), Deborah

5930 Northwest Passage. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1958–1959). The era of the French and Indian Wars (1754–1759) is the setting. It is at this time that Major Robert Rogers, an explorer and Indian fighter, organizes a group of men (his Rogers Rangers) to search for the fabled Northwest Passage, a waterway that links the East and West. Stories, based on fact, relate the experiences of Rogers and his men as they brave the American wilderness (in upper New York State and Eastern Canada) and help settlers in a savage era.

Cast: Keith Larsen (Major Robert Rogers), Buddy Ebsen (Sgt. Hunk Marriner), Don Burnett (Ensign Langdon Towne), Philip Tonge (General Amherst), Lisa Davis (Natula), Larry Chance (Black Wolf), Jim Hayward (Jonas), Pat Hogan (Rivas).

5931 Northwest Passage. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1989). Crime prevention in a small Pacific Northwest town as seen through the eyes of its sheriff, Harry Truman. In the pilot episode, FBI agent Dale Cooper assists Truman in the search for a serial killer. With changes, it became the basis for the series Twin Peaks.

Cast: Michael Ontkean (Harry Truman), Kyle MacLachlan (Dale Cooper), Piper Laurie (Katherine Packard), Joan Chen (Jocelyn Packard), Brad Douirif (Jerry Horne), Richard Beymer (Benjamin Horne), Jim Marshall (James Hurley), Lara Flynn Boyle (Donna Hayward), Everett McGill (Ed Harley), Dana Ashbrook (Bobby Briggs).

5932 Not for Hire. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1959). Steve Dekker is a sergeant with the U.S. Army's Criminal Investigation Division. His job is to investigate crimes associated with the military: desertion, sabotage and hijacking. Steve is assisted by Sonica Zametoo, a WAC, and Corporal Zimmerman. Stories relate their efforts to solve such cases without help from outside authorities (such as local police departments). The series is also known as Sergeant Steve Dekker.

Cast: Ralph Meeker (Steve Dekker), Elizabeth Rush (Sonica Zametoo), Ken Drake (Corporal Zimmerman).

5933 Not for Publication. (Series; Drama; DuMont; 1951). Stories of human interest (later, the facts behind the headline making stories) as seen through the eyes of a man known only as Collins, a mild-mannered but persistent reporter for the New York Ledger. The series is also known as Reporter Collins.

Cast: William Adler (Reporter Collins), Jerome Cowan (Reporter Collins; later).

5934 Not for Women Only. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1972). A daily series that has a panel discussing and presenting their personal views on current issues. The title is meant to reflect the fact that although it is a daytime show (which are normally aimed at housewives) men are invited to become a part of the viewing audience.

Hosts: Barbara Walters, Hugh Downs, Aline Saarinen, Polly Bergen, Lynn Redgrave, Frank Field.

5935 Not in Front of the Kids. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/16/84). Ben and Millie Rosen are a middle-aged couple who are caring for Amy and Jimmy, their grandchildren, while their parents are away on business. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps that occur as the older and younger generations attempt to adapt to each other. Other Regulars: Iris, their neighbor.

Cast: Don Ameche (Ben Rosen), Katherine Helmond (Millie Rosen), Amanda Herman (Amy), Jason Naylor (Jimmy), Bette Ford (Irish Bunch). Guest Cast: Liz Torres (Airport official), Robin Bach (Man).

5936 Not Necessarily the News. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1983). Actual news footage (slightly edited for laughs) is combined with sketches and blackouts to satirize television news programs. Based on the British series Not the Nine o'Clock News (see entry).

Regulars: Anne Bloom, Danny Breen, Rich Hall, Mitchell Lawrence, Audrie Neenan, Stuart Pankin, Lucy Webb (Regular). Announcer: Bill Martin.

5937 Not the Nine o'Clock News. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1981). Topical skits that spoof current events and television news programs. The British series that served as the basis for Not Necessarily the News.

Reporters: Rowan Atkinson, Pamela Stephenson, Mel Smith, Griff Rhys Jones. Regulars: Chris Langham, Oscar James, Vicki Silva, Nick Rowley, Phil Goddard, David Renwick, Hugh Thomas, Bill Connelly, Andy Hamilton, Sue Chisholm, Stewart Fell.

5938 Not Until Today. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/27/79). Jason Swan is a small town police chief whose life suddenly changes when a young man (Jake Warren) shows up claiming to be his illegitimate son. The unsold series was to focus on the relationship between a father and son as they struggle to become a family and share each other's interests. Other Regulars: Mae, Jason's sister; Father Francis Dacey, Jason's friend; and Sally, the waitress.

Cast: Darren McGavin (Jason Swan), Michael Horton (Jake Warren), Lynn Carlin (Mae), Dick Sargent (Father Francis Dacey), Alexandra Stoddard (Sally).

5939 Notes from the Underbelly. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2007–2008). Lauren and Andrew Stone are a married couple who live at 446 Citrus Avenue in Los Angeles, California. Lauren is a guidance counselor at Oakmont High School; Andrew works as a landscape architect. Andrew loves Lauren — “But she’s a huge pain in the ass.”

