5975 Ocean Quest. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1985). A rather unusual network series (more suited for PBS) about a beautiful girl's experiences as she explores the oceans of the world. The five-episode program follows the girl, former Miss Universe Shawn Weatherly, as she is chosen for the quest (a woman of courage with no knowledge of diving) to devote one year of her life to the greatest adventure of her life: documenting the myths, mysteries and monsters of the ocean. Shawn's amazing experiences as she trains with undersea photographer Al Giddings and his crew to her one-year true experiences are presented in documentary style.

Cast: Shawn Weatherly (Herself), Al Giddings (Himself). Narrator: Ray Willes.

5976 O'Connor's Ocean. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 12/13/60). A proposed series about Torin O'Connor, a yachtsman and lawyer for a marine ocean firm, who tackles cases involving crimes on the seas. In the pilot episode, O'Connor is hired by Victoria Arden to find her husband, who was reportedly lost at sea in a plane crash.

Cast: John Payne (Torin O'Connor). Guest Cast: Irene Hervey (Victoria Arden), Edward Andrews (Ben Matthews), Charles Cooper (Jason Chambers).

5977 Octavius and Me. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/17/62). Octavius, nicknamed "Ockie," and his wife, Hattie, are a retired couple who decide to travel around the country in a most unusual way: from trailer camp to trailer camp. The unsold series was to focus on their efforts to help the people they meet during their stopovers. In the pilot episode, they visit the Abide-A-Bit Trailer Court and attempt to help a young couple salvage their marriage.

Cast: Dub Taylor (Octavius Todd), Loie Bridge (Hattie Todd). Guest Cast: Kaye Elhardt (Bess Drake), James Douglas (John Drake), Grace Albertson (Blanche Hannigan), George O'Hanlon (George Hannigan).

5978 October Road. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2007–2008). Knights Ridge, Massachusetts, is a small, picturesque New England town. It is also the home of a group of close knit friends: Nick Garrett, Hannah Daniels, Ray "Big Cat" Cataldo, Eddie Latekka, Ikey and Physical Phil. It is during the summer of 1997 when Nick decides to embark on a six-week adventure trip to Europe. He is next seen in New York City ten years later and the successful author of a book called Turtle on a Snare Drum, which is a not-so-flattering look at his home town and his friends (the publisher even changed his name to Nicholson from his first name of Nicholas as it sounds more impressive).

One day in the spring of 2007, Nick accepts an offer to give a speech on novel writing in his hometown at Duframe College. Nick never returned, "because I got sidetracked." Once he stayed away, staying away became the way for him. But now he has come home to face everything he left behind. He never kept in touch (Hannah says, "Nick just vanished into the ether"). His return is not so welcomed and he faces mixed emotions from his friends (who are bitter for his portrayal of them in his book). He finds that his former love, Hannah, has a ten-year-old son (Sam); Ray is now the owner of Cataldo Builders (a construction company); Physical Phil hasn't stepped outside of the town since 9-11; Ikey still feels he is friends with Nick (although he is a bit angered that he wasn't represented in the book); and Eddie, his best friend, now feels they can no longer be friends. Nick also believes that Sam is his son (although Hannah denies it) because both he and Sam are allergic to any kind of nut. Nick realizes he made a mistake by never coming home. He also knows there are a lot of unexpected adventures in town — and he is not about to leave again. Stories follow Nick as he reacquaints himself with old friends — and new experiences for a follow-up book that is true to life and honest.

Cast: Bryan Greenberg (Nick Garrett), Laura Prepon (Hannah Daniels), Warren Christie (Ray Cataldo), Evan Jones (Ikey), Jay Paulson (Physical Phil), Geoff Stults (Eddie Latekka), Slade Pearce (Sam Daniels), Tom Berenger (The Commander), Brad William Henke (Owen Rowan), Odette Yustman (Aubrey).

5979 The Odd Couple. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1970–1975). Felix Unger is an excessively neat perfectionist; Oscar Madison is an irresponsible slob. Both men are divorced and live together at 1049 Park Avenue (at 74th Street and Central Park West in New York City) in Apartment 1102. Felix and Oscar first met when they were chosen as jurors for the trial of Leo Garvey, a man accused of driving his roommate crazy (Oscar was a sportswriter for the New York Times at the time).

Felix, who suffers from sinus attacks, was born in Chicago, moved to Oklahoma and grew up on a farm in Glenview, New York (another episode mentions Toledo, Ohio, as his hometown). He is a member of the Radio Actors' Guild (as a kid he appeared on Let's Pretend), and in college he had his own radio show called Felix.

Felix refuses to let Oscar bring a copy of Playboy magazine into the house as it reminds him of a bitter incident from his past. Before Felix established his own photography business ("Portraits a Specialty"), he worked as a photographer for Playboy at the same time Oscar worked there as a writer and his fiancée (now ex-wife) Gloria worked as a bunny in the Manhattan Playboy Club. Felix used the name Spencer

Benedict (“You don’t think I’m going to use my real name to shoot nudes”) and threw a fit when he learned Gloria was one of the candidates for the Miss April centerfold. He photographed her in the nude but put up such a fuss about using her picture that Hugh Hefner agreed to pull the photo.

Before moving in with Oscar, Felix and Gloria lived together in New Rochelle, New York. They are the parents of Edna and Leonard. Gloria divorced Felix after seven years of marriage because of his excessive neatness.

Oscar, a sportswriter for the New York Herald, was born at Our Lady of Angels Hospital in Philadelphia (another episode states that Oscar was born in Chicago — where he and Felix met briefly as kids). Oscar’s vice is gambling. He drinks beer for breakfast, and catsup is his favorite dressing for food. Oscar hosts a radio show called The Oscar Madison Sports Talk Show (later changed to Oscar Madison’s Greatest Moments in Sports). He divorced Blanche after eight years of marriage because of excessive arguing.

Other Characters: Murray Greschner is a police officer with the N.Y.P.D.; Cecily and Gwen Pigeon are Oscar’s upstairs neighbors; Speed, Vinnie and Roy are Oscar’s poker-playing buddies.

Myrna Turner is Oscar’s secretary. She was born in the Bronx, is disorganized, sloppy and lazy. Myrna is forever having boyfriend trouble, especially with “Sheldn” (“They forgot the “o” on his birth certificate”). Rob Reiner plays Sheldn. Myrna calls Oscar “Mr. M” and says, “I talk nasal, I have an unproud bust and I sit like a frog” — her reasons why she’ll “never be a lady.”

Miriam Welby is Felix’s romantic interest; and Dr. Nancy Cunningham is Oscar’s lady love. See also The New Odd Couple. Based on the play by Neil Simon.

Relatives: Janis Hansen (Felix’s ex-wife, Gloria), Pamelyn Ferdin and Doney Oatman (Felix’s daughter, Edna Unger), Leif Garrett and Willie Aames (Felix’s son, Leonard Unger), William Redfield (Felix’s brother, Floyd Unger), Tony Randall (Felix’s great-uncle, Albert Unger, who lives at Sunshine City), Madge Kennedy (Felix’s grandmother), Brett Somers (Oscar’s ex-wife, Blanche), Hilary Thompson (Oscar’s niece, Martha), Elvia Allman and Fran Ryan (Oscar’s mother), Jane Dulo and Alice Ghostley (Murray’s wife, Mimi Greschner).

Flashbacks: Adam Klugman (Oscar as a boy), Johnny Scott Lee and Sean Manning (Felix as a boy), Tony Randall (Felix’s father, Morris Unger, an optometrist), Jack Klugman (Oscar’s father, Blinky Madison, a bookie and restaurant owner), Tony Randall (Felix’s grandfather).

An announcer opens the show: “On November thirteenth Felix Unger was asked to remove himself from his place of residence. That request came from his wife. Deep down he knew she was right. But he also knew that someday he would return to her. With no where else to go, he appeared at the home of his childhood friend, Oscar Madison. Sometime earlier, Madison’s wife had thrown him out, requesting that he never return. Can two divorced men share an apartment without driving each other crazy?”

5980 Odd Man Out. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1999–2000). Julia Whitney is a beautiful single mother (a widow) with four children: Paige, Elizabeth, Valerie and Andrew, the only male is a house full of women — the odd man out.

The Whitney’s live in South Beach, Florida, where Julia owns the Whitney Catering Service; her late husband was named Bill. She was born in Cincinnati and attended the University of Miami.

Paige is the eldest child and absolutely gorgeous. She is a sophomore at South Beach High School and yearns to be a model (Julia wants her to wait, attend college, then follow her dream). Paige believes being beautiful is her goal in life and she is determined to let the rest of the world see just how beautiful she is.

Valerie, the second born daughter, idolizes Paige and can’t wait until she is older (she is 13; Paige is 16) so she can be as glamorous as Paige; because of her slowly developing figure, Valerie enjoys trying on Wonder Bras when she goes shopping for lingerie.

She is weight conscious and watches everything she eats to maintain her slim figure.

Elizabeth is 10 years old and is slowly becoming influenced by Paige and Valerie. Elizabeth is more into academics than her sisters and enjoys playing the oboe.

Andrew has learned a lot from living with four females; he can even tell what shampoo a girl uses and what perfume she wears. He finds the bathroom unsafe — the girls have lip gloss emergencies and throw him out — “Changing the locks won’t work,” says Julia, “because your sisters are like jewel thieves.” Andrew considers himself the man of the house — although his sisters think it is a big joke.

Andrew pals around with his best friend, Keith Carlson, a girl crazy teenager who has the hots for Paige (the feeling is not mutual, however). He plays the drums and started a garage band called Exhaust Pipe (Andrew plays the guitar).

Also hanging out at the Whitney home is Julia’s sister, Jordan, a modeling agency representative who is self-absorbed and constantly thinks about herself.

She is very close to Paige and even got her a job as a lingerie model — although they only used her as a foot model. When Bill passed away, Jordan said she would help steer the ship — “But she torpedoed it,” says Julia. Lynsey Bartilson was originally chosen to play the role of Valerie Whitney.

5981 The Oddball Couple. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1975–1977). An animated take-off on Neil Simon’s The Odd Couple that finds a dog (Fleabag) and a cat (Spiffy) the Oscar Madison and Felix Unger of the animal world.

Fleabag is a natural born slob; Spiffy is a perfectionist cat. Stories follow the mismatched pair’s efforts to live and work together. Goldie Hound is their secretary.

Voice Cast: Paul Winchell (Fleabag), Frank Nelson (Spiffy), Joan Gerber (Goldie Hound).

5982 Oddville, MTV. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 1997). As the title implies, a show that presents odd things — from boring (and pointless interviews) bad talent acts, awful celebrity impersonations and people who just sit there and say or do nothing.

Host: Frank Hope. Co-Host: David Greene. Featured: John Walsh as Joey the Monkey. Announcer: Melissa Gabriel.

5983 Odyssey 5. (Series; Science Fiction; Showtime; 2002). On August 7, 2007, the Earth is destroyed in a fiery explosion. With the exception of a group of people aboard the space shuttle Odyssey, all life on Earth has been destroyed by an entity called Leviathan, an artificial intelligence developed by scientists. Shortly after the explosion, a non-organic being called the Seeker appears to the members of the Odyssey: Commander Chuck Taggart, reporter Sarah Forbes, astronaut Angela Perry and scientist Kurt Mendel. The Seeker informs them that 50 other such worlds have been destroyed but it has always arrived too late to find survivors. Now, for the first time, the Seeker can change what happened. It sends the crew back in time five years so they can hopefully change the past to prevent a disastrous future. Stories follow the crew as they confront their pasts and seek the people responsible for creating Leviathan.

5984 Of All Things. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1956). A summer program of music and songs with actress Faye Emerson as the host. The series ran from July 23, 1956 to August 31, 1956. Byron Paul is the producer.

Hostess: Faye Emerson. Regulars: Jack Haskell, Ilene Woods. Announcer: Del Sharbutt. Music: Billy Clifton.

5985 Of Men, of Women. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 12/17/72). The first of two pilot films (see the following title) for an unsold series of one-act plays based on the trials and tribulations of love. The pilot presented four short stories:

1. Hot Machine, Cold Machine tells of a widower (Jackie Cooper) and widow (Cloris Leachman) who meet by chance at a coin-operated laundry.

2. Why Was He Late for Work? An offbeat story of jealousy about a man (Bill Bixby), his wife (Marlyn Mason) and his boss (Burgess Meredith).

3. The Brave and the Free uses a series of flashbacks to trace a troubled marriage. Stars Marlyn Mason and George Maharis.

4. All Her Own is a one-character drama about a woman (Lee Remick) who is haunted by the fear that she caused her husband’s suicide.

Host: Lee Remick.

5986 Of Men, of Women II. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 5/6/73). A second pilot (see the prior title) for a potential series based on the many faces of love. The pilot presents three one-act plays:

1. The Interview is a verbal sparring match between an egotistical movie director (Stephen Boyd) and a probing TV commentator (Barbara Rush). Also Cast: Farrah Fawcett (Actress), Hampton Fancier (Leading Man).

2. Margie Passes is a lighthearted tale about an effervescent teenage girl with an everlasting effect on people. Stars: Deborah Raffin (Margie), Joyce Jameson (Ada Riskin), John Quade (Mr. Riskin), John David Carson (Tommy), Barbara Douglas (Susie).

3. Never Trust a Lady tells the story of a scholarly safecracker who meets his match when he is caught in the act by a cunning young lady. Stars: April Fleser (Gail), Don Chastain (Eric), Linda Marsh (Diane), Jack Cassidy (Horace), Barbara Feldon (Clarissa).

Host: Stephen Boyd.

5987 Of This Time, of That Place. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 3/6/62). The pilot film for Channing about Joseph Howe, an English professor at Channing University. Broadcast as a segment of The Alcoa Hour. Other Regulars: Fred Baker, the dean; and Mary, Joseph’s wife.

Cast: Jason Evers (Joseph Howe), Henry Jones (Fred Baker), Nancy Hadley (Mary Howe). Guest Cast: Burt Brinckerhoff (Tertan), Alice Frost (Miss Marks), Paul Carr (Blackburn), Stephanie Hill (Marsha), Barbara Jean Hunter (Hilda), Bart Patton (Haskell). Host-Narrator: Fred Astaire.

5988 Off Broadway. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/13, 5/20/95). A proposed spin-off from The Commish about Consuela “Connie” Muldoon, a tough, dedicated N.Y.P.D. homicide detective who prefers to work alone. Connie is also a single mother struggling to raise a 13-year-old daughter (Julianna) and the unsold series was to focus on her relentless investigations into the cases she tackles. In the pilot episode, Connie is assigned to a very personal case: investigating the death of Tracy Donnelly, the god-daughter of Eastbridge New York Police Commissioner Tony Scala, “The Commish.”

Cast: Lisa Vidal (Connie Muldoon), Christina Vidal (Julianna Muldoon), Robert Hooks (Captain). Guest Cast: Michael Chiklis (Tony Scali), Joe D’Angerio (Ernie Brackman), Kevin Conway (Mitch Hatfield), Toy Monique Newkirk (Tonya Golden), Joel Miller (Dr. James McClure), Frances Bay (Ardeeth Dryden), Clark Gregg (Tom Dryden).

5989 Off Campus. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/8/77). A comic look at life in a co-ed rooming house as seen through the eyes of a group of college students (Janet, Steve, Bonnie, Josh, Stanley, Weineke and Alexis) preparing for graduation and adulthood.

Cast: Marilu Henner (Janet), Josh Mostel (Steve), Ann Risley (Bonnie), Chip Zien (Joash), Paul Reiger (Stanley), Joe Bova (Weineke), Alexa Kenin (Alexis).

5990 Off Center. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2001). Euan Pearce and Mike Platt are friends who met at Oxford University. They now share Apartment 6D at the posh Hadley Building off Center Street in Manhattan. Euan is a free spirited, girl-chasing investment counselor. Mike is his direct opposite, a laid-back and simplistic young man who seeks a meaningful relationship with a girl, hopefully with his current girlfriend, Liz. Mike does have one obsession though — for adult films starring nurses; Liz calls it “Nurse Porn.” Stories follow the lives of two mismatched roommates who happen to be best friends.

Other Regulars: Status Quo, the music store owner who is also the building landlord; Vee, Liz’s friend, a model (although she calls herself a super-model); and Chan, the owner of the Vietnamese restaurant frequented by Mike and Euan.

5991 Off Duty. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 8/16/88). Off Duty is a fabled policeman’s bar located in Chicago. It is owned by a woman named Siobhan, a cop’s widow, and the unsold series was to focus on the after-hours lives of the cops who assemble there: Zack, the bartender, who is working at Off Duty while recovering from a car accident (he has broken hips and gets around on a special wheeled stool); Pat, his female ex-partner; Charles, the rookie cop; his brother, Vincent, who watches over Charles and has been nicknamed “Mother”; and Tom, the permanent fixture at the bar, a legendary retired cop.

Cast: Eileen Brennan (Siobhan), Charles Frank (Zack Scott), Lisa Blount (Pat Yaraslovsky), Charles Stratton (Charlie DiAntha), Ray Abruzzo (Vincent “Mother” DiAntha), Tony LoBianco (Tom Cooper). Guest Cast: Pamela Brull (Deborah). Also: Rick Avery, Taurean Blaque, Mariclare Costello, Jack McGee.

5992 Off the Leash. (Series; Reality; Lifetime; 2006). A reality program dedicated to finding the next great canine star. Seven finalists are chosen from open auditions by the Le Paws animal agency in Los Angeles. The dogs (who appear with their masters) compete in a number of “acting scenes” to weed out the worst “performers.” The last remaining dog in episode six wins a role in a feature film — and will hopefully become the next Lassie.

Host: Addison Witt.

5993 Off the Rack. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1985). When his business partner dies, Sam Waltman, the gruff co-owner of the near-bankrupt H&W Garment Company, suddenly finds himself with a new partner — Kate Halloran, his late partner’s wife. Stories relate the mishaps that occur as the incompatible Sam and Kate attempt to run a business together. Shannon and Timothy are Kate’s children (Kate is a widow); Brenda is Sam’s secretary; J.P. is the designer (in the pilot; for the series, Skip Wagner replaced him); Cletus is the office assistant. The pilot episode aired on December 7, 1984.

Cast: Edward Asner (Sam Waltman), Eileen Brennan (Kate Halloran), Claudia Wells (Shannon Halloran), Cory Yothers (Timothy Halloran), R.J. Williams (Timothy Halloran; pilot), Pamela Brull (Brenda Patagorski), Dennis Haysbert (Cletus Maxwell), Sandy Simpson (Skip Wagner), Anita Hamilton (Maria), Marcia Del Mar (Rosa Perez), William Brian Curan (J.P. Aresnault; pilot).

Cast: Zero Mostel (Disc Jockey), Joey Faye (His Man Friday). Announcer: Ken Roberts.

5995 Off the Wall. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/17/77). Hopkins Hall is a co-ed dorm on the campus of Ohio Western College. Matt, Jeannie, Flash, Lennie, Gordon, Tammy, Melvin, Arthur and George are the featured students and a former male army chef called “Mother” is overseer of the dorm. The unsold idea, which is almost identical to the pilot Off Campus (see entry) was to follow incidents in the lives of the students.

Cast: Todd Susman (Matt Bozeman), Dana House (Jeannie), Harry Gold (Flash), Cindy Helberg (Lennie), Sean Roche (Gordon), Sally Hightower (Tammy), Sandy Helberg (Melvin), Frank Helberg (Arthur), Frank O’Brien (George), Hal Williams (Mother). Theme Vocal: “Off the Wall” by Harry Gold.

5996 Off the Wall. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986). A program of sketches and skits, performed by a repertory company, that poke fun at TV, commercials, politics, life and even fairy tales.

Regulars: Joe Baker, Louise Duart, Susan Elliot, Pat Fraley, Shelley Herman, Terry Kiser, John Roarke, Cynthia Stevenson.

5997 Off to See the Wizard. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1967–1968). A series of adventure films that are geared to children (including reedited theatrical films and unsold TV pilot films). For information on the pilot films that aired, see the following titles: Alexander the Great, The Hellcats, Mike and the Mermaid and Tarzan, the Ape Man. The episodes are introduced by animated Wizard of Oz characters. The series, which produced 25 episodes, aired from September 8, 1967 to September 20, 1968.

Voice Cast: June Foray (Dorothy), Daws Butler (Scarecrow), Don Messick (various characters).

5998 Off We Go. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/5/66). Anxious to participate in the war effort (during World War II), Rod Ryan, a brilliant 16 year old who looks older than he is, enlists with the U.S. Army Air Corps. Quickly he rises to the rank of colonel and is placed in charge of a small base in England. The unsold series was to depict the comical experiences of Colonel Rod Ryan and his men as they attempt to carry out dangerous assignments. Other Regulars (non-military): Debbie, Rod’s girlfriend; and Josie and Carl, Rod’s parents.

5999 The Office. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1995). A comical look at corporate life as seen through the eyes of Rita Stone, a career secretary in the packaging department of an ad agency called Package, Inc. Other Regulars: Mae, a former Club Med worker who has been married three times. She is blonde, sexy, outspoken and works as the office secretary; Deborah, an MBA student and secretary to boss Steve Gilman; Beth, a working mother whose problems seem to follow her to work; she is secretary to boss Natalie Danton; Frank, Rita’s boss; and Bobby, an artist-designer.

Cast: Valerie Harper (Rita Stone), Andrea Abbate (Mae D’Arcy), Kristin Dattilo (Deborah Beaumont), Debra Jo Rupp (Beth Avery), Lisa Darr (Natalie Stanton), Dakin Matthews (Frank Gerard), Gary Dourdan (Steve Gilman), Kevin Conroy (Bobby Harold).

6000 The Office. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2005–). The Dunder Mifflin Paper Supply Company is a business located in Scranton, Pennsylvania. Michael Scott is the regional manager, an insensitive boss who seems to care for the welfare of his employees but tries to put his own spin on company policy (something that always causes him to get into trouble). Jim Halpert is the talented but easily bored salesman; Dwight Schrute, the kiss-up; Pamela Beesley, the receptionist who yearns to become an illustrator; and Roger Howard is the temp.

The series is a tongue-in-cheek look at the nine-to-five white-collar world and is based on the British TV series of the same title.

6001 Official Detective. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1957). Actor Everett Sloane hosts and narrates dramatizations of stories that appear in Official Detective magazine.

6002 Oh, Baby. (Series; Comedy; Lifetime; 1998–2000). Tracy Calloway is a middle-aged business woman. She is happy, giving and enjoys what she is doing. Suddenly she realizes that her biological clock is ticking and becomes overwhelmed with the prospect of settling down and having children. Tracy, however, would like to do so without the hassles of a marriage and believes that artificial insemination is the right path for her — or is it? Her best friend, Charlotte, a psychiatrist, feels that Tracy is rushing into a situation she is not prepared to handle. With that thought established, stories follow Tracy as she struggles to make the right decision while coping with the situations that make her see what life would be like as a single mother and those that suggest she should wait for the right man to come along. Celia is Tracy's mother; Ernie is her brother, a frustrated painter.

Cast: Cynthia Stevenson (Tracy Calloway), Jessica Walter (Celia Calloway), Joanna Gleason (Charlotte), Matt Champagne (Ernie Calloway), Julie Neumark (Tracy as a teenager; flashbacks).

6003 Ob, Boy! (Series; Variety; ABC; 1959). Performances by country and western artists. The summer series ran from July 16, 1959 to September 3, 1959.

Host: Tony Hall. Regulars: Brenda Lee, Cherry Warner, Lorie Mann, Don Lang, Dickie Pride, Mike Preston, Red Price, Chris Andrews, Neville Taylor, Tony Sheridan, Dudley Helson, The Cutters, Lord Rockingham XI, The Vernons, The Wreckers.

6004 Ob Grow Up. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1999). Ford, Norris and Hunter are three men who never really grew up. Ford is a lawyer with the firm of Tattleman and Keeler. He is gay, although he was married to Suzanne. Norris is an artist who only paints when he is mad. He sold medical equipment before deciding to become an artist. Hunter cleans when he gets upset and runs the Peretti Brothers Construction Company. Stories relate events in their lives.

Ford, Hunter and Norris share an apartment together and eat at the Chelsea Diner. Norris worked as a Psychic Buddy to pay off a $600 phone bill for calling a hotline and falling asleep before hanging up. When Hunter gets upset he listens to a singer named Suzanne Vega. He is also the father of Chloe. Hunter had an affair with a girl named Julie when he was in college. When he returned from spring break Julie was gone (transferred to another college). She never told Hunter. Chloe tracked Hunter down via the Internet and came to New York (from San Francisco) to begin college at NYU. Hunter is 35 and hits on every girl he sees.

Cast: John Ducey (Ford Vandemear), David Alan Basche (Norris Machelsky), Stephen Dunham (Hunter Sheffield), Niesha Trout (Chloe Sheffield), Rena Sofer (Suzanne Vandemear).

6005 Ob Henry! (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/12/89). The Bayou Burger fast food franchise in Kansas City is owned by Henry Gibbs, a widower with two children (Megan and Donny) and a nagging sister-in-law ("Aunt" Mildred). The unsold series was to focus on Henry as he struggles to run the restaurant, raise two kids, contend with his staff (Paul, Sally and Carl) and somehow find some tranquility in life.

Pine), Sharon Case (Wendy), Kristopher Hill (Bobby), Sydney Coberly (Buffy), Moya Kordick (Muffy).

6006 Ob, Kay! (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951). A live program, broadcast from Chicago, that features music, songs and interviews. The series ran from February 24, 1951 to August 18, 1951. Dan Schuffman is the producer.

Hostess: Kay Westfall. Regulars: Mary Ellen White, Jim Dimitri. Music: David LeWinter.

6007 Ob, Madeline. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1983–1984). Madeline Wayne lives at 217 Faircourt Avenue in the Eastfield section of Chicago. She is a housewife and married to Charles ("Charlie") Wayne, a romance novelist who writes under the pen name Crystal Love. Charlie has written such books as Love in the End Zone and Love's Burning Blazing Tender Purple Passion. He also writes romantic short stories for the Sunday magazine section of a newspaper called The Outlook. Madeline says that if Charlie ever decides to give up writing, he has a standing invitation from her uncle Percy to work for him in a slaughterhouse.

Madeline and Charlie have been married for ten years. Madeline, whose maiden name is Vernon, attended the Julia Farraday High School (class of '63) and was a Farraday cheerleader. She feels that "all the horrible things that happen to me could happen to someone else—but they happen to me in front of someone else" (for instance, giving the band for her high school prom the wrong address: "Three hundred kids had to dance to the one polka record the school owned").

Robert Leone is Charlie's friend, a womanizing travel agent Madeline calls "Mr. Gunk Face." Doris Leone is Robert's ex-wife, and Annie McIntyre is Charlie's agent.

Reese and Charlotte Vernon are Madeline's parents, and Joyce Vernon is Madeline's younger sister. Ob, Madeline is based on the British series Pig in the Middle. Dan Foliart and Howard Pearl composed the theme.

6008 Ob, Nurse! (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/17/72). The comic adventures of four student nurses (Kathi, LuAnn, Maria and Gail) and two interns (Jimmy and Steve) who reside in a dorm run by the no-nonsense Chief Nurse Conklin.

Cast: Pat Carroll (Nurse Conklin), Susan Foster (Kathi), Heather Young (LuAnn), Lori Saunders (Maria), Judy Pace (Gail), Stephen Young (Jimmy), Norman Grabowski (Steve).

6009 Oh, Those Bells. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1962). Hoping to begin new lives in America, the three Bell brothers (Herbert, Harry and Sylvester) leave Germany and head for California. Shortly after, the Bells are flat broke and hungry. It is not stated exactly how the Bell brothers met their future employer, Henry Slocum, other than "We were broke and hungry and taken in by Mr. Slocum."

The boys, as they are sometimes called, are put to work by Slocum as custodians in Cinema Rents, a motion picture and television show prop rental business located at 4 Ridgeway Drive in Hollywood. They live together in a bungalow at a complex referred to as Mrs. Stanfield's, and the comedy stems from the antics of the insecure brothers as they attempt to adjust to life in America and do the best job that they can for Mr. Slocum.

Mrs. Stanfield is the Bells' landlady; and Kitty Matthews is Slocum's secretary. The series was originally produced for the 1960–61 season but was pulled by CBS and shown as a spring replacement series that lasted only 13 weeks. Cinema Rents (as seen on the screen) is called the Hollywood Prop Shop in printed sources.

Cast: Herbert Wiere (Herbert Bell), Harry Wiere (Harry Bell), Sylvester Wiere (Sylvester Bell), Harry Morgan (Henry Slocum), Carol Byron (Kitty Matthews), Reta Shaw (Mrs. Stanfield). Theme: "Oh Those Bells" by Tutti Camarata.

6010 Oh! Susanna. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1956–1959). The shortened title for The Gale Storm Show — Oh! Susanna See this title for information.

6011 Ohara. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1987–1988). Lieutenant (no first name) Ohara (pronounced O-Ha-Ra) is a compassionate but offbeat Asian police officer with the L.A.P.D. He can boast of 20 years hard experience and is considered one of L.A.'s finest. Ohara has a tremendous insight into what makes people tick. He is streetwise and will open up his home and heart to anyone in need of a little advice — and a home-cooked meal.

Ohara is also a karate master but prefers to use his mental acuity to solve crimes. He works with Detectives Cricket Sideris, Jesse Guerrero, Shaver and Sergeant Phil O'Brien. Captain Ross, then Captain Lloyd Hamilton, are their superiors. Other regulars are Gussie, the diner owner, and Roxy, the police department computer operator.

In the fall of 1987 (the series premiered in January of 1987) the format switched to find Ohara as a member of the Federal State Anti Crime Unit. Six months later (with the episode of March 26, 1988), the format changed again when Ohara and his partner, Shaver, resign from the police force to open their own detective agency — Ohara and Shaver Investigations. New to the cast is Teresa Storm, their superior at the Anti Crime Unit.

Cast: Pat Morita (Lt. Ohara), Catherine Keener (Det. Cricket Sideris), Richard Yniquez (Det. Jesse Guerrero), Jack Wallace (Sgt. Phil O'Brien), Robert Clohessy (Det. Shaver), Rachel Ticotin (Teresa Storm), Meagan Fay (Roxy), Jon Polito (Captain Ross), Kevin Conroy (Capt. Lloyd Hamilton). Theme: Bill Conti.

6012 O'Hara: United States Treasury. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1971–1972). James O'Hara is a top agent with the United States Treasury Department. He is a careful man who plans his every move. He feels caution and careful planning, not force tactics, will net him the criminals he is seeking. Stories follow his investigations into crimes perpetrated against Customs, Secret Service and Internal Revenue. James works with Inspector Ed Miller; Ben Hazzard is their superior.

Cast: David Janssen (James O'Hara), Paul Picerni (Ed Miller), Stacy Harris (Ben Hazzard).

6013 O.K. Crackerby. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1965–1966). O.K. Crackerby is the world's richest man. Shortly after the death of his wife, he decides to relocate to Palm Springs, California. There, with his three children, Cynthia, Hobart and O.K., Jr., they find themselves misplaced, hampered by their simple ways and unable to fit into the genteel society circle. Stories focus on O.K.'s battle of wits against snobbery. St. John Quincy is the society tutor hired by O.K. to make his children socially acceptable; Susan Wentworth is Quincy's girlfriend; Slim is O.K.'s friend; Davey is O.K.'s nephew.

Cast: Burl Ives (O.K. Crackerby), Brooke Adams (Cynthia Crackerby), Joel Davidson (Hobart Crackerby), Brian Corcoran (O.K. Crackerby, Jr.; series), Billy King (O.K. Crackerby, Jr.; unaired pilot), Hal Buckley (St. John Quincy), Laraine Stephens (Susan Wentworth), Dick Foran (Slim), John Indrisano (O.K.'s Chauffeur), Jonathan Daly (Davey). Theme Song: "O.K. Crackerby" by Robert Emmett Dolan, Abe Burrows.

6014 Okay Mother. (Series; Testimonial; DuMont; 1948–1951). The program salutes mothers of celebrities or mothers who have become famous on their own. The series ran from November 11, 1948 to July 6, 1951.

Host: Dennis James.

6015 The O'Keefe's. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2003). Harry and Ellie O'Keefe are the parents of Lauren, Danny and Mark and believe in a strict education; so much so that Ellie home schools them. The children are brilliant but have not experienced a school life outside of their home. It was Harry's experiences as a child that made him decide to home school them — "When I attended public school I was treated with unimaginable cruelty" (as everyone in the school picked on him — even the girl's bad mitten team).

The O'Keefe children speak six languages, read Shakespeare for fun and use swear words like "Ogs-blood." Harry and Ellie have given their children so much knowledge but it is all book smarts — they have no street smarts. The situation changes when Danny turns 15 and Lauren becomes 14 and they are enrolled in Hearst High School. This occurs because of Article Two, Section A of an agreement (written on a napkin) that Harry and Ellie made while they were attending Columbia University (where they met and fell in love). It was on that napkin that Harry and Ellie agreed to let their future children attend a public school to be heard when they became of age (teenagers). Stories follow the experiences of Lauren and Danny as they begin their public school careers (Mark has not yet become a teen and is thus still home schooled by Ellie).

Harry believes in family and is scared for his kids. He is a veterinarian and runs the O'Keefe Veterinary Clinic. Ellie was a stocks and bonds trader on Wall Street before she became pregnant, Lauren and Danny receive a $40 a month allowance. Danny, the O'Keefe grand master of chess, is a member of the school's football team, the Bandits; Lauren volunteers at the local hospital and is an honorary member of the cheerleading team.

Cast: Judge Reinhold (Harry O'Keefe), Kristen Nelson (Ellie O'Keefe), Tania Raymonde (Lauren O'Keefe), Joseph Cross (Danny O'Keefe), Matt Weinberg (Mark O'Keefe).

6016 Old Dogs. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/10/87). James "Jimmy" Bryce works as a security guard at a bingo parlor. He was once a tough cop who broke too many rules and was suspended. Mayo Dunlap is a retired by-the-books captain who lives for his job. He is now a volunteer (basically a file clerk) at his old precinct. When a cop's murder sparks a police department scandal, the two "old dogs" meet when they each begin their own investigation into the crime. They solve the case, impress the brass and are appointed special consultants to the police department. The unsold series was to relate the investigations of two opposite-in-procedure cops as they strive to solve difficult crimes.

6017 Old Friends. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/12/84). After his wife deserts him, Jerry Forbes, a successful New York lawyer, relinquishes his job and with his son, Mark, returns to his hometown of Columbus, Ohio, to begin a new life. The unsold series was to relate Jerry's attempts to establish his new lifestyle. In the pilot episode, Jerry meets his former love interest, Laura King, now a disc jockey, for the first time in 19 years (their romantic ups and downs was to be a focal point of the series).

Other Regulars: Phil, Jerry's father, the owner of the Forbes Pharmacy; Susan, Laura's sister; and Charlie and George, Jerry's friends.

6018 The Old Knickerbocker Music Hall. (Live Test Program; Mystery-Game; CBS; 10/9/48). A combination mystery drama and game show broadcast live from the Old Knickerbocker Music Hall, a Gay Nineties Revue, in New York City. The program begins with a dramatization (in the test, "The Times Square Story") during which a crime is committed. Customers of the hall then receive the opportunity to win prizes by attempting to identify the culprit. One of the first programs to experiment with live, remote pickups.

Performers: Sally Gracie, Henry Lascoe, Madeleine Lee, Jack Lemmon, Darren McGavin, Farrell Pelley and Maureen Stapleton.

6019 Old Money. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/28/88). A spoof of Dallas that explores the lives of the Palmers, a fabulously wealthy but eccentric family living in the city of Palm Grove. Charles Palmer, the industrious head of the family, made his money the old-fashioned way — he married it. His wife, Arabia, is a blue-blood who enjoys writing romance novels. They have three daughters: Countess Celia, a fashionable jet setter with countless husbands; Felicity, an overly generous philanthropist; and the mysterious Meg, who has returned to the family after a 20-year absence.

Other Regulars: Celia's illegitimate sons, Steven (kind) and Chip (sneaky); Hank, Felicity's slightly dense husband; Roberto, the groundskeeper who indulges in insider trading on the side; Brian, Charles's personal assistant; Kate, the strict housekeeper; and Tammy, the seemingly naive country girl who invites trouble.

6020 The Oldest Rookie. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987–1988). When his friend, Officer Harry

Clark, is killed in the line of duty, Ike Porter, a 25-year veteran, resigns from his job (Deputy Chief of Public Affairs for the L.A.P.D.) to become a street cop. Following his retraining at the academy and a brief stint as a patrol cop, Porter calls in an old favor (from the mayor) and is promoted to detective. Stories relate Ike's experiences as "The Oldest Rookie" (age 50) as he and his partner, Tony Jonas, attempt to solve crimes. Ike spent 25 years on the force and attended 416 press conferences and ate 512 "rubber chicken banquets." Ike does not always go by the books and uses his years of experience to know what is right (his hunches often compel him to go by his gut instinct, not by what the book says). Tony is a somewhat wet-behind-the-ears detective who finds it a whole new ball game working with Ike.

Other regulars are Lieutenant Marc Zaga, Detective Gary Lane; Chief Black; Sandy Porter, Ike's niece; and Nina Zaga, Marc's daughter.

Cast: Paul Sorvino (Det. Ike Porter), D.W. Moffett (Det. Tony Jonas), Raymond J. Barry (Lt. Marc Zaga), Marshall Bell (Det. Garry Lane), Patrick Cronin (Chief Black), Mira Sorvino (Sandy Porter), Leah Ayres (Nina Zaga).

6021 The Oldsmobile Music Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1959). The program, sponsored by Oldsmobile cars, features dramas with interwoven songs from the past and present (1959) with singers Florence Henderson and Bill Hayes as the hosts. The series, which produced seven episodes, is also known as Hayes and Henderson and ran from March 26, 1959 to May 7, 1959.

6022 Oliver Beene. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2003–2005). Oliver Beene is an 11-year-old boy who lives in Apartment 10M of the Central Apartment Building in Rego Park, Queens, New York during the early 1960s. He is the son of Jerry and Charlotte Beene and has a 14-year-old brother named Ted. Borrowing aspects of the series The Wonder Years, stories of Oliver's youth are narrated by Oliver as an adult.

Jerry is a dentist who feels the whole world is against him. His one goal in life is to get a parking space in front of the building. He is also an amateur inventor whose contraptions seldom work. Charlotte's social life consists of "the laundry room and the elevator," she says. She is president of the building's Tenant Association. Her claim to fame: "I was on TV in 1939 at the New York's World's Fair. The cameraman was told to find a pretty girl and show her. I was that girl."

Oliver likes to help people he believes are in trouble (although his interference always causes more problems than solutions). He and Ted attend P.S. 206 (also said to be Public School 304). Oliver believes everybody listens to his conversations. He has a dog named Scruffles and had a first job delivering papers for the Tribune at $6 a week. Oliver had a band called Oliver and the Otters and helps his mother make cookies. His favorite TV show is Romparama hosted by Ringmaster Bob.

Ted is a ladies' man (or so he believes) and his greatest weakness is chocolate éclairs. He is on the track team at school (the fastest runner they have) and Oliver says, "He always fails to impress girls by the dumb things he says."

Other regulars are Joyce and Michael, Oliver's friends. Press release information gives the following full names for characters (although they are not used on the series): Oliver David Beene; Dr. Jeremiah "Jerry" Beene; Charlotte Caroline Beene; Tayler "Ted" Mark Beene.

Cast: Grant Rosenberg (Oliver Beene), Grant Shaud (Jerry Beene), Wendy Makkena (Charlotte Beene), Andrew Lawrence (Ted Beene), David Cross (Voice of Adult Oliver), Taylor Emerson (Michael), Daveigh Chase (Joyce).

6023 O'Malley. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/8/83). Michael "Mike" O'Malley is a throwback to the past: a 1940s style private detective working out of a 1980s New York City. The unsold series was to relate his dated but still effective methods to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, O'Malley defends an indigent man caught red handed with counterfeit Kruggerands. Other Regulars: Amanda, Mike's ex-wife; Guy, Mike's friend, the owner of the Fleming Art Gallery; and Denny, Guy's secretary.

6024 Omba Mokomba. (Series; Children; Disney; 1997). Omba Mokomba is Swahili for "Ask Mokomba." And Ask Mokomba is a fictional television series in Africa where Mokomba, the show's host, answers viewers' questions about animals (which are seen via wildlife footage).

Cast: Benjamin Brown (Mokomba), Natasha Pearce (Candace; his assistant).

6025 The Omega Factor. (Series; Mystery; Syn.; 1981). Tom Crane is a newspaper journalist who is secretly a member of Department 7, a British government organization that uses people possessed of special occult powers to investigate and solve crimes (the title refers to the ultimate potential that is possible from the human mind). Dr. Anne Reynolds assists Tom; Andrew Scott-Erskine is the head of Department 7; Julia Crane is Tom's wife; Michael Crane is Tom's brother; Edward Drexel is an enemy of Department 7 (a dabbler in the occult);

Morag and Paul are members of Department 7. Paul is also assisted by The Mysterious Spirit (who only appears to him). Mrs. Coleman is the medium; Dr. Roy Martindale is Erskine's assistant.

6026 The Omen. (Pilot; Thriller; NBC; 8/9/91). Jack Mann is a writer-reporter for the Associated Press. Annalisse Summer is an ER nurse dedicated to helping people; Dr. Linus is a doctor who has seen what Jack and Annalisse have: an evil entity that seeks to destroy and has joined them to help stop it. In the pilot episode, the entity seeks to release a deadly flesh-eating virus on the population of Boston (the entity possesses people and controls them to do its bidding).

Cast: Brett Cullen (Jack Mann), Chelsea Field (Annalisse Summer), William Sadler (Dr. Linus). Guest Cast: Julie Carmen (Susanna Summer), Bill Doyer (Carl), Norman Lloyd (The Hunter), Steven Williams (Dr. Cornelius), Roman Danielle (Bob).

6027 Omni: The New Frontier. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1981). Actor Peter Ustinov hosts and narrates stories based on articles in Omni magazine that explore the scientific wonders that will shape the future.

6028 Omnibus. (Series; Anthology; CBS; ABC; NBC; 1952–1961). Programs devoted to people and “living ideas”; dramatic presentations, explanations, discussions and demonstrations concerning music, dance, history, theater, opera, ballet and literature. The series ran on CBS from November 9, 1952 to April 1, 1956; on ABC from October 7, 1956 to March 31, 1957; and on NBC from October 20, 1957 to May 10, 1959; and November 13, 1960 to April 16, 1961; 160 episodes were produced.

Host: Alistair Cooke.

6029 Omnibus. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 5/26/88). A mix of cultural features that was an unsuccessful attempt to revive the 1950s series of the same title. Av Westin is the producer.

Host: Beverly Sills. Guests: Rosemary Clooney, Michael Feinstein. MUSIC: Tamara Klein, Richard Lavasky.

6030 On Broadway Tonight. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1964–1965). Singer Rudy Vallee hosts a program that spotlights performances by undiscovered aspiring talent. The series ran from July 8, 1964 to September 16, 1964; and January 1, 1965 to March 12, 1965. Irving Mansfield is the producer.

Host: Rudy Vallee. Orchestra: Harry Sosnik.

6031 On Our Own. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1977–1978). J.M. Bedford owns the Bedford Advertising Agency at 605 Madison Avenue in New York City. Toni McBain is the creative director; Julia Peters and April Baxter are its copywriters; and Maria Teresa Bonino is the art director. Stories follow the events in Julia and April's lives.

Julia lives at 345 East 45th Street; April at 61 East 54th Street; and Maria at 62 West 72nd Street. Julia is neat; April is a perfectionist; and Maria, who was born in Brooklyn, sings herself to sleep, forgets to pay her bills, eats enough for three people (yet maintains a slender figure) and is a rather untidy housekeeper.

Craig Boatwright is the agency's salesman; Eddie Barnes is the commercials' producer; and Vanessa Oblensky is Julia's “I don't want to hear nothing” landlady.

Relatives: Kay Medford (Maria's mother), Larry Haines (Maria's father), Louis Criscuolo (Maria's uncle, Vito), Mary Denham (Craig's wife, Corkey Boatwright).

Bob Israel composed the theme.

Cast: Gretchen Wyler (Toni McBain), Bess Armstrong (Julia Peters), Dixie Carter (April Baxter), Lynn Greene (Maria Teresa Bonino), Bob Randall (J.M. Bedford), Dan Resin (Craig Boatwright), John Christopher Jones (Eddie Baines), Sasha von Scherler (Mrs. Oblensky).

6032 On Our Own. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1994–1995). Josh Jerrico is the oldest child of a family of nine. When his parents are killed in a car accident, Josh feels the only way he can keep the family together is to pretend to be their long lost Aunt Jelcinda (also called Mama J), who has come to Los Angeles from Memphis to care for her nieces and nephews (Jami, Jai, Jesse, Jordie, Joe and Jarreau).

Alana Michaels is the social worker who is aware of the charade (but promises to keep Josh's secret); complications arise when Gordon Ormsby, Alana's supervisor, meets Jelcinda and develops a crush of her (err him) without knowing that she is really a he.

Stories from September to December 1994 follow Josh as he struggles to keep the family together by pretending to be the Jerrico's aunt. After a hiatus, the series returned (from March–April 1995) with a revised format wherein Josh still had to care for his siblings — but this time as their legal guardian as he was granted custody of his siblings (thus ending the charade aspect).

Cast: Ralph Louis Harris (Josh Jerrico/Aunt Jelcinda), Jazz Smollett (Jai Jerrico), Jojo Smollett (Jimi Jerrico), Jurnee Smollett (Jordee Jerico), Jussie Smollett (Jesse Jerrico), Jake Smollett (Joe Jerrico), Jocqui Smollett (Jarreau Jerrico), Laura Ponce (Nails), Karen Kim (Suki), Kimberly Kates (Alana Michaels), Roger Alan Brown (Gordon Ormsby), T'Keyah Crystal Keymah (Scotti Decker).

6033 On Our Way. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 6/29/85). Kate and Sam Walsh are a retired couple who purchase a motor home and decide to explore America. The unsold series was to relate their experiences as they run into adventure, spurred by his nose for news as a one-time crime reporter and her lively interest in people. In the pilot episode, Kate and Sam travel to Memphis, Tennessee, for the big Elvis Presley Day observances and become involved in a bizarre murder and theft of Elvis memorabilia.

Cast: Janet Leigh (Kate Walsh), Harry Guardino (Sam Walsh). Guest Cast: G.W. Bailey (Mayor Tom Beckworth), Ben Marley (Steve Rynik), Scott Paulin (Matthew), Andrew Prine (Sheriff Farley Barnes), Gail Strickland (Melinda), Brenda Lilly (Bea), Savannah Smith Boucher (Andra), Joe Woodward (Len Chapin).

6034 On Parade. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1964). A summer program of musical programs that were produced by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and first shown in Canada. Each program features a solo performance by its host.

Host: Rosemary Clooney (July 17), Tony Bennett (July 24), Henry Mancini (July 31), Mimi Hines (August 7), Juliet Prowse (August 14), Diahann Carroll (August 21), Julius LaRosa (August 28), Jane Morgan (September 4), The Limelighters (September 11). Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

6035 On Stage America. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1984). In depth celebrity interviews and performances coupled with talk and light comedy.

Hosts: Randi Oakes, Susie Bono, Steve Edwards, Todd Christianson. Regulars: Minnie Pearl, John Barbour. Orchestra: Dennis McCarthy.

6036 On Stage Everybody. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 3/6/45). Performances by various entertainment acts: comedy from Cyril Smith and Danton Walker; impressions from Jimmy McColl; songs by Hildegard Holliday; and dancing by Pearl Primus.

Host: Billy Rose. Performers: Hildegard Holliday, Jimmy McColl, Pearl Primus, Cyril Smith, Danton Walker. Announcer: Walter Herlihy.

6037 On the Air. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1992). The time is 1957, and television is still relatively new. One New York-based network, the Zoblotnick Broadcasting Corporation (ZBC), decides that the only way to attract viewers (and save their network) is to give movie idols their own shows. They begin by hiring Lester Guy, a fading matinee idol who is hoping to make a comeback via The Lester Guy Show, a music, comedy and variety show that is plagued by the mishaps that actually occurred on live television during its "Golden Years."

Lester was a contract player at Amalgamated Studios and got his start with a bit part in the film The White Cliffs of Dover. Betty Hudson is Lester's co-star.

She is from Westport, Connecticut, and the sister of movie star Sylvia Hudson. Betty, however, has no acting experience and is a bit dim witted. To make Guy look good, Betty was chosen to be his co-star.

Buddy Budwaller is the tyrannical head of the network and the "yes man" for the never-seen Mr. Zoblotnick. Vladja Gochtch is the inexperienced, impossible to understand foreign director who directs Guy's show. Ruth Trueworthy is Vladja's assistant (she translates his thick German accent into English for the crew). Dwight McGonigle is the often distressed producer of Lester's show.

Blinky Watts appears to be blind — "He's not. He suffers from Bozman Symplex; he sees 25.6 times as much as we do." So naturally, Blinky is the sound effects man (he has pre-set levers on his control board and operates from memory rather than sight).

Wembley Snaps dog food sponsors Lester's show; Everett Greenbaum is the show's announcer; and Susan Russell is the announcer's assistant. Angelo Badalamenti composed the theme.

Cast: Ian Buchanan (Lester Guy), Marla Rubinoff (Betty Hudson), Anne Bloom (Sylvia Hudson), Miguel Ferrer (Buddy Budwaller), David L. Lander (Vladja Gochtch), Nancye Ferguson (Ruth Trueworthy), Marvin Kaplan (Dwight McGonigle), Tracey Walter (Blinky Watts).

6038 On the Corner. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1948). Talent performances culled from the Vaudeville section of the entertainment industry newspaper, Variety. The series, which produced five episodes, aired from April 18, 1948 to May 16, 1948.

Host: Henry Morgan. Regulars: Virginia Austin, George Guest, Roy Davis, The Clark Sisters.

6039 On the Cover. (Series; Game; PAX; 2004). A game show based on headlines or blurbs that could appear on magazine, CD or DVD covers. Three contestants compete. Players are shown a series of covers with a blurb (made up by the show's writers). A question relating to one of the pictured covers is asked (for example, "What movie co-starred...") The first player to sound a buzzer and answer it correctly scores points. The lowest scorer at the end of the round is eliminated. The remaining two players compete in a similar round two. Here the highest scorer wins the game and a chance to compete in the bonus round. A board with a concealed (by the numbers 1–9) picture of a celebrity is displayed. The host reads nine questions, one at a time. Each question the player answers correctly (within 90 seconds) removes the corresponding number from the picture (which reveals one segment of the picture; rarely would all nine segments be revealed). If the player can identify the celebrity he wins a valuable prize; if not, a less expensive prize is awarded.

Host: Mark L. Walberg. Announcer: Vanessa Marshall, Mitch Lewis.

6040 On the Edge. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 6/4/87). Jack Shake is a hard-nosed L.A.P.D. detective; M.R. Baker is his partner, a hotshot rookie. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to solve complex crimes. In the pilot episode, Shake and Baker attempt to apprehend a killer who preys on teenagers.

Cast: Tom Skerritt (Jack Shake), Tom O'Brien (M.R. Baker), J.T. Walsh (Captain Alan Quail), Peter Iacangelo (Detective D'Agostino). Guest Cast: Joan Chen (Ellen Yung), Robert Curtis-Brown (Dean Albrecht), Shawnee Smith (Gretchen), Miles Davis (Ozzie Whitehouse), Howard Sherman (Tommy G.), C.C.H. Pounder (Woman).

6041 On the Go. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1960). Jack Linkletter hosts a program that features guests, interviews and visits to various areas around Los Angeles. Johnny Jacobs does the announcing.

6042 On the Lot. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2007). "From Hollywood, movie capital of the world, welcome to On the Lot." A reality series that seeks to find "The next great American director." Fifty finalists, chosen from 12,000 short film submissions from around the world, are gathered together in Hollywood. Here, various film related competitions are held to determine the best of among the group of talented but still undiscovered film directors.

The first challenge is to present a pitch. A log line (one sentence plot) is given to each of the competitors. Within 24 hours each must devise a complete story (beginning, middle and end) and sell that story to a panel of three judges (two regulars and one guest). The 18 worst presenters are eliminated. The remaining 32 directors are given equipment, actors and a shooting site and must, within 24 hours, produce a two-and-one-half minute film. Cameras follow the frustrations of each director (who are working in teams of three) as the pressure mounts to get the film made. Each of the films is then screened. Twelve directors, whose films do not meet the judge's demands, are eliminated. The twenty remaining directors now work independently and must produce films based on the instructions given to them. The results are judged by the panel — but it is the votes from viewers that determine who stays and who goes. Potential directors are eliminated each week and the one remaining director receives a $1 million deal with Dream Works Studios (and the opportunity to work with director Steven Spielberg). That's a rap.

Hostess: Adrianna Costa. Judges: Carrie Fisher, Garry Marshall.

6043 On the Rocks. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1975–1976). Life in the Alamesa State Minimum Security Prison as seen through the eyes of convict Hector Fuentes, a streetwise petty thief. Based on the British series Porridge. Lester, Cleaver, Nick and Gabby are fellow convicts; Mr. Gibson and Mr. Sullivan are the correctional officers; Wilbur Poindexter is the warden; Dorothy Burgess is Wilbur's secretary.

Cast: Jose Perez (Hector Fuentes), Hal Williams (Lester DeMott), Rick Hurst (Cleaver), Bobby Sandler (Nick Palik), Mel Stewart (Mr. Gibson), Tom Poston (Mr. Sullivan), Pat Cranshaw (Gabby), Logan Ramsey (Wilbur Poindexter), Cynthia Harris (Dorothy Burgess).

6044 On Top All Over the World. (Pilot; Human Interest; Syn.; 4/11/85). A proposed weekly series that was to survey the entertainment industry world wide (the best in television, movies and music).

Hosts: Morgan Brittany, Stephen J. Cannell. Guests: Edward Asner, Linda Blair, Joan Collins, Morgan Fairchild, Bonnie Franklin, Ben Gazzara, David Hasselhoff, Roger Moore, Olivia Newton-John, Victoria Principal, Jane Seymour, Elizabeth Taylor, Raquel Welch Announcer-Narrator: Steve O'Brien. Theme ("On Top"): Michael Karp.

6045 On Trial. (Test Film; Drama; ABC; 11/8/48). Reenactments of actual court cases that feature real judges. In the pilot episode, New York Supreme Court judge Ferdinand Pecora hears a case on the legality of wire-tapping in crime detection. The television program was also an audition for a possible radio series. The audio portion was broadcast on ABC-AM, but neither went beyond the initial test.

Cast: William G.H. Finch, Charles P. Grimes, William P. Herlands, Judge Ferdinand Pecora, Lloyd Paul Stryker. Announcer: Bob Sabin.

6046 On Trial. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 9/23/55). The first of two pilots for the 1956–57 series of the same title. A proposed series that dramatizes actual court cases.

In the 1841 case, "The U.S. Versus Alexander Holmes" (the title of the pilot), attorney William Meredith prosecutes Alexander Holmes, a seaman charged with homicide (when the ship he was on sank and 21 people crowded into a lifeboat, Holmes played God and ejected eight passengers to prevent the boat from sinking. Holmes is charged with murder when he and the other passengers are rescued. In the ensuing trial, Holmes is found guilty, but given a light sentence due to extenuating circumstances). Aired on Star Stage.

Cast: Joseph Cotten (William Meredith), Frank Gerstle (Alexander Holmes), Robert Middleton (Armstrong), Sallie Brophy (Julia), Ellen Corby (Isabelle), Sally Blaine (Ann), Robert Warwick (Judge), Paul Kruger (Mate), Larry Williams (Ship's owner).

6047 On Trial. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/18/56). The second of two pilot films (see the prior title) for the series of the same title (next entry). The second pilot is an original teleplay and called "The Man in the Black Robe" (the series that followed dramatized actual cases). In it, a judge (Cardiff) on the verge of retirement risks his life to gain a conviction against Harry Manning, a powerful racketeer of the 1930s who killed his business associate, then expected a trial of few formalities and then freedom.

Cast: Joseph Cotten (Host-Narrator), Paul Douglas (Harry Manning), John McIntire (Judge Cardiff), Joyce Jameson (Bonnie), John Hoyt (Hunnicutti).

6048 On Trial. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1956–1957). Dramatizations based on actual court cases. The series, hosted by Joseph Cotten, produced 30 episodes and ran from September 14, 1956 to September 13, 1957; it is also known as The Joseph Cotten Show. See the prior two titles for information on its pilot episodes.

6049 On Trial. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 4/29/94). A proposed series of dramas based on real life trials. In the pilot episode, “The Dark Place,” the case of the state of Wisconsin versus Mark Allen is dramatized. It begins with a fishing trip to a park where Mark meets a girl named Sarah. The attraction is instant and 48 hours later they make love. The following day, Sarah calls Mark and accuses him of raping not her, but one of her other 45 personalities — a six-year-old girl. Mark is arrested, accused of second degree sexual assault and faces up to ten years in prison.

Cast: F. Lee Bailey (Host-Narrator), Elaine Bilstad (Sarah), Don Bloomfield (Mark), Katherine Cannon (Mary Lou).

6050 On Your Account. (Series; Game; CBS; 1954–1956). Contestants appear on stage and relate their sorrows. A panel then questions them to determine the seriousness of their individual situations. Each question that is asked deposits five dollars in a bank. After a specified time, the panel chooses the person they feel is the most desperate. That contestant receives the money that has been deposited in the bank.

Host: Eddie Albert, Win Elliot, Dennis James. Announcer: Bill Rogers.

6051 On Your Mark. (Series; Game; CBS; 1961). Children, aged from nine to thirteen, and who are pursuing the same career goal, compete. A series of question and answer rounds, based on the contestant’s career potential, follow, with the player scoring the highest being declared the winner and receiving a savings bond.

Host: Sonny Fox.

6052 On Your Way. (Series; Game; DuMont; ABC; 1953–1954). Selected members of the studio audience compete. The host reads a general knowledge type of question. The first player to identify himself through a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. Points are scored if he is correct. The winner, the highest scoring player, receives an all-expenses paid trip to his place of desire. The series ran on DuMont from September 9, 1953 to January 20, 1954; and on ABC from January 23, 1954 to April 17, 1954.

Host: Clayton “Bud” Collyer, John Reed King, Kathy Godfrey.

6053 Once a Hero. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1987). There is a world beyond the third dimension called Comic Book World. Here, the characters live their lives based on the adventures drawn by their creators. Abner Bevis is one such cartoonist whose character, Captain Justice, is the heroic savior of Pleasantville.

Captain Justice is, in reality, beloved schoolteacher Brad Steele. There are good citizens in Pleasantville, like the lovely Rachel Kirk and her sister, Tippy Kirk. But there is also the Captain’s arch enemy, the evil Max Mayhem. Captain Justice, also called “The Crimson Crusader,” wears a red costume with blue gloves and a blue triangle on his chest with a gold CJ in the center. He does not have a cape but possesses the ability to fly, is immune to harm, has incredible strength and infrared X-ray vision.

Abner has been drawing the comic strip for 30 years and is running out of fresh ideas. When he begins using plots from earlier adventures, people begin to lose interest and sales plummet. In Pleasantville, Captain Justice is about to save Rachel and Tippy from Max when he begins to fade. “This is no good,” the Captain says. “We are dependent upon the affections of people in the real world. As long as we remain in their hearts, we are safe. Should they start to forget us, we simply fade away. I’ve seen this happen before. Remember Andy Hardy? They’re now forgetting Captain Justice. I won’t let this happen. I’ll go to the third dimension and force them to remember.” To do this, Captain Justice flies through the Forbidden Zone into the real world.

As Captain Justice seeks Abner in Los Angeles, the ruler of Comic Book World, the Great and Magnificent One, summons Gumshoe, a 1940s-style private detective, and hires him to find Captain Justice and bring him back — “If he stays he will experience a fate more horrific than a superhero can endure. He should spend his remaining days here, with dignity and honor.”

Gumshoe drives through the Forbidden Zone via his 1940s roadster and finds Captain Justice. He learns the Captain, whom he calls “Cap,” met with Abner and discovered the publisher, Pizazz Comics, is planning to discontinue Captain Justice because “the kids don’t go for it like they used to.” Cap tells Gumshoe he is determined to change that and save Pleasantville — “I must get people to remember me.” The gruff looking but softhearted Gumshoe agrees to help Cap. They begin a crusade against crime and are soon heroes. Emma Greely, a reporter for the Los Angeles Gazette, writes the stories: “Captain Justice Does It Again. But Who Is He?” The Comic Book News reports that Pizazz Comics has reinstated Captain Justice and Pleasantville is saved.

Lobsterman assists the Captain; Victor Lazarus is another villain seeking to do away with the Captain. In the real world, T.J. North (Adam West) plays Brad Steele/Captain Justice on the TV series Captain Justice. Jim Turner played Captain Justice in the unaired pilot version. Dennis Dreith composed the theme.

Cast: Jeff Lester (Brad Steele), Robert Forster (Gumshoe), Dianne Kay (Rachel Kirk), Dana Short (Tippy Kirk), Harris Laskaway (Max Mayhem), Milo O’Shea (Abner Bevis), Caitlin Clarke (Emma Greely), Trevor Henley (Lobsterman), Richard Lynch (Victor Lazarus).

6054 Once a Thief. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 2002). Victor Mansfield is an intelligence agent and ex cop who was framed on a false drug charge. He was imprisoned but freed by a mysterious woman (known only as the Director) to work for her in law enforcement.

Lee Anne Sai and Mac Ramsey are master thieves who are on the run from “the Hong Kong Family” (mob) for stealing. They are given refuge by the Director on condition that they work with her and Victor. Stories follow the Director’s team as she assigns them cases that require expert thievery skills to solve.

The team enjoys meals at the Jade Swan Restaurant. Mac and Lee Anne are skilled in the martial arts. Mac has a $3 million bounty on his head; Lee Anne’s downfall is that she has a sense of morals; Mac is considered the underachiever member of the team according to the Director. The theme, “Once a Thief,” is composed and performed by Psychic Mambo, Ken Worth, Michelle Worth and Dee Long.

Cast: Nicholas Leo (Victor Mansfield), Sandrine Holt (Lee Anne Sai), Ivan Sergei (Mac Ramsey), Jennifer Dole (The Director).

6055 Once and Again. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1999–2002). Rick Sammler is the divorced father of two children, Eli and Jesse. Lily Manning is the newly divorced mother of two children, Grace and Zoe. They are also romantically involved and stories, set in Chicago, follow the lives of two single parents and their efforts to balance their careers to spend time together.

Rick is an architect and divorced from Karen (whom he considers spiteful). Lily is an on-line salesperson (later radio talk show host) who is newly separated from her selfish husband Jake, a restaurateur. Lily’s children are insecure (Grace) and troubled

Cast: Bill Campbell (Rick Sammler), Sela Ward (Lily Manning), Shane West (Eli Sammler), Evan Rachel Ward (Grace Manning), Meredith Deane (Zoe Manning), Susanna Thompson (Karen Sammler), Jeffrey Nordling (Jake Manning), Ever Carradine (Tiffany), Marin Hinkle (Judy Brooks).

6056 Once Upon a Dead Man. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/17/71). The pilot film for McMillan and Wife about Stewart “Mac” McMillan, the police commissioner of San Francisco, and his pretty wife, Sally, a girl with a knack for finding trouble. In the pilot episode, Sally drags Mac to a charity auction and they become involved in a theft and murder.

Cast: Rock Hudson (Stewart McMillan), Susan Saint James (Sally McMillan), John Schuck (Sergeant Charles Enright). Guest Cast: Jack Albertson (Chief Andy Yeakel), Kurt Kasznar (Edmond Corday), Rene Auberjonois (Andre Stryker), Jonathan Harris (Mr. Wortzel), Herb Edelman (Gregory Constantine), Linda Watkins (Emily Hull), James Wainwright (John Patterson).

6057 Once Upon a Fence. (Series; Children; NBC; 1952). Katherine Heger hosts a program that features stories, songs and music for children. It ran from April 13, 1952 to July 20, 1952.

6058 Once Upon a Spy. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 9/19/80). She is known only as “The Lady” and she heads The Organization, a special investigative agency of the U.S. government. The proposed series was to relate the exploits of the agency’s top two operatives: Jack Chenault, a computer genius, and Paige Tannehill, a K–12 Agent. In the pilot episode, Jack and Paige attempt to stop Marcus Valorium, a scientific genius, from controlling the world through his molecular condenser beam, which rearranges molecules and reduces matter. Other Regulars: Burkle, The Lady’s aide.

Cast: Eleanor Parker (The Lady), Ted Danson (Jack Chenault), Mary Louise Weller (Paige Tannehill), Burke Byrnes (Burkle). Guest Cast: Christopher Lee (Marcus Valorium), Leonard J. Stone (Dr. Charles Webster), Jo McDonnell (Susan Webster), Terry Lester (Rudy), Irena Ferris (Greta).

6059 Once Upon a Tune. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1951). A rather ambitious program that presents a complete musical each week, usually an adaptation of a Broadway play. A regular cast of performers appear in a series that ran from March 6, 1951 to May 15, 1951.

Regulars: Phil Hanna, Sondra Lee, Holly Harris, Reginald Beane, Bernice Parks, Ed Holmes.

6060 One Big Family. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986). Don Hatton is an officer with the Seattle, Washington, Police Department. He lives at First and Hastings with his wife, Jan, and his siblings, Mary Ann, Kate, Brian and Roger. Also living with them is Jake Hatton, Don's uncle, who has moved in to help Don care for his younger brothers and sisters. Jake became an active part of the family when Don's parents were killed in an automobile accident shortly after Don and Jan were married (they are still newlyweds). Jake is an old-time vaudeville performer who has become a bit grumpy with age; but his old-age wisdom provides the guidance Don and Jan can't. Stories relate the events that befall the various members of the Hatton family.

Brian and Kate, the eldest children, attend Fillmore High School. Other regulars are Phil, Jake's friend and occasional helper in guiding the lives of the children.

6061 One Big Family. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1987). The setting is Schenectady, New York, in the late 1940s. WINT is a small radio station owned and run by the McAllister family from their home. Maggie, the mother, hosts a morning talk show called Morning Maggie; her husband, Mack, is the station's newscaster and business affairs manager; Dorothy, their strong-willed 19-year-old daughter, writes the station's daily soap opera; and Bradley, their 15-year-old son, is a budding 1940s-style hipster. The station's music director is Maggie's 70-year-old Aunt Esther.

Other Regulars: Mack's younger brother, Philly, a would-be entrepreneur who is married to a wide-eyed Japanese war bride (Sayoko); and George, the only non-family member, a black announcer who affects a "refined" accent on the air. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps that befall "One Big Family" as they perform multiple roles to keep the station going. Originally titled Morning Maggie.

6062 One Day at a Time. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975–1984). Ann Romano is a liberated, 34 year old divorcée (who has resumed her maiden name) who lives with her two daughters, Barbara and Julie Cooper (who carry their father's last name), at 1344 Hartford Drive, Apartment 402, in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Ann was born in Logansport, Indiana, and attended Logansport High School. She was first an account executive at the Connors and Davenport Advertising Agency, then co-owner of the Romano and Handris Ad Agency with Nick Handris; the agency was later called Handris and Associates. When the business folded, Ann and her former co-worker (and rival) at Connors and Davenport, Francine Webster, pooled their resources and opened the Romano and Webster Ad Agency. Ann's first boss, Al Connors, called her "M.S. Romano" (the "M" and "S" pronounced separately) when Ann insisted that she be called Ms. Romano (Al was also called Claude Connors).

Ann's first season boyfriend was David Kane, her divorce lawyer (with the firm of McNerney, Wollman, Kollman and Schwartz). In 1983 she married architect Sam Royer and moved to 322 Bedford Street, Apartment 422.

Julie, Ann's oldest and more troublesome daughter, attended Jefferson High School. She was a receptionist for a veterinarian at the Curran Animal Center, a freelance fashion designer and a counselor at the Free Clinic. In 1979 Julie married Max Horvath, a flight attendant for PMA Airlines. When Max is laid off, he turns to writing. When he is unable to make a go of it, he becomes a waiter at Barney's Tavern. Julie later attended the Berkum Management Institute in Ohio for training as the manager of a doughnut shop. She and Max became the parents of a daughter they name Annie.

Barbara, Ann's younger daughter, began the series as a tomboy and evolved into a beautiful young woman. She attended Jefferson High School and later City College (but dropped out), and held the following jobs: cook at Quickie Burger, salesclerk at Olympia Sporting Goods (owned by Erickson Enterprises) and travel agent at the Gonagin Travel Agency. Barbara's greatest disappointment occurred shortly after her marriage (in 1982) to Mark Royer, a dentist. Having always dreamed of raising a family, Barbara learned that a medical condition prevents her from having children.

Dwayne F. Schneider, the building superintendent, lives in the basement (Apartment 1) and is a member of I.B.M. (Indianapolis Building Maintenance). Dwayne's first job was, at the age of two months, a model in diaper ads. Dwayne, born in Secaucus, New Jersey, attended Irvington High School. He married in 1957, but the marriage lasted only one week. (His wife got up one morning, hot-wired his truck and just took off. However, in the pilot episode, Dwayne is married; in a later episode, Dwayne was married for five days and got a divorce.)

Ginny Wrobleki, Ann's sexy neighbor, is a waitress at the Alibi Room bar; Bob Morton is Barbara's friend; Kathryn Romano is Anne's mother; Beerbelly is Dwayne's friend.

Relatives: Joseph Campanella (Ann's ex-husband, Ed Cooper), Elizabeth Kerr (Ann's grandmother, Helen Romano), Jeff Corey (Ann's father, Michael Romano), Priscilla Morrill (Ann's mother-in-law, Estelle Cooper), Gretchen Corbett (Ann's cousin, Sophie), Van Johnson (Francine's father, Gus Webster), Dick Van Patten (Ginny's ex-husband, Frank), Mark Hamill (Dwayne's nephew, Harvey), Darrell Larson (Dwayne's son, Ronnie Baxter), Claudette Nevins (Sam's ex-wife, Marge Royer), Elinor Donahue (Nick's ex-wife, Felicia), Glenn Scarpelli (Nick's son, Alex Handris).

Cast: Bonnie Franklin (Ann Romano), Valerie Bertinelli (Barbara Cooper), Mackenzie Phillips (Julie Cooper), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Dwayne Schneider), Mary Louise Weller (Ginny Wroblinski), Michael Lembeck (Max Horvath), Shelley Fabares (Francine Webster), Boyd Gaines (Mark Royer), Nanette Fabray (Kathryn Romano), Richard Masur (David Kane), John Hillerman (Al Connors), John Putch (Bob Morton), Ron Rifkin (Nick Handris), Chuck McCann (Beerbelly), Howard Hesseman (Sam Royer), Howard Morton (Mr. Erskine; Barbara's boss), J.C. and R.C. Dille (Annie Horvath), Paige and Lauren Maloney (Annie Horvath; later), Jack Riley (Mr. Gonagin; Barbara's boss, 1984). Theme: "One Day at a Time" by Nancy and Jeff Barry.

6063 One Embezzlement, Two Margueritas. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 5/18/66). A proposed spin-off from The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater about Frederick Piper, a socialite, tennis-playing private detective working out of Boston. In the pilot episode, Piper is hired to find Edward Parker Greene, a banker who disappeared with three million dollars.

Cast: Jack Kelly (Frederick Piper). Guest Cast: Michael Rennie (Edward Greene), Jocelyn Lane (Ellis Randall), Antoinette Bower (Maureen Hollins), Nico Minardo (Enrico Ybarra), Jon Alvar (Ramon Perez), Matt Clark (Paco Perez), Karen Jensen (Barbara Fremont), Terence Mitchell (Arthur).

6064 One-Eyed Jacks Are Wild. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1966). A proposed series about a man (George Grizzard) who doubles for the prince of a mythical European principality when enemies of the prince attempt to assassinate him. The program also stars Diana Dors. Herbert Brodtkin is the producer.

6065 One Happy Family. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1961). Penny and Dick Cooper are a young married couple who, due to a financial setback, are forced to move into the home of her parents, Barney and Mildred Hogan. Also living in the house are Penny's grandparents, Charley and Lovey Hackett. Stories follow the misadventures that occur as three generations of one family attempt to live under the same roof. Dick works as a meteorologist; Charley is a plumber.

Cast: Judy Warner (Penny Cooper), Dick Sargent (Dick Cooper), Chick Chandler (Barney Hogan), Elisabeth Fraser (Mildred Hogan), Jack Kirkwood (Charley Hackett), Cheerio Meredith (Lovey Hackett).

6066 101 Dalmatians: The Series. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1997). A television adaptation of the 1961 animated feature film and the 1996 live action movie, 101 Dalmatians, that dealt with the evil Cruella DeVil and her efforts to make a fur coat from the skins of the 101 dogs of Roger and Anita Dearly. Their main dogs are Perita and Pongo (who have 15 birth puppies; the Dearlys adopted 84 additional puppy Dalmatians). Roger and Anita live on a farm and the series itself focuses basically on three of the Dalmatians: Lucky, Rolly and Cadpig and their adventures on the farm with their barnyard friends (in particular Spot the chicken). Stories also focus on the animals as they help defend their home from Cruella's endless efforts to achieve her fur coat dream.

6067 100 Center Street. (Series; Drama; A&E; 2001–2002). A behind the scenes look at the proceedings of New York City's arraignment court as seen through the cases of Joe Rifkind, a liberal judge known as "Let 'em go Joe." His conflicts with the court system, especially with the strict Judge Atallah Sims (called "Atallah the Hun") and the Manhattan District Attorney's office are also a focal point of the program.

Cast: Alan Arkin (Joe Rifkins), LaTanya Richardson (Atallah Sims), Phyllis Newman (Sarah Rifkind, Joe's wife), Paula Devicq (ADA Cynthia Bennington), Joseph Lyle Taylor (ADA Bobby Esposito), Manny Perez (Ramon Rodriquez).

6068 100 Centre Street. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/31/84). At 100 Centre Street in New York City stands the Hall of Justice. Incidents in the lives of the judges (Charles, Nell, Earl and Ramon) who try cases there was the focal point of the proposed series. Other Regulars: Pam, the public defender; Louis, the prosecuting attorney; Leo, the bailiff; Harry, the newsstand owner; Fran, Charles's wife; and Andre, the court stenographer.

Cast: Len Carriou (Judge Charles Felt), Dee Wallace (Judge Nell Hartigan), J.A. Preston (Judge Earl Doucette), Henry Darrow (Judge Ramon Robledo), Lela Levy (Pam Verderamo), James Canning (Louis Keck), Ernie Hudson (Leo Kelly), Ernie Sabella (Harry Pike), Christine Belford (Fran Felt), Wright Dorsey (Andre Bussey).

6069 One Hundred Grand. (Series; Game; ABC; 1963). One contestant, possessing knowledge in at least one specific field, is placed opposite a panel of five professional authorities. The panelists then ask him a series of questions. Each correct response awards him a large amount of cash. The contestant is permitted to continue or quit playing and leave with his earnings at any time. One incorrect response and the player is defeated. If the player survives several of these knowledge battles, he then faces the final competition: to answer five questions sent in by home viewers. If he is successful, he receives $100,000; if he fails, he is defeated and loses everything. The series, ahead of its time in large cash prizes, produced three episodes and ran from September 15, 1963 to September 29, 1963.

Host: Jack Clark.

6070 The One Hundred Lives of Black Jack Savage. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1991). On the Caribbean island of San Pietro in the 1790s, a pirate named Black Jack Savage is hanged. The ghost of Black Jack remains on the island and haunts his former residence, Blackbird Castle. Three hundred years later in New York City, billionaire Barry Tarberry, the owner of Tarberry Enterprises, is arrested for insider trading (violating federal statute 1678). While he is out on bail, Barry gathers his available assets and goes into exile on the island of San Pietro. There he pays $300,000 to Herve Abel Vasquez, the island's corrupt governor general, for immunity. Abel's niece, Reya Montegro, who runs Vasquez Realty for her uncle, sells Barry the haunted Blackbird Castle for $1,500,000.

Barry does not believe in the legend of the ghost until he comes face to face with Black Jack. It is a situation he must learn to accept when he discovers that he is wanted by the FBI and now broke (the government seized all his other assets).

The current owner of Blackbird Castle is the only person who can see and hear Black Jack. Barry also learns that Black Jack killed 100 people as a pirate and is now cursed to remain on Earth until he can save an equal number of lives to make up for those he took. Black Jack is also incapable of affecting physical matter; he can, however, possess lower life forms.

Black Jack has a spiritual advisor named Larry. Through Larry, Black Jack learns that Barry is headed all the way down for his past deeds — “Right now they’ve got you scheduled in the Ivan the Terrible chamber in the southeast corner of hell.” Now that both are virtually in the same predicament, they agree to help each other by saving lives. Each life they save they split (51 percent goes to Jack, 49 percent to Barry). It’s the only chance Barry has to save his soul, and it’s Jack’s only chance to find eternal peace. Stories relate their somewhat bumbling efforts to save lives.

Assisting Barry and Jack (but he doesn’t know about Jack) is Logan Murphy, a brilliant scientist who once worked for the Pentagon as a defense specialist. He wears a NASA cap and has the nickname “FX.” Logan carries a seven ton generator in the back of his car to power his various inventions. Logan also believes that Barry is crazy (he sees Barry talking to air), and he invented the Blackbird, a high tech speedboat that Barry uses to battle crime (Barry hides the boat at a secret dock near the castle).

Black Jack was born as Niamu in the Monokanga kingdom of Africa. When he was a young man, Portuguese slave traders abducted him. One night, a drunken sailor forgot to lock Niamu’s chains. Niamu freed himself, began a revolt and killed 25 sailors. He set his people free and retreated to the Caribbean. There, the British press dubbed him “Black Jack Savage” for killing the sailors. The Blackbird was Black Jack’s pirate ship, and he killed 100 people in the years that followed, prior to his execution. Black Jack now fears Snarks — “Little Dirt Bags” that will send him to hell if he leaves the castle. (Snarks are actually ghostly creatures in a different dimension, and they can cause Black Jack harm. If the Snarks catch Jack, they can transport him to hell by bringing him to the roots of the tree where he was hanged; the roots lead to hell.) Mike Post composed the theme.

Note: The series is also known as Black Jack Savage and Disney Presents the 100 Lives of Black Jack Savage. Each episode concluded with the number of lives left to save. At the end of the last episode, “89 Lives Left to Save” appeared.

6071 110 Lombard Street. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/14/88). The mishaps that befall three single men (Bob, Mike and Ryan) who share an urban apartment at 110 Lombard Street. In the pilot episode, the guys attempt to help each other through a variety of personal problems. Other Regulars: Linda, Mike’s sister. The proposed series would also present musical guests and feature a regular cast performing various roles each week.

Regulars: Dana Anderson, Bonnie Hunt, Debra

6072 The $100,000 Big Surprise. (Series; Game; CBS; 1956–1957). Each of the contestants who appear selects one of two sets of questions, the “easy” or the “difficult.” Players are quizzed in their choices and receive cash prizes for each correct response. Players, who are defeated and lose everything if they give an incorrect response, can continue or stop at any point. Players vie for the opportunity to win $100,000 by answering increasingly difficult questions in their chosen categories.

Host: Jack Barry, Mike Wallace. Assistant: Sue Oakland, Mary Gardiner.

6073 The $100,000 Name That Tune. (Series; Game; Syn. 1976–1981). An update of Name That Tune. Two contestants compete in a game wherein they must identify song titles after hearing only a few bars played by an orchestra. Several rounds are played (worth different amounts of money) and the highest scoring cash player is the winner. The champion receives the opportunity to win $100,000 by identifying a very difficult mystery tune from three notes of music. The series was revised as The New $100,000 Name That Tune.

Host: Tom Kennedy. Model: Jeri Fiala. Orchestra: Tommy Oliver, Stan Worth. Music Performer: Dan Younger and the Sound System. Vocalists: Steve March, Monica Buris.

6074 The $100,000 Pyramid. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1985–1990). A revised version of The $25,000 Pyramid. Two teams, each composed of one celebrity and one non-celebrity contestant, compete. One team chooses one subject (from six that are displayed on a pyramid board). Each subject contains seven related objects. One player must use one-word clues and relate the meaning of each object to his partner within thirty seconds. Each correct association scores one point. Three rounds are played and the player with the highest score is the winner and receives the opportunity to win up to $25,000 by guessing seven subjects in 60 seconds. At a later date the three players who used the least amount of time at the pyramid compete for $100,000.

Host: Dick Clark. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

6075 The $100,000 Pyramid. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1990). A revised version of the 1985–1990 series of the same title (which see for format).

Host: John Davidson.

6076 The $100,000 Video Challenge. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1990). Amateur home videos are screened with prizes awarded for each of the three funniest productions (as voted by the studio audience). While the big money prize was never awarded, winners of the weekly contests were screened again with the best video winning its maker $10,000.

Host: Chuck Henry.

6077 The $1,000,000 Chance of a Lifetime. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1986). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One member of each team stands before a line of blank spaces. Letters to the formation of a clue word appear, one at a time. The first player to identify the word receives money and the chance to identify the mystery puzzle by selecting two letters that appear in the unknown name, place or object. The first player to identify the puzzle wins money. Players rotate turns and the highest scoring team plays the bonus round. To win one million dollars the team first selects one category from three that are shown, then has to guess six related subjects (from letters that appear) within sixty seconds. Successful players win $5,000 and the chance to compete again. Ten thousand dollars is awarded if the team wins the next day’s game and is successful in the bonus round. The one million dollars is awarded if the team can win both a third game and successfully complete a third bonus round.

Host: Jim Lange. Assistant: Karen Thomas. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert, Marc Summers.

6078 The $1,000,000 Video Challenge. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1990). Guest Hollywood directors, producers and actors judge amateur home videos each week. Each video is judged in four categories: comedy appeal, “kids stuff,” music and that’s life. The winning video chosen by the panel awards its producer cash or merchandise prizes. The deceiving title refers to the total amount of money and merchandise that will be awarded over a 39 week run.

Host: Steven Kelley.

6079 The $128,000 Question. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1976–1977). Players who possess knowledge in at least one specific field, compete. Each is asked a series of questions ranging in value from $64 to $64,000. The player, who risks loss of everything if he should give an incorrect response, can either continue playing or quit after answering each question. Once a player earns $64,000, he receives the opportunity to return at a later date and compete for another $64,000.

Hosts: Mike Darrow, Alex Trebek. Models: Lauri Locks, Cindy Reynolds, Pattie Lee, Slvie Garant. Announcer: Alan Carter, Sandy Hoyt.

6080 One in a Million. (Series; Game; ABC; 1967). Four celebrity guest appear. Each of the guests possesses a secret that is known to the host and each member of the panel. Two contestants compete and must determine what the unknown secrets are through a series of indirect question and answer rounds (somewhat like on I’ve Got a Secret). If a player guesses the secret he scores points. Four such rounds are played (one per celebrity guest) and the player with the highest point total is the winner. The series aired from April 3, 1967 to June 16, 1967.

Host: Danny O'Neill.

6081 One in a Million. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980). A 13 episode spin-off from What's Happening!! that changes the character of Shirley Wilson, a waitress at Rob's Place, to Shirley Simmons, New York City cab driver.

Here Shirley inherits controlling interest in the $200 million Grayson Enterprises when her friend, company owner Jonathan Grayson, dies suddenly and his will stipulates that she is to run the company as the Chairman of the Board. Shirley is completely inexperienced for such a responsibility and stories follow her efforts to fulfill Jonathan's wishes.

Other regulars are Roland Cushing, the company vice president; Nancy Boyer, Shirley's secretary; Barton Stone, Cushing's attorney; Raymond and Edna, Shirley's parents; Max, the diner owner; Grace, Roland's wife; Michael Boyer, Nancy's son; Duke, Shirley's friend.

Cast: Shirley Hemphill (Shirley Simmons), Keene Curtis (Roland Cushing), Dorothy Fielding (Nancy Boyer), Richard Paul (Barton Stone), Mel Stewart (Raymond Simmons), Ann Weldon (Edna Simmons), Carl Ballantine (Max Kalamo), Louise Sorel (Grace Cushing), Jimmy Heth (Michael Boyer), Ralph Wilcox (Duke).

6082 The One: Making of a Music Star. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2006). Not only is The One a copy of American Idol but it also achieved the worst ratings in the history of ABC for a premiere (1.1 million viewers or a three share of the available audience). The program follows a group of amateur singers as they compete for a contract from a major music company. The contestants are seen at Music Academy (where they are trained and mentored). From this point on, each performs on stage and is judged by a panel. But it is viewer votes that determine who stays and who is eliminated. The series was cancelled after three episodes and before a winner was chosen.

Host: George Stroumboulopoulos. Judges: Kara Dio Guardi, Mark Hudson, Andie Harrell. Choreographer: Tina Landon. Finalists: Austin Carroll, Aubrey Collins, Nick Brownell, Caitlin Evanson, Adam Mcinnis, Michael Cole, Scotty Granger, Jaden Marca, Jeremy Richey, Syesha Mercado, Jacquelyn Mendez, Tina Landon, Jennifer Rade, Mark Jenkins, Roger Love.

6083 One Man Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1969). The program spotlights performances by guest comedians (who also serve as hosts for that particular episode).

Guests Include: Morey Amsterdam, Bob and Ray (Bob Elliott, Ray Goulding), Groucho Marx, Rip Torn, Steve Allen. Announcer: Ed Jordan.

6084 One Man's Experience. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1952–1953). Human interest accounts that depict the joys and sorrows of men. Guests appear in stories that run four days each. See also One Woman's Experience. Lawrence Menkin is the producer. The series, also known as One Man's Story, ran from October 6, 1952 to April 10, 1953.

6085 One Man's Family. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1949–1955). The life, sex values and worthiness of the American family as seen through the experiences of the Barbour's, a seven-member family living in the swank Sea Cliff section of Bay City in California. Henry Barbour, a stockbroker, is the head of the family. He is married to Frances (called "Fanny") and they are the parents of Hazel, Claudia, Jack, Clifford and Paul. The series, based on the radio program of the same title, ran from November 4, 1949 to April 1, 1955.

Cast: Bert Lytell (Henry Barbour), Theodore Van Eltz (Henry Barbour), Marjorie Gateson (Frances Barbour), Mary Adams (Frances Barbour), Lillian Schaff (Hazel Barbour), Linda Reighton (Hazel Barbour), Nancy Franklin (Claudia Barbour), Eva Marie Saint (Claudia Barbour), Ann Whitfield (Claudia Barbour), Robert Wigginton (Jack Barbour), Martin Dean (Jack Barbour), Arthur Cassell (Jack Barbour), Frankie Thomas, Jr. (Clifford Barbour), Billy Idelson (Clifford Barbour), James Lee (Clifford Barbour), Paul Thompson (Paul Barbour), Mercedes McCambridge (Beth Holly), Susan Shaw (Beth Holly), Michael Higgins (John Roberts), Jack Edwards (John Roberts), Nancy Franklin (Ann White), Les Tremayne (Billy Herbert), Walter Brooke (Billy Herbert), Judith Richardson (Athena Lorde), John Newland (Danny Frank), Jim Boles (Joe Yarbrough), Mona Burns (Mrs. Roberts), Ralph Locke (Mr. Roberts), Tony Randall (Mac), Madeline Bugard (Teddy Barbour), Patricia Robbins (Also). Announcer: Bob Sheppard.

6086 One Minute from Broadway. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/23/56). The pilot episode for an unsold series called Wayward Inn about an off-Broadway hotel in New York City that houses literary and theatrical people. The pilot relates the story of a small town Philadelphia girl who comes to New York to become an actress and how the hotel operator helps her out of a jam when her grandparents come to town thinking she is a big star. Aired on Sneak Preview.

Cast: Brian Aherne (Hotel operator), Gloria Talbot (Girl), Frances Brandt, John Carradine, Claire Carleton, Jimmy Lydon, Jay Novello, Shirley O'Hara, Eddy Waller.

6087 One Minute Please. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1954–1955). Two teams, each composed of three members, compete. A topic is stated (for example, "The Perfect Woman," "How to Drive a Car") and each panelist must incorporate it into a conversation for one minute without undue repetition, hesitation, or straying from the point. Winners are the wordiest talkers. Prizes are awarded to the studio audience members who are represented by the individual panelists. Based on the BBC radio and TV program of the same title.

Host: John K.M. McCaffery, Allyn Edwards.
Panelists: Ernie Kovacs, Beatrice Straight, Hermione Gingold, Alice Pearce, Jimmy Cannon, Marc Conolly.

6088 One More Try. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/31/82). Dede March is the owner of the Creative Catering Service in New York City. Adam Margolin is the curator of the Museum of Natural History and the father of two children (Paul and Daniel). The proposed series was to follow the ups and downs of marriage as Dede and Adam, both victims of previous marriages that ended in divorce, decide to marry and give it one more try (they set up housekeeping in Adam's apartment at 421 West 71st Street). In the pilot episode, Adam proposes to Dede but an obstacle arises when Adam's children object. Dede's efforts to win over the affections of Paul and Daniel is the focal point of the episode. Other Regulars: Jenny, Dede's business partner; and Mr. Liebowitz, the building's elevator operator.

Cast: Lucie Arnaz (Dede March), Laurence Luckinbill (Adam Margolin), Randall Batinkoff (Paul Margolin), Benjamin Bernouy (Daniel Margolin), Judy Gibson (Jenny Marlowe), Maurice Shrong (Mr. Liebowitz). Guest Cast: Jeff Brooks (Dwayne), William LeMessena (Judge), Richard Zavaglia (Nick), Antonia Rey (Cab driver). Theme Vocal: "One More Try" by Lucie Arnaz.

6089 One Night Band. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 5/28/83). Michael is the lead guitar; Vikki, the singer; Tony, the drummer; and Zack, second guitar. Together they are One Night Band, a struggling country and western group. The unsold series was to chart their rocky road to stardom. In the pilot episode, the group attempts to retrieve their stolen bus from a motorcycle gang — who are holding it for an unusual ransom: a performance at a gang member's wedding.

6090 One of Our Own. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/5/75). The pilot film for Doctors Hospital about Dr. Jake Goodwin, a neurosurgeon at Lowell Memorial Hospital. The pilot episode relates Jake's efforts to solve several hospital crises.

Cast: George Peppard (Dr. Jake Goodwin), Zohra Lambert (Dr. Norah Purcell), Victor Campos (Dr. Felipe Ortega), Albert Paulsen (Dr. Janos Varga). Guest Cast: William Daniels (Dr. Morseby), Louise Sorel (Carole Simon), Strother Martin (LeRoy Atkins), Oscar Homolka (Dr. Helmut Von Schulters), Trisha Noble (Sabina), Maxine Stuart (Scotty), Jacqueline Brookes (Frances Hollander), Scott McKay (Adrian Hollander), Wendy Phillips (Debbie Hinshaw).

Cast: Maria Conchita Alonso (Maria Navarro), Robert Clohessy (Mike Lukowski), Michael DeLuise (Luke Lukowski), Justin Whalen (Nick Lukowski), Billy Morrisette (Steve Lukowski), Amy Aquino (Bernice), Melody Rogers (Vanessa Orloff), Dan Hedaya (Ernie).

6092 One on One. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2001–2006). Flex Washington is a sportscaster at Baltimore TV station WYNX (host of The Flex Files). He is divorced (from Nicole) and the father of 14-year-old Breanna Barnes.

Breanna had been living with her mother until Nicole acquired a grant to study aquatic wild life in Nova Scotia and Flex became her guardian (whom he calls "My new found tax deduction"). Stories follow the relationship between a single father and his gorgeous, boy-crazy teenage daughter.

Flex excelled in basketball in high school and won a scholarship to college (where he majored in communication arts as a backup to his professional sports career). After graduating from Maryland State University he joined the NBA. During his second season he threw his knee out and was unable to continue playing.

Breanna attends McKinley High School and has ambitions to become an actress. She is a cheerleader and member of the drama club. She first worked as an assistant to her father at the TV station then as a mascot for the Chicken Shack fast food store. Despite the fact that she says "I have a Victoria's Secret type body and all this cuteness," she finds that her looks do not always get her what she wants. In 2005 she moves to Los Angeles to attend Chaplin University of the Arts. She acquires several roommates (Sara, D-Mack, Lisa and Cash) and the revised series storyline follows Breanna's mishaps as she sets out to live on her own and attend college.

Other regulars are Spirit and Arnaz, Breanna's friends (Arnaz is later Breanna's boyfriend, a hopeful musician. He later works with her in a diner called The Blog); and Duane Odell Knox, Flex's friend, a used car salesman for Big Sal's Used Cars.

Cast: Flex Alexander (Flex Washington), Kyla Pratt (Breanna Barnes), Kelly Perine (Duane Odell Knox), Robert Ri'chard (Arnaz Ballard), Sicily (Spirit Jones), Nicole Paggi (Sara), Camille Mana (Lisa), Jonathan Chase (Cash), Ray J (D-Mack), Tichina Arnold (Nicole Barnes), Shondrella Avery (Candy), Saskia Garel (Danielle), Rashaan Nall (Walt), Melissa De Sousa (Natalie).

6093 One Piece. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2004). Many years ago a pirate king named Gold Roger ravaged the seas and unmasked a fabulous wealth. After years of pilfering Gold was captured and hanged. His legacy, however, did not perish with him. His treasure still exists and it has never been found. The only clue to its whereabouts is the mysterious coin, One Piece. Who ever finds One Piece will claim the treasure and become the new pirate king.

Monkey D. Luffy is a young boy who dreams of becoming a pirate king, like his idol, Gold Roger. To fulfill that dream he sets out on a voyage to find One Piece. He is accompanied by his crew: Roronoa Zolo, Nami, Usopp and Sanji. Stories follow Luffy's efforts to become pirate king.

Luffy was born in a village called Fuisha. He has the ability to stretch like taffy after he ate the fruit of the Gum Gum tree. Nami is a female pirate who relishes in robbing other pirates. She is from a village of Kokashya and serves as the ship's navigator. Roronoa Zolo is an expert swordsman (capable of wielding a triple blade sword). Usopp is a sharpshooter and Sanji is the cook.

Voice Cast: Erica Schroeder (Monkey D. Luffy), Marc Diraison (Roronoa Zolo), Kerry Williams (Nami), Jason Griffith (Usopp), David Moo (Sanji), Eric Stuart (Narrator).

6094 One Step Beyond. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1959–1961). Dramatizations based on true events that are strange, frightening and unexplainable in terms of normal human experience. Originally titled Alcoa Presents One Step Beyond.

John Newland opens the show: "Come, you'll witness things strange, unexplained, mysterious, but not to be denied. Join me now and take One Step Beyond."

ter, Jack Lord, Patricia McCormack, Robert Loggia, Frank Overton, Sallie Brophy, Reba Waters, Vanessa Brown, Albert Salmi, Joan Fontaine, Robert Blake, Rebecca Welles, Luana Anders, Bethel Leslie, Warren Stevens, George Grizzard, Whit Bissell.

6095 One Tree Hill. (Series; Drama; WB; CW; 2003–). A prime time soap opera about teenagers struggling to find their place in the world. The series is set in Tree Hill, a small town in North Carolina. It follows, in particular, events in the lives of Lucas and Nathan Scott, two young men with little in common until they learn a dark secret — they share the same father.

Nathan is arrogant and assured and hails from a wealthy family in town. He is also the star of the school basketball team. Nathan, the son of a single mother, is a loner but a champion at playground basketball. Their lives change suddenly when fate puts them both on the school's basketball team and they discover their link.

Dan and Karen are Nathan's parents; they were high school sweethearts and when Karen became pregnant in her senior year, Dan chose to put his life and career first and went off to college on a basketball scholarship, leaving Karen to fend for herself. However, when Dan's dream of becoming a basketball pro failed he returned to Tree Hill with the wife he met in college and their son Nathan. Dan is now a wealthy businessman and lives his dream through Nathan. Stories also focuses on the romantic entanglements both Nathan and Lucas face, especially when both fall for the same girl, the beautiful Peyton.

Cast: Chad Michael Murray (Lucas Scott), James Lafferty (Nathan Scott), Paul Johansson (Dan Scott), Moira Kelly (Karen Roe), Bethany Joy Galeotti (Haley James Scott), Sophia Bush (Brooke Penelope Davis), Barbara Alyn Woods (Deborah Helen Scott), Lee Norris (Marvin "Mouth" McFadden), Craig Sheffer (Keith Scott), Barry Corbin (Coach Whitey Durham), Hilaie Burton (Peyton Sawyer), Dannee Harris (Rachel Gatina), Antwon Tanner (Skills), Bevin Prince (Bevin Mirskey), Bett Claywell (Tim Smith), Vaughn Wilson (Fergie), Bryan Greenberg (Jake Jagielski), Sheryl Lee (Ellie Harp), Daniella Alonso (Anna Taggaro), Kelsey Chow (Gigi Silveri), Tyler Hilton (Chris Keller), Kieren Hutchinson (Andy Hagrove), Sawn Shepard (Princial Turner), Emmanuelle Vaugier (Nicki), Maria Menounos (Jules), Stephen Coletti (Chase Adams).

6096 One, Two, Three — Go! (Series; Children; NBC; 1961–1962). Jack Lescoulie hosts a program that features filmed and taped explorations to places of interest to children. He is assisted by a young Richard Thomas.

6097 1 vs. 100. (Series; Game; NBC; 2006–). One player stands before a large set that seats 100

opponents. A question, worth $1,000 is asked of the player. Three possible answers appear (A, B and C). Each member of the Mob (as the opponents are called) selects one answer. The player is asked to verbally select an answer. When the correct answer is revealed, the player, if correct, receives $1,000 for each Mob member who answered incorrectly (these players are then disqualified from any further play). If the player is wrong, he is defeated and wins nothing (the remaining Mob members split his money). Further questions increase the money amount at stake and the player can win $1 million if he defeats all of the Mob; he also has the option of leaving with the money he has won after each plateau (answering three same money amounts correctly).

In 2008 the format changed slightly. A prize board was now incorporated that had money amounts ranging from $1,000 to $1,000,000. Each prize level contains 10 squares. A player wins a line level of money based on the wrong answers given by the Mob (for example, in order to win $1,000, ten Mob members need to be incorrect; to win the next level, $5,000, an additional ten Mob members must be incorrect). As in the prior version, an incorrect answer defeats a mob member. A player can still leave at any money amount or risk everything to defeat the entire mob and win one million dollars.

Host: Bob Saget.

6098 One West Waikiki. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1994). While in Hawaii to address the annual Homicide Symposium, Dr. Dawn “Holli” Holliday, the deputy chief medical examiner with the L.A.P.D., finds the body of a young woman while swimming in Macaha Bay on Waikiki. Because of her status, Holli is permitted to assist the local coroner in the autopsy. Holli concludes by the marks on the victim’s chest, that she was pushed and drowned. Later, during the post op, Holli finds that the girl is missing a kidney that was surgically removed and calls her death a homicide. A maverick cop named Lieutenant Mack Wolfe is assigned to investigate Holli’s Jane Doe case. Their investigation uncovers an organization that brings girls in for prostitution and the sale of organs (the girls receive extensive plastic surgery to make them beautiful; in return they “donate” a kidney). When the case is solved, Holli is asked to remain in Hawaii and become the new medical examiner (to replace the retiring Dr. Reeves). She accepts and finds a new business address at One West Waikiki — the medical examiner’s building.

When Holli was a kid her mother died. She was never able to obtain the cause of death (listed as unascertainable). That is why Holli went into forensics — and why she never gives up on a homicide. With that determination and with new solutions to unmask old secrets, stories follow Holli and Mac’s case investigations. Other Regulars: Nui, the coroner’s office field investigator; Kimo, Mac’s assistant; and police captain Dave Herzog.

Cast: Cheryl Ladd (Dr. Dawn “Holli” Holliday), Richard Burgi (Mack Wolfe), Elsie Sniffen (Nui), Ogie Zulueta (Kimo), Paul Gleason (Dave Herzog).

6099 One Woman’s Experience. (Series; Drama; DuMont; 1952–1953). Human interest accounts that depict the joys and sorrows of women. Guests appear in stories that run four days each. Lawrence Menkin is the producer. Also known as One Woman’s Story. See also One Man’s Experience. The series ran from October 6, 1952 to April 3, 1953.

6100 One World. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1998–2000). Karen and Dave Blake are a childless couple who adopt the worst kids they can find in hopes of straightening them out. They live in Florida and the kids are Jane, Ben, Marcie, Sue, Neil, and Cray.

Jane is the wild one. She has been abandoned, abused and ignored and feels she is everybody’s problem (and always in trouble). She dates guys who know how to use a phone — “but it’s usually one call and it’s to their lawyer.” Jane, who believes she is living with “the Brady Bunch,” is pushy, rude “and worst of all,” says Marcie, “she doesn’t like to shop.” Jane likes auto racing (“but only when they crash”), gets mad if she can’t make an obscene gesture to somebody every week, and has done punishment for past “crimes” (like scraping up road kill in 98-degree weather).

Ben. When the kids can’t agree on what to watch on TV, Ben takes the remote control and the first channel he switches to is the one they will watch. Ben plays the guitar, wrote a song about Jane (“Hurricane Jane”), and hogs the bathroom, obsessing over his hair.

Marcie, the assistant manager of the Warehouse, “the hippest under-21 club in town,” loves to shop and can get anything for half price. Chunky Monkey is her favorite flavor of ice cream and as a kid she went through an I Dream of Jeannie phase. She dressed in a harem outfit and Karen carries a picture of Marcie in that costume in her wallet (Marcie shudders when Karen shows it to people).

Sue, 16, is a Libra and plays midfield on the girls’ soccer team at South Beach High School (where Dave is athletic coach). She is a hopeful for the Olympic Soccer Team. Sue bowls at the Miami Orange Bowl Lanes, canary yellow is her favorite color and she has a recurring dream about replacing Vanna White on Wheel of Fortune. She watches Titanic over and over, “hoping this time the boat won’t hit the iceberg.”

Neil. “If we don’t have each other, we don’t have anything” says Neil, the brainy one of the kids, who feels their constant squabbling may break up the only family he has ever known. He reads Economic Weekly and hopes to become a stockbroker. “When it comes to sandwiches, Neil doesn’t eat crust.” He and Dave are partners on the Hurricanes Bowling Team.

Cray, 12, the youngest, plays the harp in the school orchestra and is a member of the Skateboard Club. He has a pet fish (Bevis) and he enjoys sitting on the front porch waiting for hurricanes (he chains himself to the porch chair so it won't get blown away).

Cast: Elizabeth Moreland (Karen Blake), Michael Tolan (Dave Blake), Arroyo Lloyd (Jane Blake), Bryan Kirkwood (Ben Blake), Alisa Reyes (Marcie Blake), Michelle Krusiec (Sue Blake), Harvey Silver (Neil Blake), Brandon Baker (Cray Blake).

6101 The Onedin Line. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1976). Liverpool, England, during the 1860s is the setting for a story about tradesman James Onedin, captain of the Charlotte Rhodes, a three-mast top sail schooner as he attempts to maintain a cargo transporting business.

Cast: Peter Gilmore (James Onedin), Anne Stallybrass (Anne Onedin), Brian Rawlinson (Robert Onedin), James Garbutt (Robert Onedin; later), Jessica Benton (Elizabeth Frazer), James Hayter (Joshua Webster), Mary Webster (Sarah Onedin), Philip Bond (Albert Frazer), Jane Seymour (Emma Fogarty), John Phillips (Jack Frazer), Edward Judd (Manuel Ortega).

6102 The O'Neills. (Series; Serial; DuMont; 1949–1950). The dramatic story of Peggy O'Neill, a young widowed fashion designer and her struggles to raise her two children, Janice and Eddie. The series, adapted from the radio program of the same title, ran from September 6, 1949 to January 10, 1950.

Cast: Vera Allen (Peggy O'Neill), Janice Gilbert (Janice O'Neill), Michael Lawson (Eddie O'Neill), Ian Martin (Bill O'Neill), Celia Bubkin (Mrs. Levy), Ben Fishbein (Mr. Levy), Jane West (Mrs. Bailey).

6103 Only in America with Greg Jackson. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1986). Greg Jackson hosts a daily series of in-depth celebrity interviews.

6104 Only Temporary. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/1/89). Just Temporary is a Hollywood temp employment agency owned by Arnie Kaznoff. Barbara Myer is the supervisor and Amy, Ken and Sookie are the featured employees. Barbara has a ditsy sister named Nicole and Nicole has an equally empty-headed girlfriend named Torie. The unsold series was to focus on Barbara as she struggles to run the agency and solve the problems created by Nicole and Torie who don't look for trouble, but seem to attract it like a magnet. Other Regulars: Judy, Barbara's friend. The pilot was originally titled Just Temporary. This title was used by NBC in promos, but it aired as Only Temporary.

Cast: Chelsea Field (Barbara Myer), Christine Mellor (Nicole Myer), Lisa Kudrow (Torie), Herb Edelman (Arnie Kaznoff), Marcia Cross (Amy Jones), Jonathan Stark (Ken Lugee), Kate Benton (Sookie), Lisa Jane Persky (Judy). Guest Cast: Tress MacNeille (Dr. Bobbie Boyd), James F. Dran (Voice over announcer), Deanna Oliver, Tracy Newman, Mindy

Sterling (Callers). Theme Vocal: "Just Temporary" by Tisha Campbell.

6105 Open All Hours. (Series; Comedy; The Entertainment Channel; 1982). The story of Arkwright, a stubborn survivor of the supermarket age who owns a corner grocery shop and competes by staying open all hours. His interactions with the unusual characters that frequent the store — and his endless attempts to seduce the luscious nurse, Gladys Emmanuel — are the focal point of the series. Produced in England and served as the basis for the American series Open All Night.

6106 Open All Night. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1981–1982). Gordon Feester is the owner-operator of an Englewood, California "364 Store," a 24-hour-a-day grocery store fraught with problems. Gordon's attempts to cope with the unusual customers who frequent his store, as well as his somewhat wacky family, is the focal point of the series. Based on the British series Open All Hours (which see for information).

Other regulars are Gretchen, Gordon's wife; Terry, Gordon's stepson; Robin, the night manager; Larry Bud, Gretchen's ex-husband; Wayne and Connie, Gordon's parents.

Police Officers Steve and Edie are regular visitors to the store.

6107 Open House. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1989–1990). A Duet spin-off in which Laura Kelly and Linda Phillips become brokers with the Juan Verde Real Estate Company in Los Angeles.

Laura, who had a catering business, gave it up when she and her husband, Ben, divorced. She lives at 13205 Ocean Avenue. Laura is sweet, innocent, a bit naive and troubled by a drinking problem. She has one regret: having had her address tattooed on her left breast (which she had done so she could remember where she lives when on a drinking binge).

Linda is still married to Richard when the new series begins. They later separate and divorce. Their daughter, Amanda, appears in the first episode and is then said to be cared for by Geneva, the Phillips' housekeeper.

Linda is a high powered sales agent and is constantly engaged in a battle of wits with fellow agent Ted Nichols to make the most sales. Richard plays piano at Jasper's Bar and Restaurant. (Richard lives in an apartment at 549 Palisades Avenue; Linda resides in their former home at 10 West Florist Street.) Margo Van Meter, the receptionist, has a cat named Boris. Roger McSwain is the agency's owner, and Scott Babylon is an agent who uses celebrities' voices to make sales.

Sherrie Krenn appeared as Roger's man-crazy daughter, Phoebe, and Marian Mercer played Ted's mother, Dorothy. In the first few episodes, John Greene (played by Jon Cypher) owned Juan Verde (he was bought out by McSwain). John Beasley and John Veiter composed the "Open House" theme.

6108 Opening Night. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1958). A summer series of selected repeat episodes of Ford Theater. See this title for information. Arlene Dahl is the host.

6109 Opera Cameos. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1953–1955). Baritone Giovanni Martinelli hosts a weekly program that presents condensed versions of popular operas. It ran from November 8, 1953 to January 9, 1955.

6110 Opera vs. Jazz. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953). A musical symposium in which two guests (per week) discuss and perform operatic arias and standard tunes. The series ran from May 25, 1953 to September 21, 1953. Frederick Heider is the producer.

Hostess: Nancy Kenyon. Regulars: Don Cornell, Jan Preece, Robert Merrill, Alan Dale, The Strawhatters. Music: Johnny Reo.

6111 Operating Room. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/4/79). The antics of three doctors (Jim, Charles and Robert) attached to Los Angeles Memorial Hospital. Other Regulars: Jean, Jim's wife.

6112 Operation: Entertainment. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1968–1969). A program of U.S.O. (United Serviceman's Organization) type performances that are geared to American Servicemen. The series ran from January 5, 1968 to April 26, 1968; and September 27, 1968 to January 31, 1969. Chuck Barris is the producer.

Host: Jim Lange. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs. Music: Terry Gibbs.

6113 Operation Greasepaint. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/12/68). Spivak, Minihane, Bower, Brown and Keller are a ragtag entertainment unit assigned to the Normandy Combat Zone during World War II. The unsold series was to follow their misadventures as they attempt to entertain the troops. In the pilot episode, the troupe is ordered to perform in a just-liberated French village that appears to be deserted.

Cast: Avery Schreiber (Spivak), Jack Burns (Minihane), Fred Willard (Bower), Johnny Haymer (Brown), Robert Fitch (Keller). Guest Cast: Roger Newman (Wasserman), Rex Allen, Jr. (Soldier), Karl Sadler (Guard), Bill Giorgio (Corporal), Chuck Privney (Chaplain), Sam Capuano (DeGiullo), Arthur Abelson (Wilson).

6114 Operation: Neptune. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1953). Bill Hollister is the commander of a U.S. Navy submarine whose extensive undersea work has earned him the nickname of "Captain Neptune." Serialized stories, set in the undersea kingdom of Nadiria, relate Bill's attempts to stop the evil Kabeda from a power-mad plan to control the world by killing the surface population. The series, broadcast live and also known as Captain Neptune, ran from June 8, 1953 to August 16, 1953.

Other regulars are Dink Melvin, Bill's assistant; Admiral Bigelow, Bill's superior; Dick Saunders, Bill's assistant; Thirza, the Empress of Nadiria; and Mersennus, Kabeda's henchman.

Cast: Tod Griffin (Bill Hollister), Humphrey Davis (Dink Melvin), Rusty Lane (Admiral Bigelow), Richard Holland (Dick Saunders), Margaret Stewart (Thirza), Harold Conklin (Kabeda), Dehl Berti (Mersennus).

6115 Operation Petticoat. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1977–1978). Lt. Cmdr. Matthew Sherman, the son of an admiral and a man who is longing to see action at sea, receives orders to report to the commander of submarine forces, Adriatic Fleet, Manila, to command the USS Sea Tiger. The Sea Tiger was christened in 1941. In August 1942, just 45 minutes before Sherman arrives to take command, the Sea Tiger is attacked by Japanese planes and sunk.

Figuring that perhaps he will never get another chance to live his dream, Sherman convinces the base admiral (Jackie Cooper) to let him save the Sea Tiger and make her seaworthy again. With the help of his crew, the 2,000 ton Sea Tiger, identification number 393, is made seaworthy — put back together again with junk, from bathroom fixtures to Jeep steering wheels to six feet of the admiral's office wall.

On the island of Marquis, the Sea Tiger (called "The Boat" by Sherman), is brought in for minor repairs and a paint job. Shortly after an undercoat of shocking pink paint is put on the sub, an enemy plane attacks the base and destroys the supply of gray paint. For reasons that are never really explained (other than that the Sea Tiger is always on patrol and can't get into a port for repainting), the sub remains pink. Stories relate the crew's adventures as they roam the South Pacific.

Sherman's Crew: Lieutenant Nick Holden is the supply officer who uses cons to get what he needs. He was previously an admiral's aide and called "The Darling of the High Brass Set" (he and the admiral's wife won the rumba championship two years in a row). Prior to this, he was an idea man for the navy (for example, he coordinated parades) then recreation officer at the navy-occupied Royal Arms Hotel in Honolulu.

Chief Herbert Molumphrey is the sub's mechanic; he can work miracles when it comes to jerry-rigging. Alvin Hunkle is the overeager yeoman; Seaman Broom is called "Doom and Gloom Broom" for his negative outlook on everything; Ensign Stovall is the navigator; and Seaman Williams is the radio technician.

The Army Nurses: Major Edna Howard measures 35-25-36 and can work wonders by substituting clothes for scarce items (for instance, a girdle became a much needed valve spring). She was born in Seattle, and her father was a chief engineer with the local power plant.

Lieutenant Dolores Crandall is the sexiest of the girls and measures 38-24-36. She is a health nut (she is always nagging Sherman to take his vitamins), sweet and a bit clumsy. Dolores means well, tries so hard to do her best, but things just don't work out her way.

Lieutenant Barbara Duran, who measures 36-24-34, was born on a farm in Pocatello, Idaho. She is the most sophisticated of the nurses and is fascinated with Holden (his wheeling and dealings impress her).

Lieutenant Ruth Colfax, who measures 36-24-35, and Claire Reid, who measures 36-24-36, are the remaining bombshells who Sherman believes are distractions to his crew (although when duty calls, the guys seem to forget the girls and become the crew Sherman needs).

The nurses first became a part of the crew when they were stranded on an island and picked up by the Sea Tiger. They now seem to be trapped aboard the sub (every time they are supposed to leave, something comes up to prolong their stay). The series is based on the feature film of the same title. See also The New Operation Petticoat.

6116 Operation: Runaway. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1978). David McKay is a former vice squad detective who is now a private practice psychiatrist. He teaches psychology at Westwood University in Los Angeles and is devoted to helping children and teenagers in trouble — a habit he picked up from his days on the force. The program relates David's efforts to track down runaways. Other Regulars: Kate Wingate, the dean of women at Westwood; Mark, David's assistant; and Susan, David's ward. See also The Runaways.

Cast: Robert Reed (Dr. David McKay), Karen Machon (Kate Wingate), Michael Biehn (Mark Johnson), Ruth Cox (Susan Donovan).

6117 Operation Secret. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 2/16/63). A proposed spin-off from The Gallant Men about the activities of Hugo Pietra and David Storm, agents for the O.S.S. (Office of Strategic Services) during World War II. In the pilot episode, Pietra and Storm go behind enemy lines to stop a German invasion of Italy by feeding the Nazis false information.

Cast: Ray Danton (Hugo Pietra), Earl Hammond (David Storm). Guest Cast: Maria Machado (Contessa Loren), Albert Paulsen (General Kile), George Gaynes (Major Neumann), Vito Scotti (Giadenza).

6118 The Oprah Winfrey Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1986). A daily talk show with actress-producer Oprah Winfrey as the host. Topics of discussion are often controversial and often bring considerable press and media coverage. Oprah is, perhaps best known, for conducting her book club segment (where she comments on books with guests and recommends them to her audience).

Host: Oprah Winfrey.

6119 Opryland: Night of Stars and Future Stars. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 6/16/81). An unsold series that was to spotlight promising country and western entertainers. The program features eight young performers who showcase their talents in bids to be named "Future Stars." Of the eight contestants who perform, one male and one female is chosen; each receives $5,000 and an appearance on an NBC-TV special. Dick Clark is the producer.

6120 The Orchid Award. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953–1954). A program of show business achievement awards in which selected individuals are presented with a real orchid and then perform their material.

Hosts: Bert Lytell, Ronald Reagan, Donald Woods. Announcer: John Heistand. Orchestra: Paul Weston.

6121 The Oregon Trail. (Series; Western; NBC; 1977). The time is the 1840s and stories follow the journey of a group of pioneers traveling by wagon train from Illinois to Oregon, to begin new lives. Their journey was never completed as the series was cancelled after six episodes. Evan Thorpe is the wagon master; Andrew, Rachel and William are his children (Evan is a widower); Margaret Devlin is the featured pioneer; Luther Sprague is the trail scout; Mr. Cutler is the captain. Danny Darst performs the theme, “The Oregon Trail.”

Cast: Rod Taylor (Evan Thorpe), Andrew Stevens (Andrew Thorpe), Gina Maria Smika (Rachel Thorpe), Tony Becker (William Thorpe), Darleen Carr (Margaret Devlin), Charles Napier (Luther Sprague), Ken Swoford (Mr. Cutler).

6122 The Orient Express. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1953). Dramatizations set on The Orient Express, a famous European passenger train. Intriguing stories feature such stars as Paul Lukas, Hanna Rucker, Otto Gubuehr, Philip Reed, Peter Weiss, Hilda Jager, Jean-Pierre Aumont, Cathy O’Donnell, Espanita Cortes and Patricia Roc.

6123 Original Sins. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/12/91). By calling 555-WPOV you’ll reach radio station WPOV, 88.7 FM and the talk show True Confessions, which is hosted by Father Jonathan Frain, a Catholic priest who is there to help people, not judge them. Facing his own personal problems, Jonathan has taken a leave of absence to work things out and by helping others, he feels he may be able to help himself. The unsold series was to follow Jonathan’s experiences as he tries to help people in need. In the pilot episode, Jonathan tries to find a killer who confesses to a crime over the air, then intrudes into his personal life. Other Regulars: Becka, the program director; Chas, the station manager; Jimbo, Jonathan’s engineer.

Cast: Mark Harmon (Jonathan Frain), Julianne Phillips (Becka Sharp), Ron Perlman (Chas Brawley), David Clennon (Jimbo). Guest Cast: Sarah Trigger (Laura Ebersole), Gus Johnson (Detective Mark Kanin), Betty Miller (Doris Campisi).

6124 Orleans. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1997). A short-lived (six episode) series about the Charbonnets, a powerful New Orleans family. Luther, a respected (and ruthless) judge heads the family. He is a widower and the father of Clade (a police officer), Jesse (an Assistant District Attorney) and Paulette

(the manager of a riverboat casino). Stories follow incidents in the lives of each of the family members (more often than not each coming to the other’s defense in times of need). Rosalee Clark is the District Attorney; Curtis Manzant is a lawyer. The series ran from January 8, 1997 to April 11, 1997.

Cast: Larry Hagman (Judge Luther Charbonnet), Colleen Flynn (Paulette Charbonnet), Michael Reilly Burke (Jesse Charbonnet), Brett Cullen (Clade Charbonnet), Vanessa Bell Calloway (Rosalee Clark), O’Neal Compton (Curtis Manzant).

6125 The Orphan and the Dude. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/18/75). Oliver Smith is a white garage mechanic who was raised in an orphanage. Curtis Brown is his friend, a black street hustler known as “The Dude.” Curtis has an adopted son (Leonard) and the three share a small apartment in California. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures that befall a most unusual “family.”

Cast: Oliver Clark (Oliver Smith), Art Evans (Curtis Brown), Todd Bridges (Leonard Brown). Guest Cast: Ed Barth (Sam Brodsky), Lynne Holmes (Amber), Frank McRae (Fast Eddie), David Moody (Dan).

6126 Orson Bean and Other People. (Pilot; Human Interest; Syn.; 9/7/74). The idea was to have the host interview ordinary people and ask them questions on contemporary subjects. Their responses supplied the comic essence of the unsold series.

Host: Orson Bean.

6128 The Osbournes. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2002). A behind-the-scenes look at the real life of Ozzy Osbourne, the millionaire heavy metal rock star, and his family (his wife, Sharon, and their teenage children Kelly and Jack). Cameras follow each family member as they go about their daily lives.

Cast: Ozzy Osbourne, Sharon Osbourne, Kelly Osbourne, Jack Osbourne.

6129 Oscar’s Orchestra. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1994). Oscar is a blue piano who loves to play classical music. He is also capable of talking. Oscar lives in a futuristic Vienna that is ruled by Thaddeus Vent, a dictator who has banned music. Because Oscar is a musical instrument he is no longer allowed to play music. This upsets Oscar who decides to revolt. He joins with his friends (Trevor the Tuba, Eric the Triangle, Monty the Violin and Kevin the keyboard) to find a way to restore classical music to Vienna. They find help from two humans (Rebecca and her grandfather, Mr. Crotchet) who allow them to use their home as a place of refuge. Stories follow Oscar as he schemes to outwit Vent (and his henchmen, Tank and Lucius) and bring the joy of music to the people.

Voice Cast: Dudley Moore (Oscar), Elly Fairman (Rebecca), Colin McFarlane (Thaddeus Vent/Tank), Michael Kilgariff (Mr. Crotchet), Murray Melvin (Lucius). Narrator: David de Keyser.

Hosts: Donny Osmond, Marie Osmond. Family Members: Alan Osmond, Jay Osmond, Jimmy Osmond, Merrill Osmond, Wayne Osmond. Regulars: Johnny Dark, The Ice Angels. Announcer: Wayne Osmond. Orchestra: Bob Rozario.

6131 The Osmonds. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1972–1974). The global adventures of the pop group the Osmond Brothers as they attempt to promote understanding between nations as goodwill ambassadors (on behalf of the United States Music Committee).

Voice Cast: Alan Osmond, Jay Osmond, Donny Osmond, Merrill Osmond, Wayne Osmond, Jimmy Osmond, Paul Frees (Fugi the dog).

6132 O.S.S. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1957–1958). Europe during World War II is the setting. Frank Hawthorne is an agent for the United States Intelligence Service, otherwise known as the Office of Strategic Services. Stories, which are based on actual case histories, relate Frank's undercover assignments behind enemy lines.

Cast: Ron Rondell (Frank Hawthorne), Robert Gallico (Sergeant O'Brien), Lionel Murton (O.S.S. Chief).

Voice Cast: Fred Savage (Oswald), Richard Pierce (Oswald; later), Crystal Scales (Daisy), Moir Leslie (Daisy; later), Laraine Newman (Madame Butterfly), Debi Derryberry (Katrina), Michael McKean (Bingo Bunny), Eddie Deezen (Andy Pumpkin), Mel Winkler (Johnny Snowman), Fred Stoller (Steve Tree).

6134 Other People, Other Places. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1973). The alternate title for Strange Places. See this title for information.

6135 The Others. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2000). The Others is a group of gifted individuals who help people threatened by ghosts or the supernatural. It was founded by Elmer Greentree, a famous medium who uses his home (at 36 Pleasant Way) as the group's headquarters. Elmer, now 83, was ten years old when he had his first vision in 1927; "I called them nightmares." Marian, Ellen, Miles, Professor Warren, Albert and Mark are the six strangers who provide a gateway to the other side.

Marian Kitt was born in Iowa and is the youngest member of the group. She is a college student (at Massachusetts University) and is gifted but doesn't want her gifts: ability to channel spirits through her body; visions (which she considers bad dreams) and sleep walking (often bringing her to the scene of a crime or leading the Others to a suspect in a case). She lives in a dorm room at 1137 Normandy Avenue, Apartment 214.

Ellen Satori is a psychic and considers herself a spirit medium. She has a private psychic service business (on South Street) and charges $60 an hour. She is the quiet one of the group and only intervenes when she receives a message from the other side.

Miles Ballard is a professor of folklore and mythology at the University (Marian is one of his students). He brought her into the group after she witnessed the spirit of a girl who was killed in her dorm room). Miles "sees things that aren't there" but can't quite interpret what he sees.

Albert is blind and uses his sixth sense "to see the other world" (which the viewer sees in the form of negative images).

Dr. Mark Gabriel is a first year resident at Saint Joseph's Hospital. He is an impasse and can see what is ahead (he has suffered from migraine headaches and dizzy spells all his life but has now learned "to look past that pain" and into the world beyond).

Professor Warren keeps a video record of the group's investigations and sets them up with people they need to help. He teaches at the University and is working to improve his self image.

Cast: Julianne Nicholson (Marian Kitt), Bill Hobbs (Elmer Greentree), Melissa Crider (Ellen Satori), John Billingsley (Miles Ballard), John Aylward (Albert), Gabriel Macht (Mark Gabriel).

6136 Otherworld. (Series; Fantasy; CBS; 1985). While sightseeing in Egypt (touring the Great Pyramid of Cheops), Hal Sterling, an American engineer, his wife, June, and their children (Gina, Trace and Smith) are engulfed by a space time warp when an alignment of six planets occurs and opens a mysterious time portal that transfers them into the Otherworld (a world that resembles ours in appearance but has its own history and evolution). Immediately, they encounter Kommander Kroll, a paramilitary policeman on patrol, who becomes suspicious of them (believing they are terrorists). As the Sterlings attempt to blend in (in the Sarlex Zone) they discover that the inhabitants, who seem like normal humans, are highly sophisticated androids; they learn also that the Masters of Inmar, the Supreme Governors in the Capitol, have the power to return them to their world. As Kroll and his Storm Troopers enter Sarlex, the Sterlings flee to the Forbidden Zone to seek Inmar and the secret of the way back. Stories follow the Sterlings as they journey into the various provinces and attempt to escape Kroll who is now seeking to kill them. Other Regulars: Nova, the android who helps the Sterlings.

Cast: Sam Groom (Hal Sterling), Gretchen Corbett (June Sterling), Jonna Lee (Gina Sterling), Tony O'Dell (Trace Sterling), Brandon Crane (Smith Sterling), Jonathan Banks (Kommander Kroll), Amanda Wyss (Nova).

6137 Our Family Business. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 9/20/81). An unusual pilot for what would have been an equally unusual series: a look at organized crime from the syndicate's point of view, namely that of underworld boss Ralph Lazara and his family: his wife, Patricia; Gep, his mobster son; Gep's wife, Annie; Phil, Ralph's honest son, a banker (he despises what his family stands for); Susan, Phil's wife; Jamie, Ralph's youngest son; and the Leeper, Ralph's right-hand man. In the pilot episode Ralph attempts to reconsolidate his position with "The Family" after serving a prison term — and find the man responsible for framing him.

Cast: Sam Wanamaker (Ralph Lazara), Vera Miles (Patricia Lazara), Ted Danson (Gep Lazara), Ayn Ruymann (Annie Lazara), David Morse (Phil Lazara), Deborah Carney (Susan Lazara), Chip Mayer (Jamie Lazara), Steve Apostle (The Leeper). Guest Cast: Ray Milland (Tony), James Luisi (Frank), Candi Beth Moore (Dawn), Michael Currie (Mr. Ellington), James O'Sullivan (Jones), John Carter (McGregor), Terence Alexander (Neils).

6138 Our Family Honor. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985–1986). Vincent Danzig and Patrick ("Pat") McKay were childhood friends who grew up in "the old neighborhood" in New York City. Vincent took the criminal path and is now a syndicate boss. Pat followed in a proud family tradition and became a policeman; he is now dedicated to destroying the Danzig criminal empire (he also blames the family for killing his eldest son, Officer Patrick McKay, Jr.). Serial-like episodes relate events within the two rival families.

The Danzigs live in a mansion at 63-1432 Southcrest Lane on Long Island. Vincent is married to Marianne, his second wife (his first wife died two years after the birth of his son, August). His children are August ("Augie") Danzig and Jerry Danzig. Augie is married to Rita and is the father of a young son named Mark. He prefers violence to achieve his goals. Jerry is a lawyer for the First Federated Bank in Manhattan; he uses the name Jerry Cole in order to have his own life away from the Danzig family.

The McKays are a hard working family living in Manhattan. Patrick and his wife, Katherine, reside at 6340 Bridge Street. Patrick began his career as a patrolman and was the chief of operations when first introduced; by the end of the first episode, he was the police commissioner — and a threat to Vincent: "Every time McKay moves up in the police department, it's like a cancer growing inside me."

Frank McKay is Pat's son and a detective with the 8th Precinct in Manhattan. The newscasters report that Frank is "the man who is single-handedly cleaning up New York City"; others say he uses "Gestapo tactics" to apprehend criminals.

Elizabeth ("Liz") McKay is Pat's granddaughter. She is a police officer with Unit 41 of the 8th Precinct. Liz, whose badge number is 9514, rides in patrol car 2708 with her partner, Officer Ed Santini; Ed's badge number is 3210. Her father was Patrick Jr.; her mother is Rose. Liz is romantically involved with Jerry Cole.

Matthew ("Matt") McKay is Pat's second-born son, a criminal attorney who is seeking to destroy the Danzig family. His wife is Roxanne. Liz and Frank's precinct is referred to as "The O-Eight." Theme: "Our Family Honor," by Barry DeVorzon and Douglas Timm.

Cast: Eli Wallach (Vincent Danzig), Kenneth McMillan (Pat McKay), Tom Mason (Frank McKay), Barbara Stuart (Marianne Danzig), Daphne Ashbrook (Liz McKay), Georgann Johnson (Katherine McKay), Michael Madsen (Augie Danzig), Michael Woods (Jerry Danzig), Sheree J. Wilson (Rita Danzig), Scott Sherk (Mark Danzig), Ray Liotta (Ed Santini), James O'Sullivan (Matthew McKay), Juanin Clay (Roxanne McKay), Patricia Duff (Rose).

6139 Our Five Daughters. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1962). Dramatic incidents in the lives of the Lee family: parents Jim and Helen and their five daughters (Ann, Marjorie, Barbara, Jane and Mary). The series ran from January 26, 1962 to September 28, 1962.

Hillary (Lucy), Michael Higgins (Ed Lawson), Astride Lance (Sophie), Kay Lyder (Mary Lawson), Tom Ahearne (Weeks), Alfred Sandor (Bill Cannon), Ed Griffith (Pat), Frederic Tozere (Mr. McHenry), Athena Lorde (Mrs. Carson), Ronn Cummings (Pete Stevens), Ralph Ellis (George Barr), Elissa Lote (Cynthia Dodd), John Griggs (Mr. Dodd), Joan Anderson (Cynthia Dodd), Paul Lipson (Brannon), Carlton Coyle (Randy), Jon Cypher (Driscoll), Janine Manatis (Joan), Suzanne Tripp (Ginny Carson), Frank Schofield (Victor Kent), Patricia Peardon (Mona Wilkins), Douglas Gregory (Mr. Hesse), Claudia Morgan (Mrs. Hess), Alan Bergman (Gil Morton), Harvey Millard (Clark Williams), Alan Brock (Herb Morrow), Buck Class (Mike Graham).

6140 Our House. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1986–1988). Jessica (“Jessie”) Witherspoon is a widow and the mother of three children: Kris, Molly and David. They live at 14 Ashton Street in Los Angeles with Jessie’s father-in-law, Gus Witherspoon, a widower who extended an invitation to Jessie and her family to live with him after the death of her husband, John. Stories follow incidents in the lives of the individual family members.

Gus, whose hobby is model railroading, is a retired engineer (judging by the road names of his model equipment, Gus worked for the Santa Fe Railroad). Gus and his friend Joe Kaplan are members of the Monona Service Club; Joe has a never-seen wife named Gladys.

Jessie was originally a models photographer for Cathcart Architects, then a photographer for the Los Angeles Post-Gazette.

Kris, her oldest daughter, is determined to become an astronaut. She is an Honors Student at Highland Park High School (also said to be James K. Polk High School) and a member of the Rockin’ Robins softball team. David, her middle child, is enrolled in Naismith Junior High, and Molly, her youngest, is the family entrepreneur and attends Naismith Elementary School. She had her first job walking dogs.

Jessie and her family, who have a dog named Arthur, originally lived in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

William Katt appeared as Gus’s estranged son, Ben Witherspoon; Rebecca Balding was Ben’s wife, Gail; and Laurie Burton played Jessie’s sister, Sheila. Gus’s late wife was named Mary; Patrick Duffy played Jessie’s husband, John Witherspoon, in a flashback sequence. Billy Goldenberg composed the “Our House” theme.

Cast: Wilford Brimley (Gus Witherspoon), Deirdre Hall (Jessie Witherspoon), Shannen Doherty (Kris Witherspoon), Chad Allen (David Witherspoon), Keri Houlihan (Molly Witherspoon), Gerald S. O’Loughlin (Joe Kaplan).

6141 Our Man Flint. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 3/17/76). A proposed series based on the theatrical films Our Man Flint and In Like Flint that follows the exploits of Derek Flint as an agent for the U.S. government who tackles dangerous international assignments. In the pilot episode, titled “Dead on Target,” Flint attempts to rescue a kidnapped oil company executive from a revolutionary group called “Besla.”

Cast: Ray Danton (Derek Flint). Guest Cast: Sharon Acker (Sandra), Gaye Rowan (Benita), Donnelly Rhodes (Laboud), Lawrence Dane (Runzler), Frany Russell (Della Cieza).

6142 Our Man Higgins. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1962–1963). When the MacRoberts, a middle-class American family inherit a rare and expensive silver service from a titled British relative, they also receive Higgins, a high-tone English butler whom they must retain in order to keep the silver service. Stories depict the problems that befall both Higgins and the MacRoberts family as they struggle to rearrange their lives and adjust to each other. Duncan is married to Alice and they are the parents of Joanne, Tommy and Dinghy. Based on the radio program It’s Higgins, Sir.

Cast: Stanley Holloway (Higgins), Frank Maxwell (Duncan MacRoberts), Audrey Totter (Alice MacRoberts), Regina Groves (Joanne MacRoberts), Ricky Kelman (Tommy MacRoberts), K.C. Butts (Dinghy MacRoberts).

6143 Our Miss Brooks. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1952–1956). Constance (“Connie”) Brooks is an English teacher at Madison High School in a small town called Madison. She lives at Mrs. Davis’s boardinghouse on Carroll Avenue (Margaret Davis, the owner, has a cat named Minerva). Connie has a tendency to forget her birthday and is soft hearted — she can’t turn down anyone with a hard luck story. After a hard day at school, Connie has what she calls “Schoolteacher’s B & B” — bath and bed. Connie has frequent dreams about her boyfriend, Philip Boynton, Madison’s biology teacher. “As usual,” Connie says about her dreams, “nothing happens.”

Philip is shy, and Connie wishes he would take “brave shots.” Connie started dating Philip in 1948 when he got his pet lab frog, McDougal. She says “that even though Philip is a biology teacher, there is a big difference between teaching it and learning it.” Philip is just not romantic. He treats Connie with respect (too much, Connie believes). Despite the lack of affection (even kisses), Connie loves Philip and hopes to make a man out of him.

Osgood Conklin is the always yelling, easily upset and stern principal. He was a major during World War II and spent four years as commander of Camp Fabrick in Ohio.

“He is a lame-brain dunce,” says Osgood about Walter Denton, a student at the school. Walter is the manager of the track team, drives a hot rod that cost him $30 and each morning stops by Mrs.

Davis's to drive Connie to school — and have a second breakfast. Walter is crazy in love with Osgood's daughter, Harriet, a student at Madison High. "Harriet is a wonderful girl," Walter says. "Walter's my life, my future, my all," exclaims Harriet; but if someone else should catch her fancy — "Who needs Walter," she says.

Madison's star basketball player is Fabian ("Stretch") Snodgrass, a not too bright student who is the school's hope of winning the state championship.

The format changed in last season episodes: Madison High is demolished to make way for a highway. Connie acquires a job as an English teacher at Mrs. Nestor's Elementary School in California's San Fernando Valley. Philip and Connie's relationship is broken off when he secures employment as a biology teacher at an Arizona high school. Osgood acquires the job as principal at Mrs. Nestor's, and Mrs. Davis finds a new boardinghouse on Maple Street (where Connie again resides). Connie's new romantic interest is Gene Talbot, the school's handsome athletic director.

Other Regulars (New Version): Clint Albright, the gym instructor; Mrs. Nestor, the school's owner; Oliver Muncey, Mrs. Nestor's brother; and Benny Romero, the problem student.

Relatives: Virginia Gordon and Paula Winslow (Osgood's wife, Martha Conklin), Eddie Ryder (Stretch's brother, Winston ["Bones"] Snodgrass), Jesslyn Fax (Mrs. Davis's sister, Angela), Hy Averback (Benny's father). Theme: "Our Miss Brooks," by Wilbur Hatch.

Cast: Eve Arden (Connie Brooks), Robert Rockwell (Philip Boynton), Gale Gordon (Osgood Conklin), Richard Crenna (Walter Denton), Jane Morgan (Margaret Davis), Gloria McMillan (Harriet Conklin), Leonard Smith (Stretch Snodgrass), Gene Barry (Gene Talbot), William Ching (Clint Albright), Ricky Vera (Benny Romero), Nana Bryant (Mrs. Nestor), Jesslyn Fax (Angela), Hy Averback (Benny's father), Joseph Kearns (Superintendent Stone), Bob Sweeney (Oliver Muncey). Announcer: Bob Lemond.

6144 Our Native Land. (Experimental; Drama; DuMont; 9/19/45). A Lever Brothers-sponsored program which, although experimental, was actually a test film for a potential Wednesday night series. The basic format was to use travelogues, slides and narration to explore the various regions of the U.S. In the test, viewers are shown various sections of North Carolina, Alabama, Virginia and Kentucky. Skits were also used to dramatize incidents in the lives of the citizens of the states visited.

Cast: Casey Allen, Charles Lang, Helen Parrish, Jimsey Somers. Vocals: The Jubilaires. Narrator: Milton Bacon.

6145 Our Old School. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 8/91). When students Andy and Brad, newly enrolled at Kramer College, find they have no place to live due to a mix-up in dorm bookings, they find a home (Room 17) at Bonnie Meadows Gardens, House Number 502, a retirement hotel. Shortly after, two other students facing the same dilemma (Carly and Melanie) follow Andy and Brad and move into the only other available room (19) at the hotel. The five episode pilot (for a daily series) follows incidents in the lives of the four college students and the old timers who live at the hotel. Other Regulars: the elders: Nate, Gracie and her ex-husband, Mort, Meg, George and his wife, Maureen, and Eddie.

Cast: Marc Riffon (Andy Sullivan), Ivan Gueron (Brad Cooper), Linda Larkin (Carly Michael), Jill Novick (Melanie Loren), Norman Fell (Nate Campbell), Gloria DeHaven (Gracie Tyler), Paddi Edwards (Meg), Teddy Wilson (George Wilson), Ruth Brown (Maureen Wilson), Eric Christmas (Eddie), Jacob Witkin (Mort Tyler).

6146 Our Place. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1967). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy hosted by comedians Jack Burns and Avery Schreiber. The summer series ran from July 2, 1967 to September 3, 1967.

Host: Jack Burns, Avery Schreiber. Regulars: The Doodletown Pipers. Orchestra: George Wilkins.

6147 Our Planet Tonight. (Pilot; Satire; NBC; 4/22/87). A satirical spoof of newsmagazine series that reports on outrageous news stories (for example, teaching children in the womb; a talking dog; seeing eye cats; Japanese leisure wear; and Monkercise — Monks performing aerobics). The program uses the Ben Casey series theme as its theme.

Hosts: Morgan Fairchild, John Houseman. Correspondents: Rich Hall, Mitch Laurance, Jay Leno, Martha Quinn, Father Guido Sarducci, Jim Staahl.

6148 Our Private World. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1965). A prime-time version of the afternoon soap opera As the World Turns. Incidents in the life of Lisa Hughes, a nurse in the admitting room of a Chicago hospital, as she struggles to rebuild her life after a painful divorce. The series ran from May 5, 1965 to September 10, 1965.

6149 Our Shining Moment. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 6/2/91). A bittersweet look at life in middle America in 1963 as seen through the experiences of the McGuire family: John, the manager of the Atlas Tire Company; his wife, Betty; their children, Maureen, Scooter and J.J. (John, Jr.); and John's father, "Papa" McGuire. Other Regulars: William, nicknamed Wheels, Scooter's friend.

Cast: Max Gail (John McGuire), Cindy Pickett (Betty McGuire), Don Ameche (Papa McGuire), Louanne Ponce (Maureen McGuire), Jonathan Brandis (Scooter McGuire), Shawn Levy (J.J. McGuire), Seth Green (Wheels). Guest Cast: Sonia Banmak (Lois Jessel), Alex Burden (Father Hogan).

6150 Our Song. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1991). A proposed series about Judy Song, a liaison to widowed San Francisco politician Philip Harte (whose district is Chinatown). Judy is also a nanny to his young daughter, Spencer.

Cast: George Hamilton (Philip Harte), Lauren Tom (Judy Song), Madeline Zima (Spencer), Sheila MacRae (Bunny), Steve Flynn (Richie).

6151 Our Street. (Series; Serial; PBS; 1971–1974). The story of the Robinsons, a poor black family, as they search for dignity and respect. The title refers any street in any city where families are caught in the echoes of slow-dying prejudice. Mae and Bull are the parents; Slick, Tony and Kathy are their children; J.T. Robinson is Mae's half-brother.

6152 Our Time. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1975). A nostalgic program that recalls the music, TV shows, movies and world events of the 1960s. The program also features a co-host of the week and variety guests from the era.

Host: Karen Valentine. Regular: Harry Anderson. Announcer: M.G. Kelly. Orchestra: Lenny Stack.

6153 Our World. (Series; Documentary; ABC; 1986). The program recalls specific years in world events via film clips, music, objects and eyewitnesses.

Hosts: Linda Ellerbee, Ray Gandolf.

6154 Out All Night. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1992–1993). Chelsea Paige is a former blues singer who now runs the trendy Club Chelsea in Los Angeles. Jeff Carswell, an NYU honors graduate, manages the club and stories follow Chelsea as she attempts to run the nightclub.

Chelsea is divorced and the mother of Charisse. Jeff was accepted into the Columbia School of Law but turned it down to pursue his music career in Los Angeles (he took the job as manager to make contacts. He is hoping to become a concert promoter then own his own business). Charisse is 25 years old and works as a fashion stylist for a company called Crane and Baxter.

Other regulars are Vidal Thomas, Jeff's friend, a hopeful film maker who earns money by delivering pizzas; Angus McEwan, Jeff and Vidal's neighbor (Jeff and Vidal share an apartment in Chelsea's building); Shavon, the kid to whom Vidal is a Big Brother; and Otis, Jeff's father.

Cast: Patti LaBelle (Chelsea Paige), Morris Chestnut (Jeff Carswell), Duane Martin (Vidal Thomas), Vivica A. Fox (Charisse Chamberlain), Simon O'Brien (Angus McEwan), Tahj Mowry (Shavon), Bruce A. Young (Otis Carswell). Theme Vocal: "Out All Night" by Patti LaBelle.

6155 Out of Jimmy's Head. (Series; Comedy; Cartoon Network; 2007). The Cartoon Network's first live action-animated series. While enjoying himself at the Gollywood Theme Park, Jimmy Roberts is hit by the engine of the park's train ride. Jimmy is rushed to the hospital but with only one chance to save him, he is given a brain transplant — the frozen brain of Milt Appleby, a famous cartoonist. Jimmy survives the operation but suffers from unusual side effects — he can see and speak to cartoon characters that were created by Milt. Stories relate Jimmy's adventures as he struggles to live a normal life while encountering the antics of Milt's creations (such as Tux the Penguin, Dolly Gopher, Crocco the Alligator and Golly Gopher). The series is based on the movie Re-Animated.

Craig Wheeler is Jimmy's best friend; Robin is Craig's sister (who has a crush on Jimmy), Yancy is Jimmy's 16-year-old sister. She is a green alien and was adopted by Jimmy's mother, Louise, an astronaut, during one of her space flights. Jimmy's father, Ken, is a counselor at Jimmy's school (Greater Burbank Middle School). Sonny Appleby is Milt's deranged son. He is seeking to reclaim his father's brain (to extract the cartoons and become famous). He travels with a bag of money he calls Mittens.

6156 Out of Practice. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2005–2006). Benjamin Barnes is the youngest member of a family of doctors. Although he is a psychologist his family does not consider him to be a "real" doctor. His father, Stewart, is a gastroenterologist. Stewart is divorced from Lydia, a prominent cardiologist, and dating his ditzy receptionist, Crystal. Benjamin's older brother, Oliver, is a renowned plastic surgeon (breast implants have made him wealthy); and his sister, Regina, is an ER surgeon who is also a lesbian. Stories, which are set away from the hospital, focus on the problems that arise when the family gathers to discuss aspects of their lives.

Cast: Stockard Channing (Lydia Barnes), Henry Winkler (Stewart Barnes), Paula Marshall (Regina Barnes), Christopher Gorham (Benjamin Barnes), Ty Burrell (Oliver Barnes), Jennifer Tilly (Crystal).

6157 Out of the Blue. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/12/68). Hoping to make a study of the planet Earth, four aliens from the planet Kurzon, secretly land on Earth and visit the home of Josh Enders, a physics professor living in Hollywood. When Josh learns of their plan, he agrees to help them and keep their secret. The unsold series was to depict the adventures of four aliens (Dr. Aphrodite, Claude, Ethel and Solly) as they attempt to learn about life on Earth.

Cast: Shirley Jones (Dr. Aphrodite), John McMartin (Josh Enders), Carl Ballantine (Claude), Marvin Kaplan (Ethel), Barry Dennen (Solly). Guest Cast: Richard Erdman (Murphy), John Hubbard (Captain), Phyllis Davis and Edy Williams (Girls), Rick Richards (Private), John Hubbard (Captain).

6158 Out of the Blue. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1979). "Once upon a time there was a lady [Marion] who came to live with five children. Two of them were twins [Jason and Shane, age eight] and she was forever getting them mixed up. And there was a funny, darling, fresh-faced, laughing little tomboy [Stacey, age ten]; and another little girl [Laura, age 13], so adorable, so like her mother that the lady got chills when she looked at her. And there was the oldest [Chris, age 16], a boy who was growing up to be a fine, decent young man. Oh, but this silly, silly lady got it into her head that none of these children loved her until one day they did something so magical that all of a sudden she knew she was part of this wonderful family."

Marion MacNelmor is the aunt of the five Richards children; she became their guardian after their parents were killed in a plane crash. As Marion said above, she believed the children did not love her until something "magical" happened: the children gave her a surprise birthday party and a bottle of perfume as a gift — the same gift her sister (the children's mother) had always given her on her birthday. Just as Marion realizes that she has become part of the family, celestial powers believe that Marion cannot handle the job alone.

On orders from her superior, Boss Angel assigns a Class Three Angel named Random to help Marion watch over the kids; but he is prohibited from using any of his heavenly powers to solve their problems.

Shortly after, Random arrives at the Richards house (217 Southampton Street in Chicago), seeking a basement apartment they have for rent. He quickly wins over the family, even Marion, who finds it strange that he has only one name ("I just have one name, Random, like Rambo and Cher"). Although Random is supposed to keep his true identity a secret, he reveals it to the children ("I'm an angel from heaven"), who vow to keep his secret. To be in a better position to help the children, especially Chris (who Boss Angel feels needs the most guidance), Random becomes a science teacher at the local high school. Although angels are not permitted to interfere in human destiny (Noninvolvement Act, Subsection B), Random uses magic "to help matters along."

It is mentioned that Stacey attends Clinton Elementary School and loves baseball (she apparently spends much of her allowance, $1.50 a week, on chewing gum — "It helps me with my spitball"). Laura, on the other hand, is fast becoming a young woman and developing interests that Stacey finds hard to believe (such as wearing a dress and makeup). Laura attends Clinton Junior High School and is star struck (she is saving her allowance, three dollars a week, "to travel to Hollywood and see movie stars").

Theme: "Out of the Blue," by Ben Lanzarone.

Cast: Dixie Carter (Marion MacNelmor), James Brogan (Random), Olivia Barash (Laura Richards), Tammy Lauren (Stacey Richards), Clark Brandon (Chris Richards), Jason Keller (Jason Richards), Shane Keller (Shane Richards), Eileen Heckart (Boss Angel), Hannah Dean (Gladys; the housekeeper).

6159 Out of the Blue. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1995). An unusual outdoor comedy (with dubbed in audience laughter) about six teenagers who work together at a marine life park (similar to Sea World) in Florida. Ed, Veronica, Charlie, Max, Timmy and Jose are the teens; Maria is the dolphin trainer (who is so interested in her work that she doesn't realize boys are giving her the eye). Peg, on the other hand, realizes she is gorgeous and dresses to please the opposite sex. Veronica is a dancer in the Big Splash Bash Show at the Nautilus Theater. Jose is the bilingual tour guide; Max and Charlie do various jobs around the park.

Cast: Brooke Burns (Peg), Maria Arnedo (Maria), Veronica Blume (Veronica), Carlos Conde (Charlie), Paulo Bernedetti (Max), Jose Capote (Jose), Timothy Martin (Timmy).

6160 Out of the Inkwell. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1961). The antics of Koko the Clown, his girlfriend Kokete, his dog Kokonut and their antagonist Mean Moe. A made for television version of the silent theatrical cartoons made between 1915 and 1929. The title refers to Koko, who comes to life from an artist's inkwell ("From out of the inkwell comes Koko the Clown...").

One hundred episodes were produced.

Voice Characterizations: Larry Storch.

6161 Out of This World. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987–1991). In 1972 an Earth girl named Donna Froelich was working as a waitress at Natural Norman's Organic Ice Cream Parlor. At this same time, Troy Ethel Garland, a being from the planet Anterias, was sent on a mission to get help from the other planets in his galaxy (Anterias is battling the warring Frigians from the planet Frigid). During his mission, Troy's mortal enemy, Krangle the Skull Basher (Richard Moll), shoots at Troy and disables his ship. Troy crash-lands on Earth. Sometime after (not specified), Troy wanders into Natural Norman's and orders a Raspberry Radish Rocket Ship. It was love at first sight when Donna and Troy saw each other. They dated and married on July 27, 1974 (at the Our Lady of the Strip Wedding Chapel in Las Vegas) and blended life forms. Shortly after, Donna gave birth to a girl they named Eve ("Evie") Ethel Garland. Troy repaired his ship, completed his mission and returned to Anterias. Stories, which begin when Evie is 13 years old, relate events in her life.

Evie, half Earthling and half Anterian, possesses several powers: freezing and unfreezing time (by placing her two index fingers together, she freezes time; by placing her palms together she unfreezes it), "gleeping" (the ability to rearrange molecules by concentrating) and tele-transportation (by snapping her fingers, she can transport herself to another place). Evie first attended the Marlowe School for Gifted Children, then Marlowe High School (both in Marlowe, California). She has a plush cat named Twinky, and her favorite hangout is a soda shop called the Goodie Goodie. Evie communicates with her father via a generic-link crystal cube that allows voice transmission (Troy calls her his "Earth Angel"). Evie lives with Donna in a spacious house at 17 Medvale Road. She explains her father's absence to her friends by saying that he is in the CIA.

Donna ran the Marlowe School for Gifted Children (1987–88), then became owner of the catering service Donna Delights Planning and Catering (1988–90) and finally was the mayor of Marlowe (1990–91); she hosts Meet the Mayor, a talk show on public access television, Channel 108.

Evie's Uncle Beano (Donna's brother) is the overweight owner of the Waist-a-Weigh Diet Clinic (later changed to Beano's Health Club).

Kyle X. Applegate, a former Hollywood film and television star, was the original mayor of Marlowe (1987–90). He lost in an election to Donna by one vote (500 to 501) and now serves as the police chief (he calls his patrol car Betsy).

In first season episodes, Kyle was the star of two former television series, The Floridian and Mosquito Man. During the second season, Kyle was a movie performer and the star of "Cowboy Kyle" feature films. Third season episodes find Kyle the star of a former television series called Cowboy Kyle. (He had a horse named Myron, and Sheldon Moskowitz, the frontier dentist, was his sidekick. Kyle was the marshal of Laramie Heights and wore fancy shirts with ruffles. Off the set he was called "The Ruffleman." Charlie Brill played Sheldon.)

Lindsey Selkirk is Evie's boy-crazy girlfriend. She is a member of the Movie Mania Video Club and has a dog named Mimi.

Chris Marian Fuller is Evie's on-and-off boyfriend. Like Lindsey, he too attended Marlowe High School (although he was a year ahead of Evie). He worked as the assistant manager of Chicken in a Basket and attends Marlowe Community College (1990–91).

Troy (who is never seen) is also called Troy of Anterias. Anterias is three billion miles from Earth ("just left of the moon"), and Anterians resemble humans.

In the last first-run episode (5/26/91), Troy appeared on Earth again (via his Interplanetary Transport Booster) to surprise Evie on her eighteenth birthday. Troy, however, was transparent as a result of a malfunction in his re-materialization unit. The episode ended in a cliffhanger that was never resolved: Donna accidentally transported herself to Anterias, leaving Troy stranded on Earth.

Cast: Donna Pescow (Donna Garland), Maureen Flannigan (Evie Garland), Doug McClure (Kyle Applegate), Joe Alaskey (Beano Froelich), Christina Nigra (Lindsay Selkirk), Stephen Burton (Chris Fuller), Burt Reynolds (Voice of Troy).

6162 Out of Time. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 7/17/88). When Channing Taylor, a cop in Los Angeles in the year 2088, botches the capture of mega criminal Richard Marcus, he uses a time machine and tracks him to the year 1988. There he finds his great grandfather, Max Taylor, a rookie cop who will eventually transform the L.A.P.D. into an ultra-modern police force. The two join forces and kill Marcus. Channing, however, is trapped in 1988 when he discovers that the time machine is out of fuel. Channing and Max form a unique friendship and team to solve crimes — with a little help from future technology.

Cast: Bruce Abbott (Channing Taylor), Bill Maher (Max Taylor). Guest Cast: Rebecca Schaeffer (Pam Wells), Kristian Alfonso (Cassandra Barber), Atom Ant (Richard Marcus), Leo Rossi (Ed Hawkins), Tom La Grua (Frank), Nicole Galiardo (Stephanie).

6163 Out There. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1951–1952). A live series of science fiction presentations culled from original stories and pulp magazines. One of the first series to integrate filmed special effects in a live story. Donald Davis and John Haggodd produced the series. The series ran from October 28, 1951 to January 13, 1952.

6164 The Outcasts. (Series; Western; ABC; 1968–1969). The post–Civil War West is the setting. Bound to an alliance of survival, two outcasts, Earl Corey, an uprooted Virginian aristocrat, and Jemal David, an ex-slave freed by the Proclamation, team and become bounty hunters. Stories depict their exploits, distrustful of each other because of their respected backgrounds, but standing together in times of duress. The overall series underlines the general feeling of prejudice and animosity toward blacks in the 1860s.

Cast: Don Murray (Earl Corey), Otis Young (Jemal David).

6165 The Outer Limits. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1963–1965). Science fiction presentations that explore mysteries of the mind, universe and humanity.

The Control Voice opens the show: “There is nothing wrong with your television set. Do not attempt to adjust the picture. We are controlling transmission. We will control the horizontal. We will control the vertical. We can change the focus from a soft blur or sharpen it to crystal clarity. For the next hour sit quietly and we will control all that you see and hear. You are about to participate in a great adventure. You are about to experience the awe and mystery which reaches from the inner mind to The Outer Limits.”

Control Voice: Vic Perrin. Performers Include: Jacqueline Scott, Cliff Robertson, Donald Pleasence, Robert Culp, David McCallum, Martin Landau, Peter Breck, Sally Kellerman, Gary Merrill, Barbara Luna, Carroll O’Connor, Betsy Jones-Moreland, Nancy Malone, Nick Adams, Marion Ross, Leonard Nimoy, Barbara Rush, Vera Miles, Adam West, Peggy Ann Garner, Michael Ansara, William Shatner, Eddie Albert, June Havoc, Ted Knight, Edward Platt, Melinda Plowman, Stephen McNally, Simon Oakland, Robert Duvall, Richard Jaeckel, Joan Freeman, Diana Sands, John Anderson, Nancy Rennick. Theme Music: “The Outer Limits” by Dominic Frontiere.

6166 The Outer Limits. (Series; Anthology; USA; 1995–2002). A revised version of the 1963 ABC series of the same title that goes a bit beyond the concept of the original series to present not only science fiction tales, but of the paranormal. The efforts of the unsuspecting people caught in the unknown elements forms the basis of each story.

The Control Voice opens the show: “There is nothing wrong with your television. Do not attempt to adjust the picture, we are controlling the transmission. We control the horizontal and the vertical. We can deluge you with a thousands channels or expand one single image to crystal clarity and beyond. We can shape your vision to anything our imagination can conceive. For the next hour we will control all that you see and hear. You are about to experience the awe and mystery which reaches from the deepest inner mind to The Outer Limits. Please stand by.”

Control Voice: Kevin Conway. Performers Include: Alyssa Milano, Beau Bridges, Helen Shaver, Lloyd Bridges, Nancy Allen, Kate Vernon, Bruce Davison, Thora Birch, Megan Follows, Josh Brolin, Elizabeth Pena, Timothy Busfield, Annette O’Toole, John Savage, Richard Thomas, Marlee Matlin, Dwight Schultz, Heather Graham, Amanda Plummer, Matt Frewer, Robert Foxworth, Michael Gross, Neil Patrick Harris.

6167 Outlaws. (Series; Western; NBC; 1960–1962). Stillwater, Oklahoma, during the 1890s is the setting. A look at the events surrounding the apprehension of outlaws as seen through the eyes of the outlaw being sought (first season episodes). The second season changed the format to present the capture of outlaws as seen through the eyes of Frank Caine, a tough, no-nonsense U.S. Marshal.

Cast: Barton MacLane (Marshal Frank Caine), Jack Gaynor (Deputy Heck Martin), Don Collier (Deputy Will Foreman), Bruce Yarnell (Deputy Chalk Breeson), Judy Lewis (Constance Masters; Will’s girlfriend), Slim Pickens (Slim; a towns person).

6168 The Outlaws. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/9/83). A few minutes after Stanley Flynn, a wacky inventor, and his partner, Eugene Griswold, enter a restaurant, their car is stolen by two inept jewel thieves. Following a high-speed car chase with police, the thieves return the car to where it was originally stolen and split. Unaware as to what has happened, Stanley and Eugene return to their car. Within seconds they are surrounded by police, mistaken as the jewel thieves, and arrested. Unable to prove their innocence, they are tried, convicted and sentenced to five years in prison. Determined to prove their innocence, Stanley and Eugene escape from prison with the help of Cindy Dawson, a TV reporter (for Channel 6 “Action News”) interested in their plight. The unsold series was to follow their adventures as they struggle to find the real jewel thieves and avoid Captain Stryker, the prison guard who is determined to recapture his escaped prisoners.

6169 Outlaws. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1986–1987). Four bank-robbing outlaws (Harland, Wolf, Billy and Isaiah) are being pursued by a sheriff (Grail) in 1899 Houston, Texas, when they are struck by a mysterious bolt of lightning and transported to 1986 Houston. Soon the five men reconcile their differences and learn to survive in their new world. With their stolen gold coins (now worth a fortune) they purchase a ranch. Later, their neighbor, Maggie Randall, the local law enforcer, helps them establish the Double Eagle Ranch Detective Agency — their attempt to bring law and order to their new world. Stories relate their exploits as they dispense their own brand of justice to modern day outlaws.

Harland is the leader of the infamous Pike Gang; Billy is his hot-headed brother; Isaiah, called “Ice,” is a legendary gunfighter; and Wolf claims to be half Comanche and half Texan.

6170 Outpost. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 3/22/62). A proposed series, set in the 1890s, about Ben Thompson, Frank Burling and Myles Ree, three bickering cavalry scouts. In the pilot episode, set at an army post in Stillwater, the scouts encounter a group of hostile Indians with one big advantage — a Gatling gun. Broadcast as “Charge!” on The Outlaws (Outpost was the proposed series title).

Cast: Claude Akins (Sergeant Ben Thompson), Jay Lanin (Sergeant Frank Burling), Christopher King (Sergeant Myles Ree). Guest Cast: Frank DeKova (Chief White Tongue), Don Collier (Deputy Will Foreman), Bruce Yarnell (Deputy Chalk Breeson).

6171 Outpost. (Pilot; Science Fiction; CBS; 8/22/89). Icarus is a planet with volatile inhabitants, ecological dangers and disreputable outsiders who prey on the peaceful citizens. When Tom Morgan, the Marshal of Icarus, is killed, his daughter Rachel pins on his badge to continue his dream of upholding the peace in her human colony. In the pilot episode, Rachel attempts to stop Regnad, a vicious renegade from destroying her colony.

Other Regulars: Kelly, Rachel’s sister; Drew, Rachel’s brother; Cray, Rachel’s android; Kazu, the mechanic; Doc Holmes and Captain Brian Stockwell.

Cast: Joanna Going (Rachel Morgan), Marissa Dunlop (Kelly Morgan), Ben Marley (Drew Morgan), Jeremy Flynn (Cray), Eiji Kusahara (Kazu), Joseph Marcell (Doc Holmes), David Robb (Brian Stockwell). Guest Cast: Terry Kingley (Regnad), Neil Dickson (Cooper), Christopher Rozycki (Yuri), Ellen Thomas (Julia Holmes), Stuart Milligan (Navigator), Aaron Swartz (Spaceport official), Gerard Horan (Hill).

6172 Outrageous Opinions. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1967). Helen Gurley Brown hosts a program that features celebrity guests discussing various topical issues.

6173 The Outrider. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 3/28/59). In Ellsworth, Kansas, in the 1880s stood the Outrider House, a combination saloon, hotel and gambling hall owned by Megan Francis. The unsold series was to relate Megan’s efforts to maintain an honest business in an era of lawlessness. In the pilot episode, bounty hunter Josh Randall (from Wanted: Dead or Alive) helps an old friend (Jessie Holloway) battle a crooked mayor (Pete Kovack) who is seeking to take over the Outrider. Aired as “The Kovack Affair” on Wanted: Dead or Alive.

Cast: Jean Willes (Megan Francis), James Coburn (Jessie Holloway). Guest Cast: Steve McQueen (Josh Randall), Jacques Aubuchon (Pete Kovack), Olan Soule (Hotel clerk), Bobby Clark (Shoeshine boy).

6174 The Outside Man. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/8/77). Richie Martinelli is “The Outside Man,” a street-wise federal agent who goes undercover to apprehend dangerous criminals. The unsold series was to relate his and his partner, Shaker Thompson’s exploits as they risk their lives to apprehend felons. The pilot episode depicts their attempts to capture the bank robbers who are responsible for the death of two police officers.

Cast: Ron Leibman (Richie Martinelli), Woody Strode (Shaker Thompson). Guest Cast: Janet Margolin (Rosalie), Nicholas Colasanto (Stalio), Al Ruscio (Sal), Pepper Martin (Leo), Robert Donner (Armand), Pat Corley (Sally), Michael Frost (Roger Elks).

6175 The Outsider. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1968–1969). David Ross is an embittered ex-con who now works as a private detective in Los Angeles. He lives in a moderately furnished apartment at 36841 Braxton. There is a refrigerator but no food (he seems to survive on the one bottle of milk in it). He drives a rather beat up sedan and makes “less than $10,000 a year.” While he should look like a disheveled detective, to match the rest of his lifestyle, he is just the opposite: well dressed, charming and polite — or rugged and two fisted, depending on the situation. Darren McGavin provides the narration as Ross uses his wits to solve crimes. Pete Rugolo composed the theme.

Cast: Darren McGavin (David Ross).

6176 The Outsiders. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1990). An unusual series that focuses on the events that befall the members of two youth gangs: the Greasers and the Socks. The program is set in a small town in 1986 and focuses in particular on Pony Boy Curtis, head of the Greasers, and Cherry Valone, leader of the Socks. Soda Pop and Darrel (Pony Boy’s brothers) and Tim, Two-Bit, Steve and Belinda are members of the Greasers. Randy, Marsha, Gregg, Buck, Barbara and Maria are the other members of the Socks. Based on characters from the novel The Outsiders by S.E. Hinton.

Cast: Jay R. Ferguson (Pony Boy Curtis), Kim Walker (Cherry Valone), Rodney Harvey (Soda Pop Curtis), Boyd Kestner (Darrel Curtis), Robert Rusher (Tim Shepherd), David Arquette (Two-Bit Matthews), Harold Pruett (Steve Randle), Heather McComb (Belinda "Scout" Jenkins), Scott Coffey (Randy Adderson), Jennifer McComb (Marsha), Sean Kanan (Gregg), Billy Bob Thornton (Buck Merrill), W. Scott Caldwell (Barbara Richards), Jenny Agutter (Maria Rogers).

6177 Over and Out. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/11/76). The setting is the South Pacific during World War II. While en-route to Australia, five female communications officers (Betty, Cookie, Paula, Lizard and Alice) become stranded on an all-male army base when their plane crash lands on the island. The unsold series was to relate the women's efforts to make the island their home (until they can be rescued) despite the objections of Paddy Patterson, an army captain who believes that war is a man's game and women are nothing but a jinx.

Cast: Michele Lee (Capt. Betty Jack Daniels), Susan Lanier (Sgt. Cookie Dobson), Pat Finley (Lt. Paula Rabinowitz), Alice Playten (Sgt. Lizard Gossamer), Mary Jo Catlett (Sgt. Alice Pierson), Ken Berry (Capt. Paddy Patterson), Stewart Moss (Sgt. Travis Shelby III), Dean Santoro (Lt Samuel Launius).

6178 Over My Dead Body. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1990–1991). Maxwell Beckett and Nikki Page are an unlikely pair of crime solvers: Maxwell is a former Scotland Yard Inspector turned mystery story writer; Nikki is a newspaper obituary writer seeking a position as a crime reporter.

Maxwell actually pretends to be a retired Scotland Yard inspector to give credibility to his books. He has written six books and is constantly seen arguing with his unnamed publisher about them. The publisher feels Maxwell's books are bombing because they have no grit.

Maxwell was called "Beckett of the Yard," or so he has led his readers to believe, and "The Catcher of Uncatchable Thieves, the Solver of Unsolvable Crimes." In 1981, he claims to have worked for the Anti-Terrorist Squad of the New Scotland Yard. Maxwell also wrote a series of children's books — Mongoose — under the pen name A.J. Edison. Diane is Maxwell's ex-wife; she has a dog named Woody.

Nikki is a pretty, brash, street-smart young woman in her late twenties who aspires to bigger and better things. She is a Pisces and works under the name Miss Black. While she does write the obit column for the San Francisco Union, her actual job is a journalist trainee. It was her fascination with Maxwell Beckett stories that enabled her to become an amateur sleuth. One night while nursing a cold, Nikki saw a man strangle a woman in the apartment across from hers. When no evidence of a crime could be found, the police dismissed the case. Nikki knows what she saw and believes a great sleuth like Maxwell Beckett is the man she needs. When Beckett dismisses Nikki as a flake, she prints his obituary in the paper. The prank almost costs Nikki her job, but it accomplishes her goal: she is able to convince her hero that a murder occurred and together set out to prove it; a political figure killed a prostitute to prevent his affair becoming a matter of public record.

The investigation stirs Maxwell's creative juices; Nikki feels she is acquiring the experience she needs to become a reporter. The two find they need each other and remain a team. Lee Holdridge composed the theme "Over My Dead Body."

6179 Over 17 Not Admitted. (Pilot; Magazine; Fox; 4/24/88). A proposed weekly magazine directed at teenagers with reports on lifestyles, trends, fashions and previews of movie and TV shows.

Hosts: Mijin Hong, Andreas Kokino, Becky LeGrande, Brad Rubin, Tony Russell, Jr. Announcer: Jim Barton.

6180 Over the Edge. (Pilot; Reality; ABC; 5/4/89). Barry Nolan is the host of a proposed series that was to profile people in extraordinary situations.

6181 The Over-the-Hill Gang. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 10/7/69). Shortly after retiring from the Texas Rangers, Captain Oren Hayes teams with three aged friends and former rangers (Nash Crawford, Gentleman George and Jason Fitch) to continue doing what they do best — keeping the peace as they roam throughout the Old West. In the pilot episode, the rangers attempt to clean up a town run by a crooked mayor (Nard Lundy), a drunken judge (Amos Polk) and a trigger-happy sheriff (Clyde Barnes). See the next title also.

6182 The Over-the-Hill Gang Rides Again. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 11/17/70). A sequel to the prior title and a second unsuccessful attempt at an Over-the-Hill Gang series. Nash Crawford, Gentleman George Agnew and Jason Fitch are three aging Texas Rangers who roam throughout the Old West righting wrongs. When they stumble upon an old friend called The Baltimore Kid (who has fallen on hard times and is now drinking his life away) they sober him up, restore his ranger reputation and make him one of the gang (to replace Pat O'Brien from the prior title). The second pilot depicts their efforts to clean up Waco, a ruthless and lawless town in Texas.

Cast: Walter Brennan (Nash Crawford), Chill Wills (Gentleman George Agnew), Edgar Buchanan (Jason Fitch), Fred Astaire (The Baltimore Kid). Guest Cast: Paul Richards (Sam Braham), Lana Wood (Katie), Parley Baer (Mayor), Lillian Bronson (Mrs. Murphy), Walter Burke (Stableman), Jonathan Hole (Parson), Burt Mustin (Best man).

6183 Over the Top. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1997). Simon Ferguson is a famed actor (of stage, screen and television) who was married to a woman named Hadley Martin for 12 days 20 years ago. Hadley is now the manager of the Metropolitan Hotel in New York City; Simon has since faded from popularity and recently worked on the daytime TV soap opera Days to Remember (where he played Dr. Milo Lang Ingham and his brother, Ted Lang Ingham); National Television Studios produced the show.

Hadley, who is the divorced mother of Gwen and Daniel, was also an actress, but her only claim to fame was a regional popcorn commercial. Now, unemployed, Simon pleads with Hadley for a job — and finds himself co-managing the hotel with Hadley. The short-lived (three episode series) follows Simon's efforts to function in a world apart from show business.

Other regulars are Rose, Hadley's assistant; Yorgo, the Greek chef; and Robert, the hotel's chief investor.

Cast: Tim Curry (Simon Ferguson), Annie Potts (Hadley Martin), Marla Sokoloff (Gwen Martin), Luke Tarsitano (Daniel Martin), Liz Torres (Rose), John O'Hurley (Robert McSwain), Steve Carrell (Yorgo Galfanikos).

6184 Overland Trail. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1960). Fred Thomas and Frank Flippen, a former Civil War engineer and his young assistant work for the Overland Stage Lines (during the 1860s). Overland is pushing west and establishing a trail from Missouri to California. Stories follow Fred and Frank as they oversee operations and protect the route from whatever dangers drivers and passengers may face — from outlaws to renegade Indians.

Cast: William Bendix (Fred Thomas), Doug McClure (Frank "Flip" Flippen).

6185 Overseas Adventures. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1953–1954). The syndicated title for Foreign Intrigue with James Daly as the star. See Foreign Intrigue: Overseas Adventures for information.

6186 Owen Marshall, Counselor at Law. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1971–1974). Owen Marshall is a brilliant criminal attorney based in Santa Barbara, California. He is shrewd, cunning and totally dedicated to following the limits of the law (he rarely breaks the rules to accomplish a goal).

He is persistent and relentless and will not rest until he uncovers all the facts needed to defend his clients. Jess Brandon is Owen's young assistant. He is a bit impetuous and, although he has great respect for Owen, feels that bending the rules is sometimes a necessary evil to acquire what they need. Melissa Marshall is Owen's daughter (Owen is a widower); Frieda Krause is Owen's secretary; Danny Paterno and Ted Warrick are Owen's colleagues.

Cast: Arthur Hill (Owen Marshall), Christine Matchett (Melissa Marshall), Lee Majors (Jess Brandon), Joan Darling (Frieda Krause), Reni Santoni (Danny Paterno), David Soul (Ted Warrick), Russell Johnson (D.A. Grant), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Assistant D.A. Charlie Giannetta), Henry Beckman (Sgt. Roy Kessler), Lindsay Workman (Judge), Bill Quinn (Judge), John Zaremba (Judge).

6187 The Owl. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 8/3/91). Alex Leibel can't sleep. He has to do something with his time and if you have the money, he is there to help you. He can see in the dark and carries an arsenal of weapons with him. He uses an air dart gun (to knock out his enemies) and possesses amazing powers. He is also on a personal vendetta: to destroy a man named Hutchins — the man who killed his family in a car bombing that was meant for him. How Alex obtained his powers is a mystery and no one knows anything about him. The unsold series was to relate Alex's exploits as the Owl, an around-the-clock vigilante who dispenses his own brand of justice. In the pilot episode, the Owl helps a young girl (Lisa) search for her missing father, the inventor of a powerful steroid called Instant Iron.

Other Regulars: Alex's friends, Danny (a police officer) and Norbert (a bartender), people whose lives he saved and now help him when needed.

Cast: Adrian Paul (Alex Leibel), Patricia Charbonneau (Danny Sontare), Brian Thompson (Norbert). Guest Cast: Alan Scarfe (Hutchins), Erika Flores (Lisa), David Anthony Marshall (Bobb B), Bridget Kaplett (Girl).

6188 The Owl and the Pussycat. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 12/29/75). Felix Sherman is a hopeful writer who constantly gets rejections. Doris is a not-too-bright model and actress (she appeared in two television commercials and a newspaper ad) who will sometimes sell her body for money (although she detests being called a hooker). She is between last names (looking for the right one) and lives upstairs from Sherman. They meet one rainy night and form an unusual love-hate relationship and the unsold series, based on the feature film of the same title, was to follow their romantic ups and downs.

Cast: Buck Henry (Felix Sherman), Bernadette Peters (Doris). Guest Cast: Liam Dunn (Mr. Crumley), Dorothy Neumann (Mrs. Crumley), Val Bisoglio (Man).

6189 Oz. (Series; Drama; HBO; 1997–2003). Oswald State Penitentiary, called Oz on the street, is a men's prison that houses the most notorious criminals to come before the justice system. Because of the disturbing nature of their crimes (from murder to cannibalism) these men have been placed in Oz. It is the wheelchair bound prisoner, Augustus Hill, who guides viewers through a section of Oz called Emerald City, an experimental rehabilitation unit established by Tim McManus. Stories, which are quite realistic and gritty, depict events in the lives of the prisoners.

Cast: Terry Kinney (Tim McManus), Harold Perrineau, Jr. (Augustus Hill), Ernie Hudson (Warden Leo Glynn), Robert Clohessy (Officer Sean Murphy), Edie Falco (Officer Diane Whittlesey), Zeljko Ivanek (Governor James Devlin), Rita Moreno (Sister Peter Marie Reimondo), Lauren Velez (Dr. Gloria Nathan), B.D. Wong (Father Ray Mukada), Kirk Acevedo (Miguel Alvarez), Chuck Zito (Chucky "The Enforcer" Pancamo), Granville Adams (Jerome Van Dyke; a.k.a. Zahir Arif), Rob Bogue (Jason Cramer), David Zay (Enrique Morales), Rob Bogue (Jason Cramer), Charles Busch (Natalie "Nat" Ginsburg), Sean Dugan (Timmy Kirk), Anthony Chisholm (Burr Redding), Kathryn Erbe (Shirley Bellinger), Stephen Gevedon (Scott Ross), Luis Guzman (Raoul Hernandez; a.k.a. El Cid), Christopher Meloni (Chris Keller), George Morfogen (Bob Rebadow), Blake Robbins (Dave Bass), Kristin Rohde (Claire Howell), Evan Seinfeld (Jaz Hoyt), Michael Wright (Omar White), Steven Wishnoff (Tony Masters), Scott William Winters (Cyril O'Reilly), J.D. Williams (Kenny Wangler; a.k.a. Bricks), Sean Whitesell (Donald Groves), Lee Tergesen (Tobias Beecher), J.K. Simmons (Vernon Schilling).

6190 The Oz Kids. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1995–1996). When the film The Wizard of Oz ended, Dorothy returned to Kansas and the Tin Woodman, Cowardly Lion and Scarecrow remained behind in the Land of Oz. Over time, these characters had children and have reunited in the magical Land of Oz. The series relates incidents in the lives of Dot and Nettie, the children of Dorothy; Bela and Boris, the cubs of the Cowardly Lion; Tin Boy, son of the Tin Woodman; Scarecrow, Jr., son of the Scarecrow; Andrea, the daughter of Glinda, the Good Witch; and Frank, the son of the Wizard of Oz.

Voice Cast: Julianne Michelle (Dot), Shay Astar (Andrea), Benjamin Salisbury (Tin Boy), Bradley Pierce (Boris), Jonathan Taylor Thomas (Scarecrow, Jr.), Steve Stoliar (Tin Woodman).

6191 Ozmo. (Series; Children; ABC; 1951). Studio Z is a storeroom in the sub-sub basement of the ABC television center. It is here that a group of electronically operated marionettes live: Ozmo, a light-hearted monkey; Roderick Dhon't, the leprechaun;

Horatio, the caterpillar; Misty Waters, a curvaceous mermaid; Poe the Crow; Sam the Clam; and Throckmorton, the sea serpent. Stories in the short lived series (March 6, 1951 to April 12, 1951) relate their adventures as they seek ways to amuse themselves.

Voices: Bradley Bolke, Jack Urbant, Elinor Russell, Alan Stapleton, Jan Kindler.

6192 Ozzie and Harriet. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1952–1966). The shortened TV Guide title for The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet. See this title for information.

6193 Ozzie's Girls. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1973–1974). An updated version of The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet. Ozzie and Harriet Nelson are the parents of two sons, David and Ricky, who are now grown and have moved out of their parents home (at 1822 Sycamore Street in the town of Hilldale). Ozzie has retired (from a job that was never revealed on the original series) and, now that he has time to spend around the house, he and Harriet miss having children around. To fill the void in their lives, they advertise in the Campus News for someone to rent their sons former bedrooms. College co-eds Susan Hamilton and Jennifer MacKenzie respond to the ad and are accepted by Ozzie and Harriet as their boarders. Ozzie apparently does not need money as Susan and Jennifer pay rent based on what it cost to run the house now as opposed to when they were not a part of the family. The school Susan and Brenda attend is referred to as the "Campus" or the "College."

Ozzie and Harriet delight in the decision they made as they feel like they have turned back the clock and can recapture the fun times they had with David and Ricky. Ozzie becomes more involved in Susan and Jennifer's problems than Harriet as he just happens to be the one who feels he is capable of solving the troublesome situations they encounter (although he is very laid back and his demure composure never detracts from his solving a problem).

Jennifer's character name was changed (without explanation) to Brenda. She is an Aquarius and very neat. She is also very sensible but panics when school deadlines need to be met and she feels she can't meet them. Susan, a Pisces, is a hippie, somewhat untidy and very disorganized (it's a wonder she can find her books when she needs them). She approaches everything in a relaxed manner and rarely lets anything bother her — something that always causes a rift between her and Brenda (and something Ozzie always becomes involved in). Stories follow the events that befall each member of the family, especially Susan and Brenda, as they attend college. Professor McCutcheon is the psychology professor; Lenore Morrison is Ozzie's neighbor; Alice is Lenore's daughter.

Cast: Ozzie Nelson (Ozzie Nelson), Harriet Nelson (Harriet Nelson), Susan Sennett (Susan Hamilton), Brenda Sykes (Brenda MacKenzie), Lenore

6195 Pacific Blue. (Series; Crime Drama; USA; 1996–1999). Santa Monica, California, is the setting for a look at the home and working lives of a group of officers with the police department's Bike Beach Patrol.

Lieutenant T.C. Callaway heads the Beach Patrol. He is an avid surfer and his hobby is restoring classic cars from the late 1960s and 70s. He is married to Officer Chris Kelly (who uses her maiden name).

Officer Cory McNamara is a by-the-books cop who takes her job very seriously (but still has a sense of humor). Russ Granger is a rookie, newly graduated from the police academy. He is thrilled to be carrying a gun but has a bad attitude problem — and is addicted to gambling. He is so attached to his Harley (the brand of motorcycles the team uses) that he keeps it in the house he shares with Officer Jamie Strickland.

Jamie is intelligent but she is new to the streets and often makes mistakes (but is very careful to cover her tracks). Monika Harper is an ambitious cop with ambitions to become the police chief. She previously worked as an undercover cop for the Santa Monica P.D.

Bobby Cruz is a former L.A.P.D. officer who works for a college campus security force. He is also caring for his 15-year-old sister, Teresa (their parents were killed in a car accident). Anthony Palermo is a lieutenant and the original head of the unit. He has a positive attitude and believes situations can be resolved peacefully.

Officer Chris Kelly worked in the public relations department before becoming a biker cop. Officer Victor Del Toro is the son of South American immigrants and grew up among the beaches of Santa Monica and Venice.

Cast: Jim Davidson (T.C. Callaway), Paula Trickey (Cory McNamara), Jeff Stearns (Russ Granger), Shanna

Moakler (Monica Harper), Amy Hunter-Cornelius (Jamie Strickland), Mario Lopez (Bobby Cruz), Darlene Vogel (Chris Kelly), Rick Rossovich (Anthony Palermo), Marcos Ferraez (Victor Del Toro).

6196 Pacific Palisades. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1997). A prime time serial that focuses on the lives of a group of young professionals who live in Pacific Palisades, a large community in California. The principal characters are Robert Russo, the owner of the Pacific Palisades Realty Company (he is married to Kate but is having an affair with his secretary, Jessica Mitchell); Cory Robbins, a plastic surgeon, and his girlfriend, Ashley MacInally; Max Dunning and his accomplice, Laura Sinclair, two con artists.

Cast: Greg Evigan (Robert Russo), Finola Hughes (Kate Russo), Jocelyn Seagrave (Jessica Mitchell), Lucky Vanous (Matt Dunning), Dylan Neal (Cory Robbins), J.J. Wyman (Cory Robbins; later), Natalia Cigliuti (Rachel Whitaker), Michelle Stafford (Joanna Hadley), Joan Collins (Christina Hobson), Brittney Powell (Beth Hooper), Jarrod Emick (Nicholas Hadley), Kimberly Davies (Laura Sinclair), J. Trevor Edmond (Michael Kerris), Jennifer Banko (Ashley MacInally), Paul Satterfield (John Graham).

6197 Pacific Station. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1991). Robert “Bob” Ballard, Richard Capparelli, Sandy Calloway and Al Burkhardt are police detectives based at Pacific Station in Venice, California (Room 112 is their headquarters). Bob has been a detective for 20 years and had six partners; he has a dog named Arsenio.

Richard, a health food advocate, is now Bob's partner. His former partner was a police dog named Leo and he is back on the force after a psychiatric leave. Richard was called “Donut” in high school and drives a 1962 Cadillac convertible. Al, who is partners with Sandy, reads the Victoria Secret's Catalogue. Ken Epstein is the captain. He worked previously as the mayor's press secretary. He has a degree in journalism and criminology.

Grace Ballard is Bob's wife and Dawn and Keith are their children. Judy Epstein is Kenny's wife and Cassandra is Richard's daughter (Richard had an affair at Woodstock in 1969 and didn't know he had a daughter — until she looked him up). Stories follow the events that spark the lives of these police officers and their families.

Cast: Robert Guillaume (Det. Robert Ballard), Richard Libertini (Det. Richard Caparelli), John Hancock (Deputy Commissioner Hank Bishop), Joel Murray (Captain Ken Epstein), Ron Leibman (Det. Al Burkhardt), Megan Gallagher (Det. Sandy Calloway), Janet Carroll (Judy Epstein), Leroy Edwards III (Keith Ballard), Pam Grier (Grace Ballard), Monica Calhoun (Dawn Ballard), Meredith Scott Lynne (Cassandra). Theme Vocal: “Rescue Me” by Margo Thunder, Phaedra Butler, Rise Engermann.

6198 Paddington Bear. (Series; Cartoon; PBS; 1981). When his Aunt Lucy (a bear) retires and goes to the home for retired bears in Lima, Peru, her young nephew stows away on a ship bound for England. When the ship docks, the bear wanders and finds refuge at the Paddington train station. It is here that he is found by Mr. and Mrs. Brown, a couple who name him after the station and later adopt him. Stories depict Paddington's adventures as he learns about various aspects of life. Based on the children's books by Michael Bond.

Host: Joel Grey. Paddington Bear: Michael Horden.

6199 Painkiller Jane. (Pilot; Adventure; Sci Fi; 12/10/05). Jane Browning is a captain with the U.S. Army's Special Operations Forces. On an assignment in Russia to destroy what they believe is a heroin lab, Jane and her squad (codename: Painkiller) are exposed to an unknown biological agent. Almost immediately, the squad is affected and, as they exit the building, are gunned down by unknown soldiers in hazmet uniforms. Only one operative manages to survive — Jane (exactly who the assassins are is not explained).

Jane awakens in an army medical center in Virginia. Her wounds have healed themselves and she now possesses a metabolic rate 20 times that of a normal person — “She is unlike any woman on earth.” Jane also possesses a number of developing super abilities (strength, speed and sight beyond normal vision) but she is also the military's top priority as they seek to discover what combination of chemicals have turned her into a superwoman (it is also not explained why she is not contagious considering what she had been exposed to).

Jane is cooperating with the military until she learns that she is being transferred to “a secure location in Alaska.” With one driving ambition — to find the person who changed her life “and kill him,” Jane escapes and begins her quest — helping people along the way while eluding capture by the military — who want their secret weapon back.

Very little information is revealed regarding Jane. Her parents died when she was 15 and was raised by her older sister Carla. She graduated from Special Ops School in 1999. Based on the comic book; see the following title also.

Cast: Emmanuelle Vaugier (Jane Browning), Venus Terzo (Carla Browning), Richard Roundtree (Colonel Watts), Tate Donovan (Dr. Graham Knight), Ava Hughes (Girl), Zora Vukelic (Mr. Grey), Michael Eklund (Guy).

6200 Painkiller Jane. (Series; Adventure; Sci Fi; 2007). In a futuristic time there exists a group of genetically engineered people called Neurons, people with superhuman neurological powers who can perform telekinetic feats but who suffer from tele-pathic induced hallucinations over which they have no control. Because the Neurons cannot control their powers, they pose a threat to the country. Battling them is a secret government agency that operates from an abandoned subway platform. Their mission is to contain or, if necessary, neutralize the Neurons. The agency is also struggling to keep the presence of the Neurons a secret and avoid a public panic.

The agency's chief agent is Jane Vasco, a former DEA agent with incredible regenerative powers. As a child Jane's father called her “Painkiller Jane” for her ability to mentally push through even the most painful situations. Although Jane cannot be killed, she does feel the pain of an injury before it miraculously heals.

Working with Jane are Andre McBride, the head of the agency; Conner King, the know-it-all agent; Riley Jensen, the computer whiz in charge of communications and surveillance; Seth Carpenter, the team's doctor; Maureen Bowers, Jane's former partner with the DEA (and best friend); and Joe Waterman, the subway's caretaker. The series is based on the comic book by Jimmy Palmotti and Joe Quesada and the 2005 Sci Fi Channel pilot of the same name (which differs somewhat from the series in story and cast; see the prior title for information).

Cast: Kristanna Loken (Jane Vasco), Rob Stewart (Andre McBride), Noah Danby (Connor King), Alaina Huffman (Maureen Bowers), Sean Owen Roberts (Riley Jensen), Stephen Lobo (Dr. Seth Carpenter), Nathaniel Deveaux (Joe Waterman).

6201 Painting with Elke Sommer. (Series; Instruction; Syn.; 1985). Elke Sommer, an accomplished film and television actress, is also a talented artist who demonstrates her artistic flair through step-by-step art instruction.

6202 The Palace. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1979). Celebrity guests perform against the background of the Hamilton Palace in Toronto, Canada. R. David Close and Arnold Gordon are the producers.

Host: Jack Jones. Orchestra: Tommy Banks.

6203 Palace Guard. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1991). The cops say, “The guy is harder to find than a virgin in Vegas.” The “guy” is Thomas (“Tommy”) Logan, a sophisticated thief whose specialty is robbing Palace Hotels all over the world. He is caught, however, robbing the New York Palace Hotel and sent to prison (Attica) for three years. After his release, Logan is approached by Arturo Taft, the Palace Hotel chain owner. Taft hires Logan as his security chief — “Who better knows the hotel's weaknesses than a master thief.” (Arturo is actually Tom's father, but Tom doesn't know it. Arturo learned about Tom two years ago from his first wife, who left him before she knew she was pregnant.)

Tom is officially the special head of security for the Palace Corporation (when there is a problem at any hotel, Logan is sent to resolve it). The hotel caters to the wealthiest and classiest people in the world. Assisting Logan is Christine (“Christy”) Cooper, the vice president of publicity and public relations. She is a former actress (she starred in Broken Arrows and Fool’s Paradise). Christy left the movie business because “I hated cattle calls and sleaze balls hitting on me all day.”

Melissa Taft is Arturo’s 15-year-old daughter; Marshall Lyons is Christine’s ex-husband. Mike Post composed the “Palace Guard Theme.”

Cast: D.W. Moffett (Thomas Logan), Tony LoBianco (Arturo Taft), Marcy Walker (Christine Cooper), Noelle Parker (Melissa Taft), Dennis Bout-sikaris (Marshall Lyons).

6204 Pall Mall Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1955). A summer series of dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. The series, sponsored by Pall Mall cigarettes, ran from July 20, 1955 to September 9, 1955.

6205 The Pallisers. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1977). Victorian England is the setting and stories chronicle twenty-five years in the lives of Plantgenet Palliser, a respected member of Parliament, and his wife, Lady Glencora M’Clockie Palliser. Produced by the BBC.

Cast: Philip Lathan (Plantgenet Palliser), Susan Hampshire (Glencora Palliser), Ronald Culver (Duke of Omnium), Caroline Mortimer (Alice), Gary Watson (George), Rachel Herbert (Lady Dumbello), Fabia Drake (Countess Midlothian), Bernard Brown (John Gray), Barry Justice (Burgo Fitzgerald), Terence Alexander (Lord George), Helen Lindsay (Mrs. Car-buncle), Anna Massey (Laura Kennedy). Host: Sir John Gielgud.

6206 Palmerstown, U.S.A. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1980–1981). A view of life in a small town (Palmerstown, Tennessee, 1935) where whites and blacks co-exist for economic survival, as seen through the eyes of two boys: David Hall (white) and Booker T. Freeman (black), friends who struggle to remain friends in a world that does not approve of their relationship.

Other regulars are W.D. Hall (a grocer) and Coralee, David’s parents; Willie Joe, David’s brother; Luther (a blacksmith) and Bessie Freeman, Booker’s parents; Diana, Booker’s sister; Willy, the town barber; the Sheriff and the following townspeople: Auntie Calpurnia, Mrs. Miller, Mailman Jackson, Banker Hodges, Widder Brown, Major, Reverend Teasdale, Roscoe, Hattie Lou, Jed, Noah, Charlie, Agnes, Deacon Shaw, Deacon Lewis. Also known as Palmerstown.

Cast: Beeson Carroll (W.D. Hall), Janis St. John (Coralee Hall), Brian G. Wilson (David Hall), Michael J. Fox (Willie Jo Hall), Bill Duke (Luther Freeman), Jonelle Allen (Bessie Freeman), Jermain H.

Johnson (Booker T. Freeman), Star-Shemah Bobatoon (Diana Freeman), Kenneth White (Sheriff), Claudia McNeil (Auntie Calpurnia), Sarina Grant (Mrs. Miller), Morgan Freeman (Mailman Jackson), John Carter (Banker Hodges), Iris Kern (Widder Brown), Arthur Malet (Major), Davis Roberts (Rev. Teasdale), John Hancock (Roscoe), Susan Battson (Hattie Lou), Kenneth White (Jed), Ted Gehring (Noah), Vernon Weddle (Charlie), Miriam Byrd-Nethery (Agnes Peter-son), Fred Pinkard (Deacon Shaw), Stack Pierce (Dea-con Lewis), Michael Greene (Willy).

6207 Palmetto Pointe. (Series; Drama; I [In-dependent TV]; 2005). The first original series aired by the new I (Independent) broadcast network. The small town of Palmetto Pointe is the setting for a look at the lives of a group of teenagers (and friends) who are heading off to college. The seven episode series failed to really establish any situations but did tackle some controversial issues (such as teenage pregnancy and date rape). The series ran from August 28, 2005 to October 16, 2005.

Cast: Sarah Edwards (Millison Avery), Timothy Woodward, Jr. (Triston Sutton), Nina Repeta (Melinda Gale), Madison Weidberg (Lacey Timberline), Brent Lovell (Logan Jones), Will Tiptlett (Josh Davidson), Josh Holland (Jason Sutton), Amanda Baker (Callah), John Wesley Shipp (Michael Jones), Gabrielle Carteris (Elizabeth Jones), Jarrod Bruce (Murphy Collins).

6208 Palms Precinct. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/8/82). Inspector Alexandra Brewster is single; Inspector Carmine Monaco is divorced. They are opposite in character and work together as partners for the Palms City, California, Police Department. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to solve the crimes that plague their small city. In the pilot episode, Alexandra and Carmine attempt to expose a group of corrupt Federal narcotics agents. Other Regulars: Captain Edward Hammersman, their superior; and Jeanine, Carmine’s ex-wife.

Cast: Sharon Gless (Alexandra Brewster), Steve Ryan (Carmine Monaco), James Gallery (Edward Hammersman), Tricia O’Neil (Jeanine Monaco). Guest Cast: Bruce Fischer (Dean Kelsey), Mark Thomas (Barry Wittenberg), Jack Kelly (Albert Brunswick), Alan Stock (Scotty Gabriel), Lenora May (Patti Halliwell).

6209 Pals. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/31/81). Frank Greene, an impetuous investment counselor, and Harry Miller, a stolid mortgage broker for the Mercantile Bank of California, are pals who are also brothers-in-law: Frank married Beverly and Harry married her sister, Shirley. The unsold series was to focus on the mishaps that befell the couples. In the pilot episode, Harry and Frank travel to Mexico to buy a gift for Frank’s wedding anniversary and end up incarcerated for stealing a chicken and destroying religious artifacts.

Cast: Tony LoBianco (Frank Greene), Jeffrey Tambor (Harry Miller), Linda Carlson (Shirley Miller), Margaret Willock (Beverly Greene). Guest Cast: Nedra Volz (Emily Baines), Luis Avalos (Captain Durante), Woodrow Parfrey (Prisoner), Ernie Fuentes (Car inspector).

6210 Pandemonium. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1982–1983). When Mongragoor, the most evil being in the universe, attempts to steal the Pyramid of Power (the most sought after object since before time began), it falls from his hands and explodes, scattering pieces all over the Earth. One piece falls in Tibet where three Panda Bears (Chesty, Alganon and Timothy) find it. Meanwhile, in America, Peter Darrow, a young scientist, witnesses the mysterious explosion. Curious to discover more about the explosion, he and his sister, Peggy, rent a plane and head for Tibet. En route their plane develops engine trouble and they crash land in a jungle where they meet and befriend the three talking Panda Bears. Seconds later the image of Mongragoor appears, seeking the piece possessed by the bears. Through Mongragoor, it is learned that each piece of the pyramid will lead its finder to the next piece and so on, until the pyramid is completed; its finder will then be granted enormous power. Stories depict Peter, Peggy and the bears' search to find the pyramid pieces before Mangragoor — who seeks the complete pyramid to control the universe.

Voices: Julie McWhirter, Jesse White, Cliff Norton, Walker Edmiston, Katie Leigh, Neil Ross, William Woodson, Rick Dees, Alan Dinehart, David Banks.

6211 Pandora and Friend. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/16/61). A proposed spin-off from The Ann Sothern Show about an ever efficient secretary (Pandora) to a world-famous movie star (Anthony Bardot). The pilot episode establishes the unsold series storyline as Katy O'Connor, the assistant manager of the Bartley House Hotel in New York City, finds Pandora for Anthony. Other Regulars: Gabby, Pandora's friend (and hence the title).

Cast: Pat Carroll (Pandora), Guy Mitchell (Anthony Bardot), Luke Anthony (Gabby). Guest Cast: Fay Baker (Miss Norton), Jeane Wood (Mrs. Dudley), Ann Sothern (Katy O'Connor), Don Porter (James Devery).

6212 Panhandle Pete and Jennifer. (Series; Children; NBC; 1950–1951). Chickamoochie Country is the setting for a series that incorporates a cartoon story format to illustrate yarns told by Johnny Coons, Jennifer Holt and her life-size dummy, Panhandle Pete. The series ran from September 18, 1950 to June 18, 1951.

Hosts: Jennifer Holt, Johnny Coons. Organist: Adele Scott. Cartoonist: Bill Newton.

6213 Panic! (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1957). Suspense dramatizations that depict the plight of people confronted with sudden, unexpected and perilous situations. It ran from March 5, 1957 to September 17, 1957.

Host-Narrator: Westbrook Van Voorhis. Performers Include: Carolyn Jones, June Havoc, Darryl Hickman, Lila Lee, Norman Alden, Alan Napier, Kathy Garver, Keye Luke, Richard Jaeckel, James Whitmore, Kenneth Tobey, Barbara Billingsley, Edward Franz, James Mason, Pamela Mason, Mary Webster, Jaclynne Greene, Kent Taylor, Paul Burke.

6214 Pantomime Quiz. (Series; Game; CBS; NBC; DuMont; ABC; 1949–1959). Two teams, each composed of four members, compete. The host gives one member of one team a charade. The player has to perform the charade within two minutes. The amount of time accumulated before the charade is identified is calculated. All remaining players compete in the same manner. Teams who accumulate the least amount of overall time are the winners. Home viewers, who submit charades, receive merchandise prizes if the team fails to identify their charades. See also Stump the Stars, the series that evolved from Pantomime Quiz. The series ran on CBS from October 4, 1949 to August 20, 1951; NBC from January 2, 1952 to March 26, 1952; CBS from July 4, 1952 to August 28, 1953; DuMont from October 20, 1953 to April 13, 1954; CBS from July 9, 1954 to August 27, 1954; ABC from January 22, 1955 to March 6, 1955; CBS from July 8, 1955 to September 6, 1957; and on ABC from April 8, 1959 to September 21, 1959.

Host: Mike Stokey. Regulars: Dorothy Hart, Angela Lansbury, Rocky Graziano, Carol Haney, Hans Conried, Robert Clary, Jackie Coogan, Milt Kamen, Carol Burnett, Howard Morris, Denise Darcel, Stubby Kaye, Tom Poston, Vincent Price, Coleen Gray, Robert Stack, Sandra Spence, Dave Willock, Fred Clark, George O'Brien, George Macready, Frank DeVol, Beverly Tyler, Virginia Field. Announcer: Ken Niles, Art Fleming, Ed Reimers.

6215 Papa Cellini. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1952). The trials and tribulations of the Cellinis, an Italian-American family living in New York City. The series ran from September 28, 1952 to November 16, 1952.

Cast: Tito Virolo (Papa Cellini), Carlo DeAngelo (Papa Cellini), Ada Ruggeri (Mama Cellini), Carol Sinclair (Nita Cellini; their daughter), Aristide Sigismondi (Antonio Cellini; their son).

6216 Papa G.I. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/29/64). While performing in Korea, a U.S. Army entertainer (Sergeant Mike Parker), crosses the path of Kim Chi and Quang Duc, a homeless sister and brother who attach themselves to him. When Mike discovers they are orphans, he takes them under his wing and makes them part of his act. The unsold series was to relate Mike's efforts to care for his new found family. In the pilot episode, the kids attempt to find a bride for Mike when they fear his transfer to the States will break up their family.

Cast: Dan Dailey (Mike Parker), Cherylene Lee (Kim Chi), Douglas Moe (Quang Duc). Guest Cast: Noam Pitlik and Billy Halop (Soldiers), Judy Den and Napuna Wood (Prospective brides).

6217 Papa Romani. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 1/19/50). A hectic look at life in an Italian-American household as seen through the eyes of Papa Romani, his wife Mama (Josephine) and their children, Lucy and Mickey, who live at Number 8 Bleecker Street in New York City. In the pilot episode, it's a big day in the Romani household — they are getting their first telephone — despite the fact that Mama believes a phone is hard luck (especially when she gets her thumb caught in the rotary dial and it puts her out of commission from housework). Aired on Silver Theater. Mrs. Greenstreet is their neighbor.

Cast: Chico Marx (Papa Romani), Argentina Brunetti (Mama Romani), Alice Ann Kelley (Lucy Romani), Jeff Silver (Mickey Romani), Margaret Hamilton (Mrs. Greenstreet). Guest Cast: William Frawley (Daniel M. Pinto), Matt McHugh (Telephone man), Harry Lewis (Intern).

6218 Papa Said No. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/4/58). Suzanne Stacey is young, beautiful, marriage minded and in search of the ideal husband. The unsold series was to follow Suzanne's efforts to find that man of her dreams — and one that pleases her father, who seems to disapprove of all the boys Suzanne dates. In the pilot episode, broadcast on Schlitz Playhouse of Stars, Suzanne falls for a handsome young photographer (Calvin) and tries to convince her father that he is the one. Other Regulars: Suzanne's parents, John and Gabrielle.

Cast: Yvonne Craig (Suzanne Stacey), Patric Knowles (John Stacey), Jeanne Manet (Gabrielle Stacey). Guest Cast: Scott Brady (Calvin Penny), Marjorie Bennett (Mrs. Ostericher), Harry Jackson (Cop).

6219 The Paper Chase. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1978–1979). An unidentified, prestigious northeastern university is the setting for a look at the joys and frustrations of first-year law students. Especially featured is James Hart, an earnest Minnesota farm boy on a “paper chase” (a quest for a diploma that says he graduated from law school). The program also focuses on the relationship between James and Professor Charles Kingsfield, Jr., a brilliant contract law instructor who, feared for his classroom tyranny, either makes or breaks students. Based on the feature film of the same title. See also The Paper Chase: The Second Year, The Paper Chase: The Third Year and The Paper Chase: The Graduation.

Other regulars are students Elizabeth Logan,

Franklin Ford, Willis Bell, Thomas Anderson, Jonathan Brooks, Linda O'Connor and Gregarian; Ashley Brooks, Jonathan's wife; Laura Nottingham, Kingsfield's secretary; Ernie, the owner of Ernie's Tavern (where James works); Susu, Ernie's waitress (first episode); Carol, Ernie's waitress (series); Dean Rutherford, head of the university; Susan Fields, Kingsfield's daughter; Lisa Bell, Willis's sister.

Professor Kingsfield (addressing his class) opens the show: “The study of law is something new and unfamiliar to most of you — unlike any other schooling that you've ever known before. You teach yourselves the law but I train your minds. You come in here with a skull full of mush and if you survive, you leave thinking like a lawyer.”

Cast: John Houseman (Prof. Charles Kingsfield, Jr.), James Stephens (James T. Hart), Francine Tacker (Elizabeth Logan), Tom Fitzsimmons (Franklin Ford), James Keane (Willis Bell), Robert Ginty (Thomas Anderson), Jonathan Segal (Jonathan Brooks), Katherine Dunfee (Linda O'Connor), Stanley DeSantis (Gregarian), Dekka Beaudine (Ashley Brooks), Betty Harford (Laura Nottingham), Charles Hallahan (Ernie), Marilu Henner (Susu), Carole Goldman (Carol), Jack Manning (Dean Rutherford), Susan Howard (Susan Fields), Wendy Rastatter (Lisa Bell). Theme Vocal: “The First Years” by Seals and Crofts.

6220 The Paper Chase: The Graduation. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 1986). The final installment in The Paper Chase Series. It began on CBS in 1978 as The Paper Chase. It moved to cable in 1983 (after a successful rebroadcast career on PBS) as The Paper Chase: The Second Year. It then became The Paper Chase: The Third Year. The Paper Chase: The Graduation presents the final experiences of the original CBS students, James T. Hart, Franklin Ford and Willis Bell, as they graduate and begin their law careers. Other students are Rita Harriman, Laura, Rose Samuels, Tom Ford (Franklin's brother), Vivian, and Gerald Golden. Professor Charles Kingsfield, Jr. is the tough contract law instructor; Laura Nottingham is his loyal secretary and Martha Tyler is the professor friendly with Charles.

6221 The Paper Chase: The Second Year. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 1983–1984). A continuation of the CBS series The Paper Chase (see for information). Stories continue to follow events in the life of James Hart, now a second year law student (who attends Professor Charles Kingfield's contract law classes) and a researcher-writer for The Law Review, the school newspaper. Other students are Franklin Ford, Willis Bell, Connie Lehman (a first year law student and James's girlfriend); Gerald Golden, editor of The Law Review, Morrison, Vivian, Laura (first year law student), Rita Harriman and Zeiss. Laura Nottingham is Professor Kingsfield's secretary. The Paper Chase: The Second Year is the first dramatic series to make the transition from commercial to pay television.

See also The Paper Chase: The Third Year and The Paper Chase: The Graduation.

Cast: John Houseman (Prof. Charles Kingsfield, Jr.), James Stephens (James T. Hart), Tom Fitzsimmons (Franklin Ford), James Keane (Willis Bell), Jane Kaczmarek (Connie Lehman), Michael Tucci (Gerald Gordon), Betty Harford (Laura Nottingham), Michael Shannon (Morrison), Penny Johnson (Vivian), Andra Millian (Laura), Clare Kirkconnell (Rita Harriman), Wortham Krimmer (Zeiss).

6222 The Paper Chase: The Third Year. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 1985). A second series spin-off from the CBS series The Paper Chase (see also The Paper Chase: The Second Year and The Paper Chase: The Graduation). The series actually picks up from where "Second Year" left off and presents the third year experiences of James T. Hart, Franklin Ford and Willis Bell (from the original CBS series), law students at a prestigious northeastern university. Other students are Rita Harriman, Laura, Tom Ford and Rose Samuels (a woman who fulfills a lifelong dream by starting law school after her husband leaves her); Professor Charles Kingsfield, Jr., is the tough contract law instructor; Laura Nottingham is his loyal secretary; Martha Tyler is a professor. James has moved from a researcher-writer on The Law Review (the school newspaper) to its president.

6223 Paper Dolls. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1984). A behind the scenes look at the world of modeling as seen through the experiences of two beautiful teenage high fashion models (called "paper dolls"), Taryn Blake and Laurie Caswell. Dinah Caswell is Laurie's overprotective mother, and Julia Blake is Taryn's ambitious and scheming mother.

The beautiful Racine, a former fashion model herself, now runs the Racine Model Agency. She is in direct competition with Grant Harper, the devious owner of the Harper World Wide Modeling Agency. Also vying for a piece of the money to be made from "paper dolls" are Colette Ferrier, the owner of Ferrier Cosmetics; Mark Bailey, a fashion reporter for Newsbeat Magazine; and David Fenton, the owner of Tempus Sportswear.

In the television movie pilot, Paper Dolls (ABC, 5/4/83), Joan Collins was Racine; Darryl Hannah was Taryn; Alexandra Paul played Laurie; and Joan Hackett was Taryn's mother, Julia Blake.

Other regulars are Michael Caswell, Dinah's husband; Wesley Harper, Grant's son; Blair Fenton, David's wife; Sara Frank, Blair's friend; Sandy, Racine's assistant; John Waite, the rock singer; Grayson Carr, the fashion reviewer; Larry Pennell, the loan shark; Don, a model; and Sammy, the photographer.

Cast: Nicollette Sheridan (Taryn Blake), Terry Farrell (Laurie Caswell), Jennifer Warren (Dinah Caswell), Brenda Vaccaro (Julia Blake), Morgan Fairchild (Racine), Lloyd Bridges (Grant Harper), Lauren Hutton (Colette Ferrier), Roscoe Born (Mark Bailey), Richard Beymer (David Fenton), John Bennett Perry (Michael Caswell), Dack Rambo (Wesley Harper), Mimi Rogers (Blair Fenton), Anne Schedeen (Sara Frank), Jonathan Frakes (Sandy Parris), John Waite (Himself), Larry Linville (Grayson Carr), Edward Power (Larry Pennell), Christopher York (Don Bowren), Mark Schneider (Sammy).

6224 Paper Moon. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1974-1975). Adelaide ("Addie") Loggins is an 11-year-old girl who was raised by her mother, Essie Mae Loggins. Essie and Addie lived at 47 Bridge Corner in Ophelia, Kansas. Addie was born on November 19, 1922 and is unaware of who her father is (Essie says only that he deserted her when Addie was born). She suspects it is Moses ("Moze") Pray, a man "who met my mother in a barroom." In 1933 Essie Mae is killed in a car accident. Moses reads about Essie's death and decides to pay his last respects. At the funeral service, Addie sees Moses and immediately believes that he is her father—"I look like you," she tells him, but Moses insists, "I don't look like you. I'm not your father." Addie's nearest living relative is her Aunt Billie in St. Joseph. When Essie's friend learns that Moses is headed for Missouri, she asks him to take Addie to her aunt. Though reluctant, Moses agrees. Addie is also reluctant to live with an aunt who doesn't want her when she can be with her father.

Moses is a con artist; en-route, he pulls a con selling Bibles which involves Addie. The two work well as a team. Moses soon realizes that he can't get rid of Addie, for she is determined to stay with him. "I make all the decisions," he tells her. "You just have to look like a pretty little girl" (her part in scams). Stories follow their adventures as they travel throughout the Midwest during the Great Depression.

Moses is a salesman for the Dixie Bible Company and drives a 1931 Roadster. Addie keeps her "treasures" in an old cigar box and cares for their finances (she keeps tabs on the money they make and spend and has a ten dollar bill put aside “for emergency use” only. “If it wasn’t for me,” Addie says, “we’d be broke all the time.” Addie also calls herself Addie Pray. The series is based on the feature film of the same title (Moses was a salesman for the Kansas Bible Company here and Addie was nine years old).

Harold Arlen wrote the song, “Paper Moon,” which is used as the theme.

Cast: Jodie Foster (Addie Loggins), Christopher Connelly (Moses Pray).

6225 Paradise. (Series; Western; CBS; 1988–1991). The original title (1988–1990) for what would later become Guns of Paradise. See this title for information.

6226 Paradise Bay. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1965–1966). Paradise Bay is a small coastal community in California. Stories relate the impact of new world standards as experienced by the Morgan family: Jeff, a radio station manager, his wife, Mary, and their teenage daughter, Kitty.

Cast: Keith Andes (Jeff Morgan), Marion Ross (Mary Morgan), Heather North (Kitty Morgan), Dennis Cole (Duke Spaulding), Walter Brooke (Walter). Also: Barbara Boles, Pauline Clark, Debbie Cole, Stephen Mines, Charlotte Baxter.

6227 Paradise City. (Series; Reality; E!; 2007). Paradise City for seven young adults is Las Vegas, where each has come to fulfill a dream (and who also happen to hook up and become best friends). The dream-seekers who are followed by a camera crew are Jenner (a writer in search of start up money), Jack (a marketing executive), Molly (a local TV reporter), Rich (a band singer), Greta (a hopeful actress), April (a hopeful Playboy Bunny) and Willie (a male model).

Cast: Molly Sullivan, Destiny Davis, April Rawlings, Jack LaFleur, J.J. Jones, Greta Jewel.

6228 The Paradise Steamship Company. (Pilot; Human Interest; Syn.; 5/87). A proposed series of visits to various places around the world. In the pilot, a visit to America’s favorite tourist spots.

Hosts: Bob Chandler, Melody Rogers.

6229 The Parent Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1972). Three married couples compete in a game that compares their ideas about raising children with those of a child psychologist. The host asks a question relating to children and reveals four possible answers. Each couple chooses the answer they believe is correct. The correct answer is revealed and points are awarded accordingly (round one, five points per correct choice; round two, ten points; round three, fifteen points; round four, thirty points). The highest scoring couple wins a specially selected prize.

Host: Clark Race. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

6230 The Parent Trap. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 11/19, 11/26/89). A proposed series based on the 1961 theatrical film The Parent Trap and its 1986 (7/26) Disney Channel TV movie sequel, The Parent Trap II, about Sharon and Susan (Hayley Mills), twins separated at birth who find each other at a summer camp.

The girls are now grown. Susan, an architect, is married to a writer (Jeffrey Wyatt) and is the stepmother to his three beautiful teenage daughters, triplets Lisa, Jesse and Megan. Sharon is single and still best friends with Susan. Lisa, Jesse and Megan are as mischievous as Sharon and Susan when they were young and the unsold series was to relate events in their lives. In the pilot episode, broadcast as two 60-minute segments, the Wyatts, who live at 22508 Crestview Drive, leave California to find misadventure in Hawaii when Jeffrey inherits the Wyatt Hotel, a plantation-style establishment, from his late aunt, Sylvia.

Cast: Hayley Mills (Susan Wyatt/Sharon Evers), Barry Bostwick (Jeffrey Wyatt), Leanna Creel (Lisa Wyatt), Monica Creel (Jesse Wyatt), Joy Creel (Megan Wyatt). Guest Cast: John M. Jackson (Ray Devlin), Sasha Mitchell (Jack), Lightfield Lewis (Tim), Glenn Shadix (Chuck), Jayne Meadows (Charlotte).

6231 Parental Control. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2006). A daily series that is a twist on the normal dating shows (like The Dating Game) that have been broadcast over the years. Here the parents get to choose whom their son or daughter will date. Each of the teens that appear has a date that is unacceptable to their parents (anything from looks to a lack of ambition to personality). Each parent of a chosen subject (son or daughter) is presented with a group of boys or girls who meet the standards of what they feel are acceptable dates for their children. When each parent makes a selection, they are brought face to face with their child and present their choices. The child can select either one (the one chosen by the father or mother) or keep the date he or she currently has. Michael Canter produces the series.

Cast: Ed Begley, Jr. (Gil Buckman), Jayne Atkinson (Karen Buckman), Max Elliott Slade (Kevin Buckman), Zachary La Voy (Justin Buckman), Thora (Taylor Buckman), William Windom (Frank Buckman), Sheila MacRae (Marilyn Buckman), Maryedith Burrell (Helen Lamkin), Bess Meyer (Julie Lamkin), Susan Norman (Susan), Ken Ober (Nathan), Ivyann

6233 The Parent'Hood. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1997–1999). The Manhattan brownstone at 721 West 72nd Street in New York City is home to Robert Peterson, his wife, Geri and their children, Zaria, Nicholas and Ce Ce.

Robert and Geri met in high school, were married at City Hall (at the same time they were renewing their drivers' licenses) and first lived at 103rd and Amsterdam Avenue. Robert is a professor at New York University. His first job as a kid was at Elmo's Pet Shop. Geri is a lawyer and says "the closest I've ever been to a trial was watching Matlock (she sits behind a desk under a stack of papers). She does volunteer work for the Women's Legal Society. In some episodes she appears to be a law student while in others she has her own practice (Geri Peterson — Attorney-at-Law). When they have free time, Robert and Geri enjoy playing Scrabble.

Zaria, the eldest child, attends Hudson High School (as did her parents). She is a cheerleader and hosts the advice show, Keep It Real on the school radio station (WHBD). She won the Meritorious Student of the Year Award in her senior year (1999) and a college scholarship. Robert calls her "Zee."

Nicholas, who envisions himself as a great magician (Nicholas the Great), attends the William Sherman Grammar School. Ce Ce, the youngest, has a plush bear named Mr. Fuzzy. Their favorite dinner is hamburgers and French fries and when they watch a movie they have "pizza, popcorn and pork rinds."

Also living with the Petersons is T. K. Anderson, a troubled street teen Geri took under her wing. T.K., a D student, attends Hudson High, is on the school basketball team (the Hippos) and works at Pookie's Pizza Galaxy. Zaria is number one in her senior class (and valedictorian); T.K. is dead last at 432.

Cast: Robert Townsend (Robert Peterson), Suzanne Douglas (Geri Peterson), Reagan Gomez-Preston (Zaria Peterson), Curtis Williams (Nicholas Peterson), Ashli Amari Adams (Ce Ce Peterson), Tyrone Dorzell Burton (T.K. Anderson).

6234 Paris. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1979–1980). Woodrow Paris, called Woody, is a captain with the Metro Squad, a special detective unit of the Los Angeles Police Department (14th Precinct). He is also a college professor who teaches criminology on the side. Stories follow Woody as he attempts to practice what he teaches — good law enforcement and careful attention to the facts to bring criminals to justice. Woody is married to Barbara; Chief Jerome Bench is his superior.

Cast: James Earl Jones (Woodrow "Woody" Paris), Lee Chamberlain (Barbara Paris), Hank Garrett

(Chief Jerome Bench), Cecilia Hart (Sgt. Stacey Erickson), Jake Mitchell (Sgt. Charlie Bogart), Frank Ramirez (Sgt. Ernie Villas), Michael Warren (Sgt. Willie Miller).

6235 Paris Cavalcade of Fashion. (Series; Women; NBC; 1948–1949). Faye Emerson and Julie Gibson host and narrate films that feature the latest fashion styles from Paris. Industry related guests are also interviewed.

6236 Paris Precinct. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1955). Beaumont and Bolbec are inspectors with the Surete (Paris Police Department) in France. The inspectors are not men who sit behind a desk and direct operations; they get into the field and use their expertise to investigate cases and track down criminals. Stories follow Beaumont and Bolbec as they go to the crime scenes where they are needed — no matter how close to home or how far it may take them. The series is also known as World Crime Hunt.

Cast: Claude Dauphin (Inspector Bolbec), Louis Jourdan (Inspector Beaumont).

6237 Paris 7000. (Series; Mystery; ABC; 1970). Jack Brennan is an American troubleshooter based in Paris, France. He is handsome, two fisted and has an eye for the ladies. His job is to help American tourists in need of help — whether it be a legal dispute or a theft of personal property. Robert Stevens assists Jack and Jules Maurois is the French Surete police chief Jack always seems to involve in his cases (which, by coincidence, are linked to crimes Jules is investigating). Paris 7000 is the telephone number of the U.S. Consulate.

Cast: George Hamilton (Jack Brennan), Jacques Aubuchon (Jules Maurios), Gene Raymond (Robert Stevens). Theme Music: "Paris 7000" by Michel Colombier.

6238 Park Place. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1981). David Ross is the senior attorney at the Legal Assistance Bureau, a free legal-aid clinic on Park Place in New York City. He is assisted by several over-eager young attorneys (Jo, Jeff, Howie, Ernie, Mac and Brad). Stories relate their comical efforts to defend clients. Other Regulars: Frances, David's secretary.

