THE TAO OF
TAI-CHI CHUAN
Jou, Tsung Hua

OR 太極拳之道

周宗樺著

(十八羅漢手). Thus he founded Shao-Lin Boxing.

After Ta-Mo died, his followers left Shao-Lin and boxing was abandoned until several hundred years later when Joy-Yuang (覺遠上人), a master monk who was proficient in boxing and fencing, began to teach at the temple. He learned of the eighteen Buddha's hands and decided to improve the system by adding his own skills. Thus, Shao-Lin Chuan was developed into seventy-two hands and earned a better reputation. One of the many followers it attracted was Chang San-Feng, who stayed at the temple for about ten years and mastered all the Shao-Lin exercises.

The treasures of the Shao-Lin Temple were called the five Chuans (五拳). Each Chuan was named for the animal best exemplifying its attributes. The Chuans originally had only six postures each. At the present time, however, each Chuan has over one hundred postures. Having mastered these five Chuans, a player can develop many variations. The original Chuans are: 1. Dragon Chuan—training attention and spirit; emphasizing lightness, stillness and change. 2. Tiger Chuan—strengthening the bones, emphasizing jumping up and down. 3. Leopard Chuan—practicing the application of force; emphasizing jumping and fighting. 4. Snake Chuan—practicing inner breathing, prolonging the body; becoming very sensitive and active. 5. Crane Chuan—training concentration, stability, accuracy and determination to defeat the opponent.

All the styles, names and clans of Chinese martial arts are generated from Shao-Lin Chuan, the prototypical Chinese martial art. However, Tai-Chi Chuan differs from other martial arts because Chang San-Feng added the theory of the I Ching and Taoist breathing techniques, or Chi-Kung (氣功); to Shao-Lin Chuan. Therefore, the way of practice transcends martial art towards will, mind, body and nature—very close to the practice of Tao (道) itself, or the way of Nature.

Now let us return to Chang San-Feng's life. In 1314, at the age of sixty-seven he finally met a Taoist, Ho-Lung (火龍), whose name means "fire dragon." This hermit taught Chang the method of being immortal, but Chang practiced in the high mountains for four years with very little achievement. He then moved to Wu-Tang Mountain (武當山) and finally, after staying there for nine years, became aware of the truth and Tao. Again he started wandering from north to south. When he returned to his birthplace, he found all of his relatives had died. When the Yuan Dynasty ended in 1368 and the Ming Dynasty (明朝 1368-1654) began, Chang San-Feng was afraid of being needed by the royal family since he was a well-known immortal Taoist and so pretended to be mad. Thereby, he

Although this is no longer a common practice, oshoogatsu, the New Year season, is still the most celebrated of all Japanese festivals.

The idea of beginning a new year with a clean slate is an important one in Japan. Consequently, by midnight of New Year's Eve, all debts are paid and everything has been thoroughly cleaned. At midnight, temple bells, called joya no kane, toll 108 times, symbolizing the 108 faults of mankind.

Oshoogatsu is traditionally celebrated for three days. The first day is marked by attendance at a temple or shrine, and on that day, osechi, festival food for the New Year, and tosozake or otoso, a thick sweet sake, and ozooni, a special rice cake in soup, are traditional elements of the festivities. Throughout the three-day holiday, there is much visiting among relatives, friends, and co-workers. This is necessary in maintaining social relations in Japan, perhaps more so than in the West. One's visit to relatives, friends, and the like is expected and it would be a breach of social etiquette to forgo such obligations.

- 7.4.15 Kotchi literally means "this side" or "in this direction." Here, kotchi refers to Japan, providing another illustration of the Japanese use of directions rather than concrete names in referring to places or persons.

The Hemp Manifesto

108 Ways That Hemp Can Save Our World

ROWAN ROBINSON

A pocket-sized book that lists the many surprising facts about the medicinal and environmental value of Cannabis sativa.

The hemp revolution is happening, despite the efforts of politicians and law-enforcement agencies to stop it. All around the globe this miracle plant is creating industries for food, fuel, clothing, housing, and paper that are beneficial to humanity and environmentally friendly. Medical marijuana initiatives on the ballots in California and Arizona passed with overwhelming support. Still, wars of disinformation are being waged against this plant and its industries, and the amazing true facts can be difficult to find.

The Hemp Manifesto will change all that. Designed to fit into the back pocket of hempsters everywhere, The Hemp Manifesto lists 108 ways that hemp is making a positive impact on society and explains why in brief summaries. Included are all the most surprising facts—that the Declaration of Independence was written on hemp paper; that the U.S. government grows marijuana and supplies it to eight people free of charge; that hemp seeds are the most complete source of protein and essential fatty acids known in the vegetable kingdom; and many more. Affordable enough to make a perfect small gift, The Hemp Manifesto gives the people their most important weapon in the fight for a healthy future: the truth.

Rowan Robinson is the author of The Great Book of Hemp. He lives in Florida.

Now, think about having no money. We all know that without money it is impossible to live. Food electricity, water, medication, hospitalization, real estate, transportation, even spreading the gospel would be unattainable without the use of money.

That's why Satan will take away money in the last day. Whoever does not take the mark will have their lives taken away by a moving guillotine without a trial by universal law.

And I saw thrones, and they sat on them and judgment was committed to them. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for their witness to Jesus and for the word of God, who had not worshipped the beast or his image, and had not received his mark on their foreheads or on their hands. And they lived and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. (Rev. 20.4)

What is God's warning if you take the mark #666 for your life?

Then a third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, "If anyone worships the beast and his image, and receives his mark on his forehead or on his hand, he himself shall also drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out full strength into the cup of His indignation. And he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the Lamb. And the smoke of their torment ascends forever and ever, and they have no rest day or night, who worship the beast and his image, and whoever receives the mark of his name #666. (Rev. 14:8-11)

The #666?

The trinity of God (Father, Son and Holy Spirit) in the number 777, which is a perfect number. The trinity of Satan, is imitation to the trinity of God in the number 666. (Satan, Anti-Christ and false prophet.)

God created the world in 6 days and on the 6th day he created man. Also, man still works on the 6th day. The mark of Cain was the 1st mark on man, he made 6 different kinds of sins. Jerusalem was ruled by the Roman Empire for 666 years, the number of "The Vicar of the Son of God" is 666. many others...

666

Where is #666?

Mr. William Garrison already talked about #666, which is universal code number. The computer, itself is #666.

A = 6    B = 12    C = 18    D = 24    E = 30
 F = 36    G = 42    H = 48    I = 54    J = 60
 K = 66    L = 72    M = 78    N = 84    O = 90
 P = 96    Q = 102R = 108S = 114T = 120
 U = 126V = 132W = 138X = 144Y = 150
 Z = 156

C = 18
 O = 90
 M = 78
 P = 96
 U = 126
 T = 120
 E = 30
 R = 108

*#6 is computer's special code number and universal computer's number is also #6.

The computer is golden calf of this new age. The laser beam number given will distribute number to the body in 1/1000000000 sec.