Lauren and Andrew are also in their early thirties and looking forward to (but facing all the obstacles of) their first pregnancy. Andrew had wanted children and had tried everything to convince Lauren, but Lauren felt she was not ready (she still had a lot to accomplish). Then one day, three years later, Lauren felt her life was suddenly missing something. She stopped taking the pill and on the first night without it, she became pregnant. Lauren and Andrew now look at life in a whole new light as they are about to become parents.

Lauren is especially affected as she experiences the joys, frustration and strange food cravings her first pregnancy causes her. Andrew does her every bidding. Still she’s a pain, he says, “but sometimes I can be a pain in the ass too.”

Cooper, a gorgeous divorce lawyer, is Lauren’s friend; Julie and Eric are Andrew and Lauren’s married friends (Julie is also pregnant); Danny is Andrew’s friend, a slacker who plays piano near the escalator of the women’s shoe department at Nortsrom’s.

Cast: Jennifer Westfeldt (Lauren Stone), Peter Cambor (Andrew Stone), Rachael Harris (Cooper), Melanie Paxon (Julie), Sunrish Bala (Eric), Michael Weaver (Danny).

5940 Nothing But the Best. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1953). A summer program of celebrity interviews and performances by guests with actor Eddie Albert as the host. The series ran from July 7, 1953 to September 13, 1953 and the Skitch Henderson Trio provided the music.

5941 Nothing But the Truth. (Series; Game; CBS; 1956). Three contestants appear and each claims to be the same person. A short biography concerning the person is read by the host. Through a series of indirect question and answer rounds, a celebrity panel has to determine which contestant is telling the truth. The series became To Tell the Truth three weeks after its premiere. The series, which produced two episodes under this title, ran from December 18, 1956 to December 25, 1956.

Host: John Cameron Swayze (12/18/56), Clayton “Bud” Collyer (12/25/56). Panelists: Polly Bergen, Dick Van Dyke, Mike Wallace.

5942 Nothing in Common. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1987). David Basner is head of David Basner & Associates, a struggling advertising agency in Chicago. Max Basner, his recently divorced father, is a salesman for the Applebaum Toy Company.

David is also struggling to live his own life, but finds constant interference from Max, who feels it is his duty to guide him. Stories follow the efforts of a father and son who have nothing in common to get along with one another. Based on the 1986 feature film of the same title. Other Regulars: David’s employees: Jacqueline, Victoria, Norma, Roland, Mark, Myron and Joey D.

Cast: Todd Waring (David Basner), Bill Macy (Max Basner), Wendy Kilbourne (Jacqueline North), Elizabeth Bennett (Victoria Upton-Smythe), Mona Lyden (Norma Starr), Paul Tinder (Roland Reed), Bill Applebaum (Mark Glick), Patrick Richwood (Myron Nipper), Billy Worth (Joey D.).

5943 Nothing Is Easy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1987). A revised version of Together We Stand. Following the death of her husband in a car accident, Lori Randall secures a job and enrolls in school to become a court stenographer. She is now a single mother to her natural children, Amy and Jack, and her adopted children, Sally and Sam. Stories follow the events in the lives of the Randall’s as Lori struggles to cope with work, school and raising four mischievous children. Marion is Lori’s neighbor and best friend.

Cast: Dee Wallace (Lori Randall), Katie O’Neill (Amy Randall), Scott Grimes (Jack Randall), Ke Huy Quan (Sam), Natasha Bobo (Sally), Julia Migenes (Marion).

5944 Nothing Sacred. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1997–1998). A behind the scenes look at how a Catholic church operates with a look at the priests, nuns and the parishioners they serve. Father Leo is the older, conservative pastor of St. Thomas, a parish in Chicago. He is assisted by the younger Father Francis. Sister Maureen is principal of the adjoining elementary school (also called St. Thomas).

Cast: Brad Sullivan (Father Leo), Kevin Anderson (Father Francis Xavier Reyneaux), Scott Michael Campbell (Father Eric), Ann Dowd (Sister Maureen “Mo” Brody), Tamara Mello (Rachel), Bruce Altman (Sidney Walters), Stephen Bridgewater (Organist).

5945 Nothing Upstairs. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/10/90). A proposed late night (1:30–2:30 A.M.) program that blends skits, variety performances, stand-up comedy routines and fantasy sequences to present life backstage at a fictional New York Club.

Cast: Larry Keith (Club owner), Coati Mundi (Bartender), Amy Stiller (Waitress), Gene Baylos (Has-been comic), Neill Gladwin, Stephen Kearney (Oddball customers). Guests: Bob Nelson, Paul Provenza, Judy Tenuta, Dennis Wolfberg.

5946 The Now Generation. (Pilot; Interview; ABC; 3/6/68). An unsold series of interviews with people of the 1960s “Now Generation.” The pilot presents an in-depth interview with Mia Farrell wherein she reflects on her youth, the Vietnam War, her family, career and relationships.

Host: Ryan O'Neal. Guest: Mia Farrow.

5947 Now Is Tomorrow. (Unaired Pilot; Anthology; Produced in 1961). A proposed series of dramas about people of today pursuing their destinies in the world of tomorrow ("We all have a role to play in tomorrow's world and some of us may affect that world considerably"). The pilot episode follows Captain David Blair as he trains for one of the most important jobs in the military: War Room monitor who has the power to destroy the world (by pushing the war button) should the U.S. be attacked.

