The CHAIRMAN. Did they include any financial records, records of money you received, because it is my understanding that you will be questioned about financial transactions. This is a proper question, as I am sure your lawyer will agree.

You said that the reason for burning them was that you didn't want them to fall into the hands of the enemy, which you described as the Communists.

Then I asked you, in addition to that reason were you fearful that they might be subpoenaed. You said "No."

Now I am asking you if any of the documents that you burned had to do with financial records, that is, receipts, evidence of money received as dues, for robes, or anything else, any financial records involved that were burned?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, the question that you asked me, if I answer that it may tend to incriminate me in you asking for certain things.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, are you invoking constitutional privilege and the fifth amendment at this point?

Mr. SWENSON. Fourth and fifth; yes.

The CHAIRMAN. The fourth and fifth.

Mr. SWENSON. Respectfully, Mr. Willis, I am trying my best to—

The CHAIRMAN. I understand that. I am trying my best to be fair and yet to develop evidence. If in answer to my question as to whether there were any financial records involved you invoke the fourth and fifth amendments, I at least accept your invocation of the fifth as far as I am concerned, because you are under oath and you can invoke your privileges.

Mr. POOL. How about the membership list, though? You don't remember whether they were in there or not; do you?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, that is something I have never had, this membership list.

Mr. POOL. You have never had custody, control, or possession of the membership list of any Ku Klux Klan organization? Is that what you are saying?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, the only thing I am saying is numbers.

Mr. POOL. I didn't get you. You haven't answered my question.

Mr. SWENSON. Just a minute, Mr. Pool. I am sorry.

Mr. POOL. You have never had custody, possession, or control of the membership list of any Ku Klux Klan organization, is that right, the membership list?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, what do you mean by list, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. He said, Mr. Pool, the only thing he saw was numbers. Maybe the list was numbers rather than names.

Mr. POOL. I understand. You are referring to numbers instead of the names. Were you ever in control, possession, or custody of any lists of members whether by numbers or by names?

Mr. SWENSON. Would you give me just a few minutes, sir?

Mr. POOL. Yes.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, this answer may tend to incriminate me. I invoke the fifth amendment on this one, sir, respectfully, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Let me say that technically, in the decisions of the Supreme Court, you have opened yourself to examination on these questions. I do not want to be supertechnical, but I will have to direct you to answer that question. I think you opened up the door when you said the only thing you saw was numbers, and thereby that makes this question proper, so I will direct you to answer that question—whether or not you ever had a list of members, whether by names or by numbers. To that you invoked the fifth amendment. I simply do not accept that invocation at this time.

You can consult with counsel. If you want to reinvoke your privileges under my order, I am not your lawyer, but you do what your lawyer tells you.

Mr. SWENSON. The question was did I ever have numbers.

The CHAIRMAN. You said that yourself.

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. You said you saw numbers.

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. The only thing you saw was numbers, not names. The pending question is: Did you have possession of a list of members, either by names or numbers, and was that list or series of numbers on pieces of paper included in the bonfire you had in your office?

Mr. SWENSON. What numbers I had, sir, yes, was included in the bonfire.

Mr. POOL. You testified a little earlier that it wasn't in there.

Mr. SWENSON. No, sir, if it is read back, I am sorry, sir, respectfully.

Sir, all the records that I had—I don't want to get confused and I don't want to cause you any delay here.

Mr. POOL. All right, did you burn the membership list when you burned—

Mr. SWENSON. I burned everything I had in my possession, sir. As far as membership list is concerned, all I know anything about is numbers, and everything that was in my possession was burned.

The CHAIRMAN. Including the numbers?

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Papers with Klans by numbers. You burned them?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, it was numbers. That is all I can—

Mr. POOL. He hasn't answered the question. He is evading the question. That is why I am trying to pin him down.

Did you, or did you not, burn the membership list, either by numbers or names, out there in the backyard the day you burned all the other records you claimed here a while ago?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, the numbers that you are speaking of were burned; yes, sir. Everything that I had in my possession was burned.

Mr. POOL. What Klavern or what was the list of? What Klavern?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, respectfully, I believe we were speaking of documents of the organization.

Mr. POOL. Of the total organization.

Mr. SWENSON. You asked me what became of them.

Mr. POOL. What did the numbers pertain to? What membership did they pertain to? What organization are we talking about?

The CHAIRMAN. The document calls for matters referring to the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan—Louisiana. That, I take it, is what you are referring to.

Mr. SWENSON. Let me talk to my counsel.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully say that I have answered your question on what happened to the records which you asked me to produce here. They were destroyed. The question which is being asked me now will tend to incriminate me under the fifth amendment—fourth amendment.

Mr. POOL. After this numbers list was destroyed or misplaced or whatever happened to it, how did the organization get along without a numbers list?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. POOL. Are we talking about the numbers list or membership of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan? Is that the list you are claiming was burned in that fire?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to answer because I think he opened it up for cross-examination and he should be directed to answer the question.

The CHAIRMAN. I have already ruled that these questions are pertinent under the decisions and might lead to whatever legal remedy is available to us under the law. I have directed him to answer the question already, and he has reinvoked his amendment on which he relies, despite my admonition. That is where we stand. He stands on his position, and I stand on mine. In other words, I have already directed him to answer the question.

Mr. WELTNER. With regard to the documents previously discussed as required by the subpoena and with regard to the witness' explanation that the records were destroyed pursuant to his fear that they would fall into the hands of the enemy, I would ask the Chair's permission to read briefly from transcript of the executive session held on July 28, 1965, being a transcript of the testimony of Royal V. Young, Route 1, McDade, Louisiana. With the Chair's permission and with the attention of the witness, I would request the witness pay close attention to Mr. Young's sworn testimony with regard to the "hands of the enemy."

Mr. Young testified concerning a division in the Original Knights, stating that he was assigned to various offices under Mr. J. D. Swenson, the witness today. Then he was asked about the nature of the faction. Mr. Young stated, now quoting:

There is no explaining to it. Some people wanted to take over the manufacturing of the robes, and one man had it, and that was it. That is the only thing I can tell you. Power purge.

Mr. APPELL. Now, who was the man that had the jurisdiction of the manufacturing of the robes?

Mr. YOUNG. Everyone in the United States knows that, and also your investigators. Mr. Swenson.

That is on page 257 of the transcript. On page 293 the witness Young further states:

Let me straighten this out. The relationship to the money was not to the money of the Klan. It was to the money of the robe money. That was most of the argument.

Further on page 262, Mr. Young in identifying this faction stated under oath as follows:

Mr. APPELL. Who were the leaders in this faction against you?

Mr. YOUNG. Sir, this was the Murry Martin and Mr. Wilder.

Mr. Chairman, the executive testimony of Mr. Young, previously released, shows there was a struggle over the robe money; that Mr. Swenson had the concession and it was given to him by Mr. Davis, of the State of Texas; and that it was in the period March 1964 that Swenson and Young lost out on the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

My question to Mr. Swenson is this—he said he burned the records to keep them from falling into the hands of the enemy: Mr. Swenson, you were afraid, were you not, that these records would fall into the hands of the enemy, Murry H. Martin and Billy Skipper, who led this revolt against your leadership; is that not true?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I would like to say I have already answered who I thought the enemy might be. We were then speaking of the records. As I say, I am not an attorney. I will have to consult with my attorney. The books and records that you asked, that were subpoenaed, that you asked to bring here, are no longer to be obtained. They are not here.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, he has burned the records. Let me restate the question to be sure the witness has it in mind.

You stated, Mr. Swenson, you burned the records in March of 1964 for fear that they would fall into the hands of the enemy. You further stated that you meant by the enemy, the Communists. You stated also that they are probably in the hands of the Communists now, anyway.

I have directed your attention to the sworn testimony of Royal V. Young concerning this controversy in March of 1964. I am asking you whether or not the truth of the matter is that the enemy into whose hands you feared these records might fall were Murry Martin, Grady Wilder, and Billy Skipper, who challenged you and Mr. Young for the leadership of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the State of Louisiana. Isn't that the fact, Mr. Swenson?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I didn't fear that they would fall into Mr. Martin's hands, that you are speaking of, or anyone else except the Communists, that I was speaking of. I believe that is about the only way that I know how to answer you on that, sir, respectfully.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you consider Messrs. Martin, Wilder, and Skipper as your enemies?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, on your question I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. You mean by that, the 1st, the 4th, the 5th, and the 14th amendments, and particularly the 5th amendment?

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir, respectfully.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to answer the question.

The CHAIRMAN. I will direct you to answer that question because this examination is quite proper and perfectly obvious. Mr. Swenson, the reason is this: It is just as simple as daylight. A witness cannot very well appear before a committee and extol his virtues in a certain area and then, having done that, start invoking the fourth and fifth amendments under cross-examination. That is not permissible. The question Mr. Weltner is asking is perfectly proper, and I think quite obvious. I do direct you to answer that question.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, you are still talking about the records?

The CHAIRMAN. That is right. That is, we are still talking about Mr. Weltner's question, and it is that the reason for burning the records was not so much fear of the enemy, meaning the Communists, but you were afraid that these records might fall into the hands of the people that you were having a financial struggle and intraorganizational fuss going on with. That is what he is asking.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I didn't know anything about this fuss, except what you have read there which Mr. Young has said.

The CHAIRMAN. Let me say that Mr. Young when he appeared, like you, was under oath. He was under the pains and penalties of perjury. Now you are opening up the question some more. We want to give you the opportunity to talk about the lack of any intraorganizational struggle, including financial transactions concerning robes at that time. If that is your testimony under oath, Mr. Swenson, that is the end of it with me.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I have forgotten the first question.

The CHAIRMAN. Just once more and then it will be over. Will you repeat the question?

Mr. WELTNER. The question is as follows: You stated in response to the subpoena that you did not have them since March 1964, that you destroyed them in your backyard, and the reason you did so was to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy, and you identified the enemy as the Communists. I have read to you the excerpt from the transcript of July 28, 1965, concerning a struggle between you and Mr. Young and Grady Wilder and Billy Skipper concerning the robe money and the organization. I am asking you if it is not true that the enemy into whose hands you feared these records might fall were not the Communists, but Grady Wilder, Billy Skipper, and Murry Martin.

Mr. SWENSON. No, sir, the Communists were the ones I was afraid they would fall into the hands of.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, that is an answer to the question.

Were there among the records that you destroyed any records pertaining to the manufacture, sale, or distribution of robes among members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, on this question I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you have knowledge of the existence or location of any other records pertaining to the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan or any other Ku Klux Klan organization, Mr. Swenson?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, will you give me that question once more?

Mr. WELTNER. Do you have knowledge of the existence or location of any other records pertaining to the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan or any other Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated, on the fourth and fifth amendments.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Swenson, in Mr. Young's testimony of July 28, 1965, concerning the internal struggle within the Original Knights organizaion, he stated in response to a question—the question is as follows:

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Young, what did the dissenting group feel was the proper program? What kind of activities did they want you to lead them into?

Mr. YOUNG. Sir, I don't know. I will decide, and show you one incident that might suffice. They wanted to burn crosses at the polls at the election in 1963, and I put out specific orders that was to be ruled out because I did not believe in intimidation of the voters. * * *

Mr. WELTNER. Did you consider the act of burning the cross in and of itself to be an intimidation?

Mr. YOUNG. I did. I figures that there was some people might see those crosses and fail to go to vote.

My question is, Were you aware of the controversy identified by Royal V. Young concerning burning of crosses at the polls in 1963?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated—the first, fourth, and fifth amendments.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Are there any further questions?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Swenson, with respect to your reason for destroying the records that you have testified to in response to questions asked by members of the committee, I put it to you as a fact that, immediately prior to the destruction of the records, by action of the membership you were voted out of any office that you held, together with Mr. Royal V. Young.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact that the reason the membership took this action, or the leaders took this action, was because of charges leveled against you of enriching yourself handsomely over the sale of robes.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you, if these records which you destroyed had fallen into the hands of the faction that was opposing you, it would have documented the charges they were making against you?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Swenson, part 2 of the subpoena calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member and/or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents.

The CHAIRMAN. I think we could shorten the examination on item 2 and probably item 3 of the subpoena, certainly item 2, if I made this statement, and then if you say that the same situation with reference to these documents obtains as that concerning the documents required in paragraph 1. In other words, you took the position with reference to paragraph 1 that the documents therein listed were not in your possession, and then we examined you as to whether they had been in your possession. Then you said you had destroyed them by fire. Then we examined you on this. Is it the same situation that your answers with reference to paragraph 2 would be the same as with reference to paragraph 1?

If you want to go through it in that way, it is all right with me. So I ask you specifically: Do you now have possession of these documents? Do you now have possession of the documents called for in paragraph 2?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, it is the same thing in paragraph 1.

The CHAIRMAN. Your answer is that you do not have them?

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Is it your answer that they were consumed by fire under the same circumstances with reference to paragraph 1?

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Part 3, Mr. Swenson—

The CHAIRMAN. Counsel, is it agreed that the pertinent questions and answers with reference to paragraph 1 would be the same with reference to paragraph 2?

Mr. VENABLE. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. In other words, No. 1, your answer is that you do not have those documents; is that correct?

Mr. SWENSON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. No. 2 is that you destroyed them in a bonfire—

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. —under the same circumstances with reference to paragraph 1. If we asked you the same questions, your answers would be the same; is that correct? I think that is what counsel indicated.

Mr. VENABLE. Yes, sir. That is right.

The CHAIRMAN. That is agreed to, Counsel?

Mr. VENABLE. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Could I ask him if he destroyed by fire the records that the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require be maintained by him? Were these also destroyed by fire?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

The CHAIRMAN. Is that correct?

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. In other words, you burned the constitution and bylaws along with all the other records; is that correct?

The CHAIRMAN. No. I think specifically he burned the records required by the constitution and bylaws to be kept.

Mr. POOL. Which included the constitution and bylaws.

Let me ask it of you in another way. In other words, you burned the very documents that the constitution and bylaws required that you keep; is that correct?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, anything that I had in my possession, as I stated in paragraph 1 there, was destroyed.

Mr. POOL. Including these documents that the constitution and bylaws required that you keep.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, respectfully, all the paraphernalia that you asked for in paragraph 1 and paragraph 2 here were destroyed.

Mr. POOL. Can you answer my question and say "Yes"? Is that correct, that you burned the documents that the constitution and bylaws required that you keep?

The CHAIRMAN. Or those are among the documents that you destroyed, whatever you had.

Mr. SWENSON. What you have stated here, sir—

The CHAIRMAN. What you are answering is yes in a roundabout way.

Mr. SWENSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. In other words, your constitution and bylaws did not mean a whole lot to you; did it?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, if I answer this question, it will tend to incriminate me in the language it was asked. I respectfully answer you that I have none of these records in my possession.

Mr. POOL. I understand that.

The CHAIRMAN. But you are refusing to answer the last question on the grounds of the privileges afforded to you under the constitutional amendments which you have previously invoked. That is what you are doing.

Mr. SWENSON. Yes.

Mr. POOL. That is fine and dandy. I think it is a terrible situation when you just ignored the constitution and laws of the organization like that and burned the records which you were supposed to keep under the constitution and bylaws. That is all I am trying to point out.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Swenson, paragraph 3 called for you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964, filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. SWENSON. May I consult my attorney?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I am respectfully refusing to produce my personal income tax records since they may tend to incriminate me, on the fifth amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. You said you had them with you a while ago, but I am not going to insist that you produce the income tax returns if you invoke the fifth amendment in that respect. It might ease a lot of pain later on, because we will question you about the finances.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that the cover name used while you were the National Kleagle and Grand Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was the Louisiana Rifle Association.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated, on the first, fourth, and fifth amendments.

The CHAIRMAN. Let me ask the question in a different way. Is it not a fact that you used the Louisiana Rifle Association as a coverup and as a phony front organization for the Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I very respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Swenson, you said that you have with you retained copies from your Income Tax Returns, Form 1040. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, from your retained copies of your income tax returns that for the year 1962 you reported commissions from the Louisiana Rifle Association in the amount of $4,473; in the year 1963, $10,690; and that in 1964 up until the time you were removed, $1,781.66. I ask you to affirm or deny the fact that these are the figures that you reported on your tax returns.

Mr. SWENSON. May I confer with my counsel?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated, based on the fifth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

(Income tax returns marked "John Swenson Exhibit No. 2" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Then the charges made against you that you were enriching yourself were in fact truthful. Is that so?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. POOL (presiding). Mr. Appell, this is in addition to other income he reported?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. Swenson, what part of the income from the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which maintained a national account and a local account under the name of the Louisiana Rifle Association, did Royal V. Young receive?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I think the record should reflect that in the interrogation of Mr. Royal V. Young on July 28, 1965, Mr. Young also invoked constitutional privileges with respect to the finances of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, of which he was the Imperial Dragon, as to whether or not he shared in the profits made by Mr. Swenson on the exclusive sale of robes which Mr. Swenson had received as a commission from Roy E. Davis.

Mr. POOL. If there is no objection, the record will so show and it is so ordered.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Swenson, so the record might establish that the Louisiana Rifle Association was, in fact, the cover name of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that one of the Klaverns under your jurisdiction was the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club in Monroe, Louisiana.

(At this point Mr. Willis returned to the hearing room.)

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you two envelopes, one containing canceled checks drawn against the account of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club, payable to the Louisiana Rifle Association, endorsed by the Louisiana Rifle Association, and another envelope containing checks against the account of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club, payable to cash, and endorsed by J. D. Swenson. I ask you, after you examine the contents of these envelopes—will you also examine the other envelope, Mr. Swenson, and the checks endorsed by J. D. Swenson?

Mr. Swenson, do the checks made payable to the Louisiana Rifle Association by the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club represent per capita dues to the state and national office, together with a portion of the membership fees due to the office on the initiation of a new member?

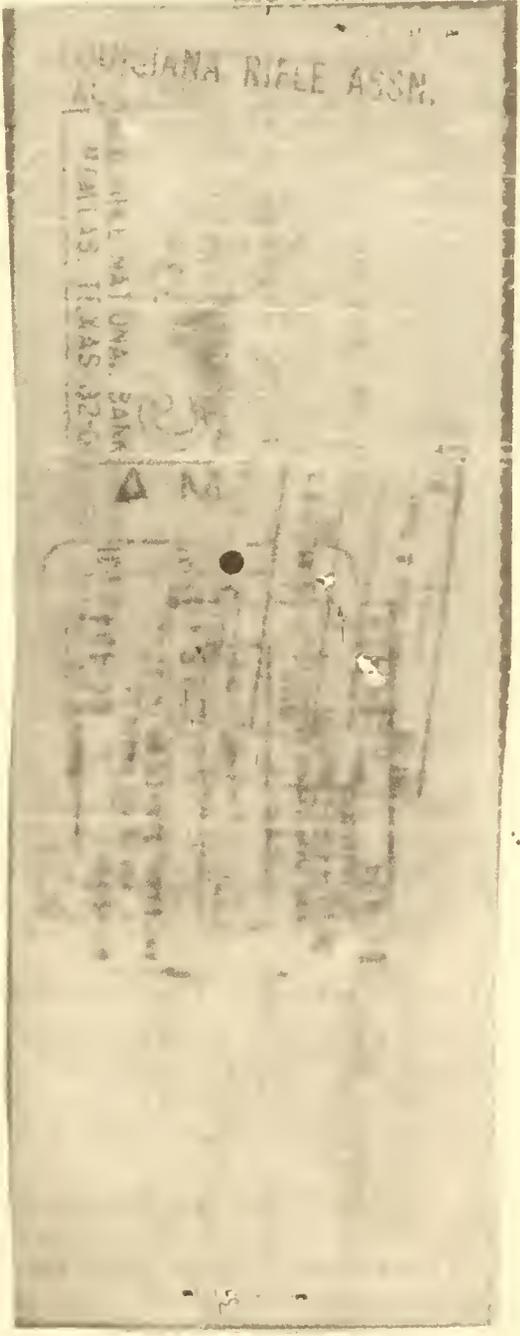

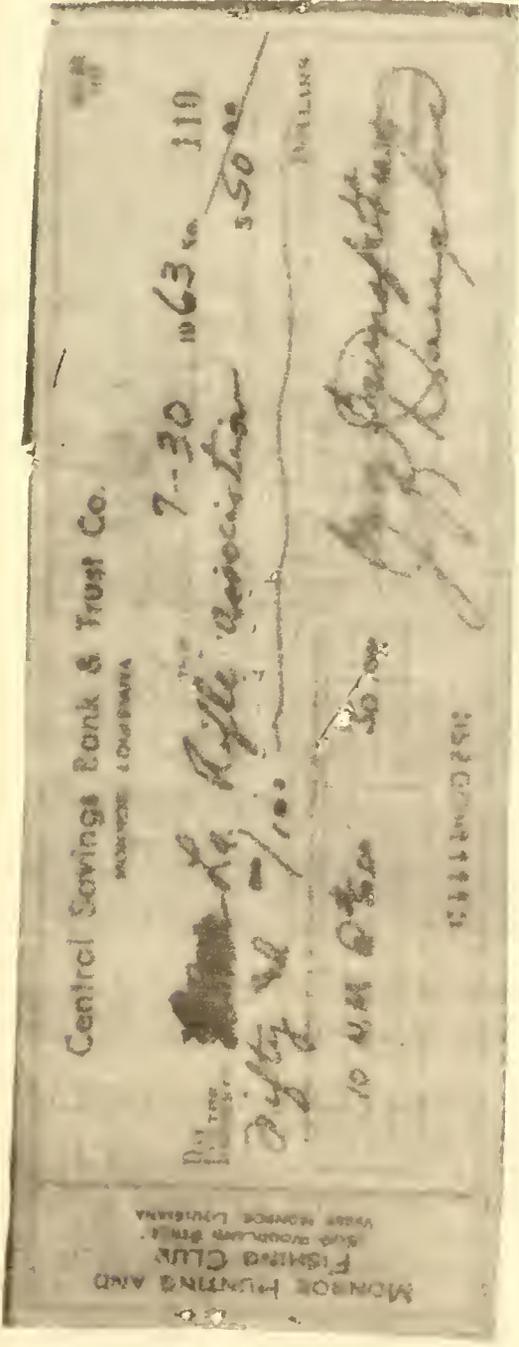

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Regarding the checks endorsed by J. D. Swenson, do these checks represent payments for robes that you had the exclusive concession for?

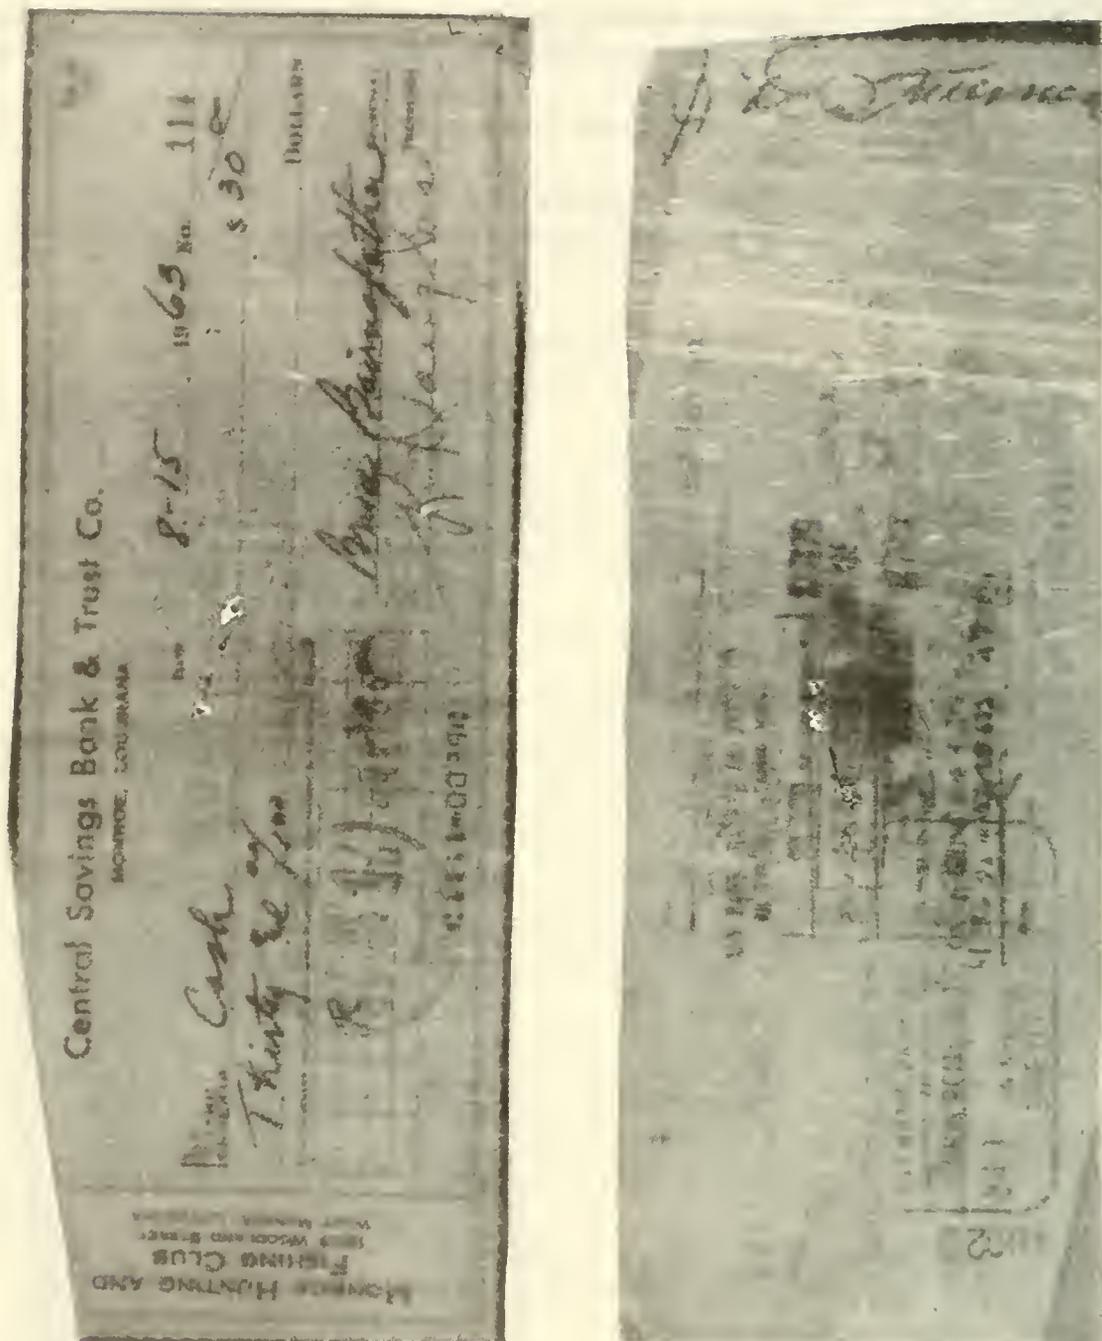

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

(Checks marked "John Swenson Exhibits Nos. 3 and 4," respectively. One check from each exhibit follows; balance retained in committee files.)

The CHAIRMAN. The committee will stand in recess until 2 o'clock.
 (Subcommittee members present at time of recess: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

(Whereupon, at 12:15 p.m., Tuesday, January 4, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 2 p.m. the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—TUESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 2 p.m., Hon. Edwin E. Willis, chairman, presiding.)

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Mr. Appell, I suppose you want to recall Mr. Swenson.

Mr. APPELL. Will Mr. Swenson take the stand, please?

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Swenson, you have already been sworn. Have a seat, please.

TESTIMONY OF JOHN DEASON SWENSON—Resumed

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Swenson, as the National Kleagle, or national organizer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you organized members into the Klan in the State of Mississippi.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer—respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated, based on the fourth and fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that in Mississippi you created a realm of the Original Knights and that you recommended to Royal V. Young for appointment to the position of Grand Dragon for the State of Mississippi Douglas A. Byrd.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that prior to your removal from office in the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in December of 1963 you banished from the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Douglas A. Byrd and Edward L. McDaniel.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the Klansmen that you recruited in Mississippi broke with your organizations and that they became the cadre of an organization now operating in Mississippi known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know that E. L. McDaniel, whom you banished from your organization in December 1963, is now the Grand Dragon for Mississippi of the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc.?

Mr. SWENSON. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess any knowledge of violence, bombings, or cross-burnings by members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan during the period of time that you were the Grand Dragon?

Mr. SWENSON. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. In February of 1962 there was a bombing at the home of the Negro leader in Shreveport, Louisiana, C. O. Simpkins. Was that act carried out by members of the Klan, to your knowledge?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. In April 1962 there was a bombing at the Negro Masonic Lodge in Shreveport, Louisiana. Do you possess any knowledge that this bombing was carried out by members of your Klan organization?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. In May of 1962 there was a bombing at the Simpkins' home in Shreveport, Louisiana. I ask you if you possess any knowledge that members of your Klan organizations engaged in that act?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. In September 1962 there was an additional bombing in Shreveport, Louisiana, the home of a white integrationist. Do you possess any knowledge that members of your Klan were involved in that action?

Mr. SWENSON. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. In May of 1963 there was violence on the campus of the Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge. Were members of your Klan involved in that violence?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I refuse to answer, respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Swenson, Mr. Young was asked in his testimony on July 28, 1965, page 294, questions concerning the takeover of the Original Knights, the leadership of Mr. Young and yourself. The questioning went like this—related to the robe concession. Mr. Young says that he was told not to dig into the fact that you had the robe concession, and the questioning went on by Mr. Hitz:

And was that the sole accusation of mishandling of funds that was again made against you, Mr. Young?

Mr. YOUNG. That was the question brought up to me. That I should do something about it.

Mr. HITZ. Well, was it not quite easy to represent to anyone who accused you of that, that it was the act of the Imperial Wizard and that your direction from the Imperial Wizard, who gave you your job as Imperial Dragon, was to keep out of it?

Mr. YOUNG. At that time, it made no difference. There was a power purge on; and if I had to have told them that anybody had told me to stay out of it, it would still have been the same thing over and over again. When men set their mind to take over something, the first thing they go through is your pocketbook.

The CHAIRMAN. Is what?

Mr. APPELL. Your pocketbook.

Is this the desire, to get the other individuals to get their hands on the profit that you and Mr. Young were making that caused the split in the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in March of 1964?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Swenson, we have quoted quite extensively from the testimony of Mr. Young under oath, and that testimony, I think it is fair to say, was not exactly complimentary to you. His testimony was under oath. It was part of our investigation.

Now, would you care to say what you think of Mr. Young?

Mr. SWENSON. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer this question, sir, on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I just wanted to give you that opportunity which would be a doublecheck on the credibility of his sworn testimony.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions of this witness.

I would like to ask as a part of the witness' testimony that the subpoena—that the records obtained of the account in the name of the Louisiana Rifle Association from the Louisiana Bank and Trust Company, Shreveport, Louisiana, and from the Bossier Bank and Trust Company, Bossier City, Louisiana, be made a part of the record of Mr. Swenson's testimony.

The CHAIRMAN. Those documents will be inserted in the record at the point where Mr. Swenson was questioned about them, so in reading the whole transcript the evidence introduced will be at that point.

(Bank records marked "John Swenson Exhibit No. 5" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Swenson, you have made a good deal of the fact that you have burned the records because you didn't want them to fall into the hands of the enemy, which you said was communism, the Communists. Certainly this committee is concerned about Communist subversion, and continues to do a good deal of work in that field. However, I think it is only fair to point out that whatever your concern might have been, I personally very much doubt that the Communists would have any reason to do anything to the Ku Klux Klan or any of its various organizations, because I can't think of an outfit that has more consistently served the purposes of the Communists than the various Klan organizations, however unwittingly.

It seems to me one could well contend that the Klan organizations have consistently and well served the purposes of the Communists in feeding propaganda for their propaganda mill, and there would be little reason for them to try to do away with your organization, sir, because it serves them too well.

Secondly, I would like to point out that not being a Communist does not make a man or organization a saint, that evil has many faces and the evil of communism is just one of those faces.

I would like to point out for your edification that Judas Iscariot was not a Communist, nor was John Dillinger, nor was Jesse James, nor was Adolf Hitler, and the fact is under the guise of anticommunism, when an organization under this guise commits acts of violence or terrorism, it is without excuse for its extra-legal activities and being non-Communist or against communism is hardly justification for any act that is illegal or that is wrong.

Consequently, I would say in light of these things, of the service that the Klan organizations have rendered to world communism, in light of the nature of the organization of which it is said you are the father, I wonder if you aren't very much ashamed that it is the case that you are at least known to be the father of the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana. Aren't you ashamed of that, sir?

I will withdraw the question. No further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. Call your next witness.

Mr. SWENSON. Thank you, gentlemen.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Murry H. Martin.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MARTIN. I do.

TESTIMONY OF MURRY H. MARTIN, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
JAMES R. VENABLE

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. MARTIN. Murry H. Martin.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. MARTIN. June 1, 1924, in Tioga, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. MARTIN. In Winnsboro, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. MARTIN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. VENABLE. James R. Venable, Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, you are appearing here this morning in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 27th day of October at 2303 Rowland Street, Winnsboro, Louisiana, and subsequently the appearance was postponed by telegram?

Mr. MARTIN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, the subpoena served upon you demands for you to bring with you and produce before the said committee documents set forth in an attachment, paragraph 1 of which reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, Christian Constitutional Crusaders, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Grand Dragon and/or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, and/or National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I request you to produce the documents as called for in the subpoena.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Chairman, I respectfully decline to produce these books, documents, and records on the constitutional grounds of the fourth and fifth amendment, the Constitution guaranteeing the freedom of unreasonable search and seizure.

The CHAIRMAN. And self-incrimination?

Mr. MARTIN. And self-incrimination.

Mr. APPELL. I ask that the witness be asked to produce the records asked for in the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Martin, were you in the hearing room when Mr. Swenson testified?

Mr. MARTIN. I was; yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I ask that because I think, though I assume you are not a lawyer, you understood that, from our point of view, anyway, there is a distinction between ordering an individual to produce personal records such as an income tax return, and a subpoena served upon him in a corporate or representative capacity which he holds, not for himself, but for an organization. You understood my explanation of that?

Mr. MARTIN. I did; yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, for that reason we do not accept as valid reasons for refusing to produce these documents your reliance on these constitutional amendments, and I therefore order and direct you to produce them.

Let me add this: I do so because the court decisions require me to do it. It is a cautionary note to a witness when the chairman of this committee, despite the invocation of constitutional grounds, nevertheless orders a witness to produce documents. It means we do not accept your position as a matter of law and it means that it could result, for further consideration, in a contempt citation.

I am saying that because I want you to understand it and because the court decisions require me to do that; therefore, for the reasons that I have stated, I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Chairman, I still must decline to answer.

In support of this, I would like to say that the Supreme Court in 1961 knocked down a Louisiana statute that required all fraternal or—

The CHAIRMAN. Say that again.

Mr. MARTIN. I am not a lawyer.

The CHAIRMAN. I just want to caution you that perhaps, since you are not a lawyer, I am not sure you are capable of carrying on this discussion. Talk to your lawyer and go on if you want to.

Mr. MARTIN. I must still decline to answer on the grounds that it may incriminate me under the first, fourth, and fifth amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, paragraph 2 of the attachment commanded you to bring with you, and to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as member or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and/or Christian Constitutional Crusaders which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce the documents requested in paragraph 2.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to produce these documents in question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Martin, for the reasons previously pointed out and explained in detail, I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. APPELL. You were directed, Mr. Martin.

Mr. MARTIN. I must decline.

The CHAIRMAN. On the ground previously stated?

Mr. MARTIN. Right, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Did you inform him he is subject to possible citation for contempt?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes. That is the reason for ordering him.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, paragraph 3 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964, filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

I ask you to produce those tax returns.

Mr. MARTIN. I must decline to produce these records on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, I hand you a blank form of application for citizenship in the Invisible Empire of the Original Ku Klux Klan. I ask if you have executed an application identical to or similar to that.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a copy of a series of oaths and ask you if you subscribe to those series of oaths in any organization that you might have belonged to?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you the reproduction of a document, the "Konstitution of the Original Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Louisiana." I ask you if this constitution was adopted by the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan organization which you at one time headed.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 2." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 297-319.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, were you acquainted with Mr. Royal V. Young, the Imperial Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you hold an office under Mr. Young in that organization?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Young testified that after he was appointed to the position of Imperial Dragon that Murry H. Martin was appointed to the office of Grand Giant. Is that testimony truthful?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know that the cover name for the Original Knights during that period of time was the Louisiana Rifle Association?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

posed to succeed to the office of Grand Dragon. I ask you to affirm or deny it.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the person who under the agreement was supposed to take over was Houston P. Morris, who was the grand kleagle of your organization. I ask you to affirm or deny it.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that when you had made your position within the organization solid enough so that at the election you won and Mr. Morris did not win, that he broke with the organization and created a new Klan group in Louisiana known as the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.

Mr. MARTIN. I decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that he took from your organization certain Klaverns within it.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that he later took this group of people into the United Klans of America, Realm of Louisiana.

The CHAIRMAN. Of which Mr. Shelton is head?

Mr. APPELL. Of which Mr. Shelton is the Imperial Wizard.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that when you took over leadership of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan that you adopted as a cover name for that organization the Christian Constitutional Crusaders.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And this is being stated to you as a fact again, that you use that fancy Christian name as a purely phony front organization, just as false as a 2-foot yardstick. Is that true?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a signature card filed in the account of the name of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders opened in the Ouachita National Bank in Monroe, Louisiana. In examining this card I ask you—put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the card reflects that the president of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders is M. H. Martin; that the secretary is L. G. Wilder; and that the treasurer is Henry I. Bayles.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, during the appearance of Mr. Swenson we discussed with him the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club, which made checks payable to the Louisiana Rifle Association.

According to the bank account of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club maintained at the Central Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Monroe, Louisiana, from January 21, 1964, to June 3, 1964, they issued five checks which were endorsed by the Christian Constitutional Crusaders. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that these checks covered dues, the realm's share of the new members' klectokon or membership fees. I ask you to affirm or deny the fact, sir.

Mr. MARTIN. Repeat the question, please. I don't quite understand all you said there.

Mr. APPELL. The bank records of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club reflect that from January 21, 1964, to June 3, 1964, there were five checks payable to cash and endorsed by the Christian Constitutional Crusaders. I ask you if it is a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that these checks represented dues and klectokon or membership fees owed to the grand office on the part of this Klavern.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Checks marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 5" not reproducible; retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. In May of 1963 this account in the Central Savings Bank & Trust Co. was opened. According to the signature card of this account, Houston P. Morris was the president, or exalted cyclops. Did you know this to be a fact, sir?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Bruce Bairnsfather was the secretary, or kligrapp. Did you know this to be a fact?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer this question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. J. R. Douglas was the klabee, or treasurer. Did you know this to be a fact?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 6." See p. 2369.)

Mr. APPELL. This signature card was changed on August 21, 1963, with Robert Fuller as the exalted cyclops. Did you know that Robert Fuller was the exalted cyclops?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the questions on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know that Russell A. Price was the secretary?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know that the Reverend Louis Warren was the treasurer?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. On January 21, 1964, the signature card was again changed to this account with the exalted cyclops being James C. Oliver, who was employed by Louisiana State Highway Department. Did you know him to be the exalted cyclops?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. That F. T. Odom according to the bank records was the vice president. Did you know him to be the vice president?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer.

Mr. APPELL. That Russell A. Price was the secretary. Did you know him to be the secretary?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, as the Grand Dragon of this organization, can you tell me why Klaverns in Louisiana select as cover names for the Klavern rather than the unit designation given to it by the Klan organization the names of hunting and fishing clubs or sportsmen's clubs?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, according to the deposit slips contained in the bank records of the account to which we have just referred, and also in the Winnsboro State Bank and Trust Company in Winnsboro, Louisiana, in the name of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the following Klaverns were within your jurisdiction: The Ouachita Parish Hunting and Fishing Club; the Sterlington Hunting and Fishing Club; the Concordia Sportsman Club; the Clinton Hunting and Fishing Club; the Deere Creek Sportsman's Club; Jena Hunting and Fishing Club; Northeast Gun Club; Tensas Sportsman Club; Black River Lake Sporting Club; Arcadia Sportsman Club; West Carroll Rifleman Club; Watson Hunting Club; Delta Sportsman Club; Baker Hunting and Fishing Club; Delhi Sportsman Club; Okaloosa Hunting and Fishing Club; Many Hunting and Fishing Club; Catahoola Sportsman Club; Deville Hunting and Fishing Club; Folsom Sportsman's Club; Turkey Creek Rod and Gun Club; Hineston Hunting and Fishing Club; Madison Parish Rifle Club; Boeuf River Hunting Club; Varnado Sportsmans Club; Vidalia Sportsman's Club; New River Rifle Club; Homer Hunting and Fishing Club; Roseland Hunting Club; Pride Sportsman League, in East Baton Rouge; Swartz Hunting and Fishing Club; The Choudrant Rod and Gun Club; Valley Hunting Club; Covington Hunting and Fishing Club; Pine Grove Hunting and Fishing Club; Big River Sportsman's Club.

I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to deny or affirm the fact, that these were organizations within your organization.

Mr. MARTIN. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, during the time that you were Grand Dragon of the Original Knights in 1964, did Russell Magee hold a position within your organization as related to the Sixth Congressional District of Louisiana?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I show you two checks, one dated 6/29 and the other 7/13 [1964] drawn against the account of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, check of 6/29 in the amount of $377.01 and the check of 7/13 in the amount of $400—check in the amount of $400 the purpose for which drawn being the "Sixth District Fund." Will you examine these checks and advise the committee for what purpose those checks were drawn?

These are both made payable to Russell Magee.

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Checks marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 9" follow on p. 2373.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, I hand you an envelope with checks dated, the first one, February 13, 1964, and the last one September 12, 1964, all but one payable to Murry H. Martin, the total of these checks amounting to $3,558.09, and I want to ask you after you examine these

MURRY MARTIN EXHIBIT NO. 12

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, these names that I have read to you, I put it to you as a fact that they were the leaders, you and the others were the leaders, of the Original Knights following the leadership of Mr. Young and Mr. Swenson. I ask you to affirm or deny that.

(At this point Mr. Willis returned to the hearing room.)

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Irrespective of what the constitutional laws of the organization set forth as their purpose, as far as you individuals were membership committee, benevolence committee, building committee, public relations committee, and klokan committee. Would you give the committee the identities of the chairmen of these respective committees?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The constitution sets forth many ways in which the Klan dedicates itself, but then it sets forth under a title "The Way Of The Klavern":

The following should be given to each new member immediately after the naturalization ceremony.

The newly made member be conducted to the Klocards' station by the Kladd. The Klocard will then instruct the new members as follows:

1. Destroy application

What is the purpose of that, Mr. Martin?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Is it not a fact that after the application is destroyed that that man is known only by a number which is known only to the secretary of the Klavern?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. On the grand or state level, did you as the Grand Dragon ever receive the identity of a member of the Ku Klux Klan no matter into which Klavern he was naturalized other than the Klavern with which you might be affiliated yourself?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Can you advise the committee with regard to the responsibilities and purposes of the klokan committee?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was it your responsibility to concern yourself with the appointment by the klokan office, the person who held the office of klokan in the Klavern, as to an organization which he creates under the constitution and bylaws known as the wrecking crew?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. What was the purpose of the "wrecking crew"?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. This morning, Mr. Martin, I quoted from Mr. Simmons' testimony about "keep the secrets, enjoy life, and violate them and beware of death." The Original Ku Klux Klan Konstitution reads as follows:

Any Klansman who is known to violate our rules, especially those that give information to any aliens, shall be expelled immediately, then is to be watched and visited by the Wrecking Crew if necessary.

Can you help the Congress to understand this function that is explained in this document?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Is this not for the purpose of intimidating members of the Klan if they ever get out and speak against it, that physical harm will come to them?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. This document also says with respect to the wrecking crew that:

Each unit will set up at least one team of six men to be used for wrecking crew. These men should be appointed by the Klokan in secrecy.

Can you advise the committee why it is necessary for a Klavern to appoint this wrecking crew and the identity of the wrecking crew to be secret from all members of the Klavern except for the members who serve in the klokan who appoint them?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Is this not for the purpose of eliminating exposure in case the Klan carries out—the wrecking crew carries out acts of violence, that people will not know even within the Klan those responsible for the acts?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. If the Klan organization which you head is as it represents itself to be, can you explain to the committee this language contained in the constitution:

All Klaverns will have at least five armed guards with flashlights posted during regular meetings.

(a) No one will be allowed to carry a gun inside the Klavern during regular meetings except the Night Hawk.

(b) No one will carry a gun inside during a state or province meeting except those appointed by the Chief KBI or Province KBI.

Can you explain this to the committee in light of what the Klan allegedly stands for?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a leader of the Klan, Mr. Martin, will you tell this committee of the Congress what your organization does stand for?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional ground previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Martin, I regret you take that position. It would be helpful to this committee and the Congress to know, and I should say that dedicated members who believe and talk inside about the nobility of Klan organizations as represented by you and other leaders in literature, would feel better if someone of your stature representing the Klan would simply come up before this committee and just tell us what their objectives are. What does it stand for? What are the programs of the Klan, and so on?

We wish someone would come, talk, and tell us. Not that we would accept all they might say, but the truth will remain indestructible wherever it is. Here is your opportunity to stand up and tell us what you stand for really, in addition to what is distributed to the rank-and-file members with regard to anticommunism, national defense, and all the rest. Here is your chance.

I really would like for you to tell us what I know you must have said time and time again on the streets in your hometown, at Klavern meetings. You appear to be very intelligent. I suppose you make a pretty good speech. I know you have spoken about those things before and I know you represent yourself as believing what the Klan stands for.

Our job is to give information to Congress, all the information, whatever good there is in the Klan organization, and so on. Put it in the record. Here is your splendid chance. I want you to talk and tell us all about it. Would you care to avail yourself of the opportunity?

I say, do you care to avail yourself of the opportunity?

Mr. MARTIN. No.

The CHAIRMAN. You do not?

Mr. MARTIN. No.

The CHAIRMAN. You nodded your head in the negative. Your answer is "No"?

Mr. MARTIN. My answer is I most respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional ground previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, is it a fact that Mr. Swenson was removed from the offices he held in the Original Knights because of profit that he was making on the sale of Klan robes?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you that, Mr. Martin, because in the constitution in effect under your regime there is contained this language:

Uniforms (robes) will all be made by the same standards by Klansmen in Realm. We shall have at least two manufacturers. One for South La. and one for North La. Since there is considerable profit envolved [sic] in this project, the following has been suggested: Determine amount of profit and pay makers accordingly out of realm treasury. Orders to be placed with secretary who will collect $10.00 for each. Profit will thereby go to Realm to be used for Klan expenses.

Who was appointed as the robe manufacturer for north Louisiana?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Who was appointed as the manufacturer for south Louisiana?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, does your organization, the Original Knights, have any relationship or affiliation with any other Klan group?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Are you affiliated with the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you hold the office of klokan in the [National] Knights?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Within that organization does the klokan have the responsibility for performing wrecking crews?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. On May 22 and 23, 1965, did you attend a meeting of the National Knights held at the Dobie Motel in Montgomery, Alabama?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. During the course of that meeting did friction develop between the leader of the organization, James Venable, and Hugh Morris, both of Georgia?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was there discussion as to what you might do, that is the Klan groups affiliated in the National Knights, with people who could not be controlled and whom the groups wished to be quieted?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was there discussed the subject of castration?

Mr. MARTIN. I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was it reported by any of the leaders there that they would not engage in castration, but that if it was necessary to liquidate someone to prove that the Klan was not kidding, that this would be done?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. The committee will stand in recess for 5 minutes.

(Whereupon, at 3:25 p.m., the subcommittee recessed and reconvened at 3:38 p.m., with Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Buchanan, of the subcommittee, present at time of recess and when hearings resumed.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will resume the hearings. Please resume the stand, Mr. Martin.

A quorum of the subcommittee met during the recess and voted unanimously to make public certain excerpts of executive testimony received from James R. Venable on October 6, 1965. The released excerpts appear from line 25 on page 1125 through line 11 on page 1126, also from line 21 on page 1149 to line 5 on page 1150 of the transcript of that day of the executive hearing.

Mr. Weltner desires to propound a couple of questions to the witness in this connection.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Martin, I would like to read the first portion of this testimony. Prior to doing that I would like to say to the witness and to the committee that the witness James R. Venable appeared in Washington on October 6 voluntarily, without having been placed under subpoena, and he continued through that entire day and answered all the questions that were propounded to him without resorting to any kind of constitutional claim of privilege. I want to make that clear.

The portion that I would like to read to you appears on page 1125. It is a question by Mr. Manuel and answered by Mr. Venable:

Mr. MANUEL. Do you have any chartered Klaverns in the State of Louisiana?

Mr. VENABLE. No, the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan has not got any, to my knowledge. I know the other two Klan groups down there. I don't know under what names they operate. I know the two gentlemen who are alleged to head them; I don't know the names.

The CHAIRMAN. Can we have their names? Do their names come to you?

Mr. VENABLE. One of them is named Mr. P. L. Morgan from Coushatta and the other gentleman's name is M. H. Martin of Winnsboro.

My question is, Are you the M. H. Martin of Winnsboro referred to in the testimony on the part of the Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, James R. Venable?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. I ask you whether or not that statement given under oath by Mr. Venable is true?

Mr. MARTIN. I again respectfully decline to answer the question on constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. The other portion of this testimony concerned a matter previously touched upon by Mr. Appell and the inquiry concerning "wrecking crews." This colloquy which I will read to you has to do with the Klan as it was reconstituted in 1915 and existed generally through a 30-year period thereafter, referred to as the Old Klan.

Mr. APPELL. Recalling back in your young days and your knowledge that there did exist such things as wrecking crews, it would be only the members of the crew that would know the identity of the crew members; is that right?

Mr. VENABLE. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. So, therefore, the average Klansman, while he might understand there is a crew, he would know nothing about it?

Mr. VENABLE. He would not know who they were or what they do; they would keep it secret among themselves.

That appears on page 1149 of the transcript of October 6, 1965.

My question is, in the light of that testimony, whether or not the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, or any successor thereto, in which you may have had an office or title employed a wrecking crew or any other similar committee or any other function with a similar purpose.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, the portions which I have read I think constitute the entire portions of the record which have been released to the public, and I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, did the Louisiana Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities conduct an investigation into the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana? Did it, sir?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a reproduction of certain pages from a report issued by that committee. This is a "Q and A" taken by the staff director of that committee of one Mr. "Murray" Martin. I show you this and put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the "Murray" H. Martin whose testimony is recorded in that document.

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 14." See pp. 2383-2393.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, was the testimony which you gave to the staff director of the joint committee truthful in all respects?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. A review of this testimony shows that in questioning as to what the Original Knights stands for, you picked out from the oaths taken by Klansmen those which relate to the Constitution of the United States, upholding it. I would like to ask you why you did not put into this record those oaths under [Klan]*ishness, especially the oath which says:

I swear that I will never allow any animosity, friction nor ill will to arise and remain between myself and a [Klans]*man but will be constant in my efforts to promote real [Klan]*ishness among the members of this Order. I swear that I will keep secure to myself a secret of a [Klans]*man when same has been committed to me in the sacred bond of [Klans]*manship. The crime of violating this solemn oath—, treason against the United States of America, rape, and malicious murder alone excepted.

Why did you not put this into this transcript and give a true picture of your Original Knights?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Why did you not bring to the attention of the committee the existence of wrecking crews and the functions of wrecking crews in giving a picture of the Original Knights in Louisiana? I ask you why?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In light of the oath which I read to you, Mr. Martin, I would like you to explain to the committee an answer to a question asked of you, and I shall read to you both the question and your answer:

Q.—Mr. Martin, what protection have you got built into your organizational structure or procedures to protect your Organization from people who would use the cover of the existence of the Klan to commit crime?

A.—Our Organization actually is based upon, and its primary function is by. Committees; such Committees as an Investigating Committee, and should this violence, or lawbreaking, or crime come to our attention, of course, this Committee would investigate, and should we be successful, we would turn the person over to the Law, or at least tell the Law who he was so that we wouldn't get the blame for it. We have gotten the blame for a lot of it in the past and we hope we can help to stop it. Our prime purpose, of course, is not to avoid the blame, but to assist the law enforcement officers in their duties. As I have already stated, that's in our Oath that we should do so, and we do.

In light of the fact that a Klansman takes an oath not to divulge a secret of a Klansman except in the case of treason against the United States, rape, and malicious murder, how could your organization turn any information over to law enforcement agencies when committed by members of your Klan?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In your association with the Klan, have you ever turned over to law enforcement agencies any knowledge relating to violence on the part of a Klansman?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. You told the Louisiana committee that you distribute literature, not only that published by yourself, but that published by other people. As an exhibit there is reproduced a document, "The Meaning Of Americanism." I would like to ask you to tell me, in light of the constitution and laws, the existence of the wrecking crews, and the violence on the part of members of your organization, how you can distribute this as a policy and principle of the Klan:

Americanism holds that every person has an inherent right to think, to act, to express opinions, to seek redress against wrongs, and enlarge his personality without fear. It gives each American, whether rich or poor, white or black, Jew or Gentile, the right to challenge wrong and oppression without the threat of retaliation. It means that every American be given the right to invest in the soil of his country and to reap the benefits from his labors and his thrift. Americanism holds that these rights be protected for all, not merely for the privileged.

Isn't this a direct contradiction of what the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan stands for?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, in presenting yourself for interrogation by the staff director of the Louisiana joint committee, were you under subpoena?

The CHAIRMAN. I think the question should be extended by saying, Were you under subpoena or did you voluntarily appear?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I think the transcript indicates, does it not, Mr. Appell, that he appeared voluntarily?

Mr. APPELL. The transcript is silent, Mr. Chairman. It just shows he was sworn and gave the following testimony, and does not say whether the staff consultation resulted from appearance pursuant to a subpoena.

Mr. Martin, I ask if you can explain to this committee why you voluntarily testified or why you did answer questions there and not invoke constitutional privileges, and you invoke constitutional privileges before this body?

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. We have established clearly that this transcript was of a consultation held on April 17, 1965, bearing in mind that that was some 6 weeks after this committee of the Congress resolved unanimously to conduct the pending investigation of the Ku Klux Klan organization. The transcript, of course, speaks for itself, but it says the witness, "Mr. Murray Martin," having been duly sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, testified as follows, and the transcript is some 28 pages of testimony, including exhibits, constituting an answer to each question propounded to the witness. April 17, 1965, was the date of the appearance.

Let me ask one more question.

Mr. Martin, one question—on page 25 of this transcript the question:

Does your Organization in any way propose to achieve its goals by violence, or any means other than the political action that you are describing?

The answer to the question notes:

No, sir, we do not advocate violence.

I would like to propound that question to you again, sir. Does your organization in any way propose to achieve its goals by violence or any means other than political action which you have described? That is my question.

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. No further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

MURRY MARTIN EXHIBIT NO. 14

[Excerpt from June 16, 1965, hearings before The Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities of Louisiana held in Baton Rouge, La. Hon. Jesse M. Knowles, chairman; Jack N. Rogers, Committee counsel. Report No. 7, July 26, 1965.]

TRANSCRIPT OF STAFF CONSULTATION HELD ON APRIL 17, 1965, AT 7:22 P. M., at COLUMBIA, LOUISIANA. JACK N. ROGERS, ESQ., COMMITTEE COUNSEL FOR THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES, PRESIDING.

BY MR. ROGERS:

Under the power vested in me by Senate Resolution #12, Regular Session, 1964, and the Rules of the Committee, I now swear the first witness in this Staff Consultation.

THE WITNESS, MR. MURRAY MARTIN, AFTER FIRST HAVING BEEN DULY SWORN TO TELL THE TRUTH, THE WHOLE TRUTH, AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH, SO HELP HIM GOD, TESTIFIED AS FOLLOWS:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ROGERS:

Q—Please give me your name, sir?

A—Murray Martin.

Q—Where do you live, Mr. Martin?

A—In Winnsboro, Louisiana.

Q—Where and when were you born?

A—At Tioga, Louisiana, 1924, June 1.

Q—What do you do for a living?

A—I am a building contractor.

Q—What is the correct name of the Klan Organization you represent?

A—The Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Q—What is the title of your Klan office, and what level of leadership does that title mean?

A—I am Grand Dragon, and the level of leadership would be the same as the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Q—What geographical area does that cover?

A—The State of Louisiana.

Q—Is your Klan Organization connected with any other Klan Organization?

A—We are loosely connected with another Klan Organization, yes, sir.

Q—If so, which one is that?

A—We are connected with the National Association of Klans known as the Associated Klans of America.

Q—Mr. Martin, who is the national head of your Klan Organization?

A—We have no national head.

Q—As I understand your testimony, you are the head in the State of Louisiana, is that correct?

A—That's true.

Q—How and by whom are the objectives of your organization determined?

A—They are determined by a Board of Officers.

Q—Is it a large Board?

A—Relatively small.

Q—Are the people who determine your policy on this Board all citizens of the State of Louisiana?

A—That is right, that is true.

Q—Is your organization connected in any way with the Communist Party?

A—Definitely not.

Q—How about any other foreign party, or agency, or government?

A—No, sir.

Q—Would you care to elaborate on that, sir?

A—One of our questions asked of all candidates is this: "Do you esteem the United States of America and its institutions above any government, civil, political, or ecclesiastical in the whole world?" And another one is: "Are you absolutely opposed to and free of any allegiance of any nature to any cause, government, people, sect, or ruler that is foreign to the United States of America?" Both of these questions must be answered "yes" before the candidate can proceed.

Q—Are these questions asked your prospective members under oath?

A—They are.

Q—Is any Pledge or Oath of Allegiance required of all of your members?

A—Yes.

Q—Does this in any way infringe upon, or negate, complete loyalty to the Constitution of the United States?

A—No, sir, in fact they must swear allegiance to the United States to become a member.

Q—Would you mind telling us what words are required to do this? Can you do this?

A—I can and I will. This is part of the Oath: "I most solemnly assert and affirm, that to the Government of the United States of America, and any State thereof of which I may become a member, I sacredly vow unqualified allegiance above any other, and every kind of government in the whole world. I here and now pledge my life, my property, my vote, and my sacred honor to uphold its flag, its Constitution, and Constitutional Laws and will protect, defend, and enforce same unto death."

Q—Mr. Martin, what is the policy of your Organization as to law violations?

A—I will again quote from our Oath: "I swear that I will always, and at any and all times, and in all places, help, aid, and assist the duly constituted officers of the Law in the proper performance of their legal duties.”

Q—Would you explain what policy your Organization has toward a member who might be involved in a crime, caught, and convicted?

A—If and when he is convicted, then he is either expelled or banished from the Organization. Does that explain it pretty well?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—What are the qualifications for membership in your Organization?

A—Of course, a man must be of good character, first.

Q—How do you determine that, Mr. Martin?

A—We have a system of elections whereby a man may enter into our Organization, and he is first invited to join after having been cleared by all of the members, and his name is published in two regular meetings, and any one man in the Organization can, if he so desires, stop the admittance of any man.

Q—By “Organization” you mean on the local level?

A—On the local level.

Q—Do you have any special name for the local level group?

A—Klavern. This also is in our Oath and I would like to give that to you.

Q—Would you, please?

A—The candidate or the man being initiated has to swear that: “I will never recommend any person for membership in this Order whose mind is unsound, or whose reputation I know to be bad, or whose character is doubtful, or whose loyalty to our Country is in any way questionable.”

Q—What other qualifications do you have for membership, Mr. Martin?

A—A man must first believe in the tenets of the Christian Religion. Would you like for me to give you all of the qualifying questions?

Q—Would you, please?

A—All of these questions must be answered "yes" by any person seeking admittance into our Organization: First, "Is the motive prompting your ambition to be a Klansman serious and unselfish?" Second, "Are you a native-born white gentile American citizen?" Third, "Are you absolutely opposed to, and free of any allegiance of any nature to any cause, government, people, sect, or ruler that is foreign to the United States of America?" Fourth, "Do you believe in the tenets of the Christian Religion?" Fifth, "do you esteem the United States of America and its institutions above any other Government, Civil, Political, or Ecclesiastical in the whole world?" Sixth, "Will you, without mental reservation, take a solemn oath to defend, preserve, and enforce same?" Seventh, "Do you believe in Klanishness and will you practice same towards Klansmen?" Eighth, "Do you believe in, and will you faithfully strive for the eternal maintenance of white supremacy?" Ninth, "Will you faithfully obey our Constitution and Laws and conform with them to all of our usages, requirements, and regulations?" Tenth, "Can you always be depended upon?"

Q—Mr. Martin, are there any other qualifications for membership other than the ones you have read to me?

A—I believe not. I would like to say that we are trying our best to eliminate any undesirables from our Organization. I would also like to state that we have no sex-perverts, or homosexuals, or beatniks in our Organization, and I defy anyone to find them.

Q—Approximately how many members do you have in the State of Louisiana?

A—This, I must respectfully decline to answer, since to answer it would put me in violation of the Oath that I have taken to the Klan.

Q—What are the objectives of your Organization?

A—Our objectives are to return our Government to the Constitution. We believe in constitutional government. We have a set of goals, a written one that I would be glad to send you. I am sorry I do not have one with me. It lists our goals and our hopes for the future. Of course, our prime purpose is the preservation of individual and national liberty.

Q—Do you ascribe, as an organization, to this written statement of principles that you are going to send me—this written statement of objectives?

A—Yes, I do.

Q—By what means does your Organization propose to realize these objectives?

A—Through governmental affairs, the education of ourselves and the general public as to the trend of Government towards the left and continuing headlong flight towards Communism.

Q—I understand from this that you mean primarily by education, is this correct?

A—Well, no, of course, after you educate yourself, then we will vote at the polls to remove such scalawags that propose and keep proposing legislation to sell us to the “one world government.”

Q—Does your Organization in any way propose to achieve its goals by violence, or any means other than the political action that you are describing?

A—No, sir, we do not advocate violence.

Q—Mr. Martin, what protection have you got built into your organizational structure or procedures to protect your Organization from people who would use the cover of the existence of the Klan to commit crime?

A—Our Organization actually is based upon, and its primary function is by, Committees; such Committees as an Investigating Committee, and should this violence, or lawbreaking, or crime come to our attention, of course, this Committee would investigate, and should we be successful, we would turn the person over to the Law, or at least tell the Law who he was so that we wouldn't get the blame for it. We have gotten the blame for a lot of it in the past and we hope we can help to stop it. Our prime purpose, of course, is not to avoid the blame, but to assist the law enforcement officers in their duties. As I have already stated, that's in our Oath that we should do so, and we do.

Q—Will you furnish our Committee with samples of the literature and printed materials used by your Organization? You understand, we don't expect you to give us something that you have sworn to keep secret, but we would like samples to the limit of what you

FIFTY REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BE A MEMBER OF THE ORIGINAL KU KLUX KLAN

- 1-Because the Klan is a great, legal American Institution of Americas
- 2-Because it is the only organization on earth where only native-born, White, Gentle American citizens make up its membership.
- 3-Because it is a militant Christian organization, opposed to all forms of Atheism.
- 4-Because it throws its strong arm of protection around your family in your absence
- 5-Because it believes in and fights for White Supremacy
- 6-Because it saved the South twice, and will save it again and again.
- 7-Because it is composed of HE men and not silly dilly humans.
- 8-Because it is founded deep in the tenets of the Christian religion
- 9-Because it is an open supporter of the Constitution
- 10-Because it is the ONE organization fighting for repeal of the Segregation ruling by the Supreme Court of the United States.
- 11-Because it believes in and fights for state sovereignty.
- 12-Because it is neither Democratic or Republican, politically, but ALWAYS AMERICAN.
- 13-Because it fights for the glory of the flag and for the rights of free men.
- 14-Because it believes in law and order and good government.
- 15-Because it exalts principle above men.
- 16-Because it stands for segregated schools, NOW and ALWAYS!
- 17-Because it is opposed to intermarriages between niggers and White people Several states have already legalized such marriages, and more are to follow.
- 18-Because it believes that the White race is God's race through which He wants to maintain a just civilization
- 19-Because it believes the Bible doctrine of the separation of the races.
- 20-Because it believes that Judaism is not the religion of the Bible, but that it is a set of principles for the purpose of elevating the Christless Jew beyond the White races.
- 21-Because it has an effective program against Socialism, Communism, and ultra left wing liberalism.
- 22-Because it believes the highest type of citizenship is Christian citizenship.
- 23-Because it believes all Constitutional changes are to be made by Congress, and ratified by the State Legislature
- 24-Because it believes in getting the United States out of the United Nations Organization.
- 25-Because it believes that every preacher holding a congregation but who teach integration should retire from his pulpit, either willingly or be forced out.
- 26-Because it is opposed to forcing defenseless children to have nigger playmates.
- 27-Because it believes in free speech and free press, as opposed further to a police state.
- 28-Because we believe it to be the most effective way to fight all forms of subversion.
- 29-Because we oppose niggers teaching White children in public schools, which they will do in all integrated schools before long.
- 30-Because it is the most effective way to fight organized crime in a community.
- 31-Because it teaches men should love their own wives and let other women alone.
- 32-Because it is opposed to Loan Sharks charging an unlawful rate of interest to the poor people
- 33-Because it believes in trials by jury.
- 34-Because it does not endorse either the Republican or Democratic parties politically as such, but does support candidates in both parties when said candidates stand for a 100% Americanism
- 35-Because it is opposed to disarmament in any form and unalterably in favor of the right of citizens to bear arms.
- 36-Because it teaches that every school teacher in our public schools should be retired who believes in and teaches integration of the black and White races.
- 37-Because it stands for the disenfranchisement of all foreigners who have not been in America for the same length of time required our own boys and girls to reach legal voting age.
- 38-Because it stands for segregation on inmates in penal and mental institutions, especially the juveniles.
- 39-Because it opposes free Communist literature being sent through the United States mail to Americans.
- 40-Because it is unalterably opposed to the Zionist Jew program.
- 41-Because it is opposed to the Anti-Defamation league in all respects.
- 42-Because it knows the United Nations Charter has usurped the Constitution of these United States, and we are trying to get the United States out of the UN
- 43-Because it was here YESTERDAY, and is here TODAY, and will be here FOREVER.
- 44-Because it stands against UNESCO in its attempt to rewrite our American history.
- 45-Because it is opposed to a police state which robs the individual of his rights.
- 46-Because it does not believe that education is THE remedy for our political ills.
- 47-Because it is opposed to any government professing to be friendly to America, while at the same time trading with any communist-dominated country
- 48-Because it is opposed to taxation without representation.
- 49-Because it is opposed to the income tax laws as presently existing.
- 50-Because it is opposed to the World Health Organization and the National Mental Health Act and all forms of psychiatric education of our children and citizens.

THE MEANING OF AMERICANISM

Americanism is a living, dynamic force governing the lives of our people, who are peculiarly blessed with the opportunity of living under a representative form of government, protected by the most amazing instrument of human conduct ever devised by man, the CONSTITUTION of the UNITED STATES.

Americanism is a form of controlled liberty in which the rights of the small and the large are protected for the greatest good of all. Its practical motivating principles are clearly enunciated in the DECLARATION of INDEPENDENCE and in the PREAMBLE to our CONSTITUTION. Its foundation is the infinite dignity and worth of the individual.

The essence of Americanism is spiritual. It holds that there is a moral GOD in the universe, and that by virtue of this fact, there is a moral purpose in the affairs of mankind. Our social science is predicated on the tenets of the SPEECH on the MOUNT and the TEN COMMANDMENTS. The very essence of American jurisprudence is the protection of personal liberty and property from the encroachment of others and from GOVERNMENT itself. It recognizes as its enemy, both the will of the tyrant and the whims of the masses.

Americanism holds that every person has an inherent right to think, to act, to express opinions, to seek redress against wrongs, and enlarge his personality without fear. It gives each American, whether rich or poor, white or black, Jew or Gentile, the right to challenge wrong and oppression without the threat of retaliation. It means that every American be given the right to invest in the soil of his country, and to reap the benefits from his labors and his thrift. Americanism holds that the rights be protected for all, not merely for the privileged.

Our schools, our churches, our civic organizations and our magnificent philanthropies, - all bespeak a sense of moral obligation to others, and a spirit of brotherhood transcending that of other people in the entire world.

Americanism, however, is not a one way street. It imposes rightful obligations upon individuals and groups to play the game of living with a concern for the welfare of the community, state, and nation.

Americanism is humanity's most glorious experiment in the sciences of living. If this experiment should fail, civilization itself might be doomed. The surest guarantee for continued success is a personal citizenship, dedicated to the ideals and purposes of this great REPUBLIC. Americanism is mankind's remaining hope for a decent and just world!

And in this hour of critical crisis, when this lofty heritage of Americanism is seriously threatened by a ruthless, Godless Communist conspiracy as well as by an expanding Welfare State, which could destroy the incentive of our citizens to create and produce as well as impair the will to defend our heritage, let every loyal American have emblazoned on his conscience the immortal pledge of the brave men who first gave articulation to the ideals of Americanism in the DECLARATION of INDEPENDENCE.

AND FOR THE SUPPORT OF THIS DECLARATION, WITH A FIRM RE-LIANCE ON THE PROTECTION OF DIVINE PROVIDENCE, WE MUTU-
ALLY PLEDGE TO EACH OTHER
OUR LIVES, OUR FORTUNES, AND OUR SACRED HONOR!

can furnish us, to see what type of thing you are using in your training, and in your educational program?

A—I will be glad to furnish you with samples, a lot of which is not our own. We use other Organizations' literature, and we learn by it; but of course, we have literature of our own, and I can and will send you some of this.

Q—Mr. Martin, do you have anything you want to add to your testimony?

A—Nothing that I can think of.

Q—I would like to thank you for our Committee. This is the end of the Staff Consultation. The time is 7:48 P. M.

The newly made member be conducted to the Klocards' station by the Kladd. The Klocard will then instruct the new members as follows:

1. Destroy application
2. Instruct the member in the use of the gavel.

The CHAIRMAN. Call the next witness, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. WILDER. I do.

TESTIMONY OF LLOYD GRADY WILDER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, JAMES R. VENABLE

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, will you state your name?

Mr. WILDER. Lloyd Grady Wilder.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. WILDER. September 11, 1922, St. Landry, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. L-a-n-d-r-y?

Mr. WILDER. That is right.

The CHAIRMAN. That is the name of a parish. What town?

Mr. WILDER. It is also the name entered on the birth certificate. Long Pine.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you currently reside?

Mr. WILDER. Jena, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, are you appearing here this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 27th day of October at Third Street, Jena, Louisiana?

Mr. WILDER. That is right, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, the subpoena served upon you commands you to bring with you and to produce documents set forth in the attachment to the subpoena which is made a part of the subpoena. Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and affiliated organizations, namely, Christian Constitutional Crusaders, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Secretary or other officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and/or Christian Constitutional Crusaders.

I ask you to produce those documents, Mr. Wilder.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce those documents for the reason that it might intend to violate my constitutional rights under the 1st amendment of the Constitution of the United States guaranteeing freedom of speech, the right of people to peacefully assemble and to associate together for the exchange of ideas in matters of public concern, and further on the constitutional grounds of the 4th and 5th amendments, that producing such documents might intend to incriminate me, and also on the 14th amendment, should I be compelled to answer this question or to produce such documents, then I would be denied my constitutional rights as provided under the 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact that the bank records of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders show that Mr. Wilder held the position of secretary, I request that he be directed to produce the documents called for.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Wilder, were you in the hearing room when Mr. Swenson and Mr. Martin were on the stand today?

Mr. WILDER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. You heard me explain to both Mr. Swenson and Mr. Martin that this subpoena requires you to produce these documents and papers in your capacity as an official of the Klan organization to which you belong. You heard me say that and you understand the position of the committee.

Mr. WILDER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I will repeat it to you. I am required to do that by court decision.

We do not accept your invocation of the constitutional amendments to which you refer because the subpoena requires you to produce the papers and documents outlined in the subpoena in your official capacity indicated. Therefore, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce those documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Did he set forth his grounds?

The CHAIRMAN. On the grounds previously stated. You mean on the constitutional grounds previously stated?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, paragraph 2 of the subpoena commands you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you in your capacity as Secretary and/or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and/or Christian Constitutional Crusaders which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents called for.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce those documents for the same constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons previously indicated, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce the documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, paragraph 3 calls for you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service Form 1120, "U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return," for the fiscal years 1961 through June 30, 1965, filed by you as Secretary of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce those documents on the same constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons that I stated previously, I now order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce those documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, the subpoena calls, under paragraph 4, for you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Tax Return," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964, filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce those documents on the constitutional grounds that it might tend to incriminate me, on the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, will you set forth briefly your educational background?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate me.

The CHAIRMAN. Please talk louder.

Mr. APPELL. Will you briefly set forth your occupational background?

Mr. WILDER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Are you principally engaged in the heating and air-conditioning business in Jena, Louisiana?

Mr. WILDER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, the committee's investigation establishes that through the secretary, whether it be the klavern or the realm, paper of the Klan flows. A Klavern making a report to the realm makes its report through the realm secretary. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the secretary of the organization known as the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which organization used as a cover name the Christian Constitutional Crusaders.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. During the time that Royal V. Young was the Imperial Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the period ending in early 1964, Mr. Young testified that you held the position of secretary-treasurer. Was Mr. Young's testimony factual?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you an envelope containing three checks drawn by the Louisiana Rifle Association against their account at the Louisiana Bank and Trust Company, payable to L. G. Wilder, Grady Wilder, or Mr. L. G. Wilder. I will ask you the purpose for which those checks were drawn.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Checks marked "Lloyd Wilder Exhibit No. 1." One of said checks follows; balance retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. With Mr. Young being deposed as the Imperial Dragon and Mr. Swenson being deposed from his office, did you know Mr. Murry H. Martin to be the next Grand Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you the signature card for the account in the name of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders at the Ouachita National Bank, in Monroe, Louisiana, and put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that this signature card shows the president of the organization to be M. H. Martin, the secretary to be L. G. Wilder, and the treasurer to be Henry I. Bayles.

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Document previously marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 4." See p. 2367.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, how many Klan organizations, to your knowledge, are existing in the State of Louisiana?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In the latter part of 1964 and early 1965, did dissension grow within the ranks of the organization headed by Mr. Martin so that certain Klaverns and leaders defected from your organization and started new Klan groups?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did Houston P. Morris, grand kleagle of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under Mr. Martin, break away and take his following with him and form the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Incorporated?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did a group of Klansmen in the Sixth Congressional District at the same time break away from the leadership of Mr. Martin and go as an independent Klan organization sometimes known as the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Louisiana?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did Henry I. Bayles, who was the treasurer of the organization at the same time that you were the secretary, break with the organization and is he now with the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, a review of deposit slips filed or appended to deposits to the account of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders at the Ouachita National Bank, in Monroe, Louisiana, contains a list of the following individuals. I hand you a list and I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that these people were members of your Klan organization.

The CHAIRMAN. The reporter will make note of the fact to insert at the points where the previous witnesses and this witness testified with reference to documents, that those documents should be included in the printed record at those respective points.

Mr. WILDER. I respectfully refuse to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, did the Little River Rod and Gun Club which maintained a banking account at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, Alexandria, Louisiana, make checks payable to you as secretary for their dues and the realm's share of the initiation fee collected from members of that Klavern?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilder, would you be willing to explain to the committee the purposes and functions of the wrecking crew which is provided for by the constitution of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess knowledge of any act of violence carried out by members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. To your knowledge, did the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan ever carry out any of its programs or objectives without the use of intimidation or violence?

Mr. WILDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Henry I. Bayles.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BAYLES. I do.

TESTIMONY OF HENRY I. BAYLES

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. BAYLES. Henry I. Bayles.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. BAYLES. November 19, 1932, in West Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. BAYLES. No.

Mr. APPELL. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. BAYLES. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Have you had the advice of counsel?

Mr. BAYLES. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Is Mr. Chalmers your counsel?

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for I feel the answer might incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bayles, are you appearing before the committee this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you?

The CHAIRMAN. Before you ask that question, Mr. Bayles, you are appearing here without counsel. You were asked whether you wanted counsel. You said you did not. I think I should tell you that if you want it, you have a right to invoke the fifth amendment in your own way and within your own right. I just want to let you know that. We respect your invocation in that respect in the same way and to the same extent as though you had a lawyer.

You understand what I am saying? I am not asking you a question. I am just telling you that.

Mr. BAYLES. I understand.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bayles, are you appearing before the committee this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 26th day of October 1965, at 2006 DeSiard Street, Monroe, Louisiana?

Mr. BAYLES. November 15.

Mr. APPELL. That is the date?

Mr. BAYLES. That I was to appear.

Mr. APPELL. You were served on October 26 by the United States marshal?

Mr. BAYLES. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Under the terms of that subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and produce documents set forth in an attachment that was made a part of the subpoena:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and affiliated organizations, namely, the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Treasurer and/or member of Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and/or the Christian Constitutional Crusaders.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. BAYLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated November 15, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated November 15, 1965, for the information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and does not aid the Congress in the consideration of valid or remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

The CHAIRMAN. That is a good one.

Mr. APPELL. I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents called for.

The CHAIRMAN. You were in the hearing room when I instructed the previous witnesses concerning the production of records under subpoenas served on them, and on you, in a representative capacity. Were you in the room at that time?

Mr. BAYLES. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. I am not——

Mr. BAYLES. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. You appear to be a very bright young man, and I suppose you understand, or understood what I said, that is, that since this subpoena calls for you to produce documents to this committee in a representative capacity, I do not accept your invocation.

Do you understand what I am saying?

For that reason, and I am sure you follow me, I direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated November 15, 1965, because I honestly feel it would tend to incriminate my rights contained in amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States.

I decline to deliver to the committee all records requested by the committee under subpoena dated November 15, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the said investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bayles, I might advise you, if you have discussed with counsel you might know, that in the future, with respect to the production of documents, the committee will accept all of those reasons in an answer which would encompass "for the reasons previously stated," which would not require you to repeat all the language each time.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you understand that?

Mr. BAYLES. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. What he is trying to tell you is, if you want to you may, from here on, if that is to be your course of action, say, "I decline to answer the questions on the grounds previously stated."

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 2 calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as Treasurer, past or present, of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and/or Christian Constitutional Crusaders which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 2.

Mr. BAYLES. I refuse to deliver to the committee any and all documents demanded for the reasons previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And for the reasons I stated, I order you to produce the documents.

Mr. BAYLES. For the constitutional reasons previously stated, I decline to do so.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 3 calls for you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1120, "U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return," for the fiscal years 1961 through June 30, 1965, filed by you as Treasurer of Christian Constitutional Crusaders.

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee for the constitutional reasons previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And for the reasons I previously stated, I order and direct you to produce them.

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents demanded by the committee for the constitutional reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 4 calls for you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964, filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee for the constitutional reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bayles, where do you presently reside?

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might incriminate my rights as guaranteed by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you reside at 201 Elmwood Drive, Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. BAYLES. I refuse to answer on the grounds my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Where are you currently employed?

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question because I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Bayles, if you wish to, you may say in answer to following questions you refuse to answer the questions on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are employed by the Gregg Implement Company, 2006 DeSiard Street, Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. BAYLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously given.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you have held the position of Grand Dragon, great titan, and treasurer.

Mr. BAYLES. I decline to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bayles, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that during the days when the Original Knights were under the leadership of Mr. Young and Mr. Swenson, that it used as a cover name the Louisiana Rifle Association.

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason previously given.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you signed a signature card on account of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan on February 3, 1964, at the Ouachita National Bank of Monroe, Louisiana, in the name of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders? (See Murry Martin Exhibit No. 4, p. 2367.)

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the constitutional reasons previously given.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bayles, as the treasurer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, you were responsible for cosigning checks drawn against the account maintained in its banking institutions. Can you tell the committee the purpose for which checks were drawn to yourself, L. G. Wilder, Robert Fuller, Houston P. Morris, and Murry Martin?

Mr. BAYLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the constitutional reasons given previously.

Mr. APPELL. Under the constitution and laws of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Louisiana, there is provision for the creation within Klaverns of a body known as the wrecking crew. Can you tell the committee the purpose and function of the wrecking crew?

Mr. BAYLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the constitutional reasons previously given.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever serve as a member of a wrecking crew?

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously given.

Mr. APPELL. Have you, as a Klansman, ever engaged in active violence?

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the constitutional reasons previously given.

Mr. APPELL. Early in 1965, Mr. Houston P. Morris broke from the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and formed the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.

Did you join with him in this organization?

Mr. BAYLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the constitutional reasons previously given.

Mr. APPELL. In the summer of 1965, the bulk of its membership disbanded from the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., and became affiliated with the United Klans of America, Inc., under the Realm of Louisiana under the Imperial Wizard, Robert Shelton, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Are you one of the members that took that course of action?

Mr. BAYLES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the constitutional reasons previously given.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness may be excused.

The committee will stand in recess for 5 minutes.

(Whereupon, at 4:35 p.m., the subcommittee recessed and reconvened at 4:57 p.m. with the following subcommittee members: Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Buchanan, present at time of recess and when hearing resumed.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Counsel will call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. I would like, Mr. Chairman, to call Billy Skipper.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. SKIPPER. I do.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

TESTIMONY OF BILLY SKIPPER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
JAMES R. VENABLE

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record, Mr. Skipper?

Mr. SKIPPER. Billy Skipper.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. SKIPPER. In Baskin, New Orleans, 1933.

Mr. APPELL. What month and day of 1933?

Mr. SKIPPER. April 22.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing before the committee with counsel?

Mr. SKIPPER. Sir?

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing with counsel?

Mr. SKIPPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please state his name for the record?

Mr. VENABLE. James R. Venable, attorney, Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, are you appearing before the committee in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by United States marshal on the 30th day of October 1965?

Mr. SKIPPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, the subpoena served upon you has an attachment which is made part of the subpoena, and it directs you to produce for the committee those documents described in two paragraphs.

Paragraph 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and affiliated organizations, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Klan Bureau Investigator and/or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. SKIPPER. Sir, I decline to produce those documents on the constitutional grounds of the 4th amendment of the Constitution—the 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents called for in paragraph 1.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Skipper, you were in the audience, were you not, when I explained to the previous witnesses what this subpoena called for, that is, that they called on you to produce documents which you hold in a representative capacity? You understand that?

Mr. SKIPPER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. We do not accept your right to invoke the constitutional amendments you outlined, as I previously stated. Therefore I direct you to answer this question.

Mr. SKIPPER. I decline to produce these documents and records on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, paragraph 2 calls for the production of:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past Klan Bureau Investigator and/or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I direct that you produce those documents.

Mr. SKIPPER. I decline to produce those documents on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And for the reasons you previously stated you decline to produce them?

Mr. SKIPPER. For the reasons I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, would you give the committee your educational background?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you have had a seventh-grade grammar school education.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline, on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. What is your employment background from the year 1960?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are presently self-employed as a plumbing contractor.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, have you had any military service?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm to deny the fact, that you served in the United States Army from May 5, 1953, to April 21, 1955, and transferred into the United States Army Reserve to complete your military obligation and were in the Reserve from April 1955 to June 1961.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. While a member on active duty in the United States Army were you ever court-martialed?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you——

The CHAIRMAN. One moment, please.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that in March of 1965 you attended a meeting of four factions of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, meeting held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana——

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully——

Mr. APPELL.—for the purpose of attempting to reunite these groups under one head.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you were the chief of the Klan Bureau of Investigation for the Sixth Congressional District of Louisiana of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, under the constitution of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana it states that no one will carry a gun inside the state or province meeting except those appointed by the “Chief KBI or Province KBI.” Would you tell us the functions of the province KBI?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. The word “province” in this instance as I recall it, Mr. Appell, encompasses a congressional district. Is that right?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir, and in the case of Mr. Skipper it is the Sixth Congressional District.

Mr. Skipper, have you received from the Federal Communications Commission authority to operate a Class D citizens band radio?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, I will show you a copy of an application signed Billy Skipper, dated August 21, 1964, application for a Class D citizens band license. I wish to read from that application language which appears on the reverse side. It reads:

On the application I mailed the 15 transmitters I requested was a mistake in filling out the application. I only need 10 because I am self-employed in Plumbing & Heating. Thank you. Billy Skipper.

I ask you to look at this and ask you whether this is a true copy of the application you executed and filed with the Federal Communications Commission.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to ask you, Mr. Skipper, whether or not these 10 transmitters were requested for use in your plumbing and heating business or for use of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the transmitters were used on Klan business.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, on October 6, 1964, Howard M. Lee, who possessed an Alcoholic Tax Unit License to sell firearms, was arrested by the Treasury Department. He was charged with failing to keep adequate records for rifles which he had obtained from several wholesalers and which he had distributed throughout the Bogalusa area, most of them to members of the Klan.

Howard Lee, according to the committee's investigation and according to an interview with Howard Lee in the Federal penitentiary in Texarkana, Texas, was the exalted cyclops of the Mitch Community Unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Mitch Community being located in Bogalusa.

Did you know Howard M. Lee to be the exalted cyclops of the unit?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did Howard M. Lee visit with you at your residence in connection with Klan business?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a sketch, a hand-drawn sketch, of how a person would outline the route which he would travel to get to your home. I ask you if this is factual?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Howard Lee drew that sketch in order to locate your residence. Did Howard Lee meet with you at your residence and discuss the business of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Howard Lee had in his possession a list containing names of people. I hand you this list in his hand and ask you if you knew those persons to be members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you purchase pistols or rifles from Howard M. Lee?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The records obtained by the Treasury Department from Howard Lee—and by the way, Mr. Chairman, I think the record should reflect that Howard Lee purchased for sale some 684 rifles and his records showed disposition of the rifles by him except in the case of 184. It was the failure to keep records of these that he was later indicted, tried, and sentenced to 3 years for, which he is now serving in the Federal penitentiary in Texarkana, Texas.

In 1964 he sold Billy Skipper, Denham Springs, Louisiana, one .303 Jungle carbine number MKF937A239, price $32.50.

Did you purchase that rifle from Mr. Lee?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Entry under the same date, sold to Billy Skipper, Denham Springs, Louisiana, one 30 calibre U.S.M1. carbine, E-563, amount $57.50. I show you this entry which contains a signature, Billy Skipper, and ask you if you purchased the rifle and if that is your signature.

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, when interviewed by agents of the Treasury Department did you admit that you had purchased from Mr. Lee one of the carbines that I have described to you?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. What weapons do you own other than those that I have described to you?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In April 1965, following an argument, did you pull a gun on a Denham Springs police officer?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Skipper, in May of 1964, the Klan in Bogalusa, a part of the Sixth Congressional District, held a rally in which the Klansmen were masked in public in violation of Louisiana State law. Do you possess any knowledge of whether assurances were received by the Klan that they would not be prosecuted for violating the State law?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As chief of the KBI in 1964 and early 1965, did cross-burning, throwing of tacks on people's lawns, threatening telephone calls, come under the jurisdiction of the KBI?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you personally engage in any of these acts?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Skipper, is it not a fact that the application you filed with the Federal Communications Commission for a citizens band radio license was applied for by you for use by you not only as a member and official of the Klan group to which you belong, but also in your capacity as a member of the Klan Bureau of Investigation?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Is it not a fact that the gun, or guns, you purchased from Mr. Lee were so purchased by you for use by you in your capacity as a member of the Klan Bureau of Investigation in the Sixth Congressional District, which is the area that you represent?

Mr. SKIPPER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no questions.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I have no questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The documents we have just examined the witness on will be inserted in the record at the points where Mr. Appell previously questioned the witness.

Mr. Appell now has an additional question to ask and an additional document to offer in evidence.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like the record to show that the sketch which I exhibited to the witness, directions to his residence, was drawn by Howard M. Lee, the exalted cyclops of the Mitch Community Unit of the United Klans of America.

The CHAIRMAN. That drawing will be a part of the record.

Is that all?

Mr. APPELL. That is all, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The committee will stand in recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

(Whereupon, at 5:20 p.m., Tuesday, January 4, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Wednesday, January 5, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee met, pursuant to recess, as 10 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; Joe R. Pool, of Texas; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator, and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Mr. MANUEL, will you call the first witness.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Chairman, the staff would like to call at this time Mr. Ralph Blumberg.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand, sir.

Do your solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I do.

TESTIMONY OF RALPH BLUMBERG

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, would you please state your full name for the record?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Ralph Blumberg.

Mr. MANUEL. And when and where were you born, Mr. Blumberg?

Mr. BLUMBERG. February 27, 1921, Cotton Plant, Arkansas.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I completed 2 years at the University of Missouri.

Mr. MANUEL. And would you please give the committee a résumé of your career in the Armed Forces of the United States?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I served a little over 4 years in the United States Coast Guard.

Mr. MANUEL. What were the years of your service?

Mr. BLUMBERG. From 1941 to 1945.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your business and professional background?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I have been in broadcasting since 1945.

Mr. MANUEL. Were you ever a resident of Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. A little louder.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. I went to Bogalusa in July 1961.

Mr. MANUEL. And what did you do in Bogalusa?

Mr. BLUMBERG. We purchased Radio Station WBOX, and I operated it as an owner and operator of the station.

Mr. MANUEL. That was in July 1961; is that correct, sir?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. During that period of time, July 1961 and shortly thereafter, would you inform the committee as to your opinion as a private citizen of the racial situation which existed at that time in Bogalusa?

Mr. BLUMBERG. As far as I knew, from 1961, the next 3 or 4 years, I knew of no racial tension or any racial problems. Whether they existed or not is another question, but I knew of none of this.

Mr. MANUEL. Prior to approximately May of 1964, were you aware as a private citizen of the existence of a Ku Klux Klan organization in the area of Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I had heard some rumors to that effect, but they were merely rumors. I really couldn't say that I definitely knew factually, because I didn't.

Mr. MANUEL. When did you first become aware of such a group?

Mr. BLUMBERG. When they held an open rally in the city of Bogalusa in May of 1964. It was an open rally with all the regalia, hooded sheets and 20-foot crosses, this kind of thing.

The CHAIRMAN. Were they masked? Were any of them masked?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. I didn't attend that rally. This is what was told to me.

The CHAIRMAN. From the reports and so on, it was a meeting where Klansmen appeared in hooded sheets or regalia?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Regalia.

Mr. MANUEL. During that time, May of 1964, were there any racial demonstrations in Bogalusa at that time?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No, not that I know of.

Mr. MANUEL. As a private citizen did you detect any racial tension at that time?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No. I have to be honest, as a private citizen I knew of no racial tension whatsoever or of any activity at that time.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, in October of 1964 did you, with others, meet in order to form an organization to better deal with racial problems in the Bogalusa area?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. In October of 1964 I was invited to the home of an attorney in Bogalusa, Mr. Bascom Talley, who had been appointed a Community Relations¹ official for Bogalusa, and when I arrived at his home I found a group of other citizens, including two men from Community Relations. I think at that time it was headed by former Governor LeRoy Collins. We were told they felt there was possible trouble coming to Bogalusa with the racial question and they wanted a group of citizens to get together and bring a speaker into Bogalusa in order to help Bogalusa avoid the racial pitfalls some of the other communities in the South had already experienced.

The CHAIRMAN. By "they" you mean former Governor Collins?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. From the period May 1964 until your initial meeting with this group which you have just described in October of 1964, did you as a private citizen detect Klan activities, recruitings, or rallies or anything of that sort in the Bogalusa area?

Mr. BLUMBERG. What period was that?

Mr. MANUEL. From May 1964, when you told the committee there was an open rally in Bogalusa, until October 1964 when you met with this group?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I had heard rumors of recruitment. I am not sure there were any open Klan activities. There may have been a few cross-burnings in this period. As a matter of fact, I think it was the editor of the newspaper, Lou Major, who had cross-burnings on his lawn at that time.

Mr. MANUEL. Was Mr. Major one of the men who comprised the group you met with in October, 1964?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, he was.

Mr. MANUEL. Who were the other members of that group?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Reverend Jerry Chance, minister of the Main Street Baptist Church; Reverend Paul Gillespie, minister of the Memorial Baptist Church; Reverend Bruce Shepherd, minister of the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church; Lou Major, editor of the Bogalusa News; and Bascom Talley, an attorney and Community Relations representative.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Talley was then, or before or since, an official of the Louisiana Bar Association; was he not?

Mr. BLUMBERG. He was past president of the Louisiana Bar Association. I think he was president 2 years ago or perhaps 1 year ago. And myself. We were the six.

Mr. MANUEL. Specifically, Mr. Blumberg, what activities did this group engage in, in order to improve racial relations in Bogalusa? What did you plan to do?

Mr. BLUMBERG. We had decided to bring Brooks Hays to Bogalusa to speak to the professional and business community.

The CHAIRMAN. We know who he is, but for the record would you describe who he is?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Hays is an ex-Congressman from the State of Arkansas, and I understand he now has been working directly with the President, going around and speaking, especially in the Southern States.

The CHAIRMAN. He was an active religious leader; was he not?

Mr. BLUMBERG. He was. I started to say we wanted him because he was a prominent Baptist layman and we were told he was an engaging speaker, somewhat of a humorist. And we felt if he talked to the professional and business community of Bogalusa, we possibly could avoid some of these racial pitfalls that some of the other communities had experienced prior to our problem. This actually was the main purpose of our organization.

Mr. MANUEL. Was your purpose at any time to force integration on the city of Bogalusa?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Absolutely not.

Mr. MANUEL. When was it decided to invite Mr. Hays to speak in Bogalusa?

Mr. BLUMBERG. We decided around the first part of December.

The CHAIRMAN. You are now in the year 1964?

Mr. BLUMBERG. In the year 1964; yes, sir. Mr. Talley had contacted Mr. Hays and invited him to speak in Bogalusa and Mr. Hays had accepted and we set the date around January 7.

Mr. MANUEL. After the decision was made by the six of you gentlemen, what action did you take to implement the appearance of Mr. Hays in Bogalusa?

Mr. BLUMBERG. The first thing we did, we went to talk to the city administrator, because we wanted the mayor and commission council to sponsor the speech. We wanted the mayor to introduce Mr. Hays and, frankly, we were going to step out of the picture.

We set up a meeting with Mayor Cutrer and the city council in the City Hall. This was the period right before Christmas, perhaps mid-December of 1964. We met with the mayor and the commission council and we told the mayor what we wanted to do.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you act as spokesman for this group at that time?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, I did.

Mr. MANUEL. Please proceed.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Basically, what we told the commission council was that we wanted to bring Mr. Hays in. We explained why. In essence, what we were really after was to get the entire business and professional community behind the mayor and commission council if trouble started in Bogalusa. We felt they were out on a limb and somebody was getting ready to saw it off. But the mayor felt our timing was bad. We also made the statement that he was afraid the Klan would violently object to the meeting.

There is one thing I left out, and it was very important. We were told by Community Relations that since Mr. Hays was with the Federal Government we had to have an integrated audience. So we decided to invite 8 Negroes who had been working with the mayor in the past to this meeting. We also felt it should be a private meeting. We felt if it was public there would be trouble. We had a list of approximately 100 names of business and professional people in the community and 8 Negro leaders.

Mr. MANUEL. So there would have been a total of 108 people?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I would like to say for the record, in further reference to Mr. Hays, that he served as president of the Southern Baptist Convention of more than 10 million members and is a very prominent Baptist layman.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

MR. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, in addition to the mayor of Bogalusa what other officials were present at your meeting?

MR. BLUMBERG. The city attorney, Robert Rester; also the four commissioners, Andy Overton, Arnold Spiers, Jim Talbot, and Marshall Holloway.

MR. MANUEL. Did any of them contribute anything to the conversation about the appearance of Mr. Hays in Bogalusa?

MR. BLUMBERG. The only one who spoke was the mayor and the chief of police, Arnold Spiers, and they both agreed the Klan would violently object to an integrated meeting and they felt it was not the time to hold a meeting. However, we asked the administration if they would at least attend the meeting, and they agreed to do this.

Right before we left, which was a little before 3 o'clock, we asked that they keep this information quiet. No one else in the community knew about it at the time, and we wanted it kept quiet because we didn't want the whole story out at that time. We had not issued the invitations yet. That was 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

At 5 o'clock that same afternoon, Reverend Shepherd received a knock at the door; and the man at the door was a well-known character in Bogalusa—I can't recall his name—"Buddy" somebody, and he told the Reverend Shepherd that the Masons in town had just heard about Brooks Hays being invited and they didn't think it was a good idea to bring Mr. Hays to Bogalusa. Of course, I am being nice in saying it. I was told he was not that nice in relating the message.

MR. MANUEL. To go back to the meeting with the mayor and city council, I understood you to say the mayor said the Klan would object to Mr. Hays speaking in Bogalusa. As a private citizen, was this your first encounter with the Klan as a powerful force in Bogalusa?

MR. BLUMBERG. This was our baptism. This was the first time we had heard the word "Klan" as it dealt with fear and power, yes.

MR. MANUEL. Subsequent to the meeting, will you tell the committee what your group's activities were in trying to obtain a place for Mr. Hays to speak?

MR. BLUMBERG. We first wanted to hold the meeting in the Episcopal Church, Reverend Shepherd's church, but there was so much difficulty in obtaining the meeting place that his congregation asked him not to have the meeting there. And all six of us tried all over town, any place we could think of that was practical, to hold the meeting, but we were turned down everywhere. We talked to the gentleman in charge of the armory and were turned down there. We talked to the mayor to try to get the City Hall, and they refused. Finally we just had to give up finding a place to hold the meeting because there was no place to be had.

MR. POOL. I want to clarify something for the record. I didn't get what you said about the man quoting the Masons.

MR. BLUMBERG. He merely used the word that the "Masons" had heard Brooks Hays was coming to Bogalusa and they didn't feel Mr. Hays should come, but I am sure when he used the word "Masons" he was just pulling it out of the air.

MR. POOL. In other words, so far as you know, the Masons were not involved in this?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No; not at all.

The CHAIRMAN. In fact, you referred to the so-called Buddy as a "well-known character," so you are not subscribing to what he was saying?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Absolutely not.

The CHAIRMAN. It might be advisable for you to speak a little about that. By "character," do you mean he was known as a segregationist or possible Klansman then or subsequently known? What did you mean by that word "character" for the record?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Number one, I understand he was quite a drunkard. He used to love to brawl all the time, and I was told he was at one time a deputy sheriff who was taken off the force. I don't know if he was a policeman or not, but let us put it this way: he was a great candidate for the Klan.

The CHAIRMAN. What do you mean by that?

Mr. BLUMBERG. He was a great candidate for Klan membership.

The CHAIRMAN. I assumed that was what you meant from the way you said it. I wanted it for the record.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Let us get it for the record.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, in your attempts to secure a speaking place for Mr. Hays, what were the reasons that your group was turned down at the places that you visited, by the persons that you visited?

The CHAIRMAN. I think I have the background for that. I take it by this time, including the encounter with the minister you referred to, I assume by this time in the chronology of your discussion it was then quite well known in town that Brooks Hays had been invited or might come?

Mr. BLUMBERG. After the minister had been visited?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Actually, no. It wasn't. This is what surprised us because nobody in town knew about this except the six of us.

The CHAIRMAN. We have learned, even in Congress, that there is a crowd.

Mr. BLUMBERG. We learned it back in 1964. But anyway, this was the first time we realized there was a leak in the city administration, because they were the only ones who knew about this.

Mr. MANUEL. Were any members of the city administration with whom you met that day later known to be members that day of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. As a result of a Federal hearing in New Orleans a few weeks ago, the city attorney was named as a member of the Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. That was Robert Rester?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes; and he was at that meeting.

Mr. MANUEL. Did there come a time when your group made an announcement in the paper as to the invitation issued to Mr. Brooks Hays?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

First, I think, to keep the record straight chronologically, right after Reverend Shepherd had received this visit, I had gone to St. Louis with my family for the holidays. Christmas and New Year's, and while there I received a phone call from the radio station saying that a pamphlet had been distributed in Bogalusa by the Klan. They said in this pamphlet that Brooks Hays was coming to Bogalusa and we were going to try to integrate them.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you have a copy of that pamphlet, Mr. Blumberg?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, I do.

(Document marked "Ralph Blumberg Exhibit No. 1." See p. 2454.)

Mr. MANUEL. Would you be good enough to read the pamphlet for the committee?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. [Reading:]

"On Sunday, December 27, 1964," —

The CHAIRMAN. What is the date?

Mr. BLUMBERG. December 27, 1964. [Reading:]

On Sunday, December 27, 1964, the Bogalusa Daily News announced that a "renowned layman" Brooks Hayes, is to speak in Bogalusa, on January 7, 1965. His subject will be better community relations. The Bogalusa Daily News stated,

"a group of civic, religious and business leaders of Bogalusa have invited Hayes to speak here at the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Parish House. Due to limited seating facilities, the meeting will be by invitation."

The Daily News did not tell you the whole true story concerning this meeting and it is the purpose of this leaflet to give you the full story concerning this meeting.

In the first place, this meeting of January 7, 1965, is to be an integrated meeting. The meeting was arranged by Bascom D. Talley, Jr., the local public or community relations commissioner who is holding this job by appointment of Lyndon B. Johnson under the infamous civil rights act. Bascom D. Talley formed a committee to help shoulder the responsibility of this meeting. This committee of integration minded people are the group of "civic, religious and business leaders" referred to by the Daily News. Mr. Talley's committee is composed of Bruce H. Shepherd, Minister of the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Vertrees Young, a member of the Episcopal Church, Reverend Jerry Chance, Minister of the Main Street Baptist Church, Reverend Paul G. Gillespie, Minister of the Memorial Baptist Church, Reverend James T. Harris, Minister of the Methodist Church, Reverend Bob Lambright whose similar escapades have made him a Minister without a church, Ralph Blumberg, owner and operator of the radio station WBOX, and, of course, Lou Major, Mr. Talley's favorite puppet.

In the second place, this integrated meeting is for the sole purpose of planning the integration of your Church, Schools, Businesses, Restaurants, Hotels, Motels, etc., and those who will receive invitations to the January 7th meeting will be people who Bascom D. Talley hopes that Brooks Hayes can convince that they should change their social and religious lives, and that in turn will try to convince you that you should help integration by sitting in Church with the black man, hiring more of them in your businesses, serving and eating with them in your cafes, and allowing your children to sit by filthy, runny-nosed, ragged, ugly little niggers in your public schools.

In the third place, the Bogalusa Daily News did not tell you the whole story about Brooks Hayes. He is a traitor to the South. He assisted Sherman Adams draw the order to send Federal Troops into his own State of Arkansas to put nine little niggers into white schools, the result of which was spending $5,000,000 of the taxpayers money as well as the beating and jailing of hundreds of white citizens. As a result of Hayes' integration efforts, he was defeated in his efforts for re-election to Congress by a political unknown, Dr. Dale Alford. Brooks Hayes is now a member of the Civil Rights Community Relations Committee and he is paid a lucrative salary by the Federal Government to make talks such as he is scheduled to make in Bogalusa, on January 7th., 1965.

The Ku Klux Klan is strongly organized in Bogalusa and throughout Washington and St. Tammany Parishes. Being a secret organization, we have KLAN members in every conceivable business in this area. We will know the names of all who are invited to the Brooks Hayes meeting and we will know who did and did not attend this meeting. Accordingly, we take this means to urge all of you to refrain from attending this meeting. Those who do attend this meeting will be tagged as integrationists and will be delt [sic] with accordingly by the Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN.

There is in Bogalusa a man named Talley, who with a hand picked committee has planned an integrated rally;
 This man would love the nigger.
 in order to grow financially bigger;
 He and his committee have come up with an integration plan, which is bitterly opposed by the KU KLUX KLAN;
 Talley has attended Nigger Churches to sing,
 this was done to please Martin Luther King;
 While Talley sings with his nigger group,
 the KU KLUX KLAN will more Knights recruit;
 Soon Talley and his committee will know who is boss,
 as the KU KLUX KLAN lights the fiery cross.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, is the source of this leaflet which you have read identified on the flyer?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, it is. At the top it says: "Published By The Original Ku Klux Klan Of Louisiana."

The CHAIRMAN. Let me ask you two questions:

Was this to be a meeting by invitation?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes; yes, this was to be a meeting by invitation.

The CHAIRMAN. Was the purpose of the meeting to force integration or to accomplish the objectives suggested in that pamphlet?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Absolutely not. Nothing could have been further from the truth.

The CHAIRMAN. Why had it been decided to make the meeting by invitation?

Mr. BLUMBERG. We decided this because we were told by Community Relations that Mr. Hays had to speak to an integrated audience since he worked for the Federal Government. And we felt if we made it an open meeting and it was to be integrated, there probably would be a great deal of trouble; and we felt if we made it private, we could keep the possibility of trouble down. Also, we were very, very anxious to see to it that the power structure in the community attended the meeting, and that is why we were going to make it private by invitation. However, we never did have the opportunity to issue the invitations.

The CHAIRMAN. As it turned out, based on subsequent events, did you come to the conclusion that Mayor Cutrer, in expressing himself as he did at the meeting you had with his council, was expressing a factual opinion rather than personal involvement in approbation of what might have developed?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Willis, this is a difficult question to answer. Perhaps I should say this, in all fairness to Mayor Cutrer.

The CHAIRMAN. I want the record straight on that.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I think the mayor has tried to do his very level best as mayor of a deep South community. Here is a man who grew up in Bogalusa, and many, many members of the Ku Klux Klan were friends of his, and I am sure this man felt a moral obligation, as the mayor. But I don't think I am qualified, or anyone else is qualified, to criticize a man in his position. I don't know all of his problems, and whatever his decisions have been, whatever his actions have been, I am sure they were made in sincerity and honesty.

The CHAIRMAN. I am glad to hear you say that because subsequent events as a factual matter proved trouble did arise.

Mr. BLUMBERG. That is true.

The CHAIRMAN. I have never met the man and don't want to charge him for making a factual statement at that time.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, may I ask a question?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. You stated Robert Rester was city attorney and in attendance at the meeting and subsequently was disclosed as being a member of the Klan through Federal court proceedings. Do you know if he was elected by the people or appointed by the mayor?

Mr. BLUMBERG. He was elected by the people.

Mr. WELTNER. Thank you.

Mr. POOL. Let me see that pamphlet. Were there any direct threats to anyone attending the meeting?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. POOL. Read what it says about that.

Mr. BLUMBERG. [Reading:]

We will know the names of all who are invited to the Brooks Hayes meeting and we will know who did and did not attend this meeting. Accordingly, we take this means to urge all of you to refrain from attending this meeting. Those who do attend this meeting will be tagged as integrationists and will be delt [sic] with accordingly by the Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN.

Mr. POOL. The words "dealt with accordingly" is that a threat?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I would say it is a threat; yes, sir. I think it is about as definite a threat as you can make.

The CHAIRMAN. I think the word "intimidation" would certainly apply.

Mr. POOL. Is the word "intimidation" in there?

The CHAIRMAN. No. I think you asked if the words "dealt with accordingly" could be construed as a threat. I think if you wanted to use a word which, in my opinion, could not be questioned, it would be an "intimidation" if not a "threat."

Mr. POOL. To be fair, you could say they would be dealt with accordingly in the next election, which would be all right.

Mr. BLUMBERG. That is true.

Mr. POOL. We are looking for acts of violence and threats. There is a question in my mind whether you can call this a direct threat or not.

Mr. WELTNER. May I ask a question at this point, Mr. Chairman?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. Would you read that part of the pamphlet that says being members of a secret organization we have members in every conceivable place, or words to that effect?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. [Reading:]

"Being a secret organization, we have KLAN members in every conceivable business in this area."

Mr. WELTNER. On the basis of the disclosures that have been made subsequent to the distribution of this pamphlet, would you describe that as an accurate statement?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will be honest with you. I think it is a very honest statement; yes.

Mr. WELTNER. That is my opinion too.

Mr. BLUMBERG. And I have never changed my opinion.

Mr. WELTNER. The Klan in Bogalusa did have Klan members, maybe not in every conceivable position, but in many positions of importance, and I think that point should be developed.

Mr. POOL. Are you going to tie the Klan into threats later on in your testimony?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Chairman, may I say, by way of being "dealt with accordingly," as I understand it, there were very few elected officers there, weren't there? Weren't most of them church and business and professional people? I don't know how they could deal "accordingly" with ministers or editors on election day. And what about business and professional men being "dealt with" on election day?

Mr. POOL. I was thinking of the political leaders.

Mr. BUCHANAN. These were primarily other than elected officials.

Mr. POOL. I am not defending it. I am saying, in my opinion, it is not a definite threat.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I am joining you in clarifying the record.

Mr. WELTNER. That sounds like the man who said he didn't know if it was a threat or not but they had authority to do away with him.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Proceed.

Mr. MANUEL. Following the distribution of the pamphlet you have just read and following the fact you could not provide adequate speaking facilities to Mr. Hays, did your group cancel the engagement with Mr. Hays?

Mr. BLUMBERG. We met at the newspaper office the first week in January, I don't know the exact date, and we discussed this. In saying "we," I am talking about the six in our group and the two men from Community Relations. We talked from 8 o'clock in the evening until 12 o'clock that night trying to make a decision on what to do. We decided to cancel the meeting but to put a statement in the paper explaining why we canceled it. We came back at 8 o'clock the next morning and we all helped to draft the statement, and that afternoon we published the statement in the paper.

Mr. MANUEL. In general terms, what did the statement say?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I am a little hazy on the statement. However, as I remember it, we told the public we had to cancel the Brooks Hays meeting because everybody had feared the Klan in the community and we couldn't find a place to hold the meeting, and we felt there was no freedom of assembly in Bogalusa and we were ashamed of this fact that we couldn't hold a public meeting because of fear. This, in essence, was the general theme of the statement.

Mr. MANUEL. Subsequent to the appearance of this statement in the Bogalusa Daily News, were you personally or your family the objects or victims of any harassment?

The CHAIRMAN. Before coming to that, let me develop a thought or two here.

I have before me a copy of the opinion of the circuit court of appeals decided recently in connection with an injunction suit filed by the United States of America against the following—and I will name them and I want you to make a mental note if one of these defendants in this suit comes to your mind as being the man called Buddy who appeared at the minister's home. I don't know if it is a fact. I see Mr. Appell shaking his head so maybe he knows the answer. Do you know the answer, whether this man "Buddy" was one of the defendants?

Mr. APPELL. He was not a defendant.

The CHAIRMAN. I am now advised that this man "Buddy" you referred to was not a defendant. But this suit was an injunction suit filed by the United States against the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, an unincorporated association; the Anti-Communist Christian Association, which we will talk about later; and then quite a long list of individuals.¹

Referring to your testimony thus far concerning the proposed speech to be made by former Congressman Brooks Hays, the court, having heard the evidence in the whole in that case, said the following:

"Specific Findings"—this is a subheading—"Specific Findings of Klan Intimidation and Violence":

We select the following examples of the defendants' acts of intimidation and violence.

(1) January 7, 1965, former Congressman Brooks Hays of Arkansas, at the invitation of religious, business, and civic leaders of Bogalusa, was scheduled to speak in Bogalusa at St. Matthews Episcopal Church Parish House on the subject of community relations. The meeting was to be open to both Negroes and whites and it was planned that seating would be on a racially non-segregated basis. After learning of the proposed appearance of Mr. Hays and the arrangements for an unsegregated meeting, the Klan and its members protested to the Mayor and the members of the Commission Council and, by means of threats of civil disorder and economic retaliation against local businessmen who supported the meeting, caused the withdrawal of the invitation to Mr. Hays to speak. December 18, 1964, before the Hays invitation was withdrawn, the Mayor of Bogalusa and Police Commissioner Arnold Spiers, in an effort to head off possible civil disorder, appeared at a Klan meeting at the Disabled Veterans Hall. The show of force at this meeting by over 150 hooded Klansmen—and [to Mr. Pool] I quote now for your information—

unquestionably intimidated public officials in Bogalusa and, later, hindered effective police action against Klan violence. On the stand, Mayor Cutrer admitted that he was "frightened when he looked into 150 pairs of eyes." [Emphasis in original.]

So at that point in your chronology, I think it is valuable for the record to have the findings of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

(Document marked "Ralph Blumberg Exhibit No. 2." (See pp. 2475-2519).)

Mr. POOL. It does not have too much importance to the question of the pamphlet he was raising.

The CHAIRMAN. I don't know.

Mr. POOL. The "150 pairs of eyes" were the most important.

The CHAIRMAN. That is right.

Mr. POOL. That is what I was pointing out a while ago.

Supp. 330, decided Dec. 1, 1965.*

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, would you please tell the committee what actions of harassment or intimidation were directed against you and in what form, sir?

Mr. BLUMBERG. After we put the statement in the paper—we signed our names, all six of us, to the statement, and then the following day we broadcast our first editorial since we had been in Bogalusa about the civil rights problem.

Mr. MANUEL. This is over your radio station WBOX?

Mr. BLUMBERG. WBOX; yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Proceed.

Mr. BLUMBERG. And we merely explained why we participated in the Brooks Hays affair, for the reasons I have given you before. And also we told the people that the civil rights law was now the law of the land and, regardless of how you felt about it, it must be complied with or the community was going to be in trouble. And this, in essence, was exactly what we had stated editorially.

Of course, this editorial and the statement in the paper was like setting off a time bomb. We received threatening telephone calls at the station and at home, and the essence of the calls—not only myself, but the other five men involved. And the pattern was pretty much the same:

“When you signed this statement you have signed your death warrant.” And some of the calls stated that “we are going to kill your wife and your children” or “we are going to take care of your wife and your children.” This type of thing.

Mr. POOL. To whom were these calls made?

Mr. BLUMBERG. They were made to myself, my wife answered some, some of the announcers at the station answered some, and they were also made to the other five members.

Mr. POOL. Did you recognize any of the voices?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No, sir. They were completely anonymous.

Mr. POOL. Completely anonymous, and you couldn't pinpoint them?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. POOL. Did you report it to the police department?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No, sir, I didn't.

Mr. POOL. Why didn't you?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Frankly, I didn't think about it. As I look back on it, I should have as a matter of record, but I didn't and I don't think any of the other men did.

Mr. POOL. Was it your feeling the police department wouldn't do anything about it?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Frankly, I don't see what anybody could do about it, being anonymous phone calls.

Mr. POOL. How about the FBI?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No.

Mr. POOL. You didn't report it to them either?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No.

Then around this time, I guess a few days later, a man walked into the station that we knew fairly well, and I wasn't there. He talked to my wife. He sat down in front of her and he made a statement that friends of his were very surprised I signed the statement in the paper and they felt that I had been hoodwinked into getting involved, and they felt I should publicly apologize for signing the statement and I should explain that all of this was, in essence, a bunch of lies and that I really didn't intend to have anything to do with it.

And my wife told him that I wasn't going to apologize for anything; I knew exactly what I had done.

And he shrugged his shoulders and he made this statement, he said: "Well, these friends of mine don't want to harm women and children." He shrugged his shoulders and walked away.

Mr. MANUEL. Did he identify the friends of his of whom he was speaking?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No. That is merely what it was. And then after that I sent my wife and family to St. Louis to stay for a while.

Mr. MANUEL. As far as the phone-call harassment is concerned, did it take any particular pattern?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Well, the most annoying thing was the fact we received phone calls perhaps every 2 hours all throughout the evening, all night long. Nobody would say anything. Pick up the receiver and there would be nothing on the other end.

Mr. MANUEL. How long did this last, Mr. Blumberg?

Mr. BLUMBERG. It is kind of hard to say. I imagine, if I could pinpoint it, perhaps about 3 weeks.

Mr. POOL. Did you ever ask the telephone company to give you an unlisted number? Or don't they do that now?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No. Actually, what I did, after a while I just took it off the hook and left it off.

Mr. MANUEL. Were there any other acts of intimidation and harassment directed toward you, such as tacks in your tires, and so forth?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. I had the car windows of my automobile smashed, my wife's smashed, and we had tacks put in the driveway and ruined, you know, a set of tires, and that is about it.

Mr. POOL. You didn't report this to the police department?

Mr. BLUMBERG. We reported this.

Mr. POOL. You did report it?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Was there any trouble at your transmitting tower in Bogalusa?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. After we made our plight public nationally and editorialized, we decided to fight the Klan. Right after our first editorial, which was on a Thursday, some time in March, that evening we received seven bullet holes in our transmitter house fired by a high-powered rifle.

Mr. WELTNER. May I interrupt as a matter of chronology?

This meeting with Mr. Hays was supposed to have been on January 7?

Mr. BLUMBERG. That is right.

Mr. WELTNER. And at the time there was a statement in the paper which bore your name and the editorial, and the general acts of harassment continued all through the month of March?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. There were no other statements and editorials, but—

Mr. BLUMBERG. We skipped. I haven't told the rest of it yet.

Right after the January 7 editorial, the most effective weapon the Klan, of course, used against me was the boycott. They would call our sponsors by telephone and tell them if they didn't stop advertising on the station that they would boycott their place of business. And they received numerous phone calls and finally the advertisers had to go off the station and they pretty well reduced our income.

And then—and I think this should be told for the record because I made a big mistake—right after we lost most of our sponsors, around the middle of January, I didn't say another word—no editorializing, no nothing. I simply tried to get our sponsors back on the radio station. To be honest about it, I think I was actually appeasing the Klan. And then around March, the 1st of March, we had most of the sponsors back on, and they started the phone call routine again. It was very organized this time, and they reduced us down from approximately 75 sponsors a month to around 6. This is when I knew I had made a mistake, because you just can't compromise with the devil, and that is what I was trying to do. And I think this is important that this be told for the record, because there is no compromise with this sort of evil.

And they had reduced our sponsorship to about 6. We had to make up our mind at this time what to do. I am sure the Klan felt we would close our doors and walk away quietly and do nothing, but we decided to make a fight, for two reasons:

One, if we could keep our doors open long enough with outside help, perhaps the merchants would come back and advertise again.

And, number two, which is real important, the longer we could keep our doors open, we felt the better it was going to be for small radio stations and small communication media in small markets, especially in the South. Because, if the Klan could close our doors easily, this would be a tremendous display of strength. And the longer we could keep our doors open, I felt the more frustrated and more confused we would get these people and perhaps they would think twice before hitting a communications media again.

This actually has been our purpose in this fight, and our fight basically has been for freedom of speech. It's that simple. It has nothing to do with integration or segregation, regardless of what the Klan wants to make out. It is strictly a matter of freedom of speech. And this, gentlemen, has been exactly what the fight has been about, as far as I am concerned, with the Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, what reason do you have to believe that this boycott of which you speak was initiated and carried through by the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I didn't know at the beginning, and even in our editorials we never mentioned the name of the Klan until they came out with one of their own publications and publicly stated that they were behind the boycott.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you have a copy of that particular publication?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Was it likewise, as the other publications which you read, distributed by the Original Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please read that, Mr. Blumberg, for the committee?

Mr. BLUMBERG. The entire article?

Mr. MANUEL. Would you, please? Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. What is the date of it, so we will know?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I don't have a date.

Mr. APPELL. It is not dated.

The CHAIRMAN. It is not dated. Could you fix about the day so that we could put in the record a chronological understanding?

Mr. BLUMBERG. It must have been around March or April, I guess.

The CHAIRMAN. 1965?

Mr. MANUEL. The early part of 1965, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BLUMBERG. [Reading:]

As a result of the statement issued in the Bogalusa Daily News, signed by Bascom D. Talley, Jr., Bruce Shepherd, Paul Gillespie, Jerry Chance, Ralph Blumberg and Lou Major announcing the cancellation of the invitational, integrated, speaking engagement in this city by Brooks Hays, our City, as well as the Klan, received unfair, biased, national publicity from television and newspapers throughout the country. The national news media quoted Bascom Talley as saying that Bogalusa has a "leadership vacuum". They quoted Bruce Shepherd as saying "Bogalusa has a high rate of alcoholism and mental illness". The national press even misquoted Brooks Hays who was supposed to have said "Bogalusa is a city in the grips of the Ku Klux Klan." Even one magazine contained an article entitled "Klan Town U.S.A." which accused Bogalusa of being dominated by the Ku Klux Klan. This article was written by a free lance, alcoholic reporter—Paul Good, who spent over $100.00 on alcoholic beverages, who wrecked his car, and who was charged with reckless driving during his short visit to Bogalusa.

Bruce Shepherd was quoted as saying that he had received calls threatening to bomb his church if Brooks Hays were allowed to speak there. We accuse Bruce Shepherd of lying. There was no such threat or threats made and we challenge Bruce Shepherd to prove that he made such a report to the police.

Mr. MANUEL. At that point let me interrupt you for a moment and ask, did you know whether as a matter of fact Reverend Shepherd had received threats to bomb his church?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I don't know. I really don't know.

Mr. MANUEL. All right.

Mr. BLUMBERG. [Reading:]

Bruce Shepherd must have had his family in mind rather than our city when he stated we had a high rate of alcoholism and mental illness because Bruce Shepherd himself can be observed frequently emerging from the Cuban Liquor Company with an arm load of liquor. We further would have you know that Bruce Shepherd's son recently faced a charge in court for morals violation and was committed to a mental institution.

The Ku Klux Klan is now in the process of checking on Reverend Shepherd's moral standards. If he is cleared you will be so informed. If he is not cleared, you will be informed of any and all misdeeds or moral violations of his in the past.

Much has been printed about the Ku Klux Klan being a violent organization. This is not true. There was no violence when public accommodations were tested in this city and there has been no violence since then. We, however, have formed a large block white vote which will more than offset any other block vote in this entire parish. We also are boycotting businesses which cater to integration such as Mobile Gas Stations, Radio Station W.B.O.X., Rosenblum's, Zesto and the Barbecue Inn.

Mr. MANUEL. At that point Mr. Blumberg, let me ask you if you know why the Klan would boycott the Mobile gas stations in Bogalusa?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I am a little hazy on this one. I feel it is probably because, if I am not mistaken, I think this was operated by some Negro attendants and they catered greatly to Negro trade, and I was told that Mr. Talley owned the land on which this station was located.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you know whether the boycott was successful as far as the Mobile gas stations were concerned?

Mr. BLUMBERG. They have almost ruined the people financially.

Mr. MANUEL. What about the other business establishments mentioned—Rosenblum's, Zesto, and the Barbecue Inn?

Mr. Blumberg. I don't know anything about their boycotts, nor the reasons.

Mr. MANUEL. Please proceed, sir.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Where did I leave off?

Mr. MANUEL. Right after "Barbecue Inn."

Mr. BLUMBERG. [Reading:]

The Bogalusa Daily News is also being boycotted by the Klan because while the National press was tearing Bogalusa into shreds, it did not print one single word in the defense of Bogalusa. The theory behind boycotting the Daily News and these other businesses is that to financially aid such business institutions is comparable to buying bullets for a man as John Dillenger who would take the bullets and then kill you and rob your city.

Congressman Charles Weltner of Atlanta, Georgia, a member of the House Committee of Unamerican Activities has proposed that committee investigate the Klan. We wonder why he doesn't also propose to investigate the Black Muslims who advocate black supremacy, who commit murder and who commit arson all over the country in a period of one week and who defied and refused to allow Chicago Police to enter their meeting place while they were beating almost to the point of death one of Malcolm X's friends. We urge each of you to write this Congressman and demand that he investigate the Black Muslims.

The original Ku Klux Klan invites any investigation that Congressman Weltner should like to make. The citizens of Bogalusa know that this city has always been a Klanish City from the days of the Great Southern Lumber Company until now. We have never appreciated outsiders telling us how to run our city. Outsiders have often caused trouble in our City. A good example of this was when labor unions were forming in Bogalusa. A gang of union busters or hired gunmen were brought into this city to kill those who stood up for the common man. As a result of such incidents, it is only natural that Bogalusa would be Klanish.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you finished?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I would like to point this out, in view of the reference to the committee:

This committee, on March 30, 1965, voted unanimously to conduct the investigation we are now conducting. It voted also to request the House to furnish funds to do so, and the House by an overwhelming vote did it. Now the last "resolve" of that resolution which authorizes this particular investigation reads as follows:

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Chairman is directed—meaning myself—

to continue the preliminary inquiry into the activities of the Black Muslims, the Minutemen and the American Nazi Party previously authorized by the Committee, for the purpose of determining whether an investigation of these groups is called for.

With reference to that "resolve," I have said many times that we cannot be in two places at one time or do two things at one time. And I added, always, that sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

This preliminary inquiry is still going on with reference to these other organizations, and that is the way it stands at this time.

I think the record should also reflect my personal views anyway, and that is all I have to say.

Here we are hearing evidence of threats, intimidation, and boycotts. That at least during the period of our history thus far has not been a pretty word—"boycotts." We want the evidence that you are presenting. It is important. But I must, in all honesty to myself, say that a boycott, wherever it comes from, is no good.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, during the period of this boycott which you have described against your radio station, did you subsequently regain any sponsors?

Mr. BLUMBERG. We did. We had a few, and then would lose them again, until it got to the point where, frankly, I think we had one local sponsor left and perhaps two or three national sponsors. People were too frightened. I can't blame the merchants. The only way they could have broken the back of the boycott was to stand up together. Of course, this has been the problem from the beginning in Bogalusa: For some reason good people—

The CHAIRMAN. I meant to add that perhaps another mistake your group made was not to pursue that meeting, and perhaps the engaging in boycotts would have been prevented. I wanted to complete my statement. You may comment.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Right.

The CHAIRMAN. In other words, I agree with you when you said you should have kept on.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Right.

The CHAIRMAN. And perhaps better results would have been achieved if the committee had not yielded in the first place.

Mr. BLUMBERG. This is quite true, but for some reason—

The CHAIRMAN. I am not reproachful.

Mr. BLUMBERG. No. I was just continuing.

For some reason we have never been able to get the power structure in the community, Bogalusa, to stand up together and do away with all of this nonsense. I think it is the answer to peacefully resolving the civil rights problem not only in Bogalusa, but in any community, because the people of Bogalusa are no different than the people in any small community in the country, North, South, East, or West. I would say 90 to 95 percent of the people are good people, but, if the people would only quit underrating themselves and stand up, they would be amazed how much power they have if they stand together. I think it is the key to this kind of a problem and somehow, somewhere along the line, the answer to getting people to become involved is going to be found. But until it is, there is going to be a great deal of difficulty not only in Bogalusa, but anywhere else, because Bogalusa is not unique, it is like any community anywhere in this country. And this goes for the State of Louisiana, too.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Chairman?

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Pool.

Mr. POOL. How do you account for the fact that Bogalusa didn't stand up, where most communities in the South have handled their racial situation in a whole lot better manner than they did in Bogalusa?

MR. BLUMBERG. I think possibly it was because, for some reason, the Klan was allowed to infiltrate the community in the powerful places too quickly and before it was discovered it was too late. I think this is the basic reason. Why this happened, of course, is anyone's guess.

MR. WELTNER. Who was running the affairs of that town, Mr. Blumberg, in the first part of the year 1965? Was it the civic and religious leaders or the Ku Klux Klan?

MR. BLUMBERG. The first part of 1965?

MR. WELTNER. From the time you invited Brooks Hays until March or June, who was running the town at that time? Who was exercising the decision power? Whose decisions were being carried out?

MR. BLUMBERG. I am sure it was supposed to be Mayor Cutrer and the commission council. I really don't know how much they were influenced. Let's put it that way.

MR. POOL. Were the decisions being made at Ku Klux Klan headquarters for the city?

MR. BLUMBERG. I really—I mean, all I can offer you is a personal opinion.

MR. POOL. That is what I asked.

MR. BLUMBERG. If you want my personal opinion, I don't think any decision was made unless a great deal of thought was put into how this would affect the Klan leadership, what they would think about it.

MR. POOL. They weren't actually calling the shots, but they were more or less in a veto position; they could veto?

MR. BLUMBERG. They were an influencing factor then, and I think they are an influencing factor right now when I am sitting here talking to you. I have never changed my mind about that.

THE CHAIRMAN. I think it would be appropriate at this point—I want in the record at some point—for me to refer to the findings and holdings of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in the case I read from a while ago, particularly with reference to one of the defendants, the Anti-Communist Christian Association. The court, with reference to that outfit and the Klan, said this:

We find that to attain its ends, the klan exploits the forces of hate, prejudice, and ignorance. We find that the klan relies on systematic economic coercion, varieties of intimidation, and physical violence in attempting to frustrate the national policy expressed in civil rights legislation. We find that the klansmen, whether cloaked and hooded as members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, or skulking in anonymity as members of a sham organization, "The Anti-Communist Christian Association", or brazenly resorting to violence on the open streets of Bogalusa, are [and quoting] a "fearful conspiracy against society * * *."

* * * * *

The evidence clearly establishes that the Anti-Communist Christian Association is not a bona fide, independent organization but is the defendant klan thinly disguised under a respectable title. At an earlier time, the klan's dummy organization was called the Bogalusa Gun and Rifle Club. The defendants' efforts to appear respectable by association may also be reflected in the location of the klan's principal office in the Disabled American Veterans Hall.

That is the end of the quotation.

That is why I stated yesterday that in all of the long history of the phony front groups that the Klan has used to appear respectable, they are just as false as a 2-foot yardstick, and I am glad to have a court, the circuit court of appeals, agree with the views of this committee and with the evidence we have been presenting along the same lines.

Proceed.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Blumberg, the fact is that you decided to leave Bogalusa and sell your WBOX, Bogalusa. Will you please tell the committee when you made this decision and why?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Well, we decided to sell the station around November. We made the decision because, number one, we had been receiving outside help from individuals and some broadcasting stations from around the country, and we were running out of money, and we realized the merchants weren't going to come back with the station for a long time, if ever. We also felt we were making the decision to sell; the Klan was not making it for us. We could possibly have kept going, but we decided that we had proved our point as much as we possibly could. My family was in St. Louis, my wife and two children living there, and myself in Bogalusa for 4 or 5 months, which is no way to live. I don't think we could have ever lived in Bogalusa in peace again. So we had no choice, really, we had to sell. But we didn't close our doors; they didn't drive us out of business like they wanted to do. So its kind of a pathetic thing to say, really, but in a way we had our share of victory. But, unfortunately, the Klan has won their battle in Bogalusa. They control, they influence greatly now all of the press, the news media. But I am hoping that perhaps they will think a little harder before they ever hit a communications media again. If they control the press, half of their battle has been won.

Mr. MANUEL. At the time you decided to sell, did you know that the Klan would never let up its boycott and pressure on your former sponsors?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes. As a matter of fact, we had a sponsor, the first one in 9 months, that came back with us a few months ago. He was an automobile dealer who changed his location to a new place and he wanted to try the station once again. He felt everything was all right. He was on the station for 3 days. The morning of the fourth day he called me and said that he had received a flood of phone calls all day long at his business and even at nighttime at his home, and he felt he just had to go back off, and I agreed. So nothing has changed.

Mr. MANUEL. Can you fix the approximate date of that incident?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I think that was probably late October, early November.

Mr. MANUEL. And that was almost a year after the invitation to Brooks Hays which you have described to the committee?

Mr. BLUMBERG. That is correct.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. We appreciate your appearance. I think you have made a contribution to the hearings. I don't know whether you would be prepared to answer a question which I would like to propound. Maybe you would like to think about it and reappear. It is this:

This committee will be called upon to make a report to the House and to recommend remedial legislation as a result of the hearings and based upon the hearing record after it is completed. I can conceive of a number of possibilities, of a number of possible approaches. I do not know what they will be specifically, any more than a judge knows what he will decide until he has heard the whole evidence.

Certainly, a possible approach to remedial legislation would be an amendment to the Internal Security Act of 1950, of which I was not the author, but wrote the report and helped manage it on the floor of the House. That law requires the Communist Party and, under certain circumstances, its officers and members to register—in simple terms—under sanctions or punishments or penalties for not doing so.

After many years of litigation—I think 11 years to be specific—the Supreme Court, in 1961 I think it was, upheld that law as a constitutional piece of legislation. But then, subsequently, when it came to implement it according to its terms, that is, the forced registration, we have met frustration. I am not in the least reproaching anyone in that connection. It's not my business to point the finger at anyone or to criticize another branch of the Government, but it is a fact we have had trouble in implementing it.

Now, a possible approach would be to amend that act and to include Klan organizations and members, possibly, to register.

Another approach would be based upon our experience over the years. When the Klans were at their peak specifically within my generation, in 1915 and the early twenties, all the Southern States, including my own, with the legislatures as then composed, saw fit to enact laws curbing certain activities of the Klans that then operated, including, for instance, in some States, making it unlawful for Klans to appear in hooded robes—and you mentioned that a while ago—on public property and prohibiting appearance in hooded robes on private property without the consent of the owner. And so on. Perhaps that could be a beginning. Perhaps a Federal law could be fashioned and the law modified to fit the Nation.

Thirdly, another approach—and these are possibilities only—would be a Federal statute to make it unlawful, to use short terms, for groups of people to engage in types of activities described in that circuit court of appeals decision and thereby deprive other people of the enjoyment of their rights under the Constitution.

So those would be three possibilities that now occur to me and that I have been thinking about.

Based upon your experience, I was going to ask you now, or later if you prefer, while you are on the stand whether you have any suggestions as possible remedial legislation that we might recommend. It is a tough one, it is not an easy one. We will wrestle with it and we will come out with something. I am wondering if you are prepared to make any suggestions.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Actually, Congressman Willis, I really don't have any suggestions for legislation as such. As I have stated before, you know when you go through something like this, like one of the FBI agents told me down there, all of a sudden you become a great sociology expert. But the one thing that keeps coming back to my mind time and time again is the same answer, and this goes beyond the Klan and civil rights movement: We are talking about human beings, about people. For some reason today good people, people who know better, educated people, don't want to become involved in anything that has to do with trouble. And I think it is getting to the point where this type of person is going to have to become involved, because I think that our basic principles are at stake now in a lot of ways. This Klan thing and the civil rights movement are just one part of it. And I don't care how much legislation we enact, you still come back to the human beings. People have got to realize that they must become involved in these things, regardless of how much trouble is involved, if it affects their freedoms. We are either going to prove to the world that we are a democratic country or we are not, that we are a freedom-loving people or we are not, and there is no in between. You can't compromise with this thing, you can't rationalize; you either stand for it or you don't, you are going to fight for it or you are not.

This applies not only to the battlefield in Vietnam, for example, this applies on the home front, too. As I said before, this is only one little part of it we are talking about today, but to me this is the answer, and legislation, of course, is the way to open the door to make it easier, but it still is coming right back to the same old answer all over again—people themselves, individuals.

The CHAIRMAN. Of course, I agree with you. But if we believe in another precept of our governmental structure, to the effect that we are a government of law and not of men, then we must think about rules, with sanctions attached to them.

Anyway, I am glad to have your views, and I completely agree with you that this involves personal involvement of people. People have to speak out. It becomes a little tough now and then.

I made a lot of speeches in my district and all over the State of Louisiana in the last few weeks, and I said about what you have said. But I did add this, and I think it was well received and I think it is true: A person has to be proud of country and heritage, where he comes from and what he stands for. I said that I am an American citizen who comes from the South and I am proud of it. But I, for the life of me, cannot convince myself that believing in or joining a hate group, whether on the right or the left, would make me either a better American or a better Southerner. So I am willing to involve myself and I do hope that, as a result of the hearings, you and I will have more company.

I have a note from my general counsel that the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals case to which I referred—let me say in my own words, this is a landmark decision with reference to these specific hearings, and it was written by Judge Wisdom of New Orleans, and I think it ought to be made a part of the record. At the conclusion of today's hearing record, I would like for it to be made a part of this record. (See pp. 2475-2519.) It is United States of America against the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and it came out of the Eastern District of Louisiana, a three-judge court composed of Judge John Wisdom of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Herbert Christenberry of New Orleans and District Judge Robert Ainsworth of New Orleans.

The decision was written by Judge Wisdom who is a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge.

Mr. POOL. I have no questions. I thank the witness for appearing and giving us the benefit of his appearance. I think it was very helpful to the committee, especially in view of the fact that you have been in the radio and television news media which makes you a more qualified witness than some others and I appreciate it.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I have some questions.

Mr. BLUMBERG, I think you sent your wife and children to St. Louis shortly after the series of harassing telephone calls and they remained there until the sale of the station?

Mr. BLUMBERG. They had come back after about 30 days. They stayed in Bogalusa with me until we had received a report from some friends of ours in Bogalusa which we have never been able to prove.

To make a long story short, the word "kidnaping" was used in relation to getting even with me, and I discussed this with the FBI. They said, "Get the family back to St. Louis," and we did.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you do that because you feared for their life and safety?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. You feared for their safety in the hands of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I don't know who it would be, but it probably would have been the Klan.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, you know who it was; let's put it that way.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. I have been very much impressed with your conviction, very forcibly and eloquently stated, that it is time for people to become involved and, in effect, stand up for what they profess to believe.

I wonder what public officials stood up during this time of crisis in the city of Bogalusa? You gave editorials on the radio station. Mr. Major stood up through his newspaper. Several ministers stood up in their action. What did public officials do in that city in an effort to protect law and order?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Actually the mayor came out with a statement saying there would be law and order.

Mr. Weltner, it is difficult to say exactly what they did under the circumstances. All I can do is boil it down to one statement: I think these men did as well as they could possibly do. Whether they were right or whether they were wrong, I think is immaterial.

The fact that these were men who grew up in this community, had to face this problem unexpectedly—I just don't have the right to, you know, to personally criticize these men. I honestly believe that they did the best they could do. It is that simple.

Mr. WELTNER. The problem they had to face unexpectedly was the wholesale infiltration of the Klan into the fabric of the community.

Mr. BLUMBERG. In the civil rights problem; yes.

Mr. WELTNER. What effect, Mr. Blumberg, would you say that the anonymity or the secrecy or hidden identity of members of the Klan had in the apparent ability of the Klan to work its will upon this community?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Like spreading a blanket of fear over the entire community, and this is the great effective weapon of the Klan.

Mr. WELTNER. Secrecy?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Secrecy.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, now, that is interesting. I would like to read to you from a document that has previously been placed into the record of these hearings, "The Seven Symbols of The Klan" (Allen Bayne Exhibit No. 3);¹ all of this is under the aegis of the United Klans of America. The statement, I think, holds true that says, "The secret of our power lies in the secrecy of our membership."

That is a statement emanating from a Klan publication. Do you agree with that statement, that the secrecy of the Klan's power is the secrecy of its membership?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Right.

Mr. WELTNER. In view of your experience, I would also like to read to you certain portions of another document published by the United Klans of America called The Principle of the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (Allen Bayne Exhibit No. 1).² I am taking certain excerpts from this. I will ask your opinion on this.

This says:

We believe in just laws and liberty.

By just laws is meant laws that apply equally to all, rich and poor, educated, men and women. * * *

What is your experience with the Ku Klux Klan as to whether that proclamation is believed and transposed to action and continued.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I don't believe they believe this at all.

Mr. WELTNER. [Reading:] "We believe in the upholding of the Constitution of these United States."

Bearing in mind that the first amendment of the Constitution of the United States includes the right peaceably to assemble, I wonder whether or not you believe this statement.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I think they believe in this statement as it is interpreted by them.

Mr. WELTNER. What about this:

We believe in freedom of speech: By this is meant the right of any citizen to express an opinion on any subject, either publicly or privately, so long as no other person's private character is assailed. * * *

Now, you have expressed some opinions publicly and I wonder whether or not your experience bears out a firm belief in this proclamation.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Let me answer that by saying this: There is no freedom of speech or freedom of assembly or a businessman's right to run his business in Bogalusa today.

Mr. WELTNER. What about this:

We believe in a free press, uncontrolled by political or religious sects.

The press should be free to spread news without coloring it to suit any person or sects: * * *

What has been your experience with that as a member of the press and as an associate of Mr. Lou Major, publisher of the newspaper there.

Mr. BLUMBERG. At this time the newspaper, which was formerly a liberal paper, is a completely conservative newspaper. It is not the real policy of the editor down there. It isn't what he really believes.

Mr. POOL. Let me interrupt right there now. You said, "conservative newspaper." Are you saying that conservatives are followers of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No, I am not saying that.

Mr. POOL. I wanted to distinguish that. I kind of like to be considered a conservative in my district. People down there like conservatives, and I want to get that in the record straight.

Mr. BUCHANAN. May I say amen?

Mr. BLUMBERG. That is not what I meant. The paper publishes news slanted the way the Klan wants it slanted. There is no doubt about it.

Mr. WELTNER. So you wouldn't particularly believe the practice of the Klan as taught by this belief in a free press?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Absolutely not.

Mr. WELTNER. You previously testified that a friend of yours came to you and said that—or someone well known to you came and said that his friends wanted you to retract everything you have said and followed it by saying, "We don't want to harm women and children," and following that your wife and child were sent to St. Louis and once again were sent to St. Louis.

What about this: "We believe in the protection of our pure womanhood, the home * * *."

Mr. BLUMBERG. I don't know who wrote that.

Mr. WELTNER. This is written by the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., in Alabama.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I don't believe any of that; none of it that you have read so far.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I would just like to thank the witness for his testimony, Mr. Chairman. I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness will be excused. Thank you ever so much. We certainly appreciate the contribution you have made.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to call to the stand Mr. Charles Christmas.

The CHAIRMAN. The committee will come to order. The next witness will come forward.

Will you call your next witness?

Mr. APPELL. I have, Mr. Chairman. Mr. Charles Christmas.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF CHARLES HORTON CHRISTMAS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, please?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. Charles Horton Christmas.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. June 18, 1917, Meridian, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Yes, sir. My name is Michael S. Ingram, engaged in private practice of law from Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. Chairman, if I might clarify the record, for your record, the decision that you referred to during the testimony of the last witness from the case of the United States of America against the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was not a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals decision.

The CHAIRMAN. I am sorry, it was a three-judge court decision.

Mr. INGRAM. It came out of the Eastern District of Louisiana.

The CHAIRMAN. I am sorry. I knew that. In my reference to that decision, I meant to say that that decision was rendered by a three-judge court, as it is technically called, composed of Judge John M. Wisdom of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Herbert Christenberry of New Orleans and District Judge Robert Ainsworth of New Orleans in the Eastern District of Louisiana. The decision was written by Judge Wisdom as a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, when and where were you born?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. June 18, 1917, Meridian, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. Amite, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Do you have a street?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. 414 North Duncan Avenue.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, are you appearing before the committee today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 26, 1965, at the Brumfield Motor Company in Amite, Louisiana?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you employed by the Brumfield Motor Company?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, under the conditions of the subpoena you were directed to produce certain documents called for in an attachment which was made a part of the subpoena. Paragraph 1 calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and affiliated organizations, namely, Louisiana Rescue Service and the Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Grand Dragon of the 6th Congressional District of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. INGRAM. Just a moment.

Mr. Chairman, it is my understanding that yesterday after meeting with Mr. Appell on this matter, and by telephone conversations with Mr. McNamara, the staff director of this committee, back in November, when these men were originally scheduled to appear, and quite recently, that I advised Mr. McNamara and yesterday Mr. Appell, that all the records asked for in paragraph 1 of the subpoena duces tecum issued to Mr. Christmas and the other defendants who were also named as individual defendants in the injunction sought under the Civil Rights Act in New Orleans, which was tried early in September, that all of this literature was in the court record as evidence and in the possession of the clerk of courts in New Orleans and also in the hands of the Justice Department, to whom it was turned over personally by me at the commencement of that trial in New Orleans.

I called the staff director back in November specifically for this purpose, because at that time I was advised all of it had been turned over and I wanted to know from the staff director if he wanted me to obtain a court order authorizing the release of this information so that it could be brought here to the committee today, and he said that he would obtain a ruling from the chairman.

I was later advised it would suffice, not to obtain this court order if this information had been in the record.

I might also point out that these gentlemen were served with a subpoena duces tecum in that case which, although I do not have a copy of it here today, I am well familiar with it since myself and my two law partners represented most of these men in that case in New Orleans; that that subpoena issued by the Justice Department was more encompassing and broader than the subpoena is here today, and I would like a clarification before we proceed.

The CHAIRMAN. Here is Mr. McNamara of the committee. Would you relate your understanding? I don't think it is necessary to be sworn unless contradictions develop.

Mr. McNAMARA. I would like to qualify one statement made by Mr. Ingram. I think it is no more than a misunderstanding. You did, as you say, call me on several occasions in regard to the subpoenas and documents called for by the committee. You did not state to me, however, that all of the documents called for by the subpoena had been placed in the court—had been turned over to the court.

You did tell me that some of them had been. I informed you that any documents which had been given to the court the committee could obtain from the court and that your witness and client would not be required to produce those, but if he had any materials that had not been turned over to the court, we would expect that they be produced.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Ingram, I understood you to say that the court's subpoena was broader than the committee subpoena.

Mr. INGRAM. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. That would be your answer unless there are further points of disagreement?

Mr. McNAMARA. Mr. Ingram perhaps forgot to mention to me that everything was turned over. You did not say that. You just told me some of these documents had been turned over, but you did not say all.

The CHAIRMAN. And you say, Mr. McNamara, that whatever documents were turned over in response to the court's subpoena would not have to be produced here.

Mr. McNAMARA. That is correct.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, what is your position on that? Is it your position that of necessity everything called for was produced because the Federal subpoena was broader than our subpoena?

Mr. INGRAM. Yes, Mr. Chairman, and in addition to that, after the trial was commenced, if a transcript of that trial is present here, I am sure that will bear this out: The defendants were required to produce additional material during the course of the trial. From specific memory, I do know that certain membership lists were turned over, the various charters and articles of incorporation of the Anti-Communist Christian Association, a copy of the constitution of the Ku Klux Klan was admitted; various pamphlets and brochures allegedly, purportedly put out by the Klan were introduced. Many of them were like what Mr. Blumberg testified to today, handbills—not only were these asked for in the Federal subpoena of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and any other Klan organization, but the Anti-Communist Christian Association, the Bogalusa Rifle Club, the United Conservatives, the Minutemen, and I think there were two or three other organizations which I can't remember now, because I don't have a copy of that subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, Mr. Appell, will you relate—as I see it, there is practically no serious disagreement. What do you have to say, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ingram advised me all the documents in the hands of his clients had been turned over not to the court, but to the U.S. attorney handling the case. He assumed that all of those documents were put in evidence, and we reviewed the exhibits filed in the case, and I advised him we had obtained from the court records those exhibits which were of interest to us in our inquiry; that we did not know that the Government attorney had in his possession documents turned over by his clients which were not made a part of the record; and, however, if his clients had no records they would not be required to produce something that they did not have, but that his clients would be asked this morning to produce documents called for in the record so that this record would show, as the court records showed, that these documents were destroyed and that they were not in the possession of any of his clients. This is the reason the questions are being propounded.

Mr. POOL. Are you now asking him that question?

Mr. APPELL. I am asking for the production of documents.

The CHAIRMAN. Be specific about what you want produced at this time so that we can proceed and see where we are.

I don't have a general picture of any points of disagreement, if any exist.

(Discussion off the record.)

The CHAIRMAN. I think the best thing to do is for Mr. Appell to pose such questions as he has in mind, and then Mr. Christmas has his attorney here and he was, as I understand it, the attorney in that suit and as we proceed we can see what position we go on.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to say, Mr. Christmas, to you, first, that through your counsel it was expressed that the subpoena of the court was broader than the committee's subpoena. I would like to ask you, through your counsel: Does the duces tecum part of paragraph 1 encompass all documents, records, correspondence, and memorandum covered by the subpoena of the court?

Mr. INGRAM. Mr. Appell, you are talking about paragraph 1?

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 1.

Mr. INGRAM. All the records asked for were turned over to the Federal court.

Mr. APPELL. Did the Federal court records call for the production of correspondence, memorandums, and other documents relating to the United Klans of America?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. To the best of my knowledge, yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness produce the documents called for in paragraph 1.

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to produce the records asked for in paragraph 1 on the grounds it might incriminate me and on the further grounds it would violate my rights as guaranteed under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Ingram, you made a statement a while ago to the effect—as I understood it—your client didn't have these documents because they, and more of them in view of the breadth of the Federal subpoena referred to, had been submitted to, and filed with, either the court or clerk or someone in that litigation.

Now, there appears to be quite a problem here, and I must tell you that we have asked these questions of your client and you advised him what to do.

What is the pending question?

In other words, we want this record complete within itself and we want answers to these questions under oath. It is not a question of not taking anybody's word, but we have to proceed in the usual way and have you under the rules of the committee—which are in print—take the part of an attorney for your client in these hearings.

Specifically, our printed rules provide:

At every hearing, public or executive, every witness shall be accorded the privilege of having counsel of his own choosing.

The participation of counsel during the course of any hearing and while the witness is testifying shall be limited to advising said witness as to his legal rights. Counsel shall not be permitted to engage in oral argument with the Committee, but shall confine his activity to the area of legal advice to his client.

Let me say, Mr. Ingram, this is absolutely no questioning of your integrity or your word or your motives, but in view of conversations I have had with the staff, I think the only thing we can do, and must do, is to proceed in our way to have your client under oath answer these questions, because we have reasons to believe that that would be the best way.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Ingram's explanation previously was not sworn to.

