The Huth Library.

A CATALOGUE OF THE PRINTED BOOKS, MANUSCRIPTS, AUTOGRAPH LETTERS, AND ENGRAVINGS, COLLECTED BY HENRY HUTH, WITH COLLATIONS AND
BIBLIOGRAPHICAL
DESCRIPTIONS.

“L'étude de la bibliographie, si aride en apparence pour qui ne la considère que superficiellement, est loin, pour qui l'examine de plus près, d'être dépourvue d'un certain charme ; elle offre à l'esprit observateur bien des faits curieux, bien des anecdotes piquantes, bien des rapprochements singuliers. Voilà pourquoi sans doute plusieurs hommes de lettres distingués, des poètes même, se sont livrés à cette étude avec autant d'ardeur que de succès.”—BRUNET.

ELLIS AND WHITE,

London.

CHISWICK PRESS:—CHARLES WHITTINGHAM, TOOKS COURT
CHANCERY LANE.

P R E F A C E.

THE Library, the most important part of which is described in these volumes, is the result of nearly fifty years of collection by a man whose taste for curious books was thoroughly innate.

Henry Huth was born in the year 1815, and being destined by his father to enter the Indian Civil Service, was sent for preparation to Mr. Rusden's school at Leith Hill, in Surrey, where he soon became a favourite pupil. Here he learned Latin, Greek, and French (Spanish was his mother-tongue); and had also got well on with Hindustani, Persian, and Arabic, when, in 1833, the East India Company lost their charter, and his father took him away from the school. While yet a school-boy, he had taken a great and spontaneous interest in natural science, especially in physics and chemistry: all his pocket-money was devoted to the necessary purchase of apparatus, and sometimes he sold his old school-books for the same purpose. On one of these occasions, however, his attention was captivated by a work of Gervase Markham's, which he bought instead of the chemicals. Soon after, his father, finding him reading a book on chemistry, procured him a regular teacher; and thus his pocket-money was set free to be nearly all spent on his new and lasting fancy for curious books.

In 1833 he was sent abroad, first to the United States, then Mexico, France, and Germany; and in all these countries he made a few slight additions to his collection, but was especially lucky in Mexico, where he had several opportunities of securing rare Spanish books.

In 1849 he returned to England to become a partner in his father's house; and from this time the real growth of the library dates. His youthful collection, which he had left behind him carefully packed up, was examined, and most of the books rejected; but some few remain in the library to this day. He now first began the practice, which he continued all his life, of visiting, on his usual walk home from the City, the chief dealers in rare books, who soon learned to reserve for his inspection all the choicest and most interesting volumes, whether printed or manuscript, that came into their hands. Occasionally, too, he gave commissions to an agent to buy for him at important sales, and particularly made large purchases at the sale of Mr. George Daniel's library, and that of the Rev. T. Corser. As his name began to get known among bibliophiles, he naturally received constant offers of rare books from all the most important cities of Europe ; though, from the difficulty of ascertaining the real condition of the volumes offered, he rarely made purchases in this way.

A glance at the classified index to this Catalogue will convey a better idea than any description of the general character of the library. It will be seen that, though no branch of literature was excluded, it was strongest in the early English, particularly the poetical and dramatic, in early voyages and travels, and in early Spanish and German books. There were only two rules which my father particularly observed : Firstly, that every book he bought should be in a language he could read—a rule which was relaxed only in a few instances of volumes of extraordinary interest ; and, secondly, that every book should be in as fine and perfect a condition as obtainable—illuminated manuscripts especially he never bought if imperfect. That these rules were carefully carried out, the Catalogue itself will show. He collated every book himself before he added it to his collection, during the only time at his disposal, between ten and one o'clock at night, and on Sundays when in London ; and then only in such time as he could spare from the study of the chief works of the day.

About fifteen years ago, finding that his library was becoming unmanageable without a catalogue, he began to compile one himself. Not that he found any difficulty in laying his hand on any volume he required, but that he found it difficult to recollect the exact editions of many of his books ; and consequently had much trouble, when meditating new purchases, in taking down volumes from the shelves for comparison. His first idea was to make a slip catalogue just sufficient for this purpose ; but he soon found that, for a man with so little spare time as himself, the undertaking was impossible. He thereupon determined to print a Catalogue upon much the same plan as the Grenville ; but, at the same time, to make a more useful bibliographical work by appending better collations and descriptions, and to a far greater proportion of entries. In the year 1871, he accordingly engaged the assistance of Mr. W. C. Hazlitt and Mr. F. S. Ellis, the former undertaking the English, the latter the cataloguing of all works in any other language. In consequence of many unavoidable interruptions, this Catalogue was not finished until the year 1876, when it was at once sent to press; but, as every sheet was most carefully revised by my father during his short intervals of leisure, the work necessarily advanced very slowly: so that by December, 1878, when he died, he had only revised up to sheet 5 U, or rather more than one-half of the work. Since then Mr. Ellis, in whose hands the care of editing the work had been from the time it was first put to press, has carried it on alone, and he therefore may be regarded as the responsible editor.

The points to which special attention has been given are, the accuracy and fulness of the titles, and the careful collation of nearly every book. In some cases Mr. Ellis has slightly extended my father's plan—as, for example, in printing the extremely curious elegy on Richard Burbage from an early MS. (pp. 1161-64), and in giving, for the first time in English, the important and valuable collation of De Bry's Voyages. But on the whole, the work has been finished in strict accordance with the plan originally laid down by my father, and in a manner which I feel sure will convince all who have occasion to consult it, that Mr. Ellis has found it more a labour of love than a task.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY

OF HENRY HUTH.

A., H. The Scovrge of Venvs, or, the Wanton Lady. With the Rare Birth of Adonis. Written by H. A. London Printed by Nicholas Okes Dwelling neere Holborne-bridge. 1613. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

A—C in eights, title on A 3 (A 1—2 having probably been blank). In six-line stanzas. The bookseller, in his address to the Reader, avers that he was ignorant who was the real author of this poem, a paraphrase from Ovid; but he had heard, he states, "twas done for his pleasure, without any intent of an impression."

From the libraries of Sir Francis Freeling and Mr. Corser, the latter of whom reviews it in "Collectanea," part i. pp. 2-6. Of this, the first edition, no other copy is known. It was reprinted in 1614 and 1620. In the edition of 1614, the book, though the same, is said to be "enlarged and corrected by H. A.," and in the edition of 1620, the author's initials are given as A. H.

It appears from the preface to Heywood's "Brazen Age," that the author's name was Henry Austin; see p. 689 of this Catalogue.

A., J. *Breeden-raedt aende vereenichde Nederlandsche Pro-

A., P. *Vox Clamantis: Or an Essay for the Honour, Happiness, and Prosperity of the English Gentry, and the whole Nation: In the promoting Religion and Vertue, and the Peace both of Church and State. By P. A. Gent. Verbum Sat' Sapienti. London, Printed by
Sm. 8vo.*

A, 5 leaves, including a blank leaf before the title, and the Errata: B—11 in eights, last leaf blank. Dedicated to Sir John Moore, Alderman of London, whom the writer eulogizes as the grand instrument in the composure of dissensions in Church and State. This little volume seems to be unrecorded, and the present copy may have belonged to the author, as it has some important MS. additions to the Errata in a contemporary hand.

A. B. C., THE, with the Shorter Catechism, appointed by the General Assembly to be a Directory for Catechising of such as are of weaker Capacity. Glasgow, Printed by Robert Sanders, One of His Majesties Printers. 1698. Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A—B 4 in eights.

ABBOT, GEORGE. A Sermon Preached at Westminster, May 16, 1608. At the Funerall Solemnities of the Right Honorable Thomas [Sackville], Earle of Dorset, late L. High Treasurer of England. By George Abbot Doctor of Diuinitie and Deane of Winchester, one of his Lordships Chapleines. Now published at the request of some honourable persons; very few things being added, which were then cut off by the shortnesse of the time. Ioh. 9, 4. The night cometh, when no man can worke. London Printed by Melchisedech Bradwood for William Aspley. 1608. 4to. BL. M.

A—E 3 in fours, E 3 blank. Dedicated by the author to Cicely, Countess of Dorset. See Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i. 1, 2.

ABBOT-RIVERS, JOHN. The Sad Condition of a Distracted Kingdome, Expressed in a Fable of Philo the Jew. [Quot. from Claudian.] London, Printed by B.[ernard] A.[lsop.] 1645. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—E in fours. In verse. Dedicated to Algernon, Earl of Northumberland, and Philip, Earl of Pembroke, by A.[bbot] R.[ivers]. On the verso of the leaf containing this dedication (in prose) is a second one in verse, addressed to the Earl of Northumberland.

From the collections of Sir Francis Freeling and Dr. Bandinel.

— Devout Rhapsodies: In which is treated of the Excellencie of Divine Scriptvres. Also, of God His Attributes, Pluralities of Persons, Absolute Monarchie.

A—L in fours. In verse. It is described in the "Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica," No. 609.

The Rhapsodies are divided into nine Sermones or Discourses, each dedicated to a separate person. The fourth is addressed, inter alios, "To the Honorable William Savile, Baronet, my Godson." In the fifth the author couples the Marquis and Marchioness of Winchester with the Hon. Walter Montague: In the tenth, Henry Parker, Lord Morley and Monteaule, with William Habington (the poet) and his wife, Mistress Lucy Habington (his Castara). The whole concludes with a poem addressed to Lady Winchester.

This scarce volume, though bearing date 1648, was issued Nov. 11, 1647, as appears from the contemporary memorandum on the title of the copy among the King's Pamphlets in the British Museum.

It appears from a tract printed in 1641, and noticed by Hazlitt ("Collections and Notes," 1876, v. Prisoners), that Abbot-Rivers was one of the Jesuits taken at that time and adjudged to suffer capitally; but we may presume that he, at least, was fortunate enough to obtain a commutation of his sentence.

The tract referred to is entitled "A Cobby of the Prisoners Judgment condemned to dye from Nvgate on Mundaie the 13 of December, 1641. With the Examination of the Bishop of Calcedon and the rest of the lesuits condemned to die, and the names of the other prisoners condemned, and the matter for which they suffer. . . ." 4to. 1641.

ABELL, ALDERMAN, AND R. KILVERT. A Dialogue or accidental discourse betwixt Mr. Alderman Abell and Richard Kilvert, the two maine Projectors for Wine, and also Aldermans [sic] Abels wife, &c. Contayning their [sic] first manner of their acquaintance how they began to contrive the Patent it selfe, how they obtayned it, and who drew the patent. Also in what state they now stand in, and how they accuse and raile at each other with invective speeches, &c. With the manner and fashion how Projectors and Patentees have rod a Tilting in a Parliament time, &c. Printed also in the same yeare of grace. 1641. 4to.

Four leaves, chiefly black letter, with woodcut portraits on the title of Abel and Kilvert, and a woodcut at the end.

— The last Discourse betwixt Master Abel and Master Richard Kilvert, interrupted at the first by an ancient and angry Gentlewoman, who being her selfe unknowne unto the observer of this Conference, it was conceived by him afterwards to be a certaine friend of Mr. Abels. Printed in the yeare 1641. 4to.

Four leaves. With a woodcut on the title, representing the interruption of the conference as aforesaid.

— Een t'Samen-sprack ofte voorghevalle Discours tusschen Mr Alderman Abel ende Richard Kilvert, de twee voorname Projecteurs ofte Practisijns van de Wijn-pacht: ende oock Alderman Abels Wijf, &c. Ghetranslateert ende gedruckt na d'Engelsche Cotype. Anno 1641. 4to. Woodcut on the title.

ABELARD. Lettres d'Abailard et d'Heloïse, nouvelle traduction, avec le texte à côté. Paris. 1782. 2 vols. 8vo. R. M. Printed on vellum.

ABRÉGÉ DE L'HISTOIRE FRANÇOYSE, avec les Effigies des Roys, tirées des plus rares et excellentz Cabinetz de la France. Par H. C. Paris par Ichan le Clerc. 1585. Folio. R. M. Woodcuts.

Brunet appears to have known this first edition only from the description given of it by Papillon (i. p. 527), who says that it consists of 68 pages; but to be perfect it should consist of 70 printed pages and a blank leaf at the end to complete sheet H, as in this copy. It contains signatures A to G in fours, and H eight leaves. It is remarkable that Barbier ("Dictionnaire des Anonymes") does not mention the book, so he was doubtless unable to throw any light on the name concealed under the initials H. C.

ABRÉGÉ. Abrégé des Fruits Acquis par l'Ordre des Frères-Mineurs ès quattres parties de l'univers nommément la conuersion du Nouveau Monde. Recueillies par vn père Cordelier en Bruxelles. A Bruxelles, chez François Viuicn. 1652. Sm. 8vo.

Title and prel. 8 leaves. Pp. 1-171, with copperplates on the text.

ABULCACIM. La verdadera historia del Rey Don Rodrigo: en la qual se trata la causa principal de la perdida de España, y la conquista que della hizo Miramamolin Almançor, Rey que fue del Africa, y de las Arabias, y vida del Rey Jacob Almançor. Compuesta por el sabio Alcayde Abulcacim Tarif Abentarique, de nacion Arabe, y natural de la Arabia Petrea. Nuevamente traduzida de la lengua Arauiga por Miguel de Luna vezino de Granada, Interprete del Rey Don Felipe nuestro señor. En Valencia. En casa de Pedro Patricio Mey junto á S. Martin. 1606. 4to.

ABUS DES NUDITEZ. De l'Abus des Nuditez de Gorge. A Bruxelles, chez François Foppens. 1675. Sm. 8vo. R.M.

Title and prel. 3 leaves, pp. 1-110. Usually attributed, but apparently with very little foundation, to the Abbé Boileau.

ABUS DU MARIAGE. Les Abus du Mariage, où sont clairement representez les subtiltez deshonestes tant des femmes que des hommes dont ils usent pour se tromper l'un l'autre a cecy sont adjoustez quelques enseignemens pour corriger tels abus. [Here follows the same title in Dutch, and then in English.] The mistake off matrimonij, wherin is clearely set out the Shamefull Craftinesse as well by men, as women, pleading one against an other of their shamefull deceitfulness. Here is also by joyned, some learned instructions to the amendement, and re-proouing of that filthynesse. Ghedruckt in't Jaer ons Heeren 1641. Oblong 4to. Plates by Crispin de Passe. BL. M.

Brunet's account of the collation of this book being rather confused, it may be as well to give it exactly.

Engraved title. Printed title. Three printed leaves [forming, with the title, sheet A]. Sigs. B to G 4 leaves each. H 2 leaves. Then follow 4 leaves of letter-press with sigs. I 2, I 3, I 4, and a leaf without signature, but agreeing with the catch-word "En door." Then follows again sig. I, 4 leaves (on the verso of I 1 a large engraving). Sig. (.), 4 leaves. Sig. (.) (.), 2 leaves.

"L'exemplaire Méon," described by Brunet as having some peculiarities, was evidently the same as this in every respect.

ACADEMY OF COMPLIMENTS. The Academy of Compliments, wherein Ladyes, Gentlewomen, Schollers, and Strangers may accommodate their Courtly Practice with most Curious Ceremonies, Complementall, Amorous, High Expressions, and formes of speaking or writing. A work perused and most exactly perfected by the Author with Additions of witty Amorous Poems. And a Table expounding the hard English words. London, Printed by T. B. for H. Mosley, and are to bee sold at his Shop at the Princes Armes in S. Pauls Church-yard. 1640. Sm. 8vo.

A—M 10, in twelves, including a frontispiece by W. Marshall.

Dr. Bliss's copy, and the only perfect one known of this issue, that in the British Museum wanting the frontispiece. The imprimatur is dated Sept. 10, 1639. There is another issue of 1640, which only differs slightly in the title, and in certain other typographical minutiae. The only copy of it known was sold among Baron Kirkup's books in Dec. 1871.

— The Academy of Compliments. Wherain Ladies, Gentlewomen, Schollers, Strangers, may accommodate their Courtly practice with gentile Ceremonies, Complementall amorous high expressions, and Forms of speaking or writing of Letters most in Fashion. A work perused, exactly perfected, every where corrected and enlarged, and enriched by the Author with Additions of many witty Poems, with pleasant Songs, With an addition of a new School of Love, and a Present of excellent Similitudes, Comparisons, Fancies, and Devices. The last Edition, with two Tables; the one expounding the most hard English words: the other resolving the most delightfull Fictions of the Heathen Poets. London, Printed for Humphrey Moseley, at the Prince's Arms in St. Pauls Church-yard. 1658. Sm. 8vo.

A, 12 leaves; a, 4 leaves; B—P in twelves. The present appears to be the fifth edition of this popular miscellany, and no other copy is known. From Mr. Inglis's library.

The volume is in the original sheep binding, with many uncut leaves.

ACOSTA, JOSEPH DE. Historia natural y moral de las Indias en que se tratan las cosas notables del cielo, y elementos, metales, plantas, y animales dellas: y los ritos, y ceremonias, leyes y gouierno, y guerras de los Indios. Seuilla en casa de Juan de Leon. 1590. 4to.

Pp. 1—535, including title and 18 leaves of table.

— The Naturall and Morall Historie of the East and West Indies. Intreating of the remarkeable things of Heaven, of the Elements, Mettalls, Plants and Beasts which are proper to that Country: Together with the Manners, Ceremonies, Lawes, Governements, and Warres of the Indians. Written in Spanish by Ioseph Acosta, and translated into English by E[dward] G[rimeston]. London Printed by Val: Sims for Edward Blount and William Aspley. 1604. 4to.

A, 4 leaves, the first blank; A—b in fours, b 4 blank; B—Pp in eights.

This English version is dedicated by the translator to Sir Robert Cecil, Viscount Cranborne.

ACTORS' REMONSTRANCE. The Actors' Remonstrance, or Complaint: for the Silencing of their profession and banishment from the severall Play-houses. In which is fully set downe their grievances for this restraint; especially since Stage-playes, only of all publike recreations, are prohibited; the exercise of the Beares Colledge, and the motions of Puppets being still in force with vigour. As it was presented in the names and behalves of all our London Comedians to the great God Phoebus-Apollo and the nine Heliconian Sisters, on the top of Pernassus, by one of the Masters of Requests to the Muses for this present month. And published by their command in print by the Typograph Royall of the Castalian Province. 1643. London, Printed for Edw. Nickson. Januar. 24, 1643. 4to.

Four leaves. Only one other copy seems to be on record. The tract has been reprinted in fac-simile by Mr. Ashbee, and it is also included in the "Old English Drama and Stage" (Roxburghe Library).

ACTUS. Der Actus, vnnnd hendlung der Degradation vnd aerprennung d' Christlichē dreyen Ritter vnd Merterer, Augustiner ordēs geschehen zu Brussel [O. o.] 1523. 4to.

Four leaves.

ACUÑA, P. CHRISTOVAL DE. Nuevo descubrimiento del gran río de las Amazonas. Por el Padre Chrstóval de Acuña, Religioso de la Compañía de Iesus, y Calificador de la Suprema General Inquisición. Al qual fue, y se hizo por orden de su Magestad, el año de 1639. por la provincia de Quito en los Reynos del Perú. Con licencia; En Madrid, en la Imprenta del Reyno, año de 1641. 4to. R. M.

This, though undoubtedly a book of uncommon occurrence and considerable interest, as detailed in the Grenville Catalogue, can hardly be of the extreme rarity ascribed to it by Señor Salvá. M. de Gomberville, who published a French translation of it in 1682, believed that only two copies were extant, one being that which he used for his translation, and the other belonging to the Vatican Library. Gallardo, in the "Ensayo de una Bib. Española," col. 25, t. 1, quotes the Repertorio Americano, Lond. 1826, v. 1., where the writer expresses his belief that only four copies were to be found in the world. See Salvá, tom. 11, p. 578.

AD POPVLVM: or, A Lecture to the People. Printed in the Year 1644. 4to.

A—C 2 in fours, C 2 blank. In verse. This has been ascribed to Peter Hausted, and occasionally to Cowley.

ADAMS, JOHN. The Tryal, Condemnation, and Execution of the Bloody Servant, Or, a Full and True Relation of the Barbarious Murther lately Committed in Shropshire by one John Adams. . . . London, Printed in the Year 1674. 4to.

Four leaves.

ADAMS, JOHN QUINCEY. An Oration delivered at Plymouth, [New England] December 22, 1802, at the anniversary commemoration of the landing of our ancestors at that place. Boston, 1802. 8vo.

Pp. 32. On the title-page is, "Hon. John Davis, Esq. From his friend and very humble serv^t. John Q. Adams."

ADAMSON, JOHN. Τὰ τῶν Μουσῶν Εἰσόδια: The Muses Welcome to the High and Mighty Prince James By the Grace of God King of Great Britaine France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. At his Majesties happie returne to his olde and natiue Kingdome of Scotland, after 14 yeeres absence, In Anno 1617. Digested according to the order of his Majesties Progresses, By I. A. Soli sic pervius orbis. Imprinted at Edinburgh, 1618. Cum privilegio Regiæ Majestatis. Folio.

Title-page, preceded by a leaf with a woodcut portrait of James, dedication to the King by Adamson, &c., 4 leaves. A—Dd, 2 leaves each, and between L and M an extra leaf, unmarked and unpagged: E e—Ddd in fours. [A new title:] Plactus & vota Musarum in Avgstissimi monarchæ Jacobi Magnæ Britanniæ, &c. Recessu à Scotia in Angliam, Augusti 4, anno 1617. Edinbvr̄gi: Excudebat Andreas Hart, Anno 1618. Cum Privilegio & Gratia Regiæ Majestatis, A to C 2 in fours. last leaf blank.

A series of tributes from all the persons of note in Scotland, including Drummond, Craig of Rose Craig, &c., in prose and in verse. The present was the Savile copy, and is in the original calf binding, with gilt corners and the Royal Arms in the centres.

It is not generally known that the title-page and preliminary leaves were printed twice, but in the library is a second copy of the volume with the following title: Τὰ τῶν Μουσῶν Εἰσῆλια. The Muses Welcome. . . . At His M. Happie Returne to his old and Native Kingdome of Scotlande, after XIII. yeers absence in Anno 1617. . . . Edinbvrgh, Printed by Thomas Finlason, Printer to his most excellent Maiestie. 1618." Here, besides the Latin motto, there is the same in Greek; the dedication occupies two leaves instead of one, and the Greek verses, which in the Savile copy are printed on the back of the dedication, are transferred to the verso of the fourth leaf, Finlason's monogram being substituted for Hart's. The recto of the same leaf has a quotation from Menander, which does not occur in the other issue, making five preliminary leaves altogether, in place of four. Moreover, between L and M the duplicate copy possesses four extra unpagged leaves, containing the Latin speech of John Hay at Edinburgh, &c., whereas in the copy from the Savile collection there is merely the single leaf already noticed. Otherwise the two exactly correspond.

ADAMSON, PATRICK. The Recantation of Maister Patrik Adamson, sometime Archbishop of Saint-Andrewes in Scotlande. 1598. Sm. 8vo.

A—C in fours, or 12 leaves.

Without place and printer's name. The three pages, which follow the title of this exceedingly rare tract, are occupied by The Printer to the Reader; the Recantation itself, dated April 8, 1591, contains 11 pp., and the last four leaves of the volume have "Maister Patrike Adamsones owen answere and refutation of the Buke falslie called the Kings Declaration." Adamson has an acrostic and epigram before James I.'s "Essays of a Prentice," 4to. 1584.

ADDISON, JOSEPH. Works. Edited by Richard Hurd, In six volumes. London. . . . 1811. 8vo. Large paper. Portrait.

ADELPHUS, JOHANNES. Die Türckisch Chronica von irem vrsprung anefang vnd regiment, biss vff dise zeit, sampt yrē kriegē vnd streyten mit den christen begangen, Erbämrllich [sic] zu lesen. Gedruckt zu Strassburg durch . . . Martin flach. 1513. Folio. Woodcuts.

Vnd aber ietzo in tūsche zungen trülich bracht. Getruckt . . . in . . . Strassburg von Johanne Grücuinger. 1520. Folio. Woodcuts, R. M.

A. 4 leaves, B. to M. in sixes, N. 4 leaves. The pagination is very incorrect.

— Historia von Rhodis—see Caoursin.

ADMONITION. An Admonition to the Parliament. [This is the headline of a portion of the volume. Printed abroad, 1572.] Sm. Svo. Black letter. R.

A—D 4 in eights.

The present very rare piece commences with a Preface "To the godly Readers, Grace and peace from God," &c. At A ij begins "¶ An Admonition to the Parliament," which proceeds as far as the verso of A 7. At A 8 recto occurs a new heading, the old running-title, "An Admonition," &c., being retained. "A view of Popishe abuses yet remayning in the Englishe Church, for the which Godly Ministers have refused to subscribe," which occupies to the recto of C. At C verso occurs "To the Christian Reader, health in the Lorde," in which there is an apology for suppressing the names of the writers and printer of the two foregoing tracts, followed by a Preface to two annexed Epistles, one to Dr. Parkhurst, Bishop of Norwich, from Rodolph Gualter, the other from Theodore Beza to Bishop Grindal, both dated 1566, and the latter running to the end of the book, except eight short verses unsigned, which form the conclusion. This book is described by Herbert, p. 1631. See also ibid. 1632. A full account of it will also be found in Neal's "History of the Puritans," vol. i., p. 231, where we read that "the authors themselves (Mr. Field, minister of Aldermary, London, assisted by Mr. Wilcox) presented it to the House, for which they were sent for into custody, and by the influence of the Bishops committed to Newgate, October 2, 1572."

A in eights, or 8 leaves.

See "Bibl. Grenvill." i. 3, where it is said that this tract was "probably written by John Bale, Bishop of Ossory." It was doubtless printed abroad, as it professes to be; but it is scarcely likely to have been Bale's.

Thirty-six leaves.

The two pieces contained in this volume are attributed by Hain and Panzer to the press of Ulric Zell at Cologne, and are among his earliest productions. The Bulla retractationum consists of 11 leaves, and the treatise De miseria curialium of 25 leaves. Though they were probably printed together, they are described separately by Hain and Panzer. Brunet describes the first tract as consisting of 36 leaves, having evidently taken his description from a volume containing the two pieces without noticing the second, though he mentions it afterwards in a note.

This is the edition ascribed to Antony Sorg of Augsburg, and is believed to be the earliest with the designs which were so frequently copied with greater or less variation. It consists of 130 leaves, the last being blank. From the Yemenez collection.

— Vita [et Fabulæ] Esopi fabulatoris clarissimi e greco latina per Rimicium facta ad reverendissimum patrem dominū Anthoniū tituli sancti Chrysogoni presbiterum Cardinalem. [Sine ullâ notâ.] Folio. Woodcuts. BR. M.

This edition has 114 leaves, with 42 lines to a page. The woodcuts are taken from those in the edition of 130 leaves. They have sometimes lost in the copying, but many of them, on the other hand, are much better drawn and engraved than those from which they are copied.

The large portrait of Æsop, on the verso of the first leaf, and the text on the recto of A 11, are each surrounded by a fine woodcut border.

This edition consists also of 114 leaves, but has 43 lines to a page. The woodcuts are copied from one of the two preceding editions and are reversed. Panzer does not mention any edition of 114 leaves, and Hain describes only one edition with that number, which he does not identify by giving the number of lines to a page, but he appears to have had this edition of 43 lines before him. Brunet also appears to have been unacquainted with either of these editions with 114 leaves.

The signatures a, b, d, f, h, k, m, and o have eight leaves each, while c, e, g, i, l, n, and p to s are in sixes; the last leaf of sig. s. is blank. Then begins a new alphabet. A 1 has an epigram by Brandt on the recto, and a woodcut on the verso. A, B, E, G, I, have 8 leaves each. C, D, F, H, K, six each, and L and M are in fours.

— Libro del sabio & clarissimo fabulador ysopo hystoriado & anotado. Sevilla por Jacobo cronberger aleman. 1521. Folio. Woodcuts. Black letter. R. M.

This edition appears to be hitherto undescribed by bibliographers. There were three earlier impressions in Spanish. The first was printed at Saragossa in 1489. A second at Tolosa in the same year, the only copy known of which was described in a catalogue of Messrs. Payne and Foss in 1824. A third at Burgos in 1496, of which a copy is in the Paris Library. The next edition known to Brunet or Salvá is that of Seville, 1526. The present copy is in the most perfect condition. The title is printed within an ornamental border surmounted by four woodcuts containing subjects from the life of Æsop. The title forms folio I, and the text runs from ii to lxxx.

Troy the great, in a Towne named Amonio. He was of all other men most deformed, and evill shapen: for he had a great Head, a larg[e] Visage, long Jawes, sharp Eyes, a short Necke, crooke-backed, great Belly, great Legs, larg[e] Feet. And yet that which was worse he was dumb, and could not speake. But notwithstanding this, he had a singular Wit, and was very ingenious and subtile in cavillations, and pleasant in words, after he came to his speech. Whereunto are added the Fables of Avian: and also the Fable of Alphonse, with the Fables of Poge the Florentine, very pleasant to be read. *London, Printed by F. A copy of this very rare volume is in the British Museum, but it was only acquired lately by purchase. This is the last edition of the version originally printed by W. Caxton in 1483, of which only one perfect copy is known. So far as can now be ascertained, the book passed through nine impressions between 1483 and 1647, and of these the greater part survive in copies reputed to be unique.

ÆSOP. The Phrygian Fabulist: or, The Fables of Æsop: Extracted from the Latine Copie, and moraliz'd. By Leonard Willan Gent.

Puerilia Ludibria Hominum Stultia.

London, Printed by W. D. for Nicolas Bourne at the South Entrance of the Roial-Exchange, 1650. Sm. 8vo. R.

A—N in fours, title on A 2, and a, 8 leaves between A and B. With a portrait of Willan by Cross, similar to that in his Astræa.

— The Fables of Æsop paraphras'd in Verse: Adorn'd with Sculpture, and illustrated with Annotations. By John Ogilby, Esq.; Master of His Majesties Revells in the Kingdom of Ireland. London, Printed by Thomas Roycroft, for the Author, M. DC. LXV. Folio. R.

Title, 1 leaf; Dedication to Thomas, Earl of Ossory, 1 leaf; Privilege, 1 leaf; Sigs. B and C, 2 leaves each, D—Ff 2 in fours. With a frontispiece by Hollar, and 82 plates (Nos. 14 and 15 on one plate) by him and others.

— Æsopics: or A Second Collection of Fables, Paraphras'd in Verse: Adorn'd with Sculpture London, Printed by Thomas Roycroft, for the Author, M. DC. LXVIII. Folio. R.

This is bound up with the first part. Title and privilege (same date as former), 2 leaves; B to D, 2 leaves each; E to I i 2, in fours. With 68 plates by Hollar and Gaywood. The fables end on p. 129, the rest of the volume being occupied by the story of Androclus and the Ephesian Matron.

— Æsop's Fables with his Life: in English, French, & Latin. The English by Tho. Philipott Esq; The French and Latin by Rob. Codrington M.A. Illustrated with One hundred and Twelve Sculptures by Francis Barlow. London, Printed by William Godbid for

Francis Barlow, and are to be sold by Ann Seile at the Black-Boy against St. Dunstan's Church in Fleetstreet, and Edward Powell at the Swan in Little Britain. M. DC. LXVI. Folio. O. M.

Printed and engraved titles, 2 leaves; Dedication to Sir Francis Pruijan, Knight, and to the Reader, 2 leaves; the Life of Æsop, B—L, 2 leaves each, besides a plate, containing a portrait of Æsop, surrounded by animals: the Life, in French, B—1, 2 leaves each: the same, in Latin, B—E, 2 leaves each, and a leaf of F: the work, F 2—Ppp., 2 leaves each. The engravings are on the letter-press.

This is the first edition of Barlow's Æsop, and is valuable on account of the brilliancy of the impressions.

ÆSOP. Æsop's Fables with his Life: in English, French, and Latin. Newly translated. Illustrated with One Hundred and Twelve Sculptures. To this Edition are likewise added, Thirty-one New Figures representing his Life. By Francis Barlow. London, Printed by H. Hills jun. for Francis Barlow, and are to be sold by Chr. Wilkinson . . . Tho. Fox . . . and Henry Faithorne . . . M. DC. LXXXVII. Folio. Large paper. R.

Frontispiece and printed title, 2 leaves; arms of the Earl of Devonshire, 1 leaf; Dedication to the Earl, 1 leaf; To the Reader, with the plate of Æsop and the animals on the verso, 1 leaf; Life of Æsop, in English, B to L, 2 leaves each; 31 plates illustrating the same; B to L, 2 leaves each; Vita Æsopi, B to E, 2 leaves each; and 1 page (F recto): the fables in English verse and French and Latin prose, with a prose French moral, pp. 2-221: Table, 2 pages. The last page is blank.

In this edition, the Dedication to the Earl of Devonshire has been substituted for that to Sir Francis Pruijan. The triglot Life of Æsop and the frontispiece (except the letter-press) are the same, the English Life being, indeed, a paginary re-issue. The French text of the Fables differs considerably from that in the edition of 1666, and the engraved English verses beneath the plates have been entirely rewritten.

AGRIPPA, CAMILLO. Trattato di scientia d'Arme, con vn dialogo di filosofia. In Roma per Antonio Blado. 1553. 4to. R. M.

Title and preface 3 leaves, followed by a plate. Folios 1-70, and "Tavola" 1 leaf.

The plates in this volume are said to be from the designs of Michael Angelo Buonarotti, and in a copy formerly in the possession of Sig. Molini at Florence, and afterwards in the library of Mr. Seymour Kirkup, was an inscription to that effect, said to be in the autograph of Torquato Tasso. "Le figure intagliate da Michelangelo Bonarotti," which would seem to ascribe the engraving, as well as the designs, to that artist.

— Henric Cornelius Agrippa, of the vanitie and vncertaintie of Artes and Sciences, Englished by Ja[m]es San[ford] Gent. [Quot. from Eccles. i.] Seen and allowed. . . . Imprinted at London, by Henry Wykes, dwelling in Fleete street, at the signe of the blacke Elephant. Anno. 1569. 4to. Black letter.

Title, table, and dedication, four leaves ; A—Bbb in fours, the last leaf occupied only by the Errata. Dedicated by the translator to Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, whose arms gartered, with 4 lines of verse beneath, are on the back of the title.

From Mr. G. Smith's collection.

Eighty leaves. Sigs. A to K.

The engravings in this volume are signed with the monogram which is by Passavant, v. 3, p. 24, interpreted as the mark of "Jacob Cornelisz van Oostanen dans le Waterland;" but he appears to have been quite ignorant of the existence of this volume. It has usually been cited as the earliest book printed at Amsterdam; but more than one other volume has been adduced which was probably printed in that city before 1500. A volume which I lately met with has certainly a claim to this distinction. The title reads: "Hier beghint dat leuen ons liefs heren ihesu cristi;" and on the last leaf we find: "Hier endet dat leuen ons heren en is geprent tot amstelredam in hollât. Bi mi Hugo Jansoen vā woerden." It is undescribed by Campbell or Holtrop, and neither of these bibliographers appears to be aware that Hugo Jansen printed any book at Amsterdam. Holtrop, after describing the few books which he printed at Leyden, remarks that at the beginning of the sixteenth century he carried his presses to Delft. The types with which the volume is printed appear to be identical with those which he employed for an edition of the same book at Leyden, also without date, but assigned by Campbell to the year 1498. It agrees with it also in containing 206 leaves, with 20 lines to a full page.

This edition is dedicated to Henry VII. of England, and the subscription to the Dedication supplies the date, which indicates pretty nearly the time at which it was printed. In the tract we read that the church of St. Pantaleon, at Cologne, possessed a shrine dedicated to St. Alban. This church was turned into a barrack by the Prussians in 1820, and the shrine was transferred to the church of St. Mary, where it still remains.

The matter to which this piece, and that which precedes it, refer, is very clearly set out by Panzer; but, as he remarks, it would not be easy to guess the contents of the publication from the title. His description is so excellent, that one is induced to give it in full:—

— l'Architecture et Art de bien bastir, diuisée en dix liures, traduits de Latin en François, par deffunct Ian Martin. A Paris, Par Jaques Keruer. 1553. Folio.

This beautiful volume affords the most perfect specimen that can be desired of the binding of Henry II. of France and Diana of Poitiers. The sides are tooled to an elaborate design in admirable taste, picked out with white, red, blue, and green, disposed in a most harmonious manner. The obverse is tooled with the three interlaced crescents at each corner, and in the side compartments the H crowned, is alternated with two D's interlaced. In the centre is a crowned scutcheon bearing the three lilies on a blue ground, beneath which is a crowned II on each side of a crescent. The tooling of the reverse is identical, except that the centre is occupied with two D's interlaced with two crescents, surrounded by four fleurs-de-lis. The back is in six compartments, in which the two D's and the three crescents interlaced, alternate. The edges preserve the original gilding, with coloured compartments, in which are gauffered the monogram H) and a crown. Suffice it to add that the whole volume is as fresh as though it had lain undisturbed by curious hands since the day that the binder had finished his work.

Brunet has given this as two separate books, but the whole volume unquestionably proceeds from the same press, and was no doubt issued as one work. It is attributed to the press of Mentelin, about 1474. The first part occupies 66 leaves, the second 213. See Hain 461.

ALCIATUS, ANDREAS. Alciati ad D. Chonradum Peutingerū Augustanum Emblematum liber. Excusum Augustæ Vindelicorum, per Heynricum Steynerum. 1531. Sm. 8vo. Woodcuts.

From Mr. Corser's Library.

Inserted is an autograph letter from Dr. Dibdin to Sir Francis Freeling, presenting him with this volume. It is now generally allowed that this is the first edition of this once popular book of emblems. Brunet quotes an edition of Milan, 1522, as the earliest printed, but it is pretty certain that no such edition ever existed. A few years since an English bibliographer caused an advertisement to be inserted in English and foreign literary periodicals, offering a reward of fifty francs to any one who would produce a copy of a Milan edition dated 1522, or even point it out in some well-authenticated catalogue. A letter was shortly afterwards received from Berlin, saying that the edition was to be found named in one of the catalogues of the Royal Library in that city, and claiming the reward. The advertiser immediately wrote to a correspondent at Berlin asking him to ascertain if such were really the case, and received for answer that the edition certainly appeared in one of the catalogues, but it was the Catalogue of Desiderata!

A—O in fours, title on A 2.

There are separate titles to "Pigmalion's Image," which is Marston's poem, first printed in 1598, and to the "Love of Amos and Laura." This book, and this copy of it, is so fully described in Mr. Corser's Collectanea Anglo-Poetica, part i. pp. 26-27, that it seems useless to say more here. See also ibid., pp. 15-26, and Collier's Bibl. Cat., i. 117.

From the libraries of Mr. G. Chalmers, Mr. Jolley, and Mr. Corser.

"This is the second edition; the first was printed in 1619. Both are excessively rare, and neither occur in the collections of Steevens, Bindley, Perry, Sir M. M. Sykes, Hibbert, Rice, Heber, &c., nor in the Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica. Indeed, such is the rarity of the first poem, that Mr. Collier speaks of it in his Poetical Decameron (vol. ii. p. 112) as 'quite a new discovery in the history of our poetry;' and says in another passage that it 'is a production hitherto unseen, and displays very considerable poetical talent.' The only copy we can trace is the one we sold in the sale of Sir Francis Freeling's library, No. 176, for £10 5s."—Note in Mr. Chalmers's Catalogue, 1842. But at least three other copies are now known.

"Alcilia" itself was first printed in 1595, and from the original copy of this edition, in the public library at Hamburg, a few copies were lately republished.

Mr. Collier gives the initials J. C. as those of the writer, but the Hamburg copy has J. G.—initials which it would be useless to attempt to appropriate without some collateral information.

"Alcilia" is advertised at the end of "Paris and Vienna," 1650, printed by W. Leake, as then on sale by him. It is described as "Alcillia, or Philotas loving Folly." 4to.

ALDRETE, BERNARDO. Varias antiguedades de España, Africa y otras provincias. En Amberes a costa de Juan Hasrey. 1614. 4to. O. M.

Title and preliminaries, 12 leaves; pp 1—640; table 36 leaves.

From the library of Girardot de Préfond. Brunet speaks of plates, but there are none besides the engraved title and a small map on the text at p. 44.

ALEMAN, MATEO. Ortografia Castellana. En Mexico en la imprenta de Ieronimo Balli. 1609. 4to.

Title and other preliminaries, including a woodcut portrait of the author, 8 leaves. Folios 1—83 (sigs. B—Y in fours, the last leaf being blank).

Brunet cites this book only on the authority of Antonio, but gives the date as 1606, and the printer's name as Balbi. This edition of 1609 is, however, clearly the earliest.

Nouuellement imprime a paris par Alain Lotrian. Demourant en la rue neufue nostre dame. A lenseigne de lescu de France: [s. d.]* 4to. G. M.

This edition appears to have been quite unknown to M. Brunet. It consists of 60 leaves thus composed: A, 8 leaves; B—G, 4 leaves each; H, 8 leaves; I—N, 4 leaves each. On the title is a large woodcut, and there are several throughout the book. It is printed in Gothic letters, with 34 lines to a full page.

ALEXIS, GUILLAUME. He[re] begynneth an interlocucyon/with an argument/ betwyxt man and woman/ & whiche of them could proue to be most excellēt. [This title is over a woodcut representing a man and woman conversing, with a tree between them, and a sort of band composed of flowers at top and bottom. At the end occurs Wynkyn de Worde's device. There is no colophon.] 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

Four leaves. In 4-line stanzas.

Both the cuts on the title-page and that on the reverse were used by De Worde and other typographers for many of their publications. This copy, which is supposed to be unique, is from the Caldecott and Daniel Collections. "The author feigns that as he was walking under the shade of trees, he heard a contention between a man and a woman as to the comparative excellency of the two sexes. The references and examples on both sides are chiefly scriptural. The woman has the last word." —MS. note by Mr. Daniel on fly-leaf.

This was one of De Worde's later productions, and was probably not printed before 1530. It is a translation from the French tract entitled, "Le Débat de l'homme et de la femme" (Poésies Françaises, i. 1-10).

ALEYN, CHARLES. The Battailes of Crescey and Poitiers, Vnder the Fortunes and Valour of King Edward the third of that name, and his Sonne Edward Prince of Wales, named the Black. The second Edition, enlarged. By Charles Aleyn. Nec omni, nec nulli. London, Printed by Thomas Harper for Thomas Knight, and are to be sold at his shop in Pauls Church-yard, at the Holy-lamb. 1633. Sm. 8vo.

A—I in eights, first and last leaves blank, and the 8th leaf of A having the Errata.

Dedicated to Lord Coleraine. There are commendatory verses by Thomas May, John Hall, John Lewis, &c. See Corser's "Collectanea," part i. pp. 28-32. The first edition appeared in 1631, and differs materially from this. See "Bibl. Grenv.," i. 19.

— The Historie of that wise and Fortunate Prince, Henrie of that Name the Seventh, King of England. With that famed Battaile, fought betweene the sayd King Henry and Richard the third named Crook-backe, upon Redmoore neere Bosworth. In a Poem by Charles Aleyn.

Vnus mihi pro populo, & populus pro uno.

A, 2 leaves; B—L 6 in eights. With a portrait by Marshall.

In 6-line stanzas, with two copies of verses by Edward Sherburne and Edward Prideaux. The portrait is a reduced copy of that by John Payne prefixed to Bacon's "History of Henry VII.," 1622.

ALLEN, ETHAN. Reason the Only Oracle of Man, or a Compendious System of Natural Religion. A—I i in fours, the last leaf having only the Errata.

Dedicated to Sir John Popham by the author, who dates from Culford, in Suffolk, 13th May, 1600.

From Mr. Maskell's collection.

ALLEN, WILLIAM, CARDINAL. An Apologie and True Declaration of the Institution and endeouours of the two English Colleges, the one in Rome, the other now resident in Rhemes: against certaine sinister informations giuen vp against the same. [Quot. from 1 Peter, 3.] Printed at Mounts in Henault. 1581. Sm. 8vo. R.

A—Q 3 in eights.

The running title is—"An Apologie of the English Seminaries." At the end, before the leaf with the Errata, occurs this subscription: "Your louing felow and seruant in Christ Iesus. William Allen."

— Duo edicta Elizabethæ Reginae Angliæ contra Sacerdotes Societatis Iesu, & alumnos seminariorum quæ à Gregorio XIII. Pont. Max. [Edited by Robert Allot.] Imprinted at London for N[icholas] L[ing], [Cuthbert] B[urby], and T[homas] H[ayes]. 1600. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

Title, 1 leaf; Dedication by Allot to Sir Thomas Mounson, Knight, in verse, 1 leaf; To the Reader, in verse, also by Allot, 1 leaf; Table and Errata, 3 leaves. The work, B—K k 7 in eights.

"Lowndes, in his 'Bibliographer's Manual,' says that this collection should end with ten lines, commencing 'Fame's windy trump,' &c. I am, however, informed by Mr. Thorpe that Lowndes was misled by finding these verses in a copy of the book belonging to Mr. Jolley, in which they had been accidentally inserted. The lines actually belong to Lloyd's 'Legend of Captain Jones,' and are explanatory of the frontispiece of that work, in which position I have myself seen them."—MS. note by Mr. George Smith (to whom the present copy belonged).

"England's Parnassus" has been lately reprinted in Mr. Collier's Blue Series, and it may be sufficient to refer, for some remarks on the volume, to that gentleman's "Bibliogr. Catal.," ii. 108-11, and to Corser's "Collectanea," part i. pp. 35-37. In some copies the name of Hayes, the publisher, is printed at length on the title, and in others Allot's name appears, instead of his initials, at the foot of the dedication. The reprint in Heliconia preserves all the mistakes of the original.

ALLOT, ROBERT. England's Parnassus. Edited by J. Payne Collier. Privately printed. [1869.] 4to.

Presentation copy from the editor.

In this edition many of Park's errors are corrected, and the extracts, wrongly assigned in the original, restored to their true authors. Mr. Collier supposed the initials "T. H." on the title to belong to Thomas Hacket, instead of Thomas Hayes.

ALMANACK.

A perpetual Calendar, or Almanack, entirely cut in wood, in the manner of the block books, and probably executed at London about the year 1500, but with spaces left blank to be filled up in MS., to serve for any subsequent year.

As it is believed that no description has hitherto been printed of one of these curious relics, a somewhat full account of it may be interesting. There is a similar one at the British Museum, and it is possible that others may be lying elsewhere undescribed, but from the ephemeral nature of the work it is to be expected that specimens are of very great rarity.

It is printed on a piece of vellum $30\frac{1}{2}$ inches long by $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches broad. At the head is a monthly table, divided for twenty-eight days, which the original possessor has filled with MS. marks and figures. Beneath this is a circular dial divided into the twenty-four hours, with the emblems of the Evangelists at each corner, and the holy rood in the centre. Then comes a calendar of the twelve months, with the saints' days and holy days, indicated by emblems: thus, against the Epiphany are three crowns; St. Blaize is represented by a chafing-dish filled with live embers; against St. Dunstan is the devil, in the form of a hog, confronting the saint; St. Eligius is indicated by a goldsmith's hammer; and the English origin of the almanack is sufficiently evidenced by the names in the calendar of St. Botolph, St. Edward, St. Guthlac, St. Alphege, St. Cuthbert, &c.

This side of the almanack concludes with eight chronological data which it is not easy to reconcile, though it may safely be concluded that the sixth gives the true date at which the almanack was in use. The reckonings run thus:—

"Ab origine mundi VI^m VII^c
 Etas Ade [Adame] IX^c XXXII
 Etas eve. VII^c V.
 Adam fuit in inferno IIII^m VI^c IIII
 A diluio noe IIII^m VIII^c XC
 Ab incarnatione dmni. MV^c LIIII
 A passione Scti Thome. III^c LXI.
 A coronacione regis LX."

The first five dates in this chronology are printed, but the last three have been left blank and filled up by hand. It will be seen that it is impossible to reconcile the date of 1554 with 361 years from the Passion of St. Thomas-à-Becket, which took place in 1170, and would therefore give 1531. But the chief puzzle is the last date, "A coronacione regis LX," as there is no king whose coronation dates sixty years before 1554, and that year gives only a few months in Queen Mary's reign.

On the reverse side of the almanack we find at the top the letters "M S" in a circle, in white on a black ground, and beneath this are twelve woodcuts, representing the occupations of the months, while over against each one is a circle with twenty-four rays, representing the hours of day and night by red and black lines.

A—F in fours, the last leaf blank.

Mr. Maskell in his History of the Martin Marprelate controversy, p. 215, says that the style of the book is conclusive in favour of its having been written by John Lilly the Euphuist.

ALTDORFER, ALBERT. A Series of 40 Wood-engravings by Albert Altdorfer, representing the Fall and Redemption of Man. It begins with Adam and Eve plucking the apple, and ends with the Assumption of the Virgin Mary. [About 1540.] Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

Brilliant proof impressions with full margins. From the collection of Mr. Julian Marshall.

ALTERCATIO. Altricatio (sic) rusticor et clericor mota per eos corā domino papa tanq̄ iudice assumpto. [S. l. et a.] 4to. R. M.

A curious facetious piece, written in rhyming Latin verse. It consists of 4 leaves, 27 lines to a full page.

ALTIERI, BALT. Al Serenissimo Re d'Inghilterra Edoardo sesto. De portamenti di Papa Giulio III. Et quale habbia ad essere il concilio, che egli intende di fare. Nel mese di Novembre, l'Anno 1550. [Sine loco.] 4to. R. M.

A—F in fours; G, 6 leaves. Presentation copy to Henry Bullinger.

This is a most interesting piece, and perhaps unique. It never was published in the ordinary sense, and no record of it has been found, either in the history of the period or in bibliographical works. It bears internally every evidence of being a communication commanded by the king in reference to the policy of the new pope, and a general council. On the reverse of folio 14 there is the expression "Nostra Anglia;" on that of folio 20, an allusion to a work on the Papal system, which the writer is preparing; on that of folio 27, it is stated the Pope meditates "guerre sanguinosissime contra V. M. et tutti quegli che abbracciata la pura dottrina dell' Euāgelio, si sono dalle loro idolatrie, et corruttioni partiti, &c.;" and on folio 28 the writer proceeds—"Dopo di questo sarà bene che V. M. procuri di have (sic) una buona intelligentia, & firma leanza con li cātoni de Signori Suizzeri, con li Signori Grisoni, & con tutte le terre, & regni maritimi, & anco col Signor Duca di Prussia, quello della illustrissima famiglia Brandeburgense che altre volte, &c."

It is attributed to Balthassare Altieri, because it appears from Porta ("Historia Reformationis Ecclesiarum Raeticarum," lib. ii. p. 33) that he acted as agent for the English court at Venice, although no notice of this fact appears in our own historians.

"Balth. Altierus Venetus et ipse, quique Secretarii gradu apud Regis Anglorum ad Remp. Venet. Legatum functus erat, et omni Zelo cognitionem Evangelicæ religionis inter suos promovere allaboraverat, et cum Luthero Helvetiisque litterarum commercium coluerat, spem sibi faciebat Decretum isthoc ad Protestantium ordinum intercessionem, si non prorsus disjiciendum, saltem mitigandum fore," &c. And Gerdes ("Specimen Italiæ Reformatae," p. 171) says: "Certè, cum Venetiis versaretur, atque ibi Legato Regis Angliæ apud Venetos à secretis esset," &c. M'Crie ("Reformation in Italy") describes Altieri's exertions on behalf of the reformed in the territories of the Venetian Republic. "He not only procured letters in their favour from the Elector of Saxony and other German princes, for whom he acted as agent with the Venetian republic, but he undertook a journey into Switzerland, with the express view of persuading the Protestant cantons to exert their influence in the same cause. On his way home he attended an assembly of the deputies of the Grison confederation at Coire, where he pleaded the cause of his persecuted countrymen," &c.; but he nowhere alludes to his English mission. From Seckendorf, it appears that he was in frequent communication with Bullinger, and to him this copy is presented. These energetic movements of Altieri, described by M'Crie, are quite in accordance with the tenor of this work.—MS. note by Mr. C. J. Stewart.

Title and Prologue, 2 leaves. Folios 1-136. Table and printer's mark, 6 leaves.

This very rare volume is described by Brunet as printed at Coimbra, but Señor Salvá remarks that he does not know by what authority it is attributed to that place, as all the books printed by Luis Rodriguez were executed at Lisbon.

The title, as here given, differs in some slight particulars from M. Brunet's description, but there is no doubt, if the copy which he describes were compared with this, the two volumes would be found to be of the same edition.

— The Ancient, Famous and Honourable History of Amadis de Gaule. The Fovrth Booke, &c., A, 2 leaves; B—S 3 in sixes. Each part is separately dedicated by Anthony Munday, the translator, to Philip, Earl of Montgomery. On the first title is a large woodcut of a ship.

In the dedication to the fourth book, the translator promises the fifth and sixth. They never appeared with the name of Munday as the translator, but in 1652 the sixth book was published as translated by F. Kirkman, and in 1664 appeared the fifth book translated by J. [Johnson].

Munday, in a dedication of the second book of "Amadis," to Master Walter Borough, 4to. 1595, describes himself as "an unlearned soldier," and acknowledges his obligations to Borough and his father. He also says that he had followed his original "rightly, though not rhetorically."

Dedicated by the publisher to Sir Thomas Gressam [Gresham]. There are complimentary verses by T. H. [Thomas Hacket, the stationer?] and A. R. The book was licensed to Hacket in 1567, and in the Stationers' Register we find the name of the translator, which is not given in the book itself.

In this copy, from Mr. Inglis's collection, the leaf of Table is in facsimile. A copy is noticed in the Osterley Park Catalogue.

The copy, in the Biblioth. Nationale, from which Brunet gave his description, probably wanted the title page, as he has copied the title at the head of the text.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves. Folios 1-128.

The three letters from Mexico, relating to the progress of the Indians in the Christian faith, give an interest to this volume which it would not otherwise possess. One of them has been translated into French, and published by M. Ternaux-Compan in his "Recueil de pièces relatives à la conquête du Mexique." Paris, 1838.

AMARAL, MELCHIOR ESTACIO DO. *Tratado das batalhas, e successos do Galeão Sanctiago com os Olandeses na Ilha de Sancta Elena. Title, and pp. 1-103.

AMATOR forncius amator ineptus. Palladii. 1633. Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

AMERICA. An Old English chart or map of part of Canada, New England, Maryland, Virginia, Florida, and the upper portion of South America. Written on vellum, probably in the first half of the seventeenth century, and evidently the work of an English navigator.

— Histoire Naturelle des Indes: contenant les Arbres, Plantes, Fruits, Animaux, Coquillages, Reptiles, Insectes, Oyseaux, &c., qui se trouvent dans les Indes; représentés par des figures peintes en couleur naturelle; comme aussi les différentes manières de vivre des Indiens; savoir: La Chasse, la Pêche, &c., avec des explications historiques. MS. on paper. Folio. BL. M.

This very curious MS., executed in the 16th century, contains 200 drawings in water colours, of the natural history and ways of life, of the inhabitants of Peru and other parts of South America.

AMES, JOSEPH. Typographical Antiquities. Begun by Joseph Ames, with Additions by William Herbert. Three volumes. London. 1785-90. 4to. Large paper. Portrait and plates.

Joseph Haslewood's copy, with his additions in print and MS.

— Typographical Antiquities; or, the History of Printing in England, Scotland, and Ireland: containing Memoirs of our ancient Printers, and a Register of the Books printed by them. Begun by the late Joseph Ames. Considerably augmented by William Herbert, of Cheshunt, Herts. And now greatly enlarged, with copious Notes, and illustrated with appropriate engravings. . . . By the Rev. Thomas Frognall Dibdin. London. 1810-19. 4to. 4 vols. Large paper.

Only sixty-five copies were printed on this size.

AMES, RICHARD. The Search after Claret; or, a Visitation of the Vintners. A Poem in two Cantos. The Second Edition. London, Printed for E. Hawkins. 1691. 4to.

A—F, 2 leaves each.

The last leaf is occupied by the following advertisement: "If any vintner, wine-cooper, &c., between White-Chapel and Westminster-Abbey have some Tuns or Hogs heads of Old Rich Unadulterated Claret, and will sell it (as the Law directs) for six Pence a Quart: This is to give notice, that he shall have more Customers than half his Profession; and his House be as full from Morning to Night as a Conventicle, or Westminster Hall the first day of the Term."

— A Farther Search after Claret; or, A Second Visitation of the Vintners. A Poem. . . . London, Printed for E. Hawkins. 1691. 4to.

A—F, 2 leaves each.

— The Last Search after Claret in Southwark: or, a Visitation of the Vintners in the Mint, with the Debates of a Committee of that Profession—thither fled to avoid the Cruel Persecution of their Vnmerciful Creditors. A Poem. Dedicated to the most Ingenious Author of the Search after Wit, &c. London, Printed for E. Hawkins. 1691. 4to.

A—D, 2 leaves each.

The three preceding tracts were formerly in the collection of W. H. Ireland, whose autograph is on the title of each. The last was afterwards in the libraries of Mr. Daniel and Mr. G. Smith, the latter of whom, in a long MS. note, points out that the tract is not so rare as Mr. Daniel supposed or asserted. The first and second Searches are bound up with some other pieces of a similar character, all with Ireland's autograph.

AMES, RICHARD. The Bacchanalian Sessions; or the Contention of Liquors: with a Farewell to Wine. By the Author of the Search after Claret, &c. To which is added, A Satyrical Poem on one who had injur'd his Memory. By a Friend. London, Printed for E. Hawkins. 1693. 4to.

A—G, 2 leaves each. In verse.

Following the title is the satire, headed thus: "To the Memory of Mr. Richard Ames: Being a Satyr on a Bookseller, who injur'd him after his death." From this it appears that Ames was the author of the three Searches, and other works, including "Islington-wells," 1691. A list of some of these occurs at the end of the present piece. The bookseller was Hawkins, who is only mentioned, however, as "H—."

Ames's friend gives his epitaph, which says: "He lash't all the vintners, whom he knew but too well."

— Islington-wells; Or the Threepenny-Academy. A Poem. [Quot. from Persius, Sat. 5.] London, Printed for E. Richardson, 1691. 4to.

A—F, 2 leaves each.

This is probably the earliest production on the subject. It is of the most uncommon occurrence. It was reprinted in 1861.

AMIRAULT, MOYSE. La vie de François, Seigneur de la Nouë, dit Bras-de-fer, où sont contenuës quantité de choses memorables, qui servent à l'éclaircissement de celles qui se sont passées en France et au Pays-bas, depuis le commencement des troubles survenus pour la Religion, jusques à l'an 1591. A—D in the second alphabet, in fours.

This is in every respect the same as the "Neuw Thierbuch," printed in 1569. The difference in the number of leaves is caused by the woodcuts in the 1592 edition being in some instances printed on both sides of the page.

— Icones Novi Testamenti arte et industria singulari experimentes, tum Evangeliorum Dominicalium argumenta: tum alia quamplurima, in Evangelistarum et Apostolorum scriptis eximia. Francofurti ad Mænum. 1571. Oblong 4to. Woodcuts. R.

Ritson's copy, with his autograph. From Heber's collection. Editions of this tract were simultaneously published in Flemish, French, and Latin.

ANTIDOTE. An Antidote against Melancholy: Made up in Pills. Compounded of Witty Ballads, Jovial Songs, and Merry Catches.

"These witty Poems though sometime may seem to halt on crutches, Yet they'l all merrily please you for your charge, which not much is."

Printed by Mer. Mclancholious, to be sold in London and Westminster. 1661. 4to. G. M.

A, 2 leaves; B—L 2 in fours.

Mr. Collier, who has reprinted this tract entire, has pointed out in his "Bibliographical Catalogue," i. 25-7, its interesting and Shakesperian character. On the title-page is a curious copper-plate engraving in two compartments, which Mr. Collier describes, though it does not occur in his reproduction.

— An Antidote against Melancholy made up in Pills. Compounded of Witty Ballads, Jovial Songs, and Merry Catches. London, Printed for John Playford at his Shop in the Temple. 1669. Sm. 8vo. R.

A, 4 leaves; B—N 4 in eights. With the same copper-plate engraving on the title as in the edition of 1661.

This seems to be the second edition of this collection. The impression of 1669 is even scarcer than that of 1661.

ANTIPHONALE et Graduale ad usum Ecclesiæ Romanum. MS. of the 16th century on vellum. Written in Gothic characters, with the musical notation. 2 vols. 4to.

Vol. i. occupies folios 1-224. Vol. ii., folios 1-136. Within the cover is inscribed: "Hic liber pertinet ad Couētū Santis^{mæ} Annunciate Ventimeliū [Vintimiglia]."

ANTIPHONARIUM ad usum Ecclesiæ Sarisburiensis. MS. on vellum, of English execution, with numerous illuminated borders and historiated initials. Large folio.

It appears by some MS. notes and obits in the margin of the Calendar, that this book was in the Diocese of Norwich in the sixteenth century, and it probably belonged to Norwich Cathedral. A note in the handwriting of Canon Rock against the festival of the "Translation of St. Edward," points out that that festival was instituted in 1445, and consequently the MS. must have been written later than that date.

ANTITHESIS figurata vitæ Christi et Antichristi.

Pontificū mores: iste libellus habet.

Hæc lege : qui uerę pietatis amore moueris
 Hoc pius : & lecto codice : doctus eris.

[Sine loco aut anno.] 4to. Woodcuts. BLK. M.

The 26 woodcuts in this book are from designs by Lucas Cranach. They show, by way of contrast, the acts of Christ and the acts of different Popes. The book was probably printed about 1521, but no early edition of it is dated.

14 leaves.

The woodcuts in this edition are copied from those by Cranach. In the woodcut border to the title is the monogram , and the date 1521. Nagler, in his "Monogrammisten Lexicon," says : "Der Druckort des Buches ist nicht angegeben, Veesenmeyer (Literarische Blätter, 1803, iii. s. 235) vermuthet aber, es sei zu Erfurt bei Matthäus Maler erschienen." He is unable to give the name of the artist concealed under the monogram "F. B."

— Passional Christi vnd Antichristi [O. O. u. ƒ.] 4to. Woodcuts. GR. M.

This edition is identical with the preceding article, both as regards the cuts and the text, the same wood-blocks having been used. The only variation by which the edition can be distinguished is in the title, which is enclosed within a woodcut border taken from the Latin edition.

— Passional Christi vnd Antichristi. [O. O. u. ƒ.] [Beneath this title a large woodcut. At the end:]

 Das man dem sündfluss mich entzuckt
 Bin ich in Noes arch geruckt.
 * Ex archa Noe.*

4to. Woodcuts. BR. M.

This edition consists of 16 leaves. It contains four woodcuts which are not in the preceding editions; but on the other hand, the remainder of the engravings are but very rude and sometimes reversed copies of Lucas Cranach's designs—they were probably executed at Strasburg.

— Christi et Antichristi, videlicet Papæ, id est, exemplorum, factorum, vitæ & doctrinæ utriusque, ex aduerso collata comparatio, versibus et figuris venustissimis illustrata. Genevæ, apud Eust. Vignon. 1578. Sm. 8vo. Woodcuts.

A, 4 leaves; B—I in eights. In verse.

At the end of this copy are inserted 6 extra leaves of advertisements. At p. 43 occurs a poem, headed, "A Complaint against New England Professors."

APE-GENTLE-WOMAN (The); Or the Character of an Exchange-Wench. London, Printed for Francis Pye. 1675. 4to.

Four leaves.

— An Answer to the Character of an Exchange-Wench: or, A Vindication of an Exchange-Woman. London. Printed for Thomas Crockill. 1675. 4to.

Four leaves. In prose, with the exception of some lines at the end, addressed "To the Exchange Maids."

APIANUS, PETRUS. Cosmographicus liber Petri Apiani Mathematici studiose collectus. Excusum Landshutæ typis ac formulis D. Joannis Weyssenburgers: impensis Petri Apiani. 1524. 4to.

Title and preliminaries 4 leaves; pp. 1-103; appendix 3 leaves. There are revolving diagrams on pp. 17, 24, and 63, and on the verso of the first leaf of the appendix. The word "America" is on the volvelle of p. 63, and on the verso of p. 2 is the word "Ameri" inscribed on an island. At the end of the appendix are two separate woodcuts, lettered respectively "Soramen" and "Manubrium."

It will be seen that this collation differs materially from that given by Mr. HARRISSE.

APOCALYPSE. [APOCALYPSIS et Vita Sancti Johannis.] MS. on vellum of the end of the fourteenth, or very early in the fifteenth century; of Flemish execution. Folio.

This manuscript occupies 94 pages. The first 2 leaves contain 8 miniatures of the life of St. John. On the recto of the third is St. Jerome's preface to the Apocalypse, and the table of chapters; on the verso of the same leaf is a large painting of St. John in Patmos. On the fourth leaf begins the Apocalypse itself, which is illustrated by 79 miniatures, after which follow 5 others illustrating the life and death of St. John. The designs are the same as are found in the Block Book of the Apocalypse, though varied in detail. They appear, from the description given by Sotheby, "Principia Typogr.," vol. i. p. 37, to be identical with those in the MS. formerly belonging to Mr. Loscombe. There can be no doubt that the subject of the Apocalypse was a favourite one with artists and illuminators in the Middle Ages, and most of the MSS. which have come down to us appear to have had a common original, varied however, more or less, according to the taste of the copyist. It is quite possible that each edition of the Block Book Apocalypse was copied from a different MS., which would account for the variations of detail which occur in the different editions.

APOCALYPSE. [APOCALYPSE DE S. JEAN. Folio.]

MS. of the fourteenth century on 44 leaves of vellum, containing 70 miniatures of very fine and pure design, with burnished gold or diapered back-grounds. Though the MS. is in French, the miniatures have all the characteristics of English work of the period.

The book is rather a moral paraphrase of the Apocalypse than a translation. It appears to have belonged formerly to the Jesuits' College, at Paris.

APOCALYPSE. Cy commence la table des rubriques de ce pñt liure Intitule lapocalipse. Lequel liure traite et remonstre les vices de ce monde. Et en ramenāt fort a memoire et par figures et signiffications la venue et le regne de antecrist et sa fin, parle aussi fort de la fin du mōde, Et du iour du grāt Jugement. Folio. BR. M.

MS. of the fifteenth century, written upon vellum, and enriched with 78 fine large miniatures, several of them painted in "camaieu gris." Each page that contains a miniature has a richly illuminated border. The whole occupies 124 leaves.

It is a paraphrastic translation of the Apocalypse, with a copious gloss, or commentary. In the opinion of Mr. Johnson, of the Oxford Observatory, to whom it formerly belonged, this MS. was written in England; but though, as shown by the coat of arms on the first page, it was executed for Margaret of York, sister of Edward IV., who married Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, in 1468, the miniatures are certainly not of English execution, but were more probably painted in French Flanders. Mr. Johnson appears to have grounded his opinion partly on the fact that at the end of the book are two chapters on St. Edmund, one relating a miracle that happened to him, and the other giving an account of his martyrdom. The former is sufficiently curious to be worth printing.

"Cy sensieult vng moult bel miracle de monseignr saint iehan leuageliste. This volume was acquired at the sale of Mr. Johnson's MSS. It was formerly in the collection of Prince Golownin. It is described by Dr. Waagen, "Treasures of Art in Great Britain," vol. iii. p. 113.

APOCALYPSE. APOCALYPSIS SANCTI JOHANNIS. Block book of the fifteenth century. 4to.

This volume consists of 48 large woodcuts, forming 24 sheets of 2 leaves each. The copy is quite complete, and in fine preservation, coloured according to the taste of the period.

This is the edition described by Sotheby in his "Principia Typographica," vol. i. p. 21, from a copy in Earl Spencer's library. It is classed by him as the fourth edition, and by Heineken as the second. In the absence of any sufficient data to go by, however, the order of the different editions can be nothing more than conjectural.

Gathered into English by Lawrence Twine Gentleman. Imprinted at London by Valentine Simmes for the Widow Newman. [About 1595.] 4to. Black letter.

A—M 2 in fours.

As Thomas Newman, the husband of the widow Newman, seems to have printed nothing after 1593, it may be presumed that this volume appeared in 1594 or 1595. It was from this copy that it was reprinted, in Mr. Collier's "Shakespeare's Library," as an illustration of the play of Pericles.

From the libraries of Mr. Utterson and Mr. Corser.

“For particulars relative to this little volume and its rarity, see the preface to Pericles, Prince of Tyre, in Johnson and Steevens’s Shakespeare, 1793, where Mr. Malone avows he had never seen the book.”—MS. note by Mr. Utterson. Malone, however, succeeded afterwards in obtaining a copy, though of the later edition of 1607; which, like the edition described above, appears to survive only in a single copy, while of the original impression, as licensed in 1576, there is at present no copy known.

In two columns. With an engraved title by Cockson, and plates. ¶, 8 leaves; A—P in sixes; Q, 4 leaves; R—Nn in sixes; Oo, 4 leaves, the last with the colophon.

First edition. In this copy the impressions of the engraved title, with the portrait of the author and his dog, and of the other engravings, are most brilliant. In the editions of 1607 and 1634 the plates are much worn, and at the best very unequal.

Dedicated to Queen Elizabeth in a short epistle, which is followed by "A Preface, or rather a Briefe Apologie of Poetrie, and of the Author and translator of this Poem." This fills 13 pages.

Stanzas 1-50 of Book 32 were done by Sir John's brother, Francis Harington.

A—P 2 in fours. The only introductory matter is the Argument of the whole work, and a Preface, in which Markham observes that "the vertuous, with their owne, hauing alwaies regard to an others good, do painfully bestow houres, daies, and yeares, to make that easie to others, which they with great labour have obtained." A strange statement when we find that he had wrongly appropriated a labour, of which the credit belonged to Robert Tofte. Tofte claims the book, and exposes the literary fraud in his version of Varchi's "Blazon of Jealousy," 1615, a work furnished, like the present, with curious and learned notes.

— [Liber qui dicitur secretum secretorum, vel liber de regimine regum et principum vel dominorum, vel epistolæ Aristotelis ad alexandrum discipulum suum]. MS. of the fifteenth century on vellum, occupying 79 folios. 4to.

This title is not found in the MS., but is given from the earliest printed edition quoted by Panzer. The MS. begins with "De probemio cuiusdam doctoris in commendacione," which is the dedication described by Brunet as found in the printed edition addressed by "Philippus Clericus ad Guidonem de Valentia Tripolitanum Episcopum," at whose request, he says, he had translated the book from the Arabic. The work must have been an extremely popular one in the Middle Ages, and translations of it into different languages were made at a very early period. It is well known as a spurious mediæval production.

The only copy known, from the Wolfreton and Daniel sales. On the back of the title-page is an address "To the Reader as much health as to myselfe," to which there is no signature, but "Adew, and read true." This volume contains a series of humorous anecdotes of six noted fools: Jack Oates (the flat fool), Jemmy Camber (the fat fool), Leonard (the lean fool), Jack Miller (the clean fool), Will. Sommers (the merry fool), and John of the Hospital (the very fool). They are told somewhat in the manner of the older jest-books, in prose, with an occasional intermixture of poetical description.

The book is in the finest possible state, with many uncut leaves.

— [A Nest of Ninnies, Simply of themselves without compound. Stultorum plena sunt omnia. By Robert Armin. London. Printed by T. E. for Iohn Deane. 1608.] 4to. Black letter.

A—G in fours. In prose and verse.

This is in substance the same work as the preceding, but with so many alterations that it almost deserves to be regarded as distinct from it. Not only is the publication here avowedly from the pen of the celebrated actor Armin, but the title is changed, and for the address to the Reader we find substituted one "To the youthfull and richly compleat in all good gifts and graces, the generous Gentlemen of Oxenford, Cambridge, and the Innes of Court," which bears the author's name at beginning and end, but conveys no information of consequence. The headings to the sections are omitted; but much new matter is introduced, rendering this impression of 1608 the more valuable of the two. As it has been reprinted entire for the Shakespeare Society, it is unnecessary to do more than point out the important variations between the two books, the earlier one being unknown to the editor of the modern re-issue.

Of the "Nest of Ninnies," only one perfect copy is on record, which is in the Malone collection. The present, from Caldecott's and Daniel's libraries, wants the title-page.

ARMIN, ROBERT. The History of the two Maids of More-clacke, with the life and simple maner of Iohn in the Hospitall. Played by the Children of the Kings Maiesties Reuels. Written by Robert Armin, seruant to the Kings most excellent Maiestie. London, Printed by N. O. for Thomas Archer, and is to be sold at his shop in Popes-head Pallace, 1609. 4to. R. M.

Armin introduced some account of John of the Hospital into his "Foole upon Foole," 1605. In the present dramatic production John is one of the dramatis personæ, and the part was taken, it appears, by Armin himself. The piece is written in prose and blank verse, and there is no division into acts and scenes. On the title is a woodcut of Armin, dressed in character.

A—H 2 in fours. In verse.

Dedicated to Viscount Haddington and his Lady, Lady Elizabeth Fitz-water. The following passage from this address is an example of the style:—"There is not in the world as it is wisht; but yet the worth of the luster is knowne: he hath shrowded (Madame) vnder the glister of your Starre, a Poeticall light, which shines remayned in Sussex many yeares; and I beseech God and your noble Father (the Earle) he may liue and die beloued so still. It is (if I speake darkely) that penpleading Poet (graue for yeares and knowledge) Maister Mathew Roiden—"

The poem is divided into nine cantos, each accompanied by an argument, and is written in alternate rhyme. There is a reprint in facsimile.

Mr. Daniel's copy, with the title inlaid, but otherwise in fine state.

[Sans lieu.] 1710. Sm. 8vo.

Though this is undoubtedly a volume of great rarity, it cannot now be considered so rare as it was thought to be when the catalogue of Mr. Grenville's library was compiled. It is there said that not more than four or five copies were known to exist, and that those were not all complete. This copy has the same dedication as that in the Grenville Library.

ARNOLD, RICHARD. [Arnold's Chronicle, or the Customs of London.] [Antwerp, by John of Doesborch, 1503.] Folio. Black letter. Printed in two columns. BR. M.

A, 4 leaves, A i blank; A, 8 leaves; B, 4 leaves; C—E in eights; F—R in sixes; C, 1 leaf; C 1, 1 leaf; S—V 5 in sixes. The list of sheriffs and the chronicle are carried down to 18 Hen. VII. The eleven preliminary leaves are unnumbered, but the rest of the volume is paged i.—cxviii., the numerals being placed at the bottom of the first column of each recto. The ballad of the "Nutbrown Maid," of which no early separate edition is at present known, occupies folios 75—77.

In the present copy, the three introductory leaves are in facsimile.

Mr. Corser's copy. There is no title-page, but at the top of the left-hand column, on A ii recto, occurs: "In this boke is contained the names of the baylyfs custose mayers and sherefs of y^e cyte of london from the tyme of kynge Richard the fyrst & also the artycles of the Chartour & lybartyes of the same Cyte. And of the chartour and lybartyes of England with other dyuers maters good and necessary for euery cytezen to vnderstand and knowe. Whiche ben shewed in chapyters aftyr the fourme of this kalendyr folowynge."

A full account of the very varied contents is given in Herbert's "Ames," vol. iii. pp. 1746-51.

See introd. to Mr. Wright's reprint of the "Nutbrown Maid," 1836. Considerable differences exist between the text of the poem as it stands in the first and second impressions of Arnold.

The list of sheriffs in this second edition is carried down to 12 Henry VIII., and the volume was in all probability printed in 1521. According to "Ames" there was also a 4to. edition with woodcuts, a fragment of it being in Mr. Tutet's possession. See Herbert's "Ames," vol. iii. p. 1815.

ARS MEMORANDI notabilis \bar{p} figuras ewangelistarū. [Sine ullâ notâ.] Folio.

A block-book consisting of 30 leaves printed on one side only, an equal number of pages being devoted to text and figures. Brunet, quoting from Heineken, says that there are two editions of this work, and proceeds to point out the way in which they may be distinguished, namely, that in the lines 17-18 of page 1 in the first edition we read, "tolle grabactum tuum et ambula," while in the second edition it runs, "tolle grabatum tuum et vade," but in the copy before us the reading is "tolle grabatum tuum et ambula," the word "grabactum" having evidently been coined simply by a hasty reading of the text, and it must be allowed that the letters are so rudely cut that such a mistake might easily occur. As to the number of editions, it is worthy of notice that in the rich collection of block-books in the Royal Library at Munich, are comprised no less than four copies of this volume, three of which read "vade" at line 18, and one reads "ambula;" but what is more important is that every one of these four copies displays other and more important variations, showing that there must have been at least four editions.

This makes it worth while to give such a description of the present volume as may serve to identify it:—

- P. 1, l. 6, "at impractica experietur. Ewangeliiū."
- P. 2, Woodcut with legend "Prima \bar{y} go Iohannis."
- P. 3, l. 4, "ubi dixit ihesus ascendite."
- P. 4, Woodcut with legend "Imago Johānis sc̄da."

The text is cut in large and very rude characters, with dragon ornaments to fill up lines occasionally, and the whole is printed with a pale brown ink. It is, so far as can be judged from Heineken, the edition which he describes as the first. The woodcuts in this copy are coloured.

ARS MEMORANDI. See Braudt.

ARS MORIENDI. [Sine loco aut anno.] Folio.

This is usually accounted the second xylographic edition of the Ars Moriendi. It consists of 24 leaves printed on one side only. It contains 13 pages of text and eleven woodcuts, which occur on the 3rd, 5th, 7th, 9th, 11th, 13th, 15th, 17th, 19th, 21st, and 23rd pages. They are identical in design with those in the first edition, the only perfect copy of which was formerly in the Weigel collection, and is now in the British Museum, and are second only to them in artistic merit and execution. The number of lines varies on each page of the text. They are as follows (including headline):—P. 1, 31 lines; p. 2, 28 lines; p. 4, 26 lines; p. 6, 30 lines; p. 8, 29 lines; p. 10, 31 lines; p. 12, 28 lines; p. 14, 35 lines; p. 16, 24 lines; p. 18, 30 lines; p. 20, 23 lines; p. 22, 32 lines; p. 24, 31 lines.

The whole of the illustrations are in perfectly pure uncoloured state.

— Questa operetta tracta dellarte del ben morire cioe in gratia di Dio. Impressum Venetiis per J. B. Scssa. [s. a.] 4to. Black letter. BR. M.

Of the 13 woodcuts which illustrate this volume, 12 are copied from the block-book entitled "Ars Moriendi." It is, probably, the latest book in which these cuts appeared. From the Yemeniz collection.

— La historia del iudicio del figliolo de dio Iesu christo. [sens' alcuna data]. 4to. R.

This volume consists of 20 leaves, and contains nine very rude wood-engravings the full size of the page, seven of which are after the designs in the block-book of the "Ars Moriendi." From the Heber and Yemeniz collections.

— A series of thirteen engravings on copper, following the general design of the Block-book of the Ars Moriendi, but copied from the series attributed to the Master of 1466 or one of his followers. Brilliant impressions. Mounted in a 4to. volume. R. M.

All these engravings, except the first and the thirteenth, have the monogram M. Z. A description of them will be found in Passavant, "Le Peintre Graveur," vol. ii. p. 172-3. He speaks of them as "copies des gravures de l'école du maître de 1466 dans le même sens que l'original, mais exécutées avec fort peu d'habilité." The initials are said both by Nagler and Passavant to belong to an unknown artist. According to Passavant the set in the British Museum has a text in German evidently belonging to the 16th century, and, he says, "Un second exemplaire, probablement de la même édition, se conserve dans le Musée de Berlin." The set here described is without text, and the impressions clearly belong to the 15th century.

ARSENIUS. Præclara dicta Philosophorum, Imperatorum, Oratorumque, et Poetarum, ab Arsenio Archiepiscopo Monembasiæ collecta [græcè]. Dialogus studiosi bibliopolæ et libri: Porphyrius de plagiis philosophorum et rhetorum, etc. Joannis Tzetæ versus [græcè]. [Absque notâ]. 8vo. O.M.

This book being dedicated to Leo X. it was obviously printed before the death of that pontiff, which occurred in 1521. The types are identical with those used in the "Questiones Homericæ" of Porphyry printed at Rome in 1518.

ART DE BIEN VIVRE. Le liure intitule lart de bien viure ; et de bien mourir.

A to X in eights ; Y, 4 leaves.

The woodcuts in this work are copied from Verard's edition of 1492, some of which in their turn had been taken from the block-book of the "Ars Moriendi," or a copy from it. Though the block-book may still be considered as the groundwork of this volume, the text is, of course, quite different and more ample, and the woodcuts much more numerous.

ARTHUR OF LITTLE BRITAIN. The History of the Valiant Knight, Arthur of Little Britain. A Romance of Chivalry.

Originally Translated from the French by John Bouchier, Lord Berners. A New Edition : With a Series of Plates, from illuminated drawings contained in a valuable MS. of the Original Romance. London . . . 1814. 4to. Large paper.

This copy contains a double set of the plates, one plain and the other coloured in imitation of the original drawings. Only 25 copies were so published, on large paper. The editor of the volume was Mr. E. V. Utterson.

It was reprinted from the edition printed by Robert Redborne in the 16th century without date. The copy, formerly in the Roxburgh collection, from which Mr. Utterson printed his edition, was imperfect, but the lacunæ were supplied from Lord Spencer's copy, the only perfect one known. About 1856 an edition in 4to., printed by T. East, was sold by auction, but it was much damaged and imperfect.

Title, 1 leaf; dedication by Margaret Ascham to Sir William Cecil, 1 leaf; B—T in fours, sign. A omitted.

This impression, according to Herbert, is a paginary reprint of that of 1570. The work was composed by Ascham in 1564 at the request of his friend Sir Richard Sackville, chiefly for the use of Sir Richard's grandson, Robert Sackville. Ascham did not live to see his performance in print.

In the preface Ashmole refers to his intention, reluctantly abandoned in consequence of vexatious law-suits, of publishing a second part of his “Theatrum Chemicum,” and states that the immediate cause of the committal of the present book to type was the advertisement of an edition surreptitiously prepared by Eugenius Theodidactus [John Heydon] from an incorrect and spurious MS., the title to which was to have been “The Wise Man’s Crown, or Rosicrucian Physick.” A work by John Heydon, called “A New Method of Rosicrucian Physick,” was printed in 1658. 4to.

ASKEW. ¶ The first examination of the worthy seruaunt of God, Maistres Anne Askew, y^e yonger daughter of Sir William Askew Knight of Lincolneshyre, lately martired in Smithfeeld, by the Romish vpholders. Anne Askew stood fast by this veritie of God to the end. [On sig. B v. is a second title.] ¶ The lattre examination of the worthy seruaunte of God &c., as above. [On the verso of the last leaf.] ¶ Thus endeth the latter conflicte of Anne askew, lately done to death by the Romish popes malicious remnaunt, and now cannonised in the precious bloud of the Lord Jesus Christ. [No place or date.] Sm. 8vo. Black letter. BL. M.

A—D in fours, the last leaf blank. This has every appearance of being an earlier impression of Anne Askew's examinations than that printed at Marpurg in 1546 with Bishop Bale's annotations. It is undescribed by Ames or other bibliographers. At the back of the title we find the following notice: "Here hast thou (genetle (sic) reader) the two Examinaciōs of Anne Askewe which she wrote with her owne hand, at the instaunt desyre of certain faythful men and women by the whyche (if thou marke dyligently the comunicaciōs both of her and her examiners) thou mayst, easely proue the spirites as S. John the Apostle geueth you counsell. i. John iiiii. ¶ than shalte y^e know the tree by the frute ¶ the ma by his worke. ¶ Anne Askew."

It has every appearance of having been printed in England, and was probably used by Bale for his Marpurg edition, which, however, differs from it in some respects.

ASPRUCK, F. A series of 13 engravings representing Christ and his Apostles. Beneath the first engraving is the following inscription:—

“ Adm. Reuer. in Chrō. Patri ac D. D. Antonio celeberr. Monaster ad S. S. Crucem Aug. Vind. Præpo^o. digniss^o. I^o Inful^o dnō suo clem^l. Has Chrī Opt. max & S. S. Apostol. effig. nouo hoc, in ære, typi genere effor. M^{os} obseru. ergo DDⁱ. Franciscus Aspruck. B. 1601.”

Mounted in a sm. folio volume. BR. M.

This remarkable and most rare series of engravings is quoted by M. Duplessis in his “ Histoire de la gravure en France,” as throwing a new light on the origin of engraving in mezzotinto, and Nagler, in his valuable work, “ Die Monogrammisten,” vol. i. No. 285, affirms that the general treatment is such as to entitle the prints to be considered as incunabula of the mezzotinto process, having their origin at a time when Ludwig von Siegen was not yet born. “ While maintaining,” says Nagler, “ that Aspruck was the inventor of the mezzotinto and chalk manner, we would not detract from the credit of Von Siegen and Prince Rupert, but admit as before, that the results of these two art amateurs were complete, while Aspruck applied his method to secondary things alone, allowing the graver to have the upper hand.”

The engravings measure $4\frac{9}{16}$ in. by $2\frac{3}{4}$ in.

ASSAULT DE PARADIS. Lassault de paradiz du cheualier spūel. [Paris par Antoine Verard. s. d.] Sm. 8vo. Black letter. R. M.

This piece appears to be undescribed by Brunet. The title as given above is in large Gothic characters, and seems to be printed from a wood-block. On the reverse is a woodcut which occupies the whole page. The text begins on p. 2, beneath a woodcut: “ Cy commence le liure intitule Lassault de Paradis & des armeures du cheualier espirituel cōpose par ung religieux celestin Lan M.CCCC.LXV. le iour des innocens.” The whole consists of 28 leaves; a—d 4 in eights.

A—G in fours, title on A 2.

The editor of this, as well as of a preceding impression, was John Powell, who subscribes an address to Magistrates and others, and a Preface to the Reader.

Newly corrected and enlarged . . . London, Printed by William Stansby. 1630. 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts.

A—G in fours, title on A 2.

The Address to all Magistrates and Officers, and that to the Reader, are signed by John Powell, Gentleman, the editor of earlier impressions of the same work, who takes credit for the observance of minute accuracy in his figures, and mentions the rise in prices which had occurred since the old assize book appeared. The work continued to be in request down to the middle of the last century. The edition found among Pepys's books at Cambridge, described in Hazlitt's "Collections and Notes," 1876, Additions, seems to be the earliest edition. It is attributed to 1527-8, but has no actual note of year. The present and other later impressions were considerably enlarged.

This volume has been ascribed, but without authority, to George Wither, who is one of the jurors. It is a curious production, somewhat on the plan of Suckling's "Session of the Poets," and includes notices of several of the early English writers. At p. 12 there is a reference to Wither's "Abuses Stript and Whipt."

By Richard Atkyns, Esq; . . . London: Printed by John Streater, for the Author. MDCLXIV. 4to. R. M.

B—E in fours, besides the title and a frontispiece by Loggan with four portraits.

The Strawberry-hill copy, with Horace Walpole's book-plate. Atkyns was an advocate of the long since exploded theory, that Corsellis established a press at Oxford in 1468.

ATKYNS, SIR ROBERT. The Ancient and Present State of Glostershire. By Sir Robert Atkyns. London: Printed by W. Bowyer for Robert Gosling. . . . 1712. Folio. PIGSKIN.

Portrait of the Author, and other engravings.

Dr. Bliss's copy, with some MS. memoranda in his handwriting. He observes, "This is probably the rarest of the County Histories from the circumstance of a fire taking place at Bowyer's, the printer's, on the night of the 29th of January, 1712-13, soon after the work was compleat, and when very few copies had been delivered.

. . . The present copy is perfectly clean and free from stain, and is the best I have yet seen." Dr. Bliss has added a transcript of the MS. notes found in Mr. Goodwyn's copy, now in the Bodleian.

The work contains 74 plates (including the portrait, 8 leaves of arms, and a map of the county).

ATLAS. De Zee-Atlas ofte water-wereld waer in verthoont werden alle de Zee-kusten van het bekende des Aerd-bodems. Amsterdam, by Pieter Goos. 1669. Folio. Maps.

AUBERT, ESPRIT. Les Marguerites poetiques, tirées des plus fameux poètes françois, tant anciens que modernes, & Reduites en forme de lieux communs & selon l'ordre Alphabetique, nouvellement recueillies et mises en lumière par Esprit Aubert. Avec un Indice tres-ample de chasque matière. A Lyon par Barthelemy Ancelin, Imprimeur ordinaire du Roy. 1613. 4to.

Engraved title by L. Gaultier, in which are contained portraits of Ronsard and Du Bartas. Dedication and verses addressed to the author. 3 leaves. Sigs. A—Gggg in eights (except Kkk, which has only 4 leaves); Hhhh—Llll in fours. The last leaf bears the "Priuilege du Roy."

AUBREY, JOHN, F.R.S. The Natural History and Antiquities of the County of Surrey, begun in the year 1673 . . . and continued to the present Time. Illustrated with proper Sculptures. In Five volumes. London . . . M.DCC.XIX. 8vo. Large paper.

With a portrait of Aubrey. In old English calf binding.

— Miscellanies, upon the following Subjects. I. Day-Fatality. II. Local-Fatality. III. Ostenta. . . . The Second Edition, with large Additions. To which is prefixed some Account of his Life. London: . . . MDCCXXI. 8vo.

Pp. 236 + xiv., besides the title and frontispiece.

This is the most popular of Aubrey's works, and has passed through several impressions.

AUDELEY, LADY ELEANOR. Amend Amend; Gods Kingdome is at hand: Amen, Amen. The Proclamation: Mene, mene. . . . First Printed at Amsterdam: 1633. April; 1643. 4to.

A—B in fours. In verse.

This is one of the strange rhapsodies of Lady Eleanor Audeley, who married Sir John Davies, the poet and lawyer, but long survived him. Many of her productions, some in prose, others in verse, are in the British Museum.

— Strange and Wonderfull Prophecies by the Lady Eleanor Audeley; who is yet alive, and lodgeth in White-Hall. Which shee prophesied sixteen yeeres agoe, and had them printed in Holland, and there presented the said Prophecies to the Prince Elector; for which she was imprisoned seven yeeres here in England by the late King and his Majesties Councill: First, she was put into the Gate-house, then into Bedlam, and afterwards into the Tower of London. . . . London Printed for Robert Ibbitson in Smithfield near the Queens head Tavern. 1649. 4to.

Four leaves. With woodcut at the end and on the title.

AUERSWALD, FABIAN VON. Ringer Kunst; fünff vnd achtzig stücke, zu ehren Kurfürstlichen gnaden zu Sachsen &c. zugericht. Gedruckt zu Wittemberg durch Hans Lufft. 1539. Folio.

A—H in sixes. The last leaf blank. Brunet says that the woodcuts are "attributed" to Lucas Cranach, but as one of them bears his well-known mark of a winged dragon, there can be no doubt that they are his work. They represent the author, whose portrait is on the third leaf, in the various attitudes of wrestling.

AUGUSTINUS, AURELIUS. Confessionum libri XIII. MS. on vellum, of the fourteenth century. The initial on the first page contains a figure of S. Augustine seated in his episcopal robes, with hands raised in attitude of prayer. The style of this and the other illuminated letters would certainly appear to be as early as the middle of the fourteenth century. Folio. BR. M.

— Libri XIII. Confessionum ad 3 MSS. exemp. emendati. Opera et Studio R. P. H. Sommalii. Lugduni, apud Danielem Elzevirium. 1675. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

[Colophon:] Hoc Conradus opus Suueynheym ordine miro Arnoldusq. simul pannarts una ede colendi Gente theotonica: rome expediere sodales. In domo Petri de Maximo. M.CCCC.LXVIII. Folio.

This noble volume is probably unique for the style of the binding, which certainly could not be surpassed in beauty of design and execution, and which is fortunately as fresh and perfect in condition as though it had come from the binders' hands but yesterday. It was the dedication copy presented to Cardinal de' Medici, whose arms are emblazoned in the centre of the binding, on the gauffered edges, and on the first page of the text. The material of the binding is probably calf, but it is so entirely covered with gilding as to be effectually hidden. On this is tooled in low relief with marvellous skill, an intertwined pattern of great beauty, the interstices being dotted "au mille points," and the arms most skilfully painted in a sunk oval centre. The back is treated in a similar manner. The edges are gauffered and gilt, the pattern on them being filled in with red. The first page of text is decorated with a half border of chaste design in gold and colours, and the initials are very skilfully illuminated throughout. The interior condition of the book is no less perfect than the binding, the paper being of almost dazzling whiteness. In looking on this splendid volume one feels carried back to the fifteenth century, for it is difficult to realize the fact that four hundred years have passed since it was printed and bound, and one can feel with a former possessor, who described it as "cet adorable volume." Inside the cover is a book-plate with the inscription, "Ad Bibliothecam Jo. Jac. Reinhardi," and at the back of the first leaf of text is pasted a small ticket with the name of a later possessor, "Madame Joséphine Lefèvre." Hain, 2047.

AUGUSTINUS, AURELIUS. De Arte predicandi. [Sine loco aut anno.] Folio. BR. M.

This edition is believed to have been printed at Strasburg by Mentelin about 1466.

Brunet indicates two editions, both with Mentelin's name in the preface, but distinguishes them by the one beginning on the recto, and the other on the verso of the first leaf. This begins on the verso. From an inscription on the fly leaf, it appears to be the copy mentioned by Brunet as sold in Panzer's collection. Hain, 1956.

— De Vita Christiana. Incip. plogus beati Augustini de vita xp̄iana. [Sine loco aut anno.] 4to. BR. M.

On the last leaf is the printer's mark used by Fust and Schoeffer. The types are the same as those employed in the Durandus of 1459. It consists of 17 leaves, with 28 lines to the page. Hain, 2093.

— Liber de singularitate clericorum. Per me Olricū zel de hanau clericū diocess. Moguntincū. Anno 7ē. sexagesimo septimo. [1467.] 4to. BR. M.

The second book with a date printed at Cologne, the tract of St. Chrysostom "Super Psalmo Quinquagesimo" having preceded it by one year. It consists of 33 leaves, with 27 lines to the page. Hain, 2082.

— Liber de mirabilibus sacre scripture. [Sine ullâ notâ.] Folio. BR. M.

This volume is attributed to the press of Nicolas Ketelaer and Gerard de Leempt of Utrecht, about 1473, on the excellent authority of Hain, and this attribution is borne out by the still higher authority of Dr. Campbell; but Panzer does not appear to have known the book at all. It consists of 54 leaves, with 30 lines to the page. Campbell, 203.

— Meditationes [et opuscula varia.] Venctiis per Octavianum Scotum. 1483. 4to. R. M.

— Tractatus de fuga mulierum, de continentia, de contemptu mundi, de communi vita clericorum. [Sine loco aut anno.] 4to.

This piece is printed in a rude semi-Gothic character, and is attributed by Hain to the press of Peter Drach of Spire. It consists of 28 leaves, with 26 lines to the page. Hain, 1961.

— The Glasse of Vaine-glorie. Translated out of S. Augustine by W. P. Doctor of the lawes. With sundry Christian Praiers added thereunto. London. Printed by John Windet, dwelling by Paulcs Wharfe, at the signe of the Crosse Keyes. 1600. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. Woodcuts.

A—I in twelves. Printed within woodcut borders. In prose and verse.

Mr. Corser's copy, with the autograph of Thomas Park on the title. No other seems to be known of this impression.

AUMALE, DUKE OF. Histoire des Princes de Condé pendant les XVI^e et XVII^e Siècles. Paris. 1863-4. 2 vols. 8vo. Portraits.

London, Printed by F. K. for Robert Allot and Henry Seile. 1629. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

First title-page, &c., 3 leaves, title on A 2; then A (with a second title) to K 4 in eights.

Dr. Bliss's copy. The author was of Lostwithiel, in Cornwall, and was the father of the person upon whom the wits wrote "Naps upon Parnassus," 1658. Dr. Bliss has noted on the flyleaf: "Not in the Bodleian Catalogue, 1843, nor in Mr. Douce's collection. See a brief account of the author in Ath. Oxon. ii., 499." In a poetical dedication, or "Advertisement," as he calls it, "To my ever Honovred Friends, those most refined Wits and faouurers of most exquisite learning, Mr. M. Drayton, Mr. Will. Browne, and my ingenious Kinsman, Mr. Andrew Pollexfen," Austin enters into some curious particulars connected with the publication of his book, as well as the difficulties which he had to surmount.

The work is divided into two books, the second having a separate title and a new dedication to Mr. John Robarts, son and heir to Lord Robarts, Baron of Truro, &c. See "Epistolæ Ho-elianæ," edit. 1754, p. 211.

AUSTIN, SAMUEL, the Younger. Naps upon Parnassus. A Sleepy Muse nipt and pincht, though not awakened. Such Voluntary and Jovial Copies of Verses, as were lately receiv'd from some of the Wits of the Universities, in a Frolick, dedicated to Gondibert's Mistress by Captain Jones and others. Whereunto is added for Demonstration of the Authors prosaick Excellency's, his Epistle to one of the Universities, with the Answer; together with two Satyrical Characters of his Own, of a Temporizer, and an Antiquary, with Marginal Notes by a Friend to the Reader. Vide Jones his Legend, Drink Sack and Gunpowder, and so fall to 't. Aliquando bonus dormitat Homerus. London, Printed by express Order from the Wits, for N. Brook, at the Angel in Cornhill. 1658. Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

A—H 3 in eights, the last 11 leaves occupied by a catalogue of books.

This volume is a collection of lampoons on the poetical attempts of S. Austin the younger, which he had shown to his acquaintance in MS.

The allusions found in it are very curious. One of the satirists of Austin's poetry says:—

“To thee compared our English Poets all stop,
And veil their Bonnets, even Shakespear's Falstop,” and a marginal note adds, “It should have been Falstaff, if the rhyme had permitted it.”

A further account of the book will be found in the “Bibl. Anglo-Poetica,” No. 500.

AUSTIN, WILLIAM. Hæc Homo, Wherein the Excellency of the Creation of Woman is described, By way of an Essay. By William Austin Esquire. London, Printed by Richard Olton for Ralph Mabb, and are to be sold by Charles Greene. 1637. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

Portrait of Mrs. Mary Griffith, and engraved title containing a portrait of the author, both by Glover, 2 leaves: printed title, 1 leaf; B—I 11 in twelves. There is no preliminary matter.

Mr. Corser's copy. This writer must not be confounded with W. Austin of Gray's-Inn. The author of “Hæc Homo” was of Lincoln's Inn.

AUTO GENERAL DE LA FE: exaltacion de su estandarte catolico: triunfo de su verdad evangelica: contra la supersticion sacrilega, la piedad heretica, y la infiel apostasia; sobre quien destilo piedades, fulmino castigos, la indulgente oliva, el encendido azero del santo tribunal de la Inquisicion de Granada lunes treinta de Mayo, dia de el . . . A—C in eights, last 2 leaves blank. In verse and prose.

This tract is bound up with "A Recantation of famous Pasquin of Rome," 1570. The volume has passed through the libraries of Mr. Bindley, Mr. Heber, Mr. Jolley, and Mr. Corser. See "Bibl. Heber," Part 4, No. 43, and Brydges's "British Bibliographer," ii. 288. No other copy of either seems to be known.

AVELLANEDA, ALONSO FERNANDEZ DE. Segundo tomo del ingenioso hidalgo Don Quixote de la Mancha, que contiene su tercera salida : y es la quinta parte de sus auenturas. Con licencia. En Taragona en casa de Felipe Roberto. 1614. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves. A—Nn 7 in eights.

This pretended second part of Don Quixote was published a year before Cervantes brought out the second part of his book. The name of Avellaneda is accounted merely a pseudonym.

AVELLANEDA Y HARO, GARCIA DE. Question moral si el Chocolate quebranta el ayuno eclesiastico. En Madrid. 1636. 4to.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves ; folios 1—122 ; index, 12 leaves.

In this volume it is treated at considerable length whether it is a mortal sin for ecclesiastics to drink chocolate before celebrating the mass.

AVENDAÑO. Aviso de Caçadores y de Caça por Pedro Nuñez de Avendaño. Imp̄sso en . . . Alcalá de Henares, En casa de Joan de Brocar á xviii. dias del mes de Deseiẽbre. 1543. 4to. Black letter.

Four preliminary leaves, 39 of text, and 1 for the colophon. Brunet gives by mistake only 29 leaves of text. Any early books on field sports in the Spanish language are of extreme rarity. This volume belonged successively to Mr. Heber and Mr. Ford.

AVERY, SAMUEL. The Susquehannah Controversy Examined. The Material Objections against the Connecticut title or claim answered, with some general reasoning on the whole matter. A, 8 leaves; B, 9 leaves, or 34 pages altogether.

Dedicated (in verse) to Sir Robert Stapleton. In Brydges's "Restituta" this volume is described as containing 16 leaves, and in Lowndes, 26 pages, or 13 leaves.

— Divine, and Moral Speculations in Metrical Numbers, Upon Various subjects. By Doctor R. Aylet, one of the Masters of the High Court of Chancery. [Quot. from Psalm 3.] London, Printed for Abel Roper, at the Sun against St. Dunstons Church in Fleetstreet. 1654. 8vo. Portrait by T. Cross.

Title, 1 leaf; portrait, 1 leaf; table of the poems, 1 leaf; dedication to the Marquis of Dorchester, and verses by R. Beaumont, 2 leaves; verses by James Howell and W. Martin, 1 leaf; then B—R 4 in eights; no signatures S—Z; Aa—Hh 4 in eights; Ii—Tt in eights; a new title and signatures with "A Wife not Ready Made," &c., as described above.

This is a collected edition of what had appeared separately at intervals between 1621 and 1653, the date, at least, of the only known impression of the "Wife not Ready Made." All the copies of the last-named poem have on the title "second edition," and it seems likely that the original edition was published at a much earlier period, and reprinted to accompany this collection of the author's pieces.

Of the period of Aylet's decease we appear to have no exact information, but he was living on the 3rd of June, 1653, in which year he subscribed as a Master in Chancery an indenture between the town of Bodmin and Lord Mohun. See Wallis's "Bodmin Register," p. 333.

In several bibliographical works, a volume, of which a supposed unique copy is in Mr. Christie-Miller's library at Britwell, is ascribed to Richard Argall. It is the first edition, in fact, of Aylet's "Song of Solomon," and "Bride's Ornaments," which form the early portion of the "Speculations." The Elegy on Dr. King, however, printed in 1621, does not seem to have been deemed worth reproducing, and it was accordingly suppressed.

AYLLON, DIEGO XIMENEZ. Los famosos y heroycos hechos del invencible y esforçado Cauallero, honra y flor de las Españas, el Cid Ruy Diaz de Buiar : Cō los de otros varones Illustres dellas, no menos dignos de fama y memorable recordaciō : en Octava Rima. En Alcalá de Henares, en casa de Juan Iñiguez de Lequerica. 1579. 4to.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves. Folios 1—149, followed by a leaf bearing only, "En alcalá En casa de Juan Iñiguez de Lequerica. Año 1580."

This edition appears to have been known to Brunet only on the authority of Antonio, and is not in the collection of Señor Salvá.

AYLMER, JOHN, Bishop of London. An Harborowe for Faithfvll and Trewe Svbiectes, agaynst the late blowne Blaste, concerninge the Gouernment of Women, wherin be confuted all such reasons as a straunger of late made in that behalfe, with a breife exhortation to Obedience. G. M.

A—Cc 4 in eights, the first and last leaves of A blank. Dedicated to Prince Henry.

It appears that this work was written before the union of the crowns in 1604, and laid aside. Ayscu's address to the reader is dated from Cotham, in Lincolnshire, 24th March, 1606[7].

AZORES. A Report of the Trvth of the fight about the Iles of Azores, this last Sommer. Betwixt the Reuenge, one of her Maiesties Shippes, and an Armada of the King of Spaine. London Printed for william Ponsonbie. 1591. 4to.

A—D 3 in fours, first leaf blank (as was also, doubtless, D 4).

The only other copy known of this most interesting and valuable historical tract, written to contradict the false rumours and statements circulated by the Spaniards, is in the British Museum.

B.

B., A. D. The Couert of the most Illvstrious and most Magnificent James the first; King of Great-Britaine . . . with Divers Rvles, most Pvre Precepts, and Selected Definitions liuely delineated . . . London Printed by Edw: Griffyn, in Eliots-Court in the Little Old-Baily; neere the Kings-head. 1620. 4to.

Title and dedication to the Marquis of Buckingham, 3 leaves; A—Y in fours.

The author, who is not known, represents himself as having spent some years in England, by which it appears probable he was a Scotchman who had come to London with James I. On the title-page of the present copy is the autograph of Sir Benjamin Ruddyerd. There was a prior issue in 1619.

B., H. The true discription of a Childe with Ruffes borne in the parish of Micheham in the Coūtie of Surrey in the yeere of our Lord. M.D.LXvi. [Two woodcuts of the child.] Finis q. H. A—F 3 in fours, title on A 2.

Following the title is a notice to the reader, after which comes "The Authour to his Booke," 8 lines, and "The Preface to the Reader," 6 stanzas of 6 lines, subscribed, "Yours or not his owne, I. B."

Sir R. Mansel is one of the heroes of Scot's "Duellum Britannicum." There are some letters to him in the "Epistolæ Ho-elianæ."

B., I. Heroick Edvcation, or Choice Maxims and Instructions for the most sure and facile training up of youth in the ways of eminent learning and vertues. A Treatise very necessary for all men, but most especially for such as undertake the charge to govern the young Nobility and Gentry. In Two Books, together with a short Appendix. By I. B. Gent. London, Printed for William Hope . . . and Henry Herringman . . . 1657. Sm. 8vo.

A—K 4 in eights, title on A 2. Portrait of William of Nassau.

Mr. Heber's copy. In the Address to the Reader, I. B. explains that he discovered the MS. of this work in the hands of a noble lady, and that it was by him reduced to method, enlarged, and published.

B., J. MERCHANT. The Merchants Avizo. Verie necessarie for their Sons and Seruants, when they first send them beyond the Seas as to Spaine and Portingale, or other Countries. Made by their heartie welwiller in Christ, I. B. Merchant. . . . At London Imprinted by John Norton. 1607. 4to.

A—K 3 in fours.

Dedicated "To the Worshipfvll Maister Thomas Aldworth, Merchant of the Citie of Bristow : and to all the Worshipfull companie of the Merchants of the said Citie . . ." The Address to the Reader is in 10 stanzas of 4 lines. The first runs thus :—

"When Merchants trade proceeds in peace,
And labours prosper well :
Then Common-weales in wealth increase,
As now good prooffe can tell."