Cast: Harold Gould (David Ross), Mary Elaine Monti (Joel "Jo" Keene), David Clennon (Jeff O'Neal), Don Calfa (Howard "Howie" Beech), Cal Gibson (Ernie Rice), Lionel Smith (Aaron "Mac" MacRae), James Widdoes (Brad Lincoln), Alice Drummond (Frances Heine).

6239 The Parker Family. (Experimental; Comedy; NBC; 5/9/41). A television adaptation of the radio series of the same title about incidents in the lives of the Parkers, a not-so-typical American family.

Cast: Taylor Holmes (Mark Parker), Violet Henning (Mrs. Parker), Leon Janney (Richard Parker; their son), Mitzi Gould (Nancy Parker; their daughter), Helen Claire (Mrs. Jennings), William Lynn (Dr. Dennison).

6240 Parker Kane. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1990). A proposed series about Parker Kane, a former cop (with the Long Beach, California Police Department) turned private detective.

Cast: Jeff Fahey (Parker Kane), Drew Snyder (Lieutenant Dunbar Fisk), Richard Zobel (Detective Jack Hunter), Zakes Mokae (Kid Lightning), Marisa Tomei (April), Chino Williams (Fats).

6241 Parker Lewis Can't Lose. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1990–1992). Life at Santo Domingo High School in California as seen through the eyes of three “best buds,” Parker Lewis, Mikey Randall and Jerry Steiner.

Parker Lloyd Lewis is an enterprising student who simply can't lose — no matter what happens to him, he always comes out on top. He is the “cool” kid and has an ingenious plan for every situation; he resists authority and lives by his own rules. He records people on both audio- and videotape for “blackmail” purposes. On the school radio station, WFLM (89.8 FM), “The Voice of Santo Domingo High,” Parker hosts the call-in show, Dr. Retro, with Jerry as the host of The Freshman Show and Mikey as the Ice-man, the host of a rock and roll show.

Parker's parents, Judy and Martin Lewis, own Mondo Video, a video rental store. Asking them for advice, Parker says “is like looking for gasoline with a match — you're lucky to get out alive.”

Michael Patrick (“Mikey”) Randall, a sophomore, and Gerald (“Jerry”) Steiner, a freshman, have been Parker's friends since childhood. Mikey held a job in the mall at Dog on a Stick as a counter boy. Jerry calls Parker and Mikey “Sirs” and Mr. Lewis and Mr. Randall. He collects “Star Trek” figurines and possesses “The Musso Excuse File” (a listing of excuses Parker uses to get out of jams).

Grace Musso, called Ms. Musso, is the stern, authoritarian principal who is out to get Parker. All Grace asks for “is a cup of coffee and a little peace and quiet in the morning.” Parker calls Grace “more than a principal — a psychopath with tenure.” Grace is feared by everyone and demands respect.

Shelly Ann Lewis is Parker's 13-year-old sister. She is a freshman and following in the footsteps of her idol, Grace Musso (Shelly lives for the day when she can get the goods on Parker). Parker calls Shelly “Santo Domingo's hell cat” and is sure she is adopted (his nickname for her is “Shelly Belly”).

Shelly is Grace's “pretty two-faced sugar plum freshman obedience trainee.” Shelly is also a member of the snobbish Vogues, an all-girl club that is the terror of the school. (Called the “Glamour Girls of the Campus,” they are selective in their associates and their signal to each other is air kisses. The rich and spoiled Melinda Harris is the chapter president.)

He believes that nine and a half years is almost a century and has been a junior at Santo Domingo for seven years. Lawrence (“Larry”) Francis Kubiak is 20 years old, big (270 pounds, six feet seven inches tall), mean and “the most dangerous force ever to squeeze into a high school football uniform.” Larry lives to eat and is very protective of his lunch (which he carries in a large paper bag with “Larry's Lunch” printed on it; Larry can't spell well).

Frank Lemmer is Grace's special guidance counselor (she summons him with a silent dog whistle). Frank has a pet piranha named Kathy and a subscription to Soldier of Fortune magazine, and when he attends the Soldier of Fortune Sleep Away Camp, he is voted “Most Likely to Be Killed by His Tentmates.”

Relatives: Wynn Irwin (Parker's uncle, Bob), Mina Kolb (Parker's aunt, Celia), Patrick J. O'Brien (Larry's father), Melanie MacQueen (Larry's mother), Zachary Bostrom (Larry's brother, Bobby Kubiak), Barbara Billingsley (Grace's mother), Andrea Elson (Grace's niece, Denise Musso), Jerry Mathers (Grace's brother, Theodore Musso), Sherry Rooney (Mikey's mother). Flashbacks: Luke Edwards (Jerry as a kid). Theme: “Parker Lewis Can't Lose,” by Dennis McCarthy.

Cast: Corin Nemec (Parker Lewis), Maia Brewton (Shelly Lewis), Anne Bloom (Judy Lewis), Mary Ellen Trainor (Judy Lewis; later), Timothy Stack (Martin Lewis), William Jayne (Mikey Randall), Troy Slaten (Jerry Steiner), Melanie Chartoff (Grace Musso), Abraham Benrubi (Larry Kubiak), Taj Johnson (Frank Lemmer), Brooke Theiss (Melinda Harris).

6242 The Parkers. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1999–2004). A spin-off from Mo'isha. Nikki and Kim Parker are not only mother and daughter but also best friends. They dress alike and think alike. Nikki is 36 years old; Kim is 18. When Nikki became pregnant in high school at 16 she dropped out of high school and never had the opportunity to return. She and Mel Parker married but divorced soon after (both were too young to make a marriage work). Now, hoping to get the education she was denied, Nikki enrolls in Crestridge High School and completes the courses needed to graduate. She then enrolls in Santa Monica Junior College — the same university that Kim is attending. Stories relate the experiences of a mother and daughter as they attend college together. Nikki and Kim took jobs as phone psychics for the Karma Connection; Nikki sells Lady Egyptian Cosmetics.

Other regulars are Stanley Oglevee, the professor on whom Nikki has a relentless crush (he has a dog named Bruno); Stevie, Chandra, T and Andell, are Kim's friends (Kim, Stevie and Chandra pledged Triple A — the Alpha Alpha Alpha Sorority).

Cast: Mo'Nique (Nicole Parker), Countess Vaughn (Kimberly “Kim” Parker), Jenna von Oy (Stevie Van Lowe), Dorien Wilson (Prof. Stanley Oglevee), Thomas Mikal Ford (Mel Parker), Ken L. (T), Lark Voorhies (Chandra Carrington), Yvette Wilson (Andell Wilkerson).

6243 Parole. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1958). An unusual (and not widely seen) syndicated program wherein actual prisoners (who are seen only from the back) face their parole board officers for a series of discussions that attempt to give the viewer a glimpse into the life of such men (including the circumstances that led them into a life of crime).

Cast: James Naughton (Andy Driscoll), Lori Cardille (Suzanne Driscoll), Barbara Meek (Mrs. Sawyer). Guest Cast: Andy Soper (Jimmy McCusick), Ellen Barkin (Donna), Ted Ross (Barney), Brent Jennings (Mario), Brett Smith (Daniel), J.J. Wright (Desmond), Charles Moore (McLeod), Robert Dean (Cory). Theme Vocal: “I Shall Be Released” by Sting.

6245 Parole Chief. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 7/31/56). A proposed series about Patrick “Pat” Duggan, a parole chief who strives to rehabilitate young parolees just out of prison. In the pilot episode, broadcast as “The Way Back” on Sneak Preview (Parole Chief is the original title), Duggan attempts to help a young parolee who shows signs of backsliding and winding up back in jail.

Cast: Pat O’Brien (Pat Duggan). Guest Cast: Robert Arthur (Young parolee), Ellen Corby, Irene Hervey, Darryl Hickman.

6246 The Partners. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1971–1972). During the Korean War a bumbling private named Lennie Crooke and a level-headed private named George Robinson became friends. A situation that would complicate their lives in later years — Lennie’s knack for fouling everything up — began on the battlefields of Korea. While it is not made clear exactly what happened after the war, at some point they joined the Los Angeles Police Department.

When the series begins, Lennie and George are detectives with the 33rd Precinct. Lennie lives at 21 Ridge Canyon Road; George resides at 1103 West 4th Street, Apartment 302. Their car code is 8312. “They make a lot of mistakes” says their captain, Aaron William Andrews. “But they’ve been together a long time, and they always get the job done.”

What Andrews, who has been captain of the 33rd Precinct for ten years, doesn’t know is that it is George who saves the day by covering for Lennie.

Despite the fact that Lennie is plagued by misfortune and doesn’t always follow standard police procedure (he forgets), his foul ups always seem to work for them (Lennie has a tendency to lose his gun, frisk furniture for concealed weapons, and arrest people without reading them their rights). Sergeant Nelson Higgenbottom assists the captain; Freddie Butler is the man who confesses to every crime. Lalo Schiffrin composed the theme.

6247 Partners. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/27/93). Davidson, Avery and Matheson is a medical practice owned by Dr. Harlan Davidson, an aging physician. He is about to retire and sell his practice to three young doctors (Andi, Eric and Ben). Just prior to the sale, Harlan has second thoughts, feeling the new generation doesn’t know how to become part of the community like he has; he also feels that once he retires he will have nothing to do (he has been a widower for five years). Instead of retiring, Harlan sells his practice but retains his position as the senior partner. The doctors work in association with St. Anne’s Hospital and the unsold series was to relate their efforts to save lives.

6248 Partners. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1995–1996). Alicia, Owen and Bob are three best friends who share each other’s joys and sorrows. Alicia is a lawyer with the firm of White, Corwin and Saxonhouse in San Francisco. When she became a full partner (two months after the series started) she called the firm “White, Corwin, Saxonhouse and the One with the Breasts.”

Owen and Bob are architects with the firm of Levitt and Associates. Owen is Alicia’s fiancé; Bob worked at Candy World before his present job. Their favorite restaurant-bar hangout is Emilio’s. Heather, the law office receptionist, was born in Alaska where she had two dogs named Scamp and Pixie. Stories relate events in the lives of the three friends.

Cast: Maria Ptillo (Alicia), Tate Donovan (Owen), Jon Cryer (Bob), Catherine Lloyd Burns (Heather).

6249 Partners in Crime. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/24/73). A reworking of the pilot The Judge and Jake Wyler wherein a judge turned private detective (Meredith Leland) and an ex-con gone straight (Sam Hatch) team to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Meredith and Sam attempt to recover $750,000 in stolen bank money. Other Regulars:

Judge Charles Leland, Meredith's father; and police Lieutenant Fred Hartnett.

6250 Partners in Crime. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1984). Carole Stanwyck and Sydney Kovack are beautiful, amateur private investigators who run their late husband's company, the Caulfield Detective Agency in San Francisco. The company is also called the Raymond Dashill Caulfield Detective Agency. Both women married Raymond Caulfield and both women divorced him.

Carole, Ray's first wife (1972–1975) was owed $62,000 in back alimony. Sydney, Ray's second wife (1976–1978) was owed $56,000 in back alimony. When Ray is killed during a case assignment, Carole and Sydney meet for the first time at the funeral. They inherit his company, a mutual mother-in-law (Jeanine), a housekeeper (Harvey) and a heavily mortgaged mansion. They became "Partners in Crime" after solving Ray's murder and decide to remain a team.

Carole, a former New York debutante and teabag company heiress, lost her money through bad investments. She is brunette, measures 38–25–37 and works as a freelance photographer. Carole is always elegantly attired. She sometimes worries that she wears the wrong outfits for undercover assignments. Carole despises wearing an electronic bug on an assignment, which she places in her bra; sometimes in her pants pocket.

Sydney is a stunning, street-wise blonde and measures 36–24–36. She grew up in the Mission District of San Francisco where she learned all the tricks of the trade — from lock picking to picking pockets. As a kid, she ran numbers for her father and had a mean left hook; she sent three school bullies to the dentist. She is now an aspiring but struggling musician — bass fiddle — who hopes to one day play with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. Sydney has been studying the bass for 20 years and has played professionally for 15. Sydney can hot wire a car, carries lock picks with her at all times and only plays tennis because she feels she looks fabulous in a tennis outfit.

"We're not exactly Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson," says Carole, "but we get the job done." Sydney adds, "We call the cops a lot." To ease the minds of troubled clients, Carole tells them "We already have a plan, we're professionals, we can handle it," to which Sydney gives a puzzled look, knowing it's Carole's way of stalling for time.

Jeanine Caulfield, Carole and Sydney's mutual mother-in-law, is the unpublished author of 57 books. She owns the Partners in Crime Book Store, later called Jeanine's Book Store, and lives with Carole and Sydney at the mansion. She fancies herself as an amateur sleuth, but does not involve herself with the girls or their cases.

Harvey Shain cares for the mansion. His claim to fame is that he met Rock Hudson on Fisherman's Wharf. Ken Heller and Nathan Sassoover composed the theme "Partner's in Crime."

Carole (Lynda Carter) opens the show: "This tall brunette (Carole), born with a silver spoon in her mouth, was private eye Raymond Caulfield's first wife. This street-wise blonde (Sydney) and I have two things in common — we were both married to the same man and we both divorced him. We met for the first time at his funeral. Are you ready for this? He left us his mansion, mortgaged to the hilt, and the Caulfield Detective Agency. And how do we manage? We call the cops a lot."

Cast: Lynda Carter (Carole Stanwyck), Loni Anderson (Sydney Kovack), Eileen Heckart (Jeannie Caulfield), Walter Olkewicz (Harvey Shain), Cameron Mitchell (Duke Kovak; Sydney's father).

6251 Partners in Crime. (Series; Mystery; Syn.; 1985). When Tuppence and Tommy Beresford, a wealthy British couple discover that a detective agency is for sale, they purchase it with the hope of finding the same type of adventure they find as avid readers of detective novels. Stories, spiced with light humor, are set in London and relate their light-hearted exploits as the owner-operators of Blunt's International Detective Agency. The series is based on characters created by Agatha Christie.

Cast: Francesca Annis (Tuppence Beresford), James Warwick (Tommy Beresford), Arthur Cox (Police Inspector Marriott).

6252 Partners in Life. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/31/90). While tearing down the Max King Film Studios in California, workers uncovered 144 1930s and '40s theatrical comedy shorts starring the comedy team of Morton and Hayes — films that were thought lost forever. Each week one of these lost films was to be seen (hosted by Max King III). In the pilot episode, a film spoofing the Bob Hope-Bing Crosby "Road to" pictures of the 1940s is seen as Morton and Hayes find misadventure in the Far East. See also Morton and Hayes, the series that evolved from this pilot.

Cast: Rob Reiner (Max King III), Kevin Pollak (Chick Morton), Joe Guzaldo (Eddie Hayes). Guest Cast: Jennifer Jason Leigh (Blossom), Wendie Jo Sperber (Irene), David L. Lander (Wimpy guy), Christopher Guest (El Supremo), James Hong (M.C.), Marji Martin (Mrs. Fisher), David Trim (Mr. Fisher).

6253 The Partridge Family. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1970–1974). A 1957 Chevrolet school bus, psychedelically painted is the on-the-road home to a group of singers known as the Partridge Family, as they tour the country.

Shirley Partridge is the mother, and with her children, Keith, Laurie, Danny, Chris and Tracy, they form the Partridge Family, “America’s newest singing sensation.”

When not traveling, the family lives at 698 Sycamore Road in San Pueblo, California (address also given as the 700 block on Vassario Road). Shirley, maiden name Renfrew, is a widow. She worked at the Bank of San Pueblo before joining the family as a singer. It was ten-year-old Danny who borrowed recording equipment from his school, made a tape of them singing and convinced agent Reuben Kincaid to take a chance on them. They first performed the song “Together” at Caesar’s Palace in Las Vegas (in a show headlined by Johnny Cash). This led to a recording contract and success. The family also has a dog named Simone.

“Most mothers have to worry about drugs and violence with their sons, but all your ding-a-ling son does is think about girls” says Laurie about her brother Keith.

Keith is the eldest child and writes the songs for his family (he also plays guitar). He was also the first family member to experience the problems of popularity when the girls (“who never liked me before”) started chasing after him. Keith first attended San Pueblo High School and then San Pueblo Junior College. Laurie believes Keith only dates dumb girls because “they believe all the corny pickup lines he uses.” Keith reads Playpen magazine (“for the short stories”).

Laurie attends San Pueblo High School and reads Liberal Outlook magazine. While very pretty, Laurie never faced the problems of popularity with boys. She is a teenage women’s libber, plays the keyboard, and sometimes objects to Keith’s lyrics (which she feels are degrading to women; Keith writes love songs).

Danny is the schemer of the family and always out to make a dollar (“He usually comes up with six to eight schemes a week,” says Reuben, who believes “he is a 40-year-old midget in a kid outfit”). Danny plays bass guitar and keeps his money in a piggy bank that he hides in an old Wild West–style safe in his room. Danny has one share of stock in A.T.&T. preferred (his most cherished possession) and a stamp collection. Danny, a bit awkward around girls, became the object of 11-year-old Julie Lawrence as she tried to get a date with him. His hangouts are the Sweet Shoppe and the Taco Stand.

Tracy, who plays tambourine, and Chris, who plays drums, are the youngest members of the family.

Reuben always manages to drop by when Shirley bakes an apple pie (he gives Tracy a dime to call him). In third-season episodes, Shirley (a widow) used her maiden name to enroll in college to complete her courses in psychology. When someone calls on the family at home, Shirley worries about how the house looks while Keith worries about how his hair looks.

Other Roles: Amanda and Walter Renfrew, Shirley’s parents; Doris Stevens, Shirley’s neighbor (Ricky and Donna are her children); Richard Lawrence, Julie’s father; Cathy Lawrence, Julie’s sister; Gloria Hickey, Danny’s friend; Bonnie Kleinschmitt (Reuben’s girlfriend); Cindy, Keith’s friend; Punky Lazaar, Danny’s friend; Snake, the motorcycle hood; Alan Kincaid, Reuben’s nephew.

In real life, the Partridge Family had a number of songs, but only one, “I Think I Love You,” ever made it to the top ten (in 1970; 16 weeks on the Billboard charts). “When We’re Singing” by Wes Farrell and Diane Hilderbrand was the first-season theme; “Come on Get Happy” by Wes Farrell and Danny Janssen was used as the theme for the remainder of the series. Cast: Shirley Jones (Shirley Partridge), David Cassidy (Keith Partridge), Susan Dey (Laurie Partridge), Danny Bonaduce (Danny Partridge), Suzanne Crough (Tracy Partridge), Jeremy Gelbwaks (Chris Partridge), Brian Forster (Chris Partridge; later), Dave Madden (Reuben Kincaid), Rosemary De Camp (Amanda Renfrew), Ray Bolger (Walter Renfrew), Jackie Coogan (Walter Renfrew; later), Nita Talbot (Doris Stevens), Ricky Segal (Ricky Stevens), Ronne Troup (Donna Stevens), Bert Convy (Richard Lawrence), Carol Anne Pearson (Cathy Lawrence), Jodie Foster (Julie Lawrence), Patti Cohoon (Gloria Hickey), Elaine Giftos (Bonnie Kleinschmitt), Gary Dubin (Punky Lazaar), Gerald Hiken (Dr. Bernie Applebaum), Claire Wilcox (Cindy), Rob Reiner (Snake), Stuart Margolin (Snake; later), Alan Bursky (Alan Kincaid). Various Roles: Vic Tayback, Yvonne Wilder, Gordon Jump, Mitzi Hoag, Bruce Kimmel.

6254 Partridge Family: 2200 A.D. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1974–1975). A spin-off from The Partridge Family that is set in the future (in the year 2200 A.D.) and follows the family singing group as they tour the various planets. Shirley is the mother, a widow; Keith, Laurie, Danny, Tracy and Chris are her children; Reuben Kincaid is their manager; and Marion and Beannie are Keith’s friends.

6255 Party at the Palms. (Series; Reality; E!; 2005). Gorgeous Playboy magazine centerfold Jenny

McCarthy offers viewers a behind-the-scenes look at “the wildest hot spot” in Las Vegas — the Palms Casino Hotel. The glitzy program follows Jenny as she meets celebrities, visits the various “hot spots” (like the poolside Skin Lounge and the rooftop Ghost Bar) and acquaints viewers with the ins and outs of partying at the casino.

Hostess: Jenny McCarthy.

6256 Party Girl. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1996). Mary is a young woman who is cared for by her godmother, Judy (her parents have passed away). Mary works with Judy at the New York Public Library. At night Mary is a party girl — the toast of the Manhattan clubs and parties. Judy feels Mary is a fun-loving girl who lacks responsibility. Mary, although vivacious and full of enthusiasm, feels she is responsible (she did take a job) and sets out to prove it. Stories follow Mary as she tries to settle into a job she dislikes and curtail her partying ways (which always get her into trouble — but she always comes out a winner). Wanda is Mary’s co-worker; Oneal is her gay friend. The series aired from September 9, 1996 to September 30, 1996.

Cast: Christine Taylor (Mary), Swoosie Kurtz (Judy Burkhard), Merrin Dungey (Wanda), Matt Bollenghi (Oneal).

6257 Party Line. (Series; Game; NBC; 1947). An early quiz program wherein the host telephones a viewer (via post card selection) and asks him a question. If the viewer can answer the question correctly he wins a cash prize. The summer series ran from June 8, 1947 to August 31, 1947.

Host: Bert Parks.

6258 The Party Machine with Nia Peeples. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1991). Singer-Actress Nia Peeples hosts a program wherein she (and selected party guests) dance and mingle with party-goers in a club atmosphere. Arsenio Hall is the producer.

Host: Nia Peeples. Co-Host: Sheena Easton. Music: Chris Cavorzzi.

6259 Party of Five. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1994–2000). The house at 3324 Broadway in San Francisco is home to the Salinger family: parents Nicholas and Diana and their children, Charlie, Julia, Bailey, Claudia and infant Owen.

Nicholas and Diana own Salinger’s, a family restaurant on Filbert Street (their slogan is “Salinger’s ‘Cause You Gotta Eat”). One night in March of 1994 (six months before the series begins), tragedy strikes the family: a drunken driver kills Nicholas and Diana and the children are left to fend for themselves. Charlie, the oldest, takes on the responsibility of caring for his siblings and uses, in part, the $15,000 he receives every four months as part of his parent’s estate.

The family has an English bulldog named Thurber.

On rainy nights the children play the board game “Chutes and Ladders.” Diana attended Stanford University and majored in visual arts. Diana’s father, Jacob “Jake” Gordon abandoned her 30 years ago. When he returned to San Francisco to look up Diana, he learned of her death. Fearing to become responsible for his grandchildren, he offered to help them financially.

Stories follow events in the lives of the Salinger children as they struggle to remain a family despite the hard times that face them.

Charlie is a womanizer and irresponsible. He is 24 years old. Julia is 15 years old and a sophomore at Grant High School. She is a straight “A” student and hopes to become a journalist. Bailey is 16 years old and a junior at Grant High School. He is more responsible than Charlie and helps care for his younger siblings. Eleven-year-old Claudia is in the fifth grade. She is very sweet but also a very private person. She hopes to become a concert violinist (like her mother). She feels it is her duty to keep the family together and solve the problems that arise. See also The Time of Your Life, the spin-off series.

Cast: Matthew Fox (Charlie Salinger), Neve Campbell (Julia Salinger), Scott Wolf (Bailey Salinger), Lacey Chabert (Claudia Salinger), Paula Devicq (Kirsten Bennett), Tom Mason (Joe Mangus), Tamara Taylor (Grace Wilcox), Michael Goorgian (Justin Thompson), Alexondra Lee (Callie Martel), Marla Sokoloff (Jody), Jennifer Love Hewitt (Sarah Reeves), Carroll O’Connor (Jacob Gordon), Scott Grimes (Will McCorkle), Brandon and Taylor Porter (Owen Salinger), Steven and Andrew Cavarano (Owen Salinger).

6260 Party Time at Club Roma. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1951). Audience participation, stunt contests, quizzes and performances by up and coming talent. The series, filmed in San Francisco, is sponsored by Roma Wines and ran from October 14, 1950 to January 6, 1951.

Host: Ben Alexander.

6261 Pass the Buck. (Series; Game; NBC; 1978). Four players compete. A category topic is stated (for example, “A type of pie”). Each of the players must name an item that relates to the subject. Prize money starts at $100 and increases $25 each time an acceptable answer is given. When a player gives an incorrect response, he is defeated and a new topic is played. The game continues in this manner until one player remains; that player becomes the champion and wins whatever money has been accumulated in the bank.

Host: Bill Cullen. Announcer: Bob Stewart.

6262 The Passing Parade. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1961). A series of touching dramas, reedited from theatrical shorts, that recreate incidents in the lives of people who have contributed to the growth of the country.

Narrator: John Nesbitt.

6263 Passion. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/17/91). Amanda Brooks is an author who wrote the books Naughty Nurses, Naughty Nurses Go to Hawaii and Naughty Nurses Go to Jail for Low Rent Publishing. She wrote for Vanity Fair and worked as an editor for two magazines (Urban Woman and City Style).

Jack Keenan is a sports magazine mogul whose only non-sports publication, Ladies' Day magazine, has hit rock bottom. In an attempt to save the magazine, Jack hires Amanda and gives her free reign to do what it takes to boost circulation. Amanda begins by changing the name of the magazine to Passion and the unsold series was to relate Amanda's attempts to save the magazine.

Other Regulars: Maryedith, the assistant editor (she has a passion for cats and has one named Mr. Fluffernutter); Veronica, the celebrity interviewer; and Kenneth, Jack's assistant.

Cast: Jane Seymour (Amanda Brooks), John Terry (Jack Keenan), Nancy Lenehan (Maryedith Sweetzer), Cristine Rose (Veronica Andrews), Josh Mostel (Kenneth). Guest Cast: Janeane Garofalo (Jenny Colomby), Nicole Galiardo (Lisa).

6264 Passion Cove. (Series; Anthology; Cinemax; 2001–2005). Passion Cove is an exotic and secluded seaside resort that caters to gorgeous women and handsome men. While many (or all) come for only one thing (sex) how they achieved what they wanted (by unexpected reasons or unexpected circumstances) is the focal point of the soft-core pornography series. Casts differ with each episode. John Quinn is the producer.

6265 Passions. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1999–2007). The lives, loves and intrigues (including supernatural occurrences) of several families living in Harmony, a small ocean side town in Maine. After the NBC run, the series moved to Direct TV.

6266 Passport to Danger. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954). Steve McQuinn is a diplomatic courier for the United States government. He is also the unwitting decoy of the Hungarian Secret Police. Stories, set in the trouble spots of the world, follow Steve as he attempts to carry out assignments for the government.

Cast: Cesar Romero (Steve McQuinn).

6267 Password. (Series; Game; CBS; 1961–1967). Two teams, each composed of a celebrity captain and a non-celebrity contestant, compete. A player receives a password (e.g., pencil) and through one word clues must convey its meaning to his partner. Word values begin at ten points and diminish by one point for each unsuccessful clue. The highest scoring team is the winner and the contestant receives a cash prize.

Host: Allen Ludden. Announcer: John Harlan, John Clark.

6268 Password. (Series; Game; ABC; 1971–1975). A revised version of the prior title, which see for format. See also Password Plus.

Host: Allen Ludden. Announcer: John Harlan.

6269 Password Plus. (Series; Game; NBC; 1979–1982). Two teams, each composed of one celebrity captain and one non-celebrity contestant, compete. One player on each team receives a password (for example, “towel”). In rotation, players relate one-word clues to their partners in an attempt to get them to guess the password. When the password is guessed, it is placed on a board and becomes one of four clues to the identity of a person, place or object. The player identifying the password is now permitted to unravel the mystery. Successful guesses award the player $100; incorrect answers continue the game until the mystery is identified or until all four clues are visible. The first contestant to win a two-out-of-three match is the winner.

Host: Allen Ludden, Bill Cullen, Tom Kennedy. Announcer: Gene Wood, Bob Milton, Rich Jeffries.

6270 Past Imperfect. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1989). An unrealized series that used a video scrapbook to recount events in the life of a 30-year-old man (Ted) whose reminisces about imperfect occurrences of his past were seen in flashbacks by the home audience.

Cast: Howie Mandel (Ted), Talia Balsam (Jill), Sharon Spelman (Ruth), John Astin (Sam), Doug Ballard (Doug), Dennis Drake (Brad).

6271 Pat Boone in Hollywood. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1969). A program of music, songs and celebrity interviews with singer Pat Boone as the host. Jeff Harris and Bernie Kukoff are the producers.

Host: Pat Boone. Announcer: Jay Stewart. Orchestra: Paul Smith.

6272 The Pat Boone Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1957–1959). Music and songs with singer Pat Boone as the host. Also titled, when under the sponsorship of Chevrolet, The Pat Boone Chevy Show. The series ran from October 3, 1957 to June 25, 1959.

6284 Pattie Poole and Family. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 1/18/88). A proposed spin-off from The Hogan Family about Pattie Poole, a slightly wacky housewife, her husband, Peter, and her stern mother-in-law, Mother Poole. The pilot episode introduces Pattie's never-before seen husband, Peter, and establishes the unsold series storyline as Pattie, hubby Peter and Mother Poole plague Sandy Hogan and her family with their non-stop meddling.

Cast: Edie McClurg (Pattie Poole), Willard Scott (Peter Poole), Kathleen Freeman (Mother Poole). Guest Cast: Sandy Duncan (Sandy Hogan), Josh Taylor (Michael Hogan), Jason Bateman (David Hogan).

6285 The Patty Duke Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1963–1966). The house at 8 Remsen Drive in Brooklyn Heights, New York, is home to the Lane family: Martin, the managing editor of the New York Chronicle, his wife, Natalie, their children Patty and Ross, and their glamorous European cousin, Cathy (Patty's exact look-alike). The family dog is named Tiger.

Patty, like Cathy, is 16 years old and very pretty. They attend Brooklyn Heights High School and are sophomores when the series begins. Patty is friendly and giving of herself to help others. She was the editor of the school newspaper, The Bugle and even wrote a book I Was a Teenage Teenager ("love, war, poverty, death and cooking recipes"). Patty also worked after school (as Pittsburgh Patty), a waitress at a coffee house called the Pink Percolator. Her boyfriend, Richard Harrison, believes Patty can be a bit flaky at times, but he understands her and sticks by her side (always becoming involved in her crazy misadventures).

Cathy (full name Catherine Margaret Rollin Lane) lived previously in Glasgow, Scotland. Her father is Kenneth Lane (Martin's look-alike brother), a foreign correspondent for the Chronicle. Kenneth's assignments constantly uprooted Cathy (Kenneth is a widower). To enable Cathy to get her high school education, Kenneth arranged with Martin to let Cathy live with him in Brooklyn. Cathy attended a private school (Mrs. Tuttle's of Mountain Briar) before coming to America. Her father calls her "Kit Kat" and she has a built-in lie detector — she gets the hiccups when she attempts to lie. Cathy is not as outgoing as Patty and much more involved with studies and excellent grades (she is an "A" student while Patty maintains a "C" average). Cathy, being more serious minded, does not have a steady boyfriend but finds occasional dates from the more (but not many) studious students at school. The after school hangout is the Shake Shop (later called Leslie's Ice Cream Parlor).

Patty Duke also played Betsy Lane, Patty's look-alike cousin from Atlanta, a Southern belle Patty called a "Confederate Cleopatra (for trying to steal Richard). Betty was, in reality, a lonely girl whose parents devoted little time to her (dedicated to work and shipping Betsy off to boarding schools).

Martin, a reporter for the Chronicle who worked his way up to managing editor, has been married to Natalie for twenty years when the series begins (it was mentioned that she was 17 years old when they married). Ross attends P.S. 8 grammar school and enjoys building model airplanes. He often makes extra money (to supplement his 50 cent a week allowance) by helping either Patty or Cathy when they are at odds and one needs to know what the other is doing.

Other Regulars: Sue Ellen Turner (Patty's rival for Richard), Gloria (Patty's rival for Richard in last season episodes), Ted Brownley (Cathy's occasional boyfriend), J.R. Castle (Martin's boss), Mr. Brewster (the school principal), T.J. Blodgett (the publisher of the Chronicle), Nikki Lee Blake (Ross's girlfriend), Sammy (the Shake Shop owner), Jonathan Harrison (Richard's father), Mrs. MacDonald (the Lane's housekeeper), Louie (the Shake Shop waiter), Monica Robinson, Alice, Jeff and Rosalind (Patty's friends). Rita McLaughlin plays Cathy when Patty Duke is playing Patty and Patty when Patty Duke is playing Cathy.

The television movie The Patty Duke Show — Still Rockin' in Brooklyn Heights aired on CBS on April 27, 1999 and presented an update on the show's characters. Patty is now the principal of Brooklyn Heights High School but faces a great dilemma: Sue Ellen (her rival on the original series) is now very rich and wants to demolish the school to make way for a shopping mall (Cindy Williams plays Sue Ellen in the movie). Patty and Richard did marry but divorced after 27 years of marriage. Cathy had also married but was now a widow and living in Scotland. Ross was now a musician and Martin and Natalie had retired and moved to Florida.

Cast: Patty Duke (Patty Lane), Patty Duke (Cathy Lane), William Schallert (Martin Lane), Jean Byron (Natalie Lane), Paul O'Keefe (Ross Lane), Eddie Applegate (Richard Harrison), Kitty Sullivan (Sue Ellen Turner), Skip Hinnant (Ted Brownley), Kelly Wood (Gloria), Susan Melvin (Nikki Lee Blake), Charles White (Principal Brewster), Sammy Smith (Sammy), David Doyle (Jonathan Harris), Amzie Strickland (Richard's mother), John McGiver (J.R. Castle), Ralph Bell (William Smithers; replaced J.R. Castle), Alan Bruce (T.J. Blodgett; replaced Ralph Bell), Robert Carson (T.J. Blodgett; later), Phyllis Coates (Miss Gordon; J.R.'s secretary), William Schallert (Kenneth Lane), Bobby Diamond (Louie), Laura Barton (Monica Robinson), Kathy Garver (Monica Robinson; later), Margaret Hamilton (Mrs. MacDonalld), Alice Rawlings (Alice), Robyn Millan (Rosalind), Jeff Siggins (Alfred), Ilka Chase (Martin's Aunt Pauline), William Schallert (Martin's Uncle Jed), Patty Duke (Betsy Lane), Rita McLaughlin (Patty Duke's double). Theme Song: "Theme from the Patty Duke Show" by Sid Ramin, Robert Wells.

6286 The Paul Anka Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1983). Singer Paul Anka hosts a weekly program of music, songs, light comedy and celebrity interviews.

6287 The Paul Arnold Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949–1950). A weekly program of music and songs with singer Paul Arnold as the host. The series ran from October 24, 1949 to June 23, 1950.

6288 Paul Bernard — Psychiatrist. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1972). The program dramatizes sessions between psychiatrist Dr. Paul Bernard and his patients (all female). The patient relates her elements of distress and in the final moments of the program, Dr. Bernard analyzes her seemingly uncomplicated and innocent thoughts. Produced with the cooperation of the Canadian Mental Health Association. The syndicated series produced 195 episodes. The cast listed after Dr. Bernard are his patients.

Cast: Chris Wiggins (Dr. Paul Bernard), Dawn Greenhalgh (Alice Talbot), Tudi Wiggins (Mrs. Howard), Marcia Diamond (Mrs. Finley), Valerie-Jean Hume (Miss Parker), Phyllis Maxwell (Connie Walker), Nuala Fitzgerald (Katie Conner), Vivian Reis (Mrs. Wilkins), Shelley Sommers (Barbara Courtney), Diane Polley (Mrs. Bradshaw), Kay Hawtrey (Mrs. Collins), Gale Garnett (Mrs. Donaldson), Paisley Maxwell (Mrs. Roberts), Josephine Barrington (Mrs.

Patterson), Anna Commeron (Mrs. Johnson), Peggy Mahon (Miss Michaels), Barbara Kyle (Karen Lampton), Carol Lazare (Mrs. Brookfield), Micki Moore (Jennifer Barlow), Arlene Meadows (Vickie Lombard).

6289 The Paul Dixon Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; DuMont; 1951–1955). A program of music and songs with singer Paul Dixon as the host. The series ran on ABC from August 8, 1951 to September 4, 1952; and on DuMont from September 29, 1952 to April 8, 1955.

Host: Paul Dixon. Regulars: Dotty Mack, Wanda Lewis, Lennie Gorrian.

6291 The Paul Hogan Show. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1981). An Australian-produced series of adult oriented comedy sketches with actor Paul Hogan spoofing everything from television shows to political figures.

Host: Paul Hogan. Regulars: Delvene Delaney, Roger Stevens, John Blackman, Karin Pini, Sue McIntosh, Glenn Shorrock, Marion Edward, Graham Matrick, Andrew Harwood.

6292 The Paul Lynde Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1972–1973). Paul Simms is an attorney with the firm of McNish and Simms in Ocean Grove, California. He lives with his wife, Martha, at 3 Prescott Drive and has a double martini when he comes home from work. He is easily exasperated and believes he is in a rat race "and the rats are winning." His eldest daughter, Barbara, is married to Howie Dickerson, a genius she met at college (he was going through the dictionary looking for mistakes).

Paul dislikes the annoying Howie, who works as a caddy, and feels he may be the reason why he is headed for a nervous breakdown. Howie has been around the world three times, charts the stock market for fun, is a walking encyclopedia and a connoisseur of fine wine.

Paul's younger daughter, Sally, is a sweet girl who is fascinated by Howie and believes he is the smartest person she knows. Sally attends Ocean Grove Junior High School.

Stories follow Paul as he struggles to cope with the daily pressures of life at work and at home. J.J. is Paul's business partner; Jimmy is Sally's friend; Barney and Grace are Howie's parents (owners of butcher shop). Shorty Rogers composed the theme.

Cast: Paul Lynde (Paul Simms), Elizabeth Allen (Martha Simms), Jane Actman (Barbara Dickerson), Pamelyn Ferdin (Sally Simms), John Calvin (Howie Dickerson), Herbert Volland (J.J. McNish), Jerry Stiller (Barney Dickerson), Anne Mara (Grace Dickerson), Allison McKay (Alice), Anson Williams (Jimmy Fowler), Stuart Getz (Jimmy Lyons).

6293 Paul Sand in Friends and Lovers. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1974–1975). The life, fantasies and romantic misadventures of Robert Dreyfuss, a young bachelor and bass violinist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Other regulars are Charlie Dreyfuss, Robert's brother; Janis, Charlie's wife; Fred Myerback, Robert's friend; Jack Reardon, the orchestra manager; Mason Woodruff, the orchestra conductor; Ben and Marge, Robert's parents; Estelle Milner, an orchestra member; Doris Myerback, Fred's wife and Susan, Robert's girlfriend. See also Friends and Lovers for information on the series pilot film.

6294 Paul Whiteman's Saturday Night Revue. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949–1952). A program of music and songs with bandleader Paul Whiteman as the host. The series ran from November 6, 1949 to March 30, 1952. Tony Stanford and Ward Byron are the producers.

Host: Paul Whiteman. Regulars: Lina Romay, Earl Wrightson, Eric Viola, Joe Young, Duffy Otel, Maureen Cannon. Orchestra: Paul Whiteman. Choreography: Frank Westbrook.

6295 Paul Whiteman's TV Teen Club. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949–1954). Teenagers who possess the ability to sing and dance, but have yet to be discovered, perform on the program. Each of the contestants performs a song which is first judged by the studio audience (applause) then by celebrity guests. The most talented performers receive professional coaching and a chance to return at a later date (to compete again for the opportunity of a professional booking and possible discovery).

Host: Paul Whiteman. Co-Host: Margo Whiteman, Nancy Lewis. Regulars: Andrea McLaughlin, Nancy Lewis, June Keegan, Maureen Cannon, The Ray Porter Singers. Orchestra: Paul Whiteman.

6296 The Paul Williams Show. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/27/79). Paul Hamilton is an aspiring television personality who plays Marvin the Martian, the host of a kid show on KFAP in Denver, Colorado. He is loved by thousands of children, but longs for better things (his efforts to achieve those goals was to be the focal point of the unsold series). In the pilot episode, Paul creates a nightmare when he decides to tell his young audience where babies come from. Other Regulars: Victoria, the program director; Barbara, Paul's girlfriend; Deborah, Paul's neighbor; and Denny, Paul's agent.

Cast: Paul Williams (Paul Hamilton), Amanda McBroom (Victoria Woodbridge), Sandra Kerns (Barbara), Dana Hill (Deborah), Rick Podell (Denny Morton).

6297 The Paul Winchell and Jerry Mahoney Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1956). A potpourri of music, songs, comedy and quizzes with ventriloquist Paul Winchell and his dummy assistants, Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff. The quiz segment, titled "What's My Name?," calls for players to identify the name of a famous person through clues provided by Paul and his dummies as they dramatize an incident in the subject's life. War Bonds are awarded to the winners.

Host: Paul Winchell. Regulars: Dorothy Claire, Ken Spaulding, Mary Ellen Terry, Margaret Hamilton, Patricia Bright, Jimmy Blaine, Sid Raymond, Hilda Vaughn, Maybin Hugh. Music: Milton DeLugg, John Gart.

6298 The Paul Winchell Show. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 5/10/56). An unsold program of music, songs and comedy with ventriloquist Paul Winchell and his dummy friends, Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff. Lester Gottlieb is the producer.

Host: Paul Winchell. Guests: Jaye P. Morgan, Bobby Van. Announcer: Tony Marvin. Music: Hank Sylvern.

6299 The Paul Winchell Show. (Series; Children; ABC; 1957–1961). A program of music and comedy featuring the antics of Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff, the dummies of ventriloquist Paul Winchell. The series ran from September 29, 1957 to April 3, 1960; and December 25, 1960 to April 16, 1961.

Host: Paul Winchell.

6300 The Paula Poundstone Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1993). Paula Poundstone is a comedienne who is at her best when she responds to suggestions and basis a performance on that. Transferring her comedy club act to television and trying to sustain it for sixty minutes proved to be a difficult task and the series was cancelled after two episodes (October 30 to November 6, 1993).

Host: Paula Poundstone.

6301 The Paula Stone Show. (Pilot; Children; ABC; 8/7/54). The pilot film for Paula Stone's Toy Shop. Child star Paula Stone entertains children with songs, dances and stories from a magical toy shop. She is assisted by Tim Herbert as Freddie Fun and dancers Howard and Marge as Pitter and Patter.

6302 Paula Stone's Toy Shop. (Series; Children; ABC; 1955). Paula Stone's Toy Shop is a magical toy store that not only sells toys but is a magical place where children's dreams can come true. Paula, a young girl, is not a witch but a talented person who, through the use of music and songs, can help children's fantasies become a reality. With her assistant, Freddie Fun, Paula presents an entertaining program of fun for the younger set.

Hostess: Paula Stone. Assistant (Freddie Fun): Tim Herbert.

6303 Pauly. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1998). Edward Sherman is a wealthy real estate magnate. He is a widower and the father of Pauly, a slacker with no trace of ambition. Dawn Delaney is a gorgeous young aerobics instructor — a woman who has just become engaged to Edward. Pauly not only feels his carefree life style is in jeopardy, but Dawn is much too young for his father. While the main focus of the series is on Pauly's (fruitless) efforts to break up his father and Dawn (and protect his freeloading existence), flashback and fantasy sequences are also used to show Pauly at a younger age and in situations that will arise if a wedding occurs. Burger is Pauly's friend (the owner of a video store); Zachary is Dawn's ten-year-old son; Sumi is Edward's housekeeper.

6304 The Paw Paws. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). The Paw Paws are a group of magical bears who help good defeat evil. Stories relate in particular the good Princess Paw Paw's efforts to prevent the evil Dark Paw from taking over her kingdom.

Voices: Susan Blu, Ruth Buzzi, Scatman Crothers, Jerry Dexter, Pat Fraley, Billie Hayes, Mitzi McCall, Howard Morris, Robert Ridgely, Neilson Ross, Marilyn Schreffler, Frank Welker.

6305 Pay Cards. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1968–1969). Three contestants compete in a game of poker. Twenty cards, which contain singles, pairs and three and four of a kind, are displayed face down on an electronic board. By selecting the numbered cards (one to twenty), players have to build a five-card hand better than their opponents. Players begin by selecting three cards, then two on their next turn. The player with the best hand is the winner and receives a cash prize: $10 for a pair; $30 for three of a kind or a full house; $10 for four of a kind.

An announcer opens the show: "You're the king or the queen when you play television's first card game, Pay Cards. And here's the star of our show, the host who pays." Art James."

Host: Art James. Announcer: Fred Collins.

6306 Payne. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1999). A short lived (four episode) American version of the hit British TV series Fawlty Towers (about a bumbling innkeeper named Basil Fawlty). Here, the innkeeper is Royal Payne, a henpecked man whose wife, Constance, rules not only him but also the entire inn.

Breeze O'Rourke is the housekeeper; and Mo is the befuddled, foreign bellboy. Stories follow Royal as he struggles to cope with the numerous staff and guest problems he encounters. The first episode of the series follows the original format of the British version. However, when the producers chose to Americanize the program and alter the concept, it was cancelled three episodes later.

Cast: John Larroquette (Royal Payne), JoBeth Williams (Constance Payne), Julie Benz (Breeze O'Rourke), Rick Basalla (Mo).

6307 P.D.Q. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1965–1970). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One member of each team is placed in a sound-proof isolation booth. The sound and light are turned off in one booth, allowing the other team to compete. The outside player stands before a phrase that is spelled out in large plastic letters and not visible to his booth partner. The object is for the booth player to identify the phrase from key letters his partner removes from one wall and places on another that is visible to him. Once the phrase is identified, the letters are removed from the wall and the opposing team competes in the same manner with the same phrase. The team who use the fewest letters to make an identification is the winner of the round. A two-out-of-three game competition is played with merchandise prizes awarded to the winners.

Host: Dennis James. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

6308 Peabody's Improbable History. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1959). A segment of Rocky and His Friends. See this title for information.

6309 Peaceable Kingdom. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1989). Rebecca Cafferty is the widowed mother of three children: Courtney, Sam and Dean. She lives in New York City (at 101 Park Avenue) but accepts a job in California to become the director of the Los Angeles County Zoo. Her dream is to turn the zoo into a model for promoting animal survival. Rebecca is assisted by her brother, Dr. Jed McFadden, the curator of mammals.

The Caffertys live in a special home that is located in the zoo and reserved for its director. Courtney and Dean attend Liberty High School (in New York, they were enrolled in the Marquis private school). Sam has a pet seal named Rover. Rebecca and Jed attended Madison High School. In the un-aired pilot version of the series, Jed was Rebecca's love interest, not her brother. "The Peaceable Kingdom Theme" was composed by David McHugh.

6310 The Peanut Is a Serious Guy. (Experimental; Educational; DuMont; 6/6/44). An institutional program put on by the National Peanut Council to promote the nutritional values of the peanut. The story finds Mr. Peanut (a double-jointed peanut puppet on strings created by Tom Jewett and Maria Gambarelli) asking the host to revise his image so people will not think of him as ballgame and circus snacks. Two recipes are given (for a peanut milk shake and a peanut cake) to show some of the many uses for peanuts.

Host: Maria Gambarelli.

6311 Pearl. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996–1997). Pearl Caraldo is the widow of a longshoreman. After being deprived of a college education (she married right out of high school), Pearl applies for a student loan, writes an essay and is accepted into Swindon University (which is 4.2 miles from her home).

All is progressing well for Pearl until she enrolls in the most prestigious class in the school — Humanities (the human condition) taught by the school's toughest teacher — Stephen Pynchon, a stickler for the rules who accepts no nonsense from his students (the failure rate in his class is 67.3 percent — the highest in the nation. If a student needs help he will only speak to them between 3:05 and 3:12 P.M. on Wednesday). Pearl, however, is as stubborn and abrasive as Stephen and a romantic relationship begins to develop. Stories follow Pearl as she begins a new life — and a new love with Stephen (who is not all that thrilled with a serious relationship; at least not yet).

Other Regulars: Anne, Pearl's friend; Joey, Pearl's son; and students Amy Lee, Margaret and Frankie.

Cast: Rhea Perlman (Pearl Caraldo), Malcolm McDowell (Stephen Pynchon), Carol Kane (Annie Carmen), Lucy Liu (Amy Lee), Nikki Cox (Margaret Woodrow), Kevin Corrigan (Frankie Spivak), Dash Mihok (Joey Caraldo).

6312 The Pearl Bailey Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1971). A weekly series of music and songs with singer Pearl Bailey as the host. The 13 episode series ran from January 23, 1971 to May 5, 1971. Bob Finkel is the producer.

Hostess: Pearl Bailey. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Louis Bellson.

6313 Pebbles and Bamm Bamm. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1971–1972). A spin-off from The Flintstones that relates events in the life of Pebbles Flintstone, the teenage daughter of Fred and Wilma Flintstone, and Bamm Bamm Rubble, the adopted son of Barney and Betty Rubble as they attend Bedrock High School. Moonrock, Fabian, Penny, Cindy and Wiggy are their friends.

Voice Cast: Sally Struthers (Pebbles Flintstone), Jay North (Bamm Bamm Rubble), Lennie Weinrib (Moonrock), Carl Esser (Fabian), Mitzi McCall (Penny), Gay Hartwig (Cindy), Gay Hartwig (Wiggy).

6314 Peck's Bad Girl. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1959). Torey Peck is a very pretty but a mischievous 12-year-old girl who lives in a small American town. She is not interested in “girlie things” (like makeup and dresses) and loves her life as a tomboy. She likes doing “guy stuff” (like playing sports) and refuses to grow up (she prefers to remain a tomboy rather than face the world as a young lady). Stories follow the events that spark Torey's life as she enjoys doing what she does, but deep down knowing that, like her equally pretty girlfriend, Francesca, she will one day abandon her baseball mit and fishing pole for a dress and a date with a boy.

Cast: Patricia McCormack (Torey Peck), Wendell Corey (Steve Peck), Marsha Hunt (Jennifer Peck), Roy Ferrell (Roger Peck), Reba Waters (Francesca).

6315 The Pee Wee King Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1955). A program of music and songs featuring country and western entertainers with orchestra leader Pee Wee King as the host.

Host: Pee Wee King. Regulars: Ellen Long, Chuck Wiggins, Neal Burris, Redd Stuart, Bonnie Sloan, The Golden West Cowboys, The Cleveland Jamboree. Orchestra: Pee Wee King.

6316 Pee Wee King's Flying Ranch. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1954). Performances by country and western entertainers with orchestra leader Pee Wee King as the host. Peter Katz is the producer.

Host: Pee Wee King. Regulars: Ellen Long, Redd Stuart, The Teddy Raymond Quartet. Orchestra: Pee Wee King.

6317 Pee Wee's Playhouse. (Series; Children; CBS; 1986). A live (and expensive) Saturday morning series that features comedian Pee Wee Herman in zany skits set against a dazzling magical playhouse (also the apparent home of Pee Wee). Visitors to the playhouse include Miss Yvonne (called “Miss Yvonne” by Pee Wee); Captain Carl, Cowboy Curtis, the Housewife (who lives next door), the King of Cartoons (who introduces an animated short), Opal, Conky Knucklehead, Dixie and Dirty Dog. Pee Wee also has his own genie, Jambi, that grants him wishes — that, in the end, teach him (and the children of the viewing audience) responsible lessons.

Cast: Paul Reubens (Pee Wee Herman), Phil Hartman (Captain Carl), Natasha Lyonne (Opal), Gilbert Lewis (King of Cartoons), Joann Carlo (Dixie), Laurence Fishburn (Cowboy Curtis), Wayne White (Dirty Dog/Randy), John Paragon (Jambi), Lynne Stewart (Miss Yvonne), Gregory Harrison (Conky Knucklehead), Alison Mark (Housewife). Theme Vocal: Ellen Shaw.

6318 Peeping Times. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 1/25/78). A proposed series that spoofs television newsmagazine series with correspondents Miles Rathbourne and Dan Cochran.

Cast: Alan Oppenheimer (Miles Rathbourne), David Letterman (Dan Cochran). Regulars (Various Roles; in the pilot episode): Sharon Spelman (Eva Braun), Ron Carey (Monk), Michael Fairman (Mayor of Ewell), Lee Delano (Seedy man), J.J. Barry (Angelo Bertinelli), Murphy Dunne (Dr. Burnett).

6319 Peer Pressure. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1997). A game show for teenagers. Three teens begin the game by standing at the starting position of a stage-sized game board. The object is to answer questions, move appropriate space on the board and be the first to reach the finish line. Correctly answered questions move players around the board — but it also offers them a choice (the reason why it is called Peer Pressure): accept a prize and move back two spaces or stay where they are to get closer to the finish line and the grand prize. The first player to reach that finish line is the winner.

Host: Nick Spano. Co-Host: Valarie Rae Miller.

Host: Peggy Fleming. Guests: Michelle Kwan, Oksana Baiul, Kristi Yamaguchi, Elvis Stajko.

6321 Pen 'n' Inc. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/15/81). Alan Ozley is an artist for the Essex, Connecticut, Register, a conservative small-town newspaper, who dreams of becoming the political cartoonist. The imaginative program combines live action with animation as Alan's thoughts and fantasies come to vivid life for him (and the viewer) through the use of animation. In the pilot episode, Alan believes he finally has a chance to convince his boss (T.W. Winson) to publish his cartoons — until his fellow workers learn about his overnight date with the boss's beautiful daughter (Debbie) and threaten to expose him to T.W. (who opposes fellow workers dating — especially his daughter). Other Regulars: Gretchen, Alan's landlady; Raymond, the layout editor; Dexter, the copy editor.

Cast: Matt McCoy (Alan Ozley), Brianne Leary (Debbie Winson), Peter Hobbs (T.W. Winson), Andra Akers (Gretchen Vanderwyck), Charles Thomas Murphy (Raymond Babbitt), Doug Cox (Dexter Budd). Guest Cast: Fred Willard (Ralph), Richard Karron (Delivery man), Ruth Manning and Jay Berber (Reporters).

6322 The Pendulum. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1956). The syndicated title for sixty-five episodes of The Vise. See this title for information. John Bentley hosts the program.

6323 Penelope Beware! (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1966). Fidos Porter was a "kind" man (he would kick the dog each morning before his coffee and look forward to thunderstorms hoping to see a bird get hit by lightning). His servants (Lucretia, the housekeeper; Boris, the cook; Fellini, the chauffeur; and Igor, the butler) are even more despicable; the four worst people he has ever known — but people he has promised everything to in his will. Following Mr. Porter's death, a will instructs that all of Porter's assets be given to "the sweetest, most kind person on earth" — an orphan he found named Penelope Brown. However, to inherit the money, Penelope must live in the house (the Old Porter Mansion) with the servants for five years. If, however, Penelope should die under normal circumstances before the five years are up, the servants will inherit the Porter fortune. The unsold series was to follow a rather naive Penelope's efforts to distribute the Porter money to the needy — against the wishes of the servants — who seek a way to kill her naturally so they can inherit the fortune. In the pilot episode, the servants seek to prevent Penelope from donating $2 million to a children's summer camp. Other Regulars: Janet, Penelope's guardian.

Cast: Ann Elder (Penelope Brown), Nina Foch (Lucretia), Iggie Wolfington (Boris), Severn Darden (Igor), Johnny Haymer (Fellini), Emmaline Henry (Janet Peabody). Guest Cast: Richard Roat (Hamilton Brace), Jesse White (Swiftly), Richard Hale (Fidos Porter).

6324 Penn and Teller: BS. (Series; Reality; Showtime; 2003–2006). Magicians Penn and Teller take to the airwaves to expose services, products or ideas that are just foolish but sucker people into them. Each program is devoted to a specific topic, and using humor Penn and Teller try to expose the reasons why some things are just, in polite terms, hogwash.

Cast: Penn Jillette (Himself), Teller (Himself).

6325 Pennies from Heaven. (Series; Fantasy; PBS; 1979). The series, set in England during the 1930s, combines dramatic action with period songs to chronicle the travels of Arthur Parker, a sheet-music salesman who fantasizes about the songs he sells. Janet Parker is his wife; Eileen is his mistress.

Cast: Bob Hoskins (Arthur Parker), Gemma Craven (Janet Parker), Cheryl Campbell (Eileen), Kenneth Colley (The Accordion Man).

6326 Penny to a Million. (Series; Game; ABC; 1955). Two teams compete, each composed of five members. Through a series of general-knowledge question and answer rounds, eight of the ten players are eliminated (by an incorrect response). The remaining two players compete in a spelling bee wherein they receive one penny doubled to a possible million ($10,000) for each word they spell correctly. The surviving player receives what money he has won, returns the following week, competes again in the question-and-answer session, and if successful again, competes in the spelling bee to increase the money he has already won.

Host: Bill Goodwin.

6327 Pensacola: Wings of Gold. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1997–2000). The basic format of the series is the adventures of the Sea Dragons, a four-person unit of jet fighter pilots based in Florida. In season one, William Kelly, a lieutenant colonel, headed the group. He was divorced and struggling to reestablish ties with his estranged teenage daughter, Janine. His team consisted of Wendell “Cypher” McCray, Annalisa “Stinger” Lindstrom, Robert “Chaser” Griffin and A.J. “Buddha” Conaway. Colonel Rebecca Hodges was Williams’s superior.

In the second season, Janine was sent off to college and William became the head of a unit that trains fighter pilots. The students were Tucker “Spoon” Henry III, Alexandra “Ice” Jensen and Kate Anderson. Major McArthur “Hammer” Lewis, Jr. was William’s superior. Abigail “Mad Dog” Holley (a student) joined the cast in the final season.

6328 Pentagon Confidential. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1953). The first episode title for what would become Pentagon U.S.A. the following week. See this title for information.

6329 Pentagon U.S.A. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1953). Factual dramatizations based on the files of the United States Army, Criminal Investigation Division. The program premiered as Pentagon Confidential but changed to Pentagon U.S.A. on its second telecast. The series ran from August 6, 1953 to October 1, 1953.

Cast: Addison Richards (Criminal Investigation Division Colonel), Gene Lyons (Police Detective), Edward Binns (Army Investigator), Larry Fletcher (Army Investigator).

6330 Penthouse Sonata. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949). A two episode series (June 19 to June 26, 1949) that presents light classical music on television. Soprano June Browne sang “O Cease Thy Singing, Maiden Fair” and “Let My Song Fill Your Heart.” The Fine Arts Quartet performed “Serenade,” “Nobody Knows the Trouble I’ve Seen,” “Andantino” and “Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes.”

Host: June Browne. Regulars: The Fine Arts

Quartet (Sheppard Lehnoff, George Sopkin, Leonard Sorkin, Joseph Stepansky).

6331 People. (Pilot; Human Interest; ABC; 12/15/57). The program presents interviews with the people “The Man” (host) meets while walking on the street (in Los Angeles in the pilot).

Host (“The Man”): Ben Alexander.

6332 People. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1978). An adaptation of People magazine to television: celebrity profiles and interviews. A prime time attempt that produced six episodes from September 17, 1978 to November 6, 1978. David Susskind is the producer.

Hostess: Phyllis George. Music: Tony Romeo.

6333 People Are Funny. (Live Test Program; Game; NBC; 6/11/46). A television adaptation of the radio program wherein various members of the studio audience compete in stunts for prizes (for example, a man, given five pairs of nylons, was sent outside to ask passersby to trade an article of clothing for the stockings; a blind folded lady, given a needle and thread, was asked to patch a hole in a man’s pants — while he was wearing them). A series would later appear on NBC (1954–61). See also the following title.

Host: Art Linkletter. Announcer: Ed Herlihy.

6334 People Are Funny. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1954–1961). Pre-selected people are asked to perform specific stunts in return for cash and/or merchandise prizes. The series, which produced 246 episodes, ran from September 9, 1954 to April 2, 1961.

Host: Art Linkletter. Announcer: Pat McGeehan.

6335 People Are Funny. (Series; Game; NBC; 1984). A nine episode update of the 1954–61 series of the same title (with Art Linkletter as host) that challenges ordinary people to perform outrageous tasks for laughs — and prizes.

Host: Flip Wilson. Announcer: Dick Tufeld. Music: Milton DeLugg.

6336 People Do the Craziest Things. (Series; Human Interest; ABC; 1984). The program, which borrows its format from Candid Camera and People Are Funny, challenges people to perform outlandish stunts in return for cash. The series was cancelled after two episodes.

Host: Bert Convy.

6337 People Like Us. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 4/19/76). Events in the day-to-day lives of the Allmans, a contemporary American family, and their struggles to retain their close ties amid economic instability and a changing moral climate. Regulars: Davy, the father, a steelworker; Irene, his wife; Sharon and Lennie, their children; and Anna, Davy’s mother.

Cast: Eugene Roche (Davy Allman), Katherine Helmond (Irene Allman), Eileen McDonough (Sharon Allman), Grant Goodeve (Lennie Allman), Irene Tedrow (Anna Allman). Guest Cast: Stack Pierce (Elgin), Richard Forongy (Ray).

6338 People Magazine on TV. (Pilot; Magazine; CBS; 1988). A three pilot attempt at a video edition of the weekly magazine that was to report on people in all walks of life. It aired on August 4, 1988, November 14, 1988 and January 27, 1989.

Hosts: Sandy Hill (First Pilot), Jane Wallace (Second and Third Pilots). Correspondents: David Andelman, Mike Marley, Martha Quinn. Music: Bobby Sherman.

6339 The People Next Door. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1989). Walter Kellogg is a cartoonist with a unique ability to make things appear just by imagining them. He lives in the town of Covington (whose major industry is eggs) and is married to Abigail MacIntyre, his second wife, a psychologist. Walter is also the father of Aurora and Matthew, the children he had with his late first wife.

Walter is the creator of the comic strip "The People Next Door." As Walter draws his strips, the audience sees his ideas come to life. Unfortunately, the series lasted only four episodes.

Other regulars are Sissy, Abigail's neurotic sister (the owner of a beauty shop called Sissy's Hot Rollers) and Truman Phipps, the mailman.

Cast: Jeffrey Jones (Walter Kellogg), Mary Gross (Abigail MacIntyre), Jaclyn Bernstein (Aurora Kellogg), Chance Quinn (Matthew Kellogg), Christina Pickles (Sissy MacIntyre), Leslie Jordan (Truman Phipps). Cartoon Illustrations: R.P. Overmeyer. Theme Vocal: Dr. John.

6340 People to People. (Pilot; Interview; ABC; 1/9 to 1/13/84). A five-part pilot film for a daily series of interviews with people from all walks of life.

Host: Rona Barrett.

6341 People Will Talk. (Series; Game; NBC; 1963). A yes or no type of question is read to fifteen selected members of the studio audience. Each member locks in their choice. Each of the two contestants who compete chooses a player and has to predict how that person answered the question. Each correct guess awards the player one point. The player with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Dennis James.

6342 The People's Choice. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955–1958). New City, California, is a city built in a hurry. It is famous for its lettuce crops, and it is near Los Angeles. Some people have streetlights, some have no sewers, some have terrible roads. Socrates ("Sock") Miller and his aunt, Augusta "Gus" Bennett, live in a trailer camp in New City's Paradise Park.

Sock, who graduated from Cornell University (Phi Beta Kappa), was raised by his aunt following his parents' deaths when he was three years old. He served a hitch in Korea (as a marine sergeant) and is now an ornithologist for the government's Bureau of Fish and Wildlife. His job is to "follow the birds" (he files reports on migratory birds, as their flights foretell climatic conditions and aid farmers when planting crops).

There is one other resident living with Sock — his basset hound, Cleo. Cleo was six months old when Sock, a corporal at the time, won her in a crap game. Cleo, whose thoughts can be heard by voiceover dubbing, is glad that Sock can't talk for her — "If he could, I'd be off the show."

One day Sock befriends Amanda ("Mandy") Peoples, the pretty daughter of New City's mayor, John Peoples, when she becomes stranded on a country road and he stops to fix her flat tire. It seems like love at first sight.

Mandy feels that Sock is the right man to fill a city council vacancy. She delivers a television speech in which she urges voters to elect Sock as their 5th District councilman. If they want paved roads, sewers and streetlights, then Sock Miller is their man.

Sock wins the election and is given an office on the first floor of the Municipal Building. (Sock received special permission from the Department of Fish and Wildlife, Western Division, to remain in New City until his term of office is completed.)

Two marriages resulted on the series. Aunt Gus married Mayor Peoples and Sock married Mandy in 1957. Shortly after his marriage, Sock applies for a position as a lawyer with Barker Amalgamated in New York City. They hire Sock — but as the sales manager for Barkerville, a housing development with 294 houses for sale "20 miles from nowhere." Houses sell for $15,995, and Sock and Mandy live rent free in the model house (number 119).

Valerie Delmar (Jean Porter) was Sock's girlfriend before Mandy; lawyer Roger Crutcher (John Stephenson) was Mandy's boyfriend prior to Sock.

John calls Sock "Nature Boy" and Gus "Mousey." He also owns part interest in a whaling ship in Seattle.

Hexley ("Hex") Rollo is a friend of Sock's from childhood who now resides in New City. They were in the marines together; when stationed at Fort Baxter, Rollo (who is cursed with bad luck) lost a 20 ton amphibious tank.

Pierre Quincy is Sock's friend, an eccentric painter. Sock calls him the "Michelangelo of Paradise Trailer Park." He is a member of the local Artists' Club and calls Cleo "Funny Face." Theme: "The People's Choice," by Lou Kosloff.

Cast: Jackie Cooper (Sock Miller), Patricia Breslin (Mandy Peoples), Margaret Irving (Gus Bennett), Paul Maxey (John Peoples), Dick Wesson (Rollo), Leonid Kinsley (Pierre), Mary Jane Croft (Voice of Cleo).

6343 The People's Court. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1981–1993; 1997–). The program features real people fighting real legal battles before a real judge in a California Municipal Court. Plaintiffs and defendants are seen presenting their legal issues from plea to final verdict. The series, with Judge Joseph Wapner was based in California. When the series was revised for syndication (1997) with former New York Mayor Ed Koch as the judge, the series was videotaped in New York City and switched from a 30-minute to a 60-minute format.

Cast: Judge Joseph A. Wapner (Himself), Judge Ed Koch (Himself), Judge Jerry Scheindlin (Himself), Judge Marilyn Milian (Herself), Rusty Burrell (Bailiff), Josephine Ann Longobardi (Court Officer), Douglas MacIntosh (Court Officer), Doug Llewelyn (Interviewer), Curt Chaplin (Interviewer), Davy Jones (Court Officer), Harvey Levin (Host), Carol Martin (Studio Anchor).

6344 The People's Court of Small Claims. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1958). Judge Orrin B. Evans presides over dramatic reenactments of actual small claims court hearings.

6345 Pepper Ann. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1997–2000). Pepper Ann Pearson is a twelve-year-old girl who has just started middle school in the town of Hazelnut and yearns to be cool. Unfortunately, Pepper Ann is awkward and somewhat of a nerd — and her seemingly strange behavior makes her being cool highly unlikely. But that does not discourage our heroine and stories follow Pepper Ann as she strives to become one of the cool kids in school.

Nicky Little and Milo Kamalani are Pepper Ann's best friends. Nicky is a perfectionist (or tries to be) and Milo appears to be weird as his hobby (art) reflects his philosophical approach to life. Craig is a year older than Pepper Ann and the coolest kid at Hazelnut Middle School. Trinket is the spoiled, rich girl at school. Other characters are twins Tessa and Vanessa (the editor's of the school's newspaper, Hazel Nuts 'n' Bolts); Lydia is Pepper Ann's single mother; Moose (real name Margaret Rose) has a boy's nickname but is actually Pepper Ann's tomboy sister. Dieter (who is German and constantly eats), Stuart (the class geek) and Gwen (the blonde on whom Milo has a crush) are other students.

6346 Pepper Dennis. (Series; Comedy-Drama; WB; 2006). Pepper Dennis is an on-the-air reporter for WEIE-TV, Channel 4 in Chicago (the station is owned by the Winkman Media Group). Pepper, who goes to extremes to get a story, is called "WEIE's Number One Reporter." Pepper is sweet and provocative and is looking for a man who is as smart as she is.

Pepper's real name is Patricia "Patty" Dinkle. From as early as she can remember, Patty wanted to become a newscaster. This became a strong ambition after she met her hero, Walter Cronkite, as a teenager. She attended Northwestern University and upon graduation changed her name to the more broadcast friendly Pepper Dennis. Pepper got her first big break when she substituted for a reporter who took a week off to get a chin implant. Pepper learned the business from the show's producer, Jack Bell. Even when Pepper is off from work, she is on duty; she can't resist a story.

Pepper lives in Apartment 5F with her divorced sister, Kathy (Kathy also works as the receptionist at WEIE). Stories follow Pepper's life — at home and at work as she goes about gathering and reporting stories hoping to one day become the evening news program anchor.

Other regulars are Kimmy, Pepper's friend and makeup artist; Chick, her in-the-field cameraman; Charlie Babcock, the news anchorman; Blanca Martinez, the weathergirl (who also hosts Get Up Chicago, a morning show); and Garfield, Pepper's sound man.

When Jack Bell resigns to enjoy a carefree life in the Caribbean, he is replaced by Les Gay, the news director who wants sensationalized stories (as opposed to Jack's hard news stories).

Cast: Rebecca Romijn (Pepper Dennis), Brooke Burns (Kathy Dinkle-Williams), Josh Hopkins (Charlie Babcock), Brett Cullen (Jack Bell), Lindsay Price (Kimmy), Alexandra Barreto (Blanca Martinez), Rider Strong (Chick Durka), Frederick Koehler (Les Gay), Pooch Hall (Garfield).

6347 Peppermint Rose. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 11/26/92). In the mystical land of Peppermint Rose all beauty comes from a magical flower called the Peppermint Rose. One day a family of monsters (Tubber, Hubber and Blubber) from the gloomy kingdom of Bugoona, steal the Peppermint Rose as a gift for their queen, Betalia "an incredibly ugly beetle who intends to eat it."

While searching the world for a special helper, the good wizard of Peppermint Rose, Diminutive, finds Rose Richards and her friends, Daisy, Lilly and Violet — all named after flowers and all kind-hearted. The girls are magically transported to Peppermint Rose and asked to help. With the assistance of Peddle Puff, Diminutive's helper, the girls save Peppermint Rose from Betalia, but make a bitter enemy of her as she is determined to get back the rose. Acting on orders from the Wisdom of Lunar Light, the source of all wizard's wisdom, Diminutive bestows upon the girls the names Peppermint Rose, Vanilla Daisy, Lemondrop Lilly and Merrymint Violet and appoints them as guardians of the special rose. The unsold series was to relate the girls' efforts to protect Peppermint Rose from the evil Betalia.

Voices: Beau Berdahl, John Greenshaw, Carl Hammond, Larry Kenny, Michael Mulhern, Romeo Muller, Eden Riegel, Donna Vivino, Wendy Yondorf.

6348 Pepsi-Cola Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1953–1955). A series of both live and filmed dramas sponsored by the Pepsi-Cola Corporation.

Hosts: Arlene Dahl, Anita Colby, Polly Bergen. Performers Include: Beverly Garland, Jean Byron, Craig Stevens, Patrick O'Neal, Gladys George, Peter Graves, Nancy Gates, Vera Miles, Anna Lee, Ian Keith, Lynn Bari, Charles Bronson, Jeanne Bates, Marguerite Chapman, Tony Randall, Allene Roberts, Myra McKinney, Frances Rafferty, Morris Ankrum, Lloyd Corrigan, Marilyn Erskine, Rick Jason, Carolyn Jones, Robert Strauss, Hillary Brooke, Cesar Romero, Fifi D'Orsay, Lola Albright, Bethel Leslie, Marie Windsor.

6349 Perfect Crimes. (Unaired Pilot; Anthology; Produced in 1991). A proposed series that was to recreate two actual "perfect" crimes per episode, each with a different cast.

Cast: Lisa Hartman (Dr. Lori Forman), Khrystyne Haje (Diane Lacoss), Dennis Farina (Victor Zaro), Bruce Greenwood (Ron Faulkner), Michael Bowen (Jack O'Neill).

6350 Perfect Hair Forever. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2005). A spoof of Japanese animated series (Anime) as seen through the adventures of Gerald, a young boy who, for unknown reasons, is starting to lose his hair. With the help of Rod, the Anime God, and his mentor, Uncle Grandfather, Gerald begins a quest to find a cure called Perfect Hair Forever. Aired on the Adult Swim segment of Cartoon Network.

Voice Cast: Kim Manning (Gerald), Dave Willis (Uncle Grandfather), H. Jon Benjamin (Twisty), Dave Willis (Coffio).

6351 A Perfect Life. (Pilot; Comedy; UPN; 12/26/95). Dylan Forrester is a twenty something yuppie enjoying the perfect life. He works in the new products division of a computer software company and buys what he wants. Suddenly his company is dissolved and he is left out of work. Dylan bought his own apartment, a new car and various other luxury items and now must find a way to pay for them.

The job he wants is not out there and he must take what ever comes along. In the pilot episode, Dylan begins his first job — as a counter boy at Zippy's, an all-night coffee shop.

Other regulars are Timber Lake, his neighbor, a lawyer with the firm of Benton, Batten and Counter; she hates her life, her job and her co-workers; and Jonas and Steve, Dylan's friends.

Cast: Tim Conlon (Dylan Forrester), Jensen Daggett (Timber Lake), Saverio Guerra (Jonas), Lenny Venito (Steve). Guest Cast: Nicole Forrester (Kelly), Kavi Raz (Rajniesch), Marcia Delmar (Gretchen), Jack Shearer (Harry).

6352 The Perfect Match. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1967). Two three-member teams, the men vs. the women, compete in a game wherein the women must discover which male a computer has matched her with and vice versa. Three rounds are played in which the six players question each other about romantic situations and problems. At the end of the third round, each female secretly chooses the male she feels is best suited for her and vice versa. Players who match each other receive $50. The computer choices, which are validated by the Computer Match Company, are revealed. Couples who paired themselves as did the computer have a perfect match and each receive $200.

An announcer opens the show (over a visual of three men and three women): "These three young men have been matched by computer with these three young ladies. Are you able to tell who has been matched to whom? Welcome to The Perfect Match, the game where contestants attempt to discover who the IBM 360 Computer has selected as their perfect match. And now here's your perfect man to help us all find the perfect match, Dick Enberg."

Host: Dick Enberg.

6353 Perfect Strangers. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986–1992). Mypos is a small island in the Mediterranean where sheep herding is the number one occupation. When Myposian Balki Bartokomous discovers that he has an American cousin named Larry Appleton (who is one-sixty-fourth Myposian) he sets out to find him. His search ends in Chicago at the Caldwell Hotel where his Wisconsin-born cousin and future roommate lives. Balki's efforts to adjust to the American way of life are the focal point of the series.

Cousin Larry (as Balki calls him) and Balki first worked for Donald "Twinkie" Twinkacetti, the gruff owner of the Ritz Discount Store. They later work at a newspaper, the Chicago Chronicle (Larry as an assistant editor; Balki as a mailroom clerk). Larry dates Jennifer Lyons; Balki her roommate Mary Anne Spencer. Jennifer and Mary Anne, friends since they were eight years old, are airline stewardesses.

Balki takes night classes at Chicago Community College to improve his knowledge of America. While he is trying to become American, he still holds onto his Myposian customs (like eating eel wrapped in grape leaves or sheep-herder's bread with a side dish of Ding Ding Mac-Mood [pig snout]). Balki does volunteer work at Chicago General Hospital and draws the comic strip “Dimitri’s World” (about a cuddly little sheep).

Cousin Larry is famous for his catchphrase “Oh, My Lord” which he says when something goes wrong. He is high strung, easily exasperated and constantly involved with Balki’s harebrained efforts to adjust to a new life style.

Larry and Jennifer married in the episode of September 27, 1991 and set up housekeeping in a home they find they cannot afford. They solve their money woes by renting space to Balki and Mary Anne (who marry on April 18, 1992). Both girls became pregnant and in the final episode (August 6, 1993) give birth; Jennifer to a boy she and Larry name Tucker; Mary Anne to a boy she and Balki name Robespierre Boinkie.

In first season episodes Belita Moreno played Donald’s wife, Edwina (Matthew Licht was their son Donnie; Erica Gayle, their daughter Marie). When Larry and Balki acquire jobs at the newspaper Belita plays Lydia Markham, a columnist (of “Dear Lydia”) who also hosts the television series Lydia Live.

Relatives: James Noble (Larry’s father), Ted McGinley (Larry’s brother, Billy Appleton), Sue Ball (Larry’s sister, Elaine Appleton), John Anderson (Larry’s grandfather, Buzz Appleton), Bronson Pinchot (Balki’s mother; and Balki’s cousin, Bartok), Marla Adams (Jennifer’s mother, Katherine Lyons), Robert King (Jennifer’s father, Mr. Lyons).

Cast: Mark Linn-Baker (Larry Appleton), Louie Anderson (Larry Appleton; unaired pilot), Bronson Pinchot (Balki Bartokomous), Melanie Wilson (Jennifer Lyons), Rebeca Arthur (Mary Anne Spencer), Ernie Sabella (Donald “Twinkie” Twinkacetti), Jo Marie Payton (Harriette Baines Winslow), Belita Moreno (Edwina Twinkacetti/Lydia Markham), Lise Cutler (Susan Campbell). Theme Vocal: “Nothing’s Gonna Stop Me Now” by David Pomerantz.

6354 The Perils of Pauline. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1967). George is one of the world’s wealthiest men. Pauline is a beautiful orphan he met as a child in an orphanage and fell in love with promising one day to come back for her when he made his millions. The years pass and George made his money, but the unforeseen happened—Pauline was adopted and her whereabouts unknown. A distressed George begins a world wide search to find his Pauline and the unsold series was to chart his efforts, most of which are foiled by Stan Martin, a love-starved great white hunter, who also wants Pauline, a damsel who is always in perpetual danger, for himself.

When a series could not be sold to television, additional footage was shot and it was released theatrically.

Cast: Pamela Austin (Pauline), Pat Boone (George), Hamilton Camp (Thorpe; George’s aide), Terry-Thomas (Stan Martin). Guest Cast: Doris Packer (Mrs. Carruthers), Kurt Kasznar (Consul General), Vito Scotti (Frاندizi), Leon Askin (Commissar), Rick Natoli (Prince Benji). Theme Vocal: “Where Are You My Pretty Pauline?” by Pat Boone.

6355 The Perils of Penelope Pitstop. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1969–1971). After becoming the legal guardian of Penelope Pitstop, a young and vulnerable female race car driver, Sylvester Sneekly dons the guise of the Hooded Claw and intends to acquire her wealth by killing her. Stories follow Penelope and her protectors, the Ant Hill Mob, as they compete in races around the world and struggle to foil the Hooded Claw’s sinister efforts. Penelope’s car is the Compact Pussycat.

After Penelope is seen yelling, “Help! Help!” an announcer opens the show: “The Perils of Penelope Pitstop starring the Ant Hill Mob, their car Chugaboom and that hated villain, the Hooded Claw. Penelope Pitstop, heiress to a vast fortune, in perpetual peril from her fortune-seeking guardian, Sylvester Sneekly. But unknown to her, he is really the Hooded Claw. Foiling his fiendish plots are Penelope’s protectors, the Ant Hill Mob.”

Voice Cast: Janet Waldo (Penelope Pitstop), Paul Lynde (Sylvester Sneekly), Paul Winchell (Claude), Paul Winchell (Softy), Don Messick (Zippy), Don Messick (Pockets), Don Messick (Dum Dum), Don Messick (Snoozy), Gary Owens (Narrator).

6356 The Perkins Family. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1986). Incidents in the daily lives of the Perkins, an American family of five. All roles are played by children and are ad-libbed.

Cast: Betsy Bleil (Elaine Perkins), Stapp Beaton (Jonathan Perkins), Chandra Wilson (Tracy Perkins), Veronica Rosas (Chris Perkins), Wiley Wiggins (Alex Perkins).

6357 Perry Como Presents the Julius LaRosa Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957). A weekly program of music and songs with singer Julius LaRosa that replaced The Perry Como Show for the summer of 1957 (June 15 to September 7). Perry Como is the producer.

Host: Julius LaRosa. Regulars: Steve Ashton, Lou Cosler, The Louis Da Pron Dancers, The Artie Malvin Chorus. Orchestra: Mitchell Ayres.

6358 The Perry Como Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950–1955). A program of music and songs with singer Perry Como in his first television series (October 2, 1950 to June 24, 1955). Lee Cooley is the producer.

6359 The Perry Como Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955–1959). An hour-long program of music and songs with singer Perry Como as the host. The series ran from September 17, 1955 to June 6, 1959.

Host: Perry Como. Regulars: Geri Fontaine, Margie Fontaine, Bea Fontaine, Mindy Carson, Don Adams, Joey Heatherton, Kaye Ballard, Milt Kamen, Sandy Stewart, The Ray Charles Singers, The Louis Da Pron Dancers. Announcer: Ed Herlihy, Frank Gallop.

6360 Perry Mason. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1957–1966). Perry Mason is a brilliant criminal attorney working out of Los Angeles. His retainer fees range from $1,000 to $5,000 and he works by the books—even when the odds are stacked up against his client.

Perry refuses to plea bargain because he believes risking the life of his client is better than ruining it with a suspicious way out or a reduced sentence. While Perry is also competent as a detective, it is in the courtroom where his abilities become evident. He is shrewd and never lets it be known that at times he did not have sufficient evidence to defend a client (he always waits for that last minute piece of evidence to free a client).

Della Street is Perry's efficient, loyal secretary. She occasionally assists Perry in the field (often helps by donning various disguises). Paul Drake is Perry's investigator; Hamilton Burger is the prosecuting attorney; Gertie Lade is Perry's receptionist; Margo is Drake's secretary; David Gideon is Perry's associate (later episodes) and Perry works with the following police officials: Lt. Arthur Tragg, Lt. Steve Drumm; Sergeant Brice and Lt. Andy Anderson. Based on characters created by Erle Stanley Gardner; 245 episodes were filmed (the last one in color).

Hosts: Jaye P. Morgan, Teresa Brewer, Tony Bennett. Regulars: Hans Conried, The Four Lads, The Modernaires, The Louis Da Pron Dancers, The Mel Pahl Chorus. Announcer: Ed Herlihy. Orchestra: Mitchell Ayres, Jimmy Lytell.

6362 Person to Person. (Series; Interview; CBS; 1953–1961). The host, seated in a studio, interviews prominent people from their homes via remote pickup. The series ran from October 2, 1953 to July 2, 1959; and June 23, 1961 to September 16, 1961.

Host: Edward R. Murrow (1953–59), Charles Collingwood (1961). Announcer: Bob Dixon.

6363 Personal and Confidential. (Pilot; Magazine; NBC; 7/1 to 7/5/83). A five-part pilot for a daily series of celebrity interviews, gossip, beauty and health tips.

Hosts: Christine Belford, Ruth Batchelor, Steve Edwards, Kathy Cronkite.

6364 Personal and Confidential. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1988). A proposed series that was an attempt to help individuals solve their problems through dramatization of letters received from viewers.

Hostess: Cyndy Garvey.

6365 Personal Appearance. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1958). A summer series of dramas that were originally broadcast on other filmed anthology series. The series ran from July 4, 1958 to September 19, 1958.

6366 Personal Appearance Theater. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1951–1952). A half-hour series of comedy, mystery and drama presentations that ran from October 27, 1951 to May 23, 1952.

6367 Personality. (Series; Game; NBC; 1967–1969). Three celebrities compete in a game wherein they have to determine how well they know each other, as well as themselves. A question is asked that states a specific fact about one of the celebrities. Celebrities answer by sounding a buzzer signal. If the recognized celebrity is correct (guessed to whom the question referred) he wins $25 which is awarded to the home viewer he represents (chosen via post card selection).

Host: Larry Blyden. Announcer: Jack Clark.

6368 Personality Puzzle. (Series; Game; ABC; 1953). The object calls for players to guess the identities of celebrity guests via an examination of tools of the guest's trade and a series of indirect question-and-answer rounds. The player (four compete) with the most correct identifications is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: John Conte, Robert Alda. Assistant: Lisa Ferraday.

6369 Personals. (Series; Game; CBS; 1991). The program brings people together to arrange dates and test compatibility. A man or woman, placed in a chair on stage, is interviewed. Prior to the broadcast personal ads were placed in newspapers to acquire candidates. Video tapes were made and are screened to find three people who match the interviewed person's wants. These three people are introduced and also interviewed.

Also prior to the broadcast the person in the hot seat was asked a series of personal questions. These questions are read for the three mates with two possible responses. Each possible mate must guess what the subject said. One point is scored per correct response. When one of the three possible mates acquires three points the match is made and the two are given an all-expenses paid date.

Host: Mike Dubelko. Announcer: Jennifer Martin.

6370 Perspective on Greatness. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1961). Pat O'Brien, Celeste Holm and Joan Fontaine host and narrate a series of film clips and interviews that recall incidents in the lives of celebrated individuals.

6371 The Persuaders. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1971–1972). At the bar of the Hotel du Somme in France, Lord Brett Sinclair orders two Creole Screams. When the bartender does not know how to make the American drink Brett explains: “A jigger of white rum, a dash of bitters, chilled vermouth and a measure of grenadine. Then mix, stir in some crushed ice, shake, strain and pour. Top it off with one olive.” Just then, Daniel (“Danny”) Wilde, who is next to Brett, says, “Two. You were perfect up until the olives. Two olives. That way you can see them gently bounce up against each other.” Brett, who couldn’t care less if the olives gently bounce up against each other, insists on one. Danny insists on two. They can’t agree and a fist fight ensues.

They are arrested — but instead of being sent to jail, they are brought to the hotel room of a retired judge named Fulton (no first name given). It seems that the judge had arranged for Brett and Danny to be at the hotel and knew they would get into trouble. Fulton explains that he was a judge for 15 years, and during that time he did his best to defend the innocent and punish the guilty: “The guilty ones that came to court, that is. One of the anomalies of the law is that in protecting the innocent, the guilty go free too. Since my retirement, I’ve done my best to redress that in my small private way. Now I have time to think, to study, to search for loopholes others might have overlooked.”

The judge then gives them a choice: three months in jail or help him. “You are men with immense quality and potential and you fight — you fight over an olive. You are both docile and foolish and a useless waste of humanity. But you like to fight. All right, I’ll give you a fight. I’ll either make use of you or see that you are put away for three months.” When playboys Danny and Brett realize that it also means 90 nights, they agree to help the judge. Stories relate the globe-trotting exploits of Brett and Danny as they use their unique skills to help Judge Fulton bring criminals to justice.

Lord Brett Sinclair is a titled Englishman who was “born with a silver spoon in his mouth and all he does is lick the jam from it.” Sinclair was once a proud and noble name that stood for justice and defended freedom — but that was before immense wealth changed it. Brett is a first class athlete, a connoisseur of the arts and a gourmet with a lusty taste in wine and women. He can speak seven languages, but all he uses them for is to order cocktails.

Danny Wilde is a multimillionaire who made and lost several fortunes. Making money has become so easy for him that he doesn’t really bother anymore. But that wasn’t always the case. He was born in the Bronx and lived in one of its poorest sections. His optimism, courage and a sense of humor pushed him to the top of the financial heap. He has a remarkable talent, but he just wastes it.

The stars are credited on screen by their last names only — Curtis (on top) and Moore (bottom).

Cast: Roger Moore (Brett Sinclair), Tony Curtis (Danny Wilde), Laurence Naismith (Judge Fulton), George Merritt (Chivers; Brett’s butler). Theme: “The Persuaders,” by John Barry.

6372 The Pet Set. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1971). A program of pet care, ecology and wildlife preservation with actress Betty White as the host.

Hostess: Betty White. Regulars: Ralph Helfer, Dare Miller. Announcer: Allen Ludden.

6373 Pete and Gladys. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1960–1962). In the opening theme, Cupid fires an arrow into a heart, where a married couple (Pete and Gladys) are seen arguing. When the arrow strikes the heart, they kiss and make up. Peter Porter, an insurance salesman for the Springer, Slocum and Klever Insurance Company in Los Angeles, and Gladys Hooper, a scatterbrained secretary, fell in love, eloped and married nine years earlier (1951) in the small town of Colbyville; they later set up housekeeping at 36 Bleecker Street in Westwood, California.

Pete, who spent his military career as a clerk in a PX during World War II, told Gladys he was a hero (single handedly capturing a Japanese patrol). Pete puts up with all of Gladys’s harebrained antics because “I’ve gotten used to her; I’m addicted to her.” Gladys is naturally curious about everything and pursuing that curiosity always gets her into trouble.

Gladys is the entertainment chair of the Junior Matron’s League of the Children’s Hospital and is a member of the Westwood Bowling League with friends Janet and Hilda Crocker.

The series is a spin-off from December Bride in which Gladys was never seen but was often talked about.

Relatives: Ernest Truex (Gladys’s father, Henry Hooper), Bill Hinnant (Gladys’s nephew, Bruce), Sue Randall (Gladys’s cousin, Helen Franklin), Gale Gordon (Pete’s uncle, Paul Porter; he gave Pete his first pair of roller skates; he believes Gladys is an idiot); Peter Leeds (Janet's husband, George Colton), Helen Kleeb (Barry's wife, Laura Slocum). Theme: "Pete and Gladys," by Wilbur Hatch and Fred Steiner.

Cast: Harry Morgan (Peter Porter), Cara Williams (Gladys Porter), Verna Felton (Hilda Crocker), Gale Gordon (Paul Porter), Barry Kelly (Barry Slocum, Pete's boss), Helen Kleeb (Laura Slocum, Barry's wife), Mina Kolb (Peggy Briggs), Joe Mantell (Ernie Briggs), Alvy Moore (Howie), Barbara Stuart (Alice; Howie's wife), Peter Leeds (George Colton), Shirley Mitchell (Janet Colton), Frances Rafferty (Nancy), Sue Randall (Helen Franklin), Carleton Carpenter (Jerry Franklin), Cliff Norton (Newton Norwood).

6374 Pete Kelly's Blues. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1959). "The period was called the Roaring Twenties," says Pete Kelly, a cornet player and leader of a jazz band called the Big Seven. "Americans were told they had to stop drinking but thirty million of them stayed thirsty and ate salted peanuts to make sure. It was an age of jazz music, speakeasies, rum running, bathtub gin, murder, reprisal and organized disorder. Everything was on sale — from wood alcohol to immortal souls — and down the street was a guy who would give a discount on either one. Those were the accents of 1927 and the music, it was jazz. From the start it had kind of an epileptic charm. It fitted the times but it was more than the times. It said more, it made jokes and it wept. It laughed out loud, it dosed and sometimes spoke with regret."

For Pete Kelly, it began in Chicago. As a kid he became fascinated with the cornet and set his goal on becoming a musician. In one episode, Pete mentions that musician Gus Trudeau taught him how to play the cornet. They became friends but when Gus became involved with the mob, Pete left Chicago and headed for Kansas City, Missouri, the series setting. Later, Pete mentions he was a struggling musician who befriended Gus at a union meeting.

He also befriended a piano player named Augie and he and Augie drifted to Kansas City where Pete later formed the Big Seven. Pete would like to do nothing else then play the cornet, but that was not meant to be as trouble seems to find him no matter where he goes. While not an official private detective, Pete becomes a somewhat unofficial source of law and order when he risks his life to help people in trouble.

Pete and the Big Seven play regularly at Lupo's, a brownstone turned funeral parlor turned speakeasy at 17 Cherry Street. "It's a standard speakeasy," says Pete. "The booze is cut but the prices aren't. The beer is good and the whiskey is aged — if you get there later in the day. We play here from 10 P.M. to 4 A.M., with a pizza break at midnight. The hours are bad, but the music suits us. There's one other thing about 17 Cherry Street and that's trouble. You can get it by the yard, the pound, wholesale and retail."

George Lupo owns the speakeasy. "He was the only kid in Linback County who got turned down for reform school," says Pete. "He later fought in the war with the 102nd Infantry and he pays scale — with a five dollar kickback."

Other regulars are Savannah Brown, Pete's friend, a singer at Fat Annie's, a speakeasy on the Kansas side (Annie says, "It's easy to sing the blues — all you need to do is be born when there is rain on the roof") and Johnny Cassiano, an officer with the Kansas City Police Department. Dick Cathcart is the off screen cornet player for Pete; the Marty Matlock Combo provides music for the club scenes.

The program opens with these words: "This one's about Pete Kelly. It's about the world he goes around in; it's about the big music, the big trouble and the big Twenties."

The program is based on the radio series of the same title (NBC, 1951) with Jack Webb as Pete Kelly and Jack Kruschen as George Lupo. The singer at Fat Annie's in this version is Maggie Jackson, played by Meredith Howard. Dick Cathcart is also the off-stage cornet player for Jack Webb. A 1955 theatrical version, called Pete Kelly's Blues, with Jack Webb, Peggy Lee and Ella Fitzgerald appeared next. The series, which produced 13 episodes, ran from April 5, 1959 to September 4, 1959.

6375 Pete 'n' Tillie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/28/74). Pete is a 43-year-old school teacher; Tillie is a 39-year-old social worker. After years of living alone, Pete and Tillie decide to marry and set up housekeeping in San Francisco. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to adjust to marriage. In the pilot episode, Pete tries to break Tillie's habit of becoming personally involved with her welfare clients.

6376 Pete Smith Specialties. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1968). Edited theatrical shorts that depict the humorous problems that befall people in everyday life. The films were originally produced for theaters from 1936 to 1948.

Narrator: Pete Smith. Regulars: Dave O'Brien, Don DeFore.

6377 The Peter and Mary Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1950–1951). A live domestic comedy that focuses on the experiences of Peter and Mary, a husband and wife show business couple who entertain celebrity guests in their New Rochelle (New York) home.

Cast: Peter Lind Hayes (Peter), Mary Healy (Mary), Claude Stroud (Claude; their friend), Mary Wickes (Miss Wickes; their housekeeper).

6378 Peter Gunn. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; ABC; 1958–1961). Peter Gunn is a former cop turned private detective who operates out of Los Angeles, California. He resides at 351 Ellis Park Road. His company is known as both Gunn Investigations and Peter Gunn's Private Detective Agency (established on July 5, 1957).

Peter Gunn is actually the first private detective created for television. Prior detectives, like Mike Hammer, Richard Diamond, Ellery Queen and Martin Kane, were all based on characters appearing in books, on the silver screen or on radio.

Peter Gunn was a bit more sophisticated than his predecessors. He was always well dressed and more reserved and polished. He spoke more respectfully and frequented a classy hangout. However, like those before him, Gunn inherited a flare for violence—whether it was with his fists or gunplay.

Mother's, a waterfront nightclub owned by a woman known only as Mother is the classy hangout Gunn chose to frequent the most although he was seen entering such dives as the Green Cafe, Nate's Hot Dogs and Cooky's, a beatnik coffee house.

Edie Hart, the glamorous and sophisticated singer at Mother's, is Gunn's romantic interest. She lives at the Bartell Hotel, Apartment 15, at 1709 Ver Banna Street, and later became the club's owner; she changed the name to Edie's.

Lieutenant Jacoby of the 13th Precinct of the L.A.P.D. Homicide Squad, is Gunn's police department contact; Babby is one of Gunn's snitches, a diminutive pool hustler; he often tells Peter to "think tall." When he sees that Gunn is troubled, he says, "You've got that eight ball look." Gunn pays his snitches $10 for information. Emmett plays the piano at Mother's.

Note: In 1967, Craig Stevens recreated his role as Peter Gunn in a theatrical film called Gunn. Laura Devon was Edie; Edward Asner, Lieutenant Jacoby; and M.T. Marshall, Mother. The series ran on NBC from September 2, 1958 to September 27, 1960; and on ABC from October 3, 1960 to September 21, 1961. See the next title also.

Cast: Craig Stevens (Peter Gunn), Lola Albright (Edie Hart), Herschel Bernardi (Lt. Jacoby), Hope Emerson (Mother), Minerva Urecal (Mother; later), Billy Barty (Babby), Morris Erby (Sgt. Lee Davis), James Lanphier (Leslie; Edie's Club Maitre d'), Herb Ellis (Wilbur; Cooky's Coffee House owner), Peter Makos (Lieutenant Vasquez), Joseph Kearns (Mr. Bartell; Edie's landlord), Bill Chadney (Emmett). Theme Song: "Peter Gunn" by Henry Mancini.

6379 Peter Gunn. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/23/89). An unsold attempt to revise the 1958–61 series of the same title about Peter Gunn, a suave private detective working out of Los Angeles (here in 1963). In the pilot episode, Gunn attempts to solve a murder that is connected to the mob. Other Regulars: Edie Hart, Gunn's girlfriend, a singer at Mother's Night Club; Police Lieutenant Jacoby; Mother, the club owner; and Speck, Gunn's diminutive information man.

6380 Peter Hunter, Private Eye. (Test Film; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1948). A proposed series about Peter Hunter, a tough private detective working out of New York City.

Cast: Frank Albertson (Peter Hunter).

6381 The Peter Lind Hayes Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1958–1959). Music and song with singers Peter Lind Hayes and his wife Mary Healy. Frank Musiello is the producer.

Hosts: Peter Lind Hayes, Mary Healy. Regulars: Don Cherry, John Bubbles, The Four Voices, The Malagon Sisters. Orchestra: Bert Farber.

6382 Peter Loves Mary. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1960–1961). After 20 years on the road and living out of trunks, Peter Lindsey and his wife, Mary, decide to give up show business and settle down. Peter and Mary (singers and dancers), and their children, Leslie and Steve, move to 130 Maple Street in Oakdale, Connecticut.

Peter and Mary performed in air force shows in the South Pacific during World War II, assisted Bob Hope with his USO tours, and appeared before royalty the world over. They always exited stage left, and the Porter Theatrical Agency represented them. Now, they seek only to settle down and enjoy life with their children (who attend the Oakdale School).

Mary is now a member of the P.T.A., the Garden Club and the Book Club. Peter, who has show business in his blood, performs at the Imperial Room in Manhattan but prefers "the living room circuit" (performing for their friends when Mary gives a party, which she does on a weekly basis). Peter is also president of the Keep Oakdale Beautiful Committee and chairman of the board of the High School Project (to finance the building of the community's first high school). Wilma is their housekeeper; Charlie is Wilma's uncle; Happy Richman is their agent.

Cast: Peter Lind Hayes (Peter Lindsey), Mary Healy (Mary Lindsey), Merry Martin (Leslie Lindsey), Gil

Smith (Steve Lindsey), Bea Benaderet (Wilma), Alan Reed (Happy Richman), Wallace Ford (Charlie).

6383 The Peter Marshall Variety Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1976). Music, songs, comedy and celebrity interviews with Peter Marshall (best known as the host of The Hollywood Squares). The series ran for 19 episodes. David Salzman is the producer.

Host: Peter Marshall. Regulars: Rod Gist, Denny Evans, Chapter 5. Orchestra: Alan Copeland.

6384 Peter Pan and the Pirates. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1990). A faithful animated adaptation of the book Peter Pan. Peter Pan is the fun-loving boy who never grows up. One day he befriends the Darling children (Wendy John, Michael and Tootles) and with the help of his fairy companion, Tinkerbell, gives them the ability to fly and whisks them off to his home in Never Land. Here the evil pirate Captain James T. Hook and his dastardly crew have been terrorizing the land. Stories follow Peter Pan, Tinkerbell and the Darling children as they battle the evils of Captain Hook.

6385 The Peter Potamus Show. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1964). The overall title for three cartoon segments.

1. Peter Potamus. The global adventures of Peter Potamus, a purple hippo, and his friend So So the Monkey.

2. Yippie, Yappie and Yahooy. Three mischievous dogs attempt to guard their king.

3. Breezly and Sneezly. The efforts of Breezly the Polar Bear, and his friend Sneezly the seal, to find warmth in the barracks of an Army post called Camp Frostbite in the North Pole.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Peter Potamus), Don Messick (So So), Hal Smith (Yippie), Daws Butler (Yappie), Daws Butler (Yahooy), Hal Smith (The King), Howard Morris (Breezly), Mel Blanc (Sneezly), John Stephenson (Army Colonel).

6386 Peter Potter's Juke Box Jury. (Series; Discussion; ABC; 1953–1954). Guest Hollywood personalities judge and discuss the merits of just and/or pre-released recordings. Also known as The Peter Potter Show.

An announcer opens the show: "Will it be a hit (sound of a Bong!) or a miss (sound of a Clink!)? Yes, it's The Peter Potter Show, direct from Hollywood, with your host, radio personality Peter Potter and brought to you by Hazel Bishop. Hazel Bishop, makers of Hazel Bishop long-lasting lipstick; Hazel Bishop's long-lasting complexion glow and Hazel Bishop's new long-lasting nail polish. And now, join our Juke Box Jury and your host Peter Potter...."

Host: Peter Potter.

6387 Petrocelli. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1974–1976). Anthony Petrocelli, called Tony, is a Harvard-educated, Italian-American attorney working out of San Remo, a southwestern cattle town with its share of crime and corruption (more than would be expected from such an area). Tony is married to Maggie and Pete Toley works as his investigator although Tony also investigates client's cases to gather additional information. He and Pete often work with Frank Kaiser, the assistant District Attorney and John Clifford, a lieutenant with the San Remo Police Department. Stories follow Tony as he uses what tactics he can, but staying within the limits of the law to defend his clients.

6388 Petticoat Fever. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 11/25/45). A three-act play, first produced on Broadway in 1935, that tells of the boredom felt by Bascom Dinsmore, a radio operator in the Labrador wilds who hasn't seen a beautiful woman in two years. The comedy begins when a Canadian Mounted Policeman and his gorgeous fiancée (Ethel) are forced to share Dinsmore's hut when their plane runs out of gas.

Cast: John McQuade (Bascom Dinsmore), Ann Burr (Ethel), Philip Tonge (Canadian Mountie). Also: Blanche Gladstone, Dorothy Golden, Richard Goode, Robert Humphrey.

6389 Petticoat Junction. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1963–1970). Kate Bradley is a widow and the mother of three beautiful daughters: Billie Jo, Bobbie Jo and Betty Jo. She owns the Shady Rest Hotel in Hooterville, a small farming community of 72 farms. Kate is assisted by her uncle, Joe Carson, the town's fire chief. When there is work to be done, Uncle Joe fakes an attack of lumbago; his favorite place at the hotel is the rocking chair on the front porch.

Billie Jo, the oldest of the Bradley girls, attends class at the Pixley Secretarial School. Bobbie Jo and Betty Jo attend Hooterville High School. In one episode, the girls formed the singing group the Lady Bugs.

Betty Jo married Steve Elliott in fourth season episodes (they later became the parents of a girl they name Kathy Jo). Steve was born in Seattle and became a cropduster when he was discharged from the air force. He crashed his plane in Hooterville when he saw the Bradley girls swimming in the water tower that feeds the local train, the Cannonball Express, and paid more attention to them than to where he was flying. Steve later became partners with Uncle Joe and formed the Carson-Elliott Crop Dusting Company. Prior to his role as Steve, Mike Minor played Don Plout, the son of Kate's archenemy, Selma Plout.

Kate, who has a special recipe called "Bachelor Butter," was replaced as the mother figure on the show in 1968 by Dr. Janet Craig; Bea Benaderet's death that year ended the Kate Bradley character. During Kate's illness, her Cousin Mae and Aunt Helen cared for the family. Boy is the Bradley family dog (actually owned by Betty Jo, whom he followed home from school one day; press releases refer to Boy as the "Shady Rest Dog," played by Higgins).

Communities neighboring Hooterville are Pixley and Crabtree Corners. The Cannonball Express, an 1890s steam engine, coal car and combination mail/baggage/coach car, is owned by the C.F.&W. Railroad. (Railroad vice president Homer Bedloe is the valley's nemesis, as he seeks to scrap the ancient Cannonball.) Charley Pratt is the engineer, and Floyd Smoot is the conductor.

The show's title refers to the Cannonball's watering stop at the Shady Rest Hotel. The Bradley girls swim in the tank on hot days — and their petticoats can be seen hanging over the top rim. In the original, unaired pilot version, Sharon Tate played Billie Jo (she was dropped by the producers of the family oriented show when they learned she had posed for a Playboy layout).

Other Regulars: Sam Drucker, owner of the general store; Norman Curtis, the railroad president; Fred Ziffel, the pig farmer; Doris Ziffel, Fred's wife; Ben Miller and Newt Kiley, farmers; Barton Stuart, the valley doctor (before Janet); Wendell Gibbs, the Cannonball engineer (later); Orrin Pike, the game warden; Selma Plout; Kate's nemesis; Henrietta Plout, Selma's daughter; Herby Bates, a friend of the Bradley girls. Theme: "Petticoat Junction," by Curt Massey.

Cast: Bea Benaderet (Kate Bradley), Edgar Buchanan (Joe Carson), Jeannine Riley (Billie Jo Bradley), Gunilla Hutton (Billie Jo Bradley), Meredith MacRae (Billie Jo Bradley), Pat Woodell (Bobbie Jo Bradley), Lori Saunders (Bobbie Jo Bradley), Linda Kaye Henning (Betty Jo Bradley), Mike Minor (Steve Elliott), June Lockhart (Dr. Janet Craig), Shirley Mitchell (Cousin Mae), Rosemary DeCamp (Aunt Helen), Charles Lane (Homer Bedloe), Smiley Burnette (Charley Pratt), Rufe Davis (Floyd Smoot), Frank Cady (Sam Drucker), Roy Roberts (Norman Curtis), Hank Patterson (Fred Ziffel), Barbara Pepper (Doris Ziffel), Byron Foulger (Wendell Gibbs), Jonathan Daly (Orrin Pike), Regis Toomey (Dr. Barton Stuart), Elvia Allman (Selma Plout), Lynette Winter (Henrietta Plout), Don Washbrook (Herby Bates), Elaine and Danielle Hubbel (Kathy Jo Elliott), Tom Fadden (Ben Miller), Kay E. Kuter (Newt Kiley).

6390 Peyton Place. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1964–1969). Dramatic incidents in the lives of the people of Peyton Place, a small New England town. Based on the novel by Grace Metalious. See also Return to Peyton Place. The series, which produced 514 episodes, ran from September 15, 1964 to June 2, 1969.

6392 The Phantom. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1961). “The natives call him the ghost who walks. The tom toms call him when danger stalks, the Phantom, of a man who never dies...” says the theme about a mysterious figure for justice in Africa called the Phantom. There is no background information on the Phantom. He, along with the rest of the story, is just thrown at the viewer (had it aired) with no explanation as to who he is or why he protects Africa from evil. In the pilot episode, titled “No Escape,” the Phantom goes undercover as a worker on the plantation of a Mrs. Harris to find out who is responsible for the deaths of several workers. Other Regulars: R.G. Mallory, the Commissioner (whom the Phantom helps); and Devil, the Phantom’s German Shepherd. See the following title also.

6393 Phantom 2040. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1984–1985). An adaptation of the comic book of the same title. It is the year 2040, a time when plant and animal life is disappearing and New Brazil is one of the few places in the world where jungles still exist. One man, Kit Walker, Jr., loves nature, but can only get it through the video game Virtual Reality Battle World; he hopes to one day leave the city and become an ecological engineer and work in the jungles of New Brazil.

Kit is an orphan and the son of a father he never really knew — a man who was the Phantom, a mysterious figure who has protected Africa for over 500 years. It was a secret known only by his father’s sister, Eloise (with whom Kit now lives). One day, Kit stumbles upon a secret vault in the house and finds a mysterious skull ring. He then follows a dark hallway and is led to a secret chamber that houses Guran, his late father’s aide. Through Guran Kit learns that in the year 1566 a sailing ship was attacked by pirates from the Bay of Bangala. All the passengers perished, except for one young boy, who was rescued by a native from an African tribe called the Bandai. The boy was raised by the tribe and taught their secret ways. He swore an oath to fight injustice wherever he finds it as the Phantom. For twenty-three generations a Walker has become the Phantom so the world would believe there is only one man — a man who cannot die — the Phantom.

“You are your father’s son,” Guran tells young Kit, “and now it’s your turn.” Guran presents Kit with his costume (the Phase Suit) which has camouflage abilities, a dart gun (to stun enemies) and self-guiding inductor ropes so he too can continue the legend of the Phantom and fight for justice. Stories relate Kit’s battle against evil, particularly the dealings of Rebecca Madison, the owner of Maximum, Inc., who wants to control the world.

Other Regulars: Max, Rebecca’s evil son; Graft, Rebecca’s aide; and Jenna and Tran, Kit’s friends (who are unaware of his secret identity).

Voice Cast: Scott Valentine (Kit/Phantom), Margot Kidder (Rebecca Madison), J.D. Hall (Guran), Ron Perlman (Graft), Jeff Bennett (Maxwell Madison), Kath Soucie (Jenna), Dustin Nguyen (Tran), Carrie Snodgrass (Aunt Eloise).

6394 Phenom. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1993–1994). Angela Doolan is the phenom of the title, a natural at tennis, “a child blessed by the hand of God; something that comes along once in a lifetime,” says her coach Lou Della Rose. Angela, 15, lives at 1728 Avalon Drive in Agora, California, with her mother Dianne, sister Mary Margaret and brother Brian.

Angela won the Sixteen and Under championship of Southern California and is struggling to cope with the demands of potential stardom while at the same time be a normal teenage girl. Angela is a teacher’s dream student; she is left in charge of the class when the teacher steps out and has been voted “most likely to join the order” by the nuns of her school (Miraculous Medal High). Angela practices tennis 35 hours a week and her most embarrassing moment occurred during a tournament match when her halter top slipped and exposed her left breast. Her dream is to win Wimbledon.

Dianne is 42 years old, divorced from Jack and works as a certified shorthand reporter (transcribes notes from tape). Jack, who calls Dianne “Sharkey,” is a former minor league ball player turned beer salesman.

Mary Margaret attends third grade at Miraculous Medal Elementary School. She wears Tom and Jerry socks, has a goldfish (Willie) and hides her money in the head of her Cabbage Patch doll, Brian (named after her brother). Angela likes to talk with Mary Margaret “because she listens, never interrupts and doesn’t understand a word I say.”

Brian, a hopeful art student, attends the Tim Pacaso Art Academy. He works at Hector’s Tacos and previously held a job as the front-gate security guard at the Leisure Time Retirement Home.

Lou lives at 3079 Los Costas and owns the Lou Della Rose Tennis Academy in La Hoya. When someone asks “Who’s Lou Della Rose,” he responds, “Just the best damned tennis coach in history.” He first saw Angela at the Southern California Championships and offered her a full scholarship (she trains there on weekends). Tracy Austin was a student Lou coached to win the U.S. Open.

6395 The Phil Donahue Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1970–1994). A daily talk show that originally presented celebrity interviews but progressed into more controversial guests that tested the limits of television permissiveness (discussions on social issues at the time). Phil Donahue opened the doorway for the more controversial talk shows (Jerry Springer, Oprah Winfrey, as an example) and set a whole new standard that brought the genre out of infancy and into adulthood.

Host: Phil Donahue.

6396 Phil of the Future. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 2004–2007). Parents Lloyd and Barbara Diffy and their teenage children, Phil and Pim, are a normal family of the future (in the year 2121). Lloyd is a positron engineer for the Wizard Corporation; Barbara is a housewife (whose job is made easier by electronic helpers) and Phil and Pim are typical kids of the future — spoiled by the numerous electronic advances that have made education simple.

For their annual vacation, the Diffy's decide to explore various eras in time. Lloyd rents a time machine from Marty's Used Time Machines and Water Slides. During their return trip to the year 2121, the time machine malfunctions and strands them in America in a town called Pickford in the year 2004. Lloyd is unable to repair the time machine and the Diffy's are forced to make the past their home. Also joining them is Curtis, a caveman who stowed away on the time machine when the Diffy's visited the prehistoric era. Stories follow events in the lives of the Diffy's as they struggle to adjust to and fit in the primitive 21st century.

Phil and Pim attend the Herbert G. Wells High School. Phil is friends with Keely Teslow, a girl of our time to whom he reveals his secret (and who becomes involved with all the wacky predicaments futuristic technology involves Phil with). Lloyd disguised the time machine as an RV but is unable to find the parts needed to fix it (not yet invented). Phil is a whiz in math and tries to be the good guy and help people in need. Pim has "shimmering blue lagoon eyes" and loves to play practical jokes; she also has a mean streak and will get even with anyone who crosses her. Keely, Phil's girlfriend, yearns to be a reporter and hosts the school's daily TV newscast. Debbie Berwick is the all-too perfect girl at school who drives Pim batty; Joel Messerschmidt is a stern teacher; and Principal Hackett oversees the school.

Cast: Ricky Ullman (Phil Diffy), Amy Bruckner

(Pim Diffy), Alyson Michalka (Keely Teslow), Lise Simms (Barbara Diffy), Craig Anton (Lloyd Diffy), J.P. Manoux (Curtis), Kay Panabaker (Debbie Berwick), Joel Brooks (Joel Messerschmidt), J.P. Manoux (Principal Hackett).

6397 The Phil Silvers Arrow Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1949). A program of music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Phil Silvers as the host. The series, sponsored by Arrow Shirts, is also known as The Arrow Show. The series ran from December 17, 1948 to May 19, 1949. Wes McKee is the producer.

Host: Phil Silvers. Regulars: Jack Gilford, Connie Sawyer, Jerry Hausner, Len Hale, Herbert Coleman, The Mack Triplets. Orchestra: Harry Salter.

6398 The Phil Silvers Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955–1959). Master Sergeant Ernest Bilko is stationed at the Camp Freemont army base at Fort Baxter in Kansas (later episodes are set in Grove City, California). There, he is in charge of the 3rd Platoon of the Company B Motor Pool (24th Division), and is totally dedicated to acquiring money by manipulating the U.S. Army for his own personal benefit.

Bilko, a master con artist, began his "career" during World War II. At that time he was with the 38th Division and stationed on New Guinea; he supplied the USO girls with something they desperately needed but were unable to get — nylon stockings, at five dollars a pair. After the war, Bilko, a master at pool and cards, was transferred to Fort Baxter where he now commands Company B: Privates Duane Doberman, Dino Paparelli, Sam Fender, Fielding Zimmerman, and Corporal Henshaw. The base cook, Rupert Ritzik, is Bilko's main patsy.

John T. ("Jack") Hall is the commanding officer. Other soldiers are: Corporal Rocco Barbella, Sergeant Francis Grover, Private Mullin, Private Lester Mendelsohn, Private Greg Chickering and Sergeant Stanley Sowicki. WAC Master Sergeant Joan Hogan is Bilko's girlfriend; "Stacked" Stacy is the waitress at the local diner. The series was originally titled You'll Never Get Rich and is also known as Sergeant Bilko.

Cast: Phil Silvers (Sgt. Ernest Bilko), Paul Ford (Col. John T. Hall), Maurice Gosfield (Pvt. Duane Doberman), Billy Sands (Pvt. Dino Paparelli), Herbie Faye (Pvt. Sam Fender), Mickey Freeman (Pvt. Fielding Zimmerman), Allan Melvin (Corporal Henshaw), Joe E. Ross (Sgt. Rupert Ritzik), Elisabeth Fraser (Sgt. Joan Hogan), Billy Sands (Pvt. Dino Paparelli), Herbie Faye (Pvt. Sam Fender), Mickey Freeman (Pvt. Fielding Zimmerman), Harvey Lembeck (Cpl. Rocco Barbella), Jimmy Little (Sgt. Francis Grover), Jack Healy (Private Mullin), Gerald Hiken (Pvt. Lester Mendelsohn), Bruce Kirby (Pvt. Greg Chickering), Harry Clark (Sgt. Stanley Sowicki), Walter Cartier (Private Dillingham), P.J. Sidney (Pvt.

P.J. Palmer), Hope Sansberry (Nell Hall; John's wife), Nelson Olmstead (Captain Hodges), John Gibson (Chaplain), Barbara Barrie (Edna; a nurse), Beatrice Pons (Emma Ritzik; Rupert's wife), Danny Dayton (Sergeant Coogan), Nicholas Saunders (Captain Barker), Ned Glass (Sgt. Andy Pendleton), Tige Andrews (Private Gander), Maurice Brenner (Private Fleishman), Kay Lighter (Helen; a WAC), Julie Newmar ("Stacked" Stacy), Heywin Broome, Jr. (Major Spangler; post doctor), Sal Dano (Angelo Barbella; Rocco's brother), Skippy Colby (Edna; Hall's secretary), Betty Walker (Hattie Fender; Sam's wife), Toni Romer (Agnes Sowicki; Stanley's wife), George Richards (Stanley Sowicki, Jr.; Stanley's son), Doreen McLean (Joan's mother), Harry Adams (Joan's father), George Kennedy (Various M.P. roles). Announcer: Bern Bennett. Theme: "Bilko's Theme" by John Strauss.

6399 Philbert. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced for in 1962). A Philbert comic book sells for twenty cents. It is drawn by a man named Griff and it is about a talkative, know-it-all little man. One day Philbert comes to life (in animated form) to help guide Griff's life. The proposed series was to relate the mishaps that befall Griff as he struggles to cope with a diminutive man he can't control (Philbert lives on Griff's drawing board; Griff's dog, Hap, can also see him). In the pilot episode, titled "Three's a Crowd," Philbert tries to break up the romance between Griff and his girlfriend, Angela, when he discovers that "no husband of mine is going to work writing jokes for a living (referring to the Philbert comic book); I'll make something out of him."

6400 Philbin's People. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1969–1970). A late night talk show (12:30 A.M. to 2:00 A.M.) wherein host Regis Philbin conducts a roundtable discussion on current topics of interest with five guest panelists.

6401 Philby. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/21/89). The Betty Randall Show is a talk program hosted by Betty Randall, a beautiful woman with a knack for bringing out the worst in her guests. To protect her, the station hires Philip "Philby" Arenzo, an obnoxious bodyguard. The unsold series was to relate Philby's experiences with the cast, crew and guests of Betty's show. Other Regulars: Mickey, Betty's manager; Don, the producer.

Cast: Terrence Mann (Philby "Philby" Arenzo), Fionola Hughes (Betty Randall), Ken Lerner (Mickey), Peter White (Don). Guest Cast: Dennis Cole (Van Gilroy), Julio Medina (Ricardo), Jerry Tullios (Taylor).

6402 The Philco Television Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1948–1956). A series of quality dramas featuring both well-known and lesser-known actors and actresses. The series aired under its own title (and under sponsorship of the Equity-Philco Company) from October 3, 1948 to October 7, 1951. On October 21, 1951, it began alternating with The Goodyear Theater (until August 21, 1955). On September 4, 1955 both Philco and Goodyear theaters began alternating with The Alcoa Hour (which premiered on October 16, 1955). By February 12, 1956, The Philco Television Playhouse had its last showing, being displaced by both Alcoa and Goodyear.

Host: Bert Lytell (1948–49). Performers Include: Jane Seymour, Joyce Van Patten, Patten, Ralph Bellamy, Walter Abel, Bing Crosby, Cameron Mitchell, Peggy Wood, Lillian Gish, Dorothy Gish, Leo G. Carroll, Patricia Kirkland, William Redfield, Jose Ferrer, Phyllis Kirk, Frances Reid, Patricia Breslin, Janet Blake, Mary McCord, Anthony Quinn, Jean Carson, Claire Luce, E.G. Marshall, John Newland, Alfred Ryder, Eli Wallach, Leora Dana, Lili Palmer, Cara Williams, Burgess Meredith, Margaret Hayes, Leslie Nielsen, Barbara Joyce, John Ireland, Cloris Leachman, Walter Matthau, Audra Lindley, Rod Steiger, Nancy Marchand, Constance Ford, John Forsythe, Eva Marie Saint.

6403 Philip Marlowe. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1959–1960). Philip Marlowe is a rugged private detective who wanders from state to state to track down criminals and solve crimes. Stories follow his case investigations as he not only dishes out the rough stuff, but often becomes a recipient of rough treatment from those he is pursuing. Based on the character created by Raymond Chandler.

Cast: Philip Carey (Philip Marlowe).

6404 Philip Marlowe, Private Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; HBO; 1983). Los Angeles during its turbulent era of criminal unrest, the 1930s, is the setting. Philip Marlowe is a hard-boiled private detective struggling to make a living amid the turmoil that exists. He is tough and feels he has to be to survive doing what he does. He believes a private eye's profession is not an easy one; but by bending the law to suit his own purpose he can stay one step ahead of the felons he is seeking. Marlowe has an uneasy alliance with the police (especially Lieutenant Magee) who feel that Marlowe's breaking the law to achieve results makes him as guilty as the felons he is chasing. Annie Riorden, Marlowe's lovely girlfriend, often fears for Philip's life, and often becomes a part of the dangerous (and tough) cases he investigates. The series, originally titled Chandlerstown relates Marlowe's unorthodox investigations into cases that start off simply but escalate into baffling crimes that, despite what the police believe, are glad when Marlowe solves them. Based on characters created by Raymond Chandler.

Cast: Powers Boothe (Philip Marlowe), Kathryn Leigh Scott (Annie Riorden), William Kearns (Lieutenant Magee). Theme: "Marlowe's Theme" by Moe Kaufman.

6405 Philip Morris Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953–1954). Live dramas, sponsored by Philip Morris Cigarettes, that ran from October 8, 1953 to March 4, 1954.

Host: Charles Martin, Kent Smith. Announcer: Joe King.

6406 Phillip and Barbara. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/31/76). The comic adventures of Phillip and Barbara Logan, a married couple who are employed as television script writers.

Cast: John Astin (Phillip Logan), Patty Duke (Barbara Logan), Rosemary DeCamp (Edna), Ann Prentiss (Shirley), Leonard Frey (George), Alex Henteloff (Roger), Patti Jerome (Secretary).

6407 Philly. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2001–2002). Kathleen Maguire is a young woman with one powerful ambition: the pursuit of justice. She is a criminal lawyer in a small Philadelphia firm who devotes all her energies to defending clients. Kathleen is divorced (from Daniel Cavanaugh, the District Attorney) and is the mother of 10-year-old Patrick. Kathleen is raising Patrick as a single mother and economic necessity forces her to represent just about anybody with a legit claim.

Patrick has been shattered by the divorce. He is a bright child and has a knack for playing one parent against the other. Daniel always seizes upon the opportunity to make Kathleen look bad in front of Patrick.

Other regulars are Will Froman, Kathleen's partner; Terry Loomis, the Assistant D.A.; and Patricia, Kathleen's receptionist.

Cast: Kim Delaney (Kathleen Maguire), Kyle Secor (Daniel Cavanaugh), Scotty Leavenworth (Patrick Cavanaugh), Tom Everett (Will Froman), Rick Hoffman (Terry Loomis), Diana Maria-Riva (Patricia), Veronica Hamel (Judge Marjorie Brennan), Dena Dietrich (Judge Ellen Armstrong), Ron Canada (Judge Henry Griffin).

6408 Philly Heat. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/1/95). Battalion 6 of Engine Company 31, Ladder 7, is the busiest fire house in Philadelphia. Stan Kelly is the newly appointed chief and through his eyes the work of firefighters is depicted. In the pilot episode, Laura Walker, a firefighter whose husband was killed in the line of duty, struggles to make a comeback while Stan struggles to establish his authority over a firehouse that was run by a man called "Gentle" Ben Dalton.

6409 The Phoenix. (Pilot; Fantasy; ABC; 4/26/81). During an archaeological expedition in Peru, Dr. Ward Frazier discovers a gold sarcophagus that bears the seal of the Phoenix (the ancient symbol of rebirth).

The sarcophagus is brought to Los Angeles where tests reveal that it contains a well-preserved humanoid that is linked with ancient Egypt. When the sarcophagus's seal is broken, an extraterrestrial being named Benu is awakened and emerges into a hostile twentieth century. Possessed of superhuman powers (which he derives from the sun), Benu, who is actually an ancient astronaut awakened before his time, escapes from the center for Astro Archaeology. The pilot episode depicts Benu's first experiences in his new world and his association with Noel Marshall*, a photo journalist who offers to help Benu discover his destiny: why he was awakened and what his mission is. Other Regulars: Diego, the Peruvian government official seeking to capture Benu for his country.

Note: When Noel is killed in a car accident caused by Diego, Benu vows to avenge her death by using his abilities to help mankind. A premise changed for the series (next title) which depicts only Benu's attempts to discover the purpose of his mission on Earth.

Cast: Judson Scott (Benu of the Golden Light), E.G. Marshall (Dr. Ward Frazier), Fernando Allende (Diego DeVarga). Guest Cast: Shelley Smith (Noel Marshall), Daryl Anderson (Dr. Cliff David), Stanley Kamel (Murray), Terry Jastrom (Hood), Lyman Ward (Howard), Hersha Parady (Lynn), Jimmy Mair (Timmy).

6410 The Phoenix. (Series; Fantasy; ABC; 1982). A series based on the prior title that changes the original concept somewhat. Benu, the ancient astronaut awakened before his time, was free in the pilot episode (helping mankind while seeking his purpose). When the series begins, Benu has been captured but later manages to escape his captors. He begins a search to find Mira, his partner from the planet El DeBrande. Mira, it is learned, is the woman who knows Benu's earthly mission, which is to affect the earth's future. Stories depict Benu's search for Mira, whom he believes is entombed in Indian burial grounds north of the 30th parallel, and his attempts to escape from Pre-minger, the man who believes Benu is an ancient astronaut and seeks to capture him. Other Regulars: Dr. Frazier, the man who found Benu.

Cast: Judson Scott (Benu of the Golden Light), Richard Lynch (Pre-minger), E.G. Marshall (Dr. Ward Frazier), Sheila Frazier (Mira).

6411 Photocrime. (Test Film; Crime Drama; CBS; 10/2/45). "Photocrime" was a special feature of Look magazine. This test was an attempt to dramatize the photo stories from the magazine. In the story, "Death Comes to Broadway," a penniless, wanted criminal (Harry) seeking to escape to another state, sends his dim-witted wife (Angie) to secure funds from an underworld friend (Vincent). Harry is unaware that Vincent wants him dead and the tale follows Vincent's efforts to achieve his goal by offering Angie money to kill Harry.

Cast: Sidney Blackmer (Harry), Mary Orr (Angie), Robert Emhardt (Vincent). Also: George Blackwood, Harry Gersham, Phil Kramer, Sid Martoff.

6412 Photocrime. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1949). Hannibal Cobb is an inspector with the New York City Police Department. He is a rather gentle person who takes life one step at a time. He is persistent when it comes to investigating crimes but prefers the least violent means to solve them. Hannibal is also a man who thrives on crime scene photographs to stir his deductive abilities. He feels that photographs often possess clues that are often overlooked when crime scenes are first inspected for evidence. Stories follow Hannibal's efforts to solve crimes, usually murders. The series ran from September 21, 1949 to December 14, 1949.

Cast: Chuck Webster (Inspector Hannibal Cobb).

6413 Photon. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1986). Before the beginning of time there existed Photon, the source of all power in the universe. For unknown reasons, Photon exploded and divided itself into two separate universes — one good, the other evil, with both seeking to control all the power of the Photon.

In an attempt to help good defeat evil (in particular the Warlord of Arr), a group of aliens (Tivia, Lord Beathan, Uncle Pike, Parcival and Leon) ban together to fight the Warlord. Seeking additional help, the aliens recruit Christopher Jarvis (alias Bhodi Li), an exceptional earthling who agrees to help them. Stories relate the Photon Warriors efforts to defeat the Warlord and protect the cosmos from his evil attempts to rule it.

Cast: Christopher Lockwood (Bhodi Li), Loretta Haywood (Tivia), Graham Ravey (Lord Beathan), Eros Rivers (Parcival), Akiyoshi Ono (Leon), Kazuhisa Kahamaru (Uncle Pike), David Anthony (Mandaar), Techchi Igarashi (Docaar), Yoshito Nagatsuka (Destructaar).

6414 Phyl and Mikhy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1980). Phyllis ("Phyl") Wilson is a pretty American track star for Pacific Western University (Pac West U for short). She lives with her father, Max Wilson, at 11 Evergreen Place; Max is the track coach at Pac West U.

Mikhail ("Mikhy") Orlov is a Russian track star who has come to the United States for a meet at Pac West U. He and Phyl meet and fall in love. Mikhy defects, and he and Phyl marry. Stories follow the lives of the two young adults from different worlds as they attempt to make their marriage work.

Mikhy is a promising decathlon champion and a hope for the gold medal for the Soviet Union in the 1980 Olympics. He calls Phyl "Phyliska" and Max "Dead" (actually "Dad," but with his Russian accent it comes out "Dead"). Phyl calls Mikhy "my Russian Bear."

Mikhy earns $85 a week by caring for the lawn of the college president.

Eugene ("Truck") Morley is Max's friend and the president of the Pac West U Alumni Association. He is "the number one distributor of fiberglass patio covers." Vladimir Gimenko is the Soviet agent who is seeking to return Mikhy to the Motherland; Gwyn Bates is widower Max's romantic interest. Rod Parker and Hal Cooper composed the "Phyl and Mikhy" theme.

Cast: Murphy Cross (Phyllis Wilson Orlov), Rick Lohman (Mikhy Orlov), Larry Haines (Max Wilson), Michael Pataki (Vladimir Gimenko), Jack Dodson (Edgar "Truck" Morley), Rae Allen (Gwyn Bates), Deborah Pratt (Connie), Valerie Landsburg (Beth), Karen Werner (Karen), Debbie Kelman (Debbie), Sammy Jones (TV Announcer).

6415 Phyllis. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1975–1977). A spin-off from The Mary Tyler Moore Show where the character of Phyllis Lindstrom was depicted as Mary Richards friend and landlord. After the death of her never-seen husband, Lars, Phyllis and her daughter Bess move from Minneapolis to San Francisco to begin new lives. They acquire a home at 4482 Bayview Drive and first season episodes depict Phyllis as an assistant to Julie Erskine, the owner of Erskine's Commercial Photography Studio. Second season episodes drop the photography studio storyline and find Phyllis as the administrative assistant to Dan Valenti, an executive for the San Francisco Board of Supervision. Stories, in both formats, relate Phyllis's mishaps as she attempts to adjust to the business world.

Other regulars are Leo Heatherton, Julie's photographer; Audrey Dexter, Phyllis's mother-in-law; Jonathan Dexter, Audrey's husband; Sally Dexter, Jonathan's mother; Leonard Marsh, Dan's associate; Harriet Hastings, Leonard's assistant; Mark Valenti, Dan's nephew; Arthur Lanson, Sally's boyfriend; Van Horn, the park wino who befriends Phyllis.

6416 The Phyllis Diller Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1966–1967). The mid-season title for The Pruitts of Southampton. See this title for information.

6417 The P.I. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 3/28/76). A proposed spin-off from Bronk about Frank Carey a former gun-shy secret service agent turned roughneck private investigator. In the pilot episode, Carey attempts to collar “The Vigilante,” a killer who takes it upon himself to do away with criminals who are freed through legal loopholes.

Cast: Vic Morrow (Frank Carey). Guest Cast: Jack Palance (Alex “Bronk” Bronkov), Cameron Mitchell (Mankowski), Tiffany Bolling (Veronica), Jon Cypher (Lundeen), Carole Cook (Beatrice), Norman Alden (Velig), Meg Wyllie (Mrs. Dexter), Eric Server (Chief Evans).

6418 The P.I. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 3/3/94). A proposed spin-off from Matlock. Jessica “Jessie” Morgan is young and beautiful and eager to strike out on her own as an artist. Despite her friend, Ben Matlock’s advice that she attend college in Atlanta, Jessie is set on enrolling in the Los Angeles Art Institute.

When Jessie arrives in L.A., she moves in with a girlfriend (Michelle) but soon finds she has no place to live when her friend steals her money and skips town. With no other choice, Jessie decides to look up her father, Max Morgan, who deserted the family when she was just a kid.

Max is rather untidy, loves to gamble, is always broke and runs a two-bit private detective agency called Morgan Investigations. Max agrees to let Jessie stay with him until she finds a job. When Max needs help investigating a case involving Oscar Treadwell, who has been accused of murdering his wife, he enlists Jessie’s help to find the person responsible for framing Oscar. When they resolve the case Max asks Jessie to stay with him so he can make things up to her. Jessie feels they work well together — and they become a team. The unsold series was to relate the investigations of a father and daughter team of private investigators. Other Regulars: Allison Darnell, a detective with the L.A.P.D.

6419 Piccadilly Palace. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1967). A weekly program of performances by guest celebrities from London’s famed Piccadilly Palace theater. The series ran from May 20, 1967 to September 2, 1967. Colin Crews and Philip Casson are the producers.

Hosts: Millicent Martin. Regulars: Eric Morecambe, Ernie Wise, The Michael Sammes Singers, The Paddy Stone Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

6420 Pick and Pat. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). Songs by Mary Small and comedy from Jack Carter are interspersed with minstrel skits featuring hosts Pick and Pat. The short-lived series ran from January 20, 1949 to March 17, 1949.

6421 Pick Your Brain. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1993). Children between the ages of 11 and 15 compete in a question and answer session for a chance to win a $100 college savings bond. There are no special production values here or fancy graphics and no difficult rules to follow. The host poses a question. The first player to sound a buzzer signal receives a chance to answer. A correct response scores the player a point; the player with the highest point score is the winner and receives the savings bond.

Host: Marc Summers. Co-Host: Meredith Summers.

6422 Picket Fences. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1992–1996). Rome, Wisconsin, is a small town characterized by strange citizens and unusual crimes. There is Peter Breck (Michael Jeter), a man fascinated by frogs and called “The Frogman.” K.C. McDonald (Jessica Tuck), called “The Snake Lady,” collects snakes and carries a boa with her at all times. Frank Tucker (David Provall) is a man obsessed with potatoes and carries a five pound bag of Idaho potatoes with him wherever he goes; he has earned the nickname “Frank the Potato Man.” There is the mysterious and unknown “Serial Bather,” a man who breaks into people’s homes when they are out to take a bath; and Louise Talbot (Natalija Nagulich), the town’s transsexual schoolteacher; before her sex change, she was Walter Souder.

Dealing justice to anyone who breaks the law is Jimmy Brock, the local sheriff, and his deputies, Maxine Stewart and Kenny Locas. Jimmy is married to Jill and the father of three children: Kimberly, Matthew and Zachary. The Brocks are Protestant and live at 211 Willow Road.

Jimmy, the son of criminal attorney Walter Brock (James Coburn), was previously married to a woman named Lydia (Cristine Rose), who is Kimberly’s birth mother. A year after divorcing Lydia, Jimmy married Jill and moved to Rome because it was safe. Jill is a private practice doctor who is also on call at Norwood Hospital, later said to be Thayer Hospital.

Kimberly is 16 years old and attends Rome High School. She plays the piano and has aspirations of becoming a singer; this changed in later episodes when she became a clerk to the town’s legal eagle, Douglas Wambaugh, and set her sights on becoming a lawyer.

Kimberly likes to dress provocatively to impress boys but is stopped from doing so by Jill, who refuses to let her leave the house in attire such as ripped jeans and bosom-revealing blouses. The series took a bold step forward in the episode of April 29, 1993, “Sugar and Spice,” when Kimberly begins to question her sexuality. She is talking to her girlfriend, Lisa Fenn (Alexondra Lee), when Lisa brings up the prospect of what it would be like to kiss a girl. Kimberly is reluctant to try it until Lisa tells her how erotic she read it was. They become curious and kiss, possibly the first such erotic kiss on TV. Both appear to like it, but Kimberly has a serious side effect: is she a lesbian or is she straight. The series ended without really resolving Kimberly's dilemma.

Matthew and Zachary attend Fisher Elementary School. Matthew envisions himself as a detective while Zachary shows promise of becoming a musician—he plays trombone. Jimmy is also musically inclined and plays the saxophone.

The sheriff's department is located in the Rome City Hall Building in Hogan County. Maxene, called Max, and Kenny ride in a patrol car with the code 2181. Max is famous for ending the murdering careers of "The Green Bay Chopper" and "The Cupid Killer"; she was forced to shoot them. In her youth, Max had sexy lingerie pictures of her taken so that when she becomes old she could see how beautiful she once was. Kenny was born in Illinois and was a former Golden Gloves Boxer.

Douglas Wambaugh is the town's outspoken Jewish attorney. He will take any case "because Wambaugh is on the side of principle" and requires two things: The truth and a $1,000 retainer. Ann Guilbert, then Erica Yohn, played Douglas's nagging wife, Myriam.

Carter Pike is the town's medical examiner or "Chief Pathologist" as he calls himself. He yearns to become a detective but finds he is unable due to his uncontrollable urge to perform autopsies. Rachel Harris is the town's ultra-sexy mayor. She suffers from an inferiority complex and when she becomes troubled she dresses in her cheerleader outfit—"It gives me confidence," she says. She was the Rome High School Cheerleading Champion in 1967. Henry Bone is the tough, no nonsense judge who rules from the Hogan County Court House. Stewart Levin composed the theme "Picket Fences."

Cast: Tom Skerritt (Jimmy Brock), Kathy Baker (Jill Brock), Holly Marie Combs (Kimberly Brock), Justin Shenkarow (Matthew Brock), Adam Wylie (Zachary Brock), Lauren Holly (Maxine Stewart), Costas Mandylor (Kenny Locas), Fyvush Finkel (Douglas Wambaugh), Kelly Connell (Carter Pike), Leigh-Taylor Young (Rachel Harris), Ray Walston (Henry Bone).

6423 Pictionary. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1989). Two three-member teams of children compete. In Round One, the Relay Round, two categories are shown. One team picks the category; the other team must play. Each member of the team at play receives 20 seconds with which to draw pictures associated with the category topic. While one player draws, the teammates must identify the picture. Each correct identification scores one point. The opposing team competes in the same manner. In Round Two, the Puzzle Round, each team picks one player to sketch pictures that will identify a specific topic. Each correct guess wins the team 10 points. In the third round, one member of each team is selected to draw. Players draw in turn—but any team can guess by pressing a buzzer signal. If correct, that team scores points; if not, the opposing team receives a chance. The team with the highest score is the winner and is awarded prizes.

Host: Brian Robbins. Score Keeper: Julie Friedman. Judge: Kirk Zumwalt. Announcer: Harry Stevens.

6424 Pictionary. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1997). Two teams, each composed of two celebrities and one non-celebrity contestant, compete. Round one finds one player attempting to convey a phrase that shares a common word (for example, fire truck, fire house) to his teammate. Each correct identification awards the team $100. Round two increases the time from 45 seconds to three minutes to give each member of each team a turn at guessing and giving clues. One hundred dollars is again awarded for each correct response. The team with the highest cash score wins the game and plays the bonus round. Here, one member is chosen to be the artist and must draw items that relate one word to the next (for example, if the key word is chair, then the related words are table, seat, legs, etc.). The team has 90 seconds. Each word guessed by the teammate scores money ($100 for the first four words; $300 for words five to seven; $1,000 for each additional word).

Host: Alan Thicke. Announcer: Joe Cipriano.

6425 Picture This. (Series; Game; CBS; 1963). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One member of each team is given a phrase that is concealed from his partner. The player with the phrase then directs his partner by telling him what clues to draw to identify it. The "artist" who is first to identify the phrase wins the round and scores points. The game is played so as to allow all players to share equally on directing and drawing. The team with the highest point score is the winner and receives a cash prize. The summer series ran from June 25, 1963 to September 17, 1963.

Host: Jerry Van Dyke.

6426 Picture Window. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/8/61). Events in the lives of Amy and Joe Saxton, a suburban couple fraught with problems. In the pilot episode, Amy seeks a way to break into society while Joe struggles to get himself out of hock.

Cast: Mary LaRoche (Amy Saxton), Charles Stewart (Joe Saxton), Peter Oliphant (Peter Saxton; their son).

6427 A Piece of Cake. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/15/90). Wally and Lionel are brothers-in-law (Wally is married to Doreen and Lionel to her sister, Tanya) and business partners as the co-owners of Wally's Bakery Shop. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures at home and at work.

Cast: Cleavant Derricks (Wally), T.K. Carter (Lionel), Vanessa Bell Calloway (Doreen), Tonya Williams (Tanya). Guest Cast: Hiram Kasten (Mitch), Liz Sheridan (Mrs. Katz), Mary Bond Davis (Mrs. Wilson).

6428 The Pigeon. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 11/4/69). A proposed series about Larry Miller, an easy-going private detective working out of Los Angeles. The pilot episode relates Miller's efforts to help a girl (Barbara) on the run from gangsters, who doesn't want his help. Other Regulars: Police Lieutenant Frank Miller, Larry's father; and Dave Williams, Larry's partner.

6429 Pine Canyon Is Burning. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/18/77). William Stone, the widowed father of two children (Margaret and Michael) is a fire captain who transfers from the city to the wilds of Pine Canyon, California, as the operator of a one-man fire rescue station to enable him to be with his kids during the day while at work and at night. The unsold series was to relate Stone's experiences as he tries to keep Pine Canyon from burning. Other Regulars: Anne, the school teacher; and Captain Ed Wilson, a fireman.

Cast: Kent McCord (William Stone), Megan McCord (Margaret Stone), Shane Sinutko (Michael Stone), Brit Lind (Anne Walker), Andrew Duggan (Ed Wilson). Guest Cast: Doreen Long (Edna Wilson), Diana Muldaur (Sandra), Dick Bakalyan (Charlie Edison).

6430 Pine Lake Lodge. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 6/61). A proposed spin-off from Mister Ed about Bill Parker, the owner-operator of Pine Lake Lodge, a mountain vacation resort. In the pilot episode, Wilbur and Carol Post decide to visit their friend, Bill and become involved in his attempt to build benches and chairs for a children's summer camp. Other Regulars: Martha, Bill's assistant; Ann, Bill's niece; Cindy, Ann's daughter; and Milo, the handyman. Originally produced as The Bill Bendix Show.

Cast: William Bendix (Bill Parker), Nancy Kulp (Martha), Coleen Gray (Ann), Marlene DeLamater (Cindy), John Quaylen (Milo Simmons). Guest Cast: Alan Young (Wilbur Post), Connie Hines (Carol Post), John Bryant (Jerry Moffat), Will Wright (J.F. Thompson), Elvia Allman (Ida Brenner), Marjorie Bennett (Birdwatcher), Michael Monroe and Marlo Ryan (Young couple).

6431 Pink Lady. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1980). Music, songs and comedy featuring American host Jeff Altman and Japan's top rated singers, Pink Lady, as his co-hosts.

Host: Jeff Altman. Co-Host: Pink Lady (Mei and Kei). Regulars: Sid Caesar (as Mei and Kei's father), Sherry Eiken, Anna Mathias, Jim Varney, The Peacock Dancers. Orchestra: Matthew McCauley.

6432 The Pink Panther. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1969–1979). The Pink Panther is a non-talking and non discouraging animal that evolved from "The Pink Panther Theme" by Henry Mancini (and seen in animated form in various Pink Panther movie theme songs). In addition to relating the antics of the Pink Panther, the program also features animated segments devoted to Inspector Clouseau (the bumbling French detective), The Ant and the Aardvark, Texas Toads and Mister Jaw. Also titled The Pink Panther Laugh & Half Hour and a Half Show.

Host: Lennie Schultz. Voices: John Byner, Dave Barry, Paul Frees, Rich Little, Marvin Miller, Mel Blanc, Athena Ford, June Foray, Arte Johnson, Joan Gerber, Barry Mann, Pat Harrington, Paul Winchell, Hal Smith, Larry Storch, Frank Welker, Tom Lee Holland.

6433 Pink Panther and Sons. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1984–1985). A spin-off from The Pink Panther that relates the antics of Pinky and Panky, the mischievous offspring of movie land's Pink Panther (from the song of the same name by Henry Mancini).

Voices: Robert Arbogast, Billy Bowles, Hamilton Camp, Rich Cimino Peter Cullen, Rick Dees, Marshall Efrom, Jeannie Elias, Paul Ely, Phil Hartman, Erv Immerman, Ralph James, Allan Laurie, Sherry Linn, Don Messick, Cliff Norton, Neilson Ross, William Schallert, B.J. Ward, Frank Welker, William Windom.

6434 Pinky and Company. (Experimental; Comedy; NBC; 7/28/39). Vaudeville comic Pinky Lee and two unidentified assistants (a man and a woman) perform various comedy sketches. Edward Sobol is the producer.

6435 Pinky and the Brain. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1995–1998). Pinky, a dim-witted mouse and his friend, the Brian, a genius, are genetically engineered white mice who live in a cage at Acme Labs. The Brain has one never-ending goal: to conquer the world. He comes up with seemingly ingenious plans and each night, when the lab closes, Pinky and the Brain escape from their cage and attempt to do the impossible—take over the world. Unfortunately, Pinky accompanies Brain and more often than not, manages to throw a monkey wrench into the works and foul up Brain's plan. But don't fret—"there is always tomorrow night and a new plan to take over the world."

The series is a spin-off from Animaniacs where short Pinky and the Brain segments occasionally aired. After its initial run, it returned for a short-lived 1998 spin-off called Pinky, Elmyra and the Brain. See this title for information.

Voice Cast: Maurice LaMarche (The Brain), Rob Paulsen (Pinky).

6436 Pinky, Elmyra and the Brain. (Series; Cartoon; WB; 1998–1999). A spin-off from Pinky and the Brain. Pinky and the Brain are two genetically engineered white mice that live in a cage at Acme Labs. Brain has plans to take over the world and each night he and Pinky escape from their cage to set one such plan in motion (always foiled by Pinky's blundering). When Acme Labs closes, the lab mice find themselves being adopted by Elmyra Duff, a little girl who loves animals so much (too much) that they can't wait to escape from her bedroom and live anywhere else. Now, living in a cage in Elmyra's bedroom, the Brain still plots to take over the world, but this time, he must keep the secret from Elmyra, avoid her and Pinky's continual antics and deal with Rudy Mookich, the neighborhood bully.

Voice Cast: Rob Paulsen (Pinky), Maurice LaMarche (The Brain), Cree Summer (Elmyra Duff), Nancy Cartwright (Rudy Mookich).

6437 The Pinky Lee Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1950). The program showcases the burlesque-style humor of comedian Pinky Lee as seen through the antics of a fumbling stage hand who is called upon to fill in for indisposed performers. The prime time series ran from April 19, 1950 to November 9, 1950.

Cast: Pinky Lee (Pinky), William Bakewell (Stage Manager).

6438 The Pinky Lee Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1956). A program of music, songs, circus variety acts and burlesque like comedy routines. The series aired on a daily basis from January 4, 1950 to May 11, 1956; and on Saturday from March 5, 1955 to June 9, 1956. Lee Warren and Larry White are the producers.

Host: Pinky Lee. Regulars: Betty Jane Howarth (as Lily Chrysanthemum), Roberta Shore, Mel Knootz, Jimmy Brown. Announcer: Ken Mayer. Music: The Charlie Couch Trio.

6439 Pioneer Spirit. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/21/69). Dissatisfied with city life, Jeff Wilson, a route map maker for the Los Angeles Automobile Club, convinces his wife (Cherry) and his friends (Harvey and Carl) to move to Nome, Alaska, where they can get 1600 acres of land free if they homestead it. The unsold series was to relate their adventures as homesteaders. In the pilot episode, titled "Yo for Alaska," Jeff, Harvey and Carl quit their jobs, convince their wives to move — and begin their trek to Alaska. Other Regulars: Ada, Harvey's wife; and Jenny, Carl's wife.

Cast: Rich Little (Jeff Wilson), Marcia Rodd (Cherry Wilson), Roy Clark (Harvey), Donna Jean Young (Ada), Craig Huebing (Carl), Francine York (Jenny). Guest Cast: Jonathan Hole (Pringle), William O'Connell (Clerk). Theme Vocal: "Pioneer Spirit" by Roy Clark.

6440 Pioneer Woman. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 12/19/73). Following the death of her husband (John), a courageous young woman (Margaret Sergeant) decides to begin a new life with her children (Sarah and Jeremy) as homesteaders in the rugged Wyoming territory of 1867. The unsold series was to relate Margaret's efforts to make a life for herself and her children.

Cast: Joanna Pettet (Margaret Sergeant), Helen Hunt (Sarah Sergeant), Russell Baer (Jeremy Sergeant). Guest Cast: William Shatner (John Sergeant), David Janssen (Robert Douglas), Lance LeGault (Joe Wormser), Les Kimber (Jordan Seymour), John Murrell (Henry Seymour), Bob Koons (William Seymour), Linda Kupecek (Philippa Wormser).

6441 The Pioneers. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1964). The syndicated title for 104 selected episodes of Death Valley Days. See this title for information. Will Rogers, Jr. is the host.

6442 Pip the Piper. (Series; Children; ABC; NBC; 1961–1962). Pipertown is a magical and musical city in the clouds. The fantasy-like adventures of Pip the Piper and his friends Miss Merrynote and Mr. Leader, the buffoon, are showcased as they present music, songs and related entertainment for children. The series ran on ABC from January 1, 1961 to May 28, 1961; and on NBC from June 24, 1961 to September 22, 1962.

Cast: Jack Spear (Pip the Piper), Phyllis Spear (Miss Merrynote), Lucien Kaminsky (Mr. Leader).

6443 Piper's Pets. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/31/79). Dr. Donald Piper is a competent veterinarian with a noticeable flaw: he is very nervous and easily excitable. He is assisted by Lester, a not-too-bright vet who has a knack for upsetting him and the unsold series was to focus on Dr. Piper as he tries to maintain his composure amid the numerous aggravations that plague him. Other Regulars: Maggie, Lester's wife; and Thelma, Donald's receptionist.

Cast: Don Knotts (Dr. Donald Piper), Peter Isackson (Lester), Maggie Roswell (Maggie), Jacque Lynn Colton (Thelma).

6444 Pippi Longstocking. (Pilot; Fantasy; ABC; 1/8/61). Susan is a pretty but lonely young girl whose dreams of a magical girl come to life for her and the viewer as Pippilotta Delicatessa Windowshade Mackrelmint Efram Longstocking, better known as Pippi Longstocking, a brilliant girl whose father is a cannibal king and who lives in a strange house with a horse and a monkey. Aired on The Shirley Temple Theater and based on the stories by Astrid Lindgren.

Cast: Gina Gillespie (Susan/Pippi Longstocking), Willard Waterman (Papa Efram), Barbara Eiler (Mrs. Scholfield), Renie Raino (Miss Lindquist).

6445 Pippi Longstocking. (Pilot; Fantasy; ABC; 11/2 and 11/9/85). Pippilotta Delicatessa Windowshade Mackrelmint Efram Longstocking, commonly known as Pippi Longstocking, is a feisty red-haired young girl who lives without adults, spins tall tales and enjoys exciting adventures. In the pilot episode, Pippi moves into her house, Villa Villekula, meets her new friends (Annika and Tommy) and uses her magical abilities to outwit a mean woman who is determined to put her in a foster home. (Pippi's father is a pirate at sea and she says, "My mother is an angel in heaven.") She lives with a monkey named Mr. Nilsson and a horse called Horse.)

Cast: Carrie Heim (Pippi Longstocking), Alyson Court (Annika), Eric Hebert (Tommy), David Waldern (Captain Efram Longstocking). Guest Cast: Ian Heath (Crandall), Rosemary Dunsmore (Mrs. Stettergren), Pam Hyatt (Mrs. Granberg), Judy Sinclair (Mrs. Grumm), Don Cullen (Mayor Granberg).

6446 Pirate Islands. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 2003). Kate Redding is a teenage girl fascinated by video games. Being the daughter of a video game developer, she gets to test the latest games before they are marketed. Her father's latest creation is "Pirate Islands," wherein the player must beat an 18th century pirate to a hidden treasure.

Kate has two younger siblings, Sarah and Nicholas, who are also testing the game with her. When Sarah sees that a scanner is attached to the game, she tests it by scanning a hat into the game. As she is doing this, an electronic storm is brewing outside. Suddenly a surge of electricity charges the scanner and engulfs the three children into the game and onto Pirate Island, where the pirates of the evil Captain Blackheart immediately capture them. From out of nowhere comes Mars, a character in the game, who rescues them, and takes them to his secret island (Castaway Island), where he and a group of young children live (they are cared for by Mars and Carmen, the only other teenagers on the island beside Kate). Mars and Carmen have chosen Castaway Island as their hideaway to avoid capture by Blackheart, who is seeking them and the other castaways.

Kate believes she is in a game but what is happening can't be happening. She feels that if she can find the scanner (which was lost in the transfer) and turn it on, she can reverse the process and return home. But in the meantime, she Sarah and Nicholas have to avoid capture by the pirates.

Kate, Sarah and Nicholas quickly adapt to their new environment and set up a base in a tree house their father programmed into the game. Each of the islands has an icon (a symbol in the computer game to indicate a doorway) that enables travel from one island to another through its magic portal. Carmen believes Kate's appearance will mean capture for them by Captain Blackheart.

The series, produced in Australia, aired Saturday morning on Fox; a concluding episode was never shown (the episodes shown here left Sarah, Kate and Nicholas stranded in the video game and seeking ways to outsmart Blackheart and retrieve the scanner).

Cast: Brooke Harmon (Kate Redding), Eliza Taylor-Cotter (Sarah Redding), Nicholas Donaldson (Nicholas Redding), Oliver Ackland (Mars), Lucia Smyrk (Carmen), Colin Moody (Captain Blackheart), Andy McPhee (Cutthroat Jack), Darcy Bonser (Perry), Madeleine Jay (Lizard), Jim Daly (Dugal), Jasper Bagg (Darcy the Dandy), Franklyn Ajaye (Five Spice), Russell Allan (Ugly Sam), Graham Jahne (Ned Crow).

6447 Pirate Master. (Series; Reality; CBS; 2007). Sixteen "modern day pirates" attempt to find $1 million in hidden treasure. The pirates, all who have knowledge of sailing, are housed aboard Picton Castle, a 179-foot square-rigger ship. Each pirate must pull his (or her) own weight or face elimination.

The first episode divides the players into two equal teams: the Red and the Black. It also begins the first treasure hunt as each team is given a map and a compass. The ship is docked in the Caribbean off the island of Dominica. The pirates use the map (as well as their wits) to find the treasure hidden on the rather rough terrain island. The first team to find the treasure chest (which is well hidden) wins its contents (gold coins). This team then elects a captain of the ship. When a majority vote recognizes one of the players as the captain, he receives half of the treasures that are and will be found by his team (who split the remaining money). The captain then chooses two officers and all players must follow his orders.

Each episode sends the pirates off on another treasure hunt, but it also eliminates one of the pirates. At the end of the hunt, the captain and his officers choose three pirates to eliminate. The choices are revealed at a council meeting. After the captain reveals why such and such a pirate was chosen, all the pirates cast a secret ballot on whom to eliminate. If, however, the crew feels the captain is wrong, they can mutiny, call another meeting and eliminate him in a secret ballot vote. When this happens, a new captain is chosen. The eliminated player is placed in a lifeboat, "cut" lose and set adrift. The one player who acquires the largest booty on the last episode wins and becomes "The Pirate Master."

The heavily promoted series never achieved the ratings CBS had hoped and was cancelled before a "Pirate Master" was chosen. The remaining episodes played over the Internet at CBS.com.

6448 Pirate's Key. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 1/20/83). The original pilot film for Simon and Simon that was re-edited and broadcast as a special two-hour episode of the series. The original concept was set in Pirate's Key, Florida, the base of operations for Rick and A.J. Simon, brothers who operate the Simon and Simon Detective Agency (in the series, they are based in San Diego, California). New footage was shot to fit the original pilot into the revised series format. The flashback technique was used to recall the Simon's first case in Florida. Other Regulars: Myron Fowler, the rival detective; and Janet, his daughter.

Cast: Gerald McRaney (Rick Simon), Jameson Parker (A.J. Simon), Eddie Barth (Myron Fowler), Jeannie Wilson (Janet Fowler). Guest Cast: Cassie Yates (Kitty), Eddie Albert (Judge Taylor), Richard Lenz (Minnow), Claude Earl Jones (Sheriff), Harry Townes (Detective), William Wintersole (Dr. Perry).

6449 The Pirates of Dark Water. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1991). Mer (also called Octopon) is a distant planet of water that is being threatened with extinction by Dark Water, a carnivorous form of water that devours everything it crosses. Ren is a young hero on a quest to save his planet. He is the son of a lighthouse keeper. One day, after rescuing a man from the sea, Ren learns from the man, who once served with Ren's true father, that Ren is the son of the king of Octopon. To claim his rightful heritage, Ren must find the Thirteen Treasures of Rule. The treasures will also save the planet by stopping the Dark Water. Ren receives a magic compass from the man as well as three assistants: Ioz, the pirate, Tula, a young girl, and Niddler the Monkey Bird. Stories relate Ren's journey—made more dangerous by Bloth, an evil pirate who has learned of the treasure and now seeks it for himself.

6450 The Pirates of Flounder Bay. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/26/66). The setting is the small town of Flounder Bay in the 1880s. The town's most notable resident is Barnaby Kidd, a pirate captain who has an infamous grandfather—the notorious Captain Kidd. Barnaby, however, is nothing like his grandfather, who was mean and evil; he is kind-hearted and trouble-prone and the unsold series was to relate Barnaby's bumbling efforts to become as famous as his grandfather.

Other Regulars: The Governor; Captain Jack Slash, the rival pirate; Abner Bunker, the mayor; Molly Bunker, Abner's daughter (and Barnaby's romantic interest); and Barnaby's crew of misfits: Sidney, Taggart, Flint, Wimple, Chips and Lookout.

Cast: William Cort (Barnaby Kidd), Basil Rathbone (Governor), Keenan Wynn (Jack Slash), Harold Peary (Abner Bunker), Bridget Hanley (Molly Bunker), Jack Soo (Sidney), Charles Dierkop (Taggart), Burt Mustin (Flint), Jim Connell (Wimple), Peter Bonerz (Chips), Jim Begg (Lookout).

6451 Pistols 'n' Petticoats. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1966–1967). Wretched, Colorado, 1871, is a wild and woolly town plagued by outlaws, greedy land barons and constant Indian uprisings. Harold Sikes is the deputy sheriff. He is somewhat inept but strives to uphold the law. He is clumsy, unable to shoot straight and plagued by guns that get stuck in his holster (making him slow on the draw). He trips a lot and has a white horse that he can't exactly ride (the horse always stops short and throws him off).

Coming to Harold's rescue (and the actual keepers of the peace) are the gun toting Hanks family. Henrietta, nicknamed "Hank," is an attractive widow "who could fire a gun with one hand milking a goat and hit a coyote on the run." Andrew, called "Grandpa," is Henrietta's father. He is a former Union Army private and is hopeless without his glasses (he can't see or shoot straight without them). He carries his former army rifle with him at all times; "he kept his gun in trim—nobody messed around with him." Andrew has a pet wolf named Bowzer and a mule named Molly.

Andrew's wife (name not mentioned; called "Honey" by Andrew) is a sweet looking elderly lady who "was best at shootin' buttons off a rustler's vest." Lucy, Henrietta's beautiful daughter, is very feminine and is in love with Harold. Although she rarely uses a gun, she is an expert shot and conceals one in a lacy garter she wears on her right thigh.

Lucy has faith in Harold but can't convince her mother that "Harold can rescue people in distress and things like that." "Lucy, dear," responds Henrietta, "that's woman's work" (the Hanks live on a ranch on the outskirts of Wretched). Harold calls Lucy "Miss Lucy"; Grandma calls Harold "Harold Dear." As the theme says, "Chasing bandits to them was fun ... every outlaw in the West would run from Pistols 'n' Petticoats."

Recurring Roles: Bernard Courtney, the land baron seeking to obtain the Hanks' ranch; Jed Timmins, the crooked lawyer; Eagle Shadow, chief of the Kiowa Indians; Gray Hawk, Eagle Shadow's son; Great Bear, chief of the Atona Indians; Little Bear, Great Bear's son; Cyrus Breech, the gun smuggler; the unnamed town drunk; the unnamed W.C. Fields type of character who hangs out at the Wretched saloon.

Note: In the original, unaired pilot film (produced in 1966), Chris Noel played Lucy Hanks and Joel D. McCrea was Sheriff Eric (the same type of role that later became Harold Sykes). The pilot film was titled "Quit Shootin' Folks, Grandma," and dealt with the Hankses' efforts to put down an Indian uprising.

Cast: Ann Sheridan (Henrietta Hanks), Carole Wells (Lucy Hanks), Chris Noel (Lucy Hanks; unaired pilot), Douglas V. Fowley (Andrew Hanks), Ruth McDevitt (Grandma Hanks), Gary Vinson (Harold Sikes), Robert Lowery (Bernard Courtney), Morgan Woodward (Mark Hangman), Stanley Adams (Jed Timmins), Lon Chaney, Jr. (Eagle Shadow), Marc Cavell (Gray Hawk), Jay Silverheels (Great Bear), Alex Henteloff (Little Bear), Eleanor Audley (Mrs. Tinsley), Leo Gordon (Cyrus Breech), Gil Lamb (Town drunk), Bill Oberlin (W.C. Fields character), Joel D. McCrae (Sheriff Eric; unaired pilot). Theme: "Pistols 'n' Petticoats," by George Tibbles and Jack Elliott.

6452 Pitching Horseshoes. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1950–1951). The alternate title for Billy Rose's Playbill. See this title for information.

6453 Pitfall. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1955). Dramas that revolve around people caught in a web of concealed danger. Gale Storm, Richard Denning, Bonita Granville, Lynn Bari, Patric Knowles, Robert Hutton, Suzanne Dabert and Elizabeth Patterson were among the stars who appeared on the program.

6454 Pitfall. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1981). Two players compete. A five-point or a five-minute game (which ever happens first) is played. The host reads a question to which four answers appear on a board. Each member of the studio audience selects one answer by pressing a button that corresponds to one of the answers. Each player selects one answer. The studio audience votes are tabulated and the highest percentage answer is revealed. The player whose answer matches the studio audience response receives one point. The winner, the player with the highest score, receives no money; instead he gets two pit passes. The winner now faces a large bridge that contains eight sections (six sections are safe; two are pitfalls). Before entering the top level of the bridge, the player receives his two pit passes. The player begins on section one. A question is read. If the player answers correctly, he receives $100 and advances to the next section. The object is for the player to get from section one to section eight within 100 seconds. If a player feels that the section he will be entering is a pitfall, he uses one of his pit passes and avoids that particular section. If a player enters a pitfall, that section lowers one level and the player remains there until he answers a question correctly. The player earns what money he has accumulated ($100 per section per correct answer) plus a new car if he manages to get through all eight sections within the time limit.

Host: Alex Trebek. Announcer: John Barton.

6455 The Pitts. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2003). Mail Boxes and Mail More is a store owned by marrieds Bob and Liz Pitts. They are the parents of Faith and Pete and 555-5555 is their phone number. They live in Nevada in a house located at the bottom of a mountain with a very large boulder perched at the top edge of the mountain and apparently ready to fall.

Faith is 16 years old and attends Stateville High School. She believes her family is cursed — "Life is a bowl of cherries — but you can't have the cherries without the pits."

Bob has been struck by lightning; Pete has been possessed and exorcised; Faith has a haunted violin, has been struck in the head by a pipe (when their hot water heated exploded) and believes boys are afraid of her because her family has bad luck. No matter what the Pitts do, extremely bad luck accompanies them. The only lucky thing they have is their dog — Lucky. Stories follow the Pitts as they go about living a life that is the pits.

Liz wears Jaclyn Smith original dresses (available at K-Mart); Pete likes hanging out at the dump and go to health clubs "to laugh at the fat guys" and to go to the back of Korean restaurants "to look for cat parts." The series was quite unusual and entertaining but lasted only four episodes.

Cast: Dylan Baker (Bob Pitts), Kellie Waymire (Liz Pitts), Lizzie Caplan (Faith Pitts), David Henrie (Pete Pitts).

6456 Pixanne. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1978). Pixanne is a pretty fairy who lives in a magic forest. She can cast her magic spell of happiness and is a talented singer and dancer as well. Pixanne is surrounded by various puppet characters and the antics of these characters, coupled with Pixanne's songs and stories are meant to provide educational information for children.

Pixanne opens the show: "Hi, I'm Pixanne. Fly with me through my magic forest and we'll have lots of fun and adventure together. Don't go away."

Cast: Jane Norman (Pixanne), The Addid Williams Puppets (Regulars).

6457 P.J. Sparkles. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 11/26/92). P.J. is a young girl who wishes for love on full moons. All P.J. has ever known is Mrs. O'Malley's Orphanage. Every time she makes a friend, they are adopted and she is alone again. One night P.J., accompanied by her horse, Blaze, makes a wish upon a star. The night is cloudy, but as the clouds roll by, a bright star shines on P.J. and in a flash of light, she and Blaze are magically transported to Twinkle Town. There P.J. learns from the Wishing Star that for untold times the children of Twinkle Town have wished upon the Wishing Star for someone to come here and love them. (Twinkle Town was magically created by all the lights of all the stars ever wished upon by children. The land exists because of the children's dreams and love.) P.J. was brought here to lead them and love them. Because she now sparkles, P.J. takes the last name of Sparkles. P.J.'s love makes the children of Twinkle Town happy, so much so that the Wishing Star asks her to help other children.

P.J. appoints three children (Glimmer, Sparks and Glowee) as her assistants to rule Twinkle Town in her absence. However, trouble enters the picture when the Cloak, the Master of the Dark, and his evil wife, Betty, turn Twinkle Town into a gloom town. The unsold series was to relate P.J.'s efforts to defeat the Cloak and restore beauty to Twinkle Town.

Voice Cast: Jodi Benson (P.J. Sparkles), Robby Benson (Blaze), Oliver Muirhead (The Cloak), Roger Hess (Betty), Olivia Hack (Glowee), Janna Michaels (Glimmer), Dana Goetz (Sparks), Samantha Eggar (Wishing Star). Theme ("Here Comes P.J. Sparkles" and "Wishing on Love"); Will Anderson, Mike Young.

6458 The PJs. (Series; Comedy; Fox; WB; 1999–2001). Thurgood Stubbs is the maintenance engineer, called "Supa" by the tenants, of the 13-story Hilton Jacobs Building in the Projects. Thurgood is married to Muriel and they share a basement apartment. Thurgood is 48 years old "but looks 60." Wheel of Fortune is his favorite TV show and he drinks an alcoholic beverage called Mule 40 (he attempted to make his own wine and called it Baron von Thurgood's Spring Frolic). When he gets upset he has a deep fried pork chop sandwich. Hoping to provide a place for the tenants to relax, Thurgood purchased the abandoned movie theater on Al Sharpton Boulevard from HUD (Housing and Urban Development) for one dollar; it soon became the Thurgood Stubbs Neighborhood Theater.

For Thurgood, rent day is as much fun as eviction day. Thurgood believes he is the world's greatest gumbo chef, uses Old English 800 cologne, and makes chocolate milk by combining milk and Cocoa Puffs cereal in a blender.

Muriel, most always seen in a pink blouse with "Paris" on it, is president of Women United to Save Our Projects. She is totally devoted to Thurgood and keeps a daily record of her activities in her journal.

Regular tenants are Juicy Hudson, the overweight boy who idolizes Thurgood and wears a sign that reads "Do Not Feed"; the elderly Mrs. Avery, whom Thurgood calls "a dried-up old gargoyle" (she is forever hitting him with her cane); Mambo Garcelle, the voodoo priestess Thurgood calls "Haiti Lady" or "Voodoo Queen"; Calvin, Juicy's friend; and Sanchez, a once-promising opera star whose passion for cigarettes now forces him to speak with a throat microphone.

The series is filmed in a puppet-animation process called Fomation; Phil Morris provided Thurgood's voice in two episodes.

Voice Cast: Eddie Murphy (Thurgood Stubbs), Loretta Devine (Muriel Stubbs), Ja'net DuBois (Mrs. Avery), Cheryl Frances Harrington (Mambo Garcelle), Pepe Serna (Sanchez), Crystal Scales (Calvin).

6459 Place the Face. (Series; Game; CBS; NBC; 1953–1955). Specially selected contestants are placed opposite someone from their past. Through a series of clues that are provided by the host, the players have to associate each other's faces. The first player to make the association is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The series ran on CBS from July 2, 1953 to August 26, 1954; on NBC from September 25, 1954 to December 25, 1954 and on NBC from June 28, 1955 to September 13, 1955.

Host: Jack Smith (1953), Jack Paar (1954), Bill Cullen (1955).

6460 Places Please. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1948–1949). The backstage of a television studio is the setting. Here the performances of bit players (new talent discoveries) and cronies from Broadway shows and nightclubs are featured. The series ran from July 5, 1948 to February 25, 1949.

Host: Barry Wood.

6461 The Plainclothesman. (Series; Crime Drama; DuMont; 1949–1954). The subjective camera method is used to detail the investigations of a never-seen lieutenant with the New York City Police Department. By use of the subjective camera, which enacts emotion and becomes the eyes of the lieutenant, the viewer hears the actor's voice and experiences situations as if he were actually present. If, for example, a suspect throws a punch, the camera bolts, indicating that the lieutenant took the brunt of the blow. The unseen detective is relentless and once on a case, does what it takes to get the job done. The technique was first used effectively in the feature film Lady in the Lake and plays well on television as the lieutenant investigates homicide cases. The series ran from October 12, 1949 to September 12, 1954.

Cast: Ken Lynch (The Unseen Lieutenant), Jack Orrinson (Sergeant Brady).

6462 Planet Earth. (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 4/23/74). A sequel to the pilot Genesis II about Dylan Hunt, a scientist who was lost in 1979 during a suspended animation accident and found 154 years later (A.D. 2133) by the people of a civilization called Pax, the one area on Earth that escaped a nuclear war in the twentieth century. The unsold series was to depict Dylan's exploits, as the leader of a Pax science team, as he seeks to rebuild the Earth into a newer and wiser civilization. In the pilot episode, Dylan and his assistant, Harper-Smythe, travel to Ruth, a female-run empire, to find a kidnapped member of their group, the only person who can save the life of Peter Kimbridge, a Pax leader. Other Regulars: Isiah, a Pax.

Cast: John Saxon (Dylan Hunt), Janet Margolin (Harper-Smythe), Ted Cassidy (Isiah), Rai Tasco (Peter Kimbridge). Guest Cast: Jim Antonio (Jonathan Connor), Diana Muldaur (Marg), Johana

DeWinter (Villar), Christopher Carey (Bylock), Majel Barrett (Yuloff), Sally Kemp (Treece), Claire Brennan (Delba), Patricia Smith (Sklar), John Crosby (Kyla), Aaron Kincaid (Gorda).

6463 Planet of the Apes. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 1974). A U.S. space capsule, launched in 1988, is approaching Alpha Centauri when it penetrates a radioactive turbulence area. The ship is propelled to Earth in the year 3881, a time when intelligent apes are ruling what is left of a world devastated by a holocaust sometime in the year 2000.

Two of the three astronauts aboard the ship, Colonel Alan Viridon and Captain Peter ("Pete") Burke, are captured by the ape leader Urko and imprisoned (the third astronaut, identified only as Jonesy, was killed on impact). The apes believe that simians have always ruled the world. There are humans in this time, but they are servants, laborers and farmers. Ape Prefect Zaius believes that Pete and Alan are a threat to their species because they have greater knowledge and abilities than the other humans; if it were known that there are intelligent humans, it would cause the apes' humans to revolt. Urko thinks that Pete and Alan should be killed before their presence becomes known. Zaius orders that the astronauts be kept alive, however, so their knowledge can be learned by the ape leaders. Urko disapproves.

Zaius's assistant, Galen, becomes intrigued by the astronauts' intelligence, and in seeking to learn more about them, he becomes their friend. One night, after Alan and Pete are fed, their cell door is left unlocked. As Pete and Alan emerge from their cell, Galen sees that Urko has set a trap to kill them. Galen yells, "Watch out!" to Pete and Alan; a fight ensues, and one of Urko's lieutenants is killed. Pete and Alan manage to escape, but Galen is caught and imprisoned — despite the fact that he accuses Urko of setting a trap. When Pete and Alan learn of Galen's imprisonment, they rescue him, and soon the three become fugitives from the state. Stories relate the trio's adventures as they seek a way to return to the Earth of the 1980s. Adapted from the feature film series of the same title.

Pete was born in New Jersey; Alan mentions that he has a wife and a child. They began their flight on August 19, 1988; the ship's time indicator read March 21, 3085 (they assume it stopped registering at this time; they have no idea what year they are actually in. In the opening theme, the last date on the meter reads October 14, 3881). Alan believes that their only hope of returning home is to use the ship's magnetic disk (which recorded the flight), find a computer and reverse the process. Their major problem: finding a computer and human intelligence enough to build a ship.

Pete and Alan crash-landed in California (San Francisco, Oakland and Malibu Beach are mentioned as areas they are in). The apes have renamed this area Central City, and it is ruled by the High Council. Humans are kept in small villages. Each village is ruled by a prefect, and finding food seems to be a major problem for some humans.

Where he is not known, Galen pretends to be Protus; Pete and Alan pose as his servants. Urko always assumes a human is lying — "It makes things easier."
Theme: "Planet of the Apes," by Lalo Schiffrin.

Cast: Roddy McDowall (Galen), Ron Harper (Alan Viridon), James Naughton (Peter Burke), Mark Leonard (Urko), Booth Coleman (Zaius), Woodrow Parfrey (Veska).

6464 Planet Patrol. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1963). The work of the agents for the Galasphere Patrol, an interplanetary, twenty-first century police force that has been established to protect the planets of a united solar system. Characters are marionettes and include Colonel Raeburn, the Galasphere leader; Captain Larry Dart; Husky, the Martian; Slim the Venusian; and Berridge, the enemy. The series is also known as Space Patrol.

Voice Cast: Dick Vosburgh (Captain Larry Dart), Murray Kash (Colonel Raeburn), Ysanne Churchron (Marla), Libby Morris (Marla), Ysanne Churchron (Cassiopeia), Libby Morris (Cassiopeia), Libby Morris (Gabblers).

6465 The Plant Family. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/2/78). Lyla and Augie Plant own a run-down house in a borderline neighborhood in southern California. They have a married daughter (Ava) and a maid (Geneva) and the unsold series was to follow the mishaps that occur as all family members ban together to devise various schemes to get rich quick.
Other Regulars: Art, Ava's husband; and Homer Jay, Geneva's son.

6466 The Plasticman Comedy/Adventure Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1979–1981). The overall title for four animated series.

1. Plasticman. Plasticman (who can stretch his skin) is an agent for the National Bureau of Investigation. With his girlfriend, Penny, and their assistant, Hoola Hoola, they tackle dangerous cases for the bureau.

2. Mightyman and Yukk. The story of Mightyman, the world's smallest superhero, and Yukk, the world's ugliest dog, as they battle the sinister forces of evil.

3. Rickety Rocket. The adventures of a space-age group of detectives: Rickety Rocket, a talking space ship, and its human assistants, Cosgrove, Venus, Splashdown and Sunstroke.

4. Fangface and Fangpuss. Sherman “Fang” Fangsworth is a teenager who changes into a werewolf under the moon and reverts to normal at sunup. Together with his friends Kim, Buff and Puggsy, Fang fights the forces of evil — more often than not as a werewolf. Fangpuss, Sherman’s cousin.

Voice Cast: Michael Bell (Plasticman), Melendy Britt (Penny), Joe Baker (Hoola Hoola), Peter Cullen (Mightyman), Frank Welker (Yukk), Al Fann (Rickety Rocket), Bobby Ellerbee (Cosgrove), Dee Timberlake (Venus), Johnny Brown (Splashdown), John Anthony Bailey (Sunstroke), Jerry Dexter (Fangface), Jerry Dexter (Fangpuss), Susan Blu (Kim), Bart Braverman (Puggsy), Frank Welker (Biff).

6467 Platinum Weddings. (Series; Reality; WE; 2006). Just how much should a wedding cost? If you are rich it doesn’t matter and Platinum Weddings caters to such people. Each episode is a look at a highly extravagant wedding — not so much the ceremony itself, but the preparations and expenses that go into the making of such affairs — from exorbitant meals ($1,500 a head) to lavish wedding gowns ($50,000 and up).

Hosts: Julie Pryor, Larry Flachs.

6468 Play the Game. (Live Test Program; Game; ABC; 1/30/46). Selected studio audience members compete in a game of charades in return for prizes. Twenty such games were played and songs by Irene Wicker and Vic Hammer were interspersed between the games.

Cast: Charlotte Adams, Alan Chedzcy, Vic Hammer, Willard Mullen, Irene Wicker, Harvey Zourbough.

6469 Play the Percentages. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1980). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. A question, based on a survey of 300 people, is read. One member of each team predicts the percentage of people surveyed who were able to answer the question. The actual percentage is revealed and the player who comes closest wins the percentage value in points. The first team to score 300 points is the winner and receives $300.

Host: Geoff Edwards. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

6470 Play Your Hunch. (Series; Game; CBS; ABC; NBC; 1958–1963). Two husband-and-wife couples compete in a game based on solving problems by instinct. Three sets that pertain to one subject are displayed. The couples have to determine the factor that distinguishes one from the others. The first couple to score three correct identifications is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The series ran on CBS from June 30, 1958 to September 5, 1958; on ABC from January, 1959 to May 8, 1959; and on NBC from December 7, 1959 to September 26, 1963.

Host: Richard Hayes, Gene Rayburn, Merv Griffin, Robert Q. Lewis. Assistant: Liz Gardner.

6471 Playboy After Dark. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1969). A program of music and conversation with Playboy magazine publisher Hugh Hefner as the host (surrounded by the Playboy Bunnies). Rupert Hitzig is the producer.

Host: Hugh Hefner. Bunny Hostess: Barbi Benton. Regulars: The Playboy Bunnies. Music: Tommy Oliver.

6472 Playboy’s Penthouse. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1959–1960). The Chicago penthouse of Playboy magazine publisher Hugh Hefner is the setting for a gathering of guest celebrities (who perform), conversation and entertainment.

Host: Hugh Hefner. Hostesses: The Playboy Bunnies. Music: The Marty Rubertson Trio.

6473 Players. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1997–1998). In an attempt to capture criminals who prove to be clever and continually avoid apprehension, the FBI recruits three prisoners, who are released on parole, to assist agent Christine Kowalski: Charlie O’Bannon, a skilled computer hacker; Isaac “Ice” Gregory, a street hustler; and Alphonse Royo, a skilled con artist. Stories, which also focus on the personal lives of each team member, relates their efforts to bring criminals to justice.

Cast: Mia Korf (Christine Kowalski), Costas Mandylor (Alphonse Royo), Ice T (Isaac “Ice” Gregory), Frank John Hughes (Charlie O’Bannon).

6474 Playhouse 90. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1956–1960). A series of quality dramatic presentations featuring top name stars. The series, which produced 133 episodes, aired from October 4, 1956 to May 18, 1960.

Performers Include: Susan Oliver, Charles Bronson, James Mason, Trevor Howard, Rita Moreno, Gina Gillespie, Burt Reynolds, James Dunn, Robert Redford, Ricardo Montalban, George C. Scott, Claire Bloom, Patrick Macnee, Angela Lansbury, Richard Boone, Bethel Leslie, Fay Wray, Laraine Day, Margaret O’Brien, Jack Lemmon, William Bendix, Buddy Ebsen, Claude Rains, Eileen Heckart, Piper Laurie, Cliff Robertson, Jackie Gleason, Jack Klugman, Edward G. Robinson, Ray Walston, Roddy McDowall, Boris Karloff, Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Dana Wynter, Tab Hunter, Patricia McCormack, Julie Adams, Elizabeth Montgomery, Suzy Parker, Terry Moore, Lee J. Cobb, Joan Bennett, Vincent Price, Peter Lorre, Shirley Booth, Joan Blondell, Chester Morris, Mickey Rooney, Barbara Hale, Phyllis Kirk, Anne Bancroft, Raymond Burr, Claudette Colbert.

6475 Playhouse of Mystery. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1957). Rebroadcasts of mystery dramas that originally aired on Schlitz Playhouse of Stars. See this title for information. The series aired from September 3, 1957 to September 24, 1957.

6476 Playhouse of Stars. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1960). A summer program of dramas that aired on other filmed anthology series. The series ran from July 21, 1960 to September 22, 1960.

6477 Playhouse of Stars. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1952). Dramatic presentations hosted by actress Irene Dunne. The series ran from May 30, 1952 to September 10, 1952.

6478 Playhouse Thirty. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). A proposed series of comedy skits that was to involve the host, guest stars and the studio audience.

Host: Jon Lovitz.

6479 Playing It Straight. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2007). Can a straight, pretty girl pick a gay male from a group of straight and gay men? That is the question that was sought here. Jackie Thomas is the girl. She is introduced to 14 handsome men, some of whom are gay, but by looks it is impossible to tell. As Jackie gets to know each of the men she must determine (without asking) which men are gay and which men are straight. Each week she eliminates two of the men she believes are gay (on the first episode she eliminated two straight men). Stereotypes that usually depict gays are not in play here and if Jackie can choose a straight guy in the final episode, they split $1 million; if she chooses a gay, he gets all the money.

Host: Daphne Brogdon.

6480 Playwrights '56. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1955–1956). A series of quality dramatic productions. Broadcast on a rotating basis with The Armstrong Circle Theater, The United States Steel Hour and The 20th Century–Fox Hour. The series ran from October 4, 1955 to June 19, 1956.

Performers Include: Phyllis Kirk, Paul Newman, Sylvia Sidney, Edmond O'Brien, Meg Mundy, Jane Wyatt, Janice Rule, Franchot Tone, Ethel Waters, Lillian Gish, Kim Stanley, Sally Gracie, E.G. Marshall, Henry Jones, Kim Stanley, Lori March, Nehemiah Persoff, Cyril Ritchard, Nina Foch, Dina Merrill, Lee Grant.

6481 Please Don't Eat the Daisies. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1965–1967). At Ridgmont College in Ridgmont City, James ("Jim") Nash, a teaching assistant, and Joan Holliday, a journalism student, meet and fall in love. The time is 1952 and shortly after, Jim and Joan marry. They set up housekeeping in a small apartment on Second Street. It was a struggle to make ends meet, and Jim was contemplating giving up teaching for a better paying job until Joan told him, "You love to teach and you've invested six years of your life into becoming a teacher. You love me and you want to do what is best for me. The best thing that ever happened to me was becoming Mrs. Jim Nash. And I love being married to a schoolteacher.... If there are a few hardships along the way, that's fine and dandy. Because someday I'm going to be able to say, 'I want you to meet my husband, Professor James Nash.'"

On their tenth month anniversary, Jim surprises Joan with a puppy they later name Lad. It is at this time that Joan tells Jim she is pregnant (a baby they name Kyle is born seven months later).

When the series actually begins, Joan and Jim and their children, Kyle, Joel and twins Trevor and Tracy live at 228 Circle Avenue in Ridgmont City. Jim is now an English professor at Ridgmont College and Joan, who works out of their home, is a freelance magazine writer who pens articles under the name Joan Holliday.

Joel, Trevor and Tracy attend Ridgmont Grammar School, while 12-year-old Kyle is enrolled at Ridgmont Junior High.

Herb and Marge Thornton are their neighbors (who live at 230 Circle Avenue); J. Pat O'Malley appeared as Joan's world-traveling father, Mr. Holliday. The series is based on the book by Jean Kerr. Jeff Alexander composed the theme.

Cast: Mark Miller (Jim Nash), Patricia Crowley (Joan Nash), Kim Tyler (Kyle Nash), Brian Nash (Joel Nash), Jeff Fithian (Trevor Nash), Joe Fithian (Tracy Nash), King Donovan (Herb Thornton), Shirley Mitchell (Marge Thornton).

6482 Please Stand By. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1978). Frank Lambert is a family man who runs KRDA, Channel 4, a TV station from his garage in DeQueen, New Mexico. He is married to Carol and is the father of Susan, David and Rocky. Stories follow the family's mishaps as they attempt to run the station that is off the air more than it is on. Vicki James, Dennis "Crash" Lopez and Sam assist them.

Cast: Richard Schaal (Frank Lambert), Elinor Donahue (Carol Lambert), Darian Mathias (Susan Lambert), Stephen M. Schwartz (David Lambert), Bryan Scott (Rocky Lambert), Marcie Barkin (Vicki James), Danny Mora (Dennis Lopez), Gary Oakes (Sam). Theme Vocal: "Please Stand By" by Stephen M. Schwartz.

6483 Pleasure Cove. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1/3/79). Pleasure Cove is a posh resort that is operated as part of the Xavier Hotel chain. Brief incidents in the lives of its guests, presented as a series of vignettes, was the focal point of the unsold project. Regulars: Henry, the manager; Julie, the reservations clerk; Kim, the assistant manager; Osaki, the desk clerk; and Chip, the local gambler.

Masak (Joe), David Hasselhoff (Scott), Tanya Roberts (Sally), Barbara Luna (Gayle Tyler), Rhonda Bates (Zelda Golden).

6484 The Pleasure Zone. (Series; Anthology; Cinemax; 1999). The Pleasure Zone is an Internet website run by a gorgeous woman named Serena. When one logs onto the site, Serena appears — “Welcome to the Pleasure Zone — where anything is possible.” Users type in their password and are introduced to a dating service like no other in the history of television. Serena is also like no other matchmaker ever to appear on TV. She knows who is right for whom — and once a match is made, a story follows to relate what happens (mostly soft core sex and female nudity). Casts vary with each episode.

Cast: Eden Svendahl (Serena).

6485 Plymouth. (Unaired Pilot; Science Fiction; Produced in 1990). A proposed series about a close-knit community of people who are offered the challenge of establishing the first settlement and mining operation on the moon.

Cast: Cindy Pickett (Addy Mathewson), Dale Midkiff (Gil), Richard Hamilton (Wendell).

6486 Poetry and Music. (Test Film; Variety; DuMont; 11/1/46). An unsold weekly series of music and songs that is produced and directed by Bob Henry.

Host: Vera Massey. Guest: Doris Faye.

6487 Point Pleasant. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2005). Point Pleasant is a small town by the New Jersey shore where a never resolved battle between good and evil will be fought (the series was cancelled before any conclusions were given. The complex storylines could easily frustrate the viewer).

The story begins with a mysterious storm at sea. A young woman named Christina Nickson is celebrating the end of the school year on a cruise ship when she is plunged into the sea. She is rescued by a lifeguard (Jesse Parker) and brought to the home of Ben Kramer, the local Point Pleasant doctor. Ben discovers that Christina is suffering from amnesia and invites her to stay with his family (his wife, Meg, and their daughter, Judy) until she regains her memory.

Christina's presence can change people. She is actually a Child of Darkness and under the protection of the Devil. She is also the daughter of a woman of God and evil and good forces will soon come face to face for Christina.

Christina can concentrate and control events, even what people dream. She also has an unusual birthmark — a circle with three curves indicating the Devil's number of 666.

Ancient texts name Point Pleasant as the greatest coming of evil since the angels fell from the heavens. Christina's mother was named Ann and she has her mother's pure heart. But the Devil seduced Ann and Christina also possesses evil.

As Christina begins to regain her memory she realizes that she has been brought to Point Pleasant for a very specific reason — to learn her true identity: the offspring of a mortal woman and the Devil and to become part of the ultimate fight for her soul. Will she become good or evil?

Stories detail Christina's interactions with the people of Point Pleasant; how she discovers who she really is (through records at St. Mark's Church. Christina is from New York; her mother was born in Point Pleasant); her struggles to control the demon inside her (and the powers that come with it); and, had it aired, the battle of good vs. evil.

Other regulars are Paula, Jesse's girlfriend; Amber, Paula's mother; Police Captain Logan; Sarah, the God-fearing woman of the town; and Thomas Boyd, the mysterious man who attaches himself to Christina.

6488 Pointman. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1995). Constantine Harper, called Connie, is the owner of Spanish Pete's, a beach resort on the Florida Coast. Although Connie is bitter (an investment counselor who was framed and imprisoned, but later exonerated) he is willing to help people in trouble who have nowhere else to turn. When asked for help, Connie usually poses as someone else to resolve the situation. If the situation becomes too difficult to handle alone, he calls on his former prison buddies for help. Stories follow Connie as he tries to prevent what happened to him to happening to other innocent people.

Cast: Jack Scalia (Constantine "Connie" Harper).

6489 Poison Ivy. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/10/85). Camp Pinewood is a summer camp in Clifton, Maine. It is owned by “Big” Erv Klopper and his wife, Margo. The unsold series, billed as a television version of Porky's, was to relate the antics of the counselors and campers. The pilot episode focuses on the romantic highjinks that occur as Counselor Dennis attempts to impress the beautiful camp nurse (Rhonda); and the campers' shenanigans as they participate in various activities, including the tradition of breaking the rules to sneak across the lake to the Chickawana Girls Camp. Other Regulars: Ike, the senior counselor; Walter, the handyman; Steve, a counselor; and the campers: Jerry, Toby, Timmy, Bobby and Brian.

Cast: Robert Klein (“Big” Erv Klopper), Caren Kaye (Margo Klopper), Michael J. Fox (Dennis Baxter), Nancy McKeon (Rhonda Malone), Adam Baldwin (Ike Dimmick), Hoke Reece (Walter), Cameron Arnett (Steve), Joe Wright (Jerry), Matthew Shugailo (Toby Kaplan), Cary Gaffey (Timmy Mizzy), Derek Googe (Bobby Novack), Tommy Nowell (Brian Firestone).

6490 Pokemon. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 1998–2004). A Pokemon is a pocket monster and there are 150 such Pokemon in the world. Ash Ketchum is a ten-year-old boy who has just received his first Pokemon, Pikachu, from Professor Oak. A Pokemon, once captured, can be trained. Ash aspires to be the greatest Pokemon trainer in the world. But to do so he must search the world and capture all 150 Pokemon. Misty, Max, Tracey, Brock and Hikari, Ash's friend, join him on his journey. Stories relate their adventures as they search surreal lands for the various Pokemon.

Voice Cast: Veronica Taylor (Ash), Veronica Taylor (Misty), Eric Stuart (Brock), Ted Lewis (Tracey), Rachel Lillis (Misty), Amy Birnbaum (Max), Ken Gates (Narrator), Mike Pollock (Narrator).

6491 Pole Position. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1984–1985). When a mysterious accident claims the lives of their parents, the Darret children (Dan, Tess and Daisy) follow in their footsteps and become agents for Pole Position, a secret organization that battles crime and corruption. Stories relate their exploits as they enlist two high-tech vehicles of justice (Wheels, a clever Mustang, and Roadie, a sharp racer) to battle evildoers. Based on the video arcade game.

Voices: Lisa Lindgren, Kaleena Kiff, David Coburn, Jack Angel, Marilyn Schreffler, Mel Franklin, Darryl Hickman, Neilson Ross, Paul Kirby.

Cast: Joe Flaherty (Commander Stuart Hefelfinger), Michael Winslow (Sgt. Larvell Jones), Tony Longo (Luke Kackley), P.J. Ochlan (Lester Shane), Christine Gonzales (Alicia Conchita Montoya Cervantes), Heather Campbell (Annie Medford), Jeremiah Birkett (Dean Tackleberry), Matt Borlenghi (Richard Casey), Rod Crawford (Rusty Ledbetter), Toby Proctor (Dirk Tackleberry).

6493 Police Call. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1955). Dramatizations based on the files of various law enforcement agencies throughout the country. Stories and casts vary with each episode.

6494 Police File. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 6/25/94). Police Detective Isabella Vargas is young, intelligent, well-educated and sensitive. Her partner, Detective Jim Stone is street smart and tough.

They are attached to a precinct called the Two-Five, which is representative of any police precinct in any city. Jack O'Leary, representing a typical police lieutenant, is their squad room commander and it is through his eyes that the viewer sees police work in action. The unsold series was to dramatize actual police files. In the pilot episode, the detectives try to unravel a complex mugging that involves different accounts by witnesses.

Cast: Sean McCann (Jack O'Leary), Jacqueline Samuda (Isabella Vargas), Eugene Glazer (Jim Stone). Guest Cast: Tracey Cook (Rita Cleveland), Dean Gabouice (Nelson Racine), Von Flores (Grocer), Robb Petty (Bannister), Chris Potter (Hemion), Andre Mayers (Harris), Eve Crawford (Mrs. Bascomb).

6495 Police Squad! (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1982). An unidentified city, called "The Tuba Capital of the World," is home to Frank Drebin, a detective lieutenant with an unnamed special unit of what is called the Police Department, headquartered, as Frank says, "at the Police Station."

Frank has an office in the squad room and is also referred to as Captain Drebin. Frank cares about people. He believes it is necessary to break the law to help people threatened by evil. Although he does his best to follow the rules, he is plagued by an uncanny presence that dulls his sense of reality and makes him somewhat of a buffoon when justice calls. Although Frank enjoys his coffee, too much caffeine makes him edgy. He shoots to kill, although he more often misses, and will not question the wife of a murder victim until he is sure the husband is dead.

Frank appears to be a 24-hour-a-day cop; he rarely relaxes and seems to have made the squad room his second home. He lives at 14 Cherry Street at Galena Avenue. Frank appears to have only one snitch — a man named Johnny who works as a shoeshine "boy." Johnny knows everything about everything and will tell what he knows for $20.

Frank's superior is Captain Ed Hocken. Officer Norberg of the Undercover Unit assists Frank. Ted Olson is the sleazy police chemist who appears to enjoy performing hazardous experiments on children but is never given the chance; he is always interrupted by Frank.

Only six episodes were filmed and each features a special guest star (Lorne Greene, Georg Stanford Brown, Florence Henderson, William Shatner, Robert Goulet and William Conrad) who is killed off in the opening theme. Rex Hamilton as Abraham Lincoln is announced as a regular in the opening theme but never appears in the show. The series is based on the comedy style of the movie Airplane that just didn't work on TV, although the series did spawn two theatrical films: The Naked Gun and The Naked Gun 2½: The Smell of Fear. Ira Newborn composed the theme.

6496 Police Station. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1959). The day-to-day operations of a police station (Precinct 11) of a big city. Real cases are dramatized and followed from the crime to the arrest to the conviction.

Cast: Baynes Barron (Sergeant White), Henry Beckman (Sergeant Stan Albertson), Roy Wright (Detective Pat Green), Larry Kerr (Detective Chuck Mitchell).

6497 Police Story. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1952). Dramatizations based on the files of various police departments. Broadcast live from New York City. The series aired from April 4, 1952 to August 1, 1952.

Narrator: Norman Rose. Performers Include: James Gregory, Edward Binns, Ross Martin, E.G. Marshall, Russell Hardie, Edmond Ryan, Ralph Stanley, Joshua Shelley, Brian Keith, Jay Barney, Victor Thorley.

6498 Police Story. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/8/67). A proposed series of police work in action as seen through the eyes of James Paige, the captain of a metropolitan police force. The pilot episode relates police efforts to find a shotgun terrorist.

Cast: Steve Ihnat (Captain James Paige), Rafer Johnson (Lieutenant Roy Haggerty), Grace Lee Witney (Sergeant Lily Monroe). Guest Cast: Gary Clarke (Questor), Malachi Throne (Garrison), DeForest Kelley (Lab chief), Ann Atmore (Dorian), Justin Smith (Bennett).

6499 Police Story. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1973–1980). Dramatizations that depict the day-to-day struggles of police officers. Based on the files of various law enforcement agencies throughout the country. Casts and stories vary on a weekly basis. Stanley Kallis and David Gerber are the producers.

Performers Include: Angie Dickinson, Howard Duff, Scott Brady, Vic Morrow, Joe Santos, Laraine Stephens, Tony LoBianco, Ron Masak, Eddie Egan, Glenn Corbett, Ken Swofford, Paul Burke, Hari Rhodes, Jackie Cooper, Claudette Nevins, David Groh, Sharon Farrell, Janet Margolin, Elinor Donahue, Pernell Roberts, Tina Louise, Herb Edelman, Rosemary DeCamp, Sheila Larken, Alex Cord, Larry Hagman, David Birney, Lloyd Bridges, Michael Cole, Elaine Joyce, Janis Paige, Anjanette Comer, Cindy Williams, Claude Akins, Anne Jeffreys, Chuck Connors, Peter Mark Richman.

6500 Police Surgeon. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1972). Simon Locke is a surgeon with the Emergency Medical Unit of the Metropolitan Police Department in Toronto, Canada. He is a “doctor with the mind of a detective” and stories follow his attempts to not only save lives, but track down and arrest those responsible for taking them. A spin-off from Dr. Simon Locke.

6501 Police Woman. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1974–1978). Pepper Anderson is a beautiful police woman with the Criminal Conspiracy Division of the Los Angeles Police Department. Her real name is Lee Ann (also given as Suzanne) but likes to be called Pepper “because it’s my nickname.” Pepper lives at 102 Crestview Drive and rarely talks about her family (it is only known that she has a much younger sister named Cheryl who is autistic and attends the Austin School for Learning Disabilities; Pepper mentions that she is caring for her).

Pepper was a high fashion model who quit her glamorous job when she became bored with it. She attended the Los Angeles Police Academy and first worked in vice before her promotion to her current position as a sergeant.

Pepper is the only woman on a squad that includes her superior, Sergeant William “Bill” Crowley, and investigators Joe Stiles and Pete Royster. Pepper seems to attract seedy characters while working on a case and often acts as bait to trap a killer. Her least favorite assignments are posing as Bill’s wife. As Bill tells her, “It was either you or Joe or you and Pete.”

Pepper does get shot at and does take rough treatment from felons, but she takes it all in stride — “It comes with the territory.” Bill is a career cop and still in love with his ex-wife, Jackie. Joe, a former medic during the Vietnam War, is married to Harriet. Morton Stevens composed the theme “Police Woman.”

The original pilot episode, titled “The Gamble,” aired on Police Story (NBC, March 26, 1974). Here Angie Dickinson played Lisa Beaumont, a vice squad detective with the L.A.P.D. Bert Convy was Sergeant Bill Crowley and Ed Bernard and Charles Dierkop played the roles of Detectives Stiles and Royster. The story finds Lisa posing as a prostitute to expose the leader of a gambling syndicate.

Cast: Angie Dickinson (Pepper Anderson), Earl Holliman (Bill Crowley), Ed Bernard (Joe Stiles), Charles Dierkop (Pete Royster), Nicole Kallis (Cheryl Anderson), Kandi Keith (Harriet Stiles), Bibi Besch (Jackie).

6502 Politically Incorrect. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; ABC; 1993–2002). Indecision '96 is a fictional television program where guests with political ambitions get a chance to sound off. Such people as well as special interest groups are placed opposite a panel of outrageous comedians to debate the issues in a satirical way to defuse the notion that all such debates must be serious. The series aired on Comedy Central from 1993 to 1996 and on ABC from 1996 to 2002.

6503 Polka-Go-Round. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1958–1959). A program of polka music, songs and dances that ran from June 23, 1958 to September 28, 1959.

Host: Bob Lewandowski. Regulars: Carolyn DeZurik, Jimmy Hutchinson, Rusty Gill, Jack Cordaro, Lou Druss, John Hunt, Tom Fouts, The Polka Rounders, The Singing Waiters.

6504 Polka Party. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1958). Eddie Gronet hosts weekly program of polka music and songs with singer Dolores Ann Duda and the music of Stan Jaworski and Al Siszkeski and their polka bands.

6505 Polka Time. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1956). A weekly program of polka music, songs and dances.

Host: Bruno Junior Zienlisnki. Regulars: Carolyn DeZurik, The Polka Chips, The Kenal Siodmy Folk Dancers. Music: Stan Wolowic.

6506 The Polly Bergen Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957–1958). Singer Polly Bergen hosts a weekly program of music and songs that ran from September 21, 1957 to May 31, 1958.

Hostess: Polly Bergen. Regulars: Bill Bergen, The Peter Gennaro Dancers. Orchestra: Luther Henderson, Jr.

6507 Poltergeist: The Legacy. (Series; Drama; Showtime; Sci Fi; Syn.; 1996–2001). The program opens with these words from a journal called Poltergeist: The Legacy: “Since the beginning of time mankind has existed between the world of light and the world of darkness. This journal chronicles the work of our secret society, known as the Legacy, created to protect the innocent from the creatures that inhabit the shadows of the night.”

Members of the Legacy, headquartered in a mansion in San Francisco, have included Bram Stoker, Robert Louis Stevenson and H.P. Lovecraft — all selected by invitation only for their gifts of extraordinary sight. The current members are Derek Rayne, Rachel Corrigan, Alex Moreau, Nick Boyle and Kristen Adams. Members have not asked for their special abilities; they accept them and are devoted to understanding and containing paranormal phenomena, often at the risk of their own lives.

Derek Rayne is the House Leader. He is 44 years old and says, “I was born into the fight against evil.” His father, Winston Rayne, was head of the San Francisco house until he was killed by a demon. Derek, embittered and torn between his own desires and his destiny with the Legacy, spent years tracking down and destroying that demon. He was then chosen to head the Legacy. Derek possesses doctorates in theology and biological anthropology. He has psychic abilities and an extensive knowledge of science, mythology and a history of the Legacy itself.

Rachel Corrigan is the Legacy’s psychological specialist. She is a firm believer in science and brings her medical expertise, skepticism and open mind to the mysteries that face the Legacy. She is very dedicated to her daughter, Katherine, a ten year old who shows promise of extraordinary psychic abilities. Rachel would like to keep Katherine, whom she calls Kat, away from the work of the Legacy, but Kat’s touch of second sight draws her into the evils that haunt the Legacy.

Alex Moreau is 32 years old. Alexandra, called Alex, holds the position of researcher. She is a brilliant student of anthropology who possesses innate curiosity and psychic abilities (which drew her to Derek’s attention). She has a natural gift for the paranormal which she acquired from her grandmother, a Creole woman deeply involved in the occult. Alex possesses a university education in science and a highly developed social conscience as well as an outstanding talent for difficult research.

Nick Boyle is 38 years old and while his position is researcher, he often finds himself in physical battles with demons. Nick is an adventurer and spent time as a Navy S.E.A.L. His father was a colleague of Derek’s. Nick felt that joining the Legacy would give him the excitement he was searching for. Nick frequently suspects that what appears to be a paranormal event may actually be the work of human beings. While he would like to react with a quick punch, experience has taught him that the forces of darkness can be dangerous and his keen sense of intelligence curbs his tendency to act first and think later.

Kristen Adams was born in Boston, Massachusetts, where she was a member of the Boston Legacy House (she is on loan to the San Francisco House). Kristen is an anthropologist and graduated after three years at Harvard with an Honors degree. Her father, Justin Adams, is a noted professor in New England who served as a consultant to the Legacy on a number of occasions. Several years ago he mysteriously disappeared while working on a Legacy dig site in Istanbul. It is because of this that Kristen has joined the Legacy — to help defeat evil and find her missing father. Kristen possesses brilliance, drive, an opinionated nature and says only that she is in her twenties.

The syndicated version of the series (1999–2001) consists of repeats from the Showtime (1996–98) and Sci Fi Channel versions (1999).

Cast: Derek DeLint (Derek Rayne), Helen Shaver (Rachel Corrigan), Robbi Chong (Alex Moreau), Martin Cummins (Nick Boyle), Kristen Lehman (Kristen Adams), Alexandra Purvis (Katherine Corrigan).

6508 Punch’s Angels. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 2/28 and 3/1/81). A proposed spin-off from CHiPs about Melanie Mitchell and Paula Wood, the first female team of Los Angeles motorcycle police officers. In the pilot episode, Officers Baker and Poncherello, members of the California Highway Patrol (“Chips”), attempt to train the girls as the first such unit. The story also follows the girls on their various first assignments as a team.

Cast: Trisha Townsend (Melanie Mitchell), Barbara Stock (Paula Wood). Guest Cast: Erik Estrada (Francis “Ponch” Poncherello), Larry Wilcox (Jonathan Baker), Randi Oakes (Bonnie Clark), Barbi Benton (Sal), Andrew Duggan (Stamp), Danny Wells (Gordy), Stuart Pankin (Louis), Cindy Morgan (Jennifer).

6509 Ponderosa. (Series; Western; PAX; 2001–2002). A prequel to the 1959–1973 NBC series Bonanza that is set in 1849 at a time when Ben Cartwright had to yet establish his Ponderosa Ranch near Virginia City, Nevada.

The first episode shows the Cartwright’s arriving in Nevada. Ben and his wife, Marie, are the parents of Little Joe (a pre-teen here). Ben’s other sons, from former wives, are Adam (from Elizabeth) and Eric, called Hoss (from Inga). In this version of the series Eric receives the nickname of Hoss from Little Joe (Eric is bitten when trying to break a horse; Little Joe says Eric was “Hoss branded” and the name Hoss sticks. In the original series Inga nicknamed Eric Hoss, which is the term for a big Swedish man).

The first episode also establishes Ben and his family living in the town of Eagle Station (Virginia City has apparently not yet been established. The town is dreary and Ben and Marie are working at the local trading post). Shortly after Marie is killed in an explosion while working in the stockroom. Ben had made a promise to Marie to begin a ranch. That dream begins when Eli, the elderly owner of the trading post, gives Ben a deed to 160 acres of land in Lake Tahoe — land that would later become the Ponderosa Ranch. It is Hoss who suggests calling the ranch the Ponderosa after the Ponderosa tress that inhabit the land. This totally changes the concept of the original series. Here Ben had already established the ranch. It was on a trip to New Orleans that he met and married Marie. She helped design the ranch house but died from a fall from a horse.

Stories chart the Cartwright’s progress as they carve an empire. Ben, Adam and Hoss believe in justice and will risk their lives to maintain the peace.

Other regulars are Hop Sing, Ben’s cook; Jack Wolf, owner of the Eagle Station Livery Stable (as well as a hotel and bar); Carlos, Ben’s foreman (a former Mexican soldier whom he befriended in Eagle Station); Maggie Green and her daughter, Tess, ranchers; Shelby, the rival saloon owner; and Frenchy, the gunsmith.

Cast: Daniel Hugh-Kelly (Ben Cartwright), Matt Carmody (Adam Cartwright), Drew Powell (Eric

6510 The Pontiac Show. (Test Film; Variety; CBS; 1/21/49). An unsold series of variety performances under the sponsorship of Pontiac Automotive Dealers. The test program, which promoted the new 1949 Pontiac, featured songs by Dick Haymes and Dorothy Shay; comedy by Gene Sheldon; and dancing by Fred and Susan Barry and the Silver Streaks (three male and female dancers).

Performers: Fred Barry, Susan Barry, Dick Haymes, Gene Sheldon, Dorothy Shay, The Silver Streaks. Announcer: Ed Herlihy. Choreographer: John Wray.

6511 Pony Express. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1960). Brett Clark is a troubleshooter for the Central Overland Express, the 1860s company that is better known as the Pony Express. Tom Clyde is Brett’s associate and stories relate their experiences as they risk their lives to protect express riders from the various dangers that exist (from outlaws to renegade Indians) and insure the safe delivery of the mail.

Cast: Grant Sullivan (Brett Clark), Bill Cord (Tom Clyde), Don Dorell (Donovan).

6512 Poochinski. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/9/90). While investigating a case, Detective Stanley Poochinski is killed. Shortly after, he gets a new lease on life when he is reincarnated in the body of an English bulldog — the pet of his former partner, Detective Robert McKay. The unsold series was to follow McKay’s efforts to solve crimes with the help of his former partner, a dog who speaks only to him.

Cast: Peter Boyle (Stanley Poochinski), George Newbern (Robert McKay). Guest Cast: Amy Yasbeck (Fran Reynolds), Courtney Barilla (Casey), Nealla Spano (Katie Reynolds).

6513 Poor Devil. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 2/14/73). After 1400 years of failure, Sammy, a bumbling, soft-touch disciple from Hell, is given a chance to redeem himself by securing souls for Satan. The proposed series was to relate Sammy’s misadventures when he becomes personally involved with his targets and tends to save them rather than condemn them. In the pilot episode, Sammy is ordered to acquire the soul of Burnett Emerson, a mortal misfit.

Cast: Sammy Davis, Jr. (Sammy), Christopher Lee (Lucifer), Gino Conforti (Mr. Blich; Lucifer’s aide). Guest Cast: Jack Klugman (Burnett Emerson), Adam West (Crawford), Madlyn Rhue (Frances), Emily Yancy (Chelsey).

6514 Poor Mr. Campbell. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/7/62). A proposed series about Harley Campbell, a man who is married to a nagging wife (Adrice) who makes life unbearable for him. In the pilot episode, Harley envisions how enjoyable life would be without Adrice. Other Regulars: Priscilla, the beautician; and Grindl, their maid.

Cast: Edward Andrews (Harley Campbell), Agnes Moorehead (Adrice Campbell), Ruta Lee (Priscilla Edwards), Mary Grace Canfield (Grindl). Guest Cast: Barbara Pepper (Mrs. Dumphy), Harry Landers (Eric).

Cast: George Hamilton (Richard Manning III), Geoffrey Lewis (Ruby Hopper), Alley Mills (Terry Robinson), John Hunsaker (Jimmy). Guest Cast: Cynthia Sikes (Vicki Hollingsworth), Nancy Stafford (Randi), Glynn Turman (Jonathan Kingsley).

6516 P.O.P. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/29/84). After deserting his family twenty years ago, a lovable con artist named P. Oliver Prendergast decides to give up his life of roaming and return to his estranged family (his wife, Rosalyn, the publisher of a magazine called Personality Plus, and his now grown sons, Johnny and Russell). The proposed series was to relate Oliver's efforts to become a father and husband to a family he really doesn't know. In the pilot episode, Oliver calls on his past experiences to help Rosalyn save her floundering magazine. Other Regulars: Maggie, Dana, Frank and Marc, employees of Rosalyn.

6517 Pop! Goes the Country. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1974). Performances by country and western entertainers. Bill Graham and Reg Dunlap are the producers.

Host: Ralph Emery. Music: Jim Malloy, Jerry

Whitehurst. Theme Vocal: "Pop! Goes the Country" by The Statler Brothers.

6518 The Pop 'n' Rocker Game. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1983). Three contestants compete. In Round One (the Visual Round), the host reads a music-oriented question that is accompanied by a visual aid. The player who is first to buzz in receives a chance to answer. If correct, $50 is awarded. Several such rounds are played. In the second round, a sixty-second rapid-fire question-and-answer session is held with questions beginning at $50 and increasing by $10 for each additional question. The player with the highest cash score at the end of round two is the winner.

Host: Jon Bauman. Orchestra: Bruce Gray.

6519 The Popcorn Kid. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1987). At 2222 Algonquin Parkway in Kansas City stands a movie palace called the Majestic Theater. Lynne, Scott, Gwen and Willie are four teenagers who operate the popcorn concession. With the exception of Lynne, the teens are not the most responsible employees Leonard, the manager, ever had and stories relate their efforts to keep their jobs despite their antics and the problems they cause. Also causing headaches for Leonard is Marvin, the theater's off-the-wall projectionist.

Cast: Faith Ford (Lynne Holly Brickhouse), Bruce Norris (Scott Creasman), Penelope Ann Miler (Gwen Stuttemeyer), Jeffrey Joseph (Willie Dawson), Raye Birk (Leonard Brown), John Christopher Jones (Marlon Bond).

6520 Popeye and Son. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1987). An updated version of the 1930s theatrical cartoon Popeye the Sailor. After decades of bickering and fighting for the affections of Olive Oyl (a skinny, fickle woman), sailors Popeye and Bluto decide to end their battle, settle down and start a families.

Popeye marries Olive (who becomes Olive Oyl-Popeye) and they have a son, Popeye, Jr. Bluto also marries (Mrs. Bluto) and he has a son, Tank.

The series begins nine years later. Popeye, Jr. is like his father in that he wants to help people, but he hates spinach (which gave Popeye incredible strength); Tank is a carbon copy of his father — a bully (and Popeye, Jr. is his number one target). Wimpy, Popeye's friend from the movie series (who loved hamburgers) has opened a chain of hamburger stands; and Jeep, the magical animal is also a part of the revision. Stories follow Popeye, Jr. as he comes to the aid of those threatened by the evil Tank. Dee Dee, Rad, Polly and Woody are friend of Popeye, Jr.

Voice Cast: Maurice LaMarche (Popeye), Allan Melvin (Bluto), Marilyn Schreffler (Olive Oyl-Popeye), Josh Rodine (Popeye, Jr.), David Marks (Tank Bluto), Allan Melvin (Wimpy), Kaleena Kiff (Dee Dee), Penina Segall (Polly), B.J. Ward (Rad), Don Messick (Eugene the Jeep), Nancy Cartwright (Woody).

6521 Popeye Doyle. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/7/86). A proposed series based on the film The French Connection about Popeye Doyle, a tough, rumped and dedicated detective with the New York City Police Department. In the pilot episode, Doyle's investigation of a beautiful model (Jill) involves him with a group of international terrorists. Other Regulars: Detective Tony Parese; Lieutenant Gregory Paulus; and Connie, Tony's wife.

Cast: Ed O'Neill (Popeye Doyle), Matthew Laurance (Tony Parese), James Handy (Gregory Paulus), Joanna Perica (Connie Parese). Guest Cast: Audrey Landers (Jill Anyard), George dela Pena (Shadow), Nicholas Kadi (Weasel), Elias Zarou (Faboud Nazzim), Candy Clark (Connie), Elizabeth Lenni (Toni), Alexandra Innes (Marta Rodriguez), Chick Roberts (Detective Bendee).

6522 Popeye the Sailor. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1956). The endless battle between love-hungry sailors Popeye and Bluto over the long-sought affections of Olive Oyl, a skinny, fickle woman. The battle for good over evil is also depicted as Popeye uses spinach to achieve incredible strength and fight the forces of injustice (namely Bluto). Swee'pea is Olive's nephew; Wimpy is Popeye's hamburger-loving friend; Shorty is a fellow sailor; Pupeye, Peepeye, Poopeye and Pipeye are Popeye's mischievous nephews; Poopdeck Pappy is Popeye's father. Comprised of theatrical cartoons produced from 1933 to 1954.

Voice Cast: Det Poppen (Popeye), Floyd Buckley (Popeye), Jack Mercer (Popeye), Jackson Beck (Bluto), Olive LaMoy (Olive Oyl), Mae Questel (Olive Oyl), Charles Lawrence (Wimpy), Mae Questel (Swee'pea), Arnold Stang (Shorty), Jack Mercer (Puypeye/Peepeye/Poopeye/Pipeye/Poopdeck Pappy).

6523 Popeye the Sailor. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1962). A made-for-television version of the theatrical series (see prior title) about Popeye, a sailor who uses the incredible strength he derives from spinach to help good defeat evil. Brutus (not Bluto) is Popeye's nemesis; Olive Oyl is Popeye's girlfriend; Swee'pea is Olive's nephew and the Sea Hag is an evil person out to ruin Popeye's life. The series produced 220 six-minute episodes.

Voice Cast: Jack Mercer (Popeye), Mae Questel (Olive Oyl), Jackson Beck (Brutus), Mae Questel (Evil Sea Hag), Mae Questel (Swee'pea), Jack Mercer (Poopdeck Pappy).

6524 Popi. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1976). Abraham Rodriguez is a widower and the father of two sons, Abraham, Jr. and Luis. The family lives in New York City and Abraham, called Popi, is holding down two jobs and struggling to make ends meet. It is difficult, but he is making it happen, especially since he has the help (of raising his sons) from his girlfriend, Lupe, a woman who seems willing to take on such responsibilities but has yet to receive a proposal of marriage from Abraham (had the series continued past its 13 episode run, a marriage would have occurred). Angelo is Abraham's friend; Mr. Diaz is Abraham's employer.

Cast: Hector Elizondo (Abraham Rodriguez), Anthony Perez (Abraham Rodriguez, Jr.), Dennis Vasquez (Luis Rodriguez), Edith Diaz (Lupe), Lou Criscuolo (Angelo Maggio), Frank Lugo (Mr. Diaz).

6525 Popples. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). While exploring the treasures of their attic, a young sister and brother (Bonnie and Billy) discover an old box of toys and a group of friendly creatures that inhabit it called Popples. The misadventures that occur as Bonnie and Billy struggle to keep secret the existence of the very mischievous Popples is the focal point of stories.

Voice Cast: Valri Bromfield (Bonnie), Jackie Berger (Billy), Valri Bromfield (Mike), Donna Christie (Potato Chip), Jeannie Elias (Penny), Louise Vallance (Party), Louise Vallance (Punkity), Louise Vallance (Prize), Louise Vallance (Puffball), Sharon Noble (Pancake), Severine Morisot (Bonnie), Danny Mann (Punkster), Danny Mann (Putter), Maurice LaMarche (Puzzle), Hadley Kay (P.C. Popples).

6526 Popstars: USA. (Series; Reality; WB; 2001–2002). A reality series that seeks to create new musical groups. In the first incarnation of the series (2001) five women were chosen from thousands (at open auditions) to form the group Eden's Crush. The program chronicles the process that goes into making a group — from the auditions to the final result (with all the pressures, traumas and truly hard work that goes into the making of a recording group). The second incarnation (2002) chronicles the forming of the group Scene 23 (which was composed of both men and women). Both groups flourished for a while after being created but have since vanished from the scene.

6527 Popular. (Series; Drama; WB; 1999–2000). A look at the popular and not so popular students at John F. Kennedy High School in Los Angeles. Samantha McPherson, called Sam, is a reporter for the school newspaper, The Zapruder Reporter. She, Lilly Esposito and Carmen Ferrara are the "unpopular" girls.

Brooke McQueen, the head cheerleader (of the Glamazons), Nicole Julian and Mary Cherry are the popular girls.

Samantha believes she is pretty “but I will never be a 17 magazine girl because they don’t airbrush in real life.” She is on the yearbook committee at school (The Camelot) and wishes she had larger breasts.

Lily wishes, at times, she was Pam Grier (star of 1970s Black exploitation films) so people will listen to her. She loves to show cleavage and has doubts about her sexuality (she kissed Carmen in a moment of indecision). Lily’s teachers believe she is a troublemaker because she stands up for what she believes is wrong (like dissecting frogs for a biology class). She wants to save the world. She works as a waitress at Mr. Cluck’s Family Restaurant.