Host: Charles Bickford. Cast: Robert Culp (Captain David Blair), Simon Scott (Colonel Hilyard), Jack Hogan (Captain Russell), John LaSalle (Captain Nolan), Sydney Pollack (Captain Stern), David Garcia (Captain O'Neill), Ben Wright (Doctor), Warren Vanders (Captain Ward).

5948 Now We're Cookin'. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/19/83). Hoping to turn their lives around when they are released from prison, three ex-cons (Cookie, Rolly and Tony) find work at a diner owned by a woman named Marge. The unsold series was to focus on the ex-cons as they struggle to go straight and keep out of trouble. In the pilot episode, Tony tries to help an old girlfriend (Roxanne) who witnessed a murder and now fears for her life. Other Regulars: Janine, the parole officer; Vern, the man who yearns for Marge; and Ernie, the detective.

Cast: Lyman Ward (Cookie Porter), Cleavon Little (Rollin "Rolly" Hutton), Paul Carafotes (Anthony "Tony" Tarzola), Carole Cook (Marge), Lynne Moody (Janine Rogers), Gary Allen (Vern), Joe Mantegna (Ernie). Guest Cast: Toni Kalem (Roxanne La Tucci). Theme Music: "Now We're Cookin'" by Glen Ballard, Mark Mueller.

5949 Now You See It. (Series; Game; CBS; 1974–1975). Two players compete. A blank line containing 14 spaces is displayed. A question is read by the host and two letters to the answer appear on the board. The first player to sound a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. If he correctly answers the question, the three or four letter answer appears on the board and he scores one point. Another question is asked and the last letter of the previous answer becomes the first letter of the new answer. The game is played in the same manner and the first player to score four points is the winner.

Host: Jack Narz. Announcer: Johnny Olsen, Gene Wood.

5950 Nowhere Man. (Series; Drama; UPN; 1995–1996). Thomas Veil is a photojournalist. In 1994, while in South America, Veil snaps a picture of four men being hanged by what appears to be American soldiers. John labels the picture "Hidden Agenda" and files it away. One year later, while in a restaurant with his wife (Alyson) his life changes. After returning from the restroom, he finds that he is a man without a past. Alyson doesn't recognize him (she is with another man — her husband), his friends and family are strangers. His studio has been ravaged (his "Hidden Agenda" photograph has been taken — but not the negative) and his art gallery show has vanished. No trace of Veil's past appears to exist. While it is not really explained why this all happened a year after the photo was taken (as opposed to when the photo was taken; it could have been due to his art gallery exhibit and someone from the military associating the photograph with the hanging incident). Veil realizes the negative he has is the key to unraveling the mystery. It is made clear that "some mysterious organization" is pursuing him but why has his wife, friends and family gone along with the conspiracy?

Although captured and placed in a sanitarium (a failed attempt to break him) Veil does manage to escape and begins a treacherous search to find who is pursuing him and why the negative to "Hidden Agenda" is so important.

Veil's words open each episode: "My name is Thomas Veil, or at least it was. I'm a photographer. I had it all: a wife, Alyson, friends and a career. And in one moment it was all taken away. All because of a single photograph. I have it; they want it and they will do anything to get the negative. I'm keeping this diary as proof that these events are real. I know they are. They have to be."

Cast: Bruce Greenwood (Thomas Veil), Megan Gallagher (Alyson Veil).

5951 Nowhere to Hide. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 6/5/77). Scanlon was the proposed title for a series about Ike Scanlon, an agent for the U.S. Marshals Service. In the pilot episode, titled "Nowhere to Hide," Scanlon attempts to protect a government witness from a racketeer seeking to kill him.

Cast: Lee Van Cleef (Ike Scanlon), Charles Knox Robinson (Deputy Ted Willoughby). Guest Cast: Tony Musante (Joey Faber), Lelia Goldoni (Linda Faber), Noel Fournier (Frankie Faber), Edward Anhalt (Alberto Amarici), John Aderman (Vittorio), Russell Johnson (Charles Mantague). Narrator: John Randolph.

5952 Number 96. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1980–1981). The outrageous sexual activities of a group of people who reside at Number 96 Pacific Way, a Los Angeles apartment building. Regulars are Lou, the owner of a bar; Rita, his sister; Max, an architect; Marion, Max's wife; Mark, a baseball player for the Bullets; Jill, Mark's wife; Sharon, an actress; Ginny, Sharon's roommate, Anthea, a boutique shop owner; Horace, a retired army officer;

Sandy, a nurse; Maureen, Sandy's mother; Nathan, Lou's brother, a cop; Chick, the movie director; Lyle, the janitor; Roger, a resident; Dorothy, Roger's ex-wife; Lisa, a resident; and Hildy, Roger's girlfriend. Based on the Australian series of the same title.

