P R E F A C E

MANY details in the inventory list of the texts found in the Judaeian Desert have changed since its initial publication in E. Tov (ed.), The Texts from the Judaeian Desert: Indices and an Introduction to the Discoveries in the Judaeian Desert Series (DJD XXXIX; Oxford: Clarendon, 2002) 27–114. In our Jerusalem office, we indicated the updated changes in the electronic copy of that list using two different colour codes: corrected and updated details (light purple) and texts remaining unpublished after 2002 (brown). Such changes were inserted in some twenty-five percent of the lines of the database, and it was deemed necessary to share this new information with our colleagues now, at the end of the publication procedure of the DJD series. For technical reasons, the colour coding has not been maintained in this publication. The changed and updated details themselves relate to all the fragments found in the Judaeian Desert, published in DJD and elsewhere, and the procedures followed are outlined in pp. 1–2.

It is a pleasant duty to record my great indebtedness to Janice Karnis who carefully recorded the changes that others and I had collected (see p. 1, n. 3) over the course of six years, and who collected several types of new information such as mentioned on pp. 1–2. She also prepared the camera-ready copy.

CHAPTER 1
Introduction to the Revised List of the Texts from the Judaean Desert

THIS extensively revised version of the inventory list of the texts from the Judaean Desert updates the earlier version that was published in DJD XXXIX in 2002,<sup>1</sup> which itself was an update of four earlier versions.<sup>2</sup> The updating contained in this revision pertains to the following areas:

1. Corrected data in all columns, based on information gathered by us with the aid of several colleagues.<sup>3</sup>
2. An updating of our holdings incorporating the contents of the last DJD volumes: DJD XXV (2002), XXXII (2009), XXXVII (2008), XL (2008).
3. Addition of inscribed archaeological evidence such as stones, pottery, ostraca, and weights culled from the inventory list of A. Lemaire.<sup>4</sup> Coins are not listed.
4. Overlaps in content between fragments as provided by E. J. C. Tigchelaar that update his published 'Annotated Lists of Overlaps and Parallels in the Non-biblical Texts from Qumran and Masada' (DJD XXXIX, 285–322).
5. New names and identifications for previously published fragments. In all cases, the earlier identification is mentioned in parenthesis.
6. New arrangements of the sequence of fragments.

<sup>1</sup> I gratefully acknowledge the collaboration of S. J. Pfann on this list from 1991 to 1995. In the compilation and editing of this list, I was ably assisted by Claire Pfann during the same period and by Janice Karnis from 1995 onwards.

<sup>2</sup> E. Tov with the collaboration of S. J. Pfann, Companion Volume to the Dead Sea Scrolls on Microfiche—A Comprehensive Facsimile Edition of the Texts from the Judean Desert (Leiden: E. J. Brill and IDC, 1993); E. Tov with the collaboration of S. J. Pfann, Companion Volume to the Dead Sea Scrolls Microfiche Edition (2nd rev. ed.; Leiden: E. J. Brill and IDC, 1995); E. Tov, 'A List of the Texts from the Judaean Desert', in The Dead Sea Scrolls after Fifty Years—A Comprehensive Assessment, ed. by P. W. Flint and J. C. VanderKam (Leiden/Boston/Cologne: E. J. Brill, 1999) 2: 669–717; E. Tov, 'Appendix F: Texts from the Judean Desert', in The SBL Handbook of Style, ed. by P. H. Alexander et al. (Peabody, Mass.: Hendrickson, 1999) 176–233.

<sup>3</sup> I gratefully acknowledge the help of several colleagues who suggested corrections to our earlier list and provided new data. My thanks go first of all to E. J. C. Tigchelaar who has collected much information on large and small fragments in recent years and while doing so has allowed us to include this information in our list. Further thanks go to W. Clarysse, D. Dimant, T. Elgvin, P. W. Flint, I. Kottsieper, R. Kratz, A. Lange, A. Steudel, and E. Ulrich. We also wish to thank Tamar Rabbi of the Israel Antiquities Authority who corrected a number of items in the list of museum plates. We added some items relating to the non-Qumran sites from the valuable list of J. Fitzmyer, A Guide to the Dead Sea Scrolls and Related Literature (Grand Rapids, Mich./Cambridge, U.K.: Eerdmans, 2008).