Carmen is slightly overweight and desperately wants to be thin and become a cheerleader, although she also says “I like being a little flawed. It’s me.” No matter what obstacles life throws at Carmen, she always manages to overcome them.

With her blonde hair and slim figure, Brooke appears to be perfect “But I’m not. I wish I had breasts that bounce and I have a bad habit of starring at myself in the mirror” (thinks she is fat). When Brooke was eight years old her mother abandoned her and her father. Brooke talks in her sleep, is a member of the Honors Society and was a Homecoming Queen.

Mary Cherry is a very beautiful 16-year-old blonde. She is the daughter of Cheri Cherry, a fabulously wealthy businesswoman (owner of the Cheri Cherry Corporation). Mary is a member of the cheerleading team, the Glamazons. She idolizes her mother and wants to be the star of her life (her mother knows Mary is not very smart but claims “She’s as loyal as a Rockweiller”).

Nicole Julian is 16 years old and believes that her beauty will get her through life. She is a bit more snooty than Mary and Brooke and, although she tolerates Samantha and her crowd, she prefers the company of the rich girls who can help her advance her position at school and in later in life.

Other students are Sugar Daddy, John Ford and Harrison John. Sugar Daddy is a white teen that has immersed himself in his notion of black youth culture. His real name is Michael Bernadino and he is somewhat heavy set but he doesn’t let that bother him. He enjoys being who he is — even though his is putting on African-American airs to impress people. Josh is the school’s star football player. Harrison lives with his lesbian mother, Robin (who works as a pharmacist) and the situation causes stress in his life; he has a crush on Lily whom he believes “has a nice ass and porn star hair.” Roberta “Bobbi” Glass is the school’s tough gym teacher.

Cast: Carly Pope (Samantha McPherson), Leslie Bibb (Brooke McQueen), Tammy Lynn Michaels (Nicole Julian), Leslie Grossman (Mary Cherry), Tamara Mello (Lily Esposito), Sara Rue (Carmen Ferrara), Ron Lester (Sugar Daddy), Christopher Gorman (Harrison John), Bryce Johnson (Josh Ford), Diane Delano (Bobbi Glass), Alley Mills (Robin John), Delta Burke (Cheri Cherry), Lisa Darr (Jane McPherson; Samantha’s mother).

6528 Porky Pig and Friends. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1964–1967). A packaged series of Warner Bros. theatrical cartoons, produced from 1948–1965, that star the stuttering Porky Pig. Additional segments include Daffy Duck, Bugs Bunny, Sylvester and Tweety and Foghorn Leghorn.

Voice Characterizations: Mel Blanc.

6529 Port Charles. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1997–2003). A dramatic look at the lives of the people of Port Charles, a small New York suburb. A spin-off from General Hospital. The series premiered with a two-hour prime time special on June 1, 1997 and presented stories as “books” that ran for 13-week cycles (this had been done once before on television in 1949 when One Man’s Family premiered; the process was actually begun when the series played on radio).

Port Charles produced a total of 1,624 episodes and ran from June 1, 1997 to October 3, 2003. The twelve books were: “Fate,” “Time in a Bottle,” “Tainted Love,” “Tempted,” “Miracles Happen,” “Secrets,” “Superstition,” “Tom,” “Naked Eyes,” “Surrender,” “Desire” and “The Gift.”

Cast: Lisa Ann Hadley (Julie Morris Devlin), Kelly Monaco (Livie Locke), Michael Easton (Caleb Morley), Jon Lindstrom (Kevin Collins), Julie Pinson (Eve Lambert Thornhart), Kiko Ellsworth (Jamal Woods), Kin Shriner (Scott Baldwin), Carly Schroeder (Serena Baldwin), Michael Dietz (Joe Scanlon), David Gail (Joe Scanlon), Alex Mendoza (Joe Scanlon), Shannon Sturges (Kate Reynolds), Mitch Longley (Matt Harmon), Jennifer Harmon (Karen Wexler), Marie Wilson II (Karen Wexler), Marie Wilson II (Caroline Wexler), Rib Hills (Jake Marshak), Kimberlin Brown (Rachel Locke), Brian Presley (Jack Ramsey), Erin Hershey (Alison Barrington), Lynn Herring (Lucy Coe), Joy Bisco (Casey), Joy Bisco (Marissa Leong), Sarah Aldrich (Courtney Kanelos), Debbi Morgan (Ellen Morgan Burgess), Eddie Matos (Ricky Garza), Thorsten Kaye (Ian Thornhart), Brian Gaskill (Rafe Kovich), Jay Pickett (Frank Scanlon, Jr.), Nolan North (Chris Ramsey), Opal Anchel (Arianna Thornhart), Wayne Northrop (Rex Stanton), Rachel Ames (Audrey Hardy), Neil Tarkin (Don McTavish), Finneus Egan (Mick), Vanita Harbour (Dara Jensen), John J. York (Mac Scorpio), Curtis Peek (Dr. Hartman), Gonzalo Menendez (J.D.), Tom Jordan (Brennan Hutchins), Ian Buchanan (Joshua Temple), Stuart Damon (Dr. Alan Quartermaine).

6530 The Porter Wagoner Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1960). Performances by country and western entertainers with singer Porter Wagoner as the host.

Host: Porter Wagoner. Regulars: Dolly Parton,

Barbara Lee, Bruce Osborne, Spec Rose. Announcer: Don Housner. Music: The Wagon Masters.

6531 Portia Faces Life. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1954–1955). The dramatic story of Portia Manning, an attorney and mother, who struggles to divide her time between the demands of work and the necessities of a home and family. Walter is Portia's husband; Shirley and Dick are their children; Carl is Walter's brother. The series ran from April 5, 1954 to July 1, 1955.

6532 Portrait of a Legend. (Series; Tribute; Syn.; 1981). James Darren hosts a program of tributes to great legends of music. Film clips and current-day interviews recall a subject's career.

Cast: James Farentino (Kevin Leahy). Guest Cast: Claudette Nevins (Ellen Summer), Eugene Roche (Sergeant Taplinger), Joan Hackett (Louise Gelson), Ann Dusenberry (Weezie Summer), Harrison Ford (Paul Winjam), Dinah Manoff (Celia), Diana Scarwid (Lane), Carol Jones (Alexis), P.J. Soles (Matty).

6534 Pottsville. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 2/27/80). Bulldog O'Halloran is an harassed labor leader and the president of Local 605 of the National Factory Workers Union in Pottsville, a small manufacturing town. The proposed series was to relate Bulldog's efforts to solve the constant barrage of problems that befall him. In the pilot episode Bulldog's attempts to put down a feminist rebellion within his own ranks and avert a strike against his company, the Farraday Sandpaper Corporation.

Other Regulars: Grace, his wife; Tinker, their son; Bill, Bulldog's union assistant; Holden, the company owner (Farraday Sandpaper); Gardy, Holden's wife; Ted, Holden's son; Randy, Pippa, Helen and Sue, the office girls; and Snell, Holden's aide.

Cast: Forrest Tucker (Bulldog O'Halloran), Jan Miner (Grace O'Halloran), George O'Hanlon, Jr. (Tinker O'Halloran), Richard Brestoff (Bill Gentry), John Lawlor (Holden Farraday), Nina Foch (Gardy Farraday), Jimmy Samuels (Ted Farraday), Hamilton

Camp (Snell), Jane Daly (Randy), Heidi Gold (Pippa), Edie McClurg (Helen), Lynne Thigpen (Sue). Guest Cast: Rory Calhoun (Sundance Eubanks), Christopher Murney (Benny), James Cromwell (Frank), Luke Andreas (Guido).

6535 Pound Puppies. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1986). The adventures of a group of puppies (called Pound Puppies) who live in a pound but can escape at night through a secret tunnel to explore (and find misadventure) in the outside world. Holly is the puppies' human friend who shares in their adventures; Katrina Stoneheart is Holly's guardian; Brattina is Katrina's spoiled daughter; Looker, Howler, Whooper, Catgut, Nose Marie are the main puppies.

Voice Cast: Ami Foster (Holly), Adrienne Alexander (Brattina), Pat Carroll (Karina Stoneheart), Ruth Buzzi (Nose Marie), Nancy Cartwright (Brighteyes), Dan Gilvezan (Cooler), Robert Morse (Howler), B.J. Ward (Whopper), Frank Welker (Catgut).

6536 The Powder Room. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/26/71). A proposed series of vignettes that explores life as seen through the eyes of women. The pilot stories: "The Militant." Joey Heatherton as a co-ed who is determined to seduce her professor (Jack Cassidy); "The Affair." An over-thirty housewife (Jeanine Burnier) attempts to revive her husband's (Jack Cassidy) romantic appetite; and "The Mourner." Elaine Stritch as an over-forty widow seeking a new mate (Jack Cassidy).

Host: Jack Cassidy.

6537 Powderkeg. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 4/16/71). The pilot film for Bearcats about Hank Brackett and Johnny Reach, troubleshooters in the turbulent Southwest in 1914. In the pilot episode, Hank and Johnny are hired to retrieve a hijacked train.

Cast: Rod Taylor (Hank Brackett), Dennis Cole (Johnny Reach). Guest Cast: Tisha Sterling (Beth Parkinson), Fernando Lamas (Morales), John McIntire (Cyrus Davenport), Luciana Paluzzi (Juanita), Melodie Johnson (Miss Baker), Reni Santoni (Ricardo), Michael Ansara (Paco).

6538 Power of Attorney. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 2000). A syndicated daily court show that tried to be a little bit different from Judge Judy and other court shows on the air at the time (Judge Mills Lane, The People's Court, Judge Joe Brown, Judge Mathis, Divorce Court). A small claims court is the setting. The plaintiff and defendants are real and the cases are real. But here, instead of the litigants arguing their cases, court appointed attorneys do the arguing. The judge then delivers a decision that is binding and cannot be appealed.

tunity to win $10 million. The players stand opposite each other in the Elimination Round (where one player must defeat the other). All questions are based on a national poll as to how Americans responded to specific questions asked of them. The game begins when the host asks the first question (for example, “What percentage of American women consider themselves feminists?”). Each player has ten seconds in which to lock in their guess (from zero to one hundred percent). The correct answer is revealed and the player who has come closest to the result survey scores one point. Five such questions are played and the first player to score three points is the winner. This player now competes for the grand prize.

Five questions are played and each money amount is increased by the power of ten. Question one is worth $1,000 and the player has a 40-point range (higher or lower) to help him. Question two, worth $10,000, gives the player a 30-point range. Question three is worth $100,000 but the player's point range is now 20 points higher or lower than the actual answer. The fourth question gives the player a 10-point range and $1 million is at stake. If the player is correct on this question, the answer is not given (the actual survey percentage). To win $10 million the player has no point range help and must give the actual survey percentage number (in the question used above, 29 percent was the answer. If that were the question here, the player would have to respond with 29 to win). The player can quit at any time and leave with the money he has won. An incorrect answer defeats a player and his winnings are decreased by the power of ten (if the player is at the $10,000 level and misses, he wins $1,000).

Host: Drew Carey.

6540 Power Rangers Dino Thunder. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 2004–2005). A spin-off from Power Rangers World Force. Dr. Thomas Oliver is a teacher at Reefside High School in Angel City. He is a paleontologist and teaches science to teenagers. One day on a field trip to find prehistoric fossils, Kira, Ethan and Connor, three of Professor Oliver's students, find a mysterious cave and three crystals. The crystals are from an asteroid that crashed into the Earth millions of years ago and killed the dinosaurs. Each of the teens becomes attached to one of the crystals and is granted special powers. Kira becomes the Yellow Ranger, Connor the Red Ranger and Ethan, the Green Ranger. When Thomas, one of the original Power Rangers (from the series The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers), learns of his student's discovery, he uses dinosaur DNA to enhance the Ranger's powers and creates Dino Zords and Dino Morphing bracelets to transform his students into the Power Rangers Dino Thunder. Stories relate the Power Rangers battle against Anton Mercer, an evil scientist who seeks the crystals and uses his evil bio zords to wreck havoc on the Earth.

Cast: Jason David Frank (Tommy Oliver), James Napier (Conner McKnight), Kevin Duhney (Ethan James), Emma Lahana (Kira Ford), Katrina Devine (Cassidy Cornell), Mirama Smith (Elsa), Tom Hern (Cassidy), Lathan Gaines (Dr. Anton Mercer).

6541 Power Rangers in Space. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1999). A spin-off from Power Rangers Turbo. Here the Power Rangers, who protect Angel Grove City from evil space invaders, are guided by Alpha and incorporate the U.S. space shuttle to battle the evil Rita Repulsa and her cohorts Divatox and Astronomus, the Princess of Evil. The Power Rangers in this version are Ashley, Cassie, Carlos and T.J. Lord Zedd, an enemy from the parent series, also returns to wreck havoc on Angel Grove City.

6542 Power Rangers Mystic Force. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 2006–2007). A spin-off from Power Rangers S.P.D. The adventures of six teenagers (Nick, Vida, Xander, Madison, Chip and Daggeron) who live in a city called Briarwood and who use their magical abilities as Power Rangers to battle the dark forces of evil (especially the unseen Imperius) who rules from the dark regions of space. Nick is the Red Power Ranger; Vida, the Pink Power Ranger; Xander, the Green Power Ranger; Madison, the Blue Power Ranger; Chip, the Gold Power Ranger; and Daggeron, the Silver Power Ranger. Uldonna is the sorceress who endowed the teenagers with their magic; she is assisted by Clare.

6543 Power Rangers Ninja Storm. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 2001–2002). A spin-off from Power Rangers Time Force. The program opens with these words: “Deep in the mountains, secret Ninja academies train our future protectors. Ancient scrolls told of those who would be chosen above the others — three who would become Power Rangers Ninja Storm.”

Shane, Tori and Dustin are the chosen ones; Cam is their leader, a member of a secret Ninja society (the Wind Ninja Academy) who use the art of the Ninja to battle evil — especially those of Lothar, an evil Ninja who broke away from the academy and now seeks to destroy the society that stands in his way of conquering the Earth.

Lothar was once a great Ninja who was banished from the Earth when his hunger for power turned him to the dark side. He has now returned with an army to take over the planet.

Each of the Power Rangers are special. Dustin, Child of the Earth, has the power of the Yellow Wind Ranger. Tori, fluid and graceful like water, is the Blue Wind Ranger. Shane, reaching for the stars, commands the power of the Red Wind Ranger. Together they become the Wind Power Rangers, protectors of the Earth. Their master is Sensel, a Ninja master who was transformed into a guinea pig (puppet) when his good forces met Lothar's bad forces. His son, Cam, assists him. The Rangers call on their powers by saying, "Ninja Storm Ranger Form." Kapri and Marah, Lothar's evil nieces, assist him. Based on the Japanese series Hurricane Rangers.

Cast: Pva Maaasiva (Shane), Sally Martin (Tori), Glenn McMillan (Dustin), Jason Chan (Cam), Grant McFarland (Lothar), Katrina Browne (Kapri), Katrina Devine (Marah), Grant McFarland (Voice of Sensel Guinea Pig).

6544 Power Rangers: Operation Overdrive. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 2007–). A spin-off from Power Rangers Mystic Force. After ten years of searching, archeologist Andrew Radford finds something that was believed not to exist — the Corona Aurora, a fabulous crown of jewels that contains great power and that he hopes will bring happiness and wealth to the world. However, upon finding it, he also unleashes a great evil — Norg and Flurious, evil aliens seeking the crown for the power it will afford them. Legend states that the Corona Aurora has the power over the Earth and the entire universe. To prevent anyone from acquiring this awesome power, its guardians scattered the crown's five jewels over a distant uninhabited planet — the Earth of millions of years ago.

The series actually begins six months after Andrew finds the crown. He is aware of the great evil he has unleashed and has gathered four special teenagers (Ronny, Will, Rose and Dax) to help him in a very special quest: battle evil and find the missing jewels before they fall into the wrong hands. Andrew appears also to be an inventor as he developed special uniforms that endow the teens with unique abilities as Power Rangers (they become Power Rangers by activating their overdrive trackers. Andrew's son, Mark, becomes the fifth ranger, the Red Ranger. Ronny is the Yellow Ranger; Rose, the Pink Ranger; Dax, the Black Ranger; and Will, the Green Ranger).

Cast: Caitlin Murphy (Ronny), James Maclurcan (Mark), Rhoda Montemayor (Rose), Samuel Yuen (Dax), Samuel Benta (Will), Rod Lousich (Andrew Radford), Rod Weatherly (Spencer; the butler), Kelvin Henderson (Norg), Gerald Urquhart (Flurious).

6545 Power Rangers S.P.D. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 2005). A spin-off from Power Rangers Dino Thunder. Here the Power Rangers (Sydney, Bridge, Elizabeth, Schuyler and Jack) have been trained at the Ranger Academy (sort of a futuristic police force) by Commander Anubis "Doggie" Cruger. When an evil alien (Emperor Grumm) threatens to destroy the Earth, the Power Rangers are assigned to stop him. Sydney becomes the Pink Power Ranger, Bridge the Green Power Ranger, Elizabeth the Yellow Power Ranger, Schuyler the Blue Power Ranger, and Jack the Red Power Ranger. Stories relate their efforts, incorporating intergalactic weapons and their powerful Zord vehicles, to defeat Emperor Grumm and his horde of monsters.

Cast: Brandon Jay McLaren (Jack Landors), Chris Violette (Schuyler "Sky" Tate), Matt Austin (Bridge Carson), Monica May (Elizabeth "Z" Delgado), Alycia Purrott (Sydney "Syd" Drew), John Tui (Commander Anubis "Doggie" Cruger), Olivia James-Baird (Mora), Michelle Langstone (Dr. Katherine "Kat" Manx), Rene Naufahu (Emperor Graumm).

6546 Power Rangers Time Force. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 2000). A spin-off from Power Rangers in Space but based on The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers. Here the Power Rangers, the protectors of Angel Grove City, are Time Force Officers and live together in the Clock Tower, which is haunted by the ghost of its previous owner, Walter Brown. The Rangers are able to travel through time to battle the evils of Ransik and Nadria, evil beings bent on destroying the Earth.

The Power Rangers are Red Ranger Wes, Yellow Ranger Katie, Pink Ranger Jen, Blue Ranger Lucas and Green Ranger Trip. Circuit, the mechanical owl, is their computer link to the future; Wes's father, Mr. Collins, runs Bio-Lab; Eric is the lab's head of security.

Cast: Jason Faunt (Wes), Deborah Estelle Phillips (Katie), Erin Cahill (Jen), Michael Copon (Lucas), Kevin Kleinberg (Trip), Edward Albert (Mr. Collins), Vernon Wells (Ransik), Kate Sheldon (Nadria), Daniel Southworth (Eric).

6547 Power Rangers Turbo. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1998). A spin-off from The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers. Here the Power Rangers, who protect Angel Grove City from the evils of outer space, are Tommy, Kat, Ashley, Tanya, T.J., Justin, Adam, Cassie and Carlos. In addition to the powers that were established in the parent series, the Rangers use high tech, transformable cars (that become awesome fighting machines) to assist them in their seeming endless battles.

Cast: Jason David Frank (Tommy), Catherine Sutherland (Kat), Tracy Lynn Cruz (Ashley), Nakia

Burrise (Tanya), Selwyn Ward (T.J.), Blake Foster (Justin), Johnny Yong Bosch (Adam), Patricia Jaa Lee (Cassie), Roger Velasco (Carlos).

6548 Power Rangers World Force. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 2002–2003). A spin-off from Power Rangers Ninja Storm. Three thousand years ago there existed a land called Animaria. Here the people and creatures of Earth lived in harmony and respected nature. There was nothing but joy and beauty until Master Org, a great evil emerged from the underground. Master Org and his assistant, Toxica caused great destruction by polluting the land. One being, Princess Shayla escaped the destruction when her warrior protectors took her to the Temple in the Valley of the Swords. There she entered a long, suspended sleep, waiting for a time when the world would need her help. Shayla's warriors placed their magic swords together and lifted the entire valley into the sky to escape Master Org as a safe haven for animals. In a fierce battle, the ancient warriors defeated Master Org, Toxica and their soldiers and imprisoned them in stone. As the centuries passed, man has allowed the Earth to become polluted again. The pollution weakened the stone cells of Master Org and his army and caused them to rise again, seeking to once again control the Earth. The pollution also causes Princess Shayla and her power animals (protectors) to awake. To help her defeat Master Org and Toxica, Shayla recruits five teenagers to help her: Cole, Taylor, Alyssa, Max and Danny. The teens become the new Power Rangers and acquire the power of the animals to battle Master Org and his army of monsters: Cole, the Red Ranger, has the strength of the lion; Taylor, the Yellow Ranger, the ability of the eagle; Alyssa, the White Ranger, has the power of the tiger; Max, the Blue Ranger, the cunning of the shark; and Danny, the Black Ranger, the strength of the Bison. By saying "Wild Access," each teen is transformed into his Power Ranger alter ego. By raising their swords they join their animal forms to become a giant and powerful fighting machine to battle the forces of Master Org's evil creatures, the Orgs.

6549 The Power Team. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 11/25/94). Johnny is a teenage boy fascinated by video games. One day, while playing a game called "The Power Team," five of its heroes (Max Force, Quick, Tyrone, Zerous and their car, Bigfoot) come to life when Johnny pushes the joystick on his control box. The team has been assigned to Johnny to battle crime, particularly the evils of Mr. Big, an overweight, diminutive hood, and his assistants, Joe and Spike, who plan to take over the city. In the pilot episode, Big Foot faces the wrath of Burnt Rubber, an evil truck created by Mr. Big to rid the Power Team of their car.

6550 The Power Within. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 5/11/79). During an electrical storm, Chris Darrow, a young daredevil pilot, is struck by lightning. The lightning transforms Chris into a virtual human dynamo — energy he uses to battle evil. (It is explained that before his birth, Chris's mother had been exposed to an accidental overdose of radiation, which had been absorbed by Chris, and years later saved his life when struck by the lightning.) In the pilot episode, Chris struggles to protect himself — and his secret — from enemy agents. Originally titled Power Man. Other Regulars: Bill, Chris's mechanic; and General Tom Darrow, Chris's father.

Cast: Art Hindle (Chris Darrow), Joe Rossulo (Bill Carmalie), Edward Binns (Tom Darrow). Guest Cast: Dick Sargent (Captain Ed Holman), Susan Howard (Dr. Joanna Mills), David Hedison (Danton), Karen Lamm (Marvalee).

6551 Powerhouse. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1982–1983). Powerhouse is a community home typical of those that can be found in any American city or town. It is here that teenagers can seek refuge in times of need. Stories aimed at teenagers are constructed to instill lessons in living and good health habits. Brenda Gaines is the woman who runs Powerhouse; the kids are Jennifer, Pepper, Kevin, Lolo, Bobby, Thelma and Tony.

Cast: Sandra Bowie (Brenda Gaines), Domenica Galati (Jennifer), Jessica Prentice (Pepper), Michael Mack (Kevin), Jason Kravits (Lolo), David Labrosa (Bobby), Anne Helms-Irons (Thelma), Michael Wikes (Tony). Theme Song: "Powerhouse" by Richard Paul Brieri.

6552 The Powerpuff Girls. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1998). In an attempt to create the perfect little girls, a scientist (Professor Utonium) creates Blossom, Bubbles and Buttercup. However, when the professor accidentally exposes the girls to Chemical X, they acquire awesome powers. Stories focus on Buttercup, Blossom, and Bubbles, the Powerpuff Girls, as they use their skills (mostly martial arts) to save their city (Townsville) from would-be conquerors.

Blossom is the leader. She is the most intelligent and comes up with their plan of action. Bubbles is sweet and kind and very sensitive. Buttercup is tough and lives for the confrontations she encounters.

Mojo Jojo is a villain who was once the Professor's assistant (the chemical that created the Powerpuff Girls adversely affected him); Ms. Keane is the girls teacher at Pokey Oaks Kindergarten; The Mayor is the leader of Townsville (he contacts the Powerpuff Girls in times of need via a telephone hotline).

Voice Cast: Catherine Cavadini (Blossom), Tara Strong (Bubbles), Elizabeth Daly (Buttercup), Tom Kane (Professor Utonium), Jennifer Hale (Ms. Keane), Roger L. Jackson (Mojo Jojo), Tom Kenny (The Mayor/Narrator), Russi Taylor, Tom Cummings, Micky Dolenz, Julie Nathanson, Jennifer Martin, Michael Bell, Kath Soucie, Bob Bergen, Kimberly Brooks, Roger Rosa, Frank Welker.

6553 The Powers of Matthew Star. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 1982–1983). When the planet Quandris is invaded by aliens, its young prince, Ehawk, is sent to Earth to develop his powers until they become strong enough for him to return to Quandris and battle its enemies. Ehawk and his guardian, Dehay, settle in a California town called Crestridge, where Ehawk assumes the role of Matthew Star, a high school student, and Dehay assumes the identity of Walt Shepherd, a science teacher at Crestridge High School (Matthew and Walt are awaiting a special ship to take them back to Quandris — in their year 8312, at which time Matthew’s powers will have been developed). Stories depicts Matthew’s efforts to develop his powers, live a free life and battle the enemies of Quandris who have come to Earth to kill him. The series was originally titled Knight Star then Star Prince, The Powers of David Star and The Powers of Daniel Star. In the original pilot film Peter Barton is referred to as David Star and his guardian is Max, played by Gerald S. O’Loughlin (who was replaced in the series by Louis Gossett, Jr.).

Other regulars are Pam Elliott, Matthew’s friend; General Fredrick Tucker, the Air Force commander who enlists Matthew’s help (replaced by Mr. Wymore); Mr. Curtis, the coach; Mr. Heller, the principal; Queen Nadra, Matthew’s mother; Bob, a student.

Cast: Peter Barton (Matthew Star), Louis Gossett, Jr. (Walt Shepherd), Amy Steele (Pam Elliott), John Crawford (Gen. Frederick Tucker), James Karen (Mr. Wymore), Barry Van Dyke (Mr. Curtis), Chip Frye (Bob), Tricia O’Neil (Queen Nadra), Michael Fairman (Mr. Heller). Narrator: Louis Gossett, Jr. Theme Song: “The Powers of Matthew Star” by Michel Rubini, Denny Jaeger.

6554 Powers Play. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 8/30/86). Following the death of the father she never knew, Rowena Powers inherits BPI (Ben Powers International), a powerful world-wide conglomerate based in Arizona. The unsold series was to relate Rowena’s adventures as she struggles to protect her interests in the company. In the pilot episode, Rowena travels to Canada to investigate a swindle involving land deeded to a tribe of Indians. Other Regulars: Lucas Cord, the company president (Rowena is Chairman of the Board); and Harry, Rowena’s grandfather.

Cast: Sheree J. Wilson (Rowena Powers), David

Birney (Lucas Cord), Noah Beery, Jr. (Harry). Guest Cast: Kurtwood Smith (Major Heckenkamp), Thaa Penghlis (Paul Boudea), Patricia Ludwick (Jennifer), Wally Marsh (Indian), Franklin Johnson (Prospector), Ernie Phillips (Shaman).

6555 The Powers That Be. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1992–1993). Washington, D.C., is the setting for a comical look at the Powers, a dysfunctional political family: Senator William (“Bill”) Franklin Powers, his wife, Margaret, their married daughter, Caitlin Van Horne and Sophie Lipkin, Bill’s illegitimate daughter from a wartime romance (she now works for her father as a political aide).

Bill, a liberal Democrat, is 65 years old and has been a senator for 26 years. He and Margaret live at 2292 Applewood Drive. Margaret is yearning to become a First Lady and is grooming Bill for the Oval Office. She is younger than Bill and is actively involved in the political arena (she becomes devastated if she is not invited to an important political function and dreads the thought of Bill performing his awful ventriloquist act at political functions). Margaret is famous for her chicken salad sandwiches and will join any charity to further Bill’s political career.

Caitlin is very pretty, but also petty, self-serving and vain. She is married to the wimpy congressman Theodore Van Horne, who is unable to stand up to or overcome her dominance over him (he says simply, “Yes, dear,” to everything she asks, and he appears to be on the brink of suicide). Caitlin and Theodore are the parents of young Pierce. Caitlin loves to wear pink and calls Margaret “Mummy.”

Jordan Miller is Bill’s legislative assistant (press agent in some episodes) and Bill’s mistress; she calls Bill “Button” (they have a secret rendezvous every Sunday morning; Margaret thinks Bill is at church). Bradley Grist is Bill’s P.R. man, and Charlotte is the Powers’ maid. She is famous for her crab cakes but is constantly belittled by Margaret and seems to live in fear of her. Charlotte and Theodore have a secret crush on each other (possibly the only thing that is keeping Theodore from killing himself). Stephen Bishop sings the theme, “The Powers That Be.”

Cast: John Forsythe (Bill Franklin), Holland Taylor (Margaret Franklin), Valerie Mahaffey (Caitlin Van Horne), Robin Bartlett (Sophie Lipkin), David Hyde Pierce (Theodore Van Horne), Joseph Gordon-Levitt (Pierce Van Horne), Eve Gordon (Jordan Miller), Peter MacNichol (Bradley Grist), Elizabeth Berridge (Charlotte).

6556 The Practice. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976–1977). Dr. Jules Bedford is a gruff but lovable doctor who practices on the Lower East Side of New York City. The recurring storyline finds Jules’s son, David, an uptown physician, struggling to convince his father to give up his shabby practice and join him on Park Avenue.

Jenny Bedford is David's wife; Molly Gibbons is Jules's nurse; Helen is Jules's receptionist; Paul and Tony are David's sons; Dr. Roland Caine is David's partner; Nate is the hospital restaurant waiter; Lenny is the intern; Dr. Byron Fisk is David's friend; Harry Bedford is Jules's brother.

6557 The Practice. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1997–2004). Donnell, Young, Berluti and Frutt is a Boston-based law firm that considers every client important and worth what ever battle it takes to win their case. The lawyers of the firm are compassionate and are experts at legal maneuvers (all done within the limits of the law).

Robert Donnell is the senior defense attorney and the firm's founder. Jimmy Berluti, Ellenor Frutt, Eugene Young and Lindsay Dole are junior partners. Jessica Capshaw is a paralegal and a third year law student; Tara Wilson is the ethically challenged lawyer; Jamie Stringer is the newest member of the firm, a recent law school graduate. The series is created by David E. Kelly and contains subtle humor.

Cast: Dylan McDermott (Robert Donnell), Steve Harris (Eugene Young), Camryn Manheim (Ellenor Frutt), Michael Badalucco (Jimmy Berluti), Jessica Capshaw (Jamie Stringer), Rhona Mitra (Tara Wilson), James Spader (Alan Shore), Kelli Williams (Lindsay Dole), Lisa Gay Hamilton (Rebecca Washington), Lara Flynn Boyle (Helen Gamble), Marla Sokoloff (Lucy Hatcher), Bill Smithrovich (ADA Ken Walsh), Ron Livingston (ADA Alan Lowe), Jason Kravits (ADA Richard Bay).

6558 Prairie Home Companion with Garrison Keillor. (Series; Variety; Disney; 1985). A television adaptation of the radio series of the same title in which host Garrison Keillor relates stories about life in the small town of Lake Wobegone in Mist County, Minnesota. Name guests, mostly country and western singers, appear on each episode.

Host: Garrison Keillor.

6559 Prehistoric Park. (Series; Documentary; Animal Planet; 2006). Computer animation mixes with live action to tell the story of dinosaurs — but seen in a totally different light (although one could associate it with the film Jurassic Park). Zoologist Nigel Marven travels back in time to capture dinosaurs in their native habitat and bring specimens back for zoo exhibition. As Nigel explores the forests and open plains looking for the beasts, a narrator supplies factual information on the particular animal he is seeking (seen in life-like computer animation).

Host: Nigel Marven.

6560 Prehistoric Planet. (Series; Children; Discovery Kids; 2002). A computer animated series that presents a rather realistic look at the way dinosaurs lived and flourished on earth millions of years ago. Each program is devoted to a specific subject (like predators) of a specific breed of dinosaur. The program opens as follows: "You're traveling back in time — millions of years flash by in seconds. You're going face-to-face with the wildest creatures that ever walked the earth. You're about to explore Prehistoric Planet."

Narrator: Ben Stiller, Christopher Slater.

6561 Premiere. (Live Test Program; Variety; CBS; 6/25/51). An historic CBS event: its first attempt at commercial color broadcasting to a five city cable hookup (New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C. and Boston). The program featured the performances of top CBS personalities and showed the potential of color television (even though there were, for example, only 30 color sets in New York City). Although the CBS color wheel system was the one favored by the FCC (it rejected RCA's tri-color tube), it never caught on. The system showed brilliant color but played havoc with faces and hair, giving a two-tone look. The show was also a great plug for the sponsors who backed it: General Mills, Wrigley's Gum, Pepsi-Cola, Toni Home Permanent, Proctor and Gamble, Standard Brands, Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour, Ivory Soap, Tender Leaf Tea, Chase and Sanborn Coffee, Ford Lincoln and Mercury Cars and Revlon Lipstick.

Performers: Robert Alda, Isabel Bigley, The Bil and Cora Baird Marionettes, Faye Emerson, Arthur Godfrey, Durward Kirby, Sam Levinson, Garry Moore, The New City Ballet Company, Ed Sullivan. Miss CBS Color: Patty Painter. CBS Guests: William S. Paley (chairman), Frank Stanton (president), Wayne Coy (FCC Chairman). Orchestra: Archie Bleyer.

6562 Premiere. (Pilot; CBS; 7/1/68 to 9/9/68). The overall title for a series of unsold pilot films. See the following titles for information: Call to Danger (1968), Crisis, Higher and Higher, Attorneys at Law, Lassiter, Operation: Greasepaint, Out of the Blue, The Search and A Walk in the Night.

6563 Prescription: Murder. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 2/10/68). The first pilot film for Columbo (see also Ransom for a Dead Man) about Lieutenant Columbo, an underpaid, untidy, but brilliant cop with the L.A.P.D. In the pilot episode, Columbo attempts to nail a psychiatrist who seems to have committed the perfect crime.

Cast: Peter Falk (Lieutenant Columbo). Guest

6564 Presenting Susan Anton. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1979). Music, songs and comedy that spotlight the talents of actress Susan Anton.

Cast: Dana Delany (Dr. Rae Brennan), Blythe Danner (Dr. Harriet Lanning), Julianne Nicholson (Dr. Jules Keating), Sasha Alexander (Dr. Jackie Collette), Paul Black Thorne (Dr. Matt Slingerland), Anna Deavere Smith (Dr. Letty Jordan), Oded Fehr (Dr. Nicholas Kokoris), Jennifer Siebel (Cyndy Lloyd), David Kaufman (Norman Drum).

6566 Press Your Luck. (Series; Game; CBS; 1983). A question is read to three contestants. The first player to buzz in receives a chance to answer. His answer, plus two additional answers, are revealed to the other players. The remaining two players have the opportunity to select one answer. Points (called spins) are awarded thus: three spins for the player who buzzed in first if he has the correct answer; if he is wrong, the other player can receive one spin if they chose the correct answer. Four such rounds are played. Players then receive the opportunity to use their spins on a large electronic game board. The board is divided into 20 squares, each of which revolves rapidly. Squares contains cash amounts, merchandise prizes and Whammies. The object is for a player to accumulate as much cash and merchandise as possible within his allotted amount of time without hitting a Whammy (which automatically wipes out all his earnings). The player with the overall highest cash and merchandise score is the winner.

Host: Peter Tomarken. Announcer: Rod Roddy.

6567 Pressure Point. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1990). Three contestants compete. A question is read followed by the first letter to the answer. The first player to buzz in receives a chance to answer. If he is correct he scores points. The highest point scorer is the winner.

Host: Clint Holmes. Announcer: Jim McKrell.

6568 The Preston Episodes. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1995). David Preston is a college professor (teaches Shakespeare) with a troubled marriage. Following an equitable divorce he decides on a career change and acquires a job as a writer for a celebrity magazine called Stuff. The series, which ran for two episodes, relates incidents in David's life as he goes about acquiring stories for the magazine. Larry Dunhill is the paper's editor; Kelly Freeman, Adam Green, Harlow, Larry Dunhill and Derek Clooney are David's co-workers.

Cast: David Alan Grier (David Preston), Judith Scott (Kelly Freeman), Clive Revill (Larry Dunhill), Matthew Walker (Adam Green), Jeff Horny (Ned), Tommy Hinkley (Derek Clooney), Brent Hinkley (Harlow).

6569 The Pretender. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1996–2000). The Center is a mysterious organization that seeks and trains specially endowed human beings. Such a person is a man known only as Jarod. Jarod possesses a very high I.Q. and has the ability to impersonate people. He was taken from his family as a child and raised on the goals of the center.

Jarod's abilities are tested through various simulations. As Jarod grew up he also wised up and realized these simulations were not being used to help people. Fearing they may be planning to use him for sinister purposes, Jarod escapes from the Center and sets out to find his real family — and use the abilities he learned at the Center to help people in trouble he finds along the way by becoming anyone he wants to be.

Jarod, however, is not as free as he thinks. The Center wants him back and assigns Sydney, Jarod's father figure, to retrieve him. Also pursuing Jarod are Catherine Parker, Jarod's childhood friend (her father runs the Center) and Broots, a computer whiz who obeys his superiors no matter what he may asked to do. When the series ended on NBC, the TNT cable network produced two TV movies based on the series: The Pretender 2001 (January 22, 2001) and The Pretender: Island of the Haunted (December 10, 2001).

Cast: Michael T. Weiss (Jarod), Andrea Parker (Catherine Parker), Jon Gries (Broots), Patrick Bauchau (Sydney), Ryan Merriman (Young Jarod; flashbacks).

6570 The Pretenders. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 7/5/88). Nick Stuart was a dashing U.S. government undercover agent who was killed during an assignment. Nick's long-estranged twin brother, Jack, is found by the government and asked to masquerade as his brother. Jack is the direct opposite of Nick — an irreverent, anti-authoritarian, down-on-his-luck disc jockey who was fired from his last nine jobs. But Jack needs the money and agrees to become his brother. He is teamed with Nick's beautiful and sophisticated partner, Alexandra Greer, and the unsold series was to relate their collision of classes and attitudes as Jack struggles to play the part of his brother in the midst of dangerous crime-fighting missions. In the pilot episode, Jack and Alexandra seek a criminal who is killing Central Americans in Florida.

Cast: Amanda Pays (Alexandra Greer), Roger Wilson (Jack Stuart), Mitchell Laurance (Sam Everett, their superior). Guest Cast: Tom Lacy (Mike Donovan), Gina Gallego (Consuela Baptiste), Ana Helena Berenguer (Maria Fuentes), John Standing (Wallace Stoningham), Taylor Donlan (Doris Stoningham). Note: The pilot was originally titled Sterling and had the main character, Jack Sterling, masquerading as his late brother Nick and being teamed with Nick's partner, Whitney.

6571 Preview Theater. (Pilot; NBC; 7/14 to 9/22/61). A summer series of unsold pilot films for the 1961–62 season. See the following titles: Five's a Family, Happily Ever After, Harry's Business, Heave Ho Harrigan, I Married a Dog, Innocent Jones, Miss Bishop, Picture Window and Shore Leave.

6572 Preview Tonight. (Pilot; Various; ABC; 8/14 to 9/11/66). The overall title for a group of unsold series ideas for the 1966–67 season. See the following titles: The Cliff Dwellers, Great Bible Adventures, Pursue and Destroy, Roaring Camp, Somewhere in Italy ... Company B.

An announcer opens the show: "Each year many of the new shows developed for television fail to make the networks schedules even though they are entertaining and well produced. Tonight's pilot film is one of these. We invite you behind the scenes to see what you think of Pursue and Destroy on Preview Tonight."

6573 The Price Is Right. (Series; Game; NBC; ABC; 1956–1965). The game varies greatly in presentation but the basic format calls for contestants to guess the manufacturer's suggested retail price for various merchandise. Players who surpass the selling price forfeit their chance to win that particular item; the player whose bid comes closest to the selling price receives the item. The series ran on NBC from November 26, 1956 to September 6, 1963; and on ABC from September 9, 1963 to September 3, 1965.

Host: Bill Cullen, Jack Clark. Models Beverly Bentley, Toni Wallace, June Ferguson. Substitute Hosts: Arlene Francis (1961), Sam Levinson (1962, 1963). Announcer: Don Pardo.

6574 The Price Is Right. (Series; Game; CBS; 1972–). The basic format has four contestants competing to guess the manufacturer's suggested retail price for various merchandise. Players who surpass the selling price forfeit their chance to win that particular item; the player whose bid comes closest to the selling price receives the item and a chance to win additional cash and/or merchandise prizes in greatly varying game contests that involve merchandise and players abilities to guess their actual selling prices. Players who pinpoint selling prices win that particular item. The two highest scoring players per game compete in a final showcase round where they have to come as close as possible to total retail value of the merchandise shown to win.

Host: Dennis James (1972), Bob Barker (1972–2007), Drew Carey (2007–). Models: Anitra Ford, Holly Hallstrom, Janice Pennington, Dian Parkinson, Paige Brooks, Jennifer England, Gena Lee Nolin, Nikki Schieler-Ziering, Rachel Reynolds, Jennifer Mosley, Laniha Cole, Jesse Golden, Shawnee Jebbia, Shane Sterling, Penelope Jiminez, Terri Harrison, Phrie Dawson, Nikki Zeno, Natasha Yi, Gabrielle Tuite, Misti Atkinson, Alicia Rickter, Kathleen Bradley, Ute Werner, Brandi Sherwood, Heather Kozar, Cindy Margolis, Jennifer Wood, Kyle Aletter, Chantel Dubay, Charlotte Alt, Renee Tennison, Annette Quinn, Cynthia Brimhall, Ann Pennington, Starr Campbell, Mindy Kennedy, Rosie Tennison. Announcer: Johnny Olsen, Gene Wood, Rod Roddy, Rich Fields.

6575 The Price Is Right. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1995). A syndicated version of the CBS daytime series. See the prior title for format.

Host: Doug Davidson. Models: Julie Cialini, Lisa Stahl, Ferrari Ferris. Announcer: Burton Richardson.

6576 The Price Is Right Special. (Series; Game; CBS; 1986). A six-week prime time version of the daily CBS game show that ran from August 14, 1986 to September 18, 1986. The format varies greatly in presentation but the basic format calls for players to guess (comes as close as possible without going over) the manufacturers suggest retail price of merchandise items.

Host: Bob Barker. Models: Dian Parkinson, Holly Hallstrom. Announcer: Rod Roddy.

6577 Pride and Joy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995). Amy and Greg Sherman are the parents of an infant (Mel). Their best friends and neighbors, Carol and Nathan, are also the parents of a newborn son (Mitchell). The wives work as ad agency partners; the husbands stay at home — Greg because he is a free-lance writer; Nathan because he is unemployed (recently laid off from his job on Wall Street). Episodes relate incidents in their lives as they struggle to cope with life in New York City.

Cast: Julie Warner (Amy Sherman), Craig Bierko (Greg Sherman), Caroline Rhea (Carol Greene), Jeremy Piven (Nathan Greene).

6578 Pride and Prejudice. (Series; Comedy-Drama; PBS; 1980). A light-hearted look at love, courtship and marriage in 19th century England as seen through the experiences of the five marriageable Bennet sisters: Elizabeth, the strong-willed sister; Jane, the placid, beautiful sister; Mary, the unattractive sister; Kitty, the neurotic sister; and Lydia, the youngest sister, a vamp. Based on the novel by Jane Austen. Produced in England. Fitzwilliam Darcy is Elizabeth's suitor; Charles Bingley is Jane's suitor.

Cast: Elizabeth Garvie (Elizabeth Bennet), Sabina Franklin (Jane Bennet), Tessa Peake-Jones (Mary Bennet), Claire Higgins (Kitty Bennet), Natalie Ogle (Lydia Bennet), David Rintoul (Fitzwilliam Darcy), Osmund Bullock (Charles Bingley), Moray Watson (The Sisters Father), Priscilla Morgan (The Sisters Mother).

6579 Pride of the Family. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1953–1954). Albie Morrison is the advertising head of a small town newspaper. He is married to Catherine and they are the parents of Ann and Albie, Jr. Albie is a kind-hearted man who asks very little from life: a productive day at work, a good home-cooked dinner and obedient children. The children are quite good and cause few problems; Catherine is not only a good cook, but an attractive and caring mother. Work is another story as acquiring accounts and dealing with numerous work-related problems tend to make Albie a bit grumpy and his efforts to resolve the problems at work and those he finds at home is the basic plot of the series (which is also known as The Phil Hartman Show).

Cast: Paul Hartman (Albie Morrison), Fay Wray (Catherine Morrison), Natalie Wood (Ann Morrison), Bobby Hyatt (Albie Morrison, Jr.).

Cast: Valerie Curtin (Sandy Lambert), Murphy Dunne (Hal), Harvey Jason (Yosef Ari), Maria O'Brien (Lupe), Joe Bennett (Sergio), Bob Holt (Wilhelm Ritterman), Suesie Elene (Yoko), Freeman King (Chuma).

Cast: Geraldine McEwan (Jean Brodie), Madeleine Christie (Mrs. MacDonald; teacher), Georgine Anderson (Miss Gaunt; teacher), Lynsey Baxter (Sandy; student), Romana Kaye (Giulia; student), Amanda Kirby (Jenny Gray; student), Tracey Childs (Rose Stanley; student), Jean McKinley (Mary; student), George Cormack (Mr. Lawson; teacher), John Castle (Ted Lloyd; teacher). Hostess: Julie Harris.

6582 Prime Times. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/4/83). The program spoofs television — its past, present and imagined future by inter cutting clips from old series with new sketches.

6583 Primetime Glick. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2001–2003). A comical spoof of talk shows featuring Jiminy Glick, a host with an absurd history, interviewing (but often forgetting their names) top show business personalities.

Jiminy is comically grotesque (obese) as the result of swallowing a Tonka truck as a child that lodged in his stomach. He is the son of Omar and Isabella and, as a result of the Tonka incident, was a sickly child. He graduated from Gale Gordon High School (named after Lucille Ball's long-time sidekick) and, with acting in his blood, ventured off to Hollywood where he acquired his first role: the kleptomaniac nephew of detective Barnaby Jones on CBS. He later worked as the personal assistant to Charles Bronson and in 1991, after meeting Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In producer George Schlatter, was offered the role of host for the talk show LaLa Wood. He then acquired his current series, Primetime Glick. Jiminy is married to Dixie and is the father of Mason, Matthew and Modine. The series is based on the character seen in skits on The Martin Short Show.

6584 Primus. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1971). Carter Primus is an ex-Navy frogman turned troubleshooter who operates Primus, Inc., a Nassau-based company that tackles dangerous underwater assignments. Toni Hayden, a beautiful girl who loves to wear bikinis, is his partner; Charles Kingman is his rugged assistant. Tegtight is Carter's operational base in Nassau. Dagat is "the Mother Ship" (where he stores most of his underwater equipment); the Orka is his patrol boat (for surface surveillance); the Pegasus is his underwater exploratory vehicle; and Big Kate is his underwater robot. Leonard Rosenman composed the theme.

Cast: Robert Brown (Carter Primus), Eva Renzi (Toni Hyden), Will Kuluva (Charlie Kingman). Narrator: Robert Brown.

6585 Prince Planet. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1966). New Metropolis in the 21st century is the setting. Prince Planet is an alien being who poses as a boy named Bobby. He is a member of the Universal Peace Corps of the planet Radion. His mission is to determine if Earth qualifies for membership in the Galactic Union of Worlds. While Bobby makes his evaluation, he battles the forces of evil that threaten the planet.

Diana Worthy and her father, Pops Worthy, are Bobby's friends. Dan Dynamo is his wrestler friend; Aji Baba is a magician who helps Bobby; Warlock (a Martian) and Krag (from the planet Kragmire) are Bobby's enemies.

By the use of his magic pendant, Bobby can transform himself into the mighty Prince Planet. The series, produced in Japan, is also known as The Prince of Planets.

Voice Cast: Catherine "Bobbie" Byers (Bobby Prince Planet), Sandy Warshaw (Diana Worthy), Jeff Gillen (Pop Worthy), Kurt Nagel (Aji Baba), Frank Schuller (Krag), Arnie Warren (Warlock), Mark Harris (Dan Dynamo).

6586 Prince Street. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1997). A short-lived (two episode) series that, set in New York City, follows the activities of a secret unit of the N.Y.P.D. whose operatives work undercover to infiltrate gangs, bust drug kingpins and go and do whatever is necessary to put criminals behind bars. The unit works out of a front (a print shop) on Prince Street in the south section of Manhattan.

Lieutenant Tom Warner is the head of the unit; his team members are Nina Echeverria (a single mother), Alex Gage, James Tasio, Donny Hanson, Anthony Libretti and Diane Dana Eskelson.

6587 Prince Valiant. (Series; Cartoon; Family Channel; 1994). England in the 11th century is the setting. Valiant, the Prince of Thule, awakens from a dream in which he envisioned himself being surrounded by King Arthur to become a Knight of his Round Table. Prince Valiant begins a quest to follow that dream. On the way to Camelot he meets Rowenne, a blacksmith's daughter, and Arn, a peasant, who join him in his quest. Stories follow Prince Valiant, Rowenne and Arn as they find Camelot then train to become knights.

6588 Princess Gwenevere and the Jewel Riders. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1995–1996). Avalon (also called New Camelot) is a magical kingdom whose crown jewels maintain a stable link to allow magic to co-exist with its inhabitants. When Merlin, a powerful wizard is thrust into this magic (called Wild Magic) to acquire the jewels for the evil Lady Kale, he foils her by scattering the jewels all across Avalon. The magic has become unstable and now threatens to destroy Avalon. Three heroes come to the rescue: Princess Gwenevere and her best friends, Tamara and Falen. The girls each possess a jewel that gives them a special link to the crown jewels. Assisted by Academes, Merlin's faithful owl, Princess Gwenevere, Tamara and Falen begin a trek to not only recover the scattered jewels and restore harmony, but also find Merlin (who is lost in the dark regions of Wild Magic) and stop Lady Kale from becoming ruler of Avalon.

In later episodes, the jewels are called Wizard's Jewels and Lady Kale acquires an assistant — the evil witch Morgana. Princess Gwenevere is heiress to the throne. As the leader of the Jewel Riders, she acquires power from her Sunstone and rides a unicorn named Sunstar. Tamara cares about people and animals and receives her power through her Heart Stone; her unicorn is Moon Dance. Falen is a free spirit and the Moonstone endows her with power; Shadow Song is her unicorn. Lady Kale is Gwenevere's aunt. She is bitter for not being chosen as a Jewel Rider in her youth and was corrupted by evil in the form of the Dark Stone (which is later learned to have been created by Morgana when she tried to take over Avalon but was exiled to the Wild Magic by Merlin. She has now escaped and has returned to finish what she started).

6589 Princess Tenko and the Guardians of Magic. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1995). Live action is combined with animation to tell the story of a beautiful magical princess (Tenko) who, as the head of a magic school, not only teaches children, but uses her abilities to entertain audiences from the stage. It is, however, Tenko's experiences with her students, the Guardians (Bolt, Speed, Ali and Hawk) that form the basic premise of the series as they use their combined abilities to destroy evil (especially the chaos caused by her former students Jana and Jason, evil twin magicians, who are seeking to increase their abilities by finding a power source called the Starfire Gems). The series is based on the real Princess Tenko, the stage name of Mariko Itakura, a former singer turned magician. At the end of each episode, the real Princess Tenko appears to perform an illusion or teach children a magic trick. Produced in Japan.

Cast: Mariko Itakura (Princess Tenko).

6590 Princesses. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1991). A luxurious apartment at 4107 5th Avenue in Manhattan is the rent-free residence of Princess Georgina (“Georgy”) De La Rue, Tracy Dillon and Melissa (“Mel”) Kirshner, three working girls who all dream of marrying wealthy men.

Tracy and Melissa met in college. Tracy planned to become a writer; Melissa sought to own her own cosmetics business. They vowed that when they reached age 28, they would meet handsome twins, get married and live next door to each other in Connecticut. They would each have two kids and maintain their careers. “What a pathetic illusion that was,” says Mel, as they now share a small apartment in New York City and are struggling to make ends meet, Tracy as a creative writing teacher for adults at Manhattan College (she is later said to be teaching adult remedial English) and Mel as a cosmetics saleswoman at Macy’s.

At this same time, but in another part of the world, the title of princess of Scilly (a small group of islands off the southwest coast of England) is bestowed upon 18-year-old Georgina De La Rue when she marries the older Prince Frederick. Some years later, a burst spleen kills Frederick, and Georgy inherits his money, but his family contests the will (“His stepchildren never accepted me as their mother”). Since Georgy was not born of royal blood, she is now penniless. With her only possessions (the clothes on her back and in several trunks), she accepts the offer of a friend to stay in his 5th Avenue apartment for one year while he is in Europe. Unknown to Georgy, her friend has also given the apartment as a wedding gift to Michael DeCrow (James Read), the man Tracy plans to marry.

At the apartment, Tracy and Mel meet Georgy. When Georgy learns that Michael was given the apartment first, she makes plans to leave. However, before she does, Tracy discovers that Michael has two ex-wives and cancels the wedding. Georgy receives the apartment and extends an invitation to Tracy and Mel (who accept).

The girls share the housework and each other’s secrets, but mostly Georgy’s fabulous wardrobe. Georgy was a British stage performer before she became a princess. She was tap dancing in the play No, No, Prime Minister when Frederick spotted her. He came backstage, they fell in love and married. Now, being an unemployed princess, Georgy seeks to become a dancer on Broadway, but can’t seem to find anything — “If I wasn’t meant to be a performer, why did God give me the talent to sing and dance a little? ... I’m just a simple princess looking for work.”

Relatives: Leila Kenzle (Mel’s sister, Debra Kleckner), Richard Kind (Debra’s husband, Dr. Len Kleckner). Theme: “Some Day My Prince Will Come,” vocal by the Roches.

6591 Prison Break. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2005–). Is Lincoln Burrows guilty of murder (of the brother of the U.S. Vice President)? The state believes so as he was convicted and sentenced to death. His half-brother, Michael Scofield, a structural engineer, believes he is innocent. Unable to convince anyone of his beliefs (and also lacking positive proof), Michael, devises a unique plan: break Lincoln out of prison.

Michael begins by holding up a bank and (by luck) is incarcerated in the same prison (Fox River State Penitentiary). Stories follow Michael as he attempts to break Lincoln out and prove he is innocent (Michael is assisted in his efforts by the blue prints he previously acquired of the prison. He also has not taken into account that once he accomplishes his goal, he and Lincoln will become fugitives and have a rather difficult time acquiring evidence while on the run from the law).

Second season episodes, subtitled “Manhunt,” chart Lincoln and Michael’s efforts to evade the law after they escape from Fox River.

The third season finds Michael being imprisoned for a shooting after he and Lincoln flee to Panama (at which time Lincoln is also pardoned). Now, with the tables turned, Lincoln must find a way to break Michael out of a prison called Sona, an inhumane institution that takes the criminals no other prison can handle. Sona is “a one-way street — what goes in never comes out — unless it is dead.” Stories follow Lincoln as he tries to free Michael from a prison system where cruelty and corruption rule (and Michael’s experience inside prison).

Cast: Dominic Purcell (Lincoln Burrows), Wentworth Miller (Michael Scofield), Sarah Wayne Callies (Dr. Sara Tancredi), Amaury Nolasco (Fernando Sucre), Wade Williams (Captain Brad Bellick), Robert Knepper (Theodore “T-Bag” Bagwell), Rockmond Dunbar (Benjamin Miles “C-Note” Franklin), Paul Adelstein (Agent Paul Kellerman), Robin Tunney (Veronica Donovan), Stacy Keach (Warden Henry Pope), William Fichtner (Agent Alexander Mahone), Marshall Allman (L.J. Burrows), Peter Stormare (John Abruzzi), Phillip Edward Van Lear (Officer Louis Patterson), Muse Watson (Charles Westmoreland), Frank Grillo (Nick Savrinn), Christian Stolte (Officer Keith Stolte), Patricia Wettig (Caroline Reynolds), Mark Morettini (Officer Rizzo Green), Reggie Lee (Agent William Kim), Mac Brandt (Officer Mack), Matt DeCaro (Officer Roy Geary), Lane Garrison (David “Tweener” Apolskis), Jason Davis (Agent Wheeler), Danny McCarthy (Agent Daniel Hale), DuShon Monique (Nurse Katie Welch), Barbara Eve Harris (Agent Lang), Silas Weir Mitchell (Charles “Haywire” Patoshik), John Heard (Governor Frank Tancredi).

6592 The Prisoner. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1968). John Drake, a secret agent for the Ministry in England, allows a scientist he was ordered to find to defect when he discovers that the scientist is being sought for a deadly mind-transference device that he invented.

When Drake returns to the Ministry, he is reprimanded for his actions. Believing that what he did was right, Drake resigns — “It is a matter of principle.”

Principle or not, someone else (assumed to be the Ministry) believes differently. At his home, Drake is packing his bags to leave London when an unknown man, dressed in black, places a nozzle in the keyhole of the front door. A gas is released and Drake is knocked unconscious.

Soon afterward, Drake awakens to find himself in a strange room. He discovers that he is no longer a man, but a number — Number 6 — and the prisoner of a self-contained community known as the Village.

Continuing his investigation, Number 6 enters the Green Dome and meets one of the Village leaders, Number 2. Although he is unable to discover who his captors are or where the Village is, Number 6 learns the reason for his abduction: “It is a question of your resignation. A lot of people are curious about why you suddenly left. The information in your head is priceless. A man like you is worth a great deal on the open market. It is my job to check your motives.”

Stories relate Number 6’s efforts to discover who his captors are and his desperate attempts to escape from the Village. “We want information.” “You won’t get it.” “By hook or crook we will.” “Who is Number 1?” “You are Number 6.” “I am not a number, I am a free man!”

The Village is a fantasy-like area bounded by mountains and ocean. It is a place from which there is no escape. The Village leaders have instructions “not to damage Number 6, but to get all he knows. He must be won over, not broken.”

Number 6 is assumed to be John Drake, although his name is never revealed (The Prisoner is a continuation of the last episode of the series Secret Agent, in which Patrick McGoohan played British intelligence agent John Drake).

In the final episode, “Fall Out,” Number 6 defeats Number 2. Unbroken by exhausting mind-bending experiments, Number 6 proves he is superior. He is led to an area below the Village. There he is presented to an assembly, recognized as an individual (a man superior to them) and given a choice: leave or remain and lead the people of the Village. Number 6 appears undecided. He is then met by his only friend, the Silent Butler, and led through a heavily guarded hallway to a room containing highly complex machinery that is designed to destroy him. When Number 6 discovers that it is a trap, he, the Silent Butler, and two rebels against the system, Number 2 (imprisoned for failing to break Number 6) and Number 48, join forces. The guards are overpowered and the machines are reset to self-destruct. The four escape in a truck through an underground tunnel as the Village is destroyed. The truck approaches London (indicating that the Village was within 50 miles of the city). Numbers 2 and 48 depart; Number 6, a free man, and the Silent Butler remain a team.

Cast: Patrick McGoohan (Number 6), Angelo Muscat (The Silent Butler), Colin Gordon (Number 2), Clifford Evans (Number 2), Mary Morris (Number 2), John Sharpe (Number 2), Peter Wyngarde (Number 2), Guy Doleman (Number 2), Leo McKern (Number 2), Kenneth Griffith (Village president).
Theme Music: “The Prisoner” by Ron Grainer.

6593 Prisoner: Cell Block H. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1980). A harsh view of life in a women’s prison (the Wentworth Detention Center) in Melbourne, Australia. See also Women in Prison.

The Prisoners: Karen Angela Travers was born in Melbourne on 8/27/54. She is a Roman Catholic and is also known as Karen Healey. She was a schoolteacher and was convicted of killing her brutal husband (she offered no defense at her trial, other than to claim she is innocent; she was given life).

Lynnette Jane Warner was born in Melbourne on 9/7/59. She is a Roman Catholic and has no distinguishing marks. Lynnette is a naive country girl who was falsely convicted of kidnapping and attempting to murder her employer’s child. She received a ten year sentence when she was unable to prove she was framed. Lynnette is single and was a professional nanny.

Bea Alice Smith, also known as Beatrice Caruthers, is a widow. Bea was born in Hobart on 2/2/38 and is a Methodist. She is a qualified hairdresser and was convicted, initially, of murdering a co-worker. She was released on parole after serving ten years but was later recommitted for killing her husband. She is the toughest of the women and the undisputed leader of the prison society.

Frieda (“Franky”) Joan Doyle was born in Melbourne on 4/17/48. She is single, and her religion is Salvation Army. Franky was sentenced to life for armed robbery and murder. She is also a lesbian with an unrequited passion for Karen.

Doreen May Anderson, also known as Debbie Raye, is unmarried and the mother of a young son. She was born in Melbourne on 6/15/53. Her religion is Salvation Army, and she has tattoos on her arms. Doreen was a battered child and is easily led into crime. She has many petty convictions, but was sentenced to four years for breaking and entering.

Marilyn Anne Mason, also known as Mandy, is a qualified fashion model; her religion is Church of England. Marilyn was born in Melbourne on 3/3/56. Marilyn was sentenced to 12 years for soliciting. She has many such prior convictions and is known to have worked in a porno movie.

Jeannie (“Mum”) Brooks was born in Melbourne on 5/17/18. She is a Presbyterian. She is also known as Jeannie Bradley and was sentenced to life for killing her husband. She spends much time tending the prison garden.

Elizabeth Josephine Birdsworth, also known as Lizzie Lee, was born in Perth on 11/5/08 and has four grown children. She is the oldest of the inmates. Her religion is Other Christian. She was given life for mass murder (she accidentally killed four sheep shearers by poisoning their food “to teach them a lesson”). She is obsessed with escaping.

Other Characters: Meg Jackson is the sympathetic prison guard, and she has a happy relationship with her husband, prison psychologist Bill Jackson (Don Baker).

Vera Bennett is the cruel and harsh prison guard who hopes her rule of iron will get her the prison governor ship. Vera is single and lives at home with her invalid mother. She has no social life and lives for her job at the prison.

Erica Davidson is the prison governor. She is capable of running the prison, but her approach keeps her remote and she fails to understand the frustrations of the prisoners.

Cast: Peita Toppo (Karen Travers), Kerry Armstrong (Lynnette Warner), Carol Burns (Franky Doyle), Val Lehman (Bea Smith), Margaret Laurence (Marylyn Anne Mason), Colette Mann (Doreen Anderson), Mary Ward (Jeannie “Mum” Brooks), Sheila Florance (Elizabeth “Lizzie” Birdsworth), Amanda Muggleton (Chrissy Latham), Sally Cahill (Barbara Davidson), Leslie Baker (Monica Ferguson), Penny Stewart (Kathleen Leach), Sigrid Thornton (Roselyn Colson), Margot Knight (Sharon Gilmour), Louise Pajd (Helen Masters), Margaret McLennan (Catherine Roberts), Briony Behets (Susan Rice), Kristy Child (Anne Yates), Jude Kuring (Noelene Burke), Betty Lucas (Clara Goddard), Lulu Pinkus (Melinda Cross), Judy Nunn (Joyce Martin), Colleen Clifford (Edith Warden), Lydia Keane (Denise Crabtree), Kate Jason (Martha Ives), Liddy Clark (Bella Abrecht), Pat Bishop (Toni McNally), Monica Maughan (Pat O’Connell), Deirdre Rubinstein (Janet Dominiquez), Anne Maree McDonald (Rosie Hudson), Rosalind Speirs (Caroline Simpson), Bernadette Gibson (Vivienne Williams), Penny Downie (Kerry Vincent), Jane Clifton (Margo), Sandy Gore (Kay), Susan Haworth (Gail Summers), Patsy King (Erica Davidson), Elspeth Ballantyne (Meg Jackson), Fiona Spence (Vera Bennett), Bill Quinn (Greg Miller), Christine Amor (Jean Vernon), Gerald Maguire (Jim Fletcher), Tommy Dysart (Jock Stewart), Don Baker (Bill Jackson), George Mallaby (Paul Reed), Kate Turner (Sally), Richard Moir (Eddie Cook), Kim Deacon (Judith Anne), Ben Gabriel (Ted Warner), John Arnold (Doug Parker), Greg Stroud (Gary Doyle), Jim Smillie (Steve Wilson), Jeannie Drynan (Angela Jeffries), Penny Ramsey (Leila Fletcher), Bill Hunter (George Lucas), Tim Elliott (Ken Roberts), Brian Granrott (Col Burke), Tracy Jo Riley (Lee Ann Burke), Carrillo Gantner (Peter Clements), Pat Letch

(David O’Connell), Geoff Collins (Alex Frazier), Anne Haddy (Alice Hemmings), Dorothy Sturgess (Mrs. Devlin), Ken Goodlet (Det. Sgt. Allen), John Higginson (Tony Reed), Ian Gilmour (Kevin Burns), Betty Bobbitt (Judy Bryant), Rod Mulliner (David Austin), Caroline Gilmer (Helen Smart), Judith Dick (Marcia Huntley), Michelle Argue (Josie Huntley), Johnny Lee (Andrew Reynolds). Theme Vocal: “On the Inside” by Lynne Hamilton.

6594 Prisoners of the Lost Universe. (Pilot; Science Fiction; Showtime; 8/15/83). While interviewing Dr. Hartman, a physicist who has invented a device to transport objects into another dimension, Carrie Madison, host of the Los Angeles television show, The Weird and the Wacky, Dan Roebuck, an electrician for Dynacall Electro Maintenance, and the doctor are transported to another world when they are toppled into the beam of the machine by earthquake tremors. They materialize in a strange world of wizards and warriors and ally themselves to three strange creatures (The Greenman, who can speak to any creature; Malachi, a diminutive thief; and the Manbeast, a giant who can only grunt). The unsold series was to relate their adventures in various worlds as they seek to find a way back to their own world. In the pilot episode, the group attempts to rescue Carrie, who has been kidnapped by an evil warlord (Kleel) who plans to make her his queen.

Cast: Kay Lenz (Carrie Madison), Richard Hatch (Dan Roebuck), Ray Charleson (The Greenman), Peter O’Farrell (Malachi), Philip Van Der Byl (Kabbar, the Manbeast), Kenneth Hendel (Dr. B. Hartman). Guest Cast: John Saxon (Kleel), Dawn Abraham (Shareen), Larry Taylor (Vosk), Danie Voges (Giant Nabu), Charles Comyn (Treet).

6595 Private Benjamin. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1981). Judith (“Judy”) Benjamin is the beautiful, spoiled daughter of a wealthy family. When her life-style becomes boring to her, she decides to join the army to find more excitement. She soon finds herself totally out of place as she discovers that the system does not exactly fulfill her needs. Judy’s attempts to get the army to do things her way — and the army’s efforts to turn her into a real soldier — are the focal point of the series.

Judy was originally stationed at Fort Trams. She was then transferred to Fort Bradley in Hobart, California (“The shoelace capital of the Northeast”). There, as part of the 2nd Platoon, B Company, Judy was a soldier in training for possible combat. When Judy graduated from boot camp (1/25/82), she was assigned to the Public Affairs Office as the administrative assistant to Captain Doreen Lewis, later promoted to inspector general of Fort Bradley. (Judy’s primary job is to issue press releases.)

commanding officer; Sergeant Lucien C. Ross is Doreen's second in command.

Maria Gianelli, Rayleen White, Carol Winter, Lu Ann Hubble, Jackie Simms and Stacy Kouchalakas are the other privates attached to Judy's company. (Jackie works in the motor pool; Stacy with Judy in the office.) Polly Holliday, as Major Amanda Allen, replaced Eileen Brennan in the last two episodes (Brennan was injured in a traffic accident). Based on the Goldie Hawn film of the same name.

Relatives: Barbara Barrie and K Callan (Judy's mother, Harriet Benjamin), William Daniels (Judy's father, Ted Benjamin), Stephanie Faracy (Judy's cousin, Sherry Stern, a clumsy army private), Arthur Peterson (Judy's grandfather, Benjamin ["Ben"] Benjamin).

Cast: Lorna Patterson (Pvt. Judy Benjamin), Eileen Brennan (Capt. Doreen Lewis), Hal Williams (Sgt. Lucien C. Ross), Robert Mandan (Col. Lawrence Fielding), Lisa Raggio (Pvt. Maria Gianelli), Joyce Little (Pvt. Rayleen White), Ann Ryerson (Pvt. Carol Winter), Joan Roberts (Pvt. Barbara Ann Glass), Lucy Webb (Pvt. Lu Anne Hubble), Francesca Roberts (Pvt. Harriet Dorsey), Damita Jo Freeman (Pvt. Jackie Sims), Wendie Jo Sperber (Pvt. Stacy Kouchalakas), Polly Holliday (Major Amanda Allen), Joel Brooks (Lt. Billy Dean), Rebecca Field-Holden (Pvt. Vicky Saunders), Jordan Charney (Capt. Bill Hookstraton), Stephanie Faracy (Pvt. Sherry Stern). Theme Song: "Judy's Song" by Madelyn Davis, Bob Carroll, Jr.

6596 Private Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1987–1988). Los Angeles in 1956 is the setting. Jack Cleary is an officer with the L.A.P.D. His brother, Nick is a private detective (owner of The Nick Cleary Agency). To cover up a scandal, high-ranking officers frame Jack for taking bribes and he is dismissed from the force. Shortly after, Nick is killed while investigating a case. Jack inherits his brother's agency — and Johnny Betts, a street musician who had assisted Nick. Stories follow Jack's activities as he sets out to solve client's problems and prove he was framed.

Other regulars are Dottie, the agency's secretary; and Charlie Fontana, Jack's friend on the force.

Cast: Michael Woods (Jack Cleary), Josh Brolin (Johnny Betts), Bill Sadler (Det. Charlie Fontana), Lisa Jane Persky (Dottie), Jay O. Saunders (Nick Cleary; pilot only).

6597 Private Practice. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2007–). A spin-off from Grey's Anatomy that focuses on Addison Forbes Montgomery, a doctor at Seattle Grace Hospital who leaves Seattle after her marriage breaks up to begin a practice in California at the Oceanside Wellness Center in Santa Monica. Here, she joins with Naomi and Sam Bennett, her friends from medical school (Naomi is a fertility and hormone specialist; Sam is an internist and medical book author — "the common man's medical guru." They are divorced but co-exist for the sake of their teenage daughter, Maya).

Dr. Cooper Freedman is the center's resident physician; Dr. Violet Turner is the unit's psychiatrist; Dr. Peter Wilder is the alternative medicine specialist; William Dell Parker is the co-op receptionist; Charlotte King is the chief of staff at the nearby hospital. Stories follow the work of the doctors attached to the Wellness Center.

6598 Private Secretary. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1953–1957). International Artists, Inc., is a theatrical agency located on the twenty-second floor (Suite 2201) of a building at 10 East 56th Street in New York City. Peter Sands is its founder; Susan ("Susie") Camille McNamara is his private secretary; and Violet ("Vi") Praskins is the agency's receptionist-switchboard operator.

Susie began working for Peter in 1945 (she previously served three years as a WAVE). She was born in Mumford, Indiana (her ancestors came from Scotland), and attended Mumford High School (in an early episode, Mumford is mentioned as being in Iowa). A big Saturday night in Mumford, Susie says, was to get all dressed up, go to the City Hall and watch them polish the cannon. Susie is a Libra and incurably romantic. She types 65 words a minute and takes 125 words per minute by shorthand. Susie lives at the Brockhurst Apartments (Apartment H) on East 92nd Street in Manhattan.

Peter was in the air force for four years before he established International Artists. In high school, Peter was voted "Most Likely to Succeed," and in an early episode he referred to "a remarkable talent he discovered: Harriet Lake" (Ann Sothorn's real name). Peter's birth sign is Aries, and he likes to look at women's legs — "I enjoy exercising that privilege." He calls Susie "the most faithful and loyal secretary I ever had."

Vi began working for Peter in 1949; her birth sign is Scorpio, and she is interested in horoscopes. Susie believes Vi is an old maid, but Vi feels she is not: "I'm still looking for Mr. Right."

Gloria Winters appeared as Susie's niece, Patty, and Alma Townsend was Peter's mother, Mrs. Sands. The series is also known as Susie.

Cast: Ann Sothorn (Susie McNamara), Don Porter (Peter Sands), Ann Tyrrell (Vi Praskins), Jesse White (Cagey Calhoun), Joan Banks (Sylvia; Susie's friend).

6599 Private Sessions. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 3/18/85). Joseph Braeden and Elizabeth Bolger are doctors who share adjoining offices in Manhattan.

Joseph is a psychotherapist, Elizabeth a psychoanalyst, and the unsold series was to focus on their experiences as they deal with various patient problems. In the pilot episode, which focuses mainly on Dr. Braeden, relates his efforts to help two patients: Jennifer Coles, a nymphomaniac with a haunted past; and Harry O'Reilly, a cab driver who claims to hear voices. Other Regulars: Angie, their secretary; Millie, Joseph's daughter; Claire, Joseph's ex-wife; and Ramone, the doorman at Joe's Apartment house.

Cast: Mike Farrell (Dr. Joseph Braeden), Maureen Stapleton (Dr. Elizabeth Bolger), Denise Miller (Angie), Mary Tanner (Millie Braeden), Kathryn Walker (Claire Braeden), David LaBoisa (Ramone). Guest Cast: Kelly McGillis (Jennifer Coles), Kim Hunter (Rosemary O'Reilly), Tom Bosley (Henry O'Reilly), Robert Vaughn (Oliver Coles), Greg Evigan (Rick), Hope Lange (Mrs. Coles), Davenia McFadden (Gail), John Cunningham (Paul), Elias Koteas (Johnny), Kathryn Dowling (Susan Prescott), Eevin Hartsough (Jennifer; age 9), Wendie Malick (Tippi).

6600 Prize Performance. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950). Arlene Francis and Peter Donald cohost a summer program that features performances by undiscovered talent acts. The series ran from July 5, 1950 to August 2, 1950.

Cast: Michael Jackson (Michael Jackson), Dorian Harewood (Michael Jackson; voice), Wayne Gretzky (Wayne Gretzky), Townsend Coleman (Wayne Gretzky; voice), Bo Jackson (Bo Jackson), Dave Fennoy (Bo Jackson; voice), Susan Silo (Mama), Diana Barrows (Denise), Tara Strong (Laura).

6602 Probe. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 2/21/72). The pilot film for Search about a super computerized detective agency called Probe (that will locate any missing person or object). In the pilot episode, Probe agent Hugh Lockwood attempts to recover a fabulous gem collection. Re-titled Search for syndication. Other Regulars: B.C. Cameron, his superior; and Gloria Harding, a Probe agent.

6603 Probe. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1988). Serendip is a high tech research and development company created by Austin James, "the greatest scientific mind of the century." Austin, however, has an eccentric obsession about crime. In order to pursue his dream, he turns over the company to Howard Millhouse and retreats to "The Batcave," an old warehouse where he lives and conducts scientific experiments in the cause of justice. Assisting Austin is Michele Castle, a pretty but ditsy secretary Austin calls Mickey.

Austin thinks while he sleeps (his bed is a sensory deprivation tank — "It helps me think"), has a photographic memory and can retain and recall information faster than a computer. He has a pet spider, a tarantula named Steve, who roams freely about the lab.

Mickey doesn't have a good mind for numbers ("I can't even remember my social security number") and drinks only Reneau Spring Water from France "with a twist of lemon." She left her last job "because my boss said I could do the job better in the nude." She assists Austin by taking notes for him in the field. When Austin hears or reads about a baffling criminal case, he involves himself (and Mickey) in dangerous situations to bring evildoers to justice. "We Can Do It" is the slogan of Serendip, a company that Austin started with the creation of an automated robot lawn mowing service.

Cast: Parker Stevenson (Austin James), Ashley Crow (Michele Castle), Jon Cypher (Howard Millhouse).

6604 Producer's Choice. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1960). Rebroadcasts of selected episodes from G.E. Theater, Lux Playhouse and Schlitz Playhouse of Stars. See these titles for information. The series ran from March 31, 1960 to September 22, 1960.

6605 Professional Father. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955). Dr. Thomas Wilson is a child psychologist who says that "Patience is the key to all problems." But he has little patience himself when it comes to his family and their problems as his office methods rarely work at home. Steve lives at 11 Van Nest Lane with his wife, Helen, and children Kathryn and Thomas, Jr.

Kathryn, called Kit by Helen and Kitten by Thomas, has a tendency to trip over things (Thomas says "She's just clumsy"); Kit responds with "no damage" after such incidents. Thomas, Jr., called Twig, is a member of the Beavers baseball team; both children attend Sweeter Elementary School. Thomas enjoys fly fishing at the "Lake" and when he is faced with a troubled boy at work, he gives him a broken clock to fix (he has a closet full of clocks and uses them as a form of therapy).

Twig says "holy haystack" when something excites her; Helen feels that her motherly instincts are all that are needed to solve her family's problems. Nora is their housekeeper; Fred and Madge are their neighbors; Mr. Briggs is the handyman.

Cast: Steve Dunne (Dr. Thomas Wilson), Barbara Billingsley (Helen Wilson), Beverly Washburn (Kathryn Wilson), Ted Marc (Tommy Wilson), Ann O'Neil (Nora), Joseph Kearns (Fred), Phyllis Coates (Madge), Arthur Q. Bryan (Mr. Briggs).

6606 Profiler. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1996–2000). Samantha Waters is a profiler, a forensic psychologist with a unique ability to feel for the victims of crime and understand the criminal mind. She is not a psychic. Her highly developed intuition allows her to think in pictures and visualize the frame of mind of both the killer and the victim. Samantha looks beyond the obvious and rarely takes a guess (“I need more to go on. Without a crystal ball, there is not much more I can tell you”). She is part of the V.C.T.F. (Violent Crimes Task Force), a special unit of the FBI that attempts to solve the baffling and bizarre crimes of any police department in the nation.

Samantha, a widow, lives with her daughter Chloe in a converted firehouse station (Engine 23 Trucking Company) at 501 Almada. Her close friend, Angel Brown, a young artist who makes a living as a sculptor, lives with her and Chloe. Chloe has a dog (Denzil), likes to experiment with makeup, and is cared for by Angel when Samantha is at work.

As a child, Samantha and her mother enjoyed solving puzzles. It made Samantha feel alive. Now, for Samantha, trying to find a killer is like trying to solve a puzzle. In 1993, Samantha came close to uncovering the identity of a killer the FBI called Jack of All Trades. To distract her, Jack killed her husband. A devastated Samantha resigned from the FBI and moved to the country with Chloe to live an anonymous life. In 1996, when a rash of serial killings stumps the FBI, Bailey Monroe, head of the V.C.T.F. in Atlanta, Georgia, coaxes Samantha out of her self-imposed retirement to come and work for him. Samantha agrees, but under two conditions: her personal life remains confidential and “I get what I want when I need it.”

Samantha has encountered evil in its purest form (Jack) and sometimes feels scared — “But I’m not going to quit.” She is also a workaholic and it is Bailey who forces her to take time off when he sees her becoming rundown (her hobby of photography seems to relax her; it offers “me an escape from the dark corners”).

Jack of All Trades is perhaps the most clever and diabolical criminal ever to appear as a regular on a television series at the time. Jack killed to draw Samantha close to him. He considers himself the ultimate taunter and monitors Samantha’s activities by tapping into FBI computer systems via his password “Jack O. Trades.” Jack’s real name is Albert Neurquary and was originally called Jack by the V.C.T.F. because his real name was not known (in early episodes that feature Jack, his screen credit reads only “and Jack”).

Samantha tracked him, faced him, and in an extremely tense and unexpected moment, shot him dead at point blank range. Although unethical, but justified, Samantha’s nightmare was over; but so was her job. On October 21, 1999, Samantha resigned “to do what I need, what Chloe needs — each other.” She is replaced by Rachel Burke, a former profiler in Seattle, then Houston, who joined Bailey’s team.

Like Samantha, Rachel can see into the criminal mind and explain the unexplained. Rachel, however, need not be present at a crime scene to receive images — “I could be brushing my teeth or grinding coffee when they come.” Rachel has an 88 percent accuracy rate — “But it’s that other 12 percent that bothers me.” She also has a problem similar to Samantha — “I can’t sleep when I’m working on a tough case.”

Rachel was a prosecuting attorney (1996), then an instructor for special agents at the Virginia FBI training center. She became an FBI agent “because I was sick of seeing criminals beat the system. They should be behind bars.” When Rachel was ten years old, the girl who lived next door disappeared. A week before she vanished, the girl told Rachel her parents didn’t want children and felt her life was empty (she was being raised by a nanny). Seven days later the girl was found, dead, at the bottom of a well. Rachel felt the girl had lived her life in the dark. It was this incident that led Rachel to believe she had the gift to see what others could not when she envisioned the girl in the well. Rachel lived previously in Arlington, Virginia; she now resides in Atlanta in an apartment on Melrose.

Bailey, head of the V.C.T.F., has complete authority. He is in the office 14 to 16 hours a day and is struggling to raise his troublesome 17-year-old daughter, Frances. Frances is rebellious and feels her father treats her like a marine in boot camp — “He commands and doesn’t listen.” Like Samantha (and Rachel) Bailey is totally dedicated to work and has little time for a social or private life. In the pilot episode, Bailey was said to head the FBI Investigative Support Unit. Other members of the V.C.T.F. are John Grant, Grace Alvarez, Nathan Brubaker and George Findley. John, a cynical agent, often questions Samantha’s approaches to solving crimes. He was a former cop with the Atlanta Police Department and believes “it’s like having your head in a vise” having to follow the strict rules of the V.C.T.F.

Grace is the team’s gifted forensics expert (she has a knack for finding evidence other medical examiners overlook). Nathan, an ex-attorney turned FBI agent, often questions Bailey’s authority as to the legal issues of an order. George, the team’s computer whiz, is a former world class hacker who uses his skills to help the FBI. He has a drug problem and was suspended for a time when drugs began to interfere with his job. Angelo Badalamenti composed the original “Profiler Theme” (with Ally Walker); Jeff Rona, the new “Profiler Theme” (with Jamie Luner). See also Chameleon in Blue.

Cast: Ally Walker (Samantha Waters), Robert Davi (Bailey Monroe), Erica Gimpel (Angel Brown), Caitlin Wachs (Chloe Waters), Evan Rachel Wood (Chloe Waters; later), Jamie Luner (Rachel Burke), Julia McMahon (John Grant), Roma Maffia (Grace Alvarez), Michael Whaley (Nathan Brubaker), Peter Frechette (George Findley), Dennis Christopher (Albert Neurquary).

6607 Profiles. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 6/2/94). Profiles is a television talk show hosted by Billy Baker Baer that tackles the hot issues. The proposed series was to profile a different group of people who are grilled by Billy (while they are talking, flashbacks are used to reveal more than they are willing to express on the air). In the pilot episode, four professional escorts (Jeani, Robin, Nicole and Julio) air their views.

Cast: Suzanne Pleshette (Billy Baker Baer), John Apicella (Her producer), Sip Culler (Stage manager), Richard Israel (Production assistant). Guest Cast: Kerrie Keane (Jeani), Robin Tunney (Nicole), Carrie-Anne Moss (Robin), Bernie White (Julio), Mark Hutter (Jay), Judy Kain (Angie), Judith Drake (Aunt Bea), Steven John Evans (Charles), Anna Garduno (Anna), Tracy Lindsey (Cheryl), Ruth Livier (Lisette).

6608 Profiles in Courage. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1964–1965). Dramatizations based on events in past American history. Stories stress the valor of political figures who risked their lives to tackle unpopular causes. Based on the book by John F. Kennedy. The series ran from November 8, 1964 to May 9, 1965.

Performers Include: Carroll O’Connor, Barbara Feldon, Tom Bosley, Arthur Franz, John Colicos, George Grizzard, Barry Morse, Simon Oakland, Herschel Bernardi, Albert Salmi, Rosemary Harris, Brian Keith, Meg Wyllie, Edward Asner, J.D. Cannon, Peggy McCay, John Hoyt, Betsy Jones-Moreland, Frank Marth, Andrew Prine, Sue Randall, Louise Lorimer, Peter Lawford, Michael Constantine, Tim O’Connor, Burgess Meredith, Janice Rule, Walter Matthau, David McCallum.

6609 Profit. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1996). Jim Profit is a man with no redeeming qualities. This may be reflected by his childhood, when he was an abused child (he spent much time in a cardboard box with a hole cut in the side to allow him to watch a TV that was never turned off. His horrific upbringing most likely accounts for some of his actions as an adult: Having sex with (then blackmailing) his heroine addicted stepmother, Bobbi; setting his father on fire; illegal wire tapping; computer fraud; being intimate with the boss’s wife; kidnapping the sick mother of a secretary then seeking ransom; creating false charges and complex schemes to destroy his competitors to rise within his company.

Jim Profit is, despite what he has done, an executive at Gracen and Gracen, an international conglomerate. His wheeling and dealings to destroy his competition to get ahead is the focal point of the series that features a rather unethical character as not only the protagonist but the narrator.

Other regulars are Joanne Meltzer, the chief of security at Gracen; Gail Koner, Jim’s secretary and co-conspirator; Peter Gracen, the company head; Chaz, Peter’s older brother and co-CEO.

Cast: Adrian Pasdar (Jim Profit), Lisa Zane (Joanne Meltzer), Lisa Blount (Bobbi Stankowski), Jack Gwaltney (Peter Gracen), Keith Szarabajka (Charles Henry “Chaz” Gracen), Allison Hossack (Nora Gracen), Lisa Darr (Gail Koner).

6610 Program Playhouse. (Pilot; DuMont; 6/22/49 to 9/7/49). A series of half-hour pilot films (then called test films) for the DuMont Network. See the following titles: Federal Agent, Hands of Murder, Roscoe Karns and Inky Poo, The Timid Soul, and Trouble, Inc.

6611 Project G.E.E.K.E.R. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1996–1997). In a futuristic era, a mega corporation known as Moloch Industries controls most of the planet Earth (as well as several other planets). Mister Moloch, who is on a quest to become the ruler of the world, initiates Project GKR (Geno-Kinetic Research) and hires and brilliant (bit insane) doctor (Maston) to create an android with awesome powers to do his bidding. Maston creates just what Moloch desires — Geeker, an artificial human. However, before Moloch can use him for his diabolical plan to suppress anyone who opposes him, Geeker is stolen by a thief (Lady MacBeth) and her intelligent dinosaur, Noah. Lady MacBeth had planned to sell her latest acquisition on the black market — but when she discovers what she actually has, she changes her mind (Geeker has not been fully programmed and is actually a child with awesome powers he is not capable of comprehending). Lady MacBeth and Noah soon learn that Moloch has discovered they are the culprits and has begun a search to find them. Stories follow Lady MacBeth (called Becky by Geeker) as she and Noah struggle to protect Geeker from Moloch and stop his conquest of the World.

Applicants submit their scripts to the creators’ production company, Live Planet. Each is read and evaluated and the winner receives the opportunity of a lifetime — turn his script into a Miramax film. Here, the winner, Peter Jones, gets to direct his script, Stolen Summer. The cameras follow Peter as he goes about directing his film. Unfortunately, he is not given the courtesy given to a real Hollywood director. He receives less money for his budget (leaving him virtually unable to do retakes) and a tight shooting schedule. He is also teamed with a first time cinematographer (Peter Biagi), producer (Jeff Bales) and line producer (Pat Peach). Peter is really on his own as the cameras show. Although the series executive producer, Chris Moore and the Miramax film representative, Michelle Sy, appear on occasion to check on their interests, they offer little help to Peter. Despite all the problems encountered during shooting, the film is actually made. The concluding episode shows the premiere of Stolen Summer at the Sundance Film Festival.

6614 Project Tin Man. (Pilot; Science Fiction; ABC; 7/30/90). At a government lab called Linotech, Dr. Robert Craig, head of a secret project called Tin Man, creates a mechanical man the military hopes to turn into the ultimate soldier. When an attempt is made to turn Tin Man into what the military believes is the perfect fighting machine, the robot's built-in moral program rejects killing. It is decided to terminate Tin Man by denying it the solar energy it needs to survive. However, before its battery life is depleted, Tin Man (who calls himself Daniel) manages to escape and revive himself. The unsold series was to relate Daniel's efforts to avoid capture by the military (who seek to retrieve him) and find his creator to discover his true purpose. The pilot episode relates how Daniel meets Dr. Naomi Fisher (by hiding in her car to escape capture) and how she agrees to help him with his quest.

6615 Project UFO. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1978–1979). Dramatizations of UFO (Unidentified Flying Objects) incidents as seen through the investigations of United States Air Force Major Jake Gatlin and his assistant Harry Fitz. Based on the official records of the U.S. Air Force's Project Blue Book, the federal government's record of UFO reports and investigations. Libby is their secretary; Ben Ryan is their captain.

6616 Projection Room. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1952). A short-lived (two episode) series of live mystery presentations that ran from March 19, 1952 to March 26, 1952. Actress Ruth Gilbert is the host.

6617 Promised Land. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1996–1999). The saga of a family (the Greenes) traveling across the country to discover its wonders and helping people in trouble they meet along the way, is the main theme behind Promised Land, a spin-off from Touched by an Angel.

Here Russell Greene, his wife, Claire, their children Josh and Dinah, and Russell's mother, Hattie, and his nephew Nathaniel, begin their journey in an old suburban trailer after Russell loses his job and decides to follow a long sough dream: travel across the country in search of adventure.

Cast: Gerald McRaney (Russell Greene), Wendy Phillips (Claire Greene), Celeste Holm (Hattie Greene), Sarah Schaub (Dinah Greene), Austin O'Brien (Josh Greene), Eddie Karr (Nathaniel Greene), Ossie Davis (Easmus Jones), Kathryn Dora (Shamaya Taggart), Richard Thomas (Joe Greene), Ashleigh Norman (Margaret Noteworthy), Eugene Byrd (Lawrence Taggart).

6618 Pros and Cons. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 1/26/86). The Fraud and Bunco Squad is a special division of the Los Angeles County's Sheriff's Office that investigates the bilking schemes of confidence men. The unsold series was to relate the exploits of its team (Bernie, Patty, Audrey, Christie, Val and Dolly) as they attempt to beat confidence men at their own game. In the pilot episode, the squad investigates a fraudulent housing deal in which twenty-eight tenants bought into an eight-unit condominium complex.

Cast: Bernie Casey (Lieutenant Bernie Rollins), Carol Potter (Patty Finley), Wendy Cutler (Audrey), Jennifer Runyon (Christie), Sheryl Lee Ralph (Val), Lu Leonard (Dolly). Guest Cast: James Sloyan (Morry Stein), Tim Dunigan (Tom), Joseph Hacker (Mr. Mulray), Will Nye (Phil), Marvin Braverman (Eugene Eder), Angela Paton (Eleanor), Betsy Baker (Angela), Stuart Nisbet (Fred Epps). Note: Lu Leonard's character is called "Dolly" in the show, but is credited as "Lou" on press material.

6619 Pros and Cons. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1991–1992). The Bird and O'Hannon Agency at 1122 North Plaza in Los Angeles is a private detective organization owned by Gabriel Bird and Mitch O'Hannon.

The character of Gabriel Bird was originally featured on the series Gabriel's Fire (wherein Gabriel worked as an investigator for Chicago attorney Victoria Heller). In 1991 when Victoria leaves her practice to become a judge, Gabriel opens his own agency, Gabriel Bird Investigations. On his first case, Gabriel is hired by a woman to follow her husband whom she believes is having an affair. The suspect is actually a hit man who has been hired to kill Los Angeles private detective Mitch O'Hannon. In Los Angeles, Gabriel saves Mitch's life when he prevents the hit from taking place. The two join forces (and eventually become partners) to solve the case. It is learned that Mitch's secretary used information to blackmail a client; the client thought Mitch was the blackmailer and hired the hit man.

Gabriel loves gardening and owns a house at 808 Magnolia Drive in Los Angeles episodes. Josephine, Gabriel's love interest from Gabriel's Fire, relocates to Los Angeles when Gabriel asks her to marry him. The wedding occurs in the episode of October 10, 1991. Josephine acquires a job as the manager of a restaurant called the Angel Grill.

Gabriel goes to extremes to get the job done and keeps a diary of everything he does.

Mitch lives in Apartment 705 at 455 Lane Street. He served in Korea and was with the 40th Sunburst Unit; Gabriel was with the 24th Infantry. Gabriel thinks Mitch is too careless and calls him "a lunatic; he acts like a teenager." Mitch feels that acting on impulse is the best way to get the job done. Mitch was previously partners in a firm called Pryor and O'Hannon.

The series was originally titled Bird and Katt and featured James Earl Jones and Richard Crenna as squabbling private detectives named Gabriel Bird and Peter Katt. William Olvis composed the theme.

Cast: James Earl Jones (Gabriel Bird), Richard Crenna (Mitch O'Hannon), Laila Robins (Victoria Heller), Madge Sinclair (Josephine Austin).

6620 Protect and Surf. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/6/89). Surf House is a beach residence in Santa Monica, California, that is home to Mike, Dwight, Jodi, Bob, Jesse and Dan, officers with the Westside Police Department. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they patrol and protect the city. In the pilot episode, the cops seek to help an old friend who has stolen $200,000 from drug dealers and now fears for his life.

6621 The Protectors. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1972). The Protectors is an international organization that unites the finest investigators in the world to battle crime in the capitals of Europe. Harry Rule is the featured American member of the team; Connessa Caroline de Contini is the British representative and Paul Buchet is the French representative.

Harry, Caroline and Paul are the tops in their field. Harry is a strategist and carefully plans the course of action the team will take on assignments. Caroline is a gorgeous woman Harry incorporates for distraction but in her own right, she is a master at deductive reasoning, an expert shot and quite capable of defending herself in adverse situations. Paul is the suave ladies' man who is also a skilled investigator and sometimes a bit too quick with his fists. Stories relate their efforts to solve cases that often involve incorporating means as deceitful as the criminals they are seeking. Suki is Harry's housekeeper (in London) and he has a dog named Gus.

Cast: Robert Vaughn (Harry Rule), Nyree Dawn Porter (Caroline de Contini), Tony Anholt (Paul Buchet), Yasuko Nagazumi (Suki), Anthony Chinn (Chino; a Protector). Theme Vocal: "Avenues and Alleyways" by Tony Christie.

6622 Proud Earth. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/23/60). A proposed spin-off from The Alcoa Goodyear Theater about a homesteader (Isaiah Macabee) and his efforts to make a home for himself and his family (his wife, Rebecca and their son, Adam) on the hostile Idaho Territory of a century ago. In the pilot episode, Isiah faces the wrath of a powerful ranch owner (Mr. March) who wants his land.

Cast: John Larch (Isaiah Macabee), Vivi Janiss (Rebecca Macabee), Joe Gallison (Adam Macabee), William Meigs (Mr. March), Jay Strong (Roan March), Karin Dicker (Gwen March).

Voice Cast: Kyla Pratt (Penny Proud), Tommy Davidson (Oscar Proud), Paula Jai Parker (Trudy Proud), Tara Strong (Bebe Proud), Jo Marie Payton (Suga Mama), Cedric the Entertainer (Bobby Proud), Karen Malina White (Dijonay Jones), Soleil Moon Frye (Zoey), Alisa Reyes (LaCienega), Orlando Brown (Sticky Wenn), Lydia Look (The Chang Triplets), Carlos Mencia (Felix).

6624 Providence. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1999–2002). Dr. Sydney Hansen is a plastic surgeon with a successful practice in California. After the sudden death of her mother, Lynda, Sydney gives up her practice and returns to her hometown of Providence, Rhode Island. Here, she establishes herself as a doctor with the local free clinic and finds herself becoming the guiding light to her dysfunctional family (her veterinarian father, Jim and her siblings, Joanie and Robbie). Assisting Sydney (but only seen by her and the viewing audience) is her mother, who appears to her in her dreams.

Cast: Melina Kanakaredes (Dr. Sydney Hansen), Mike Farrell (Dr. Thomas Hansen), Concetta Tomei (Lynda Hansen), Paula Cale (Joanie Hansen), Seth Peterson (Robbie Hansen), Leslie Silva (Dr. Helen Reynolds), Sarah Spiegel (Young Sydney; flashbacks), Samaria Graham (Izzy Munez), Toni DeRose (Patrice), Maria Ptillo (Tina Calcaterra), Tessa Allen (Hannah Hansen).

6625 Prudence and the Chief. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/26/70). On behalf of the United Council of Churches, Prudence MacKenzie, a widow and the mother of two children (Gavin and Fergus) accepts an assignment to establish a school on a Cheyenne Indian reservation. The unsold series was to follow Prudence, a missionary and school teacher, as she attempts to teach the Indian children. The pilot episode depicts Prudence's efforts to convince Snow Eagle, Chief of the Cheyenne, that a school is necessary for his people. Other Regulars: Letitia, Prudence's mother.

Cast: Sally Ann Howes (Prudence MacKenzie),

Rick Jason (Chief Snow Eagle), Kathryn Givney (Letitia MacKenzie), Teddy Quinn (Gavin MacKenzie), Johnny Lee (Fergus MacKenzie). Guest Cast: Rhodes Reason (Major O'Toole), Mac Krell (Lieutenant Burns), Troy Melton (Sergeant).

6626 Prudential Family Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1950–1951). A live series of dramatic productions sponsored by the Prudential Life Insurance Company. The series ran from October 10, 1950 to March 27, 1951.

Performers Include: Peggy Ann Garner, Gertrude Lawrence, Kevin McCarthy, Walter Abel, Ruth Chatterton, Carol Channing, Bethel Leslie, Helen Hayes, Gene Lockhart, Haila Stoddard, Carole Stone, Jessica Tandy, Grace Kelly, Richard Greene, Cyril Ritchard, June Lockhart, Dorothy Gish, Walter Abel.

6627 The Pruitts of Southampton. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1966–1967). “The Pruitts of Southampton live like the richest folks, but what the folks don't know is that the Pruitts are flat broke....” When an Internal Revenue investigation discloses that she owes ten million dollars in back taxes, society matron Phyllis Pruitt, who has never worked a day in her life, is forced to sell her valuables and drastically reduce her living style. The series, set in Southampton (on Long Island in New York) relates Phyllis's efforts to maintain the appearance of wealth and social status in an eight-room home with one car and a butler.

In mid season, the program's format changed somewhat to depict Phyllis's adventures as a landlady when she begins an elegant boarding house in an attempt to pay off her debt. Stephanie Pruitt is Phyllis's daughter; Ned Pruitt is Phyllis's uncle; Sturgis is the butler; Regina Wentworth is Phyllis's social rival; Suzy Wentworth is Regina's daughter; Baldwin is the IRS Agent; General Cannon is Phyllis's friend; Norman Krump is a boarder in the Pruitt home; Vernon Bradley another boarder; Rudy is Phyllis's cousin; Harvey is Phyllis's brother. The series is also known as The Phyllis Diller Show. The series, which produced 30 episodes, ran as The Pruitts of Southampton from September 6, 1966 to January 6, 1967; and as The Phyllis Diller Show from January 13, 1967 to September 1, 1967.

6628 Pryor's Place. (Series; Children; CBS; 1984–1985). Pryor's Place is a special, magical neighborhood populated by children. It is here that the younger set learn lessons about life through the cast of regulars and the various celebrities who visit. Comedian Richard Pryor appears as the host who introduces his young audience to a world where children rule and adults take second place.

Little Richie and Wally are the main children. Miss Stern is the schoolteacher; Meatrack is the neighborhood bully. Rita is Richie's cousin; Solly is the adult friend of the host. The Sid and Marty Krofft Puppets also play various characters that live in the neighborhood.

Cast: Richard Pryor (Host), Akili Prince (Little Richie), Cliffy Magee (Wally), Marla Gibbs (Miss Stern), Keland Love (Meatrack), Milt Kogan (Solly), Kim Fields (Rita), Tony Cox (Alle), Danny Nucci (Fredie). Theme Vocal: "Pryor's Place" by Ray Parker, Jr.

6629 P.S. I Luv U. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1991–1992). Cody Powell and Dani Powell are an unusual pair of private detectives. They are in the Federal Witness Protection Program, pretend to be married and operate P.S.I. (Palm Springs Investigations), a small security firm in Palm Springs, California, as a cover to protect their real identities.

Dani is actually Wanda Talbert, a beautiful con artist who moves from town to town pulling scams. Cody is really Joey Paciorek, a detective with the N.Y.P.D. When a con by Wanda goes wrong and she is captured by Joey, he offers her a chance to avoid jail by helping him expose a drug lord. During the assignment, Wanda is exposed as an undercover agent. The drug lord escapes but Wanda is now in jeopardy: if the mobster is caught, Wanda's testimony can convict him. To protect Wanda, it is decided to give her a new identity. Matthew Durning, a former Justice Department federal marshal, arranges for their new life style. He reassigns Joey as Dani's bodyguard and "husband." Cody and Dani, who dislike each other, first live in a mobile trailer home; then in the Parker Mansion when the owners leave for Europe and entrust its security to P.S.I.

Dani originally worked as the receptionist for P.S.I. She is later a case worker when she helps Cody apprehend a big time mobster. Dani was born in the Bronx and grew up on the streets. She learned at an early age how to con people but was taught how to perfect her craft by her uncle, Ray Barkley (Patrick Macnee), an international rogue and confidence man. Cons have given Dani the life she loves, and spending money is her favorite hobby. She hates housework, cooking and especially children ("Kids are like fingernails on a blackboard. I can't take them"). Dani is not only an expert at relieving people of their money, but is capable of opening safes and picking locks. She carries a lock pick with her at all times; "It's in my bra. It's the safest place I know."

Cody, born in New York City, had the badge number 346 and was a street cop for 12 years before becoming a plainclothes detective. He was an honest cop and did virtually everything by the book; he objects, at times, to Dani's habit of pulling cons to get the job done. Cody comes from a long line of police officers and would like to return to the force one day with a clean record.

JoJo is the P.S.I. radio dispatcher; Sonny Bono appeared as himself, the mayor of Palm Springs. Greg Evigan and Suzanne Fountain sing the theme "P.S., I Love You."

Cast: Greg Evigan (Cody Powell), Connie Sell-ecca (Dani Powell), Earl Holliman (Matthew Durning), Jayne Frazer (Jo Jo).

6630 PSI Factor: Chronicles of the Paranormal. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1996). A weekly series of dramas that recreate documented facts on the paranormal. Actor Dan Aykroyd, the program's host, is also deeply interested in the subject matter and convinced a psychic think tank (the Office of Scientific Investigation and Research) to allow him access to their files (what the series is based on). Dan says, "I'm the fourth generation in my family with psychic interest" and his hosting chores resemble those of Rod Serling (The Twilight Zone) and Robert Stack (Unexplained Mysteries). Although the program is called an anthology (which usually means no regular casts) PSI Factor incorporates regulars associated with the Office of Scientific Investigation: Lindsay Donner (data analyst), Peter Axon (physicist), Ray Donahue (security director), Frank Elsinger (operations director), doctors Curtis Rollins and Claire Davison; and professors Connor Doyle and Anton Hendricks.

6631 Psych. (Series; Crime Drama; USA; 2006–). Shawn Spencer is a man with phenomenal powers of observation. He was born into a family of police officers and his father, Henry, held high hopes of Shawn following in his footsteps. As early as he can remember, Shawn was taught how to think, act and observe like a detective. Unfortunately for Henry, Shawn grew up with no real interest in becoming a cop; he preferred the life of a slacker and taking random jobs. This caused a riff in the family.

Though not a cop, Shawn is fascinated by crime and studies the crime scenes he reads about in the newspaper or sees on TV. He then calls the police with a tip because nothing escapes his razor sharp mind. One tip, however, backfires and Shawn is arrested as the prime suspect. Although he has no actual clairvoyant abilities and can not read the future (only crime scenes) he convinces the police he is a psychic. Impressed by his “abilities,” the police department hires Shawn as a psychic consultant to help them solve difficult cases (he also opens an agency called Psych).

Assisting Shawn is Burton “Gus” Guster, his friend, a pharmaceutical salesman (for Central Coast Pharmaceuticals) who helps Shawn keep out of trouble. He is also a safe cracking expert and a spelling bee fanatic. In grammar school in 1989 he lost a competition and has been fascinated by it ever since.

Cast: James Roday (Shawn Spencer), Dule Hill (Burton “Gus” Guster), Corbin Bernsen (Henry Spencer), Kristen Nelson (Chief Vick), Timothy Omundson (Detective Lassiter), Maggie Lawson (Juliet).

6632 The Psychiatrist. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1971). James Whitman is a young psychiatrist based in Los Angeles. He believes in the new but controversial techniques of modern medical therapy. He is partners Bernard Altman, an older (and wiser) psychiatrist who believes in time honored methods but is not adverse to the progress that the medical profession has made. Stories, which are character studies of people with psychiatric problems, relate the doctor’s experiences as they treat each patient with the methods they feel will give them the best results. Aired as a segment of Four-in-One.

Cast: Roy Thinnes (Dr. James Whitman), Luther Adler (Dr. Bernard Altman).

6633 Public Defender. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1954–1955). Bart Andrews is a public defender who takes on the cases of indigent people. He is dedicated to uncovering the facts behind each case and does not prejudice his clients; just because they do not have the money for an attorney is no reason why they should not receive a fair chance in court. Stories follow Bart’s case investigations.

Reed Hadley opens the show: “A Public Defender is an attorney employed by the community and responsible for giving legal aid without cost to any person who seeks it and is financially unable to employ private counsel. It is also his duty to defend those accused of crime until the issue is decided in a court of law. The first public defenders office in the United States was opened in January 1913. Over the years other offices have opened and today their handful has grown to a network of lawyers dedicated to protecting the rights of our clients.”

Cast: Reed Hadley (Bart Matthews).

6634 The Public Life of Cliff Norton. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1952). Comedian Cliff Norton stars in capsule skits that depict one man’s approaches and solutions to everyday problems.

6635 Public Morals. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1996). October 30, 1996 was the premiere and last airing of Public Morals, a comedy that was ahead of its time — and because of that (raunchy language) was immediately cancelled after it aired its only episode (the pilot). The program is set in New York City and follows the cases of a group of detectives attached to the Vice Squad of the N.Y.P.D. The main characters are Neil Fogerty, the head of the Vice Squad; Valerie, his assistant; Corinne, a gorgeous blonde detective; Mickey, a hard-nosed street cop; Darnell, a by-the-books detective; Ken, a not-too-bright detective; and Richie Biondi, the gay civilian aid.

Cast: Bill Brochtrup (Det. John Irvin), Julianne Christie (Det. Corinne O’Boyle), Donal Logue (Det. Ken Schuler), Jana Marie Hupp (Det. Valerie Vandergroot), Larry Romano (Det. Richie Biondi), Joseph Latimore (Darnell Ruggs), Doris Belack (Gabrielle Biondi), Peter Gerety (Lt. Neil Fogerty).

6636 Public Prosecutor. (Series; Mystery; Syn.; DuMont; 1947–1952). The syndicated version of the series (1947–48) was a short mystery that, with commercials, was designed to run in twenty-minute spots. In 1951 (to 1952), when the DuMont network acquired the program, it became a mystery game. Here a panel of three detective-fiction experts would view a fifteen-minute mystery film that was stopped prior to the denouncement. The experts were then asked to identify the culprit. After doing so, the film was played to reveal the answer. Also known as Crawford Mystery Theater.

Cast: John Howard (Prosecuting Attorney), Anne Gwynne (His Assistant), Walter Sande (Police Lieutenant).

6637 Publicity Girl. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1956). A not widely seen comedy about the working life of a publicity girl for a public relations firm in Southern California. Jan Sterling plays the girl.

6638 Pud’s Prize Party. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1952). Nonprofessional children compete against each other in talent contests for merchandise prizes and the title “The Most Talented Child of the Week.” Todd Russell hosts.

6639 Pulitzer Prize Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1950–1952). Adaptations of Pulitzer Prize-winning stories. The series, which produced 52 episodes, ran from October 6, 1950 to June 4, 1952.

6640 Pumpboys and Dinettes on Television.

(Pilot; Variety; NBC; 8/15/83). A television adaptation of the Broadway country-rock musical. Highway 57 in Frog Level, North Carolina is the setting. Events in the lives of four pumpboys (Jim, L.M., Jackson and Eddie) who work the local L&M Gas Station, and two sisters, Rhetta and Prudie Cupp, who own and operate the nearby Double Cupp Diner. In the pilot episode, the pumpboys scheme to increase their business by staging a Pump Maid of the Year contest.

6641 Punch and Jody.

(Pilot; Drama; NBC; 11/26/74). Life in the circus world as seen through the experiences of Peter "Punch" Travers, a jack-of-all-trades performer with Charny's Great American Circus, and his teenage daughter, Jody, the child he never knew he had who suddenly becomes his responsibility (when his ex-wife, Helen, dies in a car accident, Peter learns that Helen had kept secret Jody's existence because of his roustabout way of life). In the pilot episode, Punch battles to reestablish a circus booking when Margaret Grant, a wealthy widow, takes their booking date to host a barbecue for charity.

Other Regulars: Lil, the circus owner; Dan, the booking agent; Aurora, Punch's assistant in his knife throwing act; Woody, the travel coordinator; Delbart, the tiger tamer; Ben, a juggler; and Mr. and Mrs. Stilts, performers.

(Series; Reality; MTV; 2003). Ashton Kutcher, famous for pulling pranks on ordinary people as well as celebrities, does what he does best again, this time on celebrities who have become too big (in their own minds) and need to be brought back down to earth.

(Series; Comedy; NBC; Syn.; NBC; 1984–1988). When her husband walks out on her, and a young mother (Susan Brewster) feels she is no longer able to care for her seven-year-old daughter, she abandons the child and her dog, Brandon, in a Chicago shopping mall. The girl, Penelope ("Punky") Brewster, manages to make money by helping shoppers load groceries into their cars. She also finds a place to live — an empty apartment (2D) in a building managed by Henry Warnimont, a 60-year-old gruff widower.

One day, several weeks later, the adorable orphan is discovered by Henry. Punky takes an instant liking to Henry ("Well, Brandon," she says, "we gotta trust somebody sometime") and tells Henry what has happened, concluding with, "Maybe my mother just forgot about me; but one day she'll come back and we'll live happily ever after."

Henry hires a private detective to find Punky's mother. The days pass and Punky feels she has found a home — until Henry tells her the detective was unable to find her mother and that he is sending her to the Department of Children and Family Services. Feeling abandoned again, Punky packs her suitcase. "I must be a terrible person," she tells Henry. "First my father walks out on me, then my mother ditches me, then you try and get rid of me. Nobody wants me around. Well, that's okay, I don't need anybody. I can take care of myself." She leaves. Henry then realizes that his life has changed for the better since he met Punky and that he needs her as much as she needs him. He files a petition to adopt her (and is later granted custody).

Punky originally slept on the couch in the living room, until she asked Henry if she could use his study as her bedroom. She turned it into a "Funky" Brewster room. "The room would blind a Smurf," says Henry. "There are so many colors!" "I'm not nobody anymore," exclaims Punky. "I'm Punky Brewster!" Stories follow events in Punky and Henry's lives.

Henry's fondest memory of Christmas is when he would go to Massachusetts to visit his grandfather and together they would go into the woods to chop down their tree. Punky's most cherished Christmas memory is the warm feeling she got when her mother made cranberry pudding. On her first Christmas with Henry, Punky wished that Santa would reunite her with her mother. For Christmas, Punky gave Henry a homemade pipe; Henry gave Punky roller skates. While Punky did not get her wish (Henry made every attempt to grant it), Santa did leave her something: her mother's musical jewelry box; the gift Punky made for her mother, earrings, were gone. Was it a miracle? Punky thinks so, because "all you have to do is believe." Henry too had a dream that one day he would have a child; it came true when Punky came into his life (Henry was married many years ago to a woman named Claudia; she died a year after they were married).

Henry and Punky live in Apartment 2A at 2520 Michigan Avenue in Chicago. Henry is a photographer who owns the Warnimont Studios. Punky loves to wear miniskirts and believes that everything will be all right no matter how bad things look — “That’s Punky power!”

Cherie Johnson is Punky’s best friend. She lives in Apartment 3A with her grandmother, Betty Johnson, a nurse at Cook County Hospital (Betty raised Cherie after her parents’ deaths).

“I even look gorgeous when I’m nervous,” says Margaux Kramer, Punky’s very rich and very spoiled girlfriend. She lives on Oak Lane and takes lessons from her mother on how to fire servants and “when it comes time for marriage, I’ll look through Who’s Who to see who has what.”

The real Punky Brewster, Peyton B. Rutledge, appeared in the episode of 11/10/85 (“The Search”). Peyton, known in her childhood as “Punky Brewster,” is the daughter of the headmaster of the prep school that then-NBC president Brandon Tartikoff had attended. It was Tartikoff who remembered the name and suggested it for the title character.

Relatives: Loyita Chapel (Margaux’s mother), Ernie Sabella (Margaux’s father), Marilyn McCoo (Betty’s younger sister, Larnese Barker).

Cast: Soleil Moon Frye (Punky Brewster), George Gaynes (Henry Warnimont), Cherie Johnson (Cherie Johnson), Ami Foster (Margaux Kramer), Susie Garrett (Betty Johnson), Robyn Lively (Lisa; Punky’s friend), Casey Ellison (Allen Anderson; Punky’s friend). Theme Vocal: “Every Time You Turn Around” by Gary Portnoy.

6644 Punky Brewster. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1985–1986). An animated version of the prior title that continues to depict events in the life of Penelope “Punky” Brewster, a mischievous little girl who is the adopted daughter of a gruff photographer (Henry). Margaux, Cherie and Allen are Punky’s friends.

Voice Cast: Soleil Moon Frye (Punky Brewster), George Gaynes (Henry Warnimont), Ami Foster (Margaux Kramer), Cherie Johnson (Cherie Johnson), Casey Ellinson (Allen Anderson).

6645 A Pup Named Scooby-Doo. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1998). A prequel to Scooby-Doo, Where Are You? that presents the cast as youngsters. Shaggy, Velma, Daphne and Freddy are kids who are interested in the paranormal. As teenagers (the original series) they ran a company called Mystery, Inc.; here, with the cowardly puppy, Scooby-Doo, they have begun The Scooby-Doo Detective Agency. Stories follow their efforts (all hindered by Scooby-Doo) to solve mysteries.

Voice Cast: Don Messick (Scooby-Doo), Kellie Martin (Daphne Blake), Christina Lange (Velma Dinkley), Casey Kasem (Norville “Shaggy” Rogers), Carl Stevens (Freddy Jones).

6646 Puppetman. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/3/87). Gary (no last name given) is a single father and the head puppeteer on Dragon Time, a local kids show on WGRF-TV in Madison, Wisconsin. The proposed series was to relate Gary’s efforts to divide his time between work and raising his six-year-old son, Zack. In the pilot episode, Gary seeks a way to improve the show’s sagging ratings. Other Regulars: Rita, the show’s hostess; Bud, the producer; Del and Holly, Puppeteers; Bud, Jr., Bud’s son; and Mitchell, the station head.

Cast: Fred Newman (Gary), Julie Payne (Rita), Michael Carter (Zack), Jack Burns (Bud Stone), Steve Levitt (Bud Stone, Jr.), Richard Hunt (Del), Lisa Waltz (Holly), Ron Fassler (Mitchell). Guest Cast: Maryann Juller (Nurse), Linda Hoy (Dee), Tad Horino (Man).

6647 Pure Insanity. (Pilot; Game; Fox; 8/11/90). Eight contestants compete in a series of crazy and outlandish events with the object being to outperform one another. Winners receive a grand prize of $15,000 ($2500 of which they must donate to a local hometown charity).

Hosts: David Alan Grier, Alan Hunter.

6648 The Purex Special for Women. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1960–1961). Sympathetic dramatizations based on the problems faced by women. Following the drama, a brief discussion is held with a guest doctor or psychiatrist. The series, which ran from October 14, 1960 to August 29, 1961, is sponsored by Purex and is also known as Special for Women.

Hostess: Pauline Fredericks.

6649 Pursue and Destroy. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 8/14/66). The experiences of the officers and crew of a U.S. Naval submarine during World War II. In the pilot episode, Commander Enright attempts to prove that a load of defective torpedoes and not his men, are responsible when several torpedoes miss their programmed targets.

Cast: Van Williams (Commander Russ Enright), Paul Comi (Lieutenant Barney Redesko), David Thorpe (Lieutenant James Ford), Ward Wood (Chief Alex Jacobs), Dee Pollack (Chip Malloy). Guest Cast: Dame Judith Evans (Iris Milbanke), Jessica Walter (Vivien Scott), Henry Wilcoxon (Admiral Rockland), Thad Williams (Lonnie Cole).

6650 Pursuit. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1958–1959). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people being pursued by others. The series ran from October 22, 1958 to January 14, 1959.

Performers Include: Laraine Day, Chester Morris, Joan Bennett, Michael Rennie, Ann Sheridan, Darryl Hickman, Victor Jory, Franchot Tone, Joan

Caulfield, Lyle Talbot, Neville Brand, Dan Duryea, Macdonald Carey, Sal Mineo, Linda Darnell, Stu Erwin, Barry Sullivan, Fay Spain, Mona Freeman, E.G. Marshall, Marie Windsor, Margaret O'Brien, James Gregory.

6651 The Pursuit of Happiness. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1988). John Marshall University in Philadelphia is a prestigious college where the world-renowned history professor, Roland G. Duncan teaches. David Hanley is a footloose idealist. After years of traveling across the U.S. David decides to settle down in Philadelphia.

David has a teaching degree in history but never really pursued a career. Now, with time on his hands, David applies for the position of assistant professor to the distinguished Roland Duncan. Stories follow David as he tries to implement aspects of his travels into his classes — and change Roland from a stiff shirt to a free spirit (or as much of a free spirit he can instill in a man who is positively set in his ways).

Other regulars are Sara Duncan, Roland's daughter; Margaret Callahan, an assistant history professor; Ms. Lopez, Roland's secretary; Veronica Morris, David's friend; and Professors Gruber and Stevens.

Cast: Brian Keith (Roland G. Duncan), Paul Provenza (David Hanley), Judie Aronson (Sara Duncan), Wendel Meldrum (Margaret Callahan), Wesley Thompson (Vernon Morris), Mary Farrell (Professor Gruber), John Petlock (Professor Stevens), Wanda DeJesus (Ms. Lopez). Theme Vocal: "The Pursuit of Happiness" by Mendy Lee.

6652 The Pursuit of Happiness. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995). Steve Rutledge and Alex Chosek are partners in the Chicago-based law firm of Rutledge and Chosek. The partners have divided the work — Steve handles innocent people; Alex "handles everything else." Steve also teaches physics at Roosevelt University and feels he was born under a ladder or that a black cat crossed his path because bad luck seems to follow him around like a shadow. Alex thinks it's all in Steve's head but Steve can't shake his unfortunate streak and stories focus in particular on Steve as he struggles to cope with life despite the constant mishaps that plague him.

Other regulars are Mackenzie, Steve's wife; Jean, the office secretary; Larry, Mackenzie's brother; and Steve's Grandmother.

Cast: Tom Amandes (Steve Rutledge), Melinda McGraw (Mackenzie Rutledge), Brad Garrett (Alex Chosek), Meredith Scott Lynn (Jean Mathias), Larry Miller (Larry), Maxine Stuart (Steve's Grandmother).

6653 Push, Nevada. (Series; Mystery; ABC; 2002). Push is a small Nevada gambling town. It has only 1,000 residents but pays out the biggest jackpots in the state. It is also filled with corruption — namely casino boss Silas.

In Washington, D.C., IRS agent Jim Prufrock receives a fax (perhaps by mistake), which is a spreadsheet for a million dollar skimming scam. Was the fax a mistake? Was it intended? A mystery begins and also involves the viewing audience. The series is interactive (via the Internet) and presents clues to the whereabouts of the missing million dollars. As Jim arrives in Push, he begins his investigation. Clues will lead Jim — and viewers to the whereabouts of the million dollars. The program, however, is so complex that it requires watching every second of every episode. The idea sounds good but the slow moving story coupled with difficult to follow clues led ABC to cancel the series after seven episodes (it was scheduled to run 13 episodes with the viewer who solved the puzzle winning the missing money).

Other regulars are Mary Sloman, the mysterious woman Jim meets at a dance bar called Slomans; Darlene Prufrock, Jim's wife.

Cast: Derek Cecil (Jim Prufrock), Jon Polito (Silas), Scarlett Chorvat (Mary Sloman), Abby Brammell (Darlene Prufrock).

6654 Pushing Daisies. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2007–). As a youngster growing up in Cour d'Couers, Ned lived a mostly carefree life. He enjoyed running in the fields with his dog Digby and, at the age of nine, he had a crush on his next-door neighbor, eight-year-old Charlotte Charles, whom he called "Chuck."

One day, when Digby is hit by a truck, Ned's life changes forever. He touches the dog and, to his surprise, brings him back to life. But his special gift — which Ned has no way of explaining, also has a serious side effect. A second touch will return the deceased back to being dead. And, if Ned keeps a deceased alive for longer than sixty seconds, someone else must die to take his or her place.

As Ned grows, he becomes fearful of his "gift" and becomes somewhat of a loner. He eventually becomes a baker and establishes his own business — The Pie Hole.

One night, while chasing a suspect, private detective Emerson Cod witness Ned's gift when the suspect falls off a building roof, dies and returns to life when Ned touches him. When Ned sees Cod pursuing the culprit, he touches the culprit and returns him to being dead. Cod finds Ned very useful and the two form a business partnership — Ned can touch a victim, bring him back to life, ask him who killed him, touch him again the solve the case.

All is progressing well for Ned until he hears a news bulletin about a young woman being killed aboard a cruise ship and being dumped into the ocean. When authorities recover her body and her name is revealed — Charlotte Charles, Chuck makes it his business to restore her life to find out who killed her. But Ned violates his own rule and lets

Chuck live — a situation that finds Ned, who still loves Chuck, never able to touch her and she never able to touch him. With Cod's help, Ned and Chuck find Chuck's killer (someone who mistook her for a diamond smuggler). The three become a team to solve murders by asking the victims to identify their killers. Lily and Vivian are Chuck's aunts; Olive is the Pie Hole waitress.

Cast: Lee Pace (Ned), Anna Friel (Charlotte "Chuck" Charles), Chi McBride (Emerson Cod), Swoosie Kurtz (Aunt Lily), Ellen Greene (Aunt Vivian), Kristin Chenoweth (Olive Snook), Field Cate (Young Ned; flashbacks), Jim Dale (Narrator).

6655 The Pussycat Dolls Present: The Search for the Next Doll. (Series; Reality; CW; 2007–). The Pussycat Dolls are a successful all-girl singing group whose premiere album, "PCD," sold over five million copies. It also produced five hit singles. The six-girl group (originally scantily clad) sang at a Los Angeles club before recording their first album. The group, created by Robin Antin, is now seeking a seventh girl — and the program gives one girl the chance of a lifetime — to become a Pussycat Doll. Nine finalists, chosen from open auditions all over the country, compete on a weekly basis by performing songs and/or dances (together or alone). One girl is eliminated each week with three remaining hopefuls appearing on the last show. Two of these girls are eliminated and the remaining girl becomes a Pussycat Doll. The girls are judged by a panel of three: Robin Antin, Ron Fair (chairman of Geffen Records) and lead Pussycat singer Nicole Scherzinger. The series ran for eight weeks. Asia, Chelsea and Melissa R (as identified) were the three finalists. Asia Nitollano was selected as the new Pussycat Doll (although she later dropped out of the group to pursue a solo singing career).

In the series second cycle (2008), titled The Pussycat Dolls Present: Girlicious, Dolls creator Robin Antin begins a search to find three girls for a new group to be called Girlicious. The format is the same with Robin and her judges testing the performance skills of girls selected from open auditions across the country. The three most talented will form the new group Girlicious.

Host: Mark McGrath. Judges: Robin Antin, Ron Fair, Nicole Scherzinger, Lil' Kim. Choreographer: Mickey Minden.

6656 Puttin' on the Hits. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1984). The program spotlights ordinary people as they mimic their favorite performers. Prizes are awarded to the best performers on each show.

Host: Alan Fawcett. Theme Music: "Puttin' on the Hits" by David Russo.

6657 Putting on the Kids. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1986). A juvenile version of Putting on the Hits in which kids (aged 6 to 12) pantomime recordings of famous songs. Acts, judged on originality, lip-sync and performances are scored from 1 to 100 with the highest scoring performer receiving a $500 savings bond.

Host: Michael Young.

6658 The Puzzle Game. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1989). Two teams of related people (for example, husband and wife, cousins) compete. The object calls for each team to identify video puzzles in return for cash (with the highest scoring team winning).

Host: Jim Lange.

6659 Pyramid. (Series; Game; Syn.; 2002–2004). A revised version of what originally began as The $10,000 Pyramid (but was also revised as The $20,000 Pyramid, The $25,000 Pyramid and The $100,000 Pyramid). A pyramid with six subject categories is displayed on stage. Two teams compete. One member of one team selects a category and a topic is revealed (for example, "As Time Goes By"). The host reads the question associated with it ("Describe these things associate with time") and the player must relate one word clues to each of the six words contained in the category. Three such rounds are played with the highest scoring team receiving a chance to play the Pyramid. Six subjects are displayed (each worth a different money amount). The player facing the pyramid relates one-word clues to the identity of each subject to his partner. If all six are guessed, the non-celebrity player wins $10,000 and a chance to compete again and again face the pyramid (this time for an additional $15,000) by guessing all six categories. If not, the player wins what money is represented by the categories he identifies.

Host: Donny Osmond. Announcer: John Cramer.

6660 Q.E.D. (Series; Game; ABC; 1951). The object calls for a celebrity panel to solve mystery stories that are submitted by members of the viewing audience. The host relays the facts, and panelists each receive one guess. If the mystery remains unsolved, the sender receives a merchandise prize. Also known as Mystery File. The series ran from April 3, 1951 to October 9, 1951.

Host: Fred Uttal, Doug Browning. Regular Panelists: Nina Foch, Hy Brown.

6661 Q.E.D. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1982). London, England, in 1912 is the setting. Constantly mocked as a fool for his ingenious inventions, Quentin E. Deverill, an American science professor at Harvard, resigns in mid-semester to pursue his own private research. Life is progressing happily for Quentin, who is also an amateur sleuth, until an evil German scientist (Stephen Kilkiss) begins a quest to destroy the world.

Quentin, being the righteous man that he is, feels that he must take matters in his own hands and stop Kilkiss. With the help of his assistant, Betsy, his right hand man, Phipps, and his array of inventions, Quentin sets out to save the world by any means that he can. His efforts are covered by Charlie, a reporter for the International Wireless Telegraph Service. Jenny is Quentin's secretary.

Cast: Sam Waterson (Quentin E. Deverill), Sarah Berger (Betsy Stevens), A.C. Weary (Charlie Andrews), George Innes (Phipps), Carolyn Langrishe (Jenny Martin), Julian Glover (Dr. Stephen Kilkiss).

6662 Q.T. Hush. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1960). Q.T. Hush is a fumbling private detective who solves crimes quite by accident. He is assisted by his dog, Shamus, and his shadow, Quincy, who can operate independently of him.

Voice Cast: Dallas McKennon (Q.T. Hush).

6663 Quack Pack. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1996–1997). An update of the series Duck Tales that presents the nephews of Donald Duck, Huey, Dewey and Louie as teenagers who do what teenagers do best — causing countless headaches for their uncle with their antics (and the easily exasperated Donald's efforts to cope with them). Donald's girlfriend, Daisy Duck, is seen here as a TV reporter (for a show called What in the World).

Voice Cast: Tony Anselmo (Donald Duck), Kath Soucie (Daisy Duck), April Winchell (Daisy Duck), Jeannie Elias (Huey Duck), Pamela Adlon (Dewey Duck), Elizabeth Daily (Louie Duck), Tim Curry (Moltoc), Pat Fraley (Gwumpki).

6664 Quadrangle. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949). A twice-weekly program of music and songs that ran from March 14, 1949 to April 22, 1949 and is also known as Campus Corner.

Hostess: Beverly Fite. Regulars: Frank Stevens, Burt Taylor, Dean Campbell, Bob Burkhardt, Claire Granville, Ray Kirschner.

6665 Quantum Leap. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1989–1993). Quantum Leap is a secret government project concerned with time travel (it is hidden in the desert 30 miles outside the town of Destiny County, New Mexico). When the government threatens to cut off its funding, quantum physics professor Dr. Samuel ("Sam") Beckett takes matters into his own hands and attempts to prove that a man can be sent into time. Sam steps into the unit's acceleration chamber and vanishes. He is sent back into time and can travel (leap) only within 30 years of his own lifetime, beginning in 1953 (when he was born); however, a system malfunction traps Sam in time — where he is destined to remain until he can be retrieved. Through brainwave transmissions, Sam receives the holographic assistance of Al Calavici, an admiral who is a project observer (and who can be seen and heard only by Sam).

While bouncing around in time, Sam assumes the identities of people he never knew to correct a mistake they made and set history straight (that is, according to what a computer named Ziggy deems it should be). The audience sees Sam in the various roles but other people see the person Sam has become (when Sam looks into a mirror, he sees the person whose identity he has assumed; this person is transported to the "Waiting Room" at the Quantum Leap complex). When a mission has been completed, Sam is propelled (leaps) into another time period and the person — man or woman — is restored to his or her normal self. (Dogs, certain children and mentally unstable people can also see Al.)

Al, who carries a slightly defective miniature Ziggy (his hand link to the computer), has known Sam for many years. Al was born on June 15, 1945, and grew up in an orphanage (where he had a pet roach named Kevin). He ran away from the orphanage to join a circus and later enlisted in the navy (in 1957 he was an ensign and was called "Bingo" by his buddies). In 1969 Al married a girl named Beth (Susan Diol), the only girl, he says, he really loved. Al was next sent to Vietnam (at which time he began smoking cigars). He was later reported as missing in action and was assumed dead. When he was found in 1973 Beth had remarried, and Al never returned to her.

Sam was born and raised on a farm in Elkrige, Indiana, and developed a fear of heights at the age of nine (after seeing a Tarzan movie, he attempted and failed to swing from a homemade vine he rigged from the barn roof). He attended Elkrige High School and possesses seven degrees.

Sam built Ziggy as a parallel hybrid computer to run Quantum Leap. Sam gave Ziggy, which has a billion gigabyte capacity, singer Barbra Streisand's ego ("In my lab, Ziggy has a female voice").

Relatives: Scott Bakula (Sam's father, John Beckett), Carolina Kava (Sam's mother, Thelma Beckett), Olivia Burnette (Sam's 13-year-old sister, Katie Beckett), David Newsom (Sam's brother, Tom Beckett). Flashbacks: Jamie Walters (Al in 1957).

Cast: Scott Bakula (Sam Beckett), Dean Stockwell (Al Calavici). Theme Song: "Quantum Leap" by Mike Post.

6666 Quark. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1978). The time: A.D. 2226. The premise: the voyages of a U.G.S.P. (United Galaxy Sanitation Patrol) garbage ship as it patrols the deep regions of space picking up the trash (for example, space Baggies) of the planets of the United Galaxies.

Adam Quark is the ship's commander. "I myself am just an ordinary human, descended from planet Earth ... My ancestors were members of a subgroup called Americans." Adam's thoughts (which the audience hears) are called Star Notes.

Betty I and Betty II hold the joint position of second in command. “One of them is a clone,” Adam says, “an artificial, laboratory created identical twin of the other. I’m extremely fond of Betty — if I only knew which Betty it is that I am extremely fond of.” Both Bettys, blonde bombshells, are also in love with Adam, and each says she is the real Betty (the clone Betty was made from a cell taken from under the fingernail of the real Betty). In the pilot episode, the twins playing the role were credited as Tricia and Cibbie Barnett (the same actresses as in the series, only with shorter hair in the pilot).

Jean/Gene is the ship’s chief engineer. She/he is a transmuted and possesses a full set of female and male chromosomes. Jean/Gene unpredictably switches genders (via voice and actions; she/he always appears physically as a male), depending on the situations the ship encounters.

Ficus Panderato is the chief science officer. He is a plant in human form from the planet Vegeton. The character, a clone of Mr. Spock on Star Trek, has a logical mind and finds humor against his nature.

Andy is a cowardly Servo Mechanical Android that Adam built and is still trying to perfect. Andy is primitively designed (a square Plexiglass head and a rectangular metal body), and the Load Control Box is his “girlfriend.” In the pilot episode, Andy was created by O.B. Mudd (Douglas V. Fowley), an eminent scientist who was the ship’s research and equipment specialist.

Dr. Otto Robert Palindrome is the always harassed superintendent and chief of Pera Base One, the base of the U.G.S.P.

The Head, distinguished by a very large forehead and apparently no body, is commander-in-chief of U.G.S.P. and “wrote a book on headaches.”

Interface is a beautiful four handed girl who serves as an intergalactic telephone operator (one must contact Interface in order to speak to the Head). The pilot aired on May 7, 1977. Theme: “Quark,” by Perry Botkin, Jr.

Cast: Richard Benjamin (Adam Quark), Tricia Barnstable (Betty I), Cyb Barnstable (Betty II), Tim Thomerson (Jean/Gene), Richard Kelton (Ficus), Conrad Janis (Otto Palindrome), Alan Caillou (The Head), Bobby Porter (Andy), Misty Rowe (Interface).

6667 The Queen and I. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1969). Duffy is a master schemer and the first mate on The Amsterdam Queen, an old and decrepit ocean liner (docked at New York Harbor). The ship has spent many years in faithful service and Duffy has made considerable sums of money with his schemes off of her. But the time has come to retire the ship. Its owner, Commodore Dodds has decided to sell her for scrap metal. This puts a dent in Duffy’s money-making ventures and stories follow Duffy as he tries to save his floating paradise from the scrap yard.

Oliver Nelson is the first officer; Wilma Winslow is Duffy’s love interest; the ship’s captain is Washburn; and members of Duffy’s crew are Becker, Ozzie, Max and Barney.

6668 Queen for a Day. (Series; Contest; NBC; ABC; 1956–1964). Women appear on stage and bare their souls to the studio audience, stating their single most needed object. Through electronic voting machines, the audience selects the one woman they feel is the most needy. The woman is crowned “Queen for a Day” and receives, in addition to the sought article, various merchandise prizes. The series ran on NBC from January 3, 1956 to September 20, 1960 and on ABC from September 28, 1960 to January 2, 1964.

Host: Jack Bailey. Assistant: Jeanne Cagney. Announcer: Gene Baker.

6669 Queen for a Day. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1970). A revised version of the 1950s series of the same title. See the prior title for format.

Host: Dick Curtis. Assistant: Nancy Myers.

6670 The Queen of Swords. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 2000–2001). Santa Helena is a small town in Old California (1817) that is ruled by Luise Rivera Montoya, a corrupt and evil military colonel who is seeking to become the law of the land.

Dona Maria Teresa Alvarado is a young woman living in Madrid, Spain, when she receives word that her father, Don Alvarado, has been killed in a fall from a horse (in actuality, he has been shot by the soldiers of Montoya for resisting arrest).

A short time later, Dona Maria Teresa, called Tessa, and her servant, Marta arrive in Santa Helena to find the once glorious Alvarado mansion in shambles and about to be repossessed by Montoya for unpaid back taxes. Unable to pay the taxes and not believing her father, an expert horseman, died accidentally, Tessa decides to remain and avenge his death.

The answer as to how comes one night when Tessa receives a ghostly visit from her father. He tells her that his “Avenging Angel will make things right.” As they speak, Don Alvarado tells Tessa to find the Santa Rita, a rare bottle of wine in the cellar. As Tessa searches, she finds the bottle of wine and pulls it from the rack. A secret door opens to reveal gold and other treasures her father hid from Montoya. Tessa also finds a sword (“My father was saving it for a son he never had”) and a picture, painted of her when she was seven years old, with the caption “My Little Angel.” As she looks at the picture, Tessa decides to become that Avenging Angel her father mentioned.

Tessa dons a lacy black mask, tight black blouse and pants (with a red scarf around her waist) and a calling card — the Queen of Swords (taken from the tarot deck of cards). Although Tessa battles the evils of Montoya, she is branded a villain. A reward of 1000 Reales is offered for her capture — dead or alive.

The town's padre believes the Queen is "a miracle of God for all the good she does." Colonel Montoya calls the Queen "an evil spirit who threatens the very destiny of the whole public." He also believes that the Queen is no ordinary woman. "She has a good heart. And when I catch her I'll keep it in a jar on my desk." Tessa's dual identity is known only to Marta. When not helping the people of Santa Helena as the Queen, Tessa appears as an aristocrat who has returned to her homeland to take over the family estate (which she does when she pays Montoya the back taxes). As the Queen, Tessa rides a brown horse she calls Chico. Tessa misses the life of luxury she lived in Spain and often sighs, "I'm tired of play acting the role of the spoiled aristocrat."

Montoya's captain, Marcus Grisham is the man who killed Tessa's father, but Tessa cannot prove it. He was apparently in the U.S. Army and dishonorably discharged (he is wanted for murder and fraud). He somehow hooked up with Montoya and has been his right hand man ever since. Montoya has made it Grisham's job "to get the Queen of Swords or I'll have your head instead of hers." Marta, who looks out for Tessa, is a psychic and reads Tarot cards. Jose Feliciano sings the theme, "Behind the Mask."

Cast: Tessie Santiago (Tessa Alvarado), Valentine Pelka (Luise Rivera Montoya), Anthony Lemke (Marcus Grisham), Paulina Galvez (Marta).

6671 The Queen Was in the Kitchen. (Experimental; Comedy-Drama; DuMont; 1/30/45). The American Central Manufacturing Company (makers of American Kitchens) sponsored a program designed to show housewives what kitchens will look like in the future (following World War II). Skits, narration and film shorts were used to convey the message that the kitchen is the busiest place in the house.

Host-Narrator: Allen Prescott. Cast: David Kerman, Abby Lewis, Dick Monahan, Woody Parker, Amy Sidell, Leonard Sherer, Arnold Stang.

6672 Queens Supreme. (Series; Drama; CBS; 2003). Jack Moran is a Judge at the Queens Supreme Court in New York. He is described as smart, clever, a problem solver "and he's a 12-year-old kid at times." Jake is not your normal judge. He does what he wants, does not follow the rules (he does, however, just manage to stay within the limits of the law) and eavesdrops on his juries (through the vent system). He carries a gun in a shoulder holster and will do outrageous things in his courtroom to prove his point. The unique but short-lived series (three episodes) allows viewers to eavesdrop on Jack's rather unpredictable courtroom proceedings.

Jack is married to Maude (maiden name McPherson). They have been together for 11 years and she is seeking a divorce. Maude is a lawyer, designs clothes (she has her own clothing line) and lives apart from Jack in a loft in SoHo. Cameron is Jack's law assistant (she knows law cases by heart and can recite any case asked of her). Mike is Jack's law clerk.

Cast: Oliver Platt (Judge Jack Moran), Robert Loggia (Judge Thomas O'Neill), Annabella Sciorra (Judge Kim Vicidomini), L. Scott Caldwell (Judge Rose Barnes), James Madio (Mike Powell), Mary Harrill (Cameron Hull), Kristen Johnston (Maude Moran).

6673 Queer as Folk. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 2000–2005). A strong, soap opera like cable drama that focuses on the lives of gay men (Brian, Justin, Ted, Michael, Ben and Emmett) and lesbians Debbie, Lindsay and Melanie. The series takes place in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and presents a groundbreaking look at the lives, loves, friendships and sorrows of a diverse group of gays and lesbians. It also covered social issues like drugs and Aids. It is based on the British series of the same title.

Cast: Dean Armstrong (Blake Wyzecki), Gale Harold (Brian Kinney), Randy Harrison (Justin Taylor), Scott Lowell (Theodore "Ted" Schmidt), Peter Paige (Emmett Honeycutt), Thea Gill (Lindsay "Linz" Peterson), Sharon Gless (Deborah Jane Grassi Novotny), Sherry Miller (Jennifer Taylor), Makyla Smith (Daphne Chandlers), Harris Allan (James Montgomery), Robert Gant (Ben Bruckner-Novotny), Chris Potter (Dr. David Cameron), Jack Wetherall (Vic Grassi).

6674 Queer Eye for the Straight Girl. (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2005). A spin-off from Queer Eye for the Straight Guy. Here a team of four gay men, all stylists, take ordinary Los Angeles women and give them a complete makeover "to impress and inspire."

Stylists: Honey Labrador, Robbie Loughlin, Damon Pease, Danny Teeson.

6675 Queer Eye for the Straight Guy. (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2003). Five men, each of whom is gay, and each with a special talent, set out to do complete makeovers on straight men. Carson Kressley is a fashion expert; Jai Rodriguez is a "culture vulture"; Ted Allen is a food and wine connoisseur; Kyan Douglas is a grooming professional; and Thomas Filicia is a "design doctor." See also the spin-off series Queer Eye for the Straight Girl.

Cast: Ted Allen, Kyan Douglas, Thomas Filicia, Carson Kressley, Jai Rodriguez.

6676 Quentin Dergens, M.P. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1966). The story of Quentin Dergens, a Member of Parliament (M.P.) as he crusades against British government apathy and red tape. Produced in England.

Cast: Gordon Pinsent (Quentin Dergens).

6677 The Quest. (Series; Western; NBC; 1976). A wagon train traveling across the prairie is attacked by Cheyenne Indians. Young Morgan Baudine and his sister, Patricia, are captured and taken by separate tribes.

Eight years later, the Army frees Morgan, who has the Indian name Two Persons.

Learning that his sister is still reputed to be living with the Cheyenne, Morgan begins a search to find her. By chance he meets Quentin, his long-lost brother (who was raised by an aunt in San Francisco), who has also begun a search to find Patricia. Reunited by a common goal, they begin a hazardous quest to find their sister. Their adventures as they travel throughout the rugged west of the last quarter of the 19th century are depicted.

Cast: Kurt Russell (Morgan Baudine), Tim Matheson (Quentin Baudine).

6678 The Quest. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1982). When it is realized that Charles Phillipe, the aging king of Glendora, a small European monarchy, is the last of his line, and that the kingdom, now under British domain, will revert back to French rule, a special search is begun to find an heir. Four Americans are summoned to the mythical Glendora: Dan Underwood, a photojournalist; Carrie Welby, a New York department store shoe buyer; Art Henley, a retired, young-at-heart cop from Wilko, Kansas; and Cody Johnson, a confidence man. Each is found to possess royal blood and to be a descendant from Glendora's royal family. In a last-ditch attempt to save Glendora from becoming a French possession, a special quest is enacted to find a new king — or queen — to the throne.

Based on a 13th century tradition, the quest is a race that is held to find the most worthy, noble and valorous person to become ruler. Jeopardizing their quest is Louie Dardinay, an exiled Glendora Count who seeks to regain his title by making sure no one is crowned and Glendora reverts back to the French. Stories relate the adventures of Dan, Carrie, Art and Cody as they reluctantly work as a team — to complete the quest and defeat Dardinay. Five episodes aired with no conclusion. Sir Edward Vallier is the quest overseer.

Cast: Perry King (Dan Underwood), Karen Austin (Caroline "Carrie" Welby), Noah Beery, Jr. (Art Henley), Ray Vitte (Cody Johnson), Michael Billington (Louie Dardinay), John Rhys Davies (Sir Edward Vallier), Ralph Michael (Charles Phillipe). Theme Vocal: "Kings and Queens" by Lisa Lee.

6679 Quest for Adventure. (Series; Travel; Syn.; 1966). Excursions to various areas around the world via The Quest, a sixty-foot sailing vessel. Michael O'Toole is the host and narrator.

6680 Quick and Quiet. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/18/81). Elliott Cooper is a gambler and ne'er-dowell who inherits Quick and Quiet, a Los Angeles-based detective agency owned by his late father, T.C. Cooper, a disreputable private eye. When Elliott begins ransacking the office looking for some sort of inheritance with which to pay off his gambling debts, T.C.'s ghost appears to Elliott on a mission to help him walk the straight and narrow and become a productive citizen. The unsold series was to relate the investigations of a reluctant detective and his ghostly partner as they attempt to solve mysteries. In the pilot episode, Elliott takes on the case of Margo Hilliard, who is seeking her missing husband.

Cast: William Windom (T.C. Cooper), Rick Lohman (Elliott Cooper), Millie Slavin (Camille, Elliott's secretary). Guest Cast: Lynda Day George (Margo Hilliard), Henry Jones (Walter Hilliard), Warren Berlinger (Leonard Plumb), Lois Areno (Bambi Wilson), Joan Roberts (Trixie Hilliard), Jerry Marren (Harry Romero).

6681 Quick As a Flash. (Series; Game; ABC; 1953–1954). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. A specially prepared film sequence that describes a person, place or event is played. The first player to identify himself through a flashing light signal (which is activated by pressing a button), receives a chance to answer. If he identifies the subject, he receives one point; if he fails, he and his partner are disqualified from that particular round. The opposing team then views the entire film and is allowed one free guess. The winners, the highest point scorers, receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Bobby Sherwood, Clayton "Bud" Collyer. Regulars: Jimmy Nelson, Faye Emerson.

6682 The Quick Draw McGraw Show. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1959). The overall title for three animated segments:

1. Quick Draw McGraw. Quick Draw McGraw is a dim-witted horse who, with his deputy Baba Looey, the burro, struggles to maintain law and order in New Mexico.

2. Snooper and Blabber. Snooper the cat and Blabber the mouse team to battle crime.

3. Augie Doggie and Doggie Daddy. The efforts of a father to control his potentially juvenile delinquent son.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Quick Draw McGraw), Daws Butler (Baba Looey), Daws Butler (Snooper), Daws Butler (Blabber), Doug Young (Doggie Daddy), Daws Butler (Augie Doggie).

6683 Quick on the Draw. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1952). The object calls for contestants to identify phrases that are suggested by a series of cartoon drawings. The series aired locally in New York (1950–1952) with Eloise McElhone as the host. Robin Chandler hosted the DuMont version (January 8, 1952 to December 9, 1952). Bob Dunn is the artist.

6684 Quiller. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 1975). Two pilots were made for ABC about Quiller, a British Intelligence officer. He is assisted by a girl named Rosalind and their superior is Angus Kinloch.

In the first pilot, "The Price of Violence" (December 3, 1975), Quiller attempts to safeguard Dr. Erling Norgaard, director the World Food Mission, who is being sought by an Israeli gunman named Zodak. The second pilot, "Night of the Father" (December 10, 1975), Quiller's investigation of the death of a fellow intelligence agent in Munich involves him in a case of blackmail, an additional murder, and an underground right-wing conspiracy to capture the German government.

Cast: Michael Jayston (Quiller), Sinead Cusack (Rosalind), Moray Watson (Angus Kinloch). Guest Cast (Price of Violence): Ed Bishop (Frank Ilory), Peter Tuddenham (Erling Norgaard), Judy Liebert (Deborah). Guest Cast (Night of the Father): Julian Glover (Schroder), Peter Arne (Nemann), Hans Mayer (Major Hardtmann), Patricia Hodge (Kate), Margot Field (Caroline), Jim Norton (Lake).

6685 Quincy, M.E. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1976–1983). Dr. Quincy is a medical examiner with the mind of a detective. He works for the Los Angeles County Coroner's Office and believes in investigating for himself the circumstances surrounding a victim of crime.

Quincy was a surgeon before becoming a pathologist; his specialty is now forensic pathology. He lives on a boat docked at the Marina Del Ray "which I'm thinking of selling and moving into the lab" where he spends a great deal of time. Quincy has no first name; people refer to him as Quincy or Dr. Quincy. A camera shot of his I.D. card revealed that his first name has the initial R.

Quincy refuses police protection when working on a case. He is stubborn and will not back down. His 17 years experience as a medical examiner has made him confident in his findings "and I will risk my reputation on my findings." When the series begins, Quincy is a widower. He and his first wife, Helen (Anita Gillette in flashbacks), honeymooned at Lake Tahoe. She called him Quince. Helen dreamed of having children — four boys and three girls — but Quincy, who had just started to practice, wanted to wait until they were more financially secure. He was afraid children would deny him his commitment to medicine. Helen died from a brain tumor before she could realize her dream. Quincy's second wife, Emily Hanover (Anita Gillette) was a doctor Quincy married in the episode of February 23, 1983. There was no mention of the fact that Emily was a dead ringer for Helen and she too apparently never knew his first name as she called him Honey, Quince and Quincy.

Helen appeared in the episode of March 1, 1979

("Promises to Keep"); Emily was introduced in the episode of September 29, 1982 ("Rattlesnakes").

Dr. Robert Astin is Quincy's superior, the assistant deputy coroner. Dr. Sam Fugiyama assists Quincy. Danny Tovo owns the local bar hangout, Danny's Place. Frank Monihan is a lieutenant with the Homicide Division of the L.A.P.D. Lee Potter was Quincy's girlfriend in first season episodes.

6686 Quintuplets. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2004). Bob and Carol Chase are a happily married couple who live at 3 Barrington Drive in Nutley, New Jersey. They are also the parents of 15-year-old quintuplets: Paige, Penny, Parker, Pearce and Patton ("I know it seems like a lot, but we'll get through this horrible, horrible nightmare," says Bob). Bob and Carol received a lot of attention but it was Carol who became the neighborhood celebrity — "People waved at me and called me 'The Mom of the Quints.'" Stories relate events in their daily lives.

Paige is a beautiful blonde who is also a bit dense (Penny calls her "Bimbo the Clown"). She (and her siblings) attend North Nutley High School. If Paige knew what a sexpot was she would be one. She dresses to be alluring but doesn't realize how much damage she does when boys see her. Her expertise seems to be applying makeup and claims: "I have great hair and personality."

Penny is very smart and says, "I accomplish things by science — it can't be explained." Penny is rather self-centered, loves to read, is shrewd, cunning and rather proud of herself when she manipulates someone to accomplish something. Her goal is to become a Broadway show director and is the only sibling that wears glasses. She has an anger issue when she gets mad.

Pearce is the weird child. He has a high-pitched voice and seems to live in a world of his own (he functions in the real world but everything must make sense to him). He is opposed to violence of any kind and talking to Pearce "is like trying to nail Jell-O to a tree stump." He is a good student at school and is the basketball team mascot, Cugie the Cougar. He is happiest when he does something nice for someone else.

Parker considers himself the handsome brother of the family. He also believes he is a hunk and is considered a ladies' man at school. He is on the school's basketball team and can't stand rejection.

Patton is the shortest of the siblings. He is constantly teased for this but tries not to let it bother him. He tries to hit on any girl he sees and honestly thinks he is "a cool dude."

Cast: Andy Richter (Bob Chase), Rebecca Creskoff (Carol Chase), Sara Wright (Paige Chase), April Matson (Penny Chase), Jake McDorman (Parker Chase), Johnny Lewis (Pearce Chase), Ryan Pinkston (Patton Chase).

6687 The Quiz Kids. (Live Test Program; Game; DuMont; 3/6/45). A television version of the radio series of the same title. The program is set in a schoolroom where the host, dressed in a cap and gown, asks some rather difficult questions of four very bright children. Sponsored by Alka Seltzer and 1-A-Day Vitamins. A series would air on NBC with Joe Kelly as the host beginning in 1949.

Host: Joe Kelly (as the Quizmaster). Kids: Pat Conlon, Harve Fischman, Joel Kupperman, Richard Williams.

6688 The Quiz Kids. (Series; Game; NBC; CBS; 1949–1956). An adaptation of the radio series wherein five exceptionally intelligent children answer difficult questions read to them by the host. The series ran on NBC from July 6, 1949 to November 2, 1951 (then July 7, 1952 to August 18, 1952) and on CBS from January 17, 1953 to November 8, 1953 (and January 12, 1956 to September 27, 1956).

Host: Joe Kelly, Clifton Fadiman.

6689 The Quiz Kids. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1980). A revised version of the 1950s series of the same title. The basic format has a panel of five exceptionally intelligent children attempt to answer difficult questions in return for scholarship dollars.

Host: Jim McKrell. Announcer: Michael Adams.

6690 Quiz Kids Challenge. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1990). Two three-member teams compete: the kids vs. the adults. A board with several categories is revealed. One player selects a category and a question is read. The first team player to sound a bell signal receives a chance to answer. If the player is correct money is scored. The player with the last correct response chooses the next category. The game continues in this manner and the team with the highest score is the winner.

Host: Jonathan Prince. Announcer: Johnny Gilbert.

6691 Quizzing the News. (Series; Game; ABC; 1948–1949). The object calls for a panel to identify news events through a series of three cartoon drawings, which are presented to them one at a time. Points are scored based on the clue at which the identification is made. The panelist with the most correct identifications is the winner and his home viewer (chosen from postcards) receives a cash prize.

Host: Allen Prescott. Panelists: Arthur Q. Bryan, Mary Hunter, Ray Joseph, Milton Caniff. Artist: Albee Treider.

6692 The Raccoons. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986–1991). Bert, Ralph and Melissa Raccoon live in the beautiful Evergreen Forest. Cyril Sneer is a greedy lumber baron who sees the forest as a means by which he can acquire lumber by cutting down trees. Stories follow Bert, Melissa and Ralph as they struggle to protect their forest from the evil Cyril Sneer.

Voice Cast: Michael Magee (Cyril Sneer), Len Carlson (Bert Raccoon), Bob Dermer (Ralph Raccoon), Linda Feige (Melissa Raccoon), Marvin Goldhar (Cedric Sneer), Sharon Lewis (Broo), Nonnie Griffin (Mrs. Pig), Murray Cruchley (Forest Ranger Dan), Vanessa Lindores (Julie), Elizabeth Hanna (Nicole Raccoon), Dan Hennessey (George Raccoon), Lisa Lougheed (Lisa Raccoon). Narrator: Geoffrey Winter.

6693 The Rachael Ray Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 2006). Cook book author and Food Network show host (Thirty Minute Meals with Rachael Ray) turns her bubbly talents to the talk show circuit to become the host of a lively program of celebrity interviews, chatter, music and cooking segments.

Hostess: Rachael Ray.

6694 Rachel Gunn, R.N. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992). The duplex in need of new plumbing at 668 Oak Street is owned by Rachel Gunn, a pretty, middle aged nurse at Little Innocents Hospital. Rachel is in charge of the fourth floor nurses' station and is called the "Iron Nightingale" (she does have one problem, however — "I can't stand the sight of blood. I faint"). Rachel is brassy and cheap (she names her money and is obsessed with it). Rather than spend money for a vacation, she sits in her backyard with her feet in a plastic pool and pretends to be in Fiji.

Rachel feels nothing good ever happens to her. She hates doctors for all the attention they get and "all the non-attention nurses get." Rachel's first job was that of Sherbet Girl at the Dip Queen Ice Cream Parlor, and as a kid she had a dog named Tuffy.

Dave Dunkel is the doctor who rents a room at Rachel's duplex. He has a dog named Spike and an ex-wife (Sheila) who took him for everything he had (he calls her "Cujo"). He plans to get even one day and become a rich doctor.

Rebecca Jo Fulbright, Zack and Dane are the other featured nurses. Sister Joan Ignatius is the Catholic nun assigned to Rachel's floor. She plays shortstop on the convent softball team, Nuns and Roses.

Jacqueline Donnelly played young Rachel in a flashback. The series was originally produced for CBS with K.T. Oslin as Rachel Gunn.

Cast: Christine Ebersole (Nurse Rachel Gunn), Megan Mullally (Nurse Rebecca Jo Fulbright), Kevin Conroy (Dr. Dave Dunkel), Bryan Bright Cloud (Zack; a nurse), Kathleen Mitchell (Sister Joan Ignacious), Dan Tullis, Jr. (Dane; a nurse), Lois Foraker (Janette; the dietician). Theme Vocal: "Workin' for a Livin'" by Christine Ebersol.

6695 Racket Squad. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; CBS; 1950–1953). Dramatizations that expose the confidence game and its organizers as seen through the investigations of Captain John Braddock of the San Francisco Racket Squad. "What you are about to see is a real-life story taken from the police of police racket and bunco squads, business protective associations and similar sources all over the country. It is intended to expose the confidence game, the carefully worked out frauds by which confidence men take more money each year from the American public than all the bank robbers and thugs with their violence." The words are those of Captain Braddock as he opened each program; he closed on a similar note: "I'm closing this case now, but they'll be others because that's the way the world is built. Remember, there are people who can slap you on the back with one hand and pick your pocket with the other — and it could happen to you." The series ran in syndication from 1950–1951 and on CBS from June 7, 1951 to September 28, 1953.

Cast: Reed Hadley (Captain John Braddock). Theme Song: "Parade of the Chessmen" by Joseph Mullendore.

6696 Radar. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 1/23/83). A proposed spin-off from *M*A*S*H* that was to focus on Walter "Radar" O'Reilly, the former company clerk, as he takes a wife (Sandy) and begins a new life for himself in Iowa. The pilot episode sets up the unsold series storyline but not before a panicky Radar leaves Sandy at the altar to seek the advice of his former commanding officer, Sherman Potter. See also *W*A*L*T*E*R* a second attempt at a series for Radar.

6697 Radio City Matinee. (Live Test Program; Variety; NBC; 5/13, 5/15, 5/17/46). A proposed daytime series (to air Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 1 P.M.) aimed at the housewife. The show is composed of eight segments, six of which were informational, showing women how to do things (John Gnagy showing how to draw pictures; Irma Smith arranging flowers; cooking with George Rector; Maggi McNellis and Sally Victor demonstrating milliner's art; shopping for children with Louise Martel; and Ben James demonstrating kitchen utensils). The remaining two segments were variety oriented and featured songs by Ward Donovan and comical impersonations by Virginia Sale.

Host: Warren Hull. Cast: Ward Donovan, John Gnagy, Bea James, Maggi McNellis, Louise Martel, George Rector, Virginia Sale, Sally Victor.

6698 Radio Picture Show. (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 1/80). A proposed program wherein the top names in music are seen performing their hits in very early music videos.

Host: Tommy Goodwin. Announcer: Rhonda Cramer.

Cast: Patrick McGoohan (Dr. Sid Rafferty), John Getz (Dr. Daniel Gentry), Millie Slavin (Vera Wales), Joan Pringle (Beryl Keynes), Eddie Benton (Nurse Koscinski). Theme Song: "Rafferty's Theme" by Leonard Rosenman.

6700 The Rag Business. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/8/78). The Los Angeles garment industry is the setting for an unsold series about the antics of a group of dressmakers (Jackie, Susan, Coco, Darlene, Alma and Rita) working for the Fisher Dress Company. In the pilot episode, the group attempts to help Jackie by letting her borrow an exclusive design to wear on a date with her boyfriend (Dennis) who has just returned from Alaska. Other Regulars: Mr. Fisher, the company owner; and Connie, the shop steward.

Cast: Dick O'Neill (Mr. Fisher), Conchata Ferrell (Connie), Sarina Grant (Jackie), Susan Lawrence (Susan), Jeannie Linero (Coco), Anna L. Pagan (Darlene), Sudie Bond (Alma), Peggy Pope (Rita), Fred McCarren (Dennis).

6701 Rags to Riches. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1987–1988). Nick Foley is a millionaire with a flamboyant life-style. He is the son of a bricklayer and made his fortune as the owner of the Foley Frozen Foods Company. His real name is Nicholas Folitini, and he is the foster father of five orphan girls: Diane, Rose, Marva, Patti and Mickey. (When his reputation began to affect his business dealings, Nick decided it was time to refine his life-style. He decided to take on responsibilities and began by adopting the girls.) The series is set in Los Angeles in 1962 and features musical numbers as it relates the adventures of five street smart girls who have vowed to remain a family.

Nick owns a mansion in Bel Air and is a member of the Green Hills Country Club.

Before their adoption, the girls lived in Room 204 of the Margaret Keating Home for Orphan Girls in Los Angeles. Rose and Marva work on their high school newspaper, the Cougar; Patti hopes to become a writer; Marva seeks a career in the world of high finance; and Mickey, the youngest, has a pet guinea pig named Herbert.

John Clapper whom Nick calls Clapper, is Nick's butler and helps care for the girls. In the pilot episode, Heather McAdam played Nina, a sixth girl Nick had adopted; she was dropped when her mother came to reclaim her.

Gina Hecht appeared as Patti's mother, Gloria Lang; Joe Cortese was Nick's brother, Frankie Folitini; and Richard Grieco played Nick's godson, Billy Galanto.

Peter Robinson and Mark Miller composed the "Rags to Riches" theme.

Cast: Joseph Bologna (Nick Foley), Bridget Michele (Diane Foley), Kimiko Gelman (Rose Foley), Tisha Campbell (Marva Foley), Blanca DeGarr (Patti Foley), Heidi Zeigler (Mickey Foley), Douglas Seale (John Clapper).

6702 Rainbow Brite. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). Rainbow Brite, a pretty alien girl, and her horse, Star Bright, are sent to a world of gloom and misery with orders to transform it into a land of beauty. As they begin their quest they meet and befriend Twink, a resident who tells them that his world is ruled by the Evil One, a being who enjoys misery. Rainbow's efforts to defeat the Evil One by finding the mysterious Sphere of Light and transforming a bleak land into a world of brightness and beauty is the focal point of the series.

Voice Cast: Bettina Bush (Rainbow Brite), Pat Fraley (Twink), Robbie Lee (Starbright), Peter Cullen (The Evil One).

6703 The Rainbow Girl. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/4/82). The Miles Starling Family Dance Party is a local television program on Channel 66 in New York City. Annie Jordan is a beautiful singer who is the show's "Rainbow Girl." She lives at home with her mother, Irena, a widow, and her sister, Natalie, a dressmaker, and the unsold series was to follow incidents in Annie's life as she struggles to cope with problems at home and at work.

In the pilot episode, Annie and Natalie seek a way to finance a trip for their mother so she can visit her brother, whom she hasn't seen in forty years, in Lithuania. Originally titled The Ann Jillian Show. Other Regulars: Miles Starling, the television show host; Armando, Annie's neighbor, a waiter; Sam, Miles's producer; George, Sam's assistant; and Bert, Irena's romantic interest.

Cast: Ann Jillian (Annie Jordan), Candice Azzara

6704 Rainbow Revue. (Experimental; Variety; ABC; 2/20/50). ABC's attempt at marketing color television with CTI (Color Television, Inc.) a small San Francisco company that lost out when NBC's system was adapted (CBS had the color wheel; NBC's is the system as we know it today). Here the CTI technique used a standard black and white RCA television set that was modified to receive color images. The color was sharp but facial features and fine details were not very distinguishable. The test was made against a variety show background and was telecast from the Statler Hotel in Washington, D.C. Host Lanny Ross sang "Antoinette"; Eileen Christopherson, CTI's "Color Video Girl," sang "Embraceable You"; Magician Joan Brandon performed several tricks and Joan Gamble narrated a brief fashion show designed to showcase colorful clothing. The show's theme song was "Over the Rainbow."

Host: Lanny Ross. Performers: Joan Brandon, Eileen Christopherson, Joan Gamble.

6705 Raines. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 2007). Michael Raines and Charlie Lincoln are detectives with the N.Y.P.D. During a case investigation, they are mistaken for drug dealers and shot by rival gang members. Michael is wounded and Charlie is killed.

Several months later, when Michael returns to active duty, he begins to see the ghosts of murder victims (he calls them "figments of my imagination"). The viewer is led to believe it happens on the first case he is working alone — solving the murder of a young woman, Sandy Boudreaux (played by Alexa Davalos), who appeared to be a prostitute but was not.

Prior to this vision, Michael is seen talking with his former partner (who offers him advice). At the end of the first episode it is revealed that Charlie is a ghost (or figment) that only he can see. With Sandy (and other murder victims that follow) they first appear to tell him: "Find my killer." Sandy also tells him, "It's your imagination, I'm just a figment. I want you to find my killer than I'll go away."

Michael has a philosophy: "Know the victim, find the killer." He believes this has manifested itself to the point where, by seeing the victim and learning all he can about them, he can find the killer. All Michael actually wants to do is solve the murder and say goodbye to his ghostly visions.

Because the ghosts are only figments, they cannot tell Michael anything he doesn't already know; but through them he can look at the facts from a different perspective. Michael fears being seen talking to himself (when he is actually talking to ghosts). Through the advice of his mentor (Charlie) and the ghost or figment of the week, stories follow Michael's efforts to solve the cases of the dead who haunt him so he can help them find peace.

Beginning with the second episode, Michael, who has been seen talking to himself, is ordered to see a psychiatrist (Dr. Samantha Cole) or face suspension.

6706 Raising Dad. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2001–2002). Matt Stewart is a widower and the father of two very pretty daughters, Sarah and Emily. He is the author of the book Mohegan Island and teaches creative writing at Great Barrington High School in Massachusetts. Matt's late wife was named Abby and he receives help in raising Emily and Sarah from his father, Sam (also called Harrison).

Sixteen-year-old Sarah attends Great Barrington High School. She believes her father is a control freak and hates it when Matt tells the class about his family, especially her embarrassing moments. Sarah first worked in the administrative office at the school, then as a waitress at Pulp Fiction (also called Pulp 'n' Fiction), a juice bar. Sarah calls Emily "M" and "Emmy." Emily is 11 years old, an excellent cook and a sports fanatic. She is a B-minus student at Ovlc Elementary School and enjoys helping her grandfather cook, shop and care for the house.

Matt is a graduate of Boston College. When he and Abby were first married they lived in a walkup on Beacon Street. When Sarah was born they had a dog named Mildred and four years later, when Emily was born, the family moved in with Sam, a recent widower.

Matt is depicted as very uptight and very strict with Sarah and Emily. If, for example, Sarah is one minute late passed her ten o'clock curfew, she is punished. In one episode, Emily wanted a bra — not for her developing figure, but for "snapping by the cool guys" at school (it appears that the more "snaps" a girl gets, the more popular she is with the boys. On her first day of wearing her bra, Emily received 15 snaps). For some reason, Matt was not concerned. Being true to his character, he should have objected not only to "the cool guys" touching Emily, but snapping her bra.

Sam was a baseball scout and played with the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park. He shops at Bulk Brothers and always overbuys — like 240 cans of soda; a drum of potato chips and a lifetime supply of ketchup.

Cast: Bob Saget (Matt Stewart), Kat Dennings (Sarah Stewart), Brie Larson (Emily Stewart), Jerry

Adler (Sam Stewart), Meagan Good (Katie; Sarah's friend), Mandy Kindler (Mr. Travers; a teacher).

6707 Raising Miranda. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988). My Life Story was the original title of this bittersweet comedy about a father and daughter's relationship built on trust after the wife and mother deserts the family to search for her own identity.

Miranda Marshack is the shy, pretty, sensitive and awkward 14-year-old girl; and Donald ("Don") Marshack is her father, a boyish, charming contractor. Miranda and Don find support from their neighbors, Bob and Joan Hoodenpyle, whose advice is most often off-target ("But they mean well," Don says). Adding to the calamity is Marcine Marie Lindquist, Miranda's best friend, a 14-year-old somewhat bossy girl who has taken Miranda under her wing; and Miranda's deadbeat uncle, Russell, who offers his own brand of questionable support.

Miranda and Don live at 85 Muskeegan Road in Racine, Wisconsin. Don works for the Big M Construction Company. Miranda and Marcine are freshmen at Racine High School. Miranda reads Teen World magazine, and at the end of each episode, she writes the day's activities in her diary. She concludes each entry with "Confidentially, Miranda."

Martin Silvestri, Jeremy Stone and Joel Higgins composed the theme, "Raising Miranda."

Cast: Royana Black (Miranda Marshack), James Naughton (Don Marshack), Steve Vinovich (Bob Hoodenpyle), Miriam Flynn (Joan Hoodenpyle), Amy Lynne (Marcine Lindquist), Bryan Cranston (Russell), Lee Garlington (Helen Lindquist, Marcine's mother).

6708 Ramar of the Jungle. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1952). Kenya, East Africa is the setting. It is here that Dr. Thomas Reynolds, a research scientist known as Ramar (White Witch Doctor) by the natives has set up a base of operations. Professor Howard Ogden assists Dr. Reynolds and stories relate their efforts to safeguard the land and its tribes. The series has two distinct openings. The first, Reynolds is seen with a rifle as a lion charges; the second, more familiar opening, has natives dancing around a fire.

Cast: Jon Hall (Dr. Thomas Reynolds), Ray Montgomery (Prof. Howard Ogden).

Voice Cast: Neil Ross (John Rambo), Michael Ansara (General Warhawk), Mona Marshall (Kat), Alan Oppenheimer (Sgt. Havoc), Frank Welker (Mad Dog), Robert Ito (Black Dragon), James Avery (Turbo), Michael Bell, Peter Cullen, Edmund Gilbert, Russi Taylor, Lennie Weinrib.

6710 Ramona. (Series; Comedy; PBS; 1988). Nine-year-old Ramona Quimby, her parents Dori and Bob and her sister, Beatrice (called Beezis) live in Canada. Bob works for Frozen Foods, Inc.; their fussy cat is named Picky Picky.

Ramona is a bright and imaginable young girl (although Beezis says, “She’s a pest”). Ramona also feels that nobody understands her and her efforts to cope with life at home and at school is the focal point of the series.

Other regulars are Beatrice, Dori’s sister (after whom Beezis is named. When Ramona was learning to speak “Beatrice” became “Beezis”). Joan Whaley, Ramona’s teacher; and Eleanor Carson, the vice principal of the school. The series is produced in Canada and is based on the book by Beverly Cleary.

Cast: Sarah Polley (Ramona Quimby), Barry Flatman (Bob Quimby), Lynda Mason Green (Dori Quimby), Lori Chodos (Beezis Quimby), Kristen Bishop (Aunt Beatrice), Jayne Eastwood (Joan Whaley), Nerene Virgin (Eleanor Larson).

6711 Ranch Party. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1957). Performances by country and western entertainers that is set against a western ranch and hosted by western film star Tex Ritter.

Host: Tex Ritter. Regulars: Bonnie Guitar, Smiley Burnette, Tex Williams, Ray Price, Johnny Cash, Bobby Helms.

6712 The Random Years. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2002). A look at the hectic lives of four single young people: Casey Parker, Alex Barnes, Todd Mitchell and Wiseman (as he is called). Todd, Alex and Wiseman (no other name given) are three high school friends, now college graduates, who share an apartment in New York City. Casey is their neighbor, a gorgeous girl who is attending business school.

Alex is ambitious and works for Music Week magazine as the assistant to the rock critic. He runs his own music website and hopes to become a music critic. Todd is lazy, not easily motivated and schemes to get what he needs. He is a Star Wars fanatic and relates everything to it — “I don’t make fun of your religion, you don’t make fun of mine.” Wiseman was the mascot for his high school football team, the Owls. He is a dental assistant with no ambition to become a dentist (it was a career choice made for him by his mother, who has guided his life and gives him everything he ever wanted).

Casey is attending the NYU School of Business and works as a temp girl (“I go where they send me”). The Antiques Road Show is her favorite TV show and like her male counterparts, Casey is struggling to make it on her own. Stories follow their efforts to find their place in life. The series was cancelled after three episodes.

Cast: Natalia Cigliuti (Casey Parker), Will Friedle (Alex Barnes), Sean Murray (Todd Mitchell), Joshua Ackerman (Wiseman).

6713 The Range Rider. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1951). A mysterious man, known only as the Range Rider, and his teenage sidekick, Dick West, risk their lives to protect the people of old California during its lawless pioneering years. The Range Rider, is, in a way like the Lone Ranger (but without the mask). He appears to come from out of nowhere to help people threatened by unscrupulous characters. He (and Dick) do what is necessary to resolve a situation and never accept money for their services.

An announcer opens the show (following the song “Home on the Range”): “And who could be more at home on the range than the Range Rider, with his thrilling experiences, rivaling those of Davy Crockett, Daniel Boone, Buffalo Bill, and other pioneers of this wonderful country of ours. And Dick West, the all-American boy.”

Cast: Jock Mahoney (The Range Rider), Dick Jones (Dick West).

6714 The Rangers. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 12/24/74). The pilot film for Sierra about the rescue operations of the U.S. Park Rangers at Yosemite National Park in California. The pilot aired two weeks after the series left the air (the series was set at fictional Sierra National Park).

Cast: James G. Richardson (Ranger Tim Cassidy), Laurette Spang (Ranger Julie Beck), Jim B. Smith (Ranger Jack Moore), Colby Chester (Ranger Matt Harper). Guest Cast: Laraine Stephens (Edie), Laurence Delaney (Bob), Michael Conrad (Frank), Roger Bowen (Sam). Note: In the series, Susan Foster played Julie Beck and Ernest Thompson was Matt Harper.

6715 Rango. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1967). Rango is a Texas Ranger assigned to the Deep Wells Ranger Station in Gopher Gulch, Texas (in the 1870s). He introduces himself by saying, “I’m Rango, just Rango, Texas Ranger.” He believes “a law abiding town is a happy town” and tries to enforce that belief with proclamations (84 of them; number 1 is “No guns allowed in town,” number 84 is “No whistling at girls on the street”). He is also bumbling, dim witted, slow on the draw, and a major headache to Ranger Captain Horton: “Don’t you think I would like to get rid of him? Don’t you think I’ve tried to get rid of him? My hands are tied as long as his Uncle George is Commandant of the Rangers. I can’t get rid of him.”

Rango’s assistant is Pink Cloud, a “modernized” Indian who lives among savages but sees no need to go native. He doesn’t talk or act like an Indian, and more often than not, he helps Rango outwit the bad guys.

In Gopher Gulch, the captain, who has a prized gun collection, refuses to let Rango carry a gun. He assigns Rango to cases that are so hopeless ordinary Rangers would quit in frustration. Rango, however, manages to overcome all obstacles and bring dignity to the Texas Rangers ("But," the captain says, "I'm still stuck with him!").

Cast: Tim Conway (Ranger Rango), Guy Marks (Pink Cloud), Norman Alden (Captain Horton). Theme Vocal: "Rango" by Frankie Laine.

6716 Ransom for a Dead Man. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/1/71). The second pilot film for Columbo (see also Prescription: Murder) about a brilliant, but untidy and underpaid homicide detective with the Los Angeles Police Department. In the pilot episode, Columbo matches wits with a brilliant lawyer who has devised the perfect crime.

Cast: Peter Falk (Lieutenant Columbo). Guest Cast: Lee Grant (Leslie Williams), John Fink (Michael Clarke), Jean Byron (Patricia), Patricia Mattick (Margaret Williams), Jed Allan (Phil), Celeste Yarnell (Gloria), Harlan Warde (Paul Williams).

6717 Ransom for Alice. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 6/2/77). A proposed series about Jenny Cullen and Clint Kirby, law enforcement officers in the Old West of the 1890s. The pilot episode relates their efforts to end a white slavery ring that is operating out of Seattle.

Cast: Yvette Mimieux (Jenny Cullen), Gil Gerard (Clint Kirby), Charles Napier (Pete Phelan, their superior). Guest Cast: Laurie Prange (Alice Halliday), Barnard Hughes (Jess Halliday), Gavin MacLeod (Yankee Sullivan), Gene Barry (Harry Darew), Mills Watson (Toby).

6718 The Ransom Sherman Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950). A program of music and comedy with comedian Ransom Sherman as the host. The summer replacement for Kukla, Fran and Ollie that ran from July 3, 1950 to August 25, 1950.

Host: Ransom Sherman. Regulars: Nancy Wright, Johnny Bradford. Music: The Art Van Damme Quintet.

6719 Rapture at Two-Forty. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 4/15/65). The pilot film for Run for Your Life about Paul Bryan, a young lawyer who learns that he has only two years to live, and his attempts to cram a lifetime of living into his remaining time. In the pilot episode, set on the French Riviera, Paul joins Leslie Thurston and her team of skin divers to search for treasure. Aired on The Kraft Suspense Theater.

Cast: Ben Gazzara (Paul Bryan). Guest Cast: Katherine Crawford (Leslie Thurston), Michael Rennie (Robert Thurston), Antoinette Bower (Gillan), Stella Garcia (Risa), S. John Launer (Dr. Manson), Miguel Landa (Henri).

6720 The Rat Patrol. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1966–1968). North Africa during World War II is the setting. The Rat Patrol is a squadron of specially trained desert allies (Sam Troy, Jack Moffitt, Tully Pettigrew and Mark Hitchcock) who have only one assignment: harass and demoralize Rommel's Afrika Korps. Action-oriented stories relate their dangerous missions as well as their efforts to defeat Hans Dietrich, the German commander who is determined to stop them.

Cast: Christopher George (Sgt. Sam Troy), Gary Raymond (Sgt. Jack Moffitt), Justin Tarr (Pvt. Tully Pettigrew), Larry Casey (Pvt. Mark Hitchcock), Hans Gudegast (Hans Dietrich). The Song: "The Rat Patrol" by Dominic Frontiere. Note: Hans Gudegast is now known as Eric Braeden.

6721 Raven. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1992–1993). Jonathan Raven, a private detective based on Oahu, Hawaii, uses his skills as a martial arts expert to battle crime. He is assisted by Herman "Ski" Jablonski, his military buddy, a former hard drinking security analyst.

Jonathan was raised in Japan. His father, an agent for Interpol, and his mother were killed by the Black Dragon Society when Jonathan's father got too close to exposing a drug trafficking operation. Jonathan, a teenager at the time, became bitter and vowed to avenge their deaths. He infiltrated the society and learned the martial arts. When he felt the time was right, he killed those responsible for murdering his parents. He is now sought by the Black Dragons for betraying them. Before Jonathan left Japan he had an affair with a Japanese girl named Aki Moshirho. Unknown to Jonathan, Aki was two months pregnant when he left Japan to protect her from the Black Dragons. At seven months, complications set in and Aki died shortly after childbirth. Sometime later, Jonathan received a letter from the girl's sister, Nuko Mohihiro (Patricia Ayama Thompson), telling him about the birth of his son, whom Aki named Hikatti ("Sparkling Light"), but not saying where he was. Jonathan is now in a desperate race to find his son before the Black Dragons do; Jonathan believes they will kill his son.

Jonathan also has a special talent for touching people on the back of the neck and instantly knocking them out. Big Kahuna's Bar is Jonathan and Ski's favorite hangout.

Ski, a former army special forces agent, has a boat called the Brew-Ski, which he docks at Pier G-22 on Big Kahuna's Diamond Head Marina. Ski loves pas-trami on rye, carries four guns (one on each side of his hips, one in his boot, one in the back of his belt), brass knuckles and a knife with him at all times. Osata is the Black Dragon leader seeking to kill Jonathan. Josh C. Williams played a young Jonathan in flashbacks. Christopher Franke composed the theme.

Cast: Jeffrey Meek (Jonathan Raven), Lee Majors (Ski Jablonski), Cary Hisoyuki Tagawa (Osata).

6722 Rawhide. (Series; Western; CBS; 1959–1966). The hardships faced by the men of a cattle drive as they risk their lives, facing outlaws, bitter heat, intense cold and torrential rain, to deliver their goods from San Antonio, Texas, to Sedalia, Kansas, during the lawless 1860s. Gil Favor is the trail boss; Rowdy Yates, the ramrod; Pete Nolan, the trail scout; Mushy Mushgrove, the cook. The drovers are Clay Forrester, Jim Quince, Hey Soos, Joe Scarlett, Simon Blake, Ian Cabot, Jed Colby, Pee Jay, Yo Yo and Teddy.

Cast: Eric Fleming (Gil Favor), Clint Eastwood (Rowdy Yates), Sheb Wooley (Pete Nolan), James Murdock (Mushy Mushgrove), Charles Gray (Clay Forrester), Steve Raines (Jim Quince), Robert Cabal (Hey Soos), Rocky Shahan (Joe Scarlett), Raymond St. Jacques (Simon Blake), David Watson (Ian Cabot), John Ireland (Jed Colby), L.Q. Jones (Pee Jay), Paul Comi (Yo Yo), John Erwin (Teddy). Theme Vocal: “Rawhide” by Frankie Laine.

6723 Ray Alexander. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1994). Ray Alexander is a private detective who worked for twenty years for a prestigious attorney (Jeffrey Winslow) for only one reason: to buy his own restaurant (Ray’s Backyard Cafe). Ray is a perfectionist when it comes to cooking (a recipe has to be just right) and he is a perfectionist when it comes to crime — the reason why Winslow still uses Ray when the need arises. Assisting Ray at the restaurant is his Uncle Phil, who runs the place for him; and Donna Colla, Winslow’s pretty paralegal who helps Ray in the field. Other Regulars: Paul Garcia, Ray’s nephew; Lieutenant Gordon (Metro Police Department); and Elizabeth Butler, Ray’s girlfriend.

Two pilot films were produced. In the first pilot, “A Taste for Justice” (May 13, 1994), Ray tries to protect Patricia Radcliff from a madman (Brad Dexter) who killed her husband, then framed her for the crime and now seeks to kill her. The plot also depicts Ray’s efforts to perfect a crab cake recipe. The second pilot, “Menu for Murder” (March 20, 1995), finds Jeffrey Winslow calling on Ray to help him clear a dear friend (Cristina Parker) who has been accused of murdering a judge.

Cast: Louis Gossett, Jr. (Ray Alexander), Ossie Davis (Uncle Phil), Tracy Nelson (Donna Colla), James Coburn (Jeffrey Winslow), Danny Nucci (Paul Garcia; first pilot), Tony Colitti (Paul Garcia; second pilot), Robert Gossett (Lt. Gordon), Lynne Moody (Elizabeth Butler). Guest Cast (A Taste for Justice): Rosalind Allen (Patricia Radcliff), Amy Steel (Gail Baker), Frances Lee McCain (Mrs. Maxwell), Marie Bergen (Sheila Wardlowe), Boyd Kestner (Brad Dexter), Ray Charles (Himself). Guest Cast (A Menu for Murder): Romy Walthall (Christina Parker), Beverly Johnson (Alana Durand), Terry O’Quinn (Frank Darnell), Sam Jones (Bobby), Kenneth Ryan (Judge Patrick Hartman), Mary Alice (Adele Thompson), Johnny Mathis (Himself).

6724 The Ray Anthony Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; ABC; 1956–1957). A program of music and songs with bandleader Ray Anthony as the host. The series first aired in syndication in 1956 and was picked up by ABC from October 12, 1956 to May 3, 1957.

Host: Ray Anthony. Regulars: Don Durant, Frank Leahy, Med Flory, The Bookends, The Four Freshmen, The Belvadeers. Orchestra: Ray Anthony.

6725 The Ray Anthony Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1962). Orchestra leader Ray Anthony hosts a weekly program of music and songs. Vikki Carr, Kellie Greene, Lisa Marne and the girl group, the Bookends, are the regulars.

6726 The Ray Bolger Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1953–1955). The alternate title for Where’s Raymond. See this title for information.

6727 The Ray Bradbury Theater. (Series; Anthology; USA; 1986–1992). Dramas based on stories by Ray Bradbury. The pilot episode, which aired on HBO on February 22, 1986, had writer Ray Bradbury hosting three thirty-minute stories: The Town Where No One Got Off (with Jeff Goldblum as a man stalked by someone seeking to kill him); The Screaming Woman (Drew Barrymore as a girl who believes she hears the screams of a woman coming from beneath the ground); and Banshee (with Peter O’Toole as an eccentric film director who believes he is haunted by the spirit of a woman who roams the night when someone is about to die). The actual thirty minute series aired from May 21, 1986 to October 31, 1992.

Host: Ray Bradbury.

6728 The Ray Knight Revue. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). A program of music and songs with bandleader Ray Knight as the host. The series ran from May 15, 1949 to August 25, 1949.

Host: Ray Knight. Regulars: Joan Fields, Phyllis Gehrig, Jonathan Lucas, Don Weismuller, Harry Archer, Ernie Burtis, Tony Craig, Kay Conner, Frank Seporelli. Orchestra: Ray Knight.

6729 The Ray Milland Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1953–1955). Ray McNutley is a professor of English at the Lynnhaven College for Women in the town of Lynnhaven. Ray lives in a white frame house at 187 Maple Terrace with his wife, Peggy. Their neighbors are Pete (“Petey”) Thompson and his wife, Ruth. Pete is a real estate salesman (Thompson Real Estate), and he drives a green convertible with whitewalls and a locked trunk full of house for sale signs. Pete calls Ray “Ray Boy” and lives at 185 Maple Terrace. Josephine Bradley is the college dean.

The series, also known as Meet Mr. McNutley, changed formats for its second season. Ray and Peggy move to California when Ray becomes a drama professor at Comstock University, a coeducational college headed by Dean Dodsworth. In this version of the series, the spelling of Ray's last name became "McNutly." David Stollery appeared as Peggy's boy-genius cousin, Grover.

Cast: Ray Milland (Ray McNutley), Phyllis Avery (Peggy McNutley), Gordon Jones (Pete Thompson), Jacqueline DeWitt (Ruth Thompson), Minerva Urecal (Josephine Bradley), Lloyd Corrigan (Dean Dodsworth).

6731 The R.C.A. Victor Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951–1954). The overall title for four different programs starring two performers: Ezio Pinza and Dennis Day. R.C.A. is the sponsor.

The Ezio Pinza Segments: From November 23, 1951 to April 4, 1952, Ezio played the part of a bachelor who, along with his guests, would entertain from his luxurious apartment. On April 11, 1952 (to June 19, 1952) the segment became that of an anthology type series in which Ezio appeared in dramatic stories with musical overtones.

The Dennis Day Segments: At first it related the comic struggles of Dennis as a singer who is constantly nagged by his mother to leave The Jack Benny Program (on which he is a regular) and find himself a better-paying job. After five months (February 8, 1952 to June 26, 1952) the show ended for the season. When The R.C.A. Victor Show returned in the fall of 1952, a new Dennis Day segment appeared, depicting Dennis Day as a swinging young bachelor struggling to make a name for himself in Hollywood. Kathy is Dennis's girlfriend in 1952; she is replaced later (1952–1953) by Lois (who is replaced in 1953 by Peggy and who, in turn, is replaced by Marian in 1954). Charley Weaver is the janitor; Susan is Lois's sister; Hal is Dennis's friend; Mrs. Pratt is Dennis's landlady; Lavinia is Charley's girlfriend.

6732 Reach for the Stars. (Series; Game; NBC; 1967). A Truth or Consequences type of game show that tests a player's ability to perform tasks. Players are asked to perform a stunt within a specific amount of time. Their efforts to fumble their way through the stunt provide the laughs and awards them prizes whether they complete it or not (a lesser valued prize for failure). The short-lived program ran from January 31, 1967 to March 31, 1967.

Host: Bill Mazer.

6733 Reading Rainbow. (Series; Children; PBS; 1983–2002). A daily series that encourages children to read by presenting a reading (with visuals) of an entire book. At the end of each reading, a list of books dealing with similar subjects is presented.

Host: LeVar Burton. Story Teller: Emil Pinnock.

6734 Ready and Willing. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/22/74). Joe Ready and Herbert Willing are police sergeants who both suffer from the same malady: mishaps. Pamela Stevens is a beautiful but somewhat dizzy criminologist who assists them and the unsold series was to relate their efforts to solve crimes — which they do most often by accident. In the pilot episode, a comical version of Dragnet, the trio attempts to solve the murder of a seemingly insignificant drifter. Produced in 1966.

Cast: Joe Flynn (Joe Ready), Jack Weston (Herbert Willing), Melodie Johnson (Pamela Stevens), John Zaremba (Lieutenant Perkins). Guest Cast: Susan Saint James (Julia Prescott), Lola Albright (Wilma O'Brien), Kathleen Freeman (Mrs. Jonas), Fabian Dean (Archie), Ned Glass (Sammy).

6735 Ready for the People. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1964). A proposed series about Murray Brock, a tough prosecutor for the New York City District Attorney's office, who handles very difficult, high profile cases. In the pilot episode, Brock is faced with trying a young man accused of murder, but whom he believes is innocent, despite dozens of eye witnesses. Other Regulars: Dave Ryan, Brock's aide; the D.A.; and Karen, Murray's wife.

6736 Ready or Not. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; Disney; 1993–2000). Amanda Zimm and Elizabeth "Busy" Ramone are adolescent girls who are also very best friends. They are in the awkward stages of life and share everything together. They tackle the ups and downs of life at home, at school and with friends and in each instance give the viewer (primarily directed at young girls) the girl's viewpoint on life. The series follows the course of their lives from the sixth through ninth grades. Showtime aired the series from 1993 to 1997; Disney from 1998–2000.

Cast: Laura Bertram (Amanda Zimm), Lani Billard (Elizabeth "Busy" Ramone), Kari Matchett (Sheila Ramone), Joseph Griffin (Manny Ramone), Noah Plener (Frankie Ramone), Jason Deline (Ernie Lipnit), John Lefebvre (Leonard Zimm), Karl Pruner (Stephen Bennett), Amy Smith (Krissy), Omari Moore (Troy Edwards), Tabitha Lupien (Phoebe), Rebecca Bernstein (Nina Pepperman).

6737 The Real Adventures of Jonny Quest. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; TBS; TNT; 1996–1997). A revised version of The Adventures of Jonny Quest that aired on three networks at the same time. The story follows research scientist Dr. Benton Quest and his computer-genius son Jonny as they battle criminals on behalf of the Quest Foundation. Assisting Dr. Quest and Jonny are Roger “Race” Bannon, Jessica Margaret “Jessie” Bannon, Hadji Quest-Singh and Bandit, Jonny’s dog.

Cast: George O’Hanlon (George Gidley), Gloria Henry (Janet), Ray Collins (Mr. Tutwiler).

6739 The Real Ghost Busters. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986–1991). An adaptation of the 1984 feature film, The Ghost Busters that continues to relate the ghost-busting exploits of Peter, Ray and Winston, the owners of The Ghost Busters, a New York-based exterminating company. New to the story are their assistants, the Junior Ghost Busters: Jason, Donald and Catherine.

Voice Cast: Lorenzo Music (Peter Venkman), Dave Coulier (Peter Venkman), Arsenio Hall (Winston Zeddemore), Buster Jones (Winston Zeddemore), Maurice LaMarche (Ray), Laura Summer (Janine Melnitz), Frank Welker (Sambaine), April Hong (Catherine), Katie Leigh (Jason), Danny McMurphy (Donald).

6740 Real Ghosts. (Pilot; Anthology; UPN; 11/28/95). “Real people with real stories of real ghosts” is the premise behind this unsold series that recreates the actual experiences of people who have witnessed ghostly happenings.

Two half-hour stories are presented: “The Brotherhood” (tells of a frat house that is haunted by a ghost of a student who was rejected for membership) and “The Headless Ghost” (chilling tale of a country-western night club that was built over an 1890s slaughterhouse and is now haunted by the ghost of a headless girl who is seeking revenge).

Host-Narrator: Stacy Keach. Performers: Sheena Easton, Khrystyne Haje, Edward Winter, Christopher Daniel Barnes, Charlene Tilton, Michael Bowen, Seth Green.

6741 The Real Gilligan’s Island. (Series; Reality; TBS; 2004). A reality series based on the 1960s CBS series Gilligan’s Island. Here real people play the castaways (Gilligan, the Skipper, Ginger, Mary Ann, the Professor, Thurston and Lovey Howell). They are stranded on a deserted island and must work together to find a way back home. Fourteen people compete (two of each character). Various challenges are presented to eliminate one of each character. When seven players remain, they compete against each other to become the lone survivor (best at completing challenges) and win a cash prize.

Cast: Shawn Manning (Gilligan), Zac Turney (Gilligan), Ken Callan (The Skipper), Charlie Albert (The Skipper), Angie Everhart (Ginger), Erika Eleniak (Ginger), Randi Silvers (Mary Ann), Mandy Weaver (Mary Ann), Tiy-E Muhammad (The Professor), Andy Schuler (The Professor), Jim Bounce (Thurston Howell), Donna Bounce (Lovey Howell), Howard Schur (Thurston Howell), Melissa Jones (Lovey Howell). Host: Scott Lasky.

6742 The Real Gilligan’s Island II. (Series; Reality; TBS; 2005). A second edition of The Real Gilligan’s Island, a reality series based on the 1960s TV series Gilligan’s Island. See the prior title for format.

Cast: Chris O’Malley (Gilligan), Mark Groesback (Gilligan), Bob Fahey (The Skipper), Jim Murray (The Skipper), Nicole Eggert (Ginger), Rachel Hunter (Ginger), Kate Koth (Mary Ann), Amanda Dodson (Mary Ann), Pat Abbott (The Professor), Eric Anderson (The Professor), Bill Beaven (Thurston Howell), Donna Beaven (Lovey Howell), Glenn Stearns (Thurston Howell), Mindy Stearns (Lovey Howell). Host: Scott Lasky.

6743 The Real Housewives of Orange County. (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2006–2007). While ABC’s Desperate Housewives depicts the lives of a group of fantasy housewives, Bravo’s The Real Housewives of Orange County claims to present the real life happenings of a group of real housewives. This could be considered a fantasy also as the five women depicted (Vicki Gunvaion, Kimberly Bryant, Lauri Waring, Jeana Tomasina and Jo De La Rosa) reside in the swank Orange County section of Southern California. Each of the women appears to be wealthy (they are never seen working) and how they spend their time — together and with family and friends — is depicted. In the third cycle premiere (November 6, 2007) a new regular, housewife Tamara Barney, joined the cast. Greg Stewart, David Rupel and Douglas Ross are the producers.

6744 Real Kids. (Pilot; Human Interest; NBC; 3/1/81; 5/14/81). A two pilot attempt at a children's version of the series Real People wherein the usual and unusual abilities of children are showcased.

Hosts: Peter Billingsley, Shawn Carson, Elizabeth Hoy, Karissa Noel, Dale Pullman.

6745 Real Life. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/28/88). A look at "real life" as seen through the experiences of Marcy Roberts, the wife of a stockbroker, and Wanda Polesky, the wife of a trucker, friends who are also neighbors in a housing development called Paradise Hylands in Anaheim, California. Other Regulars: Patty and Bobby, Wanda's children. Wanda and Marcy's husbands are not seen.

Cast: Sandra Searles-Dickerson (Marcy Roberts), Donna Bullock (Wanda Polesky), Ami Foster (Patty Polesky), Jason Late (Bobby Polesky). Guest Cast: Miriam Flynn (Cookie Lippman), Chloe Amateau (Debbi). Theme Vocal: Carole King.

6746 Real Life Stories. (Pilot; Human Interest; CBS; 1981). A five episode pilot for a daily series that was to examine crimes that occur in real life families. A series of vignettes is used to depict the problem followed by a discussion with the studio audience. The pilot aired April 13 through April 17, 1981.

Cast: David Ramsey (Pastor David Randolph), Alexia Robinson (Mona Phillips), Tracey Cheree Jones (Cassie), Roz Ryan (Mrs. Dixon), Guy Torry (Little T), Rose Jackson (Vera Hudson).

6748 Real Mature. (Unaired Pilot; Children; Produced in 1991). A proposed series of comedy sketches that feature the relationships between parents and their children.

Hostess: Candace Cameron. Regulars: Jennifer Badger, Matt Brown, Jodi Carlisle, Devin Clark, Maria Glenn, Brian O'Connor, Christian Tessier, Jay Martel.

6749 The Real McCoy's. (Series; Comedy; ABC; CBS; 1957-1963). The McCoy's are a proud but poor farming family living in Smokey Corners, West Virginia. Amos McCoy is the head of the family. He lives with his grandson Luke McCoy, Luke's wife, Kate, and Luke's sister and brother Hassie and Little Luke. One day Amos receives notice that his brother Ben has died and that he has inherited Ben's ranch in the San Fernando Valley. With their worldly belongings packed on their 1920s car, the McCoy's head west to take possession of the 20-acre McCoy farm. There they acquire Pepino Garcia, the hired hand who had worked for Ben.

Amos and Luke grow a variety of crops — tomatoes, lettuce, potatoes, apples, peaches and alfalfa. They also have 56 egg-laying hens and are members of the Valley Co-op Poultry Association. The family also has a milk cow (Bessie; later Agnes, then Rosemary), a bull (Old Abe) and a horse (Rick). Their car, a Model A Ford Touring Car, was first called Gertrude and then Emily.

Amos, fondly called Grandpa, was born in 1894 in Smokey Corners; his late wife was named Julie. He is an expert at bird calls and uses the "McCoy Tonic" to cure his ailments (an alcoholic beverage recipe that has been in the family for over 100 years). When it comes to planting crops, Grandpa knows what goes where by tasting the dirt — "I got a taste for dirt." He enjoys pitching horseshoes, fishing, playing checkers and relaxing in his rocking chair on the front porch. Amos is also a member of the Royal Order of the Mystic Nile Lodge (where he is Grand Imperial Mummy) and president of the West Valley Grange Association. He is most embarrassed by the fact that he can not read or write.

Luke, real name Lucius, married Kate Purvis shortly before leaving West Virginia. Luke calls Kate "Sugar Babe" ("Honey Babe" in the pilot). Luke is also a member of the Grange Association and the Mystic Nile Lodge (which raises money for charity, promotes brotherhood in the community, and helps people in need). Luke was the state arm-wrestling champion of West Virginia and a member of its state militia marching band.

Kate, famous for her cooking, won the Prize Foods of California Home Baking Preserves Contest with her piccalilli. She is a member of the Charity Clothing Drive and the Ladies' Auxiliary, and earns money by sewing.

Luke's parents are deceased. He and Kate care for Luke's sister Tallahassee (nicknamed Hassie) and his younger brother Little Luke (Luke's parents were so excited when the baby was born they named him Luke — forgetting they already had a son named Luke).

Hassie, is 13 years old when the series begins. She earns spending money by babysitting and pledged the Alpha Beta Sigma sorority at Valley High School (the Malt Shop is the original after school hangout; later it's the Soda Fountain). In her senior year at Valley High, Hassie joined the "in crowd" of teenage girls called the "Bunch."

Little Luke was the only McCoy to be born in a hospital. He attends Valley Elementary School and is a member of the Valley Town Tigers little league team. He enjoys fishing and had his first job delivering papers. When Little Luke has nothing to say it means something is bothering him. In one episode he has a dog named Mack (that appeared to be part of the family, but it never turned up again).

Grandpa considers Pepino to be a McCoy until he does something wrong and “is fired from the family.” Pepino lives in “the room in the barn” and calls Amos “Señor Grandpa.” He makes $15 a week and believes in superstitions and potions.

George MacMichael is Amos’s best friend (they play checkers every Wednesday night). He runs “the farm up the hill” from the McCoy’s with his sister Flora. Amos says “George is a cranky old bachelor who ought to be put out to pasture.” George, a World War I veteran, was voted commander of the local VFW (Veterans of Foreign Wars), Post 192.

At the start of the 1962–63 season, viewers see Hassie leaving home for college. Little Luke is said “to be at camp” and Luke has been a widower for a year and a half (no mention is made as to how Kate “died”). George and Pepino are given featured roles and Luke becomes involved with various women as he seeks a wife. He is often featured dating his new neighbor, Louise Howard, a widow from Cleveland with a young son named Gregg. Louise’s aunt Winnie Jordan, a former stage star, tried to spark a romance between Luke and Louise. In the first non–Kate episode, the McCoy’s cousin Tilda appears to help Amos, Luke and Pepino care for the house.

Mac Maginnis is Amos’s friend; Lila is Mac’s wife; Frank is Louise’s hired hand; “Rightly” Ralph McCoy is Luke’s uncle; Mrs. Jensen is the McCoy’s housekeeper; Helga is the housekeeper later; Frank Grant is Helga’s boyfriend; Harry Purvis is Amos’s partner in the roadside egg business; Mrs. Purvis is Kate’s mother (no relation to Harry); Mr. Taggart is the Grand Pharaoh of the lodge; Hank Johnson is Amos’s friend; Elviry is Amos’s cousin; Naomi is George’s cousin.

Harry Ruby composed The Real McCoy’s theme with Jimmie Rodgers performing the vocal in last-season episodes. CBS daytime reruns of the series were broadcast as The McCoy’s. The series, which produced 224 episodes, ran on ABC from October 3, 1957 to September 20, 1962; and on CBS from September 24, 1962 to September 22, 1963.

Cast: Walter Brennan (Amos McCoy), Richard Crenna (Luke McCoy), Kathleen Nolan (Kate McCoy), Lydia Reed (Hassie McCoy), Michael Winkelman (Little Luke McCoy), Tony Martinez (Pepino Garcia), Andy Clyde (George MacMichael), Madge Blake (Flora MacMichael), Tina Louise (Cousin Tilda), Janet DeGore (Louise Howard), Butch Patrick (Gregg Howard), Willard Waterman (Mac Maginnis), Shirley Mitchell (Lila Maginnis), John Qualen (Frank), Joan Blondell (Winnie Jordan), Jack Oakie (“Rightly” Ralph McCoy), Connie Gilchrist (Mrs. Jensen), Eva Norde (Helga), James Lydon (Frank Grant), Charles Lane (Harry Purvis), Lurene Tuttle (Mrs. Purvis), Frank Ferguson (Mr. Taggart), Lloyd Corrigan (Hank Johnson), Nora Hayden (Elviry Goody), Verna Felton (Naomi).

6750 The Real McKay. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1951). Jim McKay hosts (and also produces) a program of music and songs with the orchestra of Milt Greene and singers Peggy Ann Ellis and Mac Perrin.

6751 Real People. (Series; Human Interest; NBC; 1979–1984). A newsmagazine that spotlights real but unusual and eccentric people. Repeats are syndicated as More Real People.

6752 Real Stories of the Highway Patrol. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1993–1996). Footage taken from various cameras mounted on police cars is shown to depict the actual experiences of highway patrol officers as they enforce justice.

Host: Maury Hannigan.

6753 The Real Tom Kennedy Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1970). Game show host Tom Kennedy is the host for a program of music, songs, celebrity interviews and light comedy. Dave Pell and his orchestra provides the music; Kelly Garrett, Foster Brooks and John McCormick are the regulars.

6754 The Real Trivial Pursuit. (Pilot; Game; ABC; 5/9/85). Six celebrity guests, divided into two teams of three, play the board game Trivial Pursuit with clues provided by film clips and an array of guests.

Team 1: Ted Knight, Hal Linden, Heather Locklear.

Team 2: Tony Danza, Joyce DeWitt, Loretta Swit. Guests: Tracy Austin, Frankie Avalon, Scott Baio, Adrienne Barbeau, Shari Belafonte, Chuck Connors, Abby Dalton, Sammy Davis, Jr., Bob Denver, Jamie Farr, Marla Gibbs, Fred Grandy, Patricia Klous, Ted Lange, Vicki Lawrence, Jay Leno, Gloria Loring, Tom Poston, Joan Rivers, William Shatner, Betty White.

6755 The Real Wedding Crashers. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2007). Candid Camera coupled with Bloopers and Practical Jokes can best describe The Real Wedding Crashers, a comedy-accented reality series wherein five professional wedding crashers (as they are called) convince real brides and grooms to pull pranks on their wedding day. The crashers appear as guests or servers and hidden cameras capture the reactions of the unsuspecting wedding party guests as never-imagined circumstances arise to disrupt what they believe is a real wedding ceremony (for example, the minister receiving a cell phone call in the middle of the ceremony — and halting the ceremony to take the call; the wedding cake falling over and crashing to the floor).

Wedding Crashers: Steve Byrne, Ben Gleib, Desi Lydie, Catherine Reitman, Gareth Reynolds.

6756 The Real World. (Series; Reality; MTV; 1992). The program teams seven people in their twenties (and from different countries and backgrounds) to live together and share experiences. Their unscripted reactions to each other and the situations they encounter are recorded and edited for broadcast. Mary-Ellis Bunim, Jonathan Murray and Kevin Lee are the producers.

6757 Reality Check. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1995). An educational series wherein children are taught aspects of the adult world through the activities of Samantha Bonner, her brother, Nick, and their computer, DEV, which has the ability to generate life-like images of famous people who offer value lessons.

Cast: Abigail Gustafson (Samantha Bonner), John Aaron Bennett (Nick Bonner), Marsha Crenshaw (Voice of DEV).

6758 Really Weird Tales. (Series; Anthology; HBO; 1986). A spoof of The Twilight Zone, The Outer Limits and other fanciful type series that presents a twist on the classic theme with stories that go beyond the norm and present comical tales of ordinary people confronted with strange situations.

Host: Joe Flaherty. Performers Include: Martin Short, Olivia D'Abo, Jennifer Inch, Deborah Hancock, John Candy, Sheila McCarthy, Patricia Hamilton, Jayne Eastwood, Philip Williams, Cindy Patterson, Paul Soles, Catherine O'Hara, Wayne Robson, Debra McGrath, Don Lake. Theme Vocal: "Weird Tales" by Fred Mollin.

6759 Reaper. (Series; Drama; CW; 2007–). The Work Bench is a Seattle home improvement center where 20-year-old Sam Oliver works. All his life Sam has had an easy ride — no pressure from his parents to do anything. Whatever he wanted to do was all right with them. However, when Sam turns 21 his life changes. He learns that before his birth his parents sold his soul to the devil. At this time Sam's father was gravely ill. The Devil appeared to him and his wife and offered them a deal: his health for their unborn child's soul (they were never intending to have children but did). They accepted and now Sam, who is reluctant at first to accept what his parent's did, agrees to work for the Devil as a reaper, a bounty hunter who must track down and return dangerous, escaped souls to Hell (if Sam had refused the Devil, the Devil would claim his mother's soul).

The Devil provides Sam with a vessel (for example, a super charged Dirt Devil vacuum cleaner) that he feels he will need to capture an escaped soul. Sam does tell his friends (Sock and Ben) at the Work Bench what has happened and finds them willing to help him.

Sock is a slacker. It took him six years to get through high school and he prides himself on being a role model for slackers. He is also a bit of a fumbler (especially to the store manager, Ted). Ben, on the other hand is an astute college student (and the son of a reverend) who approaches each case Sam is assigned with the knowledge that dealing with the devil can be dangerous. Also assisting them is Josie, Sock's former girlfriend, a Assistant D.A. Andi is the girl Sam loves from afar. She works at the store but to protect her, he must keep his after work activities a secret. Kyle is Sam's over-achieving brother; Gladys is the Department of Motor Vehicles employee (a demon) to whom Sam delivers his captured demons. Sam, Andi, Sock and Ben frequent the Brickhouse Bar.

Cast: Bret Harrison (Sam Oliver), Ray Wise (The Devil), Tyler Labine (Bert "Sock" Wysocki), Rick Gonzalez (Ben), Melissa Peregrym (Andi), Donovan Stinson (Ted), Valarie Rae Miller (Josie), Kyle Suiter (Kyle Oliver), Allison Hossack (Sam's mother), Andrew Airlie (Sam's father); Christine Willes (Gladys).

6760 Rear Guard. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/10/76). An American version of the British series Dad's Army about the antics of an American Civil Defense volunteer group during World War II.

Cast: Lou Jacobi (Raskin), Cliff Norton (Rosatti), Eddie Foy, Jr. (Wayne), John McCook (Crawford), Arthur Peterson (Muldoon), James McCallion (Colonel Walsh), Dennis Kort (Henderson), Conrad Janis (German captain; guest role).

6761 The Reason Nobody Hardly Ever Seen a Fat Outlaw in the Old West Is as Follows. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/8/67). A proposed series about The Curley Kid, a thin, nervous, anxiety-ridden outlaw, as he attempts to make a name for himself — more often than not turning "good guy" to help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, The Curley Kid comes to the aid of a beautiful woman (Pauline) being harassed by the evil Sid Swine. Aired on The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater.

Cast: Don Knotts (The Curley Kid). Guest Cast: Mary-Robin Reed (Pauline), Jack Lambert (Sid Swine), Arthur Godfrey (Sheriff), Herb Edelman (Seth Swine), Percy Helton (Old man).

6762 Reasonable Doubts. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1991–1993). Tess Kaufman is a beautiful, hearing impaired prosecuting attorney for the Chicago District Attorney's Office. Richard ("Dicky") Cobb is a tough detective with the Metropolitan Police Department, District 26. He is the only cop on the force who can read and speak in sign language (which he learned from his deaf father). Through a special arrangement with the D.A.'s office and the police department, Cobb is assigned to assist Tess in the field (as her investigator and interpreter) when she questions suspects in a case.

Tess lives at 1422 Barrington Avenue. Cobb lives at 703 Beckman Place (Apartment 2) and has a dog named John.

The Setup Bar, owned by Kay Lockman is Cobb's favorite watering hole. Kay, Cobb's romantic interest, was shot during a robbery of the bar in the episode of 9/29/92 ("Forever My Love"). Kay seemed to be recovering until a postoperative complication caused a massive stroke that left her brain dead. Cobb made the most difficult decision of his life when he turned off the respirator that kept her alive.

Margaret ("Maggie") Zombro is a gorgeous and very expensive private practice attorney who most often defends the clients Tess is prosecuting. She is, as she says, "heartless and calculating and I know my way around a courtroom." Arthur Gold is Tess's superior, the D.A.; Bruce Kaufman is Tess's ex-husband.

Relatives: Bruce Kirby (Tess's father, Don Morris), Margaret Ladd (Tess's mother, Libby Morris), Glynnis O'Connor (Dicky's ex-wife, Jo Cobb), Nina Foch (Bruce's mother, Carmela Kaufman). Theme: "Reasonable Doubts," by Brad Fiedel.

Cast: Marlee Matlin (Tess Kaufman), Mark Harmon (Richard "Dicky" Cobb), Nancy Everhard (Kay Lockman), Kay Lenz (Maggie Zambro), William Converse-Roberts (Arthur Gold), Tim Grimm (Bruce Kaufman).

6763 Reba. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2001–2007). Reba McKinney and Brock Hart married in 1976. Brock became a dentist and Reba a housewife and mother. They live at 4280 Oak Street in Texas and became the parents of Cheyenne, Kyra and Jake. In 2001 Brock and Reba separate when Brock has an affair with his dental hygienist, Barbara Jean Booker (Reba and Brock later divorce; the children reside with Reba). Brock and Barbara Jean move next door to Reba and are now a constant part of her life. Also complicating Reba's life is her 17-year-old daughter Cheyenne—who becomes pregnant by her high school boyfriend, football player Van Montgomery. Cheyenne and Van do the right thing and marry—and take up residence with Reba (living in Cheyenne's bedroom). They later become the parents of Elizabeth; Barbara Jean and Brock become the parents of Henry.

Stories are set in Texas and follow events in the lives of the Hart family, focusing most often on Reba's efforts to cope with and solve the various problems they have (even those of Barbara Jean, whom she does not particularly like).

Cheyenne attended Westchester High School (where she was a cheerleader and met Van). After the birth of Elizabeth, Cheyenne enrolled in Houston University but later dropped out to become a dental hygienist.

Middle child Kyra is 12 years old when the series begins and is a straight "A" student at Oakridge Elementary School (then Westchester High). As the series progressed Kyra became very independent and often defied parental authority.

Reba worked as Brock's office receptionist then as a substitute teacher. When these failed she became an agent for Cameron Realty and in last season episodes she and Van formed their own real estate company. Barbara Jean is very religious and does volunteer work for her church. She wanted to be a meter maid ("But they wouldn't let me carry a gun"). Barbara Jean later acquires a job as the local TV weathergirl (as Stormy Clearweather) and in the last episode (February 18, 2007) she becomes an on the street hard news reporter (she calls herself Babs Jansen—Street Walker). Reba and her family managed to get through all the hard times because, as Reba said in the final words of the last episode—"We're Survivors" (referring to her theme song, "Survivor").

Cast: Reba McEntire (Reba Hart), Christopher Rich (Brock Hart), JoAnna Garcia (Cheyenne Montgomery), Steve Hovey (Van Montgomery), Scarlett Pomers (Kyra Hart), Melissa Peterman (Barbara Jean Hart), Mitch Holleman (Jake Hart), Alena and Gabrielle LeBerger (Elizabeth Montgomery), Alexander and Jason McClellan (Henry Jesus Hart), Lila Braft (Elizabeth as an infant), John Paul DeFabry (Henry as an infant). Theme Vocal: "Survivor" by Reba McEntire.

6764 The Rebel. (Series; Western; ABC; 1959–1961). The post–Civil War West of 1867 is the setting. Johnny Yuma is an embittered, leather-tough young ex–Confederate soldier who journeys west after the war to seek his own identity. He wears his Rebel uniform proudly wherever he goes; his saddle is his pillow, and he never stays in any one place long enough to call home—"The things I gotta learn about aren't here, just another stop in an off place." He keeps a diary of his travels, his "book," as he calls it, and he helps people in trouble—his strong sense of justice forces him into violent confrontations with those who oppose his beliefs.

Johnny was born in the town of Mason. He wanted to be a writer and work for the town newspaper, the Mason Bulletin, but he could never stay put; he ran away from home several times when he was 15 and joined the Confederate Army as a means of running away. Johnny's mother died when he was very young; his father, Ned Yuma, raised him. He now rides his late father's horse and carries his scattergun (Ned, the town sheriff, was killed in the line of duty). The war may be over, but the hatred still exists. "Maybe I'll find my place one day," he says. It is not widely known that Elvis Presley recorded the original theme for the pilot (which, for unknown reasons, was not used).

Cast: Nick Adams (Johnny Yuma). Theme Vocal: "The Rebel—Johnny Yuma" by Johnny Cash.

6765 The Rebel Billionaire: Branson's Quest for the Best. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004). Sir Richard Branson is a real life billionaire. He also wants to be generous with his money and is offering one million dollars to the one person (of 16 he has chosen) who can meet the extremely high standards he has set for this competition. Each of the 16 contestants must perform a rather difficult (if not at times dangerous) stunt in a different locale each week. The players are flown to a different location each week, where they meet with Branson and learn what they must do. The viewer sees the competition but doesn't know who will be let go (unless it is quite obvious and the contender couldn't perform the task). Branson decides and when the plane leaves for its next destination, the viewer sees who was left behind.

Cast: Richard Branson (Himself).

6766 Reboot. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 1994–2001). A computer animated series that is set in the computer world of Mainframe and protected by Bob, a guardian who seeks to keep its citizens (Biomes and Sprites) safe from the User, a virus that seeks to infect the system core with his own dastardly code of destruction.

Bob uses his Glitch, a versatile tool, to battle the User and his viruses Hexadecimal and Megabyte. Bob is smitten with Dot Matrix, the lovely girl who runs a diner and cares for her younger brother, Enzo Matrix. Stories follow Bob as he, Dot and Enzo seek to keep Mainframe running smoothly. Hack and Slash assist Megabyte.

The program opens with these words spoken by Bob: "I come from the Net, through systems, peoples and cities to this place, Mainframe. My format, Guardian, to mend and defend, to protect my newfound friends, their hopes and dreams; to defend them from their enemies."

Voice Cast: Michael Benyaer (Bob), Ian James Corlett (Bob; later), Kathleen Barr (Dot Matrix), Jesse Moss (Enzo Matrix), Christopher Gray (Enzo Matrix; replaced Jesse), Giacomo Basessato (Enzo Matrix; replaced Gray), Sharon Alexander (AndrAla), Andrea Libman (AndrAla; later), Tony Jay (Megabyte), Louise Vallance (Mouse), Shirley Moss (Hexadecimal), Garry Chalk (Slash/Turbo/Herr Doktor/Cyrus/Hack), Paul Dobson (Matrix), Michael Donovan (Phong/Cecil/Mike the TV).

6767 Rebound. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1952–1953). A filmed series of half-hour dramas. The series ran on ABC from February 8, 1952 to May 30, 1952 and on DuMont from December 5, 1952 to January 16, 1953.

6768 The Rebus Game. (Series; Game; ABC; 1965). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. On member of each team is given a secret phrase or name. The object calls for these players to draw clues to the identity of the phrase on a large board. The first teammate to identify the name or phrase wins the round and scores one point. The team with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Jack Linkletter.

6769 Recess. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1997). While most children hate attending school, they do enjoy recess. J.T., Spinelli, Vince, Gretchen, Mikey and Gus are no different. They are fourth graders whose elementary schoolyard playground is their haven between classes. While the six friends mix with other grade school kids, they form their own little group to work together to deal with the problems they face each day. J.T. is the group's self-proclaimed leader; Spinelli, although a girl, is somewhat of a bully; Mikey is the sensitive one; Vince, the sports enthusiast; Gretchen, the brainy one; and Gus, the wimp. The school is overseen by the sleazy Principal Prickley; Miss Alordayne Grotkey is the kind fourth grade teacher. Also known as Disney's Recess.

Voice Cast: Wasabi Mizuta (Theodore J. "T.J." Detweiler), Andrew Lawrence (Theodore J. "T.J." Detweiler), Pamela Adlon (Spinelli), Richard D'Shon Collins (Vince), Ashley Johnson (Gretchen), Jason Davis (Mikey), Dabney Coleman (Principal Prickley), Courtland Mead (Gus), April Winchell (Muriel P. Finster), Anndi McAfee (Ashley Armbruster), Allyce Beasley (Alordayne Grotkey), Andrea Martin (Lunch-lady Harriet), Kath Soucie (Butch), Paul Willson (Coach Kluge), Michael Shulman (Francis).

6770 Reckoning. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1959–1963). Rebroadcasts of selected episodes from Climax, Pursuit and Studio One. See these individual titles for information. The series ran from July 11, 1959 to September 26, 1959; June 8, 1960 to August 31, 1960 and June 26, 1963 to September 18, 1963.