The CHAIRMAN. That is true. I am trying to act as one lawyer to another here, and not question his motives, but I think the thing to do is to follow the rules of the committee, because matters discussed with me not within the hearing of the witness or his attorney force me to take the position I am now taking.

Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, are the representations of your counsel with respect to the production of all documents in the court factual?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. In answer to that then, I must ask you: Is it true then that you have no records in your possession relating to the organizations called for in the subpoena?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer your question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I missed them. What constitutional amendments did you rely on?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. Christmas, this subpoena duces tecum calling for the production of those documents was served upon you in the representative capacity stated in that subpoena. In other words, if you were in the hearing room yesterday, you heard me say it before: there is a distinction between calling on an individual as an individual to produce his records in an income tax return, and a subpoena on someone in a representative capacity, whether it is a corporation or organization of any kind.

We do not accept your invocation of the constitutional privileges you rely on, and we take that position from the point of view of our construction of court decisions. Therefore, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline and refuse to produce these documents under the constitutional privileges previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was your testimony given before the three-judge court in New Orleans that records of the organizations mentioned had been destroyed after the initiation of the actual injunction proceeding truthful?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In view of counsel's statement that all documents in his possession had been submitted, and more, under the Federal subpoena, and this development—which I didn't know—from the questions of Mr. Appell that you said and swore and admitted before that court that certain documents called for had been destroyed, I order and direct you to produce those documents—I mean to answer the question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, may I interject something as a possible clarification? As I recall counsel's statement, he stated that his client was under compulsion of a subpoena duces tecum to produce documents which was broader than our subpoena, and he stated he would undertake to obtain those documents which had been submitted to the Federal court in Louisiana, either to the clerk or the U.S. attorney's office.

I don't recall whether counsel stated, as a representation on behalf of his client, that all documents in this witness' possession had been submitted according to that subpoena, and I think there may be a hiatus in here.

The CHAIRMAN. I am glad that you made that statement.

Counsel said at one point in the discussion that he had offered to get a court order to produce for us whatever had been admitted in the court record.

Now, as I see it, at this time, it would seem what counsel had in mind was to make available to us the documents that had been offered and to forget about—deprive us of the right to develop that, in the course of this trial, there was evidence to the effect that some of them had been destroyed, and we are interested in that destruction. So I direct you to answer that question.

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, paragraph 2 of the subpoena called for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member and/or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully refuse to produce the documents under the constitutional amendments previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that he be directed to produce the documents.

The CHAIRMAN. Yes, for the reasons I previously explained, I order and direct you to produce the documents.

I might say that if—and I stress that word—you have turned over to the court in New Orleans all records and documents called for in the first paragraph and the second paragraph of our subpoena, all you have to do is to state that and you will not be expected to turn them over to us here now, so that you do not really have a right to invoke the fifth amendment or any other amendments.

Again for the reasons previously stated—and those I just stated—I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. CHRISTMAS. May we have a short recess?

The CHAIRMAN. Surely.

We will stand in recess for 5 minutes.

(Brief recess.)

The CHAIRMAN. We will reconvene at 2 p.m.

(Subcommittee members present at time of recess: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

(Whereupon, at 12:30 p.m., Wednesday, January 5, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 2 p.m. the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1966

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order and we will resume the testimony of Mr. Christmas.

You have already been sworn, sir, so have a seat and Mr. Appell will proceed.

TESTIMONY OF CHARLES HORTON CHRISTMAS—Resumed

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, the reporter does not have the exact point we left off prior to the luncheon recess so I will ask you, when were documents, records, and memoranda in your possession destroyed as you testified in the Federal court, the three-judge court in New Orleans?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you testify in the Federal court?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you or anyone testify before the Federal court, or was any reference made before those Federal judges, that at any time documents had been destroyed?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, is it factual that the documents were destroyed following the release of the leaflet published by the Original Ku Klux Klan which welcomed the investigation of the Klan?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Christmas, it is my general information—and you can correct it if it is not so—that the documents we are talking about that were destroyed were, in fact, destroyed after the injunction suit had been filed and after this committee announced on March 30, 1965, that it would hold hearings on the Ku Klux Klan organizations in the United States. Is that not true?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. A witness testified yesterday, in connection with the destruction by fire of documents, that the reason for their destruction was fear of the enemy, which he nebulously referred to as the Communists. Was that the reason why these documents were destroyed?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Is it not a fact that the documents which were destroyed—which, as I have said, took place after the filing of the injunction suit and after the announcement of our hearings and after the announcement in the press that we were subpoenaing numerous witnesses—based on that I ask you this question:

Is it not a fact that one of the reasons for their destruction was fear that they would be subpoenaed and would have to be produced both, or either, in the Federal court or before this committee?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, does the refusal on your part to produce documents called for in paragraph 1 and paragraph 2—is the reason for the refusal based upon the fact that since your appearance on September 8, 1965, before the three-judge court in Louisiana and the date that you were served with a subpoena by the Committee on Un-American Activities, that books, documents, records, correspondence, and other memoranda did come into your possession?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, I hand you a copy of a document, the front cover of which shows a cross and the title, the "Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Since 1866," and page 2 showing the "Konstitution of the Original Ku Klux Klan Realm of Louisiana," and I ask if this is a copy of the document you presented to the court?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Let the reporter note that documents that were commented on and questioned on by either this witness or other witnesses previously appearing should be inserted in the transcript of the proceedings at the respective points where the several witnesses were questioned.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, I would like to quote to you from the opinion of the three-judge court (Ralph Blumberg Exhibit No. 2):

The Grand Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and President of the Anti-Communist Christian Association is Charles Christmas of Amite in Tangipahoa Parish. * * *

Is that factual, sir?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I think we have a right to take judicial notice of the accuracy of the statement in the Federal court, unless you testify to the contrary.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, when did you become a member of the Original Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In November 1964 were you a coordinator or organizer in the Sixth Congressional District or Sixth Province of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In early 1965 did the bulk of the Klan members of the Sixth Congressional District sever their relationship with the parent organization and become an independent group?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, it was testified to in the three-judge court injunction proceeding that, in order for a person to become a member of the Anti-Communist Christian Association, that the member would give to the Klavern secretary the number by which he was known as a member of the Klavern and the secretary would then issue him a card in the Anti-Communist Christian Association. Is that testimony that was given in that case actual?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Let me say again that, just as in the previous instance and in other instances that might come up, unless and until there is evidence to the contrary this committee is going to assume the accuracy of statements given in court and sworn testimony given in court.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, after the organization of the Sixth Congressional District of the Klan became independent, were you elected to the position of Grand Dragon?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Under the constitution the number two man to the Grand Dragon is the Grand Titan. Did Saxon Farmer hold the position of Grand Titan of the Klan?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Who held the position of grand klokard?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In February 1965 did you attend a meeting near Amite, Louisiana, in which there was discussed the possibility of uniting the four factions again under one head?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, are you familiar with the organizational procedure in the Original Knights whereby the exalted cyclops of Klaverns was to see to it that each Klavern would have a body of men known as the wrecking crew?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did your Klan group in the Bogalusa area create as an instrumentality within the Klan a boycott committee?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, I will read to you from the opinion of the court a description of the boycott committee and its responsibilities:

"The Boycott Committee (one member from each local unit appointed by the Exalted Cyclops) shall have exclusive investigative authority and it shall not act at any time with less than three members present. . . .

(1) No person or subject upon whom a boycott shall have been placed shall be patronized by any member. . . . Boycotts shall be imposed upon subjects who are found to be violating the Southern traditions. . . .

Boycotts shall be placed upon all members of the Committee who publicly served with Bascom Talley in his efforts to promote the Brooks Hays meeting.

Boycotts shall be placed upon any merchant using Negro employees to serve or wait upon persons of the white race. (Service Stations using Negroes to pump gas are excluded.)

Boycotts shall be placed against a subject who serves Negroes and whites on an integrated basis.

Boycotts shall be placed upon a subject who allows Negroes to use White rest rooms. . . .

No member shall be punished for violation of the rules by a member of his family under twelve (12) years of age.

Any member who shall after a hearing have been found guilty of personally patronizing a subject listed on the boycott list shall be wrecked by the wrecking crew who shall be appointed by the Committee. (Emphasis added.) . . .

Second offense—If a member is found guilty of personally violating the boycott list he shall be wrecked and banished from the Klan."

Mr. Christmas, would you explain to the committee the reasons and necessity for the appointment of a boycott committee?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was Marvin Foster the chairman of the boycott committee?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, as Grand Dragon of the Klan and as president of the Anti-Communist Christian Association, can you tell us under what arrangements and how it came about that Marvin Foster was appointed a personal liaison man between the Klan and the city administration?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mayor Cutrer testified at the trial in Louisiana that it was Marvin Foster who suggested that he attend the meeting of the Klan held at the Disabled American Veterans' Hall. Was his testimony truthful?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, I show you five leaflets, four of which proclaim that they were published by the Original Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and one signed merely "The K.K.K." and I ask you who was the author of these leaflets?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Two of said documents previously marked "Ralph Blumberg Exhibits Nos. 1 and 3," respectively. See pp. 2454, 2455. Three marked "Charles Christmas Exhibits Nos. 1-A through 1-C." See pp. 2456-2458.)

Mr. APPELL. Was Dewey Smith the author?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Do you intend to give this committee any information at all?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, as the leader of the Klan in Bogalusa did you know Albert Applewhite to be the exalted cyclops of Unit 4 in Bogalusa?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. He was an auxiliary policeman. Was he and some 17 other Klansmen sworn out of the Klan so they could deny Klan membership in order to remain in the auxiliary police force?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, as a leader of the Klan, did you know William Houston (popularly known as Jack) Burke to be the EC of a Klan unit?

The CHAIRMAN. By "EC" you mean exalted cyclops?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, in January 1965 did he head a committee comprised of the exalted cyclops of the Klaverns in the Sixth Congressional District area?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Prior to your taking over leadership of the Klan, was Saxon Farmer the head of the Klan in the Sixth Congressional District?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. At a meeting of the Klan, was it agreed that if Saxon Farmer should be arrested you would take over?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a leader of the Klan did you know James M. Ellis, Jr., to be the exalted cyclops of Unit No. 2?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know Howard M. Lee, the gun dealer, to be the exalted cyclops of the Mitch Community Klavern unit?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Is that the man who was charged and convicted of having violated the Federal law dealing with the sale of guns and firearms?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, Mr. Chairman.

Did you know D. D. McElveen to be a member of the Klan in the Bogalusa area?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know him to be a member of the wrecking crew?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a leader of the Klan did you know Russell E. Magee to be in August 1964 kleagle for the Franklinton unit of the Klan?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In September 1964 did you know him to be a leader of the Klan in the Sixth Congressional District?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know Kinch Miley to be a member of the Klan?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a leader of the Klan did you know Eric Peterson of Sun, Louisiana, to be at one time the exalted cyclops of the Klan unit in Bush, Louisiana?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a leader of the Klan did you know Dewey Bernard Smith to have been at one time the exalted cyclops of Unit 1 and at another time the exalted cyclops of Unit No. 2?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, I shall now read to you specific findings of Klan intimidation and violence as found by the three-judge court in New Orleans, in which the court found and in substance which you and the other defendants agreed to as having taken place:

(2) Since at least January 28, 1965, the defendants, including Saxon Farmer, Russell Magee, Dewey Smith, Randle C. Pounds, Billy Alford, Charles McClendon, James Burke, and other members of the defendant Klan, have made a practice of going to places where they anticipated that Negroes would attempt to exercise civil rights, in order to harass, threaten, and intimidate the Negroes and other persons. For this purpose, members of the defendant Klan have gone to Franklinton, Louisiana, when Negro citizens of Washington Parish were expected to apply to register as voters, have gone to restaurants in Bogalusa when Negroes were seeking or were expected to seek service, and have gone to locations in downtown Bogalusa and near the Bogalusa Labor Temple when Negroes were attempting or were expected to demonstrate publicly in support of equal rights for Negroes.

(3) William Yates and Stephen Miller, two CORE workers, came to Bogalusa in January 1965. The Grand Dragon and Grand Titan of the Klan, defendants Charles Christmas and Saxon Farmer, appeared at the Mayor's office to ask the Mayor to send William Yates and Stephen Miller out of Bogalusa. Mayor Cutrer indicated that he could do nothing. The next day, February 3, 1965, three Klansmen, James Hollingsworth, Jr., James Hollingsworth, Sr., and Delos Williams, with two other persons, Doyle Tynes and Ira Dunaway, attempted to insure Yates' and Miller's departure. This group followed Yates and Miller and assaulted Yates.

(4) February 15, 1965, defendant Virgil Corkern, Klansman, and approximately 30 other white persons attacked five Negro citizens and damaged the car in which they were riding. This occurred because the Negroes had sought service at a gasoline station in Bogalusa. On that same day, Corkern and other persons gathered at Landry's Fine Foods, a restaurant in Bogalusa, to observe Negroes seeking service at the restaurant. Corkern and one other entered the restaurant brandishing clubs, ordered the Negroes to leave and threatened to kill Sam Barnes, a member of the Bogalusa Voters League, who had come to the restaurant with six Negro women.

(5) March 29, 1965, defendants Hardie Adrian Goings, Jr., Klansman, and Franklin Harris, Klansman, shortly after meetings had been held at the Bogalusa Labor Temple, threw an ignited tear gas canister at a group of Negroes standing near the Labor Temple. Goings, Jr. then tried to disguise his car by repainting it and removing the air scoop from the top to prevent detection of this crime. Goings or other Klansmen used this same car in May of 1964 to burn a cross at the home of Lou Major, editor of the Bogalusa newspaper.

(6) April 7, 1965, defendants Lattimore McNeese and E. J. (Jack) Dixon, Klansman, threatened Negro citizens during the course of a meeting at the Labor Temple by brandishing and exhibiting a gun at Negroes standing outside the Labor Temple.

(7) April 9, 1965, defendants Billy Alford, Klansman, Randle C. Pounds, Klansman, Lattimore McNeese, Charles McClendon, and James Burke, Klansman, with other persons, went to the downtown area of Bogalusa where Negro citizens were participating in a march to the Bogalusa City Hall to protest denial of equal rights. Pounds, McClendon, and Burke, in a group, moved out to attack the marchers. Pounds assaulted the leader of the march, James Farmer, with a blackjack; McClendon and Burke were temporarily deterred from the threatened assault, but immediately thereafter assaulted a newsman and an FBI agent. Alford assaulted one of the Negroes participating in the march.

(8) May 19, 1965, Virgil Corkern, Klansman, two sons of Virgil Corkern, and other white persons went to Cassidy Park, a public recreation area maintained by the City of Bogalusa, for the purpose of interfering with the enjoyment of the park by Negroes and white CORE workers who were present at the park and using the facilities for the first time on a non-segregated basis. The Corkern group entered the park and dispersed the Negro citizens with clubs, belts, and other weapons.

(9) Negro members of the Bogalusa Voters League, unable to exercise their civil rights and also unable to obtain from police officials adequate protection from the Klan, filed suit June 25, 1965, in the case of Hicks v. Knight, Civ. Ac. No. 15, 727 in this Court. The complaint asks for an injunction requiring officers of the City of Bogalusa to open the public parks and to operate such parks without racial discrimination, and also requiring law enforcement officers of the City, Parish, and State to protect the Negro plaintiffs and other Negroes from physical assaults, beatings, harassment, and intimidation at the hands of white citizens. July 10, 1965, this Court issued an injunction in Hicks v. Knight enjoining certain city and parish law enforcement officers from failing to use all reasonable means to protect the Negro plaintiffs and others similarly situated from physical assaults and beatings and from harassment and intimidation preventing or discouraging the exercise of their rights to picket, assemble peaceably, and advocate equal civil rights for Negroes. The preliminary injunction is still in full force and effect. Even after this Court issued its order July 10, 1965, the defendant Klansmen continued to interfere with Negro citizens exercising civil rights and interfered with performance of the duties of law enforcement officials under the injunction in Hicks v. Knight.

(10) July 11, 1965, during a Negro march in downtown Bogalusa, defendants Randle Pounds, Klansman, H. A. Goings, Jr., Klansman, Franklin Harris, Klansman, and Milton E. Parker were present. Harris and Goings passed out 25-30 2x2 clubs to youths and Pounds stationed the youths along the march route. Parker was arrested by a City policeman along the route of march for disturbing [sic] the peace.

(11) Included in the exhibits are a number of handbills bearing the caption, "Published by the Original Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana". These are crude, scurrilous attacks on certain Bogalusa citizens who advocated a moderate approach to desegregation. For example, in one handbill an Episcopal minister is accused of lying for having said that he had received calls threatening to bomb his church; the minister's son is said to be an alcoholic, to have faced a morals charge in court, and to have been committed to a mental institution. The handbill adds:

"The Ku Klux Klan is now in the process of checking on Reverend _____'s [naming him] moral standards. If he is cleared you will be so informed. If he is not cleared, you will be informed of any and all misdeeds or moral violation of his in the past."

In the same handbill the Klan announced that it was "boycotting businesses which cater to integration such as Mobile Gas Stations, etc." Mobile Gas Station is a business competitor of the defendant, Grand Titan Saxon Farmer.

All of the handbills attempt to intimidate public officials, the Governor of Louisiana, the Congressman from the Sixth District, the Mayor of Bogalusa, and federal judges (by name). Sometimes the attempted intimidation is by threat of violence, sometimes by character assassination. We quote, for example:

The Court then quotes from one of the handbills which I shall not read in full but after talking about the conduct of public officials there is contained this language:

"All these should be tarred and feathered :

MAYOR JESSIE CUTRER, REPRESENTATIVE SHERIDAN, SENATOR SIXTY RAYBORN, SHERIFF DORMAN CROWE, CONGRESSMAN JIMMY MORRISON, GOVERNOR JOHN McKEITHEN, SENATOR RUSSELL LONG"

Mr. Christmas are there any expressions of this finding of the court which I have read to you to which you would like to take exception or comment upon?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully refuse to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Then let me have this word to say, I think, to complete the record, and the whole opinion will be printed as part of the record. (Previously marked "Ralph Blumberg Exhibit No. 2." See pp. 2475-2519.)

Mr. Christmas, you were one of the defendants in that case. I state that as a matter of fact. The court in that statement—and this is general language—said: "An unusual feature of this litigation is the defendants' damning admissions. * * *"

The court proceeded :

In deciding to grant the injunction prayed for, we rest our conclusions on the finding of fact that, within the meaning of the Civil Rights Act of 1957 and 1964, the defendants have adopted a pattern and practice of intimidating, threatening, and coercing Negro citizens in Washington Parish * * *.

Proceeding further:

We find that to attain its ends the klan exploits the forces of hate, prejudice, and ignorance. We find that the klan relies on systematic economic coercion, varieties of intimidation, and physical violence in attempting to frustrate the national policy expressed in civil rights legislation. * * *

Further on, the court says, based on admissions in the pleadings and sworn testimony—and you were one of the people they were talking about:

Wrapped in myths and misbeliefs which they think relieve them of the obligations of ordinary citizens, Klansmen pledge their first allegiance to their Konstitution and give their first loyalty to a cross in flames.

Further findings of fact include—and I will give you an opportunity to explain:

None of the defendant Klansmen is a leader in his community. As a group, they do not appear to be representative of a cross-section of the community. Instead they appear to be ignorant bullies, callous of the harm they know they are doing and lacking in sufficient understanding to comprehend the chasm between their own twisted Konstitution and the noble charter of liberties under law that is the American Constitution.

And finally, the court in its holding says:

Legal tolerance of secret societies must cease at the point where their members assume supra-governmental powers and take the law in their own hands. We shall not allow the misguided defendants to interfere with the rights of Negro citizens deprived from or protected by the Constitution of the United States and now expressly recognized by Congress in various Civil Rights statutes.

And then, finally:

We enjoin the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, its dummy front, the Anti-Communist Christian Association, and the individual defendants from interfering with orders of this Court * * *.

and so on.

Now, I ask you, and I mean it sincerely, do you wish an opportunity to affirm, deny, explain, or exculpate yourself as a defendant in these proceedings before the three-judge court of any of the findings of fact based upon damning admissions in the pleadings before the court and sworn testimony. Would you care to take advantage of that offer I now make?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I must say to you that, unless and until you or someone else party to these proceedings appear and give credible evidence and testimony to the contrary, this committee, as it must, will assume to be true the statement by the court under the circumstances I have indicated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Christmas, I have one last question to ask of you, sir, and this goes directly to the sincerity of the Klan.

The leaflet which was quoted this morning, a leaflet, according to the masthead, published by the Original Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, the one in which the reference is made to the Reverend Shepherd's moral standards, in which there are these two sentences:

"Much has been printed about the Ku Klux Klan being a violent organization. This is not true." (Ralph Blumberg Exhibit No. 3)

Now I put it to you as a fact, Mr. Christmas, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that during your testimony or the testimony of Mr. Farmer it was testified that the reason you adopted the organization, the Anti-Communist Christian Association, was that the members of the Klan felt that the Klan was too violent, that they felt there was no need for the KBI, and that they felt that there was no need for wrecking crews. I ask you, is it not a fact that your testimony in the trial or testimony of Mr. Farmer is a direct contradiction of the two sentences I read to you from this leaflet which you distributed in Bogalusa in hopes that the people there would believe it?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. One other thing, Mr. Christmas: With respect to Mr. Shepherd, the Reverend Shepherd, you say—this leaflet says:

The Ku Klux Klan is now in the process of checking on Reverend Shepherd's moral standards. If he is cleared you will be so informed. If he is not cleared, you will be informed of any and all misdeeds or moral violations of his in the past.

The inference is that the Reverend Bruce Shepherd has been engaged in moral indiscretions. You leave this impression with the people. Have you ever determined whether he has been involved so that you can erase the harm that you did to the man, or have you documented that there was anything to support the malicious inferences contained in this leaflet?

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. No further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Weltner.

Mr. WELTNER. I have just one reflection on the same leaflet that Mr. Appell referred to, showing at the top "Published by the Original Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana." It contains two sentences as follows:

Congressman Charles Weltner of Atlanta, Georgia, a member of the House Committee of Unamerican Activities has proposed that committee investigate the Klan.

Later on it says:

The Original Ku Klux Klan invites any investigation that Congressman Weltner should like to make.

I would inform the witness that the investigation now pending is an investigation that had been proposed by myself and other members of this committee and adopted by this committee unanimously. I would like to ask what has transpired since the publication of this document welcoming this investigation and the present day that has caused you and your colleagues to refuse to respond to any inquiries of the committee.

Mr. CHRISTMAS. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. No further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

P-126

PUBLISHED BY THE ORIGINAL KU KLUX KLAN OF LOUISIANA

On Sunday, December 27, 1964, the Bogalusa Daily News announced that a "renowned layman" Brooks Hayes, is to speak in Bogalusa, on January 7, 1965. His subject will be better community relations. The Bogalusa Daily News stated,

" a group of civic, religious and business leaders of Bogalusa have invited Hayes to speak here at the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Parish House. Due to limited seating facilities, the meeting will be by invitation."

The Daily News did not tell you the whole true story concerning this meeting and it is the purpose of this leaflet to give you the full story concerning this meeting.

In the first place, this meeting of January 7, 1965, is to be an intergrated meeting. The meeting was arranged by Bascom D. Talley, Jr., the local public or community relations commissioner who is holding this job by appointment of Lyndon B. Johnson under the infamous civil rights act. Bascom D. Talley formed a committee to help shoulder the responsibility of this meeting. This committee of intergration minded people are the group of "civic, religious and business leaders" referred to by the Daily News. Mr. Talley's committee is composed of Bruce H. Shepherd, Minister of the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Vertrees Young, a member of the Episcopal Church, Reverend Jerry Chance, Minister of the Main Street Baptist Church, Reverend Paul G. Gillespie, Minister of the Memorial Baptist Church, Reverend James T. Harris, Minister of the Methodist Church, Reverend Bob Lambricht whose similar escapades have made him a Minister without a church, Ralph Blumberg, owner and operator of the radio station WBOX, and, of course, Lou Major, Mr. Talley's favorite puppet.

In the second place, this intergrated meeting is for the sole purpose of planning the intergration of your Church, Schools, Businesses, Restaurants, Hotels, Motels, etc, and those who will receive invitations to the January 7th. meeting will be people who Bascom D. Talley hopes that Brooks Hayes can convince that they should change their social and religious lives, and that in turn will try to convince you that you should help intergration by sitting in Church with the black man, hiring more of them in your businesses, serving and eating with them in your cafes, and allowing your children to sit by filthy, runny-nosed, ragged, ugly little niggers in your public schools.

In the third place, the Bogalusa Daily News did not tell you the whole story about Brooks Hayes. He is a traitor to the South. He assisted Sherman Adams draw the order to send Federal Troops into his own State of Arkansas to put nine little niggers into white schools, the result of which was spending $5,000,000 of the taxpayers money as well as the beating and jailing of hundreds of white citizens. As a result of Hayes' intergration efforts, he was defeated in his efforts for re-election to Congress by a political unknown, Dr. Dale Alford. Brooks Hayes is now a member of the Civil Rights Community Relations Committee and he is paid a lucrative salary by the Federal Government to make talks such as he is scheduled to make in Bogalusa, on January 7th., 1965.

^a The Ku Klux Klan is strongly organized in Bogalusa and throughout Washington and St. Tammany Parishes. Being a secret organization, we have KLAN members in every conceivable business in this area. We will know the names of all who are invited to the Brooks Hayes meeting and we will know who did and did not attend this meeting. Accordingly, we take this means to urge all of you to refrain from attending this meeting. Those who do attend this meeting will be tagged as intergrationists and will be delt with accordingly by the Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN. ^b who with a hand picked committee has planned an intergrated rally;

There is in Bogalusa a man named Talley,
This man would love the nigger,
in order to grow financially bigger;
He and his committee have come up with an intergration plan, which is bitterly opposed by the KU KLUX KLAN;
Talley has attended Nigger Churches to sing,
this was done to please Martin Luther King;
While Talley sings with his nigger group,
the KU KLUX KLAN will more Knights recruit;
Soon Talley and his committee will know who is boss,
as the KU KLUX KLAN lights the fiery cross.

 PUBLISHED BY THE ORIGINAL KU KLUX KLAN OF LOUISIANA *****

As a result of the statement issued in the Bogalusa Daily News, signed by Bascom D. Talley, Jr., Bruce Shepherd, Paul Gillespie, Jerry Chance, Ralph Blumberg and Lou Major announcing the cancellation of the invitational, integrated, speaking engagement in this city by Brooks Hays, our City, as well as the Klan, received unfair, biased, national publicity from television and newspapers throughout the country. The national news media quoted Bascom Talley as saying that Bogalusa has a "leadership vacuum". They quoted Bruce Shepherd as saying "Bogalusa has a high rate of alcoholism and mental illness". The national press even misquoted Brooks Hays who was supposed to have said "Bogalusa is a city in the grips of the Ku Klux Klan." Even one magazine contained an article entitled "Klan Town U.S.A." which accused Bogalusa of being dominated by the Ku Klux Klan. This article was written by a free lance, alcoholic reporter—Paul Good, who spent over $100.00 on alcoholic beverages, who wrecked his car, and who was charged with reckless driving during his short visit to Bogalusa.

Bruce Shepherd was quoted as saying that he had received calls threatening to bomb his church if Brooks Hays were allowed to speak there. We accuse Bruce Shepherd of lying. There was no such threat or threats made and we challenge Bruce Shepherd to prove that he made such a report to the police.

Bruce Shepherd must have had his family in mind rather than our city when he stated we had a high rate of alcoholism and mental illness because Bruce Shepherd himself can be observed frequently emerging from the Cuban Liquor Company with an arm load of liquor. We further would have you know that Bruce Shepherd's son recently faced a charge in court for morals violation and was committed to a mental institution.

The Ku Klux Klan is now in the process of checking on Reverend Shepherd's moral standards. If he is cleared you will be so informed. If he is not cleared, you will be informed of any and all misdeeds or moral violations of his in the past.

Much has been printed about the Ku Klux Klan being a violent organization. This is not true. There was no violence when public accommodations were tested in this city and there has been no violence since then. We, however, have formed a large block white vote which will more than offset any other block vote in this entire parish. We also are boycotting businesses which cater to integration such as Mobile Gas Stations, Radio Station W. B. O. X., Rosenblum's, Zesto and the Barbecue Inn. The Bogalusa Daily News is also being boycotted by the Klan because while the National press was tearing Bogalusa into shreds, it did not print one single word in the defense of Bogalusa. The theory behind boycotting the Daily News and these other businesses is that to financially aid such business institutions is comparable to buying bullets for a man as John Dillinger who would take the bullets and then kill you and rob your city.

Congressman Charles Weltner of Atlanta, Georgia, a member of the House Committee of Unamerican Activities has proposed that committee investigate the Klan. We wonder why he doesn't also propose to investigate the Black Muslims who advocate black supremacy, who commit murder and who commit arson all over the country in a period of one week and who defied and refused to allow Chicago Police to enter their meeting place while they were beating almost to the point of death one of Malcolm X's friends. We urge each of you to write this Congressman and demand that he investigate the Black Muslims.

The original Ku Klux Klan invites any investigation that Congressman Weltner should like to make. The citizens of Bogalusa know that this city has always been a Klanish City from the days of the Great Southern Lumber Company until now. We have never appreciated outsiders telling us how to run our city. Outsiders have often caused trouble in our City. A good example of this was when labor unions were forming in Bogalusa. A gang of union busters or hired gunmen were brought into this city to kill those who stood up for the common man. As a result of such incidents, it is only natural that Bogalusa would be Klanish.

THE QUESTION WHO BOUGHT JESSE CUTRER?

Was it CORE? Was it LBJ?

In the beginning of the Racial troubles in Bogalusa, the Mayor assured the people that he COULD & WOULD handle this invasion of trouble makers. When the problem began the Mayor said that he would not give a Parade Permit. Cutrer did give the Parade Permit. The people of Bogalusa respected the Mayor's judgement. The tax-paying people gave up their streets and humbled themselves. The people were ORDERED off THEIR own streets, by a Police Force, whom the people pay. This was done by direct order of the Bogalusa Mayor, the man that was trusted. NO VIOLENCE ERUPTED. The people did EVERYTHING in their power to see that the Mayor and his Council were not interfered with in their efforts to save the city from this DEGRADATION. As the people tried to preserve our Southern way of Life, the Mayor and Council were slowly selling the people out at every turn. The Mayor has repeatedly GIVEN in. James Farmer did not have the support of the local Negroes. Mayor Cutrer is not giving the city of Bogalusa to the negro citizens of Bogalusa. No. He is giving the city to James Farmer and a handful of Negro Teenagers. NO PRESSURE was put on James Farmer and Dick Gregory to keep them out of Bogalusa. Not by the Mayor, the State Representative, the State Senator, or Congressman Morrison. This was not so when the WHITE CONSERVATIVES wanted to stage a Rally. Pressure was exerted from all levels, even the invited guest speakers were "leaned on".

The Governor, the Congressman, Jimmy Morrison, or his com-rats, Suksty Rayborn, and Buster Sheridan. John McKeithen asked for our vote and promised to serve the PEOPLE. We now ask, Big John, isn't this TRUE? What is happening under your administration?

Here is the list of elected officials who COULD & AND SHOULD have helped the People of Bogalusa. All these should be tarred and feathered.

MAYOR JESSIE CUTRER
REPRESENTATIVE SHERIDAN
SENATOR SIXTY RAYBORN
SHERIFF DORMAN CROWE
CONGRESSMAN JIMMY MORRISON
GOVERNOR JOHN MCKEITHEN
SENATOR RUSSELL LONG

Now the QUESTION. Why have these men, elected by the WHITE people turned their back on us in our time of need?

Is Communism so close? Who bought them? Who bought their HONOR and FOR HOW MUCH?

MAYBE SOME OF THESE PEOPLE:

1. Rowan Burris-Homosexual; he is free on bond at the present time, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.
2. Robert Hicks-Official of the Negro Voters League.
3. A. Z. Young-Official of the Negro Voters League.
4. Michael Jones-Local Program Director for CORE.
5. Robert Taylor-Official of the Negro Voters League.
6. Victor Bussie-State President of ALF-CIO, Chairman for the committee of OUTSIDERS imported into Bogalusa by Mayor Jesse H. Cutrer, Jr., to solve our LOCAL problems.
7. Camel Gravel-Member of this IMPORTED MEDIATION BOARD.
8. Bascom D. Talley, Jr., -Local representative for LBJ's federal compliance agency, "The Community Relations Service."
9. Ronnie Moore-State Field Representative for CORE.
10. Dick Gregory-Negro Comedian.
11. James Farmer-National Director for CORE.

CHARLES CHRISTMAS EXHIBIT NO. 1-B

PUBLISHED BY THE ORIGINAL KU KLUX KLAN OF LOUISIANA

It is the intention of this literature to inform the public of the positions taken by the original Ku Klux Klan in the past six months of racial strife in our city.

On numerous occasions we have been asked by local officials to refrain from any acts of violence upon this outside scum that has invaded our city. Being a christian organization, we have honored these requests each time. How much longer can we continue??? Contrary to what the liberal element would have you think, this memorandum is not the work of racist and hate mongers or trouble makers, as Governor "Big John" McKeithen calls us. We are God fearing white, southerners who believe in constitutional government and the preservation of our American heritage.

If your governor would have done the right thing to start with, he would have refused to protect these local and outside agitators and did just what one great southern governor did. He refused to protect this outside element, (CORE, NAACP, SNICK, ETC.), at the expense of his state. He chose, instead, to let LBJ and Katzenbach protect them. Only after the city of Bogalusa had spent $96,000, did he, (Big John McKeithen), make any effort to ease the situation in this city.

"Big John" is now organizing a 40 man biracial committee to prevent other "Bogalusa". He does not need this committee, because he and our mayor have and still are giving these niggers, (Deacons for Defense of Justice), their every whim.

It has come to the point that these agitators can sit and block the entrance to our restaurants. In New York, Washington D.C. and on Pennsylvania Avenue, this low class scum was arrested and taken to jail, but not in our city.

On Thursday July 22, one of our local police captains gave the order to arrest the "ait ins" in front of one of our local restaurants, but his superior intervened, and ordered his men to "let these little darlings alone".

"Skinnum" Jim Morrison was called on for his assistance also. Mr. Morrison informed some of our local citizens that they supported the Republican candidate in the last election and they should call upon him for his assistance. If Mr. Morrison had the welfare of his district, (and not his pocketbook), and heart, he would use the powers of his office to restore our city to normalcy and remove such characters as James Farmer, Ronnie Moore, Louis Lomax, Dick Gregory, and LBJ'S troublemaker, John Doar

FACT ABOUT OUR FEDERAL JUDGES:

Can a white man win justice in a federal court??? These federal judges are not elected by the people, but are appointed to office by the same people that are now after the nigger block vote.

DID YOU KNOW

1. Judge "Crystal Ball" Christenberry is a brother-in-law of James H. Morrison, and has been in a mental hospital for alcoholism?
2. Judge Gordon West was a law-partner of Russell B. Long - he taught one class at LSU, but was paid full pay.
3. Judge Frank Ellis was the attorney in 1947 for the Dairy Farmers of the Florida Parishes. He took their money and sent 52 out of 54 men to federal jail for a year or more. (Many of these men were just home from World War II).

Has any of these judges ever served in the armed forces and fought or been wounded for their country???

Recently there was a hearing before judge "Crystal Ball", in which he inferred that the testimony of most of the white witnesses was false, but on the other hand, when a nigger was confused by cross examination, he put words in his mouth. There was no need for this hearing, because, just like Doar, his liberal, brain washed mind was already in favor of the niggers.

The only way to defeat this enemy is by organized opposition and resistance. There are more than enough people who oppose this unconstitutional behavior to defeat it. Simply join hands with us. Vote for a Jeffersonian type of government, not for personal gain. Vote for honorable, Christian candidates. If all our elected officials were stateamen instead of politicians, we would not be faced with the problems before us at this time. We can defeat this issue with the ballot, boycott and economic pressure.

Won't you please join with us in this fight for freedom and leave a christian America to your children as your parents left to you.

We can't raise our standards by mixing with the black man, but we will lower the standards of this great nation that the white man has built. Are we to save the Political careers of James Morrison, John McKeithen, Sixty Rayborn, et al. Or are we to save our religions, houses, and country?

Let us leave this one thought with you:

"Purchase where the nigger picketa"

TO: THE COLORED PEOPLE OF THIS COMMUNITY, AND OTHERMMIS-LED PERSONS.

UNTIL THE NAACP AND CORE BECAME ACTIVE IN LOUISIANA ANY COLORED PERSON COULD GET HELP FROM ANY WHITE PERSON (MALE OR FEMALE), UNTIL THE NAACP AND CORE BEGAN TO THREATEN THE GOOD COLORED PEOPLE AND FORCE THEM TO JOIN THEIR SO CALLED CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT.

THE JEWISH LED CORE AND NAACP GAVE YOU...

MONTHLY DUES TO PAY(DID YOU EVER KNOW A JEW TO DO ANYTHING HE WASN'T WELL PAID FOR?) THIS IS TAKING THE COLORED PEOPLES MONEY TO MAKE THE NORTHEN JEW RICHER.

HAVE THEY EVER HELPED YOU GET A JOB?

HAVE THEY EVER HELPED YOU FINANCE A CROP?

HAVE THEY EVER LOANED YOU MONEY AT LOW INTEREST?

HAVE THEY EVER FED OR CLOTHED YOUR CHILDERN?

HAVE THEY LOWERED YOUR SOCIAL POSITION BY FORCING YOU TO ASSOCIATE WITH THE LOWEST WHITE TRASH FROM THE NORTH?

THE GOOD COLORED PEOPLE HAVE ALWAYS LOOKED DOWN ON THIS TYPE OF POOR WHITE TRASH. THIS POOR WHITE TRASH IS SO LOW THEY ARE NOT ACCEPTED IN THE WHITE SOCIETY.

WHY DO YOU ALLOW THE JEWISH LED NAACP AND CORE MAKE THEM YOUR LEADERS?

TRUE, THEY HAVE MADE SOME LOCAL COLORED PEOPLE RICH. THOSE WHO HAVE SOLD THEIR BROTHERS SOUL FOR (BLOOD MONEY) 30 PEICES OF SILVER, THE PRICE JUDAS WAS PAID FOR BETRAYAL OF JESUS CHRIST.

THEY HAVE NOTHING TO GIVE YOU BUT PROMISES AND MUST LIVE OFF YOU.

HOW MANY OF YOUR COLORED BROTHERS CAN YOU NAME THAT ARE SELLING YOU FOR THEIR OWN PERSONAL GAIN? AS JUDAS DID JESUS CHRIST.

HOW MANY OF THESE COLORED BROTHERS THAT TOOK THIS WHITE TRASH INTO THEIR HOMES DO YOU KNOW? LOOK AROUND AND SEE IF IT HELPED THEM TO MIX WITH THE WHITE SOCIETY. NO, FOR NOW THESE SAME COLORED BROTHERS ARE LIVING IN A CLOSED SOCIETY, FOR NONE OF THIER WHITE FRIENDS WILL RESPECT THEM NOW. THEY LOWERED THEMSELVES BY TAKING THIS WHITE TRASH IN TO THIER HOMES.

LOOK AT THOSE WHO ARE GETTING PAYCHECKS FROM OPERATION HEAD START, THE SAME ONES THAT ALREADY DRAW A PAYCHECK FROM THE TAXPAYERS.

SHOULD THAT NOT PROVE TO YOU COLORED PEOPLE, THAT THESE SO CALLED LEADERS ARE SELFISH. COLORED PEOPLE WAKE UP AND STOP THESE SELFISH (SO-CALLED) LEADERS, FROM USING YOU AS A TOOL FOR THIER OWN L-A-Z-Y POCKET BOOKS.

Mr. FARMER. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, under the terms of the subpoena you are directed to bring with you and to produce documents set forth in the attachment, which is made a part of this subpoena.

Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and affiliated organizations, namely, Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as member or officer of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan or the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana or the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline and refuse to produce on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate me; on the further grounds that it would violate my rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments as guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask the witness be directed to produce.

The CHAIRMAN. You were in the hearing room when I explained the position of the committee to other witnesses preceding you with reference to this subpoena being served upon you, not in your individual capacity but in the capacity indicated in the subpoena. You were present; were you not?

Mr. FARMER. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. I take it, as your counsel and others previously have indicated, you understand the position. I now order and direct you to produce them.

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully refuse to produce this information on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, a copy of the opening statement the chairman delivered when these hearings first started in October was sent to your attorney. Were you advised of the contents of that document?

Mr. FARMER. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Ingram, you would make the same admission as with reference to the previous clients, that is, you received a copy and are generally familiar with what I said at the beginning of the hearings indicating the purpose, objective, and hopes of the hearings?

Mr. INGRAM. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 2 calls for the production of:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member or officer of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, or any other Klan organization, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline and refuse to produce the documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask for direction of the witness for production of items called for in paragraph 2.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons previously indicated and under the circumstances of our colloquy, I order and direct you to produce these documents.

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline and refuse to produce the documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, are there any grounds for refusal to produce the documents called for in paragraphs 1 and 2 other than the reasons which you have set forth?

Mr. FARMER. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Were any of the books, records, and documents called for in paragraph 1 and paragraph 2 destroyed after you had knowledge of the committee's investigation and out of fear that those documents would be subpoenaed by this committee?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline and refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, were you a witness before the three-judge court sitting in September 1965 in New Orleans, Louisiana?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I will put it to you as a fact that you testified you were the Grand Titan of the Klan and at the same time vice president of the Anti-Communist Christian Association and ask you to affirm or deny that fact.

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In supporting the Constitution of the United States, do you as the vice president of the Anti-Communist Christian Association support the Constitution of the United States as it now exists, or do you have reservations as to the Constitution which you support?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a copy of Articles of Incorporation of the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

According to this document, the Articles of Incorporation were filed with the recorder of Washington Parish, Louisiana, on January 21, 1965. They show the registered agents are Robert T. Rester, Saxon Farmer, and that the first directors are W. J. [William J.] Williams of Varnado, Louisiana; Saxon Farmer; and Lloyd Joiner, Route 2, Box 270, Ponchatoula, Louisiana.

In handing this document to you, Mr. Farmer, I ask you to explain the provision Article II, the purpose of that part of it which reads:

To provide for the preservation of the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, the Constitution of the United States of America, as originally written * * *.

Would you explain that to the committee, please?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer your question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Saxon Farmer Exhibit No. 1. See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 362-365.)

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I might point out that the Constitution as originally written contains neither the 1st, 4th, 5th, nor the 14th amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. That is historically true.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, as the number two man in both the Klan and the Anti-Communist Christian Association, did you approve and endorse the action taken against Bascom D. Talley, Jr., Bruce Shepherd, Paul Gillespie, Jerry Chance, Ralph Blumberg, and Lou Major following knowledge of an invitation extended to Brooks Hays?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I would ask you if you can reconcile the position that you took in light of reason 27 as it appears in the "Fifty Reasons Why You Should Be a Member of the Original Ku Klux Klan," which is because the Klan "believes in free speech and free press, as opposed further to a police state." (Murry Martin Exhibit No. 14, p. 2389.)

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, on Saturday, May 30th of 1964, the Klan had a rally in Bogalusa on public property, in which members of the Klan were masked in violation of Louisiana law. Did the Klan have assurances from anyone, law authority, in Bogalusa that you would not be arrested for violating the Louisiana State law that prohibits the wearing of a mask on public property?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, you were in the room when I read to Mr. Christmas the findings of the court with respect to violence and intimidation carried out by the members of the Original Knights and the Anti-Communist Christian Association. I give you an opportunity to express any comments you care to express on the findings of the court in that action.

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Farmer I would like you to answer the question if you can safely answer it. You were in the hearing room when Mr. Christmas was on the stand and when I read excerpts from that decision in which case you, as a matter of fact, were also a defendant; were you not? I am asking you, were you in the room?

Mr. FARMER. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Without repetition or consumption of more time, I, too, offer you an opportunity to confirm, deny, explain, or otherwise comment on the findings of the court based upon admissions made in the pleadings and based upon admissions in the courtroom and based upon sworn testimony before the court. Do you care to avail yourself of that offer?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Until you or someone else of the defendants in that suit appears before this committee and gives credible testimony which would show otherwise, this committee will assume, under the circumstances indicated, that the excerpts I quoted from are true.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question of the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, do you know John Magee?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee testified at the three-man court in Louisiana, identified himself as being treasurer of the Anti-Communist Christian Association, and testified that while he was the treasurer you, Saxon Farmer, controlled the funds. What are the sources of funds of the Anti-Communist Christian Association?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the grounds, constitutional grounds, previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. You testified that there were seven Klan units in Washington Parish. I ask you to identify the exalted cyclops of those seven units.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. You testified that you opposed the appearance of former Congressman Brooks Hays because he appeared to you to be a liberal, leftwing Communist. Yet you testified in court you had no evidence. Is a tactic like this one of the typical tactics of the Klan of which you were an officer?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Isn't it a fact that you testified that you were one of the incorporators of an organization known as the United Conservatives?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, among the incorporators listed were yourself: your son: Ned Touchstone of Shreveport, Louisiana; and Courtney Smith of Shreveport, Louisiana. Did you know the other three other than yourselves to be members of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Farmer, do you have a formal connection today, with, not the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, not the Anti-Communist Christian Association, but the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which is headed by the Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you spoke at a United Klan rally held at Poplarville, Crossroads Community, Mississippi, on 17 July 1965. I ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the master of ceremonies for that rally in which you spoke was C. J. Seal of White Sands Community, Poplarville, Mississippi.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that another speaker along with yourself was Mr. Ovid Dunaway of Bogalusa, Louisiana, who at one time was an exalted cyclops of an Original Knights Klavern in Bogalusa.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the questions on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was Mr. Dunaway, whom I have identified as a speaker at that rally, also in charge of a raffle in Bogalusa which was staged to raise funds for the A.C.C.A.?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Mr. Dunaway to hold a supervisor position with the telephone company in Bogalusa?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did Mr. Dunaway assist the Klan in any manner in illegally obtaining any knowledge against citizens of Bogalusa?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that Mr. John O. Guinn from Taylor, Louisiana was another speaker at that rally.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that Ernest Gilbert, the grand kleagle of the United Klans of America for the Realm of Mississippi, was a speaker at that rally.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that E. L. McDaniel, the Grand Dragon for the State of Mississippi, was also a speaker at that rally.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that Mr. Jack Helm, an officer of the United Klans of America, Realm of Louisiana, was a speaker at that rally.

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you meet on the platform at that rally a Klansman from Waveland, Mississippi, by the name of DiSalvo?

Mr. FARMER. I decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. On July 21, 1965, the United Klans of America held another rally at Poplarville, Crossroads, Mississippi. The principal speaker at the July 21 rally was Imperial Wizard Mr. Shelton. I would like to ask you to comment on a report made to the committee with respect to the speakers at that rally, and I am quoting from a report:

The last speaker was a 16 year old boy from Bogalusa, La., named Mike Copran. He gave a short talk on the Bible and its stand on integration. He also made a plea for boys in the Bogalusa area to join a youth group headed by Mr. Saxon Farmer. He stated that any boy belonging to the group would have his bond made, and or, his fine paid if he got in trouble with the law for hitting a negro demonstrator.

Do you have any comment to make upon that, Mr. Farmer?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Were you on July 21, 1965, organizing a youth group under your leadership as Mike Copran is reported to have said at that rally?

Mr. FARMER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. John Magee.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MAGEE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JOHN MAGEE, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, please, sir?

Mr. MAGEE. John Magee.

Mr. APPELL. I think you will have to speak up a little louder and get closer to the mike. I could not hear you.

Mr. MAGEE. John Magee.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. MAGEE. January 3, 1932, at Tylertown, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside, Mr. Magee.

Mr. MAGEE. Bogalusa.

Mr. APPELL. Your street and address?

Mr. MAGEE. 531 Union Avenue.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, are you appearing here today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on the 28th day of December 1965?

Mr. MAGEE. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, have you been apprised through your attorney of the contents of the opening statement the chairman delivered on October 19, 1965, as to the purpose of this hearing?

Mr. MAGEE. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, the subpoena served upon you called for you to bring with you and to produce documents called for in attachment which reads as follows:

All books, records, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, the Louisiana Rifle Association, the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, and the Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past officer or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, the Louisiana Rifle Association, the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, and the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

I ask you to produce the documents called for in that section.

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to decline, to answer the question—I respectfully refuse to produce the records on the grounds it might tend to incriminate me under the Constitution, and on the further grounds to answer the same would violate my rights inherent under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Magee, you were in the hearing room, were you not, when I explained the position of the committee with reference to the command of this subpoena served upon you to produce documents in the capacity indicated in the subpoena?

Mr. MAGEE. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons I stated previously, which you say you understand, I order and direct you to produce these documents.

Mr. MAGEE. I refuse to produce the documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, are there any reasons other than the reasons you have set forth that you did not produce the documents called for?

Mr. MAGEE. I refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, during the proceedings in the three-judge court in Louisiana, the court ordered Mr. Charles Christmas and Mr. Saxon Farmer to try to recall from memory, or from any records available to them, the identity of people who were members of either the Klan or the Anti-Communist Christian Association. These two lists or three lists were submitted by Mr. Farmer and Mr. Christmas. One is a list headed "Former Officers of the Original Knights of the K.K.K."; the other, "Officers" of the "Anti-Communist Christian Assn." Both of these documents under the heading of "Officers" list "Johnny Magee."

Is the information supplied by the court as it applies to yourself in that proceeding, as it applies, factual?

Mr. MAGEE. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated. (Documents marked "John Magee Exhibits Nos. 1-A and 1-B," respectively. See pp. 2467-2469.)

Mr. APPELL. Are you presently a member of any Klan organization?

Mr. MAGEE. I refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a reproduction of a signature card filed with the First State Bank & Trust Co., Bogalusa, Louisiana, on account in the name of the Parish A.C.C.A. The card shows that the authority to the bank to authorize payment of checks containing any two signatures was given by Robert E. Stallings and contains the names of J. E. Magee, B. R. Crain, Sidney Brock, for an account opened on May 22, 1965. I ask you if that signature card is factual?

Mr. MAGEE. I refuse to answer on the grounds it might tend to incriminate me.

Mr. APPELL. According to canceled checks submitted by the banks in accordance with the subpoena duces tecum, the makers are John Magee, J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings, J. E. Magee, Sidney Brock, J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings, J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings. These checks are drawn against the account of the Parish A.C.C.A.

One shows that the purpose for which drawn is for district funds. Can you explain to the committee the division of the Parish A.C.C.A. into its district breakdown?

Mr. MAGEE. I decline to answer on the grounds it might tend to incriminate me.

(Checks marked "John Magee Exhibit No. 3" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Will you tell the committee the purpose for which these checks were drawn?

Mr. MAGEE. I decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. It is your testimony in the Federal court that Saxon Farmer actually handled the funds, therefore, the inference that your position of treasurer is that of a figurehead position?

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully decline to answer under the constitutional grounds it might incriminate me.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask that the records relating to the Parish A.C.C.A. and the list of former officers of the Original Knights, and the current members of the Anti-Communist Christian Association be entered as an exhibit to Magee's testimony.

The CHAIRMAN. These documents will be admitted in the record at this point.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The CHAIRMAN. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Dewey Bernard Smith.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. SMITH. I do.

TESTIMONY OF DEWEY BERNARD SMITH, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, Mr. Smith?

Mr. SMITH. Dewey B. Smith.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. SMITH. Washington Parish, Louisiana, March 8, 1920.

Mr. APPELL. Is the city of your birth Franklinton?

Mr. SMITH. I don't really know.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you reside?

Mr. SMITH. At present I reside in Granada Hills, California.

The CHAIRMAN. How long have you been residing there?

Mr. SMITH. The latter part of September 1965.

The CHAIRMAN. And your residence previous to that was?

Mr. SMITH. Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, are you represented by counsel?

Mr. SMITH. Yes I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, have you been advised by your counsel as to the contents of the opening statement of the chairman setting forth the purposes of this hearing?

Mr. SMITH. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by the United States marshal on 10-28-65, October 28, 1965?

Mr. SMITH. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you and the date of your appearance which was extended by telegrams, you were directed to produce for the committee items contained in an attachment thereto, which was made a part of the subpoena.

Under paragraph 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and affiliated organizations, namely, the Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Exalted Cyclops of Washington Parish Unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana.

I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline and refuse to produce said documents on the grounds that it might incriminate me and on the further grounds that it would be a violation of my rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the United States Constitution.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Smith, you were in the hearing room when I explained the position of this committee with reference to the provisions of this subpoena directing you to produce documents in the capacity indicated therein; were you not?

Mr. SMITH. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Then I call upon you and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to produce them on constitutional grounds as previously indicated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you have any reasons, other than the constitutional reasons that you stated, for failing to produce the documents called for?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Is one of the reasons for your failure to produce, the fact that some of those documents were documents which were destroyed in a fear that they might be subpoenaed by the Federal Government in the Bogalusa case, as well as by this committee?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I will say to you as a fact that you were a defendant in that suit.

Were you in the hearing room—I think you were—when I read excerpts from that decision which, by reason of the fact that you were a defendant, apply to you? I am just asking, were you in the hearing room?

Mr. SMITH. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you care to avail yourself of an opportunity to explain, contradict, deny, or otherwise comment on the facts and holdings of the court based on the statements in the record in that sworn testimony?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. If people in that case do not decide to appear and give credible contradictory testimony under oath, the committee may presume to be true the factual findings made in that decision.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as a present or past member or officer of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to produce on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And for the reasons I have previously indicated, set forth, I order and direct you to produce these documents.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to produce the documents on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, I hand you a series of leaflets distributed in the Bogalusa area published, according to the leaflets, by the Original Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, and I ask you if you are the author of any of these leaflets?

Mr. SMITH. I refuse to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

(Documents previously marked "Ralph Blumberg Exhibits Nos. 1 and 3" and "Charles Christmas Exhibits Nos. 1-A through 1-C," respectively. See pp. 2454-2458.)

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Smith, I understand you have a college education and that you are a fluent talker—in general terms I am talking about. Would you care to describe to the committee the purpose and objectives and programs that the Klan organization stands for?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, what is your educational background?

The CHAIRMAN. Well, I just indicated that it was my information that he had gone through college. I obtained that from you so I suppose that is accurate. I hope it is.

Mr. APPELL. I would like him to state the full extent.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you attended Southwestern Louisiana Institute prior to enrolling in San Jose State College. You attended in 1944 and 1945, enrolled in chemistry and botany courses.

September 1945 you were admitted to the University of California at Los Angeles and completed 35 units, majoring in horticulture.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. What is your military background, Mr. Smith?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you entered the United States Army in June 1940; were honorably discharged as technical sergeant in May 1943; accepted a commission in the Army of the United States, the Army Air Force; were relieved of active duty in April 1944 as a second lieutenant due to a duodenal ulcer and neuritis.

Mr. SMITH. I refuse to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Are you drawing disability or retirement benefits from the United States Army?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, in February 1964, did you attend a meeting of Klan units at Alexandria, Louisiana, in which Royal V. Young, the former Imperial Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, appeared before the representatives of the units and to ask that the organization be held together under his leadership?

The CHAIRMAN. And asked what?

Mr. APPELL. That the organization be held together under his leadership. Under Young's leadership.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In March 1964 were you a write-in candidate for sheriff of Washington Parish, Louisiana?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. When you plead the fifth amendment on a political question, you might get in trouble on that.

Mr. APPELL. Did you advise the electorate at the time you were a candidate that you were at the same time a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, were you?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, having taken a Klan oath in which you promised to keep secret to yourself the secret of a Klansman, except treason against the United States, rape, and malicious murder, how could you in good conscience, having taken that oath, appear on a ballot as a candidate for the office of sheriff?

Mr. SMITH. I refuse to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. If you had been elected to sheriff, under your oath, wouldn't you have had to give protection to your fellow Klansmen?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In July 1964, were you a member, or the exalted cyclops of Unit No. 2 in Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Would you identify to the committee the klokan and the members of the wrecking crew of that Klan unit?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In December of 1964 were you exalted cyclops of Unit No. 1 of the Klan in Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In February 1965, while the exalted cyclops of Unit No. 1, did you advise fellow Klansmen that you would put up your business and property to go bail bond for any Klansman arrested?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In April of 1965 did you attempt, along with other Klansmen, to enter Central High School in Bogalusa to disrupt an integration meeting?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question upon the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Smith, have you made a statement to your fellow Klansmen that you owe no loyalty to the United States because the late President Kennedy and President Johnson are traitors?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the statement—the question—on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I wish you would correct me if I am wrong, but it is my understanding you are receiving compensation from the Federal Government.

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. While residing in Bogalusa in January 1965, were you a member of the Minutemen?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. At a meeting of the Minutemen in January 1965, did you make the statement the only way to keep communism from taking over was to get rid of some politicians and that the only way to do this was to kill them?

Mr. SMITH. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee will stand in recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

(Whereupon, at 4 p.m., Wednesday, January 5, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Thursday, January 6, 1966.)

Before WISDOM, Circuit Judge, and CHRISTENBERRY and AINSWORTH, District Judges.

WISDOM, Circuit Judge:

This is an action by the Nation against a klan.*

The United States of America asks for an injunction to protect Negro citizens in Washington Parish, Louisiana, seeking to assert their civil rights. The defendants are the "Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan", an unincorporated association, the "Anti-Communist Christian Association," a Louisiana corporation, and certain individual klansmen, most of whom come from in and around Bogalusa, Louisiana.

The defendants admit most of the allegations of the complaint. Their legal position is that a private organization and private persons are beyond the reach of the civil rights acts authorizing the Attorney General to sue for an injunction. There is no merit to this contention.

Seeking refuge in silence and secrecy, the defendants object to the admission of any evidence as to klan activities. We hold, however, that what the klan is and what the klan does bear significantly on the material issues and on the appropriate relief.

In deciding to grant the injunction prayed for, we rest our conclusions on the finding of fact that, within the meaning of the Civil Rights Acts of 1957 and 1964, the defendants have adopted a pattern and practice of intimidating, threatening, and coercing Negro citizens in Washington Parish for the purpose of interfering with the civil rights of the Negro citizens. The compulsion within the klan to engage in this unlawful conduct is inherent in the nature of the klan. This is its ineradicable evil.

We find that to attain its ends, the klan exploits the forces of hate, prejudice, and ignorance. We find that the klan relies on systematic economic coercion, varieties of intimidation, and physical violence in attempting to frustrate the national policy expressed in civil rights legislation. We find that the klansmen, whether cloaked and hooded as members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, or skulking in anonymity as members of a sham organization, "The Anti-Communist Christian Association", or brazenly resorting to violence on the open streets of Bogalusa, are a "fearful conspiracy against society . . . [holding] men silent by the terror of [their acts] and. 2 / [their] power for evil".

As early as 1868 General Nathan Bedford Forrest, the first and only Grand Wizard of the original Invisible Empire, dismayed by mounting, uncontrollable violence laid to the klan, ordered the klan to disband and directed klansmen to burn their robes and hoods.³ General Forrest was a Confederate cavalry hero, a man without fear and, certainly to most Southerners, a man beyond reproach. He announced that he would dissociate himself from all klansmen and cooperate with public officials and the courts in enforcing law and order. But the founders of the Invisible Empire had sown dragon's teeth.

The evil that led General Forrest to disband the original Ku Klux Klan was its perversion of purposes by undisciplined klans led by irresponsible leaders.⁴ The evil we find in the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is an absolute evil inherent in any secret order holding itself above the law: "the natural tendency of all such organizations . . . to violence and crime."⁵ As history teaches, and as the defendants' admissions and the proof demonstrate in this case, violence and crime follow as the night the day when masked men conspire against society itself. Wrapped in myths and misbeliefs which they think relieve them of the obligations of ordinary citizens, klansmen pledge their first allegiance to their Konstitution and give their first loyalty to a cross ~~flaming~~ in flames.

None of the defendant klansmen is a leader in his community. As a group, they do not appear to be representative of a cross-section of the community. Instead they appear to be ignorant bullies, callous of the harm they know they are doing and lacking in sufficient understanding to comprehend the chasm between their own twisted Konstitution and the noble charter of liberties under law that is the American Constitution.

Legal tolerance of secret societies must cease at the point where their members assume supra-governmental powers and take the law in their own hands. We shall not allow the misguided defendants to interfere with the rights of Negro citizens derived from or protected by the Constitution of the United States and now expressly recognized by Congress in various civil rights statutes. We enjoin the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, its dummy front, the Anti-Communist Christian Association, and the individual defendants from interfering with orders of this Court and from interfering with the civil rights of Negro citizens in Washington Parish. Specifically, these rights include:

- (1) the right to the equal use and enjoyment of public facilities, guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment;
- (2) the right to the equal use and enjoyment of public accommodations, guaranteed by the Civil Rights Act, 42 USC 2000a;
- (3) the right to register to vote and to vote in all elections guaranteed by the Fifteenth Amendment, by 42 USC 1971, and by the Voting Rights Act of 1965; and
- (4) the right to equal employment opportunities, guaranteed by the Civil Rights Act, 42 USC 2000e.

I.

The United States sues under authority of 42 USC 1971; 42 USC 2000a-5 and e-6. Under those sections and under 28 USC 1345, this Court has jurisdiction of the action. We resolve any doubt as to the reach of these sections in favor of the Government's standing to sue in a case of this kind. In its sovereign capacity the Nation has a proper interest in preserving the integrity of its judicial system, in preventing klan interference with court orders, and in making meaningful both nationally created and nationally guaranteed civil rights.

II.

We turn now to a detailed findings of fact.

A. Background. The invisible realm of the Original Knights coincides with by Spain until 1810. The events giving rise to this action took place in Washington Parish and centered in Bogalusa, the largest municipality in the Parish. Bogalusa is on the Pearl River at a point where the river forms the boundary between Louisiana andj Mississippi. It has a population of about 14,000 white persons and 7,500 Negroes.

The Grand Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and President of the Anti-Communist Christian Association is Charles Christmas of Amite in Tangipahoa Parish. Saxon Farmer, who seems to have an uncanny capacity for being present whenever there is racial trouble in Bogalusa, is the second in command of both organizations, Grand Titan of the Klan and Vice-President of the Anti-Communist Christian Association. In February 1955 he was elected to both offices simultaneously. He is also the Exalted Cyclops of one of the Bogalusa Klaverns (local units). In 1960 this Court entered an order in the case of United States v. McElveen et als. (C.A.No. 9146) against Saxon Farmer and others enjoining them from interfering with the rights of Negro citizens to vote. That order restored to voter registration rolls of Washington Parish the names of 1,377 Negro citizens Farmer and others, then active in the Citizens Council, had unlawfully purged from the rolls.

The evidence clearly establishes that the Anti-Communist Christian Association is not a bona fide, independent organization

but is the defendant klan thinly disguised under a respectable title. At an earlier time, the klan's dummy organization was called the Bogalusa Gun and Rifle Club. The defendants' efforts to appear respectable by association may also be reflected in the location of the klan's principal office in the Disabled American Veterans Hall.

The officers, members, internal structure, ^{and} method of paying dues of the ACCA and the klan are identical. The corporate structure of the ACCA includes nothing but a charter. The governing rules and by-laws of the ACCA are the Klan Konstitution. The secret oath for admission and resignation in both organizations is the klan oath. Nothing is required of klan members to become members of the ACCA, except identifying to the secretary of the klan unit their assigned secret klan number. Klan members are then furnished a small green card with the name Anti-Communist Christian Association printed thereon. This Court finds that the defendant klan has appeared in this cause. The pretense that the klan does not exist, has ceased to exist, or has made no appearance in this cause is a sham.

Until recently Washington Parish was segregated from cradle to coffin. After Congress adopted the 1964 Civil Rights Act, however, the Negroes in Bogalusa began a broad scale campaign to gain recognition of their rights. Working through the Bogalusa Voters League, they conducted voter registration clinics, held mass meetings to call attention to their grievances, picketed places of public accommodations to protest racially discriminatory policies, and petitioned the Mayor of Bogalusa to accord equal rights in voting, public facilities, employment, and education.

The klan has been the center of ~~a pattern and practice of~~ unlawful activity in Washington Parish designed to interfere with the efforts of Negro citizens to gain equal rights under the law. Its objective has been to preserve total racial segregation in Bogalusa

B. Defendants' Admissions. An unusual feature of this litigation is the defendants' damning admissions. The defendants admit that the klan's objective is to prevent Washington Parish Negroes from exercising the civil rights Congress recognized by statute. In their pleadings, the defendants concede that they furthered their objective by --

- (a) assaulting, threatening, and harassing Negroes who seek to exercise any of their civil rights, and assaulting, threatening and harassing persons who urge that Negroes should exercise or be accorded those rights;
- (b) committing, threatening to commit, and urging others to commit acts of economic retaliation against Negroes who seek to exercise these rights, and against any persons who urge that Negroes should exercise or be accorded these rights, or who permit open, free and public discussion on the issue;
- (c) threatening and intimidating public officials and businessmen who accord or seek to accord Negroes their rights without regard to race or color.

The reason for the admissions was evident at the trial and is evident in the defendants' brief. The United States subpoenaed over a hundred witnesses and, no doubt, was prepared to prove every allegation in the complaint. Because of the defendants' admissions, the disputed issues were few and only a few witnesses were called. As a result, the klan avoided an airing of its activities that necessarily would have occurred had a large number of witnesses testified. Not content with the success of this maneuver, the defendants objected to the introduction of "any evidence pertaining to the activities of the Ku Klux Klan" on the grounds that (a) the klan had ceased to exist and (b) "delv[ing] into these unrelated matters" was solely "to expose" the Ku Klux Klan, an invasion of the "privacy and individual freedoms of all these defendants".

As indicated earlier, however, the nature of the klan's activities bears directly on the existence of a pattern and practice of unlawful conduct and also on the sort of decree that should be issued.

The Government subpoenaed membership lists and records of the klan. The defendants failed to produce these records and at the hearing explained that all of the records of the klan had been destroyed as a matter of klan policy after suit was filed. The Court ordered Christmas, Farmer, and John Magee, the treasurer, to compile from memory lists of officers and members. Counsel for the defendants objected to the admissibility of the lists for the reasons that: (1) there were no lists and records in the custody of the defendants; (2) the requirement was an invasion of the rights of privacy and association. The defendants did not rely on the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination; they relied on NAACP v. Alabama, 1958, 357 U.S. v. 449, 78 S. Ct. 1163 2 L. Ed 2d 1488. The Court overruled the objections.

NAACP v. Alabama does not support the defendants' position. In that case Justice Harlan, speaking for a unanimous Court, held that the rights of the members of the NAACP to pursue their lawful interests privately and to associate freely with others were protected by the 14th Amendment. Accordingly, the NAACP was relieved of the necessity of turning over its membership list to the State of Alabama. In reaching that decision the Court distinguished New York ex rel. Bryant v. Zimmerman, 1928, 278 U.S. 63, 49 S. Ct. 61, 73 L. Ed. 184, ^{a case} involving a New York Chapter of the Ku Klux Klan. A New York statute required any unincorporated association which demanded an oath as a condition to membership to file with state officials copies of its "constitution, by-laws . . . a roster of its membership and a list of officers". ^{In Zimmerman} the Court found that the statutory classification was reasonable, because of the "manifest tendency on the part of one class to make the secrecy surrounding its purposes and membership "a cloak for acts and conduct inimical to personal rights and public welfare. . . . 'It is a matter of common knowledge that this organization [the klan] functions largely at night, its members disguised by hoods and gowns and doing things calculated to strike terror into the minds of people'". The Supreme Court reaffirmed this distinction in NAACP v. Alabama. Justice Harlan pointed out:

"[In Zimmerman] the Court took care to emphasize the nature of the organization which New York sought to regulate. The decision was based on the particular character of the klan's activities, involving acts of unlawful intimidation and violence . . . of which the Court itself took judicial notice."

Here the defendants admit that the klan's methods are lawless. Albertson v. Subversives Activities Board, Nov. 15, 1965, U. S. Supreme Court, pretermits the question at issue in Zimmerman and NAACP v. Alabama.

C. Out of Their Own Mouths. (1) The Konstitution of the Original Ku Klux Klan embodies "the Supreme Law of the Realm". Article I states that one of the objects of the organization is to "protect and defend the Constitution of the United States"; but another object is to "maintain forever Segregation of the races and the Divinely directed and historically proven supremacy of the White Race". The preamble reaffirms "the principles for which our forefathers mutually pledged and freely sacrificed their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor two centuries ago"; but Article II limits the membership to "mature, Native-born, White, Gentile Men . . . who profess and practice the Christian Faith but who are not members of the Roman Catholic Church".

(2) Printed with the Konstitution is a Proclamation stating that it must be "STRICTLY ADHERED TO." The Proclamation states that "ALL REALM work is carried on by a chain of command", establishes the organization along military lines, defines the duties of the various officers and committees, and describes "The Way of the Klavern".

"All Klaverns will have at least five armed guards with flashlights posted during regular meetings." However, "No one will be allowed to carry a gun inside the Klavern during regular meetings except the Knight Hawk (Keeper of the Klavern)."

Klokan's (Klavern Investigator's) duty is "to investigate all questionable matters pertaining to the Klaverr". "Any Klansman who is known to violate our rules, especially those that give information to any aliens [non-members] shall be expelled immediately, then is to be watched and visited by the Wrecking Crew if necessary". (Emphasis added.) Moreover, each klan unit "will set up at least one team of six men to be used for wrecking crew. These men should be appointed by the Klokan in secrecy". As judges charged with the duty of drawing inferences from the demeanor of witnesses, we observed that a former klansman exhibited uneasiness/^{for} ~~if not~~ fear of klan reprisals, when questioned as to the function of the klan "wrecking crew". The defendants' testimony relating to the purpose and functions of the wrecking crew was evasive. There is no doubt/^{however} that the wrecking crew performed disciplinary functions and that the discipline could be severe.

(3) The Oath of Allegiance requires faithful obedience to the "Klan's Konstitution and Laws", regulations, "rulings and instructions of the Grand Dragon". "PROVIDENCE ALONE PREVENTING". Klansmen must swear "forever" to "keep sacredly secret . . . all . . . matters and knowledge of the * * * * [one asterisk is Klanese for 'Klan'; four asterisks mean "Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan] . . . [and] never divulge same nor even cause same to be divulged to any person in the whole world". As if this were not enough, the Oath also requires klansmen to swear that they "solemnly vow and most positively swear" never "to yield to bribe, threats, passion, punishment, persecution, persuasion, nor any inticements (sic) whatever . . . for the purpose of obtaining . . . a secret or secret information of the XXXX." Section IV on "XXXX ISHNESS" goes a little further. In this section of the oath the klansmen must swear to "keep secret to [himself] a secret of a man committed to him in the sacred bond of * manship. The crime of violating this oath, treason against the United States of America, rape, and malicious murder alone excepted." (Emphasis added.) In pure Klanese, the klanman pledges his "life, property, vote, and sacred honor" to uphold "unto death" the Constitution and "constitutional laws". (Emphasis added.) But he ends by swearing that he will "zealously shield and preserve . . . free segregated public schools, white SUPREMACY."

(4) The "Boycott Rules" give a good idea of the Klan's coercive tactics. For example:

"The Boycott Committee (one member from each local unit appointed by the Exalted Cyclops) shall have exclusive investigative authority and it shall not act at any time with less than three members present. . . .

¶ (1) No person or subject upon whom a boycott shall have been placed shall be patronized by any member. . . .

Boycotts shall be imposed upon subjects who are found to be violating the Southern traditions. . . .

¶ Boycotts shall be placed upon all members of the Committee who publicly served with Bascom Talley in his efforts to promote the Brooks Hays meeting.

¶ Boycotts shall be placed upon any merchant using Negro employees to serve or wait upon persons of the white race. (Service Stations using Negroes to pump gas are excluded.)

¶ No member shall be punished for violation of the rules by a member of his family under twelve (12) years of age.

¶ Any member who shall after a hearing have been found guilty of personally patronizing a subject listed on the boycott list shall be wrecked by the wrecking crew who shall be appointed by the Committee. (Emphasis added.) . . .

—¶ Second offense - If a member is found guilty of personally violating the boycott list he shall be wrecked and banished from the Klan."

It is not surprising that the attorneys for the United States had difficulty extracting from klansmen answers to questions.

(5) In keeping with its false front and as bait for the devout, the Klan purports to perform its dirty work in the name of Jesus Christ. The first object stated in the "Objects and Purposes" clause of the Konstitution of this anti-Roman Catholic, anti-Semitic, hate-breeding organization is to "foster and promote the tenets of Christianity". The Proclamation requires the Kludd (Klavern Chaplain) to "open and close each meeting of the Klavern with prayer". Setting some kind of a record for sanctimonious cant, the Proclamation directs the Kludd to "study and be prepared to explain the 12th chapter of ROMANS at any time, as this is the religious foundation of the Invisible Empire". (Emphasis added)

Saint Paul, Apostle to the Gentiles, wrote his Epistle to the Romans in Corinth, midway between Rome and Jerusalem. Addressing himself to Jews and Gentiles, he preached the brotherhood of man: "Glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile: For there is no respect of persons with God." ¹⁰ In the Twelfth Chapter of Romans, Paul makes a beautiful and moving plea for tolerance, for brotherly love, for returning good for evil:

9 Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10 Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another; . . .

14 Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not. . . .

17 Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men.

18 If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

19 Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

20 Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good."

These words must fall on stony ground in the Klaverns of a Klan.

D. Specific Findings of Klan Intimidation and Violence.

We select the following examples of the defendants' acts of intimidation and violence.

(1) January 7, 1965, former Congressman Brooks Hays of Arkansas, at the invitation of religious, business, and civic leaders ~~from~~^{of} Bogalusa, was scheduled to speak in Bogalusa at St. Matthews Episcopal Church Parish House on the subject of community relations. The meeting was to be open to both Negroes and whites and it was planned that seating would be on a racially non-segregated basis. After learning of the proposed appearance of Mr. Hays and the arrangements for an unsegregated meeting, the Klan and its members protested to the Mayor and the members of the Commission Council and, by means of threats of civil disorder and economic retaliation against local businessmen who supported the meeting, caused the withdrawal of the invitation to Mr. Hays to speak. December 18, 1964, before the Hays invitation was withdrawn, the Mayor of Bogalusa and Police Commissioner Arnold Spiers, in an effort to head off possible civil disorder, appeared at a Klan meeting at the Disabled Veterans Hall. The show of force at this meeting by over 150 hooded Klansmen unquestionably intimidated public officials in Bogalusa and, later, hindered effective police action against Klan violence. On the stand, Mayor Cutrer admitted that he was "frightened when he looked into 150 pairs of eyes".

(2) Since at least January 28, 1965, the defendants, including Saxon Farmer, Russell Magee, Dewey Smith, Randle C. Pounds, Billy Alford, Charles McClendon, James Burke, and other members of the defendant Klan, have made a practice of going to places where they anticipated that Negroes would attempt to exercise civil rights, in order to harass, threaten, and intimidate the Negroes and other persons. For this purpose, members of the defendant Klan have gone to Franklinton, Louisiana, when Negro citizens of Washington Parish were expected to apply to register as voters, have gone to restaurants in Bogalusa when Negroes were seeking or were expected to seek service, and have gone to locations in downtown Bogalusa and near the Bogalusa Labor Temple when Negroes were attempting or were expected to demonstrate publicly in support of equal rights for Negroes.

(3) William Yates and Stephen Miller, two CORE workers, came to Bogalusa in January 1965. The Grand Dragon and Grand Titan of the Klan, defendants Charles Christmas and Saxon Farmer, appeared at the Mayor's office to ask the Mayor to send William Yates and Stephen Miller out of Bogalusa. Mayor Cutrer indicated that he could do nothing. The next day, February 3, 1965, three Klansmen, James Hollingsworth, Jr., James Hollingsworth, Sr., and Delos Williams, with two other persons, Doyle Tynes and Ira Dunaway, attempted to insure Yates' and Miller's departure. This group followed Yates and Miller and assaulted Yates.

(4) February 15, 1965, defendant Virgil Corkern, Klansman, and approximately 30 other white persons attacked five Negro citizens and damaged the car in which they were riding. This occurred because the Negroes had sought service at a gasoline station in Bogalusa. On that same day, Corkern and other persons gathered at Landry's Fine Foods, a restaurant in Bogalusa, to observe Negroes seeking service at the restaurant. Corkern and one other entered the restaurant brandishing clubs, ordered the Negroes to leave and threatened to kill Sam Barnes, a member of the Bogalusa Voters League, who had come to the restaurant with six Negro women.

(5) March 29, 1965, defendants Hardie Adrian Goings, Jr., Klansman, and Franklin Harris, Klansman, shortly after meetings had been held at the Bogalusa Labor Temple, threw an ignited tear gas canister at a group of Negroes standing near the Labor Temple. Goings, Jr. then tried to disguise his car by repainting it and removing the air scoop from the top to prevent detection of this crime. Goings or other Klansmen used this same car in May of 1964 to burn a cross at the home of Lou Major, editor of the Bogalusa newspaper.

(6) April 7, 1965, defendants Lattimore McNeese and E. J. (Jack) Dixon, Klansman, threatened Negro citizens during the course of a meeting at the Labor Temple by brandishing and exhibiting a gun at Negroes standing outside the Labor Temple.

(7) April 9, 1965, defendants Billy Alford, Klansman, Randle C. Pounds, Klansman, Lattimore McNeese, Charles McClendon, and James Burke, Klansman, with other persons, went to the downtown area of Bogalusa where Negro citizens were participating in a march to the Bogalusa City Hall to protest denial of equal rights. Pounds, McClendon, and Burke, in a group, moved out to attack the marchers. Pounds assaulted the leader of the march, James Farmer, with a blackjack; McClendon and Burke were temporarily deterred from the threatened assault, but immediately thereafter assaulted a newsman and an FBI agent. Alford assaulted one of the Negroes participating in the march.

(8) May 19, 1965, Virgil Corkern, Klansman, two sons of Virgil Corkern, and other white persons went to Cassidy Park, a public recreation area maintained by the City of Bogalusa, for the purpose of interfering with the enjoyment of the park by Negroes and white CORE workers who were present at the park and using the facilities for the first time on a non-segregated basis. The Corkern group entered the park and dispersed the Negro citizens with clubs, belts, and other weapons.

(9) Negro members of the Bogalusa Voters League, unable to exercise their civil rights and also unable to obtain from police officials adequate protection from the Klan, filed suit June 25, 1965, in the case of Hicks v. Knight in this Court. The complaint asks for an injunction requiring officers of the City of Bogalusa to open the public parks and to operate such parks without racial discrimination, and also requiring law enforcement officers of the City, Parish, and State to protect the Negro plaintiffs and other Negroes from physical assaults, beatings, harassment, and intimidation at the hands of white citizens. July 10, 1965, this Court issued an injunction in Hicks v. Knight enjoining certain city and parish law enforcement officers from failing to use all reasonable means to protect the Negro plaintiffs and others similarly situated from physical assaults and beatings and from harassment and intimidation preventing or discouraging the exercise of their rights to picket, assemble peaceably, and advocate equal civil rights for Negroes. The preliminary injunction is still in full force and effect. Even after this Court issued its order July 10, 1965, the defendant Klansmen continued to interfere with Negro citizens exercising civil rights and interfered with performance of the duties of law enforcement officials under the injunction in Hicks v. Knight.

(10) July 11, 1965, during a Negro march in downtown Bogalusa, defendants Randle Pounds, Klansman, H. A. Goings, Jr., Klansman, Franklin Harris, Klansman, and Milton E. Parker were present. Harris and Goings passed out 25-30 2x2 clubs to youths and Pounds stationed the youths along the march route. Parker was arrested by a City policeman along the route of march for disturbing the peace.

(11) Included in the exhibits are a number of handbills bearing the caption, "Published by the Original Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana". These are crude, scurrilous attacks on certain Bogalusa citizens who advocated a moderate approach to desegregation. For example, in one handbill an Episcopal minister is accused of lying for having said that he had received calls threatening to bomb his church; the minister's son is said to be an alcoholic, to have faced a morals charge in court, and to have been committed to a mental institution. The handbill adds:

"The Ku Klux Klan is now in the process of checking on Reverend _____'s [naming him] moral standards. If he is cleared you will be so informed. If he is not cleared, you will be informed of any and all misdeeds or moral violation of his in the past."

In the same handbill the Klan announced that it was "boycotting businesses which cater to integration such as Mobile Gas Stations, etc." Mobil Gas Station is a business competitor of the defendant, Grand Titan Saxon Farmer.

All of the handbills attempt to intimidate public officials, the Governor of Louisiana, the Congressman from the Sixth District, the Mayor of Bogalusa, and federal judges (by name). Sometimes the attempted intimidation is by threat of violence, sometimes by character assassination. / For example:

- (a) "On numerous occasions we have been asked by local officials to refrain from any acts of violence upon this outside scum that has invaded our city. Being a christian organization, we have honored these requests each time. How much longer can we continue??? Contrary to what the liberal element would have you think, this memorandum is not the work of racist and hate mongers or trouble makers, as Governor 'Big John' McKeithen calls us. We are God fearing white, southerners who believe in constitutional government and the preservation of our American heritage.

"If your governor would have done the right thing to start with, he would have refused to protect these local and outside agitators and did just what one great southern governor did. He refused to protect this outside element, (CORE, NAACP, SNECK, ETC.), at the expense of his state. He chose, instead, to let LBJ and Katzenbach protect them. Only after the city of Bogalusa had spent $96,000, did he (Big John McKeithen), make any effort to ease the situation in this city."

- (b) "As the people tried to preserve our Southern way of life, the Mayor and Council were slowly selling the people out at every turn. The Mayor has repeatedly GIVEN in. James Farmer did not have the support of the local Negroes. Mayor Cutrer is not giving the city of Bogalusa to the negro citizens of Bogalusa. No. He is giving the city to James Farmer and a handful of Negro Teenagers. NO PRESSURE was put on James Farmer and Dick Gregory to keep them out of Bogalusa. Not by the Mayor, the State Representative, the State Senator, or Congressman Morrison. This was not so when the WHITE CONSERVATIVES wanted to stage a Rally. Pressure was exerted from all levels, even the invited guest speakers were 'leaned on'.

"The Governor, the Congressman, Jimmy Morrison, or his com-rats, Suksty Rayborn, and Euster Sheridan. John McKeithen asked for our vote and promised to serve the PEOPLE. We now ask, Big John, isn't this TRUE? What is happening under your administration?

"Here is the list of elected officials who COULD & AND SHOULD have helped the People of Bogalusa." All these should be tarred and feathered:

MAYOR JESSIE CUTRER
 REPRESENTATIVE SHERIDAN
 SENATOR SIXTY RAYBORN
 SHERIFF DORMAN CROWE
 CONGRESSMAN JIMMY MORRISON
 GOVERNOR JOHN MCKEITHEN
 SENATOR RUSSELL LONG "

"Now the QUESTION. Why have these men, elected by the WHITE people turned their back on us in our time of need?

"Is Communism so close? Who bought them? Who bought their HONOR and FOR HOW MUCH?"

- (c) "The Ku Klux Klan is strongly organized in Bogalusa and throughout Washington and St. Tammany Parishes. Being a secret organization, we have KLAN members in every conceivable business in this area. We will know the names of all who are invited to the Brooks Hayes meeting and we will know who did and did not attend this meeting. Accordingly, we take this means to urge all of you to refrain from attending this meeting. Those who do attend this meeting will be tagged as intergrationists and will be dealt with accordingly by the Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN."

E. Summary of the Facts. We find that the defendants have admitted and the proof has shown that they intimidated, harassed, and otherwise interfered with (1) Negroes exercising their civil rights, (2) persons encouraging Negroes to assert their rights, and (3) public officials, police officers, and other persons seeking to accord Negroes their rights. These acts are part of a pattern and practice of the defendants to maintain total segregation of the races in Washington Parish. The pattern creates an effect extending beyond the effect of any particular act or practice. A Negro who is clubbed in a public park may fear to order coffee in a segregated sandwich shop or he may decide that it is the better part of valor not to exercise voting rights. The owner of the sandwich shop who receives threatening calls for having served Negro patrons may conclude that taking care of his family comes ahead of hiring Negro employees. The intimidation or violence may be effective not only as to the particular individual against whom it is directed but also as to others who may be less courageous than the Negroes brave enough to parade in Bogalusa or register to vote in Franklinton. The acts of terror and intimidation admitted or proved in this case, acts characteristic of a masked, secret conspiracy, can be halted only by a broad order enjoining the defendants from unlawfully interfering with the exercise of civil rights by Negro citizens.

III.

The defendants contend that the complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. They start with the doctrine that the 14th and 15th Amendments apply only to state action or action under color of state law. A. This moves them as a matter of statutory construction, to conclude that Congress did not purport to enforce civil rights against private persons. Moreover, so they argue, the 1957 Act applies to "interference with voting" not to "interference with registering". B. And, they say, if civil rights acts do authorize enforcement against private persons (not owners or managers of a place of public accommodation) the statutes are unconstitutional.

A.

(1) The Civil Rights Act of 1957. In the field of civil rights the problem of enforcement is more difficult than the problem of legislative definition. The choice of remedy determines whether an act of Congress simply declares a right or carries machinery for meaningful performance of the statutory promise. In the past, an obvious hiatus has been the lack of effective sanctions against private persons interfering with a citizen's exercise of a civil right. This lack may be explained by a number of reasons. (a) Congress has been reluctant to assert affirmatively by legislation its responsibility to protect the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States, for fear of imperiling the balanced relationship between the states and the Nation. ¹¹ (b) Courts have narrowly construed criminal sanctions available in Section 241 and 242 of Title 18. ¹² (c) Congress and the courts have been severely limited by the doctrine of state action, in spite of the trend toward an expansive view of what is state action. ¹³ (d) Congress has been wary of using an equitable remedy in civil rights legislation. The Constitution guarantees an accused in a criminal case the right to indictment by a grand jury and trial by a jury of the vicinage. Enforcement of civil rights through the use of an injunction and the contempt power of the courts would by-pass the jury system. ¹⁴ However, in communities hostile to civil rights and resentful against "outside", that is, federal interference, injunctive relief may be the most effective method of enforcing civil rights.

the pros and cons of these and many other issues when Congress considered ~~these and related racial discrimination~~

¹⁵ the Administration submitted an omnibus civil rights bill in 1956. The focal issues--the contempt power, the jury system, and the relationship of the states with the Nation--produced one of the great debates in American parliamentary history. By the time the bill was cut down to a voting rights law, as the Civil Rights Act of 1957, 71 Stat. 534, /Congress and the country thoroughly understood the significance of the legislation. ¹⁶ Congress had opened the door, then nearly shut, to national responsibility for protecting civil rights--created or guaranteed by the Nation--by injunction proceedings against private persons.

Part III of the Administration's bill, as originally proposed, would have authorized the Attorney General to file suit against any person who deprived or was about to deprive any citizen of any civil right. The compromise that became the Civil Rights Act of 1957 limits civil actions to protection of voting rights in special, general, or primary elections where federal officers are elected.

Before the 1957 Act, Section 1971 (now 1971(a)) was enforced either by an action for damages under 42 U.S.C. §1983 and §1985(3) or by a criminal action under 18 U.S.C. §241, 242. The 1957 Act adds four subsections to Section 1971, including:

"b. No person, whether acting under color of law or otherwise, shall intimidate, threaten, or coerce any other person for the purpose of interfering with the right of such other person to vote or to vote as he may choose, or of causing such other person to vote for, or not to vote for, any candidate for the office of President, Vice President, presidential elector, Member of the Senate, or Member of the House of Representatives, Delegate's or Commissioners from the Territories or possessions, at any general, special, or primary election held solely or in part for the purpose of selecting or electing any such candidate.

"c. Whenever any person has engaged or there are reasonable grounds to believe that any person is about to engage in any act or practice which would deprive any other person of any right or privilege secured by subsection (a) or (b), the Attorney General may institute for the United States, or in the name of the United States, a civil action or other proper proceeding for preventive relief, including an application for a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other order. In any proceeding hereunder the United States shall be liable for costs the same as a private person."

The House Report on the Act--there was no Senate Report-- clearly states the purpose of the amendments to 1971:

"This section adds new matter. The provision is a further declaration of the right to vote for Federal offices. It states clearly that it is unlawful for a private individual as well as one acting under color of law to interfere or attempt to interfere with the right to vote at any general, special, or primary election concerning Federal offices. This amendment, however, does not provide for a remedy. However, the succeeding subsection of the amendment, which is designated subsection (c), does provide a remedy in the form of a civil action instituted on the part of the Attorney General." House Report No. 291, to accompany H.R. 6127, U.S. Code Cong. and Adm. News 1966, 1977 (1987) (Emphasis added)

Although Congress narrowed the subject matter of the statute to voting rights, there is nothing narrow about the scope of the Act as to interference with voting rights. The statute is not limited to physical acts or to direct interference with the act of voting but applies to--

"any act or practice which would deprive any other person of any right or privilege secured by subsection (a) or (b). . ."

The statute applies to "any person" who shall--

"intimidate, threaten, coerce or attempt to intimidate, threaten or coerce for the purpose of interfering with the right of such person to vote."

There is no doubt that this language applies to private individuals. And there is very little doubt that the Act protects the right to register and to engage in activities encouraging citizens to register. As discussed more fully elsewhere, registration is an integral, indispensable part of the voting process. It is also a stage that is vulnerable to abuse by the registrar or to unlawful conduct by private persons. Ever since the Supreme Court outlawed the "white" primary, it has been apparent that the main battleground in the war over Negro suffrage would be the registration office. See, for example, the description of the activities of the Citizens Councils and parish registrars in United States v. Louisiana, E.D.La. 1963, 225 F. Supp. 353, 378-80. Congress was well aware that a major mischief to be combatted in the 1957 Act was economic coercion and threats of intimidation by private persons that would deny or interfere with the Negro's access to registration.

More often than not, the economic coercion and intimidation by private persons are triggered by an educational campaign to encourage registration. United States v. Beatty, 6 Cir. 1961, 288 F. 2d 653 is a case in point. The case arose in Haywood

County, Tennessee, a county in which no Negroes were registered to vote. In the spring of 1959, a newly formed Civic and Welfare League, apparently similar to the Bogalusa Voters League, initiated a campaign in Haywood and in Fayette Counties to encourage Negroes to register. This led to the institution of a "white" primary in Fayette; later prohibited by a consent decree in April 1960. In the face of a renewed registration drive, white businessmen in both counties retaliated by circulating a "blacklist" containing the names of the Negroes who registered and white citizens who assisted them. The businessmen induced local merchants to boycott anyone whose name appeared on the list, by denying credit and the right to buy necessities through the usual business relations. White landowners evicted sharecroppers and tenant farmers who had registered or whose names appeared on the blacklist. The Attorney General sued the businessmen and landowners, under Section 1971, for immediate injunctive relief. The district judge granted a restraining order enjoining the businessmen from "interfering through intimidation and/or coercion", but refused to enjoin the landowners on the ground that the Civil Rights Act did not vest the court with authority "to adjudge contracts and property rights". 6 Race Rel. L. Rep. 200. The Sixth Circuit affirmed the judgment as to the businessmen and extended the injunction to the landlords.

In East Carroll Parish, Louisiana, cotton growers refused to gin cotton for Negro farmers who had attempted to register to vote. The Attorney General again sued under the 1957 Act. Judge Dawkins granted a restraining order, as preventive relief, against owners, operators, and managers of cotton gin businesses and certain other businesses. The Court restrained the defendants from "refusing to gin refusing to sell goods or services, and to conduct ordinary business transactions with, any person for the purpose of discouraging or dissuading such person from attempting to vote and . . . engaging in any attempted threats, intimidations, or coercion of any nature, whether economic or otherwise". United States v. Deal, W.D.La. 1961, 6 Race Rel. L. Rep. 474.

The parallel between the defendants' intimidation by and economic coercion in Beatty/ in Deal, and the defendants' boycott and other activities in this case is too patent to be spelled out. Beatty and Deal also illustrate a principle of enormous importance in the enforcement of civil rights: acts otherwise lawful may become unlawful and be enjoined under Section 1971, if the purpose and effect of the acts is to interfere with the right to vote.

In United States v. Board of Education of Greene County, Mississippi, 1964, 332 F. 2d 40, the Fifth Circuit affirmed the holding below that the government failed to prove that the alleged intimidation was for the purpose of interfering with the right to vote. But, as Judge Tuttle explained in United States v. Bruce (not yet reported, decided Nov. 16, 1965, No. 22029), the Court in the Greene County case assumed:

"Whereas a school board might, under the circumstances present in that case, have legally failed to renew a teacher's contract for any reason or for no reason at all, if it in fact declined to renew the [teacher's] certificate as a means of coercing or intimidating the teacher as to her right to vote, such conduct would be prohibited under the Act."

In United States v. Bruce twenty-eight white persons in Wilcox County, Alabama, notified Lonnie Brown, a Negro insurance collector, to stay off land owned or controlled by them.

As a result Brown could not reach many of his policy-holders. Brown had been active in urging his Negro neighbors and friends to register to vote in Wilcox County, a county where no Negroes were registered. The Court held that the trial court erred in dismissing the complaint:

"The background allegations make a strong case upon which the trial court could infer the correctness of the conclusionary allegations that these defendants did in fact 'intimidate and coerce' the Negro citizens of Wilcox County, through the person of Lonnie Brown, for the purpose of interfering with their right to vote."²³

We hold that the Civil Rights Act of 1957 applies to private persons, including the defendants impleaded in this case. We hold that the Act applies to interfering with the right to register as well as interfering with the right to vote; that the Act protects Negro citizens against the coercion, intimidation, and violence the defendants admitted or were proved to have committed in this case.

(2) The Civil Rights Act of 1964. The '64 Act creates new categories of civil rights and extends the authority of the Attorney General to protect such rights by a civil suit for injunctive relief against any person, public or private.

For purposes of this proceeding, the most pertinent provisions are those relating to (a) places of public accommodation, (b) equal employment opportunities, and (c) public facilities. As clearly as words can say, these provisions reach any person and any action that interferes with the enjoyment of civil rights secured by the Act. Thus, 42 U.S.C. §2000a-2 of Title II, is not limited to prohibiting discrimination or segregation by the owner or manager of a place of public accommodation. The section provides:

"No person shall (a) withhold, deny, or attempt to withhold or deny, or deprive or attempt to deprive, any person of any right or privilege secured by section 2000a or 2000a-1 of this title, or (b) intimidate, threaten, or coerce, or attempt to intimidate, threaten, or coerce any person with the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by section 2000a or 2000a-1 of this title, or (c) punish or attempt to punish any person for exercising or attempting to exercise any right or privilege secured by section 2000a or 2000a-1 of this title."

And to enforce the law, Section 2000a-5 (a) allows the Attorney General to sue "any person or group of persons":

"Whenever the Attorney General has reasonable cause to believe that any person or group of persons is engaged in a pattern or practice of resistance to the full enjoyment of any of the rights secured by this subchapter, and that the pattern or practice is of such a nature and is intended to deny the full exercise of the rights herein described, the Attorney General may bring a civil action requesting such preventive relief, including an application for a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order or other order against the person or persons responsible for such pattern or practice, as he deems necessary to insure the full enjoyment of the rights herein described." [Emphasis supplied.]

Section 2000e-6 of Title VII, relating to equal employment opportunities, tracks the language of Section 2000a-5(a).

This suit is not one to desegregate public facilities under Title VII of the Act. However, Section 2000-b is relevant, since it demonstrates again the broad Congressional objective of authorizing the Attorney General to sue as defendants "such parties as are or become necessary to the grant of effective relief". The defendants' interference with the right of Negroes to use public facilities in Bogalusa is relevant to the cause of action, for that interference was part of a pattern and practice of total resistance to the Negroes' exercise of civil rights.

(3) In sum, in the Civil Rights Acts of 1957 and 1964, Congress recongnized that when a Negro is clubbed or coerced for having attempted to register or for having entered a "white" restaurant, the action most likely to produce effective relief is not necessarily for the Negro to complain to the local police or to sue for damages or to make charges under 18 USC 241, 242. The most effective relief for him and for all others affected by the intimidation may be an injunction by the Nation against the private persons responsible for interfering with his civil rights.

Effectiveness of remedy is not the only reason for the Congressional grant of authority to the Attorney General of the United States. The Nation has a responsibility to supply a meaningful remedy for a right it creates or guarantees. As Justice Story wrote, in sustaining the constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Act of 1793:

"If, indeed, the constitution guarantees the right, and if it requires the delivery [of the fugitive slave] upon the claim of the owner . . . , the natural inference certainly is, that the national government is clothed with the appropriate authority and functions to enforce it. The fundamental principle, applicable to all cases of this sort, would seem to be, that when the end is required, the means are given. . ." Prigg v. Pennsylvania, 1842, 41 U.S. (17 Pet.) 539, 614.

It is one thing when acts are mere invasions of private rights; "it is quite a different matter when Congress undertakes to protect the citizen in the exercise of rights conferred by the Constitution of the United States essential to the healthy organization of the government itself". Ex parte Yarbrough, 1884, 110 U.S. 651, 665, 4 S.Ct. 152, 28 L.Ed. 274. We turn now to the defendants' constitutional arguments.

B.

The defendants' constitutional arguments rest on a misunderstanding of the constitutional sources for the Civil Rights Acts of 1957 and 1964.²⁴

(1) The Civil Rights Act of 1957: Protection of Right to Vote From Unlawful Interference.(a) In upholding the constitutionality of the voting provisions of the 1957 Act, we need not consider the Civil War Amendments. Section 1971 (b), here enforced under 1971 (c), is limited to prohibiting interference with the right to vote in elections for federal office. Article I, Section 4 of the Constitution is an express grant of authority to Congress to regulate federal elections:²⁵

"The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators."

As the House Committee pointed out in its report on the law, United States v. Classic, 1941, 313 U.S. 299, 61 S. Ct. 1031, 85 L.Ed. 1368, "establishes the authority in Congress to legislate concerning any and all elections affecting federal officers, whether general, special, or primary, as long as they are 'an integral part of the procedure of choice or where in fact the primary effectively controls their choice.'" U.S.Code Cong. and Adm. News, 85 Cong. 1957, p. 1977. The Supreme Court said, in Classic:

"While, in a loose sense, the right to vote for representatives in Congress is sometimes spoken of as a right derived from the states, [citations omitted] this statement is true only in the sense that the states are authorized by the Constitution, to legislate on the subject as provided by §2 of Art. I, to the extent that Congress has not restricted state action by the exercise of its powers to regulate elections under §4 and its more general power under Article I, §8, clause 18 of the Constitution 'to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers.'"

(b) Under the "sweeping clause", Article I, Section 8, Clause 18, Congress may enact all laws "necessary and proper" to carry out any of its powers, including, of course, its power to regulate federal elections. This provision leaves to Congress the choice of the means to execute its powers. "Let the end be legitimate, let it be within the scope of the Constitution, and all means which are appropriate, which are plainly adapted to that end, which are not prohibited, but consist with the letter and spirit of the Constitution are constitutional". McCulloch v. Maryland, 1819, 4 Wheat. 316, 421.

"There is little regarding an election that is not included in the terms 'time, place and manner of holding it'". United States v. Munford, 1833, C. C., E.D.Va., 16 F. 223. The Supreme Court has said:

"It cannot be doubted that these comprehensive words embrace authority to provide a complete code for congressional elections, not only as to times and places, but in relation to notices, registration, supervision of voting, protection of voters, prevention of fraud and corrupt practices, counting of votes, duties of inspectors and canvassers, and making and publication of election returns; in short, to enact the numerous requirements as to procedure and safeguards which experience shows are necessary in order to enforce the fundamental right involved." Smiley v. Holm, 1932, 285 U.S. 355, 366, 76 L.Ed. 795.

Two facts make it appropriate for Congress to reach registration as part of the "manner of holding elections".

First, registering is a prerequisite to voting. Second, registration is a process for certifying a citizen as a qualified voter in both federal and state elections. A law protecting the right to vote could hardly be appropriate unless it protected the right to register. In Classic language, registering is a "necessary step" and "integral" in voting in "elections". In Classic, "interference with the effective choice of the voters" in a Louisiana Democratic primary was interference "at the only stage of the election procedure when their choice is of significance". Here, in terms of a meaningful right to vote, interference with Negro citizens' registering is interference at the most critical stage of the election procedure. It is true of course that the framers of the Constitution did not know about the registration process; but neither they did not have in mind the selection of senators and representatives by the direct primary. In United States v. Louisiana, E.D.La. 1963, 225 F. Supp. 353, 359, aff'd./1965, 380 U.S. 145 on other grounds, this Court said:

"Congressional authority [under Article I, §4] extends to registration, a phase of the electoral process unknown to the Founding Fathers but today a critical, inseparable part of the electoral process which must necessarily concern the United States, since registration to vote covers voting in federal as well as in state elections.

In United States v. Manning, W.D.La. 1963, 215 F. Supp. 272, one of the constitutional attacks on the Civil Rights Act of 1960 was directed at the provision for federal registrars. In the opinion upholding the act, the Court considered it important that--

"For purposes of accomplishing the constitutional objective the electoral process is indivisible. The act of casting a ballot in a voting booth cannot be cut away from the rest of the process. It is the last step in a process that starts with registration. Similarly, registration is an indivisible part of elections. . . . There is no separate registration for federal elections. Any interference with the qualified voter's right to register is therefore interference with a federal election." 215 F. Supp. at 283.

(c) Classic relied on three important cases that construe the nature and extent of the power of Congress to regulate federal elections: Ex parte Siebold, 1880, 100 U.S. 371, 25 L.Ed. 717; Ex parte Yarbrough, The Ku Klux Klan cases, 1884, 110 U.S. 651, 4 S.Ct. 152, 28 L.Ed. 274; and Burroughs v. United States, 1934, 290 U.S. 534, 54 S.Ct. 287, 78 L.Ed. 485. These cases point to the principle that a congressional statute protecting against private interference before the voting stage is necessary and proper legislation under Article I, Section 4, whenever it is reasonably related to "protection of the integrity" of the federal electoral process. Classic, 313 U.S. at 316.

Ex parte Siebold involved a conviction of state election officers for ballot-stuffing in a federal election. The Court had before it the Enforcement Act from which Section 1971 was derived. The statute contained a number of extensive voting and registration regulations, including a provision for the appointment of federal election supervisors. These supervisors were authorized "to cause such names to be registered as they may think proper to be so marked". In sustaining the validity of the legislation under Article I, Section 4, the Court commented:

"It is the duty of the States to elect representatives to Congress. The due and fair election of these representatives is of vital importance to the United States. The government of the United States is no less concerned in the transaction than the State government is. It certainly is not bound to stand by as a passive spectator, when duties are violated and outrageous frauds are committed. It is directly interested in the faithful performance, by the officers of election, of their respective duties. Those duties are owed as well to the United States as to the State." 100 U.S. 388

In Yarbrough the Court had before it the question whether Congress could protect civil rights against private interference, specifically klan aggression in the form of intimidation of voters. Yarbrough and eight other members of a Georgia klan were indicted for conspiring to intimidate a Negro in the exercise of his right to vote for a congressional representative. It was shown that they used physical violence and that they went in disguise upon the public highways. They were convicted under the section of the Enforcement Act of 1870, Revised Statutes Section 5508, that was also under the predecessor of 18 U.S.C. §241; and/Section 5520. These are the criminal law counterpart to 42 U.S.C. 1971. The Act forbade two or more persons "to conspire to injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to by the Constitution or laws of the United States" or to "go in disguise on the highway, or on the premises of another, with intent to prevent or hinder [such citizen in] his free exercise or enjoyment" of any such right; or to "conspire to prevent by force, intimidation, or threat, any citizen who is lawfully entitled to vote" from voting for presidential electors or members of Congress. Justice Miller, in a powerful opinion for the Court, sustained the conviction and held the statute valid. The opinion made it clear that the right to vote in federal elections is a privilege of national citizenship derived from the Constitution. Congress therefore "can by law protect the act of voting, the place where it is done and the man who votes, from personal violence or intimidation, and the election itself from corruption or fraud." Nor does it matter that state and federal offices are elected in the same election. The congressional powers are not "annulled because an election for state officers is held at the same time and place". 110 U.S. at 660.

The heart of the Yarbrough decision is the Court's emphasis on the transcendent interest of the federal government.²⁷ The violence and intimidation to which the Negro was subjected were important because ^{they} ~~it~~ alloyed the purity of the federal political process. The federal government "must have the power to protect the elections on which its existence depends from violence and corruption". 110 U.S. at 658. This implied power arises out of governmental necessity. The Court said:

"The power in either case arises out of the circumstance that the function in which the party is engaged or the right which he is about to exercise is dependent on the laws of the United States.

"In both cases it is the duty of that government to see that he may exercise this right freely and to protect him from violence while so doing or on account of so doing. This duty does not arise solely from the interest of the party concerned, but from the necessity of the government itself, that its service shall be free from the adverse influence or force and fraud practiced on its agents, and that the votes by which its members of Congress and its President are elected shall be the free votes of the electors, and the officers thus chosen the free and uncorrupted choice of those who have the right to take part in that choice."

Since it is the purity of the federal political process that must be protected, the protection may be extended against interference with any activity having a rational relationship with the federal political process. Thus, the "rationale of Yarbrough indicates congressional power over voting, though limited to federal elections, extends to voter registration activities", including registration rallies, voter education classes, and other activities intended to encourage registration.

Burroughs is one of a number of cases dealing with corrupt election practices which go far beyond the act of voting in an election. These ~~cases~~ Federal corrupt practice cases operate on the campaigning stage rather than the voting stage and apply to private persons having no part in the election machinery. In Burroughs the contention was made that under Article II, Section 1 the states control the manner of appointing presidential electors; Congress is limited to prescribing the time of choosing electors and the day on which they cast their votes. In upholding the validity of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act of 1925, the Court, relying on Yarbrough, said:

"While presidential electors are not officers or agents of the federal government . . ., they exercise federal functions under, and discharge duties in virtue of authority conferred by, the Constitution of the United States. The president is vested with the executive power of the nation. The importance of his election and the vital character of its relationship to and effect upon the welfare and safety of the whole people cannot be too strongly stated. To say that Congress is without power to pass appropriate legislation to safeguard such an election from the improper use of money to influence the result is to deny to the nation in a vital particular the power of self-protection. Congress undoubtedly, possesses that power, as it possesses every other power essential to preserve the departments and institutions of the general government from impairment or destruction, whether threatened by force or by corruption." 110 U.S. at 545

The states' power over the manner of appointing presidential electors is similar to the states reserved power to establish voting qualifications. Notwithstanding this unquestioned power in the states, "Burroughs holds that 'Congress' has the implied power to protect the integrity of the processes of popular election of presidential electors once that mode of selection has been chosen by the state." There is an obvious parallel between corruption of the federal electoral process by the use of money and corruption of the same process by acts of violence and intimidation that prevent voters from getting on the registration rolls or, indeed, from ever reaching the registration office.

Classic involved federal indictments against state election commissioners for falsely counting ballots in a Democratic party primary. The Court held that under Article I, Section 4 and the necessary and proper clause, Congress had the implied power to regulate party primaries. The "interference [was] with the effective choice of voters at the only stage when their choice is of significance. . . . The primary in Louisiana is an integral part of the procedure for the popular choice of Congressmen". The right to choose is a right "secured by the Constitution". 313 U.S. at 314.

Moreover, "since the constitutional command is without restriction or limitation, the right, unlike those guaranteed by the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments, is secured against the action of individuals as well as of states." Ib. at 315 Mr. Justice Stone, for the Court, spelled out the rationale:

"The right to participate in the choice of representatives for Congress . . . is protected just as the right to vote at the election, where the primary is by law made an integral part of the election machinery. . . . Unless the constitutional protection of the integrity of 'elections' extends to primary elections, Congress is left powerless to effect the constitutional purpose. . ." 313 U.S. at 318, 319.

The innumerable cases in this Circuit involving civil rights speak eloquently against the use of economic coercion, intimidation, and violence to inhibit Negroes from applying for registration. This interference with nationally guaranteed rights, whether by public officials or private persons corrupts the purity of the political process on which the existence and health of the National Government depend. No one has expressed this better than Judge Rives in United States v. Wood, 5 Cir. 1961, 295 F.2d 772; cert. denied 369 U.S. 850(1962).²⁹ In Wood the inter-organizer interference was in the form of groundless prosecution of a Negro/who had set up a registration school in Walthall County, Mississippi, where no Negroes had ever registered. He was not even qualified to vote in the county where the intimidatory acts occurred; he was a resident of another county. In reversing the district judge's refusal to stay the state prosecution, the Fifth Circuit noted that the alleged coercion was of the kind the 1957 Act was intended to reach. Judge Rives, for the Court, said:

"The foundation of our form of government is the consent of the governed. Whenever any person interferes with the right of any other person to vote or to vote as he may choose, he acts like a political termite to destroy a part of that foundation. A single termite or many termites may pass unnoticed, but each damages the foundation, and if that process is allowed to continue the whole structure may crumble and fall even before the occupants become aware of their peril. Eradication of political termites, or at least checking their activities, is necessary to prevent irreparable damage to our Government."

We hold that the defendants' acts of economic coercion, intimidation, and violence directed at Negro citizens in Washington Parish for the purpose of deterring their registering to vote strike at the integrity of the federal political process. The right to vote in federal elections, a privilege of national citizenship secured by the United States Constitution, includes the right to register to vote. The right to register to vote includes the right to be free from public or private interference with activities rationally related to registering and to encouraging others to register.

(2) The Civil Rights Act of 1964: Public Accommodation.

The Supreme Court has upheld the constitutionality of Title II as it applies to motels and restaurants. Atlanta Motel v. United States, 1964, 379 U.S. 241, 85 S. Ct. 348, 13 L.Ed. 2d 258; Katzenbach v. McClung, 1964, 379 U.S. 294, 85 S. Ct. 377, 13 L.Ed. 2d 290.

The defendants are left, therefore, only with the contention that the Act, for reasons not articulated, should not reach private persons.

The defendants are really arguing against the judgment of Congress in selecting injunctive relief against private persons as one method of enforcing congressional policy. Once it is conceded that Congress has the power, under the commerce clause, to forbid discrimination in public places, there is little doubt that injunctive relief against any person seeking to frustrate the statutory objective is appropriate.

In this Circuit, relying on In re Debs, 1895, 158 U.S. 564, 15 S. Ct. 900, 39 L. Ed. 1092, the courts have held that when private persons burden commerce to the detriment of the national interest, the Nation may enjoin such persons even without enabling legislation. On two occasions courts have issued injunctions against klans and klansmen engaged in intimidation and violence burdening commerce. United States v. U.S. Klans, M.D.Ala. 1961, 194 F. Supp. 897; Plummer v. Brock, M.D.Fla. 1964, 9 R.Rel.L. Rep. 1399. See also United States v. City of Jackson, 5 Cir. 1963, 318 F.2d. 1.

(3) The Civil Rights Act of 1964: Equal Employment Opportunities. Title VII, like Title II, is based upon the commerce clause. The term "industry affecting commerce" used in Title VII parallels the definition of "industry affecting commerce" in the LMRDA (29 U.S.C. 402 (c)). This in turn incorporates the definition of "affecting commerce" in the NLRA (29 U.S.C. 152 (7)). The National Labor Relations Act represents an exercise of congressional regulatory power to "the fullest jurisdictional breadth constitutionally permissible under the Commerce Clause," NLRB v. Reliance Fuel Corp., 1963, 371 U.S. 224, 226; Polish National Alliance v. NLRB, 1944, 322 U.S. 643, 647, a conclusion equally applicable to Title VII.

The sweeping regulations in the NLRA and LMRDA covering the terms, conditions, and policies of hiring and bargaining do not differ in any essential respect from this legislation prohibiting discrimination in hiring practices and on the job assignments. The employer-employee relationship has, of course, direct effect upon the production of industries which are in commerce and upon the practical utilization of the labor force and the power of Congress to regulate these activities cannot be doubted. NLRB v. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., 1936, 301 U.S. 1; NLRB v. Fainblatt, 1939, 306 U.S. 601, 606; Mabee v. White Plains Publishing Co., 1946, 327 U.S. 178.

Defendants admit that they beat and threatened Negro pickets to prevent them from enjoying the right ^{of} equal employment opportunity.

The effect of course is to prevent Negroes from gaining free access to potential employers. Such acts not only deter Negroes but intimidate employers who might otherwise wish to comply with the law but fear retaliation and economic loss. This is precisely what the klan's Boycott Rules are designed to do.

The United States has alleged, the defendants have admitted, and the proof has shown that the defendants have intimidated, harassed, and in other ways interfered with the civil rights of Negroes secured by the Constitution. The admission and proof show a pattern and practice of interference.

Protection against the acts of terror and intimidation committed by the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the individual defendants can be halted only by a broad injunctive decree along the lines of the order suggested by the United States. ³⁰
The Court will promptly issue an appropriate order.

FOOTNOTES

* Although this order is cast in the form of an opinion, it represents the Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law.

1. Counsel for the individual defendants take the position that the defendant klan does not exist. The proof shows that the klan continues to exist and to function as a klan in the benign name of the "Anti-Communist Christian Association". See Section II, A of this opinion.
2. Report of the Joint Select Committee to Inquire into the Condition of Affairs in the Late Insurrectionary States (Wash. 1872), p. 28. (Majority Report.)
3. Testimony of General Forrest before the Joint Select Committee. Note 2, p. 6-14, 449-51.
4. In January 1869 General Forrest issued an order to disband which began "Whereas, the order of the Ku Klux Klan is in some localities being perverted from its original honorable and patriotic purposes..." Davis, Authentic History: Ku Klux Klan, 125-28, (N. Y. 1928); Carter, The Angry Scar, 216 (N. Y. 1959).
5. "There is no doubt about the fact that great outrages were committed by bands of disguised men during those years of lawlessness and oppression. The natural tendency of all such organizations is to violence and crime; hence it was that General Forrest and other men of influence in the state, by the influence of their moral power, induced them to disband." Report of the Joint Select Committee, Note 2, p. 463. (Minority Report.)
6. In United States v. Raines, 1959, 362 U.S. 17, 27, 80 S. Ct. 519, 4 L. Ed. 524 upholding the constitutionality of the Civil Rights Act of 1957 in a suit on behalf of private persons against public officials, the Court said: "It is urged that it is beyond the power of Congress to authorize the United States to bring this action in support of private constitutional rights. But there is the highest public interest in the due observance of all the constitutional guarantees, including those that bear the most directly on private rights, and we think it perfectly competent for Congress to authorize the United States to be guardian of that public interest in a suit for injunctive relief."

9. On two occasions, the Court found it necessary to warn the witnesses of the penalty for perjury. The Court recessed the hearing to allow time for the witnesses to refresh their recollection, and to find, if possible, any membership lists. On one occasion, a witness pleaded the 5th Amendment when, in a colloquy with the Court, it was apparent that he was afraid of klan reprisal for testifying as to klan records; he withdrew his plea of privilege and testified.

12. In 1894 Congress repealed most of the provisions dealing with federal supervision of elections. Two general provisions for criminal sanctions were left standing: 42 U.S.C. §241 (originally Section 6 of the Civil Rights Act of 1870, later Section 5508 of the Revised Statutes) providing criminal sanctions against conspiracies to deprive any citizen of any right secured by the Constitution and laws of the United States; and 42 U.S.C. §242 (originally Section 2 of the Civil Rights Act of 1866, later Section 5510 of the Revised Statutes (1873), as amended in 1909, 35 Stat. 1092 by adding the word "wilfully") providing criminal sanctions against the deprivation of constitutional rights, privileges, and immunities under color of state law. See United States v. Williams, 1951, 341 U.S. 70, 71 S.Ct. 581, 95 L.Ed. 758 restricting Section 241 to those cases in which the right allegedly violated is an incident to national citizenship. See also Screws v. United States, 1945, 325 U.S. 91, 65 S.Ct. 1031, 89 L.Ed. 1495 construing Section 242 as requiring specific intent to deprive a person of the right made specific by the Constitution or laws of the United States. Sections 241 and 242 are now before the Supreme Court again. United States v. Price, Nos. 59, 60, October Term, 1965; United States v. Quest, No. 65, October Term, 1965.

14. Hence the compromise affecting jury trials in the 1957 Act: criminal contempt cases arising under the act may be tried by district courts without juries, except where a person convicted is fined more than $300 or imprisoned for more than 6 months. 71 Stat. 638 (1957), 42 U.S.C. 1995.

15. President Truman's Committee on Civil Rights submitted equally broad recommendations. See Report, To Secure These Rights, 151-161 (1947).

16. In a hearing before the House Judiciary Committee on the Civil Rights Bill, Attorney General Herbert Brownell explicitly explained the purposes and scope of the proposed amendments to Section 1971 of Title 42:

"The most obvious one of these defects in the law is that it does not protect the voters in Federal elections from unlawful interference with their voting rights by private persons--in other words, 1971 applies only to those who act 'under color of law'

which means public officials, and the activities of private persons and organizations designed to disenfranchise voters in Federal or State elections on account of race or color are not covered by the present provisions of 1971. And so we say that the statute fails to afford the voters full protection from discrimination which was contemplated by the Constitution, especially the 14th and 15th amendments.

"Also this section 1971 is defective in another respect, because it fails to lodge in the Department of Justice and the Attorney General any authority to invoke civil remedies for the enforcement of voting rights. And it is particularly lacking in any provision which would authorize the Attorney General to apply to the courts for preventive relief against the violation of these voting rights.

"And we think that this is also a major defect. The ultimate goal of the Constitution and the Congress is the safeguarding of the free exercise of the voting right, acknowledging of course, the legitimate power of the State to prescribe necessary and fair voting qualifications. And we believe that civil proceedings by the Attorney General to stop any illegal interference and denial of the right to vote would be far more effective in achieving this goal than the private suits for damages which are presently authorized by the statute, and far more effective than the criminal proceedings which are authorized under other laws which, of course, can never be used until after the harm has been actually done.

"No preventive measures can be brought under the criminal statutes. So I think--and I believe you will agree with me--that Congress should now recognize that in order to properly execute the Constitution and its amendments, and in order to perfect the intended application of the statute, section 1971 of title 42, United States Code, should be amended in three respects:

"First, by the addition of a section which will prevent anyone, whether acting under color of law or not, from threatening, intimidating or coercing an individual in his right to vote in any election, general, special, or primary, concerning candidates for Federal office.

"And second, to authorize the Attorney General to bring civil proceedings on behalf of the United States or any aggrieved person for preventive or other civil relief in any case covered by the statute.

"And third, an express provision that all State administrative and judicial remedies need not be first exhausted before resort to the Federal courts." [Hearings before Subcommittee No. 5 of the Committee on the Judiciary, 85th Cong. 1st Sess., p. 570 (1957)]

17. Section 1971(a) derived from the Civil Rights Act of 1870, defined voting rights as follows:

"(a) All citizens of the United States who are otherwise qualified by law to vote at any election by the people in any State, Territory, district, county, city, parish, township, school district, municipality, or other territorial subdivision, shall be entitled and allowed to vote at all such elections, without distinction of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; any constitution, law, custom, usage, or regulation of any State or Territory, or by or under its authority, to the contrary notwithstanding".

18. See Section III, B, (1), (b) of opinion.

19. See Key, Southern Politics 555(1949); Civil Rights Commission Report 133-38(1961).

20. In a note, Beatty, Private Economic Coercion and the Civil Rights Act of 1957, 71 Yale L. Jour. 536, 543(1962), the author points out:

"The Circuit Court's construction of the 1957 act to apply to economic coercion in general and to economic coercion involving contract and property rights in particular seems correct. In requesting legislation to protect voting rights, President Eisenhower noted: 'It is disturbing that in some localities allegations persist that Negro citizens are being deprived of their right to vote and are likewise being subjected to unwarranted economic pressures.' Senator Douglas, a sponsor of the bill, asserted that the legislation was directed at denials of voting rights 'by economic pressure' as well as by other means. And Representative Celler, a House sponsor, indicated that if 'the milk dealer, the coal dealer, the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker . . . agree . . . to boycott' persons who try to vote, the agreement would violate the proposed law."

21. The Attorney General brought a similar suit to enjoin "intimidation, threat, and coercion" in Fayette County. United States v. Atkinson, et als, Civ.Ac. 4121, 6 R. Rel. L. Rep. 200(1962). See Mendelson, Discrimination (Pren.Hall 1962) 21. And see United States v. Ellis, W.D.S.C. 1942, 43 F. Supp. 321, 324.

22. The Sixth Circuit said:

"If sharecropper-tenants in possession of real estate under contract are threatened, intimidated or coerced by the landlords for the purpose of interfering with their rights of franchise, certainly the fact that the coercion relates to land or contracts would furnish no excuse or defense to the landlord for violating the law." 288 F. 2d 653, 656.

23. Judge Tuttle added:

"Thus, although the defendants here may have had an almost restricted right to invoke the Alabama trespass law to keep all persons from entering upon their property after warning, in the exercise of a desire to exercise exclusive ownership and proprietary interest in their property, they could not legally invoke the right of excluding Lonnie Brown, who had previously been given free access to the property, as a threat or means of coercion for the purpose of interfering with his right or the right of others whom he represented in exercising their right to register and vote."

24. The Supreme Court has affirmed the constitutionality of various provisions of the 1957 Act on other grounds than those at issue here. United States v. Thomas, 1960, 362 U.S. 58, 80 S.Ct. 612, 4 L.Ed. 2d 535; United States v. Raines, 1960, 362 U.S. 17, 80 S.Ct. 519, 4 L.Ed. 2d 524; Hannah v. Larche, 1960, 363 U.S. 420, 80 S.Ct. 1502, 4 L.Ed. 2d 1307.

25. Although a statute that is "necessary and proper" legislation to carry out the power of Congress to regulate elections for federal office may also be "appropriate legislation" to "enforce" the provisions of the 15th, 14th, and 13th amendments. The predecessor of Section 1971(a) withstood attack on constitutional grounds. In re Engle, 8 Fed. Cas. C.C.D. Md. 1877, 716, No. 4,488. It was held to be a valid exercise of congressional power under the 15th Amendment. Chapman v. King, 5 Cir. 1946, 154 F.2d 460, cert. denied, 327 U.S. 800; Kellogg v. Warmouth, C.C.D. La. 1872, 14 Fed. Cas. 257, No. 7,667.

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 rests, in part, on Section 2 of the 15th Amendment.

26. "An abundance of judicial dicta and holdings in analogous situations make clear that the federal power to regulate elections extends equally to the registration process. Any matter affecting the character or choice of the federal electorate is so integrally related to the election ultimately held as to come within the 'holding' of the election under article I, section 4." Van Alstyne, Anti-literacy Test Legislation, 61 Mich. L. Rev. 805, 815(1963).

29. In that case Hardy, a Negro resident of Tennessee, a member of the "Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee", was in Walthall County, Mississippi for the purpose of organizing Negroes of that county to register and vote. Hardy engaged in an argument with the registrar. The registrar ordered him to leave the office. As he got to the door, the registrar struck him on the back of the head with a revolver. Hardy was arrested and charged with a breach of the peace. The Court held (1) the fact that Hardy was not eligible to register and therefore his right to vote was not interfered with; (2) the appeal was from a denial of a request for a temporary restraining order, generally an unappealable order under 28 U.S.C. 1291, 1292; (3) the prosecution was a state criminal court proceeding, protected by the doctrine of comity and Section 2283 severely restricting federal injunctions of state proceedings.

30. The Court finds that on the admissions and on the evidence adduced at the hearing, a preliminary injunction should not issue against Charles Ray Williams, Louis Applewhite, and Willis Blackwell. The Court does not enter a judgment of dismissal as to these defendants, because the United States expressly reserved the right to introduce additional evidence at the hearing for permanent relief, as to these and other defendants. At the time of the hearing, Blackwell had not been correctly served. We find that James Ellis, Sidney August Warner, and Albert Applewhite are members of the klan--ACCA or were members until recently, and therefore should be enjoined. The request for dismissal of the action as to these named defendants and their request for attorneys fees are denied.

Part 3

THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee met, pursuant to recess, at 10:31 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order. The Chair wants to acknowledge the presence in the hearing room of the Hon. Belgrano Rosson; Mr. Belgrano Rosson is president of the Committee on Constitutional Affairs of the Chamber of Deputies of Argentina.

With him in the audience is his charming wife, Mrs. Belgrano Rosson, and Mr. Caulus F. Soto, an interpreter for the Department of State.

We acknowledge your presence and appreciate your attendance.

We hope you can follow some of the proceedings, anyway. I understand you have an interpreter with you.

Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to call Russell E. Magee.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand, sir.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MAGEE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF RUSSELL E. MAGEE, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. MAGEE. Russell E. Magee.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, I suggest that you pull the microphone a little closer. It is difficult to hear you.

Mr. MAGEE. Russell E. Magee.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. MAGEE. Washington Parish, April 19, 1924.

The CHAIRMAN. What town?

Mr. MAGEE. Franklinton. It is in a rural area.

The CHAIRMAN. I know the town and the surrounding area.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. MAGEE. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Would counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, are you appearing here this morning in accordance with a subpoena served upon you?

Mr. MAGEE. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Would you set forth for the record your educational background?

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds that it might incriminate me; on the further grounds that it would violate my rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, Mr. Magee, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the recipient of a master's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

Mr. MAGEE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Will you set forth for the record your employment background?

Mr. MAGEE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are formerly the vice principal and basketball coach of Thomas, Louisiana, School and that you now hold a supervisory position with the local school board.

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. POOL. Counsel, is there any information there on what the Federal participation is there at this school?

Mr. APPELL. That is information which we do not possess in full.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Magee, you have a master's degree, and therefore you are fully capable of understanding the purposes, objectives, and programs of any organization to which you might belong.

In light of that I shall ask you for enlightenment later on, after certain identifications will be made.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, I hand you copy of a constitution of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana. I ask you if, as a member of that organization, you operated under those constitutional laws?

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, this constitution provides that in each Klavern there shall be appointed a klokan, and under the klokan there shall be appointed in secret a wrecking crew. What knowledge do you possess of the existence and the purpose of a wrecking crew?

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I now present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Magee:

Member of the Franklinton, Louisiana, unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in 1963, when the organization was known as the Louisiana Rifle Association and was under the leadership of J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young.

In April of 1964 he arranged bond for two Klansmen who were arrested for assaulting an officer and resisting arrest in Franklinton, Louisiana.

In June and July, 1964 he received the sum of $777.01 by checks from the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, the front or cover name of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan as headed by Murry H. Martin.

These funds were advanced to Magee as an organizer for the Sixth Congressional District as well as to operate the Sixth District Klan organization.

(Checks previously marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 9." See p. 2373.)

In September of 1964 he was coordinator of all Klan activities for the Sixth Congressional District of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

He was a leader of the faction which broke from the Martin leadership of the Original Knights in or around December of 1964. This faction continued to operate in Washington Parish, Louisiana, independent of other Klan groups and issued leaflets under the name of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana.

In March of 1965, Magee and other Klansmen attended a meeting at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, called for the purpose of attempting to reunite factions under the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., a newly incorporated independent Klan organization.

When the Bogalusa Klan group created as its front, or cover, the Anti-Communist Christian Association, Magee held membership in that organization.

This information, Mr. Chairman, which we believe the witness can confirm, also leads us to believe that he possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Magee, you have heard the statement of Mr. Appell. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of that statement.

In addition you may, if you desire, offer any other matter which the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you wish to take advantage of the offer I have just made?

Mr. MAGEE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Well then, Mr. Magee, I must inform you that in the absence of your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. As I indicated a moment ago, you possess a master's degree and you are connected with the school system in your area. I would like very much to take advantage of your education and ability to express yourself and have you give us the purposes, objectives, and the programs of the Ku Klux Klan organization to which you belong.

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you at any time make speeches or participate in the issuance of pamphlets, literature, and documents purporting to define the objectives and programs of the Ku Klux Klan organization to which you belong?

Mr. MAGEE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you as part of your participation in the school system of your area discuss these objectives, purposes, and programs of the Klan organization to which you belong?

Mr. MAGEE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, visiting the schools of your parish as a member of the school board, I assume that you discuss with the students the Constitution of the United States. The bylaws of the Anti-Communist Christian Association supports the Constitution of the United States as originally written. Is this the constitution that you discuss with your students?

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee, were you a defendant in the three-judge court seated in Louisiana which returned an order and finding of facts against yourself and other named defendants? ¹

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. This statement appears in the court records and it is my understanding that the defendants, through counsel, admitted to your knowledge—during the period from January 28, 1965, to the present time the individual defendants—including Saxon Farmer, Russell Magee, Dewey Smith, Randle C. Pounds, Billy Alford, Charles McClendon, James Burke, and other members of the defendant Klan, have gone to locations where they anticipated that Negroes would attempt to exercise their rights and where they anticipated that persons would publicly demonstrate in favor of equal rights for Negroes, in order that the defendants might identify, harass, threaten and intimidate such Negroes and other persons. * * *

Is that statement that I read to you factual, as it applies to yourself?

Mr. MAGEE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask the witness whether an employee of the public schools of the State of Louisiana takes an oath of office, or whether he must subscribe to any stated principle prior to embarking on employment with the public school system of the State of Louisiana.

Mr. MAGEE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. WELTNER. No further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Before calling the next witness, I would like to ask that the checks made payable to Mr. Magee be entered as exhibits to his testimony at the conclusion of his testimony.

The CHAIRMAN. The checks will be admitted at the point where they were referred to.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. James M. Ellis, Jr.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. ELLIS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES M. ELLIS, JR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record.

Mr. ELLIS. James M. Ellis, Jr.

Mr. APPELL. Are you popularly known in Bogalusa by the nickname of "Buster"?

Mr. ELLIS. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds that it might incriminate me and, further, that it might violate my rights guaranteed me under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you honestly feel—and that is the basis upon which you have the right to invoke the constitutional privilege you have outlined—that to answer that question would tend to incriminate you or subject you to criminal prosecution under those very constitutional provisions that you cited?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question propounded to me on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Ellis?

Mr. ELLIS. July 5, 1932, Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. ELLIS. 520 Superior Avenue, Bogalusa.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee the benefit of your educational background?

Mr. ELLIS. I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question propounded to me on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee the benefit of your employment background?

Mr. ELLIS. I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the owner of the Ellis Auto Repairs, 814 Sabine Street, Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. ELLIS. I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ellis, did you receive an honorable discharge from the United States Air Force in April of 1953?

Mr. ELLIS. I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ellis, I hand you a constitution of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and ask you if, as a former exalted cyclops of a Klavern in Bogalusa, you operated in accordance with this constitution?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ellis, are you appearing before the committee in accordance to a subpoena served upon you on October 26, 1965, at Wesley Car Sales at Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. ELLIS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ellis, under the conditions of the subpoena, and the attachment which was made a part of the subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and to produce before the committee:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and affiliated organizations, namely, Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Exalted Cyclops of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana or Anti-Communist Christian Association.

I ask you to produce those documents called for in your subpoena.

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to produce those documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents called for.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you in the hearing room when I explained to previous witnesses the fact this subpoena was served on you, and ordered you to produce documents just read by Mr. Appell in the representative capacity indicated?

Mr. ELLIS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons stated previously, which you say you are aware of. I therefore order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to produce those documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ellis, paragraph 2 of the subpoena called upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member or officer of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 2.

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to produce the documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents and other records called for in paragraph 2.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons previously stated, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to produce those documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I now present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Ellis.

Member and exalted cyclops of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under the leadership of Murry H. Martin. In July 1964, Ellis was the second endorser on a check drawn against the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, the cover name of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The payee of the check was Russell Magee, and the check was advanced for the purpose of financing Sixth Congressional District Klan activities. (See Murry Martin Exhibit No. 9, p. 2373.)

From Klansman Howard M. Lee, a licensed gun dealer, Ellis received 6.5 Italian surplus rifles by the case and either he, or his employee at that time, Klansman Eddie Dubison, sold same out of Ellis's place of business, Ellis Auto Repair. Following questioning by agents of the Alcohol Tax Unit, Ellis for his own security left the Klan.

With the creation of the Klan front or cover, the Anti-Communist Christian Association, he joined the association.

On February 15, 1964, Ellis and other Klansmen followed Negroes into the Negro section of Bogalusa after having threatened them because they sought service at a restaurant in Bogalusa.

This information, Mr. Chairman, which we believe the witness can confirm, also leads us to believe that he possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Ellis, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's chief investigator, Mr. Appell. I now give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of that statement.

Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. ELLIS. I respectfully decline to and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I must say to you, Mr. Ellis, in the absence of your rebuttal, or any other facts that may come to the attention of this committee, this committee will rely on the accuracy of its investigation as related by Mr. Appell. Bearing this in mind, do you have anything else to say?

Mr. ELLIS. I respectfully decline to and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you aware of the fact, which is established in the injunction proceedings filed in Louisiana, that some of the records of the Klan were destroyed?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you as a fact, as related by Mr. Appell, retire from the Klan out of self-protection in order not to be involved in the distribution of guns, pursuant to a license issued to Howard M. Lee, who was charged and convicted of violating Federal law in that respect?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to read from a report of Wallace J.——

The CHAIRMAN. Pardon me.

I say to you as a fact that you were one of the defendants in that injunction proceeding, so you would have knowledge, I assume, of the destruction of the records.

Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to read from a report of Wallace J. Moll, Jr., an agent of the Alcohol Tax Unit stationed in New Orleans, Louisiana.

The CHAIRMAN. And that unit has jurisdiction over gun licenses, strange enough. I do not know how strange it is, but it has jurisdiction over licensing people distributing certain types of guns; is that correct?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. [Reading:]

James M. Ellis, Jr., 520 Superior Avenue, Bogalusa, Louisiana, was interviewed at his place of business on January 14, 1965 and advised that he had known Howard Lee about one year and that Lee had approached him on the possibility of purchasing high-powered rifles at a cheap price provided they could secure volume sales.

He advised that he had delivered about 4 cases of the rifles for Lee, securing the money for him and receiving the rifles in shipment. He stated that he eventually quit this as it as interfering with his business operation.

I ask you, Mr. Ellis, if the paragraph that I have quoted from Agent Moll's report is factual?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. To whom did you distribute the rifles contained in the four cases which you acknowledged to the A.T.U. that you had delivered for Howard M. Lee?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that by "delivering" you meant that you sold these rifles out of your place of business, either you or Eddie Dubison, your employee.

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ellis, when I interviewed Mr. Howard M. Lee in the Federal penitentiary at Texarkana, Texas, Mr. Lee told me how, when he was confronted with the facts, that many of the persons whom his records disclosed had received weapons. that he had gone and called upon these people or made investigation for the purpose of determining the accuracy of the Government's charges. He determined to his own satisfaction that his records were in fact false.

I ask you whether or not in the distribution of these rifles that you supplied Howard Lee for his records false information as to the identity of people who purchased same from your garage or auto repair shop?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, the majority of the rifles sold out of the Ellis Auto Repair Shop were sold to people known to you and to Eddie Dubison to be Klansmen.

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ellis, as the exalted cyclops of a unit, you had the responsibility under the constitution of seeing to it that the klokan of your Klavern appointed in secret a wrecking crew.

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I—

Mr. APPELL. I haven't asked the question yet.

Was a wrecking crew appointed within your Klavern?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As an exalted cyclops, will you explain to the committee the purpose of a wrecking crew?

Mr. ELLIS. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Randle C. Pounds.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. POUNDS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF RANDLE C. POUNDS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, will you state your full name for the record, please?

Mr. POUNDS. Randle Cozell Pounds.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. POUNDS. Picayune, Mississippi, September, 30th day of September, 1925.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside, Mr. Pounds?

Mr. POUNDS. Bogalusa, Louisiana, Route 58-C.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, are you appearing here this morning in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 30, 1965, at the Chevrolet Motors in Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. POUNDS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment which was made part of the subpoena and calls for you to produce certain documents.

Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and affiliated organizations, namely, Anti-Communist Christian Association, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as member or officer of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask you to produce the documents.

Mr. POUNDS. I respectfully refuse to produce the records on the grounds they might incriminate me, and on the further grounds that it might violate my rights guaranteed me under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. POUNDS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please give his name for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, paragraph 2 calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member and/or officer of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce the documents called for in this paragraph 2.

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to produce the documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Pounds, were you in the hearing room when I explained to previous witnesses the fact that this subpoena was served upon you and requires you to produce documents in the capacity indicated in the subpoena?

Mr. POUNDS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. I therefore now order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. Ingram, I assume what we have covered before has been true all along, namely, you were supplied with a copy of my opening statement and you are familiar with its contents?

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, would you give the committee your educational background?

Mr. POUNDS. I respectfully refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, is your principal source of income that from the business of a private contract painter?

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you served in the United States Navy from December 1950 to October 1954, in the United States Naval Reserve from September 1958 to October 1960, that you served in the regular United States Navy from October 1960 to December 1962, when you were transferred to the temporary disability retired list by reason of a physical disability.

I put that to you as a fact and ask you to affirm or deny it.

Mr. POUNDS. I respectfully refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, do you presently receive compensation from the United States Government as a result of being placed on a temporary disability retired list?

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you have held membership in the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness's claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I now present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Pounds.

In 1964, an active member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In 1965, believed to be a member of the wrecking crew.

On April 6, 1965, the Klan rented a vacant house near the Bogalusa Labor Temple to observe the activities of civil rights groups and to plan acts of violence against its members. Pounds was one of the many Klansmen in the watching and planning of violence.

April 7, 1965, Randall C. Pounds and Klansman [Glenn] Breland accosted CORE worker William Yates. Pounds struck Yates' car with a heavy object at a time when Yates was leaving the house of Robert Hicks, vice president of the Bogalusa Voters League.

April 9, 1965, arrested for the assault upon Negroes in a march to the Bogalusa City Hall, including James Farmer, whom he attacked with a blackjack.

April 8, 1965, Pounds, together with other Klansmen, smashed the rear window of an automobile belonging to a CORE worker while it was parked across the street from the house of Robert Hicks.

May 31, 1965, Klansmen Billy Alford and Pounds threatened, harassed, and attempted to intimidate Negro pickets in the downtown area of Bogalusa.

Pounds is a member of the Klan front, or cover organization, the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

This information, Mr. Chairman, which we believe the witnesses can confirm also, leads us to believe that he possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Pounds, you have heard the sworn statement of Mr. Appell, the chief investigator of this committee.

I now give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, admit or deny the truth of any of it, and to explain, or modify, any part of the statement.

In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Pounds, I must inform you that in the absence of your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Bearing this in mind, do you have anything to say?

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pounds, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, you were one of the defendants before the three-judge court sitting in Louisiana, New Orleans, Louisiana?

Mr. POUNDS. I refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Eric Peterson.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. PETERSON. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ERIC PETERSON, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, will you state your full name for the record, please?

Mr. PETERSON. My name is Captain Eric Peterson.

Mr. APPELL. Would you explain the title of "captain" that you give to yourself?

Mr. PETERSON. Sir, I respectfully decline and refuse to answer the question propounded to me on the grounds it will discriminate me, on the further grounds it will violate my rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, you are represented by counsel?

Mr. PETERSON. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael S. Ingram, attorney at law, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, Mr. Peterson was asked to set forth his full name for the record. He identified himself on the record as "Captain Eric Peterson." He was then asked to explain to the committee the designation which he gave to himself as captain and he refused to do so, invoking constitutional grounds. I request that the witness be directed to answer the question, Where does he get the title of captain?

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to answer that question.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, when and where were you born?

Mr. PETERSON. I was born in a rural area near Sunny Hill, Louisiana, on July 6, 1924.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. PETERSON. I reside in a rural area near Sun, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give us a description of where you live?

Mr. PETERSON. Would you repeat the question, please?

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a description of the area in which you live?

Mr. PETERSON. I repeat my answer. I reside in a rural area about 1½ miles from Sun, Louisiana.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Ingram, I believe our colloquy is broad enough with reference to my opening statement to include this witness and others whom you might represent. So we may have it in the record now; is that correct?

Mr. INGRAM. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, you are appearing before the committee this morning in accordance with a subpoena which was served upon you by a United States Marshal on November 4, 1965, at your residence in Sun, Louisiana.

Mr. PETERSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you and an attachment thereto which was made a part of the subpoena, you were ordered to produce the following items listed in paragraph 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and affiliated organizations, namely, the Anti-Communist Christian Association, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as member and/or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

I ask you to produce those records, sir.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to produce the documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents called for in paragraph 1 of the attachment to his subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you in the hearing room when I commented on this subpoena served upon you, which orders you to produce documents in the capacity indicated in the subpoena?

Mr. PETERSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I therefore order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully refuse to produce the documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, paragraph 2 calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member or officer of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and the Anti-Communist Christian Association which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you or any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to do so on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And for the reasons I previously stated, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to do so on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 3, Mr. Peterson, calls upon you——

Mr. INGRAM. May I speak to you a minute?

(Counsel conferring.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, paragraph 3 of your subpoena calls upon you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Returns," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964 filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

I ask you to produce those documents called for in paragraph 3.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully refuse to produce the documents on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, will you advise the committee of your educational background?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to do so on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you had 1 year of college at Southwestern Louisiana State College.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the owner of the Pearl River Towing Company, Sun, Louisiana.

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, did you ever hold membership in the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the Realm of Louisiana?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a copy of the constitution of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Louisiana, and I ask you if, as an exalted cyclops of that unit, of that organization, you conducted a Klavern under the rules and regulations prescribed therein?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I now present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Peterson:

October 1963, a member of the Bush, Louisiana, Unit, Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which was then under the leadership of J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young.

February 1964, attended a meeting at Alexandria, Louisiana, at which meeting Royal V. Young made plea with Klan leaders to hold organization together under his leadership.

July 1964, exalted cyclops of Bush Unit, Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, then under the leadership of Murry H. Martin. Klavern funds were maintained in his personal bank account.

While the exalted cyclops he purchased 700 rounds of ammunition and 25 rifles from Howard M. Lee, which rifles were sold or distributed by Peterson to Klansmen in the Covington, Louisiana, area.

Mr. Peterson paid Howard Lee $125 for the 25 rifles.

In September 1964, Peterson was a member of the wrecking crew in the Saint Tammany Parish. The "wrecking crew," in Klan terminology, refers to a group of Klansmen who are prone to violence or who have been selected to carry out violence.

This information, Mr. Chairman, which we believe the witness can confirm, also leads us to believe that he possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Peterson, you have heard the sworn statement of Mr. Appell, our chief investigator. You now have the opportunity to reply to any part or portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of that statement. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to do so on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. While Mr. Appell was outlining his sworn statement, I noticed you made notes of something when he described a meeting in Alexandria, when he described that you put Klan funds in your personal account, when he referred to rifles coming from Howard Lee, and when he referred to you as a member of the wrecking crew.

I have no objection at all, of course, and have none to your making notes. I simply wanted to give you the opportunity to say whether you were making those notes because you were doubtful of these things or because perhaps you wanted to keep a memorandum of what you had been questioned about and what had been disclosed. Do you care to comment?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to do so on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to have entered into the record four documents which I shall now exhibit to Mr. Peterson.

One is a notice of the Ouachita National Bank, Monroe, Louisiana, to the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, the cover name of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan when under the leadership of Murry H. Martin, which reflects that a check drawn against the account of Eric Peterson in the amount of $47 was returned because of a missing endorsement.

Document Nos. 2, 3, and 4 are excerpts from the records of Howard M. Lee relating to his sales of guns and ammunition. The first paper contains the writing "700 rounds for Sun, La., Eric Peterson." The second document, in addition to other entries, contains the entry, "Eric Peterson, 25 rifles, pd. $125." The third document contains the serial numbers of the 25 rifles and is dated July 28, 1964.

After you have examined those documents, Mr. Peterson, I give you an opportunity to comment on either or all.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to do so on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I order that these documents be inserted in the record at this point and instruct the reporter to insert in the printed record all documents as they are commented on and exhibited.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, are there any other reasons, other than the constitutional reasons which you have set forth, for your refusal to answer or your refusal to produce documents called for by the subpoena?

Mr. PETERSON. Would you repeat that question?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. Are there any other reasons, other than the constitutional reasons which you have set forth, why you did not answer questions propounded to you or produce documents called for by your subpoena?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Prior to November 6, 1965—and your subpoena was served upon you on November 4—were you telling residents of Sun, Louisiana, that you did not intend to cooperate with the committee and that you intended to be completely nonresponsive?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Is that statement a matter of fact, Counsel?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Where did that statement appear?

Mr. APPELL. In the area of Sun, Louisiana, where Mr. Peterson resides.

Mr. Peterson, it is the committee's information that from the Pearl River Towing Company, which you own, you have a gross income, prior to deductions, of in excess of $300,000. What percentage of your income is derived from the United States Government?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a matter of fact, do you not live on Government property and tie up your barges on Government property, for which you pay compensation of only $35 per month?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to read into the record at this point a letter from the Office of the Chief of Engineers, which reads as follows:

The District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, at Mobile, Alabama, informs me that a lease was entered into between the Government and Mr. Peterson on 1 January 1962 for the use of approximately two acres of land and a concrete block dwelling at Lock No. 3, Pearl River Project, Louisiana. The term of the lease was for five years and ends 31 December 1966. This grant was the result of a bid submitted by Mr. Peterson in response to an invitation to bid for leasing this property. The compensation is $35.00 per month. Mr. Peterson in the operation of his towing business is one of the principal users of the Pearl River Project.

Is the information supplied to the committee by the Corps of Engineers factual?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Eric Peterson Exhibit No. 3" follows:)

ERIC PETERSON EXHIBIT No. 3

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF ENGINEERS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20315

IN REPLY REFER TO ENGRE-MI

27 December 1965

Mr. Donald T. Appell
Chief Investigator
Committee on Un-American Activities
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Appell:

This is in further reply to your recent letter concerning the contractual relationship between the Corps of Engineers and Mr. Eric Peterson, operator of the Pearl River Towing Company, Sun, Louisiana.

The District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, at Mobile, Alabama, informs me that a lease was entered into between the Government and Mr. Peterson on 1 January 1962 for the use of approximately two acres of land and a concrete block dwelling at Lock No. 3, Pearl River Project, Louisiana. The term of the lease was for five years and ends 31 December 1966. This grant was the result of a bid submitted by Mr. Peterson in response to an invitation for bids for leasing this property. The compensation is $35.00 per month. Mr. Peterson, in the operation of his towing business, is one of the principal users of the Pearl River Project.

I trust the foregoing information is sufficient for your purposes.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Woodrow Berge".

WOODROW BERGE
Acting Director of Real Estate

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Peterson, will you advise the committee as to the Klansmen to whom you distributed or sold the 25 rifles which you obtained from Howard M. Lee, according to his record?

The CHAIRMAN. He did not get the question.

Mr. APPELL. Would you identify to the committee the Klansmen to whom you either sold or distributed the 25 rifles which you received, according to the records of Howard M. Lee?

Mr. PETERSON. I decline to do so on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. To your certain knowledge, were any of these rifles used as a part of any wrecking crew activity of the Klan unit in Bush, Louisiana?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds perviously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. Peterson.

Mr. WELTNER. I have a question, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Peterson, I note at page 11 of the court opinion (Ralph Blumberg Exhibit No. 2) there is set forth the boycott rules of the Anti-Communist Christian Association. A portion of those rules reads as follows:

"Any member who shall after a hearing have been found guilty of personally patronizing a subject listed on the boycott list shall be wrecked by the wrecking crew who shall be appointed by the Committee. [Emphasis added.] . . .

Second offense—If a member is found guilty of personally violating the boycott list he shall be wrecked and banished from the Klan."

I would like to know what is meant by the term "wrecked." What happens to a Klansman when he is "wrecked" by the "wrecking crew"?

Mr. PETERSON. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, may I have another moment.

I would like to inquire of Mr. Appell concerning the letter he presented from the Department of the Army. Is the Pearl River Project one constructed by the United States Corps of Engineers?

Mr. APPELL. It is, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Is that what is known generally as a rivers and harbors project?

Mr. APPELL. It is, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Is that project financed by any Federal funds?

Mr. APPELL. It is my understanding that the river is maintained by the Corps of Engineers and all dredging, widening, and things of that nature are financed by Federal funds.

Mr. WELTNER. As a matter of fact, that is financed 100 percent by Federal funds; is it not?

Mr. APPELL. That is my understanding, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. I understand the company of this witness, Mr. Peterson, is engaged in using the river, the harbor, docks, and such other facilities there in the course of Mr. Peterson's business.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. I do not have a question but a sort of query as to whether this is the kind of outside agitation and Federal interference that seems to serve to make one a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

I have no further comment, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. POOL. I have no questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The CHAIRMAN. It is now noon. The committee will stand in recess until 2 o'clock.

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, and Weltner.)

(Whereupon, at 11:55 a.m., Thursday, January 6, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 2 p.m. the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 2:10 p.m., Hon. Edwin E. Willis, chairman, presiding.)

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

I have a brief announcement to make.

The subcommittee which is conducting these hearings met at the conclusion of this morning's session. At that meeting the four members present voted unanimously to recommend to the full committee that certain persons subpoenaed to testify in the earlier phase of these hearings be cited for contempt of Congress.