A marginal note on the last line says : "This was spoken when was a long stay of the Merchants trade, to the great decay of many a one. 1587 ;" from which it may, perhaps, be presumed that the book or portions of it were written some time before 1607.

B., R. A new balade entituled as foloweth.

To such as write in Metres, I write
Of small matters an exhortacion,
By reading of which men may delite
In such as be worthy commendation.
My verse also it hath relation
To such as print, that they doe it well,
The better they shall their Metres sell.

B., T. A Compendious Account of the whole Art of Breeding, Nursing, and the Right Ordering of the Silk-Worm. Illustrated with Figures engraven on Copper: Whereon is curiously exhibited the whole Management of this Profitable Insect. London: 1733. 4to. The edges uncut.

A—D in fours. With six large folded plates, one of which is coloured. Dedicated to the trustees for establishing the colony of Georgia.

B., W. The Last East-Indian Voyage. Containing much varietie of the State of the severall kingdomes where they haue traded: with the Letters of three severall Kings to the Kings Maiestie of England, begun by one of the Voyage: since continued out of the faithfull obseruation of them that are come home. At London. Printed by T. P. for Walter Burre. 1606. 4to. BL. M.

A, 2 leaves; B—K in fours.

A British Museum duplicate. The initials W. B. at the end of the address to the reader, probably represent the Walter Burre for whom the book was printed, and he may be regarded as the writer of the following pages, insomuch that he seems to have taken the imperfect MS. of the original author, whose name he withholds, and to have completed it by means of information supplied to him by other members of the voyage. In the Address to the Reader, which follows the title, he observes: "If I find it [the present tract] to thy liking, looke shortly for an exact and large discourse written by Maister Scot chiefe factor at Bantam, euer since the first voyage, containing whatsoever hath happened since their first Arriuall there to trade in those parts." The work here announced was Edmund Scott's "Discourse," 4to. 1606.

B., W. The Philosophers Banquet. Newly Furnished and decked forth with much variety of many severall Dishes, that in the former Service were neglected. Where now not only Meats and Drinks of all Natures and Kinds are serued in, but the Natures and Kinds of all disputed of. As further, Dilated by Table-conference, alteration and Changes of States, Diminution of the Stature of Man, Barrennesse of the Earth, with the effects and causes thereof, Phisically and Philosophically. The third Edition. Newly corrected and enlarged, to almost as much more, by W. B. Esquire. London: Printed for Nicholas Vavasour, and are to be sold at his shop in the Temple, neere the Church, 1633. Sm. 8vo.

A—R 6 in twelves.

This edition, though perhaps enlarged in some places, omits much curious matter printed in the second edition of 1614. The first appeared in 1609. The initials here found have never been satisfactorily appropriated, but the probability is, that the compiler was the same person who published the "Court of Good Counsel," in 1607; "A Help to Discourse," in 1619; and a paraphrastic version of the tenth satire of Juvenal in 1617. In fact, portions of the "Philosopher's Banquet," as printed in 1614, are common to that and to the "Help to Discourse."

The present copy is from the Mainwaring and Corser libraries.

B., W., and E. P. A Helpe to Discovrse: Or, A Miscellany of Seriousnesse with Merriment: Consisting of witty Philosophicall, Grammaticall, and Astronomicall Questions and Answers: As also of Epigrams, Epitaphs, Riddles, and Iests: Together with the Countrymans Counsellour . . . Now the eighth time published and much enlarged by the former Authors, W. B. and E. P. Daus es? huc venias, & cris mox Œdipus alter. London, Printed by Thomas Brudenell for Leonard Becket . . . 1630. Sm. 8vo. R.

A—Q 11 in twelves.

T. Park's copy, with his initials on the title. On M 3 occurs a Supplement to the Riddles with a new title, "Sphinx and Œdipvs," but the running title throughout remains "A Helpe to Discourse."

BAARDT, PETRUS. Friesche Triton. Over t'geluckich veroveren van de stercke Stadt Olinda, met alle de Forten in Fernambvcq. Gedruckt tot Lecuwarden. 1630. Folio.

BACCIUS, ANDREAS. De naturali vinorum historia, de vinis Italiæ et de conviviis Antiquorum libri vii. Accessit de factitiis, ac cervisiis, de q̄ Rheni, Galliæ, Hispaniæ, et de totius Europæ vinis et de omni vinorum usu compendiaria tractatio. Romæ. 1596. Folio.

BACHELORS. The Batchelers Banquet Or, A Banquet for Batchelers. Wherein is prepared Sundry dainty dishes to furnish their Tables, curiously drest, and seriously served in. Pleasantly discoursing the variable humours of Women, their quicknesse of wits, and unsearchable deceits.

View them well, but taste not,
Regard them well, but waste not.

London, Printed by H. Bell, and are to be sold by Andrew Kembe, at his shop at Margarets-hill in Southwark, 1660. 4to. Black letter.

A—I 2 in fours. With a cut on the title.

The present copy, from Jolley's library, is uncut. It is a tract of an amusing and popular character, generally ascribed to Decker, but apparently without good foundation. The first edition was in 1603.

BACHELORS. The Batchellors Answer to the Maids Complaint or the Young Mens Vindication. Cleering themselves from those unjust Aspersions, and setting forth the subtle Tricks and Vices of the Female Party. With the Terms they resolve to stand upon, if ever they Marry. London Printed for J. Coniers, at the Black-Raven in Duck-Lane. 1675. 4to.

Four leaves.

BACHELORS. An humble Remonstrance of the Batchelors, in and about London, to the Honourable House, in Answer to a late Paper, Intituled A Petition of the Ladies for Husbands. [Colophon] London, Printed for and sold by the Book-selling Batchelors in St. Paul's Church-Yard. 1693. 4to.

Two leaves.

BACON, FRANCIS. Francisci Baconi, Baronis de Verulamio, Vice-Comitis Sancti Albani, Operum Moralium et Civilium tomus. Qui continet Historiam Regni Henrici Septimi, Regis Angliæ. Sermones

Fideles, sive Interiora Rerum. Tractatum de Sapientia Veterum. Dialogum de Bello Sacro. Et Novam Atlantidem. Ab ipso Honoratissimo Auctore, præterquam in paucis, Latinitate donatus. Curâ et Fide Guilielmi Rawley . . . In hoc volumine, iterum excusi, includuntur Tractatus de Augmentis Scientiarum. Historia Ventorum. Historia vitæ et Mortis. Londini. Excusum typis Edwardi Griffini, &c. 1638. Folio. Large paper.

Portrait, title, and preliminaries, 6 leaves, including 1 blank. Title and dedication to the History of Henry VII., 2 leaves, pp. 1-386. De Aug. Scient., title and preliminaries, 8 leaves, pp. 1-475.

BACON, FRANCIS. Essayes. Religious Meditations. Places of perswasion and disswasion. Scene and allowed. At London, Printed for Humfrey Hooper, and are to be sold at the blacke Beare in Chauncery Lane. 1597. [Col.] Printed at London by Iohn Windet for Humfrey Hooper. 1597. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 4 leaves; B—G in eights. The first and last leaves are blank.

Dedicated by the author "To M. Anthony Bacon his deare Brother." The "Meditationes Sacræ" and the "Colours of Good and Evil" have separate titles.

The first edition. Bacon expressly says, in his epistle to his brother, that these essays had been written some time before, and that his only inducement to print them was the fear of a surreptitious impression. In Herbert's "Ames" it is described as consisting of only 49 leaves instead of 52.

— Essaies. Religious Meditations. Places of perswasion and disswasion. Scene and allowed. London Printed for Humfrey Hooper and are to bee solde at the blacke Beare in Chauncery lanc. 1598. [Col.] Imprinted at London by Iohn Windet for Humfrey Hooper. 1598. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—E 4 in twelves.

Second edition, even rarer than the first, from which it differs only in the orthography having been changed here and there. The "Meditationes Sacræ," however, are given in English instead of Latin.

— Essaies. Religious Meditations. Places of perswasion and disswasion. Scene and allowed. Printed at London for Iohn Iaggard, dwelling in Fleete streete, at the hand and Starre neere Temple barre. 1606. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 7 leaves; B—G 7 in eights. From Mr. Corser's library.

This third impression is said to be only a pirated reprint of the edition of 1598.

— The Essaies of S^r. Francis Bacon Knight, the Kings Solliciter Generall. Imprinted at London by Iohn Beale, 1612. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—Q 7 in eights, title on A 2.

Dedicated "To my Loving Brother, S^r. Iohn Constable Knight." In the interval between the appearance of the second edition, in 1598, and the present enlarged one, the author had lost his own brother Anthony. Bacon here takes no notice of the pirated edition of 1606.

The table to the present volume enumerates forty essays ; but there are only in reality thirty-eight, those "Of the Publike" and "Of Warre and Peace" not appearing. The "Meditations" and "Colours of Good and Evil" were also omitted ; but they are retained in Jaggard's edition of the same date.

BACON, FRANCIS. Essaies. Religious Meditations. Places of perswasion and disswasion. Scene and allowed. Printed at London for John Iaggard, dwelling in Flecte-strecte at the Hand and Starre neere Temple barrc. 1612. Sm. 8vo.

A—F in eights, first leaf blank ; G, 6 leaves ; H—O in eights.

This is an amplified reprint in two parts of the pirated impression issued by Jaggard in 1606, and retains the dedication to Anthony Bacon, suppressed by the author in his own edition of 1612, as well as the "Meditations," &c., as mentioned above.

It is remarkable that a parallel series of impressions should have been allowed to appear between 1606 and 1624, which is the date of the last edition bearing Jaggard's name.

— The Essayes or Covnsels, Civill and Morall, Of Francis Lo. Vervlam, Viscovnt S^t. Alban. Newly enlarged. London, Printed by John Haviland for Hanna Barret, and Richard Whitaker, and are to be sold at the signe of the King's head in Pauls Church-yard. 1625. 4to.

A—Xx 2 in fours, and (a), 2 leaves with the table. The first leaf is blank.

This edition is dedicated by Bacon to the Duke of Buckingham. It is the first containing fifty-eight essays, and the last which the author lived to see. He says in his dedication, "I doe now publish my Essayes ; which, of all my other workes, haue beene most Currant : For that, as it seemes, they come home, to Mens Businesse, and Bosomes. I haue enlarged them, both in Number, and Weight ; So that they are indeed a New Worke."

— Certaine Considerations touching the better pacification and Edification of the Church of England : Dedicated to his most Excellent Maiestic. London Printed by T. P. for Henrie Tomes. An. 1604. 4to.

A—F 3 in fours ; title on A 2.

Original edition, of excessive rarity, published without Bacon's name.

— The Two Bookes of Francis Bacon. Of the proficience and advancement of Learning, diuine and humane. To the King. At London, Printed for Henrie Tomes, and are to be sould at his shop at Graies Inne Gate in Holborne. 1605. 4to. Large paper.

First edition. A—M 2 in fours ; Aa—Ggg in fours, and a leaf of Hhh.

— The Advancement and Proficience of Learning or the Partitions of Sciences, IX. Bookes. Written in Latin by the Most Eminent, Illustrious & Famous Lord, Francis Bacon, Baron of Verulam Interpreted by Gilbert Wats. Oxford. Printed by Leon. Lichfield, Printer to the University for Rob: Young & Ed: Forrest. 1640. Folio. Large paper. R. M.

Portrait and engraved title, both by W. Marshall, 2 leaves; ¶, 4 leaves; ¶ ¶ 2 leaves; ¶ ¶ ¶, 1 leaf; A, 2 leaves; B—C in fours; aa—hh 2 in fours: +, 4 leaves; + +, 2 leaves; A—Rrr 2 in fours.

BACON, FRANCIS. The Historie of the Raigene of King Henry the Seuenth. Written by the Right Honourable Francis, Lord Verulam, Viscount S^t. Alban. London, Printed by W. Stansby for Matthew Lowmes and William Barret. 1622. Folio. Portrait of Henry VII. by Payne. In the original gilt vellum.

Title and dedication to Charles, Prince of Wales, 2 leaves; B—li in fours.

— Translation of Certaine Psalmes into English Verse: By the Right Honovrable, Francis Lo. Vervlam, Viscount St. Alban. London, Printed for Hanna Barret, and Richard Whittaker, and are to be sold at the signe of the Kings Head in Pauls Church-yard. 1625. 4to. R. M.

Dr. Bliss's copy, given to him by Dr. Bandinel.

A—C in fours, title on A 2. The psalms translated are the 1st, 12th, 90th, 104th, 126th, 137th, and 149th. Two title-pages were printed to this rare book.

These translations are dedicated by Bacon in the following epistle: "To His Very Good Frend, Mr. George Herbert;"—"The paines, that it pleased you to take, about some of my Writings, I cannot forget: which did put mee in minde, to dedicate to you this poore Exercise of my sicknesse. Besides, it being my manner for Dedications, to choose those that I hold most fit for the Argument, I thought, that in respect of Diuinitie, and Poesie met, (whereof the one is the Matter, the other the Stile of this little Writing) I could not make better choice. So, with signification of my Loue and Acknowledgement, I euer rest your affectionate Frend, Fr. S^t. Alban." It may be added that the copy given by Bacon to Herbert still exists.

— Considerations touching a Warre with Spaine. Written by the Right Honourable Francis Lo. Verulam, Vi. S^t. Alban. Imprinted 1629. 4to.

BACON, FRIAR. The Famous Historie of Fryer Bacon. Containing the wonderfull things that he did in his Life: Also the manner of his Death; With the Liues and Deaths of the two Coniurers, Bungye and Vandermast. Very pleasant and delightfull to be read. Printed at London by E. A. for Francis Groue, and are to be sold at his Shop, at the upper-end of Snow-Hill, against the Sarazens head . . . [1629.] 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

A—G 3 in fours, A 1 blank.

Dr. Farmer's copy. Some curious songs are interspersed. The last line of the imprint, with the date, has been cut off. This is believed to be the copy used by Mr. Thoms for the reprint in his edition of the "Early Prose Romances," 1828. His silence as to his original being defective, has given rise to the supposition that there was an early undated copy, as well as the impressions of 1627 and 1629.

BACON, FRIAR. The Famous History of Frier Bacon. Contain- ing the wonderfull things that he did in his Life; also the manner of his Death, with the Lives and Deaths of the two Conjurers Bungay and Vandermast. Very pleasant and delightful to be read . . . London, Printed by M. Clark, and are to be sold by T. Passenger at the Three Bibles on London Bridge. 1679. 4to. Black letter.

A—G in fours, first and last leaves blank. Large woodcut on title.

This edition is unnoticed by bibliographers, but it differs from that reprinted in the "Miscellanea Antiqua Anglicana," and by Mr. Thoms, being an abridged chap- man's version.

Title and preliminaries, 3 leaves, pp. 3-38.

BAGWELL, WILLIAM. The Merchant Distressed. His Obser- vations, when he was a Prisoner for debt in London in the yeare of our Lord 1637. In which the Reader may take notice of his observa- tions of many passages in the prison during his being there. The severall humours and conditions of his fellow prisoners and others. His advice to them, and to some of his and their kinde and vnkinde friends. Gods singular care and providence over all distressed prisoners and others who put their trust in him, and depend wholly upon him in their afflictions. Written in plaine Verse, by William Bagwell. Lon- don, Printed by T. H. for F. E. and are to be sold at his Shop in Pauls Churchyard at the signe of the Marigold. 1644. 4to. Y. M.

A—R in fours, including a leaf before the title, with a testimonial in favour of the book.

Dedicated to William Barkeley, Alderman of London, and one of the Commis- sioners of Customs. This is a curious contribution to our early prison literature, and is also interesting as being a sort of autobiography of the author, who is the person delineated by Gayton in his "Wil Bagnal's Ghost." This is the copy de- scribed in Corser's "Collectanea," part i. pp. 118-20.

BAKER, DANIEL. A Thundering Voice out of Sion, Yet a tender

Canons Ashby Church; 4. Ditto, drawing room; 5. Queen Catherine Parr; 6. Green Monuments, 2 plates; 7. Wedon Military depot; 8. Easton Neston. These plates are not numbered, and are differently placed in various copies; in this they are bound up together at the end of the second volume. Most are in two, and many in three states, and a few drawings and etchings are inserted. There are also numerous plates on the letterpress.

BAKER, SIR R. A Chronicle of the Kings of England from the Time of the Romans Government (sic) unto the Raigne of our Soucraigne Lord King Charles. London, 1643. Folio. Portrait of Prince Charles, and frontispiece by Marshall.

There seems to be no doubt that this is the earliest edition of Baker's Chronicle, though Lowndes gives the first edition as 1641. If such were the case, he must certainly be wrong in giving 1653 as the date of the second edition.

— Meditations and Motives for Prayer upon the Seven Dayes of the Weeke. Written and enlarged by S^r. Richard Baker Knight. London, Printed for R. Royston and Francis Eglesfield. . . . 1642. Sm. 8vo. R.

A—H in twelves, including a frontispiece preceded by a blank leaf. With a plate appropriate to each day, probably by W. Marshall. Dedicated to Lady Baker, wife of Sir John Baker, of Sissinghurst in Kent, Knight. The engravings count in the sheets.

From the libraries of Mr. Nassau, Mr. Heber, Dr. Bliss, and Mr. Corser.

BALBI, GASPARO, GIOIELLIERO VENETIANO. Viaggio dell' Indie Orientali. Nelquale si contiene quanto cgli in detto viaggio hà veduto per lo spatio di 9 Anni consumati in esso dal 1579, fino al 1588. In Venetia. 1590. Sm. 8vo.

Title, preliminaries, and table, 16 leaves ; folios 1-159, followed by 23 leaves not numbered.

The Latin translation of this work forms a portion of the 7th part of the "Petits Voyages" of De Bry.

BALDWIN, WILLIAM. The Funerallles of King Edward the Sixt. Wherin are declared the causers and causes of his death. [Quotation from the Book of Wisdom, iiii.] [Col.] Imprinted at London in Flcte-strete nere to saynt Dunstans church by Thomes Marshe. Anno domini. 1560. 4to. Black letter. R.

A—C in fours. In verse.

On the title-page is a woodcut portrait of the king, repeated on C 4 recto. See Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," part i. pp. 122-29, for a particular account of this book. This copy has passed through the hands of Mr. T. Hill, the Duke of Roxburghe, Sir Mark Sykes, &c. The crest on the cover is, however, not that of the Duke of Roxburghe, as stated by Mr. Corser.

— [A Marvellous History, intituled, Beware the Cat.] [Colophon]. Imprinted at London at the long Shop adioyning vnto Saint Mildreds Church in the Pultrie by Edward Allde. 1584. Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A ii—F 4 in eights. Chiefly in prose.

The only copy known. Wanting the title-page. It has successively belonged to T. Rawlinson, West, Herbert, Steevens, the Duke of Roxburgh, Heber, Loscombe, Bliss, and Corser. On the fly-leaf is the autograph, "Wm. Herbert, April, 1773," and the following memoranda by Mr. Heber: "1812. D. of Roxb. sale. This same copy belonged to Mr. West, at whose auction in 1773 it was bo^d by Herbert. Cat. 1021. No other copy is known, I believe. It had previously been in the possession of Tho^s. Rawlinson (Cat. xv.), sold Nov. 1729—see p. 73, N. 2482, which N^o. may still be seen written on the first page of the present copy. 'British Bibliographer,' vol. ii. p. 618; Herbert's 'Ames,' p. 1238; Ritson's 'Bibl. Poetica,' p. 118, with the date 1561."

See also Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," 1865, i. 43-47, where the work will be found reviewed; the privately printed "Book of Prefaces," 1874, where the whole of the introductory part is given; and Hazlitt's "Handbook," 1867, p. 23, where an account of the editions will be found.

In Dr. Bliss's collection was a fragment of the work, belonging to the otherwise unknown impression of 1570. This consists of the title-page and three succeeding leaves. The title runs here, "A Marvellous Hystory intituled, Beware the Cat. Conteynyng diurse wouderfull and incredible matters. Very pleasant and mery to read." Ritson speaks of the book as first published in 1561, and there may have been an edition even anterior to that date. The book is announced as on sale, at the end of Sir Philip Sydney's Ourania, 4to., Jane Bell, 1655, which may refer to the edition of 1652, quoted by Bagford.

BALDWIN, WILLIAM. Beware the Cat. 1584. . . . Reprinted Anno Domini, 1864. 4to.

Of this edition only ten copies were privately printed, by Mr. Halliwell.

The latter examination: A—I in eights, including the title, the last leaf blank. The leaf C 7 (folio 23) has the top cut off, and is then pasted on to folio 22. This is the same in the British Museum copy, and is doubtless a cancel made at the time. On each title is a woodcut figure of Anne Askew, holding in her right hand a Bible, and in her left a palm branch.

A, 6 leaves: B—E in twelves. In verse.

Dedicated to the Right Worshipful Thomas Darcy, Esq., Commander of His Majesty's Frigate, the "Dartmouth." Mr. Corser's copy, from the library of King Charles II. See "Collectanea," part i., pp. 137-8.

It is believed that not more than one other copy exists.

BAMBERGISCHE halszgerichts ordenüg. . . . [Colophon.] Und ist die also auss vnserm beuchhe, in vnscr Stat Bamberg, durch vnsern Burger, Hannsen Pfreyll daselbst gedruckt. 1507. Folio. Woodcuts. BR. M.

The title is a large woodcut presenting the different instruments of torture and punishment, over which are the words "Bambergische halszgerichts ordenüg." Then follow seven leaves of register. The text begins on folio iii. and ends on folio lxxx. This very remarkable book, the foundation of the Carolinian criminal code in Germany, has remained altogether unnoticed by M. Brunet. A full and interesting account of it is given in Panzer's "Annalen der ältern deutschen Litteratur." The numerous woodcuts which it contains represent the execution of the barbarous ancient criminal law of Germany.

BAMBERG. Die Weysung vnnnd auszruffung des Hochwirdigen heylthumbs zu Bamberg, nach dē rechten waren heilthumb abgezeychnet. 1509. Gedruckt als man zalt nach christi gepurt M.CCCCC. vnd IX Jar. 4to. Woodcuts. R. M.

24 leaves. This book was quite unknown to Panzer, but is described in Heller's "Life of Cranach," second edition, p. 198. The engravings represent the relics and holy treasures preserved in the Cathedral of Bamberg.

BAMFEILD, JOSEPH. Colonel Joseph Bamfeild's Apologie, written by himself and printed at his desire. Facit indignatio versus. Anno 1685. 4to.

A—I in fours.

This is a very interesting tract, illustrating the Civil War period, and describing the personal share which Bamfeild (or Bamfeild) had in the transactions of that stirring and important time. He fought on the side of Charles.

BANCROFT, RICHARD, Abp. of Canterbury. A Sermon preached at Paules Crosse the 9. of Februarie, being the first Sunday in the Parleament, Anno. 1588, by Richard Bancroft, D. of Diuinitie, and Chaplaine to the right Honorable Sir Christopher Hatton Knight L. Chancelor of England. Whercin some things are now added, which then were omitted, either through want of time, or default in memorie. [Quot. from 2 Tim. 2.] Imprinted at London by E. B. for Gregorie Seton, and are to be sold at his shop vnder Aldersgate. 1588. Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

A, 2 leaves : B—H 6 in eights.

BANCROFT, THOMAS. The Gltvtons Feaver. Written by Thomas Bancroft. London, Printed by Iohn Norton for William Cooke, and are to be sold at his shop at Furniuals Inne gate, in Holborne. 1633. 4to. O. M.

A, 2 leaves : B—F 3 in fours.

A poem in 7-line stanzas, dedicated "To the nobly accomplit Gentleman Wolstan Dixie Esquire," in verse. Not more than three copies are believed to exist ; the present, which has been Sir F. Freeling's and Mr. Corser's, is fully described in Corser's "Collectanea," part i., pp. 138-44.

It was reprinted for the Roxburghe Club.

— Two Bookes of Epigrammes and Epitaphs. Dedicated to two top-branches of Gentry : Sir Charles Shirley, Baronet, and William Davenport, Esquire. Written by Thomas Bancroft. London : Printed by I. Okes, for Matthew Walbancke, and are to be sold at his shop in Grayes-Inne-gate. 1639. 4to. G. M.

A—L in fours.

— The Heroical Lover or Antheon & Fidelta. A Poem written by Thomas Bancroft. [Quot. from Bion.] London, Printed by W. G. and are to be sold by Isaac Pridmore, at the Golden Falcon, near the New Exchange, 1658. Sm. 8vo.

A—G 4 in eights, title on A 2.

Dedicated to the Lord Rosse. There are complimentary verses by Sir Aston Cokain and Anth. Harwood. This was Mr. Corser's copy ; and is described in "Collectanea," part i., pp. 150-2.

BANDELLO, MATTEO. Canti XI composti dal Bandello de le lodi de la S. Lucretia Gonzaga di Gazuolo, e del vero amore, col tempio di pudicitia, e con altre cose per dentro poeticamente descritte.—Le. III. parche da esso Bandello cantate ne la natività del S. Giano primogenito del S. Cesare Fregoso, e de la S. Gostanza Rangona sua consorte. Si stampauano in Guienna ne la Città di Agen per Antonio Reboglio. 1545. 4to. BL. M.

In the Grenville Catalogue this book is described as a 12mo, but that is only because that copy has lost the ample margins which properly belong to it. Copies have occasionally been described as large paper, but this, it is believed, has been in error, for no copy really on large paper has ever yet been identified, though any copy which has not been cruelly cropped in the binding should have a larger margin than is usually found to a letterpress page of this size.

BANDELLO, MATTEO. The Tragicall Historie of Romeus and Iuliet, written first in Italian by Bandell, and nowe in Englishe by Ar[thur] Br[oke.] In Ædibus Richardi Tottelli. Cum Priuilegio. [Col.] Imprinted at London in Fletestrete within Temple [sic] barre, at the signe of the hand and starre, by Richard Tottill the XIX. day of Nouember. An. do. 1562. Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves: A—L 4 in eights.

Shakespeare's obligations to this poem in the composition of his play on the same story are well known. Only two perfect copies are known, that in the Capell collection wanting some of the introductory matter. A perfect copy is among Malone's books. The present belonged to Kemble and Mr. George Daniel. It is in the original vellum cover, with ample margins. See Lowndes, p. 2296, col. 2.

This book is worthy of notice, not only as the foundation-story of Shakespeare's play, but as the earliest attempt to introduce Bandello to English readers.

BANK OF ENGLAND. The Circular notice, dated February 27th, 1797, with the Order of the Privy Council dated the previous day, in respect to the temporary suspension of Specie payments and the circulation of Bank notes. A broadside.

"The Governor, Deputy Governor, and Directors of the Bank of England, think it their Duty to inform the Proprietors of Bank Stock, as well as the Publick at large, that the general concerns of the Bank are in the most affluent and prosperous Situation, and such as to preclude any doubt as to the Security of its Notes."

BANKES. Maroccus Extaticus. Or, Bankes Bay Horse in a Trance. A Discourse set downe in a merry Dialogue between Bankes and his beast: Anatomizing some abuses and bad trickes of this age. Written and intituled to mine Host of the Belsauage, and all his honest Guests. By Iohn Dando the wierdrawer of Hadley, and Harrie Runt, head Ostler of Bosomes Inne. Printed for Cuthbert Burby, 1595. 4to.

A—D 2 in fours, the first leaf blank. With a woodcut of Bankes and his horse on A 4 verso.

Mr. Corser, to whom this copy belonged, describes it in his "Collectanea," part i., pp. 152-6, where the large cut is given in facsimile. It is believed that only two other copies are known, one of which was in the Heber, Daniel, and Tite collections and is now in the British Museum. The other is at Britwell. The present has passed through the hands of Bindley, Perry, Jolley, and Corser, and on the fly-leaf is the following note by Bindley:—"A copy of this very scarce Pamphlet, which from its having been mentioned by Shakespear is become more interesting, was bought in the Gordonstoun Sale by Mr. Rodd for £13 2s. 6d. I had that in exchange for another very curious Tract of Messrs. Longman & Co. in 1818.—J. B." A second memorandum in a different hand says:—"This was the Gordonstoun copy. It was purchased there by Mr. Midgley, afterwards became the property of Messrs. Longman, and was transferred by them to Mr. Bindley."

Martini Luthers. Wittemberg. 1540. 4to.

12 leaves.

It does not appear that the original English edition of this piece is known as a separate publication, but it is probably a translation of the "Protestacion of Dr. Barnes," which was answered in a book entitled "A lytle treatise composed by Johan Standysse . . . against the Protestation of Robert Barnes at the tyme of his death," which was printed by Redman in 1540 and replied to by Coverdale in the same year.

BARON, ROBERT. An Apologie for Paris. For rejecting of Juno and Pallas, and presenting of Ate's Golden Ball to Venus. With a discussion of the Reasons that might induce him to fauour either of the three. Occasioned by a Private Discourse, wherein the Trojans Judgment was carped at by some. And defended by R. B. Title and prel. 8 leaves. Folios 1-60.

BARTHOL, MATTHIEU. Cantiques usités en l'église françoise de Francfort, laquelle approuue la Confession d'Ausbourg présentée à l'empereur Charles cinquiesme en l'an 1530. Mis en Rime Françoise de l'Allemand. Imprimé à Francfort sur Meine par Jean Spics. 1596. Sm. 8vo.

This little volume appears to be undescribed by bibliographers, and the writer was evidently unknown to M. Haag, as no mention is found of him in "La France Protestante."

BARTOLOMÈES, JOAN. Epistola à los Peruleros, en la qual està comprehendido el Catechismo de la verdadera religion Christiana, y una Aliança de los muy Poderosos Señores Estados, de las Provinçias Unidas del Pais Baxo. [s. l. y. a.] Sm. 8vo.

Pp. 64, including title.

This piece was probably printed at Leyden or Amsterdam about 1630. It is an exhortation to the Spaniards in Peru to throw off the yoke of the King of Spain, to become Protestants, and form an alliance with the United Provinces. It appears to be undescribed by bibliographers.

BARTHOLOMEO DA LI SONETTI. Isolario. [sens' alcuna data.] 4to. Woodcut maps.

This copy accords exactly with the description given by Brunet of the one he had seen. It consists of 56 leaves without either pagination or signatures. The author gives his name on the fifth page thus—“Per approbar questa opereta fata per me bartolomeo da li soneti intendo de monstrar con veri effetti quanto che londa egeia abia cerchatta.”

Brunet gives the three lines which stand at the head of the first page, but leaves out a word in the third line, which should read thus—

“nulla questa opra dar piu cha altri lecce.”

He appears to have taken this quotation from Dibdin's “Ædes Althorpiænæ,” where it appears with the same omission.

In the “Ædes Althorpiænæ” Dr. Dibdin assigns the date of 1477 to this book, but Mr. Panizzi, in a long MS. note attached to the copy in the Grenville library, shows that as it was dedicated to Giovanni Mocenico, who was Doge of Venice from 1478 to 1485, it was probably printed about the latter date.

BARTHOLOMEW FAIR. A quarto volume containing the undermentioned pieces:—

Dedicated to Philip, Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, by John Lowin,

Richard Robinson, and the other players; after which comes an Address to the Reader by James Shirley (the dramatist), who is usually regarded as the editor of the book, but who does not appear to claim for himself that distinction. Considering that Shakespeare's works had been collectively published in 1623, Shirley must be allowed to use rather daring language when he speaks of the present volume as "without flattery the greatest Monument of the Scene that Time and Humanity have produced;" and when he adds that it "must Live, not only the Crowne, and sole Reputation of our owne, but the stayne of all other Nations and Languages, for it may be boldly averred, not one indiscretion hath branded this Paper in all the Lines, this being the Authentick witt that made Blackfriars an Academy, where the three howers spectacle while Beaumont and Fletcher were presented, were usually of more advantage to the hopefull young Heire, than a costly, dangerous, forraigne Travell with the assistance of a governing Mounsieur, or Signior to boot."

A Preface by the Stationer to the Reader succeeds, in which it is explained that the contents of the present folio are entirely new, those plays which had before been printed separately in quarto being excluded, except the "Wild Goose Chase," which had been unfortunately lost. The writer also lets us into the reason why early MS. copies of old plays are likely to be imperfect as regards the text, as they were, according to him, generally taken from notes during the performance. It may be interesting to add what Moseley says about the portrait: "The figure of Mr. Fletcher," he informs us, "was cut by severall Originall Pieces [portraits], which his friends lent me, but withall they tell me, that his inimitable soule did shine through his countenance in such Ayre and Spirit, that the Painters confessed it was not easie to expresse him."

No fewer than twenty-one pages are occupied by complimentary verses, which are all reprinted in Mr. Dyce's edition. This first collected edition of Beaumont and Fletcher, like that of Shakespeare, was posthumous.

BEAUMONT, FRANCIS, and JOHN FLETCHER. The Wild-Goose Chase. A Comedie. As it hath been Acted with singular Applause at the Black-Friers: Being the Noble, Last, and Onely Remains of those Incomparable Drammatists, Francis Beaumont and John Fletcher, Gent. Retriv'd for the publick delight of all the Ingenious; and private benefit of John Lowin, and Joseph Taylor, Servants to His late Majestie. By a Person of Honour. London, Printed for Humphrey Moseley, . . . 1652. Folio.

A, 2 leaves; a, 2 leaves; B—P, 2 leaves each. Dedicated by Lowin and Taylor in a bipartite epistle (i.) "To the Honour'd, Few, Lovers of Dramatick Poesie," who are addressed as "Noble Spirits," and (ii.) to the general public, who are designated "Generous Soules." The drama was published, during the suspension of theatrical performances, for the benefit of the two principal actors at the Black-friars.

This is the play to which there is the following curious reference in the bookseller's Preface to the folio of 1647: "One only Play I must except (for I meane to deale openly); 'tis a Comedy called the Wilde-Goose Chase, which hath beene long lost, and I feare irrecoverable; for a Person of Quality borrowed it from the Actors many yeares since, and (by the negligence of a servant) it was never return'd." This "person of quality" may have been the "Person of Honour" mentioned in the title above given.

Ritson, in his "Bibliographia Poetica," 1802, p. 128, has a list of the pieces of verse contained in these volumes. Besides those he mentions, there are, before the "Nosegay" 6 4-line stanzas, headed "The Nosegay Speaketh," before the "Newe Yeres Gift," 6 others, similarly headed, and before the "Invectyve agaynste Swearing," a third set of six. The "Governaunce of Vertue" is introduced by eight stanzas of 4 lines each, and the "Newe Catechisme" by five. Also at folios xii.-xiii. of the third part, "The C.iii [and CXii] Psalme made in English metre." But the most important piece not mentioned by Ritson is the "Newe Dialoge betwene thangel of God and the Shepherds of y^e felde," which occupys (with the title) 16 pages double columns in the second volume, and is entirely in verse.

This is a set of books very difficult to procure in a complete and satisfactory state, the three volumes rarely occurring together.

BEDE ROLL.

An English Bede Roll. A MS. on vellum of the early part of the fifteenth century. At the top is a coat of arms, by which it appears to have been written for a member of the Lancaster family. Beneath this is a female figure in attitude of prayer. It begins with the Ave Maria in Latin, followed by two prayers in English, after which come a hundred and twenty lines of English verse in fifteen stanzas of eight lines each, the first of which runs thus:—

Grant me ye will of wepyng
 With teris tricklyng unto yi feett
 As thou ffand y^e dyscypils slepyng
 At the mont of Olyuete
 Blud & watter thou dyde swette
 For dred of dethe fast dyde thou pray
 Also that cause shulde gare me wepe
 For my unkyndnes nyght & daye.

BEDFORD. A True Relation of what hapned at Bedford, on Monday last, Aug. 19, instant, while Thundering, Lightning, and Tempestuous Winds tore up the Trees by the Roots, the Gates off the Hinges, breaking them in pieces, driving down Houses, to the Terror and Amazement of the Inhabitants. . . . *London: Printed for Fra. A—K in fours, the last leaf blank. From Mr. Slade's collection.

According to Bartsch, this is the third edition of Beham's Bible cuts; but Passavant places an edition dated 1539 as the third. The same authority tells us that Beham became a citizen of Frankfort in 1540, and if his description of himself as a Frankfort artist be taken as an indication that he had lately acquired the rights of citizenship, this edition must be subsequent to that of 1539.

A—H in fours.

Dedicated by G. J. "To the much Honoured Madam Welldon." It appears that this was a posthumous publication, and G. J. says:—"Had our Authour been alive she would have committed it to the Flames rather than have suffer'd it to have been Acted with such Omissions as was made, and on which the Foundation of the Play depended: For Example, they thought fit to leave out a Whole Scene of the Virginian Court of Judicature, and which was a lively resemblance of that Country-Justice . . . In another Part of the Play is omitted the appearance of the Ghost of the Indian King . . ." The Prologue was written by Dryden.

Sed tamen est tristissima ianua nostræ, Et labor est vnus tempora prima pati. London, Printed by Thomas Creede. 1598. 4to. Black letter. BL. M.*

A—Oo in fours, first and last leaves blank.

The only copy known. From the libraries of Colonel Stanley, Mr. Heber, and Mr. Corser. Mr. Heber notes: "Beautiful copy of a most rare volume. Not in Herbert's Ames."

Dedicated by the translator "To the right Worshipfull, his speciall Patron, Maister Iohn Rotherham, Esquire, one of the sixe Clarkes of her Maiesties most Honourable Court of Chauncery." It here appears that L. A. began to study Italian at Rotherham's house at Semars, and that he executed this translation to fill up certain vacant hours.

The "Souldan of Babylon" mentioned in the title is probably to be understood as the Sultan of Egypt, as Egypt is called Babylon in many of our early romances.

— The Eighth Day. The Second Edition. London, Printed by John Redmayne. 1661. 4to.

Title and A—K in fours, K 4 having only the Errata.

The only notice to be found anywhere of this piece is in Ware's Writers of Ireland, p. 166, where the author says :—"I am informed he writ A Poem called, the Eighth Day ; which having never seen, I can give no account of it." No subsequent bibliographer appears ever to have met with it. This, which seems to be the only copy known, came from the old library of the Rawdon family, at Moira House, Armagh, afterwards removed to Donnington, in Leicestershire, and dispersed in 1868. "The second edition" may be merely a fresh title-page.

BELL. Adam Bell, Clim of the Clough, and William of Cloudesle. Printed at London by Richard Cotes, and are to be sold by Francis Grove dwelling upon Snow-hill. 1648. 4to. Black letter. Woodcut on title. G. M.

From the collections of Sir C. Talbot, Sir F. Freeling, and Mr. Corser. The only other copy known appears to be that which occurred at Skegg's sale in 1842. See Corser's "Collectanea," part i. pp. 8-11, and Hazlitt's "Handbook," p. 35.

— Adam Bell, Clim of the Clough, and William of Cloudesle. London, Printed by E. Cotes for Tho. Passinger at the Three Bibles upon London-Bridge. 1668. 4to. Black letter. Woodcut on the title.

A—C 3 in fours.

From the Farmer, Roxburghe, and Daniel collections. It is doubtful whether a second copy exists.

— The History of Adam Bell, Clim of the Clough, and William of Cloudesly, who were three Archers good enough, the best of the North Country. Glasgow, Printed by Robert Sanders, one of His Majesties Printers. 1698. Sm. 8vo. With uncut edges.

A—B 4 in eights, or 12 leaves. The only copy known.

A fragment of two leaves only, and those mutilated, of an edition of this beautiful ballad, printed in 1536 by John Byddell, in 4to., has been recently discovered in the pasteboard, or fly-leaves, of a book received from abroad. The leaves belong to sig. C, which was of course preceded by A and B, and the impression, no doubt, consisted, as Copland's later and less correct one does, of twelve leaves, or three gatherings of four leaves each. Attention was first publicly directed to this curiosity of bibliography in Hazlitt's "Collections and Notes," 1876, p. 33, where the colophon of Byddell's 4to. is given, and a remarkable variation in the text from Copland's.

Subjoined is a specimen of the text of 1536, taken from the leaf marked C i. :—

“ The vssher sayd, yemen what wolde ye haue
 I pray you tell me
 Ye myght thus make offycers shent
 Good syrs of whens be ye
 Syr we be outlawes of the forest
 Certayne withouten leace
 And hyther we be come to our kynge
 To get us a charter of peace
 And whan they came before our kynge
 As it was the lawe of the lande
 They kneled down without lettyng
 And eche held vp his hande
 They sayd lorde we beseche you here
 That ye wyll graunte vs grace
 For we haue slayne your fatte falowe dere
 In many a sondry place
 What is your names than sayd our kynge
 Anone that you tell me
 They sayd, Adam bell, Clym of the clough
 And Wylliam of Clowdesle
 Be ye those theues than sayd our kynge
 That men have told of to me
 Here to god I make a vowe
 Ye shall be hanged all thre
 Ye shall be deed without mercy
 As I am kynge of this lande. . . .”

Our second extract is from sig. C 4, just towards the conclusion :—

“ And whan he made hym redy to shote
 There was many a wepyng eye
 Thus Clowdesle cleft the apple in two
 That many a man it se
 Ouer goddes forbode sayd the kynge
 That thou sholdest shote at me
 I gyue the xvij. pens a daye
 And my bowe shalte thou bere
 And ouer all the north countree
 I make the chefe rydere
 And I gyue the .xij. pens a day sayd the que [ne]
 By god and by my faye
 Come fetche thy payment whan thou wylt
 No man shall say the naye
 Wylliam I make the gentyman
 Of clothynge and of fee
 And thy two brethren yemen of my chambie
 For they are so semely to se
 Your sone for he is tendre of age
 Of my wyne seller shall he be
 And whan he cômeth to mannes state

Better auanced shall he be
 And Wylliam brynge me your wyfe sayd th[c quene]
 Me longeth sore here to se
 She shall be my chefe gentywoman
 And gouern my nursery
 The yemen thanked them full courteysly
 And sayd to Rome streyght wyll we wende. . . ."

BELLI, GIROLAMO. Canto, [Alto, Tenore, Basso e Quinto] di Girolamo Belli d'Argenta, il secondo libro De Madrigali à Cinque Voci, con un Dialogo à Otto. Nouamente composti, & dati in luce. In Venetia Presso Giacomo Vincenzi, & Ricciardo Amadino, compagni. 1586. 4to. 5 parts complete in 1 vol. G. M.

Each part consists of a title and 20 leaves. The signatures run through the five parts from A to P in fours.

All the notice that Fétis gives of Belli is "compositeur italien du 16^e siècle, qui n'est connu que par des madrigaux à cinq voix qui ont été insérés dans la collection intitulée : De' floridi virtuosi d'Italia, il terzo libro de' madrigali à cinque voci." So that he was evidently unacquainted with this original edition of the Secondo libro, and the first book appears to be altogether unrecorded.

BELLIEURE, POMPONNE DE. Harangue faicte à la Royne d'Angleterre [pour la desmouuoir d'entreprendre aucune Jurisdiction sur la Royne d'Escosse]. [Sans lieu.] 1588. Sm. 8vo.

Fourteen leaves. A—D 11.

The author of this piece was sent over to England by Henry III. of France, that he might mediate with Queen Elizabeth in favour of the unfortunate Mary Queen of Scots. It is not mentioned by Brunet or other bibliographers, and there is a doubt whether it was not originally appended to some other work. This copy was formerly in Mr. Bright's library.

blank. Imprinted at London at the three Cranes in the Vintree by Thomas Dawson, for the assignes of William Seres. 1582.

Interspersed through the volume are certain hymns and prayers in verse, but the larger proportion of the work is in prose. It is, as the first title-page imports, an assemblage of treatises by different authors, except the sixth and seventh Lamps, which are of Bentley's own compilation. Among the pieces by different authors are: 1. Prayers and Meditations by Queen Catherine Parr, printed separately in 1545, 12mo. 2. "A certaine effectuall praier, made by the Ladie Jane Dudley, in the time of hir trouble, a little before hir death," with an "Exhortation and Certain Verses," by the same. 3. Morning and Evening praiers . . . made and set forth by the Ladie Elizabeth Tyrwhit, partly in verse, concluding with "Certaine godlie sentences written by the Ladie E. T." 4. "The Praiers made by the right Honourable Ladie Frances Aburgauennie, and committed at the houre of hir death to the Right Worshipfull Ladie Marie Fane (hir onlie daughter)," in prose, excepting "A necessarie praier in Meeter against vices," and an acrostic at the conclusion on "Frances Aburgavenny." 5. An Instruction for Christians. . . . Translated out of French into English by . . . Mistresse Dorcas Martin. 6. A praier in meeter to bee said of a woman with child, made by W[illiam] H[unnis]. 7. "The poore widowes mite, conteining seuen meditations or praiers in meeter, for the obtaining of Gods mercie, and the forgiuenes of sin, to be said or soong, gathered by William Hunnis." This was licensed, with two other productions by Hunnis, in 1581, and perhaps published, but it is not known as a separate publication.

The title as given above was no doubt printed at a much later date than the body of the book, and some copies have the first page quite blank. Brunet says that the leaf bearing the colophon and register at the end of the volume was also added at a later date. He is, however, mistaken in saying that it is a separate added leaf, for it most certainly forms the tenth leaf of the last cahier, which would be incomplete without it, and the register shows that the sheet should consist of ten leaves. The type, however, of this leaf has certainly a later look than the body of the text, and the register and colophon were probably printed on a blank leaf at the same time that the title was added. M. Libri has tried to show that this work preceded the Ptolemy of 1478, but there is every reason to believe that the two books were printed about the same time.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves. Folios 1 to 116. One leaf of colophon and one leaf blank. The last folio is marked 106 in error for 116, which has misled both M. Brunet and Senor Salvà. The signatures of the text are A to O in eights, and P 6 leaves.

BERNARD, SAINT, Abbot of Clairvaux. The meditations of Saint Bernard. [Colophon:] *Here we make an ende of this ryght prouffyttable treatyse; the Medytacyons of saynt Barnard| Whyche, for very fauour and charytable loue of all suche persones as haue not vnderstandynge in latyn; hath be translatyd fro latyn in to englysshe by a deuoute student of the Uniuersyte of Cambrydge And hath put it to be Enpryted at Westmester: by Wynkyn the Worde the. ix. daye of Marche. the yerc of our lorde M.CCCC. lxxxvi. 4to. A—B in fours, the last leaf having on its verso the printer's device, the recto blank.

Although published as a treatise of St. Bernard, and therefore placed here under his name, the following notice by the editor shows that even he did not regard St. Bernard as the real author:—"This was brought vnto me in englysshe of an olde translacyon, roughe and rude, and requyred to amende it. I thought lesse labour to write newe the hole, and I haue done vnto the sentence not very nere the letter, and in dyuers places added some thinges folowyng vpon the same, to make the mater more sentencyous and full. I besече you take all vnto the best, and pray for the olde wretched brother of Syon, Richarde Whytforde." . . .—See also Herbert's "Ames," pp. 213-15.

See an elaborate account of the book in Herbert's "Ames," pp. 126-33. In the present copy, however, sig. c in the first alphabet has 6, not 4 leaves, as described by Herbert.

At the end of the treatise on angling is a curious paragraph omitted in the quarto edition: "And for by cause that this present treatyse sholde not come to the hondys of eche ydle persone whyche wolde desire it yf it were enpryntyd allone by itself & put in a lytyll plaunflet therfore I haue complyd it in a greter volume of dyuerse bokys concernynge to gentyll & noble men. to the entent that the forsayd ydle persones whyche sholde haue but lytyll mesure in the sayd dysporte of fysshynge sholde not by this meane vterly dystroye it."

— The boke of hawkyng/ and huntynge/ and fysshynge. [This is the whole of the title, and occurs above a large woodcut representing huntsmen and falconers, attended by men with dogs and weapons of the chase. A hawk hovers over the sportsmen. At the end is this colophon:—*Here endeth the boke of Hawkyng huntynge and fysshynge, and with many other dyuers maters. Imprynted in Flete-strete at the sygne of the sonne by Wynkyn de Worde. It is an abridgment, omitting nearly all the cuts, of the folio edition put forth by Wynkyn de Worde at Westminster in 1496. Inserted in this copy is the title-page of an edition in folio, different to that of Wynkyn de Worde, 1496.

[Anno 1469]. Folio. BR. M.

Editio princeps. Brunet remarks that the date of this volume is fixed by a letter which is printed in the correspondence of Marsilius Ficinus. It is a letter addressed to him by Cardinal Bessarion to accompany this volume, and it is dated "idibus septembris anno 1469." Among the Epistles of Philephus, also, is one addressed by him to Cardinal Bessarion, thanking him for the book, and this is dated "Mediolani III non. octobris, 1469."

[Colophon:] Printed in the yeare of oure Lorde M.D. XXXV. and fynished the fourth daye of October. Folio. Black letter. Woodcuts. BR. M.

First edition of Coverdale's translation of the Bible, and first appearance of the Holy Scriptures in a collected form in English. No entirely perfect copy is known. The present has the title-page, map, most of the preliminary leaves, and two leaves at the end in facsimile, but the condition is sound and clean. A very careful collation is given in Mr. Lea Wilson's Catalogue of Bibles.

— The Byble 'in Englyshe, that is to saye the content of all the holy scripture, bothe of y^e olde and newe testament, truly translated after the verete of the Hebrue and Greke textes, by y^e dylygent studye of dyuerse excellent learned men, expert in the forsayde tonges. Printed by Rycharde Grafton & Edward Whitchurch. Cum privilegio ad imprimendum solum. 1539. Folio. Woodcuts. Black letter. BL. M.

From Mr. Lea Wilson's collection. Dr. Cotton, in his "Editions of the English Bible," says: "It is extremely difficult to meet with a copy, like Mr. Lea Wilson's, entirely perfect."

This is one of the uniform unmixed copies of the great Bible of 1539, which is so carefully described in the Grenville catalogue, in Mr. Lea Wilson's catalogue (No. 6), and at much greater length by Mr. F. Fry, who has devoted a whole volume to the subject. Very few copies are quite complete, and though the Grenville copy is described as being so, the first title and one other leaf are in facsimile. The woodcut border to the title has usually been described as designed by Holbein, but competent authorities of late years have declared that such is not the case. There are two copies known upon vellum, one of which is in the library of St. John's College, Cambridge, and the other in the possession of Mr. Wynne of Peniarth.

— The Byble, whych is all the holy Scripture: In whych are containyd the Olde and Newe Testament, truely and purely translated into Englishe By Thomas Mattheue. 1537. And now Imprinted in the Yeare of oure Lorde. M. D. XLIX. Esaye. i. Hearcken to, ye heauens, and thou earth geue care: For the Lord speaketh. Imprinted at London By Thomas Raynalde, and William Hyll dwelling in Paules Churehe yeard. Folio. Black letter. BR. M.

No. 14 in Mr. Lea Wilson's catalogue, where a very full collation is given. He says: "The volume is barbarously printed with a worn out type. The paging is so incorrect that it is useless to attempt to say what the preceding numbers should have been ; they are all incorrect, many folios being entirely omitted. To the prologues to Leviticus and Deuteronomy are very large initial letters half the breadth of the page and 18 lines of text deep. They are curiously flourished, of the character of those used by Verard and other Paris printers in the early part of this century."

BIBLES IN ENGLISH. The Byble, that is to say all the holy Scripture: In whych are cōtayned the Olde and New Testamente, truly & purely trāslated into English, & nowe lately with greate industry & diligēce recognised. These bokes are to be solde by the lyttle conduyte in Chepesyde. Cum Priuilegio, &c. Folio. Black letter.*

This copy, which belonged successively to Mr. Lea Wilson and to Mr. John Dunn Gardner, is in the most perfect condition and with the original sides, though rebacked. "The translation is that of Matthews, with the slightest possible variations from the text of 1537. I mention this particularly, as it is usually set down as Taverner's."—Mr. Lea Wilson's catalogue, No. 15, where a full collation is given.

From Mr. Lea Wilson's collection, No. 16 in his catalogue. Among other peculiarities, Mr. Wilson remarks: "The volume has been evidently printed at two different presses. The whole of the first part and down to Fol. lxxxviii of the second, and the Apocrypha, are in a type differing entirely from the rest of the volume: particularly the running titles and the initial letters of all the chapters. In the parts above mentioned the names of the Almighty, Lorde and God, are printed in Roman capitals; in the latter parts they are not distinguished in the text."

— The whole Byble, that is the holy scripture of the Olde and Newe testament faythfully translated into Englyshe by Myles Couerdale and newly ouersene and correcte. M. D. L. A fine and perfect copy of this most rare edition. From the collections of Mr. Lea Wilson and Mr. Dunn Gardner. That the volume was printed at Zurich by Christopher Froschover is incontestably proved by the existence of a copy in the public library of that town with his name on the title. In all other known copies the title and preliminary leaves are of English execution, having been added by Hester when the impression reached this country, or by Jugge three years later. A very full and accurate collation of the book is given by Mr. Lea Wilson in his catalogue of English bibles, No. 19. There is in the library another copy of this Bible with facsimiles of the three titles with which it was at different times issued. 1. That given above. 2. The Zurich title, without date. 3. Jugge's title, 1553; and with the three leaves of table at the end, also in facsimile.

Matthews' version. No. 21 in Lea Wilson's Catalogue. Though Mr. Wilson's copy had the name of N. Hyll as the printer, it accords in every respect with this as to the collation, the edition having been published with the names of Hyll, Toy, Petyt & Wyghte simultaneously. The woodcut border to the title is the same as that which was used for Coverdale's Bible of 1535, but with the mottoes and texts in Latin.

First edition of the translation commonly known as the Genevan version, having been made by the English divines living in exile at Geneva during Queen Mary's reign. It became so popular that more editions of it were printed than of any other translation, between the date of its publication and 1611, notwithstanding that the "Bishops'" version was printed by royal authority in 1568. No. 25 in Lea Wilson's Catalogue.

The second folio edition of "the Bishops'" version. The portraits are retained, but the impressions are necessarily inferior. A full collation of the volume, and an account of its variations from the edition of 1568, are given in Lea Wilson's Catalogue, No. 37. The Book of Psalmes is given in two versions, that in "Roman type being headed, "The translation used in common prayer," and that in black letter, "The translation after the Hebrewes."

The Genevan version. The first edition of the Scriptures published in Scotland. The separate title to the New Testament bearing date 1576. It is usually known as "Bassandyne's Bible," that being the name of the Printer on the title-page of the New Testament. "At Edinburgh. Printed by Thomas Bassandyne. M.D.LXXVI." For some interesting particulars relative to the publication of this Bible, see Dr. Lee's Memorial for the Bible Societies in Scotland, and Anderson's History of the English Bible, vol. ii. p. 537.

The title-page to the Old Testament is in facsimile in this copy, but it is otherwise complete, with the three separate woodcuts. No. 45 in Mr. Lea Wilson's Catalogue.

The title-page engraved on copper, with the inscription: C. Boel fecit in Richmond.* BL. M.

The first edition of the "Royal" version. There was more than one issue of the same date. This is believed to be the earliest. The first line of the heading to the address or dedication to King James reads "TO THE MOST" without a paragraph mark preceding it. The first page has 27 lines, the catchword is "lution." "The translators to the reader," eleven pages (not 2 as described by Lowndes). Otherwise the collation given by Lowndes is correct. Mr. Lea Wilson had not the first issue of this date, and does not seem to have been aware that there was more than one. It is said that copies which were issued with the engraved title had not the letterpress title and vice versâ. This was purchased a few years since in a broken calf binding of the early part of the 18th century, and had no appearance of any letterpress title having been abstracted. That which is now inserted in it was taken from another copy, also in an old binding, which had not the engraved title.

A—li 6 in twelves.

There is a separate title to the New Testament ; but the signatures (some of which are marked very unusually up to the ninth leaf of the sheet) are continuous.

— The Holy Bible, containing the Old Testament and the New, with Notes. London, Printed by J. W. Pasham. 1776. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—Ddd 8 in twelves, and an engraved title-page.

This edition was printed with notes at the extreme of the bottom margin, to evade the law against Bibles without notes being printed by any one except the King's printer. When the Bibles were bound these notes were cut off.

— The Holy Bible, including the Old and New Testament, and the Apocrypha ; with explanatory Notes London, 1784. Folio. BL. M.

The Notes purport falsely to have been written by Pope Clement XIV. (Ganganelli) of whom a portrait faces the title. The translator calls himself “ an English divine, who is a sincere well-wisher to religious, as well as civil liberty.” His name does not appear to be known ; but he held latitudinarian opinions.

A Prologe in to the fyfte boke of Moses, called Deuteronomye. [No place or date.] In one volume. Sm. 8vo. R.

First edition of Tyndale's Pentateuch and the first appearance of any portion of the Scriptures, as such, in the English language. It is believed that the only other perfect copies known are those which belong respectively to the Grenville and Althorp collections. The only defect in this copy is that a small corner of the title to Genesis is repaired. It was acquired at Mr. Utterson's sale, and is erroneously cited by Lowndes as the edition of 1551. When purchased, the last leaf was in facsimile, but it has since been completed from another copy. A full collation of each part is given in Lowndes, 2nd ed. p. 1827.

BIBLES IN FRENCH. [Les livres de l'Ancien Testament, historiés en français par Julian Macho et Pierre Ferget. Sans lieu ni date.] Folio. Black letter. BR. M.

As this edition was unknown to Brunet, and is hitherto undescribed, a collation of it is of importance. It consists of 285 leaves, printed across the page. A full page contains 28 lines or occasionally only 27. It is thus composed : Table, 5 leaves ; sigs. a—z in eights ; ƒ, 8 leaves ; 2, 8 leaves ; A, 10 leaves ; B—I in eights (no sig. K) ; L, 6 leaves.

This copy was obtained at a sale in Paris in 1862, and so far as can be ascertained no other has ever been described. It is in very fine condition, and full of rough leaves. It conforms exactly in type and style of printing with the New Testament printed at Lyons by Barthelémy Buyer, also without date, but usually referred to the year 1473 or 1474. The paper has even the same watermark, a toothed wheel with lever, so that without doubt it came from the same press, and it is fair to suppose that the Old Testament would have preceded the New Testament in order of publication. The New Testament is a book of such great rarity, that M. Gustave Brunet, in "La France Littéraire au xv^e siècle," says, "M. Coste ne parvint pas, malgré tous ses efforts, à s'en procurer un pour sa collection lyonnaise," but it is believed that of this edition of the Old Testament this copy is unique. It is specially mentioned by M. Gustave Brunet (p. 199), but he makes the very serious error of representing it to have the date of 1472, and the printer's name, into which he had probably been led by the sale catalogue.

On referring to Brunet, "Manuel du Libraire", vol. i. col. 883, one might at first sight suppose that this was the edition there described, inasmuch as it contains the same number of leaves and is ascribed to the same press ; but it will be observed that while this is printed across the page with twenty-eight lines to the full page, that described by M. Brunet is printed in double columns with thirty-one lines to the page. By the time M. Brunet had reached the article "Testament," however, he appears to have heard of this edition, printed in long lines, twenty-eight to the page, and refers to the "Additions" to the "Manuel du Libraire" for a description of it; but unfortunately the veteran bibliographer was never able to complete these additions for publication.

In the catalogue of the sale at which this volume was purchased, it was spoken of as the earliest French book printed in France, but in the absence of a date it is impossible to say anything decisive on that head. The book which can lay claim to that honour will be found in this catalogue under "Voragine."

BIBLES IN FRENCH. Cy cōmence la bible en frācoys. [At the end of the last leaf of the table, second column.] Cy finit la table de ce p̄sent liure intitule la bible en frācois Imprimee a paris. [Sans date.] Folio. Black letter. BR. M.

As this copy differs in some respects from that described by Brunet (vol. i. col. 884) an exact collation is subjoined. First leaf quite blank (without any woodcut as described by Brunet, though it is certainly the original blank leaf). a—d in eights; e, 6 leaves; f and g, 8 each; h, 6; i, 8; k, 6; l and m, 8; n, 6; o and p, 8; q, 6; r and s, 8; t, 6; u, 8; x, 6; y, 8; z, 5. Table with sig. A, 4 leaves. The last folio is clxvii., on the verso of which is a large cut of the Crucifixion.

An. M. D. et xxx.* Folio. Black letter. BR. M.

This is the first complete edition of the Scriptures printed together in the French language, though Brunet states on the authority of Prosper Marchand, Dict. Histor. pt. i. p. 252, that it was preceded by an edition printed in six volumes from 1523 to 1528, partly at Paris and partly at Antwerp. It does not appear that he had seen any copy of it himself, nor is he able to name any library where a copy may be seen. He appears, however, to have seen the last volume of the Old Testament printed at Antwerp in 1528, and of that he gives a full description. This edition of 1530 has an additional interest from the fact that some of the types used in it are also employed in the editions of Tyndale's New Testament printed by Martin Lempereur.

— Le premier [et le second] volume de la Bible en francoys. Imprimé à Lyon pour Pierre Bailly, 1531. Folio. Woodcuts. Black letter. BR. M.

Two vols. in one. This is not a complete version of the Scriptures, but a Bible History.

Folio. BL. M.

First edition of the French protestant version of the Bible.

At the foot of the title to this copy is printed, in a similar type to the body of the book,—

“ A Jehan Ramu, ceste Bible appartient, Le vray Eden qui toutes fleurs contient.”

After the colophon occur the following lines :—

Lecteur entendz, si Verite adresse, viens donc ouyr instamēt sa promesse et vif parler : lequel en excellence veult asseurer nostre grelle esperance.
lesprit jesus qui visite et ordonne nos tendres meurs, icy sans cry estonne

Jesus querons veoir Eternellement.

Dr. Pettigrew, in the Bibliotheca Sussexiana, points out the curious fact that by taking the first letter of each word in these lines we obtain the following distich :—

Les Vaudois, Peuple Evangelique,
Ont mis ce Thresor en publique.

— La Bible, qui est toute la Saincte Esriture du Vieil et Nouveau Testament. A la Rochelle. 1616. Sm. 8vo. BLK. M.

— La Bible translatee de latin en Frācoys, au vray sens, pour les simples gens qui n'entēdent pas latin, corrige & Imprime nouvellement. A Paris par Pierre Regnault [s. d.]. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

This volume appears to be undescribed by Brunet. It is an abridged paraphrase of the historical portion of the Old Testament. It consists of 291 leaves numbered (including title) and seven not numbered, containing table, &c. The last leaf has only a woodcut on each side.

BIBLES IN GERMAN. [Deutsche Bibel. O.O.u. ƒ.] Folio. Two vols. bound in one. R.

First edition of the Scriptures in the German language. It consists of 405 leaves (including a blank leaf between the books of Psalms and Proverbs), with sixty lines to a full page, printed in two columns. It is fully described by Panzer, "Annalen der ältern deutschen Litteratur," No. 8, and both there and in Steinberger, "Ueber die zwei ältesten deutschen Bibeln." München 1787, 4to, the questions of where and by whom it was printed are discussed at length. On the authority of a MS. note in a copy preserved at Strasburg it was formerly attributed to the press of Fust and Schöffer, but it is now generally believed to have been printed at Strasburg by Egggesteyn about 1466. It begins on the recto of the first leaf,

ne gab. Do mit hat er &c.

It ends on the verso of the 405th leaf, col. ii. l. 40, followed by the subscription :—

Lobt den herren in seinen heyligen loßt in in d veste nung seiner tugent lobt in in seiner tugenden lobt in nach d meing seiner grössung. Amen.

From Dr. Hawtrey's Library.

[And on the reverse, the register.] [O.O.u. ƒ.] Folio. Woodcuts. BR. M.

This is the third complete edition of the Bible in German. It consists of 456 leaves, printed in double columns in a small and peculiar type. Its execution is by Hain, No. 3131, attributed to Jodocus Pflanzmann, of Augsburg; but by Panzer, No. 19, to Conrad Fyner, of Esslingen. It is divided into two parts, the first of which ends on the 221st leaf, with the Book of Psalms. The verso of this leaf is blank, and the Book of Proverbs begins on the 222nd leaf. There are numerous woodcuts throughout the volume.

The fourth edition of the German Bible. Hain, 3132. It is attributed to the press of Frisner and Sensenschmid of Nuremberg. The first leaf, which is not numbered, is blank on the recto, and on the verso is a register of the books of the Old Testament as far as the Psalter. The second leaf is marked iii. and the leaf on which the Psalter ends, is marked CClviii., though it is the 255th leaf. The next leaf, which is not numbered, is blank on the recto, and on the verso contains the register of the books to the end of the New Testament. On the next leaf begins the Book of Proverbs, it is incorrectly numbered CClxvi. and the following folios are very incorrectly marked till we come to the end of Maccabees, the last leaf of which is marked CCCviii., but it is the 409th leaf. The first leaf of the New Testament is marked ·1· on the right-hand corner of the verso, and the last leaf Ciiii. The whole volume, therefore, contains 513 leaves instead of 511, as described by Hain. Panzer was so uncertain as to the place of printing of this edition that he did not insert this volume in his "Geschichte der Nürnbergischen Ausgaben der Bibel," but there is little doubt that Hain's attribution of it to a Nuremberg press is correct. At the beginning of each book is a large historiated woodcut initial letter.

Fifth edition of the German Bible, printed with the types of Günther Zainer, Hain, 3134; Panzer, No. 12. Brunet gives only 416 numbered leaves to the Old Testament, instead of 421, as there really are, besides a half leaf unnumbered, between folios 185 and 186. The New Testament consists of 110 leaves.

The very curious woodcuts in these volumes originally appeared in a Bible. printed at Cologne, in the dialect of that district, about 1480.

"This is an edition of the greatest rarity. Goeze, in the 'Verzeichnis seiner Sammlung seltener und merkwürdiger Bibeln,' describing the last of two imperfect volumes which he possessed, says:—'Dieses ist ein Theil der höchst seltenen sogenannten Zürcher-Bibel, welche von 1525 (1527)-1529, in 6 Sedezbänden an das licht getreten ist. Ich habe solche nirgend, als in Palms 'Designatione codicum,' &c. p. xxvii. N. 169, vollständig gefunden. Mit der Palmischen Sammlung ist solche in die Braunschweigische übergegangen, woselbst solche S. 136, 137, No. 2-7, befindlich ist. Doch findet sich der Unterschied, dass in Palms 'Designatione' der erste Theil unter dem Jahre 1525. in der Braunschweig. Bibelsammlung aber unter 1527 angegeben wird. Die letzte Jahrzahl hat wohl die meiste Richtigkeit, da Clement 'Bibl. Cur.' t. iii. p. 358, einen Pentateuchum aniebt, der mit dieser Jahrzahl bezeichnet ist, auch Hottinger im 'Bibliothecario quadripart.' p. 154, den Anfang dieser Ausgabe in das Jahr 1527 setzt.

"The date, 1527, is at the end of vol. 1, and appended to each of the first three volumes, "Erklärung und Auslegung etlicher dunckler schwärer hebraischer wörter," &c. The book is beautifully printed in a peculiar type, a mixture of Roman and German; and at the commencement of each book, in the first and second volumes, are finely-executed initial letters."

"No other complete copy has been found recorded, except that mentioned by Goeze. Clement 'Bibl. Cur.' had only seen the Pentateuch. Adler 'Bibl. Biblica' only mentions the first volume; Franckius 'Bibl. Bunav.' the first and fourth."—Note from Mr. C. J. Stewart's Catalogue.

This copy has two leaves in facsimile in the Book of Malachi, but is otherwise perfect. Four volumes of this set were bought by Mr. Stewart at the sale of Mr. W. Pickering's books in 1854. The fifth was found about two years later by a clergyman, travelling in Switzerland; and the New Testament was discovered at Nuremberg in 1859.

"See Goeze, 'Verzeichnis seltener und merkwürdiger Bibeln' for a careful account of this edition, and for examples of the difference in translation between it and that of 1534, which was the next edition in order of publication. 'It is to be classed (he says) amongst the rarest editions of the Zurich version;' and he cites, among other authorities, Bünemann 'Catal. libr. rariss.,' who, describing an imperfect copy, writes, 'Certè opus rarissimum.'"

"It is believed to be the edition, certainly it is the version, used by Coverdale in his English translation, as may be seen by comparing the passages given by Goeze in parallel columns of this edition and that of 1534."—Note from Mr. C. J. Stewart's Catalogue.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves. Folios i-ccccclxxviii.

A Catholic version, concerning which Le Long has quoted the criticisms of four different writers, none of whom speak very highly of its merits. It is curious, as containing the Epistle to the Laodiceans. By Mayer it is characterized as Luther's version disfigured by the insertion of Bavarian idioms.

This edition of the Bible is of very great interest and value for the woodcuts which it contains. Though printed two years earlier than the volume entitled, "Historiarum Veteris instrumenti icones," and commonly known as "Holbein's Bible cuts," it contains a complete series of cuts engraved from the same designs. Some of the cuts bear the monogram of Virgilius Solis, and they must no doubt have been engraved by him and Lützelburger from a common original. It is remarkable that Nagler should not make any mention of these engravings in his "Künstler Lexicon," though he gives a very full list of the works of Virgilius Solis, including the Bibles which he illustrated at a later date. It is to be presumed that this edition never came under his notice.

This was the last edition of his translation of the Bible which Luther revised himself.

Vol. I. Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves ; the eighth bearing a woodcut of the Creation on the verso, the recto blank, pp. 1-350. Vol. II. Title, 1 leaf. Pp. 2-411. "Dem christlichen leser," 1 leaf.

Inserted in this Bible is an autograph letter of Martin Luther addressed to Barbara Lysfirth, of Freiburg, and dated Ultima Aprilis, 1531. Also a dedicatory epistle, on the fly-leaves of a book, in the autograph of Philip Melancthon, addressed to Hermann Huddæus, of Plinden.

From Dr. Hawtrey's library.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves ; b—z in eights, followed by sigs. z and ē, eight leaves each ; A—I in eights ; K—M in sixes ; N and O in eights ; P and Q sixes. R—oo in eights ; pp and qq in sixes. The pages are not numbered. This is in fact the earliest edition of the Bible in the Low German dialect, for, according to Panzer, the Cologne Bible, printed about 1480, is rather in Dutch than Low German, though usually described as such. The wood engravings in this volume are very remarkable, and though some of them are very grotesque they display a great amount of invention and artistic skill, and have also the great merit of being quite original.

This was the last edition of the Bible printed in the Low German dialect before the Reformation. The woodcuts used in it are from the same blocks as those in the Bible printed at Cologne without date, and again employed in Koberger's edition of 1483. There are also some cuts dated 1520 with the monogram engraved by Nagler in his "Monogrammisten Lexicon," vol. ii. No. 65, where the artist is described as an unknown wood engraver of the early Saxon School. A very full description of the book will be found in Götze's "Geschichte der Niedersächsischen Bibeln."

BIBLE IN ICELANDIC. Biblia þad Er, Oll Heilög Ritning, vtlögd a Norrænu. Med Formalum Doct. Martini Lutheri. Prentad a Holum, Af Fone Fons Syne. MDLXXXIII. [Colophon.] Hetta Bibliu verk var endad a Holum i Hiallta dal, af Fone Fons Syne, þa ñ vi. Dag Júnii. Año Domini. MDLXXXIII. Folio. BR. M.

The title as above is printed in black and red within a handsome woodcut border. At the back is the King of Denmark's permission to print, addressed to "Gudbrand Torlaksson" dated "Friderichs Borg, thend xix. dag Aprilis, Aar etct. M. D. LXXIX." The four following leaves contain Luther's preface to the Bible, and the sixth leaf contains on the verso the names of the various books of the Bible, while the recto is quite blank. Then follows the text with folios i—ccxcv. or signatures A—Zz in sixes, followed by þþ, six leaves, and Aaa, seven leaves. (Note that the sig. þ, the icelandic letter th, comes after z in both alphabets). Then comes a fresh title, "Allar Spamaña Bakurnar, vtlagdar a Norrænu. MDLXXXIII," enclosed in the same woodcut border as the previous one. This title and the prefaces occupy the four unnumbered leaves. The text of the remainder of the Old Testament follows with folios i—cxcii. Sigs. A—O in sixes; P, 4 leaves; Q—Hh in sixes (þ coming between Z and Aa). Then the title to the New Testament, "Nyia Testamentum, a Norrænu. 1584," within the same woodcut border as the title to the Old Testament. Folios i—cxxiv. Sigs. A—Xv. in sixes, the last leaf being wrongly marked Xiii.

Of this noble monument of early Icelandic Typography 1,000 copies were printed, but perfect copies are now of the rarest occurrence. It was completed by the exertions of Gudbrandur Thorlakson, Lutheran Bishop of Hólar, whose address to the reader is found on the recto of the last leaf. It is evident that the woodcuts are of Icelandic workmanship, and many of the ornamental initial letters are of very fine design. They are said to have been engraved by Bishop Gudbrandur Thorlakson himself, and this is borne out by the fact that his initials G. T. are cut in the border to the title-page. At the beginning of Genesis is a very fine ornamental letter I in which is engraved the date of 1583. A full account of the early Icelandic press, and of this book, will be found in Henderson's "Journal in Iceland."

— Biblia Latina, versio vulgata, cum prologo Sancti Hieronymi. MS. on vellum of the latter part of the XIVth century or early in the XVth. Probably written in Germany. Folio. BR. M.

At the end of the Old Testament is the following inscription: "Pour fr̄e Christin Richard docteur en theol. pere et provincial de la province de France de l'ordre S. Augustin 1574."

— Libri Salomonis, Proverbia, Ecclesiastes, Cantica, Sapientia, Ecclesiasticus. Epistolæ Sancti Pauli. Epistola S. Jacobi. Epistola Sancti Petri. Epistolæ S. Johannis. Epistola S. Jude. MS. on vellum of the end of the XVth century. Of Italian execution. Small folio.

This MS. is chiefly remarkable for the calligraphy. It is written with such finish and regularity that it has every appearance of a printed book. It contains six small miniatures of high finish and 279 illuminated initial letters. The larger ones of these are very beautiful specimens of decorative art.

— [BIBLIA LATINA, È TRANSLATIONE ET CUM PREFATIONIBUS S. HIERONYMI. Sine loco aut anno]. 2 vols. Folio. BL. M.

Editio princeps of the Latin vulgate, commonly known as the Mazarine Bible, from the fact that the copy in the Mazarine Library was first recognized as a Bible to be specially distinguished as the work of Guttenberg. It was at a later period that a copy was found in the National Library at Paris, bearing a MS. subscription by the illuminator which approximately fixes the date of the book. Some fragments of the grammatical treatise of Donatus are in existence which are believed to have been executed earlier, as well as a Letter of Indulgence, both, like the Bible, printed with movable types; but the work above described is beyond dispute the first important effort of Guttenberg, the great inventor of the Art of Printing.

Two sorts of copies of the Mazarine Bible are met with. The first is that issued by Guttenberg himself, about 1455, of which no copy on vellum is known, and the second is the issue made by Fust in or after 1456, when he had legally robbed the inventor of his whole stock of types and copies. It is to this second issue that all the vellum copies (and also most of the paper copies) belong. The variation between the two issues is easily discovered: in the second issue, the first five leaves, as well as one at the beginning of Maccabees, where a division into two volumes might have been intended, were reprinted so as to occupy, by the means of newly-cut types of abbreviations, only forty lines per column instead of forty-two as in the original book. Why Fust did not reprint them in exact conformity cannot be ascertained. It might have been a desire to display fresh additions to the old type, which had been cast by Schoeffer for him after the severance from Gutenberg ; or it might have been to make the Bible seem a different edition. Whatever was the cause, the fact remains, and it gives a priority to the unmixed issue on paper, to which the copy now described belongs, over the copies printed on vellum. See Bernard, "De l'Origine de l'Imprimerie."

The present copy is quite perfect, very clean, and, for the most part, uncut. Even the MS. memoranda of signatures, and numbers of chapters, still remain at the foot and on the margins of the pages, being, most probably, in the handwriting of Gutenberg himself. From the libraries of Sir M. M. Sykes and Mr. Henry Perkins.

The first edition of the Bible printed with a date. There is also in the Library a copy printed on paper, and this affords the opportunity of giving a specimen of the variations in the two impressions. Whether all paper and vellum copies vary in the same manner is another question, but the following extracts will be of assistance in comparing other copies :—

Psalm lxxxvii. last two verses.

„ lxxxviii. first verse.

In the last psalm again, several minor variations may be observed, which are sufficient to show that the page must have been twice composed. The paper copy ends vol. i. with the word Alleluia, but in the vellum is printed Explicit psalteriuꝫ. And beneath :—

Anno M. (Printer's mark) cccc.lxii.

In the paper copy also a great proportion of the headings of the psalms are left blank, but are printed in red in the vellum copy.

Vol. ii. opens again with such variations between the two copies as to show that the types must certainly have been set twice, at any rate for considerable portions of the book. The vellum copy reads in St. Jerome's preface to the books of Solomon :—

[J]ungat epistola quos iungit sacerdotium :
 immo carta nō diuidat : quos xp̄i nectit

The preface to the New Testament again begins :—

IN THE PAPER.

And at the end of the Apocalypse in the vellum copy is the line, in red letters :—

“ Explicit liber apocalips' beati iohānis apl'i ” which is not found at all in the paper. The colophon in the vellum copy reads :—

and in the paper :—

M. Bernard, in his treatise “ De l'origine de l'imprimerie en Europe,” has noticed the variations which are found in different copies, but does not say whether the variations are between copies printed on vellum and paper, or whether they occur indiscriminately. He prints two colophons, but the second one which he gives differs from both of the above in omitting the words which indicate the mode in which the work was produced. The colophon given by Dibdin, from Lord Spencer's vellum copy, agrees exactly with the vellum copy now described.

BIBLES IN LATIN. [Biblia Sacra versionis vulgatæ, cum Epistola Sancti Hieronymi. Absque notâ.] 2 vols. Folio. G. M.

This edition is described by Hain, No. 3036, as the second edition printed at Strasburg by H. Eggesteyn. Vol. i. contains 248 leaves ; Vol. ii. 244 leaves. In the Wolfenbüttel collection is a copy which has at the end of vol. i., in ancient MS., "Explicit Psalterium, Bamler 1466".

Another copy, formerly in the library of St. John of Jerusalem at Strasburg, had at the end in MS. "p magtm henricum Eggesteyn Anno lxxviii." and in the Royal Library at Munich is a third copy with a MS. inscription, "24 Mai 1466." By an inscription on the first leaf, this copy appears to have belonged formerly to the Convent of St. Peter at Salzburg.

BIBLES IN LATIN. [Biblia Sacra versionis vulgatæ. Sine loco aut anno.] 2 vols. Folio. R. M.

This edition is attributed by Hain to the press of Bernard Richel of Basle. It is most elaborately described by him in the "Repertorium Bibliographicum," v. i. No. 3053, and again by Dr. Pettigrew in the "Bibliotheca Sussexiana."

“This very rare version of the Bible has given rise to endless controversies. David Clement, in the ‘Bibliothèque Curieuse,’ devotes several pages to a summary of its peculiarities, and finishes with the following sentence: ‘Tout ceci est clair et ne souffre aucune difficulté; mais il n’est pas si facile de découvrir l’auteur de cette version, ou plutôt de cette misérable correction de la Vulgate. Je ne m’arrêterai pas à raconter les conjectures que les savans ont répandu à pleines mains sur cet article. Il faudroit composer un volume entier pour le faire avec exactitude. Je me contenterai d'indiquer les principales pièces que l'on pourra consulter, pour s'instruire de leurs opinions.' He then goes on to give a summary of the various opinions which have been advanced upon the subject, one of the most curious of which was raised by the discovery of a copy in the celebrated library of M. Ebner, from the fact that it bears on the title-page the following inscriptions: 'Georgius Esching, anno 1529.' 'N. T. Latinè ex Germanica Mart. Lutheri versione redditum à M. Bucero. Retinuit autem secum Dom. Lutherus integri triennii spatio, cum cognovisset, quam perfidiose Bucerus Psalterium D. Joh. Pomerani germanicè versum edidisset.' Clement endeavours to overthrow this testimony altogether; but Masch more impartially considered the fact to be well worthy of notice. See 'Le Long, Biblioth. Sacra, ed. Masch.' G. Esching was a pastor in the district of Anspach. It is worthy of remark, that in the list of the books of the N. T., the Epistle to the Hebrews, the Epistles of SS. James and Jude, and the Apocalypse, are excluded from the Canon; and it is the only edition in which the Reformers ventured on such a step. The edition does not appear in Adler's 'Bibliotheca Biblica,' the 'Bibliotheca Sussexiana,' the Bodleian Catalogue, or in the British Museum."—Note by Mr. C. J. Stewart.

BIBLE HISTORY IN FLEMISH. MS. of the XVth century, written on vellum, and enriched with 120 pen and ink drawings illustrating the Old Testament history. The work itself extends to the book of Maccabees, but the drawings go no farther than the book of Ruth. A summary of each chapter is given, and followed by a commentary. Folio.

The drawings in this volume are most remarkable for the high character of the design and the great skill with which they are executed. The grace of the figures, the expression given to the faces, and the richness of the draperies are such as one very rarely meets with before the Dürer period.

BIBLIA PAUPERUM. MS. on vellum of Flemish execution, on seven leaves of vellum. 4to. Size, 12 in. by 10 in.

This very remarkable MS. was probably executed in West Flanders about the year 1530. It contains 53 designs drawn in pen and ink, with 13 lines of Flemish verse beneath each. There are 4 designs on each page placed opposite to one another, that on the left exhibits a scene from the life of Christ, and that on the right portrays the type taken from the Old Testament. Some of these types can hardly be considered to be very apposite, as, for example, David slaying Goliath with a stone, is the type of the Devil asking Christ to turn stones into bread. Judith entering the city with the head of Holofernes, is the type of Christ's entry into Jerusalem. Solomon kneeling before Bathsheba, prefigures the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin. Many of the designs are executed with considerable grace and beauty of drawing.

A facsimile of this very interesting MS. was made in Belgium some years since to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Society of Flemish Bibliophiles. Forty copies only were struck off, for the members of the Society, and all of them were printed on vellum.

BIBLIA PAUPERUM. Reprinted in Facsimile from the original Block Book in the British Museum. With an Historical and Bibliographical Introduction by J. P. Berjeau. London. 1859. 4to.

BIBLICÆ ICONES. A Series of 58 most remarkable Paintings on vellum, of subjects taken from the Bible history, comprising the stories of Adam and Eve, Cain and Abel, Lamech, Noah, the Tower of Babel, Isaac, Joseph, the Temptation of Christ, the Last Supper, the Day of Judgment, &c. executed in fine harmony of colour, with burnished gold backgrounds. From the headings of several of the pictures being in very old French, it may be considered as an important monument of early French art, for it may fairly be assigned to the 12th century. Though rude in execution, these drawings display a fine feeling and elevated tone that we do not find in later productions. They might well have served for models for the stained glass of the period to which they belong.

By Maister Blundeuille of Newton Flotman in Norfolk. Imprinted at London by Peter Short dwelling on Bredstreet hill at the sign of the Star, 1597. 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. G. M.

A—Hh 6 in eights, no signature Z.

Mr. Corser's copy. Dedicated to the Earl of Leicester. Blundeville, like other English writers on this subject, borrowed considerably from the Italian authors who had preceded him. Each of the several portions has a new title.

BOCCACCIO, GIOVANNI. Il Decamerone nrovamente corretto et con diligentia stampato. Impresso in Firenze per li heredi di Philippo di Giunta nell' anno del Signore .M.D.XXVII. adi xiiij. del Mesc daprile. 4to. BL. M.

A very beautiful copy of this celebrated edition. It has successively belonged to the libraries of Mr. Inglis, Mr. Hanrott, and Sir John Hippisley.

A very fine copy, with rough leaves, in the original pigskin binding. It consists of 12 preliminary leaves (the first blank), and 386 leaves for the book itself, with 38 lines to the page. The folios run from 1 to 390, but folios 7, 8, 9, and 136 are omitted.

The first edition in the German language. Panzer gives a very full account of it, but it would appear that the copy he had under his eye did not contain the subscription or colophon "Geendet zu Ulm." Of this impression with the colophon he makes a separate article, saying that he had not seen it, and did not know whether the editions were identical or not, but Hassler, in his "Geschichte der Buchdruckerkunst zu Ulm," has shown that they are so. Hain, also, had seen only the edition without the subscription. Panzer says that the translator of the edition of 1782 was not aware of the existence of any edition earlier than that printed at Augsburg, 1490.

BOCCACCIO, GIOVANNI. The Decameron containing An hundred pleasant Nouels. Wittily discoursed, betweene seauen Honourable Ladies, and three Noble Gentlemen. London, printed by Isaac Iaggard, 1620. The Decameron containing An hundred pleasant Nouels. Wittily discoursed, betweene seuen Honourable Ladies, and three Noble Gentlemen. The last Fiuë Dayes. London, Printed by Isaac Iaggard. 1620. Folio. Woodcuts. R. M.

The first part. A—V in sixes; Aa, 8 leaves; Bb—Nn in sixes, the last leaf blank, and the last but one bearing the errata only. Part ii. First leaf blank, followed by title, dedication, and "To the Reader," together 4 leaves; ¶—¶¶¶ ii in fours; B—Zz in fours; Aaa, 6 leaves.

This is the first complete edition of the Decameron in English, but portions of it had been translated into verse by different persons at an earlier period. Both parts are dedicated to "Sir Phillip Herbert . . . Earle of Montgomery," by the anonymous translator, but the introductory matter gives no clue to his identity.

Of the first part a second edition was published in 1625, under the title of "The Modell of Wit, Mirth, Eloquence, and Conversation. Framed in Ten Dayes, of an hundred curious Pieces, by seven Honourable Ladies, and three Noble Gentlemen. Presented to Posterity by the Renowned Iohn Boccacio, the first Refiner of Italian prose: and now translated into English. Printed by Isaac Iaggard, for Matthew Lownes, 1625." There is a copy of this in the library. It is a genuine second edition, having been reprinted throughout, and not merely the 1620 edition with a new title, as the change in the wording of the title-page might lead us to suppose. It is, however, the same text, though the collation is somewhat different. The 1625 edition collates, A—V in sixes, the first leaf blank; Aa—Nn in sixes, the last leaf blank. Of "The last Fiuë dayes" no second edition appeared.

The entry of "The Decameron" at Stationers' Hall is in these terms:—

"22^o. Martii 1619 [i.e. 20].

Master William Jaggard. Entred for his copie vnder the handes of Master recalled by my lord of TAUERNOR and Master Swinhowe warden. A booke Called The Decameron of Master John Boccace, Florentine."

It is evident, however, that the prohibition was soon withdrawn.

— Libro llamado Fiameta porque trata de los amores de una notable dueña napolitana llamada Fiameta, el qual compuso el famoso Juan vocacio poeta florentino. . . . [Colophon.] . . . Lixboa por Luys Rodriguez. . . . 1541. 4to. Black letter.

This translation is attributed by Salvá to Pedro Rocha of Tarragona. There are two editions besides the above—one printed at Salamanca in 1497, the other at Seville in 1523. Salvá says: "Una de las principales causas que contribuyeron á hacer tan raras las tres ediciones de este libro, fué sin duda la de hallarse prohibido por la Inquisicion."

Though this book has usually been attributed to Boccaccio, and is therefore placed under his name, the Doctor Anicio Bonucci, has shown in the third volume of the "Opere Volgari di Leon Battista Alberti" that the "Fiammetta" and "Lettera a Messer Pino," which have long been stumbling-blocks in the way of the biographers of Boccaccio, were written not by him but by Alberti.

A & B, 8 leaves each (A, 1 blank); C—L, 6 leaves each; the last leaf blank. Sig. D is erroneously marked B. See Campbell, "Typ. Neerl.," 294.

This edition was only known to Brunet by the citation of other bibliographers, and he gives currency to the error that Heerstraten printed an edition in 1484, but it is quite certain that no such edition exists.

— Hienach volget der kurz syn von etlichē frawen von denen Johannes Boccacius in latein bescriben, vnd Doctor Hainrich Stainhöwel geteutschet hat.

MS. of the fifteenth century on paper, enriched with 73 coloured drawings.

If not the autograph MS. of the translator, this is certainly a contemporary MS., and the drawings appear to be original designs and not copies of the woodcuts in the edition printed at Ulm in 1473. This is shown by the fact that, though the general design is the same in both, the drawing is altogether different, and there is an entire absence of any servile imitation.

Title and table, 4 leaves; folios, 1-127.

This translation appears to have been made in 1422 by "Jhuan Alfonso de Camora." The first Spanish edition was printed at Seville in 1495, but that was a different translation. This edition of 1511 is mentioned by Brunet but not described, and no edition of the book is in Señor Salvá's catalogue.

BOCCACCIO, GIOVANNI. A Treatise excellent and compēdious, shewing and declaring, in maner of Tragedye, the falles of sondry most notable Princes and Princesses with other Nobles, through y^e mutabilitie and change of vnstedfast Fortune together with their most detestable & wicked vices. First compyled in Latin by the excellent Clerke Bocatius, an Italian borne. And sence that tyme translated into our English and Vulgare tong, by Dan John Lidgate Monke of Burye. And nowe newly imprynted, corrected, and augmented out of diuerse and sundry olde written copies in parchment. In ædibus Richardi Tottelli. Cum priuilegio. [Col.] Imprinted at London in Fletestrete within Temple barre at the sygne of the hande and starre, by Richard Tottel, the .x. day of September in the yeare of oure Lorde. 1554. Cum Priuilegio, &c. Folio. Black letter. Woodcuts. BL. M.

Title and table, 6 leaves; A—Y in sixes (no Z); A—Pp in sixes; The daunce of Machabre, 6 leaves marked CC.

The title is within a woodcut border. This edition, the third, is much more uncommon than those printed by Wayland. From Mr. Prince's collection.

— The tragedies, gathered by Jhon Bochus, of all such Princes as fell from theyr estates throughe the mutability of Fortune since the creacion of Adam, vntil his time: wherin may be seen what vices bring menne to destruccion, wyth notable warnings howe the like may be auoyded. Translated into Englysh by John Lidgate, Monke of Burye. Imprinted at London, by John Wayland, at the signe of the Sunne oueragainst the Conduite in Flete-strete. Cum priuilegio per Septennium. [1555.] Folio. Black letter. R. M.

Title and table, 6 leaves; A—Y in sixes; Z, 4 leaves; followed by five other signatures of six leaves each, with peculiar typographical marks, then Aa—Gg iij. in sixes.

This is the impression cited by Herbert in his edition of "Ames," p. 565, though he does not give the collation quite clearly.

BOCCHIUS, ACHILLES. Symbolicarum quæstionum de universo genere quas serio ludebat libri quinque. Bononiæ, in ædib. novæ academæ Boechianæ. 1555. 4to. R. M.

The engravings in this volume, 151 in number, are by Giulio Bonasone of Bologna, who, according to Nagler, is believed to have been a pupil of Marc Antonio Raimondi.

BOCHIUS, JOANNES. Descriptio publicæ gratulationis spectaculorum et ludorum in adventu . . . Ernesti Archiducis Austriæ, An. M.D.XCIII. XVIII. Kal. Julias aliisque diebus Antverpiæ editorum. Antuerpiæ. 1595. Folio. Plates.

Pp. 1-174, including title. Approbatio and imprint, 1 leaf, concluding with a long folding plate of a procession.

BODENHAM, JOHN. Bel-vedère: Or The Garden of the Mvses. Quem referent Musæ, &c. Imprinted at London by F. K. for Hugh Astley, dwelling at Saint Magnus corner. 1600. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—R in eights, title on A 2.

The arms of Bodenham are on A 6 verso. There are complimentary verses by A[nthony] M[unday], A. B., W. Rankins, gent., and R. Hathway.

BODLEY, SIR THOMAS. The Life of S^r. Thomas Bodley, The Honorable Fovnder of the Pvblique Library in the Vniversity of Oxford. Written by Himselſe. Oxford, Printed by Henry Hall Printer to the Universitie. 1647. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—C in fours.

This autobiographical narrative goes down to December 15, 1609. Bodley died January 29, 1612-1613, and was buried at Merton College, Oxford, where he was educated.

BODRUGAN, NICHOLAS (otherwise ADAMS). An Epitome of the title that the Kynges Maieſtie of Englande, hath to the ſouereigntie of Scotlande, continued vpon the auncient writers of both nacions, from the beginnyng. M.D.XLVIII. Cvm Privilegio . . . [Col.] Excusum Londini, in Ædibus Richardi Graftoni, Typographi Regii. M.D.XLVIII . . . Sm. 8vo. Black letter. R. M.

A—H 7 in eights, H 7 bearing the colophon only. The last leaf was doubtless blank. The copy which belonged to the White Knights Library and to Heber is now in the Grenville collection. Lowndes does not cite any other. To Herbert the book was known only by name, and he was unable to give any description of it.

BOEMUS, JOHANNES. The Fardle of facions containing the aunciente maners, customes, and Lawes, of the peoples enhabiting the two partes of the earth, called Affrike and Asie. Printed at London by Jhon Kingston and Henry Sutton. 1555. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. BL. M.

Title, within a border, and dedication to the Earl of Arundel, 4 leaves, the last blank: A—Z 3 in eights. The colophon is: "Imprinted at London by John Kyngston and Henrie Sutton. The .xxii. daye of December. Anno Domini. M.D.LV."

George Steevens's copy.

It appears from the prefatory matter that this translation was begun, and about a fourth part finished, when the translator, W. Waterman, dissatisfied with it, laid it aside, and only resumed it when he found that a French version had been favourably received. See Collier's "Poetical Decameron," vol. ii. pp. 202—205, where it is spoken of "as containing an incidental blow at the theatrical amusements in England as they existed about the year 1555."

BOETIUS. De Consolatione Philosophiæ. Horatius de arte poetica et libri ii. Epistolarum. MS. on vellum, written in the Gothic character at the early part of the 15th century. — Consolationis Philosophiæ libri v. cum notis variorum. Lugd. Bat. 1671. 8vo.

— De Consolatione [sic] philosophiæ. The boke of Boecius, called the comforte of philosophye, or wysedome, moche necessary for all men to read and know, wherein such as be in aduersitie, shall fynde muche consolation and comforte, and suche as be in great worldly prosperitie may knowe the vanitie and frailtie therof, and consequently fynde eternall felycytie. And this boke is in maner of a dialoge or communication betwene two persones, the one is Boecius, and the other is Philosophy, whose disputations and argumentes do playnly declare the diuersitie of the lyfe actiue, that consisteth in worldly, temporall, and transitory thynges, and the lyfe contemplatyue, that alwayes dyspyseth the worlde, and all thinges therin, and beholdeth almyghtye God, and all heauenlye thynges. Translated out of latin into the Englyshe tounge by George Coluile, alias Coldewel, to thintent that such as be ignoraunt in the Latin tounge, and can rede Englyshe, maye vnderstande the same. And to the mergentes is added the Latin, to the end that suche as delyghte in the Latin tonge may rede the Latin, accordyng to the boke of the translatour, whiche was a very olde prynte. Anno. Title and preliminaries, 12 leaves, pp. 1-252. Table, 14 leaves.

The first edition of this book was put forth by the same publisher in 1602, and Brunet mentions subsequent editions of Paris, 1603, Rouen, 1606, and Lyons, 1608, which last strangely enough is called on the title, the second edition, whereas it must be at least the fifth edition. This real second edition was unknown to Brunet. As a specimen of thorough-going belief in witchcraft the book is most curious.

A, 2 leaves; B—H in eights. With a portrait.

From the libraries of Sir F. Freeling and Mr. Corser. In Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," part 2, pp. 310-12, will be found an article on the volume, pointing out that it is altogether an extraordinary specimen, from beginning to end, of literary imposture. Mr. Corser also furnishes some account of the author, who produced other works. In those pieces which he has borrowed or "conveyed" from Herrick, Bold has exaggerated Herrick's grossness. In the present copy signature B is in duplicate, with variations.

BOLSWERT, BOET. A. Vita Jesu Christi. See BOURGHESIUS.

BOLTON, EDMUND. The Elements of Armories. At London Printed by George Eld. 1610. 4to. Woodcuts.

Title, 1 leaf; dedication to Henry, Earl of Northampton, 1 leaf. "The opinions, and offices of sundry choyce, and qualified gentlemen" [Sir W. Segar, W. Camden, Thomas Bedingsfield, and Sir John Beaumont], and commendatory verses by H. C. and Hugh Holland, altogether, 4 leaves; the Author to the Reader, 2 leaves; the work, B—Ee in fours. The verses by H. C. have been thought to be from the pen of Henry Constable; those by Beaumont are dated from Grace-Dieu, Leicestershire, 29 November, 1609. The present copy is uncut.

Venetia per Feronimo di sancti & Cornelio suo compagno.* 1487. 4to. Woodcuts.

This edition was altogether unknown to Panzer, Hain, and Gamba. Brunet just mentions it, but had evidently never seen it, since he describes it as containing only seven wood engravings, whereas, in fact, it contains eleven, the first being printed on the verso of the leaf which forms A1, the recto being quite blank. These engravings are of a very remarkable character. It has been suggested that they were originally engraved for an Italian block book, and this suggestion is borne out by the appearance of the blocks, which look very much as if there had been a piece sawn off the bottom, which might well have been a xylographic description. The volume consists of 40 leaves, with signatures A to E in eights.

— Incominciano le devote meditatione sopra la passione del nostro signore . . . Impresse in Venetia per Matheo di codecha da Parma. 1489. a di xxvii de Febuario. 4to. R. M.

This edition has also 11 woodcuts, but they are of a totally different character from those in the edition of 1487, described above.

— Hiere begynneth the proheme of the booke that is cleped the mirour of the blessedde lyf of Jhesu cryst. Folio. BR. M.

MS. on 115 leaves of vellum, by an English scribe, of the early part of the fifteenth century. The capitals are either rubricated or gilt, and those at the beginning of chapters are elegantly floriated. The title given above occurs on the third leaf. This work of Bonaventura was very popular in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. See Blades' "Life of Caxton," ii. 196.

a—tiv. in eights; ai. is blank, and tiv. bears only Caxton's large device on the verso.

This volume is entirely perfect, and measures $10\frac{7}{8}$ by $7\frac{1}{2}$ in. It is one of the copies described by Mr. Blades as incomplete, but it has been perfected from another copy described by him, which was formerly in Mr. Corser's library. It is, therefore, the fourth perfect copy known, the others being in the libraries of the Earl of Ashburnham, Earl Spencer, and Cambridge University.

Aa—Bb, 6 leaves each; a—z in sixes; A—X in sixes; A (repeated)—F in sixes; G—H in fours. With three folding illustrations at ffs. 31, 49, 85, besides other cuts. On the last page is Caxton's device without W. de Worde's name.

The original edition appeared in 1526 from the press of Pynson, but that did not contain "The rosary of our Saviour," see Herbert, pp. 275-6. Herbert says, "I do not find the author's name mentioned anywhere in this book; but in a little treatise entitled, 'A dayly exercise and experience of deathe,' by 'Richard Whytforde the olde wretche of Syon,' printed by Rob. Redman, 'William Bonde, a bachelor of deuinyte, and one of his deuoute bretherne lately departed,' is cited as the author of the 'pilgrymage of perfeccyon.'" This is one of the books which, rightly or wrongly, Bunyan is supposed to have perused. It is a very rare circumstance to find in one of W. de Worde's later publications the device, which, as a rule, he used only while he remained in Caxton's house, or at least at Westminster, before he established himself in Fleet Street.

BONDE, CIMELGUS. *Scutum Regale, The Royal Buckler; Or, Vox Legis, a Lecture to Traytors: Who most wickedly murdered Charles the I, and Contrary to all Law and Religion banished Charles the II. 3^d Monarch of Great Britain, &c. Title and frontispiece, 2 leaves; A, 8 leaves; portrait of Charles II. and leaf of dedication, 2 leaves; B—Dd 5 in eights, but 9 leaves in Cc, and a very curious folding print of a shepherd and his flock, before Dd.

At the end of the volume is a poem in Latin and English, supposed to be written by the shepherd who is figured in the plate; and on the last leaf are some verses, entitled "Repentance for the Murther of Charles the Martyr," which are signed with the initials of the author. There are also verses, both at the beginning and end of the volume, signed T.[homas] F.[ord.]

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves, pp. 1-72.

BONNER, EDMUND, BISHOP OF LONDON. A profitable and necessary doctrine with certayne homelies adioyned thervnto set forth by the reuerēd father in God, Edmunde Bishop of London, for the instruction and enformation of the people being within his diocesse of London, & of his cure and charge. Homelies sette fourth by Edmunde Bishop of London, not onely promised before in his booke, intituled A necessary doctrine, but also now of late adioyned and added thereunto to be reade within his diocesse of London, of all persons, vycars, and curates, vnto their parishioners, vpon sondaies & holydaies, Anno. MD.LV. [Colophon.] Imprinted at London in Poules churchyarde, at the sygne of the holy ghoste, by John Carwodde, Prynter to the Kyng and Queenes Maiestyes. Cum priuilegio Regie maiestatis. In one vol. 4to. Black letter. B.L.M.

The "Necessary Doctrine" has A—ccc in fours; following sig. Z is sig. a, 2 leaves, and aa, 2 leaves. The "Homilies" has A—T 2 in fours.

From the Library of the Rev. Theod. Williams. There are two, or perhaps more, editions of this work. The first may be distinguished by having a list of errata at the end which is corrected in the second. The running headline is in Italic letter in the first edition, and in black letter in the second. The copy described above is of the second issue.

This is the edition described by Brunet as "Édition à peine connue, et, par conséquent, de la plus grande rareté." Brunet goes on to say that the signatures begin only with the letter b; but here he is mistaken, for sig. a is marked, though in a very singular manner. It consists of only 4 leaves, and on the verso of the last of the four is found sig. ai, placed at the right-hand corner of the inner column. aii. and aiii. are found in the same position on the third and second leaves, but the first is altogether without signature. All the other signatures have eight leaves, except z, which ends on ziii.

A comparison of the types in this book with those of the "Nouveau Testament" printed at Lyons, by Bartholomé Buyer, shows that the two books certainly proceeded from the same press. In the New Testament, and the unique copy of the books of the Old Testament abridged (for which see under Bible), we find the large capitals printed, but in this volume they are all put in by hand. It would therefore seem probable that this book was printed before either of those. It appears to have been known to Brunet only through the copy on vellum in the National Library at Paris.

BOOK OF CHRISTIAN PRAYERS. A Booke of Christian Prayers, collected out of the aunciēt writers, and best learned in our tyme, worthy to be read with an earnest mynde of all Christians in these daungerous and troublesome dayes, that God for Christes sake will yet still be mercyfull vnto vs. *At London, Printed by Iohn Daye, dwellyng ouer Aldersgate. 1578. Title, 1 leaf; to the Reader, signed R[ichard] D[ay], 5 leaves; then B—O o in fours, the last page having the device and colophon. No sig. Z. On the back of the title is a portrait of Queen Elizabeth in the attitude of prayer.

Second edition, of the greatest rarity, in a perfect state and in good condition. It was unseen by Herbert, and Lowndes does not refer to any copy. The richly-tooled sides of the original binding, with the initials E. G., have been let into the cover.

BOOK OF CHRISTIAN PRAYERS. A Booke of Christian Praiers, collected out of the ancient Writers, and best learned in our time; worthy to be read with an earnest minde of all Christians in these daungerous and troublesom daies, that God for Christs sake will yet stil be merciful vnto vs. At Loudon, Printed for the Company of Stationers. 1608. 4to. Black letter. Printed within woodcut borders. Large paper.

¶ 4 leaves including title; A—O o in fours; no sig. Z. With the portrait as in the previous editions.

A beautiful copy in the original calf binding, with the Psalms in metre by Sternhold and others, 1609, bound up at the end. This is a reprint of the editions of 1578 and 1590, and the last which was published of the book.

BOOK OF FORTUNE. The Book of Fortune: Being marvellous for the Invention, Pleasant to be read or heard, and in many things very Profitable to be understood. Fit for honest Recreation after more serious Affairs or Studies . . . First written in Italian, after translated into English . . . *London, Printed by J. A, 4 leaves ; A (repeated)—N 4 in eights.

A copy of this edition, formerly Constable's, Bright's, and Corser's, in very poor condition, and wanting the last leaf, is in the British Museum. A perfect copy is in the Advocates' Library, Edinburgh. Of the first impression of the work there is no trace at present ; but copies dated 1578 and 1600, each a reprint of some earlier issue, and each purporting to be enlarged and corrected, are known ; they are both imperfect.

BOOK OF GODLY SONGS. A compendious Book of Psalms and Spiritual Songs, commonly known as "The Gude and Godlie Ballates." Edinburgh: Reprinted from the Edition of 1578. 1868. Sm. 8vo.

The First Book, A—Q in eights; Q 8, blank; the Second, A, 6 leaves; B—D 4 in eights. At the end of Book the First, before the Table, occurs this notice:—“Here endeth the first boke examined in Oxford in June the yere of our lord. M. CCCC. xlvi. . . .” It was originally published in 1547, and here purports to be newly corrected. The Second Book concludes with the following sentence:—“Thus endeth these bokes to the honour of the father, and the sonne, and the holy ghost to the profyte of all poore men and women, &c.”

Herbert, in his edition of “Ames,” gives a very meagre account of this book. A preface is attached to the first part, not less curious from its allusions than from its peculiar phraseology. “Egregious doctours,” he begins, “and maysters of the Eximious and Archane Science of physicke, of your Urbanitie Exasperate not your selfe agaynste me for makyng of this lytle volume of Phisycke. Consyderynge that my pretence is for an vtilitie and a common welth. And this not onely, but also I do it (for no detriment) but for a preferment of your laudable scyence, that every man shulde esteme, repute, and regarde the excellent faculty. And also you to be extolled and hyghly to be preferred, that hath, and doth study, practyse, and labour, this sayde Archane science, to the whiche none inarciose persōs can nor shal atteine to the knowledge: yet this notwithstandinge, fooles and incipient persons, ye and many the which doth thynke them selfe wyse (the whiche in this facultie be fooles in dede) wyl enterpryse to smatter and to meddle to mynster medecynes, and can not tell howe, when, and at what tyme the medecyne shulde be mynystred, but who is bolder then blynde Bayerde”

This edition has the same number of leaves as that described by Brunet as issued by the same printer with a somewhat different colophon.

— Le liure appelle les Regnars trauersans les perilleuses voyes des folles fiances du monde compose par sebastian brand Lequel composita la nauire des folz Et commence.

¶ O vos omnes qui transitis per viam attendite et videte si est dolor sicut dolor meus. Folio.