<sup>4</sup> A. Lemaire, 'Inscriptions de Qumrân et Aïn Feshkha' in Khirbet Qumrân et Aïn Feshkha II: Etudes d'anthropologie, de physique et de chimie (ed. J.-B. Humbert and J. Gunneweg; NTOA 3; Fribourg/Göttingen: Academic Press/Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 2003) 259–306.

7. References to the editions published by Beyer, Yardeni, Charlesworth, and text editions that are exclusive to DSSR.<sup>5</sup>

8. Significant text editions published in monographs and other studies after the publication of these texts in the DJD series.<sup>6</sup>

9. Fragments published since 2002.

10. Fragments included in the Schøyen Collection<sup>7</sup> made available by T. Elgvin. These fragments will be published in Elgvin, Schøyen Collection.

11. Unpublished fragments.<sup>8</sup> For many of these fragments, the information available is vague and may even prove to be incorrect, but nevertheless we considered it helpful to include this type of information.

With the exception of fragments in the Schøyen Collection, all items remaining unpublished at the time of this publication have been marked with two asterisks next to the number, for example, XHev/Se Nab. 3**.

It is realized that the present list will be in need of further correction in the wake of subsequent identifications, fine-tuning of the museum plate and photograph numbers, new photographs, and new information that becomes available on unpublished fragments.

The reader is advised to consult the following sources alongside this list:

1. A. Lange, Einleitung in die Schriften von Qumran, Band 1, Die biblischen Handschriften (Tübingen: Mohr Siebeck, forthcoming). Only a few references have been listed to this valuable handbook.

<sup>8</sup> We are following a cautious approach in the nomenclature of these new fragments since their provenance is often unclear, naming most of them ‘X’. Although it may be claimed that many of the earlier identifications of fragments as ‘4Q’ are equally uncertain, the provenance of the fragments that have surfaced since 2000 is even more nebulous.

The list contains the following data for all the texts from the Judaean Desert (including the late site of Khirbet Mird and excluding unidentified fragments from the Judaean Desert that have no separate inventory number [DJD XXXIII]).

Col. 1: The sequential number of the text in the inventory of the texts from the sites in the Judaean Desert.

Col. 2: The name of the composition as published in DJD or the most central publication outside that series (e.g. the large texts from cave 1, as well as some texts from cave 11, which were not scheduled to be included in DJD). In the nomenclature of DJD, a distinction is made, subjective as it may be, between raised lower-case letters designating different copies of the same composition, such as 4QGen<sup>b</sup> and 4QGen<sup>c</sup>, and upper-case letters designating independent compositions within a certain literary genre, e.g. 4QTohorot A, 4QTohorot B. The names also contain references to the material on which the text was written (pap = papyrus), language (ar = Aramaic; gr = Greek; lat = Latin; nab = Nabataean), and script (paleo = palaeo-Hebrew; crypt = cryptic [A, B, C]). All documents are written on leather in Hebrew unless otherwise designated.

Col. 3: In the Qumran section, the column lists the siglum used for the text in the hand-written concordance of R. E. Brown, J. A. Fitzmyer, W. G. Oxtoby, J. Teixidor, A Preliminary Concordance to the Hebrew and Aramaic Fragments from Qumran Caves II–X, Including Especially, the Unpublished Material from Cave IV (Göttingen: privately printed, 1988). In the section entitled ‘Sites Other Than Qumran’, this column lists the plate numbers in the early publications.

Col. 4: The inventory number of the fragments in the Rockefeller Museum building (a number of a text or box without details), the Shrine of the Book, Israel Museum (SHR), as well as other locations: Bibliothèque nationale de Paris (BNP), Department of Antiquities of Jordan (DAJ), and a few private collections (Flagellarium, Hecht, Leuven/Louvain, MBTS [Paris], Schøyen, A. Samuel). The whereabouts of a few fragments are unknown. An asterisked number (e.g. 216*) refers to a parallel series of numbers assigned to the documents from Naḥal Hever and Masada that were transferred from the Shrine of the Book to the Rockefeller Museum building in 1996.