The following seven officials of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, were the subjects of the subcommittee action:

Robert M. Shelton, Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

James R. Jones, Grand Dragon, Realm of North Carolina.

Robert E. Scoggin, Grand Dragon of the Realm of South Carolina.

Calvin F. Craig, Grand Dragon of Georgia.

Marshall R. Kornegay, Grand Dragon of Virginia.

George F. Dorsett, Imperial Kludd, who is also a paid organizer and a province titan of the Realm of North Carolina.

Robert Hudgins, Imperial Kladd and also the exalted cyclops of the North Carolina Klavern using the name of the Capital City Restoration Association.

That concludes my announcement, but in that connection I would like to say this: On the basis of the committee's study and analysis of the hearing record as it pertains to these men, it is my belief that the full committee will act favorably and promptly on the recommendation of the subcommittee.

I also announce that the subcommittee decided, also, to cancel the outstanding subpoenas on Mr. Shelton and Mr. Craig. It is my impression that those are the two who have outstanding subpoenas. We voted to cancel the subpoenas in light of the recommendation to be made by the subcommittee that action be taken by the full committee to recommend contempt citation of Congress.

I would like, also, to make this statement: This morning I was handed two documents which I have before me and which I can probably describe by use of the term "flyers." These documents state that they are put out by the United Klans of America, Inc. One of them is a bulletin from the Ku Klux Klan, and it seeks to exhort the reader to fight back against the colored people, whom it calls "niggers."

The other document is an invitation to join the United Klans of America, Inc., saying that any native-born, loyal United States citizen, 21 years old, white, gentile, temperate habits, Christian faith, and believing in white supremacy in America can join the Klan.

There is actually a membership blank, with places to be filled in.

The point I make it this: These flyers, I am told, have been and are being inserted in mail boxes in and around Baton Rouge.

I call attention to the fact that the insertion of these documents in United States mail boxes without payment of postage in regular mailing constitutes a violation of section 1725 of title 18 of the United States Code. We plan to report the incident to the postal authorities. In fact, we have already talked to the legal department about taking whatever action and measures which might be appropriate in the circumstances.

Mr. Appell, call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Pete Holden.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HOLDEN. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES W. (PETE) HOLDEN, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. HOLDEN. James W. Holden.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel, Mr. Holden?

Mr. HOLDEN. Yes, I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. My name is Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Holden?

Mr. HOLDEN. I was born in Bogalusa, Louisiana, May 18, 1926.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that it might incriminate me and on the further grounds that it would violate my rights under the Constitution—1, 5, 4, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you operate a Texaco station in Covington, Louisiana.

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holden, do you now or have you ever held office in a Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the same constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holden. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you held the position of exalted cyclops of a unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Covington, Louisiana.

Mr. HOLDEN. I refuse to answer on the ground previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holden, were you acquainted with Howard M. Lee, the gun dealer in Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. HOLDEN. I refuse to answer on the ground previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holden, the committee's investigation established that Eric Peterson, of Sun, Louisiana, obtained 25 rifles from Howard M. Lee and either sold or distributed them to Klansmen in the Covington, Louisiana, area. Do you possess knowledge of this?

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holden, the committee's investigation established that Mr. Lee's records failed to reflect the sale of some 154 rifles. The committee's investigation disclosed that many of these rifles were sold and not reflected in Mr. Lee's records and were purchased by members of the Covington, Louisiana, Klavern.

As the exalted cyclops of that Klavern, can you tell us whether or not any of your members obtained these rifles from Howard M. Lee?

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holden, I hand you a copy of the "Konstitution of the Original Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Louisiana," and ask you if you ever operated under that constitution.

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holden, under the constitution of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan there was provision made within Klaverns, within provinces, and within the realm for divisions known as the Klan Bureau of Investigation. Who headed the Klan Bureau of Investigation for your Klavern?

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Provision was made for the appointment by the klokan of the Klavern of six men to be appointed in secret, being known by the title of the "wrecking crew." Who was the klokan of your Klavern?

Mr. HOLDEN. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. POOL. I have no questions.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no questions.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I have no questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Willie Houston Burke.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand, sir.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BURKE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF WILLIE HOUSTON BURKE, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record, Mr. Burke?

Mr. BURKE. Willie Houston Burke.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. BURKE. February 2, 1917, in the suburbs of Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. BURKE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. My name is Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you reside, Mr. Burke?

Mr. BURKE. 903 Pine Ridge Road, Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing before the committee today, Mr. Burke, in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 26, 1965, at 903 Pine Ridge Drive, Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. BURKE. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Burke, the subpoena served you contained an attachment which called upon you to produce books and records set forth on the attachment which was made part of the subpoena. Paragraph 2 calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as a present or past Exalted Cyclops and/or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 2.

Mr. BURKE. Sir, I refuse to produce the records mentioned in the question on the grounds that it might incriminate me and on the further grounds that it would violate my rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce those documents.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you in the hearing room when I explained the fact that this subpoena was being served on others and on you in the capacity designated in the subpoena?

Mr. BURKE. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Accordingly, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. BURKE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to produce the records on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Burke, were you a member of the Ku Klux Klan in 1963 when the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was under the direction of Royal V. Young as the Imperial Dragon?

Mr. BURKE. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

(At this point Mr. Buchanan returned to the hearing room.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I now present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Burke:

In 1963, exalted cyclops of the Bogalusa Unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under the leadership of J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young.

In 1963-64 exalted cyclops of the Bogalusa Unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under the leadership of Murry H. Martin. This Klavern held its meetings at the Disabled American Veterans Hall which was operated by Klansman Arvis Warner.

Head of the committee of exalted cyclops under the Washington Parish Klan which distributed leaflets under the title of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, under the leadership of Charles Christmas and Saxon Farmer.

Member of the Klan front or cover organization, the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

This information, Mr. Chairman, leads us to believe that the witness, Mr. Burke, possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Burke, you have heard the sworn statement of Mr. Appell, the chief investigator of this committee.

Now I give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of that statement.

In addition you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. BURKE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case I must inform you that, absent your rebuttal or other facts which may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Bearing that in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. BURKE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Burke, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are an employee of the city of Bogalusa.

Mr. BURKE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you have acted on behalf of the Klan in matters affecting the city of Bogalusa.

Mr. BURKE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As chairman of the committee of exalted cyclops, did you know Albert Applewhite—

The CHAIRMAN. And that committee operates statewide in Louisiana—or did it?

Mr. APPELL. No; this was Washington Parish, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. I thought you said he was head of the committee of exalted cyclops.

Mr. APPELL. Of Washington Parish.

As chairman of the committee of exalted cyclops of Washington Parish did you know Albert Applewhite to be exalted cyclops of Unit No. 4?

Mr. BURKE. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know these following individuals to have held the position of exalted cyclops at one time or another of Unit No. 2?

Dewey B. Smith, Ovied B. Dunaway; James M. (Buster) Ellis, Jr.; Robert Rester; and Billie Clyde Simmons?

Mr. BURKE. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Dewey B. Smith to also have been the exalted cyclops of Unit No. 1?

Mr. BURKE. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Burke, the mayor of Bogalusa, Mayor Cutrer, testified that he was approached by a man identified as Marvin Foster, whom he described as the liaison of the Klan, liaison man of the Klan, to the City Hall, and was told to attend a meeting of the Klan at the Disabled American Veterans Hall operated by Mr. Arvis Warner.

The mayor testified that he attended this meeting along with the police commissioner, Arnold Spiers, and there the demands of the Klan were made to him by 150 Klansmen robed and masked.

Did you participate in that meeting—

Mr. BURKE. I refuse to answer under the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL—responsible for extending the demands to Mayor Cutrer, and what demands were made upon him with respect to the impending visit to Bogalusa, as a speaker, of former Congressman Brooks Hays?

Mr. BURKE. I refuse to answer under the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Burke, literature distributed to the citizenry of Bogalusa, as well as the citizenry throughout the United States, by the Klan, advocates that it supports free speech. Enforcing the cancellation of speaking engagement of former Congressman Brooks Hays, how did the Klan carry out one of its purposes and objectives?

Mr. BURKE. I refuse to answer under the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Burke, it was at a speech at Crossroads, Mississippi, on January 21, 1965, a 16-year old boy from Bogalusa announced that there was a youth group of the Klan being organized under the direction of Saxon Farmer in Bogalusa, Louisiana, and this 16-year-old boy asked you to join up. Do you know of the existence of such a youth group in Bogalusa?

Mr. BURKE. I refuse to answer under the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I have no questions.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Albert Applewhite.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ALBERT LAFTMAN APPLEWHITE, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Albert Laftman Applewhite.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing before the committee this afternoon represented by counsel?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael Ingram from Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Bogalusa, December 24, 1924.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. 1813 Washington Street, Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing in accordance to a subpoena served upon you by U.S. Marshal on October 26, 1965, at 1813 Washington Street, Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Applewhite, under the conditions of the subpoena there was an attachment thereto made a part of the subpoena and you were commanded to bring with you and to produce documents set forth in the attachment, paragraph 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of the business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Exalted Cyclops of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Sir, I respectfully decline to produce these documents because to me on the grounds it might incriminate me, and on the further ground it would violate my rights guaranteed under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you in the hearing room when I commented on the fact these subpoenas, including the one served upon you, called upon you to produce these documents in the representative capacity indicated in the subpoena?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Therefore, I order and direct you to produce the documents for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Sir, I refuse to present these documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Applewhite, under paragraph 2 of the subpoena you were asked to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past officer or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, or the Anti-Communist Christian Association which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Sir, I refuse to present these documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons I previously indicated, I order you to produce those documents.

Mr. APPLEWHITE. I refuse to present the documents on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Applewhite, would you give the committee your educational background?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Sir, I refuse to answer that question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Applewhite, did you see service in the United States Navy from August 1943 to March 1946, at which time you were honorably discharged?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Sir, I refuse to answer that question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you have a high school education and are employed by Crown-Zellerbach Corporation, Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I propose to present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Applewhite.

In 1964, Mr. Applewhite was a member of Bogalusa Klavern of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, then under the leadership of Murry H. Martin.

In March of 1965, he held the position of exalted cyclops of Unit No. 4 of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana.

The CHAIRMAN. He was exalted cyclops of Unit No. 4?

Mr. APPELL. On February 15, 1965, Applewhite, with other known Klansmen, gathered at Landry's Fine Foods, a Bogalusa restaurant, for the purpose of threatening Negroes seeking service.

On April 6, 1965, the Bogalusa Klan rented a vacant house near the Bogalusa Labor Temple for the purpose of observing civil rights groups and planning violence against them. Applewhite was one of the Klansmen watching and planning.

Applewhite was one of 18 members of the Bogalusa Auxiliary Police force who was sworn out of the Original Knights for security reasons in April of 1965. Applewhite is a member of the Klan cover organization, the Anti-Communist Christian Crusaders. Applewhite is also a leader of the Minutemen in the Bogalusa, Louisiana, area.

This information, Mr. Chairman, leads us to believe that Mr. Applewhite possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Applewhite, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's chief investigator, Mr. Appell. I give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of it.

In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you wish to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, I must inform you in absence of your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Now, bearing that in mind, do you have anything more to say?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I have previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Applewhite, will you identify for the committee the additional 17 members of the Bogalusa Auxiliary Police Department who were members of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. I respectfully refuse to answer the questions on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Applewhite, will you identify for the committee the klokan and the members of the wrecking crew of the Klavern which you headed as the exalted cyclops?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The Klan in Bogalusa provided for the creation of a boycott committee to be comprised of one member from each unit in the Bogalusa area. This committee was to appoint a wrecking crew who would wreck persons violating the boycott restrictions. Were you a member of this wrecking crew?

Mr. APPLEWHITE. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ewell Rowley.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. ROWLEY. I do.

TESTIMONY OF EWELL WILLIAM ROWLEY, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record, please?

Mr. ROWLEY. Ewell William Rowley.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 26, 1965, at the Pearl River Junior High School in Pearl River, Louisiana?

Mr. ROWLEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. ROWLEY. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Rowley?

Mr. ROWLEY. Marion County, Mississippi, April 25, 1921.

Mr. APPELL. What city in Marion County were you born?

Mr. ROWLEY. It was in a rural area known as Kokomo.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. ROWLEY. Sixth Ward Community, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Sixth Ward of what parish?

Mr. ROWLEY. St. Tammany.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rowley, under the condition of the subpoena served upon you and attachment that was made a part of the subpoena, you were called to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and affiliated organizations, namely, Pearl River Hunting and Fishing Lodge #1028 and the Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as a member and/or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and/or Anti-Communist Christian Association.

I ask you to produce those documents, sir.

Mr. ROWLEY. Are you speaking of paragraph 1 of the subpoena?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, I read paragraph 1.

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to produce the records asked for in paragraph 1 of the subpoena on grounds that it might incriminate me and, further, it would violate my rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. I ask that the witness be directed to produce the documents.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you in the hearing room when I commented on the fact that these subpoenas, including the one served upon you, called upon you to produce these documents in the representative capacity indicated in the subpoena?

Mr. ROWLEY. No, sir; I was not.

The CHAIRMAN. I will explain it to you.

This subpoena, which is technically called a subpoena duces tecum, calls upon you to produce certain books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to Ku Klux Klan affairs and organization, which documents, it is stated in the subpoena, are in your possession, custody, or control or maintained by you or are available to you as a member and/or an officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana and/or Anti-Communist Christian Association.

In other words, the subpoena does not call upon you to produce personal papers of yours, but papers, as indicated, in your possession, custody, or control in the capacity stated. Do you understand that?

Mr. ROWLEY. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. That means that this committee takes the position that the constitutional ground upon which you rely is not applicable, because you have been asked to produce something not belonging to you personally, not your own papers or documents, but in that capacity, and it is our position you have no right to invoke those constitutional provisions.

Under these circumstances, I order and direct you to produce them.

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to produce the records on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rowley, paragraph 2 calls for the production of:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as member and/or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan or the Anti-Communist Christian Association which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to produce those records on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And for the reasons and the grounds I previously stated, I again order you to produce those documents mentioned in paragraph 2.

Mr. ROWLEY. I respectfully refuse to produce these records on the grounds heretofore stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rowley, will you set forth your educational background?

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I refuse to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, you are the principal of the Sixth Ward Junior High School, Pearl River, Louisiana.

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I propose to present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Rowley.

In 1964, Mr. Rowley was a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under the leadership of Murry H. Martin, which organization was known by a cover name of the Christian Constitutional Crusaders. He held membership and official position in the Pearl River Unit known by the front, or cover, name of the Pearl River Hunting and Fishing Lodge. Meetings of the Klan group were held in the Junior High School of which Mr. Rowley was its principal.

Officers of the unit in addition to Mr. Rowley were Ed Yates, D. B. Dean and L. J. Moran, all of Pearl River.

This information, Mr. Chairman, leads us to believe that he is in possession of additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Rowley, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's chief investigator.

Now, I give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of that statement.

In addition, I give you the privilege, if you desire, to offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds heretofore stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, sir, I inform you that in the absence of any rebuttal from you, or anyone else for that matter, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

In view of that, do you have anything to say?

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. I would like to inquire of Mr. Appell whether he has the name of the junior high school in Pearl River.

Mr. APPELL. I think it is the Sixth Ward Pearl River Junior High School.

Mr. WELTNER. Is that a part of the public school system of that parish?

Mr. APPELL. It is my understanding it is.

The CHAIRMAN. In the State of Louisiana, the parish is divided into wards, and in each ward there are elected, depending upon the population, members of the governing authority of that parish, which you would call a county in other States. And from each ward there are elected, again depending upon the population, members of the school board system. The name "ward" in this instance is a political subdivision of the parish from which the ward officers are drawn or elected. So I affirm the fact it is a part of the school system of each parish.

Mr. WELTNER. So it is a publicly financed and publicly owned facility in which this Klavern known as the Pearl River Hunting and Fishing Lodge was located?

Mr. APPELL. Those are the results of our investigation.

Mr. WELTNER. Thank you.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I am intrigued about the use of the school

Do you feel, sir, this is a proper use of public property, to use a school building as a place for a Klan meeting?

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I would give as my opinion, coming from Louisiana and being familiar with the school system there and the operation of the public buildings, that if a Klan organization—or rather an organization dedicated to peace, order, and law enforcement asked for the building, the school authorities would make the building available.

Mr. BUCHANAN. May I inquire?

You are the second schoolman we have had here today, and I think it is fair to state heretofore, in looking into the Klan, we found a number of people of rather limited education in positions of leadership. You are a man of some education, of responsibility in the field of education, and working with young people. I am intrigued, therefore, to learn what it is that drew you toward the Ku Klux Klan or makes you feel, as a school official and one with your influence on young people, that this is the sort of an organization of which you ought to be a part.

Would you tell us what it is about the Klan that makes you feel it is the kind of organization you ought to support and a man in your position of responsibility ought to support?

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to ask Mr. Rowley whether or not approval was given for the Klan to meet in his school by the ward school board?

Mr. ROWLEY. Sir, I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously mentioned.

Mr. APPELL. The staff has no further questions to ask this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused, and the committee will stand in recess for 5 minutes.

(Whereupon the subcommittee recessed and reconvened at 3:30 p.m. with the following subcommittee members present at time of recess and when hearings resumed: Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kinch Miley.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MILEY. I do.

TESTIMONY OF KINCH WILSON MILEY, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Miley.

Mr. MILEY. Kinch Wilson Miley.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. MILEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael S. Ingram, from Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Miley, you are appearing before the committee today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at Route 1, Varnado, Louisiana, on October 26, 1965?

Mr. MILEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Is Route 1, Varnado, Louisiana, your residence, Mr. Miley?

Mr. MILEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Miley, would you state for the record your educational background?

Mr. MILEY. I respectfully refuse to answer on the grounds that it might intend to incriminate me, and on the further grounds that it might violate my rights under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Miley, are you currently employed as a schoolbus driver?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer that question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Miley, are you currently a member of a Klan organization?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Are you currently a member of the Anti-Communist Christian Association?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer that question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I propose to present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Miley.

Mr. Miley, as a member of the Bogalusa Unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, was the purchaser of ammunition and weapons from Howard M. Lee, the Bogalusa former exalted cyclops, who was arrested and convicted of violation of ATU regulation governing licensed gun dealers.

Records in Lee's possession reflect entries as follows:

Kinch Miley, 500 rounds of ammunition.

The second entry: Two pistols, .32 caliber, Savage automatics, No. 127258, No. 160634.

Four weapons not described, with Serial Nos. RA4844, OK6890, BN6537, UI6718.

Another entry: Three weapons, not described.

Mr. Miley, what disposition did you make of the weapons and ammunition obtained by you according to the records of gun dealer Howard M. Lee?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

(Excerpts from Howard M. Lee's records marked "Kinch Miley Exhibit No. 1" follow:)

Mr. APPELL. Did you dispose of any of the ammunition, pistols, or other weapons to individuals known to you to be members of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever serve on an official organization of the Klan known as the wrecking crew?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. To your knowledge, was any of the ammunition or weapons obtained by you from Howard Lee used for the purpose of carrying out a wrecking crew assignment?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. Miley.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Miley, I assume that Varnado is in Washington Parish.

Mr. MILEY. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. What ward of Washington Parish is that town in?

Mr. MILEY. What is that question again?

The CHAIRMAN. What ward of the parish is that town in? What ward number of Washington Parish?

Mr. MILEY. Ward 5.

The CHAIRMAN. Now I ask you a question on which you may want to consult your counsel. I assume that you are a bus driver representing the public school system in Ward 5 of Washington Parish?

Mr. MILEY. Repeat the question, please.

The CHAIRMAN. I say I assume that you are a bus driver representing the public school system of Ward 5 of Washington Parish?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you made public statements or have you appeared at public meetings to discuss activities of the Klan of which you are a member?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever, in the course of your daily transportation of school children, which would be bringing them to school in the morning and driving them back home after school hours, discussed with these school children Klan activities or made suggestions to them that they consult with their parents to join up?

Mr. MILEY. I refuse to answer on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Are there any questions?

The witness is excused.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Robert Stallings.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. STALLINGS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ROBERT EARL STALLINGS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. STALLINGS. Robert Earl Stallings.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Stallings?

Mr. STALLINGS. July 28, 1937, in Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. STALLINGS. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Yes. My name is Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, are you appearing here this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at 344 Columbia Road, Bogalusa, on the 28th day of December 1965?

Mr. STALLINGS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, under the terms of this subpoena you are called up to produce:

All books, records, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, the Louisiana Rifle Association, the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, and the Anti-Communist Christian Association in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past officer or member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, the Louisiana Rifle Association, the Christian Constitutional Crusaders, and the Anti-Communist Christian Association.

I ask you if you have those documents and if you will produce them, sir.

(Documents produced.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like the record to show that, in accordance with the attachment to the subpoena and the demand made on Mr. Stallings, Mr. Stallings has produced certain records. These records, Mr. Chairman, consist of monthly ledger cards of an account maintained by the Parish A.C.C.A. at the First State Bank & Trust Company, Bogalusa, Louisiana, copies of deposit slips, account signature card,¹ and eight checks drawn against the account.²

These are identical, Mr. Chairman, to the records which the committee received from the bank in accordance with a subpoena duces tecum.

(Ledger cards and deposit slips marked "Robert Stallings Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, would you give the committee a brief outline of your educational background?

Mr. STALLINGS. I refuse and decline to answer the question propounded to me on the grounds that it might incriminate me and on the further grounds that the answers would tend to violate my rights as guaranteed under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and the 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Would you please give to the committee your employment background, including current employment?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are employed by the bank in which this account was maintained.

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, according to one of the items supplied by you, the copy of the signature card maintained by the bank (John Magee Exhibit No. 2), the card reflects that Robert E. Stallings, who is yourself, was the signature of the authority to the bank to honor checks drawn against the account in the name of the Parish A.C.C.A., including the names of J. E. Magee, B. R. Crain, and Sidney Brock. In light of the fact that these records which you supplied show that you are the responsible officer of the Parish A.C.C.A. granting to the bank the authority to honor checks, I now ask you if these documents are all of the documents in your possession called for in the attachment to the subpoena under which you delivered these documents?

Mr. STALLINGS. The manner in which the question is phrased, I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds I previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Would you care to explain it in your own language? Would you care to?

Frankly, I am going to ask the examiner to rephrase his question. We want the facts here.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, are there any documents in your possession called for in the attachment to the subpoena which you have not produced before this committee in accordance with the attachment?

Mr. STALLINGS. Would you repeat the question, please?

Mr. APPELL. Are there any documents in your possession called for to be produced in the attachment to your subpoena which you have not produced in response to the subpoena?

Mr. STALLINGS. No, sir; this is all the documents I have.

The CHAIRMAN. I do not know that you followed the question. I do not want to confuse you in the least. That would have been my subsequent question. The question he asked you was, Are the documents that you have produced the only documents called for? Now let me explain. It may be—I do not know myself—that the subpoena called for other documents. Perhaps you do not have them. If that is the case, I would suggest that you say, subject to your counsel; "No, the subpoena called for other documents, but I don't have them and I have never had them," if that is the case. I think counsel understands that and I am trying to clarify the record. That is all I want.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you understand what I am driving at, Mr. Ingram?

Mr. INGRAM. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I might tell you, Mr. Ingram, in all frankness, my next question would be, since we are talking about possession, that the subpoena called for documents either in his possession or under his custody or control, or available to him or maintained by him. I just want to make it plain; that is all.

To be perfectly frank with you, I would like to see one witness who has responded to the call of the subpoena.

Mr. STALLINGS. The documents which I have produced are all of the documents, books and records, correspondence, and memoranda which I have in my possession, custody—

The CHAIRMAN. Which I "have" or "had"?

Mr. STALLINGS. Which I have. Shall I start over?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes, please.

Mr. STALLINGS. The documents which——

The CHAIRMAN. Talk a little louder.

Mr. STALLINGS. The documents which I have produced are all the documents, records, books, correspondence, and memoranda which I have or have had in my possession, custody, or control or which I have or have had access to.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Stallings, as to this portion of your testimony—I do not know what comes next—I tell you that I appreciate for once somebody properly responding to a subpoena issued by this committee. I accept your tender as satisfying the subpoena.

Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, do you know John Magee, who appeared before the three-judge court in Louisiana and identified himself as treasurer of the Anti-Communist Christian Association, whose account carried the name of the Parish A.C.C.A.?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee testified that the other members of the finance committee were Sidney Brock, Billy Crain, and Robert Stallings. Will you explain to the committee the formation, purpose, and organization of the finance committee of the Anti-Communist Christian Association?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Magee testified that while he was treasurer, the funds were handled by Mr. Saxon Farmer. Was his testimony truthful?

Mr. STALLINGS. I——

The CHAIRMAN. You mean he testified in the Federal court injunction proceedings?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, the deposit slip of March 22, 1965, of the First State Bank, which deposit slip shows a deposit of currency of $100 and silver of 68 cents——

The CHAIRMAN. Complete your question and the answer to it, and then defer.

Mr. APPELL. —which reflects that this is a new account, contains as the person who received the funds for the bank a signature which I interpret as "Robert E." or "R. E. Stallings." Will you tell the committee from what source you received this money, either as a bank employee or as a member of the finance committee of the Parish A.C.C.A.?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. As chairman of the full House Committee on Un-American Activities, I hereby reconstitute the subcommittee to conduct the hearings for the balance of the afternoon as the following: Myself as chairman, Mr. Weltner and Mr. Buchanan as the other two members, so for the balance of the afternoon two members shall constitute a quorum of the subcommittee of three.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, as a member of the A.C.C.A. did you at any time execute an application for membership which application had on its face "Application for Citizenship in the Invisible Empire, The Original Ku Klux Klan"? I exhibit to you a copy of an application.

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a member of the A.C.C.A., did you ever swear to a series of oaths, copies of which I am now handing you?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

(Documents previously marked "John Swenson Exhibit No. 1.")

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, in the month of November were you called to jury duty at the courthouse in Franklinton, Louisiana?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you whether or not, when examined as a prospective juror in a case, you were asked whether or not you were the Stallings identified as a member of the A.C.C.A. before the three-judge court in Louisiana, and that you denied that you were, with the explanation that the name in that record was R. L. Stallings and that you are R. E. Stallings?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stallings, in the canceled checks which you submitted under the subpoena duces tecum, there are checks on December 22, 1965, in the amount of $135, payable to cash, cosigned J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings; August 2, 1965, to cash, in the amount of $77.40, signed J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings; July 2, 1965, to cash, in the amount of $106.48, cosigned J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings; July 2, 1965, a check to cash for $93, cosigned J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings; a check of March 28, 1965, to the District A.C.C.A., in the amount of $39—strike that one because it is not cosigned by Mr. Stallings—a check dated April 15, 1965, to cash, in the amount of $69, cosigned J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings; a check dated May 24, 1965, to cash, in the amount of $170.90, cosigned J. E. Magee, Robert E. Stallings; a check dated May 29, 1965, to cash—strike that one.

Mr. Stallings, I would like to ask you the purpose for which the money was used from checks made payable to cash, cosigned by yourself.

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

(Checks previously marked "John Magee Exhibit No. 3.")

The CHAIRMAN. You wrote the checks.

Mr. APPELL. Was the income that went into this account income received from units of the A.C.C.A. which were identical to the Klan Klavern?

Mr. STALLINGS. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Houston Pierce Morris.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MORRIS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF HOUSTON PIERCE MORRIS

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, Mr. Morris?

Mr. MORRIS. Houston Pierce Morris.

Mr. APPELL. Before proceeding further, Mr. Morris, I note that you are not accompanied by counsel. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. MORRIS. No.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you understand, Mr. Morris, that you have a right—if you do not, I am now telling you—to in your own way invoke the fifth amendment if you desire? Do you understand you have that right?

Mr. MORRIS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. I say that because you do not have a lawyer. You have that right. It will be given to you and accorded to you just as if you had a lawyer with you.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, when and where were you born?

Mr. MORRIS. October 4, 1935, Rayville, Richland Parish, Route 4, Box 616. Now I reside at 112 Texas Avenue, Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, will you give the committee your educational background?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel it might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, you are appearing before the committee in accordance with a subpoena served upon you the 26th day of October, 1965, at 112 Texas Avenue, Monroe, Louisiana?

The CHAIRMAN. The question is, you are appearing here because you were subpoenaed to come here. That is the question.

Mr. MORRIS. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, the subpoena served upon you calls for you to produce certain books and records described in an attachment to the subpoena which is made a part of the subpoena. Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan—Louisiana, Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.—Louisiana, and United Klans of America—Louisiana, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as officer and/or member of the above-mentioned organizations.

I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, because that information is not relevant and germane to any subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Morris, I am not going to ask you a question, but I am just telling you that that response has been used many times, but yours is in very good form.

Were you here in the hearing room when I explained to the witnesses that this subpoena called on you to produce papers, books, documents, and so forth?

Mr. MORRIS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Not that they belonged to you, but in your capacity as an officer. You understand that?

Mr. MORRIS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to furnish those.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to produce the documents asked for by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965 for the reason I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965. That information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in its consideration of legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, I would advise you that in the future in answer to a demand to produce documents all of your rights will be protected if you will respond by the language you "refuse to produce for the reasons previously stated." That would include all of the reasons which you have stated.

I would like to ask you, however, Mr. Morris, before asking for the production of documents contained in part 2, whether or not in connection with the legal advice that you received with respect to your appearance here if you were advised by counsel of the opening statement of the chairman in October 1965, which set forth the purposes of the hearing and the designation of the subcommittee, and whether or not you understand them.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Morris, on the first day of the hearings, I made what is called an opening statement which indicates the reasons, purposes, objectives, the scope, and the purpose of holding the hearings. All witnesses who appeared here with a lawyer agreed that either the lawyer had explained my statement or he was familiar with it. You said you were not.

Therefore, I now hand you a copy of my opening statement of October 19, 1965, and I shall excuse you for a few minutes so you will have a chance to read it.

Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Robert Fuller.

The CHAIRMAN. Will you raise your right hand, sir?

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. FULLER. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ROBERT WILLIAM FULLER

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, Mr. Fuller?

Mr. FULLER. Robert William Fuller.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, you are not represented by counsel. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. FULLER. No, sir. I have consulted one and I will go from that, if you don't mind.

Mr. APPELL. I had a conversation with your counsel, Mr. Venable. He explained to me that he had advised you of the purposes of the hearing as contained in the opening statement. You are familiar with the purpose for which this hearing is being conducted?

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir, I am.

The CHAIRMAN. One more question of Mr. Fuller.

Mr. Fuller, I want you to know because you are entitled to it—it is your choice to invoke constitutional privileges if you wish to. I want you to know that.

If you do, that right is a sacred one and it will be respected as if you had a lawyer.

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, when and where were you born?

Mr. FULLER. Monroe, Louisiana, November 11, 1920.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing before the committee this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 26th day of October, 1965 at 608 Winnsboro Road, Monroe, Louisiana?

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir; that is right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, the subpoena served upon you calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America—Louisiana, also Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and affiliated organizations in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as member and/or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America—Louisiana, also the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan—Louisiana.

I ask you to produce those documents, sir.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully refuse to do so. I honestly believe that it might tend to incriminate me and is in violation of my constitutional rights provided in article—1, 4, 5, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask for a direction to the witness.

The CHAIRMAN. You were in the hearing room when I explained to the previous witnesses that this subpoena served on you calls upon you to produce documents, not of your own, but in your capacity as stated in that subpoena.

You understand that, do you?

Mr. FULLER. Any what, now, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. That the subpoena calls upon you to produce documents which might have been in your possession—not belonging to you but held, controlled, or possessed by you as an officer of the Klan. In other words, it is not a call for personal papers. There is a distinction.

I say, you understand that?

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir. I still stick to this. I understand it; yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Then under the circumstances I order you to produce them. Since you have no lawyer, you may, if you wish, repeat your refusal to produce them.

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir. I respectfully refuse to produce records, and I honestly believe that it might tend to incriminate me in violation of the constitutional rights as provided in amendments 1, 4, 5, and 14th of the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, I hand you a series of oaths given to members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and ask you to examine these series of oaths and ask you whether you ever subscribed to them?

(Documents previously marked "John Swenson Exhibit No. 1.")

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. You're almost a lawyer yourself.

Mr. FULLER. Thank you, Mr. Willis. I don't have much education. I have to try to look out for myself.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, are you familiar with the Klavern of the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana known by the designation of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know the gentleman who was just excused from the witness chair?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir, on the same ground previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Is it a fact that you succeeded him as the exalted cyclops of the Klavern known as the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club?

Mr. FULLER. That question again, please, sir?

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact that you succeeded him as the exalted cyclops.

Mr. FULLER. You said it was a fact, though, sir. I didn't.

MR. APPELL. I ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

MR. FULLER. I decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I propose to present to this committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Fuller.

Mr. Fuller has been in a leadership capacity in the Klan in Louisiana since shortly after its activation in the beginning of the 1960's.

In 1963 he became the exalted cyclops of the Klavern known as the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club.

He later became chief of the Klan Bureau of Investigation under J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young and received compensation from its account operated under the front or cover name Louisiana Rifle Association.

He led the revolt against the leadership of Swenson and Young, using the charge that they were only interested in the money they were getting from Klan income.

Fuller became a leader under the reorganized Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and from this organization he received compensation in the amount of $3,955.47 during the period of February 11, 1964, through September 29, 1964, from that organization's account known as the Christian Constitutional Crusaders.

Fuller and other leaders under Murry H. Martin broke with Martin at the end of 1964 and incorporated an organization known by the name of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., in March 1965 for the purpose of attempting to bring all Louisiana Klansmen under its banner.

In June 1964, the bulk of the officers and members of the Knights of the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., joined the United Klans of America, Inc. The Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club, of which Mr. Fuller was an exalted cyclops, had gone into the United Klans of America, Inc., which operates in Louisiana under the front or cover name of the Louisiana Rescue Service in the fall of 1964.

According to the records of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club maintained at the Central Savings Bank & Trust Company, Monroe, Louisiana, Mr. Fuller was described in the account, on authority of the signature, as president, and he remained as president from August 21, 1963, to January 21, 1964.

This information, Mr. Chairman, leads us to believe that he possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

THE CHAIRMAN. Mr. Fuller, the name of the man who made this statement is Don Appell. He is the chief investigator of this committee. He is under oath, just as you are.

Now I will give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, or to explain or modify any part of that statement.

In addition I shall give you the opportunity, if you like, to offer any other matter which this committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. FULLER. Mr. Chairman, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Fuller, I must inform you that since you did not take advantage of that opportunity, or if we do not come in possession of other facts, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of what Mr. Appell had to say. We have been very careful in our investigation and it has come from many sources.

In view of what I have said, would you care to say anything?

Mr. FULLER. In view of what, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. In view of the fact that unless you choose to explain or deny or affirm or comment on what Mr. Appell had to say, the committee will assume that what he said is true. We assume that in view of that.

If you want to, I will now give you another opportunity to say anything you want.

Mr. FULLER. I state the same, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. In other words, you refuse on the grounds previously stated?

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir; I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, on June 26, 1965, I interviewed Houston P. Morris at Travel Lodge Motel in Monroe, Louisiana. Mr. Fuller explained that 3 weeks or so prior to the interview—

Mr. FULLER. Mr. Morris.

Mr. APPELL. —Mr. Morris stated that the bulk of his organization had gone over to the United Klans of America, but he said that you hadn't gone because you didn't want to give up your title.

Mr. FULLER. Didn't want to give up what, sir?

Mr. APPELL. Your title.

Mr. FULLER. I have no comment.

Mr. APPELL. I am asking you whether Mr. Morris' testimony was truthful?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, I hand you two separate documents, forms issued by the Federal Communications Commission, both forms being applications for Class B, C, or D station license in the Citizens Radio Service. The first is Robert W. Fuller, dated 8-22-1964, and seeks authority to operate four transmitters.

The second, signed Robert W. Fuller, dated 8-14-64, is in the name of Fuller's Sanitation Service, and seeks authority to operate 10 transmitters.

I hand you these and ask you if these are factual copies of applications which you made.

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "Robert Fuller Exhibits Nos. 1-A and 1-B," respectively. See pp. 2568-2571.)

The CHAIRMAN. What does that sanitation business do? You don't have to answer, but I am curious to know.

Mr. FULLER. Mr. Willis, I wouldn't mind answering that at the start. That's my business. But you have me way down in the middle of it, and I think that should have come up, sir, at the start of my program.

The CHAIRMAN. I won't press it.

Mr. FULLER. I will be glad to write you a letter and tell you concerning what it is. It's legitimate.

The CHAIRMAN. What I wanted to know was, really, that is an awful lot of transmitters to use in a cleaning or sanitation business.

Mr. FULLER. I have 18 pieces of equipment, no Klan equipment.

The CHAIRMAN. Why didn't you say in answer to previous questions that you had no Klan connections? I won't press the question because you don't have a lawyer. You are now saying you have no Klan connections. I don't know what you mean by that.

Mr. FULLER. I believe you asked me the question, sir—

The CHAIRMAN. I now ask you the question—Are you now, or have you ever been, a member of the Klan?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the grounds of my constitutional rights.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you now, or have you ever been, an officer of the Klan?

Mr. FULLER. I state the same. I respectfully decline to answer.

The CHAIRMAN. I thought you would.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, have any of the transmitters authorized for you ever been used to carry out any activity on the part of the Klan?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, if Mr. Morris's statement to me was truthful, that you did not go into the Klan, United Klan, what Klan organization, if any, are you now affiliated with?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, do you continue membership in the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club which in October of 1964 was a Klavern of the Louisiana Rescue Service?

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the constitutional grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. You are excused.

Mr. FULLER. May I ask a question, if it is permissible?

The CHAIRMAN. It is perfectly all right with me.

I must warn you, if you do he will ask some of you.

Mr. FULLER. Maybe I will ask him later. It is important, but not in this investigation.

The CHAIRMAN. I will be glad to talk to you.

Mr. FULLER. Thank you, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I will recall Mr. Houston P. Morris.

TESTIMONY OF HOUSTON PIERCE MORRIS—Resumed

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Morris, during this interval when you were excused from the stand, I take it you have had opportunity to familiarize yourself with my stated reasons for the purposes of this hearing.

Mr. MORRIS. Right.

The CHAIRMAN. He says he is familiar with the opening statement.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, will you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact Mr. Morris did not know the content of your opening statement, the purpose of the hearings, I shall again ask him to produce the documents called for under the subpoena.

You were ordered and directed under the subpoena to produce under paragraph 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan—Louisiana, Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.—Louisiana and United Klans of America—Louisiana, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as an officer and/or member of the above-mentioned organizations.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as commanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, because that information is not relevant and germane to any subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. I ask for a direction for the production of documents called for in paragraph 1.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you in the hearing room when I explained, Mr. Morris, that this subpoena asked you to produce documents as an officer of the Klan and documents and papers of your own. Do you understand that?

Mr. MORRIS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. I therefore order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as commanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, because that information is not relevant and germane to any subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Under part 2 of the subpoena, paragraph 2, you are directed to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member and/or officer of the United Klans of America, Inc.—Louisiana, Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan—Louisiana and the Original Knights of the Klu Klux Klan of America, Inc.—Louisiana, which the “Constitution and Laws” of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as commanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, because that information is not relevant and germane to any subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. I ask for a direction for the production of documents called for in paragraph 2.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons indicated, I order and direct the witness to produce the documents.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, are you currently a member of the United Klans of America, Realm of Louisiana, which operates under the cover name of the Louisiana Rescue Service?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a document, authority to the Central Savings Bank & Trust Company, Monroe, Louisiana, issued by the president and secretary of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club, which designates Houston Morris as president and contains the signature of Houston P. Morris, signed by Bruce Bairnsfather, secretary, and Houston P. Morris, president, and I ask you if you are the Houston P. Morris who signed that document.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

(Document previously marked "Murry Martin Exhibit No. 6." See pp. 2369.)

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Morris, a minute or two ago I ordered you to produce documents called for in paragraph 2. Somehow you did not respond. Mr. Appell then went to another question.

I now again order you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 2 of the subpoena.

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as commanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, because that information is not relevant and germane to any subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. In view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I propose to present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Morris.

Mr. Morris was the first president and exalted cyclops of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Klavern in Monroe, Louisiana, known by the cover name of the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club. He was the grand kleagle or State organizer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under the leadership of J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young. He was the grand kleagle—or state organizer, realm organizer—of the Original Knights under the leadership of Murry H. Martin. He was the leader of a faction which resulted in the removal of leadership of Royal V. Young and the succession of Murry H. Martin.

At the time of the election of Murry H. Martin, a deal was consummated between Mr. Martin and Mr. Morris whereby Mr. Morris would retain leadership of the organization, and Mr. Martin would retain leadership of the organization for 6 months until elections were to be held, at which time it was scheduled for Mr. Morris to take over the top office.

When Mr. Martin defeated Mr. Morris in elections in November 1964, Mr. Morris led dissension within that organization, and in 1965 incorporated the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., along with Jack Saucier, 809 South Eighth Street, Monroe, and George Bonner, 1511 Alabama Street, Monroe.¹

After incorporation, Morris became the Imperial Wizard of the organization.

April 28, 1965, Mr. Morris addressed a letter to the secretary of state informing the secretary of state that he had resigned from the board of directors of the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., and advised the secretary of state that his letter of resignation had been accepted by the board of directors.¹

In May or June of 1965, Mr. Morris, together with other former members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., met with Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton of the United Klans of America and took the bulk of his organization into the United Klans of America.

As the Imperial Wizard, Mr. Morris organized some Klansmen in the State of Arkansas. These Arkansas members are now under Mr. Shelton's organizational structure in that State.

This information, Mr. Chairman, leads us to believe that Mr. Morris possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Morris, the name of the gentleman who just made that statement is Mr. Appell. He is under oath just like you, and I now give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of any allegation, and explain or modify any part of the statement.

In addition, I give you the opportunity, if you wish, to offer any other matter the committee may deem pertinent to this inquiry.

Do you wish to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Morris, I inform you that in the absence of your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, the committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Do you wish to say anything to that?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. All right, proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, were you interviewed by me at the Travel Lodge Motel in Monroe, Louisiana, on June 16, 1965?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, did you admit to me during that interview that you were a member of the Klan, and that you had recently taken your Klan organization, yourself and others, into the United Klans of America?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, when I discussed with you income which you had received as an organizer for the Klan and asked you whether you had reported same on your income tax returns, you advised me you had reported it and for me to find it.

Is that factual, sir?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. In 1963, did you report $925 of that as public good will donations?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. In 1964, did you report $2,353.65 as donations from speeches at political meetings?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. In discussing the organizational structure of the Klan, Mr. Morris, did you advise me that the Klan was a nonviolent organization?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Did you admit to me that investigating procedures of new members was such that people prone to violence would not be kept out of membership in the Klan?

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Morris, this next statement I will put to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

When asked what action you would take against a member who was guilty of killing a Negro, that you responded, you "don't give a damn if they went out and killed 100."

Mr. MORRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 4, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman, to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee stands in recess.

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis and Buchanan.)

(Whereupon, at 5:10 p.m., Thursday, January 6, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Friday, January 7, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1966

SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the January 7 hearings, met, pursuant to recess, at 10:20 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

As chairman of the full Committee on Un-American Activities, I hereby constitute a committee of three to conduct the hearings today, of the following: myself, as chairman of the subcommittee; Mr. Weltner, of Georgia; and Mr. Buchanan, of Alabama. And, of course, two members constitute a quorum of this subcommittee, and I announce the presence of a quorum.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I call to the witness stand Robert T. Rester.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear, sir, the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. RESTER. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF ROBERT T. RESTER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL S. INGRAM

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, will you state your full name for the record, please.

Mr. RESTER. Robert T. Rester.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. RESTER. Yes, sir, I am.

Mr. APPELL. Would counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. INGRAM. Michael S. Ingram, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, are you appearing today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on December 28, 1965, which calls for your appearance on January 10, and you are appearing this morning because of an arrangement between your counsel and the committee?

Mr. RESTER. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, when and where were you born?

Mr. RESTER. Bogalusa, Louisiana, May 3, 1930.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. RESTER. Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Do you reside at a street and number?

Mr. RESTER. 1353 Edward Lane.

Mr. APPELL. Do you have a business address in Bogalusa?

Mr. RESTER. 311 First Avenue.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, would you give the committee your educational background?

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that question on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate me and cite as the basis of this refusal the 1st, the 4th, the 5th, and the 14th amendments of the United States Constitution.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee your employment background?

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, are you a member of the bar of the State of Louisiana as well as the city attorney of Bogalusa?

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, I hand you a copy of the articles of incorporation of the Anti-Communist Christian Association. I invite your attention to page 2 of the articles of incorporation, specifically Article V. Registered Agents, which reads, "The full names and post office addresses of the corporation's registered agents are: Robert T. Rester, 311 First Avenue, P.O. Box 1160, Bogalusa, Louisiana; Saxon Farmer, 315 East Fifth Street, Bogalusa, Louisiana." And I ask you if you are the Robert T. Rester indicated as one of the two agents.

Mr. RESTER. Sir, I decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

(Document previously marked "Saxon Farmer Exhibit No. 1.")

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, the three-judge court—

The CHAIRMAN. Please speak up a little bit, both of you. It is hard for us to follow.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, the three-judge court in New Orleans which considered an injunction against certain residents of Bogalusa, including the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-

Communist Christian Association, found that the Anti-Communist Christian Association was a front organized to operate as a Klan-type organization. As one of the agents of that corporation, is the finding of the three-judge court factual?

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer the question, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, at the time these incorporation papers were drawn—and according to the corporation papers, they were drawn “the 1st day of the month of December, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty Four,”—were you a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you were the exalted cyclops of a unit in Bogalusa.

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, as the exalted cyclops of a unit and under the constitution by which the organization was supposed to govern itself, there was in each Klavern a klokan chief. I ask you who was the klokan chief of your Klavern.

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The klokan chief was supposed to appoint six members to an organization known within the Klavern and Klan as the wrecking crew. Who were the members of the wrecking crew of your Klavern?

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, in light of the admissions of Saxon Farmer and Charles Christmas and the admission of counsel representing the Klan, Anti-Communist Christian Association, as well as the defendants in that action—I might point out you were not a defendant—members did in fact engage in violent acts. I would like to ask you whether or not you are quoted correctly in a syndicated article by Murray Kempton which quotes you as saying that the town of Bogalusa owes the Klan a vote of thanks. I show you the article to which I am referring.

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. RESTER. Sir, I decline to answer that question on the grounds previously stated.

(Document marked “Robert Rester Exhibit No. 1” and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, do you know Clayton Hines of Lees Creek near Bogalusa?

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. According to Mr. Hines’ testimony before the three-judge court, he was the secretary of the Klavern of which you were the exalted cyclops, and through him the Government introduced in evidence a list of, I believe, 151 members of the Klan in the Bogalusa area, and Mr. Hines testified that the list was made up in your office with your assistance. I ask you if his testimony was true.

Mr. RESTER. I decline to answer that, sir, on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions to ask of this witness. I ask that the documents referred to be entered in the record at the place where they were mentioned.

The CHAIRMAN. The documents will be inserted in the record at the respective points indicated.

(The chairman, Mr. Appell, and Mr. Ingram confer.)

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rester, are you now a member of any Klan-type organization?

Mr. RESTER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. And that is your statement under oath?

Mr. RESTER. Yes, sir; that is my statement.

The CHAIRMAN. And you are an attorney and you know the meaning of an oath?

Mr. RESTER. Correct.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. RESTER. Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. B. J. Saucier.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. SAUCIER. I do.

TESTIMONY OF B. J. "JACK" SAUCIER

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record, Mr. Saucier?

Mr. SAUCIER. I have initials only. B. J. Saucier. Jack is a nickname.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in response to a subpoena served upon you on the 26th day of October 1965 at 608 Winnboro Road, Monroe, Louisiana?

Mr. SAUCIER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, you are not accompanied by counsel. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. SAUCIER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Saucier, I want to tell you that if you wish you may invoke the fifth amendment at any point you think you ought to. I say that because you won't have the benefit of advice from counsel. If you exercise that right, I will accept it in the same manner and treat it in the same way as if you had counsel.

Mr. SAUCIER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, Attorney James Venable advised me that he was your attorney or is your attorney, that he had given you legal advice, and that it was agreeable with him that you testify without him. Is that right, sir?

Mr. SAUCIER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did Mr. Venable explain to you the purposes for which the committee is sitting and holding these hearings as outlined in the opening statement of Chairman Willis in October of last year?

Mr. SAUCIER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, paragraph 1 of the subpoena served upon you called for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, of America, Inc., and Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, Choshota Parish Unit of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as member and/or officer of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, or the United Klans of America, Louisiana.

I ask you to produce those documents, Mr. Saucier.

Mr. SAUCIER. Sir, I respectfully refuse to do so. I earnestly believe that it might tend to incriminate me and violate my constitutional rights as provided under article I, article IV, article V, and the 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Saucier, I think you were in the hearing room and heard me explain that this subpoena was served on you as an officer of the Klan group and to produce those records in that capacity. You are aware of that?

Mr. SAUCIER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. In view of that, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully refuse to do so on the previously stated grounds.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, paragraph 2 called for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member and/or officer of the United Klans of America, Louisiana and Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Louisiana which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully decline to on the previously stated grounds.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons I stated, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully decline to do so on the previously stated grounds.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, when and where were you born?

Mr. SAUCIER. I was born July 2, 1927, in the rural area of Winnsboro, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. SAUCIER. 809 South Eighth Street, Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, would you give the committee the benefit of your educational background?

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully refuse to answer the question on the grounds that I earnestly believe it might tend to incriminate me and further violate my constitutional rights under article I, article IV, article V, and the 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Will you give the committee the benefit of your employment background?

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully decline to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, were you a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan at the time said organization was under the leadership of Royal V. Young?

Mr. SAUCIER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Under the leadership of Murry H. Martin, were you the exalted cyclops of the Ouachita Parish Unit?

Mr. SAUCIER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know Willis J. Kidd to be the exalted cyclops of the Swartz Unit?

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In November 1964 at an election of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Houston P. Morris sought the position of Imperial Wizard and was defeated.

Did you, Mr. Kidd, and others subsequently break with that organization as a result of the dissension that grew out of his defeat?

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Saucier, I hand you a copy of an incorporation—articles of incorporation of an organization designated as the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.

I invite your attention to the fact that the incorporators are listed in this document as being Houston P. Morris, 112 Texas Avenue, Monroe, Louisiana; Jack Saucier, 809 South 8th Street, Monroe, Louisiana; and George Bonner, 1511 Alabama Street, Monroe, Louisiana.

I hand you this document for you to review and put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the Jack Saucier named in this document.

Mr. SAUCIER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "B. J. Saucier Exhibit No. 1.")

Mr. APPELL. According to a letter obtained from the Office of Secretary of State, the State of Louisiana, Houston P. Morris resigned from this organization, according to the letter dated April 28, 1965.

Will you tell the committee what caused Houston P. Morris to break with the organization?

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully decline to do so on the same grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Wasn't it again because of dissension within a Klan group in which Mr. Morris wanted to take the bulk of the organization into the United Klans of America?

Mr. SAUCIER. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the previously stated grounds.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. APPELL. I call Mr. Willis J. Kidd.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand, sir.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?
Mr. KIDD. I do.

TESTIMONY OF WILLIS JAMES KIDD, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, Mr. Kidd?

Mr. KIDD. Willis James Kidd.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here this morning in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 26th day of October 1965 at Music Road in Swartz, Louisiana?

Mr. KIDD. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. KIDD. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. I am Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Kidd?

Mr. KIDD. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights guaranteed to me in the amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kidd, you have been a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under Mr. Young, the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under Mr. Martin, the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., as well as the United Klans of America?

Mr. KIDD. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Kidd.

Mr. Kidd was born on June 11, 1932, in Ouachita Parish, Louisiana. He is employed as assistant office manager at the Columbia Carbon Company, Swartz, Louisiana. He served in the United States Navy from 1952 to 1956. He has been a member of Ku Klux Klan organizations since 1963. He recently held membership, in the office of exalted cyclops, of the Swartz Unit, Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., and the United Klans of America, Inc.

In April 1965, he was the Imperial Dragon of the Original Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., which organization was incorporated by Houston P. Morris and Jack Saucier, the previous witness.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that he possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. You have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator. You now have an opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to affirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of the statement.

In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matters the committee might deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. KIDD. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Kidd, I must inform you that, absent your rebuttal, or other factors that may come to the attention of the committee, we will continue to rely upon the accuracy of the investigation.

Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kidd, were you formally affiliated in the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan with Jack Saucier, the witness that preceded you?

Mr. KIDD. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Thomas Frank Reagan?

Mr. KIDD. I respectfully decline to answer that question upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that he is the great titan for the Northern Province of Louisiana, United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. KIDD. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Kidd, it is information coming to myself that you and Houston Morris have gone over to the United Klans of America under the leadership of Robert Shelton. Is that true?

Mr. KIDD. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I think I have confirmatory evidence along that line.

Thank you. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Jack Helm.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear, sir, the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HELM. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF JACK M. HELM, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your name for the record, Mr. Helm?

Mr. HELM. Jack M. Helm.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing this morning, Mr. Helm, in accordance with a subpoena served upon you?

Mr. HELM. Yes, I am.

Mr. APPELL. On October 26, 1965?

Mr. HELM. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. At 3141, DeSaix Street, New Orleans, Louisiana?

Mr. HELM. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. You are represented by counsel?

Mr. HELM. Yes, I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Helm, under the conditions of the subpoena and an attachment thereto which was made a part of the subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and to produce before the committee documents called for in paragraph 1 as follows:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Louisiana Rescue Service in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Grand Klaliff, State of Louisiana, and/or E.C. New Orleans Unit of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask you to produce those documents, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in its subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by the committee under the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation; that the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to deliver the documents called for in paragraph 1.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Chalmers, I assume that previous stipulations which we previously made to the effect that you acknowledge that the subpoena was served upon him in the capacity stated in the subpoena and that he is being asked to produce the documents in that capacity; is that correct?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Helm, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Helm, paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member or officer of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Is the same stipulation agreed to, Mr. Chalmers?

Mr. CHALMERS. It is, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 3 of the subpoena, Mr. Helm, calls upon you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964, filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Helm, when and where were you born?

Mr. HELM. Houston, Texas.

Mr. APPELL. What date, sir?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by the amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact that the witness has stated that he was born in Houston, Texas, I ask that he be directed to give to the committee the date of his birth.

The CHAIRMAN. Pardon?

Mr. APPELL. In view of the fact, in response to my question as to when and where he was born, he responded "Houston, Texas," and then invoked constitutional privileges with respect to the date of his birth, I ask that he be directed to give to the record the date of his birth.

The CHAIRMAN. Of course, I could do that. It is introductory and preliminary, and I can visualize absolutely no basis for the invocation of any constitutional privileges, unless he wants to enumerate the reason. I will order and direct him to answer.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions or to produce documents demanded of him, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Helm.

Mr. Helm was born February 7, 1910, at Houston, Texas. He is the operations manager for the L. P. Smith Construction Company, New Orleans, Louisiana. He is a member of the United Klans of America, Realm of Louisiana, which is known by the cover name of Louisiana Rescue Service. He is the exalted cyclops of the New Orleans, Louisiana, Unit of the United Klans of America.

In March of 1965 he attended a convention of the Realm of Louisiana, which at that time operated under the cover name of the Bernice Sportsman Club. At this meeting he was elected Grand Klaliff or State vice president of the Realm of Louisiana.

On May 15 and 16, 1965, Mr. Helm, along with Charles T. Miller of New Orleans, and Lloyd Barnett, who gave an address of New Orleans, D. B. Jackson of Baton Rouge—correction—of Bernice—and Gill Harris, Jr., of Bernice; he attended a meeting of Grand Dragons, Imperial officers, and other UKA—United Klans of America—leaders from many States at the Eola Hotel in Natchez, Mississippi.

This meeting was sponsored by the Mississippi Realm of the United Klans of America known as the Mississippi Rescue Service.

While a Klan official, Mr. Helm, who speaks at numerous Klan rallies, is always introduced as a leader of the Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans. With such an introduction, he spoke at the following rallies.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you mean Klan rallies?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. Rallies of the United Klans of America in most instances.

May 22, 1965, at a public rally near Tioga, Louisiana.

July 17, 1965, at Crossroads Community, Poplarville, Mississippi.

On October 24, 1965, at Philadelphia, Mississippi, where he shared the platform with Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price, and Wayne Alton Roberts, all three of whom were arrested for the slaying in Philadelphia, Mississippi, of the three civil rights workers.

At that rally Helm stated, and I quote, "No congressional investigation will ever deteriorate this organization. We'll still be here when they are dead and buried—and I hope it will be soon."

On October 27, 1965, at Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, Mr. Helm spoke, where he stated that the Federal Government was corrupt with homosexuals and that many Communists had high jobs.

On October 30, 1965, at Natchez, Mississippi, where he warned of a Communist takeover in the United States and urged his listeners to not register their guns because—and I quote—"You've got to have something in your house to keep those savages"—referring to Communists—"from your door."

On June 5, 1965, Helm attended a meeting of the Americans for the Preservation of the White Race at Natchez, Mississippi.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Helm possesses information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Helm, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator, Mr. Appell, who is under oath just like you are.

You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of it. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I must inform you in that case that, absent your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Now, bearing that in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Helm, you do quite a bit of traveling for the L. P. Smith Construction Company and represent to the Government sizable deductions for traveling expenses for use of automobile and other items necessary to travel. Do you include as legitimate business deductions those expenses which you incur in travel as an official of the United Klans of America?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Helm, we spoke of the meeting at Natchez, Mississippi. I hand you a copy of the registration card of the Eola Hotel.

I ask you if the card, which is one of the cards reproduced on this sheet that I am handing you, underscored, containing the name "Jack M. Helm," is your signature there?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to the persons from Louisiana whom I set forth in my statement with respect to you, were the following individuals also present for that meeting:

Ruby Lee Brown; Nick Caulda; Robert E. Scoggin; W. S. Cox of Spartanburg, South Carolina; and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Bedford of Jacksonville, Florida; Morris P. Perkins and Danny Hawkins of Jackson, Mississippi; Robert M. Creel of Bessemer, Alabama—the Grand Dragon of Alabama; Don Cothran, the Grand Dragon of Florida; B. W. Waldrup of Jackson, Mississippi; Calvin F. Craig, the Grand Dragon of Atlanta, Georgia; Raymond R. Anderson, the Grand Dragon of Tennessee; Robert M. Shelton, the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America; Clint Low of Jasper, Georgia.

Were those persons whose names I have read to you present at that meeting?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you the reproduction of an article which appeared in the Alexandria, Louisiana, Town Talk of May 24, 1965, a story relating to a Klan rally.

It contains a picture of two men. In handing you this document, I ask you if you know the other man at the microphone to be Dr. J. M. Edwards of Jonesboro, Louisiana, a chiropractor who is the Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America for the State of Louisiana.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Helm, in March of 1963 were you president of an organization known as Parents and Friends of Catholic Children, Inc.?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to have introduced into the record of Mr. Helm's testimony the registration card of the Eola Hotel, the newspaper clipping from the Alexandria, Louisiana, Town Talk, and an article which appeared in the Times-Picayune of March 25, 1963, relating to Mr. Helm and the Parents and Friends of Catholic Children, Inc.

The CHAIRMAN. They will be introduced in the record at the points indicated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Helm, the Times-Picayune story relating to the Parents and Friends of Catholic Children, Inc., states that Archbishop Cody, dealing with the organization I have mentioned, said that that organization was "not a recognized Catholic organization." and in response to an inquiry from the press in which you were asked about Archbishop Cody's statement, you are quoted in this paper as saying, "'Well, we have news for him. We don't recognize Archbishop Cody.'"

Were you quoted correctly?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Town Talk Staff Photo)

Dr. J. M. Edwards of Jonesboro, right, grand dragon of Louisiana of the United Klans of America Inc., introduces Jack Helm of New Orleans, approaching the microphone, who is a leader of the Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans and was the principal speaker during a klan rally near Tioga Saturday night.

'Invocation' at Klan Rally Is Not According to Grand Dragon's Hoyle

A Klu Klux Klan rally went off as scheduled Saturday night near Tioga with one unexpected performance.

Dr. J. M. Edwards, grand dragon of the United Klans of America Inc., realm of Louisiana, called for a minister from the audience to open the rally.

An unidentified man approached the microphone as the members of the crowd began to bow their heads.

"I don't see how you in the name of Jesus Christ can conduct hatred for any man" he said and walked from the platform.

Dr. Edwards, a Jonesboro veterinarian, gave the invocation and said of the man "we pray our richest blessing upon him; may the hatred in him be removed."

Jack Helm, leader of the Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans and principal speaker, said "I'm excited after I saw this performance here tonight."

Helm spoke for an hour and covered almost every subject from the United Nations to birth control to Selma and Bogalusa.

The crowd was estimated at some 600 people; Helm said 5,000.

He promised 125,000 people at a Baton Rouge rally June 4 when "Big John, that's McKeithen, had better go to Europe."

After the Baton Rouge rally the council is sponsoring a train trip to Washington to protest civil rights activities by the government. Helm said $60 would buy a round trip ticket.

The program was concluded with Dr. Edwards explaining the meaning of a cross lighting ceremony held with 15 robed klansmen behind the platform.

Dr. Edwards, the grand dragon, is not the Dr. James M. Edwards of Pineville.

RAU ADDRESSES PARENTS GROUP

Says Catholic Church Is 'Playing Politics'

State Rep. John F. "Jack" Rau of Jefferson Parish Sunday accused the Catholic Church of "playing politics" in working for integration of Negroes into all-white schools and all-white neighborhoods.

"The Negro bloc vote controls the election of the President of the United States," Rau declared. "The Church, by co-operating, can play politics to get federal aid — maybe," he charged.

Rau addressed a meeting sponsored by the Parents and Friends of Catholic Children Inc., in Bud's Flower Room, 5707 St. Claude ave., Sunday afternoon.

'NOT ATTACKING' CHURCH

"It hurts everyone of us here to disagree with our Catholic clergy," Rau stated.

Jack M. Helm, president of Parents and Friends of Catholic Children Inc., stressed that "We are devout and practicing Roman Catholics and we are not attacking Holy Mother Church. We are attacking the hierarchy of the Catholic Church in the Archdiocese of New Orleans," he said.

He said Archbishop John P. Cody was "one man who came down here and did nothing but talk finances."

Referring to the archdiocese's new central fund, Helm said the archbishop "has taken the fun out of raising money by church festivals, little penny parties and things like that."

ASKS ACCOUNTING

Helm said the Catholic Church in Violet, La., had raised some $30,000 through these means, but it all had to be turned over to the archdiocesan fund. "Not satisfied with that $30,000, the archbishop went into the Altar Society and took the few hundred dollars they had."

The Parents and Friends of Catholic Children Inc., asked the archbishop to account for the disposition of funds turned over to him by the churches of the archdiocese. According to Helm the answer was: "Query is rejected."

"Cody's letter of reply said: 'This is not a recognized Catholic organization,'" Helm declared.

"Well, we have news for him," Helm added. "We don't recognize Archbishop Cody."

Mr. APPELL. Were you affiliated with any Klan organization at the time you made that statement?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Helm, did you become an officer or president of that Parents and Friends of Catholic Children, Inc., organization by direction of anyone higher than you in the Klan hierarchy?

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. You seem to have smiled when I asked that question. Is there any reason for it? Do you care to talk about it? I will be glad to hear whatever you have to say.

Mr. HELM. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Helm, if I understand your program correctly, I believe Mr. Appell said you stated in a rally that this committee was not going to be able to destroy your organization, that your organization would continue to exist when we were dead and buried and you hoped it would be soon. I further understand you said in regard to the archbishop that you intend to fire the archbishop and bury the committee.

I don't ask for an answer to that, but I will say this: If this is your attitude, there are forces in this country that have for a long time tried to destroy this committee and the vital function it fulfills for the Congress and the American people, and I would predict if the Ku Klux Klan joins hands with the Communist Party to destroy this committee that you will be unsuccessful in that endeavor.

I note from what I am hearing and reading that such a joining of hands in the vilification and attempted destruction of the functions of this committee would seem to be the purpose of statements such as the one quoted from this rally. I just want you to know that I suspect this shall be unsuccessful.

This is not a question and there is no need to answer.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. I call Mr. Lloyd H. Barnett.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear, sir, that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BARNETT. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF LLOYD H. BARNETT, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, would you state your full name for the record, please?

Mr. BARNETT. Lloyd H. Barnett.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. BARNETT. I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, you are appearing here in connection with the subpoena served upon you on October 26, 1965, at 423 River Oaks Drive, New Orleans, Louisiana?

Mr. BARNETT. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, under the conditions of the subpoena and an attachment thereto, which is made a part of the subpoena, you are called upon in paragraph 1 to produce the following documents:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Louisiana Rescue

Service in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Grant Titan of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask you to produce those documents, sir.

Mr. BARNETT. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. I ask for a direction, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. CHAIRMAN. Is our previous stipulation agreed to as to the significance of this subpoena as it applies to this witness?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. BARNETT. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, under paragraph 2 you are ordered to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past Grand Titan and/or member of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I ask you to produce those documents, sir.

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. On the basis of the stipulation previously made, I order and direct you to produce them.

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, paragraph 3 of your subpoena calls for you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964, filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

I ask for the production of those tax returns.

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, I hand you a reproduction of an application for citizenship in the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and ask you if you have executed a similar application?

MR. BARNETT. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

(Document previously marked "Richard Constantineau Exhibit No. 3.")

MR. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, I hand you a series of oaths of allegiance, obedience, secrecy, and fidelity of the Ku Klux Klan and ask you to review them and state whether or not you have ever subscribed to the oaths set forth in that document?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Document previously marked "Robert Shelton Exhibit No. 4.")

MR. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that as a titan in the Realm of Louisiana that you have jurisdiction of Klan organizational activities in Klaverns within southern Louisiana?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Will you advise the committee of the number of Klaverns organized within your jurisdiction?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Will you advise the committee of the membership of the Klaverns within your jurisdiction?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. As the officer of the United Klans of America in charge of south Louisiana, do you know Jim Roundtree?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Do you know Jimmy Mumphrey?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Do you know Ralph Houston?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Do you know Robert Joseph Fuxan, F-u-x-a-n?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Do you know Jimmy Simon Mumphrey?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, do you know Saxon Farmer?

MR. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Following the meeting of the Klan officials at the Eola Hotel in Natchez, Mississippi, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you played a role in a rally held at Crossroads Community in Mississippi across the line from Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you deliberately, with knowledge, lied to the press when you advised them that there were 4,000 Klansmen in the Bogalusa area?

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. As a matter of fact, isn't it the practice of Klan organizations in certain areas, for whatever influence they conceive it might have, to balloon or exaggerate the number of their members?

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Barnett, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that you do not have 4,000 Klansmen in the entire State of Louisiana?

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that as a matter of organizational procedure you balloon your strength in order to intimidate people into thinking you are a larger and more powerful organization than you are in fact?

Mr. BARNETT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. I call Marvin Curtis Brister.

The CHAIRMAN. You solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BRISTER. I do.

TESTIMONY OF MARVIN CURTIS BRISTER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. BRISTER. Marvin Curtis Brister.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 29th day of October 1965 at the Tioga High School in Tioga, Louisiana?

Mr. BRISTER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. BRISTER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, under the conditions of a subpoena served on you, you were ordered by an attachment, which was made a part of the subpoena, to bring with you and to produce articles called for in paragraph 1 as follows:

All book, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Louisiana Rescue Service in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Grand Titan of Southern Louisiana of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I request you to produce, in your representative capacity stated therein, the documents called for by part 1 of the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. It is stipulated that the significance of the call is for the witness to produce the documents in the capacities stated in this subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. May I inquire of Mr. Appell what was the date of that subpoena?

Mr. APPELL. The date of service was the 29th of October.

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 29, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 29, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and that same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the stipulation made, I order and direct you to produce those documents in the capacities stated in the subpoena.

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Part 2 of the subpoena calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as past or present Grand Titan and/or member of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I request you to produce, in your representative capacity stated therein, the documents called for by this part 2 of your subpoena.

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And pursuant to the stipulation, I order and direct you to produce the documents in those capacities.

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Part 3 of your subpoena calls upon you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," for the calendar years 1958 through 1964, filed by you as an individual taxpayer with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service.

I request you to produce those documents.

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, would you state for the record your educational background?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that you have an M.A. degree from Colorado State College, Fort Collins, Colorado. Will you confirm or deny that fact?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that you hold the position of assistant principal of the Tioga High School, Tioga, Louisiana.

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that you are receiving disability compensation from the United States Government occasioned by retirement from the Army at the rank of major because you suffered from diabetes and that your compensation is $237.19 a month? I ask you to affirm or deny that fact.

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, I hand you a copy of an application for Class B, C, or D license, a form issued by the Federal Communications Commission, dated March 15, 1965, for a Class D license with 10 transmitters. I would like to read in the record before handing it to you and then would like you to verify the accuracy of what I am quoting.

The CHAIRMAN. What are you reading from?

Mr. APPELL. This is a letter which is a part of the application. It is signed by Marvin C. Brister. It reads:

Dear Sirs:

I was certainly unaware that there was to be a detail report as to where each of the transeivers were to be placed.

I expect to place transeivers in the following places:

1. My home—my use, my wife and 2 daughters.
2. My ½ ton pick-up—
3. My Family Car—
4. 2 cars owned by me but driven by my daughters.
5. My sports car—
6. My boat, run about-outboard

All of these will be used by my family and my mother or father or some of my close friends.

The above is in the near future or when I receive my permits. My future plans is for a small house boat, trailer that is use [sic] for hunting trips. A portable would come in handed [sic] on certain types of outings.

I am sorry I have delayed this, by not giving exact placements.

It is signed "Marvin C. Brister."

In handing you this application I ask you if this is the application you filed and if the letter which I read is signed by you and whether or not any of these citizens band transmitters were used by members of the United Klans of America?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "Marvin Brister Exhibit No. 1." See pp. 2600-2603.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, did Mr. Lloyd Barnett replace you as the titan in charge of the United Klans of America organization in Klavern activities in southern Louisiana?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Are you still a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brister, prior to joining the United Klans of America were you a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which was known by the cover name of Christian Constitutional Crusaders?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny, that you wrote checks payable to the Christian Constitutional Crusaders and were a member of that organization?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions of this witness, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Brister, it appears from what has been stated that you have an unusually high education. I ask you what I have asked of many others, if you would care to state in your own way and with language portraying it in your own fashion, the objectives, purposes, and programs of the Ku Klux Klan that impelled you to join the Klan and to become a high official thereof?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. It has been proven in the record that another teacher in a high school, in that case a principal—and I see you are assistant principal in a high school in Louisiana—that in the other case Klan activities and meetings were held in that school. Were any Klan activities and meetings held in your school?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you made talks at Klan rallies or before Klan groups?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you in any way try to indoctrinate in the ways of the Klan any of the pupils in your school?

Mr. BRISTER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

MARVIN BRISTER EXHIBIT NO. 1—Continued

April 19, 1965

Dear Sirs:

I was certainly unaware that there was to be a detail report as to where each of the Transcinnus were to be placed.

I expect to place Transcinnus in the following places:

1. My Home - my use, my wife and 2 daughters.
2. My 1/2 Ton Pick-up-
3. My Family Car-
4. 2 Cars owned by me, but driven by my daughters. all of these will be used by my family and my mother or father or some of my close friends.
5. My sports car -
6. My boat, run about outboard

The above is in the near future or when I receive my permits. My future plans is for a small home boat, trailer that is use for hunting trips. A portable would come in handy on certain types of outings.

I am sorry I have delayed this, by not giving exact placements.

Marvin C. Brister

The CHAIRMAN. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Tommy Frank Reagan.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. REAGAN. I do.

TESTIMONY OF TOMMY FRANK REAGAN, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. REAGAN. Tommy Frank Reagan.

Mr. APPELL. R-e-a-g-a-n?

Mr. REAGAN. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. You are appearing before the committee today in response to a subpoena served upon you on the 26th day of October 1965 at 319 Hickory Street, West Monroe, Louisiana?

Mr. REAGAN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. REAGAN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reagan, the subpoena served upon you and the attachment thereto, which was made a part of that subpoena, called upon you to produce certain documents set forth in paragraph 1 as follows:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Louisiana Rescue Service in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Great Titan of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I request you to produce, in your representative capacity stated therein, the documents called for by part 1 of your subpoena.

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee in a subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask for a direction for the production of the documents called for in paragraph 1 of the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. I assume our previous stipulation stands as to the significance of this subpoena as it applies to this witness?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the stipulation made, I order and direct you to produce those documents in the capacities stated in the subpoena.

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reagan, paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member or Great Titan of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. REAGAN. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Reagan, when were you born?

Mr. REAGAN. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. According to the memorandum before me, it appears you ran for the highest office of your organization in the State of Louisiana and for that reason, since you appear to be quite young, I think the question is completely pertinent and I order and direct you to answer that question.

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reagan, are you a member at the present time of any Klan organization in the United States?

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I notice in your lapel, Mr. Reagan, you have the Klan pin. I ask you if that is worn by a person who is not a member of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. You are proud to wear it, but not to state it.

Mr. REAGAN. Sir—

Mr. CHALMERS. Wait a minute. That was just an observation.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Reagan.

Mr. Reagan was born on July 18, 1939, at West Monroe, Louisiana. He served in the Air Force from 9-13-56 to 10-1-58, and in the Reserve to 12 September 1962. His military specialty was that of a supply helper, and he was honorably discharged, a medical discharge because of a bad back.

Mr. Reagan has a high school education and is currently employed by the Horton Sewing Machine Company on 1200 Cypress Street, West Monroe.

Mr. Reagan has been a member of the United Klans of America, and in August of 1964 he was great titan covering the jurisdiction of northern Louisiana. In September 1964, he was a delegate to the Imperial Klonvokation held at the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama.

On November 7, 1964, his name appears on the signature card of an account opened in the name of the Committee of United Clans of America—and this is spelled with a "C" and not a "K"—at the Central Savings Bank & Trust Company in Monroe, Louisiana, and the cosigner of the account, in addition to Mr. Reagan, is Leon Smudrick, the former exalted cyclops of a Klavern of the United Klans of America known as the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club.

Mr. APPELL. I might point out, Mr. Chairman, in that connection, that the Monroe Hunting and Fishing Club has been a Klavern of the Original Knights under Mr. Young, of the Original Knights under Mr. Martin, and now under the United Klans of America.

On December 6, 1964, following a public rally at the West Monroe fairgrounds, Mr. Reagan, in response to an inquiry about the absence of Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton, reported that Shelton was in Mississippi contacting United Klans of America Klaverns about raising money to defend the individuals arrested by the FBI in the murder of the civil rights workers.

In January of 1965, Mr. Reagan attended meetings of imperial and other officers of the United Klans of America at Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

In March of 1965, Mr. Reagan was a defeated candidate—

The CHAIRMAN. '65 or '64?

Mr. APPELL. '65, sir—for the office of Grand Dragon of the Realm of Louisiana, which is operated under the cover name of the Louisiana Rescue Service.

In March and April 1965, Reagan took judo lessons with other Klansmen in the West Monroe, Louisiana, area.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Reagan possesses additional information which is pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. I might say that I completely agree. If he cares to, he could shed a lot of light, provide a lot of additional facts within his knowledge.

In any case, Mr. Reagan, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator, Mr. Appell, who is under oath just like you are. We want the truth and nothing but the truth. I now give you the opportunity to reply to any portions of that statement, to confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of it. In addition, you may—and I urge you to—offer any other matter which the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, I must tell you, Mr. Reagan, absent your rebuttal, or facts that may come to the attention of the committee, the committee will rely upon the accuracy of the investigation.

Bearing this in mind, do you have anything to say?

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Having attended a school which apparently teaches everything but what appears in the literature of the Klan organization, do you know anything about the actions of the wrecking crews which are part of the activities of the Klan?

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. That is all.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reagan, prior, to the holding of the Imperial Klonvokation at the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel, that hotel distributed to the United Klans of America, who represented itself to the hotel as the Alabama Rescue Service, a printed card by which delegates to the convention, klonvokation, could request reservations. I show you a reproduction of a card stating, "I will be attending the convention of the Alabama Rescue Service," when the party will arrive, when the party plans to depart, and requesting a reservation for four double bedrooms. It is signed "Tommy F. Reagan & Party, 600 No. 7th St., W. Monroe, La." I ask you if you mailed the original of that card to the hotel.

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Will you identify to the committee the other members of your party?

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that as a delegate to that convention or klonvokation you participated in the election of the Imperial Wizard, Robert Shelton; the Imperial Klokard, Robert Collins; the Imperial Kludd, the Reverend Dorsett; the Imperial Kladd, Robert Hudgins; the Imperial Klarogo, Walter Brown; and the Imperial Klexter, Robert Korman.

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, may I have 1 minute?

The CHAIRMAN. The committee will stand in recess for a minute? (Brief recess.)

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reagan, does the Monroe, Louisiana, area of the United Klans of America have a woman's auxiliary which covers its true function by going under the name of the Green Thumb Club?

Mr. REAGAN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further question to ask the witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee will stand in recess until next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

(Whereupon, at 12:30 p.m., Friday, January 7, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Tuesday, January 11, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.
PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities met, pursuant to recess, at 10:10 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; Joe R. Pool, of Texas; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; and Donald T. Appell, chief investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Mr. APPELL, call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to call Mr. John H. Gipson.

Mr. Gipson, would you come up here and take the stand, please?

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you shall give in this session will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. GIPSON. I do.

The CHAIRMAN. Have a seat.

TESTIMONY OF JOHN HUGH GIPSON

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, if you will talk into the microphone I think that the committee will be able to hear you. The acoustics here are rather bad.

Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. GIPSON. John Hugh Gipson.

Mr. APPELL. And that is spelled G-i-p-s-o-n?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside, sir?

Mr. GIPSON. Slidell, Louisiana.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. GIPSON. St. Tammany Parish.

Mr. APPELL. And the month?

Mr. GIPSON. March 24, 1936.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, you are not appearing before the committee this morning with counsel. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. You desire an attorney to accompany you—

The CHAIRMAN. Do you desire to have a lawyer?

Mr. APPELL. —here this morning?

Mr. GIPSON. Sir?

Mr. APPELL. I say, you do not have an attorney with you?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Do you want an attorney?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gipson, you do not have a lawyer. You said you don't want one.

I want you to know that, if you want to, you may invoke the fifth amendment. You don't have to, but if you want to I want you to know that we respect your rights.

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, how far did you go in school?

Mr. GIPSON. I quit school in the seventh grade.

Mr. APPELL. Over the recent years what has been your principal occupation?

Mr. GIPSON. Most of my life I logged, working in the woods.

The CHAIRMAN. Logging?

Mr. GIPSON. Logging.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, have you ever been a member of any Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. When did you join a Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. GIPSON. It was in 1963.

Mr. APPELL. And was this the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And was this the organization that was headed statewide by J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Were you acquainted with dissension which grew up within the Original Knights over finances involving Mr. Swenson and/or Mr. Young?

Mr. GIPSON. I know they had some kind of money squabble, but I don't know too much about it. I was just becoming a member then and I did know they had some squabble over the money.

Mr. APPELL. And you do know that after this money squabble Mr. Young and Mr. Swenson were no longer the leaders of the organization?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. In 1963 when you joined the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, who recruited you into the organization?

Mr. GIPSON. Herbert Gornor.

Mr. APPELL. G-o-r-n-o-r?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. And to what Klavern of the Original Knights were you assigned after you became a member?

Mr. GIPSON. To the Pearl River.

Mr. APPELL. Was this Klavern also known as the Pearl River Hunting and Fishing Club?

Mr. GIPSON. It was.

Mr. APPELL. The first meeting that you attended was held where?

Mr. GIPSON. By Cary Crawford's house; in the house, in fact.

Mr. APPELL. In the house of Cary Crawford?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And he was a member of the Pearl River unit?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Why did you join the Klan? What interested you in the Klan's program which caused you to join?

Mr. GIPSON. Well, at the time I thought it was a pretty good thing the way they explained it to me. It did sound good, but the longer I stayed in and the further I went, I seen that they didn't live up to the oath that they took, because when I went in it was supposed to be no violence. Their fighting was going to be with boycotts and ballots and with economic pressure.

Mr. APPELL. At the time you joined, what was the klectokon, or recruitment fee, which you had to pay to get into the Klan?

Mr. GIPSON. Ten dollars initiation fee; ten dollars for uniform.

Mr. APPELL. This is the robe?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And what were the dues paid by the members within their respective Klaverns?

Mr. GIPSON. Four and a half a quarter. A quarter was 3 months.

Mr. APPELL. At the time you joined the unit, who was the exalted cyclops, or the leader of the Klavern?

Mr. GIPSON. Mr. Rowley.

Mr. APPELL. Is this Mr. Ewell R-o-w-l-e-y?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. What did you know his occupation or profession to be?

Mr. GIPSON. He was principal at the school.

Mr. APPELL. This is the Sixth Ward Junior High School, also known as the Pearl River?

Mr. GIPSON. At the time I went in, he was principal at Pearl River School, but then he got a transfer to Sixth Ward High School.

Mr. APPELL. How long did Mr. Rowley continue to be the exalted cyclops?

Mr. GIPSON. As well as I remember somewhere around 7 to 8 months.

Mr. APPELL. Who replaced Mr. Rowley as the exalted cyclops of the unit?

Mr. GIPSON. Beg pardon?

Mr. APPELL. Who was the next exalted cyclops after Mr. Rowley?

Mr. GIPSON. Nelson Ainsworth.

Mr. APPELL. What business is Mr. Ainsworth in in the Pearl River area?

Mr. GIPSON. He owns the dump trucks, hauling sand and gravel.

Mr. APPELL. Who was the secretary of the Klavern, the man to whom dues were paid and the man who kept notes and records of the meeting?

Mr. GIPSON. Howard Swenson.

Mr. APPELL. And is Howard Swenson employed by a tobacco company as a route salesman working out of Bogalusa?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Who succeeded Nelson Ainsworth as the exalted cyclops of your unit?

Mr. GIPSON. James L. Leslie.

The CHAIRMAN. Will you spell that?

Mr. APPELL. L-e-s-l-i-e.

Is he known in the community by the nickname of Preacher Leslie?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, he is.

Mr. APPELL. Is he currently engaged in the profession of a minister, or does he have some other occupation?

Mr. GIPSON. He is a mechanic.

Mr. APPELL. He is a mechanic now?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know from what origin he gets the nickname of Preacher?

Mr. GIPSON. He was supposed to have been an ordained preacher at one time.

Mr. APPELL. Who was the secretary of the Klavern under James Leslie?

Mr. GIPSON. Clayton Hickey.

Mr. APPELL. C-l-a-y-t-o-n H-i-c-k-e-y?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. And what does Mr. Hickey do?

Mr. GIPSON. He is an iron worker.

Mr. APPELL. Is he presently under some kind of suspension from the Times-Picayune, where he had been employed as a typesetter?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, he is.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, where did this Klavern at the time Mr. Leslie was the exalted cyclops hold some of its meetings?

Mr. GIPSON. Al Bardin's Pine View.

Mr. APPELL. And he owns and operates Pine View Salvage Company?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, within the organizational structure of the Original Knights there is provision made within the Klavern and within the realm level of a body of men known as the wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you familiar with the activities of the wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Were you ever a member of a wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Prior to becoming a member of the wrecking crew did you ever, in consultation with other Klansmen, carry out an act against anyone?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir; one time.

Mr. APPELL. Would you tell the committee in your own words what this act was and what led up to it?

Mr. GIPSON. Well, they had a boy in our community and he was, according to Oscar Anderson, chief KBI.

Mr. APPELL. Oscar Anderson was the chief of the KBI?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir. He said the boy drinks and didn't take care of his family, late out at night, and he needed to be straightened out with a belt.

Mr. APPELL. Did it come about that the opinion of Mr. Anderson, who was the KBI—Klan Bureau of Investigation—man, and a group of Klansmen carried out Mr. Anderson's belief that this man should be handled and taken care of with a belt?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, they did.

Mr. APPELL. Who was this man that was going to be whipped with with a belt?

Mr. GIPSON. Clarence O'Berry.

Mr. APPELL. O-'-B-e-r-r-y?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

The CHAIRMAN. Is that a white boy or a Negro boy?

Mr. GIPSON. He was a white boy.

Mr. APPELL. With respect to the planning and the participants involved in this act, would you, in your own words, tell the committee just what transpired? I first would like to ask you approximately when this planning and the actual beating were carried out.

Mr. GIPSON. The night that he got whipped we had a regular Klan meeting. Oscar Anderson told us that after the meeting he wanted to talk to us. After the meeting he come out, and everybody there were the ones who went.

The CHAIRMAN. Who were they?

Mr. GIPSON. Myself, John Gipson, L. M. Raynor, Harold Brakefield, Herbert Gornor.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you remember about when that was, what month and what year approximately?

Mr. APPELL. Is that approximately July of 1964?

Mr. GIPSON. It is in July sometime.

The CHAIRMAN. 1964?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Continue.

Mr. GIPSON. He said he thought that night would be a good night to get him, but he thought he was laying out in one of them barrooms down there that night. He told us to follow him down to this barroom. We went down and we parked on the side road. He made a loop in front of the barroom and said he seen the boy sitting at the bar, and he was watching the boy. In some kind of way the boy come out and caught a ride.

He said "He must be on his way home." He told us to follow him.

We went up Highway 11, turned off 11 up 41, and he went up the road and passed the boy's road which goes to his house and he was going to watch for the sheriff.

We turned around then, and he come back. Sure enough the boy was about a quarter of a mile from his house. We caught him, drug him off in the woods, Harold Brakefield, Gornor, Oscar Anderson, and L. M. Raynor. They pulled his pants down, and I hit him two or three licks, and Eliot Rand took the belt and he really whipped him. He was whipping him so hard I reached and grabbed his wrist one time and shoved him back.

When we got through we just left him there.

The CHAIRMAN. On the ground?

Mr. GIPSON. On the ground.

Mr. APPELL. Was O'Berry pretty well welted?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, he was in a pretty bad way.

Mr. APPELL. Was there any discussion among the people of getting him medical attention?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir, there wasn't.

Mr. APPELL. He was left there without anyone caring how he was going to get home or whether he was going to get any kind of medical attention?

Mr. GIPSON. That's right.

Mr. APPELL. Was he told by the Klansman why he was being whipped?

Mr. GIPSON. I understood that he had had some warning before that, but I didn't know nothing about that.

Mr. APPELL. But on the night that he was whipped he wasn't told why?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir; nobody talked.

Mr. APPELL. Following this act against Clarence O'Berry, were you formally inducted into a wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. I wasn't at the time O'Berry got whipped, but after that they got them a wrecking crew up and I was sworn in.

Mr. APPELL. Would you describe to the committee the procedures that you went through in order to be inducted into the wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. This guy, Oscar Anderson, told me to come down by his station. He was running a station at that time. He had some men he wanted me to talk with. Whenever I got down there they had two fellows that I didn't know, and never did know. They were supposed to be from northeast Louisiana. They told that there had to be something set up to stop all these smart niggers and things, and that laws was made for something, but sometimes they had to be broken and there had to be some good men to do it. Then they swore in a few of us that night, and we took a different oath than they have in the regular Klavern.

Mr. APPELL. Let me interrupt you there. In the discussion of taking care of people, people that you describe, to what extremes was this group willing to go, or were they told they might have to go, in order to take care of smart Negroes?

Mr. GIPSON. They said it might even come necessary to have to murder somebody.

Mr. APPELL. You testified that you took an oath which was different from the oath administered in a Klavern. Do you remember the context of this oath, or do you remember any part of it which made an impression upon you at the time?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir. One part of it I well remember, the part where "if you reveal any secrecy, ever talk, that you would get your head blown from your shoulders." I well remember that.

Mr. APPELL. Your testimony is that, as part of this oath, it was set forth that a violation of the secrecy of the wrecking crew would result in your head being blown off from your shoulders?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Was there discussion—

The CHAIRMAN. May I first ask a question about the meeting? Were any of you in robes or were you in plain clothes when you administered that oath?

Mr. GIPSON. We had plain clothes, but we had black masks.

The CHAIRMAN. And that was in July of 1964?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. I was going to ask about subsequent events, Mr. Chairman—but this black mask that you wore, did it cover your head so that no one could identify you, so that only the eye slits showed through?

Mr. GIPSON. That's right.

Mr. APPELL. Was there any discussion after the oath as to retaliation against a member of the wrecking crew who might violate any of the secrets of the members of the wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir. They said if a fellow ever talked that they would get him, that they might not get him then, it might be 5 or 10 years later, but he would be gotten.

Mr. POOL. Who said this?

Mr. GIPSON. These two fellas that were supposed to have been from northeast Louisiana.

Mr. POOL. You don't know the names?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir. I never did find their names out. They said that they could get men from somewhere else to do these jobs.

Mr. POOL. Where did they tell you this?

Mr. GIPSON. At Al Bardin's.

Mr. POOL. Anybody else here?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir.

Mr. POOL. You are the only one who talked?

Mr. GIPSON. I misunderstood. I thought you asked did anybody else here hear it. I heard it, Oscar Anderson, Harold Brakefield, L. M. Raynor, Nelson Ainsworth.

Mr. POOL. Did you ever ask who these fellows were?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir; I never did.

Mr. WELTNER. What was your understanding as to what was meant by "they will get you"?

Mr. GIPSON. My understanding was that if anybody ever revealed any of their secrets that they would kill you.

Mr. WELTNER. Was there any question about what they meant by "get you" in your mind?

Mr. GIPSON. Well, I knew what they meant.

Mr. WELTNER. Thank you, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. I want to ask you, and this will be a complete answer,

I think, to Mr. Pool's question—in addition to yourself who on this night took the wrecking crew oath?

Mr. GIPSON. Oscar Anderson, he took it hisself; Harold Brakefield; L. M. Raynor; Louis Singletary.

Mr. APPELL. S-i-n-g-l-e-t-a-r-y?

Mr. GIPSON. Right; Harold Brakefield, Henry Gaines——

The CHAIRMAN. Could you tell us about the ages of those people? Were they about your age? Were some older or some younger than you?

Mr. GIPSON. There was two boys—three boys—pretty close to about my age, and the rest of them was older than me.

The CHAIRMAN. How old would you say?

Mr. GIPSON. I am 29.

The CHAIRMAN. You were then 27?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to those that you have already named, L. M. Raynor, Harold Brakefield, Nelson Ainsworth, and Louis Singletary and Henry Gaines, was a man by the name of Talley, whose first name is Vernon Edgar Talley, another who took the wrecking crew oath at that time?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, he was.

Mr. APPELL. And Henry Clayton Hickey. H-i-c-k-e-y?

Mr. GIPSON. Right; he took the oath, too.

Mr. APPELL. Did the wrecking crew meet and discuss its business as part of the regular Klavern meeting, or did the members of the wrecking crew hold separate, independent meetings?

Mr. GIPSON. They held separate meetings.

Mr. APPELL. Where would these meetings be held—at the residence of different members?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, in the residences.

Mr. APPELL. At whose residences did some of the meetings of this particular group take place?

Mr. GIPSON. Most of the time at Oscar Anderson's house.

Mr. POOL. Was Oscar Anderson the leader of this group?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. He presided at the meetings?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. He gave you instructions?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. He administered the oath? Who administered the oath?

Mr. GIPSON. Them boys that come down from northeast Louisiana, they swore him in as the leader and then he was supposed to lead from there on.

Mr. POOL. They designated him as the leader?

Mr. GIPSON. In other words, they was just starting him out, just like they were supposed to already have been.

Mr. APPELL. After they swore in Oscar Anderson, then Oscar Anderson in turn administered the oath to the local members of the wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. How often did this wrecking crew normally meet?

Mr. GIPSON. They met about once a week.

Mr. APPELL. Did you or other members of the wrecking crew ever travel to places outside of the Pearl River area for the purpose of discussing operations and projects or jobs which the wrecking crew should involve itself in?

Mr. GIPSON. I never did get out of the area of Slidell and Pearl River.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever attend any meetings in Covington?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, I did attend a meeting out there but it was a kind of a State meeting like, State officers mostly.

Mr. APPELL. And not restricted to wrecking crew personnel?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir. But there was a little discussion there I heard on one part of it.

Mr. APPELL. Would you describe this meeting for us and tell us where it was held and approximately when it was held?

Mr. GIPSON. One Sunday morning Oscar Anderson come by my house and told me he had a call to meet with some fellows in Covington. He didn't know who or what was going on.

Mr. APPELL. I interrupt you there, Mr. Gipson. In an interview which you had with me did we establish that the approximate date of this meeting was Sunday, the 25th of July 1965?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. For the record, about how far is Covington from Slidell?

Mr. GIPSON. Must be around about 25 miles.

The CHAIRMAN. About how far is Slidell from Bogalusa, approximately?

Mr. GIPSON. 36 miles roughly.

The CHAIRMAN. And how far is Covington from Bogalusa, approximately?

Mr. GIPSON. About 50 or 60 miles.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. You had told, up to the point of my interruption, that Oscar Anderson had advised you that he had to go to Covington to meet with some fellows. Did you accompany Oscar Anderson to Covington to meet with these fellows?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir. On the way he picked up Al Bardin.

Mr. APPELL. He picked up Al Bardin, whom we discussed previously as the owner of the Pine View Salvage Company?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And the three of you then traveled to Covington?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you have a meeting in Covington?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir. It was a little meeting.

Mr. APPELL. Where was this meeting held?

Mr. GIPSON. At Pete Holden's home.

Mr. APPELL. That is James Holden, Mr. Chairman, who was a witness before the committee last week and refused to testify and invoked his constitutional privileges.

Would you proceed in your own words to describe who was there and what the general discussion of those assembled was?

Mr. GIPSON. S. J. Parker was there; Saxon Farmer.

Mr. APPELL. Is Mr. Parker from Bush?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, from up around Bush.

Mr. APPELL. And Saxon Farmer is from Bogalusa.

Mr. Chairman, I think the record should show that he was a witness before the committee last week and refused to testify on constitutional privileges.

You have mentioned Parker and Farmer.

Mr. GIPSON. And Pete Holden.

Mr. APPELL. In whose house the meeting was held?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes. Oscar Anderson, Al Bardin and myself, Johnnie Gipson.

Mr. APPELL. Was Albert M. Bancks, B-a-n-c-k-s, also there?

Mr. GIPSON. That is right; he was there, too.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I think the record should show that at the time of that meeting Mr. Albert M. Bancks resided at Folsom, Louisiana, but is currently residing at Foxboro, Mississippi.

Will you proceed with the discussions that might have taken place at this meeting that you can recall?

Mr. GIPSON. I heard Oscar Anderson ask Saxon Farmer were they still going through with the plans to burn the churches, and Saxon Farmer told him "yes," that it was going to be done statewide, that they would follow the plans through.

Mr. APPELL. Following that meeting, was there subsequently a meeting of members of the wrecking crew in your area?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Which meeting related itself to the actual burning of churches?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I think in the interview we established that this meeting was held on July 31, the Saturday following the meeting at Pete Holden's house, that it was held at the house of Oscar Anderson; is that true?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Would you tell the committee the discussion that went on at that meeting?

Mr. GIPSON. We met there, and they decided they would wet the buildings down with gas.

Mr. APPELL. What buildings are we talking about?

Mr. GIPSON. The Hartsell Methodist Church, I believe.

Mr. APPELL. Methodist Youth Center, I believe is the technical name.

Mr. GIPSON. Yes.

Mr. POOL. What town?

Mr. GIPSON. In Slidell.

Mr. APPELL. The other was the Providence Baptist Church?

Mr. GIPSON. On Thompson Road.

The CHAIRMAN. Were those churches with white congregations or Negro congregations? Were they colored or white churches?

Mr. GIPSON. They were colored churches. They said they were using them for civil rights meetings. They decided they would wet them down with gas, take four matches, two on each side of a cigarette and wrap a rubber band around them to ignite the gas. That was the trigger.

Mr. APPELL. During the interview, Mr. Gipson, under your guidance and instruction, did we sort of simulate the type of instrument that was used to ignite the gas? I show this to you.

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Is that the kind of torch that they had planned to use?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Describe that torch.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the torch that we manufactured at the guidance of Mr. Gipson is an ordinary cigarette which has four matches attached to it. These are wood matches, not paper matches. They are held in place around the cigarette with a rubber band. The cigarette is ignited and as it burns down it then ignites the matches. The time that the people have to get away depends upon how close or far removed they put the matches to the ignited end of the cigarette.

Mr. POOL. Is that description the way it was?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Was a time set at which the burning of these two churches would take place?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes. It was set on a Monday night.

Mr. APPELL. Is this the Monday which followed the meeting at Oscar Anderson's house on Saturday?

Mr. GIPSON. On Saturday, that is right.

Mr. APPELL. This would then make it on August 2?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir. They figured the best time would be in the morning, which would be Tuesday morning at about 1 o'clock.

The CHAIRMAN. In the afternoon?

Mr. APPELL. A.M.

The CHAIRMAN. In other words, Tuesday at 1 o'clock a.m.

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Just past Monday midnight.

Mr. GIPSON. That is right. They said there wouldn't be too many people stirring at that hour of the night.

Mr. APPELL. On the following Monday night, were these acts carried out?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would you describe in your own words how the rendezvous was established and how the teams were set up to carry out the actual purpose?

Mr. GIPSON. That Monday night we had a regular Klan meeting at James L. Leslie's house.

Mr. APPELL. He was the exalted cyclops of the unit at that time?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. You mentioned the meeting was held on a Monday night. Was this the normal night for a meeting of the Klavern?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir. They had been meeting on Friday nights, but they decided they would change nights.

Mr. APPELL. In order to keep the sheriff's department and the FBI from observing their meetings, they then switched the meeting nights?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Proceed with the meeting and what happened.

Mr. GIPSON. We had a regular meeting—

The CHAIRMAN. By "we," do you mean the wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. By the regular meeting, you mean of the Klavern membership?

Mr. GIPSON. The Klavern meeting and the wrecking crew men were there, too. After the regular meeting, Oscar Anderson said just wait until everybody left, and when everybody left he come around and he asked if everything was ready, and was told yes. He said, "Well, I am going home so I will have an ironclad alibi"——

Mr. APPELL. Let me interrupt you there. Oscar Anderson is the KBI man?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. He is the man who planned the action?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. But instead of going with you to carry out these acts, he is going home so he can have a perfect alibi?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. What is that?

Mr. APPELL. He is going home after planning it and getting the people to do it, so he will have a perfect alibi.

Mr. GIPSON. He doesn't worry about the rest of the guys. So we left and went on about 3 miles and we stopped again. We were going to split up there. So two took the one on Thompson Road.

The CHAIRMAN. I do not want to break into your thoughts, but when you say "we," who are they? You and who else?

Mr. GIPSON. L. M. Raynor and Louis Singletary were going to take the one on Thompson Road, and myself and Clayton Hickey and Ed Talley were going to get the the other one on Shortcut Highway.

Mr. APPELL. That would be the Hartsell Methodist Youth Center?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Continue.

Mr. GIPSON. I had my truck. The other two boys had a car. They were going to let me take my truck home, and I was going to leave it. They were going to pick me up. I had two of these little hand walkie-talkie radios that they use on guard duty around the Klavern. I had me a little story made up. When I went in and put the radios up, I come back out and told them, the two boys I was with, Hickey and Talley, that my wife was crying and begging me not to go, which was the story I just made up, and that I couldn't go. They said, "We understand, but we will take care of it."

Mr. APPELL. To your knowledge and to the public knowledge of people in the community, were the Providence Baptist Church and the Hartsell Methodist Youth Center set fire that night?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir. The next morning I went to work and I heard it on the radio that they were both burned down.

Mr. APPELL. After this burning, did you continue active membership in the Klan?

Mr. GIPSON. After that happened, I knew I couldn't go on with them kind of things, and I slacked off. I got on the side with the law officials, and they advised and asked me would I get back in the groove and go back to the regular meetings so I could help stop that kind of things, and I did.

(At this point Representative Senner entered the hearing room.)

The CHAIRMAN. What law officials?

Mr. GIPSON. Mr. Broom.

The CHAIRMAN. Who is he?

Mr. GIPSON. Sheriff Broom of St. Tammany Parish.

The CHAIRMAN. It was by arrangement of your sheriff that you appear here today? Is that right, as far as you know? I am telling you it is.

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. You said you were engaged in logging operations. I think even yesterday you were logging; were you not?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Through your sheriff you asked two things of the committee. One, that your expenses be paid and, second, that you be afforded police protection while you were in Washington; is that correct?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I have afforded you that, and I direct the police to continue that watch.

By the way, there was discussion about your protection when you went back home. The sheriff said he would take care of that. I congratulate him.

Mr. GIPSON. He is a fine fellow.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, on January 5, 1966, did you then leave the Klan and become a witness for the State in a prosecution of fellow Klansmen who carried out the whipping of Clarence O'Berry?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, I did.

Mr. POOL. I did not get the last question, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. I asked whether or not the witness on January 5, 1966, became a witness in a trial growing out of the whipping of Clarence O'Berry.

It was with your taking the witness stand in that case that you severed your Klan connections, which immediately prior thereto you were carrying out at the request of Sheriff Broom of St. Tammany Parish?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I do not know whether you possess knowledge but I shall ask: In October 1965 there was a fire in the Sixth Ward near Hickory occasioned by threats brought against the builder of the property because he was using Negro help in finishing cement or concrete. The first threat of burning of the lumber that was being used in construction was the hanging of a doll by its neck to simulate a hanging. Do you possess knowledge of that?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. You talked about walkie-talkies that you had taken from the Klavern meeting on the night of August 2 and left at your home. What use does the Klan make of walkie-talkie radios?

Mr. GIPSON. In case anybody starts in, they can be notified inside to disband and stop their business.

Mr. APPELL. Therefore, a man outside has a walkie-talkie and someone inside—

Mr. GIPSON. They have one inside. Sometimes they might have two or three more outside. Like if the building is back off the road, there will be one away out by the road and maybe one about the middle ways, and then one pretty close by the house.

Mr. APPELL. Is it your knowledge that within the operation of the Klan, members use very extensively citizens band radios in their automobiles for the purpose of carrying out Klan activities?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, they do. They use everything they can arrange and scrape to do it. They get every channel they can.

Mr. APPELL. Even though their authority might be for a certain channel, they do not remain within the regulations of the Federal Communications Commission?

Mr. GIPSON. I don't think they do.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, were you defended by the same counsel that defended the defendants in that case?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir. I had my own separate lawyer.

Mr. APPELL. What was the quotation of expense to the Klan for the defense of the Klan defendants in that trial?

Mr. GIPSON. I understood the amount would be around $9,000. I got to figuring I might be getting took and that I wasn't going to take that lawyer because it is kinda hard for me, raising a family and the kind of work I am doing, to get up that kind of money. I was afraid I might wind up with a suit for that $9,000. I decided I would just have me another lawyer.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know how the Klan raised the necessary legal fees that they had to pay to defend the Klansmen in that trial?

Mr. GIPSON. They raffled off a bull and they gave turkey shoots. Whenever they had a rally they would take up a collection. Stuff like that.

Mr. APPELL. Prior to going to trial, was there discussion among the people as to what they felt their chances might be during the trial, whether they were going to be acquitted or whether they were going to be found guilty?

Mr. GIPSON. They said unless somebody pimped, there wouldn't be a conviction.

Mr. APPELL. They were convicted, were they not?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, they were.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, I have one more question to ask of you. I would like you in your own words to say why you joined the Klan and why you agreed to render assistance to Sheriff Broom of St. Tammany Parish, and therefore technically leave the Klan.

Mr. GIPSON. At the time I joined, I figured it was a pretty good thing that they had going, and I figured something might be accomplished by it, but as I stayed in and seen these things happen and they kept getting worse and worse, I knew it could not go on for me. You can't do them kind of things and get by the law like that. I just had to go the right way.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gipson, I suppose it was because of people like Preacher Leslie and High School Principal Rowley—it was because of people of that prominence in the community who talked to you, people of that type who led you to believe this was a good organization.

Mr. GIPSON. Yes. When I first went in, there was a lot of fellows in it, and they were what I call upstanding men. And then they started dropping out.

The CHAIRMAN. They are dropping out some more now?

Mr. GIPSON. They are dropping out. It is boiling down to just a bunch of—

The CHAIRMAN. Say it.

Mr. GIPSON. The way I would describe it would be renegades. Right now I feel my life ain't worth two cents to me. I figure my family—they might even go through them to get me.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you afraid? You are doing a courageous thing.

Mr. GIPSON. I am trying to right a wrong and help the cause of the country. I feel I am supposed to do it. I am not scared of them. I am scared of the law. I am not scared of them.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you find there are other people who are learning the truth and that they do not have that fear any more and are willing to come out and stand up for law and order?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. That is what is going on in your area?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, that is right.

The CHAIRMAN. I hope this will be an example for others to do what you are doing today. I hope and express confidence that that will come about.

Mr. APPELL. With respect to the wrecking crew, are you acquainted with the constitution which provided that there should be a formal organization within the Klan known as the wrecking crew?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. The wrecking crew of which you were a member was an official Klan group; is that right?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. The members of the Klavern all knew there was such a thing as a wrecking crew which was authorized by the Klavern?

Mr. GIPSON. They pretty well knew there was a wrecking crew, but they couldn't pinpoint them out.

Mr. POOL. They knew there was such an organization within the Klavern itself?

Mr. GIPSON. I think they did.

The CHAIRMAN. But the whole idea of the Klan is that the wrecking crew itself be kept secret?

Mr. GIPSON. Be kept secret, right.

The CHAIRMAN. One more thing in addition to my reference to possible influence on you of Preacher Leslie and the high school principal. I have before me literature on this general subject, literature of the Klan, which reads: "To be read and reread until thoroughly understood by all officers and members." Also, it should be used as background material for discussions and lectures at local and unit meetings. I will read only one example: "The purpose and function of this organization is to preserve Christian Civilization."

That is the kind of thing they preach—Christianity, patriotism, love of country, anticommunism, and all the rest, in addition, of course, to hatred in matters involving racial relations. That is the kind of stuff they preach.

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir, that is right.

The CHAIRMAN. Do they practice what they preach?

Mr. GIPSON. No, sir, they don't.

The CHAIRMAN. Of course, burning churches and things of that nature are, to say the least, un-Christian; isn't that correct?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gipson, returning to Ewell Rowley, the high school principal, do you possess knowledge as to why he gave up the position of exalted cyclops and what rank within the Klan he assumed?

Mr. GIPSON. One of his reasons was that it was going to interfere with his job being principal of the school, and then the next reason was when this O'Berry boy got whipped, I don't believe it was brought before him and cleared before him. He realized he couldn't have no control over the men, and I think he thought it was best for him to drop out.

Mr. APPELL. Drop the position of exalted cyclops?

Mr. GIPSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Did he continue a membership of some kind?

Mr. GIPSON. Then he became an honorary member. Actually, he is not attending no meetings.

Mr. APPELL. Some constitutions of the Klan, if not your Klan, provide for secret members. Would you put him in this category?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. When you said difficulty with respect to his position of principal, were you inferring that he might lose his position? Is that the type of difficulty you referred to?

Mr. GIPSON. Yes. He felt it would cause him to lose his job.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has not further questions of this witness.

Mr. POOL. I just want to compliment the witness for being a very brave man to come here and testify in view of the fact that there is a chance that somebody might try to harm you or your family. I want to point out to you that this committee has had similar things in the investigation of communism. We have had witnesses come and point out people who are Communists and trying to infiltrate industry and things like that. You have the same thing going on in other areas, where you have extreme groups trying to preach violence. I assure you, after these people have been named here this morning, I do not think anyone is going to try to harm you, but if they do, this committee should be notified, the chairman should be notified, and we will take action immediately.

The CHAIRMAN. There is a very severe law to the effect if anyone who takes the stand either before a court or before a committee is subjected to attempts at intimidation or recrimination or violence or threats, that is a severe thing under the law, and the law is there to punish those people. If any such thing happens, let me know. I will bet 10 to 1 no such thing is going to happen. This threat and this preachment that a wrecking crew member's talking would result in his neck being severed from his body and that members of his family will be hurt—that is just so much talk to intimidate and put the members themselves in fear. The more like you who are brave like you and talk, the less and less such a thing will happen. I would bet nothing is going to happen to you. You are protected here, and I am sure your good sheriff will protect you back home.

Mr. POOL. The Federal Government itself will become a pretty good wrecking crew if those people do try anything like that.

Mr. GIPSON. The judge I think understands that, too. I glory in his spunk. He flat laid the cards on the table.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I should like to join in the statement of the Chair and of the members of the committee in commending this witness for his courage. I know courage in New York City, Buffalo, and Atlanta is one thing. Courage in Slidell, Louisiana, is another thing. I have developed an intense admiration for you since you have been here. I simply want to add this one point, Mr. Gipson. The literature which we have in the record of these hearings is quite clear that the Klan realizes that its power is in the secrecy of its membership. What power the Klan has, I think it is becoming clear, depends upon the secrecy of that membership. In recent weeks, substantial changes have come about in the maintenance of that secrecy. The action of the Federal court which resulted in the submission to that court of the membership list of the Klan of Bogalusa and of the Anti-Communist Christian Association is one thing. The very fine investigation conducted by the staff of this committee is another. The fact of the matter is, Mr. Gipson, there is no secrecy of membership within the area concerning which you testified. The Federal court knows who the Klansmen are; this committee knows who the Klansmen are; the Federal Bureau of Investigation knows who the Klansmen are. So far as your concern about the danger which exists by virtue of your testimony here today to you and your family, take some heart in the fact that the agencies of the Government, both the legislative branch through this committee and the executive branch through the FBI and the judicial branch through the court in New Orleans, know exactly who it might be on the other end of that telephone when you receive a threatening call. They know exactly what group it might be that sets out some kind of intimidation or harassment of you or your family. We know, and we are determined, so far as it is within our power, speaking for the Federal Government, all branches, to protect you and your family.

The power of the Klan is the secrecy of its membership and that power has been vastly diluted and abated in recent weeks, and it will continue to dwindle because the facts are coming in and the facts will be available through people such as yourself.

Mr. POOL. I think we will have more people come forth with statements like Mr. Gipson's and further expose the Klan. Don't you agree?

Mr. WELTNER. I am certainly hopeful that the example which Mr. Gipson has set here will stimulate others to consider what is their duty as Americans as well as their duty as Christians.

Mr. GIPSON. I hope so myself. I can see it is beginning to weaken now. I know in our area it is weakened now.

Mr. WELTNER. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gipson, I want to read from the Federal law I just mentioned a while ago. Among other acts which this law makes unlawful—it states:

Whoever injures any party or witness in his person or property on account of his attending or having attended such proceeding, inquiry, or investigation, or on account of his testifying or having testified to any matter pending therein; or

Shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

The record will show that you have appeared, have been sworn, and have testified, and you have the protection of this law.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Gipson, I cannot tell you how much I admire your courage. In the last analysis, a nation is only as strong as the people who make it up, and I think you are demonstrating yourself today before this committee to be a part of the hope of our Republic, and I appreciate it.

One of the ideas which was perpetrated by the Klan organization was that they are fighters against communism. May I say, sir, that people like you, who are determined to uphold the law and attempt to do what is right, are this Nation's strength in the struggle against world communism, and those who perpetrate acts of violence and terrorism, who take the law into their own hands, serve well the Communist cause. As far as I am concerned, you here today are taking your stand as a patriot doing what is right, and people like you are the people who are really going to win the battle against communism.

I want to thank you for your testimony.

The CHAIRMAN. The committee will stand in recess until 2:30 this afternoon.

(Members present at time of recess: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan, of the subcommittee, and also Representative Senner.)

(Whereupon, at 11:25 a.m., Tuesday, January 11, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 2:30 p.m. the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 2:30 p.m., Hon. Edwin E. Willis, chairman, presiding.)

(Members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, Ashbrook, and Buchanan, of the subcommittee, and also Representative Senner.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Call the first witness.

Mr. APPELL. George Gill Harris, Jr.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HARRIS. I do.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

TESTIMONY OF GEORGE GILL HARRIS, JR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, will you identify yourself for the record, please?

Mr. HARRIS. George Gill Harris, Jr.

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, may I state at this time his subpoena only reads "George Gil Harris." I would consent to any amendment to this subpoena by the chairman since he has identified himself as George Gill Harris, Jr. He informs me that it is G-i-l-l, rather than one "l."

The CHAIRMAN. In view of the self-identification by the witness as the person served and the statement of counsel, the subpoena will be technically corrected to conform to his true name.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, are you appearing here in accordance with the subpoena, which has now been technically amended, served upon you at Fourth Street, Bernice, Louisiana, on the 27th day of October 1965?

Mr. HARRIS. Yes.

Mr. CHALMERS. Speak up for the record.

Mr. HARRIS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. HARRIS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, the subpoena served upon you contained in the attachment thereto, which was made a part of the subpoena, under the conditions of the subpoena you were called upon to produce, to bring with you and to produce documents described in the attachment, paragraph 1 of which reads as follows:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Louisiana Rescue Service, Bernice Sportsman Club in your possession, custody and control, or maintained by you or available to you as Kligrapp or Secretary of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Harris, I request you to produce in your representative capacity stated therein the documents called for by part 1 of the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Is it stipulated that the subpoena served upon him orders him to produce the documents therein referred to in the capacity stated therein?

Mr. CHALMERS. As stated in the subpoena; yes, sir, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subcommittee's investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is any such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by the rules adopted by the Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, before asking a direction of the Chair, I would like to ask you, have you been apprised of the statement the chairman issued in October at the start of these hearings which set forth the purpose of the hearings and the other pertinent facts with respect thereto?

Mr. CHALMERS. I will stipulate that he has, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I now ask that the witness be directed to produce those documents called for in paragraph 1. I ask for direction of paragraph 1.

The CHAIRMAN. The reasons you have given for your refusal to produce the documents called for by this part of the subpoena do not legally justify your refusal. Therefore, those reasons are rejected. Accordingly, I order and direct you to produce the documents in the representative capacity as stated by Mr. Appell and in this subpoena.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the records—grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, paragraph 2 of the attachment to the subpoena calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody and control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past Kligrapp and/or member of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

The CHAIRMAN. Is the same stipulation with reference to his representative capacity entered into?

Mr. CHALMERS. As stated in the subpoena; yes, sir, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, I request you to produce in your representative capacity stated therein the documents called for in paragraph 2 of the subpoena.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons previously indicated, I direct you to produce the documents called for in the representative capacity stated in the subpoena.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, paragraph 3 calls upon you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1120, "U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return," for the fiscal years 1961 through June 30, 1965, filed by you as Kligrapp.

I request you to produce in the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 3 the documents called for.

The CHAIRMAN. The same stipulation?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons previously stated, I order and direct you to produce those documents in the capacity stated.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that as secretary of the Bernice Sportsman Club, Box 57, Bernice, Louisiana, and as secretary of the Louisiana Rescue Service, Box 57, Bernice, Louisiana, you filed in the case of Bernice [Sportsman Club] on August 17, 1965, and on August 18 in the case of the Louisiana Rescue Service, Forms 1120, U.S. corporate income tax return for the two organizations that I have mentioned to you.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. In support of the tax returns which you filed, do you have in your possession financial books and records upon which these returns were based?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by the amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Have any records upon which the two returns were based been destroyed since the filing of the corporate returns mentioned on August 17 and 18, 1965?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like the record to reflect that the "Constitution and Laws" of the United Klans of America, Incorporated, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, adopted in Imperial Klonscilium at Birmingham, Alabama, in September 1964, set forth certain documents to be received by the grand kligrapp of a realm and prescribes the kligrapp of the realm as an officer of the organization.

Mr. HARRIS, when and where were you born?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Have you been an officer of the Bernice Sportsman Club since January of 1964?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Harris.

George Gill, spelled with two "l's," Harris, Jr., was born January 16, 1922, at Haynesville, Louisiana. He resides at Bernice, Louisiana, where he operates Harris' 5 and 10, a variety store. He served in the Army from September 24, 1942, to April 24, 1946, and in the Enlisted Reserve Corps until April 23, 1949. His military specialty was telephone lineman, repairman, and repeaterman. At the time of entry into the Army he claimed 1 year of college.

Harris has been a member of the Klan since at least January 1964. He has been an official of the Klavern known under the cover name Bernice Sportsman Club since January of 1964. This Klavern was affiliated with the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young. It became affiliated with the United Klans of America around April 1964 and became part of Louisiana Realm of that organization, which uses as its cover name the Louisiana Rescue Service.

Harris is currently realm kligrapp or secretary. In this position he receives monthly reports from each Klavern within the realm. He receives all funds due to the realm which he turns over to the realm treasurer. As secretary he possesses the identities of all Klavern kligrapps or secretaries as well as exalted cyclops.

On May 15-16, 1965, Harris attended a meeting of imperial officers and other Klan officials at Natchez, Mississippi.

Mr. Harris, the records of the Bank of Bernice, Bernice, Louisiana, covering the name of the Bernice Sportsman Club, handled both the funds of the realm and the funds of the Klavern. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that prior to the committee's inquiry or announcement of inquiry into the Klan, the Bernice Sportsman Club paid imperial tax on 97 members and by July of 1965 it was paying imperial tax on 25 members.

The CHAIRMAN. Before answering this question, Mr. Harris, I wish to say this to you: You have heard the sworn statement just made by the committee's investigator, Mr. Don Appell. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement outlining your activities, to confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of that statement.

In addition you have the right, if you desire, to offer any other matters that the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Harris, I must inform you that in the absence of your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. With that in mind, do you have anything else to say, or anything to say?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, I think for the record there is still one question that Mr. Appell asked that the witness has not replied to yet. If we—

The CHAIRMAN. You may now respond to the pending question.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, as the grand kligrapp of the Realm of Louisiana, which operates a little differently than most UKA realms operate, in that imperial per capita tax, until some new Klaverns came under your jurisdiction recently, you collected the imperial tax and transmitted it on to the imperial office in Tuscaloosa. Therefore, you possess knowledge of the identity of UKA Klaverns within the State of Louisiana.

An examination of deposit slips reflects that prior to August 6, 1965, when the account in the name of the Bernice Sportsman Club was closed out and a new account was opened in the name of the Louisiana Rescue Service, there were these Klaverns in existence.

After I read you the names of the Klaverns, I would like to ask you whether or not all of the Klaverns that I mentioned to you are still in operation.

The Bernice Sportsman Club, Calhoun Businessmen's Association, C. B. Riding Club, Chatham Hunting and Fishing Club, Dubach, as we interpret the deposit slip—Mr. Chairman, D-u-b-a-c-h—Hunting and Fishing Club, the Dugdemonice Hunting Club, the Farmville Hunting and Fishing Club, the Jackson Parish Gun and Rod Club, the Marion Hunting and Fishing Club, the MOG—M-O-G, I don't know whether that is an abbreviation—Junction City Sportsman Club, the Okeloosa Hunting Club, the Ouachita Parish Hunting and Fishing Club, the Sterlington Hunting and Fishing Club #8, the Taylortown Hunting Club, Union Hunting and Fishing Club, Ward 10 Hunting Club.

Are they still in existence?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "George Harris Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, does the Realm of Louisiana have a Klavern in Kenner, Louisiana?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, on August 27, 1965, Charles L. Miller of 2512 Airline Highway wrote a check or obtained a money order from the Merchants Trust and Savings Bank in Kenner, Louisiana, payable to the United Klans of America in the amount of $30. Purpose for which drawn, copies of the Klan publication, the Fiery Cross.

This is according to deposits made to the account of the Alabama Rescue Service as obtained through a subpoena duces tecum from The First National Bank of Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Do you know Charles L. Miller?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Check marked "George Harris Exhibit No. 2" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, you can help the committee understand something that confuses it. There is maintained in Bogalusa, Louisiana, an account in the name of the United Conservatives of Mississippi, No. 1. The signature to this account is B. L. Sellers. Is this a Klavern within the Realm of Louisiana or the Louisiana Rescue Service or a Klavern in Mississippi affiliated with the Realm of Mississippi known as the Mississippi Rescue Service?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "George Harris Exhibit No. 3" appear on p. 2632.)

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell, let me talk to you a minute.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I think the record should reflect that the checks drawn against the account of the United Conservatives of Mississippi, No. 1, are deposited to the official account of the United Klans of America, which is maintained under the name of the Alabama Rescue Service.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that on 11-22-1965 you were the cosigner of a check drawn against the Louisiana Rescue Service in the amount of $185 payable to the Alabama Rescue Service and that this check represents the imperial tax on only 370 members, which is the bulk of your membership in the State of Louisiana.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, do you have a women's auxiliary in Monroe, Louisiana, which makes payments to the imperial account from an account known as the Green Thumb Club?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harris, much is said by Dr. Edwards, the Grand Dragon of the Realm of Louisiana, about the United Klans of America and the Louisiana Realm not endorsing violence. On September 4, 1964, a check was written to Tom Whitehead, an exalted cyclops of a Klavern in Georgia, who was collecting money from Klaverns throughout the United States, the total sum of which was to go for the defense of the United Klansmen arrested in the murder of Lieutenant Colonel Lemuel Penn. Can you explain this check to Tom Whitehead in the light of your announced nonviolent position?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Check marked "George Harris Exhibit No. 5." See report, p. 121.)

Mr. APPELL. On March 20, 1965, a check was drawn payable to "E. L. McDaniels," the Grand Dragon of Mississippi, in the amount of $20 for a defense fund. Can you tell the committee what defense this was?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Check marked "George Harris Exhibit No. 6" appears on p. 2634.)

Mr. APPELL. Do you know whether or not it related to the defense of any United Klansman involved in violence?

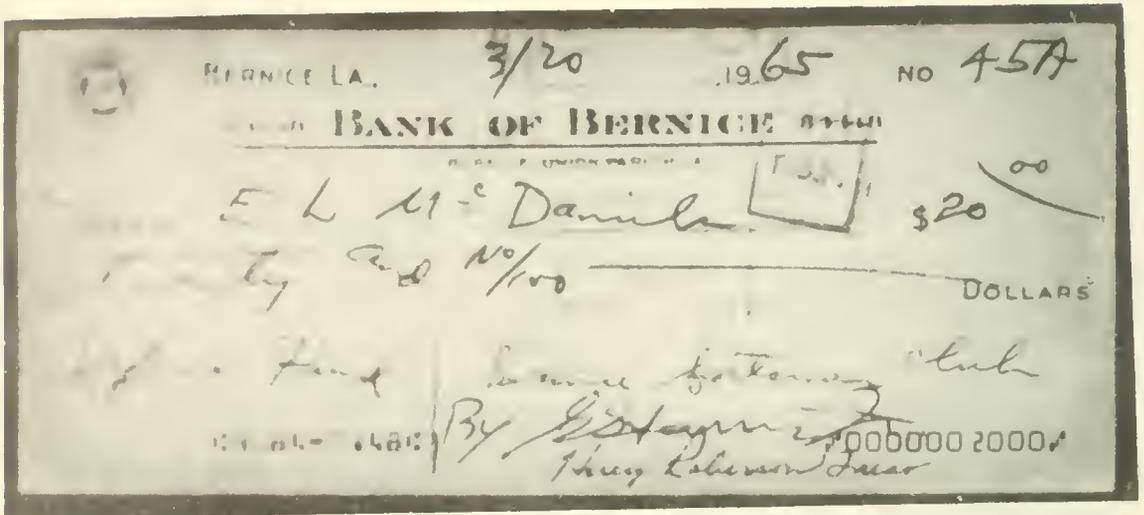

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Could it have been funds collected by the United Klans of America to help defray expenses for those people who were arrested following the murder of the three civil rights workers?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. Harris.

GEORGE HARRIS EXHIBIT NO. 6

The CHAIRMAN. Questions?

Mr. POOL. Mr. Harris, were you in the audience when the previous witness testified, Mr. Gipson?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Gipson came before this committee to testify very bravely. One of the things he said was that he wanted to right the wrong that he had done.

You don't care to absolve your conscience in any way before this committee?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. I want to point out one other thing in the testimony which has come to us here during the testimony. The word "conservative" is used to hide the front of the Ku Klux Klan. It is a fraud and a disgrace to the philosophy for which the word "conservative" stands. The fact that the Communists have come before this committee and used the name of labor is a disgrace and a fraud on respectful, decent, God-fearing, patriotic Americans who belong to organized labor.

Let him answer if he wants to, with your advice.

Mr. CHALMERS. There is no question.

Mr. POOL. Do you have any comments, then?

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. The way this thing is going, maybe within 6 months or a year, you may wish you had answered differently. You may wish that you had been brave enough to come before this committee and absolve your conscience. I am talking about back home, back in Louisiana. The people in the South will not put up with this kind of philosophy of hate and violence and the things that are coming out now, and they will come out faster as this thing progresses.

We are giving you a chance right now to do this.

Mr. HARRIS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. That is all.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Bobby Gene Kelley.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. KELLEY. I do.

TESTIMONY OF BOBBY GENE KELLEY, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kelley, state your full name for the record, please.

Mr. KELLEY. Bobby Gene Kelley.

Mr. APPELL. B-o-b-b-y G-e-n-e K-e-l-l-e-y?

Mr. KELLEY. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kelley, are you appearing before the committee today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 27th day of October 1965 at Route 1, Box 227, Bernice, Louisiana?

Mr. KELLEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. KELLEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kelley, under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you, and attachment which was made part of that subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and to produce documents described in four parts of the subpoena.

Part 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Louisiana Rescue Service and/or Bernice Sportsman Club in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as State Treasurer of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I request you to produce in your representative capacity stated therein the documents called for in part 1 of your subpoena.

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, before we ask for the stipulation, and I ask for an order of direction, I desire to ask the witness whether or not he was advised of the opening statement of the Chair made in October 1965, which set forth the purposes for which these series of hearings were being held.

Mr. CHALMERS. It is stipulated, Mr. Chairman, that he has been so advised.

The CHAIRMAN. Is it stipulated that the subpoena directs him to produce documents in the capacities recited in the subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Witness, the reasons you have given for refusal to produce the documents called for by this part of the subpoena do not legally justify your refusal or rejection. I therefore order and direct you to produce those documents in the representative capacity stated.

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kelley, part 2 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past State Treasurer of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I request you to produce in the representative capacity stated therein the documents called for in part 2 of the subpoena.

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask the witness be directed to produce those documents.

The CHAIRMAN. Because of the reasons stated and pursuant to the stipulation made I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kelley, I hand you a copy, a reproduced copy of a canceled check dated September 27, 1965, payable to G. G. Harris, Jr., in the sum of $25. This is drawn against the Bank of Bernice, Bernice, Louisiana. The maker of the check is the Louisiana Rescue Service, and the cosigners to the account are G. G. Harris, Jr., secretary, and Bobby G. Kelley, treasurer.

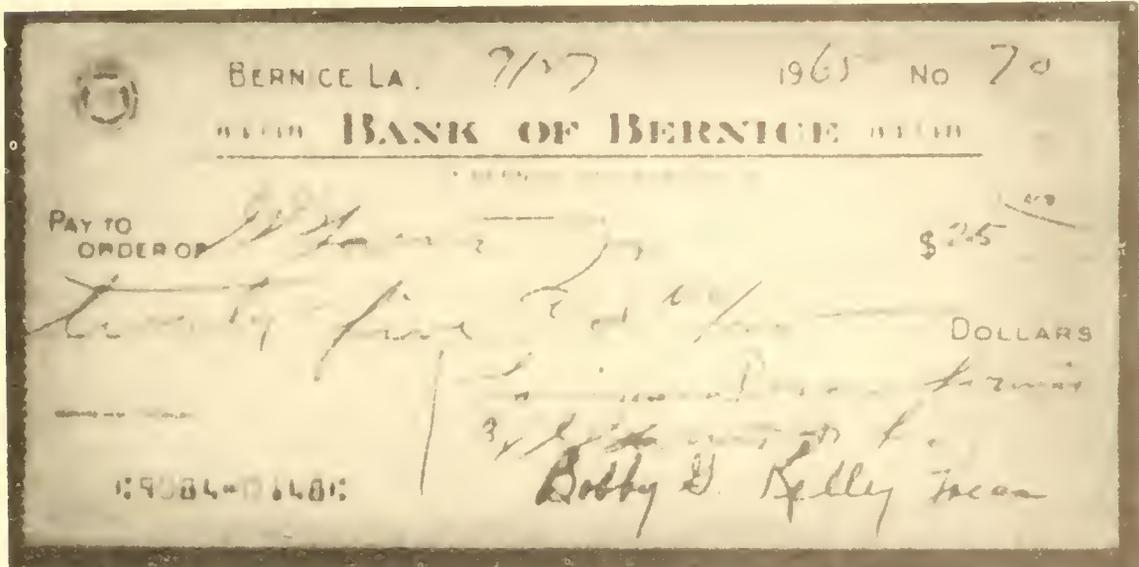

I hand you this and put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the Bobby G. Kelley shown on this canceled check as treasurer of the Louisiana Rescue Service.

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

(Document marked "Bobby Kelley Exhibit No. 1" follows:)

BOBBY KELLEY EXHIBIT NO. 1

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kelley, when and where were you born?

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Kelley.

Bobby Gene Kelley was born on October 3, 1932, at Bernice, Louisiana. He has a high school education. He served in the United States Navy from December 1951 to December 1955 and received an honorable discharge.

He resides at Route 2, Bernice, Louisiana, and is employed by the Lion Oil Company, El Dorado, Arkansas, where he is a foreman in the print shop.

Bobby Gene Kelley became a Klan official in 1965 when he replaced Mr. Roberson on the signature card in the account of the Klavern maintained at the Bank of Bernice. This Klavern uses the cover name of the Bernice Sportsman Club.

At the time, the Bernice Sportsman Club was affiliated with the Realm of Louisiana of the United Klans of America, Inc., which realm is known by the cover name of the Louisiana Rescue Service.

In March 1965 Kelley was elected realm klabee, or treasurer.

As klabee, Kelley is responsible for payment of bills and other obligations. Many Klaverns in Louisiana make payments to the realm, of both realm and imperial per capita tax. Thus Kelley paid the United Klans of America through its cover name, the Alabama Rescue Service, $185 in November, which under present requirements of 50 cents per member means the realm's per capita tax was upon 370 members.

At the time of the committee's announcements of the Klan probe, the Klan was paying imperial tax on 872 members.

In addition to payments of its officials, the klavern or realm, both of whom process their funds through the Bernice Sportsman Club, made a payment on September 4, 1964, to Tom Whitehead, a United Klans of America exalted cyclops in Georgia. At the time Tom Whitehead was handling defense funds for the Klansmen involved in the murder of Lieutenant Colonel Lemuel Penn. On March 20, 1965, a check in the amount of $20 was paid to the Grand Dragon for Mississippi of the United Klans of America, E. L. McDaniel. This check drawn against the Bernice Sportsman Club shows the purpose for which drawn as "Defense Fund." (George Harris Exhibits Nos. 5 and 6.)

On June 12, 1965, Kelley was one of the participants in a caravan of the United Klans of America through the streets of Natchez, Mississippi.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Kelley possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry, and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Kelley, you have heard the statement of Mr. Appell, our chief investigator, who is under oath just as you are.

You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to confirm or challenge the accuracy of any information, or to explain any part of it.

In addition you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In view of which, Mr. Kelley, I must inform you that absent your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

In light of that do you have anything to say?

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Kelley, are you willing and prepared to give to the committee knowledge which you possess as an officer and the grand klabee of the Realm of Louisiana as it relates to the operations of the Ku Klux Klan, United Klans of America, within the State of Louisiana?

Mr. KELLEY. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. Questions?

Mr. WELTNER. I have no questions, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. James Malcolm Edwards.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. EDWARDS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES MALCOLM EDWARDS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, I represent to you as facts the following: During the Christmas recess you phoned me at my home in St. Martinville, Louisiana. You were in a rather belligerent mood. The following conversation ensued:

You said: "What the hell is your staff doing summoning me to appear on a certain date and then postponing the date of appearance?"

I said: "Doctor," because you represented yourself as a doctor, "I don't attend to these details, but I think you will find out that the staff knows what it is doing."

"Furthermore," I said, "you will have an opportunity to say all you want to say when you do appear."

Then I added "By the way, do you intend to testify and speak on the witness stand?"

I ask you to affirm or deny these facts.

Mr. CHALMERS. May I approach the bench?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Before you respond to my question as to whether you would appear to testify, you did not respond, and that ended the conversation.

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, we called you to the stand under your name. Would you now place your name in the record, please?

Mr. EDWARDS. James Malcolm Edwards.

Mr. APPELL. M-a-l-c-o-l-m, and there is an "s" on the name E-d-w-a-r-d-s?

Mr. EDWARDS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you popularly known as doctor?

Mr. CHALMERS. It is stipulated that he is called doctor.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you ask him his name and date of birth?

Mr. APPELL. We have his name at this stage, sir.

Mr. Edwards, are you appearing before the committee today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 27th day of October 1965 at 426 Sixth Street, Jonesboro, Louisiana?

Mr. EDWARDS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. EDWARDS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, under the conditions of the subpoena and attachment thereto which is made part of the subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and produce documents outlined in paragraph 1 as follows:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Louisiana Rescue Service or any other Ku Klux organization in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Grand Dragon of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I request you in the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1 to produce the documents called for.

Mr. CHALMERS. The same stipulation, Mr. Chairman, that we have heretofore entered into with respect to other witnesses—the contents of the chairman's opening statement have been made available to him.

Mr. APPELL. I ask that the witness be directed to answer the question, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. He has not responded.

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed—

Mr. CHALMERS. There is one other one.

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee in the subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in its consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask the witness be directed to produce those documents called for in paragraph 1.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, the reasons you have given for refusal to produce the documents called for by this part of the subpoena do not legally justify your refusal and they are rejected. I therefore order and direct you to produce those documents, in your capacity stated in the subpoena.

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past Grand Dragon and/or member of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask the witness be directed to produce those documents called for in paragraph 2.

The CHAIRMAN. For the reasons stated, and the stipulations made, you are ordered and directed to produce those documents.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents commanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are currently the Grand Dragon for the Realm of Louisiana, which operates under cover name of the Louisiana Rescue Service.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in the violation of my rights as guaranteed by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, Section 6 [Article XVI] of the "Constitution and Laws" of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, adopted in Imperial Kloucilium at Birmingham, Alabama, in September 1964 (Robert Shelton Exhibit No. 3¹) provides that each realm shall have officers.

I read you the officers of the realm as set forth in the constitution and at the conclusion I shall ask you to identify the holder of each office as set forth in the constitution :

The officers of A Realm shall be a Grand Dragon, who shall be President of the Klorero; he shall be elected by the Realm for a term of three years, and shall govern his Realm in a manner not inconsistent with this Constitution, or the instructions and directions of his Imperial Klaliff; Grand Klaliff, second highest officer of a Realm, who shall be vice-president of the Klorero; Grand Klokard, lecturer; Grand Kludd, chaplain; Grand Kligrapp, secretary; Grand Klabee, treasurer; Grand Kladd, conductor; Grand Klarogo, inner guard; Grand Klexter, outer guard; and a Grand Night-Hawk. These shall be known as the Grand Dragon and his nine Hydras. They are to be elected by proper delegation of their respective Realm.

Please name the people holding the offices provided for by the constitution.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Edwards.

James Malcolm Edwards was born on July 20, 1918, at Marion, Louisiana. His education includes Louisiana State University and Kilgore Junior College, Kilgore, Texas, and graduation from the Palmer College of Chiropractic on August 26, 1951.

He served in the enlisted ranks of the United States Army Air Force from 1942 to 1946, on active duty, and from March 3, 1949, to October 1, 1952, in the Reserves.

He is self-employed as a chiropractor at 424 West Sixth Street, Jonesboro, Louisiana.

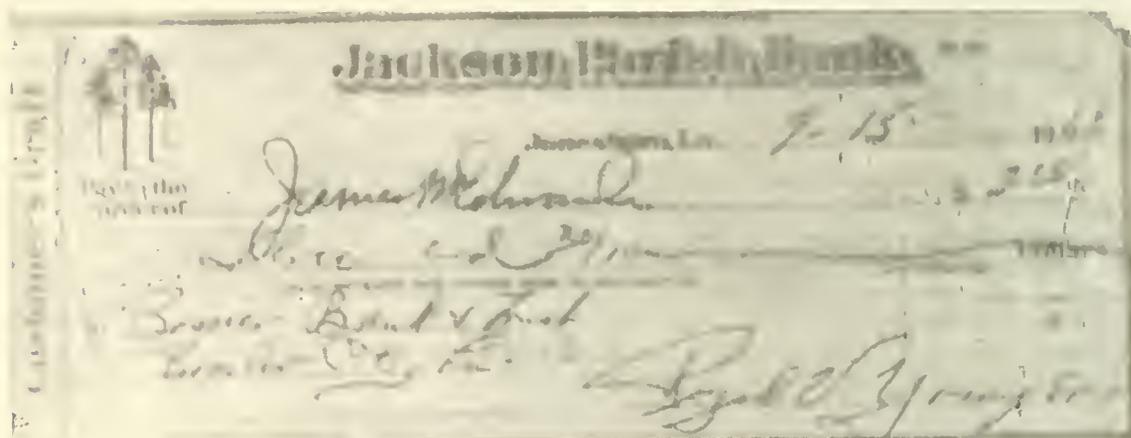

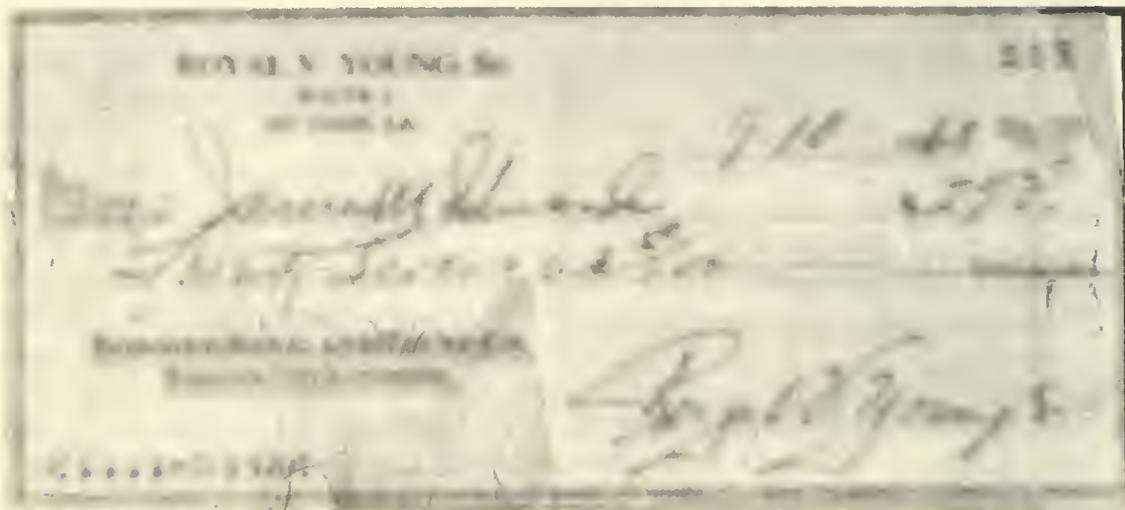

In September 1963, Mr. Edwards received funds from Royal V.

Mr. APPELL. In 1964 he became a member and Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America, Realm of Louisiana, which operates under the cover name of the Louisiana Rescue Service.

On February 4, 1964, he attended a klonvokation of the Alabama Rescue Service at Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama.

In addition to electing the Imperial Klaliff, Robert Thompson, of Georgia, there was elected the Imperial Kligrapp, W. O. Perkins of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and the Imperial Klabee, Fredrick Smith, of Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

In addition to electing these three officers, the klonvokation pushed the sale of insurance under the name of the Heritage Insurance Agency, Inc. by Robert M. Shelton, the Imperial Wizard, and others.

On September 5 and 6, 1964, Mr. Edwards again attended a klonvokation at the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel where there was elected the Imperial Wizard, Robert M. Shelton, Robert Collins as the Imperial Klokard, Rev. George Dorsett as Imperial Kludd, the Reverend Robert Hudgins as the Imperial Kladd, Walter Brown as the Imperial Klarogo, Robert Korman as the Imperial Klester, and Amos Pedigo as the Imperial Night-Hawk.

Mr. APPELL. On December 20, 1964, Mr. Edwards applied for Post Office Box, Drawer K, Hodge, Louisiana. In the application Mr. Edwards designated the United Klans of America, Inc., to be a fraternal organization.

Mr. APPELL. On April 17, 1965, Mr. Edwards attended a meeting of imperial officers and other officials of the United Klans of America and spoke at a rally held in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

On May 24, 1965, along with the Grand Klaliff of the Realm of Louisiana, he spoke at a rally at Tioga, Louisiana. The Grand Klaliff at that time, Jack Helm, of New Orleans, was introduced not as a Klansman but as an official of the Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans.

Mr. APPELL. On June 5, 1965, Mr. Edwards spoke at a United Klans of America rally and street walk at Atlanta, Georgia.

On July 21, 1965, he spoke at a United Klans of America rally at Crossroads, Mississippi.

On August 21 and 22, he attended the meeting of the Realm of North Carolina, where there was also held a meeting of imperial and other officers of the United Klans of America, and during these two days spoke at a United Klans rally at Landis, North Carolina.

JAMES EDWARDS EXHIBIT NO. 4

[BOISE, IDAHO, Stateman, AUG. 23, 1965]

Dragon Hails Klan Power In Elections

LANDIS, N.C. (UPI) — South Carolina Grand Dragon Bob Scoggin told one of the largest Ku Klux Klan rallies in recent years Saturday night the Klan "can elect the next president of the United States."

Scoggin, one of 11 state grand dragons addressing a crowd estimated by sheriff's deputies at 3,500 to 4,000 said "President Johnson is afraid of the Klan" and that the Klan could play a big role in the 1968 election "if we will."

In addition to Scoggin and Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton of Alabama, others addressing the rally included Grand Dragons E. L. McDaniel of Mississippi, Bob Jones of North Carolina, Calvin Craig of Georgia, Don Cothran of Florida, Roy Frankhouser of Pennsylvania, Ralph Pryor of Delaware, Flynn Harvey of Ohio, George Otto of Texas, Dr. J. M. Edwards of Louisiana and Raymond Anderson of Tennessee.

Anderson said the reason he is a Klansman was to prevent the Communists from taking over the country. He charged that if that happened, all the churches would be burned and that United Nations troops would be patrolling the streets.

While in Texas, Mr. Edwards met and conferred with William H. Drennan and George A. Otto, Texas Klan coleaders.

Mr. Edwards, during the period of May, 1964, to 10-12-65, received $1,517.64 in checks drawn against the account of the Bernice Sportsman Club and/or Louisiana Rescue Service.

(Documents marked "James Edwards Exhibit No. 5." A listing of checks and one check from each account appears on pp. 2646, 2647.)

Mr. APPELL. February 19, 1965, Mr. Edwards requested the Louisiana State Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities to investigate the Klan and make findings public. He answered questions propounded by the committee counsel on April 23, 1965.

On February 18 and March 29 of 1965, Mr. Edwards addressed letters to Chairman Willis of the Committee on Un-American Activities urging an investigation of the United Klans of America and requesting the report of its findings to be made public.

Mr. Edwards was in contact with Imperial Wizard Shelton during the committee's hearings in November of 1965.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Edwards possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator.

You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of that statement.

Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I will say to you, therefore, in the absence of rebuttal on your part, or other facts which may come to the attention of the committee, that the committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

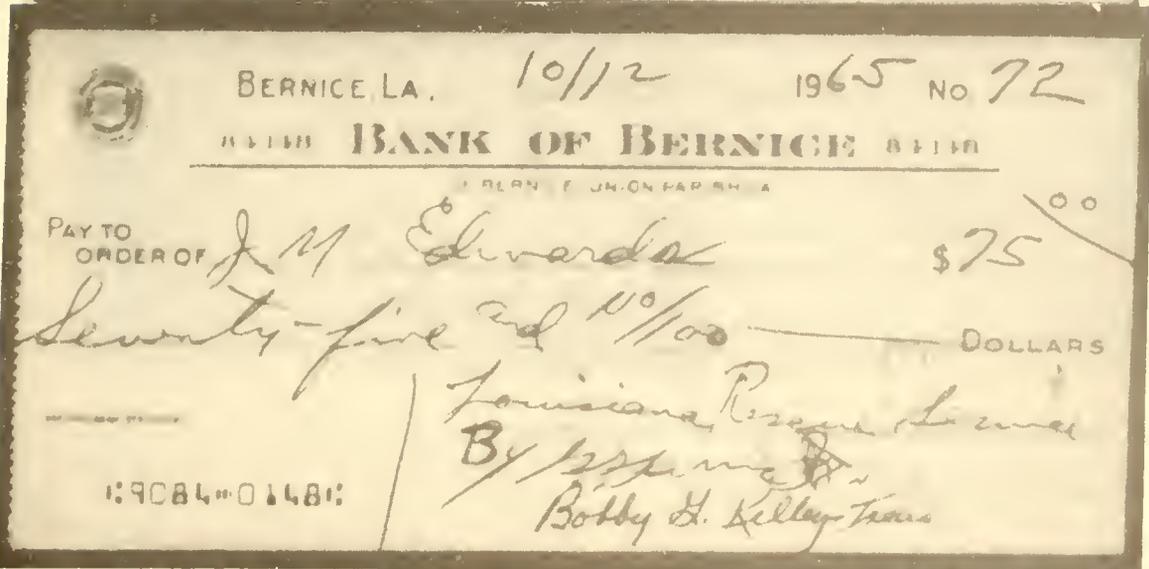

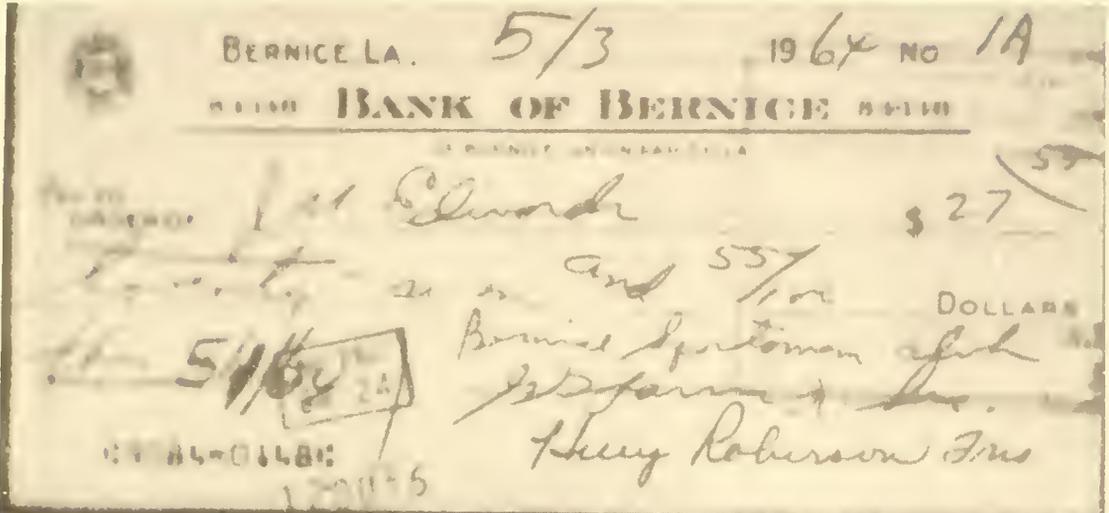

Bearing this in mind have you anything to say?

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. SENNER. Is it possible to get in the record at this point the letter written to you by Mr. Edwards?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, I have several photographs in front of me which picture you at a rally of the United Klans of America held April 17, 1965. I ask you whether or not this rally was a rally of convenience, and that the main reason for you and other Klan officials assembling in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, around April 17, 1965, was because I had just a few days prior thereto interviewed Imperial Wizard Shelton, and that the real purpose for your being there was to discuss strategy that you should follow in the event of being subpoenaed before the committee.

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Photographs marked "James Edwards Exhibit No. 6." Two of said photographs appear on pp. 2648, 2649; balance retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, I will hand to you two letters addressed to Honorable Edwin E. Willis, Chairman, HUAC, Washington, D.C., the first dated February 18, 1965, return address 426 Sixth Street, Jonesboro, Louisiana, signed J. M. Edwards, Grand Dragon, United Klans of America, Inc.

Mr. Chairman, I ask that these and all other documents referred to be made part of this record, and for that reason I shall only read the portions relative to an inquiry by this committee.

The letter of February 18 reads:

Mr. Willis, I will welcome an investigation of the United Klans of America, Inc. in Louisiana and will cooperate in any way possible. If I may make one request it would be this: Please name the specific Klan organization, United Klans of America, Inc. along with the others. I would also like included in the reports your findings relative to the NAACP, CORE, COFO, and SCEF.

Thanks for the fine service you are performing, Mr. Willis, and if I can be of any assistance please call upon me.