MS. on vellum of the end of the fifteenth century. It occupies 87 pages, written in double columns in gothic characters, and is illustrated with eight miniature paintings. The first represents the author in his study, and through the window are seen four foxes in the landscape, and in the other miniatures the doings of the foxes are always represented. At the head of the twelfth chapter, which is headed "De justice et des ministracions dicelle," is a large painting representing a fox seated on a judge's seat, on the left five foxes habited as counsellors, and on the right a cock followed by his hens. On the 81st page is the eighth and last miniature, which represents the fox lying dead in the background, while in the foreground an unfortunate "âme damnée" is being tormented in a copper cauldron by three devils.

Title, Full-length woodcut portrait of the author, Dedication to Card. Capponi, Copper-plate portrait of the author, together, 4 leaves; ē, 4 leaves; A—Zzz. iii. in fours. This copy has a duplicate leaf C 1, which contains a very curious variation in the text.

In this curious book of travels the author relates, in his account of England, how Charles I. had assembled a Parliament at Oxford, "lequel abolit le vieil Parlement de Londres qui s'assembloit à West-minsterhaal, et le declara Pamphlet, ce qui anima les membres de cette Compagnie, contre sa Maïesté Brittanique & sa posterité;" and in a side-note we are told, "Pamphlet en Anglois est un papier barbouillé qui n'est bon a rien, & revient en nostre langue au mot de festu."

BOURGHESIUS, JOANNES. Vitæ, passionis et mortis Jesu Christi mysteria, piis meditationibus et adspirationibus exposita, figuris æneis expressa per Boetium à Bolswert. Antverpiæ, apud Henricum Aertssium. 1622. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; Pp. 1-392. Index, 4 leaves. Plates numbered 1-76. There is in the library another set of the plates to this book, which appear from the brilliancy of the impressions to have been struck off previously to the publication of the book with letterpress.

BOURNE, HENRY. The History of Newcastle upon Tyne: or the Ancient and Present State of that Town . . . Newcastle upon Tyne: Printed and Sold by John White. 1736. Folio. Large Paper, R.

BOYD, ZACHARY. The Psalmes of David in meeter with the prose interlined. By Mr. Zachary Boyd, Preacher of God's word. Printed at Glasgow by the Heires of George Anderson, Anno, 1648. The Songs of the Old and New Testament in meeter by M. Zachary Boyd Preacher of Gods word. Glasgow, printed by the Heires of George Anderson. Anno 1648. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—Ff in twelves ; the last leaf blank.

Though not so described on the title, this appears to be the fourth edition of Boyd's version of the Psalms. A copy of the first edition is in the British Museum, and having fortunately been able to obtain the loan of a copy of the third edition, I am able to give some account of the differences between it and the fourth. The author appears to have taken great trouble with his version, and has altered it most materially, only here and there a line appearing as it stood in the third edition, though in the preface to that he says : " In this last edition I have striven so far as I could, to keep in the verse the very words of the text, and not to change them with any other words," &c. The following verses from the 100th Psalm show that he was, however, dissatisfied with his work as it then appeared :—

THIRD EDITION.

Make all ye lands a joyful noise to the Lord more and more :
Serve God with gladnesse, his presence with singing come before.
Know that the Lord is God ; it's he not we, that made us sure,
We are his people and also the sheep of his pasture.

FOURTH EDITION.

O all ye lands, unto the Lord make ye a joyfull noise :
Serve God with gladnes, him before come ye with singing voice.
Know ye the Lord that he is God
he made us and not wee ;
His people and the sheep likewise we of his pasture be.

The words of this fourth edition however seem hardly to have satisfied the author, for in several places slips are pasted over the text with corrections or alterations. In the fourth edition, the text in prose, from the authorized version, is inserted before each verse. From what the author says in the preface to the " Songs of the Old and New Testament," " It pleased you in the Generall Assembly last, at Edinburgh, Anno 1647, to take to your consideration, the great utility the Church of God may have by the Songs contained in holy Scriptures," one might suppose that they appeared in print for the first time in 1648, but they are also contained in the third edition, 1646, though in this fourth edition they are much altered. The only additions to this fourth impression are a Latin hymn of George Buchanan and " A morning Hymne for Christ."

BOYER, A. The Compleat French-Master, for Ladies and Gentlemen. Being a New Method to learn with ease and delight the French Tongue, as it is now spoken in the Court of France. In three parts. I. A Short and Plain Grammar. II. A Vocabulary. . . . III. Four Collections: 1. Of Jests, Repartees, and Stories; 2. Choice Letters; 3. Of Proverbs; 4. Of New Songs. Dedicated to His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester London: Printed for Tho. Salusbury . . . 1694. 8vo.

A—R in eights, the first leaf occupied by advertisements: then a new title, and A—H in eights, last leaf blank.

A later edition of this volume is in the British Museum; but of this no other copy seems to have occurred. The French songs at the end are twelve in number, and are accompanied by the music.

[BOYLE, ROGER, Earl of Orrery.] English Adventures. By a Person of Honour. In the Savoy: Printed by T. Newcomb for H. Herringman . . . 1676. 8vo.

Title, preceded by a blank, 2 leaves; B—I in eights; Errata, followed by a blank, 2 leaves.

[BRACELLUS, JACOBUS. De bello hispano adversus Regem Arragoniæ libri v., edente Masello Venia beneventano. Sine ullâ notâ]. 4to. R. M.

Brunet describes this volume as an 8vo., but it is really a 4to, and he had no doubt seen a copy which had lost much of the broad front margin. It consists of 86 leaves, without folios, catchwords, or signatures. It is ascribed to a Milanese press.

BRADFIELD. A most faithful Relation of two Wonderful Passages which happened very lately (to wit, on the first and eighth days of this present September, being Lords Days) in the Parish of Bradfield in Berk-shire. London, Printed by James Cottrel, 1650. 4to.

Four leaves.

BRADFORD, JOHN. The complaynt of Veritie, made by John Bradford. An exhortacion of Mathewe Rogers, vnto his children. The complaynt of Raufe Allerton and others, being prisoners in Lolers tower, & wrytten with their bloud, how god was their comferte. A songe of Caine and Abell. The saicing of maister Houper, that he wrote the night before he suffered, vpon a wall with a cole, in the newe In, at Gloceter, and his saiying at his deathe. Anno Domini. 1559. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. R.

A—B in eights.

Mostly in verse. There is no place or printer's name, but as the book was licensed to Owen Rogers in 1558, he was probably the printer of it. The present copy, from the Bright and Corser libraries, is the only one known. It has been reprinted by the Parker Society. The tract was again licensed to John Arnold in 1578.

— Two Notable Sermons, Made by that worthy Martyr of Christ, Master Iohn Bradford: the one of Repentance, and the other of the Lords Supper, now newly imprinted. Perused and allowed . . .

Imprinted at London by Simon Stafford, dwelling on Adling hill. 1599.
Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A—1 in eights, the last leaf blank.

With a preface by Thomas Samson. This copy is bound up with Bradford's "Complaynt of Veritie." The edition is not described by Herbert, though he mentions that it was licensed to S. Stafford.

B[RADSHAIGH,] I. *Virginalia, or Spiritval Sonnets in prayse of the most Glorious Virgin Marie, vpon euerie seucrall Title of her Litanies of Loreto: All or the most part of the principall passages therein confirmed by the euident testimonies of the ancient Fathers, to preuent the obiections of such, as vsually detract from her deserued prayses. A—C in eights.

From the libraries of Mr. Bright and Mr. Corser. No other copy is recorded. The initials on the title are explained in a contemporary hand: "I^a. Bradshaigh, query, Isabella Bradshaigh."

BRADSHAW, ELLIS. A True Relation of the Strange Apparitions seen in the Air on Monday 25. February in and about the Town of Bolton in the Mores in the County of Lancaster at mid-day, . . . Being a Letter sent from Ellis Bradshaw of the same Town to a Friend in London. London, Printed for Tho. Brewster and Gregory Moule, and are to be sold at the threec Bibles in the Poultry, under Mildred Church, 1650. 4to.

Four leaves.

BRADSHAWE, N. Canticum Evangelicum summam sacri Evangelii continens. Londini, excusum pro Roberto Bird. 1635. Sm. 8vo. In the original gilt vellum.

This little volume, though of no great importance in itself, is doubtless of very great rarity. The author is not mentioned by Lowndes or Watt. He was a fellow of Balliol College, Oxford, and his book is dedicated to Sir Arthur Maynwaring. This particular copy is especially curious, as it contains the author's manuscript corrections, and his directions to the printer are on the fly-leaf, thus: "Mr. Bradshawe's desire is to Mr. Bird that the paper may be good, that Mr. Norton may print it because Mr. Melvyn is a good corrector, that the print may be as faire as may be in so small a letter, that there may be a barre between every section." On the title is inscribed "Liber Roberti Kene, ex dono authoris colendissimi sui præceptoris. Junii 19. 1635."

Title, one leaf. Folios 2-175. Register, two leaves. Colophon, one leaf.

The woodcuts are rude copies from one of the Basle editions.

This is the earliest edition in Low German known to exist ; but Dr. Graesse says that Zarncke in his "Haupts Zeitschr. f. Deutsches Alterth.," vol. viii., p. 380, &c., has shown the probability that an edition in Low German was printed at Lubeck in 1497.

From Mr. Jolley's library. In this edition the English free version of the "Ship of Fooles" is also made to follow the original Latin, the former in black and the latter in roman letter. In the translation or paraphrase of Mancinus' "Mirour of Good Maners," the Latin is printed in roman in the margin; the type is much smaller than that used for the "Stultifera Navis." The "Eglogues," of which there were at least three separate editions, are printed in a very small black letter, and in two columns. The first three were taken from the Miseriæ Curialium of Æneas Sylvius.

Title and preliminaries, 12 leaves; sigs. A—i iv. in the second alphabet.

By whom the very artistic woodcuts in this volume were designed is not mentioned, although at the end of the preface we find some Latin verses, "In laudem pictoris tabellarum hujus libelli." In the British Museum is a copy of the book, with a MS. note by Mr. W. B. Rye, to the effect that the engravings are by Lieven de Witte of Ghent, but he does not give his authority for the statement, and Nagler says nothing on the subject. The same cuts were used in an English New Testament printed at Antwerp in 1538 by Matthew Crom.

A—O 4 in eights (except that A has only 4 leaves), not including a frontispiece by W. Marshall to each part. The second part commences on G with a separate title.

An account of this volume is given in Corser's "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 355-61. The frontispieces are supposed to be Marshall's earliest works. There is little doubt that the T. C. addressed on sig. G 2 is Thomas Campion the physician and poet. Mr. Corser does not mention that this is a translation of a Latin work printed the same year, under the title of "Disputatio Inauguralis Theoretica Practica Jus potandi breviter adumbrans, Oenozythopoli, ad signum oculorum rubricolorum." 8vo.

BRATHWAIT, RICHARD. The Smoaking Age : Or, The Life and Death of Tobacco. A—E 3 in fours. A woodcut on the title.

The only other copies known are those at Britwell and in the British Museum. The former has belonged to Narcissus Luttrell and to Heber, and the latter to Mr. Jolley, Mr. Utterson, and Mr. Corser. There is a good account of the volume in Mr. Corser's "Collectanea."

— Essaies vpon the Five Senses, with a pithie one vpon De- traction. Continued with sundry Christian Resolues, full of passion and deuotion, purposely composed for the zealously-disposed. A—K 4 in eights.

All in prose, except some verses on the last leaf, addressed "To my loving friends, my Country-Cottoneeres," and others at pp. 116-17. The dedication to Sir Henry Velverton, as well as the character of a Shrew, was omitted in the impression of 1635.

BRATHWAIT, RICHARD. Essaies vpon the Five Senses, Revived by a new Supplement; with a pithy one upon Detraction, &c. The second Edition, revised and enlarged by the Author. London, Printed by Anne Griffin, and are to be sold by Henry Shepherd in Chancery-lane, at the signe of the Bible. 1635. Sm. 8vo.

A—P 2 in twelves, including the frontispiece by W. Marshall. Dedicated to Thomas Lord Coventry.

— The Shepheards Tales.

Too true poore shepheards do this Prouerbe find,
No sooner out of sight than out of mind.

London, Printed for Richard Whitaker. 1621. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A—C in eights, and the title-page, or 25 leaves.

From Mr. Mitford's collection, having previously belonged to Dr. Tylour, Mr. Park, and Mr. Utterson. This is the first series of tales issued under the title of "Shepheards Tales," and is probably the rarest of all Brathwait's early works. A second instalment forms part of the volume called "Nature's Embassie," which was subsequently republished under the original title of "The Shepheards Tales," and there the present tract is referred to as follows: "His Pastoralls are continued with three other Tales: having relation to a former part, as yet obscured"—Of the circumstances under which it was thus obscured, we have no knowledge. Brathwait dedicates this small production, in verse, to Richard Hutton Esquire, eldest son of the judge, whose death he laments in his "Astræa's Teares," 1641.

With Mr. Utterson's autograph on the title. No other copy is known.

— Times Cvrtaine Drawne, Or the Anatomic of Vanitie. With other Choice Poems, Entituled; Health from Helicon. By Richard Brathwayte Oxonian. Ille ego qui quondam. London, Printed by John Dawson for Iohn Bellamic, and are to be sould at the South entrance of the Royall-Exchange. 1621. Sm. 8vo.

A—O in eights, but H with 4 leaves only. "Health from Helicon" has a separate title.

This work is fully described in Corser's "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 368-73.

— Natvres Embassie: Or, The Wilde-Man's Measvres: Danced naked by twelue Satyres, with sundry others continued in the next Section.

Wilde men may dance wise measures; Come then ho,
Though I be wilde, my measures are not so.

Printed for Richard Whitaker. 1621. Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

A, 4 leaves; B—S 4 in eights.

Dedicated to "Sir T[homas] H[awkins] the elder, Knight." The title-page is within a broad woodcut border, illustrative of the subject. Mr. Corser has fully described the contents of this volume in his "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 363-8. Mr. Collier, in his "Bibliogr. Catal.," vol. ii., p. 342, says that this book was re-issued in 1623, with a new title-page under the name of "Shepheards Tales," &c. He says "the four other title-pages in the volume remain unaltered, and severally bear date in 1621." The present copy is bound up with "Times Curtaine Drawne," 1621.

BRATHWAIT, RICHARD. The English Gentleman: Containing Sundry excellent Rules or exquisite Observations, tending to Direction of every Gentleman, of selecter ranke and qualitie; How to demean or accommodate himselfe to the manage of publike or private affaires. By Richard Brathwait Esq.

Explanation of the Frontispiece, 1 leaf: Frontispiece engraved in compartments by R. Vaughan, the centre occupied by a small full-length of the author, 1 leaf: printed title, 1 leaf: dedication to Viscount Wentworth, 2 leaves: To the Knowing Reader, 1 leaf: Table, 6 leaves: the work, B—Nnn in fours, last leaf blank.

— The English Gentleman; and the English Gentlewoman: Both in one Volume couched, and in one Modell portrayed: to the living glory of their Sexe, the lasting story of their Worth. Being presented to present times for ornaments; commended to Posterity for Presidents. With a Ladies Love-Lectvre and a Supplement lately annexed, and Entitvled The Tvrteles Trivmph. The third Edition revised, corrected, and enlarged. By Richard Brathwait Esq. Turtur sic Turtur jungit amanda suo. London, Printed by Iohn Dawson. 1641. Folio. G. M.

Engraved frontispiece by W. Marshall, in compartments, with folding leaf of explanation, 2 leaves; general printed title and printed title to "The English Gentleman," 2 leaves; dedication to Philip, Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, 3 leaves: "To the knowing Reader," &c., 1 leaf. "The English Gentleman and English Gentlewoman," B—Hhh 2 in fours, the latter commencing with a fresh title on Ll 4: "A Ladies Love-Lectvre," &c., with a new title and dedication to Mrs. Elizabeth Westley. Iii—Nnn 2 in fours, besides a folding leaf with the contents. "The Tvrtele's Trivmph," &c., with a new title and dedication to Sir John Bankes, Aaa—Ggg 2 in fours.

See Corser's "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 384-7. At the end of "The English Gentlewoman" is "a supplement upon a supposed former impression of this title," from which it appears that a false report had reached Brathwait while he was in the country, of a work intended to forestal his, under the same title.

— Whimzies: Or, A New Cast of Characters. Nova, non nota delectant. London, Printed by F. K. and are to be sold by Ambrose Rithirdon at the signe of the Bulls-head in Pauls Church-yard. 1631. Sm. 8vo.

A—M 10 in twelves, title on A 2. M 8 (as was doubtless A 1) is blank.

From Mr. Utterson's library. Mr. Corser has reprinted the verses found at the end, in his "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 387-8, where will be found an account of the volume. On p. 213 occurs a second title-page: "A Cater-Character, thrownc out of a Boxe by an Experienc'd Gamester." This includes an Apparator, a Painter, a Pedlar, and a Piper. Mr. Corser's collation is slightly inaccurate, in consequence of his having mistaken a catchword for a signature.

BRATHWAIT, RICHARD. Whimzies ; or a New Cast of Characters. From the Original Edition, published in 1631. Edited by James O. Halliwell. London. . . . 1859. 4to.

Twenty-six copies printed.

Harper for Robert Bostocke, &c.* 1635. Sm. 8vo.

Title, frontispiece by W. Marshall, with leaf of explanation in verse, &c., 13 leaves. A—Q and Aa—Qq in eights, except the last signature which has nine leaves. Dedicated to the Earl of Worcester.

— Anniversaries upon his Panarete ; continued : With her Contemplations, penned in the languishing time of her Sickenesse. The second Yeeres Annivers. Et novus iste novo dolor æstuat ortus ab anno. London, Imprinted by Felix Kyngston, and are to be sold by Robert Bostock, at the Kings head in Pauls Church-yard. 1635. Sm. 8vo.

A—D in eights.

The contemplations of Panarete, forming the latter part of the volume, are in prose. The remainder of the book is in verse. This was Mr. Corser's copy. See it described in "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 393-6.

— Barnabees Journall, Under the Names of Mirtilus & Faustulus shadowed : for the Travellers Solace lately published, to most apt numbers reduced, and to the old Tune of Barnabe commonly chanted. By Corymbæus.

*The oyle of malt and juyce of spritely nectar
Have made my Muse more valiant than Hector.*

[London, John Haviland. 1638.] Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—Ee in eights, besides the frontispiece, engraved by W. Marshall.

First edition. Dedicated to Sir Alexander Radcliffe, Brathwait's intimate friend. At the conclusion of the fourth part of the Journal, is annexed "Bessie Bell." In the later editions of this witty and entertaining book, which is in Latin and English verse, alterations were made in the text.

It was entered at Stationers' Hall, June 7, 1638.

— Drunken Barnaby's Four Journeys to the North of England. In Latin and English Metre. Wittily and merrily (tho' an Hundred Years ago) compos'd ; found among some old musty Books that had lain a long time by in a Corner, and now at last made publick. Together with Bessy Bell. . . . The Third Edition, illustrated with several New Copper Cuts. London, 1723. Sm. 8vo. R.

With a copy of the original frontispiece and five other plates.

Mr. Daniel's copy. The orthography is modernized, and there are other variations from the edition of 1638. This impression is merely a reprint of the second edition of 1716.

BRATHWAIT, RICHARD. Barnabæ Itinerarium, or Barnabee's Journal; By Richard Brathwait, A. M. With a Life of the Author, a Bibliographical Introduction to the Itinerary, and a Catalogue of Works. Edited from the First Edition by Joseph Haslewood. London, 1820. Sm. sq. 8vo. 2 vols. G. M.

Vol. i., pp. i—xlviii., including the half-title and three plates, and pp. 1-459; vol. ii., title and half-title, 2 leaves; copy of old titles and frontispiece, 3 leaves; then by sheets (as in orig. edit.) A 3—Ee in eights. In the Catalogue of Brathwait's works are included several which Mr. Haslewood was the first to trace to their true author.

— A Svrvey of History: Or, A Nursery for Gentry. Contrived and Comprized in an Intermixt Discourse upon Historicall and Poeticall Relations By Richard Braithwait Esquire, Oxon. Imprinted at London by I. Okes, for Iasper Emery. . . . 1638. 4to. With an engraved title by W. Marshall, in the centre of which is a portrait of the Author, A^o. Ætatis 48. R.

See Corser's "Collectanea," part i., pp. 340-44.

— The Psalmes of David the King and Prophet, and of other holy Prophets, paraphras'd in English: Conferred with the Hebrew Veritie, set forth by B. Arias Montanus, together with the Latine, Greek Septuagint, and Chaldee Paraphrase. By R. B[rathwait.] London. Printed by Robert Young for Francis Constable. . . . 1638. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—N in twelves, including an engraved frontispiece in compartments, containing in the lower centre a portrait of Brathwait; the last leaf of N is blank.

Mr. Corser's copy. See it described in "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 411-13.

— Ar't asleepe Husband? A Boulster Lecture; Stored with all variety of witty jeasts, merry Tales, and other pleasant passages; Extracted from the choicest flowers of Philosophy, Poesy, antient and moderne History. Illustrated with Examples of incomparable constancy, in the excellent History of Philocles and Doriclea. By Philogenes Panedonius. O nox longa—Hor. London, Printed by R. Bishop, for R[ichard] B[est] or his Assignes. 1640. Sm. 8vo.

Frontispiece by W. Marshall; a—c in eights, including printed title, first leaf blank; B—X in eights (X 8 blank); Y, 4 leaves; and Z, 2 leaves not paged. At p. 246 is a second engraving, but this really belongs to "The Two Lancashire Lovers," and is merely an inserted print in this book.

Some of the poetry in this volume had appeared as long before as 1615 in Brathwait's book called "A Strappado for the Divell." A full account of the book is given in Corser's "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 413-16.

The four leaves of sig. Y are occupied by two poems, entitled, "Menippus His Madrigall, to his Coy-duck Clarabel," and "Loves Festivall at Lusts Fvnerall."

BRATHWAIT, RICHARD. The Two Lancashire Lovers: Or, The Excellent History of Philocles and Doriclea. Expressing the faithfull constancy and mutuall fidelity of two loyall Lovers. Stored with no lesse variety of discourse to delight the Generous, then of serious advice to instruct the Amorous. By Musæus Palatinus. Perco, si taceo. London, Printed by Edward Griffin for R. B. or his Assignes. 1640. Sm. 8vo.

A—S in eights, including a blank leaf at the end and an engraved title. There is a plate marked for insertion at p. 246, but in this copy it is placed before the title. From the Mainwaring and Corser collections. For a full account of the volume, see Corser's "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 416-18.

— The Penitent Pilgrim. [Quot. from Psalm lxvi., 16.] London, Printed by John Dawson, and are to be sold by John Williams at the signe of the Crane in Pauls Church-yard. 1641. Sm. 8vo. G.M.

A—T 11 in twelves. With a frontispiece by W. Marshall.

Wholly in prose, except some stanzas at the end, headed "His Grave-stone." The dedication runs thus:—"To that Immacvlate Lambe Christ Jesvs; the Sole Saviour and Receiver of every Penitent Sinner; hath this Poore Pilgrim humbly here presented these his Penitential Teares."

— Astræa's Teares. An Elegie vpon the death of that Reverend, Learned and Honest Judge, Sir Richard Hutton Knight; lately one of his Majesties Iustices in his Highnesse Court of Common Pleas at Westminster. London, Printed by T. H. for Philip Nevil, and are to be sold at his Shop in Ivie Lane, at the signe of the Gun. 1641. Sm. 8vo. R.M.

A, 3 leaves, including title; B—H 4 in eights. With a frontispiece (probably by W. Marshall) representing the judge at full-length in his robes, in a recumbent attitude.

Sir Richard Hutton was Brathwait's early friend and his godfather, and was also, it seems, related to him. The present little volume is inscribed to the judge's eldest son, "My worthily-accomplished and most endeared Cosin." From the collections of Sir F. Freeling and Mr. Corser. It is reviewed in "Collectanea," part ii., pp. 420-23.

The book is divided into two parts, distinct from each other; the second, which has a fresh title, was an elegiac celebration of the anniversary of the death of the poet's wife, in fulfilment of a promise made in the printed "Anniversaries" of 1634.

— The Honest Ghost, Or A Voice from the Vault. In noxam sectatur & umbra. London, Printed by Ric. Hodgkinsonne. 1658. Sm. 8vo. O.M.

Frontispiece by Vaughan, metrical explanation, title, &c., 5 leaves; A—X 4 in eights, including a second plate by Vaughan on sig. H. Chiefly in verse.

A second part of this volume is called "An Age for Apes," and is a series of satirical characters. The book concludes with "Parthenia's Passions," which, as the bookseller states, he obtained surreptitiously, and printed without the author's leave.

From Mr. Holgate's collection. Dr. Bliss's copy, which had been Haslewood's, was described as being on thick paper; but it is doubtful whether all copies are not printed on a stouter paper than usual.

BRATHWAIT, RICHARD. Lignum Vitæ. Libellus in quatuor partes distinctus: et ad utilitatem cujusque animæ in altiore vitam perfectionem suspirantis, nuperrimè editus. Londini, excudebat Joh: Grismoud. 1658. Sm. 8vo. O.M.

Engraved title, letterpress title, and preliminaries, together 17 leaves pp. 1—679; followed by an unpagéd leaf beginning "Quamplurimos fortassè."

— Tragi-Comœdia, cui in titulum inscribitur Regicidium, perspicatissimis Judiciis accuratius perspecta, pensata, comprobata; Authore Ri. Brathwait, Armigero, utriusque Academiæ Alumno. Londini, Typis J. G. 1665. Sm. 8vo. R.M.

BRETON, NICHOLAS. A Floorish vpon Fancie. As gallant a Glose vpon so trifling a text as euer was written. Compiled by N. B. Gent. To which are annexed The Toyes of an Idle head: Containing many pretie Pamphlets for pleasant heads to passe away Idle time withall. By the same Authour. At London Printed by Richarde Ihones: dwelling at the Signe of the Rose and Crowne, neere Holborne Bridge. 1582. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A—O 2 in fours.

Dedicated by the author, from his chamber in Holborn, "To all younge Gentlemen, that delight in trauaile to forreine countries." This is a reimpression of the original edition of 1577. It is the text given (very inaccurately) in Park's "Heliconia;" but the preface to the second portion, "The Toys of an idle head," is omitted both here and in "Heliconia." It may be found in the privately printed volume of "Prefaces," &c., 1874, p. 58, taken from the copy of the quarto of 1577, which belonged to Heber (see "Bibl. Heber.," iv., 163), and is now in the library of Mr. Christie-Miller.

It is doubtful whether a second copy of either edition is known; the present is the same which is described in Corser's "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 7-9.

— Melancholike humours, In Verses of Diuerse natures, set downe by Nich: Breton, Gent. London ¶ Printed by Richard Bradocke. 1600. 4to. R. M.

A—F in fours, title on A 2.

Dedicated to Master Thomas Blount. It is believed that only two other copies are known; namely; that which formerly belonged successively to Dr. Farmer and Mr. Heber, and the one in the Bodleian. The present was from Mr. Corser's collection; see "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 28-30.

— Wits Trenchmour, In a conference had betwixt a Scholler and an Angler. Written by Nich. Breton, Gentleman. At London, Printed by I. Robarts for N. Ling, and are to be sold at his shop at the West doore of Paules Church. 1597. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A, 2 leaves; B—F in fours.

This is the copy described in Corser's "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 21-6, and is believed to be unique. The tract has little to do with angling, but is rather a rambling dialogue on matters in general, the Angler being a sort of adventurer, who has to angle for his livelihood.

— Pasqvils Passe, and passeth not. Set downe in three Pees.

His { Passe, Precession, and Prognostication.

London Printed by V. S. for Iohn Smithicke and are to be solde at his shop within Temple Barre. 1600. 4to. R. M.

A, 4 leaves, the first blank ; B, 3 leaves ; C—F in fours.

Dedicated, in an epistle signed N. B., "To my very louing and vndererued good friend M. Griffin Pen." This was Mr. Corser's copy, who notes on the fly-leaf : "This book is perfect, there being no fourth leaf of sheet B. See 2nd vol. of the 'British Bibliographer,' p. 233."

BRETON, NICHOLAS. A Diuine Poem, diuided into two Partes : The Rauisht Soule and the Blessed Weeper. Compiled by Nicholas Breton, Gentleman. Imprinted at London, for Iohn Browne, and Iohn Deane. 1601. 4to.

A—F in fours. The first part is in stanzas of 4, and the second in stanzas of 7 lines.

Dedicated to Mary, Countess of Pembroke. This copy belonged to Dr. Farmer and George Steevens, and was afterwards in the Heber library. It is the volume described in "Bibl. Heber," part iv., No. 171.

— An Excellent Poeme, vpon the longing of a blessed heart : which loathing the world, doth long to be with Christ. With an Addition, vpon the definition of loue. Compiled by Nicholas Breton Gentleman. Cupio dissolui, & esse eum Christo. Imprinted at London, for Iohn Browne, and Iohn Deane. 1601. 4to.

A—F in fours. Dedicated to Lord North.

— The Passion of a Discontented Minde. London Printed by V. S. for Iohn Bailey, and are to be sold at his shop at the doore of the office of the vi. Clarks in Chancerie lane. 1601. 4to. O. M.

A, 2 leaves ; B—D 2 in fours. In 6-line stanzas.

From the libraries of Mr. Gardner and Mr. Corser. It is described in "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 42-5. In the Bodleian is a copy of the book, dated 1602 ; but of this edition of 1601 no other copy seems to be known. There was a third edition in 1621, which is reviewed in Brydges' "Restituta." All these were published anonymously ; and although the poem has generally been ascribed, on conjecture, to Breton, the attribution is very questionable.

— A Dialogue full of pithe and pleasure : between three Philosophers : Antonio, Meandro, and Dinarco : Vpon the Dignitie, or Indignitie of Man. Partly Translated out of Italian, and partly set downe by way of obseruation. By Nicholas Breton, Gentleman. Dignus honore pius, Gloria sola Deus. London Printed by T. C. for Iohn Browne, and are to be solde at his Shop in Saint Dunstons Church-yard in Fleetstreete. 1603. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A—E in fours, first leaf blank.

Dedicated to John Linwraye, Esq., Surveyor of the Ordnance.

— Grimellos Fortunes, With his Entertainment in his trauaile. A discourse full of pleasure. London, Printed for E. White, and are to bee solde at his Shoppe neere the little North doore of S. Paules-Church at the Signe of the Gun. 1604. 4to. Black letter.

A, 2 leaves : B—E 2 in fours.

The Address to the Reader is signed B. N. Breton, to whom the tract is usually attributed, was sometimes accustomed to transpose his initials. From Mr. Bright's library.

BRETON, NICHOLAS. The Honovr of Valovr. By Nicholas Breton Gent: L'occhio nel sopra vede il Mondo. At London, Printed for Christopher Perret, and are to bee solde at the Mary Magdalens head in Holborn, neere Staple Inne. 1605. 4to.

A—C 1 in fours, title on A 2. Dedicated to Charles Blount, Earl of Devon.

The only copy known, from the libraries of Farmer, Steevens, and Heber. It is a poem in 7-line stanzas.

— An Olde Mans Lesson, and a Yovng Mans Love. By Nicholas Breton. London Imprinted for Edward White, and are to bee solde at his Shop neere the little North-doore of S. Paules Church at the Signe of the Gun. 1605. 4to. R. M.

A—G 2 in fours, the last leaf having the colophon.

Mr. Mitford's copy. In the dedication of this prose tract to Sir John Linwraye, Master Surveyor of the Ordnance, Breton seems, as in the title, to claim the authorship: yet, in the notice to the Reader, he expressly says: "I have met of late with a discourse written by I know not whom, and how well, iudge you that reade it."

— The Soules immortall crowne consisting of seuen glorious graces. 1. Vertue. 2. Wisedome. 3. Loue. 4. Constancie. 5. Patience. 6. Humilitie. 7. Infinitenes. Devided into Seuen dayes Workes. And dedicated to the Kings most excellent Maicstie. At London Printed by H. Lownes, and are to be sold by I. C. and F. B. 1605. 4to. R. M.

A—I 2 in fours. In verse. Printed within woodcut borders. Mr. Corser's copy. See "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 57-61.

— Cornv-Copiae, Pasquils Night-cap: Or, Antidot for the Headache. London, Printed for Thomas Thorp, 1612. 4to. R. M.

A, 2 leaves; B—Q in fours. In verse. Mr. Corser's copy. This piece is attributed to Nicholas Breton by Mr. Collier, "Poet. Dec.," v. 1, p. 329, where he gives good reasons for his opinion. No earlier edition is known, though it is pretty certain that it was in print in 1600. It is replete with curious references to old customs and localities. See Corser's "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 35-8.

— Wits Priuate Wea[l]th. Stored with choise commodities to content the minde. London Printed by Edw. Allde, for Iohn Tappe, and are to be sold at his shop at St. Magnus corner. 1613. 4to. G. M.

A—D in fours, title on A 2. Dedicated to John Croke, Esq., son and heir to Sir John Croke, Knight. It is a collection of maxims and moral sentences. Mr. Corser's copy.

BRETON, NICHOLAS. I wovld, and wovld not. London, Printed by Tho. C. for Tho. Buchell. 1614. 4to. R. M.

A—F 2 in fours.

From the libraries of Mr. Caldecott and Mr. Corser, and with the initials of Narcissus Luttrell on the title-page.

In the "Biblioth. Heber.," pt. iv. No. 182, it says, "There is little doubt that this Tract was written by Nicholas Breton; it was not unusual for him to reverse his initials on the title pages of some of his tracts. This is one of the very scarcest."

— Characters vpon Essaies Morall, and Diuine, Written for those good Spirits, that will take them in good part. And make vse of them to good purpose. London Printed by Edw. Griffin for John Gwillim, and are to be sold at his shop in Brittaines-Burse. 1615. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—D 6 in eights, title on A 2. With commendatory verses by W. D[rummond?], R. B[rathwait?], and others. Dedicated to Sir Francis Bacon, his Majesty's Attorney-General. Mr. Corser's copy.

— The Mothers Blessing. London, Printed for John Smethwicke, and are to bee sold at his shop in Saint Dunstons Church-yard, under the Dyall in Fleetstreete. 1621. 4to. R. M.

A—E 3 in fours, title on A 2. The preface to the Reader is subscribed N.B. See Corser's "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 76-8. The present was Narcissus Luttrell's copy, and was subsequently in the libraries of Sir Mark Sykes and Mr. Corser.

— Strange Newes ovt of diuers Coutries. Neuer discovered till of late, by a strange Pilgrime in those parts. London, Printed by W. Iones for George Fayerbeard, and are to be sold at his shop at the Royall Exchange. 1622. 4to. Woodcut on title.

A—D 2 in fours, title on A 2. In Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 78-80, occurs a short review of this book, with a facsimile of the woodcut. The present copy, which was obtained by Mr. Corser at Mr. Jolley's sale, has the last leaf torn out. A perfect copy is at Bridgwater House, and another in the British Museum. See Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," 1865, i., 88.

At an auction a few years ago occurred a quarto tract, entitled "Newes from diuerse Countries. V. Sims, 1597." It may be that it was the original, or at least an earlier impression of this piece.

The notice to the Reader is subscribed B. N. But the book is usually assigned to Breton.

— Pasquils Mad-cappe, Throwne at the Corruptions of these Times. With his Message to Men of all Estates. London Printed by A. M. for Francis Falkner, and are to be sold at his Shop neere vnto St. Margarets-hill in Southwarke. 1626. 4to. R. M.

A—F in fours. In verses of seven stanzas.

Mr. Corser's copy. Mr. Collier has pointed out that two editions of this poetical volume were printed in 1600. This of 1626 is the third. A second part, which also appeared in 1600, but with the name of a different publisher, does not seem to have been reprinted. See Mr. Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i., 85, 86.

London, Printed for Francis Williams. 1626. 4to. Black letter. O. M.

A—F3 in fours, the first leaf blank.

Dedicated to Sir Mark Ive, of Rivers Hall, in Essex. Breton, in his Address to the Reader, says: "It was my hap of late, walking thorow the fields, to light vpon a peece of paper, in which I found a kind of discourse, set down vpon an imagination of midnight. By whom it was written, I know not, but by whomsoever, I liked it so well, that wishing my selfe able to doe halfe so well, I fell into an humor of imitating the veyne, so neer as I could, in description of the twelve houres, the twelve moneths, and some speciall dayes in the yere:—"

The present copy is illustrated by a series of engravings, bearing the monogram of Nicolas Visscher, emblematical of the twelve months. They are not known to accompany any other copy of the book, and it is most probable that they do not belong to it. In 1661 Matthew Stevenson published a similar work, called the "Twelve Months" (see Hazlitt's "Handbook," p. 578); but it is of such rarity that I have not had an opportunity of comparing the plates which it contains with those found in this copy of Breton. The volume was obtained some years ago from a sale at Cambridge. A set of the engravings, but in very inferior impressions, is in the Print Room at the British Museum.

On the 1st October, 1604, Roger Jackson procured a licence for "a book called Phantastix;" but whether Breton's work, or another similarly named, we cannot at present determine. See Arber's "Transcript," iii., 114.

— The Sovles Harmony. By Nicholas Breton. The Ninth Edition. London, Printed by Elizabeth Purslow. 1635. Sm. 8vo. Printed within borders. Black letter.

A—B 4 in eights, the last leaf blank.

The only copy known. This is a poem in stanzas of four lines, having three stanzas on each page, followed by a couplet. The first edition was in 1602, and all trace of intermediate impressions has disappeared.

BRETON, NICHOLAS. A Poste with a Packet of Mad Letters. Newly imprinted. London, Printed for John Marriot. 1637. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A—O 3 in fours, title on A 2. In two parts. A woodcut is on the title to each part.

Mr. Corser's copy. Breton's name is subscribed in full to the dedication to Maximilian Dallison, of Hawlin, in the County of Kent. In the British Museum is a copy of this book, printed in 1609; but there were probably editions earlier than any now known.

— Englands Selected Characters, Describing the good and bad Worthies of this Age. Where the best may see their graces, and the worst discern their baseness. . . . London, Printed for T. S. 1643. 4to.

A—B in fours. This is an abridged edition of Breton's "Good and Badde," 1616.

— The Will of Wit, otherwise called Wit's Will, or Will's Wit; By Nicholas Breton. Now first reprinted from the rare edition of 1599. Edited by James O. Halliwell. London. . . . 1860. 4to.

Only twenty-six copies printed. The original copy was purchased at Jolley's sale for the British Museum, and is the only one known of this impression.

BRETSCHNEIDER, ANDREAS. New Modelbuch, Darinnen allerley Künstliche Viesirung vnd Muster Artiger Zuege vnd schöner Blumen zu Zierlichen überschlegen, Haupt: Schürtz: Schnüp tüchern, Hauben, Handschuhen, Wehren gehengen, Kampfuttern vnd der gleichen, auff Mahler naht vnd Seidenstücker arbeit gantz künstlich gemahlet vnd vorgerissen, Der gleichen hie beuorn noch nie in Druck aussgangen. Leipzig. Im Verlegung Henning Grossens des Jüngern. 1615. Folio. 50 Plates including title.

The plates in this volume contain designs of extraordinary beauty for embroidery and other needlework. The six plates which follow the title are in duplicate, one set being coloured and the other plain. Some of the plates are engraved on copper, and others on wood. The book appears to be altogether unknown to bibliographers; but Nagler, in his "Künstler Lexicon," mentions several pieces by Abraham Bretschneider, who was born at Leipzig in 1578, and says that he has seen a book, also with plates, by Andreas Bretschneider, who he thinks may be the same person. This volume, however, was quite unknown to him.

BRETT, ARTHUR. The Restauration. Or, A Poem on the Return of the Most Mighty and ever Glorious Prince, Charles the II. to his Kingdoms. By Arthur Brett of Christs-Church Oxon. London, Printed by J. H. for Samuel Thomson at the Bishops head in St. Pauls Church-yard. 1660. 4to.

First edition of the Mozarabic Breviary. This copy agrees exactly with the collation given by Brunet, and has the four pages of table at the end.

BREVIARIUM ROMANUM. MS. on vellum of the early part of the 15th century of Flemish execution, with large & small initial letters carefully ornamented with tracery work. 8vo. R. M.

A and B in eights (A 1 blank); a to z in eights, except m, which has six leaves only; r, s, and t, eight leaves each. A to Z in eights, except M, which has only six leaves. Aa to Hh in eights; Ii, six leaves, and Kk, ten leaves. (These two last signatures are not mentioned in the register.) Then follow AA to CC in eights, and DD six leaves; the sixth containing the register. The text has folios throughout, the last being 630; but there is a gap from folio 468 to 601, which is the same in all copies.

As will be seen from the colophon given above, this translation of the Breviary was made and printed at the cost of the Count and Countess Frangepane, who were confined as prisoners of war for more than four years in the gaol called Dorasel (Torcello, near Venice). In two of the woodcuts are full-length portraits of the Count and Countess.

Dr. Waagen, in his "Treasures of Art in Great Britain," says of this book, "Finally, I must call attention to a Roman Breviary in quarto, with numerous woodcuts and German text, which was printed at Venice in 1518. Some of the woodcuts, which are very well executed from excellent models of the Paduan and Venetian Schools, bear the letters I. A. More especially remarkable are the Annunciation; the Nativity, which has much affinity with Bernardo Parentino, the scholar of Andrea Mantegna; the Adoration of the Kings; Resurrection of Christ; the Ascension; the Martyrdom of S. Saturninus, of a very Mantegnesque character; and Joachim and Anna at the Golden Gate. This work is as remarkable as it is rare."

This and the preceding article present the reformed Breviary, compiled by Cardinal Quignon at the desire of Pope Clement VII. The first edition was printed at Rome in 1535, but so much opposition was raised to it by the theologians of the Sorbonne when it was submitted for their approval that it was withdrawn, and it is doubtful whether more than the title and preface (which are in the National Library at Paris) are extant, unless it may be found in the Vatican Library. This Roman edition was reprinted at Paris in 1536, but the reprint is hardly less rare than the original. The editions of 1537 and 1546, described above, represent the revised version, which was very commonly used in the Roman Church from 1536 till the Council of Trent decreed its suppression. The principal points in which it differs from the Breviary in use till 1536, and re-established with revisions and corrections by the Council of Trent, are that it has only three lessons for each day, and that these are principally drawn from the Holy Scriptures, or from well-authenticated lives of the Saints, while the more legendary are omitted. It also differs from the more ancient and more modern Breviaries in the arrangement of the Psalms and in the omission of versicles, responses, and little chapters. One great point of interest presented by this book is the use that was made of it by the compilers of the Book of Common Prayer. The well-known passage, "Concerning the service of the Church. There was never anything by the wit of man so well devised," &c., is taken from the preface to this Breviary almost literally.

The title of this copy bears "Londini 1555," while the colophon states that it was printed at Paris twenty years earlier. It is very probable that the Paris printer having copies on his hands found a market for them in London on Queen Mary's revival of "the old religion," and the London bookseller merely printed a new title.

BREVARIUM secundum usum insignis Ecclesiæ collegiatæ Sancti Petri Insulensis. MS. on vellum, with name of the scribe and date, "Completum per me Jo. de lacu canonicum insulensis die xix mensis febr. anno . . . 1516." Sm. 8vo.

A fine specimen of sixteenth century binding, with the name of the binder, which is stamped on the side with the legend, "Ob laudem xpisti librum hunc rectè ligam Ludovicus Bloc."

The church for which the Breviary was written was doubtless the Collegiate Church of St. Peter at Lille, which was founded A.D. 1066, and destroyed in the Revolution of 1792.

BREWER, THOMAS. The merry Jestes of Smug the Smith, Or the Life and Death of the Merry Divel of Edmonton. With the pleasant pranks of Smug the Smith, Sir John, and mine Host of the George, about the stealing of Venison. Whereunto is added Mr. Peter's Fables and Smugs Ghost. By T. Brewer Gent. London Printed for Francis Coles dwelling in the Old-Bayley. 1657. 4to. Black letter.

A—E in fours, with a woodcut on the title of Smug the Smith baffling the keepers, which is repeated on the last page.

This was originally published in 1631 under the title of "The Merry Devil of Edmonton," &c. The present, the only copy known, is from the Heber and Daniel libraries. For "Mr. Peter's Fables" on the title-page we ought to read "Mr. Peter Fabyll's," Peter Fabyll being the name of the "merry devil of Edmonton." Warton, in his "History of Engl. Poetry," v. 3, p. 365, ed. 1824, tells us that he saw "Fabyll's Ghoste," a poem of two sheets in the octave stanza, printed by J. Rastell in 1533, in the possession of Collins the poet.

On the 3rd April, 1608, Joseph Hunt and Thomas Archer entered at Stationers' Hall "a booke called the lyfe and deathe of the merry Devill of Edmonton, &c.

by T. B." See Arber's "Transcript," iii., 165. This edition appears to be quite lost.

The editions of 1631 and 1657, the only ones now apparently remaining, differ considerably in arrangement and orthography.

BREWER, THOMAS. A knot of Fooles.

But,

A full description of the text of both the Latin and German editions will be found in Hain, so far as he can give it, but as that excellent authority does not indicate the large folding woodcuts, it may be useful to give a list of them in the order they should come. 1. Jerusalem. 2. Venice. 3. Parenzo. 4. Corfu. 5. Modon. 6. Crete. 7. Rhodes. As, however, the book is without pagination, catchwords, or signatures, it is almost impossible to collate it accurately except by comparison with other copies.

A—L in fours, besides title, &c., four leaves. The first and last leaves are blank.

A poem in 8-line stanzas. Dedicated to Sir John Crompton, and his lady. After the dedication comes an address to the Reader, in which Brooke hints at some opposition which had been offered to the publication of the poem. There are complimentary verses by Chapman, Browne, Jonson, Daborne, Wither, and Fr. Dyne. This poem has been reprinted for the Shakespeare Society. The present copy is in the finest possible condition; the only other perfect one known is in the Bodleian Library.

BROOKE, FULKE GREVILLE, LORD. Certaine Learned and Elegant Workes of the Right Honorable Fvlke Lord Brooke, Written in his Youth, and familiar Exercise with Sir Philip Sidney. BROWN, DAVID. The Naked Woman, Or a Rare Epistle sent to Mr. Peter Sterry, Minister at Whitehall; Desiring him to shew the Causes or Reasons of his Silence, in that he neither by his Ministeriall Office charged the Magistrates that were present to redresse, nor so much as shewd any Signe of grief or detestation as became a sincere Christian, against that most strange and Shamefull late Act of an Impudent woman. London Printed for G. Blackmore, at the Angel in Pauls Church-yard, 1652. 4to.

A—C in fours.

At the end are given Sterry's explanation, and the author's acceptance of it. Brown, in the conclusion of his Epistle, furnishes Sterry with the address, to which a reply should be sent, dating "From my house this 19th of the 8th Moneth called October, 1652, it being that great Brick-house with the Barn, at the North-end of Soho in the fields, streight up Hedge lane from Charing Crosse."

Brunet appears not to have seen this volume himself, and gives a very confused collation of it from Clément. The correct collation is—Title, dedications, and the treatise "de triginta Sigillis," 20 leaves, followed by sigs. A—G in eights (Trig. Sig. exp. and Sigillus sigill.), then follow 12 leaves of woodcut diagrams, the first of which is marked B 1., then the "Ars reminiscendi" A and B in eights, including title. Thus making 104 leaves to the complete book. The volume was printed in London during the author's residence in England.

BRUNUS, LUDOV. EPISCOP. AQUEN. Cronica summaria Serenissime dñe Hispaniarum regine : et de eius obitu. Londini, per R. Pynson. [circa 1506.] 4to. BR. M.

Twelve leaves.

This piece appears to be alike unknown to bibliographers and historians. It is not to be found in Panzer, Ames, Lowndes, Brunet or Graesse ; nor does Prescott's history of Ferdinand and Isabella contain any reference to it. From Mazzuchelli we learn that the author was Bishop of Asti in Monterrat and Poet Laureate to the Emperor Maximilian, in honour of whom he wrote a poem which was printed at Louvain by John de Westphalia in 1477. Mazzuchelli, however, appears to have been quite unacquainted with this treatise. In the British Museum is another edition of it (equally unknown to bibliographers) which has no place of printing or date, but the imprint of Rome and the date of 1505 are assigned to it in the Museum catalogue, and it was doubtless from this edition that Pynson reprinted. According to Mazzuchelli the author died in 1508.

classed in chronological order under their separate heads. London. 1815. 10 vols. 8vo.

Of the second edition it is said that only 100 copies were printed. Although only the name of Brydges occurs on the titles of these books, a large proportion of the articles were contributed by Joseph Haslewood, Thomas Park, E. V. Uttersson, &c. A few items appear with the initials of John Fry of Bristol and Philip Bliss.

A—G 3 in fours.

Ritson says, "Bibliogr. Poet.," p. 146, that this work "appears to be a reprint of the former (An Eclog treating of crowns &c.), with very considerable alterations, by some fellow who assumed the author's name." This copy has belonged successively to Mr. North, Mr. Heber, and Mr. Corser. It is fully described in "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 169-72.

— The History of the Life and Reigne of Richard the Third. Composed in five Bookes by Geo: Buck Esquire. London, Printed by W. Wilson, and are to be sold by W. L. H. M. and D. P. 1647. Folio. Portrait by T. Cross.

BULL. THE HOLY BULL and Crusado of Rome: First published by the Holy father Gregory the xiii. and afterwards renewed and ratified by Sixtus the fift: for all those which desire full pardon and indulgence of their sinnes: and that for a litle money, to weete, for two Spanish Realls, vz. thirteene pence. Very plainly set forth, and compared with the testimony of the holy scriptures, to the great benefite and profite of all good Christians. . . . Together with a briefe declaration (set downe in the beginning) which was founde in the Armado of Spaine, of the prowde presumption of the Spaniard: which through the instigation of the aforesaide Bulle, hath taken in hand the setting forth of the invincible Army (as they terme it) out of Portingale, towards England, and the Lowe countries, in which Army the saide Bulle hath been founde, with other like things. Which Armado is come to confusion through the hand of the Almighty. . . . Imprinted first By Richarde Schilders Printer to the States of Scaland: with consent of the States, Giuen at Middleborrowe, the xii. of September, 1588. . . . And reprinted at London by Iohn Wolfe, dwelling in the Stationers Hall. 1588. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A—H 2 in fours, title on A 2.

No copy of the edition here said to have been printed in Middleburgh appears to be recorded. Pp. 11-12 are occupied by "A Briefe discourse of the Power, and might of the Spanish Armado," and pp. 42-6 by "A Summarie or rehearsall of the Stacions, indulgences and Pardons of Rome." The Bull of Gregory and Sixtus is translated with a running gloss in the margin. At the end of the tract occur the initials Tho. P., probably those of the editor or compiler.

BULL. The braineles blessing of the Bull
The hornes, the heads and all,
Light on their squint eyed skonses full
That boweth their knees to Ball.

Imprinted at S. Katherins beside the Tower of London, ouer against the Beare daunce, by Alexander Lacie. [1571.] A broadside. Black letter.

Eleven leaves. This tract appears to be unknown to bibliographers. It was probably printed about 1565. In Sabin's Dictionary is a bull of Pius V. relating to the Mendicant Orders, printed in Mexico, 1568; but of this piece he seems to have had no knowledge.

BULL-BAYTING. A NEW BULL-BAYTING: Or, A Match Play'd at the Town-Bull of Ely, by twelve Mungrills, viz. 4 English, 4 Irish, 4 Scotch, Doggs. Iohn Lilburn, Richard Overton, Thomas Prince, and William Walwyn, to Stave and Nose. With his last Will and Testament, and several Legacies bequeathed to the Iuncto, the Counsel of State, and the Army. . . . Nod-Nol, Printed . . . by the Hill on the whim-wham side of the Beare-Garden, for the good of the State. 1649. 4to. R. M.

A—B in fours, or 8 leaves. A political satire. The "Bull of Ely" is, of course, Cromwell.

BULLART, ISAAC. Académie des Sciences et des Arts, contenant les vies, et les éloges historiques des hommes illustres, qui ont excellé en ces professions depuis environ quatre siècles parmy diverses nations de l'Europe: avec leurs pourtraits tirez sur des originaux au naturel, & plusieurs inscriptions funèbres, exactement recueillies de leurs tombeaux. *Bruxelles. 1682. 2 vols. BULLEIN, WILLIAM. A newe Boke of Phisicke, called the Gouernment of Health, wherin be vttred many notable rules for mans preseruacion, with sondry simples & other matters, no lesse fruitful then profitable: collect out of many approued authours. Reduced into the forme of a Dialogue, for the better vnderstanding of thunlearned. Whereunto is added a sufferain Regiment against the pestilence. By William Bullein. Imprinted at London by Jhon Day, dwelling ouer Aldersgate beneath saint Martins. 1558. Sm. Svo. Black letter. Portrait of Bullein and other woodcuts.

A—S 4 in eights, the last leaf having Day's device. Dedicated to Sir Thomas Hilton, Baron of Hilton, whose arms are on the back of the title-page. This is succeeded by two copies of verses, subscribed by R. B. One of these consists of eleven stanzas of seven lines each, and the other is in rhyming couplets. The book is mentioned by Herbert, but he had evidently not seen it.

BULL-FEATHER HALL: Or, The Antiquity and Dignity of Horns, amply shown. As also a Description of the Manners, Rites, Customs, and Revenues belonging to that ingenious and numerous Society of Bull-Feathers Hall. Together with an exact Relation of their manner of going to Highgate with Trumpets and Horn-Musick, and their Pioneers intended for the levying of the Hill. London, Printed for the Society of Bull-Feathers Hall. 1664. 4to.

A—B in fours, or 8 leaves. Interspersed with songs. The present copy was Sir F. Freeling's, and afterwards Mr. Daniel's. "Mention is made in this curious volume of 'Busby's Folly,' which was the grand rendezvous of the Club of Bull-Feathers Hall; there they refreshed themselves, and marched forth in triumphal order, with trumpets, pick-axes, spades, &c., attended by multitudes of admiring gazers, to receive the congratulations of the Viceroy of the Gravel Pits, who met them with his mace and cap. 'Busby's Folly' is particularly mentioned in Ogilby's Map, where the site is exactly pointed out."—George Daniel, 1840.

BULLOCK, WILLIAM. Virginia impartially examined, and left to publick view, to be considered by all Iudicious and honest men. Under which Title is comprehended the Degrees from 34 to 39, wherein lyes the rich and healthfull Countries of Roanock, the now Plantations of Virginia and Mary-land. Looke not upon this Bookes, as those that are set out by private men for private ends; for being read you'll find the publick good is the Authors oncly aime. For this Piece is no other then the Adventurers or Planters faithfull Steward, disposing the Adventure for the best advantage, advising people of all degrees, to the meanest Servant, how suddenly to raise their fortunes. Peruse the Table, and you shall finde the way plainly layd downe. London: Printed for John Hammond, and are to be sold at his house over against S: Andrews Church in Holborne. 1649. 4to. G. M.

†, 4 leaves; A, 2 leaves; B—K 2, in fours; K 2 blank.

Dedicated to the Earl of Arundel and to Lord Baltimore, after which is a second address to the Governor and Council, a third to the Gentlemen Adventurers to the English Plantations, a fourth to the persons who urged him to write the book, a fifth to the Reader; then we have the motives which led the author to undertake his labour, and lastly, a piece of advice to intending emigrants. A table follows, and then, before we read the work, we are invited to peruse a sort of introductory discourse, at the opening of which Bullock admits that he was a compiler, and had never been in Virginia.

BULTEEL, JOHN. Londons Triumph: Or, The Solemn and Magnificent Reception of that Honourable Gentleman, Robert Tichburn, Lord Mayor: After his return from taking his Oath at Westminster, the morrow after Simon and Jude day, being October 29th, 1656. Gent. Philochirosophus. Manus membrum hominis loquacissimum. London, Printed by Tho. Harper, and are to be sold by Henry Twyford, at his shop in Fleetstreet. 1644. 8vo.

Engraved title by W. Marshall, 1 leaf; A, 8 leaves; a, with commendatory verses by Francis Goldsmith, Guil. Diconson, Thomas Diconson, Jo. Dickenson, Jo. Harmar, &c., 6 leaves; B—N in eights. The "Chironomia," with a new title, &c.—frontispiece by W. Marshall, 1 leaf; A—L 2 in eights, L 2 having the errata.

The first portion is dedicated to "His Heroique Friend, Edward Goldsmith of Graies-Inne, Esq.;" the second, "To his Honovred Friend William Diconson Esq." From the library of Mr. Henry Perkins.

BUNYAN, JOHN. Differences in Judgment about Water-Baptism No Bar to Communion: or, To communicate with Saints, as Saints proved lawful. In Answer to a Book written by the Baptists, and published by Mr. T. P. and Mr. W. K. entitled, Some serious Reflections on that part of Mr. Bunyan's Confession of Faith, touching Church-Communion with Unbaptized Believers. . . . London, Printed for John Wilkins, 1673. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—H in eights. The last leaf blank.

— The Pilgrim's Progress from this World to that which is to come: Delivered under the Similitude of a Dream. Wherein is Discovered, The Manner of his setting out, His Dangerous Journey, and Safe Arrival at the Desired Country. By John Bunyan. The Fifth Edition with Additions. I have used Similitudes, Hosea 12, 10. Licensed and Entred according to Order. London, Printed for Nath. Ponder, at the Peacock in the Poultry, near the Church, 1682. Sm 8vo. BL. M.

A, 6 leaves; B—L 5 in twelves. A portrait of the author faces the title, and at p. 128 is a copper-plate engraving. Also a series of fourteen copper-plates is inserted.

On the back of the title-page occurs the following Advertisement: "The Pilgrim's Progress having found good Acceptation among the People, to the carrying off the Fifth Impression, which had many Additions, more than any preceding: And the Publisher observing, that many persons desired to have it illustrated with Pictures, hath endeavoured to gratifie them therein: And besides those that are ordinarily printed to this Sixth Impression, hath provided Thirteen Copper Plates curiously Engraven for such as desire them." This is, no doubt, the set accompanying the present copy.

Although called on the title-page the fifth edition, it would appear that the volume under notice is really the second issue of the sixth edition; but it might prove difficult to establish the priority. In the Advertisement to the next article, however, instead of "this Sixth Impression" we have "the Fifth Impression," as if the notice had been repeated from the real fifth edition unaltered, as in the ninth (see afterwards) it is from the seventh, but on the contrary a few errors are corrected. The copper-plate at p. 128 is omitted, but replaced by a woodcut at p. 121, on the same passage and with the same verses beneath it. It appears probable that this is a counterfeit, more especially as the type is different, and the portrait varies from that found in the sixth edition dated 1681, and the ninth of 1683. Lowndes observes: "Pirated editions were published by Bradyl; but no copies are known." It is to be suspected that this is one of them, with the genuine plates published by Ponder introduced. This edition of 1682, which is called the fifth, has errors which are found neither in the sixth of 1681 nor in the ninth of 1683.

Mr. Ofor was not aware of the existence of any copy possessing a set of the separate plates.

— The Pilgrim's Progress, &c. The Sixth Edition with Additions. [Quot. as before.] Licensed, &c. London, Printed for Nath. Ponder, at the Peacock, &c. 1681. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A, 6 leaves; B—K in twelves. With a portrait and one woodcut (at p. 121).

Here, as pointed out above, some errors of the press are corrected. It is curious that this should be called the sixth edition, while the fifth edition (so called) is dated a year later. Lowndes says of the sixth edition, "no copy known." Mr. Offor's account (edit. of "P. P." 1847, cxxi.) of this edition is not quite correct.

BUNYAN, JOHN. The Pilgrim's Progress from this World to that which is to come: &c. The Ninth Edition with Additions. [Quot. as before.] London, Printed for Nath. Ponder, &c. 1683. Sm. 8vo.

A, 6 leaves; B—K in twelves. With a portrait closely resembling that in the edition of 1681.

Clean copy in the original sheep binding, with the same cut at p. 121 as in the edition of 1681, and two additional at H and K 6, indifferently copied from the copper-plates above referred to.

— The Pilgrim's Progress, from this World to that which is to come: The Second Part. Delivered under the Similitude of a Dream. Wherein is set forth the manner of the setting out of Christian's Wife and Children; their Dangerous Journey, and Safe Arrival at the desired country. By John Bunyan. The Sixth Edition. Licens'd and Entred according to Order. I have used Similitudes, Hos. 12, 10. London, Printed for Robert Ponder, and Sold by Nicholas Boddington in Duck lane. 1693. BL. M.

A—H in twelves. With a frontispiece on copper and two woodcuts.

The first edition appeared in 1684, and is probably as rare as that of the first part. A counterfeit second part by some imitator of Bunyan's style was printed in 1683, but does not seem to have met with any success.

— The Life and Death of Mr. Badman, presented to the World in a Familiar Dialogue between Mr. Wiseman and Mr. Attentive. By John Bunyan, the Author of the Pilgrim's Progress. London, Printed by J. A. for Nath. Ponder. 1680. Sm. 8vo.

A—Q6 in twelves.

— The Holy War, made by Shaddai upon Diabolus, for the Regaining of the Metropolis of the World. Or, The Losing and Taking again of the town of Mansoul. By John Bunyan, the Author of the Pilgrim's Progress. I have used Similitudes, Hos. 12, 10. London, Printed for Dorman Newman at the Kings Arms in the Poultry, and Benjamin Alsop at the Angel and Bible in the Poultry. 1682. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

The first edition. A—Cc in eights, the last leaf having the author's advertisement to the reader in verse. With a portrait and folding plate.

— The Holy War, &c. By John Bunyan, Author of the Pilgrim's Progress, First and Second Part. Note, the 3^d part suggested to be his, is an Impostor. London, Printed by the Assigns of B. A. and Sold by Nath. Ponder in London-yard, the West-End of St. Pauls Church. 1696. Sm. 8vo. Portrait and woodcuts.

A, 6 leaves, including a blank before the portrait; B—Q 8 in twelves. The advertisement and preface, both addressed to the reader, are in verse.

BUNYAN, JOHN. Questions about the Nature and Perpetuity of the Seventh-day-Sabbath. And Proof, that the First day of the Week is the true Christian-Sabbath. By John Bunyan. The Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day. London: Printed for Nath. Ponder at the Peacock in the Poultry. 1685. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A, 6 leaves; B—G in twelves. First edition.

— The Work of Jesus Christ, as an Advocate, Clearly Explained, and Largely Improved, for the Benefit of all Believers. From 1 John, 2. 1. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous. By John Bunyan, Author of the Pilgrims Progress. London, Printed for Dorman Newman, at the King's Arms in the Poultry, 1688. Sm. 8vo.

A—K in twelves. First edition, with a long preface by the author.

— A Relation of the Imprisonment of Mr. John Bunyan, Minister of the Gospel at Bedford, in November, 1660. This Examination . . . Written by himself, and never before published . . . London. 1765. 8vo.

Pp. 84 (including advertisements). The Relation concludes on p. 52, and the end of the volume is occupied by elegies and epitaphs on Bunyan; after which, at p. 65, occur "Prison Meditations," purporting to have been written in prison in 1665, and making seventy stanzas of four lines. "The Meditations" were printed originally in a small quarto volume, of which only one copy is known.

BUONAVITA. Di Antonio Buonavita nobile Pisano cavaliere sacerdote et Organista di Santo Stefano il primo libro de Madrigali a quattro voci, con un dialogo à otto nel fine. Nouamente posti in luce. In Vinegia appresso l'Herede di Girolamo Scotto. 1587. Four parts in one vol. 4to. R.M.

A—M in fours, including title.

This writer was totally unknown to Fétis. The dedication is addressed "Al molto illustre Sig. Benedetto Vivaldi Cavaliere di Santo Stefano, patron mio osservandissimo," and is dated from Pisa.

The only prefatory matter is an address from the printer to the reader, in which he observes: "Some good words here you shall finde for your Money, else it keepes not touch with the Title. Receiue it well, and though in this he give you no ill, yet hereafter he hath promis'd you better language." There was a second edition in 4to, 1661; but no other work by the same writer is known. From Mr. Crauford's collection.

C. J. Saint Marie Magdalens Conversion. IHS. Printed with Licence. [1604.] 4to. BL. M.

A—D 2 in fours. In 6-line stanzas.

Mr. Corser's copy. In a short preface printed on the back of the title, the author states that he had intended to present this poem as a new year's gift, having composed it for the pleasure of some private friends, but that circumstances delayed its appearance a little. This address is dated Jan. 1, 1603[-4]. The following leaf contains a dedication of the work in verse to Mistress F. B. See Corser's "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 222-5, where the preface and dedication are reprinted.

C. N. A Saxon Historie, of the Admirable Adventures of Clodvaldvs and his Three Children. Translated out of French, by Sr. T[homas] H[awkins.] London, Printed by E. P. for Henry Seile . . . 1634. 4to.

Together wth Satans plottes against her in all ages, in form of a poem. R. C. Finished 1629. July 29. Fölio.

An unpublished MS. of ninety-four closely-written leaves, decorated with seven clever and well-executed drawings. From the collection of Mr. Corser, who describes it at considerable length, with specimens and extracts, in his "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 231-6.

In Hazlitt's "Handbook," 1867, p. 128, the authorship is attributed, of course conjecturally, to Ralph Crane, the writer of one or two works of a similar character about the same period.

C. R. Lithobolia: or, The Stone-Throwing Devil. Being an Exact and True Account (by way of Journal) of the various Actions of Infernal Spirits, or (Devils Incarnate) Witches, or both, and the great Disturbance and Amasement they gave to George Waltons Family, at a place call'd Great Island in the Province of New-Hants-hire in New-England, chiefly in throwing about (by an Invisible hand) Stones, Bricks, and Brick-bats of all Sizes, . . . C. W. Poems on Several Occasions. By W. C. London, Printed for the Author, and Published by R. Taylor, 1684. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—E in eights.

Dedicated by the Author "To the Worshipful John Ramsden, Esq.; at Hatfield in York-shire." W. C., who has not been identified, appears to have been a York-shireman; he speaks of this volume as his first production, and of his Muse as "unaired and young." The poem of "Almeria," at the end, was, he says, composed at the request of a young lady. The concluding piece is "Prologue to London Cuckolds. Acted at Hull, November, 1683." At p. 59 is "an Elegy on the Worshipful George Crowle, twice Mayor of Hull, who dyed July the twelfth, 1682."

CABALA, Sive Scrinia Sacra: Mysteries of State and Government, in Letters of Illustrious Persons and Great Ministers of State, as well Foreign as Domestick, in the Reigns of King Henry the Eighth, Queen Elizabeth, King James, and King Charles. . . . Codicis exigui stilus autorem reticiscens Ingeror in medium : veluti noua verbula spargens.
Sicut mitis amor terat aspa : mitius illa
Corrigat : ac mores addat nota vera salubres.

This is evidently an edition of very great rarity. It is attributed to the press of Ulric Zell, at Cologne, about 1468. To Panzer it was quite unknown; Hain mentions it, but without having seen it; and to Brunet it was known only through Hain. Graesse appears to have taken it also from the same source. Cave gives a short account of the author, but knew of no earlier edition of this book than that of Cologne, 1591. According to Cave the author was a Cistercian monk of the monastery of Heisterbach, in the Diocese of Cologne, and subsequently Prior of the monastery of St. Peter, near Bonn. He lived at the beginning of the thirteenth century. A critical edition of the "Dialogus Miraculorum" was published at Bonn in 1851.

CAIETANUS, THOMAS DE VIO. Tractatus Reverendissimi Domini D. Thomæ de Vio Caietani cardinalis sancti Sixti, ordinis Præ-

London, Printed by Bernard Alsop, and are to be sold by Richard Harper, in Smithfield, at the Signe of the Bible. 1644. Sm. 8vo.

A—C in eights. In verse. With a portrait of the Earl of Manchester, by T. Cross.

In this copy, from the libraries of Mr. Skegg and Mr. Corser, is inserted a specimen of the handwriting (including a signature) of the Earl of Manchester, and an additional portrait of the Earl by Hollar, from Vicars's "England's Worthies." It is doubtful whether even the portrait by Cross belongs to the book. It is described in Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," part iii., 239-42.

Thirty-two leaves. Sigs. a—g in eights. The title is within a woodcut border, and the text is surmounted by a rude woodcut of a tournament. Brunet mentions that an edition of this book, printed by Cromberger at Seville, in 1528, is in the public library at Montpellier, and Gallardo mentions another copy as being in the library of R. S. Turner, Esq., in London. No other edition is recorded by bibliographers till that of 1546, printed at Seville by Dom. de Robertis, which is mentioned by Gallardo as in the Royal Library at Munich. This edition of 1543 appears to be entirely undescribed.

†, 4 leaves; AA, 4 leaves, the fourth bearing only on the verso the same wood-cut as on the title, the recto being blank; A—S in eights and fours alternately; T, 9 leaves; V, 5 leaves; X, 8 leaves; Y, 6 leaves. Hylton's treatise consists of 16 leaves with sigs. A and B.

This is the copy noticed by Herbert as belonging to Mr. George Mason; it was afterwards in the collections of Mr. G. Chalmers and Mr. Corser.

Herbert points out that although Hylton's tract is dated ten years earlier than the "New Legend," it was no doubt printed at the same time. He says, "This treatise of Mr. Hylton is annexed to all the quarto editions of his 'Scale of Perfection;' but the chapters are differently divided from what they are in those, even the edition by Julian Notary, in 1507; which confirms the opinion of its being printed verbatim from the edition of 1506, though evidently printed in 1516."

Sixty-eight leaves. On the verso of the third leaf is a portrait of the author, engraved by Raphael Schiaminossi. This is described by Bartsch, vol. xvii., p. 245; but he makes no mention of the forty-three plates of fencing, which are engraved by the same artist. The book is unmentioned by either Brunet or Graesse.

CAPUCHINS. A Newe Secte of Friars called Capichini. [No place or date.]

A broadside, with an excellent engraving of two Capuchins, with twelve lines of verse below. Probably printed at Antwerp, about 1580. Reprinted in "Ancient Ballads and Broad-sides," 1867.

A—F in fours; G, 6 leaves.

This book appears to have been known to Brunet only through the description given by Ebert, which he translates exactly; and, following him, he says that it is of great rarity in consequence of having been severely prohibited on account of its impiety.

— Naspo Bizaro. [Heading of "Canto primo," on the recto of the 4th leaf.] Calate fantastiche, che canta Naspo Bizaro da Veniesia Castellan, Sotto i balconi de Cate Bionda Biriota, per cauarse la bizaria

A—L in fours, the last leaves of H and L blank. There is a copperplate engraving to each of the four cantos, that to the first serving for title-page, and on the recto of L 3 is a fifth plate, much more elaborate than either of the others; this bears the monogram of the artist, Niccolo Nelli, and the date 1565. Brunet is mistaken in saying that the plates are repeated; each one is entirely distinct. The poem is written in the Venetian dialect.

CARBONELL, MIQUEL. This leaf should follow the title, and is frequently wanting. It is directed by E. C. "To Dianaes Earthlie Depvtesse, and my worthy Sister, Mistris Elizabeth Carye."

This copy has successively belonged to Mr. Bright, Mr. Holgate, and Mr. Corser.

CAREW, RICHARD. The Svrvey of Cornwall. Written by Richard Carew of Antonic, Esquire. London Printed by S. S. for John Iaggard, and are to bee sold neere Temple-barre, at the signe of the Hand and Starre. 1602. 4to. O. M.

¶, 4 leaves, title making ¶ 2; A, 2 leaves; B—Tt 2 in fours.

Dedicated "To the Honourable, Sir Walter Raleigh Knight, Lord Warden of the Stannaries, Lieutenant Generall of Cornwall, &c." by the author, who describes himself as Raleigh's "poor kinsman." Carew here speaks of "this mine ill-husbanded Suruey, long since begun, a great while discontinued, lately reviewed, and now hastily finished;" and in the address to the Reader, he further says: "When I first composed this Treatise, not minding that it should be published in Print, I caused onely certaine written copies to bee giuen to some of my friends, and put Prosopopeia into the bookes mouth. But since that time, master Camdens often mentioning this worke, and my friends perswasions, haue caused my determination to alter." The "Prosopopeia to the Booke," a page of verse, follows.

From Miss Richardson Currer's library ; a MS. index in an old hand is added.

CARLO MAGNO. Hystoria del Empador Carlo magno y delos doze pares de Francia: ⁊ dela cruda batalla q̄ ouo Oliueros con Fierabras Rey de Alexandria hijo del grande almirante Balan. [Colophon.] A honor ⁊ gloria de dios todo poderoso: ⁊ dela sacratissima virgen Maria madre suya ⁊ señora nuestra. Fue impressa la presente hystoria del Emperador Carlo magno: ⁊ delos doze pares de Francia enla muy noble ⁊ muy leal cibdad de Seuilla por Jacobo cröberger aleman. Acabose a veynte ⁊ çtro dias del mes de abril. Año del nascimiento de nuestro saluador Jesu christo de mill ⁊ quintientos ⁊ veynte ⁊ vno. [1521.] Folio. Black letter. R. M.

The title as given above is beneath a large woodcut of the Emperor sitting on his throne. The book consists of forty-six leaves, including the title and "Tabla." It is in the most perfect condition, as clean as the day it came from the press.

The earliest edition of this romance known to Brunet was that of 1528, printed also at Seville by Cromberger, and of this he had no further knowledge than that it is mentioned by Antonio, vol. ii., p. 155. Gallardo, however, describes an edition of 1525, also by Cromberger at Seville, which was formerly in the collection of the Marquis de Salamanca. This edition of 1521 appears, therefore, to be entirely unknown to bibliographers, and precedes any hitherto described by four years.

Antonio says that the edition of 1528 gives the name of the author or compiler as Nicolas de Piamonte, and he expresses a doubt as to whether he was a Spaniard or not.

CARO Y CEJUDO, GER. MARTIN. Refranes y modos de hablar Castellanos, con los Latinos que les corresponden. Madrid. 1792. 4to.

CAROCHI, HORACIO. Compendio del Arte de la Lengua Mexicana, dispuesto con brevedad, claridad, y propiedad, por el P. Ignacio de Paredes. En Mexico, en la imprenta de la Bibliotheca Mexicana. 1759. 4to.

Engraved title, followed by printed title and preliminaries, 12 leaves; pp. 1-202.

CAROLS. A volume containing sixteen Chap books of Christmas Carols, the greater part consisting of four leaves each. Wolverhampton. [Without date. About 1800.] Sm. 8vo.

From Mr. Daniel's library. The collection includes the "New Christmas Garland, the "Life of the Virgin Mary," in prose, and the "Slumbering Sleeper, or the World's Redemption."

CAROLSTADT. Die Messe von der Hochzeit D. Andre Carolstadt, vnnnd der Priestern, so sich Eelich verheyrahten. [Wittenb. 1520.] 4to.

This is doubtless the first marriage service put forth by the Reformers, and, as appears by the title, was printed for the occasion of Carolstadt's wedding. Though in the German language throughout, the form of the Roman service is retained, with Introit, Versicle, Gradual, Alleluia, &c., and the whole concludes with "Ite missa est." It consists of only three leaves.

CARON, RAYMUNDUS. Roma triumphans septicollis, qua nova hactenus, et insolita methodo comparativa: tota fides Romano-Catholica clarissime demonstratur: atque infidelium omnium argumenta diluantur. Antverpiæ. 1635. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; pp. 1-528; index, 10 leaves.

The date of this book is clearly an error for 1653, at which time the approbation to print is dated.

This piece is attributed to Seb. Castalion by Barbier, but in Haag, "La France Protestante," we read "Bien qu'il l'ait désavoué, Barbier persiste à attribuer à Castalion cet opuscule, que le Synode national de Lyon, en 1563, condamna comme une pièce très-dangereuse." It is not mentioned in the list of his writings in the "Biographie Universelle," nor is it quoted by Brunet.

The poet Southey's copy, with his autograph and bookplate. The letter from Cheeke to Hoby at the end, which was omitted in the subsequent editions, is dated "From my house in Woodstreete the 16. of July, 1557." In it the writer expresses his views on the English language, and observes: "I am of this opinion that our own tung shold be written cleane and pure, unmixt and unmanaged with borowing of other tinges."

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves; folios 1-23; imprint, 1 leaf.

A printed notice in the cover of this volume states that it is of such great rarity as to be unknown to any bibliographer except Beristain de Souza, who quotes it in his "Biblioteca Americana Septentrional," and that even he cannot have seen it, as his quotation of the title is wholly wrong.

CASTRO, ADOLFO DE. Historia de los Protestantes Españoles y de su persecucion por Felipe II. Cadiz. 1851. 8vo.

CATALAN POETRY. Lo Parnaso Catalā, que conte las obras en vers dels tres mes florits Ingenis Catalans que a tingut la nacio Catalana: Que son Lo Doctor Benet Garcia, vulgarment anomenat lo Rector de Vallfogna. Ingeni agut prespicas y picant. MS. on paper of the 17th century. 4to.

The works of Garcia occupy pp. 1-316. Those of Fontanella, pp. 1-429, and those of Don Bonav. de Gualbes, pp. 1-148. There is also bound up in the volume a printed work of Fontanella. It has no title, but begins on A 2 with the licence to print, from which the title of the book appears to be "Panegirica alabança del molt Illustre, y Reuerent Doctor Pau Claris, Canonge de la Santa Iglesia Cathedral de Vrgell, Deputat Ecclesiastich del Principat de Catalunya." The licence to print is dated August 17, 1641. The piece consists of 29 leaves exclusive of the title. The author is not cited by Antonio, but this piece is described in the Salvá Catalogue, No. 616.

CATECHISM. The Catechism: With the Order of Confirmation, according to the Church of England, explain'd and illustrated by Proofs from Scripture, and with Sixty Copper Plates. To which are added Devotions for Morning and Evening, and Grace before & after Meat. London: Printed & Sold by Edw^d Ryland in the Old Baily. 1768. 8vo.

CATECHISM. A catechisme of christian Religion. At Amsterdam, By the widowe of George Veseler at the signe of the Hope. 1626. [In the same volume] Een kort begrijp, Inhoudende de Voornaemste Hooft-stucken der Christelijcke Religie Dit Boecxken is ghevonden onder de Schriften ende Boecken van den hooch-geleerden Philips Marnix, &c. Tot Amsterdam, By Hendrick Laurensz. in't Schryf-boeck. Anno, 1626. Sm. 8vo.

The English Catechism contained in this little volume appears to be undescribed by bibliographers. It is in a gilt calf binding of the end of the seventeenth century, with the initials of the then possessor, R. P., impressed on it. The same initials are found in the book, in manuscript, with the date of 1684. It is evidently by the person to whom these initials belong that several portraits have been inserted in the volume, including small mezzotints of William Prince of Orange and Mary his wife (afterwards William III. and Queen Mary). A manuscript Scripture Catechism very neatly written in Dutch has also been added, besides some other annotations.

CATHARINÆ SENENSIS Virginis SS^{ma} Vita et miracula selectiora formis æneis expressa. Antverpiæ. Apud Joannem Gallæum. [s. a.] 4to. 32 plates.

CATHARINE OF BRAGANZA. A series of engravings by Roderigo Stoop and others to commemorate the departure from Portugal and entry into England of the Queen of Charles II. The collection comprises:—

1. Portrait of John IV. of Portugal.
2. Eight views of Lisbon by Stoop.
3. Seven plates of the entry of Catherine into England and her progress thither.
4. Charles II., by Faithorne.
5. Catherine of Braganza, in her Portuguese dress, by Faithorne.
6. James Duke of York, by Faithorne.
7. The Earl of Sandwich, by Blooteling.
8. Don Francisco de Mello.

The whole mounted in an oblong folio volume.

The engravings by Stoop are said to be the finest impressions known of the series.

For an account of Stoop, and the extreme rarity of these engravings, see Nagler's "Künstler-Lexicon," vol. xvii., pp. 404-11.

CAYENNE. La descente faite par les François en la terre ferme de l'Amérique. [s. l. vers 1645.]

A broadside bearing a large engraving, signed "Silvestre fecit," of the landing of the French in Cayenne in 1643. A contemporary MS. note in the margin is dated September 27, 1652. It is not included in Nagler's list of the works of Israel Silvestre, and was evidently unknown to him.

CAZA, FRANCESCO. Tractato vulgare de canto figurato de francesco caza. [Colophon.] Opera magistri iohannis petri de lomacio. Leonardus pachel Impressit Mediolani die quinto Junii Anno domini. Mcccc.lxxxx.ii. [1492.] 4to. R. M.

Twelve leaves, the edges uncut.

Brunet says, "Cet ouvrage est cité par Saxius et par Panzer sur l'autorité de Maittaire; mais je ne le trouve porté dans aucun catalogue." The piece is preceded by a dedicatory epistle, "Splendido equiti aurato Philipino fisco ducaalis custodie capitaneo Franchinus Gaffurus salutem." Blank spaces were left by the printer for the musical notation, which is inserted in MS.

To Fétis the work was also unknown except by seeing it referred to elsewhere. Under the name "Caza" he says, "Auteur inconnu, dont Forkel (Allgem. Litter. der Musik, p. 303) cite, d'après Maittaire, un livre sous ce titre, 'Tractato Vulgare,' &c." Dr. Graesse also mentions the book as "Ouvrage cité seulement par Maittaire [vol. i., p. 545], et non constaté depuis."

Brunet is mistaken in assigning only 164 leaves to this edition. It contains, as he states, sigs. A—O, and as these signatures are in gatherings of 12 leaves they necessarily amount to 168 leaves. He is also mistaken in saying that the last leaf is blank. It has 22 lines of letterpress on the recto and the printer's mark on the verso.

This edition was unknown to Brunet. It agrees in the number of leaves, and in the number of lines to the page, with three editions which he describes, printed by Le Noir and Trepperel, but it differs as to the signatures, which are thus disposed in this edition :—a, 8 leaves ; b—h in fours ; i, 8 leaves ; k—z in fours ; &, four leaves ; A—L in fours ; M, 6 leaves. On the verso of the last leaf is the mark of Denis Janot.

Collations of this book are given in several bibliographical works, but they are none of them quite correct. The following is the collation of this copy, which has been compared also with that in the British Museum.

Title, 1 leaf. Second title, beginning "Impressa y publicada," 1 leaf. Then follow 13 leaves, and of these, folio 12 is numbered 11, and the 13th leaf is not numbered at all. It begins "Excel^{mo} Señor." Then come sigs. A—Q 1 in twos, making 31 leaves. Aa—Xx 1 in twos, making 41 leaves. Aaa—Vvv 1 in twos. This makes also 41 leaves by sig. Iii being in duplicate. Thus forming for the whole book 128 leaves.

CERVANTES SAAVEDRA, MIGUEL DE. Primera parte de la Galatea, dividida en seys libros. Cõpuesta por Miguel de Cervantes. Impressa en Alcalá por Juan Gracian. 1585. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; A—Zz in eights; AA, 7 leaves, making 375 leaves of text.

According to Brunet there was an edition of this book, the earliest published work of Cervantes, printed at Madrid in 1584; but Señor Salvá, in the catalogue of his library, goes at length into the question, and expresses his decided opinion that this edition of 1585 is the first. The copy which is quoted by Brunet as sold in the Bignon sale, bound in red morocco by Derome, is the identical one described by Señor Salvá, who says that though he had seen different copies of all other works of Cervantes, of this he had never known any other than his own, and he regards it as the rarest of all the author's works.

— El ingenioso hidalgo Don Qvixote de la Mancha. Compuesto por Miguel de Ceruantes Saauedra. Dirigido al Dvque de Beiar, Marques de Gibraleon, Conde de Barcelona, y Bañares, Vizconde de la Puebla de Alcozcr, Señor de las villas de Capilla, Curicl, y Burgillos.

Con priuilegio de Castilla, Aragon, y Portugal. En Madrid, Por Juan de la Cuesta. Año, 1605. 4to. R. M.

This is shown very clearly by Señor Salvá to be the second genuine edition of the first part of this famous book. It may readily be distinguished from the first by the words "de Castilla, Aragon, y Portugal," which follow the words "Con priuilegio" in the title to this edition, but are not found in the first, the author having been led to solicit a privilege for the whole of the Peninsula by reason of the piracy of his book at Lisbon as soon as the first edition appeared. As to its rarity Señor Salvá observes, speaking of this and the preceding edition, "En punto á rareza no sé á cual dar la preferencia; ambas son difficilissimas de conseguir."

CERVANTES SAAVEDRA, MIGUEL DE. El ingenioso hidalgo Don Qvixote de la Mancha. Compuesto por Miguel de Ceruantes Saauedra. Impresso con licencia, en Valencia, en casa de Pedro Patricio Mey, 1605. A costa de Iusepe Ferrer mercader de libros, delante la Diputacion. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 16 leaves; pp. 1-768.

The two editions of Valencia, printed in 1605, are, according to Señor Salvá, of equal rarity with those of Madrid in the same year. This is the one which reads "Al" as catchword to the second leaf, and the first page of text is marked "Fol. i.," while in the other Valencia edition of the same year it is not marked.

— El ingenioso hidalgo Don Qvixote de la Mancha. Compvesto por Miguel de Ceruantes Saauedra. Dirigido al Duque de Bejar &c. En Brusselas, Por Roger Velpius Impressor de sus Altezas, en l'Aguila de oro, cerca de Palacio, Año 1607. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 12 leaves; pp. 1-592. Four leaves not numbered.

— El ingenioso hidalgo Don Qvixote de la Mancha. Com-puesto por Miguel de Ceruantes Saauedra. Con priuilegio de Castilla, Aragon, y Portugal. En Madrid, Por Juan de la Cuesta. Año 1608. 4to. R. M.

Brunet describes this edition as consisting of only 227 leaves, whereas it really has: twelve preliminary leaves, 277 leaves numbered, and three leaves of table unpagged.

"Esta edicion hecha en presencia del autor contiene considerables adiciones, supresiones y correcciones, así es que ha servido de testo para las reimpressiones académicas, y ha sido siempre la mas buscada por nacionales y extranjeros. Por estas razones y por ser tan rara como las primitivas de Cuesta, tiene aun mayor valor que aquellas entre los bibliófilos."—Catálogo de la Biblioteca de Salvá.

“Primera edicion de la segunda parte, infinitamente mas rara que la de la primera.”

“Navarrete observa que siendo esta la única impresion que se hizo en vida del autor, es la sola de que él pudo cuidar, y por consiguiente la que debe preferirse y adoptarse para arreglar á ella las ediciones sucesivas.”—Salvá.

CERVANTES SAAVEDRA, MIGUEL DE. Segunda parte del ingenioso cavallero Don Qvixote de la Mancha. En Bruselas, Por Huberto Antonio. 1616. Sm. 8vo.

“Debe ser la segunda edicion de esta parte por quanto el permiso para su impresion está fechado el 4 de febrero de 1616; por consiguiente es una reproduccion de la madrileña del año anterior, con solo la supresion de la aprobacion del licenciado Marquez Tórres.”—Salvá.

— The History of Don Qvichote. The first parte. Printed for Ed: Blounte. [n. d.]—The Second Part of the History of the Valorous and witty Extravagant, Don Quixote of the Mancha. Written in Spanish by Michael Ceruantes: And now Translated into English. London, Printed, for Edward Blount. 1620. 4to. R. M.

Part 1. Engraved title, 1 leaf; Dedication to Lord Walden, 1 leaf; Preface and “Certain Sonnets,” &c., 7 leaves; Table, 3 leaves; the Work, B—Oo in eights. Part 2. A—Kk 3 in eights. The second portion is inscribed to the Duke of Buckingham by the publisher.

First edition. Jarvis, in the preface to his translation, asserts that Shelton followed Franciosini’s Italian version, and adduces certain passages which are found in the Italian and in Shelton’s English translation, but do not occur in the original. It is, however, impossible that Shelton followed Franciosini, as his translation was not printed till 1621. The fact is, that both followed a common original in translating from the Spanish edition of Brussels, 1607, the editor of which introduced into the text the alterations which Jarvis supposed to have been the work of Franciosini. In the dedication to the second part it is clearly stated that that portion of the work is translated from the French version, which was printed at Paris in 1616.

The first part of Don Quixote was entered to Edward Blount and William Barret on the 19th January, 1611-12. See Arber’s “Transcript,” iii., p. 204. The second part was registered 5 December, 1615. Ibid., iii., p. 267. This was probably with the intention of securing the right to print it. Seeing that the second part did not appear till five years after the registration, it is quite possible that both parts appeared together, and this probability is strengthened by the fact that the two parts are usually found together.

CERVANTES SAAVEDRA, MIGUEL DE. The Life and Exploits of the Ingenious Gentleman Don Quixote De la Mancha. Translated from the original Spanish, by Charles Jarvis. Now carefully revised and corrected: with a New Translation of the Spanish Poetry. To which is prefixed a Copious and New Life of Cervantes. . . . [Circa 1705.] 4to. With a few rude woodcuts.

A—C in fours, or 12 leaves. A chapbook version.

— Novelas exemplares de Migvel de Ceruantes Saauedra. En Madrid, Por Juan de la Cuesta. Año 1613. 4to. R. M.

“Primera edicion, tan escesivamente rara que habiendo resuelto el impresor Sancha no repetir la edicion de esta obra sin cotejarla con la primitiva, murió ántes de haber podido conseguir un ejemplar de ella, á pesar de las activas diligencias hechas durante algunos años para lograrla.”—Salvá.

— Novelas exemplares de Migvel de Ceruantes Saauedra. En Madrid. Por Juan de la Cuesta. 1614. 4to. R. M.

Of this edition Salvá says that, notwithstanding the address both on the title and at the end of the book, he is inclined to think that it was printed at Lisbon by Antonio Alvarez, rather than at Madrid by Juan de la Cuesta. He adds, “La edicion está ajustada á la primera y no vacilo en asegurar que la supera en rareza, pues no he visto de ella mas ejemplar completo que el mio.”

— Novelas exemplares de Miguel de Cervantes Saauedra. En Pamplona, por Nicolas de Assiayn Impresor del Reyno de Nauarra. Año. 1615. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; folios 1-391; colophon, 1 leaf.

Brunet quotes two editions by the same printer, one in 1614 and another in 1617; but this of 1615 appears to have escaped his notice, nor does it appear to have been known to Señor Salvá, as he omits all notice of it, though he speaks of an edition by the same printer, in 1614.

The name of "Puede-Ser," given as that of the translator, is a miserable punning translation of the translator's real name, James Mabbe.

— Viage del Parnaso, compuesto por Miguel de Ceruantes Saauedra. Con privilegio. En Madrid, por la viuda de Alonso Martin. 1614. Sm. 8vo. R.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves, and folios 1-80. From Mr. Heber's library.

"Primera edicion, mui rara y desconocida á Nic. Antonio."—Salvá.

This copy has the sonnet "El autor a su pluma," on the verso of the last preliminary leaf, which in some copies is omitted and replaced by a fleuron.

— Los Trabajos de Persiles, y Sigismvnda, Historia Setentrional. Por Migvel de Cervantes Saauedra. Dirigido á Don Pedro Fernandez de Castro Conde de Lemos &c. Año 1617. Con privilegio. En Madrid. Por Juan de la Cuesta. A costa de Juan de Villarroel mercader de libros en la Platería. 4to. BR. M.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves; folios 1-226. At the back of the last leaf: "En Madrid. Por Juan de la Cuesta. Año M. DC. XVII."

This first edition was not in Señor Salvá's collection. He gives the title of it, saying, "Ántes de ocuparme de las varias impresiones que se hicieron en el mismo año 1617, daré la descripcion de la primitiva de Cuesta, que he visto."

— Los Trabajos de Persiles y Sigismvnda Historia Setentrional. Con licencia. En Pamplona, por Nicolas de Assiayn, Impressor de libros, y a su costa. 1617. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves; text, pp. 13-599. At the back of the last leaf is the printer's name and date.

Señor Salvá appears to have doubted the existence of this edition. He says: "En el catálogo de Thorpe del año de 1833 se anunció una impresion de Valencia, por Pedro Patricio Mey 1617.8º; y Navarrete en la Vida de Cervantes supone la existencia de una edicion de Bruselas del mismo año. No la he visto ni la conozco; podria suceder que la confundiese con la descrita despues, impresa tambien en Bruselas en 1618."

— The Troublesome and Hard Adventures in Love. Lively setting forth, The Feavers, the Dangers, and the Jealousies of Lovers ; and the Labyrinths and Wildernesses of Fears and Hopes through which they dayly passe. Illustrated by many admirable Patterns of Heroical Resolutions in some Persons of Chivalry and Honour ; and by the Examples of Incomparable Perfections in some Ladies. A Work very Delightfull and Acceptable to All. Written in Spanish, by that Excellent and Famous Gentleman, Michael Cervantes ; And exactly Translated into English, By R. C. Gent. London ; Printed by B. Alsop, dwelling in Grubstreet near the Upper Pump. 1652. 4to. Black letter.

A—Mm in fours, title on A 2.

According to Hazlitt's "Handbook," 1867, p. 80, a book entitled "The troublesom and hard aduentures in loue, with many fyne conceyted sonnettes and pretty poemes delightfull to the reader. Written in Turkey by R. C." was licensed to Thomas Creede in 1594. Whether that book had any connection with this now described, beyond the first line of the title, it is impossible to say ; but it is tolerably clear that neither the one nor the other is really a translation of any work of Cervantes.

MS. of the early part of the fifteenth century, on vellum, probably written in England. It occupies 180 pages of small 4to size.

Brunet goes at some length into the question as to the real name of the author of this treatise, and refers to Marchand ("Dict. Hist.," i., p. 179), who has written fully upon the subject, and to other authorities. It is, however, generally allowed that the author was a preaching friar who lived in the thirteenth century. The work is rather a moralization of the game of chess than a treatise upon it, but has a special interest from the fact that Caxton's "Book of the Chesse" is an English version of it, translated from the French. The original work is said to have been based upon a treatise by Ægidius Colonna, entitled "De regimine principum," which was also written in the thirteenth century. In Warton's "History of English Poetry," vol. ii., p. 260, ed. of 1840, is also found an account of Jacobus de Cessolis, who is brought into that work on account of Occleve having made use of this treatise in his book entitled "De regimine principum."

Sixty-eight leaves, the last blank ; sigs. A—g in eights ; h and i in sixes.

The earliest edition in the Dutch language of this celebrated book. It is described in the "Bibliotheca Spenceriana," vol. iv., p. 541, and it appears that Lord Spencer's copy has the blank space on the recto of A1, and also the blank spaces at the head of each chapter filled up with ancient drawings, of which Dr. Dibdin gives facsimiles. This has apparently misled Brunet into supposing that the book is illustrated with wood engravings, and he accordingly says, "Les deux prem. ff. sont occupés par deux gravures dont l'une représente un jeu de balle et l'autre un homme et une femme jouant aux échecs ;" but this is simply a description of the drawings which are found at the beginning of Lord Spencer's copy. M. Brunet goes on to say that Panzer "cite encorc un autre ouvrage du même genre (!) intitulé 'Dat boec der kayserrechten, gheheten die Spiegel van Sassen,' imprimé à Gouda, par Ger. Leeu. 1479."

a—i in eights ; k—l in sixes ; the first leaf blank.

Second edition, printed about 1481. The present copy has A viii. supplied in facsimile. The text begins on the recto of A ii. Only two perfect copies are known, one at Trinity College, Cambridge, the other belonging to the Duke of Devonshire.

See Blades, ii., 8 et seqq. and 95. Caxton's Chess-Book, it is there shown, was principally taken from Jean de Vignay's French version of J. de Cessolis.

Mr. Blades gives a list of nine copies of the book, perfect and imperfect, being all that were then known. The present copy has been discovered since his list was compiled, and makes the tenth copy known.

CHALCONDYLAS, DEMETRIUS. [Erotemata synoptica octo partium orationis : Moschopuli erotemata de prosodia : Corinthus de dialecticis ; Græcè.] [Sine ullâ notâ.] Folio. O. M.

The collation given by Brunet is correct so far as the Chalcondylas and Moschopulus are concerned, but, though corrected in the Grenville catalogue, he still makes the Corinthus to have nineteen leaves instead of twenty, which every perfect copy should consist of. It is attributed to a Milanese press about 1493. Hain, 6093.

CHALKHILL, JOHN. Thealma and Clearchus. A Pastoral History, in smooth and casie Verse. Written long since, By John Chalkhill, Esq; An Acquaintant and Friend of Edmund Spencer. London : Printed for Benj. Tooke, &c. 1683. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

See Corser's "Collectanea," i., p. 16 ; and iii., p. 260.

CHALMERS, GEORGE. An Introduction to the History of the Revolt of the Colonies. [London, 1782.] 8vo. R.

Printed without a title-page. From the libraries of Mr. Tutet and Mr. Samuel Prince. On the flyleaf is the following explanatory manuscript note by the former: "This Book was printed in the year 1782 for George Chalmers Esq., the Author, who wrote an history of the Rise & Progress of the American Colonies, published in Quarto. Note. The Reader will think it extraordinary there is no title page ; but after the book was printed, the Author suppressed it—whether owing to the separation of the Colonies, which happen'd just at the season for publication, viz. December, 1782; or the prior cause in April antecedent, the dismission of a tory Administration, is only known to the Author, who is a Scotchman."—"E. TUTET, 1783." On the back of the same leaf Tutet has added: "This was to have made two volumes; the first only was printed, but never publish'd. A few copies only were preserv'd."

CHAMBER, JOHN. A Treatise against Ivdicial Astrologic. Dedicated to the right Honorable Sir Thomas Egerton Knight

riſon at the ſigne of the Grey-hound in Pater-noster-Rowe. 1601. [A new title:] Aſtronomiæ Encomivm: A Ioanne Chambero ante annos 27. peroratum, quo tempore Ptolomæi Almageſtum in alma Vniuerſitate Oxonien. publicè enarravit. Londini, excudebat Ioannes Harriſonius. 1601. 4to. R.

A—Q in fours; Q Q, 4 leaves; Q Q Q, 1 leaf; R—T in fours; T 4, blank; A—F 2 in fours.

The Gordonſtoun copy on large paper, with the autograph of Sir Robert Gordon on the title. Between pp. 114-15 five leaves were introduced as an after-thought, and chapter 20 is repeated, but not in duplicate.

CHAMBERLAINE, EDWARD. England's Wants: Or, Several Propoſals probably beneficial for England humbly offered to the Conſideration of all good Patriots in Both Houſes of Parliament. By the Author of the Preſent State of England. London. 1685. 4to.

A—E 3 in fours.

One of the propoſals of the writer is “for erecting in London a College de propaganda Fide (as our Adverſaries have done at Rome) for propagating the Chriſtian Reformed Religion amongſt the Americans bordering on the English Plantations.” See p. 7.

CHAMBERLAINE, ROBERT. The Booke of Bvlls, Baited with two Centuries of bold Jests and nimble Lies. Or, A Combat betweene Sence and Nonſence, being at ſtrife who ſhall infuſe moſt Myrth into the gentle Reader. A Treatiſe in variety of pleaſure ſecond to none ever yet printed in the English-Tongue; wherein is contained nothing already published. Collected by A. S. Gent. Imprinted at London for Daniel Frere, and are to be ſold at the Bull in Little-Brittaine. 1636. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

A—F 11 in twelves; after which comes “The two laſt centuries of Bulls, Jests, and Lies,” a—f in twelves.

Of the firſt ſet of ſignatures, A and A 2 are blank; A 3 is occupied by a woodcut head of a bull; and A 4 has the title; following which are ſeparate addreſſes to the Blind Reader and to the Diſcerning Reader; then there is a leaf with the head of a bull (different from the former), and another with ſome lines “to the Bull-Reader,” ſigned R. C. Gent.

The only copy known. From Mr. George Daniel's collection. There was one, however, poſſibly the ſame copy, in Dodd's ſale (1797).

This work was entered at Stationers' Hall on the 6th April, 1636, to Francis Smith, as “a booke called ‘New Bulls or ignoſent Nonſence firſt and ſecond partes.’” and on the 11th of the ſame month was aſſigned over to Daniel Frere. See Arber, iv. 333-4.

— A New Booke of Miſtakes. Or, Bulls with Tales and Bvls without Tales. But no lyes by any meanes. Printed at London by N. O. 1637. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

A, 6 leaves, the firſt blank; B—M 5 in twelves.

The only copy known, but the laſt leaf of ſig. I is, unfortunately, miſſing. From Mr. George Daniel's library. Of this there was alſo a copy in Dodd's ſale.

On the title-page is a curious woodcut. It may be noticed that at p. 37 there is a story which may illustrate the tract entitled "Westward for Smelts," printed in 1620.

A large proportion of the contents of this and the preceding volume is not to be found in any other collection of jests.

CHAMBERLAINE, ROBERT. Nocturnall Lucubrations: Or Meditations Divine and Morall. Whereunto are added Epigrams and Epitaphs: Written by Robert Chamberlaine. In mundo spes nulla boni, spes nulla salutis: Sola salus scribere Deo, sunt cætera fraudes. London, Printed by M. F. for Daniel Frere, at the signe of the Red Bull in Little-Brittaine. 1638. Sm. 8vo. R.

A, 7 leaves, title on A 2; B—H 7 in eights.

The Lucubrations, occupying the first portion of this volume, are in prose, and are dedicated to Peter Balle, Esq., Solicitor-General to the Queen; the poems commence with a separate title on G 3, and have a separate inscription to Mr. William Balle, son of the preceding.

The present copy has belonged to Isaac Reed, Mr. Heber, and Mr. Corser. It is noticed in "Collectanea," part iii., pp. 271-3.

— Nocturnall Lucubrations. Whereunto are added Epigrams and Epitaphs. Printed by T. F. for the use and benefit of Andrew Pennycyke Gent. 1652. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A, 5 leaves, first blank; B—H in eights, the last leaf blank.

The only copy known. The Epigrams and Epitaphs begin with a separate title on G 3. This is the copy described by Hazlitt. It has not the dedication which accompanies the edition of 1638; but perhaps that may have been omitted in the reprint.

— Jocabella, or A Cabinet of Conceits. Whereunto are added Epigrams and other Poems, by R. C.—juvat esse jocundum, atque animum lætis exhilarare jocos. London, Printed by R. Hodgkinson for Daniel Frere, and are to be sold at the signe of the red Bull in Little Brittain. 1640. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—K 5 in twelves, and a frontispiece, apparently engraved by Thomas Rawlins.

Dedicated by Chamberlaine "to his much respected friend Mr. John Wild." The poems occupy five leaves only, and are followed by two other leaves containing verses addressed to the author by C. G. Oxon. and T. R[awlins].

The present copy, from Mr. George Daniel's library, is believed to be unique. Mr. Halliwell's wanted the Poems, and that in the British Museum is imperfect.

This is a reprint, with large additions and certain alterations, of a little volume, printed in 1639 anonymously under the title of "Conceits, Clinches, Flashes, and Whimzies," where the lines by Rawlins also occur. The original edition is republished in "Old English Jest-Books," iii.; it does not include the lines by C. G., or the poems by Chamberlaine himself.

— Conceits, Clinches, Flashes, and Whimzies Reprinted from the unique copy of 1639. Edited by J. O. Halliwell, London, 1860. 4to.

This, as has been mentioned, is the first edition of the "Jocabella," with variations, and under a different title. Mr. Halliwell was not aware of this circumstance. The book is reprinted from a new collation of the original in the British Museum, in "Old English Jest-Books." Owing to the negligence of the transcriber the text of 1860 is most inaccurate. Twenty-six copies only were printed.

CHAMBERLAYNE, WILLIAM. Pharonnida: A Heroick Poem. By William Chamberlayne of Shaftsbury in the County of Dorset. London, Printed for Robert Clavell. 1659. Sm. 8vo.

A—R in eights; A—N in eights. With a portrait by Hertocks.

In the dedication to Sir William Portman, Baronet, Chamberlayne observes: "Animated by your Candid Reception of my more Youthfull labours, whose humble flights having your name to beautifie their Front, past the publick View unsullied by the Cloudy Aspect of the most Critick Spectator: I have once more," &c. The only known work by the same writer to which this passage can point is his "Love's Victory," a play, printed in 4to, 1658. See Corser's "Collectanea," vol. ii., pp. 275-80.

CHAMBERS, ROBERT. Palestina Written by Mr. R[obert] C[hampers] P[riest] and Bachelor of Diuinitie. Florence Imprinted by Bartelmew Sermatelli. 1600. 4to. R.

A—C c 2 in fours, C c 2 having the errata, besides 2 leaves after the title marked ¶ 3 and ¶ 4. The leaf before the title was probably blank.

"To ovr most Gracious, and Soueraigne Ladie and Princes, whose dowrie is little England, and the largest heauens her sayrest inheritance, all happinesse and heavenly bliss."—Dedication. From the libraries of Brand and Heber. The latter refers us to Herbert's "Ames," p. 1745, and the "British Bibliographer," ii., p. 201.

CHAMBRE, DAVID. La recherche (sic) des singularitez plus remarquables, concernant l'estat d'Escosse. Vové a tres-auguste & tres-clemente Princesse Marie Royne d'Escosse, & douairiere de France. Paris. Chez Jean Fourier, pres le college de Reims. 1579. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves; folios 1-32.

CHAMPLAIN, SAMUEL DE. Voyages et decouvertes faites en la Nouvelle France, depuis l'année 1615. iusques à la fin de l'année 1618. Par le Sieur de Champlain, Cappitaine ordinaire pour le Roy en la Mer du Ponant. Où sont descrites les mœurs, costumes, habits, façons de guerroyer, chasses, dances, festins & enterremens de diuers peuples Sauvages, & de plusieurs choses remarquables qui luy sont arrivées audit país, avec vne description de la beauté, fertilité, & temperature d'iceluy. A Paris, Chez Claude Collet. 1620. Sm. 8vo.

Engraved title, printed title, and preliminaries, together 8 leaves; A—T in eights; V, 6 leaves. Folding plates at p. 44 and p. 52, and three other plates printed on the letterpress.

CHANCÆUS, MAUR. Innocentia, et constantia victrix; sive Commentariolus; de vitæ ratione, et Martyrio 18 Cartusianorum; qui in Angliæ Regno, sub Henrico octavo, ob Ecclesiæ defensionem, et nefarii Schismatis detestationem, crudeliter trucidati sunt. Wirceburgi. 1608. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

Title and preliminaries, 11 leaves, and pp. 1-111.

CHANDOS, GILES BRYDGES, LORD. Horæ Subseciuaræ. Observations and Discourses. London, Printed for Edward Blount, and are to be sold at his shop in Pauls Churchyard, at the signe of the Black Beare. 1620. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—Y 4 in eights, P 8 blank; Z (with a new half-title)—L 1 4 in eights; M m (with a half-title), 4 leaves; N n—O o in eights.