Cast: Eddie Barth (Lou Sugarman), Ellen Travolta (Rita Sugarman), Greg Mullavey (Max Quintzel), Rande Heller (Marion Quintzel), Howard McGillin (Mark Keaton), Sherry Hursey (Jill Keaton), Hilary Thompson (Sharon St. Clair), Maria O'Brien (Ginny Ramirez), Rosine Widdowson-Reynolds (Anthea Bryan), Barney Martin (Horace Batterson), Jill Choder (Sandy Galloway), Betsy Palmer (Maureen Galloway), Todd Susman (Nathan Sugarman), John Reilly (Chick Walden), Charles Bloom (Lyle Bixler), James Murtaugh (Roger Busky), Sharon Spelman (Dorothy), Elaine Giftos (Hildy).

5953 Number Please. (Series; Game; ABC; 1961). A line of twenty spaces is placed before each player. After a clue is given, the host calls a number. Players remove that number. A letter is revealed and players attempt to identify the concealed phrase that the line contains. The game continues in this manner until one player correctly identifies the message. Incorrect answers disqualify players from that particular round. The player with the most correct identifications is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Clayton "Bud" Collyer.

5954 Number 13 Demon Street. (Pilot; Thriller; Syn.; 1962). When Satanya, a 17-year-old girl, kills herself over a lover's quarrel, she is sent to Hell. Because suicide is a special case, Satanya is offered the opportunity to escape Hell if she becomes a messenger of the Devil. Her assignment: To deliver a special invitation called a "Passport" which contains the evil necessary to make people candidates for Hell. In the pilot episode, Satanya is ordered to deliver an envelope to a photographer that contains a formula for human destruction. Also known as The Devil's Messenger.

In May of 1959, Official Films had negotiated with Herts-Lion Productions to film a half-hour series called Number 13 Demon Street for syndication beginning in September. In July, Burl Ives was chosen to play the Devil, but was replaced by Lon Chaney, Jr., when production moved to Sweden. A series was apparently filmed (14 episodes are known to exist) but was never telecast in the U.S. as individual segments. Instead, three segments were edited to form a feature length pilot that aired via syndication in 1962.

Cast: Lon Chaney, Jr. (The Devil), Karen Kadler (Satanya), John Crawford (Photographer), Gunel Brostrom, Michael Hinn, Tommy Newmara.

5955 NUMB3RS. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2005–). "We all use math everyday to forecast the weather, to tell time, to handle money. We also use math to analyze crimes, reveal patterns and predict behavior. By using numbers we can solve the biggest mysteries we know." These are the words spoken in the opening theme by Charlie Eppes, a professor of applied mathematics at Cal Tech University in California. He has an older brother, Don, an FBI agent with the Metro Bureau of Investigation in Los Angeles, and lives with his widowed father, Alan.

Charlie's theories that math can solve crimes intrigues Don — so much so that he calls upon Charlie to use numbers to help him solve baffling crimes. Armed with his knowledge of mathematics, Charlie proves that numbers can actually capture criminals.

Charlie was three years old when he started multiplying four digit numbers in his head. A year later he needed special teachers and special classes. He enrolled in Princeton at the age of 13 (other episodes mention he graduated from Harvard and Stanford). He gets frustrated when his numbers do not give him a positive result.

Other Regulars: Larry Fleinhardt, Charlie's colleague (and assistant in using math to solve crimes), Amita and Terry (Charlie's associates) and FBI agents David Sinclair and Megan Reeves.

Cast: Rob Morrow (Don Eppes), David Krumholtz (Charlie Eppes), Judd Hirsch (Alan Eppes), Peter MacNichol (Larry Fleinhardt), Alimi Ballard (David Sinclair), Sabrina Lloyd (Terry Lake), Diane Farr (Megan Reeves), Navi Rawat (Amita Ramanujan).

5956 Nurse. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1981–1982). Mary Benjamin is a widow who resumes her career as a nurse after her son (Chip) departs for college. She finds work as the head nurse at Grant Memorial Hospital in New York City (working in the general medical surgical ward and tenuously supervising patients and staff. Her self-confidence is put to the test by Dr. Kenneth Rose, the hard-nosed staff surgeon). Episodes follow Mary as she struggles to balance her personal and professional life, adjusting to her role as a single parent and enjoying her independence. Stories also show what it means to be a nurse — no longer a doctor's handmaiden but rather an accomplished medical professional who is responsible for the lives of the patients in her charge. Dr. Kenneth Rose was later called Dr. Adam Rose. Joseph Calvo is Mary's neighbor, a lawyer.

Cast: Michael Learned (Mary Benjamin), Robert Reed (Kenneth Rose/Adam Rose), Christopher Mancell (Chip Benjamin), Dennis Boutsikaris (Joseph Calvo), Hattie Winston (Nurse Toni Gillette), Bonnie Hellman (Nurse Penny Brooks), Hortensia Colorado (Nurse Betty LaSada).

5957 Nurse Bob. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1988). Bob Wykowski is a male nurse who has broken the rules of society so often that he has spent much time in jail. After his current release,

Bob seeks an honest job to fulfill his parole obligations and agrees to take a job caring for an elderly man (Ted Palmer) in his house. The unsold series was to relate Bob's efforts to care for Ted despite the antics of Mr. Palmer's wacky family: Natalie, his off-the-wall daughter-in-law; Frank, Natalie's nasty boyfriend, a lawyer; Kelly, Natalie's rebellious young son; and Chloe, Natalie's teenage daughter, the apparently only normal person in the family.