The letter of March 29, 1965:

Since the president's recent indictment of men said to be members of this organization, and that without due process of law, I urge you, Mr. Willis, to investigate United Klans and make your findings public as soon as possible.

It would seem, that by virtue of the February resolution to investigate the Klan, that another decision to do so would not be necessary.

Thanks for your kind consideration, and may God bless you in every honorable endeavor.

Please insert this letter in the Congressional Record.

Signed "J. M. Edwards—Grand Dragon."

I hand you these two letters, Mr. Edwards, and ask you if you in fact mailed these or signed those letters.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "James Edwards Exhibit No. 7" appear on pp. 2650, 2651.)

Mr. APPELL. A Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities of the State of Louisiana, according to an official report, conducted a staff interview with J. M. Edwards commencing at 11:42 p.m. on April 23, 1965. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the J. M. Edwards with whom this consultation was held and that the Q and A reproduced in the committee's findings are the answers or your statements.

The CHAIRMAN. You mean the questions and answers?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In response to a question you were asked, "Do you do any screening of people to keep out undesirable elements or people who might have criminal records, or anything like that?" the answer is: "The very best that is possible to do."

Isn't it a fact, Dr. Edwards, as Grand Dragon, that while you provide for certain regulations in order to guarantee that undesirables not get in your organization, in fact you do no screening and that you take in anyone?

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The next question: "What do you do after you have gotten members in if you find out that they are involved in violations of law?" The record reflects no answer.

Then the question: "How do you take care of that, how do you handle that within your organization?"

February 18, 1965

Dear Congressman Willis;

Under dateline Washington and AP wire, Shreveport Times Saturday, February 13, 1965 was an article which stated "that the committee last week adopted unanimously a resolution authorizing chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La. to 'continue preliminary inquiries' into matters that had been brought to the attention of the committee.

The four organizations are specifically included, although they are not named in the resolution." (This last statement puzzles me.)

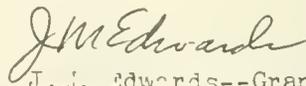

Now, the four organizations named in the AP article are "The Ku Klux Klan, the Minutemen, George Lincoln Rockwell's American Nazi Party, and the Black Muslims."

Mr. Willis, I am one of the "Southern whites" having "such titles as Grand Dragon" and the order which I represent is the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. I have great admiration for your committee, and I thank you for your untiring efforts to keep America safe. I regret that your burden is being increased by now having to investigate the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Willis, I will welcome an investigation of the United Klans of America, Inc. in Louisiana and will cooperate in any way possible. If I may make one request it would be this: Please name the specific Klan organization, United Klans of America, Inc. along with the others. I would also like included in the reports your findings relative to the NAACP, CORE, COFO, and SCLC.

Thanks for the fine service you are performing, Mr. Willis, and if I can be of any assistance please call upon me.

Yours for God and Country,

J. E. Edwards--Grand Dragon,
United Klans of America, Inc.

ties. Our organization does not harbor those who commit unlawful acts."

Dr. Edwards, I give you an opportunity at this time to name one member of the United Klans of America that you have ever turned over to lawful authority because of their violation of the law.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "James Edwards Exhibit No. 8." See pp. 2655-2663.)

The CHAIRMAN. Dr. Edwards, do the various Klaverns over which you preside in your Realm of Louisiana have wrecking crews that perform the functions described this morning by Mr. Gipson?

JAMES EDWARDS EXHIBIT NO. 7—Continued

Hon. Edwin E. Willis
Chairman, HUAC

426 Sixth Street
Jonesboro, Louisiana
March 29, 1965

Dear Sir;

On February 18, 1965 I wrote you concerning a resolution passed unanimously by your committee to investigate the Klan. I invited an investigation of United Klans of America, Inc. and shortly thereafter received an affirmative reply.

Meanwhile, President Johnson has publicly assailed the Klan and made serious charges against men said to be affiliates, and that before any trial and conviction.

Now, Mr. Willis, that should frighten you and every member of Congress who has taken an oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States of America.

Under UPI dateline Sunday, March 28, 1965 I note that "Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., has promised that his House Committee on Un-American Activities will meet early next week to decide whether to begin a full scale investigation of the Klan."

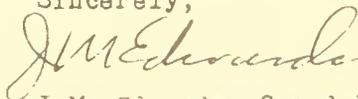

Since the president's recent indictment of men said to be members of this organization, and that without due process of law, I urge you, Mr. Willis, to investigate United Klans and make your findings public as soon as possible.

It would seem, that by virtue of the February resolution to investigate the Klan, that another decision to do so would not be necessary.

Thanks for your kind consideration, and may God bless you in every honorable endeavor.

Please insert this letter in the Congressional Record.

Sincerely,

J.M. Edwards--Grand Dragon
United Klans of America, Inc.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, it is already in the record that the Realm of Louisiana helped finance the defense of Klansmen involved in the murder of Dr. Penn in Georgia. Can you reconcile this testimony with the financial contribution that you made toward their defense?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a matter of fact, Dr. Edwards, under the oath which members of your organization take, it would be a violation of your oath to turn them over to authorities except if they had committed the crimes of treason, rape, or murder. Isn't that factual?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In the record [of the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities] you were asked, "Have you ever had occasion, as yet, to turn over any law violators to the local police authorities in any area? Do you know of any specific incident where this has been done?"

Answer: "I cannot speak for any area outside of Louisiana, but I am very happy to report that it has not come to my attention."

I give you an opportunity as Grand Dragon of the Realm of Louisiana to state that no Klansman to your knowledge has engaged in the violation of law.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. It was brought out by the chairman, Mr. Edwards, on last Friday, I believe, that members of the United Klans of America in the Baton Rouge, Louisiana, area, are placing applications for membership in the United Klans of America and other United Klan literature in post office boxes in that city. I ask you as the Grand Dragon if you are going to make an investigation of this violation of law and report those Klansmen to the postal authorities.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, in the Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Advocate, an article which appeared May 25, 1965, relates to an incident that happened at a United Klans of America rally held at Tioga, Louisiana. I shall read this short clipping into the record before asking you a question:

The invocation was brief and jolting at the Ku Klux Klan rally here over the weekend.

Dr. J. M. Edwards of Jonesboro, a chiropractor who heads the Klan in Louisiana, called for a minister from the audience to step forth and lead the invocation.

An unidentified man stepped to the microphone and, as the Klansmen and spectators bowed their heads, he said:

"I don't see how you, in the name of Jesus Christ, can conduct hatred for all man."

Did that happen, sir?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "James Edwards Exhibit No. 9" and retained in committee files. See also Jack Helm Exhibit No. 2, p. 2591.)

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, in your sworn testimony before the Louisiana body referred to by Mr. Appell a while ago, did you tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth because it appears that you did speak on that occasion.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, during the recitation of the results of the committee's investigation it was set forth as a matter of fact that you attended the klonvokation held in February 1964 at the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham, and that discussed at the klonvokation was the creation of an insurance program.

I hand you a letter addressed to Mr. Robert Shelton from David F. Stinson, return address Jonesboro, Louisiana, addressed, "Dear Bob," in which Mr. Stinson asks if he might head up the insurance program in Louisiana. This letter was sent to the insurance company which was going to handle the life and health and accident part of the program, and there is contained in handwriting at the bottom of this letter the following language: "Write this man a [sic] make Arrangements for meeting with Dr. Edwards to set up Insurance Program for La. Bob."

I hand you this and ask you if you conferred with this man and whether or not there was set up within Louisiana an insurance program.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Document previously marked "Robert Shelton Exhibit No. 14." See p. 1649.)

Mr. APPELL. At the State rally held in North Carolina and the meeting of imperial and other officers, together with the meeting which elected officers for the State of North Carolina, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that there was present at that meeting Dan Burros of New York and Roy Frankhouser of Pennsylvania.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess knowledge of their and other United Klans of America members' and leaders' affiliation with the American Nazi Party?

Mr. EDWARDS. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, in the format of your oath of allegiance, I find the following, which oath is taken by all members, including yourself, I assume: "I swear that I will keep secure to myself a secret of a [Klan]*sman when same is committed to me in the sacred bond of [Klan]*smanship—the crime of violating THIS solemn oath"—that is all in caps—"treason against the United States of America—rape—and malicious murder—alone excepted."

Since you use in that oath the words "malicious murder," is there any kind of murder to which this oath does not apply?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. I want to read to the witness title 18, United States Code, section 1505, which provides as follows:

Whoever corruptly, or by threats or force, or by any threatening letter or communication, endeavors to influence, intimidate, or impede any witness in any proceeding pending before any department or agency of the United States, or in connection with any inquiry or investigation being had by either House, or any committee of either House, or any joint committee of the Congress; or

Whoever injures any party or witness in his person or property on account of his attending or having attended such proceeding, inquiry, or investigation, or on account of his testifying or having testified to any matter pending therein; or

* * * * *

Whoever corruptly, or by threats or force, or by any threatening letter or communication influences, obstructs, or impedes or endeavors to influence, obstruct, or impede the due and proper administration of the law under which such proceeding is being had before such department or agency of the United States, or the due and proper exercise of the power of inquiry under which such inquiry or investigation is being had by either House, or any committee of either House or any joint committee of the Congress—

Shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

The reason I read that to you is because of two things. If you are up here testifying before this committee in fear of your life or in fear of bodily injury or any fear that you might have, you may be assured that this law applies to you and you will be protected if you care to answer any questions or add anything to this inquiry or give any information to this committee that you can. If that is not the case, then I read it to you for the second purpose: In your job, if you go back to Louisiana as the Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America, Realm of Louisiana, you can take that message back to your membership and tell them that is what the law is and that this committee intends to see that the witnesses appearing before this committee will not be harmed and that we will enforce this law.

Have you any further statement to make?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I do not have any questions, but in view of this witness' eagerness to see the investigation by this committee of this organization, the United Klans of America, I am somewhat baffled at his reluctance at the present time.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Edwards, do you really believe you have cooperated with this committee pursuant to the letters you sent to the chairman?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. SENNER. Did you intend to mislead the chairman when you wrote those letters?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. SENNER. Did you do it for just public consumption and public opinion?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. SENNER. I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, since you mentioned in those letters other organizations, do you care to say anything about them?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. Appell, call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Douglas Byrd.

Mr. BLACKWELL. Mr. Chairman, I am Charles Blackwell, attorney for Mr. Byrd, from Laurel, Mississippi. Mr. Chairman, I have a letter from Mr. Byrd's doctor that he is in the hospital and he will be there for about a week or 10 days. Would you like me to read the letter, Mr. Chairman?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I suggest that the committee consider the contents of this letter and that we advise Mr. Blackwell tomorrow morning as to the disposition of the committee with respect to it.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

The committee will stand in recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

(Members present at time of recess: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Ashbrook, of the subcommittee, and also Representative Senner.)

(Whereupon, at 4:25 p.m., Tuesday, January 11, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Wednesday, January 12, 1966.)

Q—What is your name, sir?

A—J. M. Edwards.

Q—Where do you live, Mr. Edwards?

A—Jonesboro, Louisiana.

Q—When and where were you born?

A—July 20, 1918, in Union Parish, Louisiana.

Q—What do you do for a living?

A—I practice Chiropractic.

Q—Mr. Edwards, what is the name of the Klan Organization you represent?

A—It's the United Klans of America, Inc.

Q—What is the title of your Klan office, and what level of leadership does that title mean?

A—The office that I have in the United Klans is that of Grand Dragon of the realm of Louisiana, and it designates the highest office in the State in which that Klan operates.

Q—Is your Klan Organization connected with any other Klan Organizations, and if so, which one and how is it connected?

A—It is not connected with any other Klan Organization.

Q—Who is the national head of your Klan Organization?

A—Robert M. Shelton, Jr.

Q—Where does he live?

A—Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

Q—As I understand your testimony, you are the head of the organization in the State of Louisiana?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—How and by whom are the objectives of your organization determined?

A—By the membership itself.

Dear Sir;

Since reading an article in the Shreveport Times last Saturday, February 13, under dateline Washington and AP, I have been somewhat perplexed. It concerned an investigation of the Ku Klux Klan, a general term, along with three other organizations.

Now, Mr. Knowles, I have invited Mr. Edwin S. Willis, whom I understand you know, and have welcomed an investigation of United Klans of America, Inc. and have requested that the findings of HUAC be published.

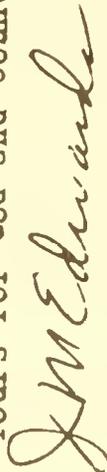

By virtue of your relationship with the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities, I also invite your committee to investigate ~~our~~ organization also and make public your findings.

If you would be so kind as to encourage Mr. Willis to investigate us and publish his findings, I would appreciate it very much.

Any questions you may have concerning United Klans of America, Inc. I would be very pleased to try to answer.

I shall anticipate hearing from you soon. Meanwhile I remain sincerely,

Yours for God and Country,

J.M. Edwards-Grand Dragon
 United Klans of America, Inc.

Q—What process is used to determine policy or objectives?

A—A democratic assembly, Mr. Rogers.

Q—Is your organization connected in any way with the Communist Party, or any other foreign party, agency or government?

A—No, sir, it is not.

Q—Is any pledge or oath of allegiance required of all of your members?

A—Yes, indeed.

Q—Does this oath in any way infringe upon, or negate, complete loyalty to the Constitution of the United States?

A—No. Mr. Rogers, did you say “infringe or negate?”

Q—Does the oath which your members take infringe upon their loyalty to the United States, or negate in any way their loyalty to the United States?

A—No, sir, that oath does not.

Q—Would you explain that, please?

A—(No answer.)

Q—Can you give me the oath?

A—I will explain that, Mr. Rogers. The oath swears unqualified allegiance to the government of the United States of America, its Constitution and laws. May I just quote the section which has to do with allegiance?

Q—Go right ahead.

A—“I most solemnly assert and affirm that to the government of the United States of America, and any State thereof of which I may become a resident, I sacredly swear an unqualified allegiance above any and every kind of government in the whole world. I here and now pledge life, property, vote and sacred honor to uphold its flag, its Constitution, and Constitutional Laws, and will protect, defend and enforce same unto death.”

Q—Mr. Edwards, what is the policy of your organization as to law violations? Is there anything in your oath concerning this?

A—The attitude of the Order concerning law violations is the same as it would be on the part of any good American citizen. I repeat that for you: "I most solemnly promise and swear that I will always, at all times, and in all places, help, aid, and assist the duly constituted officers of the law, in the proper performance of their legal duties."

Q—What are the qualifications for membership in your organization?

A—He must be a white man, a Protestant person who believes in the tenets of the Christian Religion, and of sane mind, of course.

Q—Do you do any screening of people to keep out undesirable elements or people who might have criminal records, or anything like that?

A—The very best that it is possible to do.

Q—What do you do after you have gotten members in if you find out that they are involved in violations of law?

A—(No answer.)

Q—How do you take care of that, how do you handle that within your organization?

A—Any member or any person, for that matter, whose unlawful acts come to the attention of our people are reported to the proper authorities. Our organization does not harbor those who commit unlawful acts.

Q—Are they allowed to remain in the organization?

A—No, sir, this Order does not provide for a person who conducts himself contrary to the tenets of the law he has sworn to uphold, rather than to violate. As soon as any act of unlawfulness is discovered on the part of a member of this Order, he is immediately expelled.

Q—Approximately how many members do you have in the State of Louisiana, Mr. Edwards?

A—I am not at liberty to answer that question, Mr. Rogers.

Q—Can you tell us how many local Klaverns you have in Louisiana?

A—No, sir, I am not at liberty to reveal that.

Q—Why is that, are you sworn under some oath not to reveal that?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—What are the objectives of your organization?

A—The objectives of this Order shall be to unite all white male persons, native-born gentiles of the United States who owe no allegiance of any nature to any other government, nation, institution, ruler, sect or people; to unite people whose morals are good, whose reputations and vocations are respectable, whose habits are exemplary, who are of sound mind, and 21 years of age or more, to a common oath of brotherhood of strict regulations, and also to cultivate and promote patriotism toward our civil government.

Q—After you unite them, is the function of the organization directed solely at improving yourselves, the members, or do you have some outward manifestation of your objectives?

A—Certainly it has as its objective to improve the individual, and I think this is best done by virtue of the fact that we hold Christ himself as our criterion of character, and never in a Klavern meeting will a person stay without hearing the name of Christ proclaimed, and His principles sounded. Then in the community, I think that you will find it hard to determine any difference in the works of the people in this Order and in any other civic service, or social organization, because I think the efforts overlap in every one of these areas.

Q—Do your members aim, and are the objectives of your organization in any way directed, toward political action?

A—No, sir, I couldn't say that they are directed toward political action, but certainly men with these objectives would participate in governmental affairs; that's a responsibility of any citizen.

Q—How do you propose to realize the objectives that you have set forth here, by any means other than education?

A—What other means are there?

Q—What is the attitude of your organization toward violence?

A—A member of this Order is not going to engage in violence.

Q—By that you mean a member who sincerely ascribes to the basic tenets of the Order, or do you mean a person who might have associated himself with you cynically?

A—A person might have associated himself with this Order for the sole purpose of bringing disrespect, or bringing it into disrepute, but if he ascribed to these tenets, the violence he might enter into automatically would suspend him from membership in the Order.

Q—Have you any built-in system of protection by investigation, or surveillance, or anything of this nature, to protect yourselves from people who might commit acts of violence using the existence of your organization as a “cover” for their criminal acts?

A—Would you repeat that question?

Q—Yes, what protection have you got built into your procedure, or your ritual, or your functioning of your organization, to protect your organization from acts-of-violence committed by outsiders using the existence of your organization as a “cover” for what they do?

A—There is no way a person could be connected with the Order while engaging in acts-of-violence.

Q—Why is this?

A—Because the regalia that identifies a member is not worn outside of the rituals, except, I must say this, in the organized public meetings where ceremonial ritual teams enact certain rituals where the significance of this ritual is narrated from a platform. It is done in public, and there are other instances, of course, such as street walkings, etc., but they are done in regalia in the light of day before the public, and certainly no acts-of-violence are permitted by those people. We are non-violent people. Does that answer your question, sir?

Q—Yes, it does.

A—Mr. Rogers, may I add further in connection with attaining our objectives, that what we do is done entirely within the framework of the law, utilizing every legitimate method available to us, and tolerating absolutely no person conducting himself in any manner that might be construed to be beyond the framework of our duly constituted laws.

Q—Have you ever had occasion, as yet, to turn over any law-

violators to the local police authorities in any area? Do you know of any specific incident where this has been done?

A—I cannot speak for any area outside of Louisiana, but I am very happy to report that it has not come to my attention.

Q—Mr. Edwards, how are your officers of the Klan elected at the different levels?

A—Through a democratic process, by the membership.

Q—How do you get elected to the office which you hold?

A—By the same process, it is not a dictatorial organization, Mr. Rogers.

Q—Are you elected by popular vote of all the members in the State, or are you elected by a Board which is elected by the members throughout the State?

A—No, sir, perhaps like people are elected on the national level, by delegates representing a certain number of people.

Q—Have you any control as Grand Dragon of the State of Louisiana over the local Klaverns?

A—Only through the people who are elected to maintain the order in those Klaverns.

Q—Do you have any veto power over the chosen officers of the local Klavern?

A—In case their conduct is contrary to the oath and the Constitution.

Q—You do?

A—Yes, sir, in that case.

Q—Have you any disciplinary powers available to you over the members in the local Klavern, if you had learned that something had gone on which was contrary to your basic rules? Could you do anything about it if the local Klavern officers did not?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Do you actively maintain responsibility over the local Klaverns to the best of your ability?

A—Yes, sir, I do.

Q—Will you furnish the Committee with samples of the literature and printed materials used by your organization in this educational program which you have described to me?

A—Yes, sir, I would be happy to, I have some copies available.

Q—Is there anything, Mr. Edwards, that you would like to add to your testimony?

A—Mr. Rogers, I don't believe there is. I would like to add one thing, however, that in the United Klans of America, Inc., we operate according to a Committee System wherein we attempt to utilize the potential of every person in our Order, regardless of whatever his gift might be.

Q—What different committees do you have in a local Klavern?

A—Well, of course, as I said a while ago, we don't engage in politics as such, but we do concern ourselves with governmental affairs, and I believe that that is one of the most basic committees that we have. We have a religious activities committee, education committee, womens' organizations, we have a civic committee, sick and welfare, publicity, grievance, to mention a few.

Q—Is there anything other than this that you would like to add to your testimony, Mr. Edwards?

A—I believe that's just about all I have to say, Mr. Rogers, unless there are some other questions.

Q—I have no other questions for you at this time, and I would appreciate your giving us the printed materials to which you have referred already. Thank you, Mr. Edwards for giving us this time. This is the end of the Staff Consultation, the time is 12:18 A.M.

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities met, pursuant to recess, at 10:45 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; Joe R. Pool, of Texas; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; and Donald T. Appell, chief investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Mr. Appell, call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, before calling the first witness the staff desires to make a statement for the record based upon its investigation, and in view of the fact that with the start of today's hearings the committee's inquiry will deal with Klan organizations in the State of Mississippi.

Klans in Mississippi have as their origin in the modern day the action on the part of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana when J. D. Swenson, the National Kleagle of that organization, went across the river into Mississippi and recruited into the Original Knights, the Realm of Mississippi, citizens of the State of Mississippi.

Soon after this happened a split occurred over what Klansmen felt to be the unnecessary enrichment of Mr. Swenson through initiation fees and the profits made on the sale of robes, and they split away from this organization with many of them being banished from the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The cadre of the Original Knights of Mississippi were basically the ones that founded what was in the early part of 1964 the largest Klan organization in Mississippi, which is known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

This organization grew, and certain leaders of the White Knights defected from that organization and became the leadership of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, headed by Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton and known within Mississippi as the Mississippi Rescue Service.

The investigation from its very start, Mr. Chairman, has been very confused because Klansmen, while remaining Klansmen, have shifted from the White Knights to the UKA, and in most recent days we have learned of two Klaverns of the United Klans of America switching back to the White Knights.

The White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is unique as an autonomous Klan organization in that its constitution and the oath which it administers to its members do not follow the standard pattern of the Klan of 1915, from which most of the modern day Klans adopt their constitutions, their rituals, and their oaths.

The constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan divides this organization into two branches of a legislature—the senate, which they call their Klavocation, and their lower house which they call the Klanburgesses.

The executive department of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is headed by an Imperial Wizard, whom the investigation established to be Sam Holloway Bowers, Jr., of Laurel, Mississippi; a Grand Dragon, Julius Harper; a grand giant, Billy Buckles; a grand chaplain, who in the early days was Paul Foster, and who later was replaced by Petus G. Bilbo; the grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, who in the early days was Mr. Ernest S. Gilbert and who is now a king kleagle for the United Klans of America.

The organizational structure of the White Knights is divided into five districts, which compare to the congressional districts of Members of Congress from the State of Mississippi, and this division is divided into nine provinces.

Each of these provinces has in its leadership a province giant and a province KBI. These province giants and province KBI's are members of the cabinet of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The constitution under Article II sets forth the authority of the Imperial Wizard, and in Section 17 of Article II it sets forth the duties of the province giant and the KBI.

In this connection, Mr. Chairman, I would like the record to disclose that under the constitution it is reported that all projects which arise in a Klavern or in the Klan which are of—a Great Magnitude or Complex in Nature shall be forwarded through the Chain of Command to the Imperial Wizard, who shall seek the advice and counsel of all Grand Officers.

Investigation and sworn executive testimony, Mr. Chairman, show that projects of great magnitude and of complex nature refer to official projects adopted by the Klan, known as Projects 1, 2, 3, and 4.

Project 1 is a threatening telephone call, or visits.

Project 2 is the burning of a cross, usually on private property.

Project 3 is beatings or floggings, burning of property, wild shooting into property, and bombings.

Project 4 is extermination.

The constitution provides for a judicial department headed by a chief klanjustice and four other klanjustices, a finance department, which is headed by a chief klabursar, and four additional klabursars.

The Klaverns and the officers within the Klavern follow the normal organizational structure of a Klan Klavern except that in the White Knights the Klavern officers include a klepeer, who is the Klavern representatives to the Klanburgesses.

The constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is unique to other constitutions because, while it requires of its members an oath which pledges absolute obedience to the White Knights constitution and its laws, the member swears allegiance to the Constitution of the United States only as originally written.

The oaths of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan do not provide, as do the other Klan oaths which the committee has dealt with, in that the other oaths provide that a Klansman shall keep secret to himself the secret of a fellow Klansman except in the case of treason against the United States, rape, and malicious murder.

In the case of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, their constitution provides that a man guilty of those three offenses is not eligible for membership, but their constitution provides that a secret of a Klansman shall be kept secret, period.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to call the staff's first witness, Gordon Lackey.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. LACKEY. I do.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Blackwell, at the conclusion of the hearings yesterday, in response to a call for Douglas Byrd, Route 1, Liberty, Mississippi, to take the stand, you presented in his behalf a medical statement.

This statement, on the letterhead of The Field Clinic, Centreville, Mississippi, and signed by Dr. John Y. Gibson advised the committee that Byrd was confined at the Field Memorial Community Hospital because of a back condition. It was the doctor's position that Mr. Byrd would require 1 week to 10 days of hospital care.

In light of the medical statement, I request that you advise your client, Mr. Byrd, to appear before the committee at 10 a.m., January 19, 1966.

Now, Mr. Blackwell, if consultation with Dr. Gibson indicates that Mr. Byrd, for reasons of his physical disability, is unable to appear at that time, I hope you will notify the committee of that.

Mr. BLACKWELL. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF GORDON MIMS LACKEY, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES G. BLACKWELL

Mr. APPELL. State your full name, please.

Mr. LACKEY. My full name is Gordon Mims Lackey.

Mr. APPELL. Your last name is spelled L-a-c-k-e-y?

Mr. LACKEY. That is correct, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, are you appearing here in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by John D. Sullivan on November 5, 1965, at 412 W. Park Avenue, Greenwood, Mississippi?

Mr. LACKEY. Yes, sir; that is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. LACKEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. I am Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi, Post Office Box 411.

Mr. APPELL. And the additional counsel?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, 790 Northwood Drive, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you and attachment thereto, which was made part of the subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and to produce to the committee documents called for in the subpoena, paragraph 1, which reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, namely the Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as the past or present Kleagle at Large, and/or Special Investigator to the Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. Lackey, I ask that you produce those documents in the representative capacity set forth in the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Before that, Mr. Lackey, I ask your counsel if it is a fact and whether they will stipulate that you are familiar with the opening statement I made October 19, last year, outlining the general purposes, objectives, and the reasons for this hearing.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Mr. Chairman, I do so stipulate.

The CHAIRMAN. Thank you.

I did not want to direct the question to your client, but you are speaking for your client in this instance?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will you produce the documents, Mr. Lackey?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I am sorry but I cannot produce such records as ordered by the subpoena issued me, due to the fact that such records were and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I do not have access to such documents.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, in the representative capacity set forth in the subpoena, did you possess such documents?

Mr. LACKEY. Would you repeat the question, sir?

Mr. APPELL. In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1 of your subpoena, did you possess such records?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, with all sincerity, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed me by the 5th, the 1st, and the 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I am afraid I do not follow the position of the witness. He is represented by able counsel, of course.

Mr. Appell, try to be very attentive, because the witness took one position and then another under his asserted constitutional rights.

Will you repeat your first question?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, I ask you to produce those documents which are enumerated in paragraph 1 of the attachment to your subpoena.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I am extremely sorry, but I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not have access to any such documents.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you now saying, sir, that as an individual you did not have possession, custody, or control or access to these documents?

I ask that in view of what you said in response to the second question. If your counsel wants to explain your position, your exact legal position, I will accept that instead of its coming from you, but I cannot quite distinguish between your first answer and your second answer because, I call attention to you and your counsel, the subpoena on the face of it calls for you to produce those documents in your representative capacities, and Mr. Appell made the request of you in your representative capacities.

Are you distinguishing between the two?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Mr. Chairman, would you like me to explain it?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. BUCKLEY. I think I can say simply this: His position, his response to the original question, is simply that it was not within his power, and it has not been within his power, to comply with the subpoena. He could not comply with it. It was not within his power to so do. In other words, he does not have any contempt. It is not that he is purposely evading or avoiding the subpoena or this committee, but it was simply not within his power to so do.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you saying that you do not now have and have never had—I am directing the question to the witness—possession, custody, or control or access to the documents called for by the subpoena, either as an individual or in a representative capacity?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, I must respectfully decline to answer that question—

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman?

Mr. LACKEY. —and as a defense invoke the privileges guaranteed to me by the fifth amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, directing myself to the apparent conflicting positions, I would like to call attention to Article V of the constitution of the White Knights which states the duties of kleagles. It is my understanding that this witness is the grand kleagle of the White Knights.

His duties under Article V, Section 4 in the recruiting of members consists of preparing in quadruplicate form the application blanks. One copy is given to the kligraph, or secretary, and then within 15 days he is under duty to present the remaining copies to the district klabursar.

Assuming that this witness is the kleagle and assuming he has complied with his constitutional obligations, he would have had the documents, but would not have any documents within 15 days following the recruiting of a new member.

For that reason I can see why he would say he has no documents now and would refuse to answer whether he had ever had them.

The CHAIRMAN. Of course, the questions are in the record, irrespective of the explanation.

Mr. LACKEY, your counsel, as I understood him, said what you were trying to say was that you did not have the power to produce these documents. Did I understand counsel correctly?

Mr. BUCKLEY. That is right.

The CHAIRMAN. What the subpoena calls for is documents or documents in your possession or control or custody or available to you. Are you also saying that you do not now have, and never have had, possession, custody, or control, or custody or accessibility to the documents, irrespective of whether you didn't have the technical power to produce them?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, are you asking me or my attorney?

The CHAIRMAN. I directed the question to the witness.

Mr. LACKEY. Sorry, sir; I didn't understand it. I thought you had asked my attorney.

The CHAIRMAN. You can advise with him.

Mr. LACKEY. I thought you directed the question directly to him. I am sorry, sir.

Sir, I think it would be clearer purely by my stating that it was not physically within my power to bring any such records, documents, correspondence, memoranda, et cetera, purely because I did not possess these documents at the time, they were not within my custody or control, and I could not physically bring something that I did not have, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have possession, custody, or control, or were there available to you these documents called for on the date that you were served with the subpoena, November 5, 1965, until today?

Mr. LACKEY. No, sir, I did not.

The CHAIRMAN. You are saying, and you are under oath, that at no time did you have possession, custody, or control or availability of these documents?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, with all possible respect for this committee and its staff, I must in all sincerity decline to answer that question on the grounds as previously stated in invoking the fifth amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. I think I follow you. What you are trying to say is that you stick by your first statement that from the time that the subpoena was served on you, November 5, 1965, until today, during that period of time you did not have possession, custody, or control and that these documents were not available to you during that period of time. That is the time where you are saying you had no power, as you put it, to produce the documents. Is that the testimony you are giving?

Mr. LACKEY. Yes, sir; that is absolutely correct.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, as a matter of law I will ask you this question: Did you have possession, custody, or control, or were these documents available to you the day before or at any time before you were served, but that you deliberately lost possession, custody, or control and saw to it that they were not available to you prior to that time because you feared, or had reason to believe, that a subpoena would be served upon you to produce them?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, I must for clarity at this time decline to answer the question on the grounds as previously stated invoking the fifth amendment, but I would like to state that I am——

The CHAIRMAN. Wait a minute. You cannot invoke the fifth amendment and then say something to just applaud yourself unless you realize you will be subject to cross-examination on that.

I am making myself plain.

Mr. LACKEY. Yes, sir; I was trying to do this in the interest of clarity. I am stating that I have never destroyed any document or correspondence, et cetera, in contempt of this body.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Then my next question is this: Accepting as true that you have never destroyed any documents in contempt of this body at any time, even before you were subpoenaed to produce them, did you at any time, let us say from March 30, 1965, when the committee announced that it would conduct these hearings, just transfer them to another person or somehow, without destroying them, lose custody, possession, control, and availability of the documents?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, I have never taken any deliberate steps——

The CHAIRMAN. You are not answering my question, and I insist that you do.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, would you restate the question? Perhaps I misunderstood it.

The CHAIRMAN. You testified that at no time, even prior to the service of the subpoena on November 5, did you destroy these documents. I base my question on the assumption that you did not destroy them. Not having destroyed them, did you have possession, custody, or control, or were those documents available to you from March 30, 1965, when we announced the hearings, and did you then transfer them to somebody else, pass them on to somebody else, or deliberately lose or do away with custody, possession, or control, or did you see to it that they were no longer available, they were no longer available to you?

You are under oath, and that is it.

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Willis, I believe you gave me this date—from March 30 of 1965. That is the date when this hearing was announced. Is it from that date up until the present? Is that the date in your question?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, during those dates these documents requested by the subpoena were not within my custody, possession, or control so that I could have destroyed them, done away with them, or anything else.

The CHAIRMAN. Then I will go back to my first question which was broader: Did you at any time have possession, control, or custody of those documents, and were they at any time available to you, and did you see to it that you lost possession, control, or custody, and did you see to it that they were no longer available because of a fear or because of a realization or because you had reasons to believe that at some time you would be ordered by subpoena to produce them?

Mr. LACKEY. No, sir, Mr. Willis.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Lackey, you have responded to my questions under oath, so I direct Mr. Appell to proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce :

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda in your possession, custody or control or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as Special Investigator to the Imperial Wizard or Kludge at Large of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, of Mississippi which the Constitution and Laws of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I request you to produce in your representative capacity stated in the attachment, paragraph 2, the documents called for in paragraph 2.

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Appell, with all possible respect for this body, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not have access to such records, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever had in your possession, custody, or control any documents relating to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and this refers to these last documents called for and the ones now called for?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense for so doing the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, the 1st, and the 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Lackey, it has been made abundantly clear to you and your counsel that these documents just called for, and the ones called for in paragraph 1, that you were being called upon to produce them in the representative capacities stated in the subpoena.

The reason you have given for refusal to produce the documents called for by both paragraphs 1 and 2 of the subpoena do not, in my opinion, legally justify your refusal, and those reasons are rejected.

I now order and direct you to produce them.

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, with all possible respect I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not have access to such records and could therefore—it was a physical impossibility for me to bring such records.

The CHAIRMAN. I understand that, but yet you invoke the privileges of the constitutional amendments you related. The two do not make sense. That is why I directed you to produce them.

Unless you want to explain your position, there is something wrong somewhere. Maybe I am wrong and dumb, but you do not need the invocation if what you say is true, so I have ordered you, and you have refused. That is the way the record stands.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey—

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know who has them?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, with all possible respect, I must refuse to answer that question for the reasons previously stated, invoking the fifth amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Lackey, you testified under oath that you do not now have, and never have had, possession, custody, or control of these documents called for in paragraphs 1 and 2 of the subpoena and that at no time were they available to you during the period from March 30, 1965, until the present time. You also testified under oath that you did not destroy them and that you did nothing to divest yourself of custody, possession, or control. I have the right not to accept that position and to cross-examine you on that, and I am now doing it, especially because I take the position that you have waived your fifth amendment rights, and so I now ask you, What became of those documents?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, with all respect, all possible respect to this committee and its staff, I must decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated, invoking my rights guaranteed me by the fifth amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to answer that question and to produce the documents.

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman—

The CHAIRMAN. First, I order and direct you to answer the question I have just asked.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know who has possession of those documents at this time or at any time since you were served with the subpoena on November 5, 1965?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Willis, with all due dignity and respect, sir, I must decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated, invoking my rights guaranteed me by the fifth amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Did those documents ever exist? It is obvious some documents relating to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan did exist.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I must respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to answer that question.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I must respectfully decline—

The CHAIRMAN. You don't have to do anything. You may choose to do what you want. You do decline?

Mr. LACKEY. Yes, sir; that is correct, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. To answer questions on the grounds previously stated?

Mr. LACKEY. Yes, sir; that is absolutely correct.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, when and where were you born?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I was born in Greenwood, Leflore County, Mississippi, September 12, 1936.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, my present residence is 1414 Camelia Street, Greenwood, Leflore County, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I entered the public school systems in Greenwood, Leflore County, Mississippi, where I graduated from Greenwood High School.

Mr. APPELL. In what year, sir?

Mr. LACKEY. In the year 1954, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you serve in the military of the United States or the State of Mississippi?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I did not finish on the educational question you asked before. Would you like me to finish that before I go to the next question?

Mr. APPELL. Yes; please continue.

Mr. LACKEY. I graduated from Greenwood High School in Leflore County, Mississippi. I attended Mississippi State University, at that time Mississippi State College, for an intermittent period of about 5 years, dropping out occasionally to work and then returning the next year to the university.

Mr. APPELL. How many credits did you earn?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I don't have my university transcript with me and the length of time and the exact hours escape me.

Mr. APPELL. You did not receive a degree?

Mr. LACKEY. That is correct, sir; I did not receive a degree.

Mr. APPELL. Now, returning to the question about military service, have you had any military service?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I served 8 years in the United States Army Enlisted Reserve. I served 2 to 3 years in the Mississippi National Guard. I had no active duty other than the short periods of active duty required for training by these reserve components.

Mr. APPELL. As a member of the military establishments you have set forth, were you trained in counterinsurgency and did you qualify with an M-1 rifle?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, in these reserve components there is at least 2 hours per week of counterinsurgency training which is required in all reserve training. And in the normal course of events, I attended those classes on counterinsurgency, but I would not say I achieved any degree of proficiency as such in counterinsurgency.

Sir, during the 8 years that I spent in the United States Army Reserve, I did not have occasion to qualify with the United States rifle caliber 30 M-1. In the Mississippi National Guard's annual spring firing range training, I did qualify with the United States rifle caliber 30 M-1.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to the military service which you have stated, would you give the committee your principal employment background since 1960?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, my principal employment since the year of 1960 was a small motorcycle sales and service shop, which I operated myself in my backyard.

Mr. APPELL. From 1963 to the present time, would you give the committee sources of income which you had, other than the motorcycle repair and sales service and with the Mississippi National Guard?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I most respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, I hand you a form of "Application for Citizenship in the Invisible Empire in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi" and ask if you have ever used such a document to recruit Mississippians into the organization stated in the application?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document marked "Gordon Lackey Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, were you a kleagle at large or organizer of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, the committee's investigation established that you did hold such a position, in addition to other positions. Therefore, I want to ask you the purport of the last sentence in the application, which reads as follows:

If I prove untrue as a Klansman I will willingly accept as my portion whatever penalty your authority may impose.

What does that mean, sir?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I believe I missed a little of the wording. Would you please repeat it to me, sir?

Mr. APPELL. [Reading:]

If I prove untrue as a Klansman I will willingly accept as my portion whatever penalty your authority may impose.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I must respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, I show you a document, the cover page of which is missing, which describes itself to be "The Constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the Sovereign Realm of Mississippi." This copy that I am showing you was printed after April 1964 because, according to the document, it contains three amendments passed on April 19, 1964. I am showing you this document and asking you if you are familiar with its contents?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I most respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document marked "Gordon Lackey Exhibit No. 2." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 253-292.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, the committee's investigation establishes that when the White Knights was in its formation stage in late 1963 and early 1964 that you were appointed to a committee for the purpose of drafting a constitution for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated I, in all respectfulness, decline to answer that question, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know Douglas A. Byrd to be the Grand Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Louisiana, and did Mr. Byrd assist you in the drafting of this constitution?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Appell, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, I shall read to you from Article V of this constitution, which relates to recruiting, and after reading it to you I shall ask some questions based upon the provisions of this constitution:

Section 1. All Kleagles and Organizers shall be selected on the basis of their depth of Christian Dedication, Ability to Organize and Instruct, their Domestic Situation, and their Moral Integrity.

Section 2. The Klan Kleagle and his selected Kleagles shall be primarily responsible to the Klan for the further expansion and organization of the Klan.

Section 3. All Kleagles must possess the clerical ability to perform the work which the office requires.

Section 4. All Kleagles shall, as a part of each Initiation Ceremony, prepare a receipt in quadruplicate form, and shall number same, and shall obtain thereon the number of the Klavern Kligrath, or the temporary officer in charge of the Klavern, if UnKhartered. The Kleagle shall then leave one copy with the Kligrath or temporary officer. The Kleagle shall then, within fifteen days, present the remaining three copies of the quadruplicate receipt form to the proper District Klabursar thereon, and leave one copy with the Klabursar. The Kleagle shall then forward both remaining copies of the receipt to the Grand Giant who shall number both copies, retain one and return the other to the Kleagle. The four copies shall be retained by their respective holders and surrendered upon call of a bona-fide Klan Auditor. The Klabees of Khartered Klaverns shall perform the clerical duties outlined in this section.

Section 5. All Kleagles may be compensated by law.

Section 6. No Kleagle, Officer or Klansman in any capacity shall ever attempt to recruit an alien for membership into the Klan who is a negro, jew or papist, not [sic] shall any alien who is cohabiting with or married to, by common law or pagan ways, a negro, jew or papist ever be allowed membership in the Klan.

Section 7. No person who professes atheism, or who refuses to acknowledge Almighty God as his Creator, Savior and Inspiration shall ever be allowed membership in the Klan.

Section 8. No person who espouses any allegiance in any form to any government or governmental system, social, ecclesiastical or political, which is in any way incompatible with the Lawful, Constitutional, Governmental System of the United States of America shall ever be allowed membership in the Klan. No person who advocates the overthrow or erosion of the Lawful, Constitutional Government of the United States of America shall ever be allowed membership in the Klan. No person shall ever be recruited who is not a White, Gentile, American-born Citizen.

Section 9. Kleagles shall scout into new areas and contact prospective Christian militant aliens for membership in a careful and Judicious manner using maximum possible secrecy, after being commissioned for this work by the Imperial Wizard.

Section 10. The membership of the Klan shall be composed of Christian men who meet the requirements heretofore stated and who are Twenty-One Years of Age, or older, sound of mind, sober in habits, of good moral character and not guilty of rape, murder, or treason.

Section 11. After the Initial men have begun a new Klavern, or a Klavern has been established, the Exalted Cyclops or temporary [sic] officer in Charge shall call for names of men to be submitted as prospective candidates for membership. All members of the particular Klavern who are Klansmen in good standing shall be allowed to submit names of persons whom they have known for at least five years personally, and for two years intimately, at least. A submitted name must be accompanied by the vouch of an additional Klavern member in good standing. All submitted names shall be immediately recorded on the Prospective Candidate Roll within the Klavern.

The Exalted Cyclops or Temporary Officer in Charge of the Klavern shall require that all names of Prospective Candidates shall be called and read aloud at two consecutive meetings of the Klavern without a dissenting vote being cast against any particular prospective candidate, before the sponsor of that particular candidate shall be granted permission to approach that particular candidate for membership. If no dissent is heard on a particular candidate for two consecutive Klavern Readings of his name, the sponsor shall have permission to contact the candidate for membership.

Mr. Chairman, I ask that the remaining paragraphs—

The CHAIRMAN. Let the document be inserted in the record in full.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, in Section 4 that I read to you, it states that one copy of the receipt is returned to the kleagle. What disposition did you make of the copy which, according to Section 4, was to be retained by you so that it might be surrendered upon call of a bona fide Klan auditor?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Appell, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, you continually invoke the 1st, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States, but the constitution of the White Knights only holds to the Constitution as originally written and those amendments were not in it. Can you explain that to me?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I most respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Lackey, it is obvious that some documents passed through your hands at some time, particularly, as I understood the reading of Section 4 of your constitution, in connection with recruitment operations. Did you recruit anyone to membership since the service of this subpoena, or since March 30, 1965?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, for the reasons as previously stated, I most respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. And I now again order and direct you to produce the documents called for by the subpoena.

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Willis, sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I now order and direct you to answer the last question I propounded. I don't know if I asked that of you before; did I?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. All right, then I do not accept the reasons given by you and the constitutional provisions relied upon as a basis for not producing those documents and I order and direct you to do so.

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Willis, I am sorry, sir, there seems to be a little confusion between my attorney and I. What is the last question?

The CHAIRMAN. It is a direction to produce the documents.

Mr. LACKEY. Thank you, sir.

Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Go on.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan provides that a klavle who performs ceremonies of initiation in Klaverns other than his home Klavern shall be entitled to deduct from the initiation fee $4 for his personal fee and shall remit the remaining $6 to the proper district klavbursar. To whom did you transmit the $6 as provided for in the constitution?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Appell, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions with respect to the activities of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Lackey.

He was appointed, along with Douglas A. Byrd and others, to write a constitution for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. Douglas Byrd at that time was the former Grand Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Mississippi, which has been known by the cover name of the Louisiana Rifle Association and was banished in 1963 from office and membership by the Imperial Dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Royal V. Young.

In early 1964, at one of the first meetings of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Brookhaven, Mississippi, Mr. Lackey was made an Imperial Investigator and placed under the control of Ernest S. Gilbert, then grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation and a man who is now the kleagle of the United Klans of America.

In October 1964, he became a kleagle or organizer at large.

In October 1964, he became one of two province officers holding the position of province KBI in Province 2 to replace Wesley Kersey. Both were members of the Leflore Unit No. 1 of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In March 1965 he became province giant for the Leflore Province 2.

In August 1964, Lackey discussed blowing up the SNCC headquarters around Greenwood, Mississippi. However, since cars parked in the vicinity were believed to be occupied by FBI agents, the project was forgotten.

On August 30, 1964, the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan held a statewide meeting at Crystal Springs, Mississippi. Among other things, it was agreed to issue temporary charters with 25 men and permanent charters with 40. Lackey objected to this procedure.

On September 14, 1964, at an executive meeting of the White Knights held in Crystal Springs, Mississippi, Gordon Lackey was in attendance.

On January 1, 1965, a meeting was held at the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson, Mississippi, for the purpose of establishing a defense fund to be known as the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund. This fund had as its primary function the raising of funds for the defense of Philadelphia, Mississippi, defendants accused of the murder of three civil rights workers. A board of directors was appointed and consisted of Glen Swetman of Biloxi, Mississippi, a province giant of the White Knights; Pete Shumaker, of Kosciusko, Mississippi; Reverend Delmar Dennis, Meridian, Mississippi; and James M. Hooper of Sidon, Mississippi. The state chairman of the fund was Elmore D. Greaves of Jackson, Mississippi. Present at the meeting in addition to Mr. Lackey were the Grand Giant B. D. Buckles, Imperial Wizard Bowers, Province Giant J. K. Greer, Grand Dragon Julius Harper, Elmore Greaves, Johnny Bostick of Natchez, Mississippi, and E. L. "Tiny" Lewis of Natchez, Mississippi.

On January 30, 1965, a meeting was held in Room 3-E of the Robert E. Lee Hotel in Jackson, Mississippi. Gordon Lackey was present at this meeting along with other Klan officials, who used this occasion for the purpose of attending a Klan cabinet meeting held on January 31.

On January 20, 1964, Gordon M. Lackey applied for a citizens band radio license covering four transmitters.

In May of 1965, M. F. White of Greenwood, Mississippi, hired a Negro, Walter Fisher, to paint a house he owned in Greenwood, Mississippi. Fisher, unknown to Mr. White, hired Dewey Green, a relative of the Negro student at Ole Miss. Klansmen painted a black band around the newly painted house with a type of paint sold to Gordon Lackey for use in his motorcycle repair shop.

Lackey recruited into membership in the White Knights Byron de la Beckwith, who was arrested and tried for the murder of Medgar Evers.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates Mr. Lackey possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this committee and would materially aid this committee and the Congress in proposing remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Lackey, you heard the statement read by Mr. Appell. You now have the opportunity to confirm or challenge the accuracy of the statement or to explain any part of it. In addition you may, if you desire, offer any other matter you deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I respectfully decline to do so for the reasons previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Lackey, I inform you that in the absence of your rebuttal or other facts that might come to the attention of this committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. Bearing that in mind, do you wish to say anything?

Mr. LACKEY. No, sir, I do not care to make any statement.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, with respect to the painting of a black band around a rental house in Greenwood, Mississippi, owned by M. F. White, did you have a conversation with Mr. White with respect to the Negroes that he hired?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Appell, for the reasons as previously stated, I most respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you told Mr. White he had hired the "wrong Nigger" to paint his house and that a neighbor had told Green, the Negro, to get out of the neighborhood?

The CHAIRMAN. You shook your head indicating in effect it was not so or you did not know about it. You are at liberty to state the facts or test the accuracy of our investigation. Do you care to answer that question?

Mr. LACKEY. No, sir, for the reasons as previously stated I most respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, I ask you whether or not the black band was painted around this house by you, John Winstead, and Byron de la Beckwith?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, with all possible respect, I must decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Appell, for clarification, you mentioned that Mr. Lackey had recruited Byron de la Beckwith into the Klan, but you did not state a time. Was that before or after the hung jury proceeding?

Mr. APPELL. I think Mr. Byron de la Beckwith has been tried twice, both of which trials resulted in a hung jury, and it is the committee's information that it was after both of those trials.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you an application for a citizens band radio license containing the signature of Gordon M. Lackey. The date set forth here as the date the application was signed is January 20, 1964.

However, I think the proper year should be 1965 because the stamped receipt of the Federal Communications Commission shows the fee was received on January 22, 1965.

I hand you this application and ask you if this is a copy of the application that you submitted for a citizens band radio license?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, for the reasons as previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Lackey, you have a perfect right to say, if it is right, that this application for a citizens band license was for the purpose of conducting your business. Is that true?

Mr. LACKEY. I am sorry, sir, but I must stand on my position and respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Then I must ask another question: Was the purpose of the application for the citizens band license because you intended to use it for Klan activities?

Mr. LACKEY. Again, Mr. Chairman, with all possible respect, I decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, did you know Mr. A. C. Herrington to be the grand kleagle or the head organizer for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Chairman, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, invoking the fifth amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that he holds or has held that position.

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, I must, with all respect, decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lackey, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that among the kleagles at large of the White Knights of Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi you knew the following kleagles:

Woody Mathews from Utica, Mississippi; the Reverend Rank Boyte of Attala, Mississippi; Frank Breeland of Columbia, Mississippi; Ralph Edwards of Yazoo City, Mississippi; J. N. Fortenberry of Jackson, Mississippi; and Bill Sullivan of Pearl, Mississippi.

Mr. LACKEY. I most respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I have some questions.

I notice this witness, according to this investigative report, was one of the drafters of the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and he has a high school education and for 5 years was intermittently enrolled in a college. For that reason, I would like to ask if you can explain one or two provisions of this constitution:

On page 12 of the constitution, Section 18, it sets forth the duties of the grand chaplain. It says:

The Grand Chaplain shall serve in the capacity of Christian advisor on all questions of morals and idealistic Klavern conduct.

Then it states this, which I hope you can explain to me:

In cases of extreme penalties the advise [sic] of the Grand Chaplain shall be sought and considered.

As one of the drafters of this constitution, what would be an example of a case of extreme penalties?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Weltner, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. On page 36, Mr. Lackey, of this constitution—and I would like the chief investigator to provide Mr. Lackey with a copy of that constitution if there is any question of it—Section 5 reads as follows:

All Klan functions, regardless of time, place and manner, shall begin with prayer, and end with prayer to Almighty God.

I want to know if that was applied to the case of carrying out extreme penalties as provided in the preceding section?

Mr. LACKEY. Mr. Weltner, with all possible respect, I must decline to answer that question for the reasons as previously stated, invoking the fifth amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. WELTNER. Now if you will examine page 39, Amendment 2 of the original constitution. These amendments were passed on April 19, 1964, to become effective 30 days thereafter. It states:

No disciplinary cross shall be burned on private property without prior approval and investigation by the Province Investigators and Province Titan.

I would like you to tell the committee what is a disciplinary cross?

Mr. LACKEY. Sir, for the reasons as previously stated I must most respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Chairman, I want to ask Mr. Appell, in describing Project 4, did you say extermination?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee stands at recess until 2:15.

AFTERNOON SESSION—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 2:15 p.m., Hon. Edwin E. Willis, chairman, presiding.)

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis and Weltner.)

The CHAIRMAN. As chairman of the full Committee on Un-American Activities, I hereby constitute for the purpose of this afternoon's hearings the following subcommittee—myself as chairman, Mr. Weltner, and Mr. Buchanan. This means two constitute a quorum.

Let it be noted in the record that a quorum is present.

Call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Thomas Brock.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BROCK. I do.

TESTIMONY OF THOMAS COLLINS BROCK, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. BROCK. Thomas Collins Brock.

Mr. APPELL. C-o-l-l-i-n-s?

Mr. BROCK. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Last name, B-r-o-c-k?

Mr. BROCK. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, are you appearing before the committee this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by Investigator Sullivan of this committee on November 1, 1965?

Mr. BROCK. I am.

The CHAIRMAN. It is understood, attorneys for this witness, that this witness, Mr. Brock—and let us say all others you might represent, heard the opening statement I made outlining the purposes and objectives of these hearings?

Mr. BLACKWELL. I so stipulate.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, are you represented by counsel?

Mr. BROCK. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Post Office Box 411, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you, there was an attachment thereto made a part of the subpoena, and under the terms of it, it commanded you to bring with you and produce documents set forth in certain paragraphs.

Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, namely the Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you or available to you as the present or past Chief Klubursar of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. Brock, in the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1 of your subpoena, I ask that you produce those documents.

Mr. BROCK. I am sorry I cannot produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to any such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you understand that the subpoena is for you to bring the documents in your representative capacity and not as an individual, as though those documents pertain to your own affairs?

Mr. BROCK. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you now saying that in the capacity stated in the subpoena you do not now have, and have never had, possession, custody, or control of those documents and they never were available to you?

Mr. BROCK. No, sir; I didn't say that.

The CHAIRMAN. That is where we do not seem to understand each other.

What did you say?

Mr. BROCK. I stated that I could not produce such records as were ordered by this subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do have access to any such records.

The CHAIRMAN. I wish counsel could in a short way explain his client's position. If we could understand each other, I think we could move faster.

Mr. BUCKLEY. I think so too.

What he is saying is simply this, he cannot produce the records because it was not physically in his power to do so at the time the subpoena was issued to him requiring him to.

The CHAIRMAN. Were the documents in your possession at any time before the subpoena was issued upon you?

Mr. BROCK. Mr. Willis, sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and I invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you divest yourself of possession, custody, or control, or in any way make it impossible for you to produce those documents because you apprehended that you might be called upon to produce them by subpoena?

(At this point Mr. Buchanan entered the hearing room.)

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know who has possession of those documents?

Mr. BROCK. Mr. Willis, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you occupy a position before this subpoena was served upon you which required you to have possession of the documents, and either resigned or assumed another position whereby someone else would have to assume possession and custody or control and whereby you could transfer those documents to that individual?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did those documents ever exist?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the previous reasons already stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Brock, have you ever had in your custody, possession, or control the documents listed in the subpoena?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question. That is in article 1 and 2 as stated on the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Is it not true that, having heard about the hearings to come, some steps were taken to divest you of possession, custody, or control so you can now say what you are saying?

Mr. BROCK. Mr. Willis, sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I tell you, sir, since those documents were ordered to be produced by you in your representative capacity, I do not accept as valid the reasons you have given and, more properly, the reasons you fail to give as justifying your invocation of the constitutional provisions relied upon.

I now therefore order and direct you to produce them in the capacity indicated in the subpoena.

Mr. BROCK. Sir, I cannot produce such records by subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you, or to your knowledge did anyone else, destroy the documents?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the previous reasons stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I further tell you, in my opinion, having taken the way out in the self-serving manner you have indicated, I have a right to cross-examine you on that subject and therefore I ask you again: Did those documents exist at any time?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I think by opening the door in the self-serving manner you did in failing to enlighten the committee, it is obviously proper—I must, and now do, order you to answer that question.

Mr. BROCK. Sir, I respectfully decline for the reasons previously stated, and respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

It is understood he is under order both to answer questions and produce.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, on June 7, 1964, did you personally, using the hood of an automobile, give a receipt to a Klansman for the payment of funds which they owed to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. BROCK. Learned, Mississippi, January 19, 1917.

Mr. APPELL. January, Mr. Brock?

Mr. BROCK. June—I beg your pardon.

Mr. APPELL. Would you recite for the committee your educational background?

Mr. BROCK. I attended grade school at Lebanon. Three years at Raymond High School finishing my high school education, and just a month or two at junior college. I finished my high school work at Hines Junior, which at that time had high school work, and then continued about 2 months, I suppose, in college—Hines Junior College, Greenwood, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960, what has been your employment background?

Mr. BROCK. Principally farming has always been my background.

Mr. APPELL. From what other sources have you received compensation?

Mr. BROCK. I served as justice of the peace a little over 2 years, I believe, and one full 4-year term.

The CHAIRMAN. Was that an elected position? Were you elected?

Mr. BROCK. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you currently a justice of the peace?

Mr. BROCK. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What other sources of revenue have you had since 1960?

Mr. BROCK. I believe it was March 1, 1964, I started working for the Hines County Cooperative.

Mr. APPELL. Are you still employed by them?

Mr. BROCK. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. What other sources of revenue have you had since 1960?

Mr. BROCK. Other than maybe an oil lease—you know sometimes they come around and lease for oil—something of that nature, that about covers it.

Mr. APPELL. And that is all of the revenue that you have received from 1960?

Mr. BROCK. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever receive any revenue provided for by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan for any position that you held within that organization?

The CHAIRMAN. Let's make it plain, as I understand the question, he is asking you for revenues that you might have received as an officer, and I suppose that will be the next question. I do not know. Let it be understood right now that Mr. Appell is asking you, did you receive revenues provided for and which you were entitled to receive personally as a member of the Klan.

Mr. BROCK. Mr. Appell, would you mind repeating your question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you receive any revenue or income from the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

The CHAIRMAN. Personally, and not in a representative capacity for the time being.

Mr. BROCK. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. The constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan provides for reimbursement of travel and meals of officials of that organization. Have you ever received such compensation?

The CHAIRMAN. Or reimbursement.

Mr. APPELL. Or reimbursement?

Mr. BROCK. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you receive revenues—and I certainly do not know the answer to this question—as a member or as an official of the Ku Klux Klan which you, in turn, transmitted to someone else?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, I hand you a mimeographed form captioned at the top "Mississippi Constitutional Council." It provides that certain information be supplied: the unit number, county, district, subdistrict, and recruiter's number, and I ask you if that is a cover designation of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Mississippi Constitutional Council?

Mr. BROCK. What does this represent? State your question again.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you after reviewing that form whether you know if the Mississippi Constitutional Council shown on the top of that document is the cover designation for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

The CHAIRMAN. Let me explain that so it will be perfectly clear to you.

We have evidence under oath in the record, in innumerable instances, to the effect that Klan organizations or Klaverns, in order to keep secret the fact they are Klan organizations, operate under assumed or cover names or under front names, and this is what this question is about.

Do you know whether or not the name indicated on that document is a cover name or an assumed name to indicate greater respectability for what is really a Klan organization?

tribution made of it are instructions which are identical with those contained in the constitution as in response to the recruiting of new members.

Mr. Brock, commencing in February of 1964, did you become a klabursar of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, the constitution provides that there will be a board of five klabursars and with one elected by the five to be its chief.

Do you know Everett D. Wiggs of Woodland, Mississippi; Gordon Sykes of Greenville, Mississippi; Jack Williams of Pelahatchie, Mississippi; and Donald Elmer Henshaw of Laurel, Mississippi, to have been fellow klabursars with you?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you attend a meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan on June 7, 1964, near Raleigh, Mississippi, a rather large meeting at which some 300 Klansmen were present?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, it was announced at that meeting that money collected by Donald Henshaw was to be turned over to you as the chief klabursar?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that at that meeting held near Raleigh on June 7, 1964, a speech was made by the Imperial Wizard, Sam Bowers, and that in the course of this speech he urged members to obtain firearms, that he urged younger members to travel to assist law enforcement and emphasized that these members were to stay out of trouble until you catch them, referring to COFO [Council of Federated Organizations] workers, outside the law, and, he said, "then under Mississippi law you have the right to kill them."

Did you hear that speech made by Imperial Wizard Sam Bowers?

The CHAIRMAN. I am sorry, I did not hear the question.

Mr. APPELL. I asked the witness whether or not he was present at the meeting on June 7, 1964, and whether or not he heard a speech by the Imperial Wizard, Sam Bowers, in which the Imperial Wizard urged all members to obtain firearms and urged younger members to travel to assist law enforcement, and emphasized that they should stay out of trouble until you catch them, referring to COFO workers, outside the law and then under Mississippi law, according to the Imperial Wizard, "you have the right to kill them."

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did Mr. Bowers claim at that meeting that such a thing had happened at Old Miss and, as a result of it, some six United States marshals had been killed there, but the then Attorney General Kennedy was keeping it quiet?

Mr. BROCK. For the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, have you heard within the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Projects 1, 2, 3, 4 stemming from threatening telephone calls up to elimination or extermination of people?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that Bowers at that speech made a report to the Klansmen that there were than 97 projects working which would be completed in the near future?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Can you enlighten the committee as to the nature of any one of the 97 projects?

Mr. BROCK. For the reasons previously stated, sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, did you attend the meeting on November 15, 1964, near Brandon, Mississippi, at which there was discussed a moratorium on the third and fourth degree projects?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that at that meeting Imperial Wizard Bowers reported that the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan had incurred some $19,000 in legal fees, including cash bail, and that the treasury had only $18,500 and that, in addition, the State Treasury owed $4,500 throughout the State, including $500 to the Lauderdale Klavern.

Were you present—I put it to you as a fact and ask you to affirm or deny those facts.

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, did you attend a State meeting of the White Knights in Pearl River County on May 2, 1965?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the various bursars were called upon to make a report at that meeting and it was reported that Judge Tommy Brock had $2,100 on hand; that Vincent Purser from Gulfport had $800; that Dewitt Sandifer, of Jayess, Mississippi, had $350; and that Billy Buckles advised that Julius Harper had $400; and that Billy Buckles also advised that the Greenwood Unit had $1,000.

I put it to you as a fact and ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brock, under the constitution certain financial records are maintained by the klabursars in order to assure the organization that money is not mishandled or that there is no malfeasance in office and other things. Therefore as the chief klabursar you maintained records. When did you dispose of those records?

Mr. BROCK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. I call Mr. A. C. Herrington.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you shall give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HERRINGTON. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF A. C. HERRINGTON, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES G. BLACKWELL

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, please?

Mr. HERRINGTON. A. C. Herrington. That is spelled H-e-r-r.

Mr. APPELL. You pronounce it Herrington?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Well, it is pronounced both ways now, H-a and H-e both down there.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, are you appearing before the committee this afternoon in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by Investigator John D. Sullivan on November 4, 1965?

Mr. HERRINGTON. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. I am Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, under the terms of the subpoena served upon you and attachment thereto which is made part of the subpoena, you were called upon in part 1 to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, namely the Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past Exalted Cyclops, King Kleagle or State Organizer of the White Knights, Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. Herrington, I request you to produce the documents in the representative capacity set forth in part 1 of the subpoena.

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, I cannot produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have possession, custody, or control or were they available to you in the representative capacity described in the subpoena, the documents called for in the subpoena at any time after March 30, 1965, when the committee announced that it would conduct these hearings?

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Were those records to your knowledge destroyed, done away with in any way?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you take any steps to divest yourself, or do you know whether anyone else took any steps to divest himself, of these documents so that you could take the position you are now taking today?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. You have refused to produce these documents on the grounds that you are unable to produce them because you have not had possession, custody, or control of them and they have not been available to you since you were served with this subpoena and since March 30, 1965.

Did you have possession, custody, or control of these records or were they available to you at any time?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do these document called for in this part of the subpoena exist?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did they ever exist?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Where are they now?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Who has these documents now?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you taken the position you have because, as you stated, while you have not had possession, custody, or control in the capacity of the position you held or now hold with the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, you nevertheless had them as an official of that outfit under a cover or front name?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, will you repeat the question, please?

The CHAIRMAN. I want to be sure about the situation. You said you did not have possession, custody, or control of these records; that they were not available to you; that you did not destroy them, and then proceeded to invoke the fifth amendment. I am now asking you whether you had custody, possession, or control of these documents not, for example, as king kleagle or State organizer for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, but whether you held them as an official of a cover name or a front name for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Herrington, you stated that you have not had possession of the documents mentioned in the subpoena since March 30, 1965. Is that correct?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Yes, sir; that is right.

Mr. WELTNER. Have you had possession of the documents, or any of the documents, mentioned in that subpoena subsequent to February 1, 1965, that date being the first date where there was public discussion of the possibility of investigating the Ku Klux Klan by this committee—February 1, 1965?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, I have those mentioned in number 4 here, the 1045 mentioned.

Mr. WELTNER. I refer to the documents mentioned in paragraph 1—books, records, and documents pertaining to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Mississippi Constitutional Council, particularly in a representative capacity.

My question was whether or not you had those documents in your possession at any time subsequent to February 1, 1965. You stated you have not had such documents subsequent to March 30, 1965.

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. I will ask one more question. On March 17, this committee conducted an executive session in which the proposed investigation of the Ku Klux Klan was discussed. That meeting was duly reported in the press and given some degree of coverage.

I will ask you whether or not you have had in your possession between the dates March 17 and March 30 any of the documents mentioned in paragraphs 1 or 2 of that subpoena.

Mr. HERRINGTON. Would you repeat the dates, sir?

Mr. WELTNER. Bear in mind that you have testified under oath you have not had any of these documents since March 30, 1965. That was the date that this committee decided to conduct this investigation.

I asked you, first, whether or not you had any documents subsequent to February 1, 1965, which was the first time there was any widespread public discussion of an investigation of the Klan by this committee. You declined to answer that question on the grounds of the fifth amendment and others.

I stated to you then that on March 17 this committee met, and the indications apparently were in the press reports that there was going to be an investigation.

I want to know whether or not you had in your possession any documents identified in paragraphs 1 or 2 of the Mississippi White Knights or the Mississippi Constitutional Council subsequent to the date March 17.

Mr. HERRINGTON. 1955?

Mr. WELTNER. 1965.

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. You had not?

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, in connection with your response to the production of records and your statement that you are powerless to do so, is any of your answer encompassed within an oath taken by members of the Ku Klux Klan, White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, which states that:

I swear that I will never be the cause of a breach of secrecy or any other act which may be detrimental to the integrity of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, to the best of my knowledge I have told the truth and nothing but the truth on this stand.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, the committee's investigation established that you held the position of Klan kleagle for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi. Is the committee's information factual?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, at the meeting near Raleigh, Mississippi, on June 7, 1964, it was announced that the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan had organized 62 Klaverns in 82 Mississippi counties. Is that information factual?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, the committee's investigation established that, at that meeting of June 7 there was handed out to some 300 Klansmen present a document headed "Harrasment." I hand you a reproduction of a leaflet and ask you if you have ever seen this document, sir.

In looking at that, Mr. Herrington, I would like to explain to you that this is a mimeographed reproduction on both sides of one sheet. In our making a copy it was impossible to reproduce it all on one sheet of paper, so it is on two sheets of paper.

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask permission to put this document in the record.

The CHAIRMAN. It has been put in, and all documents which might have been commented on, handed to, or exhibited to the witness will, as usual, be inserted in the record at the respective points.

(Document previously marked "James Jones Exhibit No. 34." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 172-173.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, while the entire document is in the record I would like to call the attention of the committee to one paragraph of this document which relates to some equipment which may be found useful in harassment:

(1) Roofing nails; (2) sugar and molasses; (3) firecrackers, (4) snakes and lizards; (5) mad dogs; (6) itching powder; (7) stink bombs; (8) tear gas; (9) paint; (10) lacquer thinner; (11) slingshots, marbles, BB guns, air rifles, bow and arrow, cross bows; (12) blank cartridges and pistols; (13) Roman candles; (14) sky rockets; (15) salt and pepper; (16) noisemakers.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Appell, those were recommended acts of harassment?

Mr. APPELL. Instruments which may be used in carrying out acts of harassment described in this document.

The CHAIRMAN. Going beyond that, what does the other document say about the four steps and the procedure of this organization?

Mr. APPELL. We had testimony under oath, Mr. Chairman, that within the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan they operated with four projects: Project No. 1, threatening telephone calls or visits; 2, burning of a cross, usually on property of an individual, private property; 3, beating or flogging, burning of property, wild shooting into property, and bombing; 4, extermination.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. HERRINGTON, did you participate in any of these acts of harassment outlined in the list which Mr. Appell read?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you participate in any of the four steps outlined by Mr. Appell as having been disclosed to this committee under oath?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. I would like to ask a question from this document. A portion of this document, Mr. Herrington, states, that:

As far as our immediate work is concerned, harassment fulfils two important goals: 1. It provides a healthy, not-too-dangerous outlet for the Spirited Enthusiasm of the Membership and trains them to work together. If successful, it boosts morale.

I want to ask you, Mr. Herrington, whether you think the use of mad dogs and tear gas is a healthy, enthusiastic outlet?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, could you be more specific?

Mr. WELTNER. Yes, sir. I will ask the investigator to hand to the witness a copy of this document so that he might have it in his hand and follow the portion from which I read.

Mr. Herrington, if you will look at the third paragraph it states:

As far as our immediate work is concerned, harassment fulfils two important goals: 1. It provides a healthy, not-too-dangerous outlet for the Spirited Enthusiasm of the Membership and trains them to work together. If successful, it boosts morale.

Then at the bottom of the first page of the document, some equipment which may be found useful in harassment is listed. Then there are 16 different items. Two of those are mad dogs and tear gas.

My question to you is this: Do you feel that the use of mad dogs and tear gas in harassing other persons is a healthy, not-too-dangerous outlet for spirited enthusiasm?

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir, I don't think it is.

Mr. WELTNER. Look at that list there and tell me whether you feel that any of these 16 items constitute a healthy, not-too-dangerous outlet for spirited enthusiasm.

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir; I do not.

Mr. WELTNER. You are stating under oath now that not a single one of these recommended items of equipment is really a healthy outlet for enthusiasm?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, within a rule I state that I see no use in them.

Mr. WELTNER. Look on the second page, there. It states:

In addition to the regular equipment herein [sic] listed, the proper use of the Telephone must be given tremendous weight as an effective means of harassment. * * *

I would like to ask you whether or not you feel that the telephone is a proper instrument for harassing others.

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir, I cannot see how it would be.

Mr. WELTNER. Have you ever seen this document before?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Herrington, on page 2, the fourth paragraph of the document begins as follows—I refer to the fourth full paragraph:

It must always be remembered that ours is a Nocturnal Organization. We work best at night and our greatest victories will be achieved at night.

Then it says:

Cameras do not work so well at night. We must harass the enemy at night, and, in general have little or nothing to do with him in the daytime. * * *

What victories are referred to in that statement? What is the meaning of "our greatest victories" where it states, "We work best at night"?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. I have just one more question. I would like you to take just a few seconds to glance through this document because I would like to ask you this:

On page 1, the second paragraph, it states:

In general, harassing should always have a humorous twist to it and should be in the nature of Halloween Pranks. * * *

That is the first line of the second full paragraph. Then you will see the type of harassment recommended.

Do you feel that harassment such as indicated in here constitutes a proper course of conduct for any organization in the United States?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, in my opinion, no, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you see anything humorous about a series of acts of harassment such as indicated in this document?

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Have you ever engaged in any acts of harassment such as indicated in this document?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Herrington, in response to my question of whether you ever engaged in any acts of harassment, I want to ask you this: Have you ever engaged in any acts of harassment as indicated in this document subsequent to March 30, 1965? That is the date this committee resolved to conduct this investigation.

Mr. HERRINGTON. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. May I ask whether or not you have engaged in any such acts of harassment subsequent to February 1, 1965?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Would you repeat that, sir?

Mr. WELTNER. Yes, sir. This is the same series of questions in an effort to fix the base involved here. We asked you about March 30 because that is the date this committee undertook to conduct this investigation. February 1 was the first date there was any widespread discussion of the possibility of an investigation by this committee.

I am merely trying to get some idea here about activity with relation to these two things.

You stated that subsequent to March 30 you have not engaged in any acts indicated in this document. You have stated that under oath.

I will ask you the same question—have you engaged in any such acts of harassment as indicated in this document subsequent to February 1, 1965?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Herrington, I have just one more question for you. On this date, January 12, 1966, are you now a member of any Klan organization?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused unless Mr. Appell has further questions.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I think the record reads that the witness declined to answer the question. I think that the witness intended to state the grounds previously stated. I don't want the record to be confused if this is what the witness intended.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Would you like him to answer the question again?

Mr. WELTNER. I will repeat the question.

Mr. Herrington, are you now on this date, January 12, 1966, a member of any Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, on September 20, 1964, did you attend a State executive meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan at which bombings and burnings were discussed?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that in the course of this discussion the position taken by yourself was that you opposed church bombings unless COFO workers were present, and Ernest Gilbert favored throwing heathens out, but he opposed burnings or bombings; that the Grand Dragon, Harper, was against burnings; that the Grant Giant, Buckles, and the Imperial Wizard, Bowers, expressed the same views that you expressed?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reason previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, on September 28, 1964, did you meet with representatives of the Pike County group of the United Klans of America who were discussing with you their desire to get a case of dynamite, some nitroglycerin, and hand grenades?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, have you ever made a statement to law enforcement agencies in Mississippi that you have never been a member of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Herrington, in June of 1964 did you assist Thomas B. Thrasher in establishing a Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan at Pascagoula, Mississippi, which was comprised mostly of employees of the Ingalls Shipyard?

Mr. HERRINGTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Byron de la Beckwith.

The CHAIRMAN. Will you raise your right hand? You solemnly swear that the testimony you will give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF BYRON DE LA BECKWITH, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES G. BLACKWELL

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record.

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Byron de la Beckwith, sir.

Mr. APPELL. You are appearing in accordance with a subpoena served on you on November 19, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. de la Beckwith?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. I was born in Sacramento, California, November 9, 1920, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. I am Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. BLACKWELL. And I am Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. de la Beckwith, under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you and the attachments thereto, you were ordered and directed to bring with you, under part 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and affiliated organizations, namely the Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you or available to you as a present or past member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klans of Mississippi, also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In your representative capacity as a member of that organization, I ask you to produce any documents in your possession.

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, in answer to your question, I could not produce such records as those ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have possession, custody, or control or were they available to you in the representative capacity described in the subpoena, the documents called for in the subpoena at any time after March 30, 1965?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have such possession, custody, or control or were such records at any time available to you since February 1, 1965?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you take any steps, alone or with others, to divest yourself of such possession, custody, or control or to see to it that they were no longer available to you so that you could take the stand and testify as you have testified thus far?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do these documents called for in this part of the subpoena referred to exist?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Is that all, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege granted to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did they ever exist?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Where are they now?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Who has these documents now?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you do anything to permit yourself to be divested of these records? For example, did you by arrangement of any kind place them anywhere so that a third party could assume possession, custody, and control of them?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. de la Beckwith, would you give us your educational background?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Yes, sir. I attended grade school in Greenwood; prep school in Tennessee; graduated from Greenwood High School and attended one semester at Mississippi State, sir.

Mr. APPELL. When did you complete your semester at Mississippi State?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. In 1941, I believe; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you have military service, sir?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What was your military record?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. I was a member of the United States Marine Corps 4 years at Guadalcanal and Tarawa. I was wounded at Tarawa and received an honorable discharge and returned to civilian life in 1946.

Mr. APPELL. What has been your employment background since 1960?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for many years I was a salesman with a wholesale tobacco firm in Greenwood, Mississippi, and in the past 3 years I have been a salesman for a dealer in liquid-mixed fertilizers, chemical fertilizers.

Mr. APPELL. Is that the Delta Liquid Plant Food Company in Greenwood?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. The Delta Liquid Plant Food Company, Inc., of Greenville, Mississippi.

MR. APPELL. Is that whom you are employed by now?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Yes, sir.

MR. APPELL. Mr. de la Beckwith, do you know the witness who preceded you to the stand this morning, Gordon Lackey?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

MR. APPELL. Did Mr. Lackey recruit you into membership in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in August 1965?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

MR. APPELL. Mr. de la Beckwith, were you in the room this morning when I described to Mr. Lackey the incident whereby the rental property of Mr. M. F. White which had been recently painted had been defaced by the spraying of a black line around that property?

THE CHAIRMAN. I understand the simple question is, Was he in the hearing room?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Yes, sir; I was here, sir.

MR. APPELL. Did you assist in the act of defacing that property?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

MR. APPELL. Mr. de la Beckwith, in the early morning hours of March 5, 1965, 11 quart beer bottles filled with gasoline, with rags held into them by 2-inch machine bolts, were thrown at the property of Laura McGee of Greenwood, Mississippi. Do you possess any knowledge of that, sir?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

MR. APPELL. Mr. de la Beckwith, on August 8, 1965, did you attend a State klonvocation of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan held off Elden Road in Jackson, Mississippi?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

MR. APPELL. At that time were you appointed a kleagle or organizer for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

MR. APPELL. If you did not violate the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, why is it you have not had in your possession since March 30, 1965, the documents called for in the subpoena?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

MR. APPELL. Have you recently attended several rallies of the United Klans of America?

MR. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

MR. APPELL. Are you currently a member of any Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions of this witness, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. de la Beckwith, you appear to be a man of intelligence and you attended for at least one semester a university. Would you care to describe the objectives, purposes, and programs of the Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair announces that it is the committee's view that it would not be proper to go into matters in which this witness might have been involved as a principal but which have not been finally resolved.

Mr. DE LA BECKWITH. I certainly appreciate that courtesy; thank you, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair was referring to criminal matters and I must say to the witness that we appreciate his expression, but we have taken that attitude because of our own determination of the propriety of our inquiry.

The witness is excused.

Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Mordaunt Hamilton.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. You solemnly swear, sir, the testimony you will give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HAMILTON. I do.

TESTIMONY OF MORDAUNT HAMILTON, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES G. BLACKWELL

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, will you state your full name for the record, please?

Mr. HAMILTON. Mordaunt Hamilton.

The CHAIRMAN. And that is spelled M-o-r-d-a-u-n-t?

Mr. HAMILTON. Correct, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, you are appearing today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 27, 1965, by Investigator John D. Sullivan at the Polk Hardware Company in Hattiesburg, Mississippi?

Mr. HAMILTON. That is correct, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. HAMILTON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record, please?

Mr. BUCKLEY. I am Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. BLACKWELL. I am Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you and the attachment thereto which was made a part of the subpoena, it calls for in paragraph 1 your production of:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire,

United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, also the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and the Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past member of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In your representative capacity as a member of that organization, I ask you to produce any documents in your possession.

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have possession, custody, or control, or were they available to you in the representative capacity described in the subpoena, the documents called for in the subpoena, at any time after March 30, 1965?

Mr. HAMILTON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have any such possession, custody, or control or were those records available to you at any time since February 1, 1965?

Mr. HAMILTON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do these documents called for in the subpoena exist?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges granted to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Did they ever exist?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Where are they now?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Who has those documents?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you take any steps, alone or with others, to divest yourself of those records so that you could assume the position and testify in the way you are now testifying?

Mr. HAMILTON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you permit that to occur in any way? For example, did you by arrangement, or otherwise, with other parties place them anywhere so that you would know that you had been divested of them?

Mr. HAMILTON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever had those documents in your possession, custody, or control?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. When was the last time you had them?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I don't catch, but we will see. Proceed.

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir?

The CHAIRMAN. I don't catch, but we will see. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Hamilton?

Mr. HAMILTON. I was born in Forrest County, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. When?

Mr. HAMILTON. February 6, 1908.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. HAMILTON. 711 South Main Street, Petal, Mississippi, an unincorporated community in Forrest County, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. That is P-e-t-a-l?

Mr. HAMILTON. That is right, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would you briefly give the committee your educational background?

Mr. HAMILTON. I finished high school at East Forrest Consolidated School, Forrest County, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. What year was that, sir?

Mr. HAMILTON. 1928, I believe, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960 would you give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. What was that question? Was it about his educational background?

Mr. APPELL. His employment background since 1960.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. I give it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you do business in the name of the Polk Hardware Company, 116 Market Street, Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, do you know Sam Holloway Bowers, Jr., the Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, toward the end of 1964 or early 1965, did the Forrest County Klavern hold a meeting in a barn owned by you in Petal, Mississippi?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that both Imperial Wizard Bowers and Travis Ainsworth of the White Knights attended that meeting and you pulled a gun on them, relieved them of their guns, and told them they could not leave the meeting until they had repaid some money which had been turned over to Ainsworth in connection with the purchase of Klan robes.

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that on January 25, 1965, Bowers, accompanied by some of his Klansmen, came to your area to get revenge and left after he was advised by one of your Klansmen that if Bowers wanted to get you he would have to come after you?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that doing business as the Polk Hardware Company you possess a Federal firearms control gun license?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you if you have sold weapons, pistols, rifles, and ammunition to individuals you know to be members of Klan organizations?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, do you know the Reverend Robert L. Beech of Hattiesburg, Mississippi?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On 10-3-64 did you assault the Reverend Beech when he came into your hardware store for the purpose of purchasing a stepladder?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, would you repeat that question for me?

Mr. APPELL. On October 3, 1964, did you assault the Reverend Robert L. Beech when he came into the Polk Hardware Store for the purpose of purchasing a stepladder?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, was the assault upon Reverend Beech in any way related to your membership in the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, on January 23, 1965, were you charged with assault and battery and fined $25? On January 25, 1965, were you charged with assault and battery? On February 4, 1965, were you charged with assault and battery? And on August 10, 1965, did you assault and strike David Nesmith? Were all these assaults I have referred to, Mr. Hamilton, due to your affiliation with Klan organizations?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. After the assault upon Imperial Wizard Bowers, did you take the Forrest County Klavern out of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and affiliate with the United Klans of America?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you currently a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, the committee's investigation indicates you served as exalted cyclops of the Forrest County Klavern. Is that information correct?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hamilton, were you aware of the fact that orders were issued by Imperial Wizard Bowers that the purchase of guns from Hamilton had been canceled?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Hamilton, it has come to my attention that the assaults mentioned by Mr. Appell were, in fact, connected with Klan activities. Is that true or not?

Mr. HAMILTON. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. APPELL. Donald Leo Mathieu.

Mr. BUCKLEY. When the witness is excused, he is finally excused?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MATHIEU. Yes.

TESTIMONY OF DONALD LEO MATHIEU, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Mathieu.

Mr. MATHIEU. Donald Leo Mathieu.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 28, 1965?

Mr. MATHIEU. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. MATHIEU. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles Blackwell, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Mathieu, when and where were you born?

Mr. MATHIEU. In Pascagoula, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. When?

Mr. MATHIEU. In Jackson County, February 10, 1931.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. MATHIEU. I have a seventh grade education.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee the benefit of your employment background since 1960?

Mr. MATHIEU. Yes, sir.

I worked at the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation for approximately 2 years. I then worked for John I. Walker Shipbuilding Corporation with Western Geophysical.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Mathieu, you are appearing here in accordance to a subpoena served upon you on October 28, 1965, at 2438 Ken Avenue, Pascagoula, Mississippi?

Mr. MATHIEU. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. At the time you were served with the subpoena, did you admit to Investigator Sullivan sitting to my right that you had been a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. MATHIEU. I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know Burrell Lindsey White to be the exalted cyclops of your Klavern?

Mr. MATHIEU. For reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you attended only two meetings of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. At the second meeting you paid your $10 initiation fee and you attended no further meetings because you were advised that as a Klansman, if you were ordered to kill someone by a Klan official, that you would have to do so as a good Klansman.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Mathieu, the question is, Did you say that?

There is no trick in this question. I might tell you, as I understand the further part of that statement, you probably had left the Klan. You know you can say that if that is true.

I will be perfectly frank with you, it was the hope of this committee that you would say "yes" to these questions, that you quit the Klan because you said if you were ordered to kill someone by a Klan official, you would have to do that and you did not care to do such an act.

Do not be afraid to answer that if that is true.

Mr. WELTNER. Before he answers the question, I would like to state also that I am advised that this committee has no information concerning any acts of violence or any breaches of order on the part of this witness; that there is nothing in the investigative files to date concerning him that indicates any more than attendance at one or two meetings.

I make this statement simply in connection with what the chairman stated. Apparently this witness almost got in, and got out in a hurry. Possibly the chairman will want the investigator to rephrase the question at this point.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Mathieu, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you attended only two meetings of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan held at Lightseys Cabins in the summer of 1964; that at the second meeting you paid a $10 initiation fee; and that you attended no further meetings because you were informed by Klansmen that if you were ordered to kill someone by Klan officials, you would have to do it as a good Klansman.

Mr. MATHIEU. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. What I have now asked you under oath has been asked you by law enforcement officials not under oath, and I ask you if, when you gave them the information that I now just stated to you, you were telling the truth.

Mr. MATHIEU. For reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. In light of the position taken by the witness, I have no further questions to ask.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Mathieu, has any member of the Klan intimidated you or made any indications to you about any results that might occur if you came here and testified voluntarily?

Mr. MATHIEU. No, sir; no one has tried to intimidate me.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Mathieu, following that along, do you have any fears that if you were to testify fully in response to the questions put to you, there might be some unpleasant result from members of the Klan?

Mr. MATHIEU. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And the only reason you refuse to answer the question is on the constitutional grounds stated?

Mr. MATHIEU. Will you repeat the question?

Mr. WELTNER. The only reason you have for refusing to answer the questions is on the constitutional grounds that you have previously stated?

Mr. MATHIEU. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee stands in recess until 10:45.

(Subcommittee members present at time of recess: Representatives Willis and Weltner.)

(Whereupon, at 4:45 p.m., Wednesday, January 12, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10:45 a.m., Thursday, January 13, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the January 13 hearings, met, pursuant to recess, at 11:15 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; and Del Clawson, of California.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Clawson.

Committee member also present: Representative George F. Senner, Jr., of Arizona.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; and Donald T. Appell, chief investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will please come to order.

The Chair wishes to make this brief announcement: At a meeting of the full committee this morning, the members present unanimously approved the recommendations of two subcommittees that certain persons be cited for contempt of Congress. The recommendations by the subcommittees, unanimously approved by the full committee, concerned the following:

That Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, Yolanda Hall, and Milton Cohen, who were witnesses subpoenaed in hearings held in Chicago last May and who refused to testify, walking out of the hearing room without being excused from the subpoena and in the defiance of directions to the contrary, be cited for contempt of Congress.

A second action of the full committee unanimously approved the recommendation of this subcommittee, made last week, that Robert M. Shelton, James R. Jones, Robert E. Scoggin, Calvin F. Craig, Marshall R. Kornegay, George F. Dorsett, and Robert Hudgins, who, as previously outlined, all hold high offices in klanism, likewise be cited for contempt.

Incidentally, I, as chairman, was directed to take the usual course of action to bring this matter to the floor of the House and that will be done as expeditiously as possible.

Mr. Appell, call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Louis Anthony DiSalvo.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you will give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. DiSALVO. I do.

The CHAIRMAN. I, as chairman of the full committee, hereby constitute as a subcommittee for the purpose of the hearings today three members as follows: Myself as chairman, Mr. Weltner, and Mr. Clawson, as members.

Let the record show that the full subcommittee is present now and that two will constitute a quorum for the purpose of today's hearings.

Now, please be sworn.

Mr. DiSalvo, do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. DiSALVO. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF LOUIS ANTHONY DiSALVO

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. DiSALVO. Louis Anthony DiSalvo.

Mr. APPELL. How do you spell your last name?

Mr. DiSALVO. D-i-S-a-l-v (as in victory) -o.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, are you appearing before the committee this morning in accordance with a subpoena served upon you in your barber shop in Waveland, Mississippi, by Investigator Sullivan of this committee on October 28, 1965?

Mr. DiSALVO. Yes, sir, I am.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. DiSALVO. No, sir, I am not.

Mr. APPELL. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. DiSALVO. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. DiSalvo, I want to inform you that, although you are not represented by an attorney, you have the right, which will be respected as though you had a lawyer, to invoke the fifth amendment and we will recognize your invocation, if you decide upon that course.

I am quite sure you were in the hearing room when previous witnesses were asked whether they were familiar with the opening statement I made last October 19, which outlined the reasons for the purposes of these hearings. You are generally familiar with that; are you not?

Mr. DiSALVO. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. As a matter of fact, Mr. DiSalvo, a mimeographed copy of the pertinent portions of the chairman's opening statement was given you when you arrived in Washington in accordance with this subpoena?

The CHAIRMAN. That is correct, is it?

Mr. DiSALVO. That is right, sir.

MR. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, under the terms of the subpoena and an attachment thereto which was made a part of the subpoena, you were ordered under paragraph 1 to bring with you and to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, also the complete records of your buying and selling of firearms and the Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you or available to you as member or officer of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In the representative capacity set forth in your subpoena, Mr. DiSalvo, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

MR. DISALVO. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States, and I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor in such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8 adopted January 4, 1965.

THE CHAIRMAN. Mr. DiSalvo, just as a matter of comment, I recognize the wording of your refusal to produce these documents as being a form which has been recommended to his clients by Mr. Chalmers and I notice that you do not rely on the fact that these documents are not, and never have been, in your possession and control as some others have said.

Now, you do not have a lawyer, but let me explain this to you. This subpoena calls upon you to produce documents in your representative capacity and not in your individual capacity. In other words, it does not call upon you to produce, for example, items such as your own personal income tax and your own personal papers. It calls upon you to produce documents that came into your possession and custody as an official or whatever representative capacity you had with Ku Klux Klan activities.

You understand the difference, do you?

MR. DISALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

THE CHAIRMAN. Well, you could have safely said that you understood the difference because that is the course of action Mr. Chalmers represented to his clients. But since you invoke the constitutional privileges, I again tell you that you are being asked to produce documents in your representative capacity and, since the subpoena calls upon you to produce documents in your representative capacity, we do not accept as valid the grounds which you have relied on for failure to produce them. That being the case, I order and direct you to produce them.

I say to you, though I see you are intelligent and probably know it already, if you wish, you have the right, again, to not carry out my order and direction. I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in its subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America, and I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for that information is not relevant or germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor in such way inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8 adopted January 4, 1965.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, I suggest to you—and I do not ask you to do, but just suggest to you—that with respect to additional documents which you are called upon to produce, if you desire to use those reasons, this committee will accept all of those reasons by a reply on your part that you refuse to produce for the reasons previously stated.

Paragraph 2 calls upon you to produce :

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as member or officer of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of the said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, Mr. DiSalvo, I ask you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 2.

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask for a direction.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. DiSalvo, for the reasons I gave a while ago, I order and direct you to produce.

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. You mean, you respectfully decline to produce the documents on the grounds previously stated. That is what you mean?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America, and I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same will not aid the Congress in consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor with such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8 adopted June 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, paragraph 4 calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you, which in any way refer to the purchase or sale of firearms.

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer and deliver on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce those documents called for in paragraph 4.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, when and where were you born?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights—in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, prior to July of 1965, did you hold membership in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Since July of 1965, have you been a member of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, which is known under the cover name of the Mississippi Rescue Service?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, do you hold a license under the Federal Firearms Act as a gun dealer?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a member of a Klan organization, have you ever discussed acts of violence, including the creation of firing squads and the dynamiting of a train carrying any specific passengers?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. DiSalvo.

Louis Anthony DiSalvo was born on January 31, 1927, at New Orleans, Louisiana. He is self-employed as an operator of a Shell gasoline station and as the operator of Louis Barbershop. In addition thereto, as a part of his gasoline station he applied for and received a license under the Federal Firearms Act. He completed a 10th grade education and received a high school equivalent diploma through an Armed Forces Equivalency Test. He served in the United States Maritime Service from May 1945 to November 1945 and in the United States Army from November 1945 to May of 1947, receiving an honorable discharge. On June 16, 1964, Mr. DiSalvo applied for a retail dealer's license under the Federal Firearms Act. However, prior to applying for the license he purchased between 50 and 70

7.62 Fincub Sporter rifles and 30.06 Springfield rifles from J. C. Newberry Department Store, Edgewater Plaza Shopping Center, Mississippi City, Mississippi. After receipt of license he purchased, on August 28, 1964, from Hunters Lodge, Incorporated, Alexandria, Virginia, eighteen 7.62 Russian M40 Tokarev rifles, six 30.06 Springfield rifles, and 10,000 rounds of 7.62 Russian "M.C." ammunition.

An examination of the serial numbers of the Russian 7.62 rifles shipped by Hunters Lodge to DiSalvo establishes that four of the rifles were identical with rifles found in the possession of the acting EC of the UKA Klaverns who was arrested and who pleaded guilty of charges lodged against him for certain bombings in the McComb, Mississippi, area.

DiSalvo's records, according to the ATU inspection—

The CHAIRMAN. What do you mean by that?

Mr. APPELL. Under the law a gun dealer must keep records of sales of arms and ammunition, and periodically the ATU makes inspections.

The CHAIRMAN. What is the ATU?

Mr. APPELL. The Alcoholic Tax Unit.

The CHAIRMAN. Administering the gun license law?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. I am sorry.

The CHAIRMAN. Under the Treasury Department?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

The inspection reflects the sale of 12 rifles to Kelly Dunaway of Jayess, Mississippi, and one each to Dillard Houston, Poplarville, Mississippi, and E. Gilbert of Brookhaven, Mississippi, all members of the Klan, with Gilbert at that time being the grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

At the time DiSalvo was buying and selling rifles and ammo, he was a member of the White Knights and the exalted cyclops of a Klavern in Hancock County. At one time DiSalvo indicated to members of a White Knights Klavern at Poplarville, Mississippi, that he was attempting to recruit a firing squad for the Klan under the direction of Sam Bowers, the Imperial Wizard, and himself. As a result, members of the Klavern discussed dropping out of the White Knights and reaffiliating with the United Klans of America. The membership felt that not only would such a squad be used against informants of Klan activities, but against Klansmen who were not informants but who might be suspected.

In September of 1964, DiSalvo suggested to other Klansmen that they could dynamite the train carrying Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson when she came through Mississippi. He discussed places where dynamite may be obtained and the use of boats for possibly dynamiting a bridge over which the train carrying Mrs. Johnson was to travel.

On July 17, 1965, DiSalvo sat on the speakers platform at the United Klans of America rally held at Crossroads Community, Poplarville, Mississippi. On October 27, 1965, DiSalvo acted as master of ceremonies at the United Klans of America rally held at Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi. He claimed at this rally to have been a member of the UKA for about 3 or 4 months. Jack Helm, Grand Klaliff of the Realm of Louisiana, who was introduced as representing the Greater New Orleans Citizens Council, was the principal speaker. DiSalvo claims to hold membership in both the UKA and the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. DiSalvo possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. DiSalvo, the gentleman who made that statement is Mr. Don Appell. He is the chief investigator of this committee. He is under oath, just like you are, subject to the fines and penalties of perjury. You have heard the sworn statement of Mr. Appell. I now give you the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to admit or deny the truth of it, to modify it in any way. In addition, I give you the right and privilege, if you so desire, to offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. And, incidentally, I agree with the statement of Mr. Appell that you possess additional information to supply. Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer the question for the reasons previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. DiSalvo, I will inform you, since you offer no rebuttal, that unless other facts may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of this investigation. With that in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer the question for the reasons previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, I hand you a copy of an application for retail dealer's license under the Federal Firearms Act, which the Treasury Department certifies to be a copy of the original. This application is made in the name of Louis A. DiSalvo, trade name DiSalvo Service, 264 Waveland Avenue, Waveland, Mississippi, dated June 16, 1964, signed Louis A. DiSalvo, independent owner. I ask you if the signature on that application is your signature.

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer the question on the grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Louis DiSalvo Exhibit No. 1" appears on pp. 2716, 2717.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, I hand you a series of documents obtained by the committee from Hunters Lodge, Incorporated, 200 South Union Street, Alexandria, Virginia, and ask you if the letters contained therein signed Louis A. DiSalvo and the record of shipment of the rifles described in the statement are authentic.

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer the question for the reasons previously stated.

(Documents marked "Louis DiSalvo Exhibits Nos. 2A, 2B, and 2C" appear on pp. 2717-2719.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, at a meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan held near Raleigh, Mississippi, on June 7, 1964, did you instruct the some 300 White Knights gathered at a rally in the use of poisonous snakes and the method by which a victim could be bitten by a poisonous snake and placed in the woods in such a position that if his body was uncovered people would think that he might have laid down and gone to sleep and a snake had come upon him and poisoned him?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, you were laughing. We have sworn testimony to this effect. Now you have an opportunity to deny it if it is not true.

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. DiSalvo, did you know a coleader in the Bay Saint Louis area of Mississippi in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Emile Piazza?

Mr. DiSALVO. I respectfully decline to answer that question for reasons previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions of this witness. I ask that, according to your previous instructions, documents referred to in the testimony of Mr. DiSalvo be entered into the record as exhibits to his testimony.

The CHAIRMAN. The documents will be admitted in evidence. The witness is excused.

Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to call Mr. Thomas Byron Thrasher, Sr.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand, sir. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. THRASHER. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF THOMAS BYRON THRASHER, SR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES J. MAY III

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, please.

Mr. THRASHER. My full name is Thomas Byron Thrasher, Sr.

Mr. APPELL. Spelled T-h-r-a-s-h-e-r?

Mr. THRASHER. That is true, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing before the committee in accordance with the subpoena served upon you by Investigator Sullivan at 2203 Ken Avenue, Pascagoula?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, I am appearing before the committee in regard to subpoena issued October 28, 1965. The address at which it was delivered, which you gave, is incorrect. The place was my home at 2431 Ken Avenue, Pascagoula, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. 2431 rather than 2203?

Mr. THRASHER. Yes. You have an old set of addresses and house numbers which have been changed.

Mr. APPELL. I see. Mr. Thrasher, are you represented by counsel?

Mr. THRASHER. Yes, sir, I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves?

Mr. BUCKLEY. I am Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. MAY. I am Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thrasher, under the terms of the subpoena served upon you and the attachment thereto, which was made a part of the subpoena, you were directed to bring with you and to produce the documents called for in paragraph 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, and affiliated organizations, namely, The Mississippi Constitutional Council, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as past or present Exalted Cyclops of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, Mr. Thrasher, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me—due to the fact that such records are not and were not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Thrasher, do you have possession and custody or control, or was there available to you in the representative capacity described in the subpoena, the documents called for in the subpoena at any time after March 30, 1965?

Mr. THRASHER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have possession of such documents at any time after February 1, 1965?

Mr. THRASHER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you take any steps, alone or with others, to divest yourself of the possession or custody or control of these documents so that you could take the position taken in the answers you have given thus far?

Mr. THRASHER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you take any steps, alone or with others, so that it could be impossible for you to produce the documents today?

Mr. THRASHER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have possession of those documents at any time?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Mr. Chairman, may I ask you a question off the record?

(Conference off the record.)

Mr. BUCKLEY. Would you ask the question again, Mr. Chairman?

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have possession, custody, or control of these documents at any time?

Mr. THRASHER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know who has had possession and control of these documents and who has possession or control of them at this very minute?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you a party in any way to their destruction?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, would you repeat that question, please?

The CHAIRMAN. I will lead up to it. Do you know whether or not these records were ever destroyed, done away with in any way, or hidden? I am talking about from your personal knowledge.

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, in answer to your question, from my own personal knowledge I do not know.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you personally participate in their destruction?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, I have never participated in the destruction of any records as required by the subpoena issued to me.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know who has those records now?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have possession, custody, or control of any Klan records that were not asked for in the subpoena?

Mr. THRASHER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thrasher, paragraph 2 called for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as Exalted Cyclops (past or present) of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in that subpoena, I ask you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 2.

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman, may we have the answer repeated?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, I could not produce such—

The CHAIRMAN. You "could not." You mean, you cannot?

Mr. THRASHER. Could not.

The CHAIRMAN. I see what you mean.

Mr. THRASHER. I could not produce such records that were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. If I asked you the same series of questions I propounded a while ago with reference to the first paragraph of this subpoena, would your answers be the same on the whole?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, in regards to my answer, assuming that the questions were the same in regards to records, and so forth and so on, they would be the same.

The CHAIRMAN. Counsel, I suppose, both of them, agree to the import and the scope of the question I just asked and he answered.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Counsel indicate their agreement.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thrasher, prior to June 1, 1964, did you, with the assistance of A. C. Herrington, organize a Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Did you say prior to that time?

Mr. APPELL. Prior to.

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. What was the answer—the invocation?

Mr. APPELL. Yes. Was a meeting of prospective Klansmen held at Lightseys Cabins on South Market in Pascagoula on June 11, 1964, which meeting consisted of between 30 and 60 employees of Ingalls Shipyard?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. The constitution and bylaws of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi provide certain duties and responsibilities and the maintaining of certain records by an exalted cyclops. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that after the organization of this Klavern and up until March of 1965 you were the exalted cyclops of the Klavern.

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the questions.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thrasher, I repeat a question asked earlier by Chairman Willis, and that is whether or not you had any documents called for by the constitution and laws of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in your possession after February 1, 1965.

Mr. THRASHER. Mr. Appell, I would like if you would, please, sir, to clarify just what you mean by documents.

Mr. APPELL. Charters, books, and records of minutes of meetings, charter that was presented to the Klavern, and other documents which the constitution and law provide.

Mr. Thrasher, my question related to documents in your possession as the exalted cyclops of the unit.

Mr. THRASHER. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Then, Mr. Chairman, I consider the answer that he had no documents in his possession as the exalted cyclops.

Mr. Thrasher, it is my opinion that you have opened the door by the response that you gave to this last question, and I now ask you: Who held the offices within the Klavern of klaliff or vice president, klokard or lecturer, kligraph or secretary, klabee or treasurer, kludd or chaplain, kladd or conductor, klarogo or inner guard, klexter or outer guard, klokan or investigator, night-hawk, and who is the assistant to the klokard and the kladd and the klepeer, the Klavern's representative to the klanburgesses?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thrasher, when and where were you born?

Mr. THRASHER. I was born September 23, 1934, in Pensacola, Florida.

Mr. APPELL. What is your educational background?

Mr. THRASHER. I attended public schools in Pensacola. I have a graduate equivalency diploma from the Armed Forces and I attended college at Stetson University at Deland, Florida, for approximately 1 year.

Mr. APPELL. What year was that?

Mr. THRASHER. That was 1953, I believe, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What is your military service?

Mr. THRASHER. I am a veteran of the Air Force. I served 4 years and was honorably discharged.

Mr. APPELL. What years were you in the Air Force?

Mr. THRASHER. From 1950 to 1954. It must be 1954 that I attended Stetson University in DeLand.

Mr. APPELL. What is your employment background since 1960?

Mr. THRASHER. I have been employed by the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation at Pensacola.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thrasher, on March 11, 1965, was there a meeting held at your house in which B. L. White was told that he would be the next exalted cyclops of the Klavern?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. On March 19, 1965, was Mr. B. L. White in fact elected as the exalted cyclops to replace you?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know, or do you know, Louis Anthony DiSalvo, who preceded you on the witness stand?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you purchase a rifle from him?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thrasher, a cross was burned at the home of Spurgeon Lauchaussee, the employment manager at Ingalls. Do you possess any knowledge of that cross-burning?

Mr. THRASHER. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. THRASHER. Thank you, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Burrel Lindsey White.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. WHITE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF BURREL LINDSEY WHITE, JR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES J. MAY III

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record, Mr. White?

Mr. WHITE. Burrel Lindsey White, Jr.

Mr. APPELL. Would you spell your first name, please, sir?

Mr. WHITE. B-u-r-r-e-l.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. White, are you appearing before the committee today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee, on October 28, 1965, at the General Building Supply in Gulfport, Mississippi.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Was that the 28th of October, sir?

Mr. APPELL. Yes.

Mr. WHITE. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel, Mr. White?

Mr. WHITE. I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. I am Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Spring, Mississippi.

Mr. MAY. I am Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. White, the subpoena served upon you, which I understand should be amended to include the designation "Jr.," called upon you to bring with you and to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, and affiliated organizations, namely, The Mississippi Constitutional Council, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as past or present Exalted Cyclops of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the representative capacity set forth in that document, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were not and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever had possession of those documents or control or custody of them at any time?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know where those documents are?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know who has possession of them?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you now have, or have you ever had, any Klan documents in your representative capacity as stated in the subpoena not called for by the subpoena?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know whether the documents called for, or any others, have been destroyed by you or anyone else?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you participate or have knowledge—participate in or have knowledge of the destruction of these documents?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. No, sir; not such records as required by the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, did you participate in, or do you have knowledge of, the destruction of documents—Klan documents—not called for by the subpoena?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. As a matter of fact, Mr. White, it is a part of the operating procedure of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan to do things as follows: When you recruit a man into the organization to immediately burn his application; and with respect to financial documents, that once they have served their purpose they are to be burned; and that, to maintain the security of the White Knights, destruction of documents is supposed to take place as soon as possible in order to cut down on the risk of exposure of either the Klan or its members.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. White, in paragraph 2 you are requested to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as officer or member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, or are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and I do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. If I asked the same series of questions that I did a moment ago, would your answer to them under oath be the same?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Would you state that again?

The CHAIRMAN. Would the answer be the same that you gave a while ago if I repeated the questions I asked a while ago?

Mr. WHITE. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do counsel agree that the scope of this question is proper under the circumstances?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Yes, sir, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. MAY. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. White, when and where were you born?

Mr. WHITE. When or where, sir?

Mr. APPELL. When and where.

Mr. WHITE. September 11, 1914, at Laurel, Jones County, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. What is your educational background?

Mr. WHITE. I am a graduate of the Laurel High School. I attended all Laurel public schools; graduating in 1932.

The CHAIRMAN. From public schools?

Mr. WHITE. From the public schools.

The CHAIRMAN. You are not talking about higher education. If you did, proceed.

Mr. WHITE. I have no formal higher education. However, I did later, Mr. Willis, attend some vocational schools.

Mr. APPELL. What has been your employment background since 1960?

Mr. WHITE. In a portion of 1960 I was self-employed and I also was working for the Frank Gardner Hardware Company of Laurel, Mississippi. Now, I am not sure as to the dates because I worked for that firm on two different occasions. I worked also for the J. C. Martin Lumber Company of Waynesboro; the St. Louis Field Terminal Warehouse Company of St. Louis, Missouri; the General Building Supply Company, Inc., of Gulfport, Mississippi; the Lawrence Warehouse Company. And the General Building Supply Company has since changed their name to General Homes. I would like to clarify that just a little. These warehousing companies, for instance, the Lawrence Warehouse Company now is my legal employer. However, I work for them but render service to General Homes, Inc., as a bonded warehouseman.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. White, since 1960, have you had or did you receive income from sources—

Mr. CHAIRMAN. I did not catch it.

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960 did you receive income from sources other than those you have enumerated in your employment background?

Mr. WHITE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would you enumerate them?

Mr. WHITE. I have an apartment house in Laurel, Mississippi. We have two apartments or did have two apartments that we rented out. We lived in one until about 2 years ago. At present we have three apartments that we try to keep rented. I also received other commissions. I was a free-lance salesman, as I said, employed by myself for a while and sought any item that was salable to the building trades. In that capacity I represented the Laurel Brick & Tile Company of Laurel, Mississippi, and the Standard Block Company of Gulfport, Mississippi. I believe those are all.

Mr. APPELL. Did you receive any income in the form of reimbursement for recruiting or expenses from an organization known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. White, are you acquainted with the VCM Club in Pascagoula?

Mr. WELTNER. What club?

Mr. APPELL. VCM.

The CHAIRMAN. What is the question?

Mr. APPELL. Is he acquainted with it, with the fact that it exists.

The CHAIRMAN. The what?

Mr. APPELL. "V" as in Victor, "C" as in Charles, "M" as in Mary.

The CHAIRMAN. What is that? All right, ask the question.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, could you make that question a little more specific? In what way do you want me—

Mr. APPELL. Do you know of the existence of a building known as the VMC Club. I mean VCM.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I do know of the existence of it. I know nothing else of the operation.

Mr. APPELL. At that club on March 19, 1965, did you become exalted cyclops of the Klavern of the White Knights in the Pascagoula, Mississippi, area?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Mr. Thrasher who preceded you to the witness stand?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Were you advised at a meeting which took place in Mr. Thrasher's house on March 11, 1965, that you would be the next exalted cyclops of the Klavern?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you presently a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. White, do you possess knowledge of the fact that two Klaverns in the Pascagoula area have recently disaffiliated with United Klans of America and become affiliated with the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. White.

Mr. WELTNER. I have a question, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. White, on page 6 of the constitution of the White Knights—could I ask that the witness be afforded a copy of that? Page 6, Section 12, there is this section—"This Constitution and all Laws enacted pursuant to it"—and then the following is in capital letters—

SHALL BE THE SUPREME LAW OF THE WHITE KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN OF THE SOVEREIGN REALM OF MISSISSIPPI, AND BINDING THEREOF UPON ALL MEMBERS, REGARDLESS OF RANK.

I would like to know whether you consider this constitution to be a higher power than the Constitution of the United States.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Are you asking me, sir, to confirm or deny a fact, or are you asking for my own personal opinion?

Mr. WELTNER. I will restate the question. Bearing in mind Section 12 of the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which states that the constitution and laws of the White Knights—
SHALL BE THE SUPREME LAW OF THE WHITE KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN OF THE SOVEREIGN REALM OF MISSISSIPPI, AND BINDING THEREOF UPON ALL MEMBERS; REGARDLESS OF RANK.

I am asking you whether or not you personally consider this constitution, a copy of which you hold in your hand, to be a higher authority upon you than the Constitution of the United States?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. I do not so consider it.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you consider the Constitution of the United States to take precedence over the constitution of the White Knights of the Sovereign Realm of Mississippi?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. I believe, sir, that the Constitution of the United States takes precedence over all laws, except the laws of God.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. White, have you ever subscribed to an oath to support this constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Are you familiar with Article XII of the constitution of the White Knights, or were you familiar with it prior to the time some few minutes ago when a copy was handed to you?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Have you ever subscribed to the oath appearing on page 38 of that document which you have in your hand that says:

I swear that I will never be the cause of a breach of secrecy or any other act which may be detrimental to the integrity of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

That appears on page 38 of the constitution.

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. White, I hand you a copy of a document entitled "Imperial Executive Order," bearing date May 3, 1964, addressed to all officers and members, subject, "Forthcoming Enemy attack and countermeasures to be used in meeting same," with the notation at the top reading:

THIS ORDER WILL BE READ TO OR BY AND UNDERSTOOD BY EVERY MEMBER OF THIS ORGANIZATION.

I will ask you to examine that and state to us whether or not you have ever seen such a document as this by this date.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document marked "Burrel White Exhibit No. 1." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 169-171.)

Mr. WELTNER. I call your attention to a section of this. On page 2, the third full paragraph, reads as follows:

Any Personal attacks on the enemy should be carefully planned to include only the leaders and prime white collaborators of the enemy forces. * * *

Mr. BUCKLEY. Pardon me, Mr. Weltner, we cannot hear you.

Mr. WELTNER. I am reading from paragraph 3 of page 2. That portion in the approximately center of that paragraph:

Any Personal attacks on the enemy should be carefully planned to include only the leaders and prime white collaborators of the enemy forces. These attacks against these selected, individual targets should, of course, be as severe as circumstances and conditions will permit. * * *

What kind of attacks are contemplated in the instruction of this Imperial Executive Order of May 3, 1964?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I do not quite understand your statement. I am afraid I could not intelligently answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, sir. Can you enlighten this committee, after having read that document, which, according to its face, is required to be read and understood by every member of the organization—can you enlighten this committee as to what kind of attack is meant by the language that says:

Any Personal attacks on the enemy should be carefully planned * * * should [of course,] be as severe as circumstances [and conditions] will permit. * * *

What is meant by that? This committee is seeking information and we believe that you can provide us that information.

I am asking you what this document means by "Personal attacks on the enemy."

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I have not had a chance really to examine and fully understand this document here and I am afraid I just cannot really answer that question intelligently.

Mr. WELTNER. Are you testifying you have never seen this document before today?

Mr. WHITE. No; I am not saying that, sir. But I am saying that I have not had a chance to examine this document right here, right now, and I cannot intelligently answer the question you ask. I just do not understand this document.

Mr. WELTNER. The reason I ask that specifically, Mr. White, is because I asked you a minute ago whether or not you had ever seen this document prior to today, and you refused to answer. Then you stated a moment ago that you had not had a chance to examine this document.

I want to be absolutely clear, and I will ask you again just to be certain that we understand each other, my question is: Have you prior to this day ever seen this document, Imperial Executive Order dated May 3, 1964?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, to the best of my knowledge, I have never seen this document until right now.

Mr. WELTNER. We are not playing games. I do not mean the two pieces of papers there. I mean the original of the document.

Mr. WHITE. The original of such document.

Mr. WELTNER. Or any copy thereof?

Mr. WHITE. Or any copy thereof.

Mr. WELTNER. Have you ever seen any paper entitled "Imperial Executive Order" emanating from the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the Sovereign Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Let me ask you this—If the investigator would hand this witness the Executive Lecture of March 1, 1964, and I shall, with the Chair's indulgence, permit counsel and the witness to examine that before the next question.

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Weltner, sir, in answer to that question—

Mr. WELTNER. I have not asked the question yet, Mr. White.

Mr. WHITE. Pardon me.

Mr. WELTNER. I was just giving you and your counsel an opportunity to examine the document.

Mr. WHITE. Pardon me, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Let me ask you this question: If you will look on the fourth page of that document, under the paragraph headed, "Propaganda," about 10 lines down, there is this language:

There are three ways that we can destroy an atheist or traitor in the community. They are: 1. Socially. 2. Economically. 3. Physically. The weapon of propaganda can accomplish the first two in nearly all cases, and it should at least precede [sic] and follow up the Action in the third case, if practical. * * *

What I would like to ask you is: Have you ever seen such a document as this prior to today?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, to the best of my knowledge, I have never seen this document before.

(Document marked "Burrell White Exhibit No. 2." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 164-168.)

Mr. WELTNER. Have you ever heard any discussion among the Klan members concerning the social, economic, or physical destruction of any person termed "an enemy"?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. I think that is all the questions I have at this time, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. White, in response to Mr. Appell's question, whether or not you knew of the VCM, I believe your answer was that you knew about its existence, but nothing else. The second question was, Were you not elected as exalted cyclops at the VCM? And you took the fifth amendment. Would you explain to this committee the difference between those two answers? Would you elaborate on it?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I would like to ask if this answer will suffice. I know the approximate location of the building. In fact, I know the road it is located on. But that is all the knowledge I have of the place.

Mr. SENNER. Then what would be the reason of invoking the fifth amendment to the question whether or not you were elected as exalted cyclops of that particular club or VCM?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I gave this answer to keep from leading to further questions which might possibly—the answers to which might possibly tend to incriminate me.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. White, since we have been talking about VCM, perhaps you can enlighten me. I understand that could be the name of a building or probably, more accurately, VCM stands for Veterans Club Mississippi. Is that your understanding of what VCM means?

Mr. WHITE. I have no idea what the initials stand for.

The CHAIRMAN. I am delighted with your answer under oath. Despite whatever else was asked of you, I think what I am about to ask was asked of you and you invoked the fifth amendment. You give the appearance of a man of intelligence. You have answered some questions such as the last one under oath, and I assume truthfully. Now, under oath, while you are on the stand, I want to ask you two questions: Are you now or have you ever occupied an official position in any Klan organization?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Although it may be repetitious, I will ask you again: Are you at this very moment a member of any Klan organization?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman, if I may get back to this VCM, isn't it a fact that you did attend a meeting at the VCM and were inside that club?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. And still you want the committee to believe your statement to this committee that you just know about the existence of the VCM, but you know nothing else?

Mr. WHITE. Would you repeat that question, sir?

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Reporter, will you read it to him?

The REPORTER. [Reading:]

And still you want the committee to believe your statement to this committee that you just know about the existence of the VCM, but you know nothing else?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, I gave that statement under oath and I expect the committee to believe it. It is a true statement.

Mr. SENNER. I will ask you again: Is it not a fact that you attended a meeting at the VCM club and were inside that club?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. One last question: At that meeting, or one of those meetings that you attended at the VCM club, isn't it true that you were elected exalted cyclops?

Mr. WHITE. May I have the question read?

Mr. SENNER. Yes.

The REPORTER. [Reading:]

At that meeting, or one of those meetings that you attended at the VCM club, isn't it true that you were elected exalted cyclops?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. I think the record is clear now.

The CHAIRMAN. I have one final question. Were you elected exalted cyclops at any time or at any other place?

Mr. WHITE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee stands in recess until 2:30 this afternoon.

(Members present: Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Clawson, of the subcommittee, and also Representative Senner.)

(Whereupon, at 1:10 p.m., Thursday, January 13, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 2:30 p.m. the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 2:50 p.m., Hon. Edwin E. Willis, chairman, presiding.)

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Weltner, and Clawson.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will be in order.

Mr. Appell, you may call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. J. W. Holder.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand, sir.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HOLDER. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF JOSEPH WALTER HOLDER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES J. MAY III

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Holder.

Mr. HOLDER. My full name is Joseph Walter Holder.

Mr. APPELL. H-o-l-d-e-r?

Mr. HOLDER. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 27, 1965, at R.F.D., Louin, Mississippi?

Mr. HOLDER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holder, are you represented by counsel?

Mr. HOLDER. Yes, I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. MAY. Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holder, when and where were you born?

Mr. HOLDER. I was born in Ted, Mississippi, in Smith County.

Mr. APPELL. And the month, day, and year?

Mr. HOLDER. 1933, January 31.

Mr. APPELL. Briefly outline your educational background.

Mr. HOLDER. Well, I attended school—started to school at Louin, to the best of my ability, I spent 1 year there and finished the 12th grade at Sylvarena.

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960, would you give the committee your employment background?

Mr. HOLDER. I have been employed by Masonite Corporation of Laurel, Mississippi, from 1958 up until the present time.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holder, are you presently a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege guaranteed me by the 5th amendment, 1st, and 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holder, did you know Ottis Matthews, the financial secretary and assistant business manager of the International Woodworkers of America Local in Laurel, Mississippi? Did you know him?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holder, do you possess any knowledge which relates to a flogging of Mr. Matthews on November 16, 1964?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Matthews, prior to his death, identified you as one of a group of masked men that drug him from his automobile on the night of November 16, 1964, drove him to nearby dump grounds, forced him to lie face down, and beat his bare buttocks—

The CHAIRMAN. I can't understand you. You are either too far away or too close to the mike. I can't understand what you are saying.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Matthews, before his death, identified you as one of a group of masked men who forced him from his vehicle on the night of 11/16/64, drove him to a nearby dump grounds, forced him to lie face down, and beat his bare buttocks with what was believed to be a leather strap. Some solution was poured on wounds before these persons left him.

Were you involved in this according to the statement made to Investigator Sullivan by the late Mr. Matthews?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, if he made that statement, I was not involved.

Mr. APPELL. As a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, do you know who was involved?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Holder, did you as an individual participate in this act of violence against Mr. Ottis Matthews?

Mr. HOLDER. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Were you in an automobile on the night of November 16, 1964, either on the parking lot of Sam Holloway Bowers or in a car near the bridge on the road past the Masonite plant? That is November 16, 1964.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I don't remember where I was on that date.

Mr. APPELL. I asked you if you were in either one of two automobiles. The one parked there or the one parked on the bridge?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

The CHAIRMAN. What is the pending question?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I worked at the Masonite Corporation, and the parking lot is close by this vicinity you are talking about. I work shift work. My car could be there, but as far as the date is concerned, I couldn't say definitely. I don't remember the date.

Mr. APPELL. What knowledge do you possess of the beating or flogging of Ottis Matthews?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Absolutely no personal knowledge of it.

Mr. APPELL. Personal knowledge? I asked you what knowledge you possessed, no matter from what source it came.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, it was either 1 or 2 days after this had taken place that I found it out. I was in the bathroom with a bunch of men—restroom, I beg your pardon—and they was discussing it and that was the first knowledge that I had ever attained of it.

Mr. APPELL. Who were these men that were—

Mr. HOLDER. I don't have any idea. I don't remember. It was just a gang of them, and things like that you don't actually remember.

Mr. APPELL. What was this discussion?

Mr. HOLDER. Well, it was talking about, laughing about Ottis Matthews getting a whipping. The majority of them said, "Well, they didn't believe it" and were carrying on like that, you know. It was more or less a joke. As far as I was concerned, I didn't believe it either. I didn't see it; I don't know anything about it.

Mr. APPELL. Was the position of Ottis Matthews against the Klan and the effort on the part of the Klan to take over the Masonite Local, was this discussed within the Klavern of the White Knights?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense that privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th and 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Under the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the Klavern with which you were affiliated, were there appointed men under the leadership of the klokan who carried out functions which are described in some other Klan groups as "wrecking crews"?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever serve on such a crew?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Who was the exalted cyclops of the Klan to which you were affiliated?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess any knowledge of any violence carried out by members of the Klavern of the White Knights to which you were affiliated?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you presently a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Is the membership of your Klavern composed mostly of employees of the Masonite Company?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Holder, you stated that at times you did park your automobile, as I understood, near the Masonite plant and that it may or may not have been parked at that place upon the occasion stated. However, Mr. Appell had also asked whether your car was either parked there or at a lot near a Sam Bowers' place.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BUCKLEY. Did you say "ever"?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. You said that your car may or may not have been parked near a bridge at the end of the Masonite plant upon the occasion stated. Now, I am asking you whether your car was parked next to Sam Bowers' place on that occasion?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, to the best of my ability to remember, I wasn't even working that night, but was at home.

The CHAIRMAN. I am not talking about where you were. I am asking whether on the occasion stated your car was parked near Sam Bowers' place?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I don't remember where my car was on the particular night you are referring to.

The CHAIRMAN. Sam Bowers, according to our information, is the Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi. Do you know him?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever visited Sam Bowers at his home or residence?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you met him at Klan meetings?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever heard him make a speech or speeches exhorting members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan to violence? Our information is that you did.

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. We have information that Mr. Bowers has brought Klan members to quite a pitch of excitement; is that true?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. You said that a day or two after the Matthews incident you heard about it in a restroom with a number of people and you said that the majority expressed the opinion that they did not believe the incident. Who made that statement?

Mr. HOLDER. I beg your pardon, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. Who made that statement?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I don't remember anyone in particular. It was just a gang of men, and they are as comical a bunch of men as I ever worked with and if they can get a joke or a laugh out of anything, that is as good as they want.

The CHAIRMAN. And you said that gang of men, the humorous group, expressed the opinion that it was all a joke. Is that right?

Mr. HOLDER. Would you repeat that again? I didn't understand it.

The CHAIRMAN. You said the gang of men, whom you described as being a humorous group, said they thought the Matthews incident was a joke. Is that correct?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I have a memory here, and I say that some didn't really think it had taken place and some was laughing about it, you know.

The CHAIRMAN. I have a note before me which I made as you were talking, saying that "I thought it was a joke," meaning that you yourself thought it was a joke. Did you?

Mr. HOLDER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. What made you think it was a joke?

Mr. HOLDER. Well, sir, I will go back to the point again that these men around there are the most comical bunch of men I have ever worked with, and they are always starting a big thing and want to tell something to get a laugh, or something, and that is what we thought it was.

The CHAIRMAN. You mean to say you thought what had happened to Matthews was a laughing matter, something to discuss as being a laughing matter with a group of friends. Is that correct?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I considered it as a rumor and more or less a joke.

The CHAIRMAN. Now I am asking you this question as well: Was it said in that restroom that this action, if it had taken place, was the action of someone from out of your State, away from your area, that had performed the action in order to pin it on the Klan? We have heard that many times.

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I don't recall a statement like that. It could have been made, but I don't recall it.

The CHAIRMAN. Isn't it a fact that on many, many occasions when acts of violence took place in your area, it was almost invariably spread about by other persons in the community that those acts of violence had happened, were made to take place by people from out of State, out of the area, as a propoganda move to make people believe that they were Klan actions in an effort to discredit the Klan? And I will repeat to you that we have heard much of that.

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Isn't it a fact that when certain people met with death or tragic accidents in your State, in your area, that it was the practice of the Klan to take that position?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, I will state to you as a fact that in all instances of violence, killing, when those representations were made to the effect that those things were done by persons who were foreign to the area, according to our investigation we have never found that to be true. Would you have one instance of a killing or an act of violence or a cross-burning or bombing or anything else where those acts were, in fact, performed by people away from the State or away from the area? Can you name me one such instance? If you do, we will look into it as carefully as we did the others and try to verify it. Can you name me one such instance?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you personally—and you are under oath and must be right with your own conscience—ever make any such statement to the effect that, "Oh, this and that happened. There they go again. It was done by somebody away from here, but they are trying to pin it on this fine, patriotic organization." Did you ever make that statement?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Weltner.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Holder, do you know the identity of any one or more of the individuals who were involved in the incident of November 16, 1964, involving Mr. Ottis Matthews?

Mr. HOLDER. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. You know of no person involved in that matter?

Mr. HOLDER. No, sir; I sure don't.

Mr. WELTNER. Had you ever heard any discussions concerning some kind of acts of violence or intimidation to Mr. Matthews prior to November 16, 1964?

Mr. HOLDER. What is that?

Mr. WELTNER. Prior to November 16, 1964, had you ever heard any person or persons discuss possibly bringing some action against Mr. Matthews?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, I can't recall if I did or not.

Mr. WELTNER. You don't recall hearing any discussions about it?

Mr. HOLDER. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Subsequent to that date, did you ever hear any discussion of that incident in any Klan meeting?

Mr. HOLDER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. Don, do you have anything more?

Mr. APPELL. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Rex Henry Pierce.

The CHAIRMAN. Will you raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give, sir, will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. PIERCE. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF REX HENRY PIERCE, JR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES J. MAY III

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. PIERCE. Rex Henry Pierce, Jr.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, are you appearing before the committee today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on November 1, 1965, at Vicksburg, Mississippi, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. PIERCE. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. PIERCE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. MAY. Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, when and where were you born?

Mr. PIERCE. I was born in Vicksburg 3/14 and 40.

Mr. APPELL. I didn't get it, sir. Sit a little closer to the mike.

Mr. PIERCE. March 14, 1940.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, will you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. PIERCE. I graduated from Culkin Academy in 1958.

Mr. APPELL. What year, sir?

Mr. PIERCE. 1958.

Mr. APPELL. I didn't get the year.

Mr. PIERCE. 1958.

Mr. APPELL. Thank you, sir.

Since 1960, would you give us a brief résumé of your employment background?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir?

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960, would you give us a brief résumé of your employment background?

Mr. PIERCE. I believe since 1960 I worked for the Anderson Tully Company.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, are you presently a member of any Klan organization?

Mr. PIERCE. I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Have you held the position of investigator for the Warren County Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, do you have a criminal record?

Mr. PIERCE. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Pierce.

On March 14, 1965, Rex Pierce, Jr., and Milton Stokes were in the Vicksburg Cafe in Vicksburg, Mississippi, seated on stools at the front of the counter when a 77-year-old Negro, Thomas Montgomery, entered and walked towards the rear of the cafe. As Montgomery seated himself upon a stool, either Pierce or Stokes said to the proprietor, "You don't mean that thing can eat in here?" At this point Pierce and Stokes got up, went back to where Montgomery sat, threw raw eggs in his face, knocked him to the floor, and kicked him. En route to the door they turned over some tables in the restaurant and smashed the glass out of the front door with their elbows.

On March 21, 1965, a man in an automobile owned by Milton Stokes and fitting the description of Pierce threw a Molotov cocktail from the car which broke against the wall of the cafe. He got out of the car and threw a second Molotov cocktail through the window of the cafe, causing extensive damage. At the time of this incident, both Milton Stokes and Rex Pierce, Jr., were members of the White Knights of Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In July 1965, Pierce was a kleague or organizer for the Warren County Klavern of the White Knights. Harold L. Miller was the exalted cyclops of the Klavern at the same time, and Jasper Buford was its klaliff or vice president. Members of the Klavern included Beauregard Buford, Lonnie Lee Frith, and Louis M. Shaw, who were arrested for burning a cross on July 5, 1965, and all three forfeited $100 bond.

Rex Pierce, Jr., was indicted on August 25, 1960, at Jackson, Mississippi, and on February 23, 1961, at Biloxi, Mississippi, for bootlegging. On May 15, 1961, he pleaded guilty, was fined $500, and given 6 months in jail, with fine and sentence suspended and placed on probation for 6 months.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Pierce possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Pierce, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or explain any part of it. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to the inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Pierce, I must inform you that absent your rebuttal, or facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, on August the 11th, 1964, in the Oakridge section of Warren County two Negro families were beaten by 12 to 18 men dressed in white sheets and white hoods. The families beaten were that of Lucy and Henry Ollins and Tom Hicks. The only explanation for the action by the men dressed in white sheets and white hoods was that these two families—one had been visited by COFO workers and the other had permitted a COFO worker to remain in his home overnight. Do you possess any knowledge of this incident, sir?

Mr. PIERCE. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, in September 1964, Buck's Store on old Highway 80, several miles east of Vicksburg towards Bovina, Mississippi, was shot into. There were nine shots fired from what was identified to be a .38-caliber weapon, and six went into the store. Do you possess any knowledge of this incident?

Mr. PIERCE. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On October 4, 1964, at 2:50 a.m. the COFO house in Vicksburg, which is located on the corner of Hossley and Grove Streets, was bombed and a large portion of the house destroyed. Do you possess any knowledge of that action?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On March 18, 1965, Mary Anderson's cafe was bombed with a jug of gasoline and it burned out the inside of the cafe. She is the colored woman who permitted COFO workers to eat in her cafe. Do you know anything about that instance?

Mr. PIERCE. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On June 19, 1965, firebombs were thrown into a doorless garage at the home of Herman Varva, who was head of the personnel at the Westinghouse plant. Do you know anything about that incident?

Mr. PIERCE. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. In November 1965, Mr. Pierce, were you driving a 1950 Ford automobile at any time?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir?

Mr. APPELL. In November of 1965 were you driving a 1950 Ford automobile at any time?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On November 29, 1965, a 1950 Ford automobile was loaded with dynamite and left at the corner of Halls Ferry Road and Bowmar Street in Vicksburg, Mississippi, where it exploded, wrecking the store and home of James Chiplin. Do you know anything about that incident, sir?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. This car had been taken in trade by McKay Motors in Vicksburg, Mississippi. Do you spend quite a bit of your time at McKay Motors?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Pierce, the Ford vehicle that detonated the dynamite it contained on November 29, 1965, destroyed or did damage to the home and blew the son of the investigator of this committee out of the bed.

The CHAIRMAN. Did damage to what?

Mr. APPELL. Did damage to the home and blew the son of the investigator of this committee, Mr. Sullivan, out of bed. Was that car planted to do damage to the Negro property that was damaged, or as an act against the investigator of this committee?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, would you please repeat that question?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. When this 1950 Ford car exploded on November 29, 1965, it damaged the home of the investigator of this committee, Mr. John Sullivan, and blew one of his children out of the bed. I ask you whether or not that car was placed there to destroy the property of the Negro whose property was destroyed, or whether it was placed there as an act of intimidation against an investigator of this committee?

Mr. PIERCE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions to ask Mr. Pierce.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas Gunter.

The CHAIRMAN. Call him again.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas Gunter.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear, sir, the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. GUNTER. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF THOMAS A. GUNTER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, JIM PHYFER

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Gunter.

Mr. GUNTER. Thomas A. Gunter.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here in accordance with subpoena served upon you on November 8, 1965, at 227 East Pearl Street, in Jackson, Mississippi?

Mr. GUNTER. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. GUNTER. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself?

Mr. PHYFER. Jim Phyfer, 518 East Pascagoula Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, when and where were you born?

Mr. GUNTER. I was born in Adams County, Mississippi, May 16, 1927.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. GUNTER. 944 Woodville Drive, Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Will you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. GUNTER. I have finished Utica High School.

Mr. APPELL. Will you give the committee a résumé of your employment background since 1960?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as defense the privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, the subpoena served upon you called for you to bring with you and produce, according to attachment which was made a part of the subpoena :

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, namely Capitol Blueprint and Supply Company all printing and records concerning same for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi and Mississippi Constitutional Council, in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you or available to you as president and owner of the Capitol Blueprint and Supply Company.

In the representative capacity set forth in the subpoena, Mr. Gunter, I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, I object to the introduction of any records in the proceeding on the grounds of the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. Wait a minute. You say you object. Do you mean you invoke those constitutional privileges as a basis for refusing to produce them?

Mr. GUNTER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman—

Mr. GUNTER. You are ordering me to produce those records?

The CHAIRMAN. We ordered you to produce them in the representative—have you asked him?

Mr. APPELL. I was getting ready to. Before making the demand, Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask the witness whether he received a copy of the chairman's opening statement, which contained the purposes for which these hearings were held, and whether he is acquainted with the provisions of that statement.

Mr. PHYFER. Mr. Appell, we will stipulate that he has.

Mr. APPELL. Thank you. I now ask, Mr. Chairman, the witness be directed to produce the documents called for.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you call for them?

Mr. APPELL. I did, and he invoked the constitutional privilege.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gunter, I take it you understand, as does your attorney, that you were ordered by the subpoena to produce those documents in your representative capacity stated in the subpoena.

Mr. GUNTER. [Handing documents.] By introduction of these documents I do not waive any rights or legal defense I might have under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. You mean, you are producing the documents.

(Witness offers documents.)

The CHAIRMAN. Wait a minute. Let's get it straight. I thought you had refused to produce the documents. Let's just understand each other, Counsel. You are producing them with the reservation—

Mr. PHYFER. Over our objection. We do not waive any rights.

The CHAIRMAN. I take it, Mr. Gunter, and your attorney, you understand you are ordered by this subpoena to produce certain documents in your representative capacity stated in the subpoena. Is that correct?

Mr. GUNTER. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. That being the case, I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. GUNTER. I have just given them, am turning them over, over our objection.

The CHAIRMAN. In other words, Counselor, as I understand the position of your client, in response to the subpoena he is now producing the documents he has just handed over to Mr. Appell, but he produces them today under reservation of all his rights under amendments—what?

Mr. PHYFER. First, fourth, fifth, and fourteenth amendments.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, do the two ledger books which you submitted to the committee in accordance with the provisions of the subpoena constitute records of accounts receivable and payable and describe the customers for the accounts receivable and payable according to your business records?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gunter, are the documents that you have just handed over to Mr. Appell all of the documents called for by the subpoena?

Mr. PHYFER. May I have a short conference with you?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

(Conference off the record.)

The CHAIRMAN. The pending question is a simple one and it is this, as directed by me: Are the documents that you have produced all of the documents called for by the subpoena? It is a "yes" or "no" question I am asking.

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, I have access to additional records as implied by the subpoena, but due to the bulk and weight of individual records and the expense of bringing these records, I was physically and financially unable to bring such records with me today. I respectfully will make said records available to the committee. This committee may have access to these records.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you understand that the documents sought by the subpoena are only documents dealing with Klan operations?

Mr. GUNTER. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I am advising you and telling you that the only documents this committee would be interested in would be those dealing with Klan activities. And you force me to ask this question: Have your dealings with Klan activities been such that the records you have would be too voluminous, too expensive, for you to bring here?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the same reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. PHYFER. May I ask something, sir, off the record?

The CHAIRMAN. Off the record.

(Discussion off the record.)

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gunter, do I understand your business is printing, et cetera?

Mr. GUNTER. For reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. I understand that you are the owner of the Capital Blueprint & Supply Co. I take it, therefore, and I assume, that the subpoena orders you to produce documents for Klan organizations dealing with Klan activities, and if your business is broader than that, we are not interested in those other documents.

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Assuming again, I am presuming, I am generally following what has transpired thus far that is relative to the import of the subpoena: Then I ask you whether your printing material, documents, pamphlets, flyers, or whatever, are so extensive that it would be too bulky for you to bring to Washington?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. PHYFER. Would you repeat the question, please?

The CHAIRMAN. Read it.

(The question was read by the reporter.)

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, I have access to additional records as required by the subpoena, but due to the bulk and weight of said records and expense of bringing these records, I was physically, financially, unable to bring such records with me today. I respectfully will make said records available to this committee. This committee may have access to said records at any time.

The CHAIRMAN. If I am correct, that this type of business dealt with Klan organizations, the printing of material, flyers, pamphlets, and so on, then I ask you did you keep a copy of each set, and is it an accumulation, or the whole of these, which is so bulky that you cannot produce?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you produce at least the invoices that you sent in each instance to fulfill whatever order was given to you to print?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, from the two ledger books that you supplied this morning, have any pages been removed since the date that you received your subpoena?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. PHYFER. Would you repeat that question?

Mr. APPELL. Yes.

The two ledger books that you produced this morning or this afternoon—have any pages been removed from either of these books since the date that you received your subpoena?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GUNTER. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, many entries in your sales journal are identified only by invoice numbers. Are these invoices maintained by you as a part of the records which you could not bring because of their bulk?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Are these invoices among the documents which you have in your possession which you offered to make available to the committee or to a representative of the committee to review in your offices in Jackson, Mississippi?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, in May 1965, did you receive a loan for the operation of your business from the Small Business Administration of the United States Government?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you tell us or estimate in dollars and cents the amount of business in the shape of printing that you did with the various Klan organizations?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, I hand you a document described "My Fellow American." This is on its face published in the interest—it says, "Here are Twenty Reasons WHY you should, if qualified, join, aid and support the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of Mississippi."

Did you print this document?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a copy of a printed document headed "The KLAN Ledger, Special Gulf Coast Edition, Pre-4th of July," and another, a printed "KLAN Ledger," dated July 4, 1964, both documents state on their masthead that they are official publications of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. Did you print those documents?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Documents marked "Thomas Gunter Exhibits Nos. 2 and 3," respectively. See pp. 2754–2759.)

THOMAS GUNTER EXHIBIT No. 1

My Fellow American

Here are Twenty Reasons WHY you should, if qualified, join, aid and support the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of Mississippi:

1. Because it is a Christian, fraternal and benevolent organization.
2. Because it is a democratic organization, governed by its members.
3. Because it is a dedicated and just organization.
4. Because it is a working organization which not only talks but ACTS.
5. Because it is a very secret organization and no one will know that you are a member.
6. Because it is a legal organization and no one can be prosecuted for being a member.
7. Because it is a politically independent organization, and is not pledged to any political party.
8. Because it is a Pro-American organization that opposes any thing, person or organization that is Un-American.
9. Because it is an organization that is sworn to uphold the lawful Constitution of the United States of America.
10. Because it is composed of native-born, white, gentle and protestant American citizens who are sound of mind and of good moral character.
11. Because the goals of the KKK are the total segregation of the races and the total destruction of communism in all its forms.
12. Because the KKK has twice saved this nation from destruction as history clearly records.
13. Because there comes a time in the life of every man when he has to choose between the right or wrong side of life.
14. Because there are today many alien forces entering the United States of America bent upon its destruction.
15. Because it informs its members, and an informed citizen is a good citizen.
16. Because a Christian-like brotherhood among men must be revived in America.
17. Because one of the goals of the KKK is States' Rights and complete State Sovereignty.
18. Because neither the Conservatives nor the Liberals will save our nation, for patriots always save a nation.
19. Because it is clear now that if communism is to be defeated in America it will be done in the South and primarily in Mississippi.
20. Because the KKK needs you today to help fight America's battles.

The White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of Mississippi is, of necessity, a SECRET organization. The administration of our National Government is now under the actual control of atheists who are Bolsheviks by nature. As dedicated agents of Satan, they are absolutely determined to destroy Christian Civilization and all Christians. We have nothing dishonorable to hide, but we must remain SECRET, for the protection of our lives and families.

All of our members must meet a strict set of requirements.

We are looking for, and enlisting ONLY: Sober, Intelligent, Courageous, Christian, American, White men who are consciously and fully aware of the basic FACT that their physical life and earthly destiny are absolutely bound up with the Survival of this Nation, under God. Our governmental principles are precisely those of the ORIGINAL U. S. Constitution. Our members are Christians who are anxious to preserve not only their souls for all Eternity, but who are MILITANTLY DETERMINED, God willing, to save their lives, and the Life of this Nation, in order that their descendants shall enjoy the same, full, God-given blessings of True Liberty that we have been permitted to enjoy up to now.

We do not accept Jews, because they reject Christ, and, through the machinations of their International Banking Cartel, are at the root-center of what we call "communism" today.

We do not accept Papists, because they bow to a Roman dictator, in direct violation of the First Commandment, and the True American Spirit of Responsible, Individual Liberty.

We do not accept Turks, Mongols, Arabs, Orientals, Negroes, nor any other person whose native background of culture is foreign to the Anglo-Saxon system of Government by responsible, FREE, Individual Citizens.

Our governmental system is a Constitutional Republic, primarily designed to protect the Responsible, Individual Citizens from all tyranny, which selects its representatives by both the direct and the indirect Democratic process; and recognizes the necessity for the existence of an effective Loyal Opposition to any current Administration. This type of Governmental System is unique, and found only where Anglo-Saxons control the Governmental Machinery of a Nation. With rare exceptions, people of other backgrounds simply cannot comprehend the Anglo-Saxon principle of "Equal Justice under Law" and the fact that EVERY "Right" must be balanced by an accompanying Responsibility. The inherent balance and reason of this system has little or no attraction for these persons of alien culture. They generally prefer to shirk Individual Responsibility, grab up as much material wealth as they can, and accept Centralized Authority and Dictatorship, in the hope that they can buy special favors and privileges for themselves.

The conflict between these two attitudes has now become a Life and Death matter in America. The people of the non-American cultures CAN and COULD live under the Anglo-Saxon System, but they prefer to see it destroyed. The true American Anglo-Saxons, on the other hand, CAN NOT live under a Dictatorship!

The issue is clearly one of personal, physical SELF-DEFENSE or DEATH for the American Anglo-Saxons. The Anglo Saxons have no choice but to defend our Constitutional Republic by every means at their command, because it is, LITERALLY, their Life. They will die without it.

If you are a Christian, American Anglo-Saxon who can understand the simple Truth of this Philosophy, you belong in the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of Mississippi. We need your help right away. Get your Bible out and PRAY! You will hear from us.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you—I do not know what to call it—a billboard type of thing. It says, "I WANT YOU in the White Knights of Mississippi Ku Klux Klan." Did your shop print that?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document marked "Thomas Gunter Exhibit No. 4," follows:)

I WANT YOU

in the WHITE KNIGHTS OF MISSISSIPPI

KU KLUX KLAN

The CHAIRMAN. Is not that document a simulation or an imitation of the very familiar—of one of our most famous posters, showing a Klansman instead of Uncle Sam, “I want you”—Armed Forces poster, in effect?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Isn't that really a deliberate imitation of that famous poster—and just a few days ago there was a very enlightening review of the various posters used during several wars we were engaged in—where this one, at least the one this poster seems to deliberately imitate, shows instead of Uncle Sam a Klansman and the familiar hat next to it, apparently simulating the flag of the United States in the form of a hat?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do these journals and books you have presented, and we will examine them, indicate on their face and to your knowledge that you were printing material for the Klans under front—phoney front—cover names?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, I am having a very difficult time understanding, and the reason I based the earlier question to you, if you want to go through this ledger book here and look at the various items, you have to keep turning it around because they read down this way, and they get into another section and they read another way. Has this book been reassembled since the date you got your subpoena?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman, may I ask this question?

Mr. Gunter, is there anything in there, in any of these ledgers, dealing with any printing, billing, accounts receivable, accounts payable, for Klan work? If so, where would this committee find it? What page?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. Would you be willing to sit with a member of our staff, an investigator, and try to point out what items in the journal and the ledger have to do with billings for Klan activities, and if you are engaged in other business, billings for other matters?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. Then, Mr. Gunter, I tell you that you have produced these books under certain reservations, whatever they mean, whatever significance they have, and I tell you that we have made note of the offer to have your records examined, and without prejudice to the legal rights of this committee under that subpoena, we will consider what action we will take.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, are you now, or have you ever been, a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Do you employ a Karl Summers and a Joe Allen and do you know them to be members of the Klan?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Have you done printing work for the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you four checks, payable from the account of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, Inc., made payable to Thomas E. and/or Tommy Gunter, and I ask you if you are the Thomas E. Gunter to whom these checks were made payable and if it is your endorsement on the reverse thereof.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

(Documents marked "Thomas Gunter Exhibit No. 5" and retained in committee files.)

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gunter, do you understand that the committee is interested in Klan activities; that we are not the least concerned with, or interested in, whatever endeavor you engaged in outside of business activities with the Klan, but with whatever connection you had with the Klan? Do you understand that?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for that reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I am telling you that, because I do not or would not take it with grace on your part if outside this hearing room you would say that we are trying to interfere with the freedom of the press and private business or anything else. I am telling you this is our interest. Do you intend to make any such statement?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman, may I ask the witness a question? Could you tell us where those checks that you received are listed in the ledger or accounts receivable?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Are they listed in the ledger?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, the checks made payable to you were co-signed by H[arvey] H. Heredeen and Elmore D. Greaves.

Do you know these gentlemen?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gunter, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you have held membership in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you if you are today a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gunter, you were served with this subpoena to produce these documents on when?

Mr. APPELL. November 8.

The CHAIRMAN. November 8, 1965, which is over 2 months ago.

I think it was only this morning—and if counsel will disagree I hope he would say so—that Mr. Appell or members of the staff were told about the so-called bulkiness of the records, and as far as this committee is concerned, it was only upon your taking the stand that the members knew about your position that you have outlined, that the records are too bulky and it would be too expensive for you to bring them to Washington. I want to advise you that in our opinion you were under obligation a long time ago to advise the committee that would be your position. At the last minute, here is the day of compliance, here is the day on which you were required and expected to comply with the command of the subpoena, and you give that explanation. I think, if for no other reason, fairness required you to communicate with the committee before this.

So in order for the committee eventually to determine the question of possible citation for contempt, I want to ask you two or three questions. How bulky are those documents in weight since you talk about weight? For example, how many pounds?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. What would have been, or what would today be the cost to send them to Washington by express?

Mr. GUNTER. What was that question again, Mr. Willis?

The CHAIRMAN. What would be the cost to ship these documents to Washington by express?

Mr. PHYFER. Mr. Willis, may I say something I think will clarify this. My client, Mr. Gunter, did not employ me until Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The CHAIRMAN. What I have to say never involves an attorney who represents a witness, as you are now representing one, to give him the best advice.

Mr. PHYFER. He did not have the advice to produce such records until Monday of this week. I left for Washington—

The CHAIRMAN. Say that again.

Mr. PHYFER. He did not have the advice that he has now, is one reason that he did not produce these records.

The CHAIRMAN. You mean advice from legal counsel?

Mr. PHYFER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. But he had been subpoenaed since November. Yet he was only given the advice, did you say, not to comply since you were employed?

Mr. PHYFER. No, sir, I did not say that.

The CHAIRMAN. I do not want to put words in your mouth. Let me understand you.

Mr. PHYFER. What I tried to say, Mr. Willis, was that he only employed counsel on Monday afternoon. He just employed counsel on Monday afternoon.

The CHAIRMAN. Then I ask you to answer that question. What would be the cost to ship those documents to Washington?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GUNTER. Mr. Willis, I do not have any idea, but I know it would be a tremendous amount to bring them in.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman, would that be $100? What is a tremendous amount? Let us get down to dollars and cents.

Mr. GUNTER. It could be a hundred or more than a hundred.

Mr. SENNER. How much more than a hundred; two hundred?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GUNTER. I do not know exactly, but it was more than I had the money to bring it here.

Mr. SENNER. You told this committee under oath that because of the bulkiness and the cost that you could not afford the financial burden to bring the records here. How did you determine that financial burden?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GUNTER. I would say it is approximately around 3,000 pounds. That is just a rough guess.

Mr. SENNER. Is that the Klan records as requested by the subpoena?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Then I take it from your response that it would be all your records, from the previous question before you took or invoked the fifth amendment.

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the previous reason stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. In order to determine, we might consider sending someone to Mississippi or having the records subpoenaed sent here to determine ultimately the question of the compliance or noncompliance with the subpoena. But let me ask you this: Are your records kept in such a way that our inspectors could separate the wheat from the chaff, look at those pertaining to Klan activities, because you are in the Klan from our information, and those pertaining to other aspects of the business if you have any other aspect?

Mr. GUNTER. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did he invoke the privilege?

Mr. PHYFER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I call your attention, sir, to section 1505 of title 18 of the United States Code, generally entitled "Obstruction of proceedings before departments, agencies, and committees," and call your attention to the following pertinent passage:

Mr. SENNER. [Reading:] "Whoever corruptly"—

The CHAIRMAN. I am asking Mr. Senner to read because he perused that document.

Mr. SENNER. [Continues reading:]

Whoever corruptly, * * * obstructs, or impedes or endeavors to influence, obstruct, or impede the due and proper administration of the law under which such proceeding is being had before such department or agency of the United States, or the due and proper exercise of the power of inquiry under which such inquiry or investigation is being had by either House, or any committee of either House or any joint committee of the Congress—

Shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

Counsel and Mr. Witness, calling your attention to the United States Supreme Court case of Arthur McPhaul, Petitioner, versus United States of America on page 7 thereof—

"if [petitioner] had legitimate reasons for failing to produce the records of the association, a decent respect for the House of Representatives, by whose authority the subpoenas issued, would have required that [he] state [his] reasons for non-compliance upon the return of the writ." * * * "To deny the Committee the opportunity to consider the objection or remedy it is in itself a contempt of its authority and an obstruction of its processes. * * *

This case involved this very committee. You made no such request of this committee for financial aid to ship those records up here, have you, Mr. Witness?