From Mr. Heber's library. An interesting copy, with the MS. notes of Edmond Malone, who thought that these Essays were composed about 1615. Some fly-leaves, apparently inserted from another copy belonging to him, are in the volume. On one of them occurs the ensuing memorandum, in a nearly, if not quite, contemporary hand: "Written by . . . Lord Cauendish, who dyed before ye Earle of Deuonshire his father." A later hand inserts Gilbert after by.

Mr. Malone notes: "In the History of Sudeley Castle, by the Rev. Cooper Williams, Lond., 1791, folio, p. 8, these Observations are ascribed to Grey, Lord Chandos (who died at Spa, in Germany, in 1621), on the authority of the late Dr. Lort. Wood, in his 'Ath. Oxon.' ii., 635, ascribes this book to Gilbert Cavendish, eldest son of William, the first Lord Cavendish of Hardwick, who in Aug., 1618, was created Earl of Devonshire. But as this Gilbert died young, if it was written by any Cavendish, it is more likely to have been the production of Gilbert's brother, William, who succeeded to the title of Earl of Devonshire in 1626, and died in June, 1628. He was Hobbes's pupil. In p. 411, the author speaks of himself as a man of quality. See various notes of time, which may ascertain when these Observations were written, pp. 364, 365, 368, 378, 388, 402, 533, from all which, compared with each other, I think it probable that they were written about the year 1615."

A, 2 leaves ; B—R 3 in fours.

First edition. Dedicated by the author to his honourable and constant friend, Sir Thomas Walsingham, Knight, and to his son, Thomas Walsingham, Esquire, where Chapman speaks of their ancient acquaintance, and compliments them both on their taste and culture which placed them above "Our ignorant Gentlemen." The tragedy, the second part of the play, commences with a half-title on sig. I 2.

In 1602 appeared a prose tract described on the title as a translation from the French, giving the account of Biron's fall and death. It may have suggested the composition of the drama to Chapman.

— Evthymiaë Raptus ; Or The Teares of Peace : With Interlocutions. By Geo. Chapman. At London, Printed by H. L. for Rich. Bonian, and H. Walley : and are to be solde at the spread-eagle, neere the great North-door of S. Pauls Church. 1609. 4to. Engraved title.

Title and table, 2 leaves; A—G in sixes; H, 4 leaves.

Though this piece is usually ascribed to the press of Caxton, Mr. Blades remarks: "The use of a title-page, a practice unknown to Caxton—the appearance of Type No. 7—and the adoption of signatures having 3 sheets only—all point to Wynken de Worde, rather than to Caxton, as the Printer of this book, which was probably executed about 1491." This copy is perfect, except a portion of some lines in the last two leaves, which has been supplied in facsimile. Only five other perfect copies are known.

CHAUCER, GEOFFREY. [Canterbury Tales. Printed at Westminster by W. Caxton, about 1478.] Folio. Black letter. BR. M.

The first edition. Only two perfect copies are known. The first and second leaves of this copy are in facsimile, as well as eight leaves at the end and six elsewhere. The general condition of the volume is fine, with good margin. See Blades's "Caxton," v. ii., p. 45.

Black letter. BR. M.*

A—U in sixes, and x—y in fours; y 4 is occupied by a coat of arms.

The "Canterbury Tales" are followed by a new title: "Here begynneth the boke of Fame/ made by Geffray Chaucer: with dyuers other of his workes." This portion includes, "The assemble of Foules"; "La bell dame sauns mercy"; "Morall prouerbes"; "The complaynt of Mary Magdaleyne"; "The letter of Dydo to Eneas"; "Prouerbes of Lydgate."

a, 6 leaves; b, 4 leaves; c, 6 leaves; d, 4 leaves; e—f, 6 leaves each.

Succeeding this, and forming part of the volume, is "Troilus and Cressida": "Here begynneth the boke of Troylus and Creseyde/ newly printed by a trewe cople."

A—B in sixes; C, 4 leaves; D, 6 leaves; E, 4 leaves; F, 6 leaves; G, 4 leaves; H, 6 leaves; I, 4 leaves; K, 6 leaves, the verso of the last leaf occupied by Pynson's large device.

The present is a fine and perfect copy. This was the first attempt at a collection of Chaucer's writings.

A, 8 leaves, first and second leaf after the title (in this copy) both marked A ii.; B—X 4 in sixes; "The Romaunt of the Rose," with a new title, Aa—Qqq in sixes, the last leaf blank.

This edition, like that of 1542, is found with the imprint of different booksellers, having evidently been printed at their joint cost. In Mr. Hazlitt's "Collections and Notes" it is described as having preceded the edition of 1542, but Mr. Bradshaw, of the Cambridge University Library, who has taken much trouble to ascertain all particulars relating to the early editions of Chaucer, is of opinion that this edition comes between those of 1542 and 1561.

A—G 3 in fours, title on A 2.

From Lord Charlemont's library. The only other perfect copy known is that in the King's Library in the British Museum. There are imperfect copies in the Malone and Burton collections at Oxford.

The address of Chettle, signed with his name in full, "To the Gentlemen Readers," is of very considerable interest and literary value in connection with the history of two or three prominent characters of the day. Chettle there confesses himself the author of the epistle before the second part of the romance of "Gerileon," falsely ascribed to Nash; "that I confesse to be mine," he says, "and repent it not;" and he also notices the death of Robert Greene. This is followed by "Kind-hartes Dedication of his dreame to all the pleasant conceited whersoever," after which comes the main narrative. The passages relating to Tarlton, Munday (Anthony Now-Now), Nash, and Greene are exceedingly curious. The concluding leaves are occupied by "William Cuckoe's" address "to all close Iuglers."

A—G 1 in fours. In prose and verse.

First edition. The date 1603 is on the title of the second. See Hazlitt's "Handbook."

"A very interesting part of this tract relates to contemporary poets, many of whom are pointed out by allusions to their works, as Daniel, Warner, Chapman, Nash, Shakespeare, Drayton, &c. Vide sig. D 2 verso. Chettle signs the address to the reader on the errors of the press, complaining of them: he was a good judge upon the subject, having himself been originally a printer."—"Bibl. Hebr.," part iv., No. 350.

A notice of the work, taken from the second edition, will be found in Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i., pp. 129-31. Chettle here alludes to Shakespeare under the name of Melicert, and seems to intimate that the great poet had received from the queen special marks of favour, which he ought to requite by some tribute to her memory. On the 7th June, 1603, Matthew Lawe was fined for issuing a surreptitious and unauthorized impression of this poem. As he stated that he had sold all the impression but a hundred copies, it is remarkable that not one with his name is known to exist.

It appears from Herbert's "Ames," p. 1113, note, that Chettle entered into partnership with W. Hoskins as a printer, August 3, 1591, but his name appears only on one book in that year, and in 1592 it was omitted again.

Aa—Pp in fours and sixes alternately ; A—Y in sixes and fours alternately, and Z, 4 leaves, the last occupied by the printer's device on the verso, the recto having the colophon surmounted by two female figures, the whole enclosed in a woodcut border, with Pepwell's monogram in the lower centre.

The woodcut at the back of the title is repeated three times in the book. The only portion in verse is the prologue, which is comprised in four 7-line stanzas, which are reprinted by Ritson ("Bibliographia Poetica," p. 115). From these it appears that the translator of the book was Brian Anslay, Yeoman of the Cellar to Henry VIII.

CHRONICLES. [Les Chroniques de France, dites Chroniques de St. Denis.] Folio. R. M.

MS. on vellum. 375 folios. With miniatures of the most remarkable beauty. Written in the Monastery of St. Denis, A.D. 1383-84.

It might be supposed that the Chronicles of St. Denis would be frequently found in MSS. collections. But the contrary is the case. In Paulin Pâris's catalogue of the "MSS. François de la Bibliothèque du Roi" only one codex is described, and that is of the fifteenth century. In the "Bibliothèque Historique de la France," by Le Long, two copies are mentioned as then in the Bibliothèque du Roi, and one in the Abbey of St. Victor. The treasures of that abbey fell to the Paris Bibliothèque at the time of the Revolution, and if the MS. had been still amongst them it would have been described by Paulin Pâris. In Haenel's catalogue of MSS. in the European libraries there is a list of only five copies: one in Sir Th. Phillipps's collection, fourteenth century, one at Orleans, fifteenth century one at St. Omer, fifteenth century, one at Cambrai, and one in the Bibl. de l' Arsenal at Paris, to which no date is assigned.

The Chronicles of St. Denis end properly with the accession of Charles VI. in 1380, but in this copy the annals are continued without any break to the year 1383, and close with the death of the Count of Flanders. Three leaves seem to be deficient in the volume.

There have been many editions of the book, chiefly ancient impressions: the latest and best is that edited by M. Paulin Pâris.

MS. on paper, of the end of the fourteenth or very early in the fifteenth century. This very remarkable MS. is entirely written in metre. It occupies 860 pages of two columns each, and each column has about forty or more lines, giving a total of nearly 70,000 verses. It begins with the creation of the world and follows the Bible history to the end of the 1st book of Judges, when the history of Troy comes in. This goes on for 150 pages, and then begins the 2nd book of Judges. The Bible history is continued to the end of Maccabees, but in the book of Kings a short account of the building of Rome is introduced. After the books of Maccabees comes the Roman history from the Christian era. The last chapter is "Von karln dem newntzigistem chaiser. nach christi gepurt nawn hundert jar vnd vier jar." The volume is illustrated with 204 extremely curious paintings in colours, of the quaintest execution and design, but by no means destitute of artistic idea.

— Hie hebt an ein tütsche Cronica von anfang der welt vncz uff keiser fridrich. [Colophon.] Gedruckt ze Vlm von Johanne zainer vñ Rütlingen. 1473. Folio.

This, according to Panzer, is the earliest printed chronicle in the German language. The compiler, he says, was Dr. Heinrich Steinhöwel, and he regrets greatly that he was never able to see it. It consists of only thirty-six leaves.

CHRYSOLORAS. Erotemata [Græcè et Latinè.] Impressum in compluti academia ab Arnaldo Guillelmo Brocario. 1514. 4to. Y. M.

This is said by Brunet to be the earliest book published in Spain with Greek characters; for though the New Testament of the Ximenes Polyglott was dated some months earlier than this volume, it was not published till 1517.

CHURCHYARD, THOMAS. The firste parte of Churchyardes Chippes, contayning twelue seuerall Labours. Devised and published, only by Thomas Churchyard Gentilman. Imprinted at London in Fletestrate neare vnto Saint Dunstones Church by Thomas Marshe. 1575. 4to. Black letter.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves; A—O vi. in eights, except sig. F, which has nine leaves, folio 49 being repeated.

First edition. Dedicated "To the righte worshipfull his tried and worthy friend, Maister Christofof Hatton Esquier." In this dedication Churchyard says: "I call my workes Churchyardes Chips, the basnes wherof can beguild no man with better opinion, than the substance it selfe doth import, and in deed if any other tittle had bene geuen to my trifles, than the proper name of chips, men might have hoped for grauer matter then the natuer of my verses can produce."

— A Lamentable and pitifull Description, of the wofull warres in Flanders, since the foure last yeares of the Emperour Charles the fifth his raigne. With a briefe rehearsall of many things done since that season, vntill this present yeare, and death of Don Iohn. Written by Thomas Churchyarde Gentleman. Imprinted at London by Ralph Newberie. Anno. 1578. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

A—K 2 in fours. Chiefly in prose.

Mr. Corser's copy. It is described in "Collectanea," part iv., pp. 364-6. See also "Bibl. Anglo-Poetica," No. 106, and "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 358.

— A generall rehearsall of warres, called Churchyards Choise: Wherein is fife hundred seuerall seruiees of land and sea, as Sieges, Battailes, Skirmiches, and Encounters. A thousande Gentle mennes names, of the beste sorte of warriours. A praise and true honour of Soldiours. A prooffe of perfite Nobilitie. A triall and first erection of Heraldes. A discourse of calamitie. And ioyned to the same some Tragedies & Epitaphes, as many as was necessarie for this firste booke. All whiche workes are dedicated to the honourable sir Christopher Hatton Knight, vize Chamberlain, Captaine of the Garde: And one of the Queenes Maiesties priuie Counsaile. Written by Thomas Churchyard Gent. 1579. Imprinted at London by Edward White, dwelling at the little North-doore of S. Pauls Church, at the signe of the Gumme. 4to. Black letter. O. M.

*, 4 leaves; , 4 leaves; A—F in fours; G, 7 leaves; H—Ee in fours.

This, like the "Chippes," purports to be a First Book, but no more was printed. It is, like that, a collection of short detached pieces in prose and verse, see an enumeration of them in the "Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica," No. 103.

A note in the "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 390, says: "This is, in fact, the second part of Churchyard's 'Chippes,' which he promised to publish when he printed that work," but no evidence in support of this statement is given.

CHURCHYARD, THOMAS. A light Bondell of liuly discourses called Churchyardes Charge, presented as a Newe yeres gifte to the right honourable the Earle of Surrie, in which Bondell of verses in sutehe varietie of matter, and seuerall inuentions, that maie bee as delitefull to the Reader, as it was a Charge and labour to the writer, sette forth for a peece of pastime by Thomas Churchyarde Gent. Imprinted at London by Ihon Kyngston. 1580. 4to. Black letter. GR. M.

* , 4 leaves ;  , 2 leaves ; A—D in fours.

In a dedication to the Earl of Surrey, the poet alludes to the Earl's grandfather, the poet, whom he calls his master, and a second Petrarch. On the back of the title-page are Churchyard's arms.

From the collections of Mr. Skegg, Mr. Bright, and Mr. Corser. See "Bibl. Heber," part iv., No. 365, and Corser's "Collectanea," part iv., pp. 368-71.

— The Worthines of Wales: Wherein are more then a thousand severall things rehearsed: some set out in prose to the pleasure of the Reader, and with such varietie of verse for the beautifying of the Book, as no doubt shal delight thousands to vnderstand. Which worke is enterlarded with many wonders and right strange matter to consider of: All the which labour and deuce is drawne forth and set out by Thomas Churchyard, to the glorie of God, and honour of his Prince and Countrey. Imprinted at London, by G. Robinson, for Thomas Cadman. 1587. 4to. Black letter.

Title and dedication, 4 leaves ; "To every louing and friendly reader," 2 leaves ; B—N in fours. On the verso of the last leaf a large coat of arms, with inscription, "Churchiards Armes."

From the library of Mr. Ormerod, the historian of Cheshire. The following note in his autograph is inserted: "This copy of 'the worthines of Wales' was purchased by me at St. Pierre, at the sale of the library of Col. Lewis, 1847, and I had been informed by him that it was believed by him to have been at St. Pierre from the date of its publication."

"See 'Notes and Queries' (3rd series ix., p. 298) respecting the variations between this copy and Evans's imperfect republication, and also respecting the deficiency in the British Museum copy of the original edition (Grenville Library) as 10 (sheet A) the address to the reader.—Geo. Ormerod, Sudbury Park. 25 Sep. 1867."

— Churchyards Challenge. London, Printed by John Wolfe. 1593. 4to. Black letter. BR. M.

A, 3 leaves ; * , 1 leaf ;  , 1 leaf ; B—Aa 2 in fours ; Bb—Nn in fours.

From Mr. Corser's collection. The whole of the preliminary matter to this volume is given in the "Book of Prefaces," 1874. See also "Biblio. Anglo-Poetica," No. 105 ; "Bibl. Grenvill.," i., 147 ; and Corser's "Collectanea," part vi., pp. 377-82, where, however, the collation is not quite accurate.

— A Mysicall Consort of Heauenly harmonic (compounded of manie parts of Musicke) called Churchyards Charitie. Imprinted at London, by Ar. Hatfield for William Holme. 1595. 4to. R. M.

A—G in fours.

From the "Bibl. Anglo-Poetica," and the libraries of Sir Mark Sykes, Mr. Bright, and Mr. Corser. On sig. E 3 a fresh title begins, with "A Praise of Poetrie," in which the poet notices some of his contemporaries, as well as those writers who had gone before. On the last page he promises his next book, to be dedicated, he says, to his friend Master Henry Brooke, son and heir to the Lord Cobham.

See the "Bibl. Anglo-Poetica," No. 102; "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 372; and Corser's "Collectanea," part iv., pp. 382-5.

CHURCHYARD, THOMAS. A Trve Discovrse Historically, of the Succeeding Governours in the Netherlands, and the Ciuill warres there begun in the yere 1565. with the memorable seruices of our Honourable English Generals, Captaines and Souldiers, especially vnder Sir Iohn Norice Knight there performed from the yeere 1577. vntill the yeere 1589. and afterwards in Portugale, France, Britaine and Ireland, vntill the yeere 1598. Translated and Collected by T[homas] C[hurchyard] Esquire, and Ric[hard] Ro[binson] ovt of the Reuerend E[manuel] M[etevanus] of Antwerp. his fifteene bookes Historiæ Belgicæ; and other collections added: altogether manifesting all martiall actions meete for euery good subiect to reade, for defence of Prince and Countrey. At London Imprinted for Matthew Lownes, and are to be sold at his shop vnder S. Dunstons Church in the West. 1602. 4to. Black letter.

A, 4 leaves; B, 2 leaves; C—Y 2 in fours, the last leaf blank.

From Mr. Craufurd's library. With the autograph of Bishop White Kennet, who corrects in his own hand an apparent error in the table, where "Captain Thomas Vaviser now Sir Thomas Vaviser," is altered to "Brother to the now," &c.

Dedicated "To the Right Noble and Right Honorable, Sir Edward Seymour, Knight, Baron Beauchamp, Erle of Hartford." The old poet says: "In calling to minde (Right Honourable) the manifold fauours of your most noble father, shewed me in the raigne of the rare Imp of grace King Edward the sixt, and weighing I serued vnder him, at the battel of Muscledorrough, your father then Lord Lieuutenant Generall of the English Armie: I found myselfe for sundrie causes much bound to all his most noble house and familie. . . ."

The Robinson mentioned in the title as Churchyard's coadjutor was Richard Robinson, citizen of London, who wrote several books.

See Corser's "Collectanea," part iv., pp. 385-9.

— Churchyard's good will. Sad and heauy Verses, in the nature of an Epitaph, for the losse of the Archbishop of Canterbury, lately deceased, Primate and Metropolitane of all England. Written by Thomas Churchyard, Esquire. Imprinted at London by Simon Stafford, dwelling in Hosier lane, neere Smithfield. 1604. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—B in fours, or 8 leaves.

Printed on one side of the leaf only. It is dedicated to Dr. Bancroft, Bishop of London. See Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i., pp. 139-40, where the Bridgewater copy is described as unique.

CHUTE, ANTHONY. Beawtie dishonoured written vnder the title of Shores Wife. Chascun se plaist ou il se trouue micux. London Imprinted by John Wolfe. 1593. 4to.

A—G 3 in fours.

Dedicated "To the Right Worshipfull Sir Edward Winckfield Knight" in an epistle, where this poem is termed by the author "the first inuention of my beginning Muse" and "myne infant labours"; but Chute's only other known works consist of a letter, a sonnet, and a copy of verses at the end of Gabriel Harvey's "Pierces Supererogation," 1593. He was dead in 1596. The poem on the subject of Procris and Cephalus, attributed to him, was written by Thomas Edwards, and printed in 1595. A notice of "Beawtie Dishonoured" will be found in Corser's "Collectanea," part iv., pp. 390-5.

This copy, which is in the old calf binding, has belonged successively to George Steevens, Bindley, Perry, Jolley, and Mr. George Daniel. The only other one known is now in the British Museum, having formerly been in the collections of Jadis, Hibbert, Bright, and Mr. Corser.

Folio. BR. M.

Whether this edition or that of Venice, printed in the same year, by Christopher Valdarfer, is the editio princeps, appears to be uncertain. Brunet describes this as having 350 leaves of the text, making, with the preliminary leaves, 356 ; but the two leaves which follow the preliminaries are blank, and the book is complete with 348 printed leaves of text. Hain, 5121.

M.

Title and preliminaries, 13 leaves; folios I—CXVI.

This is the earliest edition of this full and complete Chronicle of the Cid, and is a distinct work from the popular history of the same hero printed at Seville in 1498. Señor Gallardo, in his valuable "Biblioteca Española," vol. i., col. 654, gives at length an account of the variations between this edition and that of 1593, which contains some passages not found in this.

Paris. 1598. 4to. Woodcuts. R. M.

Brunet says that this book, though sometimes found separately, does, in fact, form part of the "Maison Rustique." This edition has every appearance of being a separate book, except that it has no printer's or publisher's name on the title. It collates A—E in fours, the last leaf blank, and a—c in fours, the last leaf blank.

CLANRICARDE, MARQUIS OF. The Memoirs and Letters of Ulick, Marquis of Clanricarde, and Earl of St. Albans ; Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and Commander in Chief of the Forces of King Charles the First in that Kingdom during the Rebellion. . . . CLEVELAND, JOHN. The Character of a London-Diurnall: With severall select Poems. By the same Author. Printed in the Yeere 1647. 4to. The edges uncut.

A—G 2 in fours.

The Wolfreston copy. Cleveland had printed the "Character" separately in 1644, and in 1645 appeared an answer to it, entitled "A Fvll Answer to a Scandalous Pamphlet, Intituled, A Character of a London Diurnall. Published by Authoritie. London, Printed by F. P. for Francis Coles and Lawrence Blaikcloke . . . 1645." A copy is bound up with the present volume. It consists of eight leaves.

— Poems. By J. C. With Additions. Printed in the Year 1651. Sm. 8vo. The edges uncut. Y. M.

¶ 7 leaves, title on ¶ 2; A—E 7 in eights, D 5 blank.

This includes, at the end, the "Character of a London Diurnall," printed in 1644 and 1647.

— Poems. By John Cleavland. With Additions, never before Printed. Printed for W. Shears at the Bible in Covent-Garden, and in the New-Exchange at the Black Bearc. 1659. Sm. 8vo. Portrait.

A—O in eights, title on A 2; ||, 8 leaves; table, 4 leaves, the last blank.

This was evidently intended to be a collected edition of Cleveland's writings in prose and verse, as it has at the end his "Characters" and "Letters," and by an afterthought, just before the table, after all the prose matter, a poem called "A Sigh." The "Additions" commence on p. 89. The preceding edition of 1657 has only fifty-four leaves.

— J. Cleaveland Revived: Poems, Orations, Epistles, and other of his Genuine Incomparable Pieces, never before publisht. With Some other Exquisite Remains of the most eminent Wits of both the Universities that were his Contemporaries. *Non norunt hæc monumenta mori. A—K 4 in eights, title on A 2, including four leaves of advertisements at the end.

The Preface to the Reader in this edition is subscribed by E. Williamson, and is dated from Newark, Nov. 21, 1658. A copy of verses before the book is also signed E. W. Williamson gives an account of his acquaintance with Cleveland, and of the way in which these poems found their way into his possession in MS. He confesses, at the same time, to having laboured under the disadvantage of living at a distance from London, and he apologises for not distinguishing between Cleveland's own productions and those from other pens.

— The Works of Mr. John Cleveland, Containing his Poems, Orations, Epistles, collected into one Volume, with the Life of the Author. London, Printed by R. Holt for Obadiah Blagrave . . . 1687. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

COKAIN, SIR ASTON. A Chain of Golden Poems Embellished with Wit, Mirth, and Eloquence. Together with two most excellent Comedies, (viz.) The Obstinate Lady, and Trappolin Suppos'd a Prince: Written by S^r Aston Cokayn. London, Printed by W. G. and are to be sold by Isaac Pridmore, at the Golden-Falcon near the New-Exchange. 1658. Sm. 8vo. R.

A—Ll in eights, and a leaf of errata. The last two leaves of sig. T are blank. Title on A 2. With a portrait of the author.

In the Author's Apology to the Reader before the work, it is observed: "These poor trifles (Courteous Reader) had not now become so troublesome to the World, if it had been in my power to have prevented them: for at my going once out of London, I left them with a friend of mine, who dying, they were dispersed into divers hands. Mr. William Godbid got my 'Obstinate Lady,' and though he found it with the last leaf torn out, wherein my conclusion to the play with the Epilogue were, he procured some acquaintance of his to supply the defect at the end, and so Printed it. And though that Comedy be very much of it writ in number, he put it forth as if the most part of it were prose."

The book was issued with four different title-pages: "Small Poems of Divers Sorts, 1658." "A Chain of Golden Poems, &c. 1658." "Poems. With the Obstinate Lady, &c. 1662." "Choice Poems of Several Sorts. 1669." The portrait was twice engraved; in this edition the first line of the inscription beneath it reads—"Come Reader draw thy purse," &c.

— Poems. With the Obstinate Lady and Trappolin A supposed Prince. By Sir Aston Cokain, Baronet. Whereunto is now added the Tragedy of Ovid Intended to be Acted shortly. London, Printed for Phil. Stephens junior, at the Kings-Arms over against Middle Temple Gate in Fleet-street. 1662. Bound in 2 vols. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

This edition is the same as that of 1658, the title-page only having been reprinted. The "Tragedy of Ovid," which is an addition, contains A, 6 leaves; B—K 6 in eights. The inscription beneath the portrait in this edition begins, "Come Reader, thy Half-Crown, and be a Guest." The binding is a good specimen of Roger Payne's work. From Mr. Daniel's collection.

[COLLINS, SAMUEL.] The Present State of Russia, in a Letter to a Friend at London; Written by an Eminent Person residing at the Great Tzars Court at Mosco for the space of nine years. Illustrated with many Copper Plates London, Printed by John Winter for Dorman Newman. 1671. Sm. 8vo.

Title and "To the Reader," 3 leaves; A, 8 leaves; A—L 4 in eights, but no sig. B.

In the preface, which is signed "N. D." (probably the reversed initials of the publisher), the author is described as "a gentleman of great parts," but is not named.

Besides a portrait of the Czar Alexis Michael, by Cross, before the title, there are plates separate from the letterpress at pp. 16, 18, 44, 61, 135, and 139. The list of advertisements gives the name of the author—"The Present State of Russia, by Dr. Samuel Collins, who resided nine years in that Court in Octo."

COLLINS, THOMAS. The Penitent Pvblican, His Confession of Mowth. Contrition of heart. Vnfained Repentance. And feruent Prayer vnto God, for Mercie and forgiuennesse. At London, Printed for Arthur Iohnson, dwelling in Paules Churehyard, at the signe of the white Horse, neere the great North doore of Paules Church. 1610. 4to.

A—F in fours. In 7-line stanzas.

From the libraries of Sir F. Freeling and Mr. Corser. Dedicated to the Countess of Huntingdon, by whose encouragement the author states that he was led to publish it.

"I do not remember having either seen or heard of another copy."—MS. Note by Sir F. Freeling. Another was sold among Mr. George Chalmers's books in 1842. Collins wrote also a book, called "The Tears of Love, or Cupid's Progress," 1615, a copy of which was in "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 511. It is even rarer than this.

COLLINSON, REV. JOHN. The History and Antiquities of the County of Somerset, collected from Authentick Records, and an Actual Survey made by the late Mr. Edmund Rack. Bath 1791. 3 vols. 4to. Map and plates. R. M.

COLLOP, JOHN. Poesis Rediviva: Or Poesie Reviv'd. London, Printed for Humphrey Moseley, &c. 1656. Sm. 8vo.

A—H 7 in eights. Dedicated to Henry, Marquis of Dorchester.

COLMAN, W. La Dance Machabre or Deaths Duell. by W. C. London, Printed by William Stansby. [1632.] Sm. 8vo.

In verse. "Mind of the Frontispiece," Frontispiece, and laudatory verses by J. Crompton, 3 leaves; A, 4 leaves, containing dedication to the Queen and more laudatory verses; B—F 5 in eights. Together 44 leaves.

As the author complains of his title having been appropriated by the publisher of Donne's "Death's-Duell," 1632, it is to be presumed that both works were printed about the same time. See Mr. Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i., 150.

The present was Mr. Daniel's copy. From the Wolfreston collection. Other copies are in the Bodleian, at Bridgewater House, in the Dyce collection, and at Britwell. A sixth was sold among Mr. Corser's books.

COLOMA, JUAN. Decada de la Passion de nvestro Redemptor Jesu Christo; con otra obra intitulada cantico de su gloriosa resurreccion; compuesta por el illustrissimo señor Don Juan Coloma. En Caller, MDLXXVI. Por Vincentio Sembenino, Impressor del Renevendo Doctor Nicolas Cañyellas, Canonigo y Vicario General de la Yglesia de Caller. Sm. 8vo. Eleven Plates. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; A—K in eights; L, 6 leaves; M—X 7 in eights. From the Yemeniz collection.

Brunet points out that Dr. Cotton is mistaken in citing this as the earliest book printed at Cagliari, in the island of Sardinia, and in the supplement to the "Dictionnaire de Géographie" appended to Brunet's "Manuel," we find that a book has been discovered, printed at that place as early as 1493. The plates have the monogram "HG," which is not, however, to be found in Nagler's "Dictionary of Monograms."

COLUMBUS, CHRISTOPHER. The first Letter written by Columbus (in Spanish) to Luis de Santanghel, 1493. Preserved in the Ambrosian Library at Milan. By James Lenox. [New York, privately printed, 1874.] 4to. Facsimile.

Presentation copy from Mr. Lenox.

M.cccc.xciii. Pontificatus Alexandri Sexti Anno primo. [S. l. et a.] 4to.

Four leaves; thirty-three lines to the page.

Mr. Major, in his treatise entitled "The Bibliography of the First Letter of Columbus," has shown very clearly that this must be the earliest edition of the letter of Columbus, and by reference to other books printed at Rome by Stephen Planck in 1493, he has proved that he was the printer of the letter. He specially instances a volume of Benedictus de Nursia, which begins, "Incipit libellus de conservatione sanitatis secundum ordinem alphabeti distinctus per eximium doctorem magistrum Benedictinum compositus." Impressum Rome per magistrum Stephanum Planck. Anno Domini mccccxciii, quarto non Maii.

By Mr. HARRISSE this edition is placed as the fourth, and it is stated by him to have only thirty lines to the full page. This statement is certainly incorrect. Brunet does not pretend to give any exact information on the subject.

Three leaves; forty lines to the page.

This Mr. Major shows to be the second edition. By HARRISSE it is placed as the third.

— Letter of Christopher Columbus describing his first voyage to the Western Hemisphere. Text in facsimile. New York. 1875. 8vo.

This is a privately printed facsimile of the edition of Columbus's letter, placed by Mr. HARRISSE as the first, but by Mr. Major as the third. A presentation copy from S. L. M. Barlow, Esq., at whose expense the edition was printed. An introductory notice by Mr. Barlow is prefixed.

This copy is in the original oak boards with leather back, evidently its first binding. The paper is very crisp and fresh, never having been pressed. There is in the library another copy on ordinary paper.

A—Cc in fours.

This is an abridgment of the work described above, with rude copies of some of the illustrations. The woodcut at G 4 was used by the publisher for the first edition of Daniel's "Delia" in the same year, and a reduced copy of it served for the ornamental part of the title to "Delia and Rosamond," 1594.

The English version, though but an abridgment, is far more rare than the original. Of the translator nothing is known, but it may be Robert Dexter, the printer, whose name is mentioned by Herbert in connection with Holme the printer, whose name appears on some copies of this book. The initials R. D. are subscribed to the dedication to "Robert Devorax, Earl of Essex." On the back of the title occurs a second inscription, presumably from the same pen, but unsigned, "To the thrise Honorable and ever lyving vertves of Syr Phillip Sydney Knight; and to the right Honorable and others whatsoever, who living loved him, and being dead give him his Dve."

The present copy came from the collection of General Pennefather, and has his book plate. The book seems to have been quite unknown to Ames or Herbert, as no notice of it occurs under the names of either Waterson or Holme.

This edition is altogether undescribed by bibliographers. It appears to be the fourth edition of the work, as it would, reckoning the period at which the year began, be anterior to the edition of January, 1525, described by Brunet.

Chroniques du Roy Charles huytiesme de ce nom, contenant la verite des faitz et gestes dignes de memoires du dict seigneur. Paris, Phelix guybert. 1539. Sm. 8vo. O. M.*

Brunet, speaking of the edition of 1539, says, "Il s'en trouve aussi avec le nom d'Estienne heruault, ou avec celui d'Alain Lotrian, et enfin avec le nom et la marque de Félix Guibert, libraire dont Lottin n'a pas parlé."

Some account of this famous pirate, and of the editions of his adventures, will be found in Muller's "Mémoire bibliographique sur les Journaux des Navigateurs Néerlandais;" but this edition of 1663 was unknown to M. Muller.

Four leaves. In 7-line stanzas.

From the Caldecott and Daniel collections, and the only copy known. On the back of the title are two figures, supposed in this case to represent the dolorous lover and his fickle mistress, but employed in books of the time for a variety of purposes. The last page is occupied by the printer's usual device.

COMPLAINTE DE VENISE. La cōplaite de Venise, borgois de Venise doubttez lētrepse. Sm. sqr. 8vo.

Of this re-impression only ten copies were struck off by M. Techener, and all of them on vellum. It is written in verse, and consists of only four leaves.

COMPOST DES BERGERS. See Shepherd's Calendar.

COMPOSTELLA. Les Chansons des Pélerins de S. Jacques. Sur l'Imprimé à Compostel. [1718.] Sm. 8vo.

This is a diminutive volume of forty-eight pages, and is illustrated by woodcuts of the rudest kind. It is doubtless a reprint of a more ancient edition; but no account of it is to be found in Brunet. On the last leaf is the "Approbation": "J'ai lu le présent Livret, dont on peut permettre l'impression vū l'ancienneté de la composition. A Troyes, ce 7 Août 1718."

CONÆUS, GEORGIUS. Vita Mariæ Stuartæ Scotiæ Reginæ, Dotariæ Galliæ, Angliæ et Hiberniæ Hæredis. Romæ, Apud Ioannem Paulum Gellium. 1624. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves, including a portrait of Queen Mary; A—H 6 in twelves.

This is the earliest printed book with representations of armorial bearings. These are usually coloured; but as the emblazoning differs in every copy, it can have no heraldic value. The present copy is in pure uncoloured state; but it is very rarely in that condition. Brunet gives a full and accurate collation of the volume, which is seldom found complete.

CONCORDANCE. A briefe and compendious table, in a maner of a concordance, opening the waye to the principall histories of the whole Bible, and the moste cōmon Articles grounded and comprehended in the newe Testament and olde, in maner as doeth the great concordance of the Bible, Gathered and set furth by Henry Bollynger, Leo Jude, Thomas Pellicane, and by the other ministers of the church of Tygurie, And nowe first imprinted in Englysshe. — The Defence of Coneycatching, A.D. 1592. Edited by J. O. Halliwell. London, 1859. Sm. 8vo.

Twenty-six copies printed.

In the address to the reader prefixed to this treatise the writer professes to have been grievously hindered in his profession of a coney-catcher or cardsharper by the publication of Robert Green's tract, "A notable discovery of Coosenage." He says, "For I trauelled almost throughout all England, admired for my ingenious capacitie: till comming about Exceter, I began to exercise my art, and drawing in a Tanner for a tame Conie, as soone as he had lost two shillings he made this reply. Sirha, although you have a livery on your backe, and beare the port of a Gentleman yet I see you are a false knave and a Conny-catcher, and this your companion your setter, and that before you and I part Ile proue.

“At these words Conny-catcher and Setter, I was driven into as great a maze, as if one had dropt out of the clowds, to heare a pesant cant the words of art belonging to our trade: yet I set a good face on the matter and asked him what he ment by Cony-catching. Marry (q. he) although it is your practise, yet I have for 3. pence bought a litle Pamphlet, that hath taught me to smoke such a couple of knaues as you be.”

CONEY-CATCHING. The Cony-catching Bride. Who after she was privately married in a Conventicle or Chamber, according to the new Fashion of Marriage: She sav'd her selfe very handsomely from being cony-caught, coozened her old Father, her Bride-groome, Mr. Toby, and caused a generall laughter amongst all the Guests thither invited. This Wedding, or rather Mock-Marriage was kept privately in London, and is now published to the view of the World for Mirth-sake. Together with a Sermon, preached by a pragmaticall Cobler at the aforesaid Wedding, comparing the Duties of Marriage to the Vtensils of his Trade. Printed at London by T. F. 1643. 4to. GR. M.

Four leaves. With two small cuts on the title, and three woodcuts on the back, all borrowed from other publications.

“The genuine first editions in German and Latin of the famous Augsburg Confession. Of the German no less than six were issued in the same year, three in the quarto size; but this first is distinguished by bibliographers from the others mainly by the peculiar orthography of one word in the title. Of the Latin two only appeared in 1530, the second with the ‘Apologia.’ Both these first editions are of the greatest rarity and interest. They were secretly printed in Switzerland; and such care was taken, that even the Emperor, it is said, could not obtain either before they were exhibited and read at the diet, after which the circulation of the Confession was strictly forbidden by him until the opposite party had seen and answered it.

“It is worthy of note that these first editions show the real doctrine of the Lutherans on the question of the unworthy partakers of the Lord’s Supper, till they consented to make it ambiguous in deference to the Zuinglians, as may be seen in the following extract:

“Imprimis factum id est in Articulo x. Confessionis de Cœna Domini. Namque quum in primo eoque minime mutato latino exemplo legeretur: “De Cœna Domini docent, quod Corpus et Sanguis Christi vere adsint et distribuuntur vescentibus in Cœna Domini, et improbant secus docentes," Melancthon hæc verba substituit: "De Cœna Domini docent quod Corpus et Sanguis Christi vere exhibeantur vescentibus in Cœna Domini." Maxime insignem ac memorabilem hanc esse mutationem, quisque facile videat, nec difficulter intelligat, susceptam illam fuisse in gratiam reformatorum: sive Ulrici Zuinglii adseclarum. Primum delevit verbum "adsint," quo vera ac realis presentia corporis et sanguinis Jesu Christi in Sacra Cœna significata fuerat; deinde expunxit vocem "distribuuntur," atque substituit vocabulum "exhibeantur," ut inde oriretur licentia, non credendi distributionem corporis et sanguinis Christi manu ministri factam; vel ratione manducantium et bibentium, sive sint digni, sive indigni, oralem participationem.—Walchii Introductio in Libros Eccl. Luth. Symbolicos," p. 186.—Note by Mr. C. J. Stewart.

"Quando superior magistratus vi persequitur in subditis, ipsum jus vel naturale, vel divinum, vel veram religionem et cultum Dei, tunc inferior magistratus debet ei resistere ex mandato Dei. Persecutio quæ nobis jam accidit a superioribus, proprie pertinet ad oppressionem veræ religionis nostræ, et veri cultus Dei, &c. Ergo noster magistratus debet huic oppressioni resistere propter mandatum Dei . . . Ex hoc syllogismo denique nascuntur gravissima argumenta exhortationis, quam institimus in tertia parte libelli, ne pii vel auxilia contra nos hostibus ferant, vel nos suis penitus destituant auxiliis, nec frangantur animis in hac persecutione Evangelii et Christi ferenda et propulsanda pro vocatione.”—Syllogismus continens Argumentum libri.

CONSOLAT. Aci comença la taula del libre del consolat. [S. a. y. l.] Folio. Black letter. BR. M.

This is no doubt the earliest edition of this work, of which the first dated edition was printed at Barcelona in 1494. Brunet has given a very accurate collation of the volume, except that he speaks of the signatures beginning with g, whereas they really begin with f. He also speaks of a title ; but there is no more title than that given above, which stands at the head of the first column of the table. On the last leaf is a subscription which runs thus : "Fonch feta la present crida per mi Anthoni strada corredot dela ciutat a tres de Juny Any Mil cccc vuytantaquatra. Aci acaben les ordinacions novament fetas sobre les seguretats maritimes." It is probable that the volume was printed at Barcelona soon after the date here given (1484).

CONSOLATION chrestienne contre les afflictions de ce monde, et scrupules de conscience. [Sans lieu ni date.] Sm. 8vo. Black letter. A—M 6 in eights.

This little piece is written by a French Protestant ; but so far as can be ascertained it is not mentioned by any bibliographer. It is printed in a small Gothic type. On the title is a MS. date of 1534, which is probably about the time it was printed.

CONSPIRACY. A Conspiracy Discovered, Or the Report of a Committee to the House of Commons in Parliament, of the Examination of diuers of the Conspirators and others in the late Treason, Iune the 17, 1641. . . . Printed in the year 1641. 4to.

Four leaves, including a curious woodcut frontispiece in four compartments.

COOKE, JOHN. Greenes Tu quoque, Or The Cittie Gallant. As it hath bene diuers times acted by the Queenes Maiesties Seruants. Written by Iohn Cooke Gent. Printed at London for Thomas Dewe, and are to be sold at his Shop in Saint Dunstans Church-yard in Fleetstreet. 1622. 4to.

A—L in fours, with a woodcut portrait of Greene on the title.

Thomas Greene, the actor, was Shakespeare's fellow-townsmen, and the author of a poem entitled, "A Poets Vision and a Princes Glory," 1603. The portrait of Greene is in character, and presents him as Bubble, the City Gallant. The play was edited by Thomas Heywood, who wrote a preface highly laudatory to the author and the actor, of whom he calls the former his friend, and the latter his fellow. On the back of this preface are lines signed W. R[owley?] "Vpon the death of Thomas Greene."

COOKE, JOHN, of Gray's Inn. Monarchy No creature of Gods making, &c. wherein is proved by Scripture and Reason, that Monarchicall Government is against the minde of God. And that the Execution of the late king was one of the fattest sacrifices that ever Queen Iustice had. Being a Hue and Cry after Lady Liberty which hath been ravished and stolen away by the Grand Potentates of the Earth. Principally intended for the undeceaving of some honest hearts who like the poore Iewes cry, give us a king, though they smart never so much for it. [Three quotations.] Printed at Waterford in Ireland, by Peter le Pienne, in the yeare of our Lord God, 1651. Sm. 8vo.

a—g in fours, and a leaf of h; A—I 4 in eights, first and last leaves occupied only by woodcut ornaments on one side.

Dedicated "To the Supream Authoritie of the three Nations the Parliament of the Commonwealth of England." The author describes himself on the title of this book as "late of Grayes Inne Esquire, Chief Iustice of the Province of Munster in Ireland."

Cooke's prefatory matter is of considerable historical interest. In it he refers to the benefits conferred on Ireland by the government of Henry Ireton, especially in the simplification and cheapening of law; and at the end he alludes to the news which he had received, as he was concluding his epistle, of Ireton's lamented death.

COOKE, RICHARD. A White Sheete, Or A Warning for Whoremongers. A Sermon preached in the Parish Church of S^t Swithins by London-stone, the 19. of Iuly, Anno Domi: 1629, the day appointed by Honorable authoritie for penance to be done by an Inhabitant there for fornication, continued more then two yeares, with his Maide-Servant. COOPER, ANTHONY. Stratologia Or the History of the English Civil Warrs, in English Verse. Containing a brief Account of all Fights, most Skirmishes, Stratagems and Sieges in England. From the very first Originall of our late Warres, till the Martyrdome of King Charles the First of blessed memory. By an Eye-Witnesse of many of them. A. C. Alta sedent Civilis vulnera Dextræ. London, Printed for Joseph Crauford at the Castle and Lyon in St. Pauls Church-yard. 1662. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A, 4 leaves ; B—N 4 in eights.

The author's dedication to Conyers D'Arcy, Lord Darcy, &c., is in verse. It seems that Cooper had entered the army young, had suffered much, and had been wounded three times before he was eighteen. This poetical narrative was composed during the civil wars. He pleads his admiration for Lord Darcy as his apology for dedicating to him such a volume. He says :—

“When (yet a Boy) your Colours I beheld
And Regiment so gallant by you rais'd
Even by my Infant-muse your worth was prais'd—.”

The volume was first printed in 1660.

COOPER, THOMAS. *Coopers Chronicle, Containinge the Whole discourse of the histories as well of this realme, as all other countries, with the succession of their Kynges, the time of their raigne, and what notable actes were done by them, newly enlarged and augmented, as well in the first part with divers profitable Histories, as in the latter ende with the whole summe of those thinges that Paulus Jouius and Sleidane hath written of late yeres, that is, from the beginnyng of Kyng Henrie the eights raigne vnto the late death of Queene Mary, by me Thomas Cooper. Dedicated by the compiler to the Earl of Bedford. On the back of the title is “An Admonition to the reader,” in which Cooper describes the edition of this chronicle, printed with the date 1559, as spurious, and “the attempte of certayne persons vtterly vnlearned.”

COOTE, EDWARD. *The English School-master, Teaching all his Scholars, of what age soever, the most easie, short, and perfect order of distinct reading and true Writing of our English-tongue, that hath ever yet been known or published by any And further also, teacheth a direct Course how any unskilfull person may easily both understand any hard English words, which they shall in the Scriptures, Sermons, or els-where hear or read : and also be made able to use the same aptly themselves ; and generally whatsoever is necessary to be known for the English Speech. . . . A—L 3 in fours.

No earlier edition of this once popular work is at present known than that printed in 1614, of which an imperfect copy is in the library of Emmanuel College, Cambridge. See Hazlitt's "Collections and Notes," p. 373. It appears, however, to be the book licensed on the 18th December, 1597. See Arber's "Transcript," iii., p. 17.

COPE, ANTHONY. The Historie of Two the moste Noble Capitaines of the worlde, Anniball and Scipio, of theyr dyuers battailes and victories, excedyng profitable to reade, gathered and translated into Englishe, out of Titus Liuius, and other authoures, by Antonye Cope esquier. Anno. M. D. XLIIII. [Colophon.] Londini. In œdibus Thomæ Bertheleti regii impressoris typis excusum. Anno Verbi Incarnati. M. D. XLIIII. Cum Privilegio. . . . 4to. Black letter.

Title and preface, 4 leaves; table, 2 leaves; A—Nn in fours.

On the back of the title is a poem of three stanzas headed: "Tho. Berthelet to this historie," which is followed by a long dedication to Henry VIII., in which Cope takes the opportunity of complimenting his sovereign on the victories achieved at home and in France. "I wille omitte," he says, "to reherse, that the emperour Maximilian, hearyng the fame of your hyghnesse power and excellence, desyred to be of youre maiesties bande, and vnder your baner in the fieldes agaynst the frenchemen. I wyll also leaue to reherse the wyse and woorthy conquest of the realme of Irelande, whereof at this present your maiestie weareth the Diademe. Neither will I tary to declare the sundry and moste lucky victories, that your hyghnes bath of late had agaynst the promisse breakers the double dealyng Scottes. Furthermore, partely for breuitie, and partely for that the thyng beeyng so lately dooen, neither the brute nor the memory therof can not but be so freshe, that it were much superfluous here now to recite the same, I haue thought best wholly to omitte the long recitall of your late most noble, politike, and myghty conquest of Bollayne. . . ."

COPLEY, ANTHONY. A Fig for Fortune. Recta Secutus. A. C. London Printed by Richard Iohnes for C. A. 1596. 4to.

A—M in fours, first and last two leaves blank. In 6-line stanzas.

Dedicated by Copley, in verse, to Anthony Browne, Viscount Montague. In Corser's "Collectanea," part iv., pp. 455-61, will be found a rather long account of the book, and a memoir of Copley. The present copy is from the libraries of Mr. Hamper and Mr. Daniel. Only three or four copies are known. The initials at the foot of the title probably stand for Anthony Copley reversed.

COPLEY, ANTHONY. Wits, Fits, and Fancies: Or, A generall and serious Collection, of the Sententious Speeches, Answers, Iests, and Behaviours, of all sortes of Estates, From the Throane to the Cottage. Being properly reduced to their seuerall heads, for the more ease to the Reader. Newly Corrected and augmented, with many late, true, and wittic accidents. Musica mentis, medecina Mæstus. London Printed by Edw: Alde, dwelling in little Saint Bartholmewes, near Christ-Church. 1614. 4to. BL. M.

A, 2 leaves; B—Cc 2 in fours.

This is a second edition, with additions and omissions. The first was published in 1595, with the author's initials and motto on the title. The poem called "Love's Owl" is not reprinted here, and all trace of Copley's authorship or editorship is suppressed. Mr. Collier in his "Bibliographical Catalogue," vol. i., p. 156, points out that Mr. Douce has shown that the author is much indebted to a Spanish book entitled "Floresta Española," by Melchior de Santa Cruz, first printed at Toledo in 1574, and frequently reprinted. Mr. Collier gives also many valuable particulars respecting the volume and the use made of it by Shakespeare and others.

COPPIER, GUILLAUME. Histoire et Voyage des Indes Occidentales, et de plusieurs autres Regions maritimes, et esloignées. Lyon, pour J. Huguetan. 1645. Sm. 8vo.

COPY OF A LETTER. The Coppie of a Letter sent from one of the Queenes Servants at the Hague to a Gentleman in Westminster dated the second of May, 1642. T. 1642. 4to.

Four leaves.

The Letter from the Hague is signed "M. M." The authorship of Asladowne is limited to a prophecy ascribed to him, which is contained on the concluding leaf. The "Prophecie concerning these times" is in verse.

— A Copy of a Letter wrote by a young Shepherd to his Friend in Borrowdale. To which is added a Glossary of the Cumberland Words. Printed in the Year 1795. Sm. 8vo.

Eight leaves.

CORBET, JOHN. A, 2 leaves; B—I 6 in eights.

Second edition. Mr. Corser thought that this volume was printed in France, the pointing and spelling being so very imperfect. See "Collectanea," part iv., p. 469.

CORDERIUS, MATURINUS. Principia Latine Loqvendi Scribendiqve Sive Selecta quædam ex Ciceronis epistolis. . . . It seems not unlikely that the translation was an early work of the celebrated poet Thomas Watson. No other book with the name of Oliver Wilkes in the colophon seems to be known.

A, 2 leaves ; B—I 3 in fours.

Dedicated by T. R. "To the most Vertuous Lady M^{rs} Joanna Thornhill, Wife to the Honourable Col: Rich: Thornhill, of Ollantigh in Kent." Here the translator acknowledges his obligations to the lady's husband and brother, and begs her protection for the "innocent stranger." "Such is his Innocency," he says, "that in this habit he might, without Gaule to the Spectators, have enter'd the Theater (had not the Guilty Ones of this Age broken that Mirrour lest they shall there beholde their own horrible Shapes represented"—which Mr. Halliwell ("Dict. of Old Plays," 1860, p. 90) supposes to mean that the drama, in its English dress, had been unsuccessfully performed. It is, however, more probable that the reference is to the prohibition of stage plays by the Commonwealth.

CORNELIUS NEPOS. Emilius probus de uita excellentium Imperatorum exteraꝝ gentiũ. 4to. O. M.

MS. on vellum written in Italy in the fifteenth century. The first page with an illuminated border. The last three pages of the MS. are occupied with the testimonies of Josephus and other ancient writers concerning Jesus Christ.

CORNWALLIS, SIR CHARLES. A Discourse of the most Illustrious Prince, Henry, Late Prince of Wales. Written Anno 1626. by Sir Charles Cornwallis, Knight, sometimes Treasurer of his Highnesse House. London, Printed for Iohn Benson, and are to be sold at his shop in Saint Dunstan's Church yard. 1641. 4to.

A 2—E 3 in fours, the first and last leaves having been blank. This is the only memoir which we possess of Prince Henry, and it furnishes some curious insights into his amusements, occupations, and temper. Cornwallis speaks of his fondness to excess for tennis and for eating fruit, on which points he was ready to hear advice but not to follow it. He also refers to a Spanish match having been projected for him, and to his rather quarrelsome demeanour towards his brother and sister, Charles and Elizabeth.

CORNWALLYS, SIR WILLIAM. The First Part of Essayes. By Sir William Cornewallys the yonger, Knight. *Printed by I. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A 2—Nn in eights ; the first leaf of A, the last leaf of M, and the last three leaves of N, are blank.

Dedicated to the Lady Sara Hastings, the Lady Theodosia Dudley, the Lady Mary Wingfield, and the Lady Mary Dyer, by H. O., who states that many MS. copies having got abroad, he was obliged to commit the work to the press, from a fear of a surreptitious and incorrect edition, and so to depart from the author's original desire to keep his labours private. The second portion, however, is inscribed by W. C., presumably the initials of the author himself, to the same ladies. Part the First was originally printed in 1600. From Mr. Craufurd's library.

A—B in fours; A (repeated)—C in fours; D—D 2, 2 leaves; 2 leaves unmarked; D 3—6, 4 leaves; E—H 3 in fours, G 4 and H 4 blank.

On the 2nd October, 1617, was entered to Master [John] Beale "A Booke called 'A Letter from Thomas Coryate to his Mother.'" See Arber, iii., p. 284. It is no longer known.

— The Odcombian Banqvct: Dished forth by Thomas the Coriat, and Serued in by a number of Noble Wits in prayse of his Crvdities and Crambe. Asinus portans Mysteria. Imprinted for Thomas Thorp. 1611. 4to. BL. M.

A—P in fours, title on A 2. On the last page is a facetious postscript, setting forth the reasons why the "Crudities" themselves were not reprinted with the present publication—namely, to save the buyer's pocket, the larger book containing so many pages, so many lines to the page, so many commas, &c.

From Sir W. Tite's library.

A and B, 6 leaves; C and D, 4; A, 8; b and c, 4 each; d, 8; e and f, 4 each. A folding woodcut after C ii.

This is No. 46 in HARRISSE'S "Bibliotheca," and is reckoned by him as the third edition printed in 1507. In the "Additions" to "the Bibliotheca A. V.," No. 24, Mr. HARRISSE gives a note by the Hon. H. C. MURPHY, who expresses his opinion that the two editions described above are in fact the first and second, and that the edition described as the first by Mr. HARRISSE is only made up of two editions. From this opinion, however, Mr. HARRISSE declares his entire dissent.

COSMOGRAPHIÆ introductio: cum quibusdam Geometriæ ac Astronomiæ principiis ad eam rem necessariis. Insuper quattuor Americi Vespucii nauigationes. Vniuersalis Cosmographiæ descriptio tam in solido \bar{q} plano, eis etiam insertis quæ Ptholomæo ignota, a nuperis reperta sunt. Brunet remarks that Mr. Lenox of New York has two copies of this edition (which by a slip of the pen he calls "of Nuremberg"), one of which has fourteen lines of text at the back of the large map, and the other fifteen. This copy has fourteen lines.

No. 60 in HARRISSE'S "Bibliotheca."

It was in this book that the name of America was first suggested for the newfound world. The passage in which the suggestion occurs will be found on the verso of the fifteenth leaf of the May edition of 1507. "Nūc tō & hę partes sunt latius lustratę/ & alia quarta pars per Americū Vesputiū (vt in sequentibus audietur) inuenta est/ quā non video cur quis iure vetet ab Americo inuentore sagacis ingenii viro Amerigen quasi Americi terrā, siue Americam dicendā: cū & Europa & Asia a mulieribus sua sortita sint nomina."

The compiler of the work and the originator of this idea was Martin Waltzmüller or Waldsee-müller, a native of Freiburg and a Professor in the Gymnasium of St. Dié. According to the custom of the time he hellenized his name into Hylacomylus, under which he is generally known. For a very full account of the different editions of the book see Harrisse's "Bibliotheca Americana."

COSMOGRAPHIÆ Introductio: cum quibusdam Gœometrię ac Astronomię principiis ad eam rem necessariis. Ingolstadii. 1529. Sm. 8vo.

Thirty-two leaves including title.

According to Mr. Harrisse this little volume, though bearing the same title as the Cosmographia of Martinus Hylacomylus, is in reality an abridgment of Apian's Treatise of Cosmography, first printed at Landeshut in 1524, whole passages, he says, being taken directly from it.

COSTALIUS, PETRUS. Petri Costalii Pegma, cum narrationibus philosophicis. Lugduni, Apud Matthiam Bonhomme. 1555. Sm. 8vo. Woodcuts.

COSTUMES. Collection de Costumes de tous les pays du monde. Gravés sur fer & attribués à Hans Weigel. [Augsbourg ou Nuremberg, vers 1550.] Folio. R. M.

This series appears never to have been published. The title as given above has only been made for this copy in pen and ink. The collection consists of ninety-five plates etched in outline, and each plate has a short description in German in a hand of the sixteenth century. Six of the plates are very beautifully finished in colours, and it was probably the intention of the artist to have painted the whole in the same manner, when it would have been a truly beautiful and valuable book of costume. A similar set, but consisting of only ninety-two plates, all washed with Indian ink, but none finished in colours, occurs in the sale catalogue of M. Solar's library, 1860. It there says, "On connaît quelques planches séparées de ce précieux recueil dans le cabinet grand-ducal de Gotha; mais on n'avait jamais eu connaissance d'un aussi grand nombre de planches, sur lesquelles se taisent tous les iconographes."

COTGRAVE, JOHN. Wits Interpreter: The English Parnassvs. Or, A sure Guide to those Admirable Accomplishments that compleat our English Gentry in the most acceptable Qualifications of Discourse or Writing. In which briefly the whole Mystery of those pleasing Witchcrafts of Eloquence and Love are made easie in the following subjects, viz. Theatre of Courtship, &c. . . . The 3d Edition with many new Additions by J. C. Trahit sua quemque voluptas. London, Printed for N. Brook, at the Angel in Cornhill, and [sic] 1671. Sm. 8vo.

A—Mm 4 in eights, including a frontispiece, which contains small portraits of Shakespeare, Ben Jonson, Randolph, &c.

The first edition was in 1655, the second in 1662. It is a miscellaneous repository of poems of every kind, some written as long since as the reign of Elizabeth, others by Carew, &c., a few selected from the "Drolleries;" there are also letters, anagrams, posies for rings, recipes, descriptions of games, &c.

COTGRAVE, RANDLE. A Dictionarie of the French and English Tongues. Compiled by Randle Cotgrave. Wherevnto is also annexed a most copious Dictionarie, of the English set before the French. By R[obert] S[herwood] L[ondoner]. London, Printed by Adam Islip Anno 1632. Folio.

A (not marked), 4 leaves; B—Nnnn in sixes, last leaf blank, and between Nnnn ij and iij a Table of Verbs on a folded sheet; Sherwood's portion, with a new title, preliminary leaves (3), and A—Oo in fours; Pp, 6 leaves; concluding with some remarks on the pronunciation of the English language for the benefit of strangers.

COTTON, CHARLES. The Compleat Angler. Being Instructions how to angle for a Trout or Grayling in a clear Stream. Part II. London Printed for Richard Marriott, and Henry Brome. 1676. Sm. 8vo.

First edition. From the libraries of Mr. Cotton, the Ordinary of Newgate, and Mr. Corser. This copy, in the original binding, belonged originally to John Evelyn, in whose autograph there is the following memorandum on the leaf before the title: "Catalogo Evelyni inscriptus. Meliora Retinete." On the other side of the leaf is a MS. note by Upcott, stating that he obtained the book from Lady Evelyn at Wotton, in 1816.

— Poems on several Occasions. Written by Charles Cotton, Esq; London, Printed for Tho. Basset &c. 1689. 8vo.

A—Z 2 in eights, except that A has only 4 leaves.

COTTON, JOHN. The Way of the Churches of Christ in New-England. Or The Way of Churches walking in Brotherly equalitie or co-ordination, without subjection of one Church to another. Measured and examined by the Golden Reed of the Sanctuary. Containing a full Declaration of the Church-way in all Particulars. By Mr. J. Cotton, Teacher of the Church of Boston in New England. [Quotation.] Published according to Order. London, Printed by Matthew Simmons in Aldersgate-streete. 1645. 4to.

A—Q in fours.

COTTON, ROGER. A Spirituall Song: conteining an Historicall Discourse from the infancie of the world vntill this present time: Setting downe the treacherous practices of the wicked against the children of God: De[s]cribing also the markes and ouerthrow of Antichrist, with a thanks-giuing to God for the preseruacion of her Maiestie and of his Church. Drawn out of the holy Scriptures, By Roger Cotton. [Quotation.] At London Printed by G. Simson and W. White. 1596. 4to. BL. M.

A—E 2 in fours, E 2 blank.

Dedicated to Sir F. Drake, of whom a portrait is inserted. The main poem is in stanzas of five lines, but at the end is: "A Description of Olde Rome, or misticall Babylon: and may be song to the 81. Psalmc," which is in short lines, eight to a stanza.

From the libraries of Mr. Skegg and Mr. Corser.

COTTON, ROGER. An Armor of Prooffe, brought from the Tower of Daudid to fight against Spanyardes and all enemies of the trueth, By R. C. [Quot. from Prov. xviii. 10.] Imprinted at London by G. Simson and W. White. 1596. 4to.

A, 4 leaves; an address to the Christian Reader, followed by a blank, 2 leaves; B—D 3 in fours. In 6-line stanzas. Dedicated to Gilbert, Earl of Shrewsbury. From the libraries of Mr. Skegg and Mr. Corser.

COUNTER'S DISCOURSE. The Covnters Discovrse, with its Varlets Discovery, Being a merry Dialogue betwixt three cunning Rookes, viz., Tenterhooke the Serjeant, Catchall the Yeoman, and Spy-all their Setter. Printed in the yeare, 1641. 4to.

Four leaves. With a curious cut on the title.

COURT. The Court of ciuill Courtesie. Fitlie furnished with a pleasant port of stately phrases and pithy precepts: assembled in the behalfe of all young Gentlemen, and others, that are desirous to frame their behaiour according to their estates, at all times and in all companies. Therby to purchase worthy praise of their inferiours: and estimation and credite among their betters. Out of the Italian, by S. R. Gent. Imprinted at London by Richard Ihones. 1591. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A—E in fours.

From the collections of Sir Francis Freeling and Mr. Corser. Believed to be the only copy known. Herbert describes an edition of this book, by the same printer, in 1577. The only perfect copy known of that impression seems to be that which was sold at the Roxburghe sale, but a very imperfect one occurred in an auction in 1877. It collates A—H 2 in fours. See the privately printed "Book of Prefaces," 1874, p. 106. Lowndes suggests that the initials S. R. of the translator may indicate Samuel Rowlands; but that is quite out of the question.

COVARRUVIAS OROZCO, SEBASTIAN DE. Tesoro de la lengua Castellana, o Española. En Madrid, por Luis Sanchez. 1611. Folio. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 10 leaves. Folios 1-602 and 1-79. Subscription, 1 leaf, not numbered.

A—E 4 in eights, the last leaf blank. The title is within a woodcut border.

— Certain most godly, fruitful, and comfortable letters of such true Saintes and holy Martyrs of God, as in the late bloodye persecution here within this Realme, gaue their lyues for the defence of Christes holy gospel: written in the tyme of theyr affliction and cruell imprysonment. [Quot. from B. of Wisdom, 3.] Imprinted at London by Iohn Day, dwelling ouer Aldersgate, beneath Saint Martines. 1564. Cum gratia 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

A—Y in eights, except that A has only 4 leaves; Aa—Yy 6 in eights; A letter of D. Ridley, &c., 4 leaves; table, 2 leaves. With a preface by Miles Coverdale. On the back of the title is a woodcut of a martyrdom. The title is within a woodcut border.

Ritson does not notice the verses by Laurence Saunders and John Careles found in this book (pp. 215 and 634-40). The "certayne godly verses" which Saunders sent to his "prison fellowes of the Marshalsea," consist only of fourteen long lines in rhyming couplets. The "sweet and heavenly exercise," by Careles is in twenty-eight 4-line stanzas, and a little further on are some verses which he wrote in Mistress Jane Glascock's book.

COVERTE, CAPTAIN ROBERT. A Trve and almost incredible report of an Englishman, that (being cast away in the good Ship called the Assention, in Cambaya, the farthest part of the East Indies) Travelled by Land through many unknowne kingdomes, and great Cities. . . . The second Impression newly corrected. London Printed by N. O. for Thomas Archer . . . 1614. 4to. Black letter.

A—K in fours, title on A 2, and the last two leaves blank.

COWELL, JOHN. The Interpreter: Or Booke containing the Signification of Words: wherein is set fourth the true meaning of all, or the most part of such Words and Termes, as are mentioned in the Lawe Writers, or Statutes of this victorious and renowned Kingdome, requiring any Exposition or Interpretation. At Cambridge Printed by Iohn Legate, Anno 1607. 4to.

*, 4 leaves; A—Cccc in fours.

First edition. It is said to have been suppressed at the instance of Sir Edward Coke, in consequence of certain remarks by the author, taken to be disrespectful to him.

COWLEY, ABRAHAM. The Works of Mr. Abraham Cowley: In two volumes. Consisting of those which were formerly Printed; and those which He Design'd for the Press, Publish'd out of the Author's Original Copies. With the Cutter of Coleman-Street. The Tenth Edition. Adorn'd with Cuts. The Third and Last volume of the Works London 1707-8. 3 vols. 8vo. Portraits and plates. R. M.

The best edition, as regards completeness, as it is the only one in which Cowley's entire poems are given. The third volume is divided into two parts; the first containing his juvenile poems, the second the "Plants."

— Poetical Blossomes. By A. C. — fit surculus Arbor. London, Printed by B. A. and T. F. for Henry Seile, and are to be sold at his shop at the Signe of the Tygers-head in St. Pauls Church-yard. 1633. 4to. R. M.

A—H in fours, last leaf blank, including the portrait of the author, "ætatis suæ 13, anno 1633," by Vaughan, with six lines of verse beneath it by B. Masters.

First edition. Dedicated to John Williams, Bishop of Lincoln.

— Poeticall Blossomes. The second Edition enlarged by the Author. — fit surculus Arbor. London, Printed by E. P. for Henry Seyle, 1636. Sm. 8vo.

A—F in eights. With the same portrait as in the first edition.

Below the portrait, and at the end, occurs the contemporary autograph of Oliver Denham, 1636.

— Poems: Viz. I. Miscellanies. II. The Mistress, or, Love Verses. III. Pindarique Odes, and IV. Davideis, or, A Sacred Poem of the Troubles of David. Written by A. Cowley. [Quot. from Virg. Georg. 3.] London, Printed for Humphrey Moseley, at the Prince's Arms in St. Pauls Church-yard, 1656. Folio.

Title, 1 leaf; (a)—(b), 4 leaves each; A, 2 leaves; B—E in fours, and F, 5 leaves; "The Mistress," &c., with a new title-page, Aa—Kk in fours; "Pindaric Odes," with a new title, Aaa, 2 leaves; Bbb—Kkk 2 in fours; "Davideis," with a new title, 4 A—4 S in fours; 4 T, 5 leaves; "Davideos Liber primus. Authore A. Cowley," as a heading; A, 4 leaves, and 5 B—5 C in fours.

First folio edition of Cowley's works.

— The Second Part of the Works of Mr. Abraham Cowley. Being what was Written and Published by himself in his younger years. And now Reprinted together. The Fourth Edition. London: Printed by Mary Clark, for Charles Harper . . . and Jacob Tonson. 1681. Folio.

Plate of Cowley's monument engraved by R. White, and title, 2 leaves; A, 2 leaves; B—R in fours; S—Bb, 2 leaves each; Cc, 1 leaf.

With a vignette on the title copied from the portrait prefixed to the "Poetical Blossoms." This is the fourth edition of Cowley's juvenile poems, but the first printed in the folio form.

COWLEY, ABRAHAM. A Proposition for the Advancement of Experimental Philosophy. By A. Cowley. London, Printed by J. M. for Henry Herringman 1661. Sm. 8vo.

A—D 7 in eights, besides a leaf of dedication between A and A 2, marked A 2.

First edition. In the dedication P[hilip] P[apillon?] states that he published this tract, by Cowley's permission, during his absence in France.

— Verses written upon Several Occasions, by Abraham Cowley. London, Printed for Henry Herringman, and are to be sold at his Shop on the Lower walk in the New Exchange. 1663. Sm. 8vo.

A—D in eights. With a portrait of Cowley, an. et. 13, inserted.

Sir Francis Freeling's copy, afterwards Mr. Corser's. Prefixed is the following notice by the publisher: "Most of these Verses, which the Author had no intent to publish, having been lately printed at Dublin without his consent or knowledge, and with many, and some gross mistakes in the Impression, He hath thought fit for his justification in some part to allow me to reprint them here."

— The Works of Mr. Abraham Cowley. Consisting of those which were formerly Printed: and Those which he Design'd for the Press. Now Published out of the Authors Original Copies. London, Printed by J. M. for Henry Herringman 1681. Sm. 8vo.

The present volume does not contain all that the title promises, for we have only the "Miscellanies" and the "Mistress." The book looks as if it had been an unsuccessful attempt to introduce to the public an edition of Cowley's miscellaneous poems in a handier size than the folio.

COX, ROBERT. Actæon and Diana, With a Pastorall Story of the Nymph CEnone; Followed by the several conceited humours of Bumpkin the Huntsman. Hobbinall, the Shepheard. Singing Simpkin. And John Swabber, the Sea-man. Printed at London by T. Newcomb, for the use of the Author Robert Cox. [About 1655.] 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—F in fours.

COXE, DANIEL. A Description of the English Province of Carolina, by the Spaniards call'd Florida, and by the French La Louisiane. As also of the Great and Famous River Meschacebe or Missisipi, the Five vast Navigable Lakes of Fresh Water, and the Parts adjacent London. 1722. 8vo.

Title-page, 1 leaf; B, 8 leaves; c—e 2 in eights; B (repeated)—H in eights; I, 4 leaves; K, 1 leaf. With a folded map.

COXE, WILLIAM. An Historical Tour in Monmouthshire; Illustrated with Views by Sir R. C. Hoare, Bart . . . London. 1801. 2 vols. 4to. Large paper. Plates.

CRADOCKE, FRANCIS. An Expedient for taking away all Impositions and for raising a Revenue without Taxes. Humbly presented to His most Excellent Majesty King Charles the II. By Francis Cradocke, Merchant. London, Printed for Henry Seile. 1660. 4to.

A—B in fours, or 8 leaves.

It appears from the dedication that the king perused this tract in MS. before it was sent to the press. The present copy has some marginalia in a contemporary hand, and a supplement in MS. It may possibly have been the author's own copy.

CRAG, JOHN. A Prophecy concerning the Earle of Essex that now is. Also another Prophecic, how not onely Brittain, but also French & Dutch protestants shall be found to assist us in subduing of the romish Rebels By Iohn Crag, Gent. Printed for John Crag, 1641. 4to.

Four leaves. In verse. With a curious cut on the title, and a woodcut portrait of Essex on A 2.

CRAINTE. La crainte du grant Jugement. [Sans lieu ni date.] 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. BR. M.

Five leaves, as described in Brunet, vol. ii., col. 403.

CRANFORD, JAMES. The teares of Ireland Wherein is lively presented as in a Map, a List of the unheard off Cruelties and perfidious Treacheries of bloud-thirsty Jesuits and the Popish Faction. As a warning piece to her Sister Nations to prevent the like miseries, as are now acted on the Stage of this fresh bleeding Nation. Reported by Gentlemen of good Credit living there, but forced to flie for their lives, as Iobs messengers, to tell us what they have heard and scene with their eyes, illustrated by Pictures. Fit to be reserved by all true Protestants as a Monument of their perpetuall reproach and ignominy, and to animate the spirits of Protestants against such bloody Villains. London, Printed by A. N. for Iohn Rothwell, and are to be sold at his Shop in Pauls Churchyard at the signe of the Sun, 1642. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A—F in eights, first leaf blank, and 2 leaves, marked *, between A and B. With copper-plates, the impressions of which are very brilliant.

— Yrelandtsche Traenen: waer in Levendich is affgebeelt, ende als in een Schilderie verthoont, Een Lijste, vande noyt gehoorde wreedtheten, ende barbarische verraderyen der bloedt-dorstighe Jesuwijten, met de Papistische factie aldaer. *Ghedruckt in 't Jaer 1642. Amstelredam. [Colophon.] Ghedrukt tot Leyden, by Willem Christiaens, den 20 Julij, Anno 1642. 4to.

Pp. 1-64 including title. With a large folding plate in twenty-four compartments.

CRANLEY, THOMAS. Amanda, or the Reformed Whore, 1635. Edited by Frederic Ouvry. London: Privately Printed. 1869. 4to.

A presentation copy from Mr. Ouvry.

CRANMER, THOMAS. Catechismvs. That is to say/ a Short Instruction into Christian Religion for the synguler commoditie and profyte of children and yong people. Set forth by the mooste reuerende father in God Thomas Archbyshop of Canterbury, Primate of all England and Metropolitan. Gualternus Lynne excudebat. 1548. [Colophon.] Imprynted at London in S. Fhones strete by Nycolas Hyll for Gualter Lynne, dwelling on Somers Kaye by Byllynges gate. Cum Priuilegio, &c. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. With woodcuts by Hans Holbein. BL. M.

Title, 1 leaf; dedication by Cranmer to Edward VI., 5 leaves; A—C in eights; O, 8 leaves;), 8 leaves; D—Kk 7 in eights, but no sig. Z.

This is the earlier of the two impressions issued by Walter Lynne in 1548. It is far rarer than the second issue, which contains some very curious alterations. The present copy, given by Dibdin to Haslewood, was imperfect, but has since been completed, except the last leaf, which is in facsimile.

— A Defence of the Trve and catholike doctrine of the sacrament of the body and bloud of our sauour Christ, with a confutation of sundry errors concernyng the same, grounded and stablished vpon Goddes holy woorde & approued by the consent of the moste auncient doctors of the Church. Made by the moste Reuerende father in God Thomas Archebyshop of Canterbury . . . [Colophon.] Imprynted at London in Ponles churcheyarde, at the signe of the Brasen serpent, by Reynold Wolfe. Cum priuilegio . . . Anno Domini. M. D. L. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

Title and preface, 4 leaves; the work, A—Gg in fours, the last leaf having only the colophon.

This is the first edition of 1550, with the errata on the back of folio 117, which are corrected in the second. See Herbert, p. 600.

— A Confutacion of vnwritten verities/ both in the holye scriptures and moste auncient autors/ and also probable arguments/ and pithy reasons/ with plaine aunswers to al (or at the least) to the moste part and strongest argumentes/ which the aduersaries of gods truth/ either haue/ or can bryng forth for the profe and defence of the same vnwritten vanities/ verities as they woulde haue them called: made by Thomas Cranmer late Archebishop of Cantorburie, Martyr of god/ and burned at Oxford for the defence of the trewe doctrine of our saujour Christ/ translated and set forth by E. P. The contentes whereof thou shalt finde in the next side folowinge. [No place or date.] Sm. 8vo. Black letter. BR. M.

A—O 7 in eights. "The Boke to the Reader" is in verse, 2 pages.

CRASHAW, RICHARD. Steps to the Temple. Sacred Poems, with other Delights of the Muses. By Richard Crashaw, sometimes of Pembroke Hall, and late Fellow of S. Peters Coll. in Cambridge. Printed and Published according to Order. London, Printed by T. W. for Humphrey Moscley. . . . 1646. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

A, 6 leaves; B—G 11 in twelves. With a frontispiece by T. Cross.

First edition. There is a separate title to the secular poems; but some of these were inadvertently inserted among the divine pieces on F 3.

— Steps to the Temple, the Delights of the Muses, and Carmen Deo Nostro. By Ric. Crashaw, sometimes Fellow of Pembroke Hall, and late Fellow of St. Peters Colledge in Cambridge. The second edition. In the Savoy, Printed by T. N. for Henry Herringman 1670. Sm. 8vo.

A—O in eights, the last leaf blank.

The third edition of the "Steps to the Temple" and "Delights of the Muses," and the second of the "Carmen Deo Nostro."

— Carmen Deo Nostro, Te Decet Hymnvs. Sacred Poems, collected, avgmented, Most humbly Presented to my Lady the Covntesse of Denbigh by her most deuoted Seruant. R. C. LII. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

Title, &c., 4 leaves; A—R 2 in fours. With a series of well-executed copperplate engravings on the letterpress.

Edited by Thomas Car. There is a second copy in the library, which exhibits the peculiarity of having been published before the plates were worked off, and blank spaces are left where they should be. A very full account of all the editions of Crashaw will be found in that edited by Mr. Grosart.

— Richardi Crashawi Poemata et Epigrammata, que scripsit Latina & Græca, dum Aulæ Pemb. Alumnus fuit, et Collegii Petrensis Socius. Editio Secunda, Auctior & emendatior. . . . Cantabrigiæ, Ex Officina Jean. Hayes, Celeberrimæ academicæ Typographi. 1670. Sm. 8vo.

A—F in eights.

The first edition appeared in 1634, and was Crashaw's earliest appearance in print. Mr. George Smith's copy. It is bound up with the "Steps to the Temple," &c. 1670.

C[RASHAW], W[ILLIAM.] The Fatall Vesper, Or A Trve and Pvnctvall Relation of that lamentable and fearfull accident, hapning on Sunday in the afternoone being the 26. of October last, by the fall of a roome in the Black-Friers in which were assembled many people at a Sermon, which was to be preached by Father Drvrie a Iesvite. Together with the names and number of such persons as therein unhappily perished, or were miraculously preserved. [Quot. from Luke xiii. 3.] London, Printed by Iohn Haviland for Richard Whitaker. 1623. 4to.

A—G in fours, first and last leaves blank.

This is the copy of which some account was contributed to "Notes and Queries" a few years ago, as having curious MS. notes in a seventeenth-century hand, which are there printed.

C[RASHAW], W[ILLIAM.] The Bepotted Iesvite: Whose Gospel is full of Blasphemy against the Blood of Christ, the horrible impiety whereof traduceth to abomination with the Creature, trampling under foot the Blood of the Covenant, in despite of the Spirit of Grace. Which Erronious Doctrine is fully and cleerly laid open, and reproved, By W. C. And now presented to the Honourable, the House of Commons in Parliament Assembled . . . Imprinted at London by Bar: Alsop, dwelling in Grubstreet, in Honey-suckle Court, neere to the flying Horse. 1641. 4to.

A, 3 leaves, title on A 2; Aa, 4 leaves; B—O 3 in fours.

There is a good deal of verse in this book, and before the body of the work, occurs, besides an Epistle to the House of Commons, &c., an extract from Bonarscius's "Amphitheatrum Honoris," 1606, consisting of some lines on our Lady of Halle and the Child Jesus, with an English version by Crashaw.

CRASTONUS, JOANNES. [Lexicon latino-græcum, cum prefatione Boni Accursii.] [Sine ullâ notâ.] 4to. G. M.

Editio Princeps. Hain, No. 5812, where it is attributed to a Milanese press about 1480.

CRAWFORD AND BALCARRES, EARL OF. Argo: or, the Quest of the Golden Fleece. A metrical Tale, in ten books. London: 1876. 8vo.

CRESPIN, JEAN. Recueil de plusieurs personnes, qui ont constamment enduré la mort pour le nom du Seigneur, depuis Jean Wicleff jusques au temps present. [Genève.] Par Jean Crespin. 1556. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Pp. 952, preceded by seven unnumbered leaves, and followed by four leaves of table.

This little volume stands in the same relation to Crespin's larger work as does the little work of Fox printed at Strasburg in 1554 to his "Acts and Monuments."

— Actes des Martyrs deduits en sept livres, depuis le temps de Wiclef & de Hus, iusques à present. Contenans vn Recueil de vraye histoire Ecclesiastique, de ceux qui ont constamment enduré la mort és derniers temps, pour la verité du Fils de Dieu. A Geneve. Par J. Crespin. 1564. Folio.

Title and preliminaries, 13 leaves; pp. 1-1084, followed by sigs. xxx and yyy in fours not paged, the last leaf blank.

CRESPIN, JEAN. Actiones et Monumenta Martyrum, qui à Wiclefo et Husso ad nostram hanc ætatē in Germania, Gallia, Anglia, Flandria, Italia, & ipsa demum Hispania, veritatem Euangelicam sanguine suo constanter obsignauerunt. [Genevæ.] Joannes Crispinus. 1560. Folio.

Title and preliminaries, 14 leaves; pp. 1-810. Table, 3 leaves. Folding map and 13 plates.

CRIPPS, JOHN. A true account of the Dying Words of Ockanickon, an Indian King. Spoken to Jahkursoe, His Brother's Son, whom he appointed King after him. London, Printed for Benjamin Clark, Bookseller, in George-Yard in Lombard-street, 1682. 4to.

Four leaves. At the end are imitations of the signature-marks of Ockanickon and four other Indians, with the names of the English witnesses, one man and four women, members of the Society of Friends. The piece is not described by Rich, Lowndes, or Hazlitt.

CROCE, GIOVANNI. Mvsica Sacra to Sixe Voyces. Composed in the Italian tongue by Giovanni Croce. Newly Englished. In London Printed by Thomas Este, the assigne of William Barley. 1608. 4to. BL. M.

Six parts, each having A—C in fours.

The only introductory matter is a preface signed "R. H.," "To the vertuous Louers of Musicke," in which it is stated that the words of the sonnets here harmonized were written by Francesco Bembo, and were so admired by Croce that he decided on setting them to music.

CROFTS, ROBERT. The Lover: Or, Nvptiall Love. Written by Robert Crofts, to please himselfe. London, Printed by B. Alsop and T. F. for Rich. Meighen, next to the middle Temple in Fleet-street. 1638. Sm. 8vo.

A—F 5 in eights, title on A 2. With a frontispiece by W. Marshall, containing two portraits, apparently those of the author and his wife.

This writer was possibly the same person who carried on the business of a publisher at the Crown in Chancery Lane, and brought out Billingsley's "Cosmographia," 1658, before which he has verses.

CROKE. Orationes Richardi Croci duæ, altera a cura, qua vtilitatem laudemque Græcæ linguæ tractat, altera a tempore, qua hortatus est Cantabrigienses, ne desertores essent eiusdem. Lutetiæ Parisiorum, cura S. Colinæi chalcographi. 1520. 4to. BR. M.

A—D in fours.

CROMEK, R. H. Remains of Nithsdale and Galloway Song. With Historical and Traditional Notices London. 1810. 8vo.

CROMPTON, HUGH. *Poems by Hvgh Crompton, The Son of Bacchus, and God-son of Apollo. Being a fardle of Fancies, or a medley of Musick, stewed in four Ounces of the Oyl of Epigrams. A, 4 leaves; B—I 4 in eights.

A portrait of Crompton, "æt. suæ 18," is inserted. The volume is dedicated "To my well affected, and no lesse respected Friend and Kinsman, Colonell Tho. Crompton." From the libraries of Mr. Skegg and Mr. Corser. Only two copies are known. See Corser's "Collectanea," part iv., pp. 521-3.

— Pierides, Or the Muses Mount. By Hugh Crompton Gent. London, Printed by J. G. for Charles Webb, at the Golden Boars-head in Saint Paul's Church-yard, 1658. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—L 3 in eights. With a portrait of the author. Dedicated to Mary, Duchess of Richmond and Lenox.

From the collections of Bindley, Rice, and Mr. George Daniel. Only three copies are said to be known.

CROMPTON, RICHARD. A short declaration of the ende of Traytors, and false Conspirators against the state, & of the duetie of Subiectes to theyr soueraigne Gouvernour: and wythall, howe necessarie, Lawes and execution of Iustice are, for the preservation of the Prince and Common wealth. Wherein are also breefely touched, sundry offences of the S. Queene, cõmitted against the crowne of this Land, & the manner of the honorable proceeding for her conuiction thereof, and also the reasons & causes alledged & allowed in Parlia- ment, why it was thought dangerous to the state, if she should have liued. Published by Richard Crompton an Apprentice of the common Lawes. Scene and allowed. [Quot. from Eccl. x.] At London. Printed by I. Charlewood, for Thomas Gubbins, and Thomas Newman. 1587. 4to. Black letter.

A—F in fours.

CROMWELL. A Sad Sigh, with some Heart-Cracking Groanes sent after the Lord Governour and his whole Hoast of Mirmidons. Printed in the Yeare 1649. 4to.

Four leaves. In verse.

Mr. G. Smith's copy. It is a severe invective against Cromwell, and must have been secretly printed, as he is mentioned in direct terms of abuse and contempt.

CROSSE, HENRY. Vertves Common-wealth : Or The High-way to Honovr. Wherin is discouered that although by the disguised craft of this age vice and hypocrisie may be concealed : yet by Tyme (the triall of truth) it is most plainly reuealed. Necessary for age to moue diligence, profitable for youth to shun wantonnesse : and bringing to both at last desired happinesse. London Printed for Iohn Newbery, dwelling in Paules Church yard, at the Signe of the Ball. 1603. 4to.

A, 3 leaves ; B—V in fours.

Dedicated to Robert Lee, Lord Mayor of London. Crosse, in his "Address to the Reader," deprecates unkind censure, for fear it might discourage "a young beginner, and turn my Alpha into Omæga."

This was Jolley's copy. At sig. Q recto is an allusion to players purchasing lands by "adulterous playes," which Mr. Halliwell thinks a reference to Shakespeare, as Alleyn had not at this time acquired his Dulwich estate.

CROUCH, HUMPHREY. The Parliament of Graces: Briefly Shewing the banishment of Peace, the farewell of Amity, the want of Honesty, the distraction of Religion, the flight of Sobriety, the lamentation of Patience, the love and care of Charity. Together with the cause of the breaking up of the House of the Parliament of Graces ; worthy the reading in these times of desolation and calamity. Printed in the Yeare 1643. 4to.

Four leaves.

— The Welch Traveller ; or, the Unfortunate Welchman ; by Humphry Crouch, 1671. Edited by J. O. Halliwell. London, 1860. Sm. 8vo.

Cum gratia . . .* Sm. 8vo. Black letter. BR. M.

A—F in eights.

An additional interest is lent to this rare volume by the circumstance that Hoggard's ballad, not otherwise known, is reprinted paragraph by paragraph for the purpose of confutation. The title is enclosed in a woodcut border.

CROWNE, WILLIAM. A Trve Relation of all the Remarkable Places and Passages observed in the Travels of the right honourable Thomas Lord Howard, Earle of Arundell and Surrey, Primer Earle, and Earle Marshall of England. "No book of the period known to me contains so curious an account of old English country life. The list of games in vogue, and the books then read in country houses, at sig. H 4, is specially curious."—MS. note by Mr. Halliwell.

[CYUILE AND VNCYUILE LIFE.] The English Courtier, and the Cūtrei-gentleman: A pleasaunt and learned Disputation, betweene them both: very profitable and necessarie to be read of all Nobilitie and Gentlemen. Wherein is discoursed what order of lyfe, best be- seemeth a Gentleman, (as well, for education, as the course of his whole life) to make him a person fyttē for the publique seruice of his Prince and Countrey. Imprinted at London, by Richard Iones: dwelling at the signe of the Rose and Crowne nere vnto Holborne Bridge. 1586. 4to. Black letter. O. M.

A—N in fours.

From the libraries of Mr. Jolley and Mr. George Smith. This is exactly the same book as the preceding, with the exception of the title-page. Under this title it appears to have been quite unknown to Herbert, and to have been known to Lowndes only through the sale catalogue of Jolley's library. No other copy than this appears to be recorded.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL DESCRIPTIONS.

“L'étude de la bibliographie, si aride en apparence pour qui ne la considère que superficiellement, est loin, pour qui l'examine de plus près, d'être dépourvue d'un certain charme; elle offre à l'esprit observateur bien des faits curieux, bien des anecdotes piquantes, bien des rapprochements singuliers. Voilà pourquoi sans doute plusieurs hommes de lettres distingués, des poètes même, se sont livrés à cette étude avec autant d'ardeur que de succès.”—BRUNET.

A—I in fours, title on A 2.

Daborn was indebted for his plot of "A Christian turned Turk" to Andrew Barker's prose narrative of the adventures of the two pirates, Ward and Danseker, printed three years before (1609, 4to). Barker's book is much rarer than the drama founded on it.

Brunet remarks that this work, written in verse, is not, as might be supposed from the title, a treatise of demonology, but a work of moral theology, in verse, written in the form of a dialogue between Satan and Lucifer. It is the only work by which the author is known.

DANCE OF DEATH. The Daunce and Song of Death. [No place, printer's name, or date.] [London, about 1560.]

A large woodcut with five verses printed in compartments. The woodcut represents a child and five men of different ages and conditions of life dancing round Death's Minstrel, Sicknesse, who is seated in the centre, on a stool formed of bones, which rests on a shovel and pickaxe placed crosswise over an open grave, while he plays a tune on a tabor and pipe. At each of the four corners is a compartment wherein Death is represented as summoning, respectively, the rich man, the prisoner, the judge, and two lovers. One verse of six lines applies to the dancers, and the other verses of four lines each are applicable to the scenes in the corners. Both the design and execution are extremely good. The right-hand upper corner is slightly mutilated. The verses in this unique broadside are reprinted in "Ancient Ballads," &c., 1867, with facsimiles of parts of the engraving. It is probably the earliest separate publication in the English language on this curious subject.

DANCING. The Dancing-Master: or, Directions for Dancing Country Dances, with the Tunes to each Dance for the Treble-Violin. The Ninth Edition Corrected; with the Addition of several new Dances and Tunes never before Printed. Printed by E. Jones, for H. Playford at his Shop near the Temple Church . . . 1695. Oblong 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves. B—S 2 in eights. On the title is a copper-plate engraving of a company of ladies and gallants learning to dance, inscribed at the foot "The Dancing Schoole." A note on the fly-leaf states that a copy of the first edition, dated 1652, is in Wood's library in the Ashmolean Museum at Oxford.

— The Compleat Country Dancing-Master: Containing Great Variety of Dances, both Old and New; Particularly those perform'd at the several Masquerades: Together with all the Choicest and most Noted Country-Dances, perform'd at Court, the Theatres, and Publick-Balls; With their Proper Tunes and Figures (or Directions) to each Dance: The Tunes fitted to the Violin or Haut-Boy, and most of 'em within the Compass of the Flute. Note, There is contain'd in this volume all the Dances generally us'd, and more correct than the former Editions; printed in the London Capital Character, far exceeding any other of the Common Press. London, Printed by H. Meere for J. Walsh 1718. The Second Book of the Compleat Country Dancing-Master: Containing Great Variety of Dances . . . London 1719. Oblong 8vo.

A—Hh in sixes and A—li in sixes, including the frontispiece in both volumes.

— The Compleat Country Dancing-Master . . . Most of them within the Compass of the German Flute & Common Flute. Engraven in a fair Character, and Carefully Corrected . . . London Printed for and Sold by John Walsh 1731. Oblong 8vo.

Engraved title and Explanation of Characters, 2 leaves; table, 4 leaves; the work, 148 numbered leaves.

This is called "the First volume" at the end. But no more is known to have appeared. It is an entirely distinct work from that described above, dated 1718-19. As on the title the book is said to be "carefully corrected," it is possible that there was an earlier issue.

— Country Dances. A volume containing a very curious assemblage of separate tracts, printed between 1750 and 1770, with the instructions and music. London, J. Walsh, &c., 1750-1770. Oblong 8vo.

DANIEL, GEORGE. An Elizabethan Garland; Being a Descriptive Catalogue of Seventy Black-Letter Ballads printed between the years 1559 and 1597. London, 1856. 4to. G. M.

Privately printed. This description originally appeared in the "Illustrated London News." Twenty-five copies were struck off separately. This one belonged to Mr. George Daniel, who has illustrated it with views, portraits, and other engravings. The ballads here described will be found under their respective headings in this catalogue. A list of them is given in the index.

DANIEL, SAMUEL. The Works of Samuel Daniel. Newly augmented. London Printed for Simon Waterson. 1601. Folio.

A, 2 leaves; B—O in sixes; P—T in fours, T 4 blank; "Musophilus," with a fresh half-title, A—N in sixes (other pieces following with separate half-titles but continuous signatures); "Delia" (a headline only), A—B in sixes, and C, 4 leaves.

This is the same book as commonly occurs with the date 1602, the year only having been altered. It comprises the "Civil Wars," books i.-vi., "Musophilus," "Octavia," "Cleopatra," "Rosamond," and "Delia."

Copies have sometimes been described as on large paper, but a comparison of several shows that there is no material difference in the size of the paper unless a copy has been much cut.

DANIEL, SAMUEL. The Whole Workes of Samvel Daniel Esquire in Poetrie. London, Printed by Nicholas Okes, for Simon Waterson, and are to be sold at his shoppe in Pauls Church-yard, at the Signe of the Crowne. 1623. 4to. R.

Title and dedication, 2 leaves; B—C, 4 leaves each; D—R 4 in eights; "A Letter from Octavia," &c., with a new title, A—N 4 in eights, N 4 blank; "Philotas," &c., with a new title, Aa—Tt 6 in eights.

Dedicated to Prince Charles by the author's brother, John Daniel.

It is stated in Corser's "Collectanea Anglo-Poetica," part v., p. 64, that the poem of the "Civil Wars," as it appears here, consists merely of the unsold stock of the quarto edition of 1609, which was introduced, after fourteen years, to make up the collected book, and such is, in fact, the case—a singular piece of evidence to the length of time required to exhaust the impression. The original dedication of the "Civil Wars" to Lady Bedford was replaced by that to Prince Charles.

The collation of this copy, and of another described by Hazlitt ("Collections and Notes," 1876, p. 116), does not quite agree with Mr. Corser's account, as sig. A has in neither of them more than two leaves belonging to it.

— The Poeticall Essayes of Sam. Danyel. Newly corrected and augmented. At London Printed by P. Short for Simon Waterson. 1599. 4to. G. M.

General title, 1 leaf; dedication to Sir Charles Blunt, Lord Mountjoy, 1 leaf; title to the "Civil Wars" (books i.-v.), 1 leaf; B—Ee in fours; separate title and first leaf of "Musophilus," 2 leaves; then B—F 3 in fours; "Letter from Octavia," separate title and dedication to Lady Cumberland, 2 leaves; B—D 2 in fours; "Tragedy of Cleopatra," with separate title, A—K in fours; "Rosamond," Bb—G[g] 2 in fours. In the present copy the fifth book is the genuine text reprinted from that which sometimes accompanies the four books printed in 1595; but the variations are not material. The separate title to the "Civil Wars" bears date 1599, as it should do, and the poem does not consist here, as in some copies, of the unsold sheets of the work, as issued in 1595. The dedication of "Musophilus" to Fulke Greville was afterwards cancelled, and replaced by another; but in the posthumous edition of the author's "Whole Workes," 4to, 1623, it reappeared, and the substituted lines, which are far more lengthy, were rejected.

— Certaine Small Poems lately Printed: with the Tragedie of Philotas. Written by Samvel Daniel. Carmen amat, quisquis carmine digna gerit. At Loudon Printed by G. Eld for Simon Waterson. 1605. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

A—H in eights, the last leaf blank; A—F in eights, first two and last two leaves blank. With a separate title to "Philotas."

From the Earl of Harborough's library. It is bound up with the "Panegyrike," &c., 1603.

This volume includes reprints of the "Letter from Octavia," "Cleopatra," "Rosamond," besides an "Ode," a "Pastorall," and "Ulisses and the Syrens," the three last small pieces here printed for the first time.

In Mr. Corser's copy of this book the original dedication of "The Letter from Octavia" to Margaret Countess of Cumberland stood in place of that to Lady Bedford. See "Collectanea," part v., p. 43.

The tragedy of "Philotas," here printed for the first time, met with a good deal of censure and hostile criticism in high quarters, in consequence of a surmise, that under Philotas the poet intended to shadow the Earl of Essex, Elizabeth's favourite. Daniel, in the reprint of the work with his other miscellaneous pieces in 1607, angrily and distinctly repudiated any political design, and set forth the circumstances under which the undertaking was commenced.

DANIEL, SAMUEL. Certaine Small Workes heretofore divulged by Samuel Daniel one of the Groomes of the Queenes Maiesties priuie Chamber, & now againe by him corrected and augmented. At London Printed by I. W. for Simon Waterson. 1607. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

¶, 8 leaves, the first blank; A—V in eights, the eighth leaf of A blank.

When all but the preliminary leaves of this volume had been worked off, it seems to have been discovered that the dedications to the "Cleopatra" and "Musophilus" were omitted, or, at any rate, the insertion of such was an afterthought; for in the present copy (from Mr. Corser's collection) cancels are given for the separate titles to those two poems, with dedications annexed, the "Cleopatra" to Lady Pembroke, and "Musophilus" to Sir Fulke Greville and the Lady Ann Clifford (separately). These are preserved in the edition of the "Small Works," 8vo, 1611; but in the 4to of 1623 the shorter inscription to Greville found in the "Musophilus" of 1599 is restored, and the verses to Lady Anne Clifford omitted. That to the Countess of Pembroke before "Cleopatra" is retained, but printed from the text of 1599, and at the same time corrupted by new errors of the press.

This, the rare original impression of the "Small Works," was not known in a perfect state to our earlier bibliographers. It contains: "Cleopatra, newly alt' red," "Philotas," "Queen's Arcadia," "Octavia," "Musophilus," and the Funeral Poem on the Earl of Devonshire. All these had originally appeared between 1599 and 1606.

In Corser's "Collectanea," pt. v., p. 51, the present copy is described as probably unique; but such is not the case, at least one other being known.

In the privately printed volume of "Prefaces," 8vo, 1874, pp. 208-14, will be found reproduced the metrical dedications to Lady Pembroke and Lady Cumberland, in the former of which Daniel speaks of her ladyship's pious fame surviving

"When Wilton may lie leuell with the ground."

— Certaine Small Workes heretofore divulged by Samuel Daniell one of the Groomes of the Queenes Maiesties most Honourable priuie Chamber, and now againe by him corrected and augmented. At London Printed by I. L. for Simon Waterson. 1611. Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

A—Q 3 in twelves, the last leaf having the errata. Mr. George Smith's copy.

DANIEL, SAMUEL. Delia. Containing certaine Sonnets: with the complaynt of Rosamond. Ætas prima canat vœneres postrema tumultus. 1592. At London, Printed by J. C. for S. Watersonne. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—M in fours; H is repeated, with the two first leaves blank. The title within a woodcut border.

Dedicated to Mary, Countess of Pembroke. This is the second of the three editions of the work printed in 1592. From the collection of Mr. Corser, who has described it at full length in his "Collectanea," part v., pp. 10-22, and has given illustrations of the manner in which the author altered his work in successive impressions. See also Collier's "Bibliographical Catalogue" for a notice of the differences in the three editions of 1592. The only known perfect copy of the first edition is that in the Duke of Devonshire's library, and the only one known of the third edition is that in Malone's collection in the Bodleian.

— Delia. Reprinted from the earliest known edition of 1592. Edited by John Payne Collier. 4to.

Presentation copy from the editor.

— Delia and Rosamond augmented. Cleopatra. By Samuel Daniel. Ætas prima, &c. 1594. Printed at London for Simon Waterson, and are to be sold in Paules Church-yard at the signe of the Crowne. [Colophon.] At London, Printed by Iames Roberts, and Edward Allde, for Simon Waterson. 1594. Sm. 8vo.

A, 2 leaves; B—N in eights.

On A 2 occurs the dedication of the entire volume to the Countess of Pembroke. There are separate titles to "Rosamond" and "Cleopatra," and a special dedication of the latter to Lady Pembroke.

The present copy, in the original calf binding, has the initials "M. P." on each side of the cover, and is, in all probability, the one presented by the author to his patroness.

"Delia" and "Rosamond" were here published for the fourth time, if, indeed, the latter had not seen even more than four impressions; it was the first appearance of "Cleopatra." The volume passed through the press, it is said, twice in the same year.

— The First Fowre Bookes of the ciuile wars between the two houses of Lancaster and Yorke. By Samvel Daniel. Ætas prima At London, Printed by P. Short for Simon Waterson. 1595. 4to. R.

B—Z in fours, and the title-page.

There is no preliminary matter. This is the first of the two issues of 1595, and does not include Book V., which was added to some copies without a regular title. The present copy, from the library of Mr. Corser, is believed to be on large paper. It has the autograph of Lucy, Lady Lyttelton.

— The Civile Wares (sic) betweene the Howses of Lancaster and Yorke corrected and continued by Samuel Daniel one of the Groomes of hir Maiesties most honorable Priuie Chamber. Ætas prima Printed at London, by Simon Watersonne. 1609. 4to.

A—C in fours; D—Q in eights; R, 4 leaves. With an engraved title by Cockson in the centre of which is a portrait of the author.

In the privately-printed volume of "Prefaces," &c., 8vo, 1874, pp. 214-8, the dedication here found to the Countess of Pembroke is reprinted entire.

The features which appear to be new in this impression of the entire poem are enumerated at some length by Mr. Corser, "Collectanea," pt. v., pp. 55-6. But he does not seem to have been aware that pp. 39-40 were cancelled after a certain number of copies had been put in circulation, and an important change introduced to supply the place of a suppressed political allusion. The book occurs as often with the original leaf as with the cancel.

DANIEL, SAMUEL. A Panegyrike congratulatory Deliuered to the Kings most excellent maiesty at Burleigh Harrington in Rutlandshire. By Samvel Daniel. Also certaine Epistles. With a Defence of Ryme, heeretofore written, and now published by the Author. Carmen amat . . . At London, Printed by V. S. for Edward Blount. [1603.] Folio. BL. M.

Title to "Panegyrike," &c., 1 leaf; "Panegyrike," A—B 4 in sixes; title to "Epistles," dated 1603, 1 leaf; "Epistles," C—D 2 in fours and E—F 2 in sixes, besides a leaf between F and F 2 containing an address to the Earl of Hertford respecting Daniel's poem called "The Passion of a Distressed Man;" G—H in sixes and a leaf of I.

From Mr. Corser's collection. It is described in the sale catalogue of his library, part iv., as large paper; but all the copies known are of the same size.

Daniel's "Defence of Ryme" was written against Campion's "Observations, 1602, an exceedingly rare volume which will be found reprinted in "Ancient Critical Essays," 1811-15. See Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i., pp. 175-7, where the variations between the folio and the octavo are referred to. Mr. Collier also remarks that "Only two or three complete copies of this edition of Daniel's 'Panegyric Congratulatory' and 'Epistles' are yet known, and it was most likely printed for presents."

— A Panegyrike Congratulatorie delivered to the Kings most Excellent Maiestie . . . Also certaine Epistles . . . Carmen amat, &c. At London Imprinted for Edward Blount. 1603. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A—H in eights, title on A 2; B 8, C 8, D 8, and E 4, blank.

A reprint of the folio edition.

Daniel thought fit not to repeat here what is found on the title of the first impression of the "Epistles," that they were "after the manner of Horace."

— The Qveenes Arcadia. A Pastorall Trage-comedie presented to her Maiestie and her Ladies, by the vniuersitie of Oxford in Christs Church, In August last. 1605. At London Printed by G. Eld, for Simon Waterson. 1606. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—K in fours, and a leaf of L. Original edition. From the libraries of Sir Francis Freeling and the Rev. Burleigh James.

— The Collection of the History of England. By Samuel Daniel. Revised, and by his last corrected Coppy Printed. London, Printed by Tho. Cotes, for Simon Waterson dwelling at the Signe of the Crowne in Pauls Church-yard. 1634. Folio.

A, 4 leaves; B—Z in sixes, Z 6 being occupied by the author's summary of his labours. The narrative is only carried down to the reign of Edward III., and this is the last of the editions printed without Trussel's "Continuation," which appeared in 1641.

Fourteen leaves.

M. Brunet has inserted in the fifth edition of the "Manuel du Libraire" an edition which appears to answer to this in all respects, except that it is dated the 10th instead of the 15th of April. As his description is only taken from a London sale catalogue that may well account for slight literal differences in the wording of the colophon. The text, in Latin and French, is printed in double columns. There are woodcuts on every page except the two last, which have no woodcuts, and the text here is printed in long lines.

Purchased with the "Danse Macabre des Hommes" of 1491, at the sale of the Savile library in 1861. No other copy of this edition appears to be known. Another edition, dated June 26th of the same year, but in 4to, and printed by "Gillet Coustiau et Jehan Menart," is described in M. Didot's catalogue of his books illustrated with wood engravings. This edition of "Guyot Marchant" appears to be entirely unknown to bibliographers.

This is the copy which has successively passed through the sales of Gaignat, MacCarthy, Debure, and Yemeniz, and no other appears to have occurred for sale or to be described in the catalogue of any library. The first leaf bears the title as given above, with a large pictorial letter L. At the back is a large woodcut of the Holy Trinity. It is in a binding of the seventeenth century.

The woodcuts in the first part of this edition, "Danse Macabre des hommes," are from the same blocks as in the edition of Paris, 1491, described above. In the later part of the book, "Danse Macabre des femmes," some are from the same blocks as were used in the edition of Paris, 1492, described above, but others are quite different. Brunet mentions an edition by the same printers without date, and also an edition of 1528 in 4to; but as he does not appear to have seen it, it is by no means improbable that he was mistaken as to the size.

First edition. Brunet does not remark upon the fact that copies of this edition vary in the text, but in the preface to "Le prime quattro edizioni della Divina Commedia," published at the expense of Lord Vernon, Mr. Panizzi has given facsimiles of the first pages of the two copies in the British Museum—the one in the King's library and the other in the Grenville collection—which show that the types must certainly have been reset; but he does not offer an opinion as to which of the two may lay claim to priority of impression. The copy here described reads with the copy in the King's library.

One preliminary leaf. "Inferno, Purgatorio, & Paradiso," 30 leaves each.

Speaking of this edition, Mr. Panizzi says, "Contemporanea alle due precedenti (e forse forse primogenita) è l'edizione che ora sto per descrivere." The copy now described is mentioned by him as being at the time he wrote in the library of the Royal Society of London, having been left to that body by Henry Howard, Duke of Norfolk, in 1666. The Duke's grandfather, Thomas, Earl of Arundel, when ambassador at the Imperial Court had purchased it with the rest of the library of Bilibald Pirckheimer, the friend and executor of Albert Dürer. After describing also the copy in the Grenville library, Mr. Panizzi ends his notice by saying, "Ho pur avuto fra le mani l' esemplare della Spenseriana. Questi soli ho veduti; ma alcuni pochi altri se ne conoscono."

Mr. Panizzi mentions that the copy has been sadly ill-treated by the binder, and says also that it wants the first leaf. If such was the case when he saw it, the defect must have been since supplied from another copy.

This copy has brilliant impressions of Baccio Baldini's engravings to the two first cantos, and the copy being unusually large, the first one is not cut into as is usually the case. M. Brunet has given a most elaborate and accurate collation of this edition, which contains only a trifling misprint. He remarks that the signature ll ii. is not marked, whereas it is sig. ll iii. which is omitted.

DANTE, ALIGHIERI. [La Divina Commedia coi commenti di Cristoforo Landino.] [Colophon.] *Fine del Comento di Christophoro Landino Fiorentino sopra la Comedia di Danthe Poeta excellentissimo. From Sir Charles Price's collection. Brunet gives the number of leaves of this edition correctly, but he omits to state that the 310th or last leaf is blank. His statement, also, that the first leaf bears only a woodcut is liable to mislead. That which he calls the first is, in fact, the ninth leaf. The first leaf bears the register, and the seven following it contain the preliminary matter.