6771 The Recovery Room. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/16/85). Hoping to escape the pressures of the medical profession, Kaye Brenner, an OR Nurse, and Steve Griffin, a first year resident, pool their resources and buy a bar-restaurant (which they name Kaye and Steve's Recovery Room) that caters to the doctors and nurses of the nearby Knickerbocker Hospital in New York City. In the pilot episode, Steve fears the worst when his grandmother learns that he quit medicine and used his grandfather's inheritance to buy the bar.

Other Regulars: Jerry Himmel, the hospital administrator; Gail, a nurse; and doctors Nina Farrell, Milt Sherman and Russell Sears.

Cast: Kelly Bishop (Kaye Brenner), Mark-Linn Baker (Steve Griffin), J. Smith Cameron (Dr. Nina Farrell), Adam LeFevre (Dr. Milt Sherman), Charles Kimbrough (Jerry Himmel), Christopher Rich (Dr. Russell Sears), Lynne Thigpen (Gail). Guest Cast: Yeardley Smith (Jill), Alvin Lum (Dr. Yung), Eileen Heckart (Mrs. Griffin; Steve's grandmother), Priscilla Lopez (Irene). Theme Vocal: "The Recovery Room" by Joel Higgins.

6772 The Red Benson Show. (Live Test Program; Variety; DuMont; 6/27/46). A proposed series of music, songs, dances and comedy sketches performed by different guest stars each week. In the test presentation, comic Red Benson introduced dancers Jacqueline Waite (who did a number in a harem outfit) and Pauline Koner (who danced solo to recordings of "It Ain't Necessarily So" and "Why Should I Have Spring Fever?"); the tap dancing Denis Sisters; and straight man Fred Udall.

Host: Red Benson. Guests: Charlotte Dembo, The Denis Sisters, Pauline Koner, Marvin Marx, Fred Udall, Jacqueline Waite.

6773 The Red Buttons Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; NBC; 1952–1955). A weekly variety and comedy series that actually had two different formats. The original format (1952–54) features music, songs and various comedy sketches hosted (and performed by) comedian Red Buttons. The revised format (1954–55) features the antics of Red Buttons as a trouble-prone television comedian. The series aired on CBS from October 14, 1952 to June 14, 1954 and on NBC from October 1, 1954 to May 27, 1955.

6774 Red Dwarf. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). Outer space in the 22nd century is the setting. Red Dwarf is a gigantic mining-freighter ship that services the solar system. One day, an accidental overdose of radiation vaporizes all but a few of its 5000 member crew: Lister, an irreverent vending machine operator; a feminized computer; an insecure robotic mechanoid; a mutated giant cat; and Rimmer, a hologram of Lister's boss. The unsold series was to follow their adventures on various planets. Based on the British series of the same title.

Cast: Craig Bierko (Lister), Jane Leeves (Computer), Robert Llewellyn (Robotic Mechanoid), Hinton Battle (Cat), Chris Eigeman (Hologram).

6775 The Red Hand Gang. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1977–1978). Frankie, R.J., Johnnie, Lil Bill and Doc are five pre-teen city children who are also members of a club they call the Red Hand Gang. The children are not mischievous but do possess an uncanny interest in police crime solving methods. They consider themselves amateur sleuths and stories relate their efforts to solve petty crimes in and around their neighborhood.

Cast: Matthew Laborteaux (Frankie), J.J. Miller (R.J.), Jolie Newman (Joanie), Johnny Bronga (Lil Bill), James Bond III (Doc).

6776 Red Ryder. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1956). The Painted Valley in the Colorado Rockies is home to Red Ryder, a cattle rancher and unofficial lawman, and his partner, the Duchess, who own the Red Ryder Ranch near the town of Devil's Hole. Red Ryder is assisted by Little Beaver, a Navaho Indian, and stories follow their efforts to maintain law and order.

The series is based on the newspaper feature by Fred Harmon. Before the series aired, a pilot (unaired) was made in 1953 that also featured Lindy, the young girl who has a crush on Red Ryder; and Pigtales, the daughter of the town's newspaper editor. Red Ryder rides a horse named Thunder. Little Beaver, whose catchphrase is "You betchum, Red Ryder," rides a horse called Papoose.

Many early television pilots contained special pitches for sponsor endorsement that was not meant to be seen by the general public. If the pilot aired, these segments were replaced by commercials. Red Ryder contains a typical sales pitch that played before the closing theme. It begins with Red Ryder addressing the sponsor:

"Howdy Mr. Sponsor, this is where the commercial would normally come in. Since this is the first of our series, I'd like to take the time for you to meet my friends because they'll try to help sell your product just as sincerely as I will. This young fellow beneath the feathers is a Navaho, that in itself makes Little Beaver a pretty good American. You know Lindy, she lives a piece down the valley and I've known her since I've had to wipe her nose. Then there is Pigtales. Yes, she braids them herself and sometimes she gets ink on them from the press in her father's newspaper office. Uh-oh, I almost forgot the Duchess and that would be like forgetting my gun. Me and the Duchess have been partners a long time. All I can say is put all the mothers and all the pals in the world together and that's the Duchess. That's it, that's my family and that's the way we live and the way we fight and we'll keep on doin' it. Be seein' ya."

An announcer would then say: "Yes, America's famous fighting cowboy will carry on that tradition for you in these television films as he has done for the past fourteen years in leading American newspapers. He sold himself to America and now he'll sell your product to America."

Pilot Cast: Jim Bannon (Red Ryder), Olive Carey (Duchess), Little Beaver (Himself), Jean Dean (Lindy), Patty Ann Garrity (Pigtales).

Series Cast: Rocky Lane (Red Ryder), Louis Leteri (Little Beaver), Elizabeth Slifer (Duchess).

6777 Red Shoe Diaries. (Series; Anthology; Showtime; 1992). Stories that reveal the intimate details of women's lives as seen through the eyes of Jake Winters, a man who solicits the most passionate entries in women's diaries to help him understand the secret life of his late fiancé (whom he discovered was having an affair with a construction worker when he read her diary).

Cast: David Duchovny (Jake Winters). Performers Include: Denise Crosby, Lisa Boyle, Jacqueline Lovell, Christina Fulton, Matt LeBlanc, Michael Woods, Amber Smith, Alexandra Tydings, Eric James, Annabelle Gurwich, Ron Marquette, Kelly Cooper, Kathrin Nicholson, Darren Fox, Jennifer Ciesar, William Paul Burns.

6778 The Red Skelton Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; CBS; 1951–1970). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches with comedian Red Skelton as the host. The series features Red in sketches featuring an array of his characters (including Clem Kaddiddlehopper, Junior, “The Mean Little Kid and Freddie the Freeloader). The series ran on NBC from September 30, 1951 to June 12, 1953 and on CBS from September 22, 1953 to June 15, 1970. Also titled The Red Skelton Hour.

6779 The Red Skelton Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1970–1971). A revised, thirty minute version of the prior sixty-minute CBS series that brought comedian Red Skelton back to the air after a short summer hiatus. The new version, which ran from September 14, 1970 to August 29, 1971, features Red appearing in skits, songs from the Burgundy Street Singers and the music of David Rose and his orchestra.

Host: Red Skelton. Regulars: Jan Arvan, Chanin Hale, Emmaline Henry, Brad Logan, Peggy Rea, Jackson Bostwick, Yvonne Ewald, John Magruder, The Burgundy Street Singers. Announcer: Art Gilmore. Orchestra: David Rose.

6780 The Redd Foxx Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1977–1978). Comedian Redd Foxx hosts a weekly program of music, songs and comedy sketches. Allan Blye and Bob Einstein are the producers.

Host: Redd Foxx. Regulars: Murray Langston, Deborah Pratt, Hal Smith, Slappy White, Damita Jo Freeman, Bill Saluga, LaWanda Page, Dick Owens, Walt Hanna, Andrew Johnson. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Music: Gerald Wilson.

6781 The Redd Foxx Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986). Alfonso “Al” Hughes is the cantankerous owner of Al’s Grill, a coffee shop–newsstand in Manhattan. Toni Rutledge is a pretty 15-year-old girl and potential jailbird he takes under his wing when he learns she was about to do time in the less-than-perfect juvenile detention system. Stories follow Al’s efforts to keep Toni on the straight-and-narrow.

The format changed shortly after to focus on a nascent Al as he attempts to cope with a foster son (Brian), an ex-wife (Felicia), a beautiful new waitress (Jessica) and the problems of running a newsstand–grill (Toni’s absence is explained as being in boarding school).

Other Regulars: Diana, Al’s cook; Rachel, Toni’s correctional officer; Sergeant Stryker, Al’s friend. Kool and the Gang perform the theme, “Heart of the City.”

Cast: Redd Foxx (Al Hughes), Pamela Segall (Toni Rutledge), Rosana DeSoto (Diana Olmos), Lynne Moody (Rachel Adams), Barry Van Dyke (Dwight Stryker), Vanessa Williams (Jessica Houston), Beverly Todd (Felicia Clemmons), Sinbad (Brian Lightfoot).

6782 Redeye Express. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/9/88). The Redeye Express is a nightclub that is frequented by an array of famous people — some real and some the life size creations of puppeteers Sid and Marty Krofft. The unsold project, a copy of the syndicated D.C. Follies series, was to focus on the club owner (Ron) as he attempts to solve the various problems of his patrons.

Cast: Ron Reagan (Ron). Voices: Louise Duart, John Roarke. Guests: Lou Albano, Rick Astley, Chuck Berry, Eric Carmen, Gloria Estefan, Paul Rodriguez.

6783 Redigo. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1963). A spin-off from Empire (NBC, 1962). Events in the life of Jim Redigo, formally a ranch foreman, who is now the owner of his own ranch in Mesa, New Mexico, as he struggles to maintain a vast cattle spread. Gerry is Jim’s friend, the assistant manager of The Gold Hotel; Linda Franks is the ranch cook; Mike and Frank are ranch hands.

6784 The Reel Game. (Series; Game; ABC; 1971). Three contestants compete and each receives $250 betting money. The game begins with “The Film Clip Round.” A category topic is revealed and players wager money on their ability to answer the forthcoming question. The question is read and players write down their answers on a card. A film clip (usually from a movie) is played and the correct answer is revealed. Players reveal their cards. Those with the correct answers receive the bet amount added to their scores while an incorrect answer deducts he wagered amount of money. Each of the three film clip rounds is divided by a question-and-answer session wherein three questions are asked regarding the subject of the film clip round. Correct answers score $25; incorrect answers deduct that amount. The player with the highest cash score is the winner.

An announcer opens the show: “From the headlines and the headlines of the past and present comes television’s most fascinating new show, The Reel Game. And now, here's the host of our show, Jack Barry."

Host: Jack Barry. Announcer: Jack Clark.

6785 Reel Life. (Unaired Pilot; Human Interest; Produced in 1991). A proposed series that was to showcase unusual people, places and things across the U.S. The program is produced by Michael Ne-smith and hosted by Tom Isbell.

6786 Reggie. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1983). Reggie Potter is a 47-year-old executive at Fun Time Ice Cream Desserts in Little Neck, Long Island, New York. He is married to Elizabeth and the father of two children, Linda and Mark. Reggie is also facing a mid-life crisis, has an unrelenting crush on his beautiful secretary, Joan, and stories follow Reggie as he attempts to deal with the pressures that surround him through Walter Mitty-like fantasies. Based on the British series The Rise and Fall of Reginald Perrin. Other Regulars: Tom, Linda's husband; and C.J., Reggie's boss. Richard Mulligan performs the theme, "The Real Me."

Cast: Richard Mulligan (Reggie Potter), Barbara Barrie (Elizabeth Potter), Dianne Kay (Linda Lockett), Timothy Busfield (Mark Potter), Timothy Stack (Tom Lockett), Jean Smart (Joan Reynolds), Chip Zein (C.J. Wilcox).

6787 The Regis Philbin Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1964). Regis Philbin hosts a program of music, talk, and celebrity interviews that produced one hundred episodes.

6788 The Regis Philbin Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1981–1982). Celebrity interviews, cooking, fashion, astrology and other topics of interest to house-wives co-hosted by Regis Philbin and Mary Hart.

6789 Regular Joe. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2003). Joe Binder is a regular guy, living a regular life and working a regular job. He is also a widower with two kids (Joanie and Grant) and his father, Baxter, also lives with him.

Joe's late wife was named Angela and he runs the Binder Hardware Store in Queens, New York. Joanie, his eldest child, is 18-years-old, a student at Queens College and the single mother of an infant daughter (Zoe). She works at the T-Bone Diner and counts on her family to care for Zoe while she works and attends classes.

Grant, the younger child, is in a band called the Geeks (later called the Clods) and holds an after school job as a waiter at a Chinese restaurant called Hong's Hunan Gardens.

Stories follow Joe as he struggles to run a business and become both a mother and a father to Joanie and Grant. Other regulars are Sitvar, Joe's high-strung employee.

Cast: Daniel Stern (Joe Binder), Judd Hirsch

6790 Rehearsal Call. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). Music, songs and a behind-the-scenes look at television productions. The series aired from March 20, 1949 to April 24, 1949.

Hostess: Dee Parker. Music: The Leonard Stanley Trio.

6791 Reilly, Ace of Spies. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1984). A fact-based series that explores the life of Sidney Reilly (born Sigmund Rosenblum in Odessa in 1874) as an espionage agent for the newly formed British Secret Service. Margaret is his wife; Cummings is his superior; Basil Zaharov is his nemesis.

Cast: Sam Neill (Sidney Reilly), Jeananne Crowley (Margaret Thomas Reilly), Norman Rodway (Cummings), David Suchet (Inspector Tsientsin), Leo McKern (Basil Zaharov). Narrator: Michael Bryant.

6792 Related. (Series; Comedy-Drama; WB; 2005–2006). The lives, loves, struggles, joys and sorrows of four sisters living in New York City.

Rose, Marjee, Gennie and Anne Sorelli are the sisters. They are the daughters of Joe Sorelli (a widower) and were born in Brooklyn.

Gennie, the eldest sister, helped her father raise her siblings after their mother's death shortly after Rose was born. Joe runs the family business with the help of his new romantic interest, Renee, and at times with the help of his daughters.

Gennie, 31, is a high-powered Manhattan attorney. She is the most responsible of the sisters and sometimes devotes too much time to her work, often straining her marriage to Bob. Anne, the second born sister, is 25 years old and works as a therapist. Twenty-three-year-old Marjee is an event coordinator and the most energetic and strong-willed of the sisters. She is also known to be a party animal and when she has too much to drink, she runs down the street naked. Rose, the youngest sister (19) is a student at NYU. She was originally studying pre-med but changed majors to experimental drama (hoping to become an actress). Laura San Giacomo played Anne in the original, un-aired pilot version of the series.

Cast: Jennifer Esposito (Gennie Sorelli), Kiele Sanchez (Anne Sorelli), Lizzie Caplan (Marjee Sorelli), Laura Breckenridge (Rose Sorelli), Tom Irwin (Joe Sorelli), Christine Ebersole (Renee), Callum Blue (Bob).

6793 Related by Birth. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/2/94). Sibs was a 1991 ABC series about the relationship between three sisters: Nora (Marsha Mason), Audie (Margaret Colin) and Lily (Jami Gertz). Related by Birth is a reworking of Sibs without Nora. Here, Audie and Lily are next door neighbors and trying to become close after years of separation. Their father was a Catholic and their mother Jewish. Audie attended Catholic school; Lily a Hebrew school. Now they are trying to become close.

Audie is a college dropout, failed real estate broker and an ex-drug addict. She now works for Michael Brickman, a wealthy venture capitalist, at $50,000 a year. Lily is an insecure caterer struggling to maintain a business. The pilot episode relates how Audie acquires her new job — by lying on her application. Originally scheduled to air 8/17/93.

Other Regulars: Henry, Lily's assistant; and Warren, Brickman's accountant who has a crush on Audie.

Cast: Margaret Colin (Audrey "Audie" Wylar), Jami Gertz (Lily Wylar), Mark Nassar (Michael Brickman), Dan Castellana (Warren Morris), Grayson McCouch (Henry).

6794 Relativity. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1996–1997). A serialized love story that focuses on the relationship between Isabel Lukens and Leo Roth, singles who meet while on vacation in Italy and continue their relationship in Los Angeles. Isabel is a bit off center and likes to do things her way — no matter how odd it may look to other people; she has an ex-fiancé named Everett who is still in love with her.

Leo also has a problem — his neurotic family: his recently widowed father, Barry; his drama queen of a sister, Rhonda; and his angst-ridden brother Jake. Despite the problems that face them, Isabel and Leo seek to make their relationship work. David and Eve are Isabel's parents; Jennifer and Karen are her sisters.

Cast: Kimberly Williams (Isabel Lukens), David Conrad (Leo Roth), Cliff DeYoung (David Lukens), Mary Ellen Trainor (Eve Lukens), Jane Adams (Karen Lukens), Poppy Montgomery (Jennifer Lukens), Lisa Edelstein (Rhonda Roth), Richard Schiff (Barry Roth), Devon Gummersall (Jake Roth), Randall Batinkoff (Everett), Robert Katims (Hal Roth).

6795 Relentless. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 9/14/77). Samuel "Sam" Watchman is a Navaho Indian. He is also an Arizona State Trooper who uses his Indian skills to help track down criminals. He rides in Car 90, is assisted by Trooper Buck Stevens, and the unsold series was to relate Sam's exploits as he relentlessly pursues law breakers. In the pilot episode, Sam seeks a band of bank robbers who killed his uncle (Jasper) then took one million in cash.

Cast: Will Sampson (Sam Watchman), Larry Wilcox (Buck Stevens). Guest Cast: Monte Markham (Paul Vickers), John Hillerman (Major Leo Hargit), Mariana Hill (Annie Lansford), Danny Zapien (Jasper Simalee), Dan Starr (Cal), Swayne Terry (David Pendleton), Ted Markland (Dan Barraclough).

6796 Relic Hunter. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1999). Sydney Fox is a beautiful young woman who battles a different type of criminal — those who steal and seek to profit from ancient relics. She works as a professor of ancient studies at Trinity College and takes on assignments to recover lost relics on behalf of the university museum. "Part of what I do is search for relics. Every relic tells a human story and gives us an insight into our lives."

Her interest in relics began at St. Theresa's, a Catholic grammar school for girls. Here, young Sydney (Larissa Laskin) befriended a teacher who hunted for relics as a sideline and learned "Relics don't belong to people or individuals, they belong to the world." Sydney, a Scorpio, later attended Franklin High School.

Sydney can be either a temptress or an Amazon — whatever she has to be to get the job done. Sydney teaches Tai Chi classes and when she is on assignment, the first thing she does when she gets out of a scrape "is go to a hotel, take a bath and have a glass of whatever they call wine."

Nigel Bailey is Sydney's teaching assistant and partner on assignments. He is working on his master's degree (attended Oxford in England) and says, "All I wanted was a nice little teaching job in a nice little library surrounded by books." What he got was dangerous assignments away from the college. He can speak a dozen languages, read ancient scripture and is an expert on weapons technology.

Claudia is Sydney's gorgeous blonde secretary. She has no love of history and got the job "because my father is a friend of the college." Claudia is a vegetarian and loves to eavesdrop. She left at the end of the second season for her dream job as a model in New York. She was replaced by Karen Petresky, a busty blonde who works as Sydney's administrator (Karen's "talent" is showing ample cleavage to get what she wants from men). Unlike Claudia, Karen is genuinely interested in relics and helps Sydney accomplish her assignments.

Fred Dryer has a recurring role as Sydney's father, Randall Fox, a dam builder who helps her on occasion. He is unconventional and believes in only two things: "Defy everything and never be caught dead in a suit." Donald Quon composed the theme.

The program opens with these words by Sydney (addressing her class): "Welcome to ancient studies. I'm not a stickler for attendance. Sometimes I'm called away from the office myself."

Cast: Tia Carrere (Sydney Fox), Christian Anholt (Nigel Bailey), Lindy Booth (Claudia), Tanja Reichert (Karen Petresky).

6797 The Reluctant Dragon and Mr. Toad. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1970–1972). The overall title for two animated series.

1. The Reluctant Dragon. The story of Sir Malcolm and his efforts to protect Tobias, a 400-year-old dragon cursed to breathing fire, from the little girl (not identified by a name) who delights in causing misery by giving Tobias daisies — which cause him to sneeze, breathe fire and disrupt life in the village of Willowmarsh.

2. Mr. Toad. The adventures of a carefree, gad-about frog named Mr. Toad.

Voices: Paul Soles, Donna Miller, Claude Rae, Carl Banas.

6798 The Reluctant Spy. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 10/12/62). The pilot film for an untitled series of dramas about international intrigue (that features a different cast and story each week). In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of 77 Sunset Strip, a woman (Lucy Norton) hires Stuart Bailey to prove that her husband's accidental death was actually a cleverly conceived murder by foreign agents.

Cast: Efreem Zimbalist, Jr. (Stuart Bailey), Randy Stuart (Lucy Norton), Chana Eden (Fereka Andrassy), Simon Scott (Hank Rush), Oscar Beregi (Valentin Yosinsky).

6799 Remember WENN. (Series; Comedy; AMC; 1996–1998). Pittsburgh radio station WENN during the late 1930s and early 40s is the setting. It is the time of the Golden Age of Radio and the main form of home entertainment. WENN is an independent station and responsible for providing its own programs (as opposed to acquiring them from a network). The staff is small and overworked and stories follow their efforts to produce programs for the stations daily operations.

Cast: John Bedford Lloyd (Victor Comstock), Christopher Murney (Mackie Bloom), Carol Lee Carmello (Maple La Marsh), C.J. Barnes (C.J. McHugh), Melinda Mullins (Hilary Booth), Amanda Naughton (Betty Booth), Dina Waters (Celia Mellon), Hugh O'Gorman (Jeff Singer), Mary Stout (Eugenia Bremer), Margaret Hall (Gertrude Reece), Jonathan Freeman (Rollie Pruitt), David Pursley (Lester), Tom Beckett (Mr. Foley).

6800 Remington Steele. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1982–1986). Remington Steele is a man who does not actually exist. It is a name that was created by private investigator Laura Holt to save her floundering business, Laura Holt Investigations. By taking the first name of a typewriter and combining it with the last name of her favorite football team, Laura finds a surge in business when she changes the name of the company to Remington Steele Investigations. She portrays Remington, whom she always calls Mr. Steele, as charming, suave and sophisticated. When a client asks to see Mr. Steele, Laura explains that “Mr. Steele never involves himself in a case; he functions best in an advisory capacity.” If a client insists on seeing Mr. Steele, Laura passes on the case.

A routine assignment to protect the fabulous Royal Lavulite Diamonds changes Laura's life forever when the man she invented materializes in the form of a thief seeking the diamonds. Laura uncovers the thief's plot but instead of turning him in to the police she allows him to use Remington's identity to avoid capture. He later convinces Laura to make him her partner.

“The mysterious Remington Steele” is just that — mysterious. He was born in Ireland on September 6, 1952 and was apparently an orphan. He grew up on the streets and was taught the fine art of crime by master con artist Daniel Chalmers. The man, now officially known as Remington Steele was 12 years earlier making the rounds as a professional boxer called “The Kil Kearney Kid.” He now lives at 1594 Rossmore Street.

The Honeymooners is Remington's favorite television show and he is a fan of movies from the 1930s and '40s. He often associates motion pictures with real life and solves crimes based on their plots.

Laura Holt weighs 110 pounds and lives at 800 Tenth Street, Apartment 3A, in a building owned by the Commercial Management Corporation. She has a cat named Nemo. Atomic Man was her favorite television show as a kid and she had the nickname Binky. While seemingly perfect, Laura is plagued by “The Holt Curse,” a craving for chocolate.

Laura has had a fascination for crime since she was a little girl. She majored in criminology at Stanford University and was a member of the glee club. After graduating, Laura became an apprentice detective at the Havenhurst Detective Agency. She quit when she felt she could start her own business. Most people believed that because of her sex, Laura was not built for the job. “It takes more brains than brawn to make a detective,” she says. When she finally believed that perhaps a female private detective is too feminine, she invented her mythical boss. Laura never carries a gun (“I never found the need to use one”). She is practical but intuitive, logical and brilliant. No matter how bleak the situation, Laura never loses her sense of humor.

Murphy Michaels was Laura's original assistant in first season episodes, and Bernice Foxx, whom Remington called Miss Wolf, was her receptionist. Mildred Krebs replaced both characters from the second season on. Bernice was said to have run off with a saxophone player and Murphy left to start his own firm in Denver, Colorado.

Mildred is a former IRS auditor who finds excitement being a secretary and amateur sleuth.

George E. Mulch is the “idea man” who complicates Laura's life with his wacky ideas; Norman Keyes is the Vigilance Insurance Company detective seeking to uncover Steele's true identity. Henry Mancini composed the “Remington Steele” Theme.

Laura Holt opens the show: “Try this for a deep dark secret. The great detective Remington Steele, he doesn't exist, I invented him. Follow. I always loved excitement so I studied and apprenticed and put my name on an office but absolutely nobody knocked on my door. A female private investigator seemed so feminine. So I invented a superior, a decidedly masculine superior. Suddenly there were cases around the block. It was working like a charm until the day he walked in with his blue eyes and mysterious past. And before I knew it, he assumed Remington Steele's identity. Now I do the work and he takes the bows. It's a dangerous way to live, but as long as people buy it, I can get the job done. We never mix business with pleasure — well, almost never. I don't even know his real name."

Cast: Pierce Brosnan (Remington Steele), Stephanie Zimbalist (Laura Holt), James Read (Murphy Michaels), Janet DeMay (Bernice Foxx), Doris Roberts (Mildred Krebs), Blake Clarke (Fred; Laura's chauffeur), Beverly Garland (Abigail Holt; Laura's mother), Guy Boyd (Major Decoine; Remington's enemy), Quinn Cummings (Minor Decoine; Major's daughter), Maryedith Burrell (Frances Piper; Laura's sister), Michael Durrell (Donald Piper; Frances's husband), Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (Daniel Chalmers; Steele's friend), Michael Constantine (George E. Mulch; the idea man), Albert Macklin (Bernard; Mildred's nephew), James Tolkan (Norman Keyes).

6801 Remo Williams. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 8/15/88). When Harold Smith, the head of a secret U.S. government organization called CURE needs a special agent to battle evil, he recruits Remo Williams, a rough N.Y.P.D. cop for the job. Remo is teamed with Master Chiun, an elderly Korean martial arts expert and taught to perfect his mental and physical skills. The unsold series, based on the feature film of the same title, was to relate Remo's lighthearted adventures as he and Master Chiun battle evil for the government.

Cast: Jeffrey Meek (Remo Williams), Roddy McDowall (Master Chiun), Stephen Elliott (Harold Smith). Guest Cast: Judy Landers (Taffy), Andy Romano (Derek Boland), Carmen Argenziano (Tony), Darwin Swalye (Biker).

6802 Remote Control. (Series; Game; MTV; 1980–1990). A simplistic game that was more comedy than game as it asked television trivia questions of college students. The twist: the competitors were placed in lounge chairs and had to use a remote control as a buzzer signal to answer the questions asked of them (some of which were not asked but based on skits).

Host: Ken Ober. Hostess: Marisol Massey, Alicia Coppola, Susanne Ashley. Regulars: Jill Helene, Jani Barry, Adam Sandler, John Yen Eyck, Craig Vandenberg, Roger Kabler, Denis Leary, Tony Zaar. Announcer: Colin Quinn. Orchestra: Steve Treccase.

6803 The Ren and Stimpy Adult Party Cartoon. (Series; Cartoon; TNT; 2003). If child actors in sitcoms can grow up and become adults, why not cartoon characters? With that thought in mind, the characters from Ren and Stimpy (see entry) have grown (but not matured). The bizarre humor that was a part of the original series has become not only more bizarre but gross as well. It relates the antics of an insane dog (Ren Hoek) and a dense, equally insane cat (Stimpson J. "Stimpy" Cat)—friends whose quest to find something to do always involves them in situations that only a cartoon character could find.

Voice Cast: Eric Bauza (Stimpson J. "Stimpy" Cat), Michael C. Kricfalusi (Ren Hoek), John Kricfalusi (Mr. Horse), Vincent Miller (Narrator).

6804 The Ren and Stimpy Show. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1991–2003). An insane dog (a Chihuahua named Ren Hoek) and a less-than-intellectual feline named Stimpson J. "Stimpy" Cat are unlikely friends who have only one thing in common: their knack for becoming involved in outrageous (if not totally bizarre) capers. Ren and Stimpy's reaction to the situations in which they become involved (and involve others) is the basic premise of the series. George Liquor is the owner of Ren and Stimpy; other misguided characters that find themselves in the chaos created by Ren and Stimpy are Muddy Mudskipper, the Powdered Toast Man, Haggis MacHaggis, Mr. and Mrs. Pipe, Mr. Horse, and Sven Hoek.

Voice Cast: Billy West (Ren Hoek), Billy West (Stimpson J. "Stimpy" Cat), Gary Owens (Powdered Toast Man), Michael Pataki (George Liquor), Cheryl Chase (Mrs. Pipe), John Kricfalusi (Mr. Horse), Harris Peet (Muddy Mudskipper), Alan Young (Haggis MacHaggis), Stan Freberg (Jimmy Lunmox), Brian Chin (Jasper the Pup).

6805 Rendezvous. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1952). The Chez Nikki Night Club in Paris, France, is an establishment owned by a mysterious woman known only as Nikki. She was supposedly engaged in underground activities during World War II and established her club shortly after the war. Nikki has seen a lot and knows what it means to be in trouble and have no one or no place to turn. Unable to see what happened to her happen to anyone else, Nikki offers her club as a place of refuge and attempts to help those who have run out of hope. The series ran from February 13, 1952 to March 5, 1952.

Cast: Ilona Massey (Nikki), David McKay (Reporter).

6806 Rendezvous. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1958). The syndicated title for selected repeat episodes of The Rheingold Theater. See this entry for information. Charles Drake serves as the host.

6807 Rendezvous Hotel. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/11/79). Incidents in the lives of the people who vacation at the Rendezvous Hotel, a resort in California. Walter Grainger is the manager; Barbara, the social director; Jerry, the desk clerk; Cleveland, the cook; and Conchetta, the housekeeper. Also helping Walter — and much to his regret — is Jerry's meddling mother, Lucille. In the pilot episode, Walter faces several problems: Anne Jones, a beautiful actress who attempts suicide; a disorganized wedding feast; and an overbooked July 4th weekend celebration.

Cast: Bill Daily (Walter Grainger), Bobbi Mitchell (Barbara Clairborne), Jeff Redford (Jerry Greenwood), Theodore Wilson (Cleveland Jennings), Talya Ferro (Conchetta Jennings), Carole Cook (Lucille Greenwood). Guest Cast: Kathryn Witt (Anne Jones), Severn Darden (Mr. Church), Nellie Bellflower (Sherry Leonard), Dolph Sweet (Harvey), Edward Winter (Jeff Becker), Jeff Donnell (Mrs. Williams), Bruce French (Frank), Brooke Kaplan (Kiki).

6808 Rendezvous with Adventure. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1963). Lee Green hosts and narrates films that relate the hazardous expeditions of various explorers.

6809 Rendezvous with Music. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950). A five episode summer program of music and songs that ran from July 11, 1950 to August 8, 1950.

Hostess: Carol Reed. Regulars: Rosemary Bingham, Andy McCann, Mary Jane Boone, Tommy Johnson, Teddy Katz, Don Gallagher. Music: The Tony DeSimone Trio.

6810 Renegade. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 12/27/60). The story, set in 1861, relates the adventures of Rory O'Neill and Burtram Smythe, two footloose, roughish adventurers who help people in trouble.

Cast: Steve Cochran (Rory O'Neill), Richard Ney (Burtram Smythe). Guest Cast: Constance Towers (Felicia Post), Jack Warden (H.P. Daggert), Dayton Loomis (Captain Flood), Robert Brubaker (Mr. Wilson).

6811 Renegade. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1992). Sergeant Reno Raines is an undercover cop with the San Diego Police Department. During an assignment he uncovers police corruption and agrees to testify against the dirty officers. But before he can do so, he is framed for murder by the culprits and a warrant is issued for his arrest. Before he can be arrested, Reno flees and becomes a fugitive with a $10,000 reward offered for his capture.

Reno is determined to prove his innocence. Calling on his experiences in the Army and the police force, Reno decides to become a bounty hunter. He joins with his friends, bounty hunters Bobby Phillips and his sister, Cheyenne and stories follow their efforts to bring to justice wanted criminals on the run.

Reno carries a 9mm. gun that he wears upside down under his arm. He rides a motorcycle; Bobby and Cheyenne drive a $250,000 mobile home. Bobby charges $10,000 "if the job is in state"; $2,000 additional for each state he travels through. Cheyenne is a computer expert who also takes care of the finances.

Bobby Phillips is a Native American and was called "Bobby Scholarship" and "The Injun Whiz Kid" at school. His real Indian name is "Bobby Six Killer." He served a hitch with the Marines and has the motto "Bring 'em Back Alive."

Other regulars are Lt. Dutch Dickson, the dirty cop seeking Reno; Travis Six Killer, Bobby's uncle.

Cast: Lorenzo Lamas (Reno Raines), Branscombe Richmond (Bobby Phillips), Kathleen Kinmont (Cheyenne Phillips), Stephen J. Cannell (Lt. Dutch Dickson), Henry Bal (Travis Six Killer), Fairai Richmond (Little Bobby Six Killer; flashbacks).

6812 The Renegades. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1983). Frank Marciano is a Los Angeles police lieutenant with a most unusual idea: recruit gang members toughened by street life to work as undercover agents for the police department.

Frank calls his unit the Renegades and stories relate their case assignments as they go places and do things the professional cops can not.

The Renegades are Bandit (an Ace gang member); Tracy (a Satan Doll gang member); Eagle (a Chiefs gang member); Dancer (a Bomber gang member); Dragon (a Shanghai Sheiks gang member); Gaucho (a Wild Cats gang member); J.T. (a Romans gang member). Julie Robinson is the corrections officer; Joseph Scanlon is the police chief.

Cast: Patrick Swayze (Bandit), Tracy Scoggins (Tracy), Randy Brooks (Eagle), Robert Thaler (Dancer), Brian Tochi (Dragon), Fautso Bara (Gaucho), Paul Mones (J.T.), James Luisi (Lt. Frank Marciano), Kurtwood Smith (Capt. Joseph Scanlon), Kathryn Leigh Scott (Julie Robinson).

6813 Renfrew of the Royal Mounted. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1953). Douglas Renfrew is a police officer assigned the R.C.M.P. (Royal Canadian Mounted Police). He is assisted by Constable Kelly and stories relate their efforts to maintain the peace from smallest communities to those areas far removed from society. Based on the radio program of the same title. Carol Girard is Douglas's romantic interest.

Cast: James Newell (Douglas Renfrew), Louise Stanley (Carol Girard), Dave O'Brien (Constable Kelly). Theme Song: "Mounted Men" by Betty Laidlaw, Robert Lively.

6814 Reno and Yolanda. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/28/87). The Reno and Yolanda Dance Studios are located in the Hotel Four Aces in Atlantic City, New Jersey. It is run by a married couple (Reno and Yolanda; no last names given) who perform on stage and seldom agree on anything — except to one day become stars. The unsold series was to relate the mishaps that occur as they seek to make that dream become a reality. In the pilot episode, Reno and Yolanda enter a dance contest to win the $10,000 first prize. Other Regulars: Harry, Reno's friend; Raylene, Yolanda's friend; and Bill, Raylene's husband.

Cast: Louis Giambalvo (Reno), Suzie Plaksin (Yolanda), Richard Dimitri (Harry Zenko), Cristine

6816 Reno English. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/24/56). An unsold series about Reno English, a barrister with the miracle touch. In the pilot episode, titled "The Unwilling Witness" and broadcast on G.E. Summer Originals, Reno defends a man accused of killing a gambler; his problem: the only witness to the murder refuses to give him the information that could save his client.

Cast: Zachary Scott (Reno English). Guest Cast: Frances Rafferty (Deborah Payne), Robert Burton, Hayden Rorke, Dorothy Green, Herb Vigran.

6817 Reno 911. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2003–). A mostly improvised series that takes a behind-the-scenes look at the workings of the Washoe County Division of the Reno, Nevada, Police Department. Crime is played for laughs as Lieutenant Jim Dangle, the straight and narrow, no nonsense head of the department, finds anything but by-the-book procedure from his staff of mayhem making officers: Raineesha Williams, Trudy Wiegel, Travis Junior and James Garcia. Jim's deputies may not be the best cops, but they have what it takes to be cops: badges (and that is about all they have going for them).

6818 Renovate My Family. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004). Elements of Extreme Makeover: Home Edition are borrowed for Renovate My Family, a reality show that helps people who totally need a personal makeover but whose home could also benefit from a renovation. Jay McGrath, the son of the famous Dr. Phil, hosts the show and leads a team of makeup artists, construction workers and interior design specialist on a mission of mercy to help deserving families.

Host: Jay McGraw. Design Expert: Kahi Lee.

Construction Experts: Erica Dahm, Jaclyn Dahm, Nicole Dahm.

6819 The Replacements. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2006). Todd and Riley are futuristic orphans who are rarely happy. One day they see an ad for Fleemco Replacements, a company that, for $1.98, will replace what ever needs replacing. The children send in their money and request replacement parents. What they get are Agent K, "a super spy mom," and Dick Daring, "a daredevil dude of a dad." Stories follow Todd and Riley's adventures as they use Fleemco to replace anything that causes them unhappiness (always feeling the replacements will make things better). C.A.R. is Agent K's talking car.

Voice Cast: Nancy Cartwright (Todd), Grey DeLisle (Riley), Kath Soucie (Agent K), Daran Norris (Dick Daring), David McCallum (C.A.R.), Jeff Bennett (Conrad Fleem), Erica Hubbard (Abbey).

6820 Report to Murphy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1982). At 832 Church Street in an unnamed city lives Eddie Murphy — not the comedian, but a parole officer with the Department of Correction and Rehabilitation who believes in a psychological approach in dealing with his charges. Stories follow Eddie's mishaps as he attempts to prove his theory. Other Regulars: Blanche, his supervisor; JoAnn, the assistant D.A.; parole officers Charlie and Lucy; and parolees "Big" Walter Lewis, Norm and Vinnie.

Cast: Michael Keaton (Eddie Murphy), Olivia Cole (Blanche Nesbitt), Donnelly Rhodes (Charlie Dawson), Donna Ponterotto (Lucy Webb), Ken Foree ("Big" Walter Lewis), Jack O'Leary (Norm), Jonathan Banks (Vinnie).

6821 The Reporter. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1964). "He's a man who cares about people, not a man who stands about with a notebook jotting down facts. He is a man standing up to his armpits in facts." He is Danny Taylor, an aggressive reporter for the Globe, a crusading New York newspaper. Danny, who lives at 63 East 46th Street in Manhattan, was a street-smart kid who used his knowledge of the streets to help him break into reporting. He works on open assignment under Lou Sheldon, the seasoned editor of the Globe. Although Danny is free to uncover his own stories, he often resents Lou's driving him "to the last heartbreaking expenditure of effort that only a champion in the making can give." Lou finds it necessary to act as Danny's trainer, taskmaster and conscience, for Danny is angry at the world's injustices. Once on a case, Danny becomes involved with his stories and will not rest until he has the facts that will bring justice.

Regulars: Ashley Drane, Brian Babcock, Candy Ford, Danielle Gaither, Don Reed, Danielle Hoover, Mitch Silpa, Paul Voght.

6824 Rescue 8. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1958–1960). In 1958 Los Angeles had a population of five and one half million people. There were 27 rescue units (numbered 1 to 27) attached to the L.A. County Fire Department. When someone was trapped in a life and death situation, the men of these rescue units risked their lives to save them. “This program is dedicated to rescue teams throughout the U.S. and to the men who risk their lives daily to save others. And now, the stories behind rescues.”

Stories focuses on the rescues performed by one such unit — Rescue 8. Wes Cameron runs Rescue 8 out of Station 8. His “shotgun” (assistant) is Skip Johnson. Wes is the veteran paramedic and is single. Skip is young and eager; he is a Korean War veteran and lives at 7023 Canyon Road with his wife, Patty, and daughter, Susan.

Wes and Skip work with the odds stacked against them — “But what we’re doing,” Skip says, “someone’s got to do.” A Code R is a bad accident — “The kind of situation where death holds a stopwatch on us.” Rescue 8 is also their mobile code to L.A. Base. Douglas Heyes composed the theme.

6825 Rescue from Gilligan’s Island. (Series Extension; Comedy; NBC; 1978). The first of three extension episodes based on Gilligan’s Island (see also The Castaways on Gilligan’s Island and The Harlem Globetrotters on Gilligan’s Island). The episode finds the castaways escaping from the island when, as a tidal wave approaches, they lash their huts together and form a large, odd-looking raft. Several days later they are rescued by the Coast Guard and brought to Hawaii, where, after readjusting to civilization, each goes his separate way. Some months later, the former castaways reunite for a reunion cruise on the Skipper’s new ship, the Minnow II. During the cruise, the ship is caught in a tropical storm and the seven castaways are again shipwrecked — on the same island on which they spent the last 15 years. Aired as two one hour episodes on October 14 and 21, 1978.

Cast: Alan Hale, Jr. (Jonas Grumby, the Skipper), Bob Denver (Gilligan), Jim Backus (Thurston Howell III), Natalie Schafer (Lovey Howell), Dawn Wells (Mary Ann Summers), Russell Johnson (The Professor), Judith Baldwin (Ginger Grant). Guest Cast: Vincent Schiavelli (Dimitri), Mario Machado (Interviewer), June Whitley Taylor (Miss Ainsworth), Martin Ashe (Butler).

6826 The Rescue Heroes. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1999). The Rescue Heroes are a group of men and women who risk their lives to help people trapped in precarious situations. Stories follow their rescue efforts as they travel where needed (in any part of the world) to answer the call for help. Each episode concludes with a safety tip. The series is based on a line of Mattel toys called the Rescue Heroes.

Voice Cast: Norm Spencer (Billy Blazes), Lenore Zann (Wendy Waters), Lisa Mesinger (Ariel Flyer), Deborah Odell (Ariel Flyer; later), Paul Essiembre (Gil Gripper), Adrian Hough (Cliff Hanger), John Bourgeois (Warren Watters), Christopher Earle (Roger Houston), Rod Wilson (Jack Hammer), Joe Motiki (Rocky Canyon), Martin Roach (Jake Justice), Marc Donato (Tyler).

6827 Rescue Me. (Series; Drama; FX; 2004–). A grueling, realistic series that looks at the work of the men of Engine Company 62, a New York City firehouse.

Particular focus is on Tommy Gavin, a senior firefighter who is totally dedicated to his job but is stressed out by having a difficult time accepting the fact that his ex-wife, Janet, is now dating other men. Stress has also caused Tommy to have conversations with Jimmy Keefe, his cousin, a firefighter who was killed in the line of duty. Also deeply affecting Tommy are the memories of the people he could not save.

Jerry Reilly is the fire chief (called “The Good Chief” by his company) who suffers from a gambling problem. Kenny Shea, called Lou, is a lieutenant and secretly writes poetry to release his emotional frustrations. Franco Rivera is the company’s ladies’ man; Sean Garrity of the ambitious overeager firefighter; and Mike Silletti is the rookie.

6828 Rescue 911. (Series; Reality; CBS; 1989–1994). Reenactments of real life 911 rescues. Tapes of the original 911 recordings are played followed by a reconstruction of the incidents that occurred. Interviews with the actual participants are also incorporated into the stories.

Host: William Shatner.

6829 Rescue 77. (Series; Drama; WB; 1999). Kathleen Ryan, Wick Lobo and Michael Bell are paramedics with Fire Station 77 (Task Force 77) of the Los Angeles County Fire Department, Rescue 77 Division. Their superior is Captain Durfee and they work with City Base, which dispenses medical advice.

Kathleen is a crossbow enthusiast and competes in such competitions (she calls her cross bow Ulrich). To those whose lives she saves, she is called “The Girl in the Yellow Jacket” (reflecting the color of her paramedic uniform).

Michael is from a wealthy family of investment brokers (owners of Bell Enterprises). He found working for his family unrewarding and turned to the life of a paramedic to find satisfaction.

Wick practices what he calls “Gutter Medicine” — doing what he has to save the lives of people who do not have the time to make it to a hospital. Wick is an aspiring actor and made a guest appearance on the TV series Hercules: The Legendary Journeys as Lord August.

The Golden Axe is the award given to the station that answers the most calls per quarter (a tradition since 1957); the bar-eatery hangout is Sloane's, “The Fireman's Bar.”

Cast: Marjorie Monaghan (Kathleen Ryan), Christian Kane (Wick Lobo), Victor Browne (Michael Bell), Richard Roundtree (Captain Durfee).

6830 The Restless Gun. (Series; Western; NBC; ABC; 1957–1960). “I ride with the wind, my eyes on the sun and my hand on my restless gun...” said the theme to tell the story of Vint Bonner, a wandering ex-gunfighter (known as “The Six Gun”) who helps people in trouble. The series is based on the radio series The Six Gun that starred Jimmy Stewart as the wandering ex-gunfighter Britt Ponset (changed to Vint Bonner for the television series although the show's pilot episode, “The Restless Gun” [aired on The Schlitz Playhouse of Stars] had John Payne playing the role as Britt Ponset). Vint rides a horse names Scar. The series ran on NBC from September 23, 1957 to September 14, 1959 and on ABC from October 12, 1959 to September 30, 1960.

Cast: John Payne (Vint Bonner).

6831 Resurrection Blvd. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 2000–2002). A sports-oriented series that focuses on the world of boxing as seen through the Santiagos, a Mexican–American family, living in East Los Angeles, who have been involved with the ring for thirty years.

Roberto Santiago, a widower, is the head of the family (although in ill health). He is the father of Miguel, Carlos, Yolanda and Victoria. Miguel, the eldest child, is a struggling boxing manager. Carlos is an up-and-coming fighter. Yolanda is an office worker who is dating a police officer (Luke Bonner). Victoria, the youngest child, is quite rebellious and seeking her place in the world. Also involved in their lives are Alex, Roberto's brother, who replaced Roberto in the ring when he became ill (but who has flunked out and is now trying to live a life without the sport).

Beatrice “Bibi” Corrales, Robert's sister-in-law, is a hair stylist; and Ruben, Robert's younger brother, is handicapped (suffered brain damage in the ring that left him incapable of talking).

6832 The Return of Ben Casey. (Pilot; Drama; Syn.; 2/13/88). When the series Ben Casey folded in 1966 after a five year run, the show's fictional neurosurgeon, the gruff but caring Benjamin “Ben” Casey left County General Hospital for non-seen adventures in Vietnam (as a combat doctor), Australia (working in the Outback) and in Wisconsin (where he became Chief of Surgery at Milwaukee County Hospital). In 1988 Ben returns to County General to become its new Chief of Surgery. The proposed series was to relate Ben's experiences as he becomes the mentor to a group of young doctors (just like the elderly Dr. Zorba from the original series was his mentor).

6833 The Return of Cannon. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 11/1/80). An attempt to revive the series Cannon about Frank Cannon, a highly paid (and overweight) private detective. In the pilot episode, Frank, now the owner of a restaurant, comes out of retirement to probe the reported suicide of a close friend who once worked for the CIA.

6834 The Return of Captain Nemo. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1978). On March 16, 1877, while searching for the lost kingdom of Atlantis, a submarine (the Nautilus) wedges itself under a coral reef. Unable to free the sub, its captain, Nemo, suspends himself in a crystalline chamber. One hundred years later, during U.S. Navy war games, divers Tom Franklin and Jim Porter discover the Nautilus. Upon boarding the sub, they meet Nemo (who has emerged from the chamber due to the depth charges used in the games) and learns his fate. The constant barrage also sets the Nautilus free and brings Nemo in contact with Hamilton Miller, the naval intelligence head who agrees to repair Nemo's sub in return for his help in performing certain hazardous missions for the government. The three episode series depicts Nemo's adventures as he helps the government while seeking the lost kingdom of Atlantis. Other Regulars: Kate Melton, Nemo's aide; Professor Waldo Cunningham, the evil scientist (his sub: The Raven). The series ran from March 15, 1978 to March 29, 1978.

Cast: Jose Ferrer (Captain Nemo), Tom Hallick (Tom Franklin), Burr DeBenning (Jim Porter), Lynda Day George (Kate Melton), Burgess Meredith (Waldo Cunningham), Warren Stevens (Hamilton Miller).

6835 The Return of Charlie Chan. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 7/17/79). Charlie Chan, the famous fictional Chinese detective who solved countless crimes in feature films of the 1930s and '40s and in a television series in 1957 has retired to Hawaii to become the owner of a pineapple plantation. However, after ten years of retirement, Chan, now sixty years of age, forsakes his life of leisure to help Alexander Hadrachi, an aging Greek tycoon with a heart condition, who has become the victim of a series of mysterious attacks. Chan finds that his quest for crime solving is as sharp as ever and that "Happiness Is a Warm Clue" (the pilot's original title). The unsold series was to relate Charlie's efforts to solve crimes — with the help of his Number 8 Son, Peter, and his daughter, Doreen. Filmed in 1971.

Cast: Ross Martin (Charlie Chan), Rocky Gunn (Peter Chan), Virginia Ann Lee (Doreen Chan). Guest Cast: Leslie Nielsen (Alexander Hadrachi), Louise Sorel (Ariane Hadrachi), Kathleen Widdoes

6836 The Return of Hunter. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 4/30/95). "Everyone Walks in L.A." is the episode title of an unsold attempt to reprise the NBC series Hunter. In the four year interim since the series ended in 1991, Hunter has been promoted to a lieutenant, but is still the same tough, hard-nosed cop as before. The new version was to relate his exploits with the Parker Division of the L.A.P.D. In the pilot, Rick seeks the killer of his fiance, Vickie, a case he takes personally and begins a vendetta to find the killer (Jack Valko), a madman who torments Hunter to try and catch him.

Cast: Fred Dryer (Rick Hunter), Charles Hallahan (Captain Charlie Deavane), Wendie Jo Sperber (Lucille; Rick's secretary). Guest Cast: Beth Toussaint (Vickie Sherry), Lisa Eilbacher (Sally Vogel), Barry Bostwick (Matt Sherry), Miguel Ferrer (Jack Valko), Wendie Malick (Pat Lafferty), Denis Arndt (Frank Battaglia), Brian Keith (Peter Morgan).

6837 The Return of Luther Gillis. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 2/16/84). A proposed spin-off from Magnum, P.I. about Luther Gillis, an anachronistic private detective working out of St. Louis, Missouri. In the pilot episode, Luther travels to Hawaii to attend a detective's convention and becomes involved in a scheme to free his secretary, Blanche, and Magnum's butler, Higgins, from kidnapers.

Cast: Eugene Roche (Luther Gillis), Sheree North (Blanche Rafferty), Jeff Harlan (Jack Gillis; Luther's son). Guest Cast: Tom Selleck (Thomas Magnum), John Hillerman (Higgins), Geoffrey Lewis (Lloyd DeWitt), Kanani Choy (Big Sally), James Carroll (Blackie), Jana Lindan (Jo), Wallace Landford (Artie Keanu).

6838 The Return of Marcus Welby, M.D. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/16/84). An attempt to revive Marcus Welby, M.D., a series about a kind-hearted G.P. (Marcus Welby) who runs a private practice in Santa Monica, California, and works part time at Lowell Memorial Hospital. In 1984 Marcus has been a doctor for 43 years. He has treated 22,000 patients and made 9,000 house calls. He still has his family practice but now is a resident doctor at Coast Community Hospital in California (his original partner, Dr. Steven Kiley, does not appear. His absence is explained by his appointment as the chief administrator of Family Hospital in New York City). The unsold series was to continue to focus on the medical triumphs and tragedies of Marcus Welby as he takes on a new partner, the young Dr. Matt Jennings. Other Regulars: Consuelo Lopez, Marcus's nurse; Dr. David Jennings, the hospital administrator; and Dr. Hoover Beaumont.

6840 The Return of Sam McCloud. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 11/12/89). An unsuccessful attempt to revise McCloud about Sam McCloud, a deputy marshal from New Mexico who is assigned to the N.Y.P.D. to study crime detection methods. Other series regulars were also brought back: Police Chief Peter B. Clifford (now the Police Commissioner), Sergeant Joe Broadhurst (now the Chief of Detectives), and Chris Coughlin, Sam's love interest, a newspaper reporter.

McCloud is now a U.S. Senator and the unsold series was to relate his efforts to help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Sam travels to London to probe the murder of his niece, a research chemist for a large company.

Cast: Dennis Weaver (Sam McCloud), J.D. Cannon (Peter B. Clifford), Diana Muldaur (Chris

6841 The Return of Sherlock Holmes. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 1/10/87). In 1901 Sherlock Holmes, a detective who uses deductive reasoning to solve crimes, succumbs to a trap set by his mortal enemy, Professor Moriarty: he pricks his finger on a chest box spring that had been laced with bubonic plague. With no antidote and with only six months to live, Holmes freezes himself in an experimental cryogenic chamber. Eighty-six years later, Jane Watson, the great granddaughter of Holmes's companion, Dr. John H. Watson, inherits an English home and a mysterious black box that leads her to discover the whereabouts of Holmes and how to revive him. With Jane's help, Holmes finds the serum to cure him of the plague. Though dazzled by the wonders of a modern world, Holmes adjusts quickly. Holmes accompanies Jane to Boston and the unsold series was to relate their exploits as Jane, the owner of the Watson and Company Detective Agency, and the real Sherlock Holmes set out to solve crimes. The pilot episode relates their attempts to solve a complex counterfeiting case.

Cast: Margaret Colin (Jane Watson), Michael Pennington (Sherlock Holmes), Lila Kaye (Mrs. Hudson; Jane's landlady). Guest Cast: Connie Booth (Violet Morstan), Nicholas Guest (Tobias Gregory), Barry Morse (Carter Morstan), Paul Maxwell (Hopkins), Shane Rimmer (Lysander Stark), Ray Jewers (Charles Singer), Daniel Benzali (Michael Ross), Sheila Brand (Kitty Horowitz), Tony Steedman (Doctor).

6842 The Return of the Beverly Hillbillies. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 10/6/81). A failed attempt to revive The Beverly Hillbillies about the Clampetts, hillbillies who became millionaires when oil was discovered on their property in the Ozarks. The story reintroduces the Clampetts: When Jane Hathaway, a former bank secretary, now an Energy Department employee in Washington, D.C., experiments with some moonshine made by Daisy "Granny" Moses and discovers that it has the potential to double the output of our country's gasoline and oil supply, she is assigned to find the secret formula. Through her search viewers learn what has happened since the series ended: After Granny's death, Jed Clampett (the hillbilly who struck oil and moved to Beverly Hills) divided his vast wealth between his daughter, Elly Mae, and his nephew, Jethro Bodine; he himself moved back to his beloved hills. Jethro has become the owner of the Mammoth Film Studios in Hollywood, and Elly Mae, who had a fondness for "critters" has opened "Elly's Zoo." The pilot depicts Jane's efforts to secure the formula for Granny's white lightning' from the one person who knows the secret formula: Granny's Maw, a 100-plus-year-old eccentric who is not about to give away any family secrets. Other Regulars: Charles, Jane's superior; Linda, Jethro's secretary; Shad, Jed's friend, the blacksmith; and Molly, Shad's wife.

6843 Return of the Man from U.N.C.L.E.: The 15 Years Later Affair. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 4/5/83). The program reunites Napoleon Solo and Illya Kuryakin, former agents for U.N.C.L.E. (the United Network Command for Law and Enforcement) after fifteen years of inactive service to stop T.H.R.U.S.H., their evil enemy, from detonating the H-957, a powerful nuclear bomb it plans to use to dominate the world. The unsold series was to relate Napoleon and Illya's adventures as spies for Sir John Raleigh, the new head of U.N.C.L.E. Other Regulars: Janis, John's secretary; Benjamin, an U.N.C.L.E. agent; and Zee, an U.N.C.L.E. scientist. (After resigning from the agency, Napoleon had gone into the computer business and Illya became the owner of Vanya's a high fashion boutique.)

6844 The Return of the Mod Squad. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/18/79). An unsold attempt to revive The Mod Squad about Pete Cochrane, Julie Barnes and Linc Hayes, three troubled youths who were recruited by L.A.P.D. Captain Adam Greer to form the Mod Squad, a special undercover unit that can go places and do things ordinary cops can't. The story finds Pete, Julie and Linc reuniting after a seven year absence to help Adam, now the Deputy Police Commissioner, find a mysterious assailant who is threatening to kill him.

Pete, who was anti-everything, has calmed down and moved home to Beverly Hills to take over his late father's business. Julie, who finally found happiness, married Dan Bennett and moved to a ranch in northern California where she lives with her husband and daughter. Linc moved to New York City, completed his college education, and acquired a job as a schoolteacher (he is also the father of an adopted son named Jason). The new version would have followed Pete, Julie and Linc as they performed special assignments for Adam. Other Regulars: Barney Metcalf, the police commissioner.

Cast: Michael Cole (Pete Cochrane), Peggy Lipton (Julie Barnes-Bennett), Clarence Williams III (Linc Hayes), Tige Andrews (Adam Greer), Simon Scott (Barney Metcalf), Roy Thinnes (Dan Bennett), Todd Bridges (Jason Hayes). Guest Cast: Ross Martin (Buck Prescott), Victor Buono (Johnny Starr), Mark Slade (Richie Webber), Tom Bosley (Frank Webber), Tom Ewell (Cook), Sugar Ray Robinson (Himself).

6845 Return of the Saint. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1979–1980). An updated version of the 1960s series The Saint that continues relate events in the life of Simon Templar (alias the Saint), a dashing, freelance troubleshooter who helps people in distress.

Cast: Ian Ogilvy (Simon Templar). Theme Song: "The New Saint Theme" by Brian Dae.

6846 Return of the Six Million Dollar Man and the Bionic Woman. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 5/17/87). When Fortress, an enemy organization of the U.S. government, begins stealing advanced weapons, Oscar Goldman of the O.S.I. (Office of Scientific Information), recruits two former agents (now retired) to help him: Steve Austin, the Six Million Dollar Man, who now runs a charter boat service (Summer Babe) and Jaime Sommers, the Bionic Woman, who now works for a rehabilitation center. During their investigation, Steve's estranged son, Michael, a graduate of the Air Force Academy, suffers an almost fatal accident while testing a plane. Michael, like Steve and Jaime, is saved when he is given bionic replacements (both legs, right arm, ten ribs and a laser right eye). With Michael's help, the leaders behind Fortress are captured. The proposed series was to focus on Michael's exploits as an agent for the O.S.I. Other Regulars: Dr. Rudy Wells, the bionic surgeon.

O'Sullivan), Scott Kraft (Nick), Bryan Cranston (Dr. Shepherd), Keith Farrell (Jim Milton), Deborah White (Sally).

6847 Return of the World's Greatest Detective. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/16/76). When Sherman Holmes, a Los Angeles police officer fascinated by the exploits of Sherlock Holmes, suffers brain damage from a motorcycle accident, he loses all touch with reality and believes he is the real Sherlock Holmes (Sherman was laying beside his motorcycle and reading a Holmes mystery when the bike fell on him. Sherman believes that it is Professor Moriarty, Sherlock's arch enemy, who was responsible for the accident).

Once inept, but now a master of deductive reasoning, Holmes also believes that his doctor, Joan Watson, is "his" Watson, his friend and biographer. The unsold series was to depict Sherman's attempts to solve baffling crimes like his hero Sherlock Holmes. In the pilot episode, Holmes and Watson attempt to solve the murder of an embezzler. Other Regulars: Lieutenant Nicholas J. Tinker, Sherman's superior; Mr. Spiner, Joan's superior; and Mrs. Hudson, Sherman's landlady.

Cast: Larry Hagman (Sherman "Sherlock" Holmes), Jenny O'Hara (Dr. Joan Watson), Nicholas Colasanto (Nicholas J. Tinker), Helen Verbit (Mrs. Hudson). Guest Cast: Woodrow Parfrey (Himmel), Charles Macauley (Judge Clement Harley), Ron Silver (Dr. Collins), Sid Haig (Vince Cooley), Stephanie Faracy (Typist), Benny Rubin (Klinger), Booth Coleman (Psychiatrist).

6848 Return to Fantasy Island. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 1/20/78). The story is set on Fantasy Island, a mysterious tropical resort where, for an unspecified price, dreams are granted. The pilot episode depicts the fantasies of: Lyle Benson, a cosmetics company executive who comes to the island to seduce his employer, the beautiful Margo Dean — a woman who can think of nothing else but business; Brian and Louise Faber, a childless couple who come to the island to see the child they gave up for adoption twelve years ago (at a time when they couldn't afford to keep her); and Janet Fleming, a beautiful amnesiac who hopes to find her former identity. Regulars: Mr. Roarke, the owner of the island; and Tattoo, his assistant.

Cast: Ricardo Montalban (Mr. Roarke), Herve Villechaize (Tattoo). Guest Cast: Adrienne Barbeau (Margo Dean), George Maharis (Lyle Benson), Patricia Crowley (Louise Faber), Joseph Campanella (Brian Faber), Karen Valentine (Janet Fleming), Joseph Cotten (Mr. Grant), Nancy McKeon (Ann), Horst Buchholz (Charles Fleming), Cameron Mitchell (Raoul), France Nuyen (Kito), George Chakiris (Pierre).

6849 Return to Halloween Town. (Pilot; Comedy; Disney; 10/06). A fourth attempt to begin a series about a beautiful teenage witch who is just coming into her powers (see also Halloween Town, Halloween Town II: Kalabar's Revenge and Halloween Town High). The story continues to follow the life of Marnie Piper, now a freshman at Witch University, where she begins classes to learn how to control her budding powers. Gwen is Marnie's mother; Agatha is her mischievous aunt.

Cast: Sara Paxton (Marnie Piper), Debbie Reynolds (Agatha Cromwell), Judith Hoag (Gwen Piper), Lucas Grabeel (Ethan Dalloway), Summer Bishill (Aneesa), Kristy Wu (Scarlett Sinister), Katie Cockrell (Sage Sinister), Kellie Cockrell (Sapphire Sinister), Cheyenne Hall (Vampire), Millicent Martin (Prof. Persimmon Periwinkle), Dan Young (Dr. Ichabod Grogg), Keone Young (Silas Sinister).

6850 Return to Peyton Place. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1972–1974). A spin-off from the ABC serial Peyton Place that, set in Peyton Place, a small New England town, continues to depict events in the turmoil-ridden lives of its citizens. The series ran from April 3, 1972 to January 4, 1974.

Cast: Bettye Ackerman (Constance MacKenzie Carson), Warren Stevens (Elliot Carson), Kathy Glass (Alison MacKenzie), Frank Ferguson (Eli Carson), Yale Summers (Rodney Harrington), Lawrence Casey (Rodney Harrington; later), Ron Russell (Norman Harrington), Julie Parrish (Betty Anderson Harrington), Lynn Loring (Betty Anderson Harrington; later), Patricia Morrow (Rita Jacks Harrington), Stacy Harris (Leslie Harrington), Evelyn Scott (Ada Jacks), Guy Stockwell (Dr. Michael Rossi), Joe Gallison (Stephen Cord), John Hoyt (Martin Peyton), Mary K. Wells (Hannah Cord), Ben Andrews (Benny Tate), John Levin (Matthew Carson), Alex Nicol (Dr. Wells), Chuck Daniel (Lt. Ed Riker), Anne Seymour (Judge Foster), Margaret Mason (Selena Cross), Betty Ann Carr (Monica Bell), Rudy Solari (Attorney).

6851 Return to the Batcave: The Misadventures of Adam and Burt. (Series Extension; Comedy; CBS; 3/9/03). A program that reunites Adam West and Burt Ward, the stars of the 1966 ABC series Batman as they seek to recover their car, the Batmobile, which was stolen from a charity function they were attending. As they seek the culprits, flashbacks from their crime-fighting days as Batman and Robin are seen.

Craig/Batgirl; flashbacks), Lee Meriwether (Lee Meriwether), Lyle Waggoner (Narrator).

6852 Return to the Planet of the Apes. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1975–1976). An animated spin-off from Planet of the Apes. Traveling aboard the NASA spacecraft Venture, three astronauts — Bill Hudson, Judy Franklin, and Jeff Carter — penetrate a time vortex and are hurled from present-day Earth (1975) to Earth in the year 3979 — a world that is ruled by intellectual apes. Stories follow the astronauts' adventures as they seek a way to return to the Earth of their time.

Other Regulars: Dr. Cornelius, an ape doctor; Dr. Zira, Cornelius's aide; General Urko, an ape leader; Nova, the human who befriends the astronauts.

Voice Cast: Tom Williams (Bill Hudson), Richard Blackburn (Bill Hudson; later), Claudette Nevins (Judy Franklin), Austin Stoker (Jeff Carter), Edwin Mills (Dr. Cornelius), Phillipa Harris (Dr. Zira), Henry Corden (General Urko), Claudette Nevins (Nova).

6853 Reunion. (Unaired Pilot; Human Interest; Produced in 1990). A sentimental program wherein people who have been separated — from long lost friends and loves to military children and parents — are brought together for the first time in many years.

Hosts: Alanna Davis, Michael Gold.

6854 Reunion. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2005). A prime time serial with two different story lines. The overall premise follows the lives of six close friends from their high school graduation in 1986 to their twentieth reunion in 2006. During that time one of the six, Samantha, has been murdered and the other friends — Jenna, Will, Carla, Craig and Aaron — are the suspects. The second story line presents each episode as a year in their lives and details what happened in that particular year (and leading to the final episode, had it aired, to reveal who the killer was). Fox cancelled the low rated series after eight episodes (1994 was the last year seen). The series ran from September 8, 2005 to December 15, 2005.

Cast: Will Estes (Will Malloy), Amanda Righetti (Jenna Moretti), Alexa Davalos (Samantha Carlton), Chyler Leigh (Carla Noll), Sean Faris (Craig Brewster), Dave Annable (Aaron Lewis), Gregory Harris (Russell Bennett), Matthew St. Patrick (Det. Kenneth Marjorino), Wendy Glenn (Pascale), Gina Holden (Rachel Scofield), Bill Monday (Detective Matos), Geoff Stults (Peter Holland), Camille Sullivan (Meghann Phillips).

6855 Reunited. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1998–1999). Nicole “Nicki” Nolan Beck is a middle aged housewife and married to Gary. They live at 385 Greenwood Avenue in Pittsburgh. Nicki works as a courtesy clerk at Max's Major Mart and Gary is a salesman. They are the parents of young Ami. Also living with them is Joanne Nolan, a young woman who has just come back into Nicki's life (18 years ago Nicki gave Joanne up for adoption. Nicki was a senior at Holy Innocents High School when she became pregnant; the father was drummer in the school band. Nicki couldn't keep the baby [born at St. Elizabeth's Hospital] and gave her up for adoption. If she had been able to keep the baby she had contemplated calling it Luke for a boy or Lai for a girl). Joanne is a bit unconventional and wants only one thing from Nicole: her real mother's love. When Joanne gets “a bad visual” she says, “Flowers in the field, flowers in the field” to rid her mind of the image. Stories follow the events in Nicole's life as she tries to become the mother she never was.

Cast: Julie Hagerty (Nicole Beck), Kelly DeMartino (Joanne Nolan), Cliff Bemis (Gary Beck), Renee Olstead (Ami Beck).

6856 Revelations. (Series; Mystery; NBC; 2005). Sister Josepha Montafiore is a Catholic nun with the Eckland Foundation in New York City. Her job is to investigate religious phenomena for the church by videotaping her observations. She is a graduate of Kings Theological Seminary and the Oxford School of Theological Studies. She is also the author of the books Prophecy and the New Testament and Miracles, Messiah's and False Profit Revelations: Is This the End of the World at Hand?

Sister Jo, as she is called, is determined to prove the prophecies of the Bible and find the true Jesus Christ to avert an end of the world apocalypse. Sister Jo is accompanied by Dr. Richard Massey, a professor at Harvard University, who believes as she does. Stories follow Sister Jo and Richard as they investigate religious happenings that they believe will lead them to prevent an apocalypse.

Cast: Natascha McElhone (Sister Josepha Montafiore), Bill Pullman (Dr. Richard Massey), Christopher Biggins (Cardinal LaVeigh), John Rhys-Davies (Prof. Jonah Lampley).

6857 Revenge of the Gray Gang. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/20/81). Milo Hoots is a former cop; Reuben Milton is a retired electrician; Daisy “Boots” Duffy is a former Las Vegas croupier; Joe Malcheski is a former wrestler (“Marvello the Monster”) who now tends bar at the Lowdermilk Bar; and Walter Smith is a retired businessman. They are senior citizens who are sick of crime and ban together to do something about it by forming “The Gray Gang” to avenge crimes. The pilot episode depicts their attempts to bust a dog-napping ring that is operating in their Los Angeles neighborhood.

Other Regulars: Officer Francis Hoots, Milo's son; Theodore, Milo's young friend; and Millie, Theodore's mother.

6858 Revlon Mirror Theater. (Series; Anthology; NBC; CBS; 1953). Live dramas broadcast from New York under the sponsorship of Revlon Cosmetics. It ran on NBC from June 23, 1953 to September 1, 1953 and on CBS from September 19, 1953 to December 5, 1953.

Hostess: Robin Chandler. Performers Include: Ronald Reagan, Eddie Albert, Henry Jones, Martha Scott, Georgann Johnson, Eva Marie Saint, Warren Stevens, Darren McGavin, Peggy Ann Garner, Jackie Cooper, Richard Kiley, Joan McCracken, Patricia McCormack, Katherine Bard, Rusty Lane, Joan Crawford, Murray Hamilton, Agnes Moorehead, Betty Lynn, Angela Lansbury, Faith Domergue, Lyle Talbot.

6859 The Revlon Revue. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1960). A weekly series of variety programs tailored to the talents of its hosts. Among the guests who appeared are Mickey Rooney, Peggy Lee, Connie Francis, Dick Shawn, Joey Forman, Jackie Cooper and Maurice Chevalier. The program, sponsored by Revlon Cosmetics, aired from January 28, 1960 to June 16, 1960.

Hostess/Commercial Spokeswoman: Barbara Britton. Announcer: Ralph Storey.

6860 Reward. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/23/80). A proposed series about Michael Dolan, a former San Francisco police officer turned relentless bounty hunter. The pilot episode depicts Dolan's efforts to track down his former partner's murderer. Other Regulars: Christine, Dolan's girlfriend; Captain Randolph; and Dutch, Dolan's friend.

Cast: Michael Parks (Michael Dolan), Annie McEnroe (Christine), Richard Jaeckel (Captain Randolph), Louis Giambalvo (Dutch). Guest Cast: Bridget Hanley (Marie Morella), Malachy McCourt (Jimmy Moran), David Clennon (Steven Rawlin), Andrew Robinson (Frank Morella).

6861 Rewind. (Unaired Series; Comedy; Fox; 1997). Although promoted (to air Thursdays from 8:00 to 8:30 P.M.) and listed in the 1997 fall preview issue of TV Guide, Rewind was cancelled before it actually aired. It was set in Philadelphia as was to follow the life of Rob DiPaulo, a marketing executive with a bad case of déjà vu (many of the experiences he now faces he feels he has faced before as a teenager; seen in flashback sequences to the 1970s). Harv is Rob's best friend (also seen in flashback sequences); Dana is a company executive. The flashback sequences are meant to show that what Rob experienced in the past have helped to make him the man he has become today.

Cast: Scott Baio (Rob DiPaulo), Mystro Clark (Harv), Christine Taylor (Dana), Milo Ventimiglia (Teenage Rob; pilot), Adam Zolton (Teenage Rob; series), DeJuan Guy (Teenage Harv; pilot), Chris Edwards (Teenage Harv; series).

6862 Rewind. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 2005). Ryan Paul James, Gigi Orsillo and Gina Thompson host a program that spotlights the best in Christian music videos (groups and solo singers) from the 1980s and 90s.

6863 Rewrite for Murder. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 9/14/91). Carolyn Hudson is a television writer who created the series Miss Markham Mysteries. Nick Bianco is an ex-con novelist who has penned several books featuring a rude, crude and street smart detective named Biff Brannigan. When Carolyn's series begins to falter in the ratings, her producer (Buddy) hires Nick to co-write the show. He changes the name to Love and Bullets and teams Biff with the prim and proper "I have no first name" Miss Markham. The unsold series was to focus on Carolyn and Nick as they become involved in real life crimes while seeking story material — and trying to solve crimes as their fictional characters would. Other Regulars: Al, Nick's publisher (at Purity Press), Howard, Carolyn's secretary; and Police Lieutenant Nelson Reiderman.

Cast: Pam Dawber (Carolyn Hudson), George Clooney (Nick Bianco), Greg Germann (Buddy Shapiro), Ken Swofford (Al Barbar), Patrick Bristow (Howard), Dennis Lipscomb (Nelson Reiderman), John Vernon (Claude; guest role).

6864 Rex Harrison Presents Short Stories of Love. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 5/1/74). A proposed series of romantic short stories by famous authors. The pilot episode presents three stories: In Kurt Vonnegut Jr.'s "Epicac," a computer engineer attempts to win the affections of a programmer by sending her love poems composed by Epicac, a military computer. The second story, "Kiss Me Again, Stranger" (by Daphne Du Maurier), tells of a lonely veteran's eerie romance with a murderer. In "The Fortunate Painter" by William Somerset Maugham, a father schemes to help his daughter marry a penniless artist.

Host: Rex Harrison. Cast (“Epicac”): Bill Bixby (William Vandemere), Julie Sommars (Patricia Kilmullen), Roscoe Lee Browne (Mr. Secretary), David Sheiner (Ed), Soon-Tech Oh (Mr. Kim). Cast (“Kiss Me Again Stranger”): Leonard Nimoy (Mick), Juliet Mills (Usherette), Donald Moffat (Fred), Diane Webster (Doris), Eric Christmas (Proprietor), Veronica Anderson (Usherette). Cast (“The Fortunate Painter”): Lorne Greene (Hercule), Agnes Moorehead (Hercule’s wife), Lloyd Bochner (David), Alan Hale, Jr. (Walter), Jess Walton (Angelique), Lawrence Casey (Charlie).

6865 Rex Reed’s Movie Guide. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1980). Film reviews coupled with celebrity interviews hosted by film critic Rex Reed.

6866 Rheingold Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1955). Dramatic productions under the sponsorship of Rheingold Beer.

6867 Rhoda. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1974–1978). A spin-off from The Mary Tyler Moore Show (where Rhoda Morganstern was Mary Richards’ best friend, a window dresser at Hemphill’s Department Store).

New York City is the setting. Here, Rhoda finds a new life after marrying Joe Gerard, owner of the New York Wrecking Company. Rhoda is still a window dresser and has established her own business, Windows By Rhoda. Incidents in the lives of the marrieds were depicted for two years.

When Joe and Rhoda divorce in 1976, the format switched to focus on Rhoda as a single woman and her various romantic misadventures. She has also given up her company and now works as a designer for the Doyle Costume Company in Manhattan. Joe and Rhoda lived at 332 West 46th Street in Manhattan.

Other regulars are Brenda Morganstern, Rhoda’s sister, a bank teller; Ida and Martin Morganstern, Rhoda’s parents; Carlton, the never-seen doorman; Mae, Joe’s bookkeeper; Justin Culp, Joe’s partner; Nolan Arthur, Joe’s partner; Sally Gallagher, Rhoda’s friend; Nick Lobo, Brenda’s friend; Lenny Fielder, Brenda’s friend; Gary Levy, Brenda’s ex-boyfriend; Donny Gerard, Joe’s son (from a previous marriage to Marian) Doris, Marian’s housekeeper; Jack Doyle, Rhoda’s boss; Ramon Diaz, Jack’s assistant; Benny Goodwin, Brenda’s boyfriend (later); Myrna Morganstein, Tina Molinari and Johnny Venture, Rhoda’s friends; Mr. Pennick, Rhoda’s landlord (at Windows By Rhoda); Charlie Burke, Joe’s friend; Paul and Ruth Gerard, Joe’s parents.

Rhoda opens the show: “My name is Rhoda Morganstern, I was born in the Bronx, New York in December of 1941. I’ve always felt responsible for World War II. The first thing I remember liking that liked me back was food. I had a bad puberty — it lasted 17 years. I’m a high school graduate. I went to art school; my entrance exam was on a book of matches. I decided to move out of the house when I was 24. My mother still refers to this as the time I ran away from home. Eventually I ran to Minneapolis where it’s cold and I figured I’d keep better. Now I’m back in Manhattan — New York, this is your last chance.”

Cast: Valerie Harper (Rhoda Morganstern), Julie Kavner (Brenda Morganstern), David Groh (Joe Gerard), Nancy Walker (Ida Morganstern), Harold Gould (Martin Morganstern), Lorenzo Music (Voice of Carlton the Doorman), Cara Williams (Mae), Candice Azzara (Alice Barth), Scoey Mitchell (Justin Culp), Bill Zuckert (Nolan Arthur), Anne Meara (Sally Gallagher), Richard Masur (Nick Lobo), Wes Stern (Lenny Fielder), Ron Silver (Gary Levy), Todd Turquand (Donny Gerard), Shane Sinutko (Donny Gerard; later), Joan Van Ark (Marian Gerard), Cynthia Towne (Doris), Kenneth McMillan (Jack Doyle), Rafael Campos (Ramon Diaz), Ray Buktenica (Benny Goodwin), Barbara Sharma (Myrna Morganstein), Nancy Lane (Tina Molinari), Michael DeLano (Johnny Venture), Will MacKenzie (Mr. Pennick), Ruth Gordon (Carlton’s Mother), Richard Staahl (Charlie Burke), Robert Alda (Paul Gerard), Paula Victor (Ruth Gerard). Theme Song: “Rhoda’s Theme” by Billy Goldenberg.

6868 Rhyme and Reason. (Series; Game; ABC; 1975–1976). The first line of a rhyming phrase is read and each of the two contestants who compete writes down a word that rhymes with the last word of the phrase. One player chooses one celebrity (from six guests who appear) who must make up a word to complete the phrase. If the celebrity uses the same word as the contestant, the contestant scores two points; if the celebrity matches the opponent, the opponent receives one point. Three points are awarded per game and the first player to win two games is the champion and receives $500.

Host: Bob Eubanks. Regulars: Nipsey Russell, Conny Van Dyke, Jaye P. Morgan, Charlie Brill, Pat Harrington, Frank Gorshin, Jamie Farr. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

6869 Rhythm. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 10/24/44). The program explores the subject of ballet dancing through demonstrations and discussions.

Performers: Anita Carroll, George Leon, Margaret

Severn, The Leon Dancers, The United Nations Folk Dancers.

6870 Rhythm and Blues. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1992). WBLZ radio is the voice of black Detroit. But the once profitable station has fallen on hard times through the mismanagement of Veronica Washington, the wife of the late station owner, who took on the responsibility of running the station. Hoping to get the station back on its feet again, Veronica hires, sight unseen, Bobby Soul, a D.J. she believes is right for the job. Bobby, however, is white, but is talented and can sound like a black D.J. His efforts to prove he has the “Rhythm and Blues” and can help WBLZ make it back to the top are the focal point of the series.

Bobby's real name is Robert Botticher, Jr. He was born in Bloomfield Hills and wanted to be Bobby Soul, king of the D.J.s (as a kid, Bobby would listen to WBLZ on an inexpensive transistor radio and grew up loving black music). Bobby lives at the Liberty Hotel, later at the Fairview Apartments on Ridley Avenue. He has a cat (Gilligan), two fish (Shamoo and Tutu) and a canary (Aretha).

Collette Hawkins is WBLZ's beautiful program director. She is a graduate of Wellesley College and lives at 0730 Damon Street. Don Phillips is the sales manager. He is a former singer and member of the Five Tops (Don threatened to leave unless he was made the lead singer; he wasn't, and they became the Four Tops). The Love Man hosts a program of romantic music and speaks in the third person (“The Love Man says...”).

Veronica was married for 15 years; she lives in Highland Park; the station's slogan is “We play the hits”; WTRX is WBLZ's main competition. Mother Love played Veronica in the unaired pilot version of the series. Monty Seward composed the “Rhythm and Blues” theme.

Cast: Anna Maria Horsford (Veronica Washington), Roger Kabler (Bobby Soul), Vanessa Bell Calloway (Collette Hawkins), Ron Glass (Don Phillips), Troy Curvey, Jr. (The Love Man).

6871 The Rich List. (Series; Game; Fox; 2006). Two two-member teams compete (supposedly, each member of each team is a stranger to the other and were teamed by fate). A category is displayed (for example, “Top 50 Broadway Shows,” “Top 50 Most Read American Newspapers”). Each team bids on how many entries they can name. The team with the highest bid receives the opportunity to do just that. If the team bids, for example, 40, and names 40 of the 50 items in the category, they score money; if, however, they fail to do so, the opposing team wins the money. Each new category is worth more money than the previous category with a limit of a possible one million dollar jackpot. Teams have the option of quitting and leaving with the money they have won after each round or risk everything for the top prize. The series was cancelled after the first telecast (November 1, 2006).

Host: Eamonn Holmes.

6872 The Rich Little Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1976). Music, songs and comedy with impressionist Rich Little as the host. Rich Eustis and Al Rogers are the producers.

Host: Rich Little. Regulars: Julie McWhirter, Charlotte Rae, Joe Baker, R.G. Brown, Mel Bishop. Orchestra: Robert E. Hughes.

Cast: Peter Strauss (Rudy Jordache), Nick Nolte (Tom Jordache), Susan Blakely (Julie Prescott), Edward Asner (Axel Jordache), Dorothy McGuire (Mary Jordache), Kay Lenz (Kate Jordache), Willie Aames (Wesley Jordache), Michael Morgan (Wesley Jordache; older), Gloria Grahame (Sue Prescott), William Smith (Bill Falconetti), Bill Bixby (Willie Abbott), Ray Milland (Duncan Calderwood), Kim Darby (Virginia Calderwood), Robert Reed (Teddy Boylan), Lynda Day George (Linda Quales), Tim McIntire (Brad Knight), Norman Fell (Smitty), Van Johnson (Marsh Goodwin), Dorothy Malone (Irene Goodwin), Herb Jefferson, Jr. (Rod Dwyer), Murray Hamilton (Sid Gossett), Andrew Duggan (Colonel Bainbridge), Steve Allen (Bayard Nichols), Leigh McCloskey (Billy), Gavan O'Herlihy (Phil McGee), Helen Craig (Martha), Harvey Jason (Pinky), Ed Barth (Papadakis), Roy Jenson (Pete Tierney), Jo Ann Harris (Gloria Bartley), Lawrence Pressman (Bill Denton), Julius Harris (Augie), Bo Brundin (Harold Jordache), Dennis Dugan (Claude Tinker), Dick Butkus (Al Fanducci), Craig Stevens (Asher Berg), Frank Aletter (Mr. Tinker), George Maharis (Joey Quales), Mike Evans (Arnold Simms), Talia Shire (Teresa Santoro).

6874 Rich Man, Poor Man — Book II. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1976–1977). A continuation of the prior title that focuses in particular on the life of Rudy Jordache, now a U.S. Senator.

Cast: Peter Strauss (Rudy Jordache), Kay Lenz (Kate Jordache), Susan Sullivan (Maggie Porter), Penny Peyser (Ramona Scott), Gregg Henry (Wesley Jordache), James Carroll Jordan (Billy Abbott), William Smith (Bill Falconetti), Kimberly Beck (Diane Porter), John Anderson (Mr. Scott), Peter Haskell (Charles Estep), Laraine Stephens (Claire Estep), Herb Jefferson, Jr. (Rod Dwyer), Van Johnson (Marsh Goodwin), Dimitra Arliss (Marie Falconetti), Sorrell Booke (Phil Greenberg), Cassie Yates (Annie Adams), Peter Donat (Arthur Raymond), G.D. Spradlin (Senator Dillon), Barry Sullivan (Senator Paxton), Joan Tompkins (Mrs. Rowe), Colleen Camp (Vickie St. John), Philip Abbott (John Franklin), Richard X. Slattery (Jake Logan).

6875 The Richard Boone Show. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1963–1964). Dramatic presentations featuring a regular cast of performers (but a different story each week). The series ran from September 24, 1963 to September 15, 1964.

Host: Richard Boone. Regulars: Harry Morgan, Laura Devon, Robert Blake, Warren Stevens, Bethel Leslie, June Harding, Guy Stockwell, Lloyd Bochner, Suzanne Caputo (now known as Morgan Brittany), Ford Rainey. Theme Song: “How Soon” by Henry Mancini, Al Stillman.

6876 Richard Diamond, Private Detective. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; NBC; 1957–1960). Richard Diamond is a handsome, New York–based private detective with an office in mid-Manhattan. Diamond, a former officer with the 5th Precinct of the N.Y.P.D., charges $100 a day plus expenses; if a beautiful girl is in trouble and can’t afford that, he lowers his price to $50 a day.

Diamond lives at the Savoy Hotel, reads the New York Chronicle and doesn’t come to the office on Tuesdays. He claims that a private eye is only as good as his snitches and pays these people as much as $10 for information.

Richard doesn’t have a secretary but he does have an assistant — Sam, a gorgeous, sexy-voiced girl who operates the Hi-Fi Answering Service. Richard has never seen Sam; “the only thing I know about her is what she tells me — and that ain’t much.” Samuel, as Richard sometimes calls Sam, is situated in a dimly lit room near her switchboard that is designed to accentuate her shapely legs, slim waist and well developed bust. Sam’s face is never clearly seen; she wears tight blouses and sweaters and slit skirts or dresses raised just enough to show the needed bit of thigh. She wears the then famous “torpedo bra” (38B) and size ten stockings, medium length.

Sam answers Richard’s office calls on the fourth ring. When Sam calls Richard she says, “It’s me, Mr. D.” Richard concludes his conversations with her with “As usual, Samuel, thank you.” Diamond also receives clients from Sam; “Richard, I have a friend who needs help — a female friend.” Lt. Dennis “Mac” McGough is his police contact.

The series is later set in Los Angeles (NBC, 1959–60). His police department contact is Pete Kile, a lieutenant who calls him Rick. Karen Wells is Richard’s girlfriend. Pete Rugolo composed the theme “Richard Diamond.”

Note: The series was syndicated in the 1960s as Call Mr. D. The theme and its entire musical background were changed. There is no credit for the revised music and the opening visuals were also changed. In Richard Diamond, Diamond is seen running here and there as the theme music plays. He approaches the camera and lights a cigarette. In Call Mr. D., a figure is seen in a darkened alley. As the new theme plays, he walks forward and lights a cigarette; we see that it is Richard Diamond.

6877 The Richard Pryor Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1977). Various comedy sketches that spotlight the comedic talents of Richard Pryor. Burt Sugarman and Rocco Urbisci are the producers.

Host: Richard Pryor. Regulars: Paula Kelly, Jeff Corey, Sam Laws, Juanita Moore, Charles Fleischer, Jimmy Martinez, The Chuck Davis Dancers. Orchestra: Johnny Pate.

6878 The Richard Simmons Show. (Series; Health; Syn.; 1981). Health advice, care and nutritional guidance. The program, aimed primarily at overweight women, also features skits, cooking and on-the-air exercises with the studio audience.

Host: Richard Simmons.

6879 Richard Simmons Slim Cooking. (Series; Health; Syn.; 1987). Health guru Richard Simmons presents a program of dieting tips and low-calorie meal preparation.

6880 Richard the Lion Heart. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1963). Twelfth Century England is the setting for a not widely seen program about King Richard the Lion Heart — from his participation in the Crusades, to his capture in Austria to his final return to England.

Cast: Dermot Walsh (King Richard).

6881 The Riches. (Series; Drama; FX; 2007). The Malloys are an Irish-American family from a backwoods town in Louisiana who now live in a motor home and are drifting across the South surviving on scams. Wayne is the father; Dahlia, his wife, and Cael (17 years old), Di Di (16) and Sam (10) are their children.

Wayne is a master thief (steals whatever he can to support his family); Dahlia, addicted to drugs, has just been released from prison; Di Di is like her mother — hot to trot (but not hooked on drugs); Cael is a whiner; Sam is somewhat insecure. Life changes for the Malloys when their RV runs a car off the road and, in the ensuing crash, the wealthy couple in the car — the Riches — are killed. The Riches were, as their name implies, wealthy, and on their way to begin a new life (and apparently have no family as nobody seems to miss them). Wayne hits on the idea of assuming their identities and living the good life (with Wayne assuming the role of a corporate lawyer in a real estate firm). The rather far-fetched drama follows the Malloys, now the Riches, as they experience the pitfalls of the glamorous life (as well as their struggles to keep their real identities as secret).

Cast: Eddie Izzard (Wayne Malloy), Minnie Driver (Dahlia Malloy), Shannon Woodward (Di Di Malloy), Noel Fisher (Cael Malloy), Aidan Mitchell (Sam Malloy), Gregg Henry (Hugh Panetta), Nichole Hiltz (Ginny Dannegan), Deidre Henry (Aubie McDonald), Stephen Sowan (Erich), Johanna Braddy (Tammy Simms), Teresa Huang (Kimmy), Todd Stashwick (Dale Malone).

6882 Richie Brockelman, Private Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1978). “Richard Brockelman — Private Investigator” is the name on his office door (number 24 in the Bromley Building at 4th and Alameda in Los Angeles); “Brockelman Detective Agency” is how his secretary, Sharon Peterson, answers the phone.

Richie Brockelman is 23 years old. He has more nerve than know-how and is listed in the Yellow Pages. “I charge $200 a day plus expenses, but I normally don’t get it,” he says. He lives at 8410 North Turtle Dove Drive. If there is a problem at the office and Richie is not present, Sharon signals Richie by placing her fern on the fire escape (he has a back office with one window that leads to the fire escape). Richie’s office is next to Chelsea Antiques and opposite the El Royale Motel.

Ted Coopersmith, whom Richie calls “Smitty,” is the L.A.P.D. sergeant Richie involves in his cases; Ronnie is Richie’s police department information girl (Richie calls her Ronnie and she is credited as “Police Woman Ronnie”).

A spin-off from The Rockford Files, and the pilot, Richie Brockelman: Missing 24 Hours, aired on NBC on 10/27/76. Stephen Geyes and Herb Pederson composed the theme, “School’s Out.”

Cast: Dennis Dugan (Richie Brockelman), Barbara Bosson (Sharon Peterson), Robert Hogan (Sgt. Ted Coopersmith), Melanie Chartoff (Ronnie), Helen Page Camp (Richie’s mother), John Randolph (Richie’s father), Norman Fell (Richie’s father; pilot).

6883 The Richie Rich Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1980–1982). The town of Rill Hill is where Richie Rich, the world’s richest youngster lives. His father is George Rich; Dollar is his dog; and Irona is the their maid; Gloria, Reggie Van Dough and Freckles are Richie’s friends. Stories relate the problems that befall a rich kid as he tries to be just a normal, everyday kid attending school and having fun with his friends.

Voice Cast: Sparky Marcus (Richie Rich), Stanley

Jones (George Rich), Joan Gerber (Richie’s Mother), Frank Welker (Dollar), Nancy Cartwright (Gloria), Joan Gerber (Irona), Dick Beals (Reggie Van Dough), Christian Hoff (Freckles).

6884 Rick Moranis in Gravedale High. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1990). Gravedale High School is as eerie as its name implies. It is a school for monsters — like those that frequented the movie screens in the 1930s and 1940s (from Frankenstein to the Wolfman). Only here they are friendly and only seeking to get an education (and like all teenagers, getting into mischief).

Max Schneider is the school’s unique teacher. He is the only human employee — or human, period. While Max appears to have no qualms about the situation, either do the students (who believe they are normal and everyone else is abnormal; they enjoy normal activities and are totally unaware they are terrifying everyone who sees them). Miss Webner, Mr. Tutner and Miss Dirge are other ghoul teachers; Cadaver is the school’s athletic coach; students include Frankentyke, Gill Waterman (son of the Creature from the Black Lagoon), Boneyard, Cleofatra, Sid the Invisible Kid, Vinnie Stoker and Medusa.

6885 The Ricki Lake Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1993–2003). A daily series that attempts to be different by presenting controversial issues with guests from both sides discussing it with one-on-one involvement from members of the studio audience.

Host: Ricki Lake.

6886 Riddle at 24,000. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 3/14/74). A proposed spin-off from Ironside (to be called Dr. Domingo) about Juan Domingo, a small town physician with a knack for finding trouble. In the pilot episode, Juan joins forces with his friend, Chief of Detectives Robert Ironside, to solve the mysterious death of a man who died while flying a plane. Other Regulars: Big Sue, Juan’s assistant; and police Lieutenant Mark Carter.

Cast: Desi Arnaz (Dr. Juan Domingo), Linda Foster (Big Sue), L.Q. Jones (Mark Carter). Guest Cast: Patricia Smith (Laura Blaine), Ralph Meeker (Westcott), Dolores Dorn (Mrs. Wescott), Raymond Burr (Robert Ironside).

6887 Riders in the Sky. (Series; Children; CBS; 1991–1992). The Riders in the Sky are cowboys who enforce the law in Tumbleweed City. They are based at the Harmony Ranch (which gives them the opportunity to sing) and stories follow the Riders as they attempt to keep the peace. Live action is coupled with puppet characters. Children in the viewing audience are called Saddle Pals.

Ranger Doug is the leader of the Riders. His team consists of Too Slim and Woody Paul. Ranger Doug rides a horse named Turbo. Princess is the Indian girl; Sourdough is the ranch hand; Slocum is a bad guy who hates it when the good guys win; Sheriff Burp (puppet) is the town's lawman; Muley and Axl are the other ranch hands; Annie Oakes, a puppet, is a sharpshooter; and Calamity, also a puppet, is a young girl who is accident prone. The puppet hang-out is the Wild West Puppet Saloon.

Cast: Riders in the Sky (Themselves), Dawanna Murrell (Princess), Patrick Bistow (Sourdough), D.J. Turner (Slocum), Jim Dougham (Muley), Stan Kirsch (Axl), Lynne Stewart (Voice of Annie Oakes), Julianne Duescher (Voice of Calamity), Kevin Carlson (Voice of Sheriff Burp).

6888 The Riders of the Purple Sage. (Unaired Pilot; Variety; Produced in 1956). Western singer Foy Willing and the Riders of the Purple Sage perform songs about cowboys and the west (which are seen as primitive videos—scenes of the west). Other than the host and lead singer, Foy Willing, no other information appears on the screen. The following songs were performed: “How I Love the Prairie,” “Ridin’ Down That Old Texas Trail,” “Wind,” “Cowboy’s Heaven,” “Cimarron Roll On,” “Following the Sun All Day,” “At the Rainbow’s End,” “Sing Cowboy Sing,” “The Touch of God’s Hand,” “The Dreary Black Hills,” “There’s a Blue Sky a Way Out Yonder.”

6889 Riding for the Pony Express. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 9/3/80). A look at the life and times of Pony Express riders as seen through the adventures of Jed Beechum and Albie Foreman, riders who often help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Josh and Albie become involved in a venture to find water for the drought-stricken town of Layover. Other Regulars: Irving, the express agent; and riders Billy and Willy.

Cast: John Hammond (Jed Beechum), Harry Crosby (Albie Foreman), Victor French (Irving G. Peacock), Glenn Withrow (Billy Bloss), Richard Lineback (Willy Gomes). Guest Cast: Susan Myers (Nancy Durfee), Byron Morrow (Reverend Slaughtert), Philip Baker Hall (Mr. Durfee), Alex Kubik (Blue Hawk), Del Hinkley (Seth Coleman).

6890 Riding High. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/25/77). Hollywood in the 1930s is the setting for a comic tale about Lewis Tater, a fledgling screenwriter who takes a job as a stuntman with Tumbleweed Productions to make ends meet. Other Regulars: Wendy, his girlfriend; Howard, the studio head; Bert, Howard’s assistant; Stuntmen Sid and Wally; Lyle, the western motion picture star; and Bear, Lyle’s aide.

Cast: Charles Frank (Lewis Tater), Wendy Phillips (Wendy Trout), Lonny Chapman (Howard Pike), Allan Miller (Bert Kessler), Don Calfa (Sid), Bill Hart (Wally), Allen Case (Lyle Montana), Pat Cranshaw (Bear).

6891 The Rifleman. (Series; Western; ABC; 1958–1963). Four miles south of the town of North Fork, New Mexico (1860s) is the old Dunlap Ranch, a 4,100-acre spread that is now owned by Lucas McCain and his young son, Mark. Lucas is a widower, and he left his home in “the Nations” to begin a new life after the death of his wife. Stories follow their lives as ranchers and Lucas as he helps town marshal Micah Torrance maintain the peace.

In the Nations, Lucas was called “the Rifleman,” the fastest man with a .44–40 hair-trigger action rifle with a special hoop lever (which allows normal firing when a special screw is loose, rapid firing when the screw is tightened). In the opening theme, Lucas fires 12 shots; the rifle can fire eight times in two-and-a-half seconds. Lucas’s horse is named Razor; Blue Boy is Mark’s horse.

Eddie Holstead owns the Madera House Hotel; Lou Mallory owns the Mallory House Hotel; Millie Scott runs the general store (originally owned by Hattie Denton); Sweeney is the Last Chance Saloon bartender; Nils Svenson is the blacksmith; Angus is the gunsmith; Ruth and Betty are the hotel waitresses; John Hamilton is the banker.

6892 Right or Rewrite. (Live Test Program; Game; CBS; 5/16/46). A short dramatic skit is performed on stage. The host then reads an account of that skit from a newspaper to a selected member of the studio audience. The printed story contains several factual errors. The player must catch as many errors as possible. Four such rounds are played and the contestant who caught the most errors wins a year's subscription to a daily newspaper.

Host: Dick Eastham. Skit Actors: Gretchen Davidson, Doreen Lang, Dick Wilde.

6893 The Righteous Apples. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1980–1980). The social awareness series, set in Boston, focuses on the activities of the Righteous Apples, five Sherwin High School musicians (Samuel, Sandy, J.T., Glorette and Charles), who in today's troubled world, help people in distress. Mrs. Kent is the school principal; Mr. Shelbourne is a featured teacher.

Cast: Joey Camen (Samuel "D.C." Rosencrantz), Elizabeth Daily (Sandy Burns), Bob Harcum (J.T.), Kutee (Glorette Carson), Mykelti Williamson (Charles "Big Neck" McMorris), Mary Gregory (Mrs. Kent), Rene LeVant (Mr. Shellbourne).

6894 Riker. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1981). In an attempt to place an undercover cop on the streets, Bryce Landis, the Deputy District Attorney of San Francisco, recruits Frank Riker for the job. Stories are planted in the press that portrays Riker as an outcast cop who was asked to resign for his unorthodox methods. Riker is tough, does what he wants and takes nothing from anyone. Stories follow Riker as he performs dangerous undercover assignments for Landis.

Cast: Josh Taylor (Frank Riker), Michael Shannon (Bryce Landis).

6895 Rimfire. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 2/19/68). A proposed spin-off from The Big Valley about Dave Barrett, sheriff of the ruthless gold mining town of Rimfire. In the pilot episode, Dave helps Jarrod Barkley (from The Big Valley) protect a young Chinese couple (Wong and Ling) from a ruthless businessman (Sidney Glover) who is seeking their mine.

Cast: Van Williams (Dave Barrett). Guest Cast: John Daniels (Daniel Barrett), Robert Middleton (Sidney Glover), Mako (Wong Lo), Lisa Lu (Ling Lo), Alexander Lockwood (Judge Power), Richard Long (Jarrod Barkley).

6896 Rin Tin Tin, K-9 Cop. (Series; Crime Drama; CBN; 1988–1991). Rin Tin Tin is a German shepherd that became famous in a series of theatrical films and a TV series (The Adventures of Rin Tin Tin). In 1988 Canada produced a TV series called Katts and Dog. Here Hank Katts is a canine police officer who has been teamed with a crime fighting dog named Rudy. When CBN (the now defunct Christian Broadcasting cable network) decided to air the series in the U.S., two dramatic changes were made. The title was changed to Rin Tin Tin, K-9 Cop and Rinty, the nickname for the dog in the 1950s TV series, was dubbed over Rudy (expertly too). Figuring on having a U.S. audience, the producers also never intentionally identified a specific locale (Officer Katts is with the Bay City Police Department in what appears to be the Pacific Northwest). The police uniforms have also been designed to appear as both belonging to the U.S. or Canadian police departments. Stories follow Hank and Rinty as they uphold the peace.

Other regulars (in addition to the officers listed in the cast) are Maggie Katts, Hank's widowed sister-in-law; and Stevie Katts, Maggie's son.

Cast: Jesse Collins (Off. Hank Katts), Cali Timmins (Maggie Katts), Andrew Bennarski (Stevie Katts), Phillip Jarrett (Sgt. O.C. Phillips), Corrine Kelso (Off. Ginnie Booth), Nancy Anne Sakovich (Off. Leah McCrary), Ken Pogue (Capt. Cullen Murdoch), Brian Kaulback (Off. Dennis Brian), Denise Virieux (Off. Renee Daumier).

6897 The Ringling Brothers Circus. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 5/3/46). A CBS telecast of the entire Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus show from Madison Square Garden in New York City. Gil Fates was the host and narrated the entire two-and-a-half hour show; Bob Benedick directed the live, remote telecast. On April 7 and April 11, 1948, CBS again telecast the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus with the commentary of Gil Fates. Here the programs ran for 210 minutes each.

Jim and Ted are also trained smokejumpers and medics, and they assist authorities when skydiving into a disaster may be the only way to rescue people. "The Ripcord Plane," as Jim and Ted call it, has the I.D. number N32201. The plane's pilots were Chuck Lambert and, later, Charlie Kern, who called the plane "Old Betsy." (The actual pilot was real life pilot Cliff Winters). Warren Barker composed the theme.

Cast: Ken Curtis (Jim Buckley), Larry Pennell (Ted McKeever), Paul Comi (Chuck Lambert), Shug Fisher (Charlie Kern).

6899 Ripley's Believe It or Not. (Series; Reality; ABC; 1982–1986). Robert L. Ripley was a man who explored the world seeking odd people, places and events. In 1918 he began a newspaper column ("Believe It or Not") that was adapted to radio and television (see Believe It or Not). This version of the series presents the strange side of life as envisioned by Ripley but expanded beyond his wildest dreams by the technology that has been developed since. See the next title also.

Host: Jack Palance (1982–1986). Hostess: Cathie Shirriff (1982–1983), Holly Palance (1983–1985), Marie Osmond (1985–1986). Theme Music: Henry Mancini.

6900 Ripley's Believe It or Not. (Series; Reality; TBS; 1999–2003). Michael "Rip" Ripley is the nephew of Robert L. Ripley, a man who traveled the world to record odd people, places and events. Michael has followed in his uncle's footsteps and filmed the oddities that exist. Cyril Barker, his uncle's former assistant, and Samantha Seaver, his archivist, assist him. The series presents the believe it or not people, places and events they discover. See also Believe It or Not and the prior title.

Cast: Teddy Lee Dillon (Michael "Rip" Ripley), Rick Jones (Cyril Barker), Jennifer Morehouse (Samantha Seaver).

6901 Riptide. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1965). Moss Andrews is captain of the charter boat service, Riptide, Incorporated. He is based in Bermuda and stories follows his adventures with the various people who hire his services.

Cast: Ty Hardin (Moss Andrews), Jacki Hickmont (His Secretary).

6902 Riptide. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1984–1986). Pier 53 Investigations is a private detective company run by three friends: Cody Allen, Nick Ryder and Murray ("Boz") Bozinsky. It is located at Slip 7, Pier 56, in King Harbor in southern California. The agency is later called Riptide Investigations (a.k.a. the Riptide Detective Agency to reflect the name of their houseboat and office, the Riptide). They have a motorboat (Ebbtide) and a pink helicopter called the Screaming Mimi. Murray has a robot called "The Roboz," and their friend, Mama Jo runs a cruise ship called The Contessa. The Straightaways Restaurant (run by Max) is the gang's hangout.

Ted Quinlan and Joanna Parisi are lieutenants with the King Harbor Police Department; Melba Bozinsky is Boz's sister; Tammy, Debbie, Bambi and Kimba are Mama Jo's crew; Kirk is the dock boy; Angelo and his daughter, Gionanna, are oceanographers; Myron Bell is the con artist; Gloria Burghoff is the FBI agent.

Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed the "Riptide" theme.

Cast: Christopher Barnes (Andy Cooper), Joey Green (Richard Moore), Jonah Pesner (Chris Dobbs), Scott Schutzman (Joel Beidermeyer), Eric Schiff (Stanley Deerborn), Claudia Wells (Patsy D'Allisandro), DaCarla Kilpatrick (Carla), Jayne Meadows (Mrs. Moffett), Art Metrano (Mr. Tillman), Jeannie Fitzsimmons (Hope Kelly).

6904 Risko. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 5/9/76). A proposed series about Joe Risko, a street-wise ex-con who works as a legman for attorney Allen Burnett. The pilot episode relates Joe's efforts to create a courtroom defense for Tom Grainger, a racing car driver charged with murder.

Cast: Gabriel Dell (Joe Risko), Joel Fabiani (Allen Burnett). Guest Cast: Peter Haskell (Pollack), Norman Fell (Max), Joyce DeWitt (Sharon), Karen Machon (Marie), Hilary Thompson (Maggie), Barbara Sharma (Jenny), Paul Hampton (Tom Grainger), Laraine Stephens (Susan Grainger).

6905 Rita. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/13/86). Rita Toys is a small toy manufacturing company owned by Rita Barnes and run from her apartment in Manhattan. The unsold series was to focus on Rita's misadventures as she and her family (her husband, Max, and children, Mandy, Adrian and Nicky) pitch in to make the company a success. In the pilot episode, Rita seeks an office in the city but finds she enjoys working at home.

Cast: Rita Moreno (Rita Barnes), Barry Primus (Max Barnes), April Lerman (Mandy Barnes), Mollie Hall (Adrian Barnes), Jeremy Scheim (Nicky Barnes), Ruth Jaroslow (Mrs. G., their housekeeper).

6906 The Rita Moreno Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/2/78). When her acting career takes a turn for the worse, Marie Constanza takes a job as the social director of a rundown hotel in Pennsylvania to sustain herself. Several weeks later, when the owner dies, Marie finds that she has inherited the hotel and a truckload of problems. The unsold series was to focus on Marie and her sister, Carol, as they attempt to run the hotel. The pilot episode establishes the storyline as Marie takes on her new responsibilities. Other Regulars: Leo, the chef; and Mr. Gladstone, the owner of the rival hotel.

Cast: Rita Moreno (Marie Constanza), Kathy Bendett (Carol Constanza), Victor Buono (Leo), Louis Nye (Mr. Gladstone). Guest Cast: Bert Rosario (Esteban), Kit McDonough (Miss Forbush), Ron Ver-nan (Mr. Leopold), Shirley Mitchell (Doris), Lee Bryant (Mrs. Kleppner).

6907 Ritual of Evil. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 2/23/70). The second of two pilot films (see also Fear No Evil) that eventually lead to the 1972 ABC series "The Sixth Sense." The story of Dr. David Sorell, a psychiatrist who investigates crimes involving the supernatural. In the pilot episode, Dr. Sorell and his assistant, Harry Snowden, attempt to solve the mysterious death of a young heiress.

Cast: Louis Jourdan (David Sorell), Wilfrid Hyde-White (Harry Snowden). Guest Cast: Anne Baxter (Jolene Wiley), Diana Hyland (Leila Barton), John McMartin (Edward Bolander), Georg Stanford Brown (Larry Richmond), Carla Borelli (Aline Wiley), Belinda J. Montgomery (Loey Wiley).

6908 Rituals. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1984). A daily soap opera, that set in Washington, D.C., focuses on the lives of the students and faculty of Winfield, an exclusive women's college.

Cast: Jo Ann Pflug (Taylor Chase), Monte Markham (Carter Robertson), Dennis Patrick (Patrick Chase), Christine Jones (Christina Robertson), Andrea Moar (Julia Field), Claire Yarlett (Dakota Lane), Mary Beth Evans (Dakota Lane; replaced Claire), Gina Gallego (Diandra Santiago), George Lazenby (Logan Williams), Kevin Blair (Tom Gallagher), Lorinne Vozoff (Sarah), Greg Mullavey (Eddie), Karen Kelly (Noelle Gallagher), Sharon Farrell (Cherry Lane), Marc Poppel (Brady Chapin), Philece Sampler (Lacey Jarrett), Kin Shriner (Mike Gallagher), Ketty Lester (Maddie Washington), Anthony Van Eyck (Dr. Brooks), Dan Chambers (Josh), Cameron Smith (Bernhardt Kraus), Shannon Terhune (Muffy), Kelly Bennett (Michelle Davenport), Jack MacBeth (Sammy Loakes), Patti Gilbert (Katherine Vance), Jill White (Nicole), Steve Dart (Ken), Winifred Freedman (Patty Kraus), Dani Yomtov (Baby Katie), Chip Fry (Larry Burns), Anthony Ponzini (Detective Gates).

6909 Rivak, the Barbarian. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 10/4/60). The pilot episode for a projected series to be called The Barbarians (it is also the most expensive pilot produced at the time; it cost NBC $750,000). It is set in the third century, B.C., and tells the story of Rivak, a Celtic prince and Roman Gladiator during the Punic Wars between Carthage and Rome. Based on the novel by F. Van Wyck Mason and filmed on location in Italy.

Cast: Jack Palance (Rivak), Milly Vitale (Princess Tiratha), Melody O'Brien (Creoda), Guy Rolfe, Austin Willis, Richard Wylser.

6910 Riverboat. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1959–1961). The Mississippi and Missouri rivers during the 1840s is the setting. Grey Holden is a ship's captain who wins a riverboat, the Enterprise, in a poker game. The boat, however, has been a losing proposition for its prior owner. Stories follow Grey as he attempts to acquire freight and passengers and make the boat profitable. Ben Frazer (later Bill Blake) is the pilot; Brad Turner appeared as the ship's captain in two episodes (February 29th and March 7, 1960); Jimmy "Chip" Kessler is the cabin boy; Pickalong is the cook; Terry Blake is the assistant pilot and Joshua and Carney are crew members. The Enterprise is a one hundred foot-long Mississippi paddle wheeler.

Cast: Darren McGavin (Grey Holden), Dan Duryea (Brad Turner), Burt Reynolds (Ben Frazer), Noah Beery, Jr. (Bill Blake), Michael McGreevy (Jimmy "Chip" Kessler), Jack Lambert (Joshua), Dick Wessell (Carney), John Mitchum (Pickalong), Bart Patton (Terry Blake). Theme Song: "The Riverboat Theme" by Elmer Bernstein.

6911 Riviera. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/31/87). Following the death of his father, Jonathan Patrick Kelly, a former American secret agent for the Bureau, resigns and moves to the French Riviera to re-open the chateau once run by his father. The unsold series was to relate Kelly's efforts to run the chateau and help people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Kelly helps a girl whose archeologist father has been kidnapped by terrorists.

Cast: Ben Masters (Jonathan Patrick Kelly). Guest Cast: Elyssa Davalos (Ashley Stevens), Richard Hamilton (Kennedy), Shane Rimmer (Doc Donovan), Jon Finch (Jeffers), Patrick Monckton (Spiros), Lalla Ward (Laura Grayson), Jacques Marin (Renoir), Tony Jay (Habib), Daniel Torppe (Kyle), Daniel Emilfork (Condoli).

6912 Rivkin: Bounty Hunter. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 5/20/81). The story of Stan Rivkin, a New York City-based bounty hunter who is hired to bring bail jumpers in alive, not dead. In the pilot episode, Rivkin seeks a ruthless drug dealer.

Other Regulars: Keith, Stan's 12-year-old son

(Stan is a widower); Father Everett Kolodny, Stan's friend, a retired priest who cares for Keith when he is away; and Stan's friends Bertha (a saloon keeper) and Manny (a restaurant owner).

Cast: Ron Leibman (Stan Rivkin), Glenn Scarpelli (Keith Rivkin), Harry Morgan (Father Everett Kolodny), Verna Bloom (Bertha), Harold Gray (Manny Taylor). Guest Cast: Jim Moody (Captain O'Donnell), Bo Brucker (Nick St. Clair), Carl Donn (Gus), Harry Bellaver (Lou Colla), Manuel Martinez (Lupie).

6913 The Road Home. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1991). Allison and Jack Matson are a young married couple with four children (Sawyer, Jessica, Calvin and Jinx). Life changes for the city dwellers when they return to the North Carolina Coast to visit Allison's family and discover the family shrimp boat business is on the brink of collapsing. Feeling they can help, the Matson's decide to remain. Stories follow the Matson's as they attempt to adjust to a new life and try to salvage the family business.

Walter and Charlotte Babineaux are Allison's parents; Dickie is Allison's brother, who runs the business; his boat is the Miss Charlotte. The series was originally titled Down Home.

Cast: Karen Allen (Allison Matson), Terence Knox (Jack Matson), Christopher Kennedy Masterson (Sawyer Matson), Jessica Bowman (Darcy Matson), Cecily Carroll (Jinx Matson), Greg Perrelli (Calvin Matson), Ed Flanders (Walter Babineaux), Frances Sternhagen (Charlotte Babineaux), Alex McArthur (Dickie Babineaux).

6914 Road of Life. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1954–1955). The dramatic story of Dr. Jim Brent and his wife Jocelyn. Episodes relate the conflicts and tensions that befall three generations of two families: The Brents and the Overtons (Jocelyn's family). The series, based on the radio program of the same title, ran from December 13, 1954 to June 24, 1955.

Cast: Don McLaughlin (Jim Brent), Virginia Dwyer (Jocelyn Brent), Harry Holcombe (Malcolm Overton), Barbara Becker (Sybil Overton), Charles Dingle (Conrad Overton), Dorothy Sands (Aunt Reggie). Also: Elizabeth Lawrence, Bill Lipton, Hollis Irving, Jack Lemmon, Elspeth Eric, Michael Kane. Announcer-Narrator: Nelson Case.

6915 Road Rovers. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1996). Hunter, Colleen, Exile, Blitz, Shag and Muzzle appear to be ordinary dogs. They are the pets of the heads of state from around the world. However, when a crisis arises somewhere in the world, a mysterious figure known as the Master, issues a distress call. The dogs appear at the Master's side and he endows them with super powers. The dogs, now as Cano-Sapiens, use their abilities to do what it takes to right wrongs.

Hunter, the U.S. President's dog, is a mutt who has super sniffing, super tracking and retrieving powers; Colleen, a Collie, is the British Prime Minister's dog, a master of the martial arts; Exile, a Siberian Husky, the dog of the Russian President, has super strength; Blitz, a Doberman, is the dog of the German Chancellor and has super jaws and claws; Shag, is the Swiss President's old English sheepdog and also has super strength; Muzzle, the Master's dog, has the ability to muzzle people.

Voice Cast: Tress MacNeille (Colleen), Jess Harnell (Hunter), Kevin Michael Richardson (Exile), Jeff Bennett (Blitz), Frank Welker (Shag), Frank Welker (Muzzle), Joseph Campanella (The Master), Jim Cummings (General Parvo), George Dzundza (Gustav Hovac), Michael McKean (Jeffrey Otitus), Brian George (Lt. Skeam), Sheena Easton (The Groomer).

6916 Road Rules. (Series; Reality; MTV; 1995–2007). Five (later six) young adults are given a Winnebago and sent on the road “to see what happens” (as long as they play by the rules set up by MTV and complete the “mission” they are assigned they can continue; failure to do so disqualifies the group). The missions (tasks) are held as a competition and a money prize is awarded for successfully completing them (the participants are not permitted to use their own money or credit cards; they must earn traveling money and expenses by completing the tasks). Cameras capture all the fighting (and make ups) as the players must live together in the cramped Winnebago for the duration of the trip. Mary Ellis Bunim and Jonathan Murray are the producers.

Voice Characterizations: Mel Blanc.

6918 Road Show. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 8/15/89). When Jesse Pruitt, a good natured man-of-the-road, sees a thief trying to steal a woman's purse, he comes to her assistance. The woman, Sally Maggio, a columnist for the Philadelphia Daily Express, and Jesse become friends. On a visit to Philadelphia, Jesse shows Sally a side of the city she has never seen (the off-beat characters). A story, based on her experiences, pleases both the editor (Larry) and publisher (Samantha) and gives Sally the opportunity to live a dream: tour America and write about everyday people. Feeling that she cannot do the job alone, she asks for and receives Jesse's help. The unsold series was to relate their experiences. Originally titled Travelin'.

Cast: Lee Majors (Jesse Pruitt), Ellen Greene (Sally Maggio), Celeste Holm (Samantha Orbison), Nick Wyman (Larry Birch).

6919 Road to Reality. (Series; Serial; ABC; 1960–1961). The program dramatizes what happens at a group therapy session as seen through the eyes of Dr. Lewis and six people (Rosalind, Vic, Margaret, Joan, Lee and Chris) who discuss their emotional problems.

Cast: John Beal (Dr. Lewis), Robin Howard (Rosalind), Robert Drew (Vic), Eugenia Rawls (Margaret), Judith Braun (Joan), James Dimitri (Lee), Kay Doubleday (Chris).

6920 Road Warriors. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). Colin and Mario are two standup comics who abandon the monotony of New York standup performing for life on the road together. The unsold series, filmed in cinema-verite style, was to follow their escapades as they seek fresh material.

Cast: Colin Quinn (Colin), Mario Joyner (Mario).

Cast: Barry Sullivan (Ben Pride), Kathryn Hays (Elizabeth Pride), Andrew Prine (Tim Pride), Brenda Lee (Midge Pride), Kelly Corcoran (Christopher "Kip" Pride), Glenn Corbett (Chance Reynolds), Charles Seel (Thomas Jefferson Pride).

6922 The Roads to Freedom. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1972). The collapse of pre-World War II France is dramatized as it is seen through the eyes of three men who are unable to act or think definitively: Mathieu, an intellectual college professor; Daniel, a homosexual; and Brunet, a communist. Based on Jean Paul Sartre's The Roads to Freedom trilogy: The Age of Reason, Reprieve and Iron in the Soul.

Cast: Michael Bryant (Mathieu De LaRue), Rosemary Leach (Marcelle), Daniel Massey (Daniel), Donald Burton (Brunet), Georgia Brown (Lola Montero), Anthony Corlan (Boris), Alison Fiske (Ivich), Clifford Rose (Jacques De LaRue), Ann Fox (Odette De LaRue). Theme Vocal: "La Route Est Dure" by Georgia Brown.

6923 Roar of the Rails. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1948–1949). Dramatizations of events in railroading history as told via narration over scenes of model railroads in operation. Sponsored by A.C. Gilbert Electric Trains. See also Tales of the Red Caboose. The series ran from October 26, 1948 to December 12, 1949.

Hostess: Mimi Stangin. Narrator: Rusty Slocum.

6924 The Roaring 20's. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1960–1962). Pinky Pinkham, Pat Garrison and Scott Norris are three friends who live and work in New York City during the 1920s.

Pinky, real first name Delaware, is a beautiful singer who owns the Charleston Club, a fashionable speakeasy (nightclub) on East 52nd Street in Manhattan. The club is also called Pinky's and Pinky's Club. The club serves a legitimate scotch called Highland Dew but is typical of the times and fashions its own bathtub gin (homemade beer). The club is characterized by a life-size photo of Pinky, dressed as a flapper and mounted on a wooden backing. Although Pinky is called a flapper, she is not typical of the word that describes a girl who drinks, smokes, dances to jazz music and throws caution to the wind in her pursuit of a good time. Pinky is just the opposite and tries to stay away from trouble. But trouble always seems to find her as bootleggers, mobsters, local crime bosses and crooked politicians find the Charleston Club the perfect hangout.

Watching over Pinky are Scott Norris and Pat Garrison, crime reporters for a newspaper called both the Daily Record and the New York Record. Scott and Pat each earn $40 a week, later $60, and play detective, often with Pinky's help, to get front page stories by solving crimes and putting crooks and racketeers in jail. While Pat and Scott frequent the Charleston Club, they were also fond of Clancey's, the bar located next to the Record Building. The bar is later called The Pit (owned by Chauncey). The Gazette is the Record's competition.

Second season episodes dropped the character of Scott Norris and added Jim Duke Williams, a reporter who was also the city editor of the Record. Tension was introduced as Duke did whatever he could to beat Garrison to the stories, but the format just didn't work and the series was cancelled four months later.

Chris Higbee, a graduate of Cornell University, was originally the paper's copyboy, then a reporter. Joe Switolski is the cop Scott and Pat help, a lieutenant with the 7th Precinct of the N.Y.P.D., also seen as the Bell Street Police Station.

Each episode features at least one club song by Pinky. A group called The Playboys provide Pinky's musical backing while two girls, Cindy and Dodie, provide vocal backup. Cindy and Dodie are billed as "And the Girls"; they and Pinky are officially called Pinky and the Girls. Dixie is the hat check girl at the Charleston Club and Andre is the maitre d'.

Over at the Record, Gladys is the switchboard operator.

Cast: Dorothy Provine (Pinky Pinkham), Donald May (Pat Garrison), Rex Reason (Scott Norris), John Dehner (Jim Duke Williams), Gary Vinson (Chris Higbee), Mike Road (Joe Switolski), Emile Meyer (McDonald; the city editor), Carolyn Komant (Dixie), Wally Brown (Chauncey Kowalski), Louise Glenn (Gladys), Gayla Graves (Cindy), Roxanne Arlen (Dodie), Gregory Gray (Andre). Background Music: Sandy Courage. Theme Song: “The Roaring 20’s” by Mack David, Jerry Livingston.

6925 Roaring Camp. (Pilot; Western; ABC; 9/4/66). The setting is Roaring Camp, a California gold mining town of the late 1840s. The proposed series was to focus on the unusual relationship between a gunslinger (Cain) and a U.S. Marshal (Walker) who join forces to help maintain law and order. In the pilot episode, Cain and Walker attempt to rescue a girl (Rachel) being held captive by an outlaw.

Cast: Richard Bradford (Marshal Walker), Jim McMullan (Cain), Katherine Justice (Rachel), Ian Hendry (Angus), Bibi Osterwald (Mary), Mike Wagner (Brady), Donald Contreras (Boy).

6926 Robbery Homicide Division. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2002). Sam Cole is a detective with the Robbery Homicide Division of the Los Angeles Police Department. He is highly skilled and heads a team of elite detectives: Sonya Robbins, Richard Barston, Don Lu and Alfred Simms. The unit is assigned to the city’s most high profile cases and stories relate their efforts to resolve cases as best they can — and within the limits of the law.

Sam is blessed with the ability to view a crime through the eyes of the criminal he is seeking. Sonya is an expert pathologist; Alfred, nicknamed “Dr. Death,” is skilled with a shotgun (not exactly the department’s weapon of choice); Richard is a former gang member (as is Ron) who turned his life around to become part of law enforcement, not an opponent.

Cast: Tom Sizemore (Det. Sam Cole), Klea Scott (Det. Sonya Robbins), David Cubitt (Det. Richard Barston), Michael Paul Cain (Det. Don Lu), Barry Shabaka Henley (Sgt. Alfred Simms).

6927 Robbie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/20/71). A proposed spin-off from My Three Sons that was to focus on Robbie Douglas, the second-born son of Steve Douglas, as he and his family (his wife, Katie, and their triplet sons, Robbie, Steve and Charley) leave the family nest and move to San Francisco to begin a new life in a building filled with other young families. Other Regulars: Pat, the apartment house manager; Richard, Pat’s husband; and Ellie and Clark, residents of the building.

Cast: Don Grady (Robbie Douglas), Tina Cole (Katie Douglas), Joseph Todd (Steven Douglas, Jr.), Michael Todd (Charley Douglas), Daniel Todd (Robbie Douglas II), Pat Carroll (Pat Mortenson), Richard X. Slattery (Richard Mortenson), Sherry Alberoni (Ellie), Mike Minor (Clark).

6928 The Robbin’s Nest. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950). A program of sketches that satirize various aspects of life. The series ran from September 29, 1950 to December 22, 1950.

Host: Fred Robbins. Regulars: Frank Gregory, Nat Cantor. Announcer: Cynthia Carlin.

6929 The Robert Guillaume Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1989). Edward Sawyer is a divorced marriage counselor. He is the father of Pamela and Willie and is dating Ann Sheer, his secretary-receptionist. What makes this relationship a bit unusual for TV at the time is that Edward is African American and Ann is Caucasian. Edward’s problems not only extend from his relationship with Ann, but from his mischievous teenage children (Pamela and William) and his father, Henry, a retired engineer with the Union Pacific railroad who also lives with him. Stories follow Edward’s efforts to cope with life despite the numerous obstacles that seem to plague him.

As a child Edward was called “Gush.” Ann, a graduate of Wesley College, is divorced and has a daughter named Katie.

Cast: Robert Guillaume (Edward Sawyer), Wendy Phillips (Ann Sheer), Kelsey Scott (Pamela Sawyer), Marc Joseph (William Sawyer), Hank Rolike (Henry Sawyer), Kamaron Harper (Katie Sheer).

6930 The Robert Herridge Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1960). Robert Herridge hosts a series of dramatic adaptations based on short stories and plays by noted authors.

6931 The Robert Klein Show. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/30/81). A proposed series of monologues and sketches with performances by guest comedians and singers.

Host: Robert Klein. Regulars: Marvin Braverman, Bob Kaliban, Andrea Martin, Arnold Stang. Guests: Judd Hirsch, The Charlie Daniels Band.

6932 Robert Montgomery Presents. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1950–1957). A series of quality dramatic productions sponsored by Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The series is also known as Robert Montgomery Presents Your Lucky Strike Theater when under the sponsorship of Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

Host-Narrator: Robert Montgomery. Performers Include: Robert Montgomery, Angela Lansbury, Ella Raines, Louise Albritton, Jean Carson, Cara Williams, June Lockhart, Leslie Nielsen, Roddy McDowall, Van Heflin, Lynn Loring, Margaret O’Brien, Barbara Britton, Helen Hayes, Thomas Mitchell, Charlton Heston, Jayne Meadows, Lloyd Bridges, Anne Jackson, Jane Wyatt, Teresa Wright, Audra Lindley, Robert Sterling, Vincent Price, Anna Lee, Grace Kelly, Constance Bennett, Lydia Reed, Jackie Cooper, Brian Keith, Wendell Corey, Gig Young, Ed Begley, Peggy Ann Garner, Walter Matthau, Sarah Marshall, James Cagney.

6933 Robert Montgomery's Summer Stock. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1952). The alternate title for Montgomery's Summer Stock. See this title for information.

6934 Robert Q's Matinee. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950–1956). A long-running program of music, songs, chatter and light comedy with singer Robert Q. Lewis as the host. The series ran from July 16, 1950 to May 22, 1956. Lester Gottlieb and Ray Purdy are the producers.

Host: Robert Q. Lewis. Regulars: Jaye P. Morgan, Rosemary Clooney, Merv Griffin, Jan Ardan, Earl Wrightson, Jill Corey, Lois Hunt, Pat Lytell, Nat Cantor. Orchestra: Ray Bloch, George Wright.

6935 The Roberta Quinlan Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949–1951). A program of music and songs with singer Roberta Quinlan as the host. The series ran from May 3, 1949 to November 23, 1951.

Hostess: Roberta Quinlan. Announcer: Bob Stanton. Music: The Harry Clark Trio, The Tony Mottola Trio, The Elliott Lawrence Orchestra.

6936 The Roberta Sherwood Show. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/3/62). A proposed spin-off from The Donna Reed Show about Roberta and Gale Summers, a retired show business couple, and their efforts to raise three children (Jerry, Don and Bobby) in a small American town.

Cast: Roberta Sherwood (Roberta Summers), Gale Gordon (Gale Summers), Jerry Lanning (Jerry Summers), Don Lanning (Don Summers), Robert Lanning (Bobby Summers). Note: Jerry, Don and Robert Lanning are Roberta Sherwood's real life children.

6937 Robin's Hoods. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1994–1995). McKenzie Magnuson, Stacey Wright, Maria Alvarez, Anastasia Beckett and Eddie Bartlett are former law breakers who now work for Brett Robin, a former assistant district attorney who oversees their activities as the owner of Robin's Nest, a night club that doubles as a private detective organization.

Robin's Nest was owned by Brett's late husband, Jake, a police officer who was killed in the line of duty. Jake was with Metro Police and believed in giving people a second chance — a way of repaying a kindness that was done to him. When Jake was 12 years old he stole some car tires. He was caught but spared the ordeal of juvenile hall when the arresting officer talked the judge into giving him a second chance. The incident changed Jake's life; it made him want to be a cop. Years later he set up the night club and had first-time offenders McKenzie, Stacey, Maria, Anastasia and Eddie released to him on parole to give them a second chance by working for him at the club. Brett had distanced herself from Jake's work at the club. When she learned what Jake had been doing in his spare time (helping people in trouble), Brett decided to continue in that capacity and run Robin's Nest full time by using Jake's "hoods" to solve crimes.

Brett lives at 6 Menton Street. She had office 318 as an assistant D.A. She is not as aggressive as Jake was as the head of Robin's Nest. She does not actively involve herself in cases and acts more like a coordinator. Brett worries about finances and fears a bank will take action against her because she has five ex-cons working for her. Brett was pregnant by Jake before he was killed. Shortly before the series ended, Brett gave birth to a son and was written out when she left to care for him. She was replaced by Nick Collins, the club manager who suddenly appeared to run the club, the agency — and assure the bank that their mortgage will be paid.

Stacey is 23 years old and was arrested for possession of drugs. She is blonde and beautiful and has a soft spot in her heart for people she meets who swear they are telling the truth but nobody believes. She was in the same position herself; she claimed she was framed for drug possession but couldn't prove it; no one believed she was innocent. She works as a waitress at the club and uses her assets for distraction purposes.

Maria is 25 years old and was arrested for armed robbery. Maria is Cuban and believes that is one strike against her. When she came to America at an early age, she changed her name to Mary Astor and learned to speak English so no one would know her true heritage. She later fell in with the wrong crowd, became Maria Alvarez again and was caught red-handed during a robbery attempt. Prison time mellowed the bitter Maria and she now uses her self-taught expertise with weapons and thievery to help the team. Maria also works as a waitress at the club.

McKenzie is 27 years old and was arrested for writing bad checks. She is always in need of money and is the schemer of the group. If something is needed, Mac, as she is called, will find a way to get it without paying for it.

Eddie, originally the only male member of the group, is the most aggressive. He was arrested for aggravated assault and works as the club's bartender.

He often risks parole violation by engaging in fights with suspects.

Anastasia, called Anne, is 22 years old. She was arrested for breaking and entering and is a master at getting into places without being detected. She risks being sent back to prison if she is caught in places where she shouldn't be.

While Jake kept a strict eye on his charges, Brett is sometimes lax, allowing her hoods to use their skills to accomplish a goal. Although she does warn them not to break the law, she is not in the field and the hoods, led by Anne, do what is necessary to please their clients. John E. Nordstrom composed the theme.

Cast: Linda Purl (Brett Robin), Claire Yarlett (McKenzie Magnuson), Julie McCullough (Stacey Wright), Mayte Vilan (Maria Alvarez), David Gail (Eddie Bartlett), Rick Springfield (Nick Collins).

6938 Robin's Nest. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1983). A spin-off from Man About the House about two women (Chrissy and Jo) sharing an apartment with a man (Robin). Following Chrissy's marriage, both Jo and Robin move out the Roper's apartment house and begin new lives apart from each other. While Jo's fate is not disclosed, Robin, now a qualified chef, and his girlfriend (later wife), Victoria Nicholls, move into an apartment above a defunct restaurant. Soon afterward, Robin rents the restaurant and begins his own bistro called Robin's Nest. Stories relate the mishaps that befall Robin as a chef and owner of a small restaurant. Produced in England. James Nicholls is Victoria's father; Albert Riddle is Robin's one-armed dishwasher; Marian is James's ex-wife. Produced in England.

Cast: Richard O'Sullivan (Robin Tripp), Tessa Wyatt (Victoria Nicholls), Tony Britton (James Nicholls), David Kelly (Albert Riddle), Honor Blackman (Marian Nicholls).

6939 Robinson Crusoe. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1964). Caught in a tropical storm at sea, Robinson Crusoe, a young Englishman, is shipwrecked on an uncharted island (somewhere off the coast of South America) during the 17th century, from which there is no escape. The 13-part dramatization depicts his first day on the island to his rescue 28 years later. Based on the novel by Daniel Defoe.

Cast: Robert Hoffman (Robinson Crusoe).

6940 RoboCop. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1994). Alex Murphy is a police officer in Delta City in 21st century Detroit. He is an Irish Catholic and lives at 548 Principal Drive. He attended Mother Theresa Elementary School, St. John Paul High School and Holy Trinity College. He and his family attend mass at St. John Paul Cathedral. He wears badge number 2120.

During a robbery investigation, Murphy is shot multiple times. He is rushed to the hospital, where little hope is given for his survival. When he is considered legally dead, he is given to Security Concepts, a cybernetic institute that rebuilds him as RoboCop (total body prosthesis, titanium skin, on board computer assisted brain, instant reflexes).

Murphy, now as RoboCop, is part of the Crime Prevention Program of the Metro South Precinct in Old Detroit. Murphy's wife, Nancy and son, Jimmy, believe Alex is dead. The only thing Alex has of the way he was are images from his past. He will not approach his family "because they need a husband and a father. I can't be that — but I can protect them."

Alex is programmed with three prime directives: Serve the Public Interest, Uphold the Law, Protect the Innocent; and a Directive Four: Classified (any attempt to arrest a senior officer of the O.C.P. [Omni Consumer Products] will result in a system breakdown. O.C.P. is responsible for the technology that created RoboCop).

RoboCop never stays in one place for long "because somewhere there is a crime happening." RoboCop is teamed with Detective Lisa Madigan, a human police officer with Metro South. She lives at 972 Primrose Lane. Diana Powers is a secretary at O.C.P.

Dr. Craig Milardo is a deranged scientist who plans to control Delta City via Neuro Brain, a master computer that is run by a human brain. After several experiments with the brains of homeless people fail, Milardo theorizes that his donors lack the intelligence needed for the project to work. He sees Diana as the perfect donor. While not shown, Diana is paralyzed and her brain removed while she is still alive. Craig disposes of the evidence (Diana's body) in a toxic waste dump. Milardo activates his Neuro Brain and begins using it for his own benefit. Soon the unforeseen happens — human spirit and machine combine to produce an entity with her own will. When the entity Diana learns what has happened to her, she becomes enraged and refuses to help Craig. Milardo attempts to destroy Diana by introducing a computer virus into her system. The virus almost succeeds — until RoboCop, who is seeking Milardo for the murder of homeless people, reverses the virus and saves Diana. Diana now runs Delta City by computer and helps RoboCop with the information he needs.

Gadget is a young orphan girl who helps RoboCop with street information. William Ray "Pudnose" Morgan is a criminal seeking revenge on RoboCop for causing an accident that disfigured him. Jordan Hughes is Alex as a child in flashbacks; Martin Milner was Alex's father, Gus. Based on the feature film.

Cast: Richard Eden (Alex Murphy), Yvette Niper

(Lisa Madigan), Sarah Campbell (Gadget), James Keane (William Morgan), Jennifer Griffin (Nancy Murphy), Peter Costigan (Jimmy Murphy), Andrea Roth (Diana Powers), Cliff DeYoung (Craig Milardo).

6941 Robot Chicken. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2005–2006). Toy action figures come to life (via stop motion photography) to act in various skits that satirize everything — from celebrities and TV shows to movies, music and health problems. The title is quite meaningless in relation to the series as it refers to a Chinese take out dish that show creators Seth Green and Matthew Senreich ordered while writing the pilot.

Voices: Seth Green, Jamie Kahler, Adam Talbot, Chad Morgan, Dan Milano, Breckin Meyer, Victor Yerrid, Seth McFarlane, Fred Tatasciore, Leah Ann Cevoli, Ginnifer Goodwin, Abraham Benrubi, Tom Root, Sarah Michelle Gellar, Michael Benyaer.

6942 Robotech. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). Three Japanese series (Dimensional Fortress Macross, Super Dimensional Cavalry Southern Cross and Genesis Climber Mospeada) were edited to form (for American television) Robotech. The story begins in 1999. An alien ship (a battle fortress) crashes on an island in the South Pacific. The remnants prove beneficial to mankind as scientists have deciphered the alien “robo technology” and incorporated it into planes that can transform into giant robots. Complications set in when the aliens, the owners of the downed craft, discover its location and begin an invasion to get it back. The series is now divided into three parts. Part one “The Macross Saga” (as described above) ends with a battle between the Earth and the giant robotic aliens. Part two, “The Robotech Masters,” deals with members of an Earth expedition to find the Robotech masters planet. The concluding chapter, “The New Generation,” follows the children of the prior explorers as they return to Earth to discover that their planet is battling a new generation of alien robots, which they must now defeat.

Voice Cast: Frank Catalano (Dennis Brown), Frank Catalano (Rand), Mary Cobb (Annie LaBelle), Melora Harte (Musica), Alexandra Kenworthy (Azonia), Alexandra Kenworthy (The Regess), Larry Abraham (Bowie Grant), Robert Axelrod (Rico), Bill Capeze (Robotech Master), Cam Clarke (Lancer), Richard Epcar (Ben Dixon), Eddie Frierson (Lynn Kyle), Barbara Goodson (Marie Crystal), Steve Kramer (Angelo Dante), Susie London (Rook Bartley), Melanie MacQueen (Lisa Hayes), Kerrigan Mahan (Sean Phillips), Mearle Pearson (Admiral Hayes), Edie Mirman (Miriya), Melodee Spevack (Mission Control Voice), Michael Sorich (Sparks). Narrator: J. Jay Smith.

6943 Robotman. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 4/85). Robotman, Stellar and Oops are mechanical beings from the planet Robot Land who embark on a mission to help earthlings in need. Their mission is jeopardized by Roboron, an evil robot who is seeking to capture them and reprogram them to hate, not love. The unsold series was to follow the trio as they attempt to help deserving individuals. In the pilot episode, they come to the aid of a misguided inventor and his nephew.

Voices: Gregg Berger, Karen Hartman, Adam Karl, Katie Leigh, Phil Proctor, Frank Welker.

6944 Roc. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1991–1994). Roc Emerson is a garbage man. He quit his job on the docks for a position with the Baltimore Department of Sanitation. He is married to Eleanor and lives with his widowed father, Andrew, and brother, Joseph (“Joey”) Emerson, at 864 Essex Street. Roc also has a dream: to own a semidetached house (his current, attached house, is furnished almost totally with “perks” — the items other people discard that Roc finds on his route).

Roc’s newspapers are from the preceding day (“I read yesterday’s news today”; the money he saves by not buying a daily paper is put into a jar for that dream house). When Roc does buy something, he will only buy it on sale (Eleanor is trying to get him to do the unusual — buy an item at list price). Roc has to empty 175,214 garbage cans to make $2,000. He has coffee at the Dump (the shop next to the depot; it was originally called the Landfill); his favorite watering hole is Charlene’s Bar. Eleanor is a nurse and works in Wing C of Harbor Hospital.

Andrew, called “Pop” by Roc, was a porter on a train for 36 years; his late wife was named Loretta, and he has pictures of his hero, Malcolm X, on every wall in the house. Joey, a con artist, supposedly makes a living as a musician (he plays trumpet).

Richard Roundtree appeared as Andrew’s brother, Russell Emerson; Rosalind Cash was Eleanor’s mother, Margaret Carter.

Second season episodes were broadcast live (and promoted as “Roc Live”) — the first time a television sitcom had been broadcast live in more than 30 years. Fred Tahler composed “Roc’s Theme.”

Cast: Charles S. Dutton (Roc Emerson), Ella Joyce (Eleanor Emerson), Carl Gordon (Andrew Emerson), Rocky Carroll (Joey Emerson).

6945 The Rock. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1990). Nelson Rockefeller Junior High School, nicknamed “The Rock,” is the setting for an unsold series about Joy Capadeluca, a vice principal struggling to cope with student and faculty problems.

Cast: Joy Behar (Joy Capadeluca), Dan Hedaya

6946 A Rock and a Hard Place. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/8/81). With a plan to make money the easy way through schemes, Hunter Crockett, an assembly line worker who is dissatisfied with his job, quits and sets out on his new quest. The unsold series, set in Fort Worth, Texas, was to focus on Hunter as he finds scheming to be as much work as working but without all the benefits. In the pilot episode, Hunter schemes to make a small fortune by converting a friend's radio frequency sensitive tooth into a television transmitter to pick up a blacked-out football game and charge $5 admission. Other Regulars: Sherri, Hunter's wife; R.J., Hunter's friend; Bubba, owner of the Appaloosa Bar; Donna Jo, Bubba's waitress; Len, Hunter's neighbor; and Larry, the lawyer.

Cast: Jay Kerr (Hunter Crockett), Celia Weston (Sherri Crockett), Guich Koock (R.J. Taggart), Walt Hunter (Bubba), Joan Roberts (Donna Jo), Michael McManus (Len Hooker), Ken Kimmons (Larry).

6947 Rock 'n' Roll Evening News. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1986). A weekly series of interviews, gossip and behind the scenes reports regarding the world of music.

Host: Steve Kmetko. Field Reporters: Adrienne Meltzer, Eleanor Mondale, Marjorie Wallace, Andy Friendly.

6948 The Rock 'n' Roll Show. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1982). The world of rock and roll music is explored through concert film footage and interviews with associated personalities.

Hostess: Carol Miller.

6949 The Rock 'n' Roll Show. (Pilot; Magazine; Syn.; 7/9/82). A backstage look into the world of rock and roll music via exclusive interviews and tape footage of concerts and rehearsals.

Hosts: Mark Goodman, Carol Miller. Guests: AC/DC, Asia, Bill Haley, REO Speedwagon, The Rolling Stones.

6950 Rock 'n' Roll Summer Action. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1985). A summer series that blends music and stand-up comedy from a beach party setting. The series ran from July 17, 1985 to August 28, 1985. Dick Clark is the producer.

Host: Christopher Atkins. Announcer: Charlie O'Donnell. Music: David Russo.

6951 Rock 'n' Roll: The First 25 Years. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1982). A six-part series that traces the roots of rock and roll music through interviews, film clips and live-on-tape performances.

Host (Episode 1: The Groups of Rock and Roll): Patrick Simmons, Michael McDonald. Host (Episode 2: The Women of Rock and Roll): Tina Turner. Host (Episode 3: The Theatrics of Rock and Roll): Alice Cooper. Host (Episode 4: The Geography of Rock and Roll): Toni Tennille, Daryl Dragon. Host (Episode 5: The Idols of Rock and Roll): William "Smokey" Robinson. Host (Episode 6: The Birth of Rock and Roll): Pat Boone. Narrator: Robert W. Morgan. Announcer: Robert W. Morgan. Theme Music: Daryl Dragon.

6952 Rock Candy. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987). Residing at 6753 Oakwood Drive in Sherman Oaks, California, are Walter Waverly, a widowed band leader, and his two beautiful daughters, Sherrie and Nicki, singers known as Rock Candy, who perform with a musical group called the Jaw Breakers.

In the 1940s Walter led an orchestra called The Waverly Dream Makers. As America's taste in music changed, the band changed with it: they became The Waves (1950s) and The Rough Waves (1960s), and are currently The Sounds of the Walter Waverly Orchestra, music geared to the older crowd.

Sherrie is a gorgeous, naive blonde who doesn't realize how sexy she is. She measures 37-24-36 and has many boyfriends, but says, "I don't know why. I guess they like my singing" (her Rock Candy wardrobe is a miniskirt, funky hair and a tight blouse). Sherrie works at whatever jobs she can get while she and Nicki wait for their big break. Sherrie and Nicki started Rock Candy in high school and worked with various groups before they met the Jaw Breakers.

Nicki is two years older than Sherrie and is just as gorgeous but not as busty. Nicki is also a blonde, but is level headed, intelligent and sometimes jealous of all the attention men give Sherrie. Nicki teaches piano lessons (her professional secret, she says, is earplugs). Theme: "Rock Candy," by the Jaw Breakers.

Cast: Judy Landers (Sherrie Waverly), Audrey Landers (Nicki Waverly), Dick Van Patten (Walter Waverly).

6953 Rock Comedy. (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 5/82). The pilot episode for Laugh Trax, a program that couples sketches and blackouts with performances by the top names in rock music.

Host: Jim Staahl. Regulars: Gail Matthius, Howie Mandel, Sean Morey, Lynne Stewart, Frank Welker. Guests: Linda Blair, Rita Coolidge, Billy Preston.

6954 The Rock Follies. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1977). A penetrating musical drama that follows the progress of The Little Ladies, a three-girl British rock group, as they struggle to succeed in the world of pop music. Produced in England. See also The Rock Rainbow, an unsold pilot film based on the series. Anna, Devonian and Nancy comprise The Little Ladies; Derek is their manager; Spike is Devonian's boyfriend; Jack is Anna's boyfriend; Mrs. Wynd is Anna's mother.

Cast: Charlotte Cornwall (Anna Wynd), Julia Covington (Devonia "Dee" Rhoades), Rula Lenska (Nancy "Q" Cunard de Longchamps), Emlyn Price (Derek Huggin), Billy Murray (Spike), Stephen Moore (Jack), Vivienne Burgess (Mrs. Wynd).

6955 Rock Me Baby. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2003–2004). The Jimmy and Carl Show is a morning radio music-talk-call-in program on station KHOR (105.3 FM) in Colorado. Jimmy is married to Beth and they are the parents of an infant son named Otis. Beth worked as an art director "at the biggest agency in town" and has now settled into the role of housewife. Stories focus on how a baby changes the lives of a busy professional couple.

Jimmy and Beth have been married for four years but have been together for six years. As a kid Jimmy played with Barbie dolls and was called "Barbie Boy." He is not too handy when it comes to fixing things and Beth finds she is more "the man of the house" when it comes to these matters. Despite this, Beth and Jimmy are the perfect couple and love each other very much. They even worked on a TV pilot together for KTMC-TV called A.M. Denver (a morning talk show). Beth reads Dazzle magazine and calls her breasts "Laverne and Shirley."

Carl attended Monroe High School and played cornet in a band. He first worked as a disc jockey called "D.J. Crazy Carl." Jimmy is the laid back member of the team; Carl is "the wild and crazy guy." He is single but looking for a girl as off-the-wall as he is.

Joe Boyle is the station manager. Kate and Pam are Beth's friends. Pam is a singer at the Blues Spot and is taking classes on how to become a stripper — "I got the package, I just want to know how to deliver it" (her stripper name is "Pam de-Monia"). Beth also joined Pam in a class because "ever since I became a mother I haven't felt very good about my body. I'd like to feel sexier" (she took the name "Crispy Beth").

Cast: Dan Cortese (Jimmy Cox), Bianca Kajlich (Beth Cox), Carl Anthony Payne (Carl), Jennifer Elise Cox (Kate), Tammy Townsend (Pam), Joey Slotnick (Joe Boyle), George Wendt (Monty, Beth's father), Mary Gross (Ginger, Beth's mother).

6956 Rock of Love with Bret Michaels. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2007). Bret Michaels is a front man for the 1980s metal band Poison. He is now looking for someone to share his life — a woman who can handle his life as a rock star and not get jealous of his mistress — music. A group of women, chosen from open auditions, appear and are put through a series of challenges that Bret judges. Those whom he feels have not met the requirements of the challenge are eliminated on a weekly basis. The one girl who remains, based on Bret's observations of each of the girls, could become the next Mrs. Michaels.

Host: Bret Michaels.

6957 Rock Palace. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1983). The program showcases up-and-coming rock groups. Guests host the program, which is taped at the Palace Theater in Hollywood.

6958 The Rock Rainbow. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 7/15/78). Jess, Lil and Catherine are three young women who have formed a singing group called The Rock Rainbow. The unsold series was to chart their progress as they seek the road to stardom. Based on the British series The Rock Follies (see entry).

Cast: Ellen Greene (Jess), Louisa Flaningam (Lil), Susan Bigelow (Catherine), John Shea (Speed), Robert Alda (Malone), Kenneth Tigar (Jim), John Aprea (Mack), Scott Porter (David).

6959 Rock Star: INXS. (Series; Reality; CBS; 2005). A talent search to find a new lead singer for the Australian rock band INXS. The hopefuls chosen by members of INXS, range from independent singers to singers who have performed with other bands. The fifteen finalists compete in various competitions that test their vocal abilities and stage performance. Viewers votes determine, in the results show, which singers must leave (least votes). The last remaining singer wins the competition and joins the band. To make the program a bit different than American Idol, the contenders were placed in a house in Los Angeles and their interactions were captured by cameras.

Host: Dave Navarro, Brooke Burke.

6960 Rock Star Supernova. (Series; Reality; CBS; 2006). Gilby Clark (former guitarist with the group Guns n' Roses), Tommy Lee (former drummer with Motley Crue), and Jason Newsted (former Metallica bassist) have joined together and formed a band called Supernova. They now need a lead singer. Open auditions are held for aspiring singers and from the list sixteen are chosen as finalists. Each week hopeful singers are eliminated and the one who is deemed best not only joins the band but also sings on the group's first album. Mark Burnett, Tommy Lee and Lisa Hennessy are the producers.

6961 Rockabye the Infantry. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1963). The First Battle Group of the 317th Infantry at Camp Hayworth seems like a normal Army base. There is the commanding officer (Colonel Irwin Tyler), his right hand man (Sergeant Frank Mahoney) and a number of privates, the most embarrassing of which is his son, Gifford Tyler, a young schemer who is seeking to make a profit from his hitch in the service. Gifford has set up Tyler Enterprises, a business that caters to the families of soldiers; Colonel Tyler yearns for his son to become a soldier; and Mahoney has been given the assignment of doing just that — turning the young “Sergeant Bilko” (from The Phil Silvers Show) into a soldier. Gifford's efforts to outwit Mahoney and continue his business ventures was to be the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Hortense, Irwin's wife; Alice, Frank's wife; Connie, Frank's daughter.

Cast: Bobby Rydell (Gifford Tyler), Fred Clark (Irwin Tyler), Nancy Carroll (Hortense Tyler), William Bendix (Frank Mahoney), Florence Sundstrom (Alice Mahoney), Lynda Day (Connie Mahoney). Guest Cast: Jan Conaway (Max), Roy Roberts (General Ingram), Jimmy Bates (Dudley), Joey Walsh (Augie), Bill Mulligan (Toothpick). Theme Vocal: “Rockabye the Infantry” by Bobby Rydell.

6962 Rocket Power. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1999–2004). A sports-themed cartoon that is set in Ocean Shores, a California town that is totally dedicated to extreme sports. Particular focus of the series is on four friends who compete in sporting events: Otto Rocket, his sister, Regina (called Reggie), and their friends Sam and Twister. Otto is extremely competitive, so much so that he often appears to be selfish; Reggie, two years older than Otto, is just as competitive but not as self-centered. Sam (Samuel L. “Squid” Dullard) is not as dull as his last names implies; he is just not as extreme oriented as Otto and Reggie; Twister (Maurice Rodriguez) is the show-off, but also the one who videotapes the events in which his friends compete. Ray is Otto and Reggie's father; Tito is the Hawaiian surfer who helps the kids on occasion.

Voice Cast: Joseph Ashton (Otto Rocket), Shayna Fox (Reggie Rocket), Gary LeRoi Gray (Sam Dullard), Sam Saletta (Sam Dullard), Sean Marquette (Sam Dullard), Ulises Cuadra (Twister Rodriguez), Gilbert Leal (Twister Rodriguez), John Kasir (Ray Rocket), Ray Bumatari (Tito), Jennifer Hale (Paula Dullard), Edie McClurg (Violet Stimpleton), Henry Gibson (Merv Stimpleton).

6963 Rocket Robin Hood. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1967). A futuristic retelling of the Robin Hood legend. New Sherwood Forest is a floating, solar-powered asteroid in the year 3000 that is home to Robin Hood and his band of Merry Men (Will Scarlet, Little John, Giles and Friar Tuck). Stories relate their efforts to battle the forces of injustice throughout the universe.

Voice Cast: Ed McNamara (Rocket Robin Hood), Chris Wiggins (Will Scarlett), Bernard Cowan (Narrator), Paul Kligman (Friar Tuck), Gillie Fenwick (Sheriff of N.O.T.T.), Carl Banas (Dr. Mantia), Carl Banas (Titanor).

6964 The Rockford Files. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1974–1980). James Scott Rockford is a tough private detective who takes the law in his own hands “because I don't like the alternatives.” He is bitter because he was falsely convicted of robbery and sentenced to 20 years at San Quentin. He was later given a full pardon when new evidence cleared him. It is also the one thing he refuses to talk about with anyone. Jim, as Rockford is often called, now operates the Rockford Private Detective Agency, also called the Rockford Agency, from his mobile home at the Paradise Cove Trailer Colony in Malibu Beach, California. His fee is $200 a day plus expenses. He was an army corporal during the Korean War and began his agency in 1968.

Jim lies to get what he needs from suspects and uses the alias Jerry Vanders, reporter for the L.A. Sun, to get into places his P.I. identity won't allow. The title refers to the original concept of the series: Jim's efforts to solve cases that are considered unsolvable and labeled inactive by the police. As the series progressed, Jim took any case that came his way. He also does investigative work for the Boston Casualty Insurance Company.

Joseph Rockford, called Rocky, is Jim's 68-year-old father, a retired big rig truck driver. Rocky drove for 45 years and was a member of Truckers Union Local 214. He only uses his license now and then to help Jim. Robert Donley played Rocky in the pilot episode.

Evelyn Martin is a con artist and friend of Jim's who prefers to be called by his street name of Angel. While Angel is helpful, Jim calls him a “transformer” (“someone who rats on someone to save his own neck”). Angel mentioned that he previously wrote the Miss Lonely Hearts column for his brother's newspaper.

Dennis Becker is a homicide sergeant with the Wilshire Division of the L.A.P.D. who is hoping to become a lieutenant. Becker has a desk in the squad room and believes Rockford enjoys visiting crime scenes and other human disasters. He also fears his association with the ex-con is preventing him from getting his promotion. Dennis's wife, Peggy attends evening classes at UCLA. Beth Davenport is Jim's romantic interest, a lawyer with the firm of Hardcort and Lowe. Megan was Jim's original girlfriend; Lance White is Jim's rival; Rita is the prostitute that helps Jim; Richie Brockelman is the budding detective; John Cooper is the disbarred attorney. Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed the theme "The Rockford Files."

Seven television movies were also produced that reunited James Garner, Joe Santos and Stuart Margolin: I Still Love L.A. (1994), A Blessing in Disguise (1995), If the Frame Fits (1996), Godfather Knows Best (1996), Friends and Foul Play (1996), Crime and Punishment (1996) and Murders and Misdemeanors (1999).

Cast: James Garner (Jim Rockford), Noah Beery, Jr. (Joseph Rockford), Stuart Margolin (Angel), Joe Santos (Dennis Becker), Pat Finley (Peggy Becker), Gretchen Corbett (Beth Davenport), Kathryn Harrold (Megan Dougherty), Tom Selleck (Lance White), Rita Moreno (Rita Capkovic), Dennis Dugan (Richie Brockelman), James Luisi (Lieutenant Chapman), Tom Atkins (Lt. Alex Dieh), Jack Garner (Captain McEnroe), Bo Hopkins (John Cooper).

6965 Rockhopper. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/9/85). Nick Larabee is an up-and-coming young agent for the National Security Agency. The agency is so secret that it uses the cover of the Flightless Bird Society to protect itself. Nick has been given the code name Rockhopper and must lead two lives — that of a society employee and spy. All is going smoothly until his mother, Helen, leaves Nick's father (Bill) and elects to move in with her son. The unsold series was to follow Nick's mishaps as he struggles to perform missions for the agency without arousing the suspicions of friends and family. In the pilot episode, Nick pits his wits against a beautiful Russian spy (Sonia) who is seeking the same target: a defecting Russian physicist who has perfected the deadly Outer Space Laser Weapon. Other Regulars: Carl, the agency head; Beth, an agency agent; Mildred, the agency receptionist; Joe, Nick's brother; and Alice, Nick's neighbor.

Cast: Parker Stevenson (Nick Larabee), Oliver Clark (Carl Seldon), Gina Hecht (Beth Johnson), Janis Paige (Helen Larabee), Fred Burrell (Bill Larabee), Robert Wuhl (Joe Larabee), Pat Carroll (Mildred Voitlander), Jessica Nelson (Alice Selvy). Guest Cast: Amy Yasbeck (Sonia Petrova), Denise Coward (Deirdre), Dorothy Parke (Angela), Seth Allen (Verdenko), William Kennedy (Aardvark). Note: The title refers to a penguin that hops around instead of flying.

6966 Rock-N-America. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1984). A weekly program of comedy sketches coupled with performances by rock personalities. Mark Levinson is the producer.

Host: Rick Ducommun, Frasier Smith, Russ Parr. Theme Music: "She Controls Me" by Strange Adventure.

6967 Rocko's Modern Life. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1993–1996). Rocko is a wallaby who was born and raised in Australia. When a bully named Dingo made life uncomfortable for him, he left Australia and relocated to the United States where he took up residence in O Town. Stories follow Rocko's misadventures as he attempts to adjust to a new life. Other characters are Heffer Wolfe (a steer who was raised by wolves); Filburt, a sensitive turtle; and marrieds Ralph and Bev Bighead. Rocko's dog is named Spunky.

Voice Cast: Carlos Alazraqui (Rocko), Charles Adler (Bev Bighead), Joe Murray (Ralph Bighead), Alisa Wilson (Sheila), Linda Wallem, Tom Kenny.

6968 Rocky and His Friends. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; NBC; 1959–1974). Frostbite Falls, Minnesota, population 29, is the setting for an insane battle of good against evil as seen through the animated adventures of Rocket J. ("Rocky") the Flying Squirrel and his dimwitted friend, Bullwinkle the Moose — the do-gooders who battle the evils of Boris Badenov and his assistant, Natasha Fatale.

Rocky, "The All-American Squirrel," wears an aviator's cap and says, "Hoakie smokes," when something goes wrong; his hero is Bullwinkle. Bullwinkle is "a moronic moose" whose claim to fame is an antigravity metal called Upsadaisium (which was founded by his uncle, Dewlop D. Moose on Mount Flatten). Bullwinkle, sometimes called Bullwinkle J. Moose, believes comic books are real life ("If you can't believe what you read in a comic book, what can you believe? It's enough to destroy a young moose's faith") and frequently asks the narrator for help with an episode ("It's difficult to follow the plot and be in it at the same time"). His hero is Rocky.

Boris Badenov, "International Bad Buy" and "the world's lowest snake in the grass," is, in some episodes, an international spy (from the country of Pottsylvania) and in others the vice president of Crime Syndicate. He is a member of both the Fetish of the Month Club and Local 12 (the Villains, Thieves and Scoundrels Union). He and Natasha operate from a house called "The Old Bleakley Place." Their superiors are Mr. Big (a midget who casts a large shadow) and Fearless Leader. Boris reads Crime magazine, and his hero is Fingers Scarenose, a notorious criminal.

Bullwinkle also appeared in filler segments called "Mr. Know-It-All" where he displayed his knowledge (his "bird's eye view with a brain to match").

Other Segments Include: Dudley Do-Right of the Mounties (see entry); Peabody's Improbable History, with Mr. Peabody (voice of Bill Scott), the intelligent dog, and his boy, Sherman (voice of June Foray), traveling through time via the Way Back Machine to set history straight; and Fractured Fairy Tales, with narrator Edward Everett Horton relaying slightly warped versions of classic stories.

The series originally aired on ABC as Rocky and His Friends (1959–61) and on NBC as The Bullwinkle Show (1964–73). Theme: "Rocky's Theme," by Fred Steiner.

Voice Cast: June Foray (Rocky), June Foray (Natasha), Bill Scott (Bullwinkle), Paul Frees (Boris). Narrator: William Conrad, Paul Frees.

6969 Rocky Jones, Space Ranger. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954). Rocky Jones is the chief of the Space Rangers, a twenty-first century organization established to safeguard the planets of a united solar system from alien invaders. Rocky is assisted by Vena Ray and Bobby and pilots a ship called the Orbit Jet (later the Silver Moon). Winky and later, Biff Caradoza, are his co-pilots. Secretary Drake is head of the Space Rangers and Ranger Clark operates refueling space station O.W. 9.

Other characters are Yarra, ruler of the planet Medina; Zorvac, king of the moon Fornax; and Volaca, Zorvac's daughter. Stories follow Rocky and his crew battle evil in outer space.

Cast: Richard Crane (Rocky Jones), Sally Mansfield (Vena Ray), Robert Lyden (Bobby), Scotty Beckett (Winky), Charles Meredith (Secretary Drake), William Hudson (Ranger Clark), Dian Fauntelle (Yarra), Walter Coy (Zorvac), Patty Iannone (Volaca).

6970 Rocky King, Inside Detective. (Series; Crime Drama; DuMont; 1950–1954). Frank King, nicknamed "Rocky," is a plainclothes inspector with the Homicide Division of the 24th Precinct of the N.Y.P.D. Rocky, who solves crimes by deductive reasoning, lives with his wife, Mabel, at 836 Mead Street in Manhattan. Grace has trouble balancing her checkbook, owns 360 acres of oil land in Texas that has no oil (a gift from her great-grandfather), stock in the South Paw Safety Pin Company, and the gift of gab (Mabel is heard off-camera more often than she is seen). Rocky is assisted by Mabel's nephew, Dwight Hart, a sergeant who helps Rocky solve crimes quite by accident (he has a knack for finding the crucial evidence Rocky needs). Jack Ward composed the theme.

Cast: Roscoe Karns (Rocky King), Grace Carey (Mabel King), Todd Karns (Sergeant Hart), Earl Hammond (Sergeant Lane).

6971 Rod Brown of the Rocket Rangers. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1953–1954). "CBS television presents Rod Brown of the Rocket Rangers. Surging with the power of the atom, gleaming like great silver bullets, the mighty Rocket Rangers' space ships stand by for blastoff (space ships are seen blasting off). Up, up, rockets blazing with white hot fury; the manmade meteors ride through the atmosphere breaking the gravity barrier, pushing up and out, faster and faster and then outer space and high adventure for the Rocket Rangers." The Rocket Rangers is an Earth-based 22nd century defense organization designed to battle interplanetary evil and safeguard the planets of the United Solar System (Earth, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury and Venus).

In this futuristic time, a battle still rages to ferret out human evil and greed. Rod Brown is a junior Ranger who joined the force to make the world safe. He is a combination undercover agent, diplomat, fighter and peacemaker whose ingenuity and bravery soon finds him a full-fledged Rocket Ranger and commander of a space ship called the Beta (which blasts off from Orbit 4). Ranger Frank Boyle assists Rod and Ranger Wilbur Wormser, called "Wormsey," is the navigator who plots the Beta's course from Omega Base. Wormser is intelligent but a bumbler and his actions often complicate assignments. When something goes wrong he exclaims, "Oh, great Jupiter." Commander Swift, whom the Rangers call "The Old Man," is head of the Rocket Rangers and commands from Omega Base. He is gray-haired, lean and all military. There are no special weapons (other than ray guns) and no special codes or "lingo" for space transmissions.

The program closes with a preview of the following week's episode and these words: "Be sure to be with Rod Brown next week for another thrilling adventure in the far regions of outer space on Rod Brown of the Rocket Rangers."

Cast: Cliff Robertson (Rod Brown), Bruce Hall (Frank Boyle), Jack Weston (Wilbur Wormser), John Boruff (Commander Swift).

6972 Rod Rocket. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1963). The serial-like space adventures of Rod Rocket, his sidekick Joey, and their friend, Professor Argus, as they battle for freedom and justice.

Voice Cast: Sam Edwards (Rod Rocket/Joey), Hal Smith (Prof. Argus), Pat Blake (Cassie).

6973 Rodney. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2004–2006). Rodney Hamilton lives in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and has a job he hates at Tulsa Fiberglass. His dream is to become a standup comedian, but the responsibilities of a wife and family currently prevent him from pursuing that career. Rodney is married to Trina and is the father of Bo and Jack. Trina is a bank teller and she met Rodney at the Blue Goose Grill in 1995. When Rodney learned she worked at her father's car lot (as the office manager) he bought a $600 truck to impress her.

Trina's father, Carl, owns Carl's Used Car Emporium (where Rodney worked for a short time after quitting his fiberglass job). Rodney later works as a repo man then at the Martin Construction Company.

Rodney is actually a kid who never grew up. His favorite time of the year is Halloween; he loves playing practical jokes and believes in tricks (not treats).

Other regulars are Charlene, called Charlie, Trina's gorgeous man-hungry sister; Barry Martin, the owner of the construction company; and Patsy, Rodney's mother.

Cast: Rodney Carrington (Rodney Hamilton), Jennifer Aspen (Trina Hamilton), Matthew Josten (Bo Hamilton), Oliver Davis (Jack Hamilton), Amy Pietz (Charlie), Nick Searcy (Barry Martin), Karen Austin (Patsy Hamilton).

6974 Roger and Harry. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/2/77). A proposed series about Roger Quentin and Harry Jaworsky, two flamboyant operators who specialize in recovering lost or stolen objects and missing people. In the pilot episode, the duo attempts to rescue a tycoon's daughter (Joanna) who was kidnapped along with a priceless necklace she wore.

Cast: John Davidson (Roger Quentin), Barry Primus (Harry Jaworsky). Guest Cast: Biff McGuire (Sylvester March), Ann Randall Stewart (Joanna March), Harris Yulin (Arthur Pennington), Susan Sullivan (Cindy St. Claire), Carole Mallory (Kate Wilson), Robert DoQui (Lieutenant Shelley), Vaughn Armstrong (Heller).

6975 Roger Doesn't Live Here Anymore. (Series; Comedy; The Entertainment Channel; 1982–1983). A British-produced series that explores both the tragic and humorous sides of divorce as seen through the experiences of Roger Flower, an impoverished composer who divorces his acrimonious wife (Emma)— who considers him one of the three most evil men in the history of the world—for the arms of a flaky girlfriend (Rose) who prefers married men. The somewhat unusual comedy, which also depicts Roger's efforts to win back the affections of his children (Arabella and Charles), who were turned against him by their mother, is presented like a play without a studio audience.

Cast: Jonathan Pryce (Roger Flower), Diane Fletcher (Emma Flower), Alice Berry (Arabella Flower), Benjamin Taylor (Charles Flower), Kay Fahy (Rose), Joyce Windsor (Roger's Mother).

6976 The Roger Miller Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1966–1967). A weekly program of music, songs and light comedy with singer Roger Miller as the host. Gary Smith and Dwight Hemion are the producers.

Host: Roger Miller. Regulars: Arthur Godfrey, The Doodletown Pipers. Orchestra: Eddie Karam.

6977 Roger Ramjet. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1965). While experimenting, a scientist (Roger Ramjet) discovers a pill that endows him with the power of twenty atom bombs for twenty seconds. With his newfound power, Roger battles the sinister forces of evil.

Voice Cast: Gary Owens (Roger Ramjet).

6978 The Rogues. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1964–1965). The Fleming–St. Clair are a family of con artists, based in England, who devise ingenious schemes to steal treasures from those who can afford to be robbed, or deserve to be. Alec Fleming is the British head of the family; Marcel St. Clair is their suave French cousin; Tony Fleming is their American cousin; Timmy Fleming is their English cousin; Margaret Fleming is the elder English cousin. Seeking to catch them in the act and end their reign of thievery is Scotland Yard Inspector Briscoe.

Cast: David Niven (Alec Fleming), Charles Boyer (Marcel St. Clair), Gig Young (Tony Fleming), Robert Coote (Timmy Fleming), Gladys Cooper (Margaret Fleming), John Williams (Inspector Briscoe). Theme: "The Rogues Theme" by Nelson Riddle.

6979 Rolie Polie Olie. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1998). A family of robots, the Polies, take center stage to entertain preschoolers with exaggerated stories, lovable characters and learning lessons. Mr. and Mrs. Polie are the parents of two girls, Olie and Zowie. They all live in a magical house with living appliances, their Uncle Gizmo and their grandfather, Pappy. There is also the family pet, Spot, who shares in their daily misadventures.

Voice Cast: Cole Caplan (Olie), Kristen Bone (Zowie), Catherine Disher (Mother), Adrian Truss (Father), Joshua Tucci (Billy), Robert Smith (Spot), Adrian Truss (Uncle Gizmo), Adrian Truss (Grandpa).

6980 Roll Out! (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1973–1974). France in 1944 during World War II is the setting. The adventures of the men assigned to the 5050th Quartermaster Trucking Company of the U.S. Third Army's Red Ball Express. The mostly black-staffed American trucking company delivers supplies to the front lines, swings around and returns for more.

In addition to the military personnel listed in the cast, other regulars are Madame Delacourt, the restaurant owner; Dominique, Madame's daughter; and, in addition to Carter and Jed, the main truckers, other members of the trucking company are Wheels, High Strung, Jersey, Phone Booth, Focus, Heinz, Stick and Giles. The character of Captain Henry Aldrich is played by James Lydon, who played Henry Aldrich in a series of theatrical films based on the radio series The Aldrich Family.

Cast: Stu Gilliam (Cpl. Carter "Sweet" Williams), Hilly Hicks (Pvt. Jed Brooks), Mel Stewart (Sgt. B.J. Bryant; series), Richard Ward (Sgt. B.J. Bryant; pilot), Val Bisoglio (Capt. Rocco Calvelli), Ed Begley, Jr. (Lt. Robert Chapman), James Lydon (Capt. Henry Aldrich), Garrett Morris (Wheels Dawson), Theodore Wilson (High Strung), Darrow Ingus (Jersey Hampton), Rod Gist (Phone Booth), Jeff Burton (Focus), Sam Laws (Sgt. Grease), Robert Boon (Heinz), Harry Caesar (Stick Ramsey), Thierry Lemoine (Giles), Penny Santon (Madame Delacourt; series), Fifi D'Orsay (Madame Delacourt; pilot), Dana Brady (Dominique Delacourt), Jerry Summers (Military Police Sergeant), Louie Elias (Military Police Lieutenant).

6981 Roller Girls. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1978). Selma ("Books") Cassidy, jersey number 9; Honey Bee Novak, jersey 12; Mongo Sue Lampert, jersey 1; Shana ("Pipeline") Akira, jersey 31; and J.B. Johnson, jersey 68 are the Pitts, a female roller derby team based in Pittsburgh.

Don Mitchell is the team's sleazy owner. He had a dream of owning a roller girls team. Through manipulation, he managed to buy an arena and hire skaters: Selma, a professional; Honey Bee, a naive, former carhop; Mongo Sue, a farm girl turned professional skater (she and Selma were previously opponents; they rarely get along, and Mongo Sue constantly threatens to "take Books apart, page by page"); Shana, whose mother is Eskimo and father is Japanese, the wisecracking one of the group (she wears a T-shirt that reads "Save the Whales"); and J.B., the only black team member, who was formerly a waitress.

Don promised each of the girls a condo, but "they're not quite ready yet due to a lack of strategic materials — wood." He does keep his promise, however, and gives them a place to live — the back room of the locker room. He also gives them their uniforms: short shorts and tight, bosom-revealing tops. He calls them "The Dolls of the Roller Wheels."

Honey Bee, the blonde bombshell of the group, loves the outfits ("They make me feel sexy"); Books calls herself "a vice squad candidate" in them; and Shana remarks, "We look like magazine centerfolds." Despite the uniforms, the lousy pay (which is always late) and the deplorable living conditions, the girls struggle to do their best and become the state champions.

Howie Divine is the Pitts' rink announcers (he is a former FM radio opera announcer whom Don hoodwinked into working for him). Shari Saba sings the theme, "Roller Girls."

Cast: Terry Kiser (Don Mitchell), Joanna Cassidy (Selma "Books" Cassidy), Rhonda Bates (Mongo Sue Lampert), Marcie Hanson (Honey Bee Novack), Marilyn Tokuda (Shana "Pipeline" Akira), Candy Ann Brown (J.B. Johnson), James Murtaugh (Howard Divine).

6982 Roller Girls. (Series; Reality; A&E; 2006). The title refers to a group of women who are the stars of an Austin, Texas, roller derby team. The program, however, does not focus on the sport but on the lives of the individual women who make up the team. Cameras capture the events that make up their daily lives.

The Women: Erin Galey, Kerri Walsh, Marta Mendoza, Ann Calvello, Melissa Arcaro.

6983 Rollin' on the River. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1971). Music, songs and comedy set on the Mississippi River Boat, The River Queen. Also known as Rollin' with Kenny Rogers and the First Edition. Burt Rosen and David Winters are the producers.

Host: Kenny Rogers. Regulars: Mary Arnold, Mickey Jones, Kin Vasey, Terry Williams. Music: Larry Cansler.

6984 The Roman Holidays. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1972–1973). Twentieth-century life is depicted in ancient Rome (A.D. 63) as seen through the eyes of Gus Holiday, an engineer with the Forum Construction Company, as he struggles to cope with the endless problems of a changing world. Gus is married to Laurie, and they are the parents of Precocia and Happius (called "Happy"); Mr. Evictus is their landlord (at 4960 Terrace Drive in the Venus DiMilio Arms Apartment House in Pastafasullo, Rome); Mr. Tycoonius is Gus's boss; Groovia is Happy's girlfriend; Herman is Gus's friend; Henrietta is Herman's wife; and Brutus is the Holiday's pet lion.

6985 Romance. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1949). A live series of adaptations of love stories that ran from November 3, 1949 to December 29, 1949.

6986 Romance Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1982). Actor Louis Jourdan hosts a daily series that dramatizes romance stories, each of which runs five days, Monday through Friday.

6987 Rome. (Series; Drama; HBO; 2005–2007). An historical drama that is set in the year 52 B.C. when Rome is four hundred years old and has a population of about one million people. The Republic, as it was known, was established as a democracy to allow competition and never permit one person to assume absolute power. However, over time, those foundations have fallen by the wayside and corruption now excels. Rulers have become wealthy, the political system has become weak and there is great unrest between the various social classes.

It is at this time, when the military has considerable power, that we meet Julius Caesar, a brilliant military leader who has just captured Gaul. He has loyal soldiers (his 13th Legion), riches (that he plundered) and an unrelenting ambition to rule Rome. Stories relate Caesar's struggles for power and the events that eventually led to the fall of the Roman Empire. Filmed in Italy and co-produced by HBO and the BBC. Although the sets are authentic, there are no battle scenes and the high cost of production ($100 million a season) caused cancellation of the series. It does, however, feature nudity, lesbianism and strong sexual situations.

Cast: James Purefoy (Mark Antony), Kevin Kidd (Lucius Vorenus), Ray Stevenson (Titus Pullo), Kerry Condon (Octavia of the Julii), Polly Walker (Atia of the Julii), Lindsay Duncan (Servilia of the Junii), Ian McNeice (Newsreader), Lindsay Marshall (Cleopatra), Nicholas Woodeson (Posca), Indira Varma (Niobe), Tobias Menzies (Marcus Junius Brutus), Ciaran Hinds (Gaius Julius Caesar), David Bamber (Marcus Tullius Cicero), Coral Amiga (Vorena the Elder), Chiara Mastalli (Eirene), Lee Boardman (Timon), Suzanne Bertish (Eleni), Esther Hall (Lyde), Anna Fausta Primiano (Vorena the Younger), Kenneth Cranham (Pompey Magnus), Lidia Biondi (Merula), Manfredi Aliquo (Castor), Simon Woods (Gaius Octavian), Karl Johnson (Porcius Cato), Camilla Rutherford (Jocasta), Guy Henry (Cassius), Allen Leech (Marcus Vipsanius Agrippa), Rick Warden (Quintus Pompey), Haydn Gwynne (Calpurnia), Zuleikha Robinson (Gaia).

6988 Romeo. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2003). Percy Miller is a single father of four children: Romeo, Jodi, Gary and Louis. Perry is a record company executive and each of his children, especially Romeo, wants a career as a rapper. But it won't be easy as Perry says, "If you want something bad enough, you'll have to figure out how to get it on your own." Stories follow Romeo as he seeks that dream — but also how he deals with life at middle school, with his friends and at home with his family. Romeo is talented as a rapper but he is also good at basketball. He often finds himself in troublesome situations but he has a knack for sweet-talking himself out of them. He is in a band (Pieces of the Puzzle) with his siblings and he has started that rocky road up the music world ladder.

Jodi is the oldest of the children and a straight A student at school. She has a good singing voice and feels she is right about everything (trouble waits for those who tempt fate by telling her she is wrong). Gary, the youngest (six years old), has an ear for music but likes music other than rap. Louis Testaverde is the adopted (white) child of the African-American family and Romeo's best friend. Angeline is the woman Perry marries in later episodes. She is an architect and has an uncanny knack for being able to look at her stepchildren and figure out what mischief they have gotten into, Myra is the girl next door who has a crush on Romeo (although the feeling is not mutual). Mrs. Rogers was the Miller's live-in nanny until Percy married Angeline and she was let go.

Cast: Lil' Romeo (Romeo Miller), Master P (Percy Miller), Natashia Williams (Angeline Miller), Erica O'Keith (Jodi Miller), Zachary Williams (Gary Miller), Noel Callahan (Louis Testaverde), Brittney Wilson (Myra), Victoria Jackson (Mrs. Rogers), Manoj Sood (Principal Ramawad), Alejandro Abellan (Coach Quintero).

6989 Romeo and Juliet. (Experimental; Drama; DuMont; 4/23/44). Actors from Irwin Shane's Television Workshop performed a condensed version of the William Shakespeare play about the young lovers and the tragedy that results when their feuding families will not permit them to marry. The only change from the Bard's original work was the use of a female narrator, dressed in a black robe, who bridged the gaps made necessary due to time limitations.

Cast: Dennis Osborne (Romeo), Helen Zampiello (Juliet), Samuel Davis, Leonard Domlan, Geraldine Marshall, Myron Ruckstull, Marjorie Tas.

6990 Romper Room. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1953). Music, songs and related entertainment geared to pre-school children (six to eight of which appear on each program). Two versions of the program appeared. The first is one in which a station purchases the format but supplies its own host (this format ran from 1953–1994). The second version of the program appeared in 1981 (to 1991) when a complete in itself edition appeared in syndication as Romper Room and Friends. Other characters that assist the host are Mr. Do Bee (a large bumble bee who taught children moral lessons by being a "Do Bee" not a "Don't Bee") and the Magic Mirror (who could "magically" view members of the viewing audience and help the host greet children). Cast is for the nationally syndicated Romper Room and Friends.

Cast: Molly McCloskey (Miss Molly, the host), Candy Claster (Do Bee), Candy Claster (Paddington Bear), Bruce Edward Hall (Kimble Up Up), Molly McCloskey (Voice of puppet Granny Cat), Carmine Ravosa (Story Song Man).

6991 The Ron Reagan Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1991). Ron Reagan, the son of President Ronald Reagan, moderates a talk show wherein each episode is devoted to a single topic of discussion with appropriate guests.

6992 Rona Barrett's Hollywood. (Series; Gossip; Syn.; 1969). Celebrity gossip with columnist Rona Barrett as the host.

6993 The Rookies. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1972–1976). William Gillis, Terry Webster, Michael Danko and Chris Owens are rookie police officers attached to Station Number 7 of the Southern California Police Department. Reluctant to use firearms, they represent the new breed of law enforcer and the nonviolent approach to crime control. Stories relate incidents in both their work lives and their private lives. Lieutenant Ed Ryker is their superior; Jill Danko is Michael's wife, a nurse at Memorial Hospital; Kim Owens is Chris's sister; Amanda is Jill's sister; Tori is Jill's niece. Elmer Bernstein composed "The Rookies" theme.

Cast: Gerald S. O'Loughlin (Lt. Ed Ryker; series), Darren McGavin (Lt. Ed Ryker; pilot), Michael Ontkean (Off. William Gillis), Georg Stanford Brown (Off. Terry Webster), Sam Melville (Off. Michael Danko), Bruce Fairbairn (Off. Chris Owens), Kate Jackson (Jill Danko), Season Hubley (Kim Owens), Elinor Donahue (Amanda), Kamme Hartling (Tori), Daryle Ann Lindley (Police Radio Dispatcher).

6994 Room for One More. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1962). "...Could be small, could be tall, could be fat or thin; it could be a he, it could be a she, but whatever it is, in our little house, there's always room for one more." Incidents in the lives of the Rose family: George, an engineer, his wife, Anna, and their children Laurie and Flip (their own) and Mary and Jeff (adopted). Particular focus is on Anna's fond love of children and her attempts to help the misplaced and lonely. Walter and Ruth Burton are their neighbors; Elsie is Anna's friend. Tramp is the family dog.

Cast: Andrew Duggan (George Rose), Peggy McCay (Anna Rose), Carol Nicholsen (Laurie Rose), Ronnie Dapo (Flip Rose), Anna Capri (Mary Rose), Tim Rooney (Jeff Rose), Jack Albertson (Walter Burton), Maxine Stuart (Ruth Burton), Sara Seeger (Elsie). Theme Song: "Room for One More" by Mack David, Jerry Livingston.

6995 Room for Romance. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990). The fashionable Upper East Side Manhattan apartment house is not named. The building has 97 apartments, 167 residents, 32 dogs "and an unknown number of cats." Caroline Gidot appears to be the only regular tenant. She is a pretty "ten and ten-twelfths" year old girl ("I'll be 11 in two months") who has very rich but never-seen parents. She was born on 9/5/79 at 7:32 A.M. and has a dog named Winnie. Her friend (and the only other series regular) is Ramon Carciofi, the building's nosy desk clerk. Through his and Caroline's observations, incidents in the lives of residents are seen.

In the original pilot (which aired as the last episode), Don Novello played Aldo Carciofi, the desk clerk (no relation mentioned to Ramon); Caroline appeared as she did in the series. While both Ramon and Dom wore a jacket with the building's name on it, it was just impossible to read due to camera angles or bright lighting. Mark Snow composed the theme.

Cast: Rebecca Harrell (Caroline Gidot), Dom Irrera (Ramon Carciofi).

6996 Room for Two. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1992–1993). Jill Kurland keeps a large meat thermometer near her front door for protection. She lives in Manhattan and is the producer of Wake Up, New York an early-morning program on WXOR-TV, Channel 3. Edie Kurland, Jill's mother, hosts the show's "Reality Check" segment (wherein she gives her honest opinions about life). As a kid, Jill had a dog (Trudy), a favorite blanket (Boo Boo Blankey) and a teddy bear (Fred). She (and Edie) are allergic to shellfish.

Edie was born in Dayton, Ohio, and now lives in Apartment 4 above Dario's Italian Restaurant. Edie was married to Lou, the owner of Kurland's Appliance World in Ohio (the store's motto was "If we don't have it, go someplace else"; a clown named Blinky welcomed customers). When Lou died, Edie shed her life as "wife, mother, president of the PTA and good neighbor" for a new start in New York (she got her TV job when she attended a broadcast of Jill's and impressed the executive producer with her brashness).

Reed Ellis, the former star of Cleavon, Commander of the Galaxy Squad, hosts Wake Up, New York. Ken Kazurinsky, Edie's neighbor, runs a mail-order business called the Kazurinsky Catalogue. Matt Drang, Jill's boyfriend, is a biology teacher who yearns to be a writer (he has written several short stories, including one about a scientist who grafts part of his wife's brain to his to find her killer); Francine Luboff is the show's producer; Diahann is Reed's co-host.

Cast: Patricia Heaton (Jill Kurland), Linda Lavin (Edie Kurland), Andrew Prine (Reed Ellis), Peter Michael Goetz (Ken Kazurinsky), John Putch (Matt Drang), Bonnie Bartlett (Francine Luboff), Paula Kelly (Diahann Beaudreaux).

6997 Room 222. (Series; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1969–1974). Life at the integrated Walt Whitman High School as seen through the eyes of Pete Dixon, an African American history teacher whose classes are held in Room 222. Seymour Kaufman is the principal; Liz Macintyre is the guidance counselor; Alice Johnson is a student teacher. Other teachers are Miss Evans, Miss Hogarth, Miss Portnoy, Kenneth Dragen; featured students are Richie Lane, Jason Allen, Bonnie, Helen Loomis, Pamela, Larry, Bernie and Laura.

Cast: Lloyd Haynes (Pete Dixon), Michael Constantine (Seymour Kaufman), Denise Nicholas (Liz MacIntyre), Karen Valentine (Alice Johnson), Hollis Irving (Miss Evans), Patsy Garrett (Miss Hogarth), Carol Worthington (Miss Portnoy), Ivor Francis (Kenneth Dragen), Howard Rice (Richie Lane), Heshimu (Jason Allen), Jane Actman (Bonnie), Judy Strangis (Helen Loomis), Ta Tanisha (Pamela), Eric Laneville (Larry), David Jolliffe (Bernie), Pamela Peters (Laura).

6998 Roomies. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1987). Saginaw University is a small college in the town of Saginaw, New Jersey. In room 203 of the men's dorm live Nicholas "Nick" Chase and Matthew Wiggins, two unlikely roommates.

Nick is a 20-year Marine veteran who is seeking to better his life and acquire the education he never achieved. He joined the Marines because he thought his country needed him. He never married ("We move around too much in the Marine Corps. I never found a woman who wanted to live in a ditch").

Matthew is a whiz kid who entered high school at the age of 11 and now, at 14, is a college freshman. Fish are Matt's life. He studies them ("I believe fish are a sophisticated but legless society"), and Nick was the only person Matthew could find who would share the room (there are fish tanks everywhere; the sound of the oxygen bubbles helps Nick to sleep at night). Matt got his first fish at F.W. Woolworth when he was a kid.

Matt and Nick's favorite eatery is Pizza, Pizza, Pizza and stories follow events in both their lives as they each struggle to adjust to college life.

Other Roles: Kate Adler, the abnormal psychology professor; Sheldon Paxton, the dimwitted student; and Jason and Carl are other students.

Relatives: Estelle Getty (Nick's mother), Candice Azzara (Nick's sister, Josephine), Bob Glavane (Nick's brother, Charles Chase), Nicholas Mele (Nick's brother, Augie Chase), Josephine Young (Nick's aunt, Celia), Bob Giovane (Josephine's husband, Dominick), Samantha Kaye (Josephine's daughter, Gina), Jay Ingram (Matt's father).

Cast: Burt Young (Nick Chase), Corey Haim (Matthew Wiggins), Jane Daly (Kate Adler), Joshua Nelson (Sheldon Paxton), Michael Horton (Jason), Sean Gregory Sullivan (Carl). Theme Vocal: "Looking for Some Answers" by Billy Vera.

6999 Roosevelt and Truman. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/29/77). A proposed series about Roosevelt and Truman, the owner-operators of the Roosevelt and Truman Bail Bond and Security Guard Agency. In the pilot episode, Roosevelt and Truman, whose agency has a perfect record, seek to re-establish that record when a client flies the coop and leaves them facing bankruptcy. Other Regulars: Juanita, their secretary; and Richie, the doughnut shop owner.

Cast: Art Evans (Roosevelt), Philip Michael Thomas (Truman), Ilka Payan (Juanita), Richard Karron (Richie). Guest Cast: Hank Rolike (Reverend Davis), Minnie S. Lindsey (Mrs. Tilsen), Danny Mora (Rodrigues), Bert Rosario (Garcia), Michael Keaton (Quinn).

7000 Rooster. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 8/19/82). Brewster "Rooster" Steele is a rather short, unorthodox psychologist with the L.A.P.D. William "Sweets" McBride is a very tall ex-cop turned insurance investigator. Both men feel they are misfits and help each other out in time of need. The unsold series was to relate their efforts to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, Rooster and Sweets attempt to solve the arson fire of a candy warehouse — a fire set up to cover a drug smuggling operation. See also How Do I Kill a Thief—Let Me Count the Ways, the second pilot for a potential Rooster series. Other Regulars: Police Chief William Coburn and Officer Amy Hammond.

7001 Rootie Kazootie. (Series; Children; NBC; ABC; 1950–1954). Music, songs, games and puppet antics set against the background of the Rootie Kazootie Club. Todd Russell is the host; Mr. Deetle Doodle assists him. Puppet characters include Rootie Kazootie, a freckle-faced little boy; Gala Poochie Pup, his wide-eyed dog; Polka Dottie, Rootie's girlfriend; El Squeako the mouse; and Nipper, Catador and Poison Zoomack, the villain. The series ran on NBC from December 9, 1950 to November 1, 1952; and on ABC from December 22, 1952 to May 7, 1954.

Cast: Todd Russell (Host), John Schoepperle (Mr. Deetle Doodle), John Lee (Mr. Deetle Doodle; later), Naomi Lewis (Rootie Kazootie), Naomi Lewis (Polka Dottie), Naomi Lewis (El Squeako), Frank Milano (Gala Poochie Pup), Frank Milano (Nipper), Frank Milano (Poison Zoomack). Puppeteers: Paul Ashley, Frank Milano, Michael King.

7002 The Roots of Rock 'n' Roll. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1981). A six-part series that traces the history of rock and roll music from 1955 to 1981 through rare film and videotape clips, interviews and performances staged especially for the series. A surprisingly well-researched and staged series that, unfortunately due to time limitations, does not feature what most would appreciate: complete and uninterrupted performances by the stars of rock and roll.

Hosts: Frankie Avalon (The Early Years, 1955–1958); Paul Anka (The Teen Idol Years, 1959–1963); Neil Sadaka (A Farewell to Innocence, 1963–1966); Rod Stewart (The Psychedelic Years, 1967–1970); Elton John (A Time of Change, 1971–1975); Michael McDonald and Patrick Simmons (Every Which Way, 1976–1981). Theme Music: Gary Woods. Narrator: David McQueen.

7003 The Ropers. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1979–1980). A spin-off from Three's Company but based on the British series George and Mildred (which is a spin-off from Man About the House). When Stanley and Helen Roper, the landlords of the Santa Monica apartment house in which Jack Tripper, Chrissy Snow and Janet Wood live, decide it is time to retire, they sell the apartment house and move to the Royal Dale Condominium Town House in Chevia Hills, California. Here, at 46 Peacock Drive, they become the neighbors to the snooty Jeffrey P. Brookes III, a man who believes the Ropers are beneath his social scale and tries to avoid them at every opportunity. Unfortunately, for Jeffrey, Helen has befriended Jeffrey's wife, Anne, and Stanley has become friends with Jeffrey's son, David, a situation that repulses Jeffrey, who must now make act (or try to act) human in front of his new neighbors. Stories follow the events in the lives of Stanley and Helen as they attempt to fit into a life style to which they are quite unaccustomed.

Other regulars are Debbie Hopper, a resident of Royal Dale; Jenny Ballinger, the girl who resides with the Ropers; Ethel Armbrewster, Helen's sister; Hubert, Ethel's husband; Hilda, Helen's younger sister; Louise Cooper, Hubert's secretary.

Cast: Norman Fell (Stanley Roper), Audra Lindley (Helen Roper), Jeffrey Tambor (Jeffrey P. Brookes III), Patricia McCormack (Anne Brookes), Evan Cohen (David Brookes), Lois Arenó (Debbie Hopper), Louise Vallance (Jenny Ballinger), Dena Dietrich (Ethel Armbrewster), Rod Colbin (Hubert Armbrewster), Lucille Benson (Helen's Mother), Dulcine Pullman (Hilda), Timothy Blake (Louise Cooper).

7004 Roscoe Karns and Inky Poo. (Test Film; Comedy; DuMont; 8/14/49). A proposed comedy about a middle class family man (Roscoe Karns) whose conscience, seen in the form of a clown named Inky Poo, helps him solve problems. The test story finds Roscoe struggling to adjust to the fact that his teenage daughter, Sally, has her first boyfriend. Mary is Roscoe's wife.

Cast: Roscoe Karns (Himself), Mary Loene (Mary Karns), Sally Kester (Sally Karns), Curtis Wheeler (Inky Poo), Jimmy Goodwin (Sally's boyfriend).

7005 Rose Petal Place. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 4/85). Rose Petal Place is a magical land where beautiful flowers (who resemble girls) live. Rose Petal is the most beautiful of the flowers but where there is beauty there is also evil — in the form of Nastina, a caterpillar who yearns to take over the land. The proposed series was to relate Rose Petal's battle to keep Nastina from destroying her world. In the pilot episode, Rose Petal tries to help Sweet Violet, an aspiring actress who lacks confidence.

Voice Cast: Marie Osmond (Rose Petal), Susan Blu (Nastina), Marilyn Schreffler (Sweet Violet). Additional Voices: Renae Jacobs, Stacy McLaughlin, Frank Welker.

7006 Roseanne. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1988–1997). Dan and Roseanne Conner are an argumentative married couple who live at 714 Delaware Street in Lanford, Illinois, with their children Becky, Darlene and D.J.

Dan originally owned 4 Aces Construction, then Lanford Custom Cycles (motorcycle repair and sales). When the business fails he, Roseanne and Jackie (Roseanne's sister) open the Lanford Lunch Box (a diner off Route 9). When an opportunity arose, Dan became "the guy who fixes the trucks" at the Lanford City Garage. He quit this for a construction job to dry-wall the new state prison, but never started: he suffered a heart attack at Darlene's wedding. Dan enjoys drinks at the Lobo Lounge and is famous for his chocolate chip shakes.

Roseanne Harris met Dan at Lanford High School. He was an athlete (nicknamed "Yor") and she aspired to become a writer. They married after graduation. When the series begins Roseanne is an assembly line worker at Wellman Plastics. She then held the following jobs: telephone solicitor for Discount House Magazine, order taker at Divine Chicken, bartender at the Lobo Lounge, cleanup lady at Art's Beauty Parlor, waitress at Rodbell's Luncheonette, partner in the Lanford Lunchbox, and TV commentator ("Roseanne Reports from the Heartland") on WERG-TV.

Becky, the oldest child is pretty, sweet and feminine. She loves to shop and worked at the Buy 'n' Bag supermarket. As the series progressed, Becky became aggressive, independent and constantly defied parental authority. She married Mark Healy, Dan's mechanic at the cycle shop. They moved to Minneapolis (where Becky worked as a waitress at the Bunz Restaurant); they later returned home and lived at the Lanford Trailer Court. Mark worked at the Edelweiss Garden Amusement Park as Hans the Hare (the mascot). Hoping to improve herself, Becky enrolled in the University of Illinois (hoping to become a nurse).

Darlene, the middle child, attended South Elementary School Lanford High, and the Chicago School of the Arts. She is a tomboy and nasty. She loves sports and helping her father put up drywall. At age 14 she lost interest in sports, discovered boys and lived for a time in her own dream world. She attached herself to Mark's brother, David, a lazy sort who lived in the Conner's basement. He worked as a busboy at Pizza World and married Darlene when she became pregnant; she gave birth to a girl she and David named Harris Conner Healy.

D.J. (David Jacob) attends South Elementary, James Madison Elementary then the Lanford Middle School. He has a collection of doll heads (Barbie, Cher and G.I. Joe) in one box and the body parts in another. He has a habit of getting his head stuck in drawers (how is not said, "but he's got a gift for it," says Roseanne). He has a goldfish (Fluffy) and worked as a waiter at the Lunch Box. D.J. hopes to become a documentary film maker. His girlfriend, Heather, is a fellow film enthusiast.

Jackie Harris is Roseanne's sister. She first worked at Wellman Plastics then as an officer for the Lanford Police Department. After recovering from a job-related accident, she turned to acting and joined the Lanford Theater Company (she starred in a production of Cyrano de Bergerac). She next worked at the makeup counter at Rodbell's Department Store, then as a big-rig trucker and finally a partner in the Lunch Box. Jackie, real name Marjorie, is divorced (from Fred) and is the mother of Andy.

Nancy, Jackie's friend is a lesbian. Marla and Sharon were Nancy's lovers. They frequented the gay bar Lips; Marla worked as a salesgirl in the cosmetics department of Rodbell's Department Store.

The program also spotlighted gays Leon Carp and his significant other, Scott. Leon was a partner with Roseanne in the Lunch Box; Scott is a probate lawyer. In 1996, Roseanne's mother, Beverly Harris, announced she was a lesbian and moved in with her lover, Joyce Levine, a famous lounge singer with the Lanford Holiday Inn.

In the final episode we see Roseanne writing at her desk. In a voiceover we learn that she is compiling her memories and all that we saw did not actually happen. Dan had died a year prior to this moment. It was Roseanne's sister, not her mother, who was actually gay. She thought Becky would have been better with David, and Darlene better with Mark (and Darlene named Becky and Becky named Darlene). But most of all Roseanne was achieving her high school dream; while it may not be "the great American novel," it is her dream book and she has written it for all of us to see.

Cast: Roseanne Arnold (Roseanne Conner), John Goodman (Dan Cooper), Lacey Chabert (Becky Conner), Sarah Chalke (Becky Conner), Sara Gilbert (Darlene Conner), Sal Barone (D.J. Conner), Michael Fishman (D.J. Conner), Laurie Metcalf (Jackie Harris), Sandra Bernhard (Nancy), Morgan Fairchild (Marla), Mariel Hemingway (Sharon), Martin Mull (Leon Carp), Fred Willard (Scott), Estelle Parsons (Beverly Harris), Ruta Lee (Joyce Levine), Johnny Galecki (David Healy), Glenn Quinn (Mark Healy), Heather Matarazzo (Heather).

7007 The Rosemary Clooney Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1956). Singer Rosemary Clooney hosts a weekly program of music and songs with the Hi-Lo's as her backup singers and the music of Frank DeVol and his orchestra.

7008 The Rosemary Clooney Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1957–1958). Music and song with singer Rosemary Clooney as the host. Also known as The Lux Show Starring Rosemary Clooney (when under the sponsorship of Lux Soap Flakes). The series ran from September 26, 1957 to June 19, 1958.

Hostess: Rosemary Clooney. Regulars: Paula Kelly and the Modernaires, The Jones Boys. Orchestra: Frank DeVol.

7009 Rosenthal and Jones. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/11/75). As the only alternative to living a miserable existence with their grown children, Nate Rosenthal and Henry Jones, two retired widowers, agree to share a low rent apartment. The proposed series was to follow their misadventures as they attempt to live together. In the pilot episode, Nate seeks a way to tell Henry that he lost the $28 he gave him to open a bank account. Other Regulars: David, Nate's son; Marge, David's wife; and Lucille, Henry's daughter.

Cast: Ned Glass (Nate Rosenthal), George Kirby (Henry Jones), Jerry Fogel (David Rosenthal), Nedra Deen (Marge Rosenthal), Lucille Timberlake (Lucille Jones). Theme Vocal: "All Kinds of People" by Phyllis McGuire.

7010 Rosetti and Ryan. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1977). Rosetti and Ryan is a law firm in Los Angeles that is operated by Joseph Rosetti, a playboy, and Frank Ryan, an ex-cop turned lawyer. Joseph and Frank are anything but conventional (chasing women is up most on their agenda) and they believe in doing what it takes to defend their clients. Stories relate their exploits as they incorporate unorthodox methods to get the facts, find the guilty party and clear their sometimes-questionable clients. Jessica Hornesby is the assistant District Attorney; Rocky is the firm secretary; Emma is the firm receptionist;

Rosa is Joseph's mother; and Marcus T. Block and Praetor Hardcastle are two of the judges Rosetti and Ryan face in the courtroom.

Cast: Tony Roberts (Joseph Rosetti), Squire Fridell (Frank Ryan), Jane Elliot (Jessica Hornesby), Randi Oakes (Rocky), Penny Santon (Rosa Rosetti), Ruth Manning (Emma), William Marshall (Judge Marcus T. Block), Dick O'Neill (Judge Praetor Hardcastle).

7011 The Rosey Grier Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1969). Music, talk and celebrity interviews with former pro football player Rosey Grier as the host. He is assisted by Charles Brown.

7012 The Rosie O'Donnell Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1996–2001). A daily talk show with a homespun feel that sets it apart from others at the time. While name celebrities are interviewed, hostess Rosie O'Donnell gives attention to struggling performers or those who receive little recognition (like featuring the casts from Broadway shows). When not being controversial, Rosie's one-on-one interviews are inspiring and her conversations with everyday people are also a highlight of the program.

Cast: Shiri Appleby (Elizabeth "Liz" Parker), Katherine Heigl (Isabel Evans), Brendan Fehr (Michael Guerin), Jason Behr (Max Evans), William Sadler (Sheriff Jim Valenti), Majandra Delfino (Maria DeLuca), Colin Hanks (Alex Whitman), Nick Wechsler (Kyle Valenti), Emilie de Raven (Tess Harding), Adam Rodriguez (Jesse Ramirez).

7014 The Rough Riders. (Series; Western; ABC; 1958–1959). "This is the story of three men who came to be known as the Rough Riders. Many years later and half a continent away that name was to win undying glory on the slopes of San Juan Hill. But our story is the beginning of the legend. Three men who came to be known in awe and admiration as the Rough Riders."

The three men the announcer speaks of in the opening theme narration are James ("Jim") Flagg, Colin Kirby and Buck Sinclair — two Union officers (Jim and Buck) and a Confederate (Colin) who team up after the surrender at Appomattox to journey west to begin new lives.

Jim was a captain, Buck a sergeant, and Colin a lieutenant. Jim is from a military family; Buck is an expert tracker (he can track through any terrain); and Colin is the son of a plantation owner. The men now look out for one another as they travel between the Great Smokies and the High Sierras during the mid-1860s. Their exploits, as they help "good people plagued by bandits," are the focal point of stories.

"Watch for our next story of these three men whose every path crossed adventure — adventures destined to create the adventures of the Rough Riders."

Cast: Kent Taylor (Capt. Jim Flagg), Jan Merlin (Lt. Colin Kirby), Peter Whitney (Sgt. Buck Sinclair).

7015 Roughcuts. (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 4/84). A potpourri of celebrity profiles, film and television outtakes and behind-the-scenes reports on the entertainment industry. Doug Lewellyn and John Joslyn are the producers.

Host: Stuart Whitman.

7016 Roughhouse. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/16/88). House and Home was the original title for this unsold series about the Carlsons, a family of four who run a carpentry business that builds people's dream houses — or at least attempts to. Widower Walt Carlson heads the family and he is assisted by his sons (Norm, Jeff and Chris) and a very pretty female distraction named Lynette.

Cast: Ronny Cox (Walt Carlson), Robert Prescott (Norm Carlson), Ted Henning (Jeff Carlson), Michael Bowen (Chris Carlson), Karyn Parsons (Lynette). Guest Cast: Alexandra Powers (Beth), Deborah Richter (Holly), Kristen Trucksess (Fawn), Kate Harvey (Katie), Mark S. Porro (Man at bar).

7017 The Rounders. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1966–1967). The saga of Ben Jones and Howdy Lewis, two fun-loving and dim-witted cowboys who work as hired hands for Jim Ed Love, the owner of the J.L. Cattle Ranch in Texas. Sally is Ben's girlfriend; Ada is Howdy's girlfriend; Vince is Big Ed's right-hand man; Shorty Davis is a ranch hand. Based on the feature film of the same title.

7018 The Rousters. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1983–1984). Sladetown is a Los Angeles-based carnival with "Thrills, Chills and Spills. Providing Family Entertainment Since 1978." "Cactus" Jack Slade owns the carnival; his beautiful daughter, Ellen Slade, handles the books and teaches school (five hours a day) for the carny kids. When trouble becomes apparent, Slade calls on the services of his security chief, Wyatt Earp III, a descendant of the famous Old West lawman (1848–1929).

Wyatt hates his name (he has to show his I.D. when people don't believe him). He believes the real Wyatt Earp was a drinker and a gambler and not the hero he was made out to be. Wyatt lives in a house trailer with his brother, Evan Earp, his mother, Amanda ("Ma") Earp, and his 14-year-old son, Michael Earp, whom Ma calls "Little Wyatt."

Evan claims, "I have a mind that is a natural resource. I see things in my sleep and my dreams come true." He has a dog named Lightning, pokes his nose into everybody's business and has harebrained schemes to make money.

Ma carries a 12-gauge shotgun and is partners with Evan in the bounty hunting business. Ma believes the legend of Wyatt Earp is true and says, "We got the Earp tradition to live up to." Amanda is the "real" Wyatt Earp's sister-in-law; she has the trailer decorated with wanted posters she takes from the post office.

Ruta Lee played Jack's sister, Rowena Slade. At the height of ABC's Love Boat popularity, NBC decided to schedule The Rousters opposite it. The Rousters was doomed before it even premiered; even clever (and relentless) promos exclaiming, "The Rousters gonna sink the Love Boat!" couldn't save it.

Cast: Chad Everett (Wyatt Earp III), Jim Varney (Evan Earp), Timothy Gibbs (Michael Earp), Maxine Stuart (Amanda "Ma" Earp), Hoyt Axton (Jack Slade), Mimi Rogers (Ellen Slade). Theme Vocal: "Tough Enough" by Ronnie Milsap.

7019 Route 66. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1960–1964). Tod Stiles is the son of a wealthy man and was left penniless after his father's death. Buzz Murdock was an employee of Tod's father who was abandoned as an infant and grew up in an orphanage in New York's Hell's Kitchen. With undecided futures, Tod and Buzz pool their resources and purchase a 1960 Chevrolet and begin their travels along the highway of U.S. Route 66 seeking a place to settle down ("We're looking for a place with a nitch," says Buzz, "a place where we can really fit in"). In last season episodes, Tod is partners with Linc Case, a Vietnam War veteran.

Tod's birthday was given as March 12, 1936; he married a woman named Mona (Barbara Eden) in the last episode. Beatrice Straight played his aunt, Kitty Chamberlain; Linda Watkins played his mother in one episode; his father, Thomas, was not seen.

Cast: Martin Milner (Tod Stiles), George Maharis (Buzz Murdock), Glenn Corbett (Linc Chase). Theme Song: "Route 66" by Nelson Riddle.

7020 Route 66. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1993). A revised version of the prior title. Thirty years later the wanderers are Nick Lewis and Arthur Clark, friends who pool their resources and travel along Route 66 in the same 1960 red and white Corvette that Nick's father, Buzz Murdock, drove (Nick inherited the car after Buzz's death. It was explained that Buzz was just passing through, met Nick's mother and had an affair. Buzz never came back. Nick never knew Buzz and all he ever got from him were a few postcards at Christmas). Stories relate their experiences as they travel across the country and help the people they find in trouble.

Cast: James Wilder (Nick Lewis), Dan Cortese (Arthur Clark).

7021 The Rowan and Martin Report. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 11/5/75). A satire of television news shows and reporters as seen through the comic reporting of Dan Rowan and Dick Martin, the co-anchors of a news broadcast called The Rowan and Martin Report.

anchors: Dan Rowan, Dick Martin. Reporters: Carolyn Calcote, Jim Connell, Cindi Haynie, Ed Monaghan, Judy Pace, Robbie Rist, Dick Stewart.

7022 The Rowan and Martin Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1966). Music and comedy with comedians Dan Rowan and Dick Martin (one year later they would make TV history with their series, Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In). The series ran from June 16, 1966 to September 8, 1966. Hal Kemp is the producer.

Hosts: Dan Rowan, Dick Martin. Regulars: Frankie Randall, Lainie Kazan, Judi Rolin, The Wise D'Orso Dancers. Orchestra: Les Brown.

7023 Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1968–1973). A weekly series that satirizes the contemporary scene through music, song, dance and comedy. The fast-paced comedy, psychedelic-like sets and gorgeous girls like Goldie Hawn, Judy Carne and Teresa Graves appearing in bikinis changed the look of comedy-variety series. There were blackouts, jokes (that even the hosts had a difficult time figuring out), dumb blondes (Goldie Hawn), a "dirty old man" (Arte Johnson) attempting to hit on an old spinster (Ruth Buzzi), a German who spied on the various activities (Arte Johnson), special guests (the most famous of which, President Richard Nixon), conversation between the hosts; new catch phrases (like "Here come the judge") and anything else the writers felt could get a laugh. The series, which produced 124 episodes, aired from January 22, 1968 to May 7, 1973.

Announcer Gary Owens opens the show: "From the lovely Coconut Room atop the unemployment building here in beautiful downtown Burbank, NBC presents Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In starring Dan Rowan and Dick Martin with guest star, the glamorous Tim Conway; and our special guest star, Cher. With Judy Carne, Arte Johnson and Eileen Brennan, Ruth Buzzi, Henry Gibson, Roddy Maude Roxby, Jo Anne Worley; yours truly, Gary Owens and Mogul the Friendly Dowd. Tonight's program is brought to you by these really groovy people — Blue Bonnet Margarine — everything's better with Blue Bonnet on it." George Schlatter is the producer.

7024 The Rowdies. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/8/86). If you live in California and you want protection — for yourself or your property — you call Harlan Home Security, a protection service whose officers deal their own brand of justice to evil doers. The company is headed by Calvin T. "Rowdy" Harlan and his officers have been nicknamed "The Rowdies" for their unorthodox methods. The unsold series was to focus on the Rowdies as they attempt to serve and protect. In the pilot episode, titled "Hack It or Pack It," the Rowdies investigate a computer theft. Other Regulars: Rhonda, Harlan's ex-wife; Calvin, Jr., Harlan's son; Irene "Patches" Brady, the radio dispatcher; the Rowdies: Beef, George, Bill, Wilson, Rubino; and Police Captain John Jackson.

Cast: Pat Harrington, Jr. (Calvin T. Harlan), Connie Stevens (Rhonda Harlan), Corey Feldman (Calvin Harlan, Jr.), Kitty Moffat (Irene Brady), Dennis Burkley (Beef McCullough), Sam Anderson (George Modell), John Scott Clough (Bill Stokes), Tommy Swerdlow (Wilson Tarbuck), Michael Wren (Rubino), Jonathan Banks (John Jackson). Guest Cast: Joseph Sirola (George Carriere), Bill Cort (Mr. Davenport), Joel Brooks (Psychiatrist), Ed Hooks (Cavelli), Jack Lightsey (Lieutenant Ringwell), Gary Armagnac (Burglar), Kiva Lawrence (Councilman), Scott Murphy (Rodnitz).

7025 Roxie. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1987). Roxanne "Roxie" Brinkerhoff is the program director of WNYV-TV, channel 66, a New York City financially troubled UHF station whose slogan is "Pictures That Fly Through the Air." Roxie's attempts to "program average programs for the average viewer" was the focal point of the six episode series (of which only two aired). Originally titled Andrea Spinelli-Brinkerhoff.

Other Regulars: Marcie, the bookkeeper; Leon, the station manager; Michael, Roxie's husband, a school teacher; Vito, the floor director; Yetta, the receptionist; and Randy, the gopher. Jerry Stiller played the role of Leon in the original, unaired pilot. The series ran from April 1, 1987 to April 8, 1987.

Cast: Andrea Martin (Roxy Brinkerhoff), Teresa Ganzel (Marcie McKinley), Jack Riley (Leon Buchanan), Mitchell Laurance (Michael Brinkerhoff), Ernie Sabella (Vito), Deborah Lacey (Yetta), Jerry Pavlon (Randy).

Cast: Janice Lynde (Roxy Hagopian), Leslie Ackerman (Sylvia Hagopian), Rhoda Gemignani (Anna Hagopian), Jeff Corey (Alex Hagopian), Jim Catusi (Charlie Martin), Ken Olfson (Broadway director; guest role).

7027 The Roy Rogers and Dale Evans Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1962). Music and songs featuring country and western entertainers. Hosted by Roy Rogers, "The King of the Cowboys," and his wife, Dale Evans, "Queen of the West"; their children, Debbie, Dusty, Dodie and Sandy appear as regulars. The series aired from September 29, 1962 to December 29, 1962. Ralph Wonders and Bob Henry are the producers.

Hosts: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans. Regulars: Pat Brady, Cliff Arquette, Dodie Rogers, Debbie Rogers, Dusty Rogers, Sandy Rogers, Kathy Taylor, Kirby Buchanon, The Sons of the Pioneers. Music: Ralph Carmichael.

7028 The Roy Rogers Show. (Series; Western; CBS; 1951–1964). Modern-day Mineral City is the setting. Roy Rogers, "King of the Cowboys," and his wife, Dale Evans, "Queen of the West," are ranchers and the owners of the Double R Bar Ranch. Roy and Dale are also unofficial law enforcers and take it upon themselves to help maintain the peace in an area that could be considered a modern-day Old West. They are assisted by their friend, Pat Brady, the cook in the local town diner owned by Roy and Dale. Bullet is Roy's dog; he rides a horse named Trigger. Dale's horse is Buttermilk; Pat drives Nellybelle, a jeep with a mind of its own (it is forever causing problems for Pat). Ralph Cotton is the mayor. The series, which produced 104 episodes, aired from October 4, 1951 to September 19, 1964.

Cast: Roy Rogers (Roy Rogers), Dale Evans (Dale Evans), Pat Brady (Pat Brady), Harry Lauter (Ralph Cotton), Harry Harvey, Sr. (Sheriff Potter). Variou Roles: Ruta Lee, Gloria Talbot, Denver Pyle, Minerva Urecal, Dub Taylor, Hank Patterson, Rand Brooks, Virginia Carroll, Wally West, Troy Melton, Russ Scott. Regulars: The Sons of the Pioneers.

7029 Royal Canadian Mounted Police. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1959). A look at the methods the Royal Canadian Mounted Police use to battle the modern-day criminal is seen through the activities of Jacques Gagnier, a corporal who heads an outpost a bit removed from the populated areas of the city but that sees its share of criminal activity. Also known as R.C.M.P.

Cast: Gilles Pelletier (Corporal Jacques Gagnier), John Perkins (Constable Scott), Don Francks (Constable Mitchell).

7030 The Royal Family. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1991–1992). Alfonso ("Al") Royal and his wife, Victoria, have been married for 47 years. They live at 973 Glenview Avenue in Chamblee, Georgia. After raising their family, Al and Victoria were looking forward to spending their golden years alone — until their newly divorced and homeless daughter, Elizabeth Royal, and her children, Kim, Hillary and Curtis, shatter that dream by moving in with them. Al now seeks to regain his longed-for privacy by getting Elizabeth married and out of the house.

Al (who was called Alexander in the pilot) was the first black mailman in Atlanta (in some episodes Al is retired; in others he is working for the post office). All Al ever wanted to do was retire and live in peace with his wife. The last refuge Al now has is his workshop (he built, for example, a birdhouse with no door and a doghouse that collapsed). In his youth, Al was a baseball player for the Kansas City Monarchs.

Elizabeth is divorced (from the never-seen Dexter). She enrolled in night classes at the University of Georgia to become a doctor and earns money by selling Algon Cosmetics door to door. Sixteen year old Kim and Curtis, who is 15, attend Chamblee High School. Curtis works after school as a salesman at the Shoe Patrol. Four-year-old Hillary, whom Al calls "Puddin'," is enrolled in the Lakes and Flowers Preschool.

In the episode of 11/27/91, Al has a heart attack while bowling in the Postman's Tournament (this reflects the real-life death of Redd Foxx a month earlier). Friends and family appeared to pay tribute to Al — as did Ruth, Victoria's younger and gorgeous half-sister, who came home after a 17 year absence to get her life back together and help Victoria raise the family.

When the series returned after a short absence, Ruth Royal was now Victoria's man-crazy daughter (it was explained this time that Ruth ran away from home when she was 17 years old and has returned to settle down). Ruth, who is nicknamed "Coco," works part time at the men's cologne counter of Michaelson's Department Store. David Allen Jones sings the theme, "We Are a Family."

Cast: Redd Foxx (Al Royal), Della Reese (Victoria Royal), Marianna Aalda (Elizabeth Royal), Sylver Gregory (Kim Royal), Naya Rivera (Hillary Royal), Larenz Tate (Curtis Royal), Jackee Harry (Ruth Royal).

7031 Royal Match. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/2/85). Incidents in the lives of the Royal family and commoners in the tiny mythical kingdom of Crescenda. The land is ruled by King Edmond, his American wife, Susan, and Edmond's mother, Queen Estelle. The pilot episode relates how Edmond and Susan, a geochemist visiting Crescenda, meet, fall in love — and encounter the objections of Estelle, who wants her son to marry royalty, not an American commoner. Other Regulars: Duke Alford, Edmond's uncle; Prime Minister Weyback; Katerina, the neighboring princess; Deevers, the King's butler; and Mrs. Weyback.

Cast: John Moulder-Brown (King Edmond), Havilland Morris (Susan), Tammy Grimes (Queen Estelle), Ian Abercrombie (Duke Alford), Clive Revill (Prime Minister Weyback), Jean Smart (Princess Katarina), Ivor Barry (Deevers), Carol Tietel (Mrs. Weyback). Guest Cast: Leslie Ackerman (Becky), Jim Piddock (Interpreter), Earl Boen (Agent).

7032 Royal Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1951–1952). Re-titled episodes of dramas that were originally broadcast on Fireside Theater during the 1949–1950 season. Fifty-two episodes were broadcast from April 12, 1951 to July 12, 1951 and April 3, 1952 to June 26, 1952.

7033 Royal Showcase. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1952). The program features performances by an established or up and coming comic, movie figure or recording personality.

Host: George Abbott. Announcer: Ben Grauer. Orchestra: Gordon Jenkins.

7034 Royce. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 5/21/76). Royce (no other name given) is a strong, silent man who lived with the Comanche Indians and learned well how to deal with the realities of 1870s frontier life. The proposed series was to relate his adventures as he travels from town to town helping people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Royce guides a young woman and her two children, abandoned on the Kansas plains by the woman's husband, on a dangerous journey to California.

Cast: Robert Forster (Royce). Guest Cast: Maybeth Hurt (Susan Mabry), Moosie Drier (Stephen Mabry), Terri Lynn Wood (Heather Mabry), Michael Parks (Blair Mabry), Eddie Little Sky (White Bull), Dave Cass (Dent).