Mr. GUNTER. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Or have you notified this committee in any respect that you were financially unable to bring the records up here either because of its bulkiness or the cost to you?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GUNTER. I did not know that I was supposed to.

Mr. SENNER. You do now, don't you?

Mr. GUNTER. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. You say it is 3,000 pounds and approximately $200?

Mr. GUNTER. I would say that, approximately.

Mr. SENNER. And you are not financially able to bear that cost?

Mr. GUNTER. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Now going back to this original question on which you do know the law, you know what you have to do in the petition, when we talk about 3,000 pounds and $200, are we talking about records requested by this committee by virtue of the language in the subpoena concerning the Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

THE CHAIRMAN. That statement, of course, does not require any response.

My statement and that of Mr. Senner was an admonition of the problem presented and the problem this committee is confronted with, and is not to be construed as a decision thus far, as a committee determination. But I will repeat that this committee does not consider that which transpired here today to be a compliance, and in the light of the offer made by you, Mr. Gunter, I repeat that the committee reserves its position as to future course of conduct pursuant to that subpoena. Furthermore, you are now continued under subpoena. You are not discharged. I order you to return before this committee on February 1, 1966, unless in the meantime you are notified to the contrary.¹ And that day, of course, have with you the records commanded by the subpoena.

Mr. GUNTER. Mr. Willis, I was not doing this in any disrespect to the committee or anything else. It was strictly in ignorance. I did not know that I could ask for the money and bring them here.

The CHAIRMAN. I do not know that if you had asked for money it would have been supplied, but at least we would have had an opportunity to have a dialogue on the subject to try to resolve what, at the last minute, is thrown in our lap. The witness is continued under subpoena until the time indicated.

Is that it?

Mr. APPELL. For this witness, yes, Mr. Chairman.

¹Mr. Gunter reappeared before this committee on February 1 in an executive session. This testimony has not been released.

The KLAN Ledger

An Official Publication of the WHITE KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN of Mississippi
DEDICATED TO THE PRESERVATION OF CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION

SPECIAL GULF COAST EDITION

PRE-4TH OF JULY

The black savages have threatened that they intend to turn the Gulf Coast into the Congo Coast on the 4th of July. All residents and merchants are hereby cautioned to be extremely careful and alert to any threat of gangsterism or hoodlumism in the Coast area on that date. We are not going to have a duplication of the street fights and chaos that have been going on in St. Augustine and Jacksonville. We are hereby advising all white persons who are not members of the duly-authorized police forces of these State and local jurisdictions, or their lawfully deputized deputies or auxiliaries, to stand back and to avoid conflict or contact with these communist-led black savages, in any way, shape, or form. National police agents, under the direction of Bobby Kennedy, will be present with cameras to take pictures of the violence which they hope to be able to provoke. These people want Mississippi placed under martial law, and they are counting on the unorganized white people on this coast to engage in open street fights with the blacks, which will provide them with an excuse. Do not fight with the blacks. Avoid trouble. Run and get the police if the blacks show up. Help the police by keeping calm and staying out of their way while they are working on the arrests. Be very careful at all times. Get women and children out of trouble areas immediately. Talk trouble DOWN, not up. PROVE your white supremacy by showing that you have Brains as well as courage. Remember that the blacks cannot accomplish anything unless they can cause a disturbance. Remember that they WANT you to fight with them. Keep cool-headed and beat them. The White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN makes a solemn promise to the white people of the Mississippi Gulf Coast that if they will ignore and frustrate the blacks on the 4th of July and let the duly authorized officers of the law handle them, that we Knights will deal the leaders of these mobs a true brand of justice for the humiliation and sorrow you are suffering today. We do not want open trouble and street warfare (or beach warfare) on the Coast on July 4th. We strongly advise all white people to stay out of trouble with the blacks. Needless to say, we will have our agents all over the coast on that date observing both white and black trouble makers for future reference. We repeat, we want NO open fighting with the blacks on this coast. Heed the advice of the Klan. Do not be misled by imposters.

When the black mobs come to your town, do as we hereby advise: DO NOT go out into the streets or to town and try to fight them. No matter how well armed you are, you should stay at home and look after the safety and welfare of your own family.

DO NOT go out looking for trouble. Protect yourself and your family. Arm yourself well and stay at home. Do not fire unless your home, your person or your family is attacked. Do not submit to having your guns confiscated. Defend yourself as a Christian, American patriot should, but do not go out hunting trouble with the Communist-led black savages. Do not get panicky and do not worry. If our politicians haven't the courage and moral fiber to stand up and fight integration and Communism with the law as their shield, the Christian citizens of this state will form disciplined ranks to provide protection for our civilization.

Please remember: Support your local police. We must stand behind our local officers of law and against the scummy disciples of dictatorship such as Bobby Kennedy, Nick Katzenback, John Doar, McShine, Burke Marshal, Fidel Castro, St. John Borett, Phillip Savage and N. Kruschev.

"Tonight, after you read this, get a copy of the Constitution of the United States and your Holy Bible. Read and study both of them seriously and well, and keep on doing it every day, every night from now on. Then pour out your heart in prayer to Almighty God for relief and help against the forces of Satan. This is the only way in which we can win, and we will win if we align ourselves with Almighty God!

The White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the Sovereign Realm of Mississippi is a Christian organization. We do not believe in, nor do we commit acts of unlawful violence. We employ physical force only in defence of our Christian civilization; and even then, without malice or vengeance.

In a debate with Judge Douglas at Charleston, Illinois, September 18, 1858, Mr. Abraham Lincoln expressed his views and his stand on the racial question, in part as follows:

"I am not nor ever have been in favour of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races! I am not nor ever have been in favour of making voters or jurors of negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people. I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality; and inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together there must be the position of the inferior and superior, and I am, as much as any other man, in favour of having the superior position assigned to the white race."

Dedicated to maintain and extend the dignity, heritage and rights of the White Race of America.

Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, James Monroe, even Booker T. Washington favored segregation. DON'T DESTROY—Pass it along—Enclose in your letters—Give to your pastor, your politician, your school teacher. Maintain the dignity, heritage and rights of the White Race.

THE KLAN Ledger

An Official Publication of the WHITE KNIGHTS of THE KU KLUX KLAN of Mississippi

JULY 4, 1964

We are now in the midst of the "long, hot summer" of agitation which was promised to the Innocent People of Mississippi by the savage blacks and their communist masters. On this Famous Date, the Anniversary of the founding of the American Republic, under the auspices and blessings of Almighty God, we ask that each Mississippian, each American, get down upon his knees and offer up thanks to our Creator, Savior and Inspiration for his manifold grace and blessings.

THIS THEN IS OUR PRAYER

OUR FATHER, GOD OF LIFE AND LIBERTY, WE HUMBLY THANK THEE FOR THE STRENGTH, COURAGE AND INTELLIGENCE WHICH THOU HAST GIVEN TO OUR PERSECUTED PEOPLE. WE THANK THEE THAT OUR SATANIC ENEMIES, THE DOMESTIC COMMUNISTS WHO OCCUPY THE SEATS OF POWER IN OUR GOVERNMENT HAVE FAILED TO PROVOKE THE VIOLENCE IN OUR GREAT STATE WHICH WOULD BRING DOWN MARTIAL LAW AND COMPLETE DICTATORSHIP. THANK YOU O LORD, FOR OPENING THE EYES OF ALL THE GOOD PEOPLE OF OUR GREAT NATION TO THE EVIL WHICH HAS BEEN FORCED UPON US. HELP US TO OVERCOME OUR ENEMIES, KEEP OUR FEET ALWAYS UPON THE PATH OF RIGHTEOUSNESS, AND PURGE OUR HEARTS FROM MALICE AND VENGEANCE, GIVE OUR ARMS THE STRENGTH, OUR HEARTS THE COURAGE, AND OUR MINDS THE WILL TO DESTROY THESE AGENTS OF SATAN. WE THANK THEE FOR THE RAINS WHICH HAS NOURISHED OUR CROPS AND THY SPIRIT WHICH MAKES THEM GROW. BLESS AND KEEP ALL OF US, THY CHILDREN, AND MAKE US WORTHY OF THY INFINITE BLESSINGS. WE ASK, IN THE NAME OF THY SON, CHRIST JESUS, WHO TAUGHT US HOW TO LIVE AND DIE FOR THY KINGDOM HERE ON EARTH. AMEN.

The recent events in Neshoba County and Statewide call for a message to the general public and the citizens of the great State of Mississippi. The arch-traitor and long-time betrayer of patriots the world over, Dulles, has used his lying tongue to try and convince the American Public that this organization was involved in the so-called "disappearance".

We were NOT involved, and there was NO DISAPPEARANCE. Anyone who is so simple that he cannot recognize a communist hoax which is as plain as the one they pulled on Kennedy in Dallas (and which Earl Warren is working so hard to cover-up), had better do a little reading in J. Edgar Hoover's primer on communism; "MASTERS OF DECEIT".

We refuse to be concerned or upset about this fraud. What we are concerned about is the welfare of the citizens of the State of Mississippi. The trip by Dulles was calculated to bring us nothing but harm. Dulles and his communist friends insist that there is a "racial problem" in Mississippi which they want to "solve". There is no racial problem here in this state. Our system of strict segregation permits the two races to live in close proximity and harmony with each other and eliminates any racial problem. What the communists are so anxious to do is to create a RACIAL ISSUE, and expand the issue into a bloody revolution. This is why Dulles came into this State. While here he planted the seed into the stream of our life which they hope will blossom into violence. The seed is the suave insistence that "BI-RACIAL GROUPS and COMMITTEES" be formed to "work out" a "solution" to the "racial problem". All citizens must immediately place themselves on the alert against the formation or recognition of any such group in their community. Bi-racial groups are the greatest danger we face in this State today. These groups have absolutely no legal standing whatsoever. Experience has shown that whenever they are formed, they immediately set to work and negotiate the lawful rights of the people away in phony agreements which they have absolutely no right to enter into. Bi-racial groups have brought violence and bloodshed to every area in which they have been recognized. The surest way to have violence in Mississippi is for anyone to give any weight or recognize the authority of a bi-racial group. Any public official who recognizes or negotiates with any such bi-racial group is exceeding his authority and working against the people who elected him.

We are going to serve notice that we are not going to recognize the authority of any bi-racial group, NOR THE AUTHORITY OF ANY PUBLIC OFFICIAL WHO ENTERS INTO ANY AGREEMENT WITH ANY SUCH SOVIET ORGANIZATION. We Knights are working day and night to preserve Law and Order here in Mississippi, in the only way that it can be preserved: by strict segregation of the races, and the control of the social structure in the hands of the Christian, Anglo-Saxon White men, the only race on earth that can build and maintain just and stable governments. We are deadly serious about this business. We have taken no action as yet against the enemies of our State, our Nation and our Civilization, but we are not going to sit back and permit our rights and the rights of our posterity to be negotiated away by a group composed of atheistic priests, brainwashed black savages, and mongrelized money-worshippers, meeting with some stupid or cowardly politician. Take heed, atheists and mongrels, we will not travel your path to a Leninist Hell, but we will buy YOU a ticket to the Eternal if you insist. Take your choice, SEGREGATION, TRANQUILITY AND JUSTICE, or, BI-RACISM, CHAOS AND DEATH.

Race consciousness is not racial hatred, nor is it intolerance. It is a deeply ingrained awareness of a birthright held in trust for posterity. No man is immoral who is proud of his race, his birthright, and who promotes it as a positive principle. If this has not been proven to you, then how did Israel become a great nation; why did Edom fade into oblivion? No truly intelligent person can treat with indifference the principle of race, for it is the key to history.

The Holy Writ is very clear on the master-servant relationship. Each party has his duty and responsibility, one toward the other. All true Christians are Brothers in Christ, but their social equality is determined by individual choice and voluntary association. The Scripture simply does not teach the social equality of men here on earth. Social equality simply cannot be just. One must lose, and one must gain if two men are to be socially equal. This is not to be confused with the "created equal" clause of the Declaration of Independence. That is Equality under Law which prevents the authority of government from being applied with more favor to some men than to others. Equality under Law is a benefit to all men. It helps all and hurts none, since the tyrant who enforces the unjust Law is actually just as much hurt by the injustice (although he may feel it less) as the serf upon whom the injustice may fall. Equality under the Law is Justice. Social Equality among men is bound to contradict Equality under Law and is therefore inherently unjust. Any attempt to achieve Social Equality by using the mechanism of the Law is a negation of the basic purpose of American Law. Those who believe that the majority should always rule evidently approve of the logic which led to the Crucifixion. Jesus stood alone before the mob. A street riot was threatened unless he was to be given up for death. Pilate wanted "peace" (How often have we heard this). The mob had their way. The majority ruled. Christ, the Sinless One, went to the Cross. Do not be fooled by these politicians. PURE DEMOCRACY EQUALS DICTATORSHIP. Who ever hears of a mob without a leader? Just because that leader may commit his crimes in the "name" of the majority, is the injustice any less than if he were a KING committing those same crimes in the name of Divine Right. America is not a Democracy where the mob rules. America is a Constitutional Republic where the LAW rules; and where properly, God fearing, Bible reading men, administer the governmental offices, after being duly elected to office by the Democratic PROCESS.

HISTORY SHOWS THAT THERE IS BUT ONE WAY TO DEAL WITH DICTATORS.

We must take the Constitution of the United States of America as our guide in dealing with all gangsters. That is why we have it. That is why James Madison, Ben Franklin, George Washington, Patrick Henry and the others labored so hard to build it. THEIR CONSTITUTION WAS AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS. Its purpose was and is to make it impossible to set up a Dictatorship in America WITHOUT VIOLATING ITS CLEAR SPIRIT, PRINCIPLES AND LANGUAGE. THE CONSTITUTION BELONGS TO THE PEOPLE. It is not the property of any Court, Congress or Executive Officer. That is why it was written in CLEAR, SIMPLE LANGUAGE and given wide distribution, so that the honest individual citizen would have a yardstick to measure the thugs and scoundrels whom the founders of our constitution knew were BOUND TO GET INTO PUBLIC OFFICE. The Constitution is the Basic Power of all governmental authority in America. It is the Supreme Law of the Land. It establishes the principle that this is a government of Laws and not of men. The Supreme Court gets all of its power from the Constitution. The Congress gets all of its power from the Constitution. The President gets all of his power from the Constitution. If those who sit on the bench of the Supreme Court depart from the Constitution then they are NOT the Supreme COURT. If the cravens who sit in the seats of Congress depart from the Constitution - then they are NOT the Congress. If the man who sits in the White House departs from the Constitution - then he is NOT the President. THIS principle is the Spirit of American Liberty. It is what government by LAW and not by men MEANS. Any officer of governmental standing who departs from the CLEAR Principles of the Constitution automatically thereby cuts off the source of his lawful power and becomes nothing more than an armed thug, regardless of how many marshalls or troops he may command. If in any such unconstitutional situation, any marshalls or troops engage in any violence against a citizen of this State while attempting to force him to comply with some unlawful order, he will be committing a FELONY against the Peace and Dignity of Mississippi and America.

The WHITE KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN are bound by oath to persevere, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States of America by reason and by force, if necessary. The Constitution is our guide, and ALMIGHTY GOD is our strengty. George Washington once said: "The people know that men cannot govern without the Bible". There never has been an atheist, no matter how intelligent, who could design a practical system of ethics which could displace the fundamental, Spiritual principles of Christian Morality as a guide for society. The failure of these atheists is everywhere around us, exposed to view in the courts and in public office. It is not America that has failed. It is not Christ that has failed. It is not the Constitution nor the Bible that has failed. It is the atheists who think that they can govern without the BIBLE and the LAW who have failed.

In regard to the actual position and intentions of the WHITE KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN OF MISSISSIPPI with regard to the "racial problem" and the so-called communist conspiracy we hereby issue the following statement:

"Let none forget today or ever that we are the Physical and Spiritual Heirs of the world's first and last True Revolution. Let the word pass to triend and foe alike, telling that the Torch of Liberty and Justice has been passed to a new generation of Americans, nourished in adversity - tempered in hellish and fruitless war - humbled by Christianity - aroused in militant determination to close with and destroy the enemies of America. Proud are we of our Ancient and Noble heritage, unwilling to witness or permit the slow or rapid undoing and destruction of our Inalienable rights. Secure in the knowledge that Almighty God intended for his children to live free of the malicious will of other men, we state that these rights are not negotiable, that since they are given by God, they cannot be taken from us by any man, or mob of men, calling themselves a government, a party, a proletariat or body politic. With a firm and humble reliance on the protection of Almighty God, we candidly repeat the warning of our forefathers: 'Don't tread on me'."

THIS IS WHY WE HAVE THE WHITE KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN OF MISSISSIPPI.

In a debate with Judge Douglas at Charleston, Illinois, September 18, 1858, Mr. Abraham Lincoln expressed his views and his stand on the racial question, in part as follows:

"I am not nor ever have been in favour of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races! I am not nor ever have been in favour of making voters or jurors of negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people. I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality: and inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together there must be the position of the inferior and superior, and I am, as much as any other man, in favour of having the superior position assigned to the white race."

Dedicated to maintain and extend the dignity, heritage and rights of the White Race of America.

The mas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, James Montoe, even Booker T. Washington favored segregation. DON'T DESTROY—Pass it along—Enclose in your letters—Give to your pastor, your politician, your school teacher. Maintain the dignity, heritage and rights of the White Race.

The CHAIRMAN. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harvey H. Heredeen.

The CHAIRMAN. As chairman of the full Committee on Un-American Activities, I hereby, for the purposes of the balance of the hearing this afternoon, constitute a special subcommittee of three composed of myself, as chairman, Mr. Weltner, and Mr. Senner.

Let it be known that all three are now present and that, as we go along, two will constitute a quorum.

Proceed.

Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HEREDEEN. I do.

TESTIMONY OF HARVEY HERMAN HEREDEEN, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, JIM PHYFER

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Harvey Herman Heredeen.

Mr. APPELL. H-e-r-e-d-e-e-n?

Mr. HEREDEEN. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today, Mr. Heredeen, in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on November 6, 1965, at 4613 Jiggetts Road, Jackson, Mississippi, by Mr. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Yes, sir, I am.

Mr. APPELL. J-i-g-g-e-t-t-s?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. HEREDEEN. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. PHYFER. Jim Phyfer, 518 East Pascagoula Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Heredeen, when and where were you born?

Mr. HEREDEEN. I was born in Eastford, Connecticut, October 9, 1898.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. HEREDEEN. I completed the ninth grade of grammar school in Saugus, Massachusetts, and since then I have studied quite a bit in the U.S. Navy.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Since what period, sir?

Mr. APPELL. Well, you spent quite a bit of time in the U.S. Navy?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Twenty-five years active duty in the Navy.

Mr. APPELL. And I assume that covers the greater part of your employment background, so, if you will start with the number of years that you spent in the Navy, and when you retired, and your employment thereafter, I think that would take care of it, sir.

Mr. HEREDEEN. I am a veteran of World War I. I went into the Navy in 1917 and I am a veteran also of World War II. I have 25 years' active duty, 12 years of which was submarine duty. I retired on 30 years in 1948 and went to work at that time—in '46 I went to work for the American Oil Company in Jackson, Mississippi. I worked for the American Oil Company for 17 years. The last 10 years I was office manager in the American Oil Company division office in Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Are you presently employed by them, sir?

Mr. HEREDEEN. I am retired now. I haven't hit a lick since 1963, January 1st.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Heredeen, the subpoena served upon you, an attachment thereto made a part of the subpoena called upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations namely the Mississippi Constitutional Council and the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you or available to you as an associate or affiliate member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

I ask you, Mr. Heredeen, in the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, to produce the documents called for.

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, I object to the introduction of any records in the proceeding on the grounds of the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, that is not an answer to the question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask the witness be directed—

The CHAIRMAN. I suppose you mean to say that you refuse to produce them on those grounds; is that correct?

Mr. PHYFER. Yes. No, sir. He said he objected.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, your objection is overruled. This is not the subject of an objection.

Mr. APPELL. I ask the witness be directed to produce the documents called for in paragraph 1 referred to.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, you have been ordered to produce those documents in the representative capacity indicated in the subpoena. Do you understand that?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. If what you mean is that you refuse to produce the documents on the basis of the constitutional provisions you referred to, then I say that we reject and do not accept those provisions as the basis for your refusal and, accordingly, I now direct and order you to produce them.

Mr. HEREDEEN. By the introduction of these records, I do not waive any rights or legal defense that I have under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the record should show that Mr. Heredeen, in response to your direction, has produced bank ledger cards, retained copies of deposit slips, a certification of audit, copies of canceled checks and invoices.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, are the documents you produced all the documents called for by the subpoena?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, all the records that I have access of, custody or control of, have already been introduced into evidence.

(Documents marked "Harvey Heredeen Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

The CHAIRMAN. That is not my question. My question is, Are those records all of the documents called for?

Mr. HEREDEEN. I do not have access, custody, or control over any additional records that were ordered by the subpoena issued to me.

The CHAIRMAN. In other words, your position is, if the subpoena called for more documents, those are all you have?

Mr. HEREDEEN. I have my income tax records here.

The CHAIRMAN. I am now referring to the part of the subpoena read by Mr. Appell. Your position is, as I understand it, that if the subpoena called for other records by this paragraph 1, then those you have produced are the only records you have called for by paragraph 1?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Yes, sir; that is right.

The CHAIRMAN. You said those are all the records you have. Did you have any further records since the service of the subpoena that you didn't produce for any reason, such as because you destroyed them or did away with them or by any other reason?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Mr. Willis, I do not have access, custody, or control of any additional records ordered by the subpoena issued to me.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have access to, or control over, other documents when that subpoena was served? That is my point.

Mr. HEREDEEN. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Heredeen, I hand you a—

The CHAIRMAN. There is not time for the staff to be expected to examine these documents in detail. After the documents have been analyzed and have served their purpose, they will be returned to you.

Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Heredeen, through a subpoena duces tecum, the committee obtained from the Jackson-Hinds Bank, Jackson, Mississippi, banking records pertaining to a checking account maintained by the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, Inc., Elmore D. Greaves, secretary-treasurer, Post Office Box 426, Jackson, Mississippi. It shows the account was opened with a deposit January 18, 1965, in the amount of $5. The signature card signed 1/18/1965 reflects Harvey H. Heredeen, secretary-treasurer; Elmore D. Greaves, chairman.

I hand you this and ask you if the signature "Harvey H. Heredeen" is your signature?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

(Documents marked "Harvey Heredeen Exhibit No. 2" appear on p. 2763.)

Mr. APPELL. Now, Mr. Heredeen, the committee's investigations established that solicitations of funds, documents which set forth the purpose of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, statements which set forth the identity of the board of directors of the organization were mailed out to people throughout the State of Mississippi.

As secretary of the organization, as the bank records reflect, to-

The CHAIRMAN. Well, let me ask you this question—it would be more responsive if you said you didn't keep copies—did you keep copies?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Heredeen, have you attended State executive meetings—cabinet meetings of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Mississippi?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you presently a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. As secretary-treasurer, do you know it to be a fact that the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund was created as an instrumentality of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege—

The CHAIRMAN. Let me ask a question on that. Sir, I want to make it plain that to me, anyway, as chairman of this committee and as a lawyer, I am not inquiring into the propriety of anyone raising funds for the defense of anyone, but we are interested in the activities of the Klan.

Now, my question is this: Was the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, Inc., a Klan activity?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Was the organization formed as an inducement to nonmembers of the Klans to contribute, not knowing that it was a Klan activity?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I must respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Was the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, Inc., in fact formed to give it respectability, so that people who were not members of the Klan would contribute to it in the belief that it was a white Christian protective association?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Mr. Willis, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Isn't it a fact that much, if not most, of the funds collected was solicited from and received from people in the Jackson area—whatever area the fund operated in—who were not members of the Klan?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Isn't it a fact that this was one more cover or front organization behind which the Klan organization was hiding?

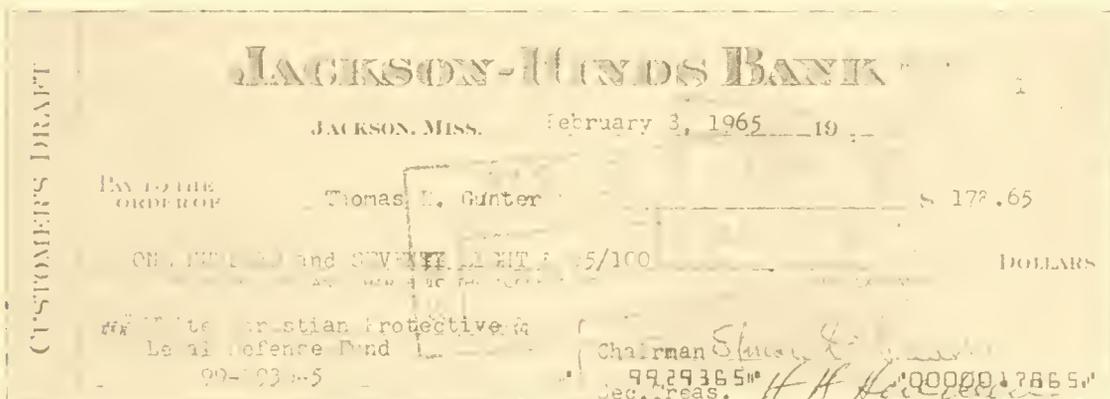

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like the record to reflect at this point, even though we will need some time to make an examination of all of these checks, that one of the checks supplied by Mr. Heredeen in response to the subpoena is against the account of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund and is payable to Thomas E. Gunter, the preceding witness, in the amount of $178.65, cosigned by Elmore D. Greaves as chairman and H. H. Heredeen as secretary-treasurer.

(Document marked "Harvey Heredeen Exhibit No. 3" follows:)

HARVEY HEREDEEN EXHIBIT NO. 3

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Heredeen and the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund.

In January 1965, the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund was organized for the purpose of raising funds for those arrested in Philadelphia, Mississippi, for involvement in the murder of the three civil rights workers and unidentified persons arrested in Meridian, Mississippi.

Present at meetings held during the period for the purpose of creating the fund were: Sam Bowers, Imperial Wizard, White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan; Elmore D. Greaves, the chairman of the fund; Julius Harper, the Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi; Gordon Lackey, a province official; J. K. Greer, a Klan official; I. H. "Pete" Shumaker; John Bostick; and E. L. "Tiny" Lewis.

On January 31, 1965, a meeting of the Klan cabinet was held in Jackson, Mississippi. Present at this meeting were Pete Shumaker, the Reverend Delmar Dennis, and Harvey H. Heredeen, all formal members of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund. Imperial Wizard Bowers stated at this meeting that the main purpose of the meeting was for raising funds for the defense of the 18 defendants who had been arrested for their participation in the murder of Schwerner, Goodman, and Chaney. Bernard L. Akin, one of the 18, was present at this meeting.

Bowers stated that the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund had been formed by the White Knights and was the principal fundraising organization created and organized by the White Knights.

He further stated that only active members of the White Knights would be allowed to serve on the board of directors of the fund.

Plans already adopted for solicitation by mail and through placing of sealed jars in restaurants, filling stations, and other places of public accommodation were announced.

In February, Secretary-treasurer Heredeen reported that State Chairman Greaves had met with the representative of the Neshoba County Defense Fund. At this meeting it was agreed that the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund would not solicit in Neshoba County, nor would the funds merge.

In March 1965, Imperial Wizard Bowers reported at a State cabinet meeting that the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund would be a permanent organization not only to raise funds for the Philadelphia defendants, but also for the defense of any Klansman accused of committing racial violence.

Bowers reported that the Jackson-Hines Bank, which had not given its authority to mailing out its drafts, had disassociated itself in every way from this fund. Thereafter, funds should be mailed to the fund in care of its post office box.

Also in March 1965, the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund held a meeting at Brookhaven, Mississippi. Heredeen and Greaves were given the right to provide funds for any white Christian who may be indicted or forced to stand trial because of a civil rights act, without prior approval of the board.

At a meeting of the White Knights in August 1965, held near Florence, Mississippi, at which H. H. Heredeen was present, Grand Dragon of the White Knights Billy Buckles requested that $500 be sent to Greenwood, Mississippi, for the three arrested for arson.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Heredeen possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Heredeen, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator. You now have an opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, confirm or deny the accuracy of the information, or explain any part of it. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I say to you, therefore, sir, that absent your rebuttal of the facts that have come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Bearing this in mind, do you have anything to say?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for reasons previously stated by me, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Heredeen, I asked questions a while ago that Mr. Appell's sworn statement brought back to my memory, questions about certain facts of which I am aware. We have received evidence to the effect that this defense fund indeed was a coverup Klan organization or activity; that what was described as jugs were deposited in many, many, many places of business in Mississippi—restaurants, hotels, motels, stores, and what not; and that people were made to believe that this was not a Klan activity; that contributions were made on that belief. And I recall, even, that it was stated under oath that one fruitful source of collections was in cafes and saloons where, after people had many drinks, they wanted to respond and did respond pretty heavily to the fund—people who had no knowledge that this was a Klan activity and that jugs or buckets were in fact controlled, placed, and the funds collected, by members of the Klan. Is that correct?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Heredeen, do you know the Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Julius Harper?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for the reasons previously stated by me, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Heredeen, on February 20, 1965, at approximately 6 p.m., did you meet up with Julius Harper, him driving a white 1964 Chevrolet and you driving a 1964 Oldsmobile, and thereafter go off to a secret meeting of the Klan?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated, I must respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Heredeen, you said you had some income tax forms. Before you deliver them to the committee, I would like to ask this question: Are they the income tax for the White Christian Protection and Legal Defense Fund, Inc., or are they your own?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Mr. Senner, these are my personal income tax records as the subpoena calls for.

The CHAIRMAN. He didn't ask you to produce them, in fact, and if he had, I would not have ordered you to produce them.

Let me ask you this: Did you ever receive any income coming from Klan activities?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Would you repeat the question, please?

The CHAIRMAN. Let me get right to the point. I have in my hand an envelope containing five checks issued by the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, payable to H. H. Heredeen or cash. Now, I say to you, of course, those checks were issued but, to be fair, did you use the moneys represented by those checks for your own use, or did you pass the funds over to anybody else?

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Documents marked "Harvey Heredeen Exhibit No. 4" and retained in committee files.)

The CHAIRMAN. I said a moment ago I would not have directed the production of your personal income tax. I meant to add "if you had invoked the fifth amendment."

The subpoena called on you to produce copies of the income tax return of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, that is, called upon to produce them in your capacity as secretary-treasurer. Did you bring them with you? If you filed it; if one was filed.

Mr. HEREDEEN. Sir, all of the records ordered by the subpoena issued to me that I have access, custody, or control of have already been introduced into evidence.

The CHAIRMAN. I say to you it is our information that this outfit did not file any income tax return. The Internal Revenue people so informed us.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions.

Mr. SENNER. I think you covered it very well, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Elmore D. Greaves.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. GREAVES. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ELMORE DOUGLAS GREAVES, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, JIM PHYFER

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. GREAVES. Elmore Douglas Greaves.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing before the committee in accordance with the subpoena served upon you by Investigator Sullivan of this committee on November 6, 1965, at Route 1, Box 140, Madison, Mississippi?

Mr. GREAVES. I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. GREAVES. I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. PHYFER. Jim Phyfer, 518 East Pascagoula Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, after receipt of the subpoena served upon you, did you dispatch a Western Union telegram to the chairman of this committee with reference to the service of that subpoena?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes, I did.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to read this into the record and ask if this is the telegram you sent to the chairman:

Be advised we hereby petition the House Committee on Un-American Activities to proceed in executive sessions for the following reasons:

1. Washington, D.C. is notoriously one of the most crime ridden cities in the United States and it is placing ourselves in great personal danger to arrive in or travel about that District in our automobiles bearing Mississippi State license plates. No precautions have been made by your committee to safeguard our lives or persons or property while there.

2. Our sons and bothers now face Communist elements in Vietnam in a deadly war. These same Communist elements fill the first several rows of your committee hearings, operating tape recorders and cameras. These Communists attending these hearings include representatives of The Worker, Communist newspaper, and the National Guardian, cited by your committee, House Report Number 3123, September 21, 1950, as "a virtual official propaganda arm of Soviet Russia", as well as other un-American elements who daily pack these hearings.

3. Southern citizens who have recently appeared before your committee in Washington have revealed that these Communists in attendance have boasted to them that they "were there to identify our people so that further action could be taken against us."

4. We strongly protest the unfair and unreasonable manner of handling these subpoenas. They were issued by your committee on October 6, 1965, but were not served until November 6, 1965; late Saturday afternoon. This manner of handling is in violation of your committee's own rules of procedure, which states:

III. Subpoenaing of witnesses:

"B. Witnesses shall be subpoenaed at a reasonably sufficient time in advance of any hearing, said time to be determined by the committee or subcommittee, in order to give the witness an opportunity to prepare for the hearing and to employ counsel, should he so desire."

Your subpoena leaves only five working days of preparation and travel time from the State of Mississippi to Washington, D.C.

5. We feel that the further holding of these hearings under present conditions and in the present location is to subject the witness, his attorney and members of his family to greater danger than we would face as soldiers in Vietnam. The committee is urged to select a site and under conditions less hostile and less fraught [sic] with real and actual danger.

The congressional Committee on Un-American Activities has had a long and creditable record for its efforts in behalf of the United States and its patriots and in investigating the internal threats to our national security from Congressman Martin Dies to Congressman Francis E. Walter. We would have deemed it a privilege to have appeared before this committee in such investigations. During the past several years, however, investigations by your committee have obviously been un-American. The current hearings appear to be purely political in their purposes and carried on as a basis for un-American propaganda.

Communist demonstrators ran the committee under the bed in the San Francisco hearings and now it emerges with its front rows filled with Communists.

For these reasons patriots are uncertain of the motives behind subpoenas lately issued and so are ill-prepared to appear before this committee.

Elmore D. Greaves, Editor-Publisher The Southern Review.

Mr. Greaves, did you dispatch this telegram?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes, I sent that.

(Document marked "Elmore Greaves Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Did you believe all of the contents in it to be based upon information which you had received as I set forth to the committee about the attendance of the people at the hearings and the people here with quotes and other things as you set forth in this telegram?

Mr. GREAVES. I believed this from the information I had.

Mr. APPELL. Would you advise the committee the source of your information?

Mr. GREAVES. The question you asked me is who the source of this information is?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. GREAVES. The source was given to me as a newspaper editor.

The CHAIRMAN. And?

Mr. SENNER. And you claim privilege?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes, I do.

The CHAIRMAN. You mean, you invoke the privilege of a newspaperman not to disclose your source of information?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes, I do, sir; and of the fifth amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. Of what?

Mr. GREAVES. Also of the fifth amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. This committee is not in the business of prying into legitimate operations of the press, I assure you. I am not going to order and direct you to answer the question that you reveal your sources. But when did you arrive in Washington?

Mr. GREAVES. I believe, sir, on Tuesday.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you personally experience the things which you said in that telegram your sources said they had experienced?

Mr. GREAVES. I did not.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you see in and around the hearing room, the Capitol, anywhere else, the presence of Communists influencing the committee or doing the things that you said your source told you were going on?

Mr. GREAVES. I did not see that, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have reason to believe that those things are going on?

Mr. GREAVES. From what I have seen, sir, since my presence here I have no reason to believe that is occurring at this time.

The CHAIRMAN. And you make the reservation of "at this time." So that whatever was related to you in the past would be from the sources that you cannot reveal. Is that correct?

Mr. GREAVES. That is correct.

The CHAIRMAN. You applaud in your telegram the creditable records of this committee under the regime and leadership, chairmanship, of the Honorable, my good friend, Martin Dies, and my late, lamented friend Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, and you stop there. Since your appearance in Washington and your attendance at these hearings, do you have any reason to believe that the functions of my chairmanship and the membership of the gentlemen whom you have seen are any less creditable?

Mr. GREAVES. From what I have seen, sir, I would say that they are not less so.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, the subpoena served upon you did not in any manner or form mention the Southern Review: did it, sir?

Mr. GREAVES. It did not, sir.

Mr. APPELL. So that the subpoena was not served upon you as a newspaperman, nor did it call for your appearance as a newspaperman.

Mr. GREAVES. It was not served upon me in that capacity; no, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, when and where were you born?

Mr. GREAVES. Hinds County, Jackson, Mississippi, 1926.

Mr. APPELL. Month and day?

Mr. GREAVES. March 15, 1926.

Mr. APPELL. Do you presently reside at Route 1, Box 140, Madison, Mississippi?

Mr. GREAVES. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. GREAVES. I am, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. PHYFER. Jim Phyfer, 518 East Pascagoula Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a résumé of your educational background, Mr. Greaves?

Mr. GREAVES. I had 4 years in college.

Mr. APPELL. Graduating from where, and when?

Mr. GREAVES. I did not graduate. I withdrew from law school upon the death of my father in 1951.

Mr. APPELL. 1951?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Have you had military service, sir.

Mr. GREAVES. Two years in the Navy during the Second World War.

Mr. APPELL. During what years?

Mr. GREAVES. From 1944 to 1946.

Mr. APPELL. Give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background.

Mr. GREAVES. I have been self-employed since 1951 as an independent cotton farmer.

The CHAIRMAN. Cotton farmer?

Mr. GREAVES. Cotton farmer; yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. A noble occupation. I am a cotton farmer myself.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment, which was made part of the subpoena, and under the conditions of the subpoena ordered you to bring with you and to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, and affiliated organizations, namely, White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund and the Mississippi Constitutional Council, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past member or an associate of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. GREAVES. All of the records ordered by the subpoena to me that I have access, custody, or control of have already been introduced into evidence.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Senner.

Mr. SENNER. What was the answer?

Mr. APPELL. That the documents the subpoena called upon him to produce have already been produced and are in the record, the documents available to him or in his custody or in his control.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Greaves, who introduced those documents? Could you name those individuals?

Mr. GREAVES. That is already in the record.

Mr. SENNER. Who introduced them into the record? That was my question.

The CHAIRMAN. Let me ask you this question. Do you mean they were produced through the witness Mr. Heredeem?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have any other documents in your possession not produced by Mr. Heredeem? I mean documents relating to Klan activities.

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, I have no other records in my possession called for by the subpoena.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you ever have any?

Mr. GREAVES. I never did have any.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know of any documents called for by the subpoena that were destroyed?

Mr. GREAVES. No, sir, I do not.

The CHAIRMAN. I already indicated the documents produced by Mr. Heredeem would, of course, be examined and perused carefully and studied and will be returned after they have served their purpose.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, in response to a question as to whether or not you ever had the documents or they were destroyed, you said, I believe, not to your knowledge. Now, this is a defense fund to which people contributed money. Some money was received in the form of donations through the mail, accompanied by letters. Where are the records which reflect such contributions to the funds?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, all the records issued by the subpoena issued to me that I have access to, custody or control of, all of them have already been introduced into evidence.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, we have been advised by the Internal Revenue Service that no tax return has been filed by the fund, and there is nothing in the report submitted to us about income. These are items of disbursement. Are you testifying you have no records to justify and set forth the income which this fund has received?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, with all due respect, I repeat the previous statement that all of the records, that is all of them, ordered by the subpoena issued to me that I have had access to, or control or custody of, have already been introduced into evidence.

The CHAIRMAN. You were chairman of that entity called the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund; were you not?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as defense the privileges guaranteed to me in the 5th, the 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States.

The CHAIRMAN. As Mr. Appell said, it was our information the corporation did not, in fact, file an income tax return. Is that information correct?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. In soliciting funds to be used by that entity or corporation, were representations made that contributions or donations would be tax-free?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman and Mr. Greaves, you stated with some degree of authority in your answer that all documents of this corporation have been heretofore produced before this committee. What makes you so sure that all records and documents have been produced to this committee by the corporation?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, all of the records ordered by the subpoena issued to me that I had access, custody, or control of have already been introduced into evidence.

Mr. SENNER. By Mr. Heredeem. That was your answer and you were very positive about that. My question to you is: How do you know that all records and documents required by the subpoena were introduced or produced by Mr. Heredeem and presented to this committee? Did you look at all of the documents and records Mr. Heredeem supplied?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, I only know what I had access, custody, and control of.

Mr. SENNER. And then apparently you turned that over to Mr. Heredeem and then you looked at Mr. Heredeem's records and you know as a fact, and you testified to the fact, that these records you did have in your possession have been produced and delivered to this committee. Do you testify to this as a positive fact?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes.

Mr. SENNER. And you looked at those records?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. The subpoena served upon you called for, among other things, correspondence relating to the organization of and conduct of business affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and its affiliated organization, the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund. As chairman of this entity did you have correspondence, engage in correspondence?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, for the previous reasons stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you maintain files of that fund containing letters received and copies of letters sent?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, in answer to that question let me reiterate that all of the records ordered by the subpoena issued to me that I have had access to, custody, or control have already been introduced into evidence.

The CHAIRMAN. I won't accept that because it is not responsive. What I asked you is: Did you, as chairman, keep files and do you now have in your possession files containing original letters received by you as chairman and containing copies of letters you sent out?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, I kept no further files.

The CHAIRMAN. That is still not responsive. I am going to hang on until you answer. Did you maintain files, did you keep files as chairman, containing letters received from anyone and copies of letters sent out by you and signed by you?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

The CHAIRMAN. In your representative capacity.

Mr. PHYFER. May we have the question reread, please, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. Read the question.

(The question was read by the reporter.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you keep in your files a copy of the telegram you sent to me?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Graves, shortly after the fund was formed, did you send a letter to each subscriber of the newspaper, the Southern Review, in which the letter set forth that Elmore D. Greaves was the State chairman of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund? Did this letter also set forth the post office box as being Box 426, Jackson, Mississippi, and did it also identify as the directors Mr. Glen Swettman, Biloxi, Mississippi; Mr. I. H. "Pete" Shumaker, of Kosciusko, Mississippi; the Reverend Delmar Dennis, Meridian, Mississippi; and James M. Hooper of Sidon, Mississippi?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the letter to which I am referring requested the receiver to contribute money to the defense of "any White Christian patriot," who has or may be indicted and forced to stand trial for some real or imagined infraction of the Communist-inspired Civil Rights Act. Some of these letters were accompanied by a sheet containing the articles of formation of the organization and rules and procedures for placing and collecting of jars to be used in the collection of money for the organization.

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated, I decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. At any time did you advise anyone that the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund was a project of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the previous grounds.

The CHAIRMAN. You were in the hearing room, were you not, when I explained to the previous witness that as chairman of this committee and as a Member of Congress, as a lawyer, I have no objection, and certainly can have none, to funds being raised for the defense of anyone. But the pertinency of these questions relates to the Klan activities. Just as a fact, you were in the hearing room when I made that statement: were you not?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have any comments to make upon what I just stated?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, I have no comments to make, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. You were in the hearing room when, along the same line, I pointed out that we were interested in and it was pertinent to this inquiry the fact, if it was a fact—and I related certain things about it to my personal knowledge—as to whether or not this entity, the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, Inc., was being used as a facade of respectability in order to hide the fact—we may as well be frank—that it was really a Klan activity. You were in the room when I made those statements and that I had personal knowledge of the activity of the fund?

Mr. GREAVES. I was here, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have any comments to make?

Mr. GREAVES. No, sir; I have no comments.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, were you also here when I read to Mr. Heredeem the committee's investigative result as to the organization of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund? Were you present?

Mr. GREAVES. Yes, I was present.

Mr. APPELL. Do you have any comment to make upon the investigative result as set forth to Mr. Heredeem?

Mr. GREAVES. I have no comment at all, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, are you a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On January 31, 1965, did you attend a meeting of any sort held at an abandoned farm house near a lake off Raymond Road outside of Jackson, Mississippi?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, for the reasons already mentioned, I respectfully decline to answer that.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, according to the committee's investigation, there was a meeting held there on January 31 and it was a State Klan cabinet meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. The main purpose for the assembling of Klansmen there was an activity—other meetings in January were called—was for the purpose of discussing and talking up the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund. During the course of this meeting, Imperial Wizard Bowers made a speech with respect to the danger the South was in from infiltration. Were you present when he made that speech, sir?

(Witness confers with counsel).

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. According to the committee's investigation, Mr. Bowers stated that he had confidential information from high influential sources that African troops were being landed in Cuba for extensive military training. This is why he and the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan had long-range plans for a buildup of arms and a burial of such arms. He elaborated that after these troops are landed they will lead an invasion of the United States at Biloxi and Gulfport, Mississippi. When the invasion commences, Defense Secretary McNamara will nationalize the State Guard and turn the Southern States over to the Negro. Whites will be relocated and moved to the North. The Klan will be the only element to fight the invasion. Bowers concluded his remarks by stating that the choice that is available is "to be smart and move or be right and fight."

Were you present and heard that speech?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, I have great hesitancy to ask you because you publish a newspaper, but I have before me an article that appeared in the Meridian, Mississippi, Star, November 8, 1964. According to the article as it appeared in the Meridian Star, and it was a paid advertisement, there is reproduced what the paid advertisement claimed to have appeared in the October 1, 1964, issue of the Southern Review. It is:

On Being Investigated By The F.B.I.

"Our Washington correspondent writes the following report. In view of the fact that an increasing number of white people are being questioned in Mississippi by F.B.I. Agents, as an outgrowth of the Mississippi Summer Project, and are being harassed to an extent never before known, it is of special importance to give his conclusions:

a. When the FBI agent calls upon you, insist upon complete identification. They carry their credentials (plus a photograph), and you have a right to examine those credentials carefully and in detail. Copy down the name, address, and FBI number of the agent.

b. The FBI agent is supposed to tell you that you are not required to answer his questions. Some agents tell you that, but others do not. If the agent does not make that introductory statement, ask him if you are under a court order to provide information.

c. Say nothing to the FBI agent. When questioned, say "no comment."

d. The FBI agents are given special training in regard to the silent subject who refuses to answer questions. They will try to make you angry, in order that your tongue may be loosened. They will play upon your sympathy. ("I don't like this assignment, Mr. ----- I am a Southerner, too—but I have been ordered by my Kennedy-appointed superior to question you."), and they will try flattery as well. The best way to defeat such training is to apply the following three rules: (1) silence; (2) more silence; (3) still more silence.

e. Be careful of the FBI man who calls you down to his automobile and opens a conversation with you at that location. There will most certainly be a tape recorder in the car, and your conversation will find its ways to Washington via air mail. * * *

This continues along this line Mr. Greaves. I ask you, do you have proof to substantiate that which was contained in this paid advertisement, which is a reproduction of an article according to the ad which appeared in the October 1, 1964, issue of the Southern Review?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, may we see the ad?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Chairman, on the grounds of the first amendment, I object to this question and say that it is an invasion of the right of free speech and of the press.

The CHAIRMAN. I assure you that there is no such intent in asking the question. We are developing activities, methods, and techniques of Klan organizations. I might tell you, Mr. Greaves, that in my opinion the greatest force of the Klan thus far has been its secrecy. If subjected to the light of day, it will fold up quickly. But I am not going to order you to answer that question. Perhaps, however, Mr. Appell might—

Mr. APPELL. I would like to now ask Mr. Greaves whether it is in there as his independent position as a newspaperman or whether it is in there because of his membership in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, I object to that question again on the first amendment and I think that is a violation of the right of freedom of speech and of the press.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman, I suppose in this instance you are stressing freedom of speech rather than of press because he distinguished clearly between Mr. Greaves the newspaperman and Mr. Greaves the Klansman.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. In objecting to this, I am relying on the first and fifth amendments. Will you uphold it?

The CHAIRMAN. I certainly will uphold it.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Greaves, does the Southern Review—

The CHAIRMAN. That respects activities as a Klansman.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Greaves, does the Southern Review have a Washington correspondent?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Chairman, I object to that on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. And that includes what?

Mr. GREAVES. That includes the first amendment and the fifth amendment.

ELMORE GREAVES EXHIBIT NO. 2

[Meridian (Miss.) Star, Nov. 8, 1964, p. 13-A]

The following is being reproduced from the October 1, 1964, issue of The Southern Review, P.O. Box 426, Jackson, Mississippi, by the Lauderdale County Citizens' Council, Inc., as a public service, in order that citizens may know their rights. In so doing the Citizens' Council does not imply that information in any real criminal investigation should be withheld from investigating officers.

On Being Investigated By The F. B. I.

"Our Washington correspondent writes the following report. In view of the fact that an increasing number of white people are being questioned in Mississippi by F.B.I. Agents, as an outgrowth of the Mississippi Summer Project, and are being harassed to an extent never before known, it is of special importance to give his conclusions:

a. When the FBI agent calls upon you, insist upon complete identification. They carry their credentials (plus a photograph), and you have a right to examine those credentials carefully and in detail. Copy down the name, address, and FBI number of the agent.

b. The FBI agent is supposed to tell you that you are not required to answer his questions. Some agents tell you that, but others do not. If the agent does not make that introductory statement, ask him if you are under a court order to provide information.

c. Say nothing to the FBI agent. When questioned, say "no comment."

d. The FBI agents are given special training in regard to the silent subject who refuses to answer questions. They will try to make you angry, in order that your tongue may be loosened. They will play upon your sympathy ("I don't like this assignment, Mr. . . . I'm a Southerner, too—but I have been ordered by my Kennedy-appointed superior to question you"), and they will try flattery as well. The best way to defeat such training is to apply the following three rules: (1) silence; (2) more silence; (3) still more silence.

e. Be careful of the FBI man who calls you down to his automobile and opens a conversation with you at that location. There will most certainly be a tape recorder in the car, and your conversation will find its way to Washington via air mail.

f. If meetings are held at your home, someone will check the numbers on the license plates in order to trace the name and address of the individual owner.

g. Your telephone could be tapped, and your house could be "bugged." You can throw a legal monkey wrench into those practices by saying, at a meeting or over the telephone, "If my conversation is being recorded, it is being done so without my permission." By recording that statement, the FBI will be destroying the court value of the "bug." (As you know, a "bug" is a small microphone.)

h. If you are under a court order to provide information to the FBI, you do not have to say anything without first consulting your attorney. In other words, you are entitled to the presence of your attorney before you make a statement.

i. FBI agents are graduates of law schools, i. e., they are lawyers. One of the weak points about the FBI is that its agents can frequently be spotted: A lawyer looks like a lawyer. The FBI uses persons other than lawyers, of course, and those persons frequently infiltrate organizations in order to engage in spy work."

The CHAIRMAN. The document attributed to you, the ad attributed to you states, "Our Washington correspondent writes the following report." Do you have a Washington correspondent?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, I object again on the basis of the fifth amendment and the first amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, the issue of November 15, 1964, contains an article captioned "A Police State Exists In South Mississippi" and quotes a resolution adopted by an organization identified in the issue as the Adams County Civic and "Bettermen" Association. I put it to you as a fact that the Adams County Civic and Betterment Association is a cover name for a Klavern of the Klan and I ask you whether you possessed the same knowledge.

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document marked "Elmore Greaves Exhibit No. 3" follows:)

ELMORE GREAVES EXHIBIT NO. 3

[The Southern Review, Jackson, Miss., Nov. 15, 1964]

A Police State Exists In South Mississippi

When the Adams County Civic and Bettermen Association passes resolutions deploring the "unlawful arrests and search by members of the Mississippi Highway Patrol", then this is a serious matter indeed; and a matter about which every patriotic citizen should concern himself: and to protest to the constituted authorities. The citizens of Adams County further charged in the resolution that "a police state now exists in this section of the State of Mississippi in direct violation of our fundamental Constitutional rights." This condition was created by the activities of the Communist directed NAACP, CORE, SNCC, COFO and the National Council of Churches—that great "Christian" body. It is a strange thing that no members of these revolutionary groups have been restrained by court orders, or, as far as can be ascertained, arrested or held for any length of time. However, there have been several instances of arrests of revolutionists and their immediate release. But there have been many instances of arrest, detention, search without warrants, harrassment, and abuse of white citizens of these communities. The incident of the so-called bombing cases is the most glaring of these violations; and the one that shows most clearly the arrogant, and tyrannical nature of the State government doing the bidding of the Lyndon Johnson apparatus.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, are you presently a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, the Laurel, Mississippi, Call-Leader, issue of January 11, 1966—

The CHAIRMAN. That is Tuesday of this week.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir—contained a story from Jackson, Mississippi, AP byline:

A white supremacist editor today accused Senator James Eastland, Dem., Miss. and Governor Paul Johnson of plotting his subpoena to the Congressional Ku Klux Klan hearings to silence his newspaper.

Mr. Greaves, do you have any proof of that statement?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. That appeared in another paper and the source is yourself. Let us get that straight now. We are not stepping on your toes as a newspaperman. You are your own source here.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, the story contained this quote:

“Although I am not a member of the Ku Klux Klan,” Greaves said, “I am in sympathy with its philosophy as I understand it. That is, I believe in the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and the principle of white supremacy. * * *”

Mr. Greaves, are you accurately quoted?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I have no doubt that you have expressed yourself in similar fashion, that is, you believe in what——

Mr. APPELL. “The Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and the principle of white supremacy.”

The CHAIRMAN. No, believe in the principles of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. APPELL. No, sir. “‘Although I am not a member of the Ku Klux Klan,’ Greaves said, ‘I am in sympathy with its philosophy as I understand it. * * *’”

The CHAIRMAN. I will give you an opportunity in your own way, applaud it to the sky, if you want to, to tell us about the objectives, purposes, and programs of the Ku Klux Klan as you understand them.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greaves, the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan supports only the Constitution of the United States as originally written. Is this the Constitution that you agree with and that you support according to the quote that appeared in the paper?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Appell, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Greaves, as chairman of the fund that we talked about, did you received any compensation?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you receive any funds from the fund that you reported on your individual income tax return?

Mr. GREAVES. Mr. Willis, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Greaves, why is it on this fund when you used the posters and circulars, and so forth, you did not put incorporated? Is there any reason?

Mr. GREAVES. For reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that.

Mr. SENNER. In the State of Mississippi, when do you have a corporation? Do you need three incorporators, or do you know?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, I do not know.

Mr. SENNER. The head of the corporation would be the president; would he not?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, which corporation were you speaking of?

Mr. SENNER. I am talking about the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, Inc.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that.

Mr. SENNER. Isn't it a fact that you are president of that corporation?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Is it true that the fund was truly set up for the purpose of raising money for Klansmen who were arrested in the acts of violence?

Mr. GREAVES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused and the committee will stand in recess until 10:30 tomorrow morning.

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Senner, and Clawson.)

(Whereupon, at 6:15 p.m., Thursday, January 13, 1966, the committee recessed to reconvene at 10:30 a.m., Friday, January 14, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities met, pursuant to recess, at 11:35 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; Joe R. Pool, of Texas; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.

Committee member also present: Representative George F. Senner, Jr., of Arizona.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; and Donald T. Appell, chief investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Mr. Appell, call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. J. N. Fortenberry.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES NOLAN FORTENBERRY, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. James Nolan Fortenberry.

Mr. APPELL. Your middle name is Nolan, N-o-l-a-n?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. And your last name is Fortenberry?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, are you appearing here in accordance with a subpoena served upon you November 6, 1965, at 281 Mikell, Jackson, Mississippi?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Yes, sir, I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry when and where were you born?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Jefferson Davis County, November 29, 1932.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Yes, sir. I finished high school at Prentiss Consolidated School, 2 years at Mississippi College before I enlisted in the Army.

Mr. APPELL. What was your Army service?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I was 3 years in the regular Army, was overseas for a year and half with NATO.

Mr. APPELL. And what period of time did your military service cover?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. From February 18, 1953, until February 10, 1956.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, under the terms of the subpoena served upon you, in an attachment thereto made a part of the subpoena you were ordered to bring with you and produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, namely The Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you or available to you as present or past member or Klan Bureau Investigator, White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Fortenberry, will you produce the documents called for in the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1 of the subpoena?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I cannot produce such records due to the fact that such records are not in my possession, custody, and control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, you hold the position of an organizer or the kleagle of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed me by the 4th, 1st, 5th, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, under the constitution and laws of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, an organizer in initiating men into the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is supposed to prepare documents with four copies and make distribution of those documents as set forth in the constitution and laws.

Did you make such distribution of those documents?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. After distribution, one copy of the document came back to the kleague, or organizer. What happened to the copy that came back to you?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. To your knowledge, were any documents called for in part 1 of the subpoena destroyed by fire?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, on October 20, 1964, did you attend a province meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan at Laurel, Mississippi?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you did attend that meeting and at that meeting you were elected to the position of a province investigator for Province No. 1. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm it or deny it.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer.

Mr. APPELL. Other province investigators at the same time were Jack Williams of Pelahatchie, Mississippi; H. L. Holmes of Jackson, Mississippi; Woody Mathews of Utica, Mississippi; and Gordon Lackey of Greenwood, Mississippi.

Did you know those gentlemen to hold positions similar to your own?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I forgot to ask you, Mr. Fortenberry, would you give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Yes, sir. Since finishing—from what time, sir?

Mr. APPELL. From 1960 to date.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I was employed by the city of Jackson as a construction inspector until February of 1965, when I went into construction.

Mr. APPELL. And who are you employed by at present?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Enthalpy, Inc., out of Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, as a member of the Klan and as an official, were you assigned to a Klavern of the Klan in Hinds County, Mississippi?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, as an official of the province, are you familiar with any acts of violence carried out by members of the Klan in your province?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, a stick of dynamite was thrown into the building or offices of Hazel Brannan Smith who publishes the Northside Reporter. Do you possess any knowledge of this activity?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fortenberry, was Julius Harper the Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan to your knowledge?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer.

Mr. WELTNER. What is that name again?

Mr. APPELL. Julius Harper.

Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harold Lloyd Delk.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. DELK. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF HAROLD LLOYD DELK, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Delk.

Mr. DELK. Harold Lloyd Delk.

Mr. APPELL. That is D-e-l-k?

Mr. DELK. D-e-l-k.

Mr. APPELL. You are appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on December 4, 1965, by Mr. John D. Sullivan, an investigator for this committee, at 219 Dixie Avenue, Hattiesburg, Mississippi?

Mr. DELK. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. DELK. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will the counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, when and where were you born?

Mr. DELK. I was born in Laurel, Mississippi, on December 5, 1926.

Mr. APPELL. What is your educational background?

Mr. DELK. I graduated from the 10th grade at the Hattiesburg High School. Of course, there is some misunderstanding about that thing. We have been fighting over it for 20 years. They say the eighth, I believe.

Then I have a certificate from the University of Mississippi in public relations and also numerous FBI school items such as fingerprinting, collection and preservation of evidence, firearms handling.

Mr. APPELL. Under what circumstances and conditions did you receive this FBI training?

Mr. DELK. As a policeman.

Mr. APPELL. Were you a student of the police academy conducted by the—

Mr. DELK. No, sir, it was local. Our local FBI agent from Jackson—New Orleans, conducted a school in Hattiesburg.

Mr. APPELL. When did you take this series of instruction?

Mr. DELK. It was over a period from 1953 through 1958, I guess.

Mr. APPELL. Of what police force were you a member at that time?

Mr. DELK. Hattiesburg Police Department.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background since 1960?

Mr. DELK. West Brothers Motor Express as a supervisor and Mississippi Tank Company as a driver, Fowler Butane Gas Company as transport driver.

Mr. APPELL. And that completes your——

Mr. DELK. That completes it.

Mr. APPELL. During the course of time, have you received compensation from any other sources?

Mr. DELK. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. From what sources?

Mr. DELK. A trucking business of my own.

Mr. APPELL. Have you received compensation from any other sources?

Mr. DELK. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Where?

Mr. DELK. A night patrol service in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, which we still operate.

Mr. APPELL. Would you explain to the committee what a night patrol service is?

Mr. DELK. It is contract guard duty for individual businesses.

Mr. APPELL. This is a private operation?

Mr. DELK. A private operation.

Mr. APPELL. Is this your business, or are you employed by someone?

Mr. DELK. No; it is my own business.

Mr. APPELL. Have you received income from any other sources?

Mr. DELK. No.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever receive any income from recruiting a person into the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. DELK. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke the defense of the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I asked the witness whether he had income from any other sources. He said he had none. I then asked him whether he had any income derived from organizing men into the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and he invoked constitutional privileges. I, therefore, ask that the witness be directed to answer the question.

The CHAIRMAN. Yes. I do order and direct you to answer that question. You made a representation voluntarily favorable to you on the subject and then you are confronted with this and you invoke the fifth amendment.

Mr. DELK. Would you please ask that question again?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. Did you receive any income from organizing anyone into the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. DELK. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you act as an organizer of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. DELK. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. The constitution and bylaws of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan provide that an organizer, until a charter is granted, receives personal compensation. You have never received such compensation?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Isn't that contradictory? The question is, Did you receive income? You might have earned it. I don't know. Did you receive income from a Klan organization for any reason? You said "no." Now you are taking a different position.

Restate that question, please.

Mr. APPELL. The constitution and bylaws provide that, until a Klavern is chartered, the organizer gets personal compensation. Did you ever receive any personal compensation as provided for by the constitution and bylaws?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman. I ask that the witness be directed to answer the question.

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to answer the question.

(Mr. Blackwell confers with Mr. Willis off the record.)

(Counsel confers with witness.)

Mr. DELK. Sir, I have already stated all of the compensations that I have received, and that is all.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, is your answer that you did not receive compensation, or you did not receive any money of any kind from the Klan organizations to which you belonged? Is that what you are saying?

You are giving contradictory answers.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. DELK. No, sir, that is not what I said. I have already enumerated all the compensation that I have received.

The CHAIRMAN. And that is all you received?

Mr. DELK. That is all I have received.

The CHAIRMAN. Then ask him the specific question.

Mr. APPELL. Have you received any compensation in accordance with the constitution and bylaws of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which provide that an organizer receives a given sum of money for each person he organizes into the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

The CHAIRMAN. May I say to your counsel that the question is whether he received compensation and money. I separated that from whether he was an organizer.

Mr. BUCKLEY. We appreciate that, Mr. Chairman. We didn't understand it that way.

The CHAIRMAN. Am I correct that when asked whether he was an organizer, he invoked the privilege of the fifth amendment?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I know Mr. Appell didn't intend to indicate an answer to this question as to funds would be an admission that he was an organizer.

Did you, as an individual, not as an organizer, receive any compensation or funds from a Klan organization? I say that because it could be—I doubt that it would be, but it could be—that a Klan organization might hire people and pay them some money, such as lawyers. That wouldn't make a lawyer a Klansman, I hope. It is not intended that by the double-edged question, if it was, that he is admitting membership.

Did he receive any money of any kind as compensation, gift, or donation or for work performed, from any Klan organization?

Mr. DELK. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, were you an organizer for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and did you in fact help organize the Forrest County Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, we had a conversation over the telephone with respect to making arrangements to supply you with transportation. You told me on the telephone that we had made a mistake, that you had never been a member of any Klan organization.

Were the statement and representations made to me over the phone truthful?

The CHAIRMAN. I wish you would think about that. You know if it is true. Do what you want to in your answer, however.

Mr. DELK. For reasons previously stated, sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, I hand you a document which has no identity as to the source of its publication, but it is a document headed "Secrecy" and it contains approximately nine paragraphs. Examine that and answer as to whether or not you have ever seen that document or a document similar in context.

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Document marked "Harold Delk Exhibit No. 1." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, p. 70.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, I would like to read to you, not the entire document, but a few passages from it, and if you and your counsel challenge the reading, I will hand it back:

Secrecy is not only a tight lip, but a tight manner. * * * Develop your own private, substitutate [sic] names for all proper names and offices in the organization.

Secrecy is more than just not talking. True Secrecy is a Hardened Mental Attitude by which an individual convinces HIMSELF that he is not a member and that there is no such organization. Secrecy is Mental Discipline and necessary for Victory. When a member is so able to discipline himself, he is not going to ACCIDENTALLY make slips of tongue and manner, and until he DOES so discipline himself he will continue to make such slips.

Is this theory of secrecy, to your knowledge, taught by any organization that you ever held membership in?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I will put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that this is a document upon which the secrecy of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is based.

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, did you attend a meeting of the White Knights near Raleigh, Mississippi, June 23, 1964, at which time you were elected to the position of province KBI?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that on June 23, 1964, at a meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, you were elected to the position of province KBI?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Delk, are you presently a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you a member of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. At the time you were a province KBI, did you know Eddie McDaniel of Natchez, Mississippi, who is now Grand Dragon of the Realm of Mississippi, United Klans of America, to be a province KBI within the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Delk, our investigator put to you as a fact, under oath, that you are or were a province investigator, or a member of what is called a Klan Bureau of Investigation. Was he right? Did he tell the truth or not?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. A moment ago Mr. Appell said that, in a telephone conversation you had with him, you said a mistake had been made and that you were not a member of the Klan. Now, I am simply asking this: Did you make that statement to Mr. Appell?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you a member of the Klan Bureau of Investigation at the same time that you were a police officer in Hattiesburg, Mississippi?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you have a telephone conversation with Mr. Appell?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you phone him in order to try to butter him up so that you wouldn't be called here today? Now, I am asking you these questions to test the accuracy of our investigators.

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I say to you that we have had such telephone conversations that have developed information to satisfy us in the belief that people have tried to ingratiate their cause with the committee investigators.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Delk, you testified that during the years 1953 to 1958 you attended certain training courses sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the State of Mississippi. What was the nature of the training given in those courses over that period of time?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. DELK. The nature of these training courses was fingerprinting, classifying fingerprinting, collection and preservation of evidence, and just general police investigation work.

Mr. WELTNER. Was there any instruction in the use of firearms?

Mr. DELK. There were exhibitions.

Mr. WELTNER. Pistol exhibitions?

Mr. DELK. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. And what would be called a submachine gun?

Mr. DELK. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Pistols were the only weapons in which the instructions were given?

Mr. DELK. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Now, what about security? Was there any instruction in either the maintenance of internal security or instruction in protective security as part of these FBI schools? For instance, were you given any instruction as to how a police organization might surround a house where someone had barricaded himself with weapons and how to disarm that person?

Mr. DELK. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. What was the nature of your duties with the police force of Hattiesburg, Mississippi?

Mr. DELK. I was a patrolman.

Mr. WELTNER. How long did you serve as such?

Mr. DELK. Both times that I was a member of the Hattiesburg Police Department, I believe it would add up to 6 or 7 years. I would have to go back in the dates.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, you were given training in these weapons and police procedures as a member of that police force, too, I suppose; were you not?

Mr. DELK. No, sir, I am sorry to say not. They do now, but they didn't then.

Mr. WELTNER. They gave you a badge and a gun?

Mr. DELK. A badge and a gun and go get them.

Mr. WELTNER. When you enrolled in those FBI schools, were you required to sign any kind of a statement concerning membership in subversive organizations or organizations whose names were listed on the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. DELK. I really don't remember, but I don't think so.

Mr. WELTNER. When you enter the Army or the Federal service, you have to sign a statement that includes a long list of organizations, including the Communist Party and others?

Mr. DELK. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. You don't recall having to sign any such statement?

Mr. DELK. No, sir, I don't recall having signed such a statement.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you recall making any representations at the time you enrolled in those schools, other than just to state your name and police organization with which you were affiliated?

Mr. DELK. We were sent to these schools by our superiors. They told us to go and where to go.

Mr. WELTNER. You didn't have to swear that you would uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. DELK. I did that when I was sworn in as a police officer, but not at these schools.

Mr. WELTNER. When you went into the schools, you had to make no such representation with regard to the Government of the United States?

Mr. DELK. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Were you a member of the Ku Klux Klan when you attended these FBI schools?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Were any other members of the Hattiesburg, Mississippi, Police Force during this period of your service, 6 or 7 years, members of any Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Would the operations of the private Klan Bureau of Investigation include fingerprinting or classification of fingerprinting and collection of evidence?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. And would it involve the use of firearms, a knowledge of the nomenclature and operation of firearms, the maintenance of firearms, and the operation thereof?

Mr. DELK. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions of the witness. I do have this comment: A few weeks ago we determined that the Federal Aviation Agency was a tenant of the Ku Klux Klan in the State of Georgia, and I think the evidence here indicates that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has, at least to some extent, imparted a knowledge of procedures and training that can be, and possibly has been, used not only as a part of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but also the Klan Bureau of Investigation. And I think it might be appropriate to forward this testimony to the FBI and to inquire as to what procedures they may now have concerning the acceptance of police officers or special training courses, with a specific suggestion that if they do not do that now, there should be some statement required by every enrollee as to membership or lack of membership in the Ku Klux Klan or other organizations similar to those listed on the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations.

I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee will stand in recess until 2 o'clock.

(Members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan of the subcommittee, and also Representative Senner.)

(Whereupon, at 12:20 p.m., Friday, January 14, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 2 p.m. the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 2:35 p.m., Hon. Edwin E. Willis, chairman, presiding.)

(Members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, and Buchanan of the subcommittee, and also Representative Senner.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order. Mr. Appell, call your first afternoon witness.

Mr. APPELL. Edward Willard Fuller.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear, sir, to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. FULLER. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF EDWARD WILLARD FULLER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. FULLER. Edward W. Fuller, sir.

Mr. APPELL. "W" for Willard?

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on November 3, 1965, by Mr. John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. FULLER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, when and where were you born?

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer may tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Chalmers.

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I assume, as usual, it is stipulated that your client is familiar with the opening statement I made at the beginning of the hearings.

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, the subpoena served upon you called for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, namely the Mississippi Constitutional Council, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past Exalted Cyclops and member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1 of the subpoena, Mr. Fuller, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

The CHAIRMAN. It is understood, is it not, that he is responding to the request to produce the documents in the capacity stated in the subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir, Mr. Chairman; our same stipulation.

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to this committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in its subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for the reason I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to this committee any and all records as requested by this committee on the subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress in House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Fuller, in light of the stipulation made, I direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, paragraph 2 of the subpoena called upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the Mississippi Constitutional Council which the Constitution and Laws of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization the same being in your possession, custody or control.

The CHAIRMAN. The same stipulation?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, in the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Fuller, I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents demanded and ordered by the committee, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, would you give the committee your educational background?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, do you know Mr. John D. Sullivan, an investigator of the committee, who sits on my right?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that on August 18, 1965, that Mr. Sullivan interviewed you in his motel room at the Holiday Inn Motel in Natchez, Mississippi.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer the question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you advised Mr. Sullivan that you had joined the White Knights, the Sligo Unit, in September 1964 and were the exalted cyclops of that Klavern; that Joe Nosser was the assistant exalted cyclops; that J. L.—who I believe is referred to as “Big Mac” McKinney, was the investigator; and that you were succeeded as the exalted cyclops by Robert Myers. Is the report of the interview made by Investigator Sullivan truthful?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, do you know Gene C. Scott?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, Mr. Scott, while to the best of my knowledge never having been a member of the Klan, made a tape recording for a Natchez newspaper in which he identified certain residents of the area as Klansmen. Through some method, the tape recording that he made fell into the hands of the Klan, and I hand you a copy of a document entitled “The Klan’s Rebutal [sic] to the Miss Lou’s Observer,” addressed “To All Patriotic Citizens of Adams County,” signed “United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Mississippi, Adams County Units,” and ask you if you are aware of the publication of that document.

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Following notice that Scott had engaged in this reporting to a local newspaper, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you and James “Big Mac” McKinney, beat Scott and threatened to kill him.

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

EDWARD FULLER EXHIBIT No. 1

THE REBUTAL

THE KLAN'S REBUTAL TO THE MISS LOU'S OBSERVER

TO ALL PATRIOTIC CITIZENS OF ADAMS COUNTY:

For several weeks now we have been reading in the Miss-Lou Observer of a confession given to Mr. Forrest Johnson in the presence of a Mr. Winkler by an informer who claims to have been a Klansman. This informer's name is Mr. _____ Scott who is safely out of town in Vicksburg, Miss. driving a cab. We would like to inform the public that this confession was made with the intention of Mr. Winkler selling this confession and the proceeds being divided between Mr. Winkler and Mr. _____ Scott. This confession was made on Jan. 21 & 23, 1965.

The following questions were asked by Mr. Johnson; the answers were given by Mr. _____ Scott:

Question: Mr. Scott, you understand that the information that you are about to give us will be given under Oath?

Answer: Yes, I do. (Oath was then administered)

Question: Mr. Scott are you a member of the Klan?

Answer: Yes, I am.

Question: How long have you been a member of the Klan?

Answer: About one year.

Question: Who administered the oath of the Klan to you?

Answer: A man by the name of _____.

Question: How much does it cost to join the Klan?

Answer: $25.00 and $10.00 annual fee.

Question: Do you know who is the head of the Klan here in Adams County?

Answer: I am not sure but I believe that Mr. _____ is the one that gives the final orders.

Question: Mr. Scott could you tell us if Mr. _____ is a member of the Klan?

Answer: Yes, he is a member.

Question: Mr. Scott, how about Mr. _____, is he a member of the Klan?

Answer: Well, I am not sure, but I believe that he is. He has been seen at the meetings on several occasions.

Question: Mr. Scott, do you know if Mr. _____ is a member of the Klan?

Answer: Yes, he is.

Statement: I am going to call some names and I want you to tell me if they are members of the Klan. _____

Question: Are these men members of the Klan?

Answer: Yes, they are.

Our fellow citizens, we would like to inform you that Mr. _____ Scott was not a member of the Klan one year prior to Jan. 21, 1965, neither is he a member of the Klan now, nor will he ever become a member of the Klan.

Let us go further with this so called confession:

Question: Mr. Scott, do you know anything about the negro that was killed out in the Kingston area?

Answer: Yes, I do. There were four of us in the car. Myself, _____, and two men from out of town whom I did not know. We all had pistols. We went to the Kingston area to talk to this negro. When we found him he started running and one of the men from out of town shot him.

Question: Mr. Scott, when did you know that he was dead?

Answer: When I read it in the paper.

Our fellow citizens, have any of you read about a negro being killed in the Kingston area by unknown assailants in the past year? (We haven't read about it.)

Let us continue into this so called confession:

Question: Mr. Scott, do you know anything about the shooting of the sign at Dumas Motel?

Answer: Yes, I do.

Question: Who shot it?

Answer: There were three of us in the car that night. Myself, _____ & _____.

Question: Mr. Scott, do you know about the beatings that took place here in the Natchez area?

Answer: Yes, I do.

Question: Can you tell us who done this?

Answer: Yes, it was usually four of us. Myself, _____, _____ & _____. Or it was sometimes done by _____ & _____.

Question: Mr. Scott, do you know anything about the bombing of the Meyers home and the negro Washington.

Answer: Yes, I do.

Now, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Winkler, you have boasted of your confession. You now have two alternatives. (1) you can retract your slanderous remarks about the Klan. (2) you can give to the public this so-called confession or we will expose it for you by having a public meeting and playing the entire recording.

We expect a reply within two weeks.

SIGNED:

UNITED KLANS OF AMERICA, INC.
 CHAPTERS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN
 LOCAL OF MISSISSIPPI
 ADAMS COUNTY UNITS

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Karl T. Deen of Natchez, Mississippi?

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, Karl Deen was trying to collect some money owed him by a friend. In trying to run this man down for the purpose of collecting the money, he trailed him to your residence, where a Klan meeting was being held. He parked his car in order to wait for his friend to get out and he was observed by you and Big Mac McKinney, and you threatened the man and fired shots at his automobile. I put it to you as a fact and ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that at a later time in order to do a favor for your friend, Donnie Clark, who did not want to repay the money owed, that you stopped by Karl Deen's home, you and Big Mac McKinney, for the purpose of taking him out and beating him.

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, do you know a Negro by the name of Richard Joe Butler?

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, were you arrested under a warrant which charged you with willfully, unlawfully, and feloniously making an assault or assault and battery upon one Richard Joe Butler, a human being, with a deadly weapon, that is, a shotgun, with the intent of him, the said Edward Fuller, to feloniously kill or murder the said Richard Joe Butler?

Mr. FULLER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan sets forth in Section 10 [Article V]:

The membership of the Klan shall be composed of Christian men who meet the requirements heretofore stated and who are Twenty-One Years of Age, or older, sound of mind, sober in habits, of good moral character and not guilty of rape, murder, or treason. (Gordon Lockey Exhibit No. 2.)

Are you familiar with that provision?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, were you arrested on May 17, 1947, in an investigation for rape?

Mr. CHALMERS. May I approach the bench, please, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Answer the question.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer the question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, were you arrested on the following date for the following offenses: 10/24/47, fighting and disorderly?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer—

Mr. APPELL. I am going to list them all.

Mr. FULLER. Excuse me.

Mr. APPELL. 4/30/48, drunk; 9/5/48, drunk; 5/18/55, speeding; 2/27/56, carrying concealed weapons; 6/30/56, drunk; 7/27/58, fighting and disorderly; 8/12/58, fighting and disorderly; 2/15/64, reckless driving.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, are you currently a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did the United Klans of America, when they permitted you to transfer from the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan know of your criminal background?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, in addition to the items that I have read to you, were you involved in other acts of violence which you carried out as a member of either the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi or the United Klans of America?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Can you tell the committee who bombed the home of Mayor Nossier of Natchez?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know James Ford Seale?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Have you ever assisted James Ford Seale in carrying out an act of violence in behalf of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan or the United Klans of America?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, is your profession that of a gambler?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. The club in which you are now employed in Louisiana—

The CHAIRMAN. Ask that question again.

Mr. APPELL. Is the club in which you are presently employed in Louisiana one in which you operate as a gambler?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully—

The CHAIRMAN. One in which you operate as what?

Mr. APPELL. Gambler.

The CHAIRMAN. What part of Louisiana?

Mr. APPELL. Ferriday.

The CHAIRMAN. Ferriday is right across the river in Louisiana from the Mississippi line; isn't that correct, Mr. Fuller?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question on the grounds previously stated, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I say that it is. Go on.

Mr. APPELL. The place in which you operate your gambling is at "Blackie" Drane's.

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Fuller, are you associated while a member of the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, in the operation of houses of prostitution?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Fuller, it is our information that in some way you transferred your membership from the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi to the United Klans of America under the titular head of Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton. Is that information correct?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. POOL. I just have an observation, Mr. Chairman. It looks like the United Klans of America are not much more selective than the White Knights.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Fuller, evidence would indicate you were first a member of the White Knights and then were accepted into the membership of the United Klans. Would you consider yourself a typical member of the White Knights and of the United Klan membership?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Are you a member in good standing of either of these organizations?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Fuller, do you possess a Federal gambling tax stamp?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Do you have slot machines on this establishment described by Mr. Appell?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Do you have any other gambling devices in that establishment?

Mr. FULLER. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated, sir.

Mr. SENNER. An observation. You have been busy, Mr. Fuller. No more questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. James Kenneth Greer.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

TESTIMONY OF JAMES KENNETH GREER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greer, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. GREER. James Kenneth Greer.

Mr. APPELL. You are appearing here in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on November 3, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee at the International Paper Company, Natchez, Mississippi?

Mr. GREER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. You are represented by counsel?

Mr. GREER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greer, when and where were you born?

Mr. GREER. December 30, 1932, Natchez, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. What is your educational background?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREER. I went to school to the 11th grade at Ruth, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Have you completed your educational background?

Mr. GREER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What is your employment background?

Mr. GREER. Since what time?

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960.

Mr. GREER. I have been an employee of International Paper Company of Natchez, Mississippi.

The CHAIRMAN. A little louder.

Mr. GREER. I have been an employee of the International Paper Company, Natchez, Mississippi, since that time.

Mr. APPELL. Have you received income from any other sources?

Mr. GREER. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Have you ever received any income from the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREER. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greer, do you hold the position of a province giant, Province No. 9, of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. GREER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greer, were you ever arrested along with other individuals for an assault—

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Greer, are you familiar with the constitution or bylaws of the organization known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, outlining requisites for membership that a man must be sober, of good moral character, and so on? Are you familiar with that provision?

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Go on now.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greer, were you ever arrested for an assault upon civil rights workers in Mississippi?

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege in his refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Greer.

Mr. Greer was arrested by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol on October 22, 1964, under a bench warrant which charged Mr. Greer, Ernest Henry Avants, and Myron Wayne "Jack" Seale with assault and battery with the intent to kill and murder. The charge was placed following an investigation and an attack on two civil rights workers on October 31 and again on November 2, 1963. The three denied the charges, and the charges against them were dismissed when the civil rights workers failed to return to Mississippi for the trial.

Mr. POOL. Is that October 31, 1963, or 1964?

Mr. APPELL. 1963 was the assault, 1964 was the arrest.

While under arrest, James Kenneth Greer admitted that he had joined a Klan organization, which he described as the National Knights, in late 1963. Committee investigation establishes this Klan to be the Mississippi Realm of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, then under leadership of J. D. Swenson and Royal V. Young, which might then have been a part of a Klan association known as the National Knights. In December 1963, Greer stated that a group from this Klan started the formation of a new Klan which became a formal organization in February 1964 under the name of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. Greer identified individuals whom he knew, as of November 1964, to be present or past members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and also identified some who affiliated with the United Klans of America after leaving the White Knights. In addition to his admissions, committee investigation established that Greer held the position within the White Knights of province giant of Province No. 9. Greer attended the original meetings of the White Knights, which established the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund in January 1965.

On March 23, 1965, at a state meeting of the White Knights at Jackson, Mississippi, Dewitt Sandifer turned over to Imperial Wizard Bowers approximately $2,500 with Bowers giving James Kenneth Greer $700 to $900 for legal expenses. This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Greer possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Greer, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator and you now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of it. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Greer, I must inform you, therefore, that without your rebuttal or contrary facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely on the accuracy of its investigation.

Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greer, I put it to you as a fact that the following statement was made by you to investigators of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol and in the presence of agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation:

James Kenneth Greer, Route 4, Box 101, Fenwick, Mississippi, was interviewed while in custody of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol. * * * Greer advised that he desired to furnish information pertaining to the organization and members of the various Ku Klux Klan (KKK) groups operating in Adams County, Mississippi.

Greer stated that to his knowledge there are three organizations presently operating in Adams County: one organization being the White Knights of the KKK of Mississippi, of which he is an active member, the United KKK, and the National KKK. Greer stated that in about June of 1964 the Mississippi KKK was broken into three different Klaverns within Adams County set up basically in the form of districts as to residence. He advised that in June of 1964 Ernest Henry Avants, who was a member of the Mississippi KKK and an active member of the Americans for the Preservation of the White Race (APWR), took it upon himself to start a feud within the various Klaverns of the Mississippi KKK. He stated that at that time Avants was dissatisfied inasmuch as certain members of the organization were failing to pay dues and were creating an ill feeling among other members of the KKK, became intoxicated one night and at about 3 a.m. in the morning went to the Klavern headquarters located on Morgantown Road, Natchez, Mississippi, and shot the lock off the Klavern headquarters door with a .44 pistol and sprayed numerous bullets throughout the headquarters. He stated that this extremely upset the Klavern and that some of the members of the Mississippi Klan left this Klavern and joined the United KKK which is under the leadership in Natchez of Ed McDaniel.

He stated that the following individuals were dissatisfied, and were dissatisfied because the Mississippi KKK did not advocate forms of violence and as such, joined the United KKK. Greer states that these individuals advocate violence and are extremely strong segregationists. Ernest Finley, F-i-n-l-e-y; Frank S. Gaston, G-a-s-t-o-n; Charles L. James, J-a-m-e-s; Jeff Luke, L-u-k-e; Cecil Roberts, R-o-b-e-r-t-s; Paul L. Foster, F-o-s-t-e-r; Nelson Haney, H-a-n-e-y; Tommy L. Jones, J-o-n-e-s; Ed McDaniel, M-c-D-a-n-i-e-l; Myron Wayne Seale, S-e-a-l-e.

He stated that he believes the United Klan Klavern in Adams County consists of less than 100 members; however, the only known active members in the Klavern to him are those mentioned above. Greer stated that he was one of the original members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi which commenced organizing in about December 1963, in Adams County. He stated that at this time possibly numerous members of his organization were former members of the National KKK of Louisiana and that a large group decided to withdraw from the national group and form their own organization within the State of Mississippi. He stated that in February of 1964 the KKK of Mississippi was drawn up and recruiting commenced. He stated that it was established that there would be three Klaverns within Adams County and one exalted cyclops and nine officers would be appointed for each Klavern. He stated that due to the action of Avants in shooting up the Klavern headquarters, he stated that he believes that at the present time there are only two active Klaverns remaining in Adams County and that the membership is less than 100 persons and that their meetings are no longer held in any one location, but at the homes of various individual members. He stated that at the time Avants shot up the Klavern headquarters the group was meeting at a block house on Morgantown Road in Natchez. However, to his knowledge, the Klavern has not met at this headquarters since that time. He stated that this property on which the Klavern headquarters was located was either leased or owned by Nelson Haney.

Greer advised that the following individuals are either present or former members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi:

John William Barber, active member. J. W. Birchfield, former member, but left Klan when he obtained position as constable. John Bostick, active member. (First names unknown) Britt, two brothers who were active members at one time, but both believed inactive at present time. Douglas Byrd, active member. "Peanut" [last name] Carnell, former active member who now may be member of the United Klan. J. D. Crawford, former member who left organization shortly after joining to take constable position. (First name unknown) DeMarco, active member. Claude Fuller, active member. Ed Fuller, active member. M. L. House, active member. James L. McKinney, active member. Henry L. Moore, active member. However, due to his employment, has never been able to attend any of the KKK meetings. (First name unknown) Murray, former member who is no longer member due to his employment as a member of the Natchez Police Department. Ernest B. Parker, former member and no longer active. However, may be a member of the United Klan as he is a close associate of Myron Wayne Seale.

(At this point Mr. Weltner entered the hearing room.)

Mr. APPELL. [Continues reading:]

Joe Peoples, former member who may be associated with the United Klan. J. R. Rankin, former member, no longer affiliated, who is a deputy sheriff, Adams County. Willie Stroud, former member who left membership due to his position on the Natchez Police Department. T. L. Torgersen, former member, who may have associated himself with the United Klan. J. G. Wisner. Billy L. Wood, may presently be an active member.

Greer stated that both the sons of Mayor John Nossner were former members of the Mississippi KKK; however, he has no knowledge of Mayor Nossner ever associating with this Klan.

Mr. Greer, I have read you the statement of the interview with you by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol in the presence of the agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and I ask you to affirm or deny the fact that this is the interview that you gave.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I wish to state and acknowledge that the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol under the leadership and command of Colonel Birdsong has done an excellent job in coping with Klan activities in the great State of Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Greer, do you know from your own personal knowledge that the Klavern of the United Klans of America in Natchez, Mississippi, is known and operates under the name of the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association?

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Paul Foster, whom you identified in your interview as having broken with the White Knights and gone over to the UKA, as you put it, because the White Knights was not violent enough, do you know him to be the first grand chaplain of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. The province of which you were the province giant—and under the White Knights constitution there are two province officers, the province giant and the province KBI—I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that serving with you on the province level was E. L. McDaniel, the now Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, and one of the founders of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. GREER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Gerald Whitehead.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly swear, sir, to tell the the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. I do.

TESTIMONY OF WILLIE GERALD WHITEHEAD, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Whitehead, state your full name for the record.

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Willie Gerald Whitehead.

Mr. APPELL. W-i-l-l-i-e, and the last name, W-h-i-t-e-h-e-a-d?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Whitehead, are you appearing here today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on December 23, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee at 207 Janet Street, Crystal Springs, Mississippi?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Whitehead, are you represented by counsel?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Whitehead, when and where were you born?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Meridian, Mississippi, July 8, 1934.

Mr. APPELL. Give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background.

Mr. WHITEHEAD. I finished high school in 1953. That's it.

Mr. APPELL. Did you have a period of military service in either the United States or the State of Mississippi?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What was your period of military service?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. APPELL. I see you are having difficulty. Was it between December 1951 and September 1954?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. It was before '53. I was in the National Guard.

Mr. APPELL. I say from the period December 1951, with an honorable discharge in September 1954, because of your inability to attend drills?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee your employment background from 1960?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. I was a wholesale milk route salesman until June of last year and I became an insurance agent.

Mr. POOL. Life insurance or casualty?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Both.

Mr. APPELL. Are you currently selling insurance?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. No, sir, not any more.

Mr. APPELL. What are you presently doing?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Working with a drilling rig.

The CHAIRMAN. Offshore Louisiana?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Right.

Mr. APPELL. What parish of Louisiana?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Out of Leesville.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Whitehead, have you held a position within the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan as province giant of Province No. 1?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Is the Klavern of the White Knights to which you are affiliated, the Copiah Rod and Gun Club?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the Klavern of which you were a members does operate under the cover name of the Copiah Rod and Gun Club.

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Another officer—the other province officer at the time—

The CHAIRMAN. Before you ask that question—Mr. Whitehead, I want to ask you a simple question. The answer is in your conscience, and you can speak the truth before this committee. Are you now a member of a Klan organization?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Whitehead, at the time you were the province giant of Province 1, was H. L. Holmes, Jr., of Jackson, the province KBI?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Julius Harper was the Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to confirm or deny the fact, that he was a member of your Klavern.

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Whitehead, what Klaverns of the White Knights existed under the province of which you were the province giant?

Mr. WHITEHEAD. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Charles Marcus Edwards.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. EDWARDS. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF CHARLES MARCUS EDWARDS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES J. MAY III AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. EDWARDS. Charles Marcus Edwards.

Mr. APPELL. That is "E-d-w-a-r-d" with an "s" on the end?

Mr. EDWARDS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on November 3, 1965?

Mr. EDWARDS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. EDWARDS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. MAY. Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, when and where were you born?

Mr. EDWARDS. July 17, '33, Franklin County.

Mr. APPELL. The city of your birth would be Meadville?

Mr. EDWARDS. I am not sure, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you presently reside?

Mr. EDWARDS. Route 2, Meadville, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. EDWARDS. I finished the 11th grade at Meadville, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background since 1960?

Mr. EDWARDS. I have been employed by International Paper Company, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Of where?

Mr. EDWARDS. Natchez, Mississippi, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, in July of 1964, were you a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, did you know two Negroes named Charles Moore and Henry Dee?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, I would like to read to you a clipping from the McComb, Mississippi, Enterprise-Journal of July 14, 1964.

The search for three missing Mississippi civil rights workers seems to have turned up two previously unsuspected slayings and a new mystery for officers.

Two bodies—the lower halves each—were found in a sluggish offshoot of the Mississippi River about 17 miles south of here.

They were tentatively identified as the remains of two Negro youths from Meadville, a small town near Natchez.

Sheriff Ralph Hutto at Meadville said today neither youth was known to be involved in civil rights work or any other controversial issue.

SEEN TOGETHER

The last time they were seen around Meadville was May 2, he added. They were together at the time. He said the families reported they later heard the youths were at Hammond, La., and Monroe, La.

State, federal and county officers riding in flatbottom aluminum boats, continued their search of the "Old River" loop of the Mississippi.

The bodies were at a Jackson, Miss., laboratory. Authorities declined all comment on the results of pathology reports or other investigation.

The first body, found Sunday, was tentatively identified as that of Charles Moore, 20, a former student at Alcorn A&M College at Lorman, Miss.

SECOND IDENTIFIED

Dr. J. D. Boyd, college president, said he recalled Moore as a well-behaved freshman. He said he didn't know whether Moore was among students expelled last spring for civil rights work.

The second body, found yesterday, was believed to be that of Henry Dees.

Madison Parish Sheriff W. M. Seaman discovered the second body on the Mississippi side of the sluggish stream, once the main channel of the Mississippi but now a—

I can't read the word—"with little current except during high water."

Mr. Edwards, do you know anything about the Charles Moore and Henry Dee matter?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Were you arrested on an affidavit which charged that you did willfully, unlawfully, and feloniously and with malice aforethought kill one Charles Moore, a human being, without authority of law, and the second warrant charging the same thing with respect to Henry Dee?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, did you make a statement to the Mississippi Highway Patrol when you were arrested?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, I shall read to you from a Mississippi Highway Patrol report which reads as follows:

Charles Marcus Edwards was arrested at 5:25 A.M., November 6, 1964 at his residence, Route 2, Meadville, Mississippi (Bunkley Community) by MHSP [Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol] Investigators * * * with FBI Agents * * *. Edwards answered his front door in response to a knock * * *, leaving the screen door locked. Mr. Cole, [an investigator for the Mississippi Highway Patrol], identified the officers and told Edwards he wanted to talk with him at which time, Edwards asked Cole if he had a warrant for his arrest. Cole replied that he did have a warrant charging him with murder and instructed Edwards to open the door which he did.

Edwards was informed by Investigator Cole that he had a right to an attorney and that he had a right not to make any statement and that any statement he made might be used against him in a court of law. No threats, promises or offers of reward were made to Edwards by any of the officers.

The report tells about taking you then to headquarters at Jackson, Mississippi, where an interview commenced at 7:15 a.m.

The report reads:

He admitted being acquainted with Henry Dee, a Negro whom he stated formerly lived in the same general area where Edwards resided. He initially denied knowing anyone identifiable with Charles Moore.

I will skip:

At 9:07 A.M. Edwards volunteered that he had to move from his former address to his present location several months ago because his wife was afraid of Negroes who parked in front of their home at night. He stated that Dee was one of these Negroes and that his wife had complained that she had seen Dee on one occasion "Peeping" at her. Edwards stated that at about this time he went with James Seale and some others and picked up Dee and another Negro male at Meadville. He claimed the name and identity of this other Negro was unknown to him, stating that their intention was to whip the two men. Edwards stated they took the two men to some woods and whipped them and that the two Negroes were still alive when he left. He stated he did not know what happened to them and declined to identify the others present.

Mr. Edwards, did you make the statement I read to you to members of the Mississippi Highway Patrol and to agents of the FBI?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Was your statement to them that these two Negroes were alive when you left them true or false?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Who were the other members of the party who, along with you and, as you stated, James Seale, took the Negroes into the field? Who were they, sir? Who were the others?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Edwards, at the time you related that you picked these two boys up and took them into a field to whip them, were you a member of a Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Were the others who were in the party that you describe members of a Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you today a member of a Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions to ask this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Edwards—I will come right down to it—did the alleged Peeping Tom incident—was the alleged Peeping Tom incident ever reported to the police? I didn't say with reference to Henry Dee.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, with reference to Charles Moore, thus far anyway, according to the news accounts, the sheriff said that he was a well-behaved boy apparently, young man, and never involved in any civil rights incident or much less in any Peeping Tom activity. Under what circumstances did you pick up those two young men?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. Did you voluntarily make the statement to the Mississippi Highway Patrol that Mr. Appell read a moment ago, or was your statement made under any kind of duress or force or intimidation? This is your chance to speak up, if you want to, about that.

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. As I understand from the investigation, these Negro boys' bodies were attached to a jeep engine and thrown into the river. In view of the oath that the Klansman takes, treason, rape, and malicious murder excepted, in your opinion would this be malicious murder that would permit you to tell about the Klan activities?

Mr. EDWARDS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. EDWARDS. Thank you, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. James Ford Seale.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES FORD SEALE, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, please.

Mr. JAMES SEALE. James Ford Seale.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 30, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee, at a UKA rally in Natchez, Mississippi, in Liberty Park?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. When was that?

Mr. APPELL. October 30, 1965.

Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. I am Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, when and where were you born?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to in-criminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by the amendments 5, 1, and 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale—and let me ask you the proper spelling of your last name. Is it S-e-a-l-e?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you acquainted with the witness that just left the stand, Charles Marcus Edwards?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, are you acquainted with the late Charles Moore and Henry Dee?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, on July 14, 1964, were you a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Are you presently a member of the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and a member of the Realm of Mississippi, which also is known as the Mississippi Rescue Service?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, were you in the hearing room and did you hear me read to Charles Marcus Edwards a statement which he made about the bodies of—about you and he picking up Charles Moore and Henry Dee and taking them into a field to whip them?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully—

The CHAIRMAN. Now, wait a minute.

Mr. Seale, were you in this hearing room when Mr. Charles Marcus Edwards testified?

Mr. CHALMERS. I will stipulate that he was, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, you ask him if he heard the statement.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, did you hear the statement which I read to Mr. Edwards which was an admission on his part made to agents of the Mississippi Highway Patrol and Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 6, 1964?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Without repeating the whole thing, Mr. Seale, I will read you one paragraph of what I read previously so that you will clearly understand it.

Charles Marcus Edwards is the Edwards referred to herein by his last name.

“Edwards volunteered that he had to move from his former address to”——

The CHAIRMAN. Louder.

Mr. APPELL. I am sorry. [Continues reading:]

Edwards volunteered that he had to move from his former address to his present location several months ago because his wife was afraid of Negroes who parked in front of their home at night. He stated that Dee was one of these Negroes and that his wife had complained that she had seen Dee on one occasion “Peeping” at her. Edwards stated that at about this time he went with James Seale and some others and picked up Dee and another Negro male at Meadville. He claimed the name and identity of this other Negro was unknown to him, stating that their intention was to whip the two men. Edwards stated they took the two men to some woods and whipped them and that the two Negroes were still alive when he left. He stated he did not know what happened to them and declined to identify the others present.

I ask you if the statement given to the Mississippi Highway Patrol by Charles Marcus Edwards is true?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did Charles Marcus Edwards tell you that his wife had made that statement?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you and Mr. Edwards at the time discuss the so-called Peeping Tom incident?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did Edwards at any time tell you that his wife had made that statement and that he believed it, or, on the other hand, did he tell you that that was to be the basis of your and his defense?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully—

The CHAIRMAN. That he fabricated the story?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, in picking up the boys, Moore and Dee, did you come upon them in a pickup truck and advise the two that you were deputy sheriffs and they were wanted for questioning?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess knowledge of what happened to Moore and Dee after they were whipped in this field as described by Mr. Edwards?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, I ask you if you in fact assisted in picking up Moore and Dee and taking them into the field and there assisted in whipping them?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Will you identify to the committee the others involved?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, after the torsos were found floating on the river, Navy divers discovered that the bodies apparently had been tied in chain, the chain hooked to the motor from a jeep, a motor block from a jeep. Do you possess any knowledge of this act happening?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Alton Alford?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I read to you a paragraph from an investigative report :
 "James Seale beat up a man"——

The CHAIRMAN. You are reading from what?

Mr. APPELL. A committee investigative report.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL [reading:]

James Seale beat up a man named Alton Alford who lives between Bunkley and Meadville. Alford states he was taken out of his house and whipped. Later he tried to shoot Seale [with his shotgun] but his shotgun did not go off. Seale is supposed to have taken the shotgun and beaten Alford with it, putting him in the hospital.

Is that factual, Mr. Seale?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, have you recently signed an affidavit against Charles Snodgrass and Rex Armistead of the Mississippi Highway Patrol charging them with false arrest?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Is there a basis to your charge?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you mean false arrest——

Mr. APPELL. These are officers of the Mississippi Highway Patrol. I do not know the circumstances. I was going to ask him what the circumstances were.

Mr. Seale, were you counseled to file this charge of false arrest against the two officers of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol by members of the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know a man by the name of Earl Hodges?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, the committee's investigation establishes that Mr. Earl Hodges had been a member of the Klan, had fallen out with a man by the name of Clyde Seale, and that on August 16, 1965, his body was found. The man was dead. It appeared that the man had been severely beaten and, in attempting to reach a place of water to wash off his wounds, he had died, not from the beating, but from a heart attack.

Did you participate in the beating of Earl Hodges?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. For all practical purposes, prior to his death, you were neighbors; is that a fact?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that at the time you took Moore and Dee into the field to whip them, that you were a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, the others in the group, including Charles Marcus Edwards, whose identities are unknown but that they, like yourself, were members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, the United Klans of America in all of its literature and all of the speeches that are made about it and its membership relate to nonviolence. Do you believe this?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that from prior to the time that Moore and Dee were picked up to take into the field to whip, continuously through today, you are a member of the Ku Klux Klan, first with the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and currently with the United Klans of America.

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In connection with your becoming a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and then of the United Klans of America, did anyone interview you to determine background, sobriety, Christianity, and your possible involvement in the Henry Dee and Charles Moore and Hodges matter?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Has any action been taken against you by either the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan or the United Klans of America to expel you from either or both of those organizations?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know Mr. Sam Bowers?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you ever attend a meeting when he spoke?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know Mr. Robert Shelton?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever seen him?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever heard him speak?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever attended a meeting of any Klan organization at any time in your life—

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully—

The CHAIRMAN. Wait a minute—at which meeting or meetings the alleged noble objectives of the Klans, including their alleged attachment to democracy, to defense of country, and to Christianity, were discussed?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. SENNER. Is Clyde Seale your father?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. In fact, the beatings would not be carried out by the Klan if only one man were designated to do the job?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Do they have their courage bolstered by going in greater numbers to do a job than the number of intended victims?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. They are very brave when they have a mob, when they have more people on their side than they are going to beat. Is that right?

Mr. JAMES SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Clyde Seale.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear, sir, to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF CLYDE WAYNE SEALE, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES J. MAY III AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, give your full name for the record.

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Clyde Wayne Seale.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, you are here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on November 2, 1965, by J. D. Sullivan, a member of the investigative staff of this committee at Middle Ford Creek Bridge on Highway 84, west of Meadville?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, you are represented by counsel?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. MAY. Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, when and where were you born?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. I was born in Meadville, Mississippi, the 11th day of October 1901.

Mr. APPELL. Will you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. I went to the ninth grade in a country school in Franklin County.

Mr. APPELL. Give the committee a brief résumé of your employment since 1960.

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Farmer.

Mr. APPELL. Is that the only employment you have had since 1960?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, during the years 1964-65 were you the exalted cyclops of Franklin County Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, 4th, and 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, are you presently a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer the questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Seale.

In 1964 and '65 he was the exalted cyclops of Franklin County Klavern of the White Knights. In White Knights structure a Klavern can be and is broken into units depending upon the size of the Klavern membership. Clyde Seale was the exalted cyclops of Unit No. 2 covering the Meadville-Bunkley Community. In 1965 Clyde Seale was the province giant of Province No. 1, to which office he was elected on October 9, 1964, replacing Gerald Whitehead. On March 7, 1965, Clyde Seale attended a State meeting of the White Knights, where province officers made reports. He reported that a collection jar of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund had been placed in the Crossroads Grocery in Franklin County and, of $12 in the jar, Negroes had put in half.

At an officers' meeting on June 27, 1964, held near Greenwood, Mississippi, Clyde Seale requested $74 as reimbursement for expenses incurred.

On August 22, 1965, he attended an officers' meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi at Florence, Mississippi. At one point of this meeting a jet flew over the area and Imperial Wizard Bowers ordered his men under trees because, he claimed, the FBI cameras could photograph a page of the Bible at 40,000 feet.

Mr. Chairman, this information indicates that Mr. Seale possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Seale, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement you wish to, confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of that statement. And you may, if you desire, offer any matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this offer?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I must then inform you, Mr. Seale, unless other facts may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely on the accuracy of its investigation. Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, do you possess any knowledge of Charles Moore and Henry Dee?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reason I previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, did you know Earl Hodges?

The CHAIRMAN. Wait a second.

Mr. Seale, do you know Charles Marcus Edwards?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did Charles Marcus Edwards or his wife ever tell you that Henry Dee had been, in popular parlance, a Peeping Tom?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reasons, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. Was the Henry Dee and Charles Moore incident every discussed with you by anyone?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reasons I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did that subject ever come up and was it discussed at any Klan meeting that you attended?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reason stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, did you ever have an argument with Earl Hodges?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reason stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Was Earl Hodges a member of the same Klavern of which you were the exalted cyclops during the time he was living, the last few days of his life?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reason stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, Hodges' body was found on August 16, 1965. It appeared that he had walked from the place where he had been beaten to a well, apparently in an effort to wash the blood off of himself, when he died. An examination of his body showed welts from the bottom of his feet to the top of his head. There was a hole in the top of his head. There was a split from the left side of his nose to his left eye which was deep enough so that you could see the roof of his mouth. Mr. Seale, do you know anything about this?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan today?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, on behalf of any Ku Klux Klan organization, have you been a member of a team which carried out an act of violence against any human being?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Sir, for the same reasons I stated, I respectfully decline to answer this question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have no further questions to ask this witness.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Seale, I thought I would never hear a son ever take the fifth amendment in acknowledging his father. Are you the father of James Ford Seale?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Seale, the chairman will probably rule me out of order, but are you a religious man?

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. I have no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Mr. CLYDE SEALE. Thank you, Your Honor.

The CHAIRMAN. Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Julius Harper.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give, sir, will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HARPER. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JULIUS HUNTER HARPER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES J. MAY III AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. HARPER. Julius Hunter Harper.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, are you appearing here today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on December 1, 1965, by John D. Sullivan at 212 Highway 51, Crystal Springs, Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. MAY. Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, when and where were you born?

Mr. HARPER. February 10, 1916, at Crystal Springs, Copiah County.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. HARPER. I graduated from Crystal Springs High School in the scholastic year of 1934-35.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background from 1960?

Mr. HARPER. In 1960 I was working for the Mississippi Steel Corporation at Flowood, Mississippi, in the capacity of a maintenance electrician. In '62 I went in business at Crystal Springs, Mississippi, operating the J & F Grille, which is a restaurant.

The CHAIRMAN. Where?

Mr. HARPER. Crystal Springs.

Mr. APPELL. Have you had any sources of income other than the income which you received from the J &—did you say H or F?

Mr. HARPER. J & F.

Mr. APPELL. J & F diner or restaurant?

The CHAIRMAN. I think the name of the place is the J & F Cafe.

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir. I have received compensation from my duties at the Mississippi Steel Corporation.

Mr. APPELL. And what were your duties and over what period of time did you receive such?

Mr. HARPER. That was from 1959 through 1962. Then I went in business for myself, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I probably——

The CHAIRMAN. Ask the question again.

Mr. APPELL. Other than the employment which you enumerated, have you had any sources of income since 1960?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, in conjunction with my cafe business, I own a farm on which I raise numerous things to help at the cafe with, such as cattle and other produce, and that would be a form of income.

Mr. APPELL. Have you received any other income from any other source?

Mr. HARPER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you receive any reimbursement of expenses incurred in any fashion in addition to your income as a worker, as a cafe operator, and from your farm?

Mr. HARPER. I do not recall having received any such income, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Were you ever reimbursed for any expenses that you might have incurred in the form of travel or other expenses by an organization known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

The CHAIRMAN. My question was broad enough to cover that. He can answer it.

Mr. HARPER. I have not received any income other than that that has already been mentioned, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Let it go. That was not responsive. The question was, Did you ever receive any money as reimbursement for expenses? Did you?

Mr. HARPER. Not to the best of my knowledge, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. It seems you would have knowledge.

Mr. HARPER. I don't think there was. I don't recall.

Mr. POOL. Did you ever incur any expenses on behalf of the Klan organization in Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. POOL. Were you ever reimbursed for any expenses that you might have incurred on behalf of the Klan organizations of Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

In response to the chairman's question a while ago, I can safely say "no."

Mr. POOL. But you took the fifth amendment on my questions?

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, the subpoena served upon you calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, and affiliated organizations, namely, the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund and The Mississippi Constitutional Council, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as the present or former Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In the representative capacity set forth in the subpoena I ask you to produce those documents.

Mr. HARPER. Sir, I could not produce such records that were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Did any record pertaining to Klan activities in the unit or Klavern to which you belonged come into your possession? And I mean any records, be they in the form of documents or checks or minutes, or originals or copies of applications for membership or membership lists, or any other kind of document or piece of paper having to do with your Klavern.

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

The CHAIRMAN. It is my information that you were the number two man of the whole State of Mississippi in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. You mean to say that no such papers, resolutions, checks, application blanks, membership list, by name or numbers, ever came into your possession and never went through your hands.

Mr. HARPER. Repeat.

The CHAIRMAN. Never came into your possession or never went through your hands?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I should say that in your particular State of Mississippi, you are the Grand Dragon according to our information, but you are number two man by virtue of the fact that you have an Imperial Wizard there, whose name is or was Sam Bowers? Is Sam Bowers still Imperial Wizard?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Now I am going to ask you this question and, for the purpose of this question, I am going to assume that, through press releases, television, radio, you knew more or less about the Henry Dee and Charles Moore incident and that as Grand Dragon, through Klan sources, you in fact knew more than the normal individual, and I make that assumption because to do otherwise would simply violate common sense and would be completely incredible. Since the occurrence of the Henry Dee and Charles Moore incident, were any steps initiated to expel from membership of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi Charles Marcus Edwards and James Ford Seale or any other individual?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Go on.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you, in your capacity as the present or past Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. HARPER. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, paragraph 3 of your subpoena calls upon you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1120, "U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return," for the fiscal years 1961 through June 30, 1965, filed by you as Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 3, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HARPER. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were not and are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. APPELL. To your personal knowledge, were such returns filed?

Mr. HARPER. For the same reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. As the Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, how are finances handled within that organization?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the same reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, I hand you a document, which is the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, a temporary document, which was issued prior to the constitution issued on April 19, 1964.

I ask you if you are familiar with the constitution and the attachments to it.

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document marked "Julius Harper Exhibit No. 1," and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, were you ever elected to the position of sheriff in the State of Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. During what years did you hold the office of sheriff?

Mr. HARPER. From January 4, 1948, through January 5, 1952.

The CHAIRMAN. What county?

Mr. HARPER. Copiah County, sir.

Mr. APPELL. As a law enforcement officer and based only on what you have read in the newspaper, would you as a sheriff tolerate the existence of a Ku Klux Klan organization within your jurisdiction?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HARPER. Restate that question, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Read the question back to the witness.

(The question was read by the reporter.)

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, I show you a document, not identified as to the author, headed "Secrecy." As the Grand Dragon of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, did you ever see that document?

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. APPELL. Or one containing the same text?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document previously marked "Harold Delk Exhibit No. 1.")

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, I hand you now documents entitled "Executive Lecture of March 1, 1964," "Imperial Executive Order," May 3, 1964, and ask you if these two documents were official documents of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Documents previously marked "Burrel White Exhibits Nos. 2 and 1," respectively.)

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a reproduction of a document entitled merely "Harrasment."

I ask you if this is a document published—if the original of that was the document published—by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

(Document previously marked "James Jones Exhibit No. 34.")

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Harper, do you today hold the position of Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege with respect to questions relating to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and to his office of Grand Dragon, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Harper.

Mr. Harper, until the end of at least 1965, was Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and a member of a White Knights Klavern known under the cover name of the Copiah Rod and Gun Club, and located on Route 1 in Crystal Springs, Mississippi. On June 7, 1964, at a State meeting of the White Knights near Raleigh, Mississippi, Mr. Harper explained to members of the Klan assembled that they should avoid the violation of Federal law at all cost.

On June 24, 1964, at a meeting of the Hinds County Klavern, Mr. Harper told the assembled that for all future "jobs" (quote and end quote), the province giant would select the unit to pull the "job." The county coordinator would then select the meeting place, such as a motel or restaurant, and the exalted cyclops of the unit selected would then select the members to actually pull the "job."

This was to be done in order to secure maximum security.

In July 1964, at a meeting of the Hinds County Klavern, Mr. Harper stated that he was taking the necessary steps to identify FBI informants in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and they would be severely punished when they were exposed.

Harper was present at a State executive meeting on September—

The CHAIRMAN. State that again.

Mr. APPELL. Present at a State executive meeting on September 6, 1964, held at Crystal Springs, Mississippi.

On September 20, 1964, Harper was present at another State executive meeting, at which plans were discussed concerning bombing of churches, at which COFO workers were present.

At this meeting Imperial Wizard Bowers discussed a plan to start a mass campaign against the Federal Government, the theme of which would be that the Government is aiding the Communists by pushing the Negro vote campaign. This, it was hoped, would force ignorant people into committing acts of violence.

On September 27, 1964, at a State executive meeting at Meridian, Mississippi, Harper stated that there must be no more church bombings at this time as these were hurting the White Knights expansion program. He stated, however, that Klansmen should be prepared to follow orders of Klan officials and they should possess sufficient arms and ammunitions to accomplish any assigned mission.

On September 29, 1964, Harper discussed with other Klansmen the harassment of COFO workers at the Mennonite School for Wayward Girls.

On October 11, 1964, Harper was present at an executive meeting at the White Knights at Crystal Springs, Mississippi, at which the bombing of a COFO house in Vicksburg, Mississippi, was discussed by Imperial Wizard Bowers and former lecturer McGregor from Jackson, Mississippi.

In October 1964, Harper stated at a meeting of the White Knights that Klansmen having explosives should bury them for the present time for later possible use.

Harper was present at a province meeting in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, on November 5, 1964.

Harper was present at a State meeting near Harrisville, Mississippi, where a 90-day moratorium was declared for all third and fourth degree projects. And this meeting took place on November 15, 1964.

On February 20, 1965, Harper met with H. H. Herdeen, secretary-treasurer of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund.

Harper was reelected to the position of Grand Dragon at a State meeting on December 13, 1964, southwest of Brandon, Mississippi.

Harper was present at a meeting held about January 1 at Jackson, Mississippi—

The CHAIRMAN. January 1, what?

Mr. APPELL. The date is not here, Mr. Chairman, but it is 1965. At Jackson, Mississippi, where plans were discussed for the establishment of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund.

Harper was made, by Imperial Wizard Bowers, a member of the committee of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund.

At a meeting on March 6, 1965, at Terry, Mississippi, Harper mentioned that efforts were being made to set up the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund as a nonprofit organization to avoid paying Federal income tax.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Harper possesses valuable information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Harper, Mr. Appell, as you know as a former law enforcement officer, is under oath, just as you are, under pains and penalties of perjury, and he has related these facts. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of the statement.

In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HARPER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I just inform you, then, sir, that absent your rebuttal, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. HARPER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Harper, there is something inconsistent in the positions that you have taken, as related by Mr. Appell. On the one hand, you stated that everyone had to be very careful not to violate the Federal law, and on the other hand, you said that your organization was seeking to find out who the undercover agents of the FBI were, and that if they were found, they would be severely dealt with. Are you blowing hot and cold?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I do not know the exact, or I do not pretend to quote the exact verbiage of Mr. Appell's statement in that regard, but there are certain passages in the statement which you as an intelligent man understood, I know, indicating that at one time or another you were advising the Klan to go deeper underground and be more careful about exposure for security reasons. Now it has come to me, and it is my information, that the actions, both of the FBI and these hearings, are hurting—

Mr. HARPER. Repeat, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Are "hurting," and I use that word in quotations. Isn't that true?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Is it not a fact that these hearings have been the subject of considerable discussion at higher echelons of the Klans in Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Is there anything else?

Mr. POOL. No questions.

Mr. SENNER. I have some. Mr. Harper, you testified that the reason you refused or failed to deliver the records, documents, and other papers called for in the subpoena was due to the fact that they were not in your possession or control. I take it that statement was from the time the subpoena was served on you to the present time when you are sitting in that chair; is that correct?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HARPER. Repeat that, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Would you read it, Mr. Reporter?

(The question was read by the reporter.)

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. All right, I will ask you this question:

Mr. Harper, as Grand Dragon, and with that subpoena served on you and the attachment calling for those documents, from the time of the service of that subpoena to the present time, do you know of the whereabouts of the documents that are to be kept by the Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

Mr. SENNER. Did you have anything to do with destroying them?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. If they have not been destroyed and you do have knowledge of their whereabouts outside of your control and possession, could you have obtained those documents to comply with the subpoena and the attachment requesting those documents before this committee? I will restate the question.

Mr. Harper, have the documents been destroyed?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Do you know where the documents are now?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. If you know where the documents are now, could you have obtained those documents from the date of the service of the subpoena upon you to the present time when you are sitting in that witness chair?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons—sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. SENNER. And you responded that that was from the date of the service of the subpoena upon you until the recent time when you are sitting in the witness chair?

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Then I asked you if you knew where the documents are from the date of the subpoena to the present time when you are sitting in that witness chair. What is your answer?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. I will ask you again, Mr. Harper, do you know where those documents are?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Did you have the documents called for by the subpoena prior to the date of service of the subpoena?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. From the time of the announcement of this investigation by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, did you at the date prior to the subpoena have the documents called for by the subpoena served upon you in your representative capacity as Grand Dragon of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi?

Mr. HARPER. Would you repeat the date included, the date, month and year?

Mr. SENNER. The date of the announcement of the investigation of this committee of the Ku Klu Klan was March 30, 1965.

Mr. HARPER. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. When you say "no, sir," I take it that you did not from that time until the present time, when you are in the witness chair, have in your possession the documents and the records called for by the subpoena served upon you?

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Harper, you are under oath.

Mr. HARPER. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Harper, to be perfectly frank about it, we have information that there was discussion of destruction of certain documents after the commission of a certain act of violence, in general. Were you present at any time when a discussion of that kind was had?

Mr. HARPER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

Call your final witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Billy Buckles.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand, sir.

Do you solemnly swear, sir, that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BUCKLES. I do.

TESTIMONY OF BILLY DOUGLAS BUCKLES, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. BUCKLES. Billy Douglas Buckles.

Mr. APPELL. That is B-i-l-l-y?

Mr. BUCKLES. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Last name, B-u-c-k-l-e-s?

Mr. BUCKLES. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing today, Mr. Buckles, in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by Investigator John D. Sullivan of this committee on November 3, 1965, at the International Paper Company, Natchez, Mississippi?

Mr. BUCKLES. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. BUCKLES. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, when and where were you born?

Mr. BUCKLES. I was born in the Providence Community of Franklin County, Mississippi, September 24, 1931.

Mr. APPELL. Give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background.

Mr. BUCKLES. I graduated from Meadville High School in April 1949.

Mr. APPELL. Give the committee a résumé of your employment background since 1949.

Mr. BUCKLES. I was employed by the General Geophysical Company of Houston, Tex., from September 1949 until January 1951. From January 1951 until August 1951, I was employed at International Paper Company.

From August 1951, I served 2 years in the United States Naval Reserve—2 years active duty—and returned to International Paper Company in Natchez, Mississippi, in September of 1953. I have been in the employment of the International Paper Company at their Natchez mill, Natchez, Mississippi, since that time, and to date.

Mr. APPELL. Since January 1, 1963, from what other sources have you received income?

The CHAIRMAN. If any.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, under the conditions of the subpoena served upon you contained in an attachment which was made a part of the subpoena you are called upon in paragraph 1 to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated organizations, namely, the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund and the Mississippi Constitutional Council in your possession, custody or control or maintained by you or available to you as the present or Past Grand Giant of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I could not produce such records as ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Buckles, do you realize that whether or not an order is made upon you to produce those documents by me, that if what you say here is not true and we find it out, that you are subject to perjury? I just want to know if you realize that?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

The CHAIRMAN. And that applies to all previous witnesses.

Mr. POOL. And, Mr. Chairman, isn't the penalty for perjury a good deal stiffer than the penalties for contempt?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. BUCKLES. I realize that, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence and memoranda in your possession, custody or control or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as Grand Giant of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I could not produce such records as ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. POOL. You said "were, and are, not." That means they have never been in your possession, as I understand that.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. POOL. Do you want to stand on your statement?

Mr. BUCKLES. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. When you say "were not," are you trying to say "are not now and were not since the date of service of the subpoena," or do you mean at any time?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BUCKLES. At the time I was subpoenaed, sir?

The CHAIRMAN. Were they ever in your possession?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Were those documents, to your knowledge, destroyed?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. Do you mean the fifth amendment or the other reasons?

Mr. BUCKLES. The reasons of the 5th, 1st, 4th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, paragraph 3 calls upon you to produce:

Copies of U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Form 1120, "U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return," for the fiscal year 1961 through June 30, 1965, filed by you as Grand Giant.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 3, I ask you to produce the documents.

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, and control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. APPELL. As the grand giant of the organization, do you know whether or not it has ever filed corporate tax returns?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, do you today hold the position of grand giant of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, do you possess knowledge with respect to an organization known as the Mississippi Constitutional Council?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Where does the Mississippi Constitutional Council operate, and where does the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi deposit money collected from its membership?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, what knowledge do you possess of violence carried out by members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated. I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Was an approach ever made to you as the grand giant of the organization by representatives of a Klavern of the White Knights seeking permission to carry out a job or project of that organization?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Buckles, the committee has sworn testimony under oath to the effect that within the organizational structure of the White Knights, as a part of a formal procedure there were certain classifications given to various acts of harassment or acts of intimidation or more serious acts. These were known in the terminology of the Klan as projects or jobs 1, 2, 3, or 4. Have you ever heard that discussion?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. The sworn testimony that we have from a former official of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, the sworn testimony was that there is a project known as Project 1: threatening telephone calls or visits.

[Project] 2. Burning of a cross, usually on the property of an individual.

[Project] 3. Beating or flogging; burning of properties; wild shooting into property and bombings; and Project 4. Extermination.

I ask you to affirm or deny this sworn testimony that we have with respect to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Buckles:

Mr. Buckles was identified through investigation and sworn testimony as the grand giant of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

On June 9, 1964, Mr. Buckles, at a meeting of the Hinds County Klavern, stated that the White Knights was sponsoring an ex-convict to do a job in the Jackson, Mississippi, area, which would cost the Klan $1,200: $400 payable in advance and $800 upon completion. Buckles described the job as one "that would make the murder of Medgar Evers look sick."

A sum of $100 was collected at this meeting toward the payment of the $1,200.

Buckles was present at a meeting of the Hinds County Klavern on June 24, 1964, at which A. C. Herrington was introduced as the Klan kleagle, or organizer. Also discussed at this meeting was Klan organization and structure, security, and the performance of acts of violence.

On September 6, 1964, at a State executive meeting held in Crystal Springs, Mississippi, Buckles stated that a group of Jackson Klansmen had asked him to get permission from the State to eliminate Hazel Brannan Smith, a newspaperwoman in Jackson, Mississippi. A stick of dynamite was thrown into the office of Hazel Brannan Smith, who publishes a newspaper, the Northside Reporter, on August 27.

Buckles was present at a State executive meeting held on September 14, 1964, in the office of Norman Jackson in Crystal Springs, Mississippi.

At a meeting on September 20, 1964, Buckles supported a motion made by A. C. Herrington that church bombings be restricted to those churches at which COFO workers are present.

At a meeting held on January 1, 1965, at the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson, Mississippi, Buckles was present. At this meeting the establishment and objectives of the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund were discussed by Bowers and other high ranking officers of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

At a meeting of the Hinds County Klavern held on June 24, 1964, at Jackson, Mississippi, Buckles, the grand giant, stated that there were to be no more bombings of any type by the Klan in Mississippi as these bombings drew attention to the Klan too rapidly.

Buckles said that there are other ways to handle things and, no matter what they tell you, arson is hard to prove. Buckles suggested that all members purchase firearms and ammunition and said that Klansmen should not pay excessive prices for this material as he—Buckles—could obtain rifles for $15 each, which included three clips of ammunition.

Buckles commented that the outside agitators must be stopped, even if it takes a few busted heads and, if necessary, the Klan would go further than this to stop these agitators.

Buckles said that when the Klansmen locate meeting places of Negroes, such as Negro churches, they should throw carpet tacks on the parking lot and disable—

The CHAIRMAN. They should what?

Mr. APPELL. They should throw carpet tacks on the parking lot and disable the assembled cars by cutting ignition wires.

Buckles suggested that gasoline operators who were members should have a good supply of sugar to pour into the tanks of cars belonging to integrationists.

Buckles said he assumed that all of the members present had read of the disappearance of the three civil rights workers in Neshoba County and said, "Now, they know what we will do. We have shown them what we will do and we will do it again if necessary."

Buckles was present at a State meeting near Raleigh, Mississippi, at which a resolution was passed to blow up the Laurel newspaper, Leader-Call; a short time after this meeting an explosion took place at the newspaper offices.

Buckles is known to have made reports of the financial conditions of several units of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. At a meeting on May 2, 1965, Buckles reported at a State meeting in Pearl River County that Julius Harper received $400 and the Greenwood Unit had $1,000.

Buckles was present at a State meeting on June 27, 1965, near Greenwood, Mississippi, at which Devours Nix was elected to replace Ernest Gilbert as head of the State KBI.

On August 22, 1965, at a meeting near Florence, Mississippi, Buckles requested that $500 be sent to Greenwood, Mississippi, for the men arrested for arson.

On August 8, 1965, Sam Bowers offered a resolution at a State meeting held near Byram, Mississippi, to the effect that the White Knights were forbidden to associate with the members of the UKA. Buckles spoke in opposition to this resolution.

Buckles was present at a State meeting held on May 2, 1965, at Poplarville, Mississippi, along with Sam Bowers.

On October 31, 1965, at a State meeting held in a rural area near Harrisville, Buckles announced his resignation as a State officer and said he would devote full time to operating the newspaper the Southern Review.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates Mr. Buckles possesses much additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Buckles, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator.

You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of that statement.

In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. BUCKLES. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Buckles, I must inform you that absent any rebuttal on your part, or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. BUCKLES. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. In view of the fact you answered several questions propounded either by the chairman or Congressman Pool, that you have never had records in your possession, how could you give a financial report in either May or June of 1965?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Was your statement to Congressman Joe Pool truthful and honest in all respects?

Mr. BUCKLES. I respectfully submit the explanation that I did not make such statement.

Mr. SENNER. In response to Congressman Pool's question—using the words from the statement you read here, and the record will speak for itself—you said that you did not now have—would you read your statement, please, in the refusal of the documents, that you do not now have?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. SENNER. And in response to Congressman Pool's question when you used the word "were" that meant you never had them, and you responded "yes." How did you respond?

Mr. BUCKLES. I said "no, sir."

Mr. POOL. You never had the records, I suppose. I don't know what you mean.

Mr. BUCKLES. Could I please have Congressman Pool's question read back over to me, sir?

Mr. SENNER. Congressman Pool, would you state your question again?

Mr. POOL. I asked you, after you read your answer, if the use of the word "were" meant in the past tense, that you had never had the records in your possession, and you said "no."

The CHAIRMAN. And in answer to my question, it is my recollection that you said that by referring to the past tense you were indicating that you did not have the records now and they were not in your possession, meaning before and after the date of the subpoena. Was that your response to my question?

Mr. BUCKLES. That is correct, sir.

Mr. POOL. Then why can't you answer Congressman Senner's question?

Mr. BUCKLES. Possibly I misunderstood your question, sir. Would you repeat it, please?

Mr. SENNER. Did you have those records prior to the subpoena, when it was served upon you, at any time in your representative capacity as called for in the subpoena?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. SENNER. Did you destroy these records? That is my question. Did you destroy those records?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Did you conceal those records?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Did you burn and/or conceal those records to impede or prevent that information from coming before this House of Congress in this committee?

Mr. BUCKLEY. May I have the question read back?

(The question was read by the reporter.)

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I have never done anything to impede any information from coming—

Mr. SENNER. Answer my question and don't tell me about impeding.

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I have never done anything to impede any records from coming before this committee.

Mr. SENNER. Did you burn or destroy any records called for by that subpoena in your official capacity? Yes or no.

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Did you burn—when I use the word “burn” I mean in any way destroy—and/or conceal those records at any time since May 30, 1965?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. May I interrupt you right here a second?

Mr. SENNER. Yes.

Mr. POOL. Perjury is a very serious offense, and in view of your answer to my question earlier, I am going to ask you one further question to kind of give you a chance to straighten it out if you want to. When was the last time you saw any of the records of this organization?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. In response to Congressman Pool's question, when he asked you were those records ever in your possession, you answered “No.” Is that a correct summation of Mr. Pool's question to you and your response to him?

Mr. BUCKLES. No, sir, that is not correct.

Mr. SENNER. Would you please correct it for the record?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, I could not produce such records as were requested by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records were, and are, not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. SENNER. Were such records in your possession or control or access since March 30, 1965?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Do you know where those records are?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Are those records now in existence?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I have one or two questions on this. I have a clear recollection—and correct me if I am wrong—that in one of those preliminary questions asked of you, you said that as of now, today, you were employed by the International Paper Company. Is that your testimony?

Mr. BUCKLES. I stated that I was employed by International Paper Company to date. I assume that I am still in the employ of the International Paper Company.

The CHAIRMAN. I am not talking about any possible dismissals, nor am I suggesting anything. So far as you know, you are today employed by the International Paper Company?

Mr. BUCKLES. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. And how long have you been so employed, approximately?

Mr. BUCKLES. Since either the last of January 1951 or in early February 1951.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Appell, in his statement, said that on October 31, 1965, you said something to the effect that you were resigning in whatever official capacity you had then in order to be employed full time by the Southern Review, and in order to dispel any thought in your mind about it, I am not questioning you as a newspaperman or asking whether you now are or ever were one or ever will be. Is that a fact that you made that statement?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you tell the truth that you were going to, from then on, be employed by the Southern Review?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you been employed by the Southern Review in order to carry out Klan activities—that is what I am talking about—at any time since October 31, 1965?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you, in order to carry out the objectives and purposes and programs and to propagandize the activities of the Klan, contribute any articles to the Southern Review?

Mr. BUCKLES. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know Mr. Greaves who testified yesterday?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know him, not as an editor of the Southern Review, or as a newspaperman, but as a man, as a person?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know him as a Klansman?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you ever attend any Klan meetings with him?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Buckles, would you be kind enough to tell the committee how you were able to give a financial report on May 2, Pearl River County, if you had no records?

Mr. BUCKLES. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. SENNER. I expected that answer.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused, and the committee will stand in recess until 10 a.m. next Tuesday.

(Members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, and Buchanan of the subcommittee and also Representative Senner.)

(Whereupon, at 6 p.m., Friday, January 14, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Tuesday, January 18, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

TUESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities met, pursuant to recess, at 10:25 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, Louisiana, chairman; Joe R. Pool, of Texas; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, and Buchanan.

Committee member also present: Representative George F. Senner, Jr., of Arizona.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Are you ready, Mr. Appell? If so, call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to call Billy Wilson.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. WILSON. I do.

TESTIMONY OF BILLY WILSON

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. WILSON. Billy Wilson.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here in accordance with a subpoena served upon you by Investigator John D. Sullivan of this staff on September 8, 1965?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; I am.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, when and where were you born?

Mr. WILSON. I was born in McComb, Mississippi, 1942. April 22.

Mr. APPELL. April 22. Mr. Wilson, it is evident that you are not represented by counsel before the committee this morning. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Wilson, I am glad you are appearing. Do you understand—and this I ask you in accordance with regular practice—do you understand that although you do not have a lawyer, and if you desire to, you could invoke the fifth amendment, if you would want to?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, what is your educational background?

Mr. WILSON. High school equivalent.

Mr. APPELL. Where did you receive your high school equivalent?

Mr. WILSON. In the United States Army.

Mr. APPELL. What period of time did you serve in the United States Army?

Mr. WILSON. I entered the Army May 5, 1959, and was released from active duty May 7, 1962.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, are you now, or have you ever been, a member of a Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, now, you had better split that question. I don't know whether he is saying yes to which one.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; I was.

The CHAIRMAN. Yes, sir; you were.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you now a member?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. When and where—

The CHAIRMAN. You develop that further.

Mr. APPELL. When and where did you join a Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. WILSON. In McComb, Mississippi, on July 7, 1964.

Mr. APPELL. What Klan organization did you join?

Mr. WILSON. Well, the name I don't really know. All I knew was by Ray Smith's group.

Mr. APPELL. What was the—well, let me show you a copy of an application for membership in the United Klans of America, Inc. (Richard Constantineau Exhibit No. 3), and ask you if the application, copy which I hand you, is similar to an application you executed at the time you became a member of a Ku Klux Klan organization.

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. This is the one.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know prior to today that the parent organization—and I am not speaking about the Klavern—was a Klavern of the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. You knew that. Explain to the committee the steps which you took in order to join this Klavern of the United Klans of America.

Mr. WILSON. In the month of May, I would say, of 1964, I was asked by another member of the Klan, which at this time I didn't know that he was a member—he asked me would I like to be a member of the Klan, and I told him that I didn't know, that I would have to give it some thought.

I thought about it for about 2 months, and in the month of July of 1964 I told him that I was interested in it, and he said that he thought that he might be able to arrange it.

Mr. APPELL. What procedure, to your knowledge, did Billy Ainsworth follow in arranging for you to join the United Klans of America?

The CHAIRMAN. You haven't established——

(Discussion off the record.)

The CHAIRMAN. Repeat the question.

Mr. APPELL. Yes. What procedure did Billy Ainsworth follow in having you join this Klavern of the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, he met me at my home on the night of July 7, 1964, and from there we went uptown in McComb to one building called the Hinton Building, and there we went upstairs.

The CHAIRMAN. How do you spell that?

Mr. WILSON. H-i-n-t-o-n.

The CHAIRMAN. H-i-n-t-o-n.

Mr. WILSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. When you got upstairs, you went to a room up there. Do you know the identity of the——

Mr. WILSON. I don't know the name of the room. You might say it would be an anteroom, or some name to that effect.

Mr. APPELL. What happened when you arrived there?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, there were about, I would say, five or six new members that night wanting into the Klan, and——

Mr. APPELL. What happened after you got in? Did someone explain to you the principles of the Klan?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; we were indoctrinated, to an extent, and from there we were administered some oaths there.

Mr. APPELL. Before we get to the oaths, prior to accompanying Billy Ainsworth to this room in the Hinton Building, had you executed this application for membership, a copy of which I showed you?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; that was done in the anteroom.

Mr. APPELL. Was this application given to you prior to the indoctrination, or after the indoctrination were you asked and others asked whether or not they desired to join?

Mr. WILSON. I believe, sir, that that was done after—well, let me see now. Indoctrination was given. After that, it was asked if there was anyone whose mind was not made up, if they wanted to leave, that would be all right. As I recall that night, I believe there was one that left. After that, then we signed this application.

Mr. APPELL. Other than Billy Ainsworth that accompanied you, did you know the identity of any of the other people that were in this same room with you?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; I didn't.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know at that time the identity of the person that was indoctrinating you into the principles of the Klan?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. Mr. Paul Wilson.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know him at that time, or did you learn his identity later?

Mr. WILSON. I knew him at that time.

Mr. APPELL. You knew him at that time.

The CHAIRMAN. Let me ask a question.

When you say "then we signed this application," you mean you signed an application similar to the one that was handed you? That's not actually the one you signed.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Then after you were given the opportunity of leaving or remaining, as I understand your testimony, you executed the application, a copy of which or the form of which I showed you.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. After you executed the form of application, what happened to that application?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, after the oaths were administered in the anteroom, we went into the large—what do you call it now?—meeting hall, I guess, and there we were administered one more oath and sworn into the Klan. After that, the applications that we had made out were—they had let us have them back, and there they were burnt.

Mr. APPELL. So that after taking the final series of oaths in the main meeting chamber, each of you had the application which you executed returned to you and thereafter each of you destroyed it.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a series of oaths. I ask you to look them over and to advise the committee whether the Section I, Obedience, Section II, Secrecy, Section III, Fidelity, were the oaths administered to you in this small room, and whether or not Section IV, the oath Klanishness, was administered to you after you were admitted to the main chamber.

(Documents handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. I would say this was a copy.

(Document previously marked "Robert Shelton Exhibit No. 4.")

Mr. APPELL. After you destroyed your application for membership, how were you known within the Klavern as a member of that Klavern?

Mr. WILSON. We were known by a number.

Mr. APPELL. What number was assigned to you?

Mr. WILSON. Number 98.

Mr. APPELL. Does that mean, Mr. Wilson, that you were the 98th member recruited into that Klavern?

Mr. WILSON. I would think so; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Was the Klavern to which you were assigned known technically within the Realm of Mississippi of the United Klans of America as Klavern No. 700?

Mr. WILSON. I really couldn't say.

Mr. APPELL. Who was the exalted cyclops of the Klavern to which you were assigned?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Ray Smith.

Mr. APPELL. Is Ray Smith a man who is employed by the telephone company in McComb?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Can you recall the identity of other officers of the Klavern, the Ray Smith Klavern, as we shall call it, to which you were assigned as a member?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, as I said, Mr. Ray Smith was the EC. I believe that Mr. Paul Wilson was the vice president, you might say. I don't know what the name is.

Mr. APPELL. In Klankraft, that is the klaliff.

Mr. WILSON. I am not very familiar with the name.

Mr. APPELL. All right, sir.

Mr. WILSON. Reverend J. C. Brown would be, now, the kludd?

Mr. APPELL. The kludd.

Mr. WILSON. I believe the minister. The chaplain. Murphy Duncan was the treasurer.

Mr. APPELL. Let me interrupt you there. Did you subsequently learn that Murphy Duncan was elected to the position of grand klabee or State treasurer of the United Klans of America in Mississippi?

Mr. WILSON. Later on, I did; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now, I interrupted you, and you had named the exalted cyclops, the klaliff or vice president, the klabee or treasurer. Who acted as the secretary?

Mr. WILSON. Ernest Zeeck.

Mr. APPELL. And that is Z-e-e-c-k?

Mr. WILSON. I believe that is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Can you recall any other officers?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; I don't believe.

Mr. APPELL. Now, how large in membership was the Klavern, to your knowledge?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, to my knowledge, there again, being that my number was 98, I would say it would be well over 100 members.

Mr. APPELL. During the course of this membership, did you leave the Ray Smith Klavern and join another Klavern?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. On August 11, 1964, Mr. Paul Wilson made the announcement to Mr. Ray Smith at a weekly meeting there, stating for reason, I believe, that this Klavern was a little large and there should be another one formed, and he read off a list of, I believe, seven names that would be leaving there, and we left.

Mr. APPELL. You left for the purpose of forming an additional Klavern of the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now, whose names did Mr. Paul Wilson call off to leave Klavern 700 for the purpose of forming this new Klavern?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, he read off and named another Wilson name, James Wilson, myself, Gerald Lawrence, Hilton Dunaway—

Mr. APPELL. Is that D-u-n-a-w-a-y?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; I believe that is correct. Mr. Gillis, "Bubba" Gillis.

Mr. APPELL. That is Sterling Gillis, who goes by the nickname of "Bubba"?

Mr. WILSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. G-i-l-l-i-s?

Mr. WILSON. That is right. And Al Lee.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, as I understand, you are not related to the two other Wilsons you named; are you?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; to one.

The CHAIRMAN. You are related to one?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. To which one, and how related? Not that we are interested in relationship; we want identity.

Mr. WILSON. Paul Wilson is my first cousin, I think.

The CHAIRMAN. And you are not related to the other Wilson? What is his name?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; I am not related to James.

The CHAIRMAN. James.

Mr. WILSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Who became the temporary officers of this new Klavern?

Mr. WILSON. Paul Wilson was the elected or the temporary EC. I think that Al Lee was elected the temporary secretary, James Wilson was elected temporary treasurer. However, the next week, Mr. Murphy Ducan met with us, and he assumed these duties.

Mr. POOL. Of treasurer?

Mr. WILSON. Right; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now, did you, as long as you remained a member of the United Klans of America, continue membership in this second group, which we will call the Paul Wilson group?

Mr. WILSON. I am sorry. Would you—

Mr. APPELL. I say, as long as you continued your Klan membership, did you remain a member of the Paul Wilson Klavern, as we shall call the second group?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now, Mr. Wilson, is it a fact that in October 1964 you were arrested, charged with three counts of illegal use of explosives, violation of Mississippi statutes, and one count of conspiracy in the illegal use of explosives?

Did you on October 23 plead guilty to the three counts of illegal use of explosives, and nolo contendere to the conspiracy charge, and did you receive a 5 years' sentence on each of the three counts of illegal use of explosives and 6 months plus $500 fine on the conspiracy charge?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. As far as the sentences, the three 5-year terms to run concurrently and the 6 months under the conspiracy, were these sentences suspended?

Mr. WILSON. That is true.

Mr. APPELL. Were the sentences suspended under the condition that not only must you and the others so convicted not engage in any acts of violence in the future, but that if any acts of violence in the community were engaged in, that your conditions would be automatically forfeited?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

The CHAIRMAN. And you are now under very heavy probationary conditions, are you not?

Mr. WILSON. That is right; yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. And you are respecting them?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, did any of the acts which resulted in your arrest and conviction grow out of your membership in the United Klans of America, Inc.?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did all of them grow out of your membership in the United Klans of America, Inc.?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, the first offense involved you in the bombing of a residence of a man by the name of Charles Bryant. Would you, in your own words, tell the committee how you became involved in this act of bombing?

Mr. POOL. What was the man's name?

Mr. APPELL. Charles Bryant, B-r-y-a-n-t.

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, as I have stated, on the night of July 7, 1964, I was sworn in as a member of this organization, and on the night of July 26, my wife and I and my little boy was over at this other guy's house, and about 8 p.m., I would say, somebody wanted me on the phone.

I didn't know at that time who it was, so I answered, and it was Mr. Wilson.

Mr. APPELL. Which Mr. Wilson?

Mr. WILSON. Paul Wilson. And he said in so many words that there was something that night that needed doing, and would I like to help, and I told him that I would.

He told me that he would meet me at my home at approximately 12 midnight. At 12:30 that night, or the early morning, he drove up there to my house there, and I got in his automobile, and we drove to the home of Mr. Hilton Dunaway, and Mr. Lawrence was also there.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lawrence. Is that Mr. Gerald Lawrence?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

From there we drove out of McComb, on the road known as the S-Curve Road, for, oh, a distance of 3 miles, I would say, maybe 4. There is a road that led off to the right, way back down in the woods. We went down there, and there was another automobile there, a black car, a Plymouth, about a '49 model, I would say.

We loaded up in this car and drove to the home of Mr. Byrant.

Mr. APPELL. Now as you left in the '49 Plymouth, who was driving the vehicle?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Lawrence. Gerald Lawrence.

Mr. APPELL. Who was riding on the front seat with him?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Dunaway.

Mr. APPELL. And that leaves you and Paul Wilson riding in the rear, on the rear seat of the automobile?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir, Paul was riding in the left side in the rear, and I was on the right side.

Mr. APPELL. Paul was behind the driver, and you were behind the passenger in the front?

Mr. WILSON. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Will you proceed?

Mr. WILSON. As I say, we drove to the home of Mr. Bryant, and we stopped the car. And there was another car, they were up the road from us, meeting us, and so we immediately left there, and we made—

The CHAIRMAN. I am sorry. I don't want to interfere, but I want to identify. Was Mr. Bryant a white man, or a Negro man?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir, he was not white.

We made the block. We drove back up there by his house, and we stopped the car. Mr. Dunaway got out of the car, lit the fuse—I don't know if Mr. Dunaway lit the fuse or who, but it was lit—stepped to the rear of the car on the righthand side, and over in the yard it went.

Mr. APPELL. Over in the yard what went?

Mr. WILSON. The bomb went, or the dynamite.

Mr. APPELL. And what was the composition of this bomb?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, I would say that it consisted of about three sticks of dynamite.

The CHAIRMAN. About how long?

Mr. WILSON. I would say they were about 1 foot long and about 1 inch around in diameter.

Mr. APPELL. Now in making one of these bombs, you take the sticks of dynamite, tie them together with masking tape as a general rule, and then cap and fuse the middle stick?

Mr. WILSON. All the ones that I saw were wrapped up in this white tape, yes, sir, the masking tape. However, how they were made, or—I don't know.

Mr. APPELL. You never participated in the manufacturing of a bomb?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. At the time—

The CHAIRMAN. Let me see now. Those three sticks of dynamite, about an inch around and a foot long, were taped together?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know the amount of time you had to get away from the time you threw it until the time it detonated?

Mr. WILSON. On that night that you mentioned?

Mr. APPELL. Yes.

Mr. WILSON. No, sir. However, no noise was heard. I never did hear it.

Mr. APPELL. You never heard one. You were out of hearing distance?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Before it went off?

The CHAIRMAN. You mean you drove off hurriedly?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now were you observed, and did anyone fire upon you at that time?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; just about the time that Hilton Dunaway was about halfway in the car, somebody shot at us there, from the house, and Paul Wilson, as I say, was sitting on the lefthand side in the rear, and he had a 16 over-and-under shotgun, and he returned the fire, and very hurriedly we left the scene.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, at this point, since he mentioned one piece of firing equipment, did you have any other guns, rifles, pistols, in the car?

Mr. WILSON. None that I know of.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, the newspaper accounts of the damage to or the fact that a bomb exploded in the yard of Charles Bryant identified him as the brother of Curtis Bryant, who was the leader of the NAACP in the community. Did you know that at that time?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. The newspaper accounts further stated that the first time you drove up to the house a bomb was thrown which did not detonate; that you later turned around, as you described it, and a second bomb was thrown which did explode in the yard of the Bryant residence. Did your group toss more than the bomb that you have testified to?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, what did you do after driving away from the Bryant residence?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, as I said, we left in rather a——

The CHAIRMAN. A hurry.

Mr. WILSON. A hurry. We returned back to the woods there, where we had——

Mr. APPELL. Left Wilson's car?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; we went back to the woods, left this other car there, and got back in Mr. Wilson's car. We returned to the home of Hilton Dunaway, let him out, and returned to the home of Mr. Lawrence there, we let him out. Paul then drove me to my home, let me out, and from there he returned home.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever learn the identity of the person that owned the '49 Plymouth that you used, that you found in the woods?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did Paul Wilson——

The CHAIRMAN. Let me ask you—because I missed it—when you got to the place where the Plymouth, about a 1949 model, was, was there anyone in the Plymouth, or was it there by itself?

Mr. WILSON. It was there alone.

The CHAIRMAN. I see. And you don't know who drove it there, or how it happened to be there?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. POOL. Did you get the license number? Do you know what the license number was, or what State it was?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, did Paul Wilson ever explain to the four or to the three of you that accompanied him why you were throwing the bomb in the yard or at the residence of Charles Bryant?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir. I don't remember him mentioning anything about it. However, in my own opinion, I would say that it was for the reason that Mr. Bryant was real active in this work that was done in the area there by these, what's the name of, now, COFO workers?

Mr. SENNER. Civil rights workers?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. What was the occupation of Bryant, Mr. Wilson? Do you remember?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir, I don't really know. I think, however, he worked for the railroad there in McComb. The Illinois Central Railroad, I think; however, I am not sure.

The CHAIRMAN. As best as you know, now, from your knowledge, did you know or did you hear it said that he was a preacher? Bryant? I am just asking you on that.

Mr. WILSON. I sure didn't.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, will you explain to the committee that which led up to the second act of violence in which you were arrested and in which you pleaded guilty?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, I believe we have already established as of this time we were meeting at another area, outside of McComb there, at the home of—

Mr. APPELL. This is the Klavern headed by Paul Wilson?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. What area were you meeting in, so we can have clearly whatever is in your mind?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, the meeting place was in an upholstery shop, in the back of the home of Mr. Gillis.

The CHAIRMAN. That's in the city of McComb, or near the city of McComb?

Mr. WILSON. I believe it's on the—

The CHAIRMAN. Outskirts?

Mr. WILSON. Outskirts, in a southwesterly direction. However, it wouldn't be way out of the city limits.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. On what nights did the Paul Wilson Klavern meet?

Mr. WILSON. On Tuesday night, the same nights that we met at the other Klavern, with the exception of one night, as I recall, we met on a Wednesday night.

Mr. APPELL. Now did you hold a meeting on September 1?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What happened at this meeting which led up to the second charge which you pleaded guilty to?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, at the end of the meeting, on September 1, 1964, Al Lee, I reckon it was Al Lee that wrote some names down on some stuff, and stuck them in his hat, and said something to the effect that there was some work that ought to be done in the area.

Mr. APPELL. Now let me see if I understand this. At the end of the meeting, Al Lee wrote something on slips of paper, and he put them in his hat and he said to the members who were there, the members of the Klavern, members of the United Klans of America, that in this hat he had put some slips which designated some work or jobs that had to be done in the area.

Mr. WILSON. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Will you proceed from there?

Mr. WILSON. I drew a name out of the hat, which bore the name of Alyene—

Mr. APPELL. Quinn?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir, Quinn.

And we decided to do this on a Saturday night of that week. This was on a Tuesday, I believe. However, the middle of the week, my grandmother wrote a letter to me and said that they would be at my house on this date. So I told Paul that since they were going to be there, that I wouldn't be able, you know, to do it.

However, he said that he would get some guys together, and would still be done. However, that night, on that Saturday night, something happened, and it wasn't done. And on September the 9th, which was another meeting there in the upholstery shop, immediately after the meeting, Paul told me that he still had the bomb and that he wanted to explode it or unload it or do something with it.

He mentioned the name of Rev. James Baker. He lived approximately 8 or 9 miles east of McComb, and from there, we went to his home.

Mr. APPELL. You went from the meeting place, which was the Gillis upholstery shop, to Paul Wilson's home?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir, the home of Rev. James Baker.

The CHAIRMAN. That's not the question. Didn't you ask if he went to the reverend's home from the upholstery shop?

Mr. WILSON. I still don't understand. I am sorry.

Mr. APPELL. No, Mr. Chairman. I asked him whether or not they went directly there, or after leaving the meeting at the Gillis upholstery shop, did they first go by the home of Paul Wilson.

Mr. WILSON. No, sir, I don't believe. I think we went straight out to the home of Rev. James Baker.