DARCIE, ABRAHAM. Annales, The True and Royall History of the famous Emperesse Elizabeth Queene of England, France and Ireland &c. True faith's defendresse of Diuine renowne and happy Memory. Wherein all such memorable things as happened during hir blessed raigne, with such acts and Treaties as past betwixt hir Ma^{tie} and Scotland, France . . . are exactly described. Faithfully translated out of the French by Ab. Darcie, and published by the Kings Ma^{ties} most gracious authority. London, Printed for Benjamin Fishcr. [1625.] 4to. BR. M.

Engraved title by Vaughan and portrait of Queen Elizabeth, with verses on the back, 2 leaves; a—b in fours; dedication to Prince Charles, &c., 2 leaves; 'The Author to the Reader,' 2 leaves; ¶, 4 leaves; ¶, 4 leaves; (), 4 leaves; A, 4 leaves; (a)—(d 2) in fours; (), 4 leaves; B—Kkk in fours; [B]—[Gg] in fours; Aaaa—Ffff 2 in fours. With verses to the reader, by Darcie, on the last leaf.

This is one of the copies without any date on the title-page, and with the portrait of Darcie, by Delaram, on the concluding page, but with the verses on the back of the portrait of Queen Elizabeth and the inscription to Prince Charles both plain. The original sides are let into the modern morocco binding, and contain in the centre of each a beautiful medallion portrait of Queen Elizabeth impressed in gold.

In one copy of this volume there is a printed title-page, dated 1625, otherwise unknown. From an inscription at the top of Delaram's print, it appears that Abraham Darcie was a native of Geneva, and the son of Peter Darcie, a lawyer. This portrait is rarely found in the book, which is of little value without it.

— Annales. The True and Royall History of the famous Emperesse Elizabeth . . . London printed for Benjamin Fishcr, and are to be sould at the Talbot in Pater Noster Rowe. 1625. 4to. R. M.

A different issue from the preceding. It varies in having on the back of the portrait of Queen Elizabeth only the two last lines of the verses found in the other, in omitting the mention on the title of the work being a translation from the French, and in not having the portrait of Darcie worked on the last page, which here is blank.

— A Monumentall Pyramide to all Posterities: Erected to the euer-liuing memory, and perpetuall Honour of the All-vertuous and Euer-glorious Prince Lodowick, late Duke of Richmond and Lenox: Earle of Newcastle . . . Who departed this transitory life at his Chamber in White-Hall on Monday, being the sixteenth day of February, 1624. betwixt sixe and seauen of the clocke in the morning, to the great grief of many thousand people of sundry Nations. At London Printed by Edw. All-de for Nathaniel Butier. 1624. 4to. BL. M.

A—B in fours, besides the title and a leaf following it, which is printed in mourning. In verse.

Mr. Corser's copy. See "Bibl. Anglo-Poetica," No. 465.

Brunet describes this as containing only fifty-seven leaves besides the preliminaries, but it has in fact sixty, several of the leaves being wrongly numbered.

DARIUS. A Pretie new Enterlude both pithie & pleasaunt of the Story of Kyng Daryus, Beinge taken out of the third and fourth Chapter of the thyrd booke of Esdras. The Roxburghe copy, from Mr. George Daniel's collection. It is said that only five copies exist. The present is in very fine condition, with some rough leaves. On the title-page is a fictitious signature of Shakespeare.

— A Pretie New Enterlude . . . Of the Story of Kyng Daryus ; now first reprinted from the original Edition issued in 1565. Edited by J. O. Halliwell . . . London. 1860. 4to.

Twenty-six copies printed.

BR. M.

Eight leaves. Woodcut title.

— La vita di tutti e pontefici. [Senz' alcuna data.] 4to. BR. M.

Six leaves.

Though this work is not enumerated among the poetical pieces of Dati by Brunet, it is evidently from the same press as the "Tractato di Santo Joanni laterano." It has the same woodcut border in the title, and, like it, is in verse. The author is chiefly celebrated as the versifier of Columbus's letter announcing his discovery of the New World.

DAUNCE, EDWARD. A Briefe Discovrse of the Spanish State, with a Dialogue annexed intituled Philobasilis. At London, Imprinted by Richard Field dwelling in the Blacke-Friers neere Ludgate. 1590. 4to.

Title, dedication by Lady Davenant, and "To the Reader," 3 leaves; A—Eee 2 in fours; A—Ppp in fours; Aaaa—Oooo in fours. No other copy on large paper has been noticed.

— The Temple of Love, A Masque. Presented by the Queenes Majesty and her Ladies at White-hall on Shrove-Tuesday, 1634. By Inigo Iones, Surveyour of his Majesties Workes; and William Davenant, her Majesties Servant. London: Printed for Thomas Walkley, and are to be sold at his Shop neare Whit-hall. 1634. 4to.

A—D ii. in fours, but sig. B is complete with three leaves.

— The Triumphs of the Prince D'Amovr. A Masque presented by His Highnesse at His Pallace in the Middle Temple, the 24th of Februarie 1635. London, Printed for Richard Meighen, next to the Middle Temple Gate in Fleetstreet. 1635. 4to.

A—C in fours.

Davenant states in a short preface, that this masque laboured under the disadvantage of having been hastily prepared for presentation to the Prince Elector. The leaf facing the title contains a jocular imprimatur, signed by the officer of the Prince of Love.

— Britannia Trivmphans: A Masque, Presented at White Hall, by the Kings Majestie and his Lords on the Sunday after Twelfth-night, 1637. By Inigo Iones Surveyor of his Majesties workes and William Davenant his Majesties Servant. London, Printed by John Haviland for Thomas Walkley, and are to be sold at his shop at the flying Horse neere Yorke house, 1637. 4to.

A—D in fours, D 4 blank.

Mr. George Smith's copy. The following note by Mr. Halliwell is on the fly-leaf: "This masque gave great offence at the time, and was rigidly suppressed, and is not reprinted in the folio edition. The author of the 'Stage Condemned' devotes nineteen pages to describing it, and says 'that it was then (1698) very rare and scarcely to be had.'

DAVENANT, WILLIAM. Madagascar; With other Poems. By W. Davenant. London, Printed by John Haviland for Thomas Walkley 1638. Sm. 8vo.

— Salmacida Spolia. A Masque. Presented by the King and Queenes Majesties at White-hall, on Tuesday the 21. day of January, 1639. London, Printed by T. H. for Thomas Walkley 1639. 4to.

B—D in fours, and the title-page.

At the end occurs this Note: "The Invention, Ornament, Sceans, and Apparitions, with their Descriptions, were made by Inigo Iones, Surveyor Generall of his Majesties Workes. What was spoken or sung, by William Davenant, her Majesties Servant. The Subject was set downe by them both. The Musicke was composed by Lewis Richard, Master of her Majesties Musicke." On the last page are the "Names of the Masquers."

— Gondibert: An Heroick Poem, Written by S^r William D'Avenant. London, Printed by Tho. Newcomb for John Holden, and are to be sold at his Shop at the sign of the Anchor in the New-Exchange, 1651. 4to.

A—Kkk in fours, last leaf blank, and title on A 2. Following the title is the preface, addressed to Hobbes, succeeded by Hobbes's reply, both dated from Paris in January, 1650-1. First edition.

— Gondibert: An Heroick Poem; written by Sir William D'Avenant. London, Printed for John Holden, and are to be sold at his Shop at the sign of the Anchor in the New-Exchange, 1651. Sm. 8vo.

A—V 7 in eights, besides a leaf after the title with the errata. All the errata named here are found in the first edition, which has also some other misprints.

— Certain Verses written by severall of the Authors Friends; to be Re-Printed with the Second Edition of Gondibert. London, Printed in the Year 1653. Sm. 8vo.

A—B 4 in eights.

From Mr. Corser's library. See "Bibl. Anglo-Poet.," 146. The volume consists of anonymous satires on Davenant's poem.

— The Incomparable Poem Gondibert, Vindicated from the Wit-Combats of Four Esquires, Clinias, Damctas, Sancho, and Jack Pudding Printed in the Year, 1655. Sm. 8vo.

A—B 7 in eights. In verse. From Mr. Corser's library.

DAVENANT, WILLIAM. The First Days Entertainment at Rutland-House, by Declamation and Musick; After the manner of the Ancients. By S^r W. D. London, Printed by J. M. for H. Herringman, and sold at his Shop at the Anchor, in the New-Exchange, in the Lower Walk. 1657. Sm. 8vo.

A—E in eights, title on A 2; F, 12 leaves, the last blank.

This is one of the rarest of Davenant's pieces. It was one of the performances which took place in private houses, under the patronage and protection of the nobility, after the parliamentary prohibition of theatrical entertainments.

— The Mans The Master: A Comedy. Written by Sir William D'Avenant, Knight. In the Savoy, Printed for Henry Herringman . . . 1669. 4to.

A—L 2 in fours. First edition. The prologue is in rhyming triplets, and the epilogue in "a ballad, sung by two."

— The Siege of Rhodes: The First and Second Part; As they were lately Represented at His Highness the Duke of York's Theatre in Lincolns-Inne Fields. The First Part being lately Enlarg'd. Written by Sir William D'Avenant. London, Printed for Henry Herringman, . . . 1670. 4to.

A—O 2 in fours, O being misprinted N. There is a separate title to the second part. Dedicated by the author to Edward, Earl of Clarendon, Lord Chancellor.

"The Siege of Rhodes" was written during the Commonwealth, and is a musical entertainment capable of representation in a private house, like the piece described above.

DAVENPORT, JOHN, of New-Haven, N.E. The Knowledge of Christ indispensably required of all men that would be saved; Or Demonstrative proofs from Scripture that Crucified Jesus is The Christ. . . . London, Printed for L. Chapman . . . 1653. 4to.

DAVENPORT, ROBERT. A Pleasant and Witty Comedy: Called, A New Tricke to Cheat the Divell. Written by R. D. Gent. London: Printed by John Okes, for Humphrey Blunden, and are to be sold at his Shop in Corne-hill, next to the Castle Tavern. 1639. 4to.

A—K 2 in fours.

In a notice to the Reader, which follows the title, it is stated that this was a posthumous work, and that it had been often acted.

— King Iohn and Matilda, A Tragedy. As it was Acted with great Applause by her Majesties Servants at the Cock-pit in Drury-lane. Written by Robert Davenport Gent. London, Printed for Andrew Pennycuicke, in the year 1655. 4to.

Title and following leaf with preface by Davenport and dedication by the publisher to Montagu Bertie, Earl of Lindsey, 2 leaves; B—I in fours, and a leaf of K.

DAVENPORT, ROBERT. The City Night-Cap: Or, Crede quod habes, & habes. A Tragi-Comedy. By Robert Davenport. As it was Acted with great Applause, by her Majesties Servants, at the Phoenix in Drvry-Lane. London: Printed by Fa: Cottrel, for Samuel Speed, at the Signe of the Printing-Press, in St. Paul's Church-yard. 1661. 4to.

A—H in fours. This drama is reprinted in the last edition of Dodsley's Collection, vol. xiii.

All the dramatic productions of Davenport were composed at a period long anterior to the respective dates of publication. The author, as we may presume from some collateral evidence, was living in 1630; but how long he survived that time, is uncertain.

Le texte original se trouve aussi parmi les pièces contenues à la fin de la chronique d'Amandus."—Trömel, "Bibliothèque Américaine."

DAVID, JOANNES. Icones ad Veridicum Christianum. Antverpiæ apud Philippum Gallæum. Anno 1601. 4to. G. M.

This is evidently an earlier edition than that quoted by Brunet, "Ex offic. Plantiniana." It consists of engraved title and 100 plates (the impressions of which are most brilliant) without letterpress descriptions. At the end are four leaves of music, entitled "Concentus musicus versibus Veridici Christiani coaptatus."

DAVIDSON, THOMAS. Cantus, Songs and Fancies, to severall Musicall Parts. Both apt for voices and Viols. With a brief Introduction to Musick, as is taught into the Musick-School of Aberdeen. Dedicated by Davies, in verse, to Philip, Earl of Montgomery. Mr. Corser's copy.

"This is one of the rarest of the productions from the pen of John Davies, and is found in few collections of our early Poetry. It is not in the 'Bibl. Ang. Poet.,' nor, with the single exception of a short article upon it by Mr. Collier in his 'P. P. Catal. of the Bridgewater Library,' p. 87, do we find it noticed by any of our poetical bibliographers. Lowndes also seems to have been unable to refer to the sale of a single copy."—Corser's "Collectanea," pt. v., 65.

By John Davies. Iucunda vicissitudo rerum. At London, Printed for John Browne, and are to be sold at his shop in Saint Dunstones Church-yard in Fleet-street. [n. d.] 4to. G. M.*

A—X in fours. Dedicated to Philip, Earl of Montgomery.

From Mr. Corser's collection. It is the fine copy described in the "Collectanea," part v., No. 88. It seems to be difficult to determine whether the portrait of Davies should accompany this volume or the "Holy Rood." It would match either, and was perhaps issued separately, and added or not, at the option of the purchaser, at the time of publication.

Licensed to John Browne, 27th of September, 1605. See Arber's "Transcript," iii., 129.

— Humours Heau'n on Earth; With the Ciuile Warres of Death and Fortune. As also the Triumph of Death: Or, The Picture of the Plague, according to the Life; as it was in Anno Domini. 1603. By John Dauies of Hereford.

*O! 'tis a sacred kinde of Excellence,
That hides a rich truth in a Tales pretence.*

Printed at London by A. I. 1609. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A, 4 leaves; B—L 4 in eights.

In verse. Dedicated, in verse, to Algernon, Lord Percy, and in a second metrical epistle to Lady Dorothy and Lady Lucy Percy. The last leaf has a copy of verses addressed to one of Davies's pupils, Thomas Bodenham, son and heir of Sir Roger Bodenham, of Rotherwas.

The second edition. The Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica copy, and subsequently in the libraries of Sir M. M. Sykes and Mr. Corser.

See the Grenville Catalogue, i., 182. The paging of this edition is incorrect, skipping from p. 45 to p. 146.

— The Scourge of Folly. Consisting of satyricall Epigramms, and others in honor of many noble and worthy Persons of our Land. Together with a pleasant (though discordant) Descant vpon most English Prouerbes: and others. At London printed by E. A. for

Richard Redmer sould at his shop at y^e west gate of Paules. [1610.]
Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—S 4 in eights, the first leaf blank.

The title-page is engraved, and bears on it a curious engraving of Wit scourging Folly on the back of Time, who has laid down his scythe and hour-glass to perform the duty imposed upon him by Wit, from whose mouth there is a label, with "Nay vp with him if he were my brother."

Many of the epigrams of a more interesting character in this volume have been reprinted in Brydges's "Restituta" and elsewhere. They are addressed not only to the nobility, but to the author's personal friends or acquaintances, Jonson, Shakespeare, Donne, Harington, Sir Thomas Lucy, Samuel Daniell, Sir John Davies, John Owen, John Speed, Sir W. Alexander of Menstrie, John Fletcher, Bishop Hall, Robert Armin the actor, &c. Shakespeare is spoken of as "our English Terence." The poem called "Paper's Complaint," in which some of the well-known books and writers of the day are mentioned, was reprinted in 1624, with a similar tract by Abraham Holland, with whose family Davies was intimate.

The book was licensed to Richard Redmer on the 8th of October, 1610. See Arber's "Transcript," iii., 201 b.

DAVIES, JOHN, of Hereford. The Myves Teares for the Losse of their Hope; Heroick and ne're-too-mvch praised, Henry, Prince of Wales &c. Together with Times Sobs for the vntimely death of his Glory in that his Darling: and, lastly, his Epitaphs. Consecrated to the high and mighty Prince, Frederick the fift, Count-palatine of Rheyne, &c. Where-vnto is added, Consolatory Straines to wrest Natvre from her bent in immoderate mourning; most loyally, and humbly wisht to the King and Queenes most excellent maiesties. By Iohn Davies of Hereford, their Maiesties poore Beads-man and Vassall. At London Printed by G. Eld, for Iohn Wright, and are to be sould at his shop neere Christ-Church Dore, 1613. 4to. R. M.

A—E in fours; E 4 blank.

A portrait of Prince Henry is inserted. Mr. Corser's copy.

— A Select Second Hvsband for Sir Thomas Overbvrics Wife, now a Matchlesse Widow.

No Muse can make high flight, Whose Lustre lacks No Light.

London, Printed by Thomas Creede and Barnard Allsopp for Iohn Marriott: and are to be sold at his shop at the White Flower-de-luce, neere Fetter Lane end in Fleetstreete. 1616. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A, 4 leaves, the first blank; B—G 4 in eights. Dedicated in verse to William, Earl of Pembroke.

From the libraries of Mr. Bright and Mr. Corser. The whole is in metre, and it is a prettily-printed volume within woodcut borders.

— A Scovrge for Paper-Persecutors. Or

Papers Complaint, compil'd in ruthfull Rimes, Against the Paper-spylers of these Times.

By I. D. With

*A continued iust Inquisition
Of the same subiect, fit for this season.*

Against Paper-Persecvtors. By A[braham] H[olland]. Printed at London for H. H. and G. G. and are to be sold at the Golden-Flower Deluce in Popes-head Alley. 1625. 4to. BL. M.

A—D 2 in fours, and A in fours. In verse.

On the title-page is the same copper-plate engraving as on the title of the author's "Scourge of Folly," where this invective was originally printed.

A 2 is occupied by a duplicate title, dated 1624, nearly identical with the first, but without the engraving. From the libraries of Mr. Jolley and Mr. Corser.

It is singular that Mr. Corser should have been unaware ("Collectanea," pt. v., p. 102) that the writer of a portion of this book was Abraham Holland, not, as Wood supposed, Abraham Hartwell.

DAVIES, SIR JOHN. Nosce teipsum. This Oracle expounded in two Elegies.

1. Of Humane Knowledge.

2. Of the Soule of Man, and the immortalitie thereof.

London, Printed by Richard Field, for John Standish. 1599. 4to. BL. M.

First edition. Title, 1 leaf; "To our most Gracious dread Soueraigne," 1 leaf; the work, B—M 1 in fours.

There is a curious item in the registration of this book at Stationers' Hall (Arber, iii., 49 b), under date of April 14, 1599, namely, "This is authorised vnder the hand of the L. Bysshop of London/ Provyded that yt must not be printed without his L. hand to yt agayne."

— Nosce teipsum Written by Sir Iohn Davis, his Maiesties Attorney generall in Ireland. London, Printed by Henry Ballard for Iohn Standish. 1608. 4to. O. M.

A, 2 leaves; B—M 1 in fours.

The third edition; it retains the dedication to Queen Elizabeth. A copious review of this poem will be found in Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," pt. v., pp. 104-110.

— Nosce Teipsum Hymnes of Astræa in Acrosticke Verse. Orchestra, Or, A Poeme of Dauncing. In a Dialoguc betweene Penelope, and one of her Wooers. Not finished. London, Printed by Augustine Mathewes for Richard Hawkins, and are to be sold at his Shop in Chancery Lane, uere Scricants Inne. 1622. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—L 3 in eights.

The "Nosce Teipsum" and "Astræa" were published together in 1599, and "Orchestra" in 1596; the latter, however, had been licensed in 1593. This, the first collected edition, appears to have been produced without any reference to the author. It is only the old texts reprinted with their original dedications; and as Davies was living in 1622 (he died in 1626), it is singular that he allowed his "Orchestra" to remain unfinished. On sig. L 2, after stanza 126 of that poem, occurs: "Here are wanting some Stanzaes describing Queene Elizabeth," and the work ends imperfectly at stanza 131.

DAVIES, SIR J. A Discoverie of the True Causes why Ireland was neuer entirely Subdued, nor brought vnder Obedience of the Crowne of England, vntill the Beginning of his Maiesties happie Raigne. Printed for Iohn Iaggard, dwelling within Temple Bar, at the Signe of the Hand and Star. 1612. 4to.

A—Oo 2 in fours, A blank. First edition. Dedicated to the King. A Bodleian duplicate.

DAVIES, WILLIAM. A True Relation of the Travailes and most miserable Captiuitie of William Dauies, Barber-Surgion of London, vnder the Duke of Florence. Wherein is truly set downe the manner of his taking, the long time of his slauerie, and meanes of his deliuerie, after eight yeeres, and ten moneths Captiuitie in the Gallies. Discovering many mayne Landes, Ilandes, Riuers, Cities, and townes, of the Christians and Infidels, the condition of the people . . . London: Printed for Nicholas Bourne . . . 1614. 4to. Black letter.

A—E in fours.

The author was a native of Hereford. From Mr. Corser's library.

DAVILA, G. G. Teatro de las grandezas de la villa de Madrid. Madrid. 1623. Folio.

Engraved title and 3 preliminary leaves ; pp. 1-522 ; index, 4 leaves.

DAVILA Y HEREDIA, DON ANDRES. Advana de impositores de la medicina, y registro de libros, y papeles de contravando. [S. l. n. a.] 4to.

Pp. 1-59.

DAVIS, WILLIAM. Two Journies round the Library of a Bibliomaniac. London. 1821-5. Sm. 8vo. Two parts.

This appears to be a compilation from various sources, and not really an account of any particular collection.

DAVISON, FRANCIS. A Poetical Rapsodie, Containing Diuerse Sonnets, Odes, Elegies, Madrigals, Epigrams, Pastorals, Eglogues, with other poems, both in Rime and measured verse. For varietie and pleasure the like neuer yet published.

The Bee and Spider by a diuerse power

Sucke Hony and Poyson from the selfe same flower.

Newly corrected and augmented. London, Printed by William Stansby for Roger Iackson, dwelling in Fleetstreet neere the great Conduit. 1611. Sm. 8vo.

A, 8 leaves ; B—I 4 in twelves.

The third edition of this miscellany. See a review of it in Collier's "Bibliogr. Catalogue," i., 187-90.

From the collections of Mr. Heber and Mr. Corser. In the finest condition, and in the original vellum binding. It contains some memoranda by Mr. Heber which point out the differences between this edition and that of 1621.

DAVISON, FRANCIS. Davisons Poems, Or, A Poeticall Rapsodie. Deuided into sixe Bookes.

The first, contayning Poems and Deuises.

The second, Sonets and Canzonets.

The third, Pastoralls and Elegies.

The fourth, Madrigalls and Odes.

The fift, Epigrams and Epitaphs.

The Sixt, Epistles and Epithalamions.

. . . The fourth Impression, Newly corrected and augmented, and put into a forme more pleasing to the Reader. London, Printed by B. A. for Roger Iackson, 1621. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

A—S in eights, the first leaf blank.

A reprint of the edition of 1611, with the contents arranged in a different and preferable manner. The edition of 1826 was taken from that of 1611. Dr. Farmer's copy, afterwards in Skegg's collection.

DAY, ANGEL. The English Secretorie, Or Methode of writing of Epistles and Letters: with a declaration of such Tropes, Figures and Schemes, as either vsually or for ornament sake are therein required. Also the parts and office of a Secretorie. Deuided into two bookes. Now newly reuised and in many partes corrected and amended. By Angel Day. London Printed by T. D. for Cuthbert Burby. 1607. 4to. Black letter.

A, 4 leaves; B—T in eights.

This book was originally published in 1586, and was then dedicated to the Earl of Oxford, to whom also the author dedicates this edition, with a new Epistle before it, in the course of which he remarks: "Hercules past many yeres ere he grew famed by his labors, and onely vse and practise enableth vnto the greatest perfection."

DAY, JAMES. A New Spring of Divine Poetrie. I. Day philomus composuit. — Inest sua gratia parvis. Printed at London by T. C. for Humphry Blunden, at his shop neere the Castle Taverne, in Corne-hill. 1637. 4to.

Title-page, 1 leaf; dedication to Mistris Bridget Rudge in an acrostic, and "Votum Auctoris," 1 leaf; commendatory verses, 2 leaves; A 3—F in fours; (F), 4 leaves; G, 2 leaves, the last blank.

Nothing seems to be known of the author of this piece.

DAY, JOHN. Law-Trickes or, who would have Thought it. As it hath been diuers times Acted by the Children of the Reuels. Written by Iohn Day. London Printed for Richard More, and are to be solde at his Shop in S. Dunstanes Church-yard in Fleete-streete. 1608. 4to. O. M.

A—I in fours.

DAY, JOHN. The Parliament of Bees, With their proper Characters. Or, A Bee-hive furnisht with twelve Hony-combes, as Pleasant as Profitable. Being an Allegoricall description of the actions of good and bad men in these our daies. By Iohn Daye, Sometimes Student of Caius Colledge in Cambridge. [Quot. from Ovid.] London: Printed for William Lce, and are to be sold at his shop in Pauls Church-yard neere Pauls Chaine. 1641. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—H 2 in fours. With a frontispiece.

Dedicated to Mr. George Butler, whom the writer designates "professor of the Arts Liberrall, and true Patron to neglected Poesic."

— The Blind-Beggar of Bednal-Green, with the merry humor of Tom Strowd the Norfolk Yeoman, as it was divers times publickly acted by the Princes Servants. Written by John Day. London, Printed for R. Pollard and Tho. Dring, and are to be sold at the Ben Johnsons Head, behind the Exchange, and the George in Fleetstreet, near Saint Dunstons Church. 1659. 4to. R. M.

B—K 2 in fours, besides the title-page.

This is the only edition; but the drama was written and acted long before it was printed.

DEACON, JOHN. Tobacco Tortured, Or, The Filthie Fvme of Tobacco Refined: Shewing all sorts of Subiects, that the inward taking of Tobacco fumes is very pernicious vnto their bodies; too too profluvius for many of their purses, and most pestiferous to the publike State. Exemplified apparently by most fearefull effects: More especially, from their treacherous proiects about the Gun-powder Treason; From their rebellious attempts of late, about their preposterous disparking of certaine Inclosures, as also from sundry other their prodigious practises. [Quot. from Prov. xxvii. 9.] London, Printed by Richard Field dwelling in Great Woodstreete. 1616. 4to. Black letter.

*, 6 leaves; , 4 leaves; A—Cc in fours, the last leaf blank.

Dedicated to James I. At the end of this curious book are some verses by the author on Tobacco; one, which he terms "A Sonnet," and entitles "Tobacco Tortured," consists of twelve stanzas of four lines each. Of the publications upon tobacco which appeared about this time, this is one of the rarest.

DÉBAT. Le Debat du corps et de lame. [Sans lieu ni date.] 4to. Black letter.

This piece agrees exactly with the collation given by Brunet of the edition described by him under "Débat," having sigs. A, B in sixes, and C, 4 leaves, the last blank. He adds to his title, however, "et la Vision de Lermite," which does not appear either on the title or in the body of the book. At the end of the text we find, "Cy finist le debat du corps Et de lame."

From the Yemeniz collection. In the sale catalogue, strangely enough, the title is given as in Brunet. It was probably printed at Lyons, about 1500.

DE BRY. The Collection of Voyages, edited, translated, reprinted and illustrated by Theodore De Bry, his widow and two sons John Theodore and John Israel, and his two sons-in-law Matthew Merian and William Fitzer. The series described here as AMERICA and INDIA comprise

1. The Voyages to America, in Latin, in thirteen parts.
2. The Voyages to America, in German, in fourteen parts.
3. The Voyages to the East Indies, in Latin, in twelve parts.
4. The Voyages to the East Indies, in German, in thirteen parts.

It will be seen that the set comprises all the first and most of the later editions, as well as some duplicate copies with variations.

ADMIRANDA NARRATIO fida tamen, de commodis et incolarum ritibus Virginiae, nuper admodum ab Anglis, qui à Dn. Richardo Greinvile equestris ordinis viro eò in Coloniam anno. M.D.LXXXV. deducti sunt inventae, sumptus faciente Dn. Waltero Raleigh equestris ordinis viro fodinarum stanni praefecto ex auctoritate serenissimae Reginae Angliae. Anglico scripta sermone à Thoma Hariot, eiusdem Walteri Domestico, in eam Coloniam misso ut regionis situm diligenter observaret nunc autem primum latius donata à C. C. A. Cum gratia et privilegio Cæs. Ma^{tes} Specⁱⁱ ad Quadriennium. Francofurti ad Moenum typis Joannis Wecheli, sumptibus vero Theodori de Bry Anno CIOIOXC. Venales reperientur in officina Sigismundi Feirabendii. [Colophon.] Impressem Francofurti ad Mœnum apud Joannem Wechelium, impensis Theodori de Bry. Anno MDXC.

1. Title as above engraved on copper, within an architectural design.
2. Dedication, "Serenissimo Principi ac Domino, Domino Maximiliano," &c., 1 leaf. Beneath the heading is a large copperplate engraving of the arms of Maximilian. Under this engraving are five lines of letterpress, the first of which ends with the word "vestrae."
3. "Benevolis Coloniae, quae in Virginiam traducta est," &c., 1 leaf.
4. The text, printed in italic letters, pp. 7-34. The first line of p. 34 ends with the word "pluribus." The last line of the page has only "1588." The catchword is "Vivæ."
5. Title, "Vivæ Imagines et ritus incolarum eius provinciae in America," &c., with a diamond-shaped typographical ornament in the centre.
6. "Index omnium capitum in hac parte Virginiae historiae," &c., 1 leaf.
7. A plate representing Adam and Eve, with the inscription "Iodocus a Winghe in. Theodore de Brÿ fe."
8. "Beneuolo Lectori S." A leaf printed only on the recto. The first letter T is in type within a floriated woodcut border.
9. Map of Virginia, which stands for plate 1.

10. The plates are all numbered on the copper, 2 to 23, except 18. Each of the pages is also numbered in type II-XXIII. above the engraving, and has a descriptive letterpress in italic type printed below it, except XIII. and XVIII., which have the letterpress on the left margin, and XVII. XIX. XX. and XXII., on a leaf opposite the plate. Twelve out of the 23 plates are found with a reprinted text, and these are frequently mixed with those of the first issue. They may be distinguished by the endings of the first lines as shown in the following table. Those to which an * is affixed were not reprinted.

11. Ten leaves, the first headed "Pictorum, Britanniae icones," which consist of five plates representing full-length figures of the ancient Picts of Britain, with letterpress on separate leaves opposite.

12. A leaf headed "Interpres lectori," with a triangular type ornament at the end of the letterpress.

13. Two leaves. The first headed "Index præcipvarvm," &c. At the end is repeated the same triangular type ornament mentioned above.

14. A leaf bearing the colophon, "Impressum Francoforti ad Manum apud Joannem Wechelum, impensis Theodori de Bry. Anno MDXC."

N.B. Inserted in this copy is a most brilliant earlier impression of the engraved title, without the words "Cum gratia et privilegio Cæs. Ma^{ts} Spec^{li} ad Quadriennivm."

ADMIRANDA NARRATIO fida tamen. Francoforti ad Moenvm typis Joannis Wecheli, svmtibus vero Theodor de Bry Anno CIOIXC. Venales reperivntur in officina Sigismvndi Feirabendi.

Part I.
1st edition,
2nd issue.

The title to this issue differs only from the first in having the address in the lower compartment of the engraved title printed from a small separate copper-plate, and in having "Theodor" for "Theodori," and "Feirabendi" for "Feirabendii," in this address.

The preliminary leaves numbered 4 and 5 are exactly the same as in the first issue.

The first leaf of text has the No. of the page "7" in the middle of the page instead of in the right-hand corner. The ornamental border at the top has a grotesque head in the centre instead of a winged figure holding two wreaths, as seen in the first issue. The initial letter H is larger. This leaf and pp. 29-30 have been reset throughout. Otherwise the text is exactly the same as in the first issue.

VOYAGES TO AMERICA

This variation does not occur in all copies.

The leaves numbered in the collation of the first issue "5," "6," "7" are precisely the same.

The differences in the plates are fully noted above.

Part I.
2nd edition.

ADMIRANDA NARRATIO fida tamen . . . Françforti ad Moenum typis Joannis Wecheli, svmtibus vero Theodori de Bry Anno CIOIXC. Venales reperivntvr in officina Sigismundi Feirabendii.

1. This title is in every respect the same as in the first edition except that the impression of the copperplate is not so bright. The real date of the edition is about 1608.

2. The plate of arms at the head of the dedication to the Archduke Maximilian has cross hatching introduced behind the shield. The initial "I" is smaller. The first line ends "vestræ Ma,".

3. The heading "Bencvolis," &c. is in three lines, instead of four.

4. The first leaf of text has the same ornament as the second issue of the first edition, but the number "7" is at the right side of the page. The headline of the pages, "Brevis & fida Narratio De commodis incol. Virginiae," is in smaller type than in the first edition. The last line of page 34 is "anni 1588."

5. The title to the plates varies slightly from the previous issues, having "Vivæ" for "Vivæ," "authoritate" for "auctoritate," &c. The ornament in the centre contains a grotesque mask.

6. The plate of Adam and Eve has transverse lines in the arms of the trees, on the serpent's tail, &c., and "Jo." is added to the engraver's name.

7. The initial letter "T" to the leaf headed "Beneuolo Lectori S." is entirely cut in wood.

8. Map of Virginia, much worn.

9. Plates ii.-xxiii. The first lines ending thus :—

10. Ten leaves, the first headed "Pictorum, Britanniae . . . icones." The ornament over this heading is printed upside down, the letterpress is in seven lines instead of eight as in the first edition. There is a small woodcut with a cherub's head beneath the letterpress.

11. The woodcut at the end of the leaf "Interpres lectori" has a grotesque figure in the centre.

12. "Index præcipvarvm," 2 leaves. The woodcut at the top has a grotesque head and two satyrs. At the end of the index is a woodcut ornament with a grotesque mask in the centre. There is no colophon leaf.

IN LATIN.

1. Title as above, engraved on copper, within an architectural design.
2. Dedication, "Illvstrissimo Principi ac Domino Dn. Christiano, Dvci Saxoniae, . . ." This inscription occupies seven lines, beneath it is the coat of arms of the Duke of Saxony engraved on copper with six lines of letterpress under it. 1 leaf.
3. A leaf headed "Benevolo lectori," beneath which is a copperplate of the Sacrifice of Noah. Under it are fourteen lines of letterpress, the first line ending "quã ante aliquot".
4. Imperial privilege; the first line of the heading is "Exemplar Caesa-".
5. Map of Florida.
6. Text, headed "Gallorum in Floridam Americae provinciam altera navigatio, dvce Lavdonniero, Anno MDLXIV." The pages are 1-30. The first page has twenty-five lines of text.
7. A leaf, headed "Index capitvm." This is a list of the 42 plates.
8. An engraved title. The border is the same as that of the first title. In the centre is printed from a separate copperplate "Indorum Floridam provinciam inhabitantium eicones, primùm ibidem ad vivum expressæ à Jacobo le Moyne cui cognomen De Morgues : addita ad singulas brevi earum declaratione. Plate xl.ii. is followed by a blank leaf, which is necessary to complete the signature H of 6 leaves, though the following leaf is marked H 2.

9. "Libellvs siue Epistola Svppliatoria," 3 leaves. The ornamental woodcut at the top of the heading has in the centre a bust of a winged woman.

10. "De Qvarta Gallorvm in Floridam navigatione . . ." 5 leaves, including the index.

11. "Mendæ qvædam," 1 leaf.

12. "Parergon continens qvædam . . ." 4 leaves. On the verso of the 4th leaf is the colophon, as given above.

Part II.
2nd edition.

BREVIS NARRATIO eorum quæ in Florida Americæ Provincia Gallis acciderunt. Francoforti ad Moenum. Anno MDXCI. [1609].

1. The title is in every respect the same as in the first edition.
2. The dedication leaf has only six lines of inscription above the coat of arms, and only five lines of letterpress beneath it.
3. In the leaf headed "Benevolo lectori," the first line ends "quam ante aliquot".
4. Imperial privilege. The first line reads "Exemplar Cæ."
5. Map of Florida.
6. Four leaves, headed "Historia Lvctvosæ Expeditionis . . .", which are not found in the first edition.
7. Text, headed "Gallorvm in Floridam Americæ . . ." The first page has 26 lines of text. The last line of p. 30 reads "sempiternum. Amen." while the first edition has "ria in sempiternum. Amen."
8. "Index capitvm." This leaf is almost word for word as in the first edition, but at the end of line 41 it has "obseruatæ" instead of "observatæ," and No. 18 occupies only one line instead of two.

9. A letterpress title, "Indorvm Floridam Provinciam Inhabitantvm cicones. Anno Christi M.D.C.IX." VOYAGES TO AMERICA IN LATIN.
10. Plates I.-XLII. differing from those of the first edition in the letterpress, according to the table given above.
11. "Libellvs sive Epistola . . ." 3 leaves. The ornamental cut at the top has a cherub's head in the centre, supported by two cherubs blowing trumpets.
12. "De Qvarta Gallorvm . . ." 5 leaves, including the index. The ornamental cut at the beginning is the same as described above (No. 11). The catchword of the fifth leaf is "Parer," instead of "Mendæ."
13. "Parergon. . ." 4 leaves. The verso of the fourth leaf is blank.

1. Engraved title as above within an architectural border.
2. Dedication, "Serenissimo Principi. . . . Gvillimo, Comiti Palatino ad Rhenvm," 1 leaf.
3. Two leaves. The first bears on the recto seven coats of arms engraved on copper. On the verso "Theodorvs de Bry Lectori."
4. Dedication, "Illustrissimo. . . Philippo, Landgravio Hassiæ, Signcd "Joannes Stadius"
5. Preface, addressed "Generoso Domino, Domino Philippo, Comiti Nassaviæ S. F. D. Ioannes Dryander," 3 leaves.
6. A large map, "Americæ pars magis cognita."
7. Text of the Voyage of J. Stadius. Pp. 1-134. With engravings on the letterpress.
8. Title engraved on copper, within the same border as the first title. "Navigatio in Brasiliam Americæ Qua Auctoris Navigatio, quæ memoriæ prodenda in mari viderit, Brasiliensium victus & mores à nostris valde alieni, A Ioanne Lerio Burgundo Gallicè primùm scripta, Venales reperiuntur in officina Sigismundi Feirabendii."
9. Four preliminary leaves. The first (p. 137) has ten lines of Greek verse in large characters. On the verso of the fourth leaf (p. 144) is the large plate of Adam and Eve, the same as in Part I.
10. Pp. 145-296. With engravings on the letterpress.
11. Index, 7 leaves, followed by a blank leaf.

AMERICA
IN LATIN.

Title as in the first edition, with the exception that the name of Theodore de Bry is substituted for that of Feirabend.

The only other difference between this edition and the first is, that the plate containing seven coats of arms has the background filled in with scrolls and six female figures, representing "Pax," "Veritas," &c.

The plates are of course not so brilliant in impression. In the letterpress there is no difference whatever.

Part III.
2nd edition.

AMERICAE TERTIA PARS. [Colophon.] Impressum Francofurti ad Moenum, apud Matthiam Beckerum, impensis Theodori de Bry. MDCV.

1. Title, the same in every respect as in the second edition, except that the plate is much worn.

2. Dedicatory leaf. The coat of arms has been much worked on and darkened. Beneath the plate are six lines of letterpress, instead of five.

3. The recto of the third leaf, which in the previous editions has the seven coats of arms, is here blank. The recto of the fourth leaf has fifteen lines instead of fourteen.

4. The title which follows p. 134 is here in letterpress.

5. The page 137 has the Greek verses in very small characters. P. 141 has thirty-two lines of text instead of twenty-six, and p. 143 has seventeen lines instead of twenty-seven. P. 144 is blank.

The impressions of the engravings are so inferior that any leaves inserted from this edition to make up copies of the first or second must at once be detected by that alone.

Part IV.

AMERICAE PARS QVARTA. Sive Insignis & Admiranda Historia de reperta primùm Occidentali India à Christophoro Columbo Anno M.CCCCXCII. Scripta ab Hieronymo Bezono Mediolanense, qui istic añis XIII. versatus, diligēter omnia observavit. Addita ad singula ferè capita, non contemnenda scholia, in quibus agitur de earum etiam gentium idololatria. Accessit præterea illarum Regionum Tabula chorographica. [Colophon.] Impressum Francofurti ad Moenum, typis Joannis Feyrabend, Impensis Theodori de Bry. Anno. M.D.LXXXVIII.

1. Title as above, within an engraved border.

In this copy is inserted a second title, which has the words "Ad Invistis. Rudolphus II. Rom. Imperator" added after the date, and the word "prevelegio" altered to "privilegio."

2. A leaf with the seven coats of arms and the six virtues, as in Part 3; on the verso "Exemplar Cæsarei Priuilegii."

3. A leaf, "Ad Lectorem," "Theodorus de Bry Benevolo Lectori." With a plate of Benzon in his ship.

4. A leaf, "Americae relectio." The catchword is "Artes."

5. Five other prefatory leaves, pp. 1-10. At the head of p. 1 is a woodcut ornament with two cherubs blowing trumpets. On the tenth page the last word of the 12th line of text reads "crederent".

6. Map, "Occidentalis Americae partis."

7. Text. Pp. 11-145. The sidenotes are printed in Roman type.

8. Title repeated exactly as given above.

9. Plates 1-XXIII., without any numbers engraved on the plates themselves.

Brunet was altogether unacquainted with the title in its first state as given above, and knew it only, it seems, from the Santander catalogue in its second state with the words "Ad Invistis Rudolphus," which he quotes incorrectly as "Invictis," but even in the third issue the error "Invistis" remains uncorrected.

C. Maiestat. [Colophon.] Impressum Francofurti ad Moenam
Anno M.D.LXXXVIII.

Part IV.
1st edition,
2nd issue.

1. The title as above. It will be seen that the error in the ending of the word Rudolphus noted in the duplicate title in the first edition is here corrected by defacing imperfectly the two last letters, "us."

2. The preliminary leaves and text are precisely the same as in the first edition; but the difference in the plates certainly marks this as a distinct edition, though it is not so counted by Brunet.

The impressions both of engraved title and plates are very inferior, and the following differences in the plates distinguish this as a re-issue:—

On plate 5 the number is rudely indicated in the left corner.

Plate 6 is marked on the gun carriage.

Plate 7 is marked in the left corner.

Plate 9 is very indistinctly marked in the right corner.

Plate 12 is marked in the right corner.

Plate 13, to the left of the centre.

Plate 16, in the right corner.

Plate 18, to the right of the centre.

The other plates are only to be distinguished as belonging to the first edition by the brilliancy of the impressions.

AMERICAE PARS QVARTA [Sine anno.]

Part IV.
2nd edition.

1. The title is precisely the same as in the second edition except that at the bottom of the title, on the right, are inserted some marks which appear like the letter A and a Z reversed.

2. On the reverse of the plate of shields the last word of line 23 reads "dictum" instead of "dictū".

3. "Ad Lectorem," the last word of the first line reads "1n-" instead of "Indiae."

4. "Americae relectio," there is no catchword.

5. The ornamental woodcut on p. 1 is different to that described above. On p. 10 the last word of line 13 is "in-" instead of "quum."

6. The text is at first sight the same as in the first and second, and by Brunet, who calls it the second edition, it is said to be "une répétition de la première," but the marginal notes are here nearly all in italic letter.

7. The plates are clearly marked on the copper 1-24, which effectually distinguishes them from the preceding editions, without any need of the peculiar distinctions which are given by Brunet. The plates have been retouched throughout, and the letterpress re-composed, but the differences from the earlier editions are generally very slight.

1. Title as above, on copper, within an engraved border.
 2. Præfatio, 1 leaf. At the beginning is a portrait of Columbus, beneath it eleven lines of text.
 3. A leaf headed "Præfatio" with the number of page in right-hand corner. Text in Roman characters.
 4. Map, "Hispaniæ novæ descriptio."
 5. Text. Pp. 5-82 (erroneously marked 92). The initial letter "E" on p. 5 is entirely woodcut. The notes at the end of the chapters are in Roman letter.
 6. Title, as above, repeated.
 7. Plates I.-XXII., the numbers being in Roman numerals.
- * * This copy has a duplicate title inserted both to text and plates, which has the correction "Hia" [for historia] added after the word sectionis over the fifth line, and "Invictis" for "Invistis."

Part V.

AMERICÆ PARS QUINTA A°, c1515XCV.

1. Title as above, with the corrections mentioned as being in the duplicate titles.
2. Præfatio, 1 leaf, with thirteen leaves of text beneath the portrait.
3. The third leaf has the No. "3" in the centre of the page, and the word "Præfatio" is omitted.
4. Map, "Hispaniæ novæ," &c.
5. Text. Pp. 5-72. The initial letter "E" is type within a border. The notes at the end of the chapters are in italics. A blank leaf after the text.
6. Title repeated.

3. Plate, "Cusco vrbs nobilissima," &c.
4. On p. 3 the heading "Tertii libri svmma," &c., is in two lines.
5. Text. Pp. 5-108. As the text does not read with that of the second edition, it is needless to give any particulars by which it may be distinguished from it. The No. of p. 5 is at the right-hand corner.
6. The title repeated as above. Over the centre is pasted a separate slip as a special title to the engravings, "Seqvntvr icones artificiosæ ordine Historiam præcedentem illustrantes, additis ad singulas suis explicationibus."
7. Plates 1-28. These plates may be distinguished from those belonging to the second edition by the letterpress to Nos. 7, 10-19, 21, 22, 27, and 28 being in Roman type, and by the number of lines of letterpress to those that are printed in italics. Plate 1 has 12 lines; plate 2, 18 lines; plates 3 and 4, 13 lines each; plates 5 and 6, 14 lines each; plate 8, 10 lines; plate 9, 12 lines; plate 20, 12 lines; plates 23 and 24, 13 lines each; plates 25 and 26, 15 lines each.

1. Letterpress title as above. Over the last three lines is a small map of the two hemispheres, with a portrait of Sir F. Drake between them.

2. "Præfatio ad lectorem," 1 leaf.

3. Map of Guiana.

4. Text. Pp. 3-78 and 1-99. This copy has pp. 77-8 in the first part, and pp. 3-4 in the second, in duplicate, one with, and one without, the small maps at the foot of pp. 78 and 3.

5. Letterpress title, "Tabulæ & imagines ad septimam et octavam Americæ partem Impressæ Francoforti ad Moenum per Matthæum Becker, sumptibus dictorum Theodorici de Bry viduæ & filiorum. Anno M.D.XCIX."

AMERICÆ PARS VIII. Continens primo, descriptionem trivm Itinervm Anno M.D.XCIX.

This issue was unknown to Brunet except through "un catalogue de livres curieux imprimé à New York en 1854" [by Mr. James Lenox], and he expresses an opinion that "ce doit être une édition faite pour Merian après l'année 1625," which is unquestionably a mistake.

It is in fact a reissue of the first edition with only this difference, that the first title and the text to the end of p. 6 have been reprinted. The text begins on the back of the title, the preface being suppressed, and by using a smaller type the text of the four pages is got into three. Pp. 5-6 are consequently omitted.

In all other respects this (so-called) second edition is the same as the first, and the impressions of the plates are equally good.

The map on the title is different from that on the title of the first edition, and is the plate found at p. 3 of the second part of the volume as described above.

NOVI ORBIS PARS DVODECIMA, Sive descriptio Indiæ occidentalis, Auctore Antonio de Herrera, Supremo Castellæ & Indiarum autoritate Philippi III. Hispaniarum Regis Historigrapho. Accesservnt et aliorvm Indiæ Occidentalis Descriptiones, vti & navigationum omnium per Fretum Magellanicum succincta narratio. Quibus cohærent Paralipomena Americæ, in quibus res plurima memoria & obseruatione dignissima, imprimis regionum natura, acris constitutio, temperamenta elementorum, incolarum ingenia quæ in magno opere historico aut omittuntur, aut leuiter attinguntur, iucunda non minus quam crudita descriptione pertractantur. Francofurti, Sumptibus Hæredum Iohan. Theodori de Bry. Anno Salutis M.DC.XXIV.

1. Letterpress title printed within an engraved border.
2. A second title, entirely letterpress, with the same imprint.
3. Dedication, "Iohanni-Ludovico ab Hagen," 1 leaf.
4. Text. Pp. 1-154. There are numerous plates on the text. That at p. 130 is not, as Brunet says is usually the case, pasted on, but is printed correctly in its place. These plates, with the exception of four, were first printed in Part ix. ; but this (at p. 130) is one of those which do not appear there. There are also the maps to Herrera, numbered 1-14, inserted in their places.

Part XIII.

DECIMA TERTIA PARS Historiæ Americanæ, quæ continet exactam et accuratam descriptionem I. Novæ Angliæ, Virginîæ, Brasi-liæ, Guianæ, & insulæ Bermudæ, quarum hætenus exigua & imperfecta notitia habita fuit. II. Terræ Australis incognitæ, cuius chorographia antehac in nullo Itinerario aut Navigatione litteris tradita. III. Expugnationis vrbs S. Novi Mexici, Cibolæ, Cinaloæ, Quiviræ, rerumq; memorabilium, quæ in Iucatan, Guatimala, Fonduris & Panama observatæ sunt, nec non aliquot Anglicarum iis locis coloniarum. V. Navigationis Hollandorum per vniversum orbem, duce Iacobo Eremita. VI. Classis Hispanicæ prædivitis ab Hollandis, duce Petro Heinio, in portu insulæ, qui Matanza dicitur, interceptæ. VII. Vrbs Olindæ de Fernambucco in Brasilia ab Hollandis, duce Henrico Cornelio Lonckio, occupatæ. Additis passim tabvlis æri incisis, quibus jam memoratæ descriptiones illustrantur. Francofurti ad Mocnvm, Sumptibus Matthæi Meriani ciuis & Chalcographi Francofurtensis. MDCXXXIV.

1. Letterpress title within an engraved border.
2. "Lectori beneuolo S," 1 leaf.
3. Text. Pp. 1-149. This should be 159 but for an error in the pagination. There are 80 leaves.
4. Besides the numerous plates printed in the text, there are the following plates and maps separate, and not numbered :—

AMERICA
IN LATIN.

- A. "America nouiter delineata." A folding map.
 B. "Fretvm Magellanicum." The same plate as described in Part ix.
 C. "Descripcion de las Indias." From Herrera. The same as in Part xii.
 D. At p. 12, Map of Virginia. In the left corner a representation of Powhatan's Court.
 E. At p. 36, Map, "Das Norder theil des Lands Brasilien."
 F. At p. 44, Map, "Dic Landschaft Gvaiana."
 G. At p. 62 (wrongly marked 25), S. Salvador.
 H. At p. 146 (wrongly marked 136), "Das Eylandt Cuba."
 I. At p. 154 (wrongly marked 144), "Olinda."

* * It is remarked in the Grenville Catalogue that "these two last Parts (xii. and xiii.) are excessively rare, and generally found in very bad condition, and without the maps."

The copies here described are, however, in very fine state, measuring $14\frac{1}{4}$ inches in height, being rather larger than the early parts, and having all the maps quite complete.

Elenchus.

HISTORIA AMERICÆ sive Novi Orbis, Compræhendens in XIII. Sectionibus exactissimam descriptionem vastissimarvm et mvlts abhinc seculis incognitarum Terrarum, quæ nunc passim Indiae Occidentalis nomine vulgò vsurpantur. Cvm elegantissimis tabvlis et figvris æri incisis, nec non elencho Sectionum, & Indice Capitum ac rerum præcipuarum. Francofvrti, Sumptibus Matth. Meriani. 1634.

1. Title as above, in letterpress, within an engraved border, 1 leaf.
2. Title entirely letterpress, and "Præfatio", together, 5 leaves.
3. "Elenchvs singlarvm sectionvm," 4 leaves.

This piece was published in 1634 by Merian as a collective title and table of contents of the AMERICA, and is generally found attached to the second edition of Hariot's "Virginia," or Part I. of the Latin America. But as it contains a general preface and a table to the whole work, it is usual to place it with the first edition as title and introduction to the whole work. It is of the greatest rarity. Reprints by De Bure or by Edwards without the engraved title are frequently found substituted for the original edition.

1. Letterpress title as above, printed on a separate slip of paper, and pasted within the centre of the engraved frontispiece, which is the same as that of the Latin, English, and French editions of Part I. The imprint is also a slip of letterpress pasted on; but in this case the Latin engraved address is beneath, while the upper compartment for the title had been left blank.

2. Map, "Americæ pars, Nunc Virginia dicta."

3. Dedication to the Duke of Saxony, with eight lines of letterpress below the arms, and no catchword.

4. P. 5, "Allen vnd jeden", has the signature "a 3," and no catchword.

5. Text. Pp. 7-33.

6. Letterpress title, "Warhafftige Contrafacturen," with a diamond-shaped type ornament in the centre.

1. Title printed in letterpress, within the same engraved border as the first edition.

2. Map, "Americæ pars, Nunc Virginia dicta."

3. Dedication to the Duke of Saxony, with nine lines of letterpress below the arms, and catchword "vnbe-"

4. P. 5 has the signature "A iiii," and catchword "Endt-"

5. Text. Pp. 7-31.

6. Letterpress title, "Warhafftige Contrafacturen," with woodcut ornament at the top.

7. "Register," without a woodcut at the top of the page. On the reverse, "Dem günstigen Leser."

8. Plate of Adam and Eve.

9. Plates I.-XXII., the map not included in the numbering.

10. Letterpress title, "Etliche Contrafeyt." Seven lines beneath the ornament.

11. Five plates, with descriptive letterpress, opposite, as in the first edition.

12. "Register," 2 leaves. Colophon on the fourth page.

4. Text. Pp. 7-31. P. 7 is in the middle of the page. The last line of p. 31 is "im Jahr 1588."
5. Letterpress title, "Warhafftige Contrafacturen Gedruckt zu Oppenheim bey Hieronymo Gallern Anno MDCXIX."
6. Register leaf as in the second edition, except that it has a woodcut ornament at the head.
7. Plate of Adam and Eve, signed "Io. Theodore de Bry sc."
8. Plates i.-xxii., all having "Virginia" over the number, map not included.
9. Letterpress title, "Etliche Contrafeyt". It differs from the former in having a woodcut ornament beneath the letterpress.
10. Five plates with descriptions printed under them. Register, 2 leaves without colophon.

Venales reperiūtur in officina Sigismundi Feirabēdii* [Colophon.] Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Māyn/ bey Johann Feyrabendt in verlegung Theodorici von Bry.

1. Letterpress title, within the same engraved border as Part II. of the Latin edition. The centre is blank and the letterpress pasted on. The imprint is given by Brunet in German, and no doubt there should be a slip with the German imprint pasted over the Latin, as given above, but it is not in this copy.
2. Dedication to the Duke of Saxony, dated at the end, "Anno M.D.LXX.XXI."
3. "An den günstigen Leser," with sig. "a iii."
4. "Copey desz Keyserlichen Priuilegii."
5. Map, "Floridae Americae Provinciae".
6. Text. Pp. 1.-XLII.
7. Letterpress title, within the same engraved border as at the beginning of the volume. It is printed on a slip pasted in the centre, which is left blank. It begins "Warhafftige Abconterfaytung der Wilden in America/ Gedruckt zu Franckfort am Mayn/ bey Johann Feyrabendt/ In Verlegung desz vorgedachten Dieterichen von Bry" [Engraved imprint in the lower compartment, as given above.]
8. "Register," with catchword "Wie sie."
9. Plates 1.-XLII. The numbers placed at the right of the page.
10. "Vnterthänige Supplication", 3 leaves. At the top of the first is a woodcut of the martyrdom of St. Sebastian. "Warhafft Beschreibung . . ." 10 leaves.

“DER ANDER THEIL der Newlich erfundenen Landtschafft Americae,” an Tag gegeben/ durch Dieterich de Bry/ Bürger in Franckfort am Mayn/ Anno 1603. [Copperplate imprint in the lower compartment, as in the first edition.]

AMERICA IN GERMAN.
Part II.
2nd edit.on.

1. Letterpress title, printed within the same engraved border as the first edition.
2. Dedication, date at the end, “Anno 1603.”
3. “An den günstigen Leser,” with sig. “A iii.”
4. “Copey des, &c.” does not occur in this edition, though the catchword “Copey” is on the preceding page.
5. Map, “Floridæ Americae Provinciae”.
6. Text. Pp. 1-42.
7. Letterpress title, “Warhafftige Abconterfaytung . . .” without border, dated “Anno M.DCIII.”
8. “Register,” with catchword “xxiv. Wie”.
9. Plates i.-xlii. The numbers in the centre of the page.
10. “Vnterthânige Supplication . . .” 13 leaves. At the top of the first a woodcut of ornamental design.

* * Brunet says, “Cette édition de 1603 est augmentée de la traduction des morceaux ajoutés à la seconde édition du texte Latin,” meaning no doubt the “Historiæ luctuosæ,” which precedes the text in the second edition of the Latin. But he is quite mistaken in saying that a translation is given of it. As will be seen by the preceding collation, the text is precisely the same in both editions. The only difference is that Feyrabendt’s imprint at the end of the register is omitted in the second edition.

Part III.
1st edition.

1. Letterpress title in the same border as Part III. of the Latin edition. It is printed on a separate slip and stuck on, the centre having been left blank. The imprint in the lower compartment is the same as in the second Latin edition.
2. Dedication to Frederick, Pfaltzgrave of the Rhine. Coat of arms with nine lines beneath. Catchword “miltig-” This, with “Dieterich von Bry an den Günstiger Leser,” occupies 3 leaves. On the verso of the third is the plate of the seven coats of arms and the six virtues.
3. Address to Philip Landgrave of Hesse, 1 leaf, the catchword is “fange-”
4. “Vorrede,” addressed to Philip of Nassau, 3 leaves. The last word of the third line of p. 1 is “Cor-”
5. Map, “Chorographia nobilis & opulentæ Peruanae Provinciae”.
6. Text. Pp. 1-92. The last word of the second line of the heading of p. 1 is “die-” At the end of p. 92 is a diamond-shaped type ornament.
7. Letterpress title, printed on a slip and pasted on, within the same engraved border as the first title, “Schiffart in Brasilien in America, darinn desz Autoris as in the first title.]

8. Verses in honour of Leriuis, 1 leaf. The first word of the last line of the first verse is spelt 'Gieb.'

9. "Vorrede Iohannes Lerii", 10 leaves. The last word of the first line of p. 1 is "ver."

10. "Plus videre quam habere," 4 leaves, containing a version of the 107th Psalm and table of chapters. The first line of the Psalm ends "ist/" On the verso of the fourth leaf is the plate of Adam and Eve.

11. Pp. 93-285.

Part III.
2nd edition.

DRITTE BUCH AMERICÆ,

1. Letterpress title, printed within the blank space of the engraved border
The seventh line ends "Teu-" instead of "Teucrium," as in the first edition.

2. Dedication with 10 lines beneath the arms. The catchword "Es". On the verso of the third of these leaves is the plate of arms as described above. In the Grenville Catalogue it is said to be omitted.

3. Address to Philip of Hesse. The catchword is "jhre."

4. "Vorrede," 3 leaves. The last word of the third line of p. 1 is "corri-"

5. Map, as in the first edition.

6. Four plates of ships, each with a large ship in the foreground, except the fourth, which is a single ship. These plates are not mentioned by Brunet, or in the Grenville Catalogue. They have no numbers or inscription of any sort, and are probably an insertion, not belonging to the book.

7. Text. Pp. 1-92. The last word of the second line of the heading to p. 1 is "diesel-" P. 59 is wrongly marked 56.

8. Letterpress title without border. "Schiffart in Brasilien Getruckt zu Frankfort. Anno 1593."

9. Verses to Leriuis. The first word of the last line of the first verse reads
"Gib".

10. "Vorrede Iohannis Leriij," 10 leaves. The last word of the first line of p. 1 is "verwun-"

11. "Plus videre, &c." The first line of the Psalm ends "ist" without a stroke after it. There is no plate on the verso of the fourth leaf.

12. Pp. 93-285. This text is a very close reprint of the first edition. The first word of line 2, p. 285, is "referirt" instead of "Referirt," as in the first edition.

VOYAGES TO AMERICA IN GERMAN.

1. Title as in the Latin edition, with the German title printed in letterpress and pasted over the Latin inscription.
2. Plate of the seven shields and six virtues. On the reverse is the Privilege. The last word of the sixteenth line is "vnd"; in the second edition it is "vnnnd."
3. "An den günstigen Leser." 2 leaves. The last word of the third line of p. 1 is "Indien/"; in the second edition "Indi-". The last word of the first line of p. 4 is "vñ"; in the second edition it is "vnd."
4. Plate, "Americæ relectio," with verses beneath. On the verso at the end of the verses is a small ornament of two ivy leaves; in the second edition two acorns.
5. "Vorrede," 5 leaves. The last word of the second line of p. 1 is "vnd"; in the second edition "vnnnd."
6. Map, "Occidentalis Americæ partis."
7. Text. Pp. 1-141. The first line of text ends "Gutthaten". In the second edition "vnnnd."
8. Title repeated, with the German text pasted on, as given above.
9. Plates 1.-XXIIII. The plates are in what may be called the second state; the Arabic numerals being more or less indistinctly engraved on the plates, excepting plates 8-11, 17, 18, 19-24, which have no numbers. Bound up with this volume is a set of the plates in the third state which is regularly numbered. The text is precisely the same in the three states, but on the engravings the numbers are plainly marked throughout in Arabic numerals.

Part IV. 2nd edition.

1. The text of the title is precisely the same as in the first edition, pasted over the Latin. In the right-hand corner at the foot are the marks noted in the description of the second edition of the Latin.
- The collation of this edition is the same as that of the first. The variations by which any leaves may be distinguished are noted above.
2. Engraved title as in the second edition of the Latin, without any German text.
3. Plates 1.-XXIIII. These may be distinguished by the following table:—

1. Letterpress title, pasted over the Latin engraved title within the same border as the Latin edition. The words in Italic engraved on the copperplate.

2. "Vorrede," 2 leaves. The first line of the first edition ends with "A."; second edition "meiner".

3. Map, "Hispaniae Novae."

4. Text. Pp. 7-115. The first page of text has the No. 7 at the right hand. In the second edition it is in the centre. The first line of the last leaf ends with "ihr" in the first edition; second edition "zu". Pp. 92-3 are not wrongly paged as described by Brunet.

5. Title. An exact repetition of the first title, with the German text pasted over the Latin.

6. Plates 1.-XXII. The plates of the second edition are distinguished from those of the first by having the Nos. i.-xxii. in the middle of the page. In the first edition they are in the right-hand corner.

der Schiffart Vlrici Schmidts von Straubingen/ mit grosser gefahr erkündigt/ vnd von ihm selber auff's fleissigst beschrieben vnd dargethan. Vnd an Tag gebracht durch Dieterich von Bry/ Anno MD.XCVII. Venales reperiuntur in officina Theodori de Bry.

1. Letterpress title, printed on the blank space within the same engraved border as the Latin edition.

2. "Dieterich von Bry wünscht alle wolffahrt dem freundlichen Leser." 1 leaf. This leaf is omitted in the second edition.

3. Text. Folios 1-31. On the first page is the same plate as appears on p. 1 of the Latin Part vii. (Brunet erroneously states that it is not the same), and which had first appeared on p. 1 of Part iii. of the Latin edition.

[Part VII.
2nd edition.]

[Brunet reports a second edition, with a title to the plates dated 1600, as being in the Libraries of Gotha and Hamburg.]

Part VII.
3rd edition.

DAS VII. THEIL AMERICA Jetzo zum dritten mal auffgelegt vnd gebessert durch Johan-Theodor de Bry/ Bürgern zu Oppenheim Gedruckt bey Hieronymo Gallern MDCXVII.

1. Letterpress title within the same border as the first edition.

2. Text. Pp. 1-51.

Erben. M.DC.XXIV.*"

4. Plates 1-3. These plates first appeared as 1-3 of the plates in Part viii. of the first Latin edition, 1599, and they are also printed in the second Latin edition of Part vii. dated 1625.

* * This is described in the Grenville Catalogue as the first edition, notwithstanding the words "zum dritten mal auffgelegt" on the title-page. It is there also stated that the plate at p. 1 is not the same as in the Latin, which mistake (as remarked above) is copied by Brunet.

Part VIII.
1st edition.

7. Letterpress title, "Warhaftige vnd Eygentliche Fürbildung etlicher der fürnembsten Historien vnd Völker Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn/ durch Matthaum Becker. M.D.XCIX."

8. Plates 1.-vi. These are evidently earlier impressions than in the Latin edition of the same date. They are quite differently arranged. They stand here: I., II., III., IIII., V., VI. The same plates are marked in the Latin edition XIII., XV., XVI., XVII., XVIII., XII.

9. Letterpress title, "Additamentvm ; Das ist/ Zuthung zweyer fürnemmer Reysen oder Schiffahrten Herr Francisci Draken Ritters ausz Engeland Gedruckt zu Frankfort am Mayn/ durch Matthaum Becker. Anno M.DC." On this title is the same map in two circles as described on the title of the first Latin edition of Part viii., but this is evidently an earlier impression.

10. "Vorrede an den günstigen Leser." 1 leaf.

11. Text. Pp. 5-73. A blank leaf between pp. 46-7.

12. Letterpress title, "Folgen nun die Figuren vnd Kupferstück, deren etliche ins siebende Theil/ Getruckt durch Matthaum Becker. MDC."

13. Plates 1.-xv. Plate XII. is not numbered. Plates 1.-xi. correspond with those of the Latin edition. Plate [xii.] is the same as Plate XIII. of the Latin edition of Part viii. The plates marked here XIII.-xv. are not found in the Latin.

* * * This first edition was unknown to Mr. Grenville. In his catalogue the edition of 1624 is described as the first.

1. Letterpress title, within the same engraved border as Part 13 of the Latin.
2. "Vorrede An den günstigen Leser." 1 leaf.
3. Text. Pp. 1-90 and 1-38. The Latin edition of Part 13 contains nearly double the matter contained in the German, the text of which goes only to p. 78 of the Latin. The remainder forms Part xiv. of the German.
4. Map of Virginia at p. 17. A map, "Das Norder theil des Lands Brasilien," p. 53. A map, "Die Landschafft Gvaiana," at p. 67. "S. Salvador," a double plate, at p. 35 of the second pagination.

A second title is inserted in this copy, which begins "Dreyzehender Theil Americæ," and is dated "Anno, M.DC.XXVIII." In other respects it is letter for letter the same as that described above.

VIERZEHENDER THEIL Americanischer Historien/Inhaltend/ Erstlich/ Warhafftige Beschreibung etlicher West-Indianischer Landen in dem Theil Americæ gegen Mitternacht hinder Nova Hispania gelegen/ Alsz New Mexico, Cibola, Cinaloa, Quiuira, vnd anderer/ deren biszher in vnserm West-Indianischen Werck theils gar nicht/ theils sehr wenig gedacht worden/ sampt Denckswürdigen Geschichten vnd Wunderwercken der Natur in Jucatan, Guatimala, Fonduras, vnd Panama, Wie auch vom Zustandt etlicher Englischen Colonien, wie sich die in lauffendem 1630. 1. Letterpress title as above, with a small oblong map above the imprint.
2. "Vorrede," 1 leaf.
3. Text. Pp. 1-72.
4. "Olinda," a large plate in two compartments, at p. 69.

* * This copy also contains the plates mentioned by Brunet as in the Weigel copy. a. "Descripcion de las Indias orientales." b. "Fretvm Magellanicvm." c. "Virginia." d. "America noviter delineata."

It is very doubtful if either of these plates really belongs to Part xiv. any more than "Das Norder Theil des Lands Brasilien," which was also in this part, but has been transferred to Part xiii. p. 59, where it clearly belongs. Mr. Lenox describes a large folding view, "Abbildung welcher Gestalt de Spanischer Silberflotta", at p. 59, but it is not in this copy.

2nd edition.

QVINTA pars Indiæ Orientalis [Imprint as above].

The collation of this second edition or re-issue is the same as the first, except that the impressions of the plates are not so good, and that plate xiii. is printed on the back of plate xii. and xiv.-xv. are on the front and back of the same leaf. The letterpress to plates xiii.-xv. has also been reset, but to all the other plates it is precisely as in the first issue. The paper throughout the volume is poorer than that of the first issue. Brunet doubts the existence of a second edition of any except Parts 1-111 of the Latin India.

Part VI.

INDIÆ ORIENTAL PARS VI. Veram et Historicam descriptionem avriferi regni Gvineæ, ad Africam pertinentis, quod alias littvs de mina vocant, continens, Qua situs loci, ratio vrbium & domorum, portus item & flumina varia, cum variis incolarum superstitionibus, educatione, forma, commerciis, linguis & moribus, succincta breuitate explicantur & percensentur. Latinitate ex Germanico donata Studio & opera M. Gotardi Arthvs Dantiscani. Illustrata vero viuus, & artificiosissime in æs incisis iconibus, inque lucem edita à Iohanne Theodoro & Iohanne Israel de Bry fratribus. Francofurti ad Manum ex Officina Wolfgangi Richteri, sumptibus Iohan, Theodori & Iohan. Israel de Bry fratribus. Anno M.DCIV.

1. Letterpress title, with a plate over the imprint. This print is described by Brunet as representing three ships, and he says that it is the same as used for Part 10 of the America. But, in fact, two ships only are represented. Within an oval on the right is a male figure, and on the left a female, each standing in a niche. The plate on the title of Part 10 of the America is quite different, at least in the copy here described.

Francoforti, Typis viduæ Matthiæ Beckeri. M.DC.XIII."

12. Text. Pp. 33-88.

* * Brunet places the five plates after p. 88, but as they have reference exclusively to the matter of pp. 1-33, they are more properly placed to follow those pages.

Of the first series, plates III., IV., VI., VII., X., and XII. were re-engraved, the copies being reversed, except of III. and XII.

Plates III., VII., X., and XII. are in this copy in both states.

Of the second series, all the five plates were re-engraved and reversed, and they are here in both states.

The coppers appear to have been lost after a certain number of the edition had been printed, as the letterpress beneath the copies and the originals is precisely the same. For the distinguishing points of the originals and copies, see the collation of the German edition of Part ix.

1. Letterpress title, within the engraved border.
2. Dedication to "Philipps Christoffeln von vnd zu Franckenstain!". This is dated 1616, and could not therefore have been prefixed to the first edition as described by Brunet. The preface of four leaves which is found in the first edition was not reprinted in this.
3. Text. Pp. 1-219.
4. The maps and plates placed in the letterpress are the same as in the first edition, and should be thus placed:—p. 1, "Descriptio Hydrographica"; p. 44, St. Helena; p. 47, Ascension; p. 62, Angra; p. 160, "Delineatio Cartæ trium," &c.
5. Letterpress title, "Warhafftige Getruckt zu Oppenheim bey Hieronymo Gallern MDCXVI."
6. Plates I.-LVIII. as described above. The same map is at the back of plate LVIII. as in the first edition (but printed upside down), and the leaf of letterpress follows, but without any colophon on the verso.

Gedruckt durch Wolfgang Richtern/ Im Jahr M.DCVI." Above the imprint is an engraving of a naval battle.
7. "An den gutwilligen Leser.", p. 3-5, and "Vorrede an den günstigen Leser.",
pp. 6-12.
8. Text, pp. 13-26, wrongly marked 22.
9. Letterpress title, "Folgen etliche Figuren" Without imprint.
10. Plates 1-VII. Plate 11. has no letterpress or number. It is inscribed, "Contra-factur des Scharmvts els der Hollender wider die Portugesen"

The first part of this volume was first printed in 4to. in 1605. It is of extreme rarity, but a copy of it is in the library. The title is as follows :—

"Zwo vnderschiedliche neue Schiffarten/ Nemlich Ein Historische Beschreibung der Reyse/ so der Admiral Jacob von Neck ausz Hollandt in die Orientalischen Indien von Ann. 1600. bisz An. 1603. gethan. Darnach Ein Historia/ so von Johan Herman von Bree, Obersten Handelsman/ auff dem Schiff der Holländische Zaun schrieben/ durch M. Gotthardt Artus von Dantzig. Auch mit schönen Kupferstücken gezieret und an Tag geben durch Johann Theodor. und Johann Israel de Bry Gebrüder. Gedruckt zu Franckfort am Mayn bey Wolfgang Richtern/ Im Jahr 1605. 4to."

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves. Text, pp. 1-135. Plates numbered 1-10. In the folio edition there are eleven plates, but the list of plates in this vol. demands only ten. The eleventh was added in the folio.

The running headline is "Achter Theil der Orientalischen Indien."

NEUNDTER THEIL ORIENTALISCHER INDIEN/ Darinnen Part IX.

begriffen Ein kurtze Beschreibung einer Reyse/ so von den Höländern vñ Seeländern/ in die Orientalischen Indien/ mit neun grossen vnd vier kleinen Schiffen/ vnter der Admiralschafft Peter Wilhelm Verhuffen/ in Jahren 1607. 1608. vnd 1609. verricht worden/ neben Vermeldung/ was jhnen fürnemlich auff solcher Reyse begegnet vnd zu Handen gangen. Ausz kurtzer Verzeichnus Johann Verkens zusammen gebracht/ vnd in Truck verfertigt/ Durch M. Gotthard. Arthvs von Dantzig. Gedruckt zu Franckfurt/ durch Matth. Beckern/ in Verlegung Iohannis Theodori de Bry, Im Jahr 1612.

1. Letterpress title, within the same architectural border as the Latin edition. In this impression, the word "Architectura" does not appear in the upper compartment. This is not an evidence of an early state of the plate, as it can be seen that a slip of paper had been placed there to prevent the impression of the word.

2. "An den günstigen Leser", 1 leaf.

3. Text, pp. 1-55. At p. 8 is the view of St. Helena, as in part 3; and at p. 16 the view of Mozambique, as in part 2; but it is probable that neither of them belong here.

4. Letterpress title, "Folgen hernacher Etlich eygentliche Fürbildungen" Without imprint.

5. "An den gutwilligen Leser." 1 page, reverse blank.

6. Plates I.-XII.

7. Letterpress title, "Continuatio Oder Ergänztung desz neunnten Theils der Orientalischen Indien. Gedruckt zu Franckfurt M.DC.XIII."

8. Text, pp. 3-35.

9. Letterpress title, "Folgen etliche Schöne Figuren Gedruckt zu Franckfurt M.DC.XIII."

10. Plates I-V.

There is another copy of this part in the library, which, so far as the text is concerned, is precisely the same; but the titles and plates show the following differences:—

1. The letterpress of the title is printed in the centre of an engraved architectural design, which is not to be found in any other of the parts. On each side is a female figure; beneath that on the right, but in a separate compartment, is inscribed, "Praemivm virtvtis honos;" beneath that on the left, "Fama virtvtis stimvlvs."

2. A second title is inserted, the engraved border of which is precisely the same as that described in the first edition, except that it has the word "Architectura" in the upper compartment.

3. The letterpress beneath the plates is letter for letter the same, but the plates themselves present the following differences:—

a. Plate III. is a copy not reversed. There are six trees in the right upper corner. In the original there are only four.

b. Plate IV. is a reversed copy. The ships are on the left.

c. ,, VI. is a reversed copy. The town is on the left.

d. ,, VII. is a reversed copy. The land is on the left.

e. ,, X. is a reversed copy. The sea is on the left.

f. Plate XII. is a copy not reversed, without the words "Festung Nassau" over the fort.

The second set of five plates are all reversed copies, and may thus be distinguished from the originals :—

- Plate i. has the sea on the left.
 „ ii. has the crowd of natives on the left.
 „ iii. has the sea on the right.
 „ iv. The wedding party comes from the left. (In the original this is plate v.)
 „ v. The bride stands in a doorway on the right. (In the original this is plate iv.)

ZEHENDER THEIL DER ORIENTALISCHEN INDIEN begreifendt Eine kurtze Beschreibung der neuwen Schiffart gegen Nordt Osten/ vber die Amerische Inseln in Chinam vnd Iapponiam, von einem Engelländer Henrich Hudson newlich erfunden/ beneben kurtzer Andeutung der Inseln vnd Oerter/ so auff derselben Reyse von den Holländern hiebevord entdeckt worden/ ausz Johann Hegen von Lintschotten Reise gezogen. 3. Text, pp. 1-184, with plates in the text. At p. 54 is a view of Macao, a copy of that which serves as plate i. in the Appendix to Part viii.; and at p. 106 is a folding map, "Descriptio Chorographica Indiæ Orientalis."

DE BRY. Alphabeta et characteres, iam inde a creato mundo ad nostra usq. tempora; apud omnes omnino nationes usurpati, ex variis autoribus accurate depromptj. Artificiose et eleganter in ære effecti, et recens foras dati. Francfordii. 1596. Oblong 4to.

Brunet describes this volume as consisting of fifty-seven plates, but does not give the exact collation, which is somewhat peculiar: Engraved title, 1 leaf; other preliminary matter, 5 leaves. After this comes the engraved portion of the work, which begins with A ii, the first leaf being blank, and goes on regularly in fours, as far as H, each signature being numbered to iiiii. I is numbered only to iii. Then follows a very beautiful alphabet A—Z, on twelve leaves, but without any signatures. After this a single leaf marked M iiiii., concluding with sig. N, 4 leaves.

From Sir Charles Price's collection.

— Emblemata nobilitati et vulgo scitv digna singulis historiis symbola adscripta & elegantes versus historiâ explicâtes. Impressum Francofurti ad Moenum. 1593. 4to.

Engraved title and letterpress A—E in fours.

There are in this copy ninety-one plates, including a series of four lettered A—D and a series of twenty-one numbered 1-21, as described in the letterpress, but these are interspersed among sixty-six other plates without numbers, some of which are heraldic designs, others emblems. Brunet describes the volume as containing only eighty-five plates.

DECKER, THOMAS. The Pleasant Comedie of Old Fortunatus. As it was plaied before the Queenes Maiestic this Christmas, by the Right Honourable the Earle of Nottingham, Lord high Admirall of England his Seruants. London Printed by S. S. for William Aspley, dwelling in Paules Church-yard at the signe of the Tygers head. 1600. 4to. Black letter.

A—L 3 in fours.

Mr. Corser's copy. This is probably the piece licensed to Aspley in 1599. It appears from Henslowe's Diary, edit. Collier, p. 64, that a second part was written; but it is not known.

— Satiromastix. Or The vntrussing of the Humorous Poet. As it hath bin presented publikely, by the Right Honorable the Lord Chamberlaine his Seruants; and priuately by the Children of Paules. By Thomas Dekker. Non recito cuiquam nisi Amicis idq; coactus. London, Printed for Edward White, and are to bee solde at his shop, neere the little North doore of Paules Church, at the signe of the Gun. 1602. 4to. This play is an answer to Jonson's "Poetaster," printed in the same year, where Decker is introduced as Crispinus. Jonson is the Young Horace of Decker's piece.

— The Wonderfull yeare. 1603. Wherein is shewed the picture of London, lying sicke of the Plague. A—F in fours.

Dedicated "To His Wel-Respected Good friend, Mr. Cutbert Thuresby, Water-Bayliffe of London." The preface is full of curious allusions.

The following extract from Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," pt. v., pp. 129-30, seems to set at rest the question as to Decker's authorship of this piece: "Although his name nowhere appears in the volume, he acknowledges it to be his in the introduction to his 'Seven Deadly Sins of London,' 4to, 1606, in which, speaking of what happened 'in that "Wonderfull yeere," when these miserable calamities entred in at thy gates, slaying 30,000 and more,' he adds in a side note, 'A Booke so-called, written by the Author, describing the horror of the Plague in 1603.'"

A—I in fours, title on A 2.

Mr. George Smith's copy. The Townley copy being deficient of the title, and the headline on sig. A 3 being "A Device, proiected downe," &c., the volume was catalogued as "Dekker his Device," whence it found its way into Lowndes as a separate work.

Three editions were printed in London, and one in Edinburgh, in the same year.

DECKER, THOMAS. The Famovs History of Sir Thomas Wyat. With the Coronation of Queen Mary, and the coming in of King Philip. As it was plaied by the Queens Maiesties Seruants. Written by Thomas Dickers and Iohn Webster. London Printed by E. A. for Thomas Archer, and are to be solde at his shop in the Popes-head Pallace, nere the Royall Exchange. 1607. 4to.

A—G iii. in fours.

There is no introductory matter. Not more than three or four copies are known, all of which, including the present, are in indifferent condition. In the Devonshire collection is a copy of an impression, dated 1612.

A—L 1 in fours, title on A 2. Dedicated to Sir Thomas Glover, Knight.

Sir W. Tite's copy. This is a curious piece, and is often cited for its incidental illustrations of old manners. It has been reprinted from this edition for the Percy Society. It originally appeared in 1606, under the title of "News from Hell."

DECKER, THOMAS. The Belman of London : Bringing to Light the most Notoriovs Villanies that are now Practised in the Kingdome. Profitable for Gentlemen, Lawyers, Merchants, Citizens, Farmers, Masters of households, and all sorts of seruants, to marke, and delightfull for all men to reade. Printed at London for Nathaniel Butter. 1608. 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

A—I 2 in fours, the first leaf blank. With a large woodcut on the title of the bellman, with his lantern, dog, &c.

Of this popular tract as many as three editions were printed in 1608. See Collier, "Bibl. Cat.," i., 205, as to Decker's plagiarisms from Harman.

A very remarkable series of the editions of this work, including the three which appeared in 1608, and of the sequel to it, will be found described in Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," v., pp. 151-61. Such a set was probably never before brought together.

This book was registered at Stationers' Hall in 1608, as "a thing called the Bellman." — Lanthorne and Candle-light, or, The Bell-Mans second Nights-walke. In which He brings to light, a Brood of more strange Villanies then ener (sic) were till this yeare discouered. In the address to the reader Decker gives some good advice to authors, which was quite contrary to his own practice: "We should come to the Presse as we come to the Field (seldome)." "This Tree of Guls," he adds, "was planted long since, but not taking roote, could neuer beare till now. It bath a relish of Grobianisme, and tastes very strongly of it in the beginning. The reason thereof is, that hauing translated many Bookes of that into English verse, and not greatly liking the Subiect, I altered the Shape, and of a Dutchman, fashioned a meere Englishman."

From Lord Charlemont's sale in 1865. It is believed that not more than five or six copies are known, though Dr. Nott, in his reprint, 1812, hazarded a conjecture that twenty copies might exist.

— The Gull's Hornbook: . . . [Edited by Dr. Nott.] With Notes. Bristol. 1812. 4to.

In this edition the orthography is modernized.

DECKER, THOMAS. The Ravens Almanacke Forc telling of a Plague, Famine, and Ciuill Warre. That shall happen this present yeare 1609, not only within this Kingdome of great Britaine, but also in France, Germany, Spaine, and other parts of Christendome. With certaine Remedies, Rules and Receipts, how to preuent or at least to abate the edge of these vniuersall Calamities. *London Printed by E. A—H in fours.

Mr. Corser's copy. The preface to this work is given in the privately-printed volume of "Prefaces," &c., 1874.

In the British Museum is another issue of the same year in which "Ravens" is printed for "Ravens," and there are other literal differences in the title sufficient to show that it was a distinct impression.

— Troia-Noua Triumphans. London Triumphant, Or, The Solemne, Magnificent, and Memorable Receiuing of that worthy Gentleman, Sir Iohn Swinerton Knight, into the City of London, after his Returne from taking the Oath of Maioralty at Westminster, on the Morrow next after Simon and Iudes day, being the 29. of October. 1612. A—O in fours.

On the back of the title is the woodcut of the Bellman, with his lantern, bell, halberd, and dog, a different one from that which accompanies "The Bellman of London," 1608, as well as from the one mentioned by Collier ("Bibl. Cat.," i., 204). This cut is over some verses entitled "The Belmans Cry."

— Decker's Dream . . . Reprinted from the rare edition of 1620. Edited by J. O. Halliwell . . . London . . . 1860. 4to.

Twenty-six copies printed.

DECLARATION. A Declaration of the Causes mooving the Queene of England to giue aide to the Defence of the People afflicted and oppressed in the lowe Countries. Imprinted at London by Christopher Barker, Printer to the Quenes most excellent Maiestie. [1585.] 4to.

A—D in fours, title on A 2, and the last leaf of D blank. This is the original and official account. It was translated at the time into Latin, French, and Italian.

— A Declaration of the fauourable dealing of her Maiesties Commissioners appointed for the Examination of certaine Traitours, and of tortures vniustly reported to be done vpon them for matters of religion. [No place or printer's name.] 1583. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

Four leaves.

Mr. Maskell's copy. A MS. note on the fly-leaf says: "About the year 1582 several conspiracies of the Papists were discovered, and among others Francis Throgmorton was seized, and twice set upon the rack; a book also was written, in which the ladies about the Queen were incited to treat her as Judith did Holofernes. The author of this, although suspected, was not discovered. The Queen, however, directed Lord Burleigh to put forth this 'Declaration,' and ordered the judges to forbear racking and other punishment; and not long after about seventy priests, some of whom were condemned, and all of them under prosecution, were set at liberty, and commanded to leave the kingdom." The tract was, no doubt, printed at London. The anonymous writer, in his address to the reader, after stating that the Queen's Government was too strong to care for such attacks, goes on to say, "Yet for thy better satisfaction I haue conferred with a very honest Gentleman, whom I knew to haue good and sufficient meanes to deliuer the truth . . ."

Apparently unknown to Herbert, but a copy is in the Grenville collection.

DECLARATION. A—E in eights, last leaf blank.

The address to the indifferent reader is directed from Cologne, the 26th of March, 1592, and it is followed by three short copies of verses headed, "Of the fained happinesse of England." At p. 12 there is this curious passage, relating to the translation of Jewel's "Apology," which appeared in 1562: "The apologie of this Church was written in Latin, & translated into English by A[nne] B[acon] with the comendation of M[ildred] C[ecil], which twaine were sisters, & wiues vnto Cecill and Bacon, and gaue their assistance and helping hands in the plot and fortification of this newe erected synagog."

— A Declaration of the Lords and Commons assembled in Parliament, for the appeasing and quietting of all unlawfull Tumults and Insurrections in the severall Counties of England and Dominion of Wales. Die Veneris, Septemb. 2, 1642 . . . DEDEKINDUS, F. Grobianus. De morum simplicitate, Libri iii. in gratiam omnium rusticitatis amantium. Lipsiæ, in officina Wolfgangi Gunteri. 1552. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves; folios 1-97.

— The Schoole of Slovenrie: Or, Cato turnd wrong side outward. Translated out of Latine into English verse, to the vse of all English Christendome, except Court and Cittie. By R. F. Gent. London Printed by Valentine Simmes dwelling on Adling hill neere Bainards castle at the signe of the white Swanne. 1605. 4to. R. M.

30, 4 leaves, the first leaf blank; a, 4 leaves; A—S in fours.

This is a translation into English verse of the preceding work. For a notice of it, see Collier's "Bibl. Catalogue," ii., 324-6, and "Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica," No. 664. The full name of "R. F. Gent. and no more," as he subscribes himself at the end of the preface, does not appear to be known. Mr. Collier remarks: "Dr. Nott does not seem to have been aware, when he wrote the note on a passage in his reprint of Dekker's 'Gull's Hornbook,' 1609, p. 4, that an English version of 'Grobianus et Grobiana' had appeared in print only four years earlier: Dekker's obligation to it is pointed out in vol. i., p. 206, of the 'Bibliogr. Catal.'"

Mr. Collier also remarks that when Swift wrote his "Directions to Servants," he evidently had the original of this book in his mind, though it is not at all likely that he had ever met with this translation.

It has already been noticed that Decker, in his preface to "The Guls Hornebooke," acknowledges his obligation to Grobianus.

DEE, JOHN. General and Rare Memorials pertayning to the Perfect Arte of Navigation: Annexed to the Paradoxal Cumpas in Playne: now first published: 24. yeres after the first Inuention thereof. [Colophon.] Printed at London by Iohn Daye, Anno 1577. In Septemb. Cum Priuilegio Regiæ Maiestatis. Folio. G. M.

Title, over a large emblematical woodcut, 1 leaf; "A Brief Note Scholastical," &c., 1 leaf; "A necessary Aduertisement, by an vnknown friend," 11 leaves, dated Anno Mundi 5540; then A—K in fours; "To M. Christopher Hatton," 7 4-line stanzas, 1 leaf; Dee's coat of arms, 1 leaf.

The "Memorials" purport to have been finished in August, 1576. From Miss Richardson Curren's library.

— A Letter, Containing a most briefe Discourse Apologeticall, with a plaine Demonstration, and feruent Protestation, for the lawfull, sincere, very faithfull and Christian course of the Philosophicall studies and exercises of a certaine studious Gentleman: An ancient Seruaunt to hir most excellent Maiesty Royall. Quotation from Proverbs, xix. 9. [Colophon.] 1599. At London Printed by Peter Short, dwelling on Bradstreete hill at the signe of the Starre. 4to. G. M.

A—C in fours, including a shield of arms.

Unmentioned by Herbert, and the title given by Lowndes is not, according to this copy, quite correct. The leaf which should be C 2 or 3 is misplaced, being inserted after the title. From Mr. Corser's library. "The Letter of Squires conspiracie is well written, but the other of Dr. Dee is a ridiculous bable of an old imposturing jugler."—Letter of John Chamberlain to Dudley Carleton, March 1, 1599-1600.

DEE, JOHN. A True & Faithful Relation of what passed for many Yeers Between Dr. John Dec (a Mathematician of Great Fame in Q. Eliz. and King James their Reignes) and Some Spirits: Tending (had it succeeded) to a General Alteration of most States and Kingdomes in the World. His Private Conferences with Rodolphe Emperor of Germany As also the Letters of Sundry Great Men and Princes to the said D. Dee. Out of the Original Copy, written with D^r. Dees own Hand: Kept in the Library of Sir Tho. Cotton, K^t Baronet. With a Preface . . . By Meric. Casaubon, D.D. London, Printed by D. Maxwell for T. Garthwait 1659. Folio. O. M.

Title and frontispiece by Cleyn, the latter containing portraits of Dee, Roger Bacon, Kelley, &c., 2 leaves; A—E in fours; F—I, 2 leaves each; K, 4 leaves; [*], 6 leaves; 3 leaves of diagrams, 4; B—Z in fours; [aa]—[hh] in fours; [ii], 6 leaves; Aa—Mm in fours; Aaa—Fff 3 in fours.

This is the edition described by Hain, 6084. It consists of thirty leaves, including the blank leaf at the beginning. The last leaf bears only on the recto a woodcut of the Virgin standing on a crescent, the verso being blank.

[DEFENSORIUM inuolatae perpetuaeque virginitatis Mariae.] [Sine ullā notā.] 4to. Woodcuts. G. M.

Hain, 6085. This edition, which is printed with the same types as the edition described above, consists also of thirty leaves. The first is blank, and the book begins on the recto of the second leaf, with the same words as the other edition. It also ends on the verso of the twenty-ninth leaf; but in this edition the last line reads, "nia ⁊ q̄ hostes ⁊ jurgia." The thirtieth leaf bears the same woodcut of the Virgin as in the other edition. The woodcuts in both editions are from the same blocks, and from the similarity of the types to those used by Reyser, of Eichstadt, it is probable that both editions are from his press.

DEFENSORIŪ inuolate perpetueq; virginitatis . castissime dei genitricis Marie. In quo adducuntur xlvī. naturalia et mirabilia exemplar clarorū scriptorū auctoritate roborata: et experiētia rerum comprobata. [Absque nota.] 4to. Woodcuts. R. M.

Hain, 6086. This edition has also thirty leaves, including the title. Sigs. A—C, 8 leaves each; D, 6 leaves. The woodcuts are copied from those in the preceding editions, and the book is evidently of a rather later date.

DEFOE, DANIEL. Dictionarium Sacrum seu Religiosum. A Dictionary of all Religions, Ancient and Modern. Whether Jewish, Pagan, Christian or Mahometan London. 1704. 8vo.

A—II in eights; sig. B misprinted A. A has only four leaves.

Published anonymously, but usually attributed to Defoe.

— The Life and Strange Surprising Adventures of Robinson Crusoe, of York, Mariner: Who lived Eight and Twenty Years, all alone in an un-inhabited Island on the Coast of America, near the mouth of the Great River of Oroonoque; having been cast on Shore by Shipwreck, wherein all the men perished but himself. With An Account how he was at last as strangely deliver'd by Pyrates. Written by Himself. London: 1719. Frontispiece. The Farther Adventures of Robinson Crusoe; Being the Second and Last Part of his Life, And of the Strange Surprising Accounts of his Travels Round three Parts of the Globe. Together, 3 vols. 8vo.

First edition. There is in the Library another copy of the book, which has the first volume of the second edition and the other two volumes of the first edition.

Lowndes is mistaken in stating that the map appeared only in the second edition of "The Farther Adventures." The titles of both are precisely alike, excepting the addition of the words, "The second edition."

— The Life and Strange Surprising Adventures of Robinson Crusoe, The Third Edition . . London. 1719. Frontispiece. The Farther Adventures of Robinson Crusoe The Third Edition, adorned with Cuts. London: 1722. Map. Serious Reflections of Robinson Crusoe. London: 1720. Folding frontispiece. 3 vols. 8vo.

The first part here is in fact the second edition with a new title. Of the "Serious Reflections" there does not seem to have been more than one edition. "The Farther Adventures" is a distinct new impression.

— The Life and Strange Surprising Adventures of Robinson Crusoe. London. 1790. 2 vols. 8vo. Large paper. Plates after Stothard. R. M.

DE FRANCHIS, JOHANNES MARIA. Of the most Auspicious Marriage: betwixt the High and Mightie Prince Frederick, Covnt Palatine of Rheine, chiefe Sewer to the sacred Roman Empire . . . And the most Illustrious Princesse, the Ladie Elizabeth her Grace, sole Daughter to the high and mightie Iames, King of Great Brittain, &c. In III. Bookes. Composed in Latine by M. Iohannes Maria, de Franchis. And translated into English [by Samuel Hutton.] At London, Printed by G. Eld for William Blainthard, and are to be solde in Fleet-lane, at the signe of the Printers Presse. 1613. 4to.

A—L in fours. In 6-line stanzas.

The last leaf is occupied by a short poem to the Princess by Hutton.

DE GHEYN, JACOB. Maniement d'Armes d'Arquebuses, Mousquets & Picques, selon l'ordre de Monseig. le Prince Maurice, Pr. d'Orange, Comte de Nassau, &c Gouvern. & Capitain General des Provinces Unies. Representé par figures de Jaques de Geyn. [Then follows the same title in Dutch, and then in English.] The Exercise of Armes for Calivres, Muskettes, and Pikes. After the ordre of his Excellence Maurits Prince of Orange, Counte of Nassau &c. Gouverneur and Capitaine Generall over the Vnited Provinces. Sett forth in figures by Jacob de Geyn. [Then follows the same title in German.] [Colophon.] A Zutphen chez André Fausssen d'Aelst. [1619.] 4to.

Title (engraved on copper) and preliminaries, 4 leaves; A—L in fours, the last leaf blank. Then the same signatures repeated exactly for the "Maniement du Mousquet," and A—H in fours, and one leaf of I for the "maniement du pique." There are forty-two full-length woodcut figures to the first part, forty-three to the second, and thirty-two to the third.

This edition in quarto is a much rarer book than the large folio published at the Hague in 1608, with copper-plate engravings. The reason is, no doubt, that this was intended for the use of the common soldiers, as appears by the following extract from the address following the title: "A tous gens de guerre, et amateurs d'Armes." "Or pour instruire les Soldats novices ou inexperimentez, Jaques de Ghein (il à passé quelques ans) a mis en lumière un livre avec des figures. Mais d'autant que cest un grand livre & couste beaucoup, si estce que plusieurs Soldats (qui en ont affaire) ne le peuvent achepter tant cher, estant aussi trop grand pour l'emporter par tout: Pourtant j'ay trouvé bon de le reduire en ceste petite forme, toutefois rien n'omettant de ce qu'il y à au grand livre."

DEGUIGNES, JOS. Histoire générale des Huns, des Turcs, des Mogols, et des autres Tartares Occidentaux. Paris. 1756. 5 vols. 4to.

DE LAET. Catalogus Bibliothecæ Joannis de Laet quorum auctio habebitur in ædibus F. Hackii, 27. Aprilis, Anno 1650. Lugduni Bat. 1650. 4to.

DE LAINÉ, P. The Princely Way to the French Tongue, as it was first compiled for the use of Her Highness the Lady Mary, and since taught her Royal Sister, the Lady Anne. To which is added a Chronological Abridgment of the sacred Scripture by way of Dialogue. Together with a larger Explication of the French Grammar, Choice Fables of Æsop in Burlesque French, and lastly some Models of Letters French and English. By P. D. L. Tutor for the French to both their Highnesses. The Second Edition. London. . . 1677. Sm. 8vo.

A—Z in eights, including the frontispiece and a blank leaf at the end.

Dedicated separately to the two princesses. This book is not mentioned by Lowndes. Of the former edition no copy has come under notice. The burlesque versions of Æsop, made for an English princess when a child, are very curious, and not less odd are some of the models of letters. A good deal of the work is in dialogue.

[DELAMOTHE, G.] The French Alphabet, teaching in a very short time, by a most easie way, to pronounce French naturally, to read it perfectly, to write it truly, and to speake it accordingly. Together with The Treasvre of the French tongue, containing the rarest Sentences, Proverbes, Parables, Similes, Apothegmes, and Golden sayings of the most excellent French Authors, as well Poets as Orators By G. D. L. M. N. London, Printed by George Miller, and are to be sold by Luke Fawne . . . 1633. Sm. 8vo.

A—P in eights. With a separate title to the second part.

DELAUNE, HENRY. Πατρικόν Δῶρον. Or, A Legacy to his Sons. Being A Miscellany of Precepts; Theological, Moral, Political, Oeconomical. Digested into Seven Centuries of Quadrins. The Second Edition, Corrected, and much Enlarged, by the Author London: Printed by A. M. for Henry Seile, over against St. Dunstons Church in Fleetstreet. 1657. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves, including one leaf before the title with verses to the printer; B—M in eights.

The Bibl. Ang. Poet. copy. From Mr. Corser's collection. On the title are the initials of Thomas Park; and the following note in his handwriting is on the fly-leaf: "Of this sensible author I have not yet obtained any biographical information; but it is probable that he may have been a Hibernian, as a copy of verses signed H. Delaune, forsan Delauney, was prefixed to Billing's [Beling's] sixth book to the 'Arcadia,' printed at Dublin in 1624," &c.

The work is a metrical paraphrase of King James's "Basilikon Doron."

DELECTABLE HISTORY. A Delectable Little History in metter [sic], of a Lord and his three sons, containing his Latterwill and Legacie to them upon his death, & what befell them after his death especially the midmost and the youngest. Revised, Corrected, and Amended, for the use of Schools. Omne tulit punctum qui miscuit ut ille [sic] dulci.

He gotten hes all commendation,
Who profit hes with pleasure mixt in one.

Glasgow, Printed in the Year 1695. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. Uncut.

A—B 4 in eights, or 12 leaves.

The only copy known. Mr. D. Laing once had in his possession an impression dated 1692. The piece was reprinted in 1705 and 1708, and the latter text is included in "Early Metrical Tales," 1826.

This and seven other tracts formed Lot 1412 in the sale catalogue of Mr. George Daniel's library. The other pieces are dispersed through this catalogue under their respective headings.

DELI, ANDRES. Tesoro de la passion sacratissima de nuestro redēptor. [Colophon.] Fue impressa la presente obra en . . . Sevilla por Jacobo cromberger. 1517. Folio. Black letter. Woodcuts. BR. M.

Title, 1 leaf; folios ii.-lxxxii.; table, 3 leaves not numbered.

Antonio gives the title of this book, but says nothing of the place of printing or date. Panzer, vol. iv., p. 268, gives the title of the first edition, "(Andreae Deli Cæsaraugustani) Tesoro de la passion de Christo, enderezado a los Señores Reyes Catholicos escrita en Romance a instantia de Pablo Hurus Aleman de Constantia emprentador famosissimo en la ciudad de Zaragoza: impresso por el mismo en la referida ciudad de Zaragoza, &c. 1494," which he appears to have taken from Caballero, "De prima typographiæ hispanicæ ætate specimen," and Hain has again copied the title from Panzer. Brunet makes an extraordinary confusion between this book and the "Coplas de Vita Christi," printed at Zaragossa in 1495, which he says Hain has attributed to Deli, though he certainly has not done so. This edition of Seville, 1517, appears to be altogether unknown and undescribed by any bibliographer. The author's name is not given on the title, but is appended to the prologue at the back of the title, addressed to Ferdinand and Isabella.

DELIGHTS FOR YOUNG MEN AND MAIDS: Containing

In the which the several Countries, together with the Customs, Manners, Traffique, and Rites both Religious and Civil, of those Oriental Princes and Nations are faithfully described: In Familiar Letters to his Friend Signior Mario Schipano. Whereunto is added a Relation of Sir Thomas Roe's Voyage into the East-Indies. London, Printed by J. Macock for John Place, and are to be sold at his Shop at Furnivals-Inn-Gate in Holborn. 1665. Folio.

A—Pp in fours, with two plates between pp. 446-7.

Dedicated by G. Havers, the translator, to Roger, Earl of Orrery.

DELONEY, THOMAS. A proper newe sonet declaring the lamentation of [Beckles, a market towne in] Suffolke, which was in the great winde vpon S. Andrewes cue last past most pitifully burned with fire, to the losse by estimation of twentie thousande pound and vwarde, and to the number of foure score dwelling houses. 1586. To Wilsons tune. Finis. T. D. [Colophon.] At London, Imprinted by Robert Robinson for Nicholas Colman of Norwich, dwelling in S. Andrewes Church yard. A Broadside. Black letter.

Fourteen 8-line stanzas, printed in two columns. It was licensed to Nicholas Colman, Dec. 13, 1586. Arber's "Transcript," ii., 214.

Reprinted in "Anc. Ballads," &c., 1867. The only other copy known is in the Bagford collection, British Museum. The five words enclosed between brackets have been cut off.

— Thomas of Reading: Or, The Sixe worthie Yeomen of the West. Now the sixth time corrected and enlarged by T. D. London, Printed by Eliz. Allde for Robert Bird. 1632. 4to. Black letter.

A—K 2 in fours. Interspersed with songs.

Mr. Corser's copy. This is the edition reprinted by Thoms in his "Early Prose Romances," 1828.

"Thomas of Reading" was entered to Thomas Pavier, 19 April, 1602, not as a new work, but as an assignment from Thomas Millington. See Arber's "Transcript," iii., p. 80 b.

— The Pleasant History of Thomas of Reading, Or, The six worthy Yeomen of the West. Corrected and enlarged by T. D. At London, Printed for Robert Bird. 1636. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A—K 2 in fours.

This edition, printed on the coarsest paper, is far rarer than that of 1632. This was a Bridgewater duplicate, and was afterwards in the Roxburghe library. It is the only one noticed by Lowndes.

— The Garland of Good-Will. Divided into Three Parts. Containing many pleasant Songs and pretty Poems to Sundry Notes. With a Table to find the Names of all the Songs. Written by T. D. London, Printed by J. Millet for T. Passenger, at the Thrice Bibles on London-Bridge, and J. Deacon at the Angel in Guilt-Spur-Street, without Newgate. 1685. Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A—H in eights.

From the libraries of Mr. Heber and Mr. Daniel. The only other copy known is among Wood's books at Oxford.

DELONEY, THOMAS. The Garland of Good-Will: Divided into Three parts. Containing many Pleasant Songs and Poems. With a Table to find the Names of the Songs. T. D. London: Printed for G. Conyers, at the Sign of the Golden-Ring in Little-Britain. [About 1690.] Sm. 8vo.

A—F 7 in eights.

The last of the old editions. The earliest existing trace of the book is a fragment of an impression dated 1604.

In the inventory of the stock of John Foster, of York, 1616 (Davies's, "York Press," 364), occurs: "Four Garlands of Good-will, xii^d."

— The Pleasant History of John Winchcomb, in his younger years called Jack of Newbery, the Famous and Worthy Clothier of England . . . The Fifteenth Edition Corrected and Enlarged, by T. D. . . London: Printed by Eben. Tracy, at the Three Bibles on London-Bridge. [About 1700.] 4to.

Frontispiece, title, and preface, 3 leaves; pp. 1-60; two large folding plates.

DENHAM, SIR JOHN. Poems and Translations, with the Sophy. Written by the Honourable Sir John Denham, Knight of the Bath. London, Printed for H. Herringman at the Sign of the Blew-Anchor in the Lower-Walk of the New-Exchange. 1668. Sm. 8vo.

A—Gg 4 in eights, but A has only 5 leaves. Dedicated to the King. From Mr. Corser's library. First collected edition of Denham. The "Sophy" originally appeared in 1642, folio; "Cooper's Hill," in 1643, 4to.

The text of "Cooper's Hill" here printed differs much from that of the editions printed in 1643 and 1650. In 1655 an edition appeared, purporting to be derived from a more correct text. The poem must have been popular, for the 4to of 1655 is described as the sixth edition.

— Poems and Translations; with the Sophy, a Tragedy. . . . The Seventh Edition. London. 1769. 8vo. R. M.

DENIALDUS. Rollo Northmanno-Britannicus. Auctore Roberto Denyaldo. Rothomagi. 1660. Folio. R.

This is the first volume only. It stops at the reign of William the Conqueror. No more was printed.

DENNY, SIR WILLIAM. Pelecanicidivm: Or the Christian Adviser against Self-Murder. Together with a Guide, and the Pilgrims Passe to the Land of the Living. In Three Books. Soles occidere & redire possunt. Senec. London, Printed for Thomas Hucklescott, and are to be sold at the Signe of the George in Little Brittan. 1653. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A, 7 leaves; B—Y 1 in eights, besides a frontispiece and three engravings by Barlow.

A curious medley of prose and verse. All the copies of this volume which have been examined contain three plates, including the frontispiece; the present has four, but that prefixed to the second and third books is identical. A long account of the work and its author is given in Mr. Corser's "Collectanea," part v., pp. 188-94. The quotation on the title is erroneously attributed to Seneca. It is, of course, from Catullus.

DENNY S, JOHN. The Secrets of Angling: Teaching the choicest Tooles, Baytes and Seasons for the taking of any Fish in Pond or Riuer: practised and familiarly opened in three bookes. By I. D Esquire. Printed at London for Roger Iackson, and are to be sould at his shop uere Fleetstreet Conduit, 1613. Sm. 8vo. The edges uncut. G. M.

A, 4 leaves, first marked A, but otherwise blank; B—E 4 in eights, E 4 blank. In 8-line stanzas, with a large cut on the title.