7035 R.U. the Girl: With T-Boz and Chilli. (Series; Reality; UPN; 2005). Tionne "T-Boz" Watkins and Rozonda "Chilli" Thomas are the two remaining members of TLC, a top-selling female rock group. T-Boz and Chilli are seeking a new girl to perform with them and cameras follow their search for that special girl. Over a period of eight weeks, each of the candidates is put through a series of challenges that tests their various singing styles and stage presentations. The girl who most impresses T-Boz and Chilli not only gets to perform with the group, but also record their next album. The title stands for Are You the Girl.

Stars: Tionne "T-Boz" Watkins, Rozonda "Chilli" Thomas.

7036 The Rubber Gun Squad. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/1/77). The title refers to misfit police officers who are taken off active duty and assigned non-hazardous work until such time as they can prove themselves worthy again. Chopper and Eddie are two such cops with the N.Y.P.D. who have been assigned to the city's Central Park Precinct. The unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they struggle to become cops again.

Cast: Andy Romano (Chopper), Lenny Baker (Eddie), Tom Signorelli (Sergeant O'Leary), Betty Buckley (Rosie), Alan Weeks (Jerome), Paul Jabara (Austin), Frank Simpson (Dewey), Kenneth McMullan (Captain Egan), Don Scardino (Mooney).

7037 Rubik, the Amazing Cube. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1983–1984). Rubik, the cube puzzle created by Enro Rubik, has come to life in animated form and has befriended three children: Lisa, Renaldo, Marla and Carlos. Rubik has amazing magical powers and with its human assistants, begins a quest to help people threatened by evil.

Voice Cast: Ron Palillo (Rubik), Michael Saucedo (Carlos), Jennifer Ann Fajardo (Lisa), Michael Bell (Renaldo), Angela Moya (Marla).

7038 Rude Dog and the Dweebs. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1989–1990). Rude Dog is a flashy canine (drives a pink Cadillac) that owns an automotive shop. He is the leader of the Dweebs, a group of mischief-making dogs (Satch, Tweek, Barney and Caboose) who plague Rude with their antics. Gloria is Rude's girlfriend and Seymour, a vicious cat, is their mortal enemy (a cat vs. dog situation). Also out to get Rude and his gang is Herman, the dog-catcher, and his assistant Rot. Stories relate Rude's efforts to keep his sanity amid all the flack he gets from those who surround him.

Voice Cast: Rob Paulsen (Rude Dog), Ellen Gerstell (Gloria), Ellen Gerstell (Kibble), Dave Coulier (Barney), Peter Cullen (Winston), Peter Cullen (Herman), Hank Saroyan (Tweek), Mendi Segal (Reggie), Frank Welker (Caboose), Frank Welker (Rot), Frank Welker (Seymour), Jim Cummings (Satch).

7039 The Ruff and Reddy Show. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1957–1964). "Get set, get ready, here come Ruff and Reddy..." Serial-like stories that relate the adventures of Ruff the Cat and Reddy the Dog. The series, hosted by Captain Bob Cottle, ran from December 14, 1957 to September 26, 1964. The first television venture for cartoon icons, William Hanna and Joseph Barbera.

Cast: Bob Cottle (Captain Bob Cottle), Don Messick (Voice of Ruff), Daws Butler (Voice of Reddy).

7040 The Ruggles. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1949–1952). A simplistic comedy that relates everyday events in the lives of the Ruggles family: Charlie, the father; his wife, Margaret, and their children Sharon, Charles "Chuck," Jr., and twins Donna and Donald. The series ran from November 3, 1949 to June 19, 1952.

Cast: Charlie Ruggles (Charlie Ruggles), Irene Tedrow (Margaret Ruggles), Erin O'Brien-Moore (Margaret Ruggles; later), Tommy Bernard (Chuck Ruggles), Margaret Kerry (Sharon Ruggles), Judy Nugent (Donna Ruggles), Jimmy Hawkins (Donald Ruggles).

7041 Rugrats. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1991–2003). Tommy Pickles is a baby (fondly called a Rugrat) who, along with three other toddlers, Chuckie Finster and Lil and Phil DeVille sit in their playpens and watch the world go by while observing the adults in their lives. But for Tommy that is not enough. The little genius hides a plastic screwdriver in his diaper that allows him to undo his playpen side and with his cohorts, Chuckie and Lil and Phil, venture outside the safety of their homes to explore the world that surrounds them (and often get into mischief). In later episodes, toddlers Dil and Kimi become two of the new Rugrats on the block.

Voice Cast: Elizabeth Daily (Tommy Pickles), Nancy Cartwright (Chuckie Finster), Christine Cavanaugh (Chuckie Finster; later), Kath Soucie (Lil DeVille), Kath Soucie (Phil DeVille), Tara Strong (Dil Prescott), Tara Strong (Kimi), Melanie Chartoff (Diane Kropotkin-Pickles), Michael Bell (Andrew Pickles), Cheryl Chase (Angelica Pickles), Julia Kato (Kira Wantabe-Finster), Jack Riley (Stu Pickles), Stacy Keach (Marvin Finster), David Doyle (Louis "Grandpa" Pickles), Joe Alaskey (Louis "Grandpa" Pickles; later), Phil Proctor (Howard DeVille).

7042 Rules of Engagement. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2007–). The program opens with “When you’re single, you’re exactly as happy as you are. When you’re married, you can only be as happy as the least happy person in the relationship.” The program itself presents three views of marriage and relationships as seen through a married couple (Jeff and Audrey), an engaged couple (Adam and Jennifer) and a swinging bachelor (Russell).

Jeff and Audrey have been married for 12 years. The marriage works because Jeff always lets Audrey have her way. Adam and Jennifer have been dating for seven months. He proposed; she accepted and they moved in together (the same Manhattan apartment building as Jeff and Audrey). Adam is not so sure he made the right decision; Jennifer is sure she made the right decision. Russell believes he has it the best of all — “I do what I want. I do it when I want and I sleep with who I want.” He does have a serious problem though — he is afraid of commitment. Jeff believes he knows all there is to know about the downfalls of marriage. Russell believes he knows all the great things about being single and each bombard Adam with their views and cause the comedy as Adam finds their words often ringing true as he tries to maintain a relationship with Jennifer. The Island Diner is the hangout; Gizmo is Jeff’s robotic dog.

Cast: Patrick Warburton (Jeff), Megyn Price (Audrey), Oliver Hudson (Adam), Bianca Kajlich (Jennifer), David Spade (Russell).

7043 Run, Buddy, Run. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1966–1967). In a cloudy gym steam room, the unsuspecting meeting place of gangland hoods, Buddy Overstreet, a mild-mannered Los Angeles accountant, overhears their plotting of the killing of “The Man in Chicago” and the mysterious words, “Chicken Little.” Buddy, however, is spotted by the hoods (who believe he is onto them) and chased, but he manages to escape. Fearful that Buddy may talk, Mr. Devere, a syndicate leader who runs a front known as Devere Enterprises, orders his men to find and kill Buddy. Buddy is now on the lam and his attempts to escape capture and resolve the differences between him and Devere is the focal point of the series.

Junior is Devere’s son; Harry, Wendell and Joseph are Devere’s henchmen; Susan is Buddy’s sister; Miss Oglethorpe is Devere’s secretary.

An announcer opens the show: “This is Buddy

Overstreet. He’s wanted by the head of the most powerful crime syndicate in the country. In a steam room Buddy overheard their vital secrets and the mysterious words “Chicken Little.” Now he knows too much. These are the orders given to all members of the syndicate from one end of the country to the other — Get him! Get him! Get him!”

Cast: Jack Sheldon (Buddy Overstreet), Bruce Gordon (Mr. Devere), Jim Connell (Junior Devere), Gregg Palmer (Harry), Nicholas Georgiade (Wendell), Dort Clark (Joseph), Laurel Goodwin (Susan Overstreet), Jackie Joseph (Miss Oglethorpe).

7044 Run for Your Life. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1965–1968). When a medical report reveals that he is dying of incurable chronic myelocytic leukemia, attorney Paul Bryan decides to cram a lifetime of living into his remaining one or two years. Clinging to the slim hope of a medical breakthrough, he travels around the world and involves himself in the problems of others.

An announcer opens the show: “Paul Bryan, attorney at law, future full of promise until a medical examination reveals that he has only a short time to live; precious time to be used; time to squeeze 30 years of living into one or two.”

Cast: Ben Gazzara (Paul Bryan), John Hoyt (Doctor in Opening).

7046 Run, Joe, Run. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1974–1976). The original format of the series: Falsely accused of attacking his master, Joe, an Army-trained German Shepherd, escapes before being destroyed. Declared an Army fugitive, a $200 reward is posted for his capture. Able to prove Joe’s innocence, his master, Sergeant William Corey, begins a cross-country trek in an attempt to clear Joe’s name. However, Corey is ordered back to active service before he is able to prove Joe’s innocence. Still wandering, Joe meets and befriends Josh McCoy, a back-packer unaware of Joe’s past. This revised format follows their adventures as they travel across the country.

A narrator opens the show: “Wanted, German shepherd; male; name: Joe. Accused of attacking his trainer, Sergeant Corey, a crime he did not commit. Before he can prove Joe’s innocence, Sergeant Corey is ordered back to active duty. Then Joe meets Josh McCoy, a new and permanent friend who doesn’t know about Joe’s past. Together they make their way across the country finding new friends and adventures wherever they go.”

Cast: Arch Whiting (William Corey), Chad States (Josh McCoy), Heinrich of Midvale (Joe).

7047 Run of the House. (Series; Comedy; WB; 2003). The Franklins are a family of six who live in Grand Rapids, Michigan. When health problems force the parents to move to Arizona for the winter, Kurt, the eldest child, is placed in charge of his three younger siblings: Sally, Chris and Brooke. Stories follow Kurt’s efforts to run the house and keep a watchful on his offbeat brother, Chris, 15-year-old boy-crazy Brooke and Sally, his responsible, good girl sister. Also assisting Kurt is Marilyn Morris, his next-door neighbor, who promised Kurt’s parents to look in on the family as often as she could.

Kurt runs the family business, Franklin Office Supplies. He dropped out of college to pursue his dream of becoming a ball player. He made it to the minor leagues (the Lansing Lug Nuts) as a pitcher but was cut from the team. Chris “is as dumb as a post” but was a law student who dropped out of college to find himself. While he searches fruitlessly, he has taken a job as a waiter at O’Rourke’s Pub and Grill.

Sally is a sweet and trusting young woman who works as a buyer for an unmanned fashion store (later she is said to be a salesgirl in a department store). She generally keeps to herself and rarely becomes involved in the numerous family arguments. Sally was a homecoming queen in high school and believes she is not capable of looking bad. Brooke can’t wait to become a woman and be set free from the house rules Kurt has instituted. She calls her breasts “The Girls” and would like to show them off, but Kurt refuses to let her show cleavage (“You’re too young”). Brooke attends Henderson High School (as did her siblings).

Cast: Joseph Lawrence (Kurt Franklin), Kyle Howard (Chris Franklin), Sasha Barrese (Sally Franklin), Margo Harshman (Brooke Franklin), Mo Gaffney (Marilyn Morris).

7048 Runaround. (Series; Game; NBC; 1972–1973). A question is read and three possible answers appear on a stage constructed set that contains three lanes. Each of the nine children who compete chooses one of the answers by standing on one of the lanes. A light reveals the correct answer and players standing on that particular answer each receive one token; the other players are placed in the penalty box. The game continues in this manner until one player remains. He is awarded an additional token, the others players are removed from the penalty box, and a new round begins. The child with the most tokens is the winner and receives merchandise gifts. Ventriloquist Paul Winchell hosts the series with his dummy friends, Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff.

Host: Paul Winchell. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

7049 Runaway. (Series; Drama; CW; 2006). Paul Rader is a high-powered corporate attorney in Maryland. He is married to Lily and they are the parents of Henry, Hannah and Tommy. During a case, a colleague of Paul’s is murdered — and Paul, whose fingerprints were found on the knife that killed her, is arrested and charged with the crime. Paul has been framed for the crime — but he doesn’t know why and can’t prove it. The real killers have also threatened him and to protect his family, he jumps bail and flees.

After three weeks on the run, he and his family settle in Bridgewater, Iowa, where they rent a fixer-upper house and Paul finds work as a cook in Vic’s Diner. The Rader’s appear to blend in well and must watch every move they make. The family has also assumed new identities as the Holland family. Paul is now Jim Holland; Lily is now Brenda; Hannah is Kate; Henry is Jason and Tommy is Mikey Holland. Paul is also wanted by the FBI for fleeing and U.S. Marshal Agent Huntley has made it her goal to find Paul. All of the family members seem to have adjusted except Henry, who misses his girlfriend, Kylie (and threatens to expose his family by using a traceable cell phone to speak with her). From this point on, the series takes on the aspects of a mystery as Paul tries to clear his name by finding the real killers yet protect his family by remaining lost as the killers want him (also unknown to Paul is the motive for the killing). The series, the first new program for the new CW network, was cancelled after four episodes, leaving all questions unanswered. The series has the distinction of being the first CW series to be cancelled.

Cast: Donnie Wahlberg (Paul Rader), Leslie Hope (Lily Rader), Sarah Ramos (Hannah Rader), Dustin Milligan (Henry Rader), Nathan Gamble (Tommy Rader), Karen LeBlanc (Agent Huntley), Susan Floyd (Gina Bennett), Karen Le Blanc (Agent Angela Huntley), Raoul Bhaneja (Agent Raj Rao), Sandrine Holt (Erin).

7050 The Runaway Barge. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 3/24/75). An unsold pilot film for a potential series called The River Men. Life on the Mississippi River as seen through the eyes of the crew of the tugboat River King. In the pilot episode, the River

King's crew attempts to stop a runaway barge filled with deadly chlorine from colliding with an Arkansas dam. Regulars: Buckshot Bates, the captain; Bingo, the first mate; Madge, the cook; and crew members Ezel, Danny, Whispering Wally (the engineer) and Rogue Leblanc.

Cast: Jim Davis (Buckshot Bates), Bo Hopkins (Ezel Owens), Tim Matheson (Danny Worth), James Best (Bingo Watson), Lucille Benson (Madge Henshaw), Dom Plumley (Whispering Wally), Beau Gibson (Rogue LeBlanc). Guest Cast: Devon Ericson (June Bugg Dobbs), Christina Hart (Reba Washburn), Clifton James (Soeey), Nick Nolte (Ray Blout), G.W. Bailey (Boozer). Theme Vocal: "The River Men" by Johnny Rodriguez.

7051 Runaway with the Rich and Famous. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1987). A spin-off from Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous that travels to different worldwide locations to visit vacationing celebrities.

Host: Robin Leach. Narrator: David Perry. Theme Music: Bill Conti.

7052 The Runaways. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1979). A revised version of Operation: Runaway that tells the story of Joe Arizzio, a Los Angeles-based psychologist who specializes in tracking down runaways. Karen Wingate is his girlfriend; Debbie Shaw and Mark Johnson are the teenagers Joe cares for. Hal Grady is the L.A.P.D. detective who assists Steve (and vice versa).

A narrator opens the show: "The Runaways, a Q.M. Production, starring Alan Feinstein; also starring Karen Machon, with Michael Biehn, Patti Cohoon and James Callahan. At this moment thousands of children are running from their homes, crying out for help, seeking escape from brutality and indifference. One man hears them well — Steve Arizzio, former juvenile officer, now a clinical psychologist who spent a lifetime answering such calls. Tonight's episode, "Wrong Way Street."

Cast: Alan Feinstein (Joe Arizzio), Karen Machon (Karen Wingate), Patti Cohoon (Debbie Shaw), Michael Biehn (Mark Johnson), James Callahan (Det. Hal Grady).

7053 Running Delilah. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 8/29/94). While attempting to apprehend a global weapons dealer (Alec Kasharian), a beautiful U.S. government undercover agent (Delilah) is brutally attacked by his thugs. In an effort to save Delilah, who is clinging to life by a thread, Judith, her superior, authorizes a top secret operation that literally rebuilds her and makes her half android. With heightened sense and added power, Delilah must now find a way to reconcile her emotional identity as that of a flesh-and-blood woman with her physical role as the government's newest and most powerful weapon. She is teamed with her former partner, Paul (the man who "runs" her) and the unsold series was to relate their hazardous assignments. In the pilot episode, Delilah again seeks to stop Alec from selling chemical weapons to Middle Eastern terrorists. Filmed in 1992 and aired unscheduled on the above date.

Cast: Kim Cattrall (Delilah), Billy Zane (Paul), Diana Rigg (Judith). Guest Cast: Yorgo Voyagis (Alec Kasharian), Francois Guetary (Lucas), Marilyn McIntyre (Barbara), Philip Sokoloff (Scientist).

7054 Running the Halls. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1993–1994). Karen Gilman is the headmistress of the Middlefield Academy, a private school where young adults supposedly learn how to become independent and trained for life's challenges after graduation. Such is the case with Holiday "Holly" Friedman, Andy McBain, Molloy Simpson, Nikki Watson, Myles Taylor and Mark "The Shark" Stark, teenagers entering the academy as immature teens and leaving as young, enthusiastic adults (the series, however, lasted barely a year, leaving them as freshmen when it ended).

William Middlefield, an onion farmer who gave all his money to the school because he believed in education, founded the academy. A new student tradition is to steal the head from the statue of William Middlefield that stands on the grounds. Karen runs the academy like a military leader and refuses to put up with students nonsense; she has chosen Stark to be her flunky (to spy on the students and report to her on resentment in her ranks).

Cast: Laurie Fortier (Holiday Friedman), Richard Hayes (Andy McBain), Lackey Bevis (Molloy Simpson), Senta Moses (Nikki Watson), Pamela Bowen (Karen Gilman), Craig Kirkwood (Myles Taylor), Trevor Lissauer (David Reese), Richard Speight, Jr. (Mark Stark).

7055 Running Wilde. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). A proposed series about Reid Wilde, a reporter for Auto World magazine, who lives the stories he covers.

Cast: Pierce Brosnan (Reid Wilde).

7056 Run's House. (Series; Reality; MTV; 2005). Joseph "Rev. Run" Simmons is a former hip-hop star (a member of Run DMC). He is married to Justine and is the father of five teenagers (Vanessa, Joseph, Angela, Daniel and Russell). Joseph is now a preacher (living in Saddle River, New Jersey) and cameras follow the family as they go about living their daily lives (basically showing how a family lives together and how Rev. Run and his wife have raised their children to be respectful of their elders and one another). It is also a real portrayal of an African-American family that is rarely presented on television in a non reality situation.

Cast: Joseph Simmons, Justine Simmons, Vanessa Simmons, Angela Simmons, Daniel Simmons, Russell Simmons, Joseph, Jr.

7057 The RuPaul Show. (Series; Talk; VH-1; 1996). A talk-variety show like no other as it is hosted by RuPaul, a statuesque drag queen (six feet, seven inches tall) who has been a model, singer, actor and host of a local New York radio program. RuPaul says, "Whenever I'm on TV, the remote just stops there — for obvious reasons." The weekly series features RuPaul interviewing celebrities as well as performing songs with its top-name musical guest stars (like (Pat Benatar, Olivia Newton-John, Diana Ross and Patti LaBelle).

Host: RuPaul. Announcer: Michelle Visage. Warm-Up Comedian: Michael Orenstein.

7058 Russell. (Unaired Pilot; Drama; Produced in 1961). An authentic view of the Old West as seen through the eyes of Charles Russell, an artist, sculptor, writer and cowboy who helps people in trouble.

Cast: Fess Parker (Russell). Guest Cast: Beverly Garland (Bonnie), Jay C. Flippen (Windy), Paul Carr (Tracey Blue).

7059 Russian Roulette. (Series; Game; Game Show Network; 2002). Four contestants compete and are situated in a half circle around the host. Questions start at $150. One player is randomly selected to be the Challenger. A question is read and three possible answers are revealed. The Challenger chooses one of the other players to answer the question. If the challenged player correctly answers the question within the ten-second time limit, he wins money and becomes the new Challenger; if he fails to answer the question correctly, the Challenger receives the money (the object is for the Challenger to win money by selecting opponents he thinks will incorrectly answer the question). Each round poses a threat to the players as the Challenger pulls a lever that activates a series of lights that encircle each of the other three players. The player pinpointed by the light when it stops spinning is eliminated from the game. Round two plays in the same manner with three contestants and questions worth $200 each (each question has four possible answers here and one additional player is eliminated by the lights). The two remaining players compete in the final question-answer round. The highest scoring player has the option of answering a question himself or passing it to his opponent (in the hope that he will get it wrong and he will score the money). If, however, the player chooses to answer the question himself and is wrong, he loses all his earnings to his opponent. The one player with the highest cash score plays the bonus round where he can win $10,000 by answering ten questions within sixty seconds. If he fails, he wins $350 for each correctly answered question.

Host: Mark L. Walberg, Todd Newton. Announcer: Burton Richardson.

7060 Ruth Harper. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1991). A proposed series about a widow (Ruth Harper) and her attempts to run her late husband's hair care business.

Cast: Susan Sullivan (Ruth Harper), Felicity Waterman (Fawne Bennett), Mary Catherine Wright (Martina), Todd Susman (Alan Mandel), Kelly Bishop (Jayne Fields), Patrick Warburton (Milton).

7061 Ruth Lyons 50 Club. (Series; Women; Syn.; 1951). Music, songs, guests, interviews and household tips directed toward the housewife.

Hostess: Ruth Lyons. Regulars: Dick Noel, Bill Thall.

7062 Ruthie on the Telephone. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1949). The story of a young lady (Ruthie) and her efforts to impress a man (Richard) she loves, but who wants nothing to do with her. The five-minute program features Ruthie telephoning him each night and attempting to change his mind. The live program also features one of the first uses of the split screen effect (which was accomplished by mirrors) to allow the viewer to see Ruthie in her home while she talks to the reluctant Richard at his office. The series ran from August 7, 1949 to November 5, 1949.

Cast: Ruth Gilbert (Ruthie), Philip Reed (Richard).

7063 Rx for the Defense. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 4/15/73). Zach Clinton is a former doctor turned attorney who works with Laura Masters and Al Moore, the owners of Masters and Moore, a law firm that specializes in cases involving the medical world. The unsold series was to focus on Zach as he uses his knowledge of medicine to help defend clients. In the pilot episode, Zach attempts to help free Daniel Kemper, a famous professor, from a psychiatric hospital after his wife has him committed following an alleged suicide attempt.

7064 Ryan Caulfield: Year One. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 1999). Ryan Caulfield was born in Philadelphia in 1980. He is the son of a former cop, now in prison on false bribery charges. Following his high school graduation, Ryan decides to follow in his father's footsteps and forsake college to join the Philadelphia Police Academy. Upon graduating Ryan is assigned to the city's most violent neighborhoods and stories follow Ryan as he seeks to patrol and protect. The voice-over technique is used as Ryan comments on his patrolling of the inner city.

7067 Saban's Adventures of the Little Mermaid. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1991). An animated adaptation of the fairytale, The Little Mermaid (not the Disney movie The Little Mermaid). Marina is a mermaid who fell in love with a human (Prince Justin; also called Prince Justino) and yearned to become human to be with him. She approached Hedwig, the Sea Witch, who cast a spell and granted her wish. However, when a princess pursued Justin, Marina's spell was broken and she was forced to return to the sea. But all is not lost. When Amsel, the kingdom's Wiseman, learns that Justin truly loves Marina and had rejected the princess, he offers him a tonic that transforms him into a merman so he and Marina can be together. The series expands the fairy tale with Marina and Justin setting out on a journey to explore the undersea world in search of the legendary Golden Scrolls, scrolls that can change mermaids and mermen into humans. Their journey is hampered by Hedwig, who wants the scrolls for herself, and the Nobleman, who seeks to exploit Marina and Justin for profit.

Voice Cast: Sonja Ball (Marina), Carlos Delgado (Prince Justin/Justino), Frank Moreno (Nobleman), Sergio Luzi (Chauncey), Daria Nicolodi (Queen Camilla), Emy Valentino (Barnicle).

7068 Saber of London. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1957–1960). A revised version of Mark Saber that is set in London, England, and follows the cases of Mark Saber, a one-armed Chief Inspector of Scotland Yard. He is assisted by Stephanie Ames (1957), Peter Paulson (1957–58), Inspector Parker (1957–60) and Bob Paige (1958–60).

Cast: Donald Gray (Mark Saber), Diane Decker (Stephanie Ames), Neil McCallum (Peter Paulson), Gordon Tanner (Peter Paulson; later), Colin Tapley (Insp. Parker), Robert Arden (Bob Page).

7069 Saber Rider and the Star Sheriffs. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1987). Saber Rider is a futuristic sheriff who watches over a galaxy that has taken on the aspects of the 1880s Wild West on Earth. He is the leader of the Star Sheriffs, a law enforcement unit of the Cavalry Command, the protectors of the universe. Plaguing the galaxy are the Outriders, villains from the Vapor Zone, who are lead by Nemesis and who have the ability to travel between dimensions.

In later episodes Commander Eagle, leader of the Cavalry Command, and his scientific genius daughter, April, create RAMROD, a spaceship that is capable of transforming into a giant robot. Stories follow the Saber Rider (with the assist of April) as he battles Nemesis. The series is an edited and dubbed version of the Japanese program Bismark.

Voices: Jack Angel, Michael Bell, Arthur Burghardt, Cam Clarke, Townsend Coleman, Peter Cullen, Brian Cummings, Pat Fraley, Tress MacNeille, Pat

Musick, Rob Paulsen, Diane Pershing, Neil Ross, Hal Smith, B.J. Ward, Lennie Weinrib.

7070 Sable. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1987–1988). Nicholas Fleming is the author of The Friends of B.B. Flemm, a best-selling series of children's books. He lives at 2435 Lincoln Park West in Chicago and also created "Jon Sable, Freelance," a daily comic strip. Nicholas, however, is not who he appears to be. He is a wanted murderer whose real name is Jon Sable. Jon's past is very sketchy and it is only revealed that when Jon lived in South America, he killed the man responsible for murdering his wife and children. When Jon fled to America, his friend, Eden Kendall, helped him establish a new identity as Nicholas Fleming (she is also his agent and romantic interest).

To help him come to terms with the death of his family, Nicholas uses his true name to help people in trouble. As Jon Sable, Nicholas disguises his face with makeup (stripes across his face; "He dresses like the Easter Bunny," says Eden) and chooses cases very carefully—"I have to. I have a price on my head." Sable is not a hired killer and helps victims of crimes or people desperately in need of help. "If a case involves a kid, he gets careless and crazy," says Eden. "It's not going to bring his family back, but he couldn't stand to see what happened to him happen to someone else."

Myke Blackmon is Nicholas's illustrator. "Great legs," Nicholas says of Myke, who dresses like a girl of the 1920s (the Flapper look). Joe Tyson, called "Cheesecake" by Sable, is Jon's blind information man. Joe is a computer whiz and hopes to one day become a standup comedian. He loves cheesecake (especially strawberry) and Sable sends him a large cheesecake when he needs information (a message in Braille appears on the inside flap of the box). Michael Shreive composed the theme.

Cast: Lewis Van Bergen (Nicholas Fleming), Rene Russo (Eden Kendall), Holly Fulger (Myke Blackmon), Ken Paige (Joe Tyson).

7071 Sabrina and the Groovie Goolies. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1970–1971). The overall title for two series, Sabrina, the Teenage Witch (1970 version) and The Groovie Goolies. See these titles for individual series information. The combined series ran from September 12, 1970 to September 4, 1971.

7072 Sabrina: The Animated Series. (Series; Cartoon; ABC/Syn.; 1999–2001). A spin-off from the live action series Sabrina: The Teenage Witch that is actually a prequel to the series. Here Sabrina is a 12-year-old junior high school student who already knows she is a witch (in the live action series Sabrina was 16 years old before she discovered she was a witch). She still has her pet cat, Salem, and she still lives with her aunts, Hilda and Zelda (although they are somewhat younger) and she now has an uncle, Quigley, who helps her understand her powers. Harvey Kinkle and Chloe Flan are her friends; Gem Stone is her nemesis at school (much like Libby Chesler on the live series). Here Sabrina relies on a Spookie Jar to cast spells (it was a book in the series) and must learn not to rely on magic to accomplish things in life.

Voice Cast: Emily Hart (Sabrina Spellman), Melissa Joan Hart (Aunt Hilda/Aunt Zelda), Nick Bakay (Salem Saberhagen), Bill Switzer (Harvey Kinkle), Jay Brazeau (Uncle Quigley), Cree Summer (Chloe Flan), David Sobolov (Spookie Jar), Jason Michas (Sluggoafe, the school bully).

7073 Sabrina, the Teenage Witch. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1971–1973). Sabrina is a high school student in the town of Riverdale. She is also an apprentice witch who loves to experiment with her developing powers (something she is not supposed to do as it could expose her to the rest of the world). Stories relate her misadventures as she struggles to conceal her powers, but still use them to help people in need. Sabrina lives in the town of Riverdale with her aunts Hilda and Zelda. Salem Saberhagen is her pet cat and Harvey Kinkle is her boyfriend. A spin-off from The Archie Show.

Voice Cast: Jane Webb (Sabrina Spellman), Jane Webb (Hilda Spellman), Jane Webb (Zelda Spellman), Dallas McKennon (Salem Saberhagen), Don Messick (Harvey Kinkle).

7074 Sabrina, the Teenage Witch. (Series; Comedy; ABC; WB; 1996–2003). The house at 133 Collins Road in Westbridge, Massachusetts, is owned by Hilda and Zelda Spellman, sisters who are also witches. Also living with them is Sabrina their beautiful niece, and Salem Saberhagen, a warlock who has been turned into a black cat.

Sabrina is unaware that she is a witch. Her mother is a mortal (an archeologist on assignment in Peru) and her father a warlock (although Sabrina believes he is with the Foreign Secret Service). Hilda and Zelda have been assigned by the Witch's Council to teach Sabrina the art of witchcraft. On Sabrina's 16th birthday (when the series begins), Sabrina discovers she is a witch when she acquires her first power — levitation. She also receives a book The Discovery of Magic as a guide to help her understand her powers.

Sabrina attends Westbridge High School; the Slicery is the after-school pizza parlor hangout. Sabrina's first job was "the lovely assistant" to Magic Jolli's "World of Wonder." She later worked for Pork on a Fork and, through the Other Realm Employment Agency, found a job as a Sandman ("I put the people in my neighborhood asleep"). On her 18th birthday (third season), Sabrina begins her senior year in high school and works as a waitress in The Coffee Shop.

Hilda, 620 years old, is a musician (plays violin) and has been dating Drell, the head of the Witch's Council. She later dated Willard Kraft, the vice principal at Westbridge High School. Willard also dated Zelda and in third-season episodes he becomes the school's principal. At this time Hilda buys The Hickory Dickory Clock Shop. Zelda becomes her partner and through The Lost in Time Clock they help lost travelers in time (people seeking to go back in time to correct a mistake in their lives).

Zelda, the older sister ("500-plus years old") is interested in science, psychiatry, slug reproduction and art (she was a model for Goya and nude postcards of her are sold at the art museum). Zelda, whose online Web site name is "Chem Kitten," is passionate about her intellectual pursuits: "My life is in my head."

Salem was a warlock who dreamed of dominating the world. When he actually tried to do it, the Witch's Council sentenced him to live life as a cat for 100 years. Now "the sound of the can opener is the only thing that truly makes me feel alive," says Salem. He spies on Sabrina and helps her in her quest to become a full-fledged witch. When situations become tough, Salem pretends to be a coward; when he gets upset, he eats; but he also claims, "when I'm happy I eat."

Melissa Joan Hart's real-life sisters, Alexandra and Emily Hart, played Sabrina's mischievous witch cousins, Amanda and Ally.

When the series switched networks (WB, 2000–03), Roxie King and Morgan Cavanaugh became Sabrina's friends (whom she met as a freshman at Adams College).

In 2001 Hilda and Zelda are dropped and Roxie and Morgan became Sabrina's new housemates. Roxie hosts the college radio station show Chick Chat and Morgan, who is a bit shallow, has aspirations to become a fashion designer.

Sabrina hopes to become a journalist. She began her career as a writer for The Lantern, her high school newspaper. She next wrote for the Adams Advocate, her college newspaper. She became a professional writer for The Boston Courier then for the music magazine Scorch.

Harvey Kinkel was Sabrina's one and only true love (although it took her years to discover this). He was also the only mortal who knew (and kept) Sabrina's secret. Although Sabrina fell for Josh, a reporter for the Citizen, and later planned to marry band promoter Aaron Jacobs, she found, in the last episode, that she and Harvey were meant to be together forever.

Other Regulars: Libby Chessler, Sabrina's rival at school; Valerie Birkhead, Sabrina's friend; Miles Goodman, Sabrina, Roxie and Morgan's college roommate; Mrs. Quick, a teacher; Albert, Sabrina's quizmaster; Annie, Sabrina's employer at Scorch; Dreama, the apprentice witch; Roland, Sabrina's cousin; Irma, Sabrina's great aunt; James, an employee at Scorch; Mike Shelby; Sabrina's employer at the newspaper.

Cast: Melissa Joan Hart (Sabrina Spellman), Beth Broderick (Zelda Spellman), Caroline Rhea (Hilda Spellman), Nick Bakay (Voice of Salem), Martin Mull (Willard Kraft), Nate Richert (Harvey Kinkle), Soleil Moon Frye (Roxie King), Elisa Donovan (Megan Cavanaugh), David Lissauer (Josh), Dylan Neal (Aaron Jacobs), Emily Hart (Amanda Wickham), Alexandra Hart (Ally), Penn Jillette (Drell), Julia Duffy (Lucy), Lindsay Sloane (Valerie Birkhead), Jenna Leigh Green (Libby Chessler), Trevor Lissauer (Miles Goodman), Mary Gross (Mrs. Quick), Diana-Maria Riva (Annie), Alimi Ballard (Quizmaster Albert), Bumper Robinson (James), China Shavers (Dreama), George Wendt (Mike Shelby), Phil Fondacaro (Roland), Barbara Eden (Great Aunt Irma).

7075 Sabrina's Secret Life. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 2003). A continuation of Sabrina: The Animated Series that finds a 14-year-old Sabrina Spellman attending a witch training school to learn how to use her developing powers. She has to learn that everything in life can't be handled by witchcraft. Complicating Sabrina's life is Cassandra, a rival witch at the school (both are seeking to be the best).

Other Regulars: Sabrina's aunts, Hilda and Zelda; Salem, her pet cat; Harvey Kinkle, her boyfriend.

Voice Cast: Britt McKillip (Sabrina Spellman), Tifanie Christian (Cassandra), Maurice La Marche (Salem Saberhagen), Bill Switzer (Harvey Kinkle), Moneca Stori (Hilda Spellman), Moneca Stori (Zelda Spellman), Jane Mortifee (Enchantra).

7076 Sabu and the Magic Ring. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1957). In 1957 two pilots were made for a series about Sabu, a stable boy to a Caliph in India. When a sponsor could not be found, they were edited together and released theatrically as Sabu and the Magic Ring. The pilot episode, now seen in syndication, relates Sabu's adventures when he finds a magic ring and becomes the master of a powerful genie (Ubal) who appears when the ring is rubbed. Other Regulars: Zumeela, Sabu's friend, who works in the market place.

Cast: Sabu (Sabu), Daria Massey (Zumeela), Robert Shaffo (Caliph). Guest Cast: William Marshall (Ubal), John Doucette (Kemal), Peter Makos (Muzafar), Vladimir Sokoloff (Fakir), Bernard Rich (Ali), Robin Morse (Magician), George Khoury (Phransigar).

7077 The Saddle Club. (Series; Drama; Discovery Kids; 2006). Carole, Lisa and Stevie are three girls who share a love of horses and ride together at the Pine Hollow Stables in Australia. The girls, who call themselves the Saddle Club, also share a strong loyalty to each other and turn to and help each other in times of need.

Carole is the daughter of Mitch Hanson and was devastated by the recent death of her mother (from cancer). She was about to give up her passion for riding until her father told her that her mother would have wanted her to continue doing what she loves best. Carole was able to purchase her own horse, a gelding named Starlight, with money left to her by her mother and is undecided about her future. She would like to become a veterinarian, but would also like to breed and train thoroughbreds or even be a professional jockey.

Lisa is the classic beauty with a good girl image that she feels is her downfall. She is an honor roll student, loves designer clothes and is eager to take on new challenges. Lisa first rode Patch, a tame pony at Pine Hollow but graduated to Prancer, a former race horse (a chestnut mare) she hopes to turn into a show jumper.

Stevie is a bit of a tomboy and is not partial to her real name of Stephanie; she chose to call herself Stevie as she feels that now reflects who she really is. However, as she becomes more of a girl, she sort of regrets changing her name and being considered "one of the boys." Stevie loves horses, vintage clothes and making a fashion statement. She rides a horse named Comanche.

Veronica di Angelo is the spoiled daughter of a millionaire. She loves horses, expensive thoroughbreds (she has one called Cobalt) but is not responsible when it comes to caring for them. When Veronica's non-caring attitude causes Cobalt to have a fatal accident, her father sends her to Pine Hollow in the hope that she will learn responsibility with her new horse, Garnet.

Elizabeth Regnery is the stable manager at Pine Hollow. She is called Mrs. Reg and believes every lesson in life is related to horses. She is also a self-proclaimed horse psychologist and animal psychic. Max Regnery is Elizabeth's son. He is a former member of the National Equestrian team. Although the Saddle Club girls have an eye for Max (a bit older than they are) he is dating Deborah Hale, the local journalist.

Cast: Keenan MacWilliam (Carole Hanson), Lara Jean Marshall (Lisa Atwood), Sophie Bennett (Stevie Lake), Heli Simpson (Veronica di Angelo), Catherine Wilken (Mrs. Reg), Brett Tucker (Max Regnery), Cathy Godboldo (Deborah Hale).

7078 Safari. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 4/3/62). A proposed series based on the feature film The African Queen. The story, set in a German-occupied colony in Africa just before World War I, relates the adventures of Charlie Allnot, a gin-soaked riverboat captain (of the African Queen), and Rosie Sayer, a lady missionary who helps him as he attempts to thwart German advances, but also tries to reform him. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Dick Powell Show, Charlie considers leaving Africa, the Germans and most of all Rosie. See also The African Queen.

Cast: James Coburn (Charlie Allnot), Glynis Johns (Rosie Sayer). Guest Cast: Oscar Beregi (Captain Kramer), Ellen Corby (Mrs. Butterworth), Juan Hernandez (Poke).

7079 The Saga of Andy Burnett. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1957–1958). The story of Andy Burnett, a young backwoods farmer of the 1820s, as he travels west, seeking to begin a new life in Missouri. Joe Crane, Jack Kelly and Old Bill Williams are Andy's friends. The six episode series, broadcast on Walt Disney Presents, aired on the following dates: October 2, 1957, October 9, 1957, October 16, 1957, February 26, 1958, March 5, 1958 and March 12, 1958.

Cast: Jerome Courtland (Andy Burnett), Jeff York (Joe Crane), Andrew Duggan (Jack Kelly), Slim Pickens (Old Bill Williams).

Voice Cast: Terri Hawkes (Serena), Karen Bernstein (Amy), Katie Griffin (Raye), Susan Roman (Lita), Stephanie Morganstern (Mina), Jill Frappier (Luna), Ron Rubin (Artemis). Theme Vocal: "She's Got the Power" by Sandy Howell.

7081 Sailor of Fortune. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). Grant Mitchell is the captain of an American motor freighter based in the Mediterranean. He is a no-nonsense captain who takes seriously the work he does and will not compromise his principles at any cost. His efforts to acquire cargo and passengers and his involvement with their problems is the basis of the series.

Cast: Lorne Greene (Grant Mitchell), Jack McGowan (Assistant).

7082 The Saint. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; NBC; 1963–1969). Simon Templar, alias the Saint is a wealthy adventurer who makes it his business to help people in trouble. Although considered criminal by the police, Templar is actually on their side and most often helps Claude Eustace Teal, the Chief Inspector of England's Scotland Yard, solve baffling crimes.

Simon is a master among thieves (hence his "wanted by the police" reputation).

He appeals to women and the women he meets, "the most glamorous in the world," appeal to him ("luscious figures, provocative eyes and haunting voices"). Simon is "lean, tall and well able to look after himself. His voice and manners are deceptively lazy." Simon carries a Diner's Club and American Express cards, an international driver's license and a passport wherever he goes.

Leslie Charteris, creator of The Saint, sold the rights to television in 1963 and described his character as follows: "A roaring adventurer who loves a fight; a dashing daredevil; debonair, preposterously handsome; a pirate or a philanthropist as the occasion demands. He lives for the pursuit of excitement, for the one triumphant moment that is his alone." In single, 1963 episodes, Wensley Pithey and Norman Pitt each played Inspector Teal before Ivor Dean took over the role.

The series ran in syndication from 1963–1966 and on NBC from May 21, 1967 to September 2, 1967; February 18, 1968 to September 14, 1968; and April 11, 1969 to September 12, 1969.

Cast: Roger Moore (Simon Templar), Ivor Dean (Insp. Claude Eustace Teal). Theme Song: "The Saint" by Leslie Charteris.

7083 The Saint. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 6/12/87). An unsold attempt to revive the 1960s series of the same title (with Roger Moore as Simon Templar, alias the Saint). The new version was to continue to follow the adventures of Simon Templar, a debonair troubleshooter who helps people in trouble. In the pilot episode, Simon helps a beautiful ballerina (Margot Layne) who is receiving mysterious threats. Originally titled The Saint in New York.

Cast: Andrew Clarke (Simon Templar), George Rose (Woods; his butler). Guest Cast: Liliana Komorowska (Margot Layne), Caitlin Clarke (Jessica Daniels), Holland Taylor (Fran Grogan), Kevin Tighe (Inspector John Fernack), Michael Lombard (Wally Grogan), Robert LuPine (Jeffrey Sinclair), Christopher Marcantel (Joey), Peter Maloney (The Fixer), Ben Vereen (Singer), Brian Evers (Bartender), Katie Anders (Nanny).

7084 The Saint. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1989–1990). An updated version of the 1963 series of the same title that continues to relate the adventures of Simon Templar, alias the Saint, a suave, sophisticated and handsome rogue who helps people in trouble. Simon is not associated with any law enforcement organization nor is he a private detective. Solving crimes appears to be his hobby and he does what he does for the sheer adventure the experience gives him. He is a world traveler and he doesn't go looking for trouble — trouble seems to find him. He never accepts money for his troubles and appears to be independently wealthy. Claude Eustace Teal, an inspector with New Scotland Yard in England, is the police officer that most often becomes involved with Simon's efforts to help people. The series is based on characters created by Leslie Charteris.

Cast: Simon Dutton (Simon Templar), David Ryall (Claude Eustace Teal).

7085 St. Elsewhere. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1982–1988). A realistic portrayal of the medical profession as seen through the experiences of the staff of St. Eligius Hospital in Boston (because of its under staffing and decrepit condition, it has become a dumping ground for patients with no place else to go and was thus nicknamed St. Elsewhere).

Cast: William Daniels (Dr. Mark Craig), David Birney (Dr. Ben Samuels), Cynthia Sikes (Dr. Anne Cavanaugh), Christina Pickles (Nurse Helen Rosenthal), David Morse (Dr. Jack Morrison), Terence Knox (Dr. Peter White), Ed Begley, Jr. (Dr. Victor Erlich), Kavi Raz (Dr. V.J. Kochar), G.W. Bailey (Dr. Hugh Beale), Howie Mandel (Dr. Wayne Fiscus), Barbara Whinnery (Dr. Cathy Martin), Ed Flanders (Dr. Donald Westphall), Kim Miyori (Dr. Wendy Armstrong), Ellen Bry (Nurse Shirley Daniels), Eric LaNeuve (Orderly Luther Hawkins), Denzel Washington (Dr. Philip Chandler), Norman Lloyd (Dr. Daniel Auschlander), Mark Harmon (Dr. Robert Caldwell), Jennifer Savidge (Nurse Lucy Papandrea), Jane Kaczmarek (Nurse Sandy Burns), Sagan Lewis (Dr. Jacqueline Wade), Karen Austin (Dr. Mary Woodley), Melinda Culea (Nurse Julie McPhail), Jamie Rose (Dr. Susan Birch), Lance Guest (Orderly Sean Rooney), Bonnie Bartlett (Ellen Craig), Karen Landry (Deborah White), Jean Bruce Scott (Roberta Sloan), Stephen Furst (Dr. Elliott Axelrod), Jane Wyatt (Katherine Auschlander), Helen Hunt (Clancy Williams), Alfre Woodard (Dr. Roxanne Turner), Sandra Sharpe (Nurse Peggy Shortwell), Mary Margaret Lewis (Nurse Lynn Thornton), Christine Kukubo (Paramedic Faith Yee), Philip Sterling (Dr. Simon Weiss), Byron Stewart (Orderly Warren Coolidge). Theme Song: "St. Elsewhere" by Dave Grusin.

7086 Saint Peter. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 3/8/81). The story of Father Peter Matthews, a young Episcopalian priest as he begins his duties at the 4th Street Church in Manhattan. In the pilot episode, Father Matthews attempts to reform a young delinquent. Other Regulars: Sheila, the church secretary; Max, the janitor; Hank, the owner of the nearby diner; Martha, Hank's wife; Cynthia, the church organist; and Mrs. Grueneuv, the rectory housekeeper.

Cast: Fred McCarren (Father Peter Matthews), Susan Blanchard (Sheila Haynes), Lou Jacobi (Max), Benson Fong (Hank Chin), Beulah Quo (Martha Chin), Clarice Stellar (Cynthia Kreole), Pearl Shear (Mrs. Grueneuv). Guest Cast: Doug Clancy (Officer Eddie Shaw), Curtis Yates (Billy Young), Susan Davis and Peter Hobbs (Parishioners).

7087 Saints and Sinners. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1962–1963). A behind-the-scenes look at the work of newspaper men and women as seen through the experiences of Nick Alexander, a reporter-columnist for The New York Bulletin. See also Savage Sunday for information on the series pilot film. Mark Grainger is the city editor; Dave Tobak is the copy editor; Liz Hogan is the Washington correspondent; Polly Holleran is a reporter; and Klugie is the staff photographer.

Cast: Nick Adams (Nick Alexander), John Larkin (Mark Grainger), Robert F. Simon (Dave Tobak), Barbara Rush (Liz Hogan), Sharon Farrell (Polly Holleran), Richard Erdman (Klugie).

7088 Saints and Sinners. (Series; Drama; My Network TV; 2007). A prime time soap opera with a little bit of everything — love, romance, sex, scandal, scantily clad girls, drug kingpins, corrupt public officials, disreputable parents and innocent people caught in a web of deceit. Involved in all of the above are two families — the Capshaws and the Martins — rival hotel owners in Miami Beach, Florida.

The Capshaws, headed by the widowed Sylvia Capshaw, own the Grandview Hotel; the Martin family, headed by August and his wife, Diana, own the Cutlass Hotel (they became rivals when the late Howard Capshaw sought to takeover the Cutlass Hotel by any means possible).

7089 Salathiel Harms, Bounty Hunter. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 1976). A proposed spin-off from Kojak about Salathiel Harms, an imposing west coast private detective who tracks down bail jumpers. In the first pilot, "Bad Dude" (1/25/76), Harms comes to New York City seeking a racketeer who jumped bail — unaware that Lieutenant Theo Kojak and a professional hit man are also seeking the same man. In the second pilot, "Black Thorn" (12/5/76), Harms follows a bail jumper to New York City where he teams with Kojak, who is seeking the same man in connection with an unsolved murder.

Cast: Rosey Grier (Salathiel Harms). Guest Cast (Bad Dude): Telly Savalas (Theo Kojak), Roger Robinson (Weaver), Bill Duke (Silk), Dee Timberlake (Delia May), Charles Weldon (Willie). Guest Cast (Black Thorn): Swoosie Kurtz (Julie), Barry Snider (Anthony Meara), John Reilly (Robert Whelan).

7090 Sale of the Century. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969–1974). Three players compete and each receives $25 bidding money. A general knowledge question is read. The first player who correctly answers it receives five dollars which is added to his score; an incorrect answer deducts five dollars. After several questions, an “Instant Bargain” (for example, “For only $27.95 you can buy an $800 mink coat”) appears. The first player to sound a buzzer receives the merchandise and the amount, rounded off to the nearest dollar, is deducted from his score. Rounds two and three follow the same format with money added or deducted by ten dollars, then twenty-five dollars per question. The highest cash scorer is the winner and receives the opportunity to purchase expensive items from what cash he has accumulated. The series ran on NBC from September 29, 1969 to July 13, 1973; and in syndication from 1973–1974.

Host: Jack Kelly, Joe Garagiola. Announcer: Bill Wendell.

7091 Sale of the Century. (Series; Game; NBC; 1983). A revised version of the prior title which see for format.

Host: Jim Perry. Hostess: Sally Julian. Model: Summer Bartholomew. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

7092 Sally. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1957–1958). Myrtle Banford is a rich, elderly widow and part owner of the Banford and Bascomb Department Store. Sally Truesdale is a clerk at the store. When Myrtle decides to enjoy life and see the world she hires Sally as her traveling companion. Stories follow their misadventures as they embark on a tour of the world. The series ran from September 15, 1957 to February 9, 1958.

Cast: Joan Caulfield (Sally Truesdale), Marion Lorne (Myrtle Banford).

7093 Sally. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1958). A short-lived revised version of the prior title. After traveling the world for several months, Myrtle Banford and her traveling companion, Sally Truesdale, return to the United States. Myrtle resumes her position as the co-owner of the Banford and Bascomb Department Store and Sally begins a new job as a salesgirl. Stories relate the mishaps that occur to the staff and owners of the store. Bascomb Bleacher, Sr., is Myrtle’s partner; Jim Kendall is Sally’s love interest; Bascomb Bleacher, Jr. is Bascomb’s son. The series ran from February 16, 1958 to March 30, 1958.

Cast: Joan Caulfield (Sally Truesdale), Marion Lorne (Myrtle Banford), Gale Gordon (Bascomb Bleacher, Sr.), Johnny Desmond (Jim Kendall), Arte Johnson (Bascomb Bleacher, Jr.).

7094 Sally and Sam. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/5/65). Sally Marten, a beautiful young career woman, and Sam Cody, a medical student at Johns Hopkins, are strangers who meet and fall in love during a weekend in New York City. The unsold series was to depict their romantic misadventures. In the pilot episode, a nonsensical quarrel threatens to destroy their romance. Other Regulars: Glen, their friend; and Joy, Glen’s wife.

Cast: Cynthia Pepper (Sally Marten), Gary Lockwood (Sam Cody), Bernie Kopell (Glen), Nancy Jeris (Joy). Guest Cast: John Qualen (Picket), Jay Strong (Phil), Phyllis Douglas (Nurse).

7095 Sally Jessy Raphael. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1985–2002). A daily talk show that often strayed from celebrity interviews to present interviews with people facing real life problems. While the problems and people are real, and advice and help was offered, it was often a matter of ratings and sensationalizing stories to achieve them.

Host: Sally Jessy Raphael.

7096 Salt and Pepe. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 4/18/75). Jeremiah Salt is the cantankerous owner of a window washing firm. He is black, somewhat prejudiced and always at odds with someone. He lives with his wife, Abigail, his daughters Yolanda and Nadine and Nadine’s Puerto Rican husband, Pepe, whom he has reluctantly taken in as his business partner. The unsold series was to relate Jeremiah’s efforts to cope with life at home and at work. Millie is Jeremiah’s secretary.

Cast: Mel Stewart (Jeremiah Salt), Frank La Loggia (Pepe), Dorothy Meyer (Abigail Salt), Diane Sommerfield (Yolanda Salt), Sharon Brown (Nadine), Clarice Taylor (Millie).

7097 Salty. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1974). When their parents are killed during a hurricane in the Bahamas, Taylor Reed and his younger brother, Tim, are unofficially adopted by Clancy Ames, their rescuer, a retired lawyer who owns the Cove Marina in Nassau. Stories relate their experiences as they operate the marina, and the adventures shared by Tim and his pet sea lion, Salty.

Cast: Julius Harris (Clancy Ames), Mark Slade (Taylor Reed), Johnny Doran (Tim Reed), Vincent Dale (Rod Porterfield; Tim’s friend).

7098 Salute. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1983). Dick Clark hosts a program that pays musical tribute to legendary entertainers with performances by appropriate guests.

7099 Salute Your Shorts. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 1991–1992). Camp Anawanna is a coed summer camp run by the heard (but never seen) Dr. Kahn and supervised by Kevin Lee, called “Ug” by the campers, the head counselor. Stories follow the antics of the children of the camp — kids who like to do what they want to do — not what they are told to do.

Kahn), Kirk Baily (Kevin "Ug" Lee), Megan Berwick (Z.Z. Ziff), Venus DeMilo (Telly Radford), Christine Cavanaugh (Mona), Salim Grant (Jaime Mallot, Jr.), Danny Cooksey (Bobby Budnick), Blake Soper (Ronald Pinky), Erik MacArthur (Michael Stein), Heidi Lucas (Dina Alexander), Tim Eyster (Sponge Harris), Michael Bower (Eddie "Donkey Lips" Gelfen).

7100 Salvage 1. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1979). The Vulture is a homemade ten-feet wide by 30-feet high rocket ship built by Harold ("Harry") Broderick, the owner of the Jettison Scrap and Salvage Company at 98 Ventura Boulevard in Los Angeles. Melanie ("Mel") Slozar and Addison ("Skip") Carmichael are Harry's partners in a unique service that guarantees to salvage anything anywhere or there is no fee.

The thought "of all that moon junk" the astronauts left on the moon started Harry thinking about salvaging it and selling it. He read the book The Trans-Linear Vector Principle, by Skip Carmichael, which described a way of traveling to the moon using reduced speed and a special fuel. Skip is also an ex-astronaut, and Mel is an explosives and chemistry expert. Harry salvaged enough parts from NASA to build the Vulture; Mel developed the special fuel (Mono-hydrozyne) and Skip piloted the rocket (Mel was his co-pilot). Skip and Mel did the impossible: they landed on the moon (Mel became the first woman on the moon). They salvaged billions of dollars in "NASA junk" and returned to Earth. But they also upset the government, which says it is against federal law for a private citizen to own a rocket; flying it is another, more serious violation. They assign Department of Justice agent Jack Klinger to keep tabs on Harry and his illegal flights.

Skip worked as a used car salesman before Harry found him; Mel adopted an orphan girl named Michele Ryan in the last episode. Jacqueline Scott played Harry's ex-wife, Lorene. Mack is Harry's assistant. Walter Scharf composed the "Salvage 1" theme.

Cast: Andy Griffith (Harry Broderick), Trish Stewart (Mel Slozar), Joel Higgins (Skip Carmichael), Richard Jaeckel (Jack Klinger), Heather McAdam (Michele Ryan), J. Jay Saunders (Mack).

7101 Salvage Squad. (Series; Reality; Syn; 2002). A British produced program that has a team of salvage experts finding then restoring rusting and discarded vehicles of all types to like-new condition. Through the restoration scenes that are presented, the viewer is given a history of the items, its owners and the work that is involved in such projects.

Team: Lee Hurst, Graham McPherson, Axel Cleghorn, Jerry Thurston.

7102 Sam. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1977). Mike Breen is an officer with the Los Angeles Police Department. Sam is a yellow Labrador retriever and a member of the department's canine squad. Mike is teamed with Sam (and designated Two-Henry-Six) and stories follow their daily (although short-lived efforts) to uphold the law.

Cast: Mark Harmon (Off. Mike Breen), Len Wayland (Capt. Tom Claggett), Sam (Sam).

7103 Sam. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/11/85). Samantha "Sam" Flynn is the managing editor of the Raleigh Publishing Company in New York City. She is also a single mother (of Megan) and the unsold series was to relate her efforts to cope with the barrage of problems that confront her at home and at work. In the pilot episode, Sam's efforts to provide a birthday surprise for her boss (George) backfires when she arranges for a visit from his grandmother in Yugoslavia — but manages to get the wrong woman. Other Regulars: Valerie, an editor; Susan, the secretary; and Barry, an editor.

Cast: Loretta Swit (Samantha Flynn), Keri Houlihan (Megan Flynn), Barney Martin (George Koskovich), Kit McDonough (Valerie), Cathy Silvers (Susan), Stephen Godwin (Barry Suckerman). Guest Cast: Dorothy Neumann (Mrs. Petrovich), Patty Machetta (Employee).

7104 Sam Benedict. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1962–1963). Sam Benedict is a defense attorney working out of San Francisco. He is tough when he has to be and does what it takes, within the limits of the law, to gather the evidence he needs to clear a client. Stories, based on the files of criminal attorney Jacob Ehrlich, relate Sam's intense investigations and shrewd courtroom defenses. Hank Tabor is Sam's assistant; Trudy Wagner is their secretary. See also 333 Montgomery for information on the series pilot film.

Cast: Edmond O'Brien (Sam Benedict), Richard Rust (Hank Tabor), Joan Tompkins (Trudy Wagner). Theme Song: "Sam Benedict" by Nelson Riddle.

Cast: Samantha Irons (Sammy Jayne), Christina Love (Maid).

7106 Sam Hill. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 6/3/61). A proposed spin-off from Bonanza about Sam Hill, a traveling blacksmith of legendary strength who roams throughout the West of the 1860s with only a knife and a hammer. In the pilot episode, Sam tries to protect a piece of land he owns from Colonel Tyson — who is seeking to own it at any cost. Other Regulars: John Henry, Sam's father; Billy Joe, Sam's friend.

Cast: Claude Akins (Sam Hill), Edgar Buchanan (John Henry Hill), Robert Ridgely (Billy Joe). Guest Cast: Ford Rainey (Colonel Tyson), Caroline Richter (Saloon Girl), Howard Wendell (Willis), Mickey Simpson (Bartender), Richard Bartell (Hathaway).

7107 Sam Hill: Who Killed the Mysterious Mr. Foster? (Pilot; Western; NBC; 2/1/71). Sam Hill is an alcoholic drifter who quits drinking, runs for and is elected the sheriff of King City. The unsold series was to focus on Sam as he attempts to maintain law and order. In the pilot episode, Sam seeks to solve the mysterious death of Reverend Mr. Foster, who was collecting $10,000 for a new church just before he was killed. Other Regulars: Jethro, the boy who tags along with Sam.

Cast: Ernest Borgnine (Sam Hill), Stephen Hudis (Jethro). Guest Cast: Will Geer (Simon Anderson), Judy Geeson (Jody Kenyon), Bruce Dern (Doyle Pickett), J.D. Cannon (Mal Yeager), Woodrow Parfrey (Doc Water), C.D. Spardlin (Mr. Foster), John McGiver (Judge), Slim Pickens (Mr. Kilpatrick), Dub Taylor (Reed).

7108 The Sam Levenson Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1951–1952). The program, which relates the humor of schoolteacher turned television star Sam Levenson, also features a segment in which celebrities appear with their children to discuss the problems that exist between them.

Host: Sam Levenson.

7109 Sam Penny and Associate. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 11/14/85). A proposed spin-off from Simon and Simon about Sam Penny, a hard-boiled private detective one step away from bankruptcy. In the pilot episode, Penny teams with A.J. and Rick Simon and their beautiful cousin, Elizabeth, to help a deputy warden who is searching for a con who escaped from Alcatraz in 1962. (The program concludes with Elizabeth joining Sam as his partner).

Cast: Robert Lansing (Sam Penny), Caren Kaye (Elizabeth Charles). Guest Cast: Vincent Baggetta (Ron Lottick), Rosemary Forsyth (Ellen Lottick), Barry Jenner (Warden Latham), James Widdoes (Roger Brunswick), Al White (Inmate), Virginia Vincent (Toni Meyers), Jameson Parker (A.J. Simon), Gerald McRaney (Rick Simon).

7110 Samantha Who? (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2007–). Samantha Who is actually Samantha Newly, a beautiful young woman who, through an unfortunate accident, was hit by a car and awoke after eight days in a coma with retrograde amnesia. She can function in the world but she can't remember anything about her own personal life.

Samantha doesn't know who she was, what she did or if she was even good or bad (she later discovers she is a vice president at Chapman and Funk International, a real estate development company). She is a stranger to herself and this is something she cannot live with. Acting as her own detective, Samantha begins to uncover clues about her past, but none make sense to her (especially the fact that her parents and friends all appear to be hiding something from her). She does, however, learn that the former Samantha was a horrible person (vain and cold hearted). She also discovers her former self had many enemies and that the car accident could have been attempted murder.

For the new Samantha all her past mistakes have been erased. She now has a clean slate — but can she change who she really is? Samantha thinks so and stories follow Samantha as she tries to fix the mistakes her former self made and reconstruct her life into one that shows a kinder, more loving woman. Hindering Samantha's efforts is the unknown, would-be killer, who may strike again at any time.

Todd (a photographer) is Samantha's former boyfriend (on whom she cheated on as her other self); Regina and Howard are her parents; Andrea and Dena are her friends; Frank is the apartment house doorman; Tracey is Samantha's secretary; Andrea works as a lawyer at Chapman and Funk.

Cast: Christina Applegate (Samantha Newly), Jean Smart (Regina Newly), Kevin Dunn (Howard Newly), Jennifer Esposito (Andrea), Barry Watson (Todd), Melissa McCarthy (Dena), Tim Russ (Frank), Joy Osmani (Tracey), Kelsey Lee Smith (Young Samantha).

7111 Sammy and Company. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1975). Music, songs and light comedy with singer-actor Sammy Davis, Jr. as the host. Pierre Cossette is the producer.

Host: Sammy Davis, Jr. Regulars: Avery Schreiber, Joyce Jillson, Johnny Brown, Kay Dingle. Announcer: William B. Williams. Orchestra: George Rhodes.

7112 The Sammy Davis, Jr. Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1966). Singer, actor and dancer Sammy Davis, Jr. hosts a weekly hour of music, songs and light comedy (it ran from January 7, 1966 to April 22, 1966). Joe Hamilton is the producer.

Host: Sammy Davis, Jr. Regulars: The Lester Wilson Dancers. Orchestra: George Rhodes.

7113 The Sammy Kaye Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1950–1953). The alternate title for So You Want to Lead a Band. See this title for information.

7114 Sammy Kaye's Music from Manhattan. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1958–1959). Music and songs broadcast from New York City with bandleader Sammy Kaye as the host. Coby Ruskin is the producer.

Host: Sammy Kaye. Regulars: Lynn Roberts, Charles Roder, Ray Michaels, Larry O'Brien, Hank Kanui, Johnny McAfee, Joe Mack, Teddy Auldtt, Larry Ellis, J. Blasingame Bond, Toby Wright, Joe Machiaverna, Janice Jones, Harry Reser, Jack Jennings, Richard Dini, Johnny Amorosa, The Dixieland Quartet, The Kaydettes. Orchestra: Sammy Kaye.

7115 Samson and Goliath. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1967–1968). A battle against crime and corruption as seen through the exploits of a young boy (Sampson) and his dog, Goliath. Whenever trouble becomes evident, the boy raises his wrists, touches his bracelets and utters “I need Sampson power.” Instantly, he is transformed into the mighty Sampson, and his dog into the vicious lion Goliath.

Voice Cast: Tim Matheson (Sampson).

7116 Samurai. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 4/30/79). Lee Cantrell is a lawyer with the San Francisco County Prosecutor's office. He is half Asian and half American and lives by the code of the Samurai — a code by which at night he mysteriously helps people who are unable to help themselves. In the pilot episode, Lee attempts to stop a madman who is threatening to destroy San Francisco with an earthquake machine. Other Regulars: Takeo, his martial arts instructor; Hannah, Lee's mother; Frank, Lee's employer; and Lieutenant Al DeNisco.

7117 Samurai Jack. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2001–2004). Aku, a shape-shifting warlord of ancient Japan, unleashed a great evil on the land. A young samurai warrior, who calls himself Jack, set out to destroy him. Jack, however, was unable to complete his task. Although he carries a sacred sword that is capable of destroying Aku, Jack was prevented from doing so when Aku opened a time portal and propelled Jack hundreds of years into the future. Here, Jack finds that Aku still rules (with his robot warlords) but the world of the future (complete with aliens and advanced technology) is all foreign and difficult for Jack to comprehend. As he slowly adjusts, he begins a quest to free the future from Aku's rule by destroying the evil that exists and finding a way to return to his time to stop Aku before the future he set actually comes to pass.

Voice Cast: Phil LaMarr (Samurai Jack), Mako (Aku).

7118 Samurai Pizza Cats. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1996). Speedy Cerviche, Polly Esther and Guido Anchovy are the Samurai Pizza Cats, three 7127 Sandy Dreams. (Series; Children; ABC; 1950). A live series that transports viewers to the dream world of an eight-year-old girl named Sandy. As Sandy drifts off to sleep, her dreams of a magical land where children sing, dance, and perform in sketches, are shared with the viewing audience. Originally a local Los Angeles show and the first scripted program on the West Coast. The network version ran for only nine weeks (October 7, 1950 to December 2, 1950) when its child stars, who were under contract to local station KTLA, were forced out of the series. The program was seen on kinescope on the East Coast. Candy, Stuff and Alicia are Sandy's friends.

Cast: Rose Marie Iannone (Sandy), Patty Iannone (Candy), Alice Adams (Alicia), Stuff Singer (Stuff).

7128 The Sandy Duncan Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1972). A spin-off from Funny Face that continues to follow events in the life of Sandy Stockton, a young woman from Illinois who now resides in California to begin her career as a student teacher.

Sandy resides in Apartment 2A of the Royal Weatherly Hotel in Los Angeles (at 130 North Weatherly Boulevard). She is enrolled at UCLA and to help pay expenses she works as a part time secretary for Bert Quinn, the senior member of the Quinn and Cohen Advertising Agency (located at 5099 Lincoln Boulevard).

Other Regulars: Kay Fox, Sandy's neighbor; Hilary, the agency receptionist; Alex, Sandy's other neighbor; Ben, the janitor; and Leonard Cohen, Bert's partner.

Cast: Sandy Duncan (Sandy Stockton), Tom Bosley (Bert Quinn), Marian Mercer (Kay Fox), Pamela Zarit (Hilary), Alfie Wise (Leonard Cohen), M. Emmet Walsh (Alex Lambert), Eric Christmas

(Ben Hamilton). Theme Vocal: “The Kind of Girl She Is” by Jack Jones.

7129 Sandy Strong. (Series; Children; ABC; 1950–1951). Various stories are related to children through the marionette adventures of Sandy Strong, a young boy with an unrelenting curiosity about life.

Host: Ray Suber as Mr. Mack (1950), Forrest Lewis as Mr. Mack (1951).

7130 Sanford. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1980–1981). A continuation of Sanford and Son. Fred Sanford, the irascible Watts (Los Angeles) junkman, resumes his business at 4707 South Central assisted by Cal Pettie, a not-too-bright friend of his son, Lamont’s (who left Fred to work on the Alaska pipeline). As in the original series, Fred seeks to build his junk empire while doing as little work as possible (relying this time on Cal to do all the dirty work). Fred, a widower, is now dating Evelyn Lewis, a much younger, widowed society woman. She lives at 77 Kantwell Drive in Beverly Hills with her daughter, Cissy and her snooty, disapproving (of her relationship with Fred) brother, Winston.

Other Regulars: Esther Anderson, Fred’s sister-in-law; Cliff Anderson, Esther’s son; Grady Wilson, Fred’s friend; Rollo, Fred’s neighbor; and Police Officers Smitty and Hoppy.

7131 Sanford and Son. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1972–1977). Sanford and Son Salvage is a junkyard located at 9114 South Central in Los Angeles. Fred G. Sanford is the owner, a 65-year-old widower who refuses to retire; Lamont Sanford is his son, a 34-year-old bachelor who is dissatisfied with the business and seeks to better himself by beginning a life of his own — “You’re holding me back here. I’ll never get married. I’ll wind up an old broken down junk dealer like you.”

Fred has been a widower for 23 years when the series begins. He came from a very poor family in Georgia (they slept five to a room), and now he feels he is living in luxury, despite Lamont’s feelings.

Before retiring from show business to begin the Sanford Junk Empire, Fred was a dancer in vaudeville and was teamed with a girl named Juanita (played in old-age makeup by Janet DuBois).

Fred was married to a woman named Elizabeth. He is now ornery, cantankerous, set in his ways and distrustful of people. When Fred doesn’t get his way, he feigns a heart attack (“I’m coming, Elizabeth; this is it, the big one”); he’s had 15 major heart attacks by the end of the first episode. He also develops a sudden case of “arth-i-rit-is” when there is work to be done. His response to a smart aleck remark by Lamont (or anyone else) is “How would you like one across your lips?” (which he says making a fist).

Fred calls himself a junk dealer; Lamont, whom Fred calls “Dummy,” considers himself a collector.

Other Regulars: Esther Anderson is Fred’s sister-in-law (usually called Aunt Esther). She is deeply religious and is constantly in verbal battles with Fred (whom she calls a heathen). Donna Harris is Fred’s romantic interest. She is much younger than Fred, but as Fred said — “I’m 65 and people say I look 55, and I look 45. I’d settle for 35, but you [Donna] make me feel 45.”

Grady Wilson is Fred’s longtime friend and neighbor; Julio Fuentes is the next door neighbor Fred disliked (he had a pet goat named Chico); Rollo Larson is Lamont’s friend (together they managed an all-girl rock group called The Three Degrees); and patrol car officers “Swany” Swanhauser, “Hoppy” Hopkins and “Smitty” Smith were the L.A.P.D. cops who were there to lend a hand when Fred needed help. See also Grady, Sanford and Sanford Arms.

Relatives: Beah Richards (Fred’s aunt, Ethel), Mary Alice (Fred’s sister, Frances Victor), Allan Drake (Frances’s husband, Rodney Victor), Raymond Allen (Esther’s husband, Woody Anderson), Alma Beltran (Julio’s sister, Maria Fuentes), Percy Rodrigues (Evelyn’s brother, Winston), Suzanne Stone (Evelyn’s daughter, Cissy Lewis).

Theme: “Sanford and Son” by Quincy Jones.

Note: Sanford and Son is based on the British series Steptoe and Son (about a team of “rag and bone men” [junk dealers]). Starring were Wilfrid Brambell as Albert Ladysmith Steptoe, the father, and Harry H. Corbett as his son, Harold Kitchener Steptoe. The series ran on the BBC from 1963 to 1973. While Fred and Lamont had a beat-up old pickup truck, Albert and Harold had two cart horses named Hercules and Delilah.

In 1965 NBC produced an American version called Steptoe and Son, with Lee Tracy as Albert and Aldo Ray as Harold; the pilot never aired. Prior to the pilot that sold Sanford and Son, Norman Lear produced an unaired version with Barnard Hughes as the father and Paul Sorvino as his son.

Cast: Redd Foxx (Fred Sanford), Demond Wilson (Lamont Sanford), Dennis Burkley (Cal Pettie), Whitman Mayo (Grady Wilson), LaWanda Page (Esther Anderson), Raymond Allen (Woody Anderson), Eric Laneuville (Daniel Anderson), Nathaniel Taylor (Rollo Larson), Gregory Sierra (Julio Fuentes), Slappy White (Melvin), Noam Pitlik (Officer Swanhauser), Hal Williams (Officer Smitty), Howard Platt (Officer “Hoppy” Hopkins), Don Bexley (Bubba), Lynn Hamilton (Donna Harris), Marguerite Ray (Evelyn Lewis), Leroy Daniels (Leroy), Nancy Kulp (May Hopkins), Marlene Clark (Janet), Edward Crawford (Roger), Mary Alice (Frances Victor), Allan Drake (Rodney Victor), Pat Morita (Ah Chu).

7132 Sanford Arms. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1977). A spin-off from Sanford and Son. Phil Wheeler is a widower and retired Army man who purchases the Sanford and Son Junkyard and turns it into the Sanford Arms rooming house as an investment, enabling him to remain at home and raise his two children, Tina and Nat. Stories focus on his attempts to cope with the numerous problems associated with running a rooming house. The series ran for four episodes. The rooming house address was given as 9114 South Central in Los Angeles (the same address as in Sanford and Son but not the same address as in the 1980 series Sanford, where the junkyard, reclaimed by Fred, was at 4707 South Central in Los Angeles).

Other Regulars: Esther Anderson, Fred's sister-in-law and Phil's landlady; Jeannie, Phil's girlfriend; Grady Wilson, a tenant; Bubba, the handyman.

7133 Santa Barbara. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1984–1993). The lush southern California community of Santa Barbara is the setting for a daily soap opera that focuses on the struggles for love, wealth and power among four prominent families.

Cast: Dame Judith Anderson (Minx Lockridge), Lloyd Bochner (C.C. Capwell), Peter Mark Richman (C.C. Capwell), Lane Davies (Mason Capwell), Robin Wright (Kelly Capwell), Todd McKee (Ted Capwell), Virginia Mayo (Peaches Delight), Louise Sorel (Augusta Lockridge), Ismael Carlo (Ruben Andrade), Margarita Cordova (Rosa Andrade), Ava Lazar (Santana Andrade), Rupert Ravens (Danny Andrade), Robert Alan Browne (John Perkins), Valerie Armstrong (Marisa Perkins), Missy Brennan (Jade Perkins), John Allen Nelson (Warren Lockridge), Julie Ronnie (Larken Lockridge), Steve Meadows (Peter Flint), A Martinez (Cal Castillo), Irene DeBari (Dolores Sanchez), Andrea Howard (Veronica).

7134 Santo Bugito. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1995–1996). Santo Bugito is an insect community near the Mexican boarder. Carmen and Paco de la Antchez (two ants) run the local restaurant and stories relate events in the lives of the various insects that hang out at the eatery.

Voice Cast: Marabina Jaimés (Carmen de la Antchez), Tony Plana (Paco de la Antchez), Henry Gibson (Mothemeyer), George Kennedy (Ralph), David Paymer (Centipede), William Sanderson (Clem), Michael Stanton (Burt), Joan Van Ark (Amelia), Cheech Marin (Lencho the Flea), Candi Milo (Rosa).

7135 Sara. (Series; Western; CBS; 1976). Independence, Colorado, in 1870 is the setting. Sara Yarnell is a pretty schoolteacher who leaves what she considers to be a dull existence in Philadelphia to teach school in the west. She is strong and determined and settles in Independence. A school had been established, but had also been abandoned. She re-establishes the school and stories relate her difficulties as she struggles to teach the children (and adults) of a growing town in a ruthless territory.

Emmett Ferguson is the rancher she befriends; Martin Pope is the publisher of the town newspaper, The Bulletin; Julia Bailey is Sara's friend; George Bailey is Julia's husband; Martha Higgins is the owner of the boarding house; Emma and Deborah Higgins are Martha's daughters; Samuel is Martha's husband; Georgie Bailey is Julia's son; Claranet is the Bailey's housekeeper; Claude Barstow is the town mayor; Frank Dixon is a rancher; Jimmy Wiggins is the featured student.

7136 Sara. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1985). Sara McKenna is young, beautiful and single. She lives in San Francisco and is a dedicated attorney working for the Bay Area Legal Group. Here Sara feels her talents are not being used to their full potential. When an opportunity arises, she acquires a position with the law firm of Cooper and Associates. Stories follow Sara as she struggles to cope with life at work and at home (3600 Bay Street).

Other Regulars: Lawyers Roz Dupree, Marty Long and Dennis Kemper; Stewart Webber, Susan's boyfriend; Helen Newcombe, the office secretary; Claire McKenna, Sara's mother; Michael Cooper, the law firm's senior partner; Jesse, Stewart's son (from a previous marriage); Emily, Sara's cousin; and Dennis's grandfather.

Cast: Geena Davis (Sara McKenna), Alfre Woodard (Roz Dupree), Ronnie Claire Edwards (Helen Newcombe), Bill Maher (Marty Lang), Bronson Pinchot (Dennis Kemper), David Rasche (Stewart Webber), Matthew Lawrence (Jesse Webber), Richard Venture (Michael Cooper), K Callan (Claire McKenna), Arthur Lessac (Dennis's Grandfather), Jill Schoelen (Emily).

7137 The Sarah Connor Chronicles. (Series; Adventure; Fox; 2008–). Sarah Connor is a woman who knows the future. On April 19, 2011, the Skynet Missile Defense Program will be launched to declare war on mankind and trigger a nuclear apocalypse two days after. Sarah's son, John, is the futuristic savior of mankind. The creators of Skynet are aware of John and are determined to dispose of John before he can fulfill his future destiny and stop highly advanced robots from taking over the world.

It began in May of 1984. Sarah was in college and working as a waitress. She was suddenly confronted by a Cyberdyne Systems T-800 Model 101 Terminator from the year 2027, a human-looking robot with orders to kill her. Sarah is saved by Kyle Reese, a time traveling resistance fighter (who would father John). Sarah learns about the future from Kyle, but he is killed as they eliminate the Terminator.

In February of 1985, Sarah gives birth to John and has, since his birth, taught him about combat, weapons, computers and military strategies, preparing him for his ultimate destination as the leader of a resistance movement.

It is 1999. Cameron Phillips, a beautiful re-programmed (for good) Terminator robot from the future is sent back in time to protect John (she had been tracking John for 73 days and, posing as a high school student, attached herself to him). She becomes their valuable ally when she saves John from a persistent Terminator (Cromartie). Cameron quickly wins Sarah's trust. Together they join forces to stop Skynet before it is built. They know where and when but not by whom. To accomplish this, Cameron activates a secretly hidden time machine that transports them to the year 2007 ("The same where, a different time").

John and Sarah (and now Cameron) can never rest as not only is Cromartie (who poses as FBI Agent Kester) seeking them, but the real FBI is also seeking Sarah, whom they consider a dangerous fugitive, for a past crime (Sarah believed a scientist named Myles Dawson would create Skynet. She blew up a four-story government lab and accidentally killed Dyson. She was imprisoned [sent to a psychiatric ward for her talk about the future and robots] but managed to escape. Agent James Ellison has vowed to recapture her).

In 2007, Sarah also receives help from Kyle's brother, Derek, a resistance fighter who witnessed the attacks that began in 2009 and has transported back in time to help protect John and Sarah. Based on the Terminator series of feature films and also known as Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles.

Sarah opens the show: "In the future my son will lead mankind in a war against Skynet, a computer system programmed to destroy the world. It has sent machines back through time. Some to kill him; some to protect him. Today we fight to stop Skynet from ever being created; to change our future; to change his fate. The war to save mankind begins now." Fall 2007 premiere delayed by a writers' strike.

Cast: Lena Headey (Sarah Connor), Thomas Dekker (John Connor), Summer Glau (Cameron Phillips), Richard T. Jones (James Ellison), Brian Austin Green (Derek Reese), David Kilde (Cromartie).

7138 The Sarah Silverman Program. (Series; Comedy; Comedy Central; 2007). A rather raunchy comedy that focuses on the life of Sarah Silverman, a very pretty stand-up, foul-mouthed comedian, who has little respect for anyone. Sarah is single and lives with her dog, Doug. Her best friend is her (real life) sister, Laura, and she lives next-door to Brian and Steve, two unkempt and dim-witted gay lovers. Stories relate the incidents that affect Sarah in her everyday life — and how she goes about dealing with them (not using her beauty to accomplish things, but her truly nasty attitude and being as mean as she can be. She is number one — and she let's those she deals with know it). The series, which produced six episodes, ran from February 1, 2007 to March 6, 2007.

Cast: Sarah Silverman (Sarah Silverman), Laura Silverman (Laura Silverman), Brian Posehn (Brian), Steven Agee (Steve), Jay Johnson (Officer Jay McPherson), Laura Marano (Young Sarah; flashbacks).

7139 Sarge. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1971–1972). Shattered emotionally after his wife is killed by an assassin's bullet meant for him, veteran detective Sarge Swanson quits the force and enters the priesthood. Three years later he is ordained as Father Samuel Patrick Cavanaugh and assigned to the Saint Aloysius Parish in San Diego, California. Still referred to as "Sarge," and still using unorthodox methods, he attempts to solve the problems of an urban community.

Valerie is Sarge's secretary; Kenji is the parish athletic coach; Barney Verick is the police lieutenant Sarge helps.

4. Pitfall. Treasure hunter Pitfall Harry, his niece Rhoda and his somewhat cowardly pet lion, Quick Claw roam the world seeking lost treasures.

5. Q-Bert. Q-Bert, a teenager and his girlfriend, Q-Tee, battle the evil Coilee Snake and his friends (Viper, Ugh and Wrong Way) in the town of Q-Burg.

Voices: Soupy Sales, Peter Cullen, Billy Bowles, Bart Braverman, Dick Beals, Julie McWhirter, Ted Field, Marvin Kaplan, Robbie Lee, Ken Mars, Noelle North, Robert Ridgely, Bob Sarlatte, B.J. Ward, Frank Welker, Judy Strangis, Avery Schreiber. Theme Music: “Supercade” by Shuki Levy, Haim Saban.

7148 Saul of the Mole Men. (Series; Adventure; Cartoon Network; 2007). Saul Malone is a geologist who works for STRATA, a U.S. government organization that explores the unknown realms of the earth. During a mission to explore the center of the earth, Saul’s drill ship crashes, killing most of his crew and stranding him, Johnny Tambourine (a British music star) and their Robot in an unknown world. Here, a civilization of creatures called Mole Men (even though there are sexy females in the species) exist. While Saul has apparently found his dream (the strange rocks that exist) he knows also that he must contact STRATA to let them know his fate. In the meantime, Saul and his team face numerous obstacles—including threats from the Mole Men as they explore (and seek a way to escape from) their center of the earth prison. The serialized series mixes live action (Saul and Johnny) with puppets (Robot, the Mole Men) to chronicle their adventures. Broadcast on the Cartoon Network’s Adult Swim segment.

Cast: Josh Gardner (Saul Malone), Hugh Davidson (Johnny Tambourine), Irina Voronina (Fallopia), Frank Potenza (Robot), Jonah Ray (Clancy), Alex Winter (King Mole Man), Peter Conlon (Female Mole Man), Paige Peterson (Lt. Jen E. James), Arturo Gil (Lil).

Cast: Martin Landau (Paul Savage), Barbara Bain (Gail Abbott). Guest Cast: Will Geer (Joel Ryker), Paul Richards (Brooks), Michele Carey (Allison), Barry Sullivan (Judge Stern), Louise Latham (Marion Stern), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Russell), Susan Howard (Lee Reynolds).

7150 The Savage Dragon. (Series; Cartoon; USA; 1996). An animated series loosely based on the comic strip by Erik Larsen. The stripped down television version (minus the sex, violence and profanity) tells the tale of Dragon, a super-strong half-human, half-reptile being who works as a detective with the Chicago Police Department. Dragon, as he is called, has amnesia and is not only on a quest to find out who he is (or was) but how he became what he has become. In the meantime, he is the best the police department has. Chicago appears to be plagued by similar (but evil) “freaks” and Dragon’s efforts to dispense of them is the focal point of the series.

Voice Cast: Jim Cummings (Dragon), Kath Soucie (Alex Wild), Tony Jay (Overlord), Michael Dorn, Ruth Buzzi, Mark Hamill.

7151 Savage: In the Orient. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 6/21/83). Peter Savage is a wealthy private detective who also owns the Peter Savage Antique Shop in Manila. He is assisted by a reformed ex-con named Major and the unsold series was to relate Peter’s exploits as he tackles rather hazardous cases. In the pilot episode, Peter is hired to secure the release of a kidnapped American executive from terrorists. Other Regulars: Tap Lee, Peter’s friend, a former Queen of the Manila Underworld; Leslie DeLand, a computer expert who assists Peter; and Captain Saprido of the Manila Police Department.

Cast: Joe Penny (Peter Savage), Leif Erickson (Major), Irene Yah Ling Sun (Tap Lee), Heather McNair (Leslie DeLand), Butz Aquino (Captain Saprido). Guest Cast: John Saxon (Nick Costa), Lew Ayres (Allan Clydesdale), Gayle Hunnicutt (Julian Clydesdale), Anthony Castello (Clarence Ford).

7152 Savage Sunday. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 5/1/62). The pilot film for Saints and Sinners (1962) about Nick Phillips and Albert King, rival reporters for a Manhattan daily newspaper. The pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Dick Powell Show, finds Nick attempting to help a young bible student who was attacked by three punks. Other Regulars: Mark, the city editor; Lizzie, a reporter.

Cast: Nick Adams (Nick Phillips), Russell Thorson (Albert King), Ann Blyth (Lizzie Hogan), John Larkin (Mark Grainger). Guest Cast: Carolyn Kearney (Marilee Ledbetter). Note: In the series Nick Adams played Nick Alexander. The Albert King character was dropped and Barbara Rush replaced Ann Blyth as Liz Hogan, the Washington correspondent.

7153 Savannah. (Series; Drama; WB; 1996–1997). A prime time soap opera that is set in Savannah, Georgia. Events in the lives of three beautiful girls who are also best friends: Reese Burton, Lane McKenzie Collins and Peyton Richards Massick.

Reese is the rich, spoiled daughter of Ed Burton, a corrupt millionaire whose business ethics leave a lot to be desired (Reese is also quite naïve and is unaware of how her father actually acquired his wealth).

Lane is a graduate of Georgia State University who left Savannah to pursue a journalism career in New York City. She returned for Reese’s wedding, fell in love with her high school sweetheart (Dean Collins) and eventually married him (Lane gave up her job in New York for a position on the local newspaper).

Peyton is a beautiful girl who is extremely vengeful. She grew up as the daughter of a maid in the Burton household but was unaware that Ed was her father. She has learned the truth and has set her goal to get part of the Burton wealth that she believes she deserves.

Adding to the complexities of the situation is Tom Massick, a con artist who returned to Savannah to settle a score with Ed Burton — the man he believes was responsible for his father's death.

Cast: Robyn Lively (Lane McKenzie Collins), Shannon Sturges (Reese Burton), Jamie Luner (Peyton Richards Massick), David Gail (Dean Collins), Alexia Robinson (Cassandra Wheeler), Beth Tousseint (Veronica Koslowski), Paul Satterfield (Tom Massick), Ray Vise (Ed Burton), George Eades (Nick Corelli), Mimi Kennedy (Eleanor Burton), Shannon Kenny (Jeannie Collins), Lisa Thornhill (Det. Sheila Madsen), Russell Curry (Det. Sam Lucas), Beverleigh Banfield (Grace Voyer), Denis Arndt (Martin Corelli), Scott Thompson Baker (Brian Alexander), Debbie James (Madeline Stewart), Charles Lawlor (Steve Turell), Wendy Phillips (Lucille Richards), Ted Shackelford (Charles Alexander), Grayce Spence (Emma Smallwood).

7154 Save Our Streets. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1995–1996). The program explores crime cases that have, in most instances, happy endings (the victims see that justice has been served). After each profiled case, the program offers solutions and advice on how not to fall prey to street crime — what to avoid and what to look out for.

Host-Narrator: Tim Reid.

7155 Saved. (Series; Drama; TNT; 2006–2007). Wyatt Cole is a paramedic with the Portland, Oregon, Fire Department. He is the son of a prominent doctor, now the chief of medicine at a local hospital. Wyatt had started to follow in his father's footsteps but became disillusioned and dropped out of medical school. Now, uncertain of what he wants to do, he took a job as a paramedic to help, in part, pay off his gambling debts (he is particularly addicted to poker — and is often a big loser). Wyatt felt being a doctor was too confining; he finds the adrenaline rush of day-to-day activities as a first responder exciting and feels that by saving the lives of other people he may also save his own life.

Other Regulars: Alice, his ex-girlfriend, an emergency room nurse; John Hallon, called "Sack," Wyatt's partner; Harper, the Mormon paramedic; and Angela, Harper's no-nonsense partner.

Cast: Tom Everett Scott (Wyatt Cole), Omari Hardwick (John "Sack" Hallon), Elizabeth Reaser (Alice Alden), Tracy Vilar (Angela De La Cruz), Michael McMillan (Harper Sims), David Clennon

7156 Saved by the Bell. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989–1993). Incidents in the lives of the students at fictional Bayside High School in Palisades, California. Richard Belding is the principal and the featured students are Kelly Kapowski, Jessica "Jesse" Spano, Lisa Marie Turtle, Zachary "Zack" Morris, Albert Clifford "A.C." Slater and Samuel "Screech" Powers. Last season episodes feature Tori Scott.

Kelly, the most gorgeous girl in school, is head cheerleader (for the Bayside Tigers football team), captain of the girls' softball, volleyball and swim teams and is Bayside Homecoming Queen. She lives at 3175 Fairfax Drive and on Tiger Radio, Bayside's radio station (KKTU, 98.6 FM) she hosted Kelly Desire (romantic music). Kelly knows she is beautiful but she never uses that asset for personal gain. She is very sweet and trusting and strives for perfect grades.

Jesse is smart, pretty and sensitive to the fact that she is tall. She is a talented dancer, a member of the Honors Society and, although she appears a bit tough, she is totally feminine; she hates being called "chick," "babe" and other such derogatory names. She is also dedicated to saving the environment and will stand up for any cause she believes in.

Lisa says, "I'm beautiful, charming and always in fashion." She loves to shop ("Lisa is my name, shopping is my game. If it's sold I can find it"). She is also very sweet and likes virtually everyone (although Screech tends to get on her nerves). She loves to eavesdrop and on Tiger Radio she was "The Galloping Gossip."

Tori is a tough biker-like girl with the beauty of Kelly and the liberalism of Jesse. Tori is set in her own ways and is rarely distracted from doing what she wants to do. She is actually the replacement for Kelly and Jesse, who were dropped (without explanation) at the start of the 1992 season.

Zack, the preppy student, is a natural-born con artist whose schemes often land him in detention. On Bayside radio Zack was the D.J. "Wolfman Zack." Zack later formed Kelly, Jesse and Lisa into a very sexy singing group called Hot Sundaes. He later formed the band The Zack Attack (with Kelly, Lisa, Slater and Screech). In 1992 he formed the group The Five Aces (with Tori replacing Kelly and Jesse). Principal Richard Belding calls him his "Zach Ache."

Screech lives at 88 Edgemont Road. He is the smartest member of the group although his actions and dress make him appear more like a nerd. He is scientifically minded (built his own robot, Kevin) and is a member of the photography, science, chess and glee clubs at school. He has a crush on Lisa (who can't stand the notion of her and Screech together).

His only other girlfriend was Violet Bickerstaff (Tori Spelling) a very pretty “nerd girl” with a beautiful singing voice. On Tiger Radio Screech hosted Screech’s Mystery Theater.

Slater, as A.C. is always called, is the school hunk (and Zack’s rival for Kelly’s affections; although he later found an interest in Jesse). Slater is an army brat and is captain of the football and wrestling teams.

In the episode of May 22, 1993, Zack, Screech, Lisa and Slater — and Jesse and Kelly (who suddenly reappeared) — graduate (no mention is made of Tori, who suddenly disappeared). Lisa enrolled at the Fashion Institute; Kelly at community college; Jesse at Columbia; Zack at Yale; Slater at Iowa State; and Screech, who had numerous acceptances, had not made a decision. The Max is the after school hang-out.

See also the following Saved by the Bell titles and the series and pilot programs, Good Morning, Miss Bliss (two titles).

Cast: Tiffani-Amber Thiessen (Kelly Kapowski), Elizabeth Berkley (Jesse Spano), Lark Voorhies (Lisa Turtle), Mark-Paul Gosselaar (Zach Morris), Mario Lopez (A.C. Slater), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers), Leanna Creel (Tori Scott), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding), Ed Alonzo (Max; owner of the Max).

7157 Saved by the Bell. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1991). A nine episode extension series based on the 1989–1993 Saved by the Bell series. The featured students from the series (Kelly, Jesse, Lisa, Zach, Slater and Screech) find work for the summer at the Malibu Sands Beach Club. Leon Corosi is their boss; his pretty daughter, Stacey, assists him as the manager of summer help.

Zach was the social director; Kelly and Slater were lifeguards; Jesse was the hotel reservations clerk; and Screech was a waiter. Lisa, was a club member and relaxed while her friends worked (although she did become involved with their shenanigans). Zach, always on the lookout for pretty girls, found an attraction to Stacey (as she did to him — although her father was not too fond of Zach for his scheming ways). Stories follow the gang as they work and try to have fun in the sun.

Cast: Tiffani-Amber Thiessen (Kelly Kapowski), Elizabeth Berkley (Jesse Spano), Lark Voorhies (Lisa Turtle), Mark-Paul Gosselaar (Zach Morris), Mario Lopez (A.C. Slater), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers), Leah Remini (Stacey Corosi), Ernie Sabella (Leon Corosi).

7158 Saved by the Bell: The College Years. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1993–1994). A prime time continuation of the Saturday morning series Saved by the Bell. Here Zack, Slater, Kelly and Screech begin their freshman year at California State University.

New to the cast are students Alexandra “Alex” Tabor and Leslie Burke; and athletic coach Michael Rogers. Zack, Screech and Slater share Room 218B in a coed dorm where Kelly, Alex and Leslie share Room 218A.

Kelly and Alex pledge Pi Psi Sorority; Leslie, Beta Zeta Sorority; Zack, Screech and Slater, Sigma Alpha Fraternity.

Alex, a drama major, is from Oregon. Leslie is from Washington, D.C., and like Zack, is a finance major. Kelly, studying to become a doctor, works at the Student Health Center; Slater, attending on a wrestling scholarship, works as a waiter at the Falcon’s Nest, the Student Union cafeteria.

Michael, the resident director of the Broxton Dorm (where the group resides), played linebacker for the Forty-Niners. Alex doubles as the school’s football team mascot, Freddy Falcon. Skeeters is the local watering hole.

Cast: Mark-Paul Gosselaar (Zack Powers), Tiffani-Amber Thiessen (Kelly Kapowski), Mario Lopez (A.C. Slater), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers), Kiersten Warren (Alexandra “Alex” Tabor), Anne Tremko (Leslie Burke), Bob Golic (Michael Rogers).

7159 Saved by the Bell: The New Class. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1993). The first spin-off from Saved by the Bell. The setting is Bayside High School in Palisades, California, and the series focuses on the first of a new group of students: Vickie Needleman, Lindsay Warner, Megan Jones, Scott Erickson, Barton “Weasel” Wyzell and Tommy DeLuca. Richard Belding is the principal. The Max is the after school hangout.

Lindsay, “the most beautiful girl at Bayside,” is a member of the drama and glee clubs. Like Kelly from the original series, Lindsay knows she is stunning but rarely uses that aspect for personal gain. Vickie is a gorgeous blonde who could be considered a hypochondriac in the making (“Asking me how I am is like calling 911. I’m full of ailments”). She likes candy, but not chocolate (“it makes my face break out”) and licorice (“but not the red kind, it gives me hives”). Megan is the brightest student at school and strives for perfection (not achieving a goal she has set for herself always depresses her).

Tommy (called Tommy Dee) is Megan’s complete opposite. He is rather dim-witted and barely passing with a “D” average. Scott, a transfer from Valley High, is the new Zach (from the original series) and Mr. Belding’s main problem student (a schemer who cons his way into and out of everything). Barton, nicknamed “Weasel,” is a computer nut and water boy for the school’s football team (the Tigers).

Lindsay, Vickie and Megan are junior varsity cheerleaders for the ping-pong team. On the school’s radio station (Tiger Radio), Vickie is the weathergirl, Lindsay hosts From Lindsay with Love (romantic music); and Megan was the advice giver, “Dr. Love.”

Cast: Natalia Cigliuti (Lindsay Warner), Bonnie Russavage (Vickie Needleman), Bianca Lawson (Megan Jones), Robert Sutherland (Scott Erickson), Isaac Lidsky (Barton “Weasel” Wyzell), Jonathan Angel (Tommy DeLuca), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding).

7160 Saved by the Bell: The New Class. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994). A spin-off from Saved by the Bell: The New Class (1993). Events in the lives of students who attend fictional Bayside High School in Palisades, California. Richard Belding is the principal; the Max is the after school hangout.

Rachel Myers, Brian Keller and Bobby Wilson are the new students. They replace Vickie, Scott and Weasel (who were dropped without explanation) and join prior title regulars Megan, Lindsay and Tommy. Dustin Diamond (from the original 1989 series, Saved by the Bell) returns as Screech Powers, now Mr. Belding’s college-trained administrative assistant.

Rachel, a stunning blonde, is a material girl and holds the beauty pageant title “Miss Junior Palisades.” Brian is newly arrived in America from Switzerland and is having a confusing (if not troublesome) time coping with life in America. Bobby is the fall guy of the group, the one who innocently becomes involved with the shenanigans of the others.

See the prior title for information on Lindsay, Tommy and Megan. While Screech is now an authoritative figure, he remembers what it was like when he attended Bayside and often becomes involved in the antics of his students.

During the summer of 1994, Mr. Belding takes a job as the manager of the Palisades Hills Country Club with Screech as his assistant manager and his students as his staff: Rachel (lifeguard); Lindsay and Megan (waitresses); Brian (pool attendant); Bobby (golf attendant) and Tommy (parking valet). When their jobs ended the group became ranch hands at Screech’s Uncle Lester’s Gold Canyon Ranch in California.

Cast: Natalia Cigliuti (Lindsay Warner), Bianca Lawson (Megan Jones), Jonathan Angel (Tommy DeLuca), Sarah Lancaster (Rachel Myers), Christian Oliver (Brian Keller), Spankee Rogers (Bobby Wilson), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers).

7161 Saved by the Bell: The New Class. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995). A spin-off from Saved by the Bell: The New Class (1994). Events in the lives of the students of the fictional Bayside High School in Palisades, California. Richard Belding is the principal; Screech Powers his administrative assistant and the Max, the after school hangout. Students from the prior series, Megan, Bobby and Brian are dropped. The new students (joining Lindsay, Tommy and Rachel) are transfers from Valley High — Maria Lopez, Ryan Parker and R. J. “Hollywood” Collins. While supposed to be set at Bayside High, this version of the series is set mostly at the Palisades Mall where the regulars have found jobs (supposedly after school and on weekends). Richard Belding is the manager of the Sweet Tooth (a candy store). Screech assists him and R.J. is their salesman. Rachel is a salesgirl at the Perfume Counter; Tommy works for Chicken for a Buck; Maria is a waitress at the Japanese Restaurant; and Lindsay is a clerk at the Video Store (Maria and Lindsay later work at the Juice Bar). This version ended with the students, Mr. Belding and Screech spending a semester at sea on the S.S. Morning Star.

Cast: Natalia Cigliuti (Lindsay Warner), Bianca Lawson (Megan Jones), Jonathan Angel (Tommy DeLuca), Samantha Becker (Maria Lopez), Richard Lee Jackson (Ryan Parker), Salim Grant (R.J. Collins), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers).

7162 Saved by the Bell: The New Class. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1996). A spin-off from Saved by the Bell: The New Class (1995) that continues to depict events in the lives of students at Bayside High School in Palisades, California. Richard Belding is the principal; Screech Powers is his administrative assistant. Lindsay has transferred to Winwood Academy; Tommy has moved with his family to Florida; R.J.’s absence was not mentioned. Katie Peterson, Nicky Farina and Eric Little join prior students Rachel, Ryan and Maria to become the featured students. Like the 1995 version of the series, episodes are set primarily at the Palisades Mall where the regulars work: Katie (shampoo girl at Jean Paul’s Salon); Rachel (assistant manager of the Cinemax Plex Theater); Richard Belding and Screech manage the Yukon Yogurt store (where Eric works as their clerk); and Nicky is an usher at Cinema Plex.

At school, Katie is the manager of the radio station (now called KGAB, 98.6 FM); Maria has a show called Ask Maria and Screech and Mr. Belding host From the Principal’s Office. Eric is a member of the football team; Nicky is Ryan’s stepbrother.

Cast: Samantha Becker (Maria Lopez), Sarah Lancaster (Rachel Myers), Richard Lee Jackson (Ryan Parker), Lindsey McKeon (Katie Peterson), Ben Gould (Nicky Farina), Anthony Harrell (Eric Little), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers).

7163 Saved by the Bell: The New Class. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1997). A spin-off from Saved by the Bell: The New Class (1996). Continued events in the lives of the students at Bayside High School in Palisades, California. Richard Belding is the principal; Screech Powers is his administrator; and the Max is the after school hangout.

Rachel has moved to Boston. Liz Miller is the new student who joins prior series regulars Maria, Ryan, Katie, Nicky and Eric. The series again devotes most of its storylines to the regulars as they work at the Palisades Mall. Ryan and Nicky work at the video store, Media Mania (where Ryan is “Ring-a-Ding Ryan” and Nicky is “Nutty Nicky”); Maria works for the eatery Teen Machine; Eric and Katie are assistants at the mall gym, Pumped; Liz is a salesgirl at the Cookie Jar. Screech is a mall security guard.

Cast: Samantha Becker (Maria Lopez), Ashley Lyn Cafagna (Liz Miller), Richard Lee Jackson (Ryan Parker), Lindsey McKeon (Katie Peterson), Ben Gould (Nicky Farina), Anthony Harrell (Eric Little), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers).

7164 Saved by the Bell: The New Class. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1998–2000). The last version of the Saved by the Bell series that follows events in the lives of the students at Bayside High School in Palisades, California. Richard Belding is the principal; Screech powers is his administrative assistant. The Max is the after school hangout.

Ryan (from the prior 1997 title) has moved to New York with his family to attend a private school. Tony Dillon is the new student who replaces him (joining Samantha, Liz, Katie, Nicky and Eric as the featured students). Stories are set both at the school and at the Palisades Mall where the regulars work. Richard Belding and Screech work as salesmen in an electronics store called Gimmicks and Gadgets. Katie works at the gym, Pumped; Nicky is an usher at the Cinemax Plex theater. Eric is a salesman at the Petzilla Pet Shop; Maria is manager of the Teen Machine (music store).

At school, Maria is the assistant manager of the Max; Tony is a waiter. Katie is editor of the school newspaper; Liz is the photographer (they are also members of the swim team). Eric, Tony and Nicky are members of the school football team, the Tigers.

Final season episodes (1999–2000) find the students earning credits as cadets at the Palisades Police and Fire Academy. Mr. Belding accepts the job as dean of students at the University of Tennessee; Megan is accepted by UCLA; Eric, the Chicago Academy of Music; Katie, Cal State; and Nicky and Tony, NYU.

Cast: Samantha Becker (Maria Lopez), Ashley Lyn Cafagna (Liz Miller), Tom Wade Huntington (Tony Dillon), Lindsey McKeon (Katie Peterson), Ben Gould (Nicky Farina), Anthony Harrell (Eric Little), Dennis Haskins (Richard Belding), Dustin Diamond (Screech Powers).

7165 Saving Grace. (Series; Crime Drama; TNT; 2007). Grace Hanadarko is detective with the Oklahoma City Police Department. She is not the holiest of people. She drinks, smokes and is currently having an affair with her married partner (Ham Dewey). Grace does what she wants and apparently has no conscience, although certain cases do bother her (like those involving missing children).

To forget her troubles, she and a close friend, Rhetta (a department criminologist) go out for a night of heavy drinking. Although Grace knows better, she decides to drive herself home. Along the way she hits a man walking by the side of the road and evokes the name of God (“Dear God, please help me”) when she realizes what she has done. She gets an immediate reaction — as an angel appears and says, “I’m Earl, what do you need.” Prior to Grace’s accident Earl was seen observing Grace — but viewers were unaware of who he was.

Earl’s assignment is to help mortals who need one last chance to redeem themselves. Grace, being who she is (and not very religious either) is told, “You’re headed for Hell, Grace. God has given you one last chance. So he sent me.” Grace believes, at first, she is having an alcoholic blackout and refuses to accept what she is hearing. Earl shows his angelic wings and magically transports Grace to a high cliff in the Grand Canyon. She still refuses to believe what is happening and Earl returns her to the scene of the accident — but what accident? All traces of the incident have disappeared. Grace now has doubts as to what really happened — if anything at all.

In one last attempt to make Grace believe he is an angel (called a Last Chance Angel) Earl introduces her to Leon Cooley, a death row inmate. When Grace first sees Leon she recognizes him as the man she hit and killed with her car. Leon tells her he had a dream that she killed him. He also tells her that he was first imprisoned for driving drunk and killing a woman with his car. He later killed a prison guard and is now on Death Row (at McAllister State Prison). He also tells her that he has been given one last chance to redeem himself. Earl hopes Grace will see her faults through Leon.

Grace accepts the fact that Earl is, indeed, an angel sent to help her (although Grace’s questions to Earl about God are all avoided; he replies with lines like “If I give you the answers, there is no room for faith”).

Earl can’t be there all the time for Grace and he can’t help her solve crimes. He appears when he feels there is a need to help her get back on the right track.

Although Grace has accepted Earl, she has really not changed. She is still on a path of self-destruction and Earl’s job to redeem her has become that much more difficult.

Despite what she does in her private life, Grace is totally dedicated to work; somehow she manages to keep both worlds separate. Stories follow Grace as she investigates cases and solve crimes and Earl’s efforts to make Grace see the light and turn over a new leaf.

Bobby Stillwater is Grace's nephew (the son of her late sister who died in the Oklahoma bombing); Butch Ada is a detective who also works with Grace. Rhetta is Grace's closest friend and also a bit worrisome that what Grace asks her to do for her on the side (regarding a case) will someday get her into trouble with the department. Grace always kisses Rhetta on the cheek when she agrees to do it or when they part company.

Cast: Holly Hunter (Grace Hanadarko), Leon Rippy (Earl), Kenneth Johnson (Ham Dewey), Laura San Giacomo (Rhetta Rodriguez), Gregory Norman-Cruz (Bobby Stillwater), Bailey Chase (Butch Ada), Bokeem Woodbine (Leon Cooley).

7166 Sawdust. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/3/87). Seeking to escape his suburban life, Max Galpin, a CPA, quits his job and purchases a broken down, near-bankrupt circus. The unsold series was to follow Max and his reluctant-to-participate family's efforts to make the circus a success. Other Regulars: Dana, Max's wife; Molly and Russ, Max's children; Serge, Max's assistant; Mr. Halpern, the show's geek.

Cast: James Eckhouse (Max Galpin), Marsha Waterbury (Dana Galpin), Kellie Overbey (Molly Galpin), Bradley Gregg (Russ Galpin), Elya Baskin (Serge), Ben Flack (Mr. Halpern). Guest Cast: Robin Hudis (Gorilla Girl), Colin Hamilton (Priest), Kerry Michaels (Manicurist).

7167 Sawyer and Finn. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 4/22/83). The story, set ten years after Mark Twain's penning of Tom Sawyer, finds Tom heading west when the river life no longer excites him. He encounters his old friend Huckleberry Finn and the two join forces to seek adventure. The unsold series was to follow their various adventures as they travel throughout the Old West. The pilot episode depicts their encounters with a beautiful damsel in distress, bounty hunters and a band of ruthless outlaws.

Cast: Peter Horton (Tom Sawyer), Michael Dudikoff (Huckleberry Finn). Guest Cast: P.J. Soles (Goldie Molloy), Don "Red" Barry (Marshal), Slim Pickens (Sheriff), Jack Elam (Boot McGraw), Robert Tessier (Outlaw), Oliver Clark (Railroad man), John Chandler (Mase), Stack Pierce (Jim).

7168 Sawyer Views Hollywood. (Series; Interview; ABC; 1951). Newspaper columnist Hal Sawyer conducts a program of celebrity interviews that ran from June 29, 1951 to August 31, 1951.

7169 Say It with Acting. (Series; Game; DuMont; NBC; ABC; 1949–1952). The original format features two-celebrity teams competing in a game of charades with the team performing in the least amount of time being declared the winner. In a later format, a scene that can be described by a single word is performed on stage by a group of actors. When it is completed, a telephone call is placed to a home viewer. If the participant can guess the word that explains the scene, he receives a merchandise prize. Originally broadcast locally in New York as Look Ma, I'm Acting and later as Act It Out. The series ran on DuMont from February 20, 1949 to August 7, 1949; on NBC from August 14, 1949 to September 24, 1950; and on ABC from September 7, 1951 to February 22, 1952.

Host: Bill Cullen, Clayton "Bud" Collyer. Host-ess: Maggi McNellis. Regulars: Robert Alda, Patty Adair, Monty Banks, Jr., Leon Kay, Ed Casey.

7170 Say When. (Series; Game; NBC; 1961–1965). A specific amount of money is established and various merchandise items are displayed on stage. The two players who compete are unaware of the merchandise selling prices and have to select items that add up to but do not surpass the established amount. When both players stop, the value of their items is totaled. The player who has come closest to the established amount is the winner and receives the merchandise items he had previously chosen as his prize.

Host: Art James. Assistant: Ruth Halsey.

7171 Scalpels. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/26/80). San Francisco Memorial Hospital is the setting for a proposed series about the antics of a group of staff doctors: Carl, a psychiatrist; Betty, a neurologist; and surgeons Nicole, Bob and Lawrence (who is also Betty's husband).

Cast: Dale Robertson (Ben Calhoun), Robert Random (Barnabas Rogers), Robert Cinder (Brooks), Roger Torrey (Nils Torvald). Guest Cast: Diana Hyland (Martha Grenier), Sandra Smith (Joanna Royce), Lloyd Bochner (John Pendeniss), James Westerfield (Nehemiah), John Anderson (Standish), Cliff Hall (Judge Biddle).

7173 Scamps. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/3/82). Oliver Hopkins is a struggling writer who converts a spare room in his home into a day-care center for children to help pay the bills. The unsold series was to relate Oliver's efforts to write while caring for a group of mischievous kids (Princess, Cricket, Casey, Tank, Daisy, Scooter, Buttons, Sparky and Jinx). In the pilot episode, the kids' attempts to perform a good deed (painting Oliver's back fence) backfires when they splatter paint on their neighbor (Miss Pitts) and ruin her dress. Their efforts to make good for the damage done comprises the second half of the story. Originally titled 3 to 6. Other Regulars: Mandy, the post office letter carrier.

Cast: Bob Denver (Oliver Hopkins), Dreama Denver (Mandy), Dena Dietrich (Miss Pitts), Jennifer George (Princess), Erin Nicole Brown (Cricket), Damon Hines (Casey), Matt Connors (Tank), Marissa Mendenhall (Daisy), Scooter Cohen (Scooter), Shannon Izuchara (Buttons), Joey Lawrence (Sparky), Peter Jacobs (Jinx). Guest Cast: Alma Martinez (Susan Alvarez), Cliff Pellow (Mr. Grimsley). Theme Vocal: "Scamps" by Robert Jason.

7174 Scandals. (Pilot; Reality; ABC; 10/29/88). A proposed series that was to recreate scandalous news stories from around the world.

Host: Lindsay Wagner. Reenactment Cast: Elizabeth Curthrell, Michael Lafferty, Bill Lawrence, Bill Mendis, Ron Sandborn, Robert Towers.

7175 Scarecrow and Mrs. King. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1983–1987). The Agency is a secret branch of the U.S. government that handles matters of national security. It was founded in 1954 by Captain Harry V. Thornton (Howard Duff) and operates under the cover of International Federal Film (which actually makes movies — documentaries like The History of the Tractor and The Romance of Earthworms to justify its cover). Billy Melrose is the Field Investigation Unit Section Chief; Lee Stetson, code name "Scarecrow," and Francine Desmond are two of his three top operatives. The third operative is Amanda King, an amateur, divorced housewife, whose real life provides her with the perfect cover for working with Lee (Lee is fleeing with a package containing top secret information when he runs into Amanda at a train station. He tells Amanda to board the train and give the package to "the man in the red hat." When Amanda tries, but encounters a convention of men wearing red hats, she takes the package home. When Lee discovers that the package has not been delivered, he tracks down Amanda and together they plug a security leak at the Agency. Because Amanda is an unknown, Billy recruits her and teams her with Lee).

Lee lost his parents when he was four years old and was raised by a military uncle on numerous army bases. In 1973, Lee was a member of the Agency's "Oz Team" and received the code name "Scarecrow" (other team members were "The Wizard," "The Tin Man" and "The Lion"). Lee was first a Field Investigation Agent and later an Intelligence Operative.

Amanda is divorced one year when the series begins. She is the mother of Philip, age ten, and eight-year-old Jamie and lives with her mother, Dotty West at 4247 Maplewood Drive in Arlington, Virginia. Amanda attended the University of Virginia and has a degree in American Literature; she has a minor in photo journalism. She earns extra money as an occasional reporter for the Washington Blaze. When not on assignment, Amanda works for the Agency by transcribing tapes.

When Lee and Amanda work as an undercover team, they adopt the aliases of Lee Steadman and Amanda Keene; Lee, however, was heard using these other aliases: Lee Simpson and Lee Stanton. Lee and Amanda married on February 13, 1987, shortly before the series ended (Lee moved in with Amanda and her family).

Francine uses the alias Francine Dutton on assignments. When she becomes frightened, she eats chocolate (Amanda rambles on and on when she becomes scared). Francine is an expert on hand-to-hand combat, small arms weaponry "and rich men between the ages of 30 and 40." Billy attended law school and had a choice of becoming a New York attorney or counterintelligence agent; he chose to become an agent. In his youth, Billy was a jazz musician known as Billy Blue Note. Billy's superior is referred to as "The Blue Leader." Arthur B. Rubinstein composed the theme.

Cast: Kate Jackson (Amanda King), Bruce Boxleitner (Lee Stetson), Mel Stewart (Billy Melrose), Beverly Garland (Dotty West), Martha Smith (Francine Desmond), Paul Stout (Philip King), Greg Morton (Jamie King).

7176 The Scarecrow of Romney Marsh. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1964). A three-part series, broadcast on Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color that is set in the 18th century England and relates the adventures of Dr. Syn, a seemingly mild-mannered vicar who is secretly the Scarecrow of Romney Marsh, a Robin Hood-type who directs a smuggling operation to distribute the proceeds among the poor. The series ran from February 9, 1964 to February 23, 1964.

Cast: Patrick McGoochan (Dr. Syn), Geoffrey Keen (General Pugh), George Cole (Mipps), Sean Scully (John Banks), Michael Hordern (Sir Thomas Banks), Patrick Wymark (Joe Ransley), Tony Britton (Simon Bates), David Buck (Harry Banks).

7177 Scared Silly. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 9/2/82). The Beardsley Office of Occult Occurrences, B.O.O.O. for short, is an organization that investigates unusual phenomena. The proposed series was to relate the investigations of its three bumbling operatives: Skip and Harold and their dog Scram. In the pilot episode, Skip and Harold are hired by Darcy Winfield, a beautiful woman who looks as though she stepped out of the 1940s, to rid her mansion of an apparition that seems to be haunting it.

Cast: Jeff Altman (Skip Midler), Donovan Scott (Harold Van Couver). Guest Cast: Lisa Hartman (Darcy and Marie Winfield), Steve Franken (Bryce Needles), Fred Stuthman (Edgar).

7178 The Scarlet Pimpernel. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1956). The shortened title for The Adventures of the Scarlet Pimpernel. See this title for information.

7179 Scarlett Hill. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1965). The dramatic story of three people: Kate Russell, a widow and proprietress of the Russell Boarding House in Scarlett Hill, New York; Ginny Russell, he rebellious teenage daughter; and Janice Turner, a young girl residing at the inn.

Cast: Beth Lockerbie (Kate Russell), Lucy Warner (Ginny Russell), Suzanne Bryant (Janice Turner), Gordon Pinsent (David Black), Ivor Barry (Walter Pendleton), Ed McNamara (Harry Russell), Cosette Lee (Pearl), Marty Stetrop (Tom Harvey), Alan Pearce (Sidney), Norman Ettinger (Sandy), Tony Kramriether (Dr. Spangle).

7180 Scary Tales. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 10/86). A proposed series of horror stories to be enacted by a different cast each week. In the pilot episode, titled "Night Elevator," a beautiful girl (Molly) schemes to get rich by convincing her boyfriend (Howard) to steal valuable computer data.

Host: Mario Ruccuzo. Cast: Justine Bateman (Molly), Marc McClure (Howard), Michael Tulin (Sean).

7181 Scene of the Crime. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 9/30/84). All the clues and suspects to a crime reenactment are presented. Viewers are then challenged to solve the crime before the police arrive. Here, viewers are asked to solve the murder of a bride on her wedding night. A second, self-solving mystery is then presented: "The Babysitter." A young girl named Tricia receives a special birthday gift that allows her to turn the tables on Karen, her tormenting babysitter. See also the following four titles.

Host: Orson Welles. Cast (Pilot Story): Kim Hunter (Helen Hollander), Markie Post (Courtney Hollander), Greg Evigan (Craig Stone), Steve Kanaly (Mason Hollander). Cast ("The Babysitter"): Priscilla Weems (Tricia), Isabelle Walker (Karen), Anne Lockhart (Mrs. Cooper).

7182 Scene of the Crime II. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 4/14/85). The second of five unsold pilots for a series of mystery presentations: the first is a mystery that challenges viewers to solve a crime before the police; and the second a traditional mystery story. The first story, "An Education in Murder," is the whodunit and challenges viewers to guess the killer of Judy Simms, a conniving coed whose deceitful ways provided the motive for several suspects. The second story, "Memory Game," revolves around a memory expert (Lee) who stumbles upon a unique way to dispose of his beautiful but nagging wife, Carol.

Host: Orson Welles. Cast (An Education in Murder): Barbara Rush (Bettina Reynolds), Jonna Lee (Judy Simms), Peter Barton (Chris Reynolds), Arthur Rosenberg (Alexander Garvey), Ike Eisenmann (Martin Singer), Ann Doran (Mrs. O'Hara). Cast (Memory Game): Joseph Regalbutto (Lee Perkins), Barbara Rhoades (Carol Perkins), Randolph Mantooth (Tex), Guy Stockwell (Cowboy), James Jeter (Nick).

7183 Scene of the Crime III. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 4/21/85). The third of five pilot films that challenges viewers to guess whodunit. "Murder on the Rocks," the whodunit mystery, asks viewers to guess the killer of a famous model (Liza): a jealous rival, an angry husband or two competing agents. The second, self-contained story, "A Very Practical Joke," tells of a wife (Cloris) fed up with her husband's endless practical jokes, who decides to turn the tables on him.

Host: Orson Welles. Cast (Murder on the Rocks): Nicollette Sheridan (Liza Shepherd), Nancy Malone (Clair Fitzgerald), John Davidson (Dean Wagner), Kevin Brophy (Bert Hicks), Jeanna Michaels (Dana Alexander). Cast (A Very Practical Joke): Kay Lenz (Cloris Morton), Jeff Altman (Jack Morton), John Lansing (Chuck), Cyndi James-Reese (Barbara Turner), Julius J. Carry III (Roland Turner).

7184 Scene of the Crime IV. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 4/28/85). The fourth of five pilots for two thirty-minute mysteries: one whodunit and a traditional story with a surprise ending. "Murder on the Half Shell," the whodunit, challenges viewers to solve the murder of a woman (Linda) following the sale of her exercise empire. The second story, "Dead Wrong," tells of a mysterious billionaire (Elliott) who fears someone from his past will recognize him and ruin his treasured life of seclusion.

Host: Orson Welles. Cast (Murder on the Half Shell): Michelle Phillips (Linda Reeves), Dennis Dugan (Clarence Timmerman), Barbara Cason (Virginia Medford), Kim Miyori (Dr. Evelyn Shanks), Loyita Chapel (Bunny DuVall). Cast (Dead Wrong): Lance Henrikson (Elliott Cradle), Clive Revill (Captain Geoffrey), Amy Steele (Julie Barnes), Steven Williams (Henry), Jodie Mann (Anne), Sal Viscuso (Buck).

7185 Scene of the Crime V. (Pilot; Mystery; NBC; 5/26/85). The fifth and final pilot for a never realized series of two thirty-minute mysteries: a whodunit and a traditional suspense story. "A Vote for Murder," the whodunit, challenges viewers to solve the murder of a powerful senator (Martin Hastings). "The Medium Is the Murder," the second story, tells of a man (Philip Bingham) who fears for his sanity after he sees a news report of his own murder.

Host: Orson Welles. Cast (A Vote for Murder): Edward Winter (Senator Martin Hastings), Bibi Besch (Joanna Hastings), Alan Thicke (Craig). Cast (The Medium Is the Murder): Ben Piazza (Philip Bingham), Kathy Shower (Terri Bingham), Carol Rossen (Laura Bingham), Meredith MacRae (Television host), Barbara Stock (Sharon Brice).

7187 Scenes from a Marriage. (Series; Drama; PBS; 1977). A penetrating study of the incidents that break up and lead to a couple (Marianne and Johan) divorcing after ten years of marriage. A six-episode series produced in Sweden.

Liv Ullman, who stars in the series, appears as the host for the American airing.

Cast: Liv Ullman (Marianne), Eriand Josephson (Johan).

7188 Schaefer Century Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1952). A short-lived (14 episode) series of dramatic productions sponsored by Schaefer Beer.

Performers Include: Bonita Granville, Natalie Wood, Randy Stuart, Lynn Roberts, Garry Moore, Robert Paige, Billy Gray, Lynn Bari, Robert Hutton, John Sutton, Onslow Stevens, Whitfield Connor, John Qualen, Alan Mowbray.

7189 Scheherazade. (Experimental; Ballet; DuMont; 4/8/45). An hour-long presentation of the Rimsky-Korsakov ballet as interpreted by LaMeri and performed by her dance company (the 14 Nalya Dancers). The ballet was performed to recordings of the score by the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra. Ray Nelson produced the program.

7190 Schlitz Playhouse of Stars. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1951–1959). Live and filmed productions as well as adaptations from various sources. The series, sponsored by Schlitz Beer, ran for 60 minutes from October 5, 1951 to May 16, 1952; and thirty minutes from May 23, 1952 to June 19, 1959. Actress Irene Dunne was the host for the first season.

Hostess: Irene Dunne. Performers Include: Jill St. John, Carolyn Jones, Patricia Crowley, Rod Steiger, Charlton Heston, Patricia Breslin, James Mason, Laraine Day, John Carradine, Vincent Price, Shelley Winters, Myrna Loy, Janis Paige, Tony Curtis, Craig Stevens, Abby Dalton, John Forsythe, William Bendix, Keenan Wynn, Mona Freeman, Linda Darnell, Bob Cummings, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Marcia Henderson, Walter Brennan, Ruta Lee, Peter Lawford, Glynis Johns, Mickey Rooney, Jackie Cooper, Barbara Hale, Diane Jergens, Dan O'Herlihy, Barbara Billingsley, Gloria Saunders, Hans Conried, Forrest Tucker, James Dunn, Marjorie Lord, Rita Moreno, Ann Sothorn, Angela Lansbury.

7191 School House. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1949). A schoolhouse with a "teacher" as the host is the setting for a program of vaudeville like music, songs and comedy sketches performed by undiscovered talent. Based on the "School Days" vaudeville routine developed by Gus Edwards.

Teacher: Kenny Delmar. Regulars: Arnold Stang, Maureen Cannon, Betty Ann Morgan, Wally Cox, Mary Ann Reeves, Tommy Dix.

7192 School House Rock. (Series; Children; ABC; 1973). A long running educational series of short films (three to six minutes) that air as part of ABC's Saturday morning cartoon schedule (usually after one program ends and before the next one begins). Songs are used to enlighten children in many areas based on the particular film that is run (for example, "Multiplication Rock," "Grammar Rock," "Science Rock" and "America Rock," which dealt with American history and the laws of government). The series ran from January 1, 1973 to May 1, 1996.

Voices: Darrel Stern, Lyn Aherns, Jack Sheldon, Zachary Sanders, Essra Mohawk, Sue Manchester, Lori Lieberman, Christine Langer, Bob Dorough, Blossom Dearie, Mary Sue Berry, Joshie Armstead, Bob Kaliban, Lauren Yohe, Grady Tate, Maeretha Stewart.

7193 Science Court. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1997–1998). A children's version of the various judge shows that is an attempt to explain the basics of scientific principals. Stories unfold as the mischievous Mary Murry does what she does best — getting into trouble and being sent to Science Court. Here, Judge Stone presides while Alison Krempel, the defense attorney, and Doug Savage, the prosecuting attorney, argues Mary's case (through which science lessons are learned). Mary always comes out on top.

Voice Cast: Paula Poundstone (Judge Stone), Jennifer Schulman (Mary Murry), Paula Plum (Alison Krempel), Bill Braudis (Doug Savage), H. Jon Bensamm (Professor Parson), Fred Stoller (Stenographer Fred).

7194 Science Fiction Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1955–1957). Dramatizations that present an insight into the problems man will face as he ventures forth to unravel the mysteries of science and nature. Notable stories include:

Time Is Just a Place. Futuristic time travelers Ted and Ann Heller illegally escape from their time and attempt to establish a life in a 1950s American town.

Stars: Warren Stevens (Ted Heller), Peggy O'Connor (Ann Heller), Don DeFore (Al Brown), Marie Windsor (Nell Brown).

Barrier of Silence. The effect of absolute science on the human mind. Stars: Phyllis Coates (as Karen), Warren Stevens (Richard), Charles Maxwell (Robert Thornton), Adolphe Menjou (Elliott Harcourt).

Gravity Zero. The efforts of two scientists to discover a method for neutralizing gravity. Stars: Lisa Gaye (Scientist), Percy Helton (Scientist).

The Legend of Carter Mountain. The story of a schoolteacher who is confronted by three students who possess the power to move objects by thought. Marilyn Erskine stars as the teacher.

The Dark Side. An astronomer's efforts to construct a telescopic camera that is capable of photographing the dark side of the moon. Skip Homeier stars as the astronomer.

Host: Truman Bradley.

Voice Cast: Don Messick (Scooby-Doo), Casey Kasem (Shaggy), Patricia Stevens (Velma), Marla Frumkin (Velma; later), Frank Welker (Freddy), Heather North (Daphne), Lennie Weinrib (Scrappy-Doo).

7201 Scorch. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1992). One night while flying through a thunderstorm over New Haven, Connecticut, a fire-breathing dragon who calls himself Scorch, is struck by lightning. He loses his balance and crash lands in the backyard of a home owned by aspiring actor Brian Stevens. Jessica, Brian's young daughter finds Scorch (four feet high, 1300 years old) and convinces her father to let her keep him (Scorch, like Jessica, is lonely and longs for a family). The following day, when Jessica leaves for school and Brian has to keep an appointment with Jack Fletcher, the station manager of WWEN-TV, for a possible job as the weatherman for The News at Noon, he puts Scorch in a tote bag and takes him along.

Brian fails the audition — until Scorch begins to make noises and Jack assumes Brian is a ventriloquist and Scorch is his dummy. Brian gets the job, Scorch agrees to help and the three episode program follows Scorch as he tries to become a part of Jessica and Brian's lives.

Other Regulars: Allison and Howard, the co-anchors of The News at Noon; and Mrs. Bracken, Brian's landlady. The series ran from February 29, 1992 to March 13, 1992.

Cast: Jonathan Walker (Brian Stevens), Rhea Silver-Smith (Jessica Stevens), Todd Susman (Jack Fletcher), Brenda Strong (Allison King), John O'Hurley (Howard Gurman), Rose Marie (Mrs. Bracken), Ronn Lucas (Scorch's voice).

7202 Scotland Yard. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1955–1958). Dramatizations based on the files of the Criminal Investigation Division of New Scotland Yard in London, England. The series ran in syndication from 1955–1957 and on ABC from November 17, 1957 to April 6, 1958.

Cast: Edgar Lustgarten (Host-Narrator), Russell Napier (Inspector Duggan), Ken Henry (Inspector Ross), Arthur Mason (Sergeant Mason).

7203 Scott Baio Is 45 — and Single. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2007). Actor Scott Baio is perhaps best known as Chachi on Happy Days and for his romance with Joanie Cunningham (Erin Moran) on that show (also on its spin-off Joanie Loves Chachi). Scott previously had roles on Blansky's Beauties and Who's Watching the Kids? and starred in the successful Charles in Charge series. Scott is now 45 years old and single. He has dated, in addition to Erin, such top female stars as Pamela Anderson, Nicole Sheridan and Heather Locklear, as well as non show business women. He is currently dating a girl named Rene. Scott, however, feels he needs to make some changes. He hires a life coach (Dr. Ally) to help him do what he can't — make a commitment. For the duration of the eight-week series Scott cannot see Rene and his task is to visit some of the women he let go (excluding stars) and apologize and try to find out what went wrong — all to help him overcome his fear of commitment.

7204 Scott Island. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1957). The alternate title for Harbormaster. See this title for information.

7205 The Scott Music Hall. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1952). A program of music, songs and comedy sponsored by Scott Paper Products. Although singer Patti Page is the series host, a commitment prevented her from appearing on the first and second shows. Singer Eddie Fisher filled in for her on the first show (July 15, 1952) and Singer-Musicians Les Paul and Mary Ford filled in for her on the second show (July 22, 1952). The series ran from July 15, 1952 to September 25, 1952. Buzz Kulik is the producer.

7206 Scout's Safari. (Series; Adventure; Discovery Kids; 2002–2004). Jennifer Lauer is a pretty 13-year-old girl who is enjoying life in New York City when her mother, Cheryl and her stepfather, Roger, uproot her and her younger brother, Tyler, to move to South Africa to operate a safari lodge. Stories follow Jennifer, nicknamed "Scout," as she slowly adjusts to her new environment and learns about the wonders (and challenges) of nature first hand.

Nandi Ngwenya is a 14-year-old African girl who becomes Scout's friend — and who loves American culture; Bongani Khumalo is an African who also befriends Scout. He has a Zulu chief heritage and is the first one from his village to encounter Western Culture. Charlton Boone, called "C.B.," is the veterinarian (and Scout's mentor); Sherna Puckett is Scout's best friend in New York. She is seen via a computer cam and she and Scout share information about each other's lives.

Cast: Anastasia Baranova (Jennifer "Scout" Lauer), Chantall Stander (Cheryl Lauer-Schickler), Ashley Dowds (Roger Schickler), Jarred Uys (Tyler Schickler), Dana de Agrella (Sherna Puckett), Freedom Hadebe (Bongani Khumalo), Hlomla Dandala (Charlton "C.B." Boone), Ma Afrika Kedana (Nandi Ngwenya).

7207 Scrabble. (Series; Game; NBC; 1984). Two non-celebrity contestants compete. A large Scrabble board with one word is revealed. A clue, based on one letter of that word, is read. One player selects two numbered tiles and places them in an electronic slot. If the letters are contained in the unknown word, they appear in their appropriate positions on the board. The player continues to select tiles until he guesses the word (at which time a new round begins) or the letter he chooses is not contained in the word. When an incorrect letter is suggested, the opponent receives a chance to play. The first player to guess three words is the winner and receives $500.

Host: Chuck Woolery. Announcer: Jay Stewart.

7208 Scrapbook Jr. Edition. (Series; Children; CBS; 1948). Children with a special interest or hobby are the contestants. The simplistic format has the host asking each child questions based on their interest or hobby. The questions are designed to test a child's knowledge and share his fascination with members of the viewing audience. The series ran from June 27, 1948 to November 14, 1948.

Host: Jim Boyd O'Connor. Assistant: Scotty MacGregor.

7209 Screen Director's Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; NBC; ABC; 1955–1956). Original half-hour programs featuring well-known screen directors, writers and Hollywood stars. The program, created by the Directors Guild, deliberately has no producer credits as the directors were in complete charge. The program also featured five pilot films. For information, see the following titles: Arroyo, It's Always Sunday, The Life of Vernon Hathaway, Meet the Governor and Tom and Jerry. The series ran on NBC from October 5, 1955 to June 27, 1956 and on ABC from July 4, 1956 to September 26, 1956.

An announcer opens the show: "The Eastman Kodak Company presents Screen Directors Playhouse, bringing you each week an original screenplay, chosen and directed by one of the country's foremost motion picture directors. Tonight our director is George Marshall, creator of such films as Destry Rides Again and Money from Home. For this evening, Mr. Marshall has directed a new and original comedy for television entitled "The Silent Partner." The stars are Buster Keaton, Zasu Pitts and Joe E. Brown."

Performers Include: Rory Calhoun, Barbara Hale, Rita Lynn, Herb Shriner, Kim Hunter, Keenan Wynn, Lola Albright, Jack Carson, Lynn Bari, Neville Brand, Sally Forrest, Leon Ames, Dan O'Herlihy, Walter Brennan, Edgar Buchanan, John Wayne, Vera Miles, Robert Ryan, Buster Keaton, Joe E. Brown, Bob Hope, Teresa Wright, Peter Lorre, Jeanette MacDonald, Fred MacMurray, Errol Flynn, Hillary Brooke, Pamela Duncan, Linda Darnell, Joan Caulfield.

7210 Scrubs. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 2001–). John Dorian, called J.D., is an intern at Sacred Heart Hospital. He is quite naïve but a bright and upcoming doctor who doesn't realize his own potential, a situation that causes him to encounter numerous mishaps as he learns the ins and outs of medicine in the unreal world of Sacred Heart Hospital (staffed by doctors and nurses who would be a patient's worst nightmare).

Other Regulars: Chris Turk, J.D.'s college friend, a surgeon; Elliot Reid, a beautiful but socially awkward doctor; Bob Kelso, the caustic Chief of Medicine; Perry Cox, the abrasive but caring doctor; Carla Espinosa, the no-nonsense nurse; and the hospital janitor.

7211 Scruples. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1980). Billy Ikehorn is the beautiful and glamorous owner of an exclusive Beverly Hills fashion boutique called Scruples. The series, based on the book by Judith Krantz, is actually a series of flashbacks that trace Billy's life, first as Wilhelmina Winthrop, a tall, slightly overweight teenager who is sent to Paris by a rich aunt to help her lose weight and learn the fashion business; then, in New York, slender and glamorous, as a secretary to Ellis Ikehorn, a wealthy but elderly businessman whom she later marries. Following his death, Billy inherits his fortune and uses it, in part, to build Scruples, the fashion boutique around which the remainder of the story unfolds.

Other Regulars: Michael "Spider" Elliott, the fashion photographer; Valentine O'Neil, the fashion designer; Maggie MacGregor, the TV gossip reporter; Josh Hillman, Billy's lawyer; Curt Avery, the film tycoon; Sue Avery, Curt's wife; Harriet Toppingham, the "queen bee" of the fashion world; Melanie Adams, the actress; Vito Orsini, the film director; Jake Cassidy, the nurse; Joanne Hillman, Josh's wife; Alan Wilton, the owner of Wilton Associates Fashions; Mary Ann Evans, Billy's assistant; Lilianne, the woman who cared for Billy in Paris; Wilhelmina Winthrop, Billy's aunt; Dolly Moon, the actress; Sid Ames, the script writer.

sidy), Lelia Goldoni (Joanne Hillman), Michael Callan (Alan Wilton), Louise Latham (Mary Ann Evans), Genevieve (Lilianne DeVerdulae), Anna Lee (Wilhelmina Winthrop), Murphy Cross (Dolly Moon), Milton Selzer (Sid Ames).

7212 Scruples. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/22/81). A proposed series based on the prior title that was to continue the story of Wilhelmina “Billy” Ikehorn, the chairman of the board of Ikehorn Industries, and the owner of Scruples, a chic fashion boutique on Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills, California.

While the pilot episode interweaves several stories of power and passion, the main theme follows Billy’s battle to keep Scruples despite her company president’s plan to sell it for $12 million as a ploy to increase Ikehorn’s financial assets and take over Billy’s empire.

Other Regulars: Vito, Billy’s husband, a film producer; Spider, the photographer who runs Scruples for Billy; Valentine, the fashion designer for Scruples; Bennett, the president of Ikehorn; Maggie, the gossip columnist; Melanie, the actress; Eliza, Billy’s cousin; Nora, the struggling actress; Josh, Billy’s lawyer; Gregory, Eliza’s husband.

Cast: Shelley Smith (Billy Ikehorn Orsini), James Darren (Vito Orsini), Dirk Benedict (Spider Elliott), Olga Karlatos (Valentine O’Neal), Roy Thinnes (Bennett Hall), Jessica Walter (Maggie McGregor), Priscilla Barnes (Melanie Adams), Laraine Stephens (Eliza Dunn), Elizabeth Edwards (Nora Gregson), Sandy McPeak (Josh Hillman), Jim McMullan (Gregory Dunn).

7213 Sea Hawk. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1959). The shortened title for The Adventures of the Sea Hawk. See this title for information.

7214 Sea Hunt. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957–1961; 1986–1987). “Three-fifths of the world is covered by the sea, and most of us know little about it,” says Michael (“Mike”) Nelson, a navy frogman during World War II who now works as a freelance underwater troubleshooter (he accepts assignments from civilians, law enforcement agencies and the government).

Mike is an expert at underwater demolition and also teaches sea diving. He has a Porta Sub (a hand-held scooter) for swift underwater movement, and a boat called the Argonaut. Ricou Browning stunt doubles for star Lloyd Bridges; Zales Perry stunt doubles for female guest stars. Ray Llewellyn composed “The Sea Hunt Theme.”

In 1986 a revised version of the series, also titled Sea Hunt appeared in syndication (running until 1987). Here Ron Ely portrayed Mike Nelson, the intrepid underwater troubleshooter. He received assistance from his daughter, Jennifer Nelson, a beautiful marine biologist. Mike, an ex-Navy frogman, has a boat called the Sea Hunt. Melissa Sue Anderson was originally cast in the role of Jennifer. Braun Farnon and Fred Zurba composed “The New Sea Hunt Theme.”

Cast: Lloyd Bridges (Mike Nelson, 1957–1961), Ron Ely (Mike Nelson, 1986–1987), Kimber Sissons (Jennifer Nelson, 1986–1987).

7215 Sea Quest DSV. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1993–1996). The series is first set in the year 2018 (it was advanced 25 years in its final season to 2032 and the title changed to Sea Quest, 2032). In this futuristic time the oceans of the world are being colonized. Their resources are being exploited and undersea farming, mining and manufacturing communities have been established. To provide protection for this new world, the U.E.O. (United Earth Oceans) Organization appoints Nathan Bridger to command Sea Quest DSV, a one thousand foot long submarine called a Deep Submergence Vehicle to patrol and protect the new undersea world.

Sea Quest was funded by the U.E.O. as a means to protect its undersea interests and stories follow the experiences of its crew as they encounter outside forces (aliens) seeking not only to control the ocean, but the Earth itself.

The Sea Quest has a crew of 312 people: 88 military, 224 scientists. It uses plasma torpedoes for protection and can travel up to 20 miles per hour. Once peace is established, Sea Quest is set to become a research vessel.

Other members of Nathan’s team are Lieutenant Catherine Hitchcock, the chief engineer; Dr. Kristen Westphalen, the chief medical officer; Lucas Wolenszak, a teenager who is an expert with dolphins. He has devised a system that can make dolphins talk. His “assistant” is Darwin, a dolphin he found trapped in a fisherman’s net and rescued. Lucas experimented with a talking chip he implanted in Darwin and now Darwin is a vital part of the crew (Darwin travels from the sub to the sea through specially constructed tubes called “Bridger’s Folly.” During the construction of Sea Quest, Nathan thought it would be possible for a trained sea lion to become part of the crew and the tubes were built as a future necessity). Nathan was the original designer of Sea Quest although many changes were made from his original plans.

Dagwood is a being of various colors who works as the ship’s janitor (he is from a race of genetically engineered beings called Daggers); Miguel Ortiz is the sensor chief; Benjamin Creed is the supply and morale officer; William Noyce is an admiral; Tony Piccolo is a crewmember (a misfit physically altered by a scientific experiment).

In 1995 (September 20th) the Sea Quest and its crew mysteriously reappear on Earth in the year 2032 — ten years after it was whisked away by aliens

(the prior season cliff hanger). A new captain, Oliver Hudson, has assumed command (Nathan has retired) and stories follow, for the most part, the crew as they seek a tyrannical dictator (Andrew Bourn) of Macadesia (an under sea city) whose renegade confederation seeks to control the world's oceans.

Nathan Bridger opens the show: "The twenty-first century. Mankind has colonized the last unexplored region on Earth — the ocean. As captain of the Sea Quest and its crew, we are its guardians. For beneath the sea lies the future."

Cast: Roy Scheider (Capt. Nathan Bridger), Stacy Haiduk (Lt. Cmdr. Catherine Hitchcock), Stephanie Beacham (Dr. Kristen Westphalen), Jonathan Brandis (Lucas Wolenszak), Don Franklin (Cmdr. Jonathan Ford), Richard Herd (Adm. William Noyce), Mario Sanchez (Sensor Chief Miguel Ortiz), Michael Ironside (Capt. Oliver Hudson), Rosalind Allen (Dr. Wendy Smith), Peter DeLuise (Dagwood), Michael York (Alexander Bourn), Michael DeLuise (Tony Piccolo), Frank Welker (Darwin's Voice), Royce D. Applegate (Chief Manilow Crocker), John D'Aquino (Lt. Benjamin Kreig), Kathy Evison (Helmsman Lonnie Henderson), Edward Kerr (Lt. James Brady), Elise O'Neill (Lt. J.J. Fredricks), Ted Raimi (Lt. Tim O'Neill).

7216 The Seal. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 11/27/81). The Seal is a man of mystery. He is a former mercenary turned free agent who tackles dangerous, high risk cases. No one knows his true identity (not even the viewer); he drives a car with the license plate Slippery 1 (registered in California); and the unsold series was to relate his exploits as he apparently helps the U.S. government (based on the pilot wherein the Seal is hired to free Stephanie Thayer, a CIA cryptographer who was abducted by a spy ring to decode satellite data).

Cast: Ron Ely (The Seal). Guest Cast: Jenny Sullivan (Stephanie Thayer), Lee deBroux (Bill Thayer), Kyle Richards (Lily Thayer), Karen Machon (Paula), Denny Miller (Hutchins), Gerald McRaney (Jennings), Sandy McPeak (Fletcher).

7217 Sealab 2020. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1972–1973). The year is A.D. 2020 and 250 pioneering men, women and children have been assigned to maintain Sealab 2020, a complex scientific experimental city that has been constructed beneath the ocean floor. Stories relate their experiences. Mike Murphy is the man in charge; Dr. Paul Williams is his assistant; Sallie and Bobby Murphy are his niece and nephew; Sparks is the radio dispatcher; and Gail, Hal, Ed and Jamie are members of Mike's team.

Pinkard (Ed), Bill Calloway (Sparks), Gary Shapiro (Jamie).

7218 The Search. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 7/29/68). London, England, is the setting for an unsold series about Paul Cannon, an American private detective who helps distressed U.S. travelers. In the pilot episode, Cannon investigates a drowning that may have been murder. Other Regulars: Martin Purcell, Paul's employer; and Inspector Sheppard of the New Scotland Yard.

Cast: Mark Miller (Paul Cannon), Michael Rennie (Martin Purcell), Barry Foster (Inspector Sheppard). Guest Cast: Julie Sommars (Molly), Irene Handl (Miss Dancy), Ryan O'Neal (Ingersoll).

7219 Search. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1972–1973). Hugh Lockwood, code name Probe One; Nicholas ("Nick") Bianco, code name Omega Probe; and Christopher R. Grover, code name Stand-by Probe, are three highly skilled investigators working for Probe, a super computerized detective agency that operates out of World Securities Corporation in Washington, D.C.

B.C. Cameron is the director of Probe Control, Unit 1. His Probe Control agents are: Gloria Harding, Kuroda, Miss Keach, Amy, Griffin and Harris. They are based in a secret room and monitor the on-assignment agents via elaborate, expensive and sophisticated equipment.

Lockwood, Grover and Bianco all have a super miniaturized transmitter-receiver surgically implanted in their ears (called an Ear Check); a sensing device is implanted in their bodies, and a body detector is implanted under their skin. It is through these multimillion dollar devices that Cameron can monitor his agents. Each agent also has an ultra miniaturized and ultra sensitive scanner (an amazing television camera that is about the size of a dime and can transmit a signal from any part of the world).

The Probe division specializes in the recovery of things that are missing (diamonds, people or money — "If you lose it, we find it"). Cameron calls it "Computerized Program Retrieval Operations." A Priority 3 Pass is needed to enter the computer rooms of Probe. Field agents call B.C. "Cam." Theme: "Search," by Dominic Frontiere.

Cast: Hugh O'Brian (Hugh Lockwood), Tony Franciosa (Nick Bianco), Doug McClure (Christopher R. Grover), Burgess Meredith (B.C. Cameron), Ford Rainey (Dr. Barnett; senior director), Angel Tompkins (Gloria Harding), Byron Chung (Kuroda), Ginny Golden (Miss Keach), Tom Hallick (Harris), Ann Prentiss (Probe control agent), Ron Costo (Probe control agent), Albert Popwell (Griffin), Cheryl Ladd (Amy).

7220 Search and Rescue: The Alpha Team. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1977–1978). Bob Donnell, a widower, and his two children, Kate and Jim are the owners of the Alpha Ranch in Canada. It is from here that they train wild animals for difficult rescue assignments. Stories relate the family's efforts, assisted by various animals, as they rescue people trapped in precarious situations.

Cast: Michael J. Reynolds (Bob Donell), Donann Calvin (Kate Donell), Michael Tough (Jim Donell), Helen Shaver (Dr. Liz Warren).

7221 Search for Beauty. (Series; Women; NBC; 1955). Beauty care, health tips and other topics of interest to women. The series aired from September 26, 1955 to December 9, 1955.

Hosts: Ern Westmore, Betty Westmore. Assistant: Phil Hanna. Announcer: Dick Hageman.

7222 Search for the Nile. (Series; Documentary; NBC; 1972). Through documentary filming, old journals and letters, the 1857 explorations of Sir Richard Francis Burton and John Hanning Speke, members of the Royal Geographical Society, are recounted as they attempt to uncover the source of the Nile River—the mysterious life source of Africa. The series aired from January 25, 1972 to February 29, 1972.

Cast: James Mason (Narrator), Kenneth Haigh (Sir Richard Burton), John Quentin (John Speke), Michael Gough (David Livingston), Keith Buckley (Henry Stanley), Barbara Leigh-Hunt (Isabel), Ian McCulloch (James Grant), Oliver Litondo (Mutesa), Catherine Schell (Florence).

7223 Search for Tomorrow. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1951–82; NBC 1982–86). Dramatic incidents in the lives of the residents of Henderson, U.S.A., a fictional Midwestern city.

Cast: Mary Stuart (Joanne Barron Tourneur), Cliff Hall (Victor Barron), John Sylvester (Keith Barron), Lynn Loring (Patty Barron), Abigail Kellogg (Patty Baron), Patricia Hart (Patty Barron), Trish Van Devere (Patty Baron), Gretchen Walther (Patty Baron), Melissa Murphy (Patty Barron), Melinda Plank (Patty Baron), Leigh Lassen (Patty Barron), Tina Sloan (Patty Barron), Bess Johnson (Irene Barron), Melba Raye (Marge Bergman), John LaGioia (Henri Carter), Jill Clayburgh (Grace Boulton), Terry O'Sullivan (Arthur Tate), Sharon Smyth (Susan Carter), Vera Allen (Ida Weston), Virginia Gilmore (Andrea Whiting), Joan Copeland (Andrea Whiting), John Cunningham (Dr. Wade Collins), Larry Haines (Stu Bergman), Ken Harvey (Doug Martin), Martin E. Brooks (Dr. Dan Walton), Philip Abbott (Dr. Dan Walton), Ron Hushman (Dr. Dan Walton), Carl Low (Dr. Bob Rogers), Dino Narizzano (Dr. Len Whiting), Jeff Pomerantz (Dr. Len Whiting), Ross Martin (Police Chief), Tommy Nordon (Gary Walton), John Driver (Gary Walton), Peter Simon (Scott Phillips), Michael Shannon (Jim McCarren), Courtney Sherman (Kathy Parker), David Ford (Carl Devlin), Jeanne Carson (Marcy), Marion Brash (Eunice Gardner), Ann Williams (Eunice Gardner), Kelly Wood (Lauri Phillips), Chris Lowe (Eric Lawson), Kathryn Walker (Emily Hunter), Ken Kercheval (Nick Hunter), Sandy Duncan (Helen), Don Knotts (Wilbur), Charles Siebert (Dr. Murphy), Keith Charles (Ross Cavanaugh), Peter Haskell (Lloyd Kendall), Bobby Benson (Bruce Carson), Gary Tomlin (Bruce Carson), Robert Mandan (Sam Reynolds), George Gaynes (Sam Reynolds), Ray Shuman (Sam Reynolds), Tom Ewell (Bill Lang), Anthony George (Dr. Tony Vincente), Daniel Leddy (Chris), Conrad Bain (Dr. Facioli), Lee Grant (Rose Peabody), Constance Ford (Rose Peabody), Nita Talbot (Rose Peabody), Roy Scheider (Dr. Wheeler), Joe Morton (Dr. Joe Foster), Val Dufour (John Wyatt), Marie Cheatham (Stephanie Wyatt), Byron Sanders (Dr. Walter Osmond), Sharon Spelman (Miss Markham), James O'Sullivan (Ralph Hayward), Chase Crosley (Harriet Kane), Barbara Baxley (Monica Bergman), Hal Linden (Larry Carter), Mary Patton (Hazel), Lawrence Hugo (Rex Twining), Nicholette Goulet (Cathy Phillips), Eric Dressler (Frank Gardiner), Harry Holcombe (Frank Gardiner), Frieda Allman (Mrs. Millie), Margaret Draper (Social worker), Anne Revere (Agnes Lake), David O'Brien (Fred Metcalf), Ellen Spencer (Janet Bergman), Sandy Robinson (Janet Bergman), Fran Sharon (Janet Bergman), Marian Hailey (Janet Bergman), Millie Taggart (Janet Bergman), George O. Petrie (Nathan Walsh), Billie Lou Watt (Ellie Bergman), Martin E. (Mignon Sentell), Jerry Lanning (Nick D'Antoni), Christopher Loomis (Buck Peterson), Marcia McCabe (Sunny McClure), Marilyn McIntyre (Carolyn Haney), Stacey Moran (Suzie Watt), Verna Pierce (Sharon Peterson), Biff McGuire (Don McKay), Patsy Pease (Cissy Mitchell), Sonia Petrovna (Renata Sutton), Douglas Stevenson (Lee Sentell), Kevin Kline (Wood Reed), Conrad Fowkes (Dr. Allen Ramsey), Wayne Tippit (Ted Adamson), Susan Scannell (Kristen Carter), Michael Corbett (Warren Carter), Linda Gibboney (Jenny Deacon), Gene Pietragallo (Brian Emerson), Craig Augustine (Keith McNeil), Marcus Smythe (Dane Taylor), Cynthia Gibb (Suzi Wyatt), Barry Sattles (Peter), Patricia Estrin (Dr. Jamie Adamson), Don Chastain (Dr. Max Taper), David Gautreaux (Garth Taper), Timothy Patrick Murphy (Brian Emerson), Nancy Lepp (Tina), Mitch Litofsky (Thomas Bergman), Susan Monts (Aja Doyan). Announcer: Dwight Weist. Organist: Chet Kingsbury, Ashley Miller.

7224 Seaway. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1965). Nick King is an agent for the Ship Owners Association, a Montreal, Canada based organization that is responsible for security along the St. Lawrence Seaway. Admiral Fox is Nick's superior and stories relate Nick's experiences as he struggles to ensure safety along the seaway.

Cast: Stephen Young (Nick King), Austin Willis (Admiral Fox).

7225 Second Chance. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 3/13/62). The pilot film for Wide Country about Mitch Guthrie, a champion rodeo rider, and his kid brother, Andy. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Premiere, Mitch tries to help a former rider regain his lost reputation.

Cast: Earl Holliman (Mitch Guthrie), Andrew Prine (Andy Guthrie). Guest Cast: Cliff Robertson (Hoby Dunlap), Jacqueline Scott (Orales Dunlap), John Anderson (Hebert Greshon), Roger Mobley (Lonnie Dunlap), Donald Barry (Wes Holbrook).

7226 Second Chance. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 2/8/72). While on a fishing trip in Nevada, Geoff Smith, a stockbroker with the firm of Smith, Temple and Newhouse, impulsively purchases a ghost town called Cumberland. When a doctor's report indicates that he needs to relax, Geoff decides to leave his hectic Los Angeles job and modernize his Wild West town. After several months, he renames the town Second Chance (because it has given him a second chance to do the things he never had a chance to do). In an attempt to populate the town, Geoff opens it as a place where losers can seek a second chance in life. The proposed series was to depict incidents in the lives of the people who come to the town seeking that second chance. Other Regulars: Ellie, Geoff's wife; and Johnny, Geoff's son.

Cast: Brian Keith (Geoff Smith), Elizabeth Ashley (Ellie Smith), Brad Savage (Johnny Smith). Guest Cast: Kenneth Mars (Dr. Julius Roth), William Windom (Stan Petryk), Pat Carroll (Gloria Petryk), Juliet Prowse (Martha Foster), Avery Schreiber (Roberto Gazzari), Rosey Grier (Maxie Hill), Emily Yancy (Stella Hill), Ann Morgan Guilbert (Charlene).

7227 Second Chance. (Series; Game; ABC; 1977). Three players compete. A question is read and each player writes his answer on a card. A board with three possible answers is revealed. Players are permitted to choose a second answer if they wish. The correct answer is revealed and points are scored accordingly: three points for an original correct answer; one point for a second chance correct answer. Three such questions are played and the number of points earned are used by players for spins on a large electronic prize board (which is characterized by a number of small boxes surrounded by lights). When a player pushes a button, the lights stop and pinpoint a prize (which is added to his score). The object is to build up as high a cash score as possible without pinpointing a devil (which erases all of a player's earnings). The player with the highest cash score is the winner.

Host: Jim Peck. Announcer: Joe Seiter, Jay Stewart, Jack Clark.

7228 Second Chance. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1987-1988). On July 29, 2011, Charles Russell is killed in a car crash and sent to St. Peter's office. When Charles is judged unfit for Heaven or Hell, he is sent back to earth to relive his own past and right his wrongs. Charles arrives at his childhood home in Venice, California on September 26, 1987. There, he meets his own 15-year-old self (Chazz) and his mother, Helen. Charles introduces himself as Charles Time and rents a room his mother has for rent. Stories relate Charles's efforts to keep his younger self on the straight and narrow by righting the wrongs he previously caused before they actually occur. The series was revised as Boys Will Be Boys.

Other Regulars: Eugene and Booch, Chazz's friends; and Wendy, Helen's boss at the fashion boutique where she works.

Cast: Kiel Martin (Charles Time), Matthew Perry (Chazz Russell), Rande Heller (Helen Russell), Joseph Maher (St. Peter), Patricia McCormack (Wendy), Demian Slade (Eugene Blooberman), William Gallo (Booch). Theme Vocal: "Second Chance" by Rik Howard, Bob Wirth.

7229 Second Chances. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1993-1994). Serial-like stories that relate events in the lives of a group of people living in the community of Santa Rita, California. The main characters are Dianne Benedict, a public defender, her husband, Bruce, and Kate, Dianne's younger sister, the owner of Parties Galore, a party catering business. Joanna Russell is Bruce's secretary; Mike Chulack, Dianne's former high school sweetheart, has just returned to Santa Rita after serving a ten-year prison sentence for manslaughter and Melinda Lopez is a Mexican-American coed who is married to Kevin Cook, a law student whose father (George) opposes the mixed marriage.

The series begins on a bad note: the mysterious murder of Bruce (later revealed that Bruce, a construction company owner, had become involved with drug dealers and was killed when he stole from them). As the series progressed, Dianne again became attracted to Mike (who drove a 1976 pink Cadillac with the license plate "2nd Chances"). She also became partners with Pete Dyson, in the family construction company and chose to fight corruption by running for public office against a corrupt judge (Jim Stinson).

7230 Second City Television. (Series; Comedy; Syn., NBC, Cinemax; 1977–1984). The mythical Second City Television Station, Channel 109, in Mellonville, Canada is the setting for a satire of life at a "typical" station by spoofing, via sketches, the programs broadcast throughout the day.

Guy Caballero is the station owner; Edith Prickley is the station manager; Lola Heatherton is the Vegas sexpot; Johnny LaRue is the nasty producer-star; Earl Cammembert, Moe Green and Floyd Robinson are newscasters; Sammy Maudlin is the vain talk show host; Maureen Wallace is the SCTV tour guide; Bobby Bittman is the comic; Count Floyd is the host of Monster Horror Chiller Theater.

It originally aired as Second City Television for 30 minutes (1977–1981). It switched to NBC in a 90 minute format called The SCTV Network 90 Comedy Show (May 15, 1981 to May 30, 1981). From June 19, 1981 to June 24, 1983 it aired as SCTV Network on NBC. It ended its run on Cinemax as the 45 minute series SCTV (November 22, 1983 to January 17, 1984).

A narrator opens the show: "There were six people who loved to watch television, but they didn't like what they saw. So they decided to do something about it. Armed with determination and a strong will to change the course of television, they wrote their own shows — classy shows, but they knew that wasn't enough. They had to sell them. Letting nothing stand in their way, they went straight to the networks, but the networks just weren't just weren't ready for them — not NBC, not CBS, not even ABC. But did that stop them? No. They built their own network — SCTV — and they liked what they saw. But they weren't the only people watching. Yes, SCTV was on the air. This is SCTV, Channel 109 in Mellonville, Cable 6."

Cast: Joe Flaherty (Guy Caballero), Andrea Martin (Edith Prickley), Catherine O'Hara (Lola Heatherton), John Candy (Johnny LaRue), Eugene Levy (Earl Cammembert), Harold Ramis (Moe Green), Joe Flaherty (Sammy Maudlin), Catherine O'Hara (Maureen Wallace), Joe Flaherty (Floyd Robinson), Eugene Levy (Bobby Bittman), Joe Flaherty (Count Floyd), Dave Thomas (Doug McKenzie), Rick Moranis (Bob McKenzie), Tony Rosato (Regular), Robin Duke (Regular).

7231 Second City TV. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 8/27/77). The hour-long pilot for the half-hour series, Second City Television. The program, set at the mythical Second City Television Station, Channel 109 in Mellonville, Canada, satirizes life at a "typical" station by spoofing, via sketches, the programs broadcast throughout the day.

Cast: John Candy, Joe Flaherty, Eugene Levy, Andrea Martin, Catherine O'Hara, Harold Ramis, Dave Thomas.

7232 Second Edition. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/17/84). Columbus Life is a faltering family magazine based in Ohio with a new editor: Cliff Penrose. Cliff's efforts to save the magazine was the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Ruth, the lifestyles writer; Carson, the arts critic; Ric, the sports writer; Fred, the managing editor; and Jaime, the secretary.

Cast: Hal Linden (Cliff Penrose), Sharon Spelman (Ruth Rigby Rosen Reynolds), Emory Bass (Carson Barrett), Lou Richards (Ric Williams), Gordon Jump (Fred Lewicki), Isabel Grandin (Jaime Scott). Guest Cast: Alley Mills (Denise), Jane Hallaren (Dr. Emily Maxwell), G.W. Bailey (Howard), Edie McClurg (Ida Antoine), Don Diamond (Mr. Antoine).

7233 The Second Half. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1993–1994). John Palermo is a sports columnist for the Chicago Daily Post. He is married to Annie and they are the parents of Cathy (14 years old) and Ruth (9 years old). After 16 years of marriage, John and Annie decide to end their relationship. Stories follow John as he attempts to adjust to a new life style as a part-time father and a full-time bachelor.

Other Regulars: Robert Picolo, the editor; David Keller, John's co-worker; Rose, a staff worker at the paper; Rooney, the owner of John's favorite watering hole, Rooney's Bar; Denise, John's sister; Gloria, John's neighbor; Hank Keller, David's father; Norbert, Robert's brother; and Maureen Tucker, a writer for the Post.

In the first episode, John's last name is given as Moreno. The Daily Post sells for 35 cents a copy and although John works for The Post, he reads the Chicago Tribune. David writes "The City Scene" column; Denise is a nurse; Gloria is a college student who earns money by walking dogs. The paper's sports office is in Room 610.

Cast: John Mendoza (John Palmaro), Linda Wallem (Annie Palmaro), Brooke Stanley (Ruth Palmaro), Ellen Blain (Cathy Palmaro), Mindy Cohn (Maureen Tucker), Wayne Knight (Robert Piccolo), Joe Guzaldo (David Keller), Jessica Lundy (Denise Palmaro), Bob Amaral (Norbert), Catherine Paolone (Rose), Kimberly Kates (Gloria), Herb Edelman (Hank Keller), Mario Roccuza (Rooney).

7234 The Second Hundred Years. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1967–1968). While searching for gold in Alaska in 1900, Luke Carpenter, a 34-year-old prospector, is caught in an avalanche and buried alive. In 1967, in Woodland Oaks, California, Edwin Carpenter, a 67-year-old widower and retired businessman, is summoned to the office of the United States Air Force. There, he meets with a Colonel Garroway and learns of a recent avalanche in Alaska and of a find — his father — alive, and although chronologically 100 years old, physically and mentally unchanged since 1900. Luke comes to live with Edwin and Ken, Edwin's 34-year-old son (and Luke's grandson) and stories relate the misadventures of the turn-of-the-century prospector as he attempts to adjust to life in the 1960s. Erica is Ken's girlfriend; Mr. Tolliver is Ken's boss.

Cast: Monte Markham (Luke Carpenter/Ken Carpenter), Arthur O'Connell (Edwin Carpenter), Kay Reynolds (Erica), Frank Maxwell (Colonel Garroway), Don Beddoe (Mr. Tolliver).

7235 Second Look. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 5/14/64). A proposed spin-off from The Kraft Suspense Theater about Jack Fleming, a Hemingway-like writer whose observations of people and life were to be presented as a weekly anthology. Aired as an episode called "The Watchman" (Second Look was the proposed series title).

Cast: Jack Warden (Jack Fleming), Tol Avery (Jack's Publisher). Guest Cast: Victoria Shaw (Helena), Telly Savalas (Ramon Castillo), Frank DeKova (Edward), Edy Williams (Enes), Arthur Batanides (Detective), Peter Mamakos (Chauffeur).

7236 Second Noah. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1996–1997). Noah and Jesse Beckett are a happily married couple with big hearts and a very large family — ten adopted children (Hannah, Roxanna, Jo Jo, Ricky, Bethany, Ben, Shirley, Danny, Ranny and Luis). Noah works as a zookeeper; Jesse is a writer and stories follow their efforts to solve the numerous problems that arise as the family struggles to cope with the everyday pressures of life.

Cast: Daniel Hugh-Kelly (Noah Beckett), Betsy Brantley (Jessie Beckett), James Marsden (Ricky Beckett), Ashley Gorrell (Hannah), Zelda Harris (Bethany), Jeffrey Licon (Luis), Deirdre O'Connell (Shirley), Jeremy Torgerson (Ranny), Jon Torgerson (Danny), Gemini Barnett (Ben), Michael McLafferty (Jo Jo), Erika Page (Roxanna).

7237 Second Start. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 9/2/88). Following her divorce, Joanna Young leaves California and relocates to Boston where she acquires work in her father's ad agency (Leo Young and Associates). The proposed series was to relate Joanna's efforts to begin a new life. In the pilot episode, Joanna attempts to prepare an ad campaign against numerous obstacles. Other Regulars: Nash, her son; Leo, her father; Megan, her friend; Grace, the agency receptionist; Jack, Joanna's co-worker; Sondra, Leo's wife.

Cast: Joanna Cassidy (Joanna Young), Kevin McCarthy (Leo Young), Kris Kamm (Nash Young), Cecilia Hart (Sondra Young), Molly Hagan (Megan Avery), Marge Redmond (Grace), Booth Savage (Jack Devane). Guest Cast: Ray Girardin (Carl), Natalie Core (Dee Dee Gunderson), Beatrice Colen (Mims). Theme Vocal: "Second Start" by Jackie DeShannon.

7238 The Second Time Around. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/24/79). Joanne and David Norman are a husband-and-wife team of marriage counselors who, after two years of separation, decide to live together again and give their marriage a second chance. The unsold series was to focus on the problems that enter their lives and threaten to destroy their new relationship. Other Regulars: Mark, their son; Robin, their secretary; and Bert, their friend.

Cast: Mariette Hartley (Dr. Joanne Norman), Edward Winter (Dr. David Norman), Brad Savage (Mark Norman), Simone Griffeth (Robin), Jim Stahl (Bert). Theme Vocal: "The Second Time Around" by Stephen Lawrence.

7239 The Second Time Around. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/26/85). Neil (a lawyer) and Vicki (an ad agency executive) are a trendy couple living in yuppie bliss in San Francisco. They have adopted a policy of strict equality between them and the unsold series was to relate their efforts to make their second marriage to each other work (their first failed, but they still loved each other and have decided that a second time may be lucky). In the pilot episode, Neil and Vicki's marriage is threatened when Neil's mother comes over to treat his cold and attempts to instill her old fashioned ideas about marriage and a woman's place in the home to them.

Cast: Richard Kline (Neil Atkin), Lynne Griffin (Vicki Atkin), Dawn Greenhall (Mother Atkin).
Guest Cast: Mary Long (Marcy), Geoffrey Bowes (Alan).

7240 Second Time Around. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 2004). Ryan Muse is the manager of Fiona's, an art gallery in Los Angeles. Jackson Muse is an architect for the firm of Seabrooks and Selvin. Ryan and Jackson share the same last name because they were married (for six months) but divorced because they were too young and not ready to take on the responsibilities of marriage. They have now remarried (30 days when the series begins) to give it a second try as they still love each other.

Jackson built the house in which he and Ryan now live. Ryan, whose cooking specialty is meatballs rolled in wheat germ, poses nude for artists. Stories follow their efforts to make their second marriage work.

Other Regulars: Coco, Ryan's friend, the owner of the Mezzo Fresco Café; Nigel, Coco's husband; and Paula, their friend, a real estate agent.

Cast: Nicole Ari Parker (Ryan Muse), Boris Kodjoe (Jackson Muse), Melissa De Sousa (Coco), Brian J. White (Nigel), Danielle Nicolet (Paula).

7241 The Secret Adventures of Jules Verne. (Series; Adventure; Science Fiction; Syn.; 2001). Promotional spots for the series tell us "Jules Verne, author, playwright, future writer extraordinaire. A century ago he startled the world with his predictions. A lucky dreamer or did the fantastic adventures he described really occur? Science fiction meets science fact — The Secret Adventures of Jules Verne." The series is set in 1861. Jules Verne is a starving French playwright with visions of the future. He is attending the University of La Sorbonne in Paris and earning meager pay by selling his stories. One day, while in class, he draws ("doodles" as he calls it) the plans for a mole (a machine that can tunnel through dirt and rock).

At this time it is revealed that there is an aristocratic society "that has been guiding Europe for hundreds of years." The society has stolen Verne's plans for the mole and built a prototype for one purpose: to kidnap Queen Victoria and prevent her from signing a peace agreement between England and France (the society thrives on war; the treaty would introduce democracy and end their rule).

Phileas Fogg and his cousin, Rebecca Fogg are agents for the British Secret Service who have been assigned to investigate reports of strange ground rumblings (the mole machine moving).

Their investigation leads them to Paris and to Jules Verne. Phileas believes Verne is guilty of plotting to kill the Queen and takes him aboard the Au- ror, an airship (dirigible) he owns, for interrogation. Verne insists he is innocent and his mole "was just a doodle." Phileas's valet, Jean Passepartout believes Verne is telling the truth and convinces Phileas to let him prove it by helping them defeat the mole machine. Jean is an inventor and has a lab aboard the Aurora. Figuring the mole will travel through the sewer systems of Paris, Jules devises a series of detectors to pick up on the mole's vibrations. The plan works and the four defeat the society.

Although not a member of the Secret Service, Jules is invited to join Phileas, Rebecca and Jean as their helper because "we're fighting on the same side" (to defeat evil, especially another society called the League of Darkness, which seeks to plunge the world into turmoil).

Although set during the Victorian era, the program encompasses weapons and technology that simply were not possible at the time (for example, the mole machine, telescopic rifles, bugging devices, robots, flying battleships).

Jules Verne is a man of vision. He believes science will make the world a better place (he dreams, for example, of sending a rocket into space). He has the ability to project his mind into the future. Jules considers himself an amateur sleuth and is intrigued by crime. He is an expert in strategy and tactics and has a profound interest in art, literature and science. While Jules is not depicted as the famous author he will become, he calls himself a writer — "not an established writer. A couple of plays, lots of notes, but I haven't figured out what to do with them yet."

Rebecca Fogg is a secret agent in the mold of Emma Peel (The Avengers). She is an expert shot, swordswoman and well trained in the martial arts. Her ring contains a knockout gas; her earrings have picks for opening locks and her "mission clothes" are sexy black leather pants and a blouse. Rebecca is prepared for work in any situation. The metal hoops she wears under her dress are actually a ladder in disguise.

Phileas Fogg, who would become famous for traveling around the world in 80 days (and the subject of a Jules Verne novel) designed the Aurora as a pleasure ship to take him to the great casinos of Europe (he built the ship when he retired from the Secret Service. He rejoined when he was called upon to defeat the society). Phileas is a ladies' man, a connoisseur of fine wine and a gambler (especially poker). He loves to play croquet, is an excellent swordsman and world traveler who relishes in the thought that one day his dream of visiting those great casinos will soon be at hand.

Jean Passepartout, Phileas's French friend and traveling companion, is a jack of all trades. He pilots the Aurora and is responsible for its maintenance. He creates various gadgets (using things not yet invented, like plastic), is an excellent cook and calls Phileas “Master.” Prior to meeting Phileas, Jean was a Sergeant Fireman in Paris. Jean claims to speak 14 languages (Phileas agrees, “but all of them badly”). Nick Glennie-Smith composed the theme.

Cast: Chris Demetral (Jules Verne), Michael Praed (Phileas Fogg), Francesca Hunt (Rebecca Fogg), Michel Courtemanche (Jean Passepartout).

7242 Secret Agent. (Pilot; Adventure; Syn.; 3/57). A proposed spin-off from Studio '57 about a British secret agent. In the pilot episode, titled “Explosion,” the agent attempts to win an oil concession in Latin America.

Cast: Jack Kelly (Agent), Jarma Lewis (His girlfriend), Ross Bagdasarian (His servant). Also: John Alderson, Don Megowan, Ernest Sarracino.

7243 Secret Agent. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1965–1966). “There’s a man who leads a life of danger, to everyone he meets he stays a stranger. With every move he makes, another chance he takes, odds are he won’t live to see tomorrow....” John Drake is an agent for British Intelligence and stories relate his investigations into situations that endanger world security.

John is a man with strong moral senses and convictions. He was born in England and is dedicated to defending Her Majesty against all her enemies. John does not use unnecessary force to achieve a goal. He carries a gun but will only use it if he has to. He most often follows the rules of the book but occasionally deviates, doing things his way to bring down an enemy. The series is a continuation of Danger Man. Produced in England. See also The Prisoner.

Cast: Patrick McGoochan (John Drake). Opening Theme Vocal: “Secret Agent Man” by Johnny Rivers. Closing Theme: “High Wire” by Edwin Astley.

7244 Secret Agent Man. (Series; Adventure; UPN; 2000). Monk is a highly skilled operative for a U.S. government organization referred to as the Agency, “but it has no official name.” Monk is also highly classified and his real name is not known (“If I tell you what it is, I’ll have to kill you”). The Agency is based in a secret location in New York City and handles assignments that pose a threat to the safety of the people of the world. Holly Holiday, a beautiful agent who uses her real name, assists Monk in the field and calls her company “The Agency with No Name.” A man known only as Brubeck is their superior.

If one tries to do a background check on any agent, they will find nothing — “we don’t exist,” says Monk. Monk is a hopeless romantic and spends Agency money like water. The only known background information on Monk is that his father called him “Bo Bo” as a kid.

Holly’s background information is limited to her high school education (the Rosebrier Academy) and her athletic achievement (number two in archery). Holly is skilled in the martial arts (as is Monk) but unlike Monk, Holly tackles the less than glamorous aspects of an assignment (like going in the field while Monk relaxes in their mobile base of operations, a Fed-Ex truck; Monk assists Holly when he feels the time is right).

Davis is an Agency operative who heads Resource Management (the watchdog in the field for Monk and Holly). He is also an inventor of sorts and designed the Clap-So-Club (a retractable golf club) from a failed Agency weapon. Prima is the gorgeous enemy agent who is seeking to kill Monk for foiling her assignments. She comes close, but Holly always interferes and Prima always escapes — but vows to return and complete her personal vendetta. The group, the Supreme Beings of Leisure, perform the classic theme, “Secret Agent Man.”

Cast: Costas Mandylor (Monk), Dina Meyer (Holly Holiday), Paul Guilfoyle (Brubeck), Dondre T. Whitfield (Davis), Masetta Vanders (Prima).

7245 Secret Army. (Series; Drama; The Entertainment Channel; 1982). World War II Europe is the setting. Lifeline is a Belgium organization that helps Allied servicemen to escape from the Germans and return to the fighting. The title refers to the least celebrated fighters of the war — the many people (including young women who were leaders) who were untrained, from all classes and occupations, and who ran escape lines in occupied Europe for the Allied airmen shot down on bombing raids to Germany. Getting the airmen back to bomb the Third Reich was their way of fighting the enemy (in reality, between 1941 and 1945, the Secret Army returned some 3,500 fliers to their U.K. bases). While the series is based on the actual Secret Army, the escape route, Lifeline, is a fictitious amalgam and not based on any actual one line. Produced in England. Albert Foiret is the escape route organizer and owner of the Candide Restaurant in Brussels; Lisa Colbert is the head of Lifeline; John Curtis is the English liaison between Lifeline and military intelligence; Major Ludwig Kessler is the Gestapo head in Belgium; Monique Duchamps is a Lifeline leader; Major Brandt is a Luftwaffe officer; Natalie is a resistance fighter.

Cast: Bernard Hepton (Albert Foiret), Jan Francis (Lisa Colbert), Christopher Neame (John Curtis), Clifford Rose (Major Ludwig Kessler), Angela Richards (Monique Duchamps), Michael Culver (Major Brandt), Julie Hill (Natalie).

7246 The Secret Diary of Desmond Pfeiffer. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1998). Washington, D.C. during the 1860s Presidential term of Abraham Lincoln is the setting. It is here, in the White House, that Desmond Pfeiffer, a high tone, black British butler, serves Mr. Lincoln and his wife, Mary Todd. It is also through Desmond’s eyes that a different view of White House politics are seen as he oversees (and hears) its daily operations. The program was cancelled after four episodes when the NAACP objected to the portrayal of black stereotypes.

Cast: Chi McBride (Desmond Pfeiffer), Dann Florek (Abraham Lincoln), Christine Estabrook (Mary Todd Lincoln), Kelly Connell (Ulysses S. Grant), Cindy Ambuehl (Mona), Max Baker (Nibblet).

7247 The Secret Empire. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1979). Wyoming in 1880 is the setting. Jim Donner is a U.S. Marshal who, while investigating a series of gold shipment thefts from the Aurora Mining Company, discovers Chimera, a futuristic society of aliens who fled their world of oppression to live inside the Earth. Episodes depict Jim's attempts to thwart the evil Thorval's plans to conquer the Earth with his machines. Broadcast as a segment of Cliffhangers.

Other Regulars: Millie Thomas, Jim's friend; Billy, Jim's young friend; Princess Tara, Thorval's daughter; Princess Maya, Jim's ally; Demeter, Maya's father; Yannuck, Thorval's aide; Jess Keller, the gold shipper.

Cast: Geoffrey Scott (Marhsal Jim Donner), Carlene Watkins (Millie Thomas), Tiger Williams (Billy), Mark Lenard (Thorval), Diane Markoff (Princess Tara), Pamela Brull (Princess Maya), Jay Robinson (Demeter), Sean Garrison (Yannuck), Peter Breck (Jess Keller). Narrator: Brad Crandall.

7248 Secret File, U.S.A. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954). Bill Morgan is an American espionage agent. He is assisted by a gorgeous agent known as Colonel Custer and stories relate their investigations into situations that pose a threat to the safety of the United States.

Cast: Robert Alda (Bill Morgan), Lois Hensen (Colonel Custer), Kay Callard (Peggy Morgan, Bill's wife). Announcer: Frank Gallop.

7249 The Secret Files of the Spy Dogs. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1998–1999). The Spy Dogs are a group of canine spies led by Dog Zero. His agents are Mitzy and Ralph. Stories relate their battle against evil.

An announcer opens the show: "Behold the dog. We all know him as man's best friend but what do we really know? In truth all dogs belong to a secret organization dedicated to keeping mankind safe from really bad stuff. These are the amazing true stories. These are The Secret Files of the Spy Dogs."

Voice Cast: Adam West (Dog Zero), Mary Kay Bergman (Mitzy), Micky Dolenz (Ralph), Kath Soucie (Collar Commander), Dawnn Lewis, Charles Adler, Jim Cummings, Ami Dolenz.

7250 The Secret Jury. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1959). A syndicated, little-known series about the exploits of a big city grand jury.

Cast: Ross Martin (Prosecutor).

7251 The Secret Life of John Monroe. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/8/59). John Monroe is a magazine writer who lives in two worlds: the one which everyone faces and his own secret world where his troubles vanish and he is king (seen in animation and based on the drawings of James Thurber).

John is married to Ellen and the father of a daughter (Lydia) and John's efforts to cope with life — both real and imaginary — was to be the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, John contemplates getting Lydia another dog (Muggs) when her poodle Christabel dies. Broadcast as "Christabel" on Goodyear Theater (The Secret Life of John Monroe was the proposed series title). Other Regulars: Charley, the kid who lives next door.

Cast: Arthur O'Connell (John Monroe), Georgann Johnson (Ellen Monroe), Susan Gordon (Lydia Monroe), Charles Herbert (Charley), Dabbs Greer (Policeman; guest role).

7252 The Secret Lives of Waldo Kitty. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1975–1976). The program begins by introducing three live-action animals: Waldo, a cat; Felicia, his girlfriend, a cat; and Tyrone, the mean bulldog. When Tyrone becomes a threat to Felicia's safety, Waldo, a coward at heart, envisions himself s her heroic savior. Animation takes over and each week features Waldo as a different hero struggling to protect Felicia from harm.

Voice Cast: Howard Morris (Waldo Kitty), Jane Webb (Felicia), Allan Melvin (Tyrone).

7253 The Secret Lives of Women. (Series; Reality; WE; 2006). The program exposes the secret lives that some women lead. A documentary style approach is used to profile women whose clandestine activities are quite shocking. Exposed secrets have included "Black Widow Woman (wives who kill off husbands), "Phone Sex Operators" (dispels the myth that such women are gorgeous and naked), "Polygamy" (more than one woman sharing the same husband) and "Munchausen Moms" (women who, to bring attention to themselves, induce physical or mental diseases). John Burrud, Brett Alexander and Jessica Everleth are the producers.

7254 The Secret of Mystery Lake. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1957). The story of naturalist Bill Richards as he attempts to uncover the wonders of Nature as it abounds at Real Foot Lake in Tennessee. Broadcast as seven segments of The Mickey Mouse Club from September 16, 1957 to September 24, 1957.

Cast: George Fenneman (Bill Richards), Gloria Marshall (Lanie Thorne, Bill's guide).

7255 Secret Service Guy. (Unaired Series; Comedy; Produced for Fox in 1997). Steve Kessler is not your typical security guard. He is literally a blithering idiot. Anything he does comes out wrong.

One day, quite by accident, he saves the life of the President of the United States (Frank McClellan) during an assassination attempt. Immediately he is promoted and assigned to the Secret Service and a member of the President's personal detail. Although unaired (and produced for Fox), the seven-filmed stories were to follow Steve as he tries to live up to the perception people have of him — a hero. A similar idea was tried in the short-lived series D.A.G. (see entry).

Cast: Judge Reinhold (Steve Kessler), Michael McKean (Frank McClellan), Wendy Benson-Landes (Misty), Scott Cleverdon (Victor Fresco), Keith Diamond (Brett Michaels), David Burke (George), Finn Carter (Weaver).

7256 Secret Squirrel. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1968). The adventures of secret government agent Secret Squirrel were broadcast as The Atom Ant/Secret Squirrel Show. See this title for information.

7257 The Secret Storm. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1954–1974). Dramatic incidents in the lives of the Ames family, residents of the town of Woodridge. The series aired from February 1, 1954 to February 15, 1974.

7258 The Secret War of Jackie's Girls. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 11/29/80). When England enters World War II in 1939, an American (Jackie Scott) forms a squadron of five female helicopter pilots to aid the British war effort. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they perform hazardous assignments. The title is derived from the fact that "Jackie's Girls" (Casey, Donna, Zimmy, Patti and Maxine) officially do not exist. The girls, who pose as American nurses, are stationed near Darwell in the south of England. The pilot episode relates several of their missions including one in which Jackie's helicopter is shot down and she is reported killed in action. Though her fate is not revealed, it is questionable as to whether Mariette Hartley (Jackie) would have been a regular had the pilot sold. Other Regulars: Russ Hamilton, the RAF Squadron leader; Corporal Mabel Wheeton, the girls' den mother; Phyllis, the bartender at The Pub, the watering hole.

A chemical called GC 161 is being developed at the Paradise Valley Chemical Plant to allow people to eat all they want without gaining weight.

However, during experiments, something goes wrong and GC 161 becomes highly toxic. Danielle Atron, the head of Paradise Chemical and founder of the school that bears her name, orders the GC 161 to be destroyed. It is loaded into a canister and trucked out.

Alex is returning home from her first day as a seventh grader. She steps onto the street. The truck carrying the GC 161 swerves to avoid hitting her but crashes into a fire hydrant. The swerving motion causes the canister to fall out of the truck and burst open. It mixes with the gushing water of the fire hydrant and drenches Alex. Unsure of what to do, Alex runs home.

There, she tells Annie what has happened. Suddenly, Alex's face begins to glow (in gold). Electrical appliances also turn on automatically. Just then, Alex's friend, Raymond Alvarado stops by and witnesses the strange happenings. Annie calms Alex and the strange occurrences stop. She tells Alex and Raymond they must keep this secret. Annie believes that whatever doused Alex was illegal and Alex will be locked up if she is found. In the meantime, Danielle has ordered her security chief, Vince to find "the unknown kid" who witnessed the accident (Annie believes they are looking for Alex to turn her into a science project. Danielle believes "that kid holds the future of our planet in his hands").

Alex is very sweet and very pretty but believes "I'm boring, plain and simple." The gold glow now only occurs when Alex is embarrassed. She can levitate through thought, dispense electrical charges through her fingers and turn herself into a silver liquid by concentrating. Alex has super powers "but I don't use them to turn the world on its head." She stands up for what she believes in and fights for the underdog (using her powers to solve minor crimes and help people overcome a problem).

Annie is extremely smart and believes "genius is lonely" (she has few friends but has maintained a 4.0 grade average since pre-school). She takes advanced science classes and hopes to win the Nobel Peace Prize for her work with Alex (she keeps a daily record of Alex's activities). It is often Annie who comes to Alex's rescue when her powers place her in difficult situations. By accessing her father's computer at work, Annie was able to uncover facts about GC 161 and put Alex's mind to rest. GC 161 was supposed to be a weight prevention wonder drug. Two drops was the maximum amount to be taken; Alex was exposed to excessive amounts of the liquid. "There's no long term danger to your health," she tells Alex, "but you sure have some bizarre side effects." It was also completely illegal and because of that, Alex must be kept secret from Paradise Chemical (whose motto is "Progress at Any Cost"). Annie involves herself in her work because she feels she has to accomplish something big.

George is a scientist and works at Paradise Valley Chemical (Human Resources Division, Sector C). He is a member of the Einstein Society and is looking forward to the day when he and Annie are working alongside each other. Barbara works as the chemical plant's public relations director. Raymond and Alex have been friends "since we played in the sandbox together," says Alex. He is a member of the school band (plays the saxophone).

Jessica was the original class beauty, the snob who thought she was better than everyone else, especially Alex (whom she disliked and constantly teased). Jessica has all the boys wrapped around her finger and most likes Scott, an eighth grader Alex secretly likes. Alex believes "Jessica is so evil" (although she is an A student, Jessica cheats at sports and manipulates other people to get what she wants).

Libby Flanders is the girl who replaces Jessica as the class beauty (Jessica Alba left for a starring role in the syndicated series Flipper: The New Adventures). Libby also disliked Alex and realized there is something strange about her; she set her goal to find out what it was. Like Jessica, Libby also manipulates people to get what she wants. John Coda composed the theme.

Cast: Larisa Oleyunik (Alexandra Mack), Meredith Bishop (Annie Mack), Michael Blakley (George Mack), Dorian Lopinto (Barbara Mack), Louan Gideon (Danielle Atron), John Marzilli (Vince), Darris Love (Raymond Alvarado), Jessica Alba (Jessica), Marguerite Moreau (Libby Flanders), Jason Strickland (Scott).

7260 Secrets and Mysteries. (Series; Speculation; Syn.; 1989). Do ghosts really exist? Have aliens visited the Erath (and do they live among us)? Are there really monsters living in the ocean? Does Big Foot really exist or is it a hoax? These are some of the mysteries that are probed through archival footage, modern day interviews and film and newspaper clippings to provide answers to some of the mysteries that surround us in our everyday lives.

Host: Edward Mulhare.

7261 The Secrets of Isis. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1975–1978). The last season title for Isis. See this title for information.

7262 Secrets of Midland Heights. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1980–1981). A prime-time serial that explores the dreams, frustrations, hidden secrets and shames of the people who live and work in Midland Heights, a small Midwestern college town.

Margaret Millington is a descendant of the town's founder; Dorothy Wheeler is her friend; Guy Millington is Margaret's son; Holly Wheeler is Dorothy's daughter; Ann Dulles is Margaret's niece; Professor Nathan Welsh is Dorothy's romantic interest; Teddy and Danny Welsh are Nathan's sons; Burt Carroll is the football star; Lisa Rogers is Burt's girlfriend; Micki Carroll is Burt's sister; John Grey is Burt's friend; Calvin Richardson is a teacher at Midland Heights College; Sue is Ann's friend; Lucy Dexter is the diner owner; Mrs. Grey is John's mother.

Cast: Martha Scott (Margaret Millington), Bibi Besch (Dorothy Wheeler), Jordan Christopher (Guy Millington), Linda Governor (Holly Wheeler), Doran Clark (Ann Dulles), Robert Hogan (Nathan Welsh), Daniel Zippi (Teddy Welsh), Stephen Manley (Danny Welsh), Lorenzo Lamas (Burt Carroll), Linda Hamilton (Lisa Rogers), Melora Hardin (Micki Carroll), Jim Youngs (John Grey), Mark Pinter (Calvin Richardson), Irene Arranga (Sue), Jenny O'Hara (Lucy Dexter), Arlene Golonka (Mrs. Grey).

7263 Secrets of the Crypt Keeper's Haunted House. (Series; Game; CBS; 1997). A game show for children based on the HBO cable series Tales from the Crypt (which actually only incorporates the show's host, the eerie Crypt Keeper). Here children race around the Crypt Keeper's graveyard to find clues to a buried treasure. Each child must then face a challenge (for example, bubbling lava, fireballs) as they explore a three story "haunted house" looking for the hidden treasure.

Host: Steve Saunders. Co-Host: The Crypt Keeper (electronic puppet voiced by John Kassir).

7264 Secrets of the Old Bailey. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/11/58). An unsold spin-off from Schlitz Playhouse of Stars about Tom Reid, a Detective Superintendent with Scotland Yard in England. In the pilot episode, a Dragnet with a British accent, Reid seeks the killer of a famous London model.

Cast: Tom Hellmore (Tom Reid), Edward Cast (George Chappel), Brian McDermott (Leo Willis), Naomi Chance (Jennie Elson), John Gill (Mr. Wills), Anthony Sheppard (P.C. Swopes).

7265 Sectaurs — Warriors of Symbion. (Pilot; Cartoon; Syn.; 3/86). On the utopian planet Symbion, a secret biological experiment goes array and creates a mutant life form that begins to ravage the planet. The new evil is controlled by Spirdax and his Terror Troops of the Dark Realm. To battle Spirdax, a humanoid force called Sectaurs are created. The unsold series was to relate the Sectaurs battle to defeat Spirdax and regain control of their planet.

Voices: Arthur Burghardt, Peter Cullen, Laurie Faso, Dan Gilvezan, Peter Renaday, Neilson Ross, B.J. Ward, Frank Welker.

7266 See America with Ed Sullivan. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 10/16/60). A proposed series that was to spotlight various American cities. The music and songs of San Francisco are presented in the pilot episode.

Host: Ed Sullivan. Guests: Dave Brubeck, Dorothy Kristen, Peggy Lee, Johnny Mathis, Mort Sahl, The Limelighters. Orchestra: Ray Bloch.

7267 See How They Rock! (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 8/85). Singer Boy George hosts a proposed series that was to review current rock concerts and feature interviews with and performances by rock artists.

7268 See What You Know. (Live Test Program; Game; CBS; 2/13/46). Three guests are seated in a semi circle that surrounds an object (for example, a television set). The host, who circulates behind them, asks three questions regarding the object. The guests' responses comprise the remainder of the program — presented more like an entertainment feature than as a game show for prizes. The program is produced by Ben Feiner.

Host: Bennett Cerf. Guests: Gypsy Rose Lee, Tex McCrary, S.J. Perelman.

7269 See What You Know. (Live Test Program; Variety; CBS; 5/23/46). A talent program in which new variety acts compete for prizes (here a Victory Bond). In this broadcast, singer Margie Hart won. The program is produced by Frances Buss.

Host: Bennett Cerf. Guests: Margie Hart, Francis Lederer, Toots Shor.

7270 Seeing Stars. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1985). Jim Finnerty hosts a weekly program of in-depth celebrity interviews.

7271 Seeing Things. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1983). Louie Ciconne is a bumbling newspaper reporter for the Toronto Gazette who possesses "second sight" — a gift to see the past and future — that he uses to solve crimes. Marge is Louie's wife; Jason is his son; Heather Medford is Louie's friend, a lawyer; Max Spencer is Louie's editor; Alberto is Louie's father; Anna is Louie's mother.

Cast: Louis Del Grande (Louie Ciconne), Martha Gibson (Marge Ciconne), Ivan Beaulieu (Jason Ciconne), Janet Lanie Green (Heather Medford), Cec Linder (Max Spencer), Al Bernardo (Alberto Ciconne), Lynne Gordon (Anna Ciconne). Theme Vocal: "Seeing Things" by Philip Schreiberman.

7272 The Seekers. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 11/20/62). A proposed spin-off from The Untouchables about Agatha Stewart, a lieutenant with the Chicago Police Department's Bureau of Missing Persons during the 1930s. In the pilot film, Agatha attempts to find the missing daughter of a dying mobster. Aired as the episode "Elegy" (The Seekers was the proposed series title).

Cast: Barbara Stanwyck (Agatha Stewart), Bill Sargent (Lieutenant Harrison). Guest Cast: Peggy Ann Garner (Margaret), John Larch (Charlie Radick), Robert Stack (Eliot Ness).

7273 The Seekers. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 1/1/63). The second of two pilot films for a series about Agatha Stewart, a lieutenant with the Chicago Police Department's Bureau of Missing Persons during the 1930s. In the second pilot (see prior title), Agatha attempts to find the identity of a body found in Lake Michigan. Broadcast as “Search for a Dead Man” on The Untouchables. Other Regulars: Benson, Agatha’s assistant; June, Agatha’s secretary; and Officer Harrison.

Cast: Barbara Stanwyck (Agatha Stewart), Edward Asner (Benson), Jerry Douglas (Officer Harrison), Virginia Capers (June). Guest Cast: Sheree North (Claire Simmons), Alan Dexter (Feeney), Tom Reese (Sonny Dale), Anthony Carbone (Rudy Portuguese), Gerald Gordon (Walter Rimer), Robert Stack (Eliot Ness).

7274 The Seeking Heart. (Series; Serial; CBS; 1954). The dramatic story of John Adams, a general practitioner and criminologist. The series ran from July 5, 1954 to December 10, 1954.

Cast: Scott Forbes (John Adams), Dorothy Lovett (Grace Adams), Flora Campbell (Dr. McKay).

7275 Seinfeld. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990–1998). Jerome “Jerry” Seinfeld is a standup comedian who lives at 129 West 81st Street in Manhattan. He and his friends, George Costanza, Elaine Benes and Cosmo Kramer hang out at Monk’s Cafe. Their everyday problems unfold each week in the format of a situation comedy.

Jerry is a happy-go-lucky type who takes life in stride. Although plagued by life’s everyday misadventures, he never lets anything get him down. He refuses to admit that he watches Melrose Place, and he does not allow soft cheeses in his refrigerator. He is a fan of Superman (a figure can be seen on his bookcase) and Jor-El (Superman’s father) is his ATM PIN code.

Jerry and George, members of the New York Health Club, became writing partners on a pilot based on Jerry’s life called Jerry—The Pilot (“a show about nothing”). The pilot is produced but the series, Jerry, doesn’t sell.

George was first a real estate broker for Rick Bar Properties then a proofreader for Pendant Publishing. He next worked as the assistant to the traveling secretary for the New York Yankees then for Play Now, a playground supply company. His final job was with Krueger Industrial Smoothing, a company that sands anything.

George lives on 86th Street. His ATM code is Bosco (after his favorite chocolate drink). George’s dream occupation is to be an architect and he uses the alias Art Van Delay to impress people. While proposing the Jerry pilot, George met Susan Ross and fell in love. They planned to marry, but miserly George bought cheap wedding invitations (from Melody Stationery) that contained toxic envelope glue; Susan died from the poison while sealing the envelopes.

Elaine dated Jerry, but there was a lack of physical chemistry between them and now they are just friends. She is a proofreader, and later an editor for Pendant Publishing. When author Justin Pitt thought Elaine reminded him of Jacqueline Kennedy, he hired her as his personal assistant. A year later she is fired when Kramer’s antics led Justin to believe Elaine was plotting to kill him. She next worked for J. Peterman, publisher of the J. Peterman Mail Order Catalogue. Elaine lives at 16 West 75th Street. She created a sensation when the antique button on her blouse popped off and revealed her breasts in a low cut, cleavage-revealing bra. She created an earlier sensation when she distributed a Christmas card picture of herself (taken by Kramer) that showed her nipple. She wasn’t wearing a bra and explained that she simply missed buttoning a button. For this, she was nicknamed “Nip.”

Kramer lives across the hall from Jerry. He is eccentric and appears to be a self-styled entrepreneur (although he did admit to once having a regular job — a bagel technician at H&H Bagels in Manhattan; he has been on strike for 12 years).

Kramer was a stand-in for the father of an eight-year-old boy on All My Children and was a medical actor (performs illnesses for interns to identify). He was also a ball boy at the U.S. Open tennis tournament and is the author of The Coffee Table Book of Coffee Tables. Golf is Kramer’s favorite recreational sport. When Kramer needs a lawyer, he recruits Jackie Chiles, a famous, fast-talking attorney.

In the final episode, the Jerry pilot is picked up by NBC’s new boss. Jerry and George invite Elaine and Kramer on a free trip to Paris on the NBC jet. The jet experiences engine trouble and is forced to land in Massachusetts. While sightseeing, the four witness a carjacking, do nothing to help and are arrested for violating the Good Samaritan Law. Kramer calls on Jackie, but the prosecution presents a parade of hostile witness (people the four encountered throughout the series) who condemn them. Jackie loses the case and “The New York Four” (as they were called) are sent to prison.

Newman lives in the east side of Jerry’s building. He despises Jerry “because he and his friends frolic it up on the west side of the building.” Newman, a mailman, calls in sick on rainy days and has a weakness for Drake’s Coffee Cake.

Morty and Helen are Jerry’s parents; Frank and Estelle are George’s parents; Leo is Jerry’s uncle; George Steinbrenner is George’s boss (New York Yankees episodes); Kenny Bania is the rival comic for Jerry; David Putty is Elaine’s on-and-off boyfriend; Mickey Abbott is Kramer’s friend.

Cast: Jerry Seinfeld (Himself), Jason Alexander (George Costanza), Julia Louis-Dreyfus (Elaine Benes), Michael Richards (Cosmo Kramer), Heidi Swedberg (Susan Ross), Wayne Knight (Newman), Phil Bruns (Morty Seinfeld), Barney Martin (Morty Seinfeld; later), Liz Sheridan (Helen Seinfeld), Jerry Stiller (Frank Costanza), Estelle Harris (Estelle Costanza), Ian Abercrombie (Justin Pitt), Phil Morris (Jackie Chiles), John O'Hurley (J. Peterman) Len Lester (Uncle Leo), Patrick Warburton (David Putty), Danny Woodburn (Mickey Abbott), Steve Hytner (Kenny Bania), Mitch Mitchell (George Steinbrenner), Lee Bear (George Steinbrenner), Larry David (George Steinbrenner), Daniel Von Bargen (Mr. Kruger), Richard Fancy (Mr. Lippman), Warren Frost (Susan's mother), Grace Zabriskie (Susan's mother).

7276 The Seinfeld Chronicles. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/5/89). The pilot film for Seinfeld about events in the life of Jerry Seinfeld, a stand-up comedian whose life unfolds in a situation comedy format as he becomes involved in the antics of his friends George and Kramer. The character of Elaine Benes does not appear. The character of Claire, the diner waitress, was the female foil in the pilot.

Cast: Jerry Seinfeld (Himself), Jason Alexander (George Costanza), Michael Richards (Kramer). Guest Cast: Pamela Brull (Laura), Lee Garlington (Claire).

7277 Selective Service in Reverse. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 7/19/45). World War II has just ended and this experiment, actually a very early test program, was designed to help returning G.I.s. It was an attempt to explain the work being done by the New York Selective Service in helping servicemen and women readjust to civilian life. Lieutenant Colonel David Brady explained the reverse process and actors portrayed G.I.s who appeared with real life members of the Selective Service to have their questions answered.

Cast: David Brady, Emil Harris, Mary Patton, Harold Waldridge.

7278 Semi-Tough. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1980). Billy Clyde Puckett and Marvin "Shake" Tiller are two womanizing pro football players for the New York Bulls, a seldom-winning team. Stories relate their antics as they try to mix business (football) with pleasure (dating the ladies). Billy and Marvin share an apartment with Barbara Jean Bookman, a girl who finds herself a victim of all their high jinks.

Big Ed Bookman is Barbara's father; Big Barbara Bookman is Barbara's mother; Bert Turnbee is the team owner; Harry Cooper is the coach; Michele is the waitress at the restaurant hangout; and T.J., Puddin and Story Time are players on the team; Pearly and Hal are the booth sportscasters.

Cast: Bruce McGill (Billy Clyde Puckett), David Hasselhoff (Marvin Tiller), Markie Post (Barbara Bookman), Hugh Gillin (Big Ed Bookman), Mary Jo Catlett (Big Barbara Bookman), Jim McKrell (Bert Turnbee), Ed Peck (Harry Cooper), Freeman King (Story Time), Bubba Smith (Puddin), Carlos Brown (T.J.), Michele Leon (Michele), Chuck McCann (Pearly), Jim MacGeorge (Hal).

7279 The Senator. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1970–1971). Senator Hays Stowe is a progressive California politician who attempts to meet and understand the needs and desires of the people he represents. He is married to Ellen and they are the parents of Norma. Jordan Boyle assists Hays and stories relate their efforts to do what they promised: stand up for all the people, including those with insurmountable problems. Aired as a segment of The Bold Ones.

Cast: Hal Holbrook (Hays Stowe), Sharon Acker (Ellen Stowe), Cynthia Eilbacher (Norma Stowe), Michael Tolan (Jordan Boyle), John Randolph (Governor), John Marley (Mayor).

7280 Senior Year. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 3/22/74). The pilot film for Sons and Daughters (CBS, 1974) about a group of high school seniors in Stockton, California, in the 1960s. The students are Anita, Jeff, Evie, Stash, Moose, Charlie, Cody, Lisa, Tina, Marylou, Dana, Angie and Lila. Other Regulars: Anita's parents, Ruth and Walter; and Jeff's mother, Lucille.

Cast: Glynnis O'Connor (Anita Cramer), Gary Frank (Jeff Reed), Debralee Scott (Evie Martinson), Scott Colomby (Stash), Barry Livingston (Moose), Lionel Johnston (Charlie), Chris Nelson (Cody), Christopher Norris (Lisa), Randi Kallan (Tina), Teresa Medaris (Marylou), Cheryl Linde (Dana), Bonnie Van Dyke (Angie), Maida Severn (Lila), Jan Shutan (Ruth Cramer), John S. Ragin (Walter Cramer), Jay W. McIntosh (Lucille Reed).

7281 Sense and Nonsense. (Series; Game; NBC; 1952–1953). Two teams compete, each composed of three members, in a game based on the testing of the five senses (sight, hearing, taste, smell and touch). Each player competes in one round that is designed to test one sense without the aid of the others. Points are awarded for each problem that is solved by each sense. Winners are the highest scorers. A children's version of the series (Sense and Nonsense, Jr.) aired at the same time of the adult version (November 24, 1952 to April 4, 1953).

Host (Adult Version): Bob Kennedy. Host (Junior Version): Ralph Paul. Assistant (Both Versions): Vivian Farrar.

7282 Sense of Humor. (Pilot; Anthology; PBS; 2/16/82). A proposed series of humorous stories that was to feature a different cast each week. The pilot episode, titled "Come Along with Me," tells of Mabel Lederer, an eccentric widow who assumes a new identity in each town she visits. Based on an unpublished novel by Shirley Jackson.

Cast: Estelle Parsons (Mabel Lederer), Barbara Baxley (Mrs. Fraun), Sylvia Sidney (Mrs. Flanner), Edward Meekin (Mr. Cabot), Dennis J. Vero (Mr. Brand), Kimberly Carter (Mabel as a child), Sheila Kennan (Woman at seance), Toni Fleming (Waitress).

7283 The Sentimental Agent. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1962). Carlos Borella is a troubleshooter for an import-export company whose job requires him to have eyes twenty-four hours a day, seen days a week. Carlos, who acts more like a private detective than a troubleshooter, is not a violent person; if he can avoid a confrontation he will. He relies on his keen sense of observation and ability to go unnoticed when he has to. He often catches criminals (thieves and con artists) through trickery and stories follow his efforts to do a job he has to with the least amount of physical exertion.

Cast: Carlos Thompson (Carlos Borella).

7284 The Sentinel. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1996). Jim Ellison is a detective with the Major Crime Division of the Cascade, Washington, Police Department who possesses unique and highly developed hyperactive senses. According to an ancient legend, such a person was called a Sentinel and used his powers to protect the people of his village from evil. Jim, however, has no memory of how he acquired his powers but believes it happened while in service with the Army Rangers in Peru.

Jim, a captain at the time, was in charge of a seven-man covert action team assigned to train local jungle tribes to protect trade routes against the guerrilla army. Their mission was sabotaged by a CIA intelligence operative with interests in the drug trade. During a battle, the team was killed and Jim was reported as missing in action. He was found 18 months later when an army rescue team stumbled upon him (after the battle Jim was rescued by natives from an isolated local tribe called the Chopec. He was chosen by the tribal chief to become a Sentinel, a protector of people. While not explained, it is probable that Jim's acts of courage in defending the tribes against the CIA showed he had the qualities of a Sentinel [virtue] but had not yet developed his powers. It has to be assumed that during this time, Jim was taught how to perfect his senses but was given some type of drug to erase his memory of the tribe and what happened to him).

Jim possesses supersensitive hearing, exceptional vision (including the ability to see in the dark) and the ability to identify any substance by touch, smell or taste. Jim is unaware of his powers at first. He resigns from the Rangers and joins the police department. All is progressing well until he is assigned to an extended, isolated stakeout and begins having what he calls "hallucinations" (seeing and hearing far beyond what is normal). Jim checks himself into the Cascade Hospital for a series of tests but his doctors are unable to find anything wrong. As he is preparing to leave, Jim meets a man who introduces himself as a doctor and suggests he see Blair Sandburg, an anthropologist at Rainier University, who can help him.

In a cluttered artifact storage room that doubles as an office, Jim meets Sandburg — the same man he met at the hospital. Blair is working on a doctoral thesis based on the long forgotten writings of a 19th century explorer named Richard Burton. Burton recorded stories about Sentinels — tribal watchmen who possessed the genetic advantage of heightened sensory awareness.

Blair has seen hundreds of documented cases with people exhibiting two heightened senses, but never a person with all five. He believes Jim is a true Sentinel and has been given the ability to protect the people of Cascade (his village). Blair offers to help Jim understand the powers and learn how to control them in return for him becoming the subject of his thesis. Jim is reluctant until he learns a Sentinel can become so focused on one sense that he becomes oblivious to the other senses and vulnerable to danger.

Blair first works with Jim in secret; later, after Jim tells his captain, Simon Banks, about his powers and about Blair, Blair is granted observer status with the department (Jim's "unofficial partner").

A narrator opens the show: "In the jungles of Peru the fight for survival heightened his senses. Now it is up to James Ellison as a Sentinel in the fight for justice. Seeing before others see; sensing what others cannot. An ever vigilant watchman in the war against crime."

Cast: Richard Burgi (Jim Ellison), Garrett Maggart (Blair Sandburg), Bruce A. Young (Simon Banks).

7285 Serenade. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). An interlude program of music and songs with singer Dolores Marshall as the host. The series ran from January 23, 1949 to October 30, 1949.

Hostess: Dolores Marshall. Music: The George Barnes Trio.

7286 Sergeant Bilko. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1955–1959). The alternate title for The Phil Silvers Show. See this title for information.

7287 Sergeant Preston of the Yukon. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1955). Just as William Preston completes his college education in the United States, he receives word from Canada that his father has been killed in the Yukon by an evil criminal named Spike Wilson. The time is 1898, and to gain the legal authority to capture his father's killer, Preston joins the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Following rigorous training, he is made a constable and assigned to capture Spike Wilson. After months of hardship and privation, traveling through a wind-swept wilderness, Preston comes to the end of his trail — the camp of Spike Wilson. A fight ensues, but Preston manages to apprehend his enemy; Spike is tried and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Shortly after, while on duty, Constable Preston intervenes in a lynx attack and rescues a husky puppy that has been raised by a female wolf. He names the dog Yukon King and teaches it to lead a sled team, respect good men and hate evil ones. Months later, when Spike escapes from prison, Preston is again assigned to capture him. When he does, Preston is promoted to sergeant; Spike is sentenced to death. Stories, set in the early 1900s, relate Sergeant Preston's efforts to maintain law and order in the early Gold Rush days of the Yukon.

In addition to his dog, Yukon King, Preston also has a horse named Rex. In early episodes, the Mountie headquarters is in the town of Dawson; later it is at Lake La Barge.

Fred Foy did the announcing, and the Donna Diana Overture by Von Reznicek was used as the show's theme song.

A narrator opens the show: "The Quaker Oats Company presents Sergeant Preston of the Northwest Mounted Police with his great horse Rex and Yukon King, the wonder dog, maintaining law and order in the wild days of the Klondike. Sergeant Preston of the Yukon is presented by Quaker Oats, the cereal shot from guns." The non-sponsored program open went as follows: "Sergeant Preston of the Northwest Mounted Police, with Yukon King, swiftest and strongest lead dog, breaking the trail in the relentless pursuit of law breakers in the wild days of the Yukon."

Cast: Richard Simmons (William Preston).

7288 Sergeant Steve Dekker. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1959). The alternate title for Not for Hire. See this title for information.

7289 Sergeant T.K. Yu. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 4/19/79). T.K. Yu is a Korean police sergeant who has been assigned to the L.A.P.D. to study crime detection methods. While learning his trade he moonlights as a stand-up comic at the Horn Night Club. The unsold series was to relate Yu's experiences as he attempts to adjust to new surroundings. Other Regulars: Lieutenant Robert Ridge, his superior; and Sam Palfy, the owner of the Horn Club.

Cast: Johnny Yune (T.K. Yu), John Lehne (Robert Ridge), Marty Brill (Sam Palfy).

7290 Serpico. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1976–1977). In New York City in 1976, hot dogs were 85 cents; a pastrami on rye cost $1.85, and crime was down by 40 percent. Frank Serpico, an undercover N.Y.P.D. officer, is one of the many men and women responsible for lowering the crime rate. Frank is with the 7th Precinct. The 22nd Precinct was also mentioned as Frank's base of operations.

Frank is a Catholic and attended St. Michael's Grammar School. It was in high school, St. Michael's, that Frank, an altar boy, became interested in becoming a priest. He attended St. Joseph's Seminary in preparation for becoming a priest but soon after found "I wasn't cut out for it." It is not stated how or why, but Frank turned his attention to helping people in another way — as a police officer. Frank lives on West 66th Street and knows verses of the Bible by heart; he often recites them when on assignments. Lieutenant "Sully" Sullivan is Frank's superior. Elmer Bernstein composed the theme "Serpico."

Cast: David Birney (Frank Serpico), Tom Atkins (Lt. Sullivan).

7291 Sesame Street. (Series; Children; PBS; 1969–). Various entertainment geared to teach children reading skills, the alphabet, counting and the ability to solve problems — all presented through the helpful (and not so helpful) Muppet creations of Jim Henson who live on any anywhere street in an anywhere city or town called Sesame Street. There are numerous Muppet characters. Perhaps the most famous are Kermit the Frog, Miss Piggy, Big Bird, Oscar the Grouch, the Cookie Monster (who lived on cookies, thus his name; he has turned to more helpful foods in recent years), Ernie and his best friend Bert, The Count and Elmo. The Muppets are assisted by a number of humans, all of whom are listed in the cast.

Cast: Bob McGrath (Bob), Loretta Long (Susan), Northern J. Calloway (David), Sonia Manzano (Maria), Roscoe Orman (Gordon), Emilio Delgado (Luis), Linda Bove (Linda), Alaina Reed (Olivia), Cara Buono (Samantha), Will Lee (Mr. Hooper), Julianne Buescher (Sherry Netherlands), Tyler James Williams (Tyler), Alison Bartlett (Dr. Gina Jefferson), Miles Orman (Miles), Bill McCutcheon (Uncle Dudley), Hal Miller (Gordon), Michael Jeter (Mr. Noodle), Carroll Spinney (Big Bird), Jim Henson (Voice of Kermit the Frog), Jim Henson (Voice of Ernie), Jim Henson (Voice of Sinister Sam), Jim Henson (Voice of Guy Smiley), Jim Henson (Voice of Papa Twiddlebug), Frank Oz (Voice of Cookie Monster), Frank Oz (Voice of Bert), Frank Oz (Voice of Mama Twiddlebug), Richard Hunt (Voice of Gladys the Cow), Richard Hunt (Voice of Sister Twiddlebug), Richard Hunt (Voice of Sully), Richard Hunt (Voice of Don Music), Richard Hunt (Voice of Two Headed Monster), Richard Hunt (Voice of Beaker), Brian Muehl (Voice of Elmo), Brian Muehl (Voice of Grungetta), Brian Muehl (Voice of Pearl), David Rudman (Voice of Cookie Monster), David Rudman (Voice of Baby Bear), David Rudman (Voice of Humphrey), David Rudman (Voice of Two Headed Monster). Regulars: Charlotte Rae, Matt Robinson, Anne Revere, Larry Block, Paul Brice, Bruce Connelly, Annette Calud, Fred Garbo Garrar.

7292 Sessions. (Series; Drama; HBO; 1991). Dan Carver is a man with numerous problems. He is having a mid-life crisis but is unable to accept the changes that are occurring in his life. Dan, a 40-year-old lawyer, is married to Carol and is the father of a teenage daughter named Annie. When the pressures become too much for him to handle he decides to seek professional help (psychiatrist Dr. Bookman). Stories relate the session between Dan and Dr. Bookman (with Dan revealing his inner-most thoughts and Dr. Bookman's reactions and advice to each of them). The series is created by Billy Crystal.

Cast: Michael McKean (Dan Carver), Elliott Gould (Dr. Bookman), Linda Kelsey (Carol Carver), Jennifer Crystal (Annie Carver), Millie Slavin (Dan's mother), John P. Connolly (Dan's father).

7293 Set for Life. (Series; Game; ABC; 2007). One player competes at a time. Fifteen light circles appear on stage. Four are red; eleven are white (each color is concealed in a separate cylinder). The player brings out his "guardian angel" (a friend or family member) that is placed in an isolation booth. This person can see the proceedings and his job is to stop the player when he feels he has gone far enough.

A money amount is revealed (for example, $4,625) along with a time ladder (1 and 6 months; 1, 2, 3, 5, 10, 15, 20 and 25 years and Set for Life). The player calls a light number and proceeds to pull it from its cylinder. If it is white, he receives the first rung on the time ladder ($4,625 for one month). If he chooses to continue, and again selects a white light stick he moves up the ladder ($4,625 for two months). Each white light advances the player to the next step of time payment. However, if the player pulls a red light stick, he moves down one rung on the ladder. Four red light sticks cost the player everything. The player can stop at any point after picking a white light (if a red light is chosen the player must continue until he reaches the safety of a white light).

The guardian angel now comes into play. When the player feels he is at risk he ends the game (for example, $4,625 a month for 10 years). However, what did the guardian angel do? His booth is opened and the player wins money based on what the guardian angel did. If the guardian angel stopped the game on his end (for example, $4,625 for 5 years), the player wins that prize; if the guardian angel let the game continue (did not stop it before the player), the player wins the money at which he stopped the game.

Host: Jimmy Kimmel.

7294 Seven Against the Sea. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/3/62). The pilot film for McHale's Navy about Quinton McHale, a lieutenant who commands a PT boat during World War II. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Alcoa Premiere, McHale's carefree lifestyle is threatened when a hard-nosed lieutenant (Durham) arrives on the island to whip him and his men back into shape. The series was originally slated to be called McHale's Men.

Host: Fred Astaire. Cast: Ernest Borgnine (Quinton McHale), Ron Foster (Lieutenant Durham), William Bramley (Bosun Ward Gallagher), Juan Hernandez (Chief), Bob Wright (Willy Moss), Gary Vinson (Christy Christopher), Steve Harris (Blumber Harris).

7295 Seven Arts Quiz. (Live Test Program; Quiz; NBC; 10/9/47). A panel attempts to answer questions based on the seven lively arts. To make the program appealing for a viewing audience, questions were given specific backgrounds (for example, a question based on music and ballet featured dancers demonstrating the art).

Host: Bill Slater. Panel: Gwen Lux, Russell Maloney, Charles Payne, Robert Sylvester.

7296 Seven at Eleven. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). A live program of music and songs broadcast from New York City (11:00 P.M. to Midnight) and on an alternating basis with Broadway Open House. The series ran from May 23, 1951 to June 27, 1951.

Host: George DeWitt. Regulars: Denise Lor, Buddy Lester, Sid Gould, Milton DeLugg, Jack Stanton. Music: Milton DeLugg.

7297 Seven Brides for Seven Brothers. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1982–1983). The McFaddens are a contemporary family of ranchers (owners of the Circle Bar 7 Ranch) in California's Mother Lode country. The ranch is maintained by the seven parentless but self-sufficient McFadden brothers: Adam, the eldest, Brian (25), Crane (21), Daniel (18), Evan (16), Ford (15) and Guthrie (12). Entering their lives is Hannah Moss, a spirited café waitress who marries Adam and soon finds herself more of a mother than a wife as she helps Adam care for his siblings. The program, based on the 1954 MGM musical of the same name, is highlighted by musical numbers, and relates events in the lives of the McFaddens. Marie is the town bartender; Cooper Johnson is the rodeo star; Sally Listen is Cooper's estranged daughter.

Cast: Richard Dean Anderson (Adam McFadden), Terri Treas (Hannah Moss-McFadden), Drake Hogestyn (Brian McFadden), Peter Horton (Crane McFadden), Roger Wilson (Daniel McFadden), Tim Topper (Evan McFadden), Brian Utman (Ford McFadden), River Phoenix (Guthrie McFadden), Joan Kjar (Marie), Hoyt Axton (Cooper Johnson), Susan Swift (Sally Listen). Theme Song: "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" by Phil Silas. Choreographer: Carl Jablonski.

7298 Seven Days. (Series; Science Fiction; UPN; 1998–2001). Frank Parker is a naval lieutenant who is anti establishment, anti authority, anti everything. He is with the NSA (National Security Agency). He is famous for finalizing the NASA Aptitude Test in record time—19 minutes, 9 seconds.

Back Step is a secret government project that is capable of sending a man back in time. It is shaped like a sphere and uses a fuel called Element 115 to power it. Its purpose is to change the past to change the future. Because of his abilities, Frank is chosen to pilot the time sphere to correct errors that occurred the previous week from actually happening in the future. The sphere can only go back seven days and Frank's efforts to stop disasters from happening is the focal point of the program.

Frank calls the process "Back Stepping." When the sphere lands it takes on the appearance of a big blue round object.

Olga Vukavitch is a Russian scientist assigned to the project. Although Russian, she claims to be hip—"I attended a Beach Boys concert when I was 15 and the song "Good Vibrations" stayed in my mind for months." Isaac Mentnor is the project leader; John Ballard and Bradley Talmadge are doctors assigned to the program; Craig Donovan is the naval captain who oversees operations.

Cast: Jonathan LaPaglia (Frank Parker), Justina Vail (Olga Vukavitch), Don Franklin (Craig Donovan), Sam Whipple (John Ballard), Alan Scarfe (Bradley Talmadge), Nick Searcy (Nathan Ramsey), Kevin Christy (Andrew "Hooter" Owsley).

7299 Seven Keys. (Series; Game; ABC; 1961–1964). A picture, which represents a person, place, event or object, is flashed on a screen. The first player (of two who compete) to identify himself through a buzzer signal, receives a chance to answer. If he correctly identifies the picture he scores one point. The winner, the highest scorer, receives merchandise prizes and one key. The player vies to win seven straight games and thus acquire seven keys and a valuable merchandise showcase.