Cast: Tim Thomerson (Bob Wykowski), Norman Fell (Ted Palmer), Valerie Curtin (Natalie Palmer), Todd Susman (Frank), Moya Kordick (Chloe Palmer), Andrew Bednarski (Kelly Carl Palmer).

5958 The Nurses. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1962–1965). The personal and professional lives of Liz Thorpe and Gail Lucas, dedicated nurses working at Alden General Hospital in New York City. While not the first series to deal with nurses (see the first, Janet Dean, Registered Nurse) it is a tribute to the often overlooked work that nurses perform in large hospitals. Liz is the older, wise, and experienced nurse; Gail is the younger, fresh out of nursing school assistant who is being mentored by Liz.

During its last season the title changed to The Doctors and the Nurses and also focused on the lives and experiences of doctors Alex Tazinski and Ted Steffen. It aired as The Nurses from September 27, 1962 to September 17, 1964 (67 episodes); and as The Doctors and the Nurses from September 22, 1964 to September 7, 1965 (30 episodes). See the next title for the daytime serial based on the prime time series.

Cast: Shirl Conway (Nurse Liz Thorpe), Zina Bethune (Nurse Gail Lucas), Joseph Campanella (Dr. Ted Steffen), Michael Tolan (Dr. Alex Tazinski), Hilda Simms (Nurse Ayres), Stephen Brooks (Dr. Lowry), Edward Binns (Dr. Kiley), John Beal (Dr. Henden), Fred Stewart (Dr. Felix Reisner).

5959 The Nurses. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1965–1967). A daily afternoon version of the prior title that continues to depict events in the working lives of nurses Liz Thorpe and Gail Lucas, nurses working at Alden General Hospital in New York City. The series aired from September 27, 1965 to March 31, 1967.

Cast: Mary Fickett (Liz Thorpe), Melinda Plank (Gail Lucas), Patricia Hyland (Brenda), Leonie Norton (Dorothy Warner), Nat Polen (John Crager), Carol Gainer (Donna), Polly Rowles (Mrs. Grassberg), Darryl Wells (Mike), Arthur Franz (Hugh), Muriel Kirkland (Cora), Paul Stevens (Paul), Joan Wetmore (Martha). Also: Dick Van Patten, Alan Yorke, Nicholas Pryor, John Beal.

5960 Nurses. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1991–1994). The Community Medical Center, 3 West (Third Floor) in Miami Beach, Florida, provides the setting for a comical look at the working lives of its staff.

Sandy Miller, the head nurse, is bitter over her recent divorce from plastic surgeon Howard Miller. She lives in an apartment with an ocean view “But they built a high rise that obstructs the view — and I’m still paying for the view.”

Nurse Julie Milbury previously worked as a psychiatric social worker but had to quit — “I got too nervous around the patients; they had mental problems.” She is a hypochondriac and has a number of phobias (for example, afraid to ride a crowded elevator; fearful of flying over water). Her favorite eatery is Trader Vick's and her middle name is Ronald (her parents were expecting a boy).

K.C. McAfee oversees hospital operations (she wants a corporate job and sees this as “a pit stop on my way to the top”). Her father was a puppeteer and she had an unsettled childhood (“We had to go where the work was”). K.C. puts twelve minutes aside each day for what she calls “Me time.” She previously worked at a snack food company called Little Stephanie International but quit because “all the girls looked like me.” Her hobby is collecting snowball domes (“The ones you shake”).

Jack Trent is a businessman, convicted of insider trading, who was sentenced to 3,000 hours of community service at the hospital. He lived at 545 Park Avenue in New York City and now pulls cons to survive. Other doctors and nurses are listed in the cast.

Cast: Stephanie Hodge (Nurse Sandy Miller), Loni Anderson (K.C. McAfee), Jeff Altman (Nurse Greg Vincent), Arnetia Walker (Nurse Annie Roland), Mary Jo Keenan (Nurse Julie Milbury), Gina Cuevas (Nurse Ada Maris), Kip Gilman (Dr. Hank Kaplan), Matt McCoy (Dr. Howard Miller), David Rasche (Jack Trenton), Florence Stanley (Dr. Riskin). Theme: “Here I Am” by George Aliceson Tipton and John Bettis.

5961 The Nut House. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/1/64). A proposed series of rapid-fire, burlesque-like skits that spoof the American scene.

Regulars: Ceil Cabot, Jane Connell, Fay DeWitt, Andy Duncan, Don Francks, Tom Holland, Adam Keefe, Muriel Landers, Marilyn Lovell, Mara Lynn, Jack Sheldon. Music: Jerry Fielding.

5962 Nuts and Bolts. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/24/81). Primo is a caring, out-of-date robot. Victor is a caustic, sophisticated robot; and Beeper is a vacuum cleaning robot. All are the creations of Miles Fenton, a widowed computer engineer who creates homemade robots to help him raise his children, Lucy and Alex. In the pilot episode, Miles contemplates selling Primo to raise the money he needs to send Lucy to a very exclusive and expensive music school. Other Regulars: Karen Prescott, Miles's girlfriend; and Martha, Miles's mother.