First edition. Dedicated by the publisher "To the worthy, and my much respected Friend, Mr. Iohn Harborne, of Tackley, in the Countie of Oxford, Esquire." It is there stated that the publication was posthumous, having been sent to Jackson to be printed after the death of the author. Prefixed is a short poem by Sir John Davies, "In the praise of this Praiseworthy Skill and Worke."

This work is sometimes attributed to J. Davers, but Sir Harris Nicolas, in his edition of Walton's "Angler," vol. ii., p. 408, gives good reasons for believing it to be the work of John Dennys. His opinion is confirmed by the fact that the book is entered at Stationers' Hall, under date of 23rd March, 1612-13, as follows: "Master Roger Jackson. Entred for his Copie vnder th' hands of Master Mason and Master Warden Hooper A booke called The secretes of Angling teaching . . . by John Dennys Esquier." See Arber's "Transcript," iii., 236 b.

Title, calendar, and woodcut, 8 leaves; b—bb in eights; cc, 9 leaves.

This volume appears to have been unmentioned by any bibliographer till Graesse, who has copied a portion of the title from a bookseller's catalogue. This is probably the identical copy from which the title was taken.

DEVOUT TREATISE. A deuout treatyse called the tree & xii. frutes of the holy goost. [Colophon.] Here endeth y tree of the holy goost. Emprynted at London in the Fletestrete, at the sygne of the rose Garlande, by Robert Coplande. Anno dñi. M. CCCCC. xxxiiii. 4to. Black letter. BR. M.

Pt. 1, A—F iii in fours; pt. 2, a—v in fours.

In two parts, each with a separate title within a woodcut border. The book is described by Herbert, p. 343, from a copy in his own possession. In the present one the first title and the last leaf have been reprinted. Neither the author nor translator appears. Herbert says that this is the earliest book in which he has observed the use of the comma.

a and b, 8 leaves each; c, 6 leaves; d and e, 8 leaves each; e vii is blank, and e viii bears only the printer's mark on the verso.

This book was known only to Dr. Campbell by his having found it mentioned in different catalogues. Not having seen it, he has naturally described the two works printed in the volume as though they were separate publications. "Annales," Nos. 571 and 1475.

Title, preface, and table, 4 leaves; A—X in fours; Aa—Tt in fours, including a leaf of woodcuts at the end after the colophon.

From the libraries of Sir F. Freeling and Mr. Corser. The volume is of extraordinary rarity in a complete state. It was probably printed at Paris. In the catalogue of the British Museum the year 1520 is assigned to it as an approximate date, but it appears to be somewhat later than that.

DIAZ. *Historia vera de morte sancti viri Joannis Diazii Hispani, quem eius frater germanus Alphonsus Diazius, exemplum sequutus primi parricidæ Cain, velut alterū Abelem, nefariè interfecit: per Claudium Senareclæum; cum prefatione D. Ten leaves.

This piece appears to be undescribed by bibliographers, but in the index of Lives of Saints, in the fourth volume of Antonio, "Biblioth. Hispana," it is just mentioned, and attributed to Alphonsus Didacus, who is doubtless the same writer as Alphonsus Diaz de Osma. The only work assigned to him, however, is "La vida y algunos milagros de Santa Casilda," which, on the authority of a MS. history of Toledo, Antonio says was licensed in 1553. As Alphonsus Didacus de Osma was a Canon of Burgos at the time the tract was printed, there is the more likelihood that he was the author.

Mr. Joseph Haslewood's copy, having been originally the author's. Inserted are some curious additions in print and manuscript and a proof portrait of Dibdin. Only thirty-six copies were printed.

Among the manuscript additions is Dibdin's promissory note to pay the Dean and Chapter of Lincoln eighty-five days after date (Oct. 7, 1814) the sum of £525 for the books enumerated in the "Nosegay."

DICK, SIR WILLIAM. The lamentable Estate and distressed Case of the deceased S^r. William Dick in Scotland and his Numerous Family and Creditors for the Commonwealth. [No place, printer's name, or date. About 1650.] Folio. BL. M.

Seven leaves of letterpress and three plates. The engravings are by R. and W. Vaughan and each one has verses beneath by William Devaux. The piece itself is an exposition of the losses incurred by Sir W. Dick through the advances he had made to King Charles I. and the Scottish Convention of Estates. By this means, and by the fines levied on him by the Parliament, he became utterly ruined, and died in prison in London, Dec. 19, 1655. At one time he was esteemed the wealthiest man in Scotland, his property being estimated by himself at £50,000, now equal to £200,000 sterling.

DICK, SIR WILLIAM. The suffering case of William Dick Esq^r. Grandson and Heir of Sir William Dick with others of his family; by the intolerable Oppression of Sir Andrew Dick, an unnatural branch thereof: humbly tendered (for redresse) to the Honourable members of the Parliament of England. [No place, or date.] Folio.

Two leaves. This piece is bound up with the preceding. The whole is inlaid, as is also the copy in the British Museum.

From the library of Mr. H. Perkins.

DICKSON, DAVID. True Christian Love. To be sung with any of the Common Tunes of the Psalms of David. By Mr. David Dick[son] Minister of God's Word at Irvin. Edinbvrgh. Printed in the Year 1701. Sm. 8vo.

A—D 3 in fours. In verse.

From the library of Mr. Maidment, who notes on the fly-leaf: "Tho' called Dick, the author was David Dickson, well known as a Presbyterian clergyman of great reputation. He died in 1662. He wrote various works, and the Poem 'True Christian Love' was unquestionably printed in his lifetime . . ." In the British Museum is a copy of the original edition, printed at Edinburgh in 1655, 8vo, formerly Mr. Corser's. Neither of that nor of this edition of 1701 is any other known at present.

This is the original and authentic edition, which is reprinted in Walch's edition of Luther's "Gesammelte Schriften," vol. xv. It is of the greatest rarity, and is not noticed even by German bibliographers. The Latin text which appears in Wolfii "Lectiones," Brown's "Fasciculus Rerum," &c., seems not to have been taken from a printed copy, at least no reference is found to any such.

"With regard to the opposition to the temporal interference of Rome, the States [of the Empire] were essentially of the same opinion with Luther. As the Emperor was bound even by his Capitulation to restore and maintain the Concordat and the ecclesiastical liberties of the nation, which had been continually violated to an insufferable extent, the lesser committee was now employed in drawing up a complete statement of the grievances of the nation against the See of Rome. Their manner of proceeding was this : each prince delivered in a list of the grievances of which he had more particularly to complain, and every charge alleged by more than one was received and recorded. Already it was feared that the spiritual princes would draw back ; but the councillors of the temporal were determined in that case to carry the matter on to the end alone. A Statement of Grievances was produced which reminds us of the writings of Hutten and the 'Book to the German Nobles ;' so strong was the censure of the Papal See generally, and, above all, of Leo X. It is filled with the cunning and malignant devices, the roguery and cheating, which prevailed at the Court of Rome. The Curia was also directly accused, in practice, of simony. If Luther had done nothing more than attack the abuses of the Curia, he could never have been deserted by the States ; the opinion he had expressed on this subject was the general one, and was indeed their own."—Ranke's "History of the Reformation," by Mrs. Austin.

DIEZ DE LA CALLE, JUAN. Memorial informatorio al Rey nuestro Señor en su Real y Supremo Consejo de las Indias, Camara, y Junta de Guerra. En manos del Señor Iuan Baptista Saenz Naurrete, Contiene lo que su Magestad provee en su Cõsejo, y Junta, y por las dos Secretarias de la Nueva España, y Pirú, Eclesiastico, Secular, Salarios, Estipendios, y Presidios, su gente, y costa, y de que Cajas, y Hazienda Real se paga : valor de las Encomiendas de Indios, y otras cosas curiosas, y necessarias. Año de 1645. 4to. BL. M.

Title and preliminaries, 12 leaves ; second title, 1 leaf ; folios 2-32.

Though the "Memorial, y Noticias sacras" of 1646 is quoted by Antonio, Brunet, and Graesse, neither of these bibliographers seems to have known of the existence of this "Memorial informatorio."

— Memorial, y Noticias sacras, y reales del Imperio de las Indias occidentales al Rey D. Felipe IV. Comprehende lo Eclesiastico, Secular, Politico, y Militar, que por su Secretaria de la Nueva España se provee : Presidios, gente, y costas, valor de las Encomiendas de Indios, y otras curiosas, necessarias, y dignas de saberse. [Madrid. 1646.] 4to.

Half-title, title, and preliminaries, 14 leaves ; folios 1-183 ; errata, 1 leaf.

On the reverse of folio 180 (not 108, as quoted by Brunet) the author informs us that a small number of copies only of this book were printed : "Esta impression se ha hecho de pocos cuerpos, hasta acabar la obra, porque por aora solo se haze para su Magestad, su Consejo, y Ministros."

There is in the library a second copy of this book, which is exactly the same as that described above ; but it has two additional pieces at the end. The first, which consists of eight pages, is headed (without title-page), "Memorial breve de las provincias de las siete Ordenes de Religion que ay en los Districtos de las cinco Audiencias, cuyo despacho toca a la Secretaria de la Nueva-España. De la Orden de Santo Domingo, que entró en ella en el año de 1526." The second, which is also without title, consists of nine pages, and is headed, "Noticias importantes de la edad, y grados que han de tener los que fueren presentados por su Magestad a las Dignidades, y Prebendas de las Iglesias de las Indias Occidentales."

These two pieces are not recorded as occurring in any other copy, but were evidently printed at the same period and at the same press as the book with which they are bound up.

DIGBY, SIR KENELM. Private Memoirs of Sir Kenelm Digby, Gentleman of the Bedchamber to King Charles the First. Written by Himself. Now first published from the Original Manuscript. With an Introductory Memoir. London. 1827. 8vo. Portrait. G. M.

First edition.

— The Broad Stone of Honour: Or, Rules for the Gentlemen of England. London, 1823. 8vo. R. M.

Pp. 676-lxxii., besides title and half-title.

Second edition, much enlarged. The author afterwards embraced the Roman Catholic faith, and re-wrote the work in four volumes.

DIGGES, THOMAS and DUDLEY. Foure Paradoxes, or politique Discourses. 2 concerning Militarie Discipline, written long since by Thomas Digges Esquire. 2 of the worthinesse of warre and warriors, by Dudly Digges, his sonne. All newly published to keepe those that will read them, as they did them that wrote them, from idlenesse. Imprinted at London by H. Lownes for Clement Knight, and are to be solde at his shop at the Signe of the holy Lambe in Saint Pauls Churchyard. 1604. 4to.

A—O in fours, besides the title-page and a leaf with dedication and preface.

In the dedication to Lord Howard of Walden, son and heir apparent to the Earl of Suffolk, Dudley Digges speaks of this as his maiden production.

On the title of the present copy is written, in the younger Digges's hand, "A Doue & yet a serpent. Dudeley Digges. For Mr. Edward Gibbs." From Mr. Corser's library. In the original vellum cover.

DING DONG, Or S^r Pitifull Parliament on his Death-Bed. His Pulses felt by Doctor King, and his water cast by Doctor Bishop. His last will and Testament, with his Death, Buriall, and Epitaph. By Mercurius Melancholicus. Printed in the Yeare. 1648.

Four leaves.

DIO CASSIUS. Dionis Romanarum Historiarum Libri xxiii, à xxxvi ad lviii. vsque. Ex Bibliotheca regia. Lutetiae. Ex officina Rob. Stephani, Typographi Regii, typis Regiis. M. D. XLVIII. Folio. Large paper.

Editio princeps. From the library of Dr. Isaac Barrow. On the fly-leaf is inscribed "Isaac Barrow. Oct. 27. 1652. Ex dono viri optimi, ac doctissimi Tutorisque mei observandissimi, D^m Jacobi Dupont, S. T. B. & G. L. Professoris dignissimi."

DIODORUS SICULUS. Historiarum Libri aliquot, qui extant, opera & studio Vincentii Obsopæi in lucem editi. Basilæa. 1539. 4to. R. M.

— The Historical Library of Diodorus the Sicilian. In Fifteen Books . . . Made English by G. Booth, of the City of Chester, Esq; London. 1700. Folio.

DIOGENES LAERTIUS. Philosophorum Vitæ et Dogmata. [Latinè.] 4to. O. M.

MS. of the fifteenth century, on paper. Of Italian execution. The first leaf is on vellum, and has a richly illuminated ornamental border, with heads of five philosophers very skilfully painted. At the foot is emblazoned a bishop's coat of arms, probably that of the prelate for whom the book was written.

DIOMEDES. In hoc volumine hæc continentur: Diomedes de structura et differentia sermonis; Phocas de nomine et verbo. Epitoma Prisciani. Caper de latinitate. Agrætius de orthographia . . . Donatus de barbarismo et octo partibus orationis: Servius et Sergius in Donatum. [Colophon.] Finis, Nicolaus Jenson Gallicus. [s. a.] Folio.

Printed at Venice about 1476. Hain, 6214.

DIONYSIUS ALEXANDRINUS. De situ orbis. [Latinè.] Parisiis per D. Rocæ. 1501. 4to. O. M.

DIRE Christianorum Illustrium in Lutherum Heresiarcham. Ex translatione Hymni, Qui Te Deum inscribitur. [Sine loco aut anno.] Sm. 8vo. A woodcut on the title and at the end. BR. M.

This piece consists of only two leaves. It is an adaptation of the Te Deum to the cursing of Luther. Thirty of the most celebrated Catholic controversialists of the time have a stanza assigned to each of them. The King of England leads off with "Te Lutherum damnamus: te hereticum confitemur." It was therefore probably printed before 1547.

DIRECTORY FOR LONDON. A Collection of the Names of the Merchants Living in and about The City of London. Very usefull and Necessary. A, 4 leaves, A having the Imprimatur only; B—I 4 in eights.

From the collections of Mr. Tyrrel and Sir W. Tite. This is the first attempt which was made to publish a London directory. Under the letter P occurs the name and address of the father of Pope the poet, a circumstance which has given the volume a special interest.

DISCOURS des troubles nouvellement aduenuz au Royaume d'Angleterre, au moys d'Octobre 1569. Avec une declaration, faiete par le Comte de Nortumberland & autres grans Seigneurs d'Angleterre. A Paris, Chez Nicolas Chesneau. 1570. Sm. 8vo.

Twelve leaves.

This account of the Rebellion of the Northern Lords does not appear to be mentioned by Lowndes or Brunet. At C ii is, "Copie d'une declaration faiete par le Comte de Nortumberland & autres Seigneurs d'Angleterre," and on C iii, "Les noms des principaux Seigneurs Chrestiens, & Gentilshommes Anglais, qui de present se tiennent en armes pour le fait que dessus."

DISCOURS politique, très-excellent pour le temps présent: Composé par un gentilhomme François, contre ceulx de la Ligue, qui taschoyent de persuader au Roy, de rompre l'Alliance qu'il a avec l'Angleterre, et la confirmer avec l'Espagne. [Sans lieu.] 1588. 4to.

A, 8 leaves; a, 8 leaves, the last blank; B—T in eights.

The "epistle liminary" to this curious book, so often quoted in Brand's "Popular Antiquities," is subscribed "Christianus Presbyteromastix." The writer gives an interesting account of the manner in which the volume was prepared, of the extent to which Sir Thomas Urquhart, of Cromarty, was personally concerned in it, and of the difficulties which attended its passage through the press.

Herbert merely gives the title of this book on the authority of Ames, but had not seen it. In Lowndes it appears under "Councils," but apparently copied from Herbert or Ames, without collation or any such particulars as would indicate that it had been seen or examined. The contents of the volume are given on the back of the title, the whole page being occupied with them.

[DIXON, ROBERT.] Canidia, Or The Witches. A Rhapsody. In five Parts. By R. D. London, Printed by S. Roycroft for Robert Clavell at the Peacock in St. Pauls Church-yard, 1683. 4to.

Leaf with quotation from Ambrose, title-page, to the reader, and prologue, altogether 4 leaves; A 2—R 2 in fours; S—Gggg in fours, last leaf blank. In verse.

Each part has a separate title, except that the general title given above serves also for part I. From the Heber and Mitford collections.

As regards the writer, Mr. Corser ("Collectanea," part v., p. 209) remarks: "Although we have followed the usual current of opinion in assigning the authorship of this singular volume to Robert Dixon, D.D., Dean of Rochester, we confess that, judging from the general style, subject and language of its contents, we are not without considerable doubt of his being the author, because it is so utterly at variance with his acknowledged writings. Wood, in his 'Athen. Oxon.,' mentions several serious writings of his, but does not assign 'Canidia' to him. Nor is there any more on the title-page or other portions of the book to identify him than the simple initials R. D. Mr. Hunter, in his 'Chorus Vatum Anglicanorum,' says: 'It would seem as if R. D. was first interpreted to mean Robert Dixon in Hutton's Catalogue, No. 1553, which I do not know, and by a fly-leaf note of Farmer's in "Notes and Queries," vol. i., p. 164.'" Hutton's books were sold in 1764.

DOBSON, GEORGE. Dobsons Dric Bobbes: Sonne and Heire to Skoggin. Full of mirth and delightful recreation. London Printed by Valentine Simmes 1607. 4to. Black letter. O. M.

A—O 3 in fours, title on A 2.

From the collections of Sir Charles Talbot and Mr. George Daniel. The only other copy known is among Capell's books at Cambridge. This is a narrative by some anonymous writer of the real or pretended adventures and pranks of George Dobson. It is written much in the style of Scoggin's and Peele's Jests, and is similarly divided into chapters, each of which is devoted to a separate anecdote. In the author's address to the reader, he says that his hero is "George Dobson, whose pleasant merriments are worthy to be registred among the famous Recordes of the ieasting Worthies: yea, hee hath proceeded farther in degree than Garagantua, Howleglasse, Tiell, Skoggin, olde Hobson, or Code." The writer has made a curious mistake in speaking of Howleglasse and Tiell as different names.

DOCTOR DODYPOLL. The Wisdome of Doctor Dodypoll. As it hath beene sundrie times Acted by the Children of Powles. London Printed by Thomas Creede, for Richard Oliue, dwelling in Long Lane. 1600. 4to. O. M.

Complete with the four large maps.

— A summaric and true discovrse of Sir Frances Drakes West Indian Voyage. Wherein were taken, the Townes of Saint Jago, Sancto Domingo, Cartagena & Saint Augustine. With Geographical Mappes exactly describing each of the townes with their scituations, and the manner of the Armies approching to the winning of them. Imprinted at London by Richard Field, dwelling in the Blacke-Friars by Ludgate. 1589. 4to. Maps.

Title and dedication, 2 leaves; B—H ii in fours. Five maps, four of them with English letterpress pasted on at the foot.

Of this book there were three editions in the same year. For the sake of distinction, we may call these editions Nos. 1, 2, and 3.

No. 1 is that described above, and appears to be the prior of the two editions printed by R. Field. It has a line of errata on the last page.

No. 2 is identical with No. 1, except that the words, "With Geographical Mappes," &c., are omitted from the title and there is no line of errata on the last leaf, the errata being corrected in the text.

No. 3, of which there is a copy in the King's library in the British Museum, is an entirely different edition. It has the same wording in the title as No. 1, but with the addition, after the words "winning of them," "diligently made by Baptista Boazio," and the imprint is "Printed at London by Roger Ward dwelling vpon Lambard Hill, neere olde Fish-streete." It is in a smaller type than Field's editions, and consequently occupies only thirty-seven pages instead of fifty-two, but the text is precisely the same, even to the line of errata on the last leaf; but there are only three words of errata instead of the four which appear in Field's first edition, the first word being printed correctly in the text. In both of Field's editions the following notice is printed at the back of the title: "The Reader must vnderstand, that this Discourse was dedicated, and intended to have bene imprinted somewhat before the comming of the Spanish Fleete vpon our coast of England: but by casualtie the same was forgotten and slacked for a time of some better leasure."

But in Ward's edition this notice is on the recto of the leaf following the title, and below it is given: "The Order and maner for the true placing of the Mappes in this Booke.

Place the Mappe of	{	S ^t Jago in fol. 10.
		S ^t Domingo in fol. 19.
		Cartagena in fol. 23.
		S ^t Augustine in fol. 31."

It is curious that all mention of the fifth and most important map is omitted, though that is the only one bearing the engraver's name, "Baptista B.," which is given in full on the title to this edition.

Mr. Grenville's copies are neither of them quite satisfactory. Having a very short and poor copy of No. 2, he took the title and following leaf from that to perfect his tall and clean copy of No. 1. So that though this contains the plates, no mention of them is found on the title. From the catalogue of the Grenville library it would appear that the copy there described contained only four out of the five maps, but it has the fifth, which bears the following inscription: "The Famous West Indian voyadge made by the English fleete of 23 shippes and Barkes, wherin were gotten the Townes of S^t Jago: S^t Domingo: Cartagena and S^t Augustines, the same being begon from Plimmouth in the moneth of September 1585, and ended at Portesmouth in Julie 1586, the whole course of the saide Viodge being plainlie described by the pricked line. Newlie come forth by Baptista B." The other four maps are printed from the same plates as those in the Latin edition of the book printed at Leyden, 1588, but this fifth map appears to have been engraved for the English edition only.

DRAKE, SIR F. A Trve Coppie of a Discourse written by a Gentleman, employed in the late Voyage of Spaine and Portingale: Set to his particular friend, and by him published for the better satisfaction of all such, as having been seduced by particular report, haue entred into conceipts tending to the discredit of the enterprise, and Actors of the same. At London Printed by Thomas Woodcock dwelling in Paules Churchyard, at the signe of the blacke Beare. 1589. 4to. Black letter.

Set forth by S^r Francis Drake Baronet (his Nephew) now liuing. London Printed by E. A. for Nicholas Bourne dwelling at the South Entrance of the Royall Exchange. 1626. 4to. R.

A—N in fours, the last leaf occupied only by the errata.

First edition. In the title is a small portrait of Drake, with his arms, apparently after Vaughan's three-quarter print, which is inserted in this copy. Prefixed are dedications to Charles I. and Queen Elizabeth, the latter headed: "The Dedicatory Epistle, intended to Q. Elizabeth. Written by S^r Francis Drake, deceased." In the Grenville Catalogue, i., 208, the impression of 1628 is said to be the earliest, and Lowndes, although he describes at full this edition of 1626, quotes the note from the Grenville Catalogue, which speaks of that of 1628 as the first.

— The World Encompassed by Francis Drake. Being His next voyage to that to Nombre de Dios, formerly imprinted; Carefully collected out of the Notes of master Francis Fletcher, Preacher in this employment, and diuers others his followers in the same. a, 4 leaves; A—M 4 in eights.

Drant confesses that this is a paraphrase rather than a translation, and says that he began it more than two years before, completing it by piecemeal, or rather "inch meal." Among the epigrams occurs a copy of verses presented by Drant to Queen Elizabeth, when she was at Cambridge, in August, 1564.

The present is the only edition of the version of Jeremiah and of the Epigrams; but in 1567 Drant produced a complete version of the "Art of Poetry," the "Epistles," and the "Satires," of Horace, which he dedicated to the Earl of Ormond.

It is probable that G. Harvey's phrase, "Dranting of verses" ("Pierce's Supererogation," 1593, repr. Collier, p. 77), was intended as a contemptuous reference to Drant's muse.

DRAYTON, MICHAEL. The Tragical Legend of Robert, Duke of Normandy, surnamed Short-thigh, eldest sonne to William Conqueror. With the Legend of Matilda the chast, daughter to the Lord Robert Fitzwater, poysoned by King Iohn. And the Legend of Piers Gaueston, the great Earle of Cornwall, and mighty fauorite of King Edward the second. By Michaell Drayton. The latter two by him newly corrected and augmented. At London, Printed by Ia. Roberts for N. L. and are to be solde at his shop at the West doore of Paules. 1596. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 4 leaves; B—P 4 in eights.

Dedicated to Lucy, Countess of Bedford, in prose, and to the Lady Anne Harington, wife to Sir John Harington, in verse. From the address by the author to the reader we learn, that since the publication of "Matilda" and "Piers Gaveston" separately in quarto, a spurious and faulty impression had appeared of "Piers Gaveston," and that Drayton was induced to go to press with this edition of the two poems, annexing a third legend, to prevent his rights being again invaded, which he had heard was in contemplation.

The only other copies known are those in the British Museum (formerly Bright's) and at Britwell (formerly Heber's). See "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 626.

DRAYTON, MICHAEL. Poemes Lyrick and pastorall. Odes, Eclogs, The man in the Moone. By Michaell Drayton Esquier. At London. Printed by R.B. for N.L. and I. Flasket. [1606?] Sm. 8vo. R.M.

A, 4 leaves; B—1 2 in eights; A and 1 2 blank.

"To the deseruing memory of my most esteemed Patron and friend, Sir Walter Aston, Knight of the honourable order of the Bath: As before other of my labours, so likewise I consecrate these my latest few Poemes. Michaell Drayton."—Dedication.

This is, in fact, an enlarged and altered edition of the volume issued in 1593 under the title of "Idæa, the Shepherd's Garland." The arrangement is changed, and the number of eclogues is ten, instead of nine. The twelve odes and the "Man in the Moone" are here printed for the first time. See Corser's "Collectanea," part vi., p. 273. At p. 276 et seqq. Mr. Corser furnishes at large some curious examples of the differences between the two impressions. In the "Man in the Moone" Drayton reproduced all that he seems to have thought worthy of preservation in his poem entitled "Endimion and Phœbe."

— The Legend of the Great Cromwel. By Michael Drayton Esquier. At London Printed by Felix Kingston, and are to be sold by I. Flasket . . . 1607. 4to. BL. M.

Twenty-five leaves.

This poem was much altered in the edition of 1609.

— Poems: By Michael Draiton Esquire. Newly Corrected by the Author. London. Printed by W. Stansby for John Smethwicke, and are to bee sold at his Shop in Saint Dunstanes Church-yard, vnder the Diall. 1613. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 4 leaves; B—1i in eights, the last leaf but one blank.

— Poems: By Michael Drayton Esquire. Viz. The Barons Warres, Englands Heroicall Epistles, Idea, Odes, The Legends of Robert, Duke of Normandie, Matilda, Pierce Gaveston, and Great Cromwell, The Owle, Pastorals, Contayning Eglogues, with the Man in the Moone. London, Printed by W. Stansby for John Smethwicke, and are to be sold at his Shop in Saint Dunstanes Churchyard in Fleet-streete vnder the Diall. [1619.] Folio. R.

Printed title, with large portrait by W. Hole on the back, and engraved title, 2 leaves; B—Qqq in fours. With a separate printed title, dated 1619, to each portion of the work.

Some copies of this book were worked without the portrait, while others are dated 1620. It is by far the most complete edition of Drayton's miscellaneous works. One copy is known on large paper.

— Poems by Michael Draytō Esquier. Collected into one Volume. Newly Corrected. 1637. London. Printed for John Smethwick. Sm. 8vo. GR. M.

A—X in twelves, first leaf marked A, but otherwise blank. The title-page, engraved by W. Marshall, has in the upper part a portrait of the author supported by Apollo and Minerva.

This is a reprint, not of the very complete and valuable edition of 1619, in folio, but of the octavo of 1630, in a more convenient size. It is the last of the old impressions.

DRAYTON, MICHAEL. The Mvses Elizivm, Lately discovered by a new way over Parnassvs. The Passages therein, being the subject of ten sundry Nymphalls, Leading three Diuine Poemes, Noahs Flood. Moses, his Birth and Miracles. David and Golia. By Michael Drayton Esquire. London, Printed by Thomas Harper, for John Waterson . . . 1630. 4to. BL. M.

A—Dd in fours, title on A 2.

Dedicated to the Earl of Dorset. On p. 87 is a separate dedication of the religious poems to the Countess of Dorset. The poem of Moses originally appeared in 1604. From the libraries of Mr. Bright and Mr. Craufurd.

— Poly-Olbion. By Michael Drayton Esqr: London printed for M. Lownes, I. Browne, I. Helme, I. Busbie. [1612.] Folio. Maps.

Engraved title by W. Hole, and "Vpon the Frontispiece," in verse, 2 leaves; dedication to Prince Henry, and portrait of the prince (a full length), 2 leaves; then A, 4 leaves; B—Dd 2 in sixes. The notes to all the songs were written by John Selden, but were not continued to the second part.

First issue of the first book without any printed title, table, or commendatory verses, &c. In the reissue the portrait of Prince Henry is a worn impression, with the inscription "Henricvs Princeps" in the left-hand top corner.

The present copy is in the original vellum binding.

— A Chorographically Description of all the Tracts, Rivers, Mountains, Forests, and other Parts of this Renowned Isle of Great Britain, with intermixture of the most Remarkable Stories, Antiquities, Wonders, Rarities, Pleasures, and Commodities of the same. Diuided into two Bookes; the latter containing twelue Songs, neuer before Imprinted. Digested into a Poem, By Michael Drayton. Esquire. With a Table added, for direction to those Occurrences of Story and Antiquitie, whereunto the Course of the Volume easily leads not. London, Printed for John Marriott, John Grismand, and Thomas Dewe. 1622. The Second Part, or A Continvance of Poly-Olbion from the Eighteenth Song. Containing all the Tracts, Riuers, Mountaines, and Forrests: Intermixed with the most remarkable Stories, Antiquities, Wonders, Rarities, Pleasures, and Commodities of the East, and Northerne parts of this Isle, lying betwixt the two famous Riuers of Thames, and Tweed. By Michael Drayton, Esq. London, Printed by Augustine Mathewes for John Marriott . . . 1622. Folio. Maps. O. M.

Part I. The collation is the same as the preceding volume, except that a letter-press title and four leaves of table are added to the preliminary matter. Part II.

Title, dedication to Prince Charles, preface "To any that will read it," together 3 leaves; commendatory verses, 2 leaves; B—Y in fours. To the first part there are eighteen maps, to the second part twelve, being a map to each book.

"Wee haue among vs a late-writ 'Polyolbion' also and an 'Agincourte,' wherein I will only blame their honest Authours ill fate, in not hauing laid him out some happier Clime, to haue giuen honour and life to, in some happier language."—Mythomystes, by H. R[eynolds], 1630, sig. C.

DRAYTON, MICHAEL. The Battaile of Agincourt. Fought by Henry the fift of that name, King of England, against the whole power of the French: vnder the Raigne of their Charles the sixt, Anno Dom. 1415. The Miseries of Queene Margarite, the infortunate Wife, of that most infortunate King Henry the sixt. Nymphidia, the Court of Fayric. The Quest of Cinthia. The Shepheards Sirena. The Moone-Calfe. Elegies vpon sundry occasions. By Michaell Drayton Esquire. London, Printed for William Lee, at the Turkes Head in Fleete-Streete, next to the Miter and Phoenix. 1627. Folio. O. M.

A, 4 leaves, besides the portrait by Hole; a, 2 leaves; B, 6 leaves; C—Ee in fours, last leaf blank.

The portrait is the same as occurs on the back of the title in most copies of the Poems. 1619. Folio.

DREWRY, ROBERT. A True Report of the Araignment, tryall, conuiction, and condemnation, of a Popish Priest, named Robert Drewrie, at the Sessions house in the old Baylie, on Friday and Wednesday, the 20. and 24. of February: the extraordinary great grace and mercie offered him, and his stubborne, traytorous, and wilfull refusall. Also the tryall and death of Humphrey Lloyd for maliciouslie murdering one of the Guard. And lastly the execution of the said Robert Drewry, drawn in his Priestly habit, and as he was a Benedictine Fryer, on Thursdaie following to Tiburne, where he was hangd and quartered. London, Printed for Iefferie Chorlton, and are to be sold at his shop adioyning to the great North doore of Paules. 1607. 4to. Black letter.

A—D in fours, title on A 2.

DROLLERIES. Choyce Drollery: Songs and Sonnets. Being A Collection of diuers excellent pieces of Poetry of Seuerall eminent Authors. London, Printed by J. G. for Robert Pollard, at the Ben-Johnson's head behind the Exchange, and John Sweeting at the Angel in Popes-head Alley. 1656. Sm. 8vo.

A—H 3 in eights.

It should be observed that in the preface the bookseller speaks of this as the "second" collection of the kind issued by him, but no earlier one is at present known. "Sportive Wit," which appeared in the same year, was for a different publisher.

From the Freeling and Jolley collections. The word "Choyce," on the title, has been cut off by the binder.

DROLLERIES. Holborn-Drollery. Or, The Beautiful Chloret Surprized in the Sheets: All the Love Songs and Poems with which she hath been treated this Long-Vacation being Publish'd. To which is Annexed, Flora's Cabinet Unlocked. [Quot. from Horacc.] London: Printed for Robert Robinson, and are to be sold at his Shop near Grays-Inne-Gate in Holborn. 1673. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A—G in eights, title on A 2.

Many of the pieces in this volume are imitations of earlier productions by Carew and others. Prefixed are two epistles, one to the ladies, the other to the gentlemen.

— Merry Drollery, Or A Collection of Jovial Poems, Merry Songs, Witty Drolleries. Intermix'd with Pleasant Catches. The First Part. Collected by W. N. C. B. R. S. J. G. Lovers of Wit. London, Printed by J. W. for P. H. and are to be sold at the New Exchange, Westminster Hall, Fleetstreet, and Pauls Church-Yard. [n. d.] Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves, the first blank; B—M in eights.

— Westminster-Drollery. Or, A Choice Collection of the Newest Songs & Poems both at Court and Theaters. By a Person of Quality. The third Edition, with many more Additions. London, Printed for H. Brome at the Gun in St. Paul's Church Yard, at the West End. 1674. Sm. 8vo.

A—H in eights, the last leaf blank.

Sir W. Tite's copy. No copy of the first edition seems to be known. The second was published in 1671.

— The last, and now Only, Compleat Collection of the Newest and Choicest Songs and Poems, that are now Extant both at Courts, Theatres, and elsewhere. With above forty new Songs never before in Print. Which are now added to this Second Part of Westminster Drollery. The Second Impression. Printed for Will. Gilbert at the Half-Moon in St. Pauls Church-Yard and Tho. Saubridge at the three Flower de Luces in Little Brittain. 1672. Sm. 8vo.

A, 2 leaves; B—K 2 in eights.

Of this part, the first edition was printed in the same year. The present copy possesses pp. 19-20 in duplicate with variations.

— Windsor-Drollery. Being a more Exact Collection of the Newest Songs, Poems, and Catches, Now in Use, Both in City and Country, then any yet Extant. With Additions. Collected by a Person of Quality. London, Printed for J. M. and are to be sold by the Book-Sellers of London and Westminster, 1672. Sm. 8vo.

A—H 7 in twelves; I, 5 leaves with the table, besides the title-page.

The Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica copy, and afterwards in the collections of Heber, Utterson, and Mr. J. Dunn Gardner. There is no preliminary matter.

This collection, which has nothing to connect it specially with Windsor, seems to be a miscellany formed out of other books of the kind; but a portion of the contents is much earlier than the date of publication, as pieces by Decker, Jonson, and Shirley are included. No earlier edition is known.

DROUIN, DANIEL, SIEUR DE BEL'ENDROICT, LOUDUNOIS. Le miroir des rebelles, traictant de l'excellence de la Majesté Royale, & de la punition de ceux qui se sont esleuez contre icelle. A Tours, par Claude de Monstr'oeil, & Jean Richer. 1592. Sm. 8vo.

Bound in black morocco, the sides richly tooled and gilt in compartments and impressed with the monograms of Louis XIII. and Anne of Austria. In perfect preservation.

DRUE, THOMAS. The Life of the Dvitches of Svffolke. As it hath beene divers and sundry times acted with good applause. Imprinted by A. M. for Iasper Emery, at the Flowerdeluce in Paules-Church-yard. 1631. 4to. The edges uncut.

A—I in fours, title on A 2.

From the Wolfreton collection. As the authorship of this drama has been sometimes questioned, it may be as well to point out, that in the Stationers' Registers, under date of November 13, 1629, it is entered expressly as the work of Thomas Drue. See Arber, iv., 188.

DRUM, JACK. Iacke Drvms Entertainment, Or the Comedie of Pasquill and Katherine. As it hath beene sundry times plaid by the Children of Powles. Newly corrected. London, Printed by W. Stansby for Philip Knight, and are to be sold at his shop in Chancery-Lane, ouer against the Roles. 1616. 4to.

A—I in fours.

This appears to be the second impression, the first having been in 1601. The ast page has the names of all the actors.

DRUMMOND, WILLIAM. Teares on the Death of Mœliades. By William Drvmmmond of Hawthorneden. The third Edition. Edinbvrgh Printed by Andro Hart. 1614. 4to. Large paper. R. M.

A—B in fours, or 8 leaves, besides the frontispiece, representing Prince Henry lying in state within a mausoleum.

The only other copy known on large paper is among Drummond's books at Edinburgh University. The first edition was in 1613; of the second no copy is recorded.

— Poems: By William Drvmmmond, of Hawthorne-denne. The second Impression. Edinbvrgh, Printed by Andro Hart. 1616. 4to.

A—Q in fours, Q 4 blank.

The title is within a compartment, and is followed by a leaf containing verses "To the Author," subscribed "Parthenius" [Sir W. Alexander]. The present is a reissue with a new title of the volume described in "Bibl. Heber.," part viii., No. 737.

See Mr. Heber's note, in which he says, speaking of his copy dated 1616, but without the words "The second impression" on the title, "On a minute and careful comparison, it appears to me certain that the present ed. of Drummond's Poems (which is probably the first in a collected state) is typographically the very same with that of the same year 1616 which bears on the title-page 'The second impression.' Why this change in the title-page was made does not appear. Perhaps it took place when the Flowers of Sion and Cypress Grove were added in 1623, as all the copies known bearing on the title 'The second impression' contain I believe this addition."

DRUMMOND, WILLIAM. Forth Feasting. A Panegyricke to the Kings Most Excellent Majestic. Flumina senserunt ipsa. Edin-bergh, Printed by Andro Hart, 1617. 4to.

A—B in fours. In verse.

First edition. It is doubtful whether more than three copies exist. From the library of Mr. Corser.

— Flowres of Sion: By William Drvmmond of Hawthorne-denne. To which is adioyned his Cypresse Groue. Eden-boergh Printed by Iohn Hart, 1630. 4to. Large paper. R. M.

A—H in fours, besides the title; I, 3 leaves; K—O in fours, the last leaf with the errata.

This copy is bound up with the "Teares on the Death of Mœliades, 1614." "The Flowres of Sion" end on H 3 recto, and on H 3 verso is a half-title: "A Cypresse Grove," by W. D. "The Cypresse Grove" is in prose, and is followed by a few short poems, viz.: "On the Report of the Death of the Author," by Sir William Alexander; "To S. W. A." [in reply], by Drummond; "To the Memorie of the most excellent Ladie, Iane Countesse of Perth;" "To the obsequies of the blessed Prince, James, King of Great Britaine," both by Drummond.

There are two issues dated 1630, of which this was probably the first.

DRUNKARDS. A Brown Dozen of Drunkards: (Ali-ass Drink-hards) whipt, and shipt to the Isle of Gulls: for their abusing of Mr. Malt the bearded son, and Barley-broth the brainlesse Daughter of Sir John Barley-corne. All joco-seriously descanted to our

 S. Patricks Well. London: Printed by Robert Austin on Adlin-hill. 1648. 4to. O. M.

A—C in fours. With a large woodcut on the title and a leaf of metrical explanation facing it.

From the collection of Mr. George Daniel.

"A remarkably rare and curious tract, the authorship of which may probably be assigned to John Taylor the Water-Poet, although not included in the lists of his works. It contains mention of, and curious allusions to, Scoggin, Tarlton, Peele, Nash, Greene, Marlow, Elderton, Churchyard, &c., and it was obviously written by a person well acquainted with the literature of the reigns of Elizabeth and James I."—Bibl. Heber., part iv., No. 599.

[Paris.] Gilles de Gourmont [1515.] Folio. Black letter. Woodcuts.* G. M.

A—G iii in sixes.

This volume is the earliest pageant printed with engravings, and it is believed that three copies only are known of it. One in the Royal Library at Brussels, the present, which was formerly in M. Paelinck's collection and was afterwards sold in the Van der Linde sale in 1864, and a third (with two leaves in facsimile) in the British Museum.

DURER, ALB. La Passione di N. S. Giesu Christo d'Alberto Durero di Norimberga. Sposta in ottava rima da Mauritio Moro. In Venetia Appresso Daniel Bisuccio. 1612. 4to.

The engravings in this volume are from the original woodblocks, which at this period had found their way to Venice, and at the present time are preserved in the British Museum.

DURER, ALB. Ehrenpforte. Arc triomphale de l'Empereur Maximilien I. Gravé en bois d'après les dessins d'Albert Durer. Vienne. 1799. Folio.

E.

E., B. A New Dictionary of the Terms Ancient and Modern of the Canting Crew, in its several Tribes, of Gypsies, Beggars, Thieves, Cheats, &c. with an Addition of some Proverbs, Phrases, Figurative Speeches, &c. Useful for all sorts of People (especially Foreigners) to secure their Money and preserve their Lives; besides very Diverting and Entertaining, being wholly New. By B. E. Gent. London, Printed for W. Hawes . . . and W. Davis. [About 1690.] Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—M in eights.

In the preface the editor observes: "If some Terms and Phrases of better Quality and Fashion, keep so ill Company, as Tag-Rag and Long-Tail, you are to remember, that it is no less then customary for Great Persons abroad to hide themselves often in disguises among the Gypsies; and even the late L. of Rochester among us, when time was, among other Frolicks, was not ashamed to keep the Gypsies Company."

E., N. The Doting Doctor, Or, The Icarian Preacher, Calculated for the better instruction of King Blake of Coven-Garden: Representing the Meridian of his Dunghill Embassie, where the Pole is elevated many degrees beyond the Manners of the King the Author. By N. E. Gent. 1655. Printed in the Yeare, 1655. 4to.

Six leaves.

This purports to be an attack on Robert Blake for his publication called "An Embassy from the Kings of the East to his Highness the Lord Protector," which is here said to have been penned "by one Blake a Draper."

EARLE, JOHN. Micro-cosmographie. Or, A Peece of the World Discovered; In Essayes and Characters. Newly Composed for the Northerne parts of this Kingdome. At London. Printed by W. S. for Ed: Blount. 1628. Sm. 8vo.

A, 6 leaves; B—I in twelves; K, 5 leaves.

First edition. The only other copies at present known are those in the British Museum (formerly Bliss's) and the Bodleian library. Prefixed is an address "To the Reader Gentile or Gentle," by Edward Blount. The last character is numbered 53. Two other impressions were made the same year.

There has hitherto been a doubt whether this book was really written by Earle, but the following entry in the Stationers' Registers (Arber, iv., 165) sets the question at rest: "Master Blounte, Entred for his Copie vnder the handes of Master Doctor Worall and both the wardens A booke Called Earles Characters;" and on the 13th September, 1628, Blount assigned the property to Robert Allot. (Ibid. iv., 168.)

— Micro-cosmographie. . . . The sixth Edition augmented. London, Printed by R. B. for Robert Allot. . . . 1630. Sm. 8vo.

A, 6 leaves ; B—N in twelves.

In the original vellum cover. "The Character of a Pot Companion Poet," 4to, 1642, is usually assigned to Earle, but perhaps on no better ground than that the first portion is a reprint of one of the characters in his book.

[ECKIUS, JO.] Epistola Martini Lutheri ad Henricum VIII. Angliæ ac Franciæ Regem. Responsio dicti Invictissimi Angliæ ac Franciæ regis &c. ad singula præfatæ epistolæ capita. 1527. Epithalamia festiua in Lutherum, Hessum & id genus nuptiatorum. [Lipsiæ, circa 1527.] Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

Edward the Fourth, and a Tanner of Tamworth ; As he rode upon a time with his Nobles on Hunting towards Drayton-Basset : Very Pleasant and Merry to Read. Printed for F. Coles, in Vine-street, near Hatten-Garden. [About 1690.] Sm. 8vo. Black letter. Woodcuts. O. M.*

Eight leaves.

Only three editions of this popular ballad appear to have survived in the form of a book ; each of these again, is, so far as we know, represented by a single copy. The present is believed to be that which is described in the Heber catalogue, and is in very fine state. The two other known impressions, 1596 and 1613, are at Oxford in public libraries, the former being imperfect.

"The King and the Tanner of Tamworth" is a version of an earlier piece, entitled "The King and the Barker," which is inserted in the first volume of Hazlitt's "Popular Poetry."

EDWARDS, THOMAS. Gangræna : Or A Catalogue and Discovery of many of the Errours, Heresies, Blasphemies, and pernicious Practices of the Sectaries of this time, vented and acted in England

The second edition enlarged. From Miss Curren's library.

EFFIGIES Regum Anglorum à Wilhelmo Conquestore. Are to be sould by Robt. Peake att his shopp neere Holborne Conduitt. [About 1620.] Oblong 8vo. R. M.

Thirteen leaves, containing on each page two engravings, usually attributed to Faithorne.

Printed on one side of the paper only. The first leaf contains on the left-hand side the title, as given above, and on the right hand the portrait of William the Conqueror. The series ends with James I. and Anne of Denmark. It is evidently the first edition, the impressions of the plates being very fine. Many of the plates were subsequently used in Lambert Wood's "Florus Anglicus," but of some copies were substituted. The portraits of Charles I. and Henrietta Maria were afterwards added to the series, but the engraving of them is very inferior. Though usually attributed to Faithorne, it is impossible they can be his work. This first edition was clearly published before the accession of Charles I., and Faithorne is said, by Nagler, to have been born only in 1620, and was an apprentice to Peake when the Civil War broke out in 1642. Peake was already a publisher in 1611, when his name appears to Serlio's "Booke of Architecture."

EGAN, ANTHONY. The Franciscan Convert: Or a Recantation-Sermon of Anthony Egan, (late Confessor General of the Kingdom of Ireland, and Guardian of the Friory of Monasteriosis, in the Province of Lemster; [Leinster?] Now a Minister of the Gospel according to the Ordination of the Church of England.) Preached in London on April 6, 1673. To which is annexed, A Narrative of the strange Behaviour and Speeches of the Papists in Ireland since His Majesties Declaration of Indulgence. And the Commendatory Letter in Latine, given to the Author by his Superiour before his Conversion. London, Printed for Robert Clavel in Little Britain, 1673. 4to.

A—E i in fours, and a leaf before the title, in which Egan disclaims any knowledge of, or identity with, "the Capuchin Fryer, who lately burnt his Beads, Crucifixes, &c., in the Pallace Yard at Westminster." See under P. (W.).

— The Book of Rates, now used in the Sin Custom-house of the Church of Rome. Containing the Prices of the Bulls, Dispensations and Pardons . . . London Printed for Benjamin Southwood . . . 1673. 4to. The edges uncut.

Loe here the Queene,	whom no mishap can moue :	Pray for her health,	such as good subiectes bee :
To chaunge her mynde,	from vertues chief delight :	(Oh Princely Dame,)	there is none like to thee.

A Broadside. Black letter.

These verses occur beneath a large and beautifully engraved woodcut portrait of Queen Elizabeth, wearing her crown and holding the Globe and Sceptre. This Broadside, which is one of the series of seventy formerly in the collection of Mr. George Daniel, is believed to be unique. It has no indication of the artist, engraver, or printer. It probably appeared soon after the Queen's accession. A reduced copy of the woodcut is given in the Philobiblon edition of "Ancient Ballads," &c., 1867.

From some MS. memoranda in this book and in the copy of the "Regimen Sanitatis Salerni," translated by T. Paynel, 1541, which seems formerly to have been bound up with it, it is probable that they once belonged to the Eliot family, if not to Sir Thomas Eliot himself.

This little treatise the author says he has gathered out of Holy Scripture. It is dedicated to Sir Edward North. At the back of the title is a coat of arms, which is repeated on the reverse of the colophon leaf. E iv bears on the recto Berthelet's large mark representing the death of Lucretia, the verso being blank. The book was unknown to Herbert and Dibdin, but copies are in the British Museum and at Lambeth (Maitland's catalogue, p. 212).

EMANUEL, KING OF PORTUGAL. Obedientia Potentissimi Emanuelis Lusitaniæ Regis &c. per clarissimum Iuris. V. consultum Dieghum Pacettū Oratorem ad Iuliū. II. Pont. Max. Anno Dñi. M. D. V. Pridie No. Junii. [S. l. et a.] 4to.

Four leaves.

In this piece Diegho Pacechi announces to the Pope, on behalf of the King of Portugal, the success of the Portuguese arms in Africa, and the discoveries made in that country and in India. It was known to Brunet only through the Grenville catalogue. From the similarity of title it might easily be mistaken for the following article, from which, however, it is entirely distinct. It is printed in Roman letter, and has neither title-page, pagination, catchwords, or signature. It is believed to have been printed at Rome by Eucharius Silber, about 1505.

— Emanuelis Lusitan: Algarbior: Africae Aethiopiae Arabiae Persiae Indiae Reg. Invictiss: Obedientia. [S. l. et a.] 4to.

Eight leaves.

In this piece the King of Portugal renews to the Pope, in the person of Leo X., his submission and offer of subjection of the recent discoveries of the Portuguese in Africa and India.

The title, as given above, is printed entirely in capitals, and occupies five lines, the last containing only the word "Obedientia." Beneath is a cut of the arms of Portugal. The whole enclosed in an ornamental woodcut border, white on a black ground. The back of the title is blank. At the top of the page a ii: "Dieghi Pacecchi Jur. Consult. In præstanda Obedientia pro Emanuele Lusitanor: Rege Inuictiss: Leoni. X. Pont. Opt. Max. dicta Oratio." The oration ends on B ii, and then follow two leaves of Latin verses.

It is not in the Grenville collection, nor is it mentioned by Brunet. It was probably printed about 1514, the year in which the King of Portugal sent a present of eastern animals to Leo X.

EMANUEL, KING OF PORTUGAL. Epistola potentissimi ac inuictissimi Emanuelis regis Portugalie et Algarbiorū. &c. de victoriis habitis in India & Malacha. ad S. in christo patrē dñm nostrū dñm Leonē decimū. pont. maximū M. D. XIII. [Sine loco et anno.] 4to.

Four leaves.

It is evident from the manner in which this edition is misdescribed by Brunet (even to giving "Epitome" for "Epistola") that he had never seen it.

The title occupies ten lines in large Gothic characters, beneath which are the arms of Portugal. The reverse of the title is blank. The text begins on the recto of the second leaf, and ends on the recto of the fourth with "Dat in urbe nostra Olisipone. VIII. idus Junias. Anno dñi M. D. XIII." A full page contains thirty-two lines. There can be no doubt from the type that it was printed at Rome.

Four leaves.

This appears to be certainly the first edition of this letter. It is not in the Grenville catalogue, but an edition in 12mo is described ("Biblioth. Grenv.," iii., p. 180), which Mr. Grenville believed to be the first.

The present edition has the title in black letter, except the word "Epistola," which is in Roman capitals. Beneath this title is a woodcut of the arms of Portugal. The reverse of the title is blank. The text is in Roman type, and ends on the recto of the fourth leaf with the subscription, "Dat in Vrbe nostra Vlyxboñ. Pridie Kaleñ. Octobris. Anno domini. M. D. XIII."

EMBLEMS. A folio volume containing 25 Emblematical Drawings in colours heightened with gold and silver, on vellum.

At the top of each page is a drawing, beneath which are Latin verses in honour of Cardinal Caietan. At the foot of the page is the name either of the painter of the emblem or the composer of the verses, most probably the latter, as, with the exception of two, the paintings are too much alike in style and execution to have been the work of different persons. The names at the foot are Rodolphus d'Auteuil, Parisiensis; Carolus Menart, Andegavensis; Ludovicus Gleyse, Arelatensis; Philippus le Lievre, Parisiensis; Petrus D'Aubray, Parisiensis; Gulielmus Parcensis, Normanus; Renuus de la Roche, Poza y Picto; Gulielmus de la Nove Picto; Franciscus Varaderius Arelatensis; Joannes Olivarius Burdigalensis; Gulielmus le Gras Parisiensis; Albertus de Voyo Augustodunensis; Franciscus: Leodegarius: Parisiensis. Jacobus Avriillot Parisiensis; Claudius le Rouge Armoricus; Josephus Vaccon Massiliensis; Joannes Dalben Pictaviensis; Rodolphus Foi Bellovacensis; Alexander la March Parisiensis; Renuus de la Trimolliere Nannetensis [this name is beneath two drawings which are totally different in style from all the others]; Claudius Bourdereul Parisinus; Ludovicus Sanson Parisinus; Franciscus Belot Burgundus; Franciscus Bertenois Dolanus.

The volume is in the original gilt vellum binding, with the initials of Cardinal Caietan (H. C.) interlaced on the sides, and the same initials stamped alternately down the back.

Cardinal Caietan was sent to Paris by Sixtus V. in 1589, after the assassination of Henry III., that he might assist in the election of a Catholic king. This volume must, therefore, have been executed about that time.

In verse. The only copy known. From the Caldecott and Daniel libraries. The cut on the title is borrowed from Brandt's "Stultifera Navis," printed by Pynson in 1509. The tract was reprinted for the Roxburghe Club and for the Percy Society.

Mr. Caldecott refers, for an explanation of the term "make their beards," to Horman's "Vulgaria," 4to, 1530.

The woodcuts to the calendar have the mark of Geoffroy Tory, a double cross. This is probably the copy mentioned by Lowndes as sold at Sotheby's in 1848. It would appear from his list as though there were two editions printed in the same year, one by Kerver himself and another by his widow; but this is clearly a mistake, as Kerver died November 24th, 1522. The volume measures only 4 $\frac{1}{8}$ by 2 $\frac{1}{8}$.

a and b, 14 leaves each; c—h, 8 leaves each, the last blank.

This volume has a special interest as the earliest book on America printed in the Spanish language. On the reverse of h iiii we find the following story, which is sufficiently curious to be worth extracting:—

"Yo requeri de parte del rey de castilla a dos Caciques destos del Cenu que fuesen del rey de castilla & q̄ les hazia saber como auia vn solo dios q̄ era trino ⁊ vno ⁊ gouernaua al cielo ⁊ ala tierra ⁊ q̄ este auia venido al mūdo ⁊ auia dexado en su lugar a sant pedro: ⁊ q̄ sant Pedro auia dexado por su suscessor en la tierra al sancto padre q̄ era señor de todo el mūdo vniuerso en lugar de Dios: ⁊ q̄ este sancto padre como señor del vniuerso auia fecho merced de toda aq̄lla tierra de las indias ⁊ del Cenu al Rey de castilla ⁊ q̄ por virtud de aq̄lla merced q̄ el papa le auia fecho al rey les requeria q̄ ellos le dexassen aq̄lla tierra pues le pertenescia ⁊ que si quisiessen biuir enella como se estauā que le diessen la obediēcia como a su señor ⁊ le diessen en señal de obediēcia alguna cosa cada vn año ⁊ que esto fuesse lo q̄ ellos quisiessen señalar ⁊ q̄ si esto haziā que el rey les haria mercedes ⁊ les daria ayuda contra sus enemigos ⁊ que pornia entre ellos frayles o clerigos q̄ les dixessen las cosas dela fe de xp̄o. ⁊ q̄ si algunos se quisiessen ser xp̄ianos q̄ les haria mercedes ⁊ q̄ los q̄ no quisiessen ser xp̄ianos q̄ no les apremiariā a q̄ lo fues-

The Roxburghe and Daniel copy. Only two others are known : Corser's, now in the British Museum, and that which belonged to Heber.

See Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i., 71-3 ; and Corser's "Collectanea," part ii., 304-10. This edition contains many additional poems, but omits all the introductory matter found in that of 1600, and substitutes a table and a new poetical dedication (by the publisher) to Lady Elizabeth Carie, authoress of "Marian." This edition is reprinted in the "British Bibliographer."

ENGLISH, ESTHER. Le Livre de l'Ecclesiaste [et le Cantique du Roy Salomon], de la main d'Esther Anglois Française. A Lislebourg en Ecosse, ce xxi d'Avril 1601. 4to. In the original red morocco binding, richly tooled on the sides.

This is probably the most beautiful and valuable specimen in existence of the work of this learned and accomplished lady. It is specially mentioned in the "Biographie Universelle" in the following terms : "M. Walckenaer possède l'ouvrage de cette célèbre calligraphe, le plus curieux, soit pour la beauté et la variété des écritures, soit pour le portrait de l'auteur, dessiné à la plume par elle-même. Ce précieux manuscrit contient, 1°. le Livre de l'Ecclesiaste, de la main d'Esther Anglois, française, à Lislebourg en Ecosse, ce xxi avril 1601. 2°. Le Cantique des Cantiques, traduit également en français, le tout accompagné de plusieurs pièces de vers, françaises et latines, d'André Melvinus et autres versificateurs du temps, 'in Esteram Anglam rarissimam fœminam.' On y trouve aussi la devise favorite de l'auteur, en ces termes :

De l'Eternel
Le bien,
De moy le mal
Ou rien.

Pour la délicatesse de l'écriture, ce petit chef-d'œuvre peut soutenir la comparaison avec les ouvrages de Jarry et des autres calligraphes du siècle de Louis XIV."

The volume appears to have been executed for the Princess de Rohan, and a long dedicatory epistle addressed to her is prefixed. This by a singular error is dated "De Lislebourg en Ecosse ce xxiii d'avril, 1501," instead of 1601.

ENGLISH, PETER. The Survey of Policy : or, A Free Vindication of the Commonwealth of England, against Salmasius, and other Royallists . . . By Peter English, a friend to Freedom. Leith, Printed in the year, 1653. 4to.

A, 4 leaves ; a, 4 leaves ; B—B b in fours. The last four leaves are an appendix, following the errata. Dedicated to Cromwell and (in a second inscription) to Major-General Lambert and Colonel R. Lilburne.

Dr. Cotton says : "Printing appears to have been carried on at Leith, by Evan Tyler, a printer of Edinburgh, in the year 1652 ; a pamphlet by him of that date being in the Bodleian Library. It is also said that another, named Christopher Higgins, was conveyed hither by Oliver Cromwell in the same year." From the subject of the above volume it appears most probable that it is a specimen of the press of Higgins, though his name does not appear. The book is mentioned by Watt, but appears to be undescribed by other bibliographers.

There is in the library another copy of Parts 1 and 2 of this work. There are some slight typographical variations which show that at least some portion of the volumes must have been reset, but in the main the books are precisely alike.

In the preface by Richard Taverner, he says, "I have thoughte it very expediēt, that sith this Postil is by me though not made, yet recognized and in diuerse places augmented: briefly to admonysh y^e reader, howe it ought to be red & receiued."—See Herbert's "Ames," pp. 407 and 410.

EPISTOLA de miseria curatorum seu plebanorum. [Colophon.] Explicit (sic) epistola de miseria Cutatorum (sic) seu plebanorum. [s. a.] 4to.

Eight leaves. Hain, 6618. On the title is a woodcut, on which is inscribed the date of 1489.

EPISTOLA LUCIFERI. Incipit Epistola Luciferi ad malos Principes ecclesiasticos. [On page 5.] C. Celtis poete Carmē elegās de diuersis et inutilibus studiis et inanib⁹ curis mortalium. [s. l. et a.] 4to.

Four leaves. The Latin verses by Conrad Celtes occupy the last three pages. The piece was probably printed at Vienna about 1507.

EPISTOLA LUCIFERI. Ain grosser Preis; so der Furst der hellen genant Lucifer yetz den gaistlichē als Bapst Bischoff Cardinel vnd der gleychen zu weysst vnd empeut, &c. [O. O. u. J.] 4to.

Six leaves, the last blank. On the title is a rude woodcut, which represents the devil delivering the document to the Pope. It is a German version of the preceding piece, omitting the verses of C. Celtes and a letter which precedes them.

Anno quo supra: etiā cauisatū est vt in aliis ne qs audeat post nos Impressare per decennium, per illustrissimum Principem Venetianorum.* [s. a.] 4to. BR. M.

Twenty-two leaves, forty-two lines to the page.

This is usually described as the second edition of the first part of these famous letters, that in Gothic letter being supposed to have preceded it. Both have the same colophon, which is evidently fictitious.

EPISTOLAS y Euangelios que por todo el año se leyen en la Yglesia catholica, dela correçion de F. Ambrosio Montesino, con sus historias y retratos muy artificiosamente dibuxados. En Enberes por Iuan Esteclsio. 1544. Sm. 8vo. Woodcuts.

This book was first printed at Toledo in 1508, but there is no indication in any bibliographical work as to where a copy of it is to be found. The editor was Ambrosio Montesino, who published also a Cancionero at Toledo in 1508, in which the subjects of the verses are entirely drawn from the Sacred Scriptures.

EPISTOLE: & euāgelii volgari hystoriade: cum vna tabula: che insegna a trouare facilmente tutte le Epistole: & Evangelii scritti nella sequēte opera: secundo lordine de la corte Romana: Cō alcune Epistole: & euāgelii nō piu tradutti. [Colophon.] Stampata in Venetia per Zuane Antonio & fradeli da Sabio ad instantia de Nicolo & Domenego dal Iesus fradeli nel anno del signore. M. D. XII. Del mese de zugno. Folio. Woodcuts. BR. M.

Title and "Tabula," 4 leaves. Folios 5-88.

On the reverse of the fourth preliminary leaf is a full-page woodcut, with the monogram of Marc Antonio Raimondi. It is the only known specimen of engraving on wood by this master, and is undescribed by Bartsch, Nagler, or other authorities. This woodcut represents the unbelief of St. Thomas. The right hand of the Saviour is raised to display the wound of the nail, while with the left he guides the hand of St. Thomas to the spear-wound in his side. In the background is represented a castle similar to those so often seen in Dürer's engravings, with mountains in the distance.

Twenty leaves.

This piece is the work of a French Protestant, and undoubtedly of very great rarity. It is undescribed by Brunet.

EPITOME Chronicorum ac magis insignium Historiarum Mundi velut Index: ab Orbe condito ad hæc usque tempora. Ex probatissimis quibusque auctoribus. Francofurti. Christianus Acgeuolphus Hadamarius excudebat. Mense Augusto [1533]. Sm. 8vo. Woodcuts.

Folios 1-70, including title.

Under the year 1492 we find "Insulæ quædam in Oceano antehac ignotæ, hoc tempore inuentæ." Among the medallion portraits are those of Franz von Sickingen, Erasmus, and Luther.

EPITOMES des Roys de France en Latin et en François avec leur vrayes Figures. Lugduni. Bathasar Arnoullet. 1546. 4to. O. M.

This is, according to Brunet, the earliest book printed in France with engravings on copper. These comprise an engraved title and fifty-eight portraits of the kings of France. The book is usually found with a printed Latin title, "Epitome gestorum LVIII Regum Franciæ," and copies with the engraved title seem to be the exception rather than the rule.

This copy is from the famous Grolier collection, and is an extremely fine specimen of that celebrated library. It is bound in dark olive morocco, the sides tooled to a most tastefully designed pattern, in the outer compartments of which is impressed the Grolier motto, "Por . . tio mea . . Domine . . sit . . in . . terra . . viventi . . vm." In the centre of the obverse, "Epit. Regum . . Franciæ," and in the centre of the reverse, "Io. Grolierii et Amicorum."

On A iv is the autograph signature "Io. Grolierii."

The binding is a fine specimen of Derome's work, with dentelle borders on the sides.

— The praise of Folie. Moriæ Encomivm: a booke made in latyne by that great clerke Erasmus Roterodame. Englished by sir Thomas Chaloner knight. Anno. M. D. XLIX. [Colophon.] Imprinted at London in Fletestreete in the House of Thomas Berthelet. Cum privilegio ad imprimendum solum. Anno. M. D. LXIX. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

Title and "To the Reader," 4 leaves; A (repeated)—T in fours, the last leaf occupied by the colophon.

From the libraries of Mr. Heber and Mr. Corser. There is an obvious discrepancy between the date on the title-page and that at the end, which seems to be common to all known copies. It is no doubt an accidental transposition of the letters XL in the colophon.

— Moriæ Encomium: Or, A Panegyrick upon Folly. Written in Latin by Desiderius Erasmvs. Done into English, and Illustrated with above Fifty Curious Cuts, Design'd and Drawn by Hans Holbeine. To which is prefix'd Erasinus's Epistle to Sir Thomas More, and an Account of Hans Holbeine's Pictures, &c. and where to be seen. London. 1709. 8vo. R.

Twenty leaves. The woodcuts are from designs by Hans Holbein.

— Virginis matris apud Laucetum cultæ Liturgia, adiecta cōcione, per Des. Erasmus Roterodanum. Basileæ apud Joannem Frobenium. 1525. Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

Sixteen leaves, the last bearing the printer's device.

— De civilitate morum (sic) puerilium per Des. Erasmus Roterodanum, Libellus nunc primum & conditus & æditus Roberto Whitintoni interprete. A lytell booke of good maners for chyldren, now lately compyled and put forth by Erasmus Roterodam in latyne tonge, with interpretacion of the same in to the vulgare englysshe tonge, by Robert Whytyngton laureate poete. [Colophon.] Thus endeth this lytell booke of good maners: Imprinted at London in the Flete strete, at the sygne of the Sonne, by wynkyn de worde. The yere of our lorde god . 1532 . the x. days of Septēbre. Sm. 8vo.

A, 7 leaves; B, C, 8 leaves each; D, 4 leaves, the last being blank on the recto and bearing the printer's mark on the verso.

An extremely curious little volume, as the following extracts will show:—

"Some make curtesye with bothe knees bowed (as yrisshmen) and on contrary some do it with upright body, some with body stoupyng. Some there be that iudge that the curtesye of women. Some likewyse with upright body make curtesy, first bowe the right kne, after the lyft, whiche amonge englysslimen is laudable in youth. The frenchmen do bowe the ryght kne with a lytel plesant return of the body."

"To begyn your repaste with drinke is the property of blowbowles that drinke not for thyrste, but of use. . . . To loke a syde whan thou drinkest is a rude maner & lyke as storkes, to wrie his neck backward. To drinke al that nothinge remayne in the cup is the propertie of a chorle."

To Herbert it was known only by a mention of it in Knight's "Life of Dean Colet," but Lowndes quotes the sale of a copy in Bright's sale, though he had evidently not seen it himself, as he merely gives the title in an abridged form. He also mentions an edition ten years earlier, but this is probably an error, as no such edition appears to be recorded. From Mr. Inglis's library.

— A playne and godly exposition or declaratiō of the cōmune Crede (which in the Latin tonge is called Symbolum Aposto-

A—K in eights. This edition seems to be undescribed. On the back of the title occurs the "prologue of the author," that is, Taverner, in which he describes his project and motive for undertaking the work in very quaint terms.

ERASTUS. The History of Prince Erastus Son to the Emperour Dioclesian And those famous Philosophers called the Seven Wise Masters of Rome. die burgundisch hystorie.

[Colophon.] Getruckt zu straszburg.

Anno dñi ̄c. M.cccc.lxxvii. 4to. R. M.

Forty leaves. Thirty-two lines to a full page.

This 4to edition without woodcuts appears to be entirely undescribed by bibliographers. Whether it preceded the edition in folio also printed at Strasburg in the same year it is difficult to say. According to Graesse, the folio edition consists of twenty-five leaves, and has eight woodcuts. The same authority also mentions that another poem on the same subject was printed in 1477; but that consists of ten leaves only.

Table, 4 leaves, the recto of the first leaf quite blank; a—t in eights; v, 6 leaves.

This volume appears to have been quite unknown to Panzer. Hain just gives the title (No. 6667), and Dr. Graesse gives the title so incorrectly (see "Trésor de Livres rares et précieux," vol. i., p. 235) that he had evidently taken it from some carelessly-printed catalogue, without having the opportunity of comparing it with the original. The woodcuts, which are twelve in number, the full size of the page, display much more artistic skill than is usually found in books of this early date.

Twenty leaves.

This piece is described by Panzer in the "Zusätze" to the "Annalen der ältern deutschen Litteratur," p. 92. This appears to be the same copy from which Panzer took his description, as it bears on the fly-leaf, "Ex bibl. Panzeriana." There is no copy in the British Museum, and it appears to be a piece of extreme rarity. The printer, Panzer says, was Hans Spörer.

A contemporary account of the sack of Rome under Charles V. It is evidently written by one of the Reformation party.

Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A—P 6 in eights, first leaf marked A.

Dedicated, in French, to Lady Elizabeth Berkeley, daughter of Lord Hunsdon and wife of Sir Thomas Berkeley, Knight of the Bath, son of Lord Berkeley. This inscription, which is in prose, is followed by "L'aucteur A Ladicté Dame," in verse, and by complimentary verses in French by M. de Mont Chrestien, and in English by S[amuel D[aniel], William Harbert, and Nicholas Breton.

ERRORES atrocissimorum Ruthenorum [Sine ullâ notâ]. 4to.

Hain, 6677. This piece consists of four leaves. The above title is over a large woodcut. The first error enumerated is "Negant Rutheni Sanctum Petrum verum papam et verum Romane Sedis antistitem." At the back of the title we read "[E]x tractatu dñi Joannis Sacrami sacre Theologie Magistri: et Cracouieñ ecclesie quondam Canonici: quē intitulauit Elucidarium erroꝝ ritus Ruthenici &c." It does not appear, however, that this book was ever printed.

ESCHENBACH, WOLFRAM VON. [Partzifal.] [On folio 1] [I]st zweiffel hertzen nachgebur Das muss der selen werden fur. [On folio 259] M.CCCC.LXXVII. Folio.

These two books are printed with the same types, but the "Partzifal" is of much rarer occurrence than the "Tyturell." According to Hain (Nos. 6683 and 6684) they were printed at Augsburg, by Gunther Zainer, but Brunet says that they are printed "avec les mêmes caractères que le 'Speculum historiale,' de Vincent de Beauvais sorti des presses de Mentelin, à Strasbourg, en 1473."

Both poems belong to the series of "Romances of the Round Table." They were written at the end of the twelfth or the beginning of the thirteenth century.

Vol. 1, title and preliminaries, 34 leaves; folios 1-298. Vol. 2, title and folios, 299-665.

Brunet had never seen more than the first volume of this rare edition. He had probably been misled into supposing that the first volume contained both parts by the inscription at the end of vol. i.: "Fin de la segunda parte." In the second volume the folios are continued from 299 to 665.

It might be thought that the copy mentioned by Brunet as sold in the Heber sale comprised the two volumes, but such is not the case, as that copy is now in the British Museum, and, like the copy described by Brunet, ends on folio 298.

Brunet also says, "imprimé vers 1560," but a contemporary inscription on the fly-leaves of both volumes of this copy enables us to fix the date at least ten years earlier. The inscription runs thus: "Johannes Baro a Creig possessor huius libelli emptus Barsalone Anno 1551. 20 die Septembris."

The two volumes contain the same matter as the folio editions of the first part—that is, the 400 preguntas and 500 proverbios.

Señor Salvá, who possessed only the first volume of this edition, places it between the editions of 1545 and 1550. He says: "He colocado aquí esta edición porque, segun se ve por el fróntis, no contiene las Cient glosas añadidas despues á la de 1550, lo cual prueba haberse hecho ántes de su publicacion. El tomito que yo tengo, aunque bastante abultado, solo comprende doscientas diez y ocho preguntas; me inclino, pues, á creer debe existir otro comprensivo del resto hasta las cuatrocientas. No encuentro, sin embargo, mencion de él en ninguna parte, pues Brunet solo habla de este, y segun parece el de Heber era igual aunque dividido en dos volúmenes: ignoro si el descrito en el Catálogo de la venta de Conde, núm. 235, anunciado en dos tomos, tendria efectivamente el segundo y estaria completa la Primera parte de la obra de Escobar."

A—F iii in fours.

This treatise was addressed "To Master Anthony Bacon," and was published by Francis Bacon. In the library, in a volume of tracts, is an early MS. copy of it, and several others are in different collections; a circumstance not very surprising, when it is recollected that five years elapsed between the composition and publication of the "Apology," the writer having in the meantime perished on the scaffold. At the conclusion is this paragraph: "Remember, how Bernardine Mendoza spent his time, while he was in England."

ESSEX, ROBERT DEVEREUX, SECOND EARL OF. At the back of the title in this copy is a large woodcut, which, according to Brunet, is not always found. One of the woodcuts represents William Tell shooting the apple from his son's head.

Panzer says of the book, "Bey allen den unnützen, falschen und abgeschmackten Erzählungen, welche diese Chronik enthält, und von denen Blaufus in den vermischten Beyträgen B. I. *, 6 leaves; A—1 in twelves, the last leaf occupied by advertisements of books.

With dedication to the Marchionesses of Worcester and Dorset, which is succeeded by a second, "To the most accomplished in Vertue and Beauty, Martha and Mary Bennet."

John Heydon, the astrologer, published some books under the pseudonym of Eugenius Theodidactus, but as the author of this work refers to Thomas Peck's "unfair treatment of my friend John Heydon," it can hardly have been written by him. In the copy in the British Museum, however, "Jo: Heydon" is inserted in a contemporary hand as the author.

EULENSPIEGEL. Von Vlenspiegel eins bauren sun des lands Braunschweick, wie er sein leben volbracht hat, gar mit seltzamen sachen. [Colophon.] Gedruckt zu Erfurdrt durch Melcher Sachssen ynn der Archen Noe. 1532. 4to. Woodcuts. R.

A—X in fours, last leaf blank.

On the title-page is a large woodcut representing Eulenspiegel on horseback, with a mirror in one hand and an owl perched on the other. On the recto of X 3 is his epitaph:—

"Diesen stein sol niemans erhaben.
Vlenspiegel lehent hie begraben."

Below this is a woodcut of a mirror surmounted by an owl.

Of the first edition, printed at Strasburg, 1519, Dr. Graesse says that one copy only is known, and of the second, believed to have been printed at Basle, between 1520 and 1530, only two copies are known. It is believed that the third edition, described above, is equally rare. Of a fourth edition, printed about 1533, one copy only is known, and that is imperfect. The second edition, according to Dr. Graesse, contained only 78 stories; in the third there are 102.

A brief Character of the Low-Countries under the States. Being three weeks observation of the Vices and Vertues of the Inhabitants. [By Owen Feltham.] London Printed for H. S. and are to be sold by Rich. Lowndes . . . 1659. A perfect Description of the People and Country of Scotland. London, Printed for J. S. 1659. In one vol. Sm. 8vo.

The first piece in the volume contains title and preliminaries, 12 leaves, and pp. 1-66. The second, title, &c., 4 leaves; pp. 1-45 and pp. 1-38, preceded by a separate title to "Gallus Castratus." The third, title, &c., 4 leaves, the first blank; pp. 1-100. The fourth, pp. 1-21, preceded by a title.

The first two pieces are attributed to John Evelyn, and though written by way of a satire, are most curious as a picture of manners in the seventeenth century. The character of Scotland is attributed to James Howell. It is a most violent abuse of the people and country: "As for Fruit, for their Grandsire Adams sake, they never planted any; and for other trees, had Christ been betrayed in this countrey (as doubtlesse he should, had he come as a stranger) Judas had sooner found the Grace of Repentance, then a tree to hang himselfe on."

— Fumifugium: Or, The Inconvenience of the Aer and Smoak of London Dissipated. Together with some Remedies humbly Proposed by J[ohn] E[velyn] Esq; To His Sacred Majestie, and to the Parliament now Assembled. London, Printed by W. Godbid 1661. 4to.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; B—E i in fours. Original edition, with the autograph of Philip Thicknesse, 1760.

Evelyn speaks in the strongest terms of the pernicious effects of coal-smoke upon the vegetation in the spring-time, and on the clothes drying on the hedges, and the whole tract is extremely curious as compared with the present state of things in the metropolis.

EVELYN, JOHN. Publick Employment and an Active life with all its Appanages, such as Fame, Command, Riches, Conversation, &c. prefer'd to Solitude. By J. E. Esq. London, Printed by J. M. for H. Herringman . . . 1667. Sm. 8vo.

A—I 4 in eights, including a leaf of imprimatur.

The above collation does not include a duplicate title (varying from that given) which is in this copy, with the words "such as fame" down to "&c." scored through with a pen, apparently by the author himself, who has also, in the fifth line of sig. A 4 recto, altered "discharged" into "acquitted yourself in."

The title, which Evelyn seems to have desired to substitute for the original one in the event of a re-impression, runs: "Publick Employment and an active Life prefer'd to Solitude and all its Appanages. In Reply to a late ingenious Essay of a Contrary Title." The essay here referred to was Sir George Mackenzie's, printed in 1665.

— Navigation and Commerce, Their Original and Progress. Containing a succinct Account of Traffick in Generall; its Benefits and Improvements: Of Discoveries, Wars and Conflicts at Sea, from the Original of Navigation to this Day; with special Regard to the English Nation; Their several Voyages and Expeditions, to the Beginning of our late Differences with Holland; in which His Majesties Title to the Dominion of the Sea is Asserted, against the Novel, and later Pretenders. By J. Evelyn Esq; S.R.S. . . . London, Printed by T. R. for Benj. Tooke, . . . 1674. Sm. 8vo.

Title and dedication to the King, 3 leaves; B—K 4 in eights, K 4 with advertisements only.

The following extract is from Evelyn's "Diary:"—"19th August [1674]. His Majesty told me how exceedingly the Dutch were displeas'd at my treatise of the 'History of Commerce;' that the Holland Ambassador had complain'd to him of what I had touch'd of the Flags and Fishery, &c. and desired the book might be call'd in; whilst, on the other side, he assur'd me he was exceedingly pleas'd with what I had done, and gave me many thanks. However, it being just upon conclusion of the Treaty of Breda (indeed it was design'd to have been published some months before, and when we were at defiance), his Majesty told me he must recall it formally; but gave order that what copies should be publickly seiz'd to pacify the Ambassador, should immediately be restor'd to the printer, and that neither he nor the vendor should be molest'd. The truth is, that which touch'd the Hollander was much less than what the King himself furnish'd me with, and oblig'd me to publish, having caus'd it to be read to him before it went to the press; but the error was it should have been published before the peace was proclaim'd. The noise of this book's suppression made it presently be bought up, and turn'd much to the stationer's advantage. It was no other than the Preface prepar'd to be prefix'd to my History of the whole War; which I now pursu'd no further."

Although we see that the suppression of the book was a mere form, it is seldom to be found. Mr. Singer's copy had belong'd to Evelyn.

Sume Wynando merito reponans
Era de worde."

On the verso of the same leaf is the printer's large device. This work is bound up with the "Expositio Hymnorum."

Lowndes mentions that a copy of this edition, with the "Expositio Hymnorum," was sold at the sale of Wilks's library about 1845, but gives no description of it. Herbert just mentions the "Expositio sequentiarum," but had evidently not seen it. He adds, "No doubt he printed the 'Expositio hymnorum' also."

EXPOSITION. Une Exposition sur le Magnificat. [Sans lieu ni date.] Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

This piece, consisting of sixty-six leaves, is evidently the work of some one holding the reformed opinions. It was probably printed about 1530, but appears to be undescribed by bibliographers.

EYCHMAN DE CALWE, JODOCUS. [Vocabularium Latino-Germanicum.] [Sine ullâ notâ.] 4to. BR. M.

236 leaves, the last blank, without signatures, catchwords, or folios.

This edition appears to be undescribed by bibliographers. It is possibly the edition indicated by Panzer, v. ii., p. 239, n. 373. The first leaf is blank on the recto, and on the verso are eight lines of Latin verse, beginning—

"Si te materne remoratur inertia lingue.

Quo minus ad ppl'm fundere verba queas."

The vocabulary begins on the next page, but it is preceded by a short preface at the top of the page, speaking of the necessity which had existed for such a work. It goes on to say, "Demum auctoritas inducat clarissimi doctissimiq; sacraꝝ literaꝝ pffessoris : magistri Jodoci eychman de calwe : a quo dum p plurimos iam annos beydelberge predicando quoslibet accuratissime docuit : huius noui plenam sumpsit originē series opusculi." The book ends on the verso of the 235th leaf, with the words "Zona gurtel."

This first edition is one of the earliest printed books on the practice of the Inquisition, but the author lived in the fourteenth century, having been born at Gerona in 1320. "Ce livre est partagé en trois parties; la première et la deuxième sont consacrées à établir les pouvoirs des inquisiteurs contre les hérétiques et les fauteurs d'hérésie, et la dernière explique la manière de procéder contre eux. Le Directoire soumet les rois eux-mêmes à son terrible tribunal. On voit, par les maximes extraordinaires répandues dans cet ouvrage, dans quel esprit l'auteur l'a composé, et l'on s'étonne qu'un homme doué d'un véritable talent peu commun alors, ait pu se laisser entraîner par un zèle mal entendu. Ce fut le trop fameux Torquemada qui, le premier, mit en pratique les horribles principes d'Eymeric, lors de l'établissement de l'inquisition en Espagne en 1480."—Biographie Universelle.

Printed in a large Gothic type, without pagination or catchwords. At the back of the title is a large woodcut of the Saviour, with the legend "Saluator mundi saluamus nos," and at the four corners of the woodcut are the emblems of the Evangelists. The colophon is at the end of the text, which concludes on the last sheet but one. The last sheet contains the index. Brunet does not quote the sale of any copy, even on paper, and on vellum it appears to be hitherto quite undescribed.

A—L in fours.

The first edition of this book appears from Herbert's "Ames," p. 891, to have been printed in 1579 by John Alde, father to the printer of the edition of 1585. No copy of the 1579 edition is now known to exist. Douce's copy is catalogued with that date; but as the title-page is deficient there is no certainty about it. An exhaustive description of the book is given by Mr. Collier in his "Bibliogr. Cat.," vol. ii., p. 25. He conjectures that Francis Thynne was the author; but he adduces no evidence in support of the conjecture. On the last leaf is "The Apologie and Conclusion of the Author," in verse. In it he says that he is a native of Kent.

A very clean copy in the original binding. Though stated in the first title to have been printed in April, 1559, the narrative is carried down to the 8th May in that year. See "Bibliotheca Grenvilliana," i., 239-40, for an account of the differences between the two issues of 1559. Herbert omits to mention them. On the back of the title to the first volume is an address from the printer to the reader, setting forth that, whereas the edition of 1542 had been altered, he had caused the text for the present reprint to be collated with that of 1516.

— The New Chronicles of England and France, in two parts; by Robert Fabyan. Named by himself the Concordance of Histories. Reprinted from Pynson's edition of 1516. The first part collated with the editions of 1533, 1542, and 1559; and the second with a Manuscript of the Author's own time, as well as the subsequent editions: including the different continuations. On the woodcut which forms the title is the monogram I. M. on a tablet; this Count Cicognara thinks, may be the mark of Giovanni Bonconsigli, who bore also the name of Marescalco, but he admits that there is nothing to support this conjecture which is not adopted by Nagler, who only says that the initials are those of an unknown Venetian artist.

A—D 4 in eights, D 4 blank.

From Mr. Inglis's collection. The work, as the title indicates, was suggested by King James's "Basilikon Doron;" but of the author we have no knowledge, nor of any other copy of the tract. In the British Museum is the sixth edition, 1630, the title of which runs "The Fathers Blessing: or counsell To his Sonne," the word "second" being omitted. There is an entry in the Stationers' Register of "a booke called, The councill of a father to his Sonne, in Tenne severall preceptes, left as a Legacy att his deathe." This was licensed to Joseph Hunt, 28th June, 1611. It is, however, a poetical broadside, the only known copy of which is in the library of the Society of Antiquaries.

From the collections of Mr. Heber and Mr. Corser. The only other known, besides that described by Mr. Collier, "Bibl. Cat.," i., 271-5, and believed to be now in the British Museum, is that in the Bodleian. Mr. Heber notes: "I never saw another copy. Herbert's 'Ames,' iii., 1361. But it is plain Herbert had not seen it, as he gives the title incorrectly, and cites no authorities."

FENNER, DUDLEY. The Artes of Logike and Rethorike, plainelie set forth in the Englishe tounge, easie to be learned and practised: together with examples for the practise of the same, for Methode in the gouernment of the familie, prescribed in the word of God: And for the whole in the resolution or opening of certaine partes of Scripture, according to the same. This impression differs from that described by Herbert, p. 1663, though the collations agree. It was no doubt also printed by R. Schilders of Middleburgh.

— The Song of Songs, that is the most excellent Song which was Solomon's, translated out of the Hebrue into Englishe meeter, with as little libertie in departing from the wordes, as any plaine translation in prose can vse: and interpreted by a short commentarie. Middelburgh, Imprinted by Richard Schilders, Printer to the States of Zeelande. Cum priuilegio. 1587. 8vo.

A—F 2 in eights.

This copy is remarkable as being printed on thick yellow paper. The volume is dedicated to "the right Worshipfull companie of the Marchant aduenturers." We learn from Fenner's preface that he wrote the whole of the Commentary, but only the concluding portion of the metrical paraphrase of Solomon's Song. In the book entitled "A Parte of a Register" the same writer has a defence of the godly ministers against Dr. Bridges, with an account of their maltreatment by the Bishops. See Herbert's "Ames," p. 1679.

FENNOR, WILLIAM. Horac: ad mæcænatem.

London: Printed by Thomas Snodham, and are to be sold by Francis Parke at his shop in Lincolnes-Inne gate, in Chancerie Lane. 1619. 4to.

A—D in fours, or 16 leaves. In the octave stanza.

The printer, in his address to the reader, says that he does not know who the writer was, but that he was vexed at the discovery that his work was in type, it having been intended only for the satisfaction of friends. On the title is a large and curious cut.

Mr. Collier, "Bibl. Cat.," ii., pp. 128-32, remarks: "It is not merely singular, but astonishing, that this very well-written, pointed, and humorous poem, should never have received any notice." At the end of his account he says: "Nobody has hinted at the existence of this first edition." The title of this copy (formerly Mr. Corser's) varies in the imprint from that noticed by Mr. Collier.

In the Stationers' Registers, under date of 6th April, 1619, this piece was licensed to Thomas Snodham as a "A booke called Pasquilles Palynodie, or his pinte of Poetry writ by William F[ennor?]." See Arber, iii., p. 299.

Imprinted at London, by Henry Bynneman dwelling in Knight-riider street, at the signe of the Mermaid. Anno 1569. Cum Privilegio . . . 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. R.*

A, 4 leaves; *, 2 leaves; A (repeated)—Oo in fours, and between X and Y an extra leaf, the verso blank.

See Herbert's "Ames," p. 969, where this book is cited with Herbert's initials, but with the † to show that his copy was imperfect, which is doubtless the reason why the title given there is neither accurate nor complete. The book is a translation (from the French), as Fenton avows in the dedication to Lord Lumley, which contains also a curious passage illustrative of the popular reading of the day: "We see in daily experience, with how great earnestnesse and delight the vnlearned sorte runne ouer the fruitlesse Historie of king Arthur and his round table Knights, and what pleasure they take in the trifeling tales of Gawin and Gargantua: the which bisides that they passe all likelihode of truth, are vtterly without either graue precept or good example."

The present copy belonged to Francis Thynne, author of "Emblems and Epigrams," and has on the title his autograph: "Francis Thynne. 1568, 9 februar. pret. ij*."

FENTON, GEFREY. Certaine Tragical Discourses written oute of Frenche and Latin, by Geffraie Fenton, no lesse profitable then pleasaunt, and of like necessitie to al degrees that take pleasure in antiquities or forreine reapportes. Mon heur viendra. Imprinted at London in Flete-strete nere to Saint Dunstons Church by Thomas Marshe. Anno Domini. 1567. 4to. Black letter. R.

Title-page, 1 leaf; dedication to the Lady Mary Sydney, directed from the author's chamber at Paris; June 22, 1567, 5 leaves; "Syr Iohn Conway Knyght to the readers in prayse of the Translator," 1 leaf, in verse; "Amici cuiusdam [M.H.] ad Authorem Carmen Hexametrum," 1 leaf; "George Turberuille in praise of the translator of this booke," and, "Peter Beverley in praise of the translator," 2 leaves, in verse, Turberville's verses in long lines, Beverley's in 6-line stanzas; The argument, 2 leaves; the work, A iii—Qq 2 in eights. First edition.

"In point of selection and size, perhaps the most capital miscellany of this kind is Fenton's book of tragical novels. This edition [of 1567] never was seen by Ames, nor was the book known to Tanner . . . Most of the stories are on Italian subjects, and many from Bandello."—Warton's English Poetry.

Alfonso su hijo, Duque de Calabria sobrel matrimonio que auian de contraher, La Princesa D^a Isabel hija de los Reyes Catolicos, con D. Fernando Duque de Capua, hijo de dicho Duq. de Calabria y nieto de dicho Rey de Napoles. MS. on vellum. Dated 1476. 4to. BR. M.

This remarkable and important document is fully described by Dr. Pettigrew in the "Archæologia," vol. xxxvii. :—

"The MS. is beautifully written, and forms seventeen pages folio. At the end it has the autograph signatures of Ferdinand and Isabella, the parents of the Princess Isabella, and also the attestation of various distinguished functionaries, and of Gaspar Daringo, a public notary, by the command of the King and Queen of Castille, Leon, &c. No mention whatever is made of this important historical document by Don Diego Clemencin,³ the perpetual secretary of the Royal Academy of Madrid, the learned compiler of the elaborate history of the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella, which occupies the whole of the 6th vol. of the 'Memorias of the Academy;' nor by Mr. Prescott in his able 'History of Ferdinand and Isabella.'"—Extract from Dr. Pettigrew's notice.

FERNE, JOHN. The Blazon of Gentry: Deuided into two parts. The first named The Glorie of Generositie. The second, Lacyes Nobilitie. Comprehending discourses of Armes and of Gentry. Wherein is treated of the beginning, parts, and degrees of Gentlesse, with her lawes: Of the Bearing, and Blazon of Cote-armors: Of the Lawes of Armes, and of Combats. Compiled by Iohn Ferne Gentleman, for the instruction of all Gentlemen bearers of Armes, whome and none other this worke concerneth. At London, Printed by John Windet, for Andrew Maunsell. 1586. 4to. Woodcuts.

A, 8 leaves; a, 2 leaves; B—Ii 4 in eights, then Kk 1 leaf, besides an extra folded leaf in Cc; but sig. Z in the first alphabet has only 4 leaves; Z 4 blank. “Lacyes Nobilitie” commences on Z 5.

Dedicated by the author to Edmund, Lord Sheffield, from the Inner Temple, 13th September, 1586. The verses by J. Rosse, of the Inner Temple, described by Ritson, in his “Bibliographia Poetica,” as occurring before the second part of the work, are, in fact, found with the other verses before the first part.

The following extract from the first dedication elucidates the meaning of “Lacyes Nobilitie”: “For so it is, (Right honourable) that about viij. yeeres now paste, hauing culled the chiefe matters and points of this whole treatise, from out diuerse Authors and writers of Blazon, and of the Lawes of armes, to the reading whereof, as in the place of an intermissiue delectation, I did something addicte my selfe: Sithence which time, I haue not any whit conuersed in that studie, (hauing long since made choise of a better) for I neuer ment to make profession of that science, . . . I did pervulgate the same treatise vnto some of my familiers and acquaintance, by whose importune sollicitacions, as inforced, I haue published the same: And the rather, I was thereunto led, in that I might notifie to the worlde, my integritye and directe behaiour vniustlye sclaudered, in the deduction of some broken, and vncertaine lynes or genealogies of Lacies, sometimes Earles of Lyncolné, drawne by me, at the request of an honorable personage: and to that intent, haue I added them also, vnto this present treatise.”

FERRARA. La Guerra de Ferrara. [Sens' alcuna data.] 4to. R. M.

This piece appears to be undescribed by Brunet. It is written in ottava rima, and consists of four leaves. A large woodcut, with the above title over it, on the recto of the first leaf.

FERRERIUS, VINCENTIUS. Vincentius de fine mūdi. [Colophon.] Explicit sermo Sancti Vincencii Ord. Pred. de fine mundi. [Sine ullā notā.] 4to.

This edition of eighteen leaves, with thirty-three lines to the page, is undescribed by Panzer or Hain.

FERRERIUS, ZACHARIA. Zachariae Ferrerii Vicent. Pont. Gard. Hymni novi ecclesiastici iuxta veram metri et latinitatis normam a Beatiss. Patre Claemente VII. Pont. Max. vt in divinis quisque eis uti possit approbati et novis Ludovici Vicentini ac Lavtitii Perusini characteribus in lucem traditi. Sanctum ac necessarium opus. [Colophon.] Impressum hoc diuinum Opus Romæ in ædibus Ludouici Vincentini et Lautitii Perusini, non sine Priuilegio. Kal. Feb. M.D.XXV. 4to.

Besides the 115 leaves mentioned by Brunet, this volume has twelve preliminary leaves, including title. The book itself is extremely curious, as an attempt, under papal authority, to supersede the ancient hymns of the Church by these written in classical Latin. On the title-page the author promises a Breviary reformed in the same manner: "Breviarium ecclesiasticum ab eodem Zach. Pont. longe brevis et facilius redditum, et ab omni errore purgatum propediem exibet." The publication of this was, however, reserved for Cardinal Quignon, ten years later. A full account of this work will be found in Zaccaria's "Bibliotheca Ritualis."

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves, including a full page woodcut with the reverse blank; pp. 1-302. Pages 265 to 278 are folding woodcuts of music, but they only count as single leaves.

In the dedication the author speaks of "esta Ciudad de Malaga," and on this ground the book has been thought to have been printed at that place. Señor Salvá says (No. 2513): "El Sr. Barbieri me dice tiene una edicion de Napoles, 1745, y otra falta de la portada, que sospecha sea de Malaga, 1745; aunque todas le parecen una sola impresion hecha en Italia con distintas portadas."

FESTIVAL. The festyuall. [Colophon.] Here endeth the festiuall Enprynted at London in Fletestrete at the sygne of the Sonne by Wynkyn de worde. In y^e yere of our lorde . M . CCCC . viii. And ended the . xi . daye of Maye. 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. BR. M.

A—Kk in eights and fours alternately, Ll, 4 leaves. There is a woodcut on the title, which is repeated on the back.

Of this work not less than fifteen editions were printed between 1486 and 1532. Herbert gives the title as "The festival or sermons on Sondays and holidays taken out of the golden legend;" but the words "The Festyuall" are all that really occur on the title-page. Herbert remarks: "The stories in this book are so extravagant, that one would imagine they were invented to try how far human credulity could be extended." The piece entitled "Quatuor sermones" is at the end.

FEYNES, SIEUR DE. Voyage fait par terre depuis Paris Iusques à la Chine. . . . Auec son retour par mer. A Paris. Chez Pierre Rocolet en la gallerie des prisonniers aux armes de la Ville. 1630. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Engraved title and preliminaries, 9 leaves; pp. 1-212.

FIALETTI, ODOARDO. De gli Habiti delle Religioni con le Armi, e breve Descrittion loro, Libro Primo, (Secondo e Terzo) opera di Odoardo Fialetti, diuisa in piu volumi. Venetia, 1626. 4to. BR. M.

The book is entirely engraved, and divided as follows: Libro primo—title and address to the reader, 2 leaves; plates numbered 2-26, containing each a monastic figure in costume, with engraved text opposite, except plate 2, which shows a headless female figure. Libro secondo—title, 1 leaf; plates 27-51. Libro terzo—title, 1 leaf; plates 52-74.

Odoardo Fialetti (born in 1573, died in 1638) was a pupil of Tintoretto, and equally distinguished as a painter and an etcher. Bartsch praises the spirit and vigour of his designs, and remarks that only a few copies were struck off of the first edition of the "Habiti," in 1626. There are French reimpressions in 1658 and 1680.

A—C in fours, or 12 leaves. With two woodcuts on B 4 verso and C 2 verso.

From the collections of Mr. Brand, Sir F. Freeling, and Mr. Corser. Inserted are tracings of the cuts of a different edition which is among Douce's books at Oxford, and Freeling notes on a fly-leaf: "Mr. Douce's copy is by the same printer, and is also without date. The only variation of consequence between the two is that in the title to Mr. Douce's the words 'and death' are inserted after 'life'; with the exception of the orthography, the text is precisely the same. The cut on B 4 verso, besides being inserted in its proper place, faces the title, and forms A i. It has also two additional cuts, which Mr. Douce has kindly allowed me to trace, and which are inserted in their respective places. Neither of them appears to have belonged originally to the work. Upon the whole I incline to think that is the earlier edition."

Sir F. Freeling was not aware that at Lambeth Palace there is a third impression of this tract, with a different publisher's name, but also undated. Of the original edition, printed in Scotland, no copy is known.

In a MS. note on the back of the title occurs: "John Brand, Somerset place, Jany 8th, 1802. See Steevens's catalogue, No. 1791. This copy of this most rare book was bought by Clark, probably for Mr. Beckford, for six guineas. Another copy was sold at the sale of the late Mr. Tyssen's books, Dec. 17th, 1801 (with other Tracts on the same subject . . .)."

FICHETUS, GUIL. [On folio 1a.] Guillermi Ficheti Aluetani, artium & theologiæ parisiensis doctoris, rhetoricorum libroꝝ præfatio. [At the end] In Parisioꝝ Sorbona conditæ Fichetæ rhetoricæ finis. [Sine ullâ notâ.] 4to. BR. M.

One of the earliest books printed at Paris by the three Germans who introduced the art of typography into that city in 1471. The date is fixed by the letters which the author addressed to different eminent men to accompany his book. That to the Archbishop of Lyons is subscribed: "Scriptum impressumq; anno uno & septuagesimo q̄dringentesimo supra millesimum." The corrections of the press throughout the volume are rather numerous, and have been made by erasure with a knife, the alterations being inserted with the pen—an evidence of a very primitive condition of the art of printing. This is not peculiar to this copy, for the same method of correction has been employed in the copy printed on vellum, and presented to Pope Sixtus IV., which is now in the British Museum.

FIERABRAS. [Colophon.] Cy finist Fierabras Imprime a Lyon par maistre Guillaume le roy. Le cinquiesme Jour du mois de Juilliet [s. d.] Deo gracias. Folio. Black letter. Woodcuts. G. M.

This edition, printed with long lines and consisting of 108 leaves, was evidently described by Brunet from this copy, which he mentions as being advertised in M. Techener's "Bulletin du Bibliophile," in 1853. It was purchased by Mr. Roupell from M. Techener, and was acquired at the sale of Mr. Roupell's library. When M. Brunet published the 4th edition of his "Manuel," in 1842, he knew of the existence of this edition only by its being mentioned by the Abbé St. Leger as belonging to the Library of the Academy at Lyons. It is by no means improbable that this is the copy formerly in that institution, for it is somewhat significant that in the 5th edition of the "Manuel du Libraire," M. Brunet omits all mention of a copy being there, and a letter lately addressed to the librarian, inquiring if the book was still in the library, has remained unanswered. It would appear therefore to be the only copy known of this edition.

This edition of this once popular book is not mentioned by Brunet, but it is nevertheless one of the most valuable on account of the very beautiful woodcuts, of the Florentine school, twenty-two in number, with which it is illustrated. It consists of forty leaves. a—e in eights.

FIORETTO & vanto de Paladini. [Senz'alcuna data.] 4to. BR. M.

This edition consists of eight leaves. The above title is printed in large letters over a woodcut, which occupies the whole of the page. It was probably printed at Florence early in the sixteenth century.

FIRDOUSI. Shah Nameh or Book of the Persian Kings. Folio. Y. M.

A splendidly written MS. in the Persian Talik character, enriched with five anwans and twenty-nine large paintings, executed with the highest finish. Probably written about the beginning of the seventeenth century.

FIRE. An Account of the Fire at New-prison by Clerkenwel, whereby the greatest part of that House was burnt down on Friday Night May the 9th 1679. A—Z in eights and fours alternately, and ¶, 6 leaves.

A remarkably fine copy, in old English calf binding of the end of the seventeenth century, from the library of Sir John Hynde Cotton, Bart., with his book-plate. An edition of 1505, from the press of Pynson, is erroneously described by some bibliographers as being in the Hunterian Museum, Glasgow. The Hunterian copy is of the impression of 1510. The volume was printed five times—viz., W. de Worde, 1508, 1509, 1525; R. Pynson, 1510; T. Marsh, 1555.

Also the manner of seruing and taking vp a Table: With diuers godly Prayers for Mornings and Euenings; and certaine new Graces: very necessarie to be vsed both of old and young. Newly corrected and augmented, By W. F. Imprinted at London by W. W. for William Iones and are to be sold at his house at the signe of the Gunne neare Holborne Conduict. 1609. Sm. 8vo. Black letter.*

A—E in eights, including the title. Presented by J. O. Phillipps, Esq., 7th of February, 1876.

Dedicated "To the vertuous and towardly young Gentleman, Maister Edward Harington, Sonne and Heire to the worshipfull M. James Harington of Ridlington in Rutland, Esquire." This appears to be the earliest edition known of this curious little volume, and of this edition no other copy appears to be recorded. In Mr. Hazlitt's "Handbook" is described an edition twenty years later, and he has placed it under the name of Francis Seager as the author. In default of knowing who was the author of the French original, the volume may fairly be assigned to W. Fiston.

In his preface, he says: "Now having of late happened vpon a little Booke in French, concerning Childrens manners, I hauing more leysure then I well liked, thought good to expell my languishing idlenes, by translating, and (in places needfull) correcting, this Treatise which I haue intituled an A. B. C. or, the first Schoole of good manners."

FITES, ALIAS FITZ, SIR JOHN. A Narrative of the bloody Murders committed by him, 1605, with an account of his Suicide at Twickenham. To which is added the Revelation of two horrible Murders done in Lincolnshire, made known in 1604. From the Original Editions. Edited by J. O. Halliwell. London, 1860. 8vo.

Twenty-six copies printed.

FITZHERBERT, J. Svrveyinge. An. M.D. XXXIX. [Colophon.] Londini in ædibus Thomę Bertheleti typis impress. Cum priuilegio ad imprimendum solum. Anno. M. D. XXXIX. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. G. M.

A—H in eights. Herbert's copy. From Mr. Corser's library.

It is probable that Herbert acquired this volume after the publication of the "Typographical Antiquities," as it is not fully described in that work, nor marked as though it were in his possession.

— The Boke of Hvsbandry. Newly prynted Anno domini . 1548. [Colophon.] Imprynted at London in fletestrete in the house of Thomas Berthelet, nere to the condite at the sygne of Lucrece. Cum priuilegio. Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A—M in eights.

A fine copy, with proof leaves, of a rare edition of the earliest work on the subject of Husbandry in the English language. The Rev. Joseph Hunter was the first to point out that the author of this work and the book on surveying was a different person from the eminent judge of the same name. It is evident from the preface quoted by Herbert, p. 448, that Berthelet, the printer, believed the writer on surveying and agriculture to be identical with the judge.

FITZ-RALPH, RICHARD, ARCHBISHOP OF ARMAGH. Defensorium curatorum. [Heading of folio a ii.] Defensorium curatorum contra eos qui priuilegiatos se dicunt. [Sine loco aut anno.] 4to.

a—c in eights; d, 4 leaves.

This is the edition indicated by Hain, No. 13672. He had not, however, seen the book himself, but took the title from the Pinelli catalogue. The two editions mentioned by Hain, Nos. 13673 and 13674, have no existence. The copy here described was probably printed at Paris before 1496, and is consequently the first edition. To Panzer it was quite unknown, and Ware knew of no edition earlier than that of Paris, 1633. The author became Archbishop of Armagh in 1347, and died in 1360. This book, which is directed against the begging friars, involved him in much trouble, as detailed by Ware, vol. i., pp. 81-83.

derni Scoti, nuper Editam. . . Antverpiæ. Apud Hermannum Copman.
1621. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preface, 2 leaves; pp. 1-121.

This must be the book of which Ware remarks, "He also wrote a treatise proving that Ireland was called Scotia. But I doubt whether it was ever published."
—Writers of Ireland, p. 119.

FIVE Strange and wonderfull Propheties and Predictions of severall men foretold long since. All which are likely to come to passe in these our distracted times. [1651.] 4to.

In verse.

No place, printer's name, or date, and published without a regular title.

FIVE Strange Wonders in the North and West of England: as they were communicated to divers Honourable Members of Parliament from several Countrey Gentlemen and Ministers; concerning the strange and prodigious flying in the Air of a Black Coffin betwixt Leicester and Nottingham, on Sabbath day last was a fortnight, with a flaming Arrow and a Bloody Sword, casting forth streams of Fire, to the great wonder and astonishment of many Hundreds of People that beheld the sparkling and glittering Rays as far as Newark, Beaver, Loughborough, Melton, and divers other places: With a Conjecturation thereupon, what these dreadful Signs from Heaven, may denote and signifie to the People on Earth this present Summer. Likewise, the great and wonderfull Warlike Prodigies, which appeared over Marston-Moor, near the City of York, between two fiery or flaming Pillars. And the three Monstrous Creatures found in three Eggs, laid by one Hen bought in Exeter Market one Night, wherein was found a Serpent, a Cockatrice, and a Toad. Together with the opening of the Skie in a fearful manner over Standish town five miles from Gloucester, and the appearing of a terrible fiery shaking Sword from the Heavens, with its Point downward towards the Earth. . . .
London, Printed for W. Thomas, 1659. 4to.

Four leaves.

This professes to be the narrative of an eye-witness, who entered it upon record "in the Original Mirrour, or London Looking Glass."

FLACIUS ILLYRICUS, vulgò FRANOWITZ. Historia certaminum inter Romanos Episcopos et sextā Carthaginensem synodum, Africanasq; Ecclesias, de primatu seu potestate Papæ, bona fide ex authenticis monumentis collecta. Basileæ. [1554.] Sm. 8vo. R. M.

One hundred and seven leaves, including title, besides fourteen leaves of index. From the collection of Girardot de Préfond.

[O. O. u. F.] Sm. 8vo. R. M.

From the collection of Girardot de Préfond.

FLACOURT, SIEUR DE. Histoire de la grande Isle Madagascar. . . . Aucc vñe Relation de ce qui s'est passé és années 1655. 1656. & 1657. non encor veuë par la premiere impression. A Troyes, chez Nicolas Oudot, et se vendent a Paris. . . . 1661. 4to.

Title and preliminaries, 12 leaves; pp. 1-471. Second title and 4 leaves of table not paged. Between pp. 202-3 is a leaf entitled, "Avant-propos du seconde Liure," a second title and 4 leaves of table. Two maps and twelve plates.

FLATMAN, THOMAS. Poems and Songs. By Thomas Flatman. London, Printed by S. and B. G. for Benjamin Took at the Ship in St. Pauls Church-yard . . . 1674. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A, 6 leaves, title on A 2; (a), 8 leaves; . . . 4 leaves; B—K 6 in eights.

First edition. In this volume there is a poem, p. 41, entitled "The Dying Christian to his Soul," which has evidently been copied by Pope.