Host: Jack Narz.

7300 Seven Keys to Baldpate. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 7/7/46). A television adaptation of the 1913 Broadway play by George M. Cohan (who based it on a novel by Earl Derr Biggers). The story, set at the isolated Baldpate Inn, tells of a romantic novelist who is drawn into a real life murder mystery while attempting to write a book within twenty-four hours.

Cast: David Andrews, Vinton Hayworth, Helen Jerome, Dave Kerman, Larry Kerr, Paul Keyes, W.O. McWatters, George Mathews, Neal O'Malley, John Robb, Patricia Shay, Sydna Scott, Vaughn Taylor.

ing up the family act and sending his children to school. Other Regulars: George M. Cohan, the producer; Aunt Clara, Eddie's housekeeper; and Barney, Eddie's manager.

Cast: Eddie Foy, Jr. (Eddie Foy), Christy Jordan (May Foy), Alan Osmond (Bryan Foy), Wayne Osmond (Charley Foy), Merrill Osmond (Richard Foy), Donny Osmond (Irving Foy), Jay Osmond (Eddie Foy, Jr.), Mickey Rooney (George M. Cohan), Naomi Stevens (Aunt Clara), George Tobias (Barney Green), Elaine Edwards (Miss Williams; guest role).

7302 The Seven Lively Arts. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1957–1958). A cultural program that explores, via dramatizations, the arts of music, song and literature. The series ran from November 3, 1957 to February 16, 1958.

Host: John Crosby.

7303 704 Hauser. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1994). "Look who's living in Archie Bunker's house now" said the promos to introduce viewers the Cumberbatch family, African-Americans who now reside at 704 Hauser Street in Queens, New York, the home once owned by Archie on All in the Family. Ernie is the head of the family, a mechanic for Rappaport Motors; his wife, Rose, is an investment broker; and their 23-year-old son, Thurgood Marshall is the president of the Young Republicans at his unnamed college, who is engaged to a white girl (Sherilyn Markowitz). The series ran for five episodes from April 11, 1994 to May 9, 1994.

Cast: John Amos (Ernie Cumberbatch), Lynnne Godfrey (Rose Cumberbatch), T.E. Russell (Thurgood Marshall "Gordie" Cumberbatch), Maura Tierney (Sherilyn Markowitz).

7304 1775. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/5/92). Pre-Revolutionary Philadelphia is the setting for an unsold series about the problems faced by the Proctor family, the owners of an inn called the Cock and Doberman. Jeremy Proctor, the brother-in-law of George Washington, and his wife, Annabelle, own the establishment and their three coming-of-age daughters (Maude, Abby and Eliza) are the waitresses. In the pilot episode, Jeremy and Annabelle seek a man for Maude, their eldest daughter who is seventeen years old and still not married.

Cast: Ryan O'Neal (Jeremy Proctor), Lesley-Anne Down (Annabelle Proctor), Sarah Koskoff (Maude Proctor), Danielle Harris (Abby Proctor), Judith Jones (Eliza Proctor), Jeffrey Tambor (Governor Messingill), Adam West (George Washington).

7305 7th Heaven. (Series; Drama; WB; CW; 1996–2007). Eric and Annie Camden are a happily married couple who live in Glen Oak, a mid-size town in California. They are the parents of seven children (Matt, Mary, Lucy, Simon, Ruthie and twins Sam and David) and Happy is the family dog.

Eric is a minister (Protestant) at the Glen Oak Community Church. It was when Eric was a teenager that he found his calling in life. He was a summer camp counselor and enjoyed helping people. This led to other such jobs and eventually the ministry. Eric attended Binghamton Elementary School; in high school he was a member of a band called The Flower and Vegetable Show. He is also the author of an unpublished novel called Lover, Can You Hear Me?

Midway through the series, Eric acquired a heart condition and required double bypass surgery. While recovering the church board hired Chandler Hampton, an associate pastor, to fill in for Eric.

Annie's maiden name is Jackson and was a psychology major in college when she and Eric married. Annie later dropped out to have their first child (Matt) and became a full time mother and housewife over the next 20 years. The birth of twins Sam and David on February 8, 1999 returned Annie to the role of full time mother. Despite limited free time, Annie did manage to return to college to get her degree in child psychology and hold a job as a morals teacher at an unnamed private school.

Annie is a Jill of all trades (can cook, clean, repair broken pipes) and never leaves the house without lipstick. Mary and Lucy feel that when it comes to their dating life, their father has nothing but time and no one can embarrass them like their mother.

Matt is the oldest of the Camden children and the one his siblings turn to for advice when they need someone other than their parents. Matt is in Kennedy High School when the series begins. He took a pre-college summer job as an intern in Washington, D.C. in then First Lady Hilary Clinton's Summer Work Program staff. Matt's interests, however, turned away from politics to the medical profession. He enrolled at Crawford College and held a job as an orderly at the Free Clinic. He next became a pre-med student (in 2006 he becomes a doctor). Life changes drastically for Matt when he meets Sarah Glass and falls in love. Sarah is Jewish and has been raised to marry within her religion. Despite the objections of his parents, Matt converts to Judaism and he and Sarah wed. Matt and Sarah then move to New York City to begin their internships (Sarah is also hoping to become a doctor). In the last episode on the WB, Matt and Sarah are about to become parents of their first child.

Mary is the most troublesome of the Camden children. At Kennedy High School she was captain of the Wildcats, the varsity basketball team and had high hopes to become a professional basketball player. Those dreams were shattered when she injured her knee.

Mary was undecided about her future following graduation. When Mary feels her parents don't think of her as an adult without a career, she attempts to become a fire fighter but fails to focus and flunks the endurance test. She then hits rock bottom and becomes a dead beat: spending what little money she has, maxing out credit cards, not paying bills, falling in with the wrong crowd. Eric and Annie step in and send Mary to live with her grandfather, a disciplined, retired army colonel in Buffalo, New York, to work at the Community Center for the Homeless and attend college. Several months later a reformed Mary returned to Glen Oak — as a birthday gift to her father. Mary, however, had another surprise for the family. She has become a flight attendant for Jet Blue Airlines. In the episode of September 22, 2003, Mary returns once again, this time announcing she is married to a man named Carlos.

Simon attended Walter Reed Jr. High School then Kennedy High School. He had a paper route for the local newspaper, the Glen Oak Gazette, worked as a waiter at Pete's Pizza and finally as a janitor after school (at Kennedy) with his girlfriend, Cecilia, whose father owned a janitorial service. Simon was basically a good kid but became shattered emotionally when he was involved in a fatal car accident that took the life of a young man. Although the accident was not Simon's fault, Simon could not ease his mind by living in Glen Oak and opted to attend college out of state. He later became romantically involved with Rosie but they never married.

Lucy has her own professional toolbox and does minor repairs around the house. She is sassy, emotional and carefree. Lucy first attended Walter Reed Jr. High, then Kennedy High and finally Crawford College, where she is studying theology (she hopes to become a minister like her father). At Kennedy High Lucy was voted Home Coming Queen and she used her carpentry skills as a volunteer for Habitat for Humanity.

Lucy became engaged to Kevin Kinkirk, a police officer and married him in April of 2003. They had a child (Savannah) and Lucy became the Reverend Kinkirk in 2005.

Ruth, called Ruthie, is the youngest of the children before the birth of twins Sam and David. She is five years old when the series begins and becomes a very beautiful 16-year-old girl (with the end of the WB run). She becomes very independent and defiant with the CW episodes (2006–07). She attended the Eleanor Roosevelt School. Ruthie shares a bedroom with Lucy and her side of the room reflects her fascination with Hello Kitty dolls and posters. Ruthie helps her mother care for the twins and held a job delivering newspapers for the Gazette. Ruthie later attends The Littlefield School then Kennedy High School (at which time she also became interested in boys).

In 2007 it is mentioned that Mary was now a school teacher in New York City. Last season episodes revolve around a heart condition that affects Eric, so much so that he decides to give up the ministry and take a motor tour of America with his family. The last seconds of the final episode (May 13, 2007) shows Annie christening their motor home “7th Heaven.”

Ruthie was now a junior in high school (and works at the concession stand of the local movie house); Lucy, who appears to be taking over for her father (she is now the Associate Pastor of the Glen Oak Church), is pregnant with her second child; she and Kevin have two dogs, Samson and Delilah.

Cast: Stephen Collins (Rev. Eric Camden), Catherine Hicks (Annie Camden), Barry Watson (Matt Camden), Jessica Biel (Mary Camden), Beverly Mitchell (Lucy Camden), David Gallagher (Simon Camden), Mackenzie Rosman (Ruthie Camden), Lorenzo Brino (Sam Camden), Nikolas Brino (David Camden), Jeremy London (Rev. Chandler Hampton), George Stults (Kevin Kinkirk), Ashlee Simpson (Cecilia Smith), Rachel Blanchard (Off. Roxanne Richardson), Adam LaVorga (Robbie Palmer), Geoff Stults (Ben Kinkirk), Matthew Linville (Jimmy Moon), Alan Fudge (Lou Dalton), Andrew Keegan (Wilson West), Andrea Farrell (Heather Cain), Christopher Michael (Sergeant Michaels), Sarah Thompson (Rose), Andrew Keegan (Wilson West), Tyler Hoechlin (Martin), Graham Jarvis (Charles Jackson; Annie's father), Peter Graves (John Camden, Eric's father, "The Colonel"), Barbara Rush (Ruth Camden, Eric's mother), Beverly Garland (Ginger; Charles's fiancé), Deborah Raffin (Julie Camden Hastings, Eric's sister), Maureen Flannigan (Shana Sullivan), Scott Leavenworth (Peter Petrowski), Alyssa Ann Yadrick (Savannah Kinkirk; Lucy's daughter), Colton James (T-Bone [Theodore]), Sarah Mason (Jane), Andrea Morris (Margaret), Haylie Duff (Sandy Jameson), Richard Lewis (Rev. Richard Glass), Ed Begley, Jr. (Dr. Hank Hastings).

7306 77 Sunset Strip. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1958–1964). Bailey and Spencer, Private Investigators is a detective agency located at 77 Sunset Strip in Hollywood, California. Stuart Bailey and Jeff Spencer head the agency. They are assisted by Rex Randolph, Gerald Lloyd Kookson III and Suzanne Fabray.

Stuart, called Stu, occupies office 101. He was a former OSS (Office of Strategic Services) agent and now lives in Apartment 301 at the Sunset DeVilla. Stu is a bit reluctant to use force and relies on his intelligence training to accomplish his goals during a case.

Jeff occupies office 102. He reads Playboy magazine (surprisingly “not for the articles”) and $50 is the top price he pays a snitch for information. Jeff and Stu have an eye for the ladies, and girls often tell Jeff “You’re too cute to be a snoop.” Jeff is more adept at physical heroics than Stu, whom he sometimes calls

“The Professor” for his intelligence and ability to speak several languages.

Gerald Lloyd Kookson III, better known as Kookie, is the parking lot attendant at Dino’s Lodge, the supper club next to 77 Sunset Strip. Kookie lives at 18026 Valley Hart Drive with his unseen mother, Helen Margaret Kookson, a public stenographer; his father is deceased. Kookie drives a hot rod and uses hip talk; for example, “Squaresville, Man”; “Like Man, let’s get out of here” and “I don’t dig it.” He refers to Jeff and Stu as “Hey, Dad” and pretty girls are “Dreamboats.” Trouble is “Troublesville.” Kookie had a way of combing his hair that drove teenage girls in the viewing audience crazy; the song, “Kookie, Kookie, Lend Me Your Comb” became a hit. In fourth season episodes, Kookie quits the parking lot business to become partners with Jeff and Stu. J.R. Hale replaced Kookie as the new parking lot attendant at Dino’s.

Suzanne is a gorgeous French girl who operates the Sunset Answering Service from office 103 at 77 Sunset Strip. She is also a public stenographer and lives in Apartment 217 at 1521/2 North Maple Street, later address given as 236 North Maple, Apartment B. Suzanne works occasionally for Stu or Jeff in an undercover capacity.

Roscoe is a stool pigeon who provides information to Stu and Jeff. He was born in the Bronx, New York, and is addicted to gambling. He calls Suzanne “Frenchy.”

Roy Gilmore, called Gil, is a lieutenant with the Homicide Bureau of the L.A.P.D. He sometimes regrets the job and says, “I should have taken my father’s advice and studied air conditioning instead of Nick Carter books.” Stu and Jeff sometimes work for the Pacific Casualty Insurance Company in San Francisco and Pacific Orient Insurance in Los Angeles.

In 1963 (to 1964) the format changed to focus on Stu Bailey as a private detective on his own. Although the title remained unchanged, Stu now had an office in downtown Los Angeles in a building called both the Bradbury Building and the Bedford Building. The theme also changed from a snappy vocal composed by Mack David and Jerry Livingston to a musical composition by Bob Thompson. Stu now had a secretary named Hannah and stories were told in a flashback manner. As Stu talked to Hannah, a flashback was used to tell the story. When the flashback ended, Stu and Hannah returned to sum up the case.

Cast: Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. (Stuart Bailey), Roger Smith (Jeff Spencer), Richard Long (Rex Randolph), Edd Byrnes (Kookie), Jacqueline Beer (Suzanne Fabray), Louis Quinn (Roscoe), Byron Keith (Lt. Roy Gilmore), Robert Logan (J.R. Hale), Joan Staley (Hannah), Nora Hayden (Various "Red Herring" Roles).

7307 Sex and the City. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 1998–2004). An intimate look at the lives of four beautiful women who live and work in New York City: Carrie Bradshaw, Samantha Jones, Miranda Hobbes and Charlotte York. Central focus of the series is the women's sex lives and their attempts to deal with being woman in the 21st century. There are also two versions of the series: the HBO cable edition (contains nudity and strong sexual situations) and a syndicated broadcast version (trimmed sexual content and digitized [blurred] nudity).

Carrie is a sex columnist for the New York Star (she writes about living and loving in Manhattan). She later quits the paper to become a fashion reporter for Vogue magazine. Carrie is the only one of the female leads who does not do nude scenes (but will show her figure off in sexy lingerie).

Samantha believes in being seductive and having a good time. She demands the best in what she does and whomever she chooses to date. She works as a public relations counselor and dresses to draw attention to herself.

Miranda is an elegant and extremely feminine lawyer with a prestigious Manhattan law firm (she is later a partner). Miranda is the classic overachiever and a 16-hour day is something that is normal to her.

Charlotte is a hopeless romantic who prides herself on being poised and polished. Charlotte works as an art gallery dealer and dreams of marriage and a family. She will only date wealthy men and sometimes goes to extremes to land one.

Cast: Sarah Jessica Parker (Carrie Bradshaw), Kim Cattrall (Samantha Jones), Kristin Davis (Charlotte York), Cynthia Nixon (Miranda Hobbes), Kyle MacLachlan (Trey MacDougal), Chris North (Mr. Big), John Corbett (Aidan Shaw), Willie Garson (Stanford Blatch), David Eigenberg (Steve Brady).

7308 Sex, Love and Secrets. (Series; Drama; UPN; 2005). The upscale neighborhood of Silverlake in Los Angeles is the setting for a look at the private lives of a group of close-knit twenty-something's (the style of Beverly Hills, 90210 mixed with the elegance and narration of Desperate Housewives). The main characters are Hank, the lead singer in a punk band; Rose, his girlfriend; Nina, a shy workaholic doctor; Jolene, an ambitious publicist; and Charlie, a hairdresser. The series was cancelled after four of eight produced episodes aired.

Cast: James Stevenson (Hank), Denise Richards (Jolene), Lauren German (Rose), Eric Balfour (Charlie), Tamara Taylor (Nina), Lucas Bryant (Milo), Omar Benson Miller (Coop).

7309 Sexual Healing. (Series; Reality; Showtime; 2006). The boldest reality show to date (2008) that claims to help heal sexually dysfunctional couples. Three couples (per show) appear at the Berman

Center in Chicago (a sexual therapy center established by sex therapist Dr. Laura Berman) to meet with Dr. Berman. Dr. Berman talks to each couple (sometimes in group sessions) to frankly discuss their problems. She offers advice; the couples can take it or leave it. If they decide to follow it, cameras are placed in their bedrooms and viewers see somewhat risqué sexual encounters (placing it just below soft core pornography). But unlike soft-core porn, which features very attractive people, Sexual Healing seems to find somewhat less attractive people having sex under the sheets. Why would anyone appear on national TV to reveal their intimate problems and then have cameras in their bedroom? Only these people can answer that question.

Host: Dr. Laura Berman.

7310 Seymour Presents. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1974). A one-minute program that is designed to be inserted into horror films by local stations to provide a comical touch between commercial breaks.

Cast: Larry Vincent (Seymour).

Hosts: Sha Na Na. Regulars: Avery Schreiber, Pamela Myers, Soupy Sales, Jane Dulo, Phil Roth, Jack Wohl, June Gable. Orchestra: (The Other) Ray Charles.

7312 Shades of L.A. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1990–1991). During a stakeout, Los Angeles homicide detective Michael Burton is shot. "Suddenly I'm in kind of a strange limbo surrounded by ghosts. Some people call them Shades, as they are not quite alive and not quite dead but with unfinished business back in their lives."

When the Shades discover that Michael is a detective, they feel he can help them. Suddenly, Michael wakes up in a hospital room. There, he learns that he had a mystical near death experience that has given him contact with the world beyond. Now the Shades appear to Michael seeking his help. Stories relate Burton's efforts to help the Shades complete their earthly missions and move on to their destinies.

Michael is with the Los Angeles Metro Police Department, Westside Division. His badge number is 2147 (seen in opening theme) but is mentioned as 508. He now carries a small bullet fragment in his brain from the shooting — which Michael believes provides contact with the Shades.

Lieutenant James ("Wes") Wesley is Michael's superior. His favorite eatery is Henry's House of Cheese and Sausage; in his youth he was called “Wes the Mess” by women (he’d “mess with ladies’ hearts”). Louis Burton, Michael’s uncle, owns Louie’s Pick Parts Auto Junkyard. Dana Kaproff composed the theme.

Cast: John DiAquino (Michael Burton), Warren Berlinger (Lt. James Wesley), Kenneth Mars (Louis Burton).

7313 Shadow Chasers. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1985–1986). Edgar Benedek, called Benny, is an occult book writer for The National Register (a scandal sheet). Jonathan MacKenzie is an anthropologist with the Georgetown Institute for Science in Washington, D.C. Hoping to gain more knowledge of the supernatural, Dr. Julianna Moorhouse, head of the Institute, teams Benny and Jonathan to investigate mysterious happenings attributed to ghosts and other phenomena. Stories follow Benny and Jonathan as they seek to solve cases associated with the unnatural. The program is spiced with light comedy as Benny and Jonathan are not the bravest of souls when it comes to dealing with the unknown.

Cast: Dennis Dugan (Edgar “Benny” Benedek), Trevor Eve (Jonathan MacKenzie), Nina Foch (Dr. Juliana Moorhouse). Theme Song: “Shadow Chasers” by Mark Tanner, John Reed.

7314 A Shadow in the Streets. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 1/28/75). Pete Mackey is an ex-con who serves as a paraprofessional deputy parole agent while on parole himself. The unsold series was to relate Pete’s efforts to help recently released convicts stay out of trouble. Other Regulars: Gina, Pete’s parole officer; and Len, the director of state parole services.

Cast: Tony LoBianco (Pete Mackey), Sheree North (Gina Polaski), Dana Andrews (Len Raeburn). Guest Cast: Jesse Welles (Debbie), Ed Lauter (Siggie), Bill Henderson (Leroy Benson), John Sylvester White (Cavelli), Lieux Dressler (Lila).

7315 Shadow of a Man. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/19/63). An unsold series (slated to be called Double Indemnity) about the investigations of Barton Keyes and Walter Kneff, undercover insurance investigators. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of The Kraft Mystery Theater, Keyes and Kneff investigate charges that one of their own, Bobby Lee Longstreet, is manipulating finances.

Cast: Broderick Crawford (Barton Keyes), Jack Kelly (Walter Kneff). Guest Cast: Ed Begley (Bobby Lee Longstreet), Beverley Owen (Anita), Michael Burns (Little Bob), John Anderson (Jim Seay), Berkeley Harris (Bellhop).

7316 Shadow of Sam Penny. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 11/3/83). A proposed spin-off from Simon and Simon about Sam Penny, a famous but aging private detective working out of San Francisco. In the pilot episode, A.J. and Rick Simon attempt to help Sam recover the Grandview Diamonds — stolen in 1953 but never recovered after the culprits were apprehended, convicted and arrested. Other Regulars: Angel, Sam’s romantic interest; and Toni, Sam’s Girl Friday.

Cast: Robert Lansing (Sam Penny), Anne Francis (Angel Barkley), Joan Leslie (Toni Myers). Guest Cast: Elisha Cook (Dutch Silver), Dane Clark (Del Mooney), Scott Brady (Alex Kidd), Philip Bruns (Wally Kaper), Clete Roberts (Dennis Markell), Gerald McRaney (Rick Simon), Jameson Parker (A.J. Simon).

7317 Shadow of the Cloak. (Series; Adventure; DuMont; 1951–1952). Peter House is the chief agent of International Security Intelligence, a U.S. government organization that battles espionage rings. Stories follow Peter’s case investigations into situations that could endanger U.S. security.

Cast: Helmut Dantine (Peter House).

7318 Shadow Ops. (Pilot; Adventure; UPN; 12/25/95). A proposed series about a free lance team who tackle extremely dangerous cases for a price. Each team member has a military background and they specialize in infiltration (and incorporate sophisticated gadgets to achieve their goals). In the pilot episode the team (based in Florida) is hired by Russian scientists to retrieve lethal soviet biological weapons being sold in Cuba.

Cast: Adam Baldwin (Dalt), Tanya Pohlkotte (Lane), John Ortiz (Cruz), Leslie Hope (Paige), Will Foster Stewart (Crater), Terence Howard (Jimmy Rio).

7319 Shaft. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1973–1974). John Shaft is a hip, black New York–based private detective. Shaft believes violence is the answer to most of his problems and he takes on the cases that other private detectives rarely handle — complex and baffling crimes. Stories follow Shaft as he does what he does best — romance women and solve crimes. Based on the feature film of the same title with sex and violence curtailed for television. The series, which produced eight episodes, ran from October 9, 1973 to September 3, 1974.

Cast: Richard Roundtree (John Shaft), Ed Barth (Lt. Al Rossi). Theme Song: “Shaft” by Isaac Hayes.

7320 Shaggy and Scooby-Doo: Get a Clue. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2006). A continuation of the Scooby-Doo series. Here Shaggy, the human friend of the cowardly Great Dane, Scooby-Doo, lives in a mansion he inherited from his late uncle. Shaggy and Scooby-Doo, along with their friend Valerie (a human girl) own a company called Adventure in Mystery, Inc. When a mystery crosses their path, they use the Mystery Machine to go to wherever the need may be. Stories follow the trio as they attempt to solve mysteries — some of which are created by the evil Dr. Phibes.

Voice Cast: Frank Welker (Scooby-Doo), Scott Menville (Shaggy), Mindy Cohn (Velma), Jeff Bennett (Dr. Phibes). Theme Vocal: “Get a Clue” by Mark Mothersbaugh.

7321 Shakespeare: The Animated Series. (Series; Cartoon; PBS; 1992–1993). A rather ambitious but short-lived program (November 5, 1992 to January 1, 1993) that failed in an attempt to introduce children to the works of William Shakespeare. Because of the complexity of the original plays, the series adapted them as episodes rather than compete works. Even with a modern twist (updated language but still retaining the integrity of the original stories) The Animated Tales just didn’t catch on. Shortly after the PBS run, HBO picked up the series for Saturday morning repeats.

Voices: David Acton, Alun Armstrong, John Baddeley, Katy Behean, Patrick Brennan, Brendan Charleson, Timothy West, Mary Wimbush.

7322 Shaky Ground. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992–1993). Bob Moody is a blue collar worker. He would like to work at the Playboy Channel, but his wife, Helen, who works at the Greentree Bookstore, won’t let him. So Bob has settled down as the manager of Quality Assurance for General Technologies, an aerospace company in Los Angeles. Bob is also the father of three children (Bernadette, Dillon and Carter). He is 38 years old, has been married fifteen years and enjoys a cold beer after a hard day’s work (“God’s gift to the working man”). Stories relate events in Bob’s life as he struggles to cope with life at home and at work. Other Regulars: Russell, Bob’s co-worker. Phoebe Snow sings the theme, “Shaky Ground.”

Cast: Matt Frewer (Bob Moody), Robin Riker (Helen Moody), Jennifer Love Hewitt (Bernadette Moody), Bradley Pierce (Dillon Moody), Matthew Brooks (Carter Moody), Harold Sylvester (Russell).

7323 Sham. (Experimental; Comedy; DuMont; 1/28/45). A husband and wife, returning home from a play, surprise a burglar in their living room. The thief is an art lover and complains that they have nothing of value to steal. The husband is about to call the police when the crook tells him that if he does so and tells them nothing was stolen, the neighbors will be tipped off that their home is furnished with junk. The play concludes with the couple begging the art thief to steal something to save their reputation.

Cast: Frieda Inescort (Wife), Melville Cooper (Husband), Harvey Stephens (Burglar).

7324 The Shameful Secrets of Hastings Corners. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 1/14/70). Hastings Corners is a small town filled with shameful secrets. It is also home to two feuding families — the Honkers and Fandangos. The unsold series, a spoof of television soap operas, was to focus on the various residents of the town — each of whom fears that their shameful secret will one day come to light and disgrace them.

Regulars: Ta Ta Honker, head of the Honker family, and his children, Jenny, Charlotte and twins Corey and Morey; Pa Fandango, head of the Fandangos, and his offspring, Tina, Brett and Junior; Dr. Byron Dorman, the town psychiatrist; Frieda Bindel, the elderly woman whom the whole town fears (she holds many shameful secrets in her memory); and Stacy, Frieda’s niece.

Cast: Larry D. Mann (Ta Ta Honker), Ann Willis (Jenny Honker), Karen Black (Charlotte Honker), Hal Linden (Corey and Morey Honker), Peter Brocco (Pa Fandango), Hoke Howell (Brett Fandango), Stefani Warren (Tina Fandango), Barry Williams (Junior Fandango), Alan Oppenheimer (Dr. Byron Dorman), Madge Blake (Frieda Bindel), Robyn Millan (Stacy Bindel). Guest Cast: Woodrow Parfrey (Trial judge), Jack Riley (Trial witness), Larry Gelman (D.A.’s assistant).

7325 The Shamrock Conspiracy. (Pilot; Crime Drama; UPN; 3/7/95). Ted Harrison is a former Chief Inspector with Scotland Yard who, after 33 years on the job, retires to buy a sheep ranch in Australia. He’s had enough of police work and wants to experience new horizons. Before moving to Australia, Ted decides to visit his daughter, Cecilia, in New York City. Cecilia is engaged to Detective Sergeant Frank Jeffries, a media public relations liaison for the N.Y.P.D. It is when Frank takes Ted to see an old friend, now his boss, Police Deputy Chief O’Connor, that Ted becomes interested in a case involving a serial killer whose victims frequented a bar called the Shamrock. After helping the police solve the case, Ted is offered a position as a consultant to the N.Y.P.D. The proposed series, slated to be called The Inspector, is the first pilot produced for the then new United Paramount Network.

Cast: Edward Woodward (Edward “Ted” Harrison), Elizabeth Hurley (Cecilia Harrison), Jeffrey Nordling (Frank Jeffries), Al Waxman (Chief O’Connor). Guest Cast: Kim Coates (Sean Nolan), Daniel Von Barga (Captain Sternhardt), Mike Starr (Vince Tierney), Jeremy Ratchford (Johnny McQueen), Claire Coulter (Mae Dillon).

7326 Shane. (Series; Western; ABC; 1966). Wyoming in the late 1860s is the setting. Shane is a mysterious wandering ex-gunman who, for unknown reasons, sides with homesteaders against cattlemen in the bloodthirsty quest for land. Shane settles down, temporarily, as a ranch hand at a ranch owned by Marian Starrett, a widower with a young son (Joey). Stories relate events in Shane’s life as he becomes a father-like figure to Joey and helps Marian maintain her ranch. Tom Starrett is Marian’s father;

Rufe Ryker is the cattle baron; Sam Grafton is Ryker's assistant. Based on the feature film of the same title.

Cast: David Carradine (Shane), Jill Ireland (Marian Starrett), Christopher Shea (Joey Starrett), Tom Tully (Tom Starrett), Bert Freed (Rufe Ryker), Sam Gilman (Sam Grafton). Theme Song: "Shane" by Victor Young.

7327 Shangri-La Plaza. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/30/90). A rather unusual series project wherein most of the dialogue is sung as it depicts life at the Shangri-La Plaza, a mini-mall in Southern California. Regulars: Amy and her sister Jenny, who run the Doughnut Shop; Ira and George, owners of the Bondo Brothers Garage (where, with a tune-up, customers get a free yogurt); Victorrio, owner of Victorrio's Videos (also the Plaza's manager); Chili, the parking lot attendant; Noz, the skateboard wizard; Veronica, Noz's girlfriend; and Geneva, owner of the Doughnut Shop.

Cast: Melora Hardin (Amy Copeland), Allison Mack (Jenny Copeland), Jeff Yagher (George Bondo), Terrence Mann (Ira Bondo), Chris Sarandon (Victorrio), Hilary Shepard (Veronica), Bernie Coulson (Noz), Carmen Lundy (Geneva), Savion Glover (Chili). Guest Cast: Victoria Stevens, Glen Chin (Customers), Barry Bernal, Travis Paye (Rap Dancers). Note: Press information differs from screen information (which is listed above). The following appears on press releases: Amy runs the Donut Hole and Jenny is her daughter; Ira and George run The Fast Service Auto and Body Shop.

7328 Shannon. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1961). Joseph Shannon, called Joe, is an insurance investigator for the Transport Bonding and Surety Company. Bill Cochran, the company owner, employs him and stories follow Joe as he investigates claims posted against the company.

Cast: George Nader (Joe Shannon), Regis Toomey (Bill Cochran).

7329 Shannon. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1981–1982). Jack Shannon is a detective lieutenant with the S-Squad, an elite group of special assignment agents with the San Francisco Police Department. Jack is a widower and the father of 10-year-old John. Irene Lokatelli is Jack's mother-in-law; Phil Lokatelli is Irene's husband; Sally Reynolds is Jack's information girl.

Jack works with Lt. Rudy Moraga and Detectives Norm White and Schmidt and stories relate their case investigations.

Cast: Kevin Dobson (Jack Shannon), Charlie Fields (John Shannon), Karen Kondazian (Irene Lokatelli), Al Ruscio (Paul Lokatelli), Michael Durrell (Rudy Maraga), William Lucking (Norm White), Bruce Kirby (Detective Schmidt), Joan Pringle (Sally Reynolds).

7330 Shannon's Deal. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1990–1991). John Francis ("Jack") Shannon is a former corporate lawyer (with the firm of Coleman and Weiss) who is now struggling to make it on his own as a criminal lawyer (the sign on his office door at 14 East Ashton Street, reads "John Shannon — Attorney-at-Law"). He is divorced, addicted to gambling and is in serious debt to a bookie named Mr. Testa, who is represented by his collector, Wilmer Slade. Jack lives in Apartment 4B in a building at East 18th Street in Philadelphia. To help pay off some of his debts, Jack took a temporary job with the law firm of Bancroft and Sloane. His clients say, "Just make a deal with them, Mr. Shannon; they say you're good at that."

Neala Shannon, Jack's pretty 15-year-old daughter, attends Westmuller Conservatory. She says, "Jack works on contingency — one third of the settlement fee; he likes it like that."

Lucy DaCosta is Jack's attractive secretary. She says, "I work for the best lawyer in town," and appears to have a crush on him. (She receives little pay and sticks by him under all circumstances except one — "If you gamble, I go." Jack has not returned to gambling since; it's paying off his prior debts that is the problem.)

Themes: "Shannon's Deal," by Mason Daring and John Sayles (first season); "The New Shannon's Deal," by Wynton Marsalis (second season, opening theme); and "Live and Learn," vocal by Diane Schuur (second season, closing theme).

Cast: Jamey Sheridan (Jack Shannon), Elizabeth Pena (Lucy DaCosta), Jenny Lewis (Neala Shannon), Jack Orend (Mr. Testa), Richard Edson (Wilmer Slade), Ralph Waite (Harry Shannon, Jack's father).

7331 The Shape of Things. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1982). Comedy sketches coupled with music and songs that present a view of the world as seen through the eyes of women. A potentially good idea that, due to tasteless writing and exploitive views, failed to come off as an entertaining vehicle. The series was cancelled after three episodes. George Schlatter is the producer.

Program One Hosts: Morgan Fairchild, Lynn Redgrave, Betty White. Program Two Hosts: Susan Anton, Juliet Prowse, Ruth Buzzi, Isabel Sanford. Program Three Hosts: Eileen Brennan, Donna Dixon, Nancy Dussault, Rita Moreno. Regulars: Rhonda Bates, Elayne Boosler, Judy Carter, Maureen Murphy, Debbie Archibald, Alvernette Jiminez, David Rupprecht, Howie Mandel, The Chippendale Dancers. Orchestra: Lenny Stack.

7332 Shaping Up. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1984). The comical goings-on at the Los Angeles-based Buddy Fox's Health Spa. Buddy Fox is the slightly out of shape spa owner; Ben is the manager; Shannon, the aerobics instructor and Melissa, Shannon's assistant. Featured spa members are Zonya, Shirley and Jerry.

Cast: Leslie Nielsen (Buddy Fox), Michael Fontaine (Ben Zachary), Jennifer Tilly (Shannon Winters), Shawn Weatherly (Melissa McDonald), Catherine Shurriff (Zonya Antonova), Judy Pioli (Shirley), Jake Steinfeld (Jerry).

7333 Shaq's Big Challenge. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2007). A group of overweight Florida youngsters strive for a better life by losing weight under the guidance of basketball star Shaquille O'Neil. Along with a chef (Tyler Florence) and a nutritionist (Joy Bauer) the kids are put through various exercises to hopefully shed some pounds. There are no elimination sequences; the kids are in it for the long haul and whether they want to goof off or lose weight (participate in the program) is entirely up to them. The program gives the impression that the parents of these children are either dense or simply do not care how much junk food their child eats (as they are at dangerously obese levels).

Host: Shaquille O'Neil.

7334 The Shari Lewis Show. (Series; Children; NBC; 1960–1963). Music, song and comedy with ventriloquist Shari Lewis and her hand puppets Lamb Chop, Charlie Horse and Hush Puppy. Mr. Goodfellow is Shari's assistant; Jump Pump is the St. Bernard. The series ran from October 1, 1960 to September 28, 1963 and is based on several local New York shows hosted by Shari Lewis: Facts 'n' Fun (over WNBT-TV in 1953); Shari and Her Friends (over WPIX-TV in 1954); and Shariland (WRCA-TV in 1957).

Cast: Shari Lewis (Hostess), Ronald Radd (Mr. Goodfellow), Jackie Warner (Jump Pup).

7335 The Shari Lewis Show. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1975). The Bearly Broadcasting Company is a TV station that is run by 25 puppets. Ventriloquist Shari Lewis is the human assistant station manager. The program is designed to show children how people relate to one another, how they create problems and how they resolve them through the activities of the staff as they prepare programs for broadcast.

Host: Shari Lewis. Voices: Shari Lewis, Mallory Tarcher, Ron Martin.

7336 Shari Lewis: Have I Got a Song for You. (Pilot; Children; Syn.; 3/85). Fairy tales for children as told by ventriloquist Shari Lewis and her puppets Lamb Chop, Charlie Horse and Hush Puppy. In the pilot, the tales of "Rumpelstiltskin," "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" and "The Tortoise and the Hare" are related.

Host: Shari Lewis. Theme Vocal: "I Love Happy Endings" by Shari Lewis.

7337 Shark. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2006–2008). Sebastian Stark, called Shark (a name he hates) is a brilliant defense lawyer. He believes in only two words for a jury to say—"Not Guilty." He also lives by three rules: "My Cutthroat Manifesto" (which governs every decision he makes on every single case); "Truth is Relative" and "In a jury trial, there are only twelve opinions that matter."

Shark is also divorced (from Claire) and the father of 16-year-old Julie. His favorite song is Bobby Darin's version of "Mack the Knife." To Shark, the legal system is a game he plays for fun and profit. However, after one case, in which he wins the acquittal of a wife beater, his world turns upside down when the wife beater later kills his wife.

Shortly after, the mayor of Los Angeles, Manuel Delgado, approaches Shark and asks him to head the High Profile Unit of the District Attorney's office. Feeling guilty for what has just happened, Shark takes the offer and is assigned by the D.A. (Jessica Devlin) to a young staff of prosecutors: Richie Casey Woodland (the son of a senator. He is charming and good with a jury but weak on facts); Billie Willis (passionate, but emotion clouds her judgment); Martin Allende (great on paper [writes for the Law Revue] but weak on his feet); Raina Troy (has major authority problems; she is a citation waiting to happen); and Madeline Poe (a volunteer for the unit who wants to become a lawyer).

Shark was once a brilliant defense attorney; he is now a brilliant prosecutor with a raw staff he must nurture and teach how to apply his shark-like ruthless defense tactics into shark-like prosecutions. When Shark won a case, the newspapers reported it as "Shark Strikes Again." He is now hoping to win that notoriety as a prosecutor. Stories follow Sebastian and his team as they prosecute cases for the D.A.

Cast: James Woods (Sebastian Stark), Jeri Ryan (Jessica Devlin), Danielle Panabaker (Julie Stark), Sophina Brown (Raina Troy), Sarah Carter (Madeline Poe), Sam Page (Richie Woodland), Alexis Cruz (Martin Allende), Lindsay Frost (Claire Stark), Carlos Gomez (Manuel Delgado), Lynn Whitfield (Anita Astin), Romy Rosemont (Margaret Pool).

7338 The Sharon Osbourne Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 2003–2004). A daily talk show hosted by Sharon Osbourne (of the Osbournes and singer-musician Ozzy Osbourne's better half). The program, set in a mockup of Sharon's living room, has a home-spun feeling as Sharon interviews her celebrity guests. Each program ends with a performance by a name or up and coming band or musical group.

Host: Sharon Osbourne.

7339 Shasta McNasty. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1999–2000). Dennis, Randy and Scott are three slackers who hope to make musical history as the rock band Shasta McNasty (later called Shasta). The friends live on Venice Beach in California and, while practicing their music should be a big part of their lives, chasing girls and devising schemes to earn money is more important. Stories, which contain frantic music, physical comedy and pop-up videos, follow the group as they attempt to succeed in the music business.

Cast: Jake Busey (Dennis), Dale Godboldo (Randy), Carmine Giovinazzo (Scott), Jolie Jenkins (Diana), April Mills (Ren), Kristen Winnick (Trina).

7340 Shaughnessey. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/6/76). The Morgan Cab Company in Chicago is the setting for an unsold pre-Taxi-like series about a crusty dispatcher (Eddie Shaughnessey), his wife (Doris), his misadventure-prone drivers (Mona, Steve, Phil, Clyde and Dominic) and his mechanic, Banners. Other Regulars: Mr. Morgan, the company owner.

Cast: Pat McCormick (Eddie Shaughnessey), Nita Talbot (Doris Shaughnessey), Sally Kirkland (Mona Phillips), Warren Berlinger (Banners), Jack Mullaney (Steve Williams), Ralph Wilcox (Phil Jenkins), David Hinton (Clyde Hawkins), Tom Fucello (Dominic Mazaracio), David Doyle (Mr. Morgan).

7341 Shazam! (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1974–1977). Billy Batson is a teenager chosen by the immortal Elders (Solomon, Hercules, Achilles, Zeus, Atlas and Mercury) for a never ending mission: to right wrongs. Billy is teamed with Mentor, a mysterious gray haired man who chauffeurs Billy “along the highways and byways of the land” in a 25 foot mobile home. When Billy requires special help, he can summon awesome forces by uttering a single word: Shazam! When he does, the skies darken, a bolt of lightning strikes him and he is transformed into Captain Marvel, a heroic crime fighter who can fly, is impervious to harm, and has incredible strength (he wears a red suit with a gold cape).

The Elders appear in animated form (only their eyes and mouths move) and can contact Billy through a magical dome inside the mobile home. Once contacted, Billy speaks the words “O, Elders, whose fate is strong and wise, appear before my eyes.” The Elders appear in a ghostly sequence and tell Billy what he must do to help someone in need. If Mentor needs to contact the Elders, he can repeat the same phrase.

If the Elders believe Billy will require help, they contact Mentor, who in turn seeks Andrea Thomas (JoAnna Cameron), the California high school teacher who is secretly Isis, a gorgeous crime fighter who helps good defeat evil (see Isis for information). Isis first teamed with Billy in the episode “Double-edged Sword.”

The series is based on the Whiz Comics character created by Ralph Daigh and Bill Parker. Their original concept found Billy Batson as a radio broadcaster for station WHIZ while Shazam was an aged wizard he found living in an abandoned subway tunnel. Shazam gave Billy the power to become Captain Marvel by shouting his name. The television version does not relate how Billy met Mentor. Shazam is a combination of the first letters of each of the Elders’ names.

A narrator opens the show: “Chosen from all others by the Immortal Elders, Solomon, Hercules, Atlas, Zeus, Achilles and Mercury, Billy Batson and his mentor travel the highways and byways of the land on a never-ending mission to right wrongs, to develop understanding and seek justice for all. In times of dire need, Billy has been given the power by the Immortals to summon awesome forces at the utterance of a single word — Shazam! — a word that transforms him in a flash to the mightiest of mortal beings — Captain Marvel.”

Cast: Michael Gray (Billy Batson), Jackson Bostwick (Captain Marvel), John Davey (Captain Marvel; later), Les Tremayne (Mentor).

7342 Shazzan! (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1967–1969). When twins Nancy and Chuck find two ancient ring halves and place them together (spelling the word Shazzan) they are magically transported to the age of the Arabian Knights and become the masters of Shazzan, a powerful 60-foot genie. Stories depict their battle against evil.

Voice Cast: Barney Phillips (Shazzan), Janet Waldo (Nancy), Jerry Dexter (Chuck).

7343 *S*H*E*. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 2/23/80). Lavinia Kean is a beautiful S*H*E (Security Hazards Expert) agent for the U.S. Intelligence Agency who tackles extremely dangerous international assignments. In the pilot episode, Lavinia and her assistant, Lacey, attempt to stop Cesare Magnasco, an international criminal who plans to contaminate the world’s supply of oil.

Cast: Cornelia Sharpe (Lavinia Kean), William Taylor (Lacey). Guest Cast: Omar Sharif (Cesare Magnasco), Anita Ekberg (Dr. Else Biebling), Robert Lansing (Owen Hooper), Isabella Rye (Fanya), Thom Christopher (Eddie Bronzi), Fabio Testi (Rudolph Caserta), Mario Colli (Alfredo Mucci).

7344 She-Ra, Princess of Power. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1985). A spin-off from He-Man and the Masters of the Universe. Princess Adora (secretly She-Ra) and Prince Adam (secretly He-Man) are the twin children of King Randor and Queen Marlene, the rulers of the planet Eternia (they live in the Kingdom of Eternos). While Adam grew up to become the mighty He-Man, the defender of the Castle Grayskull, Adora’s life was different. She was kidnapped as an infant by the evil Horde (who is seeking to rule Eternia) and raised (manipulated by the magic of the Shadow Weaver). Adora grew up batting good — until a chance encounter with He-Man enlightened her as to her true identity. Adora broke free of her manipulation and became She-Ra, a rebellious warrior dedicated to ending Horde's reign over Eternia.

She-Ra wields a magic sword (the Sword of Protection) and becomes She-Ra by holding the sword and saying, "For the honor of Grayskull, I am She-Ra." While Adora displays the female traits of kindness and compassion, She-Ra is super strong, agile and athletic. Assisting Adora in her battles are Princess Glimmer of Brightmoon (she is capable of controlling light); Madame Razz (an absent-minded witch with a talking broom named Kowl); Bow (an archer), Castapella (a sorceress), Mermista (a siren princess); and Frostia (who commands ice and snow). Adora rides a horse named Spirit; when she transforms into She-Ra, Spirit becomes the unicorn Swift Wind.

Voice Cast: Melendy Britt (Princess Adora/She-Ra), Linda Gary (Castaspella), Diane Pershing (Netossa), George DiCenzo (Bow), Erica Scheimer (Frostia), Alan Oppenheimer (Beast Man), Lou Scheimer (Horde Trooper), John Erwin (He-Man).

7345 She Spies. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; Syn.; 2002–2004). Cassie McBain, D.D. Cummings and Shane Phillips are three beautiful girls recruited by an agent named Jack Wilde to form She Spies, a government organization designed to battle crime and corruption.

Cassie, D.D. and Shane are a new millennium version of the 1970s Charlie's Angels. Jack is a combination of John Bosley and Charlie Townsend; he formed the group and now oversees their operations. Unlike the girls of Charlie's Angels, who were ex-cops recruited by Charlie, Jack's "Angels" are bad girls gone good — all felons who were released from prison to serve their country.

Cassie was born in Aspen, Colorado. She was raised by her father, a con artist, after her mother's death. Cassie's father taught her how to lie, steal, cheat and con; she became a part of his schemes and it eventually cost her her freedom when one of her cons backfired and she was captured. She is a brilliant career criminal and the self-proclaimed ring leader of the She Spies. Cassie is an expert at bugging and loves pretending to be someone else to get information from suspects.

D.D. was born in Washington, D.C. She is an expert in computers, foreign languages and explosives. Her father was a CIA agent who was framed for spying. D.D. knew he was innocent and the only way she could prove it was to hack into the government's database. She managed to prove her father was innocent, but she was arrested for six counts of stealing state secrets. D.D. is a graduate of Harvard University (she hacked her way into the school's computer system to arrange for a diploma).

Shane was born in Los Angeles. She is African American and from a rich family. She rebelled against her parents and made good by becoming a master thief. She was eventually caught and sent to prison. Another episode claims that Shane was an only child who was raised by her father after her mother's death. Her father wanted a boy and raised her as though she were his son. Shane became "macho," as she says, and was taught things like boxing. She used what she was taught for all the wrong reasons — crime. "I wish I would have spent more time as a girl," she says. Shane is an expert in Brazilian jujitsu and is happy to kick, body punch or slam her way into a situation. She is tough in a fight and will use any means possible to defend herself. Shane is an expert on explosives, safe cracking and alarm systems.

Jack had the idea to recruit three girls from prison with specific skills to fight crime for the government as undercover agents. His superior is the mysterious, unseen Chairman. Jack is now the liaison between his She Spies Program, its official title, and the unnamed government agency that backs him. Their secret base of operations is called She Spy Headquarters.

The team is based in Los Angeles and the girls live together in a house provided for them by the government. D.D. says, "We're part of a candlestein government organization and out to rid the world of evil doers." The girls do not carry guns because D.D. doesn't believe in guns; "We're setting an example because you never know when kids are watching." Jack says, "Technically, you're felons. You're not even out on parole. The agency won't even allow me to give you guns."

The episode of November 24, 2002, "Spies vs. Spy," reveals that before Jack formed the current She Spy Program, a test program was conducted with a single girl named Tonya (Claudia Christian). Tonya, however, "had issues," as Jack says. She didn't fit the program and Jack had to let her go; "I fired her." Tonya escaped before she could be returned to prison and she is now "a bad girl gone good gone bad." She possesses the same skills and beauty as Cassie, Shane and D.D. and can plan and counterplan like an agent. She is also relentless and has set out to destroy the She Spy Program. Jerry Brunskill composed the theme "She Spies."

The program opens with these words: "Every once in a while an elite crime fighting team emerges, highly sophisticated, covert ops specially trained in global intelligence and maneuvers. This is not one of those teams. They're three career criminals with one shot at freedom. Now they're working for the Feds who put them away. These are the women of She Spies — bad girls gone good."

Note: Four episodes were scheduled to air on NBC. Only three actually aired (July 26–August 9, 2002); the fourth is listed in various TV programming guides for August 16. The syndicated run began in September of 2002.

Cast: Natasha Henstridge (Cassie McBain), Kristen Miller (D.D. Cummings), Natashia Williams (Shane Phillips), Carlos Jacott (Jack Wilde), Cameron Daddo (Quentin Cross), Bruce Boxleitner (The Chairman), Jamie Iglehart (Duncan Baleu).

7346 She TV. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1994). Comedy sketches from the female point of view. Spoofs include parodies on network and cable TV shows, movies, politics, newscasters and celebrities.

Regulars: Nick Bakay, Carl Banks, Jennifer Coolidge, Elon Gold, Linda Kash, Simbi Kahli, Becky Thrye, Linda Wallem. Orchestra: The She TV All-Girl Band.

7347 She-Wolf of London. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1990–1991). Randi Wallace, a Los Angeles college student interested in mythology and disproving the supernatural, relocates to England to do research on her thesis. There, she begins classes at the University (as it is called) under Ian Matheson, a parapsychology professor.

Shortly after, while doing research on the Moors, Randi is attacked and bitten by a werewolf. Though she has deep scratches on the right side of her face, she appears to be recovering normally (“clean wounds, no residual scarring”). However, the first full moon brings about a dramatic change: the beautiful student becomes a hideous werewolf (in her first transformation, she chases Ian but does not kill him). When daylight breaks and she returns to her normal self, she finds herself naked and in search of clothes.

Randi has recollections of her transformations, and she asks Ian for help: “You and I can’t explain what happened last night, so let’s solve this thing together.... Tomorrow is the first day of the rest of my curse.” Stories relate Randi and Ian’s involvement with supernatural creatures as they seek a cure for Randi.

Randi is marked by a pentagram (the sign of the wolf). The first thing Randi noticed different about herself after the attack was her craving for meat (which she had given up many years ago).

When Ian and Randi first met, Ian told her that in England her name means “erotically charged.” When Ian discovers that Randi is unable to find a decent place to live (University residency problems), he gets her a room with his parents, who run the Matheson Bed and Breakfast Inn. To protect Randi on nights when the moon is full, Ian locks her in a cell in the basement of the inn.

Ian is the author of the books The Face of Fear and Satan’s Sex Slaves (a study of mythology). Ian is later promoted to the head of the Mythology Department of the University.

Pltak (Peter Lee Wilson) is the Gypsy werewolf who bit Randi. Although Pltak was killed in a car crash when Randi and Ian pursued him, Randi’s curse was not lifted (legend states that killing the werewolf that caused the addiction will end the curse. This is true only if the werewolf killed is the source of the curse and the bloodline is ended).

Ian is investigating unearthly happenings for book material; Randi is assisting him in the hope that one such occurrence will provide the cure she needs to end her affliction. If a cure other than ending the werewolf bloodline cannot be found, Randi’s only release from her curse would be for Ian — who loves her — to kill her with a silver bullet. See also Love and Curses, the revised series title.

Cast: Kate Hodge (Randi Wallace), Neil Dickson (Ian Matheson), Dianne Youdale (Randi as a werewolf), Jean Challis (Ian’s mother), Arthur Cox (Ian’s father). Theme: “She-Wolf of London” by Steve Levine.

7348 Shear Genius. (Series; Reality; Bravo; 2007). Hair designers are placed in the spotlight. A behind-the-scenes look at the preparations that go into producing a fashion show (or other major event). Interwoven into the presentations is a weekly competition wherein a group of hairstylists attempt to outdo each other to determine the country’s best hair stylist. A panel of judges decides the winner.

Host: Jaclyn Smith. Judges: Sally Hershberger, Michael Cail, Rene Fris. Models: Meagan Flynn, Adele Jones.

7349 Sheehy and the Supreme Machine. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/22/77). The Supreme Machine is a group of mischievous teenagers (Dirt, Bogen, Teddy, Evel and Pantsface) who hang out in an apartment building where Jack Sheehy, an ex-Marine has just become the maintenance man. Jack has reluctantly taken charge of the gang and his efforts to maintain the tranquility of the building while attempting to discipline the teens was to be the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Mr. Cagle, the building owner; and Loretta, Bogen’s mother.

Cast: John Byner (Jack Sheehy), Tige Andrews (Mr. Cagle), John Cassisi (Dirt), Jimmy Baio (Bogen), Pierre Daniel (Teddy), Moosie Drier (Evel), David Arnott (Pantsface), Gwynne Gilford (Loretta Bogen).

7350 Sheena. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 2000). The LaMista, a dangerous area in Maltoka, Africa, is home to Sheena, a beautiful, 25-year-old, blonde jungle goddess who protects the tribes and animals of her adopted homeland from evil.

Sheena, real name Cheryl, was five years old when a tragic event changed her life. It was on the morning of her fifth birthday that Cheryl’s mother, Amanda (Carol Grow) and father (not seen or named) entered a cave. Moments later Cheryl's parents are killed by a rock slide. Cheryl (Brittany Robertson), waiting outside the cave, wanders off when she feels something is wrong. She is clutching the elephant bracelet her mother had given to her as a present when she is found by Kali, medicine woman of the Kia tribe. When Kali investigates and discovers Cheryl's parents are dead, she raises the child as her own daughter (Kali named Cheryl Shi-ena, but Cheryl preferred Sheena).

Kali is the woman tribesmen come to for help and advice. She is also the last of her tribe (the Kia possessed a mysterious power to morph [change] into animals. When civilization came to Africa, the Kia tribe, with the exception of Kali, chose to become animal). Kali passed the knowledge of morphing to Sheena, who now uses this ability to help her fight evil.

For Sheena to become an animal, she must feel the spirit of that animal inside of her (what she calls "The Mantra"). She then looks into the eyes of the animal and the transformation begins. Once she becomes an animal, Sheena is prone to two dangers: retaining part of that animal if she remains in that form for too long, and injury (if Sheena is hurt in her animal form, she will retain that injury when she becomes human). Sheena cannot talk to animals but she can communicate with them. She is friends with all animals except rogues (like the Silverback gorilla). She is also unable to morph into a rogue "because there is no focus." The clothes Sheena wears have to be made of natural fiber or they will not change with her when she morphs. Sheena can follow animal and humans by their scents and will only kill a human if one threatens to kill her.

The LaMista is also home to a legendary creature called the Darak'na. It is said that when evildoers come to Africa, the Darak'na will strike. The Darak'na ("Shadow" in English) is actually Sheena, using a power Kali taught her to battle evil when evil fights unfair. The Darak'na is a vicious, cat-like creature with razor sharp claws. Sheena becomes the Darak'na by first covering herself with mud. She then concentrates and this change occurs. In this state, Sheena retains her human thought processes but loses her top, exposing her camouflaged, mud-covered breasts (no explanation is given as to why the Darak'na is topless or how Sheena regains her top when she becomes her normal self. Gena does partial nudity, showing her breasts in a side view, but does not play the Darak'na. Vickie Phillips and Denise Loden play the creature). The gossip paper, the National Inquisitor, has offered a $1 million reward for proof of the Darak'na.

Matt Cutter is the only other person who is aware of Sheena's secrets. Matt owns Cutter Enterprises (later called Cutter Unlimited) and offers safaris to search for the Darak'na (he is actually conning people. He knows Sheena is the Darak'na and it will not appear unless evil is present. People say, "Matt Cutter would sell his liver if he could profit off of it"). Matt previously worked for the CIA as the agency's best sniper (his code name was Jericho; he was also an instructor at the Farm, the CIA training camp). One morning, after killing an innocent man by mistake, he quit the agency and retreated to Africa.

Sheena and Matt became friends after Matt, trying to escape from diamond smugglers, fell into a pond of quicksand and was rescued by Sheena.

Sheena thinks she is pretty and attractive and has a crush on Matt, but feels Matt does not see her in the same light as he always calls her "Good Buddy" ("I wonder if he knows I'm a girl," Sheena says to herself, "or just a good buddy?").

Cast: Gena Lee Nolin (Sheena), Margo Moorer (Kali), John Allen Nelson (Matt Cutter).

7351 Sheena, Queen of the Jungle. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1956–1957). A private plane flying over Africa develops engine trouble and crashes into the dense jungle. The pilot and two of the plane's three passengers are killed. The lone survivor, a young girl, is found by Logi, the noble chief of the Inoma tribe. Logi names the girl Sheena and raises her to respect good men and hate bad ones. The series begins when Sheena is 28 years old. She is blonde, five feet, nine inches tall and weighs 141 pounds. She measures 39–24–38 and wears a conservative but leg revealing leopard skin dress with a black waist belt that has a cloth attachment to hold her ivory horn (which she uses to summon the animals for help). Sheena also carries a spear and a knife.

Sheena, called "The White Jungle Goddess" by superstitious natives, is assisted by her pet chimpanzee, Chim (played by Neil). Chim likes to fish and Sheena says that one day he is going to catch "The Big One." Sheena's friend, Bob Rayburn was originally depicted as a white trader and made Kenya his home (he bought supplies from the Evans Trading Post). As more unscrupulous characters invaded Africa, Rayburn was said to be a big game hunter who worked on behalf of the Commissioner to ensure the safety of people on safaris. He originally dressed in a black shirt and white pants and carried a knife and handgun; later, his dress is all white and he is armed with a rifle. Sheena prefers to "move through the trees" (swing by vine from one to another) rather than walking through the jungle ("Faster my way," she says). When Sheena leaves her horn behind it indicates to Bob that she is in trouble.

Irish McCalla as Sheena is television's first female superhero. The character would not appear on television again for 44 years when Gena Lee Nolin became the jungle queen in a new series titled simply Sheena (see prior title).

Anita Ekberg was originally cast (1955) to play Sheena but prior commitments forced her to back out by the time the very rare color pilot was shot (the series is in black and white). The program was filmed in Mexico (although set in Kenya, East Africa; an end credit reads “Animal sequences filmed in Africa”). Irish McCalla originally performed her own stunts. When she injured an arm, her stunts (basically swinging on vines through the trees) were performed by Mexican acrobat Raul Gaona (a tall enough woman, apparently, could not be found). Stunt scenes with Gaona, dressed in a leopard skin and blonde wig, are shot from his back and at a sizeable distance (impossible to tell who it is). Irish’s stunt sequences can be identified by the closeness of the action.

Cast: Irish McCalla (Sheena), Christian Drake (Bob Rayburn), Lee Weaver (Logi). Theme Song: “Sheena” by Eli Briskin.

7352 Sheila. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/29/77). The comical life of a single girl in Manhattan as seen through the experiences of Sheila Levine, an attractive Girl Friday for Marty Rose, a lady-chasing Broadway producer.

Other Regulars: Kate, Sheila’s roommate; and Stewart, Marty’s son.

Cast: Dori Brenner (Sheila Levine), Milton Berle (Marty Rose), Barbara Trentham (Kate), George Wyner (Stewart Rose). Guest Cast: Larry Breeding (Joshua), Philip R. Allen (Brad Wooly).

7353 The Sheila Graham Show. (Series; Interview; NBC; 1951). Newspaper columnist Sheila Graham hosts a program of celebrity gossip and interviews that ran from January 20, 1951 to July 14, 1951.

7354 The Sheila MacRae Show. (Series; Interview; Syn.; 1971). Actress Sheila MacRae and her daughters, Meredith and Heather MacRae, co-host a series of interviews with appropriate guests on topical issues.

7355 Shell Game. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1987). When a con by Jennie Jerome goes awry, her former partner, now television producer John Reid, helps her by hiding her out. In return, Jennie helps John acquire a story for his consumer show (Solutions over KJME-TV, Channel 6 in Santa Ana, California). The two become partners again and stories relate their adventures as they use their skills to acquire stories. Other Regulars: Natalie, the newscaster; William, the show’s host; and Bert, the station manager.

Cast: Margot Kidder (Jennie Jerome), James Read (John Reid), Marg Helgenberger (Natalie Thayer), Rod McCary (William Bauer), Chip Zien (Bert Luna).

7356 Shelley Duvall’s Bedtime Stories. (Series; Anthology; Showtime; 1992–1994). An animated series that adapts children’s picture book stories to television. Among the stories presented were Little Toot and the Loch Ness Monster (with the voices of Shelley Duvall, Rick Moranis), Bootsie Barker Bites (voices of Rhea Perlman, B.J. Ward), Elizabeth and Larry (voices of Shelley Duvall, Jean Stapleton), My New Neighbors (voices of Billy Crystal, Shelley Duvall), The Christmas Witch (voices of Angela Lansbury, Shelley Duvall), The Little Rabbit Who Wanted Wings (voices of Michael J. Fox, Shelley Duvall) and Uncle Wizzmo’s New Used Car (voices of Ed Begley, Jr., Shelley Duvall).

Hostess: Shelley Duvall.

7357 Shenanigans. (Series; Game; ABC; 1964–1965). Two children begin each game on the start position of a large electronic game board. Each player moves the amount of spaces determined by the roll of two dice. Each space contains a printed question or stunt and players must do what is printed on the space on which they stop. Each correct answer or performance awards the player Shenanigans play money. The first player to complete the board is the winner and trades his play money for merchandise prizes.

Host: Stubby Kaye. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

7358 Shepherd’s Flock. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/29/71). Jack Shepherd is an ex-football player turned minister of the Cypress Bay Union Church. His efforts to control his quick temper and adjust to a new life and responsibilities was to be the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Jack seeks a way to raise money for his church after it is destroyed by fire. Other Regulars: Abby, Jack’s assistant; and Dr. Hewitt, the Bishop.

Cast: Kenneth Mars (Jack Shepherd), Jill Jaress (Abby Scofield), Don Ameche (Dr. Hewitt), Walter Hackett (Ralph Williams; guest role).

7359 The Sheriff and the Astronaut. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 5/24/84). Ed Cassaday is the frontier-like sheriff of modern day Carrow County. Dr. Ellen Vale is an astronaut at NASA’s Dwight D. Eisenhower Space Center. Ed and Ellen are also lovers and the unsold series was to focus on their unlikely relationship and efforts to make it last. In the pilot episode, Ed searches for an elusive killer who uses hunting arrows to kill off members of a prestigious family. Other Regulars: Tom, Ed’s brother, a deputy; Al, the NASA security chief; astronauts John and Robert; Felice, Ed’s secretary; and deputies Billy and Danny.

Cast: Alec Baldwin (Ed Cassaday), Ann Gillespie (Ellen Vale), Don Hood (Tom Cassaday), Kene Holliday (Al Stark), Gregg Berger (John Fitch), Tuck Milligan (Billy LaPantier), Scott Paulin (Robert Malfi), Ruth Britt (Felice Winter), Billy Drago (Danny). Guest Cast: John Randolph (Hank Bashaw), Steve Franken (Agent Henley), Bruce Fischer (Axel Soames), Stanley Kamel (Philip Tabbet), Mark Schubb (Tim Hillman), Bill Morey (Charles Tabbet).

7360 Sheriff of Cochise. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1956–1958). Frank Morgan is the sheriff of Cochise, a large community in Arizona. He believes that the law is the law and prides himself on upholding that philosophy. Cochise is plagued by the modern day (1956) breed of criminal and stories follow Frank as he uses time-honored methods to uphold the peace and bring law breakers to justice. See also U.S. Marshal, the spin-off series.

Cast: John Bromfield (Sheriff Frank Morgan), Stan Jones (Deputy Rafe Patterson).

7361 Sheriff Who? (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/5/67). A spoof of westerns that, set in Blood, Texas, tells the tale of Roy Slade, an evil outlaw who rules the town and its cowardly citizens. The title is derived from the citizens' efforts to find a sheriff who can live long enough to bring law and order to Blood. See also Evil Roy Slade.

Cast: John Astin (Roy Slade), Dick Shawn (Crawford Offwhite), Jeannine Riley (Betsy), Richard Stahl (Whittler), Hal Smith (Judge Grant).

7362 Sherlock Holmes. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1951). An unsuccessful attempt at a weekly series featuring the crime-solving exploits of Sherlock Holmes, a London-based consulting detective, and his friend and biographer, Dr. John H. Watson. In the pilot episode, titled "The Man Who Disappeared," Holmes probes the sudden disappearance of Dr. Watson. The pilot was filmed in England and with six minutes of additional footage, was released theatrically as a featurette in April 1951. The episode was originally titled "The Man with the Twisted Lip."

Cast: John Longden (Sherlock Holmes), Campbell Singer (Dr. John H. Watson). Guest Cast: Hector Ross (Neville St. Clair), Inka Dolega (Kate St. Clair), Beryl Baxter (Doreen), Walter Gotell (Lurotto).

7363 Sherlock Holmes. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1954–1955). London, England, in 1897 is the setting. When John H. Watson, an army doctor stationed in Afghanistan, is wounded (shot in the shoulder), he is ordered to return home to England. While looking for a place to live, he runs into an old friend who tells him about "a chap named Sherlock Holmes" who is also seeking lodging. At the University Hospital, Watson first meets Sherlock Holmes. Holmes is working in a lab and tells Watson about a flat for rent at 221-B Baker Street (the first door up). "We examined the rooms," Dr. Watson says, "and we moved in the next day."

Sherlock Holmes is a consulting detective (he intervenes in baffling police matters), and Dr. Watson is his biographer (he writes of their experiences together and sells the stories to various magazines). Holmes has a lab in the flat and conducts experiments (for example, on beneficial aspects of poison) and has begun investigating such unknown sciences as fingerprints and ink smudges. He solves cases by observation and deduction and says, "It is the little things that make the difference" (the seemingly insignificant pieces of evidence). Holmes plays the violin to think (he also has a fascination for the piano); smokes a pipe; and keeps his canister of tea at the end of a line of bottles of poison on a shelf. He doesn't care who gets the credit for solving a crime, but he takes pride in hearing Watson say, "Brilliant, Holmes, absolutely brilliant," after he solves a crime.

Inspector Lestrade is with New Scotland Yard and likes his cases "fast and simple." He believes Sherlock's experiments are "nonsense" and is constantly amazed by Holmes's ability to solve a case using what he considers the insignificant. The series is based on the character created by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and is also known as The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes. Theme: "Sherlock Holmes," by Paul Durand.

Cast: Ronald Howard (Sherlock Holmes), H. Marion Crawford (Dr. John H. Watson), Archie Duncan (Inspector Lestrade).

7364 Sherlock Holmes in the 22nd Century. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1999–2000). In the 22nd century, a clone of Professor James Moriarty, the evil nemesis of master detective Sherlock Holmes in the 19th century, is accidentally unleashed on New London. To battle him, scientists "thaw out" the real Sherlock Holmes who was "frozen" to battle future evil in the early 20th century. When Holmes awakens, he is teamed with a robotic Dr. Watson to serve as his companion just as the real one once did.

Inspector Beth Lestrade, a descendant of the Inspector Lestrade Holmes and Watson helped in the past, also teams with Holmes to stop Moriarty. Beth is not as tame as her by-the-books ancestor. She is tough and reckless and not one for obeying her superiors. Stories follow Sherlock Holmes as he uses his fantastic methods of deductive reasoning to foil the plots of his greatest enemy, Professor Moriarty. Other characters are Tennison, the wheelchair bound computer expert; and Deidre and Wiggins, legmen for Holmes.

7365 Sherlock Holmes: The Hound of the Baskervilles. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 2/12/72). Sherlock Holmes is a consulting detective (a man who intervenes in baffling police matters). He is a master of deductive reasoning and is assisted by his friend and biographer, Dr. John H. Watson. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they help Police Inspector Lestrade solve the crimes of diabolical evil doers. The pilot episode, based on the story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, relates Holmes's attempts to uncover the source of a supposed family curse that is killing members of the Baskerville family—a vicious dog that prowls the moors near Baskerville Hall.

Cast: Stewart Granger (Sherlock Holmes), Bernard Fox (Dr. John H. Watson), Alan Caillou (Inspector Lestrade). Guest Cast: Anthony Zerbe (Dr. Mortimer), Ian Ireland (Sir Henry Baskerville), William Shatner (Stapleton), Sally Ann Howes (Laura Baskerville), Jane Merrow (Beryl Stapleton), John Williams (Frankland).

7366 Sherlock Jones and Proctor Watson. (Series; Children; PBS; 1986–1987). In London during the 1890s, the famed detective Sherlock Holmes attempts to duplicate himself but fails when a three-foot version of himself appears (whom he calls Sherlock Jones). Holmes crates his creation up and ships him to the FBI in New York City. En route, however, the crate is rerouted and sent to a woman in Texas. She places the crate in the attic and forgets about it. Many years later (1986) young Bryan Hudson hears voices coming from the attic and investigates. He discovers that his dog, Proctor, has discovered and befriended the diminutive Sherlock Jones. Stories relate Brian's efforts to solve crimes with the help of Sherlock (a puppet) and Proctor.

Other Regulars: Ben and Anne Hudson, Bryan's parents; Lynn, his sister; Teddy, his friend; and his uncle, Doyle.

Cast: Mark Ritts (Voice of Sherlock Jones), Chad Sheets (Bryan Hudson), Graham Beach (Voice of Proctor Watson), Michael Costello (Ben Hudson), Mona Lee Fultz (Anne Hudson), Julie Atkin (Lynn Hudson), Mark Evers (Uncle Doyle).

7367 She's in the Army Now. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 5/20/81). The Powder Puff Platoon was the original title for an unsold series about four beautiful WACs (Cass, Rita, Sylvie and Yvette) attached to the U.S. Army's 3rd Platoon of Alpha Company at Fort Jackson (locale not identified) as they struggle to become soldiers. The pilot episode depicts the girls' introduction into the Army and their attempts to help Sylvie, who stands to lose her daughter (Jeannie) in a custody battle with her ex-husband (Virgil).

Cast: Kathleen Quinlan (Sgt. Cass Donner), Jamie Lee Curtis (Pvt. Rita Jennings), Melanie Griffith (Pvt. Sylvie Knoll), Julie Carmen (Pvt. Yvette Rios), Janet MacLachlan (Drill Sergeant Reed), Dale Robinette

(Sergeant Barnes). Guest Cast: Susan Blanchard (Private Virginia Marshall), Robert Pierce (Virgil Knoll), Barbara Block (Jeannie Knoll), Douglas Dirkson (Sergeant King), Rocky Bauer (Nick Donato), Damita Jo Freeman (Tina), Susan Barnes (Grace).

7368 She's the Sheriff. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1987). Lakes County is a small, peaceful town in Nevada. It has its own daily newspaper, the Bugle, a TV station (KLCN) and the county's first female sheriff, Hildegard Granger.

Hildegard, called Hildy, is a widow and the mother of two children, Alison and Kenny. Hildy was married to the former sheriff, Jim Granger. She served as his deputy for two years before retiring to raise a family. When Jim dies unexpectedly, the Nevada Police Commissioner appoints Hildy as the interim sheriff to finish Jim's term.

Hildy lives on the outskirts of town at 3111 Pine Shadow Lane. She was born in Teaneck, New Jersey, and had the nickname Pepper. She and Jim met in high school and both pursued jobs in law enforcement. They became officers with the New Jersey Police Department and married. Shortly after, when an opportunity arose for Jim to become a county sheriff, he and Hildy resigned from the force and moved to Lakes County.

Hildy, maiden name Holt, is now commander of the Lake County Division of the Nevada County Sheriff's Department.

Allison and Kenny attend the Lakes County Grammar School and are cared for by Augusta "Gussie" Holt, Hildy's widowed mother, who lives with them.

Max Rubin, Dennis Putnam, Alvin Wiggins and Hugh Mulcahy are Hildy's deputies, all males who seem somewhat reluctant to take orders from a woman. Max is the Chief Deputy and the man who was in line to replace Jim until the police commissioner thought otherwise. He is bitter and schemes to get Hildy's job by discrediting her. Alvin is a by-the-books deputy and follows Hildy's commands while Hugh likes to do things his way. Dennis is second in command behind Max and often bumbles his assignments and the schemes Max has devised to dispose of Hildy.

Priscilla Barnes was originally cast as Hildy in an unaired pilot version of the series. Bruce Miller composed the theme. See also Cass Malloy.

Cast: Suzanne Somers (Hildy Granger), Nicky Rose (Alison Granger), Taliesin Jaffe (Kenny Granger), Pat Carroll (Gussie Holt), George Wyner (Max Rubin), Lou Richards (Dennis Putnam), Leonard Lightfoot (Alvin Wiggins), Guich Koock (Hugh Mulcahy).

7369 She's with Me. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/24/82). Ellen Madison and her younger sister, Bonnie, have a dream to live and work in San Francisco. When Bonnie takes the first step and moves to San Francisco, Ellen quits her job as a secretary in Illinois and joins her sister. They rent an apartment (on a houseboat) and the unsold series was to relate their experiences as working girls in the City by the Bay. Other Regulars: Chatfield, their landlord; and the unnamed tugboat captain who spies on the girls.

Cast: Gloria Gifford (Ellen Madison), Deborah Pratt (Bonnie Madison), Patrick J. Cronin (Charfield), Barry Hope (Tugboat captain). Guest Cast: Greg Mullavey (Mr. Rogers), Howard Morton (Mr. Meltzer), Barbara Hamilton (Bus official), Toby Iland (Hare Krishna), Joan Dareth (Sales lady).

7370 She's with Me. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/19/86). While selling New Beginning Cosmetics, Edie Gruber, an attractive divorcee, meets Maris McKay, a beautiful fashion model who finds a true friend in Edie when she offers to help her solve a problem with a boyfriend. So grateful for her help and kindness, Maris offers Edie a job as her Girl Friday, which she accepts. The unsold series, set in New York City, was to relate the misadventures of two friends sharing each others' joys and sorrows. Other Regulars: Alma, Edie's friend.

Cast: Dinah Manoff (Edie Gruber), Jerry Hall (Maris McKay), Candice Azzara (Alma Alderman). Guest Cast: Christopher Rich (Cubby Lyons), Charles R. Cooper (Mark Denton), Michael Sabatino (Ray), Beatrice Colen (Gretta), Carol Helvey (Yetta), Jean Sincere (Hedda), Betty Kean (Wendi), Earl Boen (Waiter).

7371 The Shield. (Series; Crime Drama; FX; 2002–2008). An unconventional, hard-hitting police drama that focuses on the less-than-honorable members of the Strike Team, an elite unit of the Los Angeles Police Department. The officers of the unit are corrupt but effective cops. Detective Vic Mackey leads the team. He is considered a rogue cop as he operates under his own set of rules. David Aceveda, the captain is seeking to advance his political ambitions. He dislikes Vic's tactics and wants him out of the unit. Claudette Wymys is a veteran detective who plays both sides of the fence. She understands Vic and she understands David. She manipulates both to achieve her goal.

Cast: Michael Chiklis (Det. Vic Mackey), Benito Martinez (Capt. David Aceveda), C.C.H. Pounder (Det. Claudette Wymys), Glenn Close (Capt. Monica Rawling), Catherine Dent (Off. Danielle Sofer), Michael Jace (Off. Julien Lowe), Kenny Johnson (Det. Curtis "Lemonhead" Lemansky), Walter Goggins (Det. Shane Vendrell), Jay Karnes (Det. Holland "Dutch" Wagenbach), Forest Whitaker (Lt. John Kavanaugh), David Rees Snell (Det. Ron Gardocki).

7372 Shields and Yarnell. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1977–1978). Music, songs and comedy with the husband-and-wife pantomime team of Robert Shields and Lorene Yarnell. Steve Binder is the producer.

Hosts: Robert Shields, Lorene Yarnell. Regulars: Joanna Cassidy, Ted Zeigler, Philip Reade, Gailard Sartain. Music: Norman Mamey.

7373 Shields of Honor. (Unaired Pilot; Reality; Produced in 1992). A proposed series that was to present the actual work of the Coast Guard, Highway Patrol, Forest Rangers, riot police, paramedics and U.S. Marshals as they come to the aid of people in need.

Host: John Bunnell.

7374 Shindig. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1964–1966). Performances by rock, folk and country and western entertainers. The series ran from September 16, 1964 to January 5, 1966. Selig Seligman is the producer.

Host: Jimmy O'Neal. Regulars: Bobby Sherman, Glen Campbell, Donna Loren, The Righteous Brothers, The Shindig Dancers. Music: The Ray Pohlman Band, The Shindogs.

7375 Shining Time Station. (Series; Children; PBS; 1989–1992). Shining Time Station, a railroad passenger terminal of the Indian Valley Railroad, is the setting. Live action is coupled with an elaborate model railroad to relate aspects of the world to children via stories of Thomas the Tank Engine and his friends. The railroad is owned by Sir Top 'Em Hat and is based on the island of Sodor.

Stacy Jones is the stationmaster. Harry is the retired engineer who works as the maintenance man. Tanya, Harry's niece, and Matt, Stacy's nephew, are the children who hang out at the station. Schemer is the scheming entrepreneur seeking to make as much money as he can at the station.

Also residing at the station is Mr. Conductor, a mystical, miniature being who appears to help Tanya and Matt overcome an obstacle by telling them a story about Thomas and his friends (the scene then switches to the railroad where Mr. Conductor is heard over scenes of the trains in action).

Songs are provided by the Puppet Band (Grace, Tito Swing, Didi and Bob and Rex) who live inside of Schemer's jukebox.

Second season episodes change some of the characters. George Carlin replaces Ringo Starr as Mr. Conductor; Billy Two Feathers replaces Harry; Dan Jones replaces Matt as Stacy's nephew; Kara replaces Tanya as Dan's friend; and a third child, Becky, is brought on as a friend to Kara and Matt. Stacy and Schemer remained the same. The model trains used are G-Scale European prototype models. The train seen in the closing theme is an American passenger train owned by the Union Pacific Railroad.

Cast: Ringo Starr (Mr. Conductor), George Carlin (Mr. Conductor), Didi Conn (Stacy Jones), Leonard Jackson (Harry), Tom Jackson (Billy Two Feathers), Brian O'Connor (Schemer), Nicole Leach (Tanya), Jason Woliner (Matt), Erica Luttrell (Kara), Ari Magder (Dan), Danielle Marcott (Becky), Peter Baird (Voice of Grace), Jonathan Freeman (Voice of Tito Swing), Craig Marin (Voice of Bob and Rex), Olga Marin (Voice of Didi). Music Director: Steve Horelick. Theme Vocal: "Shining Time Station" by Kevin Roth.

7376 Shinzo. (Series; Cartoon; ABC Family; 2000–2005). In a futuristic era a DNA virus threatens to destroy the entire human race. To battle it, a group of scientists create genetic beings called Enterrans. In a backup plan, one of the scientists places his daughter, Yakumo, in a cryogenic sleep and places her in a vehicle called Hakuba. His plan is to have her awaken in 50 years and establish peace between the surviving humans and the Enterrans. However, due to a computer error, Yakumo awakens 500 years later when the Hakuba is hit by a meteorite. As a result, Yakumo acquires special powers. While exploring the Earth, she befriends three rebel Enterrans: Kutal, Musha and Sago. From them Yakumo learns that a place called Shinzo holds the only hope of restoring humanity. Stories follow Yakumo as she and her newfound friends battle the evil Enterrans as they search for the mysterious Shinzo. Produced in Japan.

Voice Cast: Peggy O'Neal (Yakumo), Bob Papenbrook (Kutal), Tom Gibis (Musha), Steven Jay Blum (Sago), Philece Sampler (Binka), Jamieson Price (Narrator).

7377 Shipsshape. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/1/78). Leslie O'Hara is a pretty Navy ensign who dreams of one day commanding her own ship. Unfortunately, for Leslie, she has to first fulfill her current assignment: whip a group of misfit male soldiers into shape. The unsold series was to relate Leslie's misadventures as she struggles to discipline a group of incorrigibles: Beltzman, House, Kozak and Watkins.

Cast: Deborah Ryan (Ensign Leslie O'Hara), Earl Boen (Captain Latch), Shell Kepler (Yeoman Rita Sweetzer), Andrew Bloch (Seaman Howard Beltzman), Lorenzo Lamas (Seaman House), Demetre Phillips (Seaman Kozak), Gary Veney (Seaman Watkins). Guest Cast: Ted Hartley (Congressman Nelson), Kristen Larkin (Mrs. Nelson).

7378 Shirley. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1979–1980). Shirley Miller is an attractive widow with four children who fulfills her late husband's dream by moving from the congestion of New York to the peaceful shores of Placer County, Lake Tahoe, Nevada, to begin a new life. Shirley's late husband was named Jake; her children are Debra, Bill, Hemm and Michelle; Charlotte McHenry is their housekeeper; Ethan "Dutch" McHenry is Charlotte's ex-husband; Lew Armitage is Shirley's romantic interest; Tracy is Lew's sister. Shirley has a dog named Oregano and lives at 602 Kingsbeach Road. Stories not only follow events in Shirley's life, but those of her children and friends.

Cast: Shirley Jones (Shirley Miller), Rosanna Arquette (Debra Miller), Peter Barton (Bill Miller), Bret Shryer (Hemm Miller), Tracey Gold (Michelle Miller), Ann Doran (Charlotte McHenry), John McIntire (Ethan McHenry), Patrick Wayne (Lew Armitage), Cynthia Eilbacher (Tracy), Peter Haskell (Jake Miller; flashbacks). Theme Vocal: Shirley Jones.

7379 Shirley Temple's Storybook. (Series; Anthology; NBC; ABC; 1958–1961). "Dreams are made for children, and we're children as long as we can dream." Entertaining adaptations of fairy tales and classic stories. The series ran on NBC as Shirley Temple's Storybook from January 12, 1958 to December 21, 1958; and on ABC as The Shirley Temple Theater from September 18, 1960 to March 19, 1961. Actress Shirley Temple made her dramatic acting debut on television in the episode of March 5, 1958 in the story "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" in which Shirley played the role of Katrina Van Tassel. Forty episodes aired in total.

Hostess/Narrator: Shirley Temple. Performers Include: Carol Lynley, Agnes Moorehead, Anne Helm, Nancy Marchand, Alexander Scourby, E.G. Marshall, Leora Dana, Beverly Washburn, John Raitt, Phyllis Love, Kurt Kaszner, Teddy Rooney, Janet Blair, David Ladd, Dan Duryea, Paul Stevens, Jonathan Winters, Ben Blue, Gil Lamb, Tony Haig, Michael Rennie, Fernando Lamas, Claire Bloom, June Lockhart. Theme Vocal (NBC): "Dreams Are Made for Children" by Shirley Temple. Theme Song (ABC): "The Enchanted Melody" by Vic Mizzy.

7380 Shirley's World. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1971–1972). Shirley Logan is an ace photojournalist who juggles magazine deadlines and date-lines in many different countries. The program is Shirley MacLaine's first and only television series. Shirley, who works for the London-based World Illustrated magazine, is a beautiful woman with wanderlust, an insatiable curiosity and a warm hearted nature that involves her with other people's problems. She uses a black and silver Nikon 35mm camera and, more often than not, finds herself involved with the stories she is covering (thus leading to a mix of comedy and adventure in some of the world's most exotic locales — from Japan to Hong Kong to Spain).

Dennis Croft is Shirley's editor, a strong willed but warm hearted man who is constantly upset by Shirley's antics.

Cast: Shirley MacLaine (Shirley Logan), John

Gregson (Dennis Croft). Theme: “Shirley’s World” by John Barry.

7381 The Shirt Tales. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1983). Rick Raccoon, Tyg Tiger, Pammy Panda, Digger Mole and Bogey Orangutan are five animals that join forces to battle crime in a large, unidentified city. Mr. Dinkle is their caretaker. The series is based on the Hallmark greeting card characters.

Voice Cast: Ronnie Schell (Rick Raccoon), Steve Schatzberg (Tyg Tiger), Pat Parris (Pammy Panda), Bob Ogle (Digger Mole), Fred Travalena (Bogey Orangutan), Herb Vigran (Mr. Dinkel), William Woodson (Police Commissioner).

7382 Shivaree. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1965). Gene Weed hosts a program that spotlights performances by rock personalities. The Shivaree Dancers are featured in sequences with teenagers dancing to the songs.

7383 Shivers. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/4/89). Shortly after moving into their new home, a rebuilt 200-year-old inn, the children (Amanda and Matthew) of a divorced construction worker (David) discover a secret basement and its residents — three ghosts from the American Revolution: Jack Marlowe, a highwayman, his woman, Cassandra, and Silas, a pig slopper. The unsold series was to relate the efforts of the ghosts and family to live together. In the pilot episode, Jack and Cassandra help Amanda with her interview for an exclusive college.

Cast: Mark Lindsay Chapman (Jack Marlowe), Lesley-Anne Down (Cassandra), James Eckhouse (David), Amber Susa (Amanda), Tim Eyster (Matthew), Courtney Gains (Silas). Guest Cast: Priscilla Morrill (Miss Gordon), Time Winters (Professor Frolich).

7384 The Shnookums and Meat Funny Cartoon Show. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 1994–1995). The overall title for three short cartoons:

1. Shnookums and Meat. The antics of a cat and a dog who do not get along.

2. Pith Possum: Super Dynamic Possum of Tomorrow. Peter Possum is an ordinary possum who becomes a super hero when a lab experiment goes awry. He is endowed with super powers and becomes Pith Possum, the heroic saviour of Possum City. Peter works as a reporter for the Weekly World Horsefeather. When the need arises, he says “Super Possum Power” and becomes Pith Possum.

3. Tex Tin Star: The Best in the West. Set in the town of Bonehead where a bonehead of a sheriff (Tex Tin Star) attempts to uphold the law.

Voice Cast: Danny Mann (Shnookums), Jason Miller (Shnookums; later), Frank Welker (Meat), Jeff Bennett (Pith Possum), Jeff Bennett (Tex Tinstar), Jim Cummings (Narrator), Brad Garrett (Wrongo).

7385 Shoebox Zoo. (Series; Children; Showtime Family; 2007). Many centuries ago in Scotland, a great wizard named Michael Scot forged an evil manuscript called The Book of Forbidden Knowledge. When four of his students (Ailsa, Wolfgang, Bruno and Edwin) attempted to steal it, Scot cast a spell that put them to sleep and transformed them into wooden toy animals. He then placed them in a shoebox as punishment. Seeing that the book contains evil, Scot’s servant, McTaggart, places the book in a barrel and tosses it into the sea. Over time the book finds its way to America and into the Denver, Colorado, home of a family named Campbell. Also, during this time, Scot has searched frantically for the book, as it is the only means by which he can restore the animals to their human state.

Marnie McBride is a very pretty American girl who, after the death of her mother (from cancer), moves to Edinburgh, Scotland, to live with her father (Ross), the curator of the Edinburgh University Library. Marnie has just turned eleven when the series begins. She and her father are walking along the street when they happen upon an old junk shop that beckons them to enter. Inside Marnie becomes fascinated by an old shoebox. The shop proprietor (Michael Scot) presents Marnie with the box as a present. He believes Marnie is The Chosen One and can awaken the four animals (Ailsa the snake; Bruno the Bear; Wolfgang Wolf; and Edwin the Eagle).

Scot believed that Marnie’s mother was The Chosen One. She found the box in a junk shop in Denver. She was apparently possessed of mystical powers and became obsessed with awakening the animals. When her mother (Dorothy) realized that her daughter could not do what she had been attempting, Dorothy took the box back to the junk shop.

Marnie now has the box. While examining the animals, Marnie pretends she is a magician and waves a spoon over them. When she says “Awake, awake for I am your master,” the animals come to life and Marnie learns that she is The Chosen One and must find the book and destroy it before her twelfth birthday. If she fails, a great evil will be unleashed on the world. Unknown to Marnie, an evil shape-shifter (Toledo) created by Scot, is also after the book. First season episodes follow Marnie and the Shoebox Zoo animals (as she calls them) as they seek The Forbidden Book of Knowledge.

The second season begins with Marnie returning to her home in Denver to live with her grandparents (Bobby and Dorothy Campbell) while her father continues working in Scotland. Here, she reveals her secret to her best friend, Kyle Stone. Stories follow Marnie and Kyle as they attempt to find the book and destroy it.

When Dorothy discovers that Marnie has the Shoebox Zoo, and has revived the animals, she tells her about the book — which is hidden in their woodshed. However, before she is able to retrieve it, Scot's spy, Toledo, and his cohort, the Dawn Queen steal it.

Marnie possesses the only means by which to destroy the book — the Arrow of Truth. When Marnie finds Toledo and the Dawn Queen with the book, she has a mystical experience that transports her to the Falls of Faith. She loads the arrow onto the bow and fires it into the falls. The arrow finds its way to the book and destroys it (and Toledo and the Dawn Queen).

Marnie accomplished her goal before her twelfth birthday and saved the world from a great evil. She feels her job is done and returns the Shoebox Zoo to the junk shop where her mother originally found it. As she leaves (with tears in her eyes) an unknown figure approaches the box and opens it. The series concludes with Edwin the Eagle saying, "What shall we do, Master?" It is not revealed to whom Edwin is referring. The series is produced in Canada.

Cast: Vivien Endicott-Douglas (Marnie McBride), Yudii Mercredi (Kyle Stone), Bill Paterson (Storyteller), Siobhan (Voice of Ailsa the Snake), Alan Cummings (Voice of Bruno the Bear), Rik Mayall (Voice of Edwin the Eagle), Simon Callow (Voice of Wolfgang the Wolf), Jason Connery (Ross McBride), Peter Mullan (Michael Scot), Tony Donaldson (Toledo), David McKay (McTaggart), Paul Coeur (Bobby Campbell), Valerie Ann Pearson (Dorothy Campbell), Natascha Girgis (Dawn Queen), Gordon Tootoosis (Nathaniel).

Cast: Trevor Eve (Eddie Shoestring), Doran Godwin (Erica Bayliss), Michael Medwin (Don Satchley), Liz Crowther (Sonia Price).

7387 Shoestring Safari. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1967). A proposed series about a famous African hunter (Colonel Hazeltine) who runs a misguided safari service with his daughter (Cindy) for visiting hunters.

Cast: Andy Devine (Colonel Hazeltine), Kelly Jean Peters (Cindy Hazeltine), Jeff DeGenning (Tricker Bailey), James Millhollin (Inspector).

7388 Shoot for the Stars. (Series; Game; NBC; 1977). Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One player selects one box from a large board that contains twenty-four numbered boxes. A clue is read (for example, "Clever as a lash"). The player has to unscramble the first half of the phrase by providing a synonym for the first word (for example, "smart" for "clever"), and his partner has to unravel the second half (for example, "whip" for "lash"). Each phrase is worth money and when both halves are correctly solved, the money is added to a team's score. Turns alternate back and forth between the teams and the first team to score $1500 is the winner.

Host: Geoff Edwards. Announcer: Bob Clayton.

7389 Shooter. (Pilot; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 9/11/88). A bittersweet look at life in Vietnam during the war as seen through the lens of Matt Thompson, a young combat photographer who becomes personally involved in the lives of the soldiers and citizens. Other Regulars: Rizzo, editor of the news bureau for which Matt works; Cat, the feisty female photographer; Lan, an American educated Vietnamese reporter; Ngoc, the Vietnamese lab technician; Rene, the weapon-toting Frenchman who involves himself in combat; Klaus, a photographer who collects as many artifacts as negatives; and Stork, Matt's roommate.

Cast: Jeffrey Nordling (Matt Thompson), Carol Huston (Cat), Rosalind Chao (Lan), Alan Ruick (Stork O'Connor), Noble Willingham (Rizzo), Kario Salem (Rene), Jerry Alan Chandler (Klaus).

7390 Shooting Stars. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 7/28/83). Fearing that his young co-stars (Douglas Hawke and Bill O'Keefe) are becoming more popular than him, Jonathan Leighton, the star of a hit television detective series, begins a smear campaign that results in the firing of Hawke and O'Keefe. With a working knowledge of detective work, Bill and Douglas decide to become real life private eyes and begin the California-based Hawke and O'Keefe Private Investigations to pay the bills between acting jobs. In the pilot episode, Bill and Douglas tackle a case involving a crooked politician and his plan to build a housing complex on chemically contaminated land. Other Regulars: Hazel, the singer at Nantucket Light, the bar-cafe owned by Bill and Douglas; Tubbs, the cafe chef; and Teddy, the waiter.

Cast: Billy Dee Williams (Douglas Hawke), Parker Stevenson (Bill O'Keefe), Edie Adams (Hazel), Frank McRae (Tubbs), Fred Travalena (Teddy). Guest Cast: John Randolph (Otis Stevenson), Efreem Zimbalist, Jr. (Jonathan Leighton), Herb Edelman (Rex), Robert Webber (Woodrow Norton), Victoria Spelling (Danni), Kathleen Lloyd (Laura), Denny Miller (Scott Tanner), Dick Baklayan (Snuffy).

7391 Shop Til You Drop. (Series; Game; Lifetime; PAX; 1991–2003). The program is set in a large department-like store. Two teams compete in a game based on pricing items and performing stunts. Two such rounds are played. Each team must perform a stunt or answer questions. Each successfully performed stunt or correctly answered question adds points to their score (up to one hundred in Round One; two hundred in Round Two). Round Three determines the winner. A question-answer session is played with the team adding the most points to their scores (by correctly answering questions) winning the opportunity to play the Bonus Round. Here the players alternate turns to exchange merchandise items placed on a table before them. Within 90 seconds, the players must take the exchanged item to an isle, select a new, boxed (but of unknown contents) item, run back to a table in stage front, hit a buzzer signal and return to the exchange table (where his partner has to do the same thing). At the end of the time limit, the contents and values of each item they selected are revealed. If the team's articles total or surpass a specific amount (usually $2500) they receive, in addition to the items, an all-expenses-paid vacation. If not, just the prizes (even if the couple manage to exchange all six items, the total does not always approach or exceed the target amount). The series aired on Lifetime from 1991 to 1998; and on PAX from 2000–2003.

Host: Pat Finn (1991–2002); J.D. Roberto (2003). Co-Host: Dee Bradley Baker (1991–1998); Jason Grant Smith (1999). Announcer: Dee Bradley Baker, Mark Walberg, Don Priess.

7392 Shopping Spree. (Series; Game; Family Channel; 1996). Two teams, each composed of a male and a female, compete. Prior to the game each team member secretly chooses items they believe their mates will like. On stage six “stores” for each team are revealed that contain a number of prizes (including the items each has selected). In round one, the male must pick the prizes he believes his mate selected for him. If he is correct on the first try, the prize is won and they move onto the next store (the object being to guess all six in as little time as possible); an incorrect guess allows the player to take a second guess, but it also adds time to their total. Once the team has “shopped” all six stores, the opposing team plays in the same manner. Round two reverses round one (females having to determine what the males selected). The team with the lowest overall time is the winner and play the bonus round where, within 75 seconds, they have to identify which celebrities are associated with the items that are seen.

Host: Ron Pearson. Announcer: Burton Richardson.

7393 Shore Leave. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/18/61). A proposed series about Goobie Jones and Joe Barker, two trouble-prone sailors. The pilot episode relates their attempts to find a lost ring within two hours or face the wrath of Big Mike Fogarty, a mean shipmate and owner of the ring.

Cast: Paul Gilbert (Goobie Jones), Peter Marshall (Joe Barker), Henry Kulky (Big Mike Fogarty).

7394 Short Circuitz. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 2007). Topical skits, impersonations and parodies of movies and television shows by comedian Nick Cannon and his group Short Circuitz.

Host: Nick Cannon. Regulars: Eliza Coupe, Katt Williams, Tara Killam, Affron Crockett, Rob Pinkston, Ivonnah Erskine, Benton Jennings.

7395 Short, Short Drama. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1952–1953). Fifteen-minute dramatic presentations featuring (at the time) lesser known stars and quality productions.

Hostess: Ruth Warwick. Performers Include: Leslie Nielsen, E.G. Marshall, Loretta Day, Lois Wheeler, Robert Pastene, Neva Patterson, Lisa Ferraday, June Dayton, Frank Albertson, Henry Jones, Ann Thomas, Julie Lawrence, Cliff Robertson, Peggy Allenby, Sheppard Strudwick, Peter Hobbs, Wesley Addy, Tony Randall, Bethel Leslie, Darren McGavin, Margaret Hayes, June Dayton, Russell Collins, Eileen Heckart, James Gregory, Vaughn Taylor.

7396 Short Story Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1952). Mary Kay hosts a program of one-act plays made especially for syndication.

7397 Shorty. (Live Test Program; Children; CBS; 9/8/46). A proposed children's series based on the antics of a mischievous young boy named Shorty. Shorty is a cartoon character whose adventures unfold as artist Syd Hoff sketches a story for his young friend, Patty Foster (a real-life ice skating star). The test relates Shorty's mishaps as he prepares to return to school on opening day.

Cast: Syd Hoff, Patty Foster.

7398 Shotgun Slade. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1959–1961). The time is the 1860s. A man known only as Mr. Slade to those who respect him (Slade to those who hate him), and as Shotgun to those who know him, is a private detective who hires out his services to people who require protection. Other than the nickname Shotgun, Slade has no other first name. When he first meets a client he says, “Call me Slade or Shotgun.” Each episode begins with Slade's establishing his assignment.

Shotgun Slade wears a gun belt but carries his trademark — a unique two barreled sawed-off shotgun (which some people call “a cannon”); the right side of the belt contains 12 shotgun cartridges.

“Shotgun Slade, you're afraid that someday you'll be won by a woman, a dreamin' woman, maybe someone like me. I'm the one, Shotgun Slade....”

Monica is the “dreamin’ woman” of the song she wrote about her friend, Shotgun Slade (Shotgun first heard the song when he met Monica, a dancehall girl who travels from town to town, in the town of Palimar). While it is not made perfectly clear, Shotgun and Monica were apparently lovers who drifted apart; she still carries a torch for him. They run into each other on occasion, and Shotgun always leaves by saying, “See you again, beautiful, in some other town.”

Theme: “Shotgun Slade of the Two Barreled Gun.” Gerald Fried performed the musical version (first season); Monica Lewis did the vocal (second season).

Cast: Scott Brady (Shotgun Slade), Monica Lewis (Monica), Marie Windsor (Alice Barton; saloon keeper).

7399 Show Business. (Pilot; Magazine; ABC; 3/30/81). David Frost and Sandy Hill host a program that takes an inside look at the entertainment industry with reports on past and current celebrities.

7400 Show Business, Inc. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). A live series that features highlights of past and present (1949) Broadway shows with performances by the original cast members where possible. The program, which ran from March 10, 1949 to September 4, 1949, is also known as Broadway Spotlight and Dayton Walker's Broadway Scrapbook.

Host: Dayton Walker, Richard Kollmar. Regulars: Joey Faye, The June Taylor Dancers. Orchestra: Ving Merlin. Choreography: June Taylor.

7401 The Show Goes On. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950–1952). Undiscovered talent acts perform with the hope of receiving bookings from talent buyers who are present during the broadcast.

Host: Robert Q. Lewis.

7402 Show Me the Money. (Series; Game; ABC; 2006). One contestant competes at a time. A category topic is shown with three blank spaces — A, B and C (each letter represents an unseen question). The player chooses one of the letters and its question is revealed. If he finds it too difficult he is allowed to pass and choose one of the two remaining letters; however, if he passes again, he must answer the remaining question. The question is read. The player gives an answer and locks it in by pressing a button. Thirteen dancing girls (called “The Million Dollar Dancers”) each possess a hidden amount of money (ranging from $20,000 to $250,000). The player selects one of the girls by saying her name and yelling, “Show Me the Money!” The girl reveals her money amount. If the player answered the previously asked question correctly, the money is added to his score; if he is wrong, the amount is deducted from his score (seen as a minus amount. If the player has a minus amount that cannot be surpassed by the remaining money amounts, he automatically loses). A player competes until he answers six questions correctly or six questions incorrectly — whichever comes first. A player cannot quit at anytime and leave with what he has earned; he must answer six questions and his winnings are determined when he achieves that goal.

Host: William Shatner. Dancers: Sabrina Song, Claudia Velasco, Mariah Perkins, Cara Lee Knoudel, Victoria Parsons, Yesenia Adame, Julianne Hough, Lindsay Angler, Mimi Karsh, Theresa Babosa-Adams, Eve Torres, Vai Au Harchoe.

7403 The Show Must Go On. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 4/18/82). The premise involves a group of performers attempting to present a stage show that is plagued by numerous difficulties. The program is set in a large theater and viewers are given front-row center seats as the program attempts to recapture and revive the Golden Age of live telecasting in the 1950s. Jeff Harris and Bernie Kukoff are the producers.

Host: E.G. Marshall. Regulars: Bernadette Burgette, Susan Edwards, Wendy Goldman, Rick Overton, Melody Rogers, Donovan Scott, Jim Varney. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

7404 Show Street. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1964). Comedienne Phyllis Diller’s first television series features her as the host to a talent contest wherein unknown, but surprisingly talented people perform with the hope of acquiring possible stardom.

7405 Show Wagon. (Pilot; Western; NBC; 2/29/60). A proposed spin-off from The Alcoa Goodyear Theater about Pop Kimberly, the owner of a show wagon as he and his troupe (Phoebe, Steve and Sue) perform in various towns throughout the Old West.

Cast: Jack Albertson (Pop Kimberly), Connie Hines (Phoebe Malloy), Toby Michaels (Sue), Luke Anthony (Steve Emerson).

7406 Showcase '68. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1968). The program, taped on various college campuses throughout the country, features performances by undiscovered talent. It ran from June 11, 1968 to September 3, 1968.

Host: Lloyd Thaxton.

7407 Showdown. (Series; Game; NBC; 1966). A short-lived game show wherein two three-member teams compete in a series of general knowledge question-and-answer rounds. The team with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The series aired from July 4, 1966 to October 4, 1966.

Host: Joe Pyne.

7408 The Showoff. (Experimental; Play; NBC; 7/28/46). A domestic comedy, set in 1920s Philadelphia, about Aubrey Potter, the son of a middle-class family, who is a showoff and dreamer who attempts to impress others with his big ambitions while at the same time preserving his self-respect. Based on the Broadway play by George Kelly.

Cast: Alan Bunce (Aubrey Potter), Lillian Foster (Aubrey's mother), Louise Buckley (Amy Fisher), Florence Sundstrom (Aubrey's wife).

7409 Showoffs. (Series; Game; ABC; 1975). Two teams compete, each composed of two celebrities and one contestant. One team is placed in a soundproof isolation booth while the other team is at play. One player becomes the guesser; the other two, the actors. The object is for the actors to pantomime as many words as possible within sixty seconds. Each word that is identified by the guesser scores one point. At the end of the round the other team is brought out and the game is played in the same manner. The team with the highest score wins the round. A two-out-of-three match competition is played and the highest scoring contestant receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Bobby Van. Announcer: Gene Wood.

7410 Showroom. (Test film; Women; CBS; 7/31/47). A fashion program for women that was broadcast from the Hotel Dorset in New York City. The test featured the Powers Models showcasing the 1947 fall line of designer Waldo of California.

Host: Shirley Perces. Guests: Eileen Coughlin and the Powers Models.

7411 Showtime. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1968). A summer program of entertainment acts, produced in England, and hosted by American guests. It aired from June 11, 1968 to September 17, 1968.

Guest Hosts: Juliet Prowse, Bill Dana, Phyllis Diller. Regulars: The Mike Sammes Singers, The London Line Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

The program, filmed at the Apollo Theater in Manhattan (New York), features performances by black entertainers, including Dinah Washington, Nat King Cole, Sarah Vaughn, Nipsey Russell, Cab Calloway, Count Basie, Herb Jeffries and Martha Davis.

Host: Willie Bryant.

7413 Showtime at the Apollo. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1987–). Performances by professional as well as aspiring African-American performers. Taped at the Apollo Theater in Harlem, New York. The series is also known as It's Showtime at the Apollo.

Hosts: Rick Aviles (1987–1988), Sinbad (1989–1991), Steve Harvey (1994–2000), Rudy Rush (2000–2002), Kiki Shepard (2002–2006), Whoopi Goldberg (2006–). Regulars: Howard “Sandman” Sims, C.P. Lucey.

7414 Showtime, U.S.A. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950–1951). Scenes from Broadway plays are presented and performed by the original cast members. The series aired from October 1, 1950 to June 24, 1951. Vinton Freedley and Winston O’Keefe are the producers.

Host: Vinton Freedley. Announcer: Tom Gilbert. Music: Nathan Kroll.

7415 Sibs. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1991–1992). Grownups was the original title for a program about the joys and sorrows of three adult sisters: Nora, who is happily married, and Audie and Lily, who are miserably single.

Nora is married to Howard (“Howie”) Ruscio, an eighth grade school teacher in Manhattan. Nora is the guiding star of the family, the one the others turn to for help. She was originally a bookkeeper for the Morris and Morris Business Management firm; she quit (second episode) to begin her own firm — Ruscio Management. Howie was born in Weehawken, New Jersey, and attended Rutgers University. He now teaches civics.

Audrey Elizabeth Wyler got her nickname “Audie” from Lily (as a baby she couldn’t say Audrey; it came out “Audie”). Audie sells real estate. Three years ago she made $160,000; last year, $36,000; this year, nothing. Her credit cards were taken away and cut in half on her birthday. She owes $565 in unpaid parking tickets. She smokes, is in A.A. and delights in tormenting Lily. Audie watches old movies, takes a lot of baths, and cries a lot (“My way of dealing with a bad situation”).

Lily works as a caterer and, as Nora says, “was good at being happy — until she broke up with her boyfriend and moved in with me.” She is now indecisive and miserable. The sisters’ favorite watering hole is the bar on 4th Street. George Clinton performs the theme, “Blood Is Thicker.”

Cast: Marsha Mason (Nora Ruscio), Margaret Colin (Audie Wyler), Jami Gertz (Lily), Alex Rocco (Howard Ruscio).

7416 Sid Caesar Invites You. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1958). Comedy sketches with comedian Sid Caesar as the host. The series ran from January 20, 1958 to May 25, 1958.

Host: Sid Caesar. Regulars: Carl Reiner, Howard Morris, Jeanne Bal, Paul Reed, Milt Kamen, The Kirby Stone Four.

7417 Sid Caesar Presents Comedy Preview. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1955). A summer program of comedy sketches that replaced Caesar’s Hour from July 4, 1955 to September 12, 1955.

Hosts: Phil Foster, Bobby Sherwood. Regulars: Barbara Nichols, Cliff Norton, Sid Gould, The Ted Cappy Dancers.

7418 The Sid Caesar Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1963–1964). Music and comedy with comedian Sid Caesar as the host.

Greg Garrison is the producer.

Host: Sid Caesar. Regulars: Gisele MacKenzie, Joey Forman, Charlotte Rae. Orchestra: Peter Matz.

7419 The Sid Caesar Show. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1987). Harry Bronson is a big-hearted, semi-retired entertainer who lives with his conservative daughter (Barbara), her husband (Carl), and their five-year-old granddaughter (Jenny) in a New York City apartment. Harry is a widower and always anxious to help his friends and family. The unsold series was to relate Harry's antics as he uses his extensive repertoire of wacky characterizations and disguises to help where he is needed. Other Regulars: Al, Harry's agent; Georgie and Ollie, Harry's friends; Marty, the owner of the local deli; and Delores, the waitress.

Cast: Sid Caesar (Harry Bronson), Lorna Patterson (Barbara), Tim Haldeman (Carl), Elisabeth Harnois (Jenny), Jan Murray (Al), John Kassir (Georgie), Maurice Hines (Ollie), Joe Restivo (Marty), Annie Golden (Delores).

7420 Side by Side. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/27/76). A proposed series about four couples living in the same housing development: Charlie and Connie Ryan, a conservative couple who are enjoying their retirement; Carmine and Luis Rivera, a Latin duo; Sally and Dick Stern, young liberals with unconventional lives; and Billy Joe and Hadley Pearson, a transplanted couple from the south.

7421 Side by Side. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/6/84). The McCloskey Shipping Company in Chicago is the setting for a proposed series about two long-time friends: Harry Deegan, the shipping affairs supervisor, and Joey Caruso, a shipping clerk. In the pilot episode, Harry seeks to better his position in life by pursuing a job at a rival shipping company. Other Regulars: Mildred, Harry's wife; Deborah, the company secretary; Peter, the company manager; George, the company owner and shipping clerks Moose and Hernandez.

Cast: Charles Durning (Harry Deegan), Ron Leibman (Joey Caruso), Katherine Helmond (Mildred Deegan), Caren Kaye (Deborah Kazinsky), Joseph Mascolo (Peter Wagner), Charles Lane (George McCloskey), Justin Lord (Moose), Dick Balduzzi (Hernandez).

7422 Side Order of Life. (Series; Drama; Lifetime; 2007). Vivy Porter is a woman who had a bout with cancer and thought she had won the battle. The remission didn't last long and it has now returned and affected her brain. There is no hope.

During the initial diagnosis Vivy was helped through the situation by her friend Ian Denison. It was about this time that Vivy introduced Ian to her friend Jenny McIntyre. Ian, a financial analyst, and Jenny, a photographer for In Person magazine, became attracted to each other and began dating. They became engaged and set a date for a wedding. When Vivy receives news that her cancer has returned and has only a short time to live she feels she must accomplish a number of things in the time left.

Vivy feels Ian and Jenny are not right for each other and their marriage will end in divorce. She approaches Jenny and asks her to re-evaluate her life and priorities. Jenny had dreamed of a lavish wedding with the right man. But now Vivy has placed doubts in her mind about Ian. Is he Mr. Right? Until Jenny can be sure, she calls off the wedding. The series can be viewed two ways: a look at Vivy as she struggles cope with her disease and do what is best; or on Jenny as she devotes her energies to her job while seeking to discover a greater meaning to life. Rick Purdy is Jenny's editor.

Cast: Marissa Coughlin (Jenny McIntyre), Jason Priestley (Ian Denison), Diana-Maria Riva (Vivy Porter), Christopher Gartin (Rick Purdy).

7423 Side Show. (Experimental; Variety; NBC; 4/15/44, 4/22/44, 4/29/44). A series of three live Saturday evening (6:30 P.M.) tests wherein NBC broadcast side show attractions from the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The featured performer was world-famous clown Emmett Kelly. The programs were produced by Tony Leader and directed by Ed Wilbur.

7424 Sidekicks. (Pilot; Comical Western; CBS; 3/21/74). The post-Civil War West is the backdrop for an unsold series about Quince Drew and Jason O'Rourke, two inept con men who roam from town to town seeking rich prey. In the pilot episode, Quince and Jason become involved with an inept outlaw gang and a beautiful sheriff's daughter (Prudy) who can't convince anyone, especially her father, that they are out to fleece the town.

Cast: Larry Hagman (Quince Drew), Lou Gossett, Jr. (Jason O'Rourke), Guest Cast: Blythe Danner (Prudy Jenkins), Jack Elam (Boss), Harry Morgan (Sheriff Jenkins), Gene Evans (Sam), Denver Pyle (Drunk), Noah Beery, Jr. (Tom), John Beck (Luke).

7425 Sidekicks. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1986–1987). When he realizes he has only a short time to live, an aging Chinese grandfather (Sabasan) chooses a tough, hard-nosed and unmarried city cop (Jake Rizzo) to become the guardian of his grandson, Ernie, a 10-year-old boy who is a master of karate. Jake is reluctant at first until he learns that without him, Ernie will be sent to an orphanage. Jake agrees to care for Ernie and stories follow Jake's efforts to become a father — and Ernie's efforts to help Jake by using his skills to capture lawbreakers. The series is based on a pilot called The Last Electric Knight (see for information).

Other Regulars: Patricia Blake, the social worker; Randy, Jake's neighbor; Kite, Ernie's karate coach; Marty Mooney, a detective; and Police Captain Blanks.

Cast: Gil Gerard (Jake Rizzo), Ernie Reyes, Jr. (Ernie Lee), Nancy Stafford (Patricia Blake), Keye Luke (Sabasan), Frank Bonner (Marty Mooney), Vinny Argiro (Captain Blanks), Joy Garrett (Randy), Gary Hudson (Coach Kite), Magda Harout (Jake's Mother). Theme Vocal: "Side by Side" by Kip Lennon.

7426 Sidney Shorr. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/5/81). The pilot film for Love, Sidney. While attending a theater showing of the movie Camille, Sidney Shorr, a lonely 40-year-old free-lance artist, meets and befriends Laurie Morgan, a spirited young actress. Later, when Laurie discovers that Sidney is a homosexual, she convinces him to let her move into his eight-room Manhattan apartment and share the rent. Soon, she brightens up his dreary life; so much so that he begins to consider her the daughter he never had. But a complication sets in: although they maintain a strictly platonic relationship, he becomes jealous when she begins to date — and shocked when she becomes pregnant by a married man (Jimmy) — a man who does not want her or her child. When Laurie tells Sidney that she wants an abortion, Sidney convinces her to have the child and live with him. The pilot episode follows Sidney's life as a bachelor living with a young mother and her daughter (Patti). Also titled: Sidney Shorr: A Girl's Best Friend.

Cast: Tony Randall (Sidney Shorr), Lorna Patterson (Laurie Morgan), Kaleena Kiff (Patti Morgan). Guest Cast: David Huffman (Jimmy), Tom Villard (Eric), Ann Weldon (Judge Wilcox), John Lupton (Frank), Betty Carvalho (Nurse). Note: In the series, Swoosie Kurtz played Laurie.

7427 Sierra. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1974). The fictional Sierra National Park is the setting for a look at the rescue operations of the National Park Service Rangers — men and women who dedicate their lives to protecting people from nature and nature from people. In the pilot film, The Rangers, the setting is the Yosemite National Park in California. Jack Moore is the chief ranger; his team is composed of Tim Cassidy, Julie Beck, Matt Harper and P.J. Lewis.

Cast: James G. Richardson (Tim Cassidy), Susan Foster (Julie Beck), Ernest Thompson (Matt Harper), Michael Warren (P.J. Lewis), Robert Hogan (Jack Moore).

7428 Sightings. (Series; Reality; Fox; 1991). The program explores paranormal activity (for example, ghosts, psychic healing, urban legends) through film footage, on-scene location filming, eyewitness accounts and newspaper clippings.

Host: Tim White.

7429 Sigmund and the Sea Monsters. (Series; Children; NBC; 1973–1975). While playing on California's Cypress Beach, Johnny Stuart and his brother, Scott Stuart, find Sigmund Ooz, a lovable sea monster who was disowned by his family for his inability to scare humans. When Johnny and Scott learn that Sigmund has no place to go, they take him to their home at 730 Ocean Avenue (a.k.a. 1730 Ocean Avenue). Fearing that the authorities will take Sigmund away from them, they decide to hide him in their backyard clubhouse. Stories relate Sigmund's misadventures as he attempts to live a secret life with humans.

Johnny and Scott's parents are never seen (they are said to be away on business); the boys are cared for by housekeeper Zelda Marshall and in last season episodes by Gertrude Gouch. Sigmund's family lives in a cave at Dead Man's Point on Cypress Beach. Big Daddy Ooz and Sweet Mama Ooz are Sigmund's parents, Slurp and Blurp Ooz are Sigmund's brothers. The family pet is Prince, a barking lobster. Sigmund was named after his rich great-uncle Sigmund ("Siggy") Ooz (from whom the Oozes hopes to inherit a fortune).

Last season episodes feature Sheldon the Sea Genie, whom Sigmund found in a seashell, and Shelby, Sheldon's nephew. Characters are the creations of Sid and Marty Krofft. Johnny Whitaker sings the theme.

Cast: Billy Barty (Sigmund Ooz), Johnny Whitaker (Johnny Stuart), Scott Kolden (Scott Stuart), Mary Wickes (Zelda Marshall), Joe Higgins (Sheriff Chuck Bevins), Margaret Hamilton (Miss Eddels), Rip Taylor (Sheldon the Sea Genie), Sparky Marcus (Shelby), Fran Ryan (Gertrude Gouch), Sharon Baird (Big Daddy Ooz), Van Snowden (Sweet Mama Ooz), Bill Germain (Blurp Ooz), Fred Spencer (Slurp Ooz).

7430 Sign-On. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 2/3/81). Musical numbers, dramatizations, comedy sketches, consumer information, and reviews of the arts. The pilot episode presents the first episode of a proposed continuing serial called "Welcome to Twin Oaks," which tells the story of Trish Carlon, a divorcee, and her teenage daughter, Jenny.

Hosts: Steve McNaughton, Susan Spilker. Cast: Elinor Donahue (Trish Carlon), Michelle Downey (Jenny Carlon), Jim Thurman (Voice of Eugene Harold, the CBS guard dog). Music: John Rodby.

7431 Significant Others. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1998). A buddy-buddy series that focuses on the ups and downs as well as the romantic entanglements of four friends: Campbell Chasen, his ex-girlfriend, Jane (who is now married to Campbell's brother, Ben) and their friends, Nell and Henry, who are having an affair.

Campbell feels everyone is finding the person of their dreams except him; Jane and Ben are struggling to make their marriage work under uncomfortable circumstances; Henry, a Yale graduate, writes erotic stories for an Internet site; and Nell, who wants the best life can give her, quit her job to search for that dream. Charlotte Lerner is Henry's boss; Leonard and Bev are Campbell's parents. The series ran for three episodes (March 11, 1998 to March 25, 1998).

Cast: Eion Bailey (Campbell Chasen), Elizabeth Mitchell (Jane Chasen), Michael Weatherly (Ben Chasen), Jennifer Garner (Nell), Gigi Rice (Charlotte Lerner), Richard Masur (Leonard Chasin), Jennifer Savidge (Bev Chasen).

7432 Significant Others. (Series; Comedy; Bravo; 2004). An improvised comedy series that takes a humorous look at the foibles of marriage as seen through the activities of four couples. Financial analyst James is married to the free-spirited Chelsea. They married after a brief courtship and were not really ready for marriage. Chelsea works in an art gallery.

Ethan and his wife, Eleanor, are an immature twenty-something couple who are anxiously awaiting the birth of their first child. Connie and her husband, Bill are the depressed couple of the group. Bill is out of work and he and Connie rarely communicate with each other. Alex and her husband, Devon, are the successful couple although they constantly argue with each other and anyone else over anything.

Cast: Andrea Savage (Chelsea), Brian Palmero (James), Faith Salle (Eleanor), Herschel Bleefeld (Ethan), Jane Edith Wilson (Connie), Fred Goss (Bill), Chris Spencer (Devon), Nicole Randall Johnson (Alex).

7433 The Silent Force. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1970–1971). The Silent Force is a secret organization, based in Washington, D.C., that is designed to disrupt the inner workings of organized crime. Amelia Cole, Ward Fuller and Jason Hart are its three top agents and stories relate their efforts to end the reign of organized crime with methods as deceitful as they people they are seeking.

A narrator opens the show: "If you do not, on a national scale, attack organized criminals with weapons and techniques as effective as their own, they will destroy us" — Robert F. Kennedy. An attack has been mounted from Washington. An undercover team of Federal agents is the spear head of that attack — The Silent Force."

Cast: Lynda Day (Amelia Cole), Percy Rodrigues (Jason Hart), Ed Nelson (Ward Fuller).

7434 The Silent Service. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1957). Dramatizations based on incidents in the lives of the officers and men of the submarine division of the U.S. Navy.

Host-Narrator: Rear Admiral Thomas Dykers.

7435 Silent Whisper. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 7/26/88). While investigating a case involving a serial killer, San Francisco police detective Eric Bolan discovers that his family is the killer's next target. In an attempt to save his family, Eric is stabbed in the throat and is left with only a whisper as a voice. The unsold series was to depict Eric's exploits as he searches for the man who killed his family and seeks out perpetrators with relentless, silent vengeance. Other Regulars: Detective Nick Scott, his partner; and Police Captain Bea Landry.

Cast: David Beecroft (Eric Bolan), Richard Lawson (Nick Scott), Claudette Nevins (Bea Landry). Guest Cast: Kate Vernon (Ellen Sanders), Rita Wilson (China Seasons), Joseph Kell (Colin Sanders), Steven Keats (Guido the Ghoul), James Greene (Nathan Sanders), Phil Levin (Dr. Mark Ryler), Gregory Deason (David Sanders), Nancy Warren (Elvira Stout), Robert Factor (Serial Killer), Gloria Delaney (Nurse).

7436 Silent's Please. (Series; Documentary; ABC; 1960–1961). A history of the silent era of motion pictures: "The great stars, the excitement, the thrills, the laughter, and the heartbreak of Hollywood's Golden Era." The series, which produced 40 episodes, ran from August 4, 1960 to October 13, 1960 and March 23, 1961 to October 5, 1961.

Host-Narrator: Ernie Kovacs.

7437 Silk Stalkings. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1991–93; USA; 1991–96). In police terminology, a Silk Stalking is a murder related to members of high society. Sergeants Rita Lee Lance and Chris Lorenzo are officers who investigate Silk Stalkings as members of the Crimes of Passion Unit of the Palm Springs, Florida, Police Department.

Rita Lee is a stunning girl who has a natural flair for impersonation; she pretends to be someone else to acquire information. Her real last name is Fontana. She was born in 1965 and raised by her father, Donald, until she was seven years old. Rita's mother died in childbirth; her father, a wealthy businessman, killed himself when he lost millions through bad investments. Rita was raised by her foster parents, Tom and Sue Lance; she took their last name because it meant so much to her.

Rita is a graduate of Palm Beach High School and Florida State College. She lives at 400 East Palm Drive. Rita worked with the Vice Squad when she first joined the force. In 1995 she was promoted to lieutenant and given the title Chief of Detectives.

Chris was born in Philadelphia on April 12, 1963. His parents, Anna Alexis, a former actress, and father, Ben, a lawyer, divorced when Chris was ten years old. He was sent to live with his grandmother, Rose, in Palm Beach, when he objected to his constant shifting from parent to parent. He attended the same schools as Rita, but apparently they did not know each other at the time. Rita was two years older and a senior in both high school and college when Chris was a sophomore. Chris earned a criminology degree from Florida State in 1985 and began work as a street patrol cop. In 1988 he was assigned to the robbery unit, then teamed with Rita when he made sergeant.

Rita and Chris are not just cops. They are best friends. They call each other “Sam”; they both love golf and golfing great “Slammin’” Sammy Snead is their hero. Rita and Chris eventually became lovers. In the episode “The Last Kiss Goodnight,” Chris is shot protecting Rita. When he dies, Rita, pregnant with Chris’s child, turns in her badge. She feared something could happen to the last piece of Chris she had — their baby.

Rita and Chris are replaced by Detectives Holly Rawlins and Michael Price in 1995. Holly is a young, tough and beautiful Southern girl with a troubled past: she grew up in various trailer parks and is on the run from an abusive stepfather. Michael left the Chicago Police Department after a broken relationship, to join the Palm Beach P.D. as part of an officer exchange program. Both characters were dropped shortly after without explanation and replaced by sergeants Cassandra St. John and Tom Ryan. Cassandra, called Cassy, and Tom were previously homicide detectives and married.

Now divorced, they have remained friends and have learned to put their feelings aside to get the job done. Cassy is savvy, totally honest and a perfectionist, making it hard for anyone to work with her. Tom is easy going and willing to break the rules to get the job done which totally contradicts Cassy’s way of investigating a case.

Benjamin Hutchinson called Hutch, was the first captain. He hates the FBI, which he calls Fumble, Bumble and Incompetent, for interfering in his department’s cases. Hutch, a former Detroit cop, was transferred to the Fort Lauderdale division at the end of the second season. He was replaced by Vice Captain Hudson. By the end of the following season, he too was transferred to Fort Lauderdale. Harry Lipschitz became the final captain. Called “The Lip,” he was a New York cop who relocated with his wife Frannie to take the job with the Palm Beach P.D. Mike Post composed the theme “Silk Stalkings.”

Cast: Mitzi Kapture (Rita Lee Lance), Rob Estes

(Chris Lorenzo), Tyler Layton (Holly Rawlins), Nick Kokotakis (Michael Price), Janet Gunn (Cassandra St. John), Chris Potter (Tom Ryan), Ben Vereen (Ben Hutchinson), Robert Gossett (Vice Captain Hudson), Charlie Brill (Harry Lipschitz), Mitzi McCall (Frannie Lipschitz).

7438 Silver Fox. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 7/6/91). Our Man James Double Old 7 is the alternate title for a pilot about Robert Fox, an aging secret agent called “The Silver Fox” as he tries to balance his activities as a spy with his personal life. In the pilot episode, Fox investigates dirty business involving a crooked businessman and an old nemesis (Klaus Gerhardt).

Cast: James Coburn (Robert Fox). Guest Cast: M. Emmet Walsh (Charles Blankenship), Julia Nixon (Shimoi Chen), Jillie Mack (Joanie), Christopher Allport (Tom), Stephen Poletti (Sonny Myerson), Gianni Russo (Klaus Gerhardt), Leigh Taylor-Young (Nita Davenport), Geoffrey Lower (Jeffrey Campbell).

7439 Silver Spoons. (Series; Comedy; NBC; Syn.; 1982–1986). Edward Stratton, III, a 32-year-old divorced millionaire who loves to play with toys, and his 12-year-old son, Ricky, a computer whiz, live at 123 Mockingbird Lane in Shallow Springs on Long Island.

Edward runs the Eddie Toys Company Division of Stratton Industries. Edward was married to Evelyn Bradford, a woman of social class and status. After six days the marriage broke up due to their social incompatibility. He later marries Kate Sommers, his secretary, in 1985. Kate knows Eddie is just a kid who never grew up and has no problems accepting him as he is. Kate was born in Columbus, Ohio and is always fashionably dressed. She is also a shoe nut and worries about matching everything with her shoes (“I’ve always been a shoe worrier. I almost checked myself into the Buster Brown Clinic”).

Richard (“Ricky”) Stratton, who calls himself “The Ricker” first attended the Burton Military Academy. He later attends Fuller Junior High School and finally Buckminster Fuller High School. Rick is the editor of the school newspaper, the Fuller Flash.

Rick has a pet frog named Oscar (raised from a tadpole), and his hangouts are the Leave It to Burgers (a.k.a. Burgers) and The Bun and Run. While Rick was always “on the lookout for babes,” he did have a semi regular girlfriend in 1986 — Tammy, who worked at the Atomic Burger Fast Food Store. At this same time, Rick had an after school job as a waiter at Chicken on a String.

Edward Stratton II is Edward’s father, the stern owner of Stratton Industries. He claims that his father, Edward Stratton, was a “banana head” who became a millionaire by accident (one year before the invention of the car, Edward Stratton invented a rubber inner tube so he would not sink when he went to the beach. When Henry Ford invented the car a year later, he used Edward's invention — and thus the birth of Stratton Industries).

Other Roles: Dexter Stuffins is the treasurer of Eddie Toys; Alfonso Spears is Dexter's nephew and attends the same high school as Ricky. Lulu Baker is Edward III's friend; she had a cooking show on television for Stratton Flour called Cooking with Lulu. Derek, Freddy, Darien and Leslie are Ricky's friends; Leonard is Edward's lawyer; Miss Campbell is Ricky's school teacher.

Relatives: Christina Belford (Edward's ex-wife, Evelyn Stratton); she is the author of a book called Passion Parade, Georgann Johnson and Gloria Henry (Kate's mother, Marjorie Summers), John Inge (Kate's father), Ray Walston (Kate's uncle, Harry Summers), Billie Bird (Kate's grandmother, Pearl Summers), Holland Taylor (Derek's mother, Ruth Taylor), Miriam Flynn (Freddy's mother, Myrna), Earl Boen (Freddy's father, Troy). Theme: "Silver Spoons," by Rik Howard and Robert Wirth.

Cast: Joel Higgins (Edward Stratton III), Erin Gray (Kate Summers), Ricky Schroder (Ricky Stratton), John Houseman (Edward Stratton II), Leonard Lightfoot (Leonard), Franklyn Seales (Dexter Stuffins), Jason Bateman (Derek Taylor), Corky Pigeon (Freddy Lippincotlerman), Georgi Iene (Leslie), Robyn Lively (Tammy), Aileen Fitzpatrick (Miss Campbell), Darien Dash (Clarence), Alfonso Ribeiro (Alfonso Spears), Pearl Bailey (Lulu Baker).

7440 The Silver Surfer. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1998). Galactus is a cosmic being that sustains itself by consuming planets. It has no regard for other life forms. When the planet Zenn-La is threatened by Galactus, a man named Norrin Radd intervenes and offers to find planets for Galactus that do not contain life. The offer is accepted and Galactus endows Norrin with the Power Cosmic, but it also removes all his memories of humanity (so Norrin can find planets with life also and not be affected).

Now, as the Silver Surfer, Norrin scours the universe seeking planets for Galactus to consume. Norrin serves Galactus well until he has a confrontation with Thanos, an evil being who awakens his memories of his planet and humanity. When Norrin sees that Galactus is about to consume the Earth, he uses his powers to stop his former master. Angry that Norrin has defied him, Galactus places Norrin's home planet, Zenn-La into an unknown region of deep space. Although he is a hero for saving Earth and is no longer bound to Galactus, the Silver Surfer is hated by many races who want revenge for what he has done to their planets as a servant of Galactus.

Now, as an outcast, the Silver Surfer roams through endless space on his flying board seeking his home planet (and his lost love, Shalla Bal) while at the same time protecting planets from the vicious Galactus. The series ran from February 7, 1998 to May 30, 1998.

Voice Cast: Paul Essiembre (Norrin Radd/The Silver Surfer), James Blendick (Galactus), Camilla Scott (Shalla Bal), Gary Krawford (Thanos), Aron Tager (Master of Zen-La), Colin Fox (Uatu the Watcher), Lawrence Bayne (Zedaro), Bernard Behrens (Nietre), Rick Bennett (Votrick), Valerie Buhagiar (Shellaine), David Calderisi (Kiar), Alyson Court (Amber), Len Doncheff (Raze), Elizabeth Hanna (Kili the Troll), Lorne Kennedy (Sphere's Voice), Nicole Oliver (Gamma).

7441 Silver Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1949–1950). Live and filmed programs that emphasize both the comedic and dramatic sides of romance. Sponsored by the International Sterling Company.

Host: Conrad Nagel. Performers Include: Eva Gabor, Marsha Hunt, Louise Albritton, Faye Emerson, Kim Hunter, Burgess Meredith, George Reeves, Henry Morgan, Vicki Cummings, Chico Marx, Margaret Hamilton, William Frawley, Carol Bruce, Glenda Farrell, Glenn Corbett, Ward Bond, Geraldine Brooks, Nancy Coleman, Ilka Chase, Nancy Kelly, Diana Lynn, Don DeFore, James Lipton, Pamela Britton, Gig Young.

7442 The Silverhawks. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1986). In the year 2839, Monstar, the most evil of beings, escapes from a prison in the distant galaxy of Limbo. Star Gazer, leader of Limbo, requests help from the Earth to stop Monstar, who is bent on destroying the universe. In an attempt to help Star Gazer, five people are chosen to assist: Jonathan Quick (code name Quicksilver); twins Emily and Will Hart (code names Steel Hart and Steel Will); Bluegrass, a cowboy who pilots their ship, the Mirage; and the Copper Kid, a being from the Planet of the Mimes. However, to withstand the enormous pressures of space, the team is transformed into the Silverhawks, beings who are part metal, part human and possess the wings of hawks. Stories relates the efforts of the Silverhawks and their leader Star Gazer (who commands from his orbiting base, Hawk Haven) to stop Monstar and his evil army (Melodia, Molecular, Mumbo Jumbo, Hardware, Windhamer and Buzzsaw) from destroying the universe.

Voice Cast: Robert McFaddon (Star Gazer), Earl Hammond (Monstar), Larry Kenney (Bluegrass), Peter Newman (Mumbo Jumbo), Maggie Wheeler (Melodia), Adolph Caesar (Hotwing), Doug Preis (Molecular).

7443 Silverwing. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2003). In a long ago era birds and beasts battled to establish a balance in nature and the territorial rights for each species. Bats fell into a category where they were not birds nor beasts and were thus condemned to live in the darkness of Tree Haven. In modern times, one Silverwing bat, Shade, chooses to see the light of day. By doing so, he breaks the law and condemns his colony to live in the sun. Daylight also endows Shade with extraordinary abilities. As Shade's colony begins to migrate, he becomes separated from them and lands on an island where he befriends Marina, an outcast Batwing bat (her colony believes her silver band is bad luck and has disowned her). When she learns of Shade's mission — to find his colony — she joins him. Stories follow their perilous journey as they seek a new life and battle the evils of Goth, a cannibal bat (and enemy of the Silverwing bats) who is seeking Shade's colony for only one purpose: a feast.

Throbb is Goth's portly brother-in-law and his partner in the search of Shade's colony. Frieda is the elderly leader of the Silverwing bats; Bathsheba is Frieda's bitter enemy (seeking to overpower Frieda and become the leader); Ariel is Shade's mother; Luger is the evil wolf who seeks to rule all animals; Brutus is the merciless leader of the Owls, the enemies of bats; Chinook is a member of Shade's colony (a skillful hunter). Orestes is Brutus's son, an outcast owl (for being a vegetarian). He befriends Shade and Marina and now helps them in their quest.

Voice Cast: Bill Switzer (Shade), Sharon Alexander (Marina), Randall Carpenter (Ariel), Michael Dobson (Goth), Richard Ian Cox (Orestes), Pamela Hyatt (Frieda), Richard Newman (Brutus), Matt Hill (Chinook), Lee Tockar (Luger), Bill Switzer (Shade), Shirley Miller (Bathsheba).

7444 Simon. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1995–1996). The studios of Vintage Television, a Manhattan-based network, provide the setting. Duke Stone bought the network (for $80 million) “so I could have a few laughs.” The network's slogan is “Nothing We Do Is Original” and its first important program was the U.S. rights to the British miniseries Wuthering Heights. Duke belongs to the Silver Head Golf Club.

Simon Hemple is the program director. He is single and honest and shares a Harlem apartment with his brother Carl. Simon watches a great deal of TV and relates old shows to real life. His specialty is bird calls and he believes that the perfect woman is one who likes the Three Stooges. Simon eats gravy as a snack and his favorite eatery is Uncle Sam's Smoking Pit Barbeque Restaurant (where you can get a free meal if you can beat Neal, the chicken who plays tic tac toe).

Simon attended Nassau Community College (it took him five years to graduate) while Carl, a Columbia business graduate (top one-third of his class) is having a difficult time finding work. Carl is straightforward and well educated. He came to live with Simon after his divorce. He first worked as a balloon salesman, then as a hot dog vendor, “Muffin Girl” at Vintage Television and finally vice president of real estate holdings for Duke Stone Enterprises. On his way to work each morning, Simon feeds Earl and Merle, the squirrels in the park.

Cast: Harland Williams (Simon Hemple), Jason Bateman (Carl Hemple), Paxton Whitehead (Duke Stone).

7445 Simon and Simon. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1982–1988). Andrew Simon, called “A.J.” and Richard Simon, called “Rick” are brothers who are also private detectives. A.J. is the responsible, thoughtful brother; Rick is somewhat irresponsible and more of a ladies' man. The mismatched brothers operate Simon and Simon, a freewheeling but near-bankrupt detective agency in San Diego (located at 3461 LaCosta Road). Stories follow their adventures as they often bend the rules (not exactly breaking them) to solve their clients' problems (most of which involve murder).

Myron Fowler is the owner of their competition, the Peerless Detective Agency; Janet Fowler is Myron's daughter — who works as the Simons' secretary; Cecilia Simon is Rick and A.J.'s mother; Marcel “Downtown” Brown is the police detective who works with and at times, against, Rick and A.J. (Marcel was later replaced by Lieutenant Abby Marsh); Julie is the waitress friend of Rick and A.J.; Roy Simon is Rick and A.J.'s uncle; Temple Hill is Marcel's girlfriend; Luke Brown is Marcel's cousin; Elizabeth Charles is Rick and A.J.'s cousin; Bud and Edie Krelman are Rick and A.J.'s uncle and aunt. Rick wrote the book My Life as a Private Detective; his dog is Marlowe (named after private detective Philip Marlowe).

Cast: Jameson Parker (Andrew “A.J.” Simon), Gerald McRaney (Rick Simon), Ed Barth (Myron Fowler), Jeannie Wilson (Janet Fowler), Mary Carver (Cecilia Simon), Tim Reid (Marcel “Downtown” Brown), Joan McMurtrey (Abby Marsh), Daphne Maxwell-Reid (Temple Hill), Diane Lewis (Julie), John Astin (Roy Simon), Samuel E. Wright (Luke Brown), Jack Elam (Bud Krelman), Allyn Ann McLerie (Edie Krelman), Danny (Marlowe). Theme Vocal (First Season): “Theme from Simon and Simon” by The Thrasher Brothers. Theme Song (Remainder of Series): “Simon and Simon Theme” by Michael Towers and Barry DeVorzon.

7446 Simon Lash. (Unaired Pilot; Crime Drama; Produced in 1960). A proposed series about Simon Lash, a rugged, two-fisted private detective. Based on the character created by Frank Gruber.

Cast: Jock Mahoney (Simon Lash), Gregory Walcott (Lieutenant Wile), Elaine Edwards (Janie), Walter Sande (Slocum), Edward Kemmer (Joe), Warren

Stevens (Paletti), Ann McRae (Mavis), Murvyn Vye (Rocco), Vincent Barbi (Lou).

7447 The Simple Life. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1998). Sara Campbell is a divorced woman who is considered America's foremost authority on country living. She lives in Manhattan and has a TV series called The Simple Life (wherein she displays her knowledge of life in the country. Unfortunately, it is set in a studio). When Sara feels she needs to be more accurate, she gives up her condo in Manhattan and moves to a farm in Sedgewick, a town in upstate New York. Her daughter, Fredericka (called Freddi) hates being "in the middle of nowhere," while Sara's mother, Muriel, feels Sara will never be able to survive in the country and will soon return to the city. Stories follow Sara as she turns her home into a TV studio and report on the simple life from her new simple life.

Other Regulars: Luke, Sara's farm foreman; Charlotte and Will, Luke's deceased sister's children (who he is raising); Greg, Sara's British producer; Melanie, Greg's assistant; and Jeff and Nick, crewmembers.

Sara was born in Queens, New York. As a kid she had a dog named Fish; as a teenager she was "a fat brunette" and attended a camp for big-boned kids called Camp Rotunda (their slogan was "Easy on the Mayo, Live Another Day").

7448 The Simple Life. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2003). Can two absolutely beautiful (and spoiled rotten) rich girls leave their world of riches behind and tackle life as most people do? That is the premise behind five comedy-accented series in which Paris Hilton and her best friend, Nicole Richie, attempt to do so.

Paris and Nicole are terribly inept at everything they do (although a reality series, the girls are acting). In the first series, Paris and Nicole are removed from their posh Beverly Hills digs and sent to the small town of Altus, Arkansas, to live the real simple life. Here the girls are given various jobs to tackle—which they do but cause untold chaos for their employers with their total ineptness. The series proved one thing—you can take the girl out of the city but you can't take the city out of the girl. Paris and Nicole are rich and spoiled and cannot survive any other way.

Cast: Paris Hilton (Herself), Nicole Richie (Herself).

7449 The Simple Life 2: Road Trip. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2004). A second reality series (with comic overtones) with rich socialite friends Paris Hilton and Nicole Richie again being stripped of their wealth and fast life to hit the road in a mobile home to experience life in the small towns of America.

The girls begin their trip in Miami Beach, Florida and conclude in Beverly Hills, California. In between, they are the guest of various host families and must take jobs to earn money in each of the towns they visit. The girls prove to be inept at everything they attempt (except looking beautiful and showing others how to do the same thing).

Cast: Paris Hilton (Herself), Nicole Richie (Herself).

7450 The Simple Life 3: Interns. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2005). A third installment of The Simple Life that finds the rich and beautiful socialites, Paris Hilton and Nicole Richie traveling throughout the Northeast by Greyhound bus. In each stop they make they are welcomed by a host family and perform various jobs to earn the money they need to survive (the girls cannot use their own personal funds).

7451 The Simple Life 4: 'Til Death Do Us Part. (Series; Reality; E!; 2006). A fourth installment of the reality series The Simple Life (see also The Simple Life 2: Road Trip, The Simple Life 3: Interns, The Simple Life 4: 'Til Death Do Us Part and The Simple Life 5: Going to Camp).

After the taping of Interns (the third series) Paris Hilton and Nicole Richie had a falling out and are no longer friends. Each has gone her separate way. In this series Paris and Nicole hit the road again, staying at a host family and filling in for a married pregnant woman with a young daughter. Because of the rift, Paris and Nicole's scenes are filmed separately and through editing it appears they are working as a team.

Cast: Paris Hilton (Herself), Nicole Richie (Herself).

7452 The Simple Life 5: Going to Camp. (Series; Reality; E!; 2007). Prior to the taping of The Simple Life 4: 'Til Death Do Us Part, Paris Hilton and Nicole Richie had a dispute that broke up their friendship. Paris and Nicole were filmed separately and their scenes edited together for broadcast of that series. The Simple Life 5 reunites Paris and Nicole who appear to have made up and are friends again. Here the girls travel to a fat camp to help where and how they can (and as always, being too dumb to know what to do, causing headaches for all concerned, with their antics).

Cast: Paris Hilton (Herself), Nicole Richie (Herself).

7453 The Simpsons. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1990–). An animated adult series about the Simpsons, an outrageous family who live in a town called Springfield, U.S.A. (which was founded by Jebediah Springfield in the 1840s). Homer is the father, Marge his wife and Bart, Lisa and Maggie are their children.

Homer is a 239-pound incompetent safety inspector in Sector 7G of the Springfield Nuclear Power Plant. He loves to eat and drink Duff's beer (mostly at Moe's Tavern). He is, in the simplest of terms a total moron.

Marge is 34 years old, has blue hair and appears to be satisfied being a housewife and mother. In high school she had aspirations of becoming an artist until a teacher discouraged her (apparently over a picture she painted of her idol Ringo Starr). It was also at Springfield High School that Homer Simpson and Marge Bouvier first met — in detention (Homer for smoking in the boy's bathroom; Marge for demonstrating for women's rights on campus).

Bart is the oldest child, a ten-year-old wise-cracking brat who is every parent's nightmare and "the bad boy of TV." Bart attends Springfield Elementary School (fourth grade) and spends more time in detention than he does in class. He has a dog (Santa's Little Helper) and Krusty the Clown is his favorite TV show (Krusty, real name Herschel Krustofski, is a very nasty clown on whom Bart has based his whole life). Bart enjoys playing practical jokes and he is best known for his catch phrases — "My name is Bart Simpson, who the hell are you?" and "Don't have a cow, man."

Lisa, the middle child, attends the same school as Bart and is in the second grade. She is also very smart and is a budding saxophone player. She is not as reckless as Bart and sometimes wonders how an idiot like Homer could be her father as she is the only normal one in the family. Her favorite TV show is The Itchy and Scratchy Show, a very violent cartoon.

Baby Maggie is the youngest and most content, calmly observing life while sucking on her pacifier. Maggie spoke for the first time in the episode of December 3, 1992 (via guest Elizabeth Taylor). Homer put Maggie to bed and left the room. Maggie took the pacifier out of her mouth and said "Daddy."

The series began as short segments of The Tracey Ullman Show before becoming its own weekly series. Millhouse is Bart's friend; Moe is the bar owner;

Todd Flanders is the Simpson's neighbor; Mr. Burns is Homer's boss; Patti, Selma and Jacqueline are Marge's sisters; Apu is the convenience store owner; Abraham is Homer's father; Barney is Homer's drinking buddy.

Voice Cast: Dan Castellaneta (Homer Simpson), Julie Kavner (Marge Simpson), Nancy Cartwright (Bart Simpson), Yeardley Smith (Lisa Simpson), Pamela Hayden (Millhouse Van Houten), Hank Azaria (Chief Wiggum), Harry Shearer (Kent Brockman), Tress MacNeille (Agnes Skinner), Marcia Wallace (Edna Krabappel), Kelsey Grammer (Side Show Bob), Hank Azaria (Apu), Hank Azaria (Moe), Hank Azaria (Kirk Van Houten), Nancy Cartwright (Nelson Muntz), Nancy Cartwright (Ralph Wiggum), Nancy Cartwright (Todd Flanders), Dan Castellaneta (Abraham Simpson), Dan Castellaneta (Krusty the Clown), Dan Castellaneta (Barney), Dan Castellaneta (Side Show Mel), Dan Castellaneta (Mayor Quimby), Dan Castellaneta (Itchy), Harry Shearer (Mr. Burns), Harry Shearer (Smithers), Harry Shearer (Ned Flanders), Julie Kavner (Patti Bouvier), Julie Kavner (Selma Bouvier), Julie Kavner (Jacqueline Bouvier), Marcia Wallace (Edna Krabappel). Theme: "The Simpsons" by Danny Elfman.

7454 Sin City Diaries. (Series; Anthology; Cinemax; 2007). Las Vegas is not only a place where high rollers come to test their luck at the gambling tables, but it is also a place where, for a price, sexual fantasies come true. Angelica, a gorgeous Madame, and her staff of equally gorgeous girls, make those fantasies come true as seen in varying stories of sexual fulfillment.

Cast: Amber Smith (Angelica).

7455 Sinbad. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1967). A proposed series about Sinbad, "The Ulysses of Persia," as he sails the Arabian seas seeking adventure.

Cast: Michael Stefan (Sinbad), Abraham Sofaer (Galgo), Cal Bolder (Shalu), Sammy Rose (Shizam), Victor Buono (Sultan).

7456 The Sinbad Show. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1993–1994). David Bryan and Clarence Hall are 35-year-old friends who have known each other since grade school (where they won a talent show award for Best Singing Duo). David, the owner of his own computer graphics design company, later becomes "Dr. Freaky Deaky," the host of It's Science Time, a TV science show for kids. Clarence works as a clothing salesman for Ed's Big and Tall Men's Store and his favorite TV program is The Buddy Show (about a kid-loving dinosaur; "When they canceled Captain Kangaroo, Buddy was there for me").

David, who believes the movie character "Superfly" is real, has two goldfish (Ike and Tina) and a car he calls Sheba. He and Clarence hang out at a bar called Jamaica's.

Their lives change when David, a volunteer at the local orphanage, adopts Zana and L. J. Beckwith, a sister and brother who were about to be sent to different foster homes. Zana has an invisible friend named Bobby and L.J. is Little John — “He was little and his name was John.” Stories follow David and Clarence as they attempt to care for Zana and L.J.

Cast: Sinbad (David Bryan), T.K. Carter (Clarence Hall), Erin Davis (Zana), Willie Norwood (L.J.).

7457 Sing Along. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1958). The lyrics to familiar songs are rolled across the bottom of the screen to enable home viewers to participate in a sing-along with the regular cast. While short-lived here, band leader Mitch Miller capitalized on the idea and became a success with his Sing Along with Mitch series (which see for information). The series aired from June 4, 1958 to July 16, 1958.

Host: Jim Lowe. Regulars: Florence Henderson, Tina Robin, June Roselle, Somethin’ Smith and the Red Heads. Orchestra: Harry Sosnik.

7458 Sing Along with Mitch. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1961–1964). The lyrics to familiar songs are rolled across the bottom of the screen to enable home viewers to “Sing Along with Mitch” and his TV family. The series aired from January 27, 1961 to September 21, 1964. Bill Hobin is the producer.

Host: Mitch Miller. Regulars: Leslie Uggams, Gloria Lambert, Louise O’Brien, Victor Griffin, Gloria Chu, Paul Friesen, Bob McGrath, Mary Lou Rhyal, Bill Ventura, Phil Okon, Frank Raye, Leonard Stokes, Tommy Nordon, Stan Carlson, Diana Trask, Jack Brown, Rita McLaughlin, Sam Carter, The James Starbuck Singers. Music Director: Jimmy Carroll. Music Arranger: Glenn Osser.

7459 Sing It Again. (Series; Game; CBS; 1950–1951). The object calls for contestants to identify song titles from either several notes of music or from a line from the song itself. Each correct identification scores a player one point. The player with the highest point total is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. Broadcast on both radio and television.

Host: Dan Seymour (1950), Jan Murray (1951). Regulars: Judy Lynn, Alan Dale, Larry Douglas, Patti Clayton, Bob Howard, The Riddlers.

7460 Sing Me a Story. (Series; Children; UPN; 1998–1999). A cottage in a small community is the setting. Here a group of children gather to hear stories, sung by a young woman named Belle, and illustrated through clips of various Disney cartoons. The songs and stories are designed to help children understand various aspects of the world in which they live. Assisting Belle are Harmony the cat (a puppet), bookworms Lewis and Carol (puppets) and Big Book, a talking book with knowledge of all books. Kirsten, Julie, Thea, Corey and J.J. are the featured children.

Cast: Lynsey McLeod (Belle), Kirsten Storms

(Kirsten), Julie VanLue (Julie), Thea Cabrerros (Thea), Corey Hayes (Corey), J.J. Ward (J.J.). Puppeteers: Chuck Fawcett, Jeff Conover. Puppet Voices: Jim Cummings, Christine Cavanaugh, Jeff Conover.

7461 Sing-Co-Pation. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949). Dolores Marshall and Joanelle Jones host a musical interlude program from Chicago that ran from January 23, 1949 to October 30, 1949.

7462 Singer and Sons. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1990). Singer and Sons is a New York Deli owned by Nathan Singer whose “sons” are Mitchell and Reggie Patterson, the offspring of his black housekeeper, Sarah Patterson (Nathan is a widower with no sons who has made Sarah’s sons his heirs). The three episode program follows Nathan’s efforts to run a deli his heirs really do not want. Other Regulars: Claudia, the deli waitress; and Lou, a deli customer.

Cast: Harold Gould (Nathan Singer), Esther Rolle (Sarah Patterson), Bobby Hosea (Mitchell Patterson), Tommy Ford (Reggie Patterson), Arnetia Walker (Claudia James), Phil Leeds (Lou Gold).

7463 The Singers. (Pilot; Variety; CBS; 9/8/69). A proposed series that was to present top name entertainers on a weekly basis. Mel Torme is the producer.

Host: Michele Lee. Guests: John Byner, Phyllis Diller, James Farentino, Gerri Granger, Jack Jones, Frankie Laine, Lynne Lipton, Marilyn Michaels, Ricardo Montalban, Louisa Moritz, Harve Presnell, Charles Nelson Reilly, Cliff Robertson, Edward G. Robinson, Bobby Van. Orchestra: Billy May.

7464 The Singing Bee. (Series; Game; NBC; 2007). Six contestants are randomly chosen from the studio audience and “You don’t have to sing well — just know how to sing it right.” In round one each of the players is told the title of a song. The band plays that song and the player must sing the correct second line. The first four players to do so advance to round two. Here the players are divided into two two-member teams. A song title is given to one team. As the band plays the lyrics to the second line appear in scrambled form on a large screen. The first player who is able to unscramble the words and sing the song correctly wins. The same method is used for the remaining team. In round three the two remaining players compete in a segment wherein each has to sing the entire chorus of a song correctly. The one player who is successful receives a chance to win money in the Final Countdown Round. Here the band plays seven songs. For each song the player sings correctly he wins $5,000. If he can correctly sing five songs he wins $50,000. A player is allowed three strikes (misses) and if used, the most he can win is $20,000.

Host: Joey Fatone. Regulars: The Singing Bee Dancers. Orchestra: Ray Chew.

7465 The Singing Lady. (Series; Children; ABC; 1948–1954). Music, songs and fairy tales with Irene Wicker, “The Singing Lady.” The series, based on the radio program of the same title, ran from August 12, 1948 to August 6, 1950. It was revised as Irene Wicker Story Time from September 27, 1953 to March 21, 1954.

Hostess: Irene Wicker. Regulars: The Suzari Marionettes.

7466 The Single Guy. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1995–1997). Jonathan Eliot is a young man with a big dream — become a successful writer and find a girl he can call his own. Jonathan lives in Manhattan and his mishaps as he attempts to fulfill his dreams are the focal point of the series.

Jonathan’s best friend, Sam Sloan, is a schemer whose cons always involve Jonathan and always land him in hot water. Coming to the rescue is Trudy Sloan, a mutual friend who has a true knack for resolving the problems Sam causes. Also sharing Jonathan’s dream is his childhood friend, Janeane Percy-Parke, a lovable girl who is now married to Matt Parker, an uptight yuppie who appears obnoxious but is quite likeable once you get to know him. Rounding out the cast is Manny, the building’s doorman who tries to help his tenants with their problems. Second season episodes drop the characters of Janeane and Matt and add Marie and Russell as the new friends for Jonathan.

Cast: Jonathan Silverman (Jonathan Eliot), Joey Slotnick (Sam Sloan), Ming-Na Wen (Trudy Sloan), Ernest Borgnine (Manny), Jessica Hecht (Janeane Percy-Parker), Mark Moses (Matt Parker), Olivia D’Abo (Marie), Shawn Michael Howard (Russell).

7467 The Single Life. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/21/80). Events in the life of Barrie Shepherd, a single girl living in New York City who is also the writer of “The Single Life,” a lonely-hearts column for Manhattanite magazine. Other Regulars: Stephanie, Rocky and Doris, Barrie’s friends.

Cast: Barrie Youngfellow (Barrie Shepherd), Celia Weston (Stephanie), Paul Regina (Rocky), Joyce Reehling (Doris). Guest Cast: Fred McCarren (John Muller), John Wylar (Waiter). Theme Vocal: “The Single Life” by Phyllis Brown.

7468 Singled Out. (Series; Game; MTV; 1995). A variation on The Dating Game wherein one single person must choose a date from fifty potential mates. A female is brought on stage and isolated from the men. A board with qualities is displayed (for example, hair, eye color, weight, height). The girl makes a list of the qualities she is seeking. Men who meet those qualities remain. The second round has the girl asking the men questions that give her the opportunity to eliminate all but three finalists. Round three is another question-answer session wherein the girl can ask personal questions in order for her to determine the man she would most like to date. The game is also played in reverse — one male and fifty females.

Host: Chris Hardwicke. Co-Host: Jenny McCarthy.

7469 Singles. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/17/72). A proposed series about Michele and Ruth, working girls in a greeting card company who are also best friends and roommates. In the pilot episode, Michele and Ruth attempt to reform an inept burglar they find robbing their apartment. Other Regulars: Sidney, Michele and Ruth’s boss.

Cast: Michele Lee (Michele), Ruth Buzzi (Ruth), Henry Jones (Sidney). Guest Cast: John Byner (Freddy the burglar), Jerry Fogel (Officer Foley).

7470 Sir Francis Drake. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1962). The shortened title for The Adventures of Sir Francis Drake. See this title for information.

7471 Sirens. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/4/87). Frances “Franny” Aronson and Cheryl Kelly are two mismatched officers with the Metropolitan Police Department. Franny is single, Cheryl is married (to Beau) and the unsold series was to relate their misadventures as they attempt to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, a psychic dream of an officer’s death by Franny’s mother (Ilene) has Franny and Cheryl botching assignments as they attempt to watch out for each other. Other Regulars: Reuben, Ilene’s husband; and Sergeant Beth McCarty.

Cast: Dinah Manoff (Franny Aronson), Loretta DeVine (Cheryl Kelly), Shannon Tweed (Beth McCarty), Joyce Van Patten (Ilene Ziskind), Alan Openheimer (Reuben Ziskind), Randy Brooks (Beau Kelly). Guest Cast: Max Reimer (Johnny Step), Stephen Godwin (Sergeant Rick Alberghini), Terry Correll (Officer Mike Graham).

7472 Sirens. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1993). The daily activities of three rookie female police officers (Sarah Berkezhuk, Molly Whelan and Lynn Stanton) as they begin their careers with the Central 7 Division of the Pittsburgh Police Department and struggle to balance their high stress jobs with husbands, boyfriends, ex-husbands, friends, parents and children. When ABC failed to renew the series after its test run, it was picked up for first-run syndication beginning in September 1994. The cast remained the same with the exception of Officer Sarah Berkezhuk; she was replaced by Officer Jessie Jaworski. The series ran on ABC from March 10, 1993 to August 11, 1993.

Cast: Jayne Brook (Sarah Berkezhuk), Liza Snyder (Molly Whelan), Adrienne-Joi Johnson (Lynn Stanton), Jayne Heitmeyer (Jessie Jaworski), Deirdre O'Connell (Heidi Schiller), Tim Thomerson (Officer James "Buddy" Zunder), John Telesky (Officer Dan Kelly).

7473 Sirota's Court. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1976–1977). A comical look at life in a night court as seen through the hectic experiences of Matthew J. Sirota, a compassionate judge. Other Regulars: Maureen, the court clerk; Gail, the public defender; Sawyer, the private attorney; Bud, the assistant D.A.; and John, the U.S. Marshal.

Cast: Michael Constantine (Judge Matthew Sirota), Cynthia Harris (Maureen O'Connor), Kathleen Miller (Gail Goodman), Ted Ross (Sawyer Dabney), Fred Willard (H.R. Bud Nugent), Owen Bush (John Belson).

7474 Sister Kate. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1989–1990). In 1918 Redemption House, a Catholic residence for orphaned children, was established. Over the years, many children were given what was perhaps the only home they had ever known. On September 16, 1989, Sister Katherine ("Kate") Lambert is appointed by the diocese to care for seven mischievous orphans who now reside at Redemption House: April Newberry, Frederika ("Freddy") Marasco, Hilary Logan, Eugene Colodner, Violet Johnson, Todd Mahaffey, and Neville Williams.

Seminars are held on Sundays to allow prospective parents to interview the children. Kate, however, knows her charges are rude and obnoxious and will never find a home ("I have nightmares that some poor parents will get stuck with them").

April is a stunning blonde who desperately hopes her mother, Julia Newberry (Sally Struthers) will overcome her addiction (clinical depression) and come back for her (following her husband's death, Julia retreated to her own world and now resides at the Brookhaven Mental Institution).

Freddy, the victim of a broken home, has a tough exterior but longs for her father, Nick Marasco (Dan Hedaya), to clean up his act (he is a con artist) and return for her.

Hilary, the handicapped girl (wheelchair bound) is desperately seeking love and knows, deep in her heart, that no one will adopt her. She struggles to be like the other kids and hides the hurt she feels with a cheerful attitude.

Violent is the most charming of the children and has the greatest chance for adoption. Just the opposite is Neville, whom Sister Kate believes is a devil in the guise of a little boy. He is from Jamaica and seems to despise females. He is nasty to everyone (even Sister Kate) and is envious if a girl can do something he cannot. Without explanation (other than that the character was annoying), Neville was dropped and replaced by a cute orphan boy named Buster.

Lucas Underwood is the field director of Diocesan Children's Services. He has the nickname "Spanky" and allows Kate $30 per month spending money. Laurel Adams played his wife, Sheila Underwood, and David Greenlee was his son, Kevin Underwood. Theme: "The Sister Kate Theme," vocal by Amy Grant.

Cast: Stephanie Beacham (Sister Kate), Erin Red (April Newberry), Hannah Cutrona (Freddy Marasco), Penina Segall (Hilary Logan), Jason Priestley (Todd Mahaffey), Joel Robinson (Neville Williams), Alexandra Simmons (Violet Johnson), Harley Cross (Eugene Colodner), Gordon Jump (Lucas Underwood), Miko Hughes (Buster).

7475 Sister Michael Wants You. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 5/13/94). Sister Michael, real name Margaret "Maggie" Donovan, is the daughter of Charlie Donovan, a famous mystery writer. Sister Michael has been assigned to the St. Claire Convent at 2810 Marlboro Road in Los Angeles. She was a former tomboy and has recently been appointed the convent's Mother Superior, making her the youngest Mother Superior in the Catholic church's history. Growing up as the daughter of a famous father has also instilled in Sister Michael a knowledge of crime. The unsold series was to relate her adventures as she strives to solve crimes. In the pilot episode, broadcast on Diagnosis: Murder, Sister Michael turns to an old friend, Mark Sloan, a doctor at Community General Hospital who prides himself as being an amateur sleuth, for help in solving a murder — that of one of her former students (Greg) who was killed in the convent by a mysterious assailant dressed in black and seeking a videotape he was carrying. Mark poses as Father McGinnis, a temporary chaplain who is staying at the convent, and with Sister Michael's help, solves the crime.

Cast: Delta Burke (Sister Michael), Sarah Green (Sister Charity), Judy Jean Berns (Sister Margaret). Guest Cast: Dick Van Dyke (Mark Sloan), Conchetta Tomei (Sister Regina), Michael MacRae (Joseph Strega), Rick Aiello (Daniel Strega), Anthony Charrtona (Vincent Strega), Billy Morrisette (Greg Wilson).

7476 Sister, Sister. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1994–95; WB; 1995–99). Tia Landry and Tamera Campbell are twins who were separated at birth and adopted by different parents — Tia by Lisa Landry; Tamera by Ray Campbell. Fourteen years later, the girls meet by chance while shopping at Fashion Fantasy in a mall.

Realizing the girls want to be together, Ray and Lisa come to an agreement: she and Tia will move in with Ray (243 Maple Drive in Michigan) and share expenses.

Tia, the smarter twin, and Tamera, the creative one, attend Roosevelt High School and later Michigan State University. Tamera won Roosevelt's first "Golden Casey Award" (for singing in a talent contest when the school dedicated its gym to its most famous alumni, Casey Kasem). Tia is the star pitcher for the school's baseball team, the Tigers, and is easily upset if someone brings up the name Lulu (her dog, who ran away from home when she was a child).

Tia and Tamera first worked for their father then as counter girls at Rocket Burger. Tia later worked at Book 'Em Joe, a coffee/bookshop in the mall; and Tamera was "Lady J.," the host of a listener call-in advice program on her college radio station (WTSE). The college hangout is an eatery called the Cellar.

Artist Rachelle Gavin was revealed as being Tia and Tamera's birth mother. She had been living with a globe-trotting photographer (Max Sullivan) and died during childbirth. Max, away when the twins were born, returned to Florida to find that the twins had already been adopted.

Ray attended Mumford High School and owns Campbell's Limousine Service (also called Ray's Limos and Ray Campbell's Limo Service). He ran for State Senator (5th District) but lost by a small margin. Ray has a classic white limo ("the clunker nobody wanted") he calls "Moby Dick." Lisa attended Ford High School and is now a fashion designer with her own cart business, Fashions by Lisa, at the Northland Mall (she replaced the late Balloon Bob, the Balloon Man). Before setting up operations in her home, Lisa was a salesgirl at the Fashion Boutique (also called Monique's). Lisa has a nasty dog named Sweetness (Ray calls him Cujo) and is a member of the Black Professional Women's Club of Detroit.

7477 Sister Terri. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/27/78). Sister Terri is a Catholic nun with a past: her real name is Terri Morgan and she was a gang leader (of the Velvet Knuckles) known as Terri the Terror. She is now struggling to put her past behind her and become an inspiration to the youngsters she teaches in grammar school. In the pilot episode, Sister Terri attempts to stop a rumble involving her former gang. Other Regulars: Mother Superior Helen; Sister Agatha; and Samantha, Terri's sister.

Cast: Pam Dawber (Sister Terri), Allyn Ann

McLerie (Mother Superior Helen), Amy Johnson (Sister Agatha), Robbie Lee (Samantha Morgan). Guest Cast: Scott Colomby (Angel), Kimberly La Page (Jenny). Theme Vocal: "Sister Terri" by Shelby Flint.

7478 Sisters. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 5/24/90). The relationship between three sisters living in New York City: Kate Morrison, an assistant D.A.; MacKenzie Morrison, a fashion designer; and Ruth Morrison, a secretary — siblings who squabble but help each other out in times of duress. Other Regulars: Tina, MacKenzie's daughter; and Colonel Morrison, the sisters' father.

Cast: Rita Wilson (Kate Morrison), Daphne Ashbrook (MacKenzie Morrison-Wilds), Viveka Davis (Ruth Morrison), Sandy McPeak (Colonel Morrison), Megan Parlen (Tina Morrison-Wilds). Guest Cast: David Bowe (David Landon), Robert Beltran (Mike Perez).

7479 Sisters. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1991–1996). Events in the lives of four close sisters (Georgiana "Georgie" Reed-Whitsig, Alexandra "Alex" Reed-Halsey, Theodora "Teddy" Reed-Margolis and Francesca "Frankie" Reed) who live in Winnetka, near Chicago. Flashbacks are used to a great extent to compare the sisters then and now ("We're more than sisters," Teddy says. "We're friends"). The girls attended West High School.

Georgie is 35 years old, married to John and the mother of two boys: Trevor and Evan. Georgie is a real estate broker with Maple Leaf Realities and has become the main support of the family since John quit his job as a C.P.A. to become a singer (his dream is to release a television record album called "The Sound of Whitsig"). John made his nightclub singing debut at the Tropicabana Club as "The C.P.A. of Song." In the last episode Georgie enrolls in college seeking to become a therapist.

Alex is 39 years old and the miser of the family. She will drive 20 miles out of her way to save ten cents on an item. She is organized, loves yard sales and is, in short, a shopaholic. Alex has been married to Wade, a plastic surgeon, for 15 years. They have a teenage daughter named Reed. To relax, Wade wears women's clothes ("It's something I like doing"). While Wade is primetime television's first cross-dresser, Alex was unaware of his secret lifestyle. (She discovered his secret when she thought he was having an affair and burst into his hotel room). In second season episodes, Wade leaves Alex for a younger woman. Alex later dated and married Big Al Barker, "The Prince of Price Town," a local appliance store. Alex's bout with breast cancer was a recurring storyline in 1993 episodes.

Teddy is 37 years old, the mother of a rebellious 15-year-old girl named Cat, divorced from Mitch Margolis and a recovering alcoholic. Teddy is the unstable sister; she has a carefree attitude about her life and will go anywhere the wind blows when the mood strikes her. She holds whatever jobs she can and is a budding artist. Teddy worked in telephone sales (555-MOAN, a line for men who feel lonely and need a woman to talk to; Teddy was Ramona). She was then a saleswoman for Wonderful You cosmetics and attempted her own line of clothes called Teddy Ware. She later becomes the Chief Financial Officer for the IDH Corporation in New York City.

Frankie is the youngest sister. She is a marketing analyst for the firm of Fyre, Birnbaum and Coates. Teddy calls Frankie “Stinkerbell.” Frankie has been in love with Mitch since she was 12 years old; she went into the store to buy some sea bass, saw Mitch and fell in love with him. When Teddy divorced Mitch (the owner of a fish store) in 1988, Frankie began having an affair with him and married him in second season episodes. She later opens a restaurant called Sweet 16.

Cat is Teddy’s beautiful 15-year-old daughter. She is very close to her mother and longs for a stable home life (she and Teddy are living with Georgie). Cat likes clothes that are “stylin’,” but around the house she parades around in her bra and panties.

Beatrice (“Bea”) Reed is the mother of the four sisters. She is a widow (her late husband, Tom, was a doctor) and lives at the Regency Condo. In the backyard of her former home, she had four rose-bushes that she named for each of her daughters (their father had hoped for boys, which is why they all have male names).

Flashbacks: Riff Regan (young Georgie), Alexandra Lee and Sharon Martin (teenage Alex), Sheridan Gayr (young Alex), Jill Novick and Devon Pierce (teenage Teddy), Rhianna Janette and Tasia Schutt (little Frankie), Annie Barker (Frankie age 12), Mark Patrick Gleason (young Wade). John McCann and Peter White (Bea’s husband, Dr. Thomas Reed), Mary Ann Calder (young Bea), Josh Lozoff (teenage Mitch), Mike Simmrin (young John). Relatives: Erica Yohn and Doris Belack (Mitch’s mother, Naomi Margolis).

Cast: Patricia Kalember (Georgie Reed-Whitsig), Swoosie Kurtz (Alex Reed-Halsey), Sela Ward (Teddy Reed-Margolis), Julianne Phillips (Frankie Reed), Heather McAdam (Cat Margolis), Kathy Wagner (Reed Halsey), Ashley Judd (Reed Halsey; later), Garrett M. Brown (John Whitsig), Ed Marinaro (Mitch Margolis), David Dukes (Wade Halsey), Elizabeth Hoffman (Beatrice Reed), Robert Klein (Big Al Barker), Ryan Francis (Trevor Whitsig), Dustin Berkovitz (Evan Whitsig). Theme Song: “Sisters” by Jay Gruska.

7480 Sit or Miss. (Series; Game; ABC; 1950). A game based on “Musical Chairs.” Five players compete and each walks around four chairs. When a musical selection stops, each has to grab a chair and sit down. The players who are sitting each receive $10. The standing player is asked a question. If he answers it correctly he receives $10. If he cannot answer it correctly, he receives one more opportunity to win the money by performing a stunt.

Hostess: Kay Westfall. Assistant: George Sotos.

7481 Sitcom. (Pilot; Comedy; HBO; 10/2/83). A spoof of network television situation comedies as seen through the eyes of the Gooseberrys, a less-than-intelligent American family fraught with problems: Bronco, the father; Betty, his wife; Sis, their daughter, a nurse; Bronco, Jr., their son, a cop; and Chip, their son, a fireman. The pilot episode depicts Bronco’s efforts to begin his own business—make duck decoys (that look nothing like ducks)—after he is laid off from work. Other Regulars: Al Slavedriver, Bronco’s boss.

Cast: Alan Young (Bronco Gooseberry), Alice Hirson (Betty Gooseberry), Dey Young (Sis Gooseberry), John Calvin (Bronco Gooseberry, Jr.), W.H. Macy (Chip Gooseberry), Hansford Rowe (Al Slavedriver).

7482 Six Degrees. (Series; Drama; ABC; 2006–2007). Whether it is a big city or a small town, people are forced together every day. Anyone of these strangers can walk into someone else’s life and change it. That is the premise behind Six Degrees—a theory that everyone is somehow connected to everyone else.

For the series, New York City is the setting. Here, the lives of six strangers, who meet (by constantly running into each other) and become friends are depicted on a weekly basis. The six strangers are Carlos, a public defender; Whitney, a high-power executive at Ralston Public Relations; Laura, a single mother (of Eliza) hoping to begin a new life (as an interior decorator) after her divorce from David; Mae Anderson, a runaway with a secret who changes her identity (dying her black hair brunette) and her name (to Claire) to become the nanny for Laura’s daughter; Damian, a chauffeur with a serious gambling problem; and Steven, a veteran photographer who has fallen on hard times.

Cast: Jay Hernandez (Carlos), Bridget Moynahan (Whitney), Erika Christensen (Mae Anderson), Dorian Missick (Damian), Hope Davies (Laura), Campbell Scott (Steven), Ruby Jerins (Eliza).

7483 Six Feet Under. (Series; Comedy; HBO; 2001–2005). Nate, David and Claire Fisher grew up in a most unusual atmosphere: a funeral parlor (their parents own the Fisher and Sons Funeral Parlor in Los Angeles). Their mother, Ruth is a widow (her husband was killed in a hearse-bus collision on Christmas Eve). Stories follow events in the lives of the dysfunctional family.

Nate is the oldest of the Fisher children. Prior to his father’s death and his joining the family business, Nate had distanced himself from the family. He was a college dropout, unable to make a romantic commitment and held a job as the assistant manager of organic produce at a Seattle supermarket. When Nate inherited half of the business after his father's death, he thought of selling it to their rival, Kroehner Service International.

David is the middle Fisher child. He calls himself "the stable one." David is 20 years old and has been working at the family business since he was 11 years old. He is gay and is struggling to establish a stable relationship with Keith Charles.

Claire is the youngest member of the family. She appears to have been most affected by the family business as she grew up among dead people and grieving people. She enjoys getting high on crystal meth and has had few connections with people. She yearns to become an artist and attended the Los Angeles Campus of the Arts.

Lisa Kimmel is the girl Nate married. Their relationship was rocky and shortly after the birth of their daughter, Maya, Lisa disappeared. Several weeks later she was found dead in her car (she was on her way to visit her sister, who lived outside of town).

Edie is Claire's friend, a free spirit who is also a student at the Arts school. Brenda was Nate's great love before he married Lisa. Brenda was in love with Nate and asked him to marry her. The relationship broke off when she cheated on him (numerous times) behind his back. The breakup devastated Brenda and sent her to seek professional help. She is struggling to start her life anew.

Cast: Peter Krause (Nate Fisher), Michael C. Hall (David Fisher), Lauren Ambrose (Claire Fisher), Frances Conroy (Ruth Fisher), Lili Taylor (Lisa Kimmel Fisher), Mena Suvari (Edie), Rachel Griffiths (Brenda Chenoweth), Matthew St. Patrick (Keith Charles), Jeremy Sisto (Billy Chenoweth), James Cromwell (George Sibley), Freddy Rodriguez (Fred-erico Diaz), Steffani Brass (Michaela Woodworth).

7484 Six Guns for Donegan. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 10/16/59). A proposed spin-off from Desilu Playhouse about Orville Darrow, an aging sheriff, and his attempts to maintain law and order in the town of Donegan. In the pilot episode, Darrow attempts to protect a cowardly citizen, acquitted of killing one of the notorious Clinton brothers, from the remaining brothers who have come to town seeking revenge. The title is derived from the fact that Darrow is the father of five sons (all sharpshooters who assist him) and an infant daughter; thus six guns to protect the town of Donegan.

Cast: Lloyd Nolan (Orville Darrow), Jean Hagen (Hilda Darrow), James Franciscus (Clay Darrow), Barry Curtis (Orville's son). Guest Cast: Jack Elam (Clinton), Harry Townes (Charlie), Paul George (Doctor).

7485 The Six Million Dollar Man. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1973–1978). "Gentlemen, we can rebuild him. We have the technology. Better than he was before. Better. Stronger. Faster" are the words spoken by Oscar Goldman, head of the O.S.I. (Office of Scientific Intelligence) as he addressed government officials on the possibility of "building" an agent through bionics for special, super sensitive and highly dangerous missions. The agent referred to by Oscar is Colonel Steve Austin, a U.S.

Air Force test pilot who was seriously injured when the plane he was testing, the M3F5, experienced a blowout, crashed and exploded. At a cost of six million dollars, Steve's legs, right arm and left eye are replaced with atomic powered, synthetic parts that endow him with great speed and strength but also make him something that has never existed before — a cyborg (cybernetic organism). In return, Steve becomes an agent for the O.S.I.

Steve was born in Ojai, California, and lives on Decatur Road in the former Marsden Ranch (which he bought to find peace and quiet away from his hectic life). There is a highway sign that reads "The Home of American Astronaut Steve Austin" that one sees as they enter Ojai. His girlfriend, whom he calls "Babe," is Jaime Sommers, the tennis pro who would become The Bionic Woman (see entry). Jaime, a freshman, and Steve, a senior, met at Ojai High School. They first kissed at a New Year's Eve party and Steve was teased by his friends "for robbing the cradle." In another episode, it is mentioned that Steve and Jaime met in the third grade.

Dr. Rudy Wells is the bionic surgeon who saved both Steve and Jaime's lives. Peggy Callahan is Oscar's secretary and Jaime's best friend (in some episodes, Peggy is called Janet Callahan). Farrah Fawcett, Lee Majors' wife at the time, appeared in several episodes as both Major Kelly Wood and Victoria Webster, a reporter for KNUZ-TV.

Shalon is an alien from deep space who is marooned on Earth and helped by Steve; Gillian and Aploy are fellow aliens; Big Foot is the alien created by Shalon. Barney Hillyer is the first experimental bionic man. See also Bionic Ever After, The Bionic Showdown, Bionic Woman (2007) and The Return of the Six Million Dollar Man and the Bionic Woman.

Cast: Lee Majors (Steve Austin), Richard Anderson (Oscar Goldman), Alan Oppenheimer (Dr. Rudy Wells), Martin E. Brooks (Dr. Rudy Wells; later), Jennifer Darling (Peggy Callahan), Susan Keller (Miss Johnson; Oscar's secretary), Lindsay Wagner (Jaime Sommers), Farrah Fawcett (Major Kelly Wood), Farrah Fawcett (Victoria Webster), Stefanie Powers (Shalon; the alien), Sandy Duncan (Gillian; an alien), Severn Darden (Aploy; an alien), Andre the Circus Giant (Big Foot), Ted Cassidy (Big Foot; later), Monte Markham (Barney Hillyer). Theme Vocal: "The Six Million Dollar Man” by Dusty Springfield. Theme Music (Later): Stewart Phillips, Oliver Nelson.

7486 The Six O’clock Follies. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1980). The Armed Forces Vietnam Network (AFVN) television station in wartime Saigon (1967) is the setting. The antics of the staff who produce The AFVN News and Sports, a six o’clock news program that is irreverently known as “The Follies.”

Regulars: Harvey, the commanding officer; Candi, the gorgeous weather girl; Sam, the newscaster; Don, the co-anchor; Vaughn, Harvey’s aide; Midas, the director, who also owns the local watering hole, the Midas Bar; Ho, the Vietnamese janitor; Percy, the technician; Lou, the Associated Press reporter; Marcel, the scheming businessman. The series ran on the following dates: April 24 and April 26, 1980; August 2, 1980 and September 13, 1980.

Cast: Joby Baker (Colonel Harvey Marvin), Aarika Wells (Candi LeRoy), A.C. Weary (Sam Paige), Laurence Fishburne (Don Robinson), Randall Carver (Vaughn Beuhler), Philip Charles MacKenzie (Midas Metcovitch), George Kee Cheung (Ho), David Hubbard (Percy Wiggins), Howard Witt (Lou Roskoe), Byron Webster (Marcel Valjean).

7487 The Six of Us. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 6/13/82). A story of two broken families struggling to become one as seen through the marriage of Sally Benjamin and Kevin Tree, divorced parents with children from previous marriages (Sally’s children are Tessa, Sam and Toby; Jake is Kevin’s son). The pilot episode, which is set in Redwood, California, and begins six months after the marriage, depicts Tessa’s attempts to adjust to the fact that her mother and real father (Robert) are no longer married. With some changes, it became the basis for the series “Family Tree (which see).

Cast: Gail Strickland (Sally Benjamin-Tree), Susan Swift (Tessa Benjamin), Lee Montgomery (Sam Benjamin), Jonathan Hall Kovacs (Toby Benjamin), Marco St. John (Kevin Tree), Patrick Cassidy (Jake Tree), Philip R. Allen (Robert Benjamin).

7488 Six Pack. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 7/24/83). One night stock car racer Brewster Baker catches five children attempting to strip his car. When he learns that the children (Heather, Duffy, Rebel, Hank and Tad) are orphans (their parents killed in a car crash) and struggling to remain a family, he takes them under his wing. The unsold series was to depict Brewster’s efforts to care for his new found family. In the pilot episode, Brewster tries to work up the courage to compete in a race following a near-fatal crash. Based on the feature film of the same title. Other Regulars: Sally, Brewster’s girlfriend, a waitress at the Pitstop Bar; and Sybil, the tutor Brewster hires for the children.

Cast: Don Johnson (Brewster Baker), Markie Post

(Sally Leadbetter), Jennifer Runyon (Heather “Breezy” Akins), Billy Warlock (Duffy Akins), Bubba Dean (Rebel Akins), Con Martin (Hank Akins), Leaf Phoenix (Tad Akins), Mae Marmy (Sybil Cadbury). Guest Cast: Ralph Pace (Joe Apple), Terry Beaver (Jo Jo), Jerry Campbell (Red Lyles), Cliff Brand (D.C. Dempsey), Julian Bond (Judge).

7489 The Six Wives of Henry VIII. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1971). A chronicle of the life and six marriages of Henry VIII (1491–1547), ruler of England during the 16th century. Catherine of Aragon is his first wife; Anne Boleyn, his second; Jane Seymour, his third; Anne of Cleves, the fourth wife; Catherine Howard, his fifth and Catherine Parr, wife number six. It ran from August 1, 1971 to September 5, 1971.

Cast: Keith Michell (Henry VIII), Annette Crosbie (Catherine of Aragon), Dorothy Tutin (Anne Boleyn), Anne Stallybrass (Jane Seymour), Elvi Hale (Anne of Cleves), Angela Pleasance (Catherine Howard), Rosalie Crutchley (Catherine Parr), Patrick Troughton (Duke of Norfolk), Verina Greenlaw (Princess Mary), John Ronane (Thomas Seymour), Sheila Burrell (Lady Rochford), Bernard Hepton (Archbishop Crammer), Michael Osborne (Mark Smeaton). Narrator: Anthony Quayle.

7490 The Sixth Sense. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1972). Michael Rhodes is a professor of parapsychology at the University School in Los Angeles. He believes there are ghosts and other unexplained occurrences that are linked to the supernatural. Stories follow his investigations as he seeks to help people who are threatened by the unknown. Nancy Murphy, a girl who believes in Michael’s theories, assists him.

Cast: Gary Collins (Michael Rhodes), Catherine Farrar (Nancy Murphy).

7491 The $64,000 Challenge. (Series; Game; CBS; 1956–1958). An extension series based on The $64,000 Question. Three contestants compete: one $64,000 Question champion and two challengers. Each player answers questions based on a category chosen by the champion. Each contestant is placed in a separate isolation booth and asked the same question. Incorrect answers defeat a player and money doubles in the same manner as in The $64,000 Question. If successful, the previous champion can win as much as $128,000. The series ran from April 8, 1956 to September 7, 1958.

Host: Sonny Fox (1956), Ralph Story (1956–1958). Announcer: Bill Rogers.

7492 The $64,000 Question. (Series; Game; CBS; 1955–1958). Players, who possess knowledge in at least one specific field, compete. The player begins by answering one question, which is worth one dollar. Each additional question doubles the previous amount of money; however, an incorrect response defeats a player who loses everything he has won up to that point. When ten questions are correctly answered, the player reaches the first plateau of $512. The money is frozen and remains his. If the player answers the next three questions correctly, he reaches the second plateau of $4,000. For the remaining four plateaus ($8,000, $16,000, $32,000 and $64,000), the player is placed in an isolation booth and asked extremely difficult questions. A player's winnings are based on his success at each of these plateaus; or his decision to quit at a specific point and leave with what money he has already won. See also the extension series, The $64,000 Challenge. The series ran from June 7, 1955 to November 2, 1958.

When under sponsorship of Revlon Cosmetics, the player was placed in "The Revlon Isolation Booth."

Host: Hal March. Assistant: Lynn Dollar. Announcer: Wayne Howell. Judge: Dr. Bergen Evans.

7493 Skag. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1980). Peter Skagska ("Skag" to his friends) is a 56-year-old, hard-working steel mill foreman (for East Pittsburgh Steel, Local 1602 in Pennsylvania), a loving husband and the father of four troubled children (Patricia, Barbara, John and David). Stories, which are adult, realistic and penetrating, focus on family relationships and problems at work.

Other Regulars: Jo, Peter's wife; Petar, Peter's father; Audrey, John's girlfriend; Jim, the mill supervisor; Dottie, bartender at the Fat Lady's Bar; and mill workers Zanski, Packa and Madman.

Cast: Karl Malden (Peter Skagska), Piper Laurie (Jo Skagska), Kathryn Holcomb (Patricia Skagska), Leslie Ackerman (Barbara Skagska), Peter Gallagher (John Skagska), Craig Wasson (David Skagska), George Voskovec (Petar Skagska), Gwen Humble (Audrey), Powers Boothe (Jim Whalen), Sally Prager (Dottie Jessup), R.G. Armstrong (Zanski), Frank Campanella (Packa), Richard Bright (Madman Mesissik).

7494 Skate. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2001–2002). Josh Raden is an aspiring pro skater and the world of skateboarding is explored as Josh struggles to become a world class skater. The idea sounds okay but the series suffers from very confusing camera work (sort of the shaky camera work of N.Y.P.D. Blue combined with the nauseating camera work of an MTV video) that made it difficult to watch. The sub story line of Josh's inability to overcome the thought that his girlfriend, Michelle, was a roller blader, also doomed the series (apparently skate boarders and roller bladders are natural enemies). Add to the mix a group of less than believable friends (Gordon, Vanessa and Whitney) and an instant candidate for cancellation is born. Of all the teen dramas on NBC's Saturday morning schedule (Saved by the Bell, All About Us, Running the Halls, Just Deal, One World, City Guys and Hang Time) Skate was the least watched. The series screen title is SK8.

Cast Christopher Jorgens (Josh Raden), Adrienne Carter (Michelle), Bryce Hodgson (Les), Blair Wingo (Vanessa), Darcy Laurie (Gideo), Claudette Mink (Whitney Cass), Pua Kekaula (Dom), Jorgito Vargas, Jr. (Dim).

7495 The Skatebirds. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1977–1978). The overall title for five animated series.

1. The Skatebirds. The antics of Knock Knock, Scooter and Satchel, three roller skating birds who are plagued by the antics of the mischievous Scat Cat.

2. The Robonic Stooges. A space age Moe, Larry and Curly, three robots constructed from the finest parts available, battle crime. Triple O is their superior.

3. Wonder Wheels. Wheelie is the owner of a decrepit motorcycle that, when the need arises, he transforms into Wonder Wheels to battle evil.

4. Woofers and Wimper. Detective dogs Woofers and Wimper set out to solve crimes.

5. Mystery Island. A live action sequence. Retreating to an uncharted island, the evil Dr. Strenge establishes a base where he constructs his diabolical machines to control the world. His device, however, is incomplete, and needs the aid of POPS, a sophisticated computer robot to fully activate it. Discovering that the robot is being transported, Dr. Strenge forces the plane carrying POPS to crash land on his island, marooning scientists Chuck Kelly, Sue Corwin and her brother, Sandy. Stories concern Chuck, Sue and Sandy's efforts to safeguard POPS from Dr. Strenge and find a way off the island.

Cast: Joe Giamalva (Scooter), Bruce Hoy (Knock-Knock), Ken Means (Satchel), Maurice Cook (Scat Cat), Paul Winchell (Moe), Joe Baker (Larry), Frank Welker (Curly), Ross Martin (Triple O), Micky Dolenz (Wheelie Sheeler), Susan Davis (Dooley Lawrence; his friend), Paul Winchell (Woofers), Paul Winchell (Wimper), Stephen Parr (Chuck Kelly), Lynne Marie Johnson (Sue Corwin), Larry Vouk (Sandy Corwin), Michael Kermodan (Dr. Strenge), Frank Welker (Voice of POPS).

7496 Skating with Celebrities. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2006). The program teams six professional skaters with six celebrities to compete in a figure skating competition. The celebrities have little or no skating abilities and are taught the basics needed for the competition by their teammate. Each of the teams performs a routine that is judged by a panel of professional skaters based on performance. The one team deemed to be the best in overall execution of each of the routines is the winner.

Hosts: Scott Hamilton, Summer Sanders. Judge: Mark Lund, Dorothy Hamill. Celebrities: Kristy Swanson, Deborah Gibson, Todd Bridges, Dave Coulier, Jillian Barberie, Bruce Jenner. Skaters: Tai Babilonia, Nancy Kerrigan, Jenni Meno, Lloyd Eisler, Kurt Browning, John Zimmerman. Announcer: Mark Thompson. Choreographer: Renee Roca, Randy Gardner, Michael Seibert.

7497 Skedaddle. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Eight children compete, divided into two four-member teams. In Rounds One and Two, the teams compete in a series of question-and-answer rounds and stunt rounds (involving messy substances). Points are awarded based on the success of answering questions and/or performing stunts. The team with the highest score wins and competes in a final stunt round for prizes.

Host: Ron Pearson.

7498 Skeezer. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 12/27/82). Carrie Jessup is a nurse turned clinical psychologist

(at the Willowview Home for Children) who uses her dog, Skeezer, as a therapeutic aid for emotionally disturbed children. The unsold series, based on the book, Skeezer, Dog with a Mission, by Elizabeth Yates, was to relate Carrie's efforts to help children through Skeezer. The pilot episode depicts how Carrie acquires Skeezer (from a California animal shelter after the dog is abandoned) and how she convinces Dr. Chandless, the skeptical head of the clinic, to accept Skeezer as a valuable part of therapy. Other Regulars: counselors Barbara and Sam.

Cast: Karen Valentine (Carrie Jessup), Tom Atkins (Dr. Chandless), Mariclare Costello (Barbara Thompson), Justin Lord (Sam Johnson), O.J. (Skeezer). Guest Cast: Leighton Greer (Ruthie Wilcox), Jeremy Licht (Jed), Kyle Oliver (Charlie), Christina Hutter (Jill), Dee Wallace (Lucille), Jack DeMave (Uncle Jim), Max Hunt (Steve), Bunny Summers (Sally), Patricia Conklin (Claudia).

7499 Skeleton Warriors. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1994–1995). Luminaire is a futuristic planet that is powered by a source called the Lightstar Crystal. When an evil baron of the royal family fails in an attempt to steal the crystal, it splits itself in half and transforms the baron into a living skeleton. Although he has retained half of the crystal, the other half has been retained by the children of the royal family — Justin, Jennifer and Joshua Lightstar. The good crystal half has also endowed the children with special powers that they use as the Legion of Light. Justin, who can emit laser beams from his hands, has become Prince Justin Lightstar. Jennifer has become Talyn (although she is also called Princess Jennifer Lightstar) and has the ability to defy gravity. Joshua, who has become Grimskull (although he is also called Prince Joshua Lightstar) earns the name due to an after effect of the crystal split that deformed his face. Joining the team is Ursak, their uncle, the caretaker of the royal family, who has the name Guardian. The baron (called Baron Dark) also benefited from the crystal half he owns: he has the ability to transform people into living skeletons for his legion, the Skeleton Warriors (consisting of Dr. Cyborn, Shriek, Dagger and Aracula). Stories relate the battle that exists between the two sides as each seeks to acquire the other's half of the crystal: Baron Dark for evil; the Legion of Light for good.

7500 Sketch Book. (Experimental; Variety; DuMont; 3/5/44). A program of variety performances that did not fare well with critics ("This screams of amateur production.... Faltering pace, faulty lighting, unoriginal script and direction mars what chance it has to coming close to jell...").

Performers: Herb Adams, The Burke Twins, Pat Fyfe.

7501 Sketch Book. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 5/24/53). A proposed series of vignettes based on stories by famous authors. The pilot episode stories: "The Case" by John Collier and starring Boris Karloff and Philip Truex; "You Were Perfectly Fine" by Dorothy Parker with Kyle MacDonnell and Oliver Thorndike; "Nightmare Number 3" with Walter Matthau reading the Stephen Vincent Benet story; and "The Reticence of Cody Anne" by H.H. Munro and starring Boris Karloff and Kyle MacDonnell. The program is produced by Herbert Brodtkin.

Host: Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

7502 Skin. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2003). A modern and rather unusual adaptation of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." Here Jewel Goldman, the teenage daughter of Larry Goldman, and Adam Roam, the son of Tom Roam, meet and fall in love at first sight. Immediately conflict enters Jewel and Adam's lives as both fathers are on opposite sides of the law and oppose the relationship.

Larry is a liberal Jewish entrepreneur who deals in pornography. Tom is a conservative Catholic and a Los Angeles District Attorney who is determined to end Larry's reign. Also caught in the middle of the feud are Tom's wife, Laura, and Larry's wife, Barbara. The short-lived series (8 episodes) follows Jewel and Adam's efforts to continue their relationship despite the conflicts and tensions the situation causes.

Larry owns Golden International Productions, "Producers of the highest quality adult programming" (girls who perform are called "The Golden Girls"). Larry also owns the Midas Touch, a strip club.

Cast: Ron Silver (Larry Goldman), Kevin Anderson (Tom Roam), Olivia Wilde (Jewel Goldman), D.J. Catrona (Adam Roam), Rachel Ticotin (Laura Roam), Pamela Gidley (Barbara Goldman), D.W. Moffett (Skip Ziti).

7503 Skinwalkers. (Pilot; Crime Drama; PBS; 2002). A proposed series about Lt. Joe Leaphorn and Jim Chee, Native American police officers who are responsible for upholding the law on a Navaho Reservation. The title refers to the spirits of murdered Indians who return in spirit form to seek revenge upon those who disrespect sacred Indian land. In the pilot episode, Leaphorn and Chee seek a killer who is using the guise of a Skinwalker to commit murder. See also Skinwalkers: Coyote Waits and Skinwalkers: A Thief of Time.

Cast: Wes Studi (Lt. Joe Leaphorn), Adam Beach (Jim Chee), Sheila Tousey (Emma Leaphorn), Nicholas Bartolo (Tommy Nakai), Saginaw Grant (Wilson Sam), Apesanahkwat (Captain Butler), Drew Lacafa (Bobby), Misty Upham (Nina), Jon Proudstar (Davis Nakai), James Dalgam (Bister).

7504 Skinwalkers: A Thief of Time. (Pilot; Crime Drama; PBS; 2004). A third pilot for a proposed series about Joe Leaphorn and Jim Chee, Native American law enforcers on a Navaho Reservation (see also Skinwalkers and Skinwalkers: Coyote Waits). In the final pilot, Joe and Jim search for a missing anthropologist suspected of stealing from a sacred Indian burial site. The title refers to the spirits of murdered Indians who return to seek revenge on those who disrespect sacred Indian ground.

Cast: Wes Studi (Joe Leaphorn), Adam Beach (Jim Chee), Sheila Tousey (Emma Leaphorn), Gary Farmer (Captain Largo), Ernest Tsosie III (Clem Allison), Alexandra Rice (Janet Pete), Beth Grant (Mildred Luna), Natowa Garcia (Larry), Dawn Lewis (Maxine Davis), Graham Greene (Slick Nakai), Less Tergesen (Randall Elliot), James Pollard (Russell Dumont).

7505 Skinwalkers: Coyote Waits. (Pilot; Crime Drama; PBS; 2003). A second pilot for a proposed series about Joe Leaphorn and Jim Chee, Native American police officers on a Navaho Reservation (see also Skinwalkers and Skinwalkers: A Thief of Time). In the second pilot, tribal cops Joe and Jim uncover a plot involving a lost fortune, an historic artifact and a mythical coyote. The title refers to the spirits of murdered Indians who seek revenge on people who disrespect sacred Indian land.

Cast: Wes Studi (Joe Leaphorn), Adam Beach (Jim Chee), Sheila Tousey (Emma Leaphorn), Candice Castillo (Jennifer), Alexandra Rice (Janet), Jimmy Kanin (Ashie Pinto), Mark Kilburn (Doctor), Graham Greene (Slick Nakai).

7506 The Skip Farrell Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1948–1949). Music and songs from Chicago featuring singer Skip Farrell. The series ran from January 17, 1949 to August 28, 1949.

Host: Skip Farrell. Regulators: Joanelle James, The Adele Scott Trio, The George Barnes Trio. Announcer: Jack Lester. Music: Bill Moss.

7507 Skip Taylor. (Pilot; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1953). A proposed series about Skip Taylor, a private detective working out of New York City. Skip is typical of the movie and radio detectives that were abundant at the time: rugged, two-fisted and eager to use violence to accomplish a goal.

Cast: Mark Andrews (Skip Taylor), James Best, Joe Corey, Bobby Ellis, Ralph Hodges.

7508 Skippy, the Bush Kangaroo. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1969). The Waratah National Park in Australia is the setting. It is here that Matt Hammond lives and works as the park ranger. He is a widower and the father of Sonny and Mark; he is also the guardian of Clarissa “Clancy” Merrick, the pretty teenage daughter of a close friend.

Although Matt considers his job a bit dangerous at times (especially when he has to protect the park from poachers), he receives the unofficial help of his youngest son, Sonny, and his pet kangaroo, Skippy. Stories also relate Sonny and Skippy’s adventures in and around the park. Jerry King is the flight ranger; Dr. Anna Steiner is the German scientist who aids Matt. Produced in Australia.

Cast: Ed Devereaux (Matt Hammond), Garry Pankhurst (Sonny Hammond), Ken James (Mark Hammond), Tony Bonner (Jerry King), Liza Goddard (Clarissa “Clancy” Merrick), Elke Neidhardt (Dr. Anna Steiner).

7509 Skunked TV. (Series; Comedy; Discovery Kids; 2006). A hidden camera type of series that attempts to capture the reactions of children (as well as adults) caught in practical jokes that are set up in zoos, animal parks, aquariums and on the beach.

Hosts: Madai Zoldivar, Chuck Cureau.

7510 Sky King. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1951–52; ABC; 1952–54). “Out of the clear blue of the Western sky comes Sky King.” Schuyler (pronounced Skyler) “Sky” King is a former World War II naval aviator turned rancher who uses a plane to help maintain law and order in Arizona. Sky avoids violence when possible, uses a gun sparingly and never shoots to kill.

Sky lives with his niece, Penny, and nephew, Clipper, on the Flying Crown Ranch outside of Grover City. Sky’s plane, the Songbird is a Cessna P-50 in the first season, and a Cessna 310-B in the remainder of the series. It is a twin engine monoplane with fuel tanks in the wings for extended flights (up to 1,000 miles without refueling). In the 1952 episode “Designing Woman,” Sky calls the plane The Flying Arrow. A crown with wings is the symbol of Sky’s ranch and it appears in a decal on the side of the Songbird.

Cast: Kirby Grant (Sky King), Gloria Winters (Penny King), Ron Hagerthy (Clipper King), Ewing Mitchell (Sheriff Mitch Hargrove), Norman Olstead (Bob Carey), Gary Hunley (Mickey).

7511 Skyfighters. (Pilot; Adventure; Syn.; 8/59). The pilot episode for a proposed series called War Birds about a group of American flyers during World War I. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Flight, the flyers become involved in a dogfight with a German air ace.

Cast: Joe Flynn, Brian Kelly and Joe Maross (Flyers). Also: Steve Bekassy, Paul Bush, John Conwell, Mason Alan Dinehart, Ed Faulkner, Lisa Gaye, Tyler MacDuff, Grace Lee Whitney. Narrator: General George Kenney.

7513 Skyland. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2005). In the year 2251, the planet Earth has been reduced to countless mini planets that now orbit around its core. Oslo, a powerful, evil dictator, rules the new Earth, now called Skyland. He also possesses telekinetic powers and has seized control of the most precious resource on Skyland — water. But Oslo also faces a daily challenge — a rebel band of Skylanders have begun a quest to overtake Oslo and free themselves of his rule.

On a remote farm Oslo finds another threat to his safety — Mila, a woman who possesses the same powers. To prevent her from using her abilities against him, Oslo captures Mila and imprisons her. Mila’s children, Lena (age 12) and Mahad (17) manage to escape and join with a group of resistance fighters. Soon after, Lena discovers that she has inherited her mother’s amazing abilities (to control objects and energies with her mind). With the help of the rebels, Lena and Mahad begin a dangerous quest: free their mother and destroy the Sphere (the government controlled by Oslo). Stories relate that quest.

Voice Cast: Alex Belcourt (Mila), Alexandra Pic (Lena), Tim Hamaguchi (Mahad), Juan Chioran (Oslo), Joseph Marrese (Lucas), Matthew Knight (Spencer), Alyson Court (Dahlia), Alexander Conti (Cobbs), William Colgate (Vector), Athena Karkanis (Diwan), Cameron Ansell (Cheng), Jack Langedijk (Cortes).

7514 The Sky’s the Limit. (Series; Game; NBC; 1954–1956). Selected members of the studio audience compete in various contests, both question-and-answer and stunt rounds. Prizes are awarded with each player’s ability to complete his assigned task. The series ran for 15 minutes from November 1, 1954 to August 19, 1955; 30 minutes from August 22, 1955 to June 1, 1956.

Host: Gene Rayburn. Assistant: Hope Lange, Marilyn Cantor.

7515 The Sky’s the Limit. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/16/60). A proposed series about Josh Holt, Danny Wallace and Pete Peterson, foul-up trainees at a Naval air base in Pensacola, Florida. In the pilot episode, the boys get more than they bargained for when they take off in a plane — and are incapable of flying it.

Cast: Doug McClure (Josh Holt), Ross Martin (Danny Wallace), Joey Forman (Pete Peterson), Ralph Dumke (Admiral).

7516 Skyward Christmas. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 12/3/81). A story of courage as seen through the experiences of Julie Ward, a 16-year-old paraplegic who has learned to live with and overcome the disadvantages of her handicap. The unsold series picks up where the highly acclaimed feature film, Skyward, leaves off: with wheelchair-bound Julie earning her private pilot’s license. In the pilot episode, Julie’s plan to reunite her estranged family for Christmas almost results in tragedy when she crash lands in the wilderness during a solo flight. The meaning of the word courage is shown as Julie struggles to survive. Other Regulars: Natalie and Steve, her parents; Lisa, her sister; Billy, her brother; Billie, her flight instructor; Koup, Billie’s mechanic; Clay, Julie’s grandfather.

Cast: Suzanne Gilstrap (Julie Ward), Bibi Besch (Natalie Ward), Christopher Connelly (Steve Ward), Kelly Ann Conn (Lisa Ward), Justin Dana (Billy Ward), Audra Lindley (Billie), Geoffrey Lewis (Koup), Jack Elam (Clay Haller). Guest Cast: Harold Scroggs (Leo), Peyton Payton (Dr. Craig).

7517 Slacker Cats. (Series; Cartoon; ABC Family; 2007). Wendell is a town where cats can talk to humans and vice versa. It is also a town where a group of felines, headed by Buckley and Eddie, find the easy life by free loading off the humans who care for them. Stories follow the adventures of Buckley, Eddie and their friends and the misadventures they encounter being slackers. Ingrid and Latoyah are the sexy felines of the group; Tabitha is “the happy idiot”; Dooper is the paranoid cat; Mrs. Boots is Buckley’s nemesis, who delights in crushing his schemes; Louise, a human, is Buckley’s owner.

Voice Cast: Harland Williams (Buckley), Sinbad (Eddie), Nicole Sullivan (Louise), Kiersten Warren (Tabitha), Alex Borstein (Latoyah), Niecy Nash (Mrs. Boots), Emo Philips (Dooper).

7518 The Slap Maxwell Story. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1987–1988). Slap Maxwell is a crusty and abrasive 50-year-old man. He is estranged from his wife, Anne, and is the father of Elliott. Slap works as a sports columnist (“Slap Shots”) for a second-rate newspaper called The Ledger. He is an expert at ticking people off and he feels this is his best weapon for getting the stories he needs for his columns. Stories follow Slap as he goes about doing what he does best — annoy people as he tries to enjoy life.

Other Regulars: Nelson Kruger, the editor; Dutchman, the bartender; Judy Ralston, the staff secretary at the paper; Kitty Noland, Slap’s former girlfriend; Stan Maxwell, Slap’s father; Charlie Wilson, the office boy.

Cast: Dabney Coleman (Slap Maxwell), Susan Anspach (Annie Maxwell), Joseph Brutsman (Elliott Maxwell), Brian Smiar (Nelson Kruger), Megan Gallagher (Judy Ralston), Bill Cobbs (Dutchman), Bill Calvert (Charlie Wilson), Shirley Jones (Kitty Noland), John McIntire (Stan Maxwell).

7519 Slattery’s People. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1964–1965). “Democracy is a very form of government, but I ask you never to forget it; all the others are so much worse” (as we are told in the opening theme narration). James Slattery is a politician, lawyer and minority leader in the state legislature who believes in a democratic system of government although many try to bend the rules to make it work better for them. Stories follow James as he crusades against the injustices of the government and defend the rights of the people he represents. Liz Andres is Jim’s romantic interest; Johnny Ramos is Jim’s aide (later replaced by Mike Valera); B.J. Clawson is his secretary (later replaced by Wendy Wendkoski); Bert Metcalf is the House Speaker.

Cast: Richard Crenna (James Slattery), Kathie Brown (Liz Andrews), Alejandro Rey (Mike Valera), Maxine Stuart (B.J. Clawson), Francine York (Wendy Wendkoski), Tol Avery (Bert Metcalf), Paul Geary (Johnny Ramos), Edward Asner (Frank Radcliff).

7520 Sledge Hammer. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1986–1987). Apartment 13 at 5517 Stafford Street in an unspecified American city is home to Sledge Hammer, a detective with an unidentified police precinct. Sledge wears badge 6316 and is said to be dirtier than Harry, meaner than Bronson and makes Rambo look like Pee Wee Herman. His superior, Captain Trunk calls him sadistic, barbaric, depraved and blood thirsty. He also says, “I get migraines when I have to deal with Hammer.”

Hammer’s weapon of choice is his .44 Magnum. He has named the weapon Gun and talks to it, sometimes imagining it talks back to him. Sledge fires warning shots at jaywalkers, cares little about police brutality and will do what it takes to get a confession out of a suspect. His philosophy is the way to fight criminals is to be wilder than they are. Hammer is divorced from Susan, a woman Sledge met through a computer dating service. She left him after three years of marriage “for a geek — someone who works for the Peace Corps.” Sledge Hammer is trigger happy and believes “all other cops are wussies — except me. I never let my guard down.”

Dori Doreau is a young, beautiful detective who puts her life at risk by working as Hammer’s partner. The Captain is furious at Dori for doing so, but she insures him that “I know what I am doing.” Dori is apparently the only other detective who can work with Sledge without being injured. While Dori is not as blood thirsty and mean as Sledge, she can handle herself. She has a background in the martial arts, top in her class in hand-to-hand combat, and is an expert shot. Hammer is not so much amazed by her beauty, but more by the fact that she can handle herself quite well. Dori is single and lives in an apartment at 102 Las Palmas Drive.

Cast: David Rasche (Sledge Hammer), Harrison Page (Captain Trunk), Anne-Marie Martin (Dori Doreau), Heather Lupton (Susan). Theme: “Sledge Hammer” by Danny Elfman.

7521 Sleeper Cell. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 2005). A man named Darwyn is an FBI undercover agent who is a faithful African-American Muslim who expertly positions himself as a member of a Los Angeles based Islamic terrorist cell led by Farik, an ambitious “holy warrior.” The ten episode series focuses on Darwyn as he reports on terrorist activities to his FBI handlers (Ray Fuller and Patrice Sexner). Like two prior series, I Led Three Lives and Wiseguy (which used undercover agents) Sleeper Cell follows Darwyn’s double life as he risks exposure to report on future terrorist plots against America. Aiding Farik are Christian, a temperamental Frenchman; Ilija, “hip-hop living Bostonian; and Tommy, an American convert.

Cast: Michael Early (Darwyn), Oded Fehr (Farik), James LeGros (Ray Fuller), Sonya Walger (Patrice Sexner), Henri Lubatti (Ilija), Alec Nestic (Christian), Blake Shields (Tommy), Melissa Sagemiller (Gayle), Luis Chavez (Khathul).

7522 Sleepwalkers. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1997–1998). “We have discovered a deeper stage of sleep that allows us to travel into your dreams. As you descend, focus on my voice. We will be with you in your dreams,” says Dr. Nathan Bradford, the head of a team of medical researchers that has developed the technology to enter the dreams of people (via electronically activated “sleep beds”) and interact with them (to figure them out). While the technology was originally intended to enter the minds of psychiatric patients, it can also be used for comatose people and hired by individuals for problems that have arisen that need unusual procedures to solve. Stories follow the team as they enter the minds of people to help where they can (even solve crimes).

Gail Bradford is Nathan's wife; Kate Russell, who has a vast knowledge of mythology and religion, joins Nathan and Steve Turner (later Ben Costigan) as the sleepwalkers; Vincent Konefke is the team's "tech guy," who runs the equipment but does not enter dreams.

Cast: Bruce Greenwood (Nathan Bradford), Naomi Watts (Kate Russell), Kathrin Nicholson (Gail Bradford), Michael Watson (Steve Turner), Jeffrey D. Sams (Ben Costigan), Abraham Benrubi (Vincent Konefke).

7523 Sleepy Joe. (Series; Children; ABC; Syn.; 1949–1951). A puppet series in which Sleepy Joe, an "Uncle Remus" type of character (from the Disney film Song of the South), tells stories to a little girl (Gayle). The live ABC series ran from October 3, 1949 to October 28, 1949. A filmed version of the series appeared in syndication in 1951 with Jimmy Scribner in black face as Sleepy Joe.

Cast: Sleepy Joe (Jimmy Scribner), Gayle Scribner (Gayle), Velma Dawson (Puppeteer).

7524 Slezak and Son. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/5/60). Count Von Slezak is a boastful European nobleman whose royalty line became extinct in the sixteenth century. He and his son, Leo, still feel there is life in their heritage and the unsold series was to relate their efforts to parlay that title into a life of royalty in the U.S. In the pilot episode, the Count tries to finagle a free hotel room in New York City.

Cast: Walter Slezak (Count Von Slezak), Leo Slezak (Leo Von Slezak). Guest Cast: Norman Lloyd (Hotel manager), Neva Patterson (Hotel guest).

7525 Slickers. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/12/87). When Detective Mike "Ironman" Blade, a disaster-prone N.Y.P.D. police officer, fouls up an important case, he is transferred to an upstate New York town (Littlefield) to teach its sheriff (Elliott Clinton) the aspects of big city law enforcement. The unsold series was to relate Mike's misadventures as he attempts to impart his theory of law enforcement on Littlefield. Other Regulars: Cornelia, Elliott's sister; Scooter, Elliott's brother; Doc and Vera, Elliott's parents.

Cast: Michael Richards (Mike Blade), Dana Carvey (Elliott Clinton), Kristi Somers (Cornelia Clinton), Brandon Call (Scooter Clinton), Richard B. Schull (Doc Clinton), Alice Hirson (Vera Clinton). Guest Cast: Rick Docommun (Fatboy), Luis Avalos (Lieutenant).

7526 Sliders. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1995–1996). While experimenting with an anti-gravity device in the basement of his home in San Francisco (at 4159 Blue Jay Way), college student Quinn Mallory discovers a circle of power that is actually an inter dimensional portal to Earth on different dimensions (for example, global cooling; a red light means go, green stop; freezing winters in San Francisco). The portal is called a wormhole and to enter it you slide through it. Quinn can't control which of the possible thousand parallel Earths he will enter, but through a return timer, he can control the amount of time he spends in another Earth.

Excited about his discovery, Quinn invites his friend, Wade, and his physics professor, Maximilian Arturo, to witness what he has found. During a test, Quinn uses too much power and it transports not only them, but an innocent bystander, a washed-up rock star (The Crying Man) to an America that lost World War II and is now under Soviet rule. Their adventures are detailed in the various worlds they enter with one goal in mind: fix the return timer (which was damaged when Quinn used too much power) and find the way back to their own world.

Wade calls Quinn's basement "The Bat Cave." She is a student at North Shore Junior College; Maximilian is a professor at the University of California (where Quinn is a student). The wormhole Quinn created remains open for only 60 seconds (the limited amount of time the travelers have to escape to another Earth) then it closes. The Crying Man is actually Rembrandt Brown, a singer who received the nickname because he cries real tears during each song. He was with a group called the Spinning Tops. Quinn explains their situation: "Same Planet, Different Dimensions."

Cast: Jerry O'Connell (Quinn Mallory), John Rhys-Davies (Professor Maximilian Arturo), Sabrina Lloyd (Wade Wells), Cleavant Derricks (Rembrandt "Crying Man" Brown).

7527 The Slightly Fallen Angel. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/4/59). When a clerical error allows a disreputable soul named Finch to enter Heaven he decides to reform and live up to that honor by performing good deeds on earth. In the pilot episode, Finch is assigned to grant the wish of a young boy who wants to be reunited with his father. Aired as a segment of Alcoa Theater.

Cast: Walter Slezak (Finch). Guest Cast: David White (Mills), Lee Bergere (Stan Gorman), Elizabeth Watts (Mrs. Edwards), Sid Raymond, Paul Reed, Jeffrey Rowland.

7528 Slime Time. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1988). Billed as "TV's Messiest Half-Hour," the program is a direct rip off of Double Dare. Two teams, each composed of four players (three students and their teacher) compete. A question is asked of two players (one on each team). The player who correctly answers the question receives points and both teams compete in a messy stunt with extra points being awarded to the team who successfully completes the stunt. The first team to score 1,000 points wins.

Host: Marty Cohen. Announcer: Dean Goss.

7529 Slither. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 3/21/74). Richard "Dick" Kanipsia is a likeable young man who has the uncanny knack for meeting strange people and becoming involved in unusual situations. The proposed series was to relate his efforts to take what he can get from the people and situations he encounters. In the pilot episode, Dick tries to profit from a plan to sell produce he salvages from a train wreck.

Cast: Barry Bostwick (Dick Kanipsia), Patti Deutsch (Ruthie, his girlfriend). Guest Cast: Cliff Emmich (Fat stranger), Michael C. Gwynne (Stranger), Seaman Glass (Farmer), John Delgado (Driver), Louis Quinn and Robert Stiles (Sellers).

7530 Small and Frye. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1983). Nick Small is a no-nonsense ex-cop turned private detective who strolls through his hectic life with a self-delusion that all things are as they were in the film world of the private eye during the 1940s. His partner, Chip Frye, has suffered a freak laboratory accident that causes him to shrink to a size of six inches, thus making him a master of diminutive "undercover" work. Stories relate their attempts to solve crimes. Complicating their cases: Frye's inability to control his condition. Though Frye wears a special ring device that helps control his ability to shrink, certain outside influences (for example, electrical storms, certain minerals in food) can trigger an unexpected switch in his size and compound matters.

Other Regulars: Phoebe, Nick's daughter, the office receptionist; Dr. Hanratty, head of the police crime lab; Eddie, the owner of Eddie's Bar & Grill, Nick's hangout; and Vicki, the waitress at Eddie's.

Cast: Darren McGavin (Nick Small), Jack Blessing (Chip Frye), Debbie Zipp (Phoebe Small), Bill Daily (Dr. Henry Hanratty), Warren Berlinger (Eddie Fitzsimmons), Victoria Carroll (Vicki).

7531 The Small Fry Club. (Series; Children; DuMont; 1947–1951). Bob Emery hosts a program of stories, game contests, magic tricks, audience participation and other related entertainment geared to children.

7532 Small Talk. (Series; Children; CBS; 1990). Children express their opinions on various aspects of life. The four episode series, hosted by Roger Rose, ran from May 4, 1990 to May 25, 1990.

7533 Small Talk. (Series; Game; Family Channel; 1996). Three players compete and have to predict how children, between the ages of six to nine, will answer questions asked of them. Once the question is revealed and players provide a yes or no response, a video wall of monitors is opened to reveal the children. The children each answer the question and points are awarded to the players based on correct predictions. Several such rounds are played and the contestant with the highest score is the winner.

Host: Wil Shriner.

Other Regulars: Katie, Jack's wife; Tracy, Frank's girlfriend; and their friends, Maggie (a waitress) and Jimmy (a bartender).

Cast: Mike Hagerty (Jack Duffy), John Kapelos (Frank Pappas), Tracy Shaffer (Katie Duffy), Deborah Allison (Tracy), Donna Dubain (Maggie), Ron Dean (Jimmy).

7535 Small Wonder. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1985–1989). Ted Lawson, his wife, Joanie (a substitute school teacher), their 11-year-old son, Jamie, and their robotic daughter, Vicki, live at 16 Maple Drive in Los Angeles. Ted is a robotics engineer at United Robotronics. He created Vicki (Voice Input Child Identicate) as part of a secret experiment to help handicapped children. He must now mature her before she can be marketed; to do so, he passes her off as his adopted ten-year-old daughter so that she can interact with humans.

Vicki is a very pretty but shows no emotion. She is made of a highly advanced, flexible plastic, transistors, wires and microchips. The Waffer Scale Integration System gives Vicki life. "It's not in my memory bank" is Vicki's response when someone says something she doesn't understand. Ted's sophisticated emotional computer program for Vicki is called LES (Logic and Emotional Stimulator), and Vanessa (also played by Tiffany Brissette) is Vicki's evil twin prototype. Her brown eyes are solar cells and provide power. She and Jamie attend Washington Junior High School, later Grant Junior High School (where Joanie is also a teacher in later episodes).

Brandon Brindle, Ted's wimpy boss, his wife, Bonnie, and their daughter, Harriet, are the Lawsons' annoying neighbors.

Joanie loves Vicki so much that she forgets she is not human (“I love every little microchip in her body”) and gets highly emotional when something happens to her. She originally worked as a salesclerk at the Clothing Boutique.

Harriet attends the same school as Jamie, has a typical store-bought robot named Rodney, two parrots (Polly and Waldo) and a turtle (Beatie). Harriet is a spoiled brat (as she calls herself) who puts on tantrums to get what she wants. She believes that she is the most adorable girl in the world. She has a crush on Jamie and considers him “my main squeeze.”

Bonnie, who annoys Joanie the most with her “No, no, no-no-no-no” catchphrase, was voted Miss Lettuce Head of the San Joaquin Valley. She greets people with “Hi-Yeeee” and makes it her business to know everyone else’s business.

Relatives: Jack Manning (Ted’s father, Bill Lawson), Peggy Converse (Ted’s mother, Evelyn Lawson), Alice Ghostley (Brandon’s sister, Ida Mae Brindle), Leslie Bega (Harriet’s cousin, Mary), David Glasser (Harriet’s cousin, Norman).

Cast: Tiffany Brissette (Vicki Lawson), Dick Christie (Ted Lawson), Marla Pennington (Joanie Lawson), Jerry Supiran (Jamie Lawson), Emily Schulman (Harriet Brindle), Edie McClurg (Bonnie Brindle), William Bogert (Brandon Brindle). Theme: “She’s a Small Wonder” by Diane Leslie, Rod Alexander, Howard Leeds.

7536 Smallville. (Series; Adventure; WB; CW; WB, 2001–2006; CW, 2006–). Events in the life of a teenage Clark Kent before he would don his famous costume and become known as Superman. It begins in 1989. Smallville, Kansas, a city of 25,001 people, is famous for being “The Creamed Corn Capitol of the World.” Suddenly, on a clear afternoon, Smallville is struck by a devastating meteor shower. Buildings and cars are destroyed; people are killed, including Lewis and Laura, the parents of three-year-old Lana Lang.

A nine-year-old boy named Lex Luthor is injured when the residue from a meteor burns the red hair off his head. A childless farm couple, Jonathan and Martha Kent, are almost killed when a meteor passes over the truck they are driving and forces them to crash. They are rescued by a three-year-old baby who emerges from a crashed rocket that had been part of the meteor shower.

The unharmed baby is actually Kal-El, the lone survivor of the doomed planet Krypton. Moments before Krypton exploded, Kal-El’s parents (Jor-El and Lara) placed him in an experimental rocket programmed to land on Earth.