Mr. APPELL. Paul Wilson had the bomb with him when he came to the meeting?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir, as well as I remember.

Mr. APPELL. All right, continue.

Mr. POOL. Who was with you at that time?

Mr. WILSON. Sir?

Mr. POOL. Who went with you to the Rev. James Baker's home?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Wilson and—

Mr. POOL. Paul Wilson?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. He and I were the only ones.

Mr. POOL. Just the two of you?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. We drove by the home of Rev. James Baker approximately one half a mile, on a little road there, and we backed up in the road, and returned to his home. Now his home sits a long, long way off the road. Paul lit the bomb, and I was holding it. As soon as it was lit, I moved approximately 3 yards, I guess, off the road and lobbed the bomb over in the yard, and we jumped back in the car and moved out.

The CHAIRMAN. Who threw the bomb?

Mr. WILSON. I did.

Mr. POOL. Did the bomb hit near the house?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; nowhere near the house.

The CHAIRMAN. In the yard?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. Right near the road, in fact.

Mr. APPELL. About how far from the house?

The CHAIRMAN. Just to the best of your judgment.

Mr. WILSON. Thirty yards. Maybe 35. It sets way off the road.

The CHAIRMAN. After you threw it, then you immediately jumped in the car, and lit out?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Now before you proceed, did either you or Paul Wilson have any guns in the car with you?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Who had it, and what was it?

Mr. WILSON. Paul Wilson had a rifle, and to the best of my knowledge, I believe it to be an Enfield model 303. And after we were in the car and left—this one we heard—and returned back to McComb, and he dropped me off at my house, and then on to his house.

The CHAIRMAN. Now did Paul tell you or did you discuss, either before going to the reverend's house or on the way there, did you talk about why you were going to throw a bomb in his yard, or on the road near his yard?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir, I don't remember anything being mentioned of that, but then again, it would be that he was active in the——

The CHAIRMAN. COFO activities?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; in the area there of McComb.

Mr. POOL. Did you know whether or not the Klavern had passed on this act of violence or okayed it or told Paul Wilson to do this? Did you know whether they ever took action on it, as a Klavern?

Mr. WILSON. The one that we were in at that time?

Mr. POOL. That was the drawing?

The CHAIRMAN. There was no drawing this time, was there?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. POOL. No drawing?

Mr. WILSON. Not on this night. This was one that wasn't used the week before, and it was left over.

The CHAIRMAN. Oh, that was the one that was to have been thrown the Saturday night you mentioned when your grandmother or your grandparents were coming.

Mr. WILSON. Right.

Mr. POOL. That was for a fellow named Quinn, wasn't it?

Mr. WILSON. A lady by the name of Alyene Quinn.

Mr. POOL. Whatever happened to that? Are you going to come to that?

Mr. APPELL. Well, he has already testified, Mr. Pool, that because of a visit from his grandparents, that he withdrew.

Mr. POOL. I understand, but whatever happened to Quinn? They drew his name. Whatever happened to Quinn?

Mr. APPELL. We will come to it later, sir.

Mr. POOL. All right.

Mr. APPELL. All right. Now, Mr. Wilson, the night that the bomb was thrown into the yard of the Reverend James Baker, this was September the 9th, which was the Wednesday night which you earlier testified was the one occasion when this Klavern met?

Mr. WILSON. I believe that is correct; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now what was the——

The CHAIRMAN. Reverend what was his name?

Mr. APPELL. James Baker.

The CHAIRMAN. Rev. James Baker was a Negro man?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What was the composition of the bomb that you threw that night? Was it three sticks, or four sticks?

Mr. WILSON. It was composed of approximately three sticks of dynamite wrapped up the same way the other one was, white masking tape.

The CHAIRMAN. Now let me ask you, assuming it was three sticks, or whatever number of sticks, were they wrapped together with tape or something?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; white masking tape.

The CHAIRMAN. Now was there a fuse of some kind?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Of such length that you planned would be long enough for you to make a getaway before the explosion?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. As to the manufacture of the bomb, these bombs in the two instances you have now related were supplied by Paul Wilson. In other words, he was the man that brought them to the scene.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know where Paul Wilson got the bombs?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Is it your belief that Paul Wilson made them himself?

Mr. WILSON. I really wouldn't know. I wouldn't want to answer either way.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, that's your right. Just answer to what you know.

Mr. APPELL. All right. Now on the following Tuesday night, September the 15th, did this Klavern that met at Gillis' upholstery shop also meet?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you on that night have a drawing similar to the drawing which took place on September 1?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will you describe to the committee how this drawing took place?

Mr. WILSON. This drawing took place exactly as the other one did, immediately after the meeting was adjourned. There Al Lee had some more names in a hat. I was up right near the hat. I reached in and I drew a name out and walked to the rear of the building, and outside, and looked at the name that I had drawn, and the name I had drawn still bore the name of Alyene Quinn.

I walked back into the meeting area. All the names were out of the hat. What names were on the others, I don't know.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, let me ask you this question, so I can follow you. Do you know whether in that hat there were other names, whether other Klansmen drew other names than the one you drew, the Quinn woman? Just answer to what you know.

Mr. WILSON. I would assume, sir, that there would be other names written on these—

The CHAIRMAN. Slips?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir, slips.

The CHAIRMAN. Now do you know whether, in fact, other members drew other names, or after drawing a name, did you walk out? I just want to know what you know.

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, I would estimate that there would be approximately four or five slips in the hat. I drew one out and walked to the rear of the building. When I returned, they were all gone, so I would assume that they were drawn.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. So you drew the name Quinn twice?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Is your knowledge with respect to the slips that were in the hat on September the 1st the same as your knowledge with respect to September the 15th, that there were more than the slip that you drew?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And in the September 1st, all the slips were drawn.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. With respect to the night of September 1st, did you learn the identity of any other member of the Klavern as to the job that he drew?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Within the group, was it not a matter of operational procedure that one member never discussed with another a job that he might have drawn, or a job that he might have been on?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Therefore, the only thing that you know is that following the drawing of September 1st and following the drawing of September 15th, that there were other bombings or arson in the area?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. But yet you do not know which member of your Klavern was involved in each of the other bombings?

Mr. WILSON. That is right. I don't know which one was, or if any were.

Mr. APPELL. Now pick up again with the following of the drawing of the slip which contained Alyene Quinn's name and what procedures you followed from there on.

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, after the meeting of September 15, 1964, at which I drew the name of Alyene Quinn for the second time, immediately after we were leaving, all of us were leaving the building, I asked Paul Wilson if he would like to help me, and he said that he would.

Mr. APPELL. Now let me interrupt you there, and correct me if I am wrong. When you drew the slip which contained the name of Alyene Quinn, it was then your responsibility to carry out the project, or the job?

Mr. WILSON. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. And it was up to you to select the people that were going to assist you, if you needed assistance?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. POOL. Now just a minute, now. When did you get those instructions? And where?

Mr. WILSON. Well, I don't ever remember receiving any instructions as to that effect. It was just more or less—

The CHAIRMAN. Accepted procedure.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir, accepted or understood.

Mr. POOL. Just talk around the Klavern.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. POOL. Wasn't officially spelled out.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Was this procedure, adopted by whatever form it was adopted, in order to maintain the security of the people who were involved in these different projects?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Now you asked Paul Wilson, at the time I interrupted you, you had asked Paul Wilson if he would help you on this Aylene Quinn job, and he indicated that he would.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What happened after that?

Mr. WILSON. He said that he would. However, if you don't mind, I would like to go back and—

The CHAIRMAN. All right; you do whatever you want.

Mr. WILSON. And bring in something here.

During the meeting on the night of September the 15th, 1964, Al Lee mentioned the fact that Ernest Zeeck, who was a member of the Ray Smith group, what-have-you, was thinking seriously about, well, how would you say now, getting out of the Klan, because it seemed that no one had asked him in on anything. And he, Al, thought that since he wanted in on a little of the action, you might say, that one of us ought to ask him.

So, after I asked Paul to help me, I asked him if he knew of anyone else that might like to, and he said he did—James Wilson. And I asked him if he would ask him, and he said that he would.

About Wednesday of the next week—no, that was, wait a minute. The 15th was on Tuesday. Anyway, later on that week—

Mr. APPELL. The same week?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir, the same week, I saw Paul, and asked him if he had asked him if he wanted to go with us on this job. He said that he had asked him and that he would go.

So, going back once more to this meeting again—it seems I never will get off of it—but going back once more to this meeting on September the 15th, Sterling Gillis said that we should go to his home on Friday afternoon of that week after the bomb.

Mr. APPELL. You should pick up the bomb that you were going to use at his residence, or at his upholstery shop?

Mr. WILSON. At his home, I guess.

Mr. POOL. Who was that, now?

Mr. APPELL. Sterling "Bubba" Gillis.

Now as I understand it, the upholstery shop was in a building that was in the rear of his home: is that right?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. However, on the day that we were—that I was supposed to go to his home after this bomb, I love to hunt, so I was off in the woods there hunting, and I got in late. So I waited 'til Sunday morning, September the 20th, 1964, and I went by the home of Paul Wilson and asked him if he wanted to ride out with me after it, and he did.

We went to the home there, and there was someone at his home there from out of State, or out of the area there, and he said that Al Lee had the bomb over at his home and for us to go there after it.

Mr. APPELL. Now when we talk about Al Lee, we are talking about Emery Allen Lee, who is known by the nickname of Al?

Mr. WILSON. I reckon that would be the same one; yes, sir.

From there we drove to the home of Al Lee and went in and asked him there for the bomb, and he let us have it and put it in a brown bag or a sack.

Mr. APPELL. Like a grocery sack?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now where did Al Lee have this bomb?

Mr. WILSON. It was in his dining room, I guess you would say. It was a place in the wall of his home where you lifted up this lid, and he reached down in.

Mr. APPELL. In other words, he had it concealed in a hiding place in the dining room of his home.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. In the wall or the floor?

Mr. WILSON. In the wall. A cabinet was made into the wall, and he lifted up the lid on it, and it was in there.

Mr. APPELL. Was anyone present at Emery Allen Lee's home at the time you picked up the bomb from him?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; Mr. Hilton Dunaway.

Mr. APPELL. Whom you also knew to be a member of the same Klavern that you were, and who also accompanied you on the night that the residence of Charles Bryant was bombed?

Mr. WILSON. That is correct. After we had received the bomb—

The CHAIRMAN. And on what day of the week was that?

Mr. WILSON. That was Sunday, September the 20th.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Go on, in your own way.

Mr. WILSON. After we had received the bomb and had it wrapped up in a bag, I went out and laid the bomb in the rear of my car, down on the floor. From there, we went to the home of Ernest Zeeck, who lived on the corner of Fifth and Missouri, in McComb.

Mr. POOL. Now he was a member of the Ray Smith Klavern, wasn't he?

Mr. WILSON. Yes. We got out and went into his home and asked him—first we asked him was it true that what we had heard that he was getting ready to—

Mr. SENNER. Resign?

Mr. WILSON. Resign, you might say. And he said "Yes," and we asked him the reason why, and he said because that he hadn't been asked, you know, to help on anything. So we told him that if he wanted to, that he could ride along with us that night, and asked him if he wanted to, which he said he would.

However, we did not let him know what was going to happen, or where or who or anything, you know, to that effect. So he accepted, and we left and got back to my car and drove to the home of Mr. James Wilson.

The CHAIRMAN. Now who left?

Mr. WILSON. Paul Wilson and me.

The CHAIRMAN. You didn't bring Zeeck with you?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. WILSON. However, we told Zeeck that we would meet him at his home at approximately 6 o'clock that night. So Paul and I got back into my car and drove to the home of James Wilson, who wasn't home at this time. His wife said he was going down to his oil station there and said he ought to be back any minute. We waited outside for him, and in about 5 minutes, I would estimate, that he returned home.

We asked him if he wanted to ride out by the home of Alyene and look over the area there, on the layout, and see if we could arrive at any idea how it ought to be done, so he said that he did. So Paul and Jimmy and myself got into my car, and we drove to her home and looked it over and returned home, back to James Wilson's house.

Well, it was about this time that we thought, since this was going to be done that night, that we ought to have an excuse or an alibi if anything happened. So we decided we would meet on the river bank that night, about 8 or 9 miles out of McComb out there——

The CHAIRMAN. Before you arrive at that point, before going to the river bank or the creek bank, did you all buy some food, or——

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; I am on my way to that.

The CHAIRMAN. Are you coming to that? All right.

Mr. APPELL. On what river and at what location were you going to establish your alibi?

Mr. WILSON. The river is called Bogue Chitto River, and it is at a spot known as Hoover's Bridge.

So we went back to the James Wilson house. He said that he would bring the lines and the bait and everything that we needed there for an alibi, so we let him off. Paul—and I dropped him off at his house, and I went on home. About 4 or about 5 o'clock that afternoon, I guess, my wife and I and my small son drove into McComb, where I went to the home of Paul Wilson. From there he said that he would use his automobile that night in the action that would be taken. I transferred the bomb from my car to the trunk of his car, and we went into the house and we got two weapons. I believe there was a 16-gauge over-and-under shotgun, and again this Enfield rifle, model 303. We wrapped them up in an OD Army blanket and stuck them into his automobile, in the rear of it, in the trunk, and from there we went to the home of Ernest Zeeck.

We got him and went to a small store, where we obtained some milk and some stuff to eat that night.

However, I would like to go back here and say that James Wilson said that he would meet us that night, out there; that he would leave on earlier in the afternoon and go out and have everything, you know, ready the hooks and everything in the water.

After we had bought some food, Zeeck and Paul and myself went out to the river, and we sat around that night and we ate what we had bought and we sat around and laid out what was going to happen, and what each one of us would do on it. We decided that James Wilson would drive the automobile, and I would ride in the front right-hand side, as a guard, using the 16-gauge over-and-under shotgun. Paul would light the fuse, sitting in the lefthand side, in the rear, and

Ernest Zeeck would, I think they used the word, it would be his honor, you might say, since it was——

The CHAIRMAN. It was his first job.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; that he would have the honors.

The CHAIRMAN. Would throw?

Mr. WILSON. That is right. After we had worked it all out, all of it out, we left the riverside at approximately 10 minutes to 10 that night, which we estimated the time that you might say the action would happen would be around 10 that night.

The CHAIRMAN. By the way, did you do any actual fishing, either true or as an alibi, did you throw any lines in?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; we had lines and baits and everything out there. No fish was caught, though.

The CHAIRMAN. Didn't catch any fish.

Mr. WILSON. So about 10 minutes to 10, as I say, we all loaded up in Paul Wilson's automobile, in our right spots, and during the morning we had observed that the road that runs by Alyene's home runs, I believe it runs north and south, to the best of my recollection.

We came in the back way on it, and there was a road about, I would say, a block down from her home that made a loop, more or less, and a road let us out a block, about a block—let's see—south of the home. So what we had decided to do was about—we would drive this road here, down north of her home, take it on around to a block in the other direction, where, when the bomb was released, and stuff, that we would be headed out of the area, away from it.

So it was agreed. We did this and we traveled this route about four or five different times, because every time we went around, there would be someone walking up the road or there would be an automobile behind us or we would be—anyway, something always happened that it wasn't opportune at that time.

Well, finally we made a round, and everything was all right. Just before we reached her home, James Wilson switched off the lights on the car. We rolled up there by her house, in front of it, stopped the car. I opened the door and got about halfway out of the car, and the door was about halfway open, and I laid the shotgun on the door and Paul lit the fuse. Zeeck had his door open, and as it lit, he popped out of the car and took about one or two steps, and up in the yard it went.

We jumped back in the car and we had gone about 25 yards, I guess, and just as we switched the lights back on there was a Negro male, I would say in his late teens or early 20's, who was walking on the right-hand side of the road there, and meeting us, and it was real dark that night, and just as the lights was on, and the lights went right on him.

That wasn't any time there to stop, so we kept right on going. It is approximately 3 miles into Summit, and just before we reached there we heard this loud explosion. We got back on this road that led back out to there to the river, and once we reached the river we set fire to the bag that it was in, went down to the river bank and got all the lines up, and loaded up and James Wilson and I got back in his car, and Paul and Zeeck took their car, and we went on back home.

Paul followed James and I to his home, where I got out of James Wilson's car and got in the one with Paul, and from there we drove to the home of Ernest Zeeck, let him out, went to the home of Paul Wilson, and we got out.

I went into the house and I got my little boy, who was asleep, and my wife and I went home and went to bed that night, and that's about all I can tell you.

The CHAIRMAN. Let me ask you: What type of dynamite did you use? How many, and was it the same kind of operation?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, the type, I don't know what type it was, but it was——

The CHAIRMAN. Well, about how many sticks were there?

Mr. WILSON. Well, the bomb consisted of, I would say, from 12 to 14 sticks of dynamite, something to that effect. It was about 8 or 9 inches around, all wrapped together, and held together by this white tape.

The CHAIRMAN. Again, you had some kind of a fuse of such a length to give you an opportunity to get away before the detonation.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. I would estimate the fuse that I saw was approximately 18 inches long.

The CHAIRMAN. As a matter of fact, it was, did I understand you to say, about 3 miles of your travel before you heard the explosion?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir; approximately 3 miles. And that was driving real fast.

The CHAIRMAN. Real fast.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. What kind of car was it?

Mr. WILSON. We used Paul Wilson's car. It was a black '61 Ford.

The CHAIRMAN. And you really gave her the gun?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Let me ask this question: Who did you say threw this last bomb?

Mr. WILSON. Ernest Zeeck.

Mr. POOL. I thought you said that Paul——

Mr. WILSON. He lit it.

Mr. POOL. Then he handed it to Ernest Zeeck; is that it?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; Ernest Zeeck——

Mr. POOL. Was holding it?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, I asked you this: Did you at any time during that meeting at the river bank or on the way to the house of this colored woman discuss why you were doing this job?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; but there again, she was well known in the area for, you know, being active in this——

The CHAIRMAN. Civil rights and COFO operation?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. POOL. What did you all expect to accomplish by throwing this bomb at Alyene Quinn's house?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, let's see if I can give you a suitable answer. I can only speak for my own self in there. So as far as I am concerned, these bombs or anything to that effect was done to, you might say, let them know that we knew and that we wouldn't—that I wouldn't want to hurt anyone, but to give them——

The CHAIRMAN. To frighten, to terrorize.

Mr. WILSON. That is right. To frighten. I wouldn't want anyone hurt.

Mr. POOL. In other words, none of your group—or, well, you are speaking for yourself—didn't expect the bomb to injure anyone.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. POOL. So you didn't throw it right up to the house. You threw it in the yard.

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, the bomb was of such size and weight, even though the house was right near the street, it was up on a high bank, you might say, or embankment, and if you wanted it in the house, you couldn't have got it there anyway.

Mr. POOL. Why didn't you stop the car when you saw the colored boy on the road there, and warn him——

The CHAIRMAN. This is a bomb. That is the other bombing you are talking about, when you saw the boy?

Mr. WILSON. You mean Alyene.

Mr. POOL. At Alyene Quinn's you say you saw a boy on the road at Alyene Quinn's, as you drove off. Is that correct?

Mr. WILSON. That is correct.

Mr. POOL. Why didn't you stop the car and warn him about the bomb there, if you say that you didn't intend to injure anyone?

Mr. WILSON. The thought never entered my mind.

Mr. POOL. How far was he from the bomb when you saw him?

Mr. WILSON. Oh, he was about a half block.

Mr. POOL. Was he walking toward Alyene Quinn's house?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. About half a block away. He could have probably made it in time, if he was going to her house.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Did he get injured, do you know?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, did you ever return to the Quinn residence for the purpose of determining the damage which was done by that bomb?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, for the record, I would like to place in the record at this point a series of photographs which show the damage to the Quinn residence.

The CHAIRMAN. All previous documents referred to and exhibited and these photographs will be introduced in the record.

(Photographs marked "Billy Wilson Exhibit No. 1" appear on pp. 2853 and 2854:)

Mr. POOL. Let me ask you one further question: Why did you increase the size of the bomb on Alyene Quinn's bombing when you went out to her house?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, I didn't increase it. I had nothing to do with it. It was already made when I——

Mr. POOL. On your previous bombings, I think you said you had three sticks of dynamite. On Alyene Quinn's bombing you had 12 or 15 sticks tied together. Is that correct?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. POOL. Well, then, the 12 or 15 sticks did all this damage that has been introduced here in evidence.

The CHAIRMAN. I would say from these photographs that it wreaked such havoc to the house that if no one who was in it was injured, it was a miracle.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson——

The CHAIRMAN. Was there someone injured?

Mr. APPELL. No, sir.

Early in October, were you and others, as a result of investigative effort on the part of Mississippi law enforcement officers, arrested?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. At the time of your arrest, did you still have in your pocket the slip which you drew from the hat at the Klavern meeting on the night of September 15?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, I show you a reproduction of the words contained on that slip. Although this is not the original slip, because as I understand your testimony that was a green slip, would you tell me whether that is a reproduction of the language as contained on the slip?

(Document handed to witness.)

BILLY WILSON EXHIBIT No. 1—Continued

Photographs showing bomb damage to Alyene Quinn residence, McComb, Miss.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

(Document marked "Billy Wilson Exhibit No. 2 follows:)

BILLY WILSON EXHIBIT No. 2

*Alyene Quinn
304 Old Summit Road
South of the Border night club*

Mr. APPELL. Do you know whether or not that writing is in the hand of Emery Allen Lee?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know that Emery Allen Lee, from whose home you picked up the bomb, while in military service, had a period of duty at Aberdeen Proving Ground and received training in demolition?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. POOL. I didn't get the last question. What did you say?

Mr. APPELL. I asked him whether he had knowledge that Emery Allen Lee, while in the Army, had a tour of duty at Aberdeen Proving Ground and was trained in demolition.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Appell, will you describe the exhibit with some writing on it that you showed the witness? Say, for the record, what it is.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir; I will.

Mr. Chairman, the slip contained the name "Alyene Quinn, 304 Old Summit Road, South of the Border Night Club."

The CHAIRMAN. And there is a police notation on that piece of paper saying that this slip—

Mr. APPELL. Was found in the pocketbook of Billy Wilson at the time of his arrest.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, did you cooperate fully with the Mississippi Highway Patrol and other law enforcement agencies with respect to your involvement in these affairs?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to your arrest, did these agencies also arrest Paul Dewey Wilson?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Jimmy Prinston Wilson?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Ernest F. Zeeck?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Sterling H. "Bubba" Gillis?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Hilton Dunaway?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Jon Paul Westbrook?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Charles Avery Womack?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Gerald Lawrence?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And Emery Allen Lee?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know each of them to be a member of the Klavern to which you were assigned, of which Paul Wilson was the exalted cyclops?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What position did the United Klans of America, of which you were all members in good standing, take after your arrest?

Mr. WILSON. Well, Mr. Appell, to the best of my knowledge I don't know of anything they done. Just let us sit there.

Mr. APPELL. Did they obtain counsel for you?

Mr. WILSON. They didn't obtain counsel for me; no, sir.

Mr. APPELL. To your knowledge, did they obtain counsel for anyone?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did they at any time assist you or any of the other members financially?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, while I was in jail at Magnolia, Mississippi, Rev. J. C. Brown came there to visit us, and he——

Mr. APPELL. Now, he was the man that you knew as the kludd of the Klavern which Ray Smith was the exalted cyclops of?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Your first Klavern.

Mr. WILSON. He said that he had $1,100. He didn't say where he got it, but he had it, and I believe that there was 11 of us arrested, and he said he had $100 for each of us.

He phoned my wife up and told her about it, and my wife was real leery, anyway, of him, so she never went over after it. However, after I received my sentence and was released, I went over after it and got $100.

At the time of my release and sentence on the misdemeanor charge, to which I pled——

Mr. APPELL. Nolo contendere?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir, nolo contendere, I was sentenced to 6 months in jail and a $500 fine. This 6 months was to be suspended, and the $500 fine had to be paid within a week's time, plus the cost of court, which was $78. So all told, I had to get hold of $578, I believe, is the right amount.

About Wednesday of that week Brother Brown sent word to me for me to stop over at his home, which I did. He gave me $250, which was half of my fine, and also gave me $78, which was all the costs of the court. That, as far as I knew then, I was just about in the same shape as I was in before, because I didn't have the money, you know, to match the other, for the half of it.

So my granddad—I might say he is a real nice guy—let me have the other half of the money, which I went down immediately the next afternoon from work, and I paid all my fines and everything.

Mr. APPELL. What about the fee that you had to pay for an attorney to defend you in this action?

Mr. WILSON. My aunts and uncles, and what little money I had, they all went together and tried for a lawyer, and I think they asked about two, I think, and finally wound up with Mr. L. S. McClaren. As a retainer, he said he had to have $500, which they all went together and made up the money, and they didn't have it, and he was my lawyer.

Mr. APPELL. So that of the $500 that you had to pay your attorney and the $500, plus court costs, that you were fined, the United Klans of America, of which you were a formal member and for which you engaged in these acts as a result of action formally taken within a Klavern chamber, paid then $100, I guess, toward your attorney fees, one-half of your fine in the amount of $250, and the $78 court costs, or a total of $428.

Mr. WILSON. As far as I know, that money that was raised that we received was raised right there, you know, in town, by—it may be some members that were in the Klan, but I imagine there was a lot of them that wasn't in the Klan that let us have some money. So far as I know, to actually say that I received money, I can't, because I don't know.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, during the committee's investigation into Georgia, the committee obtained a document signed by Calvin Craig, the Grand Dragon for Georgia, which made an appeal to members of the Klan in Georgia for financial help for Mr. Wilson and his other codefendants. That message, signed over the name of Calvin Craig, the Grand Dragon, said that these people were not Klansmen, to the best of Mr. Craig's knowledge, but that they were innocent of any wrong and the Klan wanted to help them.

I think the record should show, from Mr. Wilson's testimony, that these men were, in fact, members of the United Klans of America and that the action of Mr. Craig could have been no more than just deceit upon the United Klans of America in the Realm of Georgia.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Appell, when you were conducting an investigation in the field, did you interview Mr. Robert F. Shelton?

Mr. APPELL. I did, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. In the course of your interview, did you make inquiry as to whether this young man, Mr. Wilson, and the other McComb people convicted of violence along with Mr. Wilson were members of the United Klans of America?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. I interviewed Imperial Wizard Shelton in his offices in Tuscaloosa on April 14, 1965, and I brought up the incident in McComb, by reference to a newspaper article which claimed that one of the men arrested had a card of membership in the United Klans of America in his possession. Mr. Shelton advised me that the card that the man had in his possession was not a membership card, but was a calling card like salesmen handed out, and that this is all the connection that these men had with the United Klans of America.

When I asked Mr. Shelton pointblank whether or not these men were, he denied that they were, and when I told him that we could establish the fact that they were, he then referred me to the Grand Dragon of Mississippi, E. L. McDaniel.

Mr. POOL. Now, I want to ask you about, in the course of your investigation, what type of appeal was made for funds for Billy Wilson's defense?

Mr. APPELL. We know of no solicitation of funds for Billy Wilson's defense, but——

Mr. POOL. The 11 men.

Mr. APPELL. We know about the solicitation by the Grand Dragon of Georgia.

The CHAIRMAN. Craig.

Mr. APPELL. Craig, Calvin F. Craig, and we know in connection with our investigation into Louisiana that a check was written by the Realm of Louisiana to E. L. McDaniels, the Grand Dragon of Mississippi, marked "Defense Fund." Whether that money was earmarked for the defense of Mr. Wilson and the others, the investigation leaves a question mark.

Mr. POOL. Were there any letters sent out soliciting funds for the defense fund?

Mr. APPELL. Other than the letter I referred to sent out by Calvin Craig, we possess no additional knowledge.

The CHAIRMAN. You have no investigative knowledge that any of the funds solicited apparently throughout Mississippi by the—what is the name of that group?

Mr. APPELL. The White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have any knowledge that any of the funds—which, by the way, was a secret Klan operation, in fact—but what I am asking you is, do you have any investigative knowledge that any of the funds of that particular "Defense Fund" were used in connection with the case in which this witness was involved?

Mr. APPELL. We do not have, sir, and I might point out that the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund was an instrumentality of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, an autonomous Klan group, which was in competition with the United Klans of America for membership.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, I might say that it has come to my knowledge in connection with other matters that this is not the first defendant involved in Klan prosecution of an activity who was left in the lurch and not provided with funds or counsel in connection with their defense.

Did Mr. Shelton or Mr. Sam Bowers or high officials of the Klan organizations in Mississippi ever visit you or talk to you and say, "We are for you; we are going to help you out," and all of this stuff?

Mr. WILSON. I have never laid eyes on them.

Mr. POOL. In your course of investigation, the Calvin Craig letter you referred to a while ago, did that go through the mails?

Mr. APPELL. I possess no direct knowledge, but I see no other method by which it could be distributed as generally as it was throughout Georgia.

Mr. Wilson, I hand you a photograph, and ask you if the person you see on two profiles is the Jimmy Wilson about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a photograph and ask you if that individual is the Ernest Zeeck about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a photograph and ask you if this is Murphy John Duncan about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a photograph and ask you if this is Paul Dewey Wilson about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a photograph and ask you if this is the photograph of the 1950 Ford owned by Paul Dewey Wilson in which you went on several jobs that you have described.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. That is a 1961 Ford.

Mr. APPELL. Or 1961. I ask that the record be corrected.

I hand you a photograph and ask you if this is the Sterling Lewis Gillis, better known as "Bubba" Gillis, about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a photograph and ask you if this is Emery Allen Lee about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a photograph and ask you if this is the Hilton Dunaway about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And I show you a photograph and ask you if this is the Jon—spelled J-o-n—Paul Westbrook about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a photograph and ask you if this is the Gerald R. Lawrence about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I show you a photograph and ask you if this is the Charles A. Womack about whom you have testified.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

(Photographs marked "Billy Wilson Exhibit No. 3" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, other than the people that we have identified, in the course of your membership with the Paul Wilson Klavern, as we will call it, because he was the EC, did you know Ed Wilkins to be a member of that Klavern?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever hear testimony that because Mr. Wilkins was in the oil business that he had access to explosives?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess any knowledge whether any of the explosives used were ever obtained from Ed Wilkins?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now, Mr. Wilson, after your arrest, or after you received your sentence, probation, were you ever advised by anyone as to your status as a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir. A day or so after we was released from jail and sentenced, Mr. Jody—what's the name?—Greenlee informed me that the Klan had had a meeting, and I presume that this was the Klan in which Ray Smith was EC, since he was a member of that organization.

Mr. APPELL. You knew Jody Greenlee to be a member of the Klavern that Ray Smith was exalted cyclops of?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What did Mr. Greenlee tell you?

Mr. WILSON. He said that they had held a meeting, and since we were sentenced to 5 years that we would be suspended from the Klan for that length of time.

Mr. APPELL. What he advised you was not that you were banished, but, rather, that you were suspended for the period of time that you were under probation.

Mr. WILSON. That is the way I understood it; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Following your arrest on, I think it was, October 2, 1964?

Mr. WILSON. 3d.

Mr. APPELL. October 3, 1964, have you ever attended a meeting of a Klavern of the United Klans of America or any other Klan organization?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, if you had to lead your life over again, would you become a member of a Klan organization?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir; I sure wouldn't. I might add that I would advise or try to talk anyone else from doing so. In my own opinion, other organizations—and these are just out of the hat, you might say, at random—like SNCC and NAACP and other groups, they feed on things that they do, and on the other hand, the Klan, it does just the same thing. The Klan—I don't know, I don't like it. The actions that it has, or anything about it, I don't like.

I don't condone, and like I say, if I had it all to do over again, I would never be a member of any organization like this, any Klan organization.

Mr. APPELL. Because of the oath that you took of secrecy, the obligation of membership, do you feel that when you are asked to go on these jobs that you had to?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. If you had not been a member of a Klan organization and someone had approached you to go on a bombing mission, would you have done it?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, may I have a moment?

The CHAIRMAN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, at the time you joined the Klan, were you given a document "Fifty Reasons Why You Should Be a Member of the Original Ku Klux Klan"?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, because that document is already in the record, I shall not reintroduce it at this time. (See Murry Martin Exhibit No. 14, p. 2389.)

Mr. Wilson, I hand you a report of Investigator Sullivan which sets forth certain phrases and expressions that appeared on a piece of paper found in the possession of Emery Allen Lee at the time he was arrested. I ask you to examine these phrases and words which appear to me to be some kind of code designations and tell us if you possess any knowledge with respect to any of the entries.

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

(Document marked "Billy Wilson Exhibit No. 4" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, in addition to the Ray Smith Klavern, do you possess knowledge of other Klaverns of the United Klans of America in McComb, Mississippi?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What would be your statement as to the total Klan membership in McComb? In trying to work this out with Investigator Sullivan, did you arrive at an estimate of somewhere around 350 members?

Mr. WILSON. I believe I did.

Mr. APPELL. All right. Now, when you formed the new Klavern under the leadership of Paul Wilson, did you give it a name other than Klan which we have described as a cover name?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. By what name, or what name did you assign this new group?

Mr. WILSON. The name that was assigned to this new group was called South Pike Marksmanship Association.

Mr. APPELL. South Pike, P-i-k-e, Marksmanship Association.

Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. Wilson.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Sullivan told me, the investigator of this committee, that when you were called to appear before this committee in public session—I might say that you had already appeared in executive session—you expressed the hope, at least, that it would be on a day when no other Klansmen were subpoenaed to testify. In that correct?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

The CHAIRMAN. Well, I can't guarantee you that no Klansmen are in town today, but you are the only witness before this committee today, and I want to tell you that whatever fears you have, I think you can forget about them. There is a lot of barking. It is like a barking dog. I doubt that members of the Klan are going to make any more than noise when it comes to witnesses that appear before this committee.

I am glad that you got out of this outfit. You have acknowledged that what you did was wrong. On the other hand, you had the stamina and the courage and the guts, after having done it and after being arrested, to face the music and to face the court, to tell the truth, and to plead guilty.

I know from what has come to me, and from your previous appearance, that you have undergone great distress, you and your wife, your child, and particularly your parents. For all that, for getting out of it, for acknowledging that it was wrong, for your appearance here, voluntary appearance under oath, and telling it all, I certainly congratulate you, and I want to tell you that we are deeply appreciative.

You and others like you, I suspect—I hope, I am confident—will be the vehicle for many others to take that attitude from here on.

I tell you that there is a Federal law which makes it a very serious offense to do anything to you, and I would say the law would be meaningless unless it applied also to people such as your family, because you have appeared. If there is anything that does happen, and my guess is that it is 100-to-1 nothing will happen, just report the incident to us.

I know you are under severe, the most severe probationary sentence I have read, and it is tough, but glory to you. I thank you.

Mr. POOL. I want to join in what the chairman just said and also tell you, Mr. Wilson, that I am also a member of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and the testimony that you have given here today will be helpful. I am going to ask the postal inspectors to look into the matter of the letter that was mailed in Georgia.

I understand the information I have that most of the Klansmen in Georgia received this letter, and in view of the fact that the defense fund wasn't forthcoming, I want to ask the postal inspectors to check the mailings and things like that, which they have the facilities to do, and see if any Federal law has been violated in that regard, raising money for your defense that you never did receive from the Grand Dragon of Georgia.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I just want to join the chairman in thanking you for your testimony and congratulating you for your decision to disassociate yourself with this organization. I appreciate your courage in testifying here today. We appreciate it.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Senner?

Mr. SENNER. Yes, Mr. Chairman. I would like to join with my other colleagues on the committee to commend you for resigning from this organization. It is too bad you didn't have the knowledge not to join in the first instance, but this is looking back in retrospect. I would like to ask you just a couple of questions.

In your meetings, when a job is decided after the meetings, were the victims or the individuals whose names appeared on the slip discussed in the Klan meetings?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Well, who would determine these names, to your knowledge? Would it be Paul Wilson?

Mr. WILSON. The names that I drew out of this hat, as I told Mr. Appell, that it was Al Lee's hat, and I reckon it was he that wrote the names down. How he arrived at these names, or anything to that effect, I don't know.

Mr. SENNER. In other words, the members didn't even have an opportunity to discuss the pros and cons of the bombings; is that right?

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. SENNER. When you received this money from J. C. Brown, the kludd, did he inform you of where the money came from?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Did he tell you how he came into possession of the money?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. What is J. C. Brown's occupation?

Mr. WILSON. He is a minister.

Mr. SENNER. What would you estimate his income to be, per annum?

Mr. WILSON. I don't know.

Mr. SENNER. Well, do you think he would have this money from his own personal funds, or would he have to get it from outside sources?

Mr. WILSON. I believe it would be from outside sources. Sympathizers.

Mr. SENNER. Would you take the admonition, that given to you by Jody Greenlee, I believe it was, who said that you were out of the Klan during the period of your probation, as an indication on his part that the Klan felt that you were too hot to handle and that you might embarrass them in some way?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir, I——

Mr. SENNER. Or was it because of some oath or requirement on the part of the Klan?

Mr. WILSON. I don't remember anything in the oath about that. I don't know about me being all that hot to handle, or anything like that, but at this time, that he told me, it didn't make me mad. I mean, I was——

Mr. SENNER. In other words, you wanted out anyway.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. SENNER. But the point is, what did he say to you in regard to being out of the Klan during the suspended sentence?

Mr. WILSON. Well, sir, he said that they had had a meeting, sometime, while we were in, or right after we were released, and it was decided that for the period that we were on this deal that we got here that we would be suspended from the Klan, for 5 years.

Mr. SENNER. Did he give you any specific reason why?

Mr. WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. I am going to turn it over to my colleague, Mr. Buchanan.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Senner, if I might comment on the questions that you asked, it is the public pronouncement of the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America, Robert Shelton, that if any Klansman is arrested that he is suspended and then after conviction, if he should be convicted, he is then supposed to be banished.

Mr. Shelton does this in order to try to emphasize that his Klan is a nonviolent organization.

Mr. SENNER. I agree with you, Mr. Appell, that this is his public statement, but I don't believe the Imperial Wizard, Mr. Shelton.

But I would like to state, too, what the chairman said, that if anybody molests you or your family, let this Congress know, please.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Wilson, in your opinion, were you suspended because you committed the act which you were assigned in a Klan meeting, or because you were apprehended and convicted?

Mr. WILSON. In my own opinion, the reason I was suspended—and here, again, I would like to point out I think they used the wrong word in this by saying that I was suspended, I think what he meant was, I was out. However, that is not the word that he used—was because I went up there before the judge and I said that I was guilty, and I took all my medicine.

The CHAIRMAN. In other words, it is your idea that what really caused your suspension was not so much that you had performed those acts, but that you had freely talked about them.

Mr. WILSON. That is right.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. I am inclined to agree with you.

Mr. SENNER. Me, too.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Me, too.

The CHAIRMAN. Anything else?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like the record to show that following the drawing of the slips from the hat on the night of September 1st that there were five series of bombings or five separate bombings which took place in the McComb area on September 7th, 6 days later, and I wish the record also to show that while Mr. Wilson has no provable knowledge, first-hand knowledge in some of the acts engaged in by Klansmen, that in executive session Mr. Wilson has given us the full benefit of understandings that he has in these other matters.

Mr. SENNER. Don, I might add, weren't there five slips drawn from the hat, too, on that day?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. There is a coincidence.

Mr. POOL. I want to reiterate that the record should show Mr. Billy Wilson has been very cooperative with our staff, at the executive session and here today in the public session.

The CHAIRMAN. I will say again that, in my opinion, nothing will happen to you, but the Federal law we talked about says that if anything should happen to you, you have the protection of that law, you or members of your family. I don't think the law would make any sense if it didn't say that. I haven't read it specifically with that in mind, but if anything happens to you, the child, your wife, your parents, or anyone because of your appearance, just let us know.

Mr. POOL. And that includes threats, also.

The CHAIRMAN. All right?

The committee will stand in recess until February 1, and may I say in that connection there are a number of reasons for that. In the first place, we, the members of this committee, are members of other committees. Bills are being, or certainly will shortly be, referred to these other committees. Some of them have not thus far even reorganized, committee-wise, I am talking about, for this second session, and then more immediately, we understand, or I understand, that certain measures will be coming up on the floor during that period of time, including contempt citations for which this committee will have to prepare, and in addition thereto, simply as an example, I have to appear, I think this week—tomorrow, I believe—before the House Administration Committee in connection with matters involving this committee.

It is a question of things going on, the business of Congress, the business of the Members, committee membership, and so on.

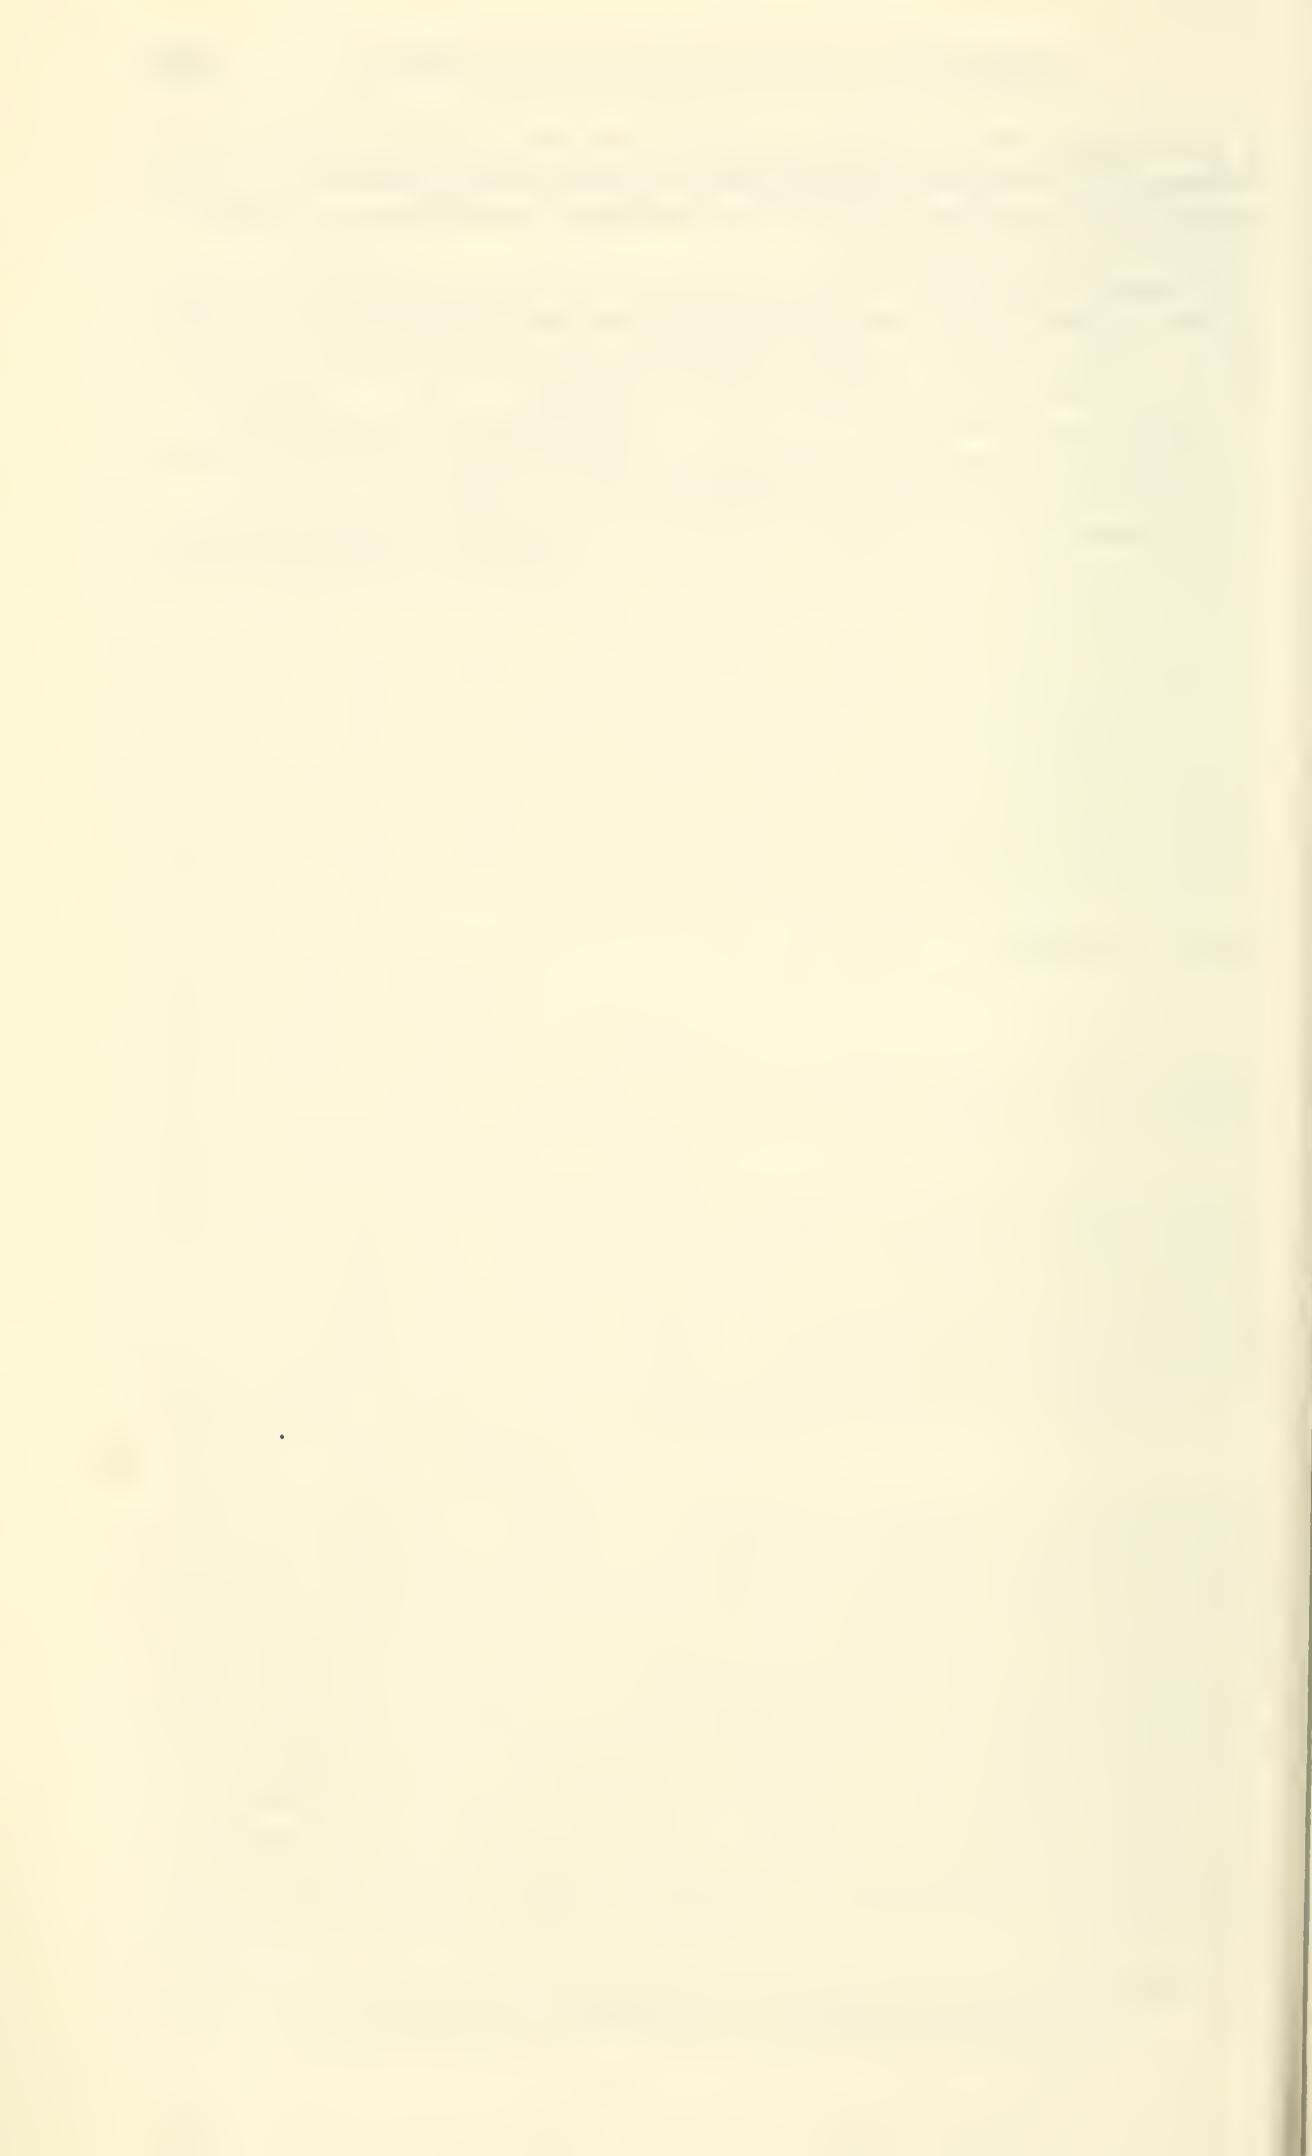

I thought I should explain that before questions are asked as to the reasons why we are now standing in recess until February 1. In the meantime, of course, investigation continues at all times, whether we are meeting or not meeting.

Things have to be verified, evidence has to be gathered, our committee investigation methods have to be tested, but all those things go on. That doesn't mean to say that our staff and the members will not have their hands full during that period.

So the committee stands in recess until February 1 at 10 a.m.

(Members present: Representatives Willis, Pool, and Buchanan, of the subcommittee, and also Representative Senner.)

(Whereupon, at 12:35 p.m., Tuesday, January 18, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Tuesday, February 1, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 3

FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.
PUBLIC HEARING

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the January 28 hearing, met, pursuant to recess, at 2:20 p.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin F. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; George F. Senner, Jr., of Arizona; and John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis, Senner, and Ashbrook. Also present, Representative Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

As chairman of the full Committee on Un-American Activities, I hereby constitute, as a subcommittee for the purpose of this afternoon's hearing, the following: Myself as chairman, Mr. Ashbrook, of Ohio, and Mr. Senner, of the State of Arizona, meaning that from here on two of the three will constitute a quorum.

We now have a quorum of the regular subcommittee so we are over-quorumed.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Chairman, the staff would like to call at this time Mr. George Williams.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear, sir, that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF GEORGE LEONARD WILLIAMS

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, your full name for the record, please?

Mr. WILLIAMS. George Leonard Williams.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, when and where were you born?

Mr. WILLIAMS. In Lenoir County, Kinston, North Carolina.

Mr. MANUEL. What date, sir?

MR. WILLIAMS. November 26, 1920.

MR. MANUEL. Are you appearing before the committee this afternoon in response to a subpoena served upon you by committee Investigator Neil Wetterman on the 26th of January, 1966?

MR. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

THE CHAIRMAN. Mr. Williams, I see you have no lawyer.

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

THE CHAIRMAN. Do you desire a lawyer?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

THE CHAIRMAN. Now, I must tell you that the rule of this committee is that, whether or not one has a lawyer, he is entitled, if he wants to, to invoke the fifth amendment. Do you understand that?

MR. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

THE CHAIRMAN. You have that right if you want it.

All right, proceed.

MR. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, are you currently a resident of the city of Greenville, North Carolina?

MR. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

MR. MANUEL. Have you ever been a member of the Realm of North Carolina of the United Klans of America?

MR. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

MR. MANUEL. Will you please tell the committee when you first joined the United Klans of America in North Carolina?

MR. WILLIAMS. I joined the Klan July 28, 1965.

MR. MANUEL. How did you happen to become a member of the Realm of North Carolina UKA?

MR. WILLIAMS. I was at a rally that was held in Farmville and I obtained an application card there and filled it out and handed it in to the Klavern.

MR. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, why did you join the United Klans of America?

MR. WILLIAMS. In the speeches that was made at the rally, the Klan was out for politician reasons, you know—men in office work to get the color and all out of the schools and kind of work to—get the colored out of the schools and keep the races from mixing and kind of hold down the colored from mixing in the South.

MR. MANUEL. Are you currently a member of the United Klans of America or any other Klan organization in the State of North Carolina?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

MR. MANUEL. When did you sever your membership in the United Klans?

MR. WILLIAMS. About mid-November.

MR. MANUEL. So then you were a member, an active member of the United Klans of America from approximately July 28 until mid-November of 1965; is that correct, sir?

MR. WILLIAMS. That is right, sir.

MR. MANUEL. Now, what unit of the Realm of North Carolina, United Klans of America, did you have membership in?

MR. WILLIAMS. Unit 53, the Benevolent Association.

MR. MANUEL. The Klavern was called the Benevolent Association?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, when I got in it was called Pitt County Christian Fellowship Association.¹

Mr. MANUEL. And it was also known as the Benevolent Association?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. The unit designation was what, sir? What number?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Fifty-three.

Mr. MANUEL. How long did you remain a member of that particular Klavern?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Until October 1st.

Mr. MANUEL. 1965?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Where was that Klavern located, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Three miles east of Greenville at a place known as Port Terminal in a building that was unoccupied.

Mr. MANUEL. From approximately October 1965 until you severed your membership in the Klan, did you belong to another Klavern or another unit of the Realm of North Carolina, United Klans of America?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please identify that unit?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I belonged to Unit 162 at Pactolus just east of Greenville, a kind of a crossroads place with the name, and the name was Pactolus Hunting Club.

Mr. MANUEL. So during your membership in the Klan you were a member of two separate Klaverns?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. One known as the Benevolent Association in Greenville, North Carolina, and the other known as the Pactolus Hunting Club in Pactolus, North Carolina; is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Going back to July 28, 1965, when you first joined the United Klans, will you please tell the committee how you obtained membership in the Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I obtained this card and I had it sent in to the unit. They passed on it a week and the following week they asked me to come in.

Mr. MANUEL. Were you initiated at a meeting of the Klavern?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you pay an initiation fee or a klectokon, as it is known in the Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. How much was that, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Ten dollars.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you know where that money went after you paid it?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. To whom did you pay that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Harry Ferguson.

Mr. MANUEL. Will you please identify for the committee Mr. Harry Ferguson?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He was the klokard in the Klavern. He was the man who swore us in.

Mr. MANUEL. That is an officer in the Klavern known as the klo kard or the conductor; is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you take any oaths as a member of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Who administered your oath to you?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Ferguson.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, I'd like to show you a series of oaths which committee investigation has revealed the oath to be administered to members of the United Klans of America and ask you if you took this oath to become a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir, it is the same.

(Document previously marked "Robert Shelton Exhibit No. 4.")

Mr. MANUEL. Prior to taking that oath, Mr. Williams, did anyone explain to you the content of the oath or in any way let you know what oath you would be taking?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. In other words, you took the oath by just raising your right hand and swearing after the gentleman who gave you the oath?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. After taking the oath, did you subsequently learn what the oath meant?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir. I just listened to him read and held up my hand and swore "I do," when he was through reading.

Mr. MANUEL. In practical terms, Mr. Williams, during your period of membership in the United Klans of America, in your own words, what did this oath bind you to?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, we was supposed to put death before us before we revealed any secrets of the Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, by secrets of the Klan, sir, could you explain to the committee what you mean by that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is whatever went on in the Klavern at meetings.

Mr. MANUEL. Including membership and activities?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Was any part of this oath explained to you in terms of what would happen if you violated the oath?

Mr. WILLIAMS. After we were sworn in there, they had what is a runner between the man who was swearing us in and the inside. He would go in. He went in and they cut the lights off in the Klavern excepting one little light right over the officer and the cross. They had a cross made of wood with lights on it, red lights, and we were led into and around the desk in front of the officer and he stood up and explained that we were now members of the Invisible Empire and that "we believe in not revealing no one's name in here; we leave it up to you to reveal if you are a member." And he reached over and had a strap this long with a handle on the end of it and it had——

Mr. MANUEL. Was it a whip?

Mr. WILLIAMS. It was a strap with a handle on it, like a paddle. A thick leather strip about that thick and he said, "This is to remind them that we do not have no name revealing outside of this building for what goes on here."

Mr. MANUEL. And again who was that person whom you are describing now talking to the prospective members?

Mr. WILLIAMS. EC. He was the EC.

Mr. MANUEL. What was his name, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Carl Manning.

Mr. MANUEL. Can you name for the committee the other officers in the Klavern which you joined? That is Unit 53 in Greenville known as the Benevolent Association?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. Carl Manning is the EC.

Mr. MANUEL. EC is exalted cyclops; is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir; and the assistant was Marvin Strickland. The klokard was Harry Ferguson and the investigator, I do not know his first name, but his last name was Edwards. He worked with the Forestry Service.

The CHAIRMAN. Of the State or the Federal Government?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The State.

That was what we called the investigator.

And the inner guard, I can't think of who he was. The outer guard was the Robuck boy.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you know his first name?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Gene Robuck, I think.

Mr. MANUEL. The outer guard, was who?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The outer guard, I don't remember his name, but I know that the security guards worked as the outer guards and David Bunting was the captain.

Mr. MANUEL. He was the captain of the security guards?

Mr. WILLIAMS. At that time.

Mr. MANUEL. Who was the treasurer?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Louis Tyson.

Mr. MANUEL. Who was the secretary?

Mr. WILLIAMS. John Twel.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, at this time, Mr. Williams, did you have a State officer who was affiliated with your Klavern?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What was his name?

Mr. WILLIAMS. His name was Charlie Edwards. He was a policeman of Grimesland. That is a town 11 miles east of Greenville.

Mr. MANUEL. What office did he hold within the State structure of the Realm of North Carolina UKA?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He always told us at every meeting he attended that he was our State officer. He was kind of in charge of the security guard.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you ever hold any office yourself in this Klavern, Mr. Williams?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you ever hold an office in the second Klavern which you joined, the Pactolus group?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I was the assistant treasurer and was there every night excepting one.

Mr. MANUEL. We will get to that just a bit later.

Did you purchase a robe as a Klansman?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you know of members in your unit who did purchase robes?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you tell the committee from what source the robes came?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The robes came from Bob Jones. They picked them up at rallies. He would bring them there in his truck.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you identify Bob Jones for the committee?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He is the Grand Dragon of North Carolina.

Mr. MANUEL. As a member of the United Klans, you knew him to be the Grand Dragon of the Realm of North Carolina; is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is correct.

Mr. MANUEL. Was he the Grand Dragon of the Realm of North Carolina at the time you left the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What price was paid to Mr. Jones for the robes which were purchased from him by members of the Realm of North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. They had a satin robe, what they called a satin robe was $15. They had a cotton robe that went at $10.

Mr. MANUEL. As a member, did you have any idea where Mr. Jones obtained the robes or the material to make the robes?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir; I do not.

Mr. MANUEL. Was money for the robes paid directly to Mr. Jones?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. To whom was the money paid?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The treasurer of the Klavern.

Mr. MANUEL. And what did he do with the money?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I don't know, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. As a member of the Realm of North Carolina, did you pay dues?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. How much were the dues per member?

Mr. WILLIAMS. $2 a month.

Mr. MANUEL. Was it ever explained to you what happened to these dues once they were paid by the membership?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Only one time I asked Louis Tyson what went with the dues that we paid in and he said that most of it went to the State office.

Mr. MANUEL. Was there ever any accounting made of the money within the Klavern that the Klavern collected in the form of dues or initiation fees or other sources of income?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Never any accounting.

Mr. WILLIAMS, have you ever heard of an organization known as the Alabama Rescue Service?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. In other words, all during the period of your membership in the United Klans of America, you never knew of the existence of the Alabama Rescue Service; is that correct?

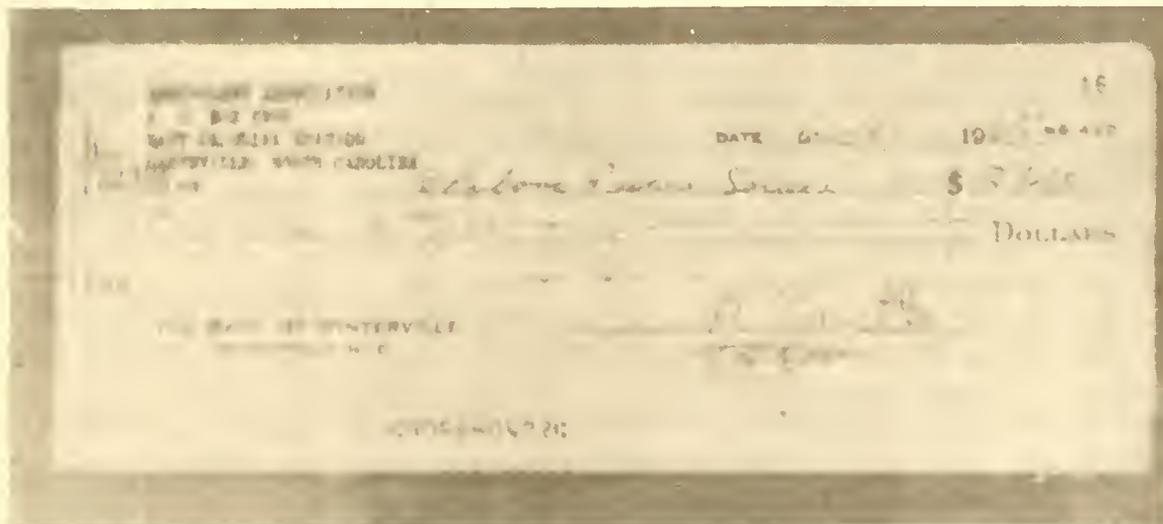

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir, we never heard.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to point out at this time that the committee has subpoenaed the bank account of the Benevolent Association, which is the Klavern to which Mr. Williams belonged in Greenville, and we have found that from April 7, 1965, until some date in September 1965, that the Greenville Klavern paid to the Alabama Rescue Service, which is the cover name of the national headquarters of the United Klans of America, paid them the amount of $301.25. I point this out, sir, for the record, and I ask Mr. Williams if to his knowledge any of the members of the Klavern, other than the officers who signed these checks, knew of the existence of the Alabama Rescue Service and the fact that their money was being directed to that organization?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir; we never heard of it mentioned on the floor.

GEORGE WILLIAMS EXHIBIT NO. 1

Mr. MANUEL. I would also like to point out for the record, Mr. Chairman, that the signatures on the checks which we have obtained by subpoena are those of R. E. Everett, L. H. Tyson, and in some cases Carl M. Manning.

Did you know Mr. R. E. Everett to be a member of the Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you know him to be an officer of that Klavern?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. You have identified Mr. Manning as the exalted cyclops and Mr. Tyson as the treasurer; is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is right.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, Mr. Williams, shortly after you became a member of the Greenville Klavern, were you asked to perform, or were you assigned to perform, an act of violence in the town of Vanceboro, North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please tell how this assignment was made and what the circumstances were in the assignment being made?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, Charlie Edwards, which was the State officer at that time, came into the Klavern the second week that I was in the Klavern. The second meeting that I ever went to.

Mr. MANUEL. Would that be around August 5, 1965?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes. He picked eight of us along the row and he said first to come over in the corridor, that he wanted to talk to us. We went over there and he explained to us. He said, "Now, I want the mayor of Vanceboro taken out and whipped."

He said, "Now, if you don't do this, I will know of it."

He said, "I don't want to know when you are going. Work that out among yourselves, or how you do it, but I don't want to know when you go, but I want him whipped."

Mr. MANUEL. Did Mr. Edwards include himself in the group that would go down to Vanceboro?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. And he picked eight members from the Klavern; is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Did he give a reason as to why he wanted the mayor of Vanceboro, North Carolina, whipped?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He was seen in the company of some colored ladies.

Mr. MANUEL. At least this is what Mr. Edwards told you?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you subsequently find out that the reason which Mr. Edwards gave you was not entirely correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What did you find out in that regard, Mr. Williams?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, I found out that the mayor was trying to help the colored people get jobs.

Mr. MANUEL. And for that reason, Mr. Edwards wanted the mayor whipped, in reality; is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you later find that out to be true?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Did the eight persons picked by Mr. Edwards subsequently go to Vanceboro to beat the mayor?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please tell the committee what happened?

Mr. WILLIAMS. We went into Vanceboro and changed our minds and come back.

Mr. MANUEL. For what reason did you change your mind?

Mr. WILLIAMS. We were scared.

Mr. MANUEL. Of the eight persons—seven others—did any of them leave the Klan as a result of this incident?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Two that I know of never came back.

Mr. MANUEL. Did Mr. Edwards have any comment after you came back, not having carried out his assignment?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir; I didn't see him any more about it.

Mr. MANUEL. And why was this?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The next week we were going to Plymouth.

Mr. MANUEL. That is Plymouth, North Carolina; is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. You say you were going to Plymouth. Why did you go to Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The first night I went to Plymouth was at a rally. That was along the first of August when we started going to Plymouth. Then after this incident at Vanceboro, I was called one night about 1 o'clock in the morning and told to meet at the Klavern.

Mr. MANUEL. Who called you, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Louis Tyson.

Mr. MANUEL. And he was the treasurer of the Klavern?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. What did he say to you at that time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He said, "Get up and come on out to the Klavern. We are needed." And so I got up and went out to the Klavern.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you ask him any other questions at that time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. You just got up and went when he called you?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. And that was at 1 o'clock in the morning; is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. What happened when you met?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I got to the Klavern, and there was two men out there, and nobody else came for a few minutes, so we decided we would go back across the river to Mr. Tyson's office, which is a J.P.'s office.

Mr. MANUEL. He is a justice of the peace?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. In Greenville?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Proceed, sir.

Mr. WILLIAMS. And before we got to his office we come across a lot of cars parked out there, directly off from the airport, Grimesland, and so we pulled them down and asked where they were meeting at. So we all got on cars there and went to Plymouth.

Mr. MANUEL. Before you proceed, did Mr. Tyson give you any explanation at that time as to if anyone had an assignment to call the members of the Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He said the chief, that is what they call Mr. Edwards at that time because he was the chief of police in Greenville, and he said the chief and Mr. Ferguson was at Plymouth and called him that we were needed at Plymouth. So we all got on cars and went to Plymouth.

Mr. MANUEL. Did he explain to you why you were needed in Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, he didn't.

Mr. MANUEL. For what purpose did you go to Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. They were having demonstrations down there, and we were going down to stop the demonstrations.

Mr. MANUEL. When you say "they were having demonstrations," could you identify for the committee whom you mean by "they"?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The colored people were having demonstrations in Plymouth at that time.

Mr. MANUEL. And you say that Mr. Edwards or Mr. Ferguson were the ones who called the Klansmen into Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you ever find out from Mr. Ferguson where he was getting his information as to the demonstrations?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He told us that a policeman, a friend of his, was calling him from Plymouth and notifying him.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you know the identity of that policeman?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. How many separate times, Mr. Williams, beside the rally which you told us about, did you go to Plymouth to participate as a Klansman in the demonstration?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Three.

Mr. MANUEL. Can you explain to the committee what happened on the first trip concerning the demonstrations?

Mr. WILLIAMS. We went into the edges of Plymouth at a little cafe, a drive-in cafe, and we were met by Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Edwards, and they told us to go back to the edge of town and wait, and either them or this policeman would notify us.

Mr. MANUEL. Were members of the Klan armed at that time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Were you yourself armed?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Not at that time; no.

Mr. MANUEL. Were you given a weapon?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Not on that trip.

Mr. MANUEL. Not on the first trip?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. At that time did any persons known to you to be members of the Klan make use of citizens band radios to effect communications between Klansmen?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir; not at that time, but they tried to reach some of them but they couldn't reach anybody.

Mr. MANUEL. On your first trip into Plymouth, did Mr. Ferguson specifically tell you why he had ordered Klansmen into Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. He said that we were called in there, that they were going to deputize us, and that we were going to stop the colored one way or the other.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you or any other Klansmen, to your knowledge, become deputized at any time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you return to Greenville after your first trip to Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. How long after that, sir, did you go back?

Mr. WILLIAMS. About a week.

Mr. MANUEL. And who notified you to make the return trip?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Louis Tyson.

Mr. MANUEL. On these trips, Mr. Williams, did you observe Klansmen from other parts of North Carolina other than Greenville?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Were these persons residents of Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. On your trips to Plymouth, would you please tell the committee, to the best of your knowledge, how many Klansmen were involved in Plymouth during these demonstrations during the month of August 1965?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, I couldn't say how many was in, but the night that I was in Plymouth on the last trip over there I would say there was around a thousand.

The CHAIRMAN. How many?

Mr. WILLIAMS. A thousand.

Mr. MANUEL. Of those thousand Klansmen, to the best of your knowledge, how many were residents or active members in Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. About 25 or 30, I would say.

Mr. MANUEL. So out of the thousand, then, there were approximately 970 to 975 who had come from outside the Plymouth area?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you happen to possess knowledge as to how they happened to be in Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. They were called in by Mr. Ferguson.

Mr. MANUEL. Did Mr. Edwards participate in that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. During your first two trips to Plymouth to engage in these demonstrations as a Klansman, were there any acts of violence known to you to have occurred?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What were the activities of the Klansmen, and specifically yours, in Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, on the second trip we went over there, on both trips, we were met at this same cafe and was told to go back to the edge of town and wait at the city limits, outside the city limits. The first two times.

Mr. MANUEL. I see. Were you told or ordered to do anything, carry out any action?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Was there any agitation on the part of the Klan directed against those who were demonstrating?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you return to Greenville after your second trip into Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. And how long did you remain in Greenville before coming back to Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I left Plymouth about 5 o'clock in the morning, and I got home and I worked that day, and I went back that night because Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Edwards told us that all stay who could because we would be needed in Plymouth if they did start the marching. He made the remarks that the colored had said they were going to make another Los Angeles out of Plymouth.

Mr. MANUEL. That was told to you by whom?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Edwards. So they said they that didn't have to go back to work, to stay, and what did to go back and come back that night.

Mr. MANUEL. What happened on your third trip into Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I was shot.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you describe to the committee how you were shot, under what circumstances?

Mr. WILLIAMS. When we went on into Plymouth that night, and we went out and stopped first at the cafe, there was around 75 to maybe a hundred Klansmen at this cafe. And as we come by the city limits, there were some parked in this area where we had been parking the time we had been before. So we stopped at this cafe a while, and these boys that was with me had never been into Plymouth, so they said, "Let's ride up into town and see what is going on, and then we will ride through." So we rode up into town, and after we got into town we saw other men up there I knew was in the Klan, so we just parked our car by the courthouse and walked one block down and into the doorway of a store on the corner. We had been there about 15 minutes when there was a bunch of colored men come walking down the street. As they crossed the street and got on the corner, five or six white men and women were behind them, kind of heckling them, and as they got right along by us this colored man reached down in his sock and come out with a gun, and as he pulled the gun it fell over on the street by the light meter. He dropped on his knees, and when he come up with the gun he started firing across the street, and then the boys run that was with me, and he turned around and fired at them when they went around the corner. And his back was to me then, and I knew if he ever turned or if somebody didn't stop him, some innocent people was going to get hurt because they had children on there, and there was women and all. So I thought I could jump him while his back was to me, and I lunged, and as I lunged he fired and hit me in the stomach.

Mr. MANUEL. He hit you?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Were you seriously wounded?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, I would like to show you a clipping, or a copy of a clipping from the Raleigh, North Carolina, Times, dated September 1, 1965, and in this article one passage says: "George Williams, 45, of Greenville, 50 miles away, was shot in the abdomen," and in another instance, "Clarence McCoy Adams, 27, of Pink Hill about 100 miles from Plymouth was knifed in the side."

I show you this article and ask you if you are the George Williams referred to in that?

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

(Document marked "George Williams Exhibit No. 2" appears on p. 2879.)

Mr. MANUEL. Did you know Mr. Clarence McCoy Adams?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Only as of that night.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you know him to be a member of the Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He told me he was not a Klansman, but his father and some of the Klansmen from Jones County come in and they told me they were Klansmen.

Mr. MANUEL. I see. Now, Mr. Williams, did you have occasion to know that after you were shot, wounded, Grand Dragon Jones made

Police Hold 4 in Plymouth After Last Night's Clash; Rights Marches Are Barred Police Chief Blames Klan for Night Violence

By REESE HART

Associated Press Writer

PLYMOUTH—Police arrested two heavily armed men and a civil rights worker today as officers kept a close watch on this tense North Carolina town where racial violence has flared twice within a week.

Today's arrests brought to five the number of persons charged by police since two white men were wounded in a street fight with Negroes Tuesday night. Police put a ban on all demonstrations until tensions eased. Police identified the armed white men as Jimmy Wayne Curling, 24, of Plymouth and George Brown Whitaker, Rt. 1, Washington. They were charged with carrying knives and three pistols to "terrorize people." Curlings also was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Free on Bond

The two were given a hearing this morning and were released on bonds of $300 each.

The civil rights worker, Mike Farley, an 18-year-old white youth from San Francisco. Police said Farley was leading a group of children toward the Washington County Courthouse. He was carrying a placard saying: "Redeem Southern Politics. Register and Vote. Freedom for Everyone."

Police said Farley was charged with breaking a new ordinance adopted Tuesday by the Town Council. It bans marches between 6 p.m. and 8 a.m. and requires a permit for demonstrations of any type at any time.

said police have charged a 33-year-old Negro logger with the pistol shooting of a white man last night. (Scripps) Paul Basnight, told to be the one used to fire into a crowd of whites was recovered. (Albion Arrington of Plymouth was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and with assault with intent to kill. A preliminary hearing was scheduled for him Sept. 7 in Washington Recorder's Court.) Authorities blame the current tension on the Ku Klux Klan and persons from other towns.

Clash Thursday

Last Thursday night civil rights demonstrators and men believed to be Ku Klux Klansmen clashed in the streets. Civil rights leaders said 27 demonstrators suffered cuts and bruises. Negro leaders said they did not know when or if the marches in Plymouth would resume. They did say they planned to picket the Washington County courthouse in Plymouth protesting the pace of voter registrations. Schools in the Plymouth area were integrated last week. State troopers and other officers were in Plymouth to preserve order. A group of Negroes and whites clashed on Main Street

Tuesday night after a scheduled march was called off because of the explosive situation between the races.

Shooting, Knifing

George Williams, 45, of Greenville, 50 miles away, was shot in the abdomen. Clarence McCoy Adams, 27, of Pink Hill about 100 miles from Plymouth was knifed in the side. Col. David Lambert, commander of the North Carolina Highway Patrol, said both are in good condition at the Washington County Hospital. Police apprehended two Negroes after the fracas. A Police Department spokesman, who declined to identify the suspects, said they were being questioned and no charges had been filed. A small pistol was confiscated. Witnesses told police seven Negroes were walking down Main Street together when a group of whites moved in behind them. One of the Negroes pulled a pistol from beneath his trouser leg and fired wildly toward the whites; they said The Negroes then fled, but ran into another group of whites near the center of town. A fight ensued, and police rushed to the scene.

Mayor W. R. Flowers announced postponement of Tuesday night's march after a 40-minute meeting with Negro leaders, including Frinks and Floyd McKisick of Durham, chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality.

a statement to the Governor of North Carolina and also made a statement to the press that the man who was shot in Plymouth was not a Klansman?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. I show you a press clipping from the Raleigh, North Carolina, Times, dated September 2, 1965, and I quote from one paragraph of that clipping: "He," referring to Jones, "said two white men injured in street fighting there Friday night were not Klan members."

I show you this, Mr. Williams, and ask you whether, to your recollection, that statement is correct as far as Mr. Jones is concerned?

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. He made the statement the next day after I was shot, on television, and this was in the next morning's paper.

(Document marked "George Williams Exhibit No. 3" appears on p. 2881.)

The CHAIRMAN. On television he said the two men——

Mr. WILLIAMS. I was not affiliated with the Klan.

The CHAIRMAN. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. At that time you were a member of the United Klans of America. Is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. And you were ordered to Plymouth by persons known to you to be officials in the United Klans of America, Realm of North Carolina. Is that correct, sir?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. And also pictured on that article, Mr. Williams, along with Grand Dragon Jones are Boyd Hamby and George Dorsett. Would you please tell the committee who those two individuals are?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The Reverend Dorsett was the chaplain of the Klavern, and the day that I was in court in Plymouth—I had known Boyd Hamby had been seen a lot with Bob Jones, but the day I was in court I found out he was the grand night-hawk of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you also know Reverend Dorsett to be a grand officer of the Realm of North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, Mr. Williams, subsequent to Mr. Jones making this statement, did you have occasion to personally meet Mr. Jones?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you describe to the committee the circumstances under which you met Mr. Jones?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The first day I was in court in Plymouth—I was subpoenaed as a witness over there against the colored fellow which had been charged for assault with a deadly weapon. The first day I was in court there, I left after court and went out to the edge of Plymouth to the rally site. They were going to have a rally at Plymouth at night. I went out in this pasture where the site was, and Bob Jones and Boyd Hamby came up to my car and said, "Whose car?" I said, "This is mine." He said, "Let's ride some." And so we got in the car and left.

Mr. MANUEL. And what conversation took place, Mr. Williams, between yourself and Mr. Jones while you were in the car?

Jones, After Seeing Moore; Says Klan Not Cause of Crisis

By SHIRLEY MUDGE
Times Staff Writer

All Ku Klux Klansmen who do not live in Plymouth have been ordered to stay out of that strife-torn community by the Grand Dragon of their organization.

Robert W. Jones, head Klansman in the State, said following a 30-minute meeting with Governor Moore today that Klansmen have not been involved in the violence in Plymouth in recent days.

Jones said he issued an order last Friday to Klan members from other areas to stay out of Plymouth.

The Grand Dragon said that his half-hour conference with Moore was beneficial because it resulted in a greater understanding between the two about what each is attempting to do.

Jones said he asked Moore about a statement recently attributed to Dr. Martin Luther King to the effect that Plymouth may become another Selma or Los Angeles which the world will long remember.

He said the Governor assured him this would not be the case.

Jones went into the conference with a list of prepared questions. He was accompanied by Rev. George F. Dorsett and Gordon Hamby, both leaders in his organization.

He said he first asked the Governor how the State will end the street demonstrations

Klansmen Told Stay Out of Town without giving special privileges to the Negro citizens of Plymouth, but he said he got no answer.

Jones said he then asked the Governor if the Klan could do anything to help the situation and was asked by Moore to abide by the law.

Jones said he replied: "We have done that."

The Klan chief said he asked Moore, too, if the Klan had been found by the Attorney General's office to be a legal fraternal organization and was assured it is.

In answer to reporters' questions, Jones denied his organization is becoming "more politically oriented" but admitted he has been speaking in opposition to Rep. Harold Cooley.

Asked if he would support any candidate opposing Cooley he said he would have to know who the candidate would be but he said he probably would support Jim Gardner of Rocky Mount were he to challenge Cooley, again.

In summing up his meeting with the Governor, Jones said, "We both agreed that we deplored violence."

He said the Governor doesn't like some members of the Klan but Jones agreed he has some members "I'd do better without." And he said he plans to get rid of some of them "as soon as I can."

Jones declined to name any of the members with whom he is dissatisfied.

The Grand Dragon said he expects to go ahead with plans for a rally in Washington County Oct. 13. He said he does not expect the rally to incite further violence.

Asked specifically if he would consider calling the rally off if the Governor should request him to, he said he probably would.

Questioned about statements by civil rights leaders that they will demonstrate wherever Klan rallies are held, Jones challenged the Negroes to keep up with the Klan.

"If they follow us around for 30 days they'll be too tired to demonstrate," Jones said, explaining that he has been rallying for 39 consecutive nights.

As he answered reporters' questions Jones reiterated from time to time his contention that no Klansmen were involved in the violence at Plymouth.

He said two white men injured in street fighting there Friday night were not Klan members.

Jones was in Plymouth that night and said he did not see any street fighting. He said he read in The News and Observer reports of a clash between Negroes and Klansmen but that he did not see any such fight.

Jones declined to say how many Klansmen live in the Plymouth area.

Jones got an unpleasant welcome to Raleigh this morning.

Police cited him with exceeding 35 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone on Glenwood Avenue near Cleveland Street. A radar unit stationed at that point made the stop, police said.

Jones was en route to his conference with Governor Moore. He told reporters later this morning he had "every intention of fighting the charge in court."

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, he told me that he wanted to go down to the county line towards Washington to see if the highway patrol was checking cars. We rode to the county line and turned around. There was no highway patrolmen at the county line. We got back to the edge of Plymouth and he said, "Now we want to go to the county line towards Williamston," and I took him down that road.

Mr. MANUEL. What did he say to you at that time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He got into discussion with me being shot in Plymouth, and he said, "I don't know whether they will be after you or not to go up on the committee since they found that you are affiliated with the Klan, but," he said, "if you do, get in touch with me and I will tell you what to do."

Mr. MANUEL. In other words, in discussing the possibility of your being subpoenaed before this committee, Mr. Jones told you at that time that, if you were subpoenaed, you were to contact him and he would tell you what to do. Is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Did he have any statement to make regarding your Klan membership, which he had denied publicly after the incident in Plymouth?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He said if he had knew of me personally he would have been to see me before now, but he had not knowed me personally.

Mr. MANUEL. But he did know you as a member of the Klan. Is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. At the time he made that statement?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, I would like to show you another press clipping from the Raleigh, North Carolina, News and Observer, dated September 3, 1965, with the headline "Dragon Says 'Bad Ones' Spot-lighted," and then this article, one paragraph of which reads as follows:

Questioned by newsmen after the conference, Jones said: "The Governor doesn't like some members of our organization. I have some I could get along better without and I plan to get rid of them as soon as I can."¹

Asked if any Klansmen were in Plymouth during the recent outbursts, Jones said: "There were none in Plymouth that were ordered to go in. I've never ordered anybody to go anywhere. I told all of my people to stay out of there except the ones who lived there."

Mr. Williams, I would like to ask you, as a result of your activities as a Klansman in Plymouth, North Carolina, did any official of the Realm of North Carolina make any investigation? Were you reprimanded in any way by any official of the Realm of North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

(Document marked "George Williams Exhibit No. 4" appears on p. 2883.)

Mr. MANUEL. Were you questioned at all concerning your activities?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. To your knowledge, was any member of the Klan expelled for activities in Plymouth, North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. To your knowledge, did Grand Dragon Jones, prior to the date that you were shot, issue an order to Klansmen to the effect

¹ Committee investigation established that no North Carolina Klansmen were banished because of criminal background or violent nature.

GEORGE WILLIAMS EXHIBIT NO. 4

[Raleigh, N.C., News and Observer, Sept. 3, 1965]

Dragon Says 'Bad Ones' Spotlighted

Grand Dragon Robert Jones agreed Thursday with Governor Moore that the Plymouth racial violence has spotlighted some undesirables in the North Carolina Ku Klux Klan.

The Granite Quarry salesman, accompanied by two aides, met with Moore shortly after the Governor had placed part of the blame for the Plymouth strife at the doorstep of "certain members of the Klan."

Doesn't Like Some

Questioned by newsmen after the conference, Jones said: "The Governor doesn't like some members of our organization. I have some I could get along better without and I plan to get rid of them as soon as I can."

Asked if any Klansmen were in Plymouth during the recent outbursts, Jones said: "There were none in Plymouth that were ordered to go in. I've never ordered anybody to go anywhere. I told all of my people to stay out of there except the ones who live there."

Jones, accompanied by Klan Chaplain, the Rev. George Dorsett of Greensboro, and organizer Gordon Hamby of Lexington, said he put this question to Governor Moore: "How will the State end the daily demonstrations at Plymouth without giving special privileges to the colored citizens?"

Moore, he said, "didn't answer it."

Another question to Moore, Jones said, was: "Is there anything the Klan can do to help the situation?" Moore's answer, he said, was: "Abide by the law."

Jones commented: "This we have done."

Negroes Uninvited

Jones was asked about a pledge made Monday by Edenton civil rights leader Golden Frinks to hold a march in the vicinity of every Klan rally. He replied: "They can demonstrate in the road if they want to, but that's my property at the rally site as long as the rally is going on. They'd be uninvited guests there. I think if the Negroes followed us for 30 days they'd be so tired they couldn't demonstrate."

Asked if a Klan rally scheduled for Sept. 13 near Plymouth is still on, Jones said: "Yes, sir, it certainly is." Moore did not request cancellation of this rally, Jones said, or any others scheduled.

See KLAN, Page 2

Several rallies are on tap, Jones said, including Henderson on Sept. 8 and Williamston on Sept. 11.

Jones said that reports of a scuffle between Klansmen and Negroes in Plymouth the night of Aug. 26 were false. A number of Negroes reported receiving injuries from a run-in with the Klan.

The Plymouth conflict exploded into gunplay and knife-wielding Tuesday night. One white man was shot and another cut.

"The man who was shot was not a Klansman," Jones said, "and the man who was cut was not a Klansman."

that, as he stated in the press, all of the people were told to get out of there except the ones who lived there?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, Mr. Williams, do you have any knowledge of any other act of intimidation or violence performed by persons known to you to be members of the United Klans of America, Realm of North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. There is a few incidents that was brought, but this was the only one I took part in.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you have knowledge of cross-burnings?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Of two.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please explain to the committee what your knowledge is in that regard?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Along about mid-September, I mean October, I think it was. I ain't sure of the date. But I went to a meeting at the Pactolus Hunting Club, and they had a cross fixed in the back room, and after the meeting was over Harry Ferguson took five of the men and he went into the back room and talked, closed the door and they talked, and the next morning there was a cross burnt in Mr. John Grier's yard.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you identify for the committee Mr. John Grier?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He was a real estate rental man in Greenville, and they claimed he was the cause of them selling the first house to a colored family in the white section of the town.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you see that cross in the Klavern prior to the burning?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I saw a cross. I couldn't say it was the same one. But I know there was a cross and it was burned about an hour after we closed.

Mr. MANUEL. Prior to the burning of that cross, did you observe at the same meeting Mr. Ferguson call several Klansmen over in the corner, as was done in the incident concerning the mayor in Vanceboro?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. During the month of September, Mr. Williams, was there any other incident regarding a threatened beating or intimidation of a person in Greenville?

Mr. WILLIAMS. There was a small boy, or he was a young boy, a nian, but he was retarded.

Mr. MANUEL. Mentally retarded?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. I know they did not beat him. They went out and after they got him they talked to him and warned him if he was caught in the company of colored people again they would come back and get him.

Mr. MANUEL. Were Mr. Charles Edwards and Mr. Harry Ferguson the ones who did this?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. And they were officers, again, at that time in the Realm of North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, in November of 1965, do you have any knowledge of the beating of another Klansman from another unit?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please explain to the committee your knowledge in that regard?

Mr. WILLIAMS. This was a boy, was a young fellow. He is a man, but he was a young fellow in the Greenville Unit, Benevolence Association.

Mr. MANUEL. What was his name?

Mr. WILLIAMS. All I know is Langston.

Mr. MANUEL. L-a-n-g-s-t-o-n?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Proceed.

Mr. WILLIAMS. The way I found out about this, the sheriff come to me, come to my house one night, or sent two deputies to my house to question me of a shooting between the two units along the highway, a shooting that occurred when from one car a fellow shot another one, and they indicted each other. So I——

Mr. MANUEL. You mean they made a complaint against each other?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. I told the sheriff I didn't know what you are talking about, and he said the shooting took place Monday night between the Klan in Pactolus Unit and the Klan in the Greenville Unit, and I said I still didn't know "what you are talking about, Sheriff."

Mr. MANUEL. Did the sheriff come to you as a suspect in this case?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. He said, "How about the beating, from which unit did it occur?" I said, "I don't know of no beating." Then he told me about the beating, that seven men went to this young fellow's house and whupped him. After they whupped him, the Greenville Klavern started putting guards at his house at night. While one of the guards was going off duty he started home and the car from Pactolus Unit followed him and, about 4 miles from Greenville, shot in the back of his car. And he told that they passed him and went by, and as he followed them they turned up a dirt road, which he said he knew that he had to come back out of to get out on the highway. So he parked right where they would come out and he said as they come out he threwed his lights and emptied his gun on the side of the car.

Mr. MANUEL. So one Klansman in the Pactolus Unit is shooting at another Klansman from the Greenville Unit. Is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. And this resulted, as I understand it, in the members from the Pactolus Unit beating a man named Langston from the Greenville Unit?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. For what reason was Mr. Langston beaten by Klansmen?

Mr. WILLIAMS. There was a boy in the Klan, the security guard captain, was throwed out of the Klan unit in Greenville.

Mr. MANUEL. What was his name?

Mr. WILLIAMS. David Bunting.

Mr. MANUEL. B-u-n-t-i-n-g?

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is right. They threw him out of the Klan unit in Greenville while I was in there.

Mr. MANUEL. For what reason was he expelled?

Mr. WILLIAMS. They claimed he was passing information to the law.

Mr. MANUEL. Proceed.

Mr. WILLIAMS. So after we set up the unit in Pactolus, we took David Bunting into the Pactolus Unit. So when we took him in, the Greenville Unit was discussing taking David back in the Klan. And the boy leading [the discussion] said he didn't see why because there wasn't nothing to him, "He won't even provide for his family."

Mr. MANUEL. Langston was talking about Bunting. Is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Proceed.

Mr. WILLIAMS. So somebody in that unit told David about it. So he goes to the Pactolus Unit and tells Harry Ferguson, that resulted from the beating.

Mr. MANUEL. Harry Ferguson at that time held what position in the Pactolus Unit?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He was the EC of the Pactolus Unit.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, Mr. Williams, did you subsequently find out who was involved in the beating of Mr. Langston from the Greenville Unit?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Only a few of them. I knew there was some of them, but Mr. Ferguson was the one that said didn't nobody beat him excepting him.

Mr. MANUEL. Meaning Mr. Ferguson beat him?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. He admitted this to you?

Mr. WILLIAMS. At my house.

Mr. MANUEL. At your house?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Who else was present, Mr. Williams, when Mr. Ferguson made this admission?

Mr. WILLIAMS. There was two, the men were arrested for the shooting.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you know the identity of those two men?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir, but—

Mr. MANUEL. O.K.

Mr. WILLIAMS. David Bunting was there. They were at my house when it was brought out that I asked Mr. Ferguson, I said, "Harry, Mr. Ferguson, I want to know did you send seven men over after that boy?" He said, "Seven of us went, but nobody beat him but me." He said, "I told Bob Jones that nobody hit him but me."

Mr. MANUEL. So he even admitted this to Mr. Jones, who is the Grand Dragon?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. To your knowledge, Mr. Williams, what action did Mr. Jones, the Grand Dragon, take with regard to the complaints that were made by the Klansmen involved in the shooting?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He told them to withdraw the warrants and handle it among the Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. For what reason?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He didn't want the publicity.

Mr. MANUEL. He didn't want the publicity?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, what was your own reaction to the admission by Mr. Ferguson that this action had been taken against a fellow Klansman?

Mr. WILLIAMS. After he told me he did, I told him, I said, "As of now, I am through with this mess. I don't want nothing to do with you-all, and you-all let me alone. I won't bother you, and don't you bother me." I said, "I am disgusted with you."

Mr. MANUEL. At that time you left the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. About when was that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. November 15. The shooting was on November 15.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, do you have any further knowledge of the activities of Harry Ferguson and the Pactolus Unit of the United Klans of America after you left the Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. They turned their resignation in to the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and have changed over to James "Catfish" Cole's Carolina Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. Could you identify for the committee Mr. James "Catfish" Cole?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Cole was the man that was in charge of the Klan that was in Lumberton at a rally the Indians went in to break up and they got to shooting each other.

Mr. MANUEL. Did he, as a matter of fact, serve a term in jail for that incident?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Does he now, to your knowledge, have a Klan organization in North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. He has the Carolina Klan. He is the Imperial Wizard of the Carolina Klan, and Jesse MacBunning of Greenville is the Grand Dragon of the Carolina Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. As I understand, your testimony is that Mr. Harry Ferguson has left the United Klans of American with the Pactolus Unit and joined Mr. Catfish Cole's Carolina Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you happen to know for what reason Ferguson and his group left to join Mr. Cole?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I don't know for sure, but I know that during the trouble they were having, so much trouble, and kept calling Mr. Jones, he got to the place he wouldn't pay them no mind about this trouble they were having among each other.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, have you ever received any threats from persons known to you to be members of the Ku Klux Klan after you left the organization?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you please explain to the committee what threats and under what circumstances?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I have had three phone calls Sunday. Two of them I did not recognize who they were.

Mr. MANUEL. When you say Sunday, you mean last Sunday?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. But the third man that called me I knew just as soon as he spoke who he was.

Mr. MANUEL. Who was that man?

Mr. WILLIAMS. David Bunting.

Mr. MANUEL. Whom you knew to be a member of the United Klans of America, now a member of Mr. Catfish Cole's Carolina Ku Klux Klan organization?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. You told the committee previously that you terminated your membership in the Ku Klux Klan in November of 1965, and these threats came last Sunday—January 1966?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Would you explain to the committee why you were threatened at that particular time, since you had left the Klan in November of 1965?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I don't know for sure why, but I was at a cafe on Friday night, tonight a week ago, and it was brought out that Harry Ferguson was at a Good Neighbor Council, East Carolina College, and the chief of police recognized him, and after the chief made his speech he said, "I see we have one of our Klan leaders here." He said, "Maybe he would like to say a few words."

And he said, Ferguson said, "He had never been a leader of anything but a mule."

Mr. MANUEL. At that time, Mr. Williams, was the chief of police of Greenville speaking against the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir. He said he recognized one of the Klan leaders, that maybe he would like to say a few words.

Mr. MANUEL. In discussing Klan activities?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What happened after that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The man got mad and told the chief that he had never led anything but a mule.

Mr. MANUEL. And he never led the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. I was setting in there when this man told us this, and I said—no. Some of them mentioned and said Ferguson said that he would make the chief prove that he was a leader of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan or he would sue the city. So I made a remark. I said, "Well, they had better call me because I served under him when I was in the Klan." So the following Sunday I received these phone calls.

Mr. MANUEL. It was after this you received the threatening phone call?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. I think the record should be straightened a little bit. You said the chief was making a speech. Where?

Mr. WILLIAMS. At a Good Neighbor Council meeting. I don't know the name. This fellow here (indicating press) could tell you more about it.

The CHAIRMAN. As far as you know, was that or was that not a Klan meeting?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir; it was a Good Neighbor Council meeting.

The CHAIRMAN. And was the chief talking, or had he said anything in favor of the Klan during his talk; do you know?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir. The chief is 100 percent against the Klan.

The CHAIRMAN. I want the record to be clear either way. I am glad it is clear that way.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, Mr. Williams, going to the Pactolus Unit of the United Klans of America——

The CHAIRMAN. Let me go back to that incident. It is now related to me that probably during the talk by the chief of police he was, in fact, talking against the Klan, and then he said something like, "By the way, I see one of their leaders here who can talk." Was that about your understanding?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The way this fellow said it, he said the chief said, "I see in our audience we have one of our Klan leaders" and said maybe he would like to say a few words.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. MANUEL. Now, Mr. Williams, going back to the Pactolus Unit of the United Klans of America, which you have previously testified that you joined in approximately October of 1965, you identified Mr. Harry Ferguson as the exalted cyclops of that unit. Is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. To your knowledge, is he currently acting as exalted cyclops of the Pactolus Klavern?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. From your direct knowledge, sir, would you identify for the committee the other officers of the Pactolus Klavern as they were when you were a member of that organization?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. Harry Ferguson was EC. Bobby Wadford was the assistant.

Mr. MANUEL. Was the Klaliff?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, the assistant.

The klokard was David Bunting.

Mr. MANUEL. And David Bunting, as I understand it, was one of the persons known to you to have made the threat over the telephone. Is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. On your life?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What did Mr. Bunting tell you over the telephone that let you know that he was intimidating you?

Mr. WILLIAMS. As soon as he spoke I told him, I said, "David, you can talk like you ought to. I know who you were when you spoke your first word." He said, "We will be looking for you." He said the big man has put the word out "to get you and we will be after you."

Mr. MANUEL. Who did you take it he meant by "big man"?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Harry Ferguson.

Mr. MANUEL. Did he say anything else?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What was your reaction or your comments to Mr. Bunting?

Mr. WILLIAMS. At that time, I told him, I said, "You are not going to have to look for me." I said, "I will be in front of your brother's place in 5 minutes." I got in my car, I rode by. They were in the station. I rode by east. I went about a half a mile down the road. I turned around, came back by, I went about a hundred yards more down to the next station. I turned and come back by. They never did come out.

The CHAIRMAN. And they won't.

Mr. MANUEL. Have you received any other threats subsequent to that phone call and the subsequent incidents which you have related?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Two before.

Mr. MANUEL. And would you explain to the committee the nature of those threats?

Mr. WILLIAMS. A voice on there said—the first one, I answered the phone, and the man when I answered the phone said, "George?" I said, "Yes." He said, "The man has put the word out to get you and we will be looking for you."

Mr. MANUEL. Did you recognize in any way the person who was calling?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What was the nature of the second call to which you referred?

Mr. WILLIAMS. My daughter answered the phone, and she said, "Daddy, some man wants to talk to you." And I went to the phone, and he said, "George, the man has put the word out. We are coming after you."

Mr. MANUEL. At the time you left the United Klans of America, and that was, as you testified, approximately November 15, 1965?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. Were any threats made at that time against you?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir, not directly threats. They was telling me, a few of them, what they could do, that I knew what they could do. I said, "Well, I am not afraid."

Mr. MANUEL. Did they tell you specifically what they could do? And if not, what did you take that to mean?

Mr. WILLIAMS. They didn't come out and say what they could do, they just said I knew what they could do.

Mr. MANUEL. Who were the individuals that said that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Different ones that belong to the Klavern.

Mr. MANUEL. Did Mr. Ferguson ever directly say anything to you after you left?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. After the shooting, after I was questioned, that following weekend the two that was arrested was supposed to appear at the justice of the peace's office, Mr. Luther Moore. I went up there with them. After they laid the hearing over and came on outside, I said, "What are they going to do about this mess?" And Harry said, "I don't know, they laid it over."

He said about this, "What have they done to you?" I said, "They ain't done anything. They want me to take a lie test." He said, "Bob Jones said you had better take no lie test."

Mr. MANUEL. Bob Jones, the Grand Dragon, had sent that word to Mr. Ferguson?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I don't know. This is what Ferguson said to me on the street in the presence of the two men that had been arrested.

Mr. MANUEL. Did Mr. Ferguson give you a reason for this?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you subsequently take a lie detector test?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir, but I told him, "If the sheriff takes me," I said, "I am going. If he thinks I am foolish enough to get out on the road and ride up and down the road shooting," I said, "I want to get straight of this mess and get out while the getting is good."

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, from your direct knowledge as an ex-member of the Ku Klux Klan, the United Klans of America specifically, could you tell the committee approximately how many active members currently are, to the last of your knowledge, in the area of Greenville, North Carolina?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I would say about 40 active members.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you have any knowledge as to how many the Klan itself carries on its books?

Mr. WILLIAMS. There was about 340.

Mr. MANUEL. 340?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. MANUEL. And to your knowledge, about 40 members are active?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. Most of the Klan, the people that get into the Klan go and join, and after they get in and find out what they are in, they don't never come back no more.

The CHAIRMAN. They go in and come out?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. After they go in, they have to give the $10 to get in and they don't never see them no more. They don't never come back.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, from your knowledge as a member of the Klan, would you please tell the committee what records are kept by Klaverns?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, they have a list of the names that is kept so that they can find out who is behind on their dues and such things as that. We have a list with the names that is kept.

Mr. MANUEL. Do they keep, to your knowledge, any financial records?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I have never heard any financial reports read, only what we had left in the bank, as to the Greenville Unit, but in the Pactolus Unit they read the records every night and brought in receipts and what was bought.

Mr. MANUEL. I would like to show you a photostatic copy of a check drawn on the account of the Benevolent Association of Greenville, North Carolina, dated October 22, 1965. The check is made out to cash and it is in the amount $998.31. The notation on the check says it is for "attorney fees."

I would like to show you this check and have you tell us who signed it and what your knowledge of this particular check is.

Mr. WILLIAMS. It is signed by W. Hardin and L. H. Tyson and is for cash in the amount $998 and some few cents for attorneys' fees. I have never heard of them.

MR. WILLIAMS. I don't know him.

MR. MANUEL. You never heard of Mr. Hardin?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

MR. MANUEL. To your direct knowledge did the Klan have attorneys in the first place to whom they could pay attorneys' fees?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

MR. MANUEL. Do you know what happened to that money?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

MR. MANUEL. The check was made to cash and was cashed. You don't know what happened to the money?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

MR. MANUEL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to state to the committee that investigation has shown that on this same date, October 22, 1965, that account was closed at that particular bank.

THE CHAIRMAN. Were there any criminal cases or other matters pending in the courts when they drew that check for lawyers' fees that you know of?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir. It was never discussed.

MR. MANUEL. Do you know that on that particular date as a matter of fact the account was closed at the bank?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

MR. MANUEL. Was that report made to the membership?

MR. WILLIAMS. We were told we were broke.

MR. MANUEL. And as a member, you did not know of the $998 and some odd cents that was in the account at that time; is that correct?

MR. WILLIAMS. No, sir; I didn't know about it.

MR. MANUEL. Mr. Williams, as a member of the two units of the Ku Klux Klan, did you have any knowledge of money going directly from the Klavern to the office of the Grand Dragon, Mr. James Robertson Jones?

MR. WILLIAMS. Only what Louis Tyson told me one time that he got most of the dues that were paid into the Klavern.

MR. MANUEL. That is, Mr. Jones got most of the dues?

MR. WILLIAMS. Yes.

MR. MANUEL. Was that money paid directly to Mr. Jones, to your knowledge?

MR. WILLIAMS. I don't know. He said it went to the State office.

Mr. MANUEL. Again, Mr. Williams, I would like to show you a series of checks which the committee has obtained by subpoena from The Bank of Winterville, Winterville, North Carolina, of the Benevolent Association of Greenville, North Carolina. This series of checks is all made payable to James R. Jones, the first dated April 7, 1965, and the last dated the 10th of September 1965 and they collectively total $264.25.

I would like to show you this series of checks and ask you to identify the persons who signed those checks.

Mr. MANUEL. Were those persons known to you at that period of time to be officers in the Greenville Unit of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Only one.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you know the other?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Only as a member.

Mr. MANUEL. Only as a member?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. And to your knowledge he did not have, as an ordinary member, power to sign checks?

Mr. WILLIAMS. To my knowledge he didn't.

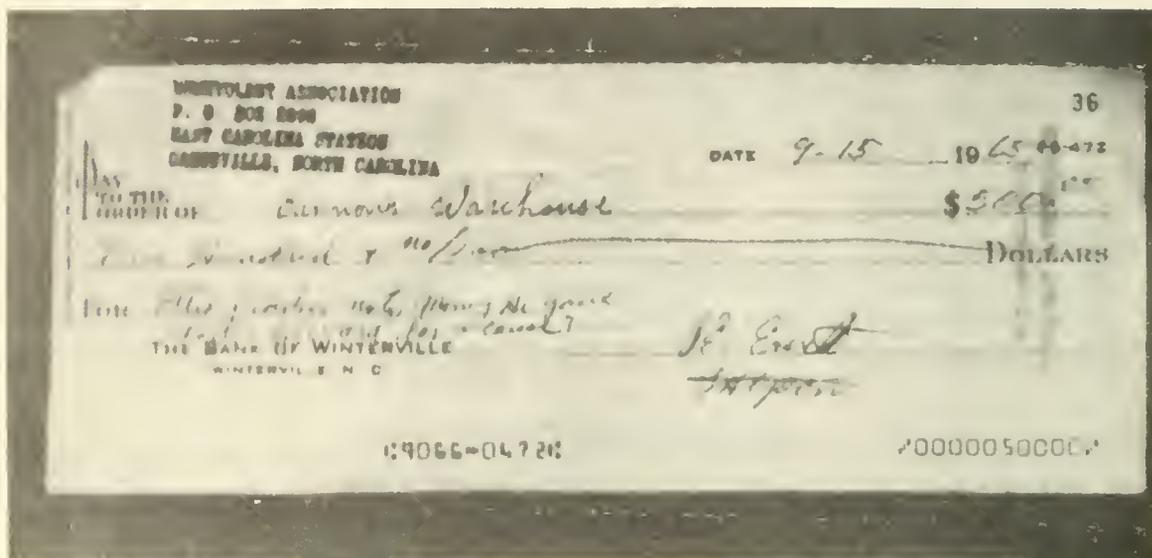

Mr. MANUEL. Thank you, sir.

Mr. Williams, I would like to show you one other check which was made on behalf of the Benevolent Association of Greenville, North Carolina, signed by R. E. Everett and L. H. Tyson in the amount of $500, payable to Cannon's Warehouse. The notation on the check says: "Ellis Peaden note Money He gave Charles Edward for a cause" and then there is a question mark. I would like to show you that check and ask you to explain the significance of the notation and whatever other knowledge you possess of that check.

Mr. WILLIAMS. This check was paid to somebody in Greenville that had loaned Charlie Edwards $500 that Charlie had gone to and said some of the boys in the Klan were in jail and he needed the cash money to get them out because he didn't want nobody signing no bonds. But as far as Ellis Peaden, Ellis Peaden signed a note also for Charlie for $500 with which he bought a car from Bright Leaf Motors for $1,000.

(Check marked "George Williams Exhibit No. 7" follows:)

GEORGE WILLIAMS EXHIBIT No. 7

Mr. MANUEL. The Charles Edwards referred to was at that time a State officer of the Realm of North Carolina of the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. I don't know who loaned him the money. I heard it discussed whether the Klan should pay it back or let the man get it out of Charlie Edwards. The Klan paid it back to keep the publicity out of the Klan.

Mr. MANUEL. As I understand, Mr. Edwards got $500 out of Cannon's Warehouse which the Klan got back and $500 from Mr. Peaden, and the sum he received, which totaled $1,000, was used to purchase an automobile?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. What action did the Klan take concerning Mr. Edwards following this discovery?

Mr. WILLIAMS. They called Bob Jones and he had Mr. Edwards removed from the Klavern.

Mr. MANUEL. In other words, Mr. Edwards was removed by Mr. Jones for misappropriation of funds?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. And although to your knowledge Mr. Edwards was a leader of the Klan in Plymouth, North Carolina, he was not removed from the Klan for that reason?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. Thank you, sir.

Mr. Willis, the staff has no further questions of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. I have just one or two questions.

Mr. Williams, you said you joined the Klan because you had attended a meeting and had heard the speeches made and discussions to the effect that they stood for segregation of the races, or not a mixing of white and colored people; is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. And you believed in that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Later on you went to Plymouth and I think you said an incident occurred that you have described whereby, in whatever way it happened, you were shot by a colored man?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. But, despite that, you quit the Klan?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Is that because you don't believe that klanism is the right way to go about this problem?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I believe now that Klan life is the lowest life that you can get. I would like to see any man that thought of joining the Klan, I wish he could see me before he got in. I would like to tell him what he is getting into.

The CHAIRMAN. It is just no good?

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is right.

Mr. MANUEL. Going back to the incident in Plymouth, Mr. Williams, who paid your hospitalization and doctor bills as a result of your being wounded?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The Klan paid.

Mr. MANUEL. And how did the Klan pay for this, to your knowledge?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Louis Tyson paid it by his personal check.

Mr. MANUEL. He was treasurer of your local unit at that time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANUEL. One other question: At the time you were a member of the Klan, was there at any time discussed in the Klan the fact that Klansmen should purchase weapons, guns?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir. They told us we all should have a gun.

Mr. MANUEL. And for what reason were you urged to buy a gun?

Mr. WILLIAMS. For defense.

Mr. MANUEL. And how many times, approximately, did this subject come up while you were a member?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I couldn't say the exact number of times, but it was several times.

The CHAIRMAN. When you say for "defense," I would like to have you talk a little bit more about that because another witness who, like you, testified under oath and voluntarily, said that speeches were made and Klansmen were told that they had to be prepared because communism would take over and they would be the last to fight for the country, and all that claptrap. In what context, in what way, did they say you had to have guns for defense?

Mr. WILLIAMS. There were several discussions of colored people, known as the Deacons, they claimed was forming in eastern North Carolina and that they were arming to protect the colored people.

The CHAIRMAN. To protect themselves against the colored people?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, to protect the colored people against the whites. It was discussed they were arming themselves as protectors of the colored people, who were colored people.

The CHAIRMAN. I am not sure I follow you.

Mr. WILLIAMS. There was a band of colored people known as the Deacons.

The CHAIRMAN. The Deacons. I have heard about them.

Mr. WILLIAMS. And they claimed they found out there was a unit of them formed in Elizabeth City and we should be prepared for them if they should come.

The CHAIRMAN. If the Deacons should attack the white people?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN. I see.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you have any knowledge as to where the Klan and Klan members obtained their weapons?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir; only in different places they could go where you could buy a gun without a permit. On one occasion they took up collections on the floor and sent the money to some man in Norfolk, Virginia, to get Army rifles.

Mr. MANUEL. How much money was collected at that time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I am not sure, but I heard about $300.

Mr. MANUEL. Do you know or had you heard they did actually order guns from Norfolk, Virginia?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I heard they did, but I never seen any.

Mr. MANUEL. Did you yourself purchase one?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I believe you also said that one of the reasons why you joined the Klan was because of something having to do with electing officials who were against integration. Is that correct?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes. In every rally that he goes to he is always urging them to start to voting people in office that will be white men, he said, because we need them in office now. He said to start with your little constable on up.

The CHAIRMAN. By that you mean people who believe somewhat like the Klan does?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Maybe I am putting words in your mouth. What did they say about the election of public officials?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He said: "If you don't believe in mixing races, we want to vote out all of these colored lovers that we have in office."

The CHAIRMAN. You mean white colored lovers?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, he didn't come out that way.

The CHAIRMAN. What did he say?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He said he wanted to start down with the little constable and put white men in office.

The CHAIRMAN. Good red-blooded American citizens, according to his thinking?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. I don't know how much they love me, but I will tell you one thing—and I said this on the floor—there was a plan to send a Klansman in my district to defeat me, and the very first witness on the stand was Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton, and I read to him a report I had on that score and I told him I welcomed him and challenged him and dared him. Then I had some phone calls, too, though not as bad as yours. But the veil is off and the secret is out, and they just will make a lot of noise. They will not do a thing to me and they will not do a thing to you.

There is a Federal law, and I will read it to you. That Federal law reads—and I will omit words that are unnecessary :

Whoever * * * intimidate[s] * * * any witness * * * in connection with any inquiry or investigation being had by either House, or any committee of either House, or any joint committee of the Congress ; or

* * * * *

Shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years or both. * * *

Now, you are appearing here under subpoena. You have that Federal law to protect you. Nothing will happen. Don't you worry. I am glad you told that guy, "You know where I am. I will meet you in 5 minutes." Nobody showed up and nobody will show up.

I have said this before, and I will say again, I congratulate you. I think you have shown fortitude and courage and common ordinary guts in coming here and saying what you did, and you are making a great contribution to your country. And I repeat what I said on the floor yesterday, others will follow suit. I am just as sure about that as I am sitting here, and I am very sure the Klans are reducing and I hope and think they soon will be folding up. A lot of the members are not attending meetings, a lot of them are quitting, and that will continue. I appreciate your appearance.

Mr. ASHBROOK. I certainly join in what the chairman said and I would say, in your activities you have had up to this time and many beliefs you have had that we might not agree with, you stand at least 10 feet taller than those members of the Klan who will be derogatory of you.

On the one cited incident of violence you testified to, I would like some amplification. Aside from the specific instructions you received—I believe you said there were eight men appointed to carry out this specific act—was there any indication at that time or later which would lead you to believe this was at the behest of any State or national leaders of the Klan, or was it strictly a local project?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Edwards told us the Vanceboro Unit wanted this done. When they want a job done, they generally bring somebody else from another unit to do it.

Mr. ASHBROOK. So it would be your impression or understanding that this was done not by your local Klan organization, but at the behest of higher-ups, so to speak?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. ASHBROOK. Then there wasn't any repercussion, I believe you stated, insofar as it was not specifically carried out?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. ASHBROOK. That is all I had, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Senner.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Williams, what did you say Harry Ferguson's occupation is?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He is a farmer.

Mr. SENNER. And Edwards?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He was a logger and at the time he was in the Klan he was chief of police of Grimesland.

Mr. SENNER. Who was the justice of the peace?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Louis Tyson.

Mr. SENNER. Is he the individual you identified as the signatory on one of the checks?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. SENNER. Is he still a justice of the peace?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes.

Mr. SENNER. Is that an elective position or an appointive position?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He is elected.

Mr. SENNER. Has his identity with the Klan been publicly exposed except the speech of the chief of police that was made the other day?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. When you talked to Grand Dragon J. R. Jones relative to the possibility of being subpoenaed here, were you subpoenaed in fact by this committee?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Not then.

Mr. SENNER. Not then?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. What did Mr. Jones state to you at the time you had the conversation with him?

Mr. WILLIAMS. He said he did not know whether I would be subpoenaed or not, but if I did to get in touch with him and he would tell me what to do.

Mr. SENNER. What was the date of that conversation? What I am trying to establish is whether Mr. J. R. Jones had been subpoenaed at the time you had this conversation with him.

Mr. WILLIAMS. He had been subpoenaed.

Mr. SENNER. He had been subpoenaed?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Do you recall the date of the conversation?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. But it was the date you were holding a rally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. And had you been subpoenaed when you received the telephone call with this threat from David Bunting?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. Which was last Sunday?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, sir.

Mr. SENNER. You had not received a subpoena at that time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

Mr. SENNER. And you testified under oath that to your knowledge Charles Edwards is still a Klansman although he is not in the United Klans of America but in the North Carolina Klans?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Charlie Edwards was kicked out of the Klan for misusing money.

Mr. SENNER. Has he joined Catfish Cole?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No.

Mr. SENNER. That is all.

Mr. MANUEL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to make a comment for the record that in going over certain facts with Mr. Williams he has identified for the committee additional Klaverns which operate in the province he operated in, and I would like to identify the Klaverns he cited for us:

In Pitt County, the Pactolus Unit, of which he was a member.

In Washington County, Plymouth Unit.

In Beaufort County, Belhaven Unit.

In Hyde County, Swanquarter Unit.

In Greene County, Walstonburg Unit.

In Chowan County, a Klavern at Edenton.

I would like also to state for the record that continuing investigation of the activities of the United Klans of America by this committee has established that two individuals whom Mr. Williams touched on, Boyd Hamby and George Dorsett, both former realm officers of the North Carolina Realm of the Ku Klux Klan of America, have been assigned to act as organizers in the State of Florida and are operating out of Titusville, Florida.

The CHAIRMAN. Is Mr. Dorsett one of the Klansmen who has been cited for contempt?

Mr. MANUEL. Yes, sir; and he is also an imperial officer of the United Klans of America.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Buchanan.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Williams, you are obviously a man of honesty and courage and I thank you for your testimony before this committee. Frankly, sir, you have made more sense to me than the entire higher echelon of the United Klans of America put together to date, at least in their statements that have come to my attention.

One of these statements is printed here in a newspaper article I have. This is called the Fiery Cross and is supposed to be the official publication of the United Klans of America. It is the first one I have ever seen and may be the first one ever produced, but in it is a story from Mr. Shelton's point of view of the testimony of various members of his organization before this committee. And on the front page is a memorandum from Imperial Wizard Shelton which includes these words concerning the United Klans:

Our dedication to God, our country, our flag, our homes, and our loyalty to the principles of Constitutional Government IS NOT FOR SALE OR OPEN TO NEGOTIATION.

Steadfast in devotion to principles the UKA has been in [sic] now, and forever will be regardless of intimidation, harrassment [sic], name-calling and threats. Ours is a righteous cause, and all the Legions of Hell cannot prevail against it.

Would this, in your opinion, be an accurate picture of the United Klans of America?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, sir.

(Document marked "George Williams Exhibit No. 8" follows:)

GEORGE WILLIAMS EXHIBIT No. 8

[The Fiery Cross, p. 1]

Memorandum

To: All Members of the United Klans of America
 Subject: THE ROAD AHEAD

HUAC (The House Committee on Un-American Activities), succumbing to the urging of a panic-stricken staff which sees its house of cards crumbling before its very eyes, has voted to recommend contempt citations against me and six other officials of the UKA.

This frantic action was taken in an effort to arm the staff with another weapon of intimidation against witnesses scheduled to appear before the Committee in the future. I confidently predict it will prove to be another dud. Klansmen — with few exceptions — are men of honor and integrity, and regard their oath as sacred.

Only a man who already has the blood of Judas running through his veins will fall for this newest intimidation gimmick and become a pitiful victim of the false promises and look-out-or-the-goblins-will-get-you threats of the HUAC.

Over the weekend I have been in communication, by telephone and otherwise, with all Dragons and the loyal, dedicated Imperial Officers of the UKA; and instructions are going out — North, South, East and West — to step up, despite adverse winter weather conditions — rallies and public speakings. This is no time to slow down activities.

This is no time to go to sleep at the switch in the struggle against the evils of Communism, Civil Righters' defiance of law and order, draft card burners and other traitors to the principles of government upon which our nation was built.

Now IS THE TIME to re dedicate ourselves — as individuals and as a group — to the objectives which led us to become Klansmen in the first place.

Gird your loins for the continuing fight against International and native-nurtured Communism, regardless of whether it is found in government, honey-combed in Civil Rights Groups, or among card-burning, traitorous draft dodging beatniks. Let's fight, as we have never fought before, for our God-given heritage.

Let no man or group of men be misled into thinking we will be detoured from our course and dedication. Our dedication to God, our country, our flag, our homes, and our loyalty to the principles of Constitutional Government IS NOT FOR SALE OR OPEN TO NEGOTIATION.

Steadfast in devotion to principles the UKA has been in now, and forever will be regardless of intimidation, harrassment, name-calling and threats. Ours is a righteous cause, and all the Legions of Hell cannot prevail against it.

Robert M. Shelton,
 Imperial Wizard.

WE SHALL NOT BE INTIMIDATED

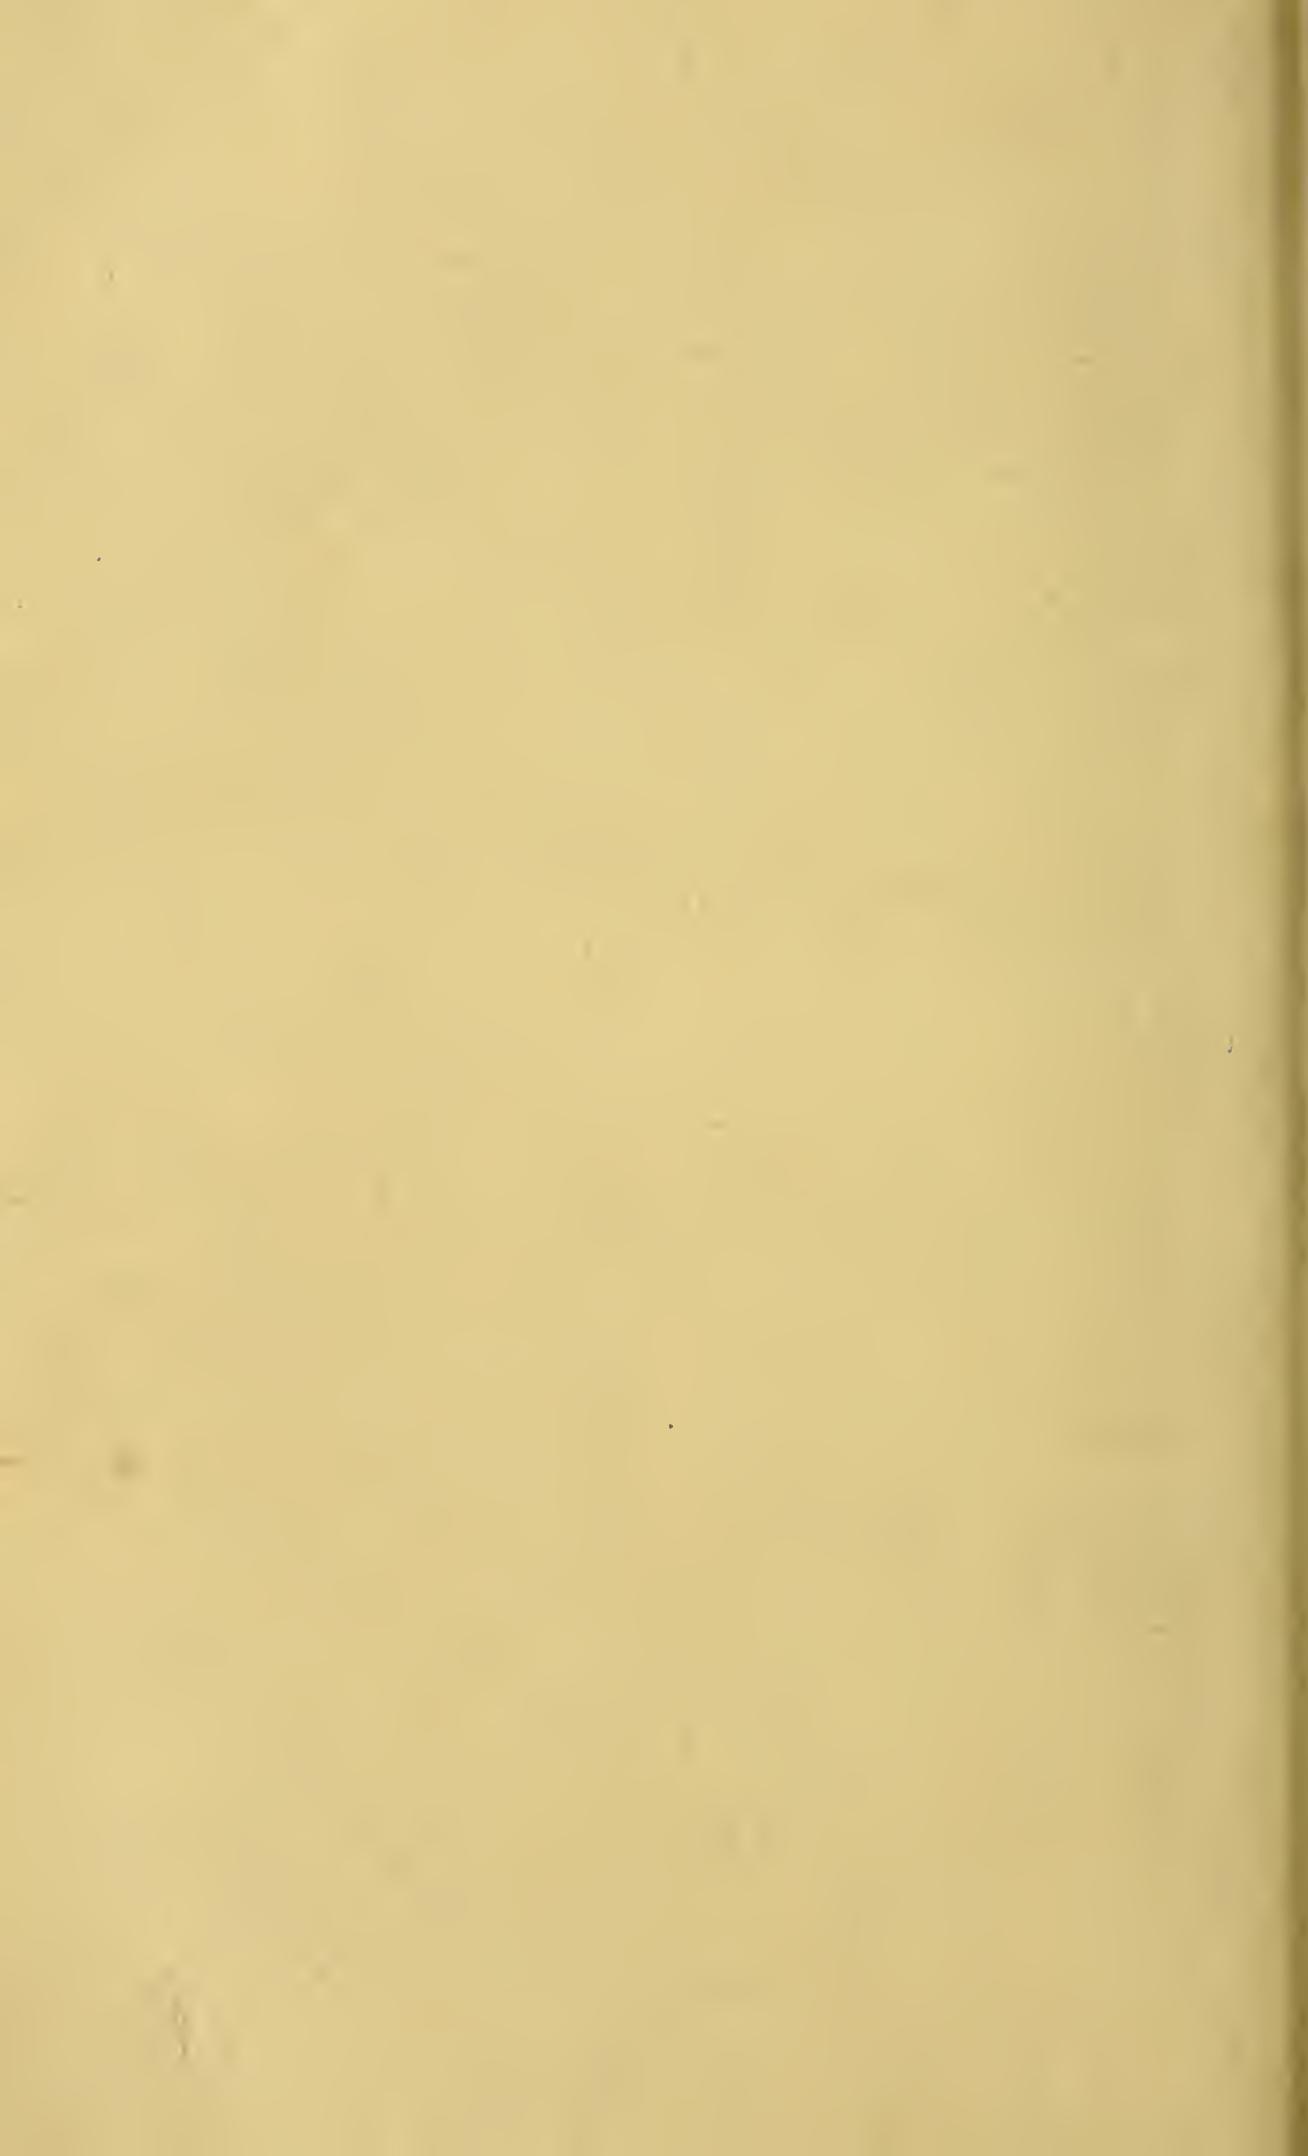

Mr. BUCHANAN. I thank you for your testimony.

The CHAIRMAN. Thank you very much, Mr. Williams. You are excused.

The subcommittee will stand in recess until 10 a.m., Tuesday, February 1, 1966.

(Whereupon, at 4 p.m., Friday, January 28, 1966, the subcommittee recessed to reconvene Tuesday, February 1, 1966.)

PUBLIC LAW 601, 79TH CONGRESS

The legislation under which the House Committee on Un-American Activities operates is Public Law 601, 79th Congress [1946]; 60 Stat. 812, which provides:

*Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, * * **

PART 2—RULES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

RULE X

SEC. 121. STANDING COMMITTEES

* * * * *
17. Committee on Un-American Activities, to consist of nine Members.

RULE XI

POWERS AND DUTIES OF COMMITTEES

* * * * *
(q) (1) Committee on Un-American Activities.
(A) Un-American activities.

(2) The Committee on Un-American Activities, as a whole or by subcommittee, is authorized to make from time to time investigations of (i) the extent, character, and objects of un-American propaganda activities in the United States, (ii) the diffusion within the United States of subversive and un-American propaganda that is instigated from foreign countries or of a domestic origin and attacks the principle of the form of government as guaranteed by our Constitution, and (iii) all other questions in relation thereto that would aid Congress in any necessary remedial legislation.

The Committee on Un-American Activities shall report to the House (or to the Clerk of the House if the House is not in session) the results of any such investigation, together with such recommendations as it deems advisable.

For the purpose of any such investigation, the Committee on Un-American Activities, or any subcommittee thereof, is authorized to sit and act at such times and places within the United States, whether or not the House is sitting, has recessed, or has adjourned, to hold such hearings, to require the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, and to take such testimony, as it deems necessary. Subpenas may be issued under the signature of the chairman of the committee or any subcommittee, or by any member designated by any such chairman, and may be served by any person designated by any such chairman or member.

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 4

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the February 1 hearings, met, pursuant to recess, at 10:30 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Edwin E. Willis (chairman) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Edwin E. Willis, of Louisiana, chairman; Joe R. Pool, of Texas; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

As chairman of the full Committee on Un-American Activities, I hereby constitute for the purposes of today's hearing a special subcommittee of three, composed of the following: myself as chairman, Mr. Buchanan, and Mr. Pool. That means that two will constitute a quorum.

Mr. Appell, call your first witness.

Mr. APPELL. Vincent Travis Purser.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. PURSER. I do.

TESTIMONY OF VINCENT TRAVIS PURSER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. PURSER. Vincent Travis Purser.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today, Mr. Purser, in accordance with a subpoena—

Mr. PURSER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. —which was delivered to your residence at 4 p.m., the 29th day of December 1965 at Route 1, Box 250, Duckworth Road, Gulfport, Miss.?

Mr. PURSER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. PURSER. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Purser, when and where were you born?

Mr. PURSER. I was born December 8, 1905, Hazlehurst, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. PURSER. I finished high school at Copiah-Lincoln Agricultural High School, western Mississippi, in 1923, and I had a business course and I took a correspondence course with LaSalle Extension University.

Mr. APPELL. What period of time have you served in the military?

Mr. PURSER. I served from, I believe it was, October 1942 through September 1945. I was discharged and went back in, was out about 4 months during World War II.

Mr. APPELL. Did you have a period of service 1925 to 1926?

Mr. PURSER. Yes, I did. I had forgotten about that. About a year.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee the benefit of your employment background from 1960?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. In 1962 did you retire as an employee of Sears, Roebuck and Company?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. From the period 1962 to date, did you receive income from an organization known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you familiar with an attorney in Gulfport, Mississippi, by the name of Knox Walker?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you and a group of Klansmen on approximately November 8, 1965, call Knox Walker in the early hours of the morning around 2:30 and advise him that his boat had been cut loose and—

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated—

Mr. APPELL. All right: answer that. I will break it down and stop there.

Mr. PURSER. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you, when Mr. Walker arrived at where his boat was docked, meet him, together with four or five other men dressed in Klan robes and advise him he was a "nigger lawyer" and he ought to leave the area?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Do you currently handle funds of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Within the recent 2 months have two Klaverns of the United Klans of America transferred their membership to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in the Gulfport-Pascagoula area?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Travis Purser. Mr. Purser was born on December 8, 1905, at Hazlehurst, Mississippi. Military service in the Army from July 17, 1925, to November 10, 1926, from October 17, 1942, to April 23, 1943, and from November 4, 1943, to September 5, 1945. He is a retired employee from Sears, Roebuck Company, from which employment he retired in 1962. Mr. Purser joined the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi at Gulfport, Mississippi, in 1964. Beginning in February 1965, he began attending State meetings of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. On May 2, 1965, he attended a State meeting in Pearl River County, Mississippi, at which meeting it was noted that members of the White Knights would henceforth pay 65 cents per man to the State treasury plus his local Klavern dues. In addition, each bursar or treasurer was authorized to retain funds for emergency expenditures. Cash on hand was reported by each district, with Tommy Brock reporting $2,100; Vincent Purser $800; Dewitt Sandifer $350; Billy Buckles advising that Julius Harper, the Grand Dragon, had $400, and the Greenwood, Mississippi, Unit of the White Knights $1,000.

On May 16, 1965, Imperial Wizard Bowers appointed Klansman Dillard as "Coordinator" for the Pearl River County area of the White Knights at the request of Vincent T. Purser. At meetings of Klaverns in the Gulfport area, Klansmen received instruction in judo, received instruction in Molotov cocktails, and the use of syringe bottles filled with ammonia.

On September 29, 1964, Purser and Ernest Gilbert, then the grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, White Knights of Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, requested the State organization of the White Knights through Grand Dragon Julius Harper to either burn or stinkbomb the Mennonite School for Wayward Girls because it was being used by the COFO organization for a headquarters. On approximately November 8, 1965, Knox Walker, a Gulfport attorney who had represented NAACP and certain Gulfport Negroes, received an anonymous telephone call and was advised that his boat had been cut loose. When he arrived at the place where the boat was tied he found four or five men in Klan robes, with Vincent T. Purser acting as the leader. Purser told Walker he was a "nigger lawyer" and he had better leave the area.

Two United Klans of American Klaverns have recently transferred to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in the Gulfport-Pascagoula area.

Mr. Chairman, this information indicates that Mr. Purser possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Purser, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or explain any part of it. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any matters the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. PURSER. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Then, sir, I must inform you that, in the absence of a rebuttal from you or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. Bearing this in mind, do you have anything to say?

Mr. PURSER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. You don't?

Mr. PURSER. No, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. Is that all, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. The staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to call Mr. Deavours Nix.

The CHAIRMAN. Raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. NIX. I do.

TESTIMONY OF DEAVOURS NIX, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record.

Mr. NIX. Deavours Nix.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here in accordance with subpoena served upon you at 116 Teresa Street, Laurel, Mississippi, on the 29th day of November 1965 by John D. Sullivan, investigator of this committee?

Mr. NIX. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. NIX. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Nix?

Mr. NIX. I was born in Jones County, Mississippi, November 30, 1925.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. NIX. I finished the eighth grade, Calhoun High School, Jones County, Mississippi, then entered the service October 3, 1941. Upon being discharged February 5, 1947, I attended GI school, the same Calhoun High School, and lacked three units of finishing high school.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Nix, while a member of the service, what branch of the service were you in?

Mr. NIX. The United States Navy.

Mr. APPELL. During your period of service in the United States Navy, were you subject to several courts-martial?

Mr. NIX. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to answer that question. He admitted he was in the service and gave the periods of enlistment.

The CHAIRMAN. I am not going to direct him to answer that question. I don't think it would add materially to the record.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Nix, will you give the committee a résumé of your employment background from 1960?

Mr. BUCKLEY. From 1960 forward or back?

Mr. APPELL. Forward.

Mr. NIX. Beginning the year 1960, I was working for a drilling contractor by the name of Gulf Coast Drilling and Exploration, Laurel, Mississippi. The year 1962 I went in business for myself in a place by the name of Nub's Steak House, Laurel, Mississippi. I was a failure in that business so far as making a living is concerned. From there I went to Los Angeles, California, was employed by Southern California Heat Treat as salesman and general manager for a period of 17 months, returned to Laurel, Mississippi, and now I am self-employed, John's Restaurant.

The CHAIRMAN. What town?

Mr. NIX. Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to the employment that you have enumerated, have you had any other sources of income?

Mr. NIX. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. What are the other sources of income you have had, sir?

Mr. NIX. If you call it income, I received some money from insurance companies at different times.

The CHAIRMAN. For injury?

Mr. NIX. Accident.

Mr. APPELL. Recovery of claims?

Mr. NIX. Right.

Mr. APPELL. Do you have any other source of income?

Mr. NIX. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Do you receive any compensation from an organization known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. NIX. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Sam H. Bowers?

Mr. NIX. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. On June 27, 1965, were you elected to the position of grand director, Klan Bureau of Investigation, White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. NIX. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Nix, a review of an arrest record involving yourself reflects that on September 2, 1962, May 19, 1964, July 13, 1965, and August 14, 1965, you were arrested on charges of assault. The last two arrests were after you were elected to the position of grand director, Klan Bureau of Investigation, White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. Were the acts for which you were arrested acts carried out in your position as grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation?

Mr. NIX. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put to you as a fact, and ask you to confirm or deny the fact, that at a meeting on June 27, 1965, near Greenwood, Mississippi you were elected grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. NIX. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that at that same meeting instructions were issued to the 34 Klaverns represented at that meeting that each Klavern should burn two crosses on July 1, 1965?

Mr. NIX. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that at a meeting held on July 18, 1965, south of Jackson, Mississippi, Imperial Wizard Bowers claimed that the White Knights were responsible for over 16 burnings of buildings in Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. NIX. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. As the grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, what role did you play in any of these burnings?

Mr. NIX. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Nix, have you filed charges against agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, claiming they used profanity in questioning you?

The CHAIRMAN. What was that question?

Mr. APPELL. If he has filed charges against agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, charging that they used profanity in questioning Mr. Nix.

Mr. NIX. Sir, for reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Is it your claim that the agents of the FBI have called you a yellow-bellied Klansman?

Mr. NIX. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Nix.

Mr. Nix is the grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, White Knights of Ku Klux Klan, Mississippi: is responsible for the gathering of intelligence information upon which Klan projects are carried out on the State level, or which must have the approval of the Imperial Wizard before they may be executed. Deavours Nix, the owner of John's Restaurant in Laurel, Mississippi, conducts business of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in his restaurant. He was elected grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation at a State meeting held near Greenwood, Mississippi, on June 27, 1965, at which representatives of 34 White Knights Klaverns were present. During this meeting, instructions were given to the representatives of these Klaverns that each Klavern should burn two crosses on July 1, 1965. Five hundred dollars was voted for the Klansman in Bogalusa, Louisiana, who was arrested for killing one and wounding a second Negro deputy sheriff. One July 11, 1965, Nix attended a meeting at King Edward's Hotel in Jackson, Mississippi. At this meeting Imperial Wizard Bowers instructed that a job or project be carried out in each province in order to spread agents of the FBI real thin over the State.

The CHAIRMAN. In order to do what?

Mr. APPELL. To spread the agents of the FBI real thin over the State.

Bowers reported that Billy Birdsong had been beaten because he had given Bowers more trouble than any other Klansman.

On July 18, 1965, at a meeting south of Jackson, Mississippi—

The CHAIRMAN. Who reported that Birdsong had been beaten?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, the Imperial Wizard.

On July 18, 1965, at the meeting south of Jackson, Mississippi, Deavours Nix shook everyone down for "bugs" or electronic devices. Bowers referred to Laurel, Mississippi, as the "smokestack city," claiming that the White Knights were responsible for over 16 burnings of Laurel buildings.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Nix possesses additional information which is both pertinent and material to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Nix, you have heard the sworn statement of Mr. Appell, the committee's chief investigator. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to challenge or confirm the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of the statement. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to avail yourself of this opportunity?

Mr. NIX. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I tell you, then, Mr. Nix, that absent your rebuttal or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. In view of this, do you care to say anything?

Mr. NIX. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. The staff has no further questions of this witness, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Sam Holloway Bowers, Jr.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. BOWERS. I do, sir.

TESTIMONY OF SAM HOLLOWAY BOWERS, JR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, CHARLES G. BLACKWELL AND TRAVIS BUCKLEY

Mr. APPELL. Be seated, Mr. Bowers. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. BOWERS. Sam H. Bowers, Jr.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you at 12:20 o'clock a.m., the 26th day of October 1965 by John D. Sullivan, an investigator for this committee?

Mr. BOWERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. BOWERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record?

Mr. BLACKWELL. Charles G. Blackwell, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 6th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The CHAIRMAN. I order and direct you to answer that question. I can't imagine any reason to decline answering that question. It is preliminary and it is usual, and I order and direct you to answer it.

Mr. BOWERS. Yes, sir, Mr. Chairman. In answer to that question, I will say that I was born on the 6th day of August 1924 in the city of New Orleans, Louisiana.

The CHAIRMAN. New Orleans?

Mr. BOWERS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st and 6th amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Robert H. Larson?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Are you co-owner with Mr. Robert H. Larson of the Sambo Amusement Company and the Magnolia Consolidated Realty Company?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. We have had evidence to that effect. So put it to him as a fact.

Mr. APPELL. I say to you, Mr. Bowers, that Mr. Larson appeared before the committee on January 10, 1966, and testified under oath that you and he were co-owners of the companies that I mentioned to you. Is his testimony before the committee truthful?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer the question.

The CHAIRMAN. What is the name of the company?

Mr. APPELL. The Sambo Amusement Company.

The CHAIRMAN. They operate, among other things, what?

Mr. APPELL. Pinball machines and vending machines of various types.

The CHAIRMAN. What is your information as to the system of operation of these machines, as to whether either above or under the counter they do or are capable of paying off, or can the players demand from the house cash money or coin?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the pinball machines operate whereby a player, if he obtains a certain score, is given what is recorded on the machine as a free play. However, as these free plays accumulate, the proprietor in whose store the machine is located will pay the player in cash for the number of games recorded at the rate of 5 cents per game. This money is then deducted from the take of the machine, and the proprietor and Mr. Larson and Mr. Bowers split that which is left over.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you know whether under Federal law some kind of stamp tax payment is due, either payable out of general operations per machine or in any other fashion?

Mr. APPELL. Under Federal law, Mr. Chairman—and I am not too familiar with the exact requirements of that law—machines which are pinball or slot machines which are used for gambling purposes, the owners of the machine are required to purchase Federal gambling tax stamps. I think the rate is $50 per machine.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you pay any such stamp, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Have your operations ever been checked by Federal agents?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. My recollection is that one of the requisites of joining the Klan within your realm is you must be sober, nongamblers, and all the rest of it. Is that right?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, in the operation of the Sambo Amusement Company, do you have vending machines and pinball machines in establishments owned or operated by Negroes?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. In connection with the operation of the Magnolia Consolidated Realty Company, do you own restaurants which are leased to Negroes?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Have any attacks ever been made on the establishments you own by members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi by either bombings or burnings?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Were you aware of the fact your grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation had told a certain lawyer that because he represented colored people that he should get out of town, or words to that effect?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. From the questions that Mr. Appell has asked, it would seem that you yourself were not so selective of your customers. I make that as an observation. I suppose the information sought to be solicited by Mr. Appell is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, the subpoena served upon you contains as an attachment which was made a part of the subpoena a listing of documents which, under the terms of the subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and to produce before the committee.

One calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, and affiliated organizations, namely, The White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund and the Mississippi Constitutional Council, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as the present or former Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

I request you to produce in your representative capacity stated therein the documents called for in part 1 of your subpoena.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you ever had access to any Klan records?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you do away with any of the Klan records, such as destroying them, hiding them, passing them on to third parties, or any other circumstances of doing away with the records, getting them out of your possession?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Your own constitution and bylaws require some records to be kept. Do you mean to say you never saw any records, had possession of any records?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Where are those records?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, prior to January 1, 1965, did you have in your possession, custody, or control documents of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On February 1, 1965, did you have in your possession, custody, or control, in your representative capacity as Imperial Wizard, documents of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you the same question with respect to March 1.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. And what are those reasons previously stated that you have repeated 10 or more times here?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, that reason previously stated, and I quote, is: "Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 6th amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America."

The CHAIRMAN. This subpoena has been served upon you in your capacity of top leadership and not necessarily or in fact as an individual, Sam H. Bowers. I want to tell you that we don't recognize your invocation of refusal to produce those documents. It is incredible, inconceivable, outlandish that you can say you do not now have, and never have, don't know of any records involving klanism within your realm. I suppose the documents will be offered, the records which you obviously handled yourself, or directives that you personally issued. Is that correct, Mr. Appell, the documents you refer to?

Mr. APPELL. The investigation will produce, Mr. Chairman, documents that were either prepared by, or distributed under, the direction of Mr. Bowers as the Imperial Wizard.

I ask you now, Mr. Bowers, whether you had any of the documents in your possession in your representative capacity as Imperial Wizard on April 1, 1965?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I now ask you with respect to May 1, 1965.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you have any such records at any time since you became Imperial Wizard?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, I now ask you whether you had any of the documents in your representative capacity as Imperial Wizard on June 1, 1965?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you the same question now with respect to July 1.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I now ask you the same question with respect to August 1.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you the same question with respect to September 1, 1965.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you the same question with respect to October 1, 1965.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you the same question with respect to November 1, 1965.

Mr. BOWERS. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. You had no documents in your possession on November 1, 1965?

Mr. BOWERS. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will you tell the committee as to what disposition was made of documents in your possession between October 1, 1965, and November 1, 1965?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. You were served with a subpoena on October 26, 1965. Did you have any documents in your possession on that date?

Mr. BOWERS. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Between October 1, 1965, and October 26, 1965, did you learn that the subpoena for this committee was outstanding for your appearance?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, part 2 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, memoranda appurtenances and equipment in your possession, custody or control, maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

I request you to produce in your representative capacity stated therein the documents called for in part 2 of your subpoena.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, I could not produce such records as were ordered by the subpoena issued to me, due to the fact that such records are not in my possession, custody, or control and I did not and do not have access to such records.

Mr. APPELL. Were the documents in your possession on October 1, 1965?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privileges guaranteed to me by the 5th, 1st, and 6th amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Were the documents in your possession on October 26, the day that you were served with your subpoena?

Mr. BOWERS. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you possess knowledge between October 1, 1965, and October 26, 1965, that a subpoena was outstanding for you, calling for your appearance before this committee?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. During this period of October 1 to October 26, did you destroy or transfer to the custody of a second party documents called for in the subpoena?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, I hand you a series of documents identified in the course of our investigation to be the products of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi which were either prepared by yourself or distributed to members of the White Knights with your approval. After you review those documents, Mr. Bowers, I ask you whether or not these documents were so prepared.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, document No. 1 (Harold Delk Exhibit No. 1) is captioned "Secrecy." This document emphasizes that secrecy is the greatest asset which the White Knights possesses to protect its militant nature. Thereafter instructions in secrecy are set forth until its conclusion is set forth—that the highest essence of secrecy is deliberate deception. As the Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, does the organization practice deliberate deception?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, document No. 2 (Burrel White Exhibit No. 2) is captioned "Executive Lecture of March 1, 1964." This document, after setting forth that the purpose and dedication of the White Knights is the preservation of a Christian civilization, instructs the membership to have for ready reference and frequent, careful, and prayerful reference a copy of the Holy Scriptures. Several paragraphs infer that the White Knights look to Christ for its leadership. In the introduction, the document refers to the White Knights as the Christian militants, disposed to use physical force against its enemies. The militant phase of the White Knights is then divided into security, intelligence, and propaganda. Under "security," members are instructed in eliminating detection of their attendance at meetings, concealing their membership, posing as anti-Klan or even anticonservative, the use of gloves to avoid fingerprint identification, the creation of an infantry squad of eight well-armed Klansmen within each unit, and with respect to the armament of the squad the document refers to the fact that this squad should be equipped with blue ribbon weapons.

"Intelligence," according to the document, "consists of gathering and transmission of all information concerning the enemy, or weaknesses or leaks" in the White Knights. The membership is then instructed in procedure to be followed by units and individuals preliminary to undertaking that which the document describes as "militant activity."

In this connection, there is stated that the vote of the local unit concerning the wishes of the local members regarding any militant activity must be transmitted through the office of the province investigator to the higher headquarters.

Conditioning against discouragement if action appears to be delayed, the section on intelligence concludes:

Hasty action will lead to either the bastille or the cemetery [sic]. Remember, ALWAYS, we are in this war to WIN it, not just to FIGHT it.

Propaganda is given great emphasis and the reason is best explained in the first three sentences under this subdivision:

PROPAGANDA is the weapon of modern war which our organization uses to convince the public that we are all good, and that those who oppose us, or criticize us, or attempt to interfere with our activities in any way are all BAD, and are dangerous enemies of the Community. We must always keep the public on our side. As long as they are on our side, we can just about do anything to our enemies with impunity.

Implements of propaganda are described as being as valuable as bullets. Militant activity may not be accomplished by propaganda in which case the document reads:

If our enemies can be humiliated and driven out of the Community by Propaganda, well enough. If they continue to resist, they must be physically destroyed before they can damage our Christian Civilization further, and destroy us. * * *

Do you have any comments to make upon the contents of that document, sir?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Document No. 3 (Burrell White Exhibit No. 1) is Imperial Executive Order dated May 3, 1964. Did you issue or cause to be issued that document, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. This document, Mr. Bowers, as you review it forecasts situations likely to arise during the summer of 1964. It predicts massive demonstrations designed for the purpose of bringing about, as stated in the report:

A decree from the Communist authorities in charge of the National Government * * *.

What evidence do you possess of the Communist authorities that are in charge of the National Government?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. This document devotes considerable space to militant activity by Klansmen who are "legally—deputized law enforcement officers." Combat plans are outlined and the Klansmen are warned to expect conflicts with law enforcement officials. Emphasis of the Klansman's duty is set forth in a sentence which reads:

RESPECT FOR CHRISTIAN IDEALS CANNOT YIELD TO RESPECT FOR PERSONS NOR STATUTES AND PROCEDURE WHICH HAVE BEEN TWISTED BY MAN AWAY FROM ITS ORIGINAL DIVINE ORIGIN.

Do you have any comment to make upon that document, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Document No. 4 (James Jones Exhibit No. 34) is captioned "Harrasment" [sic]. This document was distributed to Klansmen attending a State meeting in June 1964. The content of this document has been previously discussed in this record. It deals exclusively with the methods and means for carrying out acts of harassment. Do you have any comment to make upon that document, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, I hand you a series of documents now, all containing identification as being documents of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi or White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Document 1 is an unofficial mimeographed copy of the constitution of the White Knights together with the recommended reading list distributed with the constitution (Julius Harper Exhibit No. 1).