— Poems and Songs, by Thomas Flatman. The Fourth Edition, With many Additions and Amendments. London, Printed for Benjamin Tooke, at the Ship in St. Paul's Church-Yard. 1686. Sm. 8vo. Thick paper.

Portrait, title, and preliminaries, 24 leaves. B—T 4 in eights.

This copy is the only one known on thick paper. It belonged to Mr. W. Pickering, the eminent publisher, and has the fly leaves, &c., occupied by MS. notes in his handwriting, relative to the author. An account of Flatman, who, like his contemporary Anne Killigrew, was both poet and artist, may be found in Walpole's "Anecdotes of Painting in England."

FLECKNOE, RICHARD. Miscellania. Or, Poems of all sorts, with divers other pieces. Written by Richard Fleckno. Dedicated to the most excellent of her Sexe. London, Printed by T. R. for the author, 1653. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—I in eights.

— The Diarium, or Journall: Divided into 12. Jornadas in Burlesque Rhime, or Drolling Verse, With divers other pieces of the same Author. London, Printed for Henry Herringman at the sign of the Anchor in the lower walk of the New-Exchange. 1656. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—H 4 in eights.

This journal, which was evidently written in emulation of Brathwaite's "Barnabee Itinerarum," is dedicated "To all true lovers of Mirth and Wit." In the address to the reader, the writer observes: "Now if you ask me why I prefix not my name to this, as well as to my other works: besides, that I count it the slightest of them all, 'tis because those I printed only to communicate to my private friends, but intending to make this more publique, and hating to have my name lie glaring on Book-sellers stalls, I have purposely suppressed it here; yet so, as I care not (for satisfying thy curiosity) to take thee aside from the Title-page, & tell thee my name is Richard Fleckno." FLECKNOE, RICHARD. Enigmaticall Characters, all Taken to the Life, from severall Persons, Humours, & Dispositions. By Rich. Fleckno. Anno Dom. 1658. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 4 leaves; B—K in eights.

— Rich. Flecknoe's Ænigmatiſtical Characters. Being Rather a new Work, then new Impression of the old. London, Printed by R. Wood, for the Author, in the Year 1665. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—I 4 in eights, the last leaf blank.

This edition, as the title intimates, varies very considerably from the prior one of 1658. It is the larger of those printed in 1665, there having been two distinct issues of the book this year. Mr. Corser's copy.

— Heroick Portraits with other Miscellary [sic] Pieces, Made, and Dedicate to his Majesty. By Rich. Flecknoe. London, Printed by Ralph Wood, for the Author. 1660. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—I 4 in eights.

Dedicated to the King. The "other miscellary pieces" partly consist of non-heroic portraits, as "The Portrait of Lvsette, my Ladies half-Gentlewoman," "The Picture of a Fine, Nice Dame," &c. The Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica copy, with the autograph and MS. notes of T. Park. Subsequently in the library of Mr. Corser. Mr. Park notes on the fly-leaf: "No part of this Collection appears to be printed in the other publications of R. F. Oldham ranges Fleckno among those whom our forefathers had in great esteem.—Satyres, p. 169, 1694. At the end of these Portraits see one of the author delineated by himself."

— S^r William D'avenant's Voyage to the Other World: With His Adventures in the Poets Elizium. A Poetical Fiction. London, Printed for the Author, 1668. Sm. 8vo.

Seven leaves.

The only other copy which has occurred was one formerly in the Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica and Mr. Corser's collection, and now in the British Museum. But a third copy is in the Bodleian.

— Epigrams of all Sorts. I. Book. Written by Richard Flecknoe. London, Printed for the Author. 1669. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves, title on A 2; B—D in eights.

— Epigrams of all sorts, Made at divers times On several occasions. By Richard Flecknoe. London: Printed for the Author, and Will. Crook, at the Green-dragon without Temple-bar. 1670. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—H in eights.

FLECKNOE, RICHARD. Epigrams. Of all sorts, Made at several times, on Several Occasions. By Richard Flecknoe. Being rather a New Work, than a New Impression of the Old. London, Printed for the Author, 1671. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—H in eights, except G, which has only six leaves.
This edition is not mentioned by bibliographers.

— Euterpe Revived. Or, Epigrams Made at several Times, in the years 1672, 1673, & 1674 On persons of the greatest Honour and Quality, Most of them now living. In III Books. Printed at London, And are to be sold by the Booksellers of London and Westminster. 1675. Sm. 8vo.

A—M in fours.

Among the subject matter of the Epigrams in this volume are verses to Henry Jermyn, Sir Peter Lely, the Duke and Duchess of Newcastle, Mrs. Stuart, Sir Kenelm Digby, Edmund Waller, Dryden, and Richard Burbage the actor, on Tannakin Slincker, the hog-faced gentlewoman, &c.

— A Treatise of the Sports of Wit. Omne tulit . . . Hor. Printed for the Author, 1675. Inquire for them at Simon Neals at the Three Pidgcons in Bedfordstreet in Coven-Garden. Sm. 8vo. The edges uncut.

A—B, 4 leaves each; , 4 leaves; , 6 leaves; *, , and , 4 leaves each, altogether 30 leaves. In verse and prose.

A very curious volume, of which the only other copy known is at Bridgewater House. See it described by Collier ("Bibl. Cat.," i., pp. 285-6).

It is believed that no collection, public or private, possesses a complete series of Flecknoe's small books, many of which appear to have been printed for presentation to patrons, and probably in very limited numbers.

FLEETWOOD, WILLIAM. An Unhappy View of the Whole behaviour of my Lord Duke of Buckingham, at the French Island, called the Isle of Rhee. Discovered By Colonell William Fleetwood, an unfortunate Commander in that untoward Service. London, Printed for R. Smith. 1648. 4to.

A—B in fours.

FLEMING, ABRAHAM. A Panoplie of Epistles, Or, a looking Glasse for the vnlearned. Conteyning a perfecte platforme of inditing letters of all sorts, to persons of al estates and degrees, as well our superiours, as also our equalls and inferiours: vsed of the best and the eloquentest Rhetoricians that haue liued in all ages, and haue beene famous in that facultie. Gathered and translated out of Latine into English, by Abraham Flemming. Imprinted at London, for Ralph Newberie, dwelling in Fletestrete a litle about the great Conduite. Anno à Virgineo partu 1576. 4to. Black letter. . BL. M.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves. A—X and Aa—Gg in eights.

Dedicated to "Syr William Cordell knight, Maister of the Queenes Maiesties Rolles," &c. The volume begins with selections from Cicero's Epistles, and ends with letters of Roger Ascham. The last is addressed to King Philip of Spain on the occasion of his coming to England. It is dated from Ludgate prison, "Out of bondes and imprisonment, the 18. of Aug. 1554," the writer being confined for debt. He prays the King to compound the debt for which he and twenty-nine others are confined, saying that two thousand pounds will be taken in payment for ten thousand.

FLEMING, ABRAHAM. A Bright Burning Beacon, forewarning all wise Virgins to trim their lampes against the comming of the Bridegroom. Containing A generall doctrine of sundrie signes and wonders, specially Earthquakes both particular and generall: A discourse of the end of this world: A commemoration of our late Earthquake, the 6. of April, about 6. of the clocke of the euening 1580. And a praier for the appeasing of Gods wrath and indignation. Newly translated and collected by Abraham Fleming [Colophon.] 1580. Imprinted at London by Henrie Denham. . . . Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A—Q in fours.

Dedicated to Sir William Cordell, Master of the Rolls. Mr. Halliwell's copy, with a MS. memorandum as to the earthquake of April 6, 1580, being the one referred to in "Romeo and Juliet."

FLETCHER, GILES. Of the Rvsse Common Wealth. Or, Maner of Gouvernement by the Russe Emperour, (commonly called the Emperour of Moskouia) with the manners, and fashions of the people of that Country. The Contents are noted in the Table, set downe before the beginning of the Booke. At London Printed by T. D. for Thomas Charde. 1591. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 4 leaves, first blank; B—Q 4 in eights.

From the dedication to the Queen we learn that Fletcher, who had been sent as English envoy to Russia, prepared his notes during his stay in that country, and employed himself, on his return journey, in throwing them into the form in which they appeared. The book and dedication are alike severe on the Russians and their ruler, and it was accordingly suppressed. A second edition was printed in 1643, and it is also included in the Hakluyt Society's series.

FLETCHER, GILES, the younger. Christ's Victorie, and Triumph in Heauen, and Earth, over, and after death. Cambridge Printed by C. Legge, 1610. 4to. BL. M.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; A—L 2 in fours. The separate title to the second part is on F 4.

First edition. Dedicated by the author to Dr. Nevile, Dean of Canterbury, and Master of Trinity College, Cambridge. With commendatory verses by Phineas Fletcher and F. Nethersole.

— Christ's Victorie and Triumph in Heaven, and Earth, over and after Death. The second edition. Cambridge: Printed for Francis Green. 1632. 4to.

A, 4 leaves, the first blank; T, 4 leaves; A (repeated)—L 2 in fours.

FLETCHER, GILES, the younger. Christ's Victory and Trivmph, in Heaven, and Earth, over and after Death. Wherein is lively figured His Birth, Circumcision, Baptisme, Temptation, Passion, Resurrection, Assention. In foure divine Poems. Cambridge. Printed by Roger Daniel, for Richard Royston. 1640. 4to. R. M.

A, 4 leaves, title on A 2; ¶, 4 leaves; A (repeated)—L 2 in fours. F 4 was blank. This edition is illustrated by seven engravings the size of the page, by George Yate, depicting incidents in the life of the Saviour, with explanatory verses beneath.

FLETCHER, JOHN. The Woman Hater. As it hath beene lately Acted by the Children of Paules. London Printed, and are to be sold by John Hodgets in Paules Church-yard. 1607. 4to.

A—K in fours. First edition, of the greatest rarity. The present copy is uncut, but has portions of two leaves restored. No copy is in the British Museum, and that in the Dyce collection is defective. Lowndes only cites the Rhodes copy. Yet two impressions appeared in 1607, the second varying in the imprint, and presenting some corrections, as pointed out by Mr. Dyce in his edition of Beaumont and Fletcher.

— The Two Noble Kinsmen: Presented at the Blackfriars by the Kings Maiesties servants, with great applause: Written by the memorable Worthies of their time; Mr. John Fletcher, and Mr. William Shakspeare. Gent. Printed at London by Tho. Cotes, for John Waterson: and are to be sold at the signe of the Crowne in Pauls Church-yard. 1634. 4to. G. M.

A—N i in fours, besides the title-page.

This drama, which is founded on Chaucer's "Knight's Tale," is now generally allowed to have been partly written by Shakespeare.

— Monsiev'r Thomas A Comedy. Acted at the Private House in Blacke Fryers. The Author, Iohn Fletcher, Gent. London, Printed by Thomas Harper, for Iohn Waterson 1639. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—N i in fours besides the title.

Dedicated by Richard Brome, the editor, to Master Charles Cotton (the elder).

— The Tragoedy of Rollo Duke of Normandy. Acted by His Majesties servants. Written by John Fletcher Gent. Oxford, Printed by Leonard Lichfield Printer to the Vniversity. Anno 1640. 4to.

A—K 2 in fours.

In that very interesting tract, James Wright's "Historia Histrionica," 1699, it is said that this drama was acted "in the winter before the Kings Murder, 1648," and that the soldiers stopped the performances.

— Rvle a Wife And have a Wife. A Comoedy. Acted by His Majesties Servants. Written by John Fletcher Gent. Oxford, Printed by Leonard Lichfield Printer to the Vniversity. Anno 1640. 4to.

A—I in fours.

FLETCHER, JOHN. The Night-Walker, Or The Little Theife. A Comedy, As it was presented by her Majesties Servants, at the Private House in Drury Lane. Written by John Fletcher, Gent. London, Printed by Tho. Cotes, for Andrew Crooke, and William Cooke. 1640. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—K in fours. Dedicated by A[ndrew] C[rooke?] to William Hudson, Esq.

This drama, it appears, was left incomplete by the author at his death in 1625, and was finished or corrected by Shirley in 1633. See Dyce's "Beaumont and Fletcher," xi., 123. It is evident that additions were made, as in one place, for instance, is a reference to Prynne's "Histriomastix," which was not printed till 1633.

FLETCHER, JOSEPH. The Historic of the Perfect—Cursed—Blessed Man: Setting-forth Mans Excellencie Miseric Felicitie by his Generation, Degeneration, Regeneration. By I. F. Master of Arts, Preacher of Gods Word, and Rector of Wilbie in Suff. London, Printed by M. Flesher, and are to be sold at the signe of the Greyhound in Pauls Church-yard. 1628. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—N in fours, after which comes an engraving and a leaf of verses unmarked. There are five other engravings, which count in the sheets. In verse. Dedicated to Sir Anthony Wingfield. From the collections of Mr. Jolley and Mr. Corser.

— The Historie of the Perfect-Cursed-Blessed Man: Setting forth Mans Excellency . . . London, Printed for Nathanael Fosbrook, and are to be sold at his shop in Popes-head-alley neere to Lombard-street. 1629. 4to. BL. M.

Title and frontispiece, 2 leaves; B—N in fours; and at the end a plate with a leaf containing verses.

Only one other copy of this date, and that not perfect, seems to be known. It occurred at Mr. Inglis's sale. Of the original edition three copies have occurred, one being inlaid.

FLETCHER, PHINEAS. Locvstæ, vel Pietas Iesvitica. Per Phineam Fletcher . . . Apud Thomam & Ioannem Becke . . . Anno Dom. 1627. The Locvsts, or Apollyonists. By Phineas Fletcher of Kings Colledge in Cambridge. Printed by Thomas Becke and John Becke, Printers to the Vniversitie of Cambridge. 1627. 4to.

¶, 3 leaves; A—N 2 in fours.

The English and Latin versions have separate dedications, the former to Lady Townshend, the latter to Sir Roger.

— The Purple Island, or The Isle of Man: together with Piscatorie Eclogs and other Poeticall Miscellanies. By P. F. ¶ Printed by the Printers to the Universitie of Cambridge. 1633. 4to. Large paper. R. M.

¶, 4 leaves, the first blank; ¶¶, 4 leaves; A—Z in fours, the last leaf blank. "Piscatorie Eclogs" (with a new title), A—L in fours, besides title-page; M—N, 2 leaves each; O—R in fours.

On the back of the title is a copper-plate engraving, which displays two coats of arms, one being that of Edward Benlowes, to whom the volume is dedicated, the other is probably that of the author. Facing this is inserted a folding portrait of Benlowes taken from his "Theophila." On the back of the title to the "Piscatorie Eclogs" is pasted an emblematical plate, headed "Charissimo E. B. P. Fletcher," with Latin verses at the foot. Opposite to this is another emblematical engraving, with an anagram on "Edward Benlowes," and verses in English addressed to him. From Sir W. Tite's library.

There is in the library another copy on large paper, but that has not the emblematical plate with English verses.

FLETCHER, PHINEAS. Sicelides A Piscatory. As it hath beene Acted in Kings Colledge, in Cambridge. London, Printed by I. N. for William Sheares . . . 1631. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—L in fours.

For some particulars respecting this work, written many years before its publication, see Halliwell's "Dictionary of Old Plays," 1860, p. 226.

— A Fathers Testament. Written long since for the benefit of the particular Relations of the Authour, Phin. Fletcher; Sometime Minister of the Gospel at Hillgay in Norfolk. And now made Publick at the desire of Friends. [Two quotations from Proverbs.] London, Printed by R. White, for Henry Mortlock, &c. 1670. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—Q 4 in eights, including two leaves of advertisements.

FLITNER, JOANNES. Nebulo Nebulonvm, hoc est: Ioco-seria Vernaculæ nequitiae Censura, carmine Iambico depicta tipisq; exornata æneis. Secundo editæ a Joanne Coopmans Leorwerdicense. 1636. Sm. 8vo. Plates. Y. M.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves; pp. 1-183.

— Nebulo Nebulonum . . . annis abhinc centum censore Murnero rhythmis Germanicis edita, deinde vero iambico dimetro carmine amicta, & Latinitate donata, à Joanne Flitnero. Francofurti ad Mænum Sumptibus Georgii Fickwirtii. 1663. Sm. 8vo. Plates. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves; pp. 1-165.

The plates to this edition are quite different from those in the edition of 1636.

FLODDEN-FIELD. Floddan Field in Nine Fits being An exact History of that Famous memorable Battle fought between English and Scots on Floddan-Hill in the Time of Henry the Eighth Anno 1513. Worthy the Perusal of the English Nobility. London, Printed by P. L. for H. B. W. P. and S. H. and are to be sold in Ivy-lanc and Grays-Inn gate 1664. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Title-page and imprimatur, 2 leaves; B—G 4 in eights.

FLÖIA cortum versicale, de flois swartibus, illis deiriculis, quæ omnes ferè Minschos, Mannos, Weibras, Jungfras, &c. behüppere, & spitzibus Schnaffis steckere & bitere solent. Autore Gripholdo Knickknackio ex Floilandia. [s. l.] Anno 1627. 4to. R. M.

Four leaves, besides a frontispiece.

Dr. Graesse quotes the editions of 1593, 1614, and 1635, in 8vo, of this macaronic production; but this 4to edition appears to be undescribed.

FLOR de las meiores doce Comedias, de los mayores Ingenios de España, sacadas de sus verdaderos originales. Madrid, Por Diego Diaz de la Carrera. 1652. 4to.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves; sigs. A—Hh 4 in eights.

FLORES, JUAN DE. La hystoria d' Grisel y Mirabella cõ la disputa de Torrellas y Braçayda La q̄l compuso Juã de flores a su amiga. [Colophon.] Fue emprendido en la muy noble & muy leal ciudad de Siuilla: por Juan varela de Salamãca. Año de mill y quinientos & eatorze [1514] a veynte ocho dias del mes. de Agosto. 4to.

Twenty-four leaves; a—c in eights.

This edition appears to be entirely unknown to bibliographers. The earliest known to Brunet was that printed at Seville by Cromberger in 1524. An edition of the fifteenth century, but without place or date, is cited by Señor Gayangos in his "Libros de Caballeria," p. lxxix. Señor Gallardo appears to have omitted the author entirely from his "Biblioteca Española."

— The Historie of Avrelio and of Isabell, doughter of the kinge of Schotlande, nyeuley translatede In foure langagies, Frenche, Italien, Spanishe, and Inglishe. Cum gratia & priuilegio. [Colophon.] Fue Impressa en la muy noble villa de Anuers, en casa de Iuan Steelsio, Año de M.D.LVI. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A—Q 4 in eights, Q 4 blank.

First edition. Dedicated by the translator to Margaret Volschaten, of whom a woodcut portrait is on the back of the title. Following the dedication are some verses to this lady, her sister, and to André Volschaten, probably her father. From the rude style of the English version it is evident that the translator had a very limited knowledge of the language.

FLORES Musice omnis cātus Gregoriani. [Colophon.] Im̄p̄ssum Argētine ꝑ Johannem pryss. Anno Mcccclxxxviii. 4to.

Ninety-seven leaves.

Hain, 7174. Brunet gives a very long account of this curious volume, but neither he nor Panzer seems to have known of a separate folding leaf, which in this copy is placed between D 2. and D 3. It begins, "Hec est dispositio monocordi." Hain notes two sorts of copies, one with and the other without a woodcut on folio 97. This copy has the woodcut.

FLORES Y BLANCAFLOR. Historia de Flores y Blancaflor. Impressa en Alcalá de Henares en casa de Juan Gracian que sea en gloria año. 1604. 4to.

Twenty-eight leaves. Señor Salvá quotes three editions of the sixteenth century, but the only edition in his collection was the chapbook version described in the next article.

FLORES Y BLANCAFLOR. Historia de Flores, y Blanca Flor, y su descendencia, y amores, y quantos peligros pasaron, siendo Flores Moro, y Blanca Flor christiana. [s. l. n. a.] 4to.

FLORIMENE. The Argvment of the Pastorall of Florimene; with the Discription of the Scœnes and Intermedij. Presented by the Queenes Maiesties Commandment, before the Kings Maiesty in the Hall at White-hall, on S. Thomas day the 21. of December. 1635. London: Printed for Thomas Walkley, neere White-hall. 1635. 4to.

A—C 2 in fours.

This is the "Argument" only, as the title states; the piece itself was in French, and was licensed by Sir Henry Herbert, 14th December, 1635. Two drawings illustrating the performance are in the British Museum, among the Lansdowne MSS. (No. 1171). The scenery and machinery were by Inigo Jones.

FLORIO, M. A. *Historia de la vita e de la morte de l'Illustriss. Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves; pp. 1-378; table, 15 leaves.

FLORISEL DI NIQUEA. See Amadis de Gaul.

FLORUS. Lucij Annei Flori Epitomatum in Titum Livium liber primus. [Sine loco aut anno.] Folio.

This edition of fifty-eight leaves, with thirty-three lines to a page, is attributed by Hain, No. 7197, to the press of N. Jenson or Franciscus de Hailbrun at Venice.

— Lucij ānei flori epitoma idest abbreviatio de cursu ac statu romanoꝝ a fundacōne vrbis p romulū vsq; ad augustū. cōtinēs 4 libros incipit feli. [On folio 24 b, col. 2.] Explicit lucij annei flori liber quartus, &c. [On folio 29 b, col. 1.] Explicit libell^o de cōmedacōe impii rōni. [Sine loco aut anno.] Folio. BR. M.

Twenty-nine leaves, with forty-six lines to the page.

Attributed by Hain, No. 7199, to the press of Arnold Therhoernen, of Cologne.

— Epitome Historiæ Romanæ. Lugd. Bat. apud Elsevirios. 1638. Sm. 8vo.

A—D in sixes, including the title, table, &c.; A (repeated)—Xx in sixes, with W. de Worde's device on the last page.

Herbert mentions an edition of 1509; but he had only copied the title from the Harleian Catalogue, and it appears doubtful if any such edition exists. In describing the edition of 1521, Herbert says: "The only intimation we have of the translator is enigmatically represented on the back of the last leaf by a covered waggon, having CHERTSEY on the tilt . . . We are more expressly assured that the translator was Andrew Chertsey by Rob. Copland's prologue to the Passion of our Lord Jesu Cryst, printed the year before" [1520].

Four leaves.

FOLLY in Print, or, A Book of Rymes.

*Whoever buyes this Book will say,
There's so much Money thrown away;
The Author thinks you are to blame,
To buy a Book without a Name;
And to say truth, it is so bad,
A worse is no where to be had.*

London, Printed in the year, 1667. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; B—K 4 in eights.

It appears from passages at pp. 24 and 77 that this book was written by a person whose Christian name was Keymund. The present was Mr. Mitford's copy.

FOOLES OF FATE, The: Or, The unravelling of the Parliament and Army. Printed in the year 1648. 4to.

Four leaves. In verse and prose.

Attributed, on very slender grounds, to Taylor the Water-poet.

A—Bb in fours, the first leaf marked only A.

The only copy known of this edition. There were earlier impressions, but they are known only by fragments. From George Steevens's library. After the dedication follow some lines by R. K. "in praise of the Author." The volume is in fine clean state, with many rough leaves.

— The Famous History of Montelion, Knight of the Oracle London, Printed by A. P. for W. Thackeray and T. Passinger. . . . 1673. 4to. Black letter.

A—Aa in fours, including the frontispiece.

In the inventory of the stock of John Foster, the York bookseller, 1616 (Davies's "York Press," 1868, p. 363), occurs : "One Montillion, vij^d."

— The Most Pleasant History of Ornatvs and Artesia. Wherein is contayned the vniust Raigne of Theon King of Phrygia London. Printed by B. Alsop and T. Fawcet, dwelling in Grub-street neere the Lower-Pumpe. 1634. 4to. Black letter.

A—R in fours, first leaf marked only A. Dedicated to the Right Worshipful Bryan Stapleton, of Carleton, co. York.

From George Steevens's collection.

Leybourne, for William Grantham . . . and Thomas Bassett . . . 1661.* Sm. 8vo.

A—Cc 4 in eights, besides the general title given above and a portrait of Charles I.

It is doubtful whether the portrait belongs to the volume; it does not occur in the copy in the British Museum. There are separate titles to the respective parts. Among the "Familiar Letters" is one to Mr. R. R., in which Ford refers to a work by the former, called "A New Forest." No such book, however, appears to be recorded.

FORM und gestalt wie der kinder tauff, Des herren Nachtmal, vnd der Kranckenheym suchung, jetz zu Basel von etlichẽ Predicanten gehalten werden. [O. O.] 1526. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

Translated out of Latine into English for there sakes that vnderstand no Latine by I. B. [Quotation from Acts ix.] M.D.LXVI. Sm. 8vo. R. M. a, 4 leaves; A—E 2 in eights, E 2 blank.

The contents of this volume are taken from Erasmus, Melanchthon, Bucer, &c., and it contains also "The iudgement of Maister Jhon Alasco of remouing the vse of singular apparell in the Chirch ministerie," thirteen pages, which does not seem to have been published elsewhere. From the library of Dr. Bliss.

FORTUNATUS. [Colophon.] Gedruckt vnd vollendt in der kayserlichen statt Augspurg. 1518. 4to. Woodcuts. G. M.

This edition appears to have been unknown, not only to Brunet, but also to Panzer, Ebert, and Graesse. It consists of eighty-six leaves without pagination. Panzer, speaking of the edition of 1509, says, "Die Geschichte ist kürzlich diese. Fortunatus, ein Edler aus Cypem, der in der Fremde in grosses Elend kam, erhält in cinem Walde von Fortuna einen Seckel, dem es nie an Geld mangelte. Mit demselben reisete er in der Welt herum, und kam endlich zu dem künig soldan gen alkeyr, dem er das Wünschhütlein heimlich entführet. Beyde Stücke hinterliess er seinen beiden Söhnen, die Ampedo und Andolosia hiessen, deren Schicksale erzählt werden. Das Resultat ist, dass alweg vernunft und weissheit für alle schätz diser welt zu begehren und zu erwölen sind."

FORTUNE'S TENNIS BALL: An Early English Metrical Version of the Foundation Story of Shakespeare's Winter's Tale. Edited by James O. Halliwell . . . London . . . 1859. 4to.

Twenty-six copies printed. This is a poetical paraphrase, by S. S., of Greene's "Pandosto."

FOUILLOUX. La Venerie de Jacques du Fouilloux . . . Avec Plusieurs Receptes & Remedes pour guerir les Chiens de diuerses maladies. Plus l'Adolescence de l'Autheur. A Poitiers, Par les de Marnefz, et Bouchetz, freres. [s. d.] 4to. Woodcuts. BR. M.

Whether this edition, or that dated 1561, is the earlier, appears to be uncertain. Brunet says, "C'est identiquement la même que celle de 1561; il n'y a que le bas du frontispice qui diffère."

FOUR LEAVES OF TRUELOVE. The. iiii. leues of the trueloue. [Colophon.] Emprented at London in Flete Strete at the sygne of the sonne by wynkyn de worde. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

A—B in fours. In verse.

A full and excellent account of this most rare piece is given by Mr. Collier in his "Bibliogr. Catal.," vol. i., pp. 293-4. He says, "We believe no more than a single copy is in existence." It is probable that his description was taken from this copy, which was successively in the libraries of Mr. Heber and Mr. Corser. To Ames and Herbert it was entirely unknown, and was described by Dibdin from this copy when in Mr. Heber's possession. By Dr. Dibdin the poem is styled "wretchedly dull," but Mr. Collier gives a much more favourable opinion of it.

FOX, GEORGE, JOHN STUBS, and BENJAMIN FURLEY. A Battle-Door for Teachers & Professors to learn Singular & Plural; You to Many, and Thou to One: Singular One, Thou; Plural Many, You. Wherein is shewed forth by Grammar, or Scripture Examples, how several Nations and People have made a distinction between Singular and Plural . . . Also, in this Book is set forth Examples of the Singular and Plural, about Thou, and You, in several Languages, divided into distinct Battle-Doors, or Formes, or Examples; English, Latine, Italian, Greek, Hebrew, Caldee . . . Saxon, Welch, Mence, Cornish, French, Spanish . . . In the latter part of this Book are contained several bad unsavoury Words, gathered forth of certain School-Books, which have been taught Boyes in England, which is a Rod and a Whip to the School-Masters in England and elsewhere who teach such Books. London, Printed for Robert Wilson, and are to be sold at his Shop at the Signe of the Black-Spread-Eagle and Wind-mil in Martins-le-Grand, 1660. Folio.

A—C, 2 leaves each; "The Ægyptian Language," &c., A—C, 2 leaves each; "The Welch Battle-Door," A—B, 2 leaves each; "The Spanish," A—C, 2 leaves each; "The French," A—E, 2 leaves each; "The German," &c., 3 leaves; "The Nether Dutch," followed by other languages which have not separate titles, 7 leaves, the last four pages of which are wrongly marked; Some Remarks on School-Books, &c., pp. 1-19; Contents, Errata, &c., pp. 4, which are not numbered; Examples taken from School-Books, pp. 1-28, p. 28 ending with a catchword Some.

With regard to the occurrence of the catchword just mentioned at the bottom of p. 28, it may be pointed out that it no doubt refers to the commencing word of the Remarks above specified, which begin "Something spoken to a Book," and should properly follow these 28 pages instead of preceding them as in this copy. The volume is in the finest condition, with rough leaves throughout.

There is in the library another copy, which contains two slips, separately printed, one of which is pasted on to the page of the errata:—

"More Errors espied since; which Correct as followeth."

The other is pasted on to the last leaf of the book:—

"The Pope set up you to one in his pride, and it is the pride which cannot bear thou and thee to one but must have, and would have you from the Author their Father in their pride, which must not have the word thou, which was before their Father the Pope was, which was Gods language, and will stand when the Pope is ended.

"The first edition of Fox's 'Acts and Monuments,' in which he received material assistance from Bp. Grindal, then at Strasburg. It contains Bp. Hooper's 'Appellatio ad Parlamentum ;'—'de Sacratissimæ cœnæ Domini uera doctrina, & legitimo usu contra Neotericos, ad excelsam Parlamenti curiam Anglicanam, illustre cum primis ac diuinum monumentum, è carcere conscriptum,' occupying from p. 299 to 392; together with other papers sent by Hooper to Bullinger, which, until lately discovered in this volume, were considered irrecoverably lost. There is also in this edition matter which was omitted in the translations. From the Proemium to lib. iii., it appears that the work owes its origin to the suggestion of the unfortunate Lady Jane Grey."—Note by Mr. C. F. Stewart.

First edition. There is no book in the English language more difficult to procure in a perfect state. Considerable alterations were made in the later editions, and some pieces of great importance omitted, but in this are preserved lists of prohibited books and other documents, which, but for being printed here, would have been lost.

With the exception of a small piece of the separate woodcut on E i having been cut off, this copy is entirely perfect. The woodcut on E i, and that between GGGg iii—iiii were wanting when the book was purchased, but the former was kindly presented by Mr. B. M. Pickering and the latter by the Earl of Crawford and Balcarres.

FRAGMENTS OF RARE BOOKS. A 4to volume, formerly in the possession of Sir John Fenn, but with additions since his time. It contains a variety of curious relics, among which may be enumerated:—

1. Leaf d (vi) of the portion of the "Book of St. Albans," folio, 1496, relating to Coat Armours.
2. Two leaves of sig. D, from Pynson's edition of Æsop's "Fables," printed in folio, about 1493, with woodcuts, of which this fragment has two.
3. Folios xxix., xxx., and xxxi. from Medwall's "Goodly Interlude of Nature," printed by John Rastell about 1510 in folio.
4. Leaf h ii from the romance of "Sir Bevis of Southampton." There are thirty-five lines to the page. Sm. folio. About 1520. It is not from Pynson's edition.
5. Three leaves, two belonging to sig. D, from "Sir Eglamore of Artois," 4to, probably the edition printed by John Waley. The type is much worn, and the paper poor. There are thirty-four lines to a page.
6. Three mutilated leaves belonging to the metrical "Life of St. Margaret," printed by Robert Redman about 1530. 4to.
7. A mutilated leaf from an early English edition of the "Gesta Romanorum," possibly W. de Worde's.
8. Leaf G i (much mutilated) of the metrical romance of "Sir Generides," and three other fragments belonging to the same book. Printed by Mr. Furnivall in his edition of the larger narrative for the Roxburghe Club, 1865.
9. Two mutilated leaves belonging to a Book of good manners, in English, French, and Dutch, probably printed about 1540.
10. A cropped leaf from a Dutch and French Conversation book of the beginning of the sixteenth century.
11. Portions of leaves, two of which are marked E i and E iii, of a poetical dialogue between Verity, Detraction, &c., upon the Reformation, the work of a Roman Catholic. Printed in England about 1540.

12. Three imperfect leaves of "Jacob and his Twelve Sons," an English poem. Probably from John Skot's edition, which appeared about 1540.
13. Portions of two leaves of Lydgate's "Life of our Lady," apparently the edition printed by R. Redman, 4to, 1531.
14. Three leaves, being part of "Preface" (in verse) and D iii-v, of an unknown edition in octavo of Thomas Howell's "New Sonnets and Pretty Pamphlets."
15. An information and Peticion agaynst the oppressours of the poore Commons of thys Realme, compiled and Imprinted for this onely purpose that amongst those that haue to doe in the Parliamente some godlye mynded men, may hereat take occation to speake more in the matter then the Authour was able to wryte. [Quotation from Esay, lviii.] Imprinted at London by John Daye, dwellyng in Sepulchres parish at the signe of the Resurrectiō a lylle about Holbourne Conduite. [1548.] By Robert Crowley; a fragment consisting of the title and three other leaves. There should be fourteen.
16. A Poste with a Packet of Mad Letters. Newly Imprinted. London, Printed for John Marriot. 1634. [By Nicolas Breton.] 4to. The title-page only, with an engraving on it.
17. The pnostication of maister Adrian of arte and medicine doctour moost expert maister and excellēt in astronomy. For the yere of our lorde. M. D. .xx. Cū privilegio a regia maiestate idulto. 4to. The title-page, with an engraving occupying the greater part. The text commences on the back. Not in Herbert. Apparently from the press of Pynson.
18. Ioannis Genesisii Sepvlvedæ Cordvbensis Artivm et Theologiæ Doctoris, de Ritv nuptiarum & dispensatione Libri tres. Excusum Londini in Ædibus Ioannis Carvodi, typographi Regiæ Maiestatis. Anno 1553. Mense Nouembris. 4to. Not in Herbert.
19. Sixe Spiritvall Bookes; Fvll of Merveilovs Pietie and Devotion. And, certaine Devout and Godlie Petitions, commonlie called, The Iesvs Psalter. At Doway, By Iohn Heigham. Anno 1618. Sm. 8vo. Plates. No other copy, perfect or imperfect, of so early an edition seems to be known; this contains the "Jesus Psalter" only. A—E 2 in twelves, including a separate title, within an engraved border, to the Psalter.
20. Great Brittaines Svne-set, a poem, by William Basse, 8vo, Oxford, 1613. Mutilated fragments of the title and two other leaves. The only known copy is in the Bodleian.

FRANC, MARTIN. Le champion des dames. [Sans lieu ni date.] Folio. Black letter. Woodcuts. R. M.

a—x in eights; y, z, and A, 6 leaves each, the last blank.

Brunet says that this volume is attributed by Van Praet to the press of Guillaume Leroy of Lyons.

The volume ends on the 185th leaf with the lines—

"Veullies pour martin requerir
Le royaulme de paradis."

It is possible that copies vary in these lines, as the version given by M. Brunet differs from this copy. Unless such is the case M. Brunet has made three errors in copying the two lines, and M. Gustave Brunet four.

[FRANCISCUS DE INSULIS, MICHAEL.] Quodlibetica decisio perpulchra et deuota de septem doloribus x̄p̄ifere virginis marie ac communi & saluberrima confraternitate de super instituta ad eius honorem & gloriam. Impressum Schrat̄ntal in Austria 1501. 4to. Woodcut on the title.

Dr. Cotton, in his "Typographical Gazetteer," says: "Panzer adduces a single book printed in this place written by Michael Francis de Insulis, which bears the imprint Schratental [Schrattenthal] in Austria, with the date 1501. A copy of it is said to be in a library of Franciscans at Vienna."

FRANCK, RICHARD. Northern Memoirs, Calculated for the Meridian of Scotland. Wherein most or all of the Cities, Citadels, Sea-ports, Castles, Forts, Fortresses, Rivers and Rivulets are compendiously described. Together with choice Collections of Various Discoveries, Remarkable Observations, Theological Notions, Political Axioms, National Intrigues, Polemick Inferences, Contemplations, Speculations, and several curious and industrious Inspections, lineally drawn from Antiquaries, and other noted and intelligible Persons of Honour and Eminency. To which is added, The Contemplative & Practical Angler, by way of Diversion. With a Narrative of that dextrous and mysterious Art experimented in England, and perfected in more remote and solitary Parts of Scotland. By way of Dialogue. Writ in the Year 1658, but not till now made publick, By Richard Franck, Philanthropus. Plures necat Gula quam Gladius. London, Printed for the Author. To be sold by Henry Mortclock at the Phenix, in St. Paul's Church-yard. 1694. 8vo. R.

From Bindley's collection.

FRANCKFORT. Francofurto-Anglorum ad amplissimum senatum Francofor. Oratio sive gratiarum actio. Francoforti ad Mœnum. Anno 1559. 4to.

Fourteen leaves. A—D ii in fours.

FRANCO, GIACOMO. Habiti d'huomeni et donne Venetiane con la processione della Ser^{ma} Signoria et altri particolari cioè, trionfi, feste et cerimonie publiche della nobilissima città di Venetia. [Venetia 1610.] Folio.

This volume consists of engraved title, a double plate of "Il gran consiglio," at the back of which is a letterpress dedication, and twenty-four other plates.

Brunet has evidently taken his account of the book at secondhand without having seen it.

FRANCO, GIACOMO. Habiti delle donne Venetiane, intagliate in rame Nuoua-mente. [Venetia, s. a.] Folio.

Though similar in title this is an entirely different book from the preceding. It consists of twenty plates.

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. A dissertation on Liberty and Necessity, Pleasur and Pain. [Quotation from Dryden.] London: Printed in the Year MDCCXXV. 8vo.

A—D in fours.

The original edition, of which it is believed that only 100 copies were originally printed, and which was so carefully suppressed and destroyed by the author that only one other copy is at present known. The origin of the piece is said to have been that while Franklin was working as a compositor on Wollaston's "Religion of Nature," he was struck by the weakness of some of the arguments, and wrote this work in reply to it.

FRANKLIN, JAMES. Franklins Farewell to the World, With his Christian Contrition in Prison, before his Death. [Colophon.] Printed at London for Henry Gosson. [1615.] A Broadside. Black letter.

Forty-three rhyming couplets in two columns, enclosed within a broad woodcut border.

No other copy is known. Franklin was executed for his participation in the Overbury tragedy. Reprinted in "Anc. Ballads," &c., 1867.

FRARIN, PETER. An Oration Against the Vnlawfull Insurrections of the Protestantes of our time, vnder pretence to Refourme Religion. Made and pronounced in Latin, in the Schole of Artes at Louaine, the .xiiij. of December. Anno. 1565. By Peter Frarin of Andwerp, M. of Arte, and Bachelor of both lawes. And now translated into English, with the aduise of the Author. Antwerpiz, Ex officina Ioannis Foulerei. M. D. LXVI. Sm. 8vo. BR. M.

A—L in eights.

The translator, John Foulter, who signs the Preface to the Reader, was no doubt identical with the publisher of the volume. The table at the end illustrates the narrative, having a series of woodcuts displaying the abominations of the Reformers, with doggerel verses beneath each. They were also published with a French and with a Flemish text.

FRASER, JOHN. An Offer made to a Gentleman of Quality by M. Iohn Fraser, to subscribe and embrace the Ministers of Scotlands religion, if they can sufficientlie proue, that they haue the true kirk and lawfull calling. Whereto ar adioyned certaine reasons and considerations concerning theis two heades and foundations, without the light of which others can not be cleared, nor assured ground in religion in these dayes established. Newlie corrected and set forth, with the aduise of the author. [Quotation from St. Augustine.] Permissu Superiorum. M. DC. V. Sm. 8vo.

A—H 2 in eights.

The first edition appeared at Paris, 1604, sm. 8vo.

FRAUNCE, ABRAHAM. The Lawiers Logike, exemplifying the præcepts of Logike by the practise of the common Lawe, by Abraham Fraunce. At London, Imprinted by William How, for Thomas Gubbin, and T. Newman. 1588. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

Title and dedication (in verse) to Henry, Earl of Pembroke, 2 leaves; ¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶, 4 leaves; B—Y in fours; Aa—Rr in fours, besides a folding table after sig. li 2. Aa 2 is a blank leaf.

Shakespeare is supposed to have studied this book.

— The Lamentations of Amintas for the death of Phillis: Paraphrastically translated out of Latine into English Hexameters, by Abraham Fraunce. Newelie Corrected. At London Printed by Iohn Charle-wood, for Thomas Newman and Thomas Gubbin. Anno Dom. 1588. 4to. O. M.

Title and dedication, 2 leaves; A—D in fours, and a leaf of E.

Dedicated to the Countess of Pembroke. The only other copy known, of this edition, is in the British Museum. From the libraries of Mr. Bright and Mr. Corser.

— The Countesse of Pembrokes Yuychurch. Conteyning the affectionate life and vnfortunate death of Phillis and Amyntas: That in a Pastorall; This in a Funerall: both in English Hexameters. By Abraham Fraynce. London, Printed by Thomas Orwyn for William Ponsonby, dwelling in Pauls Churchyard, at the signe of the Bishops head. 1591. 4to. O. M.

A—M in fours, the last leaf bearing only the errata. The titles to this and the two following articles are within the same woodcut border, which Orwyn used also for Spenser's "Complaints," &c.

Dedicated "To the right excellent, and most honorable Ladie, the Ladie Marie, Countesse of Pembroke." The writer subscribes himself "Your Honours most affectionate, Abraham Fraunce." The title of the book was borrowed from the name of a small village and chapel near Wilton. The work is divided into two parts, the Pastoral being a paraphrase of Tasso's "Aminta," the Funeral, of Watson's Latin "Amintas," the latter printed at London, in 8vo, 1585.

On sig. L 3 at the conclusion of the second part of the "Yvychurch" is added a free translation from Virgil of the Second Eclogue, of Corydon and Alexis, also in hexameters, and this is followed by a specimen of Heliodorus in the same metre; it is headed: "The beginning of Heliodorus his Æthiopian History," and occupies six pages only. The last leaf has the errata for the whole volume.

"None of our bibliographers have remarked that the second part of the 'Countesse of Pembroke's Ivy Church' is in fact a republication of the author's previous work, {the 'Lamentations of Amintas for the Death of Phillis,' printed in 1588, with this difference—that while in that edition the 'Lamentations' are only eleven, in the present volume 'The last Lamentation & the death of Amintas' has been divided, with some slight additions, into two Days, the eleventh and twelfth; and the following lines, 'Downe in a del at last,' &c., complimentary to his fair and accomplished patroness, are added at the close, which are not in the former edition."—Corser's Collectanea, part vi., pp. 371-2.

In another place Mr. Corser makes a little difficulty by reason of his not having been aware that Watson's "Amyntas" was originally published in 1585, in Latin. He says ("Collect.," part vi., p. 372): "Watson's version of 'Amyntas' was printed in 1592, and this by Fraunce bears date 1591. Whether an earlier edition of the "Amintas" had appeared before 1592, or whether the present translator was allowed to make use of Watson's MS. copy, we are unable to determine." The only known copy of the edition of Watson's Latin "Amyntas," 8vo, 1585, is in the British Museum.

In the dedication to Lady Pembroke the author observes: "If Amyntas found favour in your gracious eyes, let Phillis bee accepted for Amyntas sake. I have somewhat altered S. Tasso's Italian, & M. Watson's Latine Amyntas, to make them both one English." The "Amyntas" here spoken of is, of course, the "Lamentations of Amyntas," which is almost to be regarded as an original work.

FRAUNCE, ABRAHAM. The Third part of the Countesse of Pembrokes Yvychurch: Entituled, Amintas Dale. Wherein are the most conceited tales of the Pagan Gods in English Hexameters: together with their auncient descriptions and Philosophicall explications. By Abraham Fraunce. At London Printed, [by Thomas Orwyn] for Thomas Woodcocke, dwelling in Paules Church-yard, at the signe of the blacke Beare. 1592. 4to.

A—Q 2 in fours.

Dedicated in Latin hexameters to Lady Penbroke. The language of the author, in explaining the plan of this further and final instalment, is amusingly grandiloquent. He says:—

"Accipe nobilium dulcissima dogmata vatum,
Delicias, Musas, mysteria; denique, quicquid
Græcia docta dedit, vel regia Roma reliquit,
Quod fructum flori, quod miscuit vtile dulci."

In the Third Part of the "Yvychurch" each of the nymphs assembled at Yvychurch is supposed to narrate a tale, at the conclusion of which, before another commences, "the sage Elpinus" furnishes a commentary of the most erudite character. In one place Pluto is called "the Duke of diu'ls"; and at the end is brought in a series of suggestions headed "The petition of the Gardiners;" e.g.—

"That whosoever eateth buttered Pasnips without pepper, may dye without Auricular confession.

"That none above the age of seven yeares, if he nettle his hande, shall be ridde of his payne by rubbing the place with a Dock, and saying, In Docke, out Nettle.

"That if any married man vse any nosegay, wherein the flowers be odde in number, he may stand in daunger of Acteons penaltie.

"That whosoever drinketh Claret wine without Borage, or Sack without a sprig of Rosemary, may neuer be ridde of his Rheume by drinking Muscadell before he goe to bed."

This Part is of the greatest rarity, the only other complete copy known being that among the King's books in the British Museum. The latter was purchased at the Roxburghe sale in 1812. The present copy is bound up with the other parts and the "Emanuel."

FRAUNCE, ABRAHAM. The Countesse of Pembrokes Emanuel. Containing the Natiuity, Passion, Buriall, and Resurrection of Christ: togcather with certaine Psalmes of Dauid. All in English Hexameters. By Abraham Fraunce. Imprinted at London, for William Ponsonby, dwelling in Paules Churchyard, at the signe of the Bishops head. 1591. 4to.

A—E in fours, last leaf blank.

This is also dedicated to Lady Pembroke in the following hexametrical couplet:

“Mary the best Mother sends her best Babe to a Mary:
Lord to a Ladies sight, and Christe to a Christian hearing.”

Although the present tract has separate title and signatures, there is little doubt that it was intended to form part of the “Yvychurch.” The Psalms of which translations are given are the 1st, 6th, 8th, 29th, 38th, 50th, 73rd, and 104th.

FREDERICK, ELECTOR PALATINE. FREEMAN, THOMAS. Rvbbe, and A great Cast. Epigrams. By Thomas Freeman, Gent. Horace, Lectorem delectando pariterq; monendo. Imprinted at London, and are to bee sold at the Tigers Head. 1614. 4to. R.

A—K in fours.

From the collections of Mr. Brand, Mr. Heber, and Mr. Corser. Dr. Bliss, in his edition of Wood's "Athenæ," ii. 135, particularly refers to this copy. On F 3 occurs a half-title to the second part: "Rvne, And a great Cast. The Second Bowle," with another quotation from Horace.

FREITAG, ARNOLD. *Mythologia Ethica, hoc est Moralis philosophiæ per fabulas brutis attributas, traditæ amoenissimum viridarium: In quo humanæ vitæ labyrintho demonstrato, virtutis semita pulcherrimis præceptis, veluti Thesei filo docet^r. Title and preface, 4 leaves; A—Q vi in eights. The plates, 125 in number, are printed on the letterpress.

FRENCH, NICHOLAS. The dolefull Fall of Andrew Sall, a Jesuit of the Fourth Vow, from the Roman Catholick Apostolick faith; Lamented by his Constant Frind: with an open rebuking of his Embracing the Confession, Contained in the xxxix. Articles of the Church of England. Superiorum permissu. 1674. Sm. 8vo.

Title-page, Recantation of Sall (printed at large), the Author to the Reader, signed "N. N.," &c., 18 leaves; A—Ee 2 in eights, including W among the signatures.

"In this book he represents Mr. Sall (who had embraced the doctrine of the Church of England) as gone over to the Quakers, and to all other sects both ancient and modern, and charitably condemns all the Members of the Established Church, without Exception, to the eternal woes of Hell."—Ware's Writers of Ireland.

Andrew Sall replied to this attack in his "True Catholic Apostolic Faith," 1676.

— The Vnkinde Desertor of Loyall Men and True Frinds. In the land of the holy hee hath don wicked things, and hee shall not see the glory of our Lord. Isai. cap. 26. vers. 10. Superiorum permissu, Año 1676. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

Title-page, 1 leaf; "Censura," 2 leaves; contents, 4 leaves; preface, pp. 19; text, pp. 22-246, the leaves are wrongly numbered, 400-446 instead of 200-246.

The "Unkinde desertor" is intended for a portrait of the Marquis of Ormond. Ware in his history of "The Writers of Ireland" gives the following account of the author's hatred to that nobleman. "At Paris he attempted to wait on King Charles II., who refused to see him; and thinking the Marquis of Ormond was the Cause why he was not admitted, he ever after bore him a hatred and took all Occasions to asperse him in his Writings."

"The calumnies of this foul-mouthed Author gave occasion to the Earl of Clarendon of writing his History of the Rebellion and Civil Wars in Ireland, in Defence and Justification of the Marquis's behaviour."

FRENCH TONGUE. A plaine pathway to the French tongue: Very profitable for Marchants, and also all other, which desire the same: aptly divided into 19. Chapters. The contentes whereof appeare in the next Page. Printed in London by Thomas East. 1575. [Colophon.] Printed in London by Thomas East, dwelling at London wall, at the signe of the blacke Horse. 1575. Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A—I in eights.

This is a little work of extreme rarity. From the libraries of Mr. Jolley and Mr. Corser. It is very briefly mentioned by Herbert without date.

Among Bagford's papers in Harl. MS., 5396, is the title-page of another edition, "Printed at London by Thomas East," sm. 8vo, without date, which is probably the one referred to by Herbert.

Thirty-six leaves.

A collection of moral precepts in rhyming couplets, which is said by Brunet (quoting from W. Grimm) to have been compiled in the thirteenth century by Walther von Vogelweide. Speaking of this edition, he says: "On a cru reconnaître les caractères de Conr. Koeloffen de Lubeck vers 1490." No such printer, however, is to be found in the lists of fifteenth century typographers given by Panzer and Hain. The only names at all similar are those of Conrad Kacheloven, who printed at Leipzig from 1485 to 1499, and John Koelhof, of Lubeck, whose press was at Cologne.

1508. 4to. Woodcuts. R. M.

Seventy-four leaves.

This book has little more than the title in common with the preceding work. It is entirely rewritten by Sebastian Brandt. Panzer, in describing the edition of 1513, says: "Zwar soll nach Herrn Prof. Eschenbergs Bemerkung, eine ältere Ausgabe von 1508 vorhanden seyn, die aber zugleich für so selten ausgegeben wird, dass so gar an der Existenz derselben gezweifelt wurde." To Brunet and Graesse, however, the edition appears to have been known, but only through other catalogues.

A—R in sixes, including title, without pagination or catchwords.

This beautiful and rare volume appears to be the earliest illustrated edition of the work. That it is of extreme rarity is evidenced by the fact that while it is just mentioned by Dibdin, Brunet, and Graesse that an edition was printed at Florence in 1508, none of them make any remark on the beauty and artistic value of the illustrations. Of these there are no less than 127, only two or three being repetitions. It has been suggested, from their style, that these illustrations, with one exception, were engraved from the designs of Luca Signorelli, and this opinion is much strengthened by the fact that one of the cuts bears the monogram L. V., which suggests LUCA Egidio VENTURI di Cortona, that being Signorelli's family name. Concerning the work itself M. Ginguéné in the "Biogr. Univ.," remarks: "Il n'est resté d'autre ouvrage de Frezzi qu'un long poëme divisé en quatre livres sous le titre singulier de 'Il Quatiregio,' &c. Le premier de ces quatre règnes, est celui de l'amour; le second, est celui de Satan; le troisième, celui des vices, et le quatrième est le règne des vertus. L'auteur est imitateur de Dante et dans l'idée et dans la forme de son poëme; et quoique loin d'approcher de ce grand modèle, il s'en écarte moins qu'aucun autre poëte du même temps." He then goes on to give a considerable account and analysis of the poem. Frezzi died in 1416, and the first edition of his book was printed at Perugia in 1481.

This is, according to Brunet, the second edition printed by Verard, but of equal value and rarity with the former impression.

— Here begynneth the first volum of sir Johan Froysart: of the cronycles of Englande/ Fraunce/ Spayne/ Portyngale/ Scotlande/ Bretayne/ Flaüders: and other places adioynnge. Vol. 1. A, 6 leaves (the title within a border); B, 4 leaves; a—v in sixes; aa—vv in sixes; aaa—ooo 4 in sixes.

Vol. 2. a, 8 leaves (the title within a border differing from that of the first volume); A—U in sixes; AA—UU in sixes; AAA—NNN in sixes; OOO, 8 leaves.

First edition in English. At the foot of fol. 257 verso of vol. i. occurs the autograph of Jane, Countess of Southampton: "This is Jane Southampton boke."

It will be observed that the orthography and even wording of the titles here given vary considerably from Herbert's account (pp. 272, 275). He had probably retained the title as copied by Ames; and he remarks in a note, p. 576: "Mr. Ames's copy, which has been in my possession, had only the four last sheets of Pinson's edition." It is evident that Pynson's edition is properly quite distinct from that printed by Middleton, as the latter did not begin to print till about ten years after the death of Pynson. Copies are so frequently found made up of the two editions that it seems probable that Middleton had bought copies, or portions of copies, printed by Pynson and made them up from his own edition. It is, however, to be remarked that copies with Pynson's imprint vary in the title to the second volume. That in the Grenville library has no woodcut border, and has some literal variations from this, while it agrees exactly with the other copy in the British Museum, which has Middleton's imprint. It is possible that though the remainder of that copy is Pynson's original edition, the title belongs to Middleton's issue.

In the title given by Herbert, p. 272, Henry VIII. is styled, "Of the church of Englande and also of Irelande in earth the supreme head." As Henry did not assume this title till 1530 it is clear that it belongs to Middleton's edition, though the colophon has Pynson's name and the date 1523.

From Mr. Daniel's collection, and apparently the only copy known. On the title is a large cut headed, "The Description of the Thames frozen ouer."

FROTTOLA di un padre che haueua due figliuoli, vn buono chiamato Benedetto, & l'altro cattiuo chiamato Antonio. Nuouamente ristampata. In Fiorenza, allato a Sant' Apolinari. [sens' anno.] 4to.

Four leaves. On the title is a large woodcut.

FRUCTUS TEMPORUM. [On the recto of the first leaf] Here begynnys a schort ⁊ breue tabull on thes Cronicles. [On a iiii of the text] Hic incipit fructus temporum. [Colophon.] ¶ Here ende the Cronicles of englode with the frute of timis. [No place or date.] Folio. Printed on vellum. BR. M.

Printed in the Abbey of St. Albans about 1483. Beneath the colophon is the device of the Abbey of St. Albans printed in red, under which is printed "Sanctus Albanus."

The table occupies seven leaves, the first three being marked a, b, and c. The signatures then follow regularly: a—z. 7. 9 and A—1 in eights; K, ten leaves, the last blank. The capitals and paragraph marks are printed in red.

A very full account of the volume is given by Herbert, p. 1431.

It is believed that this is the only copy known printed on vellum. It was obtained at the sale of the library of Miss Richardson Currer, of Eshon Hall, in 1862. It has the first leaf of the table and the last leaf supplied in facsimile; but no copy is known, even on paper, entirely perfect.

FRUIT OF REDEMPTION. The fruyte of redempcyon. [Colophon.] Imprynted by Wynkyn de Worde the yere of our lorde god .M.CCCC. and .xxx. And fynnyshed the .xxi. daye of Meye. 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. BR. M.

A—E in fours and sixes alternately. With a large woodcut of the Crucifixion on the title and a series of small cuts through the volume.

In the British Museum is a copy of this tract printed by Wynkyn de Worde in 1514, and he also printed editions in 1517 and 1532. This edition of 1530 is not mentioned by Herbert, who describes those of 1517 and 1532, and just mentions that of 1514, which seems to be first, and which he had evidently not seen.

The title is on a ribbon over the woodcut, which occupies almost the entire remainder of the page. On the last page is W. de Worde's device.

Title, preface, and tables, 16 leaves ; a—z and A—CC 2 in sixes.

At the back of the title is a full-length woodcut portrait of the author, and nearly every leaf bears a very beautiful engraving of a plant, occupying the whole page. On the verso of the last leaf but one are the portraits of the artists Heinrich Küllmaurer and Albrecht Meyer, engaged in making the drawings for the work, and beneath is the portrait of the wood engraver, Veyt Rudolf Speckle. The volume is in the original stamped pigskin binding, with the date, 1578, impressed on it.

Title and preliminaries, 4 leaves ; text and colophon, 226 leaves.

FUGGERORUM et Fuggerarum quæ in familia natae quæve in familiam transierunt quot extant aere expressae imagines. Dominicus Custodis Ant: totius Operis deliniator, et sculptor. Aug-Vindelicor. 1593. Folio. BL. M.

This first edition, without letterpress and without numbers to the plates, is of such great rarity that a list of the plates which compose it cannot fail to be of service : Engraved title as above (reverse quite blank). Portraits: 1. Jacobus Fugger senex. 2. Barbara F. 3. Georgius. 4. Jacobus F. Fil: VII. 5. Sibilla Artzetin. 6. Huldrichus. 7. Hieronimus. 8. Raimundus. 9. Catharina Thursonia. 10. Anthonius. 11. Anna Rechlingera. 12. Joannes Jacobus. 13. Ursula. 14. Sidonia. 15. Georgius F. fil III. Raimundi. 16. Ursula a Liechtenstain. 17. Huldrichus fil V. Raimundi. 18. Christopher. 19. Raimundus. fil VI. Raimundi. 20. Ursula fil VII. Raimundi. 21. Marcus. 22. Sibilla Com. ab Eberstain. 23. Joannes fil. II. Anthonii. 24. Elisabetha Nothaftin. 25. Catharina fil. I. Anthonii. 26. Hieronimus fil. III. Anthonii. 27. Regina. 28. Susanna. 29. Jacobus fil. IV. Anthonii. 30. Anna Ilynga. 31. Maria. 32. Veronica. 33. Sigismundus. 34. Carolus. 35. Alexander. 36. Victor Augustus. 37. Maximilian. 38. Severinus. 39. Caterina Com^a à Helffen. 40. Ferdinandus. 41. Alexius. 42. Madalena. 43. Æmilia. 44. Sidonia Isabella. 45. Philippus. 46. Maria Magdalena. 47. Anna Jacobea. 48. Octavianus. 49. Maria Jacobe. 50. Julius Maximilianus. 51. Anthonius fil. V. Georgii. 52. Barbara Com. ab Helffenstain. 53. Raimundus fil. VI. Georgii. 54. Juliana. 55. Ursula fil. VI. Georgii. 56. Marci. 64. Elisabeth fil. VIII. Marci. 65. Marcus fil. I. Joannis. 66. Christoph. fil. III. Joannis. 67. Maria Com. Swartzenburg. 68. Jacobus fil. IV. Joannis. 69. Sibilla fil. I. Jacobi. 70. Hieron. fil I. Jacobi. 71. Catharina fil 2. Jacobi. I believe that this may safely be said to be one of the very rarest books in the library, though later editions are common enough. Nagler remarks: "Fuggerorum et Fuggerarum imagines, fol., die in der ersten Ausgabe von 1593 äusserst selten sind," but he describes it as consisting of only sixty-four plates.

FUGGERORUM et Fuggerarum quae in familia natae quaeve in familiam transierunt quot extant aere expressae imagines. Dominicus Custodis Ant: totius Operis deliniator, et sculptor. Aug. Vind. 1618. Folio. Large paper.

This edition contains 127 portraits. It is not unfrequently quoted in error as the original, because it retains on the engraved title the date of 1593. The date of 1618 is found printed in letterpress at the back of this engraved title. Though this edition contains so many more portraits than the first edition, that, on the other hand, contains some which are not found in the later impressions.

Anderson, Printer to the City and Colledge. Anno Dom. 1664. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

a—e 6 in eights, the first leaf of (a) occupied by verses facing the title; A—M 2 in eights.

On the back of the title to this poetical volume is "The Presentation of the Turtle-Dove, to the Lady Viscountess of Kenmoor," in verse; the next leaf contains on the recto "An Acrostick upon the Name of the Right Honourable Lady, Jean Campbel, Viscountess of Kenmoor;" and on the verso "An Acrostick upon the name of that very Religious and Famous Gentle-Woman, Marion M^cKnaicht;" then comes the prose dedication to Lady Kenmoor, "The Epistle to the Weak and wrestling Believer," &c., also in prose, complimentary verses, and other introductory pieces.

From the collections of Mr. Park and Mr. Heber. Not more than two copies seem to be known. The other was in Sir Francis Freeling's collection, and afterwards in Mr. Corser's.

FULLER, THOMAS. Davids {

Portrait of Fuller, frontispiece by Vaughan, and printed title, 3 leaves; Epistle, 4 leaves; table, 1 leaf; Aa—liii in fours; portrait of Bishop Andrewes, 1 leaf; Life of Andrewes, 10 leaves; then Kkkk—Ffff 2 in fours.

— A Triple Reconciler, stating the Controversies, whether Ministers have an Exclusive power of Communicants from the Sacrament. . . . London, Printed by Will. Bently for Will. Shcars at the Bible in S. Pauls Churchyard. Anno Dom. 1654. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves, B—K in eights, title on A 2; [then follows, with a new set of signatures and title] "A Sermon Preached At the Collegiat Church of S. Peter in Westminster, on the 27 of March, being the Day of his Majesties Inauguration. London, Printed by Will. Bently for John Williams. 1654." A—E 4 in eights. The sermon on the inauguration ends on sig. C; and the rest of the volume is occupied by another preached by Fuller on Innocents' day.

FULLER, THOMAS. Anthologia. or The Speech of Flowers. Partly Morall, partly Misticall. Scould by John Stafford neare Fleete bridge. 1655. Sm. 8vo.

Title, engraved by R. Vaughan, preceded by a blank, 2 leaves; A, 2 leaves; B—G 5 in eights.

Dedicated by the publisher to "my much Honored Friend, William Stafford Esquire, Merchant of Bristoll." This volume was republished in 1663 with the "Ornithologia."

— The Church-History of Britain: From the Birth of Jesus Christ, untill the Year M. DC. XLVIII. Endeavoured by Thomas Fuller. London, Printed for John Williams at the signe of the Crown in St. Paul's Church-yard, Anno 1655. Folio. R. M.

A full collation is given by Lowndes.

An index to the book is bound up at the end of Fuller's "Appeal of Injured Innocence," 1659. On the old fly-leaf of the present copy, before it was rebound, was the following memorandum: "John Curtis. pr. 25^s. 1668." Above this is the autograph of "Thomas Martin of Palgrave, April the 4th 1721," and a note in Martin's hand: "Exchang'd with Mr. Burrough for Chaucer's works and Lidgate's Boccace, bound up together."

— The Appeal of Iniured Innocence: unto the Religious Learned and Ingenuous Reader. In a Controversie betwixt the Animadvertor Dr. Peter Heylyn and the Author Thomas Fuller. London, Printed by W. Godbid. 1659. Folio. R. M.

Title and dedication to Lord Berkeley, 2 leaves; B, 4 leaves; C—N, 2 leaves each; N (repeated)—S, 2 leaves each; Aa—Zz, 2 leaves each; aaa—ccc, 2 leaves each; Aaa—Yyy, 2 leaves each, the last blank. The index to the "Church-History" is bound up at the end, 10 leaves.

The "Appeal," which was an answer to Heylin's "Examen," is frequently bound up with the "Church-History," having, as Wood tells us, been appended, on its publication, to all the copies of the History then remaining in quires.

— Ephemera Parliamentaria; Or A Faithfull Register Of the Transactions in Parliament, in the third and fourth years of the reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Charles: Containing The severall Speeches, Cases, and Arguments of Law transacted between his Majesty and both Houses. Together with the Grand Mysteries of the Kingdome then in Agitation. London: Printed for John Williams and Francis Eglesfield, . . . 1654. Folio.

FULLER, THOMAS. The Best Name on Earth. Together with severall other sermons lately preached at S. Brides; and in other places. London, Printed by R. D. for John Stafford, at the George at Fleet-bridge. 1657. Sm. 8vo. R.

A, 2 leaves besides frontispiece; B—G in eights; H—I in fours; K—M 3 in eights. With a frontispiece by W. Hollar.

The other Sermons mentioned on the title are "The Worst of Evils," "The Snare Broken," and "Strange Justice," each with a separate title. The last page of the book has Stafford's device.

— Mixt Contemplations in Better Times. London, Printed by R. D. for John Williams . . . 1660. Sm. 8vo.

a, 4 leaves; A—E in eights; (A)—E 6 in eights.

Dedicated from Zion College, May 2, 1660, "To the truly Honourable and most Virtuouse Lady, the Lady Monck."

— The History of the Worthies of England. Endeavoured by Thomas Fuller, D.D. London, Printed by J. G. W. L. and W. G. 1662. Folio. With a portrait of Fuller by D. Loggan. R. M.

A full collation is given by Lowndes.

From the private collection of Mr. W. Pickering. On the fly-leaf of the present copy occurs the following memorandum: "februarie, 1661, given me by young Mr. fuller, reward £5." This was a posthumous publication. The "Panegyric" on Charles II., printed in 1660, 4to, is here republished. Inserted in the volume is a duplicate of the portrait by Loggan, a proof before letters.

— The Life of That Reverend Divine, and Learned Historian, Dr. Thomas Fuller. London, Printed for J. W. H. B. and H. M. 1661. Sm. 8vo. Portrait.

A, 4 leaves, the first blank; B—H in eights.

Preceding the colophon is the following intimation concerning the original: "Wylliam Fvllonivs the Maker of this presente Comedy, dyd set it forthe before the bourgeses of Hagen in Holand. Anno. M. D. XXIX." Palsgrave, who is better known as the author of the "Eclaircissement de la Langue Française," 1530, dedicates his work to Henry VIII.

This copy belonged to Mr. Corser. Another is in the British Museum.

FULWELL, ULPIAN. The Flower of Fame. Containing the bright Renowne, & moste fortunate raigne of King Henry the viii. Wherein is mentioned of matters, by the rest of our Cronographers ouerpasse. Compyled by Ulpian Fulwell. Hereunto is annexed (by the Auctor) a short treatice of iii. noble and vertuous Queenes. 1575. Imprinted at London in Fleete streete, at the Temple gate by William Hoskins. 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. R. M.

In verse and prose. Title and dedication to "sir William Cecill, Baron of Burghleygh," 2 leaves; B—R in fours, last leaf blank.

A beautiful copy of a volume of extreme rarity. It is a curious historical medley, somewhat on the model of the "Mirror for Magistrates," and has been included in Park's "Supplement to the Harleian Miscellany," edit. 1808, but without the quaint woodcuts which are in the original. One of these is copied by Laing in his "Supplement to Dunbar," 1865. For some account of Fulwell and of a second work by him see Collier ("Bibl. Cat.," i. 296-9).

FURMERUS, BERNARDUS. De Rerum usu et abusu, auctore Bernardo Furmero Phrysto. Quis sit opū finis vel earum quis sit abusus ostendo, rerum quis bene vivat inops. Antverpiæ, Ex officina Christophori Plantini Architypographi Regii. 1575. 4to. R. M.

A—G in fours, the last leaf blank. The work contains twenty-two engravings by Jerome Wierx. The same plates were used subsequently for the Emblems of Theodore Coornhert, printed at Arnheim in 1609.

FÜRSTIN, ROSINA HELENA. G., H. The Mirrovr of Maiestie: Or, The Badges of Honovr conceitedly emblazoned: with Emblemes annexed, poetically vnfolded. —Nec his Plebecula gaudet. London, Printed by William Iones, dwelling in Red-crosse-streete. 1618. 4to. R. M.

A, 2 leaves, with the title and dedication; B—I in fours, followed by a leaf headed "A catalogue of those Names vnto whom this worke is appropriated."

This seems to have been the only edition, but at least two title-pages were given to it, as Mr. Corser's copy, though otherwise corresponding, differed in the imprint. Not more than three perfect copies are known, one being among Malone's books at Oxford. In Heber's sale occurred a copy with a facsimile title, dated 1619, which had passed through the White-Knights and Perry collections, but the difference of date was probably an error of the facsimilist. The present copy was found on a stall at Lancaster.

The work, as the title imports, is a series of badges and emblems, with metrical illustrations beneath each. To the king, queen, and certain members of the nobility, to which these are addressed, are allotted a badge and an emblem.

G., I. An Apologie for Women-Kinde.

 Dedicated to the Queen. Mr. Corser's copy.

G., J. Philastrogvs Knavery Epitomized, with a Vindication of Mr. Culpeper, Mr. Lilly, and the rest of the Students in that noble Art, from all the false aspersions (of the malicious Antagonists) cast upon them, about the great Eclipse of the Sunne. Whereunto is annexed an Epistle to all moderate spirited men Written by J[ohn] G[adbury] a lover of all ingenious Arts and Artists—Aprill the 5, 1652. London, Printed in the year 1652. 4to.

A 3—B 3 in fours.

This letter has been attributed to the pen of Lord Burleigh. Another edition in the British Museum commences on A i.

G., R. A Relation or Iournall of the beginning and proceedings of the English Plantation setled at Plimoth in New England, by certaine English Aduenturers both Merchants and others. With their difficult passage, their safe ariually, their ioyfull building of, and comfortable planting themselues in the now well defended Towne of New Plimoth. As also a Relation of Fovre seuerall discoueries since made by some of the same English Planters there resident. I. In their iourney to the Kingdome of Namaschet, in defence of their greatest King Massasoyt IIII. Their voyage to the Massachusetts, and their entertainment there. With an answer to all such obiections as are any way made against the lawfulnessse of English plantations in those parts. London, Printed for Iohn Bellamie, and are to be sold at his shop at the two Greyhounds in Cornhill neere the Royall Exchange. 1622. 4to. R. M.

A, 2 leaves; B—L in fours.

The leaf following the title is marked A 3, and there is no A 4; which is the case with three other copies of this rare volume examined for the purpose of verification. The modern reprint also corresponds as regards the text. The several narratives of which the book consists, were, as R. G. states in his introductory epistle to Mr. I. P., "writ by the seuerall Actors themselves, after their plaine and rude manner." The MS. seems to have been sent over to England by the same R. G., and to have been printed through the instrumentality of G. Movrt. Pp. 60-4 are occupied by a letter from E[dward] W[inslow] to a friend in America, in commendation of New Plymouth.

It was no doubt this work which suggested to Longfellow at least the name of his hero, "Miles Standish, the Puritan Captain."

G. R. A Copy of a Letter from an Officer of the Army in Ireland, to his Highness the Lord Protector, concerning his changing of the Government. [No place, printer's name, or date.] [1654.] 4to.

A—C in fours. Printed without any regular title. Dated from Waterford, and probably printed at that place.

a, 7 leaves; b, 8 leaves; a—c in eights; d, 6 leaves.

The "prohemium" is dated 1488, and it is possible that the date given at the end may be intended for 1490, but it is more probably 1509.

GAIFEROS. Romance de don Gayferos que trata, como saco a su esposa que estaua en tierra de Moros, Impresso con licencia en Seuilla en casa de Juan de Herrera. [Circa 1605.] 4to.

Four leaves. Beneath the title is a woodcut of a knight in armour and a coat of arms. No edition of this romance was in Señor Salvá's collection, nor does he in any way refer to it. Gallardo, vol. i., No. 750, describes an edition without date also consisting of four leaves, and, like this, printed in two columns of thirty-five lines each. Of that edition he says: "Acaso será la impresion de Búrgos, hecha á mediados del siglo XVI por Felipe de Junta." The choice collection of Mr. R. S. Turner contains two editions printed in the first half of the sixteenth century. This edition of Seville appears to be quite undescribed.

GAINSFORD, THOMAS. The Vision and Discovrse of Henry the seuenth. Concerning the Vnitie of Great Brittain. Diuided into foure Chapters. 1. Containing an Introduction. 2. Inducements to Vnitic. 3. A curious miscellany, arranged in alphabetical order. At p. 98, under "No-body," we read: "No-body resembleth Robin-goodfellowe and the spirits of old time who, like Friers and cousining knaues, came in the night, and swept the house for good cheere: and yet no-body did it, or it was done at least by inuisible fairies and diuels, and so by no-body."

a—x in eights ; y, 10 leaves.

This very curious life and passion of Christ is undescribed by Panzer, Hain, or Brunet, though Panzer just mentions the book (No. 20) as being in the University library at Ingoldstadt. It is written in a south German dialect, and was probably printed at Augsburg about 1485. A 1 is blank on the recto, and on the verso is a large woodcut of Christ with a winged angel on either side of him. There are altogether ninety-three woodcuts, which are of very different degrees of artistic merit. That of purgatory, for instance, might well be from the hand of Cranach, while others are of rude design and execution. On the recto of the last leaf is a large and curious woodcut of the child Jesus. The book concludes with the following verses printed as prose:—

Griesst syest ihesu kind so miñenglich.
 Lieb ganz vnd gar begirlich.
 Vor sinden mich behiete.
 Durch diner müter giete
 Min hercz in tugenden bestät
 Das ich dich niess in ewikait.

A fine example of binding executed for the library of Demetrio Canevari, Physician to Pope Urban VIII. The tooling on the sides is in the same style as the Grolier bindings, but in the centre is impressed, in low relief, a representation of Apollo driving his car. Specimens of binding from this library are much rarer than from that of Grolier.

Four leaves. In 7-line stanzas.

From the libraries of Sir F. Freeling, Mr. Jolley, and Mr. Corser. The title is on a ribbon at the top of the first page.

This is a duplicate of the copy in the British Museum, marked in Hazlitt's "Handbook," p. 218, as edition (b). No others are known, and the present copy is unfortunately mutilated and restored in one or two places, having originally been taken from the covers of another book.

See Ritson's "Bibliographia Poetica," 1802, p. 80, where, among the works of John Lydgate, the monk of Bury, is enumerated a piece entitled: "Gallants, England may wail that ever they came here," which seems, in fact, to be the present treatise. Ritson says at the end of his list that it is "highly probable that some of these pieces are not by Lydgate." It is a far more spirited piece than the greater part of his acknowledged works. It is reprinted, from a collation of all the editions, in Hazlitt's "Popular Poetry," iii.

This edition is printed in "caractères de civilité," but notwithstanding the assertion on the title, M. Brunet remarks that it is not the earliest edition printed in France.

A—O 3 in fours.

Dedicated to Sir Robert Cecil, by Hakluyt, who subscribes himself, "your Honors Chapleyn, in all dutie." The original Portuguese version was printed at Lisbon in 1563, but so rare was it even in Hakluyt's time, that he says in his preface, "It (the translation) hath lien by me aboute these twelue yeeres. In all which space though I haue made much inquirie, and sent to Lisbon, where it seemeth it was printed, yet to this day I could neuer obtaine the originall copie; whereby I might reforme the manifold errors of the translator."

A, 2 leaves; B—K in fours. In verse.

Dedicated "To The Kings most Sacrat Maiestie." The series ends with Prince Henry. This work has been reprinted, with Gardyne's "Garden of Graue and Godly Flowers," for the Abbotsford Club. Of the original only two other copies are known: one, from the Duke of Roxburghe's library, in the British Museum (the title slightly defective), the other at Britwell, formerly Heber's. In the Grenville catalogue it is described as printed in 1625, but this is a mistake, which has, however, been copied by Lowndes.

GARDINER, RALPH. Englands Grievance Discovered, In relation to the Coal-Trade: With The Map of the River of Tine, and Situation of the Town and Corporation of Newcastle. The Tyrannical oppression of those Magistrates, their Charters and Grants; the several Tryals, Depositions, and Judgements obtained against them; With A Breviate of several Statutes proving repugnant to their Act-

By Ralph Gardiner of Chriton in the County of Northumberland, Gent. London Printed by R. Ibbitson, in Smith-field, and P. Stent at the White horse in Giltspur street, without New-gate. 1655. 4to. R. M.

Map of the Tyne from Newcastle to Tynemouth, including parts of Durham and Northumberland, as a frontispiece ; title, 1 leaf ; dedication to Oliver Cromwell, 2 leaves ; To the Reader, 1 leaf ; B—Ee 2 in fours.

There are many engravings on the letterpress by Stent, including portraits of the English kings, also a fine one of Cromwell at p. 114 by R. Gaywood, similar to that which occurs in Gand's "Parallelum Olivæ," 1656, folio, but with an inscription beneath it and marked "R. G. fecit" and "Peter Stent Exc : 1653."

In 1849 appeared a tract, printed for the first time from one of the Hornby MSS. and entitled, "The Plea and Defence of the Mayor and Burgesses of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, as Conservators of the Port thereof, against the malevolent accusations of Gardiner and his Adherents, as exhibited by him before Parliament in 1653, and given in his 'Englands Grievance Discovered in relation to the Coal Trade.'"

GARDINER, SAMUEL. A Booke of Angling, or Fishing. Wherein is shewed by conference with Scriptures, the agreement betweene the Fishermen, Fishes, Fishing of both natures, Temporall and Spirituall. By Samvel Gardiner Doctor of Diuinitie. Mathew, 4. 19. I will make you fishers of men. London ¶ Printed by Thomas Purfoot. 1606. Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves ; title on A 2 ; B—M 1 in eights.

From the collection of Mr. Cotton, the Ordinary of Newgate, with his book-plate. The only other copy known is in the Bodleian library. The volume is dedicated to Sir Henry Gaudie, Sir Miles Corbet, Sir Hammond Le-Strang, Sir Henry Spelman, Knights. The connection with angling is purely figurative.

GARDINER, STEPHEN, Bishop of Winchester. A Detection of the Deuils Sophistrie, wherwith he robbeth the vnlearned people, of the true byleef, in the most blessed Sacrament of the aulter. M.

A—S 4 in eights, except E, which has only 4 leaves.

From Mr. Maskell's collection. Sheet E is printed entirely in Greek types, and sheet F in Roman letter, being a quotation by Gardiner, in support of his argument, from "Damascene," first in the original Greek, and then in Latin and English, the last in black letter, like the rest of the book. Gardiner gives the following reason for introducing this : "I haue ben the rather persuaded, to wryte in, the Originall in greke, and therwith the translacion in latyn and also english. It shal not greatly augment the boke, and bycause some children learne greake in this tyme, it maye serue them for a lesson, wherwith to occupie their tender wittes, and conferme thē against the malyce of the deuyll."

A—N in eights, first leaf occupied only by a woodcut device, and the last leaf is blank.

Dedicated to Sir Henry Vane, Junior. This little volume is of the greatest rarity. In the address "To the English nation" Gardynere says: "And I shall assure them, I have related nothing but what my own knowledg or good intelligence perswades me is certainly true, I have been plain in discourse of the Forreign Commerce of our Nation. All which I intended in a larger Volumn, but the Flemmings and Irish taking me in my comming from those remote parts of America, took from me that greater relation. . . ."

En Madrid, Por Luis Sanchez: Año 1596. Folio.*

Folios 1-297, including title and four folding genealogical tables which count regularly in the pagination except the last, which is numbered 297 only, though consisting of five sheets. Following this is "Carta del Doctor Antonio Gomez" and another leaf of colophon, both unpagged. On p. 6 is a fine copper-plate portrait of "Don Philipe," son of Philip II., and above the colophon is a large woodcut portrait of the author.

GARLANDS. Collecta revirescunt. London: Collected and Bound in the Year M.DCC.XCIII. [By Joseph Ritson.] 2 vols. Sm. 8vo. 2.

This series of Garlands, Songs, and Chapbooks was collected by Ritson, and bound in two volumes with title-pages specially printed for them. They are editions of the latter half of the last century. We must content ourselves with enumerating: 1. Old Adam and Eve's Garland. 2. The Rake's Garland. 3. The Willing Batchelor's Garland. 4. The Fortunate Miller's Garland. 5. The Reformed Husband's Garland. 6. Faithful Sylvio's Garland. 7. Down the Burn Davy's Garland. 8. The London Flower's Garland. 9. The Country Courtship, Or, Love in a Barn. Sheffield, 1743. 10. The Jolly Dragoon's Garland. 11. Bob in the Bed's Garland. Sheffield, 1744. 12. The Merry Person's Garland. Sheffield: Printed by John Garnet, Junr. [Circâ 1750.] 13. Beautiful Flora's Garland. Newcastle, John White [About 1760.] 14. The Rich Counsellor's Garland. The Jolly Broom-man's Garland. 15. Bess of Bedlam's Garland. 16. The Country-Farmer's Garland. 17. The Trader's Garland. 18. The Dorsetshire Garland. Sheffield, Francis Lister [About 1750.] 19. The Cheshire Garland. Sheffield, Francis Lister, 1745. 20. Nevison's Garland. 21. The Lass of Cockerton's Garland. Darlington: Printed in the Year 1775. 22. Strong Beer of Old England's Garland. 23. Maggy Pickan's Garland. 24. The Duke of Gordon's Garland. 25. The Hadonbridge Garland. 26. The Felton Garland. 27. The Morpeth Wedding Garland. 28. Hawky's Garland. 29. The Northern Garland, Composed of the best English and Scotch Songs now approved of. [By Joseph Ritson?] Newcastle: Printed in this present Year. 30. Four Excellent New Songs. Edinburgh, 1774. 31. Young Grigor's Ghost. Edinburgh, 1774. An exceptionally curious collection; but the most interesting pieces are the specimens of the early Sheffield press, which are of the greatest rarity.

GARLANDS. A volume of Garlands, about sixty-five in number. Newcastle, 1793-1820. Sm. 8vo.

This collection includes Ritson's "Northumberland Garland," 1793. A general title-page, specially printed for the book, describes it as "A Right Merry Book of Garlands. Collected by J. Bell, on the Quay, Newcastle upon Tyne." Probably a few copies were made up in this way and sold as a volume.

GARLANDS AND CHAPBOOKS. A volume containing the following pieces, all of four leaves each. Printed between 1720 and 1750. In 1 vol. Sm. 8vo.

The Ruin'd Virgin's Garland. 17. Sir William Stanley's Garland.

From Sir John Simeon's library. The "Isle of Wight Garland" is very rare, and was reprinted by Mr. Utterson in 1839.

GARRICK, DAVID. Dramatic Works. To which is prefixed a life of the Author. In Three Volumes. London: 1798. Sm. 8vo.

GARRICK'S COMPLETE JESTER; Or, A Library of Fun and Laughter. Being a general Repository of Humour, Wit, and Entertainment London: Printed for W. Oxlade. [About 1775.] Sm. 8vo.

GARTER, BERNARD. A dittie in the worthie praise of an high and mightie Prince. [At the end.] Finis. Ber. Gar. [Colophon.] Imprinted at London without Aldersgate in little Britaine, by Alexander Lacy. [1562?] A Broadside. Black letter.

Sixty lines of verse in long ballad metre. Enclosed within a narrow border.

An encomium on Thomas Howard, fourth Duke of Norfolk. Reprinted in "Anc. Ballads," &c., 1867. No other copy is known.

— A strife betwene Appelles and Pigmalion. [At the end.] Finis. Ber. Gar. [Colophon.] Imprinted at London without Aldersgate in little Britaine, by A. Lacy. [1566.] A Broadside. Black letter.

Twelve 6-line stanzas.

Reprinted in "Ancient Ballads," &c., 1867. This poem occupies the right-hand column only; the other contains two pieces by I. Canand, entitled "The Fantasies of a troubled mannes head" and "Of euyl tongues." The former consists of thirty-six lines in long ballad metre, the latter of two verses in Spenserian rhythm, and four lines signed B[ernard] G[arter], headed "Of trust and triall." The only copy known.

— The Ioyfull Receyuing of the Queenes most excellent Maiestie into hir Highnesse Citie of Norwich: The things done in the time of hir abode there: and the dolor of the Citie at hir departure. Wherein are set downe diuers Orations in Latine, pronounced to hir Highnesse by Sir Robert Wood Knight, now Maior of the same Citie, and others: and certaine also deliuered to hir Maiestie in writing: euery of thē turned into English. At London, Imprinted by Henrie Bynneman. [1578.] 4to. R. M.

A—G in fours. In verse and prose.

Dedicated by Bernard Garter to Sir Owen Hopton, Lieutenant of the Tower. A portion of this pageant was written by Henry Goldingham.

GARTER, BERNARD. A Newyeares Gifte, dedicated to the Popes Holinesse, and all Catholikes addicted to the Sea of Rome: preferred the first day of Ianuarie, in the yeare of our Lorde God, after the course and computation of the Romanistes, one thousand, five hundreth, seauentie and nine, by B. G. Citizen of London: In recompence of diuers singular and inestimable Reliques, of late sent by the said Popes Holinesse into England, the true figures and representations whereof, are heereafter in their places dilated. [Quotations.] At London, Printed by Henry Bynneuman. Anno Domini. 1579. 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

In prose and verse. ¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶, 4 leaves; A—L in fours, besides a large folding woodcut of the alleged Popish relics, headed "Certaine of the Popes Merchandize lately sent ouer into Englande."

The curious prefatory matter to this volume is republished in the privately printed "Book of Prefaces," &c., 1874. The present copy, when in Mr. Corser's library, had a facsimile impression of the woodcut, for which was afterwards substituted a fine original one, discovered in another copy of the work.

GARZONI, T. The Hospitall of Incvorable Fooles: Erected in English, as neer the first Italian modell and platforme, as the vn-skilfull hand of an ignorant Architect could deuise. I pazzi, è li prudenti, fanno giustissima bilancia. Printed by Edm. Bollifant, for Edward Blount. 1600. 4to.

A, 5 leaves; a, 2 leaves; B—X in fours, the last leaf blank.

Dedicated "To the Good Old Gentlewoman, and her Special Benefactresse, Madam Fortune, Dame Folly (Matron of the Hospitall) makes curtesie, and speakes as followeth." The "Prologue of the Author to the beholders," which succeeds, appears to be written also by the English "architect," whose name is not disclosed; and then we have a leaf containing an address from the publisher, who was possibly the translator likewise, headed: "To my most neere and Capriccious Neighbor, ycleped Iohn Hodgson, alias John Hatter, or (as some will) Iohn of Paules Churchyard, (Cum multis alijs, quæ nunc imprimere longum est.)"

The original was printed at Venice in 1586. A French translation was printed at Paris, 1620, and a German version at Strasburg, 1618. None of the translations seem, however, to have been printed more than once.

GASCOIGNE, GEORGE. The Complete Poems of George Gascoigne. Now first collected and Edited from the early printed copies and from MSS. with a Memoir and Notes, by W. C. Hazlitt. Roxburghe Library, 1869-70. 2 vols. 4to. Large paper. Plates.

Only thirty copies were printed on large paper.

— The Whoole workes of George Gascoigne Esquyre: Newlye conpyled into one Volume, That is to say: His Flowers, Hearbes, Weedes, the Fruites of warre: the Comedie called Supposes, the Tragedie of Iocasta, the Steele glasse, the Comblaint of Phylomene, the Storie of Ferdinando Ieronimi, and the pleasure at Kenelworth Castle.

London Imprinted by Abell Ieffes, dwelling in the Fore Streete, without Creeplegate, neere unto Grubstreet. 1587. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶, 4 leaves, the last blank; ¶¶¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶¶¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶¶¶¶, 1 leaf; a—k in eights; B, 4 leaves; C—P in eights; Q, 4 leaves; no sig. R; S—Z in eights; ¶, 4 leaves. "The Steele Glas," with a new title (dated, like the first, 1587), S, 4 leaves, and V—Y in eights (all irregularly marked as well as paged); then (with p. 321) A—B, 8 leaves each. "The princely pleasures of Kenelworth Castle," with a headline title, A—C in eights. "Certain Notes of Instruction," 4 leaves marked D.

This is the most complete edition of Gascoigne, and was published ten years after his death. It by no means, however, contains all that he wrote, even in verse, nor is it on the whole a correct text. See "Bibl. Anglo-poet.," No. 288.

Copies are sometimes found with the title, "The Pleasauntest Workes of George Gascoigne Esquyre."

GASCOIGNE, GEORGE. A Hundreth sundrie Flowres bounde vp in one small Poesie. Gathered partely (by translation) in the fyne outlandish Gardins of Euripides, Ouid, Petrarke, Ariosto, and others: and partly by inuention, out of our owne fruitfull Orchardes in Englande: Yelding sundrie sweete sauours of Tragical, Comical, and Morall Discourses, both pleasaunt and profitable to the well smellyng noses of learned Readers. Meritum petere, graue. At London, Imprinted [by Henry Bynneman] for Richarde Smith. [1573.] 4to. Black letter. O. M.

Title, 1 leaf; the Printer to the Reader and errata, 2 leaves; title to "Supposes," with prologue on back, 1 leaf; B iii—X in fours; no Y or Z (pp. 165-200); then A—Ii in fours, the last leaf blank; no Z.

First impression of Gascoigne's poems, and by far the rarest. See "Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica," No. 284, and "Bibliotheca Heberiana," part iv., No. 764.

— The Posies of George Gascoigne Esquire. Corrected, perfected, and augmented by the Authour. 1575. Tam Marti quam Mercurio. Printed at London for Richard Smith, and are to be solde at the Northwest doore of Paules Church. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶¶¶, 4 leaves; ¶¶¶¶¶, 2 leaves (the second having the title to "Flowers"); a—k in eights. "Hearbes," with a fresh title, A, 2 leaves; B, 2 leaves; C—K 4 in eights; (A)—(M) in fours; N—T 4 in eights, and U, 2 leaves.

This is regarded as the first genuine edition, having been revised and entirely remodelled by the author, who, however, if he saw it through the press, did so somewhat negligently, since words which stand correct in the earlier edition are here misprinted. See "Bibl. Anglo-Poet.," No. 285, and "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., Nos. 765-7. The title-page was printed twice, with a variation in the imprint and in the border or compartment, but nothing beyond. The interesting copy of this book described in "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 767, was purchased at Dr. Bliss's sale for the Bodleian library.

The dedication of "The Fruites of Warre" to Lord Grey is omitted in the edition of 1587. "The opinion of the aucthor himself after all these commendations"

(the introductory verses) and the lines which follow are likewise suppressed in the later quarto.

GASCOIGNE, GEORGE. The Steele Glas. A Satyre cōpiled by George Gascoigne Esquire. Together with the Complainge of Phylomene, An Elegie deduced by the same Author. Tam Marti quam Mercurio. Printed for Richard Smith. [1576.] 4to. G. M.

A—P in fours; Q, 5 leaves, and (between A and B) a leaf of errata.

On the back of the title is the portrait of Gascoigne engraved on wood. "Phylomene" opens on the third leaf of sig. I with a fresh title, at the foot of which occurs: Imprinted at London by Henrie Binneman, for Richarde Smith. Anno Domini. 1576.

— The Droomme of Doomes Day. Wherin the frailties and miseries of mans lyfe, are lyuely portrayed, and learnedly set forth. Deuided, as appeareth in the Page next following. Translated and collected by George Gascoigne Esquyer. Tam Marti, quam Mercurio. Imprinted at London for Gabriell Carwood: dwelling in Paules Churchyard, at the Signe of the holy Ghost. 1576. 4to. Black letter. O. M.

Title, 1 leaf; dedication to the Earl of Bedford, 2 leaves; a blank leaf; errata, 1 leaf; another blank leaf; A, 4 leaves; B—H in eights; I, 4 leaves; K, 8 leaves; L, 4 leaves; M, 8 leaves; N, 4 leaves; O—S, 8 leaves each; T, 4 leaves.

First edition. The introductory matter, which explains to some extent the circumstances under which the book was undertaken and completed, is republished in the privately printed "Book of Prefaces," 1874.

— The Droomme of Doomes Day. At London Imprinted by Iohn Windet, for Gabriell Carwood: dwelling in Paules Churchyard, at the signe of the Holy Ghost. 1586. 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

GATTI, BASSIANO. Maria Regina di Scotia Poema heroico del P Prior D. Bassiano Gatti Monaco di S. Girolama. Alla Santita di N. S. Vrbano VIII. Bologna. 1633. 4to. BL. M.

a, 4 leaves; A—X in fours; "Tavola," 2 leaves.

The title, engraved by Agostino Parisini, represents the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots.

GAULE, JOHN. Practique Theories or Votive Speculations vpon Christs Prediction. Incarnation. Passion. Resurrection. By John Gaule. London Printed for James Boler at the Signe of the Marigold in Pauls Church-yard. 1629. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—Cc 11 in twelves, besides the engraved title-page in compartments by C. le Blon. The first leaf is occupied by the "Explanation of the Frontispiece," in verse.

This miscellany of prose and verse is dedicated to Charles I. It is entirely different from a book under the same title published by Gaule in 1630. The present was probably Skegg's copy.

— A Defiance to Death. Being The Funebrious Commemoration of the Right Honourable, Baptist Lord Hickes, Viscount Camden, late deceased. Preached at Camden in Gloucester-shire, Nouember 8, 1629. London: Printed by Thomas Harper, for Robert Allot, and are to be sold at his Shop in Pauls Church-yard at the signe of the Blacke Beare, 1630. From the collections of Mr. Mitford and Dr. Bliss.

— Pleasant Notes upon Don Quixot. By Edmund Gayton, Esq; London, Printed by William Hunt. 1654. Folio.

Title, 1 leaf; *, 4 leaves; , 2 leaves; B—Oo in fours. With several copies of complimentary poems and a good deal of verse interspersed.

This book is often quoted by Brand in his "Popular Antiquities" for its allusions illustrative of ancient manners and customs.

— Wil: Bagnal's Ghost. Or the Merry Devill of Gadmvnton. In his Perambulation of the Prisons of London. By E. Gayton, Esq; London, Printed by W. Wilson for Thomas Johnson at the Golden-Key in St. Pauls Church-yard. 1655. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—G in fours. In verse. Dedicated to "Mr. Gifford, The Meriting Master of the Compter in the Poultry."

This is a narrative written in doggerel verse, and said to be founded on facts. It is supposed that William Bagwell, author of the "Merchant Distressed," partly sat for the picture.

— The Religion of a Physician: Or, Divine Meditations upon the Grand and Lesser Festivals, Commanded to be observed in the Church of England by Act of Parliament. By Edmund Gayton, Batchelor of Physick, and Captain Lieutenant of Foot to His Illustrious Highness James Duke of York. Whom God preserve. London: Printed by J. G. for the Author. 1663. 4to.

Being a True Account of a late Miraculous Preservation of Nine Men in a small Boat which was inclosed within Islands of Ice about Seventy Leagues from Land, and continuing in Distress Twenty-eight Days. . . . London: Printed for A. Bettesworth . . . 1708. Sm. 8vo.

Twelve leaves.

The men belonged to the "Langdon" frigate, bound from Plymouth to Newfoundland; and they sailed from the former place Feb. 27, 1706-7.

GEDDES, WILLIAM. The Saints Recreation, Third Part, upon the Estate of Grace. Containing and methodically delineating a Christians Progress, Priviledges, Comforts and Duties, beginning at Conversion: describing also the blessed Redeemer Jesus, both absolutely and comparativly: And all these in Spiritual Hymns and Songs, suted to grave, sweet and melodious Tunes; Together with a plain Paraphrase upon the margent, confirming all by Scriptures, explaining difficulties and methodizing the Songs. Compiled by Mr. William Geddes, Minister of the Gospel, first at Wick in Caithnes, and after at Urquhart in Murray. [Quotation.] Edinbvrgh, Printed by David Lindsay, Mr. James Kniblo. . . . Anno Dom. 1683. 4to.

Title, dedication, preface, &c., 8 leaves; A—M in fours, not including a folding table of the types of Christ. In verse, with the exception of two pages occupied by a description of Christ's types.

No first and second part of this work have been found.

GEDDIE, EMELIA. The Life of Emelia Geddie, daughter of John Geddie of Hiltoun, Falkland. . . . Printed for Margaret Macdonald. [n. d.] Sm. 8vo.

Six leaves.

This is a short sketch of the life of a young Scotchwoman, who died about 1670. There were probably earlier editions. The present was printed about the middle of the last century.

GEE, JOSHUA. The Trade and Navigation of Great-Britain considered . . . The Third Edition, to which is added a Supplement . . . London. 1731. 8vo.

Jor vff der herren fastnacht von ettlichen ersamē vnd geschicktē Burgeren einer loblichen stat Basel.* [O. O. u. J.] 4to. Woodcuts.

Twenty-eight leaves. In verse.

“Dieses Fastnachtspiel wird von Gottsched, in dem Vorrath zur Geschichte der deutschen dramatischen Dichtkunst S. 46. als das erste gedruckte Stück aus dem 16^{ten}. Seculo angeführt.”—Panzer, Annalen der ältern deutschen Litteratur.

Panzer goes on to say that he is quite ignorant of any particulars of the author. Dr. Graesse, however, in his “Trésor de livres rares,” &c., gives a list of eleven different pieces by him, and mentions that his works were reprinted in 1856. He appears to have become a strong partisan of the Reformation.

GENGENBACH, PAMPHILUS. Nouella.

Wär jemandtz der new mār begärt
 Der wirt in disem büchlin gwärt
 Er wirt hören grosz obenthür,
 Die do kurtzlich ist gangen für.

[O. O. u. F.] 4to. Woodcuts. BR. M.

Eighteen leaves.

This piece is a violent satire in verse against Thomas Murner, the strong antagonist of Luther. A full account of it is given by Panzer ("Annalen," vol. ii., p. 113), who assigns to it the date of 1522. By Graesse it is said to be a second edition under a fresh title of a piece by the same author, entitled "Ein grausame history von einem Pfarrer vnd einem geyst vnd dem Murner der sich nempt der Narrenbeschwerer," also printed without place or date.

GENINGES, EDMUND. The Life and Death of M^r. Edmund Geninges Priest, Crowned with Martyrdome at London, the 10. day of Nouember, in the yeare M.DXCI. Pretiosa in conspectu Dñi Mors Sanctorum eius. Psal. 115. At S. Omers by Charles Boscard. An. 1614. 4to. R. M.

A—O in fours.

The title-page, the portrait of Geninges, "Ætatis suæ 24, A^o. 1591," and eleven prints illustrating his life from childhood, are all engraved by Martin Bas. The whole is in prose, except "The Author to his Booke," and "The Booke to his Reader," three 6-line stanzas each on A 2. On A 3 is a letter signed "J. W. P.," addressed to "Maister J. G. P." These initials probably represent John Wilson or Watson, the author of the "Roman Martyrologie," printed in 1608, and John Geninges, brother of Edmund Geninges. It is, however, not at all clear from this letter whether Wilson or John Geninges was the author of the biography.

GENTLEMAN'S CALLING. The Gentleman's Calling. London Printed for T. Garthwait at the Little North-doore of S. Pauls. 1660. Sm. 8vo.

Engraved title and frontispiece, 2 leaves; A, 1 leaf; a 3—b in eights (13 leaves); engravings of Jeremiah and Zedekiah of the size of the page, 2 leaves; B—M in eights.

— The Gentlemans Calling. London Printed, &c. 1660. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

Title and frontispiece, as in preceding article, 2 leaves; a—b in eights; B—M in eights.

This is a different edition, published in the same year. The errors of the first impression are corrected. From p. 1 to 159 it seems to be a paginary reprint, but the preliminaries added vary considerably.

GEOGRAPHIÆ veteris Scriptores Græci minores, cum interpretatione Latina, dissertationibus, ac annotationibus. [On title of Vol. III.] Accedunt Geographica Arabica, &c. Oxonia, 1698, 1703, 1712. 4 vols. 8vo. Large paper. BL. M.

GEORGE A GREEN. A Pleasant Conceyted Comedie of George a Greene, the Pinner of Wakefield. As it was sundry times acted by the seruants of the right Honourable the Earle of Sussex. Imprinted at London by Simon Stafford, for Cuthbert Burby: And are to be sold at his shop neere the Royall Exchange. 1599. 4to.

A—G 2 in fours.

Mr. Dyce, in his editions of Greene's works, 1831 and 1861, has shown some ground for the attribution of the present drama to that writer. This edition is the only one known.

— The History of George A Green, Pindar of the Town of Wakefield. His Birth, Calling, Valour, and Reputation in the Country. With Divers Pleasant as well as Serious Passages in the Course of his Life and Fortune. Illustrated with Cuts. [Quotation from Virg. Æneid.] London: Printed for Tho. Norris, at the Looking-Glass on London-Bridge. [n. d.] Sm. 8vo.

A, 4 leaves; a, 4 leaves; B—L in fours, with several full-page woodcuts and a frontispiece.

Dedicated to the Steward, &c., of Wakefield. This seems to be identical with an edition bearing date 1706. There is another dated 1715, with the same cuts. This prose history was probably anterior to the play on the subject, printed in 1599; but the earliest known impression is one of 1632, in the Bodleian library.

The present copy was successively in the collections of the Duke of Roxburghe, Sir Francis Freeling, and Mr. George Smith.

GEORGE OF DENMARK. A Pastoral Occasion'd by the Arrival of His Royal Highness Prince George of Denmark, &c. Design'd to marry Her Highness the Lady Ann, Daughter to that Heroick Prince, James, Duke of York and Albany. Printed by N. Thompson, at the Entrance into the Old-Spring-Garden near Charing-Cross, 1683. 4to.

A—B 2 in fours, or 6 leaves. In verse.

Written by Sir Balthazar Gerbier, Douvily, Knight. London, Printed by Thomas Mabb, dwelling on St. Pauls-Wharff near the Thames, 1663. Sm. 8vo.

a—f in eights; then B—H in eights, H 8 having only the errata. The signatures a—f consist of dedications to different noblemen, and probably vary in different copies.

— A Brief Discourse concerning the Three chief Principles of Magnificent Building. Viz. Solidity, Conveniency, and Ornament. By Sr. Balthazar Gerbier, Knight. London, Printed by Tho. Mabb, for Tho. Heath at the Globe within Ludgate, 1664. Sm. 8vo.

A—H in eights, H 8 with an advertisement only.

Dedicated to the King. From a notice at the end of the preceding work, the first section of the present volume appears to have been printed separately before the rest.

These two little books were written to encourage the study of architecture in all its details after the Restoration, and contain some very curious and interesting particulars. From Dr. Bliss's collection.

GERBIER, CHARLES. An Elegie upon the most lamented death of the Right Honourable and truly valiant, Robert, Earle of Essex, &c. [1646.] 4to.

5 parts in 1 vol. Sm. 8vo. R.

"The Warnings" contains title and preface, 16 leaves; B—F 4 in eights, the last leaf blank. Preceding the title is a folded plate in five oval compartments, the centre one being a small map.

"Lacrymæ Germaniæ," title and preface, 4 leaves; B—F 4 in eights.

"The Invasions," title and preface, 4 leaves, the first blank; B—H in eights (*F, 4 leaves between E and F). This part contains twenty-one portraits, which count in the signatures, besides a map of Germany.

"A true & brief relation of the Bloody Battell," &c. Ten leaves.

"The Lamentations," title and preface, 8 leaves, the first blank; sig. a, 8 leaves, the first leaf being a copper-plate; B and b, 8 leaves each, b 5 and b 8 being copper-plates; C, D, E, 8 leaves each, including six copper-plates without letterpress, which count in the signatures.

This book is very rarely found with all the five parts perfect.

GERRARD, PHILIP. BL. M.*

A—E in eights; A 8 blank. The title is within a woodcut border.

At the end of the preface the writer subscribes himself, "Your Maiesties faithful and humble seruauent Philippe Gerrard yeoman of the Chambre vnto your grace."

GERSON, JOHANNES. Incipit Donatus moralizatus Egregii ac cristianissimi Doctoris Magistri Johānis de Gerson Cancellarii Parisiensis. [At the end.] Donatus moralizatus finit. [sine ullâ notâ.] 4to.

Six leaves. Thirty-six lines to the page. This appears to be the edition described by Hain, No. 7726. Another edition of six leaves and thirty-six lines to the page was printed at Memmingen by Albert Kune, Hain, 7729.

GERSON, JOHANNES. Incipit tractatus magistri Johannis de Gersonno, Cancellarii parisiē, de regulis mandatoꝝ qui stringit occlusionū processu. fere totam theologiā practicam, et moralem. [Sine ullā notā.] 4to. BR. M.

This edition of thirty-five leaves, with twenty-nine lines to the page, does not appear to be described by Hain.

— Doctissimi acutissimiq; viri, Johannis de gersonno theologi doctoris & insignis parisiōꝝ ecclesie cancellarii tractatus de ecclesiastica p̄tate. et origine iuris ac legū, in cōstantiensi cōcilio editus felicit. incipit. [Absque nota.] 4to. BR. M.

Thirty-five leaves, twenty-nine lines to the page.

Sixteen leaves, twenty-nine lines to the page.

Of this and the preceding article Hain mentions only one edition, and he gives no descriptive account of either piece. See Nos. 7669 and 7670.

— [Opusculum tripartitum de preceptis decalogi, de confessione et de arte moriendi.] [Colophon.] Explicit opusculū tripartitum de preceptis decalogi De confessione ⁊ de arte moriēdi. p̄ximū sacre theologie p̄fessorē Magistꝝ iohānem de Gersona alme vniuersitatis p̄sien⁹ Cancellariū. [Sine ullā notā.] 4to.

Thirty-four leaves, twenty-five lines to the page.

This appears to be the edition indicated by Hain, No. 7654, and attributed by him to the press of the Brothers of Common life, "In valle Mariæ Virginis in Rhingavia." It agrees exactly with the colophon he gives so far as the wording goes, but differs in the division of the lines; but as his description is not taken from actual inspection it is probable this is a mistake.

GESTA GRAYORUM: or, the History Of the High and mighty Prince, Henry Prince of Purpoole, Arch-Duke of Stapulia and Bernardia, Duke of High and Nether Holborn, Marquis of St. Giles and Tottenham, Count Palatine of Bloomsbury and Clerkenwell, Great Lord of the Cantons of Islington, Kentish-Town, Paddington and Knights-bridge, Knight of the most Heroical Order of the Helmet, and Sovereign of the same; Who Reigned and Died, A. D. 1594. Together with A Masque, as it was presented (by His Highness's Command) for the Entertainment of Q. Elizabeth, who, with the Nobles of both Courts, was present thereat. London, Printed for W. Canning, at his Shop in the Temple-Cloysters. 1688. 4to.