Also part of that meteor shower were fragments of Kryptonite, green remnants of the planet that can now kill Kal-El if he is exposed to it.

It is 2001 when Smallville is next seen. It has a population of 45,001 and is known as “The Meteor Capitol of the World.” The baby, raised by Jonathan and Martha is now a teenager known as Clark Kent. Lana has been raised by her Aunt Lucy and both attend Smallville High School. Lex is still bald but the wealthy and powerful son of Lionel Luthor, the owner of the Luthor Corporation (which has its headquarters in nearby Metropolis).

The Kents own a dairy farm on Hickory Road. Clark has a special room above the barn that was built for him by Jonathan that he calls “The Fortress of Solitude” (where Clark has a telescope, handed down from Jonathan’s father, to study the stars). When Clark begins to develop his powers (speed, strength, x-ray vision, immunity from harm), Jonathan tells Clark about his past. He shows Clark the space ship (stored in the cellar) and a mysterious tablet that was part of the wreckage with symbols he has been unable to decipher. He also tells Clark he must keep his powers secret and only use them for good. No mention is made of any red and blue blankets (the items that, according to the Superman legend, Martha would fashion into his famous costume).

Crime in Smallville is unusual. The after effects of the meteor shower create unnatural villains (for example, a teen who thrives on the heat of others; a coach who can create fire by thinking; a teen who becomes a human bug). Clark with no costume (just his everyday clothes) battles these forces.

Clark also uses his telescope to watch a heavenly body of another kind — Lana Lang, the girl on whom he has a crush, but who is dating football hero Whitney Fordham.

She dates Whitney (first season episodes) “because he’s there when I need him. He makes me feel safe” (it is actually Clark who saves the day, but he can never let Lana know). Lana is later romantically involved with Lex.

Lex had originally been sent to Smallville by his father to make the Luthor Corporation fertilizer plant profitable (at any cost). His obsession with power slowly turned him into an evil person who had feelings only for Lana.

Chloe Sullivan and Pete Ross are friends of Clark. Chloe is a reporter for the school newspaper, The Torch. She calls Smallville “Land of the Weird, Home of the Strange” (she believes all the weird happenings are related to the meteor shower). She also has a “Wall of Weird” — newspaper clippings of all the strange things that have happened since the meteor shower. She, Pete and Clark frequent the Jalo Coffee Shop (originally the Beanery, where Lana worked as a waitress for a short time).

In later episodes, Martha becomes a Kansas state senator after Jonathan dies from a heart attack; Chloe acquires a job at the Metropolis Daily Planet; Perry White is the editor of the paper; Jimmy Olsen, a cub reporter; Lois Lane, who would later work for the Planet is seen first as a reporter for The Inquisitor. On occasion, Clark receives help in battling the evils of Lex Luthor from Bart Allen (alias The Flash), Victor Stone (alias Cyborg), Arthur "A.C." Curry, alias Aquaman, and Oliver Queen (alias The Green Arrow).

The episode of September 27, 2007 ("Bizzaro") introduces the character of Kara, Clark's cousin (the daughter of his father's brother, Zor-El). Kara appears to be the only other survivor of Krypton. She was sent on a mission by her father before the planet exploded. When the planet was destroyed, her ship was caught in the meteor shower and plunged into the sea. Unable to escape, Kara was placed in a state of suspended animation. Eighteen years later, when the Smallville dam breaks, it awakens Kara who now finds she is trapped on Earth. She and Clark managed to find each other and Kara, with Clark's help, must learn to live life as a human (something she does not like to do as she enjoys being who she really is — and using her powers). Diana Lance, a reporter for The Daily Planet, is secretly the mysterious Black Canary, a girl who secretly works for Lex (and doing his dirty work when first introduced). She has the power of sonic sound waves.

Cast: Tom Welling (Clark Kent), Kristin Kreuk (Lana Lang), John Schneider (Jonathan Kent), Annette O'Toole (Martha Kent), Michael Rosenbaum (Lex Luthor), Eric Johnson (Whitney Fordham), Allison Mack (Chloe Sullivan), Sam Jones III (Pete Ross), Erica Durance (Lois Lane), Aaron Ashmore (Jimmy Olsen), Michael McKean (Perry White), Laura Vandervoort (Kara), Terence Stamp (Jor-El), Wendy Chmelauskas (Laura Lang), Camille Mitchell (Sheriff Nancy Adams), Justin Hartley (Green Arrow), Kyle Gallner (Bart Allen), Lee Thompson Young (Victor Stone), Alan Ritchson (Arthur "A.C." Curry), Helen Slater (Lara) Alaina Huffman (Diana Lance).
Theme Vocal: "Save Me" by Remy Zero.

7537 Smart Guy. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1998–1999). T. J. Henderson is the "Smart Guy" of the title. He is 12 years old, has an I.Q. of 180 and attends Piedmont High School in Washington, D.C. T.J. is allergic to shellfish, receives a weekly allowance of $10, and likes high school "but getting high school to like him is the problem." When he hangs out with his older brother, Marcus, T.J. is cool; when he is not with him, he is "a 12-year-old brainiac stick-in-the-mud." T.J. could grow up to be a teacher but won't — "It pays jack," he says. T.J.'s favorite eatery (the after school hangout) is Dawgburger. T.J. is equipment manager of the school's basketball team; reads Sister Girl magazine; and appeared in a Destiny's Child music video.

Marcus is not as smart as T.J. and yearns to be a musician (he is a fan of blues music, writes his own songs and plays keyboards). His method of doing a book report is to rent the video and write the report based on the movie version. He is on the basketball team but spends more time on the bench than he does on the court.

T.J.'s father, Floyd is a widower who runs the Henderson Construction Company ("Everything you need under one roof"). He watches The Cajun Chef on TV each night before going to bed (9 P.M.).

Yvette is T.J.'s sister, a junior at Piedmont High. She is a member of the student council; a writer for the school newspaper, the Piedmont Times; and bright. She is also very attractive but feels she has one shortcoming — "my small bust line." She had a job as a salesgirl at Stylo Wear, a clothing store in the mall. Had the series been renewed, Yvette would have attended Georgetown University (she also applied to her dream school, Princeton, but was not accepted).

Cast: Tahj Mowry (T.J. Henderson), John Marshall Jones (Floyd Henderson), Essence Atkins (Yvette Henderson), Jason Weaver (Marcus Henderson).

7538 Smart Guys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/7/88). The smart guys of the title are three natural-born underdogs who try to help people solve their problems: Ned, an ex-con who was imprisoned on false charges; Tommy, a slick opportunist and fast-talker who devises harebrained schemes to make money; and Nick, Tommy's overweight and naive brother. In the pilot episode, the trio comes to the aid of a girl (Cynthia) who is being forced to marry against her will.

Cast: Christopher Rich (Ned), John Pinette (Nick), Anthony Starke (Tommy), Constance Schulman (Arlene, their secretary). Guest Cast: Julia Campbell (Cynthia Hamilton), Nicholas Coster (Mr. Hamilton).

7539 Smash Hits. (Series; Music; Syn.; 1989). Scott Shannon hosts a weekly television version of a radio program wherein a countdown of America's hottest music is seen as music videos.

7540 Smile Jenny, You're Dead. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 2/3/74). The pilot film for Harry O (see for background information) about Harry Orwell, a disabled ex-cop turned private investigator. In the pilot, Harry investigates the death of a friend's son-in-law.

Cast: David Janssen (Harry Orwell). Guest Cast: Jodie Foster (Liberty Cole), Andrea Marcovicci (Jennifer English), John Anderson (John Lockport), Howard Da Silva (Humphrey Kenner), Clu Gulager (Milt Bosworth), Barbara Leigh (Mildred), Ellen Weston (Julia).

7541 Smilin' Ed's Gang. (Series; Children; NBC; 1950–51; CBS; 1951–53; ABC; 1953–55). “Hi ya, kids,” host Smilin’ Ed McConnell would say. “You better come running, it’s old Smilin’ Ed and his Buster Brown Show. Good old Buster Brown shoes are on the air out here in Hollywood for another good old Saturday hullabaloo.”

Children of all ages were then led into a world where the unreal became real. The set resembled a clubhouse, and Ed began each show seated in a large easy chair. He opened a rather big book called Smilin' Ed's Stories, and various filmed segments were shown (most often the serial-like adventures of “Ghanga Rama, the Elephant Boy”; these tales, set in Bakore, India, told of Ghanga Rama and his friend, Charmer).

Other segments were the antics of Midnight the Cat and Squeaky the Mouse (for example, Squeaky attempting to play “Oh Susannah” on his fiddle while Midnight accompanies him on a drum), Grandie the Talking Piano, the Buster Brown Jug Jingle (jingles sent in by viewers) and the most popular segment, Froggie the Gremlin, the mischievous, magical frog (a rubber toy that was eventually marketed).

Standing next to a grandfather clock, Ed would say, “Now Froggie, you better become visible. Plunk your magic twanger, Froggie” (at which time Froggie would become visible and say “Hi ya, kids, hi ya, hi ya, hi ya, hi ya!”). After a brief conversation between Froggie and Smilin’ Ed, the show’s weekly guest star would come out (for example, Vito Scotti as Signor Pasta Fausuolo, the music teacher). Froggie would do his best to exasperate him to a point where he would just walk off the stage in disgust.

Buster Brown appeared only in the commercial segments; his well-known catchphrase was “That’s my dog, Tige, he lives in a shoe. I’m Buster Brown, look for me in there too” [referring to the label inside the shoe].

“Well, kids, old Smilin’ Ed and the gang will be on television again next week at this same time. So be sure to invite your little pals over to see it. Now don’t forget church or Sunday school. Now once again, we leave the air with this little song: “The happy gang of Buster Brown now leaves the air.... Watch for us Saturday when Buster Brown is on the air.”

The series is based on the radio program of the same title. It was originally called The Buster Brown TV Show, with Smilin' Ed McConnell and the Buster Brown TV Gang, and is also known as “Smilin' Ed McConnell and His Gang and Smilin' Ed's Buster Brown Gang. See also Andy's Gang.

Cast: Ed McConnell (Smilin' Ed), Nino Marcel

(Ghanga Rama), Harry Stewart (Charmer), Ed McConnell (Voice of Froggy), Arch Presby (Voice of Froggy), Frank Ferrin (Voice of Froggy), June Foray (Voice Midnight the Cat), June Foray (Voice of Grandie), Jerry Marin (Buster Brown), Bud Tollefson (Voice of Tige).

7542 Smith. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 2006). Robert Stevens appears to be a respected businessman. He is married (to Hope) but leads a secret life — he is also a brilliant (but ruthless) thief who heads a team who will steal anything — if the price is right. Like Robert, his team is just as despicable and cares little for anyone. Annie is a gorgeous Las Vegas showgirl who is not only an expert at the distraction the team needs at times, but able to acquire false identities; Shawn is an electronics expert and addicted to gambling; Tim is a weapons expert (and not afraid to use a gun); Joe is the only compassionate member of the team and his soft heart could wind up getting him or one of the team caught.

A mysterious woman named Charlie is the only person who knows the team’s identities; she hires them for extremely high-risk jobs to acquire masterpieces for her clients. The FBI, in particular, Agent Dodd, is also aware of the team but only knows its leader is a man named Smith (the name given to all anonymous criminals). Dodd is determined to bring Smith and his team down. Robert’s team has an M.O. that includes assault rifles, alarm overriding and quick exits. Stories, in addition to focusing on the FBI’s efforts to capture the team, relate Robert’s intensive planning and preparation to pull off heists.

Cast: Ray Liotta (Robert Stevens), Virginia Madsen (Hope Stevens), Amy Smart (Annie), Shohrich Aghdashloo (Charlie), Franky G. (Joe), Jonny Lee Miller (Tom), Simon Baker (Jeff), Chris Bauer (Agent Dodd), Mike Doyle (Shawn).

7543 The Smith Family. (Series; Comedy-Drama; ABC; 1971–1972). Events in the day-to-day lives of the Smiths, a family who live at 219 Primrose Lane in Los Angeles. Chad Smith is the father, a detective sergeant with the L.A.P.D. He is married to Betty and they are the parents of Cindy, Bob and Brian. Stories combine elements of crime solving and family life as Chad tries to divide his time between work and his family. Ray Martin is Chad’s partner; Captain Hughes is their superior.

7544 The Smokey the Bear Show. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1969–1971). Smokey the Bear, he symbol for preventing forest fires, is seen as both as cub and a bear as he struggles to protect the forests and their creatures from fire. Stories are conservative in nature and relate the careful use of fire and the importance of Nature's woodlands to children. Produced by Arthur Rankin and Jules Bass.

Voice Cast: Jackson Weaver (Smokey the Bear).

7545 The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1967–1969). A controversial series of music, songs and topical sketches (which often involved hosts Tom and Dick Smothers in disputes with network censors over censorship of their material and which ultimately led to the cancellation of their popular series). Saul Ilson, Ernest Chambers, Chris Bearde and Allan Blye are the producers.

Hosts: Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers. Regulars: Pat Paulsen, Leigh French, Bob Einstein, Mason Williams, John Hartford, Jennifer Warren, Murray Romas, Don Wyatt, Carl Gottlieb, Cathy Cahill, Jessica Myerson, The Jimmy Joyce Singers, The Anita Kerr Singers, The Ron Poindexter Dancers, The Louis Da Pron Dancers. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

7546 The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1988). An hour of music, song and comedy that was an unsuccessful attempt to recapture the magic of the 1960s Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour.

Hosts: Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers. Regulars: Leigh French, Pat Paulsen, Jennifer Warnes. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Larry Cansler.

7547 The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1988–1989). Music, songs and comedy skits that are less controversial than Tom and Dick Smothers 1967–69 series of the same title (which was often criticized for its risqué humor based on topical stories).

Hosts: Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers. Regulars: Pat Paulsen, Jennifer Warren, Leigh French, Bill Dana, Geoffrey Lewis. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Larry Cansler. Choreography: Ron Poindexter.

7548 The Smothers Brothers Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1965–1966). Richard (“Dick”) Smothers is an executive with Pandora Publications in Beverly Hills, California. He lives at 452 Vista Del Mar and is dating the boss's daughter. Life seems to be going well for him until his brother, Thomas (“Tom”) Smothers, decides to move in with him and turns his life upside down.

Tom is not your ordinary brother. Two years ago, “Tom was lost at sea without his water wings” and drowned. He is now Probationary Angel Agent 009, a wingless apprentice angel who is assigned to the 11 eastern states and Alaska. His assignment is to help people in trouble to earn full angel status. Tom's superior, who is not seen but who contacts Tom by phone, is named Ralph (the Temporary Assignment Angel). Leonard J. Costello is Dick's boss; and Diane Costello is Leonard's daughter and Dick's romantic interest.

In the original, unaired pilot version of the series, Dick was an assistant administrative assistant at Amalgamated Consolidated, Inc. The boss, Leonard J. Costello, was played by Alan Bunce, and Julie Parrish played his daughter, Diane. In the series, Tom's first assignment was to spring a jailed marine so that he could marry his fiancée. In the unaired pilot, Tom's assignment was to break up a gambling ring of old ladies.

Cast: Tom Smothers (Himself), Dick Smothers (Himself), Roland Winters (Leonard J. Costello), Harriet MacGibbon (Harriet Costello), Marilyn Scott (Diane Costello), Ann Elder (Janet).

7549 The Smothers Brothers Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1970). A summer program of music, songs and comedy sketches that is a revised version (with less controversial material) of The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour (CBS, 1967–1969). It ran from July 15, 1970 to September 16, 1970. Norman Sedawie is the producer.

Hosts: Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers. Regulars: Sally Struthers, Spencer Quinn. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Denny Vaughn.

7550 The Smothers Brothers Show. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1975). Music, songs and comedy sketches with brothers Tom and Dick Smothers as the hosts. Joe Hamilton, Gail Parent and Kenny Solms are the producers.

Hosts: Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers. Regulars: Pat Paulsen, Leigh French, Don Novello, Pete Smith, Betty Aberlain, Evelyn Russell. Orchestra: Marty Paich.

7551 The Smothers Organic Prime Time Space Ride. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1971). Offbeat, controversial humor (the Space Ride refers to performances by new talent discoveries).

Host: Tom Smothers. Occasional Co-Host: Dick Smothers.

7552 The Smurfs. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1981–1990). The Smurfs are small blue people who live in a mushroom-like village in a medieval woods. They are able to change their forms and want only to live in peace and harmony. They are threatened, however, by Gargamel, an evil wizard who seeks to destroy them. Stories relate comical events in their lives as they seek ways to overcome Gargamel's efforts to take over their village.

Voice Cast: Paul Winchell (Gargamel), Don Messick (Azrael the Cat), Don Messick (Papa Smurf), Danny Goldman (Brainy Smurf), Bill Callaway

(Clumsy Smurf), Frank Welker (Hefty Smurf), June Foray (Jokey Smurf), Lucille Bliss (Smurfette), Alan Oppenheimer (Vanity Smurf), Hamilton Camp (Greedy Smurf), Michael Bell (Lazy Smurf), Michael Bell (Handy Smurf), Michael Bell (Grouchy Smurf), Hamilton Camp (Harmony Smurf), Frank Welker (Pee Wee), Michael Bell (Johann), Bob Holt (King), Jennifer Darling (Sabina), Linda Gray (Dame Barbara), Jack Angel (Homnibus), Kip King (Tailor), Marshall Efrom (Sloppy), Alan Young (Farmer), Alan Young (Scaredy).

7553 SNAFU. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/23/76). A humorous look at the insanity of combat as seen through the eyes of battle-weary G.I.s spending World War II in the muddy trenches of Italy. (The title refers to Situation Normal All Fouled Up.)

Cast: Tony Roberts (Sgt. Mike Conroy), James Cromwell (Capt. Bill Kaminski), Kip Niven (Lt. Hemsley Hauser), Fred Fate (Private Wiggins), Joey Aresco (Private Crosetti), Wally Dalton (Private Hinkley), Philip R. Allen (Captain Robinson), Terry Hinz (Private Lockwood), Jay Leno (Private Braverman), Rick Podell (Private Fowler).

7554 Snap Judgment. (Series; Game; NBC; 1967–1969). Two two-member teams compete. One member of each team is presented with a concealed word. The player on one team relates a one-word clue to his partner in an attempt to get him to guess the concealed word. If he does not identify the word, their opponents receive a chance at play. The word is played until it is identified or until is voided by the use of ten clues. Words start at ten points and diminish by one point with each clue. The winners, the highest scorers, receive cash and/or merchandise prizes. The game, which is played almost like Password, ran from April 3, 1967 to March 28, 1969.

Host: Ed McMahon, Gene Rayburn. Announcer: Johnny Olsen.

7555 Snapped. (Series; Reality; Oxygen; 2003). True life stories of average women who, for one reason or another, lose control and kill (or arrange) for their husbands to be killed. The program explores such cases offering not only the reason for the tragedy but the events that led up to it and the outcome for the women involved.

Narrator: Laura San Giacomo, Ronnie Farer.

7556 Snavelly. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 6/24/78). Snavelly Manor is a resort hotel “that offers guests a minimum of services and a plethora of confusion.” It is run by the loud-mouthed and totally incompetent Henry Snavelly and his wife, Gladys, a woman whose demure manner and less-than caring attitude drives Henry to the brink of hysteria. Assisting them are Connie, the pretty and competent waitress; and Petro, the bellboy who has a difficult time speaking and understanding English. The pilot episode depicts Henry’s bumbling efforts to impress two traveling salesmen he mistakes for hotel inspectors. Based on the British series Fawlty Towers.

Cast: Harvey Korman (Henry Snavelly), Betty White (Gladys Snavelly), Deborah Zon (Connie), Frank LaLoggia (Petro). Guest Cast: Ivor Francis (Chief), Jack Dodson (Mr. Bishop), George Pentecost (Mr. Foley).

7557 Sneak Preview. (Pilot; NBC; 7/3/56 to 8/24/56). A summer series of unsold pilot films for the 1956–57 season. See the following titles for information: Calling Terry Conway, Carolyn, Just Plain Folks and Real George.

7558 Sniff. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/9/88). Sid Barrows is an ambitious but not too successful tabloid reporter for The Herald who, while covering a story, saves the life of a dog (Sniff) after its owner is murdered. Sid and Sniff build a mutual relationship based on trust and love. Sniff is a talented bloodhound who has a sense of smell a million times more accurate than a human’s. Sniff also thinks he is a detective and drags Sid into adventures chasing bad guys whether he wants to or not. The unsold series was to relate Sid’s efforts to solve crimes and get the stories through Sniff’s unique gift. In the pilot episode, the duo tracks the killer of a modeling agency owner. Other Regulars: Nat, Sid’s father, a limo driver.

Cast: Robert Wuhl (Sid Barrows), Louis Guss (Nat Barrows). Guest Cast: Traci Lin (Sharon), Rebecca Holden (Vanessa), Robin Curtis (Barbara), Edward Power (Blaine), Nancy Fish (Liz), Michael Zand (Gaza), Christopher Thomas (Morosco).

7559 Snip. (Unaired Series; Comedy; Produced for NBC in 1976). A hairdresser (David) divorced from a Cape Cod salon owner (Beverly) moves back into her life by renting the house adjoining hers. Stories were to focus on David as he begins work in Beverly’s salon and attempts to win her back. Based on the movie Shampoo and yanked before its scheduled premiere on 9/30/76.

Cast: David Brenner (David), Lesley Ann Warren (Beverly), Walter Wanderman (Michael), Bebe Drake-Hooks (Daffney), Hope Sommers (Beverly’s aunt).

7560 The Snooky Lanson Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956). A summer program of music and songs with singer Snooky Lanson as the host. It ran from July 17, 1956 to September 1, 1956.

Host: Snooky Lanson. Vocalists: The Mellolarks. Announcer: Bill Wendell.

7561 The Snoop Sisters. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1974). Ernestine and Gwendolyn Snoop are eccentric sisters who are also mystery writers. They live in New York City and believe that their writing experience has also made them experts at solving crimes. To put their theory to the test and to acquire story material, the sisters seek to solve real life murder mysteries. While they believe they are providing a public service, their nephew, Steve Ostrowski, a lieutenant with the N.Y.P.D., feels they are putting their lives at risk. He finds that he can't stop them, but he can look out for them. He hires a trusted ex-con (Barney) to watch over his mischievous aunts. Stories follow Ernestine and Gwendolyn as they set out to solve crimes, involving not only Barney, but Steve as well. Six episodes aired on The NBC Tuesday Mystery Movie.

Cast: Helen Hayes (Ernestine Snoop), Mildred Natwick (Gwendolyn Snoop), Bert Convy (Steve Ostrowski), Art Carney (Barney; pilot), Lou Antonio (Barney; series).

7562 Snoops. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1989–1990). Chance Dennis is a criminology professor at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. His wife, Micki Dennis, is a protocol aide at the State Department. They are a perfectly matched couple with a penchant for solving crimes. Chance and Micki live at 30th Street in Georgetown and assist Sam Akers, a lieutenant with the Washington, D.C., Police Department.

Katja Dennis is Chance's daughter from a previous marriage. Denise Kendall is Chance's sister, and Chance Dennis, Sr., is Chance's father. General Ben Martin is Micki's father, and Virginia Martin is Micki's mother. The theme, "Curiosity," is sung by Ray Charles.

Cast: Tim Reid (Chance Dennis), Daphne Maxwell Reid (Micki Dennis), John Karlen (Lt. Stan Akers), Tasha Scott (Katja Dennis), Troy Curvey, Jr. (Hugo), Barbara McNair (Virginia Martin), Raymond St. Jacques (Ben Martin), Lynn Whitfield (Denise Kendall), Christopher Babers (Young Chance; flashbacks).

7563 Snoops. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1999). Glenn Hall, Inc. is a high tech private detective agency in Santa Monica, California. Glenn Hall is its founder and chief operative. Dana Plant, Roberta Young and Manny Lott are her operatives. The agency charges $500 a day plus expenses plus a $5,000 retainer.

Glenn is an expert at computer hacking. She claims, "We have to be bad and break laws because we are after bad guys and it's the only way to catch them." She is 34 years old. At the age of three, her mother put her on a carousel horse at the pier and abandoned her. She was then raised in four different foster homes. Glenn is a certified pilot and hates it "when clients screw me." She gets mad at herself and takes her frustrations out on her staff. Glenn wears what she calls "a digital nipple cam" (takes stills through her bra and blouse) and has a bad habit of falling for handsome clients.

Dana is a former detective with the Santa Monica Police Department. The detective in her never rests and her police procedures often upset Glenn. Dana was a straight A student in school and never broke a rule. She was the perfect child and made her parents proud. She became a good cop and always complains about how Glenn breaks the rules — "The cop in me won't let me break the law." Dana's inability to abide by Glenn's rules forced her to return to the police department. "I enjoyed my job as a private detective but it's not my world." While not dropped from the series, she became Glenn's link with the police department on homicide cases. She now works with her former partner, Detective Greg McCormick of Homicide.

Roberta is more like Glenn than the conservative Dana and believes being sexy and showing cleavage is a necessary part of the job, especially when they go undercover. She has no problem breaking the law and is skilled at picking locks and opening safes. She was born in Los Angeles and is the daughter of wealthy parents. She took the job for the excitement it offers and often risks her life by taking unnecessary chances. While she is reluctant to use a gun, she does love her tube of lipstick — it doubles as a miniature video camera.

Manny, short for Emmanuel, is "the gadget guy" as Roberta calls him. He relies on various electronic gizmos to keep track of people. He carries a tranquilizer gun and has a habit of shooting the wrong people and just letting them sleep where they fall. Glenn complains, but it doesn't stop him from using the gun.

Cast: Gina Gershon (Glenn Hall), Paula Marshall (Dana Plant), Paula Jai Parker (Roberta Young), Danny Nucci (Manny Lott), Edward Kerr (Det. Greg McCormick). Theme Vocal: "One Way or Another" by Blondie.

7564 The Snorks. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1984–1986). The Snorks are multi-colored creatures of the sea who have built-in snorkels on the top of their heads. They live in an underwater city and stories relate their adventures in their magical kingdom.

Voice Cast: Michael Bell (All Star), Nancy Cartwright (Daffney), Mitzi McCall (Auntie Marina), B.J. Ward (Casey), Barry Gordon (Junior/Gov. Wetworth), Edie McClurg (Mrs. Seaworthy), Frank Welker (Occyl Tooter), Robert Ridgely (Mr. Kelp), Clive Revill (Galeo), Brian Cummings, Peter Cullen, Joan Gardner, Barry Gordon, Bob Holt, Paul Kirby, Gail Matthius.

7565 Snowy River: The McGregor Saga. (Series; Drama; Family Channel; 1993). Peterson's Ridge in Australia's Snowy Mountains during the late 19th century is the setting. Stories follow the life of Matt McGregor, a widower, and his three children (Colin, Rob and Danni) as they struggle to maintain a cattle ranch (Matt later marries Kathleen O'Neil, a childhood friend who returns to town after a long absence).

Cast: Andrew Clarke (Matt McGregor), Wendy Hughes (Kathleen McGregor), Brett Climo (Colin McGregor), Guy Pearce (Rob McGregor), Joelene Crnogorac (Danni McGregor), Kristine Raymond (Danni McGregor; later), Joshua Lucas (Luke McGregor), Amanda Douge (Victoria Blackwood), Reg Evans (Jack Kelly), Rodney Bell (Frank Blackwood), John Stanton (Oliver Blackwood), Sheryl Munks (Emily McGregor), Daniel Daperis (Josh McGregor), Josephine Byrnes (Jessie McClusky), Tracy Nelson (Ruth Whitney), Greg Parker (Herbert Elliott), Ben Geurens (Michael O'Neil).

7566 So Little Time. (Series; Comedy; ABC Family; 2001–2002). Riley and Chloe Carlson are gorgeous 15-year-old twins. They are the children of Jake and Macy Carlson, fashion designers who have temporarily separated to take some time apart from each other (Jake resides in a trailer with Macy living in their house. He visits often so he is really never away from his daughters).

Riley and Chloe are active teenagers with a lot to do and so little time to do it. Stories follow their adventures at home, at school and at their favorite hangout, the News Stand.

The series ended with Riley and Chloe celebrating their 16th birthday. Other Regulars: Larry Slotnick, the twin's best friend (who is love struck on Riley); Teddie, Macy's friend, a super model; and Manuelo, called Manny, Macy's house-helper.

Cast: Mary Kate Olsen (Riley Carlson), Ashley Olsen (Chloe Carlson), Clare Carey (Macy Carlson), Eric Lutes (Jake Carlson), Jesse Head (Larry Slotnick), Natashia Williams (Teddie), Taylor Negron (Manuello Del Valle), Amy Davidson (Cammie Morton).

7567 So Notorious. (Series; Comedy; VH-1; 2006). A no holds barred look at the life of actress Tori Spelling, the daughter of TV producer Aaron Spelling, who was depicted as a spoiled rich girl during her run of the Fox series Beverly Hills, 90210 (where she played the virginal Donna Martin).

On Tori's third series (she also starred on the WB's The Help) she plays herself, a girl who was not the pampered princess the press made her out to be. Flashbacks are used to depict wacky incidents in Tori's youth that would later affect her in her adult life, her home life and her hapless search for love.

Other Regulars: Kiki, Tori's mother; Aaron, her father (only heard over the mansion intercom); Janey and Sasan, her friends (who live with her in her spacious apartment; Janey is a real estate agent; Sasan is a gay Iranian-American Muslim); Pete, Tori's roommate; and Nanny, the housekeeper who raised Tori (and still lives in the Spelling mansion).

Cast: Tori Spelling (Herself), Loni Anderson (Kiki Spelling), Brennan Hesser (Janey), Zachary Quinto (Sasan), James Carpinelli (Pete), Celo King (Nanny).

7568 So This Is Hollywood. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1955). Queenie Dugan and Kim Tracy share a room at the La Paloma Courts on Sweetser Street in Hollywood, California. Queenie is a stuntwoman, and Kim is an aspiring actress.

Queenie frequently works with her boyfriend, stuntman Hubie Dodd. They work for Imperial Artists Studios and earn $70 a stunt; their claim to fame is that Queenie once doubled for Jeanette MacDonald and Hubie, a slight bumbler, once doubled for Nelson Eddy.

Kim acquires small roles in films. She got her big break when she was screen-tested for the role of the younger sister in the film Dark Rapture (the publicity department changed her name to Dale Vale for the project; they figured it was better sounding for theater marquees and newspaper ads).

Andrew ("Andy") Boone is Kim's agent, who owns the Boone Theatrical Agency; Mr. Sneed is the girls' landlord; J.J. Carmichael is the head of the studio; and Oliver Hampton is the retired actor who lives next door to Kim and Queenie. Stories follow Kim as she struggles to make a name for herself in Hollywood. William Lava composed the theme, "So This Is Hollywood."

Cast: Mitzi Green (Queenie Dugan), Virginia Gibson (Kim Tracy), Gordon Jones (Hubie Dodd), James Lydon (Andy Boone), Peggy Knudsen (April Adams), Raymond Hatton (Mr. Sneed), Shirley Lucas (Queenie's Stand-In), Victor Moore (Oliver Hampton), Paul Harvey (J.J. Carmichael). Narrator Virginia Gibson.

7569 So You Think You Can Dance. (Series; Reality; Fox; 2005). Contestants perform dance routines for a chance to win $100,000 and a one year contract with singer Celine Dion's Las Vegas nightclub show. Participants perform a specialty dance each week — one with a professional partner, the other as a solo. While each performance is judged by a panel (who offer criticism as well as advice) it is the votes by the home audience that determines which dancers are eliminated (lowest votes). Like other such reality series, the couple with the highest number of votes on the final episode is the winner.

Host: Lauren Sanchez, Cat Deeley. Judge: Cat Deeley, Nigel Lythgoe, Mary Murphy. Choreographer: Mary Murphy.

7570 So You Think You Got Troubles? (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1982). People with real-life problems are interviewed by ventriloquist Jay Johnson (and his dummy, Bob) then offered advice by a professional guest panel. Rod Roddy is the announcer.

7571 So You Want to Be? (Pilot; Children; Fox; 12/26/93). Gary Ragland hosts a proposed series that was to teach children about various professions by visiting professionals at work (for example, a judge, an interior decorator).

7572 So You Want to Lead a Band. (Series; Variety; NBC; CBS; 1950–1953). Music, songs, comedy vignettes and a quiz segment wherein members of the studio audience are selected to lead the Sammy Kaye orchestra. The winner, the best conductor, is determined by studio audience applause and receives a merchandise prize. Chubby Silvers is featured as the Band Boy (brings the baton to the contestant). The series is also known as The Sammy Kaye Show. The series ran on NBC from June 1, 1950 to July 21, 1951; on CBS from July 28, 1951 to July 19, 1952; and on NBC from August 8, 1953 to September 5, 1953.

Host: Sammy Kaye. Band Boy: Chubby Silvers. Regulars: Barbara Benson, Tony Alamo, Jeffrey Clay, The Kayettes, The Kay Choir. Orchestra: Sammy Kaye.

7573 Soap. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1977–1981). A spoof of afternoon soap operas in which the lives of two sisters are chronicled: the wealthy Jessica Tate and the not-so-rich Mary Campbell. Stories also focus on the outlandish activities of their families, residents of the town of Dunns River, Connecticut.

Chester Tate is Jessica's husband; Burt Campbell is Mary's second husband. Corinne, Eunice and Billy are Jessica's children; Danny and Jodie Dallas are Mary's sons (from a previous marriage; Jodie is gay). Benson DuBois is the Tate's butler (Sanders replaces Benson when the Benson character was spun off into his own series; see Benson).

The Major is Jessica's crazed father (believes he is living World War II). Chuck Campbell, Burt's son, is a ventriloquist with a dummy (Bob) whom Chuck believes is real. Tim Floski is the ex-priest who marries Corinne; Peter Campbell is Burt's son; Godfather is the head of the Mafia in which Danny is involved.

Claire is Chester's secretary; Carol Darwin, the nurse; Walter McCallam, Eunice's boyfriend. Marilyn McCallam, Walter's wife; Ingrid Svenson, Corinne's real mother; Randolph Svenson, Ingrid's husband. E. Ronald Mallu, Jessica's lawyer; Mr. Lefkowitz, the Mafia leader (later); Elaine Lefkowitz, his daughter, the girl who marries Danny.

Sheila Fyne is Jessica's friend. Carol David, Mallu's assistant (she married Jodie, even though Jodie is gay); Sheriff Tinkler, the local sheriff; George Donehue, the detective; Dutch Lightner, the convict; Polly Dawson, Danny's romantic interest (later).

Eddie Dawson, Polly's brother; Rose Dawson, Polly's mother; Walter Dawson, Polly's father.

Sol is the earthling who helped Burt escape from aliens; Lorelene Davis is Carol's mother. Millie was Danny's romantic interest (prior to Polly). Leslie Walker, Billy's schoolteacher; Dennis Phillips, the quarterback; Dr. Alan Posner, Jessica's psychiatrist; Mrs. Floski, Tim's mother; Sally, Burt's secretary (at his construction company).

Alice is the lesbian that Jodie befriends; Maggie Chandler, the private detective; Annie Selig, Eunice's friend; Carlos El Puerco Valdez is the revolutionist who takes over Jessica's home; Juan One and Juan Two are Valdez's aides; Gwen is the hooker Danny falls for (1981).

Cast: Cathryn Damon (Jessica Tate), Katherine Helmond (Mary Campbell), Robert Mandan (Chester Tate), Richard Mulligan (Burt Campbell), Diana Canova (Corinne Tate), Jennifer Salt (Eunice Tate), Jimmy Baio (Billy Tate), Ted Wass (Danny Dallas), Billy Crystal (Jodie Dallas), Robert Guillaume (Benson DuBois), Roscoe Lee Browne (Sanders), Arthur Peterson (The Major), Jay Johnson (Chuck Campbell), Sal Viscuso (Tim Floski), Robert Urich (Peter Campbell), Richard Libertini (Godfather), Kathryn Reynolds (Claire), Udana Power (Carol Darwin), Edward Winter (Walter McCallam), Judith-Marie Bergan (Marilyn McCallam), Inga Swenson (Ingrid Svenson), Bernard Fox (Randolph Svenson), Eugene Roche (E. Ronald Mallu), Sorrell Booke (Mr. Lefkowitz), Dinah Manoff (Elaine Lefkowitz), Nita Talbot (Sheila Fyne), Rebecca Balding (Carol David), Gordon Jump (Sheriff Tinkler), John Byner (George Donehue), Donnelly Rhodes (Dutch Lightner), Lynne Moody (Polly Dawson), Kene Holliday (Eddie Dawson), Royce Wallace (Rose Dawson), Mel Stewart (Walter Dawson), Jack Gilford (Sol), Peggy Pope (Lorelene David), Candice Azzara (Millie), Marla Pennington (Leslie Walker), Bob Seagren (Dennis Phillips), Allan Miller (Dr. Alan Posner), Doris Roberts (Mrs. Floski), Caroline McWilliams (Sally), Randee Heller (Alice), Barbara Rhoades (Maggie Chandler), Nancy Dolman (Annie Selig), Gregory Sierra (Carlos El Puerco Valdez), Jesse Wells (Gwen), Joe Monteaigo (Juan One), Laurie Faso (Juan Two). Announcer: Rod Roddy.

7574 Soap Factory Disco. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1978). Young adults dance to the latest disco music. The title is taken from a disco in Palisades Park, New Jersey, where the series is videotaped.

Host: Paul Harriss. Music: Bobby Dj, Gutt Adero. Theme Music: Lou Hensley.

7575 Soap World. (Series; Magazine; Syn.; 1982). A look at television serials (soap operas) via interviews with their stars, soap updates, behind the scenes aspects and audience participation segments.

Host: Michael Young. Reporter: Chantal Westerman, Richard Bey. Music: Hal Hidey.

7576 S.O.B. (Socially Offensive Behavior). (Series; Comedy; BET; 2007). A spin on the Candid Camera type of program that uses the hidden camera to capture the reactions of unsuspecting people caught in pre-arranged situations that are considered socially unacceptable (for example, a priest looking at a Playboy centerfold in a bar; members of a gun club choosing paper targets based on race). The reactions of the people who witness these acts are the heart of the program.

Host: D.L. Hughley.

7577 Social Studies. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1990). Patsy Cole is the divorced mother of two children (charming but smart-mouthed Danette and Joe, who yearns to be a Marine) who is a veteran of four marriages, over 100 jobs and 14 different homes (including four house trailers). She is only in her thirties and feels it is time to turn her life around. She enrolls at Buckley University and is offered a job — running a frat house. The unsold series was to focus on Patsy as she struggles to divide her time between school, work and her kids.

Cast: Diana Canova (Patsy Cole), Lindsay Fisher (Danette Cole), Cal Evans (Joe Cole), David Ogden Stiers (Dean Rutger Hazeltine), Todd Field (Sean), David Packer (Morgan), Jim Calvert (Elliott).

7578 Social Studies. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1998). Katherine Weaver, called Kit, is a teacher at the Harmon Boarding School. Kit is a modern thinking teacher and called “cool” by her students. She thinks like a student but teaches in a way that makes her very popular (her unique style of not forcing work upon students makes learning fun and her students respond to her methods). The school is run by Frances Harmon, a conservative, strict head mistress who finds Kit’s methods totally contradict the policies she has established for the school (“school should be a place of learning not a place for fun and games”). Frances has threatened to dismiss Kit if she does not change her ways, but she fears a revolt among students if she actually carries out one of those threats. Stories depict Kit’s efforts to continue teaching as she does but also trying to please Frances and not make the situation any more tense than it already is. Students include Madison, Dan, Sara, Chip, Carla, Jared and Matt.

Cast: Bonnie McFarlane (Katherine “Kit” Weaver), Julia Duffy (Frances Harmon), Lisa Wilhoit (Madison Lewis), Adam Ferrara (Dan Rissoni), Vanessa Lee Evigan (Sara Valentine), Rashaan Nall (Jared Moore), Monica McSwain (Carla Stone), Jasper Cole (Mr. Rice), Jarrett Lennor (Edgar), Jordan Bower (Matt), Corbin Allred (Chip Wigley).

7579 The Soft Touch. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/3/62). Ernestine McDougal is the beautiful but slightly scatterbrained daughter of Charlie McDougal, the owner of the McDougal Loan Company, and his chief loan officer. Ernestine believes that her intuition is better than collateral in determining the recipients of loans and the unsold series was to relate Ernestine’s misadventures when her intuition does not always pay off and her father has to bail her out. In the pilot episode, Ernestine tries to loan $300 to a neighbor (Mrs. Munson), who wants to glamorize herself and trap a man.

Cast: Marie Wilson (Ernestine McDougal), Charlie Ruggles (Charlie McDougal). Guest Cast: Madge Blake (Mrs. Munson), Charles Lane (Mr. Martin), El Brendel (Mr. Hauser), Nancy Kulp (Woman), James Flavin, Hayden Rorke, Claude Stroud.

7580 Solar Man. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 10/24/92). When his planet faces doom to a lack of sunlight, Dr. Shahan invents the Giant Proton Energizer to harness the sun of dead planets to save his own planet.

When Shahan learns that an evil warlord (Gormagalcrow) is seeking his invention for his own sinister plans, he tries to stop him by stealing the Circlit of Power, a special bracelet that can defeat the warlord. However, as Shahan attempts to escape, his ship is fired upon and hit. The craft crash lands on Earth. A dying Shahan is found by a teenage boy named Ben Tucker. Shahan gives Ben the bracelet and a mission: to save the Earth by defeating the warlord who wants the Earth’s sun. The bracelet has special powers: when the sun strikes the bracelet and Ben pushes the symbol he becomes Solar Man, a powerful superhero. The unsold series was to relate Ben’s efforts to protect the Earth from the warlord.

Voices: Bettina Bush, Adam Carl, Bernie Erhard, Pat Fraley, Lou Hunt, M.G. Kelly, Angelailee Sloan.

7581 Soldier of Fortune. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1997). When a situation arises anywhere in the world that could pose a threat not only to the United States but to any friendly nation, a small, elite group of agents (mostly rogue ex-intelligence and military personnel) ban together and use their combined skills to silently go in and do what it takes to resolve the situation. Matthew Shepherd lead such a squad and stories relate the exploits of these skilled anti-terrorist fighters.

Cast: Brad Johnson (Major Matthew Shepherd), Melinda Clarke (Margo Vincent), Tim Abell (Benny Riddle), Sebastian Apodaca (Carlos Escobar), David Selby (Xavier Trout), Billy Gallo (Rico Valesquez), Mark Sheppard (Christopher “C.J.” Yates).

7582 Soldier Parade. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955). A summer series that is broadcast from various military bases around the country and features performances by army talent. It ran from June 25, 1955 to September 3, 1955.

Hostess: Gisele MacKenzie, Arlene Francis. Co-Host: Richard Hayes.

7583 The Soldiers. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1955). Hal March and Tom D'Andrea are friends serving time as reluctant army privates. Both are misadventure prone and stories follow their efforts to stay out of trouble while attempting to complete their military obligation with the U.S. Army. The summer series ran from June 25, 1955 to September 3, 1955.

Cast: Hal March (Private Hal March), Tom D'Andrea (Private Tom D'Andrea), John Dehner (Captain), Red Pearson (Sergeant).

7584 Soldiers of Fortune. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1955). Tim Kelly and his partner, Toubo Smith, are rugged American soldiers of fortune who take on the cases of people who are unable to help themselves. Stories relate their often-dangerous assignments as they battle the forces of injustice throughout the world.

Cast: John Russell (Tim Kelly), Chick Chandler (Toubo Smith).

7585 Solid Gold. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1980). Performances by the industry's top recording artists. Bob Banner and Mort Lachman are the producers.

Hostess: Dionne Warwick, Marilyn McCoo. Host: Rex Smith, Rick Dees. Regulars: Wayland Flowers, Marty Cohen, Steve Allen, The Solid Gold Dancers. Announcer: Robert W. Morgan. Music Director: Michael Miller. Theme Music: "Solid Gold" by Michael Morgan, Dean Pitchford.

7586 Solid Gold Hits. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1984). A daily extension series based on the weekly Solid Gold series that features the latest in music videos.

Host: Grant Goodeve. Announcer: Robert W. Morgan.

7587 Solid Gold '79. (Pilot; Variety; Operation Prime Time; 2/29/80). The pilot episode for the syndicated (9/80) series Solid Gold that presents performances by top recording artists. The pilot presents a review of the top hits of 1979 with performances by the artists who made them popular.

Hosts: Glen Campbell, Dionne Warwick. Guests: Steve Allen, Marty Cohen, Tim Reid, Richard Sanders. Announcer: Robert W. Morgan.

7588 Some Kinda Woman. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/6/88). Lisa is young, beautiful and mysterious. She lives for the moment and does whatever she wants no matter what it is. Elliot Benton is a conservative young Chicago stockbroker whose life changes when he meets Lisa and she guides him on unexpected escapades where anything can happen (for example, a romantic dinner in Acapulco or as gritty as a Hell's Angels picnic). Elliot is so fascinated by Lisa that he doesn't question her about her past or day-to-day existence. The unsold series was to track Lisa and Elliot's rather unusual relationship as Lisa involves him in various romantic adventures.

Cast: Morgan Fairchild (Lisa), Hunt Block (Elliot), S.A. Griffin (Frank; Elliot's friend).

7589 Someone Like Me. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994). Gabrielle "Gaby" Stepjak is a very pretty 12-year-old bundle of energy. She is president of her sixth grade class at the Walter Mondale Middle School in Parkwood, St. Louis, and resides with her mother, Jean; father, Steven; sister, Samantha; and brother, Evan, at 1402 Manton Drive.

Gaby is a member of the swim team at the local hangout, the Park Recreation Center. She feels that the worst punishment she can get is no phone privileges ("it's barbaric"). As a kid Gaby would cut the hair off her Barbie dolls (thinking it would grow back) and when she does something wrong, her mother gives her "the anybody can become President speech."

Samantha, called "Sam," is a 16-year-old girl who knows she is beautiful. She can have any guy she wants — yet she dates "losers," as Steve calls them. To get Gaby to do something for her, Samantha bribes her with clothes. Each morning before school, Samantha takes inventory — "lipstick, eyeliner, scrungie, brush, Walkman." She always forgets one thing — books. Sam feels she has only one job to perform around the house — "to brighten Gaby's day."

Gaby's best friend is Jane Schmidt. She wears bubble gum-flavored lip gloss and feels her and Gaby's goal in life is to be beautiful.

Although Samantha considers Jane to be a bother, Jane admires Samantha for her breasts ("I hope to get breasts that great, too"). When she visits Gaby, Jane tries to sneak a beer out of the refrigerator and when Jane uses a bad word, Gaby fears Jane's mother will think Jane learned it from her.

Jean is a travel agent for the Four Corners Travel Agency. She attended Eleanor Roosevelt High School and was the junior class treasurer. She is a neat freak and says, "I'm always there for people. That's why people like me." When she gets stressed out, she cleans; when she and Sam feel sad, they pamper each other.

As a kid Steven played with Matchbox cars and was called "Matchbox Loner." He is an optician at the mall.

7590 Somerset. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1970–1976). A spin-off from Another World. The dramatic story of three families: the Lucas's, the Grants and the Delaney's, residents of the town of Somerset. The series, which ran from March 30, 1970 to December 31, 1976, is also known as Another World in Somerset.

Cast: Jordan Charney (Sam Lucas), Ann Wedgeworth (Lahoma Lucas), Carol Roux (Missy Lucas), Nicholas Coster (Robert Delaney), Dorothy Stinette (Laura Cooper), Gary Sandy (Randy Buchanan), Ed Kemmer (Ben Grant), Susan McDonald (Jill Grant), Ron Martin (David Grant), Len Gochman (Peter Delaney), Alice Hirson (Marsha Davis), Georgann Johnson (Ellen Grant), Walter Matthews (Gerald Matthews), Wynne Miller (Jessica Buchanan), Marie Wallace (India Delaney), Paul Sparer (Rex Cooper), Ernest Thompson (Tom Cooper), Edward Winter (Chuck Hillman), Michael Lipton (Dr. Stan Kurtz), Meg Winter (Ginger Kurtz), Fawne Harriman (Ginger Kurtz), Renne Jarrett (Ginger Kurtz), Gene Fanning (Leo Kurtz), Bibi Besch (Eve Lawrence), Joel Crothers (Julian Cannel), Gloria Hoye (Dr. Terri Martin), Polly Rowles (Frieda Lang), Jane Rose (Becky Winkle), Gretchen Wyler (Doris Hiller), Stanley Grover (Mark Mercer), Barry Jenner (Tony Cooper), Doug Chapin (Tony Cooper), Eleanor Phelps (Mrs. Benson), Gary Swanson (Greg Mercer), Pamela Toll (Pamela Davis), Diahn Williams (Crystal Ames), Melinda Plank (Danny Catsworth), Dick Shoberg (Mitch Farmer), Bill Hunt (Bill Greeley), Harriet Hall (Andrea Moore), Lois Kibbee (Emily Moore), Bob Gabriel (Phil), Ed Bryce (Kenny), Frank Scofield (Philip Matson), Chris Pennock (Dana Morton), Nancy Pinkerton (Karen MacMillian), Ralph Clanton (Jasper Delany), Lois Smith (Zoe Cannel), Philip Sterling (Rafe Carter), Jay Gregory (Carter Matson), Marc Alaimo (Virgil Paris), Audrey Landers (Heather Lawrence), Robert Burr (Luke MacKenzie), Helen Funai (Lai Ling), Matthew Greene (Bobby Hanson), Sean Wood (Joey Cooper), Roxanne Gregory (Buffy), JoBeth Williams (Carrie Wheeler), Roger Rathburn (Chip Williams), Tina Sloan (Kate Cannel), James O'Sullivan (Jerry Kane), Abby Lewis (Lena Andrews), Veleka Gray (Victoria Paisley), Bill Joyce (Jack Wheeler), Susan MacDonald (Jill Farmer). Announcer: Bill Wolff.

7591 Somerset Gardens. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 7/28/89). Events in the lives of a group of senior citizens at Somerset Gardens, a large condo development in San Diego.

Cast: Bill Macy (S. Monroe Shamsky), Betty Garrett (Susannah Somerset), June Lockhart (Debbie Whitmire), Rebecca Schull (Ada), Warren Frost (Dean Whitmire), Al Ruscio (Eddie), Mary Jackson (Helen), Clifton James (Jack), Erica Yohn (Marnie).

7592 The Somerset Maugham Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; NBC; 1950–1951). The alternate title for Teller of Tales. See this title for information.

7593 Something Else. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1969). Comedian John Byner hosts a program that spotlights the recording industry's top performers. Bob Banas is the choreographer and the Action Faction Dancers are featured.

7594 Something Is Out There. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 1988). A series of unexplained killings has the police baffled, especially Detective John ("Jack") Breslin of the L.A.P.D. At the site of a recent crime, Jack spots a girl he saw at one of the previous killings. Believing that she is a "kinko" and may know something, he attempts, but fails, to apprehend her. During the pursuit, the girl dropped an odd looking item, which Jack finds.

Later, when Jack enters his apartment, he senses the presence of an intruder. In the bedroom he again encounters the girl — who came to his apartment looking for the tracking device Jack found. The girl pleads with Jack to listen to her story: "I'm from another star system. I was forced to crash my shuttle on your planet." As Jack listens he learns that her name is Ta'ra and that her people are aware of Earth and have been studying it for some time. A disbelieving Jack becomes a believer when Ta'ra takes him to the desert and he sees her shuttlecraft. She tells him that he must keep her secret and not tell anyone about her: "There will be worldwide announcements, research teams, scientists; we cannot tell them because of why I am here."

Ta'ra continues and tells Jack she was a med tech officer aboard a prison ship called the Angelon. "We had 212 convicted criminals aboard. We were well equipped to handle any prisoners, but not what we were trying to imprison at the end of D Block."

In D Block was a Zenamorph, a creature, not of her species (which resemble humans) that was thought to be extinct. "This one was discovered in the Centauri sector," she tells Jack. "It is believed to be the only one left in the galaxy. It is a shape-changing alien form, a highly sophisticated cellular makeup."

Through the power of mind control, the creature escaped from its cell (it willed a doctor to release the prisoners, who in turn released it). The Zenamorph, which resembles a giant scorpion in its natural form, then killed everyone on board except Ta'ra, for reasons she cannot explain (perhaps because she was behind a metal wall during the attack and the creature did not sense her). Following the creature's rampage, Ta'ra grabbed a tracker and a pulse rifle and pursued it. "I don't know how to exterminate it, but the pulse rifle at maximum setting can cause it great pain. The tracking unit is what I came to your apartment to get. All prisoners are injected with an isotope so they can always be tracked."

Ta'ra tells Jack that she believes the creature has been killing humans for scientific study, to learn how they are constructed so it can assimilate into the human environment to reproduce itself and take over the planet. She also tells him that “the long range transmitter on the Angelon was destroyed. I have no way of reaching my planet or telling anyone what has happened.”

Jack and Tara join forces at the conclusion of the pilot episode (May 9, 1988). It appears that they killed the Zenamorph; however, other bizarre, unexplainable crimes suddenly begin to take place. Jack, with Tara’s help, investigate and attempt to solve them. Tara, who poses as Jack’s cousin, is living with him at his apartment. Her cover is that she works at the police crime lab. Vic Maldonado is Jack’s superior.

Cast: Joe Cortese (Jack Breslin), Maryam D’Abo (Tara), Gregory Sierra (Lt. Vic Maldonado). Theme: “Something Is Out There” by Sylvester Levay.

7595 Something So Right. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1996–97; ABC; 1997–98 (ABC). Carly Davis owns a business called Get Down Tonight Party Planners. She is twice divorced and the mother of Sarah and Will. Jack Farrell is a high school teacher. He is divorced and the father of Nicole. When the series begins Carly and Jack are newlyweds and struggling to make their blended family work, a situation that is complicated by their children who really do not like each other.

Carly calls her first two marriages “Dumb and Dumber.” She is also said to work for Toy Time, Inc., a toy manufacturing company. Dante Pacino and Sheldon Kramer are Carly’s ex-husbands. Stephanie is Jack’s ex-wife. Sarah is Carly’s daughter by Sheldon; Will is her son by Dante.

Stephanie is an actress and stars as Thea on the TV series Thea: Warrior Goddess (not to be confused with the actual series, Xena: Warrior Princess. Nicole appeared on her mother’s show as Thora, Thea’s daughter, in one episode). Nicole’s good looks also got her a TV commercial for Next to Nothing Jeans.

Although Sarah is Jewish (her father is Sheldon Kramer) she plays basketball on a Catholic Church team coached by Jack called the Raptors. Sarah and Will attend mass services at Temple Beth Ariel; Nicole attends Our Lady of Innocence High School (where her father teaches English). To complicate the situation even further, Stephanie is dating Sheldon.

Cast: Mel Harris (Carly Davis-Farrell), Jere Burns (Jack Farrell), Marnette Patterson (Nicole Farrell), Christine Dunford (Stephanie Farrell), Emily Ann Lloyd (Sarah Kramer), Billy L. Sullivan (Will Pacino), Barry Jenner (Sheldon Kramer), Michael Milhoan (Dante Pacino).

7596 Something Special. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1966). A monthly program with solo performances that spotlight the talents of its guest hosts. Stewart Morris is the producer; Marty Paich provides the music.

7597 Something Wilder. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1994–1995). Gene Bergman is a late-in-his-life father attempting to raise fraternal twins (Gabe and Sam) with his wife, Annie, in his hometown of Stockbridge, Massachusetts. Gene and his friend, Jack, own the Berkshire Hills Advertising Agency. Gene was previously married to Joanna (for 2 months; but divorced for 20 years). Gene met Annie in New York City and proposed to her at Antonio’s Restaurant. The twins attend the Happy Pixy Pre-School and are members of the Stockbridge Indoor Soccer Team (the Wild Cats).

Other Regulars: Ginger Rooney, Annie’s sister; Katie, Ginger’s daughter; and Richie, an employee at the ad agency.

Cast: Gene Wilder (Gene Bergman), Hillary Bailey Smith (Annie Bergman), Ian Bottiglieri (Gabe Bergman), Carl Michael Lindner (Sam Bergman), Gregory Itzin (Jack Travis), Nancy Mette (Ginger Mooney), Reagan Kotz (Katie Mooney), Jake Weber (Richie), Michele Lee (Joanna).

7598 Somewhere in Italy ... Company B. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 8/21/66). Italy during World War II is the setting for a proposed series about Lieutenant John F. Leahy and Sergeant Wilkie Krantz, the leaders of a foul-up infantry squadron that has to make the best of things after they are cutoff from their battalion command.

Cast: Robert Reed (John F. Leahy), Harold J. Stone (Wilkie Krantz), Vassill Lambrinos (Paulo Pietri), Barbara Shelley (Selena).

7599 Son of the Beach. (Series; Comedy; FX; 2000–2002). Jamaica St. Croix, Kimberlee Clark and B.J. Cummings are three gorgeous lifeguards in Malibu Adjacent, California. The girls are part of a unit called SPF-30, which is headed by Notch Johnson, an out-of-shape lifeguard, called “The World’s Greatest.” The series, a rip off of the successful Baywatch, features scantily clad bikini lifeguards in comical situations as Notch and his team do their best to perform ocean rescues and assist beach goers who need help.

Cast: Timothy Stack (Notch Johnson), Leila Arcieri (Jamaica St. Croix), Kim Oja (Kimberlee Clark), Jaime Bergman (B.J. Cummings), Lisa Banes (Mayor Anita Massengil), Amy Weber (Porcelain Bidet), Roland Kicking (Chip Rommel).

7600 The Son-in-Law. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 10/26/80). The trials and tribulations of a mixed marriage as seen through the experiences of Cindy Sugarman, an American girl who marries an unemployed Korean comedian (Johnny Quon). The pilot episode depicts their misadventures when they move in with and encounter the objections of Cindy’s father (Manny) who is unable to fully accept their marriage. Other Regulars: Charlotte, Cindy’s mother; and Mr. Muirfield, their landlord.

Cast: Judith-Marie Bergan (Cindy Quon), Johnny Yune (Johnny Quon), Pat Cooper (Manny Sugarman), Rue McClanahan (Charlotte Sugarman), Bernard Fox (Mr. Muirfield).

7601 Song and Dance. (Live Test Program; Variety; NBC; 9/4/46). A proposed series of songs (with Diane Courtney and the Corsairs Quartet) and dancing by Ronnie and Ray. Diane Courtney hosts.

7602 Song and Dance Time. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1949). Singer Roberta Quinlan hosts a program of music, song and dance that ran from December 17, 1948 to June 21, 1949.

Hostess: Roberta Quinlan, Barbara Marshall. Dancers: Ellsworth and Fairchild. Music: The Tony Mottola Trio.

7603 Song by Song. (Series; Variety; PBS; 1979–1980). A musical salute to American lyricists. Taped in London, the program highlights the careers of Alan Jay Lerner, Frederick Loewe, E.Y. “Yip” Harburg, Lorenz Hart, Dorothy Fields, Howard Dietz, Oscar Hammerstein, and Sheldon Harnick.

Host: Ned Sherrin. Regulars: Millicent Martin, David Kernan, Gemma Craven, Linda Lewis, Polly James, Elaine Stritch. Music Director: Peter Knight.

7604 Song Snapshots on a Summer Holiday. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1954). A summer program of music and songs with singers Merv Griffin and Betty Ann Grove as the hosts. It ran from June 24, 1954 to September 9, 1954. Byron Paul is the producer.

Hosts: Merv Griffin, Betty Ann Grove. Regulars: The Peter Birch Dancers. Orchestra: Henry Sylvern.

7605 Songs at Twilight. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). Buddy Grecco, Bob Carroll and John Andrews host a summer series of music and songs that ran from July 3, 1951 to August 31, 1951.

7606 Songs for Sale. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950–1952). The material of four songwriters (per show) is performed then judged and evaluated by a professional panel. The series ran from July 7, 1950 to June 26, 1952.

7607 Sonic the Hedgehog. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; Fox; 1993–2007). In 1993 the Sega video game Sonic the Hedgehog was adapted to television as The Adventures of Sonic. It was basically the same as the game: a hedgehog (Sonic) who could run very fast (seen in a blue blur) used his abilities to battle Dr. Ivo Robotnik, an evil being who loves to cause as much misery as possible. Sonic was assisted in his adventures by Miles Prower (nicknamed Tails). Assisting Dr. Robotnik were Scratch and Grounder, two dimwits who could never satisfy the doctor by capturing Sonic for him.

In 1994 the series became (in syndication) Sonic the Hedgehog which strayed from the game format to follow Sonic as he battled Dr. Robotnik to restore peace to the planet Mobius (which Dr. Robotnik seeks to rule). Sonic, again assisted by Miles “Tails” Prower, also finds help from Princess Nicole (and her talking computer, Sally).

The series returned to television (via Fox) as Sonic Underground in 1999. The game format was all but abandoned and Sonic took on a new look. Here Sonic has two siblings, Sonia and Manic (they have formed a rock band called Sonic Underground). It is learned that Sonic, Sonia and Manic are the children of Aleana, the Queen of the planet Mobius. Dr. Robotnik appears again as Sonic’s enemy, this time he has kidnapped Aleana and thus thrown the planet into a state of chaos. With Sleet, Dingo and the SWAT Bots by his side, Dr. Robotnik plans to take over Mobius. Stories follow Sonic, Sonia and Manic as they begin a quest to find their mother and defeat the evil Dr. Robotnik.

The final version of the series (as of 2007) appeared on Fox as Sonic X. Dr. Robotnik has been dropped and replaced by Dr. Eggman, a madman who is planning to take over the Earth. Sonic and his pal, Tails, join forces with their new friends, Christopher and Amy, to battle Dr. Eggman and save the planet.

The Adventures of Sonic Voice Cast: Jaleel White (Sonic), Christopher Evan Welch (Miles “Tails” Prower), Long John Baldry (Dr. Ivo Robotnik), Phil Hayes (Scratch), Gary Chalk (Grounder).

Sonic the Hedgehog Voice Cast: Jaleel White (Sonic), Kath Soucie (Princess Nicole), Kath Soucie (Sally), Bradley Pierce (Miles “Tails” Prower), Jim Cummings (Dr. Ivo Robotnik), Charles Adler (Snively), Christine Cavanaugh (Bunnie Rabbot), Rob Paulsen (Antoine Depardieux), William Windom (Sir Charles “Uncle Chuck” Hedgehog).

Sonic Underground Voice Cast: Jaleel White (Sonic), Gary Chalk (Dr. Ivo Robotnik), Gail Webster (Queen Aleana), Tyler Ross (Manic), Kathleen Barr (Sonia), Peter Wilds (Dingo), Maurice LaMarche (Sleet), Ian James Corlett (Cyrus).

Sonic X Voice Cast: Jason Griffith (Sonic), Lisa Ortiz (Tails), Amy Palant (Tails), Dan Green (Knuckles), Jerry Lobo (Chuck Thorndike), Rachel Lillis (Francine), Megan Hollingshead (Scarlet Garcia), Suzanne Goldish (Christopher Thorndike), Mike Pollock (Dr. Eggman).

7608 The Sonny and Cher Comedy Hour. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1971–1974). Music, songs and comedy sketches with the husband and wife singing team of Sonny and Cher. Allan Blye and Chris Bearde are the producers.

Hosts: Sonny Bono, Cher. Regulars: Chastity Bono, Peter Cullen, Clive Clerk, Murray Riff, Ted Zeigler, Teri Garr, Freeman King, Steve Parker, Ted Bickle, Billy Van, Murray Langston, The Jaime Rogers Dancers, The Tony Mordente Dancers, The Earl Brown Singers. Announcer: Peter Cullen. Orchestra: Jimmy Dale, Marty Paich.

7609 The Sonny and Cher Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1976–1977). Husband and wife singers Sonny and Cher host a weekly program of music, songs and comedy skits. Nick Vanoff is the producer.

Hosts: Sonny Bono, Cher. Regulars: Ted Zeigler, Billy Van, Jack Harnell, Richard Lewis, Felix Silla. Orchestra: Harold Battiste. Special Musical Material: Billy Barnes, Earl Brown.

7610 Sonny and Sam. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 8/29/81). When Jim Feegan, the owner of a private detective agency in which songwriter Sonny Hunt has a vested interest, is murdered, Sonny and his wife, Samantha, a model, assume ownership of the agency in an attempt to legally solve Feegan's murder (which leads them from New York to Nashville and involves them in a series of additional murders and a blackmail scheme). The unsold series was to relate the investigations of a husband-and-wife team of detectives. Filmed in 1977 and also known as "The Country Music Murders" and "Murder in Music City."

Cast: Sonny Bono (Sonny Hunt), Lee Purcell (Samantha Hunt), Lucille Benson (Mrs. Bloom; their secretary). Guest Cast: Claude Akins (Billy West), Belinda J. Montgomery (Peggy Ann West), Morgan Fairchild (Dana Morgan), Harry Bellaver (Jim Feegan), Kim Owen (Sam Prine), Barbara Mandrell, Charlie Daniels, Ronnie Milsap, Ray Stevens, Mel Tillis (Themselves).

7611 Sonny Boy. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 5/16/74). Events in the life of Gregory "Sonny" Walker, a 35-year-old, frustrated mama's boy, as he struggles to cut the apron strings and begin his own life. Other Regulars: Marjorie, his mother; and Lorraine, his girlfriend.

Cast: Allen Garfield (Gregory Walker), Florence Stanley (Marjorie Walker), Yvonne Wilder (Lorraine). Guest Cast: Joshua Shelley (Uncle Ralph), Beverly Carter (Doris).

7612 The Sonny Comedy Revue. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1974). Music, songs and comedy sketches with singer Sonny Bono on his own without now ex-wife Cher. Allan Blye and Chris Bearde are the producers.

Host: Sonny Bono. Regulars: Teri Garr, Ted Zeigler, Freeman King, Peter Cullen, Billy Van, Murray Langston. Announcer: Peter Cullen. Orchestra: Lex DeAvezedo.

7613 The Sonny Kendis Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949–1950). Singer-musician Sonny Kendis hosts a program of music and songs that ran from April 18, 1949 to January 6, 1950. He is assisted by vocalist Gigi Durston.

7614 Sonny Spoon. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1988). Salvatore Theopolis Spoon, called Sonny, is a street-smart, smooth-talking private detective based in Los Angeles. Sonny is not your run of the mill private eye. He incorporates numerous disguises to help his clients out of a jam (but also gets himself in numerous jams by doing so). Sonny's father, Melvin, a former police officer, often lends a hand (although giving him advice on how not to avoid confrontations with criminals never seems to sink in). Also assisting in more than his capacity as a snitch is Johnny Skates, a skittish chap who feels more comfortable behind the scenes supplying Sonny with the street information he needs to solve a case. Carolyn Gilder is the assistant District Attorney who helps Sonny (and vice versa). Lucius is Sonny's friend, the owner of the local newsstand.

Cast: Mario Van Peebles (Sonny Spoon), Terry Donahoe (Carolyn Gilder), Joe Shea (Lucius DeLuce), Bob Wielands (Johnny Skates), Melvin Van Peebles (Melvin Spoon).

7615 Sons and Daughters. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1974). A depiction of the last innocence of American youth as seen through the eyes of Anita Cramer and Jeff Reed, seniors at Southwest High School in Stockton, California, during the 1950s.

Ruth and Walter Cramer are Anita's parents; Lucille Reed is Jeff's mother; Danny Reed is Jeff's brother; and Evie, Murray, Mary Anne, Stash, Charlie, Lisa, Tina, Marylou, Dana and Angie are Anita and Jeff's friends.

Cast: Glynnis O'Connor (Anita Cramer), Gary Frank (Jeff Reed), Jan Shutan (Ruth Cramer), John S. Ragin (Walter Cramer), Jay W. McIntosh (Lucille Reed), Michael Morgan (Danny Reed), Debralee Scott (Evie Martinson), Barry Livingston (Murray "Moose" Kerner), Laura Siegel (Mary Anne), Scott Colomby (Stash), Lionel Johnston (Charlie), Chris Nelson (Lisa), Randi Kallan (Tina), Teresa Medaris (Marylou), Cheryl Linde (Dana), Bonnie Van Dyke (Angie).

7616 Sons and Daughters. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1991). Events in the life of Tess Hammersmith, an architect and the unmarried mother of an adopted ten-year-old daughter (Astrid) as she struggles to keep harmony among siblings, in-laws and children. Other Regulars: Patty, Tess's sister; Spud, Patty's husband; Rocky, Paulette and Ike, Patty's kids; Gary, Tess's brother; Lindy, Gary's wife; Bing, Tess's father; Mary Ruth, Bing's second, younger wife; Bing, Jr., Bing's four-year-old son; and Grandpa Hank Hammersmith.

Cast: Lucie Arnaz (Tess Hammersmith), Michelle Wong (Astrid Hammersmith), Peggy Smithhart (Patty Lincoln), Rick Rossovich (Spud Lincoln), Paul Scherrer (Rocky Lincoln), Kami Harper (Paulette Lincoln), Billy O'Sullivan (Ike Lincoln), Scott Plank (Gary Hammersmith), Stacy Edwards (Lindy Hammersmith), Don Murray (Bing Hammersmith), Lisa Blount (Mary Ruth Hammersmith), Aaron Brownstein (Bing Hammersmith, Jr.), George D. Wallace (Hank Hammersmith).

7617 Sons and Daughters. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 2006). Cameron Walker and his second wife, Liz, are happily married. They are the parents of three children (Henry, Ezra and Marni). Cameron has two sisters, Sharon and Jeanna. Sharon is married to Don; Jeanna is a single mother. Also a part of Cameron's life are his parents, Colleen and her second husband, Wendell. The incidents that creep in and disrupt the lives of Cameron and Liz is the focal point of the scripted and partly improvised comedy series.

Carrie is Sharon and Don's 13-year-old, can't wait to grow up daughter. Jeff is their teenage son. Henry, who attends North Hamilton High School, is into videotaping his family and capturing all their worst moments on tape. Jeanna is the mother of four-year-old Danny and had the child with a slacker named Whitey (although they are not married). Rounding out the cast is Rae, Cameron's great aunt.

Cast: Fred Goss (Cameron Walker), Gillian Vigman (Liz Walker), Alison Quinn (Sharon Fenton), Jerry Lambert (Don Fenton), Jeanna Halbert (Amanda Walsh), Colleen Walker (Dee Wallace), Max Gail (Wendell Walker), Den Sher (Carrie Fenton), Trevor Einhorn (Henry Walker), Lexi Jourden (Marni Walker), Lois Hall (Aunt Rae), Nick Shafer (Danny Halbert), Greg Pitts (Tom "Whitey" White), Randy Wayne (Jeff Fenton).

7618 Sons of Gunz. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/18/87). Gunz and Sons is a New Jersey car dealership owned by Harrison Gunz, the widowed father of four boys: the headstrong Harry, nicknamed "Hog"; the girl-chasing Charlie; Brian, the yuppie type; and 17-year-old Michael, who is artistic. The unsold series was to relate Harrison's efforts to raise his sons and run his business (which he does with the help of Harry, Brian and Charlie). Other Regulars: Belle, the bookkeeper.

Cast: Kenneth McMillan (Harrison Gunz), Dirk Blocker (Harry Gunz), John Walker (Brian Gunz), Robert Firth (Charlie Gunz), Corey Parker (Michael Gunz), Camille Saviola (Belle Meyers). Guest Cast:

Robert Pastorelli (Vinnie Vingo), Lewis Arquette (Mr. Schluter), Beverly Sanders (Mrs. Schluter).

7619 Sons of Hollywood. (Series; Reality; A&E; 2007). A look at the lives of three young men — Randy Spelling (brother of Tori Spelling), Sean Stewart (son of Rod Stewart) and David Weintraub (no affiliation to anyone), just a friend of Randy and Sean. The three are unmotivated and live in a house together in the Hollywood Hills. Cameras follow what they do — talk, sleep, shoot pool, smoke, go clubbing — whatever they feel like doing when the mood strikes. It also keeps in (as opposed to editing for decency) the foul language and vile conversations the trio engage in (something that was blasted by critics — "Hey A&E, have you no shame? Is nothing too disgusting to be seen and heard on your shows?"). Jonathan Taylor and Brent Wilson are the producers.

7620 Sons of Thunder. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1999). Thunder Investigations is a private detective organization based in Dallas, Texas, that caters to people who are unable to turn to the police for help. Trent Malloy, the owner, charges $50 an hour for his services. He is assisted by Carlos Sandoval and Kim Sutter.

Trent, a karate expert, was born in Dallas and served a hitch in the army as a Ranger where he was a hand-to-hand combat instructor. After his father's death, Trent returned to Dallas to begin a new life as a private detective and operator of the Thunder Karate School through which he also runs Thunder Investigations. Carlos, also born in Dallas, is a childhood friend of Trent's.

The two, however, have dramatically different backgrounds. While it is not made perfectly clear, it appears that Trent and Carlos lived on different sides of the track: Trent on the more influential, crime-free side; Carlos on the poorer, troubled side. How they met is not related, but as a teenager Carlos joined a street gang and participated in petty crimes. When he realized what he was doing — possibly with Trent's guidance — he turned his life around and set his goal to help people. He became a police officer but quit after several years when his partner was murdered (how is not stated). He hooked up with Trent when he learned about Thunder Investigations.

Butch McMann is an ex-boxer who now owns the local watering hole, the Uppercuts Bar; he also provides information to Trent and Carlos. Kim is Trent's office manager and bookkeeper. She is an expert at pool and somewhat of a homebody as she is opposed to violence and prefers the sanctuary of the office. The series is a spin-off from Walker, Texas Ranger.

Cast: Jimmy Wicek (Trent Malloy), Mario Sanchez (Carlos Sandoval), Dawn Moxey (Kim Sutter), Alan Autry (Butch McCann).

7621 The Sopranos. (Series; Drama; HBO; 1999–2007). A look at the workings of organized crime as seen through the eyes of Tony Soprano, acting boss for the DiMeo family, a powerful criminal organization in New Jersey.

Tony was born in New Jersey in 1959 and was raised in both Newark and West Orange. He now lives at 633 Stag Trail Road in North Caldwell, New Jersey, with his wife, Carmela. They are the parents of Meadow and Anthony, Jr.

Tony's father, Johnny Boy Soprano, was a ruthless wise guy for the DiMeo family (he died of cancer when Tony was a teenager). His mother, Livia, was emotionally abused by Johnny and was never able to show affection (she dies some 20 years later from a stroke).

Tony's grandfather, Corrado Soprano, and his wife, Mari Angela Di'Agostino, arrived in New York from Arino, Italy, in 1911. Corrado became a stonemason and the father of Corrado Soprano, Jr. (later to become known as Uncle Junior), Giovanni (better known as Johnny Boy, eventually to become Tony's father), and Ercoli (known as Eckley), who was born with a mental disorder and spent his life in an institution.

Junior and Johnny Boy wanted no part of their father's life. Instead they aligned themselves to the DiMeo crime family and set the path for future generations of Sopranos.

It was the 1930s that the Soprano family became active in the crime world (basically in Essex County). Johnny Boy established himself in the gambling end of the business.

Tony's childhood was anything but normal. As early as he can remember, violence was a part of his life. Tony recalled seeing his father nearly beat to death a bookie for being late with a numbers payments and chopping off a dead beat's finger with a meat cleaver. Tony was also abused by his father and constantly beaten when he disobeyed.

Tony's high school life was basically normal and it was at this time that he met his future wife, Carmela DeAngelis, a girl with faint ties to the mob (her cousin was a mobster). With his father and his grandfather in the mob, Tony followed in their footsteps. Although Tony was abused as a child he does not abuse his children. He is, however, very unfaithful to Carmela. The FBI desperately wants Tony—but Tony has the uncanny ability to exonerate himself of criminal charges.

Stories also follow events in the lives of Carmela, Meadow and Anthony, Jr., as well as the other members of the DiMeo crime family.

Carmela is considered the First Lady of the New Jersey Mob. Although she seems to hate it she also seems to enjoys its financial benefits.

Meadow is studying law at Columbia University and volunteers at a legal clinic called the South

Brown Law Center. As a child she believed her father was in the waste disposal business. She is smart and can survive on her own.

Other regulars include Silvio Dante, Big Pussy Bonpensiero, Charmaine Bucco, Dr. Jennifer Melfi, Johnny "Sack" Sacramoni and Rosalie Aprile.

Silvio is the consigliere to Tony. He wanted to be a singer but lacked the talent. He managed topless dancers and operated several clubs in Asbury Park (New Jersey) before opening his own club, Bada Bing.

Sal Bonpensiero, called Big Pussy, was the big brother Tony never had. Although heavy set and gregarious, Sal had a soft heart for children. He acquired the nickname when he earned a living as a cat burglar to distinguish him from another crook with the feline moniker "Little Pussy" Malenga. Sal was, in essence, a killer for the mob. He was later caught smuggling heroine and caught by the FBI, who offered him a choice: become an informant or serve life in prison. Tony and Silvio, however, discovered Sal was an informant and did away with him.

Charmaine Bucco is the wife of wise guy Artie Bucco. Charmaine dislikes the Sopranos for what they did to her husband (turning him into a mobster) and causing her to leave him. She works for the catering company Nuevo Vesuvio and has been a good friend to Carmela since high school.

Dr. Jennifer Melfi is a private practice psychiatrist who treats Tony for his anxiety attacks (although helping a killer feel better about himself caused her to have her own stress attacks).

Johnny "Sack" Sacramoni is the under boss of the New York mob family and Tony's ally. Rosalie Aprile is a mob woman—tough but always stylishly dressed. She grew up around mobsters and was married to Jackie Aprile, the head of the New Jersey Organization (and Tony's boss). Jackie died of cancer; Rosalie became a dowager of the Garden State rackets.

Cast: James Gandolfini (Tony Soprano), Edie Falco (Carmela Soprano), Jamie-Lynn DiScala (Meadow Soprano), Robert Iler (Anthony Soprano, Jr.), Nancy Marchand (Livia Soprano), Aida Turturro (Janice Soprano), Lorraine Bracco (Dr. Jennifer Melfi), Drea de Matteo (Adriana La Cerva), Dominic Chianese (Corrado "Uncle Junior" Soprano), Katherine Narducci (Charmaine Bucco), Vincent Pastore (Salvatore "Big Pussy" Bonpensiero), Tony Sirico (Paulie "Walnuts" Gualtieri), Steve Van Zandt (Silvio Dante), Michael Imperioli (Christopher Moltisanti), Jerry Adler (Herman "Hesh" Rabkin), Dan Grimaldi (Pasquale "Patsy" Parisi), Sharon Angela (Rosalie Aprile), John Ventimiglia (Artie Bucco), Robert Iler (Eugene Pontecorvo), Vince Curatola (Johnny "Sack" Sacramoni).

7622 Sorority '62. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 1/78). Stafford College in northern Indiana in 1962 is the setting for an unsold series about four Gamma Gamma Phi sorority sisters (Vickie Cindy, Sheila and Gloria) and their misadventures in and around the school. Other Regulars: Miss Fletcher, the den mother; Roger, Cindy's friend; and the coach.

Cast: Marcie Hanson (Vickie), Karen Bercovici (Cindy), Marya Small (Sheila), Suzanne Wishner (Gloria), Marj Dusay (Miss Fletcher), Joey Bishop (Coach), John Torp (Roger).

7623 Sorry, Wrong Number. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 1/30/46). A television adaptation of the story by Lucille Fletcher. A psychological suspense thriller in which an invalid woman overhears a murder plot on the telephone then desperately seeks help — unaware that she is the intended victim. John Houseman is the producer.

Cast: Mildred Natwick (The Woman), Leonard Barry, Dulcie Cooper, Ruth Ford, Ruth Gilbert, Dayton Loomis, Gilbert Mack, Maxine Stuart.

7624 Sorry, Wrong Number. (Experimental; Drama; CBS; 1/8/50). A second dramatization by CBS of the Lucille Fletcher suspense story as an experiment to promote its ill-fated color television process, the Color Wheel. A one-character story in which an invalid woman overhears a murder plot on the telephone, then seeks to get help — unaware that she is the intended victim. The program is produced by Fred Rickey.

Cast: Meg Mundy (The Woman).

7625 Soul Food. (Series; Drama; Showtime; 2000–2004). Soul Food, based on the feature film of the same title, presents serial-like stories that follow events in the everyday lives of a close-knit African-American family living in Chicago. Unlike other series devoted to African-Americans (typically those seen on UPN) the cable series is quite different and presents an honest (how it actually is) approach look at how the individual members of the Joseph family cope with the problems that life has dealt them.

Josephine Joseph, called Mama Joe, is the head of the family. Mama's daughter, Maxine and her husband, Kenny, are the parents of Ahmad. Maxine and Kenny have separated and Ahmad feels the pressure of becoming the man of the house (he lives with his mother). Teri, Maxine's sister, is a single lawyer with the firm of Green and Norris (works in the firm's labor department). Teri, however, suffers from panic attacks that could affect her climb up the corporate ladder.

Cast: Rockmond Dunbar (Kenneth Chadway), Vanessa Williams (Maxine Chadway), Aaron Meeks (Ahmad Chadway), Nicole Ari Parker (Teri Joseph), Irma P. Hall (Josephine "Mama Joe" Joseph), Malinda Williams (Tracy "Bird" Van Adams), Darrin Dewitt Henson (Lemuel "Lem" Can Adams), Boris Kadjoe (Damon Carter).

7626 Soul Man. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1997–1998). Mike Weber is a reverend at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. He is a widower and the father of four children (Andy, Fred, Meredith and Bobbi). Stories follow Reverend Weber as he attempts to divide his time between his children, the church and the parishioners and their numerous problems. Second season episodes find Mike receiving help in running the church from Reverend Todd Tucker.

Cast: Dan Aykroyd (Rev. Mike Weber), Brendon Ryan Barrett (Andy Weber), Courtney Chase (Meredith Weber), Sarah Thompson (Bobbi Weber), Spencer Breslin (Fred Weber; 1997), Michael Fingueria (Fred Weber; 1998), Anthony Clarke (Rev. Todd Tucker), Dakin Matthews (Bishop Peter Jerome).

Host: Don Cornelius (1971–1998), Mystro Clark (1998–2000), Shemar Moore (2000–2002), Dorian Gregory (2002–). Dancers Include: Vivica A. Fox, Nick Cannon, Sheila Lewis, Pebbles, Jason Allen, Dori Shear-McGowan, John Hopkins, Pennye Ford, Shann Johnson, Derek Fleming, Jeffrey McCrimson, Jason Allen, Nelcie Payne, Donna Allen, T. Harry Tucker, Robin Powers, Aiko Tanaka, Crystal McCarey, Cheryl Song, Jeffrey Daniels, Monique Ingram, Victoria Genisee.

7628 The Sound of Anger. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 12/10/68). The first pilot film for The Lawyers (1969–72) segment of The Bold Ones about Brad and Neil Darrell, brother attorneys who work for a law firm headed by Walter Nichols. In the pilot episode, the firm is called upon to defend a young man who is accused of murdering his girlfriend's father. See also The Whole World Is Watching.

Cast: Burl Ives (Walter Nichols), Guy Stockwell (Brad Darrell), James Farentino (Neil Darrell). Guest Cast: Dorothy Provine (Marge Carruthers), Lynda Day (Barbara Keeley), Charles Aidman (Gerald Thompson), Jay C. Flippen (Judge Prentiss), Dana Elcar (Andrew Pearce), Collin Wilcox (Ann Kochek), Shannon Farnon (Dorothy Daley).

7629 Sound Off Time. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951–1952). A short-lived series of variety programs that are tailored to the talents of its rotating hosts and their guests. The series ran from October 14, 1951 to January 6, 1952.

Rotating Hosts: Fred Allen, Bob Hope, Jerry Lester. Announcer: Hy Averback. Orchestra: Al Goodman, Les Brown.

7630 The Soup. (Series; Comedy; E!; 2004). If comedy had a weekly news program, The Soup would fill the bill. Each episode is a recap of the week's most noteworthy comical events — from sports, politics, reality shows and even home shopping programs.

Host: Joel McHale.

7631 The Soupy Sales Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; Syn.; 1955–1968). The slapstick-like antics of Soupy Sales, a comedian who seems to attract misadventure wherever he goes in his house (the program's setting). Characters include White Fang (represented by a large white paw), "The biggest and meanest dog in the United States"; Black Tooth (a brown paw), "The kindest dog in the United States"; Pookie (a puppet), the whistling lion; Hippie (puppet), the silent hippopotamus; Herman the flea and Willie the Worm (puppets); Marilyn Monwolf, White Fang's curvaceous friend; Peaches, Soupy's flirtatious friend; and numerous salesmen and irate neighbors who are seen only by their hands and arms as they talk from the side of the house near an open door. Pies in the face (to Soupy), the Words of Wisdom and comical sketches featuring the detective Philo Kvetch are also a part of the program.

The series ran on ABC from July 4, 1955 to August 26, 1955; October 3, 1959 to June 25, 1960; August 27, 1960 to April 1, 1961 (as Lunch with Soupy Sales) and in syndication from 1966–1968.

Cast: Soupy Sales (Host), Clyde Adler (Voices/Puppeteer/Hands at Door), Frank Nastagia (Voices/Puppeteer/Hands at Door), Soupy Sales (Philo Kvetch), Clyde Adler (Onions Oregon).

7632 South Beach. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1993). Kate Patrick is a beautiful and clever thief who has several rules: "Never take more than you can carry, more than what will be missed, or what you don't need. My business works because I keep it small." Kate's life changes one day when her brother, Andy, a small time thief, is killed attempting a big heist of diamonds. A mysterious man named Roberts enters the picture. He works for the government and recruits cons (who will not have to serve time if they will use their skills to help him). Andy was one such employee. Roberts approaches Kate and asks her to complete the mission Andy started — not only to help him but to avenge his death. Kate pulls off the seemingly impossible and exposes Andy's killers. Kate then accepts Roberts offer to work for him as a thief — under his supervision. He sets her up at the Red Sands Hotel on South Beach in Florida. The establishment is run for him by a woman named Roxanne, who dresses like the chameleons she collects (a different disguise for each situation). Stories follow Kate as she uses her unique skills to steal for the government. Other Regulars: Vernon, Kate's assistant.

Cast: Yancy Butler (Kate Patrick), John Glover (Roberts), Patti D'Arbanville (Roxanne), Eagle-Eye Cherry (Vernon).

7633 South Beach. (Series; Drama; UPN; 2006). A heavily promoted but quickly cancelled prime time soap opera that failed to generate a decent audience. South Beach in Miami, Florida, is the setting for a look at brief events in the lives of two friends, Matt and Vince, who relocate from Brooklyn, New York, to escape their troubled pasts and begin new lives. It ran from January 11, 2006 to February 22, 2006.

Cast: Marcus Colman (Matt Evans), Chris J. Johnson (Vincent), Vanessa L. Williams (Elizabeth Bauer), Lee Thompson Young (Alex Bauer), Giancarlo Esposito (Robert Fuentes), Adrianna Palicki (Brianna), Odette Yustman (Arieli Casta).

7634 South Central. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1994). Joan Mosley is a young woman who says, "I've been to hell and back and back again." She lives in a tough Los Angeles neighborhood and is divorced. She is the mother of Andre, Tasha and Deon and is struggling to raise them on her own. She lost her eldest son, Marcus, to street gang violence.

Joan originally earned $500 a week as the secretary to the purchasing manager of the local school district. When she is laid off she acquires a lesser paying job at the Heath Food Co-op. Stories follow the life of a single mother living in a crime-ridden neighborhood.

Other Regulars: Sweets, Joan's friend; and Bobby, the owner of the co-op.

Cast: Tina Lifford (Joan Mosley), Larenz Tate (Andre Mosley), Tasha Scott (Tasha Mosley), Keith Mbulo (Deon Mosley), Paula Kelly (Sweets), Clifton Powell (Bobby Deevers).

7635 South of Nowhere. (Series; Drama; Noggin; 2005). Spencer, Glen and Clay are the teenage children of Paula and Arthur Carlin. They live in suburban Ohio where Paula works as an ER doctor and Arthur is a social worker. When an opportunity arises for Paula to advance her career, she and Arthur uproot the family and move to Los Angeles.

Spencer, Glen and Clay are suddenly transplanted from small town life to the hustle and bustle of a big city and stories, presented in serial-like episodes, chart their experiences as they attempt to fit in and become a part of a new life style.

The Carlin's are a white Irish-Catholic family. Clay, the adopted brother, is African-American. He is the intellectual member of the family (adopted when he was eight years old) and struggling to find his own identity. Glen is the jock, a handsome 17-year-old who is not only popular with the girls but a fantastic football player. Spencer is 16 years old and not just another girl at school, but one of the prettiest. She is confused by everything including her sexual preferences.

Other regulars include Aiden, the star basketball player; Madison, the head cheerleader; Ashley, Aiden's ex-girlfriend, who appears to prefer girls and is more comfortable as a lesbian.

Cast: Gabrielle Christian (Spencer Carlin), Chris Hunter (Glen Carlin), Danso Gordon (Clay Carlin), Maeve Quinlan (Paula Carlin), Rob Moran (Arthur Carlin), Mandy Musgrove (Ashley Davies), Valery Ortiz (Madison Durate), Matthew Cohen (Aiden Dennison), Austen Parros (Sean Miller), Aasha Davis (Chelsea).

7636 South of Sunset. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1993). The Beverly Hills Detective Agency is not exactly in Beverly Hills — “it is a bit South of Sunset; we’re right on the town line” says its owner, Cody McMahon, a former security guard at Paramount Pictures turned private detective. He is assisted by Ziggy Duane, an ex-con gone straight, and Gina Weston, his secretary, who yearns to be an actress. In the pilot episode, Cody attempts to find the person responsible for a series of death threats against a rising tennis star (Stacy Redding). Although “South of Sunset” was scheduled as a fall 1993 series, CBS showed only the pilot episode (October 27, 1993) and shelved the remaining episodes due to poor ratings (the episodes aired on MTV the following year).

Cast: Glenn Fry (Cody McMahon), Aries Spears (Ziggy Duane), Maria Pitillo (Gina Weston). Theme Vocal: “Call on Me” by Glenn Fry.

7637 South Park. (Series; Cartoon; Comedy Central; 1997). Eric, Kenny, Kyle and Stan are third graders who live in the small town of South Park, Colorado. These kids, however, are anything but the normal type of child you would see on Leave It to Beaver; they are foul-mouthed, nasty and every parent's nightmare. South Park is also your not-so-typical town: weird things happen — and they appear to happen to anyone who is in the company of Eric and his cohorts in mayhem.

Eric Cartman, called by his last name, is rude, obnoxious and sadistic. He is also a racist and perhaps being “the fat kid” makes him so nasty. Kyle Broflovski is a very religious Jewish boy who finds constant harassment from Cartman for being Jewish. Kenny is cursed with bad luck and it causes nothing but misery for him (and others who are near him). Stan, the quiet one of the group, does what the others do because he can rarely stand up to confrontation (he becomes violently ill when he has to face something). He has a huge crush on Wendy Testaburger, a girl he hasn't the nerve to even approach.

Stories follow the adult-oriented antics of the four friends as the go about being what they are — nasty young people who will grow up to be nasty adults. The series is based on the short film, The Spirit of Christmas by Trey Parker and Matt Stone.

Voice Cast: Trey Parker (Stan Marsh), Trey Parker (Eric Cartman), Trey Parker (Randy Marsh), Matt

Stone (Kyle Broflovski), Matt Stone (Kenny McCormick), Matt Stone (Gerald Broflovski), Matt Stone (Stuart McCormick), Eliza Schneider (Wendy Testaburger), Grace Lazar (Wendy Testaburger), Mary Kay Bergman (Wendy Testaburger), Eliza Schneider (Liane Cartman), April Stewart (Laine Cartman), Eliza Schneider (Sharon Marsh), April Stewart (Sharon Marsh), Mary Kay Bergman (Sheila Broflovski), Mona Marshall (Sheila Broflovski), Mary Kay Bergman (Principal Victoria), Eliza Schneider (Principal Victoria), Isaac Hayes (Chef).

7638 Southern Fried. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/3/70). A proposed series about Lonnie Allen, a not-too-bright stock car racer whose big heart is also his biggest shortcoming when other people try to take advantage of him. Trying to remedy the situation is his girlfriend, Wilma, but to no avail. In the pilot episode, Lonnie is duped into running moonshine in a small Southern town.

Cast: John Neilson (Lonnie Allen), Dorra Cook (Wilma). Guest Cast: Ramon Bieri (Lamaar), Jerry Lanning (Alvin).

7639 Space: Above and Beyond. (Series; Science Fiction; Fox; 1995–1996). The year is 2063 and a group of U.S. Marines (attached to the 58th Squadron of the Marine Corps Space Aviator Cavalry) have been assigned to the space carrier U.S.S. Saratoga. It is a time when the Earth has begun its colonization of other planets. Everything appears to be progressing smoothly when the unforeseen happens: a mysterious alien species (the Chigs) begin an unprovoked attack on the Earth explorers.

The Marines of the Saratoga, “The Wildcards,” although technically unprepared for war are sent to battle the aliens. Stories focus on the rookie Marines as they battle the Chigs and quickly learn through combat experience, how to become full-fledged Marines.

7640 Space Academy. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 1977–1979). The Nova Blue Team is a group of young cadets assigned for training on the man-made planetoid Space Academy in the year 3732. Their experiences as they patrol, protect and explore the universe are dramatized.

Commander Gampu heads the team. He is assisted by Lieutenant Paul Jerome and the cadets are Laura Gentry, Tee Gar, Adrian and Chris Gentry. Loki, the alien ally also assists, as does their robot Peepo.

Cast: Jonathan Harris (Commander Gampu), Pamelyn Ferdin (Laura Gentry), Ric Carrott (Chris Gentry), Maggie Cooper (Cadet Adrian), Ty Henderson (Paul Jerome), Brian Tochi (Tee Gar), Eric Greene (Loki).

7641 Space Angel. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1962). Scott McCloud is an agent for the Earth Bureau of Investigation, a futuristic organization dedicated to protecting the universe. Scott, code name Space Angel, captains the ship Star Duster. Taurus is the pilot; Crystal, the mechanic. Professor Mace, Crystal's father, heads Evening Star, the unit's base. Stories relate the adventures of Scott and his crew as they battle the sinister forces of evil.

Voice Cast: Ned Lefebvre (Scott McCloud), Margaret Kelly (Crystal Mace), Hal Smith (Taurus/Prof. Mace).

7642 Space Cases. (Series; Science Fiction; USA; 1996). The Christa is a futuristic spaceship that has become lost in space. It has a crew of seven and stories relate their adventures as they seek a way home while exploring the universe.

The Crew: Harlan, an earthling, is a high school athletic director; Bova is from Uranus and can generate electricity; Catalina, from Saturn, can create a sonic scream; Rosie is from Mercury and can radiate heat; Radu, from Andromeda, is super strong. T.J. Davenport is a school principal; and Seth Goddard is their teacher-commander. Rounding out the group is Thelma, an android who is the crew of the Christa, and Suzie, Catalina's imaginary friend, who comes to life aboard the ship.

Cast: Walter Jones (Harlan), Paige Christina (Rosie), Jewel Staite (Catalina), Kristian Ayre (Radu), Rahi Aizi (Bova), Anik Matern (Thelma), Paul Boretzki (Seth Goddard), Cary Lawrence (T.J. Davenport), Rebecca Herbit (Suzie).

7643 Space Force. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/28/78). The comical adventures of a crew of astronauts assigned to a remote military space station.

Cast: William Edward Phipps (Commander Irving Hinkley), Fred Willard (Captain Thomas Woods), Larry Block (Private Arnold Fleck), Jimmy Boyd (Captain Leon Stoner), Hilly Hicks (Captain Robert Milford), Maureen Mooney (Sergeant Eve Bailey), Joe Medalis (Lieutenant Kabar), Richard Paul (DORK).

7644 Space Ghost. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1966–1968). The overall title for two animated programs. The first, Space Ghost, relates the exploits of Space Ghost, an interplanetary crime fighter who is based on the Ghost Planet and who, through the use of Invisi-Ray button, can become transparent. Teenage twins Jan and Jayce and the monkey Blimp, assist him. They travel through space in their ship The Phantom Cruiser.

The second segment, Dino Boy, tells of Tad, a young boy who teams with Ugh, a caveman, to battle the sinister forces of evil.

7645 Space Ghost Coast to Coast. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 1994). Tad Ghoshtal, better known as the heroic crime fighter Space Ghost (from the 1960s series Space Ghost) has retired from the super hero business to become the host of a late night talk show called Space Ghost Coast to Coast. The program is broadcast from outer space and a retired, former villain, Zorak, is Tad's co-host. Stories are basically an animated talk show with Tad and Zorak interviewing celebrities on Earth through a video phone. Aired on the Cartoon Network's Adult Swim segment.

Voice Cast: George Lowe (Tad Ghoshtal/Space Ghost), C. Martin Croker (Zorak), C. Martin Croker (Moltar), Andy Merrill (Lokar), Scott Finnell (Birdman).

7646 Space Giants. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1969). Tokyo, Japan, is the setting. Seeking to control the planet Earth, Rodak, an evil alien scientist, appears to Tomoko Mura, a newspaper reporter, and relates the details of his plans. The published story brings Matuslah, an old alien scientist to Earth. Seeking and finding Tomoko, Matuslah tells him about the evils of Rodak and of his own battle to destroy him. To assist the Earth in its soon-to-ensue war against Rodak, Matuslah constructs Goldar, a fifty-foot golden robot; Silva, his fifty-foot silver robot wife; and Gam, their gold robot son. Stories relate Earth's battle against Rodak, who, by establishing a base in an orbiting spaceship with an advanced laboratory, manufactures and sends to Earth giant, prehistoric-like monsters to carry out his plan of domination. The series is produced in Japan and dubbed into English.

Cast: Mayako Yashiro (Tomoko Mura), Toshio Egi (Mikko Mura), Masumi Okada (Ito Mura), Hideki Ninomiya (Gam), Edith Hanson (Liz). Voices: Peter Fernandez, Earl Hammond, Paulette Rubinstein.

7647 Space Goofs. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1997). Bud, Candy, Etno, Gorgeous and Stereo are five morphing aliens who find themselves stranded on Earth when their space craft develops engine trouble and they are forced to land. As luck would have it, they have landed near an abandoned Victorian-style house and take shelter in its attic. The aliens have ordered a replacement part, but the delivery time is unknown. The aliens fear humans (believing they will be the subjects of experimentation if they are captured and make it their business to remain a secret). As they wait, they begin to absorb Earth culture (by watching TV) and in public (through their morphing machines which alters their images and makes them appear human). Stories follow their adventures as they attempt to adjust to Earth.

Etno is the leader and the brains of the group; Stereo has two heads and often argues with himself; Gorgeous, a loudmouth, loves to eat and express her opinions; Candy is the neat one of the group and loves being a “housewife”; Bud, the laziest one, feels he was born to watch TV.

Voice Cast: Maurice La Marche (Etno Polino), Charles Adler (Candy Caramella), Jeff Bennett (Bud Buddiovitch), Danny Mann (Gorgeous Klaatu), Michael Sicely (Stereo).

7648 Space Kiddettes. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1966–1967). The battle against celestial evil as seen through the adventures of the Space Kiddettes, a group of space-age youngsters.

Voice Cast: Chris Allen (Scooter), Lucille Bliss (Snoopy), Don Messick (Countdown), Janet Waldo (Jenny), Daws Butler (Captain Skyhook), Don Messick (Pupstar).

7649 Space: 1999. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1975–1977). In the year 1999, world governments unite to establish an early warning system on the moon to repel alien invaders. The dark side of the moon has been designated as a nuclear waste disposal area; the visible side becomes the headquarters for Moonbase Alpha and home to the 311 men and women assigned to operate it.

On September 9, 1999, the Space Commission appoints John Koenig to the position of Moonbase commander; his first assignment: to launch a probe to the planet Mecca to determine whether it can sustain human life. However, before he is able to do so, a leak is detected in waste disposal area two (atomic waste has become the Earth’s biggest problem; storing that waste on the moon has solved it). The atomic radiation creates a series of magnetic chain reactions that cause the many storage containers to explode. Soon “the biggest bomb that man has ever made” explodes and causes the moon to dislodge itself from the Earth’s orbit (the waste dumps act like a giant rocket motor and enable the moon to orbit on its own).

Before Moonbase Alpha loses all contact with Earth, they hear from one final newscast that much death and destruction has occurred due to the sudden increase in gravity (basically from earthquakes) and that the International Lunar Commission holds little hope for the rescue of Moonbase Alpha because it has drifted to an area that is beyond the reach of current technology.

On September 13, 1999, the Moon begins its journey across the galaxy, seeking a new planet to which to affix itself. And, considered invaders by the inhabitants of other planets, the Earthlings struggle to combat the life forms of unknown worlds and the elements of outer space, and to sustain life on their new world.

Dr. Helena Russell is the chief medical officer; Professor Victor Bergman is the leading science officer; Tony Verdeschi is the head of security; and Sandra Benes is the chief communications officer.

In her opening narration for the first episode of the second season (“Metamorph”), Helena mentions that the moon has been drifting for 342 days and the population is now 297. She also explains that titanium is the one metal they need to sustain their life support systems. Finding it has become a vital concern. As the moon drifts, Moonbase Alpha receives a transmission from Mentor (Anouska Hempil), the ruler of the planet Psychon, who offers them all the titanium they require. The invitation becomes a nightmare when John and his crew discover that Mentor requires their minds to sustain his biological computer. They are saved by Maya, Mentor’s beautiful daughter, when she discovers that her father’s diabolical computer has been used to destroy life to sustain itself. Maya, who is opposed to killing, releases John, Helena and Tony. As John destroys the computer and the planet begins to explode, Mentor begs John to save Maya’s life. John, his crew and Maya escape seconds before Psychon novas.

On Moonbase Alpha, John and Helena assure Maya that she has a home here: “We are all aliens until we get to know one another.”

Maya has advanced scientific knowledge and the power of molecular transformation (the ability to transform herself into any living creature; on Psychon, she preferred to be a lion). Maya calls herself a Metamorph. Theme: “Space: 1999,” by Barry Gray.

Cast: Martin Landau (John Koenig), Barbara Bain (Helena Russell), Catherine Schell (Maya), Barry Morse (Victor Bergman), Tony Anholt (Tony Verdeschi), Zienia Merton (Sandra Benes), Yasuko Negazumi (Communications Officer Yasko), Anton Phillips (Dr. Bob Mathias), Jeffrey Kisson (Dr. Ben Vincent), John Hug (Bill Fraser; Moonbase officer), Michael Culver (Peter Irving; same as Bill), Sam Destor (Dr. Ed Spencer), Prentiss Hancock (David Kano), Hazel McBride (Nurse), Roy Dotrice (Commissioner Simmonds). Narrator: Barbara Bain.

7650 Space Patrol. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1950–1955). The Space Patrol is a 30th century organization that is responsible for the safety of the United Planets (Earth, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury and Venus).

The United Planets measure seven and one third billion miles in diameter. The Space Patrol is based on the manmade city of Terra and is not only responsible for protecting the United Planets from alien invaders, but keeping the space lanes safe for travel. Major “Robbie” Robertson is the Security Chief for the United Planets; Buzz Corry is the commander of the Space Patrol and its chief operative (tackling dangerous missions in the cause of universal freedom). He is assisted by Cadet Happy, Tonga and Carol Carlisle.

Buzz succeeded his brother, Kit Corry as the chief of the Space Patrol shortly after the series began. Buzz is fascinated by Carnacan history (a lost civilization of the planet Mars) and is quick to take action in any situation to save his shipmates. His first ship was the Battle Cruiser 100; this was replaced by the Terra IV and finally the Terra V.

Cadet Happy, the winner of the Corry Scholarship (set up by Buzz's family) is a recent graduate of the Space Patrol Academy and served as Buzz's co-pilot. He is easygoing, a bit inexperienced and always ready for a fight. His hobby is photography and "holy smokin' rockets" is his favorite saying (which he utters when something goes wrong).

Tonga, a criminal before being reformed, is now a Space Patrol ally (she previously robbed passengers on sightseeing ships). She works as the assistant to the Security Chief (Major Robertson) and often joins Buzz and his associates on assignments (in some episodes Tonga is said to be the secretary to the Secretary of the United Planets).

Carol is the daughter of the Security General of the United Planets. She is a brilliant scientist and inventor of the Agra-Ray, a device that brings plants to full maturity in a matter of hours; however, if used in reverse, the ray can turn cities into stone.

Carol and Tonga, while supposed to be "the weaker sex," were in no way depicted as such. While their uniforms were designed to show their legs for a bit of "cheesecake," they were capable of defending themselves (but were most often depicted as "girls in distress" who needed rescuing by Buzz).

Major Robertson was quick to act but often questioned his decisions and worried about the consequences of his actions. He also invented the formula for the Zeta Ray, a machine that cures any illness and halts the spread of infection.

Prince Baccarratti, also known as the Black Falcon, is an evil alien, based in his castle on Planet X, who sought to rule the United Planets by destroying the Space Patrol. Mr. Proteus, the man of many faces, was also a threat to Buzz and his crew. Agent X and Major Sova were also enemies of the United Planets.

Space Patrol premiered locally in Los Angeles on KECA-TV on March 13, 1950, as a 15-minute daily serial. This was followed by a 30-minute Saturday morning network series that ran from December 30, 1950 to February 26, 1955. Both were distributed to affiliated stations by kinescope. KECA dropped the daily shows from national distribution when the cost of film and shipping became excessive. The daily shows now aired only in Los Angeles while the Saturday morning shows were still being seen elsewhere (about a week later) by kinescope (making a copy of a live TV show by photographing it off a monitor). By late 1952, when the coaxial cable permitted coast-to-coast transmission, the live Saturday shows were no longer kinescoped; the daily series was dropped.

Jack Narz is the announcer; the program opens with these words: "High adventure in the wild, vast regions of space. Missions of daring in the name of interplanetary justice. Travel into the future with Buzz Corry, commander-in-chief of the Space Patrol."

Cast: Ed Kemmer (Buzz Corry), Lyn Osborn (Cadet Happy), Nina Bara (Tonga), Virginia Hewitt (Carol Carlisle), Bela Kovacs (Prince Baccarratti), Marvin Miller (Mr. Proteus), Norman Jolley (Agent X), Jack McHugh (Major Sova), Ken Mayer (Major "Robbie" Robertson), Glenn Denning (Kit Corry), Paul Cavanaugh (Security General).

7651 Space Precinct. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1994–1995). Demeter City is a futuristic metropolis on the planet Altor that has been colonized by the Earth. While there are good earthlings living among aliens there are also an array of crimes committed by both alien and human. To battle the criminal element, Patrick Brogan, a detective with the N.Y.P.D. is transferred to Demeter City and teamed with fellow officer Jack Haldane. Stories follow Patrick (now a lieutenant) and Jack as they struggle to adjust to life on a new planet and battle the criminal elements that exist.

7652 Space Rangers. (Series; Science Fiction; CBS; 1993). "Into the jaws of hell for Justice" is the motto of the Federal Space Rangers, a five unit team stationed at Fort Hope on the planet Avalon in the year 2104. Stories relate their exploits as they travel to far-flung planets (via their sling ship Ranger 377, nicknamed "Lizzie") to battle the evil that threatens the safety of the universe.

The Rangers: Captain John Boon, an earthling who commands the force; Doc, the ship's repairman (he himself has seven synthetic body parts; Boon calls him "Tin Man"); Jo Jo Thorson, the ship's pilot, is tall and beautiful and from a planet where men are wimps; Zylyn, the super-strong alien from the planet Grakka; and Kincaid, a hot-shot cadet.

Other Regulars: Commander Chenault, their supervisor at Central Command; Colonel Erich Weiss, Chenault's assistant; and Mimmer, the base science wizard.

Cast: Jeff Kaake (John Boon), Jack McGee (Doc), Marjorie Monaghan (Jo Jo Thorson), Cary-Hirokyu Tagawa (Zylyn), Linda Hunt (Commander Chenault), Danny Quinn (Kincaid), Gottfried John (Erich Weiss), Clint Howard (Mimmer).

7653 Space Stars. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1981–1982). The overall title for four animated series.

1. Space Ghost. Space Ghost, his aide Blip (a monkey) and space twins Jan and Jace battle evil throughout the universe.

2. Teen Force. Futuristic adventures with Kid Comet and the Teen Force (Elektra, Moleculad, Plutem, Glax and Uglor) as they battle evil in outer space.

3. The Herculoids. Zandor and the Herculoids (Tara, Dorno, Zok, Gloop, Gleep, Igoo and Thundro) risk their lives to defend their planet (Quasar) from alien invaders.

4. Astro and the Space Mutts. A humorous adventure about Space Ace, a futuristic detective, and his aides, the Space Mutts (Astro, Cosmo and Dipper).

7654 Space Strikers. (Series; Cartoon; UPN; 1995). In a futuristic time, Captain Nemo (a descendant of the original 19th century Captain Nemo, the man who built a submarine called the Nautilus) has advanced the famous submarine with weapons and the ability to fly. It has become the flagship of the Terrestrial Commando Alliance, an organization that protects member planets.

Nemo's crew includes a girl (Dana), a robot (Aronnax), a fellow human (Ned Land), an intelligent alien dolphin (Yonnak), a floating alien boy (Victory the Solarian) and a blue werewolf (Dacar). Their enemy is Master Phantom, a deranged, former friend of Nemo's, who is now bent on conquering the universe. (While exploring an asteroid, Nemo and Phantom were separated. Phantom was severely injured in a meteor shower that prevented Nemo from rescuing him. Phantom was found by the evil Metallic, who is part human and part robot, and nursed back to health. But the hatred Phantom feels for Nemo [mistakenly believing Nemo left him to die] has set him on a path of destruction.) Stories follow Nemo and his crew as they attempt to stop Master Phantom and return the universe to normal.

Voice Cast: David Coburn (Captain Nemo), Brian Cummings (Master Phantom), Janyse Jaud (Dana), Blu Mankuma (Yonnak), Michael Donovan

7655 Spacecats. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1991). A battle of good versus evil as seen through the adventures of the Spacecats, highly evolved felines from a distant world who are dispatched to Earth to battle super villains who are plaguing the planet. The Disembodied Omnipotent is the Ruler of the Cats. Thomas "Tom" Spacecat, Chelsie Pipshire, Sniff, Yvette Meow, and Scratch are the Earth-bound cats led by Captain Catgut.

Voice Cast: Charles Nelson Reilly (Disembodied Omnipotent Ruler of Cats), Rob Paulsen (Tom Spacecat), Rob Paulsen (Chelsie Pipshire), Hamilton Camp (Sniff), Kath Soucie (Yvette Meow), Townsend Coleman (Scratch), Paul Fusco (Captain Catgut).

7656 Spanish Gulch. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1991). New Mexico in 1865 is the setting for an unsold series about the not-so-heroic exploits of Zach Hollister, an ex–Confederate sharpshooter who returns to his home town to become a somewhat unofficial source of law and order.

Cast: Brian Bloom (Zach Hollister), David Caradine (Artemis McBride), Jamie Rose (Kathryn Battle), Jorge Cervera, Jr. (Charlie Madera).

7657 Sparks. (Series; Comedy; UPN; 1996). A simplistic comedy about an African-American family who own a law firm called Sparks, Sparks and Sparks. Alonzo Sparks is the head of the firm, which he runs with his two quarrelsome sons, Greg and Maxey. Stories follow the hectic goings-on at a law office where, despite the silly shenanigans, the defense of their clients is uppermost on the agenda. Also working at the firm are Wilma, La Marr and Darice.

Cast: James Avery (Alonzo Sparks), Terrence Howard (Greg Sparks), Miguel A. Nunez, Jr. (Maxey Sparks), Kym Whitley (Darice Mayberry), Arif S. Kinchen (La Marr Hicks).

7658 Sparring Partners. (Series; Game; CBS; 1949). Two three-member teams, the men vs. the women, compete in a series of question-and-answer rounds. The team with the highest score is the winner and receives merchandise prizes. The short-lived series ran from April 8, 1949 to May 6, 1949.

Host: Walter Kiernan.

7659 Sparrow. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 1/12/78). The first of two pilots about Jerry Sparrow, an insurance company mailroom clerk turned detective. In the first story (see next title also), Sparrow attempts to solve a series of seemingly senseless and unrelated murders. Other Regulars: Mr. Medwick, Jerry's boss; Tammy, Medwick's secretary; and Harriet, Jerry's girlfriend.

Cast: Randy Herman (Jerry Sparrow), Don Gordon (Mr. Medwick), Beverly Sanders (Tammy), Karen Sedgley (Harriet). Guest Cast: Dori Brenner (Karen), Jeff Holland (Bruce), Jack Wallace (Bennett), Lenny Baker (Marty).

7660 Sparrow. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 8/11/78). A second attempt for a series about Jerry Sparrow, here a private investigator with a large detective agency in New Orleans. In the second story (see prior title) Jerry attempts to recover the valuable missing bird of a wealthy woman (Mrs. Benet). Other Regulars: Mr. Medwick, Jerry's employer; and Valerie, Jerry's girlfriend.

Cast: Randy Herman (Jerry Sparrow), Gerald S. O'Loughlin (Mr. Medwick), Catherine Hicks (Valerie). Guest Cast: Lillian Gish (Mrs. Benet), Jonelle Allen (Dory), Dolph Sweet (Landon), Kurt Knudson (Rhino). Theme: "Sparrow" by Paul Williams.

7661 Spawn. (Series; Cartoon; HBO; 1997). Al Simmons is an African-American C.I.A. agent (an assassin). He is married to Wanda and totally devoted to her. Al's life comes to a quick end when he is killed during an assignment. Al, however, feels it is not his time and sells his soul to the Devil (here called Malabolgia) in exchange for a second chance at life. The deal goes wrong. Al (now called Spawn) is sent five years into the future with no memories of his past but with super powers that make him unrecognizable as his former self. Stories follow Spawn as he battles evil on Earth as well as using his powers to serve the Devil. It also follows Spawn as he struggles to unlock the mysteries of his former life.

Voice Cast: Keith David (Spawn), Dominique Jennings (Wanda), Denise Poirier (Bounty Hunter), Ronny Cox (Billy Kincaid), Ming Na (Jade), Robert Forster (Major Forsberg), Charles Adler, Kath Soucie.

7662 Speak Up America. (Series; Human Interest; NBC; 1980). People speak directly into the camera and relate their thoughts concerning the issues that affect them in their daily lives.

Moderator: Marjoe Gortner, Jayne Kennedy, Rhonda Bates, Herb Brooks, Felicia Jeter, Magic Johnson. Theme Performers: Jim Kirk and the TM Singer.

7663 Special Agent 7. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1958). Philip Conroy is an agent for the United States Treasury Department. He is not one for violence and he likes to take his time and examine the facts of a case. Stories relate his investigations into crimes perpetrated against the Department of Internal Revenue. Based on official files.

Cast: Lloyd Nolan (Philip Conroy).

7664 Special Edition. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1977). Barbara Eden hosts a program that presents filmed versions of magazine stories.

7665 Special Unit 2. (Series; Crime Drama; UPN; 2001). "Ever catch something out of the corner of your eye; ever feel there is something out there in the dark, something evil? Everybody does, but they turn away." The members of Special Unit 2 do not. They pursue and attempt to destroy that unknown evil.

Captain Richard Paige is a man who believes there is something lurking in the dark — from trolls to werewolves. Paige heads Special Unit 2, a secret undercover unit of the Chicago Police Department that handles bizarre crimes committed by Links (everything that is not man or beast. "These things love Chicago," says Paige; "I wish they didn't"). The unit works in secret because of the fear that would be created if monsters were known to exist. It has no precinct or public phone number. All that is known about it is that it investigates special crimes.

Paige heads Special Unit 2 from an old abandoned subway line that contains the latest scientific equipment. The original subway entrance has been disguised by a block of stores. The Golden Eagle Dry Cleaners fronts as the secret entrance to Special Unit 2. Seven floors below the basement is the sub-dungeon where captured Links are kept in cells.

Kate Alice Benson and Nicholas O'Malley are Paige's top operatives. Kate was a former police officer who was recruited because of her belief that the unknown exists (as a child she witnessed a troll; as an officer, she saw a sea serpent destroy a barge. She reported the incident but no one believed her — until she met Paige).

O'Malley was a police officer when his female partner (Julie) was killed by a vicious Link ("It ripped her into 600 inch size pieces"; O'Malley now helps her children with money each month). O'Malley treats all Links the same — "Kill 'em" (he is also an expert on coming up with ways to destroy them — none of which are feasible, as each Link is different). Nick becomes uptight if a Link gets the best of him. He seeks revenge, "but only to protect the public," he says. Nick is rude and obnoxious and often plunges headlong into situations without thinking first.

Assisting Kate and Nick is Carl, a Link (gnome) the unit can trust (Paige calls him "a snitch we can trust, not an employee"). Carl has a bad habit of robbing convenience stores; he helps the unit so the police department will drop his numerous felony charges. Nick is not fond of Carl and often takes his frustration out on him. Carl, a gourmet cook and neat freak, stands four feet one inch tall and has only one thing in common with Nick — they are both Chicago Cubs baseball fans. "The Captain gets extremely aggravated at Carl," says Nick; "that's the effect Carl has on people." Carl also believes "Nick is a psycho" for his Rambo-like pursuit of Links.

Alice Kramer also assists Nick and Kate in the field. She is a blonde bombshell who was working in the unit's damage control, then left to pursue an acting job in Los Angeles. She returned to the unit when that failed. She enjoys smoking cigars and appears to be fond of Nick. She also provides distraction — to draw the attention of the press to her so Nick and Kate can do their job. Mark Snow composed the theme.

Cast: Alexandra Lee (Kate Benson), Michael Landers (Nick O'Malley), Richard Gant (Capt. Richard Page), Danny Woodburn (Carl), Pauley Perrette (Alice Kramer).

7666 Speed Buggy. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; ABC; 1973–1978). Debbie, Tinker and Mark are teenagers with a unique car they call Speed Buggy. The car has a Saint Bernard–like personality and believes, at times, it is as human as its friends. With a goal to help people in trouble, the four begin a cross country motor tour and stories relate their somewhat bumbling efforts to assist where they can. CBS run: September 8, 1973 to August 31, 1974; January 28, 1978 to September 2, 1978; ABC run: September 6, 1975 to September 4, 1976.

Voice Cast: Mel Blanc (Speed Buggy), Arlene Golonka (Debbie), Michael Bell (Mark), Phil Luther (Tinker).

7667 Speed Racer. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1967). The Special Formula Mark Five is the car of Speed Racer, a daring young racing car driver. Stories relate his various races and efforts to battle the unscrupulous characters he encounters. Trixie is Speed's girlfriend; Spridal is Speed's brother; Racer X is Speed's older brother; Pops Racer is Speed's father; Chim Chim is Spridal's pet monkey. The series, which aired 52 episodes, is produced in Japan.

Voice Cast: Peter Fernandez (Speed Racer/Racer X), Jack Grimes (Sparky/Chim Chim), Corinne Orr (Trixie/Spridal/Mom Racer), Jack Curtis (Racer X/Pops Racer), Jack Curtis (Pops Racer).

7668 Spencer. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1984–1985). Spencer Winger is a slightly offbeat, girl-crazy 16-year-old boy who excels in finding trouble. He lives with his mother, Doris, father, George, and sister, Andrea, at 1901 Sunshine Place (city not identified). After six episodes, the format was revised and became Under One Roof. George Winger runs off with his 23-year-old bookkeeper and leaves Doris, Spencer and Andrea to fend for themselves. The house at 1901 Sunshine Place becomes somewhat crowded when Doris's parents, Ben and Millie Sprague, move in to help raise the children. While both formats followed Spencer's antics at school and home, the revised six episodes also focused on the problems of three generations living under one roof.

Spencer and Andrea attend McKinley High School (where Benjamin Beanley is the guidance counselor); Spencer's friend, Herbie Bailey, works at a fast food restaurant called Polly's Hot Dogs; Wayne is another friend of Spencer's; Miss Spear is a featured teacher.

Cast: Chad Lowe (Spencer Winger), Ross Harris (Spencer Winger; later), Mimi Kennedy (Doris Winger), Ronny Cox (George Winger), Amy Locane (Andrea Winger), Harold Gould (Ben Sprague), Frances Sternhagen (Millie Sprague), Richard Sanders (Benjamin Beanley), Beverly Archer (Miss Spear), Grant Heslov (Wayne), David Greenlee (Herbie; pilot), Dean Cameron (Herbie; series).

7669 Spenser: For Hire. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985–1988). Spenser is a suave Boston-based private detective with a sense of chivalry and decency to all people. He lives at 357 Masave Street and drives a classic green Mustang. Spenser (no first name) first lived in an apartment that was later destroyed by fire, then in an abandoned firehouse that was later re-commissioned.

Although Spenser helps people solve their problems and brings criminals to justice, he enjoys violence and considers himself a thug for hire. He is sensitive, romantic and a gourmet cook who enjoys a cold beer with each meal. He is an ex-boxer and keeps in shape by lifting weights. He quotes poetry and lines from books but has trouble accepting authority — a situation that causes him to leave his job at the D.A.'s office in Suffolk County and turn his talents to becoming a private detective.

Spenser was born in Laramie, Wyoming. His mother died in childbirth and he was raised by his father and his mother's two brothers. He rejected the family business (carpentry) and served a hitch in the army in Korea. He was first a boxer then a Massachusetts State Trooper before becoming an investigator for the D.A.

Susan Silverman, a teacher at Smithfield High School, is Spenser's romantic interest (she was replaced in 1986 by Rita Fiori). Hawk is Spenser's closest friend and associate, a former enforcer (leg breaker) for the mob.

Martin Quirk is the police lieutenant Spenser helps and vice versa; he was forced to leave the Boston P.D. when he suffered a heart attack. Sammy Backlin is a sleazy con artist turned private eye who wrote the book .357 Justice. Spenser is based on the books by Robert B. Parker. The Lifetime Network revised the series concept in four TV movies with Robert Urich and Avery Brooks reprising their original roles. The movies are Spenser: Ceremony (1993), Spenser: Pale Kings and Princes (1993), Spenser: The Judas Goat (1994), and Spenser: A Savage Place (1995). Barbara Williams played Susan Silverman in the first two films; Wendy Crewson was Susan in the final two.

On July 18, 1999, the A&E Network revised the concept with Joe Mantegna as Spenser; Shiek Mahmud-Bey as Hawk; and Marcia Gay Harden as Susan.

The films (to December 31, 2002) are: Spenser: Small Vices (1999), Spenser: Thin Air (2000), and Spenser: Walking Shadow (2001). Ernie Hudson replaced Shiek Mahmud-Bey as Hawk in the second and third features. See also A Man Called Hawk.

Cast: Robert Ulrich (Spenser), Barbara Stock (Susan Silverman), Avery Brooks (Hawk), Richard Jaeckel (Lt. Martin Quirk), Sal Viscuso (Sammy Backlin), Ron McLarty (Sgt. Frank Belson), Carolyn McCormick (Rita Fiori), Shirley Knight (Shirley Quirk; Martin's wife). Narrator: Robert Ulrich.

7670 Spencer's Pilots. (Series; Adventure; CBS; 1976). Cass Garrett and Stan Lewis are charter pilots for Spencer Aviation, a California-based organization that undertakes hazardous assignments. Stories relate their experiences as they risk their lives to help people in dangerous situations. Spencer Parish is their employer; Linda Dann is Spencer's secretary; Mickey "Wig" Wiggins is the mechanic.

Cast: Christopher Stone (Cass Garrett), Todd Sushman (Stan Lewis), Gene Evans (Spencer Parish), Margie Impert (Linda Dann), Britt Leach (Mickey "Wig" Wiggins).

7671 Spider-Man. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1969–1972). While visiting a lab and completing his notes following a demonstration on radioactivity, New York High School student Peter Parker is bitten by a spider that had been exposed to the deadly effects of the demonstration. Later, when he returns home, he realizes that the spider's venom has become part of his bloodstream and that he has absorbed the proportionate power and ability of a living spider. Developing a special costume to conceal his true identity, and acquiring a position as a reporter for the New York Bugle (to learn of trouble immediately), Peter institutes a battle against crime, dispensing justice and the mysterious Spider-Man. Betty Brandt is a fellow reporter; J. Jonah Jameson is the editor.

Voice Cast: Bernard Cowan (Peter Parker/Spider-Man), Peter Soles (Peter Parker/Spider-Man), Peg Dixon (Betty Brandt), Paul Kligman (J. Jonah Jameson). Theme Song: "Your Friendly Neighborhood Spider-Man" by Bob Harris, Paul Francis.

7672 Spider-Man. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 9/14/77). The pilot film for The Amazing Spider-Man (CBS, 1978–79). Following a demonstration on radioactivity, Peter Parker, a graduate student at Empire State University, is bitten by a spider that had been exposed to the deadly effects of the demonstration. Shortly thereafter, Peter realizes that the spider's venom has become a part of his bloodstream and that he has absorbed the proportionate power and ability of a living spider. Seeking to use his new powers to battle evil, Peter develops a special costume to conceal his true identity, and to learn of crimes he acquires a position as a photographer for the New York Daily Bugle. In the pilot episode, Peter, who uses his abilities to battle crime, attempts to stop an extortionist who is threatening to kill ten people with a mind-control machine.

Other Regulars: J. Jonah Jameson, the city editor; May Parker, Peter's aunt; and Police Captain Barbera.

Cast: Nicholas Hammond (Peter Parker/Spider-Man), David White (J. Jonah Jameson), Jeff Donnell (May Parker), Michael Pataki (Captain Barbera). Guest Cast: Lisa Eilbacher (Judy Tyler), Hilly Hicks (Robbie Robinson), Thayer David (Edward Byron), Ivor Francis (Noah Tyler), Bob Hastings (Monahan). Note: In the series Robert F. Simon played Jameson and Irene Tedrow was Aunt May.

7673 Spider-Man. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1995–1998). Peter Parker is a high school student who, while attending a demonstration on radioactivity, is bitten by a spider who had been exposed to the effects of the demonstration. Shortly after, Peter finds that his DNA has changed and that he has acquired the proportionate powers of a living spider. To put his new-found abilities to their best use, Peter chooses to battle crime. He begins by acquiring a job as a cub reporter for the Daily Bugle, a crusading newspaper. When he learns of troublesome situations through the paper, he dons his spider costume and sets out to resolve the situation.

J. Jonah Jameson is Peter's boss, the publisher of the Bugle; Mary Jane Watson is Peter's girlfriend (later wife); May Parker is Peter's aunt, with whom he lives. Felicia Hardy, the daughter of a spy, occasionally helps Spider-Man as the Black Cat; Harry Osborn is Peter's friend but he blames Spider-Man for the death of his father and has set his goal to even up the score. Joseph "Robbie" Robertson is Jonah's assistant; Dr. Otto Octavius is an enemy as are Kingpin and Dr. Curt Connors, alias the Lizard.

Voice Cast: Christopher Daniel Barnes (Peter Parker/Spider-Man), Sara Ballantine (Mary Jane Watson), Linda Gary (May Parker), Edward Asner (J. Jonah Jameson), Roscoe Lee Browne (Kingpin), Jennifer Hale (Felicia Hardy/Black Cat), Gary Imhoff (Harry Osborn), Maxwell Caulfield (Alistair Smyth), Rodney Saulsberry (Joseph "Robbie" Robertson), Joseph Campanella (Dr. Curt Connors/The Lizard), Dawnn Lewis (Dr. Terri Lee), Efreem Zimbalist, Jr. (Dr. Otto Octavius/Dr. Octopus).

7674 Spider-Man. (Series; Cartoon; MTV; 2003–2006). Animated adventures about Peter Parker, the high school student who was bitten by a radioactive spider and acquired the proportionate powers of a spider and now uses those powers to battle crime as the mysterious Spider-Man. Here Peter is a first year student at Empire State University and works as a designer-photographer for The Daily Bugle, a crusading newspaper. Mary Jane Watson and Harry Osborne are Peter's friends.

Voice Cast: Neil Patrick Harris (Peter Parker/Spider-Man), Lisa Loeb (Mary Jane Watson), Ian Ziering (Harry Osborne), Edward Asner (Officer Barr), Jeffrey Combs (Dr. Zellner), Ethan Embry (Max Dillon), Kathy Griffin (Roxanne).

7675 Spider-Man and His Amazing Friends. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1981–1984). Peter Parker (alias Spider-Man), Angelica Jones (alias Firestar, the Girl of Fire) and Bobby Drake (alias Iceman) join forces to use their superhuman powers to battle the sinister forces of evil.

Voice Cast: Dan Gilvezan (Peter Parker/Spider-Man), Kathy Garver (Angelica Jones/Firestar), Frank Welker (Bobby Drake/Iceman), George DiCenzo (Captain America), June Foray (Peter's Aunt May), William Woodson (Sub Mariner), John Stephenson (Eric the Viking), Anne Lockhart, Alan Dinehart, Jerry Dexter, Michael Evans, Walker Edmiston, Alan Young, Dennis Marks, John Hammer, Keye Luke, Allan Melvin, Sally Julian. Announcer: Casey Kasem, Dick Tufeld. Narrator: Stan Lee.

7676 Spider-Man reference titles. (Series; Adventure; 1969–2007). For information on the various Spider-Man series see The Amazing Spider-Man, The Amazing Adventures of Spider-Man, Spider-Man (1969), Spider-Man (1979), Spider-Man (1995), Spider-Man (2003), Spider-Man and His Amazing Friends, Spider-Man Unlimited and Spider-Woman.

7677 Spider-Man Unlimited. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1999–2001). A spin-off from the 1995 version of Spider-Man that sends Peter Parker, alias Spider-Man to a parallel Earth when he attempts to stop a space shuttle hijacking and is propelled into an orbit on the other side of the sun. Here, a society called the High Evolutionary rules over a humanoid society of first class Bestials while humans are subservient to them. Stories follow Peter as he seeks a way back to his world, yet battle the evils of Venom and Carnage, beings who plan to conquer the universe.

7678 Spider Riders. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 2006–2007). Many years ago a lone explorer made a journey to the center of the earth and discovered a fantastic world of spiders. He wrote of his experiences in a journal that, many years later, is found by his grandson, Hunter Steele. With his journal as a guide, Hunter retraces his grandfather's steps and discovers the mysterious cave that leads to the Inner World.

Here, he discovers a subterranean world called Arachina and befriends the Spider Riders, an elite team of warriors who pilot three ton, ten foot battle spiders. Stories follow Hunter as he becomes one of the Spider Riders to help them defeat Insectids, mutant insects seeking to rule Arachnia.

Voice Cast: Julie Lemieux (Hunter Steele), Tim Hamaguchi (Igneous), Stacey DePass (Corona), Cameron Ansell (Prince Lumen), Lawrence Bayne (Mantid), Ellen-Ray Hennessy (Beerain), Jack Langedijk (Buguese), Caroly Larson (Venus), Carman Melville (Grasshop), Joseph Motiki (Shadow), Melanie Tonello (Princess Sparkle), Ron Pardo (Narrator).

Mike is the Deputy Mayor, the man who constantly saves Randall from the embarrassing situations he manages to get himself into. Mike is hyper, controlling and highly competitive. He has a fear of commitment and everything must revolve around him. The womanizing Charlie Crawford replaced him when Mike admits to taking favors (to save Randall) and resigns. Charlie's philosophy is "I do all the work of the Mayor without getting the glory, pay or prestige." Charlie has been voted Number 11 of the sexiest men in New York and has one good trait: his ability to cook.

Caitlin Moore, Randall's campaign manager, is dating Charlie. She is a founding shareholder in Microsoft, likes jazz music, bike riding and going to the theater. In college Caitlin majored in political science and was president of the Young Democratic Society.

Randall Winston was a Manhattan Borough President before becoming Mayor. He is a man of wealth and to him eight hours is like three workdays. His grandfather made the family fortune by bootlegging whiskey during the 1920s.

Paul Lassiter is the office goof off who does no work and gets paid for it. He is Randall's Press Secretary, never shows up for work on time, steals office supplies, mooches, cons and takes advantage of people.

Carter Heywood is black and gay and works as the Minority Representative. He is a man of distinction, but loses that quality when he is with his ultra pampered dog Rags. Carter often becomes the butt of jokes from Stewart Bondek, a rather unsavory person who delights in belittling other people, especially women. He enjoys playing practical jokes, believes he is a ladies' man and hits on virtually every pretty girl he sees.

Other staff members are Nikki Faber, James Hobart, Janelle Cooper, Stacey Paterno and Angie Ordonez.

Cast: Michael J. Fox (Mike Flaherty), Barry Bostwick (Randall Winston, Jr.), Heather Locklear (Caitlin Moore), Michael Boatman (Carter Heywood), Alan Ruck (Stewart Bondek), Richard Kind (Paul Lassiter), Charlie Sheen (Charlie Crawford), Connie Britton (Nikki Faber), Alexander Chaplin (James Hobart), Victoria Dillard (Janelle Cooper), Jennifer Esposito (Stacey Paterno), Lana Parrilla (Angie Ordonez).

7686 The Spin Doctors. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1992). A proposed series about a free spirit (Bobby Carlyle) who inherits his mother's sophisticated public relations firm and his efforts to cope with a group of employees who are at their wit's end, especially the beautiful and dynamic Susan Maxwell, who feels the company should have been left to her.

Cast: Joan Van Ark (Susan Maxwell), Chris Meloni (Bobby Carlyle), Deborah Dunne (Patricia Clipper), April Stratton (Jordan Baker).

7687 Spin-Off. (Series; Game; CBS; 1975). Two husband-and-wife teams compete. Five numbered wheels (containing numbers 1 through 6) that spin at the rate of 17 numbers a second are placed before each of the teams. A general knowledge question is read. The first team to answer it correctly receives the opportunity to spin the wheels. A number is revealed and the team has the option of either keeping it or spinning it off for a different number. Five questions are played per game (one question per wheel) and the team with the highest number values (as in poker) is the winner.

Host: Jim Lange.

7688 Spin the Picture. (Series; Game; DuMont; 1949–1950). A rapidly spun picture is flashed on the screen, followed by a verbal clue. A telephone call is placed to a home viewer (post card selection) who is then asked to identify the picture. A merchandise prize is awarded if he can; an additional prize is added to the jackpot if he is unable; the player receives a consolation prize. Later episodes drop the telephone call and uses players selected from the studio audience. The series ran from June 18, 1949 to February 4, 1950.

Host: Carl Caruso, Eddie Dunn, Kathi Norris. Regulars: Shaye Coogan, Bob Dunn. Music: Jerry Shad's Quartet.

7689 The Spirit. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 7/31/87). While investigating the murder of his mentor, a famous mystery writer, Officer Denny Colt is shot near a pier and falls into the water. Colt, believed to have been killed (his body is unable to be found) manages to swim to shore where he is found by a young boy, a hustler named Eubie, who nurses him back to health. In an attempt to avenge crimes, Colt decides to remain "dead"; he dons a mask and soon becomes the Spirit, a mysterious figure who battles injustice. The unsold series was to relate his exploits. In the pilot episode, Colt first uses his new disguise to unearth an art forgery ring. Other Regulars: Police Commissioner Dolan; and Ellen, Dolan's daughter.

Cast: Sam Jones (Denny Colt), Nana Visitor (Ellen Dolan), Garry Walberg (Commissioner Dolan), Bumper Robinson (Eubie). Guest Cast: Les Lannom (Officer King), McKinlay Robinson (P'Gell Roxton), Daniel Davis (Simon Teasdale), John Allen (Bruno), Janet Roblett (Victim).

7690 Spitting Image. (Pilot; Satire; NBC; 8/30 and 9/6/86). A proposed series in which life-size puppets from England's Spitting Image Workshop lampoon American celebrities. In the two-part pilot episode, titled "Down and Out in the White House," the Famous Corp., a group of celebrities who secretly control the U.S., attempt to elect Sylvester Stallone as the next president.

Host: David Frost. Voices: Chris Barrie, Louise Duart, John Glover, Jessica Martin, Enn Reitel, John Sessions, Harry Shearer, Pamela Stephenson, Frank Welker.

7691 Spitting Image. (Pilot; Satire; NBC; 1/4/87). A second pilot film, titled "The Ronnie and Nancy Show," for a series based on celebrity puppets created by Britain's Spitting Image Workshop. The story relates First Lady Nancy's efforts to throw a surprise anniversary party for hubby Ron Reagan (depicted as the senile President of the U.S.). See also the prior title.

Host: David Frost. Voices: Chris Barrie, Louise Duart, John Glover, Ron Grigsby, Karen Kaye, Enn Reitel, Kate Robbins, John Sessions, Harry Shearer, Fred Travalena, Frank Welker.

7692 Spitting Image. (Pilot; Satire; NBC; 3/26/87). A third pilot, titled "The 1987 Movie Awards," for a proposed series that lampoons American celebrities via life-size puppets from England's Spitting Image Workshop. The story finds Leonard Nimoy deviously plotting to win an Oscar at the 1987 Movie Awards. See also the prior two titles.

Host: David Frost. Voices: Chris Barrie, Louise Duart, John Glover, Ron Grigsby, Karen Kaye, Enn Reitel, Kate Robbins, John Sessions, Fred Travalena, Frank Welker.

7693 Splash, Too. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/1/88 and 5/8/88). Splash was a 1984 feature film wherein Allen Bauer (Tom Hanks), a young New York City produce manager, found a beautiful mermaid he named Madison (Daryl Hannah). After saving her from government research scientists, he joined her in her marine world.

It is three years later when Allen learns that his brother Freddie, now running the Bauer Produce Company, is in trouble. When Madison realizes that Allen is troubled, she agrees to return to New York with him. They purchase a home in Queens and Allen takes over the family business. Later, at a charity function, Madison arouses the suspicions of Dr. Otto Benus, a "mad scientist" who is determined to discover Madison's secret. The unsold series was to relate Madison's efforts to live a normal human life (although she needs to soak her legs in salt water at every full moon to survive) and her attempts to avoid Dr. Benus, who knows she is a mermaid, but can't prove it. Other Regulars: Mrs. Stimler, Allen's secretary; and Allen's neighbors, Lois and Herb Needler.

Cast: Amy Yasbeck (Madison), Todd Waring (Allen Bauer), Donovan Scott (Freddie Bauer), Dody Goodman (Mrs. Stimler), Doris Belack (Lois Needler), Barney Martin (Herb Needler), Mark Blankfield (Dr. Otto Benus). Guest Cast: Rita Taggart (Fern Hooten), Noble Willingham (Karl Hooten), Timothy Williams (Harvey), Jana Marie Hupp (Buffy), Joey Travolta (Jerry).

7694 Split Personality. (Series; Game; NBC; 1959–1960). Two sets of clues, each of which depicts one facet of a celebrity's life, are related to the two players who compete. The first player who identifies the mystery celebrity is the winner of the round and scores points. The winner, the highest point scorer, receives merchandise prizes.

Host: Tom Poston.

7695 SpongeBob SquarePants. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 1999–). Bikini Bottom is an underwater city inhabited by a number of unusual sea creatures, most notably SpongeBob SquarePants, a square somewhat naïve sponge who is often dense as to what is happening around him. He lives in a pineapple and works as a fry cook at a diner called Krusty Krab. SpongeBob's antics as he frolics with his friends is the premise of the series.

Other characters are Patrick Star, SpongeBob's best friend, a somewhat overweight starfish who is as dense as SpongeBob (maybe even more so); Squidward Tentacles is the cashier at Krusty Krab. He is a grouch and would like — but can't find — a life of peace and quiet. Eugene H. Krabs is the miserly owner of Krusty Krab (his favorite pastime is counting money); Pearl Krabs is Eugene's daughter (a whale); Sandy Cheeks is a Texas-bred girl who is skilled in karate and easily aggravated. Larry the Lobster is a lifeguard at the local beach, Goo Lagoon; Poppy Puff is SpongeBob's boating instructor; Gary the Snail (who meows) is SpongeBob's pet snail; Squilian Fancyson is the rich and snooty high school "kid"; Sheldon J. Plankton is the owner of the rival diner Chum Bucket. Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy are recurring characters, super heroes on SpongeBob's favorite TV show (Mermaid Man and Barnacle Boy).

Voice Cast: Tom Kenny (SpongeBob SquarePants), Bill Fagerbakke (Patrick Star), Lori Alan (Pearl Krabs), Carolyn Lawrence (Sandy Cheeks), Rodger Bumpass (Squidward Tentacles), Clancy Brown (Eugene H. Krabs), Mary Jo Catlett (SpongeBob's mother), Tom Kenny (SpongeBob's father), Mr. Lawrence (Sheldon J. Plankton), Ernest Borgnine (Mermaid Man), Tim Conway (Barnacle Boy).

7696 Sport Billy. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1982). When Sporticus XI, ruler of the planet Olympus, discovers that the evil Queen Vanda is responsible for ruining sports throughout the universe, he assigns Sport Billy, a great athlete, to capture Vanda and end her reign of terror in the sports world. Stories relate the efforts of Sport Billy and his assistants, Sport Lilly and Willie (a dog) to defeat Vanda and help keep sporting events legitimate.

Voice Cast: Lane Scheimer (Sport Billy), Joyce Bulifant (Sport Lilly), Frank Welker (Willie), Joyce Bulifant (Queen Vanda), Frank Welker (Sporticus XI).

7697 Sporting Chance. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 6/20/90). Eddie Dillon was a college football great who was ousted from the game in his senior year because of a point-shaving scandal. He spent the next ten years overseas trying to escape the scandal; now he is back in the States and trying in any capacity to get back into the game. His efforts to prove himself worthy and get back into pro football was to be the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Eddie tries to prove a team has set up its star quarterback in a ploy to discredit the team and breach a contract to enable its owner to sell the team at a profit.

Cast: Bruce Boxleitner (Eddie Dillon), Terri Garber (Margaret "Hoop" Tracy, the sportscaster), Noble Willingham (Packy Dillon, Eddie's father). Guest Cast: Teri Copley (Agnes Ockleman), Kimberly Kates (Betsy Hilderbrand), Thom Matthews (Sonny Hilderbrand), James Alt (Davis), Greg Lewis (Manager), G.D. Spradlin (Evan Thorpe), Galyn Gorg (Grace McAllister).

7698 The Sports Illustrated Swimsuit Model Search. (Series; Reality; NBC; 2005). Sports Illustrated magazine and NBC team to find the next swimsuit model for the cover of the magazine's annual swimsuit issue. Twelve young women selected from open auditions across America, appear as semifinalists in Los Angeles (where they live together and compete against each other in various beauty contests for the ultimate prize — the magazine cover and a one million dollar modeling contract with Next Model Management). The contestants are judged by a panel of three but viewers, via call-in votes, determines the actual winner.

Narrator: Jason Henson. Winner: Alicia Hall. Judges: Roshumba Williams (Hall of Fame swimsuit model), Joel Wilkenfeld (Pres. of Next Model Management), Jule Campbell (Founding editor, Sports Illustrated Swimsuit issue).

7699 Sports Night. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1998–2000). A behind-the-scenes look at the preparations that go into producing a sports television series as seen through the activities of the on-air personnel and behind-the-scenes staff. Sports Night is the name of the series and it airs at 11:00 P.M. on the CSC Network ("The Number Three Sports Network"). Dan Rydell and Casey McCall are the co-anchors; Dana Whitaker is the show's producer; Jeremy Goodwin is the associate producer and Isaac Jaffee is the executive producer.

Cast: Josh Charles (Dan Rydell), Peter Krause (Casey McCall), Robert Guillaume (Isaac Jaffee), Felicity Huffman (Dana Whitaker), Joshua Malina (Jeremy Goodwin), Sabrina Lloyd (Natalie Hurley), Kayla Blake (Kim), Greg Baker (Elliott), Timothy Davis-Reed (Chris), Jeff Mooring (Dave), Ron Ostrow (Will), Suzanne Kellogg (Alyson), Teri Polo (Rebecca Webb).

7700 A Spot of Philanthropy. (Experimental; Comedy; NBC; 4/13/39). A television adaptation of the Saturday Evening Post stories about Colonel Humphrey J. Flack, a modern-day Robin Hood who helps people in need. In the story, the Colonel tries to bring together a boy and a girl whose fathers disapprove of them seeing each other.

Cast: George Taylor (Colonel Humphrey J. Flack), Gloria Jean (Girl), John James (Boy), Frank Nellis (Mr. Porterfield), Michael Drake (Mr. Garvey).

7701 Spotlight. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1967). A summer program of music and comedy from London, England, that features celebrities as guest hosts. It ran from July 4, 1967 to August 29, 1967.

Regulars: The Lionel Blair Dancers. Orchestra: Jack Parnell.

7702 Spotlight on the Stars. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1955). Rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology series. The program ran from June 21, 1955 to September 21, 1955.

7703 Spotlight Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1956). A summer series of repeat episodes that originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. The series ran from June 26, 1956 to September 18, 1956.

7704 Spotlight Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1957). Repeats of dramas that were originally broadcast on Ford Theater. See this title for information. The series ran from July 2, 1957 to September 24, 1957.

7705 Spotlight Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1958). Rebroadcasts of selected episodes of The Loretta Young Theater that do not star actress Loretta Young. Actress Anita Louise hosts the series, which ran from July 1, 1958 to September 23, 1958.

7706 Sprague. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 6/29/84). Boston is the setting for an unsold series about Michael Sprague, a college biology teacher and amateur sleuth who helps the police solve baffling crimes. The pilot episode depicts Michael's efforts to capture a doctor who specializes in heart attacks. Other Regulars: Mary, his zany aunt; Lieutenant George Hurley; and Randy, Michael's classroom assistant.

7707 Spunky and Tadpole. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1958). A young boy (Spunky) and his come-to-life teddy bear (Tadpole) share amazing adventures as they become involved with and attempt to overcome improbable situations (often as unlikely detectives chasing the bad guys). The serialized stories (usually ten per story) also spoof TV shows and movies of the era.

Voice Cast: Joan Gardner (Spunky), Don Messick (Tadpole), Ed Janis (Tadpole).

7708 Spy Games. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1997). With the Cold War coming to an end, the U.S. government decides that it no longer needs an abundance of spies and begins a down sizing program. Secret agent Lorne Cash becomes one of the spies who is let go. But his term of unemployment is short lived. He is personally asked by the President to head ECHO (The Emergency Counter Hostilities Organization). Things are looking up for the distinguished agent until he is teamed with Maxine "Max" London, a young rookie eager to learn from the best.

As Lorne begins his duties he realizes that since the Cold War ended, the "spy game" has taken on a whole new life — a style he is not fully accustomed to. Stories follow Lorne as he attempts to play by the rules of new game he quite doesn't understand.

Cast: Linden Ashby (Lorne Cash), Allison Smith (Maxine "Max" London), Keith Szarabjka (The President), Patrick Macnee (Dr. Quentin), D.D. Howard (Yolanda Trench), Bruce McCarty (Micah Simms).

7709 Spy TV Pranks. (Unaired Pilot; Comedy; Produced in 1991). A proposed series based on the irreverent humor of Spy Magazine which pokes fun at people, places and things (for example, the pilot features the art work of eight year olds in an gallery, and the reaction of people to a new kind of fast food made from rabbits called Bunny Burgers).

Host: Kevin Nealon.

7710 Spyder Games. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 2001). Spyder Games is a video game company located in a town called Fort Kent. Boris Carlisle owns the company. His daughter, Natalia works with him, but is seeking to gain control and run Spyder Games. Ivan and Dimitri, Natalia's brothers, also work for the company but the youngest sibling, Sasha, wants nothing to do with the family business; he yearns to become a rock star and devotes all his energies into achieving that goal. The soap opera spoof begins with Boris's murder. Stories follow the lives, loves and intrigues of the Carlisle children and the people they meet during the murder investigation. Other main characters are Daphne, the owner of a clothing store called Come Ons; Taylor, the show's resident tramp (having an affair with the underage Sasha); Francisco, Dimitri's best friend; Julie, Ivan's wife; Lyle, Taylor's drug-addicted brother; and Jeff, the private detective seeking Boris's killer.

Cast: Shawn Batten (Natalia Carlisle), J.R. Cacia

(Dimitri Carlisle), Byron Field (Ivan Carlisle), Monica Serene Garnich (Julie Whitmore-Carlisle), Robert Hutchinson (Sasha Carlisle), Ray Laska (Boris Carlisle), Craig Robert Young (Temple Simms), Zay Harding (Jeff Northcutt), Bryce Mouer (Lyle Jones), Megalyn Echikunwoke (Cherish Pardee), Christina Chambers (Taylor Jones), Madeline Long (Debbie), Robert Torti (Jimmy), Mark Schneider (William Whitmore), Luis Munoz (Cousin Luis), Jane Wiedlin (Gretel Barnes), Enrique Murciano (Francisco Torres), Brian J. White (Alex Peters), Amy Moon (Bernice Brown), Adrienne Smith (Ashley), Travis Wester (Todd).

7711 Squadron. (Pilot; Drama; NBC; 1/30/62). A proposed spin-off from The Dick Powell Show about the combat activities and emotional problems of the men of a World War II Air Force unit.

Cast: Dick Powell (Colonel Luke Harper), Herschel Bernardi (Major Abrams), Pat Conway (Lieutenant Bert Evans), Robert Boon (Colonel Klauber), Joanna Moore (Jeanne Lauring).

7712 Square One Television. (Series; Children; PBS; 1987–1992). An educational series dedicated to making mathematics fun. Skits, songs, music and guest segments are all built around math and how it is a necessary part of life. The best example of this is the daily serial, Mathnet, a takeoff on Dragnet with Detective George Frankly and his partner Kate Monday (later Sgt. Pat Tuesday) solving crimes through math. Debbie Williams is their assistant; Joe Greco is their captain (they are all attached to the Mathnet Squad). There is also an animated segment about a math detective called Lt. Dirk Niblick.

7713 Square Pegs. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1982–1983). “You know the feeling. The awkwardness, the tender times, the silly moments of being fourteen and not quite sure you’ve got what it takes to be popular. That’s what Square Pegs is all about. Join Patty and Lauren in the sights, sounds and songs of growing up in the eighties” (this is the CBS TV Guide ad for Square Pegs). Patricia (“Patty”) Green and Lauren Hutchinson are best friends. Patty is smart, thin, nearsighted and “waiting for cleavage.” Lauren is also smart, but wears braces and is slightly overweight; she is “waiting for her first kiss.” The girls, friends since Weemawee Grammar School, are now the square pegs in a round hole — Weemawee Central High School, the “in” high school in the town of Weemawee Heights.

Patty lives at 98061 Walken Drive and Lauren next door at 98063 Walken. The girls are not preppies, eggheads or creeps — just awkward. Before entering high school they made a pledge to fit in. Now they are freshmen, and “all we have to do is click with the right clique,” says Lauren. “We can have a social life that is worthy of us. This year we’re gonna be popular, even if it kills us.”

Other Students: Jennifer DiNuccio is the class beauty (she speaks Valley Girl style); Johnny (“Slash”) Lashawich is the New Wave freak (he drives a car called the Slashmobile and eats only junk food); Muffy Tepperman, the preppy cheerleader, is captain of the J.V. squad; Marshall Blechtman is the class clown (he yearns to be a comedian); LaDonna Frederick is the fashion conscious student; and Vinnie Pasetta is the class Romeo.

Dr. Winthrop Dingelman is the principal, and Rob Donovan is the favorite teacher (history).

Cast: Sarah Jessica Parker (Patty Greene), Amy Linker (Lauren Hutchinson), Tracy Nelson (Jennifer DiNuccio), Merritt Butrick (Johnny “Slash” Lashawich), Jami Gertz (Muffy Tupperman), John Femina (Marshall Blechtman), Claudette Wells (LaDonna Frederick), Jon Caliri (Vinnie Pasetta), David Hubbard (Sieff Griffin; a student), Basil Hoffman (Dr. Winthrop Dingelman), Caitlin Adams (Allison Loomis; a teacher), Steven Peterman (Rob Donovan), Marj Dusay (Beverly Tupperman; Muffy’s mother), Carl Androsky (Gym Teacher). Theme Vocal: “Square Pegs” by The Waitresses.

7714 The Square World of Ed Butler. (Series; Discussion; Syn.; 1970). Ed Butler hosts a weekly program featuring discussions with concerned guests on topical issues.

7715 Squidbillies. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2005). At one point in time what is now known as the Atlantic Ocean covered about all of North America. As the centuries passed and the ocean receded, a group of squids became stranded in a remote area of what would become the mountains of Northern Georgia. The squids, influenced by the local hill people, took on the personas of hillbillies. Stories, sort of a Beverly Hillbillies squid style, relate the life of the Squidbillies, complete with feudin’ and fightin’.

7716 Squirrel Boy. (Series; Cartoon; Cartoon Network; 2006). Andy Johnson is a young boy whose best friend is Rodney, a squirrel who is quite intelligent and well versed in many areas. Stories relate the gullible Andy's misadventures as Rodney involves him in a variety of inane schemes.

7717 S.R.O. Playhouse. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1957). Rebroadcasts of episodes that originally aired on The Schlitz Playhouse of Stars. See this title for information. The series aired from May 11, 1957 to September 7, 1957.

7718 The S.S. Holiday. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1950). A two-hour (later 60-minute) variety series that spotlights performances of a regular cast as well as lesser-known guests from various clubs in New York City. The series, also known as Starlit Time ran from April 9, 1950 to November 26, 1950. The program is also television's first two-hour series.

Host: Bill Williams, Phil Hanna. Regulars: Minnie Jo Curtis, Allen Prescott, Ralph Stanley, Holly Harris, Bibi Osterwald, Sondra Lee, Eddie Holmes, Sam Steen, The Reggie Beane Dancers. Music: The Reggie Beane Trio, The Cy Coleman Trio.

7719 The S.S. Telecruise. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1951). Music and songs set in a different tropical port each week (accomplished by photographic backgrounds). It ran from April 28, 1951 to June 2, 1951.

Host: Jack Steck. Regulars: Carol Wynne, Eddie Roecker, The Crewmen, The Thomas Cannon Ballet. Music: The Dave Appel Trio.

7720 Stacked. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 2005–2006). The title refers to a bookstore called Stacked, not to the series sexy, well endowed star, Pamela Anderson (or so the producers would like you to believe). Stacked is owned by Gavin and Stuart Miller, brothers who are as different as night and day.

Gavin is intellectual and a published author. He started Stacked as an intellectual gathering place when his book didn't sell. Stuart is not as smart. He is laid back and not easily motivated. When the brothers required a sales clerk, Stuart became motivated and hired Skyler Dayton, a gorgeous party girl with no sales experiences but whose stunning good looks have cost several women their marriages.

Skyler believes the store opens at the crack of dawn —10 A.M. Skyler also believes she is a good matchmaker —“I introduced my friend Brandy to all three of her husbands.” While stories do revolve around the daily goings on at the bookstore, they focus mostly on Skyler, showing considerable cleavage, talking about her romantic adventures and her efforts to sell books.

Other Regulars: Harold March, a professor at Cal Tech who enjoys his coffee and reading the paper at Stacked; and Katrina, the bookstore coffee service girl.

Cast: Pamela Anderson (Skyler Dayton), Elon Gold (Gavin Miller), Brian Scolaro (Stuart Miller), Christopher Lloyd (Harold March), Marissa Janet Winokur (Katrina).

7721 The Staff of Life. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/17/85). A comical behind-the-scenes look at Life, a television soap opera, as seen through the eyes of Barry Cooper and his ex-wife, Joanna, the head writers. In the pilot episode, Barry schemes to keep Joanna from keeping a date with another man. Other Regulars: Rebecca and Craig, the soap stars; Marshall, the producer; and writers Cindy, Roland, Shirley and Alexis.

Cast: Granville Van Dusen (Barry Cooper), Anne Twomey (Joanna Cooper), Deborah Burrell (Cindy), Richard McKenzie (Roland), Doris Belack (Shirley), Jeannie Elias (Alexis), Howard George (Marshall Durkee), Barbara Barnett (Rebecca), Scott McGinnis (Craig), Thomas Calloway (Mark Wheeler; guest role).

7722 Stage a Number. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1952–1953). The program spotlights the talents of comedians, writers, directors, singers, musicians, magicians and other fledging show business people.

Host: Bill Wendell.

7723 Stage Door. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 12/17/39). A television adaptation of the 1936 Broadway play by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber that looks at the backstage lives of a group of performers who reside at a theatrical boarding house called the Footlights Club.

Cast: Elizabeth Paige (Mattie), Janet Fox (Bernice), Lee Patrick (Judith), Sydna Scott (Jean), Ralph Locke (Adolph), Eleanor Kilgallen (Madeline), Cora Witherspoon (Mrs. Orcutt), Larry Westcott (David).

7724 Stage Door. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1950). Life in and around the Broadway theater district of New York City as seen through the eyes of Celia Knox and Hank Merlin, lovers who are also aspiring actors. Based on the play by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber. The series, which produced eight episodes, ran from February 7, 1950 to March 28, 1950.

Cast: Louise Albritton (Celia Knox), Scott McKay (Hank Merlin).

7725 Stage Entrance. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1951–1952). Newspaper columnist Earl Wilson host a program that features interviews with and performances by promising undiscovered talent.

7726 Stage Mother. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 12/1/86). A proposed spin-off from Kate and Allie about Eddie Gordon, the slightly dizzy manager of Channel G, a Manhattan cable station, as she struggles to find eight hours of programming a day. In the pilot episode, Allie becomes a stage mother to promote her daughter, Jennie's, singing talents. See also Roxie," a revamped version of this pilot. Other Regulars: Station workers Sam, Jack and Mimi.

Cast: Andrea Martin (Eddie Gordon), Bill Cobbs (Sam), Grant Shaud (Jack), Susan Hunt (Mimi). Guest Cast: Jane Curtin (Allie Lowell), Allison Smith (Jennie Lowell), Ari Meyers (Emma).

7727 Stage 7. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1955). A series of filmed dramas from Hollywood that ran from January 30, 1955 to September 25, 1955.

Performers Include: Charles Bronson, Joan Banks, Macdonald Carey, Stephen McNally, Dick Foran, Frank Lovejoy, Dennis Morgan, Russ Conway, Christopher Dark, Ralph Moody, Dan Barton, Gordon Mills.

7728 Stage Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1954–1956). Performances by guest entertainers (who also serve as the guest emcee). Most notable of the performers who appeared was Elvis Presley, who emceed on the following dates: January 28, 1956; February 4, 11 and 18, 1956; and March 17 and 24, 1956. The series ran from July 3, 1954 to September 18, 1954; and October 1, 1955 to September 22, 1956.

Host: Tommy Dorsey, Jimmy Dorsey. Regulars: The June Taylor Dancers. Music: The Dorsey Orchestra.

7729 Stage 13. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1950). Mystery and suspense stories, broadcast from New York City, that are built around the number 13. The series ran from May 3, 1950 to June 28, 1950 and produced 7 episodes.

Performers Include: Leslie Nielsen, Barbara Bolton, J. Pat O'Malley, Richard MacMurray, Emily Barnes, Robert Gallagher, Alice Reinhart, Vinton Hayworth, Daniel Morgan, Kathleen Cordell, Donald Briggs.

7730 Stage Two Revue. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1950). Music and songs with singer Georgia Lee as the host. The series ran from July 30, 1950 to September 24, 1950.

Host: Georgia Lee. Regulars: Arlene Harris, Bob Harris. Orchestra: Buz Adlam.

7731 Stagecoach West. (Series; Western; ABC; 1960–1961). Luke Perry and Simon Kane are drivers for the Overland Stage Coach Lines (1860s). Their route covers areas between California and Missouri and danger lurks everywhere along the route — from renegade Indians to outlaws to flash floods and desert storms.

While Luke and Simon work well together and often risk their lives for the safety of their passengers (in whose lives they sometimes become involved), the job is hardest on Simon, a married man who must leave his wife, Kathleen and son, David, for long periods of time. Simon worries, but Kathleen is well able to care for herself and David when he is on the road. Stories present a different aspect of the Old West, a look at the men who drove the stage coaches and blazed the trail for the on-coming railroads that would eventually replace them.

Cast: Wayne Rogers (Luke Perry), Robert Bray (Simon Kane), Jane Greer (Kathleen Kane), Richard Eyer (David Kane), James Burke (Zeke Bonner).

7732 Stand By for Crime. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1949). As Inspector Webb of the Homicide Squad begins an investigation into a case, the viewer and a guest are presented with all the clues to the crime. Before the culprit is revealed, the action is stopped and the guest is asked to identify the killer. The drama is continued and the culprit is revealed. It ran from January 11, 1949 to August 27, 1949.

Cast: Boris Aplon (Inspector Webb), George Cisar (Sergeant Kramer), Myron Wallace (Lt. Anthony Kidd).

7733 Stand By Your Man. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1992). Rochelle Dumphy lives with her husband, Roger, in a fashionable house at 866 Fairlawn Avenue in Paramus, New Jersey. Rochelle's sister, Lorraine Popowski, and her husband, Artie, reside in a less than desirable mobile home at the nearby Camelot Court Trailer Park.

Roger owns a company called Prestige Patios and Artie assists him. Unknown to Rochelle and Lorraine, Prestige Patios is a front for illegal business operations (laundering money from the banks Roger and Artie rob). When Roger and Artie are finally caught (robbing the Franklin Heights Bank), they are sentenced to eight years in prison at the New Jersey State Penitentiary.

Rochelle invites Lorraine to come and live with her, and stories follow their escapades as they try to live by Rochelle's belief that they should stand by their men during the lean times and help each other through the rough times ahead.

Rochelle, the younger and prettier of the two sisters, attended Paramus High School. She is sweet and very sexy, and believes she has the perfect marriage with the perfect man (she envisions herself five years from now with two children named Josh and Chelsey).

Lorraine is the tough-as-nails older sister. She believes Rochelle is a bit naive (for example, Rochelle worked as the office manager for Prestige Patios and was unaware of what was going on) and acts and dresses like a Barbie doll. Lorraine has been working since she was 16 years old and now holds a job as a stock clerk at a discount store called Bargain Circus (Rochelle later works there as the manager).

Adrienne Stone is Rochelle's snooty, sex-crazy neighbor, and Stuart is her husband, an attorney who is unaware of his wife's sexual activities. In the unaired pilot version of the series, Leila Kenzle played the Melissa Gilbert role as Cindy Dumphy.

Cast: Melissa Gilbert (Rochelle Dumphy), Rosie O'Donnell (Lorraine Popowski), Sam McMurray (Roger Dumphy), Rich Hall (Artie Popowski), Miriam Flynn (Adrienne Stone), George Wyner (Stuart Stone).

7734 Stand Up and Be Counted. (Series; Advice; CBS; 1956–1957). A person who possesses a problem appears on stage to relate it. Selected members of the studio audience then suggest possible solutions. The participant is asked to try the most feasible advice, which is determined by studio applause. The participant returns at a later date to tell if the advice worked or not.

Host: Bob Russell.

7735 Stand Up and Cheer. (Pilot; Variety; ABC; 2/16/71). The pilot film for Johnny Mann's Stand Up and Cheer that presents a musical salute to America. Pierre Cossette and Burt Sugarman are the producers.

Host: Johnny Mann. Regulars: The Johnny Mann Singers. Guests: Pearl Bailey, Henry Fonda. Orchestra: Johnny Mann.

7736 Standoff. (Series; Crime Drama; Fox; 2006–2007). Emily Lehman and Matt Flannery are hostage negotiators with the FBI's Crisis Negotiation Unit (CNU) in Los Angeles. Of the 340 such people employed by the FBI, Emily and Matt rank among the top five. Both Matt and Emily have the same goal: "We can negotiate a surrender." While some hostage situations do result in death — either to the kidnapper of the victim (or both) — Emily and Matt try to avoid that scenario; they put themselves in the line of fire to negotiate a peaceful outcome.

Their superior, Cheryl Carrera, often agrees with their methods (no matter how bizarre they may sound at times) but Commander Frank Rogers feels just the opposite. He is a trigger-happy Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) leader who feels taking out the suspect is better than talking him (or her) into a surrender. As long as they get the job done, save the day and nobody files a lawsuit, Matt and Emily are happy. Stories, which are quite tense, follow the various hostage-negotiating cases to which Emily and Matt, who are also lovers, are assigned.

Cast: Rose Marie DeWitt (Emily Lehman), Ron Livingston (Matt Flannery), Gina Torres (Cheryl Carrera), Michael Cudlitz (Frank Rogers), Raquel Alessi (Intelligence Officer Lia Mathers), Jose Pablo Cantillo (Officer Duff).

7737 Stanley. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1956–1957). Stanley Peck is a young man with a job and a girlfriend. He works as the proprietor of a newsstand in a large New York City hotel; Celia is his steady girlfriend. Stanley is also a bit untidy and quite non aggressive. Stories follow Stanley as he struggles to cope with life, often getting into trouble because of his soft heart. Horace Fenton is the hotel manager; George Phillips is the hotel owner; Jane is Celia's friend.

Cast: Buddy Hackett (Stanley Peck), Carol Burnett (Celia), Paul Lynde (Horace Fenton), Frederic Tozere (George Phillips), Jane Connell (Jane).

7738 Stanley. (Series; Cartoon; Disney; 2001–2004). Stanley Griff is a young boy who is fascinated by wild animals. He likes to study them, draw pictures of them and he shares his thoughts about them with his pet goldfish, Dennis (Dennis can only be heard speaking to Stanley). With Dennis as Stanley's guide, stories follow the two as they explore the animal world for children and show how Stanley uses the knowledge he gains to help him cope with the situations he encounters when he is at school or away from Dennis. Based on the book by Andrew Griff.

Voice Cast: Jessica D. Stone (Stanley Griff), Charles Shaughnessy (Dennis), Ari Meyers (Stanley's mother), David Landsberg (Stanley's father), Shawn Pyfrom (Lionel Griff), Hynden Walch (Elsie the Cat), Rene Muijica (Harry the Dog).

7739 The Stanley Siegel Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1981). Celebrity interviews and discussions on controversial issues with appropriate guests. Stanley Siegel hosts.

7740 Star Attraction. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1958). Rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology programs.

7741 Star Chart. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1980). Terry David Mulligan hosts a series that charts the progress of music stars (who also perform live).

7742 Star Cops. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1991). In the early twenty-first century, the moon is colonized and Earth families begin to settle there. With the good comes the bad, and to battle crime the E.S.L. (European Space Liaison) funds a space police force called Star Cops to protect the settlers from outlaws.

Nathan Spring is appointed the commander, and inspectors Pal Kenzey, David Thoreaux and Colin Devis assist him. (Pal is the Australian member of the British team.)

The High Frontier is the most crime ridden area. The various colonies of the moon are called outposts. A Concord-like shuttle transports visitors from Earth to the moon. Moonbase One is the headquarters for Star Cops.

While the British established Star Cops, they have no agreement with the United States, and they are not permitted to interfere in crimes that occur on U.S. space stations (for example, on the main American base, Space Station Ronald Reagan). The Americans, called “Yanks,” by the British, are not in favor of international policing (which is the U.S. government’s reason for not supporting Star Cops. Spring is trying to change the State Department’s attitude, but with little luck. The Americans are in space only to do research). Theme: “In the Shadow of the Moon,” vocal by Justin Hayward.

Cast: David Calder (Nathan Spring), Linda Newton (Pal Lenzey), Erik Ray Evans (David Thoreaux), Trevor Cooper (Colin Devis).

7743 Star for Today. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1963). Rebroadcasts of dramas that originally aired on Telephone Time. See this title for information. John Nesbitt and Dr. Frank Baxter host.

7744 Star Games. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1985–1986). Three celerity teams (usually representing a TV show, singers, or movie cast) are brought to a stadium to compete against each other in a series of athletic contests. The competition can be grueling but it is all done in fun and the best performing teams donate their cash winnings to charity.

Hostess: Pamela Sue Martin (1985), Morgan Brittany (1986). Host: Bruce Jenner. Commissioner: Dick Butkus. Featured Regular: Flip Wilson.

7745 Star Maidens. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1977). Far away in the solar system Proxsema Centauri there exists the planet Medusa, a world where women are the rulers and men subservient to them. For one thousand orbits the populace enjoyed a life of serenity. Then, suddenly, the great comet Dionysus, with its awesome force, passed over the planet. Medusa’s orbit was altered and the planet slowly dragged toward the frozen regions of outer space. Before its final destination — a planet of ice — the Medusians planned and constructed a new world beneath the surface. Now, frozen and having drifted for generations, the planet locks itself into a solar system in which another life-supporting planet — Earth — is discovered. The Earth, however, contradicts the Medusians’ programmed society and is declared off limits to its citizens.

As with all laws, it is broken when two Medusa men, Adam and Shem, escape to Earth and thus open the doorway for the inhabitants of both worlds to meet. Stories depict incidents in the lives of the Earthlings and Medusians as the meet and interact for the first time.

Fulvia and Octavia are Medusian leaders. Clara is head of the Supreme Council of Medusa; Liz Baker, Rudi Schmitt and Professor Evans are the Earth scientists; Kate Moss is a featured Earth girl; Andrea is a featured Medusian.

Cast: Judy Geeson (Fulvia), Christine Kruger (Octavia), Liz Harrow (Liz Becker), Dawn Addams (Clara), Pierre Brice (Adam), Gareth Thomas (Shem), Derek Farr (Professor Evans), Jenny Morgan (Kate Moss), Christian Quadflieg (Rudi Schmitt), Uschi Mellin (Andrea), Penelope Horner (Medusian P.A. Announcer). Theme: “The Star Maidens Theme” by Patrick Aulton.

7746 The Star Maker. (Pilot; Drama; Syn.; 3/58). A proposed series about a Hollywood theatrical agent. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Studio '57, the agent attempts to help a promising new client overcome his stage fright.

Cast: Bette Davis (The Agent), Jack Albertson, Arthur Kendall, Nick King, Joi Lansing, Gary Merrill, Tom Pittman, Liz Slifer.

7747 Star of the Family. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1950–1952). Music and songs coupled with performances by selected members of American families (pre-selected by letters that are written to the program by members of the individual’s family).

Host: Peter Lind Hayes, Mary Healy, Morton Downey. Regulars: The Beatrice Kroft Dancers. Announcer: Frank Waldecker. Orchestra: Carl Hoff.

7748 Star of the Family. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1982). Sixteen-year-old Jennie Lee Krebs is a beautiful high school girl who aspires to be a singer. Her struggles up the rocky road to stardom are the focal point of the series.

Jennie, who attends Monroe High School in southern California, lives with her father, Leslie (“Buddy”) Krebs, and her brother, Douglas (“Doug-gie”) Krebs, at 7136 La Salle Drive. Buddy is captain of Fire Company 64; and the not too bright Doug-gie also attends Monroe High. Judy (“Moose”) Wells is Jennie’s manager; and Leo Feldman, Max Hernandez and Frank Rosetti are the firemen under Buddy’s command; Tiffany is Jennie’s friend.

Cast: Kathy Maisnik (Jennie Lee Krebs), Brian Dennehy (Buddy Krebs), Michael Dudikoff (Doug-gie Krebs), Judy Pilo (Judy “Moose” Wells), Todd Susman (Leo Feldman), Danny Mora (Max Hernandez), George Deloy (Frank Rosetti), Amanda Wyss (Tiffany). Theme Vocal: “Movin’ Along” by Kathy Maisnik.

7749 Star Route. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1964). Performances by country and western entertainers who have achieved a gold record.

Host: Rod Cameron. Regulars: Glen Campbell, Lorrie Collins, The Collins Kids. Musical: Gene Davis.

7750 Star Search. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1983). The program spotlights talented amateurs who compete in eight categories vying for the top prize of $100,000 and a chance at a professional show business career. Bob Banner and Sam Riddle are the producers.

Host: John Schneider (Pilot Episode), Ed McMahon (Series). Assistant: Marla Hasley. Announcer: Sam Riddle. Music: Joey Carbone, Michael Tavera, Chris Lightbody, David Nielsen.

7751 Star Stage. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1955–1956). A filmed series of dramas featuring well-known (at the time) actors and actresses.

7752 Star Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1963). "From the world's most exotic cities ... from Paris ... from London ... from Shanghai ... from New York; stories of the people who give these cities life on Star Theater." Repeats of selected dramas that originally aired on other filmed anthology programs. "You have been watching from Paris ... from London ... from Shanghai ... from New York; stories of the people who give these cities life on Star Theater. Be with us again next week."

7753 Star Tonight. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1955–1956). Dramatic presentations that each week teams an unknown performer with an established professional.

Performers Include: Nancy Malone, Lloyd Bochner, Neva Patterson, Barbara Joyce, Jane Seymour, Jason Robards, Jr., Valerie Cossart, Hildy Parks, Marian Winters, Nancy Coleman, Clifford David, Kay Medford, Dana White, Patricia Collinge, Vaughn Taylor, Don Dubbins, Doreen Lang, James Gregory, Kathleen Maguire, Jada Rowland, Jacqueline Holt, Lois Smith, Buster Crabbe, Charles Aidman, Joanne Woodward, Kim Hunter, Maureen Stapleton, Rebecca Sand, Lisa Daniels, Joe Maross, Efrem Zimbalist, Jr., Deirdre Owen, Robert Culp, Lawrence Hugo, June Lockhart, Leo G. Carroll.

7754 Star Trek. (Unaired Pilot; Science Fiction; Produced in 1964). The original pilot film for the 1966–1969 series Star Trek. The pilot, titled "The Cage," was shot in black and white and has Captain Christopher Pike as the captain of the starship U.S.S. Enterprise. The story follows Captain Pike as he and his crew attempt to rescue the survivors of an Earth ship stranded on a distant planet for 18 years. Mr.

Spock is the Vulcan Science Officer and other members of the crew, as listed in the cast, were replaced by those familiar to the actual series.

Cast: Jeffrey Hunter (Captain Christopher Pike), Leonard Nimoy (Mr. Spock), Majel Barrett (First Officer Number 1), John Hoyt (Dr. Philip Boyce), Susan Oliver (Vena), Joe Tyler (Navigator Jose), Peter Duryea (Navigator Taylor), Malachi Thorne (Jose Mendez), Laurel Goodwin (Laurel Goodwin).

7755 Star Trek. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 1966–1969). In a futuristic era (the 23rd century) the voyages of the U.S.S. Star Ship, Enterprise NCC-1701 are chronicled as it begins a five year mission "to boldly go where no man has gone before" — the far reaches of outer space "to explore strange new worlds." James T. Kirk is the ship's captain; Mr. Spock, Mr. Sulu, Leonard McCoy, Uhura, Montgomery Scott and Pavel Chekov support him.

Captain Kirk is the youngest captain (at 34) in Star Fleet history. His first assignment was as an ensign aboard the U.S.S. Republic. Four years later, as a lieutenant, he served aboard the U.S.S. Farragut. In 2264 he became the captain of Enterprise.

Mr. Spock is a Vulcan and serves as the Science Officer. He is the son of an Earth mother (Amanda Grayson) and a Vulcan father (Ambassador Sarek). Although true Vulcans show no emotion, Mr. Spock is often torn between human emotion and an emotionless and strict Vulcan philosophy. Mr. Spock joined Star Fleet Academy in 2249 and was first a cadet under Christopher Pike, the first captain of Enterprise. "Live long and prosper" is his catchphrase.

Uhura, a lieutenant, is a beautiful African-American woman (born in the United States of Africa in 2239) who serves as the Communications Officer. She speaks fluent Swahili and her name translates to mean Freedom. She can sing, play the Vulcan harp and she and Captain Kirk are famous for initiating TV's first interracial kiss.

Leonard McCoy, called "Bones" by Jim, is the ship's physician. He enjoyed an active practice for 12 years before he joined Star Fleet. His first assignment was Chief Medical Officer under Captain Kirk.

Montgomery Scott, nicknamed Scotty, is the ship's engineer. During his time at the Academy, he served on 11 ships; Enterprise was his first assignment as chief engineer (in 2264). Montgomery is Scottish, plays the bagpipes and has a beverage collection (which he acquired from all areas of the galaxy).

Hikaru Sulu is of Asian descent and was a physicist before joining Star Fleet. He is a helm officer and holds the rank of lieutenant.

Pavel Chekov was born in Russia and serves as a navigator. He holds the rank of ensign and claims Mother Russia was responsible for implementing many of the innovations used by Star Fleet.

Captain Kirk opens the show: “Space, the final frontier. These are the voyages of the Star Ship Enterprise. Its five year mission — to explore strange new worlds, to seek out new life and civilizations — to boldly go where no man has gone before.”

Cast: William Shatner (James T. Kirk), Leonard Nimoy (Mr. Spock), Nichelle Nichols (Uhura), DeForest Kelley (Leonard McCoy), James Doohan (Montgomery Scott), George Takei (Hikaru Sulu), Walter Koenig (Pavel Chekov), Bruce Hyde (Kevin Riley; crew member), James Wellman (Lt. Starnes; crew member), Jim Goodwin (Lt. John Farrell; crew member), Barbara Baldwin (Angela; crew member), Grant Woods (Lt. Kelowitz; crew member), Hagan Beggs (Lt. Hanson; crew member), John Winston (Transporter Chief Kyle), Sean Kenny (Mr. DePaul; crew member), Elizabeth Rogers (Lt. Palmer; crew member), Eddie Paskey (Lt. Leslie; crew member), Gene Lyons (Robert Fox; Ambassador of United Federation of Planets), Jane Wyatt (Amanda), Mark Lenard (Sarek), Craig Hyndley (Peter Kirk; Jim's nephew), Roger C. Carmel (Harry Mudd; interstellar con man).

7756 Star Trek. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1973–1975). An animated continuation of the 1966–1969 live action Star Trek series. The further explorations of the starship U.S.S. Enterprise as it embarks on a five year mission “to explore strange new worlds and go where no man has gone before.” James T. Kirk is the ship’s captain; Mr. Spock is the Vulcan Science Officer; Lt. Uhura is the communications officer; Leonard McCoy, called “Bones,” is the ship’s physician; Christine Chapel is the nurse; Lt. Montgomery Scott is the chief engineer; Mr. Sulu and Ensign Pavel Chekov are navigators.

Voice Cast: William Shatner (Capt. James T. Kirk), Leonard Nimoy (Mr. Spock), Nichelle Nichols (Lt. Uhura), DeForest Kelley (Dr. Leonard McCoy), James Doohan (Lt. Montgomery Scott), Majel Barrett (Nurse Christine Chapel), George Takei (Mr. Sulu), James Doohan (Ensign Pavel Chekov).

7757 Star Trek: Deep Space Nine. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1993–1999). A spin-off from Star Trek that focuses on the men and women of Deep Space Nine, a former Cardassian mining station that was revitalized as a crucial space station by Starfleet and the Bajoran government. It orbits the planet Bajor and it guards the opening of a stable wormhole that leads to the far side of the galaxy. Benjamin Sisko, Ezri Dax, Jadzia Dax and Kira Nerys are the key players.

Benjamin Sisko served a term as the commander of Deep Space Nine. He was later captain of the Starfleet ship U.S.S. Defiant NX-74205. Benjamin first worked aboard the U.S.S. Lexington. Ezri Dax is a station commander on Deep Space Nine. She was born on as Ezri Tigan on the planet Trill but grew up in the Suppora system (where she was chosen by the Symbiosis Institute to become a host for a Dax life force; it was then that she became known as Ezri Dax).

Jadzia Dax is the helm officer under Benjamin Sisko and the science officer aboard Deep Space Nine. Like Ezri, Jadzia is a combination of two life forms — a Trill and a Symbian Dax.

Kira Nerys is a Bajoran Militia Colonel assigned to Benjamin and the Defiant NX-74205. She possesses strategic and tactical skills and later accepts a major’s commission as the military attaché on Deep Space Nine.

Other Regulars: Constable Odo, Lt. Cmdr. Worf, Chief Miles Edward O’Brien and Dr. Julian Bashir.

Cast: Avery Brooks (Benjamin Sisko), Nicole de Boer (Ezri Dax), Terry Farrell (Jadzia Dax), Nana Visitor (Kira Nerys), Rene Auberjonois (Constable Odo), Michael Dorn (Lt. Cmdr. Worf), Colm Meaney (Miles Edward O’Brien), Alexander Siddig (Dr. Julian Bashir), Armin Shimerman (Quark), Cirroc Lofton (Jake Sisko).

7758 Star Trek: Enterprise. (Series; Science Fiction; UPN; 2001–2005). The final spin-off (as of 2008) from the original NBC series Star Trek that is set 100 years after First Contact (with the Vulcans) and before Captain James T. Kirk and his Starship Enterprise NCC-1701 began its historic five year mission to explore the galaxy.

Jonathan Archer is the son of Henry Archer, a scientist who developed the warp drive engine that made the flight of U.S.S. star ships possible. Jonathan dreamed of space travel and exploring new worlds. Eventually he would be chosen to captain the first star ship, Enterprise NX-01. His crew consists of Charles Tucker, Hoshi Sato, Phlox, T’Pol and Travis Mayweather.

Charles Tucker is the Chief Engineer. He was born in Florida and has the nickname Trip (for Triple; both his father and grandfather were also named Charles). Trip has been with Starfleet for 12 years and with Jonathan, were pioneers in the NX test program. He is an experienced orbital engineer and has the ability to repair a star ship in orbit.

Hoshi Sato is an ensign and the Communications Officer. She was a teacher of exolinguistics at Amazon University in Brazil when she was chosen by Jonathan to become part of his crew and initiate man’s thrust to explore other worlds.

Phlox is a Denobulan and the Chief Medical Officer. He was born on the planet Denobula and studied intergalactic medicine. He requires only six hours of sleep a year.

T’Pol is a beautiful Vulcan and serves as the Science Officer. Prior to joining Enterprise, T’Pol served as the Deputy Science Officer on the Vulcan ship

Seleya. A year later (2149) she became part of the Vulcan Consulate on Earth. She was next assigned as an observer on Enterprise when it began its first mission in 2151. She has the ability to mind meld (as does Mr. Spock of Star Trek).

Travis Mayweather is a Helmsman. He was born aboard his parents cargo ship, the Horizon, and grew up with a fascination for space travel. He has the ability to perform many different jobs at the same time.

Cast: Scott Bakula (Jonathan Archer), Jolene Blalock (T'Pol), Linda Park (Hoshi Sato), John Billingsley (Dr. Phlox), Anthony Montgomery (Travis Mayweather), Connor Trinneer (Charles Tucker III), Dominic Keating (Lt. Malcolm Reed).

7759 Star Trek: The Next Generation. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1987–1994). A spin-off from Star Trek that is set 95 years after Captain James T. Kirk and his ship, the Enterprise completed its historic five year exploration of deep outer space. Under the leadership of Jean-Luc Picard, captain of an upgraded star ship (Enterprise NCC-1701-D) and a new crew, a new series of missions is begun “to go where no man has gone before” (after Picard’s ship is lost opposing aliens, he commands the Sovereign Class Enterprise NCC 1701-E).

Other Regulars: Commander William T. Riker, Lt. Geordi La Forge, Lt. Natasha Yar, Dr. Beverly Crusher, Lt. Deanna Troi, Lt. Data, and Ensign Wesley Crusher.

Jean-Luc Picard was born on Earth (France) is 2305. He was first a captain then a commander. He was top in his class at Starfleet Academy and had his initial assignment as first officer (then captain) of the U.S.S. Stargazer.

William Riker is a captain under Picard. He was born in Valdez, Alaska, in 2335 and is married to crewmember Deanna Troi. William is well versed in legal issues and his first assignment was an ensign aboard the U.S.S. Pegasus.

Geordi La Forge is the Chief Engineer under Picard. He was born in the African Confederation on Earth in 2335. He is unique among Starfleet officers as he is blind (from birth). He is able to “see” by a device called a Visor (later by ocular implants). His first assignment was as an ensign aboard the U.S.S. Victor.

Natasha Yar, called Tasha, is the Chief of Security. She was born on the planet Turkana IV in 2337. Tasha was athletic and well trained in the martial arts but lost her life in 2364 when, during a rescue mission on Vagrall, she was hit with an invisible energy blast and died of severe head trauma.

Beverly Crusher is the Chief Medical Officer. She was born in Copernicus City, Iowa, in 2324. She is a graduate of Starfleet Medical School and her first assignment was under Jean-Luc Picard.

Deanna Troi is the daughter of a human father and a Betazoid mother. She was born on the planet Betazed near Lake El-Nar in 2336. She serves as the Counselor under Captain Picard. Deanna has telepathic powers and can emotionally bond with other species.

Data is a highly sophisticated android and serves as the Science Officer under Picard. Data’s first assignment was aboard the U.S.S. Trieste. He then served with Picard as the Operations Officer on Enterprise NCC 1701-D.

Cast: Patrick Stewart (Jean-Luc Picard), Jonathan Frakes (William T. Riker), LeVar Burton (Geordi La Forge), Gates McFadden (Beverly Crusher), Denise Crosby (Natasha Yar), Brent Spiner (Data), Marina Sirtis (Deanna Troi), Wil Wheaton (Wesley Crusher), Michael Dorn (Lt. Worf).

7760 Star Trek: Voyager. (Series; Science Fiction; UPN; 1995–2001). A spin-off from Star Trek that charts the progress of the U.S.S. Starfleet ship Voyager NCC-7465 as it seeks a way back to the Federation after becoming lost in the mysterious (and dangerous) Delta Quadrant (lost while pursuing a Marquis ship). Voyager remained lost for seven years until Captain Kathryn Janeway and her crew incorporated a Borg Tran Warp Conduit to return to Earth.

Kathryn Janeway is the best captain in Starfleet. She is tough and not afraid to take chances. She dislikes being called “Sir” or “Ma’am” and is well educated in math and science. B’Elanna Torres, Chakotay, The Doctor, Harry Kim, Neelix, Seven of Nine and Tuvok assist her.

B’Elanna Torres is Kathryn’s chief engineer. She is half Klingon and half human and later marries fellow crewmate Tom Paris. B’Elanna is tough, knowledgeable and independent.

Chakotay is a Native American descendant and is the First Officer on Voyager. He was first an instructor in Starfleet’s Advanced Tactical Training Program.

The Doctor is a sophisticated hologram that has been assigned as the Chief Medical Officer. He is actually an EMH (Emergency Medical Hologram, designation AK-1) that has been programmed to perform all types of medical procedures.

Harry Kim is the Operations Officer. He has degrees in engineering and analytical operations.

Neelix is a Talaxian and the Morale Officer under Captain Janeway. He was born on Rimax, a moon of the planet Talax in the Delta Quadrant. He also performs duties as a goodwill ambassador and enjoys cooking the various meals for the crew.

Seven of Nine has no official designation and has a great deal of knowledge of foreign species. Seven of Nine is actually Annika Hansen, an Earth girl who was assimilated by the evil alien race, the Borg

(a collection of a billion minds thinking as one). After living as a Borg drone for 10 years, Annika was rescued by the crew of Voyager and disconnected from the Borg Collective.

Tuvok is the Security Chief. He is a Vulcan and first served with Kathryn aboard the Starfleet's U.S.S. Billings. He is incapable of emotion and all his decisions are based on logic.

Cast: Kate Mulgrew (Kathryn Janeway), Roxann Dawson (B'Elanna Torres), Jeri Ryan (Seven of Nine), Robert Beltran (Chakotay), Tim Russ (Tuvok), Ethan Phillips (Neelix), Robert Picardo (The Doctor), Robert Duncan McNeil (Tom Paris), Garrett Wang (Harry Kim), Jennifer Lien (Kes), Nancy Hower (Ensign Samantha Wildman), Scarlett Pomers (Naomi Wildman), Majel Barrett (Computer Voice).

7761 Starcrossed. (Pilot; Fantasy; ABC; 1/31/85). When the leaders of her world enslave the people of her planet, thus ending their utopian society, a beautiful girl who resembles a human, escapes and retreats to Earth, where she hopes to find safety. She is followed by two men, agents of the leader, who have orders to capture her and bring her back to show others there is no hope in escape. While being pursued (in Los Angeles), the girl, who calls herself Mary, encounters Joey Callahan, an auto mechanic who rescues her. He soon learns her plight and agrees to help her. Complications set in when the federal government, who were aware of Mary's presence from the beginning, want her for observation. With Joe's help, Mary escapes from the government and she and Joey become fugitives. The unsold series was to relate Joey's efforts to help Mary get back to her world (to show her people how to resist their leaders) and their efforts to evade capture from the U.S. government and Mary's alien pursuers.

Cast: Belinda Bauer (Mary), James Spader (Joey Callahan), Ed Groenberg and Roland Groenberg (Mary's pursuers, called Enemy). Guest Cast: Jacqueline Brookes (Professor Hobbs), Peter Kowanko (Stewy), Clark Johnson (Ralph), Barbara Barnes (Waitress), James Kidnie (Agent). Theme Vocal: "I'm Restless" by Lynne Marta.

7762 Stargate Atlantis. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 2004–). A spin-off from Stargate SG-1. Dr. Elizabeth Weir is a diplomat; Major John Sheppard is the head of a Stargate military team. They have joined forces to explore the Lost City of Atlantis — the fabled city that has been discovered on a distant planet in the Pegasus Galaxy. Unfortunately, the trip though their Stargate (an alien portal that allows travel to other planets) is a one-way trip as Atlantis supports no technology for a return trip. Their mission is to investigate the secrets of Atlantis and bring back to Earth the treasures they may uncover. Now, with no support from Earth, or means of rescue, the team must find a power source to activate the Stargate and return home. In the meantime, their lives and the lives of the peace-loving aliens of Atlantis, are threatened by the Wraith, evil life-draining beings who seek to destroy the Stargate explorers — and anything else that gets in their way.

Dr. Elizabeth Weir is 35 years old. She can speak five languages and worked for the U.S. government as a high level negotiator before being offered command of the Stargate program by the President.

Major John Sheppard is a mathematical genius who was stationed at the McMurdock Air Force Base. He risks his life to get the job done and often defies authority to go with his gut instincts — which often prove right despite the backlash he gets from his superiors.

Teyla Emmagan is a native of Atlantis. She has lost most of her family to the Wraith and has become the unofficial leader of her people. She has joined with the Stargate team to defeat the Wraith.

Dr. Rodney McKay is an arrogant astrophysicist who worked with Samantha Carter (from the series Stargate SG-1) and is one of the world's leading authorities on Stargate technology.

Aiden Ford is a lieutenant under Major Sheppard. He volunteered for the Atlantis mission and is a bit trigger-happy but determined to destroy the Wraith.

Carson Beckett is the team's medical doctor. He is Scottish but possess a rare gene that allows him to use the ancient Atlantian technology.

Cast: Torri Higginson (Dr. Elizabeth Weir), Joe Flanigan (Major John Sheppard), Rachel Luttrell (Teyla Emmagan), Paul McGillion (Dr. Carson Beckett), David Hewlett (Dr. Rodney McKay), Rainbow Francks (Lt. Aiden Ford), Jason Momoa (Ranon Dex).

7763 Stargate: Infinity. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 2002–2003). An animated extension based on the live action series Stargate SG-1 (which see for background information concerning the history of the Stargate). Stargate Command is a secret U.S. government complex that enables men and women to travel from planet to planet via Stargate portals. Major Gus Bonner is a veteran explorer and the head of a group of young cadets. Also a part of Gus's team is Draga, a female Ancient, who may hold the key to the secrets of the Stargate (as they were built by a civilization called Ancients). On a mission to a jungle planet, where Gus and his team first encounter Draga, an evil alien named Da'Kyll (leader of the Tlak'khan) is also seeking Draga for the secrets she may hold. Stories follow Gus and his team as they attempt to return Draga to her home planet while at the same time protecting her from the alien forces who want her.

Voice Cast: Dale Wilson (Gus Bonner), Kathleen Barr (Draga), Tifanie Christun (Stacey Bonner), Mark Hildreth (R.J. Harrison), Mark Acherson (Da'Kyll), Mackenzie Gray (Pabk'Kal), Moneca Stori (Kreeda), Jim Byrnes, Bettina Bush.

7764 Stargate SG-1. (Series; Science Fiction; Sci Fi; 1997–2007). A Stargate is a mysterious alien portal that allows for intergalactic travel. The Stargate, as it is called, was created eons ago by a civilization called the Ancients and scattered throughout the universe. It's circular center contains an energy field that emits a wormhole that allows almost instantaneous travel to any planet that also contains a Stargate. It is activated by pushing symbols (similar to those of a telephone number).

With the ability to travel to various planets the U.S. government assembles a secret military team called SG-1 to explore the various worlds the portals will lead them. Jack O'Neill heads the team; he is assisted by Samantha Carter, Daniel Jackson and the alien Teal'c.

Jack, first a colonel (then a Brigadier General, then Major) has a sharp mind and a true concern for the inhabitants he encounters on distant planets. He is a by-the-books commander and not prone to violence unless circumstances force his hand.

Samantha, first a captain (then a Lt. Colonel and Major) is an expert astrophysicist who devotes all her energies to the Stargate program. She and Daniel were responsible for deciphering the Stargate address system when the first Stargate was found on Creek Mountain. Samantha also created the computer that activates Stargate. Samantha is overly brave and extremely loyal to her team.

Daniel is a student of ancient culture. He has a keen interest in the mysteries of the past and made archaeology his life's career. Daniel sees the world in scientific circles and is totally devoted to work.

Teal'c is a warrior whose name means Strength. He grew up in a society called Jaffa (he is actually a human who was used by his planet's enslavers, the Goa'uld, as an incubator for infant Goa'uld parasites). Teal'c opposed the Goa'uld (he believed they were not the gods they professed to be) and helped Jack and his team escape the Goa'uld. He then accepted Jack's invitation to join the team.

Stories follow SG-1 as they investigate strange new worlds.

Cast: Richard Dean Anderson (Jack O'Neill), Amanda Tapping (Samantha Carter), Christopher Judge (Teal'c), Michael Shanks (Daniel Jackson), Don S. Davis (Major Gen. George S. Hammond), Gary Jones (Sgt. Walter Harriman), Teryl Rothery (Dr. Janet Fraiser), Dan Shea (Sgt. Siler), Ben Browder (Lt. Col. Cameron Mitchell), Beau Bridges (Maj. Gen. Hank Landry), Claudia Black (Vala Mal Doran), Tony Amendola (Master Bra'tac), Corin Nemec (Jonas Quinn), Carmen Argenziano (Selmak), Peter Williams (Apophis), Bill Dow (Dr. Bill Lee), Eric Breker (Col. Reynolds).

7765 Starhunter. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 2001). In the year 2300 a retired space cruise ship from Trans Utopian Lines is re-outfitted as a ship for a crew of bounty hunters. The ship's name has faded and the remaining letters spell "Trans Utopian" (nicknamed "Tulip" by her crew). Rudolpho DeLuna owns the ship. Dante Montana heads the team of bounty hunters: Percy Montana, Dante's niece; Lucrecia Scott, a former marine; Dante's son, Travis, and Travis's sidekick, Marcus Fagen. Callista "Callie" Larkadia assists Rudolpho. Stories relate their experiences as they patrol the galaxy seeking fugitive criminals.

7766 Stark. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 4/10/85). The first of two pilots about Patrick Evan Stark, a tough, hard-drinking Kansas police detective, and Ashley Walters, his partner, a beautiful ex-casino blackjack dealer. The pilot episode relates how Stark and Ashley become partners: When his sister, Laura, a chorus girl, disappears, Stark travels to Las Vegas to find her. There he meets and befriends Ashley, a former roommate of Laura's, who offers to assist him. Together they join forces to find Laura and become involved with corruption, blackmail, the mob and murder. See also the following title. Other Regulars: Lieutenant Ron Bliss, Las Vegas P.D. and Chief Waldron, Wichita, Kansas, P.D.

Cast: Nick Surovy (Patrick Stark), Dennis Hopper (Ron Bliss), Pat Corley (Chief Waldron). Guest Cast: Kirstie Alley (Maggie Carter), Gina Gershon (Allison Cromwell), Michelle Phillips (Jennifer Clay).

ton), David Ackroyd (Clayton), Barry Gordon (Lee Vogel), Belinda J. Montgomery (Claire Graves), Peter Murphy (Steve Graves), Thomas Ryan (Wade Davis), Diane Delano (Simone).

Other Regulars are Jake Donovan, Ian's writing assistant; and Maddie Keller, the college student who works as a bartender at Ian's favorite watering hole.

Cast: Tony Shalhoub (Ian Stark), Neil Patrick Harris (Henry McNeeley), Heather Paige Kent (Maddie Keller), Eddie McClintock (Jake Donovan), Dorie Barton (Tess Farraday).

7769 The Starland Vocal Band. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1977). Music, songs and comedy sketches starring the Starland Vocal Band.

Hosts: The Starland Vocal Band (Margot Chapman, Jon Carroll, Bill Danoff, Taffy Danoff). Regulars: Jeff Altman, Peter Bergman, David Letterman, Mark Russell. Orchestra: Milt Okin.

7770 The Starlet. (Series; Reality; WB; 2005). A stylish reality series that sets out to find a young actress with major star potential. Ten girls, selected from open auditions across the country, are brought to Hollywood to compete against each other for the opportunity of a lifetime. The girls attend acting classes, perform in screen tests (with established stars) and perform scenes from movies and TV shows. The top prize is a role on the WB series One Tree Hill and a one-year management contract with 3 Arts Entertainment. The women are judged by a panel and must demonstrate qualities of talent, star potential and attitude.

Host: Katie Wagner. Judges: Faye Dunaway, Vivica A. Fox, Joseph Middleton (a casting director).

7771 Starlight Theater. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1950–1951). Romantic stories featuring well-known actors. The series, which produced 46 episodes, ran from April 2, 1950 to October 4, 1951.

Performers Include: Cara Williams, Meg Mundy, Barry Nelson, Mildred Natwick, Susan Douglas, George Reeves, Neil Hamilton, Betty Garde, Judy Parrish, Mary Malone, Conrad Janis, Arnold Stang, Warren Stevens, Olive Deering, Joshua Shelley, Nancy Kelly, Lonny Chapman, Margaret Hayes, Dorothy Gish, Wally Cox, John Forsythe, Virginia Gilmore, Geraldine Brooks, Julie Harris, Jackie Cooper, Glenda Farrell, William Prince.

7772 The Starlost. (Series; Science Fiction; Syn.; 1993–1994). On Earth in the year 2285, a catastrophe of galactic proportions threatened all life on the planet. The Committee of Scientists and Philosophers set about selecting desirable elements of Earth life to seed other planets in an effort to save the legacy and culture of the human race. In order to do this, the committee built the Earth Ship Ark, a spaceship 8,000 miles in character, which became the most monumental task humanity had ever undertaken.

The Ark is an organic cluster of environmental domes called biospheres which are looped to one another through tubular corridors for life support and communications. In the biospheres are representative segments of Earth's population — three million beings in all. Whole, separate ecologies are sealed from one another and isolated to preserve their characteristics.

The Ark was launched that year and programmed to find a solar system of a Class Six star. The Ark traveled for 100 years before it locked into a collision course with a Class G solar star. "No further data recorded."

The series is set in the year 2795; the only thing that is known about the Ark is that in the year 2790 it landed in a hilly area of a place called Cypress Corners. The area where the ship rests is now thought to be a place of evil by the inhabitants.

The people of Cypress Corners lead a simple life (much like the Amish). Devon is the village blacksmith. He is poor "and has nothing." Devon is in love with Rachel, a girl of higher social status, who is deemed unsuitable for him. Rachel has been promised to a man of equal status named Garth. Despite the fact that "the Creator" has deemed Devon's love for Rachel to be forbidden, he pursues Rachel and defies tradition. Devon is then said to be possessed by wickedness and is ordered killed as he is threatening genetic balance.

When Devon overhears what is being planned for him, he takes refuge in the forbidden cave. There, as he enters the Earth Ship Ark, he is amazed to see a fabulous arena of controls. He accidentally touches one and activates a computer host named Mulander 165. It is through Mulander 165, "a visualization appropriate to pre-programmed word replies," that Devon learns about the fate of the Ark.

Devon leaves the safety of the Ark to find Rachel. In doing so, he is captured, imprisoned and sentenced to death. When Rachel visits Devon, he tells her about the wonders he has seen. Rachel professes her love for him and will return with him if he can escape. Shortly after, Garth helps Devon to escape so he will flee and leave Rachel alone. Rachel, however, joins Devon. As they journey to the Ark, they are followed by Garth. When Garth is unable to persuade Rachel to return with him, he decides to remain to protect her from Devon.

Stories depict their adventures as they explore the various biospheres, searching for someone or something to explain the mystery of the great catastrophe and save the remains of Earth life by finding the Class Six star — the Starlost.

Other Roles: Oro, the alien from the planet Exar. He originally presented himself as an explorer whose spacecraft Explorer Craft 531 crashed into the Ark. It was later learned that he is on a mission for his planet's leaders to seize the Ark and bring it into Exar's orbit at all costs. Oro is now a fugitive on the Ark and sought by Devon and Garth; Idona is from the Ark biosphere Igret and is also known as 419B2. She was saved by Oro when he discovered her gasping for breath in her now contaminated biosphere. She now assists him.

Cast: Keir Dullea (Devon), Gay Rowan (Rachel), Robin Ward (Garth), William Osler (Mulander 165), Walter Koenig (Oro), Alexandra Bastedo (Idona).

7773 Starman. (Series; Science Fiction; ABC; 1986–1987). On a visit to the planet Earth, an alien meets and befriends Jenny Hayden, a woman with whom he has an affair. Nine months later, Jenny gives birth to a boy she names Scott. Before authorities, who were suspicious of the alien, can capture him, he escapes and returns to his home planet. Jenny changes her name to Karen Easley and goes into hiding to protect Scott.

Fourteen years later, when the alien (called Starman) believes his son is in trouble, he begins a journey back to Earth. As he journeys, a helicopter on which Open Mind magazine photographer Paul Forrester is traveling, crashes. The Starman happens upon the crash site and assumes Paul's identity to protect himself. The Starman finds Scott but has a difficult time winning his trust. After learning that Jenny had no choice but to give Scott up for adoption (unable to care for him on her own and on the run), Starman and Scott join forces to help each other and find Jenny. Stories relate their search and attempts to avoid capture by George Fox, a Federal Security Agent who believes Paul is an alien and seeks to capture him. Based on the 1984 feature film of the same title.

Other Regulars: Liz Baynes, the newspaper reporter who helps Paul and Scott; Stella Forrester; the real Paul's mother; Wayne Geffner, Jenny's brother; Phyllis Geffner, Wayne's wife.

Cast: Robert Hays (Paul Forrester/Starman), C.B. Barnes (Scott Hayden), Michael Cavanaugh (George Fox), Mimi Kuzak (Liz Baynes), Erin Gray (Jenny Hayden/Karen Easley), Jane Wyatt (Stella Forrester), Brooke Bundy (Phyllis Geffner), Joshua Bryant (Wayne Geffner).

7774 Starr, First Baseman. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/23/65). A proposed series about Joe Starr, a rookie with the New York Yankees baseball team. The pilot episode relates Joe's efforts to make a comeback after he is hit in the head by a pitched ball.

Cast: Martin Milner (Joe Starr), Stuart Whitman (Coach Freddie Gordon), David Thurshy (Eddie Ryan, the manager).

7775 Starring Boris Karloff. (Series; Anthology; ABC; 1949). The alternate title for The Boris Karloff Mystery Playhouse. See this title for information.

7776 Stars in Khaki and Blue. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1952). Performances by members of the armed services. The program ran for only three episodes, from September 13, 1952 to September 27, 1952.

Hostess: Wendy Barrie.

7777 Stars on Parade. (Series; Variety; Dumont; 1953–1954). Performances by both military and civilian talent. It ran from November 4, 1953 to June 30, 1954.

Host: Bobby Sherwood, Don Russell. Orchestra: Elliot Lawrence.

7778 Stars Over Hollywood. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1950–1951). A series of dramatic programs from Hollywood. The series, which produced 34 episodes, aired from September 27, 1950 to May 16, 1951.

Performers Include: Anita Louise, Gloria Saunders, Bruce Cabot, Mary Stuart, Ellen Corby, Frances Rafferty, Marsha Van Dyke, Harold Peary, Leon Ames, Adele Jergens, Helen Parrish, Carole Matthews, Cliff Arquette, Stanley Andrews, Frank Jenks, Maria Palmer, Cameron Mitchell, Raymond Burr, Gerald Mohr, Buddy Ebsen, Ross Ford, Lynn Roberts, Sally Parr, Ray Montgomery.

7779 Starsky and Hutch. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1975–1979). Dave Starsky and Ken "Hutch" Hutchinson are dedicated plainclothes detectives with the Metropolitan Division of the L.A.P.D.

Dave lives at 2000 Ridgeway Drive; Ken resides at the beach at the Venice Place Apartments at 1027½ Ocean in Sea Point. Dave is a junk food junkie while Ken is a vitamin fanatic. Ken plays guitar and is a ladies' man (as is Dave) and takes his guns everywhere he goes — even to visit his mother.

Dave and Ken argue about everything — how to proceed on a case, whose car to use in a chase, who is going to fill out the police report. Dave is the younger of the two and is quite reckless. He plunges head first into situations without thinking first (another thing they argue about). Ken is more laid back and while he likes to get the job done, he feels caution is their friend and would like to do a little planning before going into a dangerous situation. Dave sometimes agrees — but as events in the case change, Dave feels he has to turn with it in order to capture a suspect. Ken often finds himself doing what he doesn't want to do to prevent Dave from getting himself killed. In the end they are best friends; as Dave says, "Me and thee are the only two people we can trust."

Captain Harold Dobby is the Captain of Detectives. He is most annoyed by Dave and Ken's gung-ho approaches to battling crime and while he puts up with it, he would like one thing from them — their daily reports on a daily basis — not on the weekly basis they use. He also complains about their continual bickering and their habit of slamming the door when they leave his office.

Huggy Bear is the snitch (information man) most often used by Dave and Ken. Huggy fancies himself as a magician (Huggy, the Magician with Soul) but is actually a man of many unlawful pursuits who helps Dave and Ken put criminals behind bars. He hangs out at a girlie bar called Jungle Club and owns Huggy Bear's Restaurant.

Cast: Paul Michael Glaser (Dave Starsky), David Soul (Ken Hutchinson), Bernie Hamilton (Capt. Harold Dobby), Antonio Fargas (Huggy Bear), Michael Lerner (Fat Rollo; an informant). Theme Song: "Starsky and Hutch Theme" by Tom Scott.

7780 Starstruck. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/9/79). An orbiting way station somewhere between Earth and Pluto in the twenty-second century is the setting for a proposed series about the McCallisters, a family of six who run McCallisters Midway Inn, a combination hotel, restaurant and saloon. Regulars: Ben McCallister, the widowed owner; Kate, Mark and Rupert, his children; Ezra and Abigail, his parents; Amber, the lounge singer; and Delight, the waitress.

Cast: Beeson Carroll (Ben McCallister), Tania Myren (Kate McCallister), Meegan King (Mark McCallister), Kevin Brando (Rupert McCallister), Guy Raymond (Ezra McCallister), Elvia Allman (Abigail McCallister), Lynne Lipton (Amber LaRue), Sarah Kennedy (Delight). Guest Cast: Robin Strand (Chance), Joe Silver (Max), Roy Brocksmith (Orthwaite Frodo), Cynthia Latham (Madame DuMont), Chris Walas (Mary-John), Robert Short (Hudson).

7781 The Start of Something Big. (Series; Human Interest; Syn.; 1985). The program features celebrity guests discussing their beginnings in show business; the secrets of successful people who made it big; and the fascinating origins of everyday people and events. The title is derived from the song "This Could Be the Start of Something Big" (which is also the show's theme song) by Steve Allen.

Host: Steve Allen. Narrator: David Dutcher.

7782 Startime. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1950–1951). A program of music, songs and comedy skits that ran from October 6, 1950 to February 2, 1951.

Hostess: Frances Langford. Host: Don Ameche. Regulars: Kathryn Lee, Lew Parker, Ben Blue, Phil Regan, The Benny Goodman Sextet, The Don Liberti Chorus.

7783 Starting Fresh. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/27/79). Margaret "Maggie" Harris is a beautiful 36-year-old divorcee who enrolls at the same college as her 17-year-old daughter, Stephanie. The unsold series was to relate the misadventures that occur when Maggie and Stephanie become more than just mother and daughter, but students who also share the same classes. Other Regulars: Phoebe, the dean of admissions; Judy, Stephanie's friend; and Cliffie, the son of Maggie's landlord.

Cast: Lynnette Mettey (Maggie Harris), Kimberly Beck (Stephanie Harris), Janie Sell (Phoebe Johnson), Susan Duvall (Judy), Ike Eisenmann (Cliffie).

7784 Starting from Scratch. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1988). James Shepherd is a divorced veterinarian living in Ohio. He is divorced from Helen and the father of Kate and Robbie. James has a very busy practice, an ex-wife who constantly intrudes in his life (she can't seem to stay away from him) and two children with numerous problems. Stories find James struggling to cope with all the problems that constantly disrupt his life.

Other Regulars: Rose, James's assistant; Frank, Helen's second husband; Brandon, James's brother; and Alfred and Miriam, Helen's parents. Kate attends the University of Ohio; Rose was a former lion tamer's assistant.

Cast: Bill Daily (James Shepherd), Connie Stevens (Helen D'Angelo), Heidi Helmer (Kate Shepherd), Jason Marin (Robbie Shepherd), Nita Talbot (Rose), Carmine Caridi (Frank D'Angelo), Larry Linville (Brandon Shepherd), Larry Haines (Alfred), Maxine Miller (Miriam).

7785 Starting Now. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/4/89). Felicia Kent is the star of a television show called Gosimer Glen. She has several behind-the-scenes people including Aggie, her script writer; Nelson, her producer; and Ricki, her production assistant. Ricki is eager to become an actress and her struggles to achieve that dream is the focal point of the unsold series. Other Regulars: Schuyler, Ricki's roommate; and Bing, Felicia's co-star.

Cast: Ricki Lake (Ricki Ross), Cecilia Hart (Felicia Kent), Jodi Thelen (Schuyler), Jessica James (Aggie), Nicholas Pryor (Nelson Sturgess), Brian O'Connor (Bing Taylor). Guest Cast: Paul Gleason (Harold), Tom Silardi (Phil).

7786 Starting Over. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 2003–2005). A daily daytime reality series that focuses on women and the problems they face (and hope to overcome). Selected women come from all walks of life and need to overcome issues that will lead them out of depression and into a fulfilling life. As the women discuss their problems, they receive help from the show's life coaches. The program follows the women's progress as they learn how to use what is at their disposal to overcome their feelings and return to a normal life.

Life Coach: Rana Walker, Rhonda Britten, Iyanla Vanzant.

7787 Stat! (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 7/31/73). A proposed series about the harried medical staff of a large hospital who are forced to cope with a physically and emotionally exhausting daily routine.

Cast: Frank Converse (Dr. Ben Voorhees), Michael Delano (Dr. Nick Candros), Marian Collier (Nurse Ellen Quayle), Casey MacDonald (Dr. Jan Cavanaugh). Guest Cast: Henry Brown (Dr. Neil Patricks), Monika Henreid (Mary Ann Murphy), Peggy Rea (Doris Runyon), Marcy Lafferty (Dolores Payne).

7788 Stat! (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1991). The ER room of Hudson Memorial Hospital is the setting for a comical look at a trauma center staffed by highly skilled fiercely dedicated physicians whose offbeat sense of humor is their only emotional safety valve.

Cast: Dennis Boutsikaris (Dr. Tony Menzies), Alison LaPlaca (Dr. Elizabeth Newberry), Casey Biggs (Dr. Louis Doniger), Talia Balsam (Nurse Rita Falcon), Alix Elias (Jeanette Lemp, the insurance carrier).

7789 The State. (Series; Comedy; MTV; 1993). A skit series featuring the comedy of a troupe known as the State, a group that spoofs everything from religion and ethnic groups to movies and TV shows.

The State: Kevin Allison, Michael Ian Black, Ben Garant, Todd Holoubek, Michael Patrick Jann, Kerri Kenney, Thomas Lennon, Joe Lo Truglio, Ken Marino, Michael Showalter, David Wain.

7790 State Fair. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 5/14/76). Events in the lives of the Bryants, a family of five living on a dairy farm in Ohio: parents Melissa and Jim; Karen, their divorced daughter, and her son, Tommy; and their sons, Chuck, who is studying to become a veterinarian; and Wayne, who dreams of becoming a country music star.

Cast: Vera Miles (Melissa Bryant), Tim O'Connor (Jim Bryant), Julie Cobb (Karen Bryant Miller), Dennis Redfield (Chuck Bryant), Mitch Vogel (Wayne Bryant), Jeff Cotler (Tommy Miller). Guest Cast: W.T. Zacha (Catfish McKay), Jack Garner (Mr. Grant), Virginia Gregg (Miss Detweller), Harry Moses (Ben Roper), Joel Stedman (David Clemmans), Dina Ousley (Marnie), Rance Howard (Deputy), Ivor Francis (Judge).

7791 State of Grace. (Series; Comedy; ABC Family; 2001–2002). Hannah Rayburn is a successful 47-year-old journalist living in current day 2001.

As Hannah recalls her childhood, the viewer is taken back to North Carolina in the year 1965 (where 12-year-old Hannah and her family have just relocated from Illinois).

Hannah is Jewish and has been raised by very strict parents (David and Evelyn). She feels out of place and alone until Grace McKee, an independent, vibrant 12-year-old Catholic girl from a wealthy family enters her life and the two become friends. The series is a coming of age story as Hannah recalls the good times she shared with Grace. The concept is nothing new (it does borrow elements from The Wonder Years and My Life and Times) but it is nostalgic and enjoyable.

Cast: Alia Shawkat (Young Hannah Rayburn), Frances McDormand (Adult Hannah/Narrator), Mae Whitman (Grace McKee), Dinah Manoff (Evelyn Rayburn), Michael Mantell (David Rayburn), Faye Grant (Tattie McKee), Erica Yohn (Granda Ida), Jason Bliker (Uncle Hescie).

7792 State of Mind. (Series; Drama; Lifetime; 2007). Dr. Ann Bellows is a psychiatrist who operates out of a large Victorian townhouse (that doubles as the business, New Haven Psychiatric Associates) in New Haven, Connecticut. She shares the residence with her husband, Dr. Phil Bellows, Dr. Taj Kalid, an arrogant psycho-pharmacologist; Dr. Cordelia Banks, a psychologist who uses the basement as a center for at-risk teenagers; and child psychologist Dr. James Le Croix. Although not a doctor, Barry White, a novice young lawyer becomes a tenant in the house after Ann catches her husband having an affair with their shrink and tosses him out.

Particular focus is on Ann and how she deals with her patients. As Ann narrates and talks about her colleagues, scenes switch to relate their stories and how they handle specific patients. The program does attempt to offer solutions to real life problems through the counseling sessions that are shown.

Cast: Lili Taylor (Ann Bellows), Theresa Randle (Cordelia Banks), Derek Riddell (James Le Croix), Mido Hamada (Taj Kalid), Devon Gummersall (Barry White), Kevin Chamberlain (Fred Smedresman), Chris Diamantopoulos (Phil Bellows).

7793 State Trooper. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1957). Rod Blake is the chief of the Nevada State Troopers. He is representative of such troopers all over the United States and stories, based on official files, relate his case investigations.

Cast: Rod Cameron (Rod Blake).

7794 The Statler Brothers Show. (Series; Variety; Nashville Network; 1991). A weekly program featuring the music of the Statler Brothers (brothers Harold and Don Reid and singer-musicians Phil Balsley, Lew DeWitt) along with the top names in country and western music as their guests (for example, Dolly Parton, Barbara Mandrell, Jimmy Fortune).

Hosts: Don Reid, Harold Reid. Orchestra: Bill Walker.

7795 Staying Afloat. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 11/26/93). Alexander Hollingsworth III was a billionaire who was disinherited by his family for his addiction to gambling. The proposed series was to relate his efforts to maintain his lavish lifestyle by doing undercover work for the Federal government. The pilot episode relates his efforts to bust an arms dealer (Henry Ashley).

Cast: Larry Hagman (Alexander Hollingsworth III). Guest Cast: Dakin Matthews (Henry Ashley), Claire Yarlett (Laura Morton), Gregg Henry (Ed Smith), Mario Ernesto Sanchez (Phillipe), Antoni Carone (Carlos).

7796 Steambath. (Series; Comedy; Showtime; 1984–1985). An allegorical series about life in the hereafter. The program, set in a sauna, relates the experiences of four souls who are placed on a waiting list between this world and the next. Based on the off-Broadway play of the same title. Morty is the washroom attendant who appears as God; the featured four souls are Meredith, the sexy female; Rod Tandy, the PR man; Blanche, the sensual middle-aged woman; and Davinci, the cab driver.

Cast: Jose Perez (Morty), Janis Ward (Meredith), Robert Picardo (Rod Tandy), Rita Taggart (Blanche), Al Ruscio (Davinci), Neil J. Schwartz (In-Limbo Soul), Patrick Spooan (In-Limbo Soul). Theme Music: Dave Frishberg.

7797 Stedman. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1977). Three pilots were produced for NBC for a series about Bill Stedman, the sheriff of Sun Valley, a sleepy ski resort town in Idaho. The first pilot, “The Deadly Triangle,” was two hours and ran on 5/19/77. It focused on Bill’s efforts to solve the murder of an aspiring skier who was shot while practicing the biathlon.

The second two hour pilot was actually two one hour pilots that were edited together to form the television movie Crisis in Sun Valley (3/29/78). In the first pilot (“Outward Bound”), Bill struggles to safeguard a group of New York students who are planning a dangerous mountain climb. “The Vanishing Kind,” the second story, finds Bill investigating reports of sabotage in a newly developed condominium.

