PREFACE.

Says the celebrated Lexicographer JOHNSON: "He that "undertakes to compile a Dictionary, undertakes that, which, if "it comprehends the full extent of his design, he knows himself "unable to perform. Yet his labors, though deficient, may be "useful; and with the hope of this inferior praise he must incite "his activity, and solace his weariness."

A true saying! PROBATUM EST! If anybody experienced the truth of it, I did.

What Johnson says here, is true even in regard to Dictionaries of civilized languages; but by far more so in regard to a Dictionary of an Indian language, and the FIRST ONE of such a language.

This is, to the best of my knowledge, the first Dictionary of the Otchipwe language ever published. The compilation of it has cost me several years of assiduous labor; and still I must acknowledge that it is yet very defective and imperfect. I consider it as next to impossible to make such a work perfect at once, in the first edition.

In order to understand this Dictionary and make a practical use of it, the OTCHIPWE GRAMMAR ought to be first studied, especially the Formation of Substantives and the Formation of Verbs; because you will find in this Dictionary only some of the formed substantives and verbs, as examples after which you may form others yourself, according to the Rules explained in the Grammar.

The pronunciation of the Indian words in this Dictionary is the same as explained in the First Part of the Otchipwe Grammar. Here is a short extract of those explanations.

a is always pronounced like a in father.
e " " like e in net.
i " " like i in live.
o " " like o in bone.
g " " like g in get.
j has the French sound, as in jour, joli, etc.
The other consonants have the English sound.

NECESSARY REMARKS FOR THE PROPER USE OF THIS DICTIONARY.

1. The verbs in this Dictionary are given in the first person singular present, (as in Greek Dictionaries,) because there is properly no infinite mood in Otchipwe.
2. In the significations of active verbs animate, ordinarily the masculine gender only is expressed, and the feminine is understood. As: Nin wabama, I see him.—It means also, I see her; but this is understood.
3. Verbs ending in endan, endamawa, endagos, etc., may also end in enindan, enindamawa, enindagos, etc.; which is not always expressed in this Dictionary. F. i. Nin jawendagos, or, nin jawenindagos, I am happy. Nokendagwad, or, nokenindagwad, it is soft.
4. The unipersonal verbs ending in a vowel, have ordinarily two terminations, but the same signification in both of them. They end in a vowel, a, e, i, o; or they add the termination, magad. F. i. Sogipo, or sogipomagad, it snows. Kissina, or kissinamagad, it is cold.—In this Dictionary you will find the second termination expressed by a dash and magad; as: Sogipo, or –magad, which means, or sogipomagad. And in the participle you will find a dash and magak; as: Swagipog, or–magak, which means, or swagipomagak.

5. The imperative mood is not always expressed, because it can be easily constructed according to the Paradigms of the Conjugations in the Grammar. But where the imperative is difficult or irregular, it is ordinarily expressed in this Dictionary.

6. Many verbs that are passive in their signification, are neuter in their formation and conjugation, and therefore marked down as neuter verbs. F. i. Nind inendagos, I am destined. Nin nondagos, I am heard, etc.

7. To indicate the plural of substantives, only the letter or letters are expressed that are added to the singular in order to form the plural; and the dash before these letters represents the substantive. As: Tchiss, turnip; pl.–an; which means, tchissan. Inini, man; pl.–wag, that is, ininiwag.

8. There are some consonants which the Indians don't pronounce distinctly and uniformally. They very often confound the letters B and P, D and T, G and K. It is often impossible to ascertain, by the pronunciation of an Indian, whether the word begins with a B or P, with a D or T, with a G or K. For this reason please mind the short Note you will find at the beginning of each of these letters in this Dictionary. See likewise the Note at the beginning of the letters O and W.

9. In regard to the Second Part, I have to remark that whatever relates to a substantive, is to be found under that substantive. As: I have large feet, I have small feet, I have cold feet, etc. Look for all that under the substantive " Foot."

10. Mind the same in regard to verbs. The adjectives relating to a verb and modifying it, are to be found under that verb. As: I look angry; I look strange, etc. This all occurs under the verb "Look."

A

DICTIONARY

OF THE

OTCHIPWE LANGUAGE,

EXPLAINED IN ENGLISH.

PART I.

OTCHIPWE-ENGLISH.

A.

A—This first letter of the alphabet has only one sound in the Otchipwe language, that is, the open clear sound of a in the English word father. I know it is difficult for an English tongue to believe that the letter a has but one sound, because in English it has no less than eight different sounds.* But still it is so; the letter a has only one sound in the Otchipwe language. Some writers of Otchipwe works have even invented a particular type to express this letter when it is to be pronounced, (as they say,) like u in sun, but, etc. But this is entirely incorrect. Once more: The letter a has invariably one and the same sound in all the Otchipwe words that contain it; that is, the sound of a in father, ladder, etc.

A—This letter is sometimes inserted in verbs which signify repetition or changing of place; as: Babaaija, he goes from one place to another; instead of baba-ija.—Anotch ainapinewag, they have different and frequent diseases; instead of anotch inapinewag.—Anotch ainassin nabikwan; enendang sa wedaked od ainikwean; the vessel goes in different directions; wherever the steersman pleases he steers it.—When the verb to which a is prefixed, begins with an a, the letter i is inserted between the two a; as:

* Q. How many sounds has A?

A. Eight; a long sound, as in name; a flat sound, as in par; a long broad sound, as in salt; a short sound, as in glass; a short broad sound, as in wad; the sound of e short, as in any; the sound of i short in the unaccented termination age, generally, as in cabbage; and sometimes the sound of e short when unaccented, as in liar.—Cobb's Spelling Book.

Agwinde, it is on the surface of the water; aiagwinde, it floats about.—Atewan, they are there, (in. obj.) aiatewan, they are scattered round.

PART II.

ENGLISH-OTCHIPWE.

DICTIONARY

OF THE

SPOKEN LANGUAGE,

EXPLAINED IN ENGLISH.

BY

ENGLISH-OTOMPWE.

NOTICE.

The reader must not expect to find all the words of the English language in this Second Part of the Otchipwe Dictionary, but, of course, only such as can be given in Otchipwe. There are thousands of technical expressions and scientific words in English, (and in every other civilized language,) for which the uncultivated and unlearned Indian languages have no terms.

Many English words are abbreviated in the different articles of this Part, which, however, will be easily understood by the first word of the article. For instance, in the article „*A*bolish", you will find, „I ab. it"; which means, I abolish it. — And so on respectively.

ERRATA.

This Index of ERRATA does not pretend to point out all the typographical errors that yet remained after my last corrections, or that were occasioned by carelessness or accident, after the last corrections had left me. I am sure that besides the errors here indicated, there must be many others yet in this book.—My intention in pointing out to you these few errors is merely to show you the character of these typographical (and other) mistakes, that you may correct them yourself by and by, when you shall have acquired some knowledge of this language.