A, 2 leaves; B—K 2 in fours.

Dedicated by the publisher to Matthew Smyth, Esq., Comptroller of the Honourable Society of the Inner-Temple. This tract was reprinted by Nichols in his "Progresses of Queen Elizabeth," with the second part, the latter (of which there is no printed edition) from a MS. "Stapulia" and "Bernardia" are, of course, Staple and Bernard's Inns. Though printed by Nichols as though it were the record of a masque that had been acted in the sixteenth century, it is, in fact, only a satire.

GESTA proxime per Portugalenses in India: Ethiopia: & aliis orinetalibus (sic) terris. [Colophon.] Impressum Rome per Joannem Besicken Anno. Meccv. vi. Die vii. mensis Novembris. 4to.

Six leaves.

First edition. It is said by Graesse that two copies only of this edition are known; one in the Grenville library and the other in the library of the Royal Society.

Four leaves, forty-six lines to the full page.

Whether this or the Nuremberg edition is to be reckoned as the second it is difficult to determine in the absence of the month in the colophon of the latter; but as February, 1507, would be, in the old style, fifteen months later than November, 1506, the date of the first edition, it is probable that the Nuremberg edition is the second.

GESTA ROMANORUM. Ex gestis romanoꝝ hystorie nōbiles : de vitijs v̄tutibusq; tractātes. cū applicacōnib⁹ moralizatis & misticis : Incipiunt feliciter. [Sine ullā notā.] Folio. BR. M.

This edition of 169 leaves, 36 lines to the page, is esteemed the earliest of this famous collection of tales by some bibliographers; but by others that honour is assigned to the edition printed at Utrecht by Nicholas Ketelaer. Hain gives this edition the first place in his list (No. 7734), and attributes it to the press of Ulric Zell of Cologne, about 1472. A MS. note by Sir F. Madden in the Grenville copy says that it was undoubtedly printed by Zell.

Many of the engravings are the same which had been used for "Der Passion" described above. On the title is a fine woodcut portrait of the author.

GHOST. The Ghost Or The Woman wears the Breeches. A Comedy Written in the Year MDCXL. London, Printed by William Bentley for Thomas Heath dwelling in Russel street in Covent-garden near the Piazza. 1653. 4to.

A, 2 leaves, with the title, "Dramata Personarum," and prologue, and B—G 3 in fours, G 3 having the epilogue.

GIBBON, CHARLES. Not so new, as True. Being a verie necessarie Caueat for all Christians to consider of. Wherein is truelic described the iniquitie of this present time by occasion of our confused liuing: And iustlie approued the world to be neuer worse, by reason of our contagious leaudnes. By Charles Gibbon. [Quotation from 2 Esdr. xiv., 16.] Imprinted at London by Thomas Orwin, dwelling in Paternoster rowe ouer against the signe of the Checker. 1590. 4to.

A—H in fours.

Dedicated to the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of King's-Lynn. On the verso of A 4 is an acrostic on "Elizabetha Regina." The work is in the form of a dialogue between "Alpheus" and "Nicanor."

This tract is bound up in a volume with Lupton's "Too Good to be true," 1587 (part 1), Stubbes's "Christal Glasse for Christian Women," 1592, &c. The collection seems to have been formed by one Philip Moore, whose initials are on each side of the original calf cover, and his autograph on three of the pieces. There is also in the volume an imperfect copy of Gibbon's "Praise of a Good Name," 1594.

This appears to be quite complete, but does not include, or contain at the end, the tract by Beza, which Herbert says (p. 884) was printed with this under the general title of "A briefe declaration of the chiefe poyntes of Christian Religion." The copy in the British Museum contains only the same as this.

——— A Pleasavnt Dialogve betweene a Souldior of Barwicke and an English Chaplaine. Wherein are largely handled & laide open such reasons as are brought in for maintenaunce of popishe Traditions in our Eng. Church. Also is collected, as in a short table, 120. particular cor-

It is probably on account of the preface by Polydore Virgil being dated from London in 1525 that the book is described by Herbert as printed there in that year. It is printed throughout in a small italic type, but there is no indication whatever of the place of printing.

Fourteen leaves.

Humboldt, as quoted by HARRISSE, says of this piece: "C'est dans cette brochure, trës rare aujourd'hui, que j'ai trouvé employé pour la première fois la dénomination d'Amérique pour désigner le Nouveau Monde, d'après le conseil donné par Hylacomylus en 1507. L'auteur anonyme . . . ne nomme le navigateur florentin que sur le titre de l'ouvrage et sans faire aucune mention de Colomb."—Examen Critique, vol. vi, p. 142. The passage occurs on B iii (recto), where the author says: "Pedes occidentis & ipsa america nouiter reperta. quarta orbis pars."

a—o 6 in eights, including title.

The title to this book, as given above, is entirely xylographic. On the back of the title is a woodcut of Pope Urban II. preaching the Crusade. The first edition was printed at Augsburg, in 1482, by Bämmler. According to Brunet, "The History of Helyas the Knight of the Swan," printed by Wynkyn de Worde, 1512, 4to, is a translation of this book; but in this statement he is certainly mistaken, and there is, in fact, no relation whatever between the two works.

This edition was unknown to Panzer, and Dr. Graesse was only acquainted with it through Zapf's "Augsburgs Buchdrucker-Geschichte."

GODINHO, MANOEL. Relaçao do novo caminho que fez por terra e mar, vindo da India para Portugal no anno de 1663. Em Lisboa, Heurique Valente de Oliveira. 1665. 4to.

Title and preliminaries, 6 leaves; pp. 1-188.

GODOY, JUAN DE. Relacion verissima, donde se tratan las sentidas palabras, que el Rey don Felipe Segundo dixo en su testamento, dexando casados a sus dos hijos: don Phelippe, y doña Ysabel, encargandole mucho al Duque de Saboya y sus hijos: mayormente a su hija doña Ysabel, y que mirasse por sus Reynos: y sobre todo la conciencia. Compuestas por Juan de Godoy, con vnas alabanças a san Raymundo. Impresa con licencia. [s. l.] Año 1608. 4to.

Four leaves. The first two leaves are marked A and A 2. The third leaf is marked B, and on this is another title-heading: "Obra contemplatiua para los Christianos, donde se trata vn discreto Codecilo, que hizo el Rey don Philippe II. que estè en el Cielo," &c. On each title is a small rude woodcut.

Señor Salvá describes another piece by this author printed at Cuenca in 1603, also consisting of four leaves, and speaks of it as "raro y curiosissimo opusculo." The author is evidently, as Señor Salvá remarks, a different person from the two writers of the same name mentioned by Antonio.

GOES, DAMIANUS. Hispania Damiani a Goes Equitis Lusitani. Lovanii Excudebat Rutgerus Rescius. Anno 1542. 4to.

Thirty leaves.

En casa de Juan Steelsio. Año 1554.* Sm. 8vo.

Brunet gives an accurate collation of this volume so far as regards the text, but does not mention the map, which is in this copy placed at the end of the preliminary matter and is entitled "Brevis exactaq. totius novi orbis eiusq. insularum descriptio recens a Ioan. Bellerio edita." At the end of the preliminary matter is the following imprint: "Impresso en Anuers por Juan Lacio. M.D.L.IIIII."

— *The Pleasant Historie of the Conquest of the Weast India, now called new Spayne, Atchieued by the wortly Prince Hernando Cortes Marques of the valley of Huaxacac, most delectable to Reade: Translated out of the Spanish tongue, by T. GOMERSALL, ROBERT. The Levites Revenge: Containing Poeticall Meditations vpon the 19. and 20. Chapters of Ivdges. By R. Gomersall. Imprinted at London in the yeare 1628. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 8 leaves, the first having the explanation of the frontispiece; engraved title (or frontispiece) by T. Cecil, in six compartments, 1 leaf; B—F in eights.

Dedicated "To His worthily respected Friend, Master Barten Holiday, Arch-Deacon of Oxford." The volume has forty-nine leaves, not forty (as stated by Mr. Collier, "Bibl. Cat.," i., 317). From Mr. Corser's collection.

GOMES DE TRIER. Verger des colloques récréatifs. Compris en douze Chapitres, très-propre & utile pour toutes sortes de gens, en langue Françoisse & bas Allemand. Tot Amsterdam Gedruckt by Paulus van Ravesteyn. [1605.] 4to.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; A—Gg in fours.

The fifth chapter of this volume has a treatise on chess, and at p. 108 we find the following curious notice:

☞ Qui fréquente la cuisine, sent de la fumée.

☞ Et ne veuillez jamais donner foy aux faremo de Rome, a Adesso d'Italie, au Magnana d'Espagne, au Byand-by d'Angleterre, au Warant-you d'Escosse, et au tantost de France, car sont tous de peu d'importance."

The term "frères-mineurs d'Angleterre" is explained by the Dutch version, where the words stand "Jonger Broeders," but the other epithets are the same in the Dutch as in the French.

— Le jardin de récréation Auquel croissent Rameaux, Fleurs, & Fruïcts, très-beaux, gentilz, & soüefs. Soubz le nom de six mille Proverbes, & plaisantes rencontres Françoises recueilliés & triées, par Gomes de Trier. Amsterdam Par Paul de Ravesteyn. Anno 1611. 4to.

Six preliminary leaves, including the title, which is beautifully etched on copper. A—Dd in fours. On the recto of Dd iv is a recapitulation of the number of proverbs contained under each letter of the alphabet. They amount in all to 5,806. M. Duplessis has shown that the work is in fact a translation of Florio's "Giardino di recreatione," printed at London in 1591.

GOMEZ, FERNAN. Centon Epistolario Del Bachiller Fernan Gomez de cibda Real Físico del mui poderoso e sublimado Rei Don Juan el segundo deste nonbre. A—V in fours; X, 6 leaves.

There can be no doubt that this volume was printed at a later date than 1499, and it is probably the earliest example of an attempt to deceive in this way. The general appearance of the book, the small Arabic numerals for pagination, the use of pagination instead of folios, and the sham antiquarian look of the large capitals, all point to a hundred years later than the date it pretends to. The title has been given exactly as it stands in the original, with the words in many instances run into one another.

GOMEZ, GASPAR. Tercera parte de la tragicomedia de Celestina: va psiguiendo en los amores de Felides, y Polãdria: cõcluyen se sus desseados desposorios y la muerte y desdichado fin que elle vuo: es obra dela qual se pueden sacar dichos sutilissimos, sentencias admirables: por muy elegante estilo dichas agora nueuamẽte compuestas por Gaspar Gomez. [Colophon.] Acabose la presente obra en la muy noble & Imperial ciudad d' Toledo. . . . En casa de Hernãdo de santa catalina. Año . . . de mil Quinientos y treynta y nueue Años. 4to.

A—P in eights; Q, 6 leaves.

For an account of the extreme rarity of this volume see the catalogue of Señor Salvá, No. 1269. Brunet had evidently taken the title at secondhand without being able to see the book itself. The only authority for an edition of 1536 is Panzer, who describes one as printed at Medina del Campo in that year. Ticknor mentions an edition of 1537, but this Señor Salvá says must be a mistake.

GOMEZ DE FIGUEROA, ALVAR. Aqui se comienza vna obra llamada Reprehension de la republica: y espejo del alma. Trobada por Aluar Gomez de Figueroa, peregrino de Hierusalem, natural de Cordoua: nueuamente con licencia impressa. En Salamanca en casa de Antonia Ramirez viuda, año de 1607. 4to.

Four leaves. Beneath the title is a rude woodcut of St. Christopher. The author appears to be unknown to Antonio and to Señor Salvá.

GONZALEZ, ESTEVANILLO. La Vida i Hechos de Estevanillo Gonzalez, Hombre de buen humor. Compuesto por el mesmo. En Amberes, En casa de la Viuda de Iuan Cnobbart. 1646. 4to. R. M.

Title and preliminaries, 8 leaves; pp. 388; table, 2 leaves. On the verso of the fourth preliminary leaf is a fine portrait of the author.

GONZALEZ DE LEGARIA, JUAN. Aqui se contiene vna Obra nueva, graciosa y muy gustosa para reyr, y passar tiempo. De vn cuento que le passo a vn Soldado con vn Gato, porque le lleuaua la comida, y porque le lleuo vna libra de atun de yjada, y amenazandole. Contrahecho al Romance de Zayde, juntamente con la respuesta q̄ dio el Gato al Author, con vn villancico que las gatas le dan. Compuesto agora nueuamente por Juan Gonçalez de Legaria, natural de Viana Este año de (1)608. [s. l.] 4to.

Four leaves.

Beneath the title is a rude woodcut of a monkey playing the violin. Señor Salvá describes an edition of this work, but of a much later date, being printed at Madrid in 1642. He remarks: "Gonzalez de Legaria no ha logrado un lugar en la Biblioteca de Nic. Antonio, ni vió su folleto el Sr D. A. Duran."

GONZALEZ DE MENDOÇA, JUAN. Historia de las Cosas mas Notables, Ritos y Costumbres, Del gran Reyno de la China, sabidas assi por los libros delos mesmos Chinas, como por relacion de Religiosos y otras personas que an estado en el dicho Reyno. Con vn Itinerario del nueuo Mundo. En Roma, a costa de Bartholome Grassi. . . . 1585. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 16 leaves, the last blank; pp. 1-440.

"Nicolas Antonio no menciona esta primera edicion, la cual es mui rara."—Salvá.

Brunet remarks that this is the first book printed in Europe in which Chinese characters are used.

— Historia de las Cosas mas notables, Ritos y Costumbres, Del gran Reyno de la China En Anvers, en casa de Pedro Bellerio, 1596. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

In verse. From Mr. Jolley's collection.

GOODMAN, CHRISTOPHER. How Sverior Powers ought to be obeyd of their subiects: and Wherin they may lawfully by Gods Worde be disobeyed and resisted. Wherin also is declared the cause of all this present miserie in England, and the onely way to remedy the same. By Christopher Goodman. [Quotation.] Printed at Geneva by Iohn Crispin. M. D. LVIII. Sm. 8vo.

a—p in eights, the last leaf blank.

With a preface by William Whitingham. "William Kethe to the Reader," nineteen 4-line stanzas, occupies p. 6 and p. 7.

GOODMAN, NICHOLAS. Hollands Leagver: or, An Historicall Discovrse of the Life and Actions of Dona Britanica Hollandia the Arch-Mistris of the wicked women of Evtopia. Wherein is detected the notorious Sinne of Panderisme, and the Execrable Life of the luxurious Impudent. London, Printed by A. M. for Richard Barnes. 1632. 4to.

A—G 3 in fours, including a woodcut frontispiece. The author's name is given at the end of the tract.

GOODWIN, JOHN. Two Hymns, or Spiritvall Songs; Sung in Mr. Goodwins Congregation on Friday last being the 24. of Octob. 1651. Which was a day set apart by Authority of Parliament for a solemn Thanksgiving unto God by this Nation, for that most wonderfull and happy Successe of the English Army under the conduct of his Excellency the Lord General Cromwel over the Scottish Forces at Worcester. Also A Letter for satisfaction of some Presbyterian Ministers, and others, who hold it unlawfull to give thanks for the shedding of blood. [Quotations.] London: Printed by F: N: in Aldersgatestreet. 1651. Sm. 8vo. R.

Seven leaves.

Although only two hymns are mentioned on the title, the tract contains three. They are headed respectively: "Mr. Jo: Goodwins Song or Hym," "Mr. Lambs Song or Hym," and "Another Hym of Mr. John Goodwins."

From the collection of Mr. Maidment, who has written on the fly-leaf: "Of this little specimen of Puritanical poetry I never saw another copy. The pious song on the Loyalist defeat at Worcester has been reprinted for the first time in the collection of 'Ballads and Songs,' Edin., 1868, vol. ii., with a curious prefatory notice."

GOOGE, BARNABY. Eglogs Epytaphes, and Sonettes. Newly written by Barnabe Googe: 1563. 15. Marche. Imprynted at London, by Thomas Colwell, for Raffe Newbery, dwelyng in Fleetstrete a litle about the Conduit in the late shop of Thomas Bartolet. [Colophon.] Imprynted at London in S. Brydes Churchyarde, by Thomas Colwell, for Raufe Newbery. And are to be sold at his shop in Flectestrete, a lytle about the Conduit. 1563. 15. Die Mensis March. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. R. M.

a—b 4 in eights, b 4 blank; A—C in eights; D, 4 leaves; E—K 7 in eights, the last page having the errata and the preceding one the colophon.

See "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 905, where there is a long and interesting note as to the extreme rarity of this volume; Collier's "Bibl. Cat.," i., pp. 318-20, where it is said that only two copies are extant, and an exhaustive description of the book is given; also Brydges's "Restituta," iii., 35; iv., 307, &c. By a flaw in the printing the verso of C 3 in this copy has been left blank, rendering the text of the seventh Eclogue incomplete. The only other copies known are in the Capel collection and at Britwell. On a 4 verso are the arms of Googe.

The copy here described was found at the end of one of the small 8vo editions of the author's translation of "The Zodiacke of Life," with which it had been bound up.

GORDON, PATRICK. The Famous Historie of the Renowned and Valiant Prince Robert surnamed the Bryce King of Scotland &c. & of Sundrie Other valiant knights both Scots and English. Enlarged with an addition of the Scottishe kinges lineallie discended from him to Charles now Prince, together with a note of the beginnings of the most parte of the antiēt and famous Nobilitie of Scotland. A Historie both pleasant and profitable set forthe and done in heroike verse by Patrick Gordon Gentleman. At Dort Printed by George Waters. 1615. 4to. BL. M.

A—Aa in fours.

Dedicated "To the most Honorable and most Accomplished Erles, William Erle of Angus, and William Erle of Morton." See "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 788.

There are complimentary verses before the work by A. Gordon, Thomas Michell, &c.

GORETIUS, LEONHARDUS. Oratio Leonhardi Goretii Equitis Poloni de matrimonio serenissimi ac potentissimi, serenissimæ potentissimeq̄. Dei gratia Regis ac Reginae Angliæ, Hispaniæ. &c. Ad populum principesq̄. Angliæ. Londini. In ædibus Guilhelmi Powell. 1554. 4to. Y. M.

A—K in fours. The title within a woodcut border.

GOSSIPS. The Gossips Feast or, Morrall Tales taking a view of things past, discoursing of things present, and conjecturing of things to come. By a well known moderne Author. London: Printed Anno Domini, 1647. 4to.

Eight leaves. In verse and prose.

GOSSON, STEPHEN. The Ephemerides of Phialo, deuided into three bookes. The first, A method which he ought to follow that desireth to rebuke his friend, when he seeth him swarue: without kindling his choler, or hurting himselfe. The seconde, A Canuazado to Courtiers in foure pointes. The thirde, The defence of a Curtezan ouerthrowen. From the Freeling and Corser collections. This is the second edition; the first appeared in 1579.

GOSSON, STEPHEN. The Schoole of Abuse, Contayning a pleasaunt inuectiue against Poets, Pipers, Players, Iesters, and suchlike Caterpillers of a Common wealch; Setting vp the Flagge of defiance to their mischieuous exercise, and ouerthrowing their Bulwarkes by Prophane writers, Naturall reason, and common experience. A discourse as pleasaunt for Gentlemen that fauour Learning, as profitable for all that will follow vertue. By Stephan Gosson Stud. Oxon. . . . Imprinted at London for Thomas Woodcocke. 1587. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. G. M.

A—F in eights, the last leaf having only the printer's device.

Second edition. From Mr. Corser's collection. The copy is in the finest condition.

— Quippes for Vpstart Newfangled Gentle-women. [Beneath is a woodcut of a newfangled Gentlewoman, which occupies the rest of the leaf marked A. At the top of the next leaf occurs:] A Glasse to view the Pride of vainglorious Woman. Containing a pleasant Inuectiue against the fantastical Forreigne Toyes, daylie vsed in Womens Apparell. Imprinted at London by Richard Ihones, at the signe of the Rose and Crowne, neere to S. Andrewes Church in Holborne. 1595. 4to. Y. M.

Seven leaves. A woodcut on the title. In stanzas of six lines.

The only copy known. From the "Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica," No. 597, afterwards in the libraries of Mr. Midgley, Sir Mark Sykes, Sir Francis Freeling, and Mr. Corser.

The piece is reviewed at length, with extracts, in Mr. Collier's "Bibliogr. Catal.," ii., 215-17. He says that Gosson "claims it as his production by a MS. note in a copy of the edition of 1596," but does not mention where that copy is to be found. Though Mr. Collier describes the edition of 1595, he seems to have supposed that the woodcut of the "Newfangled Gentlewoman" appeared only in the second impression, for he says, speaking of the 1595 edition, "it was reprinted in the next year, with a woodcut of a fine lady of the time on the title-page."

GOSTELO, WALTER. The coming of God in mercy, in vengeance; Beginning With fire, to Convert, or Consume, at this so sinful City London: Oh! London, London. [Quotation from Amos iii., 6-8.] Printed for the Authour Walter Gostelo, dwelling in Broad-street London. 1658. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.

A—E in eights.

Gostelo wrote two or three other pieces of the same character, including one which he says that he could not get printed, and so gave to Oxford University library.

GOSYNHILL, EDWARD. The Prayse of all women, called Mulierum Pean. Very fruytfull and delectable vnto all the reders.

Loke and rede who that can.

Thys boke is prayse to eche woman.

[Colophon.] Here endeth thys frutfull treatise of the prease of women, called Mulierum Pean. Imprinted at London in Crede Lane, by John Kyngc. [n. d.] 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

A—E in fours. In stanzas of seven lines.

The only copy known of this edition. From the libraries of Mr. Heber and Mr. Corser. See "Bibl. Heber.," part iv., No. 790, and, for a notice of the earlier impression, "Bibl. Anglo-Poetica," No. 917.

It was licensed to John King in 1557-8.

GOT zu lob dem menschen zu besserung sind dise figur vnd Exempel vom aygen gericht vnd sterbenden mēschē zu munichen gehaltē worden. 1.5.1.0. [Colophon.] Hye enndet sich das buchel von dem aygen gericht des sterbenden menschen, mit Exempel vnnnd figuren. Gedruckt zu München von mayster hannssen schobsser Anno 16. im zehenden jare. [1510.] 4to. Woodcuts. BR. M.

Forty-six leaves. A has 7 leaves; B, 8 leaves; C and D, 6 leaves each; E, 7 leaves; F and G, 6 leaves each.

It is so unusual for a sheet to be composed of an odd number of leaves that it is natural to expect an imperfection. This book is, however, quite perfect, the odd number of leaves in the sheets being caused by the insertion of a single leaf, bearing a woodcut on the recto, in sheets A and E.

This rare volume is mentioned by Panzer; but he was unable to give more than the bare title, and had evidently never seen the book. By other bibliographers it seems to be quite unnoticed. It is a miracle play in rhyming verse, and the dramatic personæ comprise Almighty God, Christ, the Devil, Death, the Merchant, the Doctor, &c.

A—C and C—G 2 in fours. Sig. E is omitted.

This piece is placed by Brunet under "Forabosco," but by Gamba under "Grazzini." The latter gives a full account of the variations this edition contains from that of 1612, and the names of the different authors to whom the poems have been attributed.

GREBNER, EZEKIEL. The Visions and Prophecies Concerning England, Scotland, And Ireland, Of Ezekiel Grebner, Son of Obadiah Grebner, Son of Paul Grebner, who presented the famous Book of Prophecies to Queen Elisabeth. [Two Quotations.] London, Printed for Henry Herringman, and are to be sold at his Shop, at the sign of the Anchor, in the lower walk in the New Exchange.. 1661. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

Title and A—D 9 in twelves.

Following the title there is a curious "Advertisement Concerning the Book and Author," which forms a biographical sketch of the Grebners from their first settlement in England in the time of Elizabeth. The author of the present work wrote several others, we are here told, which at the time of his death at Strasburg, in October, 1660 or 1661, remained in MS. in the hands of a Dutch gentleman. This advertisement is succeeded by a notice: "Both the Book and this Preface were written in the time of the late little Protector Richard."

A—L in fours; title on A 2.

Dedicated to Philip, Earl of Arundel, by the author. The second part begins with a new title-page. This was Mr. Lyte's copy, afterwards Mr. Corser's. The first edition was in 1584; but that contained only the first part. The work was not entered at Stationers' Hall until August 6, 1586, and even then no mention is made of a second part.

GREENE, ROBERT. Euphues his censure to Philautus, Wherein is presented a philosophicall combat betweene Hector and Achylles, discovering in foure discourses, interlaced with diuerse delightfull Tragedies, The vertues necessary to be incident in euery gentleman: had in question at the siege of Troy betwixt sondry Grecian and Troian Lords: especially debated to discover the perfection of a Souldier. Containing mirth to purge melancholy, holsome precepts to profit maners, neither vnsauerie to youth for delight, nor offensive to age for scurilitie. Ea habentur optima quæ & Incunda, honesta, & vtilia. Robert Greene, In artibus magister. *London. A—M 3 in fours.

First edition. The only other copy known is in the British Museum.

Dedicated to the Earl of Essex. After the dedication occurs a short address to the reader, giving a pretended account of the origin of the work, which the writer says came to him from Silexedra among some papers of Euphues (Lyly) written to his friend.

From the collections of Mr. Gardner and Mr. Corser.

— Ciceronis Amor. Tullies Loue. Wherein is discoursed the prime of Ciceroes youth, setting out in liuely portraures how young Gentlemen that ayme at honour should leuell the end of their affections, holding the loue of countrie and friends in more esteeme then those fading blossomes of beautie, that onely feede the curious suruey of the eye. A worke full of pleasure as following Ciceroes vaine, who was as conceived in his youth as graue in his age, profitable as conteinig precepts worthie so famous an Orator. Robert Greene in Artibus magister. Omne tulit . . . At London, Printed by Robert Robinson for Thomas Newman and Iohn Winnington. 1589. 4to. Black letter.

A—L 3 in fours.

First edition. From the Nassau, Heber, and Corser collections. The only other copy known is in the British Museum. Dedicated to Ferdinando Stanley, Lord Strange. The tract is interspersed with poetry.

GREENE, ROBERT. The Spanish Masquerado. Wherein vnder a pleasant deuise, is discouered effectuallye, in certaine breefe sentences and Mottos, the pride and insolencie of the Spanish estate: with the disgrace conceiued by their losse, and the dismaied confusion of their troubled thoughtes. Whereunto by the Author, for the better vnderstanding of his deuice, is added a breefe glosse. By Robert Greene, in Artibus Magister. Twelue Articles of the state of Spaine. The Cardinals sollicite all. The King grauntes all. The Nobles confirme all. The Pope determines all. The Cleargie disposeth all. The Duke of Medina hopes for all. Alonso receiues all. And the deuill at length wil cary away all. Printed at London by Roger Ward, for Thomas Cadman. 1589. 4to. Black letter. GR. M.

A—E in fours.

Dedicated by the author to Mr. Hugh Osley, Sheriff of London. Two editions of this tract appeared in 1589.

— A Notable Discouery of Coosenage. Now daily practised by sundry lewd persons, called Connie-catchers, and Crosse-byters. Plainely laying open those pernicious sleights that hath brought many ignorant men to confusion. Written for the general benefit of all Gentlemen, Citizens, Aprentises, Countrey Farmers and yeomen, that may hap to fall into the company of such coosening companions. With a delightfull discourse of the coosnage of Colliers. Nascimur pro patria. By R. Greene, Maister of Arts. London Printed by Thomas Scarlet for Thomas Nelson. 1592. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

A—D in fours, or 16 leaves. With a woodcut of a coney on the title holding a card in each hand, a pair of dice at its feet, &c.

George Steevens's copy, afterwards in the libraries of the Duke of Roxburghe, Mr. Heber, and Mr. Corser. The address to the reader is signed "Cuthbert cony catcher." In the British Museum is an edition dated 1591. It was replied to in a tract entitled "The Defence of Conny catching," printed in 1592, which is in the catalogue under the head of "Coney-catching."

— The Second part of Conny-catching. Contayning the discouery of certaine wondrous Coosenages, either superficialle past ouer, or vtterlie vntoucht in the first. As the nature of the blacke Art, the Vincents Law, the Prigging Law, the Courbing Law, . . . With sundry pithy and pleasant Tales worthy the reading of all estates, that are enemies to such base and dishonest practises. Mallet non esse quam non prodesse patriæ. R. G. *London. *, 4 leaves, including a frontispiece; A—F in fours. With woodcuts.

First edition. The only copy known. From the collections of Mr. Halliwell and Mr. Corser. It was reprinted in 1592, and called the second and last part; but nevertheless a third part appeared in the same year. The second part was intended as a sequel to the "Notable Discovery of Cosenage," 4to, 1591.

GREENE, ROBERT. A Notable Discovery of Cosenage. First printed in 1591. Edited by J. O. Halliwell. London, 1859. 8vo.

Only twenty-six copies printed.

— A Qvip for an vpstart Courtier: Or, A quaint dispute between Veluet breeches and Cloth-breeches. Wherein is plainly set downe the disorders of all Estates and Trades. London Imprinted by Iohn Wolfe, and are to bee sold at his shop at Poules chayne. 1592. 4to. Black letter.

A—F in fours. A woodcut on the title.

Mr. Collier has given a full account of this piece in his "Bibliogr. Catal.," i., 333. He mentions that there were three editions in the same year. The first, which contained a passage specially offensive to Gabriel Harvey, was so effectually suppressed that no copy of it is now known. Mr. Collier also remarks: "Greene's claim to originality in the design, and indeed in the wording of some of his descriptions, &c., is destroyed by the discovery of Francis Thynne's humorous poem, 'The Debate between Pride and Lowliness,' which has been reprinted by the Shakespeare Society, and of which an account is given hereafter under Thynne."

— A Quip for an Vpstart Courtier: Or, A quaint dispute betweene Veluet-breeches and Cloth-breeches. Wherein is plainly set downe the disorder in all Estates and Trades. London Printed by E. A. for Edward White, and are to be sold at his shop neere the little North doore of S. Paules Church at the Signe of the Gun. 1606. 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

A—F in fours. A woodcut on the title.

An edition of the greatest rarity. From Mr. Corser's collection.

"Popular as this production was, and often as it is mentioned or alluded to by contemporaries, no edition of it is known between those of 1592 and 1606: the Rev. A. Dyce (Greene's Works, i., cvii.) was aware of none after 1592, until the year 1615."—Collier's Bibl. Catal., i., 334.

— A Qvip for an Vpstart Covrtier: or, A quaint dispute betweene Veluet breeches and Cloth breeches. Wherein is plainly set downe the disorders in all Estates and Trades. London printed by G.[eorge] P.[urslow]. 1620. 4to. Black letter.

A—G in fours; title on A 2. A woodcut on the title. This edition omits the preface.

— Mamillia. The second part of the triumph of Pallas: Wherein with perpetval fame the constancie of Gentlewomen is canonised, and the vniust blasphemies of womens supposed ficklenesse (breathed out by diuerse iniurious persons) by manifest examples clearely infringed. By Robert Greene Maister of Arts, in Cambridge. London Printed by Th. C. for William Ponsonbie. 1593. 4to. Black letter. BL. M.

A—O in fours.

No first part of "Mamillia" is known, but it was licensed in 1581, and the second part in 1583. The edition of 1593 is, however, the only one which is now known. It is by no means one of the rarest of Greene's publications.

The first division of the second part of "Mamillia" is dedicated to the author's friends, Robert Lee and Roger Portington, Esquires, and has an introductory poem by Richard Stapleton. The second is dedicated to "Mary Rogers, wife to M. Hugh Rogers of Euerton," and has verses "In praise of the Author and his Booke" by G. B.

Mr. Corser's copy.

GREENE, ROBERT. Greens, Groats-worth of Wit, bought with a Million of Repentaunce. London, Printed by Thomas Creede for Richard Oliue, dwelling in long long [sic] Lane, and are there to be soldc. 1596. 4to. Black letter. R.*

A—F 2 in fours. In prose and verse.

This tract is thus mentioned in the Stationers' Registers for 1592 :—

"xx^o die Septembris.

"William wrighte/ Entred for his copie, vnder master Watkins hande, vppon the perill of Henrye Chettle/ a booke intituled/ Greenes Groatsworth of wyt bought with a million of Repentance vj^d s." Of this edition no copy is now known to exist.

Of the edition of 1596, described above, the only other copy on record is that which was sold among Archdeacon Wrangham's books. The present is from the libraries of Mr. Jolley and Mr. Corser.

The address to the reader which follows the title is signed by W. [illiam] W. [righte], the printer of the first edition.

— Greenes Groatsworth of Witte: bovght with a million of Repentance: Describing the Folly of Youth, the falshood of Make-shift Flatterers . . . Newly corrected, and of many errors purged. Fœlicem, fuisse infaustum. London, Printed by Barnard Alsop, for Henry Bell, and are to be sold at his shop without Bishopsgate. 1617. 4to. Black letter.

A—G in fours. On the title is an ingenious device punning on the publisher's name, Hen, Rye, Bell.

The prose address following the title, "To Wittie Poets, or Poeticall Wittes," and Greene's epitaph in verse, at the end, are signed "I. H.," probably John Hind.

— Greenes Groatsworth of Wit, bought with a Million of Repentance London, Printed for Henry and Moses Bell. 1637. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

A—F 3 in fours, title on A 2.

— Greene's Groatsworth of wit, bought with a Million of Repentance . . . London. 1870. 8vo.

Eleven copies reprinted by Mr. Halliwell from the copy described above of the edition of 1596.

GREENE, ROBERT. The Scottish Historic of Iames the fourth, slaine at Flodden. Entermixed with a pleasant Comedie, presented by Oboram King of Fayeries: As it hath bene sundrie times publikely plaide. Written by Robert Greene, Maister of Arts. Omne tulit punctum. London Printed by Thomas Creede. 1598. 4to. R. M.

A—K in fours, title on A 2.

From the library of King Charles II., in old red morocco, with the king's cipher down the back. Other plays by Greene and Marlowe are in the volume. In a MS. note on the flyleaf of the book, the Earl of Charlemont, referring to this and four other volumes in his collection in similar binding, says: "These five volumes were in the library of Charles the first [second], with whose Cypher the Bindings are mark'd. This play is not mentioned among the works of Robert Greene in Langbaine's Catalogue. Neither is it mentioned by Wood. I am informed by my friend Mr. Edmond Malone that this Play is not to be met with in any of the great Collections which have been made in England."

Of the five volumes here referred to, two are in the library. They were purchased at the sale of the Charlemont library in 1865.

— Greenes Orpharion. Wherin is discouered a musicall concorde of pleasant Histories, many sweet moodes graced with such harmonius discords, as agreeing in a delightfull closse, they sound both pleasure and profit to the eare. Heerein also as in a Diateheron, the branches of Vertue, ascending and descending by degrees: are covnited in the glorious praise of women-kind. With diuers Tragicall and Comicall Histories presented by Orpheus and Arion, beeing as full of profit as of pleasure. Omne tulit . . . Robertus Greene, in Artibus Magister. At London, Printed for Edward White, dwelling at the little North doore of S. Pauls Church: at the signe of the Gun. 1599. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

A—H in fours. In prose and verse.

Dedicated to Robert Carey Esquire. This was Mr. Corser's copy, purchased at Mr. Lyte's sale. The work was licensed, and probably printed, in 1589. It is remarkable as containing the earliest specimen of a translation from Anacreon into English. In the preface to his "Perimedes," 1588, Greene announces his "Orpharion" as ready for the press.

— The Historie of Orlando Fvrioso, one of the Twelve Peeres of France. As it was playd before the Queenes Maiestie. Imprinted at London by Simon Stafford, for Cuthbert Burby: And are to be sold at his shop neere the Royall Exchange. 1599. 4to. R. M.

A—H 3 in fours.

The following passage from "The Defence of Conny catching," an anonymous tract of 1592, curiously illustrates the history of this play: "But now Sir by your leaue a little, what if I should proue you a Conny-catcher Maister R. G. would it not make you blush at the matter? Ile go as neare to it as the Fryer did to his Hostesse mayde, when the Clarke of the parish tooke him at Leuatem at midnight. Aske the Queens Players, if you sold them not Orlando Furioso for twenty Nobles, and when they were in the country, sold the same Play to the Lord Admirals men for as much more. Was not this plaine Conny-catching Maister R. G.?"

GREENE, ROBERT. Penelopes Web. Where, in a Christall Mirror of feminine perfection represents to the view of euery one those vertues and graces, which more curiously beautifies the mind of women, then eyther sumptuous Apparell, or Jewels of inestimable value: the one buying fame with honour, the other breeding a kinde of delight, but with repentance. In three seuerall discourses also are three speciall vertues, necessary to be incident to euery vertuous woman, pithely discussed: namely Obedience, Chastity, and Sylence: Interlaced with three seuerall and Comicall Histories. By Robert Greene Master of Artes in Cambridge. Omne tulit . . . London, Printed for Iohn Hodgets, and are to be solde at his shop at the Flowerdeluce in Fleetstreete, neere to Fetter Lane end. 1601. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

A—H 2 in fours. Dedicated by the author to the Countesses of Cumberland and Warwick.

From the collections of Sir Francis Freeling and Mr. Corser. First printed in 1587; but of the original edition the Malone copy is the only one known.

— Greenes Carde of Fancie. Wherein the Folly of those carpet Knights is deciphered, which guiding their course by the compass of Cupid, either dash their ship against most dangerous Rocks, or else attaine the haven with pain and perill. Wherein also is described in the person of Gwydonius a cruell Combate between Nature and Necessitie. By Robert Green, Master of Art, in Cambridge. At London Printed by H. L. for Mathewe Lowncs, and are to be solde at his shop in Paules-churchyard. 1608. 4to. Black letter.

A—T in fours.

"The Debate betweene Follie and Loue, translated out of French by Robert Green, Maister of Artes," begins on R 3, with a headline. There were impressions of this piece in 1584, 1587, and 1593, this making the fourth.

— Greenes Arcadia. Or Menaphon: Camillaes Alarum to slumber Euphues in his Melancholy Cell at Silixedra. Wherein are desciphered, the variable effects of Fortune, the wonders of Loue, the triumphs of inconstant Time. A worke worthy the yongest eares for pleasure, or the grauest censures for principles. By Robertvs Green, [sic] in Artibus Magister. Omne tulit punctum. London Printed for Iohn Smethwicke, and are to be sold at his Shop in Saint Dunstanes Church-yard vnder the Diall, in Fleetstreete. 1610. 4to. Black letter. G. M.

A—L in fours.

From the libraries of North, Heber, Skegg, and Mr. Corser. This work was first printed in 1589, in which edition is a copy of commendatory verses by Thomas Brabine, not found in any of the reissues. The volume contains a good deal of poetry, of which two or three specimens were inserted in "England's Helicon," 4to, 1600.

Prefixed is a long prefatory address "To the Gentlemen students of both Universities," by Thomas Nash, followed by some verses by Henry Upcher.

Of the edition of 1589 the copy purchased at Bindley's sale for £18 18s. by Mr. Perry, and at his sale by Heber, appears to be the only complete one known.

GREENE, ROBERT. Greenes Arcadia, or Menaphon: Camillaes Alarum to slumber Evphves in his Melancholy Cell at Silixedra London Printed by W. Stansby for I. Smethwicke 1616. 4to. Black letter. The edges uncut.

The third edition. It had been printed in 1594 and 1599.

GREENE, ROBERT. Philomela, the Lady Fitz-Waters Nightingale. By Robert Greene. Vtriusque Academia in Artibus Magist. Sero sed serio. London, Imprinted by George Purslowe. 1631. 4to. Black letter.

A—K in fours, A 4 and K 4 blank.

From the libraries of Mr. Jolley, Mr. Utterson, and Mr. Gardner.

The first edition appeared in 1592. In this, which is not mentioned by either Lowndes or Hazlitt, the original dedication to the Lady Bridget Ratcliffe, Lady Fitzwaters, is retained.

— Greenes Neuer too Late. Both Partes. Sent to all youthfull Gentlemen, deciphering in a true English Historie, those particular vanities, that with their Frostie vapours, nip the blossomes of euey braine, from attaining to his intended perfection. As pleasant as profitable, being a right Pumice stone, apt to race out idlenesse with delight, and folly with admonition. By Robert Greene, in artibus Magister. Omne tulit punctum. London, Printed by William Stansby for Iohn Smithwicke . . . 1631. 4to. Black letter. R. M.

A—Q in fours. In prose and verse.

From the Freeling and Corser collections.

Dedicated to the author's friend Thomas Barnaby, Esq., of Northamptonshire. Prefixed are some commendatory verses, signed respectively by Richard Hake and Ralph Sidney. The name of the latter writer is given in the first edition of the book, printed in 1590, and also in the edition of 1600, as Sidley, which was probably the real name, that of Sidney being most likely an error of the press.

— Theeves falling out, True-men come by their Goods: or, The Bel-man wanted a Clapper. A peale of new Villanies rung out: Being musically to Gentlemen, Lawyers, Farmers, and all sorts of people that come up to the Tearme: Shewing, that the Villanies of lewd Women doe, by many degrees, excell those of Men. By Robert Greene. Goe not by me, but Buy me, and get by me. London, Printed for Henry and Moses Bell. 1637. 4to. Black letter.

A—F in fours. Woodcut on title.

From the Freeling and Corser collections.

This tract is a reproduction of Greene's "Disputation between a He-Coni-catcher and a She-Coni-catcher," 1592, with a new preface (yet signed "Robert Greene"), the names of the interlocutors altered, and the "merry tale" "taken not far from Fetter Lane end" omitted. The re-editor refers rather incautiously (as he uses Greene's name) to Decker's "Belman of London" and his "Lanthorn and Candlelight," which were not published till many years after Greene's death in 1592.

The only copies of the "Disputation" known are that in the Bodleian and the one sold among Heber's books. Of the piece described above the earliest impression known is that of 1615.

GREENE, ROBERT. The Pleasant and Delightful History of Dorastus and Fawnia. Pleasant for Age to shun drowsie Thoughts; Profitable for Youth, to avoid other wanton Pastimes, and bringing to Both a desired Content. By Robert Green, Master of Arts in Cambridge. London, Printed by W. O. for G. Conyers, at the Ring in Little-Britain, 1703. 4to.

A—F 2 in fours.

This is a very late impression of the prose fiction which Greene published in 1588 under the title of "Pandosto, the Triumph of Time." It is reprinted in "Shakespeare's Library" from the first edition, on account of the supposed obligations of the dramatist to it in the "Winter's Tale."

GREEN-GOOSE FAIR. The Three Merry Wives of Green-Goose Fair: With them for Mirth None can compare. Or, A Pleasant Discourse of three Merry-Cummers.

*Being full of delight and pleasant wit,
The merriest Book that ever was writ.*

Printed in the Year 1694. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

Eight leaves. In verse.

The only copy known. See a note on "Goose-fair" by Gifford, in his edition of Ben Jonson, 1816, ii., 451-2. At the end he says: "It is still held (as in the poet's days) on Whitsun-munday, at Bow near Stratford in Essex; and takes its name from the young or green geese which form the principal part of the entertainment."

From the collection of Mr. Geo. Daniel.

GREGORIUS MAGNUS. Incipit liber regule pastoral' gregorij pape ad iohānem Archiepiscopum Rauēnensem Prologus. [Colophon.] Explicit liber regule pastoral' gregorij pape: ad Iohānen (sic) archiepiscopū Rauēnensem. [Sine ullā notā.] 4to. BR. M.

One hundred and fifty-two leaves, twenty-four lines to the page.

Hain (No. 7982) attributes the volume to the press of Fust and Schoeffer.

GREGSON, MATTHEW. Portfolio of Fragments, relative to the History and antiquities of the County Palatine and Duchy of Lancaster. Second Edition, with Additions. To be had of the Editor, Liverpool. 1824. Folio. Maps and plates. G. M.

There is an elaborate and careful collation of this volume in Lowndes.

The fourth volume was edited by Mr. W. B. Rye, of the British Museum. It completes the work by adding those books which were not thought of sufficient importance to be inserted in the first or second parts. It contains also a general index to the four volumes.

GRESHAM, SIR THOMAS. Sir Thomas Gresham his Ghost. Printed for William Ley. 1647. 4to.

Four leaves. In verse. With a woodcut on the title, representing Gresham issuing full-dressed from his shroud.

It appears from the address of "Vitruvius to the impartial Reader," on the back of the title, that Gresham's will, bequeathing his house in London to the use of seven able artists, representing the seven liberal sciences, had not been carried out; and the present tract is an exposure of the abuse and injustice involved therein.

GREVILLE, ROBERT KAYE. Scottish Cryptogamic Flora Edinburgh, 1823-8. 6 vols. 8vo.

GRIEVOUS. Greevous Grones for the Poore. Done by a Well-willer, who wisheth, That the poore of England might be so prouided for, as none should neede to go a begging within this Realme.

The Poore afflicted are,
So that they perish fast :
If now no order taken be,
Then Ruine comes at last.

London Printed for Michaell Sparke. 1621. 4to.

A—D in fours, title on A 2.

Dedicated by the publisher "To the Right Honourable, Right Worshipfull, and worthy Company of the Virginian and Sommer-Iland Plantations." This tract has been ascribed, probably without foundation, to Decker; it is more likely that we ought to add it to the productions of the bookseller Michael Sparke. The last leaf is occupied by some verses on the parable of the barren fig-tree. The dedication contains nothing of interest relating to America.

GRIFFIN, B. Fidessa, more chaste then kinde. By B. Griffin, gent. At London Printed by the Widdow Orwin, for Matthew Lownes. 1596. Sm. 8vo. G. M.

A, 4 leaves, first blank; B—E 7 in eights.

Dedicated "To the most kind and vertuous gentleman, M. William Essex of Lamebourne, in the County of Barke, Esquire," which is followed by an address to the gentlemen of the Inns of Court, where Griffin speaks of a pastoral which he intended to have annexed to "Fidessa," but was obliged to postpone. No such work has been met with. The book is prettily printed within borders. The sonnets are sixty-two in number, and, according to Mr. Collier, abound in plagiarisms.

From the libraries of Mr. Lyte and Mr. Daniel. A copy is in the Malone collection, and another at Lamport, near Northampton, the seat of Sir Charles Isbam.

Griffin's "Fidessa" has acquired a special interest on account of the similarity between the third sonnet and a passage in Shakespeare's "Venus and Adonis."

GRIFFITH, A. F. Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica; or, a Descriptive Catalogue of a Rare and Rich Collection of Early English Poetry illustrated by occasional Extracts and Remarks, Critical and Biographical. London 1815. Royal 8vo. Large paper. Woodcuts. G. M.

GRINDAL, EDM., Bishop of London. A Sermon, at the Funeral solemnitie of the most high and mighty Prince Ferdinandus, the late Emperour of most famous memorie, holden in the Cathedrall Church of saint Paule in London, the third of October. 1564. Made by the reuerend father in God, Edmund Grindall, bishop of London. Imprinted at London by John Day, dwelling ouer Aldersgate, beneath saint Martins. Cum gratia . . . These bookes are to be sold at hys shop vnder the Gate. [In the colophon is added:] The .viii. of Nouember. 1564. Cum Priuilegio . . . 4to. Black letter. O. M.

A—E 2 in fours, including the separate leaf with colophon.

This is a tract of the greatest rarity. Lowndes does not refer to the sale of any copy, but observes that John Fox's Latin translation is in the British Museum. Herbert described the copy at Lambeth.

GRINGOIRE, P. Here begynneth the castell of labour. [Colophon.] Thus endeth the castell of labour wherin is rychesse/ vertue and honoure. Enprynted be me Richarde Pynson. [About 1500.] 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. BR. M.

A, 8 leaves; B—I in sixes. The last leaf is occupied by Pynson's large device on the recto, and a cut of the Castle of Labour on the verso.

This is a poetical translation in eight-line stanzas, by Alexander Barclay, from the "Chasteau de labour" of Pierre Gringoire. In the public library at Cambridge is a later impression, printed by W. de Worde, 1506, 4to; but neither of that nor of this edition by Pynson is a second copy at present known. A fragment of an early edition is among Douce's books in the Bodleian.

GROANES, The, and Pangnes of Tibvrne, to be delivered of her long expected burthen: That bloody, monstrous, cruell, and mischievous Parliament, now at Westminster, dissembling with God, the King, the Country and City Printed at the Mayors Banquetting house near Tyburne, in the yeare of the Saints feare, 1648. 4to.

Four leaves. There are some verses on the title and at the end.

GROOM-PORTERS LAWS. The Groome-porters lawes at Mawe, to be obserued in fulfilling the due orders of the Game. [No place, printer's name, nor date.] [London, about 1580.] A Broadside. Black letter.

Reprinted in "Anc. Ballads," &c., 1867. The only copy known. The game was played with cards.

GROOT, J. J. Beknopt en Getrouw Verhaal van de Reys van Commandeur Jeldert Jansz Groot, vit Texel na en in Groenland, &c. Voorgefallen in Ao. 1777 en 1778. Amsterdam: [n. d.] 4to.

— Christs Passion, A Tragedy. With Annotations [by George Sandys.] London, Printed by I. L. and are to be sold by William Leake 1640. Sm. 8vo.

a, 7 leaves, the first blank; A—H 6 in eights.

The "Passion" is translated into verse, and is followed by prose notes. The present copy seems to be on thick paper. After the dedication by Sandys to Charles I. comes a long poem addressed to the author [translator] by Lord Falkland. This appears to be a second edition. The copy in the British Museum has for imprint only "Printed by Iohn Legatt. 1640," and has not the poem by Lord Falkland, which is added to this edition.

GRYMESTON, ELISABETH. Miscellanea. Prayers. Meditations. Memoratiues. By Elisabeth Grymeston. Non est rectum, quod à Deo non est directum. London Printed by Melch. Bradwood for William Aspley. [n. d.] Sm. 8vo.

A—H in eights. In prose and verse.

Dedicated "To Her Loving Sonne Bernye Grymestone." This was Dr. Bliss's copy, afterwards Mr. Stainforth's.

Dr. Bliss notes on the flyleaf: "Philip Bliss 1832. from Mr. Russell's books at Magd. Coll. Of Barker. See 'Censura Literaria,' vol. 4, p. 39. Elizabeth Grymeston, the authoress of this very rare little book, was daughter of Martin Berney, of Gunston in Norfolk and married Christopher, sixth son of Thomas Grymeston, Esq. of Grimston in Yorkshire. It appears from the address of the authoress to her son Berney Grymstone that he was the only surviving child of her marriage, eight others having died. See Lodge's 'Peerage of Ireland,' edit. 1754, vol. 3, p. 266. It is strange that Ballard takes no notice of the writer in his account of Learned English Ladies, a proof of his never having met with either of the editions of her 'Miscellanea.'"

GRYMESTON, ELISABETH. Miscelanea. Meditations. Memoratiues. By Elizabeth Grymeston. Non est rectum, quod à Deo non est directum. London, Printed by Melch. Bradwood for Felix Norton. 1604. 4to. G. M.

A—H in fours, title on A 2.

The dedication to "Bernye Grymeston" is reprinted in "Prefaces, Dedications, Epistles," 8vo, 1874.

From the library of the Right Hon. Charles Bathurst.

GUALTIERI, GUIDO. Relazioni della Venuta degli Ambasciatori Giaponesi a Roma fino alla partita di Lisbona. Con una descrizione del lor paese, e costumi, e con le Accoglienze fatte loro da tutti i Principi Christiani per dove son passati. In Venetia. 1586. Sm. 8vo.

Title and preliminaries, 5 leaves; pp. 1-187; printer's mark, 1 leaf.

GUARINI, BATTISTA. *Il Pastor Fido The faithfull Shepheard with An Addition of divers other Poems Concluding with a short Discourse of the Long Civill Warres of Rome. Portrait of Guarini, by J. Cross; 1 leaf; title and preliminaries, 7 leaves; B—Rr in fours.

At the end, on a blank page, occurs the following, in Fanshawe's autograph:—

"To my deare friend Mr. Tho. Brooke with Pastor Fido before an entended voyage.

"This to the man I most affect I send :
The faithfull Shepheard to as true a friend.
There on each page thoul't tender'st passion see,
But none more tender than my own for thee.
Mays't thou with pleasure read, & as you read
Of courtly minds from courtly vices freed,
Let conscious pride thy generous bosom fire,
Where gentlest arts wth rural faith conspire.
Here to[o] thoul't see thy own mischance : a Son
By his mistaken father half undone ;
But like y^t son's will my misfortunes end ;
And every joy & every grace thy following fate commnd ;

Whilst mine does thy unhappy friend constrain
 To shun worse storms on ye tempestious main.
 Yet there, in midst of horror & afright,
 Ile make the thoughts of thine my own delight.
 Let what will fall, I shall be pleas'd to see
 Though wretched in myself, yet blest in thee."

From the libraries of Mr. Bright and Mr. Corser.

GUILLEVILLE, GUILLAUME DE. Le Roman des trois pelerinages. Le premier pelerinage est de l'homme durant qu'il est encore vivant. Le deuxieme pelerinage est de l'ame separée de son corps. Le troisieme pelerinage est de notre Seigneur Jesus Christ depuis sa nativité jusqu'a qu'il envoya le Saint Esprit aux Apostres; en forme de Monotessaron c'est a scavoir les quatre Evangelistes mis en un. Folio.

MS. of the fourteenth century, on vellum, of French execution. Enriched with 142 drawings of great artistic merit. They are very valuable and interesting for the variety of costumes they afford of people in all ranks of life. The title as given above is on the flyleaf in a later handwriting than the book itself. It was purchased at the sale of Mr. Corser's library in 1869.

It would appear that the first printed edition, executed at Paris about 1500, is the only one in which the three pilgrimages, as contained in this MS., have been given, and even in this edition the text was much tampered with by the Benedictine monk who edited it.

Panzer points out, that Quetif, in his "Scriptores Ord. Prædic.," tom. ii., p. 821, attributes this book to a Dominican monk named Ingold, who lived in the fourteenth century. He goes on to say that it is worthy of remark that this Ingold gives the year 1300 as the date when playing cards were introduced into Germany.

Written by T. H. Printed for W. Thackeray and T. Passinger. [About 1680.] 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts.*

A—C in fours.

In the British Museum is an edition of this History, dated 1678. It would be extremely difficult to determine which of the two was the earlier. They are both exceedingly rare. From Mr. Geo. Daniel's collection.

On the 8th February, 1604-5, was entered at Stationers' Hall, "The History of Richard Whittington, of his lowe byrthe, his great fortune, as yt was plaied by the Prynces Servants." No such drama has been found.

A, 3 leaves ; title on A 2 ; B—K 4 in twelves.

First edition, with the title-page engraved by Michael van Lochem, and a series of engravings by Van Lochem and W. Marshall, accompanied by descriptive poetry. This translation has been attributed to Christopher Harvey, who wrote some commendatory verses for Izaak Walton's "Complete Angler." The first edition of the Latin original was published at Antwerp in 1622. Only one other perfect copy of this impression seems to be known, and that, like the present, is not in very good condition.

HAGMAN, JOH. Positionum miscellaneorum Decas. Gryphiswaldia. [s. a.] 4to.

"Thesis IV. Ex eo, quod habitatores Americæ circa adventum Europæorum ferrum eiusque usum ignorarint, quartam hanc globi nostri partem, ante inventa a Tubal Kaino ferramenta, incolas accepisse, adeoque hos a diluvio fuisse immunes frivola est cuiusdam e recentioribus argumentatio."

A—G in fours, and G, 5 leaves.

From the collections of George Chalmers and Mr. Corser. Dedicated to Edward Vaughan, Esquire, Deputy Officer of the Pipe. At p. 37 is a Memorial of Richard Lovelace, Esq., of Hurley, Berks. (not the poet), in four-line stanzas. The following note was appended to this copy in the sale catalogue of Chalmers's library :—

"Among the Poems is one 'of the most commendable and honourable gouernement of the City of London, in the late time of sicknesse and decease of Q. Elizabeth.'

"The occurrence of the word 'hurlyburly' in this Poem affords a more striking instance of its being used on grave and solemn occasions in Shakspeare's time, than those furnished by Henderson and Reed in their notes on

'When the hurlyburly's done' in Macbeth,

'In fine, when certainty of Death was knowne
Of her our Queene, did hurlyburly rise?
No none at all.'

HAKEWILL, GEORGE. King Davids Vow for Reformation of Himselfe. his Family. his Kingdome. Deliuered in twelue sermons before the Prince his Highnesse vpon Psalm 101. By George Hake-will Dr. in Diuinity. London printed for Mathew Lownes. 1621. Sm. 8vo.

The first volume of this edition is dedicated to Charles Howard, Earl of Nottingham, the second and third to Sir Robert Cecil. Certain portions of the work are in verse, as noticed by Ritson, and this edition reproduces the complimentary poems by W. Camden and others, prefixed to that of 1589, with the addition of some lines by R. Mulcaster. Pp. 187-208 of the first volume are occupied with a curious poetical treatise entitled "the processe of the Libel of English policie, exhorting all England to keepe the sea," which is not in the first edition.

HALES, JUDGE. The Communication between my Lord Chauncelor and iudge Hales, being among other iudges to take his oth in Westminster hall. Anno. M. D. liiii. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

Four leaves.

This tract arose out of the reported indictment by Hales of certain priests in Kent for saying mass. See Herbert's "Ames," 1572, and Lowndes, second edition, 863. The piece is as rare as it is curious and valuable in an historical point of view.

HALES, JOHN, of Eton. Works. Glasgow, R. and A. Foulis, 1765. 3 vols. 8vo. The edges uncut.

— Golden Remains of the ever Memorable Mr. John Hales of Eton College, &c. London Printed for R. Pawlet at the Bible in Chancery Lane. 1673. 4to. Large paper. Engraved title by Hollar.

A—Z in fours; aa—pp 2 in fours; Aa—Bbb in fours; then the "Sermons," with a fresh title, B—I in fours.

On the printed title-page this is described as the second impression; it includes the Letters to Carleton from the Synod of Dort. At the end of this copy occur four leaves marked A, with a headline: "A Tract concerning Schismes and Schismatics. Wherein is briefly discovered, The Original Causes of all Schisms."

HALL, JOHN, of Cambridge. Horæ Vacivæ, or, Essays. Some occasionall Considerations. By John Hall. London, Printed by E. G. for J. Rothwell, at the Sun and Fountaine in Pauls Church-yard, 1646. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—K 6 in twelves, including the portrait of the author, "Ætat. suæ 19, 1646," by W. Marshall. With commendatory verses by T. Stanley, W. Hammond, James Shirley, &c.

— Poems by John Hall. Cambridge, Printed by Roger Daniel Printer to the Universitie, 1646. For J. Rothwell at the Sun in Pauls Church-yard. Sm. 8vo. Portrait by Marshall.

A—H 4 in eights. On F 3 occurs a second title: "The Second Booke of Divine Poems. By J. H. London. Printed by E. G. for J. Rothwell. 1647. Dedicated "To his truly noble, and worthily honoured friend Thomas Stanley Esquire," from St. John's College, Jan. 6, 1646. There are commendatory verses by Henry More, W. Dillingham, W. Harington, &c.

HALL, JOHN, of Cambridge. Emblems With elegant Figures, newly published. By J. H. Esquire. London, Printed by R. Daniel. [n. d.] Sm. 8vo. O. M.

*, 4 leaves including the engraved title; A—E in twelves, the last leaf blank.

Dedicated by the publisher to Mrs. Dorothy Stanley (wife of Stanley the poet). With a preface by John Quarles.

On the seventh leaf of sig. D occurs a new title to the Second Book: "Emblems With elegant Figures, not before published," dated 1658.

HALL, JOHN. Select Observations on English Bodies: or, Cures both Empericall and Historicall, performed upon very eminent Persons in desperate Diseases. First, written in Latine by Mr. John Hall Physician, living at Stratford upon Avon in Warwickshire, where he was very famous, as also in the Counties adjacent, as appears by these Observations drawn out of severall hundreds of his, as choysrest. Now put into English for common benefit by James Cooke Practitioner in Physick and Chirurgery. London, Printed for John Sherley, at the Golden Pelican, in Little-Britain. 1657. Sm. 8vo.

A—P 2 in twelves.

Hall married Susanna Shakespeare, the daughter of the poet. The volume contains accounts of cures effected on the poets Drayton and Randolph. On the leaf before the title is printed lengthwise: "Cook's Select Observations on English Bodies," to serve as a label to the book, the leaf being otherwise blank.

HALL, JOSEPH, Bishop of Exeter. Virgidemiarvm Sixe Bookes. First three Bookes, of Tooth-lesse Satyrs. 1. Poeticall. 2. Academi-call. 3. Morall. London Printed by Iohn Harison, for Robert Dexter. 1602. Virgidemiarvm: The three last Bookes. Of byting Satyres. Corrected and amended with some Additions, by I. H. Imprinted at London for Robert Dexter, at the signe of the Brasen Serpent in Paules Church yard. 1599. Certaine Worthy Manvscrip Poems of great Antiquitie Reserued long in the Studie of a Norfolke Gentleman. And now first published by J. S. Imprinted at London for R. D. 1597. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

These three pieces, though always found in one volume, have different titles and signatures. The first contains A—E in eights. The second has, Title, and "The Author's charge to his Satyres," 2 leaves; B—H 5 in eights. The third, Title, followed by B—F 6 in eights; E 2 is blank, and E 3 is a fourth title, "The Northern Mothers Blessing," &c., 1597.

The first three books of Satires originally appeared in 1597, the last three in 1598. The present is the third edition of Books i.-iii., and the second of Books iv.-vi. Of the "Certaine Poems" there was only a single impression. The piece called there "The Northern Mothers Blessing" is a late text of the old English poem, "How the goode Wife thought hir daughter," edited by Sir F. Madden in 1838.

HALL, JOSEPH, Bishop of Exeter. Quo vadis? A Ivst Censvre of Travell as it is commonly vndertaken by the Gentlemen of our Nation . . . By Ios. Hall D. of Diuinitic. London, Printed by Edward Griffin for Henry Fetherstone. 1617. Sm. 8vo.

A—G 7 in eights, title on A 2.

First edition. Dedicated to Lord Denny, Baron of Waltham. The present copy has MS. notes throughout, concerning which there is the following note on the fly-leaf: "On comparison with an undoubted MS. of Bp. Hall's, I feel but little hesitation in saying, that the marginal headings inserted in the present copy are in the handwriting of the author.—P.[eter] H.[all]." These notes, however, have no special importance, and amount to little more than a running index to the text, such as is often found in old books.

— The Olde Religion: A Treatise, Wherein is laid downe the true state of the difference betwixt the Reformed, and Romane Church; and the blame of this Schisme is cast vpon the true Authours. . . . London, Printed for Nathaniel Butter and Richard Hawkins. 1630. Sm. 8vo.

A—P in eights.

This is dedicated, with "all Grace and benediction," "To my new and dearely Affected Charge, the Diocesse of Exeter." The first edition appeared in 1628.

— Occasionall Meditations By Jos. Exon. Set forth by R. H[all]. The third Edition: with the Addition of 49. Meditations not heretofore published. London, Printed by M. F. for Nathaniel Butter. 1633. Sm. 8vo.

A—Q 10 in twelves.

Dedicated by the editor to James, Viscount Doncaster.

— Mundus Alter et Idem Siue Terra Australis antehac semper incognita longis itineribus peregrini Academici nuperrime lustrata Auth: Mercurio Britannico. Francofurti apud hæredes Aseanii de Rinialme. [s. a.] Sm. 8vo. R.

Engraved title and preliminaries, 8 leaves besides an engraved leaf; pp. 1-224; 5 folding maps.

In the library of Mr. R. S. Turner is a copy of this book in which the letterpress is precisely the same as the copy described above, but the title, which is also an engraved one, is entirely different in design. The imprint is: "Sumptibus hæredum Aseanii de Renialme. Hannoveriæ per Gulielmum Antoniû A° 1607." The maps in this edition have been re-engraved and are better executed than in that of Frankfurt.

It seems that there was an intention, at least, to publish this volume in London; for on the 2nd June, 1605, John Porter entered it at Stationers' Hall. See Arber's "Transcript," vol. iii., p. 124. It does not appear, however, that John Porter printed this or any other book.

HALL, THOMAS. Fvnebria Floræ, the Downfall of May-Games: wherein Is set forth the rudeness, prophaneness, stealing, drinking, fighting, dancing . . . Occasioned by the generall complaint of the rudenesse of people in this kind, in this Interval of settlement . . .

The Second Edition Corrected London, Printed for Henry Mortlock 1661. 4to.

A, 2 leaves ; B—G in fours.

The piece concludes with "A Copy of Verses," seven pages.

HALLE, EDWARD. A very full collation and description of this edition is given by Lowndes.

— Hall's Chronicle ; containing the History of England, during the Reign of Henry the Fourth, and the Succeeding Monarchs, to the end of the Reign of Henry the Eighth, in which are particularly described the Manners and Customs of those Periods carefully collated with the Editions of 1548 and 1550. London : 1809. 4to. R. M.

HALLIWELL, J. O. See Phillipps.

HALS, WILLIAM. The Compleat History of Cornwall. Part II.

Being the Parochial History. [Truro. About 1750.] Folio. The edges uncut.

A—Rr, two leaves each.

This copy is in the original paper wrapper, on which the author's plan is explained. The first part was held over in consequence of some want of material, and no more than this portion ever appeared. A good account of the publication is given in Lysons' Cornwall and Upcott's English Topography. Lowndes gives Exeter as the probable place of printing; but the advertisement on the wrapper says distinctly that the first four sheets of Part i. were then in the press at Truro, where almost beyond doubt Part ii. was also printed.

The original MS. of Hals's History is in the possession of Sir John Maclean, author of the "History of the Deanery of Trigg Minor," &c. Sir John purchased it of Mr. Stokes, of Bodmin, Cornwall. It is incomplete, nor is it certainly known how far the missing portions could be supplied from the transcripts existing among the papers of Mr. Borlase, of Castle-Horneck; but all the material parts of Hals appear to have been incorporated by Borlase, Davies Gilbert, &c., with their own publications.

HALTAUS, C. G. Glossarium Germanicum medii aevi. Praefatus est J. Gottl. Boehmius. Lipsiae. 1758. 2 vols. Folio. R.

HAMEL, HENDRICK. Journael van de Ongeluckige Voyage van't Jacht de Sperwer, van Batavia gedestineert na Tayowan, in't Jaar 1653. en van daar op Japan. Tot Rotterdam. 1668. 4to. Woodcuts.

A—D in fours.

HAMMOND, WILLIAM. Poems. By W. H. — cineri gloria sera venit. London, Printed for Thomas Dring at the George in Fleet-street, near Cliffords Inne Gate, 1655. Sm. 8vo. R. M.

A—F, 4 in eights, title on A 2.

Mr. Corser's copy. The author was nephew to the poet Sandys, and kinsman of Thomas Stanley, to whom some of his verses are addressed.

HAMOND, WALTER. A Paradox. Prooving, that the Inhabitants of the Isle called Madagascar, or St. Lavrence, (in Temporall things) are the happiest People in the World. Whereunto is prefixed a briefe and true Description of that Island: The Nature of the Climate and condition of the Inhabitants, and their speciall affection to the English above other Nations. With most probable Arguments of a hopefull and fit Plantation of a Colony there in respect of the fruitfulnessse of the Soyle, the benignity of the Ayre, and the relieving of our English Ships both to and from the East Indies. By Wa: Hamond. London, Printed for Nathaniell Butter. 1640. 4to.

A—B in fours, title on A 2; D—F in fours, no sig. C.

The first ten pages of the text are occupied by the "Description of Madagascar," which concludes on B 4; then probably followed some matter which was eventually suppressed; and on D, with a fresh title, commences the "Paradox."

HANGER, PHILIP. A True Relation how Eighteen Men were Cast away at Sea: Six of which perished in the Ship, And the other Twelve got into the Boat, and lived at Sea six Weeks in it. With The great Hardships they underwent, and how miraculously they were preserved. Written by Philip Hanger, then Master of the said Ship. London, Printed for Charles Harper at the Flower-de-Luce, over against St. Dunstons Church in Fleetstreet 1675. 4to.

A—B in fours, or 8 leaves, the first having only the imprimatur.

HANNAY, PATRICK. The Nightingale Sheretine and Mariana. A happy husband. Eligies on the death of Queene Anne. Songs and Sonnets by Patrick Hannay gent. London printed for Nathaniel Butter 1622. Sm. 8vo. In the original vellum wrapper.

The title within a border of thirteen compartments, engraved by Crispin de Passe, including two bars of music in the upper portion and the author's portrait below, 1 leaf; to the Duchess of Lenox, 1 leaf, in verse; complimentary verses by W. Lithgow and others, 3 leaves; musical notes, 2 leaves; B—R 6 in eights. The last two leaves of sig. R were probably blank.

The general title to the volume is also the title to "Philomela." The other divisions have separate letterpress titles. "Sheretine and Mariana," which follows the "Nightingale," commences on the fourth leaf of sig. F with this title: "Sheretine and Mariana. By Patricke Hannay Gent. London, Printed by John Haviland, &c. 1622." "Sheretine and Mariana" has a separate dedication "To the Trvlie Honovrable and Noble Lady Lvcie Covntesse of Bedford."

On sig. L. commences (with a new title): "A Happy Husband: or Directions for a Maid to chvse her mate. Together with a Wives Behaviour after Mariage. The second Edition. By Patrick Hannay Gent. [Quotation from Propertius.] London, Printed by John Haviland for Nathaniel Butter, &c. 1622." This section is inscribed "To the Vertvovs and Noble Lady, the Lady Margaret Home, eldest daughter to the Right Honourable Alexander Earle Home, Baron of Dunglas," &c. Here the author mentions the "not to be requited fauours," which he had received from the lady's family.

The next division opens with another title-page: "Elegies, on the Death of our late Soueraigne Qveene Anne. With Epitaphs." The dedication is in verse "To the most Noble Prince Charles."

The book concludes with "Songs and Sonnets." Dedicated (in verse) "To the Right Honorable S^r Andrew Gray Knight."

From the collections of Archdeacon Wrangham and Mr. George Daniel. The only other copies known are—1. British Museum (from the Bindley and Corser collections); 2. Britwell; 3. Major Hannay.

It should be added that the leaves of music, described in the collation, appear to have been inserted as an after-thought. They are not found in the copy in the British Museum.

HANSON, JOHN. Time is a Turne-Coate. Or Englands three-fold Metamorphosis. Wherin is acted the Pensiue mans Epilogomena, to Londons late lamentable Heroicall Comi-Tragedie. Also a Pane-gyricall Pageant-speech or Idylion pronounced to the Citie of London, vpon the entrance of her long-expected Comfort. Qui color ater erat,

Title, dedication, and preface, 8 leaves; a—z in eights; A—G 6 in eights; the prose continuation, with a new title, Aa—Tt 2 in eights. The last page has the colophon, with Grafton's rebus. On the verso of folio 5 of the continuation is the following passage, which was cancelled in later copies: "For the kyng was a man that loued bothe to see and to feele a fayre woman." From Mr. Corser's collection.

— The Chronicle of John Hardyng. . . Together with the Continuation by Richard Grafton, to the Thirty-Fourth year of King Henry the Eighth. This was Mr. Maskell's copy, and has on the title an old autograph of "Walter Vavasour."

HARDT, HERMANNUS VON DER. Historia Literaria Reformationis. Francofurti et Lipsiæ, 1717. Folio.

HARFLETE, HENRY, of Gray's-Inn. The Hvnting of the Fox: Or Flattery Displayed. The Flatterers devise; A Water-man looking one way, and rowing another, with this Motto, Mel in ore, fel in corde. By H. H. Grayens. London, Printed by A. M. for Philemon Stephens and Christopher Meredith, at the signe of the Golden Lyon in Paules Churchyard. 1632. Sm. 8vo.

A, 6 leaves; B—E 4 in twelves.

Dedicated to the author's kinsman, Sir Christopher Harflete.

HARINGTON, SIR JOHN. A New Discovrse of a Ståle Subiect, called the Metamorphosis of Ajax: Written by Misacmos, to his friend and cosin Philostilpnos. At London, Printed by Richard Field, dwelling in the Black-friers. 1596. Sm. 8vo. Large paper. Woodcuts. R. M.

A—Q 2 in eights, Q 2 blank.

On the flyleaf is the following memorandum by its former owner, Dr. Bliss: "This was Lord Lumley's copy, and contains his Lordship's MS. notes, consisting of notices of the various places alluded to, and the persons mentioned, throughout the book. It is the most perfect and curious copy I have ever seen." At the foot of the title is Lord Lumley's autograph signature, and on a flyleaf, in a contemporary but different handwriting, occurs: "This is done by Mr. Harington of Somersetsher."

Some of the notes and names inserted on the margins are no doubt written by Lord Lumley, but others are certainly in the autograph of the author.

The only other copy known on large paper is in the library of R. S. Turner, Esq. It has a dedication addressed to Thomas Markham, Esq., and on the back of the title "An Epigram of the booke hanging in cheyns, to y^e Ladyes," both in the author's autograph. The latter is printed among the author's Epigrams, Book i., No. 44.

The Discourse itself ends on sig. K 8, and on the following leaf there is a fresh title: "An Anatomie of the Metamorpho-sed Ajax. Wherein by a tri-pertite method is plainly, openly, and demonstratiuely declared, explained, and eliquidated by pen, plot, and precept, how vnsauerie places may be made sweet, noysome places made wholesome, filthie places made cleanly. Published for the common benefite of builders, house-keepers, and house-owners. By T. C. Traueller, Aprentice in Poetrie, Practiser in Musicke, professor of Painting; the mother, daughter, and handmayd of all Muses artes and sciences. . . . At London, Imprinted by Richard Field, dwelling in the Black-friers."

— Epigrams Both Pleasant and Seriovs, Written by that All-Worthy Knight, Sir Iohn Harrington: and neuer before Printed. Pro

captu Lectoris habent sua fata libelli. London Imprinted for Iohn Budge, and are to be sold at his shoppe at the South dore of Pauls, and at Brittaines Burse. 1615. 4to.

A—F in fours.

First edition. Dedicated by the publisher to William, Earl of Pembroke. These Epigrams were appended to the third edition of Harington's "Ariosto" in 1634, after passing through separate editions in 1618 and 1625.

The dedication contains an interesting reference to Sir Philip Sydney, and speaks of the Earl's "Sidneian blood."

HARINGTON, JOHN. The History of Polindor and Flostella. With other Poems. By J. H. London, Printed by Tho: Roycroft for Tho: Dring, at the George in Fleet Street, neere Cliffords Inne, 1651. Sm. 8vo.

A—G 7 in eights, including a frontispiece by Droeshout.

First edition. There was a third in 1657, but of the second no copy appears to be recorded. The additional pieces, at the end of the main poem, pursue the same story.

In the Address to the Reader, the author says that he could have enlarged the additional poems at the end, which he says further, all relate to persons in the story, if "aymed to look big in that kinde; but I thought these enough."

HARIOT, THOMAS. A briefe and true report of the new found land of Virginia: of the commodities there found and to be rayسد, as well marchantable, as others for victuall, building and other necessarie vses for those that are and shalbe the planters there; and of the nature and manners of the naturall inhabitants: Discovered by the English Colony there seated by Sir Richard Greinuile Knight in the yeere 1585. which remained vnder the government of Rafe Lane Esquier, one of her Maiesties Equieres, during the space of twelue monethes: at the speciall charge and direction of the Honourable Sir Walter Raleigh Knight, Lord Warden of the stanneries; who therein hath beene fauoured and authorised by her Maiestie and her letters patents. Directed to the Aduenturers, Fauourers, and Welwillers of the action, for the inhabiting and planting there: By Thomas Hariot; seruant to the aboucnamed Sir Walter, a member of the Colony, and there employed in discovering. Imprinted at London. 1588. 4to. G. M.

A—F in fours.

In the Grenville catalogue and also in Lowndes this book is most absurdly placed under "De Bry," though all that De Bry had to do with it was that he reprinted it and added some plates. In Lowndes the real author's name is not even mentioned. Mr. Grenville believed that his own copy and that in the Bodleian library were the only ones known, the present, however, makes a third, and a fourth was in the library of the late Lord Taunton.

A—H 2 in fours.

From the library of Mr. Corser. Only two other copies appear to be known, one of which is in the Bodleian, and the other was successively in the collections of Steevens, the Duke of Roxburghe, and Mr. Heber, see "Bibl. Heber.," part ix., 1346. Mr. Furnivall, in his careful and exhaustive account of this book prefixed to his reprint of it for the Early English Text Society, has given conclusive reasons for regarding this as the earlier of the two editions printed in 1567. There is no doubt that it was first printed in 1566; but of that edition no copy is now known. Mr. Furnivall gives an exact account of the variations of the two issues of 1567 and also of the reprint of the work in 1592, under the title of "The Groundworke of Conny-catching," which is described below.

— A Caueat or Warening for commen Cvrsetors vvlgarely called Vagabones, set forth by Thomas Harman. Esquiere. for the vtilite and proffyt of his naturall Cuntrey. Augmented and enlarged by the fyrst author here of. Anno Domini. M.D.LXVII. Vewed, examined and allowed, according vnto the Queenes Maiestyes Iniuncions. Imprinted at London in Fletestrete at the signe of the Falcon by Wylliam Gryffith, and are to be sold at his shoppe in Saynt Dunstones Churche yarde in the West. Anno Domini. 1567. 4to. Black letter. Woodcuts. BL. M.

A—H 3 in fours.

This Mr. Furnivall shows to be the second state of the second edition.

The present copy wants the leaf H 1, which has been supplied in MS. from a different edition. Except that described in "Bibliotheca Heberiana," part vii., No. 2789, this seems to be the only copy on record. It formerly belonged to Sir Francis Freeling, Dr. Bliss, and Mr. George Smith.

[HARMAN, THOMAS.] The Groundworke of Conny-catching; the manner of their Pedlers-French, and the meanes to vnderstand the same, with the cunning slights of the Counterfeit Cranke. Therein are handled the practises of the Visiter, the Fetches of the Shifter and Rufflar, the deceits of their Doxes, the deuises of Priggers, the names of the base loytering Losels, and the meanes of euery Blacke-Artmans shifts, with the reproofe of all their diuellish practises. Done by a Justice of Peace of great authoritie, who hath had the examining of diuers of them. [No place or date.] [London, 1592.] 4to. Woodcuts. G. M.

A—F in fours, and a leaf marked * after the title.

From the collections of the Duke of Roxburghe, Mr. Heber, and Mr. Corser. See "Bibl. Hebr.," part iv., No. 937.*

This is a reprint of Harman's Caveat under a different title, with some additions, and the omission of the woodcuts and verses at the end. This copy differs only from that described by Mr. Furnivall in his edition of Harman's book, in having no date or name of printer.

HARRINGTON, RICHARD. A famous dittie of the Ioyful re-ceauing of the Queens moste excellent maiestie, by the worthie Citizens of London the xij day of Nouember, 1584. at her graces comming to Saint Iames. To the tune of Wigmores Galliard. [Colophon.] *At London Printed by Edward Allde for Yarath Iames and are to be solde in Newgate Market against Christ Church gate. 1584. A Broadside.

Fourteen stanzas of eight lines, printed in two columns, divided by a band, and enclosed within a border.

Reprinted in "Anc. Ballads," &c., 1867.

HARRIS, PAUL. Exile Exiled. Occasioned by a Mandat from Rome, procured by Tho. Flemming alias Barnwel, Archb. of Dublin, and Friar of the Order of S. Francis, from the Congregation of Car-dinalls De propaganda fide, for the banishment of Paul Harris out of the Diocesse of Dublin. [Quotation from Psalm 56.] Printed Anno Dom. 1635. 4to.

Title and preface, 2 leaves; A—G in fours.

The extreme rarity of any of the writings of this author is explained by a passage in Ware's account of him, wherein he says: "He writ several books which I believe were printed in Dublin; but it is hard to get the sight of any of them; being destroyed by the Regular Clergy whenever they get them into their hands, as some of themselves have confessed."—Ware's Writers of Ireland, p. 338.

HARRIS, WALTER. The History of the Life and Reign of William-Henry, Prince of Nassau and Orange [William III. of England.] Dublin: Printed . . . for the Author. 1749. Folio. Large paper. Maps and plates. R. M.

HARRISON, JAMES. An exhortacion to the Scottes to conforme them selves to the honorable, expedient, and godly vnion betwene the two realmes of England and Scotlande. [Colophon.] Excussum Loudini in œdibus Richardi Graftoni typis Impressoris. Anno salutis nostre. 1547. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. BL. M.

A—H in eights, A 8 occupied only by a woodcut of the royal arms.

Dedicated by "James Harryson Scottishman" to Edward, Duke of Somerset. This is a most rare historical tract. The title is within a woodcut compartment used by the same printer for other books.

HARRISON, STEPHEN. The Arch's of Trivmph Erected in honor of the High and mighty prince James. the first of that name. King of England. and the sixt of Scotland. at his Maiesties Entrance and passage through his Honorable Citty & chamber of London vpon the 15th day of march 1603. Invented and published by Stephen Harrison Joyner and Architect: and graven by William Kip. [Colophon.] Imprinted at London by John Windet, Printer to the Honourable Citie of London, and are to be sold at the Authours house in Lime-street, at the signe of the Snayle. 1604. Folio. Plates. R. M.

B—K, 1 leaf to each signature, or altogether 9 leaves, besides the title-page, which is engraved. Dedicated to Sir Thomas Bennet, Lord Mayor, by Stephen Harrison.

Besides the emblematical title, this rare volume is embellished with seven large full-page engravings illustrating the text, which was probably contributed jointly by Decker and Webster. The odes at the beginning bear their names. The title in the present copy is in the first state, before the imprint at the foot, "Are to be sould at the white horse in Popes head Alley, by John Sudbury and George humble," was added, and all the other plates are in the same state. From Sir Charles Price's collection, with a note inserted from Mr. Carpenter, of the British Museum, in which he says: "I enclose you an account of the Grenville 'Harrison's Triumphs,' with a statement of the variations between the plates in it and the Print Room copy. Yours is certainly far finer than the Grenville. . . ." Mr. Grenville's copy belonged successively to Dent and Heber.

BL. M.*

A—T 2 in fours, besides four leaves following the title, with an epistle addressed "To the doubtfull of the English Orthographic."

From the collection of Mr. Inglis, having the autograph on the flyleaf, "W. Herbert, 1788." It is the earliest English treatise on orthography. A copy is in the British Museum. Another, with notes by Horne Tooke, was sold among Heber's books. See "Prefaces, Dedications, and Epistles, 1874," p. 31.

HART, SIR WILLIAM. The Examinations, Arraignment & Conuiction of George Sprot, Notary in Aye-mouth, Together with his constant and extraordinarie behaiour at his death, in Edenborough, Aug. 12. 1608. Written & set forth by Sir William Hart, Knight, L. Iustice of Scotland. Whereby appeareth the treasonable deuce betwixt Iohn late Earle of Gowry and Robert Logane of Restalrig (commonly called Lesterig) plotted by them for the cruell murthering of our most gracious Souereigne. Before which Treatise is prefixed also a Preface, written by G. Abbot Doctour of Diuinitie, and Deane of Winchester, who was present at the sayd Sprots execution. *London: Printed by Melch. "This collection of Voyages by Joost Hartgerts is sometimes called the 'Dutch De Bry,' or 'Dutch Hulsius;' for in beauty of execution and intrinsic interest it rivals both of those famous collections. In point of rarity there is no comparison; this being scarcely known to bibliographers The parts were probably issued and sold separately, and their collection into sets, with a collective title, preface, &c., was an afterthought. This collection has an advantage over De Bry and Hulsius, that many of the voyages are in the language in which they were originally written, while most of those of De Bry and Hulsius are translations."—Sabin's Dictionary.

As a large-paper copy this is probably unique.

A—G in fours.

This tract was the last of the series of pamphlets in the angry controversy between Harvey and Nash, the publication of any more being prohibited. It is reprinted with the other tracts forming the controversy between Harvey and Nash, in Mr. Collier's Yellow Series. This was Mr. Jolley's and Mr. Corser's copy.

A very rare volume, of which it is doubtful whether more than one other perfect copy exists. There are two in the British Museum, both incomplete; but a perfect copy might be made by uniting them.

HARWARD, REV. MR. The Fulness of Joy in the Presence of God, Being the Substance of a Discourse Preach'd lately in the Royal Chappel at Boston in New-England. Boston: Printed by B. Green, Sold by Gillian Phillips, over against the South side of the Town-House, 1732. Sm. 8vo. The edges uncut.

A—G 3 in eights, title on A 3, besides a frontispiece and folded leaf of the epitaph. This volume contains the earliest known verses of Dryden, written when he was a scholar at Westminster School.

There is also in the library the copy described in Mr. Corser's "Collectanea Anglo-Poetica," part iii., pp. 119-22. The only difference between the two copies seems to consist in the transfer of Marvell's poem from pp. 78-80 to a place between pp. 42-3, and the cancelling of pp. 77-80, which contain a notice by the editor and a list of the elegies contained in the postscript. There are no pp. 75-6 in either copy. Some copies are dated 1650.

HAUGHTON, WILLIAM. A Pleasant Comedie Called, A Woman will haue her Will. As it hath beene diverse times Acted with great applause. London, Printed by A. M. and are to be sold by Richard Thrale, at the Crosse-Keys in Paules-Church-yard, neere Cheap-side. 1631. 4to.

A—F in sixes and fours alternately, and G, 8 leaves. In seven-line stanzas.

From the libraries of Mr. Heber and Mr. Corser. The former notes on the fly-leaf: "This same copy will be found in Payne's Shop Cat. for the year 1789 (n. 1704), and had probably formed part of the library of the Rev. Mr. Brereton, vicar of Acton, Cheshire. Geo. Mason was no doubt the purchaser." It was obtained by Mr. Corser at the sale of the Miller duplicates in 1854, the only other known copy of this edition being that which remains at Britwell. The only copy known of the earlier edition, without date, but also from the press of Wynkyn de Worde, is in the Pepysian collection at Cambridge.

On the back of the title is a table, after which, on sig. A ii recto, occurs: "This boke called the exemple of vertu/ was made and compyled by Stephen hawys one of the gromes of the moost honorable chambre of oure souerayne lorde kynge Henry the . vii. the . xix. yere of his most noble reygne & by hym presēted to our sayd souerayne lorde chapytred and marked after this table here before set." The prologue succeeds, and extends to four stanzas of seven lines. The last is as follows:

" O prudent Gower in langage pure
Without corrupcyon most facundious
O noble Chaucer euer most sure
Of fruytfull sentence ryght delycious
O vertuous Lydgate moche sentencyous
Vnto you all I do me excuse
Thoughe I can not your connynge vse."

A—B in fours. In seven-line stanzas.

The title above given is in a ribbon over a large woodcut, representing the last judgment. There are other cuts on A 3 verso and on each side of the last leaf.

This is the only copy known of this edition. From Caldecott's and Daniel's libraries. The poem was originally printed by W. de Worde in 1509, of which edition the only perfect copy known is in the public library at Cambridge; a second, from the Roxburghe and Heber collections, is at Britwell, but it is not complete.

— The Conversyon of Swerers: A Joyfull Medytacyon to all Englonde of the Coronacyon of Kynge Henry the Eyght. [Edited by D. Laing.] Edinburgh: Abbotsford Club. 1854. 4to. Black letter.

This reprint was made from the imperfect copy of the first edition noticed above, the perfect copy in Cambridge University Library having been only discovered quite recently. Presented by the editor.

* , 4 leaves ; A—Dd in fours.

This is a reprint of Wynkyn de Worde's edition of 1517, 4to, without the woodcuts. No intermediate impression is on record. Of that of 1517 the only copy known is in the library at Britwell ; it was formerly Heber's, and had been in the Roxburghe and Sykes collections. Of the edition of 1554 not more than two perfect copies appear to be described.

BR. M.

This volume appears to be quite unknown to bibliographers. Panzer in his "Annalen der ältern deutschen Litteratur," vol. i., "Zusätze," p. 43, mentions an imperfect copy of a similar book which he attributes to the press of Antony Sorg. As this is only a conjecture, it is quite possible that the edition he saw was no earlier than the present, which, so far as is known, is an unique volume. It consists of thirty leaves with twenty-eight lines to a full page. On the title is a large woodcut of a young man on horseback with his hawk on his fist.

HAWKINS, SIR RICHARD. The Observations of S^r Richard Hawkins Knight, in his Voiage into the South Sea. Anno Domini 1593. Per varios Casus, Artem Experientia fecit, Exemplo monstrante viam.—Manil. li. 1. *London Printed by I. Title, dedication to Charles, Prince of Wales, &c., 4 leaves, that before the title blank ; A—Y in fours.

HAWKINS, R. A Discourse of the Nationall Excellencies of England. By R. H.[awkins]. [Quotation from Cic. de Offic. Lib. 1.] London, Printed by Tho Newcomb, for Henry Fletcher at the Three Gilt-Cups in the New-Buildings, near the West-End of St. Pauls. 1658. Sm. 8vo.

A—G in eights, title on A 2, signatures H—I omitted (pp. 97-128) ; K—R 4 in eights.

There is in the British Museum a copy in which the author's name is printed in full on the title. Otherwise it is precisely the same.

HAWKINS, WILLIAM. Apollo Shroving Composed for the Schollars of the Free-schoole of Hadleigh in Suffolke. And acted by them on Shroue-tuesday, being the sixt of February, 1626. London, Printed for Robert Mylbourne. [1627.] Sm. 8vo.

A, 3 leaves ; B—G in eights.

This is the only dramatic piece of the author. Prefixed is a curious and facetious epistle addressed by E. W. "To my singular honest Stationer, Mr. Robert Mylbourne, at his shop in decimo sexto, by the south doore of Pauls," dated from Hadley, March 21, 1626, in which the writer speaks of the works as having been "huddled vp in hast." This is followed by "The aforesaid Stationers answer," composed in a correspondingly pleasant vein, and dated, "London, April 25, 1627. From the small volume of my shop, where the South winde blowes into Pauls."

The present copy came from the library at Donnington.

HAWKSHAW, BENJAMIN. Poems upon Several Occasions. By Benj. Hawkshaw, Student in St. John's Colledge in Cambridge ; sometime Student in Trinity Colledge in Dublin. [Quotation from Juvenal, Sat. 1.] London, Printed by F. Heptinstall, for Henry Dickenson, Bookseller in Cambridge, 1693. 8vo.

A—L 4 in eights.

Dedicated "To the Learned and Ingenious Doctour Willoughby Physician in Dublin," in an epistle, where the author describes the contents of this volume as "the Essays but of a very young Pen, a few By-thoughts in my Vacancies from other Studies." There are commendatory verses by Joshua Barnes and others. Some of the poems bear evidence of having been composed at a much earlier period, as there is a copy of verses on the Restoration of Charles the Second. Some of the pieces are of Irish interest.

No account of this volume occurs in bibliographical works.

HAWKWOOD, SIR JOHN. *The Honour of the Taylors: or, The Famous and Renowned History of Sir John Hawkwood, Knight. Containing His many rare and singular Adventures, witty Exploits, heroick Atechievements, and noble Performances, Relating to Love & Arms, In many Lands Illustrated with Pictures, and Embellished with Verses and Songs, wonderfully pleasant and delightful. HELL BROKE LOOSE: Or, The notorious Design of the wicked Ranters, discovered on Sunday last at Black-Fryers. Being a true Relation of the strange proceedings of Mr. Vaughan and his wicked Proselytes, and their entring of Black-Fryers Church in Sermon time, like so many Spirits from Hell, with four damnable Papers in their hands, containing such horrible, audacious, and abominable Songs, the like not to be parallel'd in former Ages. With the manner how this insolent Ranter traced the Streets from Black-Fryers to Saint Paul's Church-yard, in his Holland Shirt, without Doublet or Breeches, a Treble Cap, like the Pope's Miter, with Silk Fring, and white Shooes and Stockings. With their damnable Plots and Conspiracies against the Ministers of the Gospel: Their Examination before the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor of London; the sad and woful Speeches, made by the Ringleader of the Ranters, concerning the City Magistrates and Golden Chains: And the committing of them to Bridewell till the next Sessions. London, Printed for Charles Gustavus. 1651. 4to.

HENRY VIII. Epistola inuictissimi Regis anglie ⁊ Francie ad cesarē Maiestatem. Sacratissimo ac potentissimo Principi Dño Maximiliano. . . . Henricus. Dei gratia. Rex Anglie & Francie & Dñs Hibernie. Salutē & feliciū successuū continuū incrementum [Sine ullâ notâ.] 4to.

Two leaves.

The original and most rare edition of the letter of Henry VIII. to the Emperor Maximilian inviting him to join in a crusade against the Turks. There was evidently more than one impression of it, as the copy in the Grenville Library, though clearly printed at the same period, differs from this in many typographical particulars.

— Assertio septem Sacramentorum aduersus Martin. Lutherū, ædita ab inuictissimo Angliæ et Franciæ rege, et do. Hyberniæ Henrico eius nominis octauo. [Colophon.] Apud inclytam urbem Londinum in ædibus Pynsonianis. An. M.D.XXI. quarto Idus Iulij. Cum priuilegio a rege indulto. 4to. BR. M.

Title and preface, 4 leaves; sigs. b—v.ii in fours.

This is no doubt the book as it was originally issued. The following article is the same work with the extra leaves added after the book had been approved by the Pope.

— Libello huic regio hæc insunt. Oratio Ioannis Cleric apud Ro. Pon. in exhibitione operis regii. Responsio roman. pont. ad eandem ex tempore facta. Bulla ro. pon. ad regiam maiestatem, pro eius

A—C, 12 leaves, the last blank; title and dedication to the "Assertio," 4 leaves without signature; b—v.ii in fours; "Epistola Regia," 8 leaves, the last blank, and the last but one bearing only the errata.

HENRY VIII. Assertio septē Sacrametor. aduersus Marti. Luther, ædita ab inuictissimo Angliæ & Fræciæ rege, et do. Hyberniæ Henrico eius nominis octauo. Romæ, opera Stephani Guillireti, mense Decembri. 1521. 4to. R. M.

This edition is prefaced by the letter of Leo X. to King Henry, which has the following title: "Librum hunc inuictiss. Angliæ Regis Fidei Defensoris contra Mart. Lutherum legentibus, decem annorum et totidem XL. indulgentia apostolica autoritate concessa est." The letter occupies four leaves, including the title. The "Assertio" contains a—u in fours; x, 6 leaves, the last blank; then follows sig. y, 4 leaves, and z, 2 leaves, containing "Io. Cleric. pro Henrico VIII. &c. oratio."

It will be seen that this collation differs slightly from that in the Grenville catalogue, where it is stated that sheet x has only four leaves.

— Serenissimi ac Potentissimi Regis Angliæ Christianæ fidei defensoris inuictissimi, ad illustrissimos ac clarissimos Saxoniae principes, de coercenda abigendâq; Lutherana factione, & Luthero ipso Epistola. Item Illustrissimi Principis Ducis Georgij ad eundem Regem rescriptio. [Sine loco.] Anno 1523. 4to. BL. M.

Eight leaves.

— A glasse of the truthe. [Colophon.] Imprinted at London in Flete-strete, by Thomas Berthelct printer to the kinges moost noble grace. Cum priuilegio. [1530.] Sm. 8vo. Black letter.

A, 4 leaves; B—F 4 in eights.

This is the King's own defence of his divorce from Catharine of Arragon. The edition here described seems to be different from that mentioned by Herbert, p. 463. At least five editions of the tract were issued from Berthelct's press between 1530 or 1531 and 1550. That the piece was written by Henry VIII. himself there is clear evidence in Ellis's "Original Letters," 3rd series, ii., 195-9.

In a letter to Thomas Cromwell from Richard Croke, written September (or perhaps August), 1531, Croke says: "These shalbe to aduertise yowr Maistershippe that after my departing from yow, Bartelot, the printer, shewed me that M^r. Goodrycke shulde aduertise hym to aduertise the Kinge off certayne errors in "the Glasse off treuthe," how beyt Bertelot tolde me that he wolde not so do, forasmoche as that he had mouyd the Kinge in sutche maters afore tyme and perceuyd that his Grace was not contente therewith." And in a second communication from the same to the same, dated from Oxford, 23rd of September [1531], Croke says: "yowr Maister-shippes shal vnderstande that I have bestowed "The Glasses off treuthe", euery on, and many there be besydes Maister Roper that I can not make belyue that yt ys the Kings writinge: and yet as they confesse that his Graces bothe excellent wit and excellent lernyng ys able to do a thyng moche better than that. Albeit they suppose that his Highnes lackethe leasure so profoundly to serche and bulke out a mater off so greate difficultye so playnelye. The conclusion ys that thys boke by al mennys sayng hathe done more to the pfrement off the Kings cause than al the bokes, preching, techinge, or other thynges that hathe hytherto bene set forthe, for the fortherance off the same. I assuure you many by the reding off thys boke hathe here alteryd theyr stourne and affectionate mynde towarde the contrarye . . . by my faithe I assuure you I haue sene no man able to do more in thys cause than the Kinge hym selffe hathe done in thys boke; and th' arguments that I supposyd so weghtylye to haue bene made to the contrary, albeit I wol with in these few days bring them vnto yow with theyr answeres, whan I conferre them with the reasons off the "Glasse of treuth," seme to tarye very heuy to them selfe: and by reason thereof to be dul and off none effecte."

HENRY VIII. The determinations of the moste famous and mooste excellent vniuersities of Italy and Fraunce/ that it is so vnlefull for a man to marie his brothers wyfe/ that the pope hath no power to dispence therewith. [Colophon.] Imprinted at London in the house of Thomas Berthelet printer to the kinges most noble grace. the .7. day of Nouembre. 1531. Cum Privilegio. Sm. 8vo. Black letter. BR. M.

A—V 4 in eights, except M, which has only six leaves. The title-page within a woodcut compartment.

The copy in the Grenville library corresponds with this in every respect, except that it has not the year of printing.

— Anglici Matrimonii. Sententia diffinitiuā Lata per sanctissimum. Dñm Nostrum. D. Clementem. Papā. VII. in sacro Consistorio de Reuerendissimorum Dominorum. S. R. E. Serenissimum Henricum. VIII. Angliæ Regem. Lata fuit Romæ in Palatio Apostolico publice Consistorio die. xxiii. Martii. 1534. A Broadside.

Mr. Grenville, in a note to his copy of this most rare broadside, says: "This is the only copy I have ever seen of the sentence pronounced by Pope Clement against the divorce of Henry VIII. from Queen Catharine."

— Illus[t]rissimi ac Potentissimi Regis, Senatus, Populiq̄, Angliæ, sententia, & de eo Concilio, quod Paulus episcopus Rom. HENRY VIII. Serenissimi et Incltyti Regis Angliæ Henrici Octavi &c. Epistola de synodo Vincentina. 1539. [Colophon.] Vitebergæ ex officina Petri Scitz. Anno. M. D. xxxix. Sm. 8vo. BL. M.
Eight leaves. The title is within a woodcut border.

HENRY, PRINCE, Son of James I. A True Report of the most tryumphant, and Royall accomplishment of the Baptisme of the most Excellent, right High, and mightie Prince, Henry Fredericke, By the grace of God, Prince of Scotland, and now Prince of Wales: As it was solemnized the 30. day of August. 1594. London Printed by Thomas Creede for Iohn Browne, and are to be solde at his shop in S. Dunstons Church-yard in Fleetstreete. 1603. 4to. The edges uncut.
A—D in fours, title on A 2.

This reprint is even more rare than the original edition of 1594.

— The Order and Solemnitie of the Creation of the High and mightie Prince Henrie, Eldest Sonne to our sacred Soueraigne, Prince of Wales, Duke of Cornewall, Earle of Chester, &c. As it was celebrated in the Parliament House, on Munday the fourth of Iunne last past. Whereunto is annexed the Royall Maske, presented by the Queene and her Ladies, on Wednesday at night following. Printed at Brittaines Bursse for Iohn Budge, and are there to be sold. 1610. 4to.

A—F in fours, title on A 2.

The "Royall Maske" was written by Samuel Daniel, and commences on D 4 with a new title: "Tethys Festival: or the Qveenes Wake. Celebrated at Whitehall, the fifth day of June 1610. Devised by Samvel Daniel, one of the Groomes of her Maiesties most Honourable priuie Chamber. London Printed for Iohn Budge. 1610." Sir F. Freeling's copy.

— Great Brittans Mourning Garment. Given To all faithfull sorrowfull Subiects at the Funerall Of Prince Henry. London. Imprinted by G. Eld for Arthur Iouson. 1612. 4to.

A—C in fours. In verse.

Dedicated, in verse, under the signature of Melpomene, to Sir David Murray. The piece consists of nineteen stanzas of fourteen lines each, including the dedication, which are followed by six stanzas of six lines, headed, "To the sad houshold of Prince Henry."

From the libraries of Sir F. Freeling and Mr. Corser. "See the 'British Bibliographer,' vol. iv., p. 37, for an account of this rare and valuable tract. It is not mentioned in Mr. Park's enumeration of the notices of P. Henry in 'Restituta,' 1814. It is allowed that few publications of this nature possess greater claims to notice than the present."—MS. note by Sir F. Freeling.

HENTZNER, PAUL. Itinerarium Germaniæ, Galliæ; Angliæ; Italia; Scriptum à Paulo Hentznero. Norimbergæ, Sumtibus Autoris, & typis Abrahami Wagenmanni excusum. 1612. 4to. R. M.

HEPWITH, JOHN. The Calidonian Forrest. By John Hepwith, Gent. London, Printed by E. G. for R. Best, and are to be sold at his shop nere Grayes Inne gate in Holbourne. 1641. 4to. The edges uncut. G. M.

A—D 2 in fours.

In verse. MS. copies of this poem are at Kimbolton, Port Eliot, and Helmingham Hall. In the copy at the last-named library it is said to have been transcribed in 1628, so that it was evidently written long before it was printed.

HERBERT OF CHERBURY. The Life of Edward Lord Herbert of Cherbury. Written by himself. Strawberry-Hill: Printed in the year 1764. 4to. R. M.

In this copy are inserted several additional portraits, including two or three of Lord Herbert, and a fine impression of Hollar's print of Charles I. after Van Dyck.

HERBERT, GEO. Oratio quâ auspiciatissimum Serenissimi Principis Caroli, Reditum ex Hispanijs celebravit Georgivs Herbert Academia Cantabrigiensis Orator. Ex Officina Cantrelli Legge, Almae Matris Cantabrigiae Typographi. 1623. 4to.

Eight leaves, the last blank.

This is the earliest publication in which Herbert's name appears. It does not occur in the collection of all the speeches delivered at Cambridge on the occasion, printed in the same year, with English translations.

— The Temple. Sacred Poems and Private Ejaculations. By Mr. George Herbert, late Oratour of the Universitie of Cambridge. Psal. 29. In his Temple doth every man speak of his honour. Cambridge: Printed by Thomas Buck and Roger Daniel: And are to be sold by Francis Green, stationer in Cambridge. [1633.] Sm. 8vo.

Title, &c., 4 leaves; A—I 2 in twelves.

First issue of the first edition. The second issue differs only in omitting the words "late Oratour," &c., after the author's name, the different wording of the imprint, and in being dated 1633. The present copy is in old red morocco binding, richly gilt. The only other one known is that which was successively in the Brand, Heber, and Daniel collections. The facsimile reprint of this edition, with a preface by the Rev. A. B. Grosart, is in the library, having been presented by Mr. Eliot Stock, the publisher. It was made from the copy here described.

— The Temple. Sacred Poems, &c. The second Edition. [Quotation as before.] Printed by T. Buck, and R. Daniel, printers to the Universitie of Cambridge, 1633. Sm. 8vo. O. M.

Title, &c., 4 leaves; A—I 2 in twelves.

Though called "The second edition" on the title, this is the third issue of the book. The types have been reset throughout, and on p. 1 a word is transposed to give the line the proper rhythm, but the variations otherwise are only literal.

HERBERT, GEO. The Temple. Sacred Poems and Private Ejaculations. By George Herbert. London, W. Pickering, 1844. Svo. Portrait. Printed on vellum. O. M.

This is the copy which occurred at Mr. Pickering's sale in 1854.

A—Hh in fours, including the sig. W.

There was an edition, with a slightly different title, in 1741.

HERBERT, SIR PERCY. Certaine Conceptions, or, Considerations of Sir Percy Herbert, upon the Strange change of Peoples Dispositions and Actions in these latter times. Directed to his Sonne. Deus primum, honos proximè. London, Printed by E. G. and are to be sold by Richard Tomlins at the Sun and Bible neer Piccorner. 1652. 4to.

A, 4 leaves; a, 4 leaves; B—Ll 2 in fours.

The preface or dedication is directed "For my Sonne Mr. William Herbert." "This is a Book of rare occurrence; it was unknown to Mr. Warton. The fable of Parnell's Hermit is drawn from the story narrated in p. 220 . . . as a proof that Warton had never seen the book, he says: 'the apologue occurs in Howell's Letters, who professes to have taken it from the speculative Sir Percy Herbert's Conceptions.' He indeed adds: 'a book which I have never seen.'—Beloe's 'Anecdotes,' vol. vi., p. 324."—MS. note by Sir F. Freeling.

HERBERT, THOMAS. Vox Secvnda Popvli. Or, The Commons gratitude to the most Honorable Philip, Earle of Pembroke and Montgomery, for the great affection which he alwaies bore vnto them. By Tho. Herbert. Printed in the yeare 1641. 4to.

Four leaves. In verse. With a full-length woodcut portrait of the earl on the title, holding in his left hand his lord-chamberlain's wand; with the motto, "My reward is from above," on the other side of the cut.

— Secvnda Vox Popvli. Or, The Commons gratitude to the most Honorable . . . With some verses upon his Lordships Election of Chancellor of the University of Oxford. By William Cartwright. Printed in the yeare 1641. 4to.

Four leaves. With a different portrait.

This is an entirely distinct impression of the same tract, in smaller and closer type; the verses by Cartwright, which do not appear in the other, are on the verso of A 2. Both copies are from Mr. Corser's library.

HERBERT, SIR THOMAS. *Some Yeares Travels Into Africa & Asia the Great. Especially Describing the Famous Empires of Persia and Industant. “One of the most remarkable occurrences recorded in the eventful history of the times is the attempt made by Herman, Elector of Cologne, a Roman Catholic Archbishop, and a sovereign prince, to establish within his electorate a purer system of doctrine and discipline. His attempt was ultimately unsuccessful; but the zeal and energy of the venerable prelate, and the learning and prudence with which his measures were conducted, attracted the notice, and secured the respect and sympathy of all Protestant churches.”—Cardwell's Two Books of Common Prayer.