Cast: Dale Robertson (Bill Stedman), Taylor Lacher (Deputy Archie Sykes). Guest Cast (The Deadly Triangle): Robert Lansing (Charles Cole), Linda Scruggs Bogart (Joanne Price), Diana Muldaur (Edith Cole), Geoffrey Lewis (Red Bayliss), Maggie Wellman (Merrie Leonard). Guest Cast (Crisis in Sun Valley): Bo Hopkins (Buchanan), Tracy

Brooks Swope (Sheila), Ken Swofford (Thorndike), Paul Brinegar (Poole), Susan Adams (Eva), Julie Parsons (Jenny).

7798 Steel Collar Man. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 8/7/85). Dr. Constance Fletcher, a robotics designer for Ultra Intelligent Machines, develops D-5-B, a superhuman android who can think for itself and learn from experience. Fearing the prospect of intelligent humanoids in the armed forces, the government orders the destruction of D-5-B and assigns agent J.G. Willis the task of retrieving D-5-B’s fifth generation computer brain. Unwilling to see D-5-B destroyed, Constance allows her creation to escape. The unsold series was to relate D-5-B’s efforts to avoid capture by Willis, who relentlessly pursues him. In the pilot episode, D-5-B befriends Red, a truck driver, and becomes involved with Don Liddle, a used car salesman who owes a mobster $50,000 he doesn’t have. Originally titled “D-5-B: Steel Collar Man.”

Cast: Charles Rocket (D-5-B), Hoyt Axton (Red), Dorian Lopinto (Dr. Constance Fletcher), Chuck Connors (J.G. Willis). Guest Cast: Paul Dooley (Don Liddle), Chuck Mitchell (Big Jake), David Wohl (Weasel), Robert O’Reilly (Johnny), Jeffrey Josephson (Tino), John Brandon (General), Dan Barrows (Al), David Dunard (Bob), Kelly Jean Peters (Bob’s wife).

7799 Steel Magnolias. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/17/90). The lives, loves and laughter of a group of women in the small town of Chinquapin, Louisiana: the good-natured, wise-cracking Truvy Jones and her assistant, Annelle Dupuy, who is devout as she is outspoken, and who run “the best beauty parlor in town” (Truvy’s Beauty Spot); M’Lynn Eatenton, a career woman and mother; and Clairee Belcher, widow of the former mayor and owner of the local radio station. Based on the feature film of the same title.

7800 Steeltown. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 5/19/79). Events in the life of Modge Modgelewsky, a widowed steelworker with the Riverbend Steel Company in Riverbend, Pennsylvania. The pilot episode focuses on Modge’s clash with Bill Anderson, the company president, as he seeks to negotiate for higher wages and better working conditions. Other Regulars: Aggie, Modge’s daughter; Stevie and Chris, his sons; Janet, Bill's mother; and Gibby, Bill's brother.

Cast: Frank Converse (Modge Modgelewsky), Mare Winningham (Aggie Modgelewsky), Justin Randi (Stevie Modgelewsky), Kraig Cassity (Chris Modgelewsky), James Carroll Jordan (Bill Anderson), Bibi Besch (Janet Anderson), Michael Biehn (Gibby Anderson). Guest Cast: Wendy Rastatter (Terri), Anna Garduno (Alma), Trevor Henley (Ed Lemke), Charles Cooper (Charley Lemke), Kevin Geer (Joe Falcone).

7801 Step by Step. (Series; Comedy; ABC, 1991–1997; CBS, 1997–1998). Carol Foster is a widow with three children, Dana, Karen and Mark. Franklin “Frank” Delano Lambert is a divorced father with three children, Alicia, nicknamed “Al,” J.T. and Brendon. They live at 201 Winslow Street in Port Washington, Wisconsin.

Carol, a beautician, operates Carol's Beauty Boutique from her home. She is neat (for example, she alphabetizes soup cans; irons Karen and Dana's lingerie) and tries to run the house on a schedule. She mentions Baker as her maiden name; later it's Williams. In her youth, Carol sang with a band, and in 1971 won first runner-up in the Miss Small Curd Cottage Cheese Beauty Pageant (“I lost to a girl with bigger curds”). She hates to be called a nag by Frank.

Frank, an independent contractor, owns the Lambert Construction Company. He is a member of the Mallard Lodge. The simplest things about Carol impress Frank (for example, “She reads books — not just paperbacks but hardbacks”), and when it comes to explaining aspects of life to the kids, Frank uses a construction site story (Carol uses a beauty parlor story). Frank is president of the Milwaukee Tile and Grout Association. His first wife ran off to become a lounge singer in Las Vegas; and, according to Carol, Frank and his kids are “slobs.” Frank coaches the Cubs, a Little League team, and hates to be called a liar by Carol.

Dana, Carol's eldest daughter, is a straight A student, very pretty, always impeccably dressed and sensitive to the fact that she has small breasts (as Alicia puts it — “You're smart and it's a good thing because you have no boobs”). She shares a bedroom with Karen and Alicia and attended Lincoln Elementary School (an honors student), Port Washington High (writer for the newspaper, the Wildcatter) and East Wisconsin University (nicknamed Cheese Whiz U.). Dana is hoping to become a lawyer; she worked as the assistant manager of the 50's Cafe and volunteers at the Tri County Mission.

Karen, at age 14, knows she is beautiful (“I'm what the guys call a babe”). She attended the same grammar and high schools as Karen and is often mistaken for a model (“I just look like one, but I'm not”). Karen is very concerned about her appearance, especially her makeup (“A mirror is my best friend”).

Carol believes her obsession started the day she gave Karen a Brooke Shields doll. Karen reads Chic and Cosmopolitan and was a teen model at Peterson's Department Store. She can't resist a sale at the mall; if she is even five minutes late, she feels there are people buying things she should have.

Alicia, a very pretty tomboy, attended Miss Daisy's Ducky Room Preschool; later she attended Port Washington High. She always fears the worst in a situation and has a rattlesnake's head preserved in a jar; she also has a pet pig named Bullet. Alicia is a catcher for the Beavers Little League team and a smart aleck (Dana thinks she needs an attitude adjustment and calls her “you little criminal”). Alicia played drums in an all-girl rock band called Chicks with Attitudes (their first gig was at Greco's Bowl-a-Rama). Her first job was as a waitress at Mr. Chips, the cookie store in the mall. She next worked as the waitress Peggy Sue at the 50's Cafe. Alicia is a hopeful actress and starred as Lola Fontaine in the Community Playhouse production of “Death of a Salesman.”

John Thomas, called J.T., attends Port Washington High and is a member of the track team. He is a walking disaster and has no flair for the construction business; he works on occasion as Carol's shampoo boy in the salon. The Burger Palace is his after school hangout. He fancies himself a ladies' man; Dana sees him as “a pea-brained idiot.” He worked at the 50's Cafe as a waiter named Cubby.

Mark, who attended Canyon Elementary then Port Washington High, is the brains of the family. He has a working model of the human intestine in his bedroom and a sexy female-voiced computer named Charlene.

Brendon hangs out with Mark at the Burger Barn. Brendon, the shy one, loves double-stuffed Oreos and spaghetti and meatballs.

In the 1995 season finale, Carol gave birth to a girl she and Frank named Lily Foster-Lambert. When the series returned for a new season, Brendon was dropped (like he was never there) and Lily advanced to the age of five, giving the Lamberts six children, not seven.

Cody Lambert, Frank's nephew, works in demolition and lives in a van (Lucille) parked in the driveway. He believes he “is the coolest guy on the planet” (“No chick can resist my personal magnetism”; Dana believes he is “a brain-dead idiot”). Cody and J.T. had a cable access program called J.T. and Cody's World and Cody started an exercise club for “major babes” (women over 70) called “Body by Cody.” Cody, called “the Codeman” by J.T., attended the University of Wisconsin and was a member of the Delta Delta Beta Fraternity. He was suddenly written out of the series with no explanation — until the episode of 6/19/98 when he returned to tell everyone that he left on a spiritual quest to find the ultimate hamburger (which he found at a McDonald's in Tibet).

7802 Step This Way. (Series; Contest; NBC; 1955–1956). Couples compete in several phases of a dance contest: their own specialty dances and "The Dance of the Week" selection. A guest panel judges the couples and the winners receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Bobby Sherwood. Judges: Zedan and Carol (Professional Dancers).

7803 Step This Way. (Series; Contest; Syn.; 1966). A revised version of the above title that features, in addition to the dance contest, host Gretchen Wyler teaching dance instruction for home viewers.

Hostess: Gretchen Wyler. Announcer: Jim Lucas.

7804 Stephanie. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 9/8/81). Stephanie Burke is a reporter and the hostess of L.A.L.A. a local Los Angeles newsmagazine broadcast over KXLA-TV. The proposed series was to focus on Stephanie's reporting assignments and her clash with her producer, Agnes Dewey, a fastidious woman who wants Stephanie to be dignified, well-informed and objective and change her breezy, undignified style of reporting. In the pilot episode, Stephanie attempts to reunite a famous cellist from Bulgaria with his estranged wife of seventeen years. Other Regulars: Harry, the field producer; Rita, Agnes's secretary; Claude, the audio man; and Sonny, a cameraman.

Cast: Stephanie Faracy (Stephanie Burke), Betty White (Agnes Dewey), Robert Hitt (Harry Babcock), Jeanetta Arnette (Rita Melvoin), Alvy Moore (Claude Pomerantz), Kent Perkins (Sonny Brazil). Guest Cast: Steve Landesberg (Anatole Pinsky), Kres Mer-sky (Hannah Pinsky), Martin Zagon (Ned Sweeney), Matthew Faison (Dr. Igmarr Nordquist).

7805 The Stephanie Miller Show. (Series; Talk; Syn.; 1995). Comedienne Stephanie Miller hosts a late night talk-variety program that features "edgy" celebrity interviews, contemporary comedy skits and reactions from the studio audience.

Louis Nye, Ruth Briggs, The David Winters Dancers. Music: The Terry Gibbs Band.

7807 The Steve Allen Comedy Hour. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1980–1981). A weekly, short-lived (5 episode) series of comedy skits hosted by singer-actor-composer Steve Allen.

Host: Steve Allen. Regulars: Catherine O'Hara, Bill Saluga, Helen Brooks, Carol Donnelly, Kaye Ballard, Joe Baker Thomas Leopold, Bob Shaw, Joey Forman, Fred Smoot, Nancy Steen, Dorothy Hess.

7808 The Steve Allen Comedy Hour. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/30/81). A proposed series of comedy sketches based on Steve Allen's television programs of the 1950s.

Host: Steve Allen. Regulars: Joe Baker, Foster Brooks, Tom Leopold, Bill Saluga, Nancy Steen. Guests: Kaye Ballard, Billy Crystal, Bob Elliott, Ray Goulding.

7809 The Steve Allen Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1956–1959). Music, comedy and celebrity interviews. The series ran from June 24, 1956 to May 3, 1959 and is famous for its "Man on the Street" segment wherein Steve would ask questions of people he would meet on the street (Don Knotts, Louis Nye, Tom Poston, Skitch Henderson, Dayton Allen and Bill Dana).

Cast: Steve Allen (Host), Don Knotts (Nervous Man), Louis Nye (Gordon Hathaway), Tom Poston (Perennial Amnesiac), Skitch Henderson (Man from the Bronx), Dayton Allen (Why Not Man), Bill Dana (Jose Jimenez), Gabriel Dell (Regular), Pat Harrington, Jr. (Regular). Announcer: Gene Rayburn. Music: Skitch Henderson. Commercial Spokesman: John Cameron Swayze. Commercial Spokeswoman: Erin O'Brien.

7810 The Steve Allen Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1959–1960). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy that ran from September 28, 1959 to June 6, 1960. The series is produced by William Harbach.

Host: Steve Allen. Regulars: Don Knotts, Louis Nye, Gabriel Dell, Pat Harrington, Jr., Johnny Carson, Andy Griffith, Martha Raye. Orchestra: Les Brown.

7811 The Steve Allen Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1962). Celebrity interviews coupled with music and comedy sketches. Produced by Allan Sherman and Milt Hoffman.

Host: Steve Allen. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs. Orchestra: Don Trenner.

7812 The Steve Allen Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1968). A daily program of music, comedy and celebrity interviews. Produced by Jeff Harris.

Host: Steve Allen. Orchestra: Paul Smith.

7813 Steve Allen's Comedy Room. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 1984). A six episode series that features Steve Allen and his side kick, Joe Baker, conversing with (and acting with) top name comedians (such as Sid Caesar, Red Buttons and Louis Nye). The program also recalls a subject's career with film clips and anecdotes.

Host: Steve Allen. Assistant: Joe Baker.

7814 Steve Allen's Laugh-Back. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1976). Highlights of Steve Allen's TV career with clips from his various series of the 1950s and 60s.

Host: Steve Allen. Regulars: Jayne Meadows, Louis Nye, Bill Dana, Martha Raye, Don Knotts, Skitch Henderson, Pat Harrington.

7815 Steve Allen's Music Room. (Series; Variety; Disney; 1984). The program features well-known composers and lyricists in musical performances and conversations in a relaxed atmosphere.

Host: Steve Allen. Music: Terry Gibbs.

7816 Steve Canyon. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1958–1959). "Steve Canyon — a salute to the air force men of America. You are about to see an actual mission flown by the United States Air Force. All information, material and incidents contained herein are now declassified."

Steve Canyon is a lieutenant colonel with the U.S. Air Force. Steve is first stationed at Edwards Air Force Base and in charge of the Air Force Flight Test Center (novice flyers are called "Jaybirds"). Steve flew a B-52 and has the air code Big Bear.

Beginning with the fifteenth episode (1/3/59), Steve became a troubleshooter and is transferred to Big Thunder Air Force Base in California. He pilots a jet fighter and his air code is Blue Bird One. Steve waits for the last possible second before starting his jet—"Every minute of fuel burned on the ground costs you ten miles of air time." His jet is capable of cruising at 700 miles an hour.

Other Regulars: Major Willie Williston, Airman Abel Featherstone, Police Chief Hagedorn and Ingrid, Steve's secretary. Based on the comic strip by Milton Caniff. Walter Schumann composed the theme.

Cast: Dean Fredericks (Lt. Col. Steve Canyon), Jerry Paris (Major Willie Williston), Ted DeCorsia (Police Chief Hagedorn), Abel Fernandez (Airman Abel Featherstone), Ingrid Goude (Ingrid; Steve's secretary), Robert Hoy (Sgt. Charley Berger).

7817 Steve Donovan, Western Marshal. (Series; Western; Syn.; 1955). Steve Donovan is a United States Marshal of the latter half of the 19th century. His deputy, Rusty Lee, assists him and stories follow their efforts to uphold the peace in towns (and on the range) where no law (or lawmen) exists.

Cast: Douglas Kennedy (Marshal Steve Donovan), Eddy Waller (Deputy Rusty Lee).

7818 The Steve Harvey Show. (Series; Comedy; WB; 1996–2002). Life at Booker T. Washington High School in Chicago. Regina Grier is the principal; Steve Harvey, the music teacher; Cedric Jackie Robinson, the athletic coach; and Lovita Alizay Jenkins, the school secretary.

Steve and Regina are long time friends, having met in high school but taking different career paths after graduating. Steve, a talented musician (piano and sax) chose a career in music, where he formed a group called The High Tops. The group achieved a gold record and the Funk Café in Detroit honored Steve. The group eventually broke up and Steve found employment as the music teacher at Booker T. High.

Steve's classes are held in Room 104 and often uses his past glory to attract women. Steve later became the vice principal and dated Regina.

Regina chose a career in education and, while not specifically stated, taught at Booker T. High before becoming its principal. While Regina is very attractive and can have virtually any man she sets her sights on, she is seeking a man who can accept her as his superior (which worked out well for Steve, as she was his boss). While Regina is slim, she was apparently overweight in high school as Steve called her "Piggy."

Cedric and Lovita are romantically involved and later married. Lovita works in the administrative office (107) and calls Regina "Boss Lady." She believes in séances and calls Cedric "Ceddie" and "Ceddie Bear."

Cedric is the health teacher and coaches the school's basketball team, the Cheetas. He drives a car Lovita calls "The Ceddie Mobile" and runs an inner city company for youths called "The Cookie Man." He and Steve often perform at school functions as "The Soul Teachers."

Romeo Santana, Lydia Liza Gutman and Stanley "Bullethead" Kuznoski are the featured students. Romeo is a ladies' man and believes that anyplace is a make-out spot. He believes impeachment is a fruit-flavored breath mint and works part time at Burger World. His father drives a cab and he is a best friend with Bullethead.

Bullethead is not the sharpest knife in the drawer. He is vague, dim-witted and just passing his classes. He believes "People believe I'm pulling a dumb act. But I'm not and I've got the grades to prove it."

Lydia is the General Secretary of the Hall (a hall monitor) and says, "I'm just one girl trying to get the scum out of the hallways." Lydia's arch enemy is the unseen Jennifer the Cheerleader, whom she detests for beating her at everything. Lydia later works as Lovita's assistant. She, Romeo and Bullethead started a school TV show called Lydia and Company (Lydia hosted; Bullethead directed; Romeo provided the music). Sara and Sophia were other students in early first season episodes.

Cast: Steve Harvey (Steve Hightower), Cedric the Entertainer (Cedric Jackie Robinson), Wendy Raquel Robinson (Regina Grier), Merlin Santana (Romeo Santana), William Lee Scott (Stanley "Bullethead" Kuznocki), Terri J. Vaughn (Lovita Jenkins), Lori Beth Denberg (Lydia Liza Gutman), Tracy Vilar (Sophia Ortiz), Netfa Perry (Sara).

7819 Steve Harvey's Big Time Challenge. (Series; Variety; WB; 2003–2005). In the 1950s, Henry Morgan hosted a program called Henry Morgan's Great Talent Hunt that showcased unusual talent finds. In the 1970s, Chuck Barris presented The Gong Show, which used a similar format. In the 2000s, there was Steve Harvey's Big Time Challenge, which presented unusual talent acts (like chain saw jugglers, contortionists and weight lifters) vying for the top prize of $10, 000 on each episode. Acts are judged by a celebrity guest panel and studio audience votes determine the winners if a tie is presented. The series concept is, according to host Steve Harvey, "to present some people who have already made it to the big time; some people who are on their way to the big time; and some people who have no business whatsoever being anywhere near the big time."

Host: Steve Harvey. Assistants: Diane Klimaszewski, Elaine Klimaszewski. Announcer: Kathleen Taylor. Music: Norman Arnold, Dean Harada, Jason Moss.

7820 The Steve Landesberg Television Show. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/14/83). A proposed weekly series of comedy sketches that highlight the talents of comedian Steve Landesberg.

Host: Steve Landesberg. Regulars: Laurie Faso, Jimmy Martinez, Gailard Sartain, Lisa Sutton.

7821 The Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1958). A summer series of music and songs with singers Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme as the hosts. The series ran from July 13, 1958 to August 31, 1958.

Hosts: Steve Lawrence, Eydie Gorme. Vocalists: The Artie Malvin Singers. Announcer: Gene Rayburn. Orchestra: Jack Kane.

7822 The Steve Lawrence Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1965). Music, songs and comedy with singer Steve Lawrence as the host. George Schlatter is the producer.

Host: Steve Lawrence. Regulars: Donna Mills, Charles Nelson Reilly, Betty Walker, The Pussycat Dancers. Orchestra: Joie Guericco.

7823 Stick Around. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 5/30/77). Life in the year 2055 as seen through the eyes of Elaine and Vance Keefer, a space-age husband and wife attempting to cope with life's everyday problems. In the pilot episode, Elaine struggles to convince Vance that they should keep Andy, their robot servant (who raised her from a child) despite the fact that it is outdated and prone to breakdowns.

Other Regulars: Joe, their neighbor; and Earl, the officious robot butler.

Cast: Nancy New (Elaine Keefer), Fred McCarren (Vance Keefer), Andy Kaufman (Andy), Cliff Norton (Joe Burkus), Craig Richard Nelson (Earl). Guest Cast: Jeffrey Kramer (Ed), Liberty Williams (Lisa), Priscilla Morrill (Customer).

7824 Still Standing. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2002–2006). Bill Miller sells bathroom fixtures at Berenson's Department Store in the Oak Street Mall in Chicago. His wife, Judy, is a dental assistant. They have been married since 1981 and are the parents of Brian, Lauren and Tina. Bill and Judy are somewhat immature parents and each of their children are independent thinkers. Stories follow the events in the daily lives of a somewhat dysfunctional family.

Bill and Judy are graduates of Thomas Jefferson High School (where they met and where Judy became pregnant in her senior year). Bill is lazy, very easy on the kids when it comes to punishing them and has no problem with lying because he does it all the time.

Judy was a Blue Bell Girl Scout as a child. She was an activist and stood up for what she believed was unjust. Judy is very strict (or tries to be) when disciplining the children. She considers herself the better parent — "Bill is a bad parent. He's just a stupid man doing the best he can." Judy has maintained her figure over the years and wears a sexy halter-top to get discounts when she shops for appliances.

Brian is the eldest of the children (14 years old when the series begins). Brian first attended the Radford Academy grammar school then Thomas Jefferson High School. He is smart, excessively neat and a member of the school's debate, engineering, chess and math clubs. Judy calls Brian "Bry Bry." Brian was also a member of the school's football team, the Cougars. He quit to join the cheerleading team when he found it more interesting (which led Bill to suspect he might be gay). Brian is also an expert at twirling a baton (he calls his baton "Wonder Boy").

Lauren is 13 years old. She doesn't cook, clean or do any chores around the house. She attends the same schools as Brian and enjoys shopping for clothes with her mother because Judy knows how to manipulate people to get what she wants. Bill calls Lauren "Pumpkin." Lauren is a popular girl at school but wishes she had larger breasts like her mother to attract the boys. She was a member of the high school choir (until she found out it was for losers).

Tina is the youngest member of the family and is learning well how to manipulate her parents by watching Brian and Lauren. She has an invisible friend (Tracy) and a pet gerbil (Peanuts).

Linda is Judy's sister, a legal secretary. She is as beautiful and sexy as Judy but feels she is not attractive to men. She and Bill do not get along and constantly insult each other. She has a temperamental car she calls Mr. Puff 'n' Chug.

Louise and Bill, Sr. are Bill's parents; Helen and Gene are Judy's parents.

Cast: Mark Addy (Bill Miller), Jami Gertz (Judy Miller), Renee Olstead (Lauren Miller), Taylor Ball (Brian Miller), Soleil Border (Tina Miller), Jennifer Irwin (Linda Michaels), Sally Struthers (Louise Miller), Paul Sorvino (Bill Miller, Sr.), Swoosie Kurtz (Helen Michaels), Steve Gilborn (Gene Michaels).

7825 Still the Beaver. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 1984–1987). An update of Leave It to Beaver that continues to depict events in the lives of the original Cleaver family. The story is set twenty years later in the town of Mayfield. June Cleaver is now a widow. Her eldest son, Wally, is a lawyer and married to Mary Ellen. Theodore, her youngest (nicknamed "Beaver"), is married (to Kimberly) and the father of two sons (Corey and Oliver). Wally's best friend, the nasty Eddie Haskell, is married (to Gert, but not seen) and the father of Eddie Haskell, Jr. Eddie now owns the Eddie Haskell Construction Company. Other Regulars: Clarence "Lumpy" Rutherford, Wally's friend; Fred, Lumpy's father; Larry, Richard and Whitey, Beaver's friends; and Miss Canfield, the school principal.

Cast: Barbara Billingsley (June Cleaver), Tony Dow (Wally Cleaver), Jerry Mathers (Beaver Cleaver), Ken Osmond (Eddie Haskell), Frank Bank (Lumpy Rutherford), Richard Deacon (Fred Rutherford), Joanna Gleason (Kimberly Cleaver), Janice Kent (Mary Ellen Cleaver), Corey Feldman (Corey Cleaver), John Snee (Oliver Cleaver), Eric Osmond (Eddie Haskell, Jr.), Rusty Stevens (Larry Mondello), Ed Begley, Jr. (Whitey Witney), Diane Brewster (Miss Canfield), Richard Carroll (Richard Rockover).

7826 The Stiller and Meara Show. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/9/86). Incidents in the lives of Anne Bender, a commercials actress and Jerry Bender, her husband, an assistant Deputy Mayor of New York City. Anne and Jerry have been married thirty years and are the parents of three children: Daniel, a former Harvard law student turned street musician; Krissy, their married daughter, a psychologist; and Max, a teenager who gets into trouble without meaning to. In the pilot episode, Anne and Jerry attempt to celebrate their wedding anniversary amid numerous obstacles.

Cast: Anne Meara (Anne Bender), Jerry Stiller (Jerry Bender), Todd Waring (Daniel Bender), Laura Innes (Krissy Bender-Marino), Peter Smith (Max Bender), Bill Cobbs (Lieutenant Langston; guest role).

7827 Stingray. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1965). Stingray is a futuristic submarine that battles evil on behalf of the World Aquanaut Security Patrol. Troy Tempest, a graduate of the World Naval Academy in San Diego and a former member of the World Navy Submarine Service captains it.

Troy believed life existed under the sea and in the year 2064 he proved it when he made contact with the people of Pacifica (most notably the beautiful Marina). Marina is human in appearance but has green hair and webbed feet. She is the daughter of Aphong, the ruler of Pacifica. The people of Pacifica are unable to speak (physically incapable of doing so). Marina was rescued by Troy and became a part of Stingray.

Lt. George Sheridan, nicknamed Phones, is the hydrophone operator on Stingray. Atlanta Shore, the daughter of Sam Shore, the commander of the World Aquanaut Security Patrol, is the Marineville Base controller (the headquarters of Stingray). John Fisher is a former cadet with the World Navy who is now an aquanaut and the Relief Controller at the base.

Titan is the enemy of mankind. He was born in the Marine year 1835 in the underwater city of Hydroma in the Pacific Ocean. In later life he became a scientist and believed his people should reveal themselves to the surface world before something happened as a result of the surface dwellers testing nuclear weapons. Before this could be done, a nuclear bomb unknowingly destroyed Hydroma while Titan was away from the city.

Artura is an electronics genius that assists Titan as his surface agent (he has the code X-20). Stories follow the lives of the Stingray crew as they patrol and protect the oceans of the world from Titan. The series is a puppet adventure filmed in Supermarionation.

Voice Cast: Don Mason (Troy Tempest), Robert Easton (George Lee "Phones" Sheridan), Lois Maxwell (Atlanta Shore), Ray Barrett (Sam Shore), Ray Barrett (John Fisher), Ray Barrett (Titan), Robert Easton (Artura).

7828 Stingray. (Pilot; Adventure; NBC; 7/14/85). The pilot film for the series of the same title (see next entry) about a mysterious man, known only as Stingray (by the '65 black Corvette Stingray he drives) who helps people in deep trouble and asks only for a favor when he may need it as the price tag. In the pilot episode, Stingray attempts to help a beautiful D.A. (Daphne) get the goods on a Mexican crime lord (Mendoza).

Cast: Nick Mancuso (Stingray). Guest Cast: Robyn Douglass (Daphne Delgado), Susan Blakely (Evelyn Decter), Lee Richardson (Dr. Ernest Decter), Gregory Sierra (Tony Mendoza), Joe Renternia (Deputy Cantero), Joey Pento (Mo), Dick Stewart (Judge), Michael Fairman (Dr. Rosenberg).

7829 Stingray. (Series; Adventure; NBC; 1986–1987). A black 1965 Corvette Stingray is the trademark of mysterious man known only as Ray who travels across the U.S. helping people who are unable to turn to the police for help. Ray has no friends and only fleeting romantic relationships. The only thing actually known about him is that he is skilled in the martial arts and is an expert spy and infiltrator (it is suggested that he was possibly an agent for the CIA). Ray can only be contacted through a newspaper ad that runs on Friday: “65 black Stingray for sale. Barter only, Call 555-7687.” While it is not stated Ray is apparently independently wealthy and does what he does for a hobby. He will not accept money for his help. He asks only for a favor, whenever he needs it, as payment (“A favor for a favor,” he says). Ray will not do repeat favors and if he feels it is warranted, will accept a referral from a client. Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed the theme.

Cast: Nick Mancuso (Ray).

7830 Stir Crazy. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1985–1986). Marty Duran, a mysterious man wearing a tattoo reading 4LU, murders millionaire P.K. Hunter. The killer disposes of his victim by placing him in a taxicab owned by Harry Fletcher and Skip Harrington. When Skip and Harry discover their unwanted, non-paying customer, they call the police. The police, however, are not so convinced of Skip and Harry’s story and arrest them on suspicion of murder.

Skip and Harry are held for trial and when they are unable to prove their innocence, they are sentenced to 132 years in prison.

Shortly after, during a prison riot, Skip and Harry disguise themselves as members of a Japanese TV crew filming a documentary on American prison brutality and escape. The series, based on the feature film of the same title, follows Skip and Harry’s adventures as fugitives — seeking the man who framed them while at the same time trying to stay one step ahead of Captain Betty Phillips, the relentless cop who is seeking them.

Skip and Harry are not alone. Although she could not find any witnesses to back their story, their lawyer, Kathryn D’Angelo, assists them with tips and warnings when Betty is near. Deputy Crawford assists Betty; Doug Fletcher is Harry’s brother; Doris Larson is Skip’s aunt; and Fred Richards is Skip’s uncle.

Cast: Joseph Guzaldo (Skip Harrington), Larry Kiley (Harry Fletcher), Cynthia Sikes (Kathryn D’Angelo), Polly Holliday (Bettina “Betty” Phillips), Jeanie Wilson (Betty Phillips; replaced Polly), Royce Applegate (Deputy Crawford), Marc Silver (Deputy Crawford; replaced Royce), M.C. Gainey (Marty Duran), Larry Riley (Doug Fletcher), Alice Ghostley (Doris Larson), Philip Sterling (Fred Richards).

Theme Vocal: “Theme from Stir Crazy” by Paulette McWilliams.

7831 Stockard Channing in Just Friends. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979). Susan Hughes is a pretty young woman who has just had her heart broken. She and her husband have just divorced (irreconcilable differences) and Susan is struggling to get her life back together again. To begin a new life Susan acquires a job as the assistant manager of the Beverly Hills Fountain of Youth Spa. Coral, Susan’s best friend, also works there (a waitress at the juice bar) and stories follow Susan’s experiences at work (where she tries to please arrogant patrons) and at home, where she is trying to begin new relationships in the hope of finding the one man she can share the rest of her life with.

Milt DeAngelo is Susan’s boss; Miranda is Milt’s wife; Angelo is Milt’s son; Victoria Chasen is Susan’s married sister; Leonard Scribner is Susan’s neighbor; Frank Hughes is Susan’s ex-husband.

Cast: Stockard Channing (Susan Hughes), Mimi Kennedy (Victoria Chasen), Lou Criscuolo (Milt DeAngelo), Liz Torres (Miranda DeAngelo), Albert Insinnia (Angelo DeAngelo), Sydney Goldsmith (Coral), Garrett Graham (Leonard Scribner), Joan Toletino (Mrs. Fisher), Lawrence Pressman (Frank Hughes). Theme: “Stockard’s Theme” by Delaney Bramlett.

7832 The Stockard Channing Show. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1980). The Big Rip-off is a consumer advocate program that airs locally in Los Angeles on West Hollywood station KXLA. Susan Goodenow is a pretty divorcee who assists Brad Gabriel, the program host. Susan, however, does all the work and Brad gets all the glory. She dons various disguises, goes undercover to investigate rip-off artists and prepares each week’s show. Brad reports the findings.

Earline Cunningham is Susan’s friend, a gorgeous but dim-witted receptionist. Earline admires other people and tries to emulate them (but always winds up making herself look foolish). She is so sweet that station management hasn’t the heart to fire her for the dumb things she does. She mentioned she most admires Susan: “Susan’s an attractive and successful girl and got a whole lot of class. I never knew nobody else who ate pizza with a knife and fork.” Earline lives at 123 Morning Glory Circle (Susan at 196 North Langley Drive).

Gus Clyde, a former actor who constantly brags about his illustrious past, owns KXLA. He calls the station “The House That Gus Built.” Delaney Bramlett composed “Stockard’s Theme.”

Cast: Stockard Channing (Susan Goodenow), Ron Silver (Brad Gabriel), Sydney Goldsmith (Earline Cunningham), Max Showalter (Gus Clyde), Jack Sormack (Mr. Cramer; Susan’s landlord), Bruce Baum (Alf; the station security officer), Maureen Arthur (Lisa Cartwright; Susan's neighbor), Marty Cohen (Barton Blair; programming head), Valerie Armstrong (Gus's wife), Marcie Barkin (Bonnie; the sandwich girl), Wendie Jo Sperber (Wendy Simon; Susan's assistant).

7833 Stockers. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 4/24/81). J.J. Spangler and Curtis Witlock possess a dream: to win the Daytona 500 stock car race. J.J. is a stock car driver and Curtis is his mechanic and each is in debt to Crusher, a burly bill collector who pursues them seeking to get the money that is owed to him. The unsold series was to focus on J.J. as he attempts to qualify for the Daytona 500 by competing in as many races as possible while at the same time avoiding Crusher. In the pilot episode, J.J. and Curtis try to sweet talk a parts dealer's daughter into letting them have a radiator they can't afford.

Cast: Terry Bradshaw (J.J. Spangler), Mel Tillis (Curtis Witlock), Robert Tessier (Crusher). Guest Cast: Samantha Harper (Joanie Fisk), Archie Hahn (Lee Weldon), R.G. Armstrong (Mr. Fisk), Alice Nunn (Gas station owner).

7834 Stone. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1980). Dan Stone is a homicide detective with the Metropolitan Division of the Los Angeles Police Department. He is also an author with Burton House Publishing. Stories follow Dan's case assignments and the tactics he uses to solve crimes — which also become the basis for his books.

Dan is married to Diane and he is the father of Jill. Gene Paulton is the police chief; Officer Buck Rogers is Dan's partner; Britte Martin is Dan's friend, a clinical psychologist; Murray Weinstock is Dan's literary agent. Dennis Weaver and Nancy Adams composed the "Stone" theme.

Cast: Dennis Weaver (Dan Stone), Beth Brickell (Diane Stone), Nancy McKeon (Jill Stone), Pat Hingle (Gene Paulton), Barbara Rhoades (Britte Martin), Robby Weaver (Buck Rogers), Joby Baker (Murray Weinstock).

7835 Stone Undercover. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 2006). Marina DiLuzio is a corporal with the R.C.M.P. (Royal Canadian Mounted Police) with eight years experience who is assigned to the Calgary Commercial Crimes Unit in Alberta, Canada, to handle special assignments — nab people who usually do not get caught. Marina is smart, resourceful and honest; she will do what it takes to get the job done — even working with Tom Stone, an ex-cop (eight years on the force; two years in undercover work) who is a master of undercover assignments as he just seems to blend into the situations into which he is put. Tom, however, is too impulsive and he often gets the worst end of each assignment (beatings) when he is discovered. Stories relate Tom's undercover assignments as he and Marina seek the people who believe they are above the law.

Jack Welch is Tom's American friend (his information man); Wally is the bartender at Jack's favorite watering hole. The series is produced in Canada and ran from one year (2002–2003) as Tom Stone: Undercover. Stone Undercover is the American title.

Cast: Chris William Martin (Tom Stone), Janet Kidder (Marina DiLuzio), Stuart Margolin (Jack Welch), Brian Stolley (Wally).

7836 Stonecold. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 2/20/05). A proposed series about Jesse Stone, a hard drinking, hard living small town police chief. Jesse is a former detective with the L.A.P.D. (South Central Division) who is now the police chief of Paradise, a seemingly quiet New England town (he became the chief when the former chief retired). Jesse enjoys scotch and women and finds his training as a big city cop beneficial to upholding the law. In the pilot episode, Jesse struggles to solve a series of murders that occur after the rape of a high school girl.

Cast: Tom Selleck (Jesse Stone), Mimi Rogers (Rita Fiore), Jane Adams (Brianna Lincoln), Reg Rogers (Andrew Lincoln), Polly Sherman (Abby Taylor), Viola Davis (Molly Crane), Stephen McHattie (Captain Healy), Kohl Sudduth (Luther Simpson), John Beale (Dr. Perkins), David Christoffel (D.A. Reagan), John Dunsworth (Jim Burns), Tony DeSantis (Joe Marino).

7837 The Stones. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 2004). Barbara and Stanley Stone are a couple who have been married for 25 years. They are the parents of Karly and Winston and live in Sherman Oaks, California. Barbara and Stanley love each other but stopped liking themselves as a couple. They divorce but live in the same house (Barbara occupies the main portion of the house while Stanley lives in a room over the garage). Also living with them are their grown children, Winston and Karly.

Stanley is a doctor; Karly is a free-lance photographer; Winston is a graduate student and a scientist (works in genetic analysis). Stories follow the events in the lives of the Stones as a divorced couple and their grown children attempt to get along with each other living in the same house.

Cast: Judith Light (Barbara Stone), Robert Klein (Stanley Stone), Lindsay Sloane (Karly Stone), Jay Baruchel (Winston Stone), Kimberly McCullough (Audra), Ryan Alosio (Seamus).

7838 Stonestreet: Who Killed the Centerfold Model? (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 1/16/77). Following the death of her husband, a police detective killed in the line of duty, his wife, Elizabeth "Liz" Stonestreet, becomes a private detective to keep his beliefs about law and order alive. The proposed series, to be called Stonestreet, was to relate her exploits as she tackles dangerous cases. In the pilot episode, Liz poses as a porno film actress to probe a missing person's case.

Cast: Barbara Eden (Liz Stonestreet). Guest Cast: Richard Basehart (Elliott Osborn), Joan Hackett (Jessica Hilliard), Joseph Mascolo (Max Pierce), Elaine Giftos (Arlene), Louise Latham (Mrs. Schroeder), Ann Dusenberry (Amory Osborn), Val Avery (Chuck Voit).

7839 Stoney Burke. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1962–1963). Stoney Burke is a champion rodeo rider seeking to secure the Gold Buckle, the trophy that is awarded to the world's best saddle broncobuster. Stories follow Stoney as he travels from rodeo to rodeo seeking to acquire his dream (and helping people he finds in trouble along the way). E.J., Wes, Cody and Red are fellow rodeo performers.

Cast: Jack Lord (Stoney Burke), Bruce Dern (E.J. Stocker), Warren Oates (Wes Painter), Robert Dowdell (Cody Bristol), Bill Hart (Red).

7840 Stop, Look and Listen. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1948). The alternate title for Celebrity Time. See this title for information.

7841 Stop Me if You've Heard This One. (Series; Game; NBC; 1948–1949). The host reads an incomplete joke that has been submitted by a home viewer. A panel of three comedians has to complete it with an original, funny punch line. The sender receives $5 for submitting the joke and an additional $5 if the panel fails to complete it. The series originally aired locally in Los Angeles in 1945 and was the first television series to be broadcast with a live studio audience. It ran on NBC from March 5, 1948 to April 22, 1949.

Host: Ted Brown, Roger Bower, Leon Janney. Panelists: Morey Amsterdam, Cal Tinney, Lew Lehr, Mae Questel, Benny Rubin.

7842 Stop Susan Williams. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1979). Susan Williams is a beautiful photographer for the New York Dispatch. Serial like stories, broadcast as a segment of Cliffhangers, relate her attempts to solve the murder of her brother and expose a group of conspirators who are planning a mission that could start a third world war. Bob Richard is her editor; Jennifer is her publisher; Jack is her associate; Anthony Korf is the leader of the conspiracy group. Ten episodes aired.

7843 Stop the Music. (Series; Game; ABC; 1949–1956). As the orchestra plays a song, three girls place telephone calls to possible viewers. When a call is completed, she yells "Stop the Music" and the host picks up the telephone. If the player can identify the name of the song that has been playing, he wins the jackpot of merchandise prizes; if not, another prize is added to the jackpot and the player receives a home appliance as a consolation prize. The game also involves members of the studio audience who attempt to identify song titles in return for cash prizes. The series ran from May 5, 1949 to April 24, 1952; and September 7, 1954 to June 14, 1956.

7844 Stopwatch: Thirty Minutes of Investigative Ticking. (Pilot; Satire; HBO; 9/3/83). A lampoon of television news programs, particularly "60 Minutes." The pilot episode covers the top satire-making stories, including: a blind man who teaches seeing eye dogs; nun boxing; criminals who serve time by doing chores for the families they robbed; and the story of Murray Resnick (played by Joe Silver), an agent who collects debts for the U.S. government from foreign countries. Regulars: Chris and Ron, the anchors, and Angry Arnie, the consumer reporter.

Cast: Alan Oppenheimer (Chris Mantock), Michael G. Kelly (Ron Ramsgate), Bill Kirchenbauer (Angry Arnie).

7845 The Storefront Lawyers. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1970–1971). The Neighborhood Legal Services (N.L.S.) in Los Angeles is a free or moderately priced lawyer service headed by David Hansen and his associates, Deborah Sullivan, Gabriel Kay and Roberto Barelli. Stories follow their investigations and courtroom defenses as they fight for the rights of people in trouble but who are too poor to afford quality legal services. Mr. Thatcher is the firm's organizer; Rachel is the firm's secretary. See also Men at Law (the revised series title).

Cast: Robert Foxworth (David Hansen), Sheila Larken (Deborah Sullivan), David Arkin (Gabriel Kay), A Martinez (Roberto Barelli), Gerald S. O'Loughlin (Mr. Thatcher), Royce Wallace (Rachel).

7846 Stories in One Camera. (Test Film; Anthology; DuMont; 8/14/46). A proposed series of one-act plays presented in a simplistic style with the use of only one television camera. The pilot episode tells the story of a private investigator who will tackle any case if the price is high enough.

Cast: Mel Brandt (Detective), Betty Williams (His girlfriend).

7847 Stories of the Century. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1956). Matt Clark is a detective for the Southwestern Railroad during its formative years of the 1890s. He is first assisted by Frankie Adams then Jonesy Jones, gorgeous women who put their lives at risk to help Matt protect the railroad and its passengers from Indians, outlaws and other perils that plagued the Iron Horse in the West. Matt is quick with his fists and fast with his guns; Frankie and Jonesy are less prone to violence but well trained investigators whose skills work well with Matt's abilities as they solve railroad related problems. Also known as The Fast Guns; see also Last Stagecoach West for information on the series pilot film.

7848 The Stork Club. (Series; Interview; CBS; ABC; 1950–1955). Celebrity interviews are conducted against the backdrop of the Stork Club in New York City. The series ran for 15 minutes on CBS from July 7, 1950 to October 31, 1953; and for 30 minutes on ABC from September 11, 1954 to July 24, 1955.

Host-Interviewer: Sherman Billingsley. Hostess: Betty Ann Grove (CBS), Virginia Peine (ABC). Regulars: Peter Lind Hayes, Mary Healy, Johnny Johnston. Announcer: George Bryan.

7849 Storm the Castle. (Pilot; Game; CBS; 6/16/93). Thirty families begin the competition, but twenty are eliminated in the first round of play: to search through a giant mud field for tennis balls. The first ten families to find fourteen balls become the semi-finalists. The competition continues at Universal Studios in Hollywood where, over a fifteen acre site, the families compete in various stunts for a chance to Storm the Castle and win $15,000.

The two highest scoring families become the finalists. A number of balloons are placed across a lake. The players must break as many balloons as possible with a plastic sword while steering a miniature motor boat and dodging water balloons thrown by "Grem-lins." The first team to break eleven balloons and cross the lake is the winner and receives $15,000; runners-up receive $5,000.

Hosts: Michael Berger, Nellie Goland.

7850 Stormy Weathers. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 5/4/92). Stormy Weathers is a Los Angeles-based private detective who charges $300 a day and lives by three rules: "I never take money I haven't earned; I never turn my back on a killer; and I never fall for a guy who isn't just a cab fare away." Stormy's real first name is Samantha; she received the nickname "Stormy" from the nuns at Saint Ursula's, her Catholic grammar school.

Ten years ago, Stormy and her father (Jake) ran a detective agency called Weathers and Weathers, Confidential Investigations, in Venice, California. After his death, Samantha took over the company and now runs it on her own. She is assisted by Squirrel, a computer expert who works out of her office; and her childhood friend, now a newspaper reporter, Bogey. Bogey is a lesbian and anxious to change Stormy's mind about sleeping with her. In the pilot episode, Stormy becomes involved in murder and drug smuggling when she takes a missing persons case.

Cast: Cybill Shepherd (Stormy Weathers), Diane Salinger (Bogey), Charlie Schlatter (Squirrel). Guest Cast: Robert Beltran (Lorenzo "Gib" Giovanni), Tony Lo Bianco (Lieutenant Frank Oruzco), Kene Holliday (Rasheed Wilkes), Mimi Kuzak (Gloria Chase), Roy Thinnes (Andrew Chase), Zelda Rubinstein (Rosie), Adele London (Hooker).

7851 The Story Behind the Song. (Pilot; Anthology; ABC; 11/12/57). How popular songs came to be written was the idea behind this interesting but unsold series whose pilot episode, "I Get Along Without You Very Well," aired on Telephone Time. Composer Hoagy Carmichael has a 1940 copyright on the song and played himself to relate the story behind it. In 1938 Hoagy was asked to write a song for Dick Powell's radio program. While searching through his files, Hoagy found an anonymous poem called "I Get Along Without You Very Well." He provided a melody for it, but remembered only that in 1928 a romantic teenage girl gave him the poem when he attended an event at her school. Hoagy's conscience would not permit him to affix his name as the lyricist so he began a nationwide search (via Walter Winchell's radio broadcasts) to find the unknown girl before air time. The girl, Jane Brown, was now married (Mrs. Thompson) and in failing health. In a rather sad ending, Jane got to hear her poem put to music in her home in the presence of Hoagy Carmichael, but died shortly after.

Cast: Hoagy Carmichael (Himself), Walter Winchell (Himself), Jean Bartel (Jane Thompson), Sally Fraser (Alice), Kaye Elhardt (Betty), Ben Lessy (Lou Dorsey), Alan Reed (Sid Kramer), Michael Bryant (Mr. Thompson), Hollis Irving (Martha), Joan Granville (Secretary), Tony Mitchell (Singing voice for Dick Powell).

7852 Story for Americans. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1952). A series of dramatizations based on past events in American history that are performed by a company of two actors. The series ran from July 6, 1952 to November 2, 1952.

Performers: Carmen Andrews, Eugene Lee.

7853 The Story of—. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1962). John Willis is the host and narrator for a series of dramatizations that depicts the events that spark the lives of interesting individuals.

7854 Story of a Drum. (Experimental; Variety; CBS; 2/15/46). Katherine Dunham and her fourteen member dance troupe display various types of dancing — from modernistic to Brazilian folk.

7855 The Story of Easter. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 3/31/45). An Easter Sunday eve presentation that told the religious story of Easter through narration (over religious paintings) scripture readings and songs.

Narrator: House Jameson. Singers: Robert Shaw's Collegiate Chorus.

7856 Story Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1949). Television's first syndicated anthology series. It features quality productions but lesser known (at the time) performers.

Host: Arthur Shields. Performers Include: Marjorie Lord, Leif Erickson, Evelyn Ankers, Melville Cooper, Jeanne Cagney, Stanley Holloway, Jane Nigh, Maria Palmer, Fay Baker, Jan Clayton, Elisabeth Fraser, Kirby Grant, Don Haggerty, Eva Gabor, Phyllis Coates.

7857 Story Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1971). Stories, based on tales by Aesop and the Brothers Grimm, are performed against the background of an improvisational theater with performers speaking their lines (as if reading from a book) and providing their own narration.

Host: Paul Sills. Regulars: Bob Dishy, Mina Kolb, Peter Bonerz, Judy Graubart, Richard Libertini, Melinda Dillon, Paul Sand, Hamilton Camp, Ann Sweeny, Severn Darden, Dick Schall, Eugene Troabnick, Mickey LaGare, Jeff Brownstein.

7858 The Storybook Squares. (Series; Game; NBC; 1969). A children's version of The Hollywood Squares. Two children compete, Player "X" and Player "O." Nine celebrity guests, dressed as storybook characters, appear in a large tic tac toe board. A player chooses a celebrity who must then answer a question that is read to him by the host. The child has to agree or disagree with the answer. If the player is correct he wins that square. If not, his opponent receives the square. The object is to acquire three squares in a row, up and down or diagonally. The first player to do so wins the round and a cash prize. The series ran on Saturday mornings from January 4, 1969 to August 30, 1969.

Host: Peter Marshall. Announcer: Kenny Williams.

7859 The Storyteller. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1988). A series of dramas based on European folk and fairy tales that are related by a medieval storyteller and presented through the puppet creations of Jim Henson. A Muppet dog assists the Storyteller.

Cast: John Hurt (Storyteller), Brian Henson (Voice of His Dog).

7860 Straight to the Heart. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1989). Three men and three women appear. A question is read and three answers, previously given by the men, appear on a board. Each of the women selects one answer (based on which one appeals to them). The men whose answers are chosen then reveal why they said it. The object is for a woman to match a man with the answers he gave. Two such rounds are played. Rounds Three and Four reverse the prior rounds with men selecting answers based on what the women said before airtime. The couple that is found to be the most compatible (most often selecting the same person's answers) wins the game and a free vacation.

Host: Michael Berger. Co-Host-Announcer: Barbara Lee Alexander.

7861 Straightaway. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1961–1962). Scott Ross and Clipper Hamilton are racecar enthusiasts who also own the Straightaway Garage. Stories relate the incidents in their lives as they become involved with professional drivers and races.

Cast: Brian Kelly (Scott Ross), John Ashley (Clipper Hamilton).

7862 Stranded. (Unaired Pilot; Adventure; Produced in 1966). While en-route to Mexico City from Florida, the passengers of Meridian Flight 603 are marooned on a deserted island when their plane develops engine trouble during a hurricane and crashes. The unsold series was to relate their struggles for survival. The pilot, with added footage (featuring Lois Nettleton) was seen as the 1967 feature film Valley of Mystery.

Cast: Richard Egan (Wade Cochrane), Peter Graves (Ben Barstow), Karen Sharpe (Connie Lane), Joby Baker (Peter Patton), Harry Guardino (Joey O'Neill), Julie Adams (Joan Simon), Fernando Lamas (Francisco Rivera), Lee Patterson (Dino Doretti), Barbara Werle (Ann Dickson), Don Stewart (Jim Walker), Leonard Nimoy (Spence Atherton), Otis Young (Dr. John Quincy).

7863 Stranded. (Pilot; Drama; CBS; 5/26/76). The story, set on an isolated island in the South Pacific, depicts the hardships faced by the survivors of an Australian-bound airplane that crashed, as they seek a way off the island.

Cast: Kevin Dobson (Rafe Harder), Lara Parker (Crystal Norton), Marie Windsor (Rose Orselli), Devon Ericson (Julie Blake), James Vincent McNichol (Tim Blake), Rex Everhart (John Rados), Erin Blunt (Ali Baba), Lal Baum (Burt Hanson), James Cromwell (Jerry Holmes), John Fujioka (Charley Lee).

7864 The Strange Christmas Dinner. (Experimental; Drama; NBC; 12/9/45). It is Christmas Day and Herman Grubb, a miserly old Scrooge-like skinflint who owns a Broadway nightclub, refuses to let his employees have the day off despite a lack of customers. A customer finally arrives, dressed in fashion typical of the 1870s and talks to Grubb. Grubb is persuaded to change his mind but the viewer does not know who the stranger is until the closing curtain when the hat check girl, who previously asked for his autograph, looks at the signature and discovers the name to be Charles Dickens, author of "A Christmas Carol." Based on the story that appeared in Good Housekeeping magazine by Margaret Cousins.

Cast: Grandon Rhodes (Charles Dickens), John Souther (Herman Grubb), Celia Babcock (Hat check girl). Also: Dave Davis, Ed Hussey, A.P. Kaye, George Mathews, Bob Tobin.

7865 Strange Days at Blake Holsey High. (Series; Science Fiction; Discovery Kids; 2002–2006). Blake Holsey High is a seemingly normal boarding school. However, it doesn't excel in competition with other schools (it's basketball team, the Owls, hasn't won a game in five years) but it does excel in science. One student, Josie Trent, best sums it up: "Blake Holsey, it's not your ordinary boarding school. Not even close. See, I've stumbled onto a mystery with my friends [strange things that keep happening]. I've got a cool teacher [Professor Zachary] but the principal [Amanda Durst] is definitely hiding something. And this guy [visual seen] Victor Pearson. Somehow he's behind all the really weird stuff that happens here. Is that floating ball of his [visual of it] the key to the mystery? We're getting closer but in the meantime, there are strange days at Blake Holsey High."

The paranormal does exist at the school and Josie is drawn into all that exists beyond the ordinary. Stories follow Josie and her friends, Corinne, Lucas and Marshall, as they seek the answers to the mysteries that surround them.

It is perhaps the nearby Pearadyne Labs where "all this weird stuff originates." Victor Pearson, the father of student Vaughn Pearson, runs the labs. Fifteen years earlier, an accident occurred that caused mysterious happenings to occur around the grounds affected by the chemicals.

Josie is an outspoken and expressive girl who accepts rules but does not necessarily like them. She has been a problem for her mother, Kelly, as Josie is mischievous and has been expelled from several prior boarding schools. She has a very inquisitive nature that sets her on the path of investigate anything she doesn't understand.

Corinne Baxter shares Room 21 with Josie. Corinne is a bright student and is Josie's direct opposite — she obeys all the rules. She is also organized while Josie is somewhat untidy. Marshall Wheeler is considered a geek because he is very smart and dedicated to finishing something he starts. He plays keyboard with the Blake Holsey band, Magnet 360.

Vaughn Pearson is the most popular boy at school. Vaughn, like Josie, Corinne and Marshall, is a member of the science club (which is run by Professor Zachary). Lucas Randall is somewhat of a nerd and is picked on by the bullies of the school. He is suspicious of everybody and like Josie, looks for the reason behind what is happening.

In addition to Principal Amanda Durst and Professor Noel Zachary, another adult lingers around the school, a character known only as the Janitor. He seems to have some connection to Pearadyne Labs and tries to help the students find the answers they seek to solve problems. He also appears to know the strange things that happen and cleans up the remnants left by a strange occurrence.

Cast: Emma Taylor-Isherwood (Josie Trent), Shadia Simmons (Corinne Baxter), Noah Reid (Marshall Wheeler), Michael Seater (Lucas Randall), Valerie Boyle (Amanda Durst), Jeff Douglas (Noel Zachary), Lawrence Bayne (Victor Pearson), Robert Clark (Vaughn Pearson), Tony Munch (Janitor), Lori Falier (Kelly Trent).

7866 Strange Love. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2005). Strange Love refers to the relationship between model turned actress Brigitte Nielsen and her lover, rap superstar Flavor Flav. It's an unlikely relationship (hence the title) and cameras follow their daily lives — which is now made public for the whole world to see.

Stars: Brigitte Nielsen, Flavor Flav (William Jonathan Drayton, Jr.).

7867 Strange Luck. (Series; Drama; Fox; 1995). Chance Harper is a man who never knows what is going to happen but he's always there when it does. He says, "If I see a situation where someone needs help, I get involved."

Chance's past is a mystery. He doesn't know his exact birthday or who his parents are. Thirty years ago when Alex (his real name) was very young, he was on a plane with his parents. The plane caught fire and crashed, killing all 106 aboard — except for Alex. He was rescued from the wreckage by a fireman who adopted him and raised him. Alex's chances for survival were astronomical and the fireman nicknamed him Chance. Alex kept the name and feels he has some kind of mysterious relationship with Lady Luck to help others. Stories follow Chance as he puts his luck to the test to help others.

Other Regulars: Angie, his friend, the owner of the Blue Plate Café; Audrey, his friend the photo editor of The Chronicle; and Dr. Richter, the police psychologist friend who is seeking to uncover Chance's past.

Cast: D.B. Sweeney (Chance Harper), Frances

Fisher (Angie), Pamela Gidley (Audrey Westin), Cynthia Martelli (Dr. Richter).

7868 Strange Paradise. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1969–1970). Maljardin is a forbidding island in the Caribbean. Its name, translated from the French, means “evil garden.” The ocean surrounds the island, and poisonous weeds grow in its soil. The mansion that stands on the island has been cursed for centuries by the “Curse of Maljardin.” The lone inhabitants of the island are Jean Paul Desmond, a wealthy financier, his new bride, Erica Carr, and their servants, Raxil and Quito.

One year following their retreat to the island, Erica is stricken with an unknown disease and mysteriously dies. Jean Paul is unable to accept Erica’s death and vows to bring her back to life. He places her body in a cryo capsule and preserves her through the process of cryogenics.

Jean Paul begins his quest by summoning Allison Carr, Erica’s sister, to the island. Allison, a biochemist, is intrigued by Jean Paul’s request and begins her experiments. However, when her chemicals fail to produce results, Jean Paul takes a drastic step: he summons the powers of darkness and breaks the ancient spell that has ruled the island and cursed his family when he conjures up the spirit of Jacques DeMonde, an ancestor who lost his wife in the same manner 300 years before. To protect itself, the spirit takes refuge in the portrait of Jacques that hangs on the wall next to the fireplace. When Raxil, a priestess, discovers what Jean Paul has done, she vows to return Jacques to hell.

As the powers of evil begin to restore Erica’s life, Raxil summons her friend Vangie, a medium, to help her destroy Jacques.

Jean Paul’s wish is granted shortly after when Erica is brought back to life. To celebrate her rebirth, Jean Paul invites several friends to the island: Dan Forest, Tim Stanton, an artist he hires to paint Erica’s portrait; Holly Marshall, a beautiful young heiress; Elizabeth Marshall, Holly’s mother; and the Reverend Matthew Dawson.

To Jean Paul, Erica appears to be as beautiful as before — “I have my Erica back.” What he can’t see is the wickedness that is now Erica. She is suddenly afraid of fire, and there is an evil presence about her. To survive, Erica must use her powers of the dead to kill all who are on Maljardin. Holly is the one Erica has chosen for a special ceremony to ensure her immortality (Holly is the youngest; it is through her that Erica can live the longest). Stories follow Erica as she plots to possess Holly; and Raxil and Quito’s efforts to stop her and return her to hell.

Cast: Colin Fox (John Paul Desmond), Colin Fox (Jacques DeMonde), Tudi Wiggins (Erica Carr), Sylvia Feigel (Holly Marshall), Paisley Maxwell (Elizabeth Marshall), Cosette Lee (Raxil), Kurt Schiegl (Quito), Angela Roland (Vangie), Jon Granik (Dan Forest), Bruce Gray (Tim Stanton), Paisley Maxwell (Elizabeth Marshall), Dan McDonald (Rev. Matthew Dawson), Dawn Greenhalgh (Allison Carr).

7869 Strange Places. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1973). Peter Graves hosts and narrates films that explore various remote regions of the world. The series, produced by the BBC is also known as Other People, Other Places.

7870 The Strange Report. (Series; Mystery; NBC; 1971). Adam Strange is a London, England-based criminologist who intervenes in domestic and international crises to help the police solve the cases they cannot. Evelyn McLean and Ham Gynt assist Adam and stories follow Adam as he uses not only deductive reasoning but the latest science has to offer to solve the baffling crimes of what he considers ingenious criminals.

Cast: Anthony Quayle (Adam Strange), Anneke Wells (Evelyn McLean), Kaz Garas (Ham Gynt).

7871 Strange Stories. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1956). Actor Edward Arnold hosts a filmed series of stories based on supernatural happenings .

7872 Strange True Stories. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 1/82). Dramatic recreations of strange but true stories of mystical experiences and parapsychology with Alexander Scourby as the host.

7873 Strange Universe. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1996). The program explores strange and/or unusual happenings (such as UFO and Big Foot sightings) as well as showcasing people who do strange things (like sleeping on a bed of nails). The program also features short interview segments with television and movie stars expressing their opinions on the strange phenomena that is presented.

Reporters: Emmett Miller, Dana Adams.

7874 The Stranger. (Series; Drama; DuMont; 1954–1955). The story of a man known only as the Stranger, a mysterious being who, whenever unscrupulous individuals threaten innocent people, mysteriously appears, assists, and then vanishes, accepting no fees for his services. The series ran from June 15, 1954 to February 11, 1955.

Cast: Robert Carroll (The Stranger).

7875 The Stranger. (Pilot; Science Fiction; NBC; 2/26/73). While on a mission for NASA, U.S. astronaut Neil Stryker’s space ship passes through a vortex and crash lands on Terra, a parallel planet to Earth. Stryker’s adventures as he seeks a way to return to his Earth was the focal point of the unsold series. In the pilot episode, Neil attempts to escape from a mysterious dictatorship that has ordered his extermination.

Cast: Glenn Corbett (Neil Stryker). Guest Cast:

7876 Stranger in Our House. (Pilot; Thriller; NBC; 10/31/78). The story of a beautiful but mysterious girl who uses her evil supernatural powers to dominate people's lives. In the pilot episode, the girl arrives at the home of the Bryants, posing as their cousin, Julia Trent, with a plan to kill the wife (Leslie) and marry the husband (Tom). The story follows Julia's seduction of Tom, her plotting to kill Leslie and the Bryants' teenage daughter Rachel's efforts to destroy Julia when she learns that she is a witch. When Julia is destroyed by Rachel and the Bryant family is saved, the girl vanishes from their lives. In the final moments of the program, the girl appears at another home where a young mother welcomes her as a governess for her daughter — and where the girl will use her evil to...?

Cast: Lee Purcell (The Girl). Guest Cast: Linda Blair (Rachel Bryant), Carol Lawrence (Leslie Bryant), Jeremy Slate (Tom Bryant), Macdonald Carey (Professor Jarvis), Jeff East (Peter Bryant), Fran Drescher (Carolyn Baker), Jeff McCracken (Mike Gallagher), Kerry Arquette (Anne), Beatrice Manley (Marge Trent), Patricia Wilson (Mrs. Gallagher), Nicole Keller (Elizabeth), Billy Beck (Sheriff), Helena Markela (Young mother).

7877 Strangers with Candy. (Series; Comedy-Drama; Comedy Central; 1999). A rather dark and brooding series (more like a scripted reality series) that focuses on Jerri Blank, a 46-year-old woman who is trying to get her life back together again after years of alcohol abuse and drug addiction. Jerri, who ran away from home at an early age, never attended high school. She has now enrolled as a freshman but has not shed her immoral ways. Stories relate the situations that occur as Jerri tries to adjust to a world where she is totally out of place.

Cast: Amy Sedaris (Geraldine "Jerri" Antonia Blank), Stephen Colbert (Charles Noblet), Greg Kinnear (Principal Onx Blackman), Paul Dinello (Geoffrey Jellineck), Deborah Rush (Sara Blank), Larc Spies (Derrick Blank), Troy Metcalf (Troy).

7878 Strategic Air Command. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 3/30/59). A proposed series that was to focus on the experiences of the men and women of the U.S. Air Force. The pilot episode relates the heroic story of Lieutenant James Obenauf who, while on a simulated bombing mission, saved the life of his crew when the plane caught fire in mid-air. Broadcast as "The Obenauf Story" on Goodyear Theater (Strategic Air Command was the proposed series title).

Cast: Kerwin Matthews (James Obenauf), Herbert Anderson (Major Joseph Maxwell), Douglas Odney (Major Jim Graves), Eve Brent, Dirk London, Harlan Warde.

7879 The Strauss Family. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1973). A seven-part dramatization depicting the lives of composers Johann Strauss and his son, Johann Strauss, Jr., the "Waltz Kings of the 19th century." The series, produced in England, ran from May 5, 1973 to June 16, 1973.

Cast: Eric Woolfe (Johann Strauss), Stuart Wilson (Johann Strauss, Jr.), Anne Stallybrass (Anna Strauss), Derek Jacobi (Josef Lanner), Barbara Ferris (Emile Trampusch), Anina Marson (Olga), Jill Balcon (Madame Smirnitska), David DeKeyser (Hirsh), Christopher Benjamin (Dommayer), Sonia Dresdel (Lucari), Margaret Whiting (Hetti), Tony Anholt (Edi), Nikolas Simmonds (Josef Strauss), Georgia Hale (Lilli), Hilary Hardiman (Annele), William Dexter (Max Steiner), Lynn Farleigh (Adele).

7880 Strawberry Shortcake. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 2004). In a place called Strawberry Land, there lives Strawberry Shortcake, a girl who is cool, fun and as sweet as her name. Stories, which teach learning lessons to children via the action and songs that are incorporated into each episode, follows Strawberry as she becomes involved in various misadventures. Strawberry's friend, Peppermint Fizz, is the one who seeks to be the best at everything and it is basically through her antics that children learn lessons (for example, cheating is wrong). Other friends include Apple Dumpling, Rainbow Sherbet, Ginger Snap and Custard the Cat.

Voice Cast: Sarah Henne (Strawberry Shortcake), Rachel Ware (Angel Cake), Anna Jordan (Custard the Cat), Samantha Jrea (Ginger Snap), Rebecca Woole (Peppermint Fizz), Laura Grimm (Rainbow Sherbet), Kate Labosky (Apple Dumpling).

7881 Strawbat Matinee. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1951). A daily summer program of music, songs, variety acts and fashion previews aimed at the housewife. The series ran from June 27, 1951 to September 7, 1951.

Host: Mel Martin. Assistant: Rosemary Olbering. Music: Ernie Lee's Hillbilly Band.

7882 Strawbat Theater. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1953–1954). Performances by country and western entertainers. The summer series ran from May 27, 1953 to September 8, 1954.

Hosts: Mel Martin, Rosemary Olbering. Regulars: Jane Pickens, Lee Jones, Marian Spellman, The Log Jammers, The Pine Mountain Boys. Music: Ernie Lee.

7883 The Strawbatters. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1953–1954). Performances by country and western bands, undiscovered talent, guest vocalists and acrobats. The series ran from May 27, 1953 to September 9, 1953; and June 23, 1954 to September 8, 1954.

Hosts: Johnny Olsen, Virginia Graham.

7884 The Street. (Series; Drama; Fox; 2000). The Wall Street brokerage firm of Balmont Stevens, Inc., provides the setting for a soap opera like series that follows the lives of a group of ruthless (and hot shot) traders in the world of high finance. Leading the pack is Jack Kenderson, a high stakes player with an uncanny flare for the stock market. Chris McConnell is a former Navy SEAL; Freddie Sacker, a master salesman; Evan Mitchell is the firm's research analyst; Catherine Miller, the vice president of sales (in charge of a mostly male department); Alexander Brill is a Harvard trained investment broker; Donna Pasqua is the firm's receptionist who is determined to move up the corporate ladder. The series ended after seven episodes.

Cast: Tom Everett Scott (Jack Kenderson), Jennifer Connelly (Catherine Miller), Rick Hoffman (Freddie Sacker), Adam Goldberg (Evan Mitchell), Sean Maher (Chris McConnell), Nina Garbiras (Alexander Brill), Melissa DeSousa (Donna Pasqua), Bridgette Wilson (Bridget Deshiell), Giancarlo Esposito (Tom Duvack).

7885 Street Fighter. (Series; Cartoon; USA; 1995). An animated series based on the video game of the same title about a group of martial arts experts who are recruited off the street to battle the evil Mike Bison and his deadly gang, the Shadowru. Although produced in Japan, American military colonel Guile organizes the covert action team, which includes Ken and Ryu, street fighters who have trained together since childhood, and Chun-Li, a female street fighter.

Voice Cast: Kenji Haga (Ken Masters), Koji Tsujitani (Ryu), Chisa Yokoyama (Chun-Li), Tesho Genda (Colonel Guile), Tomomichi Nishimura (Mike Bison), Yoko Sasaki (Cammy White), Rokuro Naya (Dorai), Kazuki Yao (Fei Long), Banjo Ginga (Sagat), Kenji Utsumi (Vega). Additional Voices: Phil Brewster, George Kee Cheung, Bambi Darro, Dorothy Elias-Fahn, Tom Fahn.

7886 Street Hawk. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1985). "Operation Street Hawk" is a top-secret project of the L.A.P.D. that is concerned with law enforcement. Street Hawk is a high tech motorcycle designed specifically to battle crime (an all-terrain pursuit vehicle).

Norman Tuttle, a research scientist for the Federal government, designed Street Hawk with a hope of it becoming part of every law enforcement agency in the country. Right now it is an experiment and only one prototype exists. Norman's base of operations is a lab hidden in a warehouse (Durrell's Bakers Supply Company) "that looks like the bridge of the Starship Enterprise" (from Star Trek).

Jesse Mach is Street Hawk's driver, an officer with the Metropolitan Division of the L.A.P.D. He wears a leg brace and poses as an officer with the public relations department. Jesse was reckless and irresponsible and suffered a severe motorcycle accident that made him incapable of fighting street crime. Norman arranged a special operation at the Doctors Hospital of California that used an unapproved FDA prosthesis to repair Jesse's knee. In turn, Jesse agreed to become Norman's "test pilot." While Jesse does not need to wear the leg brace, he does so as part of his cover.

Jesse is given a special racing suit (to ride Street Hawk and conceal his true identity). Stories follow Jesse and he and Norman put Street Hawk to the test in the war against crime.

Sandy McCoy (then Rachel Adams) is Jesse's superior, the head of the P.R. department. Leo Altobelli is the Police Commissioner. Tangerine Dream performs the theme.

Cast: Rex Smith (Jesse Mach), Joe Regalbutto (Norman Tuttle), Jayne Modean (Sandy McCoy), Jeannie Wilson (Rachel Adams), Richard Venture (Leo Altobelli).

7887 Street Justice. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1991-1993). Adam Beaudreaux is a sergeant with the Metropolitan Police Department of a Pacific Northwest city identified as being in the beautiful Evergreen State. Adam has decided on the life of a police officer to meet people and keep the trash off the streets. He wears badge number 2230 and lives at 2731 West Bond Street.

Adam is independently wealthy and is partners with a woman known only as Molloy in a business called Molloy's Bar. The bar is located at 843 Third Street.

Before becoming a cop, Adam served with the Special Forces Unit in Vietnam. It was here that he met and befriended a young boy named Grady Jameson (Devon LaChance). Grady, the son of missionary parents, was born in the Chan Lo village in Vietnam. When the Vietcong invaded his village and killed his parents, Grady was rescued by Adam, who made it his responsibility to raise him. Now grown, Grady works as Molloy's bartender as well as a martial arts instructor at Chan's Dojo School. Although not an official member of the police force, Grady uses his skills to help Adam collar criminals.

Cast: Carl Weathers (Adam Beaudreaux), Charlene Fernetz (Molloy), Bryan Genesse (Grady Jameson). Theme: "Street Justice" by Lawrence Shragee.

7888 Street Sharks. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1994-1995). John, Bobby, Clint and Coop Bolton are four brothers who have been transformed into half human, half shark creatures by an evil genetic engineer (Dr. Piranoid). His plan, however, to use them for evil fails when they retain their human instincts.

John becomes Ripster; Bobby is Blades; Clint is Jab and Coop has become Big Slammu — heroes who become known as the Street Sharks. Stories follow their efforts to protect Fission City from Dr. Piranoid as he sets out to destroy humanity.

Voice Cast: Lee Tockar (John Bolton/Ripster), Andy Rannells (Bobby Bolton/Blades), Matt Hill (Clint Bolton/Jab), D. Kevin Williams (Coop Bolton/Big Slammu), J. Michael Lee (Dr. Piranoid). Additional Voices: Steve Gibbs, Kevin Ehrhart, Susie Collins, Katie Hughes, Amy Kunz, Roberta Larson, Alvin Sanders, Kasey Sixt, Jerry W. Wall.

7889 Street Time. (Series; Crime Drama; Showtime; 2002–2003). Kevin Hunter is a former smuggler who, after serving a five-year prison sentence, is released on parole. Kevin, however, wants to do something constructive with his life. Instead of returning to a life of crime he becomes a parole officer in an attempt to help other parolees stay on the right track. Stories follow Kevin's efforts to do what he set out to do. Rachel is Kevin's estranged wife (with whom he is seeking to begin a fresh relationship); James Liberti is Kevin's parole officer (making sure Kevin stays on the straight and narrow).

Cast: Rob Morrow (Kevin Hunter), Michelle Nordon (Rachel Goldstein), Scott Cohen (James Liberti), Christopher Bolton (Peter Hunter), Simon Reynolds (Steve Goldstein), Jeffrey James (James Liberti, Jr.), Alexander Conti (Timmy Liberti).

7890 The Streets. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 9/2/84). Daniel "Danny" Wreade is a young N.Y.P.D. officer who works undercover as a taxicab driver. The unsold series was to relate his exploits as he risks his life to apprehend lawbreakers. In the pilot episode, Danny attempts to learn the identity of a gang leader who is selling handguns that are lethal to the people who are buying them for self defense. Other Regulars: Sergeant Max Grazzo, Danny's superior; and Marsha, Danny's friend.

Cast: Michael Beck (Danny Wreade), Jerry Orbach (Max Grazzo), Nancy Grigor (Marsha). Guest Cast: Dana Delany (Jeannie), Val Avery (Whitcomb), Jerry Strivelli (Morrison). Note: The pilot was originally titled Street Heat and early NBC press information lists Michael Beck's character as Roger Wreade.

7891 The Streets of Beverly Hills. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 7/13/92). A proposed series about Charlie Street, a hard-nosed L.A.P.D. cop who transfers to the Beverly Hills Police Department in order to give his son (Kenny) a better life.

Cast: Brian Keith (Charlie Street), Stan Kirsch (Kenny Street), Dey Young (Detective Kroenberg), John Bennett Perry (Captain Buxton).

7892 Streets of Danger. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1954). The alternate title for The Lone Wolf. See this title for information.

7893 The Streets of San Francisco. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1972–1977). Mike Stone and Steve Keller are homicide detectives with the San Francisco Police Department. Mike is the older, set-in-his-ways cop; Steve is the younger, eager to try new tactics cop whose views often clash with Mike. Stories relate their case investigations in stories that are about the people of a city and how two dedicated police detectives touch their lives. Jean Stone is Mike's daughter (Mike is a widower).

7894 Strictly for Laughs. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1949–1950). The humorous music of the Kirby Stone Quintet. The series, which ran from November 8, 1949 to June 23, 1950, is also known as The Kirby Stone Quintet.

7895 Strike Force. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 4/12/75). A proposed series about a streetwise N.Y.P.D. detective (Joey Gentry), a Federal agent (Jerome Ripley) and a state trooper (Walter Spenser) who team and use their unique resources to bust lawbreakers. The pilot episode relates their efforts to arrest a drug kingpin (Sol Terranova).

Cast: Cliff Gorman (Tony Gentry), Donald Blakely (Jerome Ripley), Richard Gere (Walter Spenser). Guest Cast: Joe Spinelli (Sol Terranova), Edward Grover (Captain Peterson), Marilyn Chris (Faye Stone), Allan Rich (Police Commissioner).

7896 Strike Force. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1981–1982). Room 414 of the Los Angeles Police Department is the headquarters of Strike Force, a special unit that is designed to battle the violent crimes that are considered too dangerous for ordinary police officers to handle. Frank Murphy is its captain; his team: Detective Rosie Johnson, Lieutenant Charlie Gunzer, Detective Paul Strobber and Detective Mike Osborn. Their superior is Herbert Klein, the deputy police commissioner.

The team goes undercover when necessary; they kill when they have to — "This is what we do." Code Green indicates to the police that a case has been resolved by Strike Force. When the police commissioner wants Strike Force, they're on it — "Do it, Frank, just do it." When there is no time to find a pattern and a strike has to be made, Strike Force is sent into action — the reason why it was formed.

Frank is now divorced after being married eight years "to a tyrant named Donna"; in later episodes, she is called Eve. Rosie, the team's only female member, is a beautiful cop who lives in an apartment at 136 Shore Drive. When the series first began, Rosie, who is rather “well built” (measurements not given), was part of the era of “jiggle TV” and dressed to accentuate her bosom. As the series progressed, Rosie did less running and dressed in less revealing blouses; even her running sequences from the opening theme were replaced.

Paul, the team’s only black member, is married and has two kids. Charlie, who makes the office coffee, which Rosie dislikes, lives in Apartment 42 at 1908 Harbor View Drive.

Cast: Robert Stack (Frank Murphy), Trisha Noble (Rosie Johnson), Richard Romanus (Charlie Gunzer), Dorian Harewood (Paul Trrobber), Michael Goodwin (Mike Osborn), Herb Edelman (Herbert Klein), Lynn Carlin (Lorraine Klein; Herb’s wife), Joanna Cassidy (Eve Murphy; Frank’s ex-wife). Theme Song: “Strike Force” by Dominic Frontiere.

7897 Strike It Rich. (Series; Game; CBS; 1951–1958). Contestants stand before the studio audience and relate their hard-luck stories, stating their single most needed possession. The saddest storyteller, as determined by studio audience applause, receives the program’s heart line, a cash bonanza.

Host: Warren Hull. Assistant: Jack Carson. Substitute Host: Monty Hall. Announcer: Ralph Paul. Commercial Spokeswoman: Virginia Graham.

7898 Strike It Rich. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1986). A category topic is revealed and each two-member team selects the number of questions to answer (from one to three). If they answer the questions correctly, they move that many spaces across an eight-step arch. Each step wins them a prize; however, secretly hidden among the prizes is the “Bandit,” who reclaims prizes if he appears. The first team to cross the arch wins the prizes they have accumulated.

Host: Joe Garagiola. Model: Theresa Ring. Announcer: Bob Hilton.

7899 The Strip. (Series; Crime Drama; UPN; 1999–2000). Elvis Ford and Jesse Weir are former police officers turned private security consultants for Cameron Greene, owner of Caesar’s Palace Hotel and Gambling Casino in Las Vegas. Crime and corruption are a part of the Strip. “If a guest has a problem, I have a problem,” says Greene. “All my guests are like family” and Elvis and Jesse have been hired to protect that family.

Elvis and Jesse were detectives with the Las Vegas Police Department who quit the force when corrupt federal agents tried to frame them for robbing slot machines. Elvis became a cop “because I liked to carry a gun.” He was born in Las Vegas and lives on a boat called Gonzo. He won the boat in a game of five card stud and it is dry docked at his ex-stripper grandmother’s desert trailer park. Elvis is a junk food junkie and has a gambling problem. He usually has a burrito for breakfast and is hooked on Yoo Hoo Soda; he gets irritable if he has to go without one. He has a photographic mind and always looks mad.

Jesse worked as a Federal Task Officer in his home town of Philadelphia before moving to Las Vegas. He is married to Vanessa, a real estate agent for Sand Dune Realty. Jesse is the stable partner, always calm and practical in each situation. Elvis is more of a renegade and plunges head first into situations.

Elvis has a knack for getting into locked places by using whatever he can find. Jesse is a gourmet but Elvis can’t comprehend anything that doesn’t come with French fries and a coke. Jesse prefers coffee at Starbucks; Elvis at “7-11 because I can pour my own.” Jesse and Vanessa live in a home at 346 South Vista.

Cameron’s real name is Carmine Quinelli “but it didn’t fit my business purposes and I changed it.” In his youth he was an Eagle Scout and won awards for cooking and marksmanship. He is now a billionaire — “three commas, three zeros” and is hooked on cigarettes — three packs a day. He is also distrustful of cell phones; “They rot your brain cells.” He set up Elvis and Jesse as his personal security staff because he felt the cops are overworked and hotel security needs to stay indoors. Mark Mancinia composed the theme “The Strip.”

Cast: Sean Patrick Flanery (Elvis Ford), Guy Torry (Jesse Weir), Joe Viterelli (Cameron Greene), Stacey Dash (Vanessa Weir).

7900 Stripperella. (Series; Cartoon; Spike TV; 2003–2004). Erotica Jones is an extremely sexy stripper at a club called The Tender Loins. She is secretly Stripperella, an agent for T.H.U.G.G., a secret organization that battles evil.

The well-endowed Erotica calls herself “a Double D-Cup Super Hero” but her official code is Agent Double 069. She hates evildoers but has a heart of gold and a passion for animals.

Erotica wears pink when she is herself; black or dark blue when she becomes Stripperella. Erotica is impervious to all temperatures and weather conditions. She rides a motorcycle and can cut glass with her fingernails. The naval jewelry she wears is actually a control device her superior, Chief Stroganoff uses to contact her for an assignment. Erotica’s enhanced blonde hair enables her to float safely from tall buildings. She conceals a lie detector in her bra and a digital scanner, placed under her tongue, allows her to download information to a computer.

Other characters are Catt and Giselle, busty dancers at the Tender Loins; Pushy Galore, the club owner; Special Agent 41 (works for Stroganoff); Lester the ventriloquist and his dummy, Moe; and villains Cheapo, Small Fry and Dr. Cesarian.

Voice Cast: Pamela Anderson (Erotica Jones/Strip- perella), Maurice LaMarche (Chief Stroganoff), Joey Lauren Adams (Catt), Mark Hamill (Dr. Cesarian). Additional Voices: Sirena Irwin, Dee Bradley Baker, Jon Cryer, Jill Taley.

7901 Strong Medicine. (Series; Drama; Lifetime; 2000–2006). The Rittenhouse Women's Health Clinic in Philadelphia was established by two female doctors — Luisa Delgado and Andrea “Andy” Campbell, to help women of all means get the care they need. Dana Stowe, Kayla Thornton, Lana Hawkins, Nick Biancavilla and Peter Briggs assist them.

Luisa, called Lu, is a single mother (of Marc) and put herself through medical school. She originally founded the South Philly Women's Clinic (which went bankrupt). Andy is from a military family and spent much of her youth in the Army Medical Corps. She is a skilled women's health specialist and a skilled general surgeon.

Dana Stowe is a doctor so dedicated to her work that she has virtually no time for anything else. Her goal is to become the U.S. Surgeon General. She is the daughter of a Noble Prize nominee (her mother) and a doctor (her father) and has devoted her life to medical research.

Kayla Thornton is a 26-year-old first year resident in emergency medicine. She hopes to gain the knowledge she needs to return to her rural hometown of Mount Union (in Pennsylvania) to help the people of her community. Lana Hawkins is the outspoken receptionist. She had a hard-knocks life — from salesgirl to prostitute and befriended Luisa when she became pregnant. It was Luisa who hired her for the job.

Nick Biancavilla is a staff doctor who works in the clinic's emergency room. He is brash and impulsive and puts himself on the front lines performing the procedures he feels are necessary — sometimes without time for the proper diagnosis. Peter Riggs is a nurse who first worked for the Peace Corps. He is also a massage therapist, a midwife and psychologist — and anything else that may be required to help women in need.

Other Regulars: Robert Jackson, the Chief of Staff, and Dr. Dylan West.

Cast: Rosa Blasi (Dr. Luisa Delgado), Patricia Richardson (Dr. Andy Campbell), Janine Turner (Dr. Dana Stowe), Jenifer Lewis (Lana Hawkins), Brennan Elliott (Dr. Nick Biancavilla), Philip Casnoff (Dr. Robert Jackson), Joshua Cox (Peter Riggs), Tamera Mowry (Dr. Kayla Thornton), Rick Schroder (Dr. Dylan West), James Logan (Paramedic Smith), Matthew Yang King (Dr. Matt Linn), Michelle Horn (Jesse Campbell), Morgan Flynn (Lizzy Campbell), Angela Marsden (Angela), Barry Sigismondi (Detective Stevens), John Griffin (Paramedic Newton), Patrick Flanagan (Paramedic Burns), Jon Hershfield (Para- medic Gordon), Richard Biggs (Dr. Milo Morton), Sheila Kerrigan (Nurse Gwen), Racheal Seymour (Nurse Rachel), Dena Lang (Nurse Porter), Terrence Flack (Dr. Terence).

7902 Struck by Lightning. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1979). The Bridgewater Inn is a decrepit Victorian lodge located off Highway 14 in Massachusetts. Following the death of its owner, Emil Stein, his grandson, Ted Stein, a high school science teacher in Boston, inherits the inn.

Ted, who “didn't know my grandfather was alive until he was dead,” has no use for the inn and decides to sell it. Ted's decision angers Frank, the rather strange looking handyman. When Frank's efforts to scare Ted out of selling the inn fail, he takes Ted to a secret lab beneath the inn. Frank tells Ted that his real last name is Frankenstein and that his great-great-grandfather, Gustav Frankenstein, made him — “I'm the monster. Now I'm your monster.” Frank then tells Ted that he needs a special serum, developed by Gustav, every 50 years to stay alive: “If I don't get it, my cells begin to disintegrate and the muscle tissue begins to go. I was created out of the graveyard. I'm 27 different parts trying to make it as one person.” Unfortunately, Frank tells Ted, the original formula is gone, as Gustav ate it (Why? “Why does a 93-year-old man go skiing naked? Half the time he thought I was a chicken”). The only way to save Frank, who is now 230 years old, is to try to recreate the formula from Gustav's lab notes — something Frank cannot do alone. Realizing that he is Frank's only means of survival, Ted decides to continue in the tradition of the Frankenstein name and help Frank. Stories relate their efforts to find the elusive formula.

Nora Clavin is the manager of the inn; Walt Clavin is Nora's husband, a real estate salesman; and Brian Clavin is their son.

An uncredited version of the song “You Are So Beautiful” is the opening theme; “Keep It Alive,” by Alan Brackett and Joey Stec, is the closing theme.

Cast: Jack Elam (Frank), Jeffrey Kramer (Ted Stein), Millie Slavin (Nora Clavin), Richard Stahl (Walt Clavin), Jeff Cotler (Brian Clavin).

7903 Stryker of Scotland Yard. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1957). Robert Stryker is an intrepid chief inspector with London's New Scotland Yard. Stories follow his investigations as he tackles cases wherein innocent people have become the pawns of master criminals.

Cast: Clifford Evans (Insp. Robert Stryker).

7904 The Stu Erwin Show. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1950–1955). The alternate title for Trouble with Father. See this title for information.

7905 Stud's Place. (Series; Comedy; NBC; ABC; 1949–1951). Studs Turkel is the owner of Stud's Place, a Chicago restaurant-bar with its share of problems, most of which are caused by his staff: Grace, the waitress; Beverly, the pianist (later replaced by Chet); and Win, the folk-singing handyman. Stories follow Studs as he seeks to keep his sanity by solving the problems that arise. It aired on NBC from November 26, 1949 to August 24, 1950; and on ABC from October 13, 1950 to December 24, 1951.

Cast: Studs Turkel (Studs Turkel), Beverly Younger (Grace), Carolyn Gilbert (Carolyn), Chet Roble (Chet), Win Strackle (Win).

7906 Student Bodies. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1997). Cody Miller is a student at Thomas A. Edison High School. He is also an illustrator for Student Bodies, the school newspaper that was created by the students themselves. Live action is mixed with animation as Cody's illustrations (seen in animation) come to life to tell stories about life at the school, particularly with his friends, the members of the paper's staff.

Cast: Jamie Elman (Cody Anthony Miller), Nicole Lyn (Emily Roberts), Ross Hull (Chris Sheppard), Dino Valiotis (Dino), Katie Emme McIninch (Margaret "Mags" Abernathy), Jennifer Finnigan (Kim McCloud), Kerwin Jackson (T.J.), Victoria Sanchez (Grace Vasquez), Mark Taylor (Romeo Carter), Jessica Goldapple (Francesca "Flash" Albright), Kathryn Winnick (Holly Benson), Miklos Perlus (Victor Kane).

7907 Studio '57. (Series; Anthology; DuMont; 1954–1955). A series of filmed dramas under the sponsorship of Heinz 57 Varieties. Also known as Heinz Studio '57.

7910 Studio One in Hollywood. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1958). The last season title for Studio One. See this title for information.

7911 Studio 7. (Series; Reality; WB; 2004). An eight week game show that is designed to produce one winner who will walk away with the top prize of $777,000. Each week (weeks one through seven), seven people compete in a game that tests knowledge on anything, ranging from politics, pop culture and sports to their ability to recall and memorize. The game is held in the Studio 7 suite of a mid-Manhattan hotel in New York City. Each week, six of the seven contestants are eliminated by incorrect answers to questions. The remaining contestants in these weekly battles receives $77,000 and appear on the last episode for an intense question and answer session wherein the most intelligent player wins the grand prize.

Host: Pat Kiernan.

7912 Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip. (Series; Drama; NBC; 2006–2007). “Live from Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip, it’s party night from Hollywood” is the opening to a mythical sketch series on the fictional NBS (National Broadcasting System) a TV network owned by the Tunney Media Group. Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip (the name of the show), has been on the air since 1986 and is starting its twentieth season on a bumper. The ratings have been dropping and on its opening night season premiere, the show’s host (Wes) urged viewers to switch channels when his idea for a religious sketch (a take-off on The 700 Club called “Crazy Christian”) was pulled at the last minute (due to fears of unfavorable feedback). Wes is immediately fired (although the studio director [Cal] allowed him 53 seconds of air-time) and the new president of NBS, Jordan McDeere, suddenly finds herself faced with a crisis. To save the show, Jordan (a real gutsy woman) rehires Matt Albie (a writer-producer) and Danny Tripp (a producer-director) to take over the show and bring it back to the glory it once had. Matt and Danny were fired from the series four years ago by Jordan’s boss, Jack Rudolph, and reluctantly return to the show.

The series itself, presents a behind-the-scenes look at what it takes to put on a sketch show (like the real Saturday Night Live or Mad TV) and the relationship between the various people who work in front of the cameras and behind the scenes.

7913 Studs. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1991). The program tries to match men with women. Three women are introduced then interviewed. Three so-called “studs” are then brought out and also interviewed. It is revealed that each of the men (studs) had a blind date with the women. Remarks made by the women when first meeting on the date are used for a series of questions (for example: “What did you [the girl] think when you first saw your date?”). The studs are seated opposite the women and three responses are revealed (that were actually said by the women). If the stud can guess which response matches what his date said about him, he receives one heart. The game continues in this manner. The stud with the most hearts wins the game and is crowned “King Stud.” Each stud then chooses the one girl he would like to date (the girls chose their stud choice before air time and in secret). The girls reveal their choices. The couple that matches receives an all-expenses paid lavish evening on the town.

Host: Mark DeCarlo.

7914 Stump the Stars. (Series; Game; CBS; 1962–1963). “It’s the fastest half-hour in television, Stump the Stars....” Two four-member teams compete in a game of charades. One member of one team is handed a charade and must perform it to his team. The amount of time (up to two minutes) that it takes the team to identify the charade is calculated. Each member of each team competes in the same manner. The team with the overall lowest performance time is the winner. Merchandise prizes are awarded to the home viewers whose charades are used on the air.

Hosts: Mike Stokey, Pat Harrington, Jr. Regulars: Beverly Garland, Diana Dors, Ruta Lee, Ross Martin, Sebastian Cabot, Hans Conried.

7915 Stump the Stars. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1969). A revised version of the 1962 series of the same title (which see for format).

Host: Mike Stokey. Regulars: Deanna Lund, Vera Miles, Roger C. Carmel, Dick Patterson.

7916 Stumpers. (Series; Game; NBC; 1976). A stumper, which contains three clues to the identity of a person, place or thing, is revealed to one member of one team (two teams of two players compete). That player relates one of the clues to one member of the opposing team. If the player identifies the stumper, he scores 15 points. If he is stumped within five seconds, a second clue is given (worth 10 points) and finally a third clue (worth 5 points). If the player cannot solve the stumper, the team at play is given a chance to solve it and win 15 points. Each player receives an equal amount of turns giving and guessing stumpers. The highest scoring team is the winner.

Host: Allen Ludden. Music: Alan Thicke.

7917 Stunt Masters. (Series; Reality; Syn.; 1991). An action reality series that profiles stunt people as they do what they are known for — performing considerably dangerous stunts “that should not be tried at home.” The program is also a behind-the-scenes look at the preparations that go into movies and television show stunts.

Host: Jack Scalia.

7918 Stunt Seven. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 5/30/79). Hill, Eleana, Dinah, Skip, Ken, Wally and Horatio are seven Hollywood stunt performers who ban together to solve complex, high-risk crimes. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they use their unique skills to achieve the near impossible. In the pilot episode, the team is called upon to rescue a beautiful actress (Rebecca) from a ruthless kidnaper (Maximilian).

Cast: Christopher Connelly (Hill Singleton), Morgan Brittany (Eleana Sweet), Juanin Clay (Dinah Lattimore), Christopher Lloyd (Skip Hartman), Soon-Tech Oh (Ken Uto), Bob Seagren (Wally Ditweiler), Brian Brodsky (Horatio Jennings). Guest Cast: Elke Sommer (Rebecca Wayne), Patrick Macnee (Maximilian Bourdeaux), Bill Macy (Frank Wallach), Peter Haskell (Phil Sampson), Robert Ritchie (Harrison).

7919 Stunts Unlimited. (Pilot; Adventure; ABC; 1/4/80). When the CIA requires a special team to perform hazardous missions, Dirk “Mac” Macauley, a former U.S. Intelligence agent, hires three Hollywood stunt people (Matt, C.C. and Bo) and forms Stunts Unlimited, an agency that handles top secret missions. In the pilot episode, the team attempts to penetrate a madman’s fortress and recover a deadly laser weapon.

Cast: Chip Mayer (Matt Lewis), Susanna Dalton (C.C. Brandt), Sam J. Jones (Bo Carlson), Glenn Corbett (Dirk “Mac” Macauley), Linda Grovner (Jody Webber; Mac’s assistant). Guest Cast: Alejandro Rey (Fernando Castilla), Vic Mohica (Tallia), Mickey Gilbert (Horse Gilbert), Hal Needham (Himself).

Chelsea, however, is no businesswoman. When her business affairs begin to get out of hand, Jane Sokol is brought in by the principal holding company (Ferber Enterprises) to take charge of Chelsea’s finances. Stories follow Jane as she struggles to cope not only with Chelsea’s antics, but those of her neurotic staff: Trudy, the wise-cracking food stylist; Mr. John, the gay interior decorator; Terry, the inept secretary; and Bobby, Chelsea’s obnoxious attorney. Also complicating Jane’s life is Earl, Chelsea’s “hick” neighbor.

Cast: Jean Smart (Chelsea Stevens), Nancy McKeeon (Jane Sokol), Joseph Maher (Hadley John), Linda Kash (Trudy Weissman), Heath Hyche (Terry), Vyto Ruginas (Bobby), Alan Autry (Earl).

7921 Suburban Beat. (Pilot; Crime Drama; NBC; 8/17/85). Joanna, Hope, Mimi and Rosemary are four suburban housewives and residents of Jericho Downs who form a committee to combat crime. The proposed series was to relate their exploits as they take to the streets to help the police keep their community crime free. In the pilot episode, the girls attempt to solve the murders of two prostitutes. Other Regulars: Charlie, Joann’s husband; Darrell, Hope’s husband; Jennifer, Joanna’s daughter; Contata, Hope’s housekeeper; Sergeant Mike DeSantis; and Joanna’s mother.

Cast: Dee Wallace (Joanna), Shelley Fabares (Mimi), Heather Langenkamp (Hope Sherman), Patti Austin (Rosemary), Stephen Paar (Mike DeSantis), Jeff Silverstein (Charlie), John Bloom (Darrell Sherman), Jenny Lewis (Jennifer), Sandy Martin (Contata), Elena Verdugo (Joanna’s mother). Guest Cast: Sharon Spelman (Gaye Romanus), Joe Santos (Linus), Arthur G. Koustick (Phil Romanus).

7922 The Subway Network. (Pilot; Comedy; Syn.; 6/17/89). The Subway Network is a mobile television network that is based in the New York City subway system. The proposed series spoofs normal television programs and commercials by showcasing its own fare. Regulars: Brian, the president; Skip, the general manager; Scotty, the engineer; and Amanda, the intern.

Cast: Jim Fyfe (Brian), Jeff Stillson (Skip), Michael Carrington (Scotty), Anastacia Newkirk (Amanda). Guest: Robin Leach.

7923 Success: It Can Be Yours. (Pilot; Human Interest; ABC; 3/5/82). Cyndy Garvey and Gary Collins host a proposed series that was to recount the stories of people who overcame adversity to achieve success.

7924 Suddenly Susan. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1996–2000). The Gate is a trendy San Francisco magazine owned by Jack Richmond. Susan Kean, Vickie Groener, Luis Rivera and Todd Stites are employees.

Susan writes the column “Suddenly Susan” (“It’s about life and what happens to me”). She attended Hillcrest High School and lives at 3135 Washington Street. Susan is tall, slim and gorgeous; but in junior high, “I was a pie-loving kid who was overweight.” Susan has a bright outlook about everything and thinks she is adorable. Susan feels bad things happen when she lies. Susan enjoys dinner at Chan’s Restaurant and hangs out with the gang at Bucky’s Tavern (later O’Malley’s Bar then McMurphy’s Bar). “I’m keen on Keane” was the slogan Susan used when she ran for (but lost) a seat on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Susan hates to have her picture taken — “I always look like I’m just reentering Earth.” Vickie says, “Susan’s pretty in person, nasty on film.”

Vickie, the food critic, also writes about the hip scene and calls herself “The Empress of Hip.” “I’m not as beautiful as Susan,” she says, “but I’m cute and spunky.” Vickie is a member of the Vixens, an all girl basketball team (Susan also played on the team.) Vickie enjoys other people’s misery, feels she is a man magnet but says, “I’m a tramp at heart.” She has a fake handicap parking permit and when she gets depressed over a man “I need pizza, booze and male strippers to get me over it.”

Jack. As a kid Jack’s favorite TV shows were Po- lice Woman, Wonder Woman and The Bionic Woman. He has a rock-climbing wall behind his desk and a coffee mug that reads "Big Dog." Jack, a member of the Kingpins bowling team, bowls at Echo Lanes. On Fridays he plays squash. On weekends he climbs mountains, sky dives and races cars ("It makes me uninsurable but alive").

Todd is the magazine's music critic. He attends baseball games hoping to fulfill a dream — catch a foul ball (before attending each game he performs "the Foul Ball Dance"). Kids call him "Todd the God" because he sets up free video games for them at the arcade. Todd once gave a bad review to the Grateful Dead and is now tormented by Grateful Dead fanatics who complain about him having a steady job, no tattoos and short hair.

He attends pottery classes (with Luis) at Color My World. He and Luis, the magazine's photographer, pooled their resources and invested $17,000 in Lemon Legs, a business dealing in yellow bell-bottom pants for women.

Maddie Piper is the snobbish new columnist who is disliked by all (except Susan, who is trying to like her). Vickie feels Maddie should have been one of the Spice Girls — "Bitchy Spice" — and calls her "Little Blondie Pants." Maddie thinks Luis is a "macho idiot" and Todd "just a plain idiot." Maddie attended the same pottery high school as Susan and constantly teased her with practical jokes. Susan considers these incidents "Silence of the Lambs with a Hall Pass." Susan fantasized about getting back at her: "Like messing with her car or putting her in a wood chipper."

Ian Graham purchases the magazine from Jack at the start of the fourth season (9/20/99). He moved the editorial offices from a swank uptown building to a less desirable location in Chinatown. Maddie quit at this point and moved to New York when Ian talked down to her. Ian is a magazine publisher who felt the Gate was a rag, but it had a name, the circulation and the staff that he needed to change its focus to men's issues.

Oliver Brown was hired by Ian to shoot the magazine's covers (gorgeous girls). Oliver cured Susan of her photo fears by shooting a sexy pose that Ian used on billboards to announce the new magazine ("The Gate — Now Open").

Cast: Brooke Shields (Susan Keane), Judd Nelson (Jack Richmond), Kathy Griffin (Vickie Groener), Nestor Carbonell (Luis Rivera), David Strickland (Todd Stiles), Eric Idle (Ian Graham), Andrea Bendewald (Maddie Piper), Rob Estes (Oliver Brown).

7925 Sue Thomas, F.B. Eye. (Series; Crime Drama; PAX; 2002–2005). Suzanne Thomas (real life deaf actress Deanne Bray) is a young woman who sees what she cannot hear. She is deaf and reads lips to understand the world around her. For Suzanne, called Sue, it began at an early age. One day, after playing outdoors, Sue turned her attention to watching cartoons on TV. During a "Sylvester and Tweety Pie" episode, she began to experience a hearing loss. Before the cartoon ended she was totally deaf. This became noticeable to her mother when Sue approached the TV and turned up the volume in an effort to hear it. Sue was taken to several doctors but each was unable to explain the reason for her sudden hearing loss. Despite her handicap, Sue's mother was determined to see that her daughter would lead a normal life. A special tutor was hired and Sue was taught how to speak and hear things by reading lips and eyes. Sue's mother rejected the notion that her daughter be enrolled in a special school. Sue was sent to a normal school and survived from kindergarten through graduation from college.

She was made fun of (called "a retard" in early grammar school), but her strong will and determination to be normal helped her survive a challenging school career. "You can't ever let them see you're scared," Sue's mother would tell her. "They'll think you don't belong." Keep moving forward; God will let you know if you're on the right track is a philosophy Sue's mother taught her and that she now lives by.

To help her in her daily life, Sue decides to get a hearing aid dog trained to let her know when somebody is trying to get her attention, to let her know when the doorbell rings, when the phone rings, etc. An abused golden retriever she names Levi becomes her "ears." "Nobody wanted him," Sue says, "except me. I knew he would make a good hearing aid dog."

While not babied because of her impairment, Sue feels she must take her place in the world. She applies for and receives a position with the FBI in Washington, D.C. ("Never in a million years did I think I'd be working for the FBI"). Sue's enthusiasm is shattered a bit when she arrives in D.C. to begin her job: Fingerprinting — examining fingerprints, identifying them and routing them for filing. "It's a fancy name for where they put people with disabilities," she says.

Sue does not consider herself disabled. She wants to show everyone she can survive on her own. With a hope of convincing personnel that she is suited for something better, Sue approaches Jack Hudson, an FBI agent she mistakes for the personnel director. When Jack explains that personnel has moved to the fifth floor but discovers Sue is deaf and can look around a room and see what everybody is saying, he hits on an idea to use her skills in his surveillance unit. When Sue proves her ability during a test case, she is transferred. Levi, who is given his own FBI badge, also becomes part of the team. "We're going to make it, Levi," Sue said, "as long as we stick together." To be sure of her facts, Sue always takes notes of the interviews she conducts with suspects.

Jack is from Wisconsin. He was always interested in law enforcement, but during high school he showed promise as a member of the hockey team. That career ended when he was injured and Jack pursued his goal of becoming an FBI agent. He believes an innocent person tries to get rid of him when he asks questions while a guilty person offers ways of finding a killer.

Lucy Dotson is the FBI office router (keeps things moving) who becomes Sue's best friend, beside Levi. It is Lucy who becomes her roommate in later episodes when she convinces Sue to move out of the loft over the Rock, Rattle and Roll Bowling Alley to a quieter, more respectable apartment at 11 Hayden Place.

Cast: Deanne Bray (Sue Thomas), Yannick Bison (Jack Hudson), Erika Okuma (Lucy Dotson), Rick Peters (Agent Bobby Manning), Tara Samuel (Agent Tara Williams), Marc Gomez (Agent Dimitrius Gans), Ted Atherton (Agent Myles Leland III).

7926 Sugar and Spice. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990). Vickilyn and Loretta are sisters. They live at 731 Oakwood Avenue in Ponca City, California, with their niece, Toby, a recent orphan whose parents were killed in a car accident. Stories follow the sisters' efforts to raise Toby.

Vickilyn and her neighbor, Bonnie Buttram, run a curio shop called Small World Miniatures. Loretta, a former singer with the group The Chevells, now works as a hostess at Café Jacques. Bonnie is married to Cliff Buttram, a truck driver with an 18-wheeler he calls "Jolene" (he calls Bonnie "Prairie Blossom" and "Cuddle Buns"). Bonnie is an Elvis fan and president of the Truckers' Wives Auxiliary; she calls Cliff "Bunny Lips."

Toby and her wisecracking friend, Ginger attend Edison High School. Leslie Pearl, Paul Solovay and Susan Spiegel Solovay composed the "Sugar and Spice" theme.

Cast: Vickilyn Reynolds (Vickilyn), Loretta Devine (Loretta), LaVerne Anderson (Toby), Stephanie Hodge (Bonnie Buttram), Garrett Graham (Cliff Buttram), Dana Hill (Ginger).

7927 Sugar Hill Times. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1949). The program, also known as Uptown Jubilee, is the first television series to spotlight performances by black entertainers. It is produced by Barry Wood and ran from September 13, 1949 to October 20, 1949.

Host: Willie Bryant. Regulars: Harry Belafonte, Timmy Rogers, The Jubilaires. Music: Don Redmond.

7928 Sugar Time. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1977–1978). Maxx Douglas, Diane Zuckerman and Maggie Barton are three starry eyed singers who perform as the group Sugar at the Tryout Room nightclub in Los Angeles.

The girls share a small apartment at 363 Lindhaven Street. Maxx, who teaches classes at The Health Spa, also held jobs as a model, hat-check girl at a fancy restaurant and as a go-go dancer ("Even though I didn't wear much and it looked like I didn't have clothes on, in my heart I had clothes on"). Maxx, the prettiest girl in the group, is a bit dense and mentioned that she was born in Cleveland (she mentions Texas in another episode).

Diane is 23 years old and works as a dental assistant to her boyfriend, Dr. Paul Landson. She was born in the Bronx (lived on Jerome Avenue), and chocolate cake is her favorite dessert. She has the least self-confidence of the girls and feels that she can't make it — "I got one that moves better than me [Maxx] and one that stands better than me [Maggie]."

Maggie, the most logical one of the group, teaches dancing to children at the Willow Dancing School. She formed the group and believes they can make it to the big time (she met Maxx at The Health Spa and Diane when she came to have her teeth cleaned; she talked both into joining the group).

"Goodbye, Eddie" was the first song that the group sang at the Tryout Room. Diane stands in the center; Maggie is on the left (of the screen) and Maxx on the right. Lightning Jack Rappaport is a struggling comedian at the Tryout Room, and Al Marks is the club owner.

7929 Sugarfoot. (Series; Western; ABC; 1957–1963). "Sugarfoot" is a Western term for "a cowboy who is working his way up to be a tenderfoot." Tom Brewster is considered a Sugarfoot. He is peaceful, laidback, idealistic and romantic and looked upon as a gullible coward by the roughneck cowboys. Despite their belief, Tom is skilled with his gun, his fists and a knife.

Tom was born in Oklahoma. When he was a child he was inspired by Judge Henry Davis (Harry Holcombe) to become a lawyer (the judge made decisions to help change the country; deciding, for example, that the Indian is a person as defined by the Constitution). He was a man who personified the law to Tom. When the series begins, Tom is a law school correspondence student who roams the West of the 1870s. He signed up "for some of them correspondence courses from Kansas City" (he is up to lesson seven in the pilot and carries the law book Blackstone's Commentary, volume 9). Tom plans to hang up his shingle in a place that needs him and which he needs.

Tom calls guns “tools of the devil.” He wears his father’s gun and believes that “shootin’ ain’t always the answer.” He drinks sarsaparilla (“with a touch of cherry”) and carries a “Home, Sweet Home” plaque with him as he wanders from town to town “tryin’ to earn a little livin’ money.” While Tom struggled to avoid gunplay (he wanted only to study his law books), trouble was all that he found. His knowledge of the law and strong sense of justice helped him overcome difficult situations when defending clients.

In the town of Casa Grande, Arizona, Tom meets Toothy Thompson, “a man with a face people distrust.” When Tom gets Toothy acquitted of an attempted murder charge, he finds himself with a new friend and occasional companion on the trail. (Toothy, described as “kinda spooky looking, always smilin’,” was so grateful for what Tom had done for him that he made himself Tom’s best friend.)

Will Hutchins also played his outlaw double, the Canary Kid, in several episodes.

Cast: Will Hutchins (Tom Brewster), Jack Elam (Toothy Thompson). Theme Song: “Sugarfoot” by Ray Heindorf, Max Steiner, Paul Francis Webster.

7930 Suit Yourself. (Unaired Pilot; Game; Produced in 1990). A game of cards wherein contestants answer questions on specific topics in an attempt to acquire three cards of the same suit to win. Marty Pasetta is the producer.

Host: Jim Peck. Assistant: Laurie Huggins.

7931 The Suite Life of Zack and Cody. (Series; Comedy; Disney; 2005–). Carey Martin is a lounge singer and the mother of 12-year-old twin boys Zack and Cody. She is married to Kirk, a musician with a rock band who is constantly on the road thus leaving him little time to spend with his family.

Wilfred Tipton is the fabulously wealthy owner of the Tipton Hotel in Boston. Carey has an arrangement with Mr. Moseby, the hotel manager, to perform nightly in the hotel’s dining room. As part of the arrangement, Carey, Zack and Cody receive an upper suite for living quarters. Carey hires Maddie, the hotel’s gift store clerk, as her baby sitter and stories follow the twin’s activities as they take advantage of their situation, run amuck in the hotel and cause numerous problems for not only Carey and Maddie, but the hotel staff and guests.

Other Regulars: London Tipton, Wilfred’s gorgeous, spendthrift teenage daughter; and Esteban, the bellboy. The twins appear sweet and polite. Zack is the smarter one; Cody strives to be cool and just get by at school; they were born at the Children’s Hospital. London can’t stomach people who are poor. She says, “I’m not cut out for the regular life.” She has to have everything done for her. Maddie lives in a small apartment opposite Fenway Park.

Cast: Kim Rhodes (Carey Martin), Cole Sprouse

7932 The Sullivans. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1980). Suburban Melbourne, Australia, during World War II is the setting for a program that chronicles the lives of the Sullivan family: parents Dave and Grace and their children John, Tom, Terry and Kitty.

7933 Summer. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 7/14/84). Southern California is the setting for a proposed series about the vacation activities of a group of spirited high school students who live in an oceanfront community. Regulars: Students: Alex, Desmond, Zack, Candy, Karen, Melinda and Justine; Erik, the lifeguard; Mother, the owner of the beach disco (Mother’s); George, Zack’s father, the owner of the beach hot dog stand (Mr. Weiner); and Seaweed, a local surfer.

Cast: Gary Hershberger (Alex Pierce), Tico Wells (Desmond Winterspoon III), Johnny Timko (Zack Stone), Jill Carroll (Candy Barraro), Peggy Holmes (Karen), Jennifer Cooke (Melinda Danson), Nova Bell (Justine), Sally Kirkland (Mother), Gerard Prendergast (Erik Slade), Robert Hogan (George Stone), Cameron Thor (Seaweed).

7934 Summer Fun. (Pilot; ABC; 7/22/66 to 9/2/66). The overall title for six proposed series for the 1966–67 season. See the following titles: Baby Crazy, Little Leatherneck, McNab’s Lab, Meet Me in St. Louis, The Pirates of Flounder Bay and Thompson’s Ghost.

7935 Summer in the City. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1951). A program of music and comedy that replaced Faye Emerson’s Wonderful Town for two weeks during the summer of 1951 (from August 18 to August 25, 1951).

Host: Bob Sweeney, Hal March. Regulars: Nancy Kelly, Virginia Conwell, Gladys Swarthout, Robert Scheerer.

7936 The Summer Smothers Brothers Show. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1968). A program of music and song that replaced The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour during the summer of 1968 (from June 23, 1968 to September 8, 1968). The series, with its twist on words, is also known as The Summer Brothers Smothers Show. The series served as the basis for The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour (which see for information).

Host: Glen Campbell. Regulars: Sally Struthers, Pat Paulsen, Jack Burns, John Hartford. Announcer: Roger Carroll. Orchestra: Nelson Riddle.

7937 Summer Theater. (Pilot; NBC; 7/8/69 to 9/1/69). Proposed comedy programs for the 1969–70 season. See the following titles: The Best Years, Doc (1969), The Flim-Flam Man, Harper Valley U.S.A. and Pioneer Spirit.

7938 Summerland. (Series; Drama; WB; 2004–2005). Ava Gregory is a fashion designer who lives on Pyala Linda Beach in Southern California with her close friends, Suzanne, Johnny and Jake.

Ava was born in Hogarth County in Kansas and left to follow her dream of becoming a fashion designer, not a farmer. Life is looking good for Ava until tragedy strikes. Her sister, Karen and husband, Bob are killed in a car accident during a bad rain-storm. Ava suddenly becomes the legal guardian of her sister's children, Nikki, Bradin and Derek, when Karen's will stipulates that Ava care for her children. Ava was called "The Fun Aunt from California" not a parent. Although at first reluctant to care for the kids, Ava believes it is the right thing to do, especially when her friends offer to let the kids reside with them in the house. Stories follow Ava's efforts to become a parent and still pursue her dream of starting her own fashion line.

Ava and Suzanne are partners. They worked for Ian Straub Fashions before quitting to start their own line. Jay runs the local Surf Shop; Johnny works at Pyala Linda Realty.

Nikki is 13 years old and has a doll named Sophia ("Who grew up in the 1800s in North Dakota and brought her family out west during the California Gold Rush. She's a very strong female role model"). She and her brother, Derrick attend the Pyala Linda Middle School. Nikki also took on the role of mother — cooking and cleaning — for some months after first moving to California. Bradin is a 16-year-old ladies' man who is quickly adjusting to the beach life of Pyala Linda. Eight-year-old Derrick is the shy one of the family and having a difficult time adjusting to what has happened.

Other Regulars: Erika, the gorgeous surfing instructor; Jay, Ava's friend, the Australian surfer.

7939 Summertime, U.S.A. (Series; Variety; CBS; 1953). A twice-weekly interlude series of music and songs with singers Teresa Brewer and Mel Torme as the hosts. The series aired from July 7, 1953 to August 27, 1953. Richard Lewin is the producer.

Host: Teresa Brewer, Mel Torme. Regulars: The Honeydreamers. Orchestra: Ray Bloch.

7940 Sumthin' Good. (Pilot; Variety; Syn.; 7/23/77). A proposed series of variety performances from Kutsher's Country Club in Monticello, New York.

Performers: Patti Austin and Kelly Garrett (singers), Kole and Parham (musicians), Mal Z. Lawrence (comic) and The Lockers (dancers).

7941 The Sunday Comics. (Series; Comedy; Fox; 1991). Comedian Jeff Altman hosts a Sunday evening program of variety performances coupled with sketch comedy segments. Taped at the Hollywood Palace Theater.

7942 Sunday Date. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1949). A live program of music and songs with singer Helen Lee as the host. The series ran from August 21, 1949 to October 9, 1949.

Hostess: Helen Lee. Regulars: Shirley Levitt, Paulette Seslan, Dick Style, Joe E. Marks. Music: The Cavalier Trio.

7943 Sunday Dinner. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1991). Every Sunday evening in a house in Great Neck, Long Island, New York, the Benedict family gathers for "great" family conversation and a dinner that is served at five o'clock sharp. Problem is, there is more arguing than conversation (or dinner), as the family members are always at odds with one another. When the audience is first permitted to attend dinner, they are introduced to the series' premise: a 56-year-old man (Ben) plans to marry a girl 26 years his junior, Thelma Todd Fagori, called T.T.

Ben is the widowed father of three children (Vicky, Diana and Kenneth) who lives with his sister, Martha Benedict, who prepares the Sunday dinners. Ben, whose late wife was named Jean, owns the Benedict Printing Company. He has been a widower for four years.

T.T. is a beautiful 30-year-old environmental lawyer Ben met and fell in love with while on an assignment in Africa six months ago. T.T. believes she has a direct line to God, whom she calls "Chief" (when she is alone, she looks up and confides in Him — "Chief, have you got a minute?..."). T.T. does her best thinking in the bathtub. (In the last episode, T.T. set the wedding date for May 18, 1992.)

Victoria, called Vicky, is Ben's oldest child (age 32). She has been married and divorced twice and is the mother of a 12-year-old girl named Rachel. Vicky is a microbiologist and most opposed to her father's marriage plans. She is an atheist and also opposed to T.T. for her belief in God. Rachel attends public school and is living with Ben until her mother finishes her doctorate in microbiology. Vicky knows she is not as pretty as T.T. or her younger sister, Diana, and takes great pride in Rachel — “If one of us had to be beautiful,” Vicky says, “I’m glad it was you, Rachel.”

Diana is Ben’s 30-year-old daughter. She works as a fashion designer (of shoes and handbags) and is a bit of a flake. She sampled New Age religion as a way of finding herself; at age 16 she wanted to be a nun. When she was 19, she fell in love with a rabbi. Diana, who says, “I once had an out-of-body experience and couldn’t get back in,” is also opposed to Ben’s marriage.

Kenneth is Ben’s 20-year-old son. He is an idea man with wild schemes he expects his father to finance. He is for his father’s marriage and has a dog named Ivan Boesky. Theme: “Love Begins at Home,” vocal by Kim Carnes.

Cast: Robert Loggia (Benjamin Benedict), Marian Mercer (Martha Benedict), Teri Hatcher (T.T. Fagori), Martha Gehman (Victoria Benedict), Shiri Appleby (Rachel Benedict), Kari Lizer (Diana Benedict), Patrick Breen (Kenneth Benedict).

7944 Sunday Funnies. (Pilot; Comedy; Unaired; Produced for NBC in 1991). A proposed series of sketches based on contemporary comic book and newspaper heroes.

Cast: Monty Hoffman, Peter Keleghan, John Pinette.

7945 The Sunday Games. (Pilot; Game; NBC; 4/27/80). The pilot presentation for The Games People Play, a program wherein ordinary people compete in various games for the sheer enjoyment the sport offers.

Host: Bruce Jenner.

7946 Sunday in Paris. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/8/91). Fed up with life in New York and realizing that her three children (Taylor, Allison and Brandon) are losing sight of their values, Sunday Chase, star of the TV soap opera No Faith to Lose, quits her job (“I was going to be written out anyway”), packs her family and belongings and moves back to her roots in Paris, Texas, so they can experience life as she did as a child. Originally titled Fresher Pasteurs.

Other Regulars: Vernetta, Sunday’s mother; O.S., Sunday’s father; and Ferdie, Sunday’s brother.

Cast: Debbie Allen (Sunday Chase), Diahann Carroll (Vernetta Dickson), Oscar Brown, Jr. (O.S. Dickson), Jenifer Lewis (Taylor Chase), Essence Atkins (Allison Chase), Brandon Adams (Brandon Chase), John Witherspoon (Ferdie Dickson).

7947 Sunday Night. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1988). A weekly program of music, songs and comedy that like ABC’s Dolly was a failed attempt to revive the TV variety series format. Dolly was also a Sunday night program a year before Sunday Night. Lorne Michaels is the producer.

Host: David Sanborn, Jools Holland. Regulars: Lynda Barry, Kevin Meaney. Sunday Night Band: Hiram Bullock, Omar Hakim, Marcus Miller, Phillipe Sarsse.

7948 Sunday Night with Larry King. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 10/28/90). An unsold attempt to bring the variety show back to television via interviews and performances by the top names in show business. Bernie Brillstein and John Moffitt are the producers.

Host: Larry King. Guests: David Letterman, Kathy Mattea, Garry Shandling, Siegfried and Roy, Bart Simpson, Sylvester Stallone. Music: Mike Post.

7949 Sunset Beach. (Series; Serial; NBC; 1997–1999). Southern California’s Sunset Beach is the setting. Incidents in the lives of a diverse group of people who work and live in the area (The Deep is the local nightclub; and Java Web, is the cyber coffeehouse). The program, which ran from January 6, 1997 to December 31, 1999, was the first daytime program (soap opera) produced by Aaron Spelling.

Cast: Susan Ward (Meg Cummings), Sydney Penny (Meg Cummings), Lesley-Anne Down (Olivia Richards), Adrienne Frantz (Tiffany Thorne), Kelly Hu (Rae Chang), Leigh Taylor-Young (Elaine Stevens), Dominique Jennings (Virginia Harrison), Priscilla Garita (Gabi Martinez), Kathleen Noone (Bette Katzenkazzahi), Peter Barton (Eddie Connors), Nick Stabile (Mark Wolper), Sherri Saum (Vanessa Hart), Laura Harring (Paula Stevens), Randy Spelling (Sean Richards), Eddie Cibrian (Cole Deschanel), Sarah Buxton (Annie Douglas), Vanessa Dorman (Caitlin Richards), Sam Behrens (Gregory Richards), Clive Robertson (Ben Evans), Lisa Guerrero (Francesca Vargas), Tracy Melchior (Tess Marin), David Matthiessen (Leo Deschanel), Lillian Lehman (Lena Hart), Ana Auther (Dr. Luisa Estrada), Brett Stimley (Joshua Stone), Susan Seaforth Hayes (Patricia Steele), Ann Gillespie (Shelly Thomas), Jean Carol (Florence Kennedy), Michael Sabatino (Philip Vargas), Mark Ritter (Bernie Nielson), Bernie Kopell (Captain Nelson), Terry Davis (Hillary Nichols), Ryan Christopher Keys (Jake Russell), Brian Patrick Clarke (Bob Blythe), Barbara Luna (Sydney), Lise Simms (Kathy Baker), Jessica Tuck (Diane Wood), J. Karen Thomas (Jada), Marilyn McIntyre (Kathy Ketchum), Mark Davis (Russ Meeks).

7950 Sunset Beat. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1990). The abandoned firehouse on Sunset Boulevard in Los Angeles (the L.A. Hose Company) is the secret headquarters of a special unit of L.A.P.D. undercover cops who pose as rugged bikers. Their favorite eatery is Tail o’ the Pup, and they ride Harley Davidson motorcycles.

Officer Chic Chesbro has the code X-Ray 4309 and plays guitar in a band called Private Prayer.

Officer Tim Kelly is a medical school dropout who is hiding the fact that he is a cop from his parents. Officer Bradley Coolidge teaches at Selmar City College in his spare time. Officer Tucson Smith landed a part in the adult film Hot Coed Fever when he went undercover to bust a porno producer. Captain Ray Parker is their superior.

Arlene Golonka played Ray's ex-wife, Harriet; Sydney Walsh was Chris's ex-wife, Holly; and Mark Hembrow and Kathy Karges appeared as Tim's father and mother. The theme, "Sunset Beat," was composed by Clink Productions.

Cast: George Clooney (Off. Chris Chesbro), Michael DeLuise (Off. Tim Kelly), Markus Flanagan (Off. Bradley Coolidge), Erik King (Off. Tucson Smith), James Tolkan (Capt. Ray Parker).

7951 Sunshine. (Series; Comedy-Drama; NBC; 1975). Sam Hayden is a happy-go-lucky musician who is married to Kate. They are the parents of Jill and live in Vancouver, B.C., Canada. The series begins shortly after the death of Kate with Sam attempting to raise Jill on his own — with the help of some friends — Nora (who later becomes his romantic interest) and Billy and Cory, his friends and fellow musicians. Stories tenderly follow the relationship between a father and his daughter. On December 12, 1977, NBC aired a TV movie called Sunshine Christmas which reunited the original cast. John Denver, Dick Kniss and Mike Taylor composed the theme, "Sunshine."

Cast: Cliff DeYoung (Sam Hayden), Elizabeth Cheshire (Jill Hayden), Meg Foster (Nora), Billy Mumy (Billy Weaver), Corey Fischer (Cory Givits), Barbara Bosson (Ms. Cox; Jill's teacher), Cristina Raines (Kate Hayden; pilot film), Lindsay and Sydney Greenbush (Jill Hayden; pilot film).

7952 The Sunshine Boys. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 6/9/77). Willie Clark and Al Lewis are two retired vaudeville comics who decide to share an apartment together rather than to live in a retirement home. The unsold series, based on the feature film, was to focus on their continual bickering as they attempt to live together. Other Regulars: Ben, Willie's nephew; Sylvia, Al's married daughter; Ray, Sylvia's husband; Gary, Sylvia's son; and Muriel, Willie's nurse.

Cast: Red Buttons (Willie Clark), Lionel Stander (Al Lewis), Michael Durrell (Ben Clark), Barra Grant (Sylvia Banks), George Wyner (Ray Banks), Philip Tanzini (Gary Banks), Sarina Grant (Muriel Green). Guest Cast: Bobbi Mitchell (Myrna Navazio), Danny Mora (Julio), Bella Bruck (Mrs. Krause), Ann Cooper (Anita DeVane).

7953 The Super. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1972). Joe Girelli is the Italian-American superintendent of a less than fashionable apartment building in New York City. Joe is plagued by tenant complaints, building condemnation threats and a family "which ain't got no respect." Stories relate his struggles as he attempts to solve problems, survive the daily tensions of city living and enjoy what simple pleasures life affords him.

Francesca is Joe's wife; Joanne and Anthony are their children; Frankie is Joe's brother; Officer Clark is a tenant; Dottie is Officer Clark's wife; Sylvia and her daughter, Janice, are tenants; and Pizuti, Fritz, Herbie and Louie are Joe's friends.

Cast: Richard S. Castellano (Joe Girelli), Ardell Sheridan (Francesca Girelli), Margaret E. Castellano (Joanne Girelli), Bruce Kirby, Jr. (Anthony Girelli), Phil Mishkin (Frankie Girelli), Ed Peck (Officer Clark), Virginia Vincent (Dottie Clark), Janet Brandt (Sylvia Stein), Penny Marshall (Janice Stein), Vic Tayback (Pizuti), John Lawrence (Fritz), Wynn Irwin (Herbie), Louis Basile (Louie).

7954 Super Circus. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1949–1956). Circus-themed skits and performances by circus variety acts (all of which are set against the background of a circus arena). The series ran from January 16, 1949 to June 3, 1956.

Cast: Claude Kirchner (Ringmaster), Jerry Colonna (Ringmaster), Mary Hartline (Queen of the Super Circus), Sandy Wirth (Assistant), Cliff Sobier (Cliffy the Clown), Bardy Patton (Scampy the Clown), Sandy Dobritch (Scampy the Clown), Nicky Francis (Nicky the Clown). Regulars: Will Able, C.D. Charlie, Otto Griebing. Orchestra: Bruce Case.

7955 Super Dave. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1988). Super Dave Osborne is a stuntman who made a name for himself by performing dangerous stunts that he could not master but somehow managed to survive. His reputation has earned him a spot on television as the host of a talk show where he not only interviews celebrity guests but also takes the time to perform stunts (which never go as planned). Fuji is his partner and stunt coordinator.

Cast: Bob Einstein (Super Dave Osborne), Art Irizawa (Fuji Akido).

7956 Super Dave. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1992–1993). Dave Osborne, a simple-minded man who does anything on a dare, has earned the nickname "Super Dave." Super Dave is incompetent. His stunts always fail, but he has the uncanny ability to survive all the death-defying stunts he attempts (he doesn't know how either, but he does; scrapes, cuts, fractures and a few broken bones here and there doesn't seem to phase him; after all, he is a stuntman, and he considers those as mere setbacks in his attempt to become the world's greatest stuntman). Live action is combined with animation as Super Dave hosts his animated exploits as he battles the world's most diabolical villains, especially his arch enemy, Slash Hazard. The live action segment also features (and comes with a warning—“Kids Don’t Try This at Home”) Super Dave and his stunt coordinator, Fuji Akido, attempting stunts that just don’t seem to work well for Dave.

Cast: Bob Einstein (Super Dave Osborne), Art Irizawa (Fuji Akido).

7957 Super Force. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1990–1992). It is the year 2020 and crime has become a serious problem in America. In an unidentified city, the Hungerford Foundation has taken steps to battle crime in the city’s most notorious and dangerous region—the Crime Zone.

E.B. Hungerford is the head of the foundation and F.X. Spinner is the scientific genius who has developed a wide range of weapons to battle injustice. His most cunning weapon is a super strong black space suit that is equipped with the latest in technology in weapons and tracking. Former NASA astronaut Zack Stone is secretly Super Force, the man who wears the suit to battle evil.

For Zack life would change shortly after he returned from a two-year exploratory mission to Mars. He learned his brother, Frank, a police officer was killed in the line of duty but was believed to be on the take at the time. Unable to believe this, Zack joins the force to uncover the truth. Shortly after Frank graduates from the Metro Plex Police Academy in the summer of 2020, his uncle, E.B. Hungerford is killed by the same people who killed Frank—criminals programming young people to become violent on a moment’s notice. It is at this time that Zack meets F.X. and learns of his uncle’s plan to fight crime. Although E.B. is dead, F.X. keeps him “alive” by programming his personality, achievements and life voice patterns into a computer. E.B.’s image now appears on a computer screen and can function mentally as if he were actually alive.

To conceal his identity as Super Force, Zack becomes an officer with the 33rd Division of the Metropolitan Police Department (the precinct whose beat is the Crime Zone).

Captain Carla Frost is Zack’s gutsy, no-nonsense superior at the 33rd. Officer Zander Tyler, who possesses a gift of E.S.P., is with a special police unit called Esper (or “The E.S.P. Department as people call it,” she says).

Zack, badge number 499, rides the Super Force Cycle, a black with green stripe motorcycle with an undetectable bar code plate. Stories relate Zack’s efforts to curtail the crime rate in the Crime Zone. Kevin Kiner composed the theme.

Cast: Ken Olandt (Zack Stone), Larry B. Scott (F.X. Spinner), Patrick Macnee (E.B. Hungerford), Lisa Niemi (Carla Frost), Musetta Vander (Zander Tyler).

7958 Super Friends. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; 1973–1983). Comic book super heroes have united to form the Justice League of America. Now, united under one organization, and with their various abilities, the Justice League has vowed to protect the world from evil. Stories follow the league members as they battle alone, or together, the forces that threaten decent citizens. The heroes, listed in the cast, were also seen in the series spin-off The World’s Greatest Super Heroes (which see).

Voice Cast: Norman Alden (Aquaman), Bill Callaway (Aquaman; later), Olan Soule (Batman), Casey Kasem (Robin), Danny Dark (Superman), Shannon Farnon (Wonder Woman), Frank Welker (Marvin), Sherry Alberoni (Wendy), Frank Welker (Wonder Dog), Michael Bell (Zan), Liberty Williams (Jayna), Michael Bell (Gleek). Narrator: Ted Knight, William Woodson.

7959 The Super Globetrotters. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1979). The real basketball team, the Harlem Globetrotters become animated super heroes as they use their prowess as basketball wizards to battle injustice around the world.

Voice Cast: Stu Gilliam (Curley Neal), John Williams (Geese Ausbie), Adam Wade (Sweet Lou Dunbar), Scatman Crothers (Nate Branch), Buster Jones (Twiggy Sander), Frank Welker (Crime Globe), Michael Rye (Announcer).

7960 The Super Human Samurai Syber Squad. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1994–1995). Kilokahn was a top secret U.S. government computer project designed to explore the digital world. When scientists felt the program was getting out of control, the project was shut down and supposedly taken off line.

One day while surfing the web, high school computer nerd Malcolm Fink finds traces of the Kilokahn program. While attempting to learn more about it, he activates the program and brings to life Kilokahn, a super intelligent, evil virus that lives in computer circuits and seeks to rule the world by controlling computers. Malcolm cannot deactivate Kilokahn and Kilokahn uses Malcolm as his pawn—to help him create the mega virus monsters to destroy computer circuits.

Sam Collins, Sydney Forrester, Amp and Tank are teens at North Valley High School who are also members of the rock band Team Samurai.

Jennifer Doyle is the prettiest girl at North Valley High and also Malcolm’s dream girl. When Malcolm learns that Sam is planning to ask Jennifer for a date “with my girl,” he uses his computer to interrupt a phone call from Sam to Jennifer. Sam, Sydney, Amp and Tank are seated near Sam’s computer when Malcolm strikes. Since phone lines also carry computer signals, Malcolm’s attempts backfire. A light emerges from Sam’s computer and engulfs the group. Sam is struck by an electronic beam that links his brain to his computer and to the digital world as Servo (a champion servant of computers). When Sam plays the power cord on his guitar he can digitize into Servo and enter his computer to battle the evils of Kilokahn.

Sydney (as Vor), Amp (as Vitor), and Tank (as Trackton) help Sam via their digital warrior counterparts. Together they form the Super Human Samurai Syber Squad. (Each team member wears special body armor. When all the parts are attached to Servo, he acquires the Samurai Syncho Body Suit to battle the monsters.) Kilokahn and Malcolm need each other. Kilokahn, “the overlord of the digital world,” operates at 400 megahertz and requires Malcolm’s computer wizardry to create the virus monsters. Malcolm, once shunned by everyone, hopes to become someone everyone notices — ruler of the digital world.

Sam lives at 609 River Road. His parents are not seen but he has a younger sister named Elizabeth. She is not seen but is heard. Elizabeth is very mischievous and constantly bothers Sam and his friends with her antics.

After two months, Amp is replaced (without explanation) by Lucky Lowdon in the episode “Give Till It Megahertz.” The team members are all students of the martial arts and use this as a weapon to fight Kilokahn’s monsters.

Cast: Matthew Lawrence (Sam Collins), Robin Mary Florence (Sydney Forrester), Troy Slaten (Amp), Kevin Castro (Tank), Jaymie Betcher (Jennifer Doyle), Glenn Beaudin (Malcolm Fink), Tim Curry (Voice of Kilikahn), Kath Soucie (Voice of Elizabeth), Rembrandt (Lucky Lowdon).

7961 Super Mario Brothers Super Show. (Series; Children; Syn.; 1989). Live action skits are combined with animated shorts that feature the video game plumbers, Mario and Luigi, in various comical situations.

7962 Super Password. (Series; Game; NBC; 1984). A revised and updated version of Password. Two teams compete, each composed of two members. One member of each team receives a password (for example, “glass”). With one-word clues (and alternating back and forth), the players must relate its meaning to their partners. When a player guesses the password, the word becomes the first of five clues to the identity of a mystery object. This player receives the opportunity to unravel the mystery. If he can, he wins the round and $100; if not a new round begins with a new password. The first player to score $350 or more is the winner and receives the opportunity to play “Super Password.” The object calls for the player to identify ten passwords within 60 seconds. $100 is scored for each correct identification; $10,000 is all ten are guessed.

Host: Bert Convy. Announcer: Rich Jeffries.

7963 Super Pay Cards. (Series; Game; Syn.; 1981). Two players compete. A deck of 16 playing cards is displayed. Each card is face down and marked by a number from 1 through 16. One player, by a flip of coin, selects three cards. The card values are revealed and placed on his side of the board. The opponent then selects three cards. On an alternating basis, each player selects two additional cards. The player with the best five-card hand wins the round and money. A three game match is played and the contestant with the highest cash score is the winner. Card values are: $20 for a pair; $50 for three-of-a-kind; $100 for a full house; $200 for four-of-a-kind.

Host: Art James. Assistant: Mary Lou Basaraba.

7964 Super President. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1967–1968). The title for two animated series. Super President tells the story of James Norcross, a futuristic Chief Justice of the United States, who encompasses the powers he acquired from a cosmic storm to battle evil. Spy Shadow, the second program, tells of Richard Vance, a private detective whose shadow is able to operate independently of himself, as he battles evil.

Voice Cast: Paul Frees (James Norcross), Daws Butler (Richard Vance).

7965 Super Robot Monkey Team Hyperforce Go! (Series; Cartoon; ABC Family; 2004). A futuristic land called the Utopia of Shuggazoom is the setting. Here, a shy teenager named Chiro accidentally awakens an ancient, dormant group of saviors called the Super Robot Monkey Team. As they awake, Chiro absorbs their power (Power Primate Energy) and is transformed into their novice team leader. As Chiro is taught how to use his new-found super powers, he and the Monkey Team use their abilities to protect the universe from evil (in particular the Skeleton King, who is seeking to control the planet and turn it into evil).

Nova is the Yellow Monkey; Gibson, the Blue Monkey; Sprx-77, the Red Monkey; Otto, the Green Monkey; Antaar, the Black Monkey and second in command. In the opening theme narration, Chris explains the series format: “While exploring the outskirts of the city, I discovered an abandoned super robot. It was then that my life was transformed by the mysterious Power Primate. The Robot Monkeys were awakened and I, Chiro, became their leader. Our quest is to save Shuggazoom City from the evil Skeleton King.”

Voice Cast: Rica Matsumoto (Chiro), Mark Hamill (Skeleton King), James Hong (Manadarin), Ashley Johnson (Jinmay), Hynden Walch (Velina), Eric Idle (Scrapperton), Dee Bradley Baker (Dr. Maczono), Jeffrey Combs (Gyrusrinkle), Meredith Salinger (Aurora Six), Keone Young (Super Quasier). Additional Voices: Corey Feldman, Kari Wahlgren, Clancy Brown, Tom Kenny, Greg Cipes.

7966 The Super Six. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1966–1969). Magneto Man, Elevator Man, Super Scuba, Granite Man, Captain Whammy and Super Bowing are futuristic heroes who work for Super Services, Incorporated. Stories relate their adventures as they battle the sinister forces of evil.

Voice Cast: Daws Butler (Magneto Man), Paul Stewart (Elevator Man), Arte Johnson (Super Scuba), Lynn Johnson (Granite Man), Paul Frees (Captain Whammy), Charles Smith (Super Bowing).

7967 Super Trolls. (Pilot; Cartoon; Fox; 11/26/92). In San Francisco, a troll named Dreadmore the Sorcerer becomes the first of his kind to reach the surface. His mission is to acquire human magic to become the most powerful troll. The Book of Troll decrees that when the Evil One (Dreadmore) rises to the upper world, darkness shall befall all of Troll Land. The curse will cease when the Evil One is stopped by three brave trolls.

In Troll Land, Astar, leader of the Trolls, uses the Magic Amulet to select three of the kingdom's most courageous citizens (Bendar, Hulkuleas and Warpars) and bestows upon them special powers to bring Dreadmore back to Troll Land. Bendar has psychic powers; Warpars is able to change his shape; and Hulkuleas has the strength of ten men. The proposed series was to relate their efforts to stop Dreadmore from fulfilling his quest.

Voices: Don Brown, Scott McNeil, Cathy Weluck, Dale Wilson.

7968 Super Witch. (Series; Cartoon; NBC; 1977–1978). A spin-off from the 1971 animated series Sabrina, the Teenage Witch, that relates events in the life of Sabrina Spellman, a pretty but very mischievous witch who is just coming into her powers. The character originally appeared on The Archie Show.

Voice Cast: Jane Webb (Sabrina).

7969 Superboy. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1988–1992). In a galaxy far beyond our own there is a planet called Krypton that is inhabited by a super intelligent race. Jor-El (George Lazenby, Jacob Wilkin), a leading scientist, believes his planet is being drawn closer to the sun and is on the brink of destruction. When he is unable to convince the Council of Scientists of his findings, he begins preparations to save his wife, Lara (Britt Ekland, Kathy Poling), and infant son, Kal-El, from the impending disaster. Jor-El is only able to complete a miniature, experimental rocket before the planet begins to explode. He and Lara decide to save Kal-El. The baby, wrapped in red and blue blankets, is placed in the rocket. Jor-El programs the ship to land on Earth, a planet he knows to be inhabited. The ship lands in Smallville, Kansas, and is found by Jonathan and Martha Kent, a childless farm couple, who raise the infant as their own. They name him Clark Kent. As a young boy, Clark (Edan Gross) shows “the strength of steel, the speed of light and the power to help all mankind.” After graduating from Smallville High School, Clark enrolls at Schuster University. Clark is studying journalism and works for the school newspaper, the Herald. He fights crime as the mysterious Superboy in a red and blue costume his mother made for him from the blankets Lara placed around him.

At Schuster, Clark befriends Lana Lang, Trevor Jenkins “T.J.” White, the pre-Lois Lane and Jimmy Olsen characters that are a part of the Superman saga. Lana is Clark's girlfriend; T.J., the son of Perry White, the editor of the Metropolis Daily Planet, is Clark's roommate; he is hoping to become a photographer. Plaguing Clark and mankind in general is Lex Luthor, the diabolical villain out to control the world.

Second season episodes change the series title to The Adventures of Superboy, drops T.J. White (he is replaced by Andy McAllister, Clark's new roommate), and Lex becomes older with Sherman Howard in the role. T.J. is written out when he heads for Metropolis to try his luck at becoming a stand-up comedian.

Third and fourth season episodes dropped the college aspect when Clark and Lana graduate and become interns with the Bureau of Extra-Normal Matters in Florida (their office is on the sixth floor at 101 North Siegel Street in Capitol City). Dennis Jackson heads the bureau, which investigates strange phenomena. The sensuous Darla becomes Lex's assistant. In addition to Lex's diabolical schemes, Clark (as Superboy) had to battle Bizarro, an imperfect and indestructible copy of Superboy that was created at Schuster University; and Roger Corbin, an evil criminal known as Metallo.

“Paranoia,” the episode of 11/8/91, reunites The Adventures of Superman co-stars Noel Neill (as Alexis) and Jack Larson (as Lew Lamont) as investigators for the bureau. Kevin Kiner composed the theme.

See also The Adventures of Superboy, The Adventures of Superman, The Adventures of Superpup, Lois and Clark: The New Adventures of Superman and Smallville.

Cast: John Haymes Newton (Clark Kent), Gerard Christopher (Clark Kent), Stacy Haiduk (Lana Lang), Jim Calvert (T.J. White), Scott Wells (Lex Luthor), Andy McAllister (Ilan Mitchell-Smith), Robert Levine (Dennis Jackson), Tracy Roberts (Darla), Barry Meyers (Bizarro), Stuart Whitman (Jonathan Kent), Salome Jens (Martha Kent) Michael Callan (Roger Corbin).

7970 Supercar. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1962). Supercar is a futuristic, indestructible car designed to battle evil. It was developed in an isolated laboratory hidden deep in the Nevada desert at Black Rock by Professor Popkiss and Dr. Beaker. Mike Mercury drives the car. Ten-year-old Jimmy Gibson and his pet monkey Mitch assist him. Masterspy is their enemy. Supercar is a Jerry Anderson marionette series filmed in Supermarionation.

Supercar can travel like a normal car (although it hovers slightly above the ground), fly and submerge itself to travel under the sea. It has eight rockets, a periscope and a device called Clear View (which allows Mike to see through clouds and stormy weather). Some press release information states that Mike works for Supercar, Inc., although this is not mentioned on the show.

Mike is a fearless and courageous test pilot. He is skilled and daring and the only one permitted to use Supercar. He was with the U.S. Air Force and was part of the fledging space program in the late 1950s.

Jimmy Gibson was rescued by Mike in the first episode when he and his brother, Bill crashed their aeroplane into the sea. Mitch, Jimmy's monkey, was mischievous but often helped Mike solve cases by playing tricks.

Professor Popkiss was born in Hungary and has degrees in electronics, aviation and rocketry. In 1955 he met Dr. Beaker and they joined forces to build Supercar. Dr. Beaker was a child prodigy and is now somewhat absent-minded. He has degrees in math, biology and electronics.

Masterspy seeks Supercar for his own sinister plans. The mousy Zarin assists him. Masterspy's real name is Alexander Slanovicz. He was born in Albania and served with the Albanian Army (where he proved to be a coward) during World War II. He took the name Masterspy after the war to become a master criminal. Zarin is from a family of criminals and is just following a family tradition. His ambition is to succeed in crime.

Voice Cast: Graydon Gould (Mike Mercury), Sylvia Anderson (Jimmy Gibson), David Graham (Dr. Beaker), George Murcell (Prof. Popkiss), Cyril Sharp (Prof. Popkiss; later), George Murcell (Masterspy).

7971 Supercarrier. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1988). An exploration of the full spectrum of life aboard the Georgetown, a U.S. Navy aircraft carrier, with a focus on the personal and military lives of the crew above and below decks.

7972 Supercops. (Pilot; Crime Drama; CBS; 3/21/75). Dave Greenberg and Bobby Hantz are two New York City police officers known as "Batman and Robin" for their daring tactics and record number of arrests and convictions. The unsold series was to relate their undercover assignments on behalf of their superior, Captain McLain. In the pilot episode, Dave and Bobby attempt to apprehend a thief who sadistically victimizes only big-time gamblers.

Cast: Steven Keats (Dave Greenberg), Alan Feinstein (Bobby Hantz), Dick O'Neil (Captain McLain). Guest Cast: Peggy Rea (Bessie), Byron Morrow (Lieutenant Gorney), Tony Brande (Lieutenant Vane-sian), Lou Tiano (Sergeant Falcone), George Loros (Delgado).

7973 Supergran. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1986). Yearning to see her grandson, Willie, play football, Granny Smith, a frail, elderly British woman, journeys to Chileston Park. As she arrives at the park, Roderick Campbell, a thief who stole Professor Black's Magic Ray Machine, sets the controls to make himself superhuman but miscalculates and instead sends a magic ray flying out his apartment window. The ray strikes Granny Smith and transforms her into Supergran, a senior citizen like no other. Stories relate Supergran's comical exploits as she uses her amazing powers to battle evil. Other Regulars: Willie Smith, her grandson; Edison Faraday Black, Professor Black's granddaughter; Tubb, Roderick's son.

Cast: Gudrun Ure (Supergran), Ian Towell (Willie Smith), Holly English (Edison Black), Bill Shine (Professor Black), Ian Cuthbertson (Roderick Campbell), Lee Marshall (Tubb).

7974 Superior Court. (Series; Drama; Syn.; 1986). A daily series of dramatizations based on criminal justice issues from then current newspaper headlines. Real prosecuting and defense attorneys appear in the staged reenactments of courtroom proceedings.

Cast: William D. Burns (Judge).

7975 Superman. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1953–1957). The shortened title for the 1953 series The Adventures of Superman with George Reeves as the star. See this title for information.

Luthor, Brainiac, the Toyman, Bizarro and Mala). Lois Lane is a reporter; Perry White is the paper's editor; Jimmy Olsen is the cub reporter. Jonathan and Martha Kent are Clark's adoptive parents; Lana Lang is Clark's girlfriend; Kara, alias Supergirl, is another survivor from the planet Krypton.

Voice Cast: Timothy Daly (Clark Kent/Superman), Dana Delany (Lois Lane), Joely Fisher (Lana Lang), David Kaufman (Jimmy Olsen), George Dzundza (Perry White), Mike Farrell (Jonathan Kent), Clancy Brown (Lex Luthor), Shelley Fabares (Martha Kent), Nicholle Tom (Kara/Supergirl), Joanna Cassidy (Maggie Sawyer).

7978 Supermarket Sweep. (Series; Game; ABC; 1965–1967). The game is played in a supermarket; three husband-and-wife couples compete. Each is equipped with a shopping cart and the object calls for each team to run up and down the aisles and cram as much as possible into their shopping carts. At the end of the allotted time, the items for each team are totaled. The couple with the highest grocery bill is the winner and receives the items plus the opportunity to compete again.

Host: Bill Malone.

7979 Supermarket Sweep. (Series; Game; PAX; 2000). "Did you ever see people dancing in the aisles of a supermarket? I don't think so. And what supermarket lets you win a car for shopping there? And then throws in another car for good measure? Do people have a good time shopping here? Well I'll tell you, when you reach into a shelf and pull out $5,000 you're having a great time. This supermarket has already given away over two million dollars and they're ready to give away more. What supermarket are we talking about? Supermarket Sweep. And here's the host of our show, David Rupprecht." The premise has contestants answering questions in return for points that become time to run through a supermarket to gather as many groceries as they can fit into their shopping carts. The player who rings up the highest grocery bill when all items are totaled is the winner.

Host: David Rupprecht. Announcer: Randy West.

7980 Supernanny. (Series; Reality; ABC; 2005). Jo Frost is a real-life British nanny who understands and knows how to handle children (with love and understanding). She has been called a Supernanny and has a successful show (Supernanny) on British television. Jo has worked miracles in England and now she brings her warmth and know-how to American TV with ABC's version of the British series that places Jo Frost in American households to help parents deal with unruly children. Stories follow Jo as she uses her unique methods to transform the behavior of children. Jo introduces her rules and stays with the family for several days. It is then up to the parents to implement those rules. The camera focuses on this activity with Jo returning at the end of each episode to see how things turned out and make suggestions if her advice did not always work.

Nanny: Jo Frost. Announcer: Jeff Bartsch.

7981 Supernatural. (Series; Drama; WB; CW; 2005–). John and Mary Winchester and their children, Dean and Sam, live in Lawrence, Kansas. One night, when Dean was six and Sam was two, an unknown demon kills Mary and changes the course of the family's lives. John becomes a bounty hunter of sorts, tracking down and killing demons. Dean follows in his footsteps when he becomes of age, but Sam has chosen to attend college (Stanford).

John has been unable to find the demon that killed Mary, but the demon has not forgotten the Winchesters. One night, it strikes again — killing Sam's girlfriend, Jessica, and sending Sam on the same path as Dean and John. John, however, has distanced himself from his sons, hoping to protect them until he finds and destroys the demon that has changed his life.

John has left Dean and Sam his notes — and an array of weapons — items he and Sam use to help people threatened by ghosts, demons and other creatures of urban legends. Dean and Sam travel around the country (newspaper articles about strange happenings usually determine where they go) with their ultimate goal to find and kill the demon John is also hunting.

Sam can sense evil and he and Dean use whatever means they can to destroy evil. Dean is now 26 and Sam is 22 years old. They travel in an old Chevrolet. John possesses a special gun designed by the Colt manufacturing company that can kill demons. The gun is being sought by Meg, a beautiful but deadly demon.

Mary Winchester is Dean and Sam's mother (flashback sequences); Ellen Harvelle (second season) is a mysterious woman who helps John and his sons battle demons (she is replaced by the equally mysterious Ruby in third season episodes). Also assisting Sam and Dean on occasion are Bobby Singer and Tamara (both called "Hunters").

Cast: Jensen Ackles (Dean Winchester), Jared Padalecki (Sam Winchester), Jeffrey Dean Morgan (John Winchester), Samantha Smith (Mary Winches- ter), Adrianna Palicki (Jessica), Samantha Ferris (Ellen Harvelle), Alona Tal (Jo Harvelle), Nicki Aycox (Meg), Jim Beaver (Bobby Singer), Caroline Chikezie (Tamara), Katie Cassidy (Ruby), Ridge Canipe (Young Dean), Colin Ford (Young Sam).

7982 Superstar American Gladiators. (Pilot; Game; ABC; 5/4/95). A proposed series wherein performers from ABC, CBS, Fox and NBC compete in a series of athletic events for $15,000 and the Superstar Gladiator Trophy (the Fox team won and donated its winnings to the Red Cross).

Hosts: Kim Alexis, Pat O'Brien. Assistant: Jeff Altman. ABC Team: Debbe Duning, Darius McCrary, Holly Robinson. CBS Team: Charlie Robinson, Shadoe Stevens, Helene Udy. Fox Team: Tichina Arnold, Jensen Daggett, John Henton. NBC Team: Mario Lopez, Marsha Warfield, Tina Yothers.

7983 Supertrain. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1979). Varying stories (adventure, comedy, drama) that relate brief incidents in the lives of passengers on the Supertrain, an ultra-modern, atomic, streamlined train. Designed by the Trans-Allied Corporation to improve passenger service, the train can travel from New York to Los Angeles in 36 hours (at a speed of 200 m.p.h.).

Regulars: Harry, the engineer; Dave, the social director; Dan, the doctor; Rose, the nurse; George, the chief porter; Gilda and Wally, health spa workers; Sharon, the gift shop salesgirl; Lou, the bartender; and Robert, the beautician. The series ran from February 7, 1979 to March 14, 1979. See the following title also.

7984 Supertrain. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1979). A revised version of the prior title with emphasis placed on character development and mystery-suspense stories. Regulars: Harry, the engineer; George, the passenger relations officer; Dan, the doctor; Penny, the social director; Wayne and Tex, Harry's co-engineers. It ran from April 7, 1979 to May 5, 1979.

7985 Sure as Fate. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1950–1951). Dramatizations that depict the plight of people who are confronted with situations that are not of their own doing.

Host: Francis L. Sullivan. Narrator: Paul Lukas. Performers Include: Arlene Francis, Victor Jory, Kim Stanley, John Carradine, Maria Riva, Jerome Thor, Teddy Wilson, Marsha Hunt, Dane Clark, Judith Evelyn, Leslie Nielsen, Luella Gear, Mary Patton, E.G. Marshall, John Newland, Chester Stratton, Sara Anderson, Haila Stoddard, Jean Gillespie.

7986 Surface. (Series; Science Fiction; NBC; 2005–2006). Samantha Morris is a brilliant college student whose thesis, "Stimulating the Neuro Transmitters," brings her to the attention of a government agency called The Firm. Samantha is offered any salary she requires for a project to produce a genetically engineered species that can live on both land and in the sea. She creates an unclassified marine vertebra based on a secret cloning of a sheep that was accomplished 20 years before the famous Dolly sheep cloning in 1986.

The creature is released to the sea and the project is guarded by Davis Lee, a mysterious government agent (who is later revealed to be a clone himself).

The series begins with mysterious pods (eggs) surfacing in San Diego and affecting the lives of three people in particular: Dr. Laura Daughtery, an oceanographer who first sees the mysterious sea creatures; Rich Connelly, a Louisiana fisherman who encounters the giant lizard-like creatures while on a diving trip with his brother (who is killed by them); and Miles Barnett, a teenager who finds one of the pods, brings it home, places it in his fish tank — and becomes a parental figure to the creature the egg hatches.

Miles calls the creature Nimrod (Nim for short) and struggles to keep its existence a secret. Cliffhanger stories follow the adventures the three encounter: Laura and Rich as they try to prove to the world that the creatures exist; and for Miles, whose secret is exposed, to safeguard Nim and deal with strange abilities after he is bitten by Nim and appears to be acquiring abnormal abilities. The series was not renewed and ends with the creatures causing a gigantic tidal wave that places the East Coast under water.

Other Regulars: Savannah, Miles's sister; his parents; Phil, Miles's friend; Paul Bloom, a marine biologist; Caitlin, Paul's daughter; and Dr. Aleksander Cirko. The series was originally titled (and promoted as Fathom).

Cast: Lake Bell (Dr. Laura Daughtery), Jay R. Ferguson (Rich Connelly), Carter Jenkins (Miles Barnett), Ian Anthony Dale (Davis Lee), Leighton Meester (Savannah Barnett), Ric Reitz (Ron Barnett), Luanne Cooper (Mrs. Barnett), Eddie Hassell (Phil), Lindsey Godfrey (Caitlin Bloom), Martha Plimpton (Samantha Morris), Michael Ayres (Dr. Paul Bloom).

7987 Surf's Up. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1965). Stan Richards hosts and narrates a color series of films that depict the lives and world of surfers.

7988 SurfSide 6. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1960–1962). Dave Thorne, Ken Madison and Sandor Winfield are three handsome young bachelors who operate the SurfSide 6 Agency, a private detective organization that is located in a houseboat moored at SurfSide 6 on Indian Creek in Miami Beach, Florida.

Dave was born in New York City and began a law practice shortly after graduating from N.Y.U. He became a prosecutor but quit when he found legal loopholes prevented him from getting convictions.

Ken was born in Texas and is a graduate of the Tulane University Law School. Like Dave, Ken was disillusioned with his practice in criminal law and wanted to do more than just defend people. Sandor, called Sandy, was born in Miami Beach and is the son of a wealthy family. He lives the life of a jet setter but feels the need to help people in trouble. He helps Dave and Ken more for the excitement their cases bring him rather than for its monetary rewards.

Although the three are from different backgrounds, they rarely argue and live well together on the houseboat. The character of Ken Madison first appeared on the series Bourbon Street Beat (see entry).

Daphne DeWitt Dutton, billed as “the girl in the yacht next door,” is a beautiful jet setter and heir to the Dutton Farms and the Dutton Racing Stables. Daphne, called Daphe, is a friend of Sandy’s and helps him, Ken and Dave when needed. She has a horse named Par-a-kee that she raised from a colt. Cha Cha O’Brien is a singer and dancer who performs in the Boom Boom Room of the famed Fountainbleau Hotel, which is located directly opposite SurfSide 6 on Ocean Avenue. Cha Cha was born in Madrid, Spain, and has been singing and dancing since she was four years old.

Dave, Ken and Sandy first work with Ray Snedigar then Gene Plehan, both lieutenants with the Miami Police Department, Homicide Division. Mousie is the Boom Boom Room waiter who supplies information to Sandy, Dave and Ken.

Cast: Lee Patterson (Dave Thorne), Van Williams (Ken Madison), Troy Donahue (Sandy Winfield), Diane McBain (Daphne DeWitt Dutton), Margaretta Sierra (Cha Cha O’Brien), Donald Barry (Roy Snedigar), Richard Crane (Gene Plehan), Mousie Garner (Mousie). Theme Song: “SurfSide 6” by Mack David, Jerry Livingston.

7989 The Surreal Life. (Series; Reality; WB; 2003). One time A-list celebrities (known and working) who have fallen on hard times and now on the B-list (no longer in the public eye) are placed together in a large Los Angeles residence to allow cameras to record incidents in their daily lives as they attempt to live together like a family.

Cast: Brigitte Nielsen, Charo, Dave Coulier, Flavor Flav, Ryan Starr, Gabrielle Carteris, Corey Feldman, M.C. Hammer, Emmanuel Lewis, Jerri Manthey, Brande Roderick, Tammy Faye Bakker, Traci Bingham, Erik Estrada, Vanilla Ice, Verne Troyer, Christopher Knight, Adrienne Curry, Trishelle Cannatella.

7990 The Surreal Life: Fame Games. (Series; Reality; VH-1; 2007). A short-lived (four episode) spin-off from The Surreal Life that has one time notable stars participating in embarrassing “fame games,” a concept that simply did not work (Brigitte Nielsen, for example, walked off the set in disgust; Vanilla Ice through a fit when he was surprised by a dancer in his bed; little person Verne Troyer could not physically perform a hotel room trashing request).

Host: Robin Leach. Celebrities: Traci Bingham, Sandra Denton, Brigitte Nielsen, C.C. Deville, Inga Hakan, Vanilla Ice, Ron Jeremy, Joanie Laurer, Emmanuel Lewis, Andrea Lowell, Verne Troyer.

7991 Survival. (Series; Documentary; Syn.; 1964). Actor James Whitmore hosts and narrates actual film footage of natural and man-made disasters with a focus on how people manage to survive them.

7992 Survivor. (Series; Reality; CBS; 2000–). The reality series that set the tradition for all the action reality shows — but a standard that only a few could actually duplicate. While there were no actual copycats, the ability to maintain viewer ship became the problem for many of the similar reality shows that followed it. Here 16 average Americans are chosen from open auditions to compete in the most grueling series ever produced. The contestants are brought to a god-forsaken island somewhere in the world and are divided into tribes (in the first cycle, the island of Borneo was chosen). Here, for 39 days, the players must live off the land and in a tribe and perform challenges. Players who fail to meet a tribe’s expectations could face elimination (“kicked off the island”). After three days of challenges the tribe members whose performance is considered below par face the other members (the Tribal Council) for evaluation. The person the council feels least worthy is asked to leave. This process continues until ten players are left and they merge into one team. It is now everyone for him (or her) self, trying his (or her) best to out perform the others from the tasks that are demanded of them. The one player (when two remain) who best performs the last task is the winner and receives $1 million.

The series is actually titled, for each cycle, after the island on which it is set. The first twelve cycles are: Survivor: Borneo, Survivor: The Australian Outback, Survivor: Africa, Survivor: Marquesas, Survivor: Thailand, Survivor: The Amazon, Survivor: Pearl Island, Survivor: Islands of Fire, Survivor: Palau, Survivor: The Maya Empire, Survivor: Exile Island, Sur- vivor: Cook Island and Survivor: China (2007–2008 title). The series itself is based on the Swedish series Operation Robinson (based on the Robinson Caruso concept).

Host: Jeff Probst.

7993 The Survivors. (Series; Drama; ABC; 1969–1970). The struggles and emotional problems of the rich as seen through the activities of the wealthy Carlyle family, the owners of a Wall Street banking empire in New York City. The series, which ran from September 22, 1969 to September 17, 1970 and produced 15 episodes, is also known as Harold Robbins' The Survivors (as the series is based on the book by Harold Robbins).

Cast: Ralph Bellamy (Baylor Carlyle), Lana Turner (Tracy Carlyle Hastings), Kevin McCarthy (Philip Hastings), George Hamilton (Duncan Carlyle), Jan-Michael Vincent (Jeffrey Carlyle), Louise Sorel (Jean Vale), Louis Hayward (Jonathan), Diana Muldaur (Belle), Rossano Brazzi (Riakos), Robert Viharo (Miguel Santerra), Donna Baccala (Marguerita), Katherine Cannon (Sheila), Robert Lipton (Tom), Pamela Tiffin (Rosemary), Michael Bell (Corbett).

7994 Susan and God. (Experimental; Stage Play; NBC; 6/7/38). One act from the hit Broadway play by Rachel Crothers is recreated for the five inch screen: the bedroom scene where a child (Blossom) of a couple on the verge of divorce (Susan and Barrie) hopes for a reconciliation. The first presentation of a Broadway play on television.

Cast: Gertrude Lawrence (Susan Trexel), Paul McGrath (Barrie Trexel), Nancy Coleman (Blossom Trexel).

7995 Susan and Sam. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 7/13/77). The romantic misadventures of Susan Foster and Sam Denton, magazine writers who find their relationship is floundering on the rocks of professional competition and vastly different tastes.

Host: Sebastian Cabot. Performers Include: Lilia Skala, Chester Morris, Gary Merrill, Arthur Kennedy, Ed Binns, Martin Balsam, Skip Homeier, Fred Sadoff.

8002 Suspense Playhouse. (Pilot; Anthology; CBS; 1971). Repeats of pilot films that originally aired on Premiere (with the exception of Lost Treasure, an hour adventure that replaced two half-hour comedies, Operation: Greasepaint and Out of the Blue, and only aired on Suspense Playhouse). For information on each of the pilot films that aired, see the following titles: Call to Danger, Crisis, Higher and Higher, Attorneys at Law, Lassiter, Lost Treasure, The Search and A Walk in the Night. The seven episode series aired from May 24, 1971 to July 5, 1971.

8003 Suspense Theater. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1969). The syndicated title for 53 selected rebroadcasts of The Bob Hope Chrysler Theater and The Kraft Suspense Theater. See these individual titles for information.

8004 Suspense Theater on the Air. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 5/81). A proposed series of weekly suspense dramas. The pilot episode, titled “Till Death Do Us Part,” tells of a young wife’s efforts to kill her wealthy, elderly husband (Basil). Unknown to Sandra, the wife, is the fact that Basil is aware of her plan — and has devised his own little surprise for her.

Cast: Arthur Tracy (Basil Bradford), Janet Bedlin (Sandra Bradford), Everett MacLehman (Andre), Tom Glennon (Perkins).

8005 Suspicion. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1957–1958). Dramatizations that focus on people’s fears and suspicions. The series aired from September 30, 1957 to September 22, 1958. Forty episodes were produced but only 21 are syndicated. The episodes produced and directed by Alfred Hitchcock are excluded from the syndicated package.

Host: Dennis O’Keefe, Walter Abel. Performers Include: Elizabeth Montgomery, E.G. Marshall, Donna Reed, Burgess Meredith, Warren Beatty, Boris Karloff, Jack Klugman, Joanne Linville, Lisa Kirk, George Peppard, Bette Davis, Dennis O’Keefe, Agnes Moorehead, William Shatner, Patrick Macnee, Susan Oliver, Eli Wallach, Roddy McDowall, Joanna Moore, Lorne Greene.

8006 Sutters Bay. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/15/83). Comical incidents in the lives of the residents of the small New England town of Sutters Bay. The pilot episode relates a somewhat serious matter when Emma Frye, the school teacher, protests being fired because she is single and pregnant.

Regulars: Monnie, the waitress at the Koffee Cup Diner; Sheriff Ward; Elfreda, the telephone operator; Jeff, Editor of the Sutters Bay Advocate; Barbara, Jeff’s wife; Doc Medford, the town physician; Mervyn, the druggist; Leeroy, Mervyn’s assistant; Margaret, Jeff’s assistant; Blake, the banker; Ellen, Blake’s wife; Edwin, Blake’s son; and April, Jeff’s daughter.

Shull (Blake Simmons), Georgann Johnson (Ellen Simmons), Jay Johnson (Edwin Simmons). Guest Cast: Brandis Kemp (Emma Frye), Kathleen Freeman (Mildred Janovitch), Frank Bonner (Howard).

8007 Suzanne Pleshette Is Maggie Briggs. (Series; Drama; CBS; 1984). Maggie Briggs is a hard news reporter for the City Side section of the New York Examiner, a daily newspaper that is in financial difficulty. Maggie attended Saint Barbara’s High School. She is pretty, has street knowledge and valuable snitches. She covered fires, strikes, shootings and murders. After 15 years at the same desk in the same office, Maggie is reassigned to the feature department’s Modern Living magazine in an attempt to breathe some life into the section and, it is hoped, improve circulation. After a succession of goodbyes, Maggie packs her office belongings and moves to her new job — a desk two away from her former desk.

The Modern Living magazine covers items like fashion, cooking and television reviews. Geoff Bennett heads the department; Walter Holden, Maggie’s former editor (“I saw my first dead body with Walter,” Maggie says) now edits Modern Living; Melanie Bitterman is the fashion editor; Donny Bauer is the religion editor; Leo Broadwater reviews television shows; and Sherman Milslagle is the food critic.

Connie Piscipoli is Maggie’s friend, a lingerie model who designs clothes on the side. She has been Maggie’s friend since the sixth grade and won’t read the Examiner: “The ink comes off on my hands — can’t you do something about that?” The bar hang-out is the Pleez All Tavern, which is next door to the paper. Patrick Williams composed the “Maggie Briggs” theme.

Cast: Suzanne Pleshette (Maggie Briggs), John Getz (Geoff Bennett), Kenneth McMillan (Walter Holden), Alison LaPlaca (Melanie Bitterman), Roger Bowen (Donny Bauer), Edward Edwards (Leo Broadwater), Stephen Lee (Sherman Milslagle), Shera Danese (Connie Piscipoli).

8008 The Suzanne Somers Show. (Series; Variety; Syn.; 1994). Actress Suzanne Somers hosts a lively daytime program of varied entertainment that includes celebrity interviews, cooking segments, fashion advice and other related items geared mostly toward a female audience.

8009 Swamp Fox. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1959–1960). A Walt Disney Presents series that is set during the American Revolution. It tells the heroic story of Francis Marion, an American nicknamed “The Swamp Fox,” as he attempts to thwart British advances in the South by attacking from the glen. The series aired on the following dates: October 23, and October 30, 1959; January 1, January 8, January 15 and January 22, 1960.

Cast: Leslie Nielsen (Francis Marion), Myron Healey (Major Peter Horry), Dick Foran (Gabriel Marion), Wilton Graff (General Lincoln), Louise Beavers (Dehlia), John Sutton (Colonel Tarleton), Barbara Eiler (Mary Videaux), James Anderson (Briggs).

8010 Swamp Thing. (Series; Science Fiction; USA; 1990–1993). “The swamp is my world. It is where I am, it is what I am. I was once a man, I know the evil men do. Do not bring your evil here. I warn you — beware the wrath of Swamp Thing.” The town of Huma, Georgia, is the setting. Dr. Alec

Holland is a scientist who has been experimenting with a formula to arrest the aging process he calls the Restorative Formula (it permeates the cellular structure, changing the DNA and rejuvenating the body's cells at such a vastly accelerated rate that, theoretically, no one will ever grow old). Dr. Anton Arcane is an evil scientist who has been experimenting with biogenetics in an attempt to bring his dead wife, Tatania, back to life through biogenetic transformation (Tatania died ten years ago and is now preserved in a glass coffin).

When Arcane learns about Alec's formula, he attempts to buy it from him; Alec refuses to sell it. One night Arcane breaks into Alec's lab to steal the formula. Alec, accompanied by his wife, Linda, decides to go to the lab to finish an experiment. They encounter Arcane and his henchmen. A fight ensues between Alec and the henchmen (Anton is holding Linda). During the struggle, a fire starts and Alec is doused with the Restorative Formula. The formula ignites and sets Alec on fire. To save himself, Alec jumps into the swamp just outside the lab. As Arcane takes Linda to safety, the lab explodes and Alec is believed to have perished in the flames. Alec does not die, however; the swamp water reacts with the chemicals and turns Alec into a mutant plant and man called Swamp Thing. Stories relate Swamp Thing's efforts to stop Arcane from experimenting with biogenetics and creating hideous creatures called "Unmen" as he attempts to bring his wife back to life.

Sunlight provides Swamp Thing's strength (without it he will die). While Arcane seeks to kill Swamp Thing, Alec will not kill him ("To kill you is to become you"). Swamp Thing uses his plant power to turn his enemies into trees.

Tressa Kipp runs the Kipp Boat Rentals and Swamp Tours in Huma; Jim Kipp is Tressa's son and Swamp Thing's friend; Will Kipp is Tressa's stepson and aide to Swamp Thing; Abigail is one of Arcane's test tube creatures who was not mutated. She is beautiful, has special powers and now helps Swamp Thing. Savannah is Tressa's mother. The series is based on the film of the same title. Theme: "Swamp Thing," by Christopher L. Stone.

Cast: Dick Durock (Swamp Thing), Mark Lindsay Chapman (Dr. Arcane), Carrell Myers (Tressa Kipp), Jesse Zeigler (Jim Kipp), Scott Garrison (Will Kipp), Kari Wuhrer (Abigail), Lonnie Smith (Alec Holland), Heather Thomas (Tatania), Martha Smith (Linda Holland), Patricia Helwick (Savannah Langford).

8011 Swamp Thing. (Series; Cartoon; Fox; 1991). A short lived (April 20, 1991 to May 18, 1991) animated series based on the feature film of the same title. Dr. Alec Holland is a scientist intent on developing a growth formula that will enhance food and end world hunger. He has been conducting experiments in a lab overlooking the Louisiana swamp when Anton Arcane, a madman who believes Alec's formula will give him absolute power, confronts him, seeking the secret formula. When Alec refuses to give it up, a fight ensues and Alec, doused with the unstable Growth Formula, catches fire. To save himself, Alec jumps into the swamp water. The swamp water reacts with the chemicals and transforms Alec into Swamp Thing. Stories relate Alec's battle to protect the environment by stopping Arcane from ravaging the swamp to conduct his experiments in the hopes of duplicating the formula. Abigail is Arcane's niece and secretly Swamp Thing's friend (Abigail knew Alec and possesses his diary, which contains the secret of the Growth Formula).

Voice Cast: Len Carlson (Swamp Thing), Don Francks (Anton Arcane), Paulina Gillis (Abigail Arcane), Philip Akin (Bayou Jack), Harvey Atkum (Tomahawk).

8012 Swans Crossing. (Series; Serial; Syn.; 1992). Sarah Michelle Gellar's first TV series. She plays Sydney Rutledge, a rich teenager in Swans Crossing, an affluent Eastern seaboard community. The daily activities of Sydney and her friends (in particular Nancy, J.T., Garrett, and Milla) are seen in a failed attempt to produce a teenage-oriented daily serial.

Cast: Sarah Michelle Gellar (Sydney Rutledge), Brittany Daniel (Milla Rosnovsky), Kristy Barbera (Nancy Robbins), Tom Carroll (J.T. Adams), Shane McDermoth (Garrett Booth), Devin Doherty (Jimmy Clayton), Carisa Dahlbo (Glory Booth), Evan Ferrante (Owen Fowler), Kristen Mahon (Sandy Swan), Stacey Moseley (Cally Walker), Nick Wyman (Grant Booth). Theme: "Gotta Grow Up Sometime" by Dick Winzler.

8013 S.W.A.T. (Series; Crime Drama; ABC; 1975–1977). Dan Harrelson, called Hondo, is a lieutenant with the Special Weapons and Tactics Unit (S.W.A.T.) of the West California Police Department. His team consists of Sergeant David "Deacon" Kay, Officer James Street, Officer T.J. McCabe and Officer Dominic Luca. Stories follow their activities as they tackle the situations that are too dangerous for ordinary police officer to handle.

Other Regulars: Betty Harrelson, Hondo's wife; and Matt and Kevin, Hondo's sons.

8014 Swat Kats. (Series; Cartoon; TBS; 1993–1994). Mega Kat City is as its name implies, a city inhabited by human-like cats. Three of its leading citizens are Jake, Chance and Callie, mechanics that work in a city garage. Mega Kat City, however, is not as peaceful as it appears. It is the target of fierce monsters and master criminals who want to conquer it. When such a threat occurs, Jake, Chance and Callie become the masked Swat Kats, mysterious super heroes who battle the evils that plague the city.

Voice Cast: Barry Gordon (Jake Clawson), Charles Adler (Chance Furlong), Tress MacNeille (Callie Briggs), Gary Owens (Commander Ulysses Feral), Jim Cummings (Mayor Manx), Lori Alan (Lt. Felina Feral).

8015 Sweating Bullets. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1991–1993). Nick Slaughter is a former government agent turned private detective. Sylvie Girard is a former travel consultant turned amateur sleuth and Nick's partner. Together they operate a company called Nick Slaughter — Private Investigator, the only detective agency on Key Mariah, a small coastal town in Florida.

Nick worked previously for the D.E.A. (Drug Enforcement Agency). Nick first says, "I was laid off because they ran out of bad guys." He next claims, "I got tired of seeing them railroad innocent people so some prosecutor could have an impressive record. When I tried to do something about it, I got fired." He finally says, "I believed the suspect was being set up for something she didn't do. So I helped her get out of the country and was fired." He became a private detective so he could help people he honestly felt were in trouble without repercussions. Nick was born in Florida, attended Lakeside High School and worked as a cop for the Miami P.D. for five years before joining the D.E.A.

Sylvie, born in Miami, is a graduate of State University. She worked as a consultant for travel agencies that catered to the rich and famous. At one such agency, a yacht was left in her care. When the yacht suddenly vanished, she hired Nick to find it. Although Nick found it with Sylvie's assistance, Sylvie was fired when her employer learned the yacht was being used by drug smugglers; "We don't want a yacht saboteur in our employ." Sylvie believes she and Nick work well as a team and feels that the disorganized Nick needs help. She appoints herself as Nick's partner "to organize and turn your pathetic life around." Nick is not the type to argue with a beautiful woman and hires her at a salary of 25 percent of what he makes each month.

Nick calls Sylvie the brains of the outfit. She is a whiz at manipulating and reading people. She can sweet talk men into almost anything and uses this "gift" to help keep the agency afloat.

Nick neglected to pay taxes for eight years and owes the IRS a great deal of money. Sylvie's biggest challenge is to pay off the IRS and keep Nick out of jail. Sylvie doesn't trust Nick with sharp weapons and beautiful women.

Ian Stewart is a friend of Nick's, a former rock star who now runs the Tropical Heat Bar on Key Mariah. Nick and Sylvie often work with Sergeant Ollie Porter and Lieutenant Carren of the Miami Police Department. Fred and Larry Mollin composed the theme "Anyway the Wind Blows."

Cast: Rob Stewart (Nick Slaughter), Carolyn Dunn (Sylvie Girard), John David Bland (Ian Stewart), Eugene Clark (Sgt. Ollie Porter), Pedro Armendariz (Lt. Carren).

8016 The Sweeney. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1976). Jack Regan is and inspector with the Flying Squad, an elite team of specially trained New Scotland Yard police detectives in London, England. Jack and his team (Carter and Haskins) are intrepid investigators who have been trained to solve highly complex crimes. Stories relate their case investigations.

Cast: John Thaw (Insp. Jack Regan), Dennis Waterman (Sgt. Carter), Garfield Morgan (Insp. Haskins).

8017 Sweepstakes. (Series; Anthology; NBC; 1979). Dramas (with slight touches of comedy) that relate incidents in the lives of million dollar lottery finalists (three per show). Characters are followed from entry through the sweepstakes drawing (over KBEX-TV, Channel 6, in Hollywood, California) to show how each copes with the prospect of winning or losing. Gregg Harris is the lottery television host. Cindy (played by several actresses) is Gregg's on-air assistant. Ron Dante performs the theme, "Sweepstakes."

Cast: Edd Byrnes (Gregg Harris), Sally Kim (Cindy), Wendy Raebaeck (Cindy), Jo McDonnell (Cindy), Blake Harris (Cindy), Robin Evans (Cindy), Katherine Greko (Cindy).

8018 Sweet Justice. (Series; Drama; NBC; 1994–1995). Kate and Annie Delacroy are the daughters of James Lee Delacroy (their mother is deceased). Kate, the elder daughter, has followed in her father's footsteps and become a lawyer. However, living in a small Southern town, Kate feels she needs to spread her wings and moves to New York City, where she acquires a job with a Manhattan (Wall Street) law firm. The job is not what she expected. She is basically a law clerk and is promised this and that.

After a four year absence, Kate returns home to attend her sister's wedding. She rejects her father's offer to come to work for him — but does accept an invitation to work with Carrie Grace Battle, her late mother's dearest friend, a civil rights activist (which displeases her conservative father). During her stay, Kate became involved in a child custody case that eventually led her to team with Carrie; she found something she could not find in New York — satisfaction from actually helping people. Stories follow Kate as she tries to do what she felt she always had to — help people who are really in need of help and have no where else to turn.

Other Regulars: Logan Wright, the Assistant D.A.; Andy Del Sarto, Reese Daulkins and Bailey Connors, lawyers; and Harry Foley, Annie's husband.

Cast: Cicely Tyson (Carrie Grace Battle), Melissa Gilbert (Kate Delacroy), Ronny Cox (James-Lee Delacroy), Megan Gallivan (Annie Delacroy-Foley), Greg Germann (Andy Del Sarto), Cree Summer (Reese Daulkins), John Allen Nelson (Logan Wright), Jason Gedrick (Bailey Connors), Scott Paetty (Harry Foley).

8019 Sweet Surrender. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1987). Georgia and Ken Holden are a happily married couple who live at 1345 Bayridge Avenue in Philadelphia. Ken is an architect and works for the firm of Henderson and Associates; Georgia relinquished her career (type not mentioned) to marry and raise a family. Seven years later, they have two children, six-year-old Bartley ("Bart") Holden and one-year-old Linnie, and a dog named Yoda. Although Georgia gave up her career, she loves being a housewife and mother — "I love being there when Bart comes home from school and being there when Linnie wakes up from her nap." Stories relate incidents in their daily lives. Georgia calls Bart "Lima Bean," "Pumpkin" and "Angel."

CAK (Catherine Antoinette Krowder) is Georgia's baby-sitter; Francis is Georgia's father; Joyce is Ken's mother. Ray Colcord composed the theme.

Cast: Dana Delany (Georgia Holden), Mark Blum (Ken Holden), Edan Gross (Bart Holden), Rebecca and Sarah Simms (Linnie Holden), Viveka Davis (CAK), David Doyle (Francis), Marjorie Lord (Joyce), Jo de Winter (Joyce; later).

8020 Sweet, Sweet Rachel. (Pilot; Mystery; ABC; 10/2/71). The pilot film for The Sixth Sense about Dr. Lucas Darrow, a professor of parapsychology who helps people threatened by ghosts and attempts to solve crimes that are associated with the supernatural. In the pilot episode, Darrow searches for a psychic who uses his telepathic power to commit murder.

Cast: Alex Dreier (Dr. Lucas Darrow). Guest Cast: Stefanie Powers (Rachel Stanton), Pat Hingle (Arthur Piper), Louise Latham (Lillian Piper), Brenda Scott (Nora Piper), Chris Robinson (Carey), Steve Ihnat (Dr. Tyler). Note: In the series, Gary Collins played the doctor as Michael Rhodes.

8021 Sweet Valley High. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1994–1998). Elizabeth and Jessica Wakefield are identical teenage twins who attend Sweet Valley

High School in the small town of Sweet Valley. According to Jessica, she and Elizabeth "share the same D.O.A." (she, of course means, DNA, not Dead on Arrival).

Jessica is not as bright as Elizabeth. She obsesses over her body, is into fashion and makeup and is a flirt (she calls herself "a tease"). Elizabeth and Jessica are both gorgeous but Jessica fees that by wearing her Wonder Bra ("It gives me just the right amount of cleavage to show") she can attract any boy she wants. Jessica reads The National Tabloid ("You're nothing until you appear in it") and has a dream to become an actress. She appeared in a TV commercial for Nirvana Cosmetics and was co-host of a local talk show called Frankly Speaking. In some episodes Jessica also mentions wanting to become a fashion designer. Jessica is the head cheerleader for the school's basketball team, the Gladiators.

Elizabeth keeps a diary of her daily activities and fears her and Jessica's relationship will grow cold. She is a vegetarian and conservative and can't understand Jessica's obsession with her body. She is a sentimentalist and treasures her childhood memories. Elizabeth writes "The Eyes and Ears" column for the school newspaper, The Oracle; she later became the editor and acquired a position with The Sweet Valley Tribune. She yearns to become a journalist and had a story, "Platinum Blonde," published in Teen Lit magazine (about a spy named Platinum Blonde whose code was Double D). Elizabeth will never tell a secret or hurt anyone, says Jessica, "She's like Mother Theresa in a miniskirt." Elizabeth also worked as a candy striper at Sweet Valley Community Hospital.

Lila Fowler is Jessica's best friend. She is rich (her father owns the Fowler Restaurant chain) and is obsessed with makeup and fashion. She enjoys hearing poetry at the Blue Iguana Coffee House and whether it's personal or private, "Lila will find out what you're hiding." Lila detests manual labor but experienced what people do, work, when she and Jessica needed extra money and became fast food girls at Pork on a Stick.

Enid Rollins is best friends with Elizabeth. She constantly talks about her strange relatives and feels she is not pretty or interesting and will never find a guy who will like her for who she is. She works for the school teen hot line and had a previous experience with drugs. Enid cleaned up her act and did a public service spot for drug abuse on the TV show More Music.

Winston Egbert, the brainy nerd, manages the Moon Beach, the local hangout. Called "Eggman" by his friends, he feels that the happiest days of his life occurred when he was crowned Homecoming King to Elizabeth, the Homecoming Queen in high school and the day Lila kissed him in the third grade. Other students are Todd Wilkins, Cheryl Thomas, Patty Thomas, Manny Lopez and Renata Vargas.

Cast: Cynthia Daniel (Elizabeth Wakefield), Brittany Daniel (Jessica Wakefield), Amy Danles (Enid Rollins), Bridget Flanery (Lila Fowler; 1994–97), Shirlee Elliot (Lila Fowler; 1997–98), Michael Perl (Winston Egbert), Amarilis (Patty Gilbert), Tiffany Hayes (Cheryl Thomas), Manley Pope (Devon White-law), Ryan James Bittle (Todd Wilkins), Harley Rodriguez (Manny Lopez), Andrea Savage (Renata Vargas), Mark Silverman (Principal Cooper).

8022 The Swift Home Service Club. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1947–1948). The first television program to be sponsored by Swift Foods and the first daytime television program to air since World War II ended. The show is divided into several segments: chatter and celebrity interviews with Jinx Falkenberg and Tex McCrary; interior decorating with Sandra Gahle; kitchen ideas and cooking with Martha Logan (Swift home economist) and an audience participation segment wherein a guest judged the competition. See also At Home with Tex and Jinx. The series ran from May 16, 1947 to March 24, 1948.

Hosts: Jinx Falkenberg, Tex McCrary. Regulars: Helen Carroll and the Escorts, Sandra Gahle, Martha Logan. Announcer: Dan Seymour.

8023 The Swift Home Service Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1949). The alternate title for Tex and Jinx. See this title for information.

8024 Swift Justice. (Series; Crime Drama; UPN; 1996). Mac Swift is a man who gets the job done — rather swiftly — no matter how dangerous or complex it is. Mac is a former Special Forces operative turned private detective. Mike does not come to the job empty handed. He is a martial arts expert, makes use of databases and most of all incorporates methods (and weapons) he formally used as an agent for the Secret Service. Stories follow Mac as he does what his name implies — deliver swift justice.

Cast: James McCaffrey (Mac Swift), Len Cariou (Michael Swift), Gary Dourdan (Randall Patterson).

8025 The Swift Show. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1948–1949). A program of music, songs, comedy and studio audience participation segments. The series, sponsored by Swift Foods, ran from April 1, 1948 to August 4, 1949.

Host: Lanny Ross. Regulars: Eileen Barton, Susan Shaw, Martha Wright, Frank Fontaine, Max Showalter, Ricki Hamilton, Dulcie Jordan, Sandra Gable. Commercial Spokeswoman: Martha Logan. Orchestra: Harry Simone.

8026 The Swift Show Wagon. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1955). A salute to various American cities via music with orchestra leader Horace Heidt as the host. The series, sponsored by Swift Foods, ran from January 8, 1955 to October 1, 1955.

Host: Horace Heidt. Orchestra: Frank DeVol.

8027 Swinging Country. (Series; Variety; NBC; 1966). Performances by country and western artists with singer Roy Clark as the host. Rosalind Ross is the producer.

Host: Roy Clark. Substitute Host: Minnie Pearl. Regulars: Molly Bee, Rusty Draper, The Hometown Singers, The Swinging Countrymen. Orchestra: Bill Walker.

8028 Swinging Together. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 8/26/63). Bobby Day and the Four Knights (Yogi, Skooby-Doo, Steve and Big D) is a small musical group struggling to make the big time. They travel from town to town in their bus, the Lucinda, and are looked after by their driver, P.J. Cunningham, who has taken them under his wing. The unsold series was to follow their misadventures as they seek that big break. In the pilot episode, the group travels to the town of Culver Springs where they encounter a snooty girl (Linda) who feels the group is not right (too rowdy) for a benefit event she hired them for.

Cast: Bobby Rydell (Bobby Day), Pete Brooks (Yogi), Ben Bryant (Skooby-Doo), Larry Merrill (Steve), Art Metrano (Big D), James Dunn (P.J. Cunningham). Guest Cast: Stefanie Powers (Linda Craig), Lloyd Corrigan (Mr. Craig), Frank Cady (Gas station attendant), Dennis Crosby, Lindsay Crosby and Philip Crosby (Singers).

8029 Swiss Family Robinson. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1975–1976). It is the mid 19th century and an American family, the Robinsons, have been shipwrecked on an almost deserted tropical island after a storm at sea. The family has managed to survive the difficult first weeks and have made the island as home-like as possible. Stories, based on the book by Johann Wyss, relates their attempts to find a way off the island and return home.

Karl and Lottie Robinson are the parents; Fred and Ernie are their sons; Helga Wagner is their adopted daughter; Jeremiah Worth is the marooned sea dog. See also the following title.

8030 The Swiss Family Robinson. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1976). A Canadian produced television version of the story by Johann Wyss that more closely follows the original concept than the prior American title. It is 1881 and a Swiss family, the Robinsons, have been shipwrecked by a tropical storm at sea and are now trapped on an uncharted island (which they name New Switzerland). Episodes depict their struggles for survival and attempts to escape from the island. Johann and Elizabeth are the parents. Marie, Franz and Ernest are their children.

8031 Switch. (Series; Crime Drama; CBS; 1975–1978). Frank MacBride and Peterson T. Ryan are partners in a private detective agency called both MacBride-Ryan Investigations and The Ryan-MacBride Private Detective Organization located at 1019 Florida Street in Los Angeles. People say, “They’re the last hope you have. If they can’t prove your innocence, no one can.” To achieve their goals, Frank, called Mac, and Peterson, called Pete, use cons to beat swindlers at their own game.

Mac was formerly a cop with the Central Division of the L.A.P.D. Twenty of his twenty-five years on the force were spent in the bunco division where he made an impressive number of arrests by posing as a mark and nabbing the country’s most wanted felons.

Pete is a sophisticated con artist who pulls off scams that will make him a great deal of money. Pete’s shortcoming is that he always underestimates the police; a flaw that enabled Mac to capture him. It was “a battle of wits for ten years,” says Mac. “He’s the best con man I ever tried to catch.” Mac retired from the force at about the same time Pete was being released from serving a two-year sentence at San Quentin. They became friends over the course of time and pooled their talents to help people by opening the agency.

“I don’t know why I just don’t quit this screwy job,” exclaims Maggie Philbin, the agency’s pretty but naive secretary. Maggie took the job with a hope of learning the business and starting her own detective agency. Mac and Pete see her as their girl Friday and use her any way they can to assist in a con.

Ali McGinnis, who Pete says can talk the curves off a hockey puck, is a stunning brunette Pete uses to run interference during a con. Ali, a con artist herself, uses her beauty to accomplish her goals.

Malcolm Argos is a friend of Pete’s who runs the Bouziki Bar, the hangout. He too has a genius for the con and helps Mac and Pete when necessary. Revel is the sexy waitress at the bar.

8032 The Sword. (Pilot; Adventure; CBS; 5/31/57). Seventeenth century France is the setting for an unsold series about Paul De La Force, a swash-buckler who aides people in distress. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Schlitz Playhouse of Stars, Paul attempts to save the life of Cyrano de Bergerac from the guillotine when he is accused of being a spy.

Cast: Jacques Sernas (Paul De La Force). Guest Cast: Fred Wayne (Cyrano de Bergerac), Nicola Michaels (Marion), John Doucette (Bouquet), Henry Daniell (Count Malvern), Paul Frees (Bailiff).

8033 Sword of Freedom. (Series; Adventure; Syn.; 1957). Italy during its 15th century Renaissance is the setting for tales of Marco Del Monte, swordsman, painter and lover, as he attempts to defend the free republic against the iron-fisted rule of the Medici family.

Cast: Edmund Purdom (Marco Del Monte), Martin Benson (Duke De Medici), Adrienne Corri (Angelica), Kenneth Hyde (Machiavelli).

8034 Sword of Justice. (Series; Crime Drama; NBC; 1978–1979). Jack Martin Cole, vice president of Cole Industries, is framed and accused of embezzling $2.5 million from his late father’s company. Innocent, but unable to prove it, Jack is found guilty of 25 counts of violating the federal penal code and sentenced to five years at the Louisiana Federal Penitentiary.

Bitter at the wrong done to him, Jack decides to get even and find the man responsible for framing him. With the help of his cellmate, Hector Ramirez, Jack is taught the tricks of the criminal trade: burglar alarms, precision acrobatics, second story work, electronic bugging and lock picking.

After three years, Jack is released for good behavior (as is Hector). With Hector’s help, Jack finds the man responsible for framing him (Larry Hagman as Frank Blaine). Now, operating as a team, Jack and Hector anonymously fight crime by helping the authorities get the goods on white collar criminals.

In prison Jack was called the “Park Avenue Kid.” Hector was sentenced for three and a half years for stealing a car (he stole a car to see his girlfriend in a hospital and was arrested for transporting stolen goods across state lines).

Jack, who lives off a trust fund set up by his mother, resides at 636 Park Avenue, Apartment 6F, in Manhattan; he poses as a New York playboy as a cover for his crime fighting activities. Jack helps Arthur Woods, a former attorney who is now an agent with the Federal Task Force. Jack’s trademark is the three of spades playing card. The three represents the time he served in prison, the spade indicates that his task has been completed (the back of the card is inscribed with these words: “The spade is the Sword of Justice. Its rapier marks the end”).

Cast: Dack Rambo (Jack Cole), Bert Rosario (Hector Ramirez), Alex Courtney (Arthur Woods), June Lockhart (Jack’s mother).

8035 Sybil. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 6/25/65). When it is ruled that Sybil, a beautiful wood sprite, has committed the sin of vanity, she is banished from her native habitat and sentenced to reside on Earth. The unsold series was to relate her attempts to atone for her sin by performing good deeds. In the pilot episode, Sybil tries to help a misguided young man (Pete), follow the straight and narrow. Lionel is Sybil's leprechaun mentor.

Cast: Suzy Parker (Sybil), Wilfrid Hyde-White (Lionel), John Ericson (Pete; guest role).

8036 Sydney. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1990). Sydney Kells lives at 1144 Oliphant Street in Los Angeles. She is a beautiful 25-year-old single girl who works as an investigator for the law firm of Fenton, Benton and Sloane in Century City. Sydney has brown eyes and brown hair, is five feet five inches tall and weighs 110 pounds.

The Blue Collar Bar is her favorite hangout, and she first cried when Dick Sargent replaced Dick York on Bewitched. In the episode of 4/25/90 ("Georgie"), Valerie was reunited with her former One Day at a Time co-star, Pat Harrington, Jr., in a story that found Sydney working with a 1940s-style private eye named Georgie Garrity.

Sydney's friend, Jill, is a model for Contemporary Fashions. At age 12, she shared her first secret with Sydney — that Mighty Mouse was her hero. Jill likes to lounge around in a bathrobe and wear a lacy push-up bra under her pajama tops.

Billy Kells is Sydney's brother, a police officer with the L.A.P.D.; Matt Keating is Sydney's boss; and Ray O'Shaughnessy owns the Blue Collar Bar.

Linda Kells is Sydney's mother; Claire is Matt's girlfriend (who believes Sydney is "a fat, middle aged bald man"). Valerie Bertinelli selected the theme, "Finish What Ya Started," by Eddie Van Halen (her husband).

Cast: Valerie Bertinelli (Sydney Kells), Rebecca Bush (Jill), Craig Bierko (Matt Keating), Matthew Perry (Billy Kells), Barney Martin (Ray O'Shaughnessy), Jane Milmore (Claire), Georgia Brown (Linda Kells).

8037 Sylvan in Paradise. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 8/2/86). The Hotel Lindalana in Hawaii is the setting for a proposed series about Sylvan Sprayberry, the hotel's inept bell captain. In the pilot episode, Sylvan's efforts to provide a happy wedding day for his sister (Polly) backfires when he becomes involved in a drug bust. Other Regulars: Lucy, Polly's daughter; Clint, the hotel's general manager; Sparky, the bellboy. Polly runs the hotel's gift shop.

Cast: Jim Nabors (Sylvan Sprayberry), Ann Wedgeworth (Polly), Courtney Cox (Lucy), Brent Spiner (Clint C. Waddle), Glenn Withrow (Sparky McMann). Guest Cast: Michael Ensign (Vice Counsel), Clyde Kusatsu (Policeman), Pat McCormick

(Roy Rogers), Bunny Summers (The lady), Ivan Bonar (Minister), Ray Jessel (Rabbi Turteltaub). Theme Vocal: "Sylvan in Paradise" by Thomas Bernfeld.

8038 Sylvester and Tweety. (Series; Cartoon; CBS; 1976–1977). Warner Bros. theatrical cartoons that relate the efforts of Sylvester, the forever-hungry cat, to catch himself a decent meal — Tweety, the foxy canary.

Voices: Mel Blanc.

8039 The Sylvester and Tweety Mysteries. (Series; Cartoon; Kids WB; 1995). Sylvester the Cat, Tweety Bird and Hector the Bulldog are the pets of Granny, an elderly woman who is also an expert at solving bizarre mysteries. Stories follow Granny as she travels to wherever a mystery needs to be solved — accompanied by her pets, who assist but cause more mischief than help as Sylvester is forever seeking to capture Tweety (for a decent meal) and always being foiled by Hector, Tweety's guardian.

Voice Cast: June Foray (Granny), Joe Alaskey (Sylvester/Tweety), Frank Welker (Hector).

8040 Szyszynek. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1977–1978). Nicholas Szyszynek (pronounced Ziznick) is a retired Marine sergeant who decides to fill his leisure time by salvaging the financially troubled Northeast Community Center in Washington, D.C. Now, as the playground supervisor, Nick, as he is called, struggles to make the center a second home for the kids of the neighborhood. Ms. Harrison is the district supervisor; Sandi Chandler is Nick's assistant; Leonard Kreigler is the assistant supervisor; and Ray Gun, Ralph, Tony and Bernard are the featured center kids. Sonny Curtis performs the theme vocal.

Cast: Ned Beatty (Nick Szyszynek), Olivia Cole (Ms. Harrison), Susan Lanier (Sandi Chandler), Leonard Barr (Leonard Kreigler), Thomas Carter (Ray Gun), Jarrod Johnson (Ralph), Scott Colomby (Tony La Placa), Barry Miller (Bernard Fortwengler).

8041 T and T. (Series; Crime Drama; Syn.; 1988). T.S. Turner is a street-smart kid who was headed down the wrong path but turned his life around and became a prize fighter. When he refused to take a fall, he was framed for a crime he did not commit and arrested.

Amanda Tyler is a tough-minded crusading attorney who believes in helping people she believes were falsely convicted. Such is the case with T.S. With T.S.'s help (free on bail) Amanda proves T.S. was framed. T.S. finds great pleasure in helping Amanda and becomes part of her team as her investigator. Stories relate their efforts to help people in serious trouble with the law.

Other Regulars: Detective Ted Jones; Sophie, Amanda's secretary; Benjamin, the gym owner (where T.S. works out); Renee, T.S.'s niece; and Martha, T.S.'s aunt.

Cast: Mr. T (T.S. Turner), Alex Amini (Amanda Tyler), Ken James (Ted Jones), Catherine Disher (Sophie Rideaux), David Nerman (Benjamin Danforth Decker), Rachel Crawford (Renee), Jackie Richardson (Aunt Martha).

8042 The Tab Hunter Show. (Series; Comedy; NBC; 1960–1961). Beautiful girls posing as swimsuit models are one of the perks for Paul Morgan, a cartoonist who draws the comic strip “Bachelor at Large” for John Larsen, the owner of Comics, Incorporated, a publication that produces “mostly comics for kids.” Paul’s bachelor pad is his swank beach house at 3600 Malibu Road in Malibu Beach, California.

Paul’s friend, the wealthy Peter Fairfield III squanders money (“I’m terribly rich”) and enjoys the pleasure of Paul’s company for the girls he gets to meet. Peter calls John “a grouchy old bear” and attending cocktail parties is the hardest work John does (he says “I need to do so for business”).

Swimsuit photos of some of the girls Paul uses as models can be seen on his living room wall. Stories relate the “hard work” and “long hours” Paul has to suffer through as he writes his comic strip and deal not only with the problems of his beautiful models, but with the antics of Peter as he tries to impress girls. Pete Rugolo composed the theme.

Cast: Tab Hunter (Paul Morgan), Richard Erdman (Peter Fairfield III), Jerome Cowan (John Larsen).

8043 Tabitha. (Pilot; Comedy; ABC; 4/24/76). A proposed spin-off from Bewitched about Tabitha Stevens, a beautiful witch (the daughter of Samantha and Darrin Stevens), as she struggles to make it on her own as an editorial assistant at San Francisco’s fashionable Trend Magazine. In the pilot episode, Tabitha, who is now 24 years old and attempting to deal with all the problems of her business and social worlds, tries to find a way to tell her boyfriend that she is a witch. See also the following title. Other Regulars: Adam, Tabitha’s warlock brother; Roberta, the editor; Bonnie, a magazine writer; and Cliff, Tabitha’s boyfriend.

Cast: Liberty Williams (Tabitha Stevens), Bruce Kimmel (Adam Stevens), Barbara Cason (Roberta), Archie Hahn (Cliff), Cindi Haynie (Bonnie). Guest Cast: Barbara Rhoades (Dinah), Maria O’Brien (Leslie), Arnold Soboloff (Cabbie).

8044 Tabitha. (Series; Comedy; ABC; 1977). A spin-off from Bewitched. Events in the life of Tabitha Stevens, a beautiful witch (daughter of Samantha and Darrin Stevens), who is employed as a production assistant at KXLA-TV in Los Angeles. Adam is her brother, a warlock; Paul Thurston is the TV show host; Marvin Decker is Paul’s producer; Minerva is Tabitha’s aunt; Dr. Bombay is the warlock doctor. Lisa Hartman performs the theme, “It’s Magic.” The series, which produced 12 episodes, ran from September 10, 1977 to January 14, 1978.

Cast: Lisa Hartman (Tabitha Stevens), David Ankrum (Adam Stevens), Robert Urich (Paul Thurston), Mel Stewart (Marvin Decker), Karen Morrow (Minerva), Bernard Fox (Dr. Bombay).

8045 Tack Reynolds. (Pilot; Drama; ABC; 10/29/62). A proposed spin-off from Stoney Burke about Tack Reynolds, a stock car racer who travels the race car circuit and helps people in trouble along the way. In the pilot episode, titled “The Mob Riders,” Tack attempts to stop a land developer from turning an auto arena into a rodeo.

Cast: Michael Parks (Tack Reynolds). Guest Cast: Gene Lyons (Clyde Lampert), Bill Gunn (Bud Sutter), Ford Rainey (Frank Hughes), Denise Alexander (Arlett Hughes), Jack Lord (Stoney Burke).

8046 Tag Team. (Pilot; Crime Drama; ABC; 1/26/91). When professional wrestlers Billy Youngblood and “Tricky” Rick MacDonald refuse to take a dive, they are banned from the sport. Feeling they were the victims of an injustice, they decide to help others by becoming police officers. The unsold series was to relate their exploits as they encompass the sport of wrestling to defeat evil.

Cast: Jesse Ventura (Billy Youngblood), “Rowdy” Roddy Piper (Rick MacDonald), Robin Curtis (Captain Carol Steckler), Michael Genovese (Detective Harrigan), Raymond O’Connor (Detective Hatch). Guest Cast: Jennifer Runyon (Rita Valentine), Shannon Tweed (Lena Lewis), Raymond O’Connor (Sergeant Harrigan).

8047 Tag the Gag. (Series; Game; NBC; 1951). A group of actors pantomime a joke and stop before the punch line. Selected studio audience members have to supply a funny ending. The player who is able to Tag the Gag (supply the correct ending) receives a cash prize. The short-lived series (three episodes) ran from August 13, 1951 to August 27, 1951.

8048 Taina. (Series; Comedy; Nickelodeon; 2001–2002). Taina Morales is a young girl who attends the Manhattan School of the Arts in New York City. She lives in Queens, New York, with her parents (Eduardo and Gloria), brother (Santito) and grandfather (Abuelo). Renee Jones, Daniel McDaniel and Lamar Johnson are her friends and schoolmates. Taina has a powerful dream — to one day become a star — and her efforts to achieve that dream (beside all the setbacks she faces) are the focal point of the series.

Taina is a talented singer and dancer but Martiza Hogge, the girl who believes she is more talented than Taina, seeks to become the star of the school. Renee has ambitions to be a comedian; Daniel is a talented musician (capable of playing almost any instrument). Eduardo designs music programs for computers.

Cast: Christina Vidal (Taina Maria Morales), Khalilal Adams (Renee Aretha Jones), David Oliver Cohen (Daniel Nathaniel McDaniel), Chris Knowings (Lamar Johnson), La Tangela (Martiza Hogge), Josh Cruze (Eduardo Morales), Lisa Velez (Gloria Elana Morales), Brandon Iglesias (Santito Morales).

8049 Tak and the Power of Juju. (Series; Cartoon; Nickelodeon; 2007–). Tak is a teenage Shaman's assistant in an era that resembles a prehistoric world. He is a member of the Pupununu tribe. Tak is destined to become a Shaman but unexpected circumstances give him the powers some 150 years before his time. Tak is not the brightest member of the tribe and he is struggling to understand the power and wisdom of a Shaman — a situation that causes him more misadventure than achievements. Computer animated stories follow Tak as he attempts to balance two worlds — the mystical powers of the Juju (which provide a Shaman with power) and that of his tribe. Lok, a mighty warrior (who is never around when needed) and Jeera, the Chief's daughter are his friends. Tlaloc is an evil being who threatens the tribe with his spells.

Voice Cast: Hal Sparks (Tak), Kari Wahlgren (Jeera), Haylie Johnson (Jeera; later), Patrick Warburton (Lok), Maurice LaMarche (Chief), Rob Paulsen (Tlaloc).

8050 Take a Chance. (Series; Game; ABC; 1950). A player is given $5 to keep or risk in an attempt to win something better. If a player decides to risk his money, he is asked a question and awarded a prize if he correctly answers it. The player can continue playing, seeking a more expensive prize, or leave with what he has already won. A maximum of four questions are asked and prizes range from gags to costly items. An incorrect answer defeats a player and costs him everything he has won up to that point. The series ran from October 1, 1950 to December 24, 1950.

Host Don Ameche.

8051 Take a Good Look. (Series; Game; ABC; 1959–1960). A cast performs a dramatic sketch that relates clues to the identity of a mystery guest. The first celebrity panelist (of three who appear) to identify the guest receives one point. Winners are the highest scorers. Prizes are awarded to the home viewers represented by the panelists.

An announcer opens the show: "Ernie Kovacs.... Take a Good Look.... Starring that man of many faces with the most baffling questions to ever mystify a panel. Now here he is, Ernie Kovacs."

Host: Ernie Kovacs. Panelists: Edie Adams, Cesar Romero, Carl Reiner. Sketch Performer:

Ernie Kovacs, Peggy Connelly, Bob Lauher. Announcer: Johnny Jacobs.

8052 Take a Guess. (Series; Game; CBS; 1953). Through a series of indirect question-and-answer rounds, players have to determine a mystery phrase that is known only by a celebrity panel and the host. Each player starts with $150, but each "yes" answer by a panelist deducts $5 from his total. The round continues until a player, who receives four guesses, identifies the phrase. He receives whatever amount of money he has accumulated. The series ran from June 18, 1953 to September 10, 1953.

Host: John K.M. McCaffrey. Panelists: Ernie Kovacs, Dorothy Hart, Margaret Lindsey, John Crawford.

8053 Take Five. (Series; Comedy; CBS; 1987). Events in the life of Andy Kooper, a divorced PR man (with Davis and Son) who finds solace playing banjo with a Dixieland band (The Lenny Goodman Quartet). Originally titled Kooper with a K.

Other Regulars: Dr. Wolf, his psychiatrist; Max, president of the agency; Laraine, an agency employee; and Andy's friends, Monty, Al and Lenny. The two episode series ran from April 1, 1987 to April 8, 1987.

8054 Take Five with Stiller and Meara. (Series; Comedy; Syn.; 1977). A five-minute filler program that presents comedians Jerry Stiller and Anne Meara in short, humorous blackouts that satirize various aspects of everyday life.

8055 Take My Advice. (Series; Discussion; NBC; 1976). Four celebrity guests discuss and suggest answers to problems submitted by viewers.

Hostess: Kelly Lange. Announcer: Bill Armstrong.

8056 Take One Starring Jonathan Winters. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 5/1/81). An improvised program that features comedian Jonathan Winters in various situations without written dialogue.

Host: Jonathan Winters. Guests: Ernest Borgnine, Charlie Callas, Phyllis Diller, George Lindsey, Dick Martin, Jack Paar, Tom Smothers, Jimmy Stewart, Dick Van Patten, Flip Wilson.

8057 Take Two. (Series; Game; ABC; 1963). Four celebrity guests, divided into two teams of two, compete. Four pictures are flashed on a screen (for example, Marilyn Monroe, Jayne Mansfield, Amy Vanderbilt and a cat). The first team to identify themselves (through a buzzer signal) and name the related items (Marilyn and Jayne, actresses) wins the round and scores points. Selected members of the studio audience, who are represented by the celebrities, receive merchandise prizes.

Host: Don McNeill.

8058 Taking It Home. (Pilot; Comedy; NBC; 9/12/86). After a two year absence, a free spirit (Nick Morelli) returns home hoping to begin a new life. The unsold series was to relate Nick's experiences when he joins the family business (Morelli Toys) and attempts to become a part of society again.

Other Regulars: Papa Joe, Nick's widowed father; Kitty, Nick's married sister; Johnny, Kitty's husband; Franny, Kitty's daughter; Lola, Papa Joe's cousin; and Sheila and Gino, Lola's children.

Cast: Scott Valentine (Nick Morelli), Herschel Bernardi (Papa Joe Morelli), Natalija Nogulich (Kitty DeLuca), Ray Baker (Johnny DeLuca), Summer Phoenix (Franny DeLuca), Liz Torres (Lola), Lisa Jane Persky (Sheila), Harry Basil (Gino). Theme Vocal: "Hello Home" by Kenny Rankin.

8059 A Tale of Wells Fargo. (Pilot; Western; CBS; 12/14/56). The pilot film for The Tales of Wells Fargo (NBC, 1957–62) about Jim Hardie, a trouble shooter for Wells Fargo, Incorporated, a gold transporting company during the 1860s. In the pilot episode, broadcast as a segment of Schlitz Playhouse of Stars, Jim attempts to stop a gang of outlaws who are looting Wells Fargo stagecoaches.

Cast: Dale Robertson (Jim Hardie). Guest Cast: Stuart Randall (Marshal), Helen Westcott (Bess), John Merrick (Beal), Tom McDonough (Rosser), John Beradino (Harrigan).

8060 Tale Spin. (Series; Cartoon; Syn.; 1990–1994). A spin-off from the animated theatrical film, The Jungle Book, about Baloo the Bear, a pilot who works for Rebecca Cunningham, the head of an air cargo delivery service on a South Pacific island during the 1930s. Baloo is assisted by Kit Cloudkicker and stories follow their hare-brained adventures as they battle evil (especially Don Karnage) in their attempt to deliver their goods. Wildcat is the mechanic; Molly is Rebecca's daughter.

Voice Cast: Ed Gilbert (Baloo), Jim Cummings (Pilot Jack), Sally Struthers (Rebecca Cunningham), R.J. Williams (Kit Cloudkicker), Pat Fraley (Wildcat), Jim Cummings (Don Karnage), Charles Adler (Mad Dog), Janna Michaels (Molly Cunningham), Tony Jay (Shere Khan), Alan Roberts (Kit Cloudkicker).

8061 Talent Jackpot. (Series; Variety; DuMont; 1949). A short-lived program that features performances by undiscovered talent acts. The series ran from July 19, 1949 to August 23, 1949.

Host: Vinton Freedley. Assistant: Clayton "Bud" Collyer.

8062 Talent Patrol. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1953–1955). Performances by nonprofessional army soldiers (the original format) and by budding civilian talent (the revised format). In the original format, which was designed to help recruitment, the winners received a date with a pretty actress.

Host: Steve Allen, Clayton "Bud" Collyer, Richard Hayes. Hostess: Arlene Francis.

8063 The Talent Scouts Program. (Pilot; Variety; NBC; 2/23/60). A proposed series that was to feature performances by undiscovered talent that are presented by celebrity guests. Irving Mansfield is the producer.

Host: Dave Garroway. Guests: Joan Crawford, Colleen Dewhurst, Hugh Downs, Ethel Merman, Maureen O'Hara, Richard Rodgers, Joanie Sommers. Orchestra: Harry Sosnik.

8064 Talent Varieties. (Series; Variety; ABC; 1955). A summer program that spotlights performances by aspiring country and western entertainers. It ran from June 28, 1955 to September 6, 1955.

Host: Slim Wilson. Announcer: Chuck Hesington. Music: The Tall Timber Trio, The Country Rhythm Boys.

8065 Tales from the Crypt. (Series; Anthology; HBO; 1989). Eerie tales of horror based on the comic book Tales from the Crypt. The stories, introduced by the Crypt Keeper (created by makeup artist Kevin Yagher) features top name Hollywood stars and top notch Hollywood directors.

Cast: John Kassir (Voice of the Crypt Keeper). Performers Include: Brooke Shields, Sherrie Rose, Tim Ahern, Julian Kerridge, Joe Pantoliano, Bobcat Goldthwait, Marshall Bell, William Sadler, Jillian Kerridge, Lance Henriksen, Michael Ironside, Larry Drake, Steve Kahan, Marshall Teague, Miguel Ferrer, Troy Evans. Theme: Danny Elfman.

8066 Tales from the Crypt Keeper. (Series; Cartoon; ABC; CBS; 1993–1997). An animated Saturday morning series based on the live action cable series, Tales from the Crypt that, geared to children, presents stories that are far less frightening (even though they involve children in twisted encounters with the supernatural). The host, the Crypt Keeper, is assisted by the Vault Keeper and the Old Witch. The series ran on ABC from 1993–1995; and on CBS (as New Tales from the Crypt Keeper) from 1996–1997.

Voice Cast: John Kassir (Crypt Keeper), Don Dickerson (Vault Keeper), Lorna Wilson (Old Witch).

8067 Tales from the Darkside. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1984). Mystery and suspense stories about people who enter the opposite world of reality — a dark-sided world of evil and death.

A narrator opens the show: "Man lives in the sunlit world of what he believes to be reality. But there is unseen by most, an underworld, a place that is just as real but not as brightly lit — a darkside.”

Narrator: Paul Sparer. Performers Include: Vic Tayback, Fritz Weaver, Alison Sweeney, Carolyn Seymour, Tanya Fenmore, Philip Roth, Howard Dayton, Catherine Battistone, Phyllis Diller, Karen Shallo, Neil Kinsella, Michael Freeman, Bradley Fisher, Therese Pare, Paula Trueman.

8068 Tales of Frankenstein. (Unaired Pilot; Anthology; Produced in 1961). An unsold series of weekly horror stories whose opening theme explains the premise: “From the beginning of time many men have sought the unknown, delving into dark regions where lie those truths which are destined to destroy us. Of all these eerie adventures into darkness, none was more driven by insatiable curiosity, nor went further into the unknown than the unforgettable Baron Frankenstein. So infamous were his exploits that his name stands forever as a symbol for all that is shocking, unspeakable, forbidden. Thus in our day any story which chills the soul and freezes the blood is truly a tale of Frankenstein. Now join us in the excitement and the stimulation that comes when we tell a story so weird, so dark and so horrifying that it deserves to be called one of the many “Tales of Frankenstein.” The pilot story retells the Frankenstein legend with the Baron seeking a normal brain for his creature (who possesses a killer’s brain and seeks only to destroy).

Cast: Anton Diffing (Baron Frankenstein), Don Megowan (Monster), Helen Westcott (Christine Helbert), Richard Bull (Paul Helbert), Ludwig Stossel (Wilhelm). Note: In the program, Richard Bull’s character is called Paul Helbert; however, in the closing credits, his character is listed as Max Helbert.

8069 Tales of Morpheus. (Pilot; Anthology; NBC; 5/22/53). A proposed series of dramas based on real dreams people are said to have had. The pilot episode, “The Portrait,” deals with a selfish artist who creates a portrait so beautiful of a woman that he falls in love with it and dreams of joining her in a mysterious land behind the canvas. Soon, the artist finds himself trapped in the canvas while his imagined woman comes to life as one of the spectators in an art gallery. Morpheus appears at the end to tell viewers that the artist had a dream and, upon awakening, destroyed his evil painting. The pilot aired on The Kate Smith Hour.

Host: John Newland (as Morpheus). Cast: Barry Kroeger (Artist).

8070 Tales of the Apple Dumpling Gang. (Pilot; Comedy; CBS; 1/16/82). Quake City, California in the 1860s is the setting. Russell Donovan is a Gold Rush gambler who becomes the guardian of two orphans (Celia and Clovis) when he “wins” them in a poker game and can’t get rid of them.

With no other choice, Donovan settles down to a life of mining. Celia and Clovis befriend Amos and Theodore, two hopeless outlaws, and form the Apple Dumpling Gang, a gang that performs good deeds. The pilot episode depicts the gang’s efforts to save Donovan from two bounty hunters seeking the $5,000 reward posted on Donovan for card cheating. Other Regulars: Millie, Donovan’s girlfriend; Homer, the sheriff/barber/justice of the peace. Based on the Disney feature The Apple Dumpling Gang. See also Gun Shy.

Cast: John Bennett Perry (Russell Donovan), Sandra Kerns (Millie Malloy), Sara Abeles (Celia), Keith Mitchell (Clovis), Henry Jones (Homer McCoy), Ed Begley, Jr. (Amos Tucker), Arte Johnson (Theodore). Guest Cast: William Smith (Monk Hardwicke), Lew Brown (Leonard Sharp), Tom Bower (Ed Nugent), Judith Baldwin (Saloon girl).

8071 Tales of the Black Cat. (Series; Anthology; Syn.; 1950). Mystery and suspense stories that involve ordinary people in situations that test their ability to distinguish fantasy from reality. The title is derived from Thanatopsis, the black cat that assists the host.

Host: James Monks.

8072 Tales of the City. (Series; Anthology; CBS; 1953). The shortened title for Ben Hecht’s Tales of the City. See this title for information.

8073 Tales of the Gold Monkey. (Series; Adventure; ABC; 1982–1983). The South Pacific island of Bora Gora in 1938 is the setting. Jake Cutter is a cargo pilot based on the French-owned island. He has a one-eyed dog named Jack and a sea plane he calls Cutter’s Goose (a.k.a. the Grumman Goose). Jake, who suffers from bouts of malaria, is assisted by Corky, a former alcoholic who now works as his mechanic and assistant. Corky was the chief mechanic for Pan Pacific Airlines and was a top in his field but was fired for drinking. Jake won’t let Corky touch any hard liquor — only beer, and he restricts that. Corky is always joking — even in tight situations and never loses his sense of humor. Stories relate their adventures with the assignments they acquire.

Bon Chance Louie is the magistrate of justice and the owner of the Monkey Bar and Hotel. Sarah Stickney-White is an American spy who poses as a singer at the Monkey Bar. She is the daughter of an archaeologist and an expert shot (“I never miss”). Princess Kogi is the evil Eurasian seeking the Gold Monkey (an idol that is supposedly worth a fortune and said to be guarded by giant monkeys). She is based on the Japanese island of Matuka. Mike Post and Pete Carpenter composed “The Tales of the Gold Monkey Theme.”

Cast: Stephen Collins (Jake Cutter), Jeff MacKay

8074 Tales of the Haunted. (Pilot; Anthology; Syn.; 7/81). A proposed series of supernatural tales. Each story, which was to consist of five parts (stripped on a daily basis, Monday through Friday) is designed to be re-edited into a two-hour television movie. The pilot episode, titled "Evil Stalks This House," tells of Richard Stokes, a lost traveler who becomes involved in witchcraft when his car breaks down and he takes refuge in an old farmhouse during a storm. The five episodes are syndicated as the television movie Evil Stalks This House.

Cast: Christopher Lee (Host), Jack Palance (Richard Stokes), Helen Hughes (Maggie Simpson), Frances Hyland (Dody Gaines), Michael Starr (Tom), Reginald Love (Bull Adams), Cindy Hinds and Derrick Jones (Richard's children).