Document No. 2, the constitution, with amendments, approved April 19, 1964 (Gordon Lackey Exhibit No. 2).

Document No. 3, an application for membership (Gordon Lackey Exhibit No. 1).

Special HUAC Investigation Issue

July, 1965

In order to fulfill one of our foremost obligations to the American public, which is education, and to prepare a base for a wholesome and productive session by the HUAC, as well as to combat the vicious lies and distortions of an evil and depraved National Press, this Special Edition has been prepared in the interest of Truth and Justice. It is based upon a recent interview which was granted by the Honorable Grand Dragon of the WKKKKM to the widely recognized and esteemed patriotic correspondent, Mr. Graham Page. The questions are by Mr. Page, the answers are by the Grand Dragon of the WKKKKM.

Q. Sir, for several months now, there has been notice of an impending investigation of the KU KLUX KLAN by the HUAC. What is the purpose of the investigation, and what is the position of the White Knights of Miss. in regard to it?

A. Well, since the KU KLUX KLAN, as we know it today, is almost a century old, and since its program and purpose has been widely published at frequent intervals all during that time, especially by we white Knights here in Mississippi, it is most difficult to see any need for an investigation by this committee, which was only established to investigate subversive propaganda. We Klansmen feel that the HUAC is being used by the atheistic enemies of America as a publicity forum, in connection with their captive National Press, to smear and humiliate our Honorable Knights in an attempt to discredit our work, which is dedicated to the preservation of Christian Civilization.

Q. It has become rather fashionable of late for professional politicians to take slaps at the Klan, has it not? Starting with the President, and I believe, continuing more recently, the Lt. Governor and Attorney General of Mississippi, and the Attorney General of Alabama?

A. Yes, of course, Graham. But you must remember that these snallow and selfish politicians actually have no real purpose in life other than the advancement of their own personal careers. They know or care little or nothing about the Ideals of America, the Klan, or, for that matter, the communist party. They sense that the Power of the Beast is against the Klan, so they themselves attack the Klan in order to curry favor with the Beast. They actually have no real feelings in the matter of the Klan, and we do not even consider their attacks as real opposition. The Klan existed long before these animals were born, and it will be here long after they have passed, when their selfish administrations are but an unpleasant recollection in the memory of Christian Americans.

Q. Sir, it is often said by the critics of the Klan, that your great weakness stems from the fact that yours is purely a resistance organization, and that, therefore, it has no positive program, which it must have if it is to be successful. How do you meet this accusation?

A. Well, of course, the accusation is false, because its roots are in an obsession for atheistic materialism, which is the hallmark of the enemies of Christ, who exercise so much public control today. The Klan does RESIST these atheists and their fiendishly contrived programs. The Klan does RESIST Satan and his agents on all possible fronts; and in so doing, we achieve the highest POSITIVE program of which men are capable: JESUS, CHRIST. "Resistance to tyranny is obedience to God" is one of America's oldest and most honored bywords. We challenge any professional politician, any so-called "liberal", any so-called "humanitarian", or any other atheistic, materialistic agent of Satan to bring before the American Public ANY of their hell-spawned programs which have a higher POSITIVE rank than OBEYANCE TO GOD.

Q. Another charge which Klan critics are fond of hurling against you is that you are "bigoted" and narrow in your selection of members, because you exclude "Jews", Papists, Orientals and other non-anglo-Saxon ethnic groups from membership. This is said to be "undemocratic", and is one of the main reasons why professional politicians are willing to attack you, because of your small numbers. Wouldn't it be better to lower your rigid restrictions somewhat in order to gain a wider public acceptance?

A. We are always amused when we hear this argument, because it shows such an absurd ignorance of the Gospel of the Lord, and the purpose of the Klan. First of all, let me point out that our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, is not a "democratic" Leader. Remember, it was a "democratic" mob which demanded His crucifixion. (See also, the 19th Chapter of Luke). Next, the real strength of the Klan does not stem primarily from its numbers, but from its POSITION as an implemented arm of the Will of the Lord. It makes little difference, in the final sense, whether we are 10 or 10 million, so long as we are in the Hands of the Lord.

Q. But when you draw such a strict line, are you not being unfair to the individual "Jew", Papist or other outsider? Are there not some good Americans in these groups also?

A. Undoubtedly, there are some good people to be found in these groups. I wish to emphasize that we Klansmen have no quarrel with any individual who conducts himself as a responsible American citizen should, and who takes no part in revolutionary activity of any kind. It is with the alien, un-American groups such as the Synagogue of Satan, or the Roman hierarchy that we of the Klan quarrel, rather than with the individual, ignorant and deceived "Jew" or Papist. Our arms are always open to those misguided individuals, and we stand ready to accept them whenever they are able to break away from the atheism of the Synagogue and the idolatry of the Papacy. It is not we who are bigoted. It is they who are foolishly and ignorantly rejecting the Holy Word of God, and the Personal Salvation of Jesus Christ.

Q. Another accusation against the Klan by its enemies is in regard to unlawful violence. What is the Klan position in regard to this point?

A. First, let me say that most of what the Klan is blamed for is not the work of the Klan. We are a convenient whipping boy rather than actual, malicious offenders. Occasionally, some of our more spirited good Christian Brothers may become so enraged over the work of the revolutionary atheists in our midst, that they are goaded into taking retaliatory action against them; but no honest or serious person blames anyone but the atheists themselves for this. It is against human nature and the basic laws of self-defense to expect an American citizen to remain unprovoked while the civilized society which shelters his family and loved ones is destroyed. George Washington once said: "The people know that man cannot govern without God and the Bible"; and it is the failure to observe this maxim which has led the courts and the legislatures to attempt the regulation of man by man without the Guidance of the Lord, thereby making our governmental administration a farce and a fraud, with one unGodly, unconstitutional decree or statute piled one on top of another, in a ridiculous attempt to play the role of God. The position of the Klan in this matter is that we do not propose to permit the Christian, Constitutional Liberty of America to be destroyed, either covertly or overtly, either unlawfully, or under color of law, by the atheistic conspiracy of the Synagogue of Satan.

Q. What is the position of the WKKKK as regards public marches and public demonstrations? Do you feel that the White Knights of Mississippi, since they are the dominant Klan in Mississippi, should counter-march against the communists demonstrators in a show of strength?

A. Our Klan is opposed to public marches, demonstrations, and all other related activities which upset the general tranquility of our normal, daily lives. We strive at all times to handle all of our problems in a quiet and sober manner with a due and careful regard for the feelings of the general public in Mississippi, whose best interests we always serve. The God-given Ideals of America, which we seek to maintain, cannot be preserved and protected by mass actions in our streets.

Q. What is the relationship of the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of the Sovereign Realm of Mississippi with other Klan groups such as the National, United, Old Original, etc.?

A. We, of course, are Spiritually United with all of our Klan Brethren everywhere, through Jesus Christ, our mutual Lord and Savior. It is only in the structure and administration of Klan government that we differ with these others. Ours is a Constitutional Republic, which contains all of the Classic American Features of separate departments (Legislative, Exec., Judicial), bicameral Legislature, purse power in lower House, Bill of Rights, etc. Most of these other Klans are too centralized in their administration to suit the pristine taste of our strict and loyal American citizens of Mississippi, and we are, therefore, constituted as a Sovereign Realm of the Invisible Empire in and for Mississippi.

The Klan Ledger

An Official Publication of the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of Mis

SPECIAL JONES COUNTY EDITION

October 21, 1965

This Special Edition of the Klan-Ledger has been prepared and distributed in order to clear up many doubts and misunderstandings which have arisen as a result of the fanatical and incoherent TV spectacle last Monday evening by Henry Bucklew. We have no desire to create any disturbance or add any fuel to the fire, so this issue is not to be considered as a rebuttal to the ill-mannered tirade of Bucklew, but rather as a Christian effort in the hope that it will have a calming and sobering influence upon the good citizens of Jones County who have become upset over the notoriety and shame which has been brought upon our community by the ill-considered act of Bucklew. Many of our best citizens are irritated and in an ugly mood regarding Bucklew's conduct, and we are most anxious that these citizens refrain from taking any punitive or retaliatory action against him. All that is necessary is that everyone remain calm, inform themselves of the real facts in this case, and the damage done to the community by Bucklew will be largely dissipated. "He who troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind." Let those of us who are the truly responsible citizens of this community see to it that we do not do anything to increase the trouble and wind which has been stirred up by Bucklew. Even though his conduct was admittedly inexcusable, vicious and ill-mannered, that does not justify others to retaliate against him and especially in anger.

As far as the position of the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of Mississippi is concerned, we have always been against open, public violence. We are primarily a Christian Educational body, and always seek to solve our problems and conduct our affairs with a minimum of inconvenience and disturbance to the general community. Certainly, there can be no conflict between ourselves and Bucklew on that score. Obviously, whatever conflict there does exist between us must lie in another category, as indeed it does. The general public certainly has a right to know what this is and to be informed of the facts. The conflict which now exists between the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN and Henry Bucklew is the same, dark specter which has dogged his entire checkered public career, THE LOVE OF MONEY.

When Bucklew was first sworn into the White Knights, shortly before the recent election, it was with the expectation that he would not only receive the political support of the Knights at the polls, but that he would also have access to the funds in the Klan treasury of the Jones County Klavern. However, these were only his own personal expectations, without foundation, for he had received no official promises in this regard. When he later discovered (after the election) that the Constitutional System under which our government functions in the Domain of the Invisible Empire effectively PREVENTS any dipping into the till by individual officers or members without the consent of the majority, his enthusiasm for the Klan began to wane. He reasoned that if "Henry Bucklew can't get any money out of the Klan, then the Klan jest ain't any good, nohow." He met several times with various officers of the Klan after becoming mayor and offered them protection from prosecution and favoritism in exchange for cash. These deals were always politely refused by the officers of the Klan, because the White Knights are innocent of any wrongdoing, and their Knights are productive citizens of the community who can earn their own way and do not have to buy favoritism from politicians. More recently, Bucklew has approached various Knights and attempted to get them to go out and jump on and beat up some of his personal and political enemies, which, of course, our honorable Knights refused to do. As a result of these refusals, Bucklew then began to look about for other sources of ready cash. He soon discovered the agents of the malignant conspiracy whose agents hate Christ, the Klan and Christian Civilization. These agents who want to see the Klan destroyed have connections which lead right straight up to LBJ and Katzenback and the source of all cash. When Bucklew made this new connection, he dropped out of the White Knights, violated his oath, and his old friends became his new enemies.

Now, we wish to make it clear at this point that Henry Bucklew is not our enemy. The devilish communists from the Synagogue of Satam are our enemy, and he has only become their ignorant tool. Even after his virulent attack upon us, we do not hate Henry Bucklew. He is more to be pitied than he is to be condemned. He is a weak man, and his principle failing is his lust for cash, a lust which the Klan was unable to satisfy, and which the enemies of Christian Civilisation were able to satisfy.

Actually, we resent Bucklew's ignorant misrepresentation of Holy Scripture and the Fiery Cross, the Symbol of our Ancient and Noble Order far more than we resent his personal attacks upon ourselves, but in even these matters, he will have to answer at the Judgement Seat.

With malice toward none, and charity for all, we remain the White Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN of the Sovereign Realm of Mississippi.

Jones County Klavern

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, please look at document No. 8, the "Special Jones County Edition" of "The Klan Ledger." Are the statements made against Laurel, Mississippi, Mayor Henry Bucklew true or are they false by design, in order to convince the citizens of Laurel that the White Knights are good and the mayor bad?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Were the statements designed to keep the community on your side so that, as set forth in Executive Lecture of March 1, 1964, "we can just about do anything to our enemies with impunity"?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, in the Executive Lecture of March 1, 1964, in the section on propaganda, instructions are given on the use of propaganda in documents not identified with the name of the organization, but independent in name. The documents which have been handed to you are—according to the committee's investigations—documents prepared by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, even though the name "White Knights" does not appear upon these documents.

I will read the documents to you so that you can have a chance to examine them and then you may answer me whether or not the results of the investigation are factual.

Document 1 is captioned "Liberty Is a Boisterous Sea. Timid Men Prefer the Calm of Despotism." By "The Mississippi White Caps."

Mr. APPELL. Document No. 5, "The Christian Sentinel."

(Document marked "Sam Bowers Exhibit No. 7" and retained in committee files.)

Document No. 6, the "Christian Constitutional Committee, Jones County Chapter."

(Document marked "Sam Bowers Exhibit No. 8" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. Bowers, I now ask you to affirm or deny the fact that these documents were prepared under the direction of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, on the "Black List" document, you will notice the name Billy Birdsong. Billy Birdsong has advised the staff that he was an investigator of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, a personal investigator to yourself as the Imperial Wizard. Is the statement made to the staff by Billy Birdsong true or false?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. After Birdsong broke with the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, did you have him beaten by a group of Klansmen?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, I ask you to look at the "Black List" and indicate to the committee the identity of the other Klansmen who appear on that list because they broke with your organization.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you order Wallace Miller, whose name appears on that list, to be banished from the White Knights because you suspected that he was an informant?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, there is now being handed to you a document captioned the "Standard Examination Form." I ask you if this document was prepared by the White Knights, distributed to White Knight members, for use in attempting to embarrass agents of the FBI who might seek interviews with members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

STANDARD EXAMINATION FORM

To be used by all Christian American Patriots as an aid in properly identifying all unknown Persons who may be seeking information. At least one other Christian American Patriot should be present when giving this EXAMINATION. Persons who refuse to take this EXAMINATION or who fail to answer the questions in a forthright and satisfactory manner should be regarded as ENEMIES of the Constitutional Republic of the United States of America and should be considered as Emissaries of the anti-Christ, Satan.

1. Do you believe in Almighty God, the ONE Supreme Creator, Ruler and Judge of the Universe?
2. Do you believe in the Redeeming Spirit of the Christ, Jesus, Son of the Living God and the SOLE Intecessor for the Sins of Mankind, by Whom NONE cometh unto the Kingdom of the Father, except by HIM?
3. Do you believe that the Holy Scriptures are the Greatest tangible asset which is possessed by man on this earth, and that the WORD contained therein must be the Prime Guide by which man must conduct himself here on earth?
4. Do you acknowledge the King James Version of the Holy Writ as the Prime Writ for Americans and recognize the attempts to "revise" and "standardize" and "merge" this version with other texts as nothing but a deliberate attempt to degrade and profane the "Word" into just another collection of religious writings?
5. Do you believe that any mortal man here on earth has the power to pardon or to redeem the sins of another, or that any mortal man can accumulate the power or ability whereby he could become an Advocate in the Court of Almighty God to intercede for the remission of the sins of another?
6. Do you believe that the Mercy and Advocacy of Christ is available to all those who humbly and honestly seek Him?
7. Do you believe that any Human Being has the power to cut another Human Being off from, and deny the Salvation of Christ to another?
8. Do you believe that the most any True Christian can do for a fellow Human Being is to help his fellow to see the Path to the Living Christ and try to gently lead him Up that Path, but that no one may or can be FORCED to accept Christ, and each individual must accept or reject Christ according to his individual will?
9. Do you believe that a powerful, supernatural Force of Evil, called Anti-Christ or Satan does exist in the world?
10. Do you recognize the Fact that all men are continually being torn between the Force of Christ and the Anti-Christ Forces of Satan?
11. Do you recognize the Fact that man is absolutely helpless before Satan until he truly and humbly Accepts the Living Christ as his own Personal Savior; and that all of man's intelligence, and his material gifts: his education, his prestige, his property, his money, his good intentions and his works are worthless against Satan, UNLESS there is an Absolute, Primary Foundation of an undying Belief in, Acceptance of and Reliance upon The Living Christ at the root-center of each man's Being?
12. Do you accept the Living Christ, Jesus as your Personal Savior and your ONLY Hope against Satan?
13. Do you recognize that all good intentions and works which are not founded in Christ are either meaningless or Evil?
14. Do you believe that Satan impels some men to rule and control the earthly life and destiny of other men, and gives them power to do so?
15. Do you believe that Almighty God so ordained man that he should live free of the control of the will of other men, and that no man has the right to initiate Trespass against another, or initiate by any means whatsoever anything to bring another man under the control of his will?
16. Do you recognize that a True Christian American Patriot will turn the other cheek to those who wrong him, but will destroy those who attempt to destroy him, and will seek to destroy those who seek to destroy him, because anything less would be suicide?
17. Do you believe that Christianity requires that a True Christian should not resist having his earthly life taken by a killer?

18. Do you recognize the fact that the United States of America is the only Governmental System ever built in the world with the announced intention and recognized purpose of protecting the Life, Liberty, and the RIGHT to pursue Happiness of each and every one of the Law-Abiding, responsible citizens under its jurisdiction, after FIRST recognizing the FACT that these Rights were God-given in the FIRST place and were therefore not within the province of any man, group of men, or government either to GRANT or to DENY?
19. Do you understand that this one point covered in Question #18 is the Basic and Fundamental point which makes the United States of America unique in the world and therefore absolutely different from, and therefore properly in opposition to every other governmental system in the world?
20. Do you recognize that the fundamental, founding purpose and Spirit of all True Law in the USA is to implement the Will of God which obviously decrees: That man shall live free from the control of the will of his neighbor, and not trespass against his neighbor?
21. Do you believe that the preceding principle is the True Spirit of American Law, which is of Divine Origin?
22. Do you recognize the fact that statutes and decisions must conform to this Spirit in order to be ranked as True American Law?
23. Do you recognize the fact that men under the influence of Satan are able to twist laws, enact laws and enforce laws under the material power of Governmental Authority which are contrary to the Spirit of American Law, and which, therefore, do not rank as True American Law?
24. If the Letter of the Law conflicts with the Spirit of the Law, WHICH will you adhere to, obey and enforce?
25. Do you acknowledge that those persons who cause or permit the Letter of the Law to conflict with the Spirit of the Law in America are the Prime Enemies of the Republic of the United States of America and of every innocent citizen and person under its jurisdiction?
26. Do you believe that your personal, physical survival is tied to the maintenance of a governmental administration in America which will continuously implement the Constitutional Spirit of American Law?
27. Do you regard an Enemy of the Republic of the United States of America and the Spiritual Ideals which are protected by its Constitution as YOUR personal enemy?
28. Do you differentiate between the Government of the United States of America and the PERSONS who hold offices and positions under its Constitution?
29. If the minions of material governmental authority threaten, attempt to, or use physical force and violence to enforce compliance with some letter of law which is in clear conflict with the Constitution and the Spirit of American Law, do you believe that the Private Citizens of America have a right to oppose them with physical force, using the Constitution and the Supremacy of the Will of Almighty God as their Authority?
30. Do you believe in Democracy?
31. Do you believe in Plebescite Cannabilism?
32. How can demagogues be controlled in a Democracy?
33. Are man-made laws more useful when they are aimed at doing "good", or when they are aimed at shackling Satan?
34. What is your definition of "communism"?
35. What is the motivating force behind "communism"?
36. Do you believe that the Spirit of American Law will be helped or be injured by becoming entangled in Foreign Affairs?
37. Do you believe that the International Bankers have anything worthwhile to offer America?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, with respect to burnings, bombings, and other acts of violence or intimidation, did the White Knights under their program of Christian militancy classify these acts into four categories, namely, No. 1, Project 1, threatening telephone calls or visits; 2, burning of crosses, usually on private property; No. 3, beating or flogging, burning of property, night shooting into property; and No. 4, extermination?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. As Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, did you ever authorize the extermination or elimination of a human being?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

The CHAIRMAN. You seem shocked by that question. Why don't you say "no" under oath?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Under your personal direction or with knowledge gained by you as the Imperial Wizard, did any human being die as a result of acts of violence or intimidation by members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Was a project of extermination issued on an individual who was described within the Klan by the nickname "The Goatee"?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know the identity of the person referred to as "The Goatee"?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Was "The Goatee" Schwerner, one of the three civil rights workers who lost their lives in Philadelphia in June 1964?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, at a State meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, did you ever announce that the White Knights had 97 projects going throughout the State of Mississippi?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. At a meeting of the White Knights on November 15, 1964, held between Harrisville and Brandon, Mississippi, was a moratorium declared for 90 days on all third- and fourth-degree projects?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. In July 1965, after the moratorium was lifted, did you state at a meeting of the White Knights leaders that you wanted one act of violence in each province each week?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On September 27, 1964, at a meeting held on the second floor of the Harris box factory ¹ in Meridian, Mississippi, did you during a discussion on violence state, if it was necessary to eliminate someone, it should be done without malice and in complete silence and in the manner of a Christian act?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, in your position as Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, have you made statements and prepared leaflets which support the position—your position—that the Klan should fight the Zionists or Jews whom you believed to be the greater threat to this country?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know George Lincoln Rockwell of the American Nazi Party?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever make a statement that you were considering joining the American Nazi Party because they had several goals that are the same as the Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, as the Imperial Wizard, do you also hold your membership in the Klavern in Laurel, Mississippi, known under the cover name of the Bogue Homa Hunting and Rifle Club?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, information gathered during the committee's investigation establishes that at almost every meeting of the Bogue Homa Hunting and Rifle Club projects were discussed by the membership. These discussions rarely disclosed to membership the projects. An example of this happened at a meeting of June 9, 1964. The discussion on this night centered around the arrival in Laurel of Negroes and whites. B. F. Hinton, then the exalted cyclops of the Klavern and now one of the White Knights province giants told the 39 Klansmen assembled that it was planned to take no action against these people during the daytime, but that group leaders within the Klavern would take action against them during the night hours. It was further discussed that only the Klan leaders would know the identity of the Klansmen participating in the project.

Do you possess knowledge with respect to the factuality of that, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, I now hand you three sheets of paper. The first column contains the date, the second column sets forth on that date whether there was a bombing and assault, a phone threat or cross-burning. The third column lists the identity of the individual or organization against whom it was carried out, and the fourth column shows the location of the place, all within Jones County, Mississippi.

Please review those dates and tell the committee whether you possess any knowledge with respect to any of the acts of violence or intimidation set forth on that document.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. APPELL. Have you reviewed the document, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, the Klavern in Laurel approved a project on April 29, 1964, against the Leader-Call, a newspaper in Laurel, which was bombed on the night of May 10. I think the documents that are in front of you reflect that. It is reported that just a small quantity of dynamite was used in that because they did not want to damage the wall of the bowling alley. Do you have vending equipment and pinball machines in the bowling alley and is that the reason why a small charge of dynamite was used?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, the document reflects that there was an assault on Ottis Matthews, the business agent of the local of the International Woodworkers of America, AFL-CIO in Laurel, Mississippi. Do you possess any knowledge of this assault on Ottis Matthews?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Listed on the document is a burning on February 17, 1965, of COFO headquarters in Laurel. The committee's investigation reflects that officers of the Ellisville-Jones County Klavern, stated that the COFO headquarters burning was a State project. What knowledge can you give the committee about this being a State project?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, the committee's investigation established the following individuals to have held State office in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan: Sam H. Bowers, Laurel, as the Imperial Wizard; Julius Harper, Crystal Springs, as Grand Dragon; Billy Buckles, as the grand giant of Roxie, Mississippi; Paul Foster of Natchez, Mississippi, the grand chaplain, he being replaced by Petus G. Bilbo, Prentiss, Mississippi; Ernest S. Gilbert, of Brookhaven, the first grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation. He was replaced by Deavours Nix of Laurel. W. R. Mangum, who has acted as MC of the State executive meetings; John McGregor, Jackson, Mississippi, a Klan tudor or propaganda chief, who was replaced in October 1964 by Dr. Benny Hennington of Lincoln County.

Is the result of the committee's investigation factual?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Under the constitution, Mr. Bowers, the jurisdiction of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is divided into provinces, with each province having as province officer, the province giant and the province Klan Bureau of Investigation man. The committee's investigation established the following individuals to have held the positions of province KBI: H. L. Holmes, Jr., Jackson, Mississippi; Sidney Davis of Jackson, Mississippi; A. A. Rhoads, of Bolton, Mississippi; Wesley Kersey, Greenwood, Mississippi; Waites McNeil, Loun, Mississippi; Harold Lloyd, nicknamed "Cotton," Delk of Hattiesburg; George Kelleme, Hattiesburg, Mississippi; Emile Piazza, Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi; E. L. McDaniel, Natchez, Mississippi.

Are the results of the committee's investigation in this respect factual?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. E. L. McDaniel, who served as a province officer of the White Knights, is currently the Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America in Mississippi. Do you know that to be factual?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Province giants were identified by the committee during its investigation to be Gerald Whitehead, Crystal Springs, Mississippi; W. L. Barrett, Jackson; Clyde Seale, John Winstead, of Greenwood, Mississippi; Travis Ainsworth, Hattiesburg Manufacturing Company; Benjamin F. Hinton, of Laurel; C. J. Seal, Pearl River; and J. K. Greer, Fenwick, Mississippi.

Are the results of the committee's investigation as to province giants factual?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. C. J. Seal, who is currently or who was a province giant, do you know him to be currently an official of the United Klans of America?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. The committee's investigation established the following individuals to be kleagles or organizers: A. C. Herrington of Ruth, Mississippi; Woody Mathews, Utica, Mississippi; the Reverend Leak Boyte, Attala, Mississippi; Frank Breeland, Columbia, Mississippi; Ralph Edwards, Yazoo City; J. N. Fortenberry, of Jackson, Mississippi; Gordon Lackey of Greenwood, Mississippi; William Sullivan, Pearl, Mississippi; Douglas A. Byrd, Liberty, Mississippi; Dave Caraway, of Liberty, Mississippi; Billy Bird, Mendenhall, Mississippi; W. L. Barrett, Jackson, Mississippi; Louis A. DiSalvo, Bay Saint Louis and Waveland, Mississippi; G. W. Bubanks, Hattiesburg, Mississippi; P. L. Gray of Jackson, Mississippi; N. Gregory, Greenville, Mississippi; C. L. Jordan of Pattison, Mississippi; E. R. Killen, Philadelphia; A. T. Land, Bay Springs; James R. Lathram, Kilmichael, Mississippi; D. Moon, Pelahatchie, Mississippi; Q. B. Rutland, Wesson, Mississippi; Pete Russell, Magee, Mississippi; Mark Sandifer, Jayess, Mississippi; Clyde Seale, Meadville, Mississippi; N. Satterfield, Shaw, Mississippi; D. Shook, Winona, Mississippi; L. C. Sharp, Hattiesburg, Mississippi; Edward Stagner, Tylertown, Mississippi; and R. C. Wall, Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

Are the results of the committee's investigation factual, Mr. Bowers? (Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Bursars identified during the meeting: Tommy Brock, Utica, Mississippi; Everett D. Wiggs of Woodland, Mississippi; Gordon Sykes, of Greenville; Joe Rusteci, Itta Bena, Mississippi; Jack Williams, Pelahatchie County, Mississippi; Donald Henshaw, who was replaced by Dewitt Mark Sandifer of Jayess; Vincent Purser, Gulfport, Mississippi.

Are the results of the committee's investigation factual, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On March 23, 1965, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that DeWitt Mark Sandifer turned over to you approximately $2500.

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. What disposition was made of that money, Mr. Bowers?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, I put it to you as a fact that on May 2, 1965, a State meeting was held in Pearl River County, Mississippi, at which time a constitutional amendment was adopted whereby each member would henceforth pay 65 cents per month to the State treasury plus his local dues; that all province and district and grand officers must attend all State meetings of the organization or to be fined $10; that failure to attend must be supported by an excuse which is acceptable to the entire assembled State meeting; that all province, district, and grand officers shall be paid a maximum of $60 per month at the rate of 10 cents per mile for travel in connection with Klan business; that any man arrested on any charge that admits he is a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi or admits doing the act for which he is charged will receive no help whatsoever from the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi; that the delegates voted to pay obligations as follows: $1795 to pay an old printing bill in Jackson, Mississippi; $300 to pay Imperial Wizard Sam Bowers for money he had advanced to the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund; $200 to W. R. Mangum for outstanding expenses; $42 to the province giant from Province No. 2; $50 each to the two men who were involved in the assault on a COFO worker in Vicksburg, Mississippi; $300 to a man in Natchez, Mississippi, who was arrested during the fall of 1964 by the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Mr. Bowers, is that which was read to you growing out of the meeting of May 2, 1965, factual?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Bowers, the committee's investigation established the following officers, Klavern officers, of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi:

Ralph Edwards, EC, Yazoo City Klavern; Price Gray, EC of one of the Klaverns in Jackson, Mississippi; A. C. Herrington, EC of the Ruth, Mississippi, Klavern; N. Gregory, EC of the Greenville, Mississippi, Klavern; Billie Joe Lee, EC of the Lawrence County Klavern No. 2; F. M. Martin, EC of the Utica, Mississippi, Klavern; W. R. Mangum, EC of Magee, Mississippi, Unit No. 1; Felter Polk, EC of the Prentiss, Mississippi, Klavern; Roger Smith, EC of Union, Mississippi, Klavern; C. J. Seal, EC of the Crossroads Community Klavern. Seal was replaced as EC by Houston Dillard in April 1965. Robert Thornhill, the EC of the Improved Mississippi Unit at Sandy Hook, Mississippi; Clyde Wentworth, EC of the Franklin County Unit No. 1 in Meadville, Mississippi; W. R. Westmoreland, EC of the Klavern known by the cover name of Copiah Rod and Gun Club. Howard McLemore replaced Westmoreland as the EC of this Klavern. George Jasper Williams, EC of the Klavern in Learned, Mississippi; Frank Herndon, EC of Lauderdale County Unit at Meridian, Mississippi; Denson "Pee Wee" Lott, the EC of Covington County Unit No. 2 at Collins, Mississippi. He was replaced by Ledrun Spell. G. F. "Shorty" Roberts, who was EC and resigned when you reorganized the Hattiesburg Unit. He was replaced by Jimmy Watts; Ray, nicknamed "Speed" Lightsey, EC of Jones County Unit No. 1; Milton Howard James, EC of Jones County Unit No. 2, Ellisville; Henry Keith Dykes, EC of the Wolf Pack Unit No. 3, Jones County, Big Tree Community; Richard C. "Speck" Steward, EC of Unit No. 4, Jones County; Robert E. Rivers, EC, Unit No. 5, Jones County; Charles B. Holder, EC, Bay Springs, Mississippi; Herbert Houghton, EC of Covington County, No. 1, Mount Olive, Mississippi; Charles Francis Bishop, EC of the Old Raleigh Unit; Robert Lee Jones, EC of Taylorville Unit; Robert H. Turnage, EC of Mize, Mississippi, Unit; B. F. Hinton was EC of Laurel Unit known as the Bogue Homa Hunting and Rifle Club; Leonard McGee, EC of the East Group in Laurel at one other time; S. T. Shook, EC of the Montgomery County Unit in Winona; Bert McDaniel, EC of the Smith County Unit; Howard Purvis, EC of the Popeville Klavern; Baxter Robinson, EC of the Burns, Mississippi, Unit; Edgar Ray Killen, EC of the Philadelphia Klan Unit.

Mr. Bowers, do you have any comment on the factuality of the committee's investigation as to members of the White Knights holding positions of exalted cyclops?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Edgar Ray Killen, who was the EC of the Philadelphia, Mississippi, Unit, do you possess knowledge whether he is the same Edgar Ray Killen that was arrested for the murder of the three civil rights workers in Philadelphia?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Bowers.

The CHAIRMAN. Before coming to that, Mr. Appell, I would like to ask two or three questions, just briefly.

Mr. Bowers, I read from your Imperial Executive Order of May 3, 1964. It is addressed to all officers and members and under subject, and after the colon, it reads: "Forthcoming Enemy attack and countermeasures to be used in meeting same." In that executive order you say that it must be read to and by, and understood by, every member of your statewide organization. Then you say, "This summer"—this is 1964—

This summer, within a very few days, the enemy will launch his final push for victory here in Mississippi.

You say:

A decree from the Communist authorities in charge of the National Government, which will declare the State of Mississippi to be in a Stae [sic] of open revolt, with a complete breakdown of Law and Order, and declaring Martial Law, followed by a massive occupation of the State by Federal Troops, with all known Patriotic Whites placed under Military Arrest. * * *

Could you name, let us say, 100 of the Communist authorities in charge of the National Government at that time?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you name 50?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you name 20?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you name 10?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you name five?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you name one?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. In that Imperial Executive Order you say: "A great deal of attention should be given toward detecting those" enemies—"enemy agents who bomb, burn and kill"—as you put it—"their own homes, churches and people in order to provide a sympathetic base for their National Propaganda Machine. These bombings and killings are always blamed on our side, but it is the Insane Communist agitators themselves who are doing it. * * *"

Could you name a few of those Communist agitators?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you name two?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Could you name one?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Now, it has come to the attention of this committee, time and time and time and time again, that the common practice of your outfit is to say that "all of these bombings and disturbances and killings are really done by foreigners, people from away from here, in order to blame these acts on us."

Could you name one single, solitary bombing or killing or act of violence anywhere in the State of Mississippi which was really performed by people from away from there and blamed on you and pinned on you? Could you give me one single, solitary case of that type? I will be frank with you. I have been intrigued by this question, and I honestly do not know of any one, do you? And if you do, why don't you tell me?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. You wind up in your imperial decree by saying, "We must use all of the time which is left"—and you say that would be a matter of days—no, I am sorry, I will quote it exactly. It is better than I thought:

We must use all of the time which is left to us in these next few days preparing to meet this attack. Weapons and ammunition must be accumulated and stored; squads must drill; Propaganda equipment must be set up ready to roll; counter-attack maps, plans and information must be studied and learned; radios and communications must be established;

Then you wind up by saying—and a Solemn, determined Spirit of Christian Reverence must be stimulated in all members.

Did you accumulate weapons and ammunition?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you store weapons and ammunition?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you drill squads?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you put your propaganda equipment to rolling?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. This was your propaganda equipment, wasn't it?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. All right, Mr. Appell. First I want to read from another document I have here which you put out, Mr. Bowers, what you call the Black List. It is headed in bold type:

ATTENTION WHITE CITIZENS OF MERIDIAN AND LAUDERDALE COUNTY

Listed below are a few people and businesses who are traitors and parasites, who would sell their souls for thirty pieces of silver * * *.

Then you proceed to list—and I am not going to name them—a page of such individuals and businesses. How could you undertake to judge those people and pronounce them to be traitors and parasites?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I said I would not name them. I will name one. One of them on there is Billy Birdsong. You know Billy Birdsong, do you not?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Why, he was your personal investigator for a while; was he not?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Then you broke with him, did you not?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. As I recall, Mr. Appell related that we had investigative information to the effect that you yourself had stated that you had caused Billy Birdsong to be beaten up. Didn't you do that? Didn't you brag about that and say that at a meeting?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Bowers, we get information under oath and we screen it out; we do the best we can. We never, without checking, take anything in particular at face value. As far as we are concerned, truth must prevail. If two people appear before us and give us divergent stories, apparently made for the purpose of evasion or plain lying, we do not hesitate to act on it and let whoever is subject to the pains and penalties of perjury take the consequence. But let me ask you this: Isn't it a fact that, as a matter of fact, you did send a goon squad to call on Billy Birdsong?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

The CHAIRMAN. Goon squad, terror squad, underground wrecking crew, whatever you call it in Mississippi?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. By the way, I won't name it, but I see you have a hospital on that list. Why, of all things, a hospital among traitors and parasites, people who would sell their souls for 30 pieces of silver? Why a hospital?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as it pertains to Mr. Bowers.

Mr. Bowers was born on August 6, 1924, at New Orleans, Louisiana. He resides at 816 South Fourth Avenue, Laurel, Mississippi. He has a partnership, in partnership with Robert Larson in operating the Sambo Amusement Company and the Magnolia Consolidated Realty Company, Inc., both of which are located at 820 South Fourth Street, Laurel, Mississippi. He attended the University of California School of Engineering for 2 years. He entered the Navy in December 1941 and was honorably discharged as Machinist Mate First Class in December 1945. Bowers in February of 1964 was elected Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

On February 15, 1964, 200 Klansmen met at Brookhaven, Mississippi, with those present formerly being members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Mississippi, a Klan group headed by Royal V. Young and J. D. Swenson. These men had assembled because of a disagreement over the misappropriating of funds principally by J. D. Swenson.

On February 17, 1964, meeting of Natchez Klavern announced that the Klectokon, or initiation fee, for the White Knights be $10; robe $10; dues $4.25 or $4.50 plus $1 for a building fund.

On February 25, 1964, a regular meeting of the Laurel Klavern was held. During this meeting it was discussed that a meeting had been called for February 21, 1964, at the Klavern hall, at which time the proposed cross-burnings on Saturday, February 22, 1964, were called off because they thought that the police had information regarding the burnings. It was also voted that two crosses would be burned February 28, 1964, to prove that they, the Klan, was not bluffing.

At this meeting, Sam Bowers, Grand Dragon or Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi, reported that he attended a State meeting at Brookhaven, Mississippi, on Sunday, February 23, 1964. This meeting was for the purpose of creating changes in the constitution and bylaws. These changes were necessary since the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi had pulled away from the Klan in Louisiana.

On February 26, 1964, Imperial Wizard Bowers reported that the State would be divided into five districts, each corresponding with a congressional district, and that the White Knights hoped to have 30 chartered Klaverns by March 15.

June 7, 1964, the White Knights held a secret State meeting near Raleigh, Mississippi, with nearly 300 Klansmen in attendance. At this meeting all State officers were present. It was announced that money collected by Donald Henshaw would be turned over to Tommy Brock, chief bursar of Utica, Mississippi. At the time it was announced the White Knights had 62 Klaverns in 82 Mississippi counties. Speeches by State officers urged members to obtain firearms.

Imperial Wizard Bowers urged the younger members to travel to assist law enforcement and emphasized that they should stay out of trouble till they catch "them," referring to COFO workers, outside of the law and then under Mississippi law "you have the right to kill them." Bowers claimed this was the case at Ole Miss where six United States marshals were killed because they were illegally at Ole Miss. However, Bobby Kennedy had kept this fact secret and would not permit it to be made known. Bowers claimed there were 97 projects working which would be completed in the immediate future.

At the meeting on June 7, a printed instruction to Klansmen with respect to action to be taken during the summer of 1964 was passed out.

During June of 1964, efforts were being made by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi to obtain two members from each Klavern throughout the State of Mississippi who would be in a position to leave their particular areas for 2 or 3 days at a time.

June 9, 1964. Meeting near Jackson, Mississippi. Billy Buckles, the grand giant, told those assembled that the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was sponsoring an ex-convict to do a job in the Jackson area. This would cost $1,200—$400 in advance and $800 when the job was completed. Buckles claimed that the job was so big it would make the death of Medgar Evers "look sick." One hundred dollars toward cost was collected from members present.

June 24, 1964, a meeting of Hinds County Klaverns was held on Greave's Plantation on the banks of the Pearl River at the west end of Elton Road near Jackson, Mississippi. Current Klan officers were introduced, including Imperial Wizard Bowers, Grand Dragon Harper, Grand Giant Buckles, Grand Director of KBI Gilbert, Klan Kleagle Herrington, with Herrington announcing that the White Knights had 70 Klaverns in 81 counties in Mississippi.

Julius Harper, Grand Dragon, told those assembled that in all future jobs the county giant would select a unit to pull the job. The county coordinator would then select a meeting place, such as a motel or restaurant, and the exalted cyclops of the unit selected would then select the members to actually pull the job.

Billy Buckles, the grand giant of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, stated that there were to be no more bombings of any type by the Klan in Mississippi inasmuch as bombings drew attention to the Klan too rapidly. Buckles said that there are other ways to handle things and no matter what they tell you, arson is hard to prove. Buckles suggested that all members should not pay excessive prices for this material as he could obtain rifles for $15 each, which price included three clips of ammunition. Buckles commented that the outside agitators must be stopped, even if it takes a few "busted" heads and if necessary the Klan would go further than this to stop these agitators. Buckles said that when the Klan members locate meeting places of Negroes, such as Negro churches, they should throw carpet tacks on the parking lot and disable the assembled cars by cutting their wires. Buckles suggested that any gasoline operators who were members should keep a good supply of sugar to pour into the gasoline tanks of vehicles of persons working for integration. Buckles said he assumed that all of the members present had read about the disappearance of the three civil rights workers in Neshoba County and said—"Now, they know what we will do. We have shown them what we will do and we will do it again if necessary."

September 14, 1964. State executive meeting at the office of Norman Jackson, Crystal Springs, Mississippi. Present along with Bowers and other top officers was Thomas Edward Fling of Mount Olive, Mississippi, identified during investigation as an auditor for the White Knights.

September 20, 1964. At a State executive meeting of the White Knights which was held they discussed violence and the Philadelphia murders. A. C. Herrington, klan kleagle, opposed church bombings unless COFO workers were present. Ernest Gilbert, Klan Bureau of Investigation, favored throwing heathens out, but he opposed burnings or bombings. Harper, Grand Dragon, was against burnings. Buckles, grand giant, and Bowers, Imperial Wizard, expressed Herrington's view that they opposed church bombings unless COFO workers were present.

Bowers, Imperial Wizard, discussed the Philadelphia affair and stated that if anyone was indicted each member of the White Knights would be assessed $10 each, and each State officer $100. Bowers also stated that if indictments were handed down a mass campaign would be started against the Federal Government and the Communist Party. The theme would be that the Federal Government was aiding the Communists, who are pushing the integration movement and Negro vote campaign. This was forcing ignorant people into acts of violence.

September 27, 1964. A State executive meeting of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was held on the second floor of the Harris box factory in Meridian, Mississippi. Again the subject discussed was violence, with Herrington opposing church bombings unless COFO workers were present, and with Bowers and Buckles concurring in these views.

On October 11, 1964, a meeting of State officers was held at Crystal Springs, Mississippi. A resolution was adopted that the White Knights would issue no more literature and an order was passed down to commit no more felonies. Gilbert, the grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, desired that order read "no more violence" but this was rejected. There was discussion about the COFO house bombing at Vicksburg, Mississippi. Bowers and John McGregor of Jackson stated that "no one would find out anything about Vicksburg, Mississippi, COFO house bombing." On another occasion Bowers said that "they will not find out who did that one as I sent someone in from outside."

On October 29, 1964, Bowers attended a District 8 meeting near Petal, Mississippi. He stressed that no more churches should be burned or bombed and no bombs should be thrown in anyone's yard.

On November 12, 1964, the White Knights held a meeting at the Le Mar Hotel, Meridian, Mississippi. Bowers reported that Delmar Dennis was to be his personal representative and B. L. Akin in charge of all investigations in the Meridian area. All investigative matters should be brought to Akin's attention, with all administrative matters to be handled by Delmar Dennis.

On November 15, 1964, a State meeting was held between Harrisville and Brandon, Mississippi. Principal discussion centered around violence by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. It was decided to declare a moratorium on all Projects 3 and 4, for 90 days. However, Imperial Wizard Bowers advised that if an approved project had been planned and would be completed by December 1, it could be carried out.

In January 1965, several meetings were called by Imperial Wizard Bowers for the purpose of raising funds on behalf of the defendants arrested for the murder of the three civil rights workers on June 21, 1964, in Philadelphia, Mississippi. Created for this purpose was the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund. This fund was subsequently used for other purposes, including providing defense funds for members of the White Knights subpoenaed by the committee.

On January 31, 1965, a Klan cabinet meeting was held in an abandoned farmhouse near a lake off Raymond Road, outside Jackson, Mississippi. Present were B. L. Akin, Birdsong, and Bowers, together with other State and Jackson Klavern officials. Discussion centered around lifting the moratorium against Projects 3 and 4 and the establishment of the defense fund known as the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund. Bowers appointed Elmore D. Greaves as the fund head.

Bowers told those assembled that he had confidential information from high influential sources that African troops were being landed in Cuba for extensive military training. This is why he and the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan had long-range plans for the buildup and burial of arms. He elaborated that after these troops were trained they will lead an invasion of the United States at Biloxi and Gulfport, Mississippi. When the invasion commences, Defense Secretary McNamara will nationalize the State Guard and turn the Southern States over to the Negro. Whites will be relocated and moved to the North. The Klan will be the only element to fight the invasion. Bowers said the choice would be "to be smart and move or to be right and fight."

On March 23, 1965, at a State meeting at Jackson, Mississippi, Dewitt Sandifer turned over to Bowers approximately $2,500, with Bowers giving J. K. Greer $700 to $800 for legal expenses.

On June 27, 1965, at a State meeting near Greenwood, Mississippi, 100 members were present, including Bowers and other officers. At this meeting they voted to send $500 to the man at Bogalusa who was charged with killing the Negro deputy sheriff. They also gave out instructions that each Klavern was to burn two crosses on July 1, 1965.

Buckles suggested that the job of KBI be filled temporarily at this meeting. Bowers disagreed and said it was a permanent assignment and should be filled through an election by the officers. Deavours Nix was elected; 34 units of the Klan were present at this meeting—

The CHAIRMAN. Did you say at a certain meeting a certain amount was discussed as having been sent, or would be sent, to the Bogalusa area? Read that again.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. The meeting was on June 27, 1965, near Greenwood, Mississippi, and it was voted to send $500 to the man in Bogalusa who was charged with the killing of the Negro deputy sheriff.

The CHAIRMAN. As I said before, this committee has no objection,

I have no objection, nobody can have any objection, to providing defense counsel or funds to pay defense counsel for anyone, I don't care who he is. I am wondering, though, if that $500 reached its destination. And if we don't know that, we had better take a look at it.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in our Louisiana phase of the hearing we identified, as the result of the committee investigation, the boy arrested in that as being a member of the Klan in Louisiana.

The CHAIRMAN. That was not my question.

Mr. APPELL. We do not know whether this money has been received.

The CHAIRMAN. Did you send it?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. We have evidence, Mr. Bowers, to the effect that the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund, as a matter of fact, was—it was described to us as placing buckets and jugs, as I remember the testimony, throughout Mississippi restaurants, hotels, motels, places of business, and elsewhere, and that it was pretended that this was a project of non-Klan members, but that in fact it was a Klan operation and that large sums of money were raised during that campaign. Do you have anything to say about that?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Information came to us that, despite the allegations, protestations, about sobriety and Christianity and everything else, as I recall, large sources of revenues were picked up by this defense fund, from buckets or jugs placed in drinking places, and that the more the people imbibed, the more they put in the buckets and jugs. You don't have any knowledge about that?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. All right; proceed.

Mr. APPELL. At the meeting of June 27, a printing bill was submitted for $396 for printing costs of posters "I Want You" for the White Knights of Mississippi.

The CHAIRMAN. Is that the poster that was exhibited to us some time ago?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

The CHAIRMAN. In my opinion, that is a low blow, Mr. Bowers. And I say that as chairman. I am sorry to say that. I don't use that kind of language when presiding, but the use of a poster "I Want You" imitating the famous poster of Uncle Sam calling soldier boys—"I Want You"—in my opinion is a low blow.

Go on.

Mr. APPELL. On July 11, 1965, a meeting of province officers was held in Room 337, King Edward's Hotel, Jackson, Mississippi. Bowers instructed them to have a "job" in each province throughout Mississippi and that this plan was designed to spread thin the agents of the FBI located in Mississippi. Bowers reported that Billy Birdsong, who had given him more trouble than any other Klansman, had been whipped.

On July 18, 1965, a meeting of kleagles was held south of Jackson, Mississippi. Nix, the grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, shook everyone down for "bugs" or recording devices. Bowers claimed that the White Knights in the Laurel area were responsible for over 16 burnings and bombings in the Laurel area. He referred to Laurel as the "Smokestack City."

On August 8, 1965, a meeting was held at Byram, Mississippi, south of Jackson. Bowers offered a resolution forbidding White Knights of Ku Klux Klan to associate with members of the United Klans of America.

On August 22, at a meeting near Florence, Mississippi, $500 was sent to assist three men arrested for arson in Greenwood, Mississippi.

On November 10, 1965, Bowers discussed reorganizing the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under a plan described as Rule 5. Under the rule, the exalted cyclops picks four unit heads and they in turn each selected four trusted Klansmen to meet with each group separately. By this reorganization Bowers hoped to frustrate the FBI infiltration.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Bowers is in possession of additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Bowers, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of it. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to take advantage of that opportunity?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. I must inform you, Mr. Bowers, that I indeed agree with Mr. Appell's statement to the effect that you possess a great deal of information which you could supply this committee as an aid in providing remedial legislation. But in any event, you may now, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to take advantage of that opportunity?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Witness, I must inform you that, absent your rebuttal or other facts that may come to the attention of the subcommittee, the committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. Having that in mind, do you now want to say anything? And by that I mean, and specifically include, relating to the objects, the purposes, the objectives, the good that you know about klanism. I invite you to do that. You may say anything you want. You may praise it to the sky. I have asked so many witnesses that the record is going to look very odd when not a single leader—including Imperial Wizards, if you don't come forward—has volunteered to say one single, solitary word about what is good about klanism. Why don't you say what is good, in your opinion? You joined this; you must have believed in it. Let's put it in the record right now. Do you care to take advantage of that opportunity?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. All right. Anything else?

Mr. APPELL. The staff has no further questions of this witness, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Buchanan.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Bowers, you are quoted as having said something to the effect that if it is necessary to eliminate someone, it should be done in silence, without malice, in the manner of a Christian act. Am I to understand if murder is committed in silence and without malice it can become a Christian act?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. BUCHANAN. No further questions.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to make a closing statement for the record, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. APPELL. The subpoena of Mr. Bowers called upon him to produce retained copies of corporate tax returns relating to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. I do not ask Mr. Bowers to produce those documents because we have been advised by the Treasury Department that no return was filed.

The CHAIRMAN. Have you filed individual income tax returns?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. According to our information, and I believe it is right, corporate returns were not filed either. Did you receive any money of any kind, from one nickel on up, as a result of your association with the Klan group that you headed?

Mr. BOWERS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused and the subcommittee stands in recess until 2:30.

(Subcommittee members present at time of recess: Representatives Willis and Buchanan.)

(Whereupon, at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 1, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 2:30 p.m. the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 3 p.m., Hon. Edwin E. Willis, chairman, presiding.)

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis and Buchanan.)

The CHAIRMAN. The subcommittee will come to order.

Call your first witness for the afternoon, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Ernest S. Gilbert, Jr.

The CHAIRMAN. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear, sir, that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. GILBERT. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ERNEST S. GILBERT, JR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, state your full name for the record.

Mr. GILBERT. Ernest S. Gilbert, Jr.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 30th day of October 1965, at 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. GILBERT. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. GILBERT. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi, is that the headquarters of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, Investigator Sullivan, who sits to my right, advises me that the place that you were served was the headquarters of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, in Natchez, Mississippi. Is the information which he supplies factual?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Gilbert?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to give for the record his place and date of birth.

The CHAIRMAN. Yes, I will order and direct you to answer that question. It is preliminary exploration. It is perfectly usual. It cannot possibly incriminate you. It is a fact that ought to be in the record.

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, in 1963, were you a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana, the Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. When a group of members of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Louisiana broke from that organization and several of its leaders were banished by Royal V. Young, the Imperial Dragon, was a temporary organization to become known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi organized?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Prior to the election of Sam H. Bowers as the Imperial Wizard of the new organization known as the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, were you temporarily placed in charge of that organization?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that with the election of Mr. Bowers as the Imperial Wizard you were elected to the position of grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, as grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, you possess knowledge of violence carried out by members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. It is the results of the committee's investigation that many of these persons who held membership in the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan now hold membership in the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi.

Is this information factual?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, as grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, did you make an investigation to determine whether or not members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan were involved in the murder of Henry Dee and Charles Moore, whose bodies were found in the "Old River"?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. James Ford Seale, one of the two arrested, is he now a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In a recent release put out by the United Klans of America, the Imperial Wizard, Mr. Robert Shelton, acknowledged what, in my recollection, was the first time that there are possibly misfits within the United Klans of America. Are these people who were engaged in acts of violence while members of the White Knights and who are now members of the United Klans of America some of the misfits to whom Imperial Wizard Shelton was referring?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, when Mr. Shelton spoke at a rally of the United Klans of America near Hattiesburg, Mississippi, and he charged that Mayor Henry Bucklew's charges linking the White Knights with violence in Laurel, Mississippi, and described that as political expediency, had he discussed with you, as the former grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, as to whether or not members of the White Knights had been involved in a series of bombings and burnings in Laurel, Mississippi?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, was Paul Foster the first grand chaplain of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that he is presently the Grand Klaliff or vice president of the Realm of Mississippi of the United Klans of America.

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Gilbert, I hand you several newspaper clippings relating to the removal of a body from its grave because of complaints made by the Klan that Black Muslims were concealing arm caches in this and other graves.

The newspaper account that I handed you reveals that the original complaint was made to the deputy sheriff of Washington County by J. R. Wood of Greenville. Do you know him to be a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The account in the Jackson, Mississippi, Clarion-Ledger reads that:

The Mississippi Kleagle of the United Klans from Brookhaven, Ernest Gilbert, accompanied by fellow Klansman, F. L. Malone of Brookhaven, arrived on the scene in Malone's specially equipped radio car * * *.

Please tell the committee the use made of citizens band radios and walkie-talkie radios by the United Klans in Mississippi.

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "Ernest Gilbert Exhibit No. 1." The Clarion-Ledger article follows:)

ERNEST GILBERT EXHIBIT NO. 1

[Jackson, Miss., Clarion-Ledger, November 16, 1965]

Report Of Arms Cache False; Officials Begin Probe Of Klan

By KENNETH TOLLIVER

GREENVILLE — An apparent bid for publicity by the United Klans of America in Mississippi may have backfired Tuesday as authorities blasted the organization and began an investigation of KKK activity.

The rumble of the wrath of Washington County law enforcement agencies rolled across the state touching the Attorney General's office, the Governor's Mansion and the Highway Patrol.

The wave of indignation was sparked by charges brought by members of the United Klans of America Sunday that weapons for the Black Muslims were buried in Negro churches and cemeteries across the state.

In Greenville Klansmen led Washington County deputies to a recent Negro grave and told them it contained — "automatic weapons, ammunition and maybe a machinegun."

NO GUNS

When the grave was opened Monday morning, it was found to contain a simple coffin and no weapons of any kind.

In a special press conference called by authorities, reporters were told that "the wraps were being taken from the Klan operation."

Referring to the opening of the grave Monday morning, Washington County Chief Deputy Earl Fisher said, "This was done to disprove once and for all that Negroes are not stashing guns. The Black Muslims and the Deacons for Defense are not in here creating an uprising."

Working in the dark foggy graveyard, heavily armed police pried the lid from a wooden vault holding the casket and found nothing to further such suspicions.

"We had reason to believe that a felony, that of grave tampering, might have been committed and we obtained permission from the next of kin to open the grave," Fisher said. "We did not have a court order to open the coffin itself, but our investigation indicated it had not been tampered with."

RELATES INCIDENTS

In the press conference Deputy Fisher related the chain of incidents with Klan members which led to the event.

He revealed that Sunday morning J. R. Wood, a suspected Klansman, summoned Deputy Fisher to his home to give him details about some hidden arms.

"He told me last week he believed the Black Muslims were sneaking guns into the area, but at that time he said he didn't know where they were kept," Fisher said.

Fisher said that while at Wood's house he saw "stacks of Klan literature" and while he was talking with Wood, "suddenly these three rough looking characters stepped out from behind a curtain."

He said they told him they knew where the Black Muslims were hiding guns and they wanted to make a deal. "They wanted a reasonable portion of the guns and ammunition," he explained. "They said they wanted to use them to protect white people."

Fisher left saying he could not make such a deal, but later when he returned to talk further with the group they told him they had "been in touch with headquarters and it's okay to cooperate with you."

They then led Deputy Fisher to a Negro cemetery near Greenville and pointed out the grave of James Turner, 64, who had been buried Nov. 4.

WANTED REPORTERS

"They said they had been watching the cemetery and were pretty sure that guns were in the grave. They wanted ABC, NBC, CBS and the Jackson newspapers on hand when the grave was opened," Fisher told reporters.

Fearing a riot if the rumors reached the public, Fisher said he requested a riot squad from the Greenville police. He then telephoned the Attorney General in Jackson and told him about the situation. "He said to continue the investigation," Fisher said.

"The Klan insisted on guarding the grave to keep anyone from taking the guns and I told them they could patrol up and down the highway that borders the cemetery in their radio equipped cars, Fisher explained. "But I had hardly turned around before one of them had an M-rifle and a bandoleer of bullets over his shoulder all set to march up and down the road. I put a stop to that."

Fisher told reporters that as darkness fell the KKK became more anxious to have the grave opened and called him constantly on the phone asking for results.

"I finally called the county executive Cyclops of the United Klans, Dr. Everett Mitchell, a Greenville physical therapist, and asked him if he was in touch with his members and when he said yes, I told him I was doing all I could and they must be patient," Fisher continued.

The Mississippi Kleagle of the United Klans from Brookhaven, Ernest Gilbert, accompanied by fellow Klansman, F. L. Malone of Brookhaven, arrived on the scene in Malone's specially equipped radio car, Fisher said.

SOUGHT NO CREDIT

They told reporters they wanted "the local law enforcement people to get full credit."

The Kleagle told newsmen that he estimated "more than 5000 guns had been smuggled into the state and were hidden in Negro graves and Churches.

Deputy Fisher said that Kleagle Gilbert offered the services of his men. Fisher said that Gilbert told him, "One of our members is in tears out there thinking about those guns."

Greenville Chief of Police W. C. Burnley referred to the Klansmen as a "bunch of nuts with crazy ideas fighting for the survival of their stupid organization."

A suspected Klansman accompanied the authorities to the grave and reported back to Gilbert after the grave was opened.

Meanwhile Klansmen with two-way radio equipped cars, some with Tennessee tags, cruised the highway near the cemetery.

Special investigators from the Highway Patrol arrived in Greenville Tuesday to begin their own investigation into the incident. They were apparently interested in the Klan claim that "we have been watching the burials of Negroes for three years." It is a felony to tamper with a grave.

A check with the governor's office indicated that Gov. Johnson "is interested."

Mr. APPELL. The news account then quotes you as saying, "more than 5,000 guns had been smuggled into the state and were hidden in Negro graves and Churches." If that statement is factual, Mr. Gilbert, please give the committee the benefit of the knowledge the United Klans of America possesses in this regard.

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did the United Klans of America have any basis upon which to make this charge to the Washington County Sheriff's Department, which resulted in the removal of a body from the grave and a search of his coffin for concealed arms?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Gilbert.

Ernest S. Gilbert was born on June 13, 1925, in Smith County, Mississippi. His educational background is unknown to the staff. During the early part of 1965, he was employed as a driller with the Smith Petroleum Company, Brookhaven, Mississippi. Mr. Gilbert was a leader of the Realm of Mississippi of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan which had its headquarters in Louisiana. In late 1965, because of mismanagement of Original Knight funds—

The CHAIRMAN. You say the headquarters in Louisiana. Is that in the area of the Bossier-Shreveport area?

Mr. APPELL. As a result of mismanagement of Original Knight funds by J. D. Swenson, dissension grew and resulted in certain Mississippi Klansmen being banished. After the banishment of Douglas A. Byrd and E. L. McDaniel and others, they and their followers broke from the Original Knights and formed the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi. Ernest Gilbert was elected or appointed temporary head of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi in late 1963. Mr. Gilbert, E. L.—nicknamed Tiny—Lewis, and Douglas Byrd were part of a committee which drafted the White Knights constitution. With the election of the White Knights officers in February 1964, Gilbert was chosen grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, a position he held until June 1965, when he joined the United Klans of America, becoming its grand kleagle or State organizer, a position which he presently holds. Gilbert was the exalted cyclops of the original Klavern in Lincoln County, Mississippi. As grand director of the Klan Bureau of Investigation, Gilbert was responsible for gathering intelligence necessary for the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi to carry out acts of intimidation or violence by the State or by local Klaverns with State approval. Gilbert attended numerous meetings at which violence was planned or discussed.

In May 1964, he attended a meeting in the Salvage House of Algene Price located at Key Field, Meridian, Mississippi, at which Preacher Edgar Ray Killen presided. Killen was later arrested in connection with the slaying of the three civil rights workers in Philadelphia, Mississippi.

On June 7, 1964, he attended a meeting near Raleigh, Mississippi, where Klansmen were urged to obtain firearms and members were advised that the White Knights had 97 projects working through the State. At this meeting a printed instruction captioned "Harrasment" [sic] was given to the some 300 Klansmen present.

On June 24, 1964, Gilbert attended a meeting of Hinds County Klavern near Jackson where the grand giant discussed future projects, in which he stated that the province giant would select a unit to pull a job; the county coordinator would select a meeting place for the unit to discuss the details; thereafter the EC of the unit selected to pull the job would select the members to carry out its completion.

On September 20, 1964, Gilbert was part of a discussion on violence, in which he opposed burning or bombing churches but approved other forms of violence against what he described as "heathens" who used churches to hold meetings.

On September 29, 1964, Gilbert and V. T. Purser requested Grand Dragon Julius Harper for the State to burn or stinkbomb the Menonite School for Wayward Girls, which was being used as COFO headquarters.

In January 1965, Gilbert attended the first of several meetings relating to the formation of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the White Christian Protective and Legal Defense Fund.

July 16, 1965, spoke at a public rally held at the Crossroads Community, Poplarville, Mississippi. He was introduced as grand klegle for the UKA. He was accompanied on the platform by former members of the White Knights, C. J. Seal, now a titan of the United Klans of America; E. L. McDaniel, Grand Dragon for the United Klans of America; Louis DiSalvo, also on the platform; and Saxon Farmer and Oviad Dunaway.

The CHAIRMAN. Is that Farmer of Louisiana?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. And Oviad Dunaway, exalted cyclops of the Original Knights in Bogalusa, together with Jack Helm, a Louisiana Realm official from New Orleans, Louisiana.

On October 28, 1965, Gilbert was on the platform at a public rally with Imperial Wizard Shelton near Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Gilbert possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Gilbert, you have heard the statement of Mr. Appell, who you know is under oath just like you are. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or to explain any part of the statement. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry. Do you care to take advantage of this opportunity?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. In that case, Mr. Gilbert, absent your rebuttal or other facts which may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation. Bearing this in mind, do you have anything to say?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have anything more?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gilbert, I hand you two photographs taken during the rally held at Crossroads Community in Poplarville, Mississippi. I ask you to advise the committee as to the reason or purpose that persons shown in this photograph are dressed in black robes with black hoods, and even those in white robes carrying sidearms.

The CHAIRMAN. Doing what?

Mr. APPELL. Carrying sidearms, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you care to say what you were explaining to your counsel? And I don't want to pry into consultations at all now. But if you have anything to say, sir, now is the time to say it. If you don't know anything about it, why don't you say so?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Let me hand you back the one photograph and invite your attention to the man who has a camera in his hand whose back is in the photograph. I ask you whether or not that is yourself.

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you another photograph and ask you to observe the Klansman in a red robe. I then ask you if that is Charles Stewart whom you have been seated with this morning and who is on the front row on the seats to the left as you look to the rear of the room.

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions.

The CHAIRMAN. I see in this photograph, the one just handed to you, where it was indicated that you were the person in the photograph with your back turned, that some of the individuals, some of the people in this photograph, have red marks or Indian signs or something on their faces. Do you know what that stands for?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Honest to goodness now, Mr. Gilbert, isn't that silly? Take a look at that.

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based on the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Yet, on the other photograph that I hand you I see some people with sidearms, meaning pistols, with gun belts and cartridges all around their belts. That doesn't seem to be silly, that seems to be deadly serious to me. What does it seem to you?

Mr. GILBERT. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you have any further questions?

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Joseph Carlton Brown.

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, this witness affirms.

The CHAIRMAN. Do you solemnly affirm to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?

Mr. BROWN. I do.

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, before Mr. Appell asks the witness any questions, the subpoena has written over it "James Carlton Brown" and "James" is stricken out and above it is written "Joseph." I would like for the subpoena that I have to be corrected or the one the committee has to be corrected by letting me ask the reverend his true name.

The CHAIRMAN. All right.

Mr. CHALMERS. It is Joseph Carlton Brown, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. Thank you.

TESTIMONY OF JOSEPH CARLTON BROWN, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brown, would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. BROWN. Joseph Carlton Brown.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on the 29th day of October 1965 by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. BROWN. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel, Mr. Brown?

Mr. BROWN. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brown, when and where were you born?

Mr. BROWN. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of America.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee the benefit of your educational background?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Will you give the committee a résumé of your employment background from 1960?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I don't think you ought to do that, Reverend. I understand you are a minister and I really don't think you ought to do that. Why don't you tell us what you do?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brown, are you acquainted with an individual who resided in McComb by the name of Billy Earl Wilson?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brown, Billy Earl Wilson testified before this committee on January 18, 1966, in public session. In the course of his testimony, after he had identified himself as being a onetime member of the United Klans of America in Mississippi and after he had testified that he was assigned to a Klavern of the United Klans of America, which he did not know the number of but which the committee investigation establishes to be No. 700, he identified as the exalted cyclops of that Klavern Ray Smith, who is employed by the telephone company in McComb, Mississippi. He was asked in connection with the officers of that Klavern as to the identity of the kludd or the chaplain, and he identified as the kludd or chaplain the Reverend J. C. Brown. Was Mr. Wilson's testimony truthful?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson testified that after he was arrested he was visited, together with his other nine codefendants, by the Reverend J. C. Brown. Is his testimony truthful?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Would you tell the committee why you visited Billy Earl Wilson and the other defendants while they were in jail following their arrests?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The other defendant, Paul Dewey Wilson, at the time you were the kludd or chaplain of the Klavern, was he the klaliff or vice president of the Klavern?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Murphy John Duncan, another of the defendants, was he the klabee or treasurer of the Klavern?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you also know Murphy John Duncan to be the grand klabee or grand treasurer of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. At the time you visited Billy Earl Wilson in jail, did you advise him that the Imperial Wizard Shelton was going to assess every member of the United Klans of America to help pay their attorney fees, court costs, and other expenses?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Brown, I will now read you from Billy Earl Wilson's testimony, who was asked about his plea, and he said that he pleaded nolo contendere, and continued:

Yes, sir, nolo contendere, I was sentenced to 6 months in jail and a $500 fine. This 6 months was to be suspended, and the $500 fine had to be paid within a week's time, plus the cost of court, which was $78. So all told, I had to get hold of $578, I believe, is the right amount.

About Wednesday of that week Brother Brown sent word to me for me to stop over at his home, which I did. He gave me $250, which was half of my fine, and also gave me $78, which was all the costs of the court. That, as far as I knew then, I was just about in the same shape as I was in before, because I didn't have the money, you know, to match the other, for the half of it.

So my grandad—I might say he is a real nice guy—let me have the other half of the money, which I went down immediately the next afternoon from work, and I paid all my fines and everything.

Mr. APPELL. What about the fee that you had to pay for an attorney to defend you in this action?

Mr. WILSON. My aunts and uncles, and what little money I had, they all went together and tried for a lawyer, and I think they asked about two, I think, and finally wound up with Mr. L. S. McClaren. As a retainer, he said he had to have $500, which they all went together and made up the money, and they didn't have it, and he was my lawyer.

Mr. APPELL. So that of the $500 that you had to pay your attorney and the $500, plus court costs, that you were fined, the United Klans of America, of which you were a formal member and for which you engaged in these acts as a result of action formally taken within a Klavern chamber, paid then $100, I guess, toward your attorney fees, one-half of your fine in the amount of $250, and the $78 court costs, or a total of $428.

Mr. WILSON. As far as I know, that money that was raised that we received was raised right there, you know, in town, by—it may be some members that were in the Klan, but I imagine there was a lot of them that wasn't in the Klan that let us have some money. So far as I know, to actually say that I received money, I can't, because I don't know.

Did Billy Earl Wilson receive from you a total of $428?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Where was the money obtained which you used to reimburse Billy Earl Wilson and the other nine defendants in that action?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. If Billy Earl Wilson received $428 and there were defendants and they each received equal shares, it would be close to $4,000 that was collected. Did any of this money come from the United Klans of America imperial office in Tuscaloosa, Alabama?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact that none of this money came from the United Klans of America imperial office in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. I ask you to affirm or deny that fact.

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Reverend Brown, can you explain to me how it was that Imperial Wizard Shelton would deny to me, in an interview, that these McComb people were even members of the United Klans of America?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. Brown.

The CHAIRMAN. Sir, my information is that you are a minister of the Gospel, and I am not, believe me, undertaking to delve into your religious beliefs or to reproach you or lecture in the least. It is my recollection—and this recollection is in general terms—that Mr. Wilson did not say that you had obtained the money that you gave him from Klan members or from Klan headquarters or from Klan leaders. In fact, I got the general impression—and I may be wrong as to the details—that Mr. Wilson was at least implying you might have or probably did raise this money locally. I want to tell you, sir, as I have said many, many times before, if you did raise money for the defense of this young man or anybody in trouble, you would be doing absolutely nothing wrong. Could you tell us how you went about raising that money?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. I would even tell you, sir, that, if you did relate that, it wouldn't subject you to a continuous line of cross-examination on my part. I would be curious to know how you did raise that money and do what I assume you thought to be an act of kindness. Why can't you tell us that?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. It is my recollection also that this young man, Wilson, who got himself in an awful mess of trouble, said that he joined the Klan organization because he believed what had been represented to him, to the effect that that organization, in addition to standing for other things, such as Christianity, which we will overlook for the time being, stood for segregation of the races. He said that. I think it is true, and that brought no opposition from me, nor did it subject him to any cross-examination on my part.

Anyway, after having said what he was going to stand on and having gotten in trouble, and believing in it originally, he came to the conclusion that klanism was not the answer to racial segregation or integration. Would you care to address yourself to that?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Brown, you have been identified by our investigation as the kludd or chaplain of a Klavern, and therefore I assume you are its spiritual adviser. Do you feel there are circumstances which justify bombings and make them acceptable or Christian acts?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. BUCHANAN. You are a man in a position of some influence and are in a position to influence young people to join or not to join such an organization as the Klan. Do you feel that the activities of the Klan are such that this is a good and healthy organization for young people who might be under your influence to join?

Mr. BROWN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

The CHAIRMAN. The witness is excused.

The committee will stand in recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Willis and Buchanan.)

(Whereupon, at 3:50 p.m., Tuesday, February 1, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Wednesday, February 2, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 4

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the February 2 hearings, met, pursuant to recess, at 10:30 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Joe R. Pool (chairman of the subcommittee) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Joe R. Pool, of Texas, chairman; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; and John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Pool, Weltner, and Ashbrook.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

Mr. POOL. The committee will come to order.

The Chair wishes to make this announcement: Mr. Edwin Willis, the chairman of this subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, is not able to be here today, and he has redesignated the subcommittee to hear the witnesses this morning, and here is the authority for that:

Pursuant to the provisions of the law and the Rules of this Committee, I hereby appoint a subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities consisting of Honorable Joe R. Pool as Chairman, and Honorable Charles L. Weltner and Honorable John M. Ashbrook as associate members, to conduct hearings in Washington, D.C., on Wednesday, February 2, 1966, as contemplated by the resolution adopted by the Committee on the 30th day of March, 1965, authorizing hearings concerning the activities of the various Ku Klux Klan organizations in the United States.

Please make this action a matter of Committee record.

If any member indicates his inability to serve, please notify me.

Given under my hand this 2nd day of February, 1966.

Mr. Appell, are you ready for your next witness?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir; Mr. Chairman, I would like to call Mr. Emmett Thornhill, Sr.

Mr. POOL. Will you raise your right hand, please?

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing by the truth, so help you God?

Mr. THORNHILL. I do.

Mr. ALFORD. Mr. Chairman, Louis Alford, attorney.

Mr. POOL. Just a minute.

TESTIMONY OF JOHN EMMETT THORNHILL, SR., ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LOUIS ALFORD

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. THORNHILL. John Emmett Thornhill.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 29th day of October 1965 by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, are you represented by counsel?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. ALFORD. Louis Alford, attorney at law, McComb, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, when and where were you born?

Mr. THORNHILL. In 1908, in Walthall County, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. If you will, put that microphone a little bit closer to you, as the acoustics in this room are terrible.

Mr. THORNHILL. All right, sir.

Mr. APPELL. We will hear you a little better.

Now, would you tell us where, the month, and the day? I didn't get that. I heard the year 1908.

Mr. THORNHILL. October the 29, 1908, in Walthall County, State of Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, would you give the committee a brief résumé of your educational background?

Mr. THORNHILL. I didn't get any education.

Mr. APPELL. Would you give the committee a brief résumé of your employment background since 1960?

Mr. THORNHILL. In 1960?

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960, sir.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, farmer, and in the oil business. Independent operator.

Mr. APPELL. In the oil business?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And what was the first thing that you said? I didn't hear that.

Mr. THORNHILL. Farming.

Mr. APPELL. Oh, farming.

Mr. THORNHILL. I own my own farm.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. Thornhill, under the subpoena served upon you, there is an attachment which is made a part of the subpoena, and it commands for you to bring with you and to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past member of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klaus of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask you, Mr. Thornhill, whether you have any such documents in your possession, and if you will produce them in accordance with the subpoena?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I have none.

Mr. ALFORD. Mr. Chairman, the only thing that may be interpreted as falling within that category are three canceled checks, which—

Mr. POOL. Well, now, I would like to have the witness say whatever he wants to on that.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I have no records.

Mr. POOL. You have no records?

Mr. APPELL. Would you produce the checks which—

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, the first check which you produced is a check drawn on the First National Bank of McComb, Mississippi, payable to Radio Station WHNY, in the amount of $17, dated June 1, 1964.

The other is a check on the same bank in the amount of $25, dated June 2, 1964, to Radio Station WAPF; and the third check on the same bank, dated June 3, 1964, in the amount of $63, is payable to the Enterprise-Journal, all checks signed J. E. Thornhill.

Mr. Thornhill, can you explain to the committee how these checks fall within the purview of the subpoena and the purpose for which they were drawn?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. POOL. Let's see the checks.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; I can answer that.

Those checks were give—they got me to run an ad on each radio, put spots on the radios for Mr. Shelton's speech, which he was going to make at the fairground in McComb; also, run an ad in the paper. So that's what the checks was give for.

Mr. APPELL. And the Mr. Shelton that you are referring to is the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Who approached you for the purpose of paying the radio stations and the newspaper for this advertisement?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I just don't remember. I can't recall right now just who did do that.

Mr. APPELL. At the time that you were approached to make these payments, covering advertisement for a speech to be made by Imperial Wizard Shelton, were you a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And when did you first join the United Klans of America?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't remember that.

Mr. APPELL. Can you fix it roughly as to the early part of 1964 or late 1963?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; I don't remember.

Mr. APPELL. At the time that you gave the checks in June, can you recall approximately how many months you had been, at that time?

Mr. THORNHILL. Three or four months, something like that.

Mr. APPELL. Three or four months?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Explain to the committee the circumstances under which you became a member of the United Klans of America.

Mr. THORNHILL. What do you mean by that, now?

Mr. APPELL. Well, how did you become? Did you seek membership or did someone approach you for the purpose of becoming a member or just what were the circumstances?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; someone approached me to join the United Klans.

Mr. APPELL. And who approached you?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, now, I——

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Mr. Chairman, with respect, I decline to answer on the grounds that my answer might tend to involve me. I refuse to answer it, based on the right give me under the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, in refusing to answer that question, do you rely upon an oath of secrecy which is administered to Klansmen?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I didn't hear you.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. In other words, your refusal to answer that question is because as a Klansman, you were administered an oath of secrecy which you subscribe to?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; and this I just read.

Mr. APPELL. I think that for the purpose of the record, if you will say, when you desire to refer to the constitutional privileges which you invoked earlier, if you say that it is for the grounds previously stated, the record will reflect all of the reasons which you state.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, on the grounds that previously just was stated.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact that Mr. Thornhill, in response to a question, stated that among the reasons he refused to answer was the oath of secrecy that he took, I ask that he be directed to answer the last question.

Mr. POOL. Well, as I understand him, he took the fifth amendment also.

Mr. APPELL. Not with respect to whether or not among his reasons was the oath of secrecy which was given to Klansmen.

Mr. POOL. Why don't you restate your question. You are talking about his reasons, and that is a little different from trying to get a factual answer.

I don't think I should direct him on that. Restate your question, and maybe I can direct him.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, I asked you if, in refusing to answer the question as to the identity of the person that solicited your membership in the United Klans of America, you were relying upon an oath of secrecy administered to Klansmen. You said "yes."

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I then asked you whether or not you relied upon the oath of secrecy which you took as a Klansman, and you then invoked constitutional privileges, the reasons previously stated.

Have I summarized that properly?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, I understand it better now; yes. Well, that's the same answer.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. On the grounds previously stated on the matter.

Mr. POOL. Well, Mr. Thornhill, you are refusing to answer on the fifth amendment and not on your oath of secrecy that you took as a Klansman; is that correct?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; on the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. It was my opinion, Mr. Chairman, that Mr. Thornhill had waived his invocation by his "yes" answer to the first question asked.

Mr. POOL. But you are satisfied with his answer now.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Fine.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to the three checks that you submitted in payment for two radio advertisements and a newspaper advertisement of a rally at which the Imperial Wizard, Mr. Shelton, was going to speak, have you made any additional financial contributions to the United Klans of America, or for its use?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you pay an initiation fee into the United Klans of America?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you purchase a robe within the organization?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you pay dues to the organization?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And what was the rate of dues that you paid?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Dollar and a half a month.

Mr. APPELL. In summary, the $10.00—and I might ask, did you pay a fee of $10.00 as an initiation fee, or did you pay more?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. $10.00.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to the $10.00 initiation fee and $10.00 for the robe and a dollar and a half per month dues and the money paid to the radio stations and the newspaper, is this all of the financial contributions that you ever made for the benefit of the United Klans of America or its members?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. How long did you remain a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. THORNHILL. I just don't remember that. I don't remember. I can't recall just back, the month that I gotten out. I don't recall that.

Mr. WELTNER. I didn't understand that answer. What was that?

Mr. APPELL. He does not recall the month or the time that he ceased being a member.

Did you cease being a member?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And why did you cease being a member?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, they was doing some things that I didn't approve of too much, so I thought maybe I would get out.

Mr. APPELL. Well, can you explain to the committee some of the things that were happening that you didn't like too much that caused you to get out?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, there was something I didn't know. They didn't let me know anything that was going on. I didn't know whether the Klan was doing it or not, but everybody knew that I was in the Klan and they thought that I was the head of it, which I didn't know a thing about what was going on, and I didn't think the Klan was doing it. And so everybody was accusing me of doing it anyway, and I said, well, I would just get out of it.

If I was the only one that was open, that didn't care who knew, didn't care if people knew that I was a member, which I didn't care. I thought at that time that it was a mighty good organization, still think it is, but I didn't want everybody thinking that I was doing those things, when I was completely innocent of them.

Mr. APPELL. Did you determine that it was members of the United Klans?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; never did determine that it was in the United Klans, the Klan was doing this work until they picked them up, and I couldn't believe it then.

Mr. APPELL. Well, I mean after they picked them up, did you then realize that they were Klansmen?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. After they plead guilty to it; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And did you know them to be members of the United Klans of America after they picked them up?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir—well, I don't know they was a member until they picked them up, and they admitted that they were a member and were the ones that did the work.

Mr. APPELL. And at the time—we are talking now, are we, about the 11 people who were indicted in McComb, Mississippi, for engaging in a series of bombings and burnings of churches and other property?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. At the time these people were in jail, did you visit with them?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; I went to see them one time.

Mr. APPELL. And what was your purpose for going to see them?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, just went down to see the boys, being neighbors, as far as I know.

Mr. APPELL. Were you there also for the purpose of satisfying yourself that they were members of the United Klans of America?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I asked them and I also asked them, did they do it, and I wanted to satisfy myself on the thing. I couldn't believe it.

Mr. APPELL. And did you satisfy yourself?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, when they pleaded guilty to it, I said, well, I just can't understand it. I guess they was the ones that done it.

Mr. APPELL. But with respect to the personal interview that you had with them, did that convince you that they had—

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; it did not.

Mr. APPELL. Did they admit to you that they had engaged in it, prior to the plea?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; no, they denied it to me right up to the last.

Mr. APPELL. They denied it to you.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. When you went to prison to visit them, were you accompanied by anyone?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; Brother Brown went with me.

Mr. APPELL. Brother Brown.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; had prayer with him; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now, did you know Brother Brown to be a member of the Klan also?

Mr. THORNHILL. Not at that time; no, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Not at that time.

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; did not.

Mr. APPELL. But you did learn that he was a member of the Klan.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, later on; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Now Mr. Thornhill, to what Klavern of the Klan were you assigned for membership purposes?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. On the grounds previously stated, I will take that.

Mr. APPELL. Prior to the arrest of the McComb boys, did you know any of them personally?

Mr. THORNHILL. Two of them; yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. And what two did you know?

Mr. THORNHILL. I knew the Duncan boy and the little Zeek boy.

Mr. APPELL. Now did you know Duncan to have been elected in September of 1964 to the position of treasurer for the—

Mr. THORNHILL. No.

Mr. APPELL. —Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. THORNHILL. Did not.

Mr. APPELL. You didn't.

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you know that Duncan had gone to Birmingham, Alabama, to attend the United Klans of America klonvokation?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; I did not.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever meet, attend meetings, of the Klavern in McComb of which Ray Smith was the exalted cyclops?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I decline to answer that on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Paul Wilson, one of the boys involved in that, at the time of his arrest gave a statement to the Mississippi Highway Patrol that you sometimes attended meetings there.

Was his statement factual?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I decline on the grounds previously stated on that.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, an examination of records of the United Klans of America reflects that some payments which appear on an analysis to be dues payable to the Imperial Realm were signed by H. H. Mathews, payable out of a personal account.

Do you know Mr. Mathews?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would you have been assigned to a Klavern of which Mr. Mathews was the exalted cyclops?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I decline to answer on the grounds stated on that.

Mr. APPELL. The McComb bombers were arrested in October of 1964 and thereafter pleaded guilty and were given suspended sentences and fined; some fined, some not. How long after they entered their plea and you determined that they were United Klansmen did you drop out of the United Klans of America because it did not stand for what you thought the organization should stand for?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; I stated the reason a while ago, the reason I got out of the Klan. I got out of the Klan because my name was open, and they was accusing the Klan of dropping those sticks of dynamite and, of course, everybody, white and colored, thought that I was the head of it, and which was unbeknownst to me. I didn't know anything about it, and that was my reasons for getting out of the Klan at that time.

Mr. APPELL. But you did not approve of bombings.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, no, I didn't approve of going out there and stirring up a lot of trouble and getting a lot of publicity for something they can't buy.

Mr. APPELL. As a matter of fact, you were so convinced at one time that the people engaging in these acts were not Klansmen that you offered a thousand dollars reward for the apprehension?

Mr. THORNHILL. Certainly was; yes, sir. Put up a thousand dollars reward, put it in my paper. I just didn't believe our boys would have done anything like that. I couldn't believe it.

Mr. APPELL. And when you found out that some of the United Klans of America boys had done it, was this one of the things that caused you to drop out of the organization?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, I was done out. I was done out, then, way before then, before they found that out. They was kind of putting me on the spot. If they was doing it or if they wasn't doing it, if the colored people was doing it themselves, like we figured at one time, that they was doing it to get some publicity, I was getting out for this thinking I was the head of it, anyway.

Mr. APPELL. Well, at the time you visited the boys in jail, by that time, were you already out of the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir. Done out.

Mr. APPELL. Now the series of bombings started sometime in July.

Mr. THORNHILL. You remember what day it was? Do you recall what day it was? I can tell you what day I got out.

Mr. APPELL. Well, let's see if we can do it this way. On July 27, 1964, the newspaper reported your posting of a thousand dollar reward.

Mr. THORNHILL. I was in the Klan when I did that.

Mr. APPELL. So that it was sometime after that. Can you recall approximately how much later?

Mr. THORNHILL. Now, however, the bombs hadn't been throwed at that time. The church bombs, at that time, burning of the church at that time. And there is not a church in my county that I hadn't donated money to, one way or another, colored or white.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, some of the newspaper accounts quote you as saying that the bombings were carried out not by members of the White Knights, but by—not by members of the United Klans of America, but by the other Klan group in Mississippi.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I think that was all a bare mistake there. I don't know anything about the other Klan in Mississippi and I don't know anything about what they do, and I might have said I didn't—I know what I told the reporters. I told them that I didn't believe that the United Klans done the bombing, which I didn't.

Now that Drew Pearson column you got, well, I think the only truth you can find in that thing is the day it was printed.

Mr. APPELL. Well, I don't have a column by Mr. Pearson; I am referring to an article in the Christian Science Monitor. But why did you leave the Klan, or was there any other reason for leaving the Klan prior to the apprehension of these people than the fact that everyone thought that you were the head of the Klan and that you were responsible for these acts?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, now, that is going back to that Drew Pearson column, you see. He puts in your paper, up here in your paper, that I was the head man of the United Klans, but I never was a officer in the Klan, and of course people of my county and my State reads his papers, and I reckon one or two of them might believe it. I don't know. But that's what he run in that paper, well, the colored people read it, the white people read it, and such as that happened, well, J. E. Thornhill is the head of it, he is backing it up, see, which I didn't know anything about.

Mr. APPELL. Have you since the time that you left the Klan, sometime after July 27 and sometime before October, have you ever been approached for the purpose of reorganizing the Klan in that area?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, no. No, sir. I haven't.

Mr. APPELL. You seem a little uncertain, Mr. Thornhill. Is it just the way you express yourself, or was there some discussion about the reorganization?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, not reorganization; no. I have never been approached to come back and reorganize; no, sir, never have.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. Thornhill.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Thornhill, I take it that after the arrest of some 11 persons who were charged with the various bombings in your area, that was the time that you determined to resign from the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. When was that?

Mr. THORNHILL. I was already out, way before that.

Mr. WELTNER. Before then?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Was it before the bombings?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Was it between the bombings and the arrests that you resigned?

Mr. THORNHILL. No; now it was when they began to burn down the churches, the people in there, everybody was accusing me of being the head of it, and it was all done unbeknownst to me. I didn't know anything about it and I didn't believe that they was the ones doing it, but to clear myself, I got out and had it run in the paper that I was out of the Klan.

Mr. WELTNER. I see.

So after the various acts of violence in that area, you resigned and got out and made a public notice to that effect.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; I had to work those colored boys. They work for me, and I don't want any of them having any hard feelings at me, thinking that I was doing such things as that.

Mr. WELTNER. You do not approve of burning churches, bombing homes, and that sort of thing; do you?

Mr. THORNHILL. Absolutely not. The United Klans don't approve of anything like that, either.

Mr. WELTNER. Beg your pardon?

Mr. THORNHILL. The United Klans of America don't believe that, either. If a man in our Klavern—will you let me talk just a minute?

If a man would get up in the Klavern and bring up something like that, to go bomb a place of business and burn down a church, he wouldn't be a member long.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, did anyone ever do that in any Klavern discussion?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; no, sir; didn't.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, sir, now you say, or I believe your testimony previously was, that everyone had the idea that you were the head of this organization and that you were the only one who didn't care whether or not the people knew you were in the Klan. Is that right?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And your testimony is that everybody else in the Klan was anxious that their membership in the Klan be not publicly known?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. That people not know?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, really; yes. You see, a lot of the members working for people were probably companies, maybe, railroad companies; well, if they knew they belonged to the Ku Klux Klan, they would want to maybe take their jobs, see. But they can't take my job, I can get a job, so I didn't care who knew it. It was a fine organization, was set up for a good purpose, and I think it was to do a lot of good.

Mr. WELTNER. But you were the only one in there who was willing to have your membership known to the public. Is that right? Do I understand this correctly, that everybody else in the Klan that you knew was anxious that the public had no knowledge of their membership in the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, it is supposed to be a secret organization.

Mr. WELTNER. What is the purpose of the secrecy of it, Mr. Thornhill?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, as I just stated, maybe you are working for, myself, for J. E. Thornhill, and J. E. Thornhill don't approve of the Klan. Well, if I find out you are a member, well, naturally I would fire you, get me somebody that wasn't a member of the Klan. There are lots of people like that.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, there is a reason for the secrecy. Is the reason for the secrecy to protect the jobs of members of the Klan, to keep them from being fired?

Mr. THORNHILL. Pardon me again, now?

Mr. WELTNER. Is the reason for the secrecy of the Klan to protect the jobs of the members of the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I am not educated much, but that's what I figure it was; yes.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I didn't make the rules. I didn't make the constitutions of it, and when I got in there, I taken one of the—I made an oath that a man can take. When you join the United Klans, you take an oath that you will uphold the law and the Constitution of the United States until death, and that's pretty good.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, I will grant you that, sir. It is a very worthwhile oath to take to uphold the Constitution of the United States, and I am just wondering why members should be fearful that the public knows they take such an oath, to uphold the Constitution of the United States.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know nothing about why—well, I don't know why they didn't let me know they were going to do those jobs. I believe I could have done a better job, but when I was 16 years old, that was my job, blowing up stumps on the highway.

Mr. WELTNER. Beg pardon?

Mr. THORNHILL. That was my job, blowing up stumps. That was my job when I was a 16-year-old boy.

Mr. WELTNER. A better job than what, Mr. Thornhill?

Mr. THORNHILL. Throwing those sticks of dynamite.

Mr. WELTNER. I still can't understand you. A better job of what?

Mr. THORNHILL. Throwing those sticks of dynamite. I believe I could have placed them a little better. Dynamite blows up, not sideways.

Mr. WELTNER. You mean if you had been in charge of this operation, you could have done a better job of blowing up things than they did?

Mr. THORNHILL. I could have done a better job, I believe. I don't think they intended to hurt anybody. That's my belief.

Mr. WELTNER. I thought you said you didn't approve of blowing things up like that, either.

Mr. THORNHILL. I didn't say then I did, either.

Mr. WELTNER. You just think technically the job was not well done. Is that it?

Mr. THORNHILL. No; for what they was trying to do, probably might have been all right.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, wait a minute now. What they were trying to do was to blow up houses and burn churches, wasn't it, Mr. Thornhill?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't think they was trying to blow up any houses. I think they tried to throw the dynamite out in the yard.

Mr. WELTNER. Wasn't it really just designed to blow up and explode in the yard and not hurt anybody or damage any property?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes. Now I don't know whether you have the paper, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, did you happen to have an opportunity of looking at any of these houses or properties that were blown up in that area?

Mr. THORNHILL. I saw one church.

Mr. WELTNER. Saw one church?

Mr. THORNHILL. That was blowed up. I saw several churches that was burned down, a couple of them.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you see property owned by a person named Quinn that was destroyed on September the 20th?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; I did not.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you know where that property is?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. But you know that was one of the houses that was blown up around there at the time; don't you?

Mr. THORNHILL. I read it in the paper, heard about it, sure did.

Mr. WELTNER. Look at these photographs there.

(Documents handed to witness.)

Mr. THORNHILL. My boy that worked for me lived about a hundred yards from that house, but I never did see it.

Mr. WELTNER. Now you will notice, looking at those photographs, that it appears as though one whole side of the house has been blown in, and the furniture and contents in a state of disarray, ceilings falling down. But you did not see that yourself.

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir. I heard that bomb go off, though.

(Photographs previously marked "Billy Wilson Exhibit No. 1." See pp. 2853, 2854.)

Mr. WELTNER. You heard that Quinn explosion go off?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, I sure did.

Mr. WELTNER. All right.

Now did I understand that you think it was that the boys just made the mistake, threw this thing too close to the house, so that it blew up the house, instead of blowing up out in the yard?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know about that; no.

Mr. WELTNER. But if you had been doing that, you would have fixed it so it just blew up out in the yard; is that so?

Mr. THORNHILL. I wouldn't have done it at all.

Mr. WELTNER. But if you had done it, you would have done a better job.

Mr. THORNHILL. I tell you, four or five sticks of dynamite is too heavy for me to pick up, so I am not going to be bothered about doing that.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Thornhill, I don't exactly understand some of these matters.

Did you have any reason for—let me back up a minute. You quit because you didn't want people thinking you were head of this Klan operation that was conducting all these bombings. Is that right?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Church bombings. I was out before the bombings started.

Mr. WELTNER. What was that?

Mr. THORNHILL. I was out of the Klan before the bombings started, before they ever done any of the burnings.

Mr. WELTNER. You resigned before the first bombing?

Let me put the question again. You say you were not a member of the Klan when the first bombing took place?

Mr. THORNHILL. No.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, and you resigned before that time.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. But you resigned after the burnings? Is that correct?

Mr. THORNHILL. Church burning; yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. I see.

Now how many churches had been burned before you resigned?

Mr. THORNHILL. I couldn't answer that.

Mr. WELTNER. Sir?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, on July 17, the Zion Hill Free Baptist Church, McComb, Mississippi, was burned; on July 18, the Sweet Home Church in McComb, Mississippi, was burned. Was that about the time that you resigned, sometime after that?

Mr. THORNHILL. It was about in that.

Mr. WELTNER. Then on July 21, the Mount Vernon Missionary Baptist Church was burned; and on the 22d of July, the Rose Bower Missionary Baptist Church was burned; then on the 5th of August, the Mount Canaan Missionary Baptist Church in Smithtown(?) was burned. That was sometime in that area; wasn't it?

Mr. THORNHILL. Sometime in that area; yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And you resigned about in that time. And you said you didn't want people thinking you were responsible for these burnings.

Mr. THORNHILL. Right. White and colored.

Mr. WELTNER. I believe you also said that you didn't believe the Klan had anything to do with those burnings.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. At that time, I did not.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, do you know they did now?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, I don't know that they did. All I know is what they say.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, you know they pleaded guilty; don't you?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, but I have never seen one of them do it.

Mr. WELTNER. You resigned because you didn't want people thinking you had anything to do with burning those churches.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I stated a little while ago, I have to work people. I don't do it myself and I hire people to do it. Most of it is colored workers, and naturally, it is getting to where it looked like it was hard for me to get anybody. When I wanted somebody to do anything, it was hard to me to get them; they thought I was the head of the bombings and burning churches, and things, and I just got out and made it public that I was out of the Klan.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, when you made that public, was it easier to get help after having resigned from the Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I don't have to do my own work; yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. That means, I take it, you could get help now. Right?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. So you resigned for economic reasons, because it was affecting your ability to hire Negro employees; is that right?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. No, it wasn't that, altogether. I just didn't want people thinking that I was doing things and having things done that I didn't know anything about and accusing me of things like that. Every time a couple of FBI would be sent to my State, to my town, they—it didn't matter who he approached, they would say, "Why don't you go pick up the big man, the head man?" See?

Mr. WELTNER. And you were known as the head man of the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. Pardon me?

Mr. WELTNER. You were known as the head man.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, because of Drew Pearson, I was.

Mr. WELTNER. Were you the head man?

Mr. THORNHILL. I have never been an officer in the Klan in my life.

Mr. WELTNER. Who was the head man?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know. Mr. Shelton, as far as I know, the Imperial Wizard.

Mr. WELTNER. Who was the head man in your Klavern?

Mr. THORNHILL. I decline to answer that.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you have any reason, other than the economic reasons, for not wanting people to believe you were a member of the Klan?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I just didn't want my friends thinking that I was the one doing all that. And you have got to understand, I am in the oil business. I made millions of dollars off of the colored people and the white people's land, by buying their lease and drilling their oil wells. And naturally, if a colored man reads that paper that J. E.

Thornhill is the head man of the Ku Klux Klan, you think I can walk up to his house and tell him I want to buy his oil lease for $10.00 an acre or $25.00 an acre? He wouldn't let me have it. That's how I make my money, how I make my living.

Mr. WELTNER. This public notoriety or public knowledge that you were a member of the Klan hurt your ability to make profitable oil leases from colored landholders.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, did you ever have any discussion in the Klavern about any action that the Klan—what was the program of the Klan after the time you joined it? From the time you quit?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WELTNER. I mean, what was the policy of the Klan, what was the purpose of it?

Mr. THORNHILL. I respectfully decline on the grounds previously answered.

Mr. WELTNER. But did you testify a moment ago that no suggestion was ever made in the Klavern meeting that any acts of violence be conducted against any individual?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Not in my presence, there never was; no.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, did you go to Klan meetings regularly, the Klavern meetings?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, I went to my meetings regularly.

Mr. WELTNER. Was that every week?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, practically every week.

Mr. WELTNER. Where did it meet?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, we had a building there, what we call the Hinton Building, I believe, and that's where we met at, but we discussed, we had a committee of four men. Would you like me to tell you about that?

Mr. WELTNER. Yes, I sure would.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WELTNER. I would like very much to accept your offer and to have you tell us about it, Mr. Thornhill, and I wish you would proceed. And I am sure this committee is anxious to accept your offer.

You are the first member that has come here that has offered to testify anything about the Klan, and we have had a lot of members of the Klan here who refused to, and I appreciate your offering to tell us about it, so you have all the time you need, and we accept your offer, sir.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I stated a while ago that if a man would get in a Klavern and mention about a bombing, he would be throwed out of the Klan right then, not after while, but right then, if he had brought up a subject like that.

We had a committee of men appointed to go see the sick in the hospital, preachers, and deacons of the church. We had another committee, appointed to see about the needy in the community. Women with children, no groceries in the house, and we carried them groceries, white and colored.

We didn't discuss any bombings of churches, burning churches, and bombing houses, nothing like that, wasn't never brought up.

Mr. WELTNER. You mean the only thing you did in the Klan was to help the needy and the sick, and those were the only discussions you ever had in the Klan meetings about which needy and which sick you were going to help?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Are you testifying that as a fact now, Mr. Thornhill?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir. Yes, sir. We had another committee of men to go around to the schools, screen the libraries.

Mr. WELTNER. Screen the libraries?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir. Get the books out of there.

Mr. WELTNER. Now there is another thing you talked about. What were the books?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know. I don't have that much education. We had a committee of men to do that.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you recall the names of any books?

Mr. THORNHILL. No. No.

Mr. WELTNER. Which committee did you serve on?

Mr. THORNHILL. I wasn't on the committee. I haven't got that kind of education.

Mr. WELTNER. Who was the head of the book committee?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know that, either.

Mr. WELTNER. What libraries did they go to see?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, the ones in the schools.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, is that the public schools?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And how many public school libraries were there involved in that work of the book committee?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, we had two or three in our unit. They were supposed to screen and see about it.

Mr. WELTNER. You don't recall the names of any books?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; but we found one, we found the books in one library, and we also, that company that put those books in there will never sell any more books in Mississippi, but I can't call the company that put the books in there.

Mr. WELTNER. What was the book about?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Some sex book.

Mr. WELTNER. And it was in the public library?

Mr. THORNHILL. A little girl 15 years old checked the book out; yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. From the public library?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And you don't know the name of the book?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, I sure don't.

Mr. WELTNER. You don't know the name of—

Mr. THORNHILL. I wish I did.

Mr. WELTNER. What library was that, Mr. Thornhill?

Mr. THORNHILL. North Pike School.

Mr. WELTNER. North what?

Mr. THORNHILL. North Pike.

Mr. WELTNER. P-i-k-e?

Mr. THORNHILL. P-i-k-e; yes sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And that is some members of the Klan library committee called upon the school principal? Is that the way it would work?

Mr. THORNHILL. Let's go back again now.

Mr. WELTNER. How did you work that? You decided this book needed to come out of the library, and then the members of the committee called on the librarian?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know the complete details on it, but I guess that's way it was; yes sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And then they took the book out of the library?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, a little girl checked the book out, and the Klan somehow or another got hold of the book. I don't know how, but—and then they appointed a committee to go to the library and check the books and screen the libraries and get those kind of books out. We didn't need them in there, and I still don't believe we need them in there.

Mr. WELTNER. What other books, other than the sex books, were they?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know the name of the book.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you mean a book about the physical and physiological aspects of marriage? Is that the kind of book you are talking about, or was this a—

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know. They didn't tell the book. All I know is of course they said we didn't need this kind of books in there, and we got them out, and I can't read a newspaper and I can't read a book, so how would I know what kind of a book it was?

Mr. WELTNER. Yet you think this book ought to come out of there.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. From what they said, it ought to come out; yes.

Mr. WELTNER. What did they say about it, Mr. Thornhill?

Mr. THORNHILL. I said they didn't have any business a teenager reading the book, and I didn't think they did, either. I am a pretty good-sized taxpayer in my county, and the principal didn't think they ought to be up there screening the library, and I went to see him and talked to him, and he told us that—my committee that did screening—the library lady just hadn't had time to separate the books, and that book got in there accidentally, some way.

Mr. WELTNER. You say the principal at first thought the Klan didn't have any business screening the library?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Right.

Mr. WELTNER. And then you went to call on the principal.

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And the principal decided that the Klan actually did have some business screening the library. Is that right?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, not necessarily the Klan, but the people of the community. The taxpayers. I have a little daughter. She is 17 now. And if my little girl had brought that book home, it would have been more sand raised than there was, I expect.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, sir, and this book-screening took place in every public library in the area.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WELTNER. In addition to the North Pike School?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, we had our own territory to screen; other units had theirs, I guess.

Mr. WELTNER. What was your territory?

Mr. THORNHILL. North Pike School.

Mr. WELTNER. Just one school?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. But you weren't on that book committee, were you?

Mr. THORNHILL. No.

Mr. WELTNER. Your Klavern, though, had jurisdiction?

Mr. THORNHILL. I am a businessman. I haven't got time to be on any kind of committee like that.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. WELTNER. Your Klavern had jurisdiction just over screening books in the North Pike School?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And as I understand, then, that other Klaverns had the other schools in the area, the other public schools?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't really know, but they are supposed to.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, what is your understanding of it?

Mr. THORNHILL. My understanding was that they did; yes.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, you had a sick committee and a needy committee and a book committee. Where did the Klan get its funds to take groceries to poor people, if the dues were only a dollar and a quarter or a dollar a month?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, it passed the hat around, and they would take up collections for donations like that.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you ever contribute to any fund for the needy, food for the needy?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, yes, there has never been anybody come to me needing funds that I didn't help, in the last 10 years.

Mr. WELTNER. All right. Let's get this straight now. You are under oath and you are on the record. A while ago, you testified the only contribution you made to any Klan activities—

Mr. THORNHILL. That wasn't in the Klan.

Mr. WELTNER. —was the klectokon?

Mr. THORNHILL. That didn't go in the Klan treasury at all.

Mr. WELTNER. Permit me, please, to finish my statement. You will have full time to answer.

—was the klectokon, the initiation fee, the monthly dues, and these three checks. Now in addition to that, you testified you contributed money for the needy?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, we were talking about a while ago what went into the Klan treasury. This didn't ever get into the Klan treasury. This went for a purpose donation.

Mr. WELTNER. Who collected the money?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I can't even recall who—

Mr. WELTNER. Was there—

Mr. THORNHILL. Maybe half a dozen passed the hat around.

Mr. WELTNER. Was there a chairman of the needy committee?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. It varies from time to time. It wouldn't be the same one. Maybe I would grab a hat and go around, "Here, $3.00, $25.00, $2.00," or something, and maybe if you had been in there, you would have grabbed the hat. Well, you can't remember such things as that goes on, but that's the way it was worked, and that money didn't ever get into the Klan at all.

Mr. WELTNER. Who would deliver the groceries, Mr. Thornhill?

Mr. THORNHILL. The committee would be appointed.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, the committee was secret, though; wasn't it? I mean, they wouldn't let anybody know they were in the Klan; would they?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, when they delivered those groceries, he didn't let anybody know it, either.

Mr. WELTNER. So did you ever go on a grocery-delivering committee?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; I didn't ever. No, sir; I didn't. But I do deliver a lot of them.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, they wouldn't tell—

Mr. THORNHILL. But not in the Klan; no.

Mr. WELTNER. You mean they would just go give these groceries and not tell anybody it was a gift of the Ku Klux Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, they would tell them it was a gift. I just didn't know it. They had on the robe and hood, when they delivered.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you say they delivered groceries to colored families?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Did they wear hoods and robes when they delivered those groceries to colored families?

Mr. THORNHILL. They would have on their hood and robe; yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Did those colored families appreciate it?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know about that. I guess they did.

Mr. WELTNER. I would just as soon go hungry, if I were under circumstances like that.

Mr. THORNHILL. I think they might be proud to get them.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, you had a sick committee and a needy committee and a book committee.

What other committees did you have?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. That's all I can recall right now. All the committees.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you have a wrecking crew?

Mr. THORNHILL. Have a what?

Mr. WELTNER. A wrecking crew?

Mr. THORNHILL. Wrecking crew?

Mr. WELTNER. Wrecking crew?

Mr. THORNHILL. What would they wreck? No, we never had no wrecking crew in my unit. Of course I had a wrecking crew, but he wasn't in the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. WELTNER. Who was that?

Mr. THORNHILL. A boy that worked for me, a colored boy that worked for me. He tore up three cars that I bought him. I give him a motor bike then, and he wrecked that motor bike the first week. The next week I give him another motor bike, and he got killed on it.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, Mr. Thornhill, if you did all these good works and kept those dirty books out of the schools and delivered those groceries to those poor colored folks down there, why do you have to keep the membership secret?

Mr. THORNHILL. Have to keep what, now?

Mr. WELTNER. Have to keep the membership secret, if this is no more than a charity group?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know. I didn't keep mine secret. I could tell anybody I was a member, but I taken an oath that I couldn't tell anybody that you belonged.

Mr. WELTNER. Is that why you are not telling me who the members of this Klan were?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. No.

Mr. WELTNER. Why are you refusing to tell us the name of the member of your Klavern?

Mr. THORNHILL. On the fifth amendment.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. POOL. Mr. Ashbrook.

Mr. ASHBROOK. Mr. Thornhill, I am interested very much in one particular facet of your testimony. You impressed me with your business background, and so forth, as being a man of considerable intelligence, notwithstanding education.

I happen to be one who believes that a person can succeed, regardless of education. You obviously have, and yet with your intelligence, which you obviously have, you still don't seem to want to believe that the Klan has participated in bombings or acts of violence in your area.

It seems to me all the questions that have been propounded, you pretty well insist that the Klan has not perpetrated acts of violence. Is that a meaningful position that you take? Do you honestly believe the Klan has not?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't believe the Klan has ever, the United Klans of America has ever participated in agitating any kind of work like that, no.

Mr. ASHBROOK. What about the pleas of guilty of the Klan members?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, that's the same thing in your church. A preacher will get up there and preach to you all day long, but you ain't going to do what he tells you to do. That's the boys in that United Klan, some of them won't do what you tell them to do.

Mr. ASHBROOK. I think you mentioned at one point that you had never seen any acts of violence. Is that the basis for your refusing to believe that the Klan had participated in any acts of violence?

Mr. THORNHILL. They claimed that. They never admitted it. Sometimes you think, "Well, I guess they did do it," and then again, you think, "they done that just to get out of court," so I just don't know.

Mr. ASHBROOK. Then in asking you a straight question, do you believe the Klan has participated in violence in your area, what would be your answer?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; no, sir.

Mr. ASHBROOK. How do you possibly square that with testimony you made a few moments ago, and I recall because I wrote down almost specifically what you said, and you said, and I quote roughly what you said, at one point, you believed the Negroes were doing these bombings to get publicity.

Is that not correct? You stated that just a few moments ago.

Mr. THORNHILL. That was the rumor around, yes, in town. That they was doing it.

Mr. ASHBROOK. That was the purport of what you said. You said, "At one point we believed," and obviously, you were a part of that.

Mr. THORNHILL. I did, I believed they were doing it, some of it; yes. They were throwing it out in the yard, not in the house, and it looked to me like that; yes.

Mr. ASHBROOK. You weren't present when any Negroes bombed, were you?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, I wasn't.

Mr. ASHBROOK. Then how could you possibly want to believe that Negroes were doing this, when you had no evidence, but you can't possibly bring yourself to believe that the white Klanners were doing this, when there is considerable evidence?

Mr. THORNHILL. It just looked to me like if I was going to bomb my house, wouldn't I throw it out there in the yard with a stick of dynamite at my house? Would it to you?

Mr. ASHBROOK. The question I am raising is you have already expressed an indication that you believed and thought that the Negroes were doing this to gain publicity, when there was no real evidence, or at least you haven't cited any.

Mr. THORNHILL. I have reasons to believe.

Mr. ASHBROOK. When there is a record full of evidence that Klan members were doing this, you do not want to believe in their case that they had done these acts of violence. It just does not seem to me that that is consistent and can't possibly be a position that you, as an intelligent, successful man, can take.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I am quoting the rumors. It was going around in town, see.

Mr. ASHBROOK. What about the rumors of the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. And my own belief, too, now. If I was going to bomb my house, and make somebody think that somebody else done it, naturally, I would throw it where it wouldn't do any damage, and that's where the sticks of dynamite was hitting there to start with.

Mr. ASHBROOK. Okay, admitting that there were rumors going around your town that the Negroes were doing it to gain publicity, a rumor which by your own statement you admitted that you tended to believe, what were the rumors that were going around town regarding the Klan involvement in these bombings?

Did you choose not to believe these?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I guess so. I never had heard anything in the organization on that line at all. And—

Mr. ASHBROOK. Well, not in the organization. I am talking about rumors around town. You are talking about rumors regarding the Negroes. There certainly must have been rumors regarding the Klan. I find it a very interesting inconsistency and one which, I might say, is a pattern of the Klan, to want to believe the worst about the Negro, but not to recognize, even when evidence is demonstrated, that any of your own members, any of your own people, could possibly be participants in these matters. And I merely want to point out for the record what I think is a very glaring inconsistency and a very unfair inconsistency as far as your statement is concerned, your willingness to believe the Negroes were doing this to get publicity, but your unwillingness in the face of a mountain of evidence to think that any Klanners could be participants in these bombings.

And that, Mr. Chairman, is all I have to say.

Mr. POOL. I want to ask you: I think during the testimony you said that the reason that, I think something to this effect, that they would take their jobs. You remember that a while ago? Why would they take their jobs?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, as I stated a while ago, maybe a man was working for you, and you didn't believe in the Klan and you didn't like the Ku Klux Klan. Maybe you had read a whole lot about Klans accused of them that they didn't do, and they laid off, but anyway, you didn't believe in the Ku Klux Klan, but I was working, see, and that's the only way I had of making a living, working for you, and you find out I was in the Klan. Naturally you would fire me, wouldn't you? You didn't like the Klan, didn't believe in the Klan, you would get rid of me and get somebody that didn't belong to the Klan.

Mr. POOL. Well, then, is it prevalent in your area that the Klan is unpopular?

Mr. THORNHILL. With some people they are; yes, sir. Yes, sir. Certainly are.

Mr. POOL. Would you say a majority of the people in your area?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, I wouldn't say that much; no. I wouldn't say that.

Mr. POOL. Would you say a majority of the people approve of the Klan in your area?

Mr. THORNHILL. I wouldn't say that either.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. POOL. What is your opinion?

Mr. THORNHILL. There are a few that disapproves of it.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. The large majority, I don't know which way they go, but there are a few of them that don't approve of the Klan, I think, but of course, I think, the large majority understands what the organization was for and what it means, and I think the large majority approves of the Klan.

Mr. POOL. Well, is the Klan losing membership in your area?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I wouldn't know about that. I haven't been in it in a long time.

Mr. POOL. What is the talk around town? What do they say around town?

Mr. THORNHILL. I never discuss it any more.

Mr. POOL. You never discuss it?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; I don't talk about that. I talk about my business. I have got enough business of my own to talk about, without talking about somebody else's.

Mr. POOL. What is your feeling about your activities as a Klansman? Are you proud of the fact that you were a former Klansman?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. POOL. Or are you ashamed?

Mr. THORNHILL. Pardon me, now?

Mr. POOL. Are you proud of the fact that you are an ex-Klansman?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I would rather not answer that. I think it is a good organization, put it that way.

Mr. POOL. You think it is a good organization?

Mr. THORNHILL. I certainly do.

Mr. POOL. You think it still is?

Mr. THORNHILL. One of the finest, help a lot of people.

Mr. POOL. Why did you resign? What was your reason for resigning?

Mr. THORNHILL. What was my reason for resigning?

Mr. POOL. Yes.

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, because of all the publicity I was getting. I didn't approve of that. I don't like that publicity. The only place a man ever sees my name, if it is left up to me, is in a telephone book, and I was getting too much publicity, bad publicity and some good publicity, and I just didn't approve of that, so I thought maybe if I would get out, I would stop some of it.

Mr. POOL. You still obey your Klan oath?

Mr. THORNHILL. Pardon me, now?

Mr. POOL. Do you still obey your Klan oath that you took?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I fully decline on the ground that—

Mr. POOL. Well, I would consider that you do, because you have refused to name other people, even though you are using the fifth amendment, but I would assume that the Klan oath also has quite an effect on your answers.

These boys that you testified lived 100 yards from the Quinn house, were they boys that worked for you?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir; one boy. That was the boy that managed my ranch, my farm.

Mr. POOL. That was a colored boy?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes.

Mr. POOL. Lived within a hundred yards?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I say a hundred yards. It might have been 200 yards. Somewhere near. But the Quinn house was up on this block. I would come in, whenever I wanted him, and maybe he wouldn't show up this morning, I would want him in, and I would come in thisaway, and I never had any reason to go down Sumter Street at all.

Mr. POOL. Did you know the Quinn people?

Mr. THORNHILL. Pardon me, now?

Mr. POOL. Did you know the Quinns?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, I know her now. Yes, I know her now, but I didn't know her until after this house was bombed and all, and all the publicity got out on her, I didn't ever know her.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell, I think you have some questions.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thornhill, you talked about the oath that you took as a Klansman, about how it is sworn to uphold the Constitution.

Will you explain to the committee that part of the oath that you took in which you swore, and I quote it; "I swear that I will keep secure to myself a secret of a [Klan]*sman"——

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. [Continues reading:]

—when same is committed to me in the sacred bond of [Klan]*smanship, the crime of violating THIS solemn oath—treason against the United States of America, rape, and malicious murder alone excepted.

Why did you—what is the purpose of that oath?

Mr. THORNHILL. That's not in the United Klans.

Mr. APPELL. I beg to differ with you, Mr. Thornhill. I show the series——

Mr. THORNHILL. That's not the oath that I taken.

Mr. APPELL. Let me show you. This is not in the form that the United Klan prints it. It is in the reprinted form, because we needed so many of them, but let me show you this.

Mr. THORNHILL. Read that off to me again. Let me hear that again. I want to hear that.

Mr. APPELL. Well, I want you to see the entire series of oaths, a section on obedience, a section on secrecy, a section on fidelity, and a section on Klanishness.

Now I give you this.

Mr. THORNHILL. I can't read that thing. You just read it off.

Mr. APPELL. [Reading:] "I swear that I will keep secure to myself a secret of a [Klan]*sman."

Now you are shaking your head.

Mr. THORNHILL. In the United Klan, you can tell anybody that you are a member, but you can't tell the other members.

Mr. APPELL. Well, that is one of—that which you are talking about is also here, but then it says, it goes on, the secret——

when same is committed to me in the sacred bond of [Klan]*smanship, the crime of violating THIS solemn oath—treason against the United States of America, rape, and malicious murder alone excepted.

Now why would you be required to keep a secret of a fellow Klansman, except in the case of treason, rape, and malicious murder, if the Klan did not engage in acts other than that?

Mr. THORNHILL. I don't know.

(Document previously marked "Robert Shelton Exhibit No. 4." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 343-346.)

Mr. APPELL. Now you testified that you attended Klan meetings in the Hinton Building. On what nights did you attend Klan meetings? (Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Thursday night.

Mr. APPELL. Thursday night. Now did you have knowledge that there was another Klavern that also met there on Tuesday nights?

Mr. THORNHILL. Yes, sir. Yes. I reckon on Tuesday night. I knew that there was some more Klansmen meeting there. I didn't know what night. I don't recall what night.

Mr. APPELL. And did you know that the exalted cyclops of that Klavern was Ray Smith?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I decline to answer that, on the grounds.

Mr. APPELL. And did you also know that the members of that Klavern were the members who engaged in acts of violence that they later admitted and confessed to?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir. I did not know those boys. I didn't even know they was in the Klan.

Mr. APPELL. Didn't know any of them in the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. I knew one of the boys. I knew Duncan, is the only boy that I knew that they picked up.

Mr. APPELL. You knew him to be a member of the Klan?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; I didn't know he was a member of the Klan. He wasn't in my Klavern. I didn't know he was a member. But I knowed him. I knowed that boy all my life. The only one of the 10 or 9 or 11 that they arrested that I knew. I knew the faces; by name, I didn't know them. I knew the Zeek boy, I knew him.

Mr. APPELL. Well, now, can you explain to me how this happens, that one of the Klansmen who were involved in an act of violence, attempted burning of a church, becomes a delegate to a supreme convention of this organization, which you say is a good organization, and doesn't engage in these things?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Don't know about that. I don't know that.

Mr. APPELL. Did you make an investigation to determine whether or not this organization met your ideals or whether or not its members did engage in such things?

Mr. THORNHILL. No. No, I didn't. I thought it all just like ours. I thought that all the units was like my unit, and I know things like that were never brought up and discussed in our unit.

Mr. APPELL. Now can you explain to the committee if this sort of thing is not condoned by the United Klans of America, why the Grand Dragon of Georgia solicited funds for the boys that were arrested and why the Realm of Louisiana submitted money to the Grand Dragon of Mississippi for a defense fund?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, now, that's something I wouldn't know. I couldn't answer that.

Mr. APPELL. Well, if you knew that they were financing attorneys' fees and helping to pay costs of expenses of people who were involved in bombing, what would your reaction be with respect to the worthwhileness of the organization?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I don't think I would have liked that too much.

Mr. POOL. I did not get your answer to that.

Mr. APPELL. He said he did not think that he would like that too much.

Well, Mr. Thornhill, I suggest that you make an investigation, because there are many acts of violence.

Mr. THORNHILL. I am not going to make no investigation now. If I am out, I intend to stay out.

Mr. APPELL. There are many acts of violence which are still unsolved, which this committee's investigation establishes to have been committed by Klansmen and members of the United Klans of America, and your investigation could satisfy to yourself whether the organization that you say is a worthwhile organization is in fact worthwhile.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I am out of it now, and I intend to stay out of it, and I hope the boys will do as we intended to do to start with, if they are going to stay in. But—it is not up to me to investigate, if I am out of it now. And I don't think it would be my duty to go around investigating.

Mr. APPELL. Would you encourage someone to join a Klavern of the United Klans of America?

Mr. THORNHILL. No, sir; no, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Weltner.

Mr. WELTNER. Why could you not encourage someone to join?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. I am out of it, and I don't reckon it would be my duty to encourage anyone to get into it now, for I am out of it personally, myself, and that's up to him. If he wants to join, that's his opportunity, not mine.

Mr. WELTNER. But you would not encourage anyone to join that?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. No.

Mr. WELTNER. If someone asked you your opinion as a former Klan member as to whether or not to join the Klavern to which you were assigned what would you advise him?

Mr. THORNHILL. Well, I think I would tell him that I got out of it for my own personal reasons.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. And he would have to decide that his own self.

Mr. WELTNER. Let me ask you just one or two questions about these business reasons here. How many employees do you have?

Mr. THORNHILL. How many what?

Mr. WELTNER. How many people working for you?

Mr. THORNHILL. You mean—oh, well, I couldn't answer that exactly. Maybe one day I will have maybe six or eight, and another day I will have two, but I have two maids regular and one man to oversee.

Mr. WELTNER. How many oil leases do you have now?

Mr. THORNHILL. How many what?

Mr. WELTNER. How many current oil leases?

Mr. THORNHILL. What are you talking about? Oh, I don't know. I have interests in over 200 wells, producing now. I bought about 43,000 acres up here in Ohio, drilled 23 wells up there, and haven't raised a bit yet.

Mr. POOL. I did not get the last statement.

Mr. THORNHILL. Drilled 23 wells and haven't raised a bit yet.

Mr. WELTNER. Does that mean you have not struck any oil?

Mr. THORNHILL. Haven't struck any oil yet in Ohio; right.

Mr. ASHBROOK. The Klan has been about that successful, too.

Mr. POOL. I want to ask you about these leases that you took from these colored people.

What did you pay them for their leases? Do you remember?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. THORNHILL. Oh, man, that price runs up. I paid as high as $3,000 an acre for some of them, $75.00 an acre, two and a half, $3.00 an acre for others. It depends on what's going on, your activities.

Mr. POOL. Were they satisfied with the leases that you took?

Mr. THORNHILL. Pardon me?

Mr. POOL. Were they satisfied in the leases that you took from them?

Mr. THORNHILL. I have never had a lawsuit. I have never had one to sue me yet for fraud, getting something, taking with a gun. I always buy it with money and I have never had a lawsuit, one of them to sue me yet, and that is something that I am very, very proud of.

Mr. POOL. Further questions?

Mr. WELTNER. No.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. No further questions.

Mr. POOL. The witness is excused.

Call the next witness.

Mr. APPELL. John Dawson.

Mr. POOL. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. DAWSON. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JOHN DAWSON, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Dawson, state your full name for the record.

Mr. DAWSON. John Dawson.

Mr. APPELL. You will have to speak up a little louder.

Mr. DAWSON. John Dawson.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 30, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, a member of the investigative staff of this committee?

Mr. DAWSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. DAWSON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. POOL. Let me ask the witness: Are you familiar with the chairman's opening statement of this hearing?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir; all of my clients have been advised of the chairman's opening statement, Mr. Pool. So stipulated.

Mr. POOL. You have read it and are familiar with the contents of it?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Dawson, the subpoena served upon you had an attachment to it, which was a part of the subpoena, and commanded you to bring with you and to produce items set forth in the subpoena.

Part 1 of the subpoena reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or past Grand Klabeer of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In a representative capacity, set forth in the subpoena, I ask you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 1.

(At this point Mr. Weltner left the hearing room.)

Mr. DAWSON. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in the subpoena dated October the 6th, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by the committee under the subpoena dated October the 6th, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by the Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January the 4th, 1965.

Mr. POOL. The reasons you have given for your refusal to produce the documents called for by the subpoena did not really justify your refusal. These reasons are rejected. I order and direct you to produce these documents.

And, Mr. Witness, is it understood by you that the request of the interrogator, pursuant to the terms of subpoena, is to produce the documents called for therein, in the representative capacities stated in the subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. So stipulated, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. DAWSON. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. That is not acceptable.

Go ahead to the next one.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, before proceeding to part 2 of the subpoena, I desire to show the witness a readable copy of a bank signature card filed in connection with a bank account of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, account maintained at the Britton & Koontz, B-r-i-t-t-o-n, and K-o-o-n-t-z, National Bank, Natchez, Mississippi, and put it to Mr. Dawson as a fact, and ask him to affirm or deny the fact, that the "John Dawson," which appears on the signature card that will be handed to him, is his signature.

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. DAWSON. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights that are guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Dawson, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that in May of 1965 you were elected to the office of grand klabee or treasurer—

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell, just a second.

Are you going into the second part of the subpoena?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. All right.

Mr. APPELL. That in May of 1965 you were elected to the office of grand klabee or treasurer of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, and I ask you to affirm or deny that fact.

Mr. DAWSON. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. And these are the grounds which include the fifth amendment, not the ground relating to production of documents?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Dawson, part 2 of the subpoena calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past Grand Klabee of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In a representative capacity set forth in part 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. DAWSON. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October the 6th, 1965, for the reasons that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

And I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by the committee under subpoena dated October the 6th, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January the 4th, 1965.

Mr. POOL. The reasons you have given for your refusal to produce the documents called for by this subpoena do not legally justify your refusal and these reasons are rejected. I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. Witness, it is understood by you that the request of the interrogator pursuant to the terms of the subpoena is to produce the documents called for therein, in the representative capacities stated in the subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. So stipulated, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. DAWSON. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the committee, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Your answer is not acceptable. Go ahead, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, paragraph 3 called upon Mr. Dawson in his position as treasurer to produce the corporate tax returns of the Realm of Mississippi, the United Klans of America, also under cover name of the Mississippi Rescue Service.

We have been advised by the Internal Revenue Service that no returns were filed, so I shall not make demand for production of those documents.

Mr. Dawson, I hand you two documents. One is a request for a reservation at the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama, from John Dawson, 3809 Ridgewood Road, Natchez, Mississippi, advising the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel that you intend to, or that John Dawson plans to, attend the convention of the Alabama Rescue Service; and the second document is a copy of the original hotel registration card which shows that John Dawson of the same address registered on September 4 in the year 1964.

Did you, Mr. Dawson, file the request for a reservation and did you, in fact, sign the registration card, a copy of which was referred to?

Mr. DAWSON. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that in addition to delegates from Mississippi to that klonvokation or convention was Murphy John Duncan, who was later arrested and pleaded guilty to a charge involving conspiracy to violate Mississippi law for illegal use of explosives?

Mr. DAWSON. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of Mr. Dawson's refusal to answer questions on the claim of privilege, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Dawson.

Mr. POOL. Go right ahead.

Mr. APPELL. First, I will ask you, Mr. Dawson, when and where were you born?

Mr. DAWSON. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. John Dawson was born on July 11, 1924, at Gloster, G-l-o-s-t-e-r, Mississippi. In April 1943 he entered the United States Navy, while a senior at the Oxford Consolidated School of Amite County, Mississippi. He was discharged in May of 1944.

In 1949 he began employment with the International Paper Company, where he is presently a field inspector.

Dawson joined the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, in 1964. He was a delegate to the Imperial Klonsvokation held at the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel, Birmingham, Alabama, on September 5-6, 1964.

Dawson replaced Murphy John Duncan following his conviction along with other UKA Klansmen, for his role in the series of bombings and burnings in the McComb, Mississippi, area.

At a state convention on May 15-16, 1965, Mr. Dawson was elected the grand klabee or State treasurer for the Realm of Mississippi.

Through subpoena duces tecum, Mr. Chairman, the committee subpoenaed certain bank accounts, one in the name of the Mississippi Rescue Service, the other in the name of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi. This first bank account of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, was opened in September 1964 under the name of the Mississippi Rescue Service.

The authorized signature to this account was Murphy J. Duncan, one of the 10 McComb Klansmen arrested in connection with burning and bombing in McComb area. Duncan used the alias of John K. Duncan. The account was closed in October 1964, after Duncan's arrest. Documents seized from Duncan established these facts.

The next account located by the committee was at the Britton & Koontz National Bank, Natchez, Mississippi. This account was opened on July 26, 1965, with Edward L. McDaniel signing as Grand Dragon as the authorized signature.

(Signature card marked "John Dawson Exhibit No. 3." Not reproducible; retained in committee files.)

This designation was changed on September 21, 1965, when any two signatures of the following names were required on all checks: Edward L. McDaniel, Grand Dragon; John Dawson; L. C. Murray, field secretary. (See Dawson Exhibit No. 1, p. 2984.)

From July 26, 1965, to October 12, 1965, the date covered by the committee's subpoena, $9,948.39 was deposited to the account. Checks written against the account during the same period total $9,337.65.

Checks of interest in this account to the committee's investigation are as follows: Checks dated 9/24/1965 and 10/8/1965 paid to L. C. Murray, $75 each, and comakers of the checks were John Dawson and Edward L. McDaniel. The purpose for which drawn was "salary."

Check of 10/2/1965, made payable to cash, in the amount of $2,766, the comakers: L. C. Murray and John Dawson. The endorsers on the check: L. C. Murray and John Dawson.

9/26/65 check to E. L. McDaniel in the amount of $177.40, the makers: L. C. Murray and John Dawson; the endorser: E. L. McDaniel. Purpose for which drawn: Expenses.

A check of October 15, 1965, payable to cash, in the amount of $2,000. The makers: L. C. Murray and Edward L. McDaniel; the endorser: Edward L. McDaniel.

Mr. Dawson, I show you this check payable to cash in the amount of $2,766, with the endorsers of the check being the same as the makers, L. C. Murray and John Dawson, and ask you to advise the committee the purpose for which that check was drawn and the money used?

(Check handed to witness.)

Mr. DAWSON. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. POOL. The witness is excused permanently.

Mr. CHALMERS. Thank you.

Mr. POOL. The committee will stand in recess until three o'clock.

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Pool and Ashbrook.)

(Whereupon, at 12:05 p.m., Wednesday, February 2, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 3 p.m., the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 3:20 p.m.)

Mr. APPELL. I have been asked by the chairman of the committee to announce that because of business on the floor of the House that the committee will not be able to resume its hearings this afternoon and that witnesses under subpoena are excused until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and they are to report in Room 313-A.

The committee's hearings tomorrow will be in that room.

(Whereupon, at 3:21 p.m., Wednesday, February 2, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Thursday, February 3, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 4

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.
PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the February 3 hearings, met, pursuant to recess, at 10:25 a.m. in Room 313-A, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Joe R. Pool (chairman of the subcommittee) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Joe R. Pool, of Texas, chairman; Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Weltner and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Philip R. Manuel, investigator.

Mr. WELTNER (presiding). The subcommittee will come to order.

I wish to file and make a part of the record a designation of a subcommittee consisting of Mr. Pool and myself and Mr. Buchanan as members.

(The order of appointment of the subcommittee follows:)

FEBRUARY 2, 1966.

To: Mr. Francis J. McNamara,
Director, Committee on Un-American Activities.

Pursuant to the provisions of the law and the Rules of this Committee, I hereby appoint a subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities consisting of Honorable Joe R. Pool as Chairman, and Honorable Charles L. Weltner and Honorable John Buchanan as associate members, to conduct hearings in Washington, D.C. on Thursday, February 3, 1966, as contemplated by the resolution adopted by the Committee on the 30th day of March, 1965, authorizing hearings concerning the activities of the various Ku Klux Klan organizations in the United States.

Please make this action a matter of Committee record.

If any member indicates his inability to serve, please notify me.

Given under my hand this 2nd day of February, 1966.

/s/ Edwin E. Willis
EDWIN E. WILLIS

Chairman, Committee on Un-American Activities.

Mr. WELTNER. The committee now sitting, being a quorum of that subcommittee, will proceed.

Mr. Appell, will you call the first witness?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Charles Stewart.

Mr. WELTNER. Stand, please.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you shall give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. STEWART. I do.

TESTIMONY OF CHARLES MELVIN STEWART, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stewart, state your full name for the record.

Mr. STEWART. Charles Melvin Stewart.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at the offices of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, in Natchez, Mississippi, on October 30, 1965?

Mr. STEWART. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. STEWART. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Stewart?

Mr. STEWART. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in the violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stewart, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment, which was made a part of the subpoena and commanded you to bring and produce documents listed in the attachment.

Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Kligrapp (Secretary) of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In a representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. STEWART. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by his committee under subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for that information is not relevant or germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman—

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask for a direction of the witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir; the same stipulation that has heretofore been entered into by all the clients that I have represented is hereby stipulated with respect to the service of the subpoena in the capacity as stated.

Also, with respect to the fact that the witness has been apprised of the chairman's opening statement.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, thank you, Mr. Chalmers.

I advise the witness that this committee does not accept his reasons for refusing to produce the documents and, accordingly, this committee orders you to produce the documents required in that subpoena.

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stewart, paragraph 2 of the subpoena calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or past member or Kligrapp of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Witness, the committee does not accept your claim of privilege in this matter, and I take it we have the same stipulation with regard to this paragraph?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Consequently, the committee directs you to produce the documents called for in the subpoena.

Mr. STEWART. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, paragraph 3 called for the production of corporate tax returns covering the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi. We have been advised by the Internal Revenue Service that no returns have been filed, and I shall not ask for production of those returns.

Mr. Stewart, I hand you a series of photographs, taken at a United Klans of America rally, in the Crossroads community of Poplarville, Mississippi.

The first photograph shows a Klansman in a red robe. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that that is yourself.

Mr. STEWART. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my rights might tend to incriminate me

(sic) in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 to the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Photographs two and three show Klansmen, some with black robes and black hoods, others merely in black hoods, and at least one Klansman in a white robe, each with sidearms, gunbelt, holster, which shows outside of the uniform.

Can you explain to the committee the necessity of Klansmen in this type of outfit at public rallies of the United Klans of America?

Mr. STEWART. I respectfully decline to answer. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Photographs previously marked "Ernest Gilbert Exhibit No. 2." See pp. 2949, 2950.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stewart, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that in May of 1965 at a State meeting of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, you were elected to the position of kligrapp or secretary?

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Under the "Constitution and Laws" of the United Klans of America, reports from subordinate units known as Klaverns are to be forwarded to the secretary. The committee has obtained financial records relating to Klaverns within the State of Mississippi.

I shall read these to you, and ask you at the conclusion to identify the position that each holds in the Klavern in the location represented by financial records:

E. C. Nutty III, Ackerman, Mississippi; ¹ [William C. Long]; Robert Hudspeth, H-u-d-s-p-e-t-h, Ashland, Mississippi; John Wayne Hudson and Alton L. ton, Tupelo, Mississippi; D. A. Hendry, H-e-n-d-r-y, Route 5, Waynesboro, Mississippi.

The names that I have read to you all are makers of checks paying money to the United Klans of America, Alabama Rescue Service.

I ask you what position each of them holds within the organization?

Mr. WELTNER. Well, put the first name to him, Mr. Appell, and ask him that.

Mr. APPELL. E. C. Nutty III.¹

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The second name I read to you from Ashland was Mr. Robert Hudspeth, H-u-d-s-p-e-t-h.

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully—

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact—

Mr. WELTNER. Wait. Let him respond to the question.

Mr. CHALMERS. I don't believe there was a question asked, Mr. Chairman. No question posed.

Mr. APPELL. I just said, "The second name was," and I was going to continue, Mr. Chairman.

I put it to you as a fact that he is the secretary-treasurer of a Klavern which operates a bank account at the Bank of Blue Mountain, Blue Mountain, Mississippi, under the name of the White People's March for Freedom.

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that in the Pearl River area or county of Mississippi there is a Klavern which is known by the name of the United Conservatives of Miss., Inc., #1, and I might say, Mr. Chairman, that according to the records of the secretary of state, this organization has never filed incorporation papers.

According to the records subpoenaed from the Washington Bank and Trust Company of Bogalusa, Louisiana, the officers of that Klavern, as of October 11, 1965, were Charles J. Seal, president; Pat Moak, M-o-a-k, vice president; J. L. Simmons, treasurer; B. L. Sellers, secretary; T. P. Wheat, assistant treasurer; Cecil Bennett, assistant secretary.

I ask you to affirm or deny the fact that as of the date of October 11, 1965, they were the officers of that Klavern, and they were making financial reports to the secretary of the Realm of Mississippi in their capacity.

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Document previously marked "George Harris Exhibit No. 3." See p. 2632.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stewart, can you explain to the committee the workings of a klokann committee?

Mr. STEWART. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that a klokann committee, on a Klavern level, on a province level, or on a State level, is comprised of people whose sole responsibility is to make investigations and to carry out acts of violence on behalf of a Klan organization?

Mr. STEWART. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Have you ever served on a klokann committee?

Mr. STEWART. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. The witness will be excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Paul L. Foster.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you shall give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. FOSTER. I do.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated.

TESTIMONY OF PAUL LAFAYETTE FOSTER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. FOSTER. Paul Lafayette Foster.

Mr. WELTNER. Just a moment.

Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 30th day of October 1965 at 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi?

Mr. FOSTER. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, I put it to you as a fact—

Mr. WELTNER. One moment. The witness is represented by counsel?

Mr. FOSTER. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Will counsel state his name?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, I put it to you as a fact that 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi, the place where you were served by Investigator Sullivan, is the office headquarters of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi.

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you were the first grand chaplain of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, do you know James K. Greer, G-r-e-e-r?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(At this point Representative Pool entered the hearing room.)

Mr. APPELL. In October 1964, Mr. Foster, Mr. Greer was arrested for an act of violence by the Mississippi Highway [Safety] Patrol and in the course of interrogation of Mr. Greer, he made the following statement to the Mississippi Highway Patrol, referring to people that he knew in the Klan.

The report of interview states:

Greer states that these individuals advocate violence and are extremely strong segregationists: Ernest Finley, Frank L. Gaston, Charles L. James, Jeff Luke, Cecil Roberts, Paul L. Foster, Nelson Haney, Tommy L. Jones, Ed McDaniel, Myron Wayne Seale.

Is the statement made by Mr. Greer to agents of the Mississippi Highway Patrol factual?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, did you join with the following individuals whose names I just read to you—Charles James, Frank L. Gaston, E. L. McDaniel—and Thomas Young in forming a cover name for a Klavern under the name of the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you two documents, one, the minutes of organization; two, the copy of filing of incorporation with the secretary of state of Mississippi, both of which reflect that Paul L. Foster is an officer of the organization; and I ask you if these documents are factual?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Documents marked "Paul Foster Exhibits Nos. 1 and 2," respectively. Exhibit No. 1 retained in committee files. Exhibit No. 2 appears in committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, pp. 359-361.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, did there appear in the issue of the Natchez Democrat, a newspaper published in Natchez, Mississippi, on November 1, 1964, an article which states that the "Adams County Civic and Betterment Association" protests action by the Highway Patrol?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

PAUL FOSTER EXHIBIT No. 3

[Natchez (Miss.) Democrat, Nov. 1, 1964]

IN THIS AREA—PROTEST ACTION HIGHWAY PATROL

The Adams County Civic and Betterment Association, which was formally organized here a short time ago and which is chartered in Mississippi, has adopted a Resolution deploring the unlawful arrest and search by the State Highway Patrol in Natchez and Adams County and launching a campaign to raise funds to employ necessary legal counsel for their defense.

The Resolution also requests the representatives from Natchez and Adams County in the Legislature take the necessary and appropriate action "guarantee our constitutional rights of freedom from unlawful searches and seizures."

The Adams County Civic and Betterment Association is reported by its officials [sic] as a civic organization which does not condone any type of violence of any nature. The general purpose of the club, they said, is to advance the educational, civic and social interests of Adams County, Mississippi; to promote integrity [sic] and good faith among the citizens of Adams County; to acquire, preserve and distribute educational, civic and social statistics and information of value to the people of Adams County; to develop an interest on the part of its members and citizens in Adams County in registering to vote and voting in state, local and national elections; and to encourage and foster the active interest of members in civic, social and moral welfare of this community.

We are taking this means of presenting this petition to the people with the hope that there are others who feel as we do about the activities that are taking place among us today. If you are concerned and want to help, "you may send your donation to P. O. Box 1111, Natchez, Miss., and be sure that all of your contribution will be used for the sole purpose of helping those who need financial help," Paul L. Foster, President, said.

The Resolution which was adopted by the organization was as follows:

RESOLUTION AND PETITION

WHEREAS, during the past several months, many citizens of Adams County have been arrested in connection with recent bombings and have been illegally harassed and searched by the Mississippi Highway Patrol (acting under recently passed legislation), and a "Police State" now exists in this section of the State of Mississippi, in direct violation of our fundamental constitutional rights; and

WHEREAS, such action causes tension, turmoil and strife to the people of our state and community and, if continued, will necessarily result in forceful resistance to such unlawful action by the state officials; and

WHEREAS, the undersigned believe in constitutional government, in obeying the laws of our land, and, specifically, that a citizen is innocent until proven guilty in a court of law, regardless of his color, creed or nationality; and

WHEREAS, the unlawful state activities, above, have been brought about through actions and pressures of NAACP, CORE, COFO, SNCC and the National Council of Churches and other communist-front organizations not only pressuring our government, but in spending millions of dollars to create strife within the State of Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, NAACP, COFO and the other above named organizations are spending millions of dollars to create hatred between the Negro and white races in Mississippi and it is necessary that white Americans defend our traditions and race;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the undersigned that in support of our traditional way of life and in support of maintaining [sic] law, and order and peaceful relations between the white and Negro races, we do pledge ourselves to raise funds for the support of those persons who have been unlawfully arrested by the State Highway Patrol, and urge other citizens to contribute toward their defense,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the undersigned do hereby request our local representatives in the State Legislature to take appropriate action to guarantee our constitutional rights of freedom from unlawful searches and seizures.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we do seek from the public funds for the defense of our white citizens and for the protection of our traditional way of life, requesting that any such funds be sent to the undersigned organization.

This money will be used solely for LEGAL FUNDS ONLY

Mr. APPELL. In this statement or according to the article which was adopted by the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association, the article shows that it was issued by Paul L. Foster as president.

The Highway Patrol and other agencies, law enforcement agencies, were accused of illegal arrest and illegal search and seizure.

Was this resolution adopted by the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association, a cover of a Klan, in order to protect Klansmen who were being arrested for acts of violence in which they were engaged?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a registration, copy of the original registration of the Dinkler-Tutwiler Hotel, in Birmingham, Alabama, September 4, and the year is 1964, and ask you after you review that signature, whether or not you attended the Imperial Klonvokation held in Birmingham in September 1964?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Foster?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer my questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Foster.

Paul Lafayette Foster was born on July 28, 1923, at Newhebron, Mississippi. He was educated at, and I don't know the proper pronunciation, so I will spell it, H-e-u-c-k's Retreat, located in Lincoln County, Mississippi; for 1 year at the Copiah-Lincoln Junior College, Wesson, Mississippi; 3 years at Mississippi College, Clinton, Mississippi.

He served in the Army from December 7, 1942, to September 21, 1945, with the rank of Pfc., and was honorably discharged.

Since 1952, he has been employed as a schoolteacher, a salesman of stationery supplies; and since 1956, with the International Paper Company. He presently holds the position of payroll control clerk.

Foster, a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi became the organization's first grand chaplain in February of 1964. In June 1964, he was the exalted cyclops of the combined Morgantown and Adams County Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In July 1964, Paul Foster and other members discussed the disaffiliation with the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and joining the United Klans of America.

On August 8, 1964, Charles E. James, Frank L. Gaston, E. L. McDaniel, Paul Foster, and Thomas Young, all former members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, met for the purpose of chartering a UKA Klavern under the cover name of the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association.

E. L. McDaniel is the present Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America for the Realm of Mississippi. Corporation papers were filed with the secretary of state by Charles E. James, Frank L. Gaston, and Paul L. Foster, on August 16, 1964.

Paul Foster thereafter became president of the association, and exalted cyclops of the Klavern. Charles E. James became the kligrapp or secretary of both organizations.

On November 1, 1964, there appeared in the Natchez Democrat a resolution passed by the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association. This petition was intended to give support to fellow members of the United Klans of America who had been arrested by the Mississippi Highway Patrol. The resolution accused the Mississippi Highway Patrol of having made illegal search and arrest, and declared a "Police State" now exists in this section"—referring to Adams County—"of the State of Mississippi."

This Klavern of the United Klans of America resolved in its resolution, among one of its resolves, that—in support of our traditional way of life and in support of maintaining [sic] law, and order and peaceful relations between the white and Negro races, we do pledge ourselves to raise funds for the support of those persons who have been unlawfully arrested by the State Highway Patrol, and urge other citizens to contribute towards their defense.

The resolution was signed by Paul L. Foster, president, C. E. James, and John D. Druetta. (See Paul Foster Exhibit No. 3.)

James Kenneth Greer, in a statement to the Mississippi Highway Patrol on October 25, 1964, identified as Klansmen who advocated violence and are extremely strong segregationists: Paul L. Foster, Ernest Finley, Frank L. Gaston, Charles E. James, Jeff Luke, Cecil Roberts, Nelson Haney, Thomas L. Jones, Ed McDaniel, and Myron Wayne (Jack) Seale.

Mr. WELTNER. Is that Ed McDaniel, E. L. McDaniel?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

In May of 1965, Paul L. Foster was elected the Grand Klaliff or vice president of the Realm of Mississippi. This information, Mr.

Chairman, indicates that Mr. Foster possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

Mr. POOL (presiding). Does that finish your statement?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Witness, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator.

You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to affirm, deny, or admit the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of that statement. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matters which the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Foster, I must inform you that, absent your rebuttal or other facts that may come to the attention of this committee, this committee will reply upon the accuracy of its investigation, and bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Go ahead, Mr. counsel.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Foster, I hand you a sheet of paper upon which there is typed the names of nearly 50 employees of the International Paper Company, Natchez, Mississippi.

I ask you to review this list and to advise the committee as to which individuals appearing on that list you knew to be members of either the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi or the United Klans of America.

(Document handed to witness.)

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the reason the list was submitted to Mr. Foster was in hopes that he could confirm the results of the committee's investigation that the persons listed thereon have held membership in either the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi or the United Klans of America.

MR. POOL. That is the results of your investigation?

MR. APPELL. That is the results of the staff's investigation; yes, sir.

MR. POOL. Do you want to include this list in the record?

MR. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask that that list and the other documents referred to of this witness be introduced at the place referred to.

MR. POOL. No objection?

So ordered.

MR. WELTNER. Let me ask the witness if any of the persons whose names appear on that list is a member of either the White Knights or the United Klans of America.

MR. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

MR. POOL. Are any of the employees on this list not members, to your knowledge, of the Klan organization?

MR. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

MR. POOL. The reason I ask you that, in all fairness, if you know for a fact they are not members, you should speak up now.

MR. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

MR. BUCHANAN. Mr. Foster, I understand you were the first grand chaplain of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi, or at least our investigation so indicates.

Now according to Article II, Section 18 of the constitution of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (Gordon Lackey Exhibit No. 2), the grand chaplain, and I quote:

The Grand Chaplain shall serve in the capacity of Christian advisor on all questions of morals and idealistic Klavern conduct.

A. In cases of extreme penalties the advise [sic] of the Grand Chaplain shall be sought and considered.

As grand chaplain, was your advice sought and considered in extreme penalties?

MR. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

MR. BUCHANAN. What are those extreme penalties?

MR. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

MR. BUCHANAN. Our investigation has revealed there are four kinds of projects carried out by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and Project No. 4 is extermination. Is this an extreme penalty?

MR. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

MR. BUCHANAN. You have been a high-ranking officer of first, White Knights, and then the United Klans in Mississippi, from our evidence. I note that you are a graduate of a Christian college, a former school teacher. What good things can you tell us about either of these Klan organizations that would make them worthwhile for people to join and support?

Mr. FOSTER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Well, I wish you would tell us something good. We haven't heard anything in all our weeks of investigation to date.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, we heard about that "needy committee" yesterday, which was a faint light on an otherwise dark horizon.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Well, we also heard that the White Knights were instructed by their Imperial Wizard not to associate with the United Klans people. I suppose one might consider that a stroke for one organization or the other; I am not sure.

Mr. WELTNER. No questions.

Mr. POOL. The witness is excused permanently.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Ernest Parker.

Mr. POOL. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. PARKER. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ERNEST BUCHANAN PARKER, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. PARKER. Ernest Buchanan Parker.

Mr. APPELL. We have no microphone in this room, Mr. Parker, so that you will have to speak up so that the committee and others can hear you.

Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 30, 1965, at the United Klans headquarters in Natchez, Mississippi, 114 Main Street?

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, may I state, sir, that the witness here that I represent, Ernest Buchanan Parker, is here as a result of a subpoena served upon him, dated the 6th day of October 1965.

Mr. POOL. Have you identified yourself, counsel?

Mr. CHALMERS. No, sir; I will. I am Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. POOL. And you are representing the witness?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir; I do.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to answer as to whether or not he was served by Investigator Sullivan of this office, as the return reflects at 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi.

Mr. POOL. I direct you to answer the question.

Mr. PARKER. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. What was the answer?

Mr. PARKER. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Now the Chair wishes to make this statement, and the Chair wishes to state to the witness and ask the witness, have you been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement of October 19, 1965, and are you familiar with its contents?

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, so stipulated.

Mr. POOL. In other words, the stipulation in the directions of the subpoena to produce the documents called for made—

Mr. CHALMERS. I don't think that has been asked yet.

Mr. POOL. That has not been asked?

Mr. CHALMERS. No, sir.

Mr. POOL. All right, that is not stipulated up to this point.

All right, go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, when and where were you born?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me under the amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, do you know Myron Wayne—

Mr. POOL. Just a moment, please.

Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, do you know Myron Wayne—who is popularly known as "Jack"—Seale?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, Mr. Seale was arrested by the Mississippi Highway Patrol in connection with an assault upon a white male, Bruce Lloyd Payne. In the course of an interrogation by the Mississippi Highway Patrol, I will read from a report of statements made by Mr. Seale:

Seale stated that his closest associate in Natchez is Ernest Parker. He stated that he considered Ernest Parker to be his best friend and that they hunt and fish together frequently. He further stated that he often goes with Parker in Parker's airplane. He stated Parker has a four-seater plane which is white with red stripes. He stated Parker is a very cautious pilot. Parker and Seale usually fly from Natchez up to "Palmyra" [P-a-l-m-y-r-a], which Seale described as an island on the Mississippi River. He stated that this is a 35,000-acre island and that Parker owns 25,000 acres of the island. Parker has at least 500 head of cattle on this island and Seale and Parker often fly up to the island to take care of these cattle. He stated that sometimes they drive up to the island or to Tallulah, Mississippi, where they visit friends. He stated that Ernest Parker and his brother Lee Parker own a large barge which they can take out to the island. He stated that last summer while bringing a truck with 26 head of cattle from the island to the mainland, the barge tilted, causing the cattle and truck to go overboard. * * *

Do you own 25,000 acres on an island called Palmyra Island?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, according to the McComb, Mississippi, Enterprise-Journal, two bodies were found in what is known as the Old River, Charles Moore and Henry Dee.