Cast: Rich Little (Miles Fenton), Tammy Lauren (Lucy Fenton), Justin Dana (Alex Fenton), Eve Arden

(Martha Fenton), Jo Ann Pflug (Karen Prescott), Mitchell Young Evans (Primo), Douglas V. Fowley (Primo's Voice), Tommy McLoughlin (Victor), Garnett Smith (Victor's Voice), William Daniels (Warren Berlinger; guest role).

5963 The Nutt House. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989). Reginald J. Tarkington is the manager of the Nutt House, a once prestigious New York hotel that has fallen on hard times. The elderly and eccentric Edwina Nutt owns the hotel, a miser who refuses to renovate or invest new monies in the hotel. Reginald also has to contend with a staff he feels are desperately in need of psychiatric help. He is assisted by the lame-brained Dennis; Mrs. Frick, the nasty housekeeper; Sally, Edwina's sexy but naïve secretary; Freddy, the almost blind elevator operator; Stanley, the doorman; and the annoying Charles Nutt III, Edwina's grandson, who oversees the hotel's operations. Stories follow Reginald as he attempts to run a hotel that he feels will soon drive him to the psychiatric ward.

Cast: Harvey Korman (Reginald J. Tarkington), Cloris Leachman (Edwina Nutt/Mrs. Frick), Molly Hagan (Sally Lonnanneck), Mark Blankfield (Freddy), Brian McNamara (Charles Nutt III), Gregory Itzin (Dennis), Ronny Graham (Stanley).

5964 N.Y.P.D. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1967–1969). Mike Haines, Johnny Corso and Jeff Ward are detectives with the 27th Precinct of the New York City Police Department. Mike is the older, experienced and tough veteran detective who believes in going by the book. Johnny is the younger, less experienced cop who is a bit impetuous yet respectful of Mike's beliefs. Jeff is African America and dedicated to his job. He is more experienced than Johnny and like Mike, believes in protocol. However, working with Johnny often strains that belief as he will put the book of rules aside to collar a suspect in a crime. Stories relate their grueling (and gritty) case investigations.

Cast: Jack Warden (Mike Haines), Frank Converse (Johnny Corso), Robert Hooks (Jeff Ward).

5965 N.Y.P.D. Blue. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1993–2005). A gritty, groundbreaking series that focuses on the day-to-day lives of the officers of the 15th Detective Squad of the New York City Police Department. The program introduced foul (gutter) language and partial nudity to prime time broadcast network TV; it was so controversial that 57 ABC affiliates refused to air the first episode.

Detective Andy Sipowitz is the principal focus of attention. He is a hard working cop who worked previously at the 25th Precinct. He does drink (Patrick's Bar is his favorite watering hole) and it does affect his job. Over the course of the series, Andy has been a partner with John Kelly (1993–94), Bobby Simone (1994–98), Danny Sorenson (1998–2001) and John Clark, Jr. (2001–05). In addition to the detectives listed in the cast, other regulars are Sylvia Costas, the Assistant District Attorney; Laura Kelly, a lawyer and John's ex-wife; Donna Abandando, the squad room secretary. Steven Bochco created the series.

Cast: Dennis Franz (Det. Andy Sipowitz), David Caruso (Det. John Kelly), Jimmy Smits (Det. Bobby Simone), Rick Schroder (Det. Danny Sorenson), Sharon Lawrence (Sylvia Costas), James McDaniel (Lt. Arthur Fancy), Sherry Stringfield (Laura Michaels Kelly), Nicholas Turturro (Det. James Martinez), Gordon Clapp (Det. Greg Medavoy), Gail O'Grady (Donna Abandando), Justine Miceli (Det. Adrienne Lesniak), Andrea Thompson (Det. Jill Kirkendall), Bill Brochtrup (Det. John Irvin), Jacqueline Obradors (Det. Rita Ortiz), Henry Simmons (Det. Baldwin Jones), Amy Brenneman (Det. Janice Licasi), Kim Delaney (Det. Diane Russell), Mark-Paul Gosselaar (Det. John Clark, Jr.).

5966 The O. Henry Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1957). Dramatizations based on the stories of William Sidney Porter, who, while in prison, wrote under the pen name O. Henry.

Host-Narrator: Thomas Mitchell (as O. Henry).

5967 Oakmont. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/19/88). In the small New England town of Barrington stands a boarding school called Oakmont that was once attended by Michael Fields, now a high-powered successful publisher in New York City. When the opportunity arises for Michael to become the school's headmaster, he quits his job and moves back home with his daughter, Rebecca (his son, David, is already attending the school). Girls are now admitted at the formerly all-male prep school and Rebecca becomes one of its students, causing mixed feelings in David — his sister is a student and his father is the headmaster. The unsold series was to focus on Michael's experiences as headmaster and on the students, faculty and community surrounding Oakmont. Other Regulars: David's friends, Corry and Eric.

5968 The Oath. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 8/24/76). The first of two pilot films (see the following title) for a prospective series of medical stories. The first pilot, titled "33 Hours in the Life of God," tells the story of Dr. Simon Abbott, a cold, impersonal cardiologist whose total dedication to work begins to affect his health and marriage.

Cast: Hal Holbrook (Dr. Simon Abbott), Carol Rossen (Alison Abbott), Hume Cronyn (Dr. Paul Jaffe), Louise Latham (Nurse Levitt), John Devlin (Dr. Watt), Michael O'Keefe (Freddie), Doris Roberts (Paula Handy).

