

COL FAQs

How many members are in the COL?

That is private information and we will not release it.

Where is the COL located?

The Order of the Quadragram consists of members who live in Arizona, Vermont and California.

Does the COL have any organized functions?

At this time, we do not have organized functions at specified locations. It is difficult at best to organize these functions. Many people would have difficulty meeting in person, depending on work, prior commitments and transportation/region of the world they live in. Our priests, however, have been in our home and spent at least four days with us.

Does the COL have a privacy policy?

If you are seeking membership in the Church of Lucifer, there is certain information that you must submit, such as your e-mail address, your name and birthdate. Our policy on releasing name and e-mail addresses to other people, no matter who they are, is that we will not do it, unless we have your permission. There are people who are looking for people in their area, and we can help facilitate this. However, if you are solitary and do not wish to share your information, we respect that and will not give it out.

Who does the COL support?

Simply put, we do not support or affiliate with other groups. Period.

How much does it cost to join the COL?

Nothing.

Does legal status matter when joining the COL?

That depends on how you define legal status. If you are a minor, then no, you cannot join. If you are just released from prison/jail, and are on probation or parole, that usually doesn't matter. You have paid your debt to society and hopefully are a better person for it. We are not responsible for any member's actions nor will we be an excuse for what people get themselves in trouble for. Everyone makes their own choice. We do not make it for them. We do not condone the use of hard drugs, child molestation/pedophilia, physical animal/human sacrifice, ritual abuse, satanic vandalism and all other things that you know are wrong and shouldn't be doing anyway. We have to live and survive within this society and it's laws are a part of it.

What is expected of a COL Member?

We do not have a lot of expectations of members. We ask that you do not share our information with anyone else, unless you know they are a member of the COL. If they are not and we find out, your membership will be terminated. Other than that, we expect you to be yourself, learn and create your reality by your own will.

If I join the COL, will I become rich?

To ask if you will become rich by joining an organization shows that you are lazy, have no motivation or aspirations to achieve anything on your own. So simply put, no.

How old do you have to be to join the COL?

Those who are under the age of 18 are legally, the wards of their parents. One who is under 18 must ask for parental permission to join. Most of the time, parents will NOT allow it. Therefore, we will not admit teens or children to the COL.

What exactly are the Four Crown Princes of Hell?

This question actually is longer, and the full question is: Are the Four Crown Princes of hell physical beings, archetypes, distinct separate entities or energies that come together to make one force? Well, depending on your viewpoint, it could be any one of these except for one. They do not come together to make one force. If someone thinks that, they have seen too many episodes of "Captain Planet" or "Voltron".