Col. 5 (Qumran texts only): Previous sigla used in the first generation of Qumran research indicate the allotments of the texts to the members of the original international team, such as C53 = Cross 53 (C = Cross; M = Milik; Sl = Strugnell; Sn = Skehan; Sy = Starcky).

Col. 6: Numbers of the negatives recording the texts in subsequent series of photographs. The main information pertaining to the negative numbers was recorded initially by S. J. Pfann in Tov-Pfann (1993, 1995; see note 2), and often corrected subsequently. The original list is supplemented by two sets of negative numbers: (1) the Allegro negatives recorded according to: G. J. Brooke (ed.), The Allegro Qumran Collection—Supplement to the Dead Sea Scrolls on Microfiche (Leiden: E. J. Brill and IDC, 1996); (2) negatives of photographs taken by the West Semitic Research Project (Claremont, Calif.), recorded as AWS, GAWS, and JWS (see Chapter 4).

Col. 7: Short bibliographical references mentioning the names of the editors and publication details (usually DJD) together with the plate number(s). Preliminary publications, recorded in earlier forms of this list, have been omitted as they are mentioned in the DJD editions. Bibliographical abbreviations are provided in Chapter 4 in this publication.

The items are listed here according to the sites at which they were found, first Qumran, followed by all other sites listed from north to south. Several new sites have been added to the listing in DJD XXXIX to accommodate the added archaeological evidence and find sites.<sup>9</sup>

Categorized List of the ‘Biblical Texts’

THE following updated list covers all the known fragments of ‘biblical’ manuscripts in Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek from the Judaean Desert published in DJD and elsewhere.<sup>1</sup> The list includes 210–212 Qumran scrolls (representing 224–226 copies of biblical books) of the Hebrew/Aramaic Bible (forty-three from other sites in the Judaean Desert), six Greek texts (one from another site in the Judaean Desert), and three Targum fragments.

The slight fluctuation for Qumran pertains to 4QGen<sup>h1</sup> and 4QGen<sup>h2</sup>, which according to their editor, J. Davila, may or may not reflect one scroll, and to 4Q168, which contains either 4QpMic? or 4QMic?. Beyond these items many doubts remain in matters of detail. Do the various fragments of Mur 1 (Genesis, Exodus, Numbers) reflect one, two, or three different scrolls? Likewise, the editor of 1QpaleoLev, D. Barthélemy, wondered whether the collection of these fragments represents remains of one, two, or three different scrolls (DJD I, 51). Further, it is often unclear whether the separation of several groups of fragments into different manuscripts or their combination into one manuscript is correct. Are 4QJer<sup>b,d,e</sup> indeed three manuscripts as was claimed by E. Tov, DJD XV, 171–6, 203–7 and are the Deuteronomy and Exodus segments of 4QDeut<sup>j</sup> indeed part of the same manuscript as was claimed by J. A. Duncan in DJD XIV, 75–91? As a result of these and several similar problems, the totals for the manuscripts of the biblical books are only approximate. Furthermore, some of the unidentified fragments published in DJD XXXIII (PAM 43.660–43.702) are probably also biblical. Some of these texts represent known biblical manuscripts, while others may represent as yet unknown sources.<sup>2</sup>

In the analysis of the biblical texts from the Judaean Desert, the definition of the scope of the biblical corpus is unclear, and therefore the list merely presents the data pertaining to the books of the Hebrew Bible and the Aramaic and Greek translations without taking a stand on the issue of the canonical conceptions of the persons who left these texts behind. The list is limited to the texts that subsequently came to be included in Hebrew Scripture, while the boundaries of that group in the last centuries BCE and the first centuries CE remain open to debate. The evidence for other authoritative texts, such as the so-called ‘Apocrypha’ and texts that may have been considered authoritative by the Qumran community, is included in Section C of DJD XXXIX, 115–64.