5969 The Oath II. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 8/26/76). The second of two pilot films (see the prior title) for a series of medical dramas. The second pilot, titled "The Sad and Lonely Sundays," tells of George Sorenson, an aging doctor who decides to reenter medical school and catch up on 40 years of medical progress.

Cast: Jack Albertson (Dr. George Sorenson), Will Geer (Lucas Wembly), Ed Flanders (Dr. Frankman), Sam Jaffe (Dr. Sweeney), Eddie Firestone (Dr. Bainbridge), Doreen Lang (Hester), Dori Brenner (Sandy), Bert Remsen (Mort Cooper).

5970 The Object Is. (Series; Game; ABC; 1963–1964). Six players compete. An object that is related to a famous personality is shown to the players. If a player can associate the object with its famous owner he scores one point; if not (or if an incorrect guess is given), another object is shown. The player with the highest score after several such rounds is the winner and receives merchandise prizes (the number of rounds varies, depending on how fast personalities are identified).

Host: Dick Clark.

5971 The Oblongs. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 2001). The Oblongs are a family who live in Hill Valley, a toxic town next to an industrial waste site. The Oblongs are also a family who have been seriously affected by pollution emanating from the site: each has bizarre physical and emotional abnormalities. Bob, the father, manages quite well without arms and legs. Pickles, his wife, is bald (she wears a wig) and is addicted to cigarettes and alcohol. Biff and Chip are their conjoined sons; Beth, their youngest child (4 years old) has a cucumber-like growth coming out of her head; and Milo, their youngest son, is an optimist who has only one strand of hair on his head. Bob's mother, called Grammy, is a vegetable. The family cat, Lucky, is a chain smoker; and their dog, Scottie, is a narcoleptic.

Bob works on the assembly line (screwing lids on jars with his teeth) at Globocide, a company that makes pesticides, defoliants and baby formula. Stories, based on the book Creepy Susie and 13 Other Tragic Tales for Troubled Children by Angus Oblong, follows the Oblongs as they attempt to live a normal life.

Other Regulars: George Kilmer, Bob's boss; Pristine, George's wife; Debbie, George's daughter; Jared, George's son; School Principal Davis; School Nurse Rench; Leland the homeroom teacher; and Milo's friends, Helga, Creepy Susie, Mikey Butts and Peggy Weggy.

Voice Cast: Will Ferrell (Bob Oblong), Jean Smart (Pickles Oblong), Pamela Segall (Milo Oblong), Randy Sklar (Biff Oblong), Jason Sklar (Chip Oblong), Billy West (George Kilmer), Becky Thyre (Pristine Kilmer), Pamela Segall (Jared Kilmer), Pamela Segall (Debbie Kilmer), Lea DeLaria (Helga Phugly), Jeannie Elias (Creepy Susie), Jeannie Elias (Mikey Butts), Becky Thyre (Peggy Weggy).

5972 The O.C. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2003–2007). A prime time soap opera that is set in the upscale community of Newport Beach in Orange County (the O.C.), California. Events in the lives of the wealthy Cohen family and the problems that begin when they take in Ryan Atwood, a troubled teenager from the wrong side of the tracks when he is thrown out of his Los Angeles home. (Sanford Cohen, a lawyer who heads the family, had represented Ryan in the past for his misdeeds; he felt he could give Ryan the stable environment he needs to get his life back to together again). Kirsten, Sanford's wife, however, is uneasy over Ryan's presence in her home. Seth, their son, quickly bonds with Ryan; and Ryan finds a love in the guise of Marissa Cooper, a girl with problems of her own; although she did not lead a sheltered life, she has a weak-willed mother (Julie) and a father (Jimmy) who has distanced himself from the family.

Cast: Peter Gallagher (Sanford "Sandy" Cohen), Kelly Rowan (Kirsten Cohen), Benjamin McKenzie (Ryan Atwood), Adam Brody (Seth Cohen), Mischa Barton (Marissa Cooper), Melinda Clarke (Julie Cooper), Tate Donovan (Jimmy Cooper), Chris Carmack (Luke Ward), Rachel Bilson (Summer Roberts), Gary Grubbs (Gordon Mullit), Kevin Sorbo (Frank Atwood), Alan Dale (Caleb Nichol), Autumn Reeser (Taylor Townsend), Willa Holland (Kaitlin Cooper), Jeri Ran (Charlotte Morgan), Michael Nouri (Dr. Neil Roberts), Michael Cassidy (Zach Stevens), Samaira Armstrong (Anna Stern), Cam Gigandet (Kevin Volchok), Olivia Wilde (Alex Kelly), Navi Tawat (Theresa Diaz), Amanda Righetti (Hailey Nichol), Nikki Griffin (Jess Sathers), Ashle Hartman (Holly Fischer), Johnny Lewis (Dennis "Chill" Childress), Shannon Lucio (Lindsay Gardner), Wayne Dalglish (Brad Ward), Jeff Hephner (Mat Ramsey).

