Introduction

This book is a modern day Grimoire on how to summons the dead! This book cuts to the bone and gives you the simplest yet most powerful ways to summons the dead. This book covers all the information you need to know how to be successful in summoning the dead and shows you step by step how to easily summons the spirits from the dead. There is also a Book of Shadows to record your rituals and results. For thousands of years the Magick grimoire books have hidden the secrets by making it hard to understand the real way to summons the dead and this book has now revealed the true way to do Necromancy. The many benefits of communication with the spirits of the dead is better health, finding a lover, more money, increased psychic abilities and many more things to greatly improve your life!

I. The History of Necromancy

Necromancy is the act of summoning the dead for divination as well as summoning spirits for work with magickal operations. Necromancy comes from the Greek word “nekros” meaning “corpse” and “manteia” which means “prophecy”. The first traces of Necromancy come from the Classic Greek era and so much of the terminology and history is documented from that culture. During the Medieval Ages magicians and sorcerers from Egypt, Greece, Rome and Babylon all practiced the art of Necromancy. Early Christians also wrote many manuals on Necromancy before it was condemned by the Catholic Church as evil and was outlawed in England by the Witchcraft Act of 1604. Necromancy has nothing to do with summoning demons or dark entities but instead is seeking past and future information from the dead. So Necromancy is about summoning the spirit of the corpse for information or for magickal operations. Modern day magicians involved in ceremonial magic, which is derived from the medieval era magic, are bringing this ancient practice into their rituals and in turn is causing a resurgence of Necromancy interest all over again.

II. Finding Your Ancestors

The first step you need to do is to make a list of as many relatives as possible on your mother's and father's side of the family and go back in time as far as you can. Find out any information you can about their life like what they did for work and hobbies and who they were as a person. Find out where they lived and who they knew if possible. Lastly, find out their date of birth, date of death and age at death. Look over your list of your ancestors and see which ancestors you are drawn to the most as these will be the ancestors you will start working with first. Start out with three ancestors to work with to allow for at least one ancestor to come through for you to communicate with.

III. Setting up Your Ancestor's Home

Now that you have decided on three ancestors to work with it is time to set up the ancestor's home. Buy some small ceramic clear bowls with no designs on them and set one up for each ancestor. Put the three bowls on a small table or altar where they won't be disturbed. Write your ancestor's name on their bowl as each bowl will be assigned to one of your ancestors. Do not mix up the bowls or confuse them and make it really clear which bowl belongs to which ancestor. Also you can put any pictures or anything at all that you have of that ancestor next to that particular ancestor's bowl. Now, let these bowls or ancestor's homes sit quietly for a week.

IV. Activating Your Ancestor's Home

After sitting quietly for a week it is time to activate each ancestor's home. You will light a candle and give a daily prayer or blessing to your ancestor's to activate their home. Light your candles and say three times: "Bless this spirit (name) and keep him/her safe. Shine down thy face upon him/her and be gracious unto him/her. Lift up thy countenance to him/her, and grant him/her peace. Amen."

V. Inviting your Ancestor's into your Home

After a week of doing the daily blessings it is now time to invite your ancestor's into your home. Call each ancestor by name at their shrine or home and ask them to enter into your household and begin to assist you in your daily life. Do this daily after your daily blessing and be persistent that they enter into your household. All the effort will be on your part at the start and then in a few weeks you should hear from your ancestors in the form of a thought that is not yours.

VI. Communicating with Your Ancestors

You can tell when your ancestor talks to you because it will be a thought that just pops into your mind and will have nothing to do with what you were thinking about at the time. This is how spirits communicate with people. The better you know your self and your own thoughts the better you will know what thoughts come from your ancestors and which thoughts come from your own mind and this will allow you to be able to better communicate with your ancestors. After your daily blessing ritual talk to your ancestors. Tell them about who you are and where you live and all about you and your life. Talk to them as if they were a new best friend and you wanted them to know all about you. Within two months you should start getting thoughts and information back from your ancestors so be patient on this process. When you hear any communication from your ancestors then you should talk back to them for a lengthy period of time. After you speak to your ancestors then pour them a glass of water as refreshment and set it next to their shrine and tell them it is for them. Conversations may be boring at the start as there will be a lot of basic information they will want to know. If you don't know the answer to a question then just tell them you don't know. Always be honest and truthful with your ancestors.

VII. Feeding Your Ancestors

Every time you talk to your ancestors you should give them a cool glass of water at the end of the conversation as a reward for talking to you. They won't physically drink the water but it will be the same as giving them energy and this is a treat for them. This is a reward for them for completing a successful task for you. You can dump out the water at a later time and make sure you don't offend them in the process. Ask your ancestors what they like to eat and you can give them very small portions of food as a reward on holidays or their birthdays or special occasions. Some like bread or candy or tobacco. Do not give them alcohol as this will only slow their energy down as it is a sedative. Do not put salt on any food you give them as this will drain their energy. When you cook for yourself you can put a little salt on your food to clearly let them know that the food is not for them and explain to them that this food is for you only.

VIII. Your Relationship with Your Ancestors

Your ancestors will not become any smarter now that they are dead than when they were alive. Your relationship with them will also be the same and will not grow any closer or any more distant so don't have any expectations of your ancestors other than to talk to them daily. The best way to learn information about your life or to get a request of more money, better health, improved psychic abilities or any other requests is to ask your ancestor to talk to other spirits to learn from them so that they can give you your request. Continue to reward them every time they answer your request correctly and in time you will have a working relationship with your ancestors who answer all of your requests!

IX. Banishing your Ancestors

To end the relationship with an ancestor say a prayer to God to get rid of this spirit out of your home and then take all objects that belong to your ancestor and throw them away or burn them based upon what you feel you need to do. Always follow your feelings and intuition in dealing with any issues with your ancestors as this will be the correct way to deal with the situation.

Everything you need to successfully communicate with the dead is here in this book and you just need to follow the chapters exactly and you will be a successful Necromancer!