<sup>2</sup> Fragments of possible biblical manuscripts include: PAM 43.664, frg. 37; 43.673, frg. 6; 43.674, frg. 60; 43.676, frg. 37 (2 Sam 14:2); 43.691, frg. 43 (Lev 25:33? in 4QRP<sup>c</sup>); 43.691, frg. 54 (1–2 Samuel?); 43.696, frg. 61; 43.698, frg. 24 (Job?); 44.102, frg. 35 (Lev 23:32?). The following fragment found in a private collection has been named temporarily XpaleoDan?: G. Lacerenza, ‘Un nouveau fragment en paléo-hébreu’, RevQ 19 (2000) 441–7 (see also É. Puech, ‘Note additionnelle sur le fragment en paléo-Hébreu’, ibid., 449–51).

The place of publication of these texts is recorded in the second column and in Chapter 2.

The notion of what exactly constitutes a biblical scroll is not always clear, and accordingly the following list is necessarily based on the views of the scholars publishing these texts. Items that have been assigned names of the biblical books, such as 1QIsa<sup>a</sup>, are listed as biblical texts. Phylacteries and mezuzot, although containing segments of Hebrew Scripture, are excluded from the main list (but included in the appendix) since they are not biblical texts in the usual sense of the word. By the same token, one could exclude other texts that may have served liturgical purposes, such as scrolls containing both biblical Psalms and other hymnic material, but as these scrolls have been given biblical names, they are included in the present list. This pertains, for example, to the collections of texts included in 4QPs<sup>f</sup>, 11QPs<sup>a</sup>, and 11QPs<sup>b</sup>. Other Qumran compositions containing anthologies of biblical texts (especially 4QTest [4Q175]) are also excluded from the list as they, too, are not biblical texts in the regular sense of the word.

The list does not distinguish between the various types of biblical texts. Most texts are regular biblical texts, but some biblical texts may contain abbreviated or excerpted texts (e.g. 4QExod<sup>d</sup>, 4QDeut<sup>q</sup>, 4QCant<sup>a</sup>, 4QCant<sup>b</sup>, 4QEzek<sup>b</sup>, and 4QDan<sup>e</sup>).<sup>3</sup> Doubts about the unconventional character of these scrolls have been raised because of the small size of the scrolls, not only with regard to the aforementioned scrolls, but also regarding 4QGen<sup>d</sup>, 4QDeut<sup>i,n</sup>, and 4QPs<sup>g</sup>.

Two additional aspects are also problematical:

1. Some of the very fragmentary texts that have been named biblical may actually have been parts of compositions that included, among other things, long stretches of Bible texts, such as pesharim and other commentaries, or paraphrases. For example, 4QGen<sup>k</sup> 5 may actually belong to 4QRP<sup>a</sup> (4Q158).<sup>4</sup> Likewise, the text that has been published as 4QpapIsa<sup>p</sup> (4Q69) contains only a few words, and therefore could have represented a peshet like 4Qpap pIsa<sup>c</sup>.<sup>5</sup> 4Q168 is presented in all lists as 4QpMic?, but it could be presented equally well as 4QMic?. By the same token, the list includes a minute fragment inscribed in the cryptic A script, described by S. J. Pfann (DJD XXXVI) as a fragment of the book of Leviticus (pap cryptA Lev<sup>h?</sup>), but more likely it reflects only a quotation from that book. Likewise, the ‘biblical’ 2QExod<sup>b</sup> may actually contain a rewritten Bible text.

2. The manuscripts entitled 4QReworked Pentateuch<sup>a-c</sup> (4QRP<sup>a-c</sup> [4Q158, 4Q364–367]) were not included in the earlier lists of biblical texts because they were not published as such. However, according to two scholars,<sup>6</sup> these compositions represent

<sup>5</sup> This possibility is strengthened by the fact that papyrus texts of biblical books are extremely rare among the Qumran texts.

<sup>6</sup> M. Segal, ‘Biblical Exegesis in 4Q158: Techniques and Genre’, Textus 19 (1998) 45–62; E. Ulrich, ‘The Qumran Biblical Scrolls—The Scriptures of Late Second Temple Judaism’, The Dead Sea Scrolls in Their Historical Context, ed. by T. H. Lim (Edinburgh 2000) 67–87, esp. 76.

an aberrant biblical text that could have been named 4QPentateuch, a view that I now embrace myself.<sup>7</sup> The texts of 4QRP are therefore now included among the biblical texts in our list.