5973 Occasional Wife. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1966–1967). Peter Christopher, called "The Company Bachelor" at work, is a ladies' man who is best at romancing women. He has a nice apartment on East 57th Street in Manhattan and a good job with the Brahms Baby Food Company. Each Friday night he has dinner with his mother. On one night in September of 1966, his world suddenly changed. It began with his mother — "Peter, a man of your age should be married” — and concluded with his family — and corporate image-minded boss, Max Brahms — “A man should be judged by his ability. The only thing that counts around here is whether you are married or not.”

When an executive position becomes available, Peter applies but is refused — “I’m sorry, Peter. I believe in married executives. No marriage, no promotion.” Later that day, while drowning his sorrows in a bar, he begins talking with his friend, Greta Patterson, the hatcheck girl. Greta has problems too, with men hitting on her, and she remarks, “Too bad you can’t do what I do to protect myself in this place — pretend you’re married.”

An idea forms in Peter’s mind. “Greta, you’ve given me the solution to my problem, a fake wife, that’s the answer for Brahms.” “You must be out of your mind,” Greta says. “No, Greta, I mean it. I want you to be my wife, occasionally.” Greta refuses until Peter offers to find her an apartment and pay for her rent and art classes (she is studying to be a dress designer). Peter buys her a damaged wedding ring for $15, and she goes on salary as his occasional wife.

Peter, who lives in Apartment 7C, sets Greta up in Apartment 9C in his building. For access to each other’s apartments, Peter and Greta use the back fire escapes (they fear getting caught if they use the elevators or their front doors). Apartment 8C is between them — the residence of “The Man in the Middle” (who witnesses their antics and has come to enjoy watching them).

Peter and Greta then devise a story for Mr. Brahms: they met at the Huntington Yacht Club. It was love at first sight, and they married immediately after (Greta pretends to be a dancer turned librarian who lived in Boston).

“How long will the marriage last?” asked Greta. “The marriage is going to last until I get a vice presidency,” Peter says. “Then Greta will have a boating accident, then you’ll be lost, I’ll be a widower and Brahms will love me.” Peter’s plan begins to work. He is made an advertising executive when Brahms learns of his marriage.

Greta pretends to be Peter’s wife whenever the need arises. Peter has a girlfriend named Marilyn Granville. Mr. Brahms believes that she is Peter’s sister. Greta has a boyfriend named Bernard (“Bernie”) J. Cramer. He believes Peter is Greta’s brother. Peter’s mother believes Peter and Greta are really married and that it was love at first sight.

Wally Frick is Peter’s office rival and will stop at nothing to advance his position within the company. He is married to a pretty, power seeking woman named Vera. Vera is unable to make Wally as aggressive as she is; to compensate for this, she stays by Wally’s side and coaches him on how to “kiss up” to the boss.

Relatives: Sara Seegar (Peter’s mother), Pert Kelton (Greta’s mother, “Mom” Patterson), Paul Hartman (Greta’s father, “Pop” Patterson), Herb Edelman (Peter’s uncle, Harry), Joan Tompkins (Max’s wife, Lydia Brahms); Eileen Baral (Max’s niece, Amanda).

An announcer opens the show: “There are eight million stories in the Naked City. Some are violent; some happy, some sad. But one of them is just plain cuckoo. This is a modern fable about two young people who make a bargain only to find that they were going to get a lot more than they bargained for. We call our fable Occasional Wife and it stars Michael Callan and Patricia Harty and it features among other things, a fire escape.”

Cast: Michael Callan (Peter Christopher), Patricia Harty (Greta Patterson), Jack Collins (Max Brahms), Susan Silo (Vera Frick), Jack Riley (Wally Frick), Chris Noel (Marilyn Granville), Stuart Margolin (Bernie Cramer), Bryan O’Byrne (Man in the Middle). Narrator: Vince Scully. Theme: “Occasional Wife,” by Ernie Pintoff and Howard Greenfield.

5974 Ocean Girl. (Series; Adventure; Disney; 1994–1997). Neri is a beautiful but mysterious girl who lives on an island off the coast of Australia (where the series is filmed). Many years ago she and her father (who has since died) came to Earth by space ship (from their home world, the Planet of the Oceans [also called Ocean Planet]) to save the Earth’s oceans, a responsibility that has since fallen on her shoulders. Neri can breathe under water and communicate with whales (she has befriended one she calls Charley).

Dr. Diane Bates is a marine biologist and the single mother of teenagers Brett and Jason. Diane has been assigned to ORCA (Oceanic Research Center of Australia), an underwater research and environmental protective facility. When Diane begins a study of whales (with her sons as assistants) she begins using whale songs — and attracts Neri, who appears in the middle of the ocean (later, when Brett’s inoperable boat strands him on Neri’s island, the two become friends and Neri becomes a part of Diane’s team).

Neri seeks Diane’s help in protecting the oceans and Diane requires Neri’s help in furthering her knowledge of the sea and whales. Stories follow Neri’s adventures as she interacts with humans for the first time and battles the enemies of the oceans.

Dr. Winston Seth is Diane’s research partner; Vanessa, Zoe and Froggy are interns at the center. See also The New Adventures of Ocean Girl (which incorporates the character of Neri but changes everything else).

Cast: Marzena Godecki (Neri), Kerry Armstrong (Dr. Diane Bates), Liz Burch (Dr. Diane Bates; later), Jeffrey Walker (Brett Bates), David Hoflin (Jason)