Do you possess any knowledge of how those bodies got into the Old River?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In putting the case together, Mr. Parker, it was reconstructed that, in order to get two bodies tied by chains and tied to an engine block of a jeep, there was only a certain type of boat that could be possibly used, and the only type of boat on the river which could be used for this was a barge similar to the one that you own.

Was your barge used for this, with or without your knowledge?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Investigation found several old Willys jeep chassis on your property, and the bodies were weighted down with a motor block from a jeep. Was the motor block from any jeep chassis that was on your property?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, according to your Federal income tax returns, in April of 1964, as reflected by your 1964 tax return, you purchased mobile radios costing $783.97. Were those radios used to carry out projects of Klan organizations, either the White Knights or presently the United Klans of America?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Ernest Parker Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell, is that two-way radios? Citizens band?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, we have not located an application for a citizens band radio at this time, which does not infer that there is not one. However, the only knowledge that we at this moment possess is the deduction on $783.97 on Mr. Parker's tax returns for the purchase of mobile radios.

Mr. POOL. It is possible to use these radios without having a license. Is that correct?

Mr. APPELL. I don't think that they can be used without a license, sir.

Mr. POOL. Well, as a practical matter, though, they could use them.

Mr. APPELL. Illegally.

Mr. POOL. Illegally, but they could be used.

Mr. APPELL. Oh, yes, sir. One of the problems that the Federal Communications Commission has is attempting to monitor the citizens band radios for any illegal use. There are too many in existence.

Mr. POOL. They are supposed to call out the call letters, before and after a conversation, I believe. Is that correct?

Mr. APPELL. I am not that familiar with the requirements, sir.

Mr. POOL. I think it is.

Just a minute.

Under the rules of the House, this hearing shall not be recorded on a tape machine. I understand that one of the people in the audience has a recording machine and has the microphone out.

Will you officers check that to see if that is true?

Mr. Scoggin? Under the rules of the House, you are violating the rules by having the machine in operation while these hearings are going on, and the Chair will not give you another warning on it. Don't do it any more.

Will you come here to the Chair? Mr. Scoggin? Come up here to the Chair and bring your machine up here.

Mr. Chalmers, will you come up with him?

(Discussion off the record.)

Mr. POOL. Will the reporter show on the record that Mr. Scoggin says that he has not been playing the tape recorder and that there is nothing on the tape at this time?

All right, go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, in March of 1964, were you the exalted cyclops of a Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi known as the Morgantown Klavern?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Have you used your airplane for the purpose, either you as the pilot or authorized the use for the purpose of dropping Klan literature in various sections of Mississippi?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claims of privilege and his refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of its investigation on Mr. Parker.

Ernest Buchanan Parker was born on May 4, 1930, at Natchez, Mississippi.

He served in the U.S. Navy Reserve from 1947 to 1952, when he was honorably discharged.

He is a self-employed farmer and cattleman, with financial interests in oil and timber. He owns a four-seater airplane, make unknown.

In March 1964, he was the exalted cyclops of the Morgantown Klavern of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi.

In April 1964, he purchased mobile radios costing $783.97.

In August 1964, he withdrew from the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and affiliated with the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi. He is a member of the Klavern known as the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association.

With regard to the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association, Parker is known to have stated that at public UKA rallies, nothing is discussed, but at meetings of the new "civic" club, the Klan is able to make plans and carry on any "real business."

Parker's plane was flown by himself or with a pilot having permission from Mr. Parker, and was used to drop Klan leaflets over Brookhaven, Mississippi, over Philadelphia, Mississippi, in August 1964, and in the Neshoba County Fair in 1965.

Parker is presently holding a position in the Realm of Mississippi, United Klans of America.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Parker possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

Mr. POOL. Does that complete your statement?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Witness, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator.

You now have an opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement to confirm, admit, or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of that statement.

In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter that the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. I must inform you that, absent your rebuttal or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Parker, what is the "real business" that can be discussed within the Klavern which is known as the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association which can't be discussed at public Klan rallies?

Mr. PARKER. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. The staff has no further questions to ask of this witness, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Weltner?

Mr. Buchanan?

The witness is excused permanently.

Mr. APPELL. Myron Wayne Seale.

Mr. POOL. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. SEALE. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF MYRON WAYNE (JACK) SEALE, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. SEALE. Myron Wayne Seale.

Mr. APPELL. Are you popularly known by the nickname of Jack?

Mr. SEALE. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi, on October 30, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. SEALE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Chalmers, is it so stipulated the witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement of October 19, 1965, and that he is familiar with its contents?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir; he is.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Seale?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, for the reasons that I honestly feel that my answers might tend to incriminate me in violations of my rights, and guaranteed by me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, the name Seale in Mississippi is a name used by many families. Some spell it S-e-a-l-e, some S-e-a-l, some S-e-a-l-s. It is the correct spelling of your last name S-e-a-l-e?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir; Mr. Chairman. It is stipulated that his last name is S-e-a-l-e, as stated in the subpoena.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, do you hold a position within the Klan of Mississippi, the United Klans of America, within their security guard and the rank of major?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know John D. Sullivan, who sits across from me, the investigator of the committee?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a photograph taken on October 30, 1965, in Natchez, Mississippi, showing yourself, dressed in a military-type uniform, major's rank, holding a walkie-talkie radio, and I ask you if the person photographed next to you is John D. Sullivan, investigator of this committee?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Photograph marked "Myron Seale Exhibit No. 1" follows:)

MYRON SEALE EXHIBIT NO. 1

Photograph taken October 30, 1965, in Natchez, Miss. Person at left in military-type uniform with walkie-talkie radio is Myron Wayne (Jack) Seale; the other is John D. Sullivan, HCUA investigator.

Mr. POOL. How could that incriminate you, to make a statement like that?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, do you know L. C. Murray, who is the field secretary to Mr. McDaniel of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a reproduction of a photograph that appeared in the Clarion-Ledger of Jackson, Mississippi, Monday, July 19, 1965, which contains two individuals in Klan robes, and according to the caption these two Klansmen were in Bogalusa, Louisiana, drumming up business or interest for a United Klans rally to be held in Crossroads, Mississippi, July 19 or 21 of 1965.

In handing you this photograph, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the two Klansmen shown are yourself, Jack Seale, and L. C. Murray?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Photograph marked "Myron Seale Exhibit No. 2" follows:)

MYRON SEALE EXHIBIT NO. 2

[Jackson, Miss., Clarion-Ledger, July 19, 1965]

KLAN PARADES IN BOGALUSA—Two hooded white men who identified themselves as members of the Knights of the Ku Klan of Natchez, Miss. pass Louisiana state troopers, one of which gives a big grin to the Klansmen. The Klansmen walked the streets of Bogalusa recently to remind Bogalusa residents of a KKK rally at Crossroads, Miss.—AP Wirephoto.

[No. 1 Myron Wayne (Jack) Seale; No. 2 is L. C. Murray.]

Mr. APPELL. I hand you another photograph which appeared in many newspapers throughout the United States, this one from the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, which has a caption to the photograph which reads "Klan Guard Eyes Marchers":

Jack Seale, who identified himself as a major in the security guard of the Mississippi chapter of the Ku Klux Klan at Natchez, watches as nearly 1,000 civil rights marchers pass in downtown Natchez. Seale said that he and 14 other KKK security guards were on hand "to keep the peace" during the demonstration.

I hand you that photograph and ask you: Why is it necessary for the security guard of the Ku Klux Klan organization to be around in order to keep the peace?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the basis previously stated.

(Photograph marked "Myron Seale Exhibit No. 3" follows:)

MYRON SEALE EXHIBIT NO. 3
[Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, November 1, 1965]

KLAN GUARD EYES MARCHERS — Jack Seale, who identified himself as a major in the security guard of the Mississippi chapter of the Ku Klux Klan at Natchez, watches as nearly 1,000 civil rights marchers pass in downtown Natchez. Seale said that he and 14 other KKK security guards were on hand "to keep the peace" during the demonstration. (AP)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, were you arrested in connection with an assault on a boy by the name of Payne and another by the name of Green?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a reproduction of a photograph which appeared in the Natchez (Mississippi) Democrat, of October 24, 1964, and the caption to the photograph reads:

Collection of weapons—Federal Bureau of Investigation and State Highway Patrol officials stationed in Natchez yesterday uncovered this collection of weapons and ammunition in connection with their investigations here. All the weapons and ammunition with the exception of the two pistols, came from the home of M. W. "Jack" Seale, arrested here early yesterday morning and charged with assault and battery with intent to kill in connection with an assault on two civil rights workers near Port Gibson on Oct. 31. Seale was the fifth Natchez man charged in the assault.

In looking at that photograph, explain to the committee why anyone needs such an arsenal?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Photograph marked "Myron Seale Exhibit No. 4." See committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, p. 109.)

Mr. APPELL. Were any of the weapons shown in the photograph, which includes a carbine, used for any illegal purpose by you?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, you were in the room when I read to Mr. Parker the portion of a statement which according to the Mississippi Highway Patrol you made to them on October 26, 1964. Is that which I read to Mr. Parker factual?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Now Mr. Seale, it is the committee's understanding and knowledge that James Seale, arrested in the connection with the disappearance of Charles Edward Moore and Henry Ezekiel Dee, is your brother—

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully—

Mr. APPELL. —and that Charles Marcus Edwards, also arrested, is your cousin.

Do you possess any knowledge of the picking up of Moore and Dee and of any subsequent actions taken by the 12 to 15 Klansmen who Charles Marcus Edwards said participated in the beating, which resulted in their bodies winding up in the Old River near Palmyra Island?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you participate in the acts against Henry Dee and Charles Moore?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess any knowledge as to the type of transportation used to take these bodies to the river or the location from where the jeep motor block was obtained?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, Bruce Lloyd Payne and George Green were beaten in October 1963, and a car driven by them was shot at in November of 1963.

Did you participate in either the beating or the firing into their vehicle?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Seale.

Myron Wayne "Jack" Seale was born September 4, 1926, at Brookhaven, Mississippi.

He completed 11 years of formal education. He served in the United States Navy from October 1944 to December of 1947.

He operates a garbage collection business in Natchez, Mississippi. He is the son of Clyde and the brother of James Ford Seale, both of whom have been witnesses during the current investigation.

He joined the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in 1964 and transferred to the United Klans of America. He is a member of the Adams County Klavern, known as the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association.

In May of 1965, he was elected to the office of grand night-hawk for the Realm of Mississippi.

The Natchez Democrat, issue of October 24, 1964, reported that Myron Wayne "Jack" Seale was arrested in connection with an alleged attack on two civil rights workers in Clarion County, Mississippi, on October 31, 1963.

At the time of his arrest, rifles, ammunition, and knives were seized. Arrested along with Mr. Seale on the same charge were Ernest Henry Avants, Frank Hyman Thurman, John William Barber, and James Kenneth Greer. Charges were dropped when the civil rights workers refused to return to Mississippi for the trial.

At the time of arrest, Seale denied membership in the Klan. He acknowledged knowing the following all identifiable Klansmen: Ernest Parker, Charles Edwards, Douglas Byrd, James L. McKinney, Ernest Avants, and Alton Roberts.

James Kenneth Greer, arrested for the same offense, identified Myron Wayne Seale as a Klansman who advocated violence.

On October 18, 1964, he purchased a greenish-blue Chevrolet, which was observed on November 2, 1963, pursuing a car bearing the same two civil rights workers assaulted in October 1963. Three shots were fired into the rear of the civil rights workers' car after they sped away from their pursuers. Seale's car is equipped with a radio receiver capable of monitoring police calls. Seale is a major in the United Klans of America security guard.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Seale possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Seale, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator.

You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to confirm, admit, or deny the truth of any allegation, and to explain or modify any part of the statement.

In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter the committee may deem relevant to this inquiry.

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. I must inform you that, absent your rebuttal or other facts that may come to the attention of the committee, this committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Bearing this in mind, have you anything to say?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer this question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. POOL. Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Seale, what use do you make of the radio which is located in your car?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. What use is made of the walkie-talkie radios which are very popular among Klansmen?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I refuse—I respectfully refuse to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Investigation establishes, Mr. Seale, that under the night-hawk, there is appointed a klokann committee; that this klokann committee is responsible for investigations on, in your case, the State level, and for the selecting of men who might carry out acts of violence or acts of intimidation.

Can you explain to the committee how the klokann committee works in the State of Mississippi?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As grand night-hawk, have you ever commissioned a fellow Klansman to engage in an act of intimidation or violence?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Was it under your orders as grand night-hawk or under the orders of the Grand Dragon for the State of Mississippi, Mr. McDaniel, that according to the State Highway Patrol, some 70 crosses were burned throughout Mississippi in protest of the renewal of hearings of this committee?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I have a question.

Mr. Seale, on this photograph that was exhibited to you a few moments ago, I note you have what appears to be a five-cell flashlight in a holster, strapped to a webb belt.

Now the photograph clearly shows this was a daytime rally. I wonder if you will tell me why you had a flashlight such as this for a daytime rally?

(Photograph handed to witness.)

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, is that flashlight ever used as a weapon, as a club?

Will you answer that?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. I have been advised that, on occasion, those long flashlights, which are about 20 inches long, do not have batteries in them, but that the cartridge is filled with a lead pipe. Is that true? Have you ever carried a flashlight filled with a lead pipe?

Mr. SEALE. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. No further questions.

Mr. POOL. The witness is permanently excused.

The committee will stand in recess until 1:15.

(Whereupon, at 11:45 a.m., Thursday, February 3, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 1:15 p.m., the same day.)

AFTERNOON SESSION—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1966

(The subcommittee reconvened at 1:45 p.m., Hon. Joe R. Pool, chairman, presiding.)

(Subcommittee members present: Representatives Pool, Weltner, and Buchanan.)

Mr. POOL. The committee will come to order.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Ernest Henry Avants.

Mr. POOL. Hold up your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. AVANTS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ERNEST HENRY AVANTS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, TRAVIS BUCKLEY AND CHARLES J. MAY III

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. AVANTS. Ernest Henry Avants.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on the 3d day of November 1965 at the International Paper Company, Natchez, Mississippi?

Mr. AVANTS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. AVANTS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify themselves for the record, please?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Travis Buckley, attorney at law, Bay Springs, Mississippi.

Mr. POOL. Will you stipulate that the witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement of October 19, 1965, and is familiar with its contents?

Mr. BUCKLEY. Yes, sir, we do so stipulate.

Mr. MAY. My name is Charles J. May III, attorney at law, Laurel, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Avants, when and where were you born?

Mr. AVANTS. It has changed its name from the time I was born. It has changed names. Now it is—it was Pine Grove. Now, you say Bogue Chitto, Mississippi.

Mr. APPELL. The month, day, and year.

Mr. AVANTS. The 23d of January 1931.

Mr. APPELL. What is your educational background?

Mr. AVANTS. High school.

Mr. APPELL. A graduate?

Mr. AVANTS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Since 1960, Mr. Avants, will you give the committee the benefit of your occupational background?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question and invoke as a defense the privilege guaranteed to me by the 5th, 4th, 1st, and 14th amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Are you presently an employee of the International Paper Company in Natchez, Mississippi?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. The fact that you are employed at the paper company would incriminate you?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. I wonder what that paper company is going to think about that.

Mr. AVANTS. For the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. You are saying that your answering that question would incriminate you?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like the record to show that Mr. Avants has been employed by the International Paper Company since 1950 except for a period of military service and that he presently holds the position of a bleach washman.

Mr. POOL. Bleach washer?

Mr. APPELL. Washman.

Are you acquainted with James K. Greer?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. James K. Greer and yourself were arrested for assault upon Lloyd—Bruce Lloyd Payne and George Green in October 1964?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. On October 22, 1964, did you make a statement to agents of the Mississippi Highway Patrol following an arrest?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reason previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Avants, I have in front of me a copy of a statement obtained from the Mississippi Highway Patrol which statement contains the substance of an interview given by you on October 22, 1964. In the course of the interview the report states that you advised that you did not desire to furnish the names of any individuals who were involved in any of the various bombings. You stated that this group of individuals involved was a small militant group of the United Klan in this area:

He said that he knows the identities of these individuals but refused to furnish their identities. He stated that he feels it would be difficult to obtain explosives or dynamite in Adams County; however, he stated that there is available in Pike County all types of explosives which would be readily available to anybody known in the area. He stated that he has no personal knowledge of anyone in Adams County in possession of dynamite or other explosives other than himself.

Who are the individuals about whom you possess knowledge as to their involvement in various bombings in the Adams County area of Mississippi?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. The report continues: "During the course of this interview he," referring to Avants—voluntarily expressed an opinion that a small militant group of members of the Klan were responsible for the bombings of the residence of Mayor John Nossier and the Willie Washington residence at Natchez, Mississippi.

Who were involved in these bombings, Mr. Avants?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Were you one of those involved?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Will counsel identify the incidents a little more closely?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, the residence of the mayor of Natchez, Mayor Nossier.

Mr. WELTNER. The date of that?

Mr. APPELL. I do not have the date in this record.

And the residence of a resident of Natchez by the name of Willie Washington.

Continuing the quote from the interview :

He said he has never resorted to the use of any type of explosives for any purpose and possessed no knowledge of the existence of dynamite in this area. However, he added a large quantity of explosives had been entrusted into his custody and care. He pointed out that he was not a member of the organization who furnished these explosives to him and refuse to identify this particular organization. He stated that no weapons were included in this armament and consisted entirely of ammunition, hand grenades and a quantity of C-3 explosives.

What are C-3 explosives, Mr. Avants?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell, what are C-3 explosives?

Mr. APPELL. I have no knowledge.

Mr. POOL. All right.

Mr. APPELL. [Continues reading:]

According to Avants, this quantity of ammunition and armaments would be utilized only upon the instructions and command of the Governor of the State of Mississippi or the Sheriff of Adams County. At that time he indicated he would also receive instructions as to the ultimate disposition of these explosives. He described these explosives as being contained in metal containers of unknown sizes and power of detonation. Upon receipt of this ammunition and explosives he stated he personally concealed it in numerous locations in this area. He claimed he acquired knowledge of the use of explosives through his military service and National Guard association. He identified his wife as the only other person who is in the possession of information as to the specific location of the explosives and ammunition originally concealed by him. He said he was unaware of the fact that this ammunition consisted of stolen U.S. Government property but indicated that the mark "U.S." appeared on a large quantity of this ammunition. He said that he believed that there are other caches throughout the country which contain the weapons to fire the ammunition in his possession, and that in case of an emergency these caches would be joined together for use.

Will you give to the committee the benefit of the knowledge as expressed in the paragraph which I read to you, Mr. Avants?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. WELTNER. Let me ask a question: Is there such a cache of ammunition or explosives?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. In other words, you are going to let this statement stand that there evidently is such a cache of explosives.

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. POOL. Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Avants, James K. Greer, who was arrested at the same time, identified you as a member of a Klavern of the White Knights which you shot up after getting drunk because you were disturbed over the fact that members were not paying their dues. Is the statement of James K. Greer given to the Mississippi Highway Patrol factual?

Mr. AVANTS. Sir, for the reasons previously stated, I respectfully decline to answer that question.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask the witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Appell, does the committee investigation indicate that to date there is presently in existence in this area a supply of hidden ammunition or explosives?

Mr. APPELL. I would assume that if knowledge were available as to the contents of any caches that they would be seized by the Mississippi enforcement authorities.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no further questions.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Buchanan.

Mr. BUCHANAN. No questions.

Mr. POOL. Do you have any other questions, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. No, sir.

Mr. POOL. The witness is excused permanently.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Paul Wilson.

Mr. POOL. Will you raise your right hand, please?

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give is the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. WILSON. I do.

TESTIMONY OF PAUL DEWEY WILSON

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Paul Dewey Wilson.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, I note you are not accompanied by counsel. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Have you been advised as to the fact that you have the right before this committee in answering any questions that might be incriminating to you to invoke the constitutional privilege of the fifth amendment?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Have you received a copy and acquainted yourself with the contents of the opening statement of the chairman on October 19, 1965?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. I have, sir.

Mr. POOL. Do you desire counsel at this time?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, so that there be no question about it, I suggest that the Chair advise the witness that at any time he feels he might desire counsel he will have an opportunity to obtain it?

Mr. POOL. You are so advised. If you cannot afford counsel, the committee will recommend to the bar association and people like that to furnish counsel.

Mr. APPELL. I ask you, Mr. Wilson, have you sought legal advise prior to coming to Washington?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing today in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on the 29th day of October 1965 by John D. Sullivan, investigator for this committee?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Wilson?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, I hand you a photograph of two different exposures containing four Russian surplus rifles and other paraphernalia. I ask you if these weapons and other items displayed in the photographs were seized from you at the time of arrest by officers of the Mississippi State Highway Patrol.

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Photographs marked "Paul Wilson Exhibit No. 1." One retained in committee files; for other see committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, p. 106.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of Mr. Wilson's refusal to answer committee questions, invoking his constitutional privileges, I would like to present a résumé of the committee's investigation as it relates to Mr. Wilson.

Paul Dewey Wilson was born on December 14, 1938, at Jayess, Mississippi. His educational background is unknown. Prior to his arrest in October 1964, he was employed as a carman apprentice with the Illinois Central Railroad, McComb, Mississippi. Wilson, following his arrest in October 1964, was interviewed by agents of the Adams County Sheriff's Department, Mississippi Highway Patrol, and Federal Bureau of Investigation.

During the interview, Wilson advised that he joined the United Klans of America in McComb, Mississippi, after being approached by Ray Smith, an officer of the Klavern, to join. He attended his first meeting at the Legion Hut in McComb, where 50 men were present, all wearing white robes. He was sworn into the United Klans of America by Eddie McDaniel, whom he described as an individual whom he knew in McComb but who he stated was some kind of officer in Natchez, Mississippi. He was issued a membership card, which he tore up.

In the course of his first meeting he paid $10 initiation fee, $10 for a robe, and was told that his dues would be $1 per month. Paul Wilson stated he attended meetings on Tuesday nights, with discussion generally relating to the movement and operations of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, communism, and integration.

In declining to elaborate on his statement about the FBI, he stated that there were occasions when there were discussions about the necessity for obtaining more members who could be trusted. After a month the meeting place of the Klavern was changed to the second floor of the Hinton Building.

He identified from personal knowledge the following individuals as members who belonged or attended meetings of his Klavern:

Ray Smith, employed by the Southern Bell Telephone Company, who was the EC of the Klavern.

M. J. Duncan, an employee of the Firestone Store, who held the position at one time as outer guard.

J. E. Thornhill, a wealthy oil man in McComb and Summit.

With respect to his participation in acts of violence, he told the agents the following:

Wilson advised that about three weeks to a month ago he received a telephone call from an individual who stated only that "I am a member of the K[lan]. You know me well." The voice, which was a man's, continued by stating he believed that if someone put a bomb in front of the house of a Negro preacher—name Wilson could not at this time recall—it would scare COFO and the other integrationists off and into leaving other people's business alone. Wilson advised that from conversation with this person he was able to identify the Negro preacher referred to as a preacher whom he knows as an employee at Denny's Read-Mix, a concrete mixing concern at McComb, Mississippi. The caller told him to go out past Quinn's Bridge, past the Booker T. Washington Negro School, and turn to the right on the second hill past the school. The caller stated that dynamite would be hidden on this road in some bushes about 60 or 70 yards down the road on the left-hand side of the road.

Wilson advised that he went alone that night, about midnight, in his 1961 black Ford to the location described, where he found three sticks of dynamite hidden in the bushes, already fused and capped. Wilson stated he thereafter drove to the Negro preacher's house and sped away after throwing lighted dynamite package into the preacher's front yard. As he drove towards McComb, he heard the explosion. Wilson was questioned closely concerning this bombing and he insisted that it took place under the circumstances described and that as far as he knew no other member of the Klan knew who did it. He insisted he was unable to identify the mysterious caller and would not answer when asked whether he was thus agreeable to bombing something just on an unidentified party advising him he was a Klan member.

Wilson initially stated emphatically this was the only bombing concerning which he had any knowledge whatsoever. On further interrogation he admitted that on the night of September 20, 1964, he was with Ernest Frederick Zeeck and Jimmy Wilson (the latter no relation) when the three of them in Paul Wilson's 1961 Ford bombed the Alyene Quinn's residence in McComb, Mississippi. He stated this bomb was composed of dynamite and it was actually lighted and thrown onto the porch by Ernest Zeeck. He recalled that an unidentified Negro man was observed by them on the street in the vicinity of the Quinn residence but claimed this man was about a block away and could not have identified them.

Mr. Wilson, did you make the statement read to you to agents of the sheriff's department and the agents of the Mississippi Highway Patrol?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, I hand you a listing by dates of the types of violence, bombing, flogging, arson, the place, location of where these things took place, happening in the McComb, Mississippi, area during the year 1964, and I ask you which of these acts you participated in as a member of the United Klans of America.

Mr. WELTNER. Will you rephrase the question? Ask whether he participated in any of these acts.

Mr. APPELL. Did you participate in any of those acts?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(At this point Mr. Pool left the hearing room.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, Billy Earl Wilson testified before this committee on January 18, 1966. In the course of his testimony, he identified you as the person who indoctrinated him in Klan principles. He testified that he was a member of the Klavern of which Ray Smith was the exalted cyclops, that you are his first cousin, that you read off a list of names of members of the Klavern which was to leave that Klavern and form a new Klavern and when the new temporary Klavern was formed that you were elected the exalted cyclops. Did Billy Earl Wilson testify truthfully?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Billy Earl Wilson testified that on July 27, 1964, he participated in the bombing of the residence of Charles Bryan. He stated that Paul Wilson phoned him re the job, that you picked him up at his home about midnight and then picked up Hilton Dunaway, and that the three of you drove to a wooded area where you transferred into a '49 Plymouth and that you rode in the rear seat of the car, that Hilton Dunaway threw the bomb, and that while in the act of throwing the bomb someone fired upon you and that you returned the fire with a 16-gauge over and under shotgun. Is this testimony true?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Billy Earl Wilson testified that, at a meeting of the Klavern of which you were the EC, on two occasions, one on September 1 and the second time on September 15, that you put a hat on the table and instructed the members to come and draw their jobs. Did you do such a thing?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. He testified that at the first drawing of slips on September 1 he drew a slip containing the name of Alyene Quinn, however he could not go through with the job because his grandfather was visiting and he said that at a Klavern meeting on September 9 that you told him that you still had a bomb and wanted to unload it, so that you and he drove to the home of the Reverend James Baker at your suggestion, that you lit the fuse, and that he hurled it.

Is this testimony true?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, I hand you a photograph of Louis Anthony DiSalvo and I ask you if you ever had any business relations with him.

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Photograph marked "Paul Wilson Exhibit No. 3" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, can you explain to the committee why you had in your possession at the time of your arrest a cardboard carton which was mailed by Hunters Lodge in Alexandria, Virginia, which contained the name of Louis DiSalvo, and, of the rifles that I showed you, that four of those rifles' serial numbers appeared on the invoice of shipment of arms by Hunters Lodge to Louis Anthony DiSalvo.

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER (presiding). One moment. Is the substance of that question that Hunters Lodge in Virginia filled an order of rifles for Louis Anthony DiSalvo and these rifles subsequently were found in this witness' possession?

Mr. APPELL. That is right.

Mr. WELTNER. And Mr. DiSalvo appeared here as a witness 2 or 3 weeks ago and, I believe, was the party who was involved in a discussion concerning the bombing of the Lady Bird Special; is that correct?

Mr. APPELL. That is correct, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to have entered into the record at this point the listing of some 43 items, including the rifles, which were obtained in a search of Paul Wilson's residence and his automobile at the time of his arrest, these in addition to the rifles, pistols, billy clubs, unfinished table legs, ammunition, hypodermic syringe, and numerous items.

I might point out, Mr. Chairman, for the record, that one item recovered was one deputy sheriff badge. The committee investigation has established that, time and time again, in the arrest of Klansmen and the seizing of either that which is on their possession or that which is in their home as a result of search warrant there is invariably recovered one toy tin deputy sheriff badge.

Mr. WELTNER. Will you show that list to the witness.

Mr. Witness, will you examine that, please, and tell the committee whether or not that is an exact list of articles found in your possession?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Without objection the list will be entered into the record at this point.

(Document marked "Paul Wilson Exhibit No. 4." The list follows:)

* * * * *

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, Paul Wilson advised that, after he was given a suspended sentence and fined, he obtained money from the Reverend J. C. Brown.

Mr. WELTNER. One moment, please. Which Wilson advised that?

Mr. APPELL. Billy Earl Wilson.

Did you, Paul Wilson, receive any funds from the Reverend J. C. Brown?

Mr. WILSON. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Is it a fact that you pleaded guilty for the role that you played in the illegal use of explosives and received a suspended sentence?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Did Mr. Robert Shelton know you to be a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Shelton gave an interview to Playboy magazine. He was asked by the reporter, after an explanation:

Then how do you explain the case of Paul Dewey Wilson, who was arrested last year in McComb, Mississippi, while wearing a deputy sheriff's badge and hauling four rifles, a pistol, eight wooden clubs, a blackjack, brass knuckles and a hypodermic syringe in his car—and carrying a membership card in the United Klan signed by you?

SHELTON: We don't have membership cards. The card he had was the card I described—just a business card.

Was the statement that you made that you were issued a membership card which you destroyed factual or was Mr. Shelton's statement truthful that no membership cards are issued to members of the United Klans of America?

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Document marked "Paul Wilson Exhibit No. 5" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, staff has no further questions to ask this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Wilson, you have an opportunity at this point to make any statement you desire that is relevant. There has been substantial narration of the prior testimony of other persons connecting you with serious incidents and events.

You have the opportunity to qualify that or deny that as you see fit. I might point out that this circumstance is somewhat different than some of the prior testimony. On two occasions it appears from our investigation to date that you as the exalted cyclops of a Klavern of the United Klans of America distributed by the draw from a hat assignments for acts of violence. In all fairness to you, we wish to give you the opportunity to deny that or to explain that, as you see fit. You have that opportunity at this point if you desire to offer anything which the committee should consider.

Mr. PAUL WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Failing that, or failing other evidence to come before the committee, the committee will of necessity rely upon the accuracy of the investigation.

Do you have any questions?

Mr. BUCHANAN. No questions.

Mr. WELTNER. Are there any further questions by the staff? If not, you are excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Jimmy Prinston Wilson.

Mr. WELTNER. Will you raise your right hand, please?

Will you solemnly swear the testimony you give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JIMMY PRINSTON WILSON

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Jimmy Prinston Wilson.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here in accordance with the subpoena served upon you on October 29, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Wilson, I note you don't have counsel. Are you aware of your right to have counsel during this hearing?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you desire to have counsel?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Are you aware of your rights under the Constitution to refuse to answer any questions which you feel might incriminate you under any State or Federal statute?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Are you aware that if you so desire at any time during the course of this proceeding you may request counsel and this committee will undertake to make arrangements to furnish counsel to you? Do you wish to proceed without counsel at this point?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. You may proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, the Washington Post and Times Herald in an article dated October 6, 1964, story captioned, "7 More Held In McComb Terrorism," identified that there have been arrested in a series of arsons and bombings in the McComb area, Sterling L. Gillis, who is popularly known as Bubba, Hilton Dunaway, "John" Paul Westbrook, Charles Avery Womack, W-o-m-a-c-k, Gerald Lawrence, Murphy J. Duncan, Paul Wilson, Billy Earl Wilson, Jimmy Wilson, Ernest Zeek, all of McComb, Mississippi.

Are you the Jimmy Wilson referred to in the article?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Document marked "Jimmy Wilson Exhibit No. 1" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, on October 3, 1964, while in custody did you make two statements to the sheriff of Pike County and to agents of the Mississippi Highway Patrol and the Federal Bureau of Investigation?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. I read to you from the first statement which quotes Jimmy Prinston Wilson as stating:

I joined the United Klans of America some time after the first of 1964 and sometime in August 1964 several of us split off from Ray Smith's Klan and organized a Klan of our own with Paul Wilson being appointed as E.C. and Allen Lee as being appointed Treasurer.

Is that information correct?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. The statement continues that you were contacted on Sunday, September 20, 1964, by Paul Wilson, and this is an exact quote—"he told me he had a mission that he wanted me to go on."

I continue in the exact quote :

We were supposed to go fishing about 6:00 P.M. which we had planned. I was at home that evening, and I decided to go on to the river myself earlier, and I went on out to the river fishing, and Paul Wilson, Billy Wilson and Ernest Zeeck came out roughly about 6:00 or 6:30 P.M. and we went out and set out hooks and fished about 10:00 and all four of us drove into town in Paul Wilson's car. I drove, Billy Wilson was in front with me and Paul Wilson and Ernest Zeeck was in the back. The bomb was in the back seat between Paul Wilson and Ernest Zeeck.

We drove around the block where Alyene Quinn lives several times, which is on the old Summit Road, and the lights were on, and we could see that there wasn't anybody in the house around and on about the fourth round, I stopped the car in front of Alyene Quinn's house. Paul Wilson lit the fuses and handed it to Ernest Zeeck who opened the car door, got out and threw the bomb towards the house. He got back in the car, and we drove back to the river. We drove north to Summit and back to the Bogue Chitto River Hoover Bridge. We fished awhile and took up the hooks and Billy Wilson and me came back in my station wagon which is a 1955 Mercury, black and white, to my home. Paul Wilson and Ernest Zeeck were behind us and Billy Wilson got out of my car and help me unload some fishing gear, and I went in the house. He got in the car with them and went on with them. It was midnight or after when I got home. I went home, got undressed for bed, got in bed and went to sleep.

Is that a factual recitation of the statement that you made to the agents that I have described to you?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a list of acts of violence conducted in the McComb, Mississippi, area in 1964 and in addition to Alyene Quinn, which is shown on here on September 20, 1964, I ask you if you engaged in any acts listed on the sheet being handed you.

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Document previously marked "Paul Wilson Exhibit No. 2." See pp. 3023, 3024.)

Mr. WELTNER. Specifically, Mr. Wilson, did you have any connection with the incident of September 20, 1964, in regard to the bombing of the home of Alyene Quinn, McComb, Mississippi, previously testified to by Ernest Zeeck and by Billy Wilson?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Proceed.

Mr. APPELL. On the list that I showed you, Mr. Wilson, is listed the date of July 18, 1964, attempted arson, "Sweet Home Church," McComb, Mississippi. Were you involved in attempted arson on that church?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights.

Mr. APPELL. I read to you a second statement signed Jimmy P. Wilson, notarized by a sheriff, a representative of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. WELTNER. One moment. Is this purporting to be the statement of this witness, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. It is, sir, signed by him and witnessed.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Wilson, is that your signature or facsimile thereof, and did you sign the original of that statement?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. The pertinent portion of this statement reads as follows, Mr. Wilson, and the date is October 3, 1964 :

About three or four months ago I was picked up at my home by Paul Wilson and later we met a man named Duncan, first name unknown to me, who is Manager of the Firestone Store at McComb, Mississippi. It had been planned previously that we were to burn the Sweethome Missionary Baptist Church, located on the Old Homesville Road in the Whitestown area near McComb, Mississippi. The three of us traveled to this church by car late that night. I believe we went in Paul Wilson's car but I cannot recall the description of this car. Upon arriving to the Church we entered this church, which is a brick building, through a side door, which was unlocked, and as I recall, all three of us went into the church. We carried a tin, one gallon can filled with gasoline, several feet of fuse, and a small metal jar lid containing black powder into the church with us. We poured this gasoline onto the floor of the church at the rear of the pulpit and placed the jar lid containing black powder in the gasoline. We placed one end of the fuse in the powder and the other end of the fuse through a doorway. I had previously heard that a fuse soaked in gasoline would not burn so I intentionally soaked this fuse in such a way that it would go out after it was lit and before it burned to the powder. Wilson and Duncan did not know that I had soaked this fuse so that the powder would not ignite. Paul Wilson then lit this fuse and the three of us then left the church by the same door and got into the car and immediately drove away from that area. We did not return to this church and Wilson and Duncan did not learn until the following day that the church had not been burned. * * *

Is that statement given over your signature on October 3, 1964, factual?

MR. JIMMY WILSON. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

MR. APPELL. Did you deliberately soak the fuse in gasoline so that it would not burn because to burn a church was revolting to you personally?

MR. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

MR. WELTNER. Mr. Wilson, here is an opportunity for you to testify that you prevented the destruction of property of someone else. At this point I would advise you that you are given the opportunity to offer to this committee any matter that the committee determines to be relevant to deny or confirm or to qualify any statement that is presented to you.

Here is an opportunity. Absent your testimony or other information which properly comes before the committee, we will, of necessity, have to rely on the accuracy of the investigation. Here's a statement that appears to be a copy of a notarized statement by yourself showing how you prevented the burning of a church. I would like to know whether or not that is true.

MR. JIMMY WILSON. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Wilson, isn't it a fact that you, like the others, were convicted for these acts, received a suspended sentence, and did you receive a fine in addition to the suspended sentence?

MR. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

MR. APPELL. Billy Earl Wilson testified that money was received on two different occasions from the Reverend J. C. Brown, whom he identified to be the kludd of the Klavern of which Ray Smith was the exalted cyclops. Did you receive any funds from the Reverend J. C. Brown?

MR. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I think that the record should note that the planning of the arson of the Sweethome Church, McComb, Mississippi, which was planned prior to July 18, 1964, was on a date prior to the time that the group broke away from the original Klavern and formed the new Klavern.

Mr. WELTNER. That is when Ray Smith was exalted cyclops of all the members?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. Wilson, within the organizational structure of the United Klans of America there is a klokann. As established by committee investigation, it is the responsibility of the klokann committee to carry out acts such as carried out in this instance. Were you and Paul Wilson and Murphy J. Duncan at the time of the attempted arson of the Sweethome Church, members of a klokann committee?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Following your plea of guilty and conviction, was your membership in the United Klans of America suspended? Were you sworn out or were you banished?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Has any action of a disciplinary nature been taken against you as a member of the Klan by the Klan for your involvement in any acts of violence?

Mr. JIMMY WILSON. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. Are there any questions?

Mr. BUCHANAN. No.

Mr. WELTNER. The witness will be excused.

Call the next witness, please.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Murphy John Duncan.

Mr. WELTNER. Stand and raise your right hand, please.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you will give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. DUNCAN. I do.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated, please.

TESTIMONY OF MURPHY JOHN DUNCAN, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. DUNCAN. Murphy J. Duncan.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Duncan, you are appearing here without counsel. The committee would advise you that you have a right to counsel at any time during the course of your testimony; that if you are unable to obtain counsel, we will undertake to make arrangements for you to have counsel. You have the further right under the Constitution not to answer any question if you feel that your answer to that question might tend to incriminate you under any law of the United States or the State.

I ask you whether or not you desire counsel for this hearing?

Mr. DUNCAN. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you understand your rights under the fifth amendment?

Mr. DUNCAN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Duncan, you are appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 29, 1965, at McComb, Mississippi, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. DUNCAN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Duncan, when and where were you born?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Duncan, did you hold the position of grand klabee, or treasurer, of the Realm of Mississippi, United Klans of America?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, Murphy John Duncan was born on April 8, 1920, in McComb, Mississippi. He served in the United States Army Air Force from February 1939 to February 1945. He resides at Route 2, McComb, Mississippi.

Following a series of arsons and bombings in the McComb, Mississippi, area, Murphy John Duncan was arrested and on October 5, 1964, he gave permission to Inspector G-w-i-n Cole of the Mississippi Highway Patrol to search his residence, which search produced the following documents. It will be noticed that these documents established him to be the grand klabee, or treasurer, of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, as well as the official delegate to the Imperial Klonvokation held in Alabama on September 5, 1964.

The documents recovered in this search are the following: A book containing on the inside cover the name "E. L. McDaniel (Eddie)," Grand Dragon, 2156 Second Street, P. O. Box 14, Natchez, Mississippi, business phone 442-0267, home phone 445-5340; the name Harry A. Sibley, 305 Jackson Street, McComb, Mississippi; United Klans, Post Office Box 303; Mississippi Rescue Service 706, which number, Mr. Chairman, is believed might refer to a Klavern.

First page contains notation: "Mississippi Rescue Service dues, #700 September $22.75."

The pages are there numbered and show income, September 19, 1964, public speaking, Natchez, $21.32, which appears to be a pro rata share of expense by Klaverns 713, 710, 715, 714 at $5.33.

Dues 700, 704, 710, 713, 715, 717, 719, $69.25.

September 22, 711 dues $7.50, public speaking Natchez 711, $5.33.

The pages continue to enumerate the receipt and expenditures of funds and the rough notes include that there was paid on September 22, 1964, the amount of $17.46, E. L. McDaniel, Grand Dragon expense.

There was included application for membership, United Klans of America, application for reinstatement [U.S. Klans, KKKK]. The official delegate card for September 5 and 6; position stated, grand klabee, State, Mississippi, national klonvokation, United Klans of America, UKA.

Were these documents which were obtained in the search of your residence in accordance with the authority given by you to Inspector Gwin Cole, your documents?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. On October 10, Mr. Chairman, Mr. Duncan made the following admissions to agents of the sheriff's department, the Mississippi Highway Patrol, and Federal Bureau of Investigation, "Duncan advised he has been a member of the [UKA] Klavern 700 for about eight (8) months." He held the position in this Klavern as klabee or treasurer. He, like other members, was known in the Klavern by number rather than name and his number was 6. Because Klavern 700 was becoming too large, he stated, around August 1, 1964, Paul Wilson read a list of names during a meeting of Klavern No. 700 and announced that he and those names were forming a new Klavern.

According to Duncan, Wilson read the names of Jon Paul Westbrook,——Wilson, whom he described merely as a very young boy—public testimony, Mr. Chairman, establishes him to be Billy Earl Wilson—Bubba Gillis, whose real name is Sterling Gillis, Hilton Dunaway, Charles Womack, [Emery] Allen Lee, and himself, Murphy Duncan. He stated that this Klavern was formed and was known as a rifle club. He identified Paul Wilson as the exalted cyclops.

He further stated that at about the time the new Klavern was formed he was elected State treasurer and maintained an account in the name of the Mississippi Rescue Service at the Mechanics State Bank, McComb, Mississippi. Through subpoena duces tecum, Mr. Chairman, we have subpoenaed the records maintained and this has been verified.

With respect to jobs of violence carried out by members of the Klavern, Duncan stated that he attended a Klavern meeting at which names were drawn from a hat with Paul Wilson stating, "Come, boys, draw your job."

With respect to his attendance at the Imperial Klonvokation, committee investigation establishes that Duncan and Ernest Zeeck flew to Birmingham in a chartered aircraft, paid for by Ed Wilkins in the amount of $96. Billy Earl Wilson identified Wilkins as a person Duncan recruited into the Klavern which met at Bubba Gillis' upholstery shop in McComb, Mississippi.

Mr. Duncan, do you care to make any statements with respect to the results of the committee's investigation as read to you?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Duncan, the Chair wishes to advise you that you have the right at this point to offer any matter that the committee will deem relevant, to explain or deny any part of this information; that absent that or other facts which may come to the attention of this committee, the committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Do you care to avail yourself of that opportunity?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(At this point Mr. Pool returned to the hearing room.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Duncan, is it a fact that you received a suspended sentence, as did the others; that, because you miscalculated as to the date when your period of probation expired, you called up and threatened agents of the FBI; and that your probation was revoked and you were sentenced to serve 6 months?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Let us go through that again, will you, please, Mr. Appell? State the findings of the investigation with regard to any such matter, and then we will pose that to the witness.

Mr. APPELL. Prior to the expiration of the probation, that Murphy J. Duncan by use of the telephone threatened an agent and an agent's wife in the McComb area, as a result of which the probation was revoked and he was sentenced to 6 months in the local jail.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Duncan, is that factual, that your probation was revoked and that you were thereupon sentenced to serve 6 months in the penitentiary?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Duncan, with respect to the documents recovered from your home, one Post Office Box 14, Natchez, Mississippi, the other Post Office Box 706, McComb, Mississippi, I hand you the one covering Post Office Box 14, Natchez, which shows the applicant to be Ernest Finley. I ask you if you knew him to be a member of the United Klans of America.

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Post Office Box 706, McComb, in the name of the Mississippi Rescue Service, which states under "kind of business," that it is "civil defense radio service."

Will you explain to the committee what type of civil defense radio service the Mississippi Rescue Service was involved in?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Duncan, did you advise Billy Earl Wilson with respect to Ed Wilkins, who he identified you recruited into the Klavern that met at Bubba Gillis' upholstery shop, that Wilkins worked for an oil company and used explosives and knew where to get them?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did Ed Wilkins ever obtain for your group any of the explosives or dynamite which was used for any of the bombings in the McComb, Mississippi, area?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Would you know Howard M. Lee, a Klansman in Bogalusa, Louisiana?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. POOL (presiding). I can't hear you, speak up a little louder. Do you invoke the fifth amendment?

Mr. DUNCAN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Howard M. Lee was arrested by agents of the Alcoholic Tax Unit of the Treasury Department, which agency has the responsibility of enforcing the regulations relating to the sale of guns and ammunition. The records maintained by Howard Lee reflect on September 20, 1964, he sold a rifle to Murphy Duncan, although the address here is listed as Denham Springs. I ask you to examine this document and to advise the committee whether you purchased a rifle from Howard M. Lee.

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask this witness.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Weltner.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Duncan, have you discussed your appearance here today with Mr. Robert M. Shelton, the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you know Mr. Shelton?

Mr. DUNCAN. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment. (At this point Mr. Buchanan left the hearing room.)

Mr. WELTNER. No further questions.

Mr. POOL. Do you have anything else, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. No further questions.

Mr. POOL. The witness is excused permanently.

Mr. APPELL. Emery Allen Lee.

Mr. POOL. Raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. LEE. I do.

TESTIMONY OF EMERY ALLEN LEE

Mr. APPELL. Will you state your full name for the record, Mr. Lee?

Mr. LEE. Emery Allen Lee.

Mr. APPELL. You are appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at 1110 Avenue L, McComb, Mississippi, on October 29, 1965, by John D. Sullivan, investigator of this committee?

Mr. LEE. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. I note that you are not represented by counsel. Do you desire counsel?

Mr. LEE. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Have you received legal advice as to the rights which you have to invoke constitutional privileges, the fifth amendment, in respect to all questions which might tend to incriminate you?

Mr. LEE. I invoke my rights on the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you understand your right under the Constitution to refuse to answer any questions on the ground that it may tend to incriminate you?

Mr. LEE. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you desire counsel to represent you?

Mr. LEE. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. You do not desire counsel?

Mr. LEE. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you understand that you might have counsel at any time during the course of this hearing if you make that desire known to the committee?

Mr. LEE. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. I am not trying to trip you up with a question, but this committee wishes to advise you that you have the right at any time in response to any questions to refuse to answer on the grounds that the answer may tend to incriminate you under any State or Federal statute. I am simply asking you whether or not you understand you have that right.

Mr. LEE. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. You do understand that?

Mr. LEE. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Lee?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the investigation reflects that Emery Allen Lee was born on October 6, 1928, at Hammond, Louisiana. He completed 7 years of grammar school. He enlisted in the regular army on August 2, 1946, and was discharged for reasons of dependency on February 25, 1947.

He is self-employed as a painter. He resides at 1110 Avenue L, McComb, Mississippi.

Mr. Lee, Billy Earl Wilson in testifying before this committee under oath on January 18, 1966, identified you as a person whom he knew to be a member of the United Klans of America. Was Mr. Billy Earl Wilson telling the truth when he so testified under oath?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Jimmy Prinston Wilson, Murphy J. Duncan, in statements given to the agents of the Mississippi State Highway Patrol, sheriff's department, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, identified you to be a person they knew to be a member of the United Klans of America. Were the statements that they gave truthful?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you a list of acts of violence which took place in McComb, Mississippi, area in 1964. I ask you if you committed any of the acts individually or in partnership with others and I invite your attention specifically to the date of September 20, 1964, and the bombing of the Society Hill Missionary Church, McComb, Mississippi.

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Document previously marked "Paul Wilson Exhibit No. 2." See pp. 3023, 3024.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lee, I hand you a series of photographs. These photographs were made by the Mississippi Highway Patrol on the 3d day of October 1964. I ask you to hold them as I read them to you.

Report of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol reflects that there was found in two sacks at the rear of the residence of Emery Allen Lee contents described as homemade bombs and a can of black powder with 65 feet of fuse. These items are described as lengths of galvanized pipe capped at both ends with a quarter inch hole drilled in them, filled with black powder, fused with the fuse bonded.

Mr. Lee, did you manufacture those homemade bombs?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Photographs marked "Emery Lee Exhibit No. 1." For one of said photographs, see committee report, The Present-Day Ku Klux Klan Movement, p. 108; balance retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lee, Billy Earl Wilson stated that when they were preparing to bomb the residence of Alyene Quinn that they stopped by your house and from a sort of corner cabinet there was obtained by you from a false bottom in that cabinet the dynamite which they used. Was Billy Earl Wilson's testimony truthful?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. While stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground as a member of the United States Army did you receive instruction in detonation?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lee, did you and Bubba Gillis bomb the Society Hill Missionary Church, McComb, Mississippi, on the night of September 20, 1964?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. At a meeting of the Klavern which met at Bubba Gillis' upholstery shop, where a hat was placed on the table, did you draw a slip of paper which contained the name of the Society Hill Missionary Church?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Are you acquainted with Curtis O'Neil Doles, a Klansman with the Bessemer, Alabama, Klavern?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Lee, can you advise the committee as to the purpose which you and other members of the United Klans in the State of Mississippi hope to accomplish through the acts of arson and bombings which you men carried out in that State?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Where did you obtain the powder that was in that can?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you know Robert M. Shelton?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Have you discussed your appearance here today with Robert M. Shelton?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. Have you discussed your appearance with any person known to you to be a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. WELTNER. No further questions.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I have one that I overlooked which is very important.

Mr. Lee, on November 12, 1964, did you write the following letter to a Miss or Mrs. Joyce L-a-d-n-e-r, and I will quote the contents of the letter to you:

I read your article in the Jackson Daily News about the McComb Bombers. It makes a man feel good to know that someone in these United States outside of good old Mississippi will go to bat for them. My name is Emery Allen Lee. I am the one who is the Demolition [sic] Expert who made all the bombs and told the others where to go with them. I am proud of my part. They have accused me of and am sorry that one man had to spill his guts and tell everything he knew about me and my property but he has to live with it the rest of his life. I would have trusted him with my life. It just goes to show that a man doesn't know who he can trust any more. I am branded an exbomber of Pike Co. but I will hold my head up even higher than ever and spit in the eye of any one who tries to ever integrate me and will fight it one way or another till I die and will lay down my life tomorrow for what I believe. I am a Rebel and I am proud to be one and from your article in the paper in my book you rate first class. And I would be proud [sic] to call you a true friend because it took lots of guts to put that in the paper nowadays. Speaking of faith it is going to take a lot of Faith and men and women like yourself to stand together and fight for the things we hold so dear. We have a police State here now and a white man gets treated like an animal if he doesn't go along with COFO and NAACP so just call me an animal. I was handcuffed so long and so tight with my hands behind my back that when they finally took them off I could lay my thumb and finger in the groove of my wrist and all but hide them. It took almost three weeks for the feeling to come back to my right hand. Well, I didn't intend to talk so much. I really wanted to thank you for your lift in the paper. It meant a lot to me and any of the others who might have read it.

Sincerely

Signed "Al Lee."

Mr. LEE. Sir, I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

(Document marked "Emery Lee Exhibit No. 2-A" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell, do you have a date on that?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir. That was dated November 12, 1964.

Mr. POOL. Did he sign the letter?

Mr. APPELL. The letter was handwritten. It was signed "Al Lee" and it has been—I might preface what I am going to answer you with, Mr. Lee misinterpreted what the letter of Miss Ladner was intended to convey when he wrote her this letter. Upon receipt of it she forwarded it to the Attorney General of the United States, who had a handwriting analysis made which confirmed it to be written by the witness Emery Allen Lee.

Mr. POOL. And signed by the witness?

Mr. APPELL. And signed by the witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Just a minute. What was the letter that Miss Ladner wrote? I find it incredible to believe that this letter was signed and dispatched under those circumstances. Will you give us some more background? What was the nature of Miss Ladner's letter?

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, we made a search, but because of the amount of time we would have to consume to research the paper we did not obtain it.

Mr. POOL. You don't have Miss Ladner's letter?

Mr. APPELL. No, sir, we are still in search of it. It will be made part of the record.

(Miss Ladner's letter marked "Emery Lee Exhibit No. 2-B" follows:)

EMERY LEE EXHIBIT NO. 2-B

[Jackson (Miss.) Daily News, October 30, 1964]

Courage And Integrity Shown?

Editor, Daily News — I recently learned that my McComb, Mississippi, brethren pleaded guilty to the bombings of the colored folks homes and churches. I must say that this must have taken a great amount of courage and integrity.

Hats off to the fine Southern gentlemanly judge who gave them all suspended sentences because of the faith he had in their upbringing, as evidenced by the Christian deed they did.

This is but another fine example of the courageous acts that can only be carried out by a true Southern gentleman.

Joyce Ladner
5793 Kingsbury Place
St. Louis 12, Mo.

Mr. WELTNER. This was a letter published in a newspaper?

Mr. APPELL. In the editor's column.

Mr. WELTNER. Is it your statement that the witness misinterpreted the letter as sympathetic to the bombing?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And in response to what he interpreted to be an expression of sympathy he sent to the author of the newspaper letter, this letter?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. You have also stated now that that was forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that a handwriting analysis was made of it; that the result of that analysis is that it was written by this witness.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Appell, I wish to ask this: Did he answer the question?

Mr. APPELL. He invoked the constitutional privilege before I even asked him whether or not he was the author.

Mr. POOL. In view of this letter and the fact that the handwriting has been identified, I will say that I think it needs explanation on his part or the committee will have to accept it in the tone in which it was sent and the philosophy behind it in this man's mind, which is not a very admirable philosophy and the general public resents that type of attitude by those people.

I can't think of anything incriminating in this letter. I would straighten it out if I were on the witness stand.

Go ahead.

Mr. APPELL. I would like to ask the witness as to whether or not the statement about the condition of his wrist after being handcuffed, or put it to him as a fact that that statement is false?

Mr. LEE. I invoke my rights under the fifth amendment.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions to ask the witness.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Senner, as a member of the full committee, would you care to ask any questions?

Mr. SENNER. I have no questions, thank you.

Mr. POOL. The witness is excused.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chairman, I have an observation which I should like to make a part of the record.

A witness before this committee has a right to counsel and he has a right not to have counsel, too. Now the witnesses who have been subpoenaed here who are implicated in the McComb bombings each appeared without counsel. And each, after being queried as to whether they desired counsel, stated they did not wish counsel.

Now that occurred to me to be a rather unusual circumstance inasmuch as just about every other witness who has appeared and has taken the fifth amendment consistently has appeared with counsel.

It occurs to me that there is a logical explanation for that. The interview that was printed in Playboy magazine with Mr. Robert Shelton disclosed Mr. Shelton's statements to the effect that the United Klans did not permit violence and was opposed to violence and it also contained the question, "Then how do you explain the case of Paul Dewey Wilson, who was arrested last year in McComb, Mississippi, while wearing a deputy sheriff's badge" et cetera?

The answer to that by Mr. Shelton was: "We don't have membership cards. The card he had was the card I described—just a business card."

Now if these witnesses appeared with counsel furnished them by the United Klans of America, there would be a serious doubt cast on the statement made by the Imperial Wizard that anyone convicted of an act of violence would be summarily discharged from the United Klans of America. Hence their appearance without counsel is understandable in that light.

Now as I say, Mr. Chairman, a man has a right to counsel and a man has a right to appear without counsel and from the appearance of these five or six witnesses I will have to say that their rights were protected by their own refusals in the claim of the fifth amendment. Possibly this Playboy interview and the statements by the Imperial Wizard are the explanation for the rather unusual nature of these appearances.

Mr. POOL. Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to call L. C. Murray.

Mr. POOL. Raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MURRAY. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF L. C. MURRAY, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record.

Mr. MURRAY. L. C. Murray.

Mr. APPELL. What do the initials "L." and "C." stand for?

Mr. MURRAY. Initials only.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with subpoena served upon you on November 22, 1965, at 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi?

Mr. MURRAY. I am.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Murray?

Mr. MURRAY. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as granted to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. MURRAY. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Chalmers, is it your understanding that the witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement of October 19, 1965, and that he is familiar with the contents?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir; it is so stipulated, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Murray, I hand you a rather poor reproduction of a signature card on the Britton & Koontz [National] Bank, Natchez, Mississippi, which shows the signature of Edward McDaniel, Grand Dragon; John Dawson; and L. C. Murray, field—abbreviation for secretary. I ask you if you are the L. C. Murray—I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you are the L. C. Murray listed as field secretary.

Mr. MURRAY. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you two checks, one dated September 24, 1965, the other October 8, 1965, and put it to you as a fact that they establish you as a paid employee of the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi.

Mr. MURRAY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I hand you two checks, one dated October 2, 1965, payee cash, amount $2,766, endorsers John Dawson and L. C. Murray, and check dated October 15, 1965, payable to cash, in the amount of $2,000, endorser Edward L. McDaniel.

After you examine them I will ask you for what purpose did you endorse the check for $2,766. The second check I ask you for what purpose did you make a check for Edward L. McDaniel in the amount of $2,000?

Mr. MURRAY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Checks previously marked "John Dawson Exhibit No. 4." See pp. 2988-2991.)

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Murray, I put it to you as a fact that your formal title within the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi, is that of field secretary to the Grand Dragon and ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. MURRAY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, as to whether or not the following individuals are the exalted cyclops of the following Klaverns:

700, Ray Smith, McComb; 701, J. M. Foster, Brookhaven; 702, C. J. Seal, Pearl River County; 704, John Brumfield, McComb, Mississippi; 711, H. H. Mathews, McComb, Mississippi.

Incidentally, Mr. Chairman, this is the Klavern in which Mr. Emmett Thornhill held membership.

712, Hewitt Wilkinson, Pricedale, Mississippi; 713, George Winborne, Bogue Chitto; 715, J. R. Morgan, Brookhaven; 716, Harold Casey, Goodman, Mississippi; 718, J. W. Reeves, Bogue Chitto, Mississippi; 719, Paul Foster, Natchez, Mississippi; 726, Bill Sullivan, Jackson, Mississippi; 727, T. M. Jackson, Yazoo City, Mississippi; 728, M. E. Bell, Mathiston, Mississippi; 729, W. H. Aswalt, Louisville, Mississippi; 730, James R. Simpson, Starkville; 732, Jerry M. Graham, Oxford; 735, L. C. Bracken, Iuka; 736, Houston Evans, kleagle for Greenville; 737, Glen Owen, the temporary EC, Columbus, Mississippi; Harry Oippens, the EC in the Wayne County unit.

I put it to you as a fact that they are, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. MURRAY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Murray, as the field secretary of the United Klans, Mississippi, have you conducted any investigation which has resulted in the suspension or banishment from the United Klans of America of any member who has engaged in an act of intimidation or violence against a citizen of Mississippi?

Mr. MURRAY. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions to ask this witness, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Weltner.

Mr. WELTNER. I have no questions.

Mr. POOL. The witness is excused permanently.

Mr. APPELL. Edward Lenox McDaniel.

Mr. POOL. Will you raise your right hand.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are about to give will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. McDANIEL. I do.

TESTIMONY OF EDWARD LENOX McDANIEL, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. McDaniel.

Mr. McDANIEL. Edward L. McDaniel.

Mr. APPELL. Middle name Lenox?

Mr. McDANIEL. Right.

Mr. APPELL. You are appearing here today in accordance with subpoena served upon you on October 30, 1965, at 114 Main Street, Natchez, Mississippi, by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. McDANIEL. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. McDANIEL. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel please identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh.

Mr. POOL. Mr. Chalmers, is it so stipulated that the witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement on October 19, 1965, and is familiar with its contents?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McDaniel, under the terms of the subpoena served upon you and attachment thereto which is made a part of the subpoena, you are commanded to bring with you and to produce before the committee documents set forth in paragraph 1:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi, The Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Grand Dragon of the Mississippi Realm of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, also as a member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and as a member of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask you to produce the documents called for in paragraph 1.

Mr. McDANIEL. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 6, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 6, 1965, since that information is not relevant or germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McDaniel, paragraph 2 called for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as Grand Dragon of the Mississippi Realm of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. McDANIEL. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore requested upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the witness be directed to produce those documents called for in part 2.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McDaniel, the committee does not accept your reasons for refusing to produce these documents.

Accordingly, the chairman of the subcommittee directs you to do so.

(At this point Mr. Buchanan returned to the hearing room.)

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, may we have a stipulation that these documents called for are in the custody of this witness?

Mr. CHALMERS. As stated in the subpoena; Mr. Chairman; yes.

Mr. WELTNER. Thank you.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McDaniel, when and where were you born?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McDaniel, were you banished by Imperial Dragon Roy V. Young from the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of Mississippi?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. And former Imperial Dragon Young testified under oath that you were banished because you were guilty of slandering and threatening the head or leaders of his Klan and also committing treason by exciting and recommending of revolt against the principles of the old original rules and regulations. Is his testimony truthful?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege, consisting of refusal to answer my questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. McDaniel.

Edward Lenox McDaniel was born on December 12, 1934, at Natchez, Mississippi. He has a 10th grade education. He has been employed by Johns-Manville, Natchez, Mississippi, 1953 to 1955; by General Motors in California from September 1955 to January 1957; by Los Angeles Transit Lines from February 1957 to July 1957; by Johns-Manville again from July 30, 1957, to October 12, 1959; by Acme Steel Company in California in 1960 to 1962; by the Red Ball Motor Freight Company, Natchez, Mississippi, 1962 until he began devoting full time to the United Klans of America, Realm of Mississippi.

McDaniel, while in California, filed a petition of bankruptcy on October 28, 1961, at Lynwood, California, listing debts of $4,522.36 and assets of $200. On March 7, 1962, he was discharged as bankrupt.

McDaniel's employment with Johns-Manville was terminated in 1959 under the technical charge of abuse of plant rules and regulations. Investigation established that his dismissal resulted from his illegally opening a milk vending machine and removing therefrom the coin content.

E. L. McDaniel was banished from the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in December 1963 by Roy V. Young, Imperial Dragon. He was thereafter the leader of the Original Knights which formed the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and was elected to the position of province KBI.

While holding an office within the White Knights, he joined the United Klans of America, where after he received the appointment of Grand Dragon, to which office he was later elected.

In September 1964, a series of bombings was carried out in Adams County, Mississippi. These bombings resulted from actions taken within a UKA Klavern in McComb, Mississippi. One of the Klansmen involved was a State officer of the United Klans of America, Murphy J. Duncan, who held the position of grand klabee, or treasurer. In spite of this, the September 28, 1964, issue of the Natchez Democrat carried a statement over the signature of Grand Dragon McDaniel addressed to the citizens of Adams County and read in part as follows:

I would like to take this opportunity to inform the citizens of Adams County and all parties concerned that the United Klan of America does not condone nor advocate the bombings which took place last night, nor any of the previous acts which have created strife and turmoil in our city although the Klan has been accused of them. The Klan has nothing to gain by such acts.

Klan Denies Any Part In Bombings

E. L. McDaniel, Grand Dragon of the United Klan of America, Realm of Mississippi, yesterday issued a signed statement in which he denied that the Klan in Adams County and Natchez have had any part in bombings or other acts which have created strife and turmoil in Natchez.

He stated further that "The United Klan of America does not condone nor advocate the bombings which took place on Friday night, nor any of the previous acts which have created strife and turmoil in our city."

The complete statement of Mr. McDaniel is as follows:

September 26, 1964

To the Citizens of Adams County:

I would like to take this opportunity to inform the citizens of Adams County and all parties concerned that the United Klan of America does not condone nor advocate the bombings which took place last night nor any of the previous acts which have created strife and turmoil in our city, although the Klan has been accused of them. The Klan has nothing to gain by such acts.

May all citizens strive to preserve law and order in our city.

Yours for God and Country,

E. L. McDaniel,

E. L. McDaniel, Grand Dragon,
Realm of Mississippi

Mr. APPELL. Following arrest by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol of the UKA Klansmen, the Natchez Klavern, which had been incorporated under the Adams County Civic & Betterment Association, passed a resolution deploring what the resolution described as "unlawful arrest and search by the State Highway Patrol," and announced the launching of a campaign to raise funds. (See Paul Foster Exhibit No. 3, pp. 2999, 3000.)

The president of the Klavern front organization was Paul Foster, the first chaplain of the White Knights, then the exalted cyclops of the Klavern, and now Grand Klaliff of the United Klans of America, Realm office.

McDaniel in January 1965 criticized other State units of the United Klans of America for not sending financial support to defend Klansmen arrested in Mississippi. He said only $300 had been sent to Mississippi from other States and $162 from the imperial office. McDaniel stated that about $3,000 had been collected for the defense of some 40 Klansmen arrested in Mississippi. In spite of this, he issued a statement which appeared in the Clarion-Ledger, Jackson, Mississippi, April 1, 1965, in which after welcoming the investigation by the Committee on Un-American Activities he was quoted as saying, "I have always advocated nonviolence and will continue to do so."

Grand Dragon To Welcome Investigation

NATCHEZ (AP) — The Grand Dragon of the Mississippi Realm of the United Klans of America said here he "welcomed an investigation of the KKK."

E. L. McDaniel of Natchez made the comment after Rep. Edwon Willis, D - La., chairman of the house UnAmerican Activities committee announced his group would look into activities of the Klan, the Black Muslims and others.

McDaniel said he had no knowledge of the so-called "squads" that Willis talked about in announcing the probe.

"If such squads existed, I would know about them."

McDaniel said Willis stated that the Klan was not in the best tradition of Americanism. "I would hope that Mr. Willis has not formed an opinion before investigation of the truth.

"I hope that at the conclusion of the investigation, the Klan can continue to hold his committee in high esteem as a great committee for Americanism."

McDaniel said he urged all Mississippians to ignore the agitators who are plaguing the state. He called for calm.

"I have always advocated nonviolence and will continue to do so."

McDaniel heads an organization which has an estimated membership of 400.

In May 1965, an election of State officers was held at the Eola Hotel, Natchez, Mississippi, under the cover name of Mississippi Rescue Service. A caucus of imperial officers and Grand Dragons from many realms was also held.

Mississippi officers elected were E. L. McDaniel, Grand Dragon; P. L. Foster, Grand Klaliff; Charles Dickson, klo kard; W. W. Gwinn, G-w-i-n-n, grand kludd; Charles Stewart, grand kligrapp; John Dawson, grand klabee; F. B. Brown, grand kladd; B. W. Waldrup, outer guard; Henry Neese, inner guard, and Myron Wayne "Jack" Seale, grand night-hawk.

Henry Neese was replaced by Doyle Murray and L. C. Murray was appointed to the position of field secretary to the Grand Dragon. Appointed to the offices of great titan were Dexter Lamar Torrance, of Meridian, and Charles James Seal of Crossroads, Mississippi.

On July 10, 1965, a public rally was held at S-u-q-u-o-l-e-n-a Race Track near Meridian. McDaniel introduced the Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, who had been arrested following the murder of the three civil rights workers in Philadelphia.

On July 22, 1965, Sheriff Rainey was again introduced by McDaniel, this time at a public rally near Greenville, Mississippi. Imperial Wizard Shelton shared the platform with Sheriff Rainey on this meeting and the one on July 10.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. McDaniel possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McDaniel, you have heard the statement of the committee's investigator. I give you an opportunity to reply to that statement, to confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information, or explain part of it. You may offer, if you desire, any additional information you deem relevant.

Do you have any matter you wish to present to the committee at this time?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. I am advising, Mr. McDaniel, absent your rebuttal or absent any information which may come to this committee we will have to rely on the accuracy of this investigation.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McDaniel, I hold in my hand a bulletin to units of the United Klans of America, Inc., Post Office Box 10753, Atlanta, Georgia, dated October 13, 1964, addressed "Esteemed Klanspeople." In part, it reads:

Due to the arrest of several white Mississippians who have been charged in connection with the recent bombings in McComb, Miss. The Grand Dragon of Miss. advises me that it is necessary to go to the assistance of these men who have been implicated by the press that they are Klansmen. However, the only thing they had concerning the Klan was a complimentary card of some sort. As you know we do not condone nor advocate such acts of violence, but we believe these men are victims of circumstances. Miss. needs your help send your donations to

This was sent out by the Grand Dragon, Calvin F. Craig, of Georgia.

Mr. McDaniel, did you advise the Grand Dragon that these men, who by their own statements and by sworn testimony are members of the United Klans of America, that they were not members of the United Klans of America?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Is the deceit of the United Klans of America about its nonviolent position which it gives to the general public also comparable to the deceit which it gives to its own members with respect to violence of its membership?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McDaniel, did you attend—I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you attended a public rally of the United Klans of America, Realm of Louisiana, held at the West Monroe Fairgrounds, West Monroe, Louisiana, on December 6, 1964? I ask you to affirm or deny that fact.

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you advise Klansmen there that you had, you and your lieutenants that accompanied you, had to return to Natchez, Mississippi, because Imperial Wizard Shelton was in Mississippi contacting United Klans units in that State about raising money to defend the individuals arrested by the FBI on the murder of the civil rights workers the previous summer.

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McDaniel, according to our investigation, you had placed in the public press in September 1964 a statement to the effect that you wished to inform all parties concerned that the United Klan does not condone or advocate bombing. I want to ask you today, Mr. McDaniel, does the United Klan condone or advocate bombing?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. How many members are there of the Mississippi Realm of the United Klans of America?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. In April of this year, according to our investigation, you issued a statement welcoming this inquiry by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Now in connection with that, you stated, I believe, "I have always advocated nonviolence and will continue to do so."

I would like to know, Mr. McDaniel, today whether or not you as the chief executive officer of the Mississippi Realm of the United Klans of America do advocate nonviolence?

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, I do not intend to correct the Chair, but I believe the Chair said in April of this year. I believe it was April of last year.

Mr. WELTNER. April 1965. Thank you, Mr. Chalmers.

With that correction, I would ask the witness whether or not he does advocate nonviolence.

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. How much money was collected for the defense of Klansmen involved in several legal proceedings in Mississippi pursuant to this bulletin issued by Grand Dragon of Georgia and other efforts among the other Klans?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question, based upon the ground previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you know Lawrence Rainey, the sheriff of Neshoba County, Mississippi?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McDaniel, was there not broadcast widely in this country a CBS television documentary on September 17, 1965, wherein you introduced Sheriff Rainey on the platform of the public gathering of the Mississippi Realm of the United Klans of America? Isn't that a fact?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Is Sheriff Rainey a member of the United Klans of America?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you invite Sheriff Rainey to make an investigation of the United Klans of America as indicated on that television program?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McDaniel, did you discuss with any of the following parties their appearance before this committee today: Paul Dewey Wilson, Murphy Duncan, Emery Lee? Did you have any discussion with any of these parties as to their appearance before this committee?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer the question, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you have some further questions, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. Yes.

Mr. McDaniel, someone mailed to the committee a clipping from a newspaper which I believe to be a Jackson, Mississippi, paper, which carries a caption, "Over 100 Crosses Burned In State."

The article sets forth that this, according to the Mississippi Highway Patrol, was strictly a planned operation by the United Klans of America and I quote:

"Klansmen were advised a week or so in advance to take part in this protest burning, which was in protest of the House Un-American activities committee hearings which resumed Tuesday."

I ask you if you as the Grand Dragon ordered these series of cross-burnings and what did you hope to accomplish by them?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question based upon the grounds previously stated.

EDWARD McDANIEL EXHIBIT No. 4

[Unidentified Mississippi newspaper of January 5, 1966]

Over 100 Crosses Burned In State

By JOHN HALL
Associated Press Writer

Officials said Tuesday probably over 100 crosses were set aflame from one end of Mississippi to the other Monday night in a nearly simultaneous Ku Klux Klan operation protesting resumption of Congressional investigation of the KKK.

Gunfire between officer and clandestine cross-burners was reported in at least two places, and at least eight men were arrested in three places.

The Highway Patrol said it was positive at least 70 crosses were burned in an operation that got underway about 10 p.m. Monday night.

Another report came from an official who declined to be quoted by name said nearly 100 crosses had been reported and more were expected and "probably a very few were never observed. These are minimum figures . . . or several could have been reported twice."

He added "This was strictly a planned operation by the United Klans of America."

MET GUNFIRE

"Klansmen were advised a week or so in advance to take part in this protest burning, which was in protest of the House Un-American activities committee hearings which resumed Tuesday."

A group of men met gunfire when they tossed a flaming cross in the yard of the home of Meridian Attorney Wilham Ready but escaped.

Meridian police said a police stakeout fired six shots and Ready himself blasted a way twice with a shotgun, but it was not known if they hit any cross-burners.

In North Mississippi, men in a pickup truck opened fire on FBI agents seeking the license tag number of their pickup truck after the men dropped a burning cross before the Benton County Citizens Club building a Civil Rights headquarters.

Bobby Byrd, 22, and Allen Byrd, both of Benton county, were arrested and charged with assault.

FBI, Highway Patrol and county officers chased the pickup to Allen Byrd's farm and captured Bobby in nearby woods. Allen turned himself in Tuesday.

The patrol said crosses and expended .30 caliber and shotgun ammunition were found in the pickup truck.

In another Meridian incident, police arrested five men on charges of conspiracy to commit a crime after a kerosene-soaked cross was discovered in their pickup truck.

OUT ON BOND

The men, who were released on $500 bond, were identified as Mack Holdiness, 41, Thomas L. Cockrell, 32, Charles May 25, Charles Kenneth Harrison 31, and Robert Broadhead, 23, all of Meridian.

The patrol also reported at least one man was arrested at Pontotoc in connection with crosses. Several persons were surprised just inside Monticello burning a cross, but there were no arrests.

Crosses burned by county in a partial list, officials reported, showed Pearl River with 15, Washington 11, Winston 10, Lauderdale eight, Hinds seven, Pike seven, Marshall six, Choctaw five, Clarke five, Pontotoc four, Sharkey four, Adams four, Wayne four, Benton three, Clay three, Lincoln three, Jones three and Lowndes two.

Officials also reported at least one cross burned in Neshoba, Leake, Tishomingo, Lawrence, Tippah and Warren counties, and several in Rankin and Madison. They said figures were a minimum.

The crosses generally appeared in front of desegregated schools or at other public places, such as courthouses and on highways and streets, particularly at intersections.

GOT INSTRUCTIONS

The official who reported the figure of 100 said Klansmen were instructed to put the crosses in public places and "if they decided to go down and put it in front of the house of one of his enemies that was that."

The FBI said federal charges of assaulting an officer had not been placed against the men arrested in Benton county. The offense carries a penalty of 10 years in prison and $10,000 fine as a maximum if a deadly weapon is used.

In Jackson, crosses appeared aflame in front of six desegregated schools and the city's Negro Municipal Auditorium at College Park.

The schools were Murrah, Provine and Central High schools and Robert E. Lee, Barr and George Elementary schools.

In Washington county, authorities attributed the cross-burnings to the United Klans of America and said they probably know identities of the Klansmen involved.

Witnesses, they said, saw two carloads of men stop and burn a cross after donning KKK robes and hoods.

Other crosses in Meridian were set aflame at the home of Mayor Al Key, Meridian City Junior College and Marion Park Elementary School. The two schools have Negro students along with whites.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McDaniel, the Philadelphia Bulletin of December 24, 1965, states that the Grand Dragon of the Mississippi Ku Klux Klan last night had Natchez Police Chief J. T. Robinson arrested on a charge of failing to enforce the law.

And the article stated that he was so arrested, and I ask you, Mr. McDaniel, as Grand Dragon, whether this charge of failing to perform a duty, which any citizen can perform under Mississippi law, was designed by you to remove from the leadership of the police department a police chief who was anti-Klan in order to have promoted members of the United Klans of America who were members of that police force?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question on the grounds previously stated.

(Document marked "Edward McDaniel Exhibit No. 5" follows:)

EDWARD McDANIEL EXHIBIT NO. 5
[Philadelphia, Pa., Bulletin, December 24, 1965]

Klan Charge Brings Arrest Of Police Chief

Grand Dragon Says Natchez Official Failed in Duty

Natchez, Miss., Dec. 24 — (UPI)—The grand dragon of the Mississippi Ku Klux Klan last night had Natchez Police Chief I. T. Robinson arrested on a charge of failing to enforce the law.

In Mississippi, anyone can sign an affidavit and have a man arrested, and does not have to substantiate his charge until a later hearing.

Robinson was arrested by Sheriff Odell Anders and released on a $100 bond.

There was no official explanation of the charges, but Robinson said grand dragon E. L. McDaniel, a Natchez resident, had been urging him to arrest civil rights leaders under a state anti-boycott law.

Negros have renewed a boycott of Natchez merchants, because, they claim, two policemen unnecessarily beat Negroes in a racial flareup on Wednesday. The boycott had been called off Dec. 3 when 22 merchants agreed to hire Negro clerks.

Reprieve for Negroes

Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 24 — (AP) — U. S. District Judge E. Gordon West late yesterday issued a restraining order to keep Negro sharecroppers in West Feliciana Parish from being evicted by their white landlords until the court can decide whether they are being harassed for registering to vote.

(At this point Mr. Senner entered the hearing room.)

Mr. APPELL. James K. Greer in a statement given to the Mississippi Highway Patrol, identified as a man he knew to be a Klansman Captain Wisner of that police department. Was your action against Chief Robinson designed to promote Captain Wisner?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I have no further questions.

Mr. WELTNER. One further matter.

Mr. McDaniel, you were directed by the committee to produce the documents referred to in paragraph 2 of the subpoena served upon you. I extend to you at this point the opportunity to make known to this committee any reason why you might be unable to produce those documents. You do have that opportunity at this point to state, if that be the case, under oath that you are unable to comply with the subpoena by virtue of the fact that, if that is the case, that you do not have possession or you do not have any such records in your custody or control or that they are not available to you.

You now have that opportunity if you so desire.

Mr. CHALMERS. I am not certain whether that is a question or not, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. It is not a question, it is an opportunity I am giving the witness at this point, if he so desires, to state that or to bring that matter to the committee's attention. I make that offer in view of the action that the House of Representatives took on yesterday with regard to similar requirements of this committee.

Hearing no response by the witness or his counsel, I will assume that he does not desire to make any statement at this point.

Mr. SENNER. Mr. Chairman.

Mr. McDaniel, do you have in your possession or control the documents or records called for by this subpoena in paragraph 2 as ordered by the chairman of this committee to be produced at this point?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. SENNER. Do you have any knowledge of where those records might be so that you can easily obtain them and furnish them to this committee to comply with the subpoena and the order of the chairman of this committee?

Mr. McDANIEL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based on the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. There being no further questions, the witness will be excused.

The committee will stand in recess until 10 a.m. tomorrow, and the place of meeting of the subcommittee will be in the House Caucus Room in the Cannon Office Building.

I might announce that the area to be inquired into tomorrow will be with regard to the State of Alabama.

(Whereupon, at 4:20 p.m., Thursday, February 3, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Friday, February 4, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 4

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the February 4 hearings, met, pursuant to recess, at 10:20 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Charles L. Weltner (chairman of the subcommittee) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia, chairman; John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Weltner and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Phillip R. Manuel, investigator.

Mr. WELTNER. The subcommittee will come to order.

I file for the record at this point a designation of a subcommittee consisting of myself as chairman, Messrs. Ashbrook and Buchanan as associate members, for the purpose of conducting hearings on Friday, February 4. A quorum of that subcommittee is present, and Mr. Appell, you will call your first witness.

(The order of appointment of the subcommittee follows:)

FEBRUARY 2, 1966.

To Mr. Francis J. McNamara,
Director, Committee on Un-American Activities:

Pursuant to the provisions of the law and the Rules of this Committee, I hereby appoint a subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities consisting of Honorable Charles L. Weltner as Chairman, and Honorable John M. Ashbrook and Honorable John Buchanan as associate members, to conduct hearings in Washington, D.C. on Friday, February 4, 1966, as contemplated by the resolution adopted by the Committee on the 30th day of March, 1965, authorizing hearings concerning the activities of the various Ku Klux Klan organizations in the United States.

Please make this action a matter of Committee record.

If any member indicates his inability to serve, please notify me.

Given under my hand this 2nd day of February, 1966.

/s/ Edwin E. Willis,
EDWIN E. WILLIS,

Chairman, Committee on Un-American Activities.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Charles J. Seal? Would his attorney come forward?

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, you are appearing here on behalf of the witness, Charles J. Seal?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir, I am, Mr. Chairman. Yesterday I received a telegram from Dr. W. F. Stringer of Poplarville, Mississippi, who has been appointed by the Veterans' Administration to look after this ex-veteran with respect to a heart condition that he has.

Now the telegram that I received yesterday afternoon after the hearing was recessed, I did not feel was satisfactory, so I had Mr. Seal contact Dr. Stringer again, and this telegram was received this morning:

Charles J. Seals

Room 522 Congress Motel, Wash., D.C.

Mr. Seals, in addition to the information sent you this morning I believe that it would be against your health to be required to testify in any stressful situation.

W. F. STRINGER, M.D.

Mr. WELTNER. You are asking the committee to excuse the witness on the basis of that message?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir; I am, and may I say this for the record and for the chairman's information?

This young man has had about six heart attacks, as I understand, and he is under constant supervision of the Veterans' Administration, through the Dr. Stringer that they have asked for.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, without objection, the telegram of the physician will be made a part of the record and this witness will be excused.

You are excused, Mr. Seal.

Call your next witness, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Robert Sidney Thomas.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you swear the testimony you will give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated.

Proceed, Mr. Appell.

TESTIMONY OF ROBERT SIDNEY THOMAS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Robert Sidney Thomas.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at 2802 Second Place, Northwest, Center Point, Birmingham, Alabama, on the 3d day of November 1965 by a deputy United States marshal?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment which was made a part of the subpoena, and according to the terms of the subpoena, you were directed to bring with you and to produce documents set forth in paragraph 1 of the subpoena which reads as follows:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, Province #5, Realm of Alabama and Eastview Klavern #13, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as Titan, Province #5, Realm of Alabama, and former Exalted Cyclops, Eastview Klavern #13 of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in the violation of my rights as guaranteed me by amendment 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant, germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in a consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers?

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, it is stipulated that the witness has been apprised of the chairman's opening statement with respect to the matter and that he is familiar with the contents thereof.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Thomas, the committee does not accept your reasons for refusing to produce these documents. Accordingly, I order and direct you to produce the documents required in the paragraph just read by the investigator. You are directed to produce those documents at this time.

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, will you stipulate also that the directions in the subpoena to produce the documents are those documents maintained in an official representative capacity of this witness?

Mr. CHALMERS. As stated in the subpoena.

Mr. WELTNER. As stated in the subpoena.

All right, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, paragraph 2 directs you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as Titan, Province #5, Realm of Alabama, and former Exalted Cyclops, Eastview Klavern #13 of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, Mr. Thomas, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectively decline to deliver to the committee the documents requested, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Thomas, I order and direct you to produce these documents, and I inquire of Mr. Chalmers whether the same stipulation as to the representative capacity stated in the subpoena applies in this connection.

Mr. CHALMERS. It does, sir, and also the familiarity with the chairman's opening statement.

Mr. WELTNER. You are directed to produce the documents, Mr. Thomas.

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectively decline to deliver to the committee the documents ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, when and where were you born?

Mr. WELTNER. Prior to going into that, Mr. Appell. Mr. Thomas, you have at this point an opportunity under oath to present any reason to this committee why you are unable to produce documents called for in this subpoena. You have that opportunity at this point: Either that they are not in your possession or that you have no custody or control over them or you have no access to them, and you have the opportunity to make any statement to that effect at this point.

Hearing no response, the investigator will proceed.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born, Mr. Thomas?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. I respectively decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel any answer might tend to incriminate me in my rights as guaranteed to me by amendment 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, in May of 1961, as a member of the Alabama Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, were you involved in the Freedom Bus trouble that was in Anniston and Birmingham? And in connection with that, did you have conversations with Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectively decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, in a legal action brought by Robert M. Shelton against the Tuscaloosa Newspapers, Incorporated, and Buford Boone, et al., during a pretrial deposition Mr. Shelton was asked:

In May, 1961, this was about the time of the so-called Freedom Bus trouble in Anniston and Birmingham, a long distance telephone call to your number in Tuscaloosa was charged to a Birmingham telephone listed to a Robert Thomas. Was Robert Thomas at that time a member of the Klan?

And Mr. Shelton was instructed not to answer.

Did you, as reported in the question, make a long-distance telephone call to Robert Shelton?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectively decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

DEPOSITION OF ROBERT M. SHELTON

Taken by Defendants before Jimmie R. Black as Commissioner on October 14, 1964 in Room 223 of the County Courthouse, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, in accordance with the provisions of Act No. 375 of the 1955 Legislature of Alabama, and pursuant to the following stipulation:

* * * * *

Q In May, 1961, this was about the time of the so-called Freedom Bus trouble in Anniston and Birmingham, a long distance telephone call to your number in Tuscaloosa was charged to a Birmingham telephone listed to a Robert Thomas. Was Robert Thomas at that time a member of the Klan?

MR. BURROUGHS: Instruct him not to answer.

* * * * *

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, do you know Gary Rowe?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. According to newspaper accounts, Gary Rowe testified in a Title 18, section 241, trial recently in Montgomery, Alabama, that on your instruction that he, Collie Leroy Wilkins, Eugene Thomas, and W. O. Eaton were sent on a night-riding mission in Selma, Alabama. Was his testimony truthful?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer my questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Robert Sidney Thomas.

Mr. Thomas was born on January 25, 1929, at Birmingham, Alabama. He has received a 2½ year high school education. He served in the United States Marine Corps from August 21, 1946, to July 9, 1948, and received an honorable discharge. He resides at 2519 18th Avenue, Birmingham, Alabama, and is employed by Southern Railroad Company, Birmingham.

In 1963, Mr. Thomas was the exalted cyclops of Eastview Klavern No. 13, and since 1964 has been great titan of Province No. 5, Realm of Alabama, which position he currently holds.

According to the committee's investigation, he is one of the most influential Klansmen in the United Klans of America in Alabama, and has the power to dictate the appointment of Klavern, realm, and even imperial officers.

Robert Thomas was a member of the Klan of Alabama at the time it was affiliated with the U.S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, under Eldon Edwards. When the Alabama Realm of the U.S. Klans was expelled because of the refusal of Robert M. Shelton to make accounting of funds and also because Imperial Wizard Edwards was unable to control the violence of the Alabama Klansmen, Thomas, Shelton, Hubert Page, and Fredrick Smith were the leaders in the creation of an independent Klan group known as the Alabama Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Many meetings in which the primary discussion is that of violence have been held at the residence of Robert Thomas.

Early in 1965, Robert Thomas discussed from the floor of a meeting of Eastview Klavern No. 13 that, in the future, members of the organization would adopt a new tactic in dealing with racial demonstrators. Thomas stated that in the future, no large number of Klansmen would show up at a demonstration—just one or two men, who would appear on the scene, and if able, would drop grenades out of a second-story window, or from a rooftop, into the midst of demonstrators, and then calmly leave the area. Thomas stated that, in using this tactic, they would considerably lessen the danger of having known Klansmen identified at the scene of racial demonstrations.

Thomas ordered Gary Rowe, Collie Leroy Wilkins, Eugene Thomas, and William Eaton to go to Selma, Alabama, on the night that Mrs. Viola Luzzo was murdered.

Robert Thomas attended a regular meeting of the Eastview Klavern on the night of March 25, 1964. During the meeting, he discussed a forthcoming religious service to be conducted by Billy Graham. Thomas announced he expected trouble after the Graham rally. He pointed out that the last two times Billy Graham had held rallies, he had left the Negroes so depressed that they demonstrated after the rallies. Thomas expected that the city or county police would ask Klan support. He therefore advised the then exalted cyclops, Ronald Tidwell, to have all Klan leaders "in pocket."

September 27, 1964, a meeting was held at the home of Robert Thomas, during which a plan was formulated to dynamite and otherwise assault with hand grenades and automatic weapons a Negro night club known as the Flame Club.

On November 8, 1964, Robert Thomas attended a meeting of the Fort Payne, Alabama, Klavern. On April 30, 1964, Robert Thomas appointed Herbert Eugene Reeves as the exalted cyclops of Eastview Klavern No. 13, replacing Ronald Tidwell in that position.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Thomas possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

MR. WELTNER. Mr. Thomas, you have heard the sworn statement of the committee's investigator. You now have the opportunity to reply to any portion of that statement, to confirm, challenge the accuracy of the information, to explain any part of the statement. In addition, you may, if you desire, offer any other matter which the committee deems relevant. I give you that opportunity now and point out that the record of this hearing today, unless it is rebutted by other evidence or by yourself, will show that you are the party responsible for the presence in Selma of four men, who have since been convicted of involvement in one of the most notorious and brutal murders in the last decade. So you have that opportunity at this point, to make any statement that you wish to make.

The witness remains silent, and upon that choice by the witness, I must advise him that unless other evidence comes to the attention of the committee, then we will rely upon the accuracy of this investigation.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, to your certain knowledge, have members of the United Klans of America been deputized in either the State highway patrol and the sheriff's departments or police departments throughout Province No. 5?

MR. ROBERT THOMAS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reasons that I honestly feel that my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendment 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

MR. APPELL. With respect to the Klavern at Fort Payne, Alabama, Mr. Thomas, do you know the officers of that Klavern to now be George D. Killian, K-i-l-l-i-a-n, of Route 1, Portersville, Alabama; Guton, G-u-t-o-n, H. Tutor, T-u-t-o-r, of 600 South Alabama Avenue, Fort Payne; and Cecil King of 706 Turner Avenue, Fort Payne?

MR. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, do you know of the existence within the State of Alabama of an Imperial Klokann Committee?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact that it is the responsibility of the klokann committee to carry out acts of violence deemed necessary by Klavern leaders or by Klaverns themselves, or realm or imperial officers.

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know Ralph Roton to be a member—Let me name them all. Do you know Ralph Roton, Herbert Eugene Reeves, Cecil Henson, Eugene Thomas, Madison Hill, and Ronald Tidwell to be members of the Imperial Klokann Committee?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you possess knowledge of the bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church in 1963, at which four young girls were killed?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Do you know J. B. Stoner?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever confer with J. B. Stoner with respect to an act of violence which would be carried out by members of the United Klans of America?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask Mr. Thomas.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Thomas, did you in fact direct Gary Rowe, Collie Leroy Wilkins, and others to Selma, Alabama, on the night that Mrs. Viola Liuzzo was killed?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Did you have any telephone conversations with those four men, subsequent to the shooting of Mrs. Liuzzo?

Mr. ROBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Buchanan?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Chairman, since this witness is from the Realm of Alabama, as are other witnesses about to be called, I would like to reiterate today what I said on the first day of these hearings, that is, that I approach this investigation from the point of view of one who loves the South and who believes in its people and who knows about them, that an overwhelming majority there deplore acts of violence and terrorism.

I stated further that he who has nothing to hide has nothing to fear from this investigation. And it was my hope then, which I expressed, that the members of the Ku Klux Klan would come forward, would answer questions, would tell us whatever there might be that they could tell us that was good about their organization, and would demonstrate that the things that had been believed about them through the long years by a great many people, that they were, in fact, guilty of acts of violence and terrorism, were groundless.

Now this investigation has gone on for many weeks, running into months. We have heard testimony concerning bombings, burnings, beatings, and worse, concerning various Klan members and groups. We have yet to hear any testimony from any leader of any Klan group concerning that which is good and worthwhile about this organization that claims to be a Christian organization.

Now as far as I am concerned, whoever is guilty of committing acts of violence and terrorism, this criminal minority constitutes the worst enemy to the people of the South. This group, whoever they may be, plays into the hands of the Communist conspiracy in this country and around the world by forwarding the aims and goals of communism, in stirring racial dissension in the South and elsewhere, by feeding grist for the Communist propaganda mill into that mill, that it might be dispensed all over the world.

These people are responsible for the whole world thinking the falsehood about the South, that acts of violence and terrorism are representative of the fine people of the South, and this is not the case.

Such groups are responsible, in my considered judgment, for the passage, for building the motivation all over this country resulting in the passage, of legislation that some of us have not considered either wise or just, such as the 1965 Voting Rights Act, which in my judgment was neither wise nor just nor necessary. Those who committed acts of violence and terrorism set the stage for the passage of this act.

Now, Mr. Thomas, I want to give you one more opportunity to answer the charges presented in this hearing this day against you and, further, to tell us any good thing you know about the Ku Klux Klan organization, because I will say to you, sir, that whoever is guilty of such acts of violence and terrorism as have been indicated in this hearing, whoever these people are, they constitute the worst enemies to the people of the South. They are playing into the hands of the Communist conspiracy, and I think if you know any answers, you ought to give them. If you know any good thing about the Ku Klux Klan, you ought to say it, here and now, and I invite all the subsequent Alabama witnesses to do the same.

Mr. WELTNER. Failing any response from the witness, the record will so indicate.

Any further questions by the staff?

Mr. APPELL. None, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Buchanan?

Mr. BUCHANAN. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. This witness may be excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Herbert Thomas.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you shall give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. I do.

TESTIMONY OF HERBERT THOMAS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Thomas.

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Herbert Thomas.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at 106 Low Street, Warrior, Alabama, W-a-r-r-i-o-r, on the 25th day of October 1965 by a deputy United States marshal?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment, which was made a part of the subpoena. Under the terms of the subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and to produce those documents set forth in paragraph 1, reading as follows:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, and Warrior Klavern, Realm of Alabama, United Klans of America, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or former Exalted Cyclops of Warrior Klavern, Realm of Alabama of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, I ask you to produce the documents.

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant, germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, do we have the stipulation that the witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement and is familiar with its contents and that the directions in the subpoena to produce documents are made to the witness in his official representative capacity as described?

Mr. CHALMERS. As stated in the subpoena; yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Thomas, your reasons for failing to comply with the subpoena are not accepted by the committee, and as chairman of the subcommittee, I order and direct you to produce those documents.

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, paragraph 2 of the attachment to the subpoena directs you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or former Exalted Cyclops of Warrior Klavern, Realm of Alabama of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Under the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Do we have the same two stipulations with regard to this paragraph?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Thomas, I order you to produce those records.

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, as an exalted cyclops of the United Klans of America, Realm of Alabama, did you participate in a konvokation or kloncilium which authorized Mrs. Robert Shelton to comake checks drawn against the Alabama Rescue Service, using the name James J. Hendrix?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. APPELL. Did you vote to authorize Carol Long to comake checks with Robert M. Shelton, using the name "T. M. Montgomery"?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, the committee's investigation established that as of April 1965 that you were the exalted cyclops of Warrior Klavern, Warrior, Alabama, of the United Klans of America, Realm of Alabama. Is the investigative result of the committee factual?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, under the procedures, the operational procedures of the United Klans of America, each Klavern appoints a klokann committee, whose members are appointed by the exalted cyclops. Did you as exalted cyclops appoint a klokann committee?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to yourself as the exalted cyclops who are the officers of the Warrior Klavern?

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Thomas, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you were born on August 19, 1914, at Beltona, B-e-l-t-o-n-a, Alabama.

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Thomas, I would like to give you the same opportunity I gave to the other Mr. Thomas. Now we have found in some States, and we have had some testimony indicating there were men who came into the Ku Klux Klan with no idea of wrongdoing, out of strong convictions, that have not been guilty of any wrongdoing, and some of those have, since the beginning of this hearing, disassociated themselves from the United Klans and other like groups. I want to give you opportunity today to testify to this committee as to anything good you know as to the denial of any charges that have been made, or I want to invite you to follow the example of other like men who have themselves entered an organization with no intent of wrongdoing and have, therefore, disassociated themselves from that organization in light of the things that we have uncovered in these hearings.

I didn't ask a question. I want to give you an opportunity to speak, if you will.

Mr. WELTNER. The record will indicate the witness remains silent. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Ronald Jefferson Tidwell.

Mr. WELTNER. Raise your right hand, please.

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you are to give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. TIDWELL. I do.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated.

TESTIMONY OF RONALD JEFFERSON TIDWELL, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Tidwell.

Mr. TIDWELL. Ronald Jefferson Tidwell.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 26th day of October 1965 at 1309-16th Avenue North, Birmingham, Alabama, by a deputy United States marshal?

Mr. CHALMERS. May I inquire, please, sir, what is the date of the subpoena, the date of its issuance by the chairman? I believe it is the 14th.

Mr. APPELL. 14 October; yes, sir. It was served the 26th.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. TIDWELL. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. The witness is represented by counsel. Will he identify himself at this point?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Tidwell, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment, which was made a part of the subpoena. And under the terms of subpoena, you were directed to bring with you and to produce documents set forth in two paragraphs. Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service, and Eastview Klavern #13, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as former Exalted Cyclops of Eastview Klavern #13 of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

MR. TIDWELL. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 14, and 4 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

MR. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, do we have a stipulation about the opening statement of the chairman, to the effect that this witness has received a copy of it and understands the contents?

MR. CHALMERS. He is familiar with it; yes, sir.

MR. WELTNER. And do we have a stipulation to the effect that the documents called for in the subpoena are called for in the representative capacity of this witness as designated in the subpoena?

MR. CHALMERS. As stated in the subpoena.

MR. WELTNER. Mr. Tidwell, this committee does not accept your refusal to deliver these documents, and I order and direct you to produce them at this time.

MR. TIDWELL. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

MR. WELTNER. And I give you an opportunity, if you so desire, to set forth for this committee any reason why you are unable, by virtue of nonpossession or want of custody or lack of access to these records, to comply with the mandate of this subpoena.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

MR. WELTNER. There being no response, we will proceed to the next paragraph.

MR. APPELL. Mr. Tidwell, under paragraph 2 you were ordered to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as former Exalted Cyclops of Eastview Klavern #13 of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. TIDWELL. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, do we have the same two stipulations with regard to this paragraph?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Tidwell, I order you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. TIDWELL. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Tidwell, when and where were you born?

Mr. TIDWELL. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answers might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Tidwell, I put it to you as a fact that you possess knowledge of the bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, Alabama, on September 15, 1963, and I ask you to give the committee the benefit of that knowledge.

Mr. TIDWELL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Appell, is that date and place the incident where on a Sunday morning in the city of Birmingham, Alabama, a Negro church was bombed, with the loss of the lives of four Sunday school students?

Mr. APPELL. That is our understanding also, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Tidwell, have you served on the Imperial Klokann Committee?

Mr. TIDWELL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a member of the Imperial Klokann Committee, have you ever been instructed, and did you carry out those instructions, with respect to acts of intimidation or violence?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. TIDWELL. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Tidwell, have you ever served time in a jail or penitentiary.

Mr. TIDWELL. I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claim of privilege and his consistent refusal to answer my questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Ronald Jefferson Tidwell.

He was born in Jefferson County, Alabama, on January 23, 1935. He received education at the Phillips High School from January of 1956 to March of 1956, when he quit. He has been employed since in various positions as an electrician.

Tidwell was arrested and charged with burglary and grand larceny on March 13, 1956. On July 26, 1956, he was sentenced to 6 months in jail, and placed on probation for 2 years. He was arrested on June 17, 1962, on a charge of violating the State Firearms Act. On June 27, 1962, the charge was changed to carrying a concealed weapon. He was fined $55 on this charge.

At an election of officers of the Eastview Klavern No. 13 of the United Klans of America on December 29, 1963, Ronald Tidwell was elected exalted cyclops of the Klavern. On April 22, 1964, the Klan had expressed an interest in the possible demonstrations at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and Ronald Tidwell had announced that action groups should be on standby notice.

On January the 20th, 1964, Tidwell at a meeting of Eastview Klavern No. 13, made the comment that "If we're going to be Ku Kluxers, let's Klux." And in this connection, Mr. Chairman, "Kluxing" is a term referred to within the Klan as a militant action on the part of the membership.

On January 23, 1964, Tidwell presided over a meeting of the Eastview Klavern No. 13. At that time, Tidwell commented that he had heard from the Tutwiler Hotel that the FBI had found out about the approaching klonvokation and that he had the impression that the Tutwiler management was "shook."

Tidwell added that the leak of information appeared to come from Eastview Klavern or the Warrior Klavern in Warrior, Alabama. He stated, "We will have to be extremely careful with such information in the future."

Tidwell said that Shelton, the Imperial Wizard, was sought for an interview by the news media, and that his comment was that he did not know anything about a klonvokation.

Tidwell also said that after an applicant to the Klan had been checked out, that "we have a contact where we can check city, county, and Federal arrest records." Tidwell discussed a push similar in Montgomery to the bus incident at Birmingham. Tidwell further said that "around June of this year [1964], the demonstrations will probably be going strong." He said the "Klansmen will go downtown and get something started, and once it catches on, the Klansmen will drop out and get the leaders, once this is over."

Tidwell added "a tap on the head won't be enough." Tidwell said once the Klansmen got a conflict between whites and Negroes started, "they can drop out, get the leaders, and quit all Klan activities for 6 months."

Tidwell added that members would receive summonses in the Fiery Cross and that they should respond immediately.

A Klansman, Ross Keith, made a comment that all Klansmen would have to bring their guns with them to the klonvokation at the Tutwiler, since the public now knows about the Tutwiler meeting.

At this point, Tidwell exhibited a pistol he had under his coat and showed a pistol he had inside a briefcase with him at that time.

At a regular meeting of the Eastview Klavern held on the night of January 30, Tidwell said he had information from the Mississippi State Legislature about a 70-year-old man who was arrested along with some younger men, and they made him sit against the wall with his knees drawn up and his hands locked around them for over 3 hours, and that when he relaxed his knees, that someone hit him with a night stick and broke his kneecap.

On March 26, 1964, Tidwell attended a meeting at the Eastview Klavern hall, in which it was announced that all seven squads of the Eastview Klavern would be on standby for the Billy Graham rally being held at the Legion Field on March 29, 1964. Robert Sidney Thomas, the great titan, announced he expected trouble after the Graham rally. Thomas said that the city police expected trouble at the rally and that he thought the city or county would ask for Klan support and, therefore, he wanted Exalted Cyclops Tidwell to have all this leaders "in pocket" on Sunday.

Ronald Tidwell as exalted cyclops of Eastview Klavern No. 13 expressed interest in the opening of the American National Bank, which was to be a Negro institution in Birmingham, Alabama. Tidwell suggested pulling the string on a tear gas container, causing confusion and beating a few Negroes in the subsequent panic.

Tidwell was heard to remark that "something ought to be deposited in the bank, but I do not have any money."

On April 14, 1964, the day before the American National Bank was to open, Robert Thomas instructed that there would be no Klan action and that he had informed Ronald Tidwell of his desire in this matter.

Thomas indicated that Tidwell claimed the people of Birmingham were tired of the Klan's inaction. However, Thomas stated that Ronald Tidwell had not presented any factual reasons for bombing the bank; therefore, he did not care to jeopardize the Klan when he knew the area would be saturated with police officers.

On April 30, 1964, Robert Thomas, province titan, appointed Herbert Eugene Reeves as the new exalted cyclops of Eastview Klavern No. 13, replacing Ronald Tidwell.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Tidwell possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in the enactment of remedial legislation.

Mr. WELTNER. The reporter will strike from the record any reference to any offenses charged against this witness which were subsequently dismissed.

Mr. Tidwell, you have heard the result of this investigation, and you have an opportunity at this point to reply to any portion of that statement. You may, if you desire, challenge or confirm the accuracy of any of that information or of any other matter, if you see fit. And I must observe that, as the matter now stands, this record will show a substantial involvement by yourself over a period of some several years with some acts of violence, leading to the loss of human life, so you have an opportunity to say whatever you desire at this point.

The witness, not undertaking to respond to that opportunity, is advised that absent his rebuttal or any other facts which come before this committee, the committee will rely upon the accuracy of its investigation.

Any questions?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Just of Mr. Appell, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Appell, you stated—and I am referring to charges which were not dismissed—that this witness had an arrest record dating back in 1956, during which year, I believe, there were charges of burglary and grand larceny, and then, later, a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Is that correct?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Now, you then stated that on December 29, 1963, some time thereafter, he was elected exalted cyclops of the Eastview Klavern No. 13 of the United Klans. Is that correct?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Now, this Eastview Klavern is located in the city of Birmingham, I believe, and therefore within my congressional district.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. And so following this record, he was elected as leader of that Klan group. That is correct?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. BUCHANAN. No questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. The witness is excused.

Call your next witness, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Rayford Martin.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. MARTIN. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated.

TESTIMONY OF RAYFORD JACKSON MARTIN, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record.

Mr. MARTIN. Rayford Jackson Martin.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Martin, are you represented by counsel?

Mr. MARTIN. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Will your counsel identify himself?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, Room 501, First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you at 1711 Buena Vista Circle, Decatur, Alabama, on October 25, 1965, by a deputy United States marshal?

Mr. MARTIN. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment, which was made a part of the subpoena, and under the terms of the subpoena you were commanded to bring with you and to produce documents described in two paragraphs. Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service and the Decatur Klavern, Realm of Alabama, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or former Exalted Cyclops of Decatur Klavern, Realm of Alabama of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. MARTIN. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendment 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as required by this committee under subpoena—as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October the 14th, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January the 4th, 1965.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, do we have the stipulation that this witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement and understands the content thereof?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And also that the documents sought to be reached by this subpoena are documents alleged to be maintained or in the possession of this witness in the representative capacity stated in the subpoena.

Mr. CHALMERS. Mr. Chairman, can't we stipulate that he—the service of the subpoena was served upon him and that the subpoena speaks for itself, which we have heretofore done?

Mr. WELTNER. I am not consciously trying to vary the format.

Mr. CHALMERS. I certainly realize that; I fully realize it, but I tell you what's the truth; I hate to go up one street and come back, seeing myself the other way.

Mr. WELTNER. We have stipulated that the directions of the subpoena to produce the documents called for are made to the witness in the official representative capacity described in the subpoena. Is that correct?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Thank you, Mr. Chalmers.

Mr. Martin, the committee does not accept your reasons for refusing to produce these documents, and, consequently, I order and direct you to produce them at this time.

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. And as in other cases, you are offered the opportunity at this point to present to the committee any reason why you are unable to produce these documents, either for lack of possession or custody or for want of access thereto.

You remain silent. We will proceed to the next paragraph.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, paragraph 2 called for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or former Exalted Cyclops of Decatur Klavern, Realm of Alabama of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered.

Mr. WELTNER. For what reason, Mr. Martin?

Mr. MARTIN. Based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, may we have the same two stipulations with regard to this paragraph?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Martin, I direct and order you to produce those documents at this time.

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, the committee's investigation established you to be the exalted cyclops of Decatur Klavern, United Klans of America, Incorporated, Realm of Alabama. Is the result of the committee's investigation factual?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendment 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. As an exalted cyclops, Mr. Martin, can you explain to the committee why it is necessary in an organization that publicly designates itself as being nonviolent to require a member to swear that he will keep secret the secret of a Klansman, except for crimes such as treason against the United States, rape, and malicious murder?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, I put it to you as a fact that you were born on July 15, 1936, at Rogersville, Alabama. I ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As an exalted cyclops, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that you never attended a klonvokation or kloncillum which authorized Mrs. Robert Shelton to comake checks with her husband, using the name "James J. Hendrix," or Carol Long to comake checks with Robert M. Shelton.

I ask you to affirm or deny the fact.

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Martin, under the United Klans of America, an exalted cyclops appoints a klokann committee. Will you identify the committee, the members of the klokann committee, which you appointed as exalted cyclops?

Mr. MARTIN. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. No further questions of this witness?

He is excused.

The subcommittee will stand in recess for 5 minutes.

(Brief recess.)

Mr. WELTNER. The subcommittee will come to order.

Mr. APPELL. Wilson Hood.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HOOD. I do.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated.

TESTIMONY OF WILSON HOOD, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL,
LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record, Mr. Hood.

Mr. HOOD. Wilson Hood.

Mr. WELTNER. Are you represented by counsel, Mr. Hood?

Mr. HOOD. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Counsel will identify himself.

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hood, are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served by a deputy United States marshal on October 25, 1965, at Wilson Hood Grocery, Highway 24 West, Moulton, Alabama?

Mr. HOOD. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Did you say "yes"?

Mr. HOOD. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hood, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment, which was made a part of the subpoena, and the subpoena directed you to bring with you and to produce documents called for in two paragraphs in the attachment. Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klu Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service and Moulton Klavern, Realm of Alabama, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or former Exalted Cyclops, Moulton Klavern, Realm of Alabama of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

I ask that, in the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, you produce the documents called for.

Mr. Hood. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendment 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for this information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope of that authorized to be investigated by Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, we can stipulate that the witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement and that he is familiar with the content thereof?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Can we further stipulate that the directions of the subpoena to produce the documents called for are made to the witness in the official representative capacity described in the subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Hood, the committee does not accept your reasons for refusal to produce these documents, and, accordingly, as chairman of this subcommittee, I order and direct you to produce those documents at this time.

Mr. HOOD. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. And I offer to you, if you so desire, the opportunity to present to this committee any reason why you might be unable to comply with the mandate of that subpoena.

The record will note that the witness offers nothing in response.

Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hood, paragraph 2 calls for you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or former Exalted Cyclops, Moulton Klavern, Realm of Alabama of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

Mr. HOOD. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. May we have the same stipulations, Mr. Chalmers?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Hood, the committee directs you to produce those documents at this time.

Mr. HOOD. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hood, the committee investigations establish you to be the exalted cyclops of Moulton Klavern in Moulton, Alabama. Are the results of the committee's investigation factual?

Mr. HOOD. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendment 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Hood, under the operational procedures of the United Klans of America, the exalted cyclops appoints a klokann committee. This klokann committee is required to make investigations and carry out acts of intimidation, violence, upon order and instructions of the exalted cyclops or of the Klavern itself.

Mr. HOOD. Sir, I—

Mr. APPELL. Identify to the committee, please, the members of the klokan committee which you appointed as exalted cyclops.

Mr. HOOD. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of this witness.

Mr. WELTNER. One or two questions.

Are you presently the exalted cyclops of the Moulton Klavern of the United Klans of America, Mr. Hood?

Mr. HOOD. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. The witness will be excused.

Call your next witness.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I call Myrtie Eugene Stephens.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you will give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. STEPHENS. I do.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated.

TESTIMONY OF MYRTIE EUGENE STEPHENS, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record.

Mr. STEPHENS. Myrtie Eugene Stephens.

Mr. APPELL. Represented by counsel?

Mr. STEPHENS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stephens, are you appearing before the committee today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 25, 1965, at 226 12th South, Bessemer, Alabama?

Mr. STEPHENS. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I think that is South 12th Street, Bessemer, Alabama. I ask that the record be corrected.

Mr. WELTNER. The record will be corrected accordingly.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stephens, under the terms of the subpoena served upon you and an attachment thereto, which was made a part of the subpoena, you were ordered to produce, bring with you and to produce, documents described in two paragraphs. Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service and Bessemer Klavern #20, Realm of Alabama, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or former Kligrapp, Bessemer Klavern #20, Realm of Alabama of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. STEPHENS. I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents as demanded by the committee in a subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, or is such inquiry within the scope of that authority to be investigated by House Rule XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress of the House Resolution 8, adopted January 4, 1965.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, can we stipulate that this witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement and is familiar with the contents thereof?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Can we also stipulate that the directions of the subpoena to produce documents called for are made to the witness in the official representative capacity described in the subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Stephens, the committee does not accept your grounds for refusing to produce these documents, and, as chairman of this subcommittee, I order and direct you to produce them at this time.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. All right. At this time, the committee will extend to you an opportunity to bring before the committee any reason that you might have for any inability to comply with the requirements of this subpoena.

The record will show the witness remains silent.

Proceed to the next paragraph.

Mr. APPELL. Paragraph 2, Mr. Stephens, orders you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or former Kligrapp, Bessemer Klavern #20, Realm of Alabama of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Can we have the same two stipulations with regard to this paragraph?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Stephens, you are hereby directed to produce the documents described in paragraph 2.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. And the Chair would like to direct that the reporter at this point in the record set out a portion of the Constitution and Laws of the United Klans of America previously entered into the record as Shelton Exhibit No. 3, specifically that portion identified at Section 5 on page 39 thereof, which sets forth the duties of the kligrapp of a Klavern.

(Section 5 follows:)

Section 5. KLIGRAPP: The Kligrapp is the secretary and recording officer of the Klan. He shall keep an accurate and complete record of all the proceedings of his Klan assembled, and a correct and systematic record of its membership, and of the date each member was naturalized, etc., as required by the record book for that purpose. He shall make a report through the proper channels [sic] to the proper officers not later than the 10th of the month for the calendar month last past on the regular blanks therefor; and with his reports he shall remit to said officer or officers, all monies belonging to this Order, such as Imperial Tax, Realm or Provincial Tax, Klektokons monies due for supplies and any and all other monies due and payable to said officers. He shall witness all requisitions made for any article or paraphernalia, regalia, jewelry, or other property of this Order, to be used by the Klan or a member thereof, and see that the required sum of money is sent therewith. He shall notify all members who are in arrears three months, and shall notify the Imperial office of the arrears of a member for three months. He shall be the custodian of the seal of the Klan and shall impress it on all papers and documents requiring same and perform such other duties as may be required of him by the Exalted Cyclops, the Kloran and the By-Laws of his Klan.

Mr. WELTNER. Proceed, Mr. Appell.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stephens, is the Klavern to which you belong, Bessemer Klavern No. 20, the Klavern which had among its membership W. O. Eaton and Eugene Thomas?

Mr. STEPHENS. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stephens, I put it to you as a fact, and ask you to affirm or deny the fact, that the cover name of Bessemer Klavern No. 20, and a name under which it operates a bank account at the First National Bank of Birmingham, Bessemer branch, is the Young Men's Social Club, Box 3093, Hueytown, Alabama.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As an officer of that Klavern, were you ever a comaker of checks made payable to "Gene Thomas" and "W. O. Eaton"?

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I put it to you as a fact that you were the comaker, and I hand you Recordak copies of four checks to establish that fact.

Mr. Chairman, the record should be corrected. There are five.

Mr. WELTNER. The witness is handed five checks for his perusal.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Appell, the two names among others shown on those checks, "W. O. Eaton" and "Gene Thomas," are those the names of the individuals who along with Gary Rowe and Collie Leroy Wilkins were involved in the Viola Liuzzo incident in March of 1965?

Mr. APPELL. They are, sir.

I would like to put to Mr. Stephens as a fact, and ask him to affirm or deny the fact, that Collie Leroy Wilkins was also a member of his Klavern.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

(Checks marked "Myrtie Stephens Exhibit No. 1." Two of said checks follow; others not reproducible.)

MYRTIE STEPHENS EXHIBIT NO. 1

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Stephens, I put it to you as a fact that this Klavern has been known as the Young Men's Social Club since 1956, when it was affiliated with the U.S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, under the leadership of Eldon Edwards.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. I shall hand you for your verification, Mr. Stephens, signature cards filed with the First National Bank of Birmingham, Bessemer branch, which signature cards establish that July 28, 1956, that the authorized signatures to that account were L. J. Praytor,

P-r-a-y-t-o-r, R. R. Fields, F-i-e-l-d-s, George Houston, H-o-u-s-t-o-n; that this authorization was changed on November 9, 1960, to the names of Henry G. McDaniel, M. Eugene [Myrtie E.] Stephens, Oscar T. Syx; and that on March the 17, 1965, the signature card authorized signatures of James R. Whitefield, Cecil E. Davenport, and Oscar T. Syx.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. The record will show that the signature cards have been handed to the witness for his examination.

Mr. STEPHENS, after examining those, will you tell this committee whether or not that is your signature?

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. James R. Whitefield, whose name was added to the signature card of March 17, 1965, is he the exalted cyclops of the Klavern?

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. In October 1964, did you know Eugene Thomas to be the Klaliff or vice president of the Realm of Alabama, and James R. Whitefield to be the kligrapp or secretary?

Mr. WELTNER. Is that the Grand Klaliff?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir; Grand Klaliff and the grand kligrapp.

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. And the office of Grand Klaliff would be equivalent to State vice president. Is that correct, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. STEPHENS, do you know Robert Creel to be the Grand Dragon of the State of Alabama at present?

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of Mr. Stephens.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Stephens, what is the Young Men's Social Club of Hueytown, Alabama?

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. For what purposes were the checks which have previously been exhibited to you issued to Eugene Thomas and W. O. Eaton?

Mr. STEPHENS. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. The documents previously submitted to the witness for examination will be entered in the record at this point.

If there are no further questions, this witness will be excused.

Mr. APPELL. Herbert Eugene Reeves.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you solemnly swear the testimony you will give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. REEVES. I do.

Mr. WELTNER. Be seated.

TESTIMONY OF HERBERT EUGENE REEVES, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, LESTER V. CHALMERS, JR.

Mr. APPELL. State your full name for the record.

Mr. REEVES. Herbert Eugene Reeves.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. REEVES. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Will counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. CHALMERS. Lester V. Chalmers, Jr., attorney at law, 501 First Federal Building, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reeves, are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on October 26, 1965, at 1805 Second Ave. S., Birmingham, Alabama?

(Witness confers with counsel.)

Mr. REEVES. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reeves, the subpoena served upon you contained an attachment, which was made a part of the subpoena, and under the terms of the subpoena, you were commanded to bring with you and to produce documents set forth in paragraphs 1 and 2 of the attachment. Paragraph 1 reads:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda relating to the organization of and the conduct of business and affairs of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and affiliated organizations, namely, the Alabama Rescue Service and Eastview Klavern #13, in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by you or available to you as present or former Exalted Cyclops, Eastview Klavern #13 of the Invisible Empire, United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., also known as the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 1 of the subpoena, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all documents demanded by the committee upon subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for the reason that I honestly feel that to do so might tend to incriminate and violate my rights as granted to me by—guaranteed to me by amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee any and all records as requested by this committee under subpoena dated October 14, 1965, for that information is not relevant and germane to the subject under investigation and the same would not aid the Congress in the consideration of any valid remedial legislation, nor is such inquiry within the scope authorized to be investigated by the Rules XI of the rules adopted by the 89th Congress, by the House Resolution 8, adopted January the 4th, 1965.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Chalmers, can we stipulate that this witness has been furnished a copy of the chairman's opening statement and is familiar with the content?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. And that the directions in the subpoena to produce documents called for are made to the witness in the official representative capacity as described in the subpoena?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Reeves, the committee does not accept your reasons for failure to comply with this subpoena, and accordingly, as chairman of this subcommittee, I order and direct you to produce those documents at this time.

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents therefore ordered—heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. I further give you the opportunity to present any reason to this committee why you may be unable to produce the documents identified and described in that subpoena.

Absent a response, proceed to the next paragraph.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reeves, paragraph 2 calls upon you to produce:

All books, records, documents, correspondence, and memoranda in your possession, custody or control, or maintained by or available to you, in your capacity as present or former Exalted Cyclops, Eastview Klavern #13 of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which the "Constitution and Laws" of said organization authorize and require to be maintained by you and any other officer of said organization, the same being in your possession, custody or control.

In the representative capacity set forth in paragraph 2, I ask you to produce the documents called for.

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the chairman that—to the committee the documents heretofore ordered, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Do we have the same two stipulations, Mr. Chalmers?

Mr. CHALMERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Reeves, I order and direct you to produce the documents.

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to deliver to the committee the documents heretofore ordered by the chairman, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reeves, committee investigation establishes you to be the exalted cyclops of Eastview Klavern No. 13. Is the result of the committee's investigation factual?

Mr. REEVES. I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly feel my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights as guaranteed to me in amendments 5, 1, 4, and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reeves, within the membership of Eastview Klavern No. 13, is there William Holt, who is the grand kligrapp of the Realm of Alabama at the present time; Albert Peake, the grand night-hawk; Leroy Rutherford, holding the rank of major in the State security guard; Glenn Wheeler, secretary of Province No. 5?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. When and where were you born?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, in view of the witness' claimed privilege and his consistent refusal to answer my questions, I present to the committee the results of our investigation as they pertain to Mr. Reeves.

Mr. Reeves was born on September 11, 1929, in Huntsville, Alabama. He has a 9th grade education and has been employed generally as a printer since he left school, his most recent employment being a binding foreman with the Commercial Printing Company of South Birmingham, Alabama.

According to a news account of June 9, 1963, in an article over the byline of Tom Lankford, captioned "Jefferson men arrested with weapons near U of A," there is contained the following information:

Six men from Jefferson County were arrested just outside the University— and this is bylined from Tuscaloosa—just outside the University campus Saturday night with an assortment of pistols, lighters, and bayonets in their autos.

 [Birmingham, Ala., News, June 9, 1963]

Jefferson men arrested with weapons near U of A

BY TOM LANKFORD

News staff writer
 TUSCALOOSA, June 8—Six men from Jefferson County were arrested just outside the University campus Saturday night with an assortment of pistols, nightsticks and bayonets in their autos.

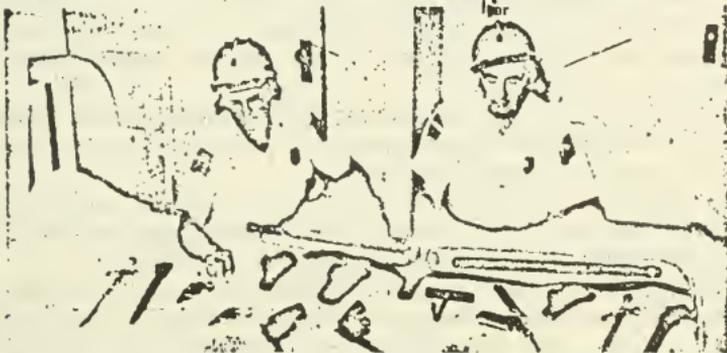

State Public Safety Director Al Linga said the men were en route to a Klan rally. He said they were charged with violating the State Firearms Act.

Arrested were William Rosa Keith, 34, 201 11th St., Robinson; Herman F. Cash, 44, 804 Tuscaloosa Ave., Birmingham; Herbert Reeves, 33, 5728 33rd St. north, Birmingham; Gary Rowe Jr., 23, of Ninth Court West, Birmingham; Charles Cagle, 37, Birmingham RT. 8, and Ellis R. Donesmore, 61, 1864 16th St. North, Birmingham.

C. W. RUSSELL, assistant public safety director, quoted the men as saying they were KKK officials and were going to "police" the rally held on the U. S. Highway 11 bypass southwest of Tuscaloosa.

Russell said state troopers had prior information that the armed men were on their way here and roadblocks were set up. Two of the men were wearing pistols and two other pistols were found in the

Also found were four bayonets, two nightsticks, and a cotton hook. The arrested men were traveling in two cars, bearing Jefferson County license plates.

Two of the occupants in one of the cars were wearing white uniforms bearing Klan insignia with epaulettes on the shoulder and boots.

Cross burned

ABOUT 3,000 persons attended the Klan rally held on private property just off the bypass. Many of the spectators were women and small children.

A gigantic cross, about 60 feet tall with 40 foot arms, enwrapped in burlap bags, was ignited to kick-off the rally.

About 60 newsmen, some of them with elaborate sound gear and cameras, were warmly welcomed by Robert Shelton, grand dragon of the KKK in Alabama. Shelton gathered all newsmen behind a flat-bed semi tractor-trailer truck and gave them suggestions on possible photographs and other instructions.

He asked them not to take pictures of faces, only backs. About 200 robed Klansmen, many of them wearing hoods over their faces, were present.

Calvin Craig, head of the Atlanta Klan, was opening speaker. Craig extended thanks to the "greatest man in Alabama"—Gov. George C. Wallace—for his promised schoolhouse door stand.

Mr. APPELL. On April 30, 1964, Robert Thomas, the province titan, appointed Gene Reeves as the new exalted cyclops of Eastview Klavern No. 13, replacing Ronald Tidwell in that position.

Mr. WELTNER. One minute.

Is the Gene Reeves referred to Herbert E. Reeves, the witness?

Mr. APPELL. Herbert E. Reeves, witness, and Gene Reeves are the same individual.

On May 14, 1964, it was known that Gene Reeves, together with four or five members of the Bessemer Klavern, went to Rickwood Field in Birmingham, Alabama, in order to do some "missionary work" with Negroes who were attending a baseball game at the integrated park. A Birmingham policeman had his gun taken away from him by Klansmen during this activity, but the gun was later returned to him at his home.

At a weekly meeting of the Eastview Klavern held July 9, 1964, Bob Morgan and Gene Reeves brought 22 pounds of mackerel and placed two mackerel each in a jar and left all the jars in a field behind Reeves's residence to sit in the sun.

The ingredient to be developed was to be used as a stink bomb ingredient with the Alabama theater the only specified location mentioned where the ingredient might be used.

At the weekly meeting of the Eastview Klavern held on June 11, 1964, it was announced that the city of Birmingham would be broken into four sections, with a squad assigned to each section.

Lowell Rogers would handle the western section; Gene Reeves would handle the eastern section; Harry Walker would handle the northern section; and Ronald Tidwell, the southern section. Each squad leader would have three men assigned to him. Gene Reeves would continue to handle the "action group."

At a meeting in August of 1964, Gene Reeves and Ronald Tidwell announced that they were instructing students at Phillips, Ramsey, and Woodland high schools in the art of jujitsu on Tuesdays and Wednesday nights at the Klavern hall.

On December 14, 1964, new officers of the Eastview Klavern were elected, and Gene Reeves was reelected as exalted cyclops.

This information, Mr. Chairman, indicates that Mr. Reeves possesses additional information which is both pertinent and relevant to this inquiry and would materially aid the Congress in enacting remedial legislation.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. Reeves, you now have the opportunity, having heard the sworn statement of the investigator as to the result of this committee's investigation, to reply to any portion of that statement. You may confirm or challenge the accuracy of the information or explain any part of it or any other matters that this committee deems relevant. You have that opportunity now.

Absent any rebuttal on your part or further evidence coming to this committee, we will rely upon the accuracy of that investigation.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Reeves, the committee's investigation establishes that you were a part of the Imperial Klokann Committee, along with Ralph Roton, Cecil Henson, Eugene Thomas, Madison Hill, and Ronald Tidwell. Is that information factual?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previously stated.

Mr. APPELL. As a member of the Imperial Klokann, were you ever ordered, and did you in fact carry out an order, which related to acts of intimidation or violence on the part of any citizen or property of a citizen of the State of Alabama?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previous stated.

Mr. APPELL. In the language of the Klan, is "missionary work" used to designate acts of intimidation or violence?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previous stated.

Mr. APPELL. Is the cover name of the Eastview Klavern No. 13 the Benevolent Brotherhood?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previous stated.

Mr. WELTNER. Any further questions by the staff?

Mr. REEVES, are you a member of any organization known as the Benevolent Brotherhood?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previous stated.

Mr. WELTNER. What is the action group referred to in the investigator's statement, of which you were a member?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previous stated.

Mr. WELTNER. One or two questions to the investigators.

The klokann committee under the United Klans of America is a group within the Klan organization whose function it is to carry out directives. Is that correct, Mr. Appell?

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir, it is. It compares with what we established to be the "wrecking crews" in the State of Louisiana. Their functions are identical.

Mr. WELTNER. And the Imperial Klokann Committee for the State of Alabama is that group of members, Klansmen, who are charged to carry out the directions of the imperial office, headed by the Imperial Wizard, Robert M. Shelton?

Mr. APPELL. It is our information, Mr. Chairman, that this Imperial Klokann Committee was available for assignments any place that they might be needed.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, let me ask the witness: The sworn testimony indicates, Mr. Reeves, that you have served as a member of the Imperial Klokann Committee. Did you ever carry out any directives or instructions from Robert M. Shelton, the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America?

Mr. REEVES. Sir, I respectfully decline to answer that question, based upon the grounds previous stated.

Mr. BUCHANAN. No questions.

Mr. WELTNER. Any further questions by the staff?

Mr. APPELL. No, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. This witness will be excused. And the subcommittee will stand in recess until 10 a.m. on Monday, next week, to meet in this same place.

(Whereupon, at 12:30 p.m., Friday, February 4, 1966, the subcommittee recessed, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Monday, February 7, 1966.)

ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

Part 4

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1966

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE
COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES,
Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, as reconstituted for the February 7 hearings, met, pursuant to recess, at 10:15 a.m. in the Caucus Room, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Hon. Charles L. Weltner (chairman of the subcommittee) presiding.

(Subcommittee members: Representatives Charles L. Weltner, of Georgia, chairman; John M. Ashbrook, of Ohio; and John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama.)

Subcommittee members present: Representatives Weltner and Buchanan.

Staff members present: Francis J. McNamara, director; William Hitz, general counsel; Alfred M. Nittle, counsel; Donald T. Appell, chief investigator; and Philip R. Manual, investigator.

Mr. WELTNER. The subcommittee will be in order.

The Chair would like to make a part of the record of today's proceedings the direction of the chairman of this committee, the Honorable Edwin E. Willis, designating as a subcommittee to sit for today myself as chairman, Messrs. Ashbrook and Buchanan.

(The order of appointment of the subcommittee follows:)

FEBRUARY 2, 1966.

To Mr. Francis J. McNamara,
Director, Committee on Un-American Activities:

Pursuant to the provisions of the law and the Rules of this Committee, I hereby appoint a subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities consisting of Honorable Charles L. Weltner as Chairman, and Honorable John M. Ashbrook and Honorable John Buchanan as associate members, to conduct hearings in Washington, D.C. on Monday, February 7, 1966, as contemplated by the resolution adopted by the Committee on the 30th day of March, 1965, authorizing hearings concerning the activities of the various Ku Klux Klan organizations in the United States.

Please make this action a matter of Committee record.

If any member indicates his inability to serve, please notify me.

Given under my hand this 2nd day of February, 1966.

/s/ Edwin E. Willis
EDWIN E. WILLIS

Chairman, Committee on Un-American Activities

Mr. WELTNER. The first witness today is Mr. James McCroskey.

Mr. McCroskey, will you come forward, please?

Do you solemnly swear the testimony you shall give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. McCroskey. I do.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES W. McCroskey

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McCroskey, will you state your full name for the record?

Mr. McCroskey. James W. McCroskey.

Mr. APPELL. Are you appearing here today in accordance with a subpoena served upon you on the 3d day of January 1966 by John D. Sullivan, an investigator of this committee?

Mr. McCroskey. I am.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McCroskey, when and where were you born?

Mr. McCroskey. March 27, 1909, in Birmingham, Alabama.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McCroskey, what is your present employment?

Mr. McCroskey. I am the plant manager for the W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company.

Mr. APPELL. How long have you been associated with the W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company?

Mr. McCroskey. Twenty-eight years.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McCroskey, during the committee's investigation it was determined that, starting in February of 1965 up to September or August of 1965, a series of acts of violence against individuals and property of the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company was carried out.

Do you possess knowledge of these acts?

Mr. McCroskey. Yes, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Can you tell the committee in a brief word what led up to these acts, and also if you have a chronology of the acts by dates and type of acts which have been carried out against the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company?

Mr. McCroskey. I do have the listing, and it was a labor dispute with some of our employees that led up to this strike situation.

Mr. APPELL. How many local—trade union locals represent employees of the W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company?

Mr. McCroskey. Prior to that time, only one. Currently, there are two.

Mr. APPELL. And what are the two locals now represented there?

Mr. McCroskey. United Steelworkers and the United Brick and Clay Workers.

Mr. APPELL. The labor dispute to which you referred—was this between the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company and the Steelworkers or the United Brick and Clay Workers?

Mr. McCroskey. The United Brick and Clay Workers.

Mr. APPELL. Without going into great detail, can you briefly explain to the committee that which led up to the strike to which you referred?

Mr. McCroskey. A small group of our employees identified as inspectors petitioned the NLRB for an election, for representation by the United Brick and Clay Workers. An election was held, and the group certified by NLRB, and a union local was established. After this local was established, the Dickey Company met with representatives of this local and their international representatives in an effort to draw up a contract for working conditions and hourly rates.

We had several meetings during the latter part of November, during December, and in January, being unable to come to an agreement on the terms of the contract.

On February 8, 1965, the Brick and Clay Workers established a picket line in front of our plant.

Mr. APPELL. The inspectors that petitioned for a bargaining election, prior to their petitioning for an election, were they considered as supervisory personnel and therefore not within the contract entered into between the W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company and the United Steelworkers local?

Mr. McCROSKEY. That is correct. They had been excluded in our contract with the Steelworkers.

Mr. APPELL. What was the date that the strike vote was taken and the actual date when a picket line was thrown across Dickey Clay property?

Mr. McCROSKEY. I don't know the date that the vote was taken, but it was probably prior, a few days prior to February 8. The picket line was established at 6 a.m. on February 8.

Mr. APPELL. Starting with February 8, can you give to the committee a listing of acts taken against the Dickey Clay Pipe Company? ¹

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes. Would you like me to furnish a copy, or shall I read it?

Mr. APPELL. Well, I would prefer that you read the items into the record and, if you have with you any photographic evidence of the extent of damage against either Dickey Clay property or property of employees of Dickey Clay, that you produce them in evidence as a part of your testimony.

Mr. McCROSKEY. I do have such evidence.

This listing does not cover all of the incidents, but it covers most of those major incidents that involved property damage.

Thursday, February 18—I will just read these as I have them here—damage to 36-inch pipe couplings, switch pulled on a stack fan, one automobile shot at 4:30 p.m., and—

Mr. APPELL. Now this automobile that was shot—this was an automobile of an enemy of Dickey Clay, which employee was not on strike?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, that was a car that belonged to a non-striking employee?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. WELTNER. All right, proceed, Mr. McCroskey.

Mr. McCROSKEY. I do not have a photograph of this particular incident. I have a sheriff's report as to what did occur.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I think that if Mr. McCroskey can supply the sheriff's reports, which go into some detail, that we accept them and make them a part of the record of Mr. McCroskey's appearance.

¹ Correct name W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing Co.

Mr. WELTNER. The report of the sheriff will be entered into the record at this point.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-A" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Friday, February 19, there was an automobile shot at 12:15 a.m. This automobile belonged to a nonstriking employee. His name was Tom Cotton.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-B" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Wednesday, February 24, we discovered sugar in the gasoline tank of one of our dump trucks.

On Sunday, February 28, there was an explosion occurred at 11 p.m. adjacent to our main building and just outside the wall of the electrical power control room.

Mr. APPELL. May I ask you there that if this explosion of dynamite had been placed closer to your electric power control, what damage would the plant have encountered?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Well, the plant would probably have been out of operation. This was the main control system adjacent to the substation, and all of the switch gear was just inside this wall.

Mr. APPELL. What was the extent of damage?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Relatively small. There was a drain pipe leading from the roof that was completely destroyed, two or three sheets of the transite (?) siding of the building was broken and damaged, there was a small hole blown in the ground against the side of the building, and an area about 2 feet square of the brick wall at the base of the building was damaged.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-C" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. APPELL. At the time that explosion took place, was any part of the Dickey Clay property immediately accessible to anyone who would enter its grounds?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes, even though the plant was remote from the nearest roadways, there was no fencing around the property at any area.

Mr. APPELL. So that anyone could have come up to the property itself and lobbed a charge of dynamite that could have detonated at almost any place that person cared to destroy.

Mr. McCROSKEY. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Getting a little bit ahead of ourselves, because of this and subsequent acts of vandalism or bombings against the property, did Dickey Clay surround its property with fencing?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes, we did.

Mr. APPELL. And when did you approximately do that?

Mr. McCROSKEY. This was completed the latter part of July.

Mr. APPELL. Now picking up with February the 28th, would you continue with the acts of vandalism or other acts against your property or the property of employees?

Mr. McCROSKEY. On that same date of the 28th, in addition to the explosion, there were two tires cut on one of the trucks or truck trailers that was parked at our loading dock.

On March the 2d, one of our employees, as he left the property, reported that someone hit his car with rocks—and followed him down the highway, and what he thought was shots were fired, but they did not hit his car.

On Wednesday, March 3, there were two power shovels apparently shot at with a shotgun and the fuel lines cut on the engines. This equipment belonged to a contractor who stored his equipment on our property.

Saturday, March 6, one of our employee's cars was shot at as he left our property, and he found one hole in the trunk of his car. This occurred around midnight.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-D" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Monday, March 8, another employee's car was shot as he left the plant property. This particular occasion was rather severe; inasmuch as the shot was apparently buckshot, it punctured seven holes in this automobile, in the left front fender, as well as puncturing the tire on the left front of his car.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McCroskey, I would like to interrupt you at this point. You have talked about Robert Smith's car being shot, Tom Cotton's car being shot, J. Macon's car being shot.

Are these employees Negro or white employees?

Mr. McCROSKEY. These particular ones are colored. Thus far.

Mr. APPELL. Would you please continue and when you deal with an employee, would you advise the committee as to whether or not he was a white or Negro employee?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes. Wednesday, March 10, one of our employees, who was colored, was using the company's station wagon to run an errand, was stopped on the road, the glass was broken in the door, the road was blocked, but this employee was able to get around the vehicle and reenter the plant.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-F." See p. 3120.)

Mr. WELTNER. What road was blocked?

Mr. McCROSKEY. The highway in front of our property.

Mr. WELTNER. The entrance to the plant was blocked?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Not with reference to this incident. It was away from the plant entrance, maybe 500 yards.

Mr. WELTNER. All right.

Mr. McCROSKEY. On this same date, March 10, some of A. F. James Truck Lines trucks as they entered the plant had windshields and side glasses broken with rocks or bottles being thrown from the picket line.

This is not listed on my schedule but this is the sheriff's report of an incident that occurred involving two of A. F. James Truck Lines and a house trailer or automobile trailer that was parked in our plant entrance.

Mr. APPELL. Does this refer to an incident whereby the trucks were attempting to leave and they were attacked with rocks, and in an attempt to return to the property that they struck a trailer which was being used as the strike headquarters?

Mr. McCROSKEY. That is right.

Mr. APPELL. Is this the incident which resulted in a complaint being made against the truck drivers, accusing them of an attack upon the individuals in the trailer with an intent to kill?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. And was one of the people in the trailer at that time Collie Leroy Wilkins?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Was Collie Leroy Wilkins ever an employee of the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company?

Mr. McCROSKEY. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Was this the first time, to your knowledge, of participation in the activity by Collie Leroy Wilkins?

Mr. McCROSKEY. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Would you continue, Mr. McCroskey?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Pursuing this same subject, I will go following the list.

Mr. APPELL. Well, you pursue this, if I have not carried it further.

Mr. McCROSKEY. Well, in answer to your last question, there were several occasions in which Wilkins was present on our picket line.

Mr. WELTNER. Prior to this incident?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes.

Mr. WELTNER. Well, we will put that copy of the sheriff's report concerning the trailer incident in the record at this point.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-G" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. WELTNER. Would you move on to your next list, please, sir?

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Thursday, March 11, around 2:40 a.m., the main gas valve was turned off that supplies our plant, and this gas meter is located near the road and was also near the plant entrance in which the picket line was established. This necessitated contacting the utility company and having them to send someone out to turn the meter back on.

Mr. APPELL. Was any damage sustained to kilns or other Dickey property while this gas was turned off?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Inasmuch as there was only about a 4-hour delay, there was not any severe damage. It could have been, if it were not handled properly. That was the reason for the necessity of having the gas company to turn it back on.

Mr. APPELL. All right, sir.

Mr. McCROSKEY. This is a high-pressure system, and a hundred pounds of pressure on this line at that meter, and it is rather dangerous for someone that don't know what they are doing to handle it.

On Friday, March 12, our company was able to obtain an injunction against these proceedings, these things that had happened, acts of violence, blocking of driveways, and multiple pickets.

Mr. APPELL. Did the injunction result in a termination of these acts of violence and other acts?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Unfortunately, no.

Mr. APPELL. Would you continue with your list?

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Wednesday, March 17, I was advised of an explosion in the area of our plant, and upon my arrival at the plant area, I investigated and found that an explosive charge had been dropped in gas line, some half a mile from our property. This gas valve led to a plant in our area, the Zimmer plant, and it stopped their operations temporarily, but did not affect ours.

We assumed that the effort was toward our gas supply.

On Friday, March 19, about 4 p.m., three cars, the property of our employees, left the plant, and all three of them were shot with shotgun blasts. The owner of one car was Joe Jones, who was a Negro; another car was Oscar Hinton, who was a Negro; the third car was Bob New, N-e-w, who was a white man.

All of these cars were shot with apparent shotgun blasts that pitted and damaged the paint and, in some instances, broke glasses.

(Documents marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-H" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Saturday, March 20, there was an explosion on the east side of our kiln building which occurred about 10:30 p.m. I have a report and photograph of the damage.

Mr. WELTNER. That will be entered in the record at this point.

(Documents marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-I" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. McCROSKEY. That is true on most of these instances, I have the sheriff's report on them.

On Monday, March 22, there were two explosions. One occurred on our property, one occurred on the power company's right-of-way property, a short distance from our plant area.

There is a report and one photograph of this incident.

(Documents marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-J." See p. 3121.)

Mr. APPELL. Was the explosion on the power company right-of-way—was this an attempt to destroy the poles which were carrying power into your plant and to other plants in that area?

Mr. McCROSKEY. We have to assume that it was. It did occur, and we do get our source of power from that line.

Mr. APPELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Friday, April the 2d, it was reported that apparent rifle shot was shot from the road toward our building, making a small hole through the transite siding of the wall.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-K" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Friday, April 9, there was two explosions that occurred on our property, just a few seconds apart. One was thrown through a window and landed on top of our large continuous kiln, doing some damage to the kiln, and some slight damage to the building. The other charge was placed in a hack of 8-inch pipe and destroyed and damaged quite a number of pieces of the same.

Mr. McCROSKEY. On Wednesday, May 26, there was an explosion that occurred inside of this large continuous kiln. We assumed that this charge was placed on one of the cars that traveled through the kiln and did not explode until such time it reached the hotter area, which was around 300 degrees, before it exploded.

It did considerable damage to the cars and to the kiln structure itself, as well as the product on the cars.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-M" and retained in committee files.)

Mr. McCroskey. On Thursday, June 13, our most severe explosion occurred, and we think that this charge was also thrown through a window of the building. It went under the kiln, did extensive damage to the kiln and to the kiln building.

(Document marked "James McCroskey Exhibit No. 1-N" and retained in committee files.)

(Several photographs attached to various of the sheriff's reports, Exhibits 1-A through 1-N, showing damage done at various times follow:)

Mr. McCROSKEY. As a result of this continued violence that had been going on for several months, the Dickey Company employed some special off-duty deputy sheriffs from our area and used them continuously at night for the purpose of security, until they were recently released.

As we mentioned earlier, because of this violence also, we felt it necessary to enclose our plant property with a fence, and we did, completing it during the later part of July.

Mr. APPELL. What did it cost Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company to erect this fence around its property?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Approximately $10,000.

Mr. APPELL. Did that erection of the fence eliminate the damage to Dickey property?

Mr. McCROSKEY. I don't know if it was the completion of the fence or whether it was the employment of the deputies, but except for one other incident, the violence did stop.

And that other incident occurred on August 9. And as mentioned earlier, this gas meter that supplies our plant is located near the roadway that runs in front of our plant, which is a county road, and an explosive charge was thrown from a passing automobile toward the meter and apparently struck the fence and dropped to the ground. There was some explosion that knocked a hole about 2 feet in diameter in the ground.

The deputies that investigated found three sticks of dynamite that had not been exploded and pieces of what they determined were four more sticks that were not exploded. How many were actually exploded, we don't know.

Mr. APPELL. Did it appear from the investigation conducted by the sheriff's department that a package of sticks of dynamite, when thrown apparently for the purpose of clearing the fence, struck the fence, and the package broke apart, which resulted in not all of the sticks exploding?

Mr. McCROSKEY. That is correct.

Mr. APPELL. Does that complete the listing of acts against the property or employees of the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes, it does.

Mr. APPELL. In addition to this, were you advised from time to time of threats, telephone threats, against employees or management during this period of labor dispute?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes, as this matter progressed, some of the employees that were involved with the Brick and Clay Workers took the position that they were willing to resign from the local union, and requested reinstatement. They did this on two or more occasions.

On one occasion, I decided that we would reinstate several of these employees and advised them to report for work at such-and-such a time. Some of this contact was by telephone. These employees had phoned me and stated that they would return and, later in the night, phoned me and said that they had received numerous telephone calls from women, stating to them that if they did return to work that their homes would be bombed.

And as a result of that, none of these employees that had requested reemployment or reinstatement returned to work.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. McCroskey, the committee's investigation established that, during the time that this was going on, James Whitefield, an employee of the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company, was the exalted cyclops of the Klavern known as Bessemer Klavern No. 20 and known further by a cover name of the Young Men's Social Club.

Was James Whitefield covered by either the United Steel contract or by the contract of the Brick and Clay Workers?

Mr. McCROSKEY. No, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Was James Whitefield employed during this period of time?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Did he remain continually employed from the start of the strike until its termination?

Mr. McCROSKEY. No.

Mr. APPELL. Did he go out or leave his employment in sympathy with the strike, even though he was not a member of either of the locals?

Mr. McCROSKEY. He told me that he would prefer not to cross the picket line.

Mr. APPELL. Is his brother, William Whitefield, also employed by the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Was he covered by either the Steelworker contract or the Brick and Clay Worker contract?

Mr. McCROSKEY. He was covered by the Brick and Clay Workers.

Mr. APPELL. What part did William Whitefield play in the activities against either employees, nonstriking employees of the plant, or the plant of the Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company?

Mr. McCROSKEY. He was present quite often on the picket line. It had been reported on several occasions that he had thrown rocks at employees, that he had followed trucks and employees' automobiles down the roadways.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever have discussion with those who were leading the strike with respect to the acts of violence against nonstriking workers or the company plant?

Mr. McCROSKEY. I did during the early stages of this work stoppage, discussing with both International Brick and Clay Worker representatives, stating—I stating to them that even though they denied any connection with these acts of violence that it was my opinion that they were still responsible.

Mr. APPELL. Did they take the position that they were responsible, or did they deny responsibility of these acts that were taking place?

Mr. McCROSKEY. They denied responsibility.

Mr. APPELL. Did they discuss with you who they thought might be responsible for these acts?

Mr. McCROSKEY. No.

Mr. APPELL. Did you ever have a conversation with any of these people as to the role that members of the Ku Klux Klan were playing in this act of violence?

Mr. McCROSKEY. No.

Mr. APPELL. Has the W. S. Dickey Company come to terms with the United Brick and Clay Workers local over its dispute?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Yes. This contract was signed on Friday, February 5, 1966.

Mr. APPELL. What were the terms of settlement as compared to the terms available for settlement at the start of the contract?

Mr. McCROSKEY. The contract was finally settled on the basis of our offer that was made on, possibly in February or March of 1965. Also that we reinstate 4 of these 16 employees.

Mr. APPELL. What four will be reinstated?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Larry Mason, Dale Mason, Norman Davis, and Elder White.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, the staff has no further questions to ask of the witness.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McCroskey, how many employees were included in the designation of the bargaining unit represented by the Brick and Clay Workers?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Sixteen.

Mr. WELTNER. And how many in the unit represented by the United Steelworkers?

Mr. McCROSKEY. Approximately 150.

Mr. WELTNER. And how many employees did you have during this period of time, all together?

Mr. McCROSKEY. About 190. That's counting the supervisor group, office employees, and so on.

Mr. WELTNER. I see.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Chairman, I would like to thank this witness for his testimony. You have been very helpful.

Mr. McCROSKEY. Thank you.

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McCroskey, the committee does appreciate your coming here today and assisting us. And at this point, I would like to direct into the record those official reports from the sheriff's departments and other documents which are relative to the incidences and acts previously testified to by this witness.

(All documents available included in James McCroskey Exhibit Nos. 1-A through 1-N.)

Mr. WELTNER. Mr. McCroskey, you are excused. Thank you very much.

Mr. McCROSKEY. Thank you, sir.

Mr. APPELL. Mr. Chairman, I would like to call Mr. Robert N. Washington.

Mr. WELTNER. Do you solemnly swear that the testimony you shall give in this hearing will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. WASHINGTON. I do.

TESTIMONY OF ROBERT N. WASHINGTON, ACCOMPANIED BY COUNSEL, MICHAEL H. GOTTESMAN

Mr. APPELL. Would you state your full name for the record, Mr. Washington?

Mr. WASHINGTON. Robert N. Washington.

Mr. APPELL. Are you represented by counsel?

Mr. WASHINGTON. Yes.

Mr. APPELL. Would counsel identify himself for the record?

Mr. GOTTESMAN. Yes, Michael H. Gottesman, G-o-t-t-e-s-m-a-n.

Mr. APPELL. Where do you have offices, Mr. Gottesman?

Mr. GOTTESMAN. In Washington, D.C.