No opisthographs containing a biblical text on one of their sides are known. The list contains eleven or twelve biblical texts in the palaeo-Hebrew script (see Section E.3 of DJD XXXIX), four to six texts written on papyrus (see also Section E.1 of DJD XXXIX), and a doubtful case of a biblical text written in the cryptA script (pap cryptA Lev<sup>h?</sup>).

Within the Qumran corpus of some 930 texts, the 224–226 biblical texts constitute 24.09–24.30% (not counting the tefillin and mezuzot), while for the Masada corpus they constitute 46.6 or 43.75% depending on a calculation of either fifteen or sixteen literary texts from Masada. Within the Qumran biblical corpus, a special interest in the Torah is visible; ninety-one texts (40.27–40.63%) of the Qumran biblical corpus represent the books of the Torah. At other sites, this percentage is even greater: twenty-five of the forty-five texts (55.56%) represent the Torah.

<sup>8</sup> The numbers refer to the copies of the biblical books as identified and published, usually in DJD. Scrolls containing two books of the Pentateuch are counted twice, once for each book, while the number of the actual scrolls is added in square brackets. The Minor Prophets are counted as one book, and internal differences in the sequence of the books are not recorded.

<sup>9</sup> The editor of 4Q8 (4QGen<sup>h</sup>), J. R. Davila, is undecided regarding the nature of the four fragments represented as one group. 4QGen<sup>h1</sup> and 4QGen<sup>h2</sup> may or may not represent the same manuscript. 4QGen<sup>h-para</sup> may reflect a paraphrase of Genesis in which case it would belong to another manuscript. The little fragment possibly containing the title of a Genesis scroll (4QGen<sup>h-title</sup>) may have been attached to one of the two Genesis manuscripts or yet a third one. 4QGen<sup>h-para</sup> is not included in this list, while 4QGen<sup>h-title</sup> may reflect an additional scroll of Genesis.

<sup>13</sup> The publication of 4Q37 includes segments of Exodus 12 and 13 based on the assumption that this scroll contained parts of both Exodus and Deuteronomy. However, no fragment has been preserved in which parts of both books appear on the same piece except for one word in the very questionable col. IX. As a result, the two segments of this manuscript are presented here separately under Exodus and Deuteronomy.

<sup>24</sup> The fragments of Greek Scripture found at Qumran have been named 'LXX', probably rightly so, as these texts reflect a form which is comparable to the text of the uncials and early papyri. Some scholars contend that some of the Qumran texts are even better representatives of the Old Greek translation than most papyri and uncial manuscripts, so that the name 'LXX' definitely is appropriate. The Minor Prophets Scroll from Nahal Hever, on the other hand, has been named just 'gr' as it reflects an early revision of the LXX. One could argue that the Greek Scripture texts from Qumran also should have been designated 'gr' rather than 'LXX.'

<sup>25</sup> 7Q3–18 may contain fragments of Greek translations of the Hebrew Bible; see P. Garnet, EvQ 45 [1973] 8–9; G. Fee, 'Some Dissenting Notes on 7Q5 = Mark 6:52-53', JBL 92 (1973) 109–12; C. H. Roberts, JTS 23 [1972] 446–7. Identifications have also been suggested for Enoch; see G. W. Nebe, '7Q4—Möglichkeit und Grenze einer Identifikation', RevQ 13 (1988) 629–33; E. A. Muro, Jr., 'The Greek Fragments of Enoch from Qumran Cave 7 (7Q4, 7Q8, & 7Q12 = 7QEn gr = Enoch 103:3–4, 7–9)', RevQ 18 (1997) 307–12; E. Puech, 'Sept fragments grecs de la Lettre d'Hénoch (1 Hén 100, 103 et 105) dans la grotte 7 de Qumrân (= 7QHéngr)', RevQ 18 (1997) 313–23; G. W. E. Nickelsburg, 'The Greek Fragments of 1 Enoch from Qumran: An Unproven Identification', RevQ 21 (2004) 631–34. Although the possibility that these fragments reflect Greek Scripture seems more likely than other alternatives, these texts are not taken into consideration in the statistics.
