“Nothing disrupts the system like an inquisitive mind.”

What we are actually seeing is the systematic implementation of the fall of the Republic and the rise of the Corporation of the United States. Every major event is a step in the ladder to achieve that end. Covid is just another rung in the ladder which is why there's a deliberate mixing of all the word play.

I mean, we should stop calling it a quarantine. That's a term designated for people that are verified sick. This is a house arrest mandated by the State.

We should stop calling it social distancing. There's nothing social about forced isolation.

We should stop saying Safer-at-Home when millions of Americans don't have adequate necessities to fit their needs. It assumes that everybody's home is equally as safe as the people that are making the statements.

We should stop saying “this is for the greater good” when you close the economy killing millions of businesses that families have worked generations to establish. That's anything but good.

We should stop saying “this is the new normal.” That's just blatant mind control drivel. There's nothing normal about forced isolation - treating your neighbor like they have the plague, breathing your own bodily waste, wearing a mask, living in constant fear of contamination. That's normal?

After all, if the virus is so deadly why hasn't it wiped out the homeless who don't social distance, wash themselves regularly, let alone live in or have access to a sterile environment.

Last year 1.5 million people died of tuberculosis. Why were you not wearing a mask during the tuberculosis pandemic? You were endangering public health and safety along with billions of others around the globe, so why weren't you wearing a mask? I'll tell you why. Because the mainstream media didn't tell you to wear a mask. Because when the 1.5 million died from tuberculosis there was no tuberculosis pandemic any more than there's a coronavirus pandemic.

What you're really participating in is a beta test for AI systems and facial recognition. You see, these systems' cameras work best when people are distanced apart. Now they are actually testing through machine learning how to recognize a face that's partially covered. It's also a way to determine who's compliant and who's not. Who does the propaganda work on and who it does not.

There are some ironies here. A society that kills millions of babies a year for convenience has shut itself down to prevent adults from dying. People that on the one hand slaughter babies are now preaching to the masses about the sanctity of human life. It's double-speak, double-talk. It's the two-doctrine policy; one for the initiated, one for the un-initiated, one for the inner circle, one for the masses. It's like saying, if I violate the stay-at-home order I can be arrested but you're letting convicted criminals out of prison so they don't get coronavirus. Thesis – antithesis.....synthesis. If there's a real pandemic, does it require a faulty virus model, rigged test results, 81% false positives, inaccurate news reporting, staged hospital overruns, manipulated death certificates? Nope.

When the government shuts down millions of small businesses but doesn't lay off any government employees, it's not about the health.

When the State bans dentists from practicing but deems it necessary for abortion clinics to stay open, it's not about your health.

When the State prevents you from buying seeds for your garden but allows you to purchase lottery tickets, it's not about your health.

An institution that has the ability to destroy all of earth through alleged nuclear warfare should not regulate personal self-defense.

An institution caught trafficking drugs shouldn't be able to regulate plants. An institution that's racked up 23 trillion in debt prior to coronavirus shouldn't be allowed to manage the retirement fund.

An institution that was caught spreading STD's shouldn't be allowed to run healthcare.

If people are really concerned about public health and safety in general but they don't care if people eat garbage, drink poison, smoke cancer and take prescription drugs but think that toilet paper, hand sanitizer and masks are going to protect them from the boogy-man coronavirus, this is a special kind of stupid that I can't address here.

You should ask yourself a couple of basic questions:

- * When did you consent from the government serving you - to you serving the government, ruling over you.
- * If you want to know who's in charge, just think about who you can and can't criticize.
